The Co-Issuers believe that, at the time of their issuance, the Senior Notes should be treated as indebtedness without substantial equity features for purposes of the Plan Asset Regulation. This determination is based in part upon the traditional debt features of such Senior Notes, including the reasonable expectation of purchasers of such Senior Notes that they will be repaid when due, as well as the absence of conversion rights, warrants and other typical equity features. The Co-Issuers will therefore not monitor the investment by Benefit Plan Investors in the Senior Notes. It should be noted that the debt treatment of the Senior Notes for ERISA purposes could change subsequent to their issuance (i.e., they could be treated as equity) if the Issuers incur losses or the rating or other terms and conditions of the Senior Notes changes. The risk of recharacterization is enhanced for subordinate classes of the Senior Notes. The Co-Issuers have not obtained an opinion of counsel regarding the debt treatment of Senior Notes under local law or the Plan Asset Regulation.

Regardless of the characterization of the Senior Notes as debt or equity under the Plan Asset Regulation and regardless of the level of Benefit Plan Investor investment in any class of Securities, the acquisition or holding of Senior Notes by or on behalf of a Plan could give rise to a prohibited transaction if any of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, other persons providing services in connection with the Issuers, or any of their respective affiliates is a “party in interest” or “disqualified person” with respect to that Plan. Persons acting on behalf of Plans that acquire the Securities should also consider that an indirect prohibited transaction could result in connection with the Issuer’s acquisition of Collateral from the Initial Purchasers (or one of their affiliates) if either of the Initial Purchasers is a “party in interest” or “disqualified person” with respect to such Plans. Certain exemptions from the prohibited transaction rules could be applicable, however, depending in part upon the type of fiduciary making the decision to acquire Senior Notes and the circumstances under which such decision is made. Included among these exemptions are the statutory prohibited transactions exemption under Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA available to “service providers” to the Plan (other than a fiduciary with respect to the Plan assets used to acquire the Senior Notes or any of its affiliates) provided that the transaction is for “adequate consideration”, DOL Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption (“PTCE”) 84-14, regarding transactions effected by independent “qualified professional asset managers;” PTCE 90-1, regarding investments by insurance company pooled separate accounts; PTCE 91-38, regarding investments by bank collective investment funds; PTCE 95-60, regarding investments by insurance company general accounts; and PTCE 96-23, regarding transactions effected by certain “in-house asset managers.” However, even if the conditions specified in one or more of these exemptions are met, the scope of the relief provided by these exemptions might or might not cover all acts which might be construed as prohibited transactions. There can be no assurance that any of these, or any other exemption, will be available with respect to any particular transaction involving the Senior Notes.

Similarly, the acquisition or holding of Senior Notes by or on behalf of foreign plans, governmental plans (as defined in Section 3(32) of ERISA) and certain church plans (as defined in Section 3(33) of ERISA), which are not subject to Title I of ERISA and/or Section 4975 of the Code, could give rise to a prohibited transaction or other liabilities under Similar Law.

By acquiring a Senior Note, each purchaser and transferee will be deemed to represent, warrant and covenant that either (i) it is not, and is not acquiring such Senior Note with the assets of, a Plan or a foreign, governmental or church plan subject to Similar Law, and throughout the holding and disposition of such Senior Note, it will not become or transfer its interest to any Plan or foreign, governmental or church plan or to an entity using the assets thereof, or (ii) the acquisition, holding and disposition of such Senior Note by the purchaser or transferee, throughout its holding and disposition of such Senior Note, will not result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (or, in the case of a foreign, governmental or church plan, any violation of Similar Law), because such purchase, holding and disposition either (x) is not, and will not become, subject to such laws or (y) is covered by an exemption from all applicable prohibited transactions, all of the conditions of which are and will be satisfied upon its acquisition of, and throughout its holding and disposition of, such Senior Note. Each investor in a Senior Note will be deemed to represent, warrant and covenant that it will not sell, pledge or otherwise transfer such Senior Note in violation of the foregoing, and that it and any person causing it to acquire such Senior Note agree, to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers and their respective Affiliates from any cost, damage or loss incurred by them as a result of such purchaser not satisfying the foregoing or as a result of its transferring its interest to a Person not meeting the foregoing requirements. Any purported transfer of the Senior Note to a purchaser that does not comply with the requirements of the foregoing shall be null and void ab initio, and will vest in the transferee no rights against the Trustee or the Co-Issuers.

Class E Notes and Preference Shares

Although the Issuer will treat the Class E Notes as debt, this characterization is subject to uncertainty and the Class E Notes may be characterized as equity interests for purposes of Section 3(42) of ERISA and the Plan Asset Regulation. The Preference Shares are equity of the Issuer and will be treated as equity interests for purposes of Section 3(42) of ERISA and the Plan Asset Regulation. Accordingly, the Issuer intends to limit the purchase and holding of each of the Class E Notes, the Class I Preference Shares and the Class II Preference Shares by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25% of the aggregate outstanding amount of each of the Class E Notes, the Class I Preference Shares and the Class II Preference Shares (excluding for purposes of such determination any Class E Notes or Preference Shares held by “Controlling Persons” as defined below), by requiring each purchaser or transferee thereof to make certain representations and agreements with respect to its status as a Benefit Plan Investor or Controlling Person, and to agree to additional transfer restrictions described under “Transfer Restrictions.” In making the 25% determination, Class E Notes and Preference Shares held by any person (other than a Benefit Plan Investor) that has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the Issuer or a person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to the assets of the Issuer or any “affiliate” (as defined in 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101(f)(3)) of any such person (any such person, a “Controlling Person”) (such as the Class E Notes and the Class II Preference Shares held by the Servicer or its affiliates and employees thereof) will be disregarded and not treated as outstanding. No purchase of a Class E Note or a Preference Share by, or proposed transfer to, a person that has represented that it is a Benefit Plan Investor or a Controlling Person will be permitted to the extent that such purchase or transfer would result in persons that have represented that they are Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of the Class E Notes, the Class I Preference Shares or the Class II Preference Shares, as applicable, (excluding for purposes of such determination any Class E Notes or Preference Shares, as applicable, held by any Controlling Person immediately after such purchase or proposed transfer (determined in accordance with Section 3(42) of ERISA, the Indenture and the Preference Share Documents).

In addition, the Servicer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Trustee will agree that, after the initial distribution of the Class E Notes and the Preference Shares, neither they nor any of their respective affiliates will acquire any Class E Notes or Preference Shares (including pursuant to the Extension Procedure, a Refinancing, or the Amendment Buy-Out Option) unless such acquisition would not, as determined by the Trustee in reliance on representations made in the applicable transfer certificates with respect thereto, result in persons that have represented that they are Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of any of the Class E Notes, the Class I Preference Shares or the Class II Preference Shares immediately after such acquisition (determined in accordance with Section 3(42) of ERISA, the Indenture and the Preference Share Documents). The Class E Notes and the Preference Shares held as principal by the Servicer, the Trustee, any of their respective affiliates (as defined in the Plan Asset Regulation) and persons that have represented that they are Controlling Persons will be disregarded and will not be treated as outstanding for purposes of determining compliance with such 25% limitation to the extent that such Controlling Person is not a Benefit Plan Investor.

Each purchaser and transferee will be further required to represent, warrant and covenant that no transfer of a Class E Note or a Preference Share will be made to a Benefit Plan Investor or Controlling Person except as provided herein, and that it and any fiduciaries or other Person causing it to acquire such Securities agree, to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and their respective Affiliates from any cost, damage or loss incurred by them as a result of any transfer of Class E Notes or Preference Shares, as applicable, in violation of the foregoing.

Independent Review and Consultation with Counsel

Any person proposing to purchase Securities with assets of an employee benefit plan or similar plan or arrangement, including a collective investment fund, insurance company general account or a foreign, governmental or church plan, should consult with its counsel with respect to, among other things, the limitations applicable to Benefit Plan Investors specified herein, and the potential applicability of ERISA, the Code and Similar Law to such investment and whether any exemption from the prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code or such Similar Law would be applicable. Each investor must determine on its own whether all conditions of any applicable exemption have been satisfied. Moreover, each ERISA Plan fiduciary should determine whether, under the general fiduciary standards of investment prudence and diversification, an investment in the Securities is appropriate for the ERISA Plan, taking into account the overall investment policy of the ERISA Plan, the composition of the ERISA Plan's investment portfolio, and the risk/return characteristics of the Securities.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The Initial Purchaser will, pursuant to and subject to the terms and conditions of the Purchase Agreement, agree to purchase all of the Notes and the Class I Preference Shares. The offering price and other terms of the offering of the Securities (the "Offering") may be changed at any time without notice. Pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, the Initial Purchaser will receive certain fees and expenses on the Closing Date.

On the Closing Date, (i) HFP and/or one or more of its subsidiaries are expected to purchase all of the Class II Preference Shares having an aggregate Face Amount equal to U.S.$41,000,000 at a discounted purchase price and certain of the Class E Notes having an aggregate principal amount equal to U.S.$9,500,000 at a discounted purchase price and (ii) the Servicer or one or more of its Affiliates is expected to purchase certain of the Class I Preference Shares having an aggregate Face Amount equal to U.S.$17,000,000 at a discounted purchase price. The Initial Purchasers or an Affiliate of the Initial Purchasers may provide financing for these purchases. The Initial Purchasers are not acting as placement agents or initial purchasers with respect to the Preference Shares sold by the Issuer to HFP or any of its subsidiaries.

The Securities have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act and may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person, on behalf of the Co-Issuers (or, in the case of the Class E Notes and the Preference Shares, the Issuer), except to Qualified Institutional Buyers (or, solely in the case of certain Holders purchasing Class E Notes on the Closing Date, Institutional Accredited Investors) in transactions not subject to the registration requirements of the Securities Act in reliance on Rule 144A under the Securities Act, that are also Qualified Purchasers.

The Co-Issuers have been advised by each Initial Purchaser that it proposes to resell the Notes and the Class I Preference Shares purchased pursuant to the Purchase Agreement (a) only to Qualified Institutional Buyers (or, solely in the case of certain Holders purchasing Class E Notes on the Closing Date, Institutional Accredited Investors) that are also Qualified Purchasers in reliance on an exemption under the Securities Act and (b) in the case of the Senior Notes, to non U.S. persons in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S. Any offer or sale of Notes or Class I Preference Shares in the United States will be made by the Initial Purchasers or other broker-dealers, including Affiliates of the Initial Purchasers, who are registered as broker-dealers under the Exchange Act. Until the expiration of 40 days after the later of the Closing Date and the commencement of the Offering of the Notes, a re-offer or resale of any Senior Notes originally sold pursuant to Regulation S to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person by a dealer or person receiving a concession, fee or remuneration in respect of the Notes (whether or not they participated in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act unless such offer or sale is made in accordance with an exemption from registration under the Securities Act.

Each purchaser of the Class E Notes or Class I Preference Shares on the Closing Date will be required to execute and deliver a subscription agreement, in form and substance satisfactory to the Issuer, which will include, among other things, representations and warranties substantially similar to those described under “Transfer Restrictions.”

The Securities are offered when, as and if issued, subject to prior sale or withdrawal, cancellation or modification of the offer. The Securities will constitute new classes of securities with no established trading market. Such a market may or may not develop, but the Initial Purchasers are under no obligation to make such a market, and if they do make such a market they may discontinue any market-making activities with respect to the Securities at any time without notice. Any market-making activities will be subject to restrictions under applicable law. No assurances can be made as to the liquidity of or any trading market for the Securities.

One or more Affiliates of the Initial Purchasers are financing the acquisition of Collateral Obligations by the Issuer prior to the Closing Date. The Servicer or one or more of its Affiliates will each be entitled to a share of the interest and any fees and commissions (net of any interest and other amounts payable to the Pre-Closing Parties on loans made by them to finance the acquisition of Collateral Obligations) paid by the obligors of such Collateral Obligations or accrued from the time of purchase to the Closing Date, plus a share of the amount by which any realized net gains exceed any realized net losses on Collateral Obligations sold or fully repaid during the Accumulation Period, in each case, in proportion to the percentage of Preference Shares each such party purchases on the Closing Date. In addition, a broker-dealer Affiliate of the Servicer may receive a fee for placing certain of the Securities. The Initial Purchasers or their Affiliates may also provide financing to the Servicer or its Affiliates in connection with their purchase of certain Class E Notes, Class I Preference Shares and Class II Preference Shares which will be secured by a lien on such financed Class E Notes, Class I Preference Shares and Class II Preference Shares.

This Offering Memorandum is being furnished on a confidential basis solely for the purpose of considering the purchase of the Securities. Each recipient of this Offering Memorandum should make such investigations as it deems necessary to arrive at an independent evaluation of an investment in the Securities and should consult its own legal counsel and financial, accounting, regulatory and tax advisors to determine the consequences of such an investment. Delivery of this Offering Memorandum should not be construed as a recommendation by the Initial Purchasers to purchase the Securities. This Offering Memorandum is intended for the exclusive use of persons who are both Qualified Institutional Buyers (or, solely in the case of certain Holders purchasing Class E Notes on the Closing Date, Institutional Accredited Investors) and Qualified Purchasers and, if applicable, non-U.S. persons, and may not be reproduced or used for any other purpose or furnished to any other party. No action has been or will be taken in any jurisdiction that would permit a public offering of the Securities, or the possession, circulation or distribution of this Offering Memorandum or any other material relating to the Initial Purchasers or the Securities, in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required. Accordingly, the Securities may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, and neither this Offering Memorandum nor any other offering material or advertisements in connection with the Securities may be distributed or published, in or from any country or jurisdiction except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any applicable rules and regulations of any such country or jurisdiction.

Each Initial Purchaser will represent and agree that (1) this Offering Memorandum will only be distributed to and directed by it at (i) persons who are outside the United Kingdom or (ii) investment professionals falling within Article 19(5) of the Order or (iii) persons falling within Article 49(2)(a) to (d) (“high net worth companies, unincorporated associations, etc.”) of the Order (all such persons together being referred to as “relevant persons”) and (2) the Notes and the Class I Preference Shares will only be available to, and any invitation, offer or agreement to subscribe, purchase or otherwise acquire such Notes will be engaged in only with, relevant persons.

Each Initial Purchaser has represented and agreed that:

(i) it will not underwrite or place Notes Securities otherwise than in conformity with the provisions of the Investment Intermediaries Act, 1995 of Ireland, as amended, including, without limitation, Sections 9 and 23 (including advertising restrictions made thereunder) thereof and the codes of conduct made under Section 37 thereof or, in the case of a credit institution exercising its rights under the Banking Consolidation Directive (2000/12/EC of 20th March, 2000) in conformity with the codes of conduct or practice made under Section 117(1) of the Central Bank Act, 1989, of Ireland, as amended, in each case with respect to anything done by it in relation to the Securities if operating in, or otherwise involving, Ireland;

(ii) in connection with offers or sales of Securities, it has only issued or passed on, and will only issue or pass on, in Ireland, any document received by it in connection with the issue of such Securities to persons who are persons to whom the documents may otherwise lawfully be issued or passed on; and

(iii) in respect of a local offer (within the meaning of Section 38(1) of the Investment Funds, Companies and Miscellaneous Provisions Act 2005 of Ireland (the “2005 Act”)) of Securities in Ireland, it has complied and will comply with Section 49 of the 2005 Act.

Each Initial Purchaser has agreed that it has not made and will not make any invitation to the public in the Cayman Islands to subscribe for the Securities.

No action is being taken or is contemplated by the Issuer that would permit a public offering of the Securities or possession or distribution of any Offering Memorandum (in preliminary or final form) or any amendment thereof, any supplement thereto or any other offering material relating to the Securities in any jurisdiction where, or in any other circumstances in which, action for those purposes is required. Each Initial Purchaser understands and agrees that it is solely responsible for its own compliance with all laws applicable in each jurisdiction in which it offers and sells the Securities or distributes any Offering Memorandum (in preliminary or final form) or any amendments thereof or supplements thereto or any other material and it agrees to comply with all of these laws.

The Issuer has agreed to indemnify each Initial Purchaser, the Servicer, the Administrator, the Collateral Administrator, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Trustee against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act, or to contribute to payments it may be required to make in respect thereof.

Certain of the Collateral Obligations may have been originally underwritten or placed by the Initial Purchasers or their Affiliates. It is expected that one or more Affiliates of the Initial Purchasers may act as counterparty with respect to all or a portion of the Synthetic Securities. One or more Affiliates of the Initial Purchasers may, with acceptable credit support arrangements, if necessary, engage in securities lending transactions with the Issuer. The Issuer may enter into a Hedge Agreement with an Affiliate of the Initial Purchasers on the Closing Date, and may enter into additional Hedge Agreements with such Affiliates thereafter. See “Hedge Agreements.” In addition, the Initial Purchasers or their Affiliates may have in the past and may in the future perform investment banking services or other services for issuers of the Collateral Obligations. Further, the Initial Purchasers will sell and/or finance Collateral Obligations to or for the Issuer (including, without limitation, Collateral Obligations to be purchased on the Closing Date). See “Risk Factors—Relating to Certain Conflicts of Interest—The

Issuer Will Be Subject to Various Conflicts of Interest Involving the Initial Purchasers”

In addition, the Initial Purchasers or their Affiliates may from time to time, as a principal or through one or more investment funds that it manages, make loans to, or investments in the debt and/or equity securities of one or more of the issuers of Collateral Obligations and one or more of such issuers may be or may become controlled by such Initial Purchaser or its Affiliates. The Initial Purchasers and their Affiliates may be actively engaged in purchases and sales of the same securities or loans as owned by the Issuer which may be on terms different from those made on behalf of the Issuer. The Initial Purchasers and their Affiliates may, or may in the future, compete with the Issuer for appropriate securities or loans to purchase and will be under no duty or obligation to share such opportunities with the Issuer. The Initial Purchasers or their Affiliates may act as a placement agent and/or initial purchaser in other transactions involving issues of collateralized debt obligations and other similar portfolios managed by other investment managers, and may provide financing for the accumulation of leveraged loans and high yield bonds as collateral for such transactions. The Initial Purchasers are not obligated to make any particular securities or loans available to the Issuer or the Servicer, and may allocate such securities or loans among its various customer relationships, including the Issuer and the Servicer. Such activities may have an adverse effect on the availability of Collateral for the Issuer. See “Risk Factors—Relating to Certain Conflicts of Interest—The Issuer Will Be Subject to Various Conflicts of Interest Involving the Initial Purchasers”

The Initial Purchasers and their Affiliates may purchase Notes or Class I Preference Shares for their own account or for re-packaging purposes or enter into transactions related or linked to the Notes or Class I Preference Shares. If the Initial Purchasers or any of their Affiliates purchase Notes or Class I Preference Shares they shall be entitled to transfer such Notes or Class I Preference Shares subject to the transfer restrictions set forth in the Indenture or the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, as applicable. See “Risk Factors—Relating to Certain Conflicts of Interest—The Issuer Will Be Subject to Various Conflicts of Interest Involving the Initial Purchasers”.

The Co-Issuers extend to each prospective investor the opportunity, prior to the consummation of the sale of the Securities, to ask questions of, and receive answers from the Co-Issuers or a person or persons acting on behalf of the Co-Issuers, including the Initial Purchasers concerning the Securities and the terms and conditions of this Offering and to obtain any additional information it may consider necessary in making an informed investment decision and any information in order to verify the accuracy of the information set forth herein, to the extent the Co-Issuers possess the same or can acquire the same without unreasonable effort or expense. Requests for such additional information can be directed to the Initial Purchasers at 745 Seventh Ave., New York, New York 10019, Attention: CDO Banking.

SETTLEMENT AND CLEARING

Book Entry Registration of the Global Notes

So long as the Depository, or its nominee, is the registered owner or Holder of a Global Note, the Depository or the nominee, as the case may be, will be considered the sole owner or Holder of the Senior Notes represented by a Global Note for all purposes under the Indenture, the Issuer Charter and the Global Notes, and members of, or participants in, the Depository as well as any other persons on whose behalf the participants may act (including Clearstream and Euroclear and account holders and participants therein) will have no rights under the Indenture, the Issuer Charter or a Global Note. Owners of beneficial interests in a Global Note will not be considered to be owners or Holders of the related Senior Note under the Indenture or the Issuer Charter. Unless the Depository notifies the Co-Issuers that it is unwilling or unable to continue as depository for a Global Note or ceases to be a “clearing agency” registered under the Exchange Act, owners of a beneficial interest in a Global Note will not be entitled to have any portion of a Global Note registered in their names, will not receive or be entitled to receive physical delivery of Senior Notes in certificated form and will not be considered to be the owners or Holders of any Senior Notes under the Indenture. In addition, no beneficial owner of an interest in a Global Note will be able to transfer that interest except in accordance with the Depository’s applicable procedures (in addition to those under the Indenture and, if applicable, those of Euroclear and Clearstream).

Investors may hold their interests in a Regulation S Global Note directly through Clearstream or Euroclear, if they are participants in Clearstream or Euroclear, or indirectly through organizations that are participants in Clearstream or Euroclear. Clearstream and Euroclear will hold interests in the Regulation S Global Notes on behalf of their participants through their respective depositories, which in turn will hold the interests in Regulation S Global Notes in customers' securities accounts in the depositories' names on the books of the Depository. Investors may hold their interests in a Rule 144A Global Note directly through the Depository if they are participants in the Depository, or in directly through organizations that are participants in the Depository.

Payments of principal of, or interest or other distributions on a Global Note will be made to the Depository or its nominee, as the registered owner thereof. The Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the paying agents, the Initial Purchasers, the Servicer and their respective Affiliates will not have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial ownership interests in a Global Note or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to the beneficial ownership interests.

The Co-Issuers expect that the Depository or its nominee, upon receipt of any payment of principal, interest, or other distributions in respect of a Global Note representing any Senior Notes, as the case may be, held by it or its nominee, will immediately credit participants' accounts with payments in amounts proportionate to their respective beneficial interests in the stated aggregate principal amount or number of a Global Note for the Senior Notes, as shown on the records of the Depository or its nominee. The Co-Issuers also expect that payments by participants to owners of beneficial interests in a Global Note held through the participants will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is now the case with securities held for the accounts of customers registered in the names of nominees for those customers. The payments will be the responsibility of the participants.

Global Note Settlement Procedures

Transfers between the participants in the Depository will be effected in the ordinary way in accordance with the Depository rules and will be settled in immediately available funds. The laws of some states require that certain persons take physical delivery of securities in definitive form. Consequently, the ability to transfer beneficial interests in a Global Note to these persons may be limited. Because the Depository can only act on behalf of participants, who in turn act on behalf of indirect participants and certain banks, the ability of a person holding a beneficial interest in a Global Note to pledge its interest to persons or entities that do not participate in the Depository system, or otherwise take actions in respect of its interest, may be affected by the lack of a physical certificate of the interest. Transfers between participants in Euroclear and Clearstream will be effected in the ordinary way in accordance with their respective rules and operating procedures.

Subject to compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the Securities described above and under "Transfer Restrictions," cross-market transfers between the Depository, on the one hand, and directly or indirectly through Euroclear or Clearstream participants, on the other, will be effected in the Depository in accordance with the Depository rules on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, by its respective depository; however, the cross-market transactions will require delivery of instructions to Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, by the counterparty in the system in accordance with its rules and procedures and within its established deadlines (Brussels time). Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, will if the transaction meets its settlement requirements, deliver instructions to its respective depository to take action to effect final settlement on its behalf by delivering or receiving interests in a Senior Note represented by a Regulation S Global Note in the Depository and making or receiving payment in accordance with normal procedures for same-day funds settlement applicable to the Depository. Clearstream participants and Euroclear participants may not deliver instructions directly to the depositories of Clearstream or Euroclear.

Because of time zone differences, cash received in Euroclear or Clearstream as a result of sales of interests in a Regulation S Global Note by or through a Euroclear or Clearstream participant to the Depository participant will be received with value on the Depository settlement date but will be available in the relevant Euroclear or Clearstream cash account only as of the business day following settlement in the Depository.

The Depository has advised the Issuer that it will take any action permitted to be taken by a Holder of Securities (including the presentation of Securities for exchange as described above) only at the direction of one or more participants in the Depository to whose account with the Depository interests in the Securities are credited and only in respect of the portion of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Securities as to which the participant or participants has or have given the direction.

The Depository has advised the Issuer as follows: The Depository is a limited-purpose trust company organized under the New York Banking Law, a “banking organization” within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, a member of the Federal Reserve System, a “clearing corporation” within the meaning of the UCC and a “Clearing Agency” registered pursuant to the provisions of Section 17A of the Exchange Act. The Depository was created to hold securities for its participants and facilitate the clearance and settlement of securities transactions between participants through electronic book-entry changes in accounts of its participants, thereby eliminating the need for physical movement of certificates. Participants in the Depository include securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies, and clearing corporations and may include certain other organizations. Indirect access to the Depository system is available to others such as banks, brokers, dealers, and trust companies that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a participant, either directly or indirectly.

Although the Depository, Clearstream and Euroclear have agreed to the foregoing procedures to facilitate transfers of interests in Regulation S Global Notes among participants of the Depository, Clearstream and Euroclear, they are under no obligation to perform or continue to perform the procedures, and the procedures may be discontinued at any time. Neither the Co-Issuers nor the Trustee will have any responsibility for the performance by the Depository, Clearstream, or Euroclear or their respective participants or indirect participants of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations.

TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS

Because of the following restrictions, purchasers are advised to consult legal counsel prior to making any offer, resale, pledge or transfer of the Securities. Purchasers of Senior Notes represented by an interest in a Regulation S Global Note are advised that such interests are not transferable to U.S. Persons at any time except in accordance with the following restrictions.

Each prospective purchaser of Securities that is a U.S. Person or is purchasing the Securities in a non-Offshore Transaction (a “U.S. Offeree”), by accepting delivery of this Offering Memorandum, will be deemed to have represented and agreed as follows:

- (1) The U.S. Offeree acknowledges that this Offering Memorandum is personal to the U.S. Offeree and does not constitute an offer to any other person or to the public generally to subscribe for or otherwise acquire the Securities other than pursuant to transactions exempt from the registration requirements under the Securities Act or in Offshore Transactions in accordance with Regulation S. Distribution of this Offering Memorandum to any person other than the U.S. Offeree and those persons, if any, retained to advise the U.S. Offeree with respect thereto, and other persons that are, (a) in the case of the Senior Notes, Qualified Institutional Buyers or non-U.S. Persons or, (b) in the case of the Class E Notes or the Preference Shares, Qualified Institutional Buyers, is unauthorized and any disclosure of any of its contents, without the prior written consent of the Co-Issuers, is prohibited.

(2) The U.S. Offeree agrees to make no photocopies of this Offering Memorandum or any documents referred to herein and, if the U.S. Offeree does not purchase the Securities or the offering is terminated, to return this Offering Memorandum and all documents referred to herein to the Initial Purchasers at 745 Seventh Ave., New York, New York 10019, Attention: CDO Banking.

Under the Indenture (with respect to the Co-Issuers) and the Preference Share Documents (with respect to the Issuer), the Co-Issuers or the Issuer will agree to comply with the requirements of Rule 144A relative to the dissemination of information to prospective purchasers in the secondary market. See “Available Information.”

The Securities have not been registered under the Securities Act and, (a) in the case of the Senior Notes, may not be offered or sold in non-Offshore Transactions or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. Persons, except to Qualified Institutional Buyers in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act who are also Qualified Purchasers and, (b) in the case of the Class E Notes or the Preference Shares, may only be offered or sold to Qualified Institutional Buyers (or, solely in the case of certain Holders purchasing Class E Notes on the Closing Date, Institutional Accredited Investors) in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act who are also Qualified Purchasers.

Any purported transfer of a Security not in accordance with this section shall be null and void and shall not be given effect for any purpose hereunder.

Transfer Restrictions Applicable to Rule 144A Global Notes

Each purchaser of a beneficial interest in Senior Notes represented by a Rule 144A Global Note will be deemed to represent and agree (on its own behalf, or if the purchaser is acquiring the Senior Notes for any account, on behalf of each such account) (and each transferee of a beneficial interest in a Rule 144A Global Note will be required or deemed to represent and agree) as follows (terms used in this paragraph that are defined in Rule 144A or Regulation S are used herein as defined therein):

(1) (A) The purchaser is a Qualified Institutional Buyer and a Qualified Purchaser, (B) the purchaser is purchasing the Senior Notes for its own account or the account of another Qualified Purchaser that is also a Qualified Institutional Buyer as to which the purchaser exercises sole investment discretion, (C) the purchaser and any such account is acquiring the Senior Notes as principal for its own account for investment and not for sale in connection with any distribution thereof, (D) the purchaser and any such account was not formed solely for the purpose of investing in the Senior Notes (except when each beneficial owner of the purchaser or any such account is a Qualified Purchaser), (E) to the extent the purchaser (or any account for which it is purchasing the Senior Notes) is a private investment company formed on or before April 30, 1996, the purchaser and each such account has received the necessary consent from its beneficial owners, (F) the purchaser is not a broker-dealer that owns and invests on a discretionary basis less than $25,000,000 in securities of unaffiliated issuers, (G) the purchaser is not a pension, profit-sharing or other retirement trust fund or plan in which the partners, beneficiaries or participants or affiliates may designate the particular investment to be made, (H) the purchaser agrees that it and each such account shall not hold such Senior Notes for the benefit of any other Person and shall be the sole beneficial owner thereof for all purposes and that it shall not sell participation interests in the Senior Notes or enter into any other arrangement pursuant to which any other Person shall be entitled to a beneficial interest in the distributions on the Senior Notes (except when each beneficial owner of the purchaser or any such account is a Qualified Purchaser), (I) the Senior Notes purchased directly or indirectly by the purchaser or any account for which it is purchasing the Senior Notes constitute an investment of no more than 40% of the purchaser's and each such account's assets (except when each beneficial owner of the purchaser or any such account is a Qualified Purchaser), (J) the purchaser and each such account is purchasing the Senior Notes in a principal amount of not less than the minimum denomination requirement for the purchaser and each such account, (K) the purchaser will provide notice of the transfer restrictions set forth in the Indenture (including the exhibits thereto) to any transferee of its Senior Notes and (L) the purchaser understands and agrees that any purported transfer of the Senior Notes to a purchaser that does not comply with the requirements of this paragraph (1) shall be null and void ab initio.

(2) The purchaser has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters as to be capable of evaluating the merits and risks of its investment in Senior Notes, and the purchaser, and any account for which it is acting, are each able to bear the economic risk of the purchaser's or its investment.

(3) The purchaser understands that the Senior Notes are being offered only in a transaction not involving any public offering in the United States within the meaning of the Securities Act, the Senior Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act, and, if in the future the purchaser decides to offer, resell, pledge or otherwise transfer the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein, such Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred only in accordance with the applicable legend in respect of such Senior Notes set forth in (6) below and the restrictions set forth in the Indenture. The purchaser acknowledges that no representation is made by the Co-Issuers, the Servicer or the Initial Purchasers as to the availability of any exemption under the Securities Act or other applicable laws of any jurisdiction for resale of the Senior Notes.

(4) The purchaser is not purchasing the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein with a view to the resale, distribution or other disposition thereof in violation of the Securities Act. The purchaser understands that an investment in the Senior Notes involves certain risks, including the risk of loss of its entire investment in the Senior Notes under certain circumstances. The purchaser has had access to such financial and other information concerning the Co-Issuers, the Senior Notes and the Collateral as it deemed necessary or appropriate in order to make an informed investment decision with respect to its purchase of the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein, including an opportunity to ask questions of and request information from the Co-Issuers and the Initial Purchasers.

(5) In connection with the purchase of Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein (provided that no such representation is made with respect to the Servicer by any Affiliate of or account serviced by the Servicer): (i) none of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer is acting as a fiduciary or financial or investment adviser for the purchaser, (ii) the purchaser is not relying (for purposes of making any investment decision or otherwise) upon any advice, counsel or representations (whether written or oral) of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates other than in the Offering Memorandum and any representations expressly set forth in a written agreement with such party; (iii) none of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates has given to the purchaser (directly or indirectly through any other person) any assurance, guarantee, or representation whatsoever as to the expected or projected success, profitability, return, performance result, effect, consequence, or benefit (including legal, regulatory, tax, financial, accounting, or otherwise) of the Senior Notes or an investment therein; (iv) the purchaser has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial and accounting advisors to the extent it has deemed necessary, and it has made its own investment decisions (including decisions regarding the suitability of any transaction pursuant to the Indenture) based upon its own judgment and upon any advice from such advisors as it has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Collateral Administrator the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates; (v) the purchaser has determined that the rates, prices or amounts and other terms of the purchase and sale of the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein reflect those in relevant market for similar transactions; (vi) if the purchaser is acting for the account of another investor, the purchaser represents that the investment on behalf of such account is based on a determination that the investment is suitable based on the risks referred to in this Offering Memorandum (including, without limitation, the “Risk Factors” and the “Transfer Restrictions Applicable to Rule 144A Global Notes”), given the investment objectives of the account for which the purchase is being made, and that the investment is consistent with any applicable legal requirements; (vii) the purchaser is purchasing the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein with a full understanding of all of the terms, conditions and risks thereof (economic and otherwise), and it is capable of assuming and willing to assume (financially and otherwise) those risks; and (viii) the purchaser is a sophisticated investor.

(6) (i) The purchaser understands that the Senior Notes offered to Qualified Institutional Buyers in reliance on the exemption from the registration requirements under the Securities Act provided by Rule 144A (a) will bear the legend substantially in the form set forth below unless the Co-Issuers determine otherwise in accordance with applicable law, (b) will be represented by one or more Rule 144A Global Notes, and (c) may not at any time be resold, pledged or transferred to U.S. Persons that are not Qualified Institutional Buyers and Qualified Purchasers. Before any interest in a Rule 144A Global Note may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred to a Person who takes delivery in the form of an interest in a Regulation S Global Note, the transferor will be required to provide the Trustee with a written certification as to compliance with the transfer restrictions.

THIS NOTE OR ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST HEREIN HAS NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), AND THE CO-ISSUERS HAVE NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940, AS AMENDED (THE “INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT”). THE PURCHASER HEREOF, BY PURCHASING THIS NOTE, AGREES FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE CO-ISSUERS THAT THIS NOTE OR ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST HEREIN MAY BE OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED, ONLY (A)(1) TO A PERSON WHOM THE SELLER REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER WITHIN THE MEANING OF RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT PURCHASING FOR ITS OWN ACCOUNT OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OF A QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER, IN A TRANSACTION MEETING THE REQUIREMENTS OF RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT SO LONG AS THIS NOTE IS ELIGIBLE FOR RESALE IN ACCORDANCE WITH RULE 144A OR (2) TO A NON-U.S. PERSON IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION COMPLYING WITH RULE 903 OR RULE 904 OF REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT AND, IN CASE OF CLAUSE (1), TO A PURCHASER THAT (W) IS A QUALIFIED PURCHASER WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(c)(7) OF THE INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT THAT WAS NOT FORMED FOR THE PURPOSE OF INVESTING IN THE ISSUER (EXCEPT WITH EACH BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE PURCHASER IS A QUALIFIED PURCHASER), (X) TO THE EXTENT THE PURCHASER (OR ANY ACCOUNT FOR WHICH IT IS PURCHASING THE NOTES) IS A PRIVATE INVESTMENT COMPANY FORMED ON OR BEFORE APRIL 30, 1996, HAS RECEIVED THE NECESSARY CONSENT FROM ITS BENEFICIAL OWNERS, (Y) IS NOT A BROKER-DEALER THAT OWNS AND INVESTS ON A DISCRETIONARY BASIS LESS THAN $25,000,000 IN SECURITIES OF UNAFFILIATED ISSUERS, AND (Z) IS NOT A PENSION, PROFIT-SHARING OR OTHER RETIREMENT TRUST FUND OR PLAN IN WHICH THE PARTNERS, BENEFICIARIES OR PARTICIPANTS OR AFFILIATES MAY DESIGNATE THE PARTICULAR INVESTMENT TO BE MADE, (B) IN A PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF NOT LESS THAN U.S.$250,000 FOR THE PURCHASER AND FOR EACH ACCOUNT FOR WHICH IT IS ACTING AND (C) IN ACCORDANCE WITH ALL APPLICABLE SECURITIES LAWS OF THE STATES OF THE UNITED STATES. EACH TRANSFEROR OF THIS NOTE OR ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST HEREIN WILL PROVIDE NOTICE OF THE TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS AS SET FORTH HEREIN TO ITS TRANSFEREE. EACH PURCHASER OF THIS NOTE OR ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST HEREIN WILL BE DEEMED TO HAVE MADE THE APPLICABLE REPRESENTATIONS AND AGREEMENTS SET FORTH IN THE INDENTURE. ANY TRANSFER IN VIOLATION OF THE FOREGOING WILL BE

OF NO FORCE AND EFFECT AND WILL NOT OPERATE TO TRANSFER ANY RIGHTS TO THE TRANSFEREE, NOTWITHSTANDING ANY INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CONTRARY TO THE CO-ISSUERS, THE TRUSTEE OR ANY INTERMEDIARY. IN ADDITION TO THE FOREGOING, THE CO-ISSUERS MAINTAIN THE RIGHT TO RESELL NOTES OR ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST THEREIN PREVIOUSLY TRANSFERRED TO NON-PERMITTED U.S. HOLDERS (AS DEFINED IN THE INDENTURE) IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND SUBJECT TO THE TERMS OF THE INDENTURE.

UNLESS THIS NOTE IS PRESENTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF THE DEPOSITORY TRUST COMPANY (“DTC”) TO THE INDENTURE REGISTRAR FOR REGISTRATION OF TRANSFER OR PAYMENT, AND ANY CERTIFICATE ISSUED IS REGISTERED IN THE NAME OF CEDE & CO. OR IN SUCH OTHER NAME AS IS REQUESTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF DTC (AND ANY PAYMENT MADE TO CEDE & CO. OR TO SUCH OTHER ENTITY AS IS REQUESTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF DTC), ANY TRANSFER, PLEDGE OR OTHER USE HEREOF FOR VALUE OR OTHERWISE BY OR TO ANY PERSON IS WRONGFUL INASMUCH AS THE REGISTERED OWNER HEREOF, CEDE & CO., HAS AN INTEREST HEREIN.

THE FAILURE TO PROVIDE THE ISSUER, THE TRUSTEE AND ANY PAYING AGENT WITH THE APPLICABLE U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CERTIFICATIONS (GENERALLY, AN INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE FORM W-9 (OR SUCCESSOR APPLICABLE FORM) IN THE CASE OF A PERSON THAT IS A “UNITED STATES PERSON” WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 7701(A)(30) OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED (THE “CODE”), OR AN APPLICABLE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE FORM W-8 (OR SUCCESSOR APPLICABLE FORM) IN THE CASE OF A PERSON THAT IS NOT A “UNITED STATES PERSON” WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 7701(A)(30) OF THE CODE) MAY RESULT IN U.S. FEDERAL WITHHOLDING FROM PAYMENTS TO THE HOLDER IN RESPECT OF THIS NOTE.

THE PURCHASER HEREOF, BY PURCHASING THIS NOTE, AGREES FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE CO-ISSUERS THAT THIS NOTE AND ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST HEREIN MAY NOT BE OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED EXCEPT TO A PERSON THAT REPRESENTS, WARRANTS AND COVENANTS THAT EITHER (I) IT IS NOT, AND IS NOT USING THE ASSETS OF, AND THROUGHOUT THE HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF SUCH NOTES WILL NOT BECOME OR TRANSFER ITS INTEREST TO, AN “EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN” WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(3) OF THE UNITED STATES EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974, AS AMENDED (“ERISA”), THAT IS SUBJECT TO TITLE I OF ERISA, A “PLAN” DESCRIBED IN SECTION 4975(e)(1) OF THE UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED (THE “CODE”), THAT IS SUBJECT TO SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE, OR AN ENTITY WHOSE UNDERLYING ASSETS INCLUDE THE ASSETS OF ANY SUCH PLAN, OR A GOVERNMENTAL, FOREIGN OR CHURCH PLAN SUBJECT TO ANY FEDERAL, STATE, FOREIGN OR LOCAL LAW THAT IS SUBSTANTIALLY SIMILAR TO THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 406 OF ERISA OR SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE OR (II) ITS PURCHASE, HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF THIS NOTE WILL NOT RESULT IN A NON-EXEMPT PROHIBITED TRANSACTION UNDER SECTION 406 OF ERISA OR SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE (OR IN THE CASE OF ANY GOVERNMENTAL, FOREIGN OR CHURCH PLAN, ANY VIOLATION OF FEDERAL, STATE, FOREIGN OR LOCAL LAW SUBSTANTIALLY SIMILAR TO SECTION 406 OF ERISA OR SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE) BECAUSE SUCH PURCHASE, HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF SUCH NOTE EITHER (A) IS NOT, AND WILL NOT BECOME, SUBJECT TO SUCH LAWS, OR (B) IS COVERED BY AN EXEMPTION FROM ALL APPLICABLE PROHIBITED TRANSACTIONS, ALL OF THE CONDITIONS OF WHICH ARE AND WILL BE SATISFIED UPON THE ACQUISITION OF, AND THROUGHOUT ITS HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF, THIS NOTE. ANY PURPORTED TRANSFER OF THIS NOTE THAT DOES NOT COMPLY WITH THESE REQUIREMENTS SHALL BE NULL AND VOID AB INITIO.

(ii) In addition, each Regulation S Global Note representing any Senior Note will contain the following additional legend:

EACH TRANSFEREE OF THE NOTE REPRESENTED HEREBY WILL, IF REQUIRED BY THE INDENTURE, BE REQUIRED TO DELIVER A TRANSFEREE CERTIFICATE IN A FORM PRESCRIBED IN THE INDENTURE OR WILL BE DEEMED TO HAVE MADE THE REPRESENTATIONS AND AGREEMENTS SET FORTH IN THE INDENTURE.

(7) The purchaser will provide notice to each person to whom it proposes to transfer any interest in the Senior Notes of the transfer restrictions and representations set forth in the Indenture, including the exhibits referenced therein.

(8) The purchaser understands that the Indenture permits the Issuer to compel any Holder of the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein who is a U.S. Person and who is determined not to have been both (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (y) a Qualified Purchaser at the time of acquisition of the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein to sell such interest, or to sell such interest on behalf of such purchaser, to a person that is both (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (y) a Qualified Purchaser, in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A or to a person that is a non-U.S. Person in an Offshore Transaction meeting the requirements of Regulation S.

(9) The purchaser understands that in the case of any supplemental indenture to the Indenture that requires consent of one or more Holders of the Senior Notes, the Indenture permits the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser to purchase Senior Notes from any Non-Consenting Holder thereof at the applicable Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price; and such Non-Consenting Holder will be required to sell such Senior Note to the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser at such price.

(10) The purchaser understands that the Stated Maturity of the Senior Notes is subject to multiple extensions of four years each without consent of any Holders of Securities at the option of the Issuer, if directed by the Servicer, upon satisfaction of certain conditions.

(11) The purchaser acknowledges that no action was taken or is being contemplated by the Co-Issuers that would permit a public offering of the Senior Notes in any jurisdiction. The purchaser further acknowledges that no action was taken or is being contemplated by the Co-Issuers that would permit possession or distribution of the Offering Memorandum or any amendment thereof or supplement thereto or any other offering material relating to the Senior Notes in any jurisdiction (other than Ireland) where, or in any circumstances in which, action for those purposes is required. Nothing contained in the offering memorandum relating to the Senior Notes shall constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to purchase any Senior Notes in any jurisdiction where it is unlawful to do so absent the taking of such action or the availability of an exemption therefrom.

(12) The purchaser will not, at any time, offer to buy or offer to sell the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein by any form of general solicitation or advertising, including, but not limited to, any advertisement, article, notice or other communication published in any newspaper, magazine or similar medium or broadcast over television or radio or seminar or meeting whose attendees have been invited by general solicitations or advertising.

(13) (a) Either (i) the purchaser is not, and is not using the assets of, and throughout the holding and disposition of the Senior Notes will not become or transfer its interest to, an employee benefit plan or other fund or arrangement subject to Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), a plan subject to Section 4975(e) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), or a governmental, foreign or church plan which is subject to any federal, state, foreign or local law that is substantially similar to the provisions of Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code or (ii) the purchaser’s purchase, holding and disposition of such Senior Notes will not result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (or, in the case of a governmental, foreign or church plan, any federal, state, foreign or local law that is substantially similar to Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code) because such purchase, holding and disposition of such Senior Notes either (x) is not, and will not become, subject to such laws, or (y) is covered by an exemption from all applicable prohibited transactions, all of the conditions of which are and will be satisfied upon the acquisition of, and throughout its holding and disposition of, such Senior Notes; (b) the purchaser shall not transfer an interest in such Senior Notes to any transferee unless such transferee meets the foregoing requirements; and (c) the purchaser and any fiduciaries or other Person causing it to acquire such Senior Notes agree, to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and their respective Affiliates from any cost, damage or loss incurred by them as a result of such purchaser not meeting the foregoing requirements or as a result of its transferring its interest to a transferee not meeting the foregoing requirements. Any purported purchase or transfer of the Senior Notes to a purchaser or transferee that does not comply with the requirements of this paragraph (13) shall be null and void ab initio.

(14) The purchaser understands that the Co-Issuers may receive a list of participants holding positions in its securities from one or more book-entry depositories.

(15) The purchaser agrees that it will not offer or sell, transfer, assign, or otherwise dispose of the Senior Notes or any interest therein except (i) pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws or the applicable laws of any other jurisdiction and (ii) in accordance with the Indenture, to which provisions the purchaser hereby agrees it is subject.

(17) The beneficial owner will agree to treat the Senior Notes as unconditional debt of the Issuer for tax, accounting and financial reporting purposes.

(18) To the extent required, as determined by the Issuer or the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer, the Issuer may, upon notice to the Trustee, impose additional transfer restrictions on the Senior Notes to comply with the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001 (the U.S. Patriot Act) and other similar laws or regulations, including, without limitation, requiring each transferee of a Senior Note to make representations to the Issuer in connection with such compliance.

(19) The purchaser understands that, to the extent required, as determined by the Co-Issuers, the Co-Issuers may amend the Indenture and, with respect to the Issuer only, the Preference Share Documents, without the consent of any Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Securities to (i) remove any restrictions and limitations imposed on the Co-Issuers or the Holders of the Securities that solely relate to compliance with Section 3(c)(7) and (ii) add any requirements that are necessary for compliance with Rule 3a-7 if, at any time following the Closing Date, the Co-Issuers elect to rely on exclusion from the definition of “investment company” under Rule 3a-7 in lieu of the exclusion under Section 3(c)(7).

(20) The purchaser understands that the Issuer may enter into amendments or modifications to the Servicing Agreement without the consent of any Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Securities.

(21) The purchaser agrees not to cause the filing of a petition in bankruptcy or winding up against the Issuer before one year and one day have elapsed since the payment in full of the Notes or, if longer, the applicable preference period in effect.

(22) The purchaser acknowledges that the Co-Issuers, the Servicer, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers and others will rely upon the truth and accuracy of the foregoing acknowledgments, representations and agreements and agrees that if any of the acknowledgments, representations or agreements deemed to have been made by it by its purchase of the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein are no longer accurate, it shall promptly notify the Co-Issuers, the Servicer, the Trustee and the Initial Purchasers. If the purchaser is acquiring any Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein as a fiduciary or agent for one or more institutional accounts, it represents that it has sole investment discretion with respect to each such account and it has full power to make the foregoing acknowledgments, representations and agreements on behalf of such account.

Transfer Restrictions Applicable to Regulation S Global Notes

Each purchaser of a beneficial interest in a Regulation S Global Note will be further deemed (and each transferee of a beneficial interest in a Regulation S Global Note will be required or deemed), in addition to making the representations set forth in paragraphs (3), (4), (5) and (7) through (22) above in “—Transfer Restrictions Applicable to Rule 144A Global Notes,” to represent and agree as follows:

The purchaser is aware that the Senior Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or any other applicable state securities law and the sale of such Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein to it is being made in reliance on the exemption from registration provided by Regulation S and understands that the Senior Notes offered in reliance on Regulation S will bear the appropriate legend set forth in paragraph (6) above in “—Transfer Restrictions Applicable to Rule 144A Global Notes” and will be represented by one or more Regulation S Global Notes. The purchaser acknowledges that no representation is made by the Co-Issuers or the Initial Purchasers as to the availability of any exemption under the Securities Act or other applicable laws of any other jurisdiction for resale of the Senior Notes. The purchaser and each beneficial owner of the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein that it holds is not, and will not be, a U.S. Person as defined in Regulation S and its purchase of the Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein will comply with all applicable laws in any jurisdiction in which it resides or is located and will be in a principal amount of not less than U.S.$250,000. The purchaser has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters as to be capable of evaluating the merits and risks of its investment in Senior Notes or any beneficial interest therein, and it, and any accounts for which it is acting are each able to bear the economic risk of its investment. Before any interest in a Regulation S Global Note may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of an interest in a Rule 144A Global Note, the transferor and the transferee will be required to provide the Trustee with written certifications as to compliance with the transfer restrictions.

Transfer Restrictions Applicable to Class E Notes

Each purchaser of Class E Notes acquiring such Class E Notes in the initial offering will be required to enter into a Subscription Agreement with the Issuer (or otherwise provides the Issuer with a certification) pursuant to which each such purchaser will be required to represent and agree (and each subsequent transferee will be required to represent and agree), on its own behalf as follows (terms used in this paragraph that are defined in Rule 144A are used herein as defined therein):

(1) The purchaser is a Qualified Institutional Buyer (or, solely in the case of certain purchasers purchasing Class E Notes on the Closing Date, an Institutional Accredited Investor) and is aware that the sale of Class E Notes to it is being made in reliance on an exemption from the registration requirements provided by Section 4(2) and is acquiring the Class E Notes for its own account (and not for the account of any family or other trust, any family member or any other person). In addition, the purchaser has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters as to be capable of evaluating the merits and risks of its investment in Class E Notes, and the purchaser is able to bear the economic risk of the purchaser’s investment.

(2) The purchaser understands that the Class E Notes are being offered only in a transaction not involving any public offering in the United States within the meaning of the Securities Act, the Class E Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act, and, if in the future the purchaser decides to offer, resell, pledge or otherwise transfer the Class E Notes, such Class E Notes may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred only in accordance with the legend in respect of such Class E Notes set forth in (7) below and the restrictions set forth in the Indenture. The purchaser acknowledges that no representation is made by the Issuer, the Servicer or the Initial Purchasers or any of their respective Affiliates as to the availability of any exemption under the Securities Act or other applicable laws of any jurisdiction for resale of the Class E Notes.

(3) The purchaser agrees that it will not offer or sell, transfer, assign, or otherwise dispose of the Class E Notes or any interest therein except (i) pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws or the applicable laws of any other jurisdiction and (ii) in accordance with the Indenture, to which provisions the purchaser agrees it is subject.

(4) The purchaser is not purchasing the Class E Notes with a view to the resale, distribution or other disposition thereof in violation of the Securities Act. The purchaser understands that the Class E Notes will be highly illiquid and are not suitable for short-term trading. The Class E Notes are a leveraged investment in the Collateral Obligations that may expose the Class E Notes to disproportionately large changes in value. Payments in respect of the Class E Notes are not guaranteed as they are dependent on the performance of the Issuer's portfolio of Collateral Obligations. The purchaser understands that an investment in the Class E Notes involves certain risks, including the risk of loss of all or a substantial part of its investment. The purchaser has had access to such financial and other information concerning the Issuer, the Class E Notes and the Collateral as it deemed necessary or appropriate in order to make an informed investment decision with respect to its purchase of the Class E Notes, including an opportunity to ask questions of and request information from the Issuer and the Initial Purchasers.

(5) In connection with the purchase of Class E Notes (provided that no such representation is made with respect to the Servicer by any Affiliate of or account serviced by the Servicer): (i) none of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Collateral Administrator, the Preference Shares Paying Agent or the Servicer is acting as a fiduciary or financial or investment adviser for the purchaser; (ii) the purchaser is not relying (for purposes of making any investment decision or otherwise) upon any advice, counsel or representations (whether written or oral) of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Collateral Administrator, the Preference Shares Paying Agent or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates other than in the Offering Memorandum and any representations expressly set forth in a written agreement with such party; (iii) none of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Collateral Administrator, the Preference Shares Paying Agent or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates has given to the purchaser (directly or indirectly through any other Person or documentation for the Class E Notes) any assurance, guarantee, or representation whatsoever as to the expected or projected success, profitability, return, performance result, effect, consequence, or benefit (including legal, regulatory, tax, financial, accounting, or otherwise) of the Class E Notes or an investment therein; (iv) the purchaser has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial and accounting advisors to the extent it has deemed necessary, and it has made its own investment decisions (including decisions regarding the suitability of any transaction pursuant to the documentation for the Class E Notes) based upon its own judgment and upon any advice from such advisors as it has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Collateral Administrator, the Preference Shares Paying Agent or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates; (v) the purchaser has determined that the rates, prices or amounts and other terms of the purchase and sale of the Class E Notes reflect those in relevant market for similar transactions; (vi) the purchaser is purchasing the Class E Notes with a full understanding of all of the terms, conditions and risks thereof (economic and otherwise), and it is capable of assuming and willing to assume (financially and otherwise) those risks; and (vii) the purchaser is a sophisticated investor.

(6) (A) The purchaser is (a) a Qualified Institutional Buyer (or, solely in the case of certain purchasers purchasing Class E Notes on the Closing Date, an Institutional Accredited Investor) and (b) a Qualified Purchaser, (B) the purchaser is acquiring the Class E Notes as principal for its own account for investment and not for sale in connection with any distribution thereof, (C) the purchaser was not formed solely for the purpose of investing in the Class E Notes (except when each beneficial owner of the purchaser is a Qualified Purchaser), (D) to the extent the purchaser is a private investment company formed before April 30, 1996, the purchaser has received the necessary consent from its beneficial owners, (E) the purchaser is not a broker-dealer that owns and invests on a discretionary basis less than $25,000,000 in securities of unaffiliated issuers, (F) the purchaser is not a pension, profit-sharing or other retirement trust fund or plan in which the partners, beneficiaries or participants or affiliates may designate the particular investment to be made, (G) the purchaser agrees that it shall not hold such Class E Notes for the benefit of any other Person and shall be the sole beneficial owner thereof for all purposes and that it shall not sell participation interests in the Class E Notes or enter into any other arrangement pursuant to which any other Person shall be entitled to a beneficial interest in the dividends or other distributions on the Class E Notes (except when each such other Person is (a) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (b) a Qualified Purchaser) and (H) the purchaser understands and agrees that any purported transfer of the Class E Notes to a purchaser that does not comply with the requirements of this paragraph shall be null and void ab initio.

(7) The purchaser understands that the Class E Notes (A) will be represented by either one or more Class E Note certificates which will bear the legend substantially in the form set forth below unless the Issuer determines otherwise in accordance with applicable law, and (B) may only be resold, pledged or transferred to Qualified Institutional Buyers who are also Qualified Purchasers. The purchaser understands that before the Class E Notes may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred, the transferee will be required to provide the Trustee and the Issuer with a written certification as to compliance with the transfer restrictions.

THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), AND THE ISSUER HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940, AS AMENDED (THE “INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT”). THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED, EXCEPT (A) TO A PERSON WHOM THE SELLER REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER (“QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER”) WITHIN THE MEANING OF RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT (OR, SOLELY IN THE CASE OF CERTAIN PURCHASERS PURCHASING THE NOTES ON THE CLOSING DATE, AN INSTITUTIONAL INVESTOR AS DEFINED IN CLAUSES (1), (2), (3) OR (7) OF RULE 501(a) UNDER REGULATION D OF THE SECURITIES ACT) PURCHASING FOR ITS OWN ACCOUNT (IN A TRANSACTION MEETING THE REQUIREMENTS OF RULE 144A SO LONG AS THE NOTES ARE ELIGIBLE FOR RESALE IN ACCORDANCE WITH RULE 144A) WHO IS ALSO A QUALIFIED PURCHASER (“QUALIFIED PURCHASER”) WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(c)(7) OF THE INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT THAT WAS NOT FORMED FOR THE PURPOSE OF INVESTING IN THE ISSUER (EXCEPT WHEN EACH BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE PURCHASER IS A QUALIFIED PURCHASER) AND THAT (1) HAS RECEIVED THE NECESSARY CONSENT FROM ITS BENEFICIAL OWNERS WHEN THE PURCHASER IS A PRIVATE INVESTMENT COMPANY FORMED ON OR BEFORE APRIL 30, 1996, (2) IS NOT A BROKER-DEALER THAT OWNS AND INVESTS ON A DISCRETIONARY BASIS LESS THAN $25,000,000 IN SECURITIES OF UNAFFILIATED ISSUERS AND (3) IS NOT A PENSION, PROFIT-SHARING OR OTHER RETIREMENT TRUST FUND OR PLAN IN WHICH THE PARTNERS, BENEFICIARIES OR PARTICIPANTS OR AFFILIATES MAY DESIGNATE THE PARTICULAR INVESTMENT TO BE MADE, (B) IN A PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF NOT LESS THAN U.S.$250,000 FOR THE PURCHASER AND (C) IN ACCORDANCE WITH ALL APPLICABLE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OF THE UNITED STATES AND ANY OTHER APPLICABLE JURISDICTION. EACH TRANSFEROR OF THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY OR ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST THEREIN WILL PROVIDE NOTICE OF THE TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS AS SET FORTH HEREIN TO ITS PURCHASER. EACH PURCHASER OF THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY WILL BE REQUIRED TO MAKE THE APPLICABLE REPRESENTATIONS AND AGREEMENTS SET FORTH IN THE INDENTURE. THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE PURCHASED BY OR TRANSFERRED TO A BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR OR CONTROLLING PERSON (EACH AS DEFINED IN THE INDENTURE) ONLY UPON THE SATISFACTION OF CERTAIN CONDITIONS SET FORTH IN THE INDENTURE. ANY TRANSFER IN VIOLATION OF THE FOREGOING WILL BE OF NO FORCE AND EFFECT, WILL BE VOID AB INITIO, AND WILL NOT OPERATE TO TRANSFER ANY RIGHTS TO THE TRANSFEREE, NOTWITHSTANDING ANY INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CONTRARY TO THE ISSUER, THE TRUSTEE OR ANY INTERMEDIARY. IN ADDITION TO THE FOREGOING, THE ISSUER MAINTAINS THE RIGHT TO RESELL ANY NOTES PREVIOUSLY TRANSFERRED TO NON-PERMITTED HOLDERS OR NON-PERMITTED BENEFIT PLAN INVESTORS (AS DEFINED IN THE INDENTURE) IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND SUBJECT TO THE TERMS OF THE INDENTURE.

THE FAILURE TO PROVIDE THE ISSUER AND ANY PAYING AGENT, WHENEVER REQUESTED BY THE ISSUER OR THE SERVICER ON BEHALF OF THE ISSUER, WITH THE APPLICABLE U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CERTIFICATIONS (GENERALLY, AN INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE FORM W-9 (OR APPLICABLE SUCCESSOR FORM) IN THE CASE OF A PERSON THAT IS A “UNITED STATES PERSON” WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 7701(A)(30) OF THE CODE OR AN APPROPRIATE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE FORM W-8 (OR APPLICABLE SUCCESSOR FORM) IN THE CASE OF A PERSON THAT IS NOT A “UNITED STATES PERSON” WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 7701(A)(30) OF THE CODE) MAY RESULT IN THE IMPOSITION OF U.S. FEDERAL WITHHOLDING FROM PAYMENTS TO THE HOLDER IN RESPECT OF THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY.

THE NOTES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY NOT BE ACQUIRED OR HELD BY (I) ANY “EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN” WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(3) OF THE EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974, AS AMENDED (“ERISA”), THAT IS SUBJECT TO TITLE I OF ERISA, (II) ANY “PLAN” DESCRIBED BY SECTION 4975(e)(1) OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED (THE “CODE”), THAT IS SUBJECT TO SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE, OR (III) ANY ENTITY WHOSE UNDERLYING ASSETS INCLUDE “PLAN ASSETS” OF ANY PLAN DESCRIBED IN (I) OR (II) BY REASON OF A PLAN’S INVESTMENT IN SUCH ENTITY (EACH OF (I), (II) AND (III), A “BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR”), EXCEPT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RESTRICTIONS SET FORTH IN THE INDENTURE.

EACH TRANSFEREE WILL BE REQUIRED TO DELIVER A TRANSFEREE CERTIFICATE IN A FORM PRESCRIBED IN THE INDENTURE.

(8) The purchaser will provide notice to each Person to whom it proposes to transfer any interest in the Class E Notes of the transfer restrictions and representations set forth in the Indenture, including the exhibits referenced in the Indenture.

(9) The purchaser understands that the Indenture permits the Issuer to compel any Holder of the Class E Notes who is determined not to have been (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer (with the exception of a purchaser purchasing Class E Notes on the Closing Date that is an Institutional Accredited Investor) and (y) a Qualified Purchaser, at the time of acquisition of the Class E Notes to sell such Class E Notes, or to sell such Class E Notes on behalf of such purchaser, to a Person that is both (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (y) a Qualified Purchaser, in a transaction exempt from the registration requirements under the Securities Act.

(10) The purchaser acknowledges that no action was taken or is being contemplated by the Issuer that would permit a public offering of the Class E Notes. The purchaser further acknowledges that no action was taken or is being contemplated by the Issuer that would permit possession or distribution of the Offering Memorandum or any amendment thereof or supplement thereto or any other offering material relating to the Securities in any jurisdiction (other than Ireland) where, or in any circumstances in which, action for those purposes is required. Nothing contained in the offering memorandum relating to the Class E Notes shall constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to purchase any Class E Notes in any jurisdiction where it is unlawful to do so absent the taking of such action or the availability of an exemption therefrom.

(11) The purchaser understands that in the case of any supplemental indenture to the Indenture that requires consent of one or more Holders of the Class E Notes, the Indenture permits the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser to purchase Class E Notes from any Non-Consenting Holder thereof at the applicable Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price; and such Non-Consenting Holder will be required to sell such Class E Notes to the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser at such price.

(12) The purchaser understands that the Stated Maturity of the Class E Notes is subject to multiple extensions of four years each without consent of any Holders of Securities at the option of the Issuer, if directed by the Servicer, upon satisfaction of certain conditions.

(13) The purchaser will not, at any time, offer to buy or offer to sell the Class E Notes by any form of general solicitation or advertising, including, but not limited to, any advertisement, article, notice or other communication published in any newspaper, magazine or similar medium or broadcast over television or radio or seminar or meeting whose attendees have been invited by general solicitations or advertising.

(14) The beneficial owner will agree to treat, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (a) the Preference Shares as equity of the Issuer, (b) the Notes as indebtedness of the Issuer and (c) the Issuer as a corporation. The beneficial owner will be deemed to have acknowledged that the Issuer is not authorized to engage in activities that could cause it to constitute a finance or lending business for U.S. federal income tax purposes and agrees that it will report its investment in the Notes consistent with such limitation.

(15) The beneficial owner, if not a U.S. Person, either (i) is not a bank (within the meaning of Section 881(c)(3)(A) of the Code (as defined below in paragraph 23)) or (ii) is a person that is eligible for benefits under an income tax treaty with the United States that eliminates United States federal income taxation of United States source interest not attributable to a permanent establishment in the United States. The beneficial owner is not purchasing the Class E Notes in order to reduce its United States federal income tax liability or pursuant to a tax avoidance plan.

(16) To the extent required, as determined by the Issuer or the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer, the Issuer may, upon notice to the Trustee and the Indenture Registrar, impose additional transfer restrictions on the Class E Notes to comply with the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001 (the U.S. Patriot Act) and other similar laws or regulations, including, without limitation, requiring each transferee of a Class E Note to make representations to the Issuer in connection with such compliance.

(17) The purchaser agrees not to cause the filing of a petition in bankruptcy or winding up against the Issuer before one year and one day have elapsed since the payment in full of the Notes or, if longer, the applicable preference period in effect.

(19) The beneficial owner will agree to treat the Class E Notes as unconditional debt of the Issuer for tax, accounting and financial reporting purposes.

(20) The purchaser understands that, prior to any sale or other transfer of any interest in Class E Notes, it (or the transferee, as applicable) will be required to provide to the Issuer and the Trustee a duly executed transfer certificate substantially in the form provided in the Indenture and such other certificates and other information as they may reasonably require to confirm that the proposed transfer complies with the restrictions in the legend placed on each certificate representing the Class E Notes and in the Indenture.

(21) The purchaser understands that, to the extent required, as determined by the Co-Issuers, the Co-Issuers may amend the Indenture and, with respect to the Issuer only, the Preference Share Documents, without the consent of any Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Securities to (i) remove any restrictions and limitations imposed on the Co-Issuers or the Holders of the Securities that solely relate to compliance with Section 3(c)(7) and (ii) add any requirements that are necessary for compliance with Rule 3a-7 if, at any time following the Closing Date, the Co-Issuers elect to rely on exclusion from the definition of “investment company” under Rule 3a-7 in lieu of the exclusion under Section 3(c)(7).

(22) The purchaser understands that the Issuer may enter into amendments or modifications to the Servicing Agreement without the consent of any Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Securities.

(23) The purchaser understands and agrees that no purchase or transfer of the Class E Notes (i) to a purchaser or transferee that has represented that it is a Benefit Plan Investor (as defined in Section 3(42) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or a Controlling Person (as defined under the Indenture) will be effective, and the Issuer or the Indenture Registrar will not recognize or register such purchase or transfer, if such purchase or transfer would result in Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of Class E Notes (determined pursuant to Section 3(42) of ERISA, 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101 and the Indenture) or (ii) will be permitted if such purchase or transfer will result in a prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), (or, in the case of a governmental, foreign or church plan, a violation of any substantially similar federal, state, foreign or local law). The purchaser or transferee further understands and agrees that any transfer in violation of the applicable provisions of the Indenture will be null and void ab initio. For purposes of the determination described in the first sentence of this paragraph (23), the Class E Notes held by the Trustee, the Servicer, any of their respective affiliates (as defined in 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101(f)(3)) and any other persons that have represented that they are Controlling Persons will be disregarded and will not be treated as outstanding unless such person is also a Benefit Plan Investor. The purchaser’s acquisition, holding and disposition of the Class E Notes will not result in a prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (or, in the case of a governmental, foreign or church plan, a violation of any substantially similar federal, state, foreign or local law), because such purchase, holding and disposition either (a) is not, and will not become, subject to such laws or (b) is covered by an exemption from all applicable prohibited transactions, all conditions of which are and will be been satisfied throughout its holding and disposition of such Class E Notes. The purchaser and any fiduciary or other Person causing it to acquire the Class E Notes agree, to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and their respective Affiliates from any cost, damage, or loss incurred by them as a result of a breach of the representations set forth in this paragraph (23) and paragraph (24). If the purchaser is an insurance company investing through its general account as defined in PTCE 95-60, for so long as it holds the Class E Notes, such purchaser represents that the percentage of the assets of such insurance company general account that may be treated as “plan assets” under ERISA and the Code will always remain below 25% (as determined pursuant to ERISA and the Code).

(24) (a) The funds that the purchaser is using or will use to purchase the Class E Notes are ___ / are not ___ (check one) assets of a person who is or at any time while the Class E Notes are held by the purchaser will be (A) an “employee benefit plan” as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA, that is subject to Title I of ERISA, (B) a “plan” described in Section 4975(e)(1) of the Code that is subject to Section 4975 of the Code or (C) an entity whose underlying assets include “plan assets” of either of the foregoing by reason of the investment by an employee benefit plan or other plan in the entity within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulation, as modified by Section 3(42) of ERISA (the plans and persons described in clauses (A), (B) and (C) being referred to as “Benefit Plan Investors”). If the purchaser is a Benefit Plan Investor that is an entity (other than an insurance company general account) whose underlying assets include “plan assets” by reason of an employee benefit plan’s or other plan’s investment in the entity, for so long as it holds the Class E Notes, such purchaser represents that the percentage of its assets that may be treated as “plan assets” under ERISA and the Code will never exceed ___% (as determined pursuant to ERISA and the Code).

(b) The purchaser is ___ / is not ___ (check one) the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Servicer or any other person (other than a Benefit Plan Investor) that has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the Issuer or a person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to the assets of the Issuer, or any “affiliate” (as defined in 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101(f)(3)) of any such person (any such person, a “Controlling Person”).

(25) The purchaser acknowledges that the Issuer, the Servicer, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers and others will rely upon the truth and accuracy of the foregoing acknowledgments, representations and agreements and agrees that if any of the acknowledgments, representations or agreements deemed to have been made by it by its purchase of the Class E Notes are no longer accurate, it shall promptly notify the Issuer, the Servicer, the Trustee and the Initial Purchasers.

Transfer Restrictions Applicable to Preference Shares

Each initial purchaser of Preference Shares acquiring such Preference Shares from the Issuer in the initial offering will be required to enter into a Subscription Agreement with the Issuer pursuant to which each such initial purchaser will be required to represent and agree (and each subsequent transferee will be required to represent and agree), on its own behalf as follows (terms used in this paragraph that are defined in Rule 144A are used herein as defined therein):

(1) The purchaser is a Qualified Institutional Buyer and is aware that the sale of Preference Shares to it is being made in reliance on an exemption from the registration requirements provided by Section 4(2) and is acquiring the Preference Shares for its own account (and not for the account of any family or other trust, any family member or any other person). In addition, the purchaser has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters as to be capable of evaluating the merits and risks of its investment in Preference Shares, and the purchaser is able to bear the economic risk of its investment.

(2) The purchaser understands that the Preference Shares are being offered only in a transaction not involving any public offering in the United States within the meaning of the Securities Act, the Preference Shares have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act, and, if in the future the purchaser decides to offer, resell, pledge or otherwise transfer the Preference Shares, such Preference Shares may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred only in accordance with the legend in respect of such Preference Shares set forth in (7) below and the restrictions set forth in the Preference Share Documents. The purchaser acknowledges that no representation is made by the Issuer, the Servicer or the Initial Purchasers or any of their respective Affiliates as to the availability of any exemption under the Securities Act or other applicable laws of any jurisdiction for resale of the Preference Shares.

(3) The purchaser agrees that it will not offer or sell, transfer, assign, or otherwise dispose of the Preference Shares or any interest therein except (i) pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws or the applicable laws of any other jurisdiction and (ii) in accordance with the Preference Share Documents, to which provisions the purchaser agrees it is subject.

(4) The purchaser is not purchasing the Preference Shares with a view to the resale, distribution or other disposition thereof in violation of the Securities Act. The purchaser understands that the Preference Shares will be highly illiquid and are not suitable for short-term trading. The Preference Shares are a leveraged investment in the Collateral Obligations that may expose the Preference Shares to disproportionately large changes in value. Payments in respect of the Preference Shares are not guaranteed as they are dependent on the performance of the Issuer's portfolio of Collateral Obligations. The purchaser understands that it is possible that, due to the structure of the transaction and the performance of the Issuer's portfolio of Collateral Obligations, dividends or other distributions in respect of the Preference Shares may be reduced or eliminated entirely. Furthermore, the Preference Shares constitute equity in the Issuer, are not secured by the Collateral and will rank behind all creditors (secured and unsecured and whether known or unknown) of the Issuer, including, without limitation, the Holders of the Notes, and any Hedge Counterparties. The Issuer has assets limited to the Collateral for payment of all Classes of the Notes and dividends and other distributions on the Preference Shares, and the Preference Shares bear, pro rata, the first risk of loss. The purchaser understands that an investment in the Preference Shares involves certain risks, including the risk of loss of all or a substantial part of its investment. The purchaser has had access to such financial and other information concerning the Issuer, the Preference Shares and the Collateral as it deemed necessary or appropriate in order to make an informed investment decision with respect to its purchase of the Preference Shares, including an opportunity to ask questions of and request information from the Issuer and the Initial Purchasers.

(5) In connection with the purchase of Preference Shares (provided that no such representation is made with respect to the Servicer by any Affiliate of or account serviced by the Servicer): (i) none of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer is acting as a fiduciary or financial or investment adviser for the purchaser; (ii) the purchaser is not relying (for purposes of making any investment decision or otherwise) upon any advice, counsel or representations (whether written or oral) of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates other than in the Offering Memorandum for such Preference Shares and any representations expressly set forth in a written agreement with such party; (iii) none of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates has given to the purchaser (directly or indirectly through any other Person or documentation for the Preference Shares) any assurance, guarantee, or representation whatsoever as to the expected or projected success, profitability, return, performance result, effect, consequence, or benefit (including legal, regulatory, tax, financial, accounting, or otherwise) of the Preference Shares or an investment therein; (iv) the purchaser has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial and accounting advisors to the extent it has deemed necessary, and it has made its own investment decisions (including decisions regarding the suitability of any transaction pursuant to the documentation for the Preference Shares) based upon its own judgment and upon any advice from such advisors as it has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates; (v) the purchaser has determined that the rates, prices or amounts and other terms of the purchase and sale of the Preference Shares reflect those in relevant market for similar transactions; (vi) the purchaser is purchasing the Preference Shares with a full understanding of all of the terms, conditions and risks thereof (economic and otherwise), and it is capable of assuming and willing to assume (financially and otherwise) those risks; and (vii) the purchaser is a sophisticated investor.

(6) (A) The purchaser is (a) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (b) a Qualified Purchaser, (B) the purchaser is acquiring the Preference Shares as principal for its own account for investment and not for sale in connection with any distribution thereof, (C) the purchaser was not formed solely for the purpose of investing in the Preference Shares (except when each beneficial owner of the purchaser is a Qualified Purchaser), (D) to the extent the purchaser is a private investment company formed before April 30, 1996, the purchaser has received the necessary consent from its beneficial owners, (E) the purchaser is not a broker-dealer that owns and invests on a discretionary basis less than $25,000,000 in securities of unaffiliated issuers, (F) the purchaser is not a pension, profit-sharing or other retirement trust fund or plan in which the partners, beneficiaries or participants or affiliates may designate the particular investment to be made, (G) the purchaser agrees that it shall not hold such Preference Shares for the benefit of any other Person and shall be the sole beneficial owner thereof for all purposes and that it shall not sell participation interests in the Preference Shares or enter into any other arrangement pursuant to which any other Person shall be entitled to a beneficial interest in the dividends or other distributions on the Preference Shares (except when each such other Person is (a) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (b) a Qualified Purchaser) and (H) the purchaser understands and agrees that any purported transfer of the Preference Shares to a purchaser that does not comply with the requirements of this paragraph shall be null and void ab initio.

(7) The purchaser understands that the Preference Shares (A) will be represented by either one or more Preference Share certificates which will bear the legend substantially in the form set forth below unless the Issuer determines otherwise in accordance with applicable law, and (B) may only be resold, pledged or transferred to Qualified Institutional Buyers who are also Qualified Purchasers. The purchaser understands that before the Preference Shares may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred, the transferee will be required to provide the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Issuer with a written certification as to compliance with the transfer restrictions.

THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), AND THE ISSUER HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940, AS AMENDED (THE “INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT”). THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED, EXCEPT (A) TO A PERSON WHOM THE SELLER REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER (“QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER”) WITHIN THE MEANING OF RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT PURCHASING FOR ITS OWN ACCOUNT (IN A TRANSACTION MEETING THE REQUIREMENTS OF RULE 144A SO LONG AS THE PREFERENCE SHARES ARE ELIGIBLE FOR RESALE IN ACCORDANCE WITH RULE 144A) WHO IS ALSO A QUALIFIED PURCHASER (“QUALIFIED PURCHASER”) WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(c)(7) OF THE INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT THAT WAS NOT FORMED FOR THE PURPOSE OF INVESTING IN THE ISSUER (EXCEPT WHEN EACH BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE PURCHASER IS A QUALIFIED PURCHASER) AND THAT (1) HAS RECEIVED THE NECESSARY CONSENT FROM ITS BENEFICIAL OWNERS WHEN THE PURCHASER IS A PRIVATE INVESTMENT COMPANY FORMED ON OR BEFORE APRIL 30, 1996, (2) IS NOT A BROKER-DEALER THAT OWNS AND INVESTS ON A DISCRETIONARY BASIS LESS THAN $25,000,000 IN SECURITIES OF UNAFFILIATED ISSUERS AND (3) IS NOT A PENSION, PROFIT-SHARING OR OTHER RETIREMENT TRUST FUND OR PLAN IN WHICH

THE PARTNERS, BENEFICIARIES OR PARTICIPANTS OR AFFILIATES MAY DESIGNATE THE PARTICULAR INVESTMENT TO BE MADE, (B) IN EACH CASE, IN A NUMBER OF NOT LESS THAN 100 PREFERENCE SHARES FOR THE PURCHASER AND (C) IN ACCORDANCE WITH ALL APPLICABLE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OF THE UNITED STATES AND ANY OTHER APPLICABLE JURISDICTION. EACH TRANSFEROR OF THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY OR ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST THEREIN WILL PROVIDE NOTICE OF THE TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS AS SET FORTH HEREIN TO ITS PURCHASER. EACH PURCHASER OF THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY WILL BE REQUIRED TO MAKE THE APPLICABLE REPRESENTATIONS AND AGREEMENTS SET FORTH IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS. THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE PURCHASED BY OR TRANSFERRED TO A BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR OR CONTROLLING PERSON (EACH AS DEFINED IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS) ONLY UPON THE SATISFACTION OF CERTAIN CONDITIONS SET FORTH IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS. ANY TRANSFER IN VIOLATION OF THE FOREGOING WILL BE OF NO FORCE AND EFFECT, WILL BE VOID AB INITIO, AND WILL NOT OPERATE TO TRANSFER ANY RIGHTS TO THE TRANSFEREE, NOTWITHSTANDING ANY INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CONTRARY TO THE ISSUER, THE PREFERENCE SHARES PAYING AGENT OR ANY INTERMEDIARY. IN ADDITION TO THE FOREGOING, THE ISSUER MAINTAINS THE RIGHT TO RESELL ANY PREFERENCE SHARES PREVIOUSLY TRANSFERRED TO NON-PERMITTED HOLDERS OR NON-PERMITTED BENEFIT PLAN INVESTORS (AS DEFINED IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS) IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND SUBJECT TO THE TERMS OF THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS.

THE FAILURE TO PROVIDE THE ISSUER AND ANY PAYING AGENT, WHENEVER REQUESTED BY THE ISSUER OR THE SERVICER ON BEHALF OF THE ISSUER, WITH THE APPLICABLE U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CERTIFICATIONS (GENERALLY, AN INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE FORM W-9 (OR APPLICABLE SUCCESSOR FORM) IN THE CASE OF A PERSON THAT IS A "UNITED STATES PERSON" WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 7701(A)(30) OF THE CODE OR AN APPROPRIATE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE FORM W-8 (OR APPLICABLE SUCCESSOR FORM) IN THE CASE OF A PERSON THAT IS NOT A "UNITED STATES PERSON" WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 7701(A)(30) OF THE CODE) MAY RESULT IN THE IMPOSITION OF U.S. FEDERAL WITHHOLDING FROM PAYMENTS TO THE HOLDER IN RESPECT OF THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY.

THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY NOT BE ACQUIRED OR HELD BY (I) ANY "EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN" WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(3) OF THE EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974, AS AMENDED ("ERISA"), THAT IS SUBJECT TO TITLE I OF ERISA, (II) ANY "PLAN" DESCRIBED BY SECTION 4975(e)(1) OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED (THE "CODE"), THAT IS SUBJECT TO SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE, OR (III) ANY ENTITY WHOSE UNDERLYING ASSETS INCLUDE "PLAN ASSETS" OF ANY PLAN DESCRIBED IN (I) OR (II) BY REASON OF A PLAN'S INVESTMENT IN SUCH ENTITY (EACH OF (I), (II) AND (III), A "BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR"), EXCEPT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RESTRICTIONS SET FORTH IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS.

EACH TRANSFEREE WILL BE REQUIRED TO DELIVER A TRANSFEREE CERTIFICATE IN A FORM PRESCRIBED IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS.

(8) The purchaser will provide notice to each Person to whom it proposes to transfer any interest in the Preference Shares of the transfer restrictions and representations set forth in the Preference Share Documents, including the exhibits referenced in the Preference Share Documents.

(9) The purchaser understands that the Preference Share Documents permit the Issuer to compel any Holder of the Preference Shares who is determined not to have been (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (y) a Qualified Purchaser, at the time of acquisition of the Preference Shares to sell such Preference Shares, or to sell such Preference Shares on behalf of such purchaser, to a Person that is both (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (y) a Qualified Purchaser, in a transaction exempt from the registration requirements under the Securities Act.

(10) The purchaser acknowledges that no action was taken or is being contemplated by the Issuer that would permit a public offering of the Preference Shares. The purchaser further acknowledges that no action was taken or is being contemplated by the Issuer that would permit possession or distribution of the Offering Memorandum or any amendment thereof or supplement thereto or any other offering material relating to the Securities in any jurisdiction (other than Ireland) where, or in any circumstances in which, action for those purposes is required. Nothing contained in the offering memorandum relating to the Preference Shares shall constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to purchase any Preference Shares in any jurisdiction where it is unlawful to do so absent the taking of such action or the availability of an exemption therefrom.

(11) The purchaser understands that in the case of any supplemental indenture to the Indenture that requires consent of one or more Holders of the Preference Shares, the Indenture permits the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser to purchase Preference Shares from any Non-Consenting Holder thereof at the applicable Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price; and such Non-Consenting Holder will be required to sell such Preference Shares to the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser at such price.

(12) The purchaser understands that the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date of the Preference Shares is subject to multiple extensions of four years each without consent of any Holders of Securities at the option of the Issuer, if directed by the Servicer, upon satisfaction of certain conditions.

(13) The purchaser will not, at any time, offer to buy or offer to sell the Preference Shares by any form of general solicitation or advertising, including, but not limited to, any advertisement, article, notice or other communication published in any newspaper, magazine or similar medium or broadcast over television or radio or seminar or meeting whose attendees have been invited by general solicitations or advertising.

(14) The beneficial owner will agree to treat, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (a) the Preference Shares as equity of the Issuer, (b) the Notes as indebtedness of the Issuer and (c) the Issuer as a corporation. The beneficial owner will be deemed to have acknowledged that the Issuer is not authorized to engage in activities that could cause it to constitute a finance or lending business for U.S. federal income tax purposes and agrees that it will report its investment in Preference Shares consistent with such limitation.

(15) The beneficial owner, if not a U.S. Person, either (i) is not a bank (within the meaning of Section 881(c)(3)(A) of the Code (as defined below in paragraph 23)) or (ii) is a person that is eligible for benefits under an income tax treaty with the United States that eliminates United States federal income taxation of United States source interest not attributable to a permanent establishment in the United States. The beneficial owner is not purchasing the Preference Shares in order to reduce its United States federal income tax liability or pursuant to a tax avoidance plan.

(16) To the extent required, as determined by the Issuer or the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer, the Issuer may, upon notice to the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Share Registrar, impose additional transfer restrictions on the Preference Shares to comply with the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001 (the U.S. Patriot Act) and other similar laws or regulations, including, without limitation, requiring each transferee of a Preference Share to make representations to the Issuer in connection with such compliance.

(17) The purchaser agrees not to cause the filing of a petition in bankruptcy or winding up against the Issuer before one year and one day have elapsed since the payment in full of the Notes or, if longer, the applicable preference period in effect.

(19) The purchaser understands that, prior to any sale or other transfer of any interest in Preference Shares, it (or the transferee, as applicable) will be required to provide to the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent a duly executed transfer certificate substantially in the form provided in the Preference Share Documents and such other certificates and other information as they may reasonably require to confirm that the proposed transfer complies with the restrictions in the legend placed on each certificate representing the Preference Shares and in the Preference Share Documents.

(20) The purchaser acknowledges that the Issuer has the right pursuant to Section 6 of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement to issue additional Preference Shares.

(21) The purchaser understands that, to the extent required, as determined by the Co-Issuers, the Co-Issuers may amend the Indenture and, with respect to the Issuer only, the Preference Share Documents without the consent of any Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Securities to (i) remove any restrictions and limitations imposed on the Co-Issuers or the Holders of the Securities that solely relate to compliance with Section 3(c)(7) and (ii) add any requirements that are necessary for compliance with Rule 3a-7 if, at any time following the Closing Date, the Co-Issuers elect to rely on exclusion from the definition of “investment company” under Rule 3a-7 in lieu of the exclusion under Section 3(c)(7).

(22) The purchaser understands that the Issuer may enter into amendments or modifications to the Servicing Agreement without the consent of any Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Securities.

(23) The purchaser understands and agrees that no purchase or transfer of the Preference Shares to (i) a purchaser or transferee that has represented that it is a Benefit Plan Investor (as defined in Section 3(42) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or a Controlling Person (as defined under the Indenture) will be effective, and the Issuer or the Share Registrar will not recognize or register such purchase or transfer, if such purchase or transfer would result in Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of Class I Preference Shares or Class II Preference Shares (determined pursuant to Section 3(42) of ERISA, 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101, the Indenture and the Preference Share Documents) or (ii) will be permitted if such purchase or transfer will result in a prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”) (or, in the case of a governmental, foreign or church plan, a violation of any substantially similar federal, state, foreign or local law). The purchaser or transferee further understands and agrees that any transfer in violation of the applicable provisions of the Preference Share Documents will be null and void ab initio. For purposes of the determination described in the first sentence of this paragraph (23), the Preference Shares held by the Trustee, the Servicer, any of their respective affiliates (as defined in 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101(f)(3)) and any other persons that have represented that they are Controlling Persons will be disregarded and will not be treated as outstanding unless such person is also a Benefit Plan Investor. The purchaser’s acquisition, holding and disposition of the Preference Shares will not result in a prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (or, in the case of a governmental, foreign or church plan, any violation of substantially similar federal, state, foreign or local law), because such purchase, holding and disposition either (a) is not, and will not become, subject to such laws or (b) is covered by an exemption from all applicable prohibited transactions, all conditions of which are and will be been satisfied throughout its holding and disposition of such Preference Shares. The purchaser and any fiduciary or Person causing it to acquire the Preference Shares agree, to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and their respective Affiliates from any cost, damage, or loss incurred by them as a result of a breach of the representations set forth in this paragraph (23) and paragraph (24). If the purchaser is an insurance company investing through its general account as defined in PTCE 95-60, for so long as it holds the Preference Shares, such purchaser represents that the percentage of assets of such insurance company general account that may be treated as “plan assets” under ERISA and the Code will always remain below 25% (as determined pursuant to ERISA and the Code).

(24) (a) The funds that the purchaser is using or will use to purchase the Preference Shares are ___ / are not ___ (check one) assets of a person who is or at any time while the Preference Shares are held by the purchaser will be (A) an “employee benefit plan” as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA, that is subject to Title I of ERISA, (B) a “plan” described in Section 4975(e)(1) of the Code that is subject to Section 4975 of the Code or (C) an entity whose underlying assets include “plan assets” of either of the foregoing by reason of the investment by an employee benefit plan or other plan in the entity within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulation, as modified by Section 3(42) of ERISA. If the purchaser is a Benefit Plan Investor that is an entity (other than an insurance company general account) whose underlying assets include “plan assets” by reason of an employee benefit plan’s or other plan’s investment in the entity, for so long as it holds the Preference Shares, such purchaser represents that the percentage of its assets that may be treated as “plan assets” under ERISA and the Code will never exceed ___% (as determined pursuant to ERISA and the Code).

(b) The purchaser is ___ / is not ___ (check one) the Co-Issuer, the Servicer or any other person (other than a Benefit Plan Investor) that has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the Issuer or a person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to the assets of the Issuer, or any “affiliate” (as defined in 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101(f)(3)) of any such person.

(25) The purchaser is ___ / is not ___ (check one) Highland Financial Partners, L.P. or any of its subsidiaries.

(26) The purchaser acknowledges that the Issuer, the Servicer, , the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers and others will rely upon the truth and accuracy of the foregoing acknowledgments, representations and agreements and agrees that if any of the acknowledgments, representations or agreements deemed to have been made by it by its purchase of the Preference Shares are no longer accurate, it shall promptly notify the Issuer, the Servicer, the Trustee and the Initial Purchasers.

LISTING AND GENERAL INFORMATION

1. The Issuer and the Co-Issuer accept responsibility for the information contained in this document. To the best knowledge and belief of the Issuer and the Co-Issuer, the information contained in this document is in accordance with the facts and does not omit anything likely to affect the import of such information.

2. Application will be made to list the Senior Notes on the ISE. However, there can be no assurance that any admission will be granted or maintained. In connection with the listing of the Senior Notes on the ISE, this Offering Memorandum will be filed with the Registrar of Companies of Ireland, pursuant to the ISE Listing Rules and the IFSRA Rules. Prior to the listing, a legal notice relating to the issue of the Senior Notes and copies of the Issuer Charter and the Certificate of Incorporation and By-laws of the Co-Issuer will be deposited with AIB International Financial Services Ltd. and at the principal office of the Issuer, where copies thereof may be obtained, free of charge, upon request.

3. As long as any of the Senior Notes are Outstanding and listed on the ISE, copies of the Issuer Charter and the Certificate of Incorporation and By-laws of the Co-Issuer, the Administration Agreement, the Resolutions, the resolutions of the Board of Directors of the Co-Issuer authorizing the issuance of the Senior Notes, the Indenture, the Servicing Agreement, the Collateral Administration Agreement, the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, any Hedge Agreement and the Monthly Report will be available for inspection at the offices of the Co-Issuers and the Irish Paying Agent in the City of Dublin, where copies thereof may be obtained upon request in printed form.

4. Copies of the Issuer Charter and the Certificate of Incorporation and By-laws of the Co-Issuer, the Administration Agreement, the Resolutions, the resolutions of the Board of Directors of the Co-Issuer authorizing the issuance of the Senior Notes, the Indenture, the Servicing Agreement, the Collateral Administration Agreement, the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, any Hedge Agreement and the Monthly Report prepared by the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer containing information relating to the Collateral will be available for inspection so long as any of the Securities are Outstanding at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee.

6. Each of the Co-Issuers represents that as of the date of this Offering Memorandum, there has been no material adverse change in its financial position since its date of incorporation. Since its date of incorporation, neither the Issuer nor the Co-Issuer has commenced operations, other than the Issuer purchasing certain Collateral Obligations and selling participation interests therein pursuant to a master participation agreement preparatory to the offering of the Securities, and no annual reports or accounts have been prepared as of the date of this Offering Memorandum.

7. The Co-Issuers are not involved in any litigation or arbitration proceedings (including any such proceedings which are pending or threatened of which the Co-Issuers are aware) which may have or have had within the last twelve (12) months a significant effect on the financial position of the Co-Issuers.

8. The issuance of the Securities was authorized and approved by the Board of Directors of the Issuer by the Resolutions. The issuance of the Senior Notes was authorized and approved by the Board of Directors of the Co-Issuer by resolutions passed on or before the Closing Date.

9. Since the date of their incorporation, no financial statements of the Co-Issuers have been prepared. The Issuer is not required by Cayman Islands law to publish financial statements, and does not intend to publish any financial statements. The Issuer is required to provide written confirmation to the Trustee, on an annual basis, that no Event of Default or other matter that is required to be brought to the Trustee's attention has occurred.

GLOSSARY OF DEFINED TERMS

“Accrued Interest On Sale” means interest accrued on a Collateral Obligation at the time of sale or other disposition to the extent paid to the Issuer as part of the sale or other disposition price of the Collateral Obligation after deduction of any amount representing Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal of the Collateral Obligation.

“Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal” means (i) interest accrued on or purchased with a Collateral Obligation as part of the price paid by the Issuer to acquire the Collateral Obligation less any amount of Interest Proceeds (applied as Interest Proceeds) applied by the Issuer to acquire the accrued interest at the time of purchase and (ii) interest accrued on a Loan that constitutes part of the price paid by the Issuer to repay loans made by the Pre-Closing Parties to finance the Issuer’s pre-closing acquisition of such Loan.

“Act” means any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action to be given or taken by Noteholders or Holders of Preference Shares under the Indenture embodied in and evidenced by one or more instruments (which may be an electronic document, including, but not limited to, in the form of e-mail, to the extent permitted by applicable law) of substantially similar tenor signed by Noteholders or Holders of Preference Shares in person or by agents duly appointed in writing (provided that no signature shall be required on electronic documents, including, but not limited to, in the form of e-mail to the extent permitted by law). Except as otherwise expressly provided in the Indenture the action shall become effective when the instruments are delivered to the Trustee (which instrument or instruments may be delivered through the Preference Shares Paying Agent, in the case of the Holders of the Preference Shares) and, if expressly required, to the Issuer. The instruments (and the action embodied in them) are referred to as the “Act” of the Noteholders or Holders of Preference Shares signing the instruments.

“Administrative Expense Cap” means, an amount on any Payment Date equal to the excess of:

(i) the sum of 0.04% of the Maximum Amount on the related Determination Date plus $150,000; over

(ii) the sum of the amounts paid for Administrative Expenses in the twelve months preceding the current Payment Date.

“Administrative Expenses” means amounts due or accrued representing:

(i) tax preparation, filing, and registration fees or expenses and any other filing and registration fees owed by the Co-Issuers (including all filing, registration and annual return fees payable to the Cayman Islands government and registered office fees);

(ii) fees, indemnities and expenses of the Trustee (including all amounts under Section 6.8 of the Indenture), the Administrator, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Collateral Administrator;

(iii) fees, indemnities and expenses of the Co-Issuers and of accountants, agents and counsel for either of the Co-Issuers;

(iv) fees and expenses of the Rating Agencies in connection with any rating of the Collateral (requested by the Issuer or the Servicer) or the Notes owed by either Co-Issuer (including fees and expenses for ongoing surveillance, credit estimates and other fees owing to the Rating Agencies);

(v) expenses and indemnities (but not Servicing Fees) of the Servicer if payable under the Servicing Agreement;

(vi) fees, indemnities and expenses for third-party loan pricing services and accountants; and

(vii) amounts due (other than indemnities) to any other Person (except the Servicer) if specifically provided for in the Indenture, including fees or expenses in connection with any Securities Lending Agreement.

“Affected Class”: Any Class of Notes that, as a result of the occurrence of a Tax Event, has received or will receive less than the aggregate amount of principal and interest that would otherwise have been payable to such Class on the Distribution Date related to the Due Period with respect to which such Tax Event occurs.

“Affiliate” or “Affiliated” means with respect to a Person,

(i) any other Person who, directly or indirectly, is in control of, or controlled by, or is under common control with, the Person; or

(ii) any other Person who is a director, officer or employee (A) of the Person, (B) of any subsidiary or parent company of the Person or (C) of any Person described in clause (i) above.

For the purposes of this definition, control of a Person shall mean the power, direct or indirect:

(A) to vote more than 50% of the securities having ordinary voting power for the election of directors of the Person; or

(B) to direct the corporate management and corporate policies of the Person whether by contract or otherwise (this does not include the Servicing Agreement unless it is amended expressly to provide those services).

For the purpose of this definition, the Administrator and its Affiliates are neither Affiliates of nor Affiliated with the Co-Issuers and the Co-Issuers are neither Affiliates of nor Affiliated with the Administrator, or any of their Affiliates.

“Aggregate Outstanding Amount” means, when used with respect to any of the Notes as of any date, the aggregate principal amount of such Notes on that date. When used with respect to the Preference Shares as of any date, means the number of such Preference Shares Outstanding on such date.

Except as otherwise provided herein:

(i) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class A-1-A Notes at any time shall include any Defaulted Interest in respect thereof and (to the extent not included in any such Defaulted Interest) accrued interest on such Defaulted Interest;

(ii) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class A-1-B Notes at any time shall include any Defaulted Interest in respect thereof and (to the extent not included in any such Defaulted Interest) accrued interest on such Defaulted Interest;

(iii) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class B Notes at any time shall include any Defaulted Interest in respect thereof and (to the extent not included in any such Defaulted Interest) accrued interest on such Defaulted Interest;

(iv) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class C Notes at any time shall include all Class C Deferred Interest attributed thereto;

(v) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class D Notes at any time shall include all Class D Deferred Interest attributed thereto; and

(vi) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class E Notes at any time shall include all Class E Deferred Interest attributed thereto.

“Aggregate Principal Balance” means, when used with respect to the Pledged Obligations, the sum of the Principal Balances of all the Pledged Obligations. When used with respect to a portion of the Pledged Obligations, the term Aggregate Principal Balance means the sum of the Principal Balances of that portion of the Pledged Obligations.

“Aggregate Purchase Price Amount” means, when used with respect to the Pledged Obligations, the sum of the Purchase Price Amounts of all the Pledged Obligations. When used with respect to a portion of the Pledged Obligations, the term Aggregate Purchase Price Amount means the sum of the Purchase Price Amounts of that portion of the Pledged Obligations.

“Allocable Principal Balance” means, with respect to a Synthetic Security based upon or relating to a senior secured index providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a basket of credit default swaps referencing a diversified group of Reference Obligations, with respect to which the principal or notional amount of the credit exposure to any single Reference Obligation does not increase over time, the portion of the aggregate Principal Balance of such Synthetic Security that is allocable to each Reference Obligation comprising such index or indices based upon allocating the Principal Balance of such Synthetic Security among such Reference Obligations in the same proportion as each Reference Obligation bears to the aggregate Principal Balance of such Synthetic Security.

“Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price” means, the purchase price payable by the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser for Securities purchased in an Amendment Buy-Out, if any, in an amount equal to (i) in the case of the Notes, the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest (including Deferred Interest, if any) as of the date of purchase payable to the Non-Consenting Holder (giving effect to any amounts paid to the Holder on such date), plus any unpaid Extension Bonus Payment, plus in the case of any Notes held or, with respect to any Notes representing Global Notes, beneficially owned, by the CDS/TRS Purchaser, the applicable CDS/TRS Termination Payment Amount, if any, and (ii) in the case of the Preference Shares, an amount that, when taken together with all payments and distributions made in respect of such Preference Shares since the Closing Date (and any amounts payable, if any, to the Non-Consenting Holder on the next succeeding Payment Date) would cause such Preference Shares to have received (as of the date of purchase thereof) a Preference Share Internal Rate of Return of 12.0% (assuming such purchase date was a Payment Date); provided, however, that in any Amendment Buy-Out from and after the date on which the Non-Consenting Holders of Preference Shares have received a Preference Share Internal Rate of Return equal to or in excess of 12.0%, the Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price for such Preference Shares shall be zero.

“Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser” means the Servicer (or any of its Affiliates acting as principal or agent); provided that in the event that the Servicer elects not to purchase Securities from Holders pursuant to “Description of the Securities—Amendment Buy-Out,” “Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser” shall mean one or more qualifying purchasers (which may include the Initial Purchasers or any of their Affiliates acting as principal or agent) designated by the Servicer; provided, however, none of the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers or any of their respective Affiliates shall have any duty to act as an Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser.

“Applicable Discount Rate” means, for purposes of determining the CDS/TRS Termination Payment Amount with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser in connection with an Amendment Buy-Out, USD-LIBOR-BBA, as defined in the Annex to the 2000 ISDA Definitions as determined by the CDS/TRS Purchaser on the Business Day preceding the date of purchase of the applicable Notes from the CDS/TRS Purchaser in connection with such Amendment Buy-Out.

“Applicable Note Interest Rate” means, with respect to the Notes of any Class, the Note Interest Rate with respect to such Class.

“Applicable Percentage” means the lesser of the Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate applicable to the Collateral Obligation and the S&P Recovery Rate applicable to the Collateral Obligation and the current S&P Rating of the Class A Notes.

“Approved Pricing Service” means Loan Pricing Corporation, Mark-It-Partners, Inc. or any other nationally recognized loan pricing service approved in writing by S&P.

“Ask-Side Market Value” means, as of any Measurement Date, the market value determined by the Servicer and reported to the Trustee as an amount rather than as a percentage or fraction of par (expressed in Dollars) of any lent Collateral Obligation based upon the Servicer’s commercially reasonable judgment and based upon the following order of priority: (i) the average of the ask-side market prices obtained by the Servicer from three Independent broker-dealers active in the trading of such obligations which are also Independent from the Servicer or (ii) if the foregoing set of prices could not be obtained, the higher of the ask-side market prices obtained by the Servicer from two Independent broker-dealers active in the trading of such obligations which are also Independent from the Servicer or (iii) if the foregoing sets of prices could not be obtained, the average of the ask-side prices for the purchase of such Collateral Obligation determined by an Approved Pricing Service (Independent from the Servicer) that derives valuations by polling broker-dealers (Independent from the Servicer); provided that if the Ask-Side Market Value of any lent Collateral Obligation cannot be so determined then such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have a Market Value equal to the outstanding principal balance thereof.

“Assigned Moody’s Rating” means the monitored publicly available rating or the monitored estimated rating expressly assigned to a debt obligation (or facility) by Moody’s that addresses the full amount of the principal and interest promised.

“Corporate Trust Office” means the corporate trust office of the Trustee at which the Trustee performs its duties under the Indenture, currently having an address of 200 Clarendon Street, Mail Code: EUC 108, Boston, MA 02116 telecopy no. (617) 351-4358, Attention: CDO Services Group, or any other address the Trustee designates from time to time by notice to the Noteholders, the Servicer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Issuer and each Rating Agency or the principal corporate trust office of any successor Trustee.

“Credit Improved Obligation” is any Collateral Obligation that (a) is sold pursuant to a Portfolio Improvement Exchange or (b) in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, has improved in credit quality; provided that, in forming such judgment, a reduction in credit spread or an increase in Market Value of such Collateral Obligation (whether as described in clauses (ii) or (iii) below or otherwise) may only be utilized as corroboration of other bases for such judgment; and provided, further, that, if a Credit Rating Event is in effect, such Collateral Obligation will be considered a Credit Improved Obligation only if in addition to the above:

(i) the Collateral Obligation has been upgraded or has been put on credit watch list with the potential for developing positive credit implications by either of the Rating Agencies since the date the Issuer first acquired the Collateral Obligation under the Indenture;

(ii) such Collateral Obligation has experienced a reduction in credit spread of (A) 0.25% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such decrease) less than or equal to 2.00%, (B) 0.375% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such decrease) greater than 2.00% but less than or equal to 4.00% or (C) 0.50% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such decrease) greater than 4.00%, in each case compared to the credit spread at the time such Collateral Obligation was acquired by the Issuer, determined by reference to an applicable index selected by the Servicer (such index selection subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition with respect to Moody’s);

(iii) (x) in the case of a Loan, the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation has increased by at least 1.00% from the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation as of its date of acquisition, as determined by the Servicer (provided that this subclause (iii)(x) will be deemed satisfied if Market Value increases to 1.01%), or (y) in the case of a Bond, the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation has changed since its date of acquisition by a percentage more positive than the percentage change in the Merrill Lynch US High Yield Master II Index, Bloomberg ticker H0A0, plus 3.00%, over the same period; or

(iv) a Super Majority of the Controlling Class have voted to suspend the limitations on a Collateral Obligation being a Credit Improved Obligation, and for each subsequent downgrade by Moody’s after a vote to suspend the limitations pursuant to this clause (iv) has occurred, a Super Majority of the Controlling Class must again vote to suspend the limitations on the Collateral Obligation being a Credit Improved Obligation for this clause (iv) to remain applicable.

A Synthetic Security shall be considered a Credit Improved Obligation if:

(i) the Synthetic Security itself is a Credit Improved Obligation; or

(ii) the Reference Obligation of the Synthetic Security would, if it were a Collateral Obligation, be a Credit Improved Obligation.

“Credit Rating Event” means an event that is in effect if the rating by Moody’s:

- (i) of the Class A-1-A Notes or the Class A-1-B Notes has been withdrawn or is one or more rating sub-categories below its Initial Rating; or
- (ii) of the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes or the Class E Notes has been withdrawn or is two or more rating sub-categories below its respective Initial Rating.

For the purposes of this definition, any withdrawal or reduction in rating shall not be effective if after the withdrawal or reduction Moody’s has upgraded the reduced or withdrawn rating to at least the Initial Rating in the case of the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes, or to only one subcategory below their Initial Rating in the case of the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes.

“Credit Risk Obligation” means any Collateral Obligation (other than a Defaulted Collateral Obligation) that, in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, has significantly declined in credit quality and has a significant risk, with a lapse of time, of becoming a Defaulted Collateral Obligation; provided that in forming such judgment an increase in credit spread or a decrease in Market Value of such Collateral Obligation (whether as described in clauses (ii) or (iii) below or otherwise) may only be utilized as corroboration of other bases for such judgment.

So long as a Credit Rating Event is in effect, no Collateral Obligation shall be eligible to be a Credit Risk Obligation unless in addition to the above, as of the date of determination:

- (i) the Collateral Obligation has been downgraded or has been put on credit watch list with the potential for developing negative credit implications by either of the Rating Agencies since the date the Issuer first acquired the Collateral Obligation under the Indenture;
- (ii) such Collateral Obligation has experienced an increase in credit spread of (A) 0.25% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such increase) less than or equal to 2.00% (B) 0.375% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such increase) greater than 2.00% but less than or equal to 4.00% or (C) 0.50% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such increase) greater than 4.00%, in each case compared to the credit spread at the time such Collateral Obligation was acquired by the Issuer, determined by reference to an applicable index selected by the Servicer (such index selection subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition with respect to Moody’s);
- (iii) (x) in the case of a Loan, the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation has decreased by at least 2.50% from the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation as of its date of acquisition, as determined by the Servicer, and (y) in the case of a Bond, the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation has changed since its date of acquisition by a percentage more negative, or less positive, as the case may be, than the percentage change in the Merrill Lynch US High Yield Master II Index, Bloomberg ticker H0A0, less 3.00%, over the same period; or
- (iv) a Super Majority of the Controlling Class have voted to suspend the limitations on a Collateral Obligation being a Credit Risk Obligation set forth in clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) above, and for each subsequent downgrade by Moody’s after a vote to suspend the limitations pursuant to this clause (iv) has occurred, a Super Majority of the Controlling Class must again vote to suspend the limitations on the Collateral Obligation being a Credit Risk Obligation for this clause (iv) to remain applicable.

A Synthetic Security shall be considered a Credit Risk Obligation if:

- (a) the Synthetic Security itself is a Credit Risk Obligation; or

(b) the Reference Obligation of the Synthetic Security would, if it were a Collateral Obligation, be a Credit Risk Obligation.

“Current-Pay Obligation” means a Collateral Obligation as to which:

(i) an insolvency event has occurred with respect to its obligor or as to which its obligor is rated “D” or “SD” by S&P or its obligor has previously been rated “CCC-” by S&P and the rating has been withdrawn;

(ii) no default as to the payment of principal or interest with respect to the Collateral Obligation is then continuing and the Servicer has delivered to the Trustee an officer’s certificate to the effect that the Servicer expects that the obligor will make payments on the Collateral Obligation as they become due;

(iii) (A) if the rating by Moody’s of the Collateral Obligation is at least “Caa1” (and not on credit watch with negative implications) the Market Value of the Collateral Obligation is at least equal to 80% of its Principal Balance or (B) if the rating by Moody’s of the Collateral Obligation is less than “Caa1” or is “Caa1” and on credit watch with negative implications, the Market Value of the Collateral Obligation is at least equal to 85% of its Principal Balance;

(iv) if an insolvency event has occurred with respect to the obligor of the Collateral Obligation, a bankruptcy court has authorized all payments of principal and interest payable on the Collateral Obligation; and

(v) the Servicer has designated in writing to the Trustee the Collateral Obligation as a Current-Pay Obligation.

If the Aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations that would otherwise be Current-Pay Obligations exceeds 5% of the Maximum Amount, all or a portion of one or more Collateral Obligations that would otherwise be Current-Pay Obligations with an Aggregate Principal Balance equal to the amount of the excess shall not be Current-Pay Obligations (and will therefore be Defaulted Collateral Obligations). The Servicer shall designate in writing to the Trustee the Collateral Obligations that shall not be Current-Pay Obligations pursuant to the preceding sentence as the Collateral Obligations (or portions thereof) that have the lowest Market Value on any applicable date of determination.

The Servicer may, with the consent of a Majority of the Controlling Class, by notice to the Issuer, the Trustee and the Collateral Administrator, change the definition of “Current-Pay Obligation” or how Current-Pay Obligations are treated in the Indenture, subject to the satisfaction of the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency.

“Current Portfolio” means, at any time, the portfolio (measured by Aggregate Principal Balance) of Collateral Obligations, Principal Proceeds held as cash on deposit in the Collection Account, and other Eligible Investments purchased with Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account that exists before the sale, maturity, or other disposition of a Collateral Obligation or before the acquisition of a Collateral Obligation, as the case may be.

“Deep Discount Obligation” means, until the average Market Value Percentage of the Collateral Obligation, as determined daily for any period of 30 consecutive days, equals or exceeds 90%, any Collateral Obligation acquired by the Issuer for a Purchase Price less than 85% of its Principal Balance. For such purpose, the Market Value Percentage of a Collateral Obligation on a day that is not a Business Day shall be deemed to be the Market Value Percentage of the Collateral Obligation on the immediately preceding Business Day.

“Defaulted Collateral Obligation” means any Collateral Obligation or other obligation included in the Collateral:

(i) as to which a default in the payment of principal or interest is continuing beyond the lesser of three Business Days and any applicable grace or notice period, unless in the case of a failure of the obligor to make required interest payments, the obligor has resumed current Cash payments of interest previously scheduled and unpaid and has paid in full any accrued interest due and payable thereon, in which case the Collateral Obligation shall cease to be classified as a Defaulted Collateral Obligation;

(ii) the maturity of all or a portion of the principal amount of such Collateral Obligation has been accelerated as a consequence of a default (other than any payment default) under the instruments evidencing or relating to such Collateral Obligation; unless such default or event of default has been fully cured or waived and is no longer continuing and such acceleration has been rescinded;

(iii) with respect to which there has been effected any distressed exchange or other debt restructuring where the obligor has offered the holders thereof a new security or instrument or package of securities or instruments that, in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, either (x) amounts to a diminished financial obligation or (y) has the sole purpose of enabling the obligor to avoid a default;

(iv) (1) that is pari passu with or subordinated to other indebtedness for borrowed money owing by its obligor (“Other Indebtedness”), (2) the obligor has defaulted in the payment of principal or interest (without regard to any applicable grace or notice period and without regard to any waiver of the default) on the Other Indebtedness, unless, in the case of a failure of the obligor to make required interest payments, the obligor has resumed current Cash payments of interest previously scheduled and unpaid on the Other Indebtedness and has paid in full any accrued interest due and payable thereon, in which case the Collateral Obligation shall cease to be classified as a Defaulted Collateral Obligation and (3) the Servicer, provided that the related Collateral Obligation has not been downgraded after the default on such Other Indebtedness has occurred, determines (in its commercially reasonable judgment) that such Other Indebtedness is material;

(v) (other than a Current-Pay Obligation or a DIP Loan) as to which:

- (A) an insolvency event has occurred with respect to its obligor;
- (B) the obligation is rated “D”, “SD”, “C” or “CC” by S&P or was so rated immediately prior to such rating being withdrawn, or has previously been rated “CCC-” or lower by S&P and the rating has been withdrawn; or
- (C) the obligation is rated “D” by Moody’s or was so rated immediately prior to such rating being withdrawn.

(vi) if the Collateral Obligation is a Structured Finance Obligation, it is rated “CC” or below by S&P, or it was rated “CC” or below by S&P but the rating has since been withdrawn, or it is rated “Ca” or below by Moody’s, or it was rated “C” or below by Moody’s but the rating has since been withdrawn;

(vii) that is a Participation that would, if the underlying Loan were a Collateral Obligation, be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation under any of clauses (i) through (v) above or with respect to which the Participating Institution has defaulted in the performance of any of its payment obligations under the Participation;

(viii) that is a Synthetic Security referencing a Reference Obligation that would, if the Reference Obligation were a Collateral Obligation, be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation under any of clauses (i) through (vi) above or with respect to which the Synthetic Security Counterparty has defaulted in the performance of any of its payment obligations under the Synthetic Security; provided, however, with respect to a Synthetic Security based upon or relating to a senior secured index providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a basket of credit default swaps referencing a diversified group of Reference Obligations, with respect to which the principal or notional amount of the credit exposure to any single Reference Obligation does not increase over time: (x) a determination whether the Reference Obligations upon which such Synthetic Security is based would, if such Reference Obligations were Collateral Obligations, be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation, shall be determined by treating such Synthetic Security as a direct interest of the Issuer in each of the Reference Obligations on which such Synthetic Security is based in an amount equal to the Allocable Principal Balance of such Reference Obligation and (y) the “Defaulted Collateral Obligation” for purposes of this clause (viii) shall be limited to the Allocable Principal Balance of each Reference Obligation that would, if the Reference Obligation were a Collateral Obligation, be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation under any of clauses (i) through (vi) above;

(ix) that is a Written-Down Obligation;

(x) that is a DIP Loan as to which an order has been entered converting the debtor’s chapter 11 case to a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code; or

Any Collateral Obligation that is classified as a Defaulted Collateral Obligation shall cease to be so classified if the Collateral Obligation, at any date thereafter,

(1) would not otherwise be classified as a Defaulted Collateral Obligation in accordance with this definition; and

(2) otherwise meets the Eligibility Criteria as of that date.

If any portion of a Collateral Obligation has a maturity later than one year after the Stated Maturity of the Notes due to a change in the payment schedule of the Collateral Obligation occurring after its acquisition by the Issuer, that portion of the Collateral Obligation shall be considered a Defaulted Collateral Obligation.

“Defaulted Hedge Termination Payment” means any termination payment required to be made by the Issuer to a Hedge Counterparty pursuant to a Hedge Agreement upon a termination of the Hedge Agreement in respect of which the Hedge Counterparty is the sole Defaulting Party or Affected Party (each as defined in the Hedge Agreements).

“Defaulted Interest” means any interest payable in respect of any Class of Notes that is not punctually paid or duly provided for on the applicable Payment Date or at Stated Maturity.

“Defaulted Interest Charge” means to the extent lawful, interest on any Defaulted Interest at the Default Interest Rate.

“Default Interest Rate” means, with respect to any specified Class of Notes, the per annum interest rate equal to the Note Interest Rate payable on the Notes of the Class.

“Definitive Security” means any Note or Certificated Preference Share that is registered in the name of the beneficial owner.

“Delayed Drawdown Loan” means a Loan or any Synthetic Security with a Reference Obligation that:

- (i) requires the Issuer to make one or more future advances to the borrower under its Underlying Instruments;
- (ii) specifies a maximum amount that can be borrowed on one or more fixed borrowing dates; and
- (iii) does not permit the re-borrowing of any amount previously repaid.

A Loan or Synthetic Security shall only be considered to be a Delayed Drawdown Loan for so long as its unused commitment amount is greater than zero and for purposes of the Concentration Limitations only unfunded portions will count as Delayed Drawdown Loans.

“DIP Loan” means any Loan:

- (i) that has a rating assigned by Moody’s (or if the Loan does not have a rating assigned by Moody’s, the Servicer has commenced the process of having a rating assigned by Moody’s within five Business Days of the date the Loan is acquired by the Issuer) and a rating assigned by S&P (or if the Loan does not have a rating assigned by S&P, the Servicer has commenced the process of having a rating assigned by S&P within two Business Days of the date the Loan is acquired by the Issuer);

- (ii) that is an obligation of a debtor in possession as described in Section 1107 of the Bankruptcy Code or a trustee (if appointment of a trustee has been ordered pursuant to Section 1104 of the Bankruptcy Code) (a “Debtor”) organized under the laws of the United States or any state of the United States; and

- (iii) the terms of which have been approved by a final order of the United States Bankruptcy Court, United States District Court, or any other court of competent jurisdiction, the enforceability of which order is not subject to any pending contested matter or proceeding (as those terms are defined in the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure) and which order provides that:

- (A) the Loan is secured by liens on the Debtor’s otherwise unencumbered assets pursuant to Section 364(c)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code;

- (B) the Loan is secured by liens of equal or senior priority on property of the Debtor’s estate that is otherwise subject to a lien pursuant to Section 364(d) of the Bankruptcy Code;

- (C) the Loan is fully secured (based on a current valuation or appraisal report) by junior liens on the Debtor’s encumbered assets; or

- (D) if any portion of the Loan is unsecured, the repayment of the Loan retains priority over all other administrative expenses pursuant to Section 364(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code (and in the case of this clause (D), before the acquisition of the Loan, the Rating Condition is satisfied with respect to each Rating Agency).

“Diversity Score” is a single number that indicates collateral concentration in terms of both issuer and industry concentration, calculated as set forth in Schedule 4 to the Indenture.

“Domicile” or “Domiciled” means, with respect to each Collateral Obligation, (i) the jurisdiction of incorporation, organization or creation of the related obligor or (ii) in the case of a Collateral Obligation that would otherwise be considered to be domiciled pursuant to clause (i) in a Tax Advantaged Jurisdiction, the jurisdiction in which, in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, the related obligor conducts substantially all of its business operations and in which the assets primarily responsible for generating its revenues are located.

“Due Period” means, with respect to any Payment Date, for all purposes other than payments and receipts under Hedge Agreements, the period from the Business Day after the eighth Business Day before the previous Payment Date (or in the case of the first Payment Date, from the Closing Date) up to but excluding the Business Day after the eighth Business Day before the Payment Date (or in the case of the final Payment Date or any Payment Date that is a Redemption Date, through the Business Day before the Payment Date and for payments and receipts under Hedge Agreements the period from the day after the previous Payment Date (or in the case of the first Payment Date from the Closing Date) through the Payment Date).

“Eligible Country” means the United States, Canada and any country classified by Moody’s as a Moody’s Group I Country, Moody’s Group II Country or Moody’s Group III Country and, in each case, has an S&P foreign currency rating of at least “AA” and a Moody’s foreign currency rating of at least “Aa2.”

“Eligible Equity Security” mean an equity security acquired in connection with the workout or restructuring of any Collateral Obligation by, or on behalf of, the Issuer that (i) is publicly traded on an Established Securities Market or (ii) the Market Value of which is higher than the Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligation with respect to which such equity security has been acquired by the Issuer.

“Eligible Investments” means any Dollar-denominated obligation or asset that, when it is pledged by the Issuer to the Trustee under the Indenture, is one or more of the following:

- (i) Cash;
- (ii) direct Registered obligations of, and Registered obligations the timely payment of principal and interest on which is fully and expressly guaranteed by, the United States or any agency or instrumentality of the United States the obligations of which are expressly backed by the full faith and credit of the United States, which in each case are not zero coupon securities;
- (iii) demand and time deposits in, trust accounts, certificates of deposit payable within 91 days of issuance of, bankers’ acceptances payable within 91 days of issuance issued by, or Federal funds sold by any depository institution or trust company incorporated under the laws of the United States or any state thereof and subject to supervision and examination by Federal and/or state banking authorities so long as the commercial paper and/or the debt obligations of such depository institution or trust company (or, in the case of the principal depository institution in a holding company system, the commercial paper or debt obligations of such holding company), at the time of such acquisition or contractual commitment providing for such acquisition and throughout the term thereof, have a credit rating of not less than “Aaa” by Moody’s and “AAA” by S&P and in each case are not on watch for downgrade, or “P-1” by Moody’s and “A-1+” by S&P in the case of commercial paper and short-term debt obligations; provided that in any case, the issuer thereof must have at the time of such acquisition a long-term credit rating of not less than “AA-” by S&P and “Aa3” by Moody’s and a short-term rating of “A-1+” by S&P and “P-1” by Moody’s, and if so rated, is not on watch for downgrade;
- (iv) commercial paper or other short-term obligations with a maturity of not more than 183 days from the date of issuance and having at the time of such acquisition a credit rating of at least “P-1” by Moody’s and “A-1+” by S&P; provided that, in any case, the issuer thereof must have at the time of such acquisition a long-term credit rating of not less than “Aa2” by Moody’s and “AA-” by S&P, and if so rated, such rating is not on watch for downgrade;

“Finance Lease” means a lease agreement or other agreement entered into in connection with and evidencing a Leasing Finance Transaction.

“Fixed Amount” means, with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser and each applicable Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Period, the product of (i) the applicable Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Amount with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser, (ii) the applicable Fixed Rate with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser and (iii) a fraction the numerator of which is the actual number of days in such Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Period and the denominator of which is 360.

“Fixed Rate” means, with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser, the spread over LIBOR of the applicable Note Interest Rate for the Class of Notes held by the CDS/TRS Purchaser with respect to which the CDS/TRS Purchaser has entered into a credit default swap or a total return swap, as the case may be.

“Fixed Rate Excess” means, as of any Measurement Date, a fraction whose numerator is the product of:

- (i) the greater of zero and the excess of the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon for the Measurement Date over the minimum percentage specified to pass the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test; and
- (ii) the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Fixed Rate Obligations (excluding any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations) held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date;

and whose denominator is the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Floating Rate Obligations (excluding any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations) held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date.

In computing the Fixed Rate Excess on any Measurement Date, the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon for the Measurement Date will be computed as if the Spread Excess were equal to zero.

“Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Amount” means, with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser for purposes of calculating the applicable CDS/TRS Termination Payment Amount, the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Notes held by the CDS/TRS Purchaser as of the date of purchase of such Notes in an Amendment Buy-Out (in each case, after giving effect to any principal amounts paid to the CDS/TRS Purchaser on such date).

“Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Period” means, with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser for purposes of calculating the applicable CDS/TRS Termination Payment Amount, initially, the period from and including the date of purchase of such Notes in an Amendment Buy-Out to but excluding the immediately succeeding Payment Date, and, thereafter, each successive period from and including each Payment Date to but excluding the following Payment Date; provided that the last Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Period shall end on the May 2011 Payment Date.

“Floating Rate Obligation” means any Collateral Obligation that bears interest based on a floating rate index.

“Form-Approved Synthetic Security” means a Synthetic Security:

- (i) (A) each of the Reference Obligations of which satisfy the definition of “Collateral Obligation” and could be purchased by the Issuer without any required action by the Rating Agencies, without satisfaction of the Rating Condition or which the Rating Agencies have otherwise approved; or
- (B) each of the Reference Obligations of which would satisfy clause (A) above but for the currency in which the Reference Obligation is payable and the Synthetic Security is payable in Dollars, does not provide for physical settlement, and does not expose the Issuer to Dollar currency risk;
- (ii) the Synthetic Security Agreement of which conforms (but for the amount and timing of periodic payments, the name of the Reference Obligation, the notional amount, the effective date, the termination date, and other similar necessary changes) to a form that has been expressly identified and approved in writing in connection with a request under the Indenture by Moody’s and S&P;
- (iii) a copy of the Synthetic Security Agreement of which has been delivered to the Holders of the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes by the Trustee at the expense of the Co-Issuers and upon being furnished with a copy of the same by the Servicer; and
- (iv) that is with a counterparty with respect to which the Rating Condition has been satisfied by each of Moody’s and S&P prior to the acquisition of any such Form-Approved Synthetic Security, and such approval has not been withdrawn.

Moody’s or S&P may at any time, by notice to the Servicer, withdraw its approval of any such form. A withdrawal of approval shall have no effect on any Synthetic Security acquired, entered into, or committed to before the date on which the Servicer receives the notice of withdrawal.

“Funded Amount” means, with respect to any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan at any time, the aggregate principal amount of advances or other extensions of credit made thereunder by the Issuer that are outstanding and have not been repaid at such time.

“Hedge Agreements” means, collectively, all interest rate cap or interest rate swap agreements between the Issuer and any Hedge Counterparty, and any replacement agreement entered into pursuant to the Indenture.

“Hedge Counterparty” means any counterparty, to the extent that when the Issuer enters into any Hedge Agreement with such counterparty, such counterparty satisfies the requirements of the Indenture, including the satisfaction of the Rating Condition for each Rating Agency.

“Hedge Termination Receipt” means any termination payment paid by the Hedge Counterparty to the Issuer upon any early termination of a Hedge Agreement with respect to which the Hedge Counterparty is the sole Defaulting Party or Affected Party (each as defined in the Hedge Agreements).

“High-Yield Bond” means any debt security, other than a Loan or a Structured Finance Obligation, that is either Registered or, if not Registered, (i) it is issued by an obligor that is not resident in the United States, (ii) the payments on it are not subject to United States withholding tax and (iii) it is held through a financial institution pursuant to the procedures described in Treasury Regulation section 1.165-12(c)(3).

“Holder” means, of any Note, the person whose name appears on the Indenture Register as the registered holder of the Note; and of any Preference Share, the person whose name appears in the Preference Share register related thereto as the registered holder of such Preference Share.

“Indenture Registrar” means the Bank in its capacity as Indenture registrar as provided in the Indenture.

“Indenture Register” means the register caused to be kept by the Issuer for the purpose of registering Notes and transfers of the Notes as provided in the Indenture.

“Initial Consent Period” means the period of 15 Business Days from but excluding the date on which the Trustee mailed notice of a proposed supplemental indenture pursuant to the Indenture to the Holders of Securities.

“Initial Rating” means, the ratings by Moody’s and S&P with respect to each Class of Notes provided in the table in “Summary of Terms—Principal Terms of the Securities.”

“Interest Period” means, initially, the period from and including the Closing Date to but excluding the first Payment Date, and, thereafter, each successive period from and including each Payment Date to but excluding the following Payment Date.

“Interest Proceeds” means, with respect to any Due Period, the sum (without duplication) of all amounts received in Cash during the Due Period (or as otherwise specified below) by the Issuer with respect to the Collateral that are:

(i) payments of interest, fees, and commissions (excluding (A) Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal, (B) interest and dividends on Workout Assets, (C) fees and commissions from Defaulted Collateral Obligations, and (D) syndication and other up-front fees and any up-front fixed payments received in connection with entering into a Synthetic Security);

(ii) any portion of the Sale Proceeds of a Collateral Obligation (other than a Defaulted Collateral Obligation) representing Accrued Interest On Sale;

(iii) all payments of principal on, or disposition proceeds from the sale of, Eligible Investments to the extent purchased with Interest Proceeds;

(iv) payments with respect to the Hedge Agreements received on or before the related Payment Date (other than any amount payable thereunder because of any early termination or notional amount reduction), but not any Sale Proceeds from any of these instruments (except to the extent that they were purchased with Interest Proceeds);

(v) all fees received pursuant to any Securities Lending Agreements;

(vi) amounts in the Collection Account designated for distribution as Interest Proceeds pursuant to the Priority of Payments (including any amount transferred from the Interest Reserve Account);

(vii) all earnings on amounts in the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account and the Revolving Reserve Account deposited to the Collection Account in accordance with the Indenture;

(viii) amounts in the Expense Reimbursement Account on the Payment Date for the relevant Due Period; and

(ix) any recoveries (including interest) received on a Defaulted Collateral Obligation in excess of the principal balance of such Defaulted Collateral Obligation (as of the date the related Collateral Obligation became a Defaulted Collateral Obligation and excluding from such principal balance any deferred interest on Defaulted Collateral Obligations that are PIK Securities).

Interest Proceeds shall not include the Excluded Property and Interest Proceeds shall not include earnings on amounts on deposit in the Securities Lending Account to the extent the earnings are payable by the Issuer to a Securities Lending Counterparty.

Each reference in the definition of “Interest Proceeds” to a Collateral Obligation shall include a Collateral Obligation that has been loaned pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement and Interest Proceeds shall include any amounts referred to in clauses (i) through (iii) above received by the Issuer in respect of the Collateral Obligation indirectly from the related Securities Lending Counterparty pursuant to the Securities Lending Agreement.

With respect to any Payment Date, Interest Proceeds in an amount equal to the Interest Proceeds due and payable on such Payment Date to the Consenting Holders of the Preference Shares with respect to such Payment Date that are distributed to such Holders by way of Eligible Equity Securities in lieu of Cash pursuant to “Description of the Securities—Priority of Payments—Interest Proceeds” will be treated for all purposes by the Issuer and the Servicer as Principal Proceeds.

“Issuer Charter” means the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Issuer, as amended and restated before the Closing Date or in accordance with the Indenture.

“Issuer Order” and “Issuer Request” means a written order or request dated and signed in the name of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer by an Authorized Officer of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, as applicable, or by the Servicer by an Authorized Officer of the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer.

“Leasing Finance Transaction” means any transaction pursuant to which the obligations of the lessee to pay rent or other amounts on a triple net basis under any lease of (or other arrangement conveying the right to use) real or personal property, or a combination thereof, are required to be classified and accounted for as a capital lease on a balance sheet of such lessee under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America; but only if (a) such lease or other transaction provides for the unconditional obligation of the lessee to pay a stated amount of principal no later than a stated maturity date, together with interest thereon, and the payment of such obligation is not subject to any material non-credit related risk as determined by the Servicer, (b) the obligations of the lessee in respect of such lease or other transaction are fully secured, directly or indirectly, by the property that is the subject of such lease and (c) the interest held by the Issuer in respect of such lease or other transaction is treated as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

“Loan” means any interest in a fully committed, senior secured, unsecured, or revolving loan (including loans involving credit linked deposits and synthetic letters of credit) that is acquired by assignment or by Participation (including any DIP Loan) that is either:

- (i) Registered; or
- (ii) issued by an obligor that is not resident in the United States:
  - (A) whose payments are not subject to United States withholding tax; and
  - (B) that is held through a financial institution pursuant to the procedures described in Treasury Regulation section 1.165-12(c)(3).

“Long-Dated Collateral Obligation” means any Collateral Obligation with a stated maturity later than the Stated Maturity of the Notes other than a Collateral Obligation with a stated maturity later than the Stated Maturities of the Notes that includes a “put” option to its obligor at a price of at least par payable on or before the Stated Maturity of the Notes.

“Majority” means, with respect to any Class or group of Notes or Preference Shares, the Holders of more than 50% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of that Class or group of Notes or Preference Shares, as the case may be.

“Margin Stock” means “Margin Stock” as defined under Regulation U issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, including any debt security that is by its terms convertible into Margin Stock, but does not include any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation received pursuant to an offer by an issuer of a Defaulted Collateral Obligation.

“Market Value” means, as of any Measurement Date, the market value determined by the Servicer and reported to the Trustee as an amount rather than as a percentage or fraction of par (expressed in Dollars) of any Collateral Obligation (or Eligible Equity Security, as applicable) based upon the following order of priority: (i) the average of the bid-side market prices obtained by the Servicer from three Independent broker-dealers active in the trading of such obligations or (ii) if the foregoing set of prices were not obtained, the lower of the bid-side market prices obtained by the Servicer from two Independent broker-dealers active in the trading of such obligations or (iii) if the foregoing sets of prices were not obtained, the average of the bid-side prices for the purchase of the Collateral Obligation (or Eligible Equity Security, as applicable) determined by an Approved Pricing Service (Independent from the Servicer) that derives valuations by polling broker-dealers (Independent from the Servicer).

If a Market Value of any Collateral Obligation cannot be so determined in accordance with the procedures set out in the previous paragraph for a period of 30 consecutive days then such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have a Market Value of zero; provided, that during such 30 day period, such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have a Market Value equal to (a) the higher of (i) the S&P Recovery Rate for such Collateral Obligation and the then current S&P Rating of the Class A-1-A Notes and (ii) 70% of the Principal Balance of such Collateral Obligation or (b) if the Servicer has determined in its commercially reasonable judgment that the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation is lower than the amount determined pursuant to clause (a), such amount to be determined by the Servicer in its commercially reasonable judgment; provided, further, that the maximum amount of Collateral Obligations having a Market Value assigned pursuant to the immediately preceding proviso shall be limited to 5.0% of the Maximum Amount (and any amount in excess of 5.0% of the Maximum Amount shall be deemed to have a Market Value of zero). For the avoidance of doubt, the procedures set out in this paragraph shall not apply to determinations of Market Value of any Eligible Equity Securities or Current Pay Obligations.

The Servicer is under no obligation to determine the Market Value of the Collateral Obligations other than as set forth in the Servicing Agreement or the Indenture or to comply with any of its duties as set forth in the Servicing Agreement or in the Indenture.

“Market Value Determination Date” means, with respect to any distribution of Eligible Equity Securities, one Business Day prior to the date of the notice distributed by the Issuer to the Holders of the Preference Shares in connection with such distribution.

“Market Value Percentage” means, for any Collateral Obligation, the ratio obtained by dividing:

- (i) the Market Value of the Collateral Obligation; by
- (ii) the Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligation.

“Maximum Amount” means an amount equal to:

- (i) on any Measurement Date during the Ramp-Up Period, U.S.$981,300,000; and
- (ii) on any Measurement Date after the Ramp-Up Completion Date:
  - (A) the aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations plus the aggregate outstanding principal amount of any Defaulted Collateral Obligations; plus
  - (B) cash representing Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account; plus
  - (C) Eligible Investments (other than cash) purchased by the Issuer with Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account.

“Maximum Weighted Average Moody’s Rating Factor” means, as of any Measurement Date, a rate equal to the sum of (i) the number set forth in the column entitled “Maximum Weighted Average Moody’s Rating Factor” in the Ratings Matrix based upon the applicable “row/column combination” chosen by the Servicer (or the interpolation between two adjacent rows and/or two adjacent columns, as applicable) plus (ii) the Recovery Rate Modifier.

“Measurement Date” means any date:

- (i) on which the Issuer commits to acquire or dispose of any Collateral Obligation;
  - (ii) on which a Collateral Obligation becomes a Defaulted Collateral Obligation;
  - (iii) that is a Determination Date;
  - (iv) that is the Ramp-Up Completion Date;
  - (v) that is the date as of which the information in a Monthly Report is calculated pursuant to the Indenture; and,
- with respect to any distribution of Eligible Equity Securities only,
- (vi) that is the Market Value Determination Date.

“Minimum Diversity Score” means, as of any Measurement Date, a score equal to the number set forth in the column entitled “Minimum Diversity Score” in the Ratings Matrix based upon the applicable “row/column combination” chosen by the Servicer (or the interpolating between two adjacent rows and/or two adjacent columns, as applicable).

“Minimum Weighted Average Spread” means, as of any Measurement Date, the spread equal to the percentage set forth in the row entitled “Minimum Weighted Average Spread” in the Ratings Matrix based upon the applicable “row/column combination” chosen by the Servicer (or the interpolating between two adjacent rows and/or two adjacent columns, as applicable).

“Moody’s Default Probability Rating” means with respect to any Collateral Obligation, as of any date of determination, the rating determined in accordance with the following, in the following order of priority:

- (i) with respect to a Moody’s Senior Secured Loan:

- (A) if the Loan's obligor has a corporate family rating from Moody's, such corporate family rating; and
- (B) if the preceding clause does not apply, the Moody's Obligation Rating of such Loan;
- (C) if the preceding clauses do not apply, the rating that is one subcategory above the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating;
- (ii) with respect to a Moody's Non Senior Secured Loan or a Bond, the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating of such Collateral Obligation;
- (iii) with respect to a Collateral Obligation that is a DIP Loan, the rating that is one rating subcategory below the Assigned Moody's Rating thereof;
- (iv) with respect to a Structured Finance Obligation, the Assigned Moody's Rating thereof (or, if the obligation does not have an Assigned Moody's Rating but has a rating by S&P, then the Moody's Default Probability Rating shall be:
  - (x) one rating subcategory below the Moody's equivalent of such S&P rating if it is "BBB-" or higher, or
  - (y) two rating subcategories below the Moody's equivalent of such S&P rating if it is "BB+" or lower; and
- (v) with respect to a Synthetic Security, the Assigned Moody's Rating thereof.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Moody's rating or ratings used to determine the Moody's Default Probability Rating are on watch for downgrade or upgrade by Moody's, such rating or ratings will be adjusted down (if on watch for downgrade) (i) with respect to any Collateral Obligation other than Structured Finance Obligations, one subcategory and (ii) with respect to any Structured Finance Obligation, two subcategories or adjusted up (if on watch for upgrade) (i) with respect to any Collateral Obligation other than Structured Finance Obligations, one subcategory and (ii) with respect to any Structured Finance Obligation, two subcategories. For purposes of any calculation under the Indenture, if a Moody's Default Probability Rating is withdrawn by Moody's with respect to a Collateral Obligation, the Issuer will continue using the latest Moody's Default Probability Rating available immediately prior to such withdrawal until a bankruptcy event occurs with respect to such Collateral Obligation.

"Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation that is a Loan or bond and the obligor thereof, as of any date of determination, the rating determined in accordance with the following, in the following order of priority:

- (i) if the obligor has a senior unsecured obligation with an Assigned Moody's Rating, such Assigned Moody's Rating;
- (ii) if the preceding clause does not apply, the Moody's "Issuer Rating" for the obligor;
- (iii) if the preceding clauses do not apply, but the obligor has a subordinated obligation with an Assigned Moody's Rating; then
  - (A) if such Assigned Moody's Rating is at least "B3" (and, if rated "B3," not on watch for downgrade), the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating shall be the rating which is one rating subcategory higher than such Assigned Moody's Rating; or
  - (B) if such Assigned Moody's Rating is less than "B3" (or rated "B3" and on watch for downgrade), the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating shall be such Assigned Moody's Rating;

(iv) if the preceding clauses do not apply, but the obligor has a senior secured obligation with an Assigned Moody's Rating; then:

(A) if such Assigned Moody's Rating is at least "Caa3" (and, if rated "Caa3," not on watch for downgrade), the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating shall be the rating which is one subcategory below such Assigned Moody's Rating; or

(B) if such Assigned Moody's Rating is less than "Caa3" (or rated "Caa3" and on watch for downgrade), then the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating shall be "C";

(v) if the preceding clauses do not apply, but such obligor has a corporate family rating from Moody's, the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating shall be one rating subcategory below such corporate family rating;

(vi) if the preceding clauses do not apply, but the obligor has a senior unsecured obligation (other than a bank loan) with a monitored public rating from S&P (without any postscripts, asterisks or other qualifying notations, that addresses the full amount of principal and interest promised), then the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating shall be:

(A) one rating subcategory below the Moody's equivalent of such S&P rating if it is "BBB-" or higher;

(D) two rating subcategories below the Moody's equivalent of such S&P rating if it is "BB+" or lower; or

(E) "B3" until the Issuer or the Servicer obtains an estimated rating from Moody's of (a) the Servicer certifies to the Trustee that in its commercially reasonable judgment, it believes an estimated rating equivalent to a rating no lower than "B3" will be assigned by Moody's and the Issuer or the Servicer on its behalf applies for an estimated rating from Moody's within five Business Days of the date of the commitment to purchase the Loan or Bond, (b) the aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations having an Assigned Moody's Rating pursuant to either this clause (vi)(C), or clauses (vii)(C) or (viii)(C) does not exceed 5% of the Maximum Amount, and (c) all the Coverage Tests and the Collateral Quality Tests are satisfied;

(vii) if the preceding clauses do not apply, but the obligor has a subordinated obligation (other than a bank loan) with a monitored public rating from S&P (without any postscripts, asterisks or other qualifying notations, that addresses the full amount of principal and interest promised), the Assigned Moody's Rating shall be deemed to be:

(A) one rating subcategory below the Moody's equivalent of such S&P rating if it is "BBB-" or higher;

(B) two rating subcategories below the Moody's equivalent of such S&P rating if it is "BB+" or lower, and the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating shall be determined pursuant to clause (iii) above; or

(C) "B3" until the Issuer or the Servicer obtains an estimated rating from Moody's if (a) the Servicer certifies to the Trustee that in its commercially reasonable judgment, it believes an estimated rating equivalent to a rating not lower than "B3" will be assigned by Moody's and the Issuer or the Servicer on its behalf applies for an estimated rating from Moody's within five Business Days of the date of the commitment to purchase the Loan or Bond, (b) the aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations having an Assigned Moody's Rating pursuant to either this clause (vii)(C), or clauses (vi)(C) or (viii)(C) does not exceed 5% of the Maximum Amount, and (c) all the Coverage Tests and the Collateral Quality Tests are satisfied;

(viii) if the preceding clauses do not apply, but the obligor has a senior secured obligation with a monitored public rating from S&P (without any postscripts, asterisks or other qualifying notations, that addresses the full amount of principal and interest promised), the Assigned Moody's Rating shall be deemed to be:

(A) one rating subcategory below the Moody's equivalent of such S&P rating if it is "BBB-" or higher;

(B) two rating subcategories below the Moody's equivalent of such S&P rating if it is "BB+" or lower, and the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating shall be determined pursuant to clause (iv) above; or

(C) "B3" until the Issuer or the Servicer obtains an estimated rating from Moody's if (a) the Servicer certifies to the Trustee that in its commercially reasonable judgment, it believes an estimated rating equivalent to a rating not lower than "B3" will be assigned by Moody's and the Issuer or the Servicer on its behalf applies for an estimated rating from Moody's within two Business Days of the date of the commitment to purchase the Loan or Bond, (b) the aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations having an Assigned Moody's Rating pursuant to either this clause (viii)(C), or clause (vi)(C) or (vii)(C) does not exceed 5% of the Maximum Amount, and (c) all the Coverage Tests and the Collateral Quality Tests are satisfied;

(ix) if the preceding clauses do not apply and each of the following clauses (A) through (H) do apply, the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating will be "Caa1:"

(A) neither the obligor nor any of its Affiliates is subject to reorganization or bankruptcy proceedings;

(B) no debt securities or obligations of the obligor are in default;

(C) neither the obligor nor any of its Affiliates has defaulted on any debt during the preceding two years;

(D) the obligor has been in existence for the preceding five years;

(E) the obligor is current on any cumulative dividends;

(F) the fixed-charge ratio for the obligor exceeds 125% for each of the preceding two fiscal years and for the most recent quarter;

(G) the obligor had a net profit before tax in the past fiscal year and the most recent quarter; and

(H) the annual financial statements of such obligor are unqualified and certified by a firm of Independent accountants of international reputation, and quarterly statements are unaudited but signed by a corporate officer;

(x) if the preceding clauses do not apply but each of the following clauses (A) and (B) do apply, the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating will be "Caa3":

(A) neither the obligor nor any of its Affiliates is subject to reorganization or bankruptcy proceedings; and

(B) no debt security or obligation of such obligor has been in default during the past two years; and

(xi) if the preceding clauses do not apply and a debt security or obligation of the obligor has been in default during the past two years, the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating will be "Ca."

Notwithstanding the foregoing, not more than 10% of the Maximum Amount may consist of Relevant Obligations given a Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating based on a rating given by S&P as provided in clauses (vi), (vii) and (viii) above.

"Moody's Group I Country" means any of the following countries: Australia, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and any country subsequently determined by Moody's to be a Moody's Group I Country.

"Moody's Group II Country" means any of the following countries: Germany, Ireland, Sweden, Switzerland and any country subsequently determined by Moody's to be a Moody's Group II Country.

"Moody's Group III Country" means any of the following countries: Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Norway, Spain and any country subsequently determined by Moody's to be a Moody's Group III Country.

"Moody's Minimum Average Recovery Rate" means, as of any Measurement Date, a rate equal to the number obtained by (i) summing the products obtained by multiplying the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation by its respective Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate, (ii) dividing the sum determined pursuant to clause (i) above by the sum of the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations and (iii) rounding up to the first decimal place.

"Moody's Non Senior Secured Loan" means any Loan that is not a Moody's Senior Secured Loan.

"Moody's Obligation Rating" means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation as of any date of determination, the rating determined in accordance with the following, in the following order of priority:

(i) With respect to a Moody's Senior Secured Loan:

(A) if it has an Assigned Moody's Rating, such Assigned Moody's Rating; or

(B) if the preceding clause does not apply, the rating that is one rating subcategory above the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating; and

(ii) With respect to a Moody's Non Senior Secured Loan or a Bond:

(A) if it has an Assigned Moody's Rating, such Assigned Moody's Rating; or

(B) if the preceding clause does not apply, the Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating; and

(iii) With respect to a Synthetic Security or a DIP Loan, the Assigned Moody's Rating thereof.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Moody's rating or ratings used to determine the Moody's Default Probability Rating are on watch for downgrade or upgrade by Moody's, such rating or ratings will be adjusted down one subcategory (if on watch for downgrade) or up one subcategory (if on watch for upgrade).

“Moody’s Priority Category” means each type of Collateral Obligation specified in the definition of “Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate Matrix” as a “Moody’s Priority Category.”

“Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate” means for any Collateral Obligation, the percentage specified in the definition of “Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate Matrix” opposite the Moody’s Priority Category of the Collateral Obligation.

“Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate Matrix” means the table below:

Moody’s Priority Category	Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate
Synthetic Securities.....	In the case of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(i) a Form-Approved Synthetic Security, the “Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate” given by Moody’s to the Form-Approved Synthetic Security at the time of approval of the Form-Approved Synthetic Security by Moody’s; and</li> <li>(ii) any other Synthetic Security, the “Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate” given by Moody’s to the Synthetic Security at the time of acquisition of the Synthetic Security.</li> </ul>
Structured Finance Obligations.....	The Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate determined in accordance with the Moody’s Structured Finance Obligation Recovery Rates set forth in Schedule 5 to the Indenture by reference to the type of asset and its then Moody’s Rating (or, with respect to assets to which that schedule does not apply, on a case-by-case basis in connection with the grant of the relevant Collateral Obligation).
unsecured DIP Loans and any Collateral Obligations not covered above or below ..	As determined by Moody’s on a case-by-case basis.

For High-Yield Bonds, Moody’s Senior Secured Loans and Moody’s Non Senior Secured Loans, the relevant Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate is the rate determined pursuant to the table below based on the number of rating subcategories difference between the High-Yield Bond’s or Loan’s Moody’s Obligation Rating and its Moody’s Default Probability Rating (for purposes of clarification, if the Moody’s Obligation Rating is higher than the Moody’s Default Probability Rating, the rating subcategories difference will be positive and if it is lower, negative):

Number of Moody’s Rating Subcategories Difference Between the Moody’s Obligation Rating and the Moody’s Default Probability Rating	Moody’s Senior Secured Loans	Moody’s Non Senior Secured Loans	High-Yield Bonds
+2 or more	60.0%	45.0%	40.0%
+1	50.0%	42.5%	35.0%
0	45.0%	40.0%	30.0%
-1	40.0%	30.0%	15.0%
-2	30.0%	15.0%	10.0%
-3 or less	20.0%	10.0%	2.0%

If no Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate has been specifically assigned with respect to a Loan pursuant to the above table, and the Loan is a secured DIP Loan, the relevant Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate is 50.0%.

"Moody's Rating" means the Moody's Default Probability Rating; provided that, with respect to the Collateral Obligations generally, if at any time Moody's or any successor to it ceases to provide rating services, references to rating categories of Moody's in the Indenture shall be deemed instead to be references to the equivalent categories of any other nationally recognized investment rating agency selected by the Servicer, as of the most recent date on which such other rating agency and Moody's published ratings for the type of security in respect of which such alternative rating agency is used. If no other security or obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor is rated by S&P or Moody's, then the Servicer may apply to Moody's for a Moody's credit rating estimate, which will be its Moody's Rating; provided that, on or prior to each one-year anniversary of the acquisition of any such Collateral Obligation, the Issuer shall submit to Moody's a request for a Moody's credit rating estimate for such Collateral Obligation, which shall be its Moody's Rating, together with all information reasonably required by Moody's to perform such estimate

"Moody's Rating Factor" means the number in the table below opposite the rating of the Collateral Obligation (excluding Synthetic Securities where an Assigned Moody's Rating is not available).

