Important Information

If your Account is eligible for “pass through” deposit insurance from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (the “FDIC”) as set forth in the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and 12 CFR § 330, pursuant to the Account Terms, you are deemed to acknowledge and agree that if the Bank becomes insolvent or enters into receivership (hereinafter a “Bank Receivership”), you will: (a) cooperate fully with the Bank and the FDIC in connection with determining the insured status of funds in each of your Account(s), and (b) provide the FDIC with the information that identifies each beneficial owner and its interest in the funds in each such Account within 24 hours of the Bank Receivership, unless it falls within one of the enumerated exceptions in 12 CFR 370.5(b). The information described in (b) must be sent to the Bank in the format specified by the FDIC. See www.fdic.gov/regulations/resources/recordkeeping/index.html for more information. Upon request, the Bank shall provide you an opportunity to validate your capability to deliver the information described in (b) in the format specified by the FDIC so that a timely calculation of deposit insurance coverage for the Account can be completed.

A hold will be placed on each of your Account(s) in the event a receiver of the Bank is appointed, so that the FDIC can conduct the deposit insurance determination. This hold will not be released until the FDIC obtains the necessary data and is able to calculate the deposit insurance coverage for each Account. Failure to provide the necessary data to the FDIC may result in: a delay in receipt of insured funds; and/or legal claims against you from the beneficial owners of the funds in the applicable Account. If such data is not provided to the FDIC in a timely manner, this may result in the applicable Account being frozen until the information is received, delaying receipt of any FDIC insurance proceeds.
