Classification of Securities
For Asset Class, Sector or Size and Style Analysis, securities are generally classified by asset class, sector, size and style and, for Fixed Income, maturity.

Domestic equities are generally classified by size/style category and fixed income (domestic and foreign) classified by maturity. Foreign equities are classified as international.

For Size and Style, security classification is as follows: a capitalization breakpoint of $18.90 billion defines the size (Large Cap or Small/Mid Cap) classification for domestic equity securities. The style (Growth or Value) for these securities is defined by a proprietary procedure, which utilizes a series of quantitative and qualitative metrics (e.g. expected earnings growth, analyst coverage, etc.).

Sector classifications are based on Global Industry Classification Standard ("GICS"). Source: Morgan Stanley Capital International ("MSCI") and Standard & Poor's ("S&P"), a division of the McGraw Hill Companies, Inc.

Important Note about Alternative Investments: Alternative investments can provide diversification benefits not obtained from more traditional investments, but should be carefully considered based on your investment objectives, risk tolerance, liquidity needs and time horizon. Certain types of products that implement alternative investment strategies (such as hedge funds and private equity) are often long-term, illiquid investments that are not easily valued, while other types of products that implement alternative investment strategies, such as Non-Traditional Funds (NTFs) (mutual funds and exchange traded funds that pursue alternative strategies or provide alternative asset exposure) are generally liquid. NTFs, hedge funds, private equity funds and other products that implement alternative investment strategies may be reflected in the alternative investment asset allocation.

- For Alternative Investments, Exchange Funds, Hedge Funds, Private Equity, Managed Futures Precious Metals, NTFs and select Market-Linked Investments may be included.
 - For "Other" and "Hard" Assets, items that are not easily classified in to the asset classes above (such as business interests, investment real estate, options, and life insurance) are shown for informational purposes only and are not part of your analysis.

Alternative Investment Risks

For investors who may want to consider alternative investments as part of a diversified portfolio, careful consideration should be given to the associated risks of these investments. The investor's investment objectives, time horizon, risk tolerance, liquidity needs and net worth should be appropriate as certain types of products that implement alternative investment strategies (such as hedge funds and private equity) are often long-term, illiquid investments that are not easily valued. Often specific levels of net worth and liquidity are required in making certain alternative investments available (e.g., for some alternative investments, such as hedge funds and private equity, net worth of $5 million or more is required). In addition, the timing of capital calls and distributions may not be predictable; periodic pricing or valuation information may not be available; and complex tax structures may be utilized and there may be delays in distributing important tax information. Certain alternative investment products (such as hedge funds and private equity) are sold pursuant to exemptions from registration with the SEC and may not be subject to the same regulatory requirements as other investment products. Certain alternative investments require tax reports on Schedule K-1 to be prepared and filed. As a result, investors will likely be required to obtain extensions for filing federal, state, and local income tax returns each year. Certain other investments in your portfolio may also be classified as alternative investments. Non-Traditional funds ("NTFs") are mutual funds and exchange-traded funds that are classified as alternative investments because their principal investment strategies utilize alternative investment strategies or provide for alternative asset exposure as the means to meet their investment objectives. Though the portfolio holdings of NTFs are generally made up of stocks and bonds, NTFs may also hold other asset classes and may use short selling, leverage and derivatives. While the strategies employed by NTFs are often used by hedge funds and other alternative investment vehicles, unlike hedge funds, NTFs are registered with the SEC and thus subject to a more structured regulatory regime and offer lower initial and subsequent investment minimums, along with daily pricing and liquidity. While these investment vehicles can offer diversification within a relatively liquid and accessible structure, it is absolutely essential to understand that because of this structure, NTFs may not have the same type of non-market returns as other investments classified as alternative investments (such as hedge funds) and thus may serve as an imperfect substitute for such other investment vehicles. The risk characteristics of NTFs can be similar to those generally associated with traditional alternative investment products (such as hedge funds). No assurance can be given that the investment objectives of any particular alternative investment will be achieved. Like any investment, an investor can lose all or a substantial amount of his or her investment. In addition to the foregoing risks, each alternative investment vehicle is subject to its own varying degrees of strategy-specific or other risks. Whether a particular investment meets the investment objectives and risk parameters of any particular client must be determined case by case. You must carefully review the prospectus or offering materials for any particular fund/pooled vehicle and consider your ability to bear these risks before any decision to invest.