Moody's Rating	Moody's Rating Factor	Moody's Rating	Moody's Rating Factor

The Moody's Rating Factor for Collateral Obligations that are Synthetic Securities shall be determined by Moody's and obtained by the Issuer or the Servicer on a case-by-case basis, unless (1) there is an Assigned Moody's Rating available for such Collateral Obligation that is a Synthetic Security, in which case such Assigned Moody's Rating shall be used to compute the Moody's Rating Factor for such Collateral Obligation that is a Synthetic Security, or (2) such Collateral Obligation is a Form-Approved Synthetic Security, in which case the Moody's Rating Factor given to such Collateral Obligation at the time of approval of the Form-Approved Synthetic Security shall be used to compute the Moody's Rating Factor for such Collateral Obligation that is a Synthetic Security.

The Moody's Rating Factor for any Collateral Obligation that is a Structured Finance Obligation shall be equal to:  $\frac{A \times 55\%}{1 - B}$ , where: "A" means the number determined with respect to such Collateral Obligation pursuant to the table above; and

“Moody’s Senior Secured Loan” means:

(i) a Loan that:

(A) is not (and cannot by its terms become) subordinate in right of payment to any other obligation of the obligor of the Loan;

(B) is secured by a valid first priority perfected security interest or lien in, to or on specified collateral securing the obligor’s obligations under the Loan; and

(C) the value of the collateral securing the Loan together with other attributes of the obligor (including, without limitation, its general financial condition, ability to generate cash flow available for debt service and other demands for that cash flow) is adequate (in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer) to repay the Loan in accordance with its terms and to repay all other loans of equal seniority secured by a first lien or security interest in the same collateral; or

(ii) a Loan that:

(A) is not (and cannot by its terms become) subordinate in right of payment to any other obligation of the obligor of the Loan, other than, with respect to a Loan described in clause (i) above, with respect to the liquidation of such obligor or the collateral for such loan;

(B) is secured by a valid second priority perfected security interest or lien in, to or on specified collateral securing the obligor’s obligations under the Loan;

(C) the value of the collateral securing the Loan together with other attributes of the obligor (including, without limitation, its general financial condition, ability to generate cash flow available for debt service and other demands for that cash flow) is adequate (in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer) to repay the Loan in accordance with its terms and to repay all other loans of equal or higher seniority secured by a first or second lien or security interest in the same collateral; and

(D) has been assigned a Moody’s rating equal to or higher than Moody's corporate family rating for such obligor; and

(iii) the Loan is not: (A) a DIP Loan, (B) a Loan for which the security interest or lien (or the validity or effectiveness thereof) in substantially all of its collateral attaches, becomes effective, or otherwise “springs” into existence after the origination thereof, or (C) a type of loan that Moody’s has identified as having unusual terms and with respect to which its Moody’s Recovery Rate has been or is to be determined on a case-by-case basis.

“Non-Consenting Holder” means with respect to any supplemental indenture pursuant to the Indenture that requires the consent of one or more Holders of Securities, any Holder or, in the case of Securities represented by Global Notes, any beneficial owner, that either (i) has delivered to the Trustee a written notice that it will not consent to such supplemental indenture or (ii) had not consented to such supplemental indenture within the applicable Initial Consent Period.

“Non-Performing Collateral Obligation” means any Defaulted Collateral Obligation and any PIK Security as to which its issuer or obligor has previously deferred or capitalized any interest due on it and all the interest so deferred or capitalized has not subsequently been paid in full in cash by:

(i) if the PIK Security has a Moody's Rating of "Baa3" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) or above or an S&P Rating of "BBB-" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) or above, the earlier of its second payment date or one year following the date of the initial deferral or capitalization of interest due on it; or

(ii) if the PIK Security has a Moody's Rating of "Baa3" and on credit watch with negative implications or below "Baa3," or an S&P Rating of "BBB-" and on credit watch with negative implications or below "BBB-," the earlier of its first payment date or six months following the date of the initial deferral or capitalization of interest due on it.

"Notes" means the Class the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes.

"Note Payment Sequence" means the application of funds in the following order:

- (1) to the Class A Notes until the Class A Notes have been fully redeemed (provided that amounts allocated to payment of principal of the Class A Notes shall be paid in accordance with the Class A Allocation);
- (2) to the Class B Notes until the Class B Notes have been fully redeemed;
- (2) to the Class C Notes until the Class C Notes have been fully redeemed;
- (3) to the Class D Notes until the Class D Notes have been fully redeemed;
- (4) to the Class E Notes until the Class E Notes have been fully redeemed.

"Offer" means any Collateral Obligation that is subject to a tender offer, voluntary redemption, exchange offer, conversion or other similar action.

"Officer" means, with respect to the Issuer and any corporation, any director, the Chairman of the board of directors, the President, any Vice President, the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer, or an Assistant Treasurer of the entity; with respect to the Co-Issuer and any corporation, any director, the Chairman of the board of directors, the President, any Vice President, the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer, or an Assistant Treasurer of the entity; with respect to any partnership, any of its general partners; and with respect to the Trustee, any Trust Officer.

"Outstanding" means, with respect to:

(i) the Notes or any specified Class, as of any date of determination, all of the Notes or all of the Notes of the specified Class, as the case may be, theretofore authenticated and delivered under the Indenture, except with respect to Notes:

(A) Notes canceled by the Indenture Registrar or delivered to the Indenture Registrar for cancellation;

(B) Notes for whose payment or redemption funds in the necessary amount have been theretofore irrevocably deposited with the Trustee or any Paying Agent in trust for their Holders pursuant to the Indenture and if the Notes are to be redeemed, notice of redemption has been duly given pursuant to the Indenture;

(C) Notes in exchange for or in lieu of which other Notes have been authenticated and delivered pursuant to the Indenture; and

(D) Notes alleged to have been destroyed, lost, or stolen for which replacement Notes have been issued as provided in the Indenture, unless proof satisfactory to the Trustee is presented that any such Notes are held by a protected purchaser; and

(ii) the Preference Shares, as of any date of determination, all of the Preference Shares theretofore issued under the Preference Share Documents and listed in the Preference Share register of the Issuer as outstanding;

provided that, in determining whether the Holders of the requisite Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Securities have given any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent or waiver under the Indenture, Securities owned or beneficially owned by the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, any Affiliate of either of them and, with respect to any matter affecting its status as Servicer or appointment of a replacement Servicer or relating to an acceleration of any Class of Notes if the effect of the Servicer's action or inaction as a Holder of Securities would effectively prevent acceleration, the Servicer, its Affiliates and any account for which the Servicer or its Affiliates have discretionary voting authority (other than, with respect to Notes or Class II Preference Shares, HFP or any of its subsidiaries; provided that, with respect to the voting authority of Notes or Class II Preference Shares owned by HFP or any of its subsidiaries, such vote shall not be excluded only if such vote is determined by a vote of the majority of the "independent directors" (determined in accordance with the governing documents of HFP or such subsidiaries and certified in writing to the Preference Shares Paying Agent by any of the "independent directors" of HFP) of HFP or such subsidiaries) shall be disregarded and not be Outstanding, except that, in determining whether the Trustee shall be protected in relying on any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent or waiver, only Securities that a Trust Officer of the Trustee (or with respect to the Preference Shares, only Preference Shares that an authorized officer of the Preference Shares Paying Agent) has actual knowledge to be so owned or beneficially owned shall be so disregarded. Securities so owned or beneficially owned that have been pledged in good faith may be regarded as Outstanding if the pledgee establishes to the satisfaction of the Trustee or the Preference Shares Paying Agent, as applicable, the pledgee's right so to act with respect to the Securities and that the pledgee is independent from the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Servicer, the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent.

"Participating Institution" means an institution that creates a participation interest and that has a long-term senior unsecured rating by Moody's of at least "A3" (and if so rated by Moody's such rating is not on watch for possible downgrade) and an issuer credit rating by S&P of at least "A".

"Participation" means a Loan acquired as a participation interest created by a Participating Institution.

"Permitted Offer" means a tender offer, voluntary redemption, exchange offer, conversion, or other similar action pursuant to which the offeror offers to acquire a debt obligation (including a Collateral Obligation) in exchange solely for cash in an amount equal to or greater than the full face amount of the debt obligation plus any accrued and unpaid interest and as to which the Servicer has determined in its commercially reasonable judgment that the offeror has sufficient access to financing to consummate the tender offer, voluntary redemption, exchange offer, conversion, or other similar action.

"PIK Cash-Pay Interest" means, as to any PIK Security, the portion of interest required to be paid in cash (and not permitted to be added to the balance of such PIK Security or otherwise deferred and accrued) thereon pursuant to the terms of the related Underlying Instruments.

"PIK Security" means any loan or debt obligation on which any portion of the interest accrued for a specified period of time or until the maturity thereof is, or at the option of the obligor may be, added to the principal balance of such loan or debt obligation or otherwise deferred rather than being paid in cash; provided that such loan or debt obligation shall not be a PIK Security if the portion, if any, of such interest required pursuant to the terms of the related Underlying Instruments to be paid in Cash would result in the outstanding principal amount of such loan or debt obligation having an effective rate of PIK

Cash-Pay Interest at least equal to (i) if such loan or debt obligation is a fixed rate loan or debt obligation, 4% per annum, or (ii) if such loan or debt obligation is a floating rate loan or debt obligation, LIBOR.

“Pledged Obligations” means, as of any date of determination, the Collateral Obligations, the Workout Assets, the Eligible Investments, and any other securities or obligations that have been granted to the Trustee that form part of the Collateral.

“Person” is an individual, corporation (including a business trust), partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, association, joint stock company, trust (including any beneficiary thereof), unincorporated association or government or any agency or political subdivision thereof.

“Portfolio Improvement Exchange” means, the disposition, during the Replacement Period, of a Collateral Obligation and corresponding acquisition of one or more Collateral Obligations which in the aggregate will result in (i) the Collateral Quality Tests, the Interest Coverage Test, the Overcollateralization Tests and the Concentration Limitations herein being satisfied (or bring the total portfolio of Collateral Obligations closer to compliance with any such test or limitation) or if one or more of such Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Test, Overcollateralization Test or Concentration Limitations are not satisfied, the degree of compliance therewith would be improved and (ii) improving, on a net basis, the quality of the total portfolio of Collateral Obligations as measured by such Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Test, Overcollateralization Test and Concentration Limitations and (iii) in the case of each of clause (i) and (ii), any other Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Tests, Overcollateralization Tests or Concentration Limitations not being violated or the likelihood of such violation in the future not being significantly increased.

“Preference Share Internal Rate of Return” means, with respect to any Payment Date, the internal rate of return (computed using the “XIRR” function in Microsoft® Excel 2002 or an equivalent function in another software package), stated on a per annum basis, for the following cash flows, assuming all Preference Shares are purchased on the Closing Date at their Face Amount:

(i) each distribution of Interest Proceeds made to the Holders of the Preference Shares (excluding any Class II Preference Share Special Payment distributed to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares) on any prior Payment Date and, to the extent necessary to reach the applicable Preference Share Internal Rate of Return, the current Payment Date; and

(ii) each distribution of Principal Proceeds made to the Holders of the Preference Shares (excluding any Class II Preference Share Special Payment distributed to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares) on any prior Payment Date and, to the extent necessary to reach the applicable Preference Share Internal Rate of Return, the current Payment Date.

“Preference Shares Paying Agent Agreement” means a Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, dated as of May 31, 2007, between the Issuer and Investors Bank & Trust Company, as Preference Shares Paying Agent.

“Preference Shares Distribution Account” means a separate segregated non-interest bearing trust account established by the Preference Shares Paying Agent pursuant to the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement into which the Preference Shares Paying Agent will deposit all amounts received from the Issuer and payable to the Holders of the Preference Shares under the Priority of Payments.

“Preference Shares Notional Amount” means, as of the Closing Date, $80,000,000, and thereafter as increased each time additional Preference Shares are issued in accordance with the Preference Share Documents.

“Preference Shares Paying Agent” means Investors Bank & Trust Company in its capacity as Preference Shares Paying Agent under the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, unless a successor Person shall have become the preference shares paying agent pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, and thereafter “Preference Shares Paying Agent” shall mean such successor person.

“Principal Balance” means, with respect to:

- (i) any Pledged Obligation other than those specifically covered in this definition, the outstanding principal amount of the Pledged Obligation as of the relevant Measurement Date;
- (ii) a Synthetic Security, the notional amount specified in the Synthetic Security;
- (iii) any Pledged Obligation in which the Trustee does not have a first priority perfected security interest, zero, except as otherwise expressly specified in the Indenture;
- (iv) any Defaulted Collateral Obligation, except as otherwise provided, zero;
- (v) any Collateral Obligation that has been loaned, its Principal Balance shall be reduced by the excess of the amount of collateral required over the actual Market Value of the collateral;
- (vi) any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, its Principal Balance shall include any unfunded amount thereof (regardless of the nature of the contingency relating to the Issuer’s obligation to fund the unfunded amount), except as otherwise expressly specified in the Indenture;
- (vii) any PIK Security, its Principal Balance shall not include any principal amount of the PIK Security representing previously deferred or capitalized interest; and
- (viii) any Qualified Equity Security and any obligation or security that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation, zero.

“Principal Proceeds” means with respect to any Due Period, all amounts received in Cash during the Due Period by the Issuer with respect to the Collateral that are not Interest Proceeds.

Principal Proceeds shall include any funds transferred from the Closing Date Expense Account and the Interest Reserve Account into the Collection Account pursuant to the Indenture.

Principal Proceeds do not include the Excluded Property or earnings on amounts on deposit in the Securities Lending Account to the extent the earnings are payable by the Issuer to a Securities Lending Counterparty.

At any time when an “event of default” under a Securities Lending Agreement has occurred and is continuing, any payments received by the Issuer from the related Securities Lending Collateral shall be Principal Proceeds.

“Priority Class” means, with respect to any specified Class of Notes, each Class of Notes that ranks senior to that Class.

“Proceeding” means any suit in equity, action at law, or other judicial or administrative proceeding.

“Proposed Portfolio” means, as of any Measurement Date, the portfolio (measured by Aggregate Principal Balance) of Collateral Obligations and Principal Proceeds held as cash on deposit in the Collection Account and other Eligible Investments purchased with Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account resulting from the sale, maturity, or other disposition of a Collateral Obligation or a proposed purchase of a Collateral Obligation, as the case may be.

“Purchase Agreement” means a purchase agreement dated May 31, 2007 among the Issuer and the Initial Purchasers relating to the purchase of the Notes and the Class I Preference Shares, as modified, amended and supplemented and in effect from time to time.

“Purchase Criteria Adjusted Balance” means, for any Collateral Obligation other than Deep Discount Obligations, its Principal Balance; and for any Deep Discount Obligation its Purchase Price; provided, however, that if any Excess CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations exist, the Purchase Criteria Adjusted Balance for the Excess CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations shall be the lower of (i) the weighted average Market Value of all CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations, expressed as a percentage of their outstanding principal balances and (ii) the product of (a) 70% and (b) their respective Principal Balance.

“Purchase Price” means, with respect to the purchase of any Collateral Obligation (other than any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation), the net purchase price paid by the Issuer for the Collateral Obligation. The net purchase price is determined by subtracting from the purchase price the amount of any Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal and any syndication and other upfront fees paid to the Issuer and by adding the amount of any related transaction costs (including assignment fees) paid by the Issuer to the seller of the Collateral Obligation or its agent.

“Purchase Price Amount” means, respect to any Collateral Obligation on any date of determination, the product of (i) the Purchase Price (stated as a percentage) thereof and (ii) the Principal Balance thereof on such date.

“Qualified Equity Security” means any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation that is stock or evidence of an interest in or a right to buy stock, or any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation but whose acquisition otherwise is a transaction in stocks or securities within the meaning of Section 864(b)(2)(A)(ii) of the Code and the regulations under the Code. Qualified Equity Securities do not include any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation and that will cause the Issuer to be treated as engaged in or having income from a United States trade or business for United States federal income tax purposes by virtue of its ownership or disposition of the obligation (without regard to the Issuer’s other activities).

“Ramp-Up Period” means the period from and including the Closing Date to and including the Ramp-Up Completion Date.

“Rating Agency” means, each of Moody’s and S&P or, with respect to Pledged Obligations generally, if at any time Moody’s or S&P ceases to provide rating services with respect to high yield debt securities, any other nationally recognized statistical rating organization selected by the Issuer and reasonably satisfactory to a Majority of each Class of Notes. If at any time Moody’s ceases to be a Rating Agency, references to rating categories of Moody’s in the Indenture shall instead be references to the equivalent categories of the replacement rating agency as of the most recent date on which the replacement rating agency and Moody’s published ratings for the type of security in respect of which the replacement rating agency is used. If at any time S&P ceases to be a Rating Agency, references to rating categories of S&P in the Indenture shall instead be references to the equivalent categories of the replacement rating agency as of the most recent date on which the replacement rating agency and S&P published ratings for the type of security in respect of which the replacement rating agency is used.

“Rating Condition” means, with respect to any Rating Agency and any action taken or to be taken under the Indenture, a condition that is satisfied when the Rating Agency has confirmed to the Servicer (as agent for the Issuer) in writing that no withdrawal, reduction, suspension, or other adverse action with respect to any then current rating by it (including any private or confidential rating) of any Class of Notes will occur as a result of the action. The Rating Condition with respect to any Rating Agency shall be satisfied for all purposes of the Indenture at any time when no Outstanding Notes are rated by it.

“Rating Confirmation” means confirmation in writing from each Rating Agency that it has not reduced, suspended, or withdrawn the Initial Rating assigned by it to any Class of Notes; provided however, that in the case of Refinancing Notes, a Moody's rating will be obtained for such Refinancing Notes and a Rating Confirmation with respect to such Refinancing Notes shall mean (i) with respect to S&P, confirmation in writing from S&P that the rating of each Class of Refinancing Notes will be no lower than the rating on each corresponding Class of Notes subject to such Refinancing and (ii) with respect to Moody's, that the Moody's rating of each Class of Refinancing Notes will be no lower than the rating on each corresponding Class of Notes subject to such Refinancing; provided further that if the terms of such Refinancing Notes are the same as the terms of the corresponding Class of Notes subject to Refinancing (other than with respect to the coupon thereof), it is expected that the cost of obtaining such rating from Moody's shall be no more than the cost of obtaining a Rating Confirmation.

“Ratings Matrix” means the “row/column combination” of the table below selected by the Servicer on the Closing Date to apply initially for purposes of the Diversity Test, the Weighted Average Spread Test and the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test. Thereafter, on notice to the Trustee, the Servicer may select a different row of the Ratings Matrix to apply, or may interpolate between two adjacent rows and/or two adjacent columns, as applicable, on a straight-line basis and round the results to two decimal points.

Maximum Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor

“Recovery Rate Modifier” means, as of any Measurement Date, the lesser of 60 and the product of:

(i) (a) the Moody's Minimum Average Recovery Rate minus the minimum percentage specified to pass the Weighted Average Moody's Recovery Rate Test (but not less than zero) multiplied by (b) 100; and

“Redemption Date” means any Payment Date specified for an Optional Redemption or the redemption of a Class of Notes in connection with a Refinancing under “Description of the Securities—Optional Redemption.”

“Redemption Price” means, with respect to any Note and any Optional Redemption or Refinancing, an amount equal to:

(i) the outstanding principal amount of the portion of the Note being redeemed; plus

(ii) accrued interest on the Note (including any Defaulted Interest and interest on Defaulted Interest); plus

(iii) in the case of any Deferred Interest Note, the applicable Deferred Interest on the Note; plus

(iv) any unpaid Extension Bonus Payment in respect of the Note.

With respect to any Preference Share and any Optional Redemption, “Redemption Price” means (i) at the direction of a Majority of the Preference Shares of the remaining amount of available funds after all prior applications pursuant to the Priority of Payments or (ii) as specified by the unanimous direction of the Holders of the Preference Shares, in each case as specified in “Description of the Securities—Optional Redemption—Preference Shares.”

“Reference Obligation” means an obligation that would otherwise satisfy the definition of “Collateral Obligation” and on which a Synthetic Security is based; provided that no Reference Obligation shall be a Synthetic Security.

“Refinancing Price” means, with respect to any Class of Notes that is subject to a Refinancing, an amount equal to the Redemption Price therefor.

“Registered” means, with respect to a Collateral Obligation or Eligible Investment, means that it is issued after July 18, 1984 and is in registered form within the meaning of Section 881(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder.

“Relevant Obligation” means, for a Collateral Obligation that is a Synthetic Security, the Reference Obligation of the Synthetic Security and otherwise the Collateral Obligation.

“Removal Buy-Out Purchaser” means the Servicer (or any of its Affiliates acting as principal or agent).

“Repository” means the internet-based password protected electronic repository of transaction documents relating to privately offered and sold collateralized debt obligation securities located at “www.cdolibrary.com” operated by The Bond Market Association. Information on this website is not considered part of this Offering Memorandum in any way.

“Required Redemption Percentage” means, with respect to (a) any Optional Redemption resulting from a Tax Event, the Holders of at least 66⅔% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of any Affected Class or at least 66⅔% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Preference Shares and (b) any other Optional Redemption, a Majority of the Preference Shares.

“Revolving Loan” means a Loan or any Synthetic Security with a Reference Obligation (in each case excluding any Delayed Drawdown Loan) that requires the Issuer to make future advances to (or for the account of) the borrower under its underlying instruments (including any letter of credit for which the Issuer is required to reimburse the issuing bank for under it). A Loan or Synthetic Security shall only be considered to be a Revolving Loan for so long as its commitment amount is greater than zero.

“S&P CDO Monitor” means a dynamic, analytical computer model developed by S&P (and as may be modified by S&P from time to time) and provided to the Servicer and the Collateral Administrator to be used to calculate the default frequency in terms of the amount of debt assumed to default as a percentage of the original principal amount of the Collateral Obligations consistent with a specified benchmark rating level based on certain assumptions and S&P’s proprietary corporate default studies. For the purpose (and only for the purpose) of applying the S&P CDO Monitor to a portfolio of obligations, for each obligation in the portfolio, the rating of the obligation shall be its S&P Rating.

“S&P CRR” means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation, a corporate recovery rate assigned by S&P to such Collateral Obligation.

“S&P CRR Recovery Rate” means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation to which S&P has assigned a S&P CRR, the recovery rate determined in accordance with the definition of S&P Recovery Rate.

“S&P Industry Classification” means the S&P Industry Classifications in Schedule 3 of the Indenture as modified, amended, and supplemented from time to time by S&P.

“S&P Rating” means, with respect to any Collateral Obligation, as of any date of determination, the rating determined in accordance with the following methodology:

(i) If there is an issuer credit rating of the borrower of the Collateral Obligation (the “Borrower”), or the guarantor who unconditionally and irrevocably guarantees the Collateral Obligation (the “Guarantor”) by S&P, the most current issuer credit rating for such Borrower or Guarantor (provided that with respect to any private or confidential rating, a consent has been granted by such Borrower or Guarantor and a copy of such consent shall be provided to S&P indicating that the issuer can rely on such private or confidential rating);

(ii) (a) if there is not an issuer credit rating of the Borrower or its Guarantor by S&P, but there is a rating by S&P on a senior secured obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor, then the S&P Rating of the Collateral Obligation will be one subcategory below such rating; (b) if there is not a rating by S&P on a senior secured obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor, but there is a rating by S&P on a senior unsecured obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor, then the S&P Rating will be such rating; and (c) if there is not a rating by S&P on a senior obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor, but there is a rating by S&P on a subordinated obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor, then the S&P Rating will be two subcategories above such rating if such rating is “BBB-” or higher and will be one subcategory above such rating if such rating is “BB+” or lower (provided that with respect to any private or confidential rating, a consent has been granted by such Borrower or Guarantor and a copy of such consent shall be provided to S&P indicating that the issuer can rely on such private or confidential rating); or

(iii) if there is neither an issuer credit rating of the Borrower or its Guarantor by S&P nor a rating by S&P on an obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor, then the S&P Rating may be determined using any one of the methods below:

(A) if an obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor is publicly rated by Moody’s, then the S&P Rating will be determined in accordance with the methodologies for establishing the Moody’s Default Probability Rating, except that the S&P Rating of such obligation will be (1) one subcategory below the S&P equivalent of the rating assigned by Moody’s if such security is rated “Baa3” or higher by Moody’s and (2) two subcategories below the S&P equivalent of the rating assigned by Moody’s if such security is rated “Ba1” or lower by Moody’s; provided that Collateral Obligations constituting no more than 10% of the Maximum Amount may be given a S&P Rating based on a rating given by Moody’s as provided in this subclause (A) (after giving effect to the addition of the relevant Collateral Obligation, if applicable);

(B) if no other security or obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor is rated by S&P or Moody's, then the Servicer may apply to S&P for a S&P credit rating estimate, which will be its S&P Rating; provided that, prior to or upon acquisition of any such Collateral Obligation and on or prior to each one year anniversary of the acquisition of such Collateral Obligation, the Issuer shall submit to S&P a request for a S&P credit rating estimate for such Collateral Obligation, which shall be its S&P Rating, together with all information reasonably required by S&P to perform such estimate; or

(C) if such Collateral Obligation is not rated by Moody's or S&P, no other security or obligation of the Borrower or its Guarantor is rated by S&P or Moody's and if the Servicer determines in its sole discretion based on information available to it after reasonable inquiry that such Borrower (x) is not subject to any bankruptcy or reorganization proceedings nor in default on any of its obligations (unless the subject of a good faith business dispute), (y) is a legally constituted corporate entity having the minimum legal, financial and operational infrastructure to carry on a definable business, deliver and sell a product or service and report its results in generally accepted accounting terms as verified by a reputable audit firm and (z) is not so vulnerable to adverse business, financial and economic conditions that default in its financial or other obligations is foreseeable in the near term if current operating trends continue, then the S&P Rating will be the rating determined by the Servicer, using its commercially reasonable judgment, to be applicable for such Collateral Obligation during such time as the credit estimate is pending; provided that if, upon the 90th day following the acquisition of such Collateral Obligation (which 90-day period will be extended by S&P upon request by the Servicer so long as the Servicer has applied to S&P for a S&P credit rating and has provided all the information necessary for S&P to provide a credit rating to such Collateral Obligation prior to or upon acquisition of the such Collateral Obligation), S&P has not assigned a credit rating to such Collateral Obligation, then such Collateral Obligation shall be treated by the Issuer as having a rating of "CCC-"; provided, further, that Collateral Obligations constituting no more than 5% of the Maximum Amount may be given an S&P Rating based on this subclause (c) (after giving effect to the addition of the relevant Collateral Obligation, if applicable);

provided that, if (i) the relevant Borrower or Guarantor or obligation is placed on any positive "credit watch" list by S&P, such rating will be increased by one rating subcategory or (ii) the relevant Borrower or Guarantor or obligation is placed on any negative "credit watch" list by S&P, such rating will be decreased by one rating subcategory.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the case of a Collateral Obligation that is a DIP Loan, the S&P Rating shall be (A) the rating assigned thereto by S&P if the rating is public, (B) the rating assigned by S&P if the rating is confidential, but only if all appropriate parties have provided written consent to its disclosure and use, (C) the rating assigned by S&P thereto through an estimated rating or (D) the rating assigned thereto by S&P in connection with the acquisition thereof upon the request of the Servicer. In the case of a Collateral Obligation that is a PIK Security, Structured Finance Obligation or Synthetic Securities, the S&P Rating may not be determined pursuant to clause (iii)(A) above.

S&P Ratings for entities or obligations relevant hereunder other than Borrowers and Collateral Obligations shall be determined in a corresponding manner.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if and for so long as the Aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations consisting in the aggregate of (x) Participations and (y) Synthetic Securities exceeds 20% of the Maximum Amount, then the S&P Rating for the Aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations representing that excess (determined assuming the excess is comprised of the Collateral Obligations having the lowest S&P Ratings that would otherwise be applicable as determined above) shall be the S&P Rating one sub-category below the S&P Rating of the Collateral Obligations that would otherwise be applicable as determined above. For purposes of any calculation under the Indenture, if a S&P Rating is withdrawn by S&P with respect to a Collateral Obligation, the Issuer will continue using the latest S&P Rating available immediately prior to such withdrawal until a bankruptcy event occurs with respect to such Collateral Obligation.

“S&P Rating Confirmation” means confirmation in writing from S&P that it has not reduced, suspended, or withdrawn the Initial Rating assigned by it to any Class of Notes.

“S&P Recovery Rate” means, as of any date of determination, with respect to any Collateral Obligation, the percentage for such Collateral Obligation set forth in (x) the applicable table below, (y) the row in such table opposite the S&P CRR (or, if the relevant assets have no S&P CRR, the senior secured recovery rating, the U.S. loan recovery rating or the CDO liability rating, as applicable) of such Collateral Obligation (or, in the case of a Form-Approved Synthetic Security, the Reference Obligation unless otherwise specified by S&P) and (z) the column in such table below the initial S&P Rating of the respective Class of Notes; provided, however that (i) with respect to a DIP Loan or a Synthetic Security (other than a Form-Approved Synthetic Security), the S&P Recovery Rate shall be the recovery rate assigned by S&P and with respect to a Structured Finance Obligation the S&P Recovery Rate shall be the recovery rate determined by reference to Table V or Table VI below, as applicable and (ii) the Issuer or the Servicer may request the assignment of a recovery rate from S&P with respect to any Collateral Obligation, any such assignment by S&P to be in writing (electronic or otherwise).

In all recovery rate tables above, Note rating categories below “AAA” include rating subcategories (for example, the “AA” column also applies to Notes rated “AA+” and “AA-”).

“S&P Unrated DIP Loan” means a DIP Loan acquired by the Issuer that does not have a rating assigned by S&P and for which the Servicer has commenced the process of having a rating assigned by S&P (as specified in the definition of “DIP Loan”).

“Sale Proceeds” means all proceeds received (including any proceeds received with respect to any associated interest rate swap or security providing fixed annuity payments ) with respect to Collateral Obligations or other Pledged Obligations as a result of their sales or other dispositions less any reasonable expenses expended by the Servicer or the Trustee in connection with the sales or other dispositions, which shall be paid from such proceeds notwithstanding their characterization otherwise as Administrative Expenses.

“Second Lien Loan” means a Loan that (i) is not (and cannot by its terms become) subordinated in right of payment to any other obligation of the obligor of the Loan other than a Senior Secured Loan with respect to the liquidation of such obligor or the collateral for such Loan, (ii) is secured by a valid second priority perfected security interest in or lien on specified collateral securing the obligor's obligations under the Loan, which specified collateral does not consist solely of common stock or shares issued by the obligor or any of its Affiliates or intangible assets and (iii) if such Loan does not have an S&P Recovery rate assigned as part of a credit estimate, so long as such credit estimate is in effect, then, solely for purposes of determining the S&P Recovery Rate for such Loan, in the Servicer's commercially reasonable judgment (with such judgment being made in good faith by the Servicer at the time of such Loan's purchase), the specified collateral for such Loan has a value not less than the outstanding Principal Amount of all debt senior to such Loan plus the S&P Recovery Rate applicable to such Loan, which value may be derived from, among other things, the enterprise value of the issuer of such Loans (provided that the provisions of the clause (iii) may be amended at any time, subject to Rating Confirmation from S&P, or in order to conform to S&P's then-current criteria for such Loans).

“Secondary Risk Counterparty” means any obligor Domiciled other than in the United States, any Participating Institution, any Synthetic Security Counterparty and any Securities Lending Counterparty.

Long-Term Senior Unsecured Debt Rating of Secondary Risk Counterparty	Individual Counterparty Limit	Aggregate Counterparty Limit
Aaa	20.0%	20.0%
Aa1	10.0%	10.0%
Aa2	10.0%	10.0%
Aa3	10.0%	10.0%
A1	5.0%	10.0%

With respect to S&P, the table below:

Long-Term Senior Unsecured Debt Rating of Secondary Risk Counterparty	Individual Counterparty Limit	Aggregate Counterparty Limit
AAA	20.0%	20.0%
AA+/AA/AA-	10.0%	20.0%

If any Secondary Risk Counterparty’s long-term senior unsecured debt rating or short-term rating is on credit watch for possible downgrade by Moody’s or S&P, then for the purposes of the table above, its rating by the Rating Agency putting its rating on credit watch shall be one rating notch lower for that Rating Agency.

“Secured High-Yield Bond” means a High-Yield Bond that is secured by a valid and perfected security interest in specified collateral.

“Secured Loan” means a Loan that is secured by a valid and perfected security interest in specified collateral.

“Secured Parties” means the Noteholders, the Trustee, the Servicer and each Hedge Counterparty (and the Collateral Administrator and Preference Shares Paying Agent to the extent of Administrative Expenses payable to such parties as provided in the Indenture).

“Securities Lending Collateral” means Cash or direct registered debt obligations of the United States of America that have a maturity date no later than the Business Day preceding the stated termination date of the relevant Securities Lending Agreement and that are pledged by a Securities Lending Counterparty as collateral pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement.

“Selected Collateral Quality Tests” means Weighted Average Moody’s Recovery Rate Test, the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test, the Weighted Average Spread Test, the Weighted Average Life Test (after taking into consideration any applicable Maturity Extension), the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test and the Diversity Test.

“Senior Secured High-Yield Bond” means a Secured High-Yield Bond that is not subordinated by its terms to indebtedness of the borrower for borrowed money, trade claims, capitalized leases, or other similar obligations, with a first priority security interest in collateral that in the opinion of the Servicer has value at least equal to the amount of the High-Yield Bond.

“Senior Secured Loan” means a Secured Loan that is not subordinated by its terms to indebtedness of the borrower for borrowed money, trade claims, capitalized leases, or other similar obligations, with a valid and perfected first priority security interest in collateral that in the opinion of the Servicer has value at least equal to the amount of the Loan and that is not a DIP Loan.

“Senior Unsecured High-Yield Bond” means a High-Yield Bond that is not (i) subordinated by its terms to indebtedness of the borrower for borrowed money and (ii) secured by a valid and perfected security interest in collateral.

“Senior Unsecured Loan” means a Loan that is not a Senior Secured Loan and is not (i) subordinated by its terms to indebtedness of the borrower for borrowed money and (ii) secured by a valid and perfected security interest in collateral.

“Servicing Agreement” means the Servicing Agreement, dated as of the Closing Date, between the Issuer and the Servicer, as modified, amended and supplemented and in effect from time to time.

“Spread Excess” means, as of any Measurement Date, a fraction whose (i) numerator is the product of (A) the greater of zero and the excess of the Weighted Average Spread for the Measurement Date over the Minimum Weighted Average Spread specified in the applicable row of the Ratings Matrix and (B) the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Floating Rate Obligations (excluding any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations) held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date and (ii) denominator is the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Fixed Rate Obligations (excluding any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations) held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date. In computing the Spread Excess on any Measurement Date, the Weighted Average Spread for the Measurement Date will be computed as if the Fixed Rate Excess were equal to zero.

“Structured Finance Obligation” means any obligation (other than the Notes or any other security or obligation issued by the Issuer):

(i) secured directly by, referenced to, or representing ownership of, a pool of receivables or other assets of U.S. obligors, or obligors organized or incorporated in Moody’s Group I Countries, Moody’s Group II Countries, Moody’s Group III Countries or Tax Advantaged Jurisdictions, including portfolio credit default swaps and collateralized debt obligations, but excludes:

- (A) residential mortgage-backed securities;
- (B) collateralized debt obligations backed by Emerging Market Securities;
- (C) collateralized debt obligations primarily backed by asset-backed securities;
- (D) market value collateralized debt obligations;
- (E) securities backed by “future flow” receivables;

- (F) securities backed by “trust preferred securities;”
- (G) net interest margin securitizations;
- (H) collateralized debt obligations a significant portion of which are backed by bonds; and
- (I) obligations secured directly by, referenced to, or representing ownership of, a pool of receivables or other assets where the obligors with respect to such receivables or other assets are non-corporate credit risks; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, collateralized loan obligations shall not be excluded by this clause (I);
- (ii) that has an S&P Rating;
- (iii) that has a rating and a Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate assigned by Moody’s; and
- (iv) whose ownership or disposition (without regard to the Issuer’s other activities) by the Issuer will not cause the Issuer to be treated as engaged in a U.S. trade or business for United States federal income tax purposes or otherwise subject the Issuer to net income taxes.

In connection with the purchase of a Structured Finance Obligation, the Servicer shall obtain from Moody’s the applicable Moody’s Priority Category Recovery Rate.

For purposes of the Diversity Test, multiple Structured Finance Obligations from CDOs serviced by the same Servicer or multiple Structured Finance Obligations issued by the same master trust will be considered to be obligations of one issuer.

“Subordinated High-Yield Bond” means a Secured High-Yield Bond secured by a second (or lower) priority security interest in the relevant collateral.

“Subordinated Lien Loan” means a Secured Loan (other than a Second Lien Loan) secured by a second (or lower) priority security interest in the relevant collateral.

“Subscription Agreement” means a subscription agreement dated between a purchaser and the Issuer entered into on or before the Closing Date for the subscription of a specified number of Class D Notes or Preference Shares, as applicable.

“Super Majority” means, with respect to any Class or group of Notes or Preference Shares, the Holders of more than 66⅔% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of that Class or group of Notes or Preference Shares, as the case may be.

“Synthetic Security” means any swap transaction, structured bond, credit linked note, or other derivative financial instrument providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a debt instrument (but excluding any such instrument relating directly to a basket or portfolio of debt instruments) or an index or indices (such as the “SAMI” index published by Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC) in connection with a basket or portfolio of debt instruments or other similar instruments entered into by the Issuer with a Synthetic Security Counterparty that has in the Servicer’s commercially reasonable judgment, equivalent expected loss characteristics (those characteristics, “credit risk”) to those of the related Reference Obligations (taking account of those considerations as they relate to the Synthetic Security Counterparty), if (i) it is either a Form-Approved Synthetic Security or the Rating Condition for each Rating Agency is satisfied, and (ii) the Reference Obligations thereof have a Market Value equal to at least 85% of the Principal Balance of the Reference Obligation at the time the Synthetic Security is entered into.

Each Synthetic Security that is a credit default swap the Reference Obligations of which are Loans shall require each such Reference Obligation to be denominated and payable in U.S. Dollars.

The maturity, interest rate, and other non-credit characteristics of a Synthetic Security may be different from the Reference Obligations to which the credit risk of the Synthetic Security relates.

No Synthetic Security shall require the Issuer to make any payment to the Synthetic Security Counterparty after its initial purchase other than any payments represented by the release of any cash collateral posted by the Issuer from the Collection Account to the Synthetic Security Counterparty Account simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into the Synthetic Security in an amount not exceeding the amount of the posted cash collateral. Collateral may be posted only to a Synthetic Security Counterparty Account. No Synthetic Security shall result in the Issuer being a "buyer" of credit protection.

The term Synthetic Security shall not include any Structured Finance Obligation or any Participation, but the Reference Obligation of a Synthetic Security may be a Structured Finance Obligation.

Each Synthetic Security Agreement shall contain appropriate limited recourse and non-petition provisions (to the extent the Issuer has contractual payment obligations to the Synthetic Security Counterparty) equivalent (mutatis mutandis) to those contained in the Indenture.

The ownership or disposition of any Synthetic Security (without regard to the Issuer's other activities) must not cause the Issuer to be treated as engaged in a U.S. trade or business for United States federal income tax purposes or otherwise subject the Issuer to net income taxes.

Unless the Rating Condition is otherwise satisfied, any "deliverable obligation" that may be delivered to the Issuer as a result of the occurrence of any "credit event" under any proposed Synthetic Security must not provide that its transfer to the Issuer is subject to obtaining any consents and must qualify (when the Issuer purchases the related Synthetic Security and when such "deliverable obligation" is delivered to the Issuer as a result of the occurrence of any "credit event") as a Collateral Obligation and satisfy the Concentration Limitations under the Indenture, except that such "deliverable obligation" may constitute a Defaulted Collateral Obligation when delivered upon a "credit event" and if the Reference Obligation of the Synthetic Security is a Senior Secured Loan then the "deliverable obligation" under the Synthetic Security must also be a Senior Secured Loan.

No Synthetic Security may provide for any event other than bankruptcy or a failure to pay as a "credit event."

No Synthetic Security may provide for termination by the Synthetic Security Counterparty at any time (i) after a declaration of acceleration of Maturity of the Notes has been made upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, unless such declaration and its consequences may no longer be rescinded and annulled in accordance with the Indenture and liquidation of the Collateral has begun or (ii) upon an Optional Redemption, unless the third Business Day before the scheduled Redemption Date has passed and no notice of withdrawal has been issued.

For purposes of the Coverage Tests and the Retention Overcollateralization Test, unless the Rating Condition for each Rating Agency is satisfied in respect of any proposed alternative treatment, a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of the Synthetic Security and not of the related Reference Obligations.

For purposes of the Collateral Quality Tests (other than the Diversity Test and the S&P Industry Classification with respect to the S&P CDO Monitor Test), a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of the Synthetic Security and not of the related Reference Obligations.

For purposes of calculating compliance with the Concentration Limitations other than limits relating to payment characteristics, and all related definitions, unless otherwise specified in the Indenture or by the Rating Agencies, a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of its Reference Obligations and not the Synthetic Security. For purposes of calculating compliance with the Concentration Limitations relating to payment characteristics, and all related definitions, unless otherwise specified in the Indenture or by the Rating Agencies, a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of the Synthetic Security and not its Reference Obligation.

With respect to a Synthetic Security based upon or relating to a senior secured index providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a basket of credit default swaps referencing a diversified group of Reference Obligations, with respect to which the principal or notional amount of the credit exposure to any single Reference Obligation does not increase over time, for purposes of: (i) calculating compliance with the Diversity Test, the S&P Industry Classification with respect to the S&P CDO Monitor Test, and the Concentration Limitations (other than limits relating to payment characteristics and except for clauses 17 and 17(a) of the definition of “Concentration Limitations”), and all related definitions, and (ii) any other provision or definition of the Indenture involving a determination with respect to a Reference Obligation, the characteristics of such Reference Obligations shall be determined by treating such Synthetic Security as a direct interest of the Issuer in each such Reference Obligation in an amount equal to the Allocable Principal Balance of such Reference Obligation. In addition, each Reference Obligation under such Synthetic Security shall be assigned a Moody’s Rating Factor equal to the sum of the Moody’s Rating Factor of (i) the related Reference Obligor, (ii) the Synthetic Security Counterparty of such Synthetic Security and (iii) the Synthetic Security Collateral of such Synthetic Security. In addition, the Moody’s Priority Category Rate in respect of a Synthetic Security referencing multiple Reference Obligations pursuant to this paragraph shall be the Moody’s Priority Category Rate as assigned by Moody’s to each Reference Obligation underlying such Synthetic Security. For the avoidance of doubt, Reference Obligations upon which a Synthetic Security is based as described in this paragraph must meet the definition of “Collateral Obligation” to the extent provided in this definition.

If the Rating Condition must be satisfied to execute the purchase of any Synthetic Security, the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, shall give each applicable Rating Agency not less than five days’ prior notice of the purchase of or entry into any Synthetic Security.

“Synthetic Security Collateral” means, respect to any Synthetic Security, amounts posted to the Synthetic Security Collateral Account by the Synthetic Security Counterparty in support of its obligations under the Synthetic Security, including (i) all Eligible Investments that mature no later than the Stated Maturity or (ii) floating rate credit card securitizations that are rated “Aaa” by Moody’s and “AAA” by S&P that mature no later than the Stated Maturity in the Synthetic Security Collateral Account that are purchased with Synthetic Security Collateral; provided that any amounts described in clause (ii) above shall be hedged by a guaranteed investment contract or a total return swap which shall be subject to Rating Confirmation by S&P.

“Synthetic Security Counterparty” means any entity required to make payments on a Synthetic Security to the extent that a reference obligor makes payments on a related Reference Obligation.

“Tax Advantaged Jurisdiction” means one of the Cayman Islands, Bermuda, the Netherlands Antilles or the tax advantaged jurisdiction of the Channel Islands, or such other jurisdiction that the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect thereto; provided that any Tax Advantaged Jurisdiction that is the jurisdiction of organization of an obligor of a Collateral Obligation other than obligors that are special purpose vehicles or issuers of Structured Finance Obligations shall have a Moody’s foreign currency rating of at least “Aa2” and a S&P foreign currency rating of at least “AA-”.

“Tax Event” means an event that occurs if either:

(i) (A) one or more Collateral Obligations that were not subject to withholding tax when the Issuer committed to purchase them have become subject to withholding tax or the rate of withholding has increased on one or more Collateral Obligations that were subject to withholding tax when the Issuer committed to purchase them and (B) in any Due Period, the aggregate of the payments subject to withholding tax on new withholding tax obligations and the increase in payments subject to withholding tax on increased rate withholding tax obligations, in each case to the extent not “grossed-up” (on an after-tax basis) by the related obligor, represent 5% or more of Interest Proceeds for the Due Period; or

(ii) taxes, fees, assessments, or other similar charges are imposed on the Issuer or the Co-Issuer in an aggregate amount in any twelve-month period in excess of U.S.$2,000,000, other than any deduction or withholding for or on account of any tax with respect to any payment owing in respect of any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation or Collateral Obligation.

“Treasury Regulations” means regulations, including proposed or temporary regulations, promulgated under the Code. References herein to specific provisions of proposed or temporary regulations shall include analogous provisions of final Treasury Regulations or other successor Treasury Regulations.

“UCC” means the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect in the State of New York, and as amended from time to time.

“Underlying Instrument” means the loan agreement, indenture, credit agreement, or other agreement pursuant to which a Pledged Obligation has been issued or created and each other agreement that governs the terms of or secures the obligations represented by the Pledged Obligation or of which the holders of the Pledged Obligation are the beneficiaries.

“Unfunded Amount” means, with respect to any Revolving Loan or any Delayed Drawdown Loan at any time, the excess, if any, of (a) the Commitment Amount over (b) the Funded Amount thereof.

“Unscheduled Principal Payments” means any principal payments received with respect to a Collateral Obligation as a result of optional redemptions, exchange offers, tender offers, other payments or prepayments made at the option of the issuer thereof or that are otherwise not scheduled to be made thereunder.

“Valuation Report” means the accounting report, determined as of the close of business on each Determination Date, rendered in accordance with the terms of the Indenture.

“Voting Record Date” means, with respect to any vote by the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares in relation to the appointment or removal of the directors of the Issuer, (a) 15 days prior to the relevant shareholders meeting or (b) in the case of any vote by the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares exercised by written consent resolution, the date of such resolution.

“Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon” means, as of any Measurement Date, the rate obtained by:

(i) multiplying the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation that is a Fixed Rate Obligation held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date by the current per annum rate at which it pays interest (other than, with respect to Collateral Obligations that are not PIK Securities, any interest that is not required to be paid in Cash and may be deferred), using only the effective after-tax interest rate determined by the Servicer on any Fixed Rate Obligation after taking into account any withholding tax or other deductions on account of tax of any jurisdiction and any gross-up paid by the obligor);

- (ii) summing the amounts determined pursuant to clause (i);
- (iii) dividing the sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations that are Fixed Rate Obligations held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date; and
- (iv) if the result obtained in clause (iii) is less than the minimum percentage rate specified to satisfy the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test, adding to the sum the amount of any Spread Excess as of the Measurement Date, but only to the extent required to satisfy the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test.

“Weighted Average Life” means, as of any Measurement Date the number obtained by (i) summing the products obtained by multiplying (A) the Average Life at that time of each Collateral Obligation by (B) the Principal Balance at that time of the Collateral Obligation and (ii) dividing that sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance at that time of all Collateral Obligations.

“Weighted Average Moody’s Rating Factor” means the summation of the products obtained by multiplying the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation (excluding Eligible Investments) by its respective Moody’s Rating Factor, dividing that sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations (excluding Eligible Investments) and rounding the result up to the nearest whole number.

“Weighted Average Spread” means, as of any Measurement Date, a rate obtained by:

- (i) multiplying the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation that is a Floating Rate Obligation held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date by the current per annum contract spread at which it pays interest (which (w) for PIK Securities for which interest has been deferred or capitalized, will be deemed to be zero, (x) for Collateral Obligations that would be PIK Securities but for the proviso in the definition thereof, will be deemed to be equal to the effective rate of PIK Cash-Pay Interest applicable thereto (y) for any Revolving Loan or Delayed Draw Loan, will be the per annum contract spread for the Funded Amount thereof and the rate of the commitment fee and such other fees payable to the Issuer for any Unfunded Amount thereof and (z) for any synthetic letter of credit, will be the all-in rate (including any fees payable to the Issuer by the underlying obligor) minus the applicable LIBOR), determined with respect to any Floating Rate Obligation that does not bear interest based on a London interbank offered rate, by expressing the current interest rate on the Floating Rate Obligation as a spread above a three month London interbank offered rate calculated in a manner consistent with the calculation of LIBOR;

- (ii) summing the amounts determined pursuant to clause (i);
- (iii) dividing that sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Floating Rate Obligations held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date; and
- (iv) if the result obtained in clause (iii) is less than the minimum percentage rate specified to pass the Weighted Average Spread Test, adding to that sum the amount of Fixed Rate Excess as of the Measurement Date.

“Workout Assets” means a Loan, High-Yield Bond, or Qualified Equity Security acquired in connection with the workout or restructuring of any Collateral Obligation that the Issuer does not advance any funds to purchase that does not qualify as a Collateral Obligation.

“Written-Down Obligation” means as of any date of determination, any Structured Finance Obligation as to which the Issuer or the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, has been notified by the issuer of the Structured Finance Obligation that the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Structured Finance Obligation and all other Structured Finance Obligations secured by the same pool of collateral that rank pari passu with or senior in priority of payment to the Structured Finance Obligation exceeds the aggregate principal balance (including reserved interest or other amounts available for overcollateralization) of all collateral securing the Structured Finance Obligation and such other pari passu and senior Structured Finance Obligations (excluding defaulted collateral).

“Zero-Coupon Security” means a security that, at the time of determination, does not make periodic payments of interest. A Zero-Coupon Security shall not include a security that is a PIK Security.

INDENTURE, dated as of May 31, 2007, among WESTCHESTER CLO, LTD. (the "Issuer"), WESTCHESTER CLO CORP. (the "Co-Issuer") and INVESTORS BANK & TRUST COMPANY, as trustee (together with its permitted successors, the "Trustee").

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

The Co-Issuers are duly authorized to execute and deliver this Indenture to provide for the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes and the Class D Notes and the Issuer is duly authorized to execute and deliver this Indenture to provide for the Class E Notes, in each case issuable as provided in this Indenture. All covenants and agreements made by the Co-Issuers in this Indenture are for the benefit and security of the Secured Parties. The Co-Issuers are entering into this Indenture, and the Trustee is accepting the trusts created by this Indenture, for good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged.

All things necessary to make this Indenture a valid agreement of the Co-Issuers in accordance with the agreement's terms have been done.

GRANTING CLAUSES

The Issuer Grants to the Trustee, for the benefit and security of the Noteholders, the Trustee, the Servicer and each Hedge Counterparty (and the Collateral Administrator and Preference Shares Paying Agent to the extent of Administrative Expenses payable to such parties as provided hereunder) (collectively, the "Secured Parties"), all of its right, title, and interest in, to, and under, in each case, whether now owned or existing, or hereafter acquired or arising:

(a) the Collateral Obligations (listed, as of the Closing Date, in Schedule 1 to this Indenture and listed from time to time on such Schedule 1 as such Schedule 1 may be modified, amended and revised subsequent to the Closing Date by the Issuer) and all Workout Assets, including any part thereof which consists of general intangibles or supporting obligations (each as defined in the UCC) relating thereto, all payments made or to be made thereon or with respect thereto, and all Collateral Obligations and Workout Assets including any part thereof which consists of general intangibles (as defined in the UCC) relating thereto, which are delivered or credited to the Trustee, or for which a Security Entitlement is delivered or credited to the Trustee or which are credited to one or more of the Issuer Accounts on or after the Closing Date and all payments made or to be made thereon or with respect thereto;

(b) the Custodial Account, the Collection Account, the Payment Account, the Revolving Reserve Account, the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, the Interest Reserve Account, the Closing Date Expense Account, the Expense Reimbursement Account and the Securities Lending Account (collectively, the "Issuer Accounts"), Eligible Investments purchased with funds on deposit in the Issuer Accounts, and all income from funds in the Issuer Accounts;

(c) the Synthetic Security Counterparty Account (and, together with the Issuer Accounts, the Synthetic Security Collateral Account, the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account and the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account, the "Accounts") and assets included therein, subject to the terms of the related Synthetic Security (provided, however, that any such rights in any Synthetic Security Counterparty Account shall be held in trust by the Trustee (or Securities Intermediary) first to secure the Issuer's payment obligations to the relevant Synthetic Security Counterparty and second for the benefit of the Secured Parties);

(d) the Servicing Agreement, the Synthetic Security Collateral Account, the Securities Lending Agreements and all Securities Lending Collateral and the Securities Lending Account, the Hedge Agreements as set forth in Article 15 and all Collateral securing the Hedge Counterparty's obligations thereunder including, without limitation, the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account, the Collateral Administration Agreement to the extent of any rights of the Issuer therein;

(e) all Cash or money delivered to the Trustee (or its bailee);

(f) all securities, investments, investment property, instruments, money, general intangibles, chattel paper and agreements of any nature in which the Issuer has an interest (except for money, securities and investments in the Issuer's bank account in the Cayman Islands), including any part thereof which consists of general intangibles or supporting obligations (each as defined in the UCC) relating thereto; and

(g) all proceeds with respect to the foregoing;

(all of the property and assets described in foregoing clauses (a) through (g), but excluding the Excluded Property, the "Collateral"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Collateral shall not include any Excluded Property.

These Grants are not intended to and do not transfer any liability under the Collateral, which liabilities shall remain the sole obligation of the Issuer. These Grants are made, however, in trust as separate trusts, to secure the Notes. Except as provided in Article 13 and the priorities set forth in the Priority of Payments, the Notes are secured by the first grant equally and ratably without prejudice, priority or distinction between any Note and any other Note because of difference in time of issuance or otherwise. The Grants are made to secure, in accordance with the priorities in the Priority of Payments and Article 13:

(i) the payment of all amounts due on the Notes equally and ratably without prejudice, priority or distinction between any Note and any other Note because of difference in time of issuance or otherwise, in accordance with their terms;

(ii) the payment of all other sums payable under this Indenture (other than amounts payable in respect of the Preference Shares);

(iii) the payment of sums payable to any Hedge Counterparty under a Hedge Agreement;

(iv) the payment of sums payable to the Servicer under the Servicing Agreement; and

(v) compliance with this Indenture;

The Trustee acknowledges the Grants, accepts the trusts under this Indenture in accordance with this Indenture, and agrees to perform its duties in this Indenture in accordance with the provisions hereof.

DEFINITIONS

Section 1.1. Definitions.

Except as otherwise specified in this Indenture or as the context may otherwise require, the following terms have the respective meanings provided below for all purposes of this Indenture.

"A/B Exchange": An exchange of one security (the "A Security") for another security (the "B Security") of the same issuer or issuers, which security shall have substantially identical terms to the A Security except that one or more transfer restrictions applicable to the A Security are inapplicable to the B Security.

"Accounts": The meaning specified in the Granting Clauses.

"Accountants' Certificate": An agreed upon procedures report of a firm of Independent certified public accountants of international reputation appointed by the Issuer pursuant to Section 10.8(a), which may be the firm of Independent accountants that performs certain accounting services for the Issuer or the Servicer.

"Accrued Interest On Sale": Interest accrued on a Collateral Obligation at the time of sale or other disposition to the extent paid to the Issuer as part of the sale or other disposition price of the Collateral Obligation after deduction of any amount representing Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal of the Collateral Obligation.

"Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal": (i) interest accrued on or purchased with a Collateral Obligation as part of the price paid by the Issuer to acquire the Collateral Obligation less any amount of Interest Proceeds (applied as Interest Proceeds) applied by the Issuer to acquire the accrued interest at the time of purchase and (ii) interest accrued on a Loan that constitutes part of the price paid by the Issuer to repay loans made by the Pre-Closing Parties to finance the Issuer's pre-closing acquisition of such Loan.

"Act": The meaning specified in Section 14.2.

"Administration Agreement": The Administration Agreement, between the Issuer and the Administrator, providing for the administrative functions of the Issuer, as modified, amended, and supplemented and in effect from time to time.

"Administrative Expense Cap": An amount on any Payment Date equal to the excess of:

(a) the sum of 0.04% of the Maximum Amount on the related Determination Date plus $150,000, over

(b) the sum of the amounts paid for Administrative Expenses in the twelve months preceding the current Payment Date.

"Administrative Expenses": Amounts due or accrued representing

(i) tax preparation, filing, and registration fees or expenses and any other filing and registration fees owed by the Co-Issuers (including all filing, registration, and annual return fees payable to the Cayman Islands government and registered office fees);

(ii) fees, indemnities and expenses of the Trustee (including all amounts under Section 6.8), the Administrator, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Collateral Administrator;

(iii) fees, indemnities and expenses of the Co-Issuers and of accountants, agents, and counsel for either of the Co-Issuers;

(iv) fees and expenses of the Rating Agencies in connection with any rating of the Collateral (requested by the Issuer or the Servicer) or the Notes owed by either Co-Issuer (including fees and expenses for ongoing surveillance, credit estimates and other fees owing to the Rating Agencies);

(v) expenses and indemnities (but not Servicing Fees) of the Servicer if payable under the Servicing Agreement;

(vi) fees, indemnities and expenses for third-party loan pricing services and accountants; and

(vii) amounts due (other than indemnities) to any other Person (except the Servicer) if specifically provided for in this Indenture, including fees or expenses in connection with any Securities Lending Agreement.

"Administrator": Maples Finance Limited.

"Affected Class": Any Class of Notes that, as a result of the occurrence of a Tax Event, has received, or will receive less than the aggregate amount of principal and interest that would otherwise have been payable to such Class on the Distribution Date related to the Due Period with respect to which such Tax Event occurs.

"Affiliate" or "Affiliated": With respect to a Person,

(i) any other Person who, directly or indirectly, is in control of, or controlled by, or is under common control with, the Person; or

(ii) any other Person who is a director, officer, or employee (A) of the Person, (B) of any subsidiary or parent company of the Person or (C) of any Person described in clause (i) above.

For the purposes of this definition, control of a Person shall mean the power, direct or indirect,

(A) to vote more than 50% of the securities having ordinary voting power for the election of directors of the Person; or

(B) to direct the corporate management and corporate policies of the Person whether by contract or otherwise (this does not include the Servicing Agreement unless it is amended expressly to provide those services).

For the purpose of this definition, the Administrator and its Affiliates are neither Affiliates of nor Affiliated with the Co-Issuers and the Co-Issuers are neither Affiliates of nor Affiliated with the Administrator, or any of their Affiliates.

"Agent Members": Members of, or participants in, a Depository.

"Aggregate Outstanding Amount": When used with respect to any of the Notes as of any date, the aggregate principal amount of such Notes on that date. When used with respect to the Preference Shares as of any date, means the number of such Preference Shares Outstanding on such date.

Except as otherwise provided herein:

(a) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class A-1-A Notes at any time shall include any Defaulted Interest in respect thereof and (to the extent not included in any such Defaulted Interest) accrued interest on such Defaulted Interest;

(b) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class A-1-B Notes at any time shall include any Defaulted Interest in respect thereof and (to the extent not included in any such Defaulted Interest) accrued interest on such Defaulted Interest;

(c) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class B Notes at any time shall include any Defaulted Interest in respect thereof and (to the extent not included in any such Defaulted Interest) accrued interest on such Defaulted Interest;

(d) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class C Notes at any time shall include all Class C Deferred Interest attributed thereto;

(e) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class D Notes at any time shall include all Class D Deferred Interest attributed thereto; and

(f) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class E Notes at any time shall include all Class E Deferred Interest attributed thereto.

"Aggregate Principal Balance": When used with respect to the Pledged Obligations, the sum of the Principal Balances of all the Pledged Obligations. When used with respect to a portion of the Pledged Obligations, the term Aggregate Principal Balance means the sum of the Principal Balances of that portion of the Pledged Obligations.

"Aggregate Purchase Price Amount": When used with respect to the Pledged Obligations, the sum of the Purchase Price Amounts of all the Pledged Obligations. When used with respect to a portion of the Pledged Obligations, the term Aggregate Purchase Price Amount means the sum of the Purchase Price Amounts of that portion of the Pledged Obligations.

"Allocable Principal Balance": With respect to a Synthetic Security based upon or relating to a senior secured index providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a basket of credit default swaps referencing a diversified group of Reference Obligations, with respect to which the principal or notional amount of the credit exposure to any single Reference Obligation does not increase over time, the portion of the aggregate Principal Balance of such Synthetic Security that is allocable to each Reference Obligation comprising such index or indices based upon allocating the Principal Balance of such Synthetic Security among such Reference Obligations in the same proportion as each Reference Obligation bears to the aggregate Principal Balance of such Synthetic Security.

"Amendment Buy-Out": The meaning specified in Section 9.6(a).

"Amendment Buy-Out Option": The meaning specified in Section 9.6(a).

"Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price": The purchase price payable by the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser for Securities purchased in an Amendment Buy-Out, if any, in an amount equal to (i) in the case of the Notes, the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest (including Deferred Interest, if any) as of the date of purchase payable to the Non-Consenting Holder (giving effect to any amounts paid to the Holder on such date), plus any unpaid Extension Bonus Payment, plus in the case of the CDS/TRS Purchaser, the applicable CDS/TRS Termination Payment Amount, and (ii) in the case of the Preference Shares, an amount that, when taken together with all payments and distributions made in respect of such Preference Shares since the Closing Date (and any amounts payable, if any, to the Non-Consenting Holder on the next succeeding Payment Date) would cause such Preference Shares to have received (as of the date of purchase thereof) a Preference Share Internal Rate of Return of 12.0% (assuming such purchase date was a Payment Date); provided, however, that in any Amendment Buy-Out from and after the date on which the Non-Consenting Holders have received a Preference Share Internal Rate of Return equal to or in excess of 12.0%, the Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price for such Preference Shares shall be zero.

"Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser": The Servicer (or any of its Affiliates acting as principal or agent); provided that in the event that the Servicer elects not to purchase Securities from Holders pursuant to Section 9.6, "Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser" shall mean one or more qualifying purchasers (which may include the Initial Purchasers or any of their Affiliates acting as principal or agent) designated by the Servicer; provided, however, none of the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers or any of their respective Affiliates shall have any duty to act as an Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser.

"Applicable Discount Rate": For purposes of determining the CDS/TRS Termination Payment Amount with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser in connection with an Amendment Buy-Out, USD-LIBOR-BBA, as defined in the Annex to the 2000 ISDA Definitions as determined by the CDS/TRS Purchaser on the Business Day preceding the date of purchase of the applicable Notes from the CDS/TRS Purchaser in connection with such Amendment Buy-Out.

"Applicable Issuers" or "Applicable Issuer": With respect to the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes and the Class D Notes, each of the Co-Issuers. With respect to the Class E Notes and the Preference Shares, the Issuer only.

"Applicable Note Interest Rate": With respect to the Notes of any Class, the Note Interest Rate with respect to such Class.

"Applicable Percentage": The lesser of the Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate applicable to the Collateral Obligation and the S&P Recovery Rate applicable to the Collateral Obligation and the current S&P Rating of the Class A Notes.

"Approved Credit Support Document": A security agreement in the form of the 1994 ISDA Credit Support Annex (ISDA Agreements Subject to New York Law Only), as modified by Paragraph 13 thereto.

"Approved Pricing Service": Loan Pricing Corporation, Mark-It-Partners, Inc. or any other nationally recognized loan pricing service approved in writing by S&P.

"Ask-Side Market Value": As of any Measurement Date, the market value determined by the Servicer and reported to the Trustee as an amount rather than as a percentage or fraction of par (expressed in Dollars) of any lent Collateral Obligation based upon the Servicer's commercially reasonable judgment and based upon the following order of priority: (i) the average of the ask-side market prices obtained by the Servicer from three Independent broker-dealers active in the trading of such obligations which are also Independent from the Servicer or (ii) if the foregoing set of prices could not be obtained, the higher of the ask-side market prices obtained by the Servicer from two Independent broker-dealers active in the trading of such obligations are also Independent from the Servicer or (iii) if the foregoing sets of prices could not be obtained, the average of the ask-side prices for the purchase of such Collateral Obligation determined by an Approved Pricing Service (Independent from the Servicer) that derives valuations by polling broker-dealers (Independent from the Servicer); provided that if the Ask-Side Market Value of any lent Collateral Obligation cannot be so determined then such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have a Market Value equal to the outstanding principal balance thereof.

"Assigned Moody's Rating": The meaning set forth in Schedule 7.

"Authenticating Agent": With respect to the Notes, the Trustee or the person designated by the Trustee to authenticate the Notes on behalf of the Trustee pursuant to Section 6.15.

"Authorized Officer": With respect to the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, as applicable, any Officer or agent who is authorized to act for the Issuer or the Co-Issuer as applicable, in matters relating to, and binding on, the Issuer or the Co-Issuer. With respect to the Servicer, any managing member, Officer, manager, employee, partner or agent of the Servicer who is authorized to act for the Servicer in matters relating to, and binding on, the Servicer with respect to the subject matter of the request, certificate, or order in question. With respect to the Trustee or any other bank or trust company acting as trustee of an express trust or as custodian, a Trust Officer. Each party may receive and accept a certification of the authority of any other party as conclusive evidence of the authority of any Person to act, and the certification may be considered as in full force and effect until receipt by the other party of written notice to the contrary.

"Average Life": As of any Measurement Date with respect to any Collateral Obligation (other than any Defaulted Collateral Obligation), the quotient obtained by dividing:

- (i) the sum of the products of:
  - (A) the number of years (rounded to the nearest hundredth) from the Measurement Date to the respective dates of each successive scheduled payment of principal of the Collateral Obligation, and
  - (B) the respective amounts of the successive scheduled payments of principal of the Collateral Obligation, by
- (ii) the sum of all successive scheduled payments of principal of the Collateral Obligation.

"Bank": Investors Bank & Trust Company, in its individual capacity and not as Trustee.

"Bankruptcy Code": The U.S. Bankruptcy Code, Title 11 of the United States Code.

"Collateral Acquisition Agreement": The agreement dated as of the Closing Date between the Issuer and the Servicer, as modified, amended and supplemented and in effect from time to time.

"Collateral Administration Agreement": The agreement dated as of the Closing Date among the Issuer, the Servicer, and the Collateral Administrator, as modified, amended and supplemented and in effect from time to time.

"Collateral Administrator": Investors Bank & Trust Company, in its capacity as collateral administrator under the Collateral Administration Agreement.

"Collateral Assignment of Hedge Agreements": With respect to each Hedge Agreement, the assignment of all of the Issuer's interest in the Hedge Agreement to the Trustee and acknowledged by the Hedge Counterparty to create a security interest therein in favor of the Trustee.

"Collateral Obligation": Any obligation or security that, when the Issuer commits to purchase (or otherwise acquire) the obligation or security, is a Loan, High-Yield Bond, Structured Finance Obligation, or Synthetic Security with a Reference Obligation that is a Loan, a Structured Finance Obligation or High-Yield Bond that is:

- (1) denominated and payable in U.S. Dollars and is not convertible by its obligor into any other currency;
- (2) an obligation of an obligor Domiciled in an Eligible Country;
- (3) an obligation that is eligible by its terms to be assigned to the Issuer and pledged by the Issuer to the Trustee for inclusion in the Collateral;
- (4) not an exchangeable or convertible security;
- (5) not an equity security or a component of an equity security or a security that has a component that is an equity security (other than for avoidance of doubt, a pass-through trust certificate in a trust holding Collateral Obligations that is rated by a nationally-recognized credit rating agency);
- (6) not an obligation or security that has been called for redemption and is not an obligation or security that is the subject of an Offer other than a Permitted Offer or an exchange offer in which a security that is not registered under the Securities Act is exchanged for (i) a security that has substantially identical terms (except for transfer restrictions) but is registered under the Securities Act or (ii) a security that would otherwise qualify for purchase under Article 12;

(7) an obligation that (a) has a Moody's Rating (including any estimated or confidential rating which is in respect of the full obligation of the obligor and which is monitored) and (b) has an S&P Rating (including any confidential rating which is in respect of the full obligation of the obligor and which is monitored), which S&P Rating does not have a "p", "pi", "q", "r" or "t" subscript unless S&P otherwise authorizes in writing;

(8) an obligation that is a Finance Lease (if it is a lease) and the Rating Condition has been satisfied with respect to the acquisition thereof;

(9) (a) an obligation that is not a Current-Pay Obligation, Non-Performing Collateral Obligation or Credit Risk Obligation and (b) in the case of a Collateral Obligation that has a Moody's Rating of "Caa1" or lower or an S&P Rating of "CCC+" or lower, an obligation for which the Servicer has certified in writing that such Collateral Obligation is not a Credit Risk Obligation;

(10) an obligation that (unless it is a High-Yield Bond) is not subordinated by its terms to other indebtedness for borrowed money of the applicable issuer; provided that for the avoidance of doubt, this clause shall not prohibit the inclusion as Collateral Obligations of Subordinated Lien Loans or Second Lien Loans;

(11) an obligation that (i) (unless it is a PIK Security) bears simple interest payable in cash no less frequently than annually at a fixed or floating rate that is paid on a periodic basis on an unleveraged basis and, in the case of a floating rate, computed on a benchmark interest rate plus or minus a spread, if any (which may vary under the terms of the obligation) and (ii) provides for a fixed amount of principal payable in cash according to a fixed schedule (which may include optional call dates) or at maturity (or a fixed notional amount in the case of Synthetic Securities);

(12) an obligation the payment or repayment of the principal, if any, of which is not an amount determined by reference to any formula or index or subject to any contingency under the terms thereof;

(13) an obligation the portion of which to be acquired (including through a Synthetic Security with respect to the Reference Obligation) does not represent, directly or indirectly, more than a 25% interest in the obligation;

(14) not an obligation with a maturity later than two years after the Stated Maturity of the Notes;

(15) an obligation upon which no payments are subject to withholding tax imposed by any jurisdiction unless the obligor thereof or counterparty with respect thereto is required to make "gross-up" payments that cover the full amount of any such withholding tax on an after-tax basis (other than withholding taxes with respect to commitment fees, facility fees or other similar fees);

(16) not a Loan or Synthetic Security that would require the Issuer after its purchase of the Loan or Synthetic Security to advance any funds to the related borrower or Synthetic Security Counterparty or permit the borrower or Synthetic Security Counterparty to require that any future advances be made except for:

(A) any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan if, simultaneously with its purchase of the Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, the Issuer deposits into the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, respectively, the maximum amount of any advances that may be required of the Issuer under the related Underlying Instrument (as provided in Section 10.3(b)), and

(B) any Synthetic Security if, simultaneously with its purchase of the Synthetic Security, the Issuer posts cash collateral with (or for the benefit of) the Synthetic Security Counterparty simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into the Synthetic Security in an amount not exceeding the amount of any future advances;

(17) if such obligation is a Structured Finance Obligation that is a collateralized loan obligation, such obligation:

(A) has been assigned a rating by both Moody's and S&P;

(B) has a Moody's Rating of "Ba3" or higher and an S&P Rating of "BB-" or higher; and

(C) has not been placed on the watch list for possible downgrade by Moody's or S&P;

(18) not a Loan that is an obligation of a debtor in possession or a trustee for a debtor in an insolvency proceeding other than a DIP Loan;

(19) with respect to an obligation that provides for the payment of interest at a floating rate, an obligation for which such floating rate is determined by reference to the U.S. Dollar prime rate or other base rate, London interbank offered rate or similar interbank offered rate, commercial deposit rate or any other index that the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect thereto;

(20) in the case of a Synthetic Security, the Synthetic Security is one for which the counterparty or issuer, as the case may be, has a short-term debt rating by Moody's of at least "P-1" or long-term senior unsecured rating by Moody's of at least "A3" and, if rated "A3" by Moody's, such rating is not on watch for downgrade, and an issuer credit rating by S&P of at least "AA-" or a short term debt rating by S&P of at least "A-1+";

(21) not an obligation that constitutes Margin Stock;

(22) not a Zero-Coupon Security;

(23) not an obligation that is currently deferring interest or paying interest "in kind" or otherwise has an interest "in kind" balance outstanding at the time of purchase, which interest is otherwise payable in cash, unless the Rating Condition has been satisfied with respect to the acquisition thereof;

(24) not a security whose repayment is subject to substantial non-credit related risk as determined by the Servicer;

(25) not an obligation the interest payments of which are scheduled to decrease (although interest payments may decrease due to unscheduled events such as a decrease of the index relating to a Floating Rate Obligation, the change from a default rate of interest to a non-default rate of interest or an improvement in the obligor's financial condition); and

(26) not an obligation that will cause the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, or the pool of assets to be required to be registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act.

Pursuant to the definition of "Synthetic Security," unless the Rating Condition is otherwise satisfied, any "deliverable obligation" that may be delivered to the Issuer as a result of the occurrence of any "credit event" must qualify (when the Issuer purchases the related Synthetic Security and when such "deliverable obligation" is delivered to the Issuer as a result of the occurrence of any "credit event") as a Collateral Obligation, except that such "deliverable obligation" may constitute a Defaulted Collateral Obligation when delivered upon a "credit event."

"Collateral Quality Tests": The Diversity Test, the Weighted Average Life Test, the Weighted Average Moody's Recovery Rate Test, the Weighted Average S&P Recovery Rate Test, the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test, the Weighted Average Spread Test, the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test and the S&P CDO Monitor Test.

"Collection Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.2(a).

"Commitment Amount": With respect to any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, the maximum aggregate outstanding principal amount (whether then funded or unfunded) of advances or other extensions of credit that the Issuer could be required to make to the borrower under its Underlying Instruments.

"Commitment Reduction": With respect to any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, a permanent reduction (whether scheduled, mandatory, optional, or otherwise) in the related Commitment Amount.

"Concentration Limitations": The limit set forth below with respect to a particular type of Relevant Obligation (measured by Aggregate Principal Balance) as a percentage of the Maximum Amount:

	Percentage of the Maximum Amount
(1) Senior Secured Loans and Eligible Investments	≥ 87.5%
(2) unsecured Loans	≤ 3.0%
(3) Subordinated Lien Loans and Second Lien Loans	≤ 10.0%
(4) Revolving Loans and the unfunded portion of Delayed Drawdown Loans	≤ 12.0%
(5) DIP Loans	≤ 5.0%
(a) except that with a Rating Confirmation, DIP Loans may constitute up to the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	≤ 7.5%
(6) S&P Unrated DIP Loans	≤ 2.5%
(7) PIK Securities	≤ 3.0%
(8) High-Yield Bonds	≤ 7.5%

(9)	Structured Finance Obligations	$\leq 10.0\%$
(a)	except that Structured Finance Obligations serviced by the Servicer may not exceed the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	$\leq 2.5\%$
(b)	except that a single issuer together with any of its Affiliates (excluding Secondary Risk Counterparties) of a Structured Finance Obligation may not exceed the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	$\leq 3.0\%$
(c)	except that Structured Finance Obligations that are (i) collateralized debt obligations primarily backed by other collateralized debt obligations and (ii) collateralized debt obligations primarily backed by one or more credit default swaps (i.e., "Synthetics CDOs") may not exceed the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	$\leq 3.0\%$
(10)	Structured Finance Obligations that are collateralized loan obligations	$\leq 7.5\%$
(11)	obligors Domiciled other than in the United States and Canada	$\leq 20.0\%$
(12)	obligors Domiciled in Canada or any single Moody's Group I Country	$\leq 10.0\%$
(13)	obligors Domiciled in any single Moody's Group II Country	$\leq 5.0\%$
(14)	obligors Domiciled in all Moody's Group II Countries in the aggregate	$\leq 10.0\%$
(15)	obligors Domiciled in any single Moody's Group III Country	$\leq 2.5\%$
(16)	obligors Domiciled in all Moody's Group III Countries in the aggregate	$\leq 5.0\%$
(17)	obligors organized in a Tax Advantaged Jurisdiction	$\leq 5.0\%$
(18)	same S&P Industry Classification	$\leq 8.0\%$
(a)	except that Relevant Obligations belonging to two S&P Industry Classifications may each constitute up to the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	$\leq 12.0\%$
(19)	single obligor and any of its Affiliates (excluding Secondary Risk Counterparties)	$\leq 1.5\%$
(a)	except that up to each of five individual obligors and any of their Affiliates (excluding Secondary Risk Counterparties and any obligor under a DIP Loan) may each constitute up to the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	$\leq 2.5\%$
(20)	Fixed Rate Obligations	$\leq 5.0\%$
(a)	except that with a Rating Confirmation from Moody's, Fixed Rate Obligations may constitute up to the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	$\leq 7.5\%$
(21)	Pay interest less frequently than quarterly but no less frequently than semi-annually	$\leq 7.5\%$
(22)	Pay interest less frequently than semi-annually but no less frequently than annually	$\leq 3.0\%$

(23) Synthetic Securities	≤ 20.0%
(a) except that Synthetic Securities that provide for settlement other than by physical delivery may not exceed the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	≤ 5.0%
(b) except that Synthetic Securities that reference a senior secured index providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a basket of credit default swaps referencing a diversified group of Reference Obligations, with respect to which the principal or notional amount of the credit exposure to any single Reference Obligation does not increase over time may not exceed the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	≤ 5.0%
(24) Participations ( provided that no Relevant Obligations may be a Participation in a Participation)	≤ 20.0%
(25) Relevant Obligations of which are (i) obligors Domiciled other than in the United States, (ii) Collateral Obligations lent under Securities Lending Agreements, (iii) Participations and (iv) Synthetic Securities, in the aggregate may not exceed the percentage of the Maximum Amount specified in the right column	≤ 20.0%
(26) Relevant Obligations of which are (i) obligors Domiciled other than in the United States, (ii) Collateral Obligations lent under Securities Lending Agreements, (iii) Participations and (iv) Synthetic Securities, entered into with, or issued by, a single Secondary Risk Counterparty	≤ respective percentage in Secondary Risk Table under "Individual Counterparty Limit" for applicable rating*
(27) Relevant Obligations of which are (i) obligors Domiciled other than in the United States, (ii) Collateral Obligations lent under Securities Lending Agreements, (iii) Participations and (iv) Synthetic Securities, entered into with, or issued by, all Secondary Risk Counterparties	≤ respective percentage in Secondary Risk Table under "Aggregate Counterparty Limit" for applicable rating
(28) Deep Discount Obligations	≤ 7.5%
(29) CCC+/Caa1 and below Collateral Obligations	≤ 7.5%
(30) Long-Dated Collateral Obligations	≤ 2.0%
(31) Collateral Obligations lent under Securities Lending Agreements	≤ 15.0%
(32) Collateral Obligations providing for interest at a non-London interbank offered rate (excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, the unfunded amount of any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan)	≤ 5.0%
(33) Collateral Obligations that are Loans that are part of a credit facility with a total global aggregate commitment amount of less than $75,000,000	≤ 10.0%

* Applicable long-term unsecured rating by Moody's or S&P of such Secondary Risk Counterparty (using the limit for the lower of such ratings if different).

** Long-term unsecured rating by Moody's or S&P at or below a level specified in the Secondary Risk Table (using the lower of such ratings for a Secondary Risk Counterparty, if different).

Subject to the rights in certain circumstances of the Servicer to determine otherwise as set out in Section 1.2(h), solely for the purpose of determining whether the Concentration Limitations are met, Eligible Investments and Cash will be treated as Senior Secured Loans and Floating Rate Obligations.

"Consenting Holder of the Preference Shares": With respect to any Payment Date, a Holder of Preference Shares that has consented by delivering an irrevocable written notice to the Preference Shares Paying Agent to a distribution of Eligible Equity Securities in lieu of payment of Interest Proceeds on such Payment Date.

"Controlling Class": The Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes (voting together as a Class or group), so long as any Class A-1-A Notes or Class A-1-B Notes are Outstanding; then the Class B Notes (voting together as a Class or group), so long as any Class B Notes are Outstanding; then the Class C Notes (voting together as a Class or group), so long as any Class C Notes are Outstanding; then the Class D Notes (voting together as a Class or group), so long as any Class D Notes are Outstanding; and then the Class E Notes (voting together as a Class or group), so long as any Class E Notes are Outstanding.

"Controlling Person": The meaning specified in Section 2.6(c).

"Corporate Trust Office": The corporate trust office of the Trustee at which the Trustee performs its duties under this Indenture, currently having an address of 200 Clarendon Street, Mail Code: EUC 108, Boston, MA 02116 telecopy no. (617) 351-4358, Attention: CDO Services Group, or any other address the Trustee designates from time to time by notice to the Noteholders, the Servicer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Issuer, and each Rating Agency or the principal corporate trust office of any successor Trustee.

"Coverage Tests": Collectively, the Class A/B Coverage Tests, the Class C Coverage Tests, the Class D Coverage Tests and the Class E Coverage Tests applicable as of any Measurement Date.

"Credit Improved Obligation": Any Collateral Obligation that (a) is sold pursuant to a Portfolio Improvement Exchange or (b) in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, has improved in credit quality; provided that, in forming such judgment, a reduction in credit spread or an increase in Market Value of such Collateral Obligation (whether as described in clauses (ii) or (iii) below or otherwise) may only be utilized as corroboration of other bases for such judgment; and provided, further, that, if a Credit Rating Event is in effect, such Collateral Obligation will be considered a Credit Improved Obligation only if in addition to the above:

- (i) the Collateral Obligation has been upgraded or has been put on credit watch list with the potential for developing positive credit implications by either of the Rating Agencies since the date the Issuer first acquired the Collateral Obligation under this Indenture;
- (ii) such Collateral Obligation has experienced a reduction in credit spread of (A) 0.25% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such decrease) less than or equal to 2.00%, (B) 0.375% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such decrease) greater than 2.00% but less than or equal to 4.00% or (C) 0.50% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such decrease) greater than 4.00%, in each case compared to the credit spread at the time such Collateral Obligation was acquired by the Issuer, determined by reference to an applicable index selected by the Servicer (such index selection subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition with respect to Moody's);
- (iii) (x) in the case of a Loan, the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation has increased by at least 1.00% from the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation as of its date of acquisition, as determined by the Servicer (provided that this subclause (iii)(x) will be deemed satisfied if Market Value increases to 1.01%), or (y) in the case of a Bond, the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation has changed since its date of acquisition by a percentage more positive than the percentage change in the Merrill Lynch US High Yield Master II Index, Bloomberg ticker H0A0, plus 3.00%, over the same period; or

(iv) a Super Majority of the Controlling Class have voted to suspend the limitations on a Collateral Obligation being a Credit Improved Obligation, and for each subsequent downgrade by Moody's after a vote to suspend the limitations pursuant to this clause (iv) has occurred, a Super Majority of the Controlling Class must again vote to suspend the limitations on the Collateral Obligation being a Credit Improved Obligation for this clause (iv) to remain applicable.

A Synthetic Security shall be considered a Credit Improved Obligation if:

- (i) the Synthetic Security itself is a Credit Improved Obligation; or
- (ii) the Reference Obligation of the Synthetic Security would, if it were a Collateral Obligation, be a Credit Improved Obligation.

"Credit Rating Event": An event that is in effect if the rating by Moody's:

- (i) of the Class A-1-A Notes or the Class A-1-B Notes has been withdrawn or is one or more rating sub-categories below its Initial Rating; or
- (ii) of the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes or the Class E Notes has been withdrawn or is two or more rating sub-categories below its respective Initial Rating.

For the purposes of this definition, any withdrawal or reduction in rating shall not be effective if after the withdrawal or reduction Moody's has upgraded the reduced or withdrawn rating to at least the Initial Rating in the case of the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes, or to only one subcategory below their Initial Rating in the case of the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes.

"Credit Risk Obligation": Any Collateral Obligation (other than a Defaulted Collateral Obligation) that, in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, has significantly declined in credit quality and has a significant risk, with a lapse of time, of becoming a Defaulted Collateral Obligation; provided that in forming such judgment, an increase in credit spread or a decrease in Market Value of such Collateral Obligation (whether as described in clauses (ii) or (iii) below or otherwise) may only be utilized as corroboration of other bases for such judgment.

So long as a Credit Rating Event is in effect, no Collateral Obligation shall be eligible to be a Credit Risk Obligation unless in addition to the above, as of the date of determination:

- (i) the Collateral Obligation has been downgraded or has been put on credit watch list with the potential for developing negative credit implications by either of the Rating Agencies since the date the Issuer first acquired the Collateral Obligation under this Indenture;
- (ii) such Collateral Obligation has experienced an increase in credit spread of (A) 0.25% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such increase) less than or equal to 2.00%, (B) 0.375% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such increase) greater than 2.00% but less than or equal to 4.00% or (C) 0.50% or more (on an absolute rather than a relative basis) in the case of a Collateral Obligation with a spread (prior to such increase) greater than 4.00%, in each case compared to the credit spread at the time such Collateral Obligation was acquired by the Issuer, determined by reference to an applicable index selected by the Servicer (such index selection subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition with respect to Moody's);

(iii) (x) in the case of a Loan, the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation has decreased by at least 2.50% from the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation as of its date of acquisition, as determined by the Servicer, and (y) in the case of a Bond, the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation has changed since its date of acquisition by a percentage more negative, or less positive, as the case may be, than the percentage change in the Merrill Lynch US High Yield Master II Index, Bloomberg ticker H0A0, less 3.00%, over the same period; or

(iv) a Super Majority of the Controlling Class have voted to suspend the limitations on a Collateral Obligation being a Credit Risk Obligation set forth in clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) above, and for each subsequent downgrade by Moody's after a vote to suspend the limitations pursuant to this clause (iv) has occurred, a Super Majority of the Controlling Class must again vote to suspend the limitations on the Collateral Obligation being a Credit Risk Obligation for this clause (iv) to remain applicable.

A Synthetic Security shall be considered a Credit Risk Obligation if:

- (a) the Synthetic Security itself is a Credit Risk Obligation; or
- (b) the Reference Obligation of the Synthetic Security would, if it were a Collateral Obligation, be a Credit Risk Obligation.

"Current-Pay Obligation": A Collateral Obligation as to which:

- (i) an Insolvency Event has occurred with respect to its obligor or as to which its obligor is rated "D" or "SD" by S&P or its obligor has previously been rated "CCC-" by S&P and the rating has been withdrawn;
- (ii) no default as to the payment of principal or interest with respect to the Collateral Obligation is then continuing and the Servicer has delivered to the Trustee an Officer's certificate to the effect that the Servicer expects that the obligor will make payments on the Collateral Obligation as they become due;
- (iii) (A) if the rating by Moody's of the Collateral Obligation is at least "Caa1" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) the Market Value of the Collateral Obligation is at least equal to 80% of its Principal Balance or (B) if the rating by Moody's of the Collateral Obligation is less than "Caa1" or is "Caa1" and on credit watch with negative implications, the Market Value of the Collateral Obligation is at least equal to 85% of its Principal Balance;
- (iv) if an Insolvency Event has occurred with respect to the obligor of the Collateral Obligation, a bankruptcy court has authorized all payments of principal and interest payable on the Collateral Obligation; and
- (v) the Servicer has designated in writing to the Trustee the Collateral Obligation as a Current-Pay Obligation.

If the Aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations that would otherwise be Current-Pay Obligations exceeds 5% of the Maximum Amount, all or a portion of one or more Collateral Obligations that would otherwise be Current-Pay Obligations with an Aggregate Principal Balance equal to the amount of the excess shall not be Current-Pay Obligations (and will therefore be Defaulted Collateral Obligations). The Servicer shall designate in writing to the Trustee the Collateral Obligations that shall not be Current-Pay Obligations pursuant to the preceding sentence as the Collateral Obligations (or portions thereof) that have the lowest Market Value on any applicable date of determination.

The Servicer may, with the consent of a Majority of the Controlling Class, by notice to the Issuer, the Trustee, and the Collateral Administrator, change the definition of "Current-Pay Obligation" or how Current-Pay Obligations are treated in this Indenture, subject to the satisfaction of the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency.

"Current Portfolio": At any time, the portfolio (measured by Aggregate Principal Balance) of Collateral Obligations, Principal Proceeds held as Cash on deposit in the Collection Account, and other Eligible Investments purchased with Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account that exists before the sale, maturity, or other disposition of a Collateral Obligation or before the acquisition of a Collateral Obligation, as the case may be.

"Custodial Account": The custodial account established in the name of the Trustee pursuant to Section 10.3(a).

"Custodian": The meaning specified in the first sentence of Section 3.2(a) with respect to items of collateral referred to therein, and each entity with which an Account is maintained, as the context may require, each of which shall be a Securities Intermediary.

"Deep Discount Obligation": Until the average Market Value Percentage of the Collateral Obligation, as determined daily for any period of 30 consecutive days, equals or exceeds 90%, any Collateral Obligation acquired by the Issuer for a Purchase Price less than 85% of its Principal Balance. For such purpose, the Market Value Percentage of a Collateral Obligation on a day that is not a Business Day shall be deemed to be the Market Value Percentage of the Collateral Obligation on the immediately preceding Business Day.

"Default": Any Event of Default or any occurrence that, with notice or the lapse of time or both, would become an Event of Default.

"Defaulted Collateral Obligation": Any Collateral Obligation or other obligation included in the Collateral:

(i) as to which there has occurred and is continuing a default with respect to the payment of interest or principal with respect to such Collateral Obligation, without giving effect to any applicable grace period or waiver (provided that if the Servicer certifies to the Trustee in writing that such default is for non-credit related reasons, the related Collateral Obligation shall not be treated as a Defaulted Collateral Obligation under this clause (i) unless and until such default has continued for a period of three (3) consecutive business days), but, in any case, only until such default has been cured;

(ii) the maturity of all or a portion of the principal amount of such Collateral Obligation has been accelerated as a consequence of a default (other than any payment default) under the instruments evidencing or relating to such Collateral Obligation; unless such default or event of default has been fully cured or waived and is no longer continuing and such acceleration has been rescinded;

(iii) with respect to which there has been effected any distressed exchange or other debt restructuring where the obligor has offered the holders thereof a new security or instrument or package of securities or instruments that, in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, either (x) amounts to a diminished financial obligation or (y) has the sole purpose of enabling the obligor to avoid a default;

(iv) (1) that is pari passu with or subordinated to other indebtedness for borrowed money owing by its obligor ("Other Indebtedness"), (2) the obligor has defaulted in the payment of principal or interest (without regard to any applicable grace or notice period and without regard to any waiver of the default) on the Other Indebtedness, unless, in the case of a failure of the obligor to make required interest payments, the obligor has resumed current Cash payments of interest previously scheduled and unpaid on the Other Indebtedness and has paid in full any accrued interest due and payable thereon, in which case the Collateral Obligation shall cease to be classified as a Defaulted Collateral Obligation and (3) the Servicer, provided that the related Collateral Obligation has not been downgraded after the default on such Other Indebtedness has occurred, determines (in its commercially reasonable judgment) that such Other Indebtedness is material;

(v) (other than a Current-Pay Obligation or a DIP Loan) as to which:

(A) an Insolvency Event has occurred with respect to its obligor,

(B) the obligation is rated "D", "SD", "C" or "CC" by S&P or was so rated immediately prior to such rating being withdrawn, or has previously been rated "CCC-" or lower by S&P and the rating has been withdrawn, or

(C) the obligation is rated "D" by Moody's or was so rated immediately prior to such rating being withdrawn;

(vi) if the Collateral Obligation is a Structured Finance Obligation, it is rated "CC" or below by S&P, or it was rated "CC" or below by S&P but the rating has since been withdrawn, or it is rated "Ca" or below by Moody's, or it was rated "C" or below by Moody's but the rating has since been withdrawn;

(vii) that is a Participation that would, if the underlying Loan were a Collateral Obligation, be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation under any of clauses (i) through (v) above or with respect to which the Participating Institution has defaulted in the performance of any of its payment obligations under the Participation;

(viii) that is a Synthetic Security referencing a Reference Obligation that would, if the Reference Obligation were a Collateral Obligation, be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation under any of clauses (i) through (vi) above or with respect to which the Synthetic Security Counterparty has defaulted in the performance of any of its payment obligations under the Synthetic Security; provided, however, with respect to a Synthetic Security based upon or relating to a senior secured index providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a basket of credit default swaps referencing a diversified group of Reference Obligations, with respect to which the principal or notional amount of the credit exposure to any single Reference Obligation does not increase over time: (x) a determination whether the Reference Obligations upon which such Synthetic Security is based would, if such Reference Obligations were Collateral Obligations, be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation, shall be determined by treating such Synthetic Security as a direct interest of the Issuer in each of the Reference Obligations on which such Synthetic Security is based in an amount equal to the Allocable Principal Balance of such Reference Obligation and (y) the "Defaulted Collateral Obligation" for purposes of this clause (viii) shall be limited to the Allocable Principal Balance of each Reference Obligation that would, if the Reference Obligation were a Collateral Obligation, be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation under any of clauses (i) through (vi) above;

- (ix) that is a Written-Down Obligation;
- (x) that is a DIP Loan as to which an order has been entered converting the debtor's chapter 11 case to a case under chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code; or
- (xi) that is declared to be a Defaulted Collateral Obligation by the Servicer.

Any Collateral Obligation that is classified as a Defaulted Collateral Obligation shall cease to be so classified if the Collateral Obligation, at any date thereafter,

- (1) would not otherwise be classified as a Defaulted Collateral Obligation in accordance with this definition; and
- (2) otherwise meets the Eligibility Criteria as of that date.

If any portion of a Collateral Obligation has a maturity later than one year after the Stated Maturity of the Notes due to a change in the payment schedule of the Collateral Obligation occurring after its acquisition by the Issuer, that portion of the Collateral Obligation shall be considered a Defaulted Collateral Obligation.

"Defaulted Hedge Termination Payment": Any termination payment required to be made by the Issuer to a Hedge Counterparty pursuant to a Hedge Agreement upon a termination of the Hedge Agreement in respect of which the Hedge Counterparty is the sole Defaulting Party or Affected Party (each as defined in the Hedge Agreements).

"Defaulted Interest": Any interest payable in respect of any Class of Notes that is not punctually paid or duly provided for on the applicable Payment Date or at Stated Maturity.

"Defaulted Interest Charge": To the extent lawful, interest on any Defaulted Interest at the Default Interest Rate.

"Default Interest Rate": With respect to any specified Class of Notes, the per annum interest rate equal to the Note Interest Rate payable on the Notes of the Class.

"Deferred Interest": With respect to any specified Class of Deferred Interest Notes, the meaning specified in Section 2.8(a).

"Deferred Interest Notes": The Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes.

"Deficiency Amount": The meaning specified in Section 16.3(a).

"Deficiency Notice Date": The meaning specified in Section 16.3(a).

"Definitive Notes": The meaning specified in Section 2.11(b).

"Delayed Drawdown Loan": A Loan or any Synthetic Security with a Reference Obligation that

- (i) requires the Issuer to make one or more future advances to the borrower under its Underlying Instruments,

(ii) specifies a maximum amount that can be borrowed on one or more fixed borrowing dates, and

(iii) does not permit the re-borrowing of any amount previously repaid.

A Loan or Synthetic Security shall only be considered to be a Delayed Drawdown Loan for so long as its unused commitment amount is greater than zero and for purposes of the Concentration Limitations only unfunded portions will count as Delayed Drawdown Loans.

"Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.3(b).

"Deliver" or "Delivered" or "Delivery": The taking of the following steps:

(i) in the case of each Certificated Security (UCC) (other than a Clearing Corporation Security) or Instrument,

(A) causing the delivery of such Certificated Security (UCC) or Instrument to the Custodian registered in the name of the Custodian or endorsed, by an effective endorsement, to the Custodian or in blank,

(B) causing the Custodian to continuously indicate on its books and records that such Certificated Security (UCC) or Instrument is credited to the applicable Account, and

(C) causing the Custodian to maintain continuous possession of such Certificated Security (UCC) or Instrument;

(ii) in the case of each Uncertificated Security (other than a Clearing Corporation Security),

(A) causing such Uncertificated Security to be continuously registered on the books of the issuer thereof to the Custodian, and

(B) causing the Custodian to continuously indicate on its books and records that such Uncertificated Security is credited to the applicable Account;

(iii) in the case of each Clearing Corporation Security,

(A) causing the relevant Clearing Corporation to credit such Clearing Corporation Security to the securities account of the Custodian, and

(B) causing the Custodian to continuously indicate by on its books and records that such Clearing Corporation Security is credited to the applicable Account;

(iv) in the case of each security issued or guaranteed by the United States of America or agency or instrumentality thereof and that is maintained in book-entry records of a Federal Reserve Bank ("FRB") (each such security, a "Government Security"),

(A) causing the creation of a Security Entitlement to such Government Security by the credit of such Government Security to the securities account of the Custodian at such FRB, and

(B) causing the Custodian to continuously indicate on its books and records that such Government Security is credited to the applicable Account;

(v) in the case of each Security Entitlement not governed by clauses (i) through (iv) above,

(A) causing a Securities Intermediary (x) to indicate on its books and records that the underlying Financial Asset has been credited to be the Custodian's securities account, (y) to receive a Financial Asset from a Securities Intermediary or acquiring the underlying Financial Asset for a Securities Intermediary, and in either case, accepting it for credit to the Custodian's securities account or (z) to become obligated under other law, regulation or rule to credit the underlying Financial Asset to a Security Intermediary's securities account,

(B) causing such Securities Intermediary to make entries on its books and records continuously identifying such Security Entitlement as belonging to the Custodian and continuously indicating on its books and records that such Security Entitlement is credited to the Custodian's securities account, and

(C) causing the Custodian to continuously indicate on its books and records that such Security Entitlement (or all rights and property of the Custodian representing such Security Entitlement) is credited to the applicable Account;

(vi) in the case of cash or money,

(A) causing the delivery of such cash or money to the Custodian,

(B) causing the Custodian to treat such cash or money as a Financial Asset maintained by such Custodian for credit to the applicable Account in accordance with the provisions of Article 8 of the UCC, and

(C) causing the Custodian to continuously indicate on its books and records that such cash or money is credited to the applicable Account; and

(vii) in the case of each general intangible (including any Participation in which the Participation is not represented by an Instrument),

(A) causing the filing of a Financing Statement in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia, Washington, DC, and in addition, the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer will obtain any and all consents required by the underlying agreements relating to any such general intangibles for the transfer of ownership to the Issuer and the pledge hereunder (except to the extent that the requirement for such consent is rendered ineffective under Section 9-406 of the UCC).

(B) causing the registration of this Indenture in the Register of Mortgages of the Issuer at the Issuer's registered office in the Cayman Islands;

In addition to the methods specified above, any Collateral may be delivered in accordance with any other method specified in an Opinion of Counsel delivered to the Trustee as sufficient to establish a first priority perfected security (subject to customary exceptions and qualifications) interest therein.

"Depository" or "DTC": The Depository Trust Company and its nominees.

"Determination Date": The last day of any Due Period.

"DIP Loan": Any Loan:

(i) that has a rating assigned by Moody's (or if the Loan does not have a rating assigned by Moody's, the Servicer has commenced the process of having a rating assigned by Moody's within five Business Days of the date the Loan is acquired by the Issuer) and a rating assigned by S&P (or if the Loan does not have a rating assigned by S&P, the Servicer has commenced the process of having a rating assigned by S&P within two Business Days of the date the Loan is acquired by the Issuer);

(ii) that is an obligation of a debtor in possession as described in Section 1107 of the Bankruptcy Code or a trustee (if appointment of a trustee has been ordered pursuant to Section 1104 of the Bankruptcy Code) (a "Debtor") organized under the laws of the United States or any state of the United States; and

(iii) the terms of which have been approved by a final order of the United States Bankruptcy Court, United States District Court, or any other court of competent jurisdiction, the enforceability of which order is not subject to any pending contested matter or proceeding (as those terms are defined in the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure) and which order provides that:

(A) the Loan is secured by liens on the Debtor's otherwise unencumbered assets pursuant to Section 364(c)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code;

(B) the Loan is secured by liens of equal or senior priority on property of the Debtor's estate that is otherwise subject to a lien pursuant to Section 364(d) of the Bankruptcy Code;

(C) the Loan is fully secured (based on a current valuation or appraisal report) by junior liens on the Debtor's encumbered assets; or

(D) if any portion of the Loan is unsecured, the repayment of the Loan retains priority over all other administrative expenses pursuant to Section 364(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code (and in the case of this clause (D), before the acquisition of the Loan, the Rating Condition is satisfied with respect to each Rating Agency).

"Discount Note": Any Note that is treated as being issued with "original issue discount" within the meaning of Section 1271 through 1275 of the Code and Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder.

"Diversity Score": A single number that indicates collateral concentration in terms of both issuer and industry concentration, calculated as set forth in Schedule 4 to this Indenture.

"Diversity Test": A test that will be satisfied as of any Measurement Date if the Diversity Score equals or exceeds the Minimum Diversity Score. For the purposes of calculating the Diversity Test, any Structured Finance Obligation that is (i) a collateralized loan obligation, (ii) any Synthetic Security with respect to which the Reference Obligation is a collateralized loan obligation or (iii) any Synthetic Security based upon or relating to a senior secured index providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a basket of credit default swaps referencing a diversified group of Reference Obligations, with respect to which the principal or notional amount of the credit exposure to any single Reference Obligation does not increase over time will be disregarded.

"Dollar" or "U.S. Dollar" or "U.S.$": A dollar or other equivalent unit in such coin or currency of the United States of America as at the time shall be legal tender for all debts, public and private.

"Domicile" or "Domiciled": With respect to each Collateral Obligation, (i) the jurisdiction of incorporation, organization or creation of the related obligor or (ii) in the case of a Collateral Obligation that would otherwise be considered to be domiciled pursuant to clause (i) in a Tax Advantaged Jurisdiction, the jurisdiction in which, in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, the related obligor conducts substantially all of its business operations and in which the assets primarily responsible for generating its revenues are located.

"Due Date": Each date on which any payment is due on a Pledged Obligation in accordance with its terms.

"Due Period": With respect to any Payment Date, for all purposes other than payments and receipts under Hedge Agreements, the period from the Business Day after the eighth Business Day before the previous Payment Date (or in the case of the first Payment Date, from the Closing Date) up to but excluding the Business Day after the eighth Business Day before the Payment Date (or in the case of the final Payment Date or any Payment Date that is a Redemption Date, through the Business Day before the Payment Date and for payments and receipts under Hedge Agreements the period from the day after the previous Payment Date (or in the case of the first Payment Date from the Closing Date) through the Payment Date).

"Eligibility Criteria": The meaning specified in Section 12.2(b).

"Eligible Collateral": (i) Cash, (ii) U.S. Treasury obligations, (iii) U.S. agency obligations or (iv) commercial paper obligations rated at least "P-1" by Moody's (and not on watch for downgrade) and "A-1+" by S&P, in each case to collateralize fully on a mark-to-market basis the obligations of a Hedge Counterparty under the related Hedge Agreement.

"Eligible Country": The United States, Canada and any country classified by Moody's as a Moody's Group I Country, Moody's Group II Country or Moody's Group III Country and, in each case, has an S&P foreign currency rating of at least "AA" and a Moody's foreign currency rating of at least "Aa2".

"Eligible Equity Security": An equity security acquired in connection with the workout or restructuring of any Collateral Obligation by, or on behalf of, the Issuer that (i) is publicly traded on an Established Securities Market or (ii) the Market Value of which is higher than the Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligation with respect to which such equity security has been acquired by the Issuer.

"Eligible Investments": Any Dollar-denominated obligation or asset that, when it is pledged by the Issuer to the Trustee under this Indenture, is one or more of the following:

- (a) Cash;
- (b) direct Registered obligations of, and Registered obligations the timely payment of principal and interest on which is fully and expressly guaranteed by, the United States or any agency or instrumentality of the United States the obligations of which are expressly backed by the full faith and credit of the United States, which in each case are not zero coupon securities;

(c) demand and time deposits in, trust accounts, certificates of deposit payable within 91 days of issuance of, bankers' acceptances payable within 91 days of issuance issued by, or Federal funds sold by any depository institution or trust company incorporated under the laws of the United States or any state thereof and subject to supervision and examination by Federal and/or state banking authorities so long as the commercial paper and/or the debt obligations of such depository institution or trust company (or, in the case of the principal depository institution in a holding company system, the commercial paper or debt obligations of such holding company), at the time of such acquisition or contractual commitment providing for such acquisition and throughout the term thereof, have a credit rating of not less than "Aaa" by Moody's and "AAA" by S&P and in each case are not on watch for downgrade, or "P-1" by Moody's and "A-1+" by S&P in the case of commercial paper and short-term debt obligations; provided that in any case, the issuer thereof must have at the time of such acquisition a long-term credit rating of not less than "AA-" by S&P and "Aa3" by Moody's and a short-term rating of "A-1+" by S&P and "P-1" by Moody's, and if so rated, is not on watch for downgrade;

(d) commercial paper or other short-term obligations with a maturity of not more than 183 days from the date of issuance and having at the time of such acquisition a credit rating of at least "P-1" by Moody's and "A-1+" by S&P; provided that, in any case, the issuer thereof must have at the time of such acquisition a long-term credit rating of not less than "Aa2" by Moody's and "AA-" by S&P, and if so rated, such rating is not on watch for downgrade;

(e) unleveraged repurchase obligations with respect to any security described in clause (b) above entered into with a U.S. federal or state depository institution or trust company (acting as principal) described in clause (c) above or entered into with a corporation (acting as principal) whose long-term credit rating is not less than "Aaa" by Moody's and "AAA" by S&P and in each case are not on watch for downgrade or whose short-term credit rating is "P-1" by Moody's and "A-1+" by S&P at the time of such acquisition and throughout the term thereof; provided that, if such repurchase obligation has a maturity of longer than 91 days, the counterparty thereto must also have at the time of such acquisition and throughout the term thereof a long-term credit rating of not less than "Aa2" by Moody's and "AAA" by S&P, and if so rated, such rating is not on watch for downgrade;

(f) any money market fund or similar vehicle having at the time of acquisition and throughout the term thereof a credit rating of "MR1+" by Moody's and "AAA" by S&P; including any fund for which the Trustee or an Affiliate of the Trustee serves as an investment adviser, administrator, shareholder servicing agent, custodian or subcustodian, notwithstanding that (A) the Trustee or an Affiliate of the Trustee charges and collects fees and expenses from such funds for services rendered (provided that such charges, fees and expenses are on terms consistent with terms negotiated at arm's length) and (B) the Trustee charges and collects fees and expenses for services rendered, pursuant to this Indenture;

(g) a guaranteed reinvestment agreement from a bank (if treated as a deposit by such bank), insurance company or other corporation or entity organized under the laws of the United States or any state thereof (if treated as debt by such insurance company or other corporation or entity), providing for periodic payments thereunder during each Due Period; provided that each such agreement provides that it is terminable by the purchaser, without premium or penalty, in the event that the rating assigned to such agreement by either Moody's or S&P is at any time lower than the then current ratings assigned to the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes or the Class E Notes; provided, further, that, at the time of acquisition and throughout the term thereof, the issuer of such agreement has a senior unsecured long-term debt rating, issuer rating or counterparty rating of at least "Aaa" by Moody's, a short-term debt rating of "P-1" by Moody's (and not on watch for downgrade), a short-term debt rating of at least "A-1+" by S&P and a long-term debt rating of at least "AAA" by S&P (and not on watch for downgrade); and

(h) such other obligations or assets for which Rating Confirmation has been received; and, in each case, with a stated maturity (giving effect to any applicable grace period) no later than the Business Day before the Payment Date next succeeding the date of acquisition.

Eligible Investments on deposit in the Revolving Reserve Account, the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, or the Synthetic Security Collateral Account must have a stated maturity no later than one Business Day after the date of their purchase.

Eligible Investments may not include:

- (1) any interest-only security, any security purchased at a price in excess of 100% of its par value, any mortgage-backed security or any security whose repayment is subject to substantial non-credit related risk as determined in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer;
- (2) any security whose rating assigned by S&P includes the subscript "r", "t", "p", "pi" or "q";
- (3) any floating rate security whose interest rate is inversely or otherwise not proportionately related to an interest rate index or is calculated as other than the sum of an interest rate index plus a spread (which spread may be zero);
- (4) any security that is subject to an exchange or tender offer; or
- (5) any security that has payments subject to foreign or United States withholding tax.

Eligible Investments may include Eligible Investments for which the Trustee or an Affiliate of the Trustee is the issuer or depository institution or provides services. Eligible Investments may not include obligations principally secured by real property.

"Emerging Market Security": A security or obligation issued by a sovereign or non-sovereign issuer located in a country (excluding the Cayman Islands, Bermuda, the British Virgin Islands, the Netherlands Antilles, and the Channel Islands):

- (i) that is in Latin America, Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe, or the Caribbean, or
- (ii) the long-term foreign currency debt obligations of which are rated below "Aa2" or "Aa2" and on credit watch with negative implications by Moody's or the foreign currency issuer credit rating of which is below "AA" by S&P.

"ERISA": The United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended.

"Established Securities Market": Any national securities exchange registered under Section 6 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or exempted from registration because of the limited volume of transaction; any foreign securities exchange that, under the laws of the jurisdiction where it is organized, satisfies regulatory requirements that are analogous to the regulatory requirements imposed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934; any regional or local exchange; and any interdealer quotation system that regularly disseminates firm buy or sell quotations by identified brokers or dealers, by electronic means or otherwise.

"Extended Weighted Average Life Date": If a Maturity Extension has occurred, the sixteenth Payment Date after the then current Extended Weighted Average Life Date (or, in the case of the first Extended Weighted Average Life Date, August 1, 2021); provided that the "Extended Weighted Average Life Date" will in no event be a date later than the Payment Date in August, 2033.

"Extension": An extension of the Replacement Period, the Stated Maturity of the Notes and the Weighted Average Life Test pursuant to Section 2.4.

"Extension Bonus Payment": With respect to each Maturity Extension, a single payment to each applicable beneficial owner set forth in Section 2.4(g), in an amount equal to (1) in the case of the Class A-1-A Notes, 0.25% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof held by such beneficial owner as of the applicable Extension Effective Date, (2) in the case of the Class A-1-B Notes 0.25% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof held by such beneficial owner as of the applicable Extension Effective Date, (3) in the case of the Class B Notes 0.25% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof held by such beneficial owner as of the applicable Extension Effective Date, (4) in the case of the Class C Notes, 0.25% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof held by such beneficial owner as of the applicable Extension Effective Date, (5) in the case of the Class D Notes, 0.25% of the Aggregate Outstanding amount thereof held by such beneficial owner as of the applicable Extension Effective Date and (6) in the case of the Class E Notes, 0.25% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof held by such beneficial owner as of the applicable Extension Effective Date.

"Extension Bonus Eligibility Certification": With respect to each Maturity Extension and each beneficial owner of Notes other than Extension Sale Securities, the written certification by such beneficial owner acceptable to the Issuer to the effect that it held Notes other than Extension Sale Securities on the applicable Extension Effective Date, including the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof in the case of the Notes and wire transfer instructions for the Extension Bonus Payment and any required documentation thereunder.

"Extension Conditions": The meaning specified in Section 2.4.

"Extension Determination Date": The 8th Business Day prior to each Extension Effective Date.

"Extension Effective Date": If an Extension has occurred, the sixteenth Payment Date after the then current Extension Effective Date (or, in the case of the first Extension Effective Date, the Payment Date in May 2012).

"Extension Notice": The meaning specified in Section 2.4.

"Extension Purchase Price": The purchase price payable by the Extension Qualifying Purchasers for Extension Sale Securities in connection with each Maturity Extension, if any, in an amount equal to (i) in the case of the Notes, the Aggregate Outstanding Amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest (including Deferred Interest, if any) as of the applicable Extension Effective Date (giving effect to any amounts paid to the Holder on such date), and (ii) in the case of the Preference Shares, an amount that, when taken together with all payments and distributions made in respect of such Preference Shares since the Closing Date would cause such Preference Shares to have received (as of the date of purchase thereof) a Preference Share Internal Rate of Return of 12.0% (assuming such purchase date was a Payment Date); provided, however, that if the applicable Extension Effective Date is on or after the date on which such Holders have received a Preference Share Internal Rate of Return equal to or in excess of 12.0%, the applicable Extension Purchase Price for such Preference Shares shall be zero.

"Extension Qualifying Purchasers": The Servicer (or any of its Affiliates acting as principal or agent); provided that in the event that the Servicer elects not to purchase Extension Sale Securities from Holders pursuant to the Extension Conditions set forth in Section 2.4(c), "Extension Qualifying Purchasers" shall mean one or more qualifying purchasers (which may include the Initial Purchasers or any of their Affiliates acting as principal or agent) designated by the Servicer; provided, however, none of the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers or any of their respective Affiliates shall have any duty to act as an Extension Qualifying Purchaser.

"Extension Sale Notice": The meaning specified in Section 2.4.

"Extension Sale Notice Period": The meaning specified in Section 2.4.

"Extension Sale Securities": The meaning specified in Section 2.4.

"Face Amount": With respect to any Preference Share, the amount set forth therein as the "face amount" thereof, which "face amount" shall be $1,000 per Preference Share.

"Finance Lease": A lease agreement or other agreement entered into in connection with and evidencing a Leasing Finance Transaction.

"Financial Asset": The meaning specified in Section 8-102(a)(9) of the UCC.

"Financing Statements": Financing statements relating to the Collateral naming the Issuer as debtor and the Trustee on behalf of the Secured Parties as secured party.

"Fixed Amount": With respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser and each applicable Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Period, the product of (i) the applicable Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Amount with respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser, (ii) the applicable Fixed Rate with respect to the CDS/TRS

Purchaser and (iii) a fraction the numerator of which is the actual number of days in such Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Period and the denominator of which is 360.

"Fixed Rate": With respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser, the spread over LIBOR of the applicable Note Interest Rate for the Class of Notes held by the CDS/TRS Purchaser with respect to which the CDS/TRS Purchaser has entered into a credit default swap or a total return swap, as the case may be.

"Fixed Rate Excess": As of any Measurement Date, a fraction whose numerator is the product of:

- (i) the greater of zero and the excess of the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon for the Measurement Date over the minimum percentage specified to pass the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test; and
- (ii) the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Fixed Rate Obligations (excluding any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations) held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date, and whose denominator is the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Floating Rate Obligations (excluding any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations) held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date.

In computing the Fixed Rate Excess on any Measurement Date, the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon for the Measurement Date will be computed as if the Spread Excess were equal to zero.

"Fixed Rate Obligation": Any Collateral Obligation that bears interest at a fixed rate.

"Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Amount": With respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser for purposes of calculating the applicable CDS/TRS Termination Payment Amount, the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Notes held by the CDS/TRS Purchaser as of the date of purchase of such Notes in an Amendment Buy-Out (in each case, after giving effect to any principal amounts paid to the CDS/TRS Purchaser on such date).

"Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Period": With respect to the CDS/TRS Purchaser for purposes of calculating the applicable CDS/TRS Termination Payment Amount, initially, the period from and including the date of purchase of such Notes in an Amendment Buy-Out to but excluding the immediately succeeding Payment Date, and, thereafter, each successive period from and including each Payment Date to but excluding the following Payment Date; provided that the last Fixed Rate Payor Calculation Period shall end on the May 2011 Payment Date.

"Floating Rate Notes": The Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes.

"Floating Rate Obligation": Any Collateral Obligation that bears interest based on a floating rate index.

"Form-Approved Synthetic Security": A Synthetic Security:

- (i) (A) each of the Reference Obligations of which satisfy the definition of "Collateral Obligation" and could be purchased by the Issuer without any required action by the Rating Agencies, without satisfaction of the Rating Condition or which the Rating Agencies have otherwise approved; or
- (B) each of the Reference Obligations of which would satisfy clause (A) above but for the currency in which the Reference Obligation is payable and the Synthetic Security is payable in Dollars, does not provide for physical settlement, and does not expose the Issuer to Dollar currency risk;
- (ii) the Synthetic Security Agreement of which conforms (but for the amount and timing of periodic payments, the name of the Reference Obligation, the notional amount, the effective date, the termination date, and other similar necessary changes) to a form that has been expressly identified and approved in writing in connection with a request under this Indenture by Moody's and S&P;
- (iii) a copy of the Synthetic Security Agreement of which has been delivered to the Holders of the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes by the Trustee at the expense of the Co-Issuers and upon being furnished with a copy of the same by the Servicer; and
- (iv) that is with a counterparty with respect to which the Rating Condition has been satisfied by each of Moody's and S&P prior to the acquisition of any such Form-Approved Synthetic Security, and such approval has not been withdrawn.

Moody's or S&P may at any time, by notice to the Servicer, withdraw its approval of any such form. A withdrawal of approval shall have no effect on any Synthetic Security acquired, entered into, or committed to before the date on which the Servicer receives the notice of withdrawal.

"FSA": The meaning specified in Section 14.3(d).

"Funded Amount": With respect to any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan at any time, the aggregate principal amount of advances or other extensions of credit made thereunder by the Issuer that are outstanding and have not been repaid at such time.

"GAAP": The meaning specified in Section 6.3(j).

"Global Notes": Any Regulation S Global Notes or Rule 144A Global Notes.

"Grant": To grant, bargain, sell, warrant, alienate, remise, demise, release, convey, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, create, and grant a security interest in and right of setoff against, deposit, set over, and confirm. A Grant of the Pledged Obligations, or of any other instrument, shall include all rights, powers, and options of the granting party thereunder, including the immediate continuing right to claim for, collect, receive, and receipt for principal and interest payments in respect of the Pledged Obligations, and all other monies payable thereunder, to give and receive notices and other communications, to make waivers or other agreements, to exercise all rights and options, to bring Proceedings in the name of the granting party or otherwise, and generally to do and receive anything that the granting party is or may be entitled to do or receive thereunder or with respect thereto.

"Hedge Agreements": Collectively, all interest rate cap or interest rate swap agreements between the Issuer and any Hedge Counterparty, and any replacement agreement entered into pursuant to Section 15.2.

"Hedge Counterparty": Any counterparty, to the extent that when the Issuer enters into any Hedge Agreement with such counterparty, such counterparty satisfies the requirements of Section 15.2(b) (subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition for each Rating Agency).

"Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.3(d).

"Hedge Termination Receipt": Any termination payment paid by the Hedge Counterparty to the Issuer upon any early termination of a Hedge Agreement with respect to which the Hedge Counterparty is the sole Defaulting Party or Affected Party (each as defined in the Hedge Agreements).

"HFP": Highland Financial Partners, L.P., an Affiliate of the Servicer.

"High-Yield Bond": Any debt security, other than a Loan or a Structured Finance Obligation, that is either Registered or, if not Registered, (i) it is issued by an obligor that is not resident in the United States, (ii) the payments on it are not subject to United States withholding tax and (iii) it is held through a financial institution pursuant to the procedures described in Treasury Regulation section 1.165-12(c)(3).

"Holder": Of any Note, the person whose name appears on the Indenture Register as the registered holder of the Note; and of any Preference Share, the person whose name appears in the Preference Share register related thereto as the registered holder of such Preference Share.

"Important Section 3(c)(7) Reminder Notice": A notice substantially in the form of Exhibit G-2.

"Indenture": This instrument as originally executed and, if from time to time supplemented or amended by one or more indentures supplemental to this Indenture entered into pursuant to this Indenture, as so supplemented or amended.

"Indenture Register": The meaning specified in Section 2.6(a).

"Indenture Registrar": The meaning specified in Section 2.6(a).

"Independent": As to any person, any other person (including, in the case of an accountant or lawyer, a firm of accountants or lawyers, and any member of the firm, or an investment bank and any member of the bank) who

(i) does not have and is not committed to acquire any material direct or any material indirect financial interest in the person or in any Affiliate of the person, and

(ii) is not connected with the person as an Officer, employee, promoter, underwriter, voting trustee, partner, director, or person performing similar functions.

"Independent" when used with respect to any accountant may include an accountant who audits the books of the person if in addition to satisfying the criteria above the accountant is independent with respect to the person within the meaning of Rule 101 of the Code of Ethics of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Whenever any Independent person's opinion or certificate is to be furnished to the Trustee, the opinion or certificate shall state that the signer has read this definition and that the signer is Independent within the meaning of this Indenture.

"Initial Consent Period": The period of 15 Business Days from but excluding the date on which the Trustee mailed notice of a proposed supplemental indenture pursuant to Section 8.2(b) to the Holders of Securities.

"Initial Purchasers": Lehman Brothers Inc. and Lehman Brothers International (Europe).

"Initial Rating": The ratings by Moody's and S&P with respect to each Class of Notes provided in the table in Section 2.3(a).

"Insolvency Event": With respect to any person, means that:

(i) an involuntary proceeding shall be commenced or an involuntary petition shall be filed seeking:

(A) liquidation, reorganization, or other relief in respect of the person or its debts, or of all or substantially all of its assets, under any bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership, or similar law now or hereafter in effect, or

(B) the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian, sequestrator, conservator, or similar official for the person or for all or substantially all of its assets, and, in any such case, the proceeding or petition shall continue undismissed for 30 days; or an order or decree approving or ordering any of the foregoing shall be entered, or

(ii) the person shall:

(A) voluntarily commence any proceeding or file any petition seeking liquidation, reorganization, or other relief under any bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership, or similar law now or hereafter in effect,

(B) consent to the institution of, or fail to contest in a timely and appropriate manner, any proceeding or petition described in clause (i) above,

(C) apply for or consent to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, custodian, sequestrator, or conservator or for all or substantially all of its assets,

(D) file an answer admitting the material allegations of a petition filed against it in any such proceeding, or

(E) make a general assignment for the benefit of creditors.

"Insolvency Proceeding": The meaning specified in Section 16.4(b).

"Institutional Accredited Investor": An institutional accredited investor as defined in clause (1), (2), (3) or (7) of Rule 501(a) under Regulation D under the Securities Act.

"Instrument": The meaning specified in Section 9-102(a)(47) of the UCC.

"Interest Coverage Ratio": With respect to any specified Class of Notes on any Measurement Date, the ratio calculated by dividing:

- (i) the sum of:
  - (A) the Interest Proceeds received or scheduled to be received with respect to the Due Period in which the Measurement Date occurs, minus
  - (B) amounts payable under clauses (1), (2), (3) and (4) of Section 11.1(a)(i) on the related Payment Date, by:
- (ii) all accrued and unpaid interest on the specified Class of Notes and all Notes ranking senior to the Class, including any Deferred Interest on the related Payment Date.

For purposes of the Interest Coverage Ratio, only the amount of any interest payment (including any "gross up" payment) on any Collateral Obligation in excess of any withholding tax or other deductions on account of tax of any jurisdiction on any date of determination shall be included in Interest Proceeds.

"Interest Coverage Test": A test the first Measurement Date for which will be on the second Payment Date and that is satisfied with respect to any specified Class of Notes if, as of the second Payment Date and any Measurement Date thereafter on which any Notes remain Outstanding, the Interest Coverage Ratio equals or exceeds the applicable required level in the table below for the specified Class:

Test	Required Level
Class A/B Interest Coverage Test	120.0%
Class C Interest Coverage Test	110.0%
Class D Interest Coverage Test	106.0%
Class E Interest Coverage Test	105.0%

"Interest Period": Initially, the period from and including the Closing Date to but excluding the first Payment Date, and, thereafter, each successive period from and including each Payment Date to but excluding the following Payment Date.

"Interest Proceeds": With respect to any Due Period, the sum (without duplication) of all amounts received in Cash during the Due Period (or as otherwise specified below) by the Issuer with respect to the Collateral that are:

- (i) payments of interest, fees, and commissions (excluding (A) Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal, (B) interest and dividends on Workout Assets, (C) fees and commissions from Defaulted Collateral Obligations, and (D) syndication and other up-front fees and any up-front fixed payments received in connection with entering into a Synthetic Security);
- (ii) any portion of the Sale Proceeds of a Collateral Obligation (other than a Defaulted Collateral Obligation) representing Accrued Interest On Sale;
- (iii) all payments of principal on, or disposition proceeds from the sale of, Eligible Investments to the extent purchased with Interest Proceeds;

(iv) payments with respect to the Hedge Agreements received on or before the related Payment Date (other than any amount payable thereunder because of any early termination or notional amount reduction), but not any Sale Proceeds from any of these instruments (except to the extent that they were purchased with Interest Proceeds);

(v) all fees received pursuant to any Securities Lending Agreements;

(vi) amounts in the Collection Account designated for distribution as Interest Proceeds pursuant to the Priority of Payments (including any amount transferred from the Interest Reserve Account);

(vii) all earnings on amounts in the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account and the Revolving Reserve Account deposited to the Collection Account in accordance with Section 10.3(b);

(viii) amounts in the Expense Reimbursement Account on the Payment Date for the relevant Due Period; and

(ix) any recoveries (including interest) received on a Defaulted Collateral Obligation in excess of the principal balance of such Defaulted Collateral Obligation (as of the date the related Collateral Obligation became a Defaulted Collateral Obligation and excluding from such principal balance any deferred interest on Defaulted Collateral Obligations that are PIK Securities).

Interest Proceeds shall not include the Excluded Property and Interest Proceeds shall not include earnings on amounts on deposit in the Securities Lending Account to the extent the earnings are payable by the Issuer to a Securities Lending Counterparty.

Each reference in the definition of "Interest Proceeds" to a Collateral Obligation shall include a Collateral Obligation that has been loaned pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement and Interest Proceeds shall include any amounts referred to in clauses (i) through (iii) above received by the Issuer in respect of the Collateral Obligation indirectly from the related Securities Lending Counterparty pursuant to the Securities Lending Agreement.

With respect to any Payment Date, Interest Proceeds in an amount equal to the Interest Proceeds due and payable on such Payment Date to the Consenting Holders of the Preference Shares with respect to such Payment Date that are distributed to such Holders by way of Eligible Equity Securities in lieu of Cash pursuant to Section 11.1(a)(i) will be treated for all purposes by the Issuer and the Servicer as Principal Proceeds.

"Interest Reserve Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.3(i).

"Investment Company Act": The United States Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

"Irish Paying Agent": The meaning specified in Section 7.2.

"Issuer": The Person named as such on the first page of this Indenture.

"Issuer Accounts": The meaning assigned in the Granting Clauses.

"Issuer Order" and "Issuer Request": A written order or request dated and signed in the name of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer by an Authorized Officer of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, as applicable, or by the Servicer by an Authorized Officer of the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer.

"Issuer Ordinary Shares": The ordinary shares, par value $1.00 per share, of the Issuer which have been issued by the Issuer and are outstanding from time to time.

"Junior Class": With respect to a particular Class of Notes, each Class of Notes that is subordinated to that Class, as indicated in Section 13.1.

"Leasing Finance Transaction": Any transaction pursuant to which the obligations of the lessee to pay rent or other amounts on a triple net basis under any lease of (or other arrangement conveying the right to use) real or personal property, or a combination thereof, are required to be classified and accounted for as a capital lease on a balance sheet of such lessee under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America; but only if (a) such lease or other transaction provides for the unconditional obligation of the lessee to pay a stated amount of principal no later than a stated maturity date, together with interest thereon, and the payment of such obligation is not subject to any material non-credit related risk as determined by the Servicer, (b) the obligations of the lessee in respect of such lease or other transaction are fully secured, directly or indirectly, by the property that is the subject of such lease and (c) the interest held by the Issuer in respect of such lease or other transaction is treated as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

"LIBOR": The offered rate, as determined by the Calculation Agent for any Interest Period, for three month Dollar deposits that appears on Reuters Screen LIBOR01 Page as reported on Bloomberg Financial Markets Commodities News (or a page that replaces Reuters Screen LIBOR01 Page for the purpose of displaying comparable rates), as of 11:00 A.M. (London time) on the second Business Day before the first day of the relevant Interest Period.

If, on the second Business Day before the first day of any relevant Interest Period, that rate does not appear on Reuters Screen LIBOR01 Page as reported on Bloomberg Financial Market Commodities News (or a page that replaces Reuters Screen LIBOR01 Page for the purpose of displaying comparable rates), the Calculation Agent shall determine the arithmetic mean of the offered quotations of the Reference Banks to prime banks in the London interbank market for three month Dollar deposits in Europe, by reference to requests by the Calculation Agent to four major banks in the London interbank market selected by the Calculation Agent (after consultation with the Servicer) (the "Reference Banks") for quotations as of approximately 11:00 A.M. (London time) on the second Business Day before the first day of the Interest Period. If at least two of the Reference Banks provide quotations as requested, LIBOR shall equal such arithmetic mean. If fewer than two Reference Banks provide quotations, LIBOR shall be the arithmetic mean of the offered quotations that one or more leading banks in New York City selected by the Calculation Agent (after consultation with the Servicer) are quoting to the principal London offices of leading banks in the London interbank market on the second Business Day before the first day of the relevant Interest Period for three month Dollar deposits.

If the Calculation Agent is unable to determine a rate in accordance with any of the above procedures, LIBOR for the Interest Period shall be calculated on the last day of the Interest Period and shall be the arithmetic mean of the rate of interest for each day during the Interest Period determined by the Calculation Agent as being the rate of interest most recently announced by the Bank at its New York office as its base rate, prime rate, reference rate, or similar rate for Dollar loans (or if the Bank ceases to exist or is not quoting a base rate, prime rate, reference rate, or similar rate for Dollar loans, another major money center commercial bank in New York City selected by the Calculation Agent (after consultation with the Servicer)).

For the first Interest Period and, unless the Maturity Extension occurs, the last Interest Period, LIBOR shall be determined based on the actual number of days in the Interest Period using straight-line interpolation of two rates calculated in accordance with the above procedure, except that instead of using three month deposits, one rate shall be determined using the period for which rates are obtainable next shorter than the Interest Period and the other rate shall be determined using the period for which rates are obtainable next longer than the Interest Period. All calculations shall be calculated to at least four decimal places and rounded to four decimal places.

"Loan": Any interest in a fully committed, senior secured, unsecured, or revolving loan (including loans involving credit linked deposits and synthetic letters of credit) that is acquired by assignment or by Participation (including any DIP Loan) that is either:

- (i) Registered; or
- (ii) issued by an obligor that is not resident in the United States:
  - (A) whose payments are not subject to United States withholding tax; and
  - (B) that is held through a financial institution pursuant to the procedures described in Treasury Regulation section 1.165-12(c)(3).

"Long-Dated Collateral Obligation": Any Collateral Obligation with a stated maturity later than the Stated Maturity of the Notes other than a Collateral Obligation with a stated maturity later than the Stated Maturities of the Notes that includes a "put" option to its obligor at a price of at least par payable on or before the Stated Maturity of the Notes.

"Majority": With respect to any Class or group of Notes or Preference Shares, the Holders of more than 50% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of that Class or group of Notes or Preference Shares, as the case may be.

"Margin Stock": "Margin Stock" as defined under Regulation U issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, including any debt security that is by its terms convertible into Margin Stock, but does not include any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation received pursuant to an offer by an issuer of a Defaulted Collateral Obligation.

"Market Value": As of any Measurement Date, the market value determined by the Servicer and reported to the Trustee as an amount rather than as a percentage or fraction of par (expressed in Dollars) of any Collateral Obligation (or Eligible Equity Security, as applicable) based upon the following order of priority: (i) the average of the bid-side market prices obtained by the Servicer from three Independent broker-dealers active in the trading of such obligations or (ii) if the foregoing set of prices were not obtained, the lower of the bid-side market prices obtained by the Servicer from two Independent broker-dealers active in the trading of such obligations or (iii) if the foregoing sets of prices were not obtained, the average of the bid-side prices for the purchase of the Collateral Obligation (or Eligible Equity Security, as applicable) determined by an Approved Pricing Service (Independent from the Servicer) that derives valuations by polling broker-dealers (Independent from the Servicer).

If a Market Value of any Collateral Obligation cannot be so determined in accordance with the procedures set out in the preceding paragraph for a period of 30 consecutive days then such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have a Market Value of zero; provided, that during such 30 day period, such Collateral Obligation shall be deemed to have a Market Value equal to (a) the higher of (i) the S&P Recovery Rate for such Collateral Obligation and the then current S&P Rating of the Class A-1-A Notes and (ii) 70% of the Principal Balance of such Collateral Obligation or (b) if the Servicer has determined in its commercially reasonable judgment that the Market Value of such Collateral Obligation is lower than the amount determined pursuant to clause (a), such amount to be determined by the Servicer in its commercially reasonable judgment; provided, further, that the maximum amount of Collateral Obligations having a Market Value assigned pursuant to the immediately preceding proviso shall be limited to 5.0% of the Maximum Amount (and any amount in excess of 5.0% of the Maximum Amount shall be deemed to have a Market Value of zero). For the avoidance of doubt, the procedures set out in this paragraph shall not apply to determinations of Market Value of any Eligible Equity Securities or Current Pay Obligations.

The Servicer is under no obligation to determine the Market Value of the Collateral Obligations other than as set forth in the Servicing Agreement or this Indenture or to comply with any of its duties as set forth in the Servicing Agreement or in this Indenture.

"Market Value Determination Date": With respect to any distribution of Eligible Equity Securities, one Business Day prior to the date of the notice distributed by the Issuer to the Holders of the Preference Shares in connection with such distribution.

"Market Value Percentage": For any Collateral Obligation, the ratio obtained by dividing:

- (i) the Market Value of the Collateral Obligation; by
- (ii) the Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligation.

"Maturity": With respect to any Note, the date on which the unpaid principal of the Note becomes payable as provided in the Note or this Indenture, whether at the Stated Maturity or by declaration of acceleration, call for redemption, or otherwise.

"Maturity Extension": The meaning specified in Section 2.4.

"Maximum Amount": An amount equal to:

- (i) on any Measurement Date during the Ramp-Up Period, U.S.$981,300,000; and
- (ii) on any Measurement Date after the Ramp-Up Completion Date:
  - (A) the aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations plus the aggregate outstanding principal amount of any Defaulted Collateral Obligations; plus
  - (B) Cash representing Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account; plus
  - (C) Eligible Investments (other than Cash) purchased by the Issuer with Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account.

"Maximum Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor": As of any Measurement Date, a rate equal to the sum of (i) the number set forth in the column entitled "Maximum Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor" in the Ratings Matrix based upon the applicable "row/column combination" chosen by the Servicer (or the interpolation between two adjacent rows and/or two adjacent columns, as applicable) plus (ii) the Recovery Rate Modifier.

"Measurement Date": Any date:

- (i) on which the Issuer commits to acquire or dispose of any Collateral Obligation;

- (ii) on which a Collateral Obligation becomes a Defaulted Collateral Obligation;
  - (iii) that is a Determination Date;
  - (iv) that is the Ramp-Up Completion Date;
  - (v) that is the date as of which the information in a Monthly Report is calculated pursuant to Section 10.6; and,
- with respect to any distribution of Eligible Equity Securities only,
- (vi) that is the Market Value Determination Date with respect to such distribution of Eligible Equity Securities.

"Memorandum and Articles of Association": The memorandum and articles of association of the Issuer, as amended and restated before the Closing Date or in accordance with this Indenture.

"Merging Entity": The meaning specified in Section 7.10.

"Minimum Diversity Score": As of any Measurement Date, a score equal to the number set forth in the column entitled "Minimum Diversity Score" in the Ratings Matrix based upon the applicable "row/column combination" chosen by the Servicer (or the interpolating between two adjacent rows and/or two adjacent columns, as applicable).

"Minimum Weighted Average Spread": As of any Measurement Date, the spread equal to the percentage set forth in the row entitled "Minimum Weighted Average Spread" in the Ratings Matrix based upon the applicable "row/column combination" chosen by the Servicer (or the interpolating between two adjacent rows and/or two adjacent columns, as applicable).

"Monthly Determination Date": The meaning specified in Section 10.6(a).

"Monthly Report": The meaning specified in Section 10.6(a).

"Moody's": Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

"Moody's Default Probability Rating": The meaning set forth in Schedule 7.

"Moody's Equivalent Senior Unsecured Rating": The meaning set forth in Schedule 7.

"Moody's Group I Country": Any of the following countries: Australia, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and any country subsequently determined by Moody's to be a Moody's Group I Country.

"Moody's Group II Country": Any of the following countries: Germany, Ireland, Sweden, Switzerland and any country subsequently determined by Moody's to be a Moody's Group II Country.

"Moody's Group III Country": Any of the following countries: Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Norway, Spain and any country subsequently determined by Moody's to be a Moody's Group III Country.

"Moody's Industry Classification": The industry classifications in Schedule 2 as modified, amended, and supplemented from time to time by Moody's.

"Moody's Minimum Average Recovery Rate": As of any Measurement Date, a rate equal to the number obtained by:

- (i) summing the products obtained by multiplying the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation by its respective Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate;
- (ii) dividing the sum determined pursuant to clause (i) above by the sum of the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations; and
- (iii) rounding up to the first decimal place.

"Moody's Non Senior Secured Loan": Any Loan that is not a Moody's Senior Secured Loan.

"Moody's Obligation Rating": The meaning set forth in Schedule 7.

"Moody's Priority Category": Each type of Collateral Obligation specified in the definition of "Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate Matrix" as a "Moody's Priority Category."

"Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate": For any Collateral Obligation, the percentage specified in the definition of "Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate Matrix" opposite the Moody's Priority Category of the Collateral Obligation.

"Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate Matrix":

Moody's Priority Category	Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate
Synthetic Securities .....	In the case of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(i) a Form-Approved Synthetic Security, the "Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate" given by Moody's to the Form-Approved Synthetic Security at the time of approval of the Form-Approved Synthetic Security by Moody's, and</li> <li>(ii) any other Synthetic Security, the "Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate" given by Moody's to the Synthetic Security at the time of acquisition of the Synthetic Security.</li> </ul>
Structured Finance Obligations.....	The Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate determined in accordance with the Moody's Structured Finance Obligation Recovery Rates set forth in Schedule 5 by reference to the type of asset and its then Moody's Rating (or, with respect to assets to which that schedule does not apply, on a case-by-case basis in connection with the Grant of the relevant Collateral Obligation).

For High-Yield Bonds, Moody's Senior Secured Loans and Moody's Non Senior Secured Loans, the relevant Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate is the rate determined pursuant to the table below based on the number of rating subcategories difference between the High-Yield Bond's or Loan's Moody's Obligation Rating and its Moody's Default Probability Rating (for purposes of clarification, if the Moody's Obligation Rating is higher than the Moody's Default Probability Rating, the rating subcategories difference will be positive and if it is lower, negative):

Number of Moody's Rating Subcategories Difference Between the Moody's Obligation Rating and the Moody's Default Probability Rating	Moody's Senior Secured Loans	Moody's Non Senior Secured Loans	High-Yield Bonds
+2 or more	60.0%	45.0%	40.0%
+1	50.0%	42.5%	35.0%
0	45.0%	40.0%	30.0%
-1	40.0%	30.0%	15.0%
-2	30.0%	15.0%	10.0%
-3 or less	20.0%	10.0%	2.0%

If no Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate has been specifically assigned with respect to a Loan pursuant to the above table, and the Loan is a secured DIP Loan, the relevant Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate is 50.0%.

"Moody's Rating": The meaning set forth in Schedule 7.

"Moody's Rating Factor": The number in the table below opposite the rating of the Collateral Obligation (excluding Synthetic Securities where an Assigned Moody's Rating is not available).

Moody's Rating	Moody's Rating Factor	Moody's Rating	Moody's Rating Factor
Aaa	1	Ba1	940
Aa1	10	Ba2	1350
Aa2	20	Ba3	1766
Aa3	40	B1	2220
A1	70	B2	2720
A2	120	B3	3490
A3	180	Caa1	4770
Baa1	260	Caa2	6500
Baa3	610	Ca or lower	10000

The Moody's Rating Factor for Collateral Obligations that are Synthetic Securities shall be determined by Moody's and obtained by the Issuer or the Servicer on a case-by-case basis, unless (1) there is an Assigned Moody's Rating available for such Collateral Obligation that is a Synthetic Security, in which case such Assigned Moody's Rating shall be used to compute the Moody's Rating Factor for such Collateral Obligation that is a Synthetic Security, or (2) such Collateral Obligation is a Form-Approved Synthetic Security, in which case the Moody's Rating Factor given to such Collateral Obligation at the time of approval of the Form-Approved Synthetic Security shall be used to compute the Moody's Rating Factor for such Collateral Obligation that is a Synthetic Security.

The Moody's Rating Factor for any Collateral Obligation that is a Structured Finance Obligation shall be equal to:  $\frac{A \times 55\%}{1 - B}$ , where: "A" means the number determined with respect to such Collateral Obligation pursuant to the table above; and

"B" means the Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate with respect to such Collateral Obligation.

"Moody's Senior Secured Loan":

(a) a Loan that:

(i) is not (and cannot by its terms become) subordinate in right of payment to any other obligation of the obligor of the Loan;

(ii) is secured by a valid first priority perfected security interest or lien in, to or on specified collateral securing the obligor's obligations under the Loan; and

(iii) the value of the collateral securing the Loan together with other attributes of the obligor (including, without limitation, its general financial condition, ability to generate cash flow available for debt service and other demands for that cash flow) is adequate (in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer) to repay the Loan in accordance with its terms and to repay all other loans of equal seniority secured by a first lien or security interest in the same collateral; or

(b) a Loan that:

(ii) is secured by a valid second priority perfected security interest or lien in, to or on specified collateral securing the obligor's obligations under the Loan;

(iii) the value of the collateral securing the Loan together with other attributes of the obligor (including, without limitation, its general financial condition, ability to generate cash flow available for debt service and other demands for that cash flow) is adequate (in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer) to repay the Loan in accordance with its terms and to repay all other loans of equal or higher seniority secured by a first or second lien or security interest in the same collateral; and

(iv) has been assigned a Moody's rating equal to or higher than Moody's corporate family rating for such obligor; and

(c) the Loan is not: (i) a DIP Loan, (ii) a Loan for which the security interest or lien (or the validity or effectiveness thereof) in substantially all of its collateral attaches, becomes effective, or otherwise "springs" into existence after the origination thereof, or (iii) a type of loan that Moody's has identified as having unusual terms and with respect to which its Moody's Recovery Rate has been or is to be determined on a case-by-case basis.

"Non-Call Period": The period from the Closing Date to but not including the Payment Date in May 2011.

"Non-Consenting Holder": With respect to any supplemental indenture pursuant to Section 8.2 that requires the consent of one or more Holders of Securities, any Holder or, in the case of Securities represented by Global Notes, any beneficial owner, that either (i) has delivered to the Trustee a written notice that it will not consent to such supplemental indenture or (ii) had not consented to such supplemental indenture within the applicable Initial Consent Period.

"Non-Performing Collateral Obligation": Any Defaulted Collateral Obligation and any PIK Security as to which its issuer or obligor has previously deferred or capitalized any interest due on it and all the interest so deferred or capitalized has not subsequently been paid in full in cash by:

(i) if the PIK Security has a Moody's Rating of "Baa3" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) or above or an S&P Rating of "BBB-" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) or above, the earlier of its second payment date or one year following the date of the initial deferral or capitalization of interest due on it, or

(ii) if the PIK Security has a Moody's Rating of "Baa3" and on credit watch with negative implications or below "Baa3", or an S&P Rating of "BBB-" and on credit watch with negative implications or below "BBB-", the earlier of its first payment date or six months following the date of the initial deferral or capitalization of interest due on it.

"Non-Permitted Holder": (a) With respect to the Global Notes, a Holder or beneficial owner of an interest in a Global Note that is a U.S. person and (i) not a QIB/QP and that becomes the beneficial owner of an interest in a Rule 144A Global Note or (ii) does not have an exemption available under the Securities Act and (b) with respect to the Class E Notes, a Holder or beneficial owner of an interest in a Class E Note that is not a QIB/QP.

"Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor": The meaning specified in the second paragraph of Section 2.6(c).

"Non-qualifying Collateral Obligation": The meaning specified in Section 12.1(d).

"Note Break-Even Loss Rate": With respect to each Class of Notes that is rated by S&P, the maximum percentage of defaults that the Current Portfolio or Proposed Portfolio can sustain and nevertheless sufficient funds will remain for the payment of principal of the Class of Notes in full by its Stated Maturity and the timely payment of interest on the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes and the Class B Notes and the ultimate payment of interest on the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes using S&P's assumptions on recoveries, defaults, and timing, and taking into account the Priority of Payments and the adjusted Weighted Average Spread level specified in the applicable row of the table below. The adjusted Weighted Average Spread as of any Measurement Date is the Weighted Average Spread as of the Measurement Date minus the amount of any Spread Excess added to the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon as of the Measurement Date.

Row	Adjusted Weighted Average Spread
1	Greater than or equal to 3.00%
2	Greater than or equal to 2.90% but less than 3.00%
3	Greater than or equal to 2.80% but less than 2.90%
4	Greater than or equal to 2.70% but less than 2.80%
5	Greater than or equal to 2.60% but less than 2.70%
6	Greater than or equal to 2.50% but less than 2.60%
7	Greater than or equal to 2.40% but less than 2.50%
8	Greater than or equal to 2.30% but less than 2.40%
9	Greater than or equal to 2.20% but less than 2.30%

"Note Class Loss Differential": With respect to any Measurement Date and any Class of Notes that is rated by S&P, the rate calculated by subtracting the Class Scenario Loss Rate for the Class from the then-applicable Note Break-Even Loss Rate for the Class of Notes.

"Noteholder": A Holder of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes or the Class E Notes.

"Note Interest Rate": With respect to any specified Class of Notes, the per annum interest rate payable on the Notes of the Class with respect to each Interest Period equal to LIBOR for Eurodollar deposits for the applicable Interest Period plus the spread specified in the "Interest Rate" rows of the tables in Section 2.3 with respect to such Notes except in the first Interest Period.

"Note Payment Sequence": The application of funds in the following order:

- (1) to the Class A Notes until the Class A Notes have been fully redeemed (provided that amounts allocated to payment of principal of the Class A Notes shall be paid in accordance with the Class A Allocation);
- (2) to the Class B Notes until the Class B Notes have been fully redeemed;
- (3) to the Class C Notes until the Class C Notes have been fully redeemed;
- (4) to the Class D Notes until the Class D Notes have been fully redeemed; and
- (5) to the Class E Notes until the Class E Notes have been fully redeemed.

"Notes": The Senior Notes and the Class E Notes authorized by, and authenticated and delivered under, this Indenture or any supplemental indenture.

"Notice of Refinancing": The meaning specified in Section 9.7.

"Objection Cut-Off Date": The meaning specified in Section 15.1(h)(ii).

"Offer": The meaning specified in Section 10.7(c).

"Offering": The offering of the Notes.

"Offering Memorandum": The final offering memorandum, dated May 30, 2007, prepared and delivered in connection with the offer and sale of the Securities.

"Officer": With respect to the Issuer and any corporation, any director, the Chairman of the board of directors, the President, any Vice President, the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer, or an Assistant Treasurer of the entity; with respect to the Co-Issuer and any corporation, any director, the Chairman of the board of directors, the President, any Vice President, the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer, or an Assistant Treasurer of the entity; with respect to any partnership, any of its general partners; and with respect to the Trustee, any Trust Officer.

"Opinion of Counsel": A written opinion addressed to the Trustee and each Rating Agency, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee and each Rating Agency, of an attorney at law (or law firm with one or more partners) reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee and admitted to practice before the highest court of any state of the United States or the District of Columbia (or the Cayman Islands, in the case of an opinion relating to the laws of the Cayman Islands), which attorney (or law firm) may, except as otherwise expressly provided in this Indenture, be counsel for the Servicer, the Issuer or the Co-Issuer. Whenever an Opinion of Counsel is required under this Indenture, the Opinion of Counsel may rely on opinions of other counsel who are so admitted and so satisfactory, which opinions of other counsel shall accompany the Opinion of Counsel and shall either be addressed to the Trustee and each Rating Agency or shall state that the Trustee and each Rating Agency may rely on it. An Opinion of Counsel may be supported as to factual (including financial and capital markets) matters by any relevant certificates and other documents necessary or advisable in the judgment of counsel delivering the opinion.

"Optional Redemption": A redemption of the Notes in accordance with Section 9.2.

"Other Indebtedness": The meaning specified in the definition of "Defaulted Collateral Obligation."

"Outstanding": With respect to:

(a) the Notes or any specified Class, as of any date of determination, all of the Notes or all of the Notes of the specified Class, as the case may be, theretofore authenticated and delivered under this Indenture, except with respect to Notes:

(i) Notes canceled by the Indenture Registrar or delivered to the Indenture Registrar for cancellation;

(ii) Notes for whose payment or redemption funds in the necessary amount have been theretofore irrevocably deposited with the Trustee or any Paying Agent in trust for their Holders pursuant to Section 4.1(a)(ii) and if the Notes are to be redeemed, notice of redemption has been duly given pursuant to this Indenture;

(iii) Notes in exchange for or in lieu of which other Notes have been authenticated and delivered pursuant to this Indenture; and

(iv) Notes alleged to have been destroyed, lost, or stolen for which replacement Notes have been issued as provided in Section 2.7, unless proof satisfactory to the Trustee is presented that any such Notes are held by a protected purchaser; and

(b) the Preference Shares, as of any date of determination, all of the Preference Shares theretofore issued under the Preference Share Documents and listed in the Preference Share register of the Issuer as outstanding;

provided that, in determining whether the Holders of the requisite Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Securities have given any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent or waiver under this Indenture, the Securities owned or beneficially owned by the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, any Affiliate of either of them and, with respect to any matter affecting its status as Servicer or appointment of a replacement Servicer or relating to an acceleration of any Class of Notes if the effect of the Servicer's action or inaction as a Holder of Securities would effectively prevent acceleration, the Servicer, its Affiliates and any account over which the Servicer or its Affiliates have discretionary voting authority (other than, with respect to Notes or Class II Preference Shares, HFP or any of its subsidiaries; provided that, with respect to the voting authority of Notes or Class II Preference Shares owned by HFP or any of its subsidiaries, such vote shall not be excluded only if such vote is determined by a vote of the majority of the "independent directors" (determined in accordance with the governing documents of HFP or such subsidiaries and certified in writing to the Trustee or the Preference Shares Paying Agent, as applicable, by any of the "independent directors" of HFP) of HFP or such subsidiaries) shall be disregarded and not be Outstanding, except that, in determining whether the Trustee shall be protected in relying on any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent or waiver, only Securities that a Trust Officer of the Trustee (or with respect to the Preference Shares, only Preference Shares that an authorized officer of the Preference Shares Paying Agent) has actual knowledge to be so owned or beneficially owned shall be so disregarded. Securities so owned or beneficially owned that have been pledged in good faith may be regarded as Outstanding if the pledgee establishes to the satisfaction of the Trustee or the Preference Shares Paying Agent, as applicable, the pledgee's right so to act with respect to the Securities and that the pledgee is independent from the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Servicer, the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent.

"Overcollateralization Ratio": With respect to any Class of Notes on any Measurement Date, the ratio calculated by dividing:

- (i) the Overcollateralization Ratio Numerator; by
- (ii) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class of Notes and all Notes ranking senior to it (excluding any Deferred Interest on the Notes and all Notes ranking senior to it).

"Overcollateralization Ratio Numerator": On any date, the sum of:

- (1) the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations (other than any Excess CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations, any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations, any Deep Discount Obligations, and any Collateral Obligations loaned pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement with respect to which an "event of default" (under and as defined in the Securities Lending Agreement) is continuing); plus
- (2) unpaid Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal (excluding any unpaid Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal in respect of Non-Performing Collateral Obligations); plus
- (3) the Aggregate Principal Balance of any Eligible Investments that were purchased with Principal Proceeds and the amount of Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account; plus
- (4) the Aggregate Principal Balance of Eligible Investments on deposit in a Securities Lending Account that relate to a Securities Lending Agreement with respect to which an "event of default" (under and as defined in the Securities Lending Agreement) is continuing; plus
- (5) with respect to Collateral Obligations that are Non-Performing Collateral Obligations, Deep Discount Obligations or Excess CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations, the amount determined by using one of the following methods applicable to such type of Collateral Obligation; provided that if a Collateral Obligation falls within more than one of such types, the Issuer will be required to use the method that results in the smallest amount:

(A) with respect to any Excess CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations, an amount equal to the product of (i) the CCC+/Caa1 Excess Market Value Percentage, multiplied by (ii) the Excess CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations;

(B) with respect to any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations, the aggregate of the Applicable Collateral Obligation Amounts for all included Non-Performing Collateral Obligations (other than Defaulted Collateral Obligations that have been held by the Issuer for more than three years, which shall be deemed to be zero for purposes of this clause (B)); and

(C) with respect to any Deep Discount Obligations, the Aggregate Purchase Price Amount for all Deep Discount Obligations.

As used in this definition, "Applicable Collateral Obligation Amount" for any Non-Performing Collateral Obligation means:

(a) the lesser of:

(x) the Market Value Percentage of the Non-Performing Collateral Obligation; and

(y) the Applicable Percentage for the Non-Performing Collateral Obligation; multiplied by:

(b) if the Non-Performing Collateral Obligation is:

(1) any Pledged Obligation other than those in clauses (2) through (4) below, the outstanding principal amount of the Pledged Obligation as of the relevant Measurement Date;

(2) a Synthetic Security, the notional amount specified in the Synthetic Security;

(3) any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, its Principal Balance including any unfunded amount thereof (regardless of the nature of the contingency relating to the Issuer's obligation to fund the unfunded amount); and

(4) any PIK Security, its Principal Balance.

As used in the calculation of Market Value Percentage of the Non-Performing Collateral Obligation, the Principal Balance of any Defaulted Collateral Obligation shall be, if the Defaulted Collateral Obligation is:

(i) any Pledged Obligation other than those in clauses (ii) through (iv) below, the outstanding principal amount of the Pledged Obligation as of the relevant Measurement Date;

- (ii) a Synthetic Security, the notional amount specified in the Synthetic Security;
- (iii) any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, its Principal Balance including any unfunded amount thereof (regardless of the nature of the contingency relating to the Issuer's obligation to fund the unfunded amount); and
- (iv) any PIK Security, its Principal Balance.

"Overcollateralization Test": A test that is satisfied with respect to any Class of Notes if, as of any Measurement Date, the Overcollateralization Ratio for the Class is at least equal to the required level for the specified Class indicated in the table below:

Test	Required Level
Class A/B Overcollateralization Test	112.4%
Class C Overcollateralization Test	106.6%
Class D Overcollateralization Test	106.1%
Class E Overcollateralization Test	102.3%

"Participating Institution": An institution that creates a participation interest and that has a long-term senior unsecured rating by Moody's of at least "A3" (and if so rated by Moody's such rating is not on watch for possible downgrade) and an issuer credit rating by S&P of at least "A".

"Participation": A Loan acquired as a participation interest created by a Participating Institution.

"Paying Agent": Any Person authorized by the Issuer to pay the principal of or interest on any Notes on behalf of the Issuer as specified in Section 7.2.

"Payment Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.3(h).

"Payment Date": The first day of February, May, August and November in each year, commencing in November 2007 or, if any such day is not a Business Day, the next following Business Day, any other date on which the Notes are redeemed or paid before their Stated Maturity, and at the Stated Maturity for the Notes.

"Permitted Offer": An Offer pursuant to which the offeror offers to acquire a debt obligation (including a Collateral Obligation) in exchange solely for cash in an amount equal to or greater than the full face amount of the debt obligation plus any accrued and unpaid interest and as to which the Servicer has determined in its commercially reasonable judgment that the offeror has sufficient access to financing to consummate the Offer.

"Person": An individual, corporation (including a business trust), partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, association, joint stock company, trust (including any beneficiary thereof), unincorporated association or government or any agency or political subdivision thereof.

"PIK Cash-Pay Interest": As to any PIK Security, the portion of interest required to be paid in cash (and not permitted to be added to the balance of such PIK Security or otherwise deferred and accrued) thereon pursuant to the terms of the related Underlying Instruments.

"PIK Security": Any loan or debt obligation on which any portion of the interest accrued for a specified period of time or until the maturity thereof is, or at the option of the obligor may be, added to the principal balance of such loan or debt obligation or otherwise deferred rather than being paid in cash, provided that such loan or debt obligation shall not be a PIK Security if the portion, if any, of such interest required pursuant to the terms of the related Underlying Instruments to be paid in Cash would result in the outstanding principal amount of such loan or debt obligation having an effective rate of PIK Cash-Pay Interest at least equal to (i) if such loan or debt obligation is a fixed rate loan or debt obligation, 4% per annum, or (ii) if such loan or debt obligation is a floating rate loan or debt obligation, LIBOR.

"Plan Asset Regulation": The regulation issued by the United States Department of Labor and found at 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101.

"Pledged Obligations": As of any date of determination, the Collateral Obligations, the Workout Assets, the Eligible Investments, and any other securities or obligations that have been Granted to the Trustee that form part of the Collateral.

"Portfolio Improvement Exchange": The disposition, during the Replacement Period, of a Collateral Obligation and corresponding acquisition of one or more Collateral Obligations which in the aggregate will result in (i) the Collateral Quality Tests, the Interest Coverage Test, the Overcollateralization Tests and the Concentration Limitations herein being satisfied (or bring the total portfolio of Collateral Obligations closer to compliance with any such test or limitation) or if one or more of such Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Test, Overcollateralization Test or Concentration Limitations are not satisfied, the degree of compliance therewith would be improved and (ii) improving, on a net basis, the quality of the total portfolio of Collateral Obligations as measured by such Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Test, Overcollateralization Test and Concentration Limitations and (iii) in the case of each of clause (i) and (ii), any other Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Tests, Overcollateralization Tests or Concentration Limitations not being violated or the likelihood of such violation in the future not being significantly increased.

"Pre-Closing Party": One or more Affiliates of the Initial Purchasers that financed the Issuer's pre-closing acquisition of Collateral Obligations.

"Preference Share Distribution Account": A segregated bank account established by the Preference Shares Paying Agent pursuant to the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement into which the Preference Shares Paying Agent will deposit all amounts received from the Issuer and payable to the Holders of the Preference Shares under the Priority of Payments.

"Preference Share Documents": The Issuer's Memorandum and Articles of Association, the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement and the resolutions of the Issuer's board of directors authorizing the issuance of the Preference Shares passed on or before the Closing Date.

"Preference Share Internal Rate of Return": With respect to any Payment Date, the internal rate of return (computed using the "XIRR" function in Microsoft® Excel 2002 or an equivalent function in another software package), stated on a per annum basis, for the following cash flows, assuming all Preference Shares are purchased on the Closing Date at their Face Amount:

(i) each distribution of Interest Proceeds made to the Holders of the Preference Shares (excluding any Class II Preference Share Special Payment distributed to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares) on any prior Payment Date and, to the extent necessary to reach the applicable Preference Share Internal Rate of Return, the current Payment Date and

(ii) each distribution of Principal Proceeds made to the Holders of the Preference Shares (excluding any Class II Preference Share Special Payment distributed to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares) on any prior Payment Date and, to the extent necessary to reach the applicable Preference Share Internal Rate of Return, the current Payment Date.

"Preference Shares": The Class I Preference Shares and the Class II Preference Shares.

"Preference Shares Notional Amount": As of the Closing Date, $80,000,000, and thereafter as increased each time additional Preference Shares are issued in accordance with the Preference Share Documents.

"Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement": The Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, dated as of the Closing Date, by and between the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent, as amended from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof.

"Preference Shares Paying Agent": Investors Bank & Trust Company, in its capacity as Preference Shares Paying Agent under the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, unless a successor Person shall have become the preference shares paying agent pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, and thereafter "Preference Shares Paying Agent" shall mean such successor Person.

"Principal Balance": With respect to:

- (i) any Pledged Obligation other than those specifically covered in this definition, the outstanding principal amount of the Pledged Obligation as of the relevant Measurement Date;
- (ii) a Synthetic Security, the notional amount specified in the Synthetic Security;
- (iii) any Pledged Obligation in which the Trustee does not have a first priority perfected security interest, zero, except as otherwise expressly specified in this Indenture;
- (iv) any Defaulted Collateral Obligation, except as otherwise provided, zero;
- (v) any Collateral Obligation that has been loaned, its Principal Balance shall be reduced by the excess of the amount of collateral required over the actual Market Value of the collateral;
- (vi) any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, its Principal Balance shall include any unfunded amount thereof (regardless of the nature of the contingency relating to the Issuer's obligation to fund the unfunded amount), except as otherwise expressly specified in this Indenture;
- (vii) any PIK Security, its Principal Balance shall not include any principal amount of the PIK Security representing previously deferred or capitalized interest; and
- (viii) any Qualified Equity Security and any obligation or security that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation, zero.

"Principal Proceeds": With respect to any Due Period, all amounts received in Cash during the Due Period by the Issuer with respect to the Collateral that are not Interest Proceeds.

Principal Proceeds shall include any funds transferred from the Closing Date Expense Account and the Interest Reserve Account into the Collection Account pursuant to Section 10.2.

Principal Proceeds do not include the Excluded Property or earnings on amounts on deposit in the Securities Lending Account to the extent the earnings are payable by the Issuer to a Securities Lending Counterparty.

At any time when an "event of default" under a Securities Lending Agreement has occurred and is continuing, any payments received by the Issuer from the related Securities Lending Collateral shall be Principal Proceeds.

"Priority Class": With respect to any specified Class of Notes, each Class of Notes that ranks senior to that Class, as indicated in Section 13.1.

"Priority of Payments": The meaning specified in Section 11.1(a).

"Proceeding": Any suit in equity, action at law, or other judicial or administrative proceeding.

"Proposed Portfolio": As of any Measurement Date, the portfolio (measured by Aggregate Principal Balance) of Collateral Obligations and Principal Proceeds held as Cash on deposit in the Collection Account and other Eligible Investments purchased with Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account resulting from the sale, maturity, or other disposition of a Collateral Obligation or a proposed purchase of a Collateral Obligation, as the case may be.

"Purchase Agreement": A purchase agreement dated May 31, 2007 among the Co-Issuers and the Initial Purchasers, relating to the purchase of the Notes and the Class I Preference Shares, as modified, amended and supplemented and in effect from time to time.

"Purchase Criteria Adjusted Balance": For any Collateral Obligation other than Deep Discount Obligations, its Principal Balance; and for any Deep Discount Obligation its Purchase Price; provided, however, that if any Excess CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations exist, the Purchase Criteria Adjusted Balance for the Excess CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations shall be the lower of (i) the weighted average Market Value of all CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations, expressed as a percentage of their outstanding principal balances and (ii) the product of (a) 70% and (b) their respective Principal Balance.

"Purchase Price": With respect to the purchase of any Collateral Obligation (other than any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation), the net purchase price paid by the Issuer for the Collateral Obligation. The net purchase price is determined by subtracting from the purchase price the amount of any Accrued Interest Purchased With Principal and any syndication and other upfront fees paid to the Issuer and by adding the amount of any related transaction costs (including assignment fees) paid by the Issuer to the seller of the Collateral Obligation or its agent.

"Purchase Price Amount": With respect to any Collateral Obligation on any date of termination, the product of (i) the Purchase Price (stated as a percentage) thereof and (ii) the Principal Balance thereof on such date.

"QIB/QP": Any Person that, at the time of its acquisition of Notes is both a Qualified Institutional Buyer and a Qualified Purchaser.

"Qualified Equity Security": Any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation that is stock or evidence of an interest in or a right to buy stock, or any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation but whose acquisition otherwise is a transaction in stocks or securities within the meaning of Section 864(b)(2)(A)(ii) of the Code and the regulations under the Code. Qualified Equity Securities do not include any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation and that will cause the Issuer to be treated as engaged in or having income from a United States trade or business for United States federal income tax purposes by virtue of its ownership or disposition of the obligation (without regard to the Issuer's other activities).

"Qualified Institutional Buyer": The meaning specified in Rule 144A under the Securities Act.

"Qualified Purchaser": The meaning specified in Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act and Rule 2a51-2 under the Investment Company Act (including entities owned exclusively by Qualified Purchasers).

"Ramp-Up Completion Date": The earlier of:

- (i) the Business Day after the 90th day after the Closing Date, and
- (ii) the first date on which the following conditions are satisfied:

(x) (A) the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations owned by the Issuer equals at least U.S.$981,300,000 or (B) the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations purchased (or committed to be purchased) by the Issuer with proceeds from the sale of the Notes (in each case in this clause (B), measured solely as of the date of purchase or commitment, as the case may be) equals at least U.S.$981,300,000 (for the avoidance of doubt, without giving effect to any reductions of that amount that may have resulted from scheduled principal payments, principal prepayments or dispositions made with respect to any Collateral Obligations on or before the Ramp-Up Completion Date); and

(y) the Overcollateralization Ratio Numerator is at least U.S.$981,300,000.

"Ramp-Up Notice": The meaning specified in Section 7.19(e).

"Ramp-Up Period": The period from and including the Closing Date to and including the Ramp-Up Completion Date.

"Rating Agency": Each of Moody's and S&P or, with respect to Pledged Obligations generally, if at any time Moody's or S&P ceases to provide rating services with respect to high yield debt securities, any other nationally recognized statistical rating organization selected by the Issuer and reasonably satisfactory to a Majority of each Class of Notes. If at any time Moody's ceases to be a Rating Agency, references to rating categories of Moody's in this Indenture shall instead be references to the equivalent categories of the replacement rating agency as of the most recent date on which the replacement rating agency and Moody's published ratings for the type of security in respect of which the replacement rating agency is used. If at any time S&P ceases to be a Rating Agency, references to rating categories of S&P in this Indenture shall instead be references to the equivalent categories of the replacement rating agency as of the most recent date on which the replacement rating agency and S&P published ratings for the type of security in respect of which the replacement rating agency is used.

"Rating Condition": With respect to any Rating Agency and any action taken or to be taken under this Indenture, a condition that is satisfied when the Rating Agency has confirmed to the Servicer (as agent for the Issuer) in writing that no withdrawal, reduction, suspension, or other adverse action with respect to any then current rating by it (including any private or confidential rating) of any Class of Notes will occur as a result of the action. The Rating Condition with respect to any Rating Agency shall be satisfied for all purposes of this Indenture at any time when no Outstanding Notes are rated by it.

"Rating Confirmation": Confirmation in writing from each Rating Agency that it has not reduced, suspended, or withdrawn the Initial Rating assigned by it to any Class of Notes; provided however, that in the case of Refinancing Notes, a Moody's rating will be obtained for such Refinancing Notes and a Rating Confirmation with respect to such Refinancing Notes shall mean (i) with respect to S&P, confirmation in writing from S&P that the rating of each Class of Refinancing Notes will be no lower than the rating on each corresponding Class of Notes subject to such Refinancing and (ii) with respect to Moody's, that the Moody's rating of each Class of Refinancing Notes will be no lower than the rating on each corresponding Class of Notes subject to such Refinancing; provided further that if the terms of such Refinancing Notes are the same as the terms of the corresponding Class of Notes subject to Refinancing (other than with respect to the coupon thereof), it is expected that the cost of obtaining such rating from Moody's shall be no more than the cost of obtaining a Rating Confirmation.

"Rating Confirmation Failure": The meaning specified in Section 7.19(f) hereof.

"Ratings Matrix": The "row/column combination" of the table below selected by the Servicer on the Closing Date to apply initially for purposes of the Diversity Test, the Weighted Average Spread Test and the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test. Thereafter, on notice to the Trustee, the Servicer may select a different row of the Ratings Matrix to apply, or may interpolate between two adjacent rows and/or two adjacent columns, as applicable, on a straight-line basis and round the results to two decimal points.

Maximum Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor

"Recovery Rate Modifier": As of any Measurement Date, the lesser of 60 and the product of:

- (i) (a) the Moody's Minimum Average Recovery Rate minus the minimum percentage specified to pass the Weighted Average Moody's Recovery Rate Test (but not less than zero) multiplied by (b) 100; and
- (ii) 40.

"Record Date": As to any Payment Date, the 15th day (whether or not a Business Day) before the Payment Date.

"Redemption Date": Any Payment Date specified for an Optional Redemption of Notes pursuant to Section 9.2 or the redemption of a Class of Notes in connection with a Refinancing pursuant to Section 9.7.

"Redemption Price": With respect to any Note and any Optional Redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(a) or any redemption by Refinancing pursuant to Section 9.7(a), an amount equal to:

- (i) the outstanding principal amount of the portion of the Note being redeemed; plus
- (ii) accrued interest on the Note (including any Defaulted Interest and interest on Defaulted Interest); plus
- (iii) in the case of any Deferred Interest Note, the applicable Deferred Interest on the Note; plus
- (iv) any unpaid Extension Bonus Payment in respect of the Note.

With respect to any Preference Share and any Optional Redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(b), "Redemption Price" means (i) at the direction of a Majority of the Preference Shares, the pro rata portion for such Preference Share of the entire remaining amount of available funds after all prior applications pursuant to the Priority of Payments or (ii) as specified by the unanimous direction of the Holders of the Preference Shares, in each case, as specified in Section 9.2(b).

"Reference Obligation": An obligation that would otherwise satisfy the definition of "Collateral Obligation" and on which a Synthetic Security is based; provided that no Reference Obligation shall be a Synthetic Security.

"Refinancing": The meaning specified in Section 9.7.

"Refinancing Date": The meaning specified in Section 9.7.

"Refinancing Notes": The meaning specified in Section 9.7.

"Refinancing Price": With respect to any Class of Notes that is subject to a Refinancing, an amount equal to the Redemption Price thereof.

"Refinancing Proceeds": The proceeds from any refinancing permitted under this Indenture.

"Reference Obligor": The obligor of a Reference Obligation.

"Registered": With respect to a Collateral Obligation or Eligible Investment, means that it is issued after July 18, 1984 and is in registered form within the meaning of Section 881(c)(2)(B)(i) of the Code and the United States Department of the Treasury ("Treasury") regulations promulgated thereunder.

"Registered Office": The registered office of the Issuer, which shall be located outside of the United States.

"Regulation D": Regulation D under the Securities Act.

"Regulation S": Regulation S under the Securities Act.

"Regulation S Global Note": The meaning specified in Section 2.2(b).

"Relevant Obligation": For a Collateral Obligation that is a Synthetic Security, the Reference Obligation of the Synthetic Security and otherwise the Collateral Obligation.

"Replacement Hedge": A replacement hedge agreement that qualifies to be a Hedge Agreement under this Indenture.

"Replacement Period": The period from the Closing Date through and including the first to occur of:

(i) the Payment Date after the date that the Servicer notifies the Trustee, each Rating Agency, and the Administrator, in the sole discretion of the Servicer, that, in light of the composition of the Collateral, general market conditions, and other factors, the acquisition of additional Collateral Obligations within the foreseeable future would either be impractical or not beneficial,

(ii) the Payment Date in August 2014 or, in the case of an Extension, the Extended Replacement Period End Date,

(iii) the Payment Date on which all Notes are to be optionally redeemed or an earlier date after notice of an Optional Redemption chosen by the Servicer to facilitate the liquidation of the Collateral for the Optional Redemption, and

(iv) the date on which the Replacement Period terminates or is terminated as a result of an Event of Default (subject to Section 5.2(c)).

"Repository": The internet-based password protected electronic repository of transaction documents relating to privately offered and sold collateralized debt obligation securities located at "www.cdolibrary.com" operated by The Bond Market Association.

"Required Redemption Percentage": With respect to (a) any Optional Redemption resulting from a Tax Event, the Holders of at least 66⅔% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of any Affected Class or at least 66⅔% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Preference Shares and (b) any other Optional Redemption, a Majority of the Preference Shares.

"Required Rating": The meaning specified in Section 15.2(b).

"Retention Overcollateralization Ratio": As of any Measurement Date, the ratio obtained by dividing:

- (i) the Overcollateralization Ratio Numerator by
- (ii) the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes, excluding any Deferred Interest on any Class of Notes.

"Retention Overcollateralization Test": A test that is satisfied as of any Measurement Date during the Replacement Period on which any Notes remain Outstanding, if the Retention Overcollateralization Ratio as of such Measurement Date is at least equal to 103.3%.

"Revolving Loan": A Loan or any Synthetic Security with a Reference Obligation (in each case excluding any Delayed Drawdown Loan) that requires the Issuer to make future advances to (or for the account of) the borrower under its Underlying Instruments (including any letter of credit for which the Issuer is required to reimburse the issuing bank for under it). A Loan or Synthetic Security shall only be considered to be a Revolving Loan for so long as its Commitment Amount is greater than zero.

"Revolving Reserve Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.3(b).

"Rule 3a-7": Rule 3a-7 under the Investment Company Act.

"Rule 144A": Rule 144A under the Securities Act.

"Rule 144A Global Note": The meaning specified in Section 2.2(c).

"Rule 144A Information": The meaning specified in Section 7.15.

"S&P": Standard & Poor's Ratings Services, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc.

"S&P CDO Monitor": A dynamic, analytical computer model developed by S&P (and as may be modified by S&P from time to time) and provided to the Servicer and the Collateral Administrator to be used to calculate the default frequency in terms of the amount of debt assumed to default as a percentage of the original principal amount of the Collateral Obligations consistent with a specified benchmark rating level based on certain assumptions and S&P's proprietary corporate default studies. For the purpose (and only for the purpose) of applying the S&P CDO Monitor to a portfolio of obligations, for each obligation in the portfolio, the rating of the obligation shall be its S&P Rating.

"S&P CDO Monitor Test": A test that is satisfied as of any Measurement Date if, after giving effect to the sale of a Collateral Obligation or the purchase of a Collateral Obligation, each Note Class Loss Differential of the Proposed Portfolio is positive. The S&P CDO Monitor Test shall be considered to be improved if each Note Class Loss Differential of the Proposed Portfolio is at least equal to the corresponding Note Class Loss Differential of the Current Portfolio. The S&P CDO Monitor Test is not required to be satisfied or improved upon the sale of a Credit Risk Obligation and the application of the related Sale Proceeds to purchase additional Collateral Obligations as provided in Section 12.1(a). For purposes of the S&P CDO Monitor Test,

- (i) the S&P Rating of any S&P Unrated DIP Loan shall be "CCC-" and

(ii) the S&P Industry Classification for a Synthetic Security shall be that of the related Reference Obligation and not the Synthetic Security.

"S&P CRR": With respect to any Collateral Obligation, a corporate recovery rate assigned by S&P to such Collateral Obligation.

"S&P CRR Recovery Rate" With respect to any Collateral Obligation to which S&P has assigned a S&P CRR, the recovery rate determined in accordance with the definition of S&P Recovery Rate.

"S&P Industry Classification": The S&P Industry Classifications in Schedule 3 as modified, amended, and supplemented from time to time by S&P.

"S&P Rating": The meaning set forth in Schedule 7.

"S&P Rating Confirmation": Confirmation in writing from S&P that it has not reduced, suspended, or withdrawn the Initial Rating assigned by it to any Class of Notes.

"S&P Recovery Rate": As of any date of determination, with respect to any Collateral Obligation, the percentage for such Collateral Obligation set forth in (x) the applicable table below, (y) the row in such table opposite the S&P CRR (or, if the relevant assets have no S&P CRR, the senior secured recovery rating, the U.S. loan recovery rating or the CDO liability rating, as applicable) of such Collateral Obligation (or, in the case of a Form-Approved Synthetic Security, the Reference Obligation unless otherwise specified by S&P) and (z) the column in such table below the initial S&P Rating of the respective Class of Notes; provided, however that (i) with respect to a DIP Loan or a Synthetic Security (other than a Form-Approved Synthetic Security), the S&P Recovery Rate shall be the recovery rate assigned by S&P and with respect to a Structured Finance Obligation the S&P Recovery Rate shall be the recovery rate determined by reference to Table V or Table VI below, as applicable and (ii) the Issuer or the Servicer may request the assignment of a recovery rate from S&P with respect to any Collateral Obligation, any such assignment by S&P to be in writing (electronic or otherwise).

In all recovery rate tables above, Note rating categories below "AAA" include rating subcategories (for example, the "AA" column also applies to Notes rated "AA+" and "AA-").

"S&P Unrated DIP Loan": A DIP Loan acquired by the Issuer that does not have a rating assigned by S&P and for which the Servicer has commenced the process of having a rating assigned by S&P (as specified in the definition of "DIP Loan").

"Sale": The meaning specified in Section 5.17.

"Sale Proceeds": All proceeds received (including any proceeds received with respect to any associated interest rate swap or security providing fixed annuity payments ) with respect to Collateral Obligations or other Pledged Obligations as a result of their sales or other dispositions less any reasonable expenses expended by the Servicer or the Trustee in connection with the sales or other dispositions, which shall be paid from such proceeds notwithstanding their characterization otherwise as Administrative Expenses.

"Schedule of Collateral Obligations": The Collateral Obligations listed on Schedule 1, which schedule shall include with respect to each listed Collateral Obligation:

- (A) the name of the obligor and a unique Loan or other instrument identifier;
- (B) the purchase price;
- (C) the Principal Balance;
- (D) the classification (including whether the Collateral Obligation is a Loan, a High-Yield Bond, a Synthetic Security, a Participation, a Structured Finance Obligation, a Revolving Loan or a Delayed Drawdown Loan);
- (E) the funded amount (stated as a percentage) in respect of a Collateral Obligation that is a Revolving Loan or a Delayed Drawdown Loan;
- (F) the coupon or spread (as applicable);
- (G) the Stated Maturity;
- (H) the Moody's Rating;

- (I) the S&P Rating; and
- (J) the CUSIP and any ISIN, if applicable, as the schedule may be amended from time to time to reflect the release of Collateral Obligations pursuant to Article 10 and the inclusion of Collateral Obligations as provided in Section 12.2.

"Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date": August 1, 2022.

"Second Lien Loan": A Loan that (i) is not (and cannot by its terms become) subordinated in right of payment to any other obligation of the obligor of the Loan other than a Senior Secured Loan with respect to the liquidation of such obligor or the collateral for such Loan, (ii) is secured by a valid second priority perfected security interest in or lien on specified collateral securing the obligor's obligations under the Loan, which specified collateral does not consist solely of common stock or shares issued by the obligor or any of its Affiliates or intangible assets and (iii) if such Loan does not have an S&P Recovery Rate assigned as part of a credit estimate, so long as such credit estimate is in effect, then, solely for purposes of determining the S&P Recovery Rate for such Loan, in the Servicer's commercially reasonable judgment (with such judgment being made in good faith by the Servicer at the time of such Loan's purchase), the specified collateral for such Loan has a value not less than the outstanding Principal Amount of all debt senior to such Loan plus the S&P Recovery Rate applicable to such Loan, which value may be derived from, among other things, the enterprise value of the issuer of such Loans (provided that the provisions of the clause (iii) may be amended at any time, subject to Rating Confirmation from S&P, or in order to conform to S&P's then-current criteria for such Loans).

"Secondary Risk Counterparty": Any obligor Domiciled other than in the United States, any Participating Institution, any Synthetic Security Counterparty, and any Securities Lending Counterparty.

"Secondary Risk Table": With respect to Moody's, the table below:

Long-Term Senior Unsecured Debt Rating of Secondary Risk Counterparty	Individual Counterparty Limit	Aggregate Counterparty Limit
Aaa	20.0%	20.0%
Aa1	10.0%	10.0%
Aa2	10.0%	10.0%
Aa3	10.0%	10.0%

With respect to S&P, the table below:

Long-Term Senior Unsecured Debt Rating of Secondary Risk Counterparty	Individual Counterparty Limit	Aggregate Counterparty Limit
AAA	20.0%	20.0%
AA+/AA/AA-	10.0%	20.0%

If any Secondary Risk Counterparty's long-term senior unsecured debt rating or short-term rating is on credit watch for possible downgrade by Moody's or S&P, then for the purposes of the table above, its rating by the Rating Agency putting its rating on credit watch shall be one rating notch lower for that Rating Agency.

"Section 3(c)(7)": Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act.

"Section 3(c)(7) Reminder Notice": A notice from the Issuer to the Noteholders (to be delivered in accordance with Sections 10.6(a) and (b)) substantially in the form of Exhibit G-1.

"Secured High-Yield Bond": A High-Yield Bond that is secured by a valid and perfected security interest in specified collateral.

"Secured Loan": A Loan that is secured by a valid and perfected security interest in specified collateral.

"Secured Obligations": The meaning specified in the Granting Clauses.

"Secured Parties": The meaning specified in the Granting Clauses.

"Securities": The Notes and the Preference Shares.

"Securities Act": The United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

"Securities Intermediary": Any clearing corporation or any Person, including a bank or broker, that in the ordinary course of its business maintains securities accounts for others and is acting in that capacity.

"Securities Lending Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.3(f).

"Securities Lending Agreements": The meaning specified in Section 7.18.

"Securities Lending Collateral": The meaning specified in Section 7.18.

"Securities Lending Counterparty": The meaning specified in Section 7.18.

"Security Entitlement": The meaning specified in Section 8-102(a)(17) of the UCC.

"Selected Collateral Quality Tests": The Weighted Average Moody's Recovery Rate Test, the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test, the Weighted Average Spread Test, the Weighted Average Life Test (after taking into consideration any applicable Maturity Extension), the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test and the Diversity Test.

"Senior Notes": The Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes and the Class D Notes authorized by, and authenticated and delivered under, this Indenture or any supplemental indenture.

"Senior Secured High-Yield Bond": A Secured High-Yield Bond that is not subordinated by its terms to indebtedness of the borrower for borrowed money, trade claims, capitalized leases, or other similar obligations, with a first priority security interest in collateral that in the opinion of the Servicer has value at least equal to the amount of the High-Yield Bond.

"Senior Secured Loan": A Secured Loan that is not subordinated by its terms to indebtedness of the borrower for borrowed money, trade claims, capitalized leases, or other similar obligations, with a valid and perfected first priority security interest in collateral that in the opinion of the Servicer has value at least equal to the amount of the Loan and that is not a DIP Loan.

"Senior Servicing Fee": A fee that accrues from the Closing Date payable to the Servicer in arrears on each Payment Date equal to 0.30% per annum of the Maximum Amount if and to the extent funds are available for that purpose in accordance with the Priority of Payments. The Senior Servicing Fee shall be calculated on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months.

"Senior Unsecured High-Yield Bond": A High-Yield Bond that is not (i) subordinated by its terms to indebtedness of the borrower for borrowed money and (ii) secured by a valid and perfected security interest in collateral.

"Senior Unsecured Loan": A Loan that is not a Senior Secured Loan and is not (i) subordinated by its terms to indebtedness of the borrower for borrowed money and (ii) secured by a valid and perfected security interest in collateral.

"Servicer": Highland Capital Management, L.P., and any successor Servicer pursuant to the Servicing Agreement.

"Servicing Agreement": The Servicing Agreement, dated as of the Closing Date, between the Issuer and the Servicer, as modified, amended, and supplemented and in effect from time to time.

"Servicing Fee Portion": 100% minus (a) for any Payment Date from the Closing Date until (and including) the Payment Date in February 2008, the Class II Preference Share Percentage for such Payment Date and (b) for any other Payment Date, a percentage (between 0% and 100%) selected by the Servicer in its sole discretion and reported to the Trustee in writing on or before the related Determination Date; provided that, with respect to the Payment Date in May 2008, such percentage shall be a minimum of the product of (i) the Class II Preference Share Percentage for such Payment Date and (ii) 3.3%.

"Servicing Fees": Collectively, the Senior Servicing Fee, the Subordinated Servicing Fee and the Supplemental Servicing Fee.

"Share Trustee": Maples Finance Limited.

"Share Registrar": Maples Finance Limited or any successor thereto.

"Special Redemption": The meaning specified in Section 9.5.

"Special Redemption Amount": The meaning specified in Section 9.5.

"Special Redemption Date": The meaning specified in Section 9.5.

"Spread Excess": As of any Measurement Date, a fraction whose:

- (i) numerator is the product of:
  - (A) the greater of zero and the excess of the Weighted Average Spread for the Measurement Date over the Minimum Weighted Average Spread specified in the applicable row of the Ratings Matrix, and
  - (B) the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Floating Rate Obligations (excluding any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations) held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date, and
- (ii) denominator is the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Fixed Rate Obligations (excluding any Non-Performing Collateral Obligations) held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date.

In computing the Spread Excess on any Measurement Date, the Weighted Average Spread for the Measurement Date will be computed as if the Fixed Rate Excess were equal to zero.

"Stated Maturity": With respect to any Collateral Obligation, the maturity date specified in it or the applicable Underlying Instrument (or, if earlier, the first date on which any Person may be required by the Issuer to repurchase the entire principal amount of the Collateral Obligation at or above par) and with respect to the Notes of any Class, August 1, 2022 or, upon a Maturity Extension (if any), the applicable Extended Stated Maturity Date. Unless otherwise specified, "Stated Maturity" means the Stated Maturity of the Notes.

"Structured Finance Obligation": Any obligation (other than the Notes or any other security or obligation issued by the Issuer):

- (i) secured directly by, referenced to, or representing ownership of, a pool of receivables or other assets of U.S. obligors, or obligors organized or incorporated in Moody's Group I Countries, Moody's Group II Countries, Moody's Group III Countries or Tax Advantaged Jurisdictions, including portfolio credit default swaps and collateralized debt obligations, but excludes:
  - (A) residential mortgage-backed securities;
  - (B) collateralized debt obligations backed by Emerging Market Securities;
  - (C) collateralized debt obligations primarily backed by asset-backed securities;
  - (D) market value collateralized debt obligations;
  - (E) securities backed by "future flow" receivables;
  - (F) securities backed by "trust preferred securities;"
  - (G) net interest margin securitizations;
  - (H) collateralized debt obligations a significant portion of which are backed by bonds; and

- (I) obligations secured directly by, referenced to, or representing ownership of, a pool of receivables or other assets where the obligors with respect to such receivables or other assets are non-corporate credit risks; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, collateralized loan obligations shall not be excluded by this clause (I);
- (ii) that has an S&P Rating;
- (iii) that has a rating and a Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate assigned by Moody's; and
- (iv) whose ownership or disposition (without regard to the Issuer's other activities) by the Issuer will not cause the Issuer to be treated as engaged in a U.S. trade or business for United States federal income tax purposes or otherwise subject the Issuer to net income taxes.

In connection with the purchase of a Structured Finance Obligation, the Servicer shall obtain from Moody's the applicable Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate.

For purposes of the Diversity Test, multiple Structured Finance Obligations from CDOs serviced by the same Servicer or multiple Structured Finance Obligations issued by the same master trust will be considered to be obligations of one issuer.

"Subordinated High-Yield Bond": A Secured High-Yield Bond secured by a second (or lower) priority security interest in the relevant collateral.

"Subordinated Lien Loan": A Secured Loan (other than a Second Lien Loan) secured by a second (or lower) priority security interest in the relevant collateral.

"Subordinated Servicing Fee": An amount equal to the sum of (i) a fee that accrues from the Closing Date payable to the Servicer in arrears on each Payment Date equal to 0.25% per annum of the Maximum Amount if and to the extent funds are available for that purpose in accordance with the Priority of Payments and (ii) on any Payment Date that any part of the Subordinated Servicing Fee was not paid on the preceding Payment Date, an amount equal to interest on such unpaid amount at a rate of LIBOR for the applicable period plus 3.00% per annum. The portion of the Subordinated Servicing Fee in clauses (i) and (ii) above, as applicable, shall be calculated on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months.

"Successor Entity": The meaning specified in Section 7.10.

"Super Majority": With respect to any Class or group of Notes or Preference Shares, the Holders of more than 66⅔% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of that Class or group of Notes or Preference Shares, as the case may be.

"Supplemental Servicing Fee": On each Payment Date, the fee payable to the Servicer in an amount equal to: (i) 20% of the remaining Interest Proceeds, if any, available after making the distributions on such Payment Date pursuant to Section 11.1(a)(i)(22) of the Priority of Payments and (ii) 20% of the remaining Principal Proceeds, if any, available for payment in respect of the Supplemental Servicing Fee pursuant to Section 11.1(a)(ii)(12)(A) of the Priority of Payments and, if applicable, Section 11.1(a)(ii)(15) of the Priority of Payments.

"Synthetic Security": Any swap transaction, structured bond, credit linked note or other derivative financial instrument providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a debt instrument (but excluding any such instrument relating directly to a basket or portfolio of debt instruments) or an index or indices (such as the "SAMI" index published by Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC) in connection with a basket or portfolio of debt instruments or other similar instruments entered into by the Issuer with a Synthetic Security Counterparty that has in the Servicer's commercially reasonable judgment, equivalent expected loss characteristics (those characteristics, "credit risk") to those of the related Reference Obligations (taking account of those considerations as they relate to the Synthetic Security Counterparty), if (i) it is either a Form-Approved Synthetic Security or the Rating Condition for each Rating Agency is satisfied, and (ii) the Reference Obligations thereof have a Market Value equal to at least 85% of the Principal Balance of the Reference Obligation at the time the Synthetic Security is entered into.

Each Synthetic Security that is a credit default swap the Reference Obligations of which are Loans shall require each such Reference Obligation to be denominated and payable in U.S. Dollars.

The maturity, interest rate, and other non-credit characteristics of a Synthetic Security may be different from the Reference Obligations to which the credit risk of the Synthetic Security relates.

No Synthetic Security may require the Issuer to make any payment to the Synthetic Security Counterparty after its initial purchase other than any payments represented by the release of any cash collateral posted by the Issuer from the Collection Account to the Synthetic Security Counterparty Account simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into the Synthetic Security in an amount not exceeding the amount of the posted cash collateral. Collateral may be posted only to a Synthetic Security Counterparty Account. No Synthetic Security shall result in the Issuer being a "buyer" of credit protection.

The term Synthetic Security shall not include any Structured Finance Obligation or any Participation, but the Reference Obligation of a Synthetic Security may be a Structured Finance Obligation.

Each Synthetic Security Agreement shall contain appropriate limited recourse and non-petition provisions (to the extent the Issuer has contractual payment obligations to the Synthetic Security Counterparty) equivalent (mutatis mutandis) to those contained in this Indenture.

The ownership or disposition of any Synthetic Security (without regard to the Issuer's other activities) must not cause the Issuer to be treated as engaged in a U.S. trade or business for United States federal income tax purposes or otherwise subject the Issuer to net income taxes.

Unless the Rating Condition is otherwise satisfied, any "deliverable obligation" that may be delivered to the Issuer as a result of the occurrence of any "credit event" under any proposed Synthetic Security must not provide that its transfer to the Issuer is subject to obtaining any consents and must qualify (when the Issuer purchases the related Synthetic Security and when such "deliverable obligation" is delivered to the Issuer as a result of the occurrence of any "credit event") as a Collateral Obligation and satisfy the Concentration Limitations under this Indenture, except that such "deliverable obligation" may constitute a Defaulted Collateral Obligation when delivered upon a "credit event" and if the Reference Obligation of the Synthetic Security is a Senior Secured Loan then the "deliverable obligation" under the Synthetic Security must also be a Senior Secured Loan.

No Synthetic Security may provide for any event other than bankruptcy or a failure to pay as a "credit event."

No Synthetic Security shall provide for termination by the Synthetic Security Counterparty at any time (i) after a declaration of acceleration of Maturity of the Notes has been made upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, unless such declaration and its consequences may no longer be rescinded and annulled in accordance with Section 5.2(c) and liquidation of the Collateral has begun or (ii) upon an Optional Redemption, unless the third Business Day before the scheduled Redemption Date has passed and no notice of withdrawal has been issued.

For purposes of the Coverage Tests and the Retention Overcollateralization Test, unless the Rating Condition for each Rating Agency is satisfied in respect of any proposed alternative treatment, a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of the Synthetic Security and not of the related Reference Obligations.

For purposes of the Collateral Quality Tests (other than the Diversity Test and the S&P Industry Classification with respect to the S&P CDO Monitor Test), a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of the Synthetic Security and not of the related Reference Obligations.

For purposes of calculating compliance with the Concentration Limitations other than limits relating to payment characteristics, and all related definitions, unless otherwise specified in this Indenture or by the Rating Agencies, a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of its Reference Obligations and not the Synthetic Security. For purposes of calculating compliance with the Concentration Limitations relating to payment characteristics, and all related definitions, unless otherwise specified in this Indenture or by the Rating Agencies, a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of the Synthetic Security and not its Reference Obligation.

With respect to a Synthetic Security based upon or relating to a senior secured index providing non-leveraged credit exposure to a basket of credit default swaps referencing a diversified group of Reference Obligations, with respect to which the principal or notional amount of the credit exposure to any single Reference Obligation does not increase over time, for purposes of: (i) calculating compliance with the Diversity Test, the S&P Industry Classification with respect to the S&P CDO Monitor Test, and the Concentration Limitations (other than limits relating to payment characteristics and except for clauses 17 and 17(a) of the definition of "Concentration Limitations"), and all related definitions, and (ii) any other provision or definition of this Indenture involving a determination with respect to a Reference Obligation, the characteristics of such Reference Obligations shall be determined by treating such Synthetic Security as a direct interest of the Issuer in each such Reference Obligation in an amount equal to the Allocable Principal Balance of such Reference Obligation. In addition, each Reference Obligation under such Synthetic Security shall be assigned a Moody's Rating Factor equal to the sum of the Moody's Rating Factor of (i) the related Reference Obligor, (ii) the Synthetic Security Counterparty of such Synthetic Security and (iii) the Synthetic Security Collateral of such Synthetic Security. In addition, the Moody's Priority Category Rate in respect of a Synthetic Security referencing multiple Reference Obligations pursuant to this paragraph shall be the Moody's Priority Category Rate as assigned by Moody's to each Reference Obligation underlying such Synthetic Security. For the avoidance of doubt, Reference Obligations upon which a Synthetic Security is based as described in this paragraph must meet the definition of "Collateral Obligation" to the extent provided in this definition.

If the Rating Condition must be satisfied to execute the purchase of any Synthetic Security, the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, shall give each applicable Rating Agency not less than five days' prior notice of the purchase of or entry into any Synthetic Security.

"Synthetic Security Agreement": The documentation governing any Synthetic Security.

"Synthetic Security Collateral": With respect to any Synthetic Security, amounts posted to the Synthetic Security Collateral Account by the Synthetic Security Counterparty in support of its obligations under the Synthetic Security, including (i) all Eligible Investments that mature no later than the Stated Maturity or (ii) floating rate credit card securitizations that are rated "Aaa" by Moody's and "AAA" by S&P that mature no later than the Stated Maturity in the Synthetic Security Collateral Account that are purchased with Synthetic Security Collateral; provided that any amounts described in clause (ii) above shall be hedged by a guaranteed investment contract or a total return swap which shall be subject to Rating Confirmation by S&P.

"Synthetic Security Collateral Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.3(e).

"Synthetic Security Counterparty": An entity required to make payments on a Synthetic Security to the extent that a Reference Obligor makes payments on a related Reference Obligation.

"Synthetic Security Counterparty Account": The trust account established pursuant to Section 10.5.

"Tax Advantaged Jurisdiction": One of the Cayman Islands, Bermuda, the Netherlands Antilles or the tax advantaged jurisdiction of the Channel Islands, or such other jurisdiction that the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect thereto; provided that any Tax Advantaged Jurisdiction that is the jurisdiction of organization of an obligor of a Collateral Obligation other than obligors that are special purpose vehicles or issuers of Structured Finance Obligations shall have a Moody's foreign currency rating of at least "Aa2" and a S&P foreign currency rating of at least "AA-".

"Tax Event": An event that occurs if either:

(i) (A) one or more Collateral Obligations that were not subject to withholding tax when the Issuer committed to purchase them have become subject to withholding tax ("New Withholding Tax Obligations") or the rate of withholding has increased on one or more Collateral Obligations that were subject to withholding tax when the Issuer committed to purchase them ("Increased Rate Withholding Tax Obligations") and (B) in any Due Period, the aggregate of the payments subject to withholding tax on New Withholding Tax Obligations and the increase in payments subject to withholding tax on Increased Rate Withholding Tax Obligations, in each case to the extent not "grossed-up" (on an after-tax basis) by the related obligor, represent 5% or more of Interest Proceeds for the Due Period; or

(ii) taxes, fees, assessments, or other similar charges are imposed on the Issuer or the Co-Issuer in an aggregate amount in any twelve-month period in excess of U.S.$2,000,000, other than any deduction or withholding for or on account of any tax with respect to any payment owing in respect of any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation or Collateral Obligation.

"Tax Opinion of Counsel": A written opinion addressed to the Issuer (a copy of which will be provided to the Trustee) and, if requested, each Rating Agency that has made such request, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee and each Rating Agency, issued by a nationally recognized law firm reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, which law firm is experienced in the relevant areas of tax law, and which law firm may be counsel for the Servicer or the Issuer.

"Transaction Reports": The meaning specified in Section 14.4.

"Transfer Agent": The Person or Persons, which may be the Issuer, authorized by the Issuer to exchange or register the transfer of Notes.

"Transferee Certificate": A certificate substantially in the form of, with respect to the Senior Notes, Exhibit B-1 or, with respect to the Class E Notes, Exhibit B-4 attached hereto, duly completed as appropriate.

"Treasury Regulations": The regulations, including proposed or temporary regulations, promulgated under the Code. References herein to specific provisions of proposed or temporary regulations shall include analogous provisions of final Treasury Regulations or other successor Treasury Regulations.

"Trust Officer": When used with respect to the Trustee, any officer in the Corporate Trust Office (or any successor group of the Trustee) including any director, vice president, assistant vice president, associate, or any other officer of the Trustee customarily performing functions similar to those performed by such officers in the Corporate Trust Office, or to whom any corporate trust matter is referred at the Corporate Trust Office because of his knowledge of and familiarity with the particular subject and having direct responsibility for the administration of this Indenture.

"Trustee": As defined in the first sentence of this Indenture.

"UCC": The Uniform Commercial Code as in effect in the State of New York, and as amended from time to time.

"Uncertificated Security": The meaning specified in Section 8-102(a)(18) of the UCC.

"Underlying Instrument": The loan agreement, indenture, credit agreement, or other agreement pursuant to which a Pledged Obligation has been issued or created and each other agreement that governs the terms of or secures the obligations represented by the Pledged Obligation or of which the holders of the Pledged Obligation are the beneficiaries.

"Unfunded Amount": With respect to any Revolving Loan or any Delayed Drawdown Loan at any time, the excess, if any, of (a) the Commitment Amount over (b) the Funded Amount thereof.

"Unregistered Securities": The meaning specified in Section 5.17(c).

"Unscheduled Principal Payments": Any principal payments received with respect to a Collateral Obligation as a result of optional redemptions, exchange offers, tender offers, other payments or prepayments made at the option of the issuer thereof or that are otherwise not scheduled to be made thereunder.

"U.S. Person": A beneficial owner of a Security that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a citizen or individual resident of the United States of America, an entity treated for United States federal income tax purposes as a corporation or a partnership created or organized in or under the laws of the United States of America or any state thereof or the District of Columbia, an estate the income of which is includable in gross income for U.S. federal income tax purposes regardless of its source, or a trust if, in general, a court within the United States of America is able to exercise primary supervision over its administration and one or more U.S. Persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of such trust, and certain eligible trusts that have elected to be treated as U.S. Persons.

"Valuation Report": The meaning specified in Section 10.6(b).

"Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon": As of any Measurement Date, the rate obtained by:

(i) multiplying the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation that is a Fixed Rate Obligation held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date by the current per annum rate at which it pays interest (other than, with respect to Collateral Obligations that are not PIK Securities, any interest that is not required to be paid in Cash and may be deferred), using only the effective after-tax interest rate determined by the Servicer on any Fixed Rate Obligation after taking into account any withholding tax or other deductions on account of tax of any jurisdiction and any gross-up paid by the obligor);

(ii) summing the amounts determined pursuant to clause (i);

(iii) dividing the sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations that are Fixed Rate Obligations held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date; and

(iv) if the result obtained in clause (iii) is less than the minimum percentage rate specified to satisfy the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test, adding to the sum the amount of any Spread Excess as of the Measurement Date, but only to the extent required to satisfy the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test.

"Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test": A test that is satisfied if, as of any Measurement Date, the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon equals or exceeds 7.5%.

"Weighted Average Life": As of any Measurement Date, the number obtained by

(i) summing the products obtained by multiplying

(A) the Average Life at that time of each Collateral Obligation by

(B) the Principal Balance at that time of the Collateral Obligation and

(ii) dividing that sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance at that time of all Collateral Obligations.

"Weighted Average Life Test": A test that is satisfied as of any Measurement Date if the Weighted Average Life on that date of all Collateral Obligations is equal to or less than the greater of (a) the number of years (including any fraction of a year) between such Measurement Date and August 1, 2017 or, in the case of a Maturity Extension, the Extended Weighted Average Life Date and (b) 3 years.

"Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor": The summation of the products obtained by multiplying the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation (excluding Eligible Investments) by its respective Moody's Rating Factor, dividing that sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Collateral Obligations (excluding Eligible Investments) and rounding the result up to the nearest whole number.

"Weighted Average Moody's Recovery Rate Test": A test that is satisfied as of any Measurement Date if the Moody's Minimum Average Recovery Rate is greater than or equal to 43.3%.

"Weighted Average Rating Factor Test": A test that is satisfied as of any Measurement Date if the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor of the Collateral Obligations (excluding Eligible Investments) as of such Measurement Date is less than or equal to the Maximum Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor.

"Weighted Average S&P Recovery Rate Test": A test that is satisfied as of any Measurement Date if the S&P Recovery Rate for each Class of Notes is greater than or equal to: (i) with respect to the Class A Notes, 63.0%; (ii) with respect to the Class B Notes, 65.0%; (iii) with respect to the Class C Notes, 67.0%; (iv) with respect to the Class D Notes, 69.0% and (v) with respect to the Class E Notes, 72.0%.

"Weighted Average Spread": As of any Measurement Date, a rate obtained by:

(i) multiplying the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation that is a Floating Rate Obligation held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date by the current per annum contract spread at which it pays interest (which (w) for PIK Securities for which interest has been deferred or capitalized, will be deemed to be zero, (x) for Collateral Obligations that would be PIK Securities but for the proviso in the definition thereof, will be deemed to be equal to the effective rate of PIK Cash-Pay Interest applicable thereto, (y) for any Revolving Loan or Delayed Draw Loan, will be the per annum contract spread for the Funded Amount thereof and the rate of the commitment fee and such other fees payable to the Issuer for any Unfunded Amount thereof and (z) for any synthetic letter of credit, will be the all-in rate (including any fees payable to the Issuer by the underlying obligor) minus the applicable LIBOR), determined with respect to any Floating Rate Obligation that does not bear interest based on a London interbank offered rate, by expressing the current interest rate on the Floating Rate Obligation as a spread above a three month London interbank offered rate calculated in a manner consistent with the calculation of LIBOR;

(ii) summing the amounts determined pursuant to clause (i);

(iii) dividing that sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance of all Floating Rate Obligations held by the Issuer as of the Measurement Date; and

(iv) if the result obtained in clause (iii) is less than the minimum percentage rate specified to pass the Weighted Average Spread Test, adding to that sum the amount of Fixed Rate Excess as of the Measurement Date.

"Weighted Average Spread Test": A test that is satisfied as of any Measurement Date if the Weighted Average Spread as of the Measurement Date equals or exceeds the Minimum Weighted Average Spread.

"Workout Assets": A Loan, High-Yield Bond, or Qualified Equity Security acquired in connection with the workout or restructuring of any Collateral Obligation that the Issuer does not advance any funds to purchase that does not qualify as a Collateral Obligation.

"Written-Down Obligation": As of any date of determination, any Structured Finance Obligation as to which the Issuer or the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, has been notified by the issuer of the Structured Finance Obligation that the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Structured Finance Obligation and all other Structured Finance Obligations secured by the same pool of collateral that rank pari passu with or senior in priority of payment to the Structured Finance Obligation exceeds the aggregate principal balance (including reserved interest or other amounts available for overcollateralization) of all collateral securing the Structured Finance Obligation and such other pari passu and senior Structured Finance Obligations (excluding defaulted collateral).

"Zero-Coupon Security": A security that, at the time of determination, does not make periodic payments of interest. A Zero-Coupon Security shall not include a security that is a PIK Security.

Section 1.2. Assumptions as to Pledged Obligations; Construction Conventions.

This Section 1.2 shall be applied in connection with all calculations required to be made pursuant to this Indenture:

- with respect to the scheduled payment of principal or interest on any Pledged Obligation, or any payments on any other assets included in the Collateral,
- with respect to the sale of and acquisition of Collateral Obligations,
- with respect to the income that can be earned on the scheduled payment of principal or interest on the Pledged Obligations and on any other amounts that may be received for deposit in the Collection Account, and
- with respect to the treatment of Collateral Obligations loaned pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement.

The provisions of this Section 1.2 shall be applicable to any determination or calculation that is covered by this Section 1.2, whether or not reference is specifically made to Section 1.2, unless some other method of calculation or determination is expressly specified in the particular provision.

(a) All calculations with respect to the scheduled payment of principal or interest on the Pledged Obligations shall be made on the basis of information as to the terms of each Pledged Obligation and on reports of payments received on the Pledged Obligation that are furnished by or on behalf of the issuer of the Pledged Obligation and, to the extent they are not manifestly in error, the information or report may be conclusively relied on in making the calculations.

(b) For each Due Period and as of any Measurement Date, the scheduled payment of principal or interest on any Pledged Obligation shall be the sum of

(i) the total amount of payments and collections reasonably expected to be received during the Due Period in respect of the Pledged Obligation that, if paid as scheduled, will be available for payment on the Notes and of certain expenses of the Issuer and the Co-Issuer in the Collection Account at the end of the Due Period; and

(ii) any such amounts received in prior Due Periods that were not disbursed on a previous Payment Date.

Except as provided in paragraph (h) below, a Non-Performing Collateral Obligation shall be assumed to have a scheduled payment of principal and interest of zero.

The total amount of payments and collections reasonably expected to be received includes the proceeds of the sale of the Pledged Obligation received and, in the case of sales which have not yet settled, to be received during the Due Period and not used to purchase additional Collateral Obligations (including any related deposit into the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account or the posting by the Issuer of cash collateral with (or for the benefit of) a Synthetic Security Counterparty, Securities Lending Counterparty, or Hedge Counterparty simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into a Synthetic Security, Securities Lending Agreement, or Hedge Agreement) or Eligible Investments or retained in the Collection Account for subsequent application thereof to purchase additional Collateral Obligations pursuant to Section 12.2.

(c) For purposes of the applicable determinations required by Article 12 and the definition of "Interest Coverage Ratio," the expected interest on Collateral Obligations shall be calculated using their then current interest rates.

(d) With respect to any Collateral Obligation, the date on which it "matures" (or its "maturity" date) shall be the earlier of

(i) the stated maturity of the obligation or

(ii) if the Issuer has the right to require the issuer or obligor of the Collateral Obligation to purchase, redeem, or retire the Collateral Obligation at a price of at least par on any one or more dates before its Stated Maturity (a "put right") and the Servicer certifies to the Trustee that it will cause the Issuer to direct the Trustee to exercise the put right on a date, the maturity date shall be the date specified in the certification.

(e) For purposes of calculating compliance with the Collateral Quality Tests (other than the Diversity Test and the S&P Industry Classification with respect to the S&P CDO Monitor Test), the Coverage Tests, and the Retention Overcollateralization Test and all related definitions, unless otherwise specified in this Indenture a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of the Synthetic Security and not of the Reference Obligation. For purposes of calculating compliance with the Concentration Limitations other than limits relating to payment characteristics, and all related definitions, unless otherwise specified in this Indenture or by the Rating Agencies, a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of its Reference Obligations and not the Synthetic Security. For purposes of calculating compliance with the Concentration Limitations relating to payment characteristics, and all related definitions, unless otherwise specified in this Indenture or by the Rating Agencies, a Synthetic Security shall be included as a Collateral Obligation having the characteristics of the Synthetic Security and not its Reference Obligations.

(f) Any Collateral Obligation loaned to a Securities Lending Counterparty shall be included in the Collateral Quality Tests, the Coverage Tests, and the Retention Overcollateralization Test and the Principal Balance of any Collateral Obligation loaned to a Securities Lending Counterparty shall be included in the Aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations, in each case unless an "event of default" (under and as defined in the related Securities Lending Agreement) is continuing.

(g) If a Class of Notes ceases to be Outstanding, then any Coverage Test computed by reference to the Class of Notes (but not to any subordinate Class of Notes then Outstanding) shall cease to be of any force.

(h) For purposes of calculating compliance with the Eligibility Criteria (other than the Weighted Average Life Test), at the direction of the Servicer by notice to the Trustee, during the Replacement Period any Eligible Investment representing Principal Proceeds received upon the maturity, redemption, sale, or other disposition of a Collateral Obligation (or, after the Replacement Period, in respect of Principal Proceeds constituting Unscheduled Principal Payments and Sale Proceeds from Credit Risk Obligations and Credit Improved Obligations) shall be deemed to have the characteristics of the disposed Collateral Obligation until used to purchase an additional Collateral Obligation. The calculations shall be based on the Principal Balance of the disposed Collateral Obligations except in the case of Defaulted Collateral Obligations and Credit Risk Securities, in which case the calculations will be based on the Principal Proceeds received on the disposition or sale of the Defaulted Collateral Obligation or Credit Risk Obligation.

(i) The calculation on any Coverage Test on any Determination Date shall be made by giving effect to all payments to be made pursuant to all subclauses of the Priority of Payments as applicable, payable on the Payment Date following such Determination Date. In addition no Principal Proceeds will be used to pay a subordinated Class on a Payment Date if, after giving effect to such payment, any Coverage Test of a more senior Class of Notes is failing on such Payment Date or would fail as a result of such application of the Principal Proceeds on such Payment Date.

Section 1.3. Rules of Interpretation.

Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Indenture or unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) Defined terms include, as appropriate, all genders and the plural as well as the singular.

(b) References to designated articles, sections, subsections, exhibits, and other subdivisions of this Indenture, such as "Section 6.13 (a)", refer to the designated article, section, subsection, exhibit, or other subdivision of this Indenture as a whole and to all subdivisions of the designated article, section, subsection, exhibit, or other subdivision. The words "herein", "hereof", "hereto", "hereunder" and other words of similar import refer to this Indenture as a whole and not to any particular article, section, exhibit, or other subdivision of this Indenture.

(c) Any term that relates to a document or a statute, rule, or regulation includes any amendments, modifications, supplements, or any other changes that may have occurred since the document, statute, rule, or regulation came into being, including changes that occur after the date of this Indenture. References to law are not limited to statutes. Any reference to any Person includes references to its successors and assigns.

(d) Any party may execute any of the requirements under this Indenture either directly or through others, and the right to cause something to be done rather than doing it directly shall be implicit in every requirement under this Indenture. Unless a provision is restricted as to time or limited as to frequency, all provisions under this Indenture are implicitly available and things may happen from time to time.

(e) The term "including" and all its variations mean "including but not limited to." Except when used in conjunction with the word "either", the word "or" is always used inclusively (for example, the phrase "A or B" means "A or B or both", not "either A or B but not both").

(f) A reference to "a thing" or "any of a thing" does not imply the existence or occurrence of the thing referred to even though not followed by "if any", and "any of a thing" is any and all of it. A reference to the plural of anything as to which there could be either one or more than one does not imply the existence of more than one (for instance, the phrase "the obligors on a note" means "the obligor or obligors on a note"). "Until something occurs" does not imply that it must occur, and will not be modified by the word "unless." The word "due" and the word "payable" are each used in the sense that the stated time for payment has passed. The word "accrued" is used in its accounting sense, i.e., an amount paid is no longer accrued. In the calculation of amounts of things, differences and sums may generally result in negative numbers, but when the calculation of the excess of one thing over another results in zero or a negative number, the calculation is disregarded and an "excess" does not exist. Portions of things may be expressed as fractions or percentages interchangeably. The word "shall" is used in its imperative sense, as for instance meaning a party agrees to something or something must occur or exist.

(g) All accounting terms used in an accounting context and not otherwise defined, and accounting terms partly defined in this Indenture, to the extent not completely defined, shall be construed in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. To the extent that the definitions of accounting terms in this Indenture are inconsistent with their meanings under generally accepted accounting principles, the definitions contained in this Indenture shall control.

(h) In the computation of a period of time from a specified date to a later specified date or an open-ended period, the words "from" and "beginning" mean "from and including", the word "after" means "from but excluding," the words "to" and "until" mean "to but excluding", and the word "through" means "to and including." Likewise, in setting deadlines or other periods, "by" means "on or before." The words "preceding", "following", "before", "after", "next" and words of similar import, mean immediately preceding or following. References to a month or a year refer to calendar months and calendar years.

(i) Any reference to the enforceability of any agreement against a party means that it is enforceable against the party in accordance with its terms, subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, and other similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors' rights and to general equity principles.

(j) Except when only the registered holder is recognized, such as in Section 2.9., references to Noteholders, holders, and the like refer equally to beneficial owners who have an interest in a Note but are not reflected in the Indenture Register as the owner.

THE NOTES

Section 2.1. Forms Generally.

The Notes and the Trustee's or Authenticating Agent's certificate of authentication on them (the "Certificate of Authentication") shall be in substantially the forms required by this Article, with appropriate insertions, omissions, substitutions, and other variations required or permitted by this Indenture, and may have any letters, numbers, or other marks of identification and any legends or endorsements on them that are consistent with this Indenture, as determined by the Authorized Officers of the Issuer executing the Notes as evidenced by their execution of the Notes.

Section 2.2. Forms of Notes and Certificate of Authentication.

(a) The Senior Notes, including the Regulation S Global Notes, Rule 144A Global Notes and Certificate of Authentication, shall be in the forms of the applicable portion of Exhibit A-1.

(b) Regulation S Global Notes. The Senior Notes of each Class sold to non-U.S. persons in off-shore transactions in reliance on Regulation S shall each be represented by one or more global notes in definitive, fully registered form without interest coupons substantially in the form of the applicable portion of Exhibit A-1, including legends (the "Regulation S Global Notes"). The global notes shall be deposited on behalf of the subscribers for the Senior Notes represented thereby with the Trustee as custodian for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, the Depository for the respective accounts of Euroclear and Clearstream, duly executed by the Applicable Issuers and authenticated by the Trustee as hereinafter provided. The aggregate principal amount of the Regulation S Global Notes may from time to time be increased or decreased by adjustments made on the records of the Trustee or the Depository or its nominee, as the case may be, as hereinafter provided. As used above and in subsection (d) below, "U.S. person" and "off-shore transaction" have the meanings assigned to them in Regulation S.

(c) Rule 144A Global Notes. The Senior Notes of each Class initially sold to U.S. persons that are Qualified Institutional Buyers (or, solely in the case of certain Holders purchasing Class E Notes on the Closing Date, Institutional Accredited Investors) and Qualified Purchasers shall each be issued initially in the form of one permanent global note per Class in definitive, fully registered form without interest coupons substantially in the form of the applicable portion of Exhibit A-1, including legends (each, a "Rule 144A Global Note"), which shall be deposited on behalf of the subscribers for the Senior Notes represented thereby with the Trustee as custodian for, and registered in the name of a nominee of, the Depository, duly executed by the Applicable Issuers and authenticated by the Trustee as hereinafter provided. The aggregate principal amount of the Rule 144A Global Notes may from time to time be increased or decreased by adjustments made on the records of the Trustee or the Depository or its nominee, as the case may be, as hereinafter provided.

(d) Book-Entry Provisions. This Section 2.2(d) shall apply only to Global Notes deposited with or on behalf of the Depository. The "Operating Procedures of the Euroclear System" of Euroclear and the "Terms and Conditions Governing Use of Participants" of Clearstream, respectively, shall be applicable to the Regulation S Global Notes insofar as interests in the Global Notes are held by the Agent Members of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be.

Agent Members shall have no rights under this Indenture with respect to any Global Note held on their behalf by the Trustee, as custodian for the Depository and the Depository may be treated by the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, and any agent of the Co-Issuers or the Trustee as the absolute owner of the Senior Note for all purposes whatsoever. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in this Indenture shall prevent the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, or any agent of the Co-Issuers or the Trustee, from giving effect to any written certification, proxy, or other authorization furnished by the Depository or impair, as between the Depository and its Agent Members, the operation of customary practices governing the exercise of the rights of a Holder of any Senior Note.

(e) The Class E Notes shall be issued in the form of one or more certificated Class E Notes in definitive, fully registered form without interest coupons substantially in the form of Exhibit A-2, including legends (each, a "Certificated Class E Note"), which shall be registered in the name of the owner thereof.

Section 2.3. Authorized Amount; Denominations.

(a) The aggregate principal amount of Notes that may be authenticated and delivered under this Indenture is limited to U.S.$920,000,000, except for Notes authenticated and delivered upon registration of, transfer of, or in exchange for, or in lieu of, other Notes pursuant to Section 2.6, 2.7, or 8.5.

(b) The Notes shall be divided into the following Classes, having the designations, original principal amounts and other characteristics as follows:

Original Principal Amount	$570,500,000	$142,500,000	$80,000,000	$53,500,000	$36,000,000	$37,500,000
Interest Rate	LIBOR + 0.225%	LIBOR + 0.340%	LIBOR + 0.440%	LIBOR + 0.850%	LIBOR + 2.350%	LIBOR + 4.300%
Initial Rating (Moody's/S&P)	Aaa/AAA	Aaa/AAA	Aa2/AA	A2/A	Baa2/BBB	Ba2/BB

(c) The Notes will be issuable in minimum denominations of U.S.$250,000, and integral multiples of U.S.$1,000 in excess of that amount.

(d) The Issuer will also issue 39,000 Class I Preference Shares and 41,000 Class II Preference Shares pursuant to the Preference Share Documents, simultaneously with the issuance of the Notes under this Indenture. At any time during the Replacement Period, the Issuer may issue and sell additional Preference Shares and use the proceeds from such issuance and sale to purchase additional Collateral Obligations or as otherwise permitted under the Preference Share Documents and this Indenture pursuant to Section 6 of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement. The Preference Shares are not secured by the lien of this Indenture. Any payments made by the Trustee hereunder with respect to the Preference Shares (other than, as and to the extent described herein, the Class II Preference Share Special Payments) will be released by the Trustee to the Preference Shares Paying Agent on each Payment Date in accordance with the Priority of Payments for deposit into the Preference Shares Distribution Account for payment, subject to Cayman Islands law, to Holders of the Preference Shares as dividends or Redemption Price, as applicable.

Section 2.4. *Extension of Replacement Period and Stated Maturity.

(a) The Issuer, if directed by the Servicer, shall be entitled on each Extension Effective Date to extend the Replacement Period to the applicable Extended Replacement Period End Date up to a maximum of four times if (i) in the case of an Extension Effective Date occurring after the first Extension Effective Date, the Issuer has previously effected a Maturity Extension for each preceding Extension Effective Date in accordance with this Section 2.4 and (ii) the Extension Conditions set forth in Section 2.4(c) are satisfied and the Issuer has given written notice of its election to extend the Replacement Period to the Trustee no later than 60 days and no earlier than 90 days prior to such Extension Effective Date. If the Extension Conditions are satisfied, the Stated Maturity of the Notes shall be automatically extended to the related Extended Stated Maturity Date and the Weighted Average Life Test shall be automatically extended to the related Extended Weighted Average Life Date, without any requirement for approval or consent of any Holders of Notes or Preference Shares or amendment or supplement to this Indenture or the Preference Share Documents (the "Maturity Extension"); provided that the Issuer will not be permitted to effect more than four Maturity Extensions.

(b) In the case of a Maturity Extension, any Holder of Securities wishing to sell such Securities to an Extension Qualifying Purchaser pursuant to the Extension Conditions must provide the applicable Extension Sale Notice within the Extension Sale Notice Period pursuant to Section 2.4(d) (such Securities as to which an Extension Sale Notice has been duly given, "Extension Sale Securities"). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, in connection with an Extension Sale, all, but not part, of the Extension Sale Securities shall be purchased and settled at the applicable Extension Purchase Price on the applicable Extension Effective Date.

(c) The Maturity Extension shall be effective only if the following conditions (the "Extension Conditions") are satisfied:

- (i) the purchase of all Extension Sale Securities has been settled by the designated Extension Qualifying Purchasers at the applicable Extension Purchase Price as of the applicable Extension Effective Date;
- (ii) all such purchases of Extension Sale Securities individually and in the aggregate comply with the applicable transfer restrictions in this Indenture and the Preference Share Documents immediately after such purchase and the legends on such Extension Sale Securities and all applicable law, rules and regulations (including, without limitation, rules, regulations and procedures of any applicable securities exchange, self-regulatory organization or clearing agency);
- (iii) (a) the Rating Condition has been satisfied with respect to S&P (so long as any Notes are then rated by S&P) and (b) the Rating Condition has been satisfied with respect to Moody's (so long as any Notes are then rated by Moody's);
- (iv) the Issuer has not effected more than three prior Extensions; and
- (v) such extension is not effected for the primary purpose of decreasing losses or recognizing gains resulting from market value changes.

The Issuer, the Trustee and, by its acceptance of the Notes, each Noteholder agrees that neither of the Initial Purchasers shall be responsible for causing the Extension Conditions to be satisfied and neither of the Initial Purchasers shall be liable to any such Person or Noteholders (whether or not such Holder gave an Extension Sale Notice with respect to its Notes) or to any other Person if the Extension Conditions are not satisfied. Failure of the Extension Conditions to be satisfied shall not constitute a Default or Event of Default under this Indenture.

(i) Not later than three Business Days following receipt by the Trustee of the notice given by the Issuer of its election to extend the Replacement Period (the "Extension Notice"), the Trustee shall mail the Extension Notice to all Noteholders, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of the Preference Shares) and each Rating Agency (so long as any rated Notes are Outstanding), in the form of Exhibit I, and shall request the Rating Confirmation for the Maturity Extension from each Rating Agency, if applicable;

(ii) Any Holder of the Securities may deliver an irrevocable notice (an "Extension Sale Notice") to the Issuer and the Trustee within 30 days after the Trustee has mailed the Extension Notice (the "Extension Sale Notice Period") of its intention to sell all or a portion of its Securities to an Extension Qualifying Purchaser in the case of a Maturity Extension. Any Extension Sale Notice received by the Trustee after the Extension Sale Notice Period shall be disregarded and deemed not to have been given. No Holder of the Securities that has not delivered such an Extension Sale Notice within the Extension Sale Notice Period shall be entitled to sell its Securities to an Extension Qualifying Purchaser in connection with the Maturity Extension; and

(iii) If clause (iii)(b) of the Extension Conditions is not satisfied as of the applicable Extension Determination Date as determined by the Issuer (or its agent), the Trustee shall request the Rating Condition to be satisfied with respect to Moody's.

(e) On the applicable Extension Determination Date, the Issuer (or its agent) shall confirm (i) whether or not Extension Qualifying Purchasers for all Extension Sale Securities have been designated to purchase such Extension Sale Securities in compliance with all transfer restrictions in this Indenture and the Preference Share Documents and the legends on such Extension Sale Securities and all applicable laws, rules and regulations (including, without limitation, any rules, regulations and procedures of any securities exchange, self-regulatory organization or clearing agency), (ii) whether the requirements of clause (c)(iii) of the Extension Conditions are satisfied as of the applicable Extension Determination Date and (iii) whether all other Extension Conditions can be satisfied as of the applicable Extension Effective Date.

(f) On each Extension Effective Date, the Maturity Extension shall automatically become effective under the terms of this Indenture; provided that all Extension Conditions set forth in clauses (a) and (c) above are satisfied (as certified to the Trustee by a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Issuer). No later than two Business Days after each Extension Effective Date, the Trustee based on a determination made by the Issuer in consultation with the Servicer, at the expense of the Co-Issuers, shall mail a notice to all Noteholders, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), the Servicer, the Initial Purchasers, each Rating Agency (so long as any rated Notes are Outstanding) and the Irish Stock Exchange (if and for so long as any Class of Senior Notes is listed thereon) confirming whether or not the Maturity Extension became effective. If the Maturity Extension became effective, the Issuer shall make any required notifications thereof to the Depository for any Notes subject to the Maturity Extension.

(g) In the case of a Maturity Extension, each Noteholder, other than a Holder of Extension Sale Securities, shall be entitled to receive an amount equal to the applicable Extension Bonus Payment. Holders of Preference Shares shall not be entitled to receive any Extension Bonus Payment.

The Extension Bonus Payment shall be payable to any applicable qualifying beneficial owners who have provided the Trustee with an Extension Bonus Eligibility Certification on the first Payment Date from and including each Extension Effective Date on which funds are available to be used for such purposes in accordance with Priority of Payments, but in any event, no later than the earlier of the Stated Maturity and the date of redemption of the Notes. Extension Bonus Payments which are not available to be paid on a Payment Date in accordance with the Priority of Payments shall not be considered "due and payable" hereunder. The failure to pay any such Extension Bonus Payment on such date shall not be an Event of Default, unless the Issuer shall fail to pay in full such Extension Bonus Payment on the earlier of the Stated Maturity and the date of redemption in full of the relevant Securities. Unpaid Extension Bonus Payments shall not accrue interest. Such amounts shall be paid, in the case of the Notes, to the accounts designated in the applicable Extension Bonus Eligibility Certification or, to the extent otherwise required by the rules of any applicable securities exchange or clearing agency, in a manner determined by the Issuer.

(h) If any Holder of Class II Preference Shares delivers an Extension Sale Notice notifying the Issuer and the Trustee of its intention to sell all or a portion of its Class II Preference Shares, such Holder will sell such Class II Preference Shares to the Extension Qualifying Purchaser and such Preference Shares will be redesignated as Class I Preference Shares.

Section 2.5. *Execution, Authentication, Delivery, and Dating.

The Notes shall be executed on behalf of each of the Applicable Issuers by one of their respective Authorized Officers. The signature of the Authorized Officer on the Notes may be manual or facsimile.

Notes bearing the manual or facsimile signatures of individuals who were at any time the Authorized Officers of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, as applicable, shall bind the Issuer and the Co-Issuer, notwithstanding that any of them have ceased to hold their offices before the authentication and delivery of the Notes or did not hold their offices at the date of issuance of the Notes.

At any time and from time to time after the execution and delivery of this Indenture, the Co-Issuers may deliver the Senior Notes and the Issuer may deliver the Class E Notes, in each case executed by the Applicable Issuers to the Trustee or the Authenticating Agent for authentication and the Trustee or the Authenticating Agent, upon Issuer Order, shall authenticate and deliver the Notes as provided in this Indenture and not otherwise.

Each Note authenticated and delivered by the Trustee or the Authenticating Agent upon Issuer Order on the Closing Date shall be dated as of the Closing Date. All other Notes that are authenticated after the Closing Date for any other purpose under this Indenture shall be dated the date of their authentication.

Notes issued upon transfer, exchange, or replacement of other Notes shall be issued in authorized denominations reflecting the original Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Notes so transferred, exchanged, or replaced, but shall represent only the current outstanding principal amount of the Notes so transferred, exchanged, or replaced. If any Note is divided into more than one Note in accordance with this Article 2, the original principal amount of the Note shall be proportionately divided among the Notes delivered in exchange for it and shall be the original aggregate principal amount of the subsequently issued Notes.

No Note shall be entitled to any benefit under this Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose, unless there appears on the Note a Certificate of Authentication executed by the Trustee or by the Authenticating Agent by the manual signature of one of their Authorized Officers, and that certificate on any Note shall be conclusive evidence, and the only evidence, that the Note has been duly authenticated and delivered under this Indenture.

Section 2.6. Registration, Registration of Transfer and Exchange.

(a) The Issuer shall cause a register (the "Indenture Register") to be kept in which the Issuer shall provide for the registration of Notes and the registration of transfers of Notes. The Trustee is hereby initially appointed "Indenture Registrar" for the purpose of registering Notes and transfers of the Notes as provided in this Indenture. The Issuer may rely conclusively on any such information provided to it by the Trustee. Upon any resignation or removal of the Indenture Registrar, the Issuer shall promptly appoint a successor and notify the Servicer of the appointment or, in the absence of such appointment, assume the duties of Indenture Registrar.

If the Issuer appoints a Person other than the Trustee to be Indenture Registrar, the Issuer will give the Trustee prompt written notice of the appointment of the Indenture Registrar and of the location, and any change in the location, of the Indenture Register. The Trustee may inspect the Indenture Register at all reasonable times and obtain copies of it. The Trustee may rely on a certificate executed on behalf of the Indenture Registrar by an Officer of the Indenture Registrar as to the names and addresses of the Noteholders and the principal amounts and number of the Notes.

Upon surrender for registration of transfer of any Notes at the office or agency of the Applicable Issuers to be maintained pursuant to Section 7.2, if the requirements of this Indenture are met the Applicable Issuers shall execute, and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver, in the name of the designated transferees, new Notes of any authorized denomination and of a like original Aggregate Outstanding Amount.

At the option of their Holder, Notes may be exchanged for Notes of like terms, in any authorized denominations and of like aggregate principal amount, upon surrender of the Notes to be exchanged at the office or agency of the Applicable Issuers to be maintained pursuant to Section 7.2. Whenever any Note is surrendered for exchange, the Applicable Issuers shall execute, and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver, the Notes that the Noteholder making the exchange is entitled to receive.

All Notes issued on any registration of transfer or exchange of Notes shall be the valid obligations of the Applicable Issuers evidencing the same obligations and entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture as the Notes surrendered for registration of transfer or exchange.

Every Note presented or surrendered for registration of transfer or exchange shall be duly endorsed, or be accompanied by a written instrument of transfer in form satisfactory to the Indenture Registrar duly executed by its holder or his attorney duly authorized in writing.

No Holder shall incur a service charge for any registration of transfer or exchange of the Notes, but the Trustee may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge payable in connection therewith.

(b) No Note may be sold or transferred (including by pledge or hypothecation) unless the sale or transfer is exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, is exempt from the registration requirements under applicable state securities laws, and will not cause either of the Co-Issuers to become subject to the requirement that it register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act. None of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee or any other Person shall have any obligation to register the Notes under the Securities Act or any state securities laws.

(c) (i) No Note or interest therein may be transferred to any purchaser or transferee unless such purchase, holding and disposition of such Note will not result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (or, in the case of a governmental, foreign or church plan, any federal, state, foreign or local law that is substantially similar to Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code).

(ii) No person shall be permitted to acquire any Class E Note if such acquisition would result in persons who have represented that they are Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of the Class E Notes immediately after such sale or transfer (excluding, as described below, for purposes of such determination any Class E Notes held by any Controlling Person (as defined below) and its affiliates (as defined below)) determined in accordance with Section 3(42) of ERISA. Under the Plan Asset Regulation, an "affiliate" of a person includes any person, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controlling, controlled by or under common control with the person, and "control" with respect to a person other than an individual, means the power to exercise a controlling influence over the management or policies of such person. In making the 25% determination, Class E Notes held by any person (other than a Benefit Plan Investor) that has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the Issuer or a person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to the assets of the Issuer or any affiliate of any such person (any such person, a "Controlling Person") (such as the Class E Notes held by the Servicer or its affiliates) will be disregarded and not treated as outstanding.

(iii) Any person described in paragraph (i) and (ii) above is referred to herein as a "Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor." Any transfer of a beneficial interest to a Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor shall be void and any such purported transfer of which the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or the Trustee has notice may be disregarded by the Issuer, the Co-Issuer and the Trustee for all purposes.

(d) None of the Trustee, the Share Registrar or the Indenture Registrar shall be responsible for ascertaining whether any transfer complies with, or for otherwise monitoring or determining compliance with, the requirements or terms of the Securities Act, applicable state securities laws, ERISA, the Code or the Investment Company Act; except that if a certificate or any other document is specifically required by this Section 2.6 to be provided to the Trustee or such Registrar by a prospective transferee, the Trustee and such Registrar, as applicable, shall be under a duty to receive and examine the same to determine whether it conforms substantially on its face to the applicable requirements of this Section 2.6.

(e) For so long as any of the Notes are Outstanding, the Issuer shall not issue or register the transfer of any Issuer Ordinary Shares to U.S. persons and the Co-Issuer shall not issue or register the transfer of any of its shares of the Co-Issuer to U.S. persons. As used in this subsection (e), "U.S. person" has the meaning assigned to it in Regulation S.

(f) So long as a Global Note remains Outstanding and is held by or on behalf of the Depository, transfers of the Global Note, in whole or in part, shall only be made in accordance with Section 2.2(c), Section 2.6(c) and this Section 2.6(f).

(i) Subject to clauses (ii), (iii) and (iv) of this Section 2.6(f), transfers of a Global Note shall be limited to transfers of the Global Note in whole, but not in part, to nominees of the Depository.

(ii) Rule 144A Global Note to Regulation S Global Note. If a Holder of a beneficial interest in a Rule 144A Global Note deposited with the Depository wishes at any time to exchange its interest in the Rule 144A Global Note for an interest in the corresponding Regulation S Global Note, or to transfer its interest in the Rule 144A Global Note to a Person who wishes to take delivery of it in the form of an interest in the corresponding Regulation S Global Note, the Holder may exchange or transfer the interest for an equivalent beneficial interest in the corresponding Regulation S Global Note (subject to the rules and procedures of the Depository) if the Holder after the exchange or transfer is not a U.S. person.

The Indenture Registrar shall instruct the Depository to reduce the principal amount of the Rule 144A Global Note and to increase the principal amount of the Regulation S Global Note by the aggregate principal amount of the beneficial interest in the Rule 144A Global Note to be exchanged, and to credit to the securities account of the Person specified in the instructions a beneficial interest in the corresponding Regulation S Global Note equal to the reduction in the principal amount of the Rule 144A Global Note upon receipt by the Indenture Registrar of

(A) instructions given in accordance with the Depository's procedures from an Agent Member directing the Indenture Registrar to credit a beneficial interest in the corresponding Regulation S Global Note, but not less than the minimum denomination applicable to the Holder's Senior Notes, equal to the beneficial interest in the Rule 144A Global Note to be exchanged or transferred,

(B) a written order given in accordance with the Depository's procedures containing information regarding the participant account of the Depository and the Euroclear or Clearstream account to be credited with the increase,

(C) a certificate in the form of Exhibit B-3 given by the Holder of the beneficial interest stating that the exchange or transfer of the interest has been made in compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the Global Notes, including that the Holder or the transferee, as applicable, is not a U.S. person, and that the transfer has been made pursuant to and in accordance with Regulation S, and

(D) in the case of a transfer, a certificate in the applicable form of Exhibit B-1 given by the proposed transferee stating that it is not a U.S. person.

(iii) Regulation S Global Note to Rule 144A Global Note. If a Holder of a Senior Note held as a beneficial interest in a Regulation S Global Note deposited with the Depository wishes at any time to exchange its interest in the Regulation S Global Note for an interest in the corresponding Rule 144A Global Note or to transfer its interest in the Regulation S Global Note to a Person who wishes to take delivery of it in the form of an interest in the corresponding Rule 144A Global Note, the Holder may, subject to the rules and procedures of Euroclear, Clearstream or the Depository, as the case may be, exchange or transfer, or cause the exchange or transfer of, the interest for an equivalent beneficial interest in the corresponding Rule 144A Global Note. Upon receipt by the Indenture Registrar of:

(A) instructions from Euroclear, Clearstream or the Depository, as the case may be, directing the Indenture Registrar to cause to be credited a beneficial interest in the corresponding Rule 144A Global Note equal to the beneficial interest in the Regulation S Global Note, but not less than the minimum denomination applicable to the Holder's Senior Notes, to be exchanged or transferred, the instructions to contain information regarding the participant account with the Depository to be credited with the increase,

(B) a certificate in the form of Exhibit B-2 given by the Holder of the beneficial interest and stating that, in the case of an exchange, the Holder is a Qualified Institutional Buyer and a Qualified Purchaser or, in the case of a transfer, the Person transferring the interest in the Regulation S Global Note reasonably believes that the Person acquiring the interest in a Rule 144A Global Note is a Qualified Institutional Buyer, is obtaining the beneficial interest in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A and in accordance with any applicable securities laws of any state of the United States or any other jurisdiction, and a Qualified Purchaser, and

(C) a certificate in the form of Exhibit B-1 given by the proposed transferee stating that it is a QIB/QP, the Indenture Registrar shall instruct the Depository to reduce the Regulation S Global Note by the aggregate principal amount of the beneficial interest in the Regulation S Global Note to be transferred or exchanged and the Indenture Registrar shall instruct the Depository, concurrently with the reduction, to credit to the securities account of the Person specified in the instructions a beneficial interest in the corresponding Rule 144A Global Note equal to the reduction in the principal amount of the Regulation S Global Note.

(iv) Other Exchanges. If a Global Note is exchanged for Senior Notes in definitive registered form without interest coupons pursuant to Section 2.11, the Senior Notes may be exchanged for one another only in accordance with procedures substantially consistent with the provisions above (including certification requirements intended to insure that the transfers are made only to Holders who are QIB/QPs or non-U.S. persons, or otherwise comply with Regulation S, as the case may be), and as may be from time to time adopted by the Co-Issuers and the Trustee.

(g) So long as the Class E Notes remain Outstanding transfers of such Class E Notes shall only be made in accordance with Section 2.6(c) and this Section 2.6(g) upon receipt by the Indenture Registrar of a certificate in the form of Exhibit B-4 given by the proposed transferee stating that it is a QIB/QP and containing other representations, warranties and agreements of such transferee.

(h) If the Notes are issued upon the transfer, exchange, or replacement of Notes bearing the applicable legends in the applicable forms in Exhibit A, as applicable, and if a request is made to remove the legend on the Notes, the legend shall not be removed unless the Trustee and the Applicable Issuers received satisfactory evidence, which may include an Opinion of Counsel acceptable to them, reasonably required by the Applicable Issuers (and which shall by its terms permit reliance by the Trustee), to the effect that neither the legend nor the restrictions on transfer in it are required to ensure that transfers of the Notes comply with the Securities Act, the Investment Company Act, ERISA and the Code. Upon provision of satisfactory evidence, the Trustee or its Authenticating Agent, at the written direction of the Applicable Issuers shall, after due execution by the Applicable Issuers authenticate and deliver Notes that do not bear the applicable legend.

(i) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Section 2.6 to the contrary:

(i) Restrictions on U.S. Transfers. Transfers of an interest in a Regulation S Global Note that are not made in an offshore transaction pursuant to Regulation S or are made to U.S. Persons, if such transferees take delivery in the form of an interest in a Rule 144A Global Note, shall be limited to transfers made pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.6(f)(iii) and Section 2.6(f)(iv).

(ii) Beneficial interests in a Regulation S Global Note may only be held through Euroclear or Clearstream.

(j) (i) Each Person who becomes a beneficial owner of a Senior Note evidenced by: (A) an interest in a Definitive Note, shall make the representations, warranties and agreements set forth in the applicable Transferee Certificate set forth in Exhibit B-1 upon such Person's purchase or other acquisition of the relevant Definitive Note and (B) an interest in a Global Note, shall be deemed to make the representations, warranties and agreements set forth in the applicable legends of the Notes set forth in Exhibit A-1 hereto and in the applicable Transferee Certificate set forth in Exhibit B-1 hereto upon such Person's purchase or other acquisition of the relevant Global Note.

(ii) Each Person who becomes a beneficial owner of a Class E Note shall make the representations, warranties and agreements set forth in the Transferee Certificate set forth in Exhibit B-4 upon such Person's purchase or other acquisition of such Class E Note.

(k) The aggregate principal amount of any Global Note may be increased or decreased by adjustments made on the records of the Trustee, as custodian for DTC for the Global Note, which adjustments shall be conclusive as to the aggregate principal amount of any Global Note.

(l) Any purported transfer of a Note not in accordance with this Section 2.6 shall be null and void.

Section 2.7. Mutilated, Destroyed, Lost or Stolen Notes.

If the Applicable Issuers, the Trustee, and the relevant Transfer Agent receive evidence to their satisfaction of the destruction, loss or theft of any Note, and they receive the security or indemnity they require to hold each of them harmless, or if any mutilated Note is surrendered to a Transfer Agent, then, in the absence of notice to the Applicable Issuers, the Trustee, or the Transfer Agent that the Note has been acquired by a protected purchaser, the Applicable Issuers shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver, in exchange for the mutilated, destroyed, lost, or stolen Note, a replacement Note, of like tenor and equal principal or face amount.

If, after delivery of the replacement Note or payment on it, a protected purchaser of the predecessor Note presents it for payment, transfer, or exchange, the Applicable Issuers, the Transfer Agent, and the Trustee may recover the replacement Note (or the payment on it) from the Person to whom it was delivered or any Person taking the replacement Note from the Person to whom the replacement Note was delivered or any assignee of that Person, except a protected purchaser, and may recover on the security or indemnity provided therefor to the extent of any loss, damage, cost, or expense incurred by the Applicable Issuers, the Trustee, and the Transfer Agent in connection with it.

If the final payment in respect of any mutilated, destroyed, lost, or stolen Note has become payable, the Applicable Issuers in their discretion may, instead of issuing a new Note pay the Note without requiring its surrender except that any mutilated Note shall be surrendered.

Upon the issuance of any new Note under this Section, the Applicable Issuers or the Trustee may require the payment by its holder of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection with the issuance and any other expenses (including the fees and expenses of the Trustee) connected with it.

Every new Note issued pursuant to this Section in replacement for any mutilated, destroyed, lost, or stolen Note shall be an original additional contractual obligation of the Applicable Issuers and the new Note shall be entitled to all the benefits of this Indenture equally and proportionately with all other Notes of the same Class duly issued under this Indenture, as applicable.

The provisions of this Section are exclusive and shall preclude (to the extent lawful) all other rights with respect to the replacement or payment of mutilated, destroyed, lost, or stolen Notes.

Section 2.8. Payment of Principal and Interest and Other Amounts; Principal and Interest Rights Preserved; Withholding.

(a) The Notes of each Class shall accrue interest during each Interest Period on their Aggregate Outstanding Amount (determined as of the first day of the Interest Period and after giving effect to any redemption or other payment of principal occurring on that day) at the Applicable Note Interest Rate. Interest shall be payable in arrears on each Payment Date. Payment of interest on each Class of Notes shall be subordinated to the payments of interest on the related Priority Classes and other amounts in accordance with the Priority of Payments.

So long as any Priority Classes are Outstanding with respect to any Class of Deferred Interest Notes, any payment of interest due on the Class of Deferred Interest Notes that is not available to be paid ("Deferred Interest") in accordance with the Priority of Payments on any Payment Date shall not be considered "payable" for the purposes of this Indenture (and the failure to pay the interest shall not be an Event of Default) until the Payment Date on which the interest is available to be paid in accordance with the Priority of Payments. Deferred Interest on any Class of Deferred Interest Notes shall be payable on the first Payment Date on which funds are available to be used for that purpose in accordance with the Priority of Payments.

Interest shall cease to accrue on each Note, or in the case of a partial repayment, on the part repaid, from the date of repayment or its Stated Maturity unless payment of principal is improperly withheld or unless there is some other default with respect to the payments of principal.

To the extent lawful and enforceable, interest on Deferred Interest with respect to any Class of Deferred Interest Notes shall accrue at the Note Interest Rate for the Class (and to the extent not paid as current interest on the Payment Date after the Interest Period in which it accrues, shall thereafter be additional Deferred Interest, until paid as provided in this Indenture).

(b) The principal of each Note of each Class matures at par and is payable on the Payment Date that is the Stated Maturity for the Class of Notes, unless the unpaid principal of the Note becomes payable at an earlier date by declaration of acceleration, call for redemption, or otherwise. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the payment of principal of each Class of Notes:

(i) may only occur after principal on each Class of Notes that is a Priority Class with respect to the Class has been paid in full; and

(ii) is subordinated to the payment on each Payment Date of the principal and interest payable on the Priority Classes, and other amounts in accordance with the Priority of Payments; provided that, notwithstanding the foregoing, Interest Proceeds may be used to pay principal of the Class E Notes on any Payment Date to the extent necessary to satisfy the Class E Coverage Tests.

(c) Principal payments on the Notes shall be made in accordance with the Priority of Payments and Section 9.1.

(d) As a condition to the payment of principal of and interest on any Note without the imposition of U.S. withholding tax, the Paying Agent shall require the previous delivery of appropriate properly completed and signed original forms United States federal income tax certifications (generally, an Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 (or applicable successor form) in the case of a Person that is a "United States person" within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code or an appropriate Internal Revenue Service Form W-8 (or applicable successor form) in the case of a Person that is not a "United States person" within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code) or any other certification acceptable to it to enable the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, and any Paying Agent to determine their duties and liabilities with respect to any taxes or other charges that they may be required to deduct or withhold from payments on the Note under any present or future law of the United States or any present or future law of any political subdivision of the United States or taxing authority in the United States or to comply with any reporting or other requirements under any such law.

(e) Payments in respect of interest on and principal of any Note shall be made by the Trustee, or by the Irish Paying Agent, if applicable, in U.S. Dollars to the Depository or its designee with respect to a Global Note and to the Holder or its nominee with respect to a Definitive Note and a Class E Note, by wire transfer, as directed by the Holder, in immediately available funds to a U.S. Dollar account maintained by the Depository or its nominee with respect to a Global Note, and to the Holder or its designee with respect to a Definitive Note and a Class E Note. In the case of a Definitive Note and a Class E Note, its Holder has provided written wiring instructions to the Trustee and, if the payment with respect to a Definitive Note is to be made by the Irish Paying Agent, the Irish Paying Agent, on or before the related Record Date.

If appropriate instructions for the wire transfer are not received by the related Record Date, then the payment will be made by check drawn on a U.S. bank mailed to the address of the Holder in the Indenture Register. Upon final payment due on the Maturity of a Note, its Holder shall present and surrender the Note at the office designated by the Trustee on or before the Maturity. If the Trustee and the Applicable Issuers have been furnished the security or indemnity they require to save each of them harmless and an undertaking thereafter to surrender the certificate, then, in the absence of notice to the Applicable Issuers or the Trustee that the applicable Note has been acquired by a protected purchaser, the final payment shall be made without presentation or surrender. Neither the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Share Registrar nor any Paying Agent shall have any responsibility or liability for any aspects of the records maintained by Euroclear, Clearstream, or any of the Agent Members relating to or for payments made thereby on account of beneficial interests in a Global Note.

In the case where any final payment of principal and interest is to be made on any Note (other than on its Stated Maturity and except as otherwise provided in this Indenture), the Trustee, in the name and at the expense of the Applicable Issuers shall, not more than 30 nor less than 10 days before the date on which the payment is to be made, mail (by first-class mail, postage prepaid) to the Persons entitled thereto at their addresses appearing on the Indenture Register, a notice specifying the date on which the payment will be made, the amount of the payment per U.S.$100,000 original principal amount of Notes and the place where the Notes may be presented and surrendered for payment. If the Trustee and the Issuer have been furnished any security or indemnity they require to save each of them harmless and an undertaking thereafter to surrender the certificate, then, in the absence of notice to the Issuer or the Trustee that the applicable certificate has been acquired by a protected purchaser, final payment shall be made without presentation or surrender of the applicable certificate.

(f) Payments of principal to Holders of the Notes of each Class shall be made in the proportion that the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Notes of the Class registered in the name of each Holder on the applicable Record Date bears to the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of all Notes of the Class on the Record Date.

(g) Interest accrued shall be calculated on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed in the applicable Interest Period divided by 360.

(h) All reductions in the principal amount of a Note (or one or more predecessor Notes) effected by payments of installments of principal made on any Payment Date or Redemption Date shall be binding on all future Holders of the Note and of any Note issued upon the registration of its transfer, exchange, or replacement, whether or not the payment is noted on the Note.

(i) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture, the obligations of the Co-Issuer under the Senior Notes and under this Indenture are non-recourse obligations, and the obligations of the Issuer under the Notes and under this Indenture are limited recourse obligations payable solely from the Collateral and following realization of the assets, application of their proceeds in accordance with this Indenture and the reduction of the proceeds of the Collateral to zero, all obligations of, and any claims against, the Co-Issuers under this Indenture or under the Notes or arising in connection therewith shall be extinguished and shall not thereafter revive. No recourse shall be had against any Officer, director, employee, shareholder, or incorporator of either of the Co-Issuers or their respective successors or assigns for any amounts payable under the Notes or this Indenture. The foregoing provisions of this paragraph (i) shall not (1) prevent recourse to the Collateral for the sums due or to become due under any security, instrument, or agreement that is part of the Collateral or (2) be a waiver, release, or discharge of any indebtedness or obligation evidenced by the Notes or secured by this Indenture until the Collateral have been realized. The foregoing provisions of this paragraph (i) shall not limit the right of any Person to name the Issuer or the Co-Issuer as a party defendant in any Proceeding or in the exercise of any other remedy under the Notes or this Indenture, so long as no judgment in the nature of a deficiency judgment or seeking personal liability is sought or (if obtained) enforced against the person.

(j) If any withholding tax is imposed on the Issuer's payment (or allocations of income) under the Notes to any Noteholder, the tax shall reduce the amount otherwise distributable to the Noteholder. The Trustee is hereby authorized and directed to retain from amounts otherwise distributable to any Noteholder sufficient funds for the payment of any tax that is legally owed, or required by law to be collected, by or on behalf of the Issuer (but the authorization shall not prevent the Trustee or the Issuer from contesting any such tax in appropriate proceedings and withholding payment of the tax, if permitted by law, pending the outcome of the proceedings). The amount of any withholding tax imposed with respect to any Noteholder shall be treated as Cash distributed to the Noteholder when it is withheld by the Trustee and remitted to the appropriate taxing authority. If there is a possibility that withholding tax is payable with respect to a distribution, the Trustee may in its sole discretion withhold the amounts in accordance with this Section 2.8(j). If any Noteholder wishes to apply for a refund of any such withholding tax, the Trustee shall reasonably cooperate with the Noteholder in making the claim by providing information readily available to the Trustee so long as the Noteholder agrees to reimburse the Trustee for any out-of-pocket expenses incurred and provides the Trustee with security reasonably acceptable to the Trustee assuring the reimbursement. The Trustee hereby provides notice to each Noteholder that the failure by the Noteholder to provide the Trustee with appropriate tax certifications may result in amounts being withheld from payments to the Noteholder. Nothing in this Indenture shall impose an obligation on the part of the Trustee to determine the amount of any tax or withholding obligation on the part of the Issuer or in respect of the Notes.

Section 2.9. Persons Considered Owners.

The Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, and any agent of the Co-Issuers or the Trustee may treat as the owner of the Note the Person in whose name any Note is registered on the Indenture Register on the applicable Record Date for the purpose of receiving payments on the Note and on any other date for all other purposes whatsoever (whether or not the Note is overdue), and neither the Issuer, the Co-Issuer nor the Trustee nor any agent of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or the Trustee shall be affected by notice to the contrary. Pursuant to the Servicing Agreement, the Servicer will notify the Trustee and the Share Registrar of any Affiliate of the Servicer that owns any of the Securities.

Section 2.10. Cancellation.

All Notes surrendered for payment, registration of transfer, exchange, or redemption, or lost or stolen, shall be promptly canceled by the Trustee and may not be reissued or resold. No Notes shall be authenticated in lieu of or in exchange for any Notes canceled as provided in this Section 2.10, except as expressly permitted by this Indenture. All canceled Notes held by the Trustee shall be destroyed by the Trustee in accordance with its standard policy unless the Applicable Issuers direct by an Issuer Order delivered to the Trustee prior to cancellation and destruction that they be returned to the Issuer.

Section 2.11. Definitive Notes.

(a) A Global Note deposited with the Depository pursuant to Section 2.2 shall be transferred in the form of a Definitive Note to its beneficial owners only if the transfer complies with Section 2.6 and either

(i) the Depository notifies the Co-Issuers that it is unwilling or unable to continue as Depository for the Global Note or

(ii) if at any time the Depository ceases to be a Clearing Agency registered under the Exchange Act and, in each case, a successor depository is not appointed by the Co-Issuers within 90 days after the notice.

(b) Any Global Note that is transferable in the form of a Definitive Note to its beneficial owners pursuant to this Section 2.11 shall be surrendered by the Depository to the office of the Trustee's agent located in the City of New York, New York as specified in Section 7.2 (or any other office designated by the Trustee) to be so transferred, in whole or from time to time in part, without charge, and the Applicable Issuers shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver, upon the transfer of each portion of the Global Note, an equal aggregate principal amount of definitive physical certificates (pursuant to the instructions of the Depository) (each, a "Definitive Note") in authorized denominations. Any Definitive Note delivered in exchange for an interest in a Global Note, as applicable, shall, except as otherwise provided by Section 2.6(j), bear the legends in the applicable portion of Exhibit A-1 and shall be subject to the transfer restrictions referred to in the legends.

(c) The Holder of a Global Note may grant proxies and otherwise authorize any Person, including Agent Members and Persons that may hold interests through Agent Members, to take any action which a Holder is entitled to take under this Indenture or the Senior Notes, as applicable.

(d) Upon the occurrence of either of the events specified in Section 2.11(a)(i) and (ii), the Co-Issuers shall promptly make available to the Trustee a reasonable supply of Definitive Notes in definitive, fully registered form without interest coupons.

The Definitive Notes shall be in substantially the same form as the Global Notes, with any changes the Issuer and Trustee agree to and the Applicable Issuers shall execute, and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver, in exchange therefor, the same aggregate principal amount of Definitive Notes of authorized denominations.

Section 2.12. Notes Beneficially Owned by Non-Permitted Holders.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary elsewhere in this Indenture, (i) any transfer of a beneficial interest in any Global Note to a U.S. person (for purposes of this Section 2.12 as defined in Regulation S) that is not a QIB/QP and that is not made pursuant to an applicable exemption under the Securities Act and (ii) any transfer of a beneficial interest in any Class E Note to a Person that is not a QIB/QP, shall be void and any such purported transfer of which the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or the Trustee has notice may be disregarded by the Issuer, the Co-Issuer and the Trustee for all purposes.

(b) After discovery by the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or the Trustee (and notice by the Trustee or the Co-Issuer to the Issuer, if either of them makes the discovery) that a Person is a Non-Permitted Holder, the Issuer shall promptly send notice to the Non-Permitted Holder demanding that the Non-Permitted Holder transfer its interest to a Person that is not a Non-Permitted Holder within 30 days of the date of the notice. If the Non-Permitted Holder fails to so transfer its Notes or interest in the Notes without further notice to the Non-Permitted Holder, the Issuer may sell the Notes or interest in the Notes to a purchaser selected by the Issuer that is not a Non-Permitted Holder on any terms the Issuer chooses. The Issuer, or the Trustee acting on behalf of the Issuer, may select the purchaser by soliciting bids (or by appointing an investment bank at the expense of the Issuer to solicit bids) from brokers or other market professionals that regularly deal in securities similar to the Notes, and selling the Notes, or interest in the Notes to the highest bidder. However, the Issuer or the Trustee may select a purchaser by any other means determined by it in its sole discretion. The Holder of each Note, the beneficial owner of each interest in a Note, the Non-Permitted Holder, and each other Person in the chain of title from the Holder or beneficial owner to the Non-Permitted Holder, by its acceptance of an interest in the Notes agrees to cooperate with the Issuer and the Trustee to effect the transfers. The proceeds of the sale, net of any commissions, expenses of the Trustee or otherwise, and taxes due in connection with the sale shall be remitted to the Non-Permitted Holder. The terms of any sale under this subsection shall be determined in the sole discretion of the Issuer (or the Trustee acting on its behalf), and the Issuer and the Trustee shall not be liable to any Person having an interest in the Notes sold as a result of any such sale or the exercise of its discretion.

Section 2.13 Tax Purposes

The Issuer agrees, and each Holder and each beneficial owner of a Note, by acceptance of its Note or its interest in a Note, as the case may be, shall be deemed to have agreed, to treat, and shall treat, such Note as unconditional debt of the Issuer for tax, accounting and financial reporting purposes.

CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

Section 3.1. Conditions to Issuance of Notes on Closing Date.

(a) The Notes to be issued on the Closing Date shall be executed by the Applicable Issuers and delivered to the Trustee for authentication and thereupon the same shall be authenticated and delivered by the Trustee upon Issuer Order and upon receipt by the Trustee of the following:

(i) Officers' Certificates of the Co-Issuers Regarding Corporate Matters. An Officer's certificate of each of the Co-Issuers:

(A) (1) evidencing (x) the authorization by Board Resolution of the execution and delivery of this Indenture and the Purchase Agreement and, in the case of the Issuer, the Servicing Agreement, the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, the Collateral Administration Agreement and the Hedge Agreements being entered into on or before the Closing Date (if any), and related transaction documents and (y) the execution, authentication and delivery of the Notes applied for by it and specifying the Stated Maturity, principal amount and the Note Interest Rate of each applicable Class of Notes to be authenticated and delivered and (2) with respect to the Issuer only, evidencing the authorization by Board Resolution of the issuance, terms and number of Preference Shares issued on the Closing Date, and that each of the foregoing is in accordance with the terms of the Board Resolution, and

(B) certifying that (1) the attached copy of the Board Resolution is an accurate copy, (2) the resolutions have not been rescinded and are in full force on and as of the Closing Date and (3) the Officers authorized to execute and deliver the documents hold the offices and have the signatures indicated on the documents.

(ii) Governmental Approvals: From each of the Co-Issuers either:

(A) a certificate of the Applicable Issuer or other official document evidencing the due authorization, approval or consent of any governmental bodies, at the time having jurisdiction in the premises, together with an Opinion of Counsel of the Applicable Issuer that no other authorization, approval or consent of any governmental body is required for the valid issuance of the Notes applied for by it, or

(B) an Opinion of Counsel of the Applicable Issuer that no authorization, approval, or consent of any governmental body is required for the valid issuance of the Notes except as have been given; provided that the opinions of Latham & Watkins, LLP and Maples and Calder, substantially in the forms of Exhibit C and Exhibit D, respectively, shall satisfy this clause (B).

(iii) Co-Issuers' and Servicer's U.S. Counsel Opinion. Opinions of Latham & Watkins LLP, special U.S. counsel to the Co-Issuers, and an opinion of Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, counsel to the Servicer, dated the Closing Date, substantially in the forms of Exhibit C and Exhibit F.

(iv) Issuer's Cayman Counsel Opinion. An opinion of Maples and Calder, Cayman Islands counsel to the Issuer, dated the Closing Date, substantially in the form of Exhibit D.

(v) Trustee's Counsel Opinion. An opinion of Nixon Peabody LLP, counsel to the Trustee, dated the Closing Date, substantially in the form of Exhibit E.

(vi) Officers' Certificates of Co-Issuers Regarding Indenture. An Officer's certificate of each of the Co-Issuers stating that, to the best of the Officer's knowledge,

(A) the Applicable Issuer is not in default under this Indenture and that the issuance of the Notes applied for by it will not result in a default or a breach of, or be a default under, its organizational documents, any indenture or other agreement or instrument to which it is a party or by which it is bound, or any order of any court or administrative agency entered in any Proceeding to which it is a party or by which it may be bound or to which it may be subject;

(B) all conditions precedent in this Indenture relating to the authentication and delivery of the applicable Notes have been complied with; and

(C) all expenses due or accrued with respect to the Offering or relating to actions taken on or in connection with the Closing Date have been paid or reserves therefor have been made.

The Officer's certificate of the Issuer shall also state that, to the best of the Officer's knowledge, all of its representations and warranties contained in this Indenture are accurate as of the Closing Date.

(vii) Hedge Agreements. Executed copies of the Hedge Agreements being entered into on or entered into before the Closing Date, if any.

(ix) Preference Shares. Copies of executed Preference Share certificates to be issued on the Closing Date.

(x) Preference Share Documents. An executed counterpart of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement.

(xii) Grant of Collateral Obligations. Evidence of the Grant pursuant to the Granting Clauses of this Indenture of all of the Issuer's interest in the Collateral Obligations pledged to the Trustee for inclusion in the Collateral, on the Closing Date and Delivery of the Collateral Obligations (including any promissory notes and all other Underlying Instruments related to them to the extent received by the Issuer) to the Trustee or the Custodian as contemplated by Section 3.2.

(xiii) Certificate of the Servicer. A certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Servicer, dated as of the Closing Date, to the effect that, to the best knowledge of the Servicer, in the case of each Collateral Obligation pledged to the Trustee for inclusion in the Collateral, as the case may be, on the Closing Date and immediately before the delivery of the Collateral Obligation on the Closing Date:

(A) the "row/column combination" of the table appearing in the definition of "Ratings Matrix" selected by the Servicer on the Closing Date;

(B) the information with respect to the Collateral Obligation in the Schedule of Collateral Obligations is correct; and

(C) the Collateral Obligation satisfies the requirements of the definition of "Collateral Obligation" and of Section 3.1(a)(xx)(B);

(xiv) Rating Letters. An Officer's certificate of the Issuer to the effect that attached is an accurate copy of a letter signed by each Rating Agency and confirming that each Class of Notes rated by the Rating Agency has been assigned the applicable Initial Rating and that the ratings are in full force on the Closing Date.

(xv) Accounts. Evidence that each of the Accounts has been established.

(xvi) Issuer Order for Deposit of Funds into Accounts. An Issuer Order signed in the name of the Issuer by an Authorized Officer of the Issuer, dated as of the Closing Date, authorizing the deposit of at least U.S.$71,908,337 into the Collection Account for use pursuant to Section 7.19, the deposit of at least U.S.$2,024,384 into the Closing Date Expense Account for use pursuant to Section 10.3(g) and the deposit of at least U.S.$2,500,000 into the Interest Reserve Account for use pursuant to Section 10.3(i).

(xvii) Irish Listing. An Officer's certificate of the Issuer to the effect that application has been made to the Irish Stock Exchange to admit the Senior Notes to the Official List.

(xviii) Issuer Order for Authentication of Notes. An Issuer Order signed in the name of the Issuer by an Authorized Officer of the Issuer, dated as of the Closing Date, directing the Trustee to authenticate the Notes in the amounts, in the registered names and with the CUSIP numbers in the Issuer Order.

(xix) Accountants' Certificate. An Accountants' Certificate satisfactory to the Issuer (A) confirming the information with respect to each Collateral Obligation on the Schedule of Collateral Obligations attached as Schedule 1, (B) confirming that the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations that the Issuer has purchased or committed to purchase in accordance with customary settlement procedures in the relevant markets, is approximately U.S.$981,300,000, that each Concentration Limitation is satisfied taking into account all of the Collateral Obligations acquired as of the Closing Date (including binding agreements to purchase Collateral Obligations in effect on the Closing Date), that the Weighted Average Spread Test is satisfied as of the Closing Date, that the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test is satisfied as of the Closing Date, that the Weighted Average Life Test is satisfied as of the Closing Date, that each Overcollateralization Test is satisfied as of the Closing Date, that the Weighted Average Moody's Recovery Rate Test is satisfied as of the Closing Date, that the Weighted Average S&P Recovery Rate Test is satisfied as of the Closing Date and that the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test is satisfied as of the Closing Date and a calculation of the Diversity Score, (C) specifying the procedures undertaken by them to review data and computations relating to this Section 3.1(a)(xix) and (D) confirming the weighted average purchase price of the Collateral Obligations.

(xx) Certificate of the Issuer Regarding Collateral. A certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Issuer, dated as of the Closing Date, to the effect that, to the knowledge of the Issuer, in the case of each Collateral Obligation pledged to the Trustee for inclusion in the Collateral, as the case may be, on the Closing Date and immediately before the delivery of the Collateral Obligation on the Closing Date:

(A) the Issuer is the owner of the Collateral Obligation free of any liens, claims, or encumbrances of any nature whatsoever except for those that are being released on the Closing Date and except for those Granted pursuant to or permitted by this Indenture;

(B) the Issuer has acquired its ownership in the Collateral Obligation in good faith without notice of any adverse claim, except as described in paragraph (A) above;

(C) the Issuer has not assigned, pledged or otherwise encumbered any interest in the Collateral Obligation (or, if any interest in the Collateral Obligation has been assigned, pledged or otherwise encumbered, it has been released before the Closing Date or is being released on the Closing Date) other than interests Granted pursuant to or permitted by this Indenture;

(D) the Issuer has full right to Grant a security interest in and assign and pledge the Collateral Obligation to the Trustee;

(E) upon Grant by the Issuer, the Trustee has a first priority perfected security interest in the Collateral Obligations and the other Collateral; and

(F) based solely on the Accountant's Certificate set forth in clause (xix) above, the weighted average purchase price of the Collateral Obligations in the Collateral as of the Closing Date is at least 90% of the aggregate par amount thereof.

(xxi) Certificate of the Issuer Regarding Important Section 3(c)(7) Reminder Notice. A certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Issuer, dated as of the Closing Date, to the effect that, on or prior to the Closing Date the Issuer provided to the Depository the Important Section 3(c)(7) Reminder Notice, substantially in the form of Exhibit I-2.

(xxii) Other Documents. Any other documents the Trustee reasonably requires. Nothing in this clause (xxii) shall imply or impose a duty on the part of the Trustee to require any other documents.

(b) Any Refinancing Note may be issued from time to time pursuant to Section 9.7 hereof. Any such Refinancing Notes shall be executed by the Applicable Issuer and delivered to the Trustee for authentication, and thereupon shall be authenticated and delivered by the Trustee upon and pursuant to Issuer Order delivered to the Trustee, together with delivery to the Trustee by the Issuer of an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that (A) such Refinancing Notes are duly authorized and validly issued by the Applicable Issuer pursuant to the Indenture, constituting the legal, valid and binding obligation of such Applicable Issuer, enforceable against such Issuer in accordance with its terms and (B) all conditions precedent under this Indenture, if any, applicable to the issuance, authentication and delivery of such Notes, have been satisfied.

Section 3.2. Custodianship; Delivery of Collateral Obligations and Eligible Investments.

(a) The Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, shall deliver or cause to be delivered to a custodian appointed by the Issuer, which shall be a Securities Intermediary (the "Custodian"), all Collateral in accordance with the definition of "Deliver." Initially, the Custodian shall be Investors Bank & Trust Company. Any successor custodian shall be a state or national bank or trust company that is not an Affiliate of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, has a long-term debt rating of at least "BBB+" by S&P and has capital and surplus of at least U.S.$200,000,000 and is a Securities Intermediary. Subject to the limited right to relocate Pledged Obligations as provided in Section 7.5(b), the Trustee shall hold all Collateral Obligations, Eligible Investments, other assets purchased in accordance with this Indenture (other than Loans, Participations and general intangibles) and Cash in the relevant Account established and maintained pursuant to Article 10, as to which in each case the Trustee shall have entered into a securities account control agreement with the Custodian in accordance with Article 8 of the UCC providing, inter alia, that the establishment and maintenance of the Account shall be governed by the law of the State of New York.

(b) Each time that the Issuer, or the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer, directs or causes the acquisition of any Collateral Obligation, Eligible Investment or other assets, the Servicer (on behalf of the Issuer) shall, if the Collateral Obligation, Eligible Investment or other asset is required to be, but has not already been, transferred to the relevant Account, cause the Collateral Obligation, Eligible Investment or other asset to be Delivered to the Custodian to be held in the Custodial Account (or in the case of any such asset that is not a Collateral Obligation, in the Account in which the funds used to purchase the asset are held in accordance with Article 10) for the benefit of the Trustee in accordance with this Indenture. The security interest of the Trustee in the funds or other property used in connection with the acquisition shall, immediately and without further action on the part of the Trustee, be released. The security interest of the Trustee shall nevertheless come into existence and continue in the Collateral Obligation, Eligible Investment or other asset so acquired, including all interests of the Issuer in to any contracts related to and proceeds of the Collateral Obligations, Eligible Investments or other assets.

Section 3.3. Representations as to Collateral.

(a) The Issuer hereby represents and warrants to the Secured Parties as to the Collateral as follows (which representations are repeated on each day on which the Issuer acquires new Collateral):

(i) This Indenture creates a valid and continuing security interest (as defined in the applicable Uniform Commercial Code) in the Collateral in favor of the Trustee, which security interest is prior to all other liens, charges, claims, security interests, mortgages and other encumbrances, and is enforceable as such as against creditors of and purchasers from the Issuer.

(ii) Except for any Securities Lending Collateral and Synthetic Securities Collateral, the Issuer has good and marketable title to and is the owner of each item of Collateral free of any liens, claims, or encumbrances of any nature whatsoever except for liens (A) that are being released on the Closing Date and (B) granted pursuant to or permitted by this Indenture. The Issuer has a first priority security interest in all Securities Lending Collateral to secure all obligations of Securities Lending Counterparty under the Securities Lending Agreement and a first priority interest in all Synthetic Securities Collateral to secure all obligations of Synthetic Security Counterparty under the Synthetic Securities Agreement.

(iii) The Issuer has not assigned, pledged or otherwise encumbered any interest in the Collateral (or, if any interest in the Collateral has been assigned, pledged or otherwise encumbered, it has been released before the Closing Date or is being released on the Closing Date) other than interests granted pursuant to or permitted by this Indenture.

(iv) The Issuer has full right, and has received all consents and approvals required by the related Underlying Instruments, to grant a security interest in its rights in the Collateral to the Trustee.

(v) Each Collateral Obligation included in the Collateral satisfied the requirements of the definition of "Collateral Obligation" as of the date the Issuer committed to purchase the same or, in the case of the Loans with respect to which loans were made by Pre-Closing Parties and repaid by the Issuer on the Closing Date, as of the Closing Date.

(vi) All Collateral Obligations, any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion or exchange did not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation, and Eligible Investments (other than, in each case, "general intangibles" within the meaning of the applicable Uniform Commercial Code) have been and will have been credited to one of the Accounts. The securities intermediary for each Account has agreed to treat all assets credited to the Accounts as "financial assets" within the meaning of the applicable Uniform Commercial Code.

(vii) The Issuer has pledged to the Trustee all of the Issuer's interest in each Collateral Obligation included in the Collateral pursuant to the Granting Clauses of this Indenture and has delivered each Collateral Obligation (including any promissory note and all its other Underlying Instruments to the extent received by the Issuer) to the Trustee or the Custodian as contemplated by Section 3.2.

(viii) Each of the Collateral constitutes "general intangibles," "certificated securities," "instruments," "securities entitlements," "uncertificated securities," "chattel paper" or "securities accounts," each within the meaning of the applicable Uniform

Commercial Code, or any other category of collateral under the applicable Uniform Commercial Code as to which the Issuer has complied with its obligations under Section 3.3(b).

(ix) The Issuer has caused (or will have caused within 10 days following the Closing Date) the filing of appropriate financing statements in the proper filing offices in the appropriate jurisdictions under applicable law to perfect the security interest in the portion of the Collateral pledged to the Trustee under this Indenture that may be perfected by the filing of financing statements.

(x) The Issuer has not authorized the filing of and is not aware of any financing statements against the Issuer that include a description of collateral covering the Collateral other than any financing statement (A) relating to the security interest granted to the Trustee under this Indenture, (B) that has been terminated or (C) that names the Trustee as the secured party. On the date of this Indenture, the Issuer is not aware of any judgment or Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation or tax lien filings against the Issuer.

(xi) The Issuer has delivered to the Trustee a fully executed agreement pursuant to which the securities intermediary for each Account has agreed to comply with all instructions originated by the Trustee relating to the Account without further consent by the Issuer.

(xii) All original executed copies of each "instrument" (as defined in each applicable Uniform Commercial Code) that are or evidence the Collateral have been delivered to the Custodian, to the extent received by the Issuer. The Issuer has received confirmation from the Custodian that the Custodian has credited the instruments to one of the Accounts. None of the instruments that are or evidence the Collateral has any marks or notations indicating that they are then pledged or otherwise assigned to any Person other than the Trustee.

(xiii) The Accounts are not in the name of any Person other than the Issuer or the Trustee. The Issuer has not consented to the securities intermediary of any Account to comply with instructions of any Person other than the Trustee.

(xiv) All "certificated securities" (as defined in each applicable Uniform Commercial Code) that are or evidence the Collateral have been delivered to the Custodian, to the extent received by the Issuer, registered in the name of the Custodian or indorsed to the Custodian. The Issuer has received confirmation from the Custodian that the Custodian has credited such certificated securities to one of the Accounts.

(xv) The Issuer has caused all "uncertificated securities" (as defined in each applicable Uniform Commercial Code) that are or evidence the Collateral to be registered in the name of the Custodian.

(xvi) Upon grant by the Issuer, the Trustee has a first priority perfected security interest in the Collateral.

The parties to this Indenture shall not waive any of the representations in this Section 3.3, unless the Rating Condition is satisfied in connection with such waiver. The Issuer shall provide each of the Rating Agencies with prompt written notice of any breach of the representations contained in this Section 3.3 upon becoming aware thereof, and shall not waive a breach of any of the representations in this Section 3.3, unless the Rating Condition is satisfied (as determined after any adjustment or withdrawal of the ratings following notice of such breach) in connection with such waiver.

If the Issuer acquires Collateral that is not "general intangibles," "certificated securities," "instruments," "securities accounts," "chattel paper," "securities entitlements" or "uncertificated securities," each within the meaning of the applicable Uniform Commercial Code, or another category of collateral under the applicable Uniform Commercial Code as to which the Issuer has complied with its obligations under this Section 3.3(b), then on or before the date on which the Issuer acquires the Collateral, the Issuer (or the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer) shall notify S&P and the Trustee (for the benefit of the Secured Parties) of its acquisition or intended acquisition of the Collateral and the Issuer shall represent to S&P and to the Trustee (for the benefit of the Secured Parties) as to the category of the Collateral under the applicable Uniform Commercial Code and shall make any further representations as to the perfection and priority of the security interest in the Collateral Granted under this Indenture acceptable to S&P.

SATISFACTION AND DISCHARGE

Section 4.1. Satisfaction and Discharge of Indenture.

This Indenture shall be discharged and shall cease to be of further effect with respect to the Notes and the Collateral except as to:

- (i) rights of registration of transfer and exchange,
- (ii) substitution of mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen Notes,
- (iii) rights of Noteholders to receive payments of principal and interest on, or other amounts (including without limitation Extension Bonus Payments) owing in respect of, the Notes as provided in this Indenture,
- (iv) the rights, indemnities, and immunities of the Trustee under this Indenture and the obligations of the Trustee under Section 7.3 of this Indenture with respect to the holding and paying of unclaimed funds,
- (v) for so long as any Preference Shares remain Outstanding, any provisions hereof conferring any rights or remedies upon the Holders of the Preference Shares or the Preference Shares Paying Agent on behalf of the Holders of the Preference Shares, including but not limited to, the provisions of Articles 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 14 and 15,
- (vi) for so long as any Preference Shares remain Outstanding, the provisions of Articles 10, 11 and 12 relating to the acquisition, retention and disbursement of Collateral,
- (vi) the rights, obligations, and immunities of the Servicer under this Indenture and under the Servicing Agreement, and
- (vii) the rights of Noteholders as beneficiaries of this Indenture with respect to the property deposited with the Trustee and payable to any of them (and the Trustee, on demand of and at the expense of the Issuer, shall execute proper instruments acknowledging satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture), when:

(a) either:

(i) all Notes theretofore authenticated and delivered to Holders of Notes (other than (A) Notes that have been destroyed, lost or stolen and which have been replaced or paid as provided in Section 2.7 and (B) Notes for whose payment money has theretofore irrevocably been deposited in trust and thereafter repaid to the Issuer or discharged from the trust, as provided in Section 7.3), have been delivered to the Trustee for cancellation; or

(ii) all Notes not theretofore delivered to the Trustee for cancellation

(A) have become payable, or

(B) will become payable at their Stated Maturity within one year, or

(C) are to be called for redemption pursuant to Article 9 under an arrangement satisfactory to the Trustee for the giving of notice of redemption by the Applicable Issuers pursuant to Section 9.3, and the Issuer has irrevocably deposited with the Trustee, in trust for payment of the principal and interest on the Notes, Cash or non-callable obligations of the United States of America. The obligations deposited under Section 4.1(a)(ii) with respect to the other Notes must be entitled to the full faith and credit of the United States of America or be debt obligations that are rated "Aaa" by Moody's and "AAA" by S&P, in an amount sufficient, as verified by a firm of Independent certified public accountants that are nationally recognized, to pay and discharge the entire indebtedness on the Notes not theretofore delivered to the Trustee for cancellation, for principal and interest to the date of the deposit (in the case of Notes that have become payable), or to the respective Stated Maturity or the respective Redemption Date, as the case may be, and the Issuer shall have Granted to the Trustee a valid perfected security interest in the Eligible Investment that is of first priority, free of any adverse claim, and shall have furnished an Opinion of Counsel with respect thereto. Section 4.1(a)(ii) shall not apply if an election to act in accordance with Section 5.5(a) has been made and not rescinded. In addition, the Issuer shall cause delivery to the Trustee of a Tax Opinion of Counsel to the effect that the Noteholders would recognize no income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of the deposit and satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture;

(b) the Issuer has paid all other sums then payable under this Indenture by the Issuer and no other amounts are scheduled to be payable by the Issuer; and

(c) the Co-Issuers have delivered to the Trustee Officer's certificates and an Opinion of Counsel, each stating that all conditions precedent in this Indenture provided for relating to the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture have been complied with.

Notwithstanding the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture, the rights and obligations of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Servicer and, if applicable, the Noteholders, as the case may be, under Sections 2.8, 4.2, 5.4(d), 5.9, 5.18, 6.7, 6.8, 7.1, 7.3, 13.1 and 14.13 shall survive.

Section 4.2. Application of Trust Money.

All monies deposited with the Trustee pursuant to Section 4.1 shall be held in trust for the Person entitled to it and applied by the Trustee in accordance with the Notes and this Indenture, including the Priority of Payments, to the payment of principal and interest, either directly or through any Paying Agent, as the Trustee may determine. The money shall be held in a segregated non-interest bearing trust account identified as being held in trust for the benefit of the Secured Parties.

Section 4.3. *Repayment of Monies Held by Paying Agent.

In connection with the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to the Notes, all monies then held by any Paying Agent other than the Trustee under this Indenture shall, upon demand of the Co-Issuers, be paid to the Trustee to be held and applied pursuant to Section 7.3 and in accordance with the Priority of Payments and thereupon the Paying Agent shall be released from all further liability with respect to the monies.

REMEDIES

Section 5.1. *Events of Default.

"Event of Default," wherever used in this Indenture, means any one of the following events whatever the reason:

- (a) a default for four Business Days in the payment of any interest on the Class A Notes or the Class B Notes, or, if no Class A Notes or Class B Notes are Outstanding, a default in the payment of any interest on the Controlling Class, in each case, when it becomes payable (or in the case of a default in payment due to an administrative error or omission by the Trustee, the Irish Paying Agent or the Indenture Registrar, after seven Business Days);
- (b) a default in the payment of principal (including Deferred Interest) of any Note, when the same becomes payable, at its Stated Maturity or on the Redemption Date;
- (c) the failure on any Payment Date to disburse amounts available in the Payment Account in accordance with the Priority of Payments and the failure continues for three Business Days;
- (d) on any Measurement Date for so long as any Class A-1-A Notes, Class A-1-B Notes or Class B Notes are Outstanding, the Class A/B Overcollateralization Ratio is less than 100%;
- (e) either of the Co-Issuers or the pool of Collateral becomes an investment company under the Investment Company Act;
- (f) breach of any other covenant or other agreement of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer in this Indenture (other than any failure to satisfy any of the Collateral Quality Tests, any of the Concentration Limitations, any of the Coverage Tests, the Retention Overcollateralization Test, or other covenants or agreements for which a specific remedy has been provided in this Section 5.1) in any material respect, or the failure of any representation or warranty of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer in this Indenture or in any certificate or other writing delivered pursuant thereto, or in connection therewith, to be correct in any material respect when made, and the breach or failure continues for 30 days after either of the Co-Issuers has actual knowledge of it or after notice to the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, and the Servicer by the Trustee or to the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Servicer, and the Trustee by the Holders of at least 25% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Controlling Class by registered or certified mail or overnight courier specifying the breach or failure and requiring it to be remedied and stating that the notice is a "Notice of Default" under this Indenture;

(g) the entry of a decree or order by a court having competent jurisdiction adjudging the Issuer or the Co-Issuer as bankrupt or insolvent, or approving as properly filed a petition seeking reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, or composition of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer under the Bankruptcy Law or any other applicable law, or appointing a receiver, liquidator, assignee, or sequestrator (or other similar official) of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or of any substantial part of its property, or ordering the winding up or liquidation of its affairs, and if the decree or order remains unstayed and in effect for 45 consecutive days;

(h) the institution by the shareholders of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer of Proceedings to have the Issuer or Co-Issuer, as the case may be, adjudicated as bankrupt or insolvent, or the consent by the shareholders of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer to the institution of bankruptcy or insolvency Proceedings against the Issuer or Co-Issuer, or the filing by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer of a petition or answer or consent seeking reorganization or relief under the Bankruptcy Law or any other similar applicable law, or the consent by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer to the filing of any such petition or to the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, or sequestrator (or other similar official) of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or of any substantial part of its property, or the making by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer of an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or the admission by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer in writing of its inability to pay its debts generally as they become due, or the taking of any action by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer in furtherance of any such action; or

(i) one or more final judgments is rendered against the Issuer or the Co-Issuer that exceed in the aggregate U.S.$2,000,000 and that remain unstayed, undischarged, and unsatisfied for 30 days after the judgments become nonappealable, unless adequate funds have been reserved or set aside for their payment.

Section 5.2. *Notice of Event of Default; Acceleration of Maturity; Rescission and Annulment.

(a) Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, the Trustee shall give prompt (and in no event later than five Business Days after becoming aware of such event) notice thereof to the Noteholders.

(b) If an Event of Default is continuing (other than an Event of Default specified in Section 5.1(e), (g) or (h)), the Trustee may, with consent of the Majority of the Controlling Class, and shall, upon the written direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class, declare the principal of all the Notes to be immediately payable by notice to the Applicable Issuers and the Noteholders, and upon that declaration the unpaid principal of all the Notes, together with all its accrued and unpaid interest (and any applicable Defaulted Interest Charge), and other amounts payable under this Indenture, shall become immediately payable. The Replacement Period shall terminate upon a declaration of acceleration (subject to re-commencement pursuant to Section 5.2(c)). If an Event of Default specified in Section 5.1(e), (g) or (h) occurs, all unpaid principal, together with all its accrued and unpaid interest (and any applicable Defaulted Interest Charge), of all the Notes, and other amounts payable under this Indenture, shall automatically become payable without any declaration or other act on the part of the Trustee or any Noteholder and the Replacement Period shall terminate automatically (subject to re-commencement pursuant to Section 5.2(c)).

(c) At any time after the declaration of acceleration of maturity has been made and before a judgment or decree for payment of the money due has been obtained by the Trustee, a Majority of the Controlling Class by written notice to the Issuer, the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent may rescind the declaration and its consequences:

(i) The Issuer or the Co-Issuer has paid or deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay:

(A) all unpaid installments of interest and principal on the Notes then due;

(B) to the extent that payment of the interest is lawful, interest on any Deferred Interest and Defaulted Interest at the Applicable Note Interest Rate or Default Interest Rate, as applicable;

(C) all Administrative Expenses of the Co-Issuers and other sums paid or advanced by the Trustee under this Indenture;

(D) all unpaid Senior Servicing Fees;

(E) all amounts then payable to any Hedge Counterparty; and

(ii) The Trustee has determined that all Events of Default, other than the non-payment of the interest on or principal of the Notes, have been (A) cured, and a Majority of the Controlling Class by written notice to the Trustee has agreed with that determination, or (B) waived as provided in Section 5.14.

No such rescission shall affect any subsequent Default or impair any right consequent thereon. The Issuer shall not terminate any Hedge Agreement at any time after a declaration of acceleration of Maturity of the Notes has been made, unless such declaration and its consequences may no longer be rescinded and annulled in accordance with this Section 5.2(c) and liquidation of the Collateral has begun.

If a declaration of acceleration is rescinded as described above:

(x) the Replacement Period, if terminated by the declaration, shall re-commence on the date of the rescission (unless the Replacement Period would have otherwise terminated before that date pursuant to clauses (i), (ii), or (iii) of its definition); and

(y) the Trustee shall retain the Collateral in accordance with this Indenture. If the retention of the Collateral is rescinded pursuant to Section 5.5, the Notes may again be accelerated pursuant to Section 5.2(b), notwithstanding any previous rescission of a declaration of acceleration pursuant to this Section 5.2(c).

No rescission shall affect any subsequent Default or impair any right resulting from the Default.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 5.2 to the contrary, the Notes will not be subject to acceleration by the Trustee, a Majority of the Controlling Class or any other Holders solely as a result of the failure to pay any amount due on Notes that are not of the Controlling Class.

Section 5.3. Collection of Indebtedness and Suits for Enforcement by Trustee.

The Applicable Issuers covenant that if a default occurs in the payment of any principal of or interest when payable on any Note, upon demand of the Trustee or the Holder of any affected Note, the Applicable Issuers shall pay to the Trustee, for the benefit of the Holder of the Note, the whole amount then payable on the Note for principal and interest with interest on the overdue principal and, to the extent that payments of the interest shall be legally enforceable, on overdue installments of interest and all other amounts owing to the Noteholders under this Indenture, at the Applicable Note Interest Rate or Default Interest Rate, as applicable, and, in addition, an amount sufficient to cover the costs and expenses of collection, including the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee and the Holders and their agents and counsel.

If the Issuer or the Co-Issuer fails to pay those amounts immediately on demand, the Trustee, in its own name and as Trustee of an express trust, may (after giving prior written notice to the Controlling Class and absent the Trustee having received a written direction to the contrary from the Controlling Class), and shall at the written direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class (subject to Section 6.3(e)), institute a Proceeding for the collection of the sums due, may prosecute the Proceeding to judgment or final decree, and may enforce the same against the Applicable Issuers or any other obligor on the Notes and collect the monies determined to be payable in the manner provided by law out of the Collateral.

If an Event of Default is continuing, the Trustee may (after giving prior written notice to the Controlling Class and absent the Trustee having received a written direction to the contrary from the Controlling Class), and shall upon written direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class (subject to Section 6.3(e)), proceed to protect and enforce its rights and the rights of the Noteholders by any appropriate Proceedings as is deemed most effective (if no direction is received by the Trustee) or as the Trustee may be directed by a Majority of the Controlling Class, to protect and enforce the rights of the Trustee and the Noteholders, whether for the specific enforcement of any agreement in this Indenture or in aid of the exercise of any power granted in this Indenture, or to enforce any other proper remedy or legal or equitable right vested in the Trustee by this Indenture or by law. The reasonable compensation, costs, expenses, disbursements and advances incurred or paid by the Trustee and its agents and counsel, in connection with such Proceeding, including, without limitation, the exercise of any remedies pursuant to Section 5.4, shall be reimbursed to the Trustee pursuant to Section 6.8.

If any Proceedings are pending relating to the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or any other obligor on the Notes under the Bankruptcy Law or any other applicable bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar law, or if a receiver, assignee, or trustee in bankruptcy or reorganization, liquidator, sequestrator or similar official has been appointed for or taken possession of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or their respective property or any other obligor on the Notes or its property, or if any other comparable Proceedings are pending relating to the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or other obligor on the Notes, or the creditors or property of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or other obligor on the Notes, the Trustee, regardless of whether the principal of any Notes is then payable by declaration or otherwise and regardless of whether the Trustee has made any demand pursuant to this Section 5.3, may, by intervention in the Proceedings or otherwise:

(a) file and prove claims for the whole amount of principal and interest owing and unpaid in respect of the Notes, and file any other papers or documents appropriate and take any other appropriate action (including sitting on a committee of creditors) to have the claims of the Trustee (including any claim for reasonable compensation to the Trustee and each predecessor Trustee, and their respective agents, attorneys, and counsel, and for reimbursement of all expenses and liabilities incurred, and all advances made, by the Trustee and each predecessor Trustee, except as a result of negligence or bad faith) and of the Noteholders allowed in any Proceedings relating to the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, or other obligor on the Notes or to the creditors or property of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or other obligor on the Notes;

(b) unless prohibited by applicable law, vote on behalf of the Noteholders in any election of a trustee or a standby trustee in arrangement, reorganization, liquidation or other bankruptcy or insolvency Proceedings or Person performing similar functions in comparable Proceedings; and

(c) collect and receive any monies or other property payable to or deliverable on any such claims, and distribute all amounts received with respect to the claims of the Noteholders and of the Trustee on their behalf; and any trustee, receiver or liquidator, custodian or other similar official is authorized by each of the Noteholders to make payments to the Trustee, and, if the Trustee consents to making payments directly to the Noteholders, to pay to the Trustee amounts sufficient to cover reasonable compensation to the Trustee, each predecessor Trustee, and their respective agents, attorneys, and counsel, and all other reasonable expenses and liabilities incurred, and all advances made, by the Trustee and each predecessor Trustee except as a result of negligence or bad faith.

Nothing in this Indenture shall authorize the Trustee to authorize or consent to or vote for or accept or adopt on behalf of the Holder of any Note, any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Notes or any Noteholder, or to authorize the Trustee to vote on the claim of the Holder of any Note in any Proceeding except, as aforesaid, to vote for the election of a trustee in bankruptcy or similar Person.

Notwithstanding anything in this Section 5.3 to the contrary, the Trustee may not sell or liquidate the Collateral or institute Proceedings in furtherance of the sale or liquidation of the Collateral pursuant to this Section 5.3 except according to Section 5.5(a).

Section 5.4. Remedies.

(a) If an Event of Default is continuing, and the Notes have been declared payable and the declaration and its consequences have not been rescinded, or at any time after the Stated Maturity, the Co-Issuers agree that the Trustee may (after giving prior written notice to the Controlling Class and absent the Trustee having received a written direction to the contrary from the Controlling Class), and shall, upon written direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class (subject to Section 6.3(e)), to the extent permitted by applicable law, exercise one or more of the following rights:

(i) institute Proceedings for the collection of all amounts then payable on the Notes or otherwise payable under this Indenture, whether by declaration or otherwise, enforce any judgment obtained, and collect from the Collateral any monies adjudged due;

(ii) sell or liquidate all or a portion of the Collateral or interests in it, at one or more public or private sales called and conducted in any manner permitted by law and in accordance with Section 5.17;

(iii) institute Proceedings from time to time for the complete or partial foreclosure of this Indenture with respect to the Collateral;

(iv) exercise any remedies of a secured party under the UCC and take any other appropriate action to protect and enforce the rights of the Trustee and the Noteholders under this Indenture; and

(v) exercise any other rights that may be available at law or in equity;

except that the Trustee may not sell or liquidate the Collateral or institute Proceedings in furtherance of the sale or liquidation of the Collateral pursuant to this Section 5.4 except according to Section 5.5(a).

(b) If an Event of Default as described in Section 5.1(f) is continuing the Trustee may, with the consent of, and shall, at the direction of, the Holders of not less than 25% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Controlling Class, subject to Section 5.8, institute a Proceeding solely to compel performance of the covenant or agreement or to cure the representation or warranty, the breach of which gave rise to the Event of Default under Section 5.1(f), and enforce any equitable decree or order arising from the Proceeding.

(c) Upon any sale, whether made under the power of sale given under this Indenture or by virtue of judicial Proceedings, any Holders or the Servicer (subject to the Servicing Agreement) may bid for and purchase any part of the Collateral and, upon compliance with the terms of sale, may hold, retain, possess, or dispose of the Collateral in its or their own absolute right without accountability.

Upon any sale, whether made under the power of sale given under this Indenture or by virtue of judicial Proceedings, the receipt of the Trustee, or of the Officer making a sale under judicial Proceedings, shall be a sufficient discharge to the purchasers at any sale for their purchase money, and the purchasers shall not be obliged to see to its application.

Any sale, whether under any power of sale given under this Indenture or by virtue of judicial Proceedings, shall bind the Co-Issuers, the Trustee and the Noteholders, shall operate to divest all interest whatsoever, either at law or in equity, of each of them in the property sold, and shall be a perpetual bar, both at law and in equity, against each of them and their successors and assigns, and against all Persons claiming through or under them.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture, none of the Trustee, the Secured Parties or the Noteholders may, before the date that is one year and one day (or if longer, any applicable preference period plus one day) after the payment in full of all Notes, institute against, or join any other Person in instituting against, the Issuer or the Co-Issuer any bankruptcy, reorganization, arrangement, insolvency, moratorium, or liquidation Proceedings, or other Proceedings under the Bankruptcy Law or any similar laws in any jurisdiction. Nothing in this Section 5.4 shall preclude the Trustee or any Secured Party (i) from taking any action before the expiration of that period in (A) any case or Proceeding voluntarily filed or commenced by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or (B) any involuntary insolvency Proceeding filed or commenced by a Person other than a Secured Party or (ii) from commencing against the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or any of its properties any legal action that is not a bankruptcy, reorganization, arrangement, insolvency, moratorium or liquidation Proceeding.

Section 5.5. Optional Retention of Collateral.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Indenture, if an Event of Default is continuing, the Trustee shall retain the Collateral, collect, and cause the collection of the proceeds of the Collateral and make and apply all payments and deposits and maintain all accounts in respect of the Collateral and the Notes, and any Hedge Agreements (other than amounts received under a Hedge Agreement that are used in putting a Replacement Hedge in place), in accordance with the Priority of Payments and Article 10 and Article 12 unless:

(i) the Trustee, in consultation with the Servicer, determines that the anticipated net proceeds of a sale or liquidation of the Collateral would be sufficient to discharge in full the amounts then due and unpaid on the Notes for principal and interest (including Defaulted Interest and Deferred Interest and any interest on the Defaulted Interest and Deferred Interest), all Administrative Expenses, all other amounts (if any) then payable to the Hedge Counterparty by the Issuer (including any applicable termination payments) net of all amounts then payable to the Issuer by the Hedge Counterparty and all other amounts then payable under clause (3) of Section 11.1(a)(i) and a Majority of the Controlling Class agrees with that determination; or

(ii) the Holders of a Super Majority of each of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes direct the sale and liquidation of the Collateral; or

(iii) the Class A/B Overcollateralization Ratio is less than 90% and the Holders of a Majority of the Controlling Class direct the sale and liquidation of the Collateral; provided that upon such direction by the Controlling Class, the Trustee shall (x) first sell or liquidate any Collateral for which either (A) two or more bid-side prices have been determined by an Approved Pricing Service or (B) bid-side prices have been obtained from at least two nationally recognized broker-dealers selected by a Majority of the Controlling Class and (y) thereafter shall sell or liquidate such remaining Collateral to the extent such Collateral can be liquidated or sold in accordance with the Indenture and applicable law; provided that any Collateral consisting of equity securities or Defaulted Collateral Obligations shall not be subject to sale or liquidation pursuant to this clause (iii).

If any Collateral is sold in accordance with clause (a)(iii)(x) above and Highland Capital Management, L.P. is the Servicer, the Servicer shall have the exclusive right to purchase such Collateral for the first two Business Days from the date the last of such bid-prices was determined by an Approved Pricing Service or obtained from a nationally recognized broker-dealer selected by a Majority of the Controlling Class with respect to such Collateral at a price equal to the highest bid-price for such Collateral that was determined by an Approved Pricing Service or obtained from a nationally recognized broker-dealer selected by a Majority of the Controlling Class and, thereafter, the Trustee may sell such Collateral to other parties in accordance with the terms hereof; provided that, in any such case, such sale to the Servicer or to any other party is effected in compliance with applicable law, including all notice and other provisions under the UCC.

The Trustee shall give written notice of the retention of the Collateral to the Issuer with a copy to the Co-Issuer and the Servicer. So long as the Event of Default is continuing, any retention pursuant to this Section 5.5(a) may be rescinded at any time when the conditions specified in clause (i) or (ii) exist.

(b) Nothing contained in Section 5.5(a) shall be construed to require the Trustee to sell the Collateral if the conditions in clause (i) or (ii) of Section 5.5(a) are not satisfied. Nothing contained in Section 5.5(a) shall be construed to require the Trustee to retain the Collateral if prohibited by applicable law.

(c) In determining whether the condition specified in Section 5.5(a)(i) exists, the Trustee, in consultation with the Servicer, shall obtain bid prices with respect to each security contained in the Collateral from two nationally recognized dealers (or if there is only one market maker, that market maker and if there is no market maker, from a pricing service) selected and specified by the Servicer to the Trustee in writing, at the time making a market in those securities, and shall compute the anticipated proceeds of sale or liquidation on the basis of the lower of the bid prices for each security. In addition, for the purposes of determining issues relating to the valuation of the Collateral, the satisfaction of the conditions specified in this Indenture, the execution of a sale or liquidation of the Collateral, and the execution of a sale or other liquidation of the Collateral in connection with a determination whether the condition specified in Section 5.5(a)(i) exists, the Trustee may retain, at the Issuer's expense, and rely on an opinion of an Independent investment banking firm of national reputation, which may be either of the Initial Purchasers.

The Trustee shall deliver to the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), the Noteholders, the Co-Issuers, the Servicer and the Hedge Counterparties a report stating the results of any determination required pursuant to Section 5.5(a)(i). The Trustee shall make the determinations required by Section 5.5(a)(i) after an Event of Default at the request of a Majority of the Controlling Class at any time during which the Trustee retains the Collateral pursuant to Section 5.5(a). The Trustee shall obtain (at the Issuer's expense) a letter of a firm of Independent certified public accountants confirming the accuracy of each calculation made by the Trustee pursuant to Section 5.5(a)(i) and certifying their conformity to the requirements of this Indenture.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this Indenture to the contrary, the Trustee may not, and the Noteholders representing the requisite percentage of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Notes specified in Section 5.4 or 5.5, may not instruct the Trustee to sell or liquidate or (except in connection with the concurrent execution of a Replacement Hedge) terminate any Hedge Agreement during the continuance of an Event of Default until all Collateral other than the Hedge Agreements has been sold or liquidated and its proceeds applied in accordance with this Indenture.

(e) Collateral may not be sold or liquidated pursuant to Section 5.5(a)(i) after the last date on which the sale or liquidation is permitted under Section 5.5(a)(i) with respect to a determination made pursuant to Section 5.5(a)(i) (the last permitted date being determined by the Trustee under Section 5.5(a)(i)), unless a new determination is made in accordance with Section 5.5(a)(i) and the Collateral is sold or liquidated before the last sale date permitted in accordance with the new determination.

Section 5.6. *Trustee May Enforce Claims Without Possession of Notes.

All rights of action and claims under this Indenture or under any of the Notes may be prosecuted and enforced by the Trustee without the possession of any of the Notes or their production in any trial or other Proceeding relating to them, and any Proceeding instituted by the Trustee shall be brought in its own name as trustee of an express trust, and any recovery of judgment shall be applied as provided in Section 5.7.

In any Proceedings brought by the Trustee (and any Proceedings involving the interpretation of any provision of this Indenture to which the Trustee shall be a party) the Trustee shall be held to represent all the Noteholders.

Section 5.7. *Application of Money Collected.

Any money collected by the Trustee with respect to the Notes pursuant to this Article 5 and any money that may then be held or subsequently received by the Trustee with respect to the Notes under this Indenture shall be applied, subject to Section 13.1 and in accordance with Section 11.1, at the dates fixed by the Trustee.

Section 5.8. *Limitation on Suits.

No Holder of any Note shall have any right to institute any Proceedings, judicial or otherwise, with respect to this Indenture, or for the appointment of a receiver or trustee, or for any other remedy under this Indenture, unless:

(a) the Holder has previously given to the Trustee written notice of an Event of Default;

(b) the Holders of not less than 25% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Controlling Class shall have made written request to the Trustee to institute Proceedings with respect to the Event of Default in its own name as Trustee under this Indenture and the Holders have offered to the Trustee indemnity satisfactory to it against the expenses and liabilities to be incurred in compliance with the request;

(c) the Trustee for 30 days after its receipt of the notice, request and offer of indemnity has failed to institute a Proceeding; and

(d) no direction inconsistent with the written request has been given to the Trustee during the 30 day period by a Majority of the Controlling Class.

No Noteholder shall have any right in any manner whatsoever by virtue of, or by availing of, any provision of this Indenture to affect the rights of any other Noteholders of the same Class or to obtain or to seek to obtain priority or preference over any other Holders of Notes of the same Class or to enforce any right under this Indenture, except in the manner provided in this Indenture and for the equal and ratable benefit of all the Holders of Notes of the same Class subject to and in accordance with Section 13.1 and the Priority of Payments or Section 11.2, as the case may be.

If the Trustee receives conflicting or inconsistent requests and indemnity from two or more groups of Holders of the Controlling Class, each representing less than a Majority of the Controlling Class, the Trustee shall take the action requested by the Holders of the largest percentage in Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Controlling Class, notwithstanding any other provisions of this Indenture but subject to Section 6.3(e).

Section 5.9. Unconditional Rights of Noteholders.

Notwithstanding any provision of this Indenture other than this Section 5.9 and Sections 2.8(i), 5.4(d), and 13.1, the Holder of any Note shall have the right, which is absolute and unconditional, to receive payment of the principal of and interest on the Note as it comes due in accordance with the Priority of Payments and Section 13.1, and, subject to Section 5.8, to institute proceedings for the enforcement of any such payment, and that right shall not be impaired without the consent of the Holder. Noteholders ranking junior to Notes still Outstanding may not institute proceedings for the enforcement of any such payment until no Note ranking senior to their Note remains Outstanding, subject to Section 5.8, and shall not be impaired without the consent of any such Holder. For so long as any Notes are Outstanding, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not be entitled to any payment of any amount for payments to the Holders of the Preference Shares pursuant to the Preference Share Documents, to the extent legally permitted, on a claim against the Issuer unless there are sufficient funds to pay such amounts to the Preference Shares Paying Agent in accordance with the Priority of Payments.

Section 5.10. Restoration of Rights and Remedies.

If the Trustee or the Holder of any Note has instituted any Proceeding to enforce any right under this Indenture and the Proceeding has been discontinued or abandoned for any reason, or has been determined adversely to the Trustee or to the Holder, then, subject to any determination in the Proceeding, the Co-Issuers, the Trustee and the Holder shall be restored to their former positions under this Indenture, and thereafter all rights of the Trustee and the Holder shall continue as though no Proceeding had been instituted.

Section 5.11. Rights and Remedies Cumulative.

No right in this Indenture conferred on or reserved to the Trustee or to the Noteholders is intended to be exclusive of any other right, and every right shall, to the extent permitted by law, be cumulative and in addition to every other right given under this Indenture or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or otherwise. The assertion or employment of any right under this Indenture, or otherwise, shall not prevent the concurrent assertion or employment of any other appropriate right.

Section 5.12. *Delay or Omission Not Waiver.

No delay or omission of the Trustee or the Holder of any Note to exercise any right accruing upon any Event of Default shall impair the right or be a waiver of the Event of Default or an acquiescence in it or of a subsequent Event of Default. Every right given by this Article 5 or by law to the Trustee or to the Noteholders may be exercised from time to time, and as often as deemed expedient, by the Trustee or by the applicable Noteholders.

Section 5.13. *Control by Majority of the Controlling Class.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture, during the continuance of an Event of Default, a Majority of the Controlling Class may institute and direct the time, method and place of conducting any Proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee, or exercising any right of the Trustee with respect to the Notes if:

- (i) the direction does not conflict with any rule of law or with any express provision of this Indenture; and
- (ii) the Trustee has been indemnified to its reasonable satisfaction (and the Trustee need not take any action that it determines might involve it in liability unless it has received an indemnity against the liability).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, only a Majority of the Controlling Class may direct proceedings with respect to remedies specified in Section 5.4(a) or otherwise with respect to the Collateral.

(b) The Trustee may take any other action deemed proper by the Trustee that is not inconsistent with a direction under Section 5.13(a). Subject to Section 6.1, the Trustee need not take any action that it determines might involve it in liability or expense (unless the Trustee has received an indemnity against the liabilities and expenses reasonably satisfactory to it) and during the continuance of an Event of Default that has not been cured, or waived, the Trustee shall, before receiving directions from a Majority of the Controlling Class, exercise the rights expressly vested in it by this Indenture and use the same degree of care and skill in their exercise with respect to the Event of Default as is required by Section 6.1(b).

(c) Any direction to the Trustee to undertake a Sale of the Collateral shall be in accordance with Section 5.4 or 5.5.

Section 5.14. *Waiver of Past Defaults.

Before a judgment or decree for payment of any money due has been obtained by the Trustee, as provided in this Article 5, a Majority of the Controlling Class may on behalf of the Holders of all the Notes, with respect to the Notes waive any past Default and its consequences, except a Default:

- (a) in the payment of the principal or Redemption Price of any Note or in the payment of interest (including Defaulted Interest, Deferred Interest, and any interest on Defaulted Interest or Deferred Interest) on the Notes;
- (b) with respect to a provision of this Indenture that under Section 8.2 cannot be modified or amended without the waiver or consent of the Holder of each Outstanding Note adversely affected by the modification or amendment;

(c) in the payment of amounts due to the Servicer, the Trustee or the Hedge Counterparty, which may only be waived with the consent of the affected party; or

(d) arising as a result of an Event of Default described in Section 5.1(e), (g) or (h).

Upon any such waiver, the Default shall cease to exist, and any Event of Default arising from it shall be cured, for every purpose of this Indenture, but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other Default or impair any right consequent thereto. The Trustee shall promptly give written notice of any such waiver to the Servicer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and each Noteholder.

Section 5.15. Undertaking for Costs.

All parties to this Indenture agree, and each Holder of any Note by its acceptance of its Note agrees, that in any suit for the enforcement of any right under this Indenture, or in any suit against the Trustee or the Servicer for any action taken or omitted by it as Trustee or for any action taken or omitted by the Servicer, as applicable, any court may in its discretion require the filing by any party litigant in the suit of an undertaking to pay the costs of the suit, and that the court may in its discretion assess reasonable costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, against any party litigant in the suit, having due regard to the merits and good faith of the claims or defenses made by the party litigant. This Section 5.15 shall not apply to any suit instituted by the Trustee or the Servicer; to any suit instituted by any Holder, or group of Holders, of Notes holding in the aggregate more than 10% in Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Controlling Class, or to any suit instituted by any Noteholder for the enforcement of the payment of the principal of or interest on any Note or any other amount payable under this Indenture after the applicable Stated Maturity (or, in the case of redemption, after the applicable Redemption Date).

Section 5.16. Waiver of Stay or Extension Laws.

To the extent that they may lawfully do so, the Co-Issuers covenant that they will not at any time insist on, or plead, or in any manner whatsoever claim or take the benefit or advantage of, any stay or extension law or any valuation, appraisal, redemption, or marshalling law or rights, in each case wherever enacted, now or at any time hereafter in force, that may affect the covenants, the performance of, or any remedies under this Indenture. To the extent that they may lawfully do so, the Co-Issuers expressly waive all benefit or advantage of any such law or rights, and covenant that they shall not delay or impede the execution of any power in this Indenture granted to the Trustee or the Noteholders but will permit the execution of every power as though the law had not been enacted or rights created.

Section 5.17. Sale of Collateral.

(a) The power to effect any sale (a "Sale") of any portion of the Collateral pursuant to Sections 5.4 and 5.5 shall not be exhausted by any one or more Sales as to any portion of the Collateral remaining unsold, but shall continue unimpaired until the entire Collateral is sold or all amounts secured by the Collateral have been paid. The Trustee may upon notice to the Noteholders and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), and shall, at the direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class with respect to Collateral, from time to time postpone any Sale by public announcement made at the time and place of the Sale. The Trustee waives its rights to any amount fixed by law as compensation for any Sale. The Trustee may deduct the reasonable expenses (including the reasonable fees and expenses of its agents and attorneys) incurred by it in connection with a Sale from its proceeds notwithstanding Section 6.8.

(b) The Trustee may bid for and acquire any portion of the Collateral in connection with a public Sale of the Collateral, and may pay all or part of the purchase price by crediting against amounts owing on the Notes or other amounts secured by the Collateral all or part of the net proceeds of the Sale after deducting the reasonable expenses incurred by the Trustee in connection with the Sale notwithstanding Section 6.8. The Notes need not be produced to complete any Sale, or for the net proceeds of the Sale to be credited against amounts owing on the Notes. The Trustee may hold, lease, operate, manage or otherwise deal with any property so acquired in any manner permitted by law in accordance with this Indenture.

(c) If any portion of the Collateral consists of securities issued without registration under the Securities Act ("Unregistered Securities"), the Trustee may seek an Opinion of Counsel, or, if no Opinion of Counsel can be obtained, seek a no action position from the Securities and Exchange Commission or any other relevant federal or state regulatory authorities, regarding the legality of a public or private Sale of the Unregistered Securities.

(d) The Trustee shall execute and deliver an appropriate instrument of transfer transferring its interest in any portion of the Collateral in connection with its Sale. In addition, the Trustee is irrevocably appointed the agent and attorney-in-fact of the Issuer to transfer its interest in any portion of the Collateral in connection with its Sale, and to take all action necessary to effect the Sale. No purchaser or transferee at a Sale shall be bound to ascertain the Trustee's authority, to inquire into the satisfaction of any conditions precedent, or see to the application of any monies.

Section 5.18. Action on the Notes.

The Trustee's right to seek and recover judgment on the Notes or under this Indenture shall not be affected by the seeking or obtaining of or application for any other relief under or with respect to this Indenture. Neither the lien of this Indenture nor any rights or remedies of the Trustee or the Noteholders shall be impaired by the recovery of any judgment by the Trustee against the Issuer or by the levy of any execution under the judgment on any portion of the Collateral or on any of the assets of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer.

THE TRUSTEE

Section 6.1. Certain Duties and Responsibilities.

(a) Except during the continuance of an Event of Default known to the Trustee:

(i) the Trustee undertakes to perform the duties and only the duties specifically provided in this Indenture, and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Indenture against the Trustee; and

(ii) in the absence of bad faith on its part, the Trustee may conclusively rely, as to the truth of the statements and the correctness of the opinions expressed therein, on certificates or opinions furnished to the Trustee and conforming to the requirements of this Indenture; the Trustee shall examine any certificates or opinions that by any provision of this Indenture are specifically required to be furnished to the Trustee to determine whether or not they substantially conform on their face to the requirements of this Indenture and shall promptly notify the party delivering the same if the certificate or opinion does not conform. If a corrected form has not been delivered to the Trustee within 15 days after the notice from the Trustee, the Trustee shall so notify the Noteholders and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares).

(b) If the Trustee has actual knowledge that an Event of Default is continuing, the Trustee shall, before the receipt of directions from a Majority of the Controlling Class, exercise the rights and powers vested in it by this Indenture, and use the same degree of care and skill in its exercise, as a prudent Person would use under the circumstances in the conduct of the Person's own affairs.

(c) No provision of this Indenture shall be construed to relieve the Trustee from liability for its own negligent action, its own negligent failure to act or its own willful misconduct, except that:

(i) this subsection shall not be construed to limit the effect of subsection (a) of this Section 6.1;

(ii) the Trustee shall not be liable for any error of judgment made in good faith by a Trust Officer, unless it is proven that the Trustee was negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts;

(iii) the Trustee shall not be liable with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in good faith in accordance with the direction of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or the Servicer in accordance with this Indenture or a Majority (or the other percentage required or permitted by this Indenture) of the Controlling Class (or other Class if required or permitted by this Indenture) relating to the time, method, and place of conducting any Proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee, or exercising any trust or power conferred on the Trustee, under this Indenture; and

(iv) no provision of this Indenture shall require the Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of any of its duties under this Indenture, or in the exercise of any of its rights contemplated under this Indenture, if it has reasonable grounds for believing that repayment of the funds or indemnity satisfactory to it against the risk or liability is not reasonably assured to it; provided that the reasonable costs of performing its ordinary services under this Indenture shall not be deemed a "financial liability" for purposes hereof.

(d) For all purposes under this Indenture, the Trustee shall not have notice or knowledge of any Event of Default described in Section 5.1(d) through 5.1(i) or any Default described in Section 5.1(e) through 5.1(i) unless a Trust Officer assigned to and working in the Corporate Trust Office has actual knowledge of it or unless written notice of any event that is in fact the an Event of Default or Default is received by the Trustee at the Corporate Trust Office, and the notice references the Notes generally, the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Collateral or this Indenture. For purposes of determining the Trustee's responsibility and liability under this Indenture, whenever reference is made in this Indenture to an Event of Default or a Default, the reference shall be construed to refer only to an Event of Default or Default of which the Trustee has notice as described in this Section 6.1.

(e) Whether or not therein expressly so provided, every provision of this Indenture relating to the conduct or affecting the liability of or affording protection to the Trustee shall be subject to this Section 6.1 and Section 6.3.

Section 6.2. Notice of Default.

Promptly (and in no event later than five Business Days) after the occurrence of any Default known to the Trustee or after any declaration of acceleration has been made or delivered to the Trustee pursuant to Section 5.2, the Trustee shall transmit notice of all Defaults under this Indenture known to the Trustee, unless the Default has been cured or waived, and of the declaration by mail to the Servicer and the Co-Issuers, each Rating Agency, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and to all Noteholders, as their names and addresses appear on the Indenture Register, the Irish Stock Exchange, for so long as any Class of Senior Notes is listed on the Irish Stock Exchange and so long as the rules of the exchange so require, and, upon written request therefor by a Beneficial Owner in the form of Exhibit H certifying that it is a Beneficial Owner, to the Beneficial Owner (or its designee).

Section 6.3. Certain Rights of Trustee.

Except as otherwise provided in Section 6.1:

- (a) the Trustee may rely and shall be protected in acting or refraining from acting on any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, direction, consent, order, note, or other paper or document (including but not limited to any reports prepared and delivered under Article 10) believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper party or parties;
- (b) any request or direction of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer mentioned in this Indenture shall be sufficiently evidenced by an Issuer Request or Issuer Order;
- (c) whenever in the administration of this Indenture the Trustee
  - (i) deems it desirable that a matter be proved or established before taking, suffering, or omitting any action under this Indenture, the Trustee may, in the absence of bad faith on its part, rely on an Officer's certificate (unless other evidence is specifically prescribed in this Indenture) or
  - (ii) is required to determine the value of, or any other matter with respect to, any Collateral or funds under this Indenture or the cash flows projected to be received therefrom, the Trustee may, in the absence of bad faith on its part, rely on reports of nationally recognized accountants, investment bankers or other persons qualified to provide the information required to make the determination, including nationally recognized dealers in securities of the type being valued and securities quotation services;
- (d) as a condition to taking or omitting to take any action under this Indenture, the Trustee may consult with counsel and the advice of the counsel or any Opinion of Counsel shall be full and complete authorization and protection with respect to any action taken or omitted by it under this Indenture in good faith and in reliance thereon;
- (e) the Trustee need not exercise any of the rights or powers vested in it by this Indenture at the request or direction of any of the Noteholders pursuant to this Indenture, unless the Holders have offered to the Trustee security or indemnity satisfactory to it against the costs and liabilities that might reasonably be incurred by it in compliance with the request or direction;
- (f) the Trustee need not make any investigation into the facts or matters stated in any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, direction, consent, order, note or other paper or document, but the Trustee, in its discretion, may, and upon the written direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class, subject to Section 6.3(e), shall, make any the further inquiry or investigation into the facts or matters that it deems appropriate or as it is directed, and the Trustee shall be entitled, on reasonable prior notice to the Co-Issuers and the Servicer, to examine the books and records relating to the Notes, the Collateral, personally or by agent or attorney, during the Co-Issuers' or the Servicer's normal business hours. The Trustee shall, and shall cause its agents to, hold in confidence all such information, except to the extent (i) disclosure may be required by law by any regulatory or administrative authority and (ii) that the Trustee, in its sole judgment, determines that disclosure is consistent with its obligations under this Indenture; provided, however, that the Trustee may disclose on a confidential basis any such information to its agents, attorneys and auditors in connection with the performance of its responsibilities hereunder;

(g) the Trustee may execute any of the trusts or powers under this Indenture or perform any duties under this Indenture either directly or by or through agents or attorneys, and the Trustee shall not be responsible for any misconduct or negligence on the part of any non-Affiliated agent, or non-Affiliated attorney, appointed with due care by it under this Indenture;

(h) the Trustee shall not be liable for any action it takes or omits to take in good faith that it reasonably believes to be authorized or within its rights or powers under this Indenture;

(i) nothing in this Indenture shall be construed to impose an obligation on the Trustee to recalculate, evaluate, or verify any report, certificate or information received from the Issuer or Servicer;

(j) the Trustee may request and receive (and rely on) instruction from the Issuer, the Servicer, or the accountants identified in the Accountants' Certificate (and in the absence of its receipt of timely instruction from them, may obtain from an Independent accountant at the expense of the Issuer) as to the application of GAAP to the extent any defined term in this Indenture, or any calculation required to be made or determined by the Trustee under this Indenture, is dependent on or defined by reference to United States generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), in any instance;

(k) the permissive rights of the Trustee to take or refrain from taking any actions enumerated in this Indenture are not duties;

(l) the Trustee is not responsible for the accuracy of the books and records of, or for any acts or omissions of, the Depository, any Transfer Agent, Custodian, Securities Intermediary, Collateral Administrator, Clearstream, Euroclear, Calculation Agent or any Paying Agent (in each case, other than the Bank acting in that capacity);

(m) in purchasing or disposing of any asset permitted by this Indenture, the Trustee is authorized to deal with itself (in its individual capacity) or with any one or more of its Affiliates, whether it or the Affiliate is acting as a subagent of the Trustee or for any third Person or dealing as principal for its own account. If otherwise qualified, obligations of the Bank or any of its Affiliates shall qualify as Eligible Investments under this Indenture; and

(n) if the Bank is also acting in the capacity of Paying Agent, Transfer Agent, Custodian, Calculation Agent or Securities Intermediary under this Indenture, the rights protections, immunities, and indemnities afforded to the Trustee pursuant to this Article 6 shall also be afforded to the Bank acting in those capacities.

Section 6.4. *Not Responsible for Recitals or Issuance of the Notes.

The recitals contained in this Indenture and in the Notes, other than the Certificate of Authentication, shall be taken as the statements of the Applicable Issuers. The Trustee assumes no responsibility for their correctness. The Trustee makes no representation as to the validity or sufficiency of this Indenture (except as may be made with respect to the validity of the Trustee's obligations under this Indenture), the Collateral or the Notes. The Trustee shall not be accountable for the use or application by the Co-Issuers of the Notes or their proceeds or any money paid to the Co-Issuers pursuant to this Indenture.

Section 6.5. *May Hold Notes.

(a) The Trustee, any Paying Agent, Indenture Registrar or any other agent of the Co-Issuers, in its individual or any other capacity, may become the owner or pledgee of Notes and may otherwise deal with the Co-Issuers or any of their Affiliates with the same rights it would have if it were not Trustee, Paying Agent, Indenture Registrar or other agent.

Section 6.6. *Acquisition of Class E Notes and Preference Shares.

The Trustee, in its individual or any other capacity, agrees that after the initial distribution of the Class E Notes and the Preference Shares, neither the Trustee nor any of its affiliates (as defined in the Plan Asset Regulation) will acquire any Class E Notes or Preference Shares (including pursuant to a Maturity Extension, a Refinancing and the Amendment Buy-Out Option) unless such acquisition would not, as determined by the Trustee in reliance on representations made in the applicable transfer certificates with respect thereto, result in persons that have represented that they are Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of any of the Class E Notes, the Class I Preference Shares or the Class II Preference Shares immediately after such acquisition (determined in accordance with Section 3(42) of ERISA, this Indenture and the Preference Share Documents). Any Class E Notes or Preference Shares held as principal by the Trustee or any of its affiliates shall be disregarded and shall not be treated as outstanding for purposes of determining compliance with such 25% limitation to the extent that such person has represented that it is not a Benefit Plan Investor.

Section 6.7. *Money Held in Trust.

Money held by the Trustee under this Indenture shall be held in trust to the extent required in this Indenture. The Trustee shall be under no liability for interest on any money received by it under this Indenture except as otherwise agreed on with the Issuer and except to the extent of income or other gain on assets that are deposits in or certificates of deposit of the Bank in its commercial capacity and income or other gain actually received by the Trustee on Eligible Investments. Under no circumstances shall the Trustee be responsible for any losses on assets purchased in accordance with an Issuer Order or a written order or request by the Servicer, unless such asset is purchased in an obligation of the Trustee in its corporate capacity.

Section 6.8. *Compensation and Reimbursement.

(a) The Issuer agrees:

(i) to pay the Trustee on each Payment Date reasonable compensation for all services rendered by it under this Indenture in accordance with its letter agreement with the Trustee (which compensation shall not be limited by any provision of law in regard to the compensation of a trustee of an express trust);

(ii) except as otherwise expressly provided in this Indenture or in its letter agreement with the Trustee, to reimburse the Trustee in a timely manner upon its request for all reasonable expenses, disbursements and advances incurred or made by the Trustee in accordance with this Indenture (including securities transaction charges and the reasonable compensation and expenses and disbursements of its agents and legal counsel and of any accounting firm or investment banking firm employed by the Trustee pursuant to Section 5.4, 5.5, 10.5 or 10.7, except any such expense, disbursement or advance attributable to its negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith) but with respect to securities transaction charges, only to the extent they have not been waived during a Due Period due to the Trustee's receipt of a payment from a financial institution with respect to certain Eligible Investments, as specified by the Servicer;

(iii) to indemnify the Trustee and its officers, directors, employees and agents for any loss, liability or expense (including reasonable attorney's fees and costs) incurred without negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith on their part, arising out of or in connection with the acceptance or administration of this trust, including the costs and expenses of defending themselves against any claim or liability in connection with the exercise or performance of any of their powers or duties under this Indenture; and

(iv) to pay the Trustee reasonable additional compensation together with its expenses (including reasonable counsel fees and costs) for any collection action taken pursuant to Section 6.14.

(b) The Trustee shall receive amounts pursuant to this Section 6.8 as provided in Sections 11.1(a)(i) and (ii) but only to the extent that funds are available for their payment. Subject to Section 6.10, the Trustee shall continue to serve as Trustee under this Indenture notwithstanding the fact that the Trustee has not received amounts due to it under this Indenture. No direction by the Noteholders shall affect the right of the Trustee to collect amounts owed to it under this Indenture. If on any date when a fee is payable to the Trustee pursuant to this Indenture insufficient funds are available for its payment any portion of a fee not so paid shall be deferred and payable on the next date on which a fee is payable and sufficient funds are available for it.

(c) The Trustee agrees not to cause the filing of a petition in bankruptcy for the non-payment to the Trustee of any amounts provided by this Section 6.8 until at least one year and one day, or if longer the applicable preference period then in effect plus one day, after the payment in full of all Notes issued under this Indenture and the payment to the Preference Shares Paying Agent of all amounts payable with respect to the Preference Shares in accordance with the Priority of Payments. Nothing in this Section 6.8(c) shall prohibit or otherwise prevent the Trustee from filing proofs of claim in any bankruptcy, insolvency or similar proceeding.

Section 6.9. Corporate Trustee Required; Eligibility.

There shall at all times be a Trustee under this Indenture that is an Independent "bank" (within the meaning of the Investment Company Act) organized and doing business under the laws of the United States of America or of any state of the United States, authorized under those laws to exercise corporate trust powers, having a combined capital and surplus of at least U.S.$200,000,000, subject to supervision or examination by federal or state banking authority, having a rating of at least "Baa1" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) by Moody's and at least "BBB+" by S&P, and having an office within the United States. In addition, the Trustee shall not be "affiliated" (within the meaning of Rule 405 under the Securities Act) with either of the Co-Issuers or any person involved in the organization or operation of either of the Co-Issuers and shall not provide credit or credit enhancement to either of the Co-Issuers; provided that the requirements of the preceding sentence shall be met if (a) the Trustee is not "affiliated" (as defined in the preceding sentence) with the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Administrator or the Share Registrar, (b) neither the Trustee nor the Issuer has actual knowledge, or has received written notice, that the Trustee is "affiliated" (as defined in the preceding sentence) with any person involved with the organization or operation of either of the Co-Issuers, and (c) the Trustee has not provided and does not provide credit or credit enhancement to either of the Co-Issuers. For purposes of the preceding clause (b), (i) the "actual knowledge" of the Trustee shall mean (x) its knowledge of those persons who have been expressly identified in writing to it by either or both of the Co-Issuers, or the Servicer on their behalf or (y) any persons otherwise actually known to a Responsible Officer of the Trustee, in either case, to be a person involved with the organization or operation either of the Co-Issuers, without any duty of independent inquiry or investigation on the part of the Trustee, and (ii) unless and except to the extent it has been otherwise expressly notified in writing by the Issuer, or the Servicer on its behalf, the Trustee shall be entitled to presume that the Issuer has no knowledge of such an affiliation. If the Trustee publishes reports of condition at least annually, pursuant to law or to the requirements of its supervising or examining authority, then for the purposes of this Section 6.9, the combined capital and surplus of the Trustee shall be its combined capital and surplus in its most recent published report of condition. If at any time the Trustee ceases to be eligible in accordance with this Section 6.9, it shall resign immediately in the manner and with the effect specified in Section 6.10.

Section 6.10. *Resignation and Removal; Appointment of Successor.

(a) No resignation or removal of the Trustee and no appointment of a successor Trustee pursuant to this Article 6 shall become effective until the acceptance of appointment by the successor Trustee under Section 6.11. The indemnification in favor of the Trustee shall survive any resignation or removal of the Trustee.

(b) The Trustee may resign at any time by giving not less than 30 days' written notice to the Co-Issuers, the Servicer, the Noteholders, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and each Rating Agency. Upon receiving the notice of resignation, the Co-Issuers shall by Board Resolution (or, if an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, at the direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class) promptly appoint a successor trustee satisfying the requirements of Section 6.9, by written instrument, in duplicate, executed by an Authorized Officer of the Issuer and an Authorized Officer of the Co-Issuer, one copy of which shall be delivered to the resigning Trustee and one copy to the successor Trustee, together with a copy to each Noteholder, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and the Servicer. If no successor Trustee has been appointed and an instrument of acceptance by a successor Trustee has not been delivered to the Trustee within 60 days after the giving of the notice of resignation, the resigning Trustee or any Noteholder, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated, may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Trustee satisfying the requirements of Section 6.9.

(c) The Trustee may be removed (i) at any time by the Co-Issuers as directed by Board Resolution (or, if an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, by an Act of a Majority of the Controlling Class) or (ii) by order of a court of competent jurisdiction, delivered to the Trustee and to the Co-Issuers.

(d) If at any time:

(i) the Trustee ceases to be eligible under Section 6.9 and fails to resign after written request by the Co-Issuers or a Majority of the Controlling Class; or

(ii) the Trustee becomes incapable of acting or is adjudged bankrupt or insolvent or a receiver or liquidator of the Trustee or of its property appointed or any public officer takes charge or control of the Trustee or of its property or affairs for the purpose of rehabilitation, conservation or liquidation, then, in any such case (subject to Section 6.10(a)), (A) the Co-Issuers, by Issuer Order (as directed by Board Resolution), may, and at the direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class shall, remove the Trustee or (B) subject to Section 5.15, or any Holder may, on behalf of itself and all others similarly situated, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Trustee and the appointment of a successor Trustee.

(e) If the Trustee is removed or becomes incapable of acting, or if a vacancy occurs in the office of the Trustee for any reason (other than resignation), the Co-Issuers, by Issuer Order (as directed by Board Resolution) or at the direction of a Majority of the Controlling Class, shall promptly appoint a successor Trustee. If the Co-Issuers fail to appoint a successor Trustee within 60 days after the removal or incapability or the occurrence of the vacancy, a successor Trustee may be appointed by a Majority of the Controlling Class by written instrument delivered to the Issuer and the retiring Trustee. The successor Trustee so appointed shall, upon its acceptance of its appointment, become the successor Trustee and supersede any successor Trustee proposed by the Co-Issuers. If no successor Trustee has been so appointed by the Co-Issuers or a Majority of the Controlling Class and accepted appointment pursuant to Section 6.11, subject to Section 5.15, then the Trustee to be replaced, or any Holder, may, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Trustee.

(f) The Co-Issuers shall give prompt notice of each resignation and each removal of the Trustee and each appointment of a successor Trustee by mailing written notice of the event by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to the Servicer, to each Rating Agency, to the Noteholders as their names and addresses appear in the Indenture Register and to the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares). Each notice shall include the name of the successor Trustee and the address of its Corporate Trust Office. If the Co-Issuers fail to mail the notice within 10 days after acceptance of appointment by the successor Trustee, the successor Trustee shall cause the notice to be given at the expense of the Co-Issuers.

Section 6.11. Acceptance of Appointment by Successor.

Every successor Trustee appointed under this Indenture shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the Co-Issuers and the retiring Trustee an instrument accepting its appointment. Upon delivery of the required instruments, the resignation or removal of the retiring Trustee shall become effective and the successor Trustee, without any further act, shall become vested with all the rights and obligations of the retiring Trustee; but, on request of the Co-Issuers or a Majority of any Class of Notes or the successor Trustee, the retiring Trustee shall, upon payment of any amounts then due to it, execute and deliver an instrument transferring to the successor Trustee all the rights and obligations of the retiring Trustee, and shall duly assign, transfer and deliver to the successor Trustee all property and money held by the retiring Trustee under this Indenture. Upon request of any successor Trustee, the Co-Issuers shall execute any instruments to more fully and certainly vest in and confirm to the successor Trustee all the rights and obligations of the Trustee under this Indenture.

No successor Trustee shall accept its appointment unless at the time of its acceptance the successor is qualified and eligible under Section 6.9 and either (a) each Rating Agency has been notified and the successor has long-term debt rated within the four highest rating categories by each Rating Agency, or (b) if not rated within the four highest categories by each Rating Agency, the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect thereto.

Section 6.12. *Merger, Conversion, Consolidation, or Succession to Business of Trustee.

Any entity into which the Trustee may be merged or converted or with which it may be consolidated, or any entity resulting from any merger, conversion or consolidation to which the Trustee is a party, or any entity succeeding to all or substantially all of the corporate trust business of the Trustee, shall be the successor of the Trustee under this Indenture (and of the Bank under all of its other capacities under this Indenture, including as Custodian, Securities Intermediary, Indenture Registrar and Paying Agent) without the execution or filing of any paper or any further act on the part of any of the parties hereto. If any of the Notes have been authenticated, but not delivered, by the Trustee then in office, any successor by merger, conversion or consolidation to the authenticating Trustee may adopt the authentication and deliver the Notes so authenticated with the same effect as if the successor Trustee had itself authenticated the Notes.

Section 6.13. *Co-Trustees.

At any time, to meet the legal requirements of any jurisdiction in which any part of the Collateral may at the time be located, the Co-Issuers and the Trustee may appoint a co-trustee (subject to the approval of the Rating Agencies) to act jointly with the Trustee, with respect to all or any part of the Collateral, with the power to file proofs of claim and take any other actions pursuant to Section 5.6 in this Indenture and to make claims and enforce rights of action on behalf of the Noteholders, as the Holders themselves have the right to do, subject to the other provisions of this Section 6.13.

The Co-Issuers shall join with the Trustee in the execution, delivery and performance of all instruments and agreements necessary or proper to appoint a co-trustee. If the Co-Issuers do not join in the appointment within 15 days after they receive a request to do so, the Trustee may make the appointment.

Any instruments to more fully confirm a co-trustee's appointment shall, on request, be executed, acknowledged and delivered by the Co-Issuers. The Co-Issuers agree to pay (but only from and to the extent of the Collateral), to the extent funds are available therefor under Section 11.1(a)(1), any reasonable fees and expenses in connection with the appointment.

Every co-trustee shall, to the extent permitted by law, but to that extent only, be appointed subject to the following terms:

- (a) the Notes shall be authenticated and delivered and all rights and obligations under this Indenture in respect of the custody of securities, cash and other personal property held by, or required to be deposited or pledged with, the Trustee under this Indenture, shall be exercised solely by the Trustee;
- (b) the rights and obligations conferred or imposed on the Trustee in respect of any property covered by the appointment of a co-trustee shall be conferred or imposed on and exercised or performed by the Trustee or by the Trustee and the co-trustee jointly as provided in the instrument appointing the co-trustee;
- (c) the Trustee at any time, by an instrument in writing executed by it, with the concurrence of the Co-Issuers evidenced by an Issuer Order, may accept the resignation of or remove any co-trustee appointed under this Section 6.13, and if an Event of Default is continuing, the Trustee shall have the power to accept the resignation of, or remove, any co-trustee without the concurrence of the Co-Issuers. A successor to any co-trustee so resigned or removed may be appointed in the manner provided in this Section 6.13;

(d) no co-trustee under this Indenture shall be personally liable because of any act or omission of the Trustee under this Indenture;

(e) the Trustee shall not be liable because of any act or omission of a co-trustee; and

(f) any Act of Noteholders delivered to the Trustee shall be deemed to have been delivered to each co-trustee.

Section 6.14. *Certain Duties of Trustee Related to Delayed Payment of Proceeds.

If in any month the Trustee has not received a payment with respect to any Pledged Obligation on its Due Date:

(a) the Trustee shall promptly notify the Issuer and the Servicer in writing, and

(b) unless the payment is received by the Trustee within three Business Days (or the end of the applicable grace period for the payment, if longer) after the notice, or unless the Issuer, in its absolute discretion (but only to the extent permitted by Section 10.2(a)), makes provision for the payment satisfactory to the Trustee in accordance with Section 10.2(a), the Trustee shall request the issuer of the Pledged Obligation, the trustee under the related Underlying Instrument, or paying agent designated by either of them to make the payment as soon as practicable after the request but in no event later than three Business Days after the date of the request. If the payment is not made within that time period, the Trustee, subject to clause (iv) of Section 6.1(c), shall take the action directed by the Servicer in writing. Any such action shall be without prejudice to any right to claim a Default or Event of Default under this Indenture. If the Issuer or the Servicer requests a release of a Pledged Obligation or delivers a Collateral Obligation in connection with any such action under the Servicing Agreement, the release or substitution shall be subject to Section 10.6 and Article 12. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture, the Trustee shall deliver to the Issuer or its designee any payment with respect to any Pledged Obligation or any Collateral Obligation received after its Due Date to the extent the Issuer previously made provisions for the payment satisfactory to the Trustee in accordance with this Section 6.14 and the payment shall not be part of the Collateral.

Section 6.15. *Authenticating Agents.

Upon the request of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee shall, and if the Trustee so chooses the Trustee may, appoint one or more Authenticating Agents with power to act on its behalf and subject to its direction in the authentication of the Notes in connection with issuance, transfers, and exchanges under Sections 2.4, 2.5, 2.6, 2.7, and 8.5, as fully to all intents and purposes as though each Authenticating Agent had been expressly authorized by those Sections to authenticate the Notes. For all purposes of this Indenture, the authentication of Notes by an Authenticating Agent pursuant to this Section 6.15 shall be the authentication of the Notes "by the Trustee."

Any Authenticating Agent may at any time resign by giving written notice of resignation to the Trustee and the Issuer. The Trustee may at any time terminate the agency of any Authenticating Agent by giving written notice of termination to the Authenticating Agent and the Co-Issuers.

The Co-Issuers agree to pay to each Authenticating Agent from time to time reasonable compensation for its services, and reimbursement for its reasonable expenses relating to its services as an Administrative Expense; provided, however, that if the Trustee elects to appoint an Authenticating Agent without the approval or request of the Co-Issuers, then the Trustee shall pay such compensation and reimbursement. Sections 2.9, 6.4, and 6.5 shall be applicable to any Authenticating Agent.

Section 6.16. *Fiduciary for Noteholders Only; Agent for Secured Parties.

With respect to the security interest created under this Indenture, the delivery of any Pledged Obligation to the Trustee is to the Trustee as representative of the Noteholders and agent for the other Secured Parties. In furtherance of the foregoing, the possession by the Trustee of any Pledged Obligation and the endorsement to or registration in the name of the Trustee of any Pledged Obligation (including as entitlement holder of the Custodial Account) are all undertaken by the Trustee in its capacity as representative of the Noteholders and agent for the other Secured Parties.

Section 6.17. *Representations and Warranties of the Bank.

The Bank represents and warrants as follows for the benefit of the Noteholders:

(a) Organization. The Bank has been duly organized and is validly existing as a national banking association and has the power to conduct its business and affairs as a trustee.

(b) Authorization; Binding Obligations. The Bank has the corporate power and authority to perform the duties and obligations of trustee under this Indenture. The Bank has taken all necessary corporate action to authorize the execution, delivery and performance of this Indenture, and all of the documents required to be executed by the Bank pursuant to this Indenture. Upon execution and delivery by the Bank, this Indenture will be the valid and legally binding obligation of the Bank enforceable in accordance with its terms.

(c) Eligibility. The Bank is eligible under Section 6.9 to serve as Trustee under this Indenture.

Section 6.18. *Additional Reporting Requirements.

If either of the Initial Purchasers elects to enter into a posting dealer agreement pursuant to Section 7.20, upon the effectiveness of the posting dealer agreement, the Issuer shall provide to The Bond Market Association certain documents for posting in the Repository as mutually agreed between the Servicer and such Initial Purchaser.

If either of the Initial Purchasers has entered into a posting dealer agreement, as promptly as possible following the execution of any supplemental indenture under Article 8, the Trustee at the expense of the Issuer shall deliver a copy of such supplemental indenture to the Repository in the manner described in Section 14.3(a)(ix).

Section 6.19. *Withholding Tax Forms.

The Issuer hereby agrees to deliver or cause to be delivered, a United States Internal Revenue Service Form W-8BEN (or successor form thereto) or any other appropriate tax certificates to the relevant issuer of its Collateral Obligations and issuer of its Eligible Investments at the time such Collateral Obligations or Eligible Investments are purchased by the Issuer and thereafter as required under the relevant law. In addition, the Issuer hereby agrees to deliver, and the Issuer shall be required to deliver, United States Internal Revenue Service Forms W-8BEN (or successor form thereto) and other appropriate United States tax forms as may be required by the Hedge Counterparty, to the Hedge Counterparty at the time the Hedge Agreement is entered into and thereafter prior to the expiration or obsolescence of such form, and shall take any other action appropriate to prevent withholding or backup withholding tax on the Hedge Agreements. The Issuer shall represent, to the Hedge Counterparty in the master agreement, confirmation or schedule to the Hedge Agreement, that the Issuer is a "non-U.S. branch" of a foreign person as that term is used in section 1.1441-4(a)(3)(ii) of the United States Treasury Regulations and a "foreign person" as that term is used in Section 1.6041-4(a)(4) of the United States Treasury Regulations. The Issuer will request that the Hedge Counterparty provide the Issuer a United States Internal Revenue Service Forms W-9 or W-8, as applicable, together with any required attachments, at the time the Hedge Agreement is entered into and thereafter prior to the expiration or obsolescence of such form.

COVENANTS

Section 7.1. Payment of Principal and Interest.

The Applicable Issuers shall pay the principal of and interest on the Notes in accordance with the Notes and this Indenture.

The Issuer shall, subject to the Priority of Payments, reimburse the Co-Issuer for any amounts paid by the Co-Issuer pursuant to the Senior Notes or this Indenture. The Co-Issuer shall not reimburse the Issuer for any amounts paid by the Issuer pursuant to the Notes or this Indenture.

Amounts properly withheld under the Code or other applicable law by any Person from a payment to any Holder shall be considered as having been paid by the Applicable Issuers to the Holder for all purposes of this Indenture.

Section 7.2. Maintenance of Office or Agency.

The Co-Issuers appoint the Trustee as a Paying Agent for the payment of principal of and interest on the Notes. The Co-Issuers appoint Investors Bank & Trust Company, 200 Clarendon Street, Mailcode EUC 108, Boston, MA 02116, Attn: CDO Services Group, as the Co-Issuers' agent where notices and demands on the Co-Issuers in respect of the Notes or this Indenture may be served and where the Notes may be surrendered for registration of transfer or exchange.

The Co-Issuers may at any time and from time to time vary or terminate the appointment of any Paying Agent or appoint any additional agents for all of these purposes.

The Co-Issuers shall maintain in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, an office or agency where notices and demands on the Co-Issuers in respect of the Notes and this Indenture may be served, which office will initially be the office of Investors Bank & Trust Company, an Affiliate of the Trustee, located at 33 Maiden Lane, 4th Floor, New York, NY 10038, and an office or agency outside of the United States where the Notes may be presented and surrendered for payment.

No paying agent shall be appointed in a jurisdiction that subjects payments on the Notes to withholding tax.

So long as any Class of Senior Notes is listed on the Irish Stock Exchange and the rules of the exchange so require, the Co-Issuers shall maintain in Ireland a Paying Agent and an office or agency where notices and demands on the Co-Issuers in respect of the Senior Notes and this Indenture may be served and where the Senior Notes may be surrendered for registration of transfer or exchange.

The Co-Issuers appoint, for so long as any Class of Senior Notes is listed on the Irish Stock Exchange, AIB International Financial Services Ltd. (the "Irish Paying Agent") as Paying Agent in Ireland with respect to the Senior Notes, for the payment of principal, interest and other distributions on the Senior Notes and as the Co-Issuers' agent where notices and demands on the Co-Issuers in respect of the Senior Notes or this Indenture may be served. If the Irish Paying Agent is replaced at any time when any Class of Senior Notes is listed on the Irish Stock Exchange, notice of the appointment of any replacement shall be given to the Company Announcements Office of the Irish Stock Exchange as promptly as practicable after the appointment. The Co-Issuers shall give prompt written notice to the Trustee, each Rating Agency, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and the Holders of the Senior Notes of the appointment or termination of any such agent and of the location and any change in the location of any such office or agency.

If at any time the Co-Issuers fail to maintain any required office or agency in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, or outside the United States, or fail to furnish the Trustee with their addresses, notices and demands may be served on the Co-Issuers.

Section 7.3. Money for Note Payments to be Held in Trust.

All payments of amounts payable with respect to any Notes that are to be made from amounts withdrawn from the Payment Account shall be made on behalf of the Applicable Issuers by the Trustee or a Paying Agent with respect to payments on the Notes.

When the Applicable Issuers have a Paying Agent that is not also the Indenture Registrar, they shall furnish not later than the fifth calendar day after each Record Date a list in the form the Paying Agent reasonably requests, of the names and addresses of the Holders and of the certificate numbers of individual Notes held by each Holder.

Whenever the Applicable Issuers have a Paying Agent other than the Trustee, they shall, on or before the Business Day before each Payment Date or Redemption Date direct the Trustee to deposit on the Payment Date with the Paying Agent an aggregate sum sufficient to pay the amounts then becoming due (to the extent funds are then available for that purpose in the Payment Account), that sum to be held in trust for the benefit of the Persons entitled to it and (unless the Paying Agent is the Trustee) the Co-Issuers shall promptly notify the Trustee of its action or failure so to act. Any monies deposited with a Paying Agent (other than the Trustee) in excess of an amount sufficient to pay the amounts then becoming due on the Notes with respect to which the deposit was made shall be paid over by the Paying Agent to the Trustee for application in accordance with Article 10.

Additional or successor Paying Agents shall be appointed by Issuer Order with written notice of the appointment to the Trustee. So long as Notes of any Class are rated by a Rating Agency any Paying Agent must either have a long-term debt rating of "Aa3" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) or higher by Moody's and "AA-" or higher by S&P or a short-term debt rating of "P-1" (and not on credit watch for possible downgrade) by Moody's and "A-1+" by S&P or the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency must be satisfied with respect to its appointment. If a successor Paying Agent ceases to have a long-term debt rating of "Aa3" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) or higher by Moody's and "AA-" or higher by S&P or a short-term debt rating of "P-1" (and not on credit watch for possible downgrade) by Moody's and a short-term debt rating of "A-1+" by S&P, the Co-Issuers shall promptly remove the Paying Agent and appoint a successor Paying Agent. The Co-Issuers shall not appoint any Paying Agent that is not, at the time of the appointment, a depository institution or trust company subject to supervision and examination by federal or state or national banking authorities. The Co-Issuers shall cause each Paying Agent other than the Trustee to execute and deliver to the Trustee an instrument in which the Paying Agent agrees with the Trustee, subject to this Section 7.3, that the Paying Agent will:

- (i) allocate all sums received for payment to the Noteholders for which it acts as Paying Agent on each Payment Date and any Redemption Date among the Holders in the proportion specified in the applicable report to the extent permitted by applicable law;
- (ii) hold all sums held by it for the payment of amounts due with respect to the Notes in trust for the benefit of the Persons entitled to them until they are paid or otherwise disposed of as provided in this Indenture;
- (iii) immediately resign as a Paying Agent and forthwith pay to the Trustee all sums held by it in trust for the payment of the Notes if at any time it ceases to meet the standards required to be met by a Paying Agent at the time of its appointment;
- (iv) immediately give the Trustee notice of any default by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer (or any other obligor on the Notes) in the making of any payment required to be made; and
- (v) during the continuance of any such default, upon the written request of the Trustee, forthwith pay to the Trustee all sums so held in trust by the Paying Agent.

To obtain the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture or for any other purpose, the Co-Issuers may at any time pay, or by Issuer Order direct any Paying Agent to pay, to the Trustee all sums held in trust by the Co-Issuers or the Paying Agent, and, upon the payment by any Paying Agent to the Trustee, the Paying Agent shall be released from all further liability with respect to the money paid.

Any money deposited with a Paying Agent and not previously returned that remains unclaimed for 20 Business Days shall be returned to the Trustee. Except as otherwise required by applicable law, any money deposited with the Trustee or any Paying Agent in trust for the payment of the principal of or interest on any Note and remaining unclaimed for two years after the principal or interest has become payable shall be paid to the Applicable Issuers. The Noteholder shall thereafter look only to the Applicable Issuers for payment of the amounts due to it as an unsecured general creditor and all liability of the Trustee or the Paying Agent with respect to that money (but only to the extent of the amounts so paid to the Applicable Issuers) shall thereupon cease. The Trustee or the Paying Agent, before being required to release any payment, may, but shall not be required to, adopt and employ, at the expense of the Applicable Issuers any reasonable means of notification of the release of the payment, including mailing notice of the release to Holders whose Notes have been called but have not been surrendered for redemption or whose right to or interest in monies payable but not claimed is determinable from the records of any Paying Agent, at the last address of record of each Holder.

Section 7.4. Existence of Co-Issuers.

(a) The Issuer and the Co-Issuer shall maintain in full force their existence and rights as companies incorporated or organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands and the State of Delaware, respectively, and shall obtain and preserve their qualification to do business as foreign corporations in each jurisdiction in which the qualifications are necessary to protect the validity and enforceability of this Indenture, the Notes, the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement and any of the Collateral.

However, the Issuer may change its jurisdiction of incorporation from the Cayman Islands to any other jurisdiction reasonably selected by the Issuer so long as:

(A) the Issuer has received a legal opinion (on which the Trustee may rely) to the effect that the change is not disadvantageous in any material respect to the Holders, the Servicer or any Hedge Counterparty,

(B) written notice of the change has been given by the Issuer to the Trustee, the Noteholders, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), the Servicer, any Hedge Counterparty and each Rating Agency, and

(C) on or before the 15th Business Day following its receipt of the notice the Trustee has not received written notice from a Majority of the Controlling Class objecting to the change.

The Issuer may take any action required by this Indenture within the United States notwithstanding any provision of this Indenture requiring the Issuer to take the action outside of the United States so long as before taking the action the Issuer receives a Tax Opinion of Counsel to the effect that it is not necessary to take the action outside of the United States or any political subdivision of the United States to prevent the Issuer from becoming subject to any United States federal, state, or local withholding or other taxes.

(b) The Issuer and the Co-Issuer shall ensure that all corporate or other formalities regarding their respective existences (including holding regular board of directors' and shareholders', or other similar, meetings to the extent required by applicable law) are followed. Neither the Issuer nor the Co-Issuer shall take any action or conduct its affairs in a manner that is likely to result in its separate existence being ignored or in its assets and liabilities being substantively consolidated with any other Person in a bankruptcy, reorganization or other insolvency proceeding. Without limiting the foregoing,

(i) the Issuer shall not have any subsidiaries,

(ii) the Co-Issuer shall not have any subsidiaries,

(iii) the Issuer shall maintain at all times at least one director who is Independent of the Servicer, the Trustee and any of their respective Affiliates,

(iv) the Issuer shall not commingle its funds with the funds of any other Person, except as expressly permitted by this Indenture, and

(v) except to the extent contemplated in the Servicing Agreement, the Administration Agreement, the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement and the declaration of trust by the Share Trustee, the Issuer and the Co-Issuer shall not:

(A) engage in any transaction with any shareholder that would be a conflict of interest (the entry into the Administration Agreement with the Administrator shall not be deemed a conflict of interest), or

(B) pay dividends in violation of this Indenture, the resolutions of its board of directors and the Preference Share Documents.

Section 7.5. Protection of Collateral.

(a) The Servicer on behalf of the Issuer will procure any action within the Servicer's control that is reasonably necessary to maintain the perfection and priority of the security interest of the Trustee in the Collateral. The Issuer from time to time shall execute and deliver any supplements and amendments to this Indenture and shall execute and deliver any Financing Statements, continuation statements, instruments of further assurance, and other instruments and shall take any other action appropriate to secure the rights and remedies of the Secured Parties under this Indenture and to:

- (i) Grant more effectively all or any portion of the Collateral;
- (ii) maintain or preserve the lien (and its priority) of this Indenture or to carry out more effectively the purposes of this Indenture;
- (iii) perfect, publish notice of, or protect the validity of, any Grant made by this Indenture (including any actions appropriate as a result of changes in law);
- (iv) enforce any of the Pledged Obligations or other instruments or property included in the Collateral;
- (v) preserve and defend title to the Collateral and the rights of the Secured Parties in the Collateral against the claims of anyone; and
- (vi) pay when due all taxes levied or assessed on any part of the Collateral.

The Issuer designates the Servicer as its agent and attorney in fact to execute any Financing Statement, continuation statement, and all other instruments, and take all other actions, required pursuant to this Section 7.5.

The Issuer authorizes the filing without the Issuer's signature a financing statement that names the Issuer as "debtor" and Investors Bank & Trust Company as "secured party" (with or without indicating its capacity as Trustee hereunder) and that describes the Collateral as "all assets of the debtor, whether now owned or hereafter acquired and wherever located."

(b) The Trustee shall not:

- (i) except in accordance with Section 10.6(a), (b) or (c), remove any portion of the Collateral that consists of Cash or is evidenced by an instrument, certificate or other writing:
  - (A) from the jurisdiction in which it was held at the date the most recent Opinion of Counsel was delivered pursuant to Section 7.6 (or from the jurisdiction in which it was held as described in the Opinions of Counsel delivered at the Closing Date pursuant to Section 3.1(a)(iii) if no Opinion of Counsel has yet been delivered pursuant to Section 7.6), or
  - (B) from the possession of the Person who held it (other than the Bank), or
- (ii) cause or permit ownership or the pledge of any portion of the Collateral that consists of book-entry securities to be recorded on the books of a Person (other than the Bank):

(A) located in a different jurisdiction from the jurisdiction in which the ownership or pledge was recorded, or

(B) other than the Person on whose books the ownership or pledge was originally recorded, unless the Trustee shall have first received an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that the lien and security interest created by this Indenture with respect to the property and its priority will continue to be maintained after giving effect to the change.

(c) Without at least 30 days' prior written notice to the Trustee and the Servicer, the Issuer shall not change its "location" (as defined in Section 9-307 of the UCC) or change its name from the name shown on the signature pages of this Indenture.

(d) The Issuer shall, subject to the Priority of Payments, enforce all of its material rights and remedies under the Servicing Agreement, the Collateral Administration Agreement, the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, each Hedge Agreement and each Securities Lending Agreement.

(f) The Servicer on behalf of the Issuer will either exercise the "put" option that prevents a Collateral Obligation from being a Long-Dated Collateral Obligation on the last available date before the Stated Maturity of the Notes or sell the Collateral Obligation for Sale Proceeds at least equal to the Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligation, in either case by the Stated Maturity of the Notes.

Section 7.6. *Opinions as to Collateral.

On or before June 1 in each calendar year, commencing in 2008, the Issuer shall furnish to the Trustee and each of the Rating Agencies, an Opinion of Counsel stating that in the opinion of such counsel as of the date of such opinion under the District of Columbia Uniform Commercial Code, the UCC financing statement(s) filed in connection with the lien and security interests created by this Indenture shall remain effective and no additional financing statements, continuation statements or amendments with respect to such financing statement(s) shall be required to be filed in the District of Columbia from the date thereof through the next twelve months to maintain the perfection of the security interest of this Indenture under the District of Columbia Uniform Commercial Code.

Section 7.7. *Performance of Obligations.

(a) The Co-Issuers, each as to itself, shall not take any action, and shall use their reasonable commercial efforts not to permit any action to be taken by others, that would release any Person from any of the Person's covenants or obligations under any instrument included in the Collateral, except in the case of enforcement action taken with respect to any Defaulted Collateral Obligation in accordance with this Indenture and actions by the Servicer under the Servicing Agreement and in conformity with this Indenture or as otherwise required by this Indenture.

(b) The Applicable Issuers may, with the prior written consent of a Majority of each Class of Notes and a Majority of the Preference Shares (except in the case of the Servicing Agreement and the Collateral Administration Agreement as initially executed), contract with other Persons (including the Servicer, the Trustee and the Collateral Administrator) for the performance of actions and obligations to be performed by the Applicable Issuers under this Indenture.

Notwithstanding any such arrangement, the Applicable Issuers shall remain primarily liable for performance under this Indenture. The Applicable Issuers shall punctually perform, and use their reasonable commercial efforts to cause the Servicer, the Trustee, the Collateral Administrator, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and any other Person to perform, all of their obligations in the Servicing Agreement, this Indenture, the Collateral Administration Agreement, the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement or any other agreement.

Section 7.8. Negative Covenants.

(a) The Issuer shall not and, with respect to clauses (ii), (iii), (iv), (vi) and (ix), the Co-Issuer shall not, in each case from and after the Closing Date:

(i) sell, transfer, assign, exchange, or otherwise dispose of, or pledge, mortgage, hypothecate, or otherwise encumber (or permit or suffer the sale, transfer, assignment, exchange, or other disposition of, or pledge, mortgage, hypothecation, or other encumbering of), any part of the Collateral, except as expressly permitted by this Indenture and the Servicing Agreement;

(ii) claim any credit on, make any deduction from, or, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable laws, dispute the enforceability of payment of the principal or interest (or any other amount) payable in respect of the Notes (other than amounts withheld in accordance with the Code or any applicable laws of the Cayman Islands) or assert any claim against any present or future Noteholder because of the payment of any taxes levied or assessed on any part of the Collateral;

(iii) (A) incur or assume or guarantee any indebtedness, other than the Notes and this Indenture and the transactions contemplated by this Indenture (including a Refinancing in accordance with Section 9.7 and including, as contemplated hereby, entering into the Hedge Agreements and Securities Lending Agreements) or (B) issue any additional class of securities other than the Preference Shares issued on or before the Closing Date, except as otherwise permitted by the Preference Share Documents;

(iv) (A) permit the validity or effectiveness of this Indenture or any Grant under this Indenture to be impaired, or permit the lien of this Indenture to be amended, hypothecated, subordinated, terminated, or discharged or permit any Person to be released from any covenants or obligations with respect to this Indenture or the Notes, except as may be expressly permitted by this Indenture or by the Servicing Agreement, (B) permit any lien, charge, adverse claim, security interest, mortgage or other encumbrance (other than the lien of this Indenture) to be created on or extend to or otherwise arise on or burden any part of the Collateral, any interest in it, or its proceeds of or (C) take any action that would permit the lien of this Indenture not to be a valid first priority perfected security interest in the Collateral;

(v) amend the Servicing Agreement except pursuant to its terms and Section 15.1(h) or amend the Collateral Administration Agreement except pursuant to its terms unless the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect to the amendment or enter into any waiver in respect of any of the foregoing agreements without providing written notice to each Rating Agency and the Trustee (and, with respect to the Collateral Administration Agreement, without the consent of the Trustee);

(vi) to the extent permitted by applicable law, dissolve or liquidate in whole or in part, except as permitted under this Indenture;

(vii) pay any dividends or other distributions other than in accordance with the Priority of Payments and the Preference Share Documents;

(viii) conduct business under any name other than its own;

(ix) have any employees (other than directors and officers to the extent they are employees); or

(x) except for any Underlying Instrument and agreements involving the purchase or sale of Collateral Obligations having customary purchase or sale terms and documented with customary trading documentation (but not excepting any Synthetic Security or Hedge Agreement), enter into any agreement unless the agreement contains "non-petition" and "limited recourse" provisions and shall not amend such "non-petition" and "limited recourse" provisions without prior Rating Confirmation.

(b) Neither the Issuer nor the Trustee shall sell, transfer, exchange or otherwise dispose of Collateral, or enter into an agreement or commitment to do so, or enter into or engage in any business with respect to any part of the Collateral, except as expressly permitted by this Indenture and, with respect to the Issuer, the Servicing Agreement.

(c) The Co-Issuer shall not invest any of its assets in "securities" as the term is defined in the Investment Company Act, and shall keep all of its assets in Cash.

(d) Neither the Issuer nor the Co-Issuer shall use the proceeds of the Notes to buy or carry Margin Stock.

Section 7.9. *Notice of Default; Statement as to Compliance.

(a) The Co-Issuers shall notify the Trustee, the Servicer, the Rating Agencies and each Hedge Counterparty within 10 days of acquiring actual knowledge of Default.

(b) On or before May 15 in each calendar year, commencing in 2008, the Issuer shall deliver to the Trustee (to be forwarded by the Trustee to the Servicer and each Noteholder making a written request therefor and, upon written request therefor by a Beneficial Owner in the form of Exhibit H certifying that it is a Beneficial Owner, to the Beneficial Owner (or its designee) and each Rating Agency) a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Issuer that, to the best knowledge of the Issuer, no Default exists, and has not existed since the date of the last certificate or, if a Default does then exist or had existed, specifying the same and its nature and status, including actions undertaken to remedy it, and that the Issuer has complied with all of its obligations under this Indenture or, if that is not the case, specifying those obligations with which it has not complied.

Section 7.10. *Co-Issuers May Consolidate, etc. Only on Certain Terms.

Neither the Issuer nor the Co-Issuer (the "Merging Entity") shall consolidate or merge with or into any other Person or transfer or convey all or substantially all of its assets to any Person, unless permitted by Cayman Islands law (in the case of the Issuer) or United States and Delaware law (in the case of the Co-Issuer) and unless:

(a) the Merging Entity shall be the surviving corporation, or the Person (if other than the Merging Entity) formed by the consolidation or into which the Merging Entity is merged or to which all or substantially all of the assets of the Merging Entity are transferred (the "Successor Entity"),

(i) if the Merging Entity is the Issuer, is a company organized and existing under the laws of the Cayman Islands or another jurisdiction approved by a Majority of the Controlling Class (except that no approval shall be required in connection with any such transaction undertaken solely to effect a change in the jurisdiction of incorporation pursuant to Section 7.4), and

(ii) in any case shall expressly assume, by an indenture supplemental to this Indenture, executed and delivered to the Trustee and each Noteholder, the due and punctual payment of all amounts on all Notes issued by the Merging Entity and the performance and observance of every covenant of this Indenture on its part to be performed or observed, all as provided in this Indenture;

(b) each Rating Agency shall have been notified of the consolidation, merger, transfer, or conveyance and the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect to the transaction;

(c) if the Merging Entity is not the surviving corporation, the Successor Entity shall have agreed with the Trustee,

(i) to observe the same legal requirements for the recognition of the formed or surviving corporation as a legal entity separate and apart from any of its Affiliates as are applicable to the Merging Entity with respect to its Affiliates,

(ii) not to consolidate or merge with or into any other Person or transfer or convey the Collateral or all or substantially all of its assets to any other Person except in accordance with this Section 7.10; and

(iii) in any case shall expressly assume by an indenture supplemental to this Indenture, executed and delivered to the Trustee, each Noteholder and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), the due and punctual payment of all amounts on all the Notes issued by the Merging Entity and the performance and observance of every covenant of this Indenture on its part to be performed or observed, all as provided in this Indenture;

(d) if the Merging Entity is not the surviving corporation, the Successor Entity shall have delivered to the Trustee and each Rating Agency an Officer's certificate and an Opinion of Counsel each stating that it is duly organized, validly existing, and in good standing in the jurisdiction in which it is organized; that it has sufficient power and authority to assume the obligations in subsection (a) above and to execute and deliver an indenture supplemental to this Indenture for the purpose of assuming the obligations in subsection (a) above; that it has duly authorized the execution, delivery, and performance of an indenture supplemental to this Indenture for the purpose of assuming the obligations in subsection (a) above and that the supplemental indenture is its valid and legally binding obligation, enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject only to bankruptcy, reorganization, insolvency, moratorium, and other laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally and to general principles of equity; if the Merging Entity is the Issuer, that, following the event that causes the Successor Entity to become the successor to the Issuer, (i) the Successor Entity has title, free of any lien, security interest, or charge, other than the lien and security interest of this Indenture, to the Collateral, and (ii) the lien of this Indenture continues to be effective in the Collateral; and in each case as to any other matters the Trustee or any Noteholder reasonably requires;

(e) after giving effect to the transaction, no Default or Event of Default shall be continuing;

(f) the Merging Entity shall have notified each Rating Agency of the consolidation, merger, transfer or conveyance and shall have delivered to the Trustee, each Noteholder and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) an Officer's certificate and an Opinion of Counsel each stating that the consolidation, merger, transfer or conveyance and the supplemental indenture comply with this Article 7 and that all conditions precedent in this Article 7 relating to the transaction have been complied with and shall have obtained a Tax Opinion of Counsel that no adverse tax consequences will result therefrom to the Holders of the Securities;

(g) the Merging Entity shall have delivered to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel stating that after giving effect to the transaction, neither of the Co-Issuers (or, if applicable, the Successor Entity) will be required to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act; and

(h) after giving effect to the transaction, the outstanding stock of the Merging Entity (or, if applicable, the Successor Entity) will not be beneficially owned within the meaning of the Investment Company Act by any U.S. Person.

Section 7.11. *Successor Substituted.

Upon any consolidation or merger, or transfer or conveyance of all or substantially all of the assets of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, in accordance with Section 7.10 in which the Merging Entity is not the surviving corporation, the Successor Entity shall succeed to, and be substituted for, and may exercise every right of, the Merging Entity under this Indenture with the same effect as if the Person had been named as the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, as the case may be, in this Indenture. Upon any such consolidation, merger, transfer or conveyance, the Person named as the "Issuer" or the "Co-Issuer" in the first paragraph of this Indenture or any successor may be dissolved, wound up and liquidated at any time thereafter, and the Person thereafter shall be released from its liabilities as obligor and maker on all the Notes and from its obligations under this Indenture.

Section 7.12. *No Other Business.

(a) From and after the Closing Date, the Issuer shall not engage in any business or activity other than issuing and selling the Notes pursuant to this Indenture and the Preference Shares pursuant to the Preference Share Documents and acquiring, owning, holding, and pledging and selling Collateral Obligations and the other Collateral in connection therewith, and shall not act as agent, negotiator or structurer with respect to any Collateral, act as a participant in negotiating terms of a primary loan agreement, enter into a binding commitment to purchase any Collateral prior to the issuance thereof or engage in any transaction or activity not permitted by the Collateral Acquisition Agreement or which the Issuer knows would cause it to be treated as engaged in a trade or business in the United States within the meaning of the Code or subject the Issuer's income to taxation on a net basis in any jurisdiction, and the Co-Issuer shall not engage in any business or activity other than issuing and selling the Notes to be issued by it pursuant to this Indenture and, with respect to the Issuer and the Co-Issuer, other activities appropriate to accomplish the foregoing or incidental thereto or connected therewith.

(b) In furtherance and not in limitation of clause (a) of this Section 7.12, the Issuer shall comply with all of the provisions set forth in the Collateral Acquisition Agreement, unless, with respect to a particular transaction, it obtains written advice of Latham & Watkins LLP or a Tax Opinion of Counsel that, under the relevant facts and circumstances with respect to such transaction, the Issuer's failure to comply with one or more of such provisions will not cause the Issuer to be engaged, or deemed to be engaged, in a trade or business within the United States within the meaning of the Code or otherwise to be subject to United States federal income tax on a net basis.

The provisions set forth in the Collateral Acquisition Agreement may be amended, eliminated or supplemented (without execution of a supplemental indenture) if the Issuer obtains written advice of Latham & Watkins LLP or a Tax Opinion of Counsel that the Issuer's compliance with such amended provisions or supplemental provisions or the Issuer's failure to comply with such provisions proposed to be eliminated, as the case may be, will not cause the Issuer to be engaged, or deemed to be engaged, in a trade or business within the United States within the meaning of the Code or otherwise to be subject to United States federal income tax on a net basis and, at the request of the Issuer, the Trustee is hereby authorized to enter into any amendment of the Collateral Acquisition Agreement under such circumstances; provided, however, that written notice of any such amendment, elimination or supplementation of or to the provisions of the Collateral Acquisition Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.12(b) shall be provided to each Rating Agency then rating any Outstanding Class of Notes within 90 days of any such amendment, elimination or supplementation. For the avoidance of doubt, in the event written advice of Latham & Watkins LLP or a Tax Opinion of Counsel as described above has been obtained in accordance with the terms hereof, no consent of any Noteholder or satisfaction of the Rating Condition shall be required in order to comply with this Section 7.12(b) in connection with the amendment, elimination or supplementation of any provision of the Collateral Acquisition Agreement contemplated by such written advice or opinion.

(c) The Issuer and the Co-Issuer may amend, or permit the amendment of, their Memorandum and Articles or the Certificate of Incorporation and By-laws if the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect to the amendment (but not otherwise).

Section 7.13. Listing on Irish Stock Exchange.

So long as any Senior Notes remain Outstanding, the Co-Issuers shall use all reasonable efforts to obtain and maintain the listing of the Senior Notes on the regulated market of the ISE; provided that the Co-Issuers will not be required to maintain a listing on a stock exchange in the European Union if compliance with requirements of the European Commission on a member state becomes burdensome in the sole judgment of the Servicer.

Section 7.14. Annual Rating Review.

So long as any Notes of any Class remain Outstanding, on or before May 1 in each year commencing in 2008, the Co-Issuers shall obtain and pay for an annual review or ongoing surveillance of the rating of each Outstanding Class of Notes from each Rating Agency, as applicable. The Co-Issuers shall promptly notify the Trustee and the Servicer in writing (and the Trustee shall promptly provide a copy of the notice to the Noteholders) and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) if at any time the rating of any Class of Notes has been, or is known will be, changed or withdrawn.

Section 7.15. Reporting.

At any time when the Co-Issuers are not subject to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act and are not exempt from reporting pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) under the Exchange Act, upon the request of a Holder or Beneficial Owner of any Note, the Co-Issuers shall promptly furnish "Rule 144A Information" to the Holder or Beneficial Owner, to a prospective purchaser of a Note designated by the Holder or Beneficial Owner or to the Trustee for delivery to the Holder or Beneficial Owner or a prospective purchaser designated by the Holder or Beneficial Owner, as the case may be, to permit compliance by the Holder or Beneficial Owner with Rule 144A under the Securities Act in connection with the resale of the Note by the Holder or Beneficial Owner. "Rule 144A Information" is the information specified pursuant to Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act.

Section 7.16. Calculation Agent.

(a) The Issuer agrees that for so long as any Floating Rate Notes remain Outstanding an agent will always have been appointed (that does not control and is not controlled by or under common control with the Issuer or its Affiliates) to calculate LIBOR in respect of each Interest Period (the "Calculation Agent"). The Issuer has initially appointed the Trustee as Calculation Agent. The Issuer may remove the Calculation Agent at any time. If the Calculation Agent is unable or unwilling to act as such or is removed by the Issuer or if the Calculation Agent fails to determine any of the information required to be given to the Company Announcements Office of the Irish Stock Exchange, as described in subsection (b), in respect of any Interest Period, the Issuer or the Servicer (on its behalf) shall promptly appoint a replacement Calculation Agent. For so long as any Floating Rate Notes are listed on the Irish Stock Exchange and the rules of the exchange so require, notice of the appointment of any replacement Calculation Agent shall be given to the Company Announcements Office of the Irish Stock Exchange as promptly as practicable after the appointment. The Calculation Agent may not resign its duties without a successor having been duly appointed.

(b) As soon as possible after 11:00 A.M., London time, on the second Business Day before the first day of each Interest Period, but in no event later than 11:00 A.M., London time, on the next Business Day, the Calculation Agent shall calculate the Note Interest Rate for each Class of Floating Rate Notes for the next Interest Period. The Calculation Agent shall communicate those rates and amounts to the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, each Paying Agent, the Servicer, Euroclear, Clearstream, the Depository, and, so long as any of the Floating Rate Notes are listed thereon and the rules of the exchange so require, the Irish Stock Exchange. In the latter case, the information shall be given to the Company Announcements Office of the Irish Stock Exchange as soon as possible after its determination. The Calculation Agent shall separately notify the Irish Stock Exchange of the information. The Calculation Agent shall also specify to the Co-Issuers the quotations on which the foregoing rates are based, and in any event the Calculation Agent shall notify the Co-Issuers before 7:00 P.M., London time, on the second Business Day before the first day of each Interest Period that either:

- (i) it has determined or is in the process of determining the Note Interest Rate for each Class of Floating Rate Notes, or
- (ii) it has not determined and is not in the process of determining any such Note Interest Rate together with its reasons therefor.

The Calculation Agent's determination of the foregoing rates for any Interest Period shall (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding on all parties and the Holders and Beneficial Owners of the Preference Shares.

Section 7.17. Certain Tax Matters.

(a) For United States federal income tax purposes, the Issuer shall treat the Preference Shares as equity and the Notes as debt. Each Holder of a Note, by its acquisition of that Note, agrees to treat those Notes as debt for United States federal income tax purposes.

(b) The Issuer will not make an election to be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and will take all necessary actions to maintain its status as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

(c) The Issuer shall file, or cause to be filed, any tax returns, including information tax returns, required by any governmental authority; provided, however, that the Issuer shall not file, or cause to be filed, any income or franchise tax return in any state of the United States unless it shall have obtained a Tax Opinion of Counsel prior to such filing that, under the laws of such jurisdiction, the Issuer is required to file such income or franchise tax return.

(d) In order to ensure the Holders' and Beneficial Owners' acquisition of the Notes pursuant to this Indenture are not treated as offered under conditions of confidentiality, the Holders and Beneficial Owners of the Notes (and each of their respective employees, representatives or other agents) are hereby permitted to disclose to any and all Persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (including the ownership and disposition of the Notes). For this purpose, the tax treatment of a transaction is the purported or claimed U.S. federal income or state and local tax treatment of the transaction, and the tax structure of a transaction is any fact that may be relevant to understanding the purported or claimed U.S. federal income or state and local tax treatment of the transaction.

(e) If the Issuer is aware that it has purchased an interest in a "reportable transaction" within the meaning of Section 6011 of the Code, and a Noteholder requests information about any such transactions in which the Issuer is a purchaser, the Issuer shall provide such information it has reasonably available as soon as practicable after such request.

(f) The Issuer shall not conduct any business other than the business that the Issuer is permitted to conduct under this Indenture and the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement.

(g) The Issuer shall provide, upon the request by a Holder of Class E Notes, such information for the purposes of allowing such Holder to make a protective "qualifying electing fund" election. The Issuer shall provide, upon request of a Holder of Class E Notes, any information that such Holder reasonably requests to assist such Holder with regard to any filing requirements the Holder may have as a result of the controlled foreign corporation rules under the Code. Upon written request by the Independent accountants, the Indenture Registrar shall provide to the Independent accountants that information contained in the Indenture Register requested by the Independent accountants to comply with this Section 7.17.

(h) The Issuer will treat each purchase of Collateral Obligations and Eligible Investments as a "purchase" for tax accounting and reporting purposes.

(i) Each of the Issuers and the Trustee agrees that it does not intend for this Indenture to represent an agreement to enter into a partnership, a joint venture or any other business entity for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Issuers and the Trustee shall not represent or otherwise hold themselves out to the United States Internal Revenue Service or other third parties as partners in a partnership or members of a joint venture or other business entity for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Section 7.18. Securities Lending.

(a) So long as no Event of Default is continuing and if after the completion of the transaction the limit in clause (31) of the definition of "Concentration Limitations" would be satisfied, the Servicer may cause Collateral Obligations that are not Defaulted Collateral Obligations to be lent for a term of 90 days or less to banks, broker-dealers and other financial institutions (other than insurance companies) having long-term and short-term senior unsecured debt ratings or guarantors with ratings of at least "A1" (and not "A1" but on credit watch with negative implications) and "P-1" (and not on credit watch for possible downgrade) from Moody's and a long-term senior unsecured debt rating of at least "A" or a short-term senior unsecured debt rating of at least "A-1" from S&P (each, a "Securities Lending Counterparty") pursuant to one or more agreements (each, a "Securities Lending Agreement"); provided that Collateral Obligations the Market Value of which cannot be determined under clause (i), (ii) or (iii) of that definition may not be lent pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement. Upon receipt of an Issuer Order, the Trustee shall release any lent Collateral Obligations to a Securities Lending Counterparty as directed by the Servicer. The Securities Lending Counterparties may be Affiliates of the Initial Purchasers or Affiliates of the Servicer. The duration of any Securities Lending Agreement shall not exceed the Stated Maturity of the Notes.

(b) Each Securities Lending Agreement shall be on market terms as determined by the Servicer (except as may be required below) and shall:

(i) require that the Securities Lending Counterparty return to the Issuer debt obligations that are identical (in terms of issue and class) to the lent Collateral Obligations;

(ii) require that the Securities Lending Counterparty pay to the Issuer amounts equivalent to all interest and other payments that the owner of the lent Collateral Obligation is entitled to for the period during which the Collateral Obligation is lent and require that any such payments not be subject to withholding tax imposed by any jurisdiction unless the Securities Lending Counterparty is required under the Securities Lending Agreement to make "gross-up" payments to the Issuer that cover the full amount of the withholding tax on an after-tax basis;

(iii) require that the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency shall be satisfied with respect to the execution of the Securities Lending Agreement;

(iv) satisfy any other requirements of Section 1058 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated under it;

(v) be governed by the laws of New York;

(vi) permit the Issuer to assign its rights under the Securities Lending Agreement to the Trustee pursuant to this Indenture;

(vii) provide for early termination and the delivery of any lent Collateral Obligation with no penalty if the Collateral Obligation becomes a Credit Risk Obligation or is subject to redemption in accordance with its terms;

(viii) provide for early termination and the delivery of any lent Collateral Obligation with no penalty upon any redemption of the Notes in whole;

(ix) require the Securities Lending Counterparty to post with the Trustee collateral consisting of cash or direct registered debt obligations of the United States of America that have a maturity date no later than the Business Day preceding the stated termination date of the Securities Lending Agreement (the "Securities Lending Collateral") to secure its obligation to return the Collateral Obligations or in the alternative post the Securities Lending Collateral with a custodian for the benefit of the Issuer designated by the Securities Lending Counterparty that satisfies the requirements with respect to being a securities intermediary with respect to the posted collateral if that custodian would qualify to be a successor trustee under Section 6.9;

(x) provide that the Securities Lending Collateral shall be maintained at all times in an amount equal to at least 102% of the current Ask-Side Market Value (determined daily and monitored by the Servicer) of the lent Collateral Obligations and if securities are delivered to the Trustee as security for the obligations of the Securities Lending Counterparty under the related Securities Lending Agreement, the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer will negotiate with the Securities Lending Counterparty a rate for the loan fee to be paid to the Issuer for lending the lent Collateral Obligations;

(xi) the lent Collateral Obligations shall be marked-to-market on a daily basis by the Servicer on the basis of their Market Value;

(xii) the Collateral will include the Issuer's rights under the related Securities Lending Agreement rather than the loaned Collateral Obligation;

(xiii) provide for early termination within 10 days at the option of the Issuer and the delivery of any lent Collateral Obligation with no penalty if the Securities Lending Counterparty is no longer in compliance with the requirements relating to the credit ratings of the Securities Lending Counterparty and the noncompliance is not cured as provided in this Indenture; and

(xiv) contain appropriate limited recourse and non-petition provisions (to the extent the Issuer has contractual payment obligations to the Securities Lending Counterparty) equivalent (mutatis mutandis) to those in this Indenture.

(c) If either Moody's or S&P downgrades a Securities Lending Counterparty such that the Securities Lending Agreements to which the Securities Lending Counterparty is a party are no longer in compliance with the requirements relating to the credit ratings of the Securities Lending Counterparty, then the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer, within 10 days of the downgrade, shall

(i) terminate its Securities Lending Agreements with the Securities Lending Counterparty unless a guarantor with the required ratings for the Securities Lending Counterparty's obligations under the Securities Lending Agreements has been obtained; or

(ii) reduce the percentage of the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations lent to the downgraded Securities Lending Counterparty so that the Securities Lending Agreements to which the Securities Lending Counterparty is a party, together with all other Securities Lending Agreements, are in compliance with the requirements relating to the credit ratings of Securities Lending Counterparties; or

(iii) take any other steps Moody's or S&P may require to cause the Securities Lending Counterparty's obligations under the Securities Lending Agreements to which the Securities Lending Counterparty is a party to be treated by Moody's or S&P, as the case may be, as if the obligations were owed by a counterparty having a rating at least equivalent to the rating that was assigned by Moody's or S&P, as the case may be, to the downgraded Securities Lending Counterparty before its being downgraded.

(d) In connection with any such direction by the Servicer to enter into a Securities Lending Agreement, the Trustee may receive and rely on an Issuer Order to the effect that the Securities Lending Agreement, and its Securities Lending Counterparty, is each in compliance with the requirements of this Indenture (including the definition of "Securities Lending Counterparty").

The Issuer and the Trustee may enter into any Securities Lending Agreement (and any related account control agreement) at the instruction of the Servicer, and deliver and accept delivery and return of any Collateral Obligations pursuant to the Securities Lending Agreement, or pursuant to instructions from the Servicer in connection with the Securities Lending Agreement. The Trustee may take any actions and exercise any rights and remedies under any Securities Lending Agreement that the Servicer instructs. The Trustee need not enter into any Securities Lending Agreement (or any related account control agreement) that would in its judgment, subject it to any liability, whether financial or otherwise, or cause it to incur or subject it to risk of any cost or disbursement for which it is not, in its judgment, adequately indemnified, or that would impose on it any obligations or administrative burdens that are unacceptable to it. The Servicer shall instruct the Trustee in writing with respect to the administration of any Securities Lending Agreement (including with respect to any default and the exercise of rights under it). The Trustee shall not have any responsibility for evaluating the sufficiency, validity or acceptability of any Securities Lending Agreement or for the qualifications or eligibility of any Securities Lending Counterparty. Nothing in this Indenture shall be construed to cause the Trustee to have any fiduciary duties to any Securities Lending Counterparty.

So long as any Collateral Obligation is on loan pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement,

(a) the Trustee shall have no liability for any failure or inability on its part to receive any information or take any action with respect to the Collateral Obligation because of its being on loan (including any failure to take action with respect to a notice of redemption, consent solicitation, exchange or tender offer, or similar corporate action), and

(b) the loaned Collateral Obligations shall not be disqualified for return to the Trustee as a Collateral Obligation by any change in circumstance or status during the time while on loan (including any change that would cause the Collateral Obligation to be ineligible for purchase by the Issuer under this Indenture if applied to a proposed purchase of it in the open market at the time of its return from loan).

Section 7.19. *Purchase of Collateral Obligations; Ramp-Up Completion Date.

(a) The Issuer shall use its best efforts to purchase Collateral Obligations on any Business Day during the Ramp-Up Period or enter into commitments to purchase Collateral Obligations on any Business Day during the Ramp-Up Period for purchase on or as soon as practicable thereafter (not to exceed 60 days thereafter), in each case, for inclusion in the Collateral so that each of the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations and the Overcollateralization Ratio Numerator with respect to the Class A Notes and the Class B Notes is at least U.S.$981,300,000.

(b) No Collateral Obligations may be purchased prior to the Ramp-Up Completion Date unless immediately following the purchase of any Collateral Obligation (as certified by the Servicer in writing), the remaining funds in the Collection Account, after giving effect to such purchase, are sufficient as of the date of determination to purchase Collateral Obligations for inclusion in the Collateral so that each of the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations and the Overcollateralization Ratio Numerator with respect to the Class A Notes and the Class B Notes is at least U.S.$981,300,000 (taking into account the Collateral Obligations already part of the Collateral (without giving effect to any reductions of that amount that may have resulted from scheduled principal payments, principal prepayments or dispositions made with respect to any Collateral Obligations on or before the Ramp-Up Completion Date)).

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, or any other provision of this Indenture, if the Issuer has previously entered into a commitment to purchase a Collateral Obligation to be included in the Collateral, such commitment initially not to exceed 60 days, and at the time of the commitment the Collateral Obligation complied with the definition of "Collateral Obligation" and the requirements set forth in this Section 7.19, the Issuer may consummate the purchase of the Collateral Obligation notwithstanding that the Collateral Obligation fails to comply with the definition of "Collateral Obligation" and the requirements set out above on the date of settlement.

(d) The Issuer will use commercially reasonable efforts to purchase, or to enter into binding agreements to purchase, Collateral Obligations by the Ramp-Up Completion Date, that, together with the Collateral Obligations purchased on or before the Closing Date and then held by the Issuer, will satisfy, as of the Ramp-Up Completion Date (without giving effect to any reductions of that amount that may have resulted from scheduled principal payments, principal prepayments or dispositions made with respect to any Collateral Obligations on or before the Ramp-Up Completion Date), the Collateral Quality Tests, the Concentration Limitations, the criteria set forth in Section 12.2 of this Indenture and the Overcollateralization Tests.

(e) No later than five Business Days after the Ramp-Up Completion Date, the Issuer shall notify each of the Rating Agencies in writing of the occurrence of the Ramp-Up Completion Date (each, a "Ramp-Up Notice") and request in writing that each of S&P and Moody's confirm in writing within 25 days of delivery of such Ramp-Up Notice that it has not reduced or withdrawn the Initial Ratings; provided, however, that the Issuer shall not be required to request a Rating Confirmation from Moody's if, as of the Ramp-Up Completion Date Moody's has received an Accountants' Certificate confirming (i) the Issuer is in compliance with each of the Collateral Quality Tests, the Coverage Tests and the Concentration Limitations and (ii) the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations that the Issuer owns or has committed to purchase is at least equal to $981,300,000. In connection with such request or, in the case of Moody's, in lieu of such request, the Issuer shall provide a report to the Rating Agencies identifying the Collateral Obligations then included in the Collateral and the Issuer shall obtain and deliver to the Trustee and the Rating Agencies, together with the delivery of a report (and, with respect to S&P, an Excel Default Model Input File and, with respect to each Collateral Obligation, the name of the obligor thereon and the CUSIP number thereof (if applicable)) substantially in the form of a Monthly Report as of the Ramp-Up Completion Date, an Accountants' Certificate confirming:

(i) confirming the maturity date, rating, spread and recovery rate for each item of Original Collateral Obligations owned by the Issuer as of the Ramp-Up Completion Date and the information provided by the Issuer with respect to every other asset included in the Collateral, by reference to such sources as shall be specified therein;

(ii) confirming that as of the Ramp-Up Completion Date:

(1) each of the Coverage Tests are satisfied;

(2) the Aggregate Principal Balance of Collateral Obligations that the Issuer owned or committed to purchase as of the Ramp-Up Completion Date is at least equal to the Maximum Amount; and

(3) the Collateral Obligations comply with all of the requirements of the Collateral Quality Tests and the Concentration Limitations; and

(iii) specifying the procedures undertaken by them to review data and computations relating to the foregoing statements.

(f) Any failure by the Issuer to obtain a Ratings Confirmation pursuant to Section 7.19(e) above shall be a Rating Confirmation Failure (a "Rating Confirmation Failure." If a Rating Confirmation Failure occurs, the Notes will be redeemed pursuant to, and to the extent provided in, Section 9.1(a).

Section 7.20. *Posting of Reports on Repository.

If either of the Initial Purchasers has entered into a posting dealer agreement with The Bond Market Association relating to the transactions contemplated by this Indenture, each of the Issuer, the Trustee and the Servicer acknowledges and agrees that each Monthly Report and Valuation Report may be posted to the Repository for use in the manner provided in the Repository. In connection therewith, the Trustee, at the expense of the Issuer, agrees to make available in accordance with Section 14.3(a)(ix) each Monthly Report or Valuation Report to the operator of the Repository for posting on the Repository. Such Initial Purchaser will notify the Trustee, the Co-Issuers and the Servicer upon entering into a posting dealer agreement.

Section 7.21. *Secondary Risk Procedures.

The Servicer shall notify S&P and request that S&P modify the S&P CDO Monitor accordingly if on any date (as disclosed in the most recent Monthly Report):

(a) the Aggregate Principal Amount of all Collateral Obligations participated from or entered into with the same Secondary Risk Counterparty exceeds the percentage of the Maximum Amount in the Secondary Risk Table opposite the long-term S&P credit rating of the Secondary Risk Counterparty under the caption "Individual Counterparty Limit," or

(b) the Aggregate Principal Amount of all Collateral Obligations participated from or entered into with Secondary Risk counterparties with the same long-term credit rating exceeds the percentage of the Maximum Amount in the Secondary Risk Table opposite that rating under the caption "Aggregate Counterparty Limit" (excluding up to 5% by Aggregate Principal Amount of Synthetic Securities with respect to Collateral Obligations the Aggregate Counterparty Limit of which is 20% to the extent that (x) such exposure is fully collateralized with respect to principal and (y) the related Synthetic Security counterparties are rated at least "A-1+" by S&P).

Section 7.22. *Section 3(c)(7) Procedures.

In addition to the notices required to be given under Section 10.6 hereof, the Issuer shall take the following actions to ensure compliance with the requirements of Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act (provided that such procedures and disclosures may be revised by the Issuer to be consistent with generally accepted practice for compliance with the requirements of Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act):

(a) Section 3(c)(7) Notice to Investors. The Issuer shall (i) request the Depository to cause, and cooperate with the Depository in causing, the Depository's security description and delivery order to include a "3(c)(7) marker" and the Depository's user manual to contain an accurate description of the restrictions on the holding and transfer of the Notes due to the Issuer's reliance on the exclusion to registration provided by Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act, (ii) request that the Depository send, and cooperate with the Depository in causing the Depository to send, to its Agent Members (x) the Important Section 3(c)(7) Reminder Notice substantially in the form of Exhibit G-2 in connection with the initial offering of the Notes and (y) the Section 3(c)(7) Reminder Notice substantially in the form of Exhibit G-1 as set forth in Section 10.6(b) and (iii) request that the Depository cause, and cooperate with the Depository in causing, the Depository's Reference Directory to include each Class of Notes (and the applicable CUSIP numbers for the Notes) in the listing of 3(c)(7) issues together with an attached description of the limitations as to the distribution, purchase, sale and holding of the Notes.

(b) CUSIP Numbers. The Issuer shall (a) request of S&P, and shall cooperate with S&P to ensure that all CUSIP numbers identifying the Notes shall have a "fixed field" attached thereto that contains "3c7" and "144A" indicators and (b) take steps to cause the Initial Purchasers and any market makers to require that all "confirms" of trades of the Notes contain CUSIP numbers with such "fixed field" identifiers.

(c) Bloomberg and other Third-Party Vendor Screens. The Issuer shall use all reasonable efforts to cause the Bloomberg screen or screens containing information about the Notes to include the following language: (a) the "Note Box" on the bottom of the "Security Display" page describing the Notes shall state: "Iss'd Under 144A/3(c)(7)," (b) the "Security Display" page shall have the flashing red indicator "See Other Available Information" and (c) the indicator shall link to the "Additional Security Information" page, which shall state that the securities are "being offered in reliance on the exemption from registration under Rule 144A of the Securities Act, to persons who are both (x) qualified institutional buyers (as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act) and (y) qualified purchasers (as defined under Section 3(c)(7) under the Investment Company Act)." The Issuer shall use all reasonable efforts to require that any other third-party vendor screens containing information about the Notes include substantially similar language to clauses (a) through (c) above.

ARTICLE 8

SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURES

Section 8.1. Supplemental Indentures Without Consent of Holders.

(a) Without the consent of the Holders of any Securities (other than with respect to the consent of the Majority of the Controlling Class specified in clause (15) below), when authorized by Board Resolutions, and subject to the requirement provided below in this Section 8.1 with respect to the ratings of any Class of Notes, the Co-Issuers and the Trustee may, if, with respect to any matters described in clauses (1) through (23) below, the interests of the Holders of the Securities (except, in the case of clause (12) below, any Holders of Notes subject to the applicable Refinancing) are not materially and adversely affected thereby (the Co-Issuers and the Trustee will be bound by a standard of good faith and fair dealing in making such determination) execute one or more indentures supplemental to this Indenture, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, to:

- (1) evidence the succession of another Person to the Issuer or the Co-Issuer and the assumption by the successor Person of the obligations of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer in this Indenture and in the Securities;
- (2) add to the covenants of the Co-Issuers or the Trustee for the benefit of the Noteholders or to surrender any right in this Indenture conferred on the Co-Issuers;
- (3) convey, transfer, assign, mortgage or pledge any property to the Trustee, or add to the conditions, limitations, or restrictions on the authorized amount, terms, and purposes of the issue, authentication and delivery of the Notes;
- (4) evidence and provide for the acceptance of appointment under this Indenture by a successor Trustee and to add to or change any of the provisions of this Indenture necessary to facilitate the administration of the trusts under this Indenture by more than one Trustee, pursuant to the requirements of Sections 6.10, 6.11, and 6.13;
- (5) correct or amplify the description of any property at any time subject to the lien of this Indenture, or to better assure, convey, and confirm to the Trustee any property subject or required to be subject to the lien of this Indenture (including all actions appropriate as a result of changes in law) or to subject to the lien of this Indenture any additional property;

(6) cause any provision of this Indenture to conform to, or be consistent with, the statements made with respect to such provision in the Offering Memorandum;

(7) modify the restrictions on and procedures for resales and other transfers of the Notes to reflect any changes in applicable law (or its interpretation) or to enable the Co-Issuers to rely on any less restrictive exemption from registration under the Securities Act (including, without limitation, to add provisions for resales and transfers of the Class E Notes and/or Preference Shares under Regulation S) or the Investment Company Act or to remove restrictions on resale and transfer to the extent not required under this Indenture;

(8) with the consent of the Servicer, modify (A) the restrictions on the sales of Collateral Obligations in Section 12.1 or (B) with the consent of the Majority of the Controlling Class (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), the Eligibility Criteria in Section 12.2 (and the definitions related thereto); provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, the consent of a Majority of the Controlling Class shall not be required if such amendment also satisfies the requirements of clause (24) below;

(9) make appropriate changes for any Class of Senior Notes to be listed on an exchange other than the Irish Stock Exchange;

(10) otherwise to correct any inconsistency or cure any ambiguity or errors in this Indenture;

(11) accommodate the issuance of the Senior Notes in book-entry form through the facilities of DTC or otherwise;

(12) to accommodate a Refinancing effected pursuant to and in compliance with Section 9.7; provided that no Holders of Notes or Preference Shares are materially adversely affected thereby, other than Holders of Notes subject to such Refinancing;

(13) take any appropriate action to prevent the Issuer, the Holders of the Securities, or the Trustee from becoming subject to withholding or other taxes, fees, or assessments or to prevent the Issuer from being treated as being engaged in a U.S. trade or business or otherwise being subject to income tax on a net income basis, so long as the action will not cause the Holders of any Securities to be adversely affected to any material extent by any change to the timing, character, or source of the income from the Securities, as evidenced by a Tax Opinion of Counsel (which may be supported as to factual (including financial and capital markets) matters by any relevant certificates and other documents necessary or advisable in the judgment of counsel delivering the opinion);

(14) authorize the appointment of any listing agent, Transfer Agent, Paying Agent or additional registrar for any Class of Notes appropriate in connection with the listing of any Class of Senior Notes on the Irish Stock Exchange or any other stock exchange, and otherwise to amend this Indenture to incorporate any changes required or requested by any governmental authority, stock exchange authority, listing agent, Transfer Agent, Paying Agent or additional registrar for any Class of Notes in connection with its appointment, so long as the supplemental indenture would not materially and adversely affect any Noteholder, as evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel (which may be supported as to factual (including financial and capital markets) matters by any relevant certificates and other documents necessary or advisable in the judgment of counsel delivering the opinion) or a certificate of an Authorized Officer of the Servicer, to the effect that the modification would not be materially adverse to the Holders of any Class of Notes;

(15) with the consent of the Majority of the Controlling Class, amend, modify, enter into or accommodate the execution of any contract relating to a Synthetic Security (including posting collateral under a Synthetic Security Agreement) if such particular action is not otherwise permitted under the Indenture;

(16) modify Section 3.3 to be consistent with applicable laws or Rating Agency requirements;

(17) evidence any waiver by any Rating Agency as to any requirement or condition, as applicable, of the Rating Agency set forth in this Indenture;

(18) facilitate the issuance of participation notes, combination notes, composite securities and other similar securities;

(19) facilitate hedging transactions;

(20) facilitate the ability of the Issuer to lend collateral pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement;

(21) modify any provision to facilitate an A/B Exchange, including to effect any serial designation relating to the exchange;

(22) with the consent of the Servicer, enter into any additional agreements not expressly prohibited by this Indenture as well as any amendment, modification, or waiver if the Issuer determines that the amendment, modification, or waiver would not, upon or after becoming effective, materially and adversely affect the rights or interest of the Holders of any Class of Securities as evidenced by an Opinion of Counsel (which may be supported as to factual (including financial and capital markets) matters by any relevant certificates and other documents necessary or advisable in the judgment of counsel delivering the opinion) or a certificate of an officer of the Servicer to the effect that the modification would not be materially adverse to the Holders of any Class of Securities; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, this clause (22) shall not permit the Co-Issuers and the Trustee to effect any amendment that expressly requires the consent of the Majority of the Controlling Class without such consent;

(23) provide for the issuance of additional Preference Shares to the extent permitted by the Preference Share Documents and to extend to such additional Preference Shares the benefits applicable to the Preference Shares under the Indenture and the Preference Share Documents; or

(24) prevent the Issuer from becoming an "investment company" as defined in the Investment Company Act or to better assure compliance with the requirements of Rule 3a-7 and/or to remove transfer restrictions and other requirements relating to Section 3(c)(7); provided that, as a condition to the effectiveness of any such supplemental indenture, each of the Issuer, the Trustee and the Servicer shall have received (A) a Rating Confirmation with respect to such supplemental indenture and (B) a customary opinion of counsel (which may be supported as to factual matters by any relevant certificates or other documents necessary or advisable in the judgment of counsel delivering such opinion) from a nationally recognized law firm providing that, after giving effect to such supplemental indenture, the Issuer is exempt from registration as an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act in reliance on the exemption provided by Rule 3a-7.

(b) Without the consent of the Servicer, no supplemental indenture may be entered into that would reduce the rights, decrease the fees or other amounts payable to the Servicer under this Indenture or increase the duties or obligations of the Servicer.

(c) The Trustee is authorized to join in the execution of any such supplemental indenture and to make any further appropriate agreements and stipulations that may be in the agreements, but the Trustee shall not be obligated to enter into any such supplemental indenture that affects the Trustee's own rights, duties, liabilities or immunities under this Indenture or otherwise, except to the extent required by law. Unless notified by a Majority of any Class of Notes or a Majority of the Preference Shares that Holders of the Class of the Notes or Holders of the Preference Shares would be materially and adversely affected, the Trustee may rely on a certificate of the Servicer and an Opinion of Counsel (which may be supported as to factual (including financial and capital markets) matters by any relevant certificates and other documents necessary or advisable in the judgment of counsel delivering the opinion) as to whether the interests of any Holder of Securities would be materially and adversely affected by any such supplemental indenture.

(d) If any Outstanding Notes are rated by a Rating Agency, the Trustee shall enter into a supplemental indenture pursuant to this Section 8.1 only if either (1) the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect to the supplemental indenture or (2) the Servicer and the Holders of 100% in Aggregate Outstanding Amount of each Class of Notes the ratings on which would be reduced or withdrawn consent to the supplemental indenture. Prior to the entry into any supplemental Indenture with respect to which a Rating Confirmation for one or more Classes of Notes is not expected to be delivered, the Trustee shall provide written notice to each Holder of each Outstanding Note informing them of such fact.

(e) At the cost of the Co-Issuers, the Trustee shall mail to the Noteholders, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), each Rating Agency (for so long as any Notes are Outstanding and rated by a Rating Agency) and each Hedge Counterparty a copy of any such proposed supplemental indenture pursuant to this Section at least 15 Business Days before its execution by the Trustee (or 60 calendar days before execution in the case of a supplemental indenture for the purpose described in paragraph (8) of Section 8.1(a), which shall be identified as such in a certificate of the Servicer delivered to the Trustee before the date on which such notice is required to be given).

Section 8.2. Supplemental Indentures With Consent of Holders.

(a) If the Rating Condition is satisfied with respect to each Rating Agency, the Trustee and the Co-Issuers may execute one or more indentures supplemental to this Indenture to add any provisions to, or change in any manner, or eliminate any of the provisions of, this Indenture or modify in any manner the rights of the Noteholders under this Indenture with the consent of:

(1) the Servicer if the supplemental indenture would reduce the rights, decrease the fees or other amounts payable to it under this Indenture or increase the duties or obligations of the Servicer;

(2) a Majority of each Class of Notes adversely affected thereby, by Act of the Holders of each such Class of Notes; and

(3) a Majority of the Preference Shares adversely affected thereby.

Any proposed supplemental indenture that would also necessitate a change to the Memorandum and Articles of Association may only be made after a Special Resolution (as defined in the Memorandum and Articles of Association) has been passed to permit the Issuer's constitutional documents to be altered to conform them to the proposed change to this Indenture as certified to the Trustee by the Issuer.

Notwithstanding anything in this Indenture to the contrary, without the consent of the Holder of each Outstanding Note adversely affected thereby and the Holder of each Preference Share adversely affected thereby, no supplemental indenture shall:

(i) change the Stated Maturity of the principal of or the due date of any installment of interest on any Note or of any payment to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for payment to the Holders of the Preference Shares (other than in the case of any Maturity Extension in connection with an extension of the Replacement Period as described in Section 2.4), reduce the principal amount or the rate of interest on any Note, or the Default Interest Rate or the Redemption Price with respect to any Note or Preference Share, or change the earliest date on which Notes of any Class or Preference Share may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer, change the provisions of this Indenture relating to the application of proceeds of any Collateral to the payment of principal of or interest on Notes, or to payment to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for payment to the Holders of the Preference Shares, or change any place where, or the coin or currency in which, Notes or their principal or interest are paid or impair the right to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after their Stated Maturity (or, in the case of redemption, on or after the applicable Redemption Date);

(ii) reduce the percentage of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of Holders of Notes of each Class or Holders of Preference Shares whose consent is required for the authorization of any such supplemental indenture or for any waiver of compliance with certain provisions of this Indenture or certain defaults under this Indenture or their consequences provided for in this Indenture;

(iii) permit the creation of any lien ranking prior to or on a parity with the lien of this Indenture with respect to any part of the Collateral or terminate the lien on any property at any time subject hereto or deprive the Holder of any Note of the security afforded by the lien of this Indenture;

(iv) reduce the percentage of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of Holders of Notes of each Class whose consent is required to request the Trustee to retain the Collateral or rescind the Trustee's election to retain the Collateral, pursuant to Section 5.5 or to sell or liquidate the Collateral, pursuant to Section 5.4 or 5.5;

(v) modify any of the provisions of this Section, or to provide that certain other provisions of this Indenture cannot be modified or waived without the consent of the Holder of each Outstanding Note and Preference Share affected thereby;

(vi) modify the definition of "Outstanding," "Controlling Class," or "Majority," or the Priority of Payments in Section 11.1(a) or Section 13.1; or

(vii) modify any of the provisions of this Indenture in such a manner as to affect the calculation of the amount of any payment of Redemption Price or of interest or principal on any Note or any payment to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for the payment of dividends or other payments on the Preference Shares on any Payment Date or to affect the rights of the Holders of the Securities to the benefit of any provisions for the redemption of the Notes or the Preference Shares contained in this Indenture.

(b) Not later than 15 Business Days prior to the execution of any proposed supplemental indenture pursuant to this Section 8.2, the Trustee, at the expense of the Co-Issuers, shall mail to the Noteholders, the Servicer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and each Rating Agency (for so long as any Notes are Outstanding and rated by a Rating Agency) a copy of such proposed supplemental indenture and shall request any required consent from the applicable Holders of Securities to be given within the Initial Consent Period. Any consent given to a proposed supplemental indenture by the Holder of any Securities, as applicable, shall be irrevocable and binding on all future Holders or beneficial owners of that Security, irrespective of the execution date of the supplemental indenture. If the Holders of less than the required percentage of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the relevant Securities consent to a proposed supplemental indenture within the Initial Consent Period, on the first Business Day after the Initial Consent Period, the Trustee shall notify the Issuer and the Servicer which Holders of Securities have consented to the proposed supplemental indenture and, which Holders (and, to the extent such information is reasonably available to the Trustee, which beneficial owners) have not consented to the proposed supplemental indenture. If it intends to exercise its Amendment Buy-Out Option pursuant to Section 9.6, the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser shall so notify the Trustee (which notice shall designate a date for the Amendment Buy-Out to occur no earlier than 10 Business Days after the date of such notice) no later than five Business Days after the Servicer is so notified by the Trustee and the Trustee shall promptly mail such notice to all Noteholders and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares). Any Non-Consenting Holder may give consent to the related proposed supplemental indenture until the 5th Business Day prior to the date of the Amendment Buy-Out designated by the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser, and in such case shall cease to be a Non-Consenting Holder for purposes of the Amendment Buy-Out. If the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser exercises its Amendment Buy-Out Option and purchases the applicable Securities pursuant to Section 9.6 below, the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser, as Holder or beneficial owner of the applicable Securities, may consent to the related proposed supplemental indenture within five Business Days of the Amendment Buy-Out.

(c) It shall not be necessary for any Act of Noteholders under this Section 8.2 to approve the particular form of any proposed supplemental indenture, but it shall be sufficient if the Act or consent approves its substance.

(d) The Trustee, at the expense of the Co-Issuers, shall mail to the Noteholders, the Servicer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and each Rating Agency a copy of any supplemental indenture pursuant to this Section 8.2 promptly after its execution by the Co-Issuers and the Trustee. Any failure of the Trustee to mail a copy of any supplemental indenture as provided in this Indenture, or any defect in the mailing, shall not in any way affect the validity of the supplemental indenture.

Section 8.3. Execution of Supplemental Indentures.

In executing or accepting the additional trusts created by any supplemental indenture permitted by this Article 8 or the modifications thereby of the trusts created by this Indenture, the Trustee may receive, and (subject to Sections 6.1 and 6.3) shall be fully protected in relying upon, an Opinion of Counsel stating that the execution of the supplemental indenture is authorized or permitted by this Indenture and that all conditions precedent to the execution of such supplemental indenture have been satisfied. In the event that any supplemental indenture is consented to by the Issuer, the Co-Issuer and 100% of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of each Class of Notes and the Rating Condition is satisfied or is specifically waived by all consenting parties, all conditions precedent to the execution of such supplemental indenture shall be deemed satisfied, the execution of such supplemental indenture shall be authorized or permitted by this Indenture, and the Trustee shall execute and accept the additional trusts created by such supplemental indenture pursuant to this Article 8 or modification thereby of the trusts created by this Indenture without obtaining an Opinion of Counsel; provided that the Trustee may, but shall not be obligated to, enter into any such supplemental indenture that affects the Trustee's own rights, duties or immunities under this Indenture or otherwise. The Servicer shall not be bound by any amendment or supplement to this Indenture that would reduce the rights, decrease the fees or other amounts payable to it under this Indenture or increase the duties or obligations of the Servicer unless the Servicer consents to it in writing, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed. The Servicer shall follow any amendment or supplement to this Indenture by which it is bound of which it has received written notice from the time it receives a copy of the amendment from the Issuer or the Trustee. The Trustee shall deliver any such amendment or supplement to the Repository in accordance with Section 6.18.

Section 8.4. Effect of Supplemental Indentures; Certain Required Consents.

Upon the execution of any supplemental indenture under this Article 8, this Indenture shall be modified in accordance therewith, and the supplemental indenture shall form a part of this Indenture for all purposes; and every Holder of Notes theretofore and thereafter authenticated and delivered under this Indenture shall be bound thereby.

Without the approval of each Hedge Counterparty to a then existing Hedge Agreement (so long as the Hedge Counterparty is not in default under any Hedge Agreement to which it is party), no supplemental indenture will be effective, and the Co-Issuers will not consent to any supplemental indenture, that would have a material adverse effect on the Hedge Counterparty. For purposes of this paragraph, any supplemental indenture will be deemed not to have a material adverse effect on the Hedge Counterparty if it does not object within 10 days of delivery of such supplemental indenture by the Trustee.

Any supplemental indenture that would necessitate a change to the Memorandum and Articles of Association may only be made after a Special Resolution (as defined in the Memorandum and Articles of Association) has been passed to permit the Memorandum and Articles of Association to be altered to conform with such proposed amendment.

Section 8.5. Reference in Notes to Supplemental Indentures.

Notes authenticated and delivered after the execution of any supplemental indenture pursuant to this Article 8 may, and if required by the Trustee shall, bear a notice in form approved by the Trustee as to any matter provided for in the supplemental indenture. If the Applicable Issuers shall so determine, new Notes, so modified as to conform in the opinion of the Trustee and the Co-Issuers to any such supplemental indenture, may be prepared and executed by the Applicable Issuers and authenticated and delivered by the Trustee in exchange for Outstanding Notes.

REDEMPTION OF NOTES

Section 9.1. Mandatory Redemption.

(a) If either (a) a Coverage Test is not met on any Determination Date or (b) a Rating Confirmation Failure occurs, principal payments on the Notes shall be made on the related Payment Date (without payment of any Redemption Price) in accordance with the Priority of Payments.

Upon receipt of notice of a Rating Confirmation Failure and if available Interest Proceeds and Principal Proceeds are insufficient to effect the redemption of the Notes, at par on any subsequent Payment Date in accordance with the Priority of Payments as and to the extent necessary for each of Moody's and S&P to confirm in writing the Initial Ratings assigned by it on the Closing Date to the Notes, then at the direction and in accordance with the instructions of the Servicer the Trustee shall sell Collateral Obligations so that the proceeds from the sale and all other funds available for the purpose in the Collection Account will be used to redeem the Notes and the Preference Shares (but only to the extent necessary for each of Moody's and S&P to confirm in writing the Initial Ratings assigned by it on the Closing Date to the Notes) and to pay all administrative and other fees, expenses and obligations payable under the Priority of Payments. Any sale under this Section shall be conducted in such a manner that:

(i) after giving effect to the sale each Overcollateralization Test is satisfied or, if any Overcollateralization Test is not satisfied, the extent of compliance with the Overcollateralization Test is not reduced,

(ii) if the sale occurs on or after the second Payment Date, after giving effect to the sale each Interest Coverage Test is satisfied or, if any Interest Coverage Test is not satisfied, the extent of compliance with the Interest Coverage Test is not reduced, and

(iii) after giving effect to the sale each Collateral Quality Test is satisfied or, if any Collateral Quality Test is not satisfied, the extent of compliance with the Collateral Quality Test is not reduced.

(b) The Preference Shares will be redeemed in whole in accordance with the Priority of Payments and the Preference Share Documents on any Payment Date on which a mandatory redemption of the Notes pursuant to Section 9.1(a) results in the payment in full of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of each Class of Notes.

Section 9.2. Optional Redemption.

(a) Upon the occurrence of a Tax Event, or at any time after the Non-Call Period, the Notes shall be redeemed by the Applicable Issuers, in whole but not in part, on any Payment Date from Principal Proceeds and all other funds available for that purpose in the Collection Account, the Payment Account, the Interest Reserve Account, the Closing Date Expense Account, the Revolving Reserve Account and the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account at the direction of the applicable Required Redemption Percentage, which direction must be given to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Issuer and the Servicer not later than 45 days before the Payment Date on which the redemption is to be made, at the applicable Redemption Price (exclusive of installments of interest and principal maturing on or before that date, payment of which shall have been made or duly provided for, to the Noteholders on relevant Record Dates or as otherwise provided in this Indenture). All Notes must be simultaneously redeemed, and any termination payments pursuant to Hedge Agreements must be paid.

In the event that the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Trustee and the Issuer receive notice directing an optional redemption from any one or more Holders of Preference Shares holding less than a Majority of the Preference Shares, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall, within five Business Days of receipt of such notice, notify the Holders of the Preference Shares (i) of the receipt of such notice and (ii) that any Holder of Preference Shares may join in directing an optional redemption by notifying the Issuer, the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent in writing within five Business Days after such Holder's receipt of the Preference Shares Paying Agent's Notice.

Upon receipt of a notice of redemption pursuant to the first paragraph of this Section 9.2(a), the Servicer in its sole discretion will (subject to the standard of care specified in the Servicing Agreement), on behalf of the Issuer, direct the sale of the Collateral Obligations so that the proceeds from the sale and all other funds available for such purpose in the Collection Account, the Interest Reserve Account, the Closing Date Expense Account, the Revolving Reserve Account and the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account will be at least sufficient to redeem all of the Notes and to pay all administrative and other fees and expenses payable under the Priority of Payments without regard to any payment limitations. If, in the Servicer's reasonable discretion, the sale would not be sufficient to redeem the Notes, and to pay the fees, expenses and obligations, the Notes shall not be redeemed.

Upon any redemption pursuant to this Section 9.2(a), the Issuer shall, at least 30 days before the Redemption Date (unless the Trustee shall agree to a shorter notice period), notify the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and each Rating Agency of the Redemption Date, the applicable Record Date, the principal amount of Notes to be redeemed on the Redemption Date and the applicable Redemption Prices.

(b) On any Payment Date on or after payment in full of the Notes, all administrative and other fees (without regard to any payment limitations) payable under the Priority of Payments (including the Senior Servicing Fee and the Subordinated Servicing Fee), all amounts owing under this Indenture and all amounts owing under this Indenture and any Hedge Agreement to any Hedge Counterparty have been discharged,

(i) at the direction of a Majority of the Preference Shares, the Issuer shall cause the Trustee to make payments in redemption of all of the Preference Shares, in an aggregate amount equal to all of the proceeds from the sale or other disposition of all of the remaining Collateral less any fees and expenses owed by the Issuer (including the Redemption Price of any Notes being simultaneously redeemed), the aggregate amount to be distributed to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for distribution to the Holders of the Preference Shares pro rata in accordance with their respective holdings or

(ii) at the unanimous direction of the Holders of the Preference Shares, voting as a single Class or group, the Issuer shall cause the Trustee to make payments in redemption of all or a directed portion (representing less than all) of the Preference Shares to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for distribution to the Holders of the Preference Shares based upon such direction.

Upon a distribution pursuant to Section 9.2(b)(i), the Servicer will (subject to the standard of care specified in the Servicing Agreement), on behalf of the Issuer (and subject to Section 9.2(b)(ii)), direct the sale of all remaining Collateral Obligations. Upon a distribution pursuant to Section 9.2(b)(ii), the Servicer will effect the sale of Collateral Obligations in accordance with the unanimous direction of the Holders of the Preference Shares.

Section 9.3. Optional Redemption Procedures.

(a) Upon any redemption pursuant to Section 9.2, the Trustee shall give notice of a redemption by first-class mail, postage prepaid, mailed not later than 10 Business Days and not earlier than 30 days before the applicable Redemption Date, each Holder of Notes to be redeemed, at the Holder's address in the Indenture Register or otherwise in accordance with the rules and procedures of DTC, Euroclear, and Clearstream, as applicable, to the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and (in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(a)) to each Rating Agency. In addition, for so long as any Senior Notes are listed on the Irish Stock Exchange and so long as the rules of the exchange so require, notice of redemption of Senior Notes pursuant to Section 9.2 shall also be given to the Company Announcements Office of the Irish Stock Exchange.

- (b) All notices of redemption delivered pursuant to Section 9.3(a) shall state:
  - (i) the applicable Redemption Date;
  - (ii) the Redemption Price of the Notes to be redeemed (in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(a));
  - (iii) in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(a), that all of the Notes, are to be redeemed in full and that interest on the Notes to be redeemed shall cease to accrue on the Payment Date specified in the notice; and
  - (iv) the places where the Notes to be redeemed in whole are to be surrendered for payment of the Redemption Price, which shall be the office or agency of the Co-Issuers to be maintained as provided in Section 7.2 and, so long as any Senior Notes to be redeemed are listed on the Irish Stock Exchange, and the Irish Paying Agent.

Any such notice of redemption may be withdrawn by the Issuer up to the fourth Business Day before the scheduled Redemption Date by written notice to the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), the Trustee and the Servicer only if:

- (A) in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(a), the Servicer does not deliver the sale agreement or certifications (described in Section 9.3(c) and 12.1(f)), as the case may be, in form satisfactory to the Trustee,
- (B) in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(a) or Section 9.2(b)(i), the Issuer receives the written direction of the Majority of the Preference Shares (or, in the case of an Optional Redemption of the Notes resulting from a Tax Event, the Affected Class) to withdraw the notice of redemption delivered by a percentage of the Preference Shares (or, in the case of an Optional Redemption of the Notes resulting from a Tax Event, the Affected Class) requesting redemption under Section 9.2(a) or Section 9.2(b)(i), as applicable, or
- (C) in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(b)(ii), the Issuer receives the unanimous written direction of the Holders of the Preference Shares to withdraw the notice of redemption (and the Issuer hereby agrees for the benefit of the directing Holders to withdraw the applicable notice of redemption if it receives the written direction referred to in the preceding clause (B) or this clause (C)).

Notice of any withdrawal shall be sent, not later than the third Business Day before the scheduled Redemption Date (assuming that the Trustee has received timely written notice from the Issuer as provided above), by the Trustee, to each Noteholder scheduled to be redeemed at the Holder's address in the Indenture Register by overnight courier guaranteeing next day delivery (or, to the extent the address contained in the Indenture Register is not sufficient for that purpose, by first class mail) and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to each Holder of Preference Shares). If the Issuer so withdraws any notice of redemption or is otherwise unable to complete any redemption of the Notes, the Sale Proceeds received from the sale of any Collateral Obligations sold pursuant to Sections 9.2 and 12.1(f) may, during the Replacement Period (and, in respect of Sale Proceeds from Credit Risk Obligations and Credit Improved Obligations, after the Replacement Period) at the Servicer's discretion, be used to purchase replacement Collateral Obligations in accordance with the Eligibility Criteria.

Notice of redemption shall be given by the Co-Issuers or, upon an Issuer Order, by the Trustee in the name and at the expense of the Co-Issuers. Failure to give notice of redemption, or any defect therein, to any Holder of any Notes selected for redemption or the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to each Holder of Preference Shares) shall not impair or affect the validity of the redemption of any other Securities.

(c) The Notes may not be redeemed pursuant to Section 9.2(a) unless either of the following conditions is satisfied:

(i) At least 10 Business Days before the Redemption Date, the Servicer shall have furnished to the Trustee evidence (in form reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee) that the Issuer has entered into a binding agreement (with a financial or other institution or entity whose short-term unsecured debt obligations (other than obligations whose rating is based on the credit of a Person other than the institution) have a credit rating of at least "A-1" from S&P and of "P-1" (and not on credit watch for possible downgrade) from Moody's (or to any other institution or entity if the Rating Condition with respect to Moody's is satisfied with respect to the other entity)) to sell to the financial or other institutions, not later than the Business Day before the Redemption Date in immediately available funds, all or part of the Collateral (directly or by participation or other arrangement) at a Purchase Price at least equal to an amount sufficient (together with any Cash and other Eligible Investments not subject to the agreements and maturing on or before the Redemption Date and any payments to be received with respect to the Hedge Agreements on or before the Redemption Date) to pay all administrative and other fees and expenses payable under the Priority of Payments without regard to any payment limitations (including the Senior Servicing Fee and the Subordinated Servicing Fee), all amounts owing under this Indenture, all amounts owing under the Hedge Agreements to the Hedge Counterparties, and to redeem the Notes on the Redemption Date at the applicable Redemption Prices; or

(ii) Before entering into any binding agreement to sell all or a portion of the Collateral and selling or terminating any Hedge Agreement, the Servicer shall have certified that, in its commercially reasonable judgment, the settlement dates of the sales will be scheduled to occur on or before the Business Day before the Redemption Date and that the expected proceeds from the sales are to be delivered to the Trustee no later than the Business Day before the Redemption Date, in immediately available funds, in an amount (calculated as applicable in the manner provided below) sufficient (together with any Cash and other Eligible Investments not subject to the agreements and maturing on or before the Redemption Date and any payments to be received with respect to the Hedge Agreements on or before the Redemption Date) to pay all administrative and other fees and expenses payable under the Priority of Payments (including the Senior Servicing Fee and the Subordinated Servicing Fee), all amounts owing under this Indenture, all amounts owing under the Hedge Agreements to the Hedge Counterparties, and to redeem the Notes on the Redemption Date at the applicable Redemption Prices. For purposes of this paragraph, the amount shall be calculated with respect to the classes of Collateral listed in the table below by multiplying the expected proceeds of sale of the Collateral by the indicated percentage in the table below. For the avoidance of doubt, no Hedge Agreement shall be sold or terminated unless the third Business Day before the scheduled Redemption Date has passed and no notice of withdrawal has been issued.

		Number of Business Days Between Certification to the Trustee and Sale
		Same Day	1 to 2	3 to 5	6 to 15
1	Cash or other Eligible Investments	100%	100%	100%	100%
2	Loans (other than 5 below)	100%	93%	92%	88%
3	High-Yield Bonds (other than 5 below) and Structured Finance Obligations (in each case, other than 4 below)	100%	89%	85%	75%
4	High-Yield Bonds (other than 5 below) and Structured Finance Obligations, in each case with a Moody's Rating of "B3" and on credit watch with negative implications or below "B3"	100%	75%	65%	55%
5	Synthetic Securities	100%	65%	55%	35%

Any certification delivered pursuant to this Section 9.3(c) shall include (A) the prices of, and expected proceeds from, the sale of any Collateral Obligations, Eligible Investments, or Hedge Agreements and (B) all calculations required by this Section 9.3(c).

Section 9.4. *Notes Payable on Redemption Date.

(a) Notice of redemption pursuant to Section 9.3 having been given as aforesaid, the Notes to be redeemed shall, on the Redemption Date, become payable at the Redemption Price therein specified and from and after the Redemption Date (unless the Issuer shall default in the payment of the Redemption Price and accrued interest) the Notes shall cease to bear interest on the Redemption Date. Upon final payment on a Note to be so redeemed, the Holder shall present and surrender the Note at the place specified in the notice of redemption on or before the Redemption Date unless the Co-Issuers and the Trustee receive the security or indemnity required by them to save each of them harmless and an undertaking thereafter to surrender the Note, and in the absence of notice to the Co-Issuers and the Trustee, that the applicable Note has been acquired by a protected purchaser, the final payment shall be made without presentation or surrender. Payments of interest on Notes so to be redeemed whose Stated Maturity is on or before the Redemption Date shall be payable to the Noteholders, or one or more predecessor Notes, registered as such at the close of business on the relevant Record Date if the Record Date is a Business Day (or, if the Record Date is not a Business Day, the close of business on the Business Day before the Record Date) according to Section 2.8(e).

(b) If any Note called for redemption is not paid on its surrender for redemption, its principal shall bear interest from the Redemption Date at the Applicable Note Interest Rate for each successive Interest Period the Note remains Outstanding if the reason for the non-payment is not the fault of the Holder of the Note.

Section 9.5. *Special Redemption.

Principal payments on the Notes shall be made in whole or in part, at par, in accordance with the Priority of Payments if, at any time during the Replacement Period, the Servicer elects (subject to the Servicing Agreement) to notify the Trustee and each Rating Agency that it has been unable, for 45 consecutive Business Days, to identify additional or replacement Collateral Obligations that are deemed appropriate by the Servicer in its sole discretion and meet the Eligibility Criteria in sufficient amounts to permit the application of all or a portion of the funds then in the Collection Account available to be used to purchase additional or replacement Collateral Obligations (a "Special Redemption").

On the first Payment Date following the Due Period for which the notice is effective (a "Special Redemption Date"), the funds in the Collection Account or the Payment Account representing Principal Proceeds that, by operation of the preceding paragraph, are not used to purchase additional Collateral Obligations (the "Special Redemption Amount") will be available to be applied in accordance with the Priority of Payments under Section 11.1(a)(ii). Notice of payments pursuant to this Section 9.5 shall be given by first-class mail, postage prepaid, mailed not later than three Business Days before the applicable Special Redemption Date, to each Holder of Notes to be redeemed, at the Holder's address in the Indenture Register or otherwise in accordance with the rules and procedures of DTC. In addition, for so long as any Senior Notes are listed on the Irish Stock Exchange and so long as the rules of the exchange so require, notice of redemption of Senior Notes pursuant to Section 9.2 shall also be given to the Company Announcements Office of the Irish Stock Exchange.

Section 9.6. Amendment Buy-Out.

(a) In the case of any supplemental indenture pursuant to Section 8.2 that requires the consent of one or more Holders of Securities, the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser shall have the right, but not the obligation, to purchase from Non-Consenting Holders all Securities held by such Holders whose consent was solicited with respect to such supplemental indenture (the "Amendment Buy-Out Option") for the applicable Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price; provided, however, that the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser may not exercise the Amendment Buy-Out Option during the Non-Call Period in connection with a proposed amendment to reduce the rate of interest on any Note or to change the earliest date on which Notes of any Class or Preference Shares may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer. If such option is exercised, the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser must purchase all such Securities of Non-Consenting Holders for the applicable Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price, regardless of the applicable percentage of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Securities the consent of whose Holders is required for such supplemental indenture (an "Amendment Buy-Out"). By its acceptance of its Securities hereunder, each Holder of Securities agrees that if the Amendment Buy-Out Option is exercised, any Non-Consenting Holder will be required to sell its applicable Securities to the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser; provided that if any Non-Consenting Holder holds Class II Preference Shares, such Non-Consenting Holder will sell such Class II Preference Shares to the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser and such Preference Shares will be redesignated as Class I Preference Shares. Neither the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser nor any other Person shall have any liability to any Holder or beneficial owner of Securities as a result of an election by the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser not to exercise the Amendment Buy-Out Option.

(b) All purchases made pursuant to an Amendment Buy-Out Option individually and in the aggregate must comply with the applicable transfer restrictions for the relevant Securities set forth herein and in the Preference Share Documents, and all applicable laws, rules and regulations (including, without limitation, any rules, regulations and procedures of any securities exchange, self-regulatory organization or clearing agency).

Section 9.7. Redemption by Refinancing.

(a) On any Payment Date after the Non-Call Period, any Class of the Notes may be redeemed in whole, but not in part from Refinancing Proceeds if the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, proposes to the Holders of the Preference Shares in writing (by notice to the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares)) with a copy to the Trustee and the Rating Agencies, at least 30 days prior to the Payment Date for such redemption

(such date, the "Refinancing Date"), to redeem such Notes in accordance with this Section 9.7 (a "Notice of Refinancing"), which notice shall, among other things, specify the Refinancing Date and the Class of Notes to be Refinanced. Such redemption shall be effected by the Issuer obtaining a loan or an issuance of a replacement class of notes ("Refinancing Notes"), the terms of which loan or issuance will be negotiated by the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, from one or more financial institutions or purchasers (which may include the Servicer or its Affiliates) selected by the Servicer (a refinancing provided pursuant to such loan or issuance, a "Refinancing"), and provided that (i) such proposal is approved by a Majority of the Preference Shares (voting as a single class) at least 15 days prior to the Refinancing Date and (ii) the Servicer completes such Refinancing and causes the Refinancing Proceeds to be deposited with the Trustee (in immediately available funds) no later than the close of the Business Day immediately preceding the Refinancing Date.

(b) The Issuer shall obtain a Refinancing only if the Servicer determines and certifies to the Trustee that:

(i) a Rating Confirmation has been obtained from each Rating Agency for each class of Refinancing Notes and each Class of Notes not subject to Refinancing;

(ii) the proceeds from the Refinancing will be at least sufficient to pay the Refinancing Price plus any Administrative Expenses of the Issuer related to the Refinancing;

(iii) the interest rate payable in respect of the obligations providing the Refinancing is less than the interest rate payable on the Notes being refinanced;

(iv) the principal amount of any obligations providing the Refinancing is no greater than the principal amount of the Notes being redeemed with the proceeds of such obligations;

(v) the stated maturity of the obligations providing the Refinancing is no earlier than the stated maturity of the Notes being refinanced;

(vi) the Refinancing Proceeds will be used (to the extent necessary) to redeem the applicable Notes;

(vii) the agreements relating to the Refinancing contain limited recourse, non-recourse and non-petition provisions, investor qualification provisions and transfer restrictions equivalent to those applicable to the Notes being redeemed, as set forth herein;

(viii) the obligations providing the Refinancing are subject to the Priority of Payments and do not rank higher in priority pursuant to the Priority of Payments than the Class of Notes being redeemed; and

(ix) the expenses in connection with the Refinancing have been paid or will be adequately provided for.

(c) The Trustee shall be entitled to receive, and (subject to Sections 6.1 and 6.3 hereof) shall be fully protected in relying upon an Opinion of Counsel stating that the Refinancing is permitted by this Indenture and that all conditions precedent thereto have been complied with.

(d) Any Refinancing Proceeds will not constitute Interest Proceeds or Principal Proceeds but will be applied directly on the related Refinancing Date pursuant to this Indenture to redeem the Notes being refinanced and pay Administrative Expenses in connection with the Refinancing without regard to the Priority of Payments; provided that to the extent that any Refinancing Proceeds exceed the amount necessary to redeem the Notes being refinanced (and any associated Administrative Expenses), such excess Refinancing Proceeds will be treated as Principal Proceeds.

(e) If notice of consent by a Majority of the Preference Shares to a Refinancing has been received by the Trustee from the Servicer pursuant to Section 9.7(a) no later than 15 days prior to the Refinancing Date, notice of a Refinancing shall be given by the Trustee by first class mail, postage prepaid, mailed not less than 10 Business Days prior to the proposed Refinancing Date, to each Holder of Notes of the Class to be refinanced at the address in the Indenture Register (with a copy to the Servicer) and, so long as any Class of Notes is listed on the Irish Stock Exchange, the Irish Paying Agent.

All Notices of Refinancing shall state:

(i) the proposed Refinancing Date, which shall be the applicable Redemption Date in respect of the Notes being redeemed;

(ii) the Refinancing Price, which shall be the applicable Redemption Price in respect of the Notes being redeemed;

(iii) that on such proposed Refinancing Date such Notes will be refinanced and redeemed in full, and that, provided that the Refinancing Proceeds have been deposited with the Trustee for any such payment in full, interest on such Notes being redeemed shall cease to accrue on such date; and

(iv) the place or places where such Notes are to be surrendered for payment of the Refinancing Price which, if not stated, shall be the office or agency of any paying agent as provided in Section 7.2.

provided that no such Notice of Refinancing shall be sent if either (a) the Servicer has withdrawn its consent to such Refinancing or (b) the consent of a Majority of the Holders of Preference Shares to such Refinancing has not been obtained.

(f) Notice of Refinancing shall be given by the Trustee at the expense of the Issuer. Failure to give a Notice of Refinancing, or any defect therein, to any Holder of any Note selected for Refinancing shall not impair or affect the validity of the Refinancing or give rise to any claim based upon such failure or defect.

Any Notice of Refinancing may be withdrawn by the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, on or prior to the fourth Business Day prior to the scheduled Refinancing Date by written notice to the Trustee, the Paying Agent, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Rating Agencies and the Holders of the Preference Shares. Upon receipt of such notice of withdrawal, the Trustee shall send such notice to the Holders of Notes and, if applicable, the Irish Paying Agent.

(g) If a Notice of Refinancing pursuant to Section 9.7(a) has been given as provided herein and not withdrawn, the Notes to be refinanced shall on the Refinancing Date become due and payable at the Refinancing Price. Each Holder of such Notes shall present and surrender its Note at the place specified in the Notice of Refinancing on or prior to such Refinancing Date; provided that if there is delivered to the Issuer and the Trustee such security or indemnity as may be required by them to save each of them harmless and an undertaking thereafter to surrender such Note, then, in the absence of notice to the Issuer and the Trustee that the applicable Note has been acquired by a bona fide purchaser, such final payment shall be made without presentation or surrender.

(h) If any Class of Notes called for Refinancing shall not be so paid upon surrender thereof for Refinancing (or the delivery of the indemnity pursuant to the preceding paragraph) the principal shall, until paid, bear interest from the Refinancing Date at the applicable Interest Rate for each successive Payment Date with respect to which such Note remains Outstanding.

ARTICLE 10

ACCOUNTS, ACCOUNTINGS, AND RELEASES

Section 10.1. Collection of Money.

Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Indenture, the Trustee may demand payment or delivery of, and shall receive and collect, directly and without intervention or assistance of any fiscal agent or other intermediary, all money and other property payable to or receivable by the Trustee pursuant to this Indenture, including all payments due on the Pledged Obligations, in accordance with the terms of the Pledged Obligations. The Trustee shall segregate and hold all money and property received by it in trust for the Secured Parties and shall apply it as provided in this Indenture. Any Account may contain any number of sub-accounts for the convenience of the Trustee or as required by the Servicer for convenience in administering the Accounts, the Collateral.

Section 10.2. Collection Account.

(a) Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Collection Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal, and into which the Trustee shall from time to time deposit, in addition to the deposits required pursuant to Section 10.7(e), immediately upon the Trustee's receipt thereof:

(i) any funds transferred from (1) the Closing Date Expense Account pursuant to Section 10.3(g) or (2) the Interest Reserve Account pursuant to Section 10.3(i),

(ii) all Principal Proceeds (unless (1) simultaneously used to purchase Collateral Obligations in accordance with Article 12, (2) deposited into the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account or (3) posted by the Issuer as cash collateral with (or for the benefit of) a Synthetic Security Counterparty simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into a Synthetic Security or in Eligible Investments) received by the Trustee,

(iii) all Interest Proceeds received by the Trustee (unless simultaneously used to purchase accrued interest in respect of Collateral Obligations in accordance with Article 12 or in Eligible Investments), and

(iv) all other funds received by the Trustee from the Collateral and not excluded above.

In addition to the items described above, the Issuer may, but under no circumstances shall be required to, deposit from time to time any monies, securities and other instruments in the Collection Account it deems, in its sole discretion, to be advisable (and may designate any amounts deposited pursuant to this sentence as Principal Proceeds or Interest Proceeds in its discretion). Any Principal Proceeds received during the Replacement Period, and Sale Proceeds from the sale of Credit Improved Obligations and Unscheduled Principal Payments received after the Replacement Period, which have not been used to purchase additional Collateral Obligations on the Business Day of receipt shall be deposited in the Collection Account and shall at the direction of the Servicer be applied to the purchase of additional Collateral Obligations in accordance with the Eligibility Criteria and the other requirements set forth herein or the purchase of Eligible Investments pending such application or used to enter into additional Hedge Agreements or used in connection with a Special Redemption. Principal Proceeds (other than Sale Proceeds from the sale of Credit Improved Obligations, Credit Risk Obligations and Unscheduled Principal Payments) received after the Replacement Period shall be deposited into the Collection Account and applied to the purchase of Eligible Investments. All monies deposited from time to time in the Collection Account pursuant to this Indenture shall be held by the Trustee as part of the Collateral and shall be applied to the purposes provided in this Indenture. Amounts in the Collection Account shall be held pursuant to Section 10.4(a).

(b) Within one Business Day after receipt of any distribution or other proceeds of the Collateral that are not Cash, the Trustee shall so notify the Issuer and the Servicer. Within five Business Days of receipt of the notice from the Trustee, the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, shall sell the distribution or other proceeds for Cash in an arm's length transaction to a Person that is not the Servicer or an Affiliate of the Servicer and deposit its proceeds in the Collection Account. The Issuer need not sell the distributions or other proceeds if it delivers an Issuer Order or an Officer's certificate to the Trustee and the Servicer certifying that the distributions or other proceeds are Collateral Obligations, Eligible Investments, or Workout Assets.

(c) During the Replacement Period (or, in respect of Principal Proceeds constituting Unscheduled Principal Payments and Sale Proceeds from Credit Risk Obligations and Credit Improved Obligations, after the Replacement Period), at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may by Issuer Order direct the Trustee to, and upon receipt of the Issuer Order the Trustee shall withdraw funds on deposit in the Collection Account representing Principal Proceeds (and, to the extent expressly provided in this Indenture, Interest Proceeds) and apply the funds to purchase Collateral Obligations (including any related deposit into the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account or the posting by the Issuer of cash collateral with (or for the benefit of) a Synthetic Security Counterparty simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into a Synthetic Security), in each case in accordance with the requirements of Article 12 and the Issuer Order.

(d) At any time during or after the Replacement Period, at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may by Issuer Order direct the Trustee to, and upon receipt of the Issuer Order the Trustee shall, pay from amounts on deposit in the Collection Account on any Business Day during any Interest Period from Interest Proceeds only, any Administrative Expenses that require payment before the next Payment Date to the extent that the amount of the payments does not exceed the aggregate amount that may be paid on the next Payment Date under, and at the level of priority specified by, Section 11.1(a)(i)(1).

(e) The Trustee shall transfer to the Payment Account from the Collection Account for application pursuant to Section 11.1(a) or 11.2, as applicable, on or not later than the Business Day preceding each Payment Date, the amount set forth to be so transferred in the Valuation Report for the Payment Date.

Section 10.3. Other Accounts.

(a) Custodial Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated trust account that shall be designated as the Custodial Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties, over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal, and into which the Trustee shall deposit the Collateral Obligations and other Collateral not deposited elsewhere in accordance with this Indenture (other than Loans, Participations and general intangibles, which in the case of Loans and Participations, shall be held by the Trustee as provided in Section 3.2). All assets or securities at any time on deposit in, or otherwise to the credit of, the Custodial Account shall be held in trust by the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties. The only permitted withdrawals from the Custodial Account shall be in accordance with this Indenture. The Co-Issuers shall not have any legal, equitable, or beneficial interest in the Custodial Account other than in accordance with Section 3.2 and the Priority of Payments.

(b) Revolving Reserve Account and Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish (i) a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account which shall be designated as the Revolving Reserve Account and (ii) a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, each of which shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties, over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal. Upon the purchase of any Collateral Obligation that is a Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, at the direction of the Servicer, the Trustee shall deposit Principal Proceeds into the Revolving Reserve Account, in the case of a Revolving Loan, and the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, in the case of a Delayed Drawdown Loan, each equal to the unfunded Commitment Amount of the Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, respectively, and the Principal Proceeds so deposited shall be considered part of the Purchase Price of the Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan for purposes of Article 12. At the direction of the Servicer at any time during or after the Replacement Period, the Trustee shall withdraw funds from the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account to fund extensions of credit pursuant to Revolving Loans or Delayed Drawdown Loans, respectively. In addition, to the extent that the Issuer receives proceeds of a repayment in respect of a Revolving Loan (except to the extent of any concurrent Commitment Reduction) at any time during or after the Replacement Period, the Trustee shall deposit the proceeds into the Revolving Reserve Account. Upon the sale of a Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan in whole or in part or the reduction in part or termination of the Issuer's commitment thereunder, an amount on deposit in the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, as the case may be, specified by the Servicer as being equal to:

- (i) the unfunded amount of the commitment (in the case of a sale in whole or a termination of the commitment),
- (ii) the proportionate amount of the amount on deposit (in the case of a sale in part), or
- (iii) the amount by which the commitment is reduced (in the case of a reduction thereof in part), shall be transferred by the Trustee to the Collection Account as Principal Proceeds. Amounts on deposit in the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account shall be held pursuant to Section 10.4(b). All interest and other income from amounts in the Revolving Reserve Account and the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account deposited to the Collection Account pursuant to Section 10.4(b) shall be considered Interest Proceeds in the Due Period in which they are so deposited.

(c) Expense Reimbursement Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Expense Reimbursement Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties, over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal. On any Payment Date and on any date between Payment Dates, the Trustee will apply amounts, if any, in the Expense Reimbursement Account to the payment of expenses and fees that must be paid between Payment Dates or that are due on that Payment Date under Section 11.1(a)(i)(1) and the Trustee shall on any Payment Date transfer to the Expense Reimbursement Account an amount equal to the excess, if any, of the Administrative Expense Cap over the amounts due under Section 11.1(a)(i)(1) to the Expense Reimbursement Account in accordance with Section 11.1(a)(i)(2). Funds in the Expense Reimbursement Account shall be applied in accordance with Section 10.4(a).

(d) Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties (other than the Hedge Counterparty pledging the Collateral), over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control, the sole right of withdrawal and a lien for the benefit of the Secured Parties. The Trustee shall deposit all collateral received from a Hedge Counterparty under any Hedge Agreement into the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account. The only permitted withdrawal from or application of funds on deposit in, or otherwise to the credit of, the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account shall be:

(i) for application to obligations of the relevant Hedge Counterparty to the Issuer under a Hedge Agreement if the Hedge Agreement becomes subject to early termination, or

(ii) to return collateral to the relevant Hedge Counterparty when and as required by the relevant Hedge Agreement, in each case as directed by the Servicer.

Amounts on deposit in the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account shall be held pursuant to Section 10.4(a) and shall not be considered an asset of the Issuer for the purposes of the Coverage Tests.

(e) Synthetic Security Collateral Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Synthetic Security Collateral Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control, the sole right of withdrawal, and a lien for the benefit of the Secured Parties. On or before the date on which the Issuer enters into a Synthetic Security and delivers a copy of it to the Trustee, the Trustee shall create a sub-account of the Synthetic Security Collateral Account with respect to the Synthetic Security.

All Synthetic Security Collateral posted by any Synthetic Security Counterparty in support of its respective obligation under a Synthetic Security shall be immediately deposited into the Synthetic Security Collateral Account and posted to the sub-account related to the Synthetic Security. On each day on which amounts are payable to the Issuer out of Synthetic Security Collateral, the Issuer by Issuer Order shall direct the Trustee to, and upon receipt of the Issuer Order, the Trustee shall, withdraw amounts on deposit in the Synthetic Security Collateral Account in an amount sufficient to make the payment as provided in the Issuer Order (including any total or partial release of Synthetic Security Collateral). The only permitted withdrawal from or application of funds on deposit in, or otherwise to the credit of, the Synthetic Security Collateral Account shall be (i) for application to the obligations of the relevant Synthetic Security Counterparty under a Synthetic Security Agreement or (ii) to return Synthetic Security Collateral to the relevant Synthetic Security Counterparty at the termination of the relevant Synthetic Security Agreement or as otherwise required by the Synthetic Security Agreement, in each case as directed by the Servicer.

Amounts on deposit in the Synthetic Security Collateral Account shall be held pursuant to Section 10.4(b) and shall not be considered an asset of the Issuer for the purposes of the Coverage Tests.

(f) Securities Lending Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Securities

Lending Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties, over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control, the sole right of withdrawal, and a lien for the benefit of the Secured Parties. On or before the date on which the Issuer enters into a Securities Lending Agreement and delivers a copy of it to the Trustee, the Trustee shall create a sub-account of the Securities Lending Account with respect to the Securities Lending Agreement. All Securities Lending Collateral posted by any Securities Lending Counterparty in support of its respective obligation under a Securities Lending Agreement shall be immediately deposited into the Securities Lending Account and posted to the sub-account related to the Securities Lending Agreement. The only permitted withdrawal from or application of funds on deposit in, or otherwise to the credit of, the Securities Lending Account shall be:

(i) for application to obligations of the relevant Securities Lending Counterparty to the Issuer under a Securities Lending Agreement if the Securities Lending Agreement becomes subject to early termination or in the exercise of remedies under the related Securities Lending Agreement upon any "event of default" under and as defined in the related Securities Lending Agreement, including liquidating the related Securities Lending Collateral, or

(ii) to return the Securities Lending Collateral to the relevant Securities Lending Counterparty when and as required by the relevant Securities Lending Agreement, in each case as directed by the Servicer.

Amounts on deposit in the Securities Lending Account shall be held pursuant to Section 10.4(c). To the extent provided in a Securities Lending Agreement, earnings on amounts on deposit in the Securities Lending Account shall be payable by the Issuer to the related Securities Lending Counterparty.

Amounts on deposit in the Securities Lending Account shall not be considered an asset of the Issuer for the purposes of the Coverage Tests, but the loaned security or asset that relates to the Securities Lending Account shall be so considered an asset of the Issuer.

(g) Closing Date Expense Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Closing Date Expense Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties, over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal. On the Closing Date, the Trustee, at the direction of the Issuer, shall deposit into the Closing Date Expense Account approximately U.S.$2,024,384 from the gross proceeds of the Offering. At any time before the Payment Date in February 2008, at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may by Issuer Order direct the Trustee to, and upon receipt of the Issuer Order the Trustee shall, pay from amounts on deposit in the Closing Date Expense Account any applicable fees and expenses of the Offering. On the Payment Date in February 2008 (or, at the discretion of the Servicer, on the Payment Date in November 2007), at the direction of the Servicer in its sole discretion, the Trustee shall transfer all funds on deposit in the Closing Date Expense Account to the Collection Account as Interest Proceeds or Principal Proceeds and close the Closing Date Expense Account.

Amounts on deposit in the Closing Date Expense Account shall be held pursuant to Section 10.4(a) and shall not be considered an asset of the Issuer for the purposes of the Coverage Tests.

(h) Payment Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Payment Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties, over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal. The only permitted withdrawal from or application of funds on deposit in, or otherwise to the credit of, the Payment Account shall be to pay amounts due and payable on the Notes in accordance with their terms and the provisions of this Indenture and to pay Administrative Expenses and other amounts specified in this Indenture, each in accordance with the Priority of Payments. The Co-Issuers shall not have any legal, equitable, or beneficial interest in the Payment Account other than in accordance with the Priority of Payments.

(i) Interest Reserve Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Interest Reserve Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties, over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal. On the Closing Date, the Trustee, at the direction of the Issuer, shall deposit into the Interest Reserve Account approximately U.S.$2,500,000 from the gross proceeds of the Offering. At any time before the Payment Date in February 2008, at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may by Issuer Order direct the Trustee to, and upon receipt of the Issuer Order the Trustee shall transfer any funds on deposit in the Interest Reserve Account to the Collection Account as Interest Proceeds or Principal Proceeds. On the Payment Date in February 2008 (or, at the discretion of the Servicer, on the Payment Date in November 2007), at the direction of the Servicer in its sole discretion, the Trustee shall transfer all funds on deposit in the Interest Reserve Account (after application of any monies therefrom on such date) to the Collection Account as Interest Proceeds or Principal Proceeds and close the Interest Reserve Account. Amounts on deposit in the Interest Reserve Account shall be held pursuant to Section 10.4(a).

(j) Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account. Before the Closing Date, the Trustee shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account, that shall be held in trust in the name of the Trustee for the benefit of Holders of the Class II Preference Shares, over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal. On each Payment Date, to the extent of available funds in accordance with the Priority of Payments, the Trustee will deposit into the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account amounts equal to the Class II Preference Share Special Payments. The Servicer has agreed to waive amounts, which would otherwise be payable to the Servicer as Servicing Fees, on each Payment Date prior to February 3, 2008 and an amount equal to such waived amounts will be distributed by the Trustee to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, subject to the laws of the Cayman Islands, for payment pro rata to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares as Class II Preference Share Special Payments. With respect to any Payment Date after February 3, 2008, the Servicer may, in its sole discretion, at any time waive a portion (or all) of the Servicing Fees then due and payable, in which event, an amount equal to such waived portion will be paid by the Trustee to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, subject to the laws of the Cayman Islands, for payment pro rata to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares as Class II Preference Share Special Payments; provided that with respect to the Payment Date in May 2008 such Class II Preference Share Special Payments will, at a minimum, include amounts that would otherwise constitute a portion (representing the Class II Preference Share Percentage) of the Servicing Fees that have accrued from the Payment Date in February 2008 through February 3, 2008. For purposes of any calculation under the Indenture and the Servicing Agreement, the Servicer will be deemed to have received the Servicing Fee in an amount equal to the sum of the Servicing Fee actually paid to the Servicer and the amount distributed to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares as Class II Preference Share Special Payments.

(k) In addition to any deposit, withdrawal, transfer or other application of funds with respect to any Account set forth in this Section 10.3 or in Section 10.2, any deposit, withdrawal, transfer or other application of funds with respect to any Account authorized elsewhere in this Indenture is hereby authorized pursuant to this Section 10.3.

(l) In order to comply with its obligations under the USA Patriot Act of 2001, if any, the Trustee shall be entitled to request and verify, and the Noteholders, beneficial owners, the Co-Issuers and other parties related to this Indenture shall be obligated to provide to the Trustee all the necessary information required by the USA Patriot Act of 2001.

Section 10.4. *Application of Funds in Accounts; Reports by Trustee.

(a) By Issuer Order (which may be in the form of standing instructions), at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer shall at all times before an Event of Default occurs, direct the Trustee to, and, upon receipt of the Issuer Order, the Trustee shall, apply all funds on deposit in the Collection Account, the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account, the Expense Reimbursement Account, the Closing Date Expense Account and the Interest Reserve Account as so directed in Eligible Investments having Stated Maturities no later than the Business Day before the next Payment Date. All applications on any Business Day shall be subject to the timely receipt of the funds and the availability of any Eligible Investments. Before an Event of Default occurs, if the Issuer has not given directions, the Trustee shall seek instructions from the Servicer within three Business Days after transfer of any funds to the Collection Account, the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account, the Expense Reimbursement Account, the Closing Date Expense Account or the Interest Reserve Account. If the Trustee does not receive written instructions from the Servicer within five Business Days after transfer of the funds to the account, it shall apply the funds held in the account, as fully as practicable, but only in one or more Eligible Investments of the type described in clause (c) of the definition of "Eligible Investments" maturing no later than the Business Day before the next Payment Date. After an Event of Default occurs, if the Issuer does not give directions to the Trustee for three consecutive days, the Trustee shall apply the monies as fully as practicable in Eligible Investments of the type described in clause (c) of the definition of "Eligible Investments" maturing not later than the earlier of (i) 30 days after the date of the application or (ii) the Business Day before the next Payment Date. All interest and other income from such Eligible Investments shall be deposited in the Collection Account, any gain realized from such Eligible Investments shall be credited to the Collection Account, and any loss resulting from such Eligible Investments shall be charged to the Collection Account. Subject to Section 6.7, the Trustee shall not in any way be held liable for the selection of Eligible Investments or because of any insufficiency of the Collection Account, the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account, the Expense Reimbursement Account, the Closing Date Expense Account or the Interest Reserve Account or any other account that results from any loss relating to any such Eligible Investment.

(b) By Issuer Order (which may be in the form of standing instructions), at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer shall at all times direct the Trustee to, and, upon receipt of the Issuer Order, the Trustee shall, apply all funds on deposit in the Revolving Reserve Account, the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, and the Synthetic Security Collateral Account in Eligible Investments having Stated Maturities not later than one Business Day after the date of their purchase. All applications on any Business Day shall be subject to the timely receipt of the funds and the availability of any Eligible Investments. If before an Event of Default, the Issuer does not give directions, the Trustee shall seek instructions from the Servicer within three Business Days after transfer of any funds to the Revolving Reserve Account, the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, or the Synthetic Security Collateral Account. If the Trustee does not thereupon receive written instructions from the Servicer within five Business Days after transfer of the funds to the account, it shall apply the funds held in the account, as fully as practicable, but only in one or more Eligible Investments of the type described in clause (e) of the definition of "Eligible Investments" that are overnight funds. If after an Event of Default, the Issuer does not give directions to the Trustee for three consecutive days, the Trustee shall apply the monies as fully as practicable in Eligible Investments of the type described in clause (e) of the definition of "Eligible Investments" that are overnight funds. All interest and other income from such Eligible Investments shall be deposited in the Collection Account, any gain realized from such Eligible Investments shall be credited to the Collection Account, and any loss resulting from such Eligible Investments shall be charged to the Collection Account.

(c) By Issuer Order (which may be in the form of standing instructions), at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer shall at all times direct the Trustee to, and, upon receipt of the Issuer Order, the Trustee shall, apply all funds on deposit in the Securities Lending Account in Eligible Investments having Stated Maturities no later than the Business Day before the stated termination date of the related Securities Lending Agreement. All applications on any Business Day shall be subject to the timely receipt of the funds and the availability of any Eligible Investments. The interest on the Eligible Investments shall be allocated between the Issuer and the Securities Lending Counterparty pursuant to the related Securities Lending Agreement. If before an Event of Default, the Issuer does not give directions, the Trustee shall seek instructions from the Servicer within three Business Days after transfer of any funds to the Securities Lending Account. If the Trustee does not thereupon receive written instructions from the Servicer within five Business Days after transfer of the funds to the account, it shall apply the funds held in the account, as fully as practicable, but only in one or more Eligible Investments of the type described in clause (e) of the definition of "Eligible Investments" that mature no later than the Business Day before the stated termination date of the related Securities Lending Agreement. If after an Event of Default, the Issuer does not give directions to the Trustee for three consecutive days, the Trustee shall apply the monies as fully as practicable in Eligible Investments of the type described in clause (e) of the definition of "Eligible Investments" maturing no later than the Business Day before the stated termination date of the related Securities Lending Agreement. All interest and other income from such Eligible Investments shall be deposited in the Collection Account, any gain realized from such Eligible Investments shall be credited to the Collection Account, and any loss resulting from such Eligible Investments shall be charged to the Collection Account.

(d) The Trustee agrees to give the Issuer notice as soon as reasonably practicable if a Trust Officer obtains actual knowledge that any Account or any funds on deposit in any Account, or otherwise to the credit of an Account, shall become subject to any writ, order, judgment, warrant of attachment, execution or similar process. All Accounts shall remain at all times with the Custodian or a financial institution having a long-term debt rating of at least "Baa1" (and not on credit watch with negative implications) by Moody's and at least "BBB+" by S&P and having combined capital and surplus of at least U.S.$200,000,000 that has entered into one or more securities account control agreements in accordance with Article 8 of the UCC; provided, however, that (i) with respect to the Synthetic Security Collateral Account, the Synthetic Security Counterparty shall be a party to such control agreement and shall consent to the Trustee's control of such Synthetic Security Collateral Account, (ii) with respect to the Securities Lending Account, the Securities Lender shall be a party to such control agreement and shall consent to the Trustee's control of such Securities Lending Account and (iii) with respect to each Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account, the related Hedge Counterparty shall be a party to such control agreement and shall consent to the Trustee's control of such Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account.

(e) The Trustee shall supply, in a timely fashion, to the Co-Issuers and the Servicer any information regularly maintained by the Trustee that the Co-Issuers or the Servicer may from time to time request with respect to the Pledged Obligations, the Accounts and the Collateral and provide any other requested information reasonably available to the Trustee because of its acting as Trustee under this Indenture and required to be provided by Section 10.6, to permit the Servicer to perform its obligations under the Servicing Agreement. The Trustee shall promptly forward to the Servicer copies of notices and other writings received by it from the issuer of any Collateral Obligation or from any Clearing Agency with respect to any Collateral Obligation which notices or writings advise the holders of the security of any rights that the holders might have with respect to the Collateral Obligation (including requests to vote with respect to amendments or waivers and notices of prepayments and redemptions) as well as all periodic financial reports received from the issuer and Clearing Agencies with respect to the issuer.

(f) To the extent monies deposited in any Account exceed amounts insured by the Bank Insurance Fund or Savings Association Insurance Fund administered by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any agencies succeeding to its insurance functions, and are not fully collateralized by direct obligations of the United States of America, the excess shall be held in Eligible Investments as described above.

Section 10.5. Synthetic Security Counterparty Account.

(a) To the extent that any Synthetic Security requires the Issuer to secure its obligations to the Synthetic Security Counterparty or to the extent that any Synthetic Security has an unfunded amount payable by the Issuer that does not by its terms require collateral, the Issuer shall direct the Trustee and the Trustee shall establish a segregated non-interest bearing trust account for the Synthetic Security which shall be held in trust for the benefit of the related Synthetic Security Counterparty and over which the Trustee shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal in accordance with the applicable Synthetic Security and this Indenture (a "Synthetic Security Counterparty Account"). In the alternative, a Synthetic Security Counterparty Account may be established with a trustee designated by the Synthetic Security Counterparty if that trustee would qualify to be a successor trustee under Section 6.9 and the account satisfies the other requirements of this Section.

As directed in writing by the Servicer, the Trustee shall deposit (or deliver for deposit) into each Synthetic Security Counterparty Account all amounts or securities that are required to secure the obligations of the Issuer in accordance with the related Synthetic Security and, without duplication, an amount equal to the unfunded amount of a Synthetic Security, including the entire notional amount of any Synthetic Security in the form of a credit default swap or other similar transaction. The Servicer shall direct any such deposit only during the Replacement Period and only to the extent that monies are available for the purchase of Collateral Obligations pursuant to this Indenture. Any income received on amounts in the Synthetic Security Counterparty Account shall, after application in accordance with the relevant Synthetic Security, be withdrawn from the Synthetic Security Counterparty Account and deposited in the Collection Account for distribution as Interest Proceeds.

(b) As directed by the Servicer in writing and in accordance with the applicable Synthetic Security and this Indenture, amounts on deposit in a Synthetic Security Counterparty Account shall be held in Synthetic Security Collateral.

(c) In connection with the occurrence of a credit event or an event of default or a termination event (each as defined in the applicable Synthetic Security) under the related Synthetic Security, amounts in any Synthetic Security Counterparty Account shall be withdrawn by the Trustee (or the Trustee shall request their withdrawal) and applied toward the payment of any amounts payable by the Issuer to the related Synthetic Security Counterparty in accordance with the Synthetic Security, as directed by the Servicer in writing. Any excess amounts held in a Synthetic Security Counterparty Account, or held directly by a Synthetic Security Counterparty, after payment of all amounts owing from the Issuer to the related Synthetic Security Counterparty in accordance with the related Synthetic Security shall be withdrawn from the Synthetic Security Counterparty Account and deposited in the Collection Account for distribution as Principal Proceeds.

(d) Amounts on deposit in any Synthetic Security Counterparty Account shall not be considered an asset of the Issuer for the purposes of the Coverage Tests, but the Synthetic Security that relates to the Synthetic Security Counterparty Account shall be so considered an asset of the Issuer (with the notional amount as the Principal Balance unless a default exists under the applicable Synthetic Security).

Section 10.6. Accountings.

(a) Monthly. Commencing the earlier of (a) the first full month after the Ramp-Up Completion Date and (b) the month ending September 2007, (i) in the case of a month in which there is no Payment Date, not later than the eighth Business Day after the last calendar day of such month and (ii) in the case of a month in which there is a Payment Date, on such Payment Date, the Issuer shall cause to be compiled and provided to the Servicer, the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to each Holder of Preference Shares), the Initial Purchasers, each Hedge Counterparty, the Rating Agencies, (if so requested by the Initial Purchasers) the Repository in accordance with Section 14.3(a)(ix) or each Holder of a Note who makes a written request therefor, and, upon written request therefor by a Beneficial Owner in the form of Exhibit H certifying that it is a Beneficial Owner, the Beneficial Owner (or its designee), a monthly report (the "Monthly Report"). Each Monthly Report shall be accompanied by a Section 3(c)(7) Reminder Notice. The Monthly Report shall contain the following information, determined as of (1) in the case of a month in which there is no Payment Date, the last day of the applicable month and (2) in the case of a month in which there is a Payment Date, the Determination Date for such Payment Date, based in part on information provided by the Servicer (the "Monthly Determination Date"):

(i) Collateral:

(A) The Aggregate Principal Balance (and, in the case of a Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan, its funded and unfunded amount), interest rate, Stated Maturity and obligor of each Collateral Obligation;

(B) The stated principal balance of Defaulted Collateral Obligations;

(C) The identity of all Collateral Obligations and all obligations that at the time of acquisition, conversion or exchange do not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation that were released for sale or other disposition (and, for each obligation sold, indicating whether sold as a Credit Risk Obligation, a Credit Improved Obligation, a Current-Pay Obligation, a Defaulted Collateral Obligation, a Workout Asset or an obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation or whether sold in connection with any withholding tax pursuant to Section 12.1(e) or sold as a discretionary sale pursuant to Section 12.1(h)); and the identity of all Collateral Obligations that were acquired, in each case since the date of the previous Monthly Report;

(D) The obligor of each Workout Asset;

(E) The Purchase Price of each Collateral Obligation acquired, the sale price of each Collateral Obligation sold (or the adjusted purchase or sale price with respect to any exchange of securities requiring an allocation by the Servicer) since the date of the previous Monthly Report on each sale;

(F) The identity of each Collateral Obligation (1) that is a Defaulted Collateral Obligation, a Workout Asset or a PIK Security, and in the case of a PIK Security (i) the principal amount of previously deferred or capitalized interest and (ii) the change in the principal amount of previously deferred or capitalized interest since the most recent Monthly Report or (2) in respect of which an obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation has been received, in each case indicating the date of such default, as applicable, and reporting any Other Indebtedness, as defined in clause (ii) in the definition of "Defaulted Collateral Obligation," that the Servicer has determined not to be material;

(G) The S&P Industry Classification and the Moody's Industry Classification for each Collateral Obligation and the five highest concentrations of Collateral Obligations in the Moody's Industry Classification groups and the five highest concentrations of Collateral Obligations in the S&P Industry Classification groups;

(H) For each Collateral Obligation, the country of the obligor (and the related foreign currency debt rating) and, in the case of a country other than the United States of America, whether the obligor is Domiciled in a Moody's Group I Country, Moody's Group II Country, or Moody's Group III Country and the percentage of the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations issued by issuers in the applicable country;

(I) For each Collateral Obligation, the Moody's Priority Category Recovery Rate and S&P Recovery Rate;

(J) For each Collateral Obligation, the S&P Rating, and if any S&P Rating for any Collateral Obligation in any Monthly Report is a credit estimate, "non-public" rating or "shadow" rating; the rating shall not be disclosed, but shall be replaced with an asterisk in the place of the applicable credit estimate, "non-public" rating or "shadow" rating;

(K) For each Collateral Obligation, the Moody's Rating and the Moody's Rating Factor, determined, for this purpose, and set forth both with and without regard to whether the Collateral Obligation has been put on watch for possible upgrade or downgrade, and if any Moody's Rating for any Collateral Obligation in any Monthly Report is an "estimated" or "shadow" rating, the rating shall not be disclosed, but shall be replaced with an asterisk in the place of the applicable "estimated" or "shadow" rating;

(L) The Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations that have a Moody's Rating of "Caa1" or lower;

(M) The Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations that have an S&P Rating of "CCC+" or lower;

(N) For each Collateral Obligation that is a Participation or a Synthetic Security or is loaned pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement, the related Secondary Risk Counterparty and each Rating Agency's long-term unsecured debt rating of the Secondary Risk Counterparty;

(O) Certain S&P benchmarks relating to the portfolio as provided by S&P in the S&P CDO Monitor regardless whether or not the S&P CDO Monitor passes or fails, including (1) S&P Default Measure (Annualized Portfolio Default Rate), (2) S&P Variability Measure (Annualized Standard Deviation of Portfolio Default Rate), (3) S&P Correlation Measure (Ratio of Standard Deviation of Portfolio with Correlation to Standard Deviation of Portfolio without Correlation) and (4) Weighted Average Default Correlation;

(P) The identity and Market Value of each Collateral Obligation whose Market Value (in the determination of the Overcollateralization Ratio Numerator) was determined pursuant to last proviso in the definition of "Market Value;"

(Q) The identity of each Collateral Obligation participated from or entered into with a Secondary Risk Counterparty; and

(R) The identity of each Collateral Obligation owned by the Issuer that has not been disposed of within the time limits required by this Indenture.

(ii) Accounts:

(A) The amount of any proceeds in the Collection Account, distinguishing between amounts credited as Interest Proceeds, Principal Proceeds (excluding unapplied proceeds), and unapplied proceeds;

(B) The amount of any Principal Proceeds in the Revolving Reserve Account;

(C) The amount of any Principal Proceeds in the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account;

(D) The amount of any Principal Proceeds in the Synthetic Security Collateral Account;

(E) The amount of any Principal Proceeds in the Securities Lending Account; and

(F) The amount of any proceeds in the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account;

(iii) Hedge Agreements:

(A) The outstanding notional amount of each Hedge Agreement; and

(B) The amount scheduled to be received and paid by the Issuer pursuant to each Hedge Agreement on the next Payment Date (as specified by the calculation agent under each Hedge Agreement);

(iv) Coverage Tests, Collateral Quality Tests and Retention Overcollateralization Test:

(A) The Overcollateralization Ratios and the Overcollateralization Ratios as of the Ramp-Up Completion Date; a statement as to whether each of the Overcollateralization Tests is satisfied and a statement as to whether the Retention Overcollateralization Test is satisfied;

(B) The Interest Coverage Ratios and, on and after the second Payment Date, a statement as to whether each of the Interest Coverage Tests is satisfied;

(C) The Diversity Score and, on and after the Ramp-Up Completion Date, a statement as to whether the Diversity Test is satisfied;

(D) The Weighted Average Life of the Collateral Obligations and, on and after the Ramp-Up Completion Date, a statement as to whether the Weighted Average Life Test is satisfied;

(E) The Moody's Minimum Average Recovery Rate, the S&P Recovery Rate and, on and after the Ramp-Up Completion Date, a statement as to whether the Weighted Average Moody's Recovery Rate Test with respect to the Moody's Minimum Average Recovery Rate and Weighted Average S&P Recovery Rate Test with respect to the S&P Recovery Rate is satisfied;

(F) The Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon of the Collateral Obligations and, on and after the Ramp-Up Completion Date, a statement as to whether the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test is satisfied and a statement as to the amount of Spread Excess was used to satisfy the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test;

(G) The Weighted Average Spread of the Collateral Obligations and, on and after the Ramp-Up Completion Date, a statement as to whether the Weighted Average Spread Test is satisfied and a statement as to the amount of Fixed Rate Excess was used to satisfy the Weighted Average Spread Test;

(H) The Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor and, on and after the Ramp-Up Completion Date, a statement as to whether the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test is satisfied; and

(I) The S&P CDO Monitor Test and, on and after the Ramp-Up Completion Date, a statement as to whether the S&P CDO Monitor Test is satisfied and the Class Scenario Loss Rate and the then applicable Note Break-Even Loss Rate with respect to each Class of Notes that is rated by S&P and the adjusted Weighted Average Spread level determined as set forth in the definition of "Note Break-Even Loss Rate;"

(v) Concentration Limitations and Withholding Taxes:

(A) The percentage of the Maximum Amount itemized against each element of the Concentration Limitations and a statement as to whether each Concentration Limitation is satisfied; and

(B) Any withholding tax on payments under any Collateral Obligation;

(vi) Securities Lending Agreements:

(A) Each Collateral Obligation loaned or borrowed pursuant to a Securities Lending Agreement and the percentage of the Maximum Amount that represents Collateral Obligations that are loaned or borrowed pursuant to Securities Lending Agreements; and

(B) With respect to each Securities Lending Agreement in effect as of the Monthly Determination Date, a list setting forth:

(1) for each Collateral Obligation loaned or borrowed under it as of the first day of the loan, (x) its Principal Balance, (y) its Market Value and (z) its Principal Balance expressed as a percentage of the Maximum Amount,

(2) the term of the loan of the Collateral Obligation,

(3) the expiration date of the Securities Lending Agreement,

(4) the Moody's Rating and S&P Rating for each loaned or borrowed Collateral Obligation,

(5) the principal amount of the related Securities Lending Collateral held in the Securities Lending Account, and

(6) the Eligible Investments held as Securities Lending Collateral pursuant to the related Securities Lending Agreement; and

(vii) Any other information the Trustee reasonably requests.

Upon receipt of each Monthly Report, the Trustee shall compare the information contained in the Monthly Report to the information contained in its records with respect to the Collateral and shall, within three Business Days after receipt of such Monthly Report, notify the Issuer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Servicer if the information contained in the Monthly Report does not conform to the information maintained by the Trustee with respect to the Collateral, and shall detail any discrepancies. In the event that any discrepancy exists, the Trustee, the Issuer, and the Servicer shall attempt to resolve the discrepancy. If such discrepancy cannot be promptly resolved, the Trustee shall within five Business Days after notification of such discrepancy cause the Independent accountants appointed by the Issuer pursuant to Section 10.8 to review such Monthly Report and the Trustee's records to determine the cause of such discrepancy. If such review reveals an error in the Monthly Report or the Trustee's records, the Monthly Report or the Trustee's records shall be revised accordingly and, as so revised, shall be used in making all calculations pursuant to this Indenture and notice of any error in the Monthly Report shall be sent as soon as practicable by the Issuer to all recipients of the report. If the review by the Independent accountants does not resolve the discrepancy, the Trustee, upon receipt of an Officer's certificate of the Servicer certifying that, to the best knowledge of the Servicer, the information contained in the related Monthly Report is correct, shall conform the information it maintains to the Monthly Report received.

(b) Payment Date Accounting. The Issuer shall cause to be rendered an accounting report (the "Valuation Report"), determined as of the close of business on each Determination Date, and provided to the Servicer, the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to each Holder of Preference Shares), the Issuer, the Initial Purchasers, each Hedge Counterparty, the Rating Agencies and each Noteholder (if so requested by the Initial Purchasers) the Repository in accordance with Section 14.3(a)(ix), the Depository (with instructions to forward it to each of its Agent Members who are Noteholders), and upon written request therefor by a Beneficial Owner in the form of Exhibit H certifying that it is a Beneficial Owner and the Beneficial Owner (or its designee) not later than the second Business Day preceding the related Payment Date. Each Valuation Report shall be accompanied by a Section 3(c)(7) Reminder Notice. The Valuation Report shall contain the following information as of the related Payment Date (unless otherwise stated), based in part on information provided by the Servicer:

(i) Notes:

(A) The amount of principal payments to be made on each Class of Notes on the related Payment Date;

(B) The Aggregate Outstanding Amount of each Class of Notes after giving effect to any principal payments on the related Payment Date and, for each Class of Notes, the percentage of its initial Aggregate Outstanding Amount that amount represents;

(C) For each Class of Notes, the percentage of the initial Aggregate Outstanding Amount of all of the Notes that its initial Aggregate Outstanding Amount represented and, after giving effect to any principal payments on the related Payment Date, the percentage of the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of all of the Notes that its Aggregate Outstanding Amount represents;

(D) The interest payable in respect of each Class of Notes on the related Payment Date (in the aggregate and by Class) and its calculation in reasonable detail; and

(E) The amounts to be paid, if any, to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for payments on the Preference Shares on the related Payment Date, showing separately the payments from Interest Proceeds and the payments from Principal Proceeds;

(ii) Payment Date Payments:

(A) The amounts to be distributed under each clause of Sections 11.1(a)(i), 11.1(a)(ii) and 11.2 itemized by clause, and to the extent applicable, by type of distribution under the clause; and

(B) Any amounts payable under the Hedge Agreements by any Hedge Counterparty on or before the related Payment Date and its calculation in reasonable detail (as specified by the calculation agent under the Hedge Agreement);

(iii) Accounts:

(A) The amount of any proceeds in the Collection Account, distinguishing between amounts credited as Interest Proceeds, Principal Proceeds (excluding unapplied proceeds) and unapplied proceeds;

(B) The amount in the Collection Account after all payments and deposits to be made on the related Payment Date, distinguishing between amounts credited as Interest Proceeds and as Principal Proceeds;

(C) The amount of any Principal Proceeds in the Revolving Reserve Account;

(D) The amount of any Principal Proceeds in the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account;

(E) The amount of any Principal Proceeds in the Synthetic Security Collateral Account;

(F) The amount of any Principal Proceeds in the Securities Lending Account;

(G) The amount in the Hedge Counterparty Collateral Account; and

(H) The amount in the Expense Reimbursement Account;

(iv) A notice setting forth LIBOR, as calculated by the Calculation Agent, for the next Interest Period and each Note Interest Rate for the next Payment Date; and

(v) Any other information the Trustee reasonably requests.

Upon receipt of each Valuation Report, the Trustee shall compare the information contained in the Valuation Report to the information contained in its records with respect to the Collateral and shall, within three Business Days after receipt of such Valuation Report, notify the Issuer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Servicer if the information contained in the Valuation Report does not conform to the information maintained by the Trustee with respect to the Collateral, and shall detail any discrepancies. In the event that any discrepancy exists, the Trustee, the Issuer, and the Servicer shall attempt to resolve the discrepancy. If such discrepancy cannot be promptly resolved, the Trustee shall within five Business Days after notification of such discrepancy cause the Independent accountants appointed by the Issuer pursuant to Section 10.8 to review such Valuation Report and the Trustee's records to determine the cause of such discrepancy. If such review reveals an error in the Valuation Report or the Trustee's records, the Valuation Report or the Trustee's records shall be revised accordingly and, as so revised, shall be used in making all calculations pursuant to this Indenture and notice of any error in the Valuation Report shall be sent as soon as practicable by the Issuer to all recipients of such report. If the review by the Independent accountants does not resolve the discrepancy, the Trustee, upon receipt of an Officer's certificate of the Servicer certifying that, to the best knowledge of the Servicer, the information contained in the related Valuation Report is correct, shall conform the information it maintains to the Valuation Report received.

(c) Failure to Provide Accounting. If the Trustee shall not have received any accounting provided for in Section 10.6(b) on the first Business Day after the date on which the accounting is due to the Trustee, the Trustee shall notify the Issuer and the Servicer, and the Servicer shall use all reasonable efforts to cause the accounting to be made by the applicable Payment Date. To the extent the Trustee is required to provide any information or reports pursuant to this Section 10.6 as a result of the failure of the Issuer (or anyone acting on the Issuer's behalf) to provide the information or reports, the Trustee may retain an Independent certified public accountant in connection therewith and the reasonable costs incurred by the Trustee for the Independent certified public accountant shall be reimbursed pursuant to Section 6.8.

(d) Irish Stock Exchange. So long as any Class of Senior Notes is listed on the Irish Stock Exchange: (i) the Trustee shall communicate to the Irish Stock Exchange the Aggregate Outstanding Amount of each listed Class of Senior Notes following each Payment Date and inform the Irish Stock Exchange if any such Class of Senior Notes did not receive scheduled payments of principal or interest on the Payment Date; (ii) the Trustee shall inform the Irish Stock Exchange if the ratings assigned to the Senior Notes are reduced or withdrawn and the information shall be given to the Company Announcements Office of the Irish Stock Exchange; and (iii) the Trustee shall inform the Irish Stock Exchange, in advance, of the Note Interest Rate for each such Class, as well as the exact date of the following Payment Date.

(e) Quarterly Letter. The Servicer shall provide a quarterly letter to the recipients of the Valuation Report highlighting events occurring during the related quarterly period within 30 days of the date of the delivery of the Valuation Report.

(f) S&P CDO Monitor. On or after the Ramp-Up Completion Date and together with each Monthly Report, the Issuer shall provide to S&P the Excel Default Model Input File and, with respect to each Collateral Obligation, the name of the obligor thereon and the CUSIP number thereof (if applicable).

(g) Payments or Transfers from the Payment Account. Each Valuation Report shall constitute instructions to the Trustee to withdraw on the related Payment Date from the Payment Account and pay or transfer amounts set forth in such Valuation Report in the manner specified and in accordance with the priority established in Section 11.1 hereof.

Section 10.7. Release of Collateral.

(a) The Trustee shall present Collateral for redemption or payment in full in accordance with the terms of the Collateral upon receipt of an Issuer Order. If no Event of Default is continuing, the Issuer may, by Issuer Order executed by an Authorized Officer of the Servicer, delivered to the Trustee at least two Business Days before the settlement date for any sale of an obligation certifying that the sale of the Collateral is being made in accordance with Sections 12.1 and 12.3 and the sale complies with all applicable requirements of Section 12.1, direct the Trustee to release the Collateral and, upon receipt of the Issuer Order, the Trustee shall deliver any such Collateral, if in physical form, duly endorsed to the broker or purchaser designated in the Issuer Order or otherwise cause an appropriate transfer of it to be made, in each case against receipt of the sales price therefor as specified by the Servicer in the Issuer Order. The Trustee may deliver any such Collateral in physical form for examination pursuant to a bailee letter.

(b) The Trustee shall, upon an Issuer Order executed by an Authorized Officer of the Servicer, deliver any Pledged Obligation that is set for any mandatory call or redemption or payment in full to the appropriate paying agent on or before the date set for the call, redemption or payment, in each case against receipt of its call or redemption price or payment in full and provide notice of it to the Servicer.

(c) Upon receiving actual notice of any Offer, the Trustee on behalf of the Issuer shall notify the Servicer of any Collateral Obligation that is subject to a tender offer, voluntary redemption, exchange offer, conversion or other similar action (an "Offer"). If no Event of Default is continuing, the Servicer may direct the Trustee (and if an Event of Default is continuing, the Servicer may advise, and the Trustee may, in consultation with the Servicer, decide) to accept or participate in or decline or refuse to participate in the Offer and, in the case of acceptance or participation, to dispose of the Collateral Obligation in accordance with the Offer against receipt of payment for it. If the consideration to be received by the Issuer for the Collateral Obligation is other than Cash, the consideration must be a Collateral Obligation that would be eligible for purchase by the Issuer pursuant to Section 12.2 assuming for this purpose that the Issuer committed to purchase the same on the date on which the Issuer accepts the Offer.

(d) Upon disposition by the Trustee of Collateral to any Person against receipt of payment therefore as provided in any of the foregoing clauses (a), (b) or (c), the Collateral shall be free of the lien of this Indenture. The lien shall continue in the proceeds received from the disposition.

(e) As provided in Section 10.2(b), the Trustee shall deposit any proceeds received by it from the disposition of a Pledged Obligation in the Collection Account, unless simultaneously applied to the purchase of additional Collateral Obligations (including any related deposit into the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account or the posting by the Issuer of cash collateral with (or for the benefit of) a Synthetic Security Counterparty simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into a Synthetic Security) or Eligible Investments as permitted under and in accordance with the requirements of this Article 10 and Article 12.

(f) The Trustee shall, upon receipt of an Issuer Order when no Notes are Outstanding and all obligations of the Co-Issuers under this Indenture have been satisfied, as evidenced by an Officer's certificate or an Opinion of Counsel, release any remaining Collateral from the lien of this Indenture.

(g) The Trustee shall release from the lien of this Indenture any Collateral that is provided directly to a Synthetic Security Counterparty or deposited in a segregated account in accordance with Section 10.5. Any Collateral or proceeds received by or redeposited by the Issuer into the Collection Account in accordance with Section 10.5 shall again be subject to the lien of this Indenture.

Any collateral deposited in a segregated account in accordance with Section 10.3(d), (e), and (f) shall be subject to the lien of this Indenture for the benefit of the Secured Parties. Any collateral withdrawn by the Issuer in accordance with Section 10.3(d), (e), and (f) shall be released from the lien of this Indenture by the Trustee to the extent returned to the appropriate counterparty pursuant to Sections 10.3(d), (e) and (f).

Section 10.8. Reports by Independent Accountants.

(a) At the Closing Date, the Issuer, at the direction of the Servicer, shall appoint a firm of Independent certified public accountants of recognized international reputation for purposes of preparing and delivering the reports or certificates of the accountants required by this Indenture. Within 30 days of any resignation by the firm, the Issuer, at the direction of the Servicer, shall promptly appoint by Issuer Order delivered to the Trustee and each Rating Agency a successor firm that is a firm of Independent certified public accountants of recognized international reputation. If the Issuer, at the direction of the Servicer, fails to appoint a successor to a firm of Independent certified public accountants which has resigned within 30 days after the resignation, the Trustee, in consultation with the Servicer, shall promptly appoint a successor firm of Independent certified public accountants of recognized international reputation. The fees of such Independent certified public accountants and their successors shall be payable by the Issuer as an Administrative Expense.

(b) On or before May 15 of each year commencing in 2008, the Issuer shall cause to be delivered to the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), the Servicer or each Noteholder or Holder of Preference Shares upon written request therefor, upon written request therefor by a Beneficial Owner in the form of Exhibit H certifying that it is a Beneficial Owner, to the Beneficial Owner (or its designee) and each Rating Agency a statement from a firm of Independent certified public accountants indicating (i) that the firm has reviewed each Valuation Report received since the last review and applicable information from the Trustee, (ii) that the calculations within those Valuation Reports have been performed in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Indenture (except as otherwise noted in the statement) and (iii) the Aggregate Principal Balance of the Collateral Obligations owned by the Issuer as of the preceding Determination Date. If a conflict exists between the firm of Independent certified public accountants and the Issuer with respect to any matter in this Section 10.7, the determination by that firm of Independent public accountants shall be conclusive. The statement shall be in the form of an Accountant's Certificate issued to the Issuer, the form of which shall be agreed on by the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer.

(c) Upon the written request of the Preference Shares Paying Agent or any Holder of Preference Shares, the Issuer shall cause the firm of Independent certified public accountants appointed pursuant to Section 10.7(a) to provide any Holder of Preference Shares with all information requested pursuant to Section 7.17(g) or provide the Issuer with any assistance required in its preparation.

Section 10.9. Reports to Rating Agencies.

In addition to the information and reports specifically required to be provided to each Rating Agency pursuant to this Indenture, the Issuer shall provide each Rating Agency with the Accountants' Certificates delivered to the Trustee under this Indenture, and such additional information as either Rating Agency may from time to time reasonably request. In addition, any notices of restructurings and amendments received by the Issuer or the Trustee in connection with the Issuer's ownership of a DIP Loan shall be delivered by the Servicer (on behalf of the Issuer) or the Trustee, as the case may be, promptly to the Rating Agencies.

APPLICATION OF MONIES

Section 11.1. Disbursements of Monies from Payment Account.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Indenture, but subject to the other subsections of this Section 11.1 and to Section 13.1, on each Payment Date, the Trustee shall disburse available amounts from the Payment Account as follows and for application by the Trustee in accordance with the following priorities (the "Priority of Payments"):

(i) On each Payment Date, Interest Proceeds with respect to the related Due Period (other than Interest Proceeds previously used during such Due Period to purchase accrued interest in respect of Collateral Obligations or otherwise used as permitted by Section 10.2) shall be distributed in the following order of priority:

(1) to the payment of any taxes and registration and filing fees owed by the Co-Issuers (without limit) and then to the payment of Administrative Expenses up to the Administrative Expense Cap as follows:

FIRST, in the following order of priority,

- (i) fees, expenses and indemnities of the Trustee; and then
- (ii) fees, expenses and indemnities of the Collateral Administrator; and then
- (iii) fees, expenses and indemnities of the Preference Shares Paying Agent; and

SECOND, in the following order of priority,

- (x) fees and expenses of the Administrator; and then
- (y) fees and expenses of the Co-Issuers (including fees and expenses of counsel and ongoing surveillance, credit estimate, and other fees owing to the Rating Agencies) and any other Person (except the Servicer) if specifically provided for in this Indenture, and to the expenses (but not fees) of the Servicer if payable under the Servicing Agreement;
- (2) the excess, if any, of the Administrative Expense Cap over the amounts paid pursuant to clause (1) above to deposit into the Expense Reimbursement Account;
- (3) FIRST, to deposit in the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account for payment in accordance with Section 10.3(j) an amount equal to the product of (i) the Class II Preference Share Portion for such Payment Date, if any, and (ii) any accrued and unpaid Senior Servicing Fee then due and payable and SECOND, to the payment to the Servicer of an amount equal to the difference between (i) the accrued and unpaid Senior Servicing Fee as of such Payment Date and (ii) the amount deposited to the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account in accordance with the preceding clause;
- (4) to the payment of all amounts due to the Hedge Counterparties under the Hedge Agreements (if any) other than any Defaulted Hedge Termination Payments;
- (5) to the payment of accrued and unpaid interest on the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes, and any accrued and unpaid Defaulted Interest on, and any Defaulted Interest Charge with respect to, the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes, in each case, pro rata in proportion to the respective amounts of interest, Defaulted Interest and Defaulted Interest Charge then due on each such Class;
- (6) to the payment of accrued and unpaid interest on the Class B Notes, and any accrued and unpaid Defaulted Interest on, and any Defaulted Interest Charge with respect to, the Class B Notes;
- (7) if the Class A/B Coverage Tests are not satisfied on the related Determination Date, to the payment of principal of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes and the Class B Notes in the Note Payment Sequence, in each case, in the amount necessary so that all of the Class A/B Coverage Tests would be met on such Determination Date on a pro forma basis after giving effect to any payments in reduction of the principal of Notes made through this clause, or until paid in full (Interest Proceeds to be applied pursuant to this clause (7) before the application of any Principal Proceeds pursuant to Section 11.1(a)(ii)(1) on the current Payment Date);
- (8) to the payment of accrued and unpaid interest on the Class C Notes (excluding Class C Deferred Interest, but including interest accrued for the preceding Interest Period on Class C Deferred Interest);
- (9) if the Class C Coverage Tests are not satisfied on the related Determination Date, to the payment of principal of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes and the Class C Notes in the Note Payment Sequence, in each case in the amount necessary so that all of the Class C Coverage Tests would be met on such Determination Date on a pro forma basis after giving effect to any payments in reduction of the principal of Notes made through this clause, or until paid in full (Interest Proceeds to be applied pursuant to this clause (9) before the application of any Principal Proceeds pursuant to Section 11.1(a)(ii)(3) on the current Payment Date);

- (10) to the payment of Class C Deferred Interest;
- (11) to the payment of accrued and unpaid interest on the Class D Notes (excluding Class D Deferred Interest but including interest accrued for the preceding Interest Period on Class D Deferred Interest);
- (12) if the Class D Coverage Tests are not satisfied on the related Determination Date, to the payment of principal of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes and the Class D Notes in the Note Payment Sequence, in each case in the amount necessary so that all of the Class D Coverage Tests would be met on such Determination Date on a pro forma basis after giving effect to any payments in reduction of the principal of Notes made through this clause, or until paid in full (Interest Proceeds to be applied pursuant to this clause (12) before the application of any Principal Proceeds pursuant to Section 11.1(a)(ii)(6) on the current Payment Date);
- (13) to the payment of Class D Deferred Interest;
- (14) to the payment of accrued and unpaid interest on the Class E Notes (excluding Class E Deferred Interest but including interest accrued for the preceding Interest Period on Class E Deferred Interest);
- (15) if the Class E Coverage Tests are not satisfied on the related Determination Date and all of the Class A/B Coverage Tests and the Class C Coverage Tests are satisfied on such Determination Date, to the payment of principal of the Class E Notes in the amount necessary so that all of the Class E Coverage Tests would be met on such Determination Date on a pro forma basis after giving effect to any payments in reduction of the principal of Notes made through this clause, or until paid in full (Interest Proceeds to be applied pursuant to this clause (15) before the application of any Principal Proceeds pursuant to Section 11.1(a)(ii)(9) on the current Payment Date);
- (16) to the payment of Class E Deferred Interest;
- (17) if a Rating Confirmation Failure exists on the Payment Date, to the payment of principal of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes in the Note Payment Sequence, in each case in the amount necessary so that a Rating Confirmation is obtained, or until paid in full (Interest Proceeds to be applied pursuant to this clause (17) before the application of any Principal Proceeds pursuant to Section 11.1(a)(ii)(11) on the current Payment Date);
- (18) during the Replacement Period, if the Retention Overcollateralization Test is not satisfied on the related Determination Date, for deposit to the Collection Account as Principal Proceeds 50% of the remaining Interest Proceeds available after the payments pursuant to clause (17) above (or, if the amount necessary to cause the Retention Overcollateralization Test to be satisfied as of such Determination Date is less than 50% of such remaining Interest Proceeds, such necessary amount);
- (19) to the payment of any remaining Administrative Expenses not paid under clause (1) above in the respective priorities specified in clause (1);
- (20) FIRST, to deposit in the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account for payment in accordance with Section 10.3(j) an amount equal to the product of (i) the Class II Preference Share Portion for such Payment Date, if any, and (ii) any accrued and unpaid Subordinated Servicing Fee then due and payable and SECOND, to the payment (pro rata according to the amounts payable under clauses (x) and (y) below) to: (x) the Servicer of an amount equal to the difference between (i) the accrued and unpaid Subordinated Servicing Fee as of such Payment Date and (ii) the amount deposited to the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account in accordance with the preceding clause; and (y) pro rata to each Noteholder entitled thereto, the applicable Extension Bonus Payment pursuant to, and in accordance with, Section 2.4(g);

(21) to the payment of any Defaulted Hedge Termination Payments;

(22) to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, on behalf of the Issuer, for deposit into the Preference Shares Distribution Account for payment pro rata to the Holders of Preference Shares until the Holders of the Preference Shares have realized a Preference Share Internal Rate of Return of 12.0%;

(23) FIRST, to deposit in the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account for payment in accordance with Section 10.3(j) of an amount equal to the product of (i) the Class II Preference Share Portion for such Payment Date, if any, and (ii) the Supplemental Servicing Fee, if applicable and SECOND, to the payment to the Servicer of an amount equal to the difference between (i) the accrued and unpaid Supplemental Servicing Fee as of such Payment Date and (ii) the amount deposited to the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account in accordance with the preceding clause; and

(24) any remaining Interest Proceeds, to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, on behalf of the Issuer, for deposit into the Preference Shares Distribution Account for payment pro rata to the Holders of the Preference Shares; provided that, in lieu of payment of Interest Proceeds referred to under clauses (22) and (24) above, in whole or in part on any Payment Date, the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, shall have the right to direct the Trustee to distribute any Eligible Equity Securities pro rata to the Consenting Holders of the Preference Shares with respect to such Payment Date to the extent that the Market Value of such Eligible Equity Securities (determined by the Servicer as of the relevant Market Value Determination Date) is equal to or lower than the aggregate amount of Interest Proceeds that would otherwise be due and payable on such Payment Date to such Consenting Holders of the Preference Shares. Interest Proceeds in an amount equal to the Market Value of such Eligible Equity Securities (determined by the Servicer as of the relevant Market Value Determination Date) distributed to the Consenting Holders of the Preference Shares with respect to any such Payment Date shall be treated for all purposes by the Issuer and the Servicer as Principal Proceeds available for distribution in accordance with Priority of Payments on the relevant Payment Date. The amount of Interest Proceeds available on the relevant Payment Date shall be reduced and the amount of Principal Proceeds available on the relevant Payment Date shall be increased accordingly.

(ii) On each Payment Date, Principal Proceeds with respect to the related Due Period other than:

(A) Principal Proceeds previously used to purchase Collateral Obligations (including any related deposit into the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account or the posting by the Issuer of cash collateral with (or for the benefit of) a Synthetic Security Counterparty simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into a Synthetic Security) or otherwise used as permitted by Section 10.2,

(B) Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Revolving Reserve Account, the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account, the Synthetic Security Collateral Account, or the Securities Lending Account, and

(C) Principal Proceeds on deposit in the Collection Account in an aggregate amount equal to the agreed Purchase Prices for Collateral Obligations with respect to which the Issuer has entered into a commitment before the end of the Due Period for their purchase, but has not settled the purchase by the end of the Due Period, shall be distributed in the following order of priority:

(1) (x) FIRST, to the payment of the amounts referred to in clauses (1) through (6) of Section 11.1(a)(i) (and in the same manner and order of priority) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder and (y) SECOND, to the payment of amounts referred to in clause (7) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder and to the extent necessary to cause the Class A/B Overcollateralization Test to be met as of the related Determination Date on a pro forma basis after giving effect to any payments made through this clause (1), or until such amounts are paid in full;

(2) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (8) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder;

(3) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (9) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder and to the extent necessary to cause the Class C Overcollateralization Test to be met as of the related Determination Date on a pro forma basis after giving effect to any payments made through this clause (3), or until such amounts are paid in full;

(4) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (10) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder;

(5) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (11) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder;

(6) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (12) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder and to the extent necessary to cause the Class D Overcollateralization Test to be met as of the related Determination Date on a pro forma basis after giving effect to any payments made through this clause (6), or until such amounts are paid in full;

(7) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (13) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder;

(8) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (14) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder;

(9) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (15) of Section 11.1(a)(i) (regardless whether or not the conditions of sub-clause (i) of such clause (15) are satisfied) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder and to the extent necessary to cause the Class E Overcollateralization Test to be met as of the related Determination Date on a pro forma basis after giving effect to any payments made through this clause (9), or until such amounts are paid in full;

(10) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (16) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder;

(11) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clause (17) of Section 11.1(a)(i) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder;

(12)

(A) if the Payment Date is a Redemption Date in the following order of priority: (i) to the payment in the Note Payment Sequence of the Redemption Prices of all of the Notes to be redeemed, (ii) to the payment of the amounts referred to in clauses (19) through (23) of Section 11.1(a)(i) (and in the same manner and order of priority) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder and (iii) to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, on behalf of the Issuer, for deposit into the Preference Shares Distribution Account for payment to the Holders of the Preference Shares of the Redemption Price of any Preference Shares to be redeemed; and

(B) if the Payment Date is a Special Redemption Date, to the payment in the Note Payment Sequence of principal of the Notes in an aggregate amount equal to the Special Redemption Amount, in each case until paid in full;

(13) during the Replacement Period, all remaining Principal Proceeds to the acquisition of additional Collateral Obligations in accordance with the provisions of Section 7.19 and Article 12 (and, until so applied (including any related deposit into the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account or the posting by the Issuer of cash collateral with (or for the benefit of) a Synthetic Security Counterparty simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into a Synthetic Security), to be deposited in the Collection Account as Principal Proceeds);

(14) after the Replacement Period, (i) FIRST, at the discretion of the Servicer (with respect to Unscheduled Principal Payments and Sale Proceeds from the sale of Credit Improved Obligations) to the purchase or funding of additional or replacement Collateral Obligations in accordance with the Eligibility Criteria and the applicable provisions of this Indenture when appropriate Collateral Obligations are available, and until such time, to the Collection Account for the purchase of Eligible Investments; and (ii) SECOND, to the payment in the Note Payment Sequence of principal of Notes until paid in full;

(15) to the extent not previously paid in full under clause (12) above, after the Replacement Period, to the payment of the amounts referred to in clauses (19) through (23) of Section 11.1(a)(i) (and in the same manner and order of priority) to the extent not previously paid in full thereunder; and

(16) after the Replacement Period to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, on behalf of the Issuer, for deposit into the Preference Shares Distribution Account for payment pro rata to the Holders of the Preference Shares.

(b) If on any Payment Date the amount available in the Payment Account is insufficient to make the full amount of the disbursements required by the Valuation Report, the Trustee shall make the disbursements called for in the order and according to the priority under Section 11.1(a), subject to Section 13.1, to the extent funds are available therefor.

(c) The Trustee shall remit funds to pay Administrative Expenses of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer in accordance with Section 11.1(a), to the extent available, to the Issuer, the Co-Issuer as directed and designated in an Issuer Order (which may be in the form of standing instructions) delivered to the Trustee no later than the Business Day before each Payment Date.

(d) If the Hedge Counterparty defaults in the payment of its obligations to the Issuer under the respective Hedge Agreements on the date on which any payment is due thereunder, the Trustee shall make a demand on the Hedge Counterparty, or any guarantor, if applicable, demanding payment by 12:30 P.M., New York time, on that date. The Trustee shall give notice to the Noteholders, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares), the Servicer and each Rating Agency upon the continuing failure by the Hedge Counterparty to perform its obligations during the two Business Days following a demand made by the Trustee on, the Hedge Counterparty, and shall take the action with respect to the continuing failure as directed by the Servicer unless an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing in which case direction is to be taken pursuant to Section 5.13.

(e) Except as otherwise expressly provided in Section 11.1(a) above, if on any Payment Date, the amount available in the Payment Account from amounts received in the related Due Period is insufficient to make the full amount of the disbursements required by any numbered or lettered paragraph or clause of Section 11.1(a) to different Persons, the Trustee shall make the disbursements called for by the paragraph or clause ratably in accordance with the respective amounts of the disbursements then payable, subject to Section 13.1, to the extent funds are available therefor.

SALE OF COLLATERAL OBLIGATIONS; PURCHASE OF COLLATERAL OBLIGATIONS

Section 12.1. Sales of Collateral Obligations.

Subject to the satisfaction of the conditions specified in Section 10.6, Section 12.1 and Section 12.3 and if no Event of Default is continuing as evidenced by an Officer's certificate of the Servicer provided to the Trustee, the Issuer may, at the direction of the Servicer, direct the Trustee to sell any Collateral Obligation or Workout Asset if the Servicer certifies to the Trustee that the sale meets the requirements of any one of paragraphs (a) through (i) of this Section 12.1. If the Issuer sells any Collateral Obligation or Workout Asset during the Replacement Period, the proceeds shall be applied in accordance with Section 12.2.

(a) Credit Risk Obligations. At the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may direct the Trustee to sell any Credit Risk Obligation at any time during or after the Replacement Period without restriction and the Trustee shall sell the Credit Risk Obligation in accordance with such direction. Following any sale of a Credit Risk Obligation pursuant to this Section 12.1(a), at the direction of the Servicer during the Replacement Period, the Issuer shall use commercially reasonable efforts to purchase additional Collateral Obligations (to the extent the purchase is in the best interest of the Issuer) meeting the Eligibility Criteria with an Aggregate Principal Balance at least equal to the Sale Proceeds received by the Issuer with respect to the Collateral Obligation sold. For this purpose, the Principal Balance of any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan shall only include its funded amount.

(b) Credit Improved Obligations. At the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may direct the Trustee to sell any Credit Improved Obligation if either:

(i) during the Replacement Period, the Servicer has identified in writing before the sale one or more specific manners in which it will be able, in compliance with the Eligibility Criteria and the requirements set forth in Section 12.1(i), to cause the Issuer to use the Sale Proceeds (it being understood that such identification shall not be considered either a requirement or an assurance that any specified purchase will be consummated) to purchase one or more additional Collateral Obligations with an Aggregate Principal Balance at least equal to the Purchase Criteria Adjusted Balance of the Credit Improved Obligation by the end of the immediately succeeding Due Period (for this purpose, the Principal Balance of any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan shall only include its funded amount and Principal Balance shall include the principal balance of Collateral Obligations in which the Trustee does not have a first priority perfected security interest) which in aggregate will result in (i) the Collateral Quality Tests, the Interest Coverage Tests, the Overcollateralization Tests and the Concentration Limitations herein being satisfied or if one or more of such Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Tests, Overcollateralization Tests or Concentration Limitations are not satisfied, the degree of compliance therewith being improved, (ii) the quality of the total portfolio of Collateral Obligations as measured by such Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Tests, Overcollateralization Tests and Concentration Limitations being improved on a net basis in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer and (iii) in the case of each of clause (i) and (ii), any other Collateral Quality Tests, Interest Coverage Tests, Overcollateralization Tests or Concentration Limitations not being violated or, in the commercially reasonable judgment of the Servicer, the likelihood of such violation in the future not being significantly increased; and

(ii) after the Replacement Period, the Sale Proceeds received in respect of the Credit Improved Obligation are at least equal to its Purchase Criteria Adjusted Balance. For this purpose, the Principal Balance of any Revolving Loan or Delayed Drawdown Loan shall only include its funded amount and Principal Balance shall include the principal balance of Collateral Obligations in which the Trustee does not have a first priority perfected security interest; and the Trustee shall sell the Credit Improved Obligation in accordance with such direction.

(c) Non-Performing Collateral Obligations. At the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may direct the Trustee to sell any Non-Performing Collateral Obligation at any time during or after the Replacement Period without restriction and the Trustee shall sell the Non-Performing Collateral Obligation in accordance with such direction. Non-Performing Collateral Obligations may be sold regardless of price.

(d) Non-qualifying Collateral Obligations. At the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may direct the Trustee to sell any obligation that at the time of acquisition, conversion, or exchange does not satisfy the requirements of a Collateral Obligation (the "Non-qualifying Collateral Obligation") at any time during or after the Replacement Period without restriction and the Trustee shall sell that obligation in accordance with such direction.

(e) Withholding Tax Sales. At the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may direct the Trustee to sell any Collateral Obligation subject to withholding tax at any time during or after the Replacement Period without restriction and the Trustee shall sell the Collateral Obligation in accordance with such direction.

(f) Optional Redemption. After the Issuer has notified the Trustee of an Optional Redemption of the Notes in accordance with Article 9, at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer shall direct the Trustee to sell all or a portion of the Collateral Obligations as contemplated therein if

(i) the requirements of Article 9 are satisfied and (ii) the Independent certified public accountants appointed pursuant to Section 10.7 have confirmed the calculations contained in any required certificate furnished by the Servicer pursuant to Section 9.3(c). After a Majority of the Preference Shares have directed an Optional Redemption of the Preference Shares in accordance with Section 9.2(b), at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer shall direct the Trustee to sell all of the remaining Collateral Obligations (in the case of an Optional Redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(b)(i)) or a portion of the remaining Collateral Obligations in accordance with the unanimous directions of Holders of the Preference Shares (in the case of an Optional Redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(b)(ii)) and the Trustee shall sell the remaining Collateral Obligations in accordance with such direction.

(g) Rating Confirmation Failure. After the Servicer has received notice of a Rating Confirmation Failure and if available Interest Proceeds and Principal Proceeds are insufficient to effect the redemption of the Notes at par on any subsequent Payment Date in accordance with the Priority of Payments as and to the extent necessary for each of Moody's and S&P to confirm the Initial Ratings assigned by it on the Closing Date to the Securities, the Issuer may, at the direction of the Servicer, direct the Trustee to sell Collateral Obligations as contemplated in Section 9.1 and the Trustee shall sell the Collateral Obligations in accordance with such direction.

(h) Workout Assets. At the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may direct the Trustee to sell any Workout Asset at any time during or after the Replacement Period without restriction and regardless of price and the Trustee shall sell the Workout Assets in accordance with such direction.

(i) Supervening Requirement. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Issuer (at the direction of the Servicer or otherwise) shall not acquire or dispose of a Collateral Obligation or other eligible asset (as defined in Rule 3a-7) for the primary purpose of recognizing gains or decreasing losses resulting from market value changes. For the avoidance of doubt, the Issuer, at the direction of the Servicer or otherwise, may direct the Trustee to sell any CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligation or Deep Discount Obligation only (a) if it constitutes Credit Risk Obligation or Non-Performing Collateral Obligation or (b) in connection with the Optional Redemption as set out in paragraph (f) above. The Trustee shall have no obligation to monitor compliance by the Issuer or the Servicer with respect to the requirement set out in this paragraph (i).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer (or the Servicer on its behalf) shall not direct the Trustee to sell any Collateral Obligation (other than the sale of a Credit Risk Obligation or a Non-Performing Collateral Obligation pursuant to a sale that meets the requirements in paragraph (a) or (c) above, as applicable) following receipt by the Servicer of notice of removal pursuant to Section 14 of the Servicing Agreement until a successor Servicer is appointed pursuant to Section 12 of the Servicing Agreement.

Section 12.2. Purchase of Collateral Obligations.

(a) On any date during the Replacement Period (and, in respect of Principal Proceeds constituting Unscheduled Principal Payments and Sale Proceeds from Credit Risk Obligations and Credit Improved Obligations, on any date after the Replacement Period), so long as no Event of Default is continuing, at the direction of the Servicer, the Issuer may direct the Trustee to apply Principal Proceeds (together with Interest Proceeds, but only to the extent used to pay for accrued interest on Collateral Obligations) to purchase Collateral Obligations (including any related deposit into the Revolving Reserve Account or the Delayed Drawdown Reserve Account or the posting by the Issuer of cash collateral with (or for the benefit of) a Synthetic Security Counterparty simultaneously with the Issuer's purchase of or entry into a Synthetic Security) if the Servicer certifies to the Trustee that, to the best knowledge of the Servicer, the conditions specified in this Section 12.2 and Section 12.3 are met.

(b) Eligibility Criteria. No obligations may be purchased unless each of the conditions in the following clauses (i) through (xii) (the "Eligibility Criteria") is satisfied as evidenced by a certificate of the Servicer as of the date the Issuer commits to make the purchase, in each case after giving effect to the purchase and all other purchases and sales previously or simultaneously committed to:

(i) the obligation is a Collateral Obligation;

(ii) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period:

(A) each Overcollateralization Test is satisfied and, if the commitment is made on or after the second Payment Date, each Interest Coverage Test is satisfied, or

(B) if any such Coverage Test is not satisfied, both:

(1) the extent of satisfaction of the Coverage Test is not reduced, and

(2) the Collateral Obligation is being purchased with Principal Proceeds other than:

(x) Principal Proceeds received in respect of a Defaulted Collateral Obligation, or

(y) Principal Proceeds received in respect of a Workout Asset that has been received in exchange for a Defaulted Collateral Obligation;

(iii) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, the Diversity Test is satisfied or, if not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced;

(iv) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test is satisfied or, if not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced; provided that the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor does not exceed 2750 or, if the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor exceeds 2750 prior to giving effect to such purchase or sale, the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor is not increased;

(v) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, each of the limits in the definition of "Concentration Limitations" is satisfied or, if any such limit is not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced;

(vi) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, the Weighted Average Spread Test is satisfied or, if not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced;

(vii) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, the Weighted Average Fixed Rate Coupon Test is satisfied or, if not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced;

(viii) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, the Weighted Average Life Test is satisfied or, if not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced;

(ix) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, the Weighted Average Moody's Recovery Rate Test is satisfied or, if not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced;

(x) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, the Weighted Average S&P Recovery Rate Test is satisfied or, if not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced;

(xi) for any date occurring during the Replacement Period, the S&P CDO Monitor Test is satisfied or, if not satisfied, the extent of satisfaction is not reduced; provided, however, that this Eligibility Criterion (xi) shall not apply either to the application of the proceeds from the sale of a Credit Risk Obligation, Non-Performing Collateral Obligation or Workout Asset or to the application of Principal Proceeds in respect of Defaulted Collateral Obligations; and

(xii) for any date occurring after the Replacement Period:

(A) each Coverage Test is satisfied and the extent of satisfaction is not reduced;

(B) each Collateral Quality Test (other than the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test) is maintained or improved and the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test is satisfied; provided that the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor does not exceed 2750 or, if the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor exceeds 2750 prior to giving effect to such purchase or sale, the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor is not increased and the Weighted Average Rating Factor Test is satisfied;

(C) each Concentration Limitation is maintained or improved and the Aggregate Principal Balance of all CCC+/Caa1 Collateral Obligations do not exceed 7.5% of the Maximum Amount;

(D) the Weighted Average Life Test is satisfied;

(E) the S&P Rating of such Collateral Obligation is at least equal to the S&P Rating of the Collateral Obligation being the source of the Unscheduled Principal Payments or of the Credit Risk Obligations or Credit Improved Obligation being the source of Sale Proceeds, as applicable; and

(F) the current Moody's Rating on the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes is "Aaa" and the current Moody's Ratings on the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes and the Class E Notes are no lower than one subcategory below their Initial Rating.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Issuer (or the Servicer on its behalf) shall not direct the Trustee to purchase any Collateral Obligation following receipt by the Servicer of notice of removal pursuant to Section 14 of the Servicing Agreement until a successor Servicer is appointed pursuant Section 12 of the Servicing Agreement.

(c) Certain Permitted Exchanges. The Issuer may, at the direction of the Servicer, exchange a Collateral Obligation for another Collateral Obligation in an A/B Exchange.

(d) Certification by Servicer. Not later than the Business Day preceding the settlement date for any Collateral Obligation purchased after the Closing Date (but in any event no later than the release of Cash for the Purchase Price of the purchase), the Servicer shall deliver to the Trustee an Officer's certificate of the Servicer certifying that, to the best knowledge of the Servicer, the purchase complies with this Section 12.2 and with Section 12.3 (determined as of the date that the Issuer commits to make the purchase).

(e) Eligible Investments. Cash on deposit in the Collection Account may be held at any time in Eligible Investments in accordance with Section 10.4(a) pending the application thereof to purchase Collateral Obligations.

Section 12.3. *Conditions Applicable to All Sale and Purchase Transactions.

(a) Any sale or purchase by the Issuer of a Collateral Obligation shall be conducted on an arm's length basis and, if effected with the Servicer or a Person Affiliated with the Servicer or any fund or account for which the Servicer or an Affiliate of the Servicer acts as investment adviser, shall be effected in accordance with the requirements of Section 5 of the Servicing Agreement on terms no less favorable to the Issuer than would be the case if the Person were not so Affiliated. The Trustee shall have no responsibility to oversee compliance with this clause (a) by the other parties.

(b) Upon any acquisition of any Collateral Obligation, all of the Issuer's interest in the Collateral Obligation shall be Granted to the Trustee pursuant to this Indenture.

(c) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this Article 12, the Issuer (or the Servicer on its behalf) shall not direct the Trustee to sell or purchase any Collateral Obligation (other than the sale of a Credit Risk Obligation or a Non-Performing Collateral Obligation pursuant to Section 12.1(a) or (c), as applicable) following receipt by the Servicer of notice of removal pursuant to Section 14 of the Servicing Agreement until a successor Servicer is appointed pursuant to Section 12(e) of the Servicing Agreement.

Section 12.4. *Certain Determinations Relating to Collateral Obligations.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Indenture, solely for the purpose of calculations in connection with the Eligibility Criteria, the Issuer or the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer shall be deemed to have purchased any Collateral Obligations as of the date on which the Issuer enters into a contract to purchase, a commitment letter, a confirmation or a due bill for such Collateral Obligation, in each case entitling the Issuer (or the Trustee as assignee thereof) to receive such Collateral Obligations and, in such event, the Issuer shall be deemed to have acquired, granted or delivered, as the case may be, such Collateral Obligations on such date.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Indenture, solely for the purpose of calculations in connection with the Eligibility Criteria, the Issuer or the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer shall be deemed to have sold any Collateral Obligations as of the date on which the Issuer enters into a contract to sell, a commitment letter, a confirmation or a due bill for such Collateral Obligation, in each case entitling the Issuer (or the Trustee as assignee thereof) to sell, and requiring the purchaser to purchase, such Collateral Obligations and, in such event, the Issuer shall be deemed to have sold such Collateral Obligations on such date.

(c) Under the circumstances described in subsections (a) and (b) above, if the transaction contemplated by the contract, commitment letter, confirmation or due bill referred to therein does not settle on or before the 60th day following the scheduled settlement date (the "Deadline"), the deemed purchase or sale shall be deemed not to have occurred; provided, however, that the Servicer shall have the right to extend the Deadline for an additional period (not to exceed an additional 60 days) by notice to the Trustee, which notice shall include the Servicer's certification to the effect that the Servicer believes that the settlement shall occur on or before the extended Deadline.

(d) Scheduled distributions with respect to any Pledged Collateral Obligation shall be determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Indenture.

ARTICLE 13

NOTEHOLDERS' RELATIONS

Section 13.1. Subordination.

(a) With respect to each Class of Notes and the Preference Shares, the Classes of Notes and the Preference Shares that are Priority Classes and Junior Classes are as follows:

Class	Junior Classes	Priority Classes
A-1-A*	A-1-B, B, C, D, E, Preference Shares	None
A-1-B*	B, C, D, E, Preference Shares	A-1-A
B	C, D, E, Preference Shares	A
C	D, E, Preference Shares	A, B
D	E, Preference Shares	A, B, C
E	Preference Shares	A, B, C, D
Preference Shares	None	A, B, C, D, E

* The payment of interest on the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes shall rank pari passu, and the Class A-1-A Notes and the Class A-1-B Notes will be allocated principal payments on each Payment Date in accordance with the Class A Allocation.

** Other than with respect to the Class II Preference Share Special Payments, which may be payable to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares as set forth herein and will have priority to the extent provided in the Priority of Payments.

*** The Preference Shares will be entitled to certain residual cash flow after payment of senior obligations in accordance with the Priority of Payments.

(b) Anything in this Indenture or the Notes to the contrary notwithstanding, the Holders of each Class of Notes that is a Junior Class agree for the benefit of the Holders of Notes of each Priority Class with respect to the Junior Class that the Junior Class shall be subordinate and junior to the Notes of each Priority Class to the extent and in the manner provided in this Indenture. If any Event of Default has not been cured or waived and acceleration occurs and is continuing in accordance with Article 5, each Priority Class of Notes shall be paid in full in Cash or, to the extent a Majority of each Class consents, other than in Cash, before any further payment or distribution is made on account of any Junior Class of Notes with respect to the Priority Class. The Holders of each Junior Class of Notes agree, for the benefit of the Holders of Notes of each Priority Class in respect of the Junior Class, not to cause the filing of a petition in bankruptcy against the Issuer or the Co-Issuer for failure to pay to them amounts due to the Junior Class, of the Notes or each Class of Notes, as the case may be, or under this Indenture until the payment in full of the Priority Classes or all the Classes, as the case may be, and not before one year and a day, or if longer, the applicable preference period then in effect, has elapsed since the payment.

(c) If, notwithstanding the provisions of this Indenture, any Holder of Notes of any Junior Class has received any payment or distribution in respect of the Notes contrary to the provisions of this Indenture, then, until each Priority Class with respect to the Junior Class of Notes or each Class of Notes, as the case may be, has been paid in full in Cash or, to the extent a Majority of the Priority Class or the Class, as the case may be, consents, other than in Cash in accordance with this Indenture, the payment or distribution shall be received and held in trust for the benefit of, and shall forthwith be paid over and delivered to, the Trustee, which shall pay and deliver the same to the Holders of the applicable Priority Classes of Notes or the Holders of all Classes of Notes, as the case may be, in accordance with this Indenture. If any such payment or distribution is made other than in Cash, it shall be held by the Trustee as part of the Collateral and subject in all respects to this Indenture, including this Section 13.1.

(d) Each Holder of Notes of any Junior Class agrees with all Holders of the applicable Priority Classes that the Holder of Junior Class Notes shall not demand, accept, or receive any payment or distribution in respect of the Notes in violation of this Indenture including this Section 13.1. After a Priority Class has been paid in full, the Holders of Notes of the related Junior Class or Classes shall be fully subrogated to the rights of the Holders of the Priority Class. Nothing in this Section 13.1 shall affect the obligation of the Issuer to pay Holders of any Junior Class of Notes.

(e) Distributions to Holders of the Preference Shares (other than, as and to the extent described herein, the Class II Preference Share Special Payments) are subordinate to distributions on the Notes as described in the Priority of Payments.

(f) The Servicing Fees shall have priority only to the extent provided in the Priority of Payments.

Section 13.2. Standard of Conduct.

In exercising any of its or their voting rights, rights to direct and consent, or any other rights as a Noteholder under this Indenture, a Noteholder shall not have any obligation or duty to any Person or to consider or take into account the interests of any Person and shall not be liable to any Person for any action taken by it or them or at its or their direction or any failure by it or them to act or to direct that an action be taken, without regard to whether the action or inaction benefits or adversely affects any Noteholder, the Issuer or any other Person, except for any liability to which the Noteholder may be subject to the extent the same results from the Noteholder's taking or directing an action, or failing to take or direct an action, in bad faith or in violation of the express terms of this Indenture.

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 14.1. Form of Documents Delivered to Trustee.

In any case where several matters are required to be certified by, or covered by an opinion of, any specified Person, it is not necessary that all the matters be certified by, or covered by the opinion of, only one Person, or that they be so certified or covered by only one document, but one such Person may certify or give an opinion with respect to some matters and one or more other such Persons as to other matters, and any such Person may certify or give an opinion as to the matters in one or several documents.

Any certificate or opinion of an Officer of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or the Servicer may be based, insofar as it relates to legal matters, upon a certificate or opinion of, or representations by, counsel, unless the Officer knows, or should know that the certificate or opinion or representations with respect to the matters upon which his certificate or opinion is based are erroneous. Any such certificate of an Officer of the Issuer, Co-Issuer or the Servicer or Opinion of Counsel may be based, insofar as it relates to factual matters, upon a certificate or opinion of, or representations by, the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Servicer or any other Person, stating that the information with respect to the factual matters is in the possession of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Servicer or the other Person, unless the Officer of the Issuer, Co-Issuer or the Servicer or the counsel knows that the certificate or opinion or representations with respect to factual matters are erroneous. Any Opinion of Counsel may also be based, insofar as it relates to factual matters, upon a certificate or opinion of, or representations by, an Officer of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, stating that the information with respect to factual matters is in the possession of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, unless the counsel knows that the certificate or opinion or representations with respect to factual matters are erroneous.

Where any Person is required to make, give, or execute two or more applications, requests, consents, certificates, statements, opinions or other instruments under this Indenture, they may, but need not, be consolidated and form one instrument.

Whenever this Indenture provides that the absence of the continuation of a Default or Event of Default is a condition precedent to the taking of any action by the Trustee at the request or direction of either Co-Issuer, then notwithstanding that the satisfaction of the condition is a condition precedent to the Co-Issuer's right to make the request or direction, the Trustee shall be protected in acting in accordance with the request or direction if it does not have knowledge of the continuation of the Default or Event of Default as provided in Section 6.1(d).

Section 14.2. Acts of Holders of Securities.

(a) Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided by this Indenture to be given or taken by Holders of Securities may be embodied in and evidenced by one or more instruments (which may be an electronic document, including, but not limited, to in the form of e-mail, to the extent permitted by applicable law) of substantially similar tenor signed by Holders of Securities in Person or by agents duly appointed in writing (provided that no signature shall be required on electronic documents, including, but not limited to, in the form of e-mail to the extent permitted by law). Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Indenture, the action shall become effective when the instruments are delivered to the Trustee (which instrument or instruments may be delivered through the Preference Shares Paying Agent, in the case of the Holders of the Preference Shares) and, if expressly required, to the Issuer. The instruments (and the action embodied in them) are referred to as the "Act" of the Holders of Securities signing the instruments. Proof of execution of any instrument or of a writing appointing an agent for a Holder of a Security shall be sufficient for any purpose of this Indenture and conclusive in favor of the Trustee and the Issuer, if made in the manner provided in this Section.

(b) The fact and date of the execution by any Person of any instrument may be proved by an affidavit of a witness to the execution or the certificate of any notary public or other Person authorized by law to acknowledge the execution of deeds. Any certificate on behalf of a jural entity executed by a Person purporting to have authority to act on behalf of the jural entity shall itself be sufficient proof of the authority of the Person executing it to act. The fact and date of the execution by any Person of any instrument may also be proved in any other manner that the Trustee deems sufficient.

(c) The Indenture Register shall prove the ownership of the Notes and the principal amount and registered numbers of Notes and the number of Preference Shares held by and the number(s) of the Preference Share certificate(s) issued to, any Person shall be proved by the Preference Share register.

(d) Any Act by the Holder of a Security shall bind every Holder of the same Security and every Security issued on its transfer or in exchange for it or in lieu of it, in respect of anything done, omitted or suffered to be done by the Trustee or the Issuer in reliance on the Act, whether or not notation of the action is made on the Securities.

Section 14.3. Notices, etc., to Certain Persons or Parties.

Any document required to be delivered or made available to the Repository by the Trustee may be made available by providing the operator of the Repository with access to a website containing such document in a format that permits the user to download the document as a pdf file.

(b) If any provision in this Indenture calls for any notice or document to be delivered simultaneously to the Trustee and any other Person, the Trustee's receipt of the notice or document shall entitle the Trustee to assume that the notice or document was delivered to the other Person unless otherwise expressly specified in this Indenture.

(c) Any Holder or beneficial owner of any Class A-1-A Notes or Class A-1-B Notes may elect to acquire bond insurance, a surety bond, a credit default swap or similar credit enhancement supporting the payment of principal and/or interest on such Class A-1-A Notes or Class A-1-B Notes, as applicable, on terms and conditions acceptable to such Holder or beneficial owner and at the sole expense of such Holder or beneficial owner. On or after any such acquisition, such Holder or beneficial owner may deliver notice (and if from a beneficial owner, any such notice shall include certification that such owner is a beneficial owner of the Class A-1-A Notes or Class A-1-B Notes, as applicable) to the Trustee in substantially the form of Exhibit J specifying the name and contact information of the insurer, surety, credit protection seller or enhancer of such Class A-1-A Notes or Class A-1-B Notes, as applicable (each, an "Insurer"). After receipt of any such notice (in the form of Exhibit J) by the Trustee, the Trustee shall copy the related Insurer on all notices, reports or other documents delivered to the Noteholders.

(d) Unless notified to the contrary by Financial Security Assurance Inc. ("FSA") or unless FSA is no longer to direct the vote of at least the Super Majority of the Class A-1-A Notes, each of the parties hereto agrees that, so long as any Class A-1-A Notes are Outstanding, FSA shall be entitled to receive, and shall be distributed, all reports, notices, certificates, statements and other information (including access to the Trustee's password protected website) that are required to be delivered to any Holder of the Class A-1-A Notes (or that any Holder of the Class A-1-A Notes is entitled to request) at the same time and in the same manner as such reports, notices, certificates, statements and other information are delivered to each such Holder of Class A-1-A Notes, at the following address (or at any other address furnished in writing from time to time by FSA to the parties hereto): Financial Security Assurance Inc., 31 West 52nd Street, New York, NY 10019, Attention: CDO Surveillance, telephone no.: (212) 826-0100; electronic mail: cdoreport@fsa.com, facsimile no.: (212) 339-3581. For the avoidance of doubt, FSA shall be entitled to request directly that the parties hereto provide it with such reports, notices, certificates, statements and other information that are required to be delivered to any Holder of the Class A-1-A Notes (or that any Holder of the Class A-1-A Notes is entitled to request).

Section 14.4. *Notices to Noteholders and the Preference Shares Paying Agent; Waiver.

Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Indenture, where this Indenture provides for notice to the Noteholders or the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) of any event,

(a) the notice shall be sufficiently given to the Noteholders or the Preference Shares Paying Agent if in writing and mailed, first-class postage prepaid, each Noteholder affected by the event or the Preference Shares Paying Agent, at the address of the Holder as it appears in the Indenture Register or at the address of the Preference Shares Paying Agent supplied by the Preference Shares Paying Agent to the Trustee, as applicable, not earlier than the earliest date and not later than the latest date, prescribed for the giving of the notice; and

(b) the notice shall be in the English language.

Notices shall be deemed to have been given on the date of their mailing.

Notwithstanding clause (a), a Noteholder or the Preference Shares Paying Agent may give the Trustee a written notice that it is requesting that notices to it be given by facsimile transmissions and stating the telecopy number for the transmission. Thereafter, the Trustee shall give notices to the Holder or the Preference Shares Paying Agent by facsimile transmission. If the notice also requests that notices be given by mail, then the notice shall also be given by mail in accordance with clause (a) above, as the case may be.

The Trustee shall deliver to the Noteholders any information or notice relating to this Indenture requested to be so delivered by at least 10% (by Aggregate Outstanding Amount) of the Holders of any Class of Notes at the expense of the Issuer. The Trustee shall deliver to the Preference Shares Paying Agent any information or notice that the Preference Shares Paying Agent certifies was requested to be so delivered by at least 10% (by Aggregate Outstanding Amount) of the Holders of the Preference Shares at the expense of the Issuer.

Neither the failure to mail any notice, nor any defect in any notice so mailed, to any particular Noteholder or the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall affect the sufficiency of the notice with respect to other Noteholders or the Preference Shares Paying Agent. If it is impracticable to give the notice by mail of any event to Noteholders or the Preference Shares Paying Agent when the notice is required to be given pursuant to any provision of this Indenture because of the suspension of regular mail service as a result of a strike, work stoppage or similar activity or because of any other cause, then the notification to Noteholders or the Preference Shares Paying Agent as shall be made with the approval of the Trustee shall be a sufficient notification to the Holders for every purpose under this Indenture.

Where this Indenture provides for notice in any manner, the notice may be waived in writing by any Person entitled to receive the notice, either before or after the event, and the waiver shall be the equivalent of the notice. Waivers of notice by Noteholders or the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be filed with the Trustee but the filing shall not be a condition precedent to the validity of any action taken in reliance on the waiver.

So long as any Senior Notes are listed on the Irish Stock Exchange and the rules of the exchange so require, all notices to Noteholders or the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to Holders of Preference Shares) shall also be given to the Irish Paying Agent for publication in the Company Announcements Office of the Irish Stock Exchange.

The Issuer shall (and authorizes the Trustee to) deliver to the Initial Purchasers all periodic reports, notices, demands, and other written information delivered or received by the Issuer, the Servicer, trustees, paying agents, accountants, or other Persons pursuant to this Indenture and other operative documentation relating to the Notes requested by the Initial Purchasers (collectively, the "Transaction Reports") and the Issuer consents to the Initial Purchasers providing Transaction Reports received by it to current and prospective investors in the Notes (including by means of electronic transmissions or posting the Transaction Reports on internet sites maintained by the Initial Purchasers or any of their Affiliates).

Section 14.5. Effect of Headings and Table of Contents.

The Article and Section headings in this Indenture and the Table of Contents are for convenience only and shall not affect the construction of this Indenture.

Section 14.6. Successors and Assigns.

All covenants and agreements in this Indenture by the Co-Issuers shall bind their respective successors and assigns, whether so expressed or not.

Section 14.7. Separability.

Except to the extent prohibited by applicable law, in case any provision in this Indenture, in the Notes shall be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable, the validity, legality, and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

Section 14.8. Benefits of Indenture.

Nothing in this Indenture or in the Notes, expressed or implied, shall give to any Person, other than the parties hereto and their successors under this Indenture, the Servicer, the Noteholders, the Holders of Preference Shares or the Preference Shares Paying Agent any benefit or any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under this Indenture.

Section 14.9. Governing Law.

THIS INDENTURE AND EACH NOTE SHALL BE CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF STATE OF NEW YORK, WITHOUT REFERENCE TO ITS PROVISIONS THAT WOULD RESULT IN THE APPLICATION OF THE LAWS OF ANOTHER JURISDICTION.

Section 14.10. *Submission to Jurisdiction.

The Co-Issuers and the Trustee hereby irrevocably submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of any New York State or federal court sitting in the Borough of Manhattan in The City of New York in any action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Securities or this Indenture, and the Co-Issuers and the Trustee hereby irrevocably agree that all claims in respect of the action or proceeding may be heard and determined in the New York State or federal court. The Co-Issuers and the Trustee hereby irrevocably waive, to the fullest extent that they may legally do so, the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of the action or proceeding. The Co-Issuers and the Trustee irrevocably consent to the service of all process in any action or proceeding by the mailing or delivery of copies of the process to the Co-Issuers at the office of Investors Bank & Trust Company (to the attention of Investors Bank & Trust Company, Trustee for Westchester CLO, Ltd.) set out in Section 7.2. The Co-Issuers and the Trustee agree that a final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by law.

Section 14.11. *Counterparts.

This Indenture may be executed in any number of copies, and by the different parties on the same or separate counterparts, each of which shall be considered to be an original instrument.

Section 14.12. *Acts of Issuer.

Any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided by this Indenture to be given or performed by the Issuer shall be effective if given or performed by the Issuer or by the Servicer on the Issuer's behalf.

Section 14.13. *Consent of Posting of Documents on Repository.

The Issuer hereby consents to (a) the posting of the final Offering Memorandum, this Indenture and the periodic reports to be delivered pursuant to the transaction documents and any amendments or other modifications thereto on the Repository for use in the manner provided in the Repository and (b) the display of its name on the Repository in connection therewith. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, none of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer and the Trustee makes any representation or warranty to The Bond Market Association (or any successor thereto) or any affiliate thereof or any Person having or obtaining access to the information maintained in the Repository or to any of such Person's affiliates regarding the accuracy or completeness of any information, document, report or other communication transmitted to the Repository, and no Person having or obtaining access to the information maintained in the Repository shall have any rights under this Indenture or otherwise by reason of the transmission of any such information, document, report or other communication to the Repository.

Section 14.14. *Liability of Co-Issuers.

Notwithstanding any other terms of this Indenture, the Notes or any other agreement entered into by either of the Co-Issuers or otherwise, neither of the Co-Issuers shall have any liability whatsoever to the other of the Co-Issuers under this Indenture, the Notes, any other agreement, or otherwise. Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, neither of the Co-Issuers may take any action to enforce, or bring any action or proceeding, in respect of this Indenture, the Notes, any other agreement, or otherwise against the other of the Co-Issuers. In particular, neither of the Co-Issuers may petition or take any other steps for the winding up or bankruptcy of the other of the Co-Issuers and neither of the Co-Issuers shall have any claim with respect to any assets of the other of the Co-Issuers.

Section 14.15. Indemnity of Co-Issuer.

The Issuer agrees to indemnify the Co-Issuer for any payments that may become due from the Co-Issuer under Article 11 with respect to any Notes issued under this Indenture and any administrative, legal, or other costs incurred by the Co-Issuer in connection with those payments.

ARTICLE 15

ASSIGNMENT OF SERVICING AGREEMENT; HEDGE AGREEMENTS

Section 15.1. Assignment of Servicing Agreement; Amendment of Servicing Agreement.

(a) The Issuer, in furtherance of the covenants of this Indenture and as security for the Notes and amounts payable to the Secured Parties under this Indenture and the performance and observance of the provisions of this Indenture, acknowledges that its Grant pursuant to the first Granting Clause includes all of the Issuer's interest in the Servicing Agreement, including:

- (i) the right to give all notices, consents and releases under it,
- (ii) the right to give all notices of termination pursuant to the Servicing Agreement and to take any legal action upon the breach of an obligation of the Servicer under it, including the commencement, conduct and consummation of proceedings at law or in equity,
- (iii) the right to receive all notices, accountings, consents, releases and statements under it, and
- (iv) the right to do all other things whatsoever that the Issuer is or may be entitled to do under it.

Notwithstanding anything in this Indenture to the contrary, the Trustee may not exercise any of the rights in (i) through (iv) above or that may otherwise arise as a result of the Grant until the occurrence of an Event of Default under this Indenture and the authority shall terminate when the Event of Default is cured or waived.

(b) The assignment made hereby is executed as security, and the execution and delivery hereby shall not in any way impair or diminish the obligations of the Issuer under the Servicing Agreement, nor shall any of the obligations contained in the Servicing Agreement be imposed on the Trustee.

(c) Upon the retirement of the Notes and the release of the Collateral from the lien of this Indenture, this assignment, and all rights in this Indenture assigned to the Trustee for the benefit of the Noteholders shall cease and terminate and all the interest of the Trustee in the Servicing Agreement shall revert to the Issuer and no further instrument or act shall be necessary to evidence the termination and reversion.

(d) The Issuer represents that the Issuer has not executed any other assignment of the Servicing Agreement.

(e) The Issuer agrees that this assignment is irrevocable, and that it shall not take any action that is inconsistent with this assignment or make any other assignment inconsistent herewith. The Issuer shall, from time to time upon the request of the Trustee, execute all instruments of further assurance and all such supplemental instruments with respect to this assignment as the Trustee may reasonably request.

(f) The Issuer agrees to obtain the agreement and consent of the Servicer in the Servicing Agreement to the following:

(i) the Servicer consents to this collateral assignment and agrees to perform any provisions of this Indenture made expressly applicable to the Servicer pursuant to the Servicing Agreement.

(ii) the Servicer acknowledges that the Issuer is collaterally assigning all of its interest in the Servicing Agreement to the Trustee for the benefit of the Secured Parties and the Servicer agrees that all of the representations, covenants and agreements made by the Servicer in the Servicing Agreement are also for the benefit of the Secured Parties.

(iii) the Servicer shall deliver to the Trustee duplicate original copies of all notices, statements, communications and instruments delivered or required to be delivered to the Issuer pursuant to the Servicing Agreement (other than any of them delivered to the Issuer by the Trustee or the Collateral Administrator).

(iv) the procedure for amending the Servicing Agreement as set forth in Section 15.1(h) below.

(v) except as otherwise provided in this Indenture and the Servicing Agreement, subject to the resignation rights of the Servicer pursuant to Section 12 of the Servicing Agreement, the Servicer shall continue to serve as Servicer under the Servicing Agreement notwithstanding that the Servicer shall not have received amounts due it under the Servicing Agreement because sufficient funds were not then available under this Indenture to pay the amounts pursuant to the Priority of Payments. The Servicer agrees not to cause the filing of a petition in bankruptcy against the Issuer for the nonpayment of the fees or other amounts payable by the Administrative Agent to the Servicer under the Servicing Agreement until the payment in full of all Notes issued under this Indenture and the payment to the Preference Shares Paying Agent of all amounts payable with respect to the Preference Shares in accordance with the Priority of Payments and the expiration of a period equal to the greater of (A) the applicable preference period plus one day or (B) one year and one day following the payment. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Servicer may commence any legal action that is not a bankruptcy, insolvency, liquidation or similar proceeding against the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or any of their properties and may take any action it deems appropriate at any time in any bankruptcy, insolvency, liquidation or similar proceeding and any other Proceeding voluntarily commenced by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or involuntarily commenced against the Issuer or the Co-Issuer by anyone other than the Servicer or any Affiliate of the Servicer.

(vi) the Servicer irrevocably submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of any New York State or federal court sitting in the Borough of Manhattan in The City of New York in any action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Notes, the Preference Shares or this Indenture, and the Servicer irrevocably agrees that all claims in respect of the action or proceeding may be heard and determined in the New York State or federal court. The Servicer irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent it may legally do so, the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of the action or proceeding. The Servicer irrevocably consents to the service of all process in any action or proceeding by the mailing or delivery of copies of the process to it the address provided for in Section 14.3. The Servicer agrees that a final and non-appealable judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction in any such action or proceeding shall be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by law.

(g) Following the resignation or removal of the Servicer, the Issuer shall use its best efforts to appoint a successor Servicer, and the Issuer, the Trustee, and the resigning or removed Servicer shall take any action consistent with the Servicing Agreement and this Indenture applicable to the Servicer, necessary to effectuate any such succession.

(h) (i) The Issuer may, at the request of the Servicer, enter into an amendment or modification of the Servicing Agreement from time to time, without the consent of the Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not the interests of the Holders of the Securities are adversely affected thereby; provided that, with respect to any such amendment or modification, (a) a Rating Condition is satisfied and (b) a Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes or a Majority of the Holders of the Preference Shares have not objected in writing to such amendment or modification prior to the relevant Objection Cut-Off Date (as defined below).

(ii) If at any time the Servicer desires to amend or modify the Servicing Agreement, the Servicer shall notify the Issuer and the Trustee, providing details of such proposed amendment or modification. Not later than five Business Days after receipt of such notice, the Trustee shall mail such notice to (a) each Noteholder at such Holder's address in the Indenture Register or otherwise in accordance with the rules and procedures of the Depository, Euroclear and Clearstream, as applicable, (b) to the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of Preference Shares) and (c) to each Rating Agency. If any Holder of the Controlling Class of Notes or any Holder of the Preference Shares notifies, by delivering a written notice to the Trustee within 35 days after the Trustee has mailed such notice, that it objects to such proposed amendment or modification, the Trustee shall, within two Business Days after receiving such notice of objection, mail a notice of the receipt of such objection to the Issuer, the Servicer and other Holders of the Controlling Class of Notes and other Holders of the Preference Shares. Each Holder of the Controlling Class of Notes and each Holder of the Preference Shares that also wishes to object to such amendment or modification must, by delivering a written notice, so notify the Trustee within seven Business Days after the Trustee has mailed such notice of the receipt of such objection (the last day of such seven Business Day period, the "Objection Cut-Off Date"). If a Majority of either the Controlling Class of Notes or the Preference Shares notifies the Trustee in writing on or before the Objection Cut-Off Date that they object to the proposed amendment or modification to the Servicing Agreement, such amendment or modification shall not be made.

Section 15.2. Hedge Agreements.

(a) At any time and from time to time on or after the Closing Date, the Issuer, at the direction of the Servicer and with the consent of a Majority of the Controlling Class, shall enter into the Hedge Agreements and shall assign its rights (but none of its obligations) under the Hedge Agreements to the Trustee pursuant to this Indenture. The Trustee shall, on behalf of the Issuer and in accordance with the Valuation Report, pay amounts due to the Hedge Counterparties under the Hedge Agreements on any Payment Date in accordance with Section 11.1.

(b) The Issuer shall not enter into any Hedge Agreement unless at the time of entering the Hedge Agreement the Hedge Counterparty has:

(i) a debt rating by Moody's for long-term debt of "A1" or higher if the Hedge Counterparty has only a long-term rating; or a debt rating by Moody's for long-term debt of

"A2" or higher and a debt rating by Moody's for short-term debt of "P-1" if the Hedge Counterparty has both long-term and short-term ratings; and

(ii) a short-term debt rating by S&P of not less than "A-1" or, if the Hedge Counterparty does not have a short-term debt rating by S&P, a long-term debt rating of not less than "A+" (the "Required Rating").

(c) If at any time a Hedge Counterparty does not have the Required Rating, then the Hedge Counterparty shall be required, at its sole expense, to, within the applicable period specified in the related Hedge Agreement, either:

(i) post collateral with the Trustee to secure the Hedge Counterparty's obligations under the Hedge Agreement, in an amount and of the type specified under the relevant Hedge Agreement (which such Hedge Agreement shall specify that the sufficiency of collateral to be posted shall be subject to Rating Confirmation by S&P); provided that the Hedge Counterparty shall, at the time such collateral is first posted, deliver to the Issuer, the Trustee and the Rating Agencies an Opinion of Counsel of nationally recognized standing in the jurisdiction in which the Hedge Counterparty is incorporated confirming that such collateral will be available in a timely manner upon a bankruptcy of the Hedge Counterparty;

(ii) obtain a guarantor that has a short-term debt rating by S&P of not less than "A-1" and otherwise has the Required Rating, subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition; or provided that failure to take any such steps set forth under paragraphs (i) through (iii) above within 30 days shall be treated as an "Additional Termination Event" under such Hedge Agreement.

(d) If at any time the Hedge Counterparty has (x) no short-term Moody's rating and a long-term Moody's that is below "A3" or (y) both a short-term and long-term Moody's rating and either the long-term Moody's rating that is below "A3" or the short-term Moody's rating that is below "P-2", then the Hedge Counterparty shall be required, at its sole expense, to, within the applicable period specified in the related Hedge Agreement, either:

(i) obtain a guarantor that has the Required Rating, subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition; or

(ii) replace itself under the related or substantially equivalent Hedge Agreement with a substitute Hedge Counterparty that has the Required Rating, subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition; provided that failure to take any such steps set forth under paragraphs (i) and (ii) above shall be treated as an "Additional Termination Event" under such Hedge Agreement.

(e) If at any time the Hedge Counterparty has a long-term unsecured debt rating by S&P below "BBB-", then the Hedge Counterparty shall be required, within 10 days, to replace itself under the related or substantially equivalent Hedge Agreement with a substitute Hedge Counterparty that has the Required Rating, subject to satisfaction of the Rating Condition; provided that failure to do so shall be treated as an "Additional Termination Event" under such Hedge Agreement.

(f) Whenever the Issuer enters into a Hedge Agreement, the Hedge Counterparty thereto shall comply with the then currently applicable rating criteria of each Rating Agency from time to time.

(g) If the Issuer has the right under a Hedge Agreement at any time to demand that the related Hedge Counterparty deliver Eligible Collateral in accordance with an Approved Credit Support Document, the Issuer shall make the demand.

(h) Any payments required to be made under the Hedge Agreements shall be made in accordance with the Priority of Payments. Subordinated Defaulted Hedge Termination Payments shall be subordinate to interest and principal payments on the Notes and any other payments required to be made by the Issuer under the Hedge Agreements, but senior to distributions to Holders of the Preference Shares.

(i) Except as provided in paragraph (i) of this Section 15.2, the Issuer, at the direction of the Servicer, shall, promptly following the early termination of a Hedge Agreement (other than on a Redemption Date) (but no later than 60 days after the early termination), and to the extent possible through application of Hedge Termination Receipts, enter into a Replacement Hedge, unless, in the exercise of the Servicer's commercially reasonable judgment, to do so would not be in the best interest of the Issuer and the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect to the non-entry into the a Replacement Hedge. In addition, a Replacement Hedge may not be entered into unless the Issuer provides the Rating Agencies with at least seven Business Days' prior written notice of its intention to enter into the agreement, together with its form and the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect to the Replacement Hedge. The Issuer shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the termination of a Hedge Agreement (other than a termination resulting from the bankruptcy, insolvency, or similar event with respect to the Hedge Counterparty) to become effective simultaneously with its entering into a Replacement Hedge. To the extent that (i) the Servicer determines not to replace the Hedge Agreement and the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect to the determination or (ii) termination is occurring on a Redemption Date, the Hedge Termination Receipts shall become part of Principal Proceeds and be distributed in accordance with Section 11.1 on the next following Payment Date (or on the Redemption Date, if the Notes are redeemed on the Redemption Date).

(j) Notwithstanding Section 15.2(i), the applicable requirements of Section 15.2(i) shall not have to be met if the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is otherwise satisfied with respect thereto.

(k) The notional amounts of the Hedge Agreements outstanding at any time may be reduced or increased from time to time, by the Issuer, and the Hedge Agreements may be amended, modified or terminated in accordance with the Hedge Agreements if the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied with respect to the reduction, increase, amendment, modification or termination, as the case may be.

(l) Each Hedge Agreement may be terminated pursuant to its terms by the Hedge Counterparty upon an Optional Redemption of the Notes (but only after the applicable notice of redemption may no longer be withdrawn pursuant to Section 9.03), an acceleration of maturity of the Notes followed by the liquidation of any or all of the Collateral after an Event of Default or the entry into certain amendments to the Indenture without the consent of the Hedge Counterparty. The Hedge Agreement will not be permitted to be terminated by the Issuer as the result of a Default or Event of Default unless any acceleration of maturity of the Notes resulting from the Event of Default is no longer permitted to be rescinded pursuant to this Indenture.

(m) Except for Hedge Agreements entered into on or before the Closing Date, the Issuer shall not enter into any Hedge Agreement unless the Rating Condition with respect to each Rating Agency is satisfied.

PREFERENCE SHARES PAYING AGENCY AGREEMENT

As of May 31, 2007

Investors Bank & Trust Company,
as Preference Shares Paying Agent
Corporate Trust Office – Westchester CLO, Ltd.
200 Clarendon Street
Mailcode: EUC 108
Boston, MA 02116

Maples Finance Limited, as Share Registrar
P.O. Box 1093GT, Queensgate House
South Church Street, George Town
Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Westchester CLO, Ltd., a company existing under the laws of the Cayman Islands (the “Issuer”) and Westchester CLO Corp., a Delaware corporation (the “Co-Issuer” and, together with the Issuer, the “Co-Issuers”), have resolved to appoint Investors Bank & Trust Company (“Investors Bank”), as preference shares paying agent (the “Preference Shares Paying Agent”) for the Class I Preference Shares and the Class II Preference Shares issued by the Issuer (collectively, the “Preference Shares”) and Maples Finance Limited as share registrar (the “Share Registrar”) for the shares (including the Preference Shares) issued by the Issuer. The Issuer hereby appoints Investors Bank as such under the terms set forth below and confirms Investor Bank’s agreement to distribute any funds to be paid to the Holders of the Preference Shares pursuant to the Priority of Payments set forth in the Indenture (as defined herein). Reference is also made to the indenture, dated as of May 31, 2007, among the Issuer, the Co-Issuer and Investors Bank, as trustee (the “Indenture”). Capitalized terms used and not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings assigned thereto in the Indenture or, if not defined therein, certain resolutions passed at a meeting of the Issuer’s Board of Directors that was held on May 30, 2007, as reflected in the minutes thereof, including Annex A (“Annex A”) therein (the “Resolutions” and, together with this Agreement and the Issuer’s Memorandum and Articles of Association, the “Preference Share Documents”). The Preference Shares will be issued, and may be transferred, subject to the procedures set forth in Annex A to the Resolutions the terms of which are incorporated hereto.

On the Closing Date, (i) all of the Class I Preference Shares will be offered and sold directly by the Issuer to Lehman Brothers Inc. and Lehman Brothers International (Europe) (together, the “Initial Purchasers”), and (ii) all of the Class II Preference Shares will be offered and sold by the Issuer directly to Highland Financial Partners, L.P. (“HFP”) (an Affiliate of the Servicer) and/or one or more of its subsidiaries.

Section 1. Notice of Distribution to Directors. The Preference Shares Paying Agent, promptly after receipt of the Valuation Report, shall forward or make available to the directors of the Issuer (as identified to it by the Issuer) the Valuation Report which identifies the Interest Proceeds and Principal Proceeds, payable to the Holders of the Preference Shares on the applicable Payment Date.

Section 2. Payments of Dividends and Other Distributions, Amounts Not Distributable. (a) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall, subject to paragraphs (b), (c), (d) and (e) below, pay or cause to be paid, on behalf of the Issuer on each applicable Payment Date, the Interest Proceeds and Principal Proceeds received from the Trustee to the Holders of the Preference Shares as a distribution of dividend on such Payment Date. Such distributions of Interest Proceeds and Principal Proceeds by way of dividend to the Holders of Preference Shares shall be paid pro rata in the proportion that the number of Preference Shares held by each such Holder bears to the total number of Preference Shares. The Issuer, or the Share Registrar on its behalf, shall provide the Preference Shares Paying Agent with a copy of the Preference Share register on the Closing Date and thereafter, the Share Registrar will promptly notify the Preference Shares Paying Agent of any changes to the Preference Share register. The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall notify the Issuer and the Share Registrar of any transfers of Preference Shares known to it.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, distributions of Interest Proceeds and Principal Proceeds by way of dividend to the Holders of Preference Shares on any Payment Date shall (i) be subject to the Issuer being solvent under Cayman Islands law (defined as the Issuer being able to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of business) immediately prior to, and after giving effect to, such payment as determined by the Issuer and (ii) be made only to the extent that the Issuer has sufficient distributable profits and/or share premium out of which to make such payment as determined by the Issuer. If the Issuer determines that the conditions set forth in either clause (i) or (ii) above are not satisfied with respect to any portion of Interest Proceeds or Principal Proceeds payable on such Payment Date, the Issuer shall instruct the Preference Shares Paying Agent in writing not later than one Business Day prior to such Payment Date that such portion of Interest Proceeds or Principal Proceeds, as applicable, should not be paid, and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not pay the same, to the Holders of the Preference Shares until the first succeeding Payment Date, or (in the case of any payments which would otherwise be payable on the Redemption Date or any Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date) until the first succeeding Business Day, upon which the Issuer notifies the Preference Shares Paying Agent in writing that each such condition is satisfied, at which time the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall distribute such amounts. To the extent available, distributions shall be made first out of distributable profits for the current Due Period, then out of distributable profits in excess of dividends for prior Due Periods and then out of share premium.

(c) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, distributions of the Redemption Price by way of redemption of the Preference Shares shall be subject to the Issuer being solvent under Cayman Islands law (defined as the Issuer being able to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of business) immediately prior to, and after giving effect to, such distribution as determined by the Issuer. For purposes of this subsection (c), a determination as to whether the Issuer is solvent on the Redemption Date shall be made by the Issuer (A) after giving effect to any payments to be made on such Redemption Date and (B) in light of the fact that the obligations of the Issuer to the Holders of the Notes, the other Secured Parties and the other Persons subject to the Priority of Payments are limited in recourse to the Collateral, and not to amounts (i) in the Preference Shares Distribution Account, (ii) any other amounts released from the Collateral in accordance with the Indenture and held by or on behalf of the Issuer for the benefit of the Holders of the Preference Shares or (iii) amounts on deposit in the Issuer's bank account in the Cayman Islands, and that after the assets in the Collateral are exhausted, such parties will have no further claim against the Issuer. If the Issuer determines that such condition is not satisfied on a Redemption Date with respect to any portion of the Redemption Price, the Issuer shall instruct the Preference Shares Paying Agent in writing not later than one Business Day prior to such Redemption Date that such portion should not be distributed, and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not distribute the same, to the Holders of the Preference Shares until the first succeeding Business Day upon which the Issuer notifies the Preference Shares Paying Agent in writing that such condition is satisfied, and the amounts so retained in the Preference Shares Distribution Account will be held therein until such amounts are paid.

(d) On each Payment Date, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall distribute, on behalf of the Issuer, amounts, if any, received by it from the Trustee, which are then on deposit in the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account pursuant to Section 10.3(j) of the Indenture for payment pro rata to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares as the Class II Preference Share Special Payment.

(e) Dividends to the Holders of the Preference Shares (other than Class II Preference Share Special Payments) may be paid, in whole or in part on any Payment Date, with any Eligible Equity Securities held by, or on behalf of, the Issuer at such time in lieu of a distribution of Interest Proceeds. The Servicer, on behalf the Issuer, shall have the right to direct the Trustee to distribute any Eligible Equity Securities pro rata to the Consenting Holders of the Preference Shares (as identified to the Trustee by the Preference Shares Paying Agent) with respect to such Payment Date to the extent that the Market Value of such Eligible Equity Securities (determined by the Servicer as of the relevant Market Value Determination Date) is equal to or lower than the aggregate amount of Interest Proceeds that would otherwise be due and payable on such Payment Date to such Consenting Holders of the Preference Shares. Interest Proceeds in an amount equal to the Market Value of such Eligible Equity Securities (determined by the Servicer as of the relevant Market Value Determination Date) distributed to the Consenting Holders of the Preference Shares with respect to any such Payment Date shall be treated for all purposes by the Issuer and the Servicer as Principal Proceeds available for distribution on the relevant Payment Date. The amount of Interest Proceeds available on the relevant Payment Date shall be reduced and the amount of Principal Proceeds available on the relevant Payment Date shall be increased accordingly.

(f) Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, the Holders of the Preference Shares acknowledge and agree for the benefit of the Holders of the Notes that the rights of the Holders of the Preference Shares to distributions by the Issuer and in and to the assets of the Issuer in respect of such Preference Shares, shall be subordinate and junior to the Notes, to the extent and in the manner set forth in the Indenture including as set forth in Section 11.1 thereof and as required by law. If any Event of Default has occurred and has not been cured or waived and acceleration occurs in accordance with Article V of the Indenture, the Notes shall be paid in full in Cash before any further payment or distribution is made on account of the Preference Shares. The Holders of the Preference Shares agree, for the benefit of the Holders of the Notes, not to cause the filing of a petition in bankruptcy against the Issuer for failure to pay to them amounts due under the Articles or hereunder in respect of the Preference Shares or payable under the Indenture prior to the date which is one year and one day (or, if longer, the applicable preference period) after the payment in full of principal of and interest on the Notes.

(g) In the event that notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement or the Indenture, any Holder of any Preference Shares shall have received any payment or distribution in respect of such Preference Shares contrary to the provisions of this Agreement, the Articles or the Indenture, then, unless and until (i) the Class A-1-A Notes, (ii) the Class A-1-B Notes, (iii) the Class B Notes, (iv) the Class C Notes, (v) the Class D Notes and (vi) the Class E Notes shall have been paid in full in Cash in accordance with the Indenture, such payment or distribution shall be received and held in trust for the benefit of, and shall forthwith be paid over and delivered to, the Trustee, for payment and delivery of the same to the Holders of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes or the Class E Notes, as the case may be, in accordance with the Indenture; provided, however, that if any such payment or distribution is made other than in Cash, it shall be paid over and delivered to the Trustee such that it may be held by the Trustee as part of the Collateral pursuant to, and subject in all respects to, the provisions of the Indenture, including Section 13.1 thereof.

Section 3. Payments and Redemption. (a) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall make payments or distributions (other than distributions of Eligible Equity Securities) to each registered Holder on the relevant Record Date (as set out in Annex A to the Resolutions) by wire transfer in immediately available funds to a U.S. Dollar account maintained by such Holder as notified to the Preference Shares Paying Agent or, in the absence of such notification, by U.S. Dollar check mailed to such Holder at its address of record. The Issuer shall, or shall procure that the Share Registrar will, provide the Preference Shares Paying Agent with all relevant information regarding the registered Holders of the Preference Shares as the Preference Shares Paying Agent may reasonably require to the extent such information is in possession or control of the Issuer or Share Registrar.

(b) If the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, desires to make distributions of Eligible Equity Securities on any Payment Date in lieu of Interest Proceeds that are otherwise available for distribution to the Holders of Preference Shares on such Payment Date pursuant to the Priority Payments as described in Section 2(e) above, the Servicer will notify the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent pursuant to the Servicing Agreement not later than 20 calendar days prior to such Payment Date and provide the Trustee, the Issuer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding on the Record Date or promptly thereafter, but in no event later than two Business Days after the Record Date, to each Holder of the Preference Shares registered as such on the Record Date for such Payment Date) with (i) details of the Eligible Equity Securities to be distributed, (ii) the Market Value of such Eligible Equity Securities determined as of the relevant Market Value Determination Date, (iii) any other information considered necessary by the Servicer in connection with such proposed distribution and (iv) any information as otherwise required by the Trustee and/or the Preference Shares Paying Agent with respect to such proposed distribution. The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall then mail such materials, within two Business Days of its receipt thereof from the Servicer, to each registered Holder of Preference Shares on the Record Date for such Payment Date along with a form of notice and consent (in a form attached hereto in Schedule I) seeking the written consent of each such Holder of Preference Shares to distribute such Eligible Equity Securities to such Holder in lieu of all or a portion of the Interest Proceeds available for distribution to such Holder on such Payment Date. Each Holder of the Preference Shares wishing to receive such Eligible Equity Securities in lieu of a distribution of all or a portion of the Interest Proceeds available for distribution to such Holder on such applicable Payment Date (each such Holder with respect to such Payment Date, a “Consenting Holder of the Preference Shares”) is required to deliver to the Preference Shares Paying Agent a written consent (which consent will be irrevocable) no later than five Business Days prior to such Payment Date. If any Holder of Preference Shares does not timely deliver its written consent to the Preference Shares Paying Agent in the manner set forth in such notice indicating its consent to the receipt of such Eligible Equity Securities in lieu of a distribution of all or a portion of the Interest Proceeds available for distribution to such Holder on such Payment Date, such Holder shall be deemed to have not given its consent and shall not be a Consenting Holder of Preference Shares with respect to such Payment Date. On each applicable Payment Date (or as soon thereafter as reasonably practicable), Eligible Equity Securities shall be distributed pro rata to each Consenting Holder of the Preference Shares with respect to such Payment Date. Each Holder of Preference Shares that is not a Consenting Holder of the Preference Shares (and, for the avoidance of doubt, each Consenting Holder of the Preference Shares to the extent the Market Value as of the relevant Market Value Determination Date of the pro rata portion of Eligible Equity Securities distributed to it on such Payment Date is less than the pro rata portion of the Interest Proceeds that it would have received on such Payment Date had the Eligible Equity Securities not been distributed on such Payment Date) on any applicable Payment Date shall receive a distribution of Interest Proceeds to the extent available in accordance with the Priority of Payments on such Payment Date in accordance with Section 2(e) herein and the Indenture.

(c) The Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not be obligated to pay any additional amounts to Holders or beneficial owners of the Preference Shares as a result of any withholding or deduction for, or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges. As a condition to payment of any amount, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, on behalf of the Issuer, may require certification acceptable to it to enable the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent to determine their duties and liabilities with respect to any taxes or other charges that they may be required to deduct or withhold from payments or distributions in respect of Preference Shares under any present or future law or regulation of the United States or any present or future law or regulation of any political subdivision thereof or taxing authority therein or to comply with any reporting or other requirements under such law or regulation. Amounts properly withheld under the Code by any Person from a payment or distribution to a Holder of Preference Shares shall be considered as having been paid by the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent to such Holder for all purposes herein. The Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent hereby provide notice to each Holder or beneficial owner of the Preference Shares that the failure to provide the Preference Shares Paying Agent with appropriate tax certifications will result in amounts being withheld from payments to such Holders or beneficial owners of the Preference Shares under this Agreement (provided that amounts withheld pursuant to applicable tax laws shall be considered as having been paid by the Issuer as provided herein).

(d) The Issuer, the Share Registrar and the Preference Shares Paying Agent may deem and treat the Holder of any Preference Shares as the absolute owner of such Preference Shares, notwithstanding any notation of ownership or other writing on any certificate representing such Preference Shares, for the purpose of paying dividends and other distributions thereon, and for all other purposes, and none of the Issuer, the Share Registrar or the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be affected by any notice to the contrary. All such payments (including distributions of Eligible Equity Securities) so made to such Holder or upon such Holder's order shall be valid and, to the extent of the sum or sums so paid, effectual to satisfy and discharge the liability for the monies payable upon any such Preference Share.

(e) All payments by the Preference Shares Paying Agent hereunder shall be made without charging any commission or fee to the Holders of the Preference Shares.

(f) On the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date, the Issuer shall redeem the Preference Shares for a redemption price equal to all amounts distributable to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for distribution to the Holders of the Preference Shares pursuant to the Priority of Payments set forth in the Indenture, unless the Preference Shares have been redeemed earlier through an optional redemption or otherwise. Upon final payment due on the Preference Shares (whether on the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date or any earlier Redemption Date), the Holder thereof shall present and surrender the certificates, if any, representing the Preference Shares at the office of the Preference Shares Paying Agent on or prior to such final payment date. On the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date, all payments on redemption of Preference Shares to the Holders of the Preference Shares shall be made pro rata in accordance with their respective holdings.

Notice of final payment of the Preference Shares pursuant to an optional redemption in conjunction with an optional redemption of the Notes shall be given as set forth in Section 9.3 of the Indenture. Notice of any other final payment shall be given by the Preference Shares Paying Agent by first-class mail, postage prepaid, mailed not later than 10 Business Days nor earlier than 30 days before the applicable Redemption Date to each Holder of Preference Shares at such Holder's address as set forth in the Preference Share register.

All notices of redemption shall state:

(i) the Redemption Date on which the Preference Shares are to be redeemed;

(ii) the applicable Redemption Price for the Preference Shares being redeemed;

(iii) the place or places where such Preference Shares to be redeemed are to be surrendered for payment of the applicable Redemption Price, which shall be the office of the Preference Shares Paying Agent; and

(iv) in the case of an optional redemption, the latest possible date upon which such notice of redemption may be withdrawn.

The Issuer shall have the option to withdraw any such notice of redemption up to the fourth Business Day before the scheduled Redemption Date by written notice to the Trustee, the Servicer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of the Preference Shares) in each case only if either (i) in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(a) of the Indenture, the Servicer does not deliver the sale agreement or certifications required under the Indenture (as described in Section 9.3(c) and 12.1(f) of the Indenture), as the case may be, in form satisfactory to the Trustee, (ii) in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(a) or Section 9.2(b)(i) of the Indenture, the Issuer receives the written direction of a Majority of the Preference Shares to withdraw the notice of redemption and (iii) in the case of a redemption pursuant to Section 9.2(b)(ii) of the Indenture, the Issuer receives the unanimous written direction of the Holders of the Preference Shares to withdraw the notice of redemption (and the Issuer thereby agrees for the benefit of the directing person to withdraw the applicable notice of redemption if it receives the written direction referred to in the preceding clause (ii) or this clause (iii)). Notice of any such withdrawal shall be delivered pursuant to Section 9.3 of the Indenture.

Failure to give notice of redemption, or any defect therein, to the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to the Holders of the Preference Shares) shall not impair or affect the validity of the redemption of any other Preference Shares.

(g) On any Payment Date on or after payment in full of the Notes, so long as all administrative fees and expenses and other fees (without regard to any payment limitations) payable under the Priority of Payments (including the Senior Servicing Fee and the Subordinated Servicing Fee), all amounts owing under the Indenture and all amounts owing under the Indenture and any Hedge Agreement to any Hedge Counterparty have been discharged:

(i) at the direction of a Majority of the Preference Shares, the Issuer shall cause the Trustee to make payments in redemption of all of the Preference Shares, in an aggregate amount equal to all of the proceeds from the sale or other disposition of all of the remaining Collateral less any fees and expenses owed by the Issuer (including the Redemption Price of any Notes being simultaneously redeemed), the aggregate amount to be distributed to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for distribution to the Holders of the Preference Shares pro rata in accordance with their respective holdings; or

(ii) at the unanimous direction of the Holders of the Preference Shares, voting as a single Class or group, the Issuer shall cause the Trustee to make payments in redemption of all or a directed portion (representing less than all) of the Preference Shares to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for distribution to the Holders of the Preference Shares based upon such direction.

(h) If any Holder of Preference Shares desires to direct the Issuer to optionally redeem the Notes in accordance with Section 9.2(a) of the Indenture, such Holder shall notify the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Issuer, and the Servicer not later than 45 days before the Payment Date on which the redemption is to be made. If the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Trustee and the Issuer receive notice from one or more Holders of Preference Shares holding less than a Majority of the Preference Shares, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall, within five Business Days of receipt of such notice, notify the Holders of the Preference Shares (i) of the receipt of such notice and (ii) that any Holder of Preference Shares may join in directing an optional redemption by notifying the Issuer, the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent in writing within five Business Days after such Holder's receipt of the Preference Shares Paying Agent's Notice. If the Holders of at least a Majority of the Preference Shares direct the Issuer to optionally redeem the Notes, the Issuer shall effect an Optional Redemption of the Notes pursuant to the procedures described in the Indenture.

(i) If any Holder of Preference Shares desires to direct the Issuer to optionally redeem the Preference Shares after the redemption or repayment of the Notes and in accordance with paragraphs (g)(i) and (ii) above, such Holder shall notify the Preference Shares Paying Agent not later than 30 Business Days (or with the Servicer's consent, not later than 20 Business Days) prior to the proposed Redemption Date (which must be a Payment Date). Upon receiving such notice, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall promptly (and in no event later than two Business Days thereafter) notify the Issuer and each Holder of the Preference Shares thereof. Each Holder of Preference Shares that also wishes to direct the Issuer to optionally redeem the Preference Shares must so notify the Preference Shares Paying Agent (who shall promptly notify the Issuer and the Servicer of such direction) within 20 Business Days after receipt of such notice. If the aggregate number of Preference Shares that have directed the Issuer to optionally redeem the Preference Shares equals or exceeds the minimum threshold set forth in paragraphs (g)(i) and (ii) above, the Issuer shall effect an optional redemption of the Preference Shares pursuant to the procedures described in the Preference Share Documents. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Preference Shares must be redeemed on or prior to the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date. The Preference Shares shall be redeemed from the proceeds of any Collateral remaining after giving effect to the redemption or repayment of the Notes and payment in full of all expenses of the Co-Issuers.

(j) If the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, proposes a Refinancing in accordance with Section 9.7(a) of the Indenture by notice to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall promptly upon receipt of such notice (and in no event later than two Business Days thereafter) notify each Holder of Preference Shares thereof. Each Holder of Preference Shares that wishes to consent to such Refinancing will deliver such consent to the Preference Shares Paying Agent in writing no later than 15 days prior to the Refinancing Date. Upon receipt of such consents, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall immediately notify the Servicer whether or not the Holders of a Majority of the Preference Shares have consented to such Refinancing.

Section 4. Preference Shares Distribution Account. (a) On or prior to the Closing Date, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall establish a single, segregated non-interest bearing trust account that shall be designated as the "Preference Shares Distribution Account" (the "Preference Shares Distribution Account") that shall be held in trust in the name of the Preference Shares Paying Agent for the benefit of the Issuer, over which the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall have exclusive control and the sole right of withdrawal. The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall cause the Trustee to make any payment pursuant to the Priority of Payments by wire transfer (or by internal transfer if the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent are the same Person) to the Preference Shares Distribution Account in immediately available funds. All sums received by the Preference Shares Paying Agent from the Trustee or the Issuer for payment of dividends or other distributions (other than the Class II Preference Share Special Payments) or the Redemption Price in respect of the Preference Shares shall be deposited promptly in the Preference Shares Distribution Account until the first Payment Date or, in the case of the payment of the Redemption Price in respect of the Preference Shares, the first Business Day, on which, in either case, the Issuer notifies the Preference Shares Paying Agent that such distribution can be made to the Holders of the Preference Shares in accordance with Section 2. The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall then apply such funds as provided for in Section 3. All sums payable by the Preference Shares Paying Agent hereunder shall be paid out of the Preference Shares Distribution Account.

(b) Notwithstanding anything herein, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not incur any personal liability to pay amounts due to Holders of the Preference Shares and shall only be required to make payments or other distributions (including the Redemption Price thereof) if there are sufficient monies in the Preference Shares Distribution Account to make such payments or other distributions.

(c) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall have no right of set off with respect to amounts on deposit in the Preference Shares Distribution Account.

(d) Amounts on deposit in the Preference Shares Distribution Account that are not paid out may be deposited in an interest-bearing account as directed in writing by the Issuer.

Section 5. Unclaimed Payments. Except as otherwise required by applicable law, any money deposited with the Preference Shares Paying Agent and held in the Preference Shares Distribution Account or otherwise held for payment on any Preference Share and remaining unclaimed for two years after such payment has become due and payable shall be paid to the Issuer upon Issuer Request; and the Holder of such Preference Share shall thereafter look only to the Issuer for payment of such amounts and all liability of the Preference Shares Paying Agent with respect to such money (but only to the extent of the amounts so paid to the Issuer) shall thereupon cease. The Preference Shares Paying Agent, before being required to make any such release of payment, may, but shall not be required to, adopt and employ, at the expense of the Issuer any reasonable means of notification of such release of payment, including, but not limited to, arranging with the Share Registrar for the Share Registrar to mail notice of such release to Holders of Preference Shares whose right to or interest in monies due and payable but not claimed is determinable from the records of the Issuer or Preference Shares Paying Agent, as applicable, at the last address of record of each such Holder.

Section 6. Additional Issuance of Preference Shares. (a) At any time during the Replacement Period, the Issuer may issue and sell additional Preference Shares and use the proceeds from such issuance and sale to purchase additional Collateral Obligations or as otherwise permitted under the Preference Share Documents and the Indenture; provided that the following conditions are met: (i) the terms of the Preference Shares issued shall be identical to the terms of previously issued Preference Shares and (ii) the net proceeds of any additional Preference Shares shall be used to purchase additional Collateral Obligations. Such additional Preference Shares may be offered and sold at prices that differ from the initial offering prices of the outstanding Preference Shares; provided that the initial offering prices of additional Preference Shares shall not be below 100% of the face amount thereof. The Issuer shall cause purchases of additional Preference Shares made pursuant to an additional issuance of Preference Shares to comply individually and in the aggregate with the applicable purchase and transfer restrictions for the Preference Shares set forth herein in Section 9 and all applicable laws, rules and regulations (including, without limitation, any rules, regulations and procedures of any securities exchange, self-regulatory organization or clearing agency).

(b) Any additional Preference Shares issued shall, to the extent reasonably practicable, be offered by the Issuer first to the existing Holders of the Preference Shares, in such amounts as are necessary to preserve their pro rata holdings of the Preference Shares.

Section 7. Purchase and Redesignation of Preference Shares. (a) Each Holder or beneficial owner of a Preference Share, by its ownership of such Preference Share, acknowledges and agrees that each Non-Consenting Holder of Preference Shares with respect to an amendment of the Indenture (which includes Holders that fail to respond to a consent solicitation within the applicable period) will be forced to sell its applicable Preference Shares pursuant to Section 9.6 of the Indenture, whereby the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser is permitted to purchase the Preference Shares held by any such Non-Consenting Holder thereof at the applicable Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price; provided that if any Non-Consenting Holder holds Class II Preference Shares, such Non-Consenting Holder will sell such Class II Preference Shares to the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser, and such Preference Shares will be redesignated as Class I Preference Shares.

(b) Each Holder or beneficial owner of a Preference Share will have the right to sell such Preference Share to an Extension Qualifying Purchaser upon a Maturity Extension pursuant to Section 2.4 of the Indenture at the applicable Extension Purchase Price and absent such sale shall be subject to an extension of the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date as set forth in the Indenture and the other aspects of a Maturity Extension under the Indenture; provided that if any Non-Consenting Holder holds Class II Preference Shares, such Non-Consenting Holder will sell such Class II Preference Shares to the Extension Qualifying Purchaser, and such Preference Shares will be redesignated as Class I Preference Shares.

(c) The Share Registrar will record in the register maintained by it those Preference Shares which it has been notified in writing are held by HFP or any of its subsidiaries. Such Preference Shares shall be designated by the Share Registrar on behalf of the Issuer as Class II Preference Shares. The Share Registrar on behalf of the Issuer will redesignate (i) Class II Preference Shares as Class I Preference Shares upon any transfer of such Class II Preference Shares by HFP or any of its subsidiaries to any Person other than HFP or any of its subsidiaries and (ii) Class I Preference Shares as Class II Preference Shares upon any transfer of Class I Preference Shares to HFP or any of its subsidiaries.

Section 8. Execution, Delivery and Dating. The certificates (if required by the Resolutions) relating to the Preference Shares shall be executed on behalf of the Issuer as provided for in the Memorandum and Articles of Association.

At any time and from time to time after the execution and delivery of this Agreement, the Issuer may deliver Preference Share certificates (the “Preference Share Certificates”) executed by the Issuer to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, and the Preference Shares Paying Agent, upon Issuer Order, shall deliver such Preference Share Certificates as provided in this Agreement and not otherwise.

Each Preference Share Certificate delivered by the Preference Shares Paying Agent to or upon Issuer Order on the Closing Date shall be dated the Closing Date. All other Preference Share Certificates that are delivered after the Closing Date for any other purpose under this Agreement shall be dated the date of their delivery.

Section 9. Registration and Registration of Transfer. (a) When the Preference Shares Paying Agent receives a request for transfer of Preference Shares, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall comply with its obligations as set forth in Section 5 of Annex A to the Resolutions.

(b) No transfer of the Preference Shares shall be registered if such transfer will result in persons that have represented that they are Benefit Plan Investors (as defined below) owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of either the Class I Preference Shares or the Class II Preference Shares immediately after such transfer (excluding for purposes of such determination any Preference Shares held by any Controlling Person (as defined below) and its affiliates (such as the Preference Shares held by the Servicer or its affiliates) that is not also a Benefit Plan Investor) determined in accordance with Section 3(42) of ERISA and the Plan Asset Regulation issued by the United States Department of Labor and found at 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101 (the “Plan Asset Regulation”). Each purchaser or transferee of a Preference Share will be required to represent and agree whether or not such purchaser is, or is using the assets of, or will at any time throughout its holding and disposition of such Preference Share be or become, (i) an “employee benefit plan” as defined in Section 3(3) of the United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), that is subject to Title I of ERISA, (ii) a “plan” described in Section 4975(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the “Code”), that is subject to Section 4975 of the Code or (iii) any entity whose underlying assets include “plan assets” of any of the foregoing by reason of an investment in the entity by such a plan or arrangement (each, a “Benefit Plan Investor”). In addition, each purchaser or transferee of a Preference Share (other than the Servicer or its affiliates) will be required to represent and agree whether or not it is, or is using the assets of, or will at any time throughout its holding and disposition of such Preference Share be or become the Servicer or any other person that has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the Issuer or a person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to the assets of the Issuer or any “affiliate” (as defined in the Plan Asset Regulation) or any such person (any such person, a “Controlling Person”). If, after a purchaser’s or transferee’s initial acquisition of Preference Shares, the purchaser or transferee determines or the Issuer, the Share Registrar or the Preference Shares Paying Agent obtain actual knowledge that such purchaser or transferee has breached any of the foregoing representations, such purchaser or transferee will dispose of its interest in the Preference Shares in a manner consistent with the requirements set forth in Annex A to the Resolutions. Each purchaser or transferee of a Preference Share will be required to represent that either (i) it is not, and is not acquiring such Preference Share with the assets of, an “employee benefit plan” as defined under Section 3(3) of ERISA and that is subject to Title I of ERISA, any “plan” described in Section 4975(e) of the Code or a foreign, governmental or church plan subject to any federal, state, local or foreign law that is substantially similar to Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (each such plan, a “Covered Plan”) and throughout the holding of such Preference Share, it will not become or transfer its interest to any Covered Plan or to an entity using the assets thereof, or (ii) the acquisition and holding of such Preference Share by the purchaser or transferee, throughout its holding and disposition of such Preference Share, will not result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (or, in the case of a foreign, governmental or church plan, a violation of any substantially similar law), because such purchase, holding and disposition either (x) is not, and will not become, subject to such laws or (y) is covered by an exemption from all applicable prohibited transactions, all of the conditions of which are and will be satisfied upon its acquisition of, and throughout its holding and disposition of, such Preference Share. Each purchaser or transferee of a Preference Share will be required to represent and agree that it will not transfer such Preference Share in violation of any of the foregoing representations and agreements, that any purported transfer that does not comply with such representations and agreements will be null and void ab initio and will vest in the transferee no rights against the Preference Shares Paying Agent or the Issuer, and that such purchaser or transferee, as applicable, and any fiduciary or other Person causing it to acquire such Preference Share shall, to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Preference Share Paying Agent, the Servicer, the Share Registrar, the Initial Purchasers, and their respective affiliates from any cost, damage or loss incurred by them as a result of any transfer in violation of any of the foregoing.

(c) The Preference Shares Paying Agent agrees that, after the initial distribution of the Class E Notes and the Preference Shares, neither it nor any of its affiliates will acquire any Class E Notes or Preference Shares (including pursuant to a Maturity Extension or the Amendment Buy-Out Option) unless such acquisition would not, as determined by the Trustee, result in persons that have represented that they are Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of any of the Class E Notes, the Class I Preference Shares or the Class II Preference Shares immediately after such acquisition (determined in accordance with Section 3(42) of ERISA, the Plan Asset Regulation, the Indenture and the Preference Share Documents). The Class E Notes and the Preference Shares held by the Preference Shares Paying Agent or any of its affiliates (as defined in the Plan Asset Regulation) that have represented that they are Controlling Persons will be disregarded and will not be treated as outstanding for purposes of determining compliance with such 25% limitation to the extent that such person has represented that it is not a Benefit Plan Investor.

(d) Notwithstanding anything else contained herein to the contrary, neither the Preference Shares Paying Agent nor the Share Registrar shall be responsible for ascertaining whether any purchase or transfer complies with the registration provisions of or exemptions from the Securities Act, applicable state laws, the Code, ERISA, the Plan Asset Regulation or the Investment Company Act; provided that if a certificate or other written representation is specifically required by the express terms of this Agreement or Section 5 of Annex A to the Resolutions to be delivered to the Preference Shares Paying Agent by the purchaser or transferee of a Preference Share, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be under a duty to receive and examine the same to determine whether the same substantially conforms on its face with the terms of this Agreement or Section 5 of Annex A to the Resolutions, as applicable, and shall promptly notify the party delivering the same if such certificate does not comply with such terms.

(e) The Issuer shall (and shall cause the Share Registrar to) consult the Preference Shares Paying Agent in connection with all transfers of Preference Shares and shall (and shall cause the Share Registrar to) direct all transferors and transferees to correspond through the Preference Shares Paying Agent. The Share Registrar will not be required to determine whether any proposed transfer, redemption or other transaction in relation to the Preference Shares complies with any restrictions imposed by law or under the terms of the Indenture or the Preference Share Documents but shall be entitled to rely completely in that respect on the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent.

(f) Except as expressly provided herein or as required by this Agreement in connection with the Preference Shares Paying Agent's obligations to the Holders of Preference Shares, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall have no obligation to oversee or participate in any such transfer of Preference Shares.

Section 10. Fees and Indemnification. The fee to be paid in connection with the Preference Shares Paying Agent's appointment and duties as Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be paid pursuant to a letter agreement dated May 31, 2007 between the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Servicer, and the Issuer. The fees payable hereunder shall be paid by the Issuer to the Preference Shares Paying Agent's account as directed by the Preference Shares Paying Agent. The Issuer will indemnify the Preference Shares Paying Agent and its officers, directors, employees and agents, against any loss, liability or expense (including reasonable legal fees and out-of-pocket expenses of counsel) incurred in connection with their appointment and duties hereunder, except such as result from their own gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Preference Shares Paying Agent agrees that such fees and indemnification shall be treated as an Administrative Expense of the Issuer as defined in the Indenture and paid pursuant to the Priority of Payments. Anything in this Agreement notwithstanding, in no event shall the Preference Shares Paying Agent be liable for special, indirect or consequential losses or damages of any kind whatsoever (including but not limited to loss of profits), even if the Preference Shares Paying Agent has been advised of such loss or damage and regardless of the form of action. The obligation of the Issuer to indemnify the Preference Shares Paying Agent under this Section 10 shall survive retirement of the Preference Shares and any resignation or removal of the Preference Shares Paying Agent but shall remain subject to the provisions of Section 23.

Section 11. Liabilities. (a) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not be responsible or accountable to anyone for any reason whatsoever with respect to the validity of this Agreement or of the Preference Shares, or for any act done or omitted by it in good faith, or for anything whatsoever in connection with this Agreement, except for its own gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct in the performance of any duty to be performed by the Preference Shares Paying Agent hereunder.

(b) The Preference Shares Paying Agent may consult as to legal matters with lawyers selected with due care by it, who may be employees of or regular independent counsel to the Issuer, and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be protected from and shall incur no liability for action taken, or suffered to be taken, with respect to such matters in good faith and in accordance with the opinion or advice of such lawyers.

(c) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be protected from and shall incur no liability for or in respect of any action taken or thing suffered by it in reliance upon any Preference Shares, notice, direction, consent, certificate, affidavit, statement or other paper or document reasonably believed by it to be genuine and to have been delivered or signed by the proper parties, except as may result from its own gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct or that of its directors, officers, employees or agents.

(d) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not be under any liability for interest on any money at any time received by it pursuant to any of the provisions of this Agreement, except as otherwise agreed in writing with the Issuer.

(e) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not incur any liability with respect to the validity or value of any of the Preference Shares unless otherwise specified herein.

Section 12. Conflicts. (a) The Preference Shares Paying Agent and its officers, directors and employees may, subject to the restrictions set forth in Section 9(c), become the Holder of, or acquire any interest in, any Preference Shares, with the same rights that it or they would have if it were not the Preference Shares Paying Agent hereunder, or they were not such officers, directors, or employees, and may engage or be interested in any fiscal or other transaction with the Issuer and may act on, or as depository, trustee or agent for, any committee or body of Holders of Preference Shares or other indebtedness of the Issuer as freely as if it were not the Preference Shares Paying Agent hereunder or they were not such officers, directors, or employees.

(b) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be obliged to perform such duties and only such duties as are specifically set forth herein, and no implied duties or obligations shall be read into this Agreement or the Indenture against the Preference Shares Paying Agent. Except for Section 5 of Annex A to the Resolutions (to the extent they do not contradict this Agreement), the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall have no duties under Annex A to the Resolutions. The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not be under any obligation to take any action hereunder that may tend to involve it in any expenses or liability, the payment of which within a reasonable time is not, in its reasonable opinion, assured to it. The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall not be accountable or under any duty or responsibility in case of any default of which the Preference Shares Paying Agent has knowledge by the Issuer in the performance of its obligations contained in the Memorandum and Articles of Association and Annex A to the Resolutions (including, without limitation, any duty or responsibility to initiate or attempt to initiate any proceedings at law or otherwise or to make any demand for payment upon the Issuer).

(c) In acting under this Agreement, the Preference Shares Paying Agent is acting solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligations to, or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the owners or Holders of the Preference Shares. All funds held by the Preference Shares Paying Agent for payment on the Preference Shares shall be held in trust for the Issuer, until paid.

(d) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall, as between itself and the Holders of the Preference Shares, with respect to all the obligations, powers, authorities and discretions, vested in it hereunder and under the Memorandum and Articles of Association and the Resolutions, have absolute and uncontrolled discretion as to the exercise thereof whether in relation to the manner or as to the mode of and time for the exercise thereof and, in the absence of gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct on its part or that of its officers, directors or employees shall be in no way responsible for any loss, costs, damages or inconvenience that may result from the exercise or non-exercise thereof.

Section 13. Amendment. (a) This Agreement may be amended by the parties hereto, without the consent of the Holders of any Preference Shares, for the purpose of curing any ambiguity, or of curing, correcting or supplementing any defective provision contained herein, or in regard to matters or questions arising under this Agreement as the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent may deem necessary or desirable and which shall not materially adversely affect the interests of Holders of the Preference Shares; provided that, Sections 2(f) and (g) of this Agreement may not be amended without the consent of the Majority of the Controlling Class. In addition, this Agreement may be amended without the consent of any Holders of the Preference Shares and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Preference Shares in order to prevent the Issuer from becoming an “investment company” as defined in the Investment Company Act or to better assure compliance with the requirements of Rule 3a-7 and/or to remove transfer restrictions and other requirements relating to Section 3(c)(7); provided that, as a condition to the effectiveness of any such supplemental indenture, each of the Issuer, the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Servicer shall have received a customary opinion of counsel (which may be supported as to factual matters by any relevant certificates or other documents necessary or advisable in the judgment of counsel delivering such opinion) from a nationally recognized law firm providing that, after giving effect to such amendment, the Issuer is exempt from registration as an “investment company” under the Investment Company Act in reliance on the exemption provided by Rule 3a-7.

(b) Unless otherwise as set forth in subsection (a) above, this Agreement may be amended with the consent of Holders of a Majority of the Preference Shares materially and adversely affected thereby.

(c) Any amendment to this Agreement must be in writing executed by each party hereto.

(d) The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be entitled to receive, and (subject to its duties and obligations herein) shall be fully protected in relying upon, an opinion of counsel, consent or certificate of the Issuer in determining whether or not any proposed amendment is permitted hereunder.

(e) Any amendment to this Agreement that would necessitate a change to the Memorandum and Articles of Association may only be made after a Special Resolution (as therein defined) has been passed to permit the Memorandum and Articles of Association to be altered to conform with such proposed amendment.

Section 14. Resignation or Removal of the Preference Shares Paying Agent. The Preference Shares Paying Agent may at any time resign as the Preference Shares Paying Agent, by giving written notice to the Issuer of its resignation, specifying the date on which its resignation shall become effective (which date shall not be less than 60 days after the date on which such notice is given unless the Issuer shall agree to a shorter period). The Issuer may remove the Preference Shares Paying Agent at any time by giving written notice of not less than 60 days to the Preference Shares Paying Agent specifying the date on which such removal shall become effective. Such resignation or removal shall only take effect upon the appointment by the Issuer of a successor Preference Shares Paying Agent and upon the acceptance of such appointment by such successor Preference Shares Paying Agent; provided, however, that if the successor Preference Shares Paying Agent has not been appointed within 60 days after such notice of resignation or removal, then the Preference Shares Paying Agent, or any Holder of Preference Shares, may, on behalf of himself and others similarly situated, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Preference Shares Paying Agent; provided, further, that after the retirement of the Notes, if the Issuer determines that no material distributions will be paid on the Preference Shares, the Issuer may remove the Preference Shares Paying Agent at any time, by giving written notice of not less than 10 days, and assume the duties of the Preference Shares Paying Agent itself.

Section 15. Assignment. No party hereto may assign or novate any of its rights or obligations hereunder except with the prior written consent of all the parties hereto.

Section 16. Merger, Conversion, Consolidation or Succession to Business of Preference Shares Paying Agent. Any entity into which the Preference Shares Paying Agent may be merged or converted or with which it may be consolidated, or any entity resulting from any merger, conversion or consolidation to which the Preference Shares Paying Agent is a party, or any entity succeeding to all or substantially all of the corporate trust business of the Preference Shares Paying Agent, shall be the successor of the Preference Shares Paying Agent under this Agreement without the execution or filing of any paper or any further act on the part of any of the parties hereto.

Section 17. Reports and Notices. The Issuer hereby authorizes the Preference Shares Paying Agent to deliver or request the Trustee to deliver all Monthly Reports and Valuation Reports (each a “Report” and, collectively, “Reports”) prepared pursuant to the Indenture to the Holders of the Preference Shares and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall deliver, or shall cause the Trustee to deliver a copy of any such Report to such Holders within two Business Days of receipt of any such Report. In addition, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall deliver, or shall cause the Trustee to deliver, a copy of any other notice or information that it has received from the Trustee under the Indenture to the Holders of the Preference Shares within two Business Days of receipt of such notice and information. Any notices or information to be delivered by the Preference Shares Paying Agent to the Holders of the Preference Shares pursuant to this Agreement shall be delivered, in each case, (i) by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to each Holder of a Preference Share at the address appearing in the Preference Share register or (ii) with respect to delivery of the Reports, by making such Reports available via its internet website, initially located at <http://www.cdocalc.com/ibt/cdo/>. All information made available on the Preference Shares Paying Agent’s website shall be restricted and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall only provide access to such reports to those parties entitled thereto pursuant to the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement. In connection with providing access to its website, the Preference Shares Paying Agent may require registration and the acceptance of a disclaimer. Questions regarding the Preference Shares Paying Agent’s website may be directed to the Preference Shares Paying Agent’s customer service desk at (617) 937-5585.

Section 18. Notices. (a) All communications by or on behalf of the Issuer relating to the transfer or payment of a Preference Share or any interest therein shall be directed to the Preference Shares Paying Agent at its address set forth in clause (b)(ii) below. The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall mail any notice it receives from the Trustee (for forwarding to the Holders of the Preference Shares) to the Holders of the Preference Shares on the Business Day it receives such notice.

Where this Agreement provides for notice to Holders of the Preference Shares of any event, such notice shall be sufficiently given (unless otherwise herein expressly provided) if such notice is in writing and mailed, first-class postage prepaid, to each Holder of the Preference Shares affected by such event, at such Holder's address as it appears on the Preference Share register, not later than the latest date, and not earlier than the earliest date, prescribed for the giving of such notice.

Neither the failure to mail such notice, nor any defect in any notice so mailed, to any particular Holder of Preference Shares shall affect the sufficiency of such notice with respect to other Holders. Any notice that is given in the manner herein provided shall conclusively be presumed to have been duly given whether or not actually received by such Holder. Any notice to Holders of the Preference Shares provided for in this Agreement will be deemed to have been given on the date of mailing.

Where this Agreement provides for notice in any manner, such notice may be waived in writing by any Person entitled to receive such notice, either before or after the event, and such waiver shall be the equivalent of such notice.

In the event that, by reason of the suspension of the regular mail service as a result of a strike, work stoppage or similar activity, it shall be impractical to mail notice of any event to Holders of the Preference Shares when such notice is required to be given pursuant to any provision of this Agreement, then any manner of giving such notice as shall be satisfactory to the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be deemed to be a sufficient giving of such notice.

(b) Notices and other communications hereunder shall (except to the extent otherwise expressly provided) be in writing and shall be addressed as follows, or to such other addresses as the parties hereto shall specify from time to time:

(i) if to the Issuer:

Westchester CLO, Ltd.
P.O. Box 1093GT, Queensgate House
South Church Street, George Town
Grand Cayman, Cayman Islands
Fax: (345) 945-7100
Attention: The Directors

(ii) if to the Preference Shares Paying Agent:

Investors Bank & Trust Company
200 Clarendon Street, 3rd Floor
Mailcode: EUC 108
Boston, MA 02116
Fax: (617) 351-4358
Attention: CDO Services Group

Section 19. Covenants of the Issuer. The Issuer shall not take any action under this Agreement or the Indenture that requires the authorization, direction or consent from the Holders of the Preference Shares without obtaining such authorization, direction or consent from the Holders of the Preference Shares. It shall be the responsibility of the Issuer to satisfy the Preference Shares Paying Agent as to the compliance with the foregoing condition (on which the Preference Shares Paying Agent may rely on in good faith).

Section 20. Transfer of Issuer Ordinary Shares. For so long as any of the Preference Shares are Outstanding, the Issuer shall not agree to the transfer of any Issuer Ordinary Shares to U.S. Persons (as defined in the Code), and shall not transfer any such Issuer Ordinary Shares to any Person other than a Person which is a resident of the Cayman Islands.

Section 21. Certain Tax Matters. (a) On demand of the Issuer, a Holder or beneficial owner of a Preference Share will notify the Issuer whether or not the Holder or beneficial owner of such Preference Share is a United States person within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code and the name and status of such Holder or beneficial owner as an individual, partnership, corporation, or other entity and such other information as the Issuer shall reasonably request for purposes of tax reporting of the Issuer or other Holders of the Preference Shares.

(b) The Issuer will cause the Independent accountants to make a determination as to whether a Holder's investment in the Preference Shares has become a "reportable transaction" as described in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4 because, after the Closing Date, the Issuer entered into a transaction whereby the Issuer recognized a significant loss or otherwise. If the Holder's investment in the Preference Shares has become such a "reportable transaction," then the Issuer shall provide to Holders of Preference Shares any information available to it which may be reasonably necessary for such Holders of Preference Shares to comply with any disclosure requirements under Section 6011 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder with respect to its investment in the Preference Shares.

(c) The Issuer will provide or cause to be provided to each Holder or beneficial owner of the Preference Shares (or its designee), upon written request therefor, any information that such Holder or beneficial owner reasonably requests to assist such Holder or beneficial owner with regard to its or its equity owners' U.S. federal income tax filing requirements.

(d) Each Holder and beneficial owner of the Preference Shares agrees to treat the Preference Shares as equity of the Issuer and the Notes as debt of the Issuer for U.S. federal, state and local income tax purposes, if applicable.

(e) The Issuer will not make an election to be treated as a partnership, and will take all necessary actions to maintain its status as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

(f) Within 90 days after December 31 of each calendar year, the Issuer shall (or shall cause its Independent accountants to) provide to each Holder of Preference Shares (i) all information that a U.S. shareholder making a "qualified electing fund" election (as defined in the Code) is required to obtain for U.S. federal income tax purposes and (ii) a "PFIC Annual Information Statement" as described in Treasury Regulation section 1.1295-1 (or any successor Treasury Regulation), including all representations and statements required by such statement, and will take any other reasonable steps necessary to facilitate such election by, and any reporting requirements of, a holder of Preference Shares. Upon request by the Independent accountants, the Share Registrar shall provide to the Independent accountants information contained in the Preference Shares register and requested by the Independent accountants to comply with this Section 21(f).

(g) The Issuer will provide, upon request of a Holder of Preference Shares, any information that such Holder reasonably requests to assist such Holder with regard to any filing requirements the Holder may have as a result of the controlled foreign corporation rules under the Code.

(h) The Issuer shall treat each purchase of Collateral Obligations as a purchase for tax, accounting and reporting purposes.

Section 22. Minimum Lots. Preference Shares must be held in minimum lots of 100 Preference Shares per investor and integral multiples of one Preference Share in excess thereof.

Section 23. Limited Recourse; No Petition. The Preference Shares Paying Agent hereby acknowledges and agrees that the Issuer's obligations hereunder will be solely the corporate obligations of the Issuer, and that the Preference Shares Paying Agent will not have any recourse to any of the directors, officers, employees, shareholders or Affiliates of the Issuer with respect to any claims, losses, damages, liabilities, indemnities or other obligations in connection with any transactions contemplated hereby. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Agreement, recourse in respect of any obligations of the Issuer hereunder will be limited to the proceeds of the Collateral, paid pursuant to the Priority of Payments and on the exhaustion thereof all obligations of and all claims against the Issuer arising from this Agreement or any transactions contemplated hereby shall be extinguished and shall not thereafter revive. The Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Share Registrar, by entering into this Agreement and each Holder of a Preference Share by its acceptance of a Preference Share, hereby covenants and agrees that it will not, prior to the date which is one year and one day (or, if longer, the applicable preference period) after the payment in full of all amounts owing under the Indenture and this Agreement, institute against the Issuer, or voluntarily join in any institution against the Issuer of, any bankruptcy, reorganization, arrangement, insolvency or liquidation proceedings, or other proceedings under any United States federal or state bankruptcy or similar law of any jurisdiction within or without the United States in connection with any obligations relating to the Preference Shares or this Agreement. The provisions of this Section 23 shall survive termination of this Agreement for any reason whatsoever.

Section 24. (a) GOVERNING LAW. THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE GOVERNED BY, AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH, THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

(b) WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL. EACH OF THE ISSUER AND THE PREFERENCE SHARES PAYING AGENT HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE PREFERENCE SHARES OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY.

(c) Service of Process. The Issuer irrevocably appoints Investors Bank & Trust Company (the "Process Agent") c/o Investors Bank & Trust Company, located at 33 Maiden Lane, 4th Floor, New York, NY 10038, to receive, for it and on its behalf, service of process in any suit, action or proceeding relating to this Agreement. If for any reason the Process Agent is unable to act as such, the Issuer shall promptly notify the Preference Shares Paying Agent and within 30 days appoint a substitute process agent acceptable to the Preference Shares Paying Agent.

Section 25. Signatures. This Agreement may be signed in two or more counterparts with the same effect as if the signatures thereto and hereto were upon the same instrument. A facsimile signature shall be considered due execution and shall be binding upon the signatory thereto with the same force and effect as if the signature were an original.

Section 25. Voting. The Class I Preference Shares and the Class II Preference Shares will be identical in all respects except that the Class II Preference Shares will also be entitled, subject to any restrictions under Cayman Islands law, to the Class II Preference Share Special Payments and will have voting rights with respect to the directors of the Issuer as set forth in the Issuer's Memorandum and Articles of Association. Unless otherwise specified herein or in the Issuer's Memorandum and Articles of Association, Holders of Class I Preference Shares and Class II Preference Shares shall vote together as a single class.

Re: Westchester CLO, Ltd.
Distribution of Eligible Equity Securities in lieu of Interest Proceeds

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This letter is to inform you that Highland Capital Management, L.P., in its capacity as servicer (the “Servicer”) with respect to that certain servicing agreement, dated as of May 31, 2007, by and between Westchester CLO, Ltd. (the “Issuer”) and the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, would like to distribute Eligible Equity Securities on the Payment Date of [____], 20[____] to the Holders of the Preference Shares in lieu of the Interest Proceeds, in whole or in part, that are otherwise due and payable to such Holders on such Payment Date. Such Eligible Equity Securities will be distributed in accordance with Sections 2(e) and 3(b) of that certain paying agency agreement, dated as of May 31, 2007 (the “Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement”), by and between the Issuer and Investors Bank & Trust Company, in its capacity as preference shares paying agent (the “Preference Shares Paying Agent”) and Section 11.1(a)(i) of that certain indenture, dated as of May 31, 2007, by and among the Issuer, Westchester CLO Corp. and Investors Bank & Trust Company, in its capacity as trustee (the “Trustee”). Any capitalized terms used without definition herein are used with the meanings assigned to such terms in the Indenture.

Details with respect to the proposed distribution of such Eligible Equity Securities are attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Each Holder of the Preference Shares wishing to receive such Eligible Equity Securities in lieu of all or a portion of the Interest Proceeds available for distribution to such Holder (each such Holder, a “Consenting Holder”) must deliver the consent notice attached hereto as Exhibit B (the “Consent Notice”) to the Preference Shares Paying Agent not later than five Business Days prior to such Payment Date. Each Consenting Holder must indicate in the Consent Notice the portion of Preference Shares held by such Holder for which such Holder wishes to receive a distribution of Eligible Equity Securities in lieu of Interest Proceeds. Any Consent Notice that is not delivered to the Preference Shares Paying Agent in the manner set forth herein shall be deemed to have not been delivered.

Please contact [ ] (insert e-mail address) at [( ) - ] with any questions.

Sincerely,

Investors Bank & Trust Company

ANNEX A
To the Minutes of the Resolutions of the Board of Directors of
WESTCHESTER CLO, LTD.

The Issuer may perform any of the functions set forth in this Annex A through the Preference Shares Paying Agent under the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement or the Administrator in its capacity as Share Registrar under the Administration Agreement.

Section 1.     Definitions.

Except as otherwise specified herein or as the context may otherwise require, the following terms have the respective meanings set forth below for all purposes of this Annex A, and the definitions of such terms are equally applicable both to the singular and plural forms of such terms and to the masculine, feminine and neuter genders of such terms. Capitalized terms used in this Annex A and not defined herein will have the meanings given to them in the Indenture, dated as of May 31, 2007, by and among Westchester CLO, Ltd. (the “Issuer”), Westchester CLO Corp., as co-issuer and Investors Bank & Trust Company, as trustee.

“Controlling Person”: Any person that has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the Issuer or a person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to the assets of the Issuer or any “affiliate” (as defined in 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101(f)(3)) of any such person.

“Corporate Trust Office”: The corporate trust office of the Preference Shares Paying Agent at which the Preference Shares Paying Agent performs its duties under the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, currently having an address of 200 Clarendon Street, Mailcode EUC 108, Boston MA 02116, telecopy no. (617) 351-4358, Attention: CDO Services Group or any other address the Preference Shares Paying Agent designates from time to time by notice to the Noteholders, the Servicer, the Trustee, the Issuer and each Rating Agency or the principal corporate trust office of any successor Preference Shares Paying Agent.

“ERISA Plan”: Any “employee benefit plan” (as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA) subject to the fiduciary responsibility provisions of Title I of ERISA, any “plan” described in Section 4975(e)(1) of the Code subject to Section 4975 of the Code and any entity whose underlying assets include the assets of any such employee benefit plan and/or plan.

“Extended Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date”: If a Maturity Extension has occurred, the sixteenth Payment Date after the then current Extended Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date (or, in the case of the first Extended Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date, the Payment Date in August 2026); provided that the “Extended Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date” will in no event be a date later than the Payment Date in August 2038.

“Plan Asset Regulation”: The regulation issued by the United States Department of Labor and found at 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101.

“Preference Shares”: Preference Shares sold or transferred to a Person who is (a) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (b) a Qualified Purchaser and evidenced by a physical certificate in definitive, fully registered form in the form set forth in Exhibit A hereto.

“Record Date”: As to any Payment Date, the 15th day (whether or not a Business Day) before the Payment Date.

“Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date”: August 1, 2022 or, upon a Maturity Extension (if any), the applicable Extended Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date.

“Shareholders” or “Holders”: With respect to any Preference Shares, the Person in whose name such Preference Shares are registered in the Share Register.

“Transferee Certificate”: A certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B attached hereto, duly completed as appropriate.

Section 2. Form of Preference Shares.

Preference Shares shall be issued in the form of one or more certificated Preference Shares as set forth in Exhibit A hereto.

Preference Shares may be offered, sold or delivered or resold only to Persons who are both (x) Qualified Institutional Buyers who purchase such Preference Shares for their own account in reliance on Rule 144A under the Securities Act and (y) Qualified Purchasers.

Section 3. Authorized Minimum Number of Preference Shares.

The Preference Shares shall be issuable only in an Authorized Amount. The Share Registrar shall not register any transfer of Preference Shares if, after giving effect to such transfer, any transferee and any transferor that continues to hold Preference Shares would hold less than an Authorized Amount of Preference Shares.

Section 4. Execution.

The certificates representing the Preference Shares shall be executed on behalf of the Issuer by one of the Authorized Officers of the Issuer. The signature of such Authorized Officers on the Preference Share certificates may be manual or facsimile.

Preference Share certificates bearing the manual or facsimile signatures of individuals who were at any time the Authorized Officers of the Issuer shall be valid, notwithstanding the fact that such individuals or any of them have ceased to hold such offices prior to the execution and delivery of such Preference Share certificates or did not hold such offices at the date of issuance of such Preference Share certificates.

Preference Share certificates issued upon transfer of Preference Shares shall be issued in an Authorized Amount reflecting the numbers of Preference Shares so transferred and, if applicable, retained by the transferor.

No Person shall be entitled to any benefit under the Preference Share Documents until such time as such Person and the number of Preference Shares held by such Person have been recorded in the Share Register. Notwithstanding delivery of a Preference Share certificate, the Share Register shall be conclusive evidence, and the only evidence, of the issuance and registered Holders of Preference Shares.

Section 5. Registration, Registration of Transfer and Exchange.

(a) The Issuer shall cause to be kept a register (the “Share Register”) in the Cayman Islands in which, subject to such reasonable regulations as it may prescribe, the Issuer shall provide for the registration and registration of transfers thereof of Preference Shares. The Administrator is appointed the “Share Registrar” pursuant to the Administration Agreement for the purpose of registering Preference Shares and transfers of Preference Shares. Upon any resignation or removal of the Share Registrar, the Issuer shall promptly appoint a successor or, in the absence of such appointment, assume the duties of Share Registrar. The Share Registrar shall promptly provide the Preference Shares Paying Agent with copies of all notices, certificates and requests received with respect to the Preference Shares and promptly provide notice of all transfers of Preference Shares. The Share Registrar shall not be required to determine whether any proposed transfer, redemption or other transaction in relation to the Preference Shares complies with any restrictions imposed by law or under the terms of the Indenture or the Preference Share Documents but shall be entitled to rely completely in that respect on the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent.

The Issuer will give the Preference Shares Paying Agent prompt written notice of the appointment of any successor Share Registrar and of the location, and any change in the location, of the Share Registrar, and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall have the right to inspect the Share Register at all reasonable times and to obtain copies thereof and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall have the right to rely upon a certificate executed on behalf of such Share Registrar by an Officer thereof as to the names and addresses of the Shareholders and the numbers of Preference Shares held by each Shareholder. If the Preference Shares Paying Agent resigns or is removed in accordance with the terms of the Preference Share Paying Agency Agreement, the Issuer shall promptly appoint a successor.

Subject to this Section 5, upon surrender of a Preference Share certificate for registration of transfer thereof at the offices of the Preference Shares Paying Agent in compliance with the provisions set forth in the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall notify the Issuer and the Share Registrar thereof and the Issuer shall execute and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall deliver, in the name of the designated transferee or transferees, one or more new Preference Share certificates of like terms and of a like number, and the Share Register shall be amended accordingly. The Issuer shall (and shall cause the Share Registrar to) refuse to register any transfer of any Preference Share to the fullest extent allowed under Cayman Islands law if such transfer would violate any of the transfer restrictions provided in this Section 5 or the transferee fails to provide a required transfer certificate.

All Preference Share certificates presented or surrendered for registration of transfer shall be duly endorsed, or be accompanied by a written instrument of transfer in form satisfactory to the Issuer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Share Registrar, duly executed by the Holder of Preference Shares thereof or its attorney duly authorized in writing.

No service charge shall be made to a Holder for any registration of transfer of Preference Shares, but the Preference Shares Paying Agent may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge payable in connection therewith.

(b) No Preference Share may be sold or transferred (including, without limitation, by pledge or hypothecation) unless such sale or transfer is exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act and is exempt under applicable state securities law.

No Preference Share may be offered, sold or delivered except in accordance with this Section 5. None of the Issuer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent or any other Person may register the Preference Shares under the Securities Act or any state securities law.

For so long as any of the Securities are Outstanding, neither the Issuer nor the Share Registrar shall register any transfer of any Issuer Ordinary Shares to U.S. Persons.

If a Holder of a Preference Shares wishes at any time to transfer its interest in such Preference Shares, such Holder may cause the transfer of such interest, subject to the restrictions set forth herein. Upon receipt by the Preference Shares Paying Agent of (A) such Holder's Preference Share certificates duly endorsed and (B) a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B attached hereto given by the transferee of such Preference Shares and stating, among other things, that either the Person acquiring such interest in the Preference Shares is a (1) Qualified Institutional Buyer and (2) a Qualified Purchaser then the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall instruct the Share Registrar to, and the Share Registrar shall (i) cancel the Preference Shares certificate representing such Preference Shares and the Share Registrar will issue to such transferee a Preference Shares certificate representing the Preference Shares transferred and (ii) update the Share Register to reflect such transfer.

Any transfer will be subject to the requirement that any transferee (and transferor, in the case of a partial transfer) acquire (and retain, if applicable) Preference Shares in an Authorized Amount.

Each Transferee Certificate furnished pursuant to this Section 5(b) may be relied on conclusively by the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Share Registrar. None of the Issuer, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Share Registrar or any other Person shall be required to register the Preference Shares under the Securities Act or any state securities laws.

(c) By delivery of a Subscription Agreement on the Closing Date in connection with the initial issuance of the Preference Shares, or upon delivery of a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B upon the transfer of Preference Shares, each Holder of a Preference Share will represent, warrant and agree with the Issuer to what is in Exhibit B and set forth in Exhibit B.

If Preference Share certificates are issued upon the transfer, exchange or replacement of Preference Share certificates and a request is made to remove the applicable legend on such Preference Share certificates, the Preference Share certificates so issued shall bear such applicable legend, or such applicable legend shall not be removed, as the case may be, unless there is addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent on the Issuer's behalf such satisfactory evidence, which may include an opinion of counsel as may be reasonably required by the Issuer to the effect that neither such applicable legend nor the restrictions on transfer set forth therein are required to ensure that transfers thereof comply with the provisions of Rule 144A under the Securities Act or the Investment Company Act. Upon provision of such satisfactory evidence, the Issuer shall execute and the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall deliver Preference Share certificates that do not bear such applicable legend.

(d) At any time when the Issuer is not subject to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act and is not exempt from reporting pursuant to Rule 12g3-2(b) under the Exchange Act, upon the request of any Holder of Preference Shares, the Issuer shall promptly furnish Rule 144A Information to such Holder, to a prospective purchaser of any Preference Share designated by such Holder or to the Preference Shares Paying Agent for delivery to such Holder or a prospective purchaser designated by such Holder, as the case may be, in order to permit compliance by such Holder with Rule 144A under the Securities Act in connection with the resale of such Preference Share by such Holder.

Section 6. Mutilated, Defaced, Destroyed, Lost or Stolen Preference Share certificates.

If any mutilated or defaced Preference Share certificate is surrendered to the Preference Shares Paying Agent, or if there shall be delivered to the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (i) evidence to their reasonable satisfaction of the destruction, loss or theft of any Preference Share certificate and (ii) such security or indemnity as may be required by them to save each of them and any agent of any of them harmless that such Preference Share has been acquired by a protected purchaser, then, the Issuer shall execute and, upon Issuer Request, the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall deliver, in lieu of any such mutilated, defaced, destroyed, lost or stolen Preference Share, a new Preference Share certificate identical in all respects to the entry in the Share Register with respect to such Preference Shares represented thereby, including the same date of issuance, number of Preference Shares and name of the Holder thereof, dated the date of its execution and bearing a number not contemporaneously Outstanding. Upon the execution and delivery of any new Preference Share certificates under this Section 6, the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent may require the payment by the registered Holder thereof of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in relation thereto and any other expenses (including the fees and expenses of the Preference Shares Paying Agent, if applicable) connected therewith.

Section 7. Payment of Distributions on Preference Shares.

Pursuant to the Indenture, amounts may be paid by way of dividends to the Preference Shares Paying Agent on behalf of the Issuer on each Payment Date, on the Redemption Date or on the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date. Unless the Preference Shares Paying Agent has received contrary instructions from the directors of the Issuer (the “Directors”) prior to a Payment Date, the Redemption Date or the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date in accordance with the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, all amounts received as dividends by the Preference Shares Paying Agent pursuant to the Indenture shall be paid to the Holders of Preference Shares (i) in respect of a Payment Date or the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date, pro rata on the Preference Shares on such Payment Date or Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date by way of a dividend on the Preference Shares or, if applicable, as redemption price therefor or (ii) in respect of the Redemption Date, in accordance with Section 3(g) of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement. If, prior to the date of distribution in accordance with the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, the Directors instruct the Preference Shares Paying Agent not to distribute all or any portion of monies to be received as dividends by the Preference Shares Paying Agent with respect to a Payment Date, the Redemption Date or the Scheduled Preference Shares Redemption Date (which instruction shall be made if such distributions would be impermissible under Cayman Islands law, and then only to the extent such distributions would be impermissible), the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall retain such monies in the Preference Shares Distribution Account and shall pay such amounts as soon as practicable after being instructed to do so by the Directors.

In addition to the distributions of dividends, pursuant to Section 2(d) of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, on each Payment Date Holders of the Class II Preference Shares shall receive, on a pro rata basis, the Class II Preference Share Special Payment in an amount equal to the product of (x) the Class II Preference Share Portion for such Payment Date and (y) the Servicing Fees then due and payable to the Servicer.

The Preference Shares Paying Agent shall make payments or distributions (other than distributions of Equity Securities) to each registered Holder of the Preference Shares on the relevant Record Date by wire transfer in immediately available funds to a U.S. Dollar account maintained by each such Holder as notified to the Preference Shares Paying Agent or, in the absence of such notification, by U.S. Dollar check mailed to such Holder at its address of record as set forth in the Share Register. As a condition to payment of any amount hereunder without the imposition of U.S. withholding tax, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, on behalf of the Issuer, may require certification acceptable to it to enable the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent to determine their duties and liabilities with respect to any taxes or other charges that they may be required to deduct or withhold from payments or distributions in respect of Preference Shares under any present or future law or regulation of the United States or any present or future law or regulation of any political subdivision thereof or taxing authority therein or to comply with any reporting or other requirements under such law or regulation. All payments of distributions by the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be made without charging any commission or fee to the Holders of the Preference Shares.

The rights of the Holders of the Preference Shares to distributions by the Issuer and in and to the assets of the Issuer in respect of such Preference Shares, shall be subordinate and junior to the Notes, to the extent and in the manner set forth in the Indenture including as set forth in Section 11.1 thereof and as required by law. If any Event of Default has occurred and has not been cured or waived and acceleration occurs in accordance with Article V of the Indenture, the Notes shall be paid in full in Cash (or to the extent that a Majority of each Class of Notes consents, other than Cash) before any further payment or distribution is made on account of the Preference Shares.

In the event that any Holder of any Preference Shares shall have received any payment or distribution in respect of such Preference Shares contrary to the provisions of this Annex A or the Indenture, then, unless and until (i) the Class A-1-A Notes, (ii) the Class A-1-B Notes, (iii) the Class B Notes, (iv) the Class C Notes, (v) the Class D Notes and (vi) the Class E Notes shall have been paid in full in Cash (or to the extent that a Majority of each Class of Notes consents, other than Cash) in accordance with the Indenture, such payment or distribution shall be received and held in trust for the benefit of, and shall forthwith be paid over and delivered to, the Trustee, for payment and delivery of the same to the Holders of the Class A-1-A Notes, the Class A-1-B Notes, the Class B Notes, the Class C Notes, the Class D Notes or the Class E Notes, as the case may be, in accordance with the Indenture; provided, however, that if any such payment or distribution is made other than in Cash, it shall be paid over and delivered to the Trustee such that it may be held by the Trustee as part of the Collateral pursuant to, and subject in all respects to, the provisions of the Indenture, including Section 13.1 thereof.

Section 8. Persons Deemed Owners.

The person listed in the Share Register shall be treated as the owner of Preference Shares related thereto for all purposes, notwithstanding the possession of any certificates for the Preference Shares by another Person.

Section 9. Cancellation.

All Preference Share certificates representing Preference Shares surrendered for payment, registration of transfer, exchange or redemption, or deemed lost or stolen, shall promptly be canceled by the Share Registrar in accordance with its policy and may not be reissued or resold. No Preference Share certificates shall be issued in lieu of or in exchange for any Preference Share certificate cancelled as provided in this Section 9, except as expressly permitted by this Annex A. All cancelled Preference Share certificates held by the Share Registrar shall be placed in the minute books in the corporate records of the Issuer. Any certificates issued in respect of Preference Shares repurchased by the Issuer shall be immediately delivered to the Share Registrar for cancellation.

Section 10. Preference Shares Owned by Non-Permitted Holders; Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investors.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, any transfer of a Preference Share to a Person that is not both (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (y) a Qualified Purchaser (any such Person a “Non-Permitted Holder”) shall be null and void ab initio and any such purported transfer of which the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall have notice may be disregarded by the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent for all purposes.

If any Non-Permitted Holder shall become the owner of any Preference Shares, the Issuer shall, promptly after discovery that such Person is a Non-Permitted Holder by the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent (and notice by the Preference Shares Paying Agent to the Issuer, if the Preference Shares Paying Agent makes the discovery), send notice to such Non-Permitted Holder demanding that such Non-Permitted Holder transfer its Preference Shares to a Person that is eligible to purchase such Preference Shares hereunder within 30 days of the date of such notice. If such Non-Permitted Holder fails to so transfer its Preference Shares, the Issuer shall have the right, without further notice to the Non-Permitted Holder, to sell such Preference Shares to a purchaser selected by the Issuer that is eligible to purchase such Preference Shares hereunder on such terms as the Issuer may choose. The Issuer, or the Preference Shares Paying Agent acting on behalf of the Issuer, may select the purchaser by soliciting one or more bids from one or more brokers or other market professionals that regularly deal in securities similar to the Preference Shares, and selling such Preference Shares to the highest such bidder. However, the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent acting on behalf of the Issuer may select a purchaser by any other means determined by it in its sole discretion. The Holder of each Preference Share, the Non-Permitted Holder and each other Person in the chain of title from the Holder to the Non-Permitted Holder, by its acceptance of the Preference Shares, agrees to cooperate with the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent to effect such transfers. The proceeds of such sale, net of any commissions, expenses and taxes due in connection with such sale, shall be remitted to the Non-Permitted Holder. The terms and conditions of any sale under this Section shall be determined in the sole discretion of the Issuer, and neither the Issuer nor the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall be liable to any Person having an interest in the Preference Shares sold as a result of any such sale or the exercise of such discretion.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, no person shall be permitted to acquire Preference Shares if such acquisition would result in persons who have represented that they are Benefit Plan Investors owing 25% or more of the aggregate amount of either the Class I Preference Shares or the Class II Preference Shares outstanding immediately after such acquisition (excluding for purposes of this determination the Preference Shares held by any Controlling Person and its affiliates), determined in accordance with Section 3(42) of ERISA, the Plan Asset Regulation, the Indenture and the Preference Share Documents. Furthermore, no person shall be permitted to acquire Preference Shares if such person is either (1) an ERISA Plan or (2) a Benefit Plan Investor that is not an ERISA Plan, but whose purchase, holding or disposition of a Preference Share or any beneficial interest therein will result in a non-exempt violation of any federal, state, foreign or local law substantially similar to Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code. Any person described in the first sentence of this subsection (b) and any person described in clause (1) or (2) of the preceding sentence is referred to herein as a “Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor.” Any transfer of Preference Shares to a Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor shall be null and void ab initio and any such purported transfer of which the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent shall have notice may be disregarded by the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent for all purposes.

If any Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor shall become the owner of Preference Shares, the Issuer shall, promptly after discovery that such person is a Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor by the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent (and notice by the Preference Shares Paying Agent to the Issuer, if the Preference Shares Paying Agent makes the discovery), send notice to such Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor demanding that such Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor transfer its Preference Shares to a Person that is eligible to purchase such Preference Shares hereunder within 30 days of the date of such notice. If such Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor fails to so transfer such Preference Shares, the Issuer shall have the right, without further notice to the Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor, to sell such Preference Shares to a purchaser selected by the Issuer that is eligible to purchase such Preference Shares hereunder on such terms as the Issuer may choose. The Issuer, or the Preference Shares Paying Agent acting on behalf of the Issuer, may select the purchaser by soliciting one or more bids from one or more brokers or other market professionals that regularly deal in securities similar to the Preference Shares and selling such Preference Shares to the highest such bidder. However, the Issuer or the Preference Shares Paying Agent acting on behalf of the Issuer may select a purchaser by any other means determined by it in its sole discretion. The Holder of each Preference Share, the Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor and each other Person in the chain of title from the Holder to the Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor, by its acceptance of Preference Shares agrees to cooperate with the Issuer and the Preference Shares Paying Agent to effect such transfers. The proceeds of such sale, net of any commissions, expenses and taxes due in connection with such sale shall be remitted to the Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor. The terms and conditions of any sale under this subsection shall be determined in the sole discretion of the Issuer, and the Issuer shall not be liable to any Person having an interest in the Preference Shares sold as a result of any such sale or the exercise of such discretion.

Any Holder that becomes a Non-Permitted Holder or a Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor or any Holder who has made an ERISA-related representation required by this Annex A that was at the time made, or has subsequently become, false or misleading, must immediately give written notice to the Issuer of such event. Any Holder of Preference Shares that proposes or attempts a transfer that would result in the holding of Preference Shares by a Non-Permitted Holder or that the Holder knows or has reason to know would result in the holding of Preference Shares by a Non-Permitted Benefit Plan Investor, must give at least 15 days prior written notice to the Issuer of such proposed transfer. In any case, the notifying party must provide the Issuer such information as it may request in order to determine the effect, if any, of such event on the Issuer with respect to its compliance with the Securities Act, the Investment Company Act, ERISA and the Code.

Section 11. Return of Undistributed Payments.

Except as otherwise required by applicable law, any monies deposited with the Preference Shares Paying Agent and held in the Preference Shares Distribution Account or otherwise held for any payment with respect to the Preference Shares and remaining unclaimed for two years after such amounts have become payable shall be paid to the Issuer on Issuer Request; and the Holder of such Preference Shares shall thereafter look only to the Issuer for payment of such amounts and all liability of the Preference Shares Paying Agent with respect to such Money (but only to the extent of the amounts so paid to the Issuer) shall thereupon cease. The Preference Shares Paying Agent, before being required to make any such release of payment, may, but shall not be required to, adopt and employ, at the expense of the Issuer, any reasonable means of notification of such release of payment, including, but not limited to, mailing notice to Holders whose right to or interest in such unclaimed monies is determinable from the records of the Preference Shares Paying Agent or Share Registrar at the last address of record of each such Holder.

Section 12. Disclosure of Tax Treatment.

In order to ensure the Holders' and beneficial owners' acquisition of the Preference Shares pursuant to the Preference Share Documents are not treated as offered under conditions of confidentiality, the Holders and beneficial owners of the Preference Shares (and each of their respective employees, representatives or other agents) are hereby permitted to disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the transactions contemplated by the Preference Share Documents (including the ownership and disposition of the Preference Shares). For this purpose, the tax treatment of a transaction is the purported or claimed U.S. federal income or state and local tax treatment of the transaction, and the tax structure of a transaction is any fact that may be relevant to understanding the purported or claimed U.S. federal income or state and local tax treatment of the transaction.

Section 13. Certain Tax Matters.

The Issuer and each Holder and each beneficial owner of a Preference Share, by acceptance of its Preference Share, or its interest in a Preference Share, shall be deemed to have agreed to treat, and shall treat, such Preference Share as equity of the Issuer and the Notes as debt of the Issuer for United States federal income tax purposes.

The Issuer will not make an election to be treated as a partnership, and will take all necessary actions to maintain its status as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

The Issuer shall file, or cause to be filed, any tax return, including information tax returns, required by any governmental authority; provided, however, that the Issuer shall not file, or cause to be filed, any income or franchise tax return in any state of the United States unless it shall have obtained an Opinion of Counsel from a tax counsel of nationally recognized standing experienced in such matters prior to such filing that, under the laws of such jurisdiction, the Issuer is required to file such income or franchise tax return.

Each Holder and beneficial owner of a Preference Share, by acceptance of its Preference Share or its interest in a Preference Share, shall be deemed to understand and acknowledge that failure to provide the Issuer, the Trustee or the Preference Shares Paying Agent with the applicable U.S. federal income tax certifications (generally, a United States Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 (or successor applicable form) in the case of a person that is a “United States person” within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code or an appropriate United States Internal Revenue Service Form W-8 (or successor applicable form) in the case of a person that is not a “United States person” within the meaning of Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code) may result in U.S. federal withholding from payments in respect of such Preference Share.

The Issuer will provide or cause to be provided to each Holder or beneficial owner of the Preference Shares (or its designee), upon written request therefor, any information that such Holder or beneficial owner reasonably requests to assist such Holder or beneficial owner with regard to its or its equity owners’ U.S. federal income tax filing requirements.

The Issuer will cause the Independent accountants to make a determination as to whether a Holder’s investment in the Preference Shares has become a “reportable transaction” as described in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6011-4 because, after the Closing Date, the Issuer entered into a transaction whereby the Issuer recognized a significant loss or otherwise. If the Holder’s investment in the Preference Shares has become such a “reportable transaction,” then the Issuer shall provide to Holders of Preference Shares any information available to it which may be reasonably necessary for such Holders of Preference Shares to comply with any disclosure requirements under Section 6011 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder with respect to its investment in the Preference Shares.

The Issuer shall not become the owner of any asset if the ownership or disposition of such asset (without regard to the other activities of the Issuer) would cause the Issuer to be engaged, or deemed to be engaged, in a trade or business within the United States for U.S. federal income tax purposes, it being understood that the purchase of Collateral Obligations pursuant to the acquisition standards set forth in the Collateral Acquisition Agreement will not be deemed to cause the Issuer to be engaged in a trade or business with the United States for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Re: Westchester CLO, Ltd.
Preference Shares, Par Value $0.01 Per Share

Dear Sirs:

Reference is hereby made to the Issuer's Memorandum and Articles of Association (the "Articles") and certain resolutions adopted at a meeting of the Issuer's Board of Directors on or about May [ ], 2007 (the "Resolutions"), as reflected in the minutes thereof. Reference is also made to the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, dated as of May 31, 2007 (the "Agreement") by and between Westchester CLO, Ltd., as Issuer and Investors Bank & Trust Company, as Preference Shares Paying Agent. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meanings set forth in the Resolutions, including Annex A thereto ("Annex A"), and if not defined in the Resolutions, in the Offering Memorandum.

This certificate relates to _____ Preference Shares which are to be transferred to the undersigned transferee (the "purchaser") pursuant to Section 5(b) of Annex A.

1. The purchaser hereby represents, warrants and covenants for the benefit of the Issuer that the transfer has been effected in accordance with the transfer restrictions set forth in Section 5(b) of Annex A and the Offering Memorandum, dated [ ], 2007 (the "Offering Memorandum") relating to the Preference Shares and that:

(1) The purchaser hereby certifies that it is a Qualified Institutional Buyer as defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act and a Qualified Purchaser for purposes of the Investment Company Act; and

(2) The Purchaser is aware that the sale of the Preference Shares to it is being made in reliance on an exemption from the registration requirements under the Securities Act and it is acquiring the Preference Shares for its own account in a number not less than the minimum lot.

2. The purchaser has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters as to be capable of evaluating the merits and risks of its investment in the Preference Shares, and the purchaser is able to bear the economic risk of its investment.

3. The purchaser understands that the Preference Shares are being offered only in a transaction not involving any public offering in the United States within the meaning of the Securities Act, the Preference Shares have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act, and, if in the future the purchaser decides to offer, resell, pledge or otherwise transfer the Preference Shares, such Preference Shares may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred only in accordance with the legend in respect of such Preference Shares set forth in clause (11) below and the restrictions set forth in the Preference Share Documents. The purchaser acknowledges that no representation is made by the Issuer, the Servicer or the Initial Purchasers or any of their respective Affiliates as to the availability of any exemption under the Securities Act or other applicable laws of any jurisdiction for resale of the Preference Shares.

4. The purchaser agrees that it will not offer or sell, transfer, assign, or otherwise dispose of the Preference Shares or any interest therein except (i) pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws or the applicable laws of any other jurisdiction and (ii) in accordance with the Preference Share Documents, to which provisions the purchaser hereby agrees it is subject.

5. The purchaser is not purchasing the Preference Shares with a view to the resale, distribution or other disposition thereof in violation of the Securities Act. It has read and understood the Offering Memorandum, including, without limitation, the "Risk Factors" section therein. The purchaser understands that the Preference Shares will be highly illiquid and are not suitable for short-term trading. The Preference Shares are a leveraged investment in the Collateral Obligations that may expose the Preference Shares to disproportionately large changes in value. Payments in respect of the Preference Shares are not guaranteed as they are dependent on the performance of the Issuer's portfolio of Collateral Obligations. The purchaser understands that it is possible that, due to the structure of the transaction and the performance of the Issuer's portfolio of Collateral Obligations, dividends or other distributions in respect of the Preference Shares may be reduced or eliminated entirely. Furthermore, the Preference Shares constitute equity in the Issuer, are not secured by the Collateral and will rank behind all creditors (secured and unsecured and whether known or unknown) of the Issuer, including, without limitation, the Holders of the Notes, and any Hedge Counterparties. The Issuer has assets limited to the Collateral for payment of all Classes of the Notes and dividends and other distributions on the Preference Shares, and the Preference Shares bear, pro rata, the first risk of loss. The purchaser understands that an investment in the Preference Shares involves certain risks, including the risk of loss of all or a substantial part of its investment. The purchaser has had access to such financial and other information concerning the Issuer, the Preference Shares and the Collateral as it deemed necessary or appropriate in order to make an informed investment decision with respect to its purchase of the Preference Shares, including an opportunity to ask questions of and request information from the Issuer and the Initial Purchasers.

6. (i) None of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer is acting as a fiduciary or financial or investment advisor for the purchaser, (ii) the purchaser is not relying (for purposes of making any investment decision or otherwise) upon any advice, counsel or representations (whether written or oral) of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, either Initial Purchaser, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates other than in the Offering Memorandum and any representations expressly set forth in a written agreement with such party; (iii) none of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Initial Purchasers, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates has given to the purchaser (directly or indirectly through any other Person or documentation for the Preference Shares) any assurance, guarantee or representation whatsoever as to the expected or projected success, profitability, return, performance, result, effect, consequence or benefit (including legal, regulatory, tax, financial, accounting or otherwise) of the Preference Shares or an investment therein; (iv) the purchaser has consulted with its own legal, regulatory, tax, business, investment, financial and accounting advisors to the extent it has deemed necessary, and it has made its own investment decisions (including decisions regarding the suitability of any transaction pursuant to the documentation for the Preference Shares) based upon its own judgment and upon any advice from such advisors as it has deemed necessary and not upon any view expressed by the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, either Initial Purchaser, any Hedge Counterparty, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Collateral Administrator or the Servicer or any of their respective Affiliates; (v) the purchaser has determined that the rates, prices or amounts and other terms of the purchase and sale of the Preference Shares reflect those in the relevant market for similar transactions; (vi) the purchaser is purchasing the Preference Shares with a full understanding of all of the terms, conditions and risks thereof (economic and otherwise), and it is capable of assuming and willing to assume (financially and otherwise) those risks; and (vii) the purchaser is a sophisticated investor.

7. (A) The purchaser is (i) a Qualified Purchaser or (ii) an entity owned exclusively by Qualified Purchasers, (B) the purchaser is acquiring the Preference Shares as principal for its own account (and not for the account of any family or other trust, any family member or any other person) for investment and not for sale in connection with any distribution thereof, (C) the purchaser was not formed solely for the purpose of investing in the Preference Shares (except when each beneficial owner of the purchaser is a Qualified Purchaser), (D) to the extent the purchaser is a private investment company formed before April 30, 1996, the purchaser has received the necessary consent from its beneficial owners, (E) the purchaser is not a broker-dealer that owns and invests on a discretionary basis less than $25,000,000 in securities of unaffiliated issuers, (F) the purchaser is not a pension, profit-sharing or other retirement trust fund or plan in which the partners beneficiaries or participants or affiliates may designate the particular investment to be made, (G) the purchaser agrees that it shall not hold such Preference Shares for the benefit of any other Person and shall be the sole beneficial owner thereof for all purposes and that it shall not sell participation interests in the Preference Shares or enter into any other arrangement pursuant to which any other Person shall be entitled to a beneficial interest in the dividends or other distributions on the Preference Shares (except when each such other Person is (i) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (ii) a Qualified Purchaser) and (H) the purchaser understands and agrees that any purported transfer of the Preference Shares to a purchaser that does not comply with the requirements of this paragraph shall be null and void ab initio.

8. The purchaser understands that, prior to any sale or other transfer of any interest in a Preference Share, it (or the transferee, as applicable) will be required to provide to the Issuer and Preference Shares Paying Agent a duly executed transfer certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit B attached to Annex A and such other certificates and other information as they may reasonably require to confirm that the proposed transfer complies with the restrictions in the legend placed on each certificate representing the Preference Shares and in the Preference Share Documents.

9. The purchaser understands and agrees that (i) no purchase or transfer may be made that would result in any person or entity holding beneficial ownership in any Preference Shares in less than an authorized number as set forth in Annex A and (ii) no purchase or transfer of Preference Shares that would have the effect of requiring either of the Co-Issuers or the pool of Collateral to register as an investment company under the Investment Company Act will be permitted.

10. The purchaser understands and agrees that no purchase or transfer of Preference Shares (i) to a purchaser or transferee that has represented that it is a Benefit Plan Investor (as defined in Section 3(42) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended “ERISA”), or a Controlling Person (as defined below) will be effective, and the Issuer or the Share Registrar will not recognize or register such purchase or transfer, if such purchase or transfer would result in Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of the Class I Preference Shares or the Class II Preference Shares (determined pursuant to Section 3(42) of ERISA, 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101, the Indenture and the Preference Share Documents) or (ii) will be permitted if such purchase or transfer will result in a prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of Code (as defined below) (or, in the case of a governmental, foreign or church plan, a violation of any substantially similar federal, state, foreign or local law). The purchaser further understands and agrees that any transfer in violation of the applicable provisions of the Preference Share Documents will be null and void ab initio. For purposes of the 25% determination described in the first sentence of this clause (10), the Preference Shares held by the Trustee, the Servicer, any of their respective affiliates (as defined in 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101(f)(3)) and any other persons that have represented that they are Controlling Persons will be disregarded and will not be treated as outstanding. The purchaser’s acquisition, holding and disposition of the Preference Shares will not result in a prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”) (or, in the case of a governmental, foreign or church plan, any substantially similar federal, state, foreign or local law), because such purchase, holding or acquisition either (a) is not, and will not become, subject to such laws or (b) is covered by an exemption from all applicable prohibited transactions, all conditions of which are and will be satisfied throughout its holding of such Preference Shares. The purchaser and any fiduciary or Person causing it to acquire the Preference Shares agree, to the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, to indemnify and hold harmless the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, each Initial Purchaser, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Trustee, the Servicer and their respective affiliates from any cost, damage or loss incurred by them as a result of a breach of the representations set forth in this clause (10) and clause (12) below. If the purchaser is an insurance company investing through its general account as defined in United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption (“PTCE”) 95-60, for so long as it holds the Preference Shares, such purchaser represents that the percentage of assets of such insurance company general account that may be treated as “plan assets” under ERISA and the Code will always remain below 25% (as determined pursuant to ERISA and the Code).

11. The purchaser understands that the Preference Shares (a) will be represented by one or more Preference Share certificates which will bear the legend substantially in the form set forth below unless the Issuer determines otherwise in accordance with applicable law, and (b) may only be resold, pledged or transferred to Qualified Institutional Buyers who are also (x) Qualified Purchasers or (y) entities owned exclusively by Qualified Purchasers. The purchaser understands that before the Preference Shares may be offered, resold, pledged or otherwise transferred, the transferee will be required to provide the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Issuer with a written certification as to compliance with the transfer restrictions.

THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), AND THE ISSUER HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE UNITED STATES INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940, AS AMENDED (THE “INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT”). THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY HAVE NOT BEEN OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED, EXCEPT (A) TO A PERSON WHOM THE SELLER REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER (“QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER”) WITHIN THE MEANING OF RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT PURCHASING FOR ITS OWN ACCOUNT (IN A TRANSACTION MEETING THE REQUIREMENTS OF RULE 144A SO LONG AS THE PREFERENCE SHARES ARE ELIGIBLE FOR RESALE IN ACCORDANCE WITH RULE 144A) WHO IS ALSO A QUALIFIED PURCHASER (“QUALIFIED PURCHASER”) WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(c)(7) OF THE INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT THAT WAS NOT FORMED FOR THE PURPOSE OF INVESTING IN THE ISSUER (EXCEPT WHEN EACH BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE PURCHASER IS A QUALIFIED PURCHASER) AND THAT (1) HAS RECEIVED THE NECESSARY CONSENT FROM ITS BENEFICIAL OWNERS WHEN THE PURCHASER IS A PRIVATE INVESTMENT COMPANY FORMED ON OR BEFORE APRIL 30, 1996, (2) IS NOT A BROKER-DEALER THAT OWNS AND INVESTS ON A DISCRETIONARY BASIS LESS THAN $25,000,000 IN SECURITIES OF UNAFFILIATED ISSUERS AND (3) IS NOT A PENSION, PROFIT-SHARING OR OTHER RETIREMENT TRUST FUND OR PLAN IN WHICH THE PARTNERS, BENEFICIARIES OR PARTICIPANTS OR AFFILIATES MAY DESIGNATE THE PARTICULAR INVESTMENT TO BE MADE, (B) IN EACH CASE, IN A NUMBER OF NOT LESS THAN 100 PREFERENCE SHARES FOR THE PURCHASER AND (C) IN ACCORDANCE WITH ALL APPLICABLE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OF THE UNITED STATES AND ANY OTHER APPLICABLE JURISDICTION. EACH TRANSFEROR OF THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY OR ANY BENEFICIAL INTEREST THEREIN WILL PROVIDE NOTICE OF THE TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS AS SET FORTH HEREIN TO ITS PURCHASER. EACH PURCHASER OF THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY WILL BE REQUIRED TO MAKE THE APPLICABLE REPRESENTATIONS AND AGREEMENTS SET FORTH IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS. THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY BE PURCHASED BY OR TRANSFERRED TO A BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR OR CONTROLLING PERSON (EACH AS DEFINED IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS) ONLY UPON THE SATISFACTION OF CERTAIN CONDITIONS SET FORTH IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS. ANY TRANSFER IN VIOLATION OF THE FOREGOING WILL BE OF NO FORCE AND EFFECT, WILL BE VOID AB INITIO, AND WILL NOT OPERATE TO TRANSFER ANY RIGHTS TO THE TRANSFEREE, NOTWITHSTANDING ANY INSTRUCTIONS TO THE CONTRARY TO THE ISSUER, THE PREFERENCE SHARES PAYING AGENT OR ANY INTERMEDIARY. IN ADDITION TO THE FOREGOING, THE ISSUER MAINTAINS THE RIGHT TO RESELL ANY PREFERENCE SHARES PREVIOUSLY TRANSFERRED TO NON-PERMITTED HOLDERS OR NON-PERMITTED BENEFIT PLAN INVESTORS (AS DEFINED IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS) IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND SUBJECT TO THE TERMS OF THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS.

THE FAILURE TO PROVIDE THE ISSUER AND ANY PAYING AGENT, WHENEVER REQUESTED BY THE ISSUER OR THE SERVICER ON BEHALF OF THE ISSUER, WITH THE APPLICABLE U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CERTIFICATIONS (GENERALLY, AN INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE FORM W-9 (OR APPLICABLE SUCCESSOR FORM) IN THE CASE OF A PERSON THAT IS A "UNITED STATES PERSON" WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 7701(A)(30) OF THE CODE OR AN APPROPRIATE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE FORM W-8 (OR APPLICABLE SUCCESSOR FORM) IN THE CASE OF A PERSON THAT IS NOT A "UNITED STATES PERSON" WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 7701(A)(30) OF THE CODE) MAY RESULT IN THE IMPOSITION OF U.S. FEDERAL WITHHOLDING FROM PAYMENTS TO THE HOLDER IN RESPECT OF THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY.

THE PREFERENCE SHARES REPRESENTED HEREBY MAY NOT BE ACQUIRED OR HELD BY (I) ANY "EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN" WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 3(3) OF THE EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974, AS AMENDED ("ERISA"), THAT IS SUBJECT TO TITLE I OF ERISA, (II) ANY "PLAN" DESCRIBED BY SECTION 4975(e)(1) OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED (THE "CODE"), THAT IS SUBJECT TO SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE, OR (III) ANY ENTITY WHOSE UNDERLYING ASSETS INCLUDE "PLAN ASSETS" OF ANY PLAN DESCRIBED IN (I) OR (II) BY REASON OF A PLAN'S INVESTMENT IN SUCH ENTITY (EACH OF (I), (II) AND (III), A "BENEFIT PLAN INVESTOR"), EXCEPT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RESTRICTIONS SET FORTH IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS.

EACH TRANSFEREE WILL BE REQUIRED TO DELIVER A TRANSFEREE CERTIFICATE IN A FORM PRESCRIBED IN THE PREFERENCE SHARE DOCUMENTS.

12. The funds that the purchaser is using or will use to purchase the Preference Shares are assets of a person who is or at any time while the Preference Shares are held by the purchaser will be (A) an "employee benefit plan" as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA that is subject to Title I of ERISA, (B) a "plan" described in Section 4975(e)(1) of the Code that is subject to Section 4975 of the Code or (C) an entity whose underlying assets would be deemed to include "plan assets" of either of the foregoing by reason of the investment by an employee benefit plan or other plan in the entity within the meaning of 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101, as modified by Section 3(42) of ERISA (the plans and persons described in clauses (A), (B) and (C) being referred to as “Benefit Plan Investors”).

Yes _____ No _____ (Please check either yes or no).

If yes, such funds are assets of an employee benefit plan subject to the fiduciary responsibility provisions of ERISA or a plan described in Section 4975(e)(1) of the Code and subject to Section 4975 of the Code.

Yes _____ No _____ (Please check either yes or no).

The purchaser is not the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Servicer or any other person (other than a Benefit Plan Investor) that has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the Issuer or a person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to the assets of the Issuer, or any “affiliate” (as defined in 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101(f)(3)) of any such person (any such person, a “Controlling Person”). Please place a check in the following space if the foregoing statement is NOT accurate: _____.

If the purchaser is an insurance company investing through its general account as defined in PTCE 95-60, for so long as it holds the Preference Shares, no more than ____% of the assets of such insurance company general account could be treated as plan assets for purposes of Section 3(42) of ERISA. The purchaser will promptly notify the Issuer if this percentage changes. (Please provide percentage, if applicable).

If the purchaser is a Benefit Plan Investor that is an entity (other than an insurance company general account) whose underlying assets include “plan assets” by reason of an employee benefit plan’s or other plan’s investment in the entity, for so long as it holds the Preference Shares, no more than ____% of the purchaser’s assets shall be treated as “plan assets” under Section 3(42) of ERISA. The purchaser will promptly notify the Issuer if this percentage changes. (Please provide percentage, if applicable).

The purchaser further acknowledges and agrees that the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement will entitle the Issuer to require the purchaser to dispose of the Preference Shares as soon as practicable following notification by the Issuer of any change in the information supplied in this clause (12).

The purchaser understands that the representations made in this clause (12) will be deemed made on each day from the date hereof through and including the date on which the purchaser disposes of its interests in the Preference Shares.

The purchaser agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Initial Purchasers and the Servicer and their respective affiliates from any cost, damage, or loss incurred by them as a result of a breach of the representation in this clause (12).

The purchaser agrees that it will not sell, pledge or otherwise transfer any Preference Shares in violation of the foregoing.

13. The purchaser will provide notice to each Person to whom it proposes to transfer any interest in the Preference Shares of the transfer restrictions and representations set forth in the Preference Share Documents, including the exhibits referenced in the Preference Share Documents.

14. The purchaser understands that the Preference Share Documents permit the Issuer to compel any Holder of the Preference Shares who is a U.S. Person and who is determined not to have been both (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (y) a Qualified Purchaser at the time of acquisition of the Preference Shares to sell such Preference Shares, or to sell such Preference Shares on behalf of such purchaser, to a Person that is both (x) a Qualified Institutional Buyer and (y) a Qualified Purchaser in a transaction exempt from the registration requirements under the Securities Act.

15. The beneficial owner, if not a U.S. Person, either (i) is not a bank (within the meaning of Section 881(c)(3)(A) of the Code) or (ii) is a person that is eligible for benefits under an income tax treaty with the United States that eliminates United States federal income taxation of United States source interest not attributable to a permanent establishment in the United States. The beneficial owner is not purchasing the Preference Shares in order to reduce its United States federal income tax liability or pursuant to a tax avoidance plan.

16. The purchaser acknowledges that no action was taken or is being contemplated by the Issuer that would permit a public offering of the Preference Shares. The purchaser further acknowledges that no action was taken or is being contemplated by the Issuer that would permit possession or distribution of the Offering Memorandum or any amendment thereof or supplement thereto or any other offering material relating to the Securities in any jurisdiction (other than Ireland) where, or in any circumstances in which, action for those purposes is required. Nothing contained in the Offering Memorandum relating to the Preference Shares shall constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to purchase any Preference Shares in any jurisdiction where it is unlawful to do so absent the taking of such action or the availability of an exemption therefrom.

17. The purchaser understands that in the case of any supplemental indenture to the Indenture that requires consent of one or more Holders of the Preference Shares, the Indenture permits the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser to purchase Preference Shares from any Non-Consenting Holder thereof at the applicable Amendment Buy-Out Purchase Price; and such Non-Consenting Holder will be required to sell such Preference Shares to the Amendment Buy-Out Purchaser at such price.

18. The purchaser understands that the scheduled redemption date of the Preference Shares is subject to multiple extensions of four years each without consent of any Holders of the Preference Shares at the option of the Issuer, if directed by the Servicer, upon satisfaction of certain conditions.

19. The purchaser will not, at any time, offer to buy or offer to sell the Preference Shares by any form of general solicitation or advertising, including, but not limited to, any advertisement, article, notice or other communication published in any newspaper, magazine or similar medium or broadcast over television or radio or seminar or meeting whose attendees have been invited by general solicitations or advertising.

20. The beneficial owner will agree to treat, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (a) the Preference Shares as equity of the Issuer, (b) the Notes as indebtedness of the Issuer and (c) the Issuer as a corporation. The beneficial owner will be deemed to have acknowledged that the Issuer is not authorized to engage in activities that could cause it to constitute a finance or lending business for U.S. federal income tax purposes and agrees that it will report its investment in Preference Shares consistent with such limitation.

21. To the extent required, as determined by the Issuer or the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer, the Issuer may, upon notice to the Preference Shares Paying Agent and the Share Registrar, impose additional transfer restrictions on the Preference Shares to comply with the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001 (the U.S. Patriot Act) and other similar laws or regulations, including, without limitation, requiring each transferee of a Preference Share to make representations to the Issuer in connection with such compliance.

22. The purchaser agrees not to cause the filing of a petition in bankruptcy or winding up against the Issuer before one year and one day have elapsed since the payment in full of the Notes or, if longer, the applicable preference period in effect.

23. The purchaser is not a member of the public in the Cayman Islands.

24. The purchaser acknowledges that the Issuer has the right pursuant to Section 6 of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement to issue additional Preference Shares.

25. The purchaser understands that, to the extent required, as determined by the Co-Issuers, the Co-Issuers may amend the Indenture and, with respect to the Issuer only, the Preference Share Documents, without the consent of any Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Securities to (i) remove any restrictions and limitations imposed on the Co-Issuers or the Holders of the Securities that solely relate to compliance with Section 3(c)(7) and (ii) add any requirements that are necessary for compliance with Rule 3a-7 if, at any time following the Closing Date, the Co-Issuers elect to rely on exclusion from the definition of "investment company" under Rule 3a-7 in lieu of the exclusion under Section 3(c)(7).

26. The purchaser understands that the Issuer may enter into amendments or modifications to the Servicing Agreement without the consent of any Holders of the Securities and without regard to whether or not such amendment adversely affects the interest of the Holders of the Securities.

27. The purchaser is ___ / is not ___ (check one) Highland Financial Partners, L.P. or any of its subsidiaries.

28. The purchaser acknowledges that the Issuer, the Servicer, the Trustee, each Initial Purchaser and others will rely upon the truth and accuracy of the foregoing acknowledgments, representations and agreements and agrees that if any of the acknowledgments, representations or agreements deemed to have been made by it by its purchase of the Preference Shares or any beneficial interest therein are no longer accurate, it shall promptly notify the Issuer, the Servicer, the Trustee and each Initial Purchaser.

THIS LETTER SHALL BE GOVERNED BY, AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH, THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

2. General Duties of the Servicer.

(a) The Servicer shall provide services to the Issuer as follows:

(i) Subject to and in accordance with the terms the Indenture and this Agreement, the Servicer shall supervise and direct the administration, acquisition and disposition of the Collateral, and shall perform on behalf of the Issuer those duties and obligations of the Servicer required by the Indenture and this Agreement, and including the furnishing of orders, requests and officer's certificates, and such certifications as are required of the Servicer under the Indenture with respect to permitted purchases and sales of the Collateral Obligations, Eligible Investments and other assets, and other matters, and, to the extent necessary or appropriate to perform such duties, the Servicer shall have the power to execute and deliver all necessary and appropriate documents and instruments on behalf of the Issuer with respect thereto. The Servicer shall, subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the Indenture, perform its obligations hereunder and thereunder with reasonable care and in good faith, using a degree of skill and attention no less than that which the Servicer exercises with respect to comparable assets that it services or manages for others having similar objectives and restrictions, and in a manner consistent with practices and procedures followed by institutional servicers or managers of national standing relating to assets of the nature and character of the Collateral for clients having similar objectives and restrictions, except as expressly provided otherwise in this Agreement and/or the Indenture. To the extent not inconsistent with the foregoing, the Servicer shall follow its customary standards, policies and procedures in performing its duties under the Indenture and hereunder. The Servicer shall comply with all terms and conditions of the Indenture affecting the duties and functions to be performed hereunder. The Servicer shall not be bound to follow any amendment to the Indenture until it has received written notice thereof and until it has received a copy of the amendment from the Issuer or the Trustee; provided, however, that the Servicer shall not be bound by any amendment to the Indenture that affects the rights, powers, obligations or duties of the Servicer unless the Servicer shall have consented thereto in writing. The Issuer agrees that it shall not permit any amendment to the Indenture that (x) affects the rights, powers, obligations or duties of the Servicer or (y) affects the amount or priority of any fees payable to the Servicer to become effective unless the Servicer has been given prior written notice of such amendment and consented thereto in writing;

(ii) the Servicer shall select any Collateral which shall be acquired by the Issuer pursuant to the Indenture in accordance with the Eligibility Criteria;

(iii) the Servicer shall monitor the Collateral on an ongoing basis and provide to the Issuer all reports, certificates, schedules and other data with respect to the Collateral which the Issuer is required to prepare and deliver under the Indenture and any Hedge Agreement, in the form and containing all information required thereby and in reasonable time for the Issuer to review such required reports, certificates, schedules and data and to deliver them to the parties entitled thereto under the Indenture; the Servicer shall undertake to determine to the extent reasonably practicable whether a Collateral Obligation has become a Defaulted Collateral Obligation; and the Servicer shall monitor any Hedge Agreements and direct the Trustee on behalf of the Issuer in respect of all actions to be taken thereunder by the Issuer;

(iv) the Servicer, subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture may, at any time permitted under the Indenture, and shall, when required by the Indenture, direct the Trustee to (x) dispose of a Collateral Obligation, Equity Security or Eligible Investment or other securities received in respect thereof in the open market or otherwise, (y) acquire, as security for the Notes in substitution for or in addition to any one or more Collateral Obligations or Eligible Investments included in the Collateral, one or more substitute Collateral Obligations or Eligible Investments, or (z) direct the Trustee to take the following actions with respect to a Collateral Obligation or Eligible Investment:

(1) retain such Collateral Obligation or Eligible Investment;

(2) if applicable, tender such Collateral Obligation or Eligible Investment pursuant to an Offer; or

(3) if applicable, consent to any proposed amendment, modification or waiver pursuant to an Offer; or

(4) retain or dispose of any securities or other property (if other than Cash) received pursuant to an Offer; or

(5) waive any default with respect to any Defaulted Collateral Obligation; or

(6) vote to accelerate the maturity of any Defaulted Collateral Obligation; or

(7) exercise any other rights or remedies with respect to such Collateral Obligation or Eligible Investment as provided in the related Underlying Instruments, including in connection with any workout situations, or take any other action consistent with the terms of the Indenture which is in the best interests of the Holders of the Securities;

(v) subject to and in accordance with the terms of the Indenture and this Agreement, the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer shall determine whether to enter into any additional hedging arrangements, increase or reduce the notional amounts of existing Hedge Agreements or terminate existing Hedge Agreements, and the Servicer shall use its reasonable efforts to cause the Issuer, promptly following the early termination of a Hedge Agreement (other than on a Redemption Date) and to the extent possible through application of funds received as a result of the early termination (including the proceeds of the liquidation of any collateral pledged by the hedge counterparty), to enter into a replacement Hedge Agreement;

(vi) the Servicer shall on or prior to any day which is a Redemption Date, direct the Trustee to enter into contracts to dispose of the Collateral Obligations and any other Collateral pursuant to the Indenture and otherwise comply with all redemption procedures and certification requirements in the Indenture in order to allow the Trustee to effect such redemption; and

(vii) if the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, desires to make distributions of Eligible Equity Securities on any Payment Date pursuant to Section 2(e) of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement, the Servicer shall so notify the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent and provide the Trustee and the Preference Shares Paying Agent (for forwarding to each Holder of the Preference Shares with respect to the applicable Record Date) details of such Eligible Equity Securities in accordance with the procedure set forth in Section 3(b) of the Preference Shares Paying Agency Agreement.

(b) In performing its duties hereunder, the Servicer shall seek to preserve the value of the Collateral for the benefit of the Holders of the Securities taking into account the collateral criteria and limitations set forth herein and in the Indenture and the Servicer shall use reasonable efforts to select and service the Collateral in such a way that will permit a timely performance of all payment obligations by the Issuer under the Indenture; provided, that the Servicer shall not be responsible if such objectives are not achieved so long as the Servicer performs its duties under this Agreement in the manner provided for herein, and provided, further, that there shall be no recourse to the Servicer with respect to the Notes or the Preference Shares. The Servicer and the Issuer shall take such other action, and furnish such certificates, opinions and other documents, as may be reasonably requested by the other party hereto in order to effectuate the purposes of this Agreement and to facilitate compliance with applicable laws and regulations and the terms of this Agreement.

(c) The Servicer hereby agrees to the following:

(i) The Servicer agrees not to institute against, or join any other Person in instituting against, the Issuer or the Co-Issuer any bankruptcy, reorganization, arrangement, insolvency, moratorium or liquidation proceedings or other proceedings under federal or state bankruptcy or similar laws of any jurisdiction until at least one year and one day (or if longer, any applicable preference period plus one day) after the payment in full of all Notes issued under the Indenture; provided, however, that nothing in this clause (i) shall preclude, or be deemed to estop, the Servicer (A) from taking any action prior to the expiration of such period in (x) any case or proceeding voluntarily filed or commenced by the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, as the case may be, or (y) any involuntary insolvency proceeding filed or commenced against the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, as the case may be, by a Person other than the Servicer, or (B) from commencing against the Issuer or the Co-Issuer or any properties of the Issuer or the Co-Issuer any legal action which is not a bankruptcy, reorganization, arrangement, insolvency, moratorium, liquidation or similar proceeding. This Section 2(c)(i) shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

(ii) The Servicer shall cause each sale or purchase of any Collateral Obligations or Eligible Investment to be conducted on an arm's-length basis.

(iii) The Servicer shall notify the Trustee and the Share Registrar of any Affiliate of the Servicer that owns the Securities.

(iv) HFP and/or its subsidiaries will purchase Class II Preference Shares having an aggregate principal amount equal to U.S.$41,000,000, Class E Notes having an aggregate principal amount equal to U.S.$9,500,000, the Servicer and/or its Affiliates (other than HFP) will purchase Class I Preferences Shares having an aggregate Face Amount equal to U.S.$17,000,000.

(d) The Servicer shall not act for the Issuer in any capacity except as provided in this Section 2. In providing services hereunder, the Servicer may employ third parties, including its Affiliates, to render advice (including advice with respect to the servicing of the Collateral) and assistance; provided, however, that the Servicer shall not be relieved of any of its duties or liabilities hereunder regardless of the performance of any services by third parties. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Servicer shall not be required to take any action required of it pursuant to this Agreement or the Indenture if such action would constitute a violation of any law.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or the Indenture, (i) any granted signatory powers or authority granted to the Servicer on behalf of the Issuer with respect to the Special Procedures Obligations shall be conditioned upon the prior written approval of the Independent Advisor and (ii) neither the Servicer nor any Affiliate of the Servicer shall have any authority to enter into agreements, or take any action, on behalf of the Issuer with respect to the Special Procedures Obligations without the prior written approval of the Independent Advisor.

3. Brokerage.

The Servicer shall seek to obtain the best prices and execution for all orders placed with respect to the Collateral, considering all reasonable circumstances. Subject to the objective of obtaining best prices and execution, the Servicer may take into consideration research and other brokerage services furnished to the Servicer or its Affiliates by brokers and dealers which are not Affiliates of the Servicer. Such services may be used by the Servicer or its Affiliates in connection with its other servicing or advisory activities or operations. The Servicer may aggregate sales and purchase orders of securities placed with respect to the Collateral with similar orders being made simultaneously for other accounts serviced or managed by Servicer or with accounts of the Affiliates of the Servicer, if in the Servicer's reasonable judgment such aggregation shall result in an overall economic benefit to the Issuer, taking into consideration the advantageous selling or purchase price, brokerage commission and other expenses. In the event that a sale or purchase of a Collateral Obligation or Eligible Investment (in accordance with the terms of the Indenture) occurs as part of any aggregate sales or purchase orders, the objective of the Servicer (and any of its Affiliates involved in such transactions) shall be to allocate the executions among the accounts in an equitable manner and consistent with its obligations hereunder and under applicable law.

In addition to the foregoing and subject to the provisions of Section 2 and the limitations of Section 5, the objective of obtaining best prices and execution and to the extent permitted by applicable law, the Servicer may, on behalf of the Issuer, direct the Trustee to acquire any and all of the Eligible Investments or other Collateral from, or sell Collateral Obligations or other Collateral to, the Initial Purchasers, the Trustee or any of their respective Affiliates, or any other firm.

4. Additional Activities of the Servicer.

Nothing herein shall prevent the Servicer or any of its Affiliates from engaging in other businesses, or from rendering services of any kind to the Trustee, the Holders of the Securities, or any other Person or entity to the extent permitted by applicable law. Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Servicer and partners, directors, officers, employees and agents of the Servicer or its Affiliates may, among other things, and subject to any limits specified in the Indenture:

(a) serve as directors (whether supervisory or managing), officers, partners, employees, agents, nominees or signatories for any issuer of any obligations included in the Collateral or their respective Affiliates, to the extent permitted by their Governing Instruments, as from time to time amended, or by any resolutions duly adopted by the Issuer, its Affiliates or any issuer of any obligations included in the Collateral or their respective Affiliates, pursuant to their respective Governing Instruments; provided, that in the reasonable judgment of the Servicer, such activity shall not have a material adverse effect on any item of Collateral or the ability of the Issuer to comply with each Collateral Quality Test; provided, further, that nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to limit the duties of the Servicer set forth in Section 2 hereof;

(b) receive fees for services of any nature rendered to the issuer of any obligations included in the Collateral or their respective Affiliates; provided, that in the reasonable judgment of the Servicer, such activity shall not have a material adverse effect on any item of Collateral or the ability of the Issuer to comply with each Collateral Quality Test; and provided, further that if any portion of such services are related to the purchase by the Issuer of any obligations included in the Collateral, the portion of such fees relating to such obligations shall be applied to the purchase price of such obligations; and

(c) be a secured or unsecured creditor of, or hold an equity interest in, the Issuer, its Affiliates or any issuer of any obligation included in the Collateral; provided, that in the reasonable judgment of the Servicer, such activity shall not have a material adverse effect on any item of Collateral or the ability of the Issuer to comply with each Collateral Quality Test; provided, further, that nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to limit the duties of the Servicer set forth in Section 2 hereof.

It is understood that the Servicer and any of its Affiliates may engage in any other business and furnish servicing, investment management and advisory services to others, including Persons which may have policies similar to those followed by the Servicer with respect to the Collateral and which may own securities of the same class, or which are the same type, as the Collateral Obligations or other securities of the issuers of Collateral Obligations. The Servicer shall be free, in its sole discretion, to make recommendations to others, or effect transactions on behalf of itself or for others, which may be the same as or different from those effected with respect to the Collateral.

Unless the Servicer determines in its reasonable judgment that such purchase or sale is appropriate, the Servicer may refrain from directing the purchase or sale hereunder of securities issued by (i) Persons of which the Servicer, its Affiliates or any of its or their officers, directors or employees are directors or officers, (ii) Persons for which the Servicer or its Affiliate act as financial adviser or underwriter or (iii) Persons about which the Servicer or any of its Affiliates have information which the Servicer deems confidential or non-public or otherwise might prohibit it from trading such securities in accordance with applicable law. The Servicer shall not be obligated to pursue any particular strategy or opportunity with respect to the Collateral.

5. Conflicts of Interest.

(a) The Servicer shall not direct the Trustee to acquire an obligation to be included in the Collateral from the Servicer or any of its Affiliates as principal or to sell an obligation to the Servicer or any of its Affiliates as principal unless (i) the Issuer shall have received from the Servicer such information relating to such acquisition or sale as it may reasonably require and shall have approved such acquisition, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, (ii) in the judgment of the Servicer, such transaction is on terms no less favorable than would be obtained in a transaction conducted on an arm's length basis between third parties unaffiliated with each other and (iii) such transaction is permitted by the Advisers Act.

(b) The Servicer shall not direct the Trustee to acquire an obligation to be included in the Collateral directly from any account or portfolio for which the Servicer serves as servicer or investment adviser, or direct the Trustee to sell an obligation directly to any account or portfolio for which the Servicer serves as servicer or investment adviser unless such acquisition or sale is (i) in the judgment of the Servicer, on terms no less favorable than would be obtained in a transaction conducted on an arm's length basis between third parties unaffiliated with each other and (ii) permitted by the Advisers Act.

(c) The Servicer shall not undertake any transaction described in this Section 5 unless such transaction is exempt from the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA and the Code. In addition, after the initial distribution of the Class E Notes and the Preference Shares, neither the Servicer nor any of its affiliates (as defined in the Plan Asset Regulation) shall acquire any Class E Notes or Preference Shares (including pursuant to the Extension Procedure or the Amendment Buy-Out Option) unless such acquisition would not, as determined by the Trustee in reliance on representations made in the applicable transfer certificates or other investor agreement with respect thereto or deemed made by holders thereof, result in persons that have represented that they are Benefit Plan Investors owning 25% or more of the aggregate outstanding amount of any of the Class E Notes, the Class I Preference Shares or the Class II Preference Shares immediately after such acquisition (determined in accordance with Section 3(42) of ERISA, the Plan Asset Regulation, the Indenture and the Preference Share Documents). The Class E Notes and the Preference Shares held as principal by the Servicer or any of its affiliates shall be disregarded and shall not be treated as outstanding for purposes of determining compliance with such 25% limitation to the extent that such person has represented that it is not a Benefit Plan Investor.

6. Records; Confidentiality.

The Servicer shall maintain appropriate books of account and records relating to services performed hereunder, and such books of account and records shall be accessible for inspection by a representative of the Issuer, the Trustee, the Collateral Administrator, the Holders of the Securities and the Independent accountants appointed by the Issuer pursuant to the Indenture at a mutually agreed time during normal business hours and upon not less than three Business Days' prior notice. At no time shall the Servicer make a public announcement concerning the issuance of the Notes or the Preference Shares, the Servicer's role hereunder or any other aspect of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and the Indenture. The Servicer shall keep confidential any and all information obtained in connection with the services rendered hereunder and shall not disclose any such information to non-affiliated third parties except (i) with the prior written consent of the Issuer, (ii) such information as either Rating Agency shall reasonably request in connection with the rating of any class of Securities, (iii) as required by law, regulation, court order or the rules or regulations of any self regulating organization, body or official having jurisdiction over the Servicer, (iv) to its professional advisers, (v) such information as shall have been publicly disclosed other than in violation of this Agreement, or (vi) such information that was or is obtained by the Servicer on a non-confidential basis, provided, that the Servicer does not know or have reason to know of any breach by such source of any confidentiality obligations with respect thereto. For purposes of this Section 6, the Trustee, the Collateral Administrator and the Holders of the Securities shall in no event be considered "non-affiliated third parties."

Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement or the Indenture to the contrary, the Servicer, the Co-Issuers, the Trustee and the Holders of the Securities (and the beneficial owners thereof) (and each of their respective employees, representatives or other agents) may disclose to any and all Persons, without limitation of any kind, the U.S. tax treatment and U.S. tax structure of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to them relating to such U.S. tax treatment and U.S. tax structure, as such terms are defined under U.S. federal, state or local tax law.

7. Obligations of Servicer.

Unless otherwise specifically required by any provision of the Indenture or this Agreement or by applicable law, the Servicer shall use its best reasonable efforts to ensure that no action is taken by it, and shall not intentionally or with reckless disregard take any action, which would (a) materially adversely affect the Issuer or the Co-Issuer for purposes of Cayman Islands law, United States federal or state law or any other law known to the Servicer to be applicable to the Issuer or the Co-Issuer, (b) not be permitted under the Issuer's or the Co-Issuer's respective governing instruments, (c) violate any law, rule or regulation of any governmental body or agency having jurisdiction over the Issuer or the Co-Issuer including, without limitation, any Cayman Islands or United States federal, state or other applicable securities law the violation of which has or could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or any of the Collateral, (d) require registration of the Issuer, the Co-Issuer or the pool of Collateral as an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act, (e) cause the Issuer or the Co-Issuer to violate the terms of the Indenture, including, without limitation, any representations made by the Issuer or Co-Issuer therein, or any other agreement contemplated by the Indenture or (f) would subject the Issuer to U.S. federal or state net income or franchise taxation. The Servicer covenants that it shall comply in all material respects with all laws and regulations applicable to it in connection with the performance of its duties under this Agreement and the Indenture. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Servicer shall not be required to take any action under this Agreement or the Indenture if such action would violate any applicable law, rule, regulation or court order.

8. Compensation.

(a) The Issuer shall pay to the Servicer, for services rendered and performance of its obligations under this Agreement, the Servicing Fee, which shall be payable in such amounts and at such times as set forth in the Indenture. The provisions of the Indenture which relate to the amount and payment of the Servicing Fee shall not be amended without the written consent of the Servicer. If on any Payment Date there are insufficient funds to pay the Servicing Fee (and/or any other amounts due and payable to the Servicer) in full, the amount not so paid shall be deferred and shall be payable with accrued interest on such later Payment Date on which funds are available therefor as provided in the Indenture.

The Servicer hereby agrees to waive the Class II Preference Share Portion of the Servicing Fees deposited by the Trustee into the Class II Preference Share Special Payment Account pursuant to the Indenture, which would otherwise be payable to the Servicer as Servicing Fees, on each Payment Date prior to February 3, 2008. With respect to any Payment Date after February 3, 2008, the Servicer may, in its sole discretion, at any time waive a portion (or all) of its Servicing Fees then due and payable, in which event an amount equal to such waived portion will be paid by the Issuer as Class II Preference Share Special Payments pursuant to the Indenture; provided that with respect to the Payment Date in May 2008 such Class II Preference Share Special Payments will, at a minimum, include amounts that would otherwise constitute a portion (representing the Class II Preference Share Percentage) of the Servicing Fees that have accrued from the Payment Date in February 2008 through February 3, 2008. For purposes of any calculation under this Agreement and the Indenture, the Servicer shall be deemed to have received the Servicing Fee in an amount equal to the sum of the Servicing Fee actually paid to the Servicer and the amount distributed to the Holders of the Class II Preference Shares as Class II Preference Share Special Payments.

In addition, notwithstanding anything set out above, the Servicer may, in its sole discretion waive all or any portion of the Subordinate Servicing Fee or Supplemental Servicing Fee, any funds representing the waived Subordinate Servicing Fees or Supplemental Servicing Fees to be retained in the Collection Account for distribution as either Interest Proceeds or Principal Proceeds (as determined by the Servicer) pursuant to the Priority of Payments.

(b) The Servicer shall be responsible for the ordinary expenses incurred in the performance of its obligations under this Agreement and the Indenture; provided, however, that any extraordinary expenses actually incurred by the Servicer in the performance of such obligations (including, but not limited to, any fees, expenses or other amounts payable to the Rating Agencies, the Collateral Administrator, the Trustee and the accountants appointed by the Issuer, the reasonable expenses incurred by the Servicer to employ outside lawyers or consultants reasonably necessary in connection with the evaluation, transfer or restructuring of any Collateral Obligations or other unusual matters arising in the performance of its duties under this Agreement and the Indenture, any reasonable expenses incurred by the Servicer in obtaining advice from outside counsel with respect to its obligations under this Agreement, brokerage commissions, transfer fees, registration costs, taxes and other similar costs and transaction related expenses and fees arising out of transactions effected for the Issuer's account and the portion allocated to the Issuer of any other fees and expenses that the Servicer customarily allocates among all of the funds or portfolios that it services or manages, including reasonable expenses incurred with respect to any compliance requirements, including, but not limited to, compliance with the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, related solely to the ownership or holding of any Securities by HFP or its Affiliates) shall be reimbursed by the Issuer to the extent funds are available therefor in accordance with and subject to the priority of payments and the other limitations contained in the Indenture.

(c) If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 12, Section 14 or otherwise, the fees payable to the Servicer shall be prorated for any partial periods between Payment Dates during which this Agreement was in effect and shall be due and payable on the first Payment Date following the date of such termination and on any subsequent Payment Dates to the extent remaining unpaid and in accordance with, and to the extent provided in, the Indenture.

9. Benefit of the Agreement.

The Servicer agrees that its obligations hereunder shall be enforceable at the instance of the Issuer, the Trustee, on behalf of the Noteholders, or the requisite percentage of Noteholders or the Holders of the Preference Shares, as applicable, as provided in the Indenture or the Preference Share Paying Agency Agreement, as applicable.

10. Limits of Servicer Responsibility; Indemnification.

(a) The Servicer assumes no responsibility under this Agreement other than to render the services called for hereunder and under the terms of the Indenture made applicable to it pursuant to the terms of this Agreement in good faith and, subject to the standard of liability described in the next sentence, shall not be responsible for any action of the Issuer or the Trustee in following or declining to follow any advice, recommendation or direction of the Servicer. The Servicer, its directors, officers, stockholders, partners, agents and employees, and its Affiliates and their directors, officers, stockholders, partners, agents and employees, shall not be liable to the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Holders of the Securities or any other person, for any losses, claims, damages, judgments, assessments, costs or other liabilities (collectively, "Liabilities") incurred by the Issuer, the Co-Issuer, the Trustee, the Preference Shares Paying Agent, the Holders of the Securities or any other person, that arise out of or in connection with the performance by the Servicer of its duties under this Agreement and the Indenture, except by reason of (i) acts or omissions constituting bad faith, willful misconduct, gross negligence or breach of fiduciary duty in the performance, or reckless disregard, of the obligations of the Servicer hereunder and under the Indenture or (ii) with respect to any information included in the Offering Memorandum in the sections entitled "The Servicer" and "Risk Factors—Relating to Certain Conflicts of Interest—The Issuer Will Be Subject to Various Conflicts of Interest Involving the Servicer" and information in the Offering Memorandum relating to the Servicer Letter Disclosure that contain any untrue statement of material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading (the preceding clauses (i) and (ii) collectively being the "Servicer Breaches"). For the avoidance of doubt, the Servicer shall have no duty to independently investigate any laws not otherwise known to it in connection with its obligations under this Agreement and the Indenture. The Servicer shall be liable for any non-waivable breaches of applicable securities laws. The Servicer shall be deemed to have satisfied Section 7(f) and the requirements of the Indenture and this Agreement relating to not causing the Issuer to be treated as engaged in a trade or business in the United States for U.S. federal income tax purposes (including as those requirements relate to the acquisition (including manner of acquisition), ownership, enforcement, and disposition of Collateral) to the extent (i) the Servicer acts consistently with the Collateral Acquisition Agreement with respect to Collateral Obligations and Eligible Investments and (ii) the Servicer does not have actual knowledge that its actions with respect to a Collateral Obligation or an Eligible Investment would violate Section 7(f).

(b) The Issuer shall indemnify and hold harmless (the Issuer in such case, the “Indemnifying Party”) the Servicer, its directors, officers, stockholders, partners, agents and employees (such parties collectively in such case, the “Indemnified Parties”) from and against any and all Liabilities, and shall reimburse each such Indemnified Party for all reasonable fees and expenses (including reasonable fees and expenses of counsel) (collectively, the “Expenses”) as such Expenses are incurred in investigating, preparing, pursuing or defending any claim, action, proceeding or investigation with respect to any pending or threatened litigation (collectively, the “Actions”), caused by, or arising out of or in connection with, the issuance of the Securities, the transactions contemplated by the Offering Memorandum, the Indenture or this Agreement, and/or any action taken by, or any failure to act by, such Indemnified Party; provided, however, that no Indemnified Party shall be indemnified for any Liabilities or Expenses it incurs as a result of any acts or omissions by any Indemnified Party constituting Servicer Breaches. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the obligations of the Issuer under this Section 10 shall be payable solely out of the Collateral in accordance with the priorities set forth in the Indenture and shall survive termination of this Agreement.

(c) With respect to any claim made or threatened against an Indemnified Party, or compulsory process or request or other notice of any loss, claim, damage or liability served upon an Indemnified Party, for which such Indemnified Party is or may be entitled to indemnification under this Section 10, such Indemnified Party shall (or with respect to Indemnified Parties that are directors, officers, stockholders, agents or employees of the Servicer, the Servicer shall cause such Indemnified Party to):

(i) give written notice to the Indemnifying Party of such claim within ten (10) days after such Indemnified Party’s receipt of actual notice that such claim is made or threatened, which notice to the Indemnifying Party shall specify in reasonable detail the nature of the claim and the amount (or an estimate of the amount) of the claim; provided, however, that the failure of any Indemnified Party to provide such notice to the Indemnifying Party shall not relieve the Indemnifying Party of its obligations under this Section 10 unless the Indemnifying Party is materially prejudiced or otherwise forfeits rights or defenses by reason of such failure;

(ii) at the Indemnifying Party’s expense, provide the Indemnifying Party such information and cooperation with respect to such claim as the Indemnifying Party may reasonably require, including, but not limited to, making appropriate personnel available to the Indemnifying Party at such reasonable times as the Indemnifying Party may request;

(iii) at the Indemnifying Party’s expense, cooperate and take all such steps as the Indemnifying Party may reasonably request to preserve and protect any defense to such claim;

(iv) in the event suit is brought with respect to such claim, upon reasonable prior notice, afford to the Indemnifying Party the right, which the Indemnifying Party may exercise in its sole discretion and at its expense, to participate in the investigation, defense and settlement of such claim;

(v) neither incur any material expense to defend against nor release or settle any such claim or make any admission with respect thereto (other than routine or incontestable admissions or factual admissions the failure to make which would expose such Indemnified Party to unindemnified liability) nor permit a default or consent to the entry of any judgment in respect thereof, in each case without the prior written consent of the Indemnifying Party; and

(vi) upon reasonable prior notice, afford to the Indemnifying Party the right, in its sole discretion and at its sole expense, to assume the defense of such claim, including, but not limited to, the right to designate counsel reasonably acceptable to the Indemnified Party and to control all negotiations, litigation, arbitration, settlements, compromises and appeals of such claim; provided, that if the Indemnifying Party assumes the defense of such claim, it shall not be liable for any fees and expenses of counsel for any Indemnified Party incurred thereafter in connection with such claim except that if such Indemnified Party reasonably determines that counsel designated by the Indemnifying Party has a conflict of interest in connection with its representation of such Indemnified Party, such Indemnifying Party shall pay the reasonable fees and disbursements of one counsel (in addition to any local counsel) separate from its own counsel for all Indemnified Parties in connection with any one action or separate but similar or related actions in the same jurisdiction arising out of the same general allegations or circumstances; provided, further, that prior to entering into any final settlement or compromise, such Indemnifying Party shall seek the consent of the Indemnified Party and use its commercially reasonable efforts in the light of the then prevailing circumstances (including, without limitation, any express or implied time constraint on any pending settlement offer) to obtain the consent of such Indemnified Party as to the terms of settlement or compromise. If an Indemnified Party does not consent to the settlement or compromise within a reasonable time under the circumstances, the Indemnifying Party shall not thereafter be obligated to indemnify the Indemnified Party for any amount in excess of such proposed settlement or compromise.

(d) In the event that any Indemnified Party waives its right to indemnification hereunder, the Indemnifying Party shall not be entitled to appoint counsel to represent such Indemnified Party nor shall the Indemnifying Party reimburse such Indemnified Party for any costs of counsel to such Indemnified Party.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, nothing herein shall in any way constitute a waiver or limitation of any rights which the Issuer or the Holders of the Securities may have under any U.S. federal securities laws.

11. No Partnership or Joint Venture.

The Issuer and the Servicer are not partners or joint venturers with each other and nothing herein shall be construed to make them such partners or joint venturers or impose any liability as such on either of them. The Servicer's relation to the Issuer shall be deemed to be that of an independent contractor.

12. Term; Termination.

(a) This Agreement shall commence as of the date first set forth above and shall continue in force and effect until the first of the following occurs: (i) the payment in full of the Notes, the termination of the Indenture in accordance with its terms and the redemption in full of the Preference Shares; (ii) the liquidation of the Collateral and the final distribution of the proceeds of such liquidation to the Holders of the Securities; or (iii) the termination of this Agreement in accordance with subsection (b), (c), (d) or (e) of this Section 12 or Section 14 of this Agreement.

(b) Subject to Section 12(e) below, the Servicer may resign, upon 90 days' written notice to the Issuer (or such shorter notice as is acceptable to the Issuer). If the Servicer resigns, the Issuer agrees to appoint a successor Servicer to assume such duties and obligations in accordance with Section 12(e).

(c) This Agreement shall be automatically terminated in the event that the Issuer determines in good faith that the Issuer or the pool of Collateral has become required to be registered under the provisions of the Investment Company Act, and the Issuer notifies the Servicer thereof.

(d) If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to this Section 12, neither party shall have any further liability or obligation to the other, except as provided in Sections 2(c)(i), 8, 10 and 15 of this Agreement.

(e) No removal or resignation of the Servicer shall be effective unless:

(i) (A) the Issuer appoints a successor Servicer at the written direction of a Majority of the Preference Shares (excluding any Preference Shares held by the retiring Servicer, any of its Affiliates or any account over which the retiring Servicer or its Affiliates have discretionary voting authority other than, with respect to the Class II Preference Shares, HFP; provided that, with respect to the voting authority of Class II Preference Shares owned by HFP, such vote shall not be excluded only if such vote is determined by a vote of the majority of the "independent directors" (determined in accordance with the governing documents of HFP and certified in writing to the Preference Shares Paying Agent by any of the "independent directors" of HFP) of HFP) (each such non-excluded Preference Share, a "Voting Preference Share"), (B) such successor Servicer has agreed in writing to assume all of the retiring Servicer's duties and obligations pursuant to this Agreement and the Indenture and (C) such successor Servicer is not objected to within 30 days after notice of such succession by either (x) a Super Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes (excluding any Notes held by the retiring Servicer, its Affiliates or any account over which the retiring Servicer or its Affiliates have discretionary voting authority other than HFP; provided that, with respect to the voting authority of Notes owned by HFP, such vote shall not be excluded only if such vote is determined by a vote of the majority of the "independent directors" (determined in accordance with the governing documents of HFP and certified in writing to the Trustee by any of the "independent directors" of HFP) of HFP) (each such non-excluded Note, a "Voting Note") or (y) a Majority in Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Voting Notes (voting as a single class);

(ii) if a majority of the Voting Preference Shares has nominated two or more successor Servicers that have been objected to pursuant to the preceding clause (i)(C) or has failed to appoint a successor Servicer that has not been objected to pursuant to the preceding clause (i)(C) within 60 days of the date of notice of such removal or resignation of the Servicer, (A) the Issuer appoints a successor Servicer at the written direction of a Super Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes (excluding any Notes that are not Voting Notes), (B) such successor Servicer has agreed in writing to assume all of the retiring Servicer's duties and obligations pursuant to this Agreement and the Indenture and (C) such successor Servicer is not objected to within 30 days after notice of such succession by either (x) Majority of the Voting Preference Shares or (y) a Majority in Aggregate Outstanding Amount of the Voting Notes (voting as a single class); or

(iii) if a Majority of the Voting Preference Shares and a Super Majority of the Controlling Class (excluding any Notes that are not Voting Notes) has nominated two or more successor Servicers that have been objected to pursuant to the preceding clauses (i)(C) and (ii)(C) or has otherwise failed to appoint a successor Servicer that has not been objected to pursuant to the preceding clause (i)(C) or (ii)(C) within 120 days of the date of notice of such removal or resignation of the Servicer, (A) any Holder of the Controlling Class of Notes (excluding any Notes that are not Voting Notes), any Holder of Voting Preference Shares or the Trustee petitions a court of competent authority to appoint a successor Servicer, (B) such court appoints a successor Servicer and (C) such successor Servicer has agreed in writing to assume all of the retiring Servicer's duties and obligations pursuant to this Agreement and the Indenture.

In addition, any successor Servicer must be an established institution which (i) has demonstrated an ability to professionally and competently perform duties similar to those imposed upon the Servicer hereunder, (ii) is legally qualified and has the capacity to act as Servicer hereunder, as successor to the Servicer under this Agreement in the assumption of all of the responsibilities, duties and obligations of the Servicer hereunder and under the applicable terms of the Indenture, (iii) shall not cause the Issuer or the pool of Collateral to become required to register under the provisions of the Investment Company Act, (iv) shall perform its duties as Servicer under this Agreement and the Indenture without causing the Issuer, the Co Issuer or any Holder of Preference Shares to become subject to tax in any jurisdiction where such successor Servicer is established as doing business and (v) each Rating Agency has confirmed that the appointment of such successor Servicer shall not cause its then current rating of any Class of Notes to be reduced or withdrawn. No compensation payable to a successor Servicer from payments on the Collateral shall be greater than that paid to the retiring Servicer without the prior written consent of a Super Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes, a Majority of the Noteholders and a Majority of the Preference Shares. The Issuer, the Trustee and the successor Servicer shall take such action (or cause the retiring Servicer to take such action) consistent with this Agreement and the terms of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer, as shall be necessary to effectuate any such succession.

(f) In the event of removal of the Servicer pursuant to this Agreement, the Issuer shall have all of the rights and remedies available with respect thereto at law or equity, and, without limiting the foregoing, the Issuer or, to the extent so provided in the Indenture, the Trustee may by notice in writing to the Servicer as provided under this Agreement terminate all the rights and obligations of the Servicer under this Agreement (except those that survive termination pursuant to Section 12(d) above). Upon expiration of the applicable notice period with respect to termination specified in this Section 12 or Section 14 of this Agreement, as applicable, all authority and power of the Servicer under this Agreement, whether with respect to the Collateral or otherwise, shall automatically and without further action by any person or entity pass to and be vested in the successor Servicer upon the appointment thereof.

13. Delegation; Assignments.

This Agreement, and any obligations or duties of the Servicer hereunder, shall not be delegated by the Servicer, in whole or in part, except to any entity that (i) is controlled by any of James Dondero, Mark Okada and Todd Travers and (ii) is one in which any of James Dondero, Mark Okada and Todd Travers is involved in the day to day management and operations (and in any such case pursuant to an instrument of delegation in form and substance satisfactory to the Issuer), without the prior written consent of the Issuer, a Super Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes (excluding any Notes that are not Voting Notes) and a Majority of the Voting Preference Shares and, notwithstanding any such consent, no delegation of obligations or duties by the Servicer (including, without limitation, to an entity described above) shall relieve the Servicer from any liability hereunder.

Subject to Section 12, any assignment of this Agreement to any Person, in whole or in part, by the Servicer shall be deemed null and void unless (i) such assignment is consented to in writing by the Issuer, a Super Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes (excluding any Notes that are not Voting Notes) and a Majority of the Voting Preference Shares and (ii) the Rating Agency Confirmation is satisfied with respect to any such assignment. Any assignment consented to by the Issuer, a Super Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes (excluding any Notes that are not Voting Notes) and a Majority of the Voting Preference Shares shall bind the assignee hereunder in the same manner as the Servicer is bound. In addition, the assignee shall execute and deliver to the Issuer and the Trustee a counterpart of this Agreement naming such assignee as Servicer. Upon the execution and delivery of such a counterpart by the assignee and consent thereto by the Issuer, a Super Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes (excluding any Notes that are not Voting Notes) and a Majority of the Voting Preference Shares, the Servicer shall be released from further obligations pursuant to this Agreement, except with respect to its obligations arising under Section 10 of this Agreement prior to such assignment and except with respect to its obligations under Sections 2(c)(i) and 15 hereof. This Agreement shall not be assigned by the Issuer without the prior written consent of the Servicer and the Trustee, except in the case of assignment by the Issuer to (i) an entity which is a successor to the Issuer permitted under the Indenture, in which case such successor organization shall be bound hereunder and by the terms of said assignment in the same manner as the Issuer is bound thereunder or (ii) the Trustee as contemplated by the Indenture. In the event of any assignment by the Issuer, the Issuer shall cause its successor to execute and deliver to the Servicer such documents as the Servicer shall consider reasonably necessary to effect fully such assignment. The Servicer hereby consents to the matters set forth in Article 15 of the Indenture.

14. Termination by the Issuer for Cause.

Subject to Section 12(e) above, this Agreement shall be terminated and the Servicer shall be removed by the Issuer for cause upon 10 days' prior written notice to the Servicer and upon written notice to the Holders of the Securities as set forth below, but only if directed to do so by (1) the Trustee, acting at the direction of a Super Majority of the Controlling Class of Notes (excluding any Notes that are not Voting Notes) or (2) the Holders of a Majority of the Voting Preference Shares. For purposes of determining "cause" with respect to any such termination of this Agreement, such term shall mean any one of the following events:

(a) the Servicer willfully breaches in any respect, or takes any action that it knows violates in any respect, any provision of this Agreement or any terms of the Indenture applicable to it;

(b) the Servicer breaches in any material respect any provision of this Agreement or any terms of the Indenture or the Collateral Administration Agreement applicable to it, or any representation, warranty, certification or statement given in writing by the Servicer shall prove to have been incorrect in any material respect when made or given, and the Servicer fails to cure such breach or take such action so that the facts (after giving effect to such action) conform in all material respects to such representation, warranty, certificate or statement, in each case within 30 days of becoming aware of, or receiving notice from, the Trustee of, such breach or materially incorrect representation, warranty, certificate or statement;

(c) the Servicer is wound up or dissolved (other than a dissolution in which the remaining members elect to continue the business of the Servicer in accordance with its Governing Instruments) or there is appointed over it or a substantial portion of its assets a receiver, administrator, administrative receiver, trustee or similar officer, or the Servicer (i) ceases to be able to, or admits in writing its inability to, pay its debts as they become due and payable, or makes a general assignment for the benefit of or enters into any composition or arrangement with, its creditors generally; (ii) applies for or consents (by admission of material allegations of a petition or otherwise) to the appointment of a receiver, trustee, assignee, custodian, liquidator or sequestrator (or other similar official) of the Servicer or of any substantial part of its properties or assets, or authorizes such an application or consent, or proceedings seeking such appointment are commenced without such authorization, consent or application against the Servicer and continue undismissed for 60 days; (iii) authorizes or files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, or applies for or consents (by admission of material allegations of a petition or otherwise) to the application of any bankruptcy, reorganization, arrangement, readjustment of debt, insolvency or dissolution, or authorizes such application or consent, or proceedings to such end are instituted against the Servicer without such authorization, application or consent and are approved as properly instituted and remain undismissed for 60 days or result in adjudication of bankruptcy or insolvency; or (iv) permits or suffers all or any substantial part of its properties or assets to be sequestered or attached by court order and the order remains undismissed for 60 days;

(d) the occurrence of any Event of Default under the Indenture that results from any breach by the Servicer of its duties under the Indenture or this Agreement, which breach or default is not cured within any applicable cure period; or

(e) (x) the occurrence of an act by the Servicer related to its activities in any servicing, securities, financial advisory or other investment business that constitutes fraud, (y) the Servicer being indicted, or any of its principals being convicted, of a felony criminal offense related to its activities in any servicing, securities, financial advisory or other investment business or (z) the Servicer being indicted for, adjudged liable in a civil suit for, or convicted of a violation of the Securities Act or any other United States Federal securities law or any rules or regulations thereunder.

If any of the events specified in this Section 14 shall occur, the Servicer shall give prompt written notice thereof to the Issuer, the Trustee and the Holders of all outstanding Notes and Preference Shares upon the Servicer's becoming aware of the occurrence of such event.

15. Action Upon Termination.

(a) From and after the effective date of termination of this Agreement, the Servicer shall not be entitled to compensation for further services hereunder, but shall be paid all compensation accrued to the date of termination, as provided in Section 8 hereof, and shall be entitled to receive any amounts owing under Section 10 hereof. Upon the effective date of termination of this Agreement, the Servicer shall as soon as practicable:

(i) deliver to the Issuer all property and documents of the Trustee or the Issuer or otherwise relating to the Collateral then in the custody of the Servicer; and

(ii) deliver to the Trustee an accounting with respect to the books and records delivered to the Trustee or the successor Servicer appointed pursuant to Section 12(e) hereof.

Notwithstanding such termination, the Servicer shall remain liable to the extent set forth herein (but subject to Section 10 hereof) for its acts or omissions hereunder arising prior to termination and for any expenses, losses, damages, liabilities, demands, charges and claims (including reasonable attorneys' fees) in respect of or arising out of a breach of the representations and warranties made by the Servicer in Section 16(b) hereof or from any failure of the Servicer to comply with the provisions of this Section 15.

(b) The Servicer agrees that, notwithstanding any termination of this Agreement, it shall reasonably cooperate in any Proceeding arising in connection with this Agreement, the Indenture or any of the Collateral (excluding any such Proceeding in which claims are asserted against the Servicer or any Affiliate of the Servicer) upon receipt of appropriate indemnification and expense reimbursement.

16. Representations and Warranties.

(a) The Issuer hereby represents and warrants to the Servicer as follows:

(i) The Issuer has been duly registered and is validly existing under the laws of the Cayman Islands, has full power and authority to own its assets and the securities proposed to be owned by it and included in the Collateral and to transact the business in which it is presently engaged and is duly qualified under the laws of each jurisdiction where its ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business requires, or the performance of its obligations under this Agreement, the Indenture or the Securities would require, such qualification, except for failures to be so qualified, authorized or licensed that would not in the aggregate have a material adverse effect on the business, operations, assets or financial condition of the Issuer.

(ii) The Issuer has full power and authority to execute, deliver and perform this Agreement, the Indenture and the Securities and all obligations required hereunder and thereunder and has taken all necessary action to authorize this Agreement, the Indenture and the Securities on the terms and conditions hereof and thereof and the execution by the Issuer, delivery and performance of this Agreement, the Indenture and the Securities and the performance of all obligations imposed upon it hereunder and thereunder. No consent of any other person including, without limitation, shareholders and creditors of the Issuer, and no license, permit, approval or authorization of, exemption by, notice or report to, or registration, filing or declaration with, any governmental authority, other than those that may be required under state securities or "blue sky" laws and those that have been or shall be obtained in connection with the Indenture and the Securities is required by the Issuer in connection with this Agreement, the Indenture and the Securities or the execution, delivery, performance, validity or enforceability of this Agreement, the Indenture and the Securities or the obligations imposed upon it hereunder or thereunder. This Agreement constitutes, and each instrument or document required hereunder, when executed and delivered hereunder, shall constitute, the legally valid and binding obligation of the Issuer enforceable against the Issuer in accordance with its terms, subject to (a) the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency or similar laws affecting generally the enforcement of creditors' rights and (b) general equitable principles.

(iii) The execution by the Issuer, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the documents and instruments required hereunder shall not violate any provision of any existing law or regulation binding on the Issuer, or any order, judgment, award or decree of any court, arbitrator or governmental authority binding on the Issuer, or the Governing Instruments of, or any securities issued by, the Issuer or of any mortgage, indenture, lease, contract or other agreement, instrument or undertaking to which the Issuer is a party or by which the Issuer or any of its assets may be bound, the violation of which would have a material adverse effect on the business, operations, assets or financial condition of the Issuer, and shall not result in or require the creation or imposition of any lien on any of its property, assets or revenues pursuant to the provisions of any such mortgage, indenture, lease, contract or other agreement, instrument or undertaking (other than the lien of the Indenture).

(iv) The Issuer is not in violation of its Governing Instruments or in breach or violation of or in default under the Indenture or any contract or agreement to which it is a party or by which it or any of its assets may be bound, or any applicable statute or any rule, regulation or order of any court, government agency or body having jurisdiction over the Issuer or its properties, the breach or violation of which or default under which would have a material adverse effect on the validity or enforceability of this Agreement or the performance by the Issuer of its duties hereunder.

(v) True and complete copies of the Indenture and the Issuer's Governing Instruments have been delivered to the Servicer.

The Issuer agrees to deliver a true and complete copy of each amendment to the documents referred to in Section 16(a)(v) above to the Servicer as promptly as practicable after its adoption or execution.

(b) The Servicer hereby represents and warrants to the Issuer as follows:

(i) The Servicer is a limited partnership duly organized and validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware, has full power and authority to own its assets and to transact the business in which it is currently engaged and is duly qualified and in good standing under the laws of each jurisdiction where its ownership or lease of property or the conduct of its business requires, or the performance of this Agreement would require such qualification, except for those jurisdictions in which the failure to be so qualified, authorized or licensed would not have a material adverse effect on the business, operations, assets or financial condition of the Servicer or on the ability of the Servicer to perform its obligations under, or on the validity or enforceability of, this Agreement and the provisions of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer.

(ii) The Servicer has full power and authority to execute, deliver and perform this Agreement and all obligations required hereunder and under the provisions of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer, and has taken all necessary action to authorize this Agreement on the terms and conditions hereof and the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and all obligations required hereunder and under the terms of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer. No consent of any other person, including, without limitation, creditors of the Servicer, and no license, permit, approval or authorization of, exemption by, notice or report to, or registration, filing or declaration with, any governmental authority is required by the Servicer in connection with this Agreement or the execution, delivery, performance, validity or enforceability of this Agreement or the obligations required hereunder or under the terms of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer. This Agreement has been, and each instrument and document required hereunder or under the terms of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer shall be, executed and delivered by a duly authorized partner of the Servicer, and this Agreement constitutes, and each instrument and document required hereunder or under the terms of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer when executed and delivered by the Servicer hereunder or under the terms of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer shall constitute, the valid and legally binding obligations of the Servicer enforceable against the Servicer in accordance with their terms, subject to (a) the effect of bankruptcy, insolvency or similar laws affecting generally the enforcement of creditors' rights and (b) general equitable principles.

(iii) The execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the terms of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer and the documents and instruments required hereunder or under the terms of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer shall not violate or conflict with any provision of any existing law or regulation binding on or applicable to the Servicer, or any order, judgment, award or decree of any court, arbitrator or governmental authority binding on the Servicer, or the Governing Instruments of, or any securities issued by the Servicer or of any mortgage, indenture, lease, contract or other agreement, instrument or undertaking to which the Servicer is a party or by which the Servicer or any of its assets may be bound, the violation of which would have a material adverse effect on the business, operations, assets or financial condition of the Servicer or its ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement and the provisions of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer, and shall not result in or require the creation or imposition of any lien on any of its material property, assets or revenues pursuant to the provisions of any such mortgage, indenture, lease, contract or other agreement, instrument or undertaking.

(iv) There is no charge, investigation, action, suit or proceeding before or by any court pending or, to the best knowledge of the Servicer, threatened that, if determined adversely to the Servicer, would have a material adverse effect upon the performance by the Servicer of its duties under, or on the validity or enforceability of, this Agreement and the provisions of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer.

(vi) The Servicer is not in violation of its Governing Instruments or in breach or violation of or in default under any contract or agreement to which it is a party or by which it or any of its property may be bound, or any applicable statute or any rule, regulation or order of any court, government agency or body having jurisdiction over the Servicer or its properties, the breach or violation of which or default under which would have a material adverse effect on the validity or enforceability of this Agreement or the provisions of the Indenture applicable to the Servicer, or the performance by the Servicer of its duties hereunder.

17. Notices.

Unless expressly provided otherwise herein, all notices, requests, demands and other communications required or permitted under this Agreement shall be in writing (including by telecopy) and shall be deemed to have been duly given, made and received when delivered against receipt or upon actual receipt of registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, or, in the case of telecopy notice, when received in legible form, addressed as set forth below:

18. Binding Nature of Agreement; Successors and Assigns.

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective heirs, personal representatives, successors and permitted assigns as provided herein. The Servicer hereby consents to the collateral assignment of this Agreement as provided in the Indenture and further agrees that the Trustee may enforce the Servicer's obligations hereunder.

19. Entire Agreement.

This Agreement contains the entire agreement and understanding among the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof, and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings, inducements and conditions, express or implied, oral or written, of any nature whatsoever with respect to the subject matter hereof. The express terms hereof control and supersede any course of performance and/or usage of the trade inconsistent with any of the terms hereof. This Agreement may not be modified or amended other than by an agreement in writing executed by the parties hereto and in accordance with the terms of Section 15.1(h) of the Indenture.

20. Conflict with the Indenture.

Subject to the last two sentences of Section 2(a)(i), in the event that this Agreement requires any action to be taken with respect to any matter and the Indenture requires that a different action be taken with respect to such matter, and such actions are mutually exclusive, the provisions of the Indenture in respect thereof shall control.

21. Priority of Payments.

The Servicer agrees that the payment of all amounts to which it is entitled pursuant to this Agreement and the Indenture shall be due and payable only in accordance with the priorities set forth in the Indenture and only to the extent funds are available for such payments in accordance with such priorities.

22. Governing Law.

THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, WITHOUT REFERENCE TO ITS PROVISIONS THAT WOULD RESULT IN THE APPLICATION OF THE LAWS OF ANOTHER JURISDICTION.

23. Indulgences Not Waivers.

Neither the failure nor any delay on the part of any party hereto to exercise any right, remedy, power or privilege under this Agreement shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, remedy, power or privilege preclude any other or further exercise of the same or of any other right, remedy, power or privilege, nor shall any waiver of any right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any occurrence be construed as a waiver of such right, remedy, power or privilege with respect to any other occurrence. No waiver shall be effective unless it is in writing and is signed by the party asserted to have granted such waiver.

24. Costs and Expenses.

Except as may otherwise be agreed in writing, the costs and expenses (including the fees and disbursements of counsel and accountants) incurred by each party in connection with the negotiation and preparation of and the execution of this Agreement, and all matters incident thereto, shall be borne by such party.

25. Titles Not to Affect Interpretation.

The titles of paragraphs and subparagraphs contained in this Agreement are for convenience only, and they neither form a part of this Agreement nor are they to be used in the construction or interpretation hereof.

26. Execution in Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts by facsimile or other written form of communication, each of which shall be deemed to be an original as against any party whose signature appears thereon, and all of which shall together constitute one and the same instrument. This Agreement shall become binding when one or more counterparts hereof, individually or taken together, shall bear the signatures of all of the parties reflected hereon as the signatories.

27. Provisions Separable.

In case any provision in this Agreement shall be invalid, illegal or unenforceable as written, such provision shall be construed in the manner most closely resembling the apparent intent of the parties with respect to such provision so as to be valid, legal and enforceable; provided, however, that if there is no basis for such a construction, such provision shall be ineffective only to the extent of such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability and, unless the ineffectiveness of such provision destroys the basis of the bargain for one of the parties to this Agreement, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions hereof or thereof shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

28. Number and Gender.

Words used herein, regardless of the number and gender specifically used, shall be deemed and construed to include any other number, singular or plural, and any other gender, masculine, feminine or neuter, as the context requires.

29. Written Disclosure Statement.

The Issuer and the Trustee acknowledge receipt of Part II of the Servicer's Form ADV filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, as required by Rule 204-3 under the Advisers Act, more than 48 hours prior to the date of execution of this Agreement.

30. Miscellaneous.

(a) In the event that any vote is solicited with respect to any Collateral Obligation, the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, shall vote or refrain from voting any such security in any manner permitted by the Indenture that the Servicer has determined in its reasonable judgment shall be in the best interests of the Holders of the Securities. In addition, with respect to any Defaulted Collateral Obligation, the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, may instruct the trustee for such Defaulted Collateral Obligation to enforce the Issuer's rights under the Underlying Instruments governing such Defaulted Collateral Obligation and any applicable law, rule or regulation in any manner permitted under the Indenture that the Servicer has determined in its reasonable judgment shall be in the best interests of the Holders of the Securities. In the event any Offer is made with respect to any Collateral Obligation, the Servicer, on behalf of the Issuer, may take such action as is permitted by the Indenture and that the Servicer has determined in its reasonable judgment shall be in the best interests of the Holders of the Securities.

(b) In connection with taking or omitting any action under the Indenture or this Agreement, the Servicer may consult with counsel and may rely in good faith on the advice of such counsel or any opinion of counsel.

Any corporation, partnership or limited liability company into which the Servicer may be merged or converted or with which it may be consolidated, or any corporation, partnership or limited liability company resulting from any merger, conversion or consolidation to which the Servicer shall be a party, or any corporation, partnership or limited liability company succeeding to all or substantially all of the servicing and collateral management business of the Servicer, shall be the successor to the Servicer without any further action by the Servicer, the Co-Issuers, the Trustee, the Noteholders or any other person or entity.

31. Limitation of Liabilities.

The Issuer's obligations hereunder are solely the corporate obligations of the Issuer and the Servicer shall not have any recourse to any of the directors, officers, shareholders, members or incorporators of the Issuer with respect to any claims, losses, damages, liabilities, indemnities or other obligations in connection with any transactions contemplated hereby, except for any claims, losses, damages, liabilities, indemnities or other obligations caused by the gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of such directors, officers, shareholders, members or incorporators of the Issuer. The obligations of the Issuer hereunder shall be limited to the net proceeds of the Collateral, if any, as applied in accordance with the Priorities of Payments pursuant to the Indenture, and following realization of the Collateral and its application in accordance with the Indenture, any outstanding obligations of the Issuer hereunder shall be extinguished and shall not thereafter revive. The provisions of this section shall survive termination of this Agreement.

32. Consent to Posting of Documents on Repository.

The Servicer hereby consents to (i) the posting of the final Offering Memorandum, the Indenture and any Hedge Agreements (collectively, the "Documents") and the periodic reports to be delivered pursuant to the Documents and any amendments or other modifications thereto on the Repository (as such term is defined in the Indenture) for use in the manner provided in the Repository; and (ii) the display of its name on the Repository in connection therewith.

NEXPOINT STRATEGIC OPPORTUNITIES FUND

Dear Shareholder:

You are cordially invited to attend the 2020 Special Meeting of Shareholders of NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund (“NHF” or the “Fund”) on Friday, August 28, 2020, at 8:30 a.m. Central Time to consider a proposal to change our business from a registered investment company that invests primarily in debt and equity securities to a diversified real estate investment trust (“REIT”) that focuses on unique opportunities in real estate. The Board, including the members of the Board who are not interested persons (as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”)) of the Fund (the “Independent Trustees”), believes that the Business Change Proposal is in the best interest of shareholders because it believes it is the best path for the Fund to increase shareholder value over time. The Business Change Proposal is expected to have the potential to increase shareholder value for the following reasons:

- Potential to provide investors with a superior risk adjusted return compared to equity, fixed income, and distressed debt markets through real estate investments over the next decade. Risk adjusted return is a calculation of the potential profit from an investment that takes into account the degree of risk associated with such investment. Please refer to the “Questions & Answers” section of this Proxy Statement for more information on how risk adjusted return is calculated.
- Expand the Fund’s access to NexPoint’s real estate capabilities (see Question 7, below, for further discussion of the Adviser’s capabilities).
- Potential to reduce the Fund’s historical discount to net asset value (“NAV”). Historically, REITs have traded more frequently at a premium to NAV while closed-end funds have traded at a discount to NAV.
- Potential to provide greater liquidity for shareholders, including the increased ability to raise capital from institutional and retail investors.
- Expected to provide investors with an opportunity to take advantage of the current dislocation in the commercial real estate markets.
- Expected to facilitate the transition of the Fund’s investments to assets with the potential to earn greater income for the Fund in an historically low interest rate environment.

Details regarding the business to be conducted at the Special Meeting are more fully described in the accompanying Notice of Special Meeting of Shareholders and Proxy Statement.

In addition to voting on the Proposals described in the Notice of Special Meeting of Shareholders and Proxy Statement, you will have an opportunity to hear a report on the Fund and to discuss other matters of interest to you as a shareholder.

We hope that you will be able to attend the Special Meeting. Whether or not you plan to attend, please complete, date, sign and mail the enclosed proxy card to assure that your shares are represented at the Special Meeting. Thank you for being a shareholder and for your continued investment in the Fund.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS TO BE HELD ON AUGUST 28, 2020

The Special Meeting of Shareholders of NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund, a Delaware statutory trust (“NHF” or the “Fund”), will be held at 200 Crescent Court, Crescent Club, Dallas, Texas 75201, on Friday, August 28, 2020, at 8:30 a.m. Central Time (the “Special Meeting”), for the following purposes:

1. To consider and vote upon a change in the Fund’s business from a registered investment company that invests primarily in debt and equity securities to a diversified REIT and to amend the Fund’s fundamental investment restrictions to permit the Fund to engage in its new business (the “Business Change Proposal”).
2. If the Business Change Proposal is approved, to approve the amendment and restatement of the Fund’s Agreement and Declaration of Trust (the “Amendment Proposal”).

Shareholders are being asked to vote upon each proposal separately; however, the effectiveness of each of the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal is conditioned and dependent upon the approval of both proposals. Accordingly, the Business Change Proposal, if approved, will only be effective if the Amendment Proposal is also approved, and the Amendment Proposal, if approved, will only be effective if the Business Change Proposal is also approved. The Board, including the Independent Trustees, unanimously recommends that you vote “FOR” the Proposals.

No other business may be presented or transacted at the Special Meeting.

The close of business on June 19, 2020 has been fixed as the record date for the determination of shareholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Special Meeting and any adjournment or postponements thereof. Please call Di Costa Partners LLC at (833) 252-3690 for directions on how to attend the Special Meeting.

The Board of Trustees is requesting your vote. Your vote is important regardless of the number of shares that you own. Whether or not you expect to be present at the Special Meeting, please complete and sign the enclosed proxy card and return it promptly in the enclosed envelope, which needs no postage if mailed in the United States. If you desire to vote in person at the Special Meeting, you may revoke your proxy at any time before it is exercised.

PROXY STATEMENT
SPECIAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS
AUGUST 28, 2020

July 10, 2020

The Board of Trustees (the “Board”) of the NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund, a Delaware statutory trust (“NHF,” the “Fund,” “we,” “us,” or “our”), is furnishing this proxy statement and accompanying proxy card (or voting instruction form) to you in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board for the special meeting of our shareholders (the “Special Meeting”). The Special Meeting will be held at 200 Crescent Court, Crescent Club, Dallas, Texas 75201, on Friday, August 28, 2020, at 8:30 a.m., Central time, and any adjournment or postponements thereof (the “Special Meeting”). We are first making these proxy materials available to shareholders on or about July 15, 2020.

Only owners of record of common shares, par value $0.001 per share, as of the close of business on June 19, 2020 (the “Record Date”) are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Special Meeting and at any postponements or adjournments thereof. Holders of common shares are entitled to one vote for each common share. On June 19, 2020, there were 45,606,964 common shares issued and outstanding.

We will furnish, without charge, a copy of our annual report and most recent semi-annual report succeeding the annual report, if any, to any shareholder upon request. Requests should be directed to the Secretary of the Fund at 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201 or by telephone at 1-866-351-4440 or on our web site at www.nexpointadvisors.com.<sup>1</sup> Copies of our annual and semi-annual reports are also available on the EDGAR Database on the Securities and Exchange Commission’s (the “SEC”) website at www.sec.gov.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS ABOUT THE PROXY MATERIALS AND VOTING

1. ON WHAT PROPOSALS AM I BEING ASKED TO VOTE?

You are being asked to consider and vote upon two proposals:

1. To approve changing our business from a registered investment company to a real estate investment trust (a “REIT”). We refer to this proposal as the “Business Change Proposal” in the proxy materials.

If the Business Change Proposal is approved, we will change our business from a registered investment company that invests in (i) secured and unsecured floating and fixed rate loans; (ii) bonds and other debt obligations; (iii) debt obligations of stressed, distressed and bankrupt issuers; (iv) structured products, including but not limited to, mortgage-backed and other asset-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations; (v) equities; (vi) other investment companies, including business development companies (“BDCs”); and (vii) REITs to a diversified REIT. In connection with this change to our business, we would amend our fundamental investment restrictions regarding purchasing and selling real estate and originating loans to allow us to begin the transitioning to our new business as a diversified REIT. The Business Change Proposal is discussed in greater detail in the proxy materials under the heading “Proposal 1: Business Change Proposal.”

2. If the Business Change Proposal is approved, to approve the amendment and restatement of the Fund’s Agreement and Declaration of Trust (the “Declaration of Trust”). We refer to this proposal as the “Amendment Proposal” in the proxy materials.

The Declaration of Trust amendments, if approved, would (i) make certain changes necessary to implement the Business Change Proposal and operate as a REIT, (ii) provide the Trustees with greater flexibility and authority consistent with the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and (iii) implement other updates and clarifications. The Declaration of Trust amendments would also require a supermajority vote to reverse or take other action that would impede the implementation of the Business Change Proposal. The Declaration of Trust amendments are discussed in greater detail in the proxy materials under the heading “Proposal 2: Amendment Proposal.”

2. HOW DOES THE BOARD RECOMMEND THAT I VOTE?

The Board, including the Independent Trustees, unanimously recommends that you vote “FOR” the Proposals.

3. WHY IS THE BOARD RECOMMENDING THE BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL?

The Board, including the members of the Board who are not interested persons (as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”)) of the Fund (the “Independent Trustees”), believes that the Business Change Proposal is in the best interest of shareholders because it believes it is the best path for the Fund to increase shareholder value over time. The Business Change Proposal is expected to have the potential to increase shareholder value for the following reasons:

- Potential to provide investors with a superior risk adjusted return compared to equity, fixed income, and distressed debt markets through real estate investments over the next decade. Risk-adjusted return is a calculation of the potential profit from an investment that takes into account the degree of risk associated with such investment. One measure of risk-adjusted return is the Sharpe ratio, which is a measurement of return or profit per unit of risk. The Sharpe ratio measures the return or profit that exceeds the risk-free rate, per unit of risk as measured by the standard deviation. This is calculated by taking the return of the investment, subtracting the risk-free rate, and then dividing this by the investment's standard deviation.
- Expand the Fund's access to NexPoint's real estate capabilities (see Question 7, below, for further discussion of the Adviser's capabilities).
- Potential to reduce the Fund's historical discount to net asset value ("NAV"). Historically, REITs have traded more frequently at a premium to NAV while closed-end funds have traded at a discount to NAV.
- Potential to provide greater liquidity for shareholders, including the increased ability to raise capital from institutional and retail investors.
- Expected to provide investors with an opportunity to take advantage of the current dislocation in the commercial real estate markets.
- Expected to facilitate the transition of the Fund's investments to assets with the potential to earn greater income for the Fund in an historically low interest rate environment.

Please refer to Appendix A for additional information regarding these statements. In connection with the Board's approval of the Business Change Proposal, the Board also considered potential risks associated with the Fund's conversion to a REIT (the "Conversion"), including (i) the complexity and unique nature of the transaction; (ii) risks related to current market conditions, including market volatility related to COVID-19; (iii) potential delays in receiving the Deregistration Order or in implementing the Fund's investment strategy as a REIT; (iv) the requirement to qualify as a REIT for tax purposes by March 31, 2021 (discussed below); (v) inherent risks in increasing the Fund's exposure to real estate; (vi) the risk that the Fund's exemption from the 1940 Act through a decrease in assets that qualify as "securities" under the 1940 Act is not viewed favorably by the SEC Staff; and (vii) conflicts of interest as noted in the Fund's offering documents.

For a detailed discussion of the principal considerations taken into account by the Board and a discussion of the potential risks in implementing the Business Change Proposal, see "Business Change Proposal—Reasons for the Proposed Change" and Appendix B.

4. WHY IS THE BOARD RECOMMENDING THE AMENDMENT PROPOSAL?

The Fund's current Declaration of Trust was adopted in 2006 and reflects the Fund's operations as a closed-end investment management company registered under the 1940 Act. Some of the proposed amendments to the Declaration of Trust are necessary in order to implement the Business Change

Proposal, operate as a REIT and qualify for REIT tax treatment. Certain of the other proposed amendments would allow the Fund to operate more efficiently and enhance its ability to achieve the full benefit of the Business Change Proposal, as well as update the Declaration of Trust to more modern provisions for investment vehicles organized as Delaware statutory trusts. Accordingly, the Board, including the Independent Trustees, recommends that Shareholders approve an amendment and restatement of the Fund’s Declaration of Trust, as set forth in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix D (the “A&R Declaration of Trust”).

For a discussion of the principal considerations taken into account by the Board and a discussion of the amendments comprising the Amendment Proposal, see “Proposal 2: Amendment Proposal.”

5. WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF ONLY ONE OF THE PROPOSALS IS APPROVED BY SHAREHOLDERS?

Shareholders are being asked to vote upon each proposal separately; however, the effectiveness of each of the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal is conditioned and dependent upon the approval of both proposals. Accordingly, the Business Change Proposal, if approved, will only be effective if the Amendment Proposal is also approved, and the Amendment Proposal, if approved, will only be effective if the Business Change Proposal is also approved.

6. IF THE BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL IS APPROVED, WHAT WILL THE FUND DO TO IMPLEMENT THE PROPOSAL?

If the Business Change Proposal is approved by shareholders, we will begin to transition its business and investments to those of a diversified REIT. At some point during this transition, we will no longer qualify as an “investment company” and we will apply to the SEC for an order under the 1940 Act declaring that we have ceased to be a registered investment company (the “Deregistration Order”). Pending the SEC’s issuance of the Deregistration Order, we intend to begin realigning our portfolio consistent with our new business as a diversified REIT. We anticipate that the implementation period may last up to two years, in which case full implementation will not occur until approximately the middle of 2022. This time period is an estimate and may vary depending upon the length of the deregistration process with the SEC, tax considerations and the pace at which we will be able to transition certain of the Fund’s investments to tactically fund additional real estate investments across the investable issuer’s capital structure. The Adviser expects the Fund to be able to transition its investment portfolio sufficient to qualify as a REIT for tax purposes by the first quarter of 2021.

7. DOES OUR ADVISER HAVE EXPERIENCE IN MANAGING REITS? WILL THERE BE ANY CHANGES TO THE FUND’S INVESTMENT ADVISORY AGREEMENT IN CONNECTION WITH THE BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL?

Our investment adviser, NexPoint Advisors, L.P. (“NexPoint” or, the “Adviser”), and its affiliates have significant experience underwriting, originating, purchasing, and managing real estate investments, REITs and publicly traded companies. NexPoint and its affiliates manage strategies such as direct real estate, real estate credit and originated or structured real estate credit investments and also invest in various credit and equity strategies through long-only funds, Delaware Statutory Trusts, non-traded funds, publicly traded closed-end funds, mutual funds and an ETF. Together with its affiliates, NexPoint had approximately $9.2 billion in assets under management as of March 31, 2020.

The Adviser and its affiliates currently manage nine REITs, which include three publicly traded sector-specific REITs, one privately offered sector-specific REIT and five private REITs which are wholly-owned subsidiaries of registered investment companies, including the Fund, advised by the Adviser and its affiliates (collectively, the “REIT Complex”). The REIT Complex includes three publicly traded sector-specific REITs, one privately offered sector-specific REIT and five private REITs which are wholly-owned subsidiaries of registered investment companies, including the Fund. Within the sector-specific REITs the Adviser manages portfolios of: Class B, value add multifamily properties; single-family housing properties in the Midwest U.S.; hospitality assets located in the U.S.; and mortgages.

As such, the Fund has access to a fully integrated, broad institutional real estate investment platform that, as of March 31, 2020, managed approximately $7.8 billion in gross real estate assets. NexPoint’s position in the markets gives it access to unique sourcing opportunities for investments not typically available to retail investors. NexPoint is a select sponsor with Freddie Mac and has experience structuring financing solutions behind first mortgage lenders, including banks, life insurance companies, Freddie Mac and The Federal National Mortgage Association, or Fannie Mae, including mezzanine loans and preferred equity investments. NexPoint and its affiliates have successfully tailored financing solutions to property owners in creative ways but also highly symbiotic with a typical Freddie Mac or Fannie Mae first mortgage. NexPoint’s multifamily loan and investment platform complies with current Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae standards, giving the Fund a unique opportunity to invest alongside quality sponsors and some of the largest multifamily lenders in the U.S.

After we receive the Deregistration Order, the Adviser will continue to provide the day-to-day management of our operations, subject to the oversight and direction of the Board. Management and administrative fees will remain the same (an annual fee, paid monthly, in an amount equal to 1.00% of the average weekly value of the Fund’s Managed Assets (defined below) for management fees and 0.20% of the average weekly value of the Fund’s Managed Assets for administrative fees) immediately after receipt of the Deregistration Order, subject to the revised definition of Managed Assets discussed below, which is intended to reflect REIT market practice and take into consideration the Fund’s deregistration from the 1940 Act. At this stage, the terms of the investment advisory agreement would also likely be amended to remove certain provisions required by the 1940 Act and to otherwise conform the agreement to terms more customary for publicly traded REITs.

It is important for shareholders to be aware that management fee expenses, as well as other operating expenses, are expected to increase as the Business Change Proposal becomes fully implemented following receipt of the Deregistration Order due to increased costs associated with an increase in the Fund’s gross assets; however, these expenses are projected to be offset by higher projected income attributable to increased cash flows from leveraged real estate assets, resulting in higher projected net income per common share (thus supporting a potentially higher distribution rate in the long term) than without the implementation of the Business Change Proposal.

Following receipt of the Deregistration Order, the Adviser intends to seek Board and shareholder approval to implement a Long-Term Incentive Plan (“LTIP”) for the REIT’s trustees, officers and key employees. The Adviser notes that LTIPs are common in the REIT industry and, better align the interests of management with shareholders.

The Adviser has agreed to a total expense cap of 1.5% of Managed Assets on the aggregate amount of the corporate operating expenses, administrative fees and management fees paid to the Adviser for the twelve-month period following the Fund's receipt of the Deregistration Order ("the Total Expense Cap"). The Total Expense Cap is intended to cap general and administrative expenses and certain other expenses to ensure NHF's expenses are competitive and shareholder friendly.

8. WHAT ARE THE TAX CONSEQUENCES OF IMPLEMENTING THE BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL?

We have elected to be treated and currently operate in a manner intended to qualify for taxation as a "regulated investment company" ("RIC") under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "IRC"). Assuming we deregister as an investment company under the 1940 Act as a result of the Business Change Proposal, our qualification for taxation as a RIC would terminate for the taxable year in which the Deregistration Order becomes effective (the "Deregistration Year") and we intend to elect to be taxed as a REIT under the IRC commencing with the Deregistration Year and in subsequent taxable years. See Appendix C for a detailed discussion of the tax consequences of implementing the Business Change Proposal.

Once the Business Change Proposal is fully implemented, we intend to make monthly distributions to our shareholders in amounts that will, at a minimum, enable us to comply with the REIT provisions of the IRC that require annual distributions of at least 90% of our REIT taxable income (other than net capital gains). The actual amount of such distributions will be determined on a monthly basis by the Board, taking into account the REIT tax requirements, our cash needs, our earnings, the market price of our common shares and other factors the Board considers relevant.

9. WHAT IS THE ESTIMATED COST ASSOCIATED WITH THE BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL? WHO WILL BEAR THE COSTS AND EXPENSES ASSOCIATED WITH THE BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL?

We estimate that the third-party legal fees, transfer agency costs, SEC and NYSE registration fees and de minimus other expenses associated with consideration and approval of the Business Change Proposal will be approximately $1.45 million (the "Transaction Costs"). The Adviser has agreed to cap Transaction Costs payable by the Fund to 20-basis points (0.20%) of the Fund's net asset value (the "Expense Cap").

Based on the Fund's current NAV, the Fund would be responsible for paying Transaction Costs up to $1.5 million. We believe this cap is reasonable given that the average REIT IPO costs on average $3.8 million (including accounting fees, registration fees, FINRA, printing, etc.).<sup>1</sup>

10. WILL MY VOTE MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

YES! Your vote is important no matter how many shares you own to ensure that the Business Change Proposal is adopted. We hope you will participate in the governance of our Fund.

11. WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF SHAREHOLDERS DO NOT APPROVE THE BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL?

If the Business Change Proposal is not approved, or if the Business Change Proposal is not effective because Shareholders did not approve the Amendment Proposal, the Board may consider other options to enhance or preserve shareholder value, including continuing our current operation as a registered investment company.

12. HOW CAN I AUTHORIZE A PROXY TO VOTE MY SHARES?

Please follow the instructions included on the enclosed proxy card or voting instruction form.

13. WHOM DO I CALL IF I HAVE QUESTIONS REGARDING THE PROXY?

PROPOSAL 1: BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL

Introduction

The Board, including the Independent Trustees, recommends that we change our business from a registered investment company that invests in (i) secured and unsecured floating and fixed rate loans; (ii) bonds and other debt obligations; (iii) debt obligations of stressed, distressed and bankrupt issuers; (iv) structured products, including but not limited to, mortgage-backed and other asset-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations; (v) equities; (vi) other investment companies, including business development companies (“BDCs”); and (vii) real estate investment trusts (“REITs”) to a diversified REIT and to amend the Fund’s fundamental investment restrictions to permit the Fund to engage in its new business (the “Business Change Proposal”);

Once the Business Change Proposal is fully implemented, it is expected that investments will be diversified among various commercial real estate property types and across the capital structure, including but not limited to: equity, mortgage debt, mezzanine debt and preferred equity.

It is expected that property types will primarily include industrial, hospitality, net lease, retail, office, storage and healthcare and, to the extent currently owned, multifamily and single-family rentals; however, the Fund would have the authority to invest without limitation in any property type. As of the date of this proxy, the Fund’s real estate portfolio consists of multifamily, single-family, net lease, hospitality, retail, storage, office, and other assets.

The Fund will invest primarily in real estate and real estate related assets; however, the Fund may, to a limited extent, continue to hold, acquire or transact in certain non-real estate securities. To permit us to engage in our new business, our fundamental investment restrictions regarding purchasing and selling real estate and originating loans and certain of our fundamental investment restrictions would be amended to allow us to engage in our business as a diversified REIT.

The Board and the Adviser believe that, over the long term, the Business Change Proposal would result in expanded access to the Adviser’s real estate capabilities, an investment portfolio with the potential to provide a superior risk adjusted return, increased share liquidity, the potential to reduce the discount at which our common shares historically have traded relative to their NAV, and/or provide investors with an opportunity to take advantage of the current dislocation in the commercial real estate markets and low-interest rate environment.

To promote loyalty and long-time alignment of interests among the Fund’s shareholders, the Adviser offers an incentive to shareholders that buy and hold the Fund’s common shares for a period of at least twelve months through its Shareholder Loyalty Plan (the “Plan”). Shareholders holding an account (the “Account”) with the Plan’s administrator, Global Shares, may make contributions to the Account during a defined trading period to purchase shares and NexPoint will make a corresponding contribution on such participant’s behalf (the “Gross-up”). The Gross-up is determined by NexPoint and may be adjusted at any point without notice by NexPoint prospectively from time to time in accordance with the terms of the Plan. For example, if a participant contributes $10,000 to the Account during a defined trading period to purchase shares and NexPoint has determined the participant’s Gross-up will be 2%, NexPoint will make a corresponding contribution of $200, or 2% of the total $10,000, to purchase additional Shares for the participant. In addition, Plan participants are not required to pay any customary purchase commissions or distribution fees on the purchase of shares under the Plan. The Adviser intends to continue the Plan following the Fund’s conversion into a REIT.

For a variety of reasons discussed below, the Board believes that the Business Change Proposal is a better long-term business strategy and is more likely to increase shareholder value than continuing to operate as a registered investment company.

The Board has unanimously recommended that shareholders vote “FOR” the Business Change Proposal.

Set forth below is a summary of the Board’s considerations in approving the Business Change Proposal.

Reasons for the Proposed Change

---

Following preliminary discussion of the Business Change Proposal beginning in February 2020, the Adviser presented the Business Change Proposal to the Board at a meeting on April 28, 2020. The Board reached their decision to unanimously recommend the Business Change Proposal after approximately four months of consideration, discussions and deliberations, during which the Board met on eight occasions. The Independent Board Members also reviewed and discussed the Business Change Proposal during executive sessions with their independent legal counsel at which no representatives of management were present. The Board also had the opportunity to request additional follow up information, which the Adviser provided.

The Board reviewed materials prepared by the Adviser relating to the Business Change Proposal, our investment objectives, strategies, and restrictions, the types of investments we intend to make if the Business Change Proposal is approved, the risk and return characteristics of those investments, projected income and expenses anticipated to be associated with implementing the Business Change Proposal and associated with operating as a diversified REIT and related matters.

These materials generally compared our business and prospects both with and without implementing the Business Change Proposal, and the Board discussed these matters extensively with the Adviser. Given the Adviser’s experience in the investment management and REIT industries, the Adviser prepared a report evaluating the overall REIT industry and the anticipated broader impact of the implementation of the Business Change Proposal on the Fund, including on the Fund’s operations and performance. During the course of its evaluation, the Board also consulted with the Adviser and the Adviser’s and the Fund’s legal counsel. Throughout the process, the Board, and separately, the Independent Trustees with their independent counsel, met in executive sessions with no representatives of management present to further discuss the Business Change Proposal. At Board meetings held on June 16, 2020 and June 18-19, 2020, the Board further discussed the Business Change Proposal and, after meeting in executive session, unanimously recommended that the Board approve the Business Change Proposal and submit it to a vote of the Fund’s shareholders. In reaching its decision to recommend the approval of the Business Change Proposal, the Board, in consultation with the Adviser, considered various factors it deemed relevant, including, but not limited to, the following factors:

- In considering the Business Change Proposal, the Board noted its discussions with the Adviser regarding the anticipated positive impact that the implementation of the Business Change Proposal would have on the sustainability and potential growth of earnings and distribution rate over the long term. The Board in particular considered in its evaluations, the Adviser’s discussion of the potential benefits of the Business Change Proposal, including that, over the long term, our new investment strategies could result in our result in expanded access to the Adviser's real estate capabilities, an investment portfolio with the potential to provide a superior risk adjusted return, increased share liquidity, the potential to reduce the discount at which our common shares historically have traded relative to their NAV, and/or providing investors with an opportunity to take advantage of the current dislocation in the commercial real estate markets and low-interest rate environment.

- The Board further considered that the Adviser has committed to cap third-party legal fees, transfer agency costs, SEC and NYSE registration fees and de minimus other costs and expenses associated with consideration and approval of the Business Change Proposal (the "Transaction Costs") to 20-basis points (0.20%) of the Fund's net asset value (the "Expense Cap") compared to the average cost of a REIT's initial public offering, (including accounting fees, registration fees, FINRA, printing, etc.).
- The Board considered pro forma fees and expenses associated with implementing the Business Change Proposal and associated with operating as a diversified REIT, including expense information relating to other REITs in the REIT Complex. The Board took into account the Adviser's discussion of the Fund's fees and expenses, including that although management fee expenses and other operating expenses are expected to increase as the Business Change Proposal becomes fully implemented following receipt of the Deregistration Order due to increased costs associated with an increase in the Fund's gross assets, these expenses are projected to be offset by higher projected income attributable to increased cash flows from leveraged real estate assets, which, potentially could result in higher projected net income per common share than without the implementation of the Business Change Proposal (and thus, although no guarantee, supporting a potentially higher distribution rate in the long term).
- The Board also took into account that the Adviser has agreed to the Total Expense Cap of 1.5% of Managed Assets on the aggregate amount of the corporate operating expenses, administrative fees and management fees paid to the Adviser for the twelve-month period following the Fund's receipt of the Deregistration Order.
- The Board considered the Adviser's belief that, given the current phase of the real estate cycle, the current and projected interest rate environment and anticipated economic decline, a diversified real estate investment trust could provide the Fund with a greater ability to generate returns for shareholders and could represent a more favorable risk-return tradeoff, as compared to investing primarily in equity securities of companies engaged in real estate businesses.
- The Board discussed the following advantages of a diversified REIT strategy<sup>2</sup>:
  - o Real estate investments have generally outperformed the securities markets over long periods of time;
  - o REITs generally provide investors with greater liquidity, including the increased ability to raise capital from institutional and retail investors;

<sup>2</sup> Please refer to Appendix A for support provided to the Board for consideration of the Business Change Proposal.

Table of Contents

- o Historically, REITs have traded more frequently at a premium to NAV while closed-end funds have traded at a discount to NAV;
  - o The proposed diversified REIT strategy has the potential to generate higher income than the current strategy; and
  - o REITs can offer additional tax advantages compared to closed-end funds, such as a 20% deduction for most REIT ordinary income dividends received by non-corporate U.S. shareholders and generally a greater portion of a REIT's dividends being classified as a tax-deferred return of capital due to the depreciation and other expenses accrued from owning properties.
- The Board noted that, notwithstanding these anticipated advantages, the particular nature of any economic downturns, recessions or financial crises (including the recent recession caused by the COVID-19 pandemic), and issuer specific or asset class/property type specific risk could adversely impact the anticipated risk-return tradeoff for real estate investing and lead to losses notwithstanding any perceived protection provided by investing in direct real estate and real estate debt as opposed to the current strategy.
  - Additionally, the Board noted that the Fund is currently required to, under normal market conditions, invest at least 25% of the value of its total assets in the real estate industry, including obligations issued or guaranteed by the U.S. Government, any state or territory of the United States or any of their agencies, instrumentalities or political subdivisions, and investments by any territory of the United States or any of their agencies, instrumentalities or political subdivisions for which the underlying collateral is real estate. The Board noted that shareholders had previously voted to approve the 25% policy with respect to the Fund's investments in the real estate industry and that converting the Fund to a REIT would better position the Fund to access such real estate investments.
  - The Board assesses the Fund's performance at each quarterly meeting and during its regular telephonic meetings. The Board noted that over the last several years, real estate investments were among the Fund's top contributors and led to less volatility within the Fund's portfolio.
  - Shares of closed-end funds often trade in the marketplace at a discount to their NAV per share. This has been the case for our common shares, given that they have traded at a persistent discount to our NAV for the past several years. In October 2019, the Board approved a repurchase program of up to $25 million of the Fund's shares over a period of six months. Due to continued volatility in the markets in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Board amended and restated the Fund's repurchase program to permit the Fund to purchase up to 10% of the Fund's outstanding shares over the next 1-year period. The Board noted that despite these efforts, the Fund's common shares have continued to trade at a discount to NAV.
  - Additionally, the Board considered the potential for reduction in the Fund's discount to NAV once converted to a REIT based on the historical trading discounts of REITs and closed-end funds.
  - In evaluating U.S. listed REITs invested in similar property types, the Board noted the Adviser's presentation that that these REITs often, though not always, traded at a premium to net asset value and considered the potential for the Business Change Proposal, in the long term, to act as a catalyst for providing shareholders with an improved likelihood of being able to trade their common shares at a price closer to, or perhaps even in excess of, NAV. The Board noted the precedent of another closed-end fund that deregistered and became a REIT and the impact of such conversion on the trading price of that fund, though the Board also noted the different facts and circumstances applicable to that situation and that there could be no assurance that converting to a diversified REIT would have a similar impact on the market price of our common shares. The Board also noted that another closed-end fund recently received shareholder approval to deregister and become a mortgage REIT for many of the same reasons noted above.

- The Board also considered the size of NHF's asset base and that NHF is of sufficient size to operate as a REIT, noting the Fund is currently larger than approximately 30% of publicly traded REITs.
- The Board and the Adviser believe that the Fund's status as a closed-end fund has made it difficult for the Fund to attract interest from broader capital market participants, including market analysts, and therefore may be an obstacle to enhancing our profile in the market and thus the market liquidity and trading prices of our common shares. The Board believes that the Business Change Proposal's potential for long term enhancement of the price at which our common shares trade relative to their NAV could protect our long-term shareholders from these vulnerabilities and preserve value for them, while at the same time improving market sentiment and recognition for us, which in turn could enhance the market liquidity of our common shares.
- The Board considered the Adviser's and its affiliates' position in the markets and access to unique sourcing opportunities, including that the Adviser is a select sponsor with Freddie Mac and has experience structuring unique financing solutions behind first mortgage lenders, including banks, life insurance companies, Freddie Mac and The Federal National Mortgage Association, or Fannie Mae, including mezzanine loans and preferred equity investments.
- The Board considered the current investments of the Fund, including that a significant portion of the Fund's net assets are already comprised of real estate and real estate related securities, and that transition of the Fund's remaining assets into assets sufficient to render the Fund not an "investment company" under the 1940 Act could be facilitated at a relatively low cost.
- The Board considered the experience and qualifications of the Adviser's and its affiliates' personnel in managing REITs and whether the Fund's total assets were sufficient to allow us to successfully implement the Business Change Proposal. The Board noted the substantial experience of the Adviser's personnel and its affiliates in the real estate management, REIT and mortgage origination businesses and the experience of the Adviser's personnel that would service us if the Business Change Proposal is approved. The Board concluded that the Adviser has the wherewithal to successfully implement the Business Change Proposal. The Board also considered the performance and trading history of other REITs managed by an affiliate of the Adviser and that the same personnel that conduct the business of the other REITs are expected to conduct our business if the Business Change Proposal is approved.
- The Board recognized that if the Fund is unsuccessful in implementing the Business Change Proposal, the anticipated benefits of the Business Change Proposal may not be realized. The Board also recognized that, based on projections, there would be an extended implementation period for the Business Change Proposal because of the anticipated length of time to obtain the Deregistration Order and the timing of becoming a REIT which may be impacted by tax considerations. The Board noted the Adviser’s expectation that the Fund would be able to transition its investment portfolio sufficient to qualify as a REIT for tax purposes by the first quarter of 2021; however, the implementation period may last up to two years, in which case the full implementation will not occur until approximately the middle of 2022. The Board noted that this time period was an estimate and may vary depending upon the length of the deregistration process with the SEC, tax considerations and the pipeline of mortgage origination opportunities.

- The Board considered the impact to the Fund of no longer being subject to regulation as a registered investment company under the 1940 Act. The Board noted that the 1940 Act provides certain protections to shareholders that would no longer apply once we deregister under the 1940 Act. The Board concluded that this result was appropriate given the differing nature of the Fund’s business following the implementation of the Business Change Proposal as a type of business that Congress chose not to regulate under the 1940 Act. The Board noted that the Business Change Proposal could also provide benefits to shareholders. The Board noted that the lack of 1940 Act regulation would permit the Fund, post implementation of the Business Change Proposal, to compete with other similar diversified REITs through more flexible ability to transact with related parties, including other REITS managed by the Adviser or its affiliates, without being subject to the restrictions of the 1940 Act. The Board also noted that the Fund would continue to be subject to reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the “Exchange Act”) and shareholders would continue to have the benefit of the significant regulatory protections provided by the corporate governance requirements of the NYSE or another national securities exchange. See “—Implementation of the Business Change Proposal and Related Risks” and “—Operation as a REIT.”
- The Board also considered any direct and indirect benefits to the Adviser and its affiliates as a result of the Business Change Proposal.
- The Board considered the tax consequences of the Business Change Proposal, including that as a REIT, we expect to pay distributions to shareholders of at least 90% of our REIT taxable income (other than net capital gains). See “—U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations of the Fund’s Conversion to a REIT” and Appendix C.
- The Board considered the current market disruptions and volatility arising out of the COVID-19 pandemic, including the impact on the Fund’s equity investments, the Fund’s ability to pursue its current investment strategy, and the ability for the Fund to take advantage of opportunities in the real estate markets due to dislocation caused by recent quarantine and shelter in place orders. For example, valuations of real estate properties and debt securities across various property sectors have declined significantly since the outbreak of COVID-19. Based on the Adviser’s experience, the Board believes the Fund can take advantage of these dislocations.
- The Board took into account potential risks associated with implementing the Business Change Proposal, including those discussed in Appendix B.

In determining to approve the Business Change Proposal, the Board did not identify any particular factor as determinative, and each Trustee attributed different weights to the various factors. These factors were also considered by the Independent Trustees meeting separately from the full Board with their independent counsel and both with and without Fund counsel. Following review and discussions with the Adviser and Fund counsel, the Board, including separately the Independent Trustees, unanimously determined that the Business Change Proposal is advisable and in the best interests of the Fund and the Fund's shareholders. During Board meetings held on June 18-19 2020, the Board, including the Independent Trustees, unanimously approved the Business Change Proposal and directed that the Business Change Proposal be submitted for consideration by our shareholders. If shareholders do not approve the Business Change Proposal, the Board may consider other options to enhance or preserve shareholder value, including continuing our current operation as a registered investment company.

THE BOARD, INCLUDING THE INDEPENDENT TRUSTEES, UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT SHAREHOLDERS VOTE “FOR” THE BUSINESS CHANGE PROPOSAL.

Implementation of the Business Change Proposal and Related Risks

Realignment of Portfolio and Deregistration. If the Business Change Proposal is approved by shareholders, we will begin to realign our portfolio to invest to a greater degree in real estate and real estate related assets. At some point during this transition process, we will no longer qualify as an “investment company” under the 1940 Act and will apply to the SEC for a Deregistration Order. We intend to accomplish this by selling certain existing investments in securities, as defined in the 1940 Act, to fund additional investments to tactically fund additional real estate investments across the capital stack. The composition of our portfolio during the transition period will depend upon a variety of factors, including changes in economic conditions, desired common share distribution level, the availability of desirable investment opportunities and the availability of leverage facilities on acceptable terms, among others. The issuance of the Deregistration Order by the SEC is not within our control, and we anticipate that it may take a year or longer from the date of filing of the application to obtain the Deregistration Order. Until the SEC issues a Deregistration Order, we will continue to be registered as an investment company and will continue to be regulated under the 1940 Act. The Fund will continue to be listed on the NYSE under the ticker “NHF.”

Changes to Our Fundamental Restrictions. If the Business Change Proposal is approved, our fundamental investment restrictions regarding purchasing and selling real estate and originating loans would be amended to permit us to engage in our new business strategy, as set forth below.

Current Fundamental Restrictions	Fundamental Restrictions After Approval of Business Change Proposal But Before Deregistration
The Fund may not purchase or sell real estate, except that the Fund may invest in securities of companies that deal in real estate or are engaged in the real estate business, including real estate investment trusts and real estate operating companies, and instruments secured by real estate or interests therein and the Fund may acquire, hold and sell real estate acquired through default, liquidation, or other distributions of an interest in real estate as a result of the Fund's ownership of such other assets. The Fund may not make loans of money or property to any person, except through loans of portfolio securities up to a maximum of 33 1/3% of the Fund's total assets, the purchase of debt securities, including bank loans (senior loans) and participations therein, or the entry into repurchase agreements up to a maximum of 33 1/3% of the Fund's total assets	The Fund may purchase or sell real estate, except to the extent that it would violate the 1940 Act. The Fund may originate loans to other persons, except to the extent that it would violate the 1940 Act.

Each of the amended policies would remain fundamental, as required by the 1940 Act, until we receive the Deregistration Order, at which time these policies (and other Fund policies) could be changed by the Board without shareholder approval.

We currently have, and will retain until we receive the Deregistration Order, a fundamental investment policy to make investments that will result in concentration (25% or more of the value of our investments) at the time of purchase in the securities of issuers conducting their principal business activities in the real estate industry, including obligations issued or guaranteed by the U.S. Government, any state or territory of the United States or any of their agencies, instrumentalities or political subdivisions, and investments by any territory of the United States or any of their agencies, instrumentalities or political subdivisions for which the underlying collateral is real estate.

Changes to Our Non-Fundamental Investment Policies and Strategies. Our current non-fundamental investment policies and strategies provide that under normal market conditions, we invest:

- To provide both current income and capital appreciation;
- Primarily in the following categories of securities and instruments of corporations and other business entities: (i) secured and unsecured floating and fixed rate loans; (ii) bonds and other debt obligations; (iii) debt obligations of stressed, distressed and bankrupt issuers; (iv) structured products, including but not limited to, mortgage-backed and other asset-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations; (v) equities; (vi) other investment companies, including BDCs; and (vii) REITs; and

- Up to 15% of our net assets in entities that are excluded from registration under the 1940 Act by virtue of section 3(c)(1) and 3(c)(7) of the 1940 Act (such as private equity funds or hedge funds). This limitation does not apply to any CLOs, certain of which may rely on Section 3(c)(1) or 3(c)(7) of the 1940 Act.

If the Business Change Proposal is approved, the foregoing policies and strategies will be replaced with the investment strategy described under “—Operation as a Diversified REIT—Investment Strategy.”

Investment Advisory Agreement. If the Business Change Proposal is approved, our current investment advisory agreement will remain in effect until receipt of the Deregistration Order, including the existing investment advisory fee. After we receive the Deregistration Order, the Adviser will continue to provide the day-to-day management of our operations, subject to the oversight and direction of the Board. Management and administrative fees will remain the same (an annual fee, paid monthly, in an amount equal to 1.00% of the average weekly value of the Fund’s Managed Assets (defined below) for management fees and 0.20% of the average weekly value of the Fund’s Managed Assets for administrative fees) immediately after receipt of the Deregistration Order, subject to the revised definition of Managed Assets discussed below. At this stage, the terms of the investment advisory agreement would also likely be amended to remove certain provisions required by the 1940 Act and to otherwise conform the agreement to terms more customary for publicly traded REITS.

It is important for shareholders to be aware that management fee expenses, as well as other operating expenses, are expected to increase as the Business Change Proposal becomes fully implemented following receipt of the Deregistration Order due to increased costs associated with an increase in the Fund’s gross assets; however, these expenses are projected to be offset by higher projected income attributable to increased cash flows from leveraged real estate assets, resulting in higher projected net income per common share (thus supporting a potentially higher distribution rate in the long term) than without the implementation of the Business Change Proposal.

Following receipt of the Deregistration Order, the Adviser intends to seek Board and shareholder approval to implement an LTIP for the REIT’s trustees, officers and key employees. The Adviser notes that LTIPs are common in the REIT industry and, better align the interests of management with shareholders.

The Adviser has agreed to a total expense cap of 1.5% of Managed Assets on the aggregate amount of the corporate operating expenses, administrative fees and management fees paid to the Adviser for the twelve-month period following the Fund’s receipt of the Deregistration Order (“the Total Expense Cap”). The Total Expense Cap is intended to cap general and administrative expenses and certain other expenses to ensure NHF’s expenses are competitive and shareholder friendly.

Under the terms of our investment advisory agreement, the Adviser provides us with an investment program, makes our day-to-day investment decisions and manages our business affairs in accordance with our investment objectives and policies, subject to the general supervision of the Board. As compensation for its services rendered and the related expenses borne by the Adviser, we pay the Adviser an annual fee, paid monthly, in an amount equal to 1.00% of the average weekly value of the Fund’s Managed Assets. The Fund’s “Managed Assets” is an amount equal to the total assets of the Fund, including any form of leverage, minus all accrued expenses incurred in the normal course of operations, but not excluding any liabilities or obligations attributable to investment leverage obtained through

(i) indebtedness of any type (including, without limitation, borrowing through a credit facility or the issuance of debt securities), (ii) the issuance of preferred stock or other preference securities, (iii) the reinvestment of collateral received for securities loaned in accordance with the Fund's investment objectives and policies, and/or (iv) any other means. We may terminate the investment advisory agreement at any time without penalty by giving the Adviser sixty days' notice and paying any compensation earned prior to such termination, provided that such termination shall be directed or approved by the vote of a majority of our Trustees or by the vote of the holders of a "majority" (as defined in the 1940 Act) of our outstanding voting securities.

Additionally, the Adviser provides administrative services to the Fund. For its services, the Adviser receives an annual fee, payable monthly, in an amount equal to 0.20% of the average weekly value of the Fund's Managed Assets. Under a separate sub-administration agreement, the Adviser has delegated certain administrative functions to SEI Global Funds Services ("SEI"). The Investment Adviser pays SEI directly for these sub-administration services.

The Adviser has historically been affiliated through common control with Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCMLP"), an SEC-registered investment adviser. On October 16, 2019, HCMLP filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection with the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware. The case was subsequently transferred to the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas. On January 9, 2020, the bankruptcy court approved a change of control of HCMLP, which involved the resignation of James Dondero as the sole director of, and the appointment of an independent board to, HCMLP's general partner. Mr. Dondero will, however, remain as an employee of HCMLP and as portfolio manager for all funds and vehicles for which he currently holds such titles. Nevertheless, given Mr. Dondero's historic role with HCMLP and his continued ownership interest and roles with respect to the Highland platform as a whole, as well as the shared services agreements between HCMLP and the Adviser, the Fund will still treat HCMLP and its affiliates as the Fund's affiliates for purposes hereof.

The Adviser is not a party to HCMLP's bankruptcy filing. The Adviser is a party to a shared services arrangement with HCMLP. Under this arrangement the Adviser may utilize employees from HCMLP in connection with various services such as human resources, accounting, tax, valuation, information technology services, office space, employees, compliance and legal. The Fund does not expect HCMLP's bankruptcy filings to impact its provision of services to the Adviser at this time.

In the future, the Fund may engage the Adviser or certain of its affiliates to provide services other than those discussed above. Any arrangements would be subject to approval by the Board prior to the Adviser or its affiliates being engaged to provide services to the Fund.

Distribution Policy. During the transition period before our portfolio has been fully converted to its new investment strategy, we intend to try to maintain the monthly dividend. However, there can be no assurance that we will not reduce our monthly distributions during the investment strategy transition period. We anticipate distributing net capital gains, if any, recognized on the sale of assets during this transition period, either as part of our monthly distributions or at the end of the year in accordance with the requirements of subchapter M of the IRC.

Credit Facility. If shareholders approve the Business Change Proposal, we intend to terminate our credit facility with BNP Paribas Prime Brokerage International, Ltd. We would seek to fund such termination with a replacement credit facility designed for our new business as a diversified REIT. See “—Operation as a Diversified REIT—Policies and Investment Guidelines—Leverage Policies and Financing Strategy.”

Change in Name. We expect to change our name to “NexPoint Diversified Real Estate Trust.”

Effects of Deregistration. As a registered investment company, we are subject to extensive regulation under the 1940 Act. The 1940 Act, among other things,

- regulates the composition of the Board, requiring that the Fund be managed by a board of directors, at least 40% of whom are not “interested persons” of the Fund, as defined in the 1940 Act;
- requires that the Fund’s management agreement be approved by a majority of the directors who are not interested persons of the Fund both initially and on an annual basis; the 1940 Act also generally requires that the Fund’s management agreement be approved initially by the Fund’s shareholders and that any material amendments to such agreement also be approved by the Fund’s shareholders;
- provides shareholders with the right to terminate the management agreement;
- restricts the extent to which the Fund may utilize financial leverage; for every dollar of indebtedness outstanding, the Fund is required to have at least three dollars of total assets and for every dollar of preferred shares outstanding, the Fund is required to have at least two dollars of total assets);
- limits the Fund to issuing one class of indebtedness and one class of preferred shares; restricts the issuance of stock options, rights and warrants; prohibits the issuance of securities for services or for property other than cash or securities, except as a dividend or a distribution to security holders or in connection with a reorganization; restricts the sale of common shares at a price below NAV;
- imposes restrictions on the Fund’s ability to engage in transactions with affiliated persons, including trustees and officers of the Fund, the Adviser and its affiliates and other companies managed by the Adviser, unless such transactions are exempted by the SEC or a rule under the 1940 Act. These prohibitions generally apply to buying and selling securities and other property to or from affiliated persons; lending money to affiliated persons; or participating in joint transactions or profit sharing arrangements with affiliated persons;
- regulates the form, content and frequency of financial reports to shareholders;
- requires the Fund to report its assets at their fair value rather than at cost in financial reports;
- requires the Fund to file periodic reports with the SEC designed for investment companies to disclose compliance with the 1940 Act and to present other financial information;
- prohibits the Fund from changing the nature of its business or fundamental investment objectives, policies and restrictions without the prior approval of its shareholders;

Table of Contents

- prohibits pyramiding of investment companies and the cross ownership of securities;
- requires the Fund to maintain its securities and other investments with certain types of custodians under conditions designed to assure the safety of the Fund's assets;
- provides for the bonding of certain employees;
- requires the Fund to have a written code of ethics and compliance policies and procedures designed to prevent violations of federal securities laws and a chief compliance officer charged with administering these policies;
- regulates the manner in which repurchases of shares may be effected;
- regulates plans of reorganization, including mergers with affiliates;
- prohibits the Fund from limiting the liability of any trustee and officer for willful misfeasance, bad faith, gross negligence or reckless regard of the duties involved in the conduct of his or her office; and
- creates a right in private persons to bring actions in Federal courts to enforce compliance with certain, limited provisions of the 1940 Act.

After we receive a Deregistration Order, we will no longer be subject to regulations under the 1940 Act. Instead, as a diversified REIT, we would be able to, among other things:

- enter into a new management agreement with the Adviser without shareholder approval or change the management agreement;
- shareholders will not have the right to require us to terminate the management agreement;
- employ both direct and structural leverage on our loan investments in amounts in excess of what the 1940 Act permits;
- issue multiple classes of indebtedness and capital stock, including multiple classes of common and preferred stock with different rights, preferences and privileges, and multiple classes of debt with varying terms, seniority and security interests;
- issue stock options, rights and warrants for services or for property in addition to cash or securities, and may sell shares at a price below net asset value;
- engage in transactions involving affiliated persons;
- change our investment restrictions and policies without shareholder approval and without being subject to any regulatory restrictions under the 1940 Act;
- maintain our securities and other investments as we believe would be appropriate without being subject to any custody restrictions under the 1940 Act; and
- amend our organizational documents in accordance with their terms to remove provisions relating to 1940 Act requirements.

Table of Contents

However, we would be regulated by, among other laws, the Exchange Act, which regulates, among other things:

- soliciting proxies from shareholders;
- filing interim and annual reports with the SEC, including annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and current reports on Form 8-K;
- filing securities ownership reports by directors, officers and principal shareholders; and
- restrictions on engaging in insider trading in securities, using manipulative devices in connection with certain security transactions, and making misleading statements in reports or documents filed with the SEC.

After we receive the Deregistration Order, we will continue to be managed by our Board and our officers; however, we anticipate the appointment of certain of NexPoint's real estate professionals as officers of the Fund during the transition. Additionally, as discussed below and in the proxy statement for the Fund's 2020 annual meeting of shareholders (the "Annual Meeting Proxy"), the Board has recommended the addition of Mr. Edward Constantino as a Class II Trustee of the Fund to serve for a three-year term until the 2023 annual meeting of shareholders or until his respective successor is duly elected and qualified.

The Board and the Adviser believe that the Fund would benefit from the expertise that Mr. Constantino would provide in overseeing the Fund's real estate and real estate-related investments, particularly in connection with the implementation of the Fund's conversion to a REIT pursuant to the Proposals. The Board expects that full implementation of the REIT Conversion may take up to two years and would involve, among other things, the transition of the Fund's assets to tactically fund additional real estate investments across the capital stack; therefore, the Board believes that the Fund will benefit from Mr. Constantino's knowledge, experience and oversight during the conversion process. If elected, Mr. Constantino is expected to be appointed to each of the Committees (as defined below).

Mr. Constantino, age 73, has served as a member of NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc. ("NXRT") since NXRT was spun out of the Fund in March 2015. Mr. Constantino has also served as a member of the board of NexPoint Real Estate Finance, Inc. ("NREF"), a mortgage real estate investment trust advised by an affiliate of the Adviser, since February 2020. Mr. Constantino has over 40 years of audit, advisory and tax experience working for two major accounting firms, Arthur Andersen LLP and KPMG. He retired from KPMG in late 2009, where he was an audit partner in charge of the firm's real estate and asset management businesses. Mr. Constantino is, and since 2010 has been, a member of the Board of Directors of Patriot Bank N.A. Mr. Constantino has also served as a consultant for the law firm Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP. He is a licensed CPA, a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and a member of the New York State Society of Public Accountants. He is currently a member of the Board of Trustees and the Audit Committee Chairman of St. Francis College in Brooklyn Heights, New York.

The Board will maintain substantially similar power, authority and discretion as the Board has before deregistration and be subject to the same duties under state law. Shareholders would also continue to have the benefit of the significant regulatory protections provided by the corporate governance requirements of the NYSE or another national securities exchange, including those that require that a majority of the trustees be "independent directors" (as defined under NYSE or other applicable exchange rules), trustee nominations and the compensation of all of our executive officers be subject to independent director approval, and that we hold an annual meeting of shareholders no later than one year after our first fiscal year following listing. In addition, consistent with the requirements of the NYSE or another national securities exchange, we intend to adopt a code of conduct and ethics applicable to all trustees, officers and employees.

Because the regulatory requirements specifically applicable to financial statements of registered investment companies would no longer be applicable to the Fund, the financial information in our financial statements after we receive the Deregistration Order will change. For example, once we are no longer an investment company, we will no longer be required to present a schedule of portfolio of investments as part of our financial statements or report investments at fair value. The Board believes that Mr. Constantino's significant experience in audit, advisory and taxation of real estate and real estate-related investments will benefit the Fund during this transition.

See Appendix B for more information on the risks associated with the Business Change Proposal.

Operation as a Diversified REIT

---

The following discussion assumes that, unless otherwise noted, the Business Change Proposal has been approved by shareholders and we have fully implemented the Business Change Proposal and received the Deregistration Order. See Appendix B for more information on the risks associated with the Business Change Proposal.

Investment Strategy

As a diversified REIT, our primary investment objective will be to provide both current income and capital appreciation. We will seek to achieve this objective by investing among various commercial real estate property types and across the capital structure, including but not limited to: equity, mortgage debt, mezzanine debt and preferred equity. The Adviser will focus on opportunistic investments in real estate properties with a value-add component and real estate credit. The objective will be to increase the cash flow and value of our properties, acquire properties with cash flow growth potential and achieve capital appreciation for shareholders through a value-add program. The Fund will pursue real estate credit investments based on where the Adviser believes the various real estate subsectors are within the broader real estate cycle and tactically allocate among these opportunities.

Underlying property types will primarily include industrial, hospitality, net lease, retail, office, storage and healthcare and, to the extent currently owned, multifamily and single-family rentals; however, the Fund may invest without limitation in any property type. As of the date of this proxy, the Fund's real estate portfolio consists of multifamily, single-family, net lease, hospitality, retail, storage, office, and other assets.

The Fund will invest primarily in real estate and real estate related assets; however, the Fund may, to a limited extent, continue to hold, acquire or transact in certain non-real estate securities.

The Adviser and the Board believe that a diversified investment approach is appropriate for the current market environment. However, to capitalize on investment opportunities at different times in the economic and real estate investment cycle, we may change our investment strategy from time to time. The Adviser and the Board believe that the flexibility of our investment strategy and the experience and resources of the Adviser and its affiliates, will allow us to take advantage of changing market conditions to provide both current income and generate capital appreciation. The Board will be able to modify such strategies without the consent of the shareholders to the extent that the Board determines that such modification is in the Fund's best interest.

Policies and Investment Guidelines

If the Business Change Proposal is approved by shareholders, the Board will approve the Fund's operating and regulatory policies and investment guidelines. The Board currently anticipates adopting the policies and guidelines described below. The Board may, in its discretion, revise or waive such policies and guidelines from time to time in response to changes in market conditions or business opportunities without shareholder approval.

Leverage Policies and Financing Strategy. To increase the returns on our investments, after issuance of the Deregistration Order, we plan to employ both direct and structural leverage on our property and debt investments, which we expect generally will not exceed, on a debt to equity basis, a ratio of 3-to-1, an increase from the ratio of 1-to-2 set by the 1940 Act.

Leverage will take the form of repurchase or margin facilities collateralized by our debt investments and mortgage debt collateralized our property investments. At the REIT level we may have a revolving corporate credit facility, or may issue unsecured debt, mezzanine debt or preferred equity. We believe that the relationships the Adviser and its affiliates, as well as other companies managed by the Adviser's affiliates (the "NexPoint managed companies"), have with banks, life insurance companies, Freddie Mac and The Federal National Mortgage Association, or Fannie Mae, provide the Fund with a unique opportunity to invest alongside quality sponsors and the largest multifamily lenders in the U.S.

We intend to use leverage, to the extent available, to make additional investments that may increase our potential returns. Although we are not required to maintain any particular leverage ratio, the amount of leverage we will use for particular investments will depend upon an assessment of a variety of factors, which may include the anticipated liquidity and price volatility of our assets, the potential for losses in our portfolio, the gap between the duration of our assets and liabilities, the availability and cost of financing our assets, the health of the U.S. economy and commercial real estate markets, our outlook for the level, slope and volatility of future interest rates, the credit quality of our borrowers and tenants, the collateral values underlying our assets and our outlook for market lending spreads relative to the LIBOR (or other applicable benchmark interest rate index) curve.

REIT Operations. We intend to operate to ensure that we establish and maintain our qualification as a REIT for U.S. federal tax purposes and are not required to register as an investment company under the 1940 Act. We intend to regularly monitor the nature of our assets and the income they generate to ensure that at all times we maintain our tax qualification as a REIT and are not required to register as an investment company under the 1940 Act. The Board currently intends to review our transactions on a periodic basis to ensure compliance with these operating policies.

Distribution Policy. We intend to make monthly distributions to our shareholders of amounts that will, at a minimum, enable us to comply with the REIT provisions of the IRC that require annual distributions of at least 90% of our REIT taxable income (other than net capital gains). See Appendix C. The actual amount of such distributions will be determined on a monthly basis by the Board, taking into account, in addition to the REIT tax requirements, our cash needs, the market price for our common shares and other factors our Board considers relevant.

Operating Expenses. Operating expenses may increase as the Business Change Proposal becomes fully implemented following receipt of the Deregistration Order due to increased costs associated with sourcing additional real estate investments and costs associated with servicing those investments; however, these expenses are projected to be offset by higher projected income attributable to increased cash flows from leveraged real estate assets, resulting in higher projected net income per common share (thus supporting a potentially higher distribution rate in the long term).

Following approval of the Business Change Proposal, the Adviser will continue to implement our business strategies subject to the oversight of the Board, including: (a) performing all of our day-to-day activities as a public company operating as a diversified REIT; (b) sourcing, analyzing and closing our investments; (c) arranging our financings; (d) performing our asset management functions by monitoring the performance of our borrowers and the maintenance of our collateral; and (e) when necessary, enforcing our loan and security rights.

Policies with Respect to Certain Other Activities. We may raise additional funds through offerings of equity or debt securities or by retaining cash flow (subject to provisions in the IRC concerning distribution requirements and the taxability of undistributed REIT taxable income) or a combination of these methods. If our Board determines to raise additional equity capital, it has the authority, without shareholder approval, to issue additional common shares or preferred shares of beneficial interest in any manner and on such terms and for such consideration as it deems appropriate, at any time.

In addition, to the extent available, we intend to borrow money to make investments that may increase our potential returns. We intend to use traditional forms of financing, including repurchase agreements, bank credit facilities (including revolving facilities and term loans), public or private debt issuances, securitizations and other sources of financing. Although we have no present intention to do so, we may also issue preferred equity which requires us to pay dividends at fixed or variable rates before we may pay distributions to our common shareholders. We expect that the Board will periodically review our investment guidelines and our portfolio and leverage strategies.

We may invest in equity or debt securities of other REITs or other entities engaged in real estate operating or financing activities, and may do so for the purpose of exercising control over such entities.

We do not intend to adopt a formal portfolio turnover policy. Subject to maintaining our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC for U.S. federal income tax purposes and our exemption from registration under the 1940 Act, we currently expect that we will typically hold investments for between two and 10 years. However, in order to maximize returns and manage portfolio risk while maintaining the financial capacity to undertake attractive opportunities that become available to us, we may dispose of an asset earlier than anticipated or hold an investment longer than anticipated if we determined doing so to be appropriate based upon market conditions or other factors regarding a particular investment.

Anticipated Terms of Management Agreement

For purposes of this discussion, we assume that the Adviser will continue to be our manager although, as stated above, after receipt of the Deregistration Order we may enter into a new management agreement with an affiliate of the Adviser, who would continue to provide for the day-to-day management of our operations, subject to the oversight and direction of the Board.

The Board anticipates that any new management agreement with the Adviser after receipt of the Deregistration Order would include the following terms, which remain subject to negotiation:

Base Management Fee. We anticipate that we will maintain the same fee structure that is currently in place for the Fund, subject to the following changes which are intended to reflect REIT market practice and take into consideration the Fund's deregistration from the 1940 Act. We pay the Adviser an annual fee, paid monthly, in an amount equal to 1.00% of the average weekly value of the Fund's Managed Assets. The Fund's "Managed Assets" is currently defined as an amount equal to the total assets of the Fund, including any form of leverage, minus all accrued expenses incurred in the normal course of operations, but not excluding any liabilities or obligations attributable to investment leverage obtained through (i) indebtedness of any type (including, without limitation, borrowing through a credit facility or the issuance of debt securities), (ii) the issuance of preferred stock or other preference securities, (iii) the reinvestment of collateral received for securities loaned in accordance with the Fund's investment objectives and policies, and/or (iv) any other means. Once the Deregistration Order is received, "Managed Assets" will be revised as follows:

The term "Managed Assets" means an amount equal to the total assets of the Fund, including any form of leverage, minus all accrued expenses incurred in the normal course of operations, but not excluding any liabilities or obligations attributable to ~~investment~~ leverage obtained through (i) indebtedness of any type (including, without limitation, borrowing to purchase or develop real estate or other investments, borrowing through a credit facility, or the issuance of debt securities), (ii) the issuance of preferred stock or other preference securities, (iii) the reinvestment of collateral received for securities loaned in accordance with the Fund's investment objectives and policies, and/or (iv) any other means. (emphasis added)

In the event the Fund holds collateralized mortgage backed securities ("CMBS") where the Fund holds the "controlling" tranche of the securitization and is required to consolidate under GAAP all assets and liabilities of a specific CMBS trust, the consolidated assets and liabilities of the consolidated trust will be netted to calculate the allowable amount to be included as Managed Assets.

Additionally, the Adviser provides administrative services to the Fund. For its services, the Adviser receives an annual fee, payable monthly, in an amount equal to 0.20% of the average weekly value of the Fund's Managed Assets. Under a separate sub-administration agreement, the Adviser has delegated certain administrative functions to SEI Global Funds Services ("SEI").

Expense Reimbursement. The advisory agreement will require that the Fund reimburse the Adviser for all of its out-of-pocket expenses in performing its services, including legal, accounting, financial, due diligence, investor relations and other services performed by our Adviser (or its affiliates, acting on behalf of the Adviser for the Fund) and also pay the Fund's pro rata share of rent, telephone, utilities, office furniture, equipment, machinery and other office, internal and overhead expenses of our Adviser required for our operations ("Adviser Operating Expenses"). Adviser Operating Expenses do not include expenses for the advisory and administrative services provided under the Advisory Agreement. All expenses payable by the Fund or reimbursable to the Adviser pursuant to the agreement will not be in amounts greater than those which would be payable to outside professionals or consultants engaged to perform such services pursuant to agreements negotiated on an arm's length basis. The Adviser may, at its discretion and at any time, waive its right to reimbursement for eligible out-of-pocket expenses paid on our behalf. Once waived, these expenses are considered permanently waived and become non-recoupable in the future.

The Adviser has agreed to a total expense cap of 1.5% of Managed Assets on the aggregate amount of the corporate operating expenses, administrative fees and management fees paid to the Adviser for the twelve-month period following the Fund's receipt of the Deregistration Order ("the Total Expense Cap").

The Total Expense Cap does not limit the reimbursement of expenses related to securities offerings and does not apply to legal, accounting, financial, due diligence and other service fees incurred in connection with mergers and acquisitions, extraordinary litigation or other events outside the Fund's ordinary course of business or any out-of-pocket acquisition or due diligence expenses incurred in connection with the acquisition or disposition of real estate assets.

Other. In addition to the fees and expense reimbursements payable to the Adviser under the management agreement, the Adviser and its affiliates may benefit from other fees paid to it in respect of our investments. For example, if we seek to securitize some of our property loans, the Adviser or its affiliates may act as collateral manager. In any of these or other capacities, the Adviser and its affiliates may receive fees for their services if approved by a majority of our Independent Trustees.

Reports and Annual Meetings

We anticipate that our common shares will continue to be listed on the NYSE or another national securities exchange. We will be required to satisfy the annual and periodic reporting requirements of the Exchange Act, including filing an Annual Report on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q, each of which requires the filing of financial statements and officers' certifications. Furthermore, we will be required to file a Current Report on Form 8-K whenever a reportable event occurs between the above reporting periods. Pursuant to applicable exchange rules, we will continue to hold annual meetings of shareholders.

Trustees of the Fund

The Board is responsible for the overall management of the Fund, including supervision of the duties performed by the Adviser. The Board is currently comprised of four trustees (each, a "Trustee"). The Trustees are responsible for the Fund's overall management, including adopting the investment and other policies of the Fund, electing and replacing officers and selecting and supervising the Fund's investment adviser. The name and business address of the Trustees and officers of the Fund and their principal occupations and other affiliations during the past five years, as well as a description of committees of the Board, are set forth below.

Committees of the Board of Trustees. We currently have an Audit and Qualified Legal Compliance Committee, a Governance and Compliance Committee and a Distribution and Alternatives Oversight Committee (collectively, the "Committees"). The Governance and Compliance Committee is currently comprised of Dr. Froehlich and Messrs. Ward and Powell, each of whom is independent for purposes of the 1940 Act. Mr. Honis serves as an ex officio non-voting Governance and Compliance Committee member. Dr. Froehlich serves as the Chairman of the Governance and Compliance Committee. The structure of the Fund's committees may be changed in the future in order to comply with the applicable corporate governance requirements of the NYSE or other national securities exchange on which the Fund's shares are listed.

Compensation of Trustees and Officers. Each Trustee receives an annual retainer of $150,000 payable in quarterly installments and allocated among each portfolio in the Funds Complex based on relative net assets. The "Funds Complex," as referred to herein consists of: the Fund, each series of Highland

Funds I (“HFI”), each series of Highland Funds II (“HFII”), Highland Global Allocation Fund (“GAF”), Highland Income Fund (“HFRO”), NexPoint Real Estate Strategies Fund (“NRESF”) and NexPoint Capital, Inc. (the “BDC”), a closed-end management investment company that has elected to be treated as a business development company under the 1940 Act.

Trustees are reimbursed for actual out-of-pocket expenses relating to attendance at meetings, however, the Chairman of the Board and the Chairman of the Audit Committee each receive an additional payment of $10,000 payable in quarterly installments and allocated among each portfolio in the Funds Complex based on relative net assets. The Trustees do not receive any separate compensation in connection with service on Committees or for attending Board or Committee Meetings. The Trustees do not have any pension or retirement plan. The executive officers of the Fund receive no direct remuneration from the Fund.

It is anticipated that the size and composition of our Board will change. Additionally, as discussed above and in the Annual Meeting Proxy, the Board has recommended the addition of Mr. Edward Constantino as a Class II Trustee of the Fund to serve for a three-year term until the 2023 annual meeting of shareholders or until his respective successor is duly elected and qualified. If elected, Mr. Constantino is expected to be appointed to each of the Committees.

The Board and the Adviser believe that the Fund would benefit from the expertise that Mr. Constantino would provide in overseeing the Fund’s real estate and real estate-related investments, particularly in connection with the implementation of the Fund’s conversion to a REIT pursuant to the Proposals. The Board expects that full implementation of the REIT Conversion may take up to two years and would involve, among other things, the transition of the Fund’s assets into real estate investments across the capital stack; therefore, the Board believes that the Fund will benefit from Mr. Constantino’s knowledge, experience and oversight during the REIT conversion process.

Board compensation will remain the same during the transition process. The executive officers of the Fund receive no direct remuneration from the Fund. Each Trustee receives an annual retainer of $150,000 payable in quarterly installments and allocated among each portfolio in the Funds Complex based upon relative net assets.

The Trustees are reimbursed for actual out-of-pocket expenses relating to attendance at meetings. The Trustees do not receive any separate compensation in connection with service on Committees or for attending Board or Committee Meetings; however, the Chairman of the Board and the Chairman of the Audit Committee each receive an additional payment of $10,000 payable in quarterly installments and allocated among each portfolio in the Funds Complex based on relative net assets. The Trustees do not have any pension or retirement plan. We expect the annual fee for Mr. Constantino to be prorated based on the Fund’s allocable portion of the annual retainer.

Additionally, the Board may in the future and subject to shareholder approval, implement a long-term incentive plan pursuant to which executive officers and Independent Trustees of the Fund are compensated.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations of the Fund’s Conversion to a REIT

---

The Fund has elected to be treated and currently operates in a manner intended to qualify as a RIC under the IRC. Assuming we deregister as an investment company under the 1940 Act as a result of the Business Change Proposal, our qualification for taxation as a RIC would terminate for the Deregistration Year. As noted above, in that event, we intend to elect to be treated and to qualify for taxation as a REIT commencing with the Deregistration Year and in subsequent taxable years.

Table of Contents

Taxation of the Fund as a REIT

The law firm of Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP (“Hunton”) has acted as our tax counsel (“tax counsel”). Following the commencement of the Deregistration Year, we would expect to receive an opinion of Hunton to the effect that, commencing with the Deregistration Year, we have been organized in conformity with the requirements for qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC, and that our actual method of operation has enabled, and our proposed method of operation will enable, us to meet the requirements for qualification and taxation as a REIT. The opinion of tax counsel will be based on various assumptions relating to our organization and operation, and will be conditioned upon fact-based representations and covenants regarding our organization, assets, income, and the past, present and future conduct of our business operations. While, if the Business Change Proposal is approved, we intend to operate so that we will qualify for taxation as a REIT, given the highly complex nature of the rules governing REITs, the ongoing importance of factual determinations, and the possibility of future changes in our circumstances, no assurance can be given by tax counsel or by us that we will qualify for taxation as a REIT for any particular year. The opinion will be expressed as of the date issued. Tax counsel will have no obligation to advise us or our shareholders of any subsequent change in the matters stated, represented or assumed, or of any subsequent change in the applicable law. You should be aware that opinions of counsel are not binding on the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”), and no assurance can be given that the IRS will not challenge the conclusions set forth in such opinions.

Our qualification and taxation as a REIT will depend on our ability to meet, through actual operating results, distribution levels, and diversity of stock and asset ownership, various qualification requirements imposed upon REITs by the IRC, the compliance with which will not be reviewed by tax counsel. In addition, our ability to qualify for taxation as a REIT depends in part upon the operating results, organizational structure and entity classification for U.S. federal income tax purposes of certain affiliated entities, the status of which may not have been reviewed by tax counsel. Our ability to qualify for taxation as a REIT also requires that we satisfy specified asset tests, some of which depend upon the fair market values of assets that we own directly or indirectly. Such values may not be susceptible to a precise determination. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that the actual results of our operations for any taxable year will satisfy such requirements for qualification and taxation as a REIT.

A summary of the U.S. federal income tax consequences generally expected to be applicable to us as a diversified REIT and to an investment in our common shares from and after our conversion to a REIT is attached to this Proxy Statement as Appendix C.

PROPOSAL 2: AMENDMENT PROPOSAL

The Board recommends that shareholders of the Fund approve the proposed Amended and Restated Agreement and Declaration of Trust (the “A&R Declaration of Trust”). The Fund’s current Declaration of Trust was adopted in 2006 and reflects the Fund’s operations as a closed-end investment management company registered under the 1940 Act. Some of the proposed amendments to the Declaration of Trust are necessary in order to implement the Business Change Proposal, to operate as a REIT and qualify for REIT tax treatment. Certain of the other proposed amendments would allow the Fund to operate more efficiently and enhance its ability to achieve the full benefit of the Business Change Proposal, as well as update the Declaration of Trust to more modern provisions for investment vehicles organized as Delaware statutory trusts (such amendments, collectively, the “Amendment Proposal”).

Shareholders are being asked to vote upon each of the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal separately; however, the effectiveness of each of the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal is conditioned and dependent upon the approval of both proposals. Accordingly, the Business Change Proposal, if approved, will only be effective if the Amendment Proposal is also approved, and the Amendment Proposal, if approved, will only be effective if the Business Change Proposal is also approved.

The following is a brief discussion of the principal changes contained in the A&R Declaration of Trust. A copy of the A&R Declaration of Trust is attached to this Proxy Statement as Appendix D and the discussion below is qualified in its entirety by reference to Appendix D, which you should read in its entirety.

Conversion-Related Amendments

Share Ownership and Transfer Limitations

If both the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal are approved, the A&R Declaration of Trust will include certain limits and restrictions on ownership and transferability relating to shares of beneficial interest of the Fund (“Shares”) in order to assist the Fund with complying with REIT tax requirements. The current Declaration of Trust imposes no such limits or restrictions. These limits and restrictions will be effective immediately upon approval of the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal.

The A&R Declaration of Trust would generally prohibit any shareholder from beneficially or constructively owning more than 9.8% in value or in number, whichever is more restrictive, of the outstanding Shares of any class or series. The A&R Declaration of Trust would also prohibit any person from, among other things, (1) beneficially or constructively owning Shares that would result in the Fund’s being “closely held” or otherwise cause the Fund to fail to qualify as a REIT, or (2) transferring Shares if the transfer would result in the Shares being owned by fewer than 100 persons. The current Declaration of Trust imposes no such limits or restrictions. The Board may revoke or otherwise terminate the Fund’s REIT election, without the approval of shareholders, if it determines that it is no longer in the Fund’s best interests to continue to qualify as a REIT. The Board may also determine that compliance with any restriction or limitation on Share ownership and transfers set forth in the A&R Declaration of Trust is no longer required for REIT qualification. These ownership and transfer restrictions will not affect any current shareholders who already own 9.8% or more of the Fund's common shares and will only affect shareholders who seek to acquire more than that percentage (including common shares they own at the time the restriction is imposed) in the future. These restrictions may, however, discourage a tender offer or other transactions or a change in the composition of the Board or control that might involve a premium price for the Shares or otherwise be in the best interests of the Fund's shareholders.

To qualify as a REIT under the IRC for any taxable year after the first taxable year for which a REIT election is made, an entity's shares must be beneficially owned by 100 or more persons during at least 335 days of a taxable year of 12 months or during a proportionate part of a shorter taxable year, and no more than 50% of the value of the outstanding shares may be owned, directly, indirectly or constructively, by five or fewer individuals (defined to include certain entities) during the second half of any such year. See Appendix C for more information on qualification as a REIT under the IRC.

In order to comply with these and other requirements, the A&R Declaration of Trust will contain restrictions on the number of Shares that a person may own. The A&R Declaration of Trust will provide that (subject to certain exceptions described below) no person may own, or be deemed to own by applying the attribution provisions of the IRC, more than 9.8% in value or in number, whichever is more restrictive, of the outstanding Shares of any class or series.

The A&R Declaration of Trust will also prohibit any person from (1) beneficially or constructively owning Shares that would result in the Fund's being "closely held," as determined under section 856(h) of the IRC, or otherwise cause the Fund to fail to qualify as a REIT and (2) transferring Shares if such transfer would result in the Shares being beneficially owned by fewer than 100 persons. Any person who acquires or attempts or intends to acquire beneficial or constructive ownership of Shares that will or may violate any of the foregoing restrictions on transferability and ownership, or who is the intended transferee of Shares that are transferred to a charitable trust (as described below), will be required to give written notice immediately to the Fund, or in the case of such a proposed or attempted transaction, give at least 15 days' prior written notice, and provide the Fund with other information it may request to determine the effect of such transfer on the Fund's status as a REIT. The foregoing restrictions on transferability and ownership will not apply if the Board determines that it is no longer in the Fund's best interests to attempt to qualify, or to continue to qualify, as a REIT.

The Board, in its sole discretion, may exempt a person from the foregoing restrictions. A person seeking an exemption must provide to the Board representations, covenants and undertakings the Board may deem appropriate to conclude that granting the exemption will not cause the Fund to lose its status as a REIT. The Board may also require a ruling from the IRS or an opinion of counsel to determine or ensure the Fund's status as a REIT.

Any attempted transfer of Shares that, if effective, would result in a violation of any of the foregoing restrictions will not be effected, and instead the number of Shares that would cause the violation (rounded to the nearest whole share) will be automatically transferred to a trust for the exclusive benefit of one or more charitable beneficiaries, and the proposed transferee will not acquire any rights in such Shares. The automatic transfer will be deemed to be effective as of the close of business on the business day (as defined in the A&R Declaration of Trust) before the date of the transfer. The A&R Declaration of Trust will provide that, if, for any reason, the transfer to the trust is ineffective, the purported transfer in violation of the restrictions will be void ab initio. Shares held in the trust will continue to be issued and outstanding Shares. The proposed transferee will not benefit economically from ownership of any Shares held in the trust and will have no rights to dividends or other distributions on, and no rights to vote or other rights attributable to, those Shares. The trustee of the trust will have all voting rights and rights to dividends or other distributions with respect to Shares held in the trust. These rights will be exercised for the exclusive benefit of the charitable beneficiary(ies). Any dividend or other distribution on Shares that is automatically transferable to the trust that is paid to the proposed transferee before the Fund's discovery of the attempted transfer will be paid by the proposed transferee to the trustee upon demand. Any such dividend or other distribution authorized but unpaid will be paid when due to the trustee, and any such dividend or other distribution paid to the trustee will be held in trust for the charitable beneficiary(ies). Subject to Delaware law, the trustee will have the authority (1) to rescind as void any vote cast by the proposed transferee before the Fund's discovery of the attempted transfer and (2) to recast the vote in accordance with the desires of the trustee acting for the benefit of the charitable beneficiary(ies). However, if the Fund has already taken irreversible corporate action, then the trustee will not have the authority to rescind and recast the vote.

Within 20 days of receiving notice from the Fund that Shares have been transferred to the trust, the trustee will sell the Shares to a person, designated by the trustee, whose ownership of the Shares will not violate the A&R Declaration of Trust's ownership limitations. Upon such sale, the interest of the charitable beneficiary(ies) in the sold Shares will terminate and the trustee will distribute the net proceeds of the sale to the proposed transferee and to the charitable beneficiary(ies) as follows. The proposed transferee will receive the lesser of (1) the price it paid for the Shares or, if it did not give value for the Shares in connection with the event causing the Shares to be held in the trust (e.g., a gift, devise or other similar transaction), the market price (as defined in the A&R Declaration of Trust) of the Shares on the day of that event and (2) the price received by the trustee from the sale or other disposition of the Shares. The trustee may reduce the amount payable to the proposed transferee by the amount of dividends and other distributions paid to the proposed transferee and owed by the proposed transferee to the trustee. Any net sale proceeds in excess of the amount payable to the proposed transferee will be paid immediately to the charitable beneficiary(ies). If, before the Fund's discovery of the attempted transfer, the Shares are sold by the proposed transferee, then (1) the Shares shall be deemed to have been sold on behalf of the trust and (2) to the extent that the proposed transferee received an amount for the Shares that exceeds the amount the proposed transferee was entitled to receive, the excess shall be paid to the trustee upon demand.

In addition, the Shares held in the trust will be deemed to have been offered for sale to the Fund, or its designee, at a price per Share equal to the lesser of (1) the price per Share in the transaction that resulted in the transfer to the trust (or, in the case of a devise or gift, the market price at the time of the devise or gift) and (2) the market price on the date the Fund, or its designee, accepts the offer. The Fund may reduce the amount payable to the proposed transferee, however, by the amount of any dividends or other distributions paid to the proposed transferee on the Shares and owed by the proposed transferee to the trustee. The Fund will have the right to accept the offer until the trustee has sold the Shares. Upon a sale to the Fund, the interest of the charitable beneficiary(ies) in the sold Shares will terminate and the trustee will distribute the net proceeds of the sale to the proposed transferee.

Each certificate, if any, representing Shares issued on or after the first day of the first year for which the Fund elects to be a REIT will bear a legend referring to the restrictions described above or will state that the Fund will furnish a full statement about certain transfer restrictions to a shareholder upon request and without charge. Each uncertificated Share will be deemed to bear the same legend.

Each beneficial or constructive owner of Shares shall upon demand be required to provide to the Fund information it requests, in good faith, to determine the Fund's status as a REIT and to comply with the requirements of any taxing authority or governmental authority or to determine such compliance. In addition, every owner of 5% or more (or such lower percentage as required by the IRC or the Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder) in value or in number of each class and series of outstanding Shares shall be required to provide to the Fund additional information it may request to determine the effect, if any, of the owner's beneficial ownership thereof on the Fund's status as a REIT and to ensure compliance with the ownership limitations. Each such owner also will be required to give written notice to the Fund, within 30 days after the end of each taxable year, stating the owner's name and address, the number of Shares of each class and series the owner beneficially owns and a description of the manner in which those Shares are held.

If the Board determines that it is no longer in the best interests of the Fund to continue to be qualified as a REIT, the Board may revoke or otherwise terminate the Fund's REIT election pursuant to section 856(g) of the IRC. The Board also may determine that compliance with any restriction or limitation on Share ownership and transfers set forth in the A&R Declaration of Trust is no longer required for REIT qualification.

Eventual Removal of Provisions Related to the 1940 Act

The Fund's existing Declaration of Trust is based on the Fund's current operation as a closed-end investment management company registered under the 1940 Act. As such, the Declaration of Trust includes certain provisions that are common to the organizational documents of companies that are registered under the 1940 Act. If the Business Change Proposal is approved, the Fund will begin the process of converting into a REIT and, once it no longer qualifies as an investment company under the 1940 Act, will apply for the Deregistration Order. Once the Fund is no longer registered under the 1940 Act, the Declaration of Trust, including certain provisions related to, or required under, the 1940 Act, would be inconsistent with the Fund's business plan to operate as a REIT and could inhibit the Fund's ability to further grow and operate successfully. In some cases, if these 1940 Act related provisions are retained, the Declaration of Trust could put us at a competitive disadvantage compared to our publicly-traded REIT peers. Additionally, there are certain voting requirements under the 1940 Act that would no longer be necessary or desirable. Accordingly, if both the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal are approved, the 1940 Act related provisions of the A&R Declaration of Trust will no longer be applicable after receipt of the Deregistration Order, which will facilitate the Fund's future operations as a REIT and more closely align our charter to those of other publicly-traded REITs.

Supermajority Vote Required to Undo or Impede Implementation of the Business Change Proposal

If both the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal are approved, it is the intent of the Board to respect this decision and promptly begin to implement the Business Change Proposal. Accordingly, to avoid the potential uncertainty and disruption that would be introduced by a subsequent proposal that is inconsistent with the Business Change Proposal, the A&R Declaration of Trust includes a provision that would, unless otherwise determined by the vote of at least 80% of the Board, require the affirmative vote of not less than 75% of the outstanding Shares to approve any action that, in the judgment of the Board, would prevent, impede or make less efficient or more costly the implementation of the Business Change Proposal, or the realization of the benefits sought thereby. The Board believes that such threshold is appropriate given the time and expense of implementing the Business Change Proposal.

Amendments to Enhance Board Flexibility in Managing the Trust

---

The A&R Declaration of Trust includes a number of amendments that are designed to give the Board greater flexibility in managing the Fund consistent with the Board's duty under the A&R Declaration of Trust to act in good-faith in the best interest of the Fund. The more important among these amendments are discussed below, but Shareholders should read the A&R Declaration in its entirety in order to understand the full extent of these amendments.

Trustee Eligibility and Board Composition

The A&R Declaration of Trust will allow the Board, from time to time, to establish eligibility criteria for Trustees and Trustee Nominees. In addition, the A&R Declaration of Trust will grant greater flexibility to the Board in managing the size of the Board and removing Trustees, with or without cause, without the need for shareholder approval.

Shareholder Meetings

The A&R Declaration of Trust will grant the Board greater flexibility in conducting shareholder meetings by allowing the Board to set the quorum required for conducting business higher or lower than the default standard of a majority of the Shares entitled to vote. In addition, the A&R Declaration of Trust will include certain technical amendments, such extending the amount of time that a shareholder meeting may be postponed or adjourned without needing to set a new record date. These amendments could spare the Fund and its Shareholders additional costs and expenses associated with adjourning, postponing or setting a new record date for shareholder meetings.

Additionally, the A&R Declaration of Trust will allow the Board to set the required vote for any matter, except to the extent that the A&R Declaration of Trust requires a specific vote on a matter or otherwise prohibits the Board from changing the vote required on such matter. The A&R Declaration of Trust will also reduce the Fund's voting requirements for the election of Trustees to a plurality vote, unless the Trustees establish a different voting standard.

The A&R Declaration of Trust will also provide the Board with the flexibility to disregard a vote if such vote does not comply with the requirements of applicable state or federal laws.

Procedure for Amending the A&R Declaration of Trust

The A&R Declaration of Trust will grant the Board increased flexibility to make certain additional amendments to the A&R Declaration of Trust that it believes to be in the best interest of the Fund without the need for shareholder approval as well.

Nevertheless, amendments to the following provisions would still require a shareholder vote:

- Section 5.1, which (i) provides certain limitations on the personal liability of Shareholders and Trustees and (ii) provides that satisfaction of claims is limited to Fund property;

Table of Contents

- Section 5.2, which provides for certain mandatory indemnification of the Fund’s Trustees and officers;
- Section 10.1, which sets forth the matters on which a shareholder vote is required;
- Section 11.2(a), which requires a shareholder vote on certain transactions occurring after the Board has determined to terminate the Fund;
- Section 11.3, which sets forth the procedures and votes required to amend the A&R Declaration of Trust;
- Section 11.4, which requires a shareholder vote in the event of a merger, consolidation or sale of all or substantially all of the Fund’s assets in a transaction in which the Fund is not the surviving entity;
- Section 11.6, which, for so long as the Fund is a registered investment company, requires a shareholder vote to convert the Fund to an open-end fund;
- Section 11.7, which requires a shareholder vote in connection with certain transactions with “Principal Shareholders” (as that term is defined in the A&R Declaration of Trust), including, but not limited to (i) mergers or consolidations with or into any Principal Shareholder, (ii) the issuance of securities to such persons for cash (other than pursuant to any automatic dividend reinvestment plan), (iii) the sale, lease or exchange of all or any substantial part of the assets of the Fund, except in certain circumstances and (iv) the sale, lease or exchange to the Fund or any subsidiary thereof, in exchange for securities of the Fund, of any assets of any Principal Shareholder, except in certain circumstances; and
- Any amendment that would change any rights with respect to Shares of the Fund by reducing any stated amount payable thereon in preference over all other classes or series of Shares upon the liquidation of the Fund or by eliminating any voting rights pertaining thereto.

In addition, the amendments would lower the vote required to make certain amendments to the A&R Declaration of Trust in the event that the amendment is approved by 80% of the Trustees. See Section 11.3 “Amendment Procedures” in the A&R Declaration of Trust, attached hereto as Appendix D, for a complete description of these amendment procedures.

Shareholder Action by Written Consent

The A&R Declaration of Trust would give the Board the ability to determine whether Shareholders may act by written consent. The Board concluded that there are several important arguments in support of limiting the absolute right to shareholder action by written consent, which include, but are not limited to: (i) requiring shareholder action only at a shareholder meeting increases the likelihood that the Fund and all of its Shareholders will be given an opportunity to consider carefully and respond prudently to important shareholder proposals; (ii) requiring shareholder action only at a shareholder meeting avoids untimely action in a context that might not permit Shareholders to have the full benefit of the knowledge, advice, and participation of the Fund’s management and Board; and (iii) limiting these proposals to our annual meeting or duly called special meetings will reduce the time and effort our Board and management would need to devote to shareholder proposals, which time and effort could distract the Fund’s management and the Board from implementing the Business Change Proposal, if approved, and other important Fund business.

Other Amendments

The A&R Declaration of Trust will include amendments to remove references to the Delaware General Corporation Law (the “DGCL”) and to clarify that the Fund, as a Delaware Statutory Trust, is governed by the DSTA. In some instances, the A&R Declaration of Trust will directly incorporate relevant concepts. For example, the A&R Declaration of Trust will recite the standard of conduct for Trustees, which is consistent with the standard for most matters under Delaware corporate law. The removal of references to the DGCL could curtail certain rights of the Fund’s Shareholders that were based on the DGCL to the extent that the DSTA does not also provide similar rights. For example, (i) Shareholders will no longer have a right to vote on bringing a derivative suit against the Fund and (ii) Shareholders will no longer have a right to inspect the Fund’s books and records. In addition, the DSTA does not require the Fund to hold an annual meeting of shareholders; however, for so long as the Fund remains listed on a major stock exchange, the exchange rules will require the Fund to continue to hold a shareholder meeting each year.

VOTING INFORMATION

Required Vote

Business Change Proposal. Under the 1940 Act, changing the Fund’s business from an investment company to a diversified REIT and changing the Fund’s fundamental investment restrictions requires the affirmative vote of the lesser of (a) 67% of our outstanding voting securities present at the Special Meeting, if the holders of more than 50% of our outstanding voting securities are present in person or represented by proxy, or (b) more than 50% of our outstanding voting securities. For purposes of the foregoing, shareholders will vote as a single class.

Amendment Proposal. Under the Declaration of Trust, the Amendment Proposal requires the affirmative vote of the lesser of (a) 67% of our outstanding voting securities present at the Special Meeting, if the holders of more than 50% of our outstanding voting securities are present in person or represented by proxy, or (b) more than 50% of our outstanding voting securities. For purposes of the foregoing, shareholders will vote as a single class.

Shareholders are being asked to vote upon each proposal separately; however, the effectiveness of each of the Business Change Proposal and the Amendment Proposal is conditioned and dependent upon the approval of both proposals. Accordingly, the Business Change Proposal, if approved, will only be effective if the Amendment Proposal is also approved, and the Amendment Proposal, if approved, will only be effective if the Business Change Proposal is also approved.

For more information, see “—Quorum, Abstentions and Broker Non-Votes” and “—Adjournment.”

Record Date

Only shareholders of record at the close of business on the Record Date (June 19, 2020) will be entitled to vote at the Special Meeting. As of the Record Date, we had the following shares outstanding:

	NYSE Symbol	Number of Common Shares
Fund NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund	NHF	45,606,964

Voting Methods

You may send in your proxy by one of the following methods:

1. If you received your proxy card(s) by mail, complete, sign and return the enclosed proxy card or voting instruction form promptly in the postage paid envelope.

Table of Contents

2. Call the toll-free number listed on the front of the enclosed proxy card or voting instruction form. Have your control number (located on the enclosed proxy card or voting instruction form) available for reference. The automatic system will prompt you on how to vote.
3. Log on to the website listed on the front of the enclosed proxy card or voting instruction form. Have your control number (located on the enclosed proxy card or voting instruction form) available for reference. The system will prompt you with instructions on how to vote.

If you hold shares in the name of a brokerage firm, bank, nominee or other institution, you must provide a legal proxy from that institution in order to vote your shares at the Special Meeting.

In addition, shareholders of record may vote in person at the Special Meeting. If your shares are held by a bank, broker or other nominee (that is, in “street name”), you are considered the beneficial owner of your shares and you should refer to the instructions provided by your bank, broker or nominee regarding how to vote. In addition, because a beneficial owner is not the shareholder of record, you may not vote shares held by a bank, broker or nominee in street name at the Special Meeting unless you obtain a “legal proxy” from the bank, broker or nominee that holds your shares, giving you the right to vote the shares at the Special Meeting.

Quorum, Abstentions and Broker Non-Votes

A quorum of shareholders is required to take action at the Special Meeting. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares of the Fund entitled to vote shall constitute a quorum for the Special Meeting. If a quorum is not present at the Special Meeting, or if a quorum is present but sufficient votes to approve either Proposal are not received, the persons named as proxies may propose one or more adjournments or postponements of the Special Meeting to permit further solicitation of proxies. Our common shares represented by valid proxies or in person will count for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum for the Special Meeting. Votes cast by proxy or in person at the Special Meeting will be tabulated by the inspector of election appointed for the Special Meeting. Abstentions will be counted as shares present for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present at the Special Meeting, and will have the effect of a vote “against” the applicable Proposal.

We do not anticipate “broker non-votes” (i.e., shares held by brokers or nominees as to which (i) instructions have not been received from the beneficial owner or the persons entitled to vote and (ii) the broker does not have discretionary voting power on a particular matter) on the Proposals, since our understanding is that brokers do not have discretionary authority to vote on the Proposals.

Adjournments

The chairman of the Special Meeting may adjourn the Special Meeting from time to time to reconvene at the same or some other place, and notice need not be given of any such adjourned Special Meeting if the time and place, if any, thereof and the means of remote communications, if any, by which shareholders and proxyholders may be deemed to be present in person and vote at such adjourned Special Meeting are announced at the Special Meeting. At the adjourned Special Meeting, the Fund may transact any business which might have been transacted at the Special Meeting. If after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned Special Meeting, notice of the adjourned Special Meeting shall be given to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at the Special Meeting and each other shareholder entitled to notice of the Special Meeting.

Revocation of Proxy

Any proxies may be revoked at any time before they are exercised at the Special Meeting by timely filing with us a written notice of revocation, by timely delivering to us a duly executed proxy bearing a later date, by voting over the Internet or by telephone at a later time in the manner provided on the website indicated in the proxy card or by attending the Special Meeting and voting in person via conference call. Votes provided over the Internet, by telephone or by mail must be received by 11:59 p.m. Eastern time on August 27, 2020. If you hold shares in the name of a brokerage firm, bank, nominee or other institution, you must provide a legal proxy from that institution in order to revoke your shares at the Special Meeting. Being present in person via conference call at the Special Meeting alone does not revoke a previously executed and returned proxy.

SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

It is expected that the solicitation of proxies will be primarily by mail and telephone. The costs of preparing, assembling and mailing material in connection with the solicitation of proxies will be borne by the Adviser. The Adviser and its personnel, and personnel of the Adviser's affiliates, as well as our Trustees and officers, may assist in the solicitation of proxies by telephone, facsimile, email or personal interview and will receive no additional compensation in connection therewith. We have retained Di Costa Partners LLC to provide shareholder meeting services, including the distribution of this proxy statement and related materials to shareholders as well as assisting the Fund in soliciting proxies for the Special Meeting at an approximate cost of $90,000.00. These costs will be paid by the Fund.

COMMUNICATIONS WITH TRUSTEES

Any of our shareholders or other interested party who desires to communicate with our Trustees, individually or as a group, should write to the party for whom the communication is intended, in care of the Secretary, NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund, at 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201 or by telephone at 855-498-1580. The communications will then be delivered to the appropriate persons.

SHAREHOLDER NOMINATIONS AND PROPOSALS

Pursuant to our Declaration of Trust and Bylaws, because the Special Meeting is a special meeting of our shareholders, only the business stated in the notice of meeting attached to this Proxy Statement shall be conducted at the Special Meeting. At this time, the Board knows of no other matter which will be brought before the Special Meeting. Please note that the annual election of Trustees will be brought before shareholders at the Annual Meeting of the Fund on July 14, 2020, at 8:00 a.m. Central Time. Shareholder proposals for our annual meetings of shareholders may be brought pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act.

Pursuant to our Declaration of Trust and our Bylaws, shareholders may make nominations and propose other business only in connection with annual meetings of shareholders. Our Bylaws require compliance with certain procedures for a shareholder to properly make a nomination for election to the Board or to propose other Company business at an annual meeting. In order for a shareholder to properly propose a nominee for election to the Board or propose business outside of Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act, the shareholder must comply, in all respects, with the advance notice and other provisions set forth in our Bylaws, which currently include, among other things, requirements as to the shareholder's timely delivery of advance notice, ownership of at least a specified minimum amount of our common or preferred shares, if applicable, for a specified minimum period of time, record ownership and submission of specified information. If a shareholder who is eligible to do so under our Bylaws wishes to nominate a person or persons for election to the Board or propose other Company business at an annual meeting, notice of such proposal must be timely received at our principal executive offices. The notice must set forth detailed specified information about any proposed nominee, the shareholder making the nomination and affiliates and associates of that shareholder. As to any other Company business that the shareholder proposes to bring before an annual meeting, our Bylaws provide that the notice must set forth a description of such business, the reasons for proposing such business at the meeting and any material interest in such business of the shareholder, a description of all agreements, arrangements and understandings involving the shareholder in connection with the proposal of such business and a representation that the shareholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the meeting to bring the business before the meeting.

2020 Annual Meeting. Shareholder proposals intended to be presented pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act at our 2020 annual meeting of shareholders must have been received at our principal executive offices by January 28, 2020. Shareholder nominations and proposals received after January 28, 2020 will be considered untimely and therefore may be excluded from our proxy materials for our 2020 annual meeting.

2021 Annual Meeting. Shareholder proposals intended to be presented pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act at our 2021 annual meeting of shareholders must be received at our principal executive offices not later than February 19, 2021 in order to be considered for inclusion in our proxy statement for our 2021 annual meeting of shareholders; provided that if we hold our 2021 annual meeting on a date that is more than 30 days before or after the first anniversary of the date of our 2020 annual meeting, shareholders must submit proposals for inclusion in our 2021 proxy statement within a reasonable time before we begin to print and send proxy materials. Under Rule 14a-8, we are not required to include shareholder proposals in the proxy materials unless conditions specified in the rule are met.

Table of ContentsSECURITY OWNERSHIP OF CERTAIN BENEFICIAL OWNERS

Unless otherwise indicated, the information set forth below is as of May 31, 2020. To our knowledge, no person beneficially owned more than 5% of our outstanding common shares, except as set forth below. To our knowledge, none of our officers or Trustees owned 1% or more of our outstanding common shares, except as set forth below.

Collectively, to our knowledge, the officers and Trustees of the Fund beneficially own, as a group, in the aggregate, 2,943,168 common shares of the Fund, representing approximately 11.6% of our outstanding common shares. Unless otherwise indicated below, to our knowledge, each owner named below has sole voting and dispositive power for all shares shown to be beneficially owned by that person. Share amounts listed below do not include fractional share amounts.

<sup>1</sup> Except as otherwise indicated, each person has sole voting and investment power over the indicated shares.

<sup>2</sup> Effective January 28, 2020, Mr. Honis is treated as an Interested Trustee of the Fund in light of certain relationships between Mr. Honis and certain affiliates of the Adviser, including HCMLP, arising out of HCMLP's pending Chapter 11 proceedings.

<sup>3</sup> Includes shares held by Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCMLP"). On October 16, 2019, HCMLP filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection with the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware. The case was subsequently transferred to the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas. On January 9, 2020, the bankruptcy court approved a change of control of HCMLP, which involved the resignation of James Dondero as the sole director of, and the appointment of an independent board to, HCMLP's general partner. Mr. Dondero remains an employee of HCMLP and as portfolio manager for all funds and vehicles for which he currently holds such titles. Effective January 2020 as a result of the change of control of HCMLP, Mr. Dondero no longer serves as the President or sole director of Strand Advisors, Inc., HCMLP's general partner, and consequently, no longer has direct or indirect voting or investment control to such shares. Accordingly, Mr. Dondero no longer report beneficial ownership of shares held by HCMLP on Section 13 and Section 16 filings under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Nevertheless, given Mr. Dondero's historic role with HCMLP and his continued ownership interest and roles with respect to the Highland platform as a whole, as well as the shared services agreements between HCMLP and the Adviser, the Fund will still treat HCMLP and its affiliates as the Fund's affiliates for purposes hereof. Mr. Dondero disclaims beneficial ownership of such shares except to the extent of his pecuniary interest therein. Mr. Dondero also controls Strand Advisors XVI, Inc., which is the general partner of Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. ("HCMFA"). Through his control of Strand Advisors XVI, Inc., Mr. Dondero may be viewed as having voting and dispositive power over the shares of the Common Stock directly owned by HCMFA or by funds that are advised by HCMFA.

HOUSEHOLDING OF MEETING MATERIALS

Some banks, brokers and other record holders may participate in the practice of “householding” proxy statements and annual reports. This means that, unless shareholders give contrary instructions, only one copy of this proxy statement may be sent to multiple shareholders of the same Fund in each household. The Adviser will promptly deliver a separate copy of either document to you, if you call or write to the Adviser at the following address or telephone number: NexPoint Advisors, L.P., 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201 or by telephone at (866) 351-4440.

If you want to receive separate copies of a proxy statement in the future, or if you are receiving multiple copies and would like to receive only one copy per household, you should contact your bank, broker or other record holder, or you may contact the Adviser at the above address or telephone number.

OTHER MATTERS

At this time, our Board knows of no other matter which will be brought before the Special Meeting. Please note that the annual election of Trustees will be brought before shareholders at the Annual Meeting of the Fund on July 14, 2020, at 8:30 a.m. Central Time. Pursuant to our Declaration of Trust and Bylaws, only the business stated in the notice of meeting attached to this Proxy Statement shall be conducted at the Special Meeting.

By order of the Board,

LAUREN THEDFORD

While NexPoint is committed to the REIT conversion, it is still contingent upon an affirmative shareholder vote, regulatory approval, and the ability to reconfigure NPF's portfolio to attain REIT status and designate as an investment company. The conversion process could take approximately 24 months, and there can be no assurance that conversion of NPF to REIT status will improve its performance or reduce the discount to NAV.

In addition, these actions may adversely affect our financial condition, position investment, results of operations, cash flow, per share trading price of our common shares and ability to satisfy debt service obligations, if any, and to make cash distributions to shareholders. Whether we remain a registered investment company or convert to a REIT, our common shares, like an investment in any other public company, are subject to investment risk, including the possible loss of your investment. For a discussion of certain other risks relating to our conversion to a REIT, see "Implementation of the Business Change Proposal and Related Risks" in the proxy statement.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

SUMMARY

NexPoint Advisors, L.P. (“NexPoint”) proposes converting the NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund (“the Fund”) from a Closed-End Fund (“CEF”) to a Real Estate Investment Trust (“REIT”) (the “Conversion”). We believe the Conversion will better position the Fund to generate returns and maximize the value of current high-conviction themes in the portfolio. Additionally, we believe real estate has the potential to have superior risk adjusted returns compared to equity, fixed income, and distressed debt markets over the next decade. We also believe the REIT structure may provide potential to improve the Fund’s discount to NAV.

SHAREHOLDER VOTE

Shareholders are being asked to vote to approve the Conversion at the shareholder meeting on August 28, 2020.

BOARD SUPPORT

The Fund’s board of trustees, together with NexPoint, believes the conversion would benefit the Fund and its shareholders.

SHARE REPURCHASES

The Board has approved a repurchase program that allows for repurchases of up to 10% of the Fund’s stock over a one-year period beginning April 24, 2020.

REIT SOLUTION

POTENTIAL TO CLOSE THE DISCOUNT<sup>1</sup>

REITs have historically traded at a premium to NAV, while CEFs have traded at a discount to NAV

LONG-TERM OUTPERFORMANCE<sup>1</sup>

Over the past 20 years REITs have generally outperformed many other major asset classes

BETTER LIQUIDITY<sup>1</sup>

The REIT market is 6x larger than the CEF market. The average trading volume of REITs with comparable size to NHF is 9x greater than CEFs its size

GREATER TRANSPARENCY<sup>1</sup>

REIT management teams typically host public quarterly earnings calls and publish detailed financial results. REITs also have a dedicated following of research analysts

INDEX INCLUSION<sup>2</sup>

REITs have high institutional ownership and often inclusion in ETFs. Real Estate is now a stand-alone sector of the S&P 500

TAX BENEFITS

REITs can offer a 20% deduction on taxable income

DISCLOSURES

You should carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risks, fees and expenses. For a copy of the proxy statement, which contains this and other information, please visit our website at www.nexpointadvisors.com or call 1-866-351-4440.

This presentation contains information about prior investments made by the Adviser of the Fund. This information was prepared by the Adviser based on its experience in the industry and on assumptions of fact and opinion as to future events which the Adviser believed to be reasonable when made. There can be no assurance that the Adviser and/or the Fund will be as successful as these earlier investments. Prior investment returns are not indicative of future results. It should not be assumed that investment recommendations made in the future will be profitable or will equal the performance of the securities included herein.

Closed-end funds, unlike open-end funds, are not continuously offered. There is a one-time public offering and once issued, shares of closed-end funds are sold in the open market through a stock exchange and frequently trade at prices lower than their net asset value. Net Asset Value (NAV) is total assets less total liabilities, which includes preferred shares, divided by the number of common shares outstanding. When net asset value (NAV) is lower than market price, dividends are assumed to be reinvested at the greater of NAV or 95% of the market price. When NAV is higher, dividends are assumed to be reinvested at market price. For additional information, please contact your investment adviser or visit our website www.nexpointadvisors.com.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. The rate of return will vary and the principal value of an investment will fluctuate and shares, if sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. Returns are historical and include change in share price and reinvestment of all distributions. Total investment return does not reflect broker sales charges or commissions. All performance information is for common shares of the Trust. See the proxy statement and financial statements for more information before investing.

Shares of closed-end funds frequently trade at a discount to their net asset value. Because of this possibility and the recognition that any such discount may not be in the interest of shareholders, the Board might consider from time to time engaging in open-market repurchases tender offers for shares or other programs intended to reduce the discount.

Interest Rate Risk. The risk that debt securities, and the Trust's net assets, may decline in value because of changes in interest rates. Generally, debt securities will decrease in value when interest rates rise and increase in value when interest rates decline.

Credit Risk. The risk that the Fund could lose money if the issuer or guarantor of a fixed income security, or the counterparty of a derivatives contract or repurchase agreement, is unable or unwilling (or is perceived to be unable or unwilling) to make a timely payment of principal and/or interest, or to otherwise honor its obligations.

Leverage Risk. Leverage may increase the risk of loss, cause fluctuations in the market value of the Fund's portfolio to have disproportionately large effects or cause the NAV of the Fund generally to decline faster than it would otherwise.

Illiquidity Risk. The investments made by the Trust may be very illiquid, and consequently, the Trust may not be able to sell such investments at prices that reflect the Investment Adviser's assessment of their fair value or the amount paid for such investments by the Trust.

Industry Concentration Risk. The Fund must invest at least 25% of the value of its total assets at the time of purchase in securities of issuers conducting their principal business activities in the real estate industry. The Fund may be subject to greater market fluctuations than a fund that does not concentrate its investments in a particular industry. Financial, economic, business, and other developments affecting issuers in the real estate industry will have a greater effect on the Fund, and if securities of the real estate industry fall out of favor, the Fund could underperform, or its NAV may be more volatile than, funds that have greater industry diversification.

Real Estate Risk. Real estate investments are subject to various risk factors. Generally, real estate investments could be adversely affected by a recession or general economic downturn where the properties are located. The full extent of the impact and effects of the recent outbreak of COVID-19 on the future financial performance of the Fund, and specifically, on its investments and tenants to properties held by its REIT subsidiaries, are uncertain at this time. The outbreak could have a continued adverse impact on economic and market conditions and trigger a period of global economic slowdown.

DISCLOSURES

You should read the proxy statement for the Conversion, which contains important information about the Fund, before deciding whether to vote, and retain it for future reference. You may request the Fund's most recent annual and semiannual reports or make shareholder inquiries by calling 1-877-665-1287 or by writing to the Fund at 200 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201.

Index returns assume reinvestment of all dividends and distributions, if any. Indices are unmanaged, have no fees or costs and are not available for investment. The performance of the indices may be materially different from the individual performance attained by a specific investor. In addition, the investors' holdings may differ significantly from the securities that comprise the indices. The indices have not been selected to represent an appropriate benchmark to compare an investor's performance, but rather are disclosed to allow for comparison of the investor's performance to that of certain well-known and widely recognized indices.

S&P 500 Index: S&P 500 Index is an index of a basket of 500 stocks designed to provide a broad snapshot of the overall U.S. equity market. Criteria for inclusion: U.S. Company, market capitalization must be in excess of US$ 3 billion, public float of at least 50%, financial viability, adequate liquidity and reasonable price, sector balance, and company type. Ordinary cash dividends are applied on the ex-date in calculating the total return series. "Special dividends" are those dividends that are outside of the normal payment pattern established historically by the issuing corporation. The total return index series reflect both ordinary and special dividends.

Barclays US Aggregate Index. Barclays Capital Aggregate Bond Index, which used to be called the "Lehman Aggregate Bond Index," is a broad base index, maintained by Barclays Capital, which took over the index business of the now defunct Lehman Brothers, and is often used to represent investment grade bonds being traded in United States. Index funds and exchange-traded funds are available that track this bond index.

MSCI US REIT Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is comprised of equity REITs that are included in the MSCI US Investable Market 2500 Index, with the exception of specialty equity REITs that do not generate a majority of their revenue and income from real estate rental and leasing operations. The index represents approximately 85% of the US REIT universe.

APPENDIX B: RISK FACTORS

Unless otherwise noted, the Business Change Proposal, as set forth in the proxy statement, has been approved by shareholders, we have fully implemented the Business Change Proposal and we have converted to a diversified REIT. There can be no assurance that these conditions will be satisfied. In addition, these risks may adversely affect our financial condition, yield on investment, results of operations, cash flow, per share trading price of our common shares and ability to satisfy debt service obligations, if any, and to make cash distributions to shareholders. Whether we remain a registered investment company or convert to a diversified REIT, our common shares, like an investment in any other public company, are subject to investment risk, including the possible loss of your investment. For a discussion of certain other risks relating to our conversion to a diversified REIT, see “Implementation of the Business Change Proposal and Related Risks” in the proxy statement.

Risks related Current Market Conditions

Events outside of our control, including widespread public health emergencies such as the novel coronavirus (“COVID-19”), may cause significant market disruptions and volatility that could negatively affect our results or ability to effectively implement the Business Change Proposal.

Periods of market volatility may continue to occur in response to pandemics or other events outside of our control. In recent months, the novel coronavirus (“COVID-19”) pandemic has resulted in severe disruptions to global financial markets, border closings, restrictions on travel and gatherings of any measurable amount of people, “shelter in place” orders (or the equivalent) for entire cities, metropolitan areas and countries, expedited and enhanced health screenings, quarantines, cancellations, business and school closings, disruptions to employment and supply chains, reduced productivity, severely impacted customer and client activity in virtually all markets and sectors, and a virtual cessation of normal economic activity. The current economic situation and the unprecedented measures taken by state, local and national governments around the world to combat the spread of COVID-19 and its economic impacts, as well as various social, political and psychological tensions in the United States and around the world, may continue to contribute to severe market disruptions and volatility and reduced economic activity, may have long-term negative effects on the U.S. and worldwide financial markets and economy and may cause further economic uncertainties in the United States and worldwide. It is difficult to predict how long the financial markets and economic activity will continue to be impacted by these events and the Company cannot predict the effects of these or similar events in the future on the U.S. economy and securities markets. However, these events could have a significant negative impact on the Company’s performance, net asset value, liquidity, income and ability to pay distributions and service debts. Potential consequences of market disruptions and volatility arising out of the COVID-19 pandemic include, but are not limited to:

- sudden, unexpected and/or severe declines in the market price of our common stock or net asset value;
- inability of the Company to accurately or reliably value its assets;
- inability of the Company to comply with debt covenants that could prevent the Company from paying dividends to our common stockholders or result in events of default under the terms of our debt or credit facilities;
- inability of the Company to pay any dividends and distributions;
- inability of the Company to maintain its status as a REIT under the Code;
- inability of the Company to make payments on our outstanding debt as they become due;
- potentially severe, sudden and unexpected declines in the value of our assets;
- increased risk of default or bankruptcy by the companies in which we invest or by tenants of properties that we own;
- increased risk of companies or properties in which we invest being unable to weather an extended cessation of normal economic activity and thereby impairing their ability to continue functioning as a going concern or generate revenue for us;

B-1

- reduced economic demand resulting from mass employee layoffs or furloughs in response to governmental action taken to slow the spread of COVID-19, which could impact the continued viability of the companies in which we invest or tenants of properties that we own;
- companies or properties in which we invest being disproportionately impacted by governmental action aimed at slowing the spread of COVID-19;
- limited availability of new investment opportunities;
- inability of the Company to realign its portfolio without being required to sell assets at inopportune times or in distressed situations; and
- general threats to the Company's ability to continue operations.

It is virtually impossible to determine the ultimate impact of COVID-19 at this time. Accordingly, the ultimate implementation of the Business Change Proposal is subject to a wide range of risks that may adversely affect the Company and delay or significantly impair the Company's ability to implement the Business Change Proposal.

Risk related to the Fund's Concentration in Real Estate Securities. The Fund's investments will be significantly impacted by the performance of the real estate market and may experience more volatility and be exposed to greater risk than a more diversified portfolio. The values of companies engaged in the real estate industry are affected by: (i) changes in general economic and market conditions; (ii) changes in the value of real estate properties; (iii) risks related to local economic conditions, overbuilding and increased competition; (iv) increases in property taxes and operating expenses; (v) changes in zoning laws; (vi) casualty and condemnation losses; (vii) variations in rental income, neighborhood values or the appeal of property to tenants; (viii) the availability of financing and (ix) changes in interest rates and leverage.

The COVID-19 pandemic and governmental responses thereto have severely negatively affected the real estate industry in general. The imposition of "shelter-in-place" orders for certain businesses have led to a dramatic reduction in demand for office and retail space. As many businesses have been required to operate through remote working programs, their current need for office space has been significantly reduced. Other businesses, including restaurants, entertainment venues and retail businesses, have been prohibited from keeping their doors open to customers and required to limit services to takeout, delivery and e-commerce. Such prohibitions have limited demand for retail space. Although a majority of states have announced plans to permit a phased re-opening of businesses in certain sectors, and we expect that social distancing requirements may require such businesses to use more space in the near term to perform existing functions, public health concerns about large gatherings and use of public spaces and the impact of working remotely and on-line purchasing may lead to a reduction in corporate and retail space requirements in the long term, resulting in reduced construction and higher vacancy rates, as well as bankruptcies and insolvencies of our clients and counterparties, higher foreclosure rates and declines in real estate values and transaction volumes. Accordingly, there can be no assurance as to when or if such changes in restrictions will result in a resumption of prior levels of office and retail space use.

Reductions in demand for real estate may result in fewer acquisitions of commercial properties and reduced levels of new lease activity and long-term renewals, each of which could negatively impact the value of our real estate investments. Limited availability of debt financing has led to reduction in capital market activity and valuation and advisory services. Non-payment of rent by commercial tenants, whether as a result of increased unemployment or federal and state government mandates providing rent relief, may reduce the cash flow of commercial real estate borrowers, resulting in higher rates of default on our receivables. Accordingly, the reduction in demand for commercial real estate space may have a material adverse effect, on the Fund's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects, and could negate the anticipated benefits from the implementation of the Business Change Proposal.

Additionally, government restrictions on foreclosures may lead to higher rates of default or forbearance. The increase in defaults and forbearance may lead to reduced demand for new loan origination and servicing by

REITs and other entities in which we invest. These entities may also be required to advance payments owed by borrowers under Fannie Mae and FHA/HUD loans whose loans are permitted under government regulations to enter into forbearance. There can be no assurance that the REITs and other entities in which we invest will be able to enter into financing arrangements to provide funding for potential forbearance advances or that such arrangements will be enough to cover these potential advances.

A decline in economic conditions may also lead to constraints on capital and liquidity, a higher cost of capital, and possible change or downgrades to our credit ratings, and additional restructuring charges. Although the federal government has taken many actions to provide liquidity to businesses and the financial markets, including loan programs for businesses in certain sectors or meeting certain criteria, these programs have experienced greater demand than funds available and have had strict eligibility requirements.

The full extent of the impact and effects of the recent outbreak of COVID-19 on the future financial performance of the Fund, and specifically, on its investments and tenants to properties held by the REIT Subsidiary, are uncertain at this time. The impact will depend on future developments, including, among other factors, the duration and spread of the outbreak along with related travel advisories and restrictions, the recovery time of the disrupted supply chains, the consequential staff shortages, the production delays, and the uncertainty with respect to the accessibility of additional liquidity or the capital markets. The outbreak could have a continued adverse impact on economic and market conditions and trigger a period of global economic slowdown. The rapid development and fluidity of this situation precludes any prediction as to the ultimate adverse impact of COVID-19. The federal government has enacted various forms of aid to the industries negatively affected by the virus, but we cannot be certain that such aid will help mitigate the material reduction in revenue we may experience.

Risks Related to Our Conversion to a Diversified REIT

Any delay in receiving the Deregistration Order may delay our ability to operate like a typical REIT not subject to the 1940 Act.

If the Business Change Proposal is approved by shareholders, we will apply to the SEC for a Deregistration Order, but the timing for receiving the Deregistration Order is uncertain. Until the SEC issues a Deregistration Order, we will continue to be registered as an investment company and will continue to be regulated under the 1940 Act. Pending the SEC's issuance of the Deregistration Order, we intend to begin realigning our portfolio consistent with our new business as a diversified REIT. We anticipate that the implementation period may last approximately two years, with full implementation not projected until approximately the middle of 2022. We intend to seek to qualify as a REIT for tax purposes for the taxable year beginning January 1, 2021, which, among other requirements, will require that we transition our assets into a REIT-compliant portfolio no later than March 31, 2021, the first date on which we must satisfy the quarterly REIT asset tests, and that we limit the income from nonqualifying investments in a way that permits us to satisfy the annual REIT income tests. However, our ability to apply for the Deregistration Order may be delayed if we are unable to transition assets of the Fund sufficient to satisfy such requirements or any other requirement to qualify as REIT for such year. The foregoing time period is an estimate and may vary depending upon the length of the deregistration process with the SEC, tax considerations and the pace at which we will be able to transition certain of the Fund's investments into real estate, mortgages secured by real estate or other qualifying assets. Any delay in receiving the Deregistration Order beyond the projected two-year implementation period may delay our ability to operate like a typical REIT not subject to the 1940 Act and would delay our ability to realize the benefits we anticipate to realize from becoming a diversified REIT.

During the implementation period, we will be required to transition a material portion of our assets to ensure a REIT-compliant portfolio.

During the implementation period, we will be required to transition a material portion of our assets to ensure a REIT-compliant portfolio sufficient to qualify as a REIT for tax purpose. During the transition period and before our portfolio has been fully converted to its new investment strategy, we may experience a reduction in income and we expect our cash flow from earnings and the status and availability of capital gains we realize from our portfolio to decline during our transition to a diversified REIT. This decline could result from the rotation out of existing investments, the need to establish new revenue streams, the potential for holding assets in temporary investments with lower yields and the availability or unavailability of realized capital gains to distribute, among other potential variables.

Pursuant to the Business Change Proposal, we expect to sell assets we own in transactions that may be taxable.

If the Business Change Proposal is approved and we convert to a diversified REIT, we expect to sell approximately 25% of the assets that we own in taxable transactions. Pursuant to RIC and REIT tax laws, any taxable income or gains recognized on such sales would generally need to be distributed to our shareholders in the year recognized, and any such distributions would generally be taxable to shareholders when received.

Our failure to qualify for taxation as a REIT would cause our common shares to be delisted from the NYSE.

Following our conversion to a diversified REIT, the NYSE will require, as a condition to the continued listing of our shares, that we maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT. Consequently, if we fail to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT, our shares would promptly be delisted from the NYSE, which would decrease the trading activity of such shares. This could make it difficult for our shareholders to sell their shares and would likely cause the market volume of the shares trading to decline.

If we are delisted as a result of failing to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT and desire to relist our shares on the NYSE or another national stock exchange, we would have to reapply to the NYSE or such other exchange to be listed as a domestic corporation. We might not be able to satisfy the NYSE's listing standards for a domestic corporation. As a result, if we are delisted from the NYSE, we might not be able to relist on the NYSE or another national stock exchange as a domestic corporation, in which case our shares could not trade on such stock exchange.

Risks Related to Our Company

We may not be able to achieve our investment objective.

Our ability to achieve our investment objectives depends on our ability to make investments that generate attractive, risk adjusted returns, as well as on our access to financing on terms that permit us to realize net interest income from our investments. In general, the availability of favorable investment opportunities will be affected by the level and volatility of interest rates in the market generally, the availability of adequate short- and long-term real estate financing and the competition for investment opportunities. We cannot be sure that we will be successful in obtaining additional capital to enable us to make new investments, that any investments we make will satisfy our targeted rate of return or other investment objectives or that we will be able to successfully operate our business, or implement our operating policies and investment strategies. If we fail to make a meaningful number of target investments within a reasonable time or on acceptable terms, such failure may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, ability to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC, and ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders, and could cause the value of our securities to decline.

Changes in laws or regulations could increase competition for debt financing or require changes to our business practices and adversely affect us.

Various laws and regulations currently exist that restrict the investment activities of banks and certain other financial institutions but would not apply to us. We believe this regulatory difference may create opportunities for us to successfully grow our business. However, recent and possible future changes in financial regulations and enforcement under the current U.S. presidential administration could decrease the current restrictions on banks and other financial institutions, which may allow them to compete more effectively with us for investment opportunities.

The laws and regulations governing our operations, as well as their interpretation, may change from time to time, and new laws and regulations may be enacted. Such changes or new laws or regulations could require changes to certain of our business practices, negatively impact our operations, impose additional costs on us or otherwise adversely affect our business. There has been increasing commentary amongst regulators and intergovernmental institutions on the role of nonbank institutions in providing credit and, particularly, so-called “shadow banking,” a term generally taken to refer to credit intermediation involving entities and activities outside the regulated banking system. For example, in August 2013, the Financial Stability Board issued a policy framework for strengthening oversight and regulation of shadow banking entities. That report outlined initial steps to define the scope of the shadow banking system and proposed governing principles for a regulatory framework. A number of other regulators and international organizations are studying the shadow banking system. At this time, it is too early to assess whether any new rules or regulations will be adopted or what impact such rules or regulations will have on us, if any. In an extreme eventuality, it is possible that such regulations could cause us to cease operations.

Our operating and investment guidelines, investment and financing strategies and leverage and hedging policies may be changed without shareholder approval.

The Adviser will be authorized to follow broad operating and investment guidelines. These guidelines, as well as our investment and financing strategies, leverage and hedging policies with respect to investments, originations, acquisitions, operations, indebtedness, capitalization and distributions, may be changed at any time without the approval of our shareholders. Changes in our investment strategies may increase our exposure to interest rate risks, default risks and real estate market fluctuations. Such changes could result in the types of investments we make being different from those described in “Business Change Proposal—Operation as a Diversified REIT.” These changes could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations, the market price of our common shares and our ability to make distributions to our shareholders.

Any material failure, inadequacy, interruption or security failure of the information technology networks and systems on which we rely could materially and adversely affect us.

The Adviser relies on information technology and systems, including the Internet and cloud-based infrastructures, commercially available software and their internally developed applications, to process, transmit, store and safeguard information and to manage or support a variety of their business processes, including financial transactions and maintenance of records, which may include personal identifying information of employees and investment data. If the Adviser experiences material security or other failures, inadequacies or interruptions of their information technology, they could incur material costs and losses, and our operations could be disrupted as a result. Further, third-party vendors could experience similar events with respect to their information technology and systems that impact the products and services they provide to the Adviser or the Fund. The Adviser relies on commercially available systems, software, tools and monitoring, as well as their internally developed applications and internal procedures and personnel, to provide security for processing, transmitting, storing and safeguarding confidential borrower and vendor information, such as personally identifiable information related to their employees, guarantors, tenants and others and information regarding their and our financial accounts. The Adviser takes various actions, and incur significant costs, to maintain and protect the operation and security of its information technology and systems, including the data maintained in those systems. However, it is possible that these measures will not prevent the systems’ improper functioning or a compromise in security, such as in the event of a cyberattack or the improper disclosure of personally identifiable information.

Security breaches, computer viruses, attacks by hackers, online fraud schemes and similar breaches can create significant system disruptions, shutdowns, fraudulent transfer of assets or unauthorized disclosure of confidential information. The cybersecurity risks to the Adviser, the Fund and third-party vendors are heightened by, among other things, the evolving nature of the threats faced, advances in computer capabilities, new discoveries in the field of cryptography and new and increasingly sophisticated methods used to perpetuate illegal or fraudulent activities against the Adviser, including cyberattacks, email or wire fraud and other attacks exploiting security vulnerabilities in the Adviser's or other third parties' information technology networks and systems or operations. Any failure to maintain the security, proper function and availability of the Adviser's information technology and systems, or certain third-party vendors' failure to similarly protect their information technology and systems that are relevant to the Adviser's or the Fund's operations, or to safeguard the Adviser's or the Fund's business processes, assets and information could result in financial losses, interrupt the Adviser's operations, damage the Adviser's reputations, cause Adviser to be in default of material contracts and subject the Adviser to liability claims or regulatory penalties, any of which could materially and adversely affect our business and the value of our securities.

Our business could be adversely impacted if there are deficiencies in our disclosure controls and procedures or our internal control over financial reporting.

The design and effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and our internal control over financial reporting may not prevent all errors, misstatements or misrepresentations. While management will continue to review the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures and our internal control over financial reporting, we cannot guarantee that our disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting will be effective in accomplishing all control objectives all of the time. Deficiencies, including any material weaknesses, in our disclosure controls and procedures or internal control over financial reporting could result in misstatements of our results of operations or our financial statements or could otherwise materially and adversely affect our business, reputation, results of operations, financial condition or liquidity.

[During Fund management's evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Fund's disclosure controls and procedures in connection with the Fund's annual report for the fiscal year-ended December 31, 2019, the principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that the Fund's disclosure controls and procedures were not effective due to a material weakness for the Fund relating to the application of ASC 820 with respect to the selection and validation of fair value methodologies which are monitored by the Valuation Committee through the operation of a review control. This control was not designed to ensure the appropriateness of the methodologies employed and fair value determinations reached for certain real estate-related holdings. A material weakness (as defined in Rule 12b-2 under the Exchange Act) is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Fund's annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. While this material weakness did not result in material pricing errors related to any hard-to-value securities held by the Fund during the reporting period, it could have resulted in a misstatement to the investment balances or disclosures that would have resulted in a material misstatement to the annual or interim financial statements that would not be prevented or detected.

Management has developed a plan to remediate the material weakness described above. Management utilizes one or more independent valuation experts as part of its existing valuation process. Management will undertake the addition of a review control by designating a member of the Valuation Committee to monitor and report to the Valuation Committee to ensure that for significant real estate-related holdings, a) the valuation methodology employed is confirmed by an independent valuation expert at least annually and b) for independently obtained valuations of real estate-related holdings, fair values for such holdings are materially validated through one or more other valuation techniques that are acceptable under ASC 820.]

Risks Related to Our Business

Unfavorable market and economic conditions in the United States and globally and in the specific markets or submarkets where our properties are located could adversely affect occupancy levels, rental rates, rent collections, operating expenses and the overall market value of our assets, and impair our ability to sell, recapitalize or refinance our assets.

Unfavorable market conditions in the areas in which we operate and unfavorable economic conditions in the United States and globally may significantly affect our occupancy levels, our rental rates, rent collections, operating expenses, the market value of our properties and our ability to strategically acquire, dispose, recapitalize or refinance our multifamily properties on economically favorable terms or at all. Our ability to lease our properties at favorable rates is adversely affected by increases in supply of multifamily communities in our markets and is dependent upon overall economic conditions, which are adversely affected by, among other things, job losses and unemployment levels, a recession, personal debt levels, a downturn in the housing market, stock market volatility and uncertainty about the future. Some of our major expenses, including debt service and real estate taxes, generally do not decline when related rents decline. We expect that any declines in our occupancy levels, rental revenues and/or the values of our multifamily properties would cause us to have less cash available to pay our indebtedness, fund necessary capital expenditures and to make distributions to our stockholders, which could negatively affect our financial condition and the market value of our assets. Factors that may affect our occupancy levels, our revenues, our NOI and/or the value of our properties include the following, among others:

- downturns in global, national, regional and local economic conditions;
- declines in the financial condition of our residents, which may make it more difficult for us to collect rents from these residents;
- the inability or unwillingness of our residents to pay rent increases;
- a decline in household formation;
- a decline in employment or lack of employment growth;
- an oversupply of, or a reduced demand for, apartment homes;
- changes in market rental rates in our core markets;
- our ability to renew leases or re-lease space on favorable terms;
- the timing and costs associated with property improvements, repairs and renovations;
- declines in mortgage interest rates, making home and condominium ownership more affordable;
- changes in home loan lending practices, including the easing of credit underwriting standards, increasing the availability of home loans and thereby reducing demand for apartment homes;
- government or builder incentives which enable first-time homebuyers to put little or no money down, making alternative housing options more attractive;
- rent control or rent stabilization laws, or other laws regulating housing, that could prevent us from raising rents to offset increases in operating costs; and
- economic conditions that could cause an increase in our operating expenses, such as increases in property taxes (particularly as a result of increased local, state and national government budget deficits and debt and potentially reduced federal aid to state and local governments), utilities, insurance, compensation of on-site associates and routine maintenance.

We are subject to risks inherent in ownership of real estate.

Real estate cash flows and values are affected by a number of factors, including competition from other available properties and the ability to provide adequate property maintenance and insurance and to control operating costs. Real estate cash flows and values are also affected by such factors as government regulations (including zoning, usage and tax laws) limitations on rent and rent increases, interest rate levels, the availability of financing, property tax rates, utility expenses, potential liability under environmental and other laws and changes in environmental and other laws.

We are exposed to risks associated with real estate development and redevelopment, such as unanticipated expenses, delays and other contingencies, any of which could have a material adverse effect on us.

Real estate development and redevelopment activities are a critical element of our business strategy, and we expect to engage in such activities with respect to several of our properties and with properties that we may acquire in the future. To the extent that we do so, we will be subject to risks, including, without limitation:

- construction or redevelopment costs of a project may exceed original estimates, possibly making the project less profitable than originally estimated, or unprofitable;
- time required to complete the construction or redevelopment of a project or to lease-up the completed project may be greater than originally anticipated, thereby adversely affecting our cash flow and liquidity;
- contractor, subcontractor and supplier disputes, strikes, labor disputes, weather conditions or supply disruptions;
- failure to achieve expected occupancy and/or rent levels within the projected time frame, if at all;
- delays with respect to obtaining, or the inability to obtain, necessary zoning, occupancy, land use and other governmental permits, and changes in zoning and land use laws;
- occupancy rates and rents of a completed project may not be sufficient to make the project profitable;
- incurrence of design, permitting and other development costs for opportunities that we ultimately abandon;
- the ability of prospective real estate venture partners or buyers of our properties to obtain financing; and
- the availability and pricing of financing to fund our development activities on favorable terms or at all.

Furthermore, if we develop assets in new markets or asset classes where we do not have the same level of market knowledge or experience as with our current markets and asset classes, then we may experience weaker than anticipated performance. These risks could result in substantial unanticipated delays or expenses and, under certain circumstances, could prevent the initiation or the completion of development or redevelopment activities, any of which could have a material adverse effect on us.

We may fail to consummate future property acquisitions, and we may not be able to find suitable alternative investment opportunities.

When acquiring properties in the future, we may be subject to various closing conditions, and there can be no assurance that we can satisfy these conditions or that the acquisitions will close. If we fail to consummate future acquisitions, there can be no assurance that we will be able to find suitable alternative investment opportunities.

Acquisitions may not yield anticipated results, which could negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We intend to actively acquire multifamily properties for rental operations as market conditions, including access to the debt and equity markets, dictate. We may also acquire multifamily properties that are unoccupied or in the early stages of lease-up. We may be unable to lease-up these multifamily properties on schedule, resulting in decreases in expected rental revenues and/or lower yields as the result of lower occupancy and rental rates as well as higher than expected concessions. We may underestimate the costs necessary to bring an acquired property up to standards established for its intended market position or to complete a development project. We may be unable to integrate the existing operations of newly acquired multifamily properties and over time such communities may not perform as well as existing communities or as we initially anticipated in terms of occupancy and/or rental rates. Additionally, we expect that other major real estate investors with significant capital will compete with us for attractive investment opportunities or may also develop properties in markets where we focus our development efforts. This competition may increase acquisition costs for multifamily properties. We may not be in a position or have the opportunity in the future to make suitable property acquisitions on favorable terms.

We may be subject to contingent or unknown liabilities related to properties or business that we have acquired or may acquire for which we may have limited or no recourse against the sellers.

The properties or businesses that we have acquired or may acquire, may be subject to unknown or contingent liabilities for which we have limited or no recourse against the sellers. Unknown liabilities might include liabilities for, among other things, cleanup or remediation of undisclosed environmental conditions, liabilities under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), claims of residents, vendors or other persons dealing with the entities prior to the acquisition of such property, tax liabilities, and accrued but unpaid liabilities whether incurred in the ordinary course of business or otherwise. Because many liabilities, including tax liabilities, may not be identified within the applicable contractual indemnification period, we may have no recourse against any of the owners from whom we acquire such properties for these liabilities. The existence of such liabilities could significantly and adversely affect the value of the property subject to such liability. As a result, if a liability were asserted against us based on ownership of any of such properties, then we might have to pay substantial sums to settle it, which could adversely affect our cash flows.

We will operate in a highly competitive market for investment opportunities and competition may limit our ability to acquire our target investments on attractive terms and could also affect the pricing of these investment opportunities.

We will operate in a highly competitive market for investment opportunities. Our profitability will depend, in large part, on our ability to acquire our target investments on attractive terms. In acquiring our investments, we will compete with a variety of institutional investors, including other REITs, specialty finance companies, public and private funds (including funds or investors that the Adviser and its subsidiaries may sponsor, advise or manage), banks, and insurance companies and other financial institutions. Some of our competitors, including other REITs and alternative real estate lenders, have recently raised, or are expected to raise, significant amounts of capital, and may have investment objectives that overlap with our investment objectives, which may create additional competition for lending and other investment opportunities. Many of our competitors are significantly larger than we are and have considerably greater financial, technical, marketing and other resources than we have. Many of our competitors are not subject to the operating constraints associated with REIT tax or SEC reporting compliance or maintenance of an exemption from registration as an investment company under the 1940 Act. Some of our competitors may have a lower cost of capital and access to funding sources that may not be available to us, such as the U.S. Government, or are only available to us on substantially less attractive terms. In addition, some of our competitors may have higher risk tolerances or make different risk assessments than us, which could lead them to consider a wider variety of investments, offer more attractive pricing or other terms than us, for example, higher LTV ratios or lower interest rates than we are willing to offer or accept, or establish more relationships than us. In addition, recent and possible future changes in financial regulations and enforcement under the current U.S. presidential administration could decrease the current restrictions on banks and other financial institutions. If this occurs, these banks and financial institutions may increase or commence their pursuit of investments that are within our target investments either because they would no longer be restricted in making these investments or because the regulatory burdens resulting from these investments would be removed or significantly reduced. Furthermore, competition for our target investments may lead to the price for these investments increasing, which may further limit our ability to generate desired returns. The competitive pressures we will face may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations, and we cannot be sure that we will be able to identify and acquire our target investments.

The anticipated lack of liquidity of certain of our investments may adversely affect our business.

The anticipated lack of liquidity of certain of our investments may make it difficult for us to sell such investments if the need or desire arises. Certain investments such as real property, mortgages, B-Notes, mezzanine and other loans (including most loan participations) and preferred equity, in particular, are relatively illiquid investments due to their short life, their potential unsuitability for securitization and the difficulty of recovery in the event of a borrower's default. In addition, we anticipate that certain of our investments may become less liquid after we have made them as a result of delinquencies or defaults, turbulent market conditions or the unavailability to borrowers of refinancing capital, which may make it more difficult for us to dispose of such investments at advantageous prices or in a timely manner. Moreover, many of the loans and securities we will invest in are not registered under relevant securities laws, resulting in limitations or prohibitions against their transfer, sale, pledge or disposition except in transactions that are exempt from registration requirements or are otherwise in accordance with such laws. As a result, many of our investments are expected to be illiquid, and if we are required to liquidate all or a portion of our portfolio quickly, we may realize significantly less than the value at which we have previously recorded our investments. Further, we may face other restrictions on our ability to liquidate an investment to the extent that we or the Adviser has or could be attributed as having material, non-public information regarding the borrower entity. As a result, our ability to adjust our portfolio in response to changes in economic and other conditions may be relatively limited, which could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

Concentrations within our portfolio of investments may subject us to losses.

While we intend to expand and diversify our portfolio of investments, we are not required to observe specific diversification criteria. Our investments may therefore at times be concentrated in certain property types or in certain borrowers that may be subject to higher risk of default or foreclosure, or secured by properties concentrated in a limited number of geographic locations. To the extent that our investments are concentrated in any one region or type of asset, downturns generally relating to such type of asset or region may result in defaults on a number of our investments within a short time period. Further, investments concentrated in certain borrowers may result in defaults of a significant amount of our investments if one or more of those borrowers default. Defaults of our concentrated investments may significantly reduce our net income, the returns on our investments and the value of our common shares, and as a result reduce our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders.

Loans secured by properties in transition or requiring significant renovation involve a greater risk of loss than loans secured by stabilized properties.

We may originate or acquire transitional or bridge loans to borrowers who are seeking shorter term capital to be used in acquisitions, construction or repositioning of properties. In a typical transitional loan, the borrower has usually identified a property that the borrower believes has been under-managed or is located in a recovering market or requires renovation. The renovation, refurbishment or expansion of a property by a borrower involves risks of cost overruns, construction risks and noncompletion risks, among others. Estimates of the costs of property improvements may be inaccurate. Other risks may include rehabilitation costs exceeding original estimates, possibly making a project uneconomical, environmental risks, delays in legal and other approvals and rehabilitation and subsequent leasing of the property not being completed on schedule. If the borrower fails to improve the quality of the property's management or the market in which the property is located fails to improve as expected, or the renovation is not completed in a timely manner or such costs are more than expected, then the borrower may not generate sufficient cash flow to make payments on or refinance the transitional loan, and we may not recover some or all of our investment.

In addition, borrowers often use the proceeds of a conventional mortgage to repay a transitional loan. Transitional loans therefore are subject to the risk of the borrowers' inability to obtain financing to repay the loan. Losses we or our subsidiaries suffer with respect to our transitional loans could be material.

The Adviser's diligence process for investment opportunities may not reveal all facts that may be relevant for an investment, and if we incorrectly evaluate the risks of our investments, we may experience losses.

Prior to our making any investment, the Adviser will conduct diligence that it considers reasonable based upon the facts and circumstances of the investment. When conducting diligence on our behalf, the Adviser may be required to evaluate important and complex business, financial, tax, accounting, environmental and legal issues.

Outside consultants, legal advisors, accountants and investment banks may be involved in the diligence process to varying degrees depending on the type of potential investment. Nonetheless, our diligence may not reveal all of the risks associated with our investments. We will evaluate our potential investments based upon criteria the Adviser deems appropriate for the relevant investment. Our underwriting assumptions and loss estimates may not prove accurate, and actual results may vary from estimates. If we underestimate the risks and potential losses associated with an investment we originate or acquire, we may experience losses from the investment.

Moreover, investment analyses and decisions by the Adviser may frequently be required to be undertaken on an expedited basis to take advantage of investment opportunities. In such cases, the information available to the Adviser at the time of making an investment decision may be limited. Therefore, we cannot be sure that the Adviser will have knowledge of all circumstances that may adversely affect such investment.

We may be subject to risks involved in real estate activity through joint ventures.

We may acquire properties through joint ventures when we believe circumstances warrant the use of such structures. Joint venture investments involve risks, including: the possibility that joint venture partners might refuse to make capital contributions when due; that we may be responsible to joint venture partners for indemnifiable losses; that joint venture partners might at any time have business or economic goals which are inconsistent with ours; and that joint venture partners may be in a position to take action or withhold consent contrary to our recommendations, instructions or requests. In some instances, joint venture partners may have competing interests in our markets that could create conflicts of interest. Further, joint venture partners may fail to meet their obligations to the joint venture as a result of financial distress or otherwise, and we would be forced to make contributions to maintain the value of the property. To the extent joint venture partners do not meet their obligations to the joint venture or they take action inconsistent with the interests of the joint venture, we could be adversely affected.

If we acquire properties through joint ventures, we may be required to make decisions jointly with the other investors who have interests in the respective joint ventures. We might not have the same interests as the other investors in relation to these decisions or transactions. Accordingly, we might not be able to favorably resolve any of these issues, or we might have to provide financial or other inducements to the other investors to obtain a favorable resolution.

In addition, various restrictive provisions and third-party rights, including consent rights to certain transactions, may apply to sales or transfers of interests in joint ventures. Consequently, decisions to buy or sell interests in a property or properties relating to joint ventures may be subject to the prior consent of other investors. These restrictive provisions and third-party rights would potentially preclude us from achieving full value of the properties because of our inability to obtain the necessary consents to sell or transfer the interests.

Prepayment rates may adversely affect the value of certain of our investments which could negatively impact our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders.

The prepayment rates at which borrowers prepay our investments, where contractually permitted, will be influenced by changes in current interest rates, significant changes in the performance of underlying real estate assets and a variety of economic and other factors beyond our control. Prepayment rates cannot be predicted with certainty and no strategy can completely insulate us from increases in such rates. In periods of declining interest rates, prepayments on investments generally increase and the proceeds of prepayments received during these periods are likely to be reinvested by us in comparable assets at reduced yields. Conversely, in periods of rising interest rates, prepayments on investments, where contractually permitted, generally decrease, in which case we would not have the prepayment proceeds available to invest in comparable assets at higher yields. We may invest in loans and other assets secured or supported by transitional real estate assets; significant improvement in the performance of such assets may result in prepayments as other financing alternatives become available to the borrower. In addition, it may take an extended period for us to reinvest any repayments we may receive and any reinvestments we may be able to make may not provide us with similar returns or comparable risks as those of our current investments. We expect to be entitled to fees upon the prepayment of our investments, although we cannot be sure that such fees will adequately compensate us as the functional equivalent of a “make whole” payment. Furthermore, we may not be able to structure future investments to impose a make whole obligation upon a borrower in the case of an early prepayment. As a result, our income will be reduced, which will have a negative impact on our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders.

A prolonged economic slowdown, a recession or declining real estate values could materially and adversely affect us.

We believe that the risks associated with our investments will be more severe during periods of economic slowdown or recession, especially if these periods are accompanied by declining real estate values. Consequently, our investment strategy may be adversely affected by prolonged economic downturns or recessions. Borrowers may also be less able to pay principal and interest on our loans if the value of their real estate declines. Further, declining real estate values significantly increase the likelihood that we will incur losses on our investments and on our loans in the event of default because the value of our collateral may be insufficient to cover our cost on the loan. Any sustained period of increased payment delinquencies, foreclosures or losses could adversely affect our ability to originate or acquire loans, which would materially and adversely affect our results of operations, financial condition, liquidity and business and our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders.

Loans and other real estate related investments we will originate and acquire are subject to the ability of the property owner to generate net income from operating the property as well as the risks of delinquency and foreclosure.

Loans and other real estate related investments that we will originate or acquire are subject to risks of delinquency and foreclosure. The ability of a borrower to repay a loan secured by an income producing property typically is dependent primarily upon the successful operation of the property rather than upon the existence of independent income or assets of the borrower. If the net operating income of the property is reduced, the borrower’s ability to repay the loan may be impaired. Similarly, when we are the borrower, a decrease in net operating income may impair our ability to pay our loans on properties that we own. Net operating income of an income producing property can be affected by, among other things:

- tenant mix and tenant bankruptcies;
- success of tenant businesses;
- property management decisions, including with respect to capital improvements, particularly in older building structures;
- property location, condition and design;
- competition from comparable properties;
- changes in national, regional or local economic conditions and/or specific industry segments;
- declines in regional or local real estate values;
- declines in regional or local rental or occupancy rates;
- changes in interest rates, and in the state of the debt and equity capital markets, including diminished availability or lack of debt financing for CRE;
- changes in real estate tax rates, tax credits and other operating expenses;
- costs of remediation and liabilities associated with environmental conditions;
- the potential for uninsured or underinsured property losses;
- changes in laws and regulations, including fiscal policies, zoning ordinances and environmental legislation and the related costs of compliance; and
- acts of God, terrorist attacks, social unrest and civil disturbances.

In the event of any default under any loan or other debt-related investment held directly by us, we will bear a risk of loss of principal to the extent of any deficiency between the value of the collateral (net of our costs to enforce our rights with respect to that collateral) and the principal and accrued interest of the loan or investment, which could have a material adverse effect on our cash flow from operations and limit amounts available for distribution to our shareholders. In the event of the bankruptcy of a mortgage loan borrower, the mortgage loan to such borrower will be deemed to be secured only to the extent of the value of the underlying collateral at the time of bankruptcy (as determined by the bankruptcy court), and the lien securing the mortgage loan will be subject to the avoidance powers of the bankruptcy trustee or debtor-in-possession to the extent the lien is unenforceable under applicable law. Foreclosure of a mortgage loan can be an expensive and lengthy process, which could have a substantial negative effect on our anticipated return on the foreclosed mortgage loan.

The investments we will originate and acquire will expose us to risks associated with real estate investments generally.

In addition to the other risks discussed herein, the real property loans and other real estate-related investments we will originate and acquire expose us to risks associated with real estate investment, generally, including:

- economic and market fluctuations;
- political instability or changes;
- changes in environmental, zoning and other laws;
- casualty or condemnation losses;
- regulatory limitations on rents;
- decreases in property values;
- changes in the appeal of properties to tenants;
- changes in supply and demand for real estate properties and debt resulting from the recent growth in real estate debt funds or otherwise;
- changes in valuation of collateral underlying real properties and real estate loans, resulting from inherently subjective and uncertain valuations;
- energy supply shortages;
- various uninsured or uninsurable risks;
- natural disasters;
- changes in government regulations, such as rent control;
- changes in the availability of debt financing and/or mortgage funds, which may render the sale or refinancing of properties difficult or impracticable;
- increases in mortgage defaults;
- increases in borrowing rates; and
- negative developments in the economy and/or adverse changes in real estate values generally and other factors that are beyond our control.

We cannot predict the degree to which economic conditions generally, and the conditions for real estate debt investing in particular, will improve or decline. Any declines in the performance of the United States or global economies or in the real estate debt markets could have a material adverse effect on us.

We intend to continue to hold a portion of the Fund's assets in securities, including equities, structured products, including but not limited to, mortgage-backed and other asset-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations; other investment companies and REITs.

The market prices of equity securities owned by the Fund may go up or down, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably. The value of a security may decline for a number of reasons that may directly relate to the issuer, such as management performance, fundamental changes to the business, financial leverage, non-compliance with regulatory requirements and reduced demand for the issuer's goods or services. The values of equity securities also may decline due to general market conditions that are not specifically related to a particular company, such as real or perceived adverse economic conditions, changes in the general outlook for corporate earnings, changes in interest or currency rates or adverse investor sentiment generally. Certain equity securities may decline in value even during periods when the prices of equity securities in general are rising, or may not perform as well as the market in general. In addition to these risks, preferred stock and convertible securities are also subject to the risk that issuers will not make payments on securities held by the Fund, which could result in losses to the Fund. The credit quality of preferred stock and convertible securities held by a Fund may be lowered if an issuer's financial condition changes, leading to greater volatility in the price of the security. In addition, a company's preferred stock generally pays dividends only after the company makes required payments to holders of its bonds and other debt. For this reason, the value of preferred stock will usually react more strongly than bonds and other debt to actual or perceived changes in the company's financial condition or prospects. The market value of convertible securities also tends to fall when prevailing interest rates rise.

The Fund may also invest in collateralized bond obligations ("CBOs"), collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs") and other collateralized debt obligations ("CDOs"), which are debt instruments backed solely by a pool of other debt securities. The risks of an investment in a CBO, CLO or other CDO depend largely on the type of the collateral securities (which would have the risks described elsewhere in this document for that type of security) and the class of the CBO, CLO or other CDO in which the Fund invests. Some CBOs, CLOs and other CDOs have credit ratings, but are typically issued in various classes with various priorities. Normally, CBOs, CLOs and other CDOs are privately offered and sold (that is, not registered under the securities laws) and may be characterized by the Fund as illiquid securities, but an active dealer market may exist for CBOs, CLOs and other CDOs that qualify for Rule 144A transactions. In addition to the normal interest rate, default and other risks of fixed income securities discussed elsewhere in this document, CBOs, CLOs and other CDOs carry additional risks, including the possibility that distributions from collateral securities will not be adequate to make interest or other payments, the quality of the collateral may decline in value or default, the Fund may invest in CBOs, CLOs or other CDOs that are subordinate to other classes, volatility in values, and the complex structure of the security may not be fully understood at the time of investment and produce disputes with the issuer or unexpected investment results.

The Fund may also invest in these categories of obligations and securities through the use of derivatives.

The Fund is not limited in the amount it may invest in derivatives, and it may use derivatives to hedge various investments for risk management and for speculative purposes. Derivatives risk is a combination of several risks, including the risks that: (1) an investment in a derivative instrument may not correlate well with the performance of the securities or asset class to which the Fund seeks exposure, (2) derivative contracts, including options, may expire worthless and the use of derivatives may result in losses to the Fund, (3) a derivative instrument entailing leverage may result in a loss greater than the principal amount invested, (4) derivatives not traded on an exchange may be subject to credit risk, for example, if the counterparty does not meet its obligations; and (5) derivatives not traded on an exchange may be subject to liquidity risk and the related risk that the instrument is difficult or impossible to value accurately. As a general matter, when the Fund establishes certain derivative instrument positions, such as certain futures, options and forward contract positions, it will segregate liquid assets (such as cash, U.S. Treasury bonds or commercial paper) equivalent to the Fund's outstanding obligations under the contract or in connection with the position. In addition, changes in laws or regulations may make the use of derivatives more costly, may limit the availability of derivatives, or may otherwise adversely affect the use, value or performance of derivatives.

REIT distribution requirements and limitations on our ability to access reasonably priced capital may adversely impact our ability to carry out our business plan.

To maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC, we are required to satisfy distribution requirements imposed by the IRC. See the discussion below under "Risks Related to Our Taxation—REIT distribution requirements could adversely affect us and our shareholders." Accordingly, we may not be able to retain sufficient cash to fund our operations, repay our debts or make investments. Our business strategies therefore depend, in part, upon our ability to raise additional capital at reasonable costs. The volatility in the availability of capital to businesses on a global basis in most debt and equity markets generally may limit our ability to raise reasonably priced capital. We may also be unable to raise reasonably priced capital because of reasons related to our business, market perceptions of our prospects, the terms of our indebtedness, the extent of our leverage or for reasons beyond our control, such as market conditions. Because the earnings we are permitted to retain are limited by the rules governing REIT qualification and taxation, if we are unable to raise reasonably priced capital, we may not be able to carry out our business plan.

Investments in non-conforming loans involve increased risk of loss.

Certain of our loans and investments may not conform to conventional loan standards applied by traditional lenders and either will not be rated or, if rated, would be rated as non-investment grade by the rating agencies. The non-investment grade ratings typically result from the overall leverage of the loans, the lack of a strong operating history for the properties underlying the loans, the borrowers' credit history, the underlying properties' cash flow or other factors. As a result, these investments should be expected to have a higher risk of default and loss than investment grade rated assets. Any loss we incur may be significant and may negatively impact our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders and adversely affect the value of our common shares. There are no limits on the percentage of unrated assets or non-investment grade rated assets we may hold in our investment portfolio.

Any credit ratings that may be assigned to our investments will be subject to possible revisions, and we cannot be sure that those ratings will not be downgraded.

Some of our investments may be rated by credit rating agencies. Any credit ratings on our investments will be subject to ongoing evaluation by credit rating agencies, and we cannot be sure that any such ratings will not be changed or withdrawn by a rating agency after they are issued. If a rating agency assigns a lower than expected rating or reduces or withdraws, or indicates that it may reduce or withdraw, its rating of any of our investments, the value of those investments could significantly decline, which could result in losses if we determine to sell these investments or the failure of the affected borrowers to refinance or otherwise satisfy their debt service obligations.

Risks of cost overruns and failure to complete renovations of properties in transition may result in significant losses.

The renovation, refurbishment or expansion of a property by a borrower involves risks of cost overruns, construction risks and noncompletion risks, among others. Estimates of the costs of property improvements may be inaccurate. Other risks may include rehabilitation costs exceeding original estimates, possibly making a project uneconomical, environmental risks, delays in legal and other approvals and rehabilitation and subsequent leasing of the property not being completed on schedule. If such renovation is not completed in a timely manner, or if it costs more than expected, we, as borrower, or the borrowers as to loans we make, may experience a prolonged reduction of net operating income and may not be able to make payments on loans on a timely basis or at all, which may result in significant losses to us.

We expect that many of our loans and investments will not conform to conventional loan standards applied by traditional lenders and either will not be rated or, if rated, would be rated as non-investment grade by the rating agencies. If a rating agency assigns a lower than expected rating or reduces or withdraws, or indicates that it may reduce or withdraw, its rating of any of our investments, the value of those investments could significantly decline, which could result in losses if we determine to sell these investments or the failure of the affected borrowers to refinance or otherwise satisfy their debt service obligations to B-Notes are subordinated and have individually negotiated terms, which may result in losses to us.

We may originate or acquire B-Notes. A B-Note is a mortgage loan typically (a) secured by a first mortgage on a single commercial property or group of related properties and (b) subordinated to an A-Note secured by the same first mortgage on the same collateral. The rights associated with the B-Note are subordinate to the rights associated with the A-Note. If the borrower whose mortgage is divided into an A-Note and a B-Note defaults, there may not be sufficient value in the collateral property remaining for B-Note holders after payment to the A-Note holders. Because each transaction is individually negotiated, B-Notes can vary in their structural characteristics and risks. For example, the rights of holders of B-Notes to control the process following a borrower default vary from transaction to transaction. Losses we suffer investing in B-Notes could be material.

Subordinated and mezzanine loans involve greater risks of loss than first mortgage whole loans.

We may originate or acquire subordinated and mezzanine loans, which are loans secured by junior mortgages on the underlying collateral property or loans secured by a pledge of the ownership interests of either the entity owning the property or a pledge of the ownership interests in the entity that owns the interest in the entity owning the property. Subordinated loans have less priority and rights than senior or first mortgages. Mezzanine loans secured by a pledge of ownership interests in an entity are by their nature structurally subordinated to financings that are secured directly by the collateral property. Subordinated and mezzanine loans involve a higher degree of risk than first mortgage whole loans because they rank behind senior loans and may become unsecured as a result of foreclosure by senior lenders. In the event of a bankruptcy of an entity providing the pledge of its ownership interests as security, we may not have full recourse to the assets of such entity, or the assets of the entity may not be sufficient to satisfy our mezzanine loan. If borrowers default on our subordinated loans, mezzanine loans or debt senior to our loans, or in the event of borrowers' bankruptcies, our subordinated loans and mezzanine loans will be satisfied only after the senior debts, and we may not recover some or all of our subordinated loans and mezzanine investments. In addition, subordinated loans and mezzanine loans may have higher LTV ratios than other real estate mortgage loans, resulting in less equity in the collateral properties and increasing the risk of loss of principal. Losses we suffer with respect to our subordinated loans and mezzanine loans could be material.

Any distressed investments we originate or acquire, or investments that later become distressed, may subject us to losses and other significant risks.

While our investments will focus primarily on “performing” real estate loans, our investments may include distressed investments from time to time (e.g., investments in defaulted, out-of-favor or distressed bank loans or debt securities) or may involve investments that become “sub-performing” or “non-performing” after we originate or acquire them. From time to time, our investments may be secured by properties that are encumbered by large amounts of debt relative to their values and cash flows and, therefore, involve a high degree of financial risk. During an economic downturn or recession, loans or securities of financially or operationally troubled borrowers are more likely to go into default than loans or securities of other borrowers. Investment in the loans secured by highly leveraged properties and loans to operationally troubled borrowers involves a high degree of credit risk.

In certain circumstances (e.g., in connection with a workout, restructuring or foreclosing proceedings involving one or more of our investments), the success of our investment strategy will depend on our ability to effectuate loan modifications or restructure and improve the operations of our borrowers. Implementing successful restructuring programs and operating improvements entails a high degree of uncertainty. We cannot be sure that we will be able to implement successful restructuring programs and improvements with respect to any distressed loans or investments we may have from time to time. Distressed loans may become subject to bankruptcy or other similar legal proceedings. In such proceedings, there is a possibility that we may incur substantial costs and total losses on our investments and, in certain circumstances, become subject to liabilities that may exceed the value of our original investments. For example, under certain circumstances, a lender that has inappropriately exercised control over the management and policies of a debtor may have its claims legally subordinated or disallowed or may be found liable for damages suffered by the debtor and its related parties as a result of such actions. Bankruptcy and similar laws may delay our ability to realize on collateral for our loans, may adversely affect the economic terms and priority of our loans through legal doctrines such as equitable subordination or may result in a restructuring of our loans through principles such as the “cramdown” provisions of the bankruptcy laws. In any reorganization or liquidation proceeding relating to our investments, we may lose our entire investment, may be required to accept cash or securities with a value less than our original investment and/or may be required to accept terms different than our original loan terms, including payment over an extended period of time. In addition, in certain circumstances, payments we have received may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance, preferential payment or similar transaction under applicable bankruptcy and insolvency laws.

We may not have control over certain of our investments.

Our ability to manage our investments may be limited by the form in which they are made. In certain situations, we may:

- acquire or retain investments subject to rights of senior classes and servicers under intercreditor or servicing agreements;
- acquire or retain only a minority and/or a non-controlling participation in an underlying investment;
- pledge our investments as collateral for financing arrangements;
- co-invest with others through partnerships, joint ventures or other entities, thereby acquiring non-controlling interests; or
- rely on independent third-party management or servicing with respect to the management of a particular investment.

Table of Contents

We may not be able to exercise control over all aspects of our investments. For example, our rights to control the process following a borrower default may be subject to the rights of senior or junior creditors or servicers whose interests may not be aligned with ours. A partner or co-venturer may have economic or business interests or goals that are inconsistent with ours, or may be in a position to take action contrary to our investment objectives. In addition, in certain circumstances we may be liable for the actions of our partners or co-venturers.

Changes in market interest rates may significantly reduce our revenues or impede our growth.

Since the most recent U.S. recession, the Board of Governors of the U.S. Federal Reserve System (the “U.S. Federal Reserve”) has taken actions which have resulted in low interest rates prevailing in the marketplace for a historically long period of time. The U.S. Federal Reserve steadily increased the targeted federal funds rate over the last several years, but recently took action to decrease its federal funds rate and may continue to make adjustments in the near future. If market interest rates increase, those increases may materially and negatively affect us in several ways, including:

- Increases in interest rates will make our borrowing to acquire property more costly and increase the risk that operating income from our properties will not cover our borrowing costs.
- When interest rates increase, our interest costs will increase, which could adversely affect our cash flows, our ability to pay principal and interest on our debt, our cost of refinancing our fixed rate debts when they become due and our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders. Additionally, if we choose to hedge our interest rate risk, we cannot be sure that the hedge will be effective or that our hedging counterparty will meet its obligations to us.
- Changes in interest rates may affect our net interest income from our investments, which is the difference between the interest income we earn on our interest earning investments and the interest expense we incur in financing our investments.
- Changes in interest rates may affect our ability to make investments as well as borrower default rates. In a period of rising interest rates, our interest expense could increase, while the interest we earn on any fixed rate debt investments would not change, adversely affecting our profitability. Our operating results depend in large part on differences between the income from our investments, net of credit losses and our financing costs. Even when our investments and borrowings are match funded, the income from our investments may respond more slowly to interest rate fluctuations than the cost of our borrowings.
- Investors may consider whether to buy or sell our common shares based upon the then distribution rate on our common shares relative to the then prevailing market interest rates. If market interest rates go up, investors may expect a higher distribution rate than we are able to pay, which may increase our cost of capital, or they may sell our common shares, if any, and seek alternative investments that offer higher distribution rates. Sales of our common shares may cause a decline in the value of our common shares.

We may be subject to lender liability claims and, if we are held liable under such claims, we could be subject to losses.

A number of judicial decisions have recognized the rights of borrowers to sue lending institutions on the basis of various evolving legal theories, collectively termed “lender liability.” Generally, lender liability is founded on the premise that a lender has either violated a duty, whether implied or contractual, of good faith and fair dealing owed to the borrower or has assumed a degree of control over the borrower resulting in the creation of a fiduciary duty owed to the borrower or its other creditors or shareholders. We cannot be sure that such claims will not arise or that we will not be subject to significant liability and losses if claims of this type arise.

If the loans that we acquire do not comply with applicable laws, we may be subject to material penalties.

Loans that we acquire may be subject to U.S. federal, state or local laws. Real estate lenders and borrowers may be responsible for compliance with a wide range of laws intended to protect the public interest, including, without limitation, the Americans with Disabilities Act and local zoning laws. If we or the Adviser fail to comply with such laws in relation to a loan that we have originated or acquired, legal penalties may be imposed, which could materially and adversely affect us. Jurisdictions with “one action,” “security first” and/or “antideficiency rules” may limit our ability to foreclose on a collateral property or to realize on obligations secured by a collateral property. In the future, new laws may be enacted or imposed by U.S. federal, state or local governmental entities, and such laws could have a material adverse effect on us and our operations.

A prolonged economic slowdown, a recession or declining real estate values could materially and adversely affect us.

We believe that the risks associated with our investments will be more severe during periods of economic slowdown or recession, especially if these periods are accompanied by declining real estate values. Consequently, our investment strategy may be adversely affected by prolonged economic downturns or recessions where declining real estate values would likely reduce the level of new mortgage and other real estate related loan originations since borrowers often use the appreciation in the value of their existing properties to support the purchase or investment in additional properties. Borrowers may also be less able to pay principal and interest on our loans if the value of their real estate declines. Further, declining real estate values significantly increase the likelihood that we will incur losses on our loans in the event of default because the value of our collateral may be insufficient to cover our cost on the loan. Any sustained period of increased payment delinquencies, foreclosures or losses could adversely affect our ability to originate or acquire loans, which would materially and adversely affect our results of operations, financial condition, liquidity and business and our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders.

Real estate valuation is inherently subjective and uncertain.

The valuation of real estate is inherently subjective due to, among other factors, the individual nature of each property, its location, its expected future rental revenues and the valuation methodology adopted. The valuations of our real estate assets may not be precise and may be based on assumptions and methodologies that are inaccurate. Our valuations of our collateral properties may be wrong and we may incur losses. After receipt of the Deregistration Order, the Fund will value its investments using fair value measurements, in accordance with GAAP accounting principles. Fair value measurements are determined based on the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering market participant assumptions in fair value measurements, ASC 820 establishes a fair value hierarchy that distinguishes between market participant assumptions based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity (observable inputs that are classified within Levels 1 and 2 of the hierarchy) and the reporting entity’s own assumptions about market participant assumptions (unobservable inputs classified within Level 3 of the hierarchy):

- Level 1 inputs utilize quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access.
- Level 2 inputs are inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. Level 2 inputs may include quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, as well as inputs that are observable for the asset or liability (other than quoted prices), such as interest rates and yield curves that are observable at commonly quoted intervals.
- Level 3 inputs are the unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, which are typically based on an entity’s own assumption, as there is little, if any, related market activity. In instances where the determination of the fair value measurement is based on input from different levels of the fair value hierarchy, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the entire fair value measurement falls is based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The Fund's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the asset or liability. The Fund will utilize independent third parties to perform the allocation of value analysis for each property acquisition and to perform the market valuations on its derivative financial instruments and has established policies, as described above, processes and procedures intended to ensure that the valuation methodologies for investments and derivative financial instruments are fair and consistent as of the measurement date.

We are subject to losses that are either uninsurable, not economically insurable or that are in excess of our insurance coverage.

There are certain types of losses (including, but not limited to, losses arising from environmental conditions, earthquakes, tornados and hurricanes, acts of war or certain kinds of terrorist attacks) that are not insured, in full or in part, because they are either uninsurable or the cost of insurance makes it, in our belief, economically impractical to maintain such coverage. We carry commercial general liability insurance, property insurance and terrorism insurance with respect to our communities with limits and on terms we consider commercially reasonable. If an uninsured loss or liability were to occur, whether because of a lack of insurance coverage or a loss in excess of insured limits, we could lose our capital invested in a community, as well as the anticipated future revenues from such community. We would also continue to be obligated to repay any mortgage indebtedness or other obligations related to the community. If an uninsured liability to a third party were to occur, we would incur the cost of defense and settlement with, or court ordered damages to, that third party. A significant uninsured property or liability loss could materially and adversely affect our business and our financial condition and results of operations.

Our environmental assessments may not identify all potential environmental liabilities and our remediation actions may be insufficient.

Properties being considered for potential acquisition by us are subjected to at least a Phase I or similar environmental assessment prior to closing, which generally does not involve invasive techniques such as soil or ground water sampling. A Phase II assessment is conducted if recommended in the Phase I report. These assessments, together with subsurface assessments conducted on some properties, have not revealed, and we are not otherwise aware of, any environmental conditions that we believe would have a material adverse effect on our business, assets, financial condition or results of operations. However, such environmental assessments may not identify all potential environmental liabilities. Moreover, we may in the future discover adverse environmental conditions at our communities, including at communities we acquire in the future, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, assets, financial condition or results of operations. In connection with our ownership, operation and selective development of communities, from time to time we undertake substantial remedial action in response to the presence of subsurface or other contaminants, including contaminants in soil, groundwater and soil vapor beneath or affecting our buildings. In some cases, an indemnity exists upon which we may be able to rely if environmental liability arises from the contamination, or if remediation costs exceed estimates. We can provide no assurance, however, that all necessary remediation actions have been or will be undertaken at our communities or that we will be indemnified, in full or at all, in the event that environmental liability arises.

Compliance with various laws and regulations, including accessibility, building and health and safety laws and regulations, may be costly, may adversely affect our operations or expose us to liability.

In addition to compliance with environmental regulations, we must comply with various laws and regulations such as accessibility, building, zoning, landlord/tenant and health and safety laws and regulations, including, but not limited to, the ADA and the FHA. Some of those laws and regulations may conflict with one another or be subject to limited judicial or regulatory interpretations. Under those laws and regulations, we may be liable for, among other things, the costs of bringing our properties into compliance with the statutory and regulatory requirements. Noncompliance with certain of these laws and regulations may result in liability without regard to fault and the imposition of fines and could give rise to actions brought against us by governmental entities and/or third parties who claim to be or have been damaged as a consequence of an apartment not being in compliance with the subject laws and regulations. As part of our due diligence procedures in connection with the acquisition of a property, we typically conduct an investigation of the property's compliance with known laws and regulatory requirements with which we must comply once we acquire a property, including a review of compliance with the ADA and local zoning regulations. Our investigations and these assessments may not have revealed, and may not with respect to future acquisitions reveal, all potential noncompliance issues or related liabilities and we can provide no assurance that our development properties have been, or that our future development projects will be, designed and built in accordance with all applicable legal requirements.

The phase out or transitioning of LIBOR may negatively impact our business, financial results and cash flows.

LIBOR is currently expected to be phased out in 2021. At this time, no consensus exists as to what rate or rates will become accepted alternatives to LIBOR, although the U.S. Federal Reserve, in connection with the Alternative Reference Rates Committee, a steering committee comprised of large U.S. financial institutions, is considering replacing U.S. dollar LIBOR with the Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"). Given the inherent differences between LIBOR and SOFR, or any other alternative benchmark rate that may be established, there are many uncertainties regarding a transition from LIBOR, including but not limited to, the need to amend all contracts with LIBOR as the referenced rate and how this will impact the cost of variable rate debt and certain derivative financial instruments. In addition, SOFR or other replacement rates may fail to gain market acceptance. Any failure of SOFR or alternative reference rates to gain market acceptance could adversely affect the return on, value of and market for securities linked to such rates.

With respect to our LIBOR-based debt financing arrangements, if LIBOR is not able to be determined we currently expect that the determination of interest would be revised as provided under the agreements or amended as necessary to provide for an interest rate that approximates the existing interest rate as calculated in accordance with LIBOR. Despite our current expectations, we cannot be sure that, if LIBOR is phased out or transitioned, the changes to the determination of interest under our agreements would approximate the current calculation in accordance with LIBOR. We do not know what standard, if any, will replace LIBOR if it is phased out or transitioned. If the determination of interest does not, or if we cannot forecast with sufficient confidence that it will, approximate the current calculation in accordance with LIBOR, we may incur additional costs, our investment income, net of interest expense, may decline, we may lose investment opportunities or make unsuccessful investments due to not being able to accurately price our proposed investments and our cash flows may be negatively impacted.

Investments in commercial mortgage-backed securities ("CMBS") and other structured finance investments pose additional risks, including the sensitivity of such investments to economic downturns, the illiquidity of such investments, the risk that the servicer or manager may take actions that could adversely affect our interests and the possibility that the CMBS market will be significantly affected by current or future regulation.

We generally do not expect to make investments in senior CMBS classes, but we may invest in CMBS and similar structured finance investments which are subordinated classes of securities in a structure of securities secured by a pool of mortgages or loans. Such subordinated securities are the first, or among the first, to bear the loss upon a restructuring or liquidation of the underlying collateral and the last to receive payment of interest and principal. There is generally only a nominal amount of equity or other debt securities junior to such positions, if any, issued in such structures. The values of such subordinated interests tend to be much more sensitive to adverse economic downturns and underlying borrower developments than more senior securities. A projection of an economic downturn, for example, could cause a decline in the price of lower status CMBS or other similar securities because the ability of borrowers to make principal and interest payments on the mortgages or loans underlying such securities may be expected to become impaired.

Subordinate CMBS classes are generally not actively traded and are relatively illiquid investments, and volatility in the trading markets for those investments may cause their value to decline materially and quickly. In addition, if the underlying mortgage portfolio has been overvalued by the originator, or if the values subsequently decline and, as a result, less collateral value is available to satisfy interest and principal payments and any other fees in connection with the trust or other conduit arrangement for such securities, we may incur significant losses. Also, with respect to the CMBS and similar structured finance investments in which we may invest, control over the related underlying loans will be exercised through a special servicer or collateral manager designated by a “directing certificate holder” or a “controlling class representative,” or otherwise pursuant to the related securitization documents. We may not have the right to appoint the directing certificate holder or otherwise direct the special servicing or collateral management of classes of existing series of CMBS or similar structured finance investments that we acquire. With respect to the management and servicing of these loans, the related special servicers or collateral managers may take actions that could adversely affect our interests.

Risks Related to Our Organization and StructureThe Board may revoke our REIT election at any time.

The Board may revoke or otherwise terminate our REIT election without the approval of shareholders if it determines that it is no longer in the Fund’s best interests to continue to qualify for taxation as a REIT. If we cease to qualify for taxation as a REIT, we would become subject to U.S. federal income tax on our taxable income and would no longer be required to distribute most of our net taxable income to shareholders, which may have adverse consequences on the total return and/or distributions made to our shareholders. See “Risks Related to Our Conversion to a REIT—Our failure to qualify for taxation as a REIT would cause our common shares to be delisted from the NYSE,” “Risks Related to Our Taxation” and Appendix C.

We may sell our common shares at a price below net asset value without shareholder approval.

Section 23(b) of the 1940 Act generally prohibits closed-end investment companies from selling their common shares at a price below current NAV. After issuance of the Deregistration Order, we may offer our common shares at below net asset value without shareholder approval.

Our intention to remain exempt from registration under the 1940 Act will impose limits on our operations.

After we obtain the Deregistration Order, we believe we will not be considered an investment company under Section 3(a)(1)(A) of the 1940 Act because we will not engage primarily, or hold ourselves out as being engaged primarily, in the business of investing, reinvesting or trading in securities and may qualify for exclusion under Section 3(c)(5)(C), as discussed in further detail below.

We may conduct our business, in whole or in part, through wholly or majority owned subsidiaries. Under Section 3(a)(1)(C) of the 1940 Act, the securities issued by these subsidiaries that are excepted from the definition of “investment company” under Section 3(c)(1) or Section 3(c)(7) of the 1940 Act, together with any other investment securities we may own, may not have a combined value in excess of 40% of the value of our total assets (exclusive of U.S. Government securities and cash items) on an unconsolidated basis. This requirement limits the types of businesses in which we may engage through subsidiaries. In addition, the assets we may acquire are limited by the provisions of the 1940 Act and the rules and regulations promulgated under the 1940 Act, which may adversely affect our business.

If the value of securities issued by our subsidiaries that are excepted from the definition of “investment company” by Section 3(c)(1) or 3(c)(7) of the 1940 Act, together with any other investment securities we own, exceeds 40% of our total assets (exclusive of U.S. Government securities and cash items) on an unconsolidated basis, or if one or more of such subsidiaries fails to maintain an exception or exemption from the 1940 Act, we could, among other things, be required to either (a) substantially change the manner in which we conduct our operations to avoid being required to re-register as an investment company or (b) re-register as an investment company under the 1940 Act, either of which could have an adverse effect on us and the market price of our common shares. If we or any of our subsidiaries were required to re-register as an investment company under the 1940 Act, the registered entity would once again become subject to substantial regulation with respect to capital structure (including the ability to use leverage), management, operations, transactions with affiliated persons (as defined in the 1940 Act), portfolio composition, including restrictions with respect to diversification and industry concentration, compliance with reporting, record keeping, voting, proxy disclosure and other rules and regulations that would significantly change our diversified REIT operations.

We and certain subsidiaries that we may form in the future may rely upon the exemption from registration as an investment company under the 1940 Act pursuant to Section 3(c)(5)(C) of the 1940 Act, which is available for entities “primarily engaged” in the business of “purchasing or otherwise acquiring mortgages and other liens on and interests in real estate.” This exemption generally requires that at least 55% of our or our applicable subsidiaries’ assets must be comprised of qualifying real estate assets and at least 80% of our or each of our applicable subsidiaries’ portfolios must be comprised of qualifying real estate assets and real estate related assets under the 1940 Act. To the extent that we or any of our subsidiaries rely on Section 3(c)(5)(C) of the 1940 Act, we expect to rely on guidance published by the SEC staff or on our analyses of such guidance to determine which assets are qualifying real estate assets and real estate related assets. However, the SEC’s guidance is more than 25 years old and was issued in accordance with factual situations that may be different from ours. No assurance can be given that the SEC staff will concur with our classification of our assets. In addition, the SEC staff may, in the future, issue further guidance that may require us to re-classify our assets for purposes of qualifying for an exemption from registration under the 1940 Act. If we are required to re-classify our assets, we may no longer be in compliance with the exclusion from the definition of an “investment company” provided by Section 3(c)(5)(C) of the 1940 Act. To the extent that the SEC staff publishes new or different guidance with respect to any assets we have determined to be qualifying real estate assets, we may be required to adjust our strategy accordingly. In addition, we may be limited in our ability to make certain investments, and these limitations could result in a subsidiary holding assets we might wish to sell or selling assets we might wish to hold.

The SEC has not published guidance with respect to the treatment of CMBS for purposes of the Section 3(c)(5)(C) exemption. Unless we receive further guidance from the SEC or its staff with respect to CMBS, we intend to treat CMBS as a real estate related asset.

We or certain of our subsidiaries may also rely on the exemption provided by Section 3(c)(6) of the 1940 Act. The SEC staff has issued little interpretive guidance with respect to Section 3(c)(6) of the 1940 Act and any guidance published by the staff may require us to adjust our strategy accordingly. We intend to structure and conduct our business in a manner that does not require our or our subsidiaries’ registration under the 1940 Act and, in so structuring and conducting our business, we may rely on any available exemption from registration, or exclusion from the definition of “investment company,” under the 1940 Act.

We will determine whether an entity is one of our majority owned subsidiaries. The 1940 Act defines a majority owned subsidiary of a person as a company 50% or more of the outstanding voting securities of which are owned by such person, or by another company which is a majority owned subsidiary of such person. The 1940 Act further defines voting securities as any security presently entitling the owner or holder thereof to vote for the election of directors of a company. We will treat companies in which we own a majority of the outstanding voting securities as majority owned subsidiaries for purposes of the 40% test described above. We have not requested the SEC to approve our treatment of any company as a majority owned subsidiary and the SEC has not done so. If the SEC were to disagree with our treatment of one or more companies as majority owned subsidiaries, we might need to adjust our strategy and our assets in order to continue to pass the 40% test. Any such adjustment in our strategy could have a material adverse effect on us.

There can be no assurance that the laws and regulations governing the 1940 Act status of REITs, including the SEC or its staff providing more specific or different guidance regarding these exemptions, will not change in a manner that adversely affects our operations. If we or our subsidiaries fail to maintain an exception or exemption from the 1940 Act, we could, among other things, be required either to (a) change the manner in which we conduct our operations to avoid being required to re-register as an investment company, (b) sell our assets in a manner that, or at a time when, we would not otherwise choose to do so or (c) re-register as an investment company, any of which could negatively affect the value of our common shares, the sustainability of our business, and our ability to make distributions, which could have an adverse effect on our business and the market price for our common shares.

Rapid and steep declines in the values of our qualifying real estate or real estate related investments may make it more difficult for us to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT or exemption from the 1940 Act.

If the market value or income potential of our qualifying real estate or real estate related investments declines as a result of increased interest rates or other factors, we may need to increase our qualifying real estate or real estate related investments and income and/or liquidate our nonqualifying assets in order to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT or our exemption from registration under the 1940 Act. If the decline in real estate asset values and/or income occurs quickly, this may be especially difficult to accomplish. This difficulty may be exacerbated by the illiquid nature of any nonqualifying assets that we may own. We may have to make investment decisions that we otherwise would not make absent the REIT and 1940 Act considerations, and those decisions may cause us to experience losses and reduce the market trading price of our common shares.

Risks Related to Financing

We may incur significant debt, and we anticipate that, following our receipt of the Deregistration Order, our amended organizational documents will contain no limit on the amount of debt we may incur.

Subject to market conditions and availability, we may incur significant debt through repurchase or credit facilities (including term loans and revolving facilities), warehouse facilities and structured financing arrangements, public and private debt issuances or otherwise. The amount of leverage we may use will vary depending on our available investment opportunities, our available capital, our ability to obtain and access financing arrangements with lenders and the lenders' and our estimate of the stability of our investment portfolio's cash flow. We anticipate that, following our receipt of the Deregistration Order, our amended organizational documents will contain no limit on the amount of debt we may incur, and we would be able to significantly increase the amount of leverage we utilize at any time without approval of our shareholders. The amount of leverage on individual assets may vary, with leverage on some assets substantially higher than others. Leverage can enhance our potential returns but can also exacerbate our losses.

Incurring substantial debt could subject us to many risks that, if realized, would materially and adversely affect us, including the risk that:

- our cash flow from operations may be insufficient to make required payments of principal of and interest on the debt or we may fail to comply with covenants contained in our debt instruments;
- our debt may increase our vulnerability to adverse economic, market and industry conditions with no assurance that our investment yields will increase to match our higher financing costs;
- we may be required to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to payments on our debt, thereby reducing funds available for operations, future business opportunities, distributions to our shareholders or other purposes; and
- we may not be able to refinance maturing debts.

We cannot be sure that our leverage strategies will be successful.

Table of ContentsWe may be unable to access capital.

Our access to capital depends upon a number of factors, some of which we have little or no control over, including:

- general economic, market or industry conditions;
- the market's view of the quality of our assets;
- the market's perception of our growth potential;
- our current and potential future earnings and distributions to our shareholders; and
- the value of our securities.

If regulatory capital requirements imposed on our lenders change, they may be required to limit, or increase the cost of, financing they provide to us. This could potentially increase our financing costs and reduce our liquidity or require us to sell assets at an inopportune time or price.

In order to grow our business, we may have to rely on additional equity issuances, which may be dilutive to our shareholders, or on debt financings which may require us to use a large portion of our cash flow from operations to fund our debt service obligations, thereby reducing funds available for our operations, future business opportunities, distributions to our shareholders or other purposes. We cannot be sure that we will have access to such debt or equity capital on favorable terms at the desired times, or at all, which may cause us to curtail our investment activities or dispose of assets at an inopportune time or price, which could negatively affect our financial condition, results of operations and ability to make or sustain our distributions to our shareholders.

If the market value of our common shares declines, our cost of equity capital will increase, and we may not be able to raise equity capital by issuing additional equity securities.

The duration of our debt leverage and our investments may not match.

We generally intend to structure our debt leverage so that we minimize the difference between the term of our investments and the term of the leverage we use to finance them; however, we may not succeed in doing so. In the event that our leverage is for a shorter term than our investments, we may not be able to extend or find appropriate replacement leverage, which could require us to sell certain investments before we otherwise might. In the event that our leverage is for a longer term than our investments, we may not be able to replace our investments as they mature with new investments or at all, which could negatively impact our earnings.

We intend to structure our leverage so that we minimize the difference between the index of our investments and the index of our debt leverage, by financing floating rate investments with floating rate leverage and fixed rate investments with fixed rate leverage. If such a floating rate or fixed rate product is not available to us on reasonable terms, we may use hedging instruments to create such a match. Our attempts to mitigate the risk of a mismatch with the duration or index of our investments and leverage will be subject to factors outside of our control, such as the availability to us of favorable financing and hedging options, and we may not be successful.

The risks of duration mismatches are magnified by the potential for the extension of loans in order to maximize the likelihood and magnitude of their recovery value in the event the loans experience credit or performance challenges; use of these asset management practices would effectively extend the duration of our investments, while our liabilities may have set maturity dates.

Lenders may require us to enter into restrictive covenants that adversely impact our operations.

When we obtain debt financing, lenders (especially in the case of bank credit facilities) may impose restrictions on us that impact our ability to incur additional debt, make certain investments, reduce liquidity below certain levels, make distributions to our shareholders, redeem debt or equity securities and impact our flexibility to determine our operating and investment strategies. For example, our lenders may restrict, among other things, our ability to repurchase our shares, distribute more than a certain amount of our net income or funds from operations to our shareholders, use leverage beyond certain amounts, sell assets, engage in mergers or consolidations, grant liens or enter into transactions with affiliates. These covenants and restrictions may make it difficult for us to satisfy the qualification requirements necessary to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC.

Any repurchase agreements or bank credit facilities that we may enter will likely require us to provide additional collateral or pay down debt.

We expect that that we may utilize repurchase agreements, bank credit facilities (including term loans and revolving facilities) or other repurchase facilities we may enter to finance some of our investments. Such financing arrangements would involve the risk that the value of the loans sold by us or pledged to the provider of the repurchase agreement or bank credit facility may decline, and, in such circumstances, likely would require us to provide additional collateral or to repay all or a portion of the funds advanced. Posting additional collateral would reduce our liquidity and limit our ability to leverage our assets. If we cannot meet our lender's requirements, the lender might accelerate our indebtedness, increase the interest rate on advanced funds or terminate our ability to borrow additional funds, which could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and ability to implement our investment strategy. The providers of repurchase agreement financing and bank credit facilities may also require us to maintain a certain amount of cash or set aside assets sufficient to maintain a specified liquidity position that would allow us to satisfy our collateral obligations. Currently, we have no repurchase agreements or bank credit facilities in place, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain such financing arrangements on favorable terms, or at all.

Any default in a repurchase agreement will likely cause us to experience a loss.

If any counterparty to a repurchase transaction or the counterparty to any repurchase financing arrangement we may enter defaults on its obligation to resell the underlying asset back to us at the end of the transaction term, or if the value of the underlying asset has declined as of the end of that term, or if we default on our obligations under such repurchase agreement, we will likely incur a loss on such repurchase transactions.

Risks Related to Our Relationship with the Adviser and its Affiliates

We are dependent on the Adviser, its affiliates and their personnel. We may be unable to find suitable replacements if our management agreement is terminated.

NexPoint Advisors, L.P., which serves as the investment adviser of the Fund, is registered with the SEC as an investment adviser under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended and is an affiliate of Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCMLP"). Under the general supervision of the Board, the Adviser will carry out the investment and reinvestment of the net assets of the Fund, will furnish continuously an investment program with respect to the Fund, and determine which securities should be purchased, sold or exchanged. In addition, the Adviser will supervise and provide oversight of the Fund's service providers. The Adviser, through a Shared Services Agreement with HCMLP (discussed below), will furnish to the Fund office facilities, equipment and personnel for servicing the management of the Fund. The Adviser will compensate all Adviser personnel who provide services to the Fund.

The Adviser has been historically affiliated through common control with HCMLP, an SEC-registered investment adviser. On October 16, 2019, HCMLP filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection with the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware. The case was subsequently transferred to the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas. On January 9, 2020, the bankruptcy court approved a change of control of HCMLP, which involved the resignation of James Dondero as the sole director of, and the appointment of an independent board to, HCMLP's general partner. Mr. Dondero will, however, remain as an employee of HCMLP and as portfolio manager for all funds and vehicles for which he currently holds such titles. Nevertheless, given Mr. Dondero's historic role with HCMLP and his continued ownership interest and roles with respect to the investment platform as a whole, as well as the shared services agreements between HCMLP and our Adviser, we still treat HCMLP and its affiliates as our affiliates for purposes hereof. Effective March 30, 2020, Mr. Dondero no longer reports beneficial ownership of shares held by HCMLP or its advised accounts. NexPoint is not a party to HCMLP's bankruptcy filing.

Pursuant to the Shared Services Agreement with HCMLP, the Adviser may utilize employees from HCMLP in connection with various services such as human resources, accounting, tax, valuation, information technology services, office space, employees, compliance and legal. We do not expect HCMLP's bankruptcy filings to impact its provision of services to NexPoint Advisors at this time.

The Adviser has broad discretion in operating our day-to-day business.

The Adviser is authorized to follow broad operating and investment guidelines and, therefore, has broad discretion in implementing our business plan and day-to-day activities. Our Board of Trustees periodically reviews our operating and investment guidelines and our operating activities, investments and financing arrangements, but it does not review or approve each decision made by the Adviser on our behalf. In addition, in conducting periodic reviews, our Board of Trustees relies primarily on information provided to it by the Adviser. The Adviser may exercise its discretion in a manner that results in investment returns that are substantially below expectations or that result in losses.

Substantial Conflicts of Interest. The Adviser and/or its general partner, limited partners, officers, affiliates and employees provide investment advice to other parties and manage other accounts and private investment vehicles similar to the Fund. For the purposes of this section, the term "NexPoint" shall include the Adviser and its affiliated investment advisors, including HCMLP. In connection with such other investment management activities, the Adviser and/or its general partner, limited partners, officers, affiliates and employees may decide to invest the funds of one or more other accounts or recommend the investment of funds by other parties, rather than the Fund's monies, in a particular security or strategy. In addition, the Adviser and such other persons will determine the allocation of funds from the Fund and such other accounts to investment strategies and techniques on whatever basis they consider appropriate or desirable in their sole and absolute discretion.

NexPoint has built a professional working environment, a firm-wide compliance culture and compliance procedures and systems designed to protect against potential incentives that may favor one account over another. NexPoint has adopted policies and procedures that address the allocation of investment opportunities, execution of portfolio transactions, personal trading by employees and other potential conflicts of interest that are designed to ensure that all client accounts are treated equitably over time. Nevertheless, NexPoint furnishes advisory services to numerous clients in addition to the Fund, and NexPoint may, consistent with applicable law, make investment recommendations to other clients or accounts (including accounts that have performance or higher fees paid to NexPoint or in which portfolio managers have a personal interest in the receipt of such fees) that may be the same as or different from those made to the Fund. In addition, NexPoint, its affiliates and any of their partners, directors, officers, stockholders or employees may or may not have an interest in the securities whose purchase and sale the Adviser recommends to the Fund. Actions with respect to securities of the same kind may be the same as or different from the action that the Adviser, or any of its affiliates, or any of their partners, directors, officers, stockholders or employees or any member of their families may take with respect to the same securities. Moreover, the Adviser may refrain from rendering any advice or services concerning securities of companies of which any of the Adviser's (or its affiliates') partners, directors, officers or employees are directors or officers, or companies as to which the Adviser or any of its affiliates or partners, directors, officers and employees of any of them has any substantial economic interest or possesses material non-public information. In addition to its various policies and procedures designed to address these issues, NexPoint includes disclosure regarding these matters to its clients in both its Form ADV and investment advisory agreements.

The Adviser, its affiliates or their partners, directors, officers or employees similarly serve or may serve other entities that operate in the same or related lines of business, including accounts managed by an investment adviser affiliated with the Adviser. Accordingly, these individuals may have obligations to investors in those entities or funds or to other clients, the fulfillment of which might not be in the best interests of the Fund. As a result, the Adviser will face conflicts in the allocation of investment opportunities to the Fund and other funds and clients. In order to enable such affiliates to fulfill their fiduciary duties to each of the clients for which they have responsibility, the Adviser will endeavor to allocate investment opportunities in a fair and equitable manner, pursuant to policies and procedures adopted by the Adviser and its advisory affiliates that are designed to manage potential conflicts of interest, which may, subject to applicable regulatory constraints, involve pro rata co-investment by the Funds and such other clients or may involve a rotation of opportunities among the Funds and such other clients. The Fund will only make investments in which the Adviser or an affiliate hold an interest to the extent permitted under the 1940 Act and SEC staff interpretations or pursuant to the terms and conditions of the exemptive order received by the Adviser and certain funds affiliated with the Fund, dated April 19, 2016. For example, exemptive relief is not required for the Fund to invest in syndicated deals and secondary loan market transactions in which the Adviser or an affiliate has an interest where price is the only negotiated point. The order applies to all “Investment Companies,” which includes future closed-end investment companies registered under the 1940 Act that are managed by the Adviser, which includes the Fund. The Fund, therefore, may in the future invest in accordance with the terms and conditions of the exemptive order. To mitigate any actual or perceived conflicts of interest, allocation of limited offering securities (such as IPOs and registered secondary offerings) to principal accounts that do not include third-party investors may only be made after all other client account orders for the security have been filled. However, there can be no assurance that such policies and procedures will in every case ensure fair and equitable allocations of investment opportunities, particularly when considered in hindsight.

Conflicts may arise in cases when clients and/or the Adviser and other affiliated entities invest in different parts of an issuer’s capital structure, including circumstances in which one or more clients own private securities or obligations of an issuer and other clients may own public securities of the same issuer. In addition, one or more clients may invest in securities, or other financial instruments, of an issuer that are senior or junior to securities, or financial instruments, of the same issuer that are held by or acquired for, one or more other clients. For example, if such issuer encounters financial problems, decisions related to such securities (such as over the terms of any workout or proposed waivers and amendments to debt covenants) may raise conflicts of interests. In such a distressed situation, a client holding debt securities of the issuer may be better served by a liquidation of the issuer in which it may be paid in full, whereas a client holding equity securities of the issuer might prefer a reorganization that holds the potential to create value for the equity holders. In the event of conflicting interests within an issuer’s capital structure, NexPoint will generally pursue the strategy that NexPoint believes best reflects what would be expected to be negotiated in an arm’s length transaction, but in all instances with due consideration being given to NexPoint’s fiduciary duties to each of its accounts (without regard to the nature of the accounts involved or fees received from such accounts). This strategy may be recommended by one or more NexPoint investment professionals. A single person may represent more than one part of an issuer’s capital structure. The recommended course of action will be presented to the Adviser’s conflicts committee for final determination as to how to proceed. NexPoint may elect, but is not required, to assign different teams to make recommendations for different parts of the capital structure as the Adviser’s conflicts committee determines in its discretion. In the event any NexPoint personnel serve on the board of the subject company, they generally recuse themselves from voting on any board matter with respect to a transaction that has an asymmetrical impact on the capital structure. NexPoint personnel board members may still make recommendations to the Adviser’s conflicts committee. If any such persons are also on the Adviser’s conflicts committee, they may recuse themselves from the committee’s determination. A portfolio manager with respect to any applicable NexPoint registered investment company clients (“Retail Accounts”) participates in such discussions, but makes an independent determination as to which course of action he or she determines is in the best interest of the applicable Retail Accounts. NexPoint may use external counsel for guidance and assistance.

The Adviser and its affiliates have both subjective and objective procedures and policies in place designed to manage potential conflicts of interest involving clients so that, for example, investment opportunities are allocated in a fair and equitable manner among the Fund and such other clients. An investment opportunity that is suitable for multiple clients of the Adviser and its affiliates may not be capable of being shared among some or all of such clients due to the limited scale of the opportunity or other factors, including regulatory restrictions imposed by the 1940 Act. There can be no assurance that the Adviser's or its affiliates' efforts to allocate any particular investment opportunity fairly among all clients for whom such opportunity is appropriate will result in an allocation of all or part of such opportunity to the Fund. Not all conflicts of interest can be expected to be resolved in favor of the Fund.

Another type of conflict may arise if one client account buys a security and another client sells or shorts the same security. Currently, such opposing positions are generally not permitted within the same account without prior trade approval by the Adviser's Chief Compliance Officer. However, a portfolio manager may enter into opposing positions for different clients to the extent each such client has a different investment objective and each such position is consistent with the investment objective of the applicable client. In addition, transactions in investments by one or more affiliated client accounts may have the effect of diluting or otherwise disadvantaging the values, prices or investment strategies of other client accounts.

Because certain client accounts may have investment objectives, strategies or legal, contractual, tax or other requirements that differ (such as the need to take tax losses, realize profits, raise cash, diversification, etc.), an affiliated advisor may purchase, sell or continue to hold securities for certain client accounts contrary to other recommendations. In addition, an affiliated advisor may be permitted to sell securities or instruments short for certain client accounts and may not be permitted to do so for other affiliated client accounts.

As a result of the Fund's arrangements with NexPoint, there may be times when NexPoint, the Adviser or their affiliates have interests that differ from those of the Fund's shareholders, giving rise to a conflict of interest. NexPoint and the Adviser are under common ownership, and the Fund's officers serve or may serve as officers, directors or principals of entities that operate in the same or a related line of business as the Fund does, or of investment funds managed by the Adviser or its affiliates. Similarly, the Adviser or its affiliates may have other clients with similar, different or competing investment objectives. In serving in these multiple capacities, they may have obligations to other clients or investors in those entities, the fulfillment of which may not be in the best interests of the Fund or its shareholders. For example, the Fund's officers have, and will continue to have, management responsibilities for other investment funds, accounts or other investment vehicles managed or sponsored by the Adviser and its affiliates. The Fund's investment objective may overlap, in part or in whole, with the investment objective of such affiliated investment funds, accounts or other investment vehicles. As a result, those individuals may face conflicts in the allocation of investment opportunities among the Fund and other investment funds or accounts advised by or affiliated with the Adviser. The Adviser will seek to allocate investment opportunities among eligible accounts in a manner that is fair and equitable over time and consistent with its allocation policy. However, the Fund can offer no assurance that such opportunities will be allocated to it fairly or equitably in the short-term or over time.

In addition, it is anticipated that a significant portion of the Fund's assets will be represented by REITs, asset-backed securities and/or collateralized loan obligations sponsored, organized and/or managed by NexPoint and its affiliates. The Adviser will monitor for conflicts of interest in accordance with its fiduciary duties and will provide the independent trustees of the Fund with an opportunity to periodically review the Fund's investments in such REITs, asset-backed securities and/or CLOs and assure themselves that continued investment in such securities remains in the best interests of the Fund and its shareholders. The Adviser may effect client cross-transactions where it causes a transaction to be effected between the Fund and another client advised by the Adviser or any of its affiliates. The Adviser may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Fund any time that the Adviser believes such transaction to be fair to the Fund and the other client of the Adviser or its affiliates.

The Adviser may direct the Fund to acquire or dispose of investments in cross trades between the Fund and other clients of the Adviser or its affiliates in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, to the extent permitted by the 1940 Act and SEC staff interpretations, the Fund may make and/or hold an investment, including an investment in securities, in which the Adviser and/or its affiliates have a debt, equity or participation interest, and the holding and sale of such investments by the Fund may enhance the profitability of the Adviser's own investments in such companies.

Conflicts of interest as a result of our management structure and relationships may provoke dissident shareholder activities that result in significant costs.

Companies with business dealings with related persons and entities may more often be the target of dissident trustee nominations, dissident shareholder proposals and shareholder litigation alleging conflicts of interest in their business dealings. Our relationships with the Adviser and its affiliates, including HCMLP, may precipitate such activities. These activities, if instituted against us, could result in substantial costs and a diversion of our management's attention, even if such actions are without merit.

Our management agreement's fee and expense structure may not create proper incentives for the Adviser, which may increase the risk of an investment in our common shares.

Upon the effectiveness of the new management agreement, we expect to pay the Adviser base management fees regardless of the performance of our portfolio. The Adviser's entitlement to a base management fee that is not based upon our performance or results might reduce its incentive to devote its time and effort to seeking investments that provide attractive, risk adjusted returns for us. Because the base management fees will also be based in part on our outstanding equity, the Adviser may be incentivized to advance strategies that increase our equity. Our increasing our equity capital by selling common shares will usually be dilutive to existing shareholders and may not improve returns for our shareholders or the market price of our common shares. In addition, it is expected that we will be required to pay or to reimburse the Adviser for all costs and expenses of its operations (other than the costs of the Adviser's employees who provide services to us), including but not limited to, the costs of rent, utilities, office furniture, equipment, machinery and other overhead type expenses, the costs of legal, accounting, auditing, tax planning and tax return preparation, consulting services, diligence costs related to our investments, investor relations expenses and other professional services, and other costs and expenses not specifically required under our management agreement to be borne by the Adviser. We expect that some of these overhead, professional and other services will be provided by HCMLP pursuant to a Shared Services Agreement between the Adviser and HCMLP. We expect that our obligation to reimburse the Adviser for certain shared services costs may reduce the Adviser's incentive to efficiently manage those costs, which may increase our costs.

Our management agreement will be between related parties and may be less favorable to us than if it had been negotiated on an arm's length basis with an unrelated party.

Our management agreement will be between related parties and its terms, including fees payable to the Adviser, may be less favorable to us than if they had been negotiated on an arm's length basis between unrelated parties. We anticipate that pursuant to the terms of our management agreement, we will reimburse the Adviser for the fees and other costs it pays to HCMLP. Because of the relationships among us, the Adviser and HCMLP, the terms of our management agreement will not be negotiated on an arm's length basis, and we can provide no assurance that these terms will be as favorable to us as they would have been if our management agreement was negotiated on an arm's length basis between unrelated parties.

The Adviser does not guaranty our performance; moreover, we could experience poor performance or losses for which the Adviser would not be liable. The Adviser's liability is limited under our management agreement, and we will agree to indemnify the Adviser against certain liabilities.

We anticipate that pursuant to our management agreement, the Adviser will not assume any responsibility other than to render the services called for thereunder in good faith and will not be responsible for any action of our Board of Trustees in following or declining to follow its advice or recommendations. We could experience poor performance or losses for which the Adviser would not be liable. Under the terms of our management agreement, the Adviser and its affiliates and their respective directors, trustees, officers, shareholders, owners, members, managers, employees and personnel will not be liable to us or any of our Trustees, shareholders or subsidiaries for any acts or omissions related to the provision of services to us under our management agreement, except by reason of acts or omissions that are proved to constitute bad faith, fraud, intentional misconduct, gross negligence or reckless disregard of the duties of the Adviser under our management agreement. In addition, under the terms of our management agreement, we agree to indemnify, hold harmless and advance expenses to the Adviser and its affiliates and their respective directors, trustees, officers, shareholders, owners, members, managers, employees and personnel from and against all expenses, losses, damages, liabilities, demands, charges and claims of any nature whatsoever, including all reasonable attorneys', accountants', and experts' fees and expenses, arising from acts or omissions related to the provision of services to us or the performance of any matter pursuant to an instruction by our Board of Trustees, except to the extent it is proved that such acts or omissions constituted bad faith, fraud, intentional misconduct, gross negligence or reckless disregard of the duties of the Adviser under our management agreement. Such persons will also not be liable for trade errors that may result from ordinary negligence, including errors in the investment decision making or trade process.

The Adviser may change its processes for identifying, evaluating and managing investments and the personnel performing those functions for us without our or our shareholders' consent at any time.

The Adviser may change its personnel and processes for identifying, evaluating and managing investments for us without our or our shareholders' consent at any time. In addition, there can be no assurance that the Adviser will follow its processes. Changes in the Adviser's personnel and processes may result in fewer investment opportunities for us, inferior diligence and underwriting standards or adversely affect the collection of payments on, and the preservation of our rights with respect to, our investments, any of which may adversely affect our operating results.

The Adviser is subject to extensive regulation as an investment adviser, which could adversely affect its ability to manage our business.

The Adviser is subject to regulation as an investment adviser by various regulatory authorities that are charged with protecting the interests of its clients, including us. The Adviser could be subject to civil liability, criminal liability, or sanction, including revocation of its registration as an investment adviser, censures, fines, or temporary suspension or permanent bar from conducting business, if it is found to have violated any of the laws or regulations governing investment advisers. Any such liability or sanction could adversely affect the Adviser's ability to manage our business. The Adviser must continually address conflicts between its interests and those of its clients, including us. In addition, the SEC and other regulators have increased their scrutiny of conflicts of interest. The Adviser has procedures and controls that are reasonably designed to address these issues. However, appropriately dealing with conflicts of interest is complex and difficult and if the Adviser fails, or appears to fail, to deal appropriately with conflicts of interest, it could face litigation or regulatory proceedings or penalties, any of which could adversely affect its ability to manage our business.

Table of ContentsRisks Related to Our SecuritiesWe may not be able to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders at any time in the future.

As a REIT, we will generally be required to distribute annually to our shareholders at least 90% of our REIT taxable income (which may be different than our income calculated according to with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP")), determined without regard to the deduction for dividends paid and excluding net capital gains, for us to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC. Our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders will be adversely affected if any of the risks described below occurs. Further, our making of distributions may be subject to restrictions in future debt obligations we may incur.

The timing and amount of any distributions will be determined at the discretion of our Board of Trustees and will depend on various factors that our Board of Trustees deems relevant, including our financial condition, our results of operations, our liquidity, our capital requirements, our Core Earnings, restrictive covenants in our financial or other contractual arrangements, general economic conditions in the United States, requirements to remain qualified for taxation as a REIT under the IRC and restrictions under the laws of Delaware.

We believe that a change in any one of the following factors could adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations and impair our ability to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders:

- the profitability of the investments we make;
- our ability to obtain debt leverage at a cost less than the returns we realize on our investments made with the proceeds of such debt leverage;
- our ability to make profitable additional investments in the future;
- defaults by our borrowers and decreases in the value of and income from our collateral properties; and
- our operating expenses exceeding the amounts we anticipate we will incur.

We cannot assure that we will be able to make or sustain distributions to our shareholders at any time in the future, that the level of any distributions we do make to our shareholders will achieve a market yield relative to the value of our common shares, or that we will be able to increase or even maintain our distribution level over time.

We may use future debt leverage to pay distributions to our shareholders.

If our earnings are at any time insufficient to fund distributions to our shareholders at the level which may in the future be established by our Board of Trustees, we may pay distributions to our shareholders with the proceeds of borrowings or other leverage or from sales of our assets. The use of borrowings or sale proceeds for distributions may dilute our shareholders' ownership interests in us. In addition, funding distributions to our shareholders from our future borrowings or asset sales may constitute a return of capital to our investors, which would have the effect of reducing our shareholders' bases in our common shares.

Changes in market conditions could adversely affect the value of our securities.

As with other publicly traded equity securities and REIT securities, the value of our common shares and other securities depends on various market conditions that are subject to change from time to time, including:

- the extent of investor interest in our securities;
- the general reputation of REITs and externally managed companies and the attractiveness of our equity securities in comparison to other equity securities, including securities issued by other real estate based companies or by other issuers less sensitive to rises in interest rates;
- our underlying asset value;

Table of Contents

- investor confidence in the stock and bond markets, generally;
- market interest rates;
- national economic conditions;
- changes in tax laws;
- changes in our credit ratings; and
- general market conditions.

We believe that one of the factors that investors consider important in deciding whether to buy or sell equity securities of a REIT is the distribution rate, considered as a percentage of the price of the equity securities, relative to market interest rates. Interest rates have been at historically low levels for an extended period of time. There is a general market perception that REIT shares outperform in low interest rate environments and underperform in rising interest rate environments when compared to the broader market.

The U.S. Federal Reserve steadily increased the targeted federal funds rate over the last several years, but recently took action to decrease its federal funds rate and may continue to make adjustments in the near future. If the U.S. Federal Reserve increases interest rates, or if there is a market expectation of such increases, prospective purchasers of REIT equity securities may want to achieve a higher distribution rate. Thus, higher market interest rates, or the expectation of higher interest rates, could cause the value of our securities to decline.

Investing in our common shares involves a high degree of risk.

The investments that we intend to make in accordance with our investment objectives may result in a high amount of risk when compared to alternative investment options. Certain of our investments may be highly speculative and aggressive, and therefore an investment in our common shares may not be suitable for someone with low risk tolerance.

Further issuances of equity securities may be dilutive to current shareholders.

The interests of our existing shareholders could be diluted if we issue additional equity securities to finance future loan originations or acquisitions or to repay indebtedness. Our ability to execute our business strategy depends on our access to an appropriate blend of debt financing, which may include secured and unsecured debt, and equity financing, which may include common and preferred shares.

Our future offerings of debt or equity securities that rank senior to our common shares may adversely affect our shareholders.

If we decide in the future to issue debt or equity securities that rank senior to our common shares, it is likely that they will be governed by an indenture or other instrument containing covenants restricting our operating flexibility. Also, any convertible or exchangeable securities that we issue in the future may have rights, preferences and privileges more favorable than those of our common shares and may result in dilution to our shareholders. We and, indirectly, our shareholders, will bear the cost of issuing and servicing such securities. Because our decision to issue debt or equity securities in any future offering will depend on market conditions and other factors beyond our control, we cannot predict or even estimate the amount, timing or nature of our future capital offerings. Thus our shareholders will bear the risk of our future offerings reducing the market price of our common shares and diluting the value of their common shares.

Risks Related to Our Taxation

Qualifying for taxation as a REIT involves highly technical and complex provisions of the IRC.

Qualification for taxation as a REIT involves the application of highly technical and complex IRC provisions for which only limited judicial and administrative authorities exist. Even a technical or inadvertent violation could jeopardize our qualification for taxation as a REIT. Our qualification for taxation as a REIT will depend on the satisfaction of specified asset, income, organizational, distribution, shareholder ownership and other requirements on a continuing basis. Compliance with these requirements must be carefully monitored, which may be challenging depending on the size and complexity of the assets in our portfolio, a meaningful portion of which may not be qualifying REIT assets. There can be no assurance that the Adviser's personnel responsible for doing so will be able to successfully monitor our compliance or maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT.

Our failure to qualify or remain qualified for taxation as a REIT under the IRC could have significant adverse consequences.

We intend to elect and qualify for taxation as a REIT under the IRC and to maintain that qualification thereafter. We intend to seek to qualify as a REIT for tax purposes for the taxable year beginning January 1, 2021; however, this time period is an estimate and may vary depending upon the pace at which we will be able to transition certain of the Fund's investments into real property or mortgages securing real estate. As a REIT, we generally will not pay federal or most state income taxes as long as we distribute all of our REIT taxable income and meet other qualifications set forth in the IRC. However, actual qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC depends on our satisfying complex statutory requirements, for which there are only limited judicial and administrative interpretations. We expect that by the beginning of the taxable year in which the Deregistration Order becomes effective that we will be organized, and that we will continue to be organized and will operate, in a manner that will allow us to qualify for taxation as a REIT under the IRC, pursuant to our timely election with our first REIT income tax return. However, we cannot be sure that, upon review or audit, the IRS will agree with this conclusion. Furthermore, we cannot be sure that the federal government, or any state or other taxation authority, will continue to afford favorable income tax treatment to REITs and their shareholders.

Maintaining our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC will require us to continue to satisfy tests concerning, among other things, the nature of our assets, the sources of our income and the amounts we distribute to our shareholders. In order to meet these requirements, it may be necessary for us to sell or forgo attractive investments.

If we fail to qualify or remain qualified for taxation as a REIT under the IRC, then our ability to raise capital might be adversely affected, we may be subject to material amounts of federal and state income taxes, our cash available for distribution to our shareholders could be reduced, and the market price of our common shares could decline. In addition, if we lose or revoke our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC for a taxable year, we will generally be prevented from requalifying for taxation as a REIT for the next four taxable years. Moreover, we currently own certain assets through subsidiary REITs, and if we were to cause such any subsidiary REIT to liquidate for U.S. federal income tax purposes, or to otherwise transfer assets to us, in a manner that causes us to be a "successor" to such REIT, a failure of such subsidiary REIT to qualify as a REIT (including for past years) could prohibit us from being eligible to elect to be subject to tax as a REIT prior to the fifth year following the year of such failure.

REIT distribution requirements could adversely affect us and our shareholders.

We generally must distribute annually at least 90% of our REIT taxable income, subject to specified adjustments and excluding any net capital gain, in order to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC. To the extent that we satisfy this distribution requirement, federal corporate income tax will not apply to the earnings that we distribute, but if we distribute less than 100% of our REIT taxable income, then we will be subject to federal corporate income tax on our undistributed taxable income. We intend to make distributions to our shareholders to comply with the REIT requirements of the IRC. In addition, we will be subject to a 4% nondeductible excise tax if the actual amount that we pay out to our shareholders in a calendar year is less than a minimum amount specified under federal tax laws.

We may experience timing and other differences, for example on account of income and expense accrual principles under U.S. federal income tax laws, or on account of repaying outstanding indebtedness, whereby our available cash is less than, or does not otherwise correspond to, our taxable income. In addition, the IRC generally requires that our income be taken into account no later than when it is taken into account on applicable financial statements, even if financial statements take such income into account before it would otherwise accrue. As a result, from time to time we may not have sufficient cash to meet our REIT distribution requirements. If we do not have other funds available in these situations, among other things, we may borrow funds on unfavorable terms, sell investments at disadvantageous prices, distribute amounts that would otherwise be invested in future acquisitions, or pay taxable distributions partly in shares in order to make distributions sufficient to enable us to pay out enough of our taxable income to satisfy the REIT distribution requirement and to avoid corporate income tax and the 4% excise tax in a particular year. These alternatives could increase our costs or reduce our shareholders' equity. Thus, compliance with the REIT distribution requirements may hinder our ability to grow, which could cause the market price of our common shares to decline.

Complying with the REIT requirements may negatively impact our investment returns or cause us to forgo otherwise attractive opportunities, liquidate assets or contribute assets to a TRS.

To qualify as a REIT for U.S. federal income tax purposes, we must continually satisfy tests concerning, among other things, the sources of our income, the nature and diversification of our assets, the amounts we distribute to our stockholders and the ownership of our stock. As a result of these tests, we may be required to make distributions to stockholders at disadvantageous times or when we do not have funds readily available for distribution, forgo otherwise attractive investment opportunities, liquidate assets in adverse market conditions or contribute assets to a taxable REIT subsidiary ("TRS") that is subject to regular corporate federal income tax. Thus, compliance with the REIT requirements may hinder our ability to make and retain certain attractive investments.

We may be required to report taxable income from particular investments in excess of the economic income we ultimately realize from them.

We may acquire debt instruments in the secondary market for less than their face amount. Though the discount at which such debt instruments are acquired may reflect doubts about their ultimate collectability rather than current market interest rates, the amount of such discount will nevertheless generally be treated as "market discount" for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accrued market discount is generally reported as income when, and to the extent that, any payment of principal of the debt instrument is made. Payments on commercial mortgage loans are ordinarily made monthly, and consequently accrued market discount may have to be included in income each month as if the debt instrument were assured of ultimately being collected in full. If we collect less on the debt instrument than our purchase price plus the market discount we had previously reported as income, we may not be able to benefit from any offsetting loss deductions.

Moreover, some of the debt instruments that we might acquire may have been issued with original issue discount. We will be required to report such original issue discount based on a constant yield method and will be taxed based on the assumption that all future projected payments due on such debt instruments will be made. If such debt instruments turn out not to be fully collectible, an offsetting loss deduction will become available only in the later year that uncollectibility is provable.

Finally, in the event that any debt instruments acquired by us are delinquent as to mandatory principal and interest payments, or in the event payments with respect to a particular debt instrument are not made when due, we may nonetheless be required to continue to recognize the unpaid interest as taxable income as it accrues, despite doubt as to its ultimate collectability. Similarly, we may be required to accrue interest income with respect to a debt instrument at its stated rate regardless of whether corresponding cash payments are received or are ultimately collectible. In each case, while we would in general ultimately have an offsetting loss deduction available to us when such interest was determined to be uncollectible, the utility of that deduction could depend on our having taxable income in that later year or thereafter.

We may in the future choose to pay dividends in our own shares, in which case you may be required to pay income taxes in excess of the cash dividends that you receive.

We may in the future distribute taxable dividends that are payable in part in our shares. Under current guidance, as much as 80% (or, for distributions declared before December 31, 2020, 90%) of such distributions may be payable in shares. Taxable shareholders receiving such dividends will be required to include the full amount of the dividend as ordinary income to the extent of our current and accumulated earnings and profits for U.S. federal income tax purposes. As a result, shareholders may be required to pay income taxes with respect to these dividends in excess of the cash dividends received. If a shareholder sells the shares that it receives as a dividend in order to pay this tax, the sales proceeds may be less than the amount included in income with respect to the dividend, depending on the market price of our shares at the time of the sale. Furthermore, with respect to some non-U.S. shareholders, we may be required to withhold U.S. federal income tax with respect to these dividends, including in respect of all or a part of the dividend that is payable in our shares. In addition, if a significant number of our shareholders determine to sell our shares in order to pay taxes owed on dividends paid in shares, then that may put downward pressure on the trading price of our shares.

Distributions to shareholders generally will not qualify for reduced tax rates applicable to “qualified dividends.”

Dividends payable by U.S. corporations to noncorporate shareholders, such as individuals, trusts and estates, are generally eligible for reduced U.S. federal income tax rates applicable to “qualified dividends.” Distributions paid by REITs generally are not treated as “qualified dividends” under the IRC and the reduced rates applicable to such dividends do not generally apply. For tax years beginning before 2026, REIT dividends paid to noncorporate shareholders are generally taxed at an effective tax rate lower than applicable ordinary income tax rates due to the availability of a deduction under the IRC for specified forms of income from passthrough entities. However, more favorable rates will nevertheless continue to apply to regular corporate “qualified” dividends, which may cause some investors to perceive that an investment in a REIT is less attractive than an investment in a non-REIT entity that pays dividends, thereby reducing the demand and market price of our common shares.

Even if we qualify and remain qualified for taxation as a REIT under the IRC, we may face other tax liabilities that reduce our cash flow.

Even if we qualify and remain qualified for taxation as a REIT under the IRC, we may be subject to federal, state and local taxes on our income and assets, including taxes on any undistributed income, excise taxes, state or local income, property and transfer taxes, such as mortgage recording taxes, and other taxes. Also, some jurisdictions may in the future limit or eliminate favorable income tax deductions, including the dividends paid deduction, which could increase our income tax expense. In addition, in order to meet the requirements for qualification and taxation as a REIT under the IRC, prevent the recognition of particular types of non-cash income, or avert the imposition of a 100% tax that applies to specified gains derived by a REIT from dealer property or inventory, we may hold or dispose of some of our assets and conduct some of our operations through TRSs or other subsidiary corporations that will be subject to corporate level income tax at regular rates. In addition, while we intend that our transactions with our TRSs will be conducted on arm's length bases, we may be subject to a 100% excise tax on a transaction that the IRS or a court determines was not conducted at arm's length. Any of these or other taxes would decrease cash available for distribution to our shareholders.

The failure of a mezzanine loan to qualify as a real estate asset could adversely affect our ability to remain qualified for taxation as a REIT under the IRC.

We may originate or acquire mezzanine loans, for which the IRS has provided a safe harbor but not rules of substantive law. Pursuant to the safe harbor, if a mezzanine loan meets specified requirements, it will be treated by the IRS as a real estate asset for purposes of the REIT asset tests, and interest derived from the mezzanine loan will be treated as qualifying mortgage interest for purposes of the 75% gross income test applicable to REITs. We may originate or acquire mezzanine loans that do not meet all of the requirements of this safe harbor. In the event we own a mezzanine loan that does not meet the safe harbor requirements and the IRS successfully challenges the loan's treatment as a real estate asset for purposes of the REIT asset and income tests, then we could fail to qualify for taxation as a REIT under the IRC.

We may fail to qualify for taxation as a REIT under the IRC if the IRS successfully challenges the treatment of certain debt instruments as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes or successfully challenges the treatment of our preferred equity investments as equity for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

There is limited case law or administrative guidance addressing the treatment of certain debt instruments and preferred equity investments as debt or equity for U.S. federal income tax purposes. We expect that debt instruments that we may originate or acquire generally will be treated as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and preferred equity investments that we may make generally will be treated as equity for U.S. federal income tax purposes, but we do not anticipate obtaining private letter rulings from the IRS and may not obtain opinions of counsel on the characterization of those investments for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If a debt instrument is treated as equity in a pass-through entity for federal income tax purposes, we will be treated as owning the assets held by the entity that issued the debt instrument and we will be treated as receiving our proportionate share of the income of that entity. If that entity owns nonqualifying assets or earns nonqualifying income, we may not be able to satisfy all of the REIT gross income and asset tests. Alternatively, if the IRS successfully asserts a preferred equity investment is debt for federal income tax purposes, then that investment may be treated as a nonqualifying asset for purposes of the 75% asset test and as producing nonqualifying income for the 75% gross income test. In addition, such an investment may be subject to the 10% value test and the 5% asset test, and it is possible that a preferred equity investment that is treated as debt for federal income tax purposes could cause us to fail one or more of the foregoing tests. Accordingly, we could fail to qualify for taxation as a REIT under the IRC if the IRS does not respect our classification of our debt instruments or preferred equity for federal income tax purposes.

The failure of assets subject to repurchase agreements to qualify as real estate assets could adversely affect our ability to qualify for taxation as a REIT under the IRC.

We may enter into financing arrangements that are structured as sale and repurchase agreements pursuant to which we will nominally sell assets to a counterparty and simultaneously enter into an agreement to repurchase these assets at a later date in exchange for a purchase price. Economically, these agreements are financings that are secured by the assets sold pursuant to those agreements. We believe that we will be treated for REIT asset and income test purposes as the owner of the assets that are the subject of any such sale and repurchase agreement notwithstanding that such agreement may transfer record ownership of the assets to the counterparty during the term of the agreement. It is possible, however, that the IRS may assert that we did not own the assets during the term of the sale and repurchase agreement, in which case our qualification for taxation as a REIT may be jeopardized.

Complying with REIT requirements may limit our ability to hedge effectively and may cause us to incur tax liabilities.

The REIT provisions of the IRC substantially limit our ability to hedge our assets and liabilities. Any income from a hedging transaction that we enter into to manage risk of interest rate changes with respect to borrowings made or to be made to acquire or carry real estate assets does not constitute "gross income" for purposes of the 75% or 95% gross income tests that we must satisfy in order to maintain our qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC. As a result, a qualifying hedge transaction will neither assist nor hinder our compliance with the 75% and 95% gross income tests. To the extent that we enter into other types of hedging transactions, the income from those transactions is likely to be treated as nonqualifying income for purposes of both of these gross income tests. As a result of these rules, we may limit our use of advantageous hedging techniques or implement some hedges through a TRS. This could increase the cost of our hedging activities because our TRS would be subject to tax on gains or expose us to greater risks associated with changes in the hedged items than we might otherwise want to bear. In addition, losses in our TRS will generally not provide any tax benefit, except for being carried forward against future taxable income in the TRS.

If we own assets or conduct operations that generate “excess inclusion income” outside of a TRS, our doing so could adversely affect our shareholders’ taxation and could cause our shares to become ineligible for inclusion in leading market indexes.

Some leading market indexes exclude companies whose dividends to shareholders constitute “unrelated business taxable income” as defined by Section 512 of the IRC (“UBTI”). For purposes of the IRC, shareholder dividends attributable to a REIT’s “excess inclusion income” are treated as UBTI to specified investors, and thus REITs that generate excess inclusion income are generally not eligible for inclusion in these market indexes. Furthermore, REIT dividends attributable to excess inclusion income cause both the REIT and its shareholders to experience a range of disruptive and adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences, including the recognition of UBTI by specified tax-exempt shareholders, the unavailability of treaty benefits to non-U.S. shareholders and the unavailability of net operating losses to offset such income with respect to U.S. taxable shareholders. We do not intend to acquire assets or enter into financing or other arrangements that will produce excess inclusion income for our shareholders. As a result, we may forgo investment or financing opportunities that we would otherwise have considered attractive or implement these arrangements through a TRS, which would increase the cost of these activities because TRSs are subject to U.S. federal income tax. Furthermore, our analysis regarding our investments’ or activities’ potential for generating excess inclusion income could be subject to challenge or we could affirmatively modify our position regarding the generation of excess inclusion income in the future. In either case, our shareholders could suffer adverse tax consequences through the recognition of UBTI or the other adverse consequences that flow from excess inclusion income. Furthermore, in such an event, our shares could become ineligible for inclusion in those market indexes that exclude UBTI-generating stock, which could adversely affect demand for our shares and their market price.

The tax on prohibited transactions will limit our ability to engage in transactions, including some methods of securitizing mortgage loans, that would be treated as sales for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

A REIT’s net income from prohibited transactions is subject to a 100% tax. In general, prohibited transactions are sales or other dispositions at a gain of property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business. If we were to dispose of real estate, loans, or other assets in a manner that was treated as a sale of the loans for U.S. federal income tax purposes (including certain securitizations), those sales could be viewed as sales to customers in the ordinary course of business and to that extent subject to the 100% tax. Therefore, in order to avoid the prohibited transactions tax, we may choose not to engage in particular sales of assets, or may limit the structures we utilize for our dispositions or securitization transactions, even though the sales or structures might otherwise be beneficial to us.

Legislative or other actions affecting REITs could materially and adversely affect us and our shareholders.

The rules dealing with U.S. federal, state, and local taxation are constantly under review by persons involved in the legislative process and by the IRS, the U.S. Department of the Treasury, and other taxation authorities. Changes to the tax laws, with or without retroactive application, could materially and adversely affect us and our shareholders. We cannot predict how changes in the tax laws might affect us or our shareholders. New legislation, Treasury regulations, administrative interpretations or court decisions could significantly and negatively affect our ability to remain qualified for taxation as a REIT or the tax consequences of such qualification to us and our shareholders.

APPENDIX C: SUMMARY OF MATERIAL UNITED STATES FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of material U.S. federal income tax considerations generally applicable to the Business Change Proposal, our intended qualification and taxation as a REIT commencing with the Deregistration Year, and the ownership and disposition of our common shares (“common shares”) following the commencement of the Deregistration Year. For purposes of this Appendix references to the “Fund,” “we,” “our” and “us” generally mean only NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund and not its subsidiaries or other lower-tier entities, except as otherwise indicated. This summary is based upon the IRC, the regulations promulgated by the Treasury, rulings and other administrative pronouncements issued by the IRS, and judicial decisions, all as currently in effect, and all of which are subject to differing interpretations or to change, possibly with retroactive effect. No assurance can be given that the IRS would not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the tax consequences described below. The summary is also based upon the assumption that we and our subsidiaries and affiliated entities will operate in accordance with our and their applicable organizational documents. This summary is for general information only and is not tax advice. It does not discuss any state, local or non-U.S. tax consequences relevant to us or an investment in our common shares, and it does not purport to discuss all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be important to a particular investor in light of its investment or tax circumstances or to investors subject to special tax rules, such as:

- financial institutions;
- insurance companies;
- broker-dealers;
- regulated investment companies;
- partnerships, other pass-through entities and trusts;
- persons who hold our common shares on behalf of other persons as nominees;
- persons who receive our common shares as compensation;
- persons holding our common shares as part of a “straddle,” “hedge,” “conversion transaction,” “synthetic security” or other integrated investment;
- persons subject to the mark-to-market method of accounting for their securities;
- a person who owns 10% or more (by vote or value, directly or constructively under the IRC) of any class of our shares;
- U.S. expatriates;
- persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar;
- a person subject to special tax accounting rules as a result of its use of applicable financial statements (within the meaning of Section 451(b)(3) of the IRC);
- persons subject to special rules or exemptions under the Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act of 1980, as amended (“FIRPTA”) and, except to the extent discussed below:

- tax-exempt organizations; and
- foreign investors.

This summary assumes that investors will hold their common shares as a capital asset, which generally means property held for investment. Further, except as expressly provided otherwise, this summary assumes (i) that the Business Change Proposal will be approved and effected in the manner contemplated in the Proxy Statement, (ii) that we will successfully realign our portfolio and otherwise satisfy all requirements so as to qualify for taxation as a REIT for the Deregistration Year and each taxable year thereafter, and (iii) that we have been organized and have qualified for taxation as a RIC, and that we will remain so qualified until the end of our taxable year preceding the Deregistration Year.

C-1

The U.S. federal income tax treatment of holders of our common shares depends in some instances on determinations of fact and interpretations of complex provisions of U.S. federal income tax law for which no clear precedent or authority may be available. In addition, the tax consequences to any particular shareholder of holding or disposing of our common shares will depend on the shareholder's particular tax circumstances. You are urged to consult your tax advisor regarding the U.S. federal, state, local, and foreign income and other tax consequences to you in light of your particular investment or tax circumstances of acquiring, holding, exchanging, or otherwise disposing of our common shares.

Taxation of the Fund

Our first taxable year as a REIT will be the Deregistration Year, for which we intend to elect to be taxed as a REIT under Sections 856 through 860 of the IRC. The discussion below assumes that we will make that election by timely filing our U.S. federal income tax return as a REIT for that year and that we qualify as a REIT for that year and each subsequent year.

The law firm of [ ] has acted as our tax counsel ("tax counsel"). Following the commencement of the Deregistration Year, we would expect to receive an opinion of tax counsel to the effect that, commencing with the Deregistration Year, we have been organized in conformity with the requirements for qualification for taxation as a REIT under the IRC, and that our actual method of operation has enabled, and our proposed method of operation will enable, us to meet the requirements for qualification and taxation as a REIT. The opinion of tax counsel will be based on various assumptions relating to our organization and operation, and will be conditioned upon fact-based representations and covenants regarding our organization, assets, income, and the past, present and future conduct of our business operations. While, if the Business Change Proposal is approved, we intend to operate so that we will qualify for taxation as a REIT, given the highly complex nature of the rules governing REITs, the ongoing importance of factual determinations, and the possibility of future changes in our circumstances, no assurance can be given by tax counsel or by us that we will qualify for taxation as a REIT for any particular year. In addition, the law may change prior to the Deregistration Year or thereafter, possibly with retroactive effect, which could result in our inability to receive the opinions from tax counsel described herein or in adverse consequences to matters otherwise addressed herein. The opinion will be expressed as of the date issued. Tax counsel will have no obligation to advise us or our shareholders of any subsequent change in the matters stated, represented or assumed, or of any subsequent change in the applicable law. You should be aware that opinions of counsel are not binding on the IRS, and no assurance can be given that the IRS will not challenge the conclusions set forth in such opinions.

Our qualification and taxation as a REIT will depend on our ability to meet, through actual operating results, distribution levels, and diversity of stock and asset ownership, various qualification requirements imposed upon REITs by the IRC, the compliance with which will not be reviewed by tax counsel. In addition, our ability to qualify for taxation as a REIT depends in part upon the operating results, organizational structure and entity classification for U.S. federal income tax purposes of certain affiliated entities, the status of which may not have been reviewed by tax counsel. Our ability to qualify for taxation as a REIT also requires that we satisfy specified asset tests, some of which depend upon the fair market values of assets that we own directly or indirectly. Such values may not be susceptible to a precise determination. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that the actual results of our operations for any taxable year will satisfy such requirements for qualification and taxation as a REIT.

Taxation of REITs in General

As indicated above, our qualification and taxation as a REIT depend upon our ability to meet, on a continuing basis, various qualification requirements imposed upon REITs by the IRC. The material qualification requirements are summarized below under "—Requirements for Qualification—General." While we intend to operate so that we qualify as a REIT commencing with the Deregistration Year, no assurance can be given that the IRS will not challenge our qualification, or that we will be able to operate in accordance with the REIT requirements in the future. See "—Failure to Qualify".

Table of Contents

Provided that we qualify as a REIT, generally we will be entitled to a deduction for dividends that we pay and therefore will not be subject to U.S. federal corporate income tax on our net taxable income that is currently distributed to our shareholders. This treatment, which is similar to the treatment the Fund is currently subject to as a RIC, substantially eliminates the “double taxation” at the corporate and shareholder levels that generally results from an investment in a C corporation. A “C corporation” is a corporation that generally is required to pay tax at the corporate level. In general, the income that we generate is taxed only at the shareholder level upon a distribution of dividends to our shareholders.

Any net operating losses, foreign tax credits and other tax attributes generally do not pass through to our shareholders, subject to special rules for certain items such as the capital gains that we recognize. See “—Taxation of Shareholders—Taxation of Taxable U.S. Shareholders—Distributions.”

If we qualify as a REIT, we will nonetheless be subject to U.S. federal tax in the following circumstances:

- We will be taxed at regular corporate rates on any undistributed net taxable income, including undistributed net capital gains.
- If we have net income from “prohibited transactions,” which are, in general, sales or other dispositions of inventory or property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business, other than “foreclosure property,” such income will be subject to a 100% tax. See “—Prohibited Transactions” and “—Foreclosure Property.”
- If we elect to treat property that we acquire in connection with a foreclosure of a mortgage loan or certain leasehold terminations as foreclosure property, we may thereby avoid the 100% tax on gain from a resale of that property (if the sale would otherwise constitute a prohibited transaction), but the income from the sale or operation of the property may be subject to corporate income tax at the highest applicable rate.
- If we fail to satisfy the 75% gross income test or the 95% gross income test, as discussed below, but nonetheless maintain our qualification as a REIT because we satisfy other requirements, we will be subject to a 100% tax on an amount based on the magnitude of the failure, as adjusted to reflect the profit margin associated with our gross income.
- If we violate the asset tests (other than certain de minimis violations) or other requirements applicable to REITs, as described below, and yet maintain our qualification as a REIT because there is reasonable cause for the failure and other applicable requirements are met, we may be subject to a penalty tax. In that case, the amount of the penalty tax will be at least $50,000 per failure, and, in the case of certain asset test failures, will be determined as the amount of net income generated by the nonqualifying assets in question multiplied by the highest corporate tax rate if that amount exceeds $50,000 per failure.
- If we fail to distribute during each calendar year at least the sum of (i) 85% of our ordinary income for such year, (ii) 95% of our capital gain net income for such year and (iii) any undistributed net taxable income from prior periods, we will be subject to a nondeductible 4% excise tax on the excess of the required distribution over the sum of (a) the amounts that we actually distributed and (b) the amounts we retained and upon which we paid income tax at the corporate level.
- If we were to derive “excess inclusion income” from an interest in certain mortgage loan securitization structures (i.e., a “taxable mortgage pool” or a residual interest in a real estate mortgage investment conduit (“REMIC”)), we could be subject to corporate level U.S. federal income tax at the highest applicable rate to the extent that such income is allocable to specified types of tax-exempt shareholders known as “disqualified organizations” that are not subject to unrelated business income tax.
- We may be required to pay monetary penalties to the IRS in certain circumstances, including if we fail to meet record-keeping requirements intended to monitor our compliance with rules relating to the composition of a REIT’s shareholders, as described below in “—Requirements for Qualification—General.”
- A 100% tax may be imposed on transactions between us and a taxable REIT subsidiary (“TRS”) that do not reflect arm’s length terms.

Table of Contents

- If we acquire appreciated assets from a corporation that is not a REIT or a RIC (i.e., a corporation taxable under subchapter C of the IRC) in a transaction in which the adjusted tax basis of the assets in our hands is determined by reference to the adjusted tax basis of the assets in the hands of the subchapter C corporation, we may be subject to tax on such appreciation at the highest corporate income tax rate then applicable if we subsequently recognize gain on a disposition of any such assets during the five-year period following their acquisition from the subchapter C corporation.
- The earnings of our TRSs will generally be subject to U.S. federal corporate income tax.

In addition, we and our subsidiaries may be subject to a variety of taxes, including payroll taxes and state, local, and foreign income, property, gross receipts and other taxes on our assets and operations. We could also be subject to tax in situations and on transactions not presently contemplated.

Requirements for Qualification—General

The IRC defines a REIT as a corporation, trust or association:

1. that is managed by one or more trustees or directors;
2. the beneficial ownership of which is evidenced by transferable shares, or by transferable certificates of beneficial interest;
3. that would be taxable as a domestic corporation but for its election to be subject to tax as a REIT;
4. that is neither a financial institution nor an insurance company subject to specific provisions of the IRC;
5. the beneficial ownership of which is held by 100 or more persons;
6. in which, during the last half of each taxable year, not more than 50% in value of the outstanding stock is owned, directly or indirectly, by five or fewer “individuals” (as defined in the IRC to include specified tax-exempt entities); and
7. that meets other tests described below, including with respect to the nature of its income and assets.

The IRC provides that conditions (1) through (4) must be met during the entire taxable year, and that condition (5) must be met during at least 335 days of a taxable year of 12 months, or during a proportionate part of a shorter taxable year. Conditions (5) and (6) need not be met during a corporation’s initial tax year as a REIT (which, in our case, is expected to be the Deregistration Year). As part of the Business Change Proposal, we intend to amend our Declaration of Trust to provide for restrictions regarding the ownership and transfers of our common shares, which are intended to assist us in satisfying the stock ownership requirements described in conditions (5) and (6) above. These restrictions, however, may not ensure that we will, in all cases, be able to satisfy the share ownership requirements described in conditions (5) and (6) above.

To monitor compliance with the stock ownership requirements, we generally are required to maintain records regarding the actual ownership of our common shares. To do so, we must demand written statements each year from the record holders of significant percentages of our common shares pursuant to which the record holders must disclose the actual owners of our common shares (i.e., the persons required to include our dividends in their gross income). We must maintain a list of those persons failing or refusing to comply with this demand as part of our records. We could be subject to monetary penalties if we fail to comply with these record-keeping requirements. If you fail or refuse to comply with the demands, you will be required by Treasury regulations to submit a statement with your tax return disclosing your actual ownership of our common shares and other information.

In addition, a corporation generally may not elect to become a REIT unless its taxable year is the calendar year. We adopted December 31 as our year-end and thereby satisfy this requirement.

Effect of Subsidiary Entities

Ownership of Partnership Interests. If we are a partner in an entity that is treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes, Treasury regulations provide that we are deemed to own our proportionate share of the partnership's assets, and to earn our proportionate share of the partnership's income, for purposes of the asset and gross income tests applicable to REITs. Our proportionate share of a partnership's assets and income is based on our capital interest in the partnership (except that for purposes of the 10% value test, described below, our proportionate share of the partnership's assets is based on our proportionate interest in the equity and certain debt securities issued by the partnership). In addition, the assets and gross income of the partnership are deemed to retain the same character in our hands. Thus, our proportionate share of the assets and items of income of any of our subsidiary partnerships will be treated as our assets and items of income for purposes of applying the REIT requirements.

If we are or become a limited partner or non-managing member in any entity treated as a partnership and such entity takes or expects to take actions that could jeopardize our status as a REIT or require us to pay tax, we may be forced to dispose of our interest in such entity. In addition, it is possible that an entity treated as a partnership could take an action which could cause us to fail a gross income or asset test, and that we would not become aware of such action in time to dispose of our interest in such entity or take other corrective action on a timely basis. In that case, we could fail to qualify as a REIT unless we were entitled to relief, as described below.

Disregarded Subsidiaries. If we own a corporate subsidiary that is a "qualified REIT subsidiary," that subsidiary is generally disregarded as a separate entity for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and all of the subsidiary's assets, liabilities and items of income, deduction and credit are treated as our assets, liabilities and items of income, deduction and credit, including for purposes of the gross income and asset tests applicable to REITs. A qualified REIT subsidiary is any corporation, other than a TRS, that is directly or indirectly wholly-owned by a REIT. Other entities that are wholly-owned by us (either directly or through other disregarded entities), including single member limited liability companies that have not elected to be taxed as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes, are also generally disregarded as separate entities for U.S. federal income tax purposes, including for purposes of the REIT income and asset tests. Disregarded subsidiaries, along with any partnerships in which we hold an equity interest, are sometimes referred to herein as "pass-through subsidiaries."

In the event that a disregarded subsidiary of ours ceases to be wholly-owned—for example, if any equity interest in a disregarded subsidiary is acquired by a person other than us or another disregarded subsidiary of ours—the subsidiary's separate existence would no longer be disregarded for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Instead, the subsidiary would have multiple owners and would be treated as either a partnership or a taxable corporation. Such an event could, depending on the circumstances, adversely affect our ability to satisfy the various asset and gross income requirements applicable to REITs, including the requirement that REITs generally may not own, directly or indirectly, more than 10% of the securities of another corporation. See "—Asset Tests" and "—Income Tests."

Taxable REIT Subsidiaries. In general, we may jointly elect with a subsidiary corporation, whether or not wholly-owned, to treat such subsidiary corporation as a TRS. We generally may not own more than 10% of the securities of a taxable corporation, as measured by voting power or value, unless we and such corporation elect to treat such corporation as a TRS. The separate existence of a TRS or other taxable corporation is not ignored for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, a TRS or other taxable subsidiary corporation generally is subject to corporate income tax on its earnings, which may reduce the cash flow that we and our subsidiaries generate in the aggregate, and may reduce our ability to make distributions to our shareholders.

We are not treated as holding the assets of a TRS or other taxable subsidiary corporation or as receiving any income that the subsidiary earns. Rather, the stock issued by a taxable subsidiary corporation to us is an asset in our hands, and we treat the dividends paid to us from such taxable subsidiary corporation, if any, as income. This treatment can affect our income and asset test calculations, as described below. Because we do not include the assets and income of TRSs or other taxable subsidiary corporations on a look-through basis in determining our compliance with the REIT requirements, we may use such entities to undertake indirectly activities that the REIT rules might otherwise preclude us from doing directly or through pass-through subsidiaries. For example, we may use TRSs or other taxable subsidiary corporations to hold assets that, if held by us directly, may cause us to fail to satisfy the REIT asset tests, to perform services or conduct activities that give rise to certain categories of income such as certain fees, or to conduct activities that, if conducted by us directly, would be treated in our hands as prohibited transactions.

The TRS rules impose a 100% excise tax on transactions between a TRS and its parent REIT or the REIT's tenants that are not conducted on an arm's length basis. We intend that all of our transactions with our TRSs, if any, will be conducted on an arm's length basis.

Subsidiary REITs. We currently own stock in certain entities that are intended to be treated as REITs. Our stock of any subsidiary REIT will generally be treated as a qualifying real estate asset for purposes of the REIT asset requirements (see "—Asset Tests" below), and any dividend income or gains derived by us from such stock will generally be treated as income that qualifies for purposes of the 95% and 75% gross income tests (see "—Income Tests" below), provided, in each case, that such subsidiary qualifies as a REIT. We and any subsidiary REIT are separate entities, each of which intends to qualify as a REIT, and each of which must independently satisfy the various REIT qualification requirements. If our subsidiary REIT were to fail to qualify as a REIT, it would then be a regular taxable corporation, and its income would be subject to U.S. federal income tax. In addition, a failure of such subsidiary to qualify as a REIT would likely have an adverse effect on our ability to comply with the REIT asset and income requirements described below, and thus our ability to qualify as a REIT. Moreover, if we cause a subsidiary REIT to liquidate for U.S. federal income tax purposes, or to otherwise transfer assets to us, in a manner that causes us to be a "successor" to such REIT, a failure of such subsidiary REIT to qualify as a REIT (including for past years) could prohibit us from being eligible to elect to be subject to taxes as a REIT.

Income Tests

In order to qualify as a REIT, we must satisfy two gross income requirements on an annual basis. First, at least 75% of our gross income for each taxable year, excluding gross income from sales of inventory or dealer property in prohibited transactions, discharge of indebtedness and certain hedging transactions, generally must be derived from "rents from real property" (as described below), gains from the sale of real property, mortgages on real property, and shares in other REITs, interest income derived from mortgage loans secured by real property (including certain types of mortgage-backed securities), dividends received from other REITs, and specified income from temporary investments. Second, at least 95% of our gross income in each taxable year, excluding gross income from prohibited transactions, discharge of indebtedness and certain hedging transactions, must be derived from some combination of income that qualifies under the 75% gross income test described above, as well as other dividends, interest, and gain from the sale or disposition of stock or securities, which need not have any relation to real property. Income and gain from certain hedging transactions will be excluded from both the numerator and the denominator for purposes of both the 75% and 95% gross income tests.

Rents from Real Property. Rents we receive from a tenant will qualify as "rents from real property" for the purpose of satisfying the gross income requirements for a REIT described above only if all of the conditions described below are met.

- The amount of rent is not based in whole or in part on the income or profits of any person. However, an amount we receive or accrue generally will not be excluded from the term "rents from real property" solely because it is based on a fixed percentage or percentages of receipts or sales;
- Neither we nor an actual or constructive owner of 10% or more of our common shares actually or constructively owns 10% or more of the interests in the assets or net profits of a non-corporate tenant, or, if the tenant is a corporation, 10% or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or 10% or more of the total value of all classes of stock of the tenant. Rents we receive from such a tenant that is a TRS of ours, however, will generally not be excluded from the definition of "rents from real property" as a result of this condition if at least 90% of the space at the property to

- which the rents relate is leased to third parties, and the rents paid by the TRS are substantially comparable to rents paid by our other tenants for comparable space;
- Rent attributable to personal property that is leased in connection with a lease of real property is not greater than 15% of the total rent received under the lease. If this condition is not met, then the portion of the rent attributable to personal property will not qualify as “rents from real property”; and
  - We generally do not operate or manage the property or furnish or render services to our tenants, subject to a 1% de minimis exception and except as provided below. We are permitted, however, to perform directly certain services that are “usually or customarily rendered” in connection with the rental of space for occupancy only and are not otherwise considered “rendered to the occupant” of the property. Examples of these permitted services include the provision of light, heat, or other utilities, trash removal and general maintenance of common areas. In addition, we are permitted to employ an “independent contractor” from whom we derive no revenue to provide customary services to our tenants, or a TRS, which may be wholly or partially owned by us, to provide both customary and non-customary services to our tenants without causing the rent that we receive from those tenants to fail to qualify as “rents from real property.” Any amounts that we receive from a TRS with respect to the TRS’s provision of non-customary services will, however, be nonqualifying income under the 75% gross income test and, except to the extent received through the payment of dividends, the 95% gross income test.

We intend to cause any services that are not “usually or customarily rendered,” or that are for the benefit of a particular tenant in connection with the rental of real property, to be provided through a TRS or through an “independent contractor.” However, no assurance can be given that the IRS will concur with our determination as to whether a particular service is usual or customary, or otherwise in this regard.

Interest Income. Interest income constitutes qualifying mortgage interest for purposes of the 75% gross income test to the extent that the obligation upon which such interest is paid is secured by a mortgage on real property or an interest in real property. If we receive interest income with respect to a mortgage loan that is secured by both real property and other property, and the highest principal amount of the loan outstanding during a taxable year exceeds the fair market value of the real property on the date that we acquired or originated the mortgage loan, the interest income will generally be apportioned between the real property and the other collateral, and our income from the arrangement will qualify for purposes of the 75% gross income test only to the extent that the interest is allocable to the real property. In certain cases, personal property collateral securing a loan that we hold may be treated as real property for purposes of the foregoing rules. Even if a loan is not secured by real property, or is undersecured, the income that it generates may nonetheless qualify for purposes of the 95% gross income test. For these purposes, the term “interest” generally does not include any amount received or accrued, directly or indirectly, if the determination of all or some of the amount depends in any way on the income or profits of any person. However, an amount received or accrued generally will not be excluded from the term “interest” solely by reason of being based on a fixed percentage or percentages of receipts or sales.

We may invest in mortgage-backed securities or other securitization vehicles. If these investments are treated as interests in grantor trusts for U.S. federal income tax purposes, we will be treated as owning an undivided beneficial ownership interest in the mortgage loans held by the grantor trust. The interest on such mortgage loans would be qualifying income for purposes of the 75% gross income test to the extent that the obligation is secured by real property. We also may invest in interests in REMICs for U.S. federal income tax purposes, in which case income derived from such REMIC interests would generally be treated as qualifying income for purposes of the 75% and 95% gross income tests. If less than 95% of the assets of a REMIC are real estate assets, however, then only a proportionate part of its income derived from the interest will qualify for purposes of the 75% gross income test. In addition, some REMIC securitizations include imbedded interest rate swap or cap contracts or other derivative instruments that potentially could produce nonqualifying income. To the extent that we hold interests in securitizations that do not represent grantor trust or REMIC interests, the income generated from them might not qualify for purposes of either or both of the REIT income tests, depending upon the circumstances and the specific structure of the investment. Other mortgage-related investments, such as mezzanine loans, and mortgage participation interests (such as “B-notes”), “to be announced” forward contracts, and mortgage servicing rights, may be subject to special rules or uncertain treatment and may generate nonqualifying income. The Fund’s ability to invest in those assets may be limited by its intention to qualify as a REIT.

Dividend Income. We may directly or indirectly receive distributions from TRSs or other corporations that are not REITs or qualified REIT subsidiaries. These distributions generally are treated as dividend income to the extent of the earnings and profits of the distributing corporation. Such distributions will generally constitute qualifying income for purposes of the 95% gross income test, but not for purposes of the 75% gross income test. Any dividends that we receive from another REIT, however, will be qualifying income for purposes of both the 95% and 75% gross income tests.

Fee Income. With limited exceptions, any fee income that we earn will generally not be qualifying income for purposes of either gross income test. Any fees earned by a TRS, however, will not be included for purposes of our gross income tests.

Hedging Transactions. Any income or gain that we or our pass-through subsidiaries derive from instruments that hedge certain specified risks, such as the risk of changes in interest rates with respect to certain of our borrowings, will be excluded from gross income for purposes of both the 75% and 95% gross income tests, provided that specified requirements are met, including the requirement that the instrument is entered into during the ordinary course of our business and that the instrument be properly identified as a hedge along with the risk that it hedges within prescribed time periods. Income and gain from all other hedging transactions will not be qualifying income for either the 95% or 75% gross income test.

Failure to Satisfy the Gross Income Tests. If we fail to satisfy one or both of the 75% or 95% gross income tests for any taxable year, we may still qualify as a REIT for such year if we are entitled to relief under applicable provisions of the IRC. These relief provisions will be generally available if (i) our failure to meet these tests was due to reasonable cause and not due to willful neglect and (ii) following our identification of the failure to meet the 75% or 95% gross income test for any taxable year, we file a schedule with the IRS setting forth each item of our gross income for purposes of the 75% or 95% gross income test for such taxable year in accordance with Treasury regulations, which have not yet been issued. It is not possible to state whether we would be entitled to the benefit of these relief provisions in all circumstances. If these relief provisions are inapplicable to a particular set of circumstances, we will not qualify as a REIT. Even if these relief provisions apply, and we retain our status as a REIT, the IRC imposes a tax based upon the amount by which we fail to satisfy the particular gross income test.

Asset Tests

At the close of each calendar quarter, we must also satisfy five tests relating to the nature of our assets. First, at least 75% of the value of our total assets must be represented by some combination of “real estate assets,” cash, cash items, U.S. government securities, and, under some circumstances, stock or debt instruments purchased with new capital. For this purpose, “real estate assets” include interests in real property (and certain ancillary personal property), stock of other corporations that qualify as REITs, some kinds of mortgage-backed securities and mortgage loans, and debt instruments (whether or not secured by real property) that are issued by a “publicly offered REIT” (i.e., a REIT that is required to file annual and periodic reports with the SEC under the Exchange Act). Assets that do not qualify for purposes of the 75% asset test are subject to the additional asset tests described below.

Second, the value of any one issuer’s securities that we own may not exceed 5% of the value of our total assets.

Third, we may not own more than 10% of any one issuer's outstanding securities, as measured by either voting power or value. The 5% and 10% asset tests do not apply to securities of TRSs and qualified REIT subsidiaries and the value prong of the 10% asset test does not apply to "straight debt" having specified characteristics and to certain other securities described below. Solely for purposes of the value prong of the 10% asset test, the determination of our interest in the assets of a partnership or limited liability company in which we own an interest will be based on our proportionate interest in any securities issued by the partnership or limited liability company, excluding for this purpose certain securities described in the IRC.

Fourth, the aggregate value of all securities of TRSs that we hold may not exceed 20% of the value of our total assets.

Fifth, no more than 25% of the total value of our assets may be represented by "nonqualified publicly offered REIT debt instruments" (i.e., real estate assets that would cease to be real estate assets if debt instruments issued by publicly offered REITs were not included in the definition of real estate assets).

Notwithstanding the general rule, as noted above, that for purposes of the REIT income and asset tests we are treated as owning our proportionate share of the underlying assets of a subsidiary partnership, if we hold indebtedness issued by a partnership, the indebtedness will be subject to, and may cause a violation of, the asset tests unless the indebtedness is a qualifying mortgage asset or other conditions are met. Similarly, although stock of another REIT is a qualifying asset for purposes of the REIT asset tests, any non-mortgage debt that is issued by a non-publicly offered REIT may not so qualify (although such debt will not be treated as "securities" for purposes of the value prong of the 10% asset test, as explained below).

Certain securities will not cause a violation of the value prong of the 10% asset test described above. Such securities include instruments that constitute "straight debt," which term generally excludes, among other things, securities having contingency features. A security does not qualify as "straight debt" where a REIT (or a controlled TRS of the REIT) owns other securities of the same issuer which do not qualify as straight debt, unless the value of those other securities constitute, in the aggregate, 1% or less of the total value of that issuer's outstanding securities. In addition to straight debt, the IRC provides that certain other securities will not violate the value prong of the 10% asset test. Such securities include (i) any loan made to an individual or an estate, (ii) certain rental agreements pursuant to which one or more payments are to be made in subsequent years (other than agreements between a REIT and certain persons related to the REIT under attribution rules), (iii) any obligation to pay "rents from real property," (iv) securities issued by governmental entities that are not dependent in whole or in part on the profits of (or payments made by) a nongovernmental entity, (v) any security (including debt securities) issued by another REIT and (vi) any debt instrument issued by a partnership if the partnership's income is of a nature that it would satisfy the 75% gross income test described above under "—Income Tests." In applying the value prong of the 10% asset test, a debt security issued by a partnership is not taken into account to the extent, if any, of the REIT's proportionate interest in the equity and certain debt securities issued by that partnership.

We may invest in mortgage-backed securities or other securitization vehicles. If these investments are treated as interests in grantor trusts for U.S. federal income tax purposes, we will be treated as owning an undivided beneficial ownership interest in the mortgage loans held by the grantor trust, which would generally be treated as real estate assets to the extent that the obligation is secured by real property. We also may invest in interests in REMICs for U.S. federal income tax purposes, in which case such interests would generally qualify as real estate assets. If less than 95% of the assets of a REMIC are real estate assets, however, then only a proportionate part of our interest in the REMIC would qualify as a real estate asset. In addition, some REMIC securitizations include imbedded interest rate swap or cap contracts or other derivative instruments that would generally be not be treated as real estate assets. To the extent that we hold interests in securitizations that do not represent grantor trust or REMIC interests, such assets may not qualify as real estate assets, depending upon the circumstances and the specific structure of the investment. Other mortgage-related investments, such as mezzanine loans, certain mortgage participation interests (such as "B-notes"), "to be announced" forward contracts, and mortgage servicing rights, may be subject to special rules or uncertain treatment and may not be treated as real estate assets. The Fund's ability to invest in those assets may be limited by its intention to qualify as a REIT

We may enter into repurchase agreements under which we will nominally sell assets to a counterparty and simultaneously enter into an agreement to repurchase the sold assets. We believe that we will be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as the owner of the assets that are the subject of any such agreements, notwithstanding that we may transfer record ownership of the subject assets to the counterparty during the term of the agreement. It is possible, however, that the IRS could assert that we did not own the assets during the term of the applicable repurchase agreement, which characterization could jeopardize our qualification for taxation as a REIT.

No independent appraisals have been obtained to support our conclusions as to the value of our total assets or the value of any particular security or securities. Moreover, the values of some assets may not be susceptible to a precise determination, and values are subject to change in the future. Furthermore, the proper classification of an instrument as debt or equity for U.S. federal income tax purposes may be uncertain in some circumstances, which could affect the application of the REIT asset requirements. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the IRS will not contend that our interests in our subsidiaries or in the securities of other issuers will not cause a violation of the REIT asset tests.

However, certain relief provisions are available to allow REITs to satisfy the asset requirements or to maintain REIT qualification notwithstanding certain violations of the asset tests and other requirements. For example, if we should fail to satisfy the asset tests at the end of a calendar quarter such a failure would not cause us to lose our REIT qualification if we (i) satisfied the asset tests at the close of the preceding calendar quarter and (ii) the discrepancy between the value of our assets and the asset requirements was not wholly or partly caused by an acquisition of nonqualifying assets, but instead arose from changes in the relative market values of our assets. If the condition described in clause (ii) were not satisfied, we still could avoid disqualification by eliminating any discrepancy within 30 days after the close of the calendar quarter in which it arose or by making use of the relief provisions described below.

In the case of de minimis violations of the 10% and 5% asset tests, a REIT may maintain its qualification despite a violation of such requirements if (i) the value of the assets causing the violation does not exceed the lesser of 1% of the REIT's total assets and $10,000,000 and (ii) the REIT either disposes of the assets causing the failure within six months after the last day of the quarter in which it identifies the failure, or the relevant tests are otherwise satisfied within that time frame.

Even if we did not qualify for the foregoing relief provisions, one additional provision allows a REIT that fails one or more of the asset tests to nevertheless maintain its REIT qualification if (i) the REIT provides the IRS with a description of each asset causing the failure, (ii) the failure is due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect, (iii) the REIT pays a tax equal to the greater of (a) $50,000 per failure and (b) the product of the net income generated by the assets that caused the failure multiplied by the highest applicable corporate tax rate and (iv) the REIT either disposes of the assets causing the failure within six months after the last day of the quarter in which it identifies the failure, or otherwise satisfies the relevant asset tests within that time frame.

Annual Distribution Requirements

In order to qualify as a REIT, we are required to annually distribute dividends, other than capital gain dividends, to our shareholders in an amount at least equal to:

- i. the sum of
  - a. 90% of our REIT taxable income, computed without regard to our net capital gains and the deduction for dividends paid; and
  - b. 90% of our after tax net income, if any, from foreclosure property (see "—Foreclosure Property" below); minus

- ii. the excess of the sum of specified items of non-cash income over 5% of our REIT taxable income, computed without regard to our net capital gains and the deduction for dividends paid.

We generally must make these distributions in the taxable year to which they relate, or in the following taxable year if declared before we timely file our tax return for the year and if paid with or before the first regular dividend payment after such declaration. These distributions will be treated as received by our shareholders in the year in which paid.

To the extent that we distribute at least 90%, but less than 100%, of our REIT taxable income, as adjusted, we will be subject to tax at ordinary corporate tax rates on the retained portion. We may elect to retain, rather than distribute, some or all of our net long-term capital gains and pay tax on such gains. In this case, we could elect for our shareholders to include their proportionate shares of such undistributed long-term capital gains in income, and to receive a corresponding credit for their share of the tax that we paid. Our shareholders would then increase the adjusted basis of their stock by the difference between (i) the amounts of capital gain dividends that we designated and that they include in their taxable income, and (ii) the tax that we paid on their behalf with respect to that income.

To the extent that in the future we may have available net operating losses carried forward from prior tax years, such losses may, subject to limitations, reduce the amount of distributions that we must make in order to comply with the REIT distribution requirements. Such losses, however, will generally not affect the tax treatment to our shareholders of any distributions that are actually made. See “—Taxation of Shareholders—Taxation of Taxable U.S. Shareholders—Distributions.”

If we fail to distribute during each calendar year at least the sum of (i) 85% of our ordinary income for such year, (ii) 95% of our capital gain net income for such year and (iii) any undistributed net taxable income from prior periods, we will be subject to a nondeductible 4% excise tax on the excess of such required distribution over the sum of (a) the amounts actually distributed, plus (b) the amounts of income we retained and on which we have paid corporate income tax.

From time to time, we may not have sufficient cash or other liquid assets to meet these distribution requirements due to timing differences between the actual receipt of income and actual payment of deductible expenses, and the inclusion of income and deduction of expenses in determining our taxable income. In addition, we may decide to retain our cash, rather than distribute it, in order to repay debt, acquire assets, or for other reasons. For example, the IRC contains various limitations on the deductibility of interest and other expenses and various rules that may accelerate income before the receipt of cash. If these timing differences occur, we may sell assets, borrow funds to pay dividends or pay dividends through taxable distributions of other property (including our common share) in order to meet the distribution requirements, while preserving our cash.

If our taxable income for a particular year is subsequently determined to have been understated, we may be able to rectify a resultant failure to meet the distribution requirements for a year by paying “deficiency dividends” to shareholders in a later year, which may be included in our deduction for dividends paid for the earlier year. In this case, we may be able to avoid losing REIT qualification or being taxed on amounts distributed as deficiency dividends, subject to the 4% excise tax described above. We will be required to pay interest based on the amount of any deduction taken for deficiency dividends.

For purposes of the 90% distribution requirement and excise tax described above, any dividend that we declare in October, November or December of any year and that is payable to a shareholder of record on a specified date in any such month will be treated as both paid by us and received by the shareholder on December 31 of such year, provided that we actually pay the dividend before the end of January of the following calendar year.

Prohibited Transactions

Net income that we derive from a prohibited transaction is subject to a 100% tax. The term “prohibited transaction” generally includes a sale or other disposition of property (other than foreclosure property, as discussed below) that is held as inventory or primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business. We intend to conduct our operations so that no asset that we own (or are treated as owning) will be treated as, or as having been, held as inventory or for sale to customers, and that a sale of any such asset will not be treated as having been in the ordinary course of our business. Whether property is held as inventory or “primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business” depends on the particular facts and circumstances. No assurance can be given that any property that we sell will not be treated as inventory or property held for sale to customers, or that we can comply with certain safe-harbor provisions of the IRC that would prevent such treatment. The 100% tax does not apply to gains from the sale of property that is held through a TRS or other taxable corporation, although such income will be subject to tax in the hands of the corporation at regular corporate rates. We intend to structure our activities to avoid prohibited transaction characterization.

Like-Kind Exchanges

We may dispose of properties in transactions intended to qualify as like-kind exchanges under the IRC. Such like-kind exchanges are intended to result in the deferral of gain for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The failure of any such transaction to qualify as a like-kind exchange could require us to pay federal income tax, possibly including the 100% prohibited transaction tax, depending on the facts and circumstances surrounding the particular transaction.

Derivatives and Hedging Transactions

We may enter into hedging transactions, including with respect to foreign currency exchange rate and interest rate exposure on one or more of our assets or liabilities. Any such hedging transactions could take a variety of forms, including the use of derivative instruments such as swap contracts, cap or floor contracts, futures or forward contracts, and options. Income from a hedging transaction (including gain from the sale, disposition, or termination of a position in such a transaction) generally will not constitute gross income for purposes of the 75% and 95% gross income tests if we properly identify the transaction as specified in applicable Treasury regulations and we enter into such transaction (i) in the normal course of our business primarily to manage risk of interest rate changes or currency fluctuations with respect to borrowings made or to be made, or ordinary obligations incurred or to be incurred, to acquire or carry real estate assets; (ii) primarily to manage risk of currency fluctuations with respect to any item of income or gain that would be qualifying income under the 75% or 95% income tests; or (iii) in connection with the extinguishment of indebtedness with respect to which we have entered into a qualified hedging position described in clause (i) or the disposition of property with respect to which we have entered into a qualified hedging position described in clause (ii), primarily to manage the risks of such hedging positions. To the extent that we enter into other types of hedging transactions, the income from those transactions is likely to be treated as nonqualifying income for purposes of both the 75% and 95% gross income tests. Moreover, to the extent that a position in a hedging transaction has positive value at any particular point in time, it may be treated as an asset that does not qualify for purposes of the REIT asset tests. We intend to structure any hedging transactions in a manner that does not jeopardize our qualification as a REIT. We may conduct some or all of our hedging activities (including hedging activities relating to currency risk) through a TRS or other corporate entity, the income from which may be subject to U.S. federal income tax, rather than by participating in the arrangements directly or through pass-through subsidiaries. No assurance can be given, however, that our hedging activities will not give rise to income or assets that do not qualify for purposes of the REIT tests, or that our hedging activities will not adversely affect our ability to satisfy the REIT qualification requirements.

Table of ContentsForeclosure Property

Foreclosure property is real property and any personal property incident to such real property (i) that we acquire as the result of having bid on the property at foreclosure, or having otherwise reduced the property to ownership or possession by agreement or process of law, after a default (or upon imminent default) on a lease of the property or a mortgage loan held by us and secured by the property, (ii) for which we acquired the related loan or lease at a time when default was not imminent or anticipated and (iii) with respect to which we made a proper election to treat the property as foreclosure property. We generally will be subject to tax at the maximum corporate rate (currently 21%) on any net income from foreclosure property, including any gain from the disposition of the foreclosure property, other than income that would otherwise be qualifying income for purposes of the 75% gross income test. Any gain from the sale of property for which a foreclosure property election has been made will not be subject to the 100% tax on gains from prohibited transactions described above, even if the property would otherwise constitute inventory or dealer property. We do not anticipate receiving any income from foreclosure property that does not qualify for purposes of the 75% gross income test.

Penalty Tax

Any redetermined rents, redetermined deductions, excess interest, or redetermined TRS service income that we or our TRSs generate will be subject to a 100% penalty tax. In general, redetermined rents are “rents from real property” that are overstated as a result of any services furnished to any of our tenants by a TRS, redetermined deductions and excess interest represent any amounts that are deducted by a TRS for amounts paid to us that are in excess of the amounts that would have been deducted based on arm’s length negotiations, and redetermined TRS service income is income of a TRS attributable to services provided to, or on behalf of, us (other than services furnished or rendered to a tenant of ours) to the extent such income is lower than the income the TRS would have earned based on arm’s length negotiations. Rents that we receive will not constitute redetermined rents if they qualify for certain safe-harbor provisions contained in the IRC.

From time to time, our TRS may provide services to our tenants. We intend to set the fees paid to our TRS for such services at arm’s length rates, although the fees paid may not satisfy the safe-harbor provisions described above. These determinations are inherently factual, and the IRS has broad discretion to assert that amounts paid between related parties should be reallocated to clearly reflect their respective incomes. If the IRS successfully made such an assertion, we would be required to pay a 100% penalty tax on the excess of an arm’s length fee for tenant services over the amount actually paid.

Failure to Qualify

If we fail to satisfy one or more requirements for REIT qualification other than the income or asset tests, we could avoid disqualification as a REIT if our failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect and we pay a penalty of $50,000 for each such failure. Relief provisions are also available for failures of the income tests and asset tests, as described above in “—Income Tests” and “—Asset Tests.”

If we fail to qualify for taxation as a REIT in any taxable year, and the relief provisions described above do not apply, we would be subject to tax, including any applicable alternative minimum tax, on our taxable income at regular corporate rates. We cannot deduct distributions to shareholders in any year in which we are not a REIT, nor would we be required to make distributions in such a year. In this situation, to the extent of current and accumulated earnings and profits, distributions to shareholders would be taxable as regular corporate dividends. Such dividends paid to U.S. shareholders that are individuals, trusts and estates may be taxable at the preferential income tax rates for qualified dividends. In addition, subject to the limitations of the IRC, corporate distributees may be eligible for the dividends received deduction. Unless we are entitled to relief under specific statutory provisions, we would also be disqualified from re-electing to be taxed as a REIT for the four taxable years following the year during which we lost our qualification. It is not possible to state whether, in all circumstances, we would be entitled to this statutory relief.

Taxable Mortgage Pools and Excess Inclusion Income

Certain investments in mortgage securitizations that we could make may give rise to “excess inclusion income” that would be allocated to our shareholders. A REIT is required to notify shareholders of the amount of excess inclusion income allocated to them. A shareholder’s share of excess inclusion income:

- cannot be offset by any net operating losses otherwise available to the shareholder;
- is subject to tax as unrelated business taxable income in the hands of most types of shareholders that are otherwise generally exempt from U.S. federal income tax; and
- results in the application of U.S. federal income tax withholding at the maximum rate, without reduction for any otherwise applicable income tax treaty or other exemption, to the extent allocable to most types of non-U.S. holders.

Under IRS guidance, to the extent that excess inclusion income is allocated to a tax-exempt shareholder of a REIT that is not subject to unrelated business income tax (such as a government entity or charitable remainder trust), the REIT may be subject to tax on this income at the highest applicable corporate tax rate. In that case, the REIT could reduce distributions to such shareholders by the amount of such tax paid by the REIT attributable to such shareholder’s ownership. The manner in which excess inclusion income is calculated, or would be allocated to shareholders, including allocations among different classes of shares, is not clear under current law. Tax-exempt investors, foreign investors and taxpayers with net operating losses should carefully consider the tax consequences described above, and are urged to consult their tax advisors.

Taxation of Shareholders

Taxation of Taxable U.S. Shareholders

The following is a summary of certain U.S. federal income tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of our common shares applicable to taxable U.S. shareholders following the commencement of the Deregistration Year. A “U.S. shareholder” is a beneficial owner of our common shares that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

- an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States;
- a corporation (or entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States, or of any state thereof, or the District of Columbia;
- an estate, the income of which is includable in gross income for U.S. federal income tax purposes regardless of its source; or
- a trust if (a) a U.S. court is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of such trust and one or more U.S. fiduciaries have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (b) that trust has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury regulations to be treated as a domestic trust for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

If any entity or arrangement that is treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes holds our common shares, the tax treatment of a partner in the partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. An investor that is a partnership and the partners in such partnership should consult their tax advisors about the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of our common shares.

Distributions. So long as we qualify as a REIT, the distributions that we make to our taxable U.S. shareholders out of current or accumulated earnings and profits that we do not designate as capital gain dividends will generally be taken into account by such shareholders as ordinary income and will not be eligible for the dividends received deduction for corporations. With limited exceptions, our dividends are not eligible for taxation at the preferential income tax rates for qualified dividends received by most U.S. shareholders that are individuals, trusts and estates from taxable C corporations. Such shareholders, however, are taxed at the preferential rates on dividends designated by and received from REITs to the extent that the dividends are attributable to:

- income retained by the REIT in the prior taxable year on which the REIT was subject to corporate level income tax (less the amount of tax);
- dividends received by the REIT from TRSs or other taxable C corporations;
- dividends received by the REIT from other REITs to the extent designated by such other REITs as qualified dividends, or
- income in the prior taxable year from sales of “built-in gain” property acquired by the REIT from C corporations in carryover basis transactions (less the amount of corporate tax on such income).

In addition, for taxable years that begin before January 1, 2026, U.S. shareholders that are individuals, trusts or estates are generally entitled to a deduction equal to 20% of the aggregate amount of ordinary income dividends received from a REIT (not including capital gain dividends or dividends eligible for the preferential rates applicable to qualified dividends as described above), subject to certain limitations. Under final regulations recently issued by the Treasury, in order to qualify for this deduction with respect to a dividend on our common shares, a shareholder must hold such shares for more than 45 days during the 91-day period beginning on the date which is 45 days before the date on which such shares become ex-dividend with respect to such dividend (taking into account certain special holding period rules that may, among other consequences, reduce a shareholder’s holding period during any period in which the shareholder has diminished its risk of loss with respect to the shares). Shareholders are urged to consult their tax advisors as to their ability to claim this deduction.

Distributions that we designate as capital gain dividends will generally be taxed to our U.S. shareholders as long-term capital gains, to the extent that such distributions do not exceed our actual net capital gain for the taxable year, without regard to the period for which the shareholder that receives such distribution has held its common shares. We may elect to retain and pay taxes on some or all of our net long-term capital gains, in which case we may elect to treat our U.S. shareholders as having received, solely for tax purposes, our undistributed capital gains, and the shareholders as receiving a corresponding credit for taxes that we paid on such undistributed capital gains. See “Taxation of the Fund—Annual Distribution Requirements.” Corporate shareholders may be required to treat up to 20% of some capital gain dividends as ordinary income. Long-term capital gains are generally taxable at reduced maximum U.S. federal rates in the case of U.S. shareholders that are individuals, trusts or estates, and ordinary income rates in the case of U.S. shareholders that are corporations. Capital gains attributable to the sale of depreciable real property held for more than 12 months are subject to a 25% maximum U.S. federal income tax rate for taxpayers who are taxed as individuals, to the extent of previously claimed depreciation deductions.

Distributions in excess of our current and accumulated earnings and profits will generally represent a return of capital and will not be taxable to a shareholder to the extent that the amount of such distributions does not exceed the adjusted basis of the shareholder’s shares in respect of which the distributions were made. Rather, the distribution will reduce the adjusted basis of the shareholder’s shares. To the extent that such distributions exceed the adjusted basis of a shareholder’s shares, the shareholder generally must include such distributions in income as long-term capital gain if the shares have been held for more than one year, or short-term capital gain if the shares have been held for one year or less. In addition, any dividend that we declare in October, November or December of any year and that is payable to a shareholder of record on a specified date in any such month will be treated as both paid by us and received by the shareholder on December 31 of such year, provided that we actually pay the dividend before the end of January of the following calendar year.

To the extent that we have available net operating losses and capital losses carried forward from prior tax years, such losses may, subject to limitations, reduce the amount of distributions that we must make in order to comply with the REIT distribution requirements. See “Taxation of the Fund—Annual Distribution

Requirements.” Such losses, however, are not passed through to shareholders and do not offset income of shareholders from other sources, nor would such losses affect the character of any distributions that we make, which are generally subject to tax in the hands of shareholders to the extent that we have current or accumulated earnings and profits.

Dispositions of Our Common Shares. If a U.S. shareholder sells or disposes of our common shares, the shareholder will generally recognize gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes in an amount equal to the difference between the amount of cash and the fair market value of any property received on the sale or other disposition and the shareholder’s adjusted tax basis in the common shares. In general, capital gains recognized by individuals, trusts and estates upon the sale or disposition of our common shares will be subject to a reduced maximum U.S. federal income tax rate if the common shares are held for more than one year, and will be taxed at ordinary income rates if the common shares are held for one year or less. Gains recognized by shareholders that are corporations are subject to U.S. federal income tax at ordinary income rates, whether or not such gains are classified as long-term capital gains. Capital losses recognized by a shareholder upon the disposition of our common shares that was held for more than one year at the time of disposition will be considered long-term capital losses, and are generally available only to offset capital gain income of the shareholder but not ordinary income (except in the case of individuals, who may also offset up to $3,000 of ordinary income each year). In addition, any loss upon a sale or exchange of our common shares by a shareholder who has held the shares for six months or less, after applying holding period rules, will be treated as a long-term capital loss to the extent of actual or deemed distributions that we make that are required to be treated by the shareholder as long-term capital gain.

If an investor recognizes a loss upon a subsequent disposition of our common shares or other securities in an amount that exceeds a prescribed threshold, it is possible that the provisions of Treasury regulations involving “reportable transactions” could apply, with a resulting requirement to separately disclose the loss-generating transaction to the IRS. These regulations, though directed towards “tax shelters,” are broadly written and apply to transactions that would not typically be considered tax shelters. The IRC imposes significant penalties for failure to comply with these requirements. You should consult your tax advisor concerning any possible disclosure obligation with respect to the receipt or disposition of our common shares or securities or transactions that we might undertake directly or indirectly. Moreover, you should be aware that we and other participants in the transactions in which we are involved (including their advisors) might be subject to disclosure or other requirements pursuant to these regulations.

3.8% Medicare Tax on Investment Income. Certain U.S. shareholders who are individuals, estates or trusts and whose income exceeds certain thresholds are required to pay a 3.8% Medicare tax on dividends and certain other investment income, including capital gains from the sale or other disposition of our common shares.

Taxation of Non-U.S. Shareholders

The following is a summary of certain U.S. federal income and estate tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of our common shares applicable to non-U.S. shareholders following the commencement of the Deregistration Year. A “non-U.S. shareholder” is a beneficial owner of our common shares other than a partnership or U.S. shareholder.

Ordinary Dividends. The portion of dividends received by non-U.S. shareholders that (i) is payable out of our earnings and profits, (ii) is not attributable to capital gains that we recognize and (iii) is not effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business of the non-U.S. shareholder, will be subject to U.S. withholding tax at the rate of 30%, unless reduced or eliminated by treaty.

In general, non-U.S. shareholders will not be considered to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business solely as a result of their ownership of our common shares. In cases where the dividend income from a non-U.S. shareholder’s investment in our common shares is, or is treated as, effectively connected with the non-U.S.

shareholder's conduct of a U.S. trade or business, the non-U.S. shareholder generally will be subject to U.S. federal income tax at graduated rates, in the same manner as U.S. shareholders are taxed with respect to such dividends. Such effectively connected income must generally be reported on a U.S. income tax return filed by or on behalf of the non-U.S. shareholder. The income may also be subject to a branch profits tax at the rate of 30% (unless reduced or eliminated by treaty) in the case of a non-U.S. shareholder that is a corporation.

Non-Dividend Distributions. Unless our common shares constitute a U.S. real property interest ("USRPI"), distributions that we make which are not dividends out of our earnings and profits will generally not be subject to U.S. income tax (except distributions that exceed both our earnings and profits and the shareholder's tax basis in our shares would generally be subject to the rules under "—Dispositions of Common Shares"). If we cannot determine at the time a distribution is made whether or not the distribution will exceed current and accumulated earnings and profits, the distribution will be subject to withholding at the rate applicable to dividends. The non-U.S. shareholder may seek a refund from the IRS of any amounts withheld if it is subsequently determined that the distribution was, in fact, in excess of our current and accumulated earnings and profits. If our common shares constitute a USRPI, as described below, distributions that we make in excess of the sum of (i) the shareholder's proportionate share of our earnings and profits, plus (ii) the shareholder's basis in its common shares, will be taxed under FIRPTA at the rate of tax, including any applicable capital gains rates, that would apply to a U.S. shareholder of the same type (e.g., an individual or a corporation, as the case may be), and the collection of the tax may be enforced by a withholding at a rate of 15% of the amount by which the distribution exceeds the shareholder's share of our earnings and profits.

Capital Gain Dividends. Under FIRPTA, a distribution that we make to a non-U.S. shareholder, to the extent attributable to gains from dispositions of USRPIs that we held directly or through pass-through subsidiaries, or USRPI gains, will, except as described below, be considered effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business of the non-U.S. shareholder and will be subject to U.S. income tax at the rates applicable to U.S. individuals or corporations, without regard to whether we designate the distribution as a capital gain dividend. See above under "—Taxation of Non-U.S. Shareholders—Ordinary Dividends," for a discussion of the consequences of income that is effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business. In addition, we will be required to withhold tax equal to the highest corporate tax rate applied to the amount treated as attributable to our USRPIs. Distributions subject to FIRPTA may also be subject to a branch profits tax at the rate of 30% (unless reduced or eliminated by treaty) in the hands of a non-U.S. shareholder that is a corporation. A distribution is not attributable to USRPI gain if we held an interest in the underlying asset solely as a creditor. Capital gain dividends received by a non-U.S. shareholder that are attributable to dispositions of our assets other than USRPIs are not subject to U.S. federal income or withholding tax, unless (i) the gain is effectively connected with the non-U.S. shareholder's U.S. trade or business, in which case the non-U.S. shareholder would be subject to the same treatment as U.S. shareholders with respect to such gain, except that a non-U.S. shareholder that is a corporation may also be subject to a branch profits tax at the rate of 30% (unless reduced or eliminated by treaty), or (ii) the non-U.S. shareholder is a nonresident alien individual who was present in the United States for 183 days or more during the taxable year and certain other requirements are met, in which case the non-U.S. shareholder will incur a 30% tax on his capital gains. A significant portion of our assets are USRPIs.

A capital gain dividend that would otherwise have been treated as a USRPI gain will not be so treated or be subject to FIRPTA, and generally will not be treated as income that is effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business, and instead will be treated in the same manner as an ordinary dividend (see "—Taxation of Non-U.S. Shareholders—Ordinary Dividends"), if (i) the capital gain dividend is received with respect to a class of shares that is regularly traded on an established securities market located in the United States and (ii) the recipient non-U.S. shareholder does not own more than 10% of that class of shares at any time during the year ending on the date on which the capital gain dividend is received. Our common shares are, and we anticipate that they will continue to be, "regularly traded" on an established securities exchange.

Dispositions of our common shares. Unless our common shares constitute a USRPI, a sale of our common shares by a non-U.S. shareholder generally will not be subject to U.S. taxation. Subject to certain exceptions discussed below, our common shares will be treated as a USRPI if, at any time during a prescribed testing period, 50% or more of our assets consist of interests in real property located within the United States, excluding, for this purpose, interests in real property solely in a capacity as a creditor. [It is possible that 50% or more of our assets will consist of USRPIs.]<sup>1</sup>

Even if the foregoing 50% test is met, however, our common shares will not constitute a USRPI if we are a “domestically controlled qualified investment entity.” A domestically controlled qualified investment entity includes a REIT, less than 50% of the value of which is held, directly or indirectly, by non-U.S. shareholders at all times during a specified testing period (after applying certain presumptions regarding the ownership of our common shares, as described in Section 897(h)(4)(E) of the IRC). [We believe that we are and will remain a domestically controlled qualified investment entity, and that a sale of our common shares should not be subject to taxation under FIRPTA.]<sup>2</sup> However, no assurance can be given that we are or will remain a domestically controlled qualified investment entity.

In the event that we are not a domestically controlled qualified investment entity, but our common shares are “regularly traded,” as defined by applicable Treasury regulations, on an established securities market, a non-U.S. shareholder’s sale of our common shares nonetheless also would not be subject to tax under FIRPTA as a sale of a USRPI, provided that the selling non-U.S. shareholder held 10% or less of our outstanding common shares any time during a prescribed testing period. Our common shares are, and we expect that they will continue to be, regularly traded on an established securities market.

If gain on the sale of our common shares were subject to taxation under FIRPTA, the non-U.S. shareholder would be required to file a U.S. federal income tax return and would be subject to the same treatment as a U.S. shareholder with respect to such gain, subject to applicable alternative minimum tax and a special alternative minimum tax in the case of non-resident alien individuals. Moreover, in order to enforce the collection of the tax, the purchaser of the common shares could be required to withhold 15% of the purchase price and remit such amount to the IRS.

Gain from the sale of our common shares that would not otherwise be subject to FIRPTA will nonetheless be taxable in the United States to a non-U.S. shareholder in two cases: (i) if the non-U.S. shareholder’s investment in our common shares is effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business conducted by such non-U.S. shareholder, the non-U.S. shareholder will be subject to the same treatment as a U.S. shareholder with respect to such gain, except that a non-U.S. shareholder that is a corporation may also be subject to a branch profits tax at a rate of 30% (unless reduced or eliminated by treaty), or (ii) if the non-U.S. shareholder is a nonresident alien individual who was present in the United States for 183 days or more during the taxable year and certain other requirements are met, the nonresident alien individual will be subject to a 30% tax on the individual’s capital gain. In addition, even if we are a domestically controlled qualified investment entity, upon disposition of our common shares, a non-U.S. shareholder may be treated as having gain from the sale or exchange of a USRPI if the non-U.S. shareholder (a) disposes of our common shares within a 30-day period preceding the ex-dividend date of a distribution, any portion of which, but for the disposition, would have been treated as gain from the sale or exchange of a USRPI and (b) acquires, or enters into a contract or option to acquire, other common shares within 30 days after such ex-dividend date.

Special FIRPTA Rules. Certain provisions under FIRPTA create certain exemptions from FIRPTA and otherwise modify the application of the foregoing FIRPTA rules for particular types of non-U.S. investors, including “qualified foreign pension funds” and their wholly owned foreign subsidiaries and certain widely held, publicly traded “qualified collective investment vehicles.” Non-U.S. shareholders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the applicability of these or any other special FIRPTA rules to their particular investment in our common shares.

Estate Tax. If our common shares are owned or treated as owned by an individual who is not a citizen or resident (as specially defined for U.S. federal estate tax purposes) of the United States at the time of such individual's death, the common shares will be includable in the individual's gross estate for U.S. federal estate tax purposes, unless an applicable estate tax treaty provides otherwise, and may therefore be subject to U.S. federal estate tax.

Non-U.S. shareholders are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal, state, local and foreign income and other tax consequences of owning and disposing of our common shares.

Taxation of Tax-Exempt Shareholders

Tax-exempt entities, including qualified employee pension and profit sharing trusts and individual retirement accounts, generally are exempt from U.S. federal income taxation. However, they may be subject to taxation on their unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI"). While some investments in real estate may generate UBTI, the IRS has ruled that dividend distributions from a REIT to a tax-exempt entity do not constitute UBTI. Based on that ruling, and provided that (i) a tax-exempt shareholder has not held our common shares as "debt financed property" within the meaning of the IRC (i.e., where the acquisition or holding of the property is financed through a borrowing by the tax-exempt shareholder) and (ii) our common shares are not otherwise used in an unrelated trade or business, distributions that we make and income from the sale of our common shares generally should not give rise to UBTI to a tax-exempt shareholder.

Tax-exempt shareholders that are social clubs, voluntary employee benefit associations, supplemental unemployment benefit trusts, and qualified group legal services plans exempt from U.S. federal income taxation under Sections 501(c)(7), (c)(9), (c)(17) and (c)(20) of the IRC are subject to different UBTI rules, which generally require such shareholders to characterize distributions that we make as UBTI.

In certain circumstances, a pension trust that owns more than 10% of our common shares could be required to treat a percentage of any dividends received from us as UBTI if we are a "pension-held REIT." We will not be a pension-held REIT unless (i) we are required to "look through" one or more of our pension trust shareholders in order to satisfy the REIT "closely held" test and (ii) either (a) one pension trust owns more than 25% of the value of our common shares or (b) one or more pension trusts, each individually holding more than 10% of the value of our common shares, collectively own more than 50% of the value of our common shares. Certain restrictions on ownership and transfer of our common shares generally should prevent a tax-exempt entity from owning more than 10% of the value of our common shares and generally should prevent us from becoming a pension-held REIT.

Tax-exempt shareholders are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal, state, local and foreign income and other tax consequences of owning and disposing of our common shares.

Other Tax Considerations

Legislative or Other Actions Affecting REITs

The present U.S. federal income tax treatment of REITs may be modified, possibly with retroactive effect, by legislative, judicial or administrative action at any time. The REIT rules are constantly under review by persons involved in the legislative process and by the IRS and the Treasury, which may result in statutory changes as well as revisions to regulations and interpretations. Changes to the U.S. federal tax laws and interpretations thereof could adversely affect an investment in our common shares.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act

Sections 1471 to 1474 of the IRC and existing guidance issued thereunder require withholding at a rate of 30% on dividends in respect of our common shares held by or through certain foreign financial institutions (including investment funds), unless such institution enters into an agreement with the Treasury to report, on an annual basis, information with respect to shares in the institution held by certain U.S. persons and by certain non-U.S. entities that are wholly or partially owned by U.S. persons and to withhold on certain payments. Accordingly, the entity through which our common shares are held will affect the determination of whether such withholding is required. Similarly, dividends in respect of our common shares held by an investor that is a non-financial non-U.S. entity which does not qualify under certain exemptions will be subject to withholding at a rate of 30%, unless such entity either (i) certifies that such entity does not have any “substantial United States owners” or (ii) provides certain information regarding the entity’s “substantial United States owners,” which we or the applicable withholding agent will in turn provide to the Secretary of the Treasury. An intergovernmental agreement between the United States and an applicable foreign country, or future Treasury regulations or other guidance, may modify these requirements. We will not pay any additional amounts to shareholders in respect of any amounts withheld. Non-U.S. shareholders are encouraged to consult their tax advisors regarding the possible implications of these rules on their investment in our common shares.

Table of Contents

State, Local and Foreign Taxes

We and our subsidiaries and shareholders may be subject to state, local or foreign taxation in various jurisdictions including those in which we or they transact business, own property or reside. Our state, local or foreign tax treatment and that of our shareholders may not conform to the U.S. federal income tax treatment discussed above. Any foreign taxes that we incur do not pass through to shareholders as a credit against their U.S. federal income tax liability. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the application and effect of state, local and foreign income and other tax laws on an investment in our common shares.

NEXPOINT STRATEGIC OPPORTUNITIES FUND
AGREEMENT AND DECLARATION OF TRUST

AGREEMENT AND DECLARATION OF TRUST initially made as of March 10, 2006, by the Trustees hereunder, and by the holders of shares of beneficial interest issued hereunder as hereinafter provided, and amended and/or restated from time to time, most recently as of [ ], 2020.

WHEREAS, this Trust has been formed to carry on business as set forth more particularly hereinafter;

WHEREAS, this Trust is authorized to issue an unlimited number of its shares of beneficial interest all in accordance with the provisions hereinafter set forth;

WHEREAS, the Trustees have agreed to manage all property coming into their hands as Trustees of a Delaware statutory trust in accordance with the provisions hereinafter set forth; and

WHEREAS, the parties hereto intend that the Trust created by this Declaration and the Certificate of Trust filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on March 10, 2006 shall constitute a statutory trust under the Delaware Statutory Trust Act and that this Declaration shall constitute the governing instrument of such statutory trust.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Trustees hereby declare that they will hold all cash, securities, and other assets which they may from time to time acquire in any manner as Trustees hereunder IN TRUST to manage and dispose of the same upon the following terms and conditions for the benefit of the holders from time to time of shares of beneficial interest in this Trust as hereinafter set forth.

ARTICLE I

THE TRUST

1.1 Name. This Trust shall be known as the “NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund” and the Trustees shall conduct the business of the Trust under that name or any other name or names as they may from time to time determine.

1.2 Definitions. As used in this Declaration, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

“1940 Act” shall mean the Investment Company Act of 1940 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and exemptions granted therefrom, as amended from time to time.

“Affiliated Person” shall, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, have the meanings given to it in the 1940 Act.

“Assignment” shall, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, have the meanings given to it in the 1940 Act.

“By-Laws” shall mean the By-Laws of the Trust as amended from time to time by the Trustees, which By-Laws are expressly herein incorporated by reference as part of the “governing instrument” within the meaning of the DSTA.

D-1

“Code” shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

“Commission” shall mean the Securities and Exchange Commission.

“Declaration” shall mean this Agreement and Declaration of Trust, as amended, supplemented or amended and restated from time to time.

“Delaware Statutory Trust Act” or “DSTA” shall mean the provisions of the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, 12 Del. C. §3801, et seq., as such Act may be amended from time to time.

“Fundamental Policies” shall, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, mean the investment policies and restrictions as set forth from time to time in any Registration Statement of the Trust filed with the Commission and designated as fundamental policies therein, as they may be amended from time to time in accordance with the requirements of the 1940 Act.

“Interested Person” shall, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, have the meanings given to it in the 1940 Act.

“Majority Shareholder Vote” shall, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, mean a vote of “a majority of the outstanding voting securities” (as such term is defined in the 1940 Act) of the Trust with each class and series of Shares voting together as a single class, except to the extent otherwise required by the 1940 Act or this Declaration with respect to any one or more classes or series of Shares, in which case the applicable proportion of such classes or series of Shares voting as a separate class or series, as case may be, also will be required.

“Person” shall mean and include individuals, corporations, partnerships, trusts, limited liability companies, associations, joint ventures and other entities, whether or not legal entities, and governments and agencies and political subdivisions thereof.

“Principal Underwriter” shall, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, have the meanings given to it in the 1940 Act.

“Prospectus” shall mean the Prospectus of the Trust, if any, as in effect from time to time under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

“Shareholders” shall mean as of any particular time the holders of record of outstanding Shares of the Trust, at such time.

“Shares” shall mean the transferable units of beneficial interest into which the beneficial interest in the Trust shall be divided from time to time and includes fractions of Shares as well as whole Shares. In addition, Shares also means any preferred shares or preferred units of beneficial interest which may be issued from time to time, as described herein. All references to Shares shall be deemed to be Shares of any or all series or classes as the context may require.

“Trust” shall mean the trust established by this Declaration, as amended from time to time, inclusive of each such amendment.

“Trust Property” shall mean as of any particular time any and all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, which at such time is owned or held by or for the account of the Trust or the Trustees in such capacity.

“Trustees” shall mean the signatories to this Declaration, so long as they shall continue in office in accordance with the terms hereof, and all other persons who at the time in question have been duly elected or appointed and have qualified as trustees in accordance with the provisions hereof and are then in office.

ARTICLE II

TRUSTEES

2.1 Number and Qualification. The number of Trustees shall be determined by a written instrument signed by a majority of the Trustees then in office. Except as otherwise provided from time to time by a majority of the Trustees, the number of Trustees shall be no less than two or more than eleven. No reduction in the number of Trustees shall have the effect of removing any Trustee from office prior to the expiration of his term. An individual nominated as a Trustee shall be at least 21 years of age and not older than 80 years of age at the time of nomination, shall not be under legal disability and shall have such other qualifications, satisfy such other requirements and be subject to such other limitations as may be determined from time to time by a majority of the Trustees. Trustees need not own Shares and may succeed themselves in office.

2.2 Term and Election. The Board of Trustees shall be divided into three classes, designated Class I, Class II and Class III. Each class shall consist, as nearly as may be possible, of one-third of the total number of trustees constituting the entire Board of Trustees. Within the limits above specified, the number of the Trustees in each class shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Trustees. As of the date hereof, the term of office of the Class I Trustee(s) shall expire at the annual meeting of the Trust held in 2022, the term of office of the Class II Trustee(s) shall expire at the annual meeting of the Trust held in 2020 and the term of office of the Class III Trustee(s) shall expire at the annual meeting of the Trust held in 2021. Upon expiration of the term of office of each class as set forth above, the number of Trustees in such class, as determined by the Board of Trustees, shall be elected for a term expiring on the date of the third annual meeting of Shareholders or special meeting in lieu thereof following such expiration to succeed the Trustees whose terms of office expire. The Trustees shall be elected at an annual meeting of the Shareholders or special meeting in lieu thereof called for that purpose by a majority of the Trustees then in office or, if no such Trustee then exists, by the President, and each Trustee elected shall hold office until his or her successor shall have been elected and shall have qualified; provided that the term of office of a Trustee shall terminate and a vacancy shall occur in the event of the death, resignation, removal, bankruptcy, adjudicated incompetence or other incapacity to perform the duties of the office of a Trustee.

2.3 Resignation and Removal. Any of the Trustees may resign their trust (without need for prior or subsequent accounting) by an instrument in writing signed by such Trustee and delivered or mailed to the Trustees or the Chairman, if any, the President or the Secretary and such resignation shall be effective upon such delivery, or at a later date according to the terms of the instrument. Any of the Trustees may be removed (provided the aggregate number of Trustees after such removal shall not be less than the minimum number required by Section 2.1 hereof), with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining Trustees. Upon the resignation or removal of a Trustee, each such resigning or removed Trustee shall execute and deliver such documents as the remaining Trustees shall require for the purpose of conveying to the Trust or the remaining Trustees any Trust Property held in the name of such resigning or removed Trustee. Upon the incapacity or death of any Trustee, such Trustee's legal representative shall execute and deliver on such Trustee's behalf such documents as the remaining Trustees shall require as provided in the preceding sentence.

2.4 Vacancies. Whenever a vacancy in the Board of Trustees shall occur, the remaining Trustees may fill such vacancy by appointing an individual having the qualifications applicable to Trustees by a written instrument signed by a majority of the Trustees then in office or may leave such vacancy unfilled or may reduce the number of Trustees; provided the aggregate number of Trustees after such reduction shall not be less than the minimum number required by Section 2.1 hereof; provided, further, that if the Shareholders of any class or series of Shares are entitled separately to elect one or more Trustees, a majority of the remaining Trustees or the sole remaining Trustee elected by that class or series may fill any vacancy among the number of Trustees elected by that class or series. Any vacancy created by an increase in Trustees may be filled by the appointment of an individual having the qualifications applicable to Trustees made by a written instrument signed by a majority of the Trustees then in office. No vacancy shall operate to annul this Declaration or to revoke any existing agency created pursuant to the terms of this Declaration. Whenever a vacancy in the number of Trustees shall occur, until such vacancy is filled as provided herein, the Trustees in office, regardless of their number, shall have all the powers granted to the Trustees and shall discharge all the duties imposed upon the Trustees by this Declaration.

2.5 Meetings. Meetings of the Trustees shall be held from time to time upon the call of the Chairman, if any, or the President or any two Trustees. Regular meetings of the Trustees may be held without call or notice at a time and place fixed by the By-Laws or by resolution of the Trustees. Notice of any other meeting shall be given by the Secretary and shall be delivered to the Trustees orally as soon as practicable before the meeting, but may be waived in writing by any Trustee either before or after such meeting. The attendance of a Trustee at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting except where a Trustee attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting has not been properly called or convened. Any time there is more than one Trustee, a quorum for all meetings of the Trustees shall be determined from time to time by a majority of the Trustees then in office. Unless provided otherwise in this Declaration or the By-Laws and, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, except as required under the 1940 Act, any action of the Trustees may be taken at a meeting by vote of a majority of the Trustees present (a quorum being present) or without a meeting by written consent of a majority of the Trustees.

Any committee of the Trustees, including an executive committee, if any, may act with or without a meeting. A quorum for all meetings of any such committee shall be such number as the applicable committee charter may provide. Unless provided otherwise in this Declaration, the By-Laws or the applicable committee charter, any action of any such committee may be taken at a meeting by vote of a majority of the members present (a quorum being present) or without a meeting by written consent of all of the members.

For so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, with respect to actions of the Trustees and any committee of the Trustees, Trustees who are Interested Persons in any action to be taken may be counted for quorum purposes under this Section and shall be entitled to vote to the extent not prohibited by the 1940 Act.

All or any one or more Trustees may participate in a meeting of the Trustees or any committee thereof by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other; participation in a meeting pursuant to any such communications system shall constitute presence in person at such meeting, subject, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, to the requirements of the 1940 Act with respect to attendance in person.

2.6 Trustee Action by Written Consent. Any action which may be taken by Trustees by vote may be taken without a meeting if that number of the Trustees, or members of a committee, as the case may be, required for approval of such action at a meeting of the Trustees or of such committee consent to the action in writing and the written consents are filed with the records of the meetings of Trustees. Such consent shall be treated for all purposes as a vote taken at a meeting of Trustees.

2.7 Officers. The Trustees shall elect a President, a Secretary and a Treasurer and may elect a Chairman who shall serve at the pleasure of the Trustees or until their successors are elected. The Trustees may elect or appoint or may authorize the Chairman, if any, or President to appoint such other officers or agents with such powers as the Trustees may deem to be advisable. A Chairman shall, and the President, Secretary and Treasurer may, but need not, be a Trustee.

ARTICLE III

POWERS AND DUTIES OF TRUSTEES

3.1 General. Trustees shall act in good faith in the manner they reasonably believe to be in the best interest of the Trust as a whole. The Trustees shall have exclusive and absolute control over the Trust Property and over the business of the Trust to the same extent as if the Trustees were the sole owners of the Trust Property and business in their own right, but with such powers of delegation as may be permitted by this Declaration. The Trustees may perform such acts as in their sole discretion are proper for conducting the business of the Trust. The enumeration of any specific power herein shall not be construed as limiting the aforesaid power. Such powers of the Trustees may be exercised without order of or resort to any court.

3.2 Investments. The Trustees shall have power, subject, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, to the Fundamental Policies in effect from time to time with respect to the Trust, to:

- (a) manage, conduct, operate and carry on any lawful business activity;
- (b) subscribe for, invest in, reinvest in, purchase or otherwise acquire, hold, pledge, sell, assign, transfer, exchange, distribute or otherwise deal in or dispose of any and all sorts of property, tangible or intangible, including but not limited to interests in real estate and securities of any type whatsoever, whether equity or non-equity, of any issuer, evidences of indebtedness of any person and any other rights, interests, instruments or property of any sort and to exercise any and all rights, powers and privileges of ownership or interest in respect of any and all such investments of every kind and description, including, without limitation, the right to consent and otherwise act with respect thereto, with power to designate one or more Persons to exercise any of said rights, powers and privileges in respect of any of said investments. The Trustees shall not be limited by any law limiting the investments which may be made by fiduciaries.

3.3 Legal Title. Legal title to all the Trust Property shall be vested in the Trustees as joint tenants except that the Trustees shall have power to cause legal title to any Trust Property to be held by or in the name of one or more of the Trustees, or in the name of the Trust, or in the name of any other Person as nominee, custodian or pledgee, on such terms as the Trustees may determine; provided that the interest of the Trust therein is appropriately protected.

The right, title and interest of the Trustees in the Trust Property shall vest automatically in each person who may hereafter become a Trustee upon his due election and qualification. Upon the ceasing of any person to be a Trustee for any reason, such person shall automatically cease to have any right, title or interest in any of the Trust Property, and the right, title and interest of such Trustee in the Trust Property shall vest automatically in the remaining Trustees. Such vesting and cessation of title shall be effective whether or not conveyancing documents have been executed and delivered.

3.4 Issuance and Repurchase of Shares. The Trustees shall have the power to issue, sell, repurchase, redeem, retire, cancel, acquire, hold, resell, reissue, dispose of, transfer, and otherwise deal in, Shares, including Shares in fractional denominations, and, subject to the more detailed provisions set forth in ARTICLE VIII and ARTICLE IX, to apply to any such repurchase, redemption, retirement, cancellation or acquisition of Shares any funds or property whether capital or surplus or otherwise, to the full extent now or hereafter permitted under the DSTA.

3.5 Borrow Money or Utilize Leverage. Subject to the Fundamental Policies in effect from time to time with respect to the Trust, the Trustees shall have the power to borrow money or otherwise obtain credit or utilize leverage to the maximum extent permitted by law or regulation as such may be needed from time to time and to secure the same by mortgaging, pledging or otherwise subjecting as security the assets of the Trust, including the lending of portfolio securities, and to endorse, guarantee, or undertake the performance of any obligation, contract or engagement of any other person, firm, association or corporation.

3.6 Delegation; Committees. The Trustees shall have the power, consistent with their continuing exclusive authority over the management of the Trust and the Trust Property, to delegate from time to time to such of their number or to officers, employees or agents of the Trust the doing of such things, including any matters set forth in this Declaration, and the execution of such instruments either in the name of the Trust or the names of the Trustees or otherwise as the Trustees may deem expedient. The Trustees may designate one or more committees which shall have all or such lesser portion of the authority of the entire Board of Trustees as the Trustees shall determine from time to time except, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, to the extent action by the entire Board of Trustees or particular Trustees is required by the 1940 Act.

3.7 Collection and Payment. The Trustees shall have power to collect all property due to the Trust; to pay all claims, including taxes, against the Trust Property or the Trust, the Trustees or any officer, employee or agent of the Trust; to prosecute, defend, compromise or abandon any claims relating to the Trust Property or the Trust, or the Trustees or any officer, employee or agent of the Trust; to foreclose any security interest securing any obligations, by virtue of which any property is owed to the Trust; and to enter into releases, agreements and other instruments. The Shareholders shall have no power to vote as to whether or not a court action, legal proceeding or claim should or should not be brought or maintained derivatively or as a class action on behalf of the Trust or the Shareholders.

3.8 Expenses. The Trustees shall have power to incur and pay out of the assets or income of the Trust any expenses which in the opinion of the Trustees are necessary or incidental to carry out any of the purposes of this Declaration, and the business of the Trust, and to pay reasonable compensation from the funds of the Trust to themselves as Trustees. The Trustees shall fix the compensation of all officers, employees and Trustees. The Trustees may pay themselves such compensation for special services, including legal, underwriting, syndicating and brokerage services, as they in good faith may deem reasonable and reimbursement for expenses reasonably incurred by themselves on behalf of the Trust. The Trustees shall have the power, as frequently as they may determine, to cause each Shareholder to pay directly, in advance or arrears, for charges of distribution, of the custodian or transfer, Shareholder servicing or similar agent, a pro rata amount as defined from time to time by the Trustees, by setting off such charges due from such Shareholder from declared but unpaid dividends or distributions owed such Shareholder and/or by reducing the number of shares in the account of such Shareholder by that number of full and/or fractional Shares which represents the outstanding amount of such charges due from such Shareholder.

3.9 By-Laws. The Trustees shall have the exclusive authority to adopt and from time to time amend or repeal By-Laws for the conduct of the business of the Trust.

3.10 Miscellaneous Powers. The Trustees shall have the power to: (a) employ or contract with such Persons as the Trustees may deem desirable for the transaction of the business of the Trust; (b) enter into joint ventures, partnerships and any other combinations or associations; (c) purchase, and pay for out of Trust Property, insurance policies insuring the Shareholders, Trustees, officers, employees, agents, investment advisors, distributors, selected dealers or independent contractors of the Trust against all claims arising by reason of holding any such position or by reason of any action taken or omitted by any such Person in such capacity, whether or not constituting negligence, or whether or not the Trust would have the power to indemnify such Person against such liability; (d) establish pension, profit-sharing, share purchase, and other retirement, incentive and benefit plans for any Trustees, officers, employees and agents of the Trust; (e) make donations, irrespective of benefit to the Trust, for charitable, religious, educational, scientific, civic or similar purposes; (f) to the full extent permitted by law, indemnify any Person with whom the Trust has dealings, including, without limitation, any advisor, administrator, manager, transfer agent, custodian, distributor or selected dealer, or any other person as the Trustees may see fit to such extent as the Trustees shall determine; (g) guarantee indebtedness or contractual obligations of others; (h) determine and change the fiscal year of the Trust and the method in which its accounts shall be kept; (i) notwithstanding the Fundamental Policies of the Trust, convert the Trust to a master-feeder structure; provided, however, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, the Trust obtains the approval of shareholders holding at least a majority of the Trust's Shares present at a meeting of Shareholders at which a quorum is present; and (j) adopt a seal for the Trust but the absence of such seal shall not impair the validity of any instrument executed on behalf of the Trust.

3.11 Further Powers. The Trustees shall have the power to conduct the business of the Trust and carry on its operations in any and all of its branches and maintain offices both within and without the State of Delaware, in any and all states of the United States of America, in the District of Columbia, in any foreign country and in any and all commonwealths, municipalities, territories, dependencies, colonies, possessions, agencies or instrumentalities of the United States of America and of foreign governments, and to do all such other things and execute all such instruments as they deem necessary, proper or desirable in order to promote the interests of the Trust although such things are not herein specifically mentioned. Any determination as to what is in the interests of the Trust made by the Trustees in good faith shall be conclusive. In construing the provisions of this Declaration, the presumption shall be in favor of a grant of power to the Trustees. The Trustees will not be required to obtain any court order to deal with the Trust Property.

ARTICLE IV

ADVISORY, MANAGEMENT AND DISTRIBUTION ARRANGEMENTS

4.1 Advisory and Management Arrangements. Subject, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, to the requirements of the 1940 Act, the Trustees may in their discretion from time to time enter into advisory, administration or management contracts (including, in each case, one or more sub-advisory, sub-administration or sub-management contracts) whereby the other party to any such contract shall undertake to furnish such advisory, administrative and management services with respect to the Trust as the Trustees shall from time to time consider desirable and all upon such terms and conditions as the Trustees may in their discretion determine. Notwithstanding any provisions of this Declaration, the Trustees may authorize any advisor, administrator or manager (subject to such general or specific instructions as the Trustees may from time to time adopt) to exercise any of the powers of the Trustees, including to effect investment transactions with respect to the assets on behalf of the Trust to the full extent of the power of the Trustees to effect such transactions or may authorize any officer, employee or Trustee to effect such transactions pursuant to recommendations of any such advisor, administrator or manager (and all without further action by the Trustees). Any such investment transaction shall be deemed to have been authorized by all of the Trustees.

4.2 Distribution Arrangements. Subject, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, to the requirements of the 1940 Act, the Trustees may retain underwriters and/or placement agents to sell Shares and other securities of the Trust. The Trustees may in their discretion from time to time enter into one or more contracts, providing for the sale of securities of the Trust, whereby the Trust may either agree to sell such securities to the other party to the contract or appoint such other party its sales agent for such securities. In either case, the contract shall be on such terms and conditions as the Trustees may in their discretion determine not inconsistent with the provisions of this ARTICLE IV or the By-Laws; and such contract may also provide for the repurchase or sale of securities of the Trust by such other party as principal or as agent of the Trust and may provide that such other party may enter into selected dealer agreements with registered securities dealers and brokers and servicing and similar agreements with persons who are not registered securities dealers to further the purposes of the distribution or repurchase of the securities of the Trust.

4.3 Parties to Contract. Any contract of the character described in Sections 4.1 and 4.2 of this ARTICLE IV or in ARTICLE VII hereof or otherwise may be entered into with any Person, although one or more of the Trustees, officers or employees of the Trust may be an officer, director, trustee, shareholder, or member of such other party to the contract, and no such contract shall be invalidated or rendered voidable by reason of the existence of any such relationship, nor shall any Person holding such relationship be liable merely by reason of such relationship for any loss or expense to the Trust under or by reason of said contract or accountable for any profit realized directly or indirectly therefrom; provided that the contract when entered into was reasonable and fair and not in violation of this Declaration or the By-Laws. The same Person may be the other party to contracts entered into pursuant to Sections 4.1 and 4.2 above or ARTICLE VII hereof or otherwise, and any individual may be financially interested or otherwise affiliated with Persons who are parties to any or all of the contracts mentioned in this Section 4.3.

ARTICLE V

LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY AND INDEMNIFICATION

5.1 No Personal Liability of Shareholders, Trustees, etc. No Shareholder of the Trust shall be subject in such capacity to any personal liability whatsoever to any Person in connection with Trust Property or the acts, obligations or affairs of the Trust. Shareholders shall have the limitation of personal liability provided under the DSTA. No Trustee or officer of the Trust shall be subject in such capacity to any personal liability whatsoever to any Person, save only, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, liability to the Trust or its Shareholders arising from bad faith, willful misfeasance, gross negligence or reckless disregard for his duty to such Person; and, subject to the foregoing exception, all such Persons shall look solely to the Trust Property for satisfaction of claims of any nature arising in connection with the affairs of the Trust. If any Shareholder, Trustee or officer, as such, of the Trust, is made a party to any suit or proceeding to enforce any such liability, subject to the foregoing exception, he shall not, on account thereof, be held to any personal liability. Any repeal or modification of this Section 5.1 shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a Trustee or officer of the Trust existing at the time of such repeal or modification with respect to acts or omissions occurring prior to such repeal or modification.

5.2 Mandatory Indemnification. (a) Subject to any limitations or requirements contained in the By-Laws, the Trust hereby agrees to indemnify each person who at any time serves as a Trustee or officer of the Trust (each such person being an “indemnitee”) against any liabilities and expenses, including amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in compromise or as fines and penalties, and reasonable counsel fees reasonably incurred by such indemnitee in connection with the defense or disposition of any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil or criminal, before any court or administrative or investigative body in which he may be or may have been involved as a party or otherwise or with which he may be or may have been threatened, while acting in any capacity set forth in this ARTICLE V by reason of his having acted in any such capacity, except with respect to any matter as to which he shall not have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interest of the Trust or, in the case of any criminal proceeding, as to which he shall have had reasonable cause to believe that the conduct was unlawful; provided, however, that, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, no indemnitee shall be indemnified hereunder against any liability to any person or any expense of such indemnitee arising by reason of (i) willful misfeasance, (ii) bad faith, (iii) gross negligence, or (iv) reckless disregard of the duties involved in the conduct of his position (the conduct referred to in such clauses (i) through (iv) being sometimes referred to herein as “disabling conduct”). Notwithstanding the foregoing, with respect to any action, suit or other proceeding voluntarily prosecuted by any indemnitee as plaintiff, indemnification shall be mandatory only if the prosecution of such action, suit or other proceeding by such indemnitee (1) was authorized by a majority of the Trustees or (2) was instituted by the indemnitee to enforce his or her rights to indemnification hereunder in a case in which the indemnitee is found to be entitled to such indemnification. The rights to indemnification set forth in this Declaration shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a Trustee or officer of the Trust and shall inure to the benefit of his or her heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives. No amendment or restatement of this Declaration or repeal of any of its provisions shall limit or eliminate any of the benefits provided to any person who at any time is or was a Trustee or officer of the Trust or otherwise entitled to indemnification hereunder in respect of any act or omission that occurred prior to such amendment, restatement or repeal.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, no indemnification shall be made hereunder unless there has been a determination (i) by a final decision on the merits by a court or other body of competent jurisdiction before whom the issue of entitlement to indemnification hereunder was brought that such indemnitee is entitled to indemnification hereunder or, (ii) in the absence of such a decision, by (1) a majority vote of a quorum of those Trustees who are neither “interested persons” of the Trust (as defined in Section 2(a)(19) of the 1940 Act) nor parties to the proceeding (“Disinterested Non-Party Trustees”), that the indemnitee is entitled to indemnification hereunder, or (2) if such quorum is not obtainable or even if obtainable, if such majority so directs, independent legal counsel in a written opinion concludes that the indemnitee should be entitled to indemnification hereunder. All determinations to make advance payments in connection with the expense of defending any proceeding shall be authorized and made in accordance with the immediately succeeding paragraph (c) below.

(c) The Trust shall make advance payments in connection with the expenses of defending any action with respect to which indemnification might be sought hereunder if the Trust receives a written affirmation by the indemnitee of the indemnitee’s good faith belief that the standards of conduct necessary for indemnification have been met and a written undertaking to reimburse the Trust unless it is subsequently determined that the indemnitee is entitled to such indemnification and if a majority of the Trustees determine that the applicable standards of conduct necessary for indemnification appear to have been met. In addition, at least one of the following conditions must be met: (i) the indemnitee shall provide adequate security for his undertaking, (ii) the Trust shall be insured against losses arising by reason of any lawful advances, or (iii) a majority of a quorum of Trustees not party to the action (or, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, the Disinterested Non-Party Trustees), or if a majority vote of such quorum so direct, independent legal counsel in a written opinion, shall conclude, based on a review of readily available facts (as opposed to a full trial-type inquiry), that there is substantial reason to believe that the indemnitee ultimately will be found entitled to indemnification.

(d) The rights accruing to any indemnitee under these provisions shall not exclude any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under this Declaration, the By-Laws of the Trust, any statute, agreement, vote of Shareholders or Trustees (provided that, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, such vote includes the vote of a majority of the Trustees who are not “interested persons,” as defined in Section 2(a)(19) of the 1940 Act) or any other right to which he or she may be lawfully entitled.

(e) Subject to (1), for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, any limitations provided by the 1940 Act and (2) this Declaration, the Trust shall have the power and authority to indemnify and provide for the advance payment of expenses to employees, agents and other Persons providing services to the Trust or serving in any capacity at the request of the Trust to the full extent permitted by law and may indemnify or provide for the advance payment of expenses for such Persons; provided that such indemnification has been approved by a majority of the Trustees.

5.3 No Bond Required of Trustees. No Trustee shall, as such, be obligated to give any bond or other security for the performance of any of his duties hereunder.

5.4 No Duty of Investigation; No Notice in Trust Instruments, etc. No purchaser, lender, transfer agent or other person dealing with the Trustees or with any officer, employee or agent of the Trust shall be bound to make any inquiry concerning the validity of any transaction purporting to be made by the Trustees or by said officer, employee or agent or be liable for the application of money or property paid, loaned, or delivered to or on the order of the Trustees or of said officer, employee or agent. Every obligation, contract, undertaking, instrument, certificate, Share, other security of the Trust, and every other act or thing whatsoever executed in connection with the Trust shall be conclusively taken to have been executed or done by the executors thereof only in their capacity as Trustees under this Declaration or in their capacity as officers, employees or agents of the Trust. The Trustees may maintain insurance for the protection of the Trust Property, the Shareholders, Trustees, officers, employees and agents in such amount as the Trustees shall deem adequate to cover possible tort liability, and such other insurance as the Trustees in their sole judgment shall deem advisable or is required by the 1940 Act.

5.5 Reliance on Experts, etc. Each Trustee and officer or employee of the Trust shall, in the performance of its duties, be fully and completely justified and protected with regard to any act or any failure to act resulting from reliance in good faith upon the books of account or other records of the Trust, upon an opinion of counsel, or upon reports made to the Trust by any of the Trust's officers or employees or by any advisor, administrator, manager, distributor, selected dealer, accountant, appraiser or other expert or consultant selected with reasonable care by the Trustees, officers or employees of the Trust, regardless of whether such counsel or expert may also be a Trustee.

ARTICLE VI

SHARES OF BENEFICIAL INTEREST

6.1 Beneficial Interest. The interest of the beneficiaries hereunder shall be divided into an unlimited number of transferable shares of beneficial interest, par value $.001 per share. All Shares issued in accordance with the terms hereof, including, without limitation, Shares issued in connection with a dividend in Shares or a split of Shares, shall be fully paid and, except as provided in the last sentence of Section 3.8, nonassessable when the consideration determined by the Trustees (if any) therefor shall have been received by the Trust.

6.2 Other Securities. The Trustees may, subject, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, to the Fundamental Policies and the requirements of the 1940 Act, authorize and issue such other securities of the Trust as they determine to be necessary, desirable or appropriate, having such terms, rights, preferences, privileges, limitations and restrictions as the Trustees see fit, including multiple classes of common shares, preferred interests, debt securities or other senior securities. To the extent that the Trustees authorize and issue additional shares of any class or series, they are hereby authorized and empowered to amend or supplement this Declaration as they deem necessary or appropriate, including to comply with the requirements of any applicable law or requirements imposed by the rating agencies or other Persons, all without the approval of Shareholders. Any such supplement or amendment shall be filed as is necessary. The Trustees are also authorized to take such actions and retain such persons as they see fit to offer and sell such securities.

6.3 Rights of Shareholders. The Shares shall be personal property giving only the rights in this Declaration specifically set forth. The ownership of the Trust Property of every description and the right to conduct any business herein before described are vested exclusively in the Trustees, and the Shareholders shall have no interest therein other than the beneficial interest conferred by their Shares, and they shall have no right to call for any partition or division of any property, profits, rights or interests of the Trust nor can they be called upon to share or assume any losses of the Trust or, subject to the right of the Trustees to charge certain expenses directly to Shareholders, as provided in the last sentence of Section 3.8, suffer an assessment of any kind by virtue of their ownership of Shares. The Shares shall not entitle the holder to preference, preemptive, appraisal, conversion or exchange rights (except as specified in this Section 6.3, in Section 11.4 or as specified by the Trustees when creating any class or series of Shares).

6.4 Trust Only. It is the intention of the Trustees to create only the relationship of Trustee and beneficiary between the Trustees and each Shareholder from time to time. It is not the intention of the Trustees to create a general partnership, limited partnership, joint stock association, corporation, bailment or any form of legal relationship other than a trust. Nothing in this Declaration shall be construed to make the Shareholders, either by themselves or with the Trustees, partners or members of a joint stock association.

6.5 Issuance of Shares. The Trustees, in their discretion, may from time to time without vote of the Shareholders issue Shares including preferred shares that may have been established pursuant to Section 6.2, in addition to the then issued and outstanding Shares and Shares held in the treasury, to such party or parties and for such amount and type of consideration, including cash or property, at such time or times, and on such terms as the Trustees may determine, and may in such manner acquire other assets (including the acquisition of assets subject to, and in connection with the assumption of, liabilities) and businesses. The Trustees may from time to time divide or combine the Shares into a greater or lesser number without thereby changing the proportionate beneficial interest in such Shares. Issuances and redemptions of Shares may be made in whole Shares and/or 1/1,000ths of a Share or multiples thereof as the Trustees may determine.

6.6 Register of Shares. A register shall be kept at the offices of the Trust or any transfer agent duly appointed by the Trustees under the direction of the Trustees which shall contain the names and addresses of the Shareholders and the number of Shares held by them respectively and a record of all transfers thereof. Separate registers shall be established and maintained for each class or series of Shares. Each such register shall be conclusive as to who are the holders of the Shares of the applicable class or series of Shares and who shall be entitled to receive dividends or distributions or otherwise to exercise or enjoy the rights of Shareholders. No Shareholder shall be entitled to receive payment of any dividend or distribution, nor to have notice given to him as herein provided, until he has given his address to a transfer agent or such other officer or agent of the Trustees as shall keep the register for entry thereon. It is not contemplated that certificates will be issued for the Shares; however, the Trustees, in their discretion, may authorize the issuance of share certificates and promulgate appropriate fees therefore and rules and regulations as to their use.

6.7 Transfer Agent and Registrar. The Trustees shall have power to employ a transfer agent or transfer agents, and a registrar or registrars, with respect to the Shares. The transfer agent or transfer agents may keep the applicable register and record therein, the original issues and transfers, if any, of the said Shares. Any such transfer agents and/or registrars shall perform the duties usually performed by transfer agents and registrars of certificates of stock in a corporation, as modified by the Trustees.

6.8 Transfer of Shares. Shares shall be transferable on the records of the Trust only by the record holder thereof or by its agent thereto duly authorized in writing, upon delivery to the Trustees or a transfer agent of the Trust of a duly executed instrument of transfer, together with such evidence of the genuineness of each such execution and authorization and of other matters (including compliance with any securities laws and contractual restrictions) as may reasonably be required. Upon such delivery the transfer shall be recorded on the applicable register of the Trust. Until such record is made, the Shareholder of record shall be deemed to be the holder of such Shares for all purposes hereof and neither the Trustees nor any transfer agent or registrar nor any officer, employee or agent of the Trust shall be affected by any notice of the proposed transfer.

Any person becoming entitled to any Shares in consequence of the death, bankruptcy, or incompetence of any Shareholder, or otherwise by operation of law, shall be recorded on the applicable register of Shares as the holder of such Shares upon production of the proper evidence thereof to the Trustees or a transfer agent of the Trust, but until such record is made, the Shareholder of record shall be deemed to be the holder of such for all purposes hereof, and neither the Trustees nor any transfer agent or registrar nor any officer or agent of the Trust shall be affected by any notice of such death, bankruptcy or incompetence, or other operation of law.

6.9 Notices. Any and all notices to which any Shareholder hereunder may be entitled and any and all communications shall be deemed duly served or given (1) if mailed, postage prepaid, addressed to any Shareholder of record at his last known address as recorded on the applicable register of the Trust; (2) by press release or posting on the Trust's publicly available website together in either case with the filing of a Form 8-K; or (3) such other method as the Trustees may determine.

ARTICLE VII

CUSTODIANS

7.1 Appointment and Duties. The Trustees shall at all times employ a custodian or custodians, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, meeting the qualifications for custodians for portfolio securities of investment companies contained in the 1940 Act, as custodian with respect to the assets of the Trust. Any custodian shall have authority as agent of the Trust as determined by the custodian agreement or agreements, but subject to such restrictions, limitations and other requirements, if any, as may be contained in the By-Laws of the Trust and, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, the 1940 Act, including without limitation authority:

- (1) to hold the securities owned by the Trust and deliver the same upon written order;
- (2) to receive any receipt for any moneys due to the Trust and deposit the same in its own banking department (if a bank) or elsewhere as the Trustees may direct;
- (3) to disburse such funds upon orders or vouchers;
- (4) if authorized by the Trustees, to keep the books and accounts of the Trust and furnish clerical and accounting services; and
- (5) if authorized to do so by the Trustees, to compute the net income or net asset value of the Trust; all upon such basis of compensation as may be agreed upon between the Trustees and the custodian.

The Trustees may also authorize each custodian to employ one or more sub-custodians from time to time to perform such of the acts and services of the custodian and upon such terms and conditions, as may be agreed upon between the custodian and such sub-custodian and approved by the Trustees; provided that, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, in every case such sub-custodian shall meet the qualifications for custodians contained in the 1940 Act.

7.2 Central Certificate System. Subject to such rules, regulations and orders as the Commission may adopt, the Trustees may direct the custodian to deposit all or any part of the securities owned by the Trust in a system for the central handling of securities established by a national securities exchange or a national securities association registered with the Commission under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or such other Person as may be permitted by the Commission, or otherwise, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, in accordance with the 1940 Act, pursuant to which system all securities of any particular class of any issuer deposited within the system are treated as fungible and may be transferred or pledged by bookkeeping entry without physical delivery of such securities; provided that all such deposits shall be subject to withdrawal only upon the order of the Trust.

ARTICLE VIII

REDEMPTION

8.1 Redemptions. Except as otherwise provided by a majority of Trustees, the Shares of the Trust are not redeemable by the holders.

8.2 Disclosure of Holding. The holders of Shares or other securities of the Trust shall upon demand disclose to the Trustees in writing such information with respect to direct and indirect ownership of Shares or other securities of the Trust as the Trustees deem necessary to comply with the provisions of the Code or other applicable laws or regulations, or to comply with the requirements of any other taxing or regulatory authority or as the Trustees may otherwise determine is necessary or desirable.

ARTICLE IX

DETERMINATION OF NET ASSET VALUE NET INCOME AND DISTRIBUTIONS

9.1 Net Asset Value. For so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, the net asset value of each outstanding Share of the Trust shall be determined at such time or times on such days as the Trustees may determine, in accordance with the 1940 Act. The method of determination of net asset value shall be determined by the Trustees and shall be as set forth in the Prospectus or as may otherwise be determined by the Trustees. The power and duty to make the net asset value calculations may be delegated by the Trustees and shall be as generally set forth in the Prospectus or as may otherwise be determined by the Trustees.

9.2 Distributions to Shareholders. (a) The Trustees shall from time to time distribute ratably among the Shareholders of any class of Shares, or any series of any such class, in accordance with the number of outstanding full and fractional Shares of such class or any series of such class, such proportion of the net profits, surplus (including paid-in surplus), capital, or assets held by the Trustees as they may deem proper or as may otherwise be determined in accordance with this Declaration. Any such distribution may be made in cash or property (including without limitation any type of obligations of the Trust or any assets thereof) or Shares of any class or series or any combination thereof, and the Trustees may distribute ratably among the Shareholders of any class of shares or series of any such class, in accordance with the number of outstanding full and fractional Shares of such class or any series of such class, additional Shares of any class or series in such manner, at such times, and on such terms as the Trustees may deem proper or as may otherwise be determined in accordance with this Declaration.

(b) Distributions pursuant to this Section 9.2 may be among the Shareholders of record of the applicable class or series of Shares at the time of declaring a distribution or among the Shareholders of record at such later date as the Trustees shall determine and specify.

(c) The Trustees may always retain from the net profits such amount as they may deem necessary to pay the debts or expenses of the Trust or to meet obligations of the Trust, or as they otherwise may deem desirable to use in the conduct of its affairs or to retain for future requirements or extensions of the business.

(d) Inasmuch as the computation of net income and gains for Federal income tax purposes may vary from the computation thereof on the books, the above provisions shall be interpreted to give the Trustees the power in their discretion to distribute for any fiscal year as ordinary dividends and as capital gains distributions, respectively, additional amounts sufficient to enable the Trust to avoid or reduce liability for taxes.

9.3 Power to Modify Foregoing Procedures. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this ARTICLE IX, the Trustees may prescribe, in their absolute discretion except, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, as may be required by the 1940 Act, such other bases and times for determining the per share asset value of the Trust's Shares or net income, or the declaration and payment of dividends and distributions as they may deem necessary or desirable for any reason, including to enable the Trust to comply with any provision of the 1940 Act, or any securities exchange or association registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or any order of exemption issued by the Commission, all as in effect now or hereafter amended or modified.

ARTICLE X

SHAREHOLDERS

10.1 Meetings of Shareholders. The Trust shall, to the extent required by applicable law, rules or regulations, hold annual meetings of the Shareholders. A special meeting of Shareholders may be called at any time by a majority of the Trustees or the President and shall be called by any Trustee for any proper purpose upon written request of Shareholders of the Trust holding in the aggregate not less than 51% of the outstanding Shares of the Trust or class or series of Shares having voting rights on the matter, such request specifying the purpose or purposes for which such meeting is to be called. Any shareholder meeting, including a Special Meeting, shall be held within or without the State of Delaware on such day and at such time as the Trustees shall designate.

10.2 Voting. Shareholders shall have no power to vote on any matter except matters on which a vote of Shareholders is required by this Section 10.2, Section 11.2(a), Section 11.3, Section 11.4, Section 11.6 and Section 11.7 of this Declaration or by resolution of the Trustees. This Declaration expressly provides that no matter for which voting is required by the Statutory Trust Act in the absence of the contrary provision in the Declaration shall require any vote. Except as otherwise provided herein, any matter required to be submitted to Shareholders and affecting one or more classes or series of Shares shall require approval by the required vote of all the affected classes and series of Shares voting together as a single class; provided, however, that as to any matter with respect to which a separate vote of any class or series of Shares is provided for by resolution of the Trustees, such requirement as to a separate vote by that class or series of Shares shall apply in addition to a vote of all the affected classes and series voting together as a single class. Shareholders of a particular class or series of Shares shall not be entitled to vote on any matter that affects only one or more other classes or series of Shares. There shall be no cumulative voting in the election or removal of Trustees.

10.3 Notice of Meeting and Record Date. Notice of all meetings of Shareholders, stating the time, place and purposes of the meeting, shall be given by the Trustees by mail to each Shareholder of record entitled to vote thereat at its registered address, mailed at least 10 days and not more than 120 days before the meeting or otherwise in compliance with applicable law. Only the business stated in the notice of the meeting shall be considered at such meeting. Any postponed or adjourned meeting may be held as postponed or adjourned one or more times without further notice not later than 120 days after the original meeting date. For the purposes of determining the Shareholders who are entitled to notice of and to vote at any meeting the Trustees may, without closing the transfer books, fix a date not more than 120 nor less than 10 days prior to the date of such meeting of Shareholders as a record date for the determination of the Persons to be treated as Shareholders of record for such purposes.

10.4 Quorum and Required Vote. (a) Subject to such greater or lesser amount determined by the Trustees as to any or all matters, the holders of a majority of the Shares entitled to vote on any matter at a meeting present in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum at such meeting of the Shareholders for purposes of conducting business on such matter. The absence from any meeting, in person or by proxy, of a quorum of Shareholders for action upon any given matter shall not prevent action at such meeting upon any other matter or matters which may properly come before the meeting, if there shall be present thereat, in person or by proxy, a quorum of Shareholders in respect of such other matters.

(b) Subject to any provision of this Declaration or a resolution of the Trustees specifying a greater or a lesser vote requirement for the transaction of any item of business at any meeting of Shareholders, (i) with respect to the election of Trustees, the affirmative vote of a plurality of the Shares represented in person or by proxy at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the shareholders with respect to such matters, (ii) with respect to all other matters, the affirmative vote of a majority of the Shares present in person or represented by proxy and entitled to vote on the subject matter shall be the act of the Shareholders with respect to such matter, and (iii) where a separate vote of one or more classes or series of Shares is required on any matter, the affirmative vote of a majority of the Shares of such class or series of Shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting shall be the act of the Shareholders of such class or series with respect to such matter. Any purported vote of any Shareholders which purported vote does not meet the requirements of applicable state or federal law may be disregarded as invalid if so determined by the Trustees or the chairman of any meeting of shareholders. In such event, such shares shall nevertheless be counted for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present.

10.5 Proxies, etc. At any meeting of Shareholders, any holder of Shares entitled to vote thereat may vote by properly executed proxy; provided that no proxy shall be voted at any meeting unless it shall have been placed on file with the Secretary, or with such other officer or agent of the Trust as the Secretary may direct, for verification prior to the time at which such vote shall be taken. Pursuant to a resolution of a majority of the Trustees, proxies may be solicited in the name of one or more Trustees or one or more of the officers or employees of the Trust. No proxy shall be valid after the expiration of 11 months from the date thereof, unless otherwise provided in the proxy. Only Shareholders of record shall be entitled to vote. Each full Share shall be entitled to one vote and fractional Shares shall be entitled to a vote of such fraction. When any Share is held jointly by several persons, any one of them may vote at any meeting in person or by proxy in respect of such Share, but if more than one of them shall be present at such meeting in person or by proxy, and such joint owners or their proxies so present disagree as to any vote to be cast, such vote shall not be received in respect of such Share. A proxy purporting to be executed by or on behalf of a Shareholder shall be deemed valid unless challenged at or prior to its exercise. If the holder of any such Share is a minor or a person of unsound mind, and subject to guardianship or to the legal control of any other person as regards the charge or management of such Share, he may vote by his guardian or such other person appointed or having such control, and such vote may be given in person or by proxy.

10.6 Reports. The Trustees shall cause to be prepared at least annually and more frequently to the extent and in the form required by law, regulation or any exchange on which Trust Shares are listed a report of operations containing a balance sheet and statement of income and undistributed income of the Trust prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and an opinion of an independent public accountant on such financial statements. Copies of such reports shall be mailed to all Shareholders of record within the time required by applicable federal law or stock exchange requirements, and in any event within a reasonable period preceding any annual meeting of Shareholders. The Trustees shall, in addition, furnish to the Shareholders to the extent required by law, interim reports containing an unaudited balance sheet of the Trust as of the end of such period and an unaudited statement of income and surplus for the period from the beginning of the current fiscal year to the end of such period.

10.7 Inspection of Records. Shareholders shall have the right to inspect the records of the Trust, including, without limitation, Shareholder lists, documents, accounts and books of the Trust only to the extent inalienably granted under the DSTA; all other such rights whether or not provided in the DSTA are expressly precluded. All Shareholders' requests to inspect the records of the Trust shall be submitted by Shareholders to the Trustees in writing. Upon receipt of such requests, the Trustees may in their discretion establish procedures for any permitted inspections. To preserve the integrity of the Trust's records, the Trustees may provide certified copies of Trust records rather than originals. The Trustees shall not be required to create records or obtain records from third parties to satisfy Shareholders' requests. The Trustees may require Shareholders to pay in advance or otherwise indemnify the Trust for the costs and expenses of Shareholders' inspection of records. Nothing in this Section 10.7 is intended nor shall be construed to permit Shareholders to inspect the records of the Trust except as may be required by the DSTA or permitted by the Trustees in their discretion.

10.8 Shareholder Action by Written Consent. Except as otherwise provided by a majority of the Trustees then in office, shareholder action may only be taken at a duly called and held meeting of Shareholders called for such purpose, and not by written consent.

ARTICLE XI

DURATION; TERMINATION OF TRUST; AMENDMENT; MERGERS, ETC.

11.1 Duration. Subject to possible termination in accordance with the provisions of Section 11.2 hereof, the Trust created hereby shall have perpetual existence.

Table of Contents

11.2 Termination. (a) The Trust may be dissolved, only upon approval of not less than 80% of the Trustees. Upon the dissolution of the Trust:

(i) The Trust shall carry on no business except for the purpose of winding up its affairs.

(ii) The Trustees shall proceed to wind up the affairs of the Trust and all of the powers of the Trustees under this Declaration shall continue until the affairs of the Trust shall have been wound up, including the power to fulfill or discharge the contracts of the Trust, collect its assets, sell, convey, assign, exchange, merge where the Trust is not the survivor, transfer or otherwise dispose of all or any part of the remaining Trust Property to one or more Persons at public or private sale for consideration which may consist in whole or in part in cash, securities or other property of any kind, discharge or pay its liabilities, and do all other acts appropriate to liquidate its business; provided that any sale, conveyance, assignment, exchange, merger in which the Trust is not the survivor, transfer or other disposition of all or substantially all the Trust Property of the Trust (measured at the time that such termination was originally approved by 80% of the Trustees as set forth in this Section 11.2(a)) shall require approval of the principal terms of the transaction and the nature and amount of the consideration by Shareholders with the same vote as set forth under Section 11.3(b) of this Declaration.

(iii) After paying or adequately providing for the payment of all liabilities, and upon receipt of such releases, indemnities and refunding agreements, as they deem necessary for their protection, the Trustees may distribute the remaining Trust Property, in cash or in kind or partly each, among the Shareholders according to their respective rights.

(b) After the winding up and termination of the Trust and distribution to the Shareholders as herein provided, a majority of the Trustees shall execute and lodge among the records of the Trust an instrument in writing setting forth the fact of such termination and shall execute and file a certificate of cancellation with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. Upon termination of the Trust, the Trustees shall thereupon be discharged from all further liabilities and duties hereunder, and the rights and interests of all Shareholders shall thereupon cease.

11.3 Amendment Procedure. (a) This Declaration may only be amended if such amendment is approved by a majority of the Trustees. Except as provided in Section 11.3(b), the Trustees may amend this Declaration without any vote of Shareholders of any class or series to divide the Shares of the Trust into one or more classes or additional classes, or one or more series of any such class or classes, to determine the rights, powers, preferences, limitations and restrictions of any class or series of Shares, to change the name of the Trust or any class or series of Shares, to make any change that does not adversely affect the relative rights or preferences of any individual Shareholder as compared to the rights and preferences of other Shareholders of the same class and series of Shares, as they may deem necessary or appropriate.

(b) No amendment may be made to Section 5.1, Section 5.2, Section 10.2 Section 11.2(a), this Section 11.3, Section 11.4, Section 11.6 or Section 11.7 of this Declaration and no amendment may be made to this Declaration which would change any rights with respect to any Shares of the Trust by reducing any stated amount payable thereon in preference over all other classes or series of Shares upon liquidation of the Trust or by eliminating any voting rights pertaining thereto set forth in

Section 10.2 of this Declaration (provided that nothing in this Section 11.3(b) shall limit the ability of the Trustees to authorize, and to cause the Trust to issue, other securities pursuant to Section 6.2), except after a majority of the Trustees have approved a resolution therefor, by the affirmative vote of the holders of not less than seventy-five percent (75%) of the Shares of each affected class or series outstanding, voting as separate classes or series, unless such amendment has been approved by 80% of the Trustees, in which case approval of Shareholders as set forth in Section 10.4 shall be required. Nothing contained in this Declaration shall permit the amendment of this Declaration to impair the exemption from personal liability of the Shareholders, Trustees, officers, employees and agents of the Trust or to permit assessments upon holders of then outstanding Shares.

(c) To the extent that Shareholders are entitled to vote on any matter that in the judgement of the Board of Trustees would prevent, impede or make less efficient or more costly the implementation of the proposals adopted by Shareholders at the Special Meeting of Shareholders held on _____, 2020 or the realization of the benefits sought thereby, notwithstanding any other provision of the Declaration, such matter shall, unless otherwise determined by the vote of at least 80% of the Board of Trustees, require the affirmative vote of not less than 75% of the outstanding Shares.

(d) An amendment duly adopted by the requisite vote of the Board of Trustees and, if required, the Shareholders as aforesaid, shall become effective at the time of such adoption or at such other time as may be designated by the Board of Trustees or Shareholders, as the case may be. A certification in recordable form signed by a majority of the Trustees setting forth an amendment and reciting that it was duly adopted by the Trustees and, if required, the Shareholders as aforesaid, or a copy of the Declaration, as amended, in recordable form, and executed by a majority of the Trustees, shall be conclusive evidence of such amendment when lodged among the records of the Trust or at such other time designated by the Board.

11.4 Merger, Consolidation and Sale of Assets. Except as provided in Section 11.7, the Trust may merge or consolidate with any other corporation, association, trust or other organization or may sell, lease or exchange all or substantially all of the Trust Property or the property, including its good will, upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration when and as authorized by two-thirds of the Trustees; provided that any merger or consolidation in which the Trust is not the surviving entity, or sale, lease or exchange of all or substantially all of the Trust Property of the Trust (measured at the time that such transaction was originally approved by two-thirds of the Trustees as set forth in this Section 11.4) shall require approval by Shareholders as set forth under Section 11.3(b) of this Declaration and any such merger, consolidation, sale, lease or exchange shall be determined for all purposes to have been accomplished under and pursuant to the laws of the State of Delaware.

11.5 Subsidiaries. Without approval by Shareholders, the Trustees may cause to be organized or assist in organizing one or more corporations, trusts, partnerships, associations or other organizations to take over all of the Trust Property or to carry on any business in which the Trust shall directly or indirectly have any interest, and to sell, convey and transfer all or a portion of the Trust Property to any such corporation, trust, limited liability company, association or organization in exchange for the shares or securities thereof, or otherwise, and to lend money to, subscribe for the shares or securities of, and enter into any contracts with any such corporation, trust, limited liability company, partnership, association or organization, or any corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, association or organization in which the Trust holds or is about to acquire shares or any other interests.

11.6 Conversion. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Declaration or the By-Laws of the Trust, for so long as the Trust shall remain registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, a favorable vote of a majority of the Trustees then in office followed by the favorable vote of the holders of not less than seventy-five percent (75%) of the Shares of each affected class or series outstanding, voting as separate classes or series, shall be required to approve, adopt or authorize an amendment to this Declaration that makes the Shares a “redeemable security” as that term is defined in the 1940 Act, unless such amendment has been approved by 80% of the Trustees, in which case approval by a Majority Shareholder Vote shall be required. Upon the adoption of a proposal to convert the Trust from a “closed-end company” to an “open-end company” as those terms are defined by the 1940 Act and the necessary amendments to this Declaration to permit such a conversion of the Trust’s outstanding Shares entitled to vote, the Trust shall, upon complying with any requirements of the 1940 Act and state law, become an “open-end” investment company. Such affirmative vote or consent shall be in addition to the vote or consent of the holders of the Shares otherwise required by law, or any agreement between the Trust and any national securities exchange.

11.7 Certain Transactions. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Declaration and subject to the exceptions provided in paragraph (d) of this Section 11.7, the types of transactions described in paragraph (c) of this Section 11.7 shall require the affirmative vote or consent of a majority of the Trustees then in office followed by the affirmative vote of the holders of not less than seventy-five percent (75%) of the Shares of each affected class or series outstanding, voting as separate classes or series, when a Principal Shareholder (as defined in paragraph (b) of this Section 11.7) is a party to the transaction. Such affirmative vote or consent shall be in addition to the vote or consent of the holders of Shares otherwise required by law or by the terms of any class or series of preferred stock, whether now or hereafter authorized, or any agreement between the Trust and any national securities exchange.

(b) The term “Principal Shareholder” shall mean any corporation, Person or other entity which is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of five percent (5%) or more of the outstanding Shares of all outstanding classes or series and shall include any affiliate or associate, as such terms are defined in clause (ii) below, of a Principal Shareholder. For the purposes of this Section 11.7, in addition to the Shares which a corporation, Person or other entity beneficially owns directly, (a) any corporation, Person or other entity shall be deemed to be the beneficial owner of any Shares (i) which it has the right to acquire pursuant to any agreement or upon exercise of conversion rights or warrants, or otherwise (but excluding share options granted by the Trust) or (ii) which are beneficially owned, directly or indirectly (including Shares deemed owned through application of clause (i) above), by any other corporation, Person or entity with which its “affiliate” or “associate” (as defined below) has any agreement, arrangement or understanding for the purpose of acquiring, holding, voting or disposing of Shares, or which is its “affiliate” or “associate” as those terms are defined in Rule 12b-2 of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and (b) the outstanding Shares shall include Shares deemed owned through application of clauses (i) and (ii) above but shall not include any other Shares which may be issuable pursuant to any agreement, or upon exercise of conversion rights or warrants, or otherwise.

(c) This Section 11.7 shall apply to the following transactions:

(i) The merger or consolidation of the Trust or any subsidiary of the Trust with or into any Principal Shareholder.

D-20

(ii) The issuance of any securities of the Trust to any Principal Shareholder for cash (other than pursuant to any automatic dividend reinvestment plan).

(iii) The sale, lease or exchange of all or any substantial part of the assets of the Trust to any Principal Shareholder (except assets having an aggregate fair market value of less than 2% of the total assets of the Trust, aggregating for the purpose of such computation all assets sold, leased or exchanged in any series of similar transactions within a twelve-month period.)

(iv) The sale, lease or exchange to the Trust or any subsidiary thereof, in exchange for securities of the Trust, of any assets of any Principal Shareholder (except assets having an aggregate fair market value of less than 2% of the total assets of the Trust, aggregating for the purposes of such computation all assets sold, leased or exchanged in any series of similar transactions within a twelve-month period).

(d) The provisions of this Section 11.7 shall not be applicable to (i) any of the transactions described in paragraph (c) of this Section 11.7 if 80% of the Trustees shall by resolution have approved a memorandum of understanding with such Principal Shareholder with respect to and substantially consistent with such transaction, in which case approval by Shareholders as set forth in Section 10.4 of this Declaration shall be the only vote of Shareholders required by this Section 11.7, or (ii) any such transaction with any entity of which a majority of the outstanding shares of all classes and series of a stock normally entitled to vote in elections of directors is owned of record or beneficially by the Trust and its subsidiaries.

(e) The Board of Trustees shall have the power and duty to determine for the purposes of this Section 11.7 on the basis of information known to the Trust whether (i) a corporation, person or entity beneficially owns five percent (5%) or more of the outstanding Shares of any class or series, (ii) a corporation, person or entity is an “affiliate” or “associate” (as defined above) of another, (iii) the assets being acquired or leased to or by the Trust or any subsidiary thereof constitute a substantial part of the assets of the Trust and have an aggregate fair market value of less than 2% of the total assets of the Trust, and (iv) the memorandum of understanding referred to in paragraph (d) hereof is substantially consistent with the transaction covered thereby. Any such determination shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes of this Section 11.7.

ARTICLE XII

RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER AND OWNERSHIP OF SHARES

REIT Qualification. If the Trust elects to qualify for federal income tax treatment as a REIT (as defined below in Section 12.1), the Board of Trustees shall use its reasonable best efforts to take such actions as are necessary or appropriate to preserve the status of the Trust as a REIT; however, if the Board of Trustees determines that it is no longer in the best interests of the Trust to attempt to, or continue to, qualify as a REIT, the Board of Trustees may revoke or otherwise terminate the Trust’s REIT election pursuant to Section 856(g) of the Code. The Board of Trustees, in its sole and absolute discretion, also may (a) determine that compliance with any restriction or limitation on stock ownership and transfers set forth in this Article XII is no longer required for REIT qualification and (b) make any other determination or take any other action pursuant to this Declaration or the By-Laws.

Excess Inclusion Income. To the extent that NHF has incurred or the Board of Trustees determines that NHF will incur any tax pursuant to Section 860E(e)(6) of the Code as the result of any “excess inclusion” income (within the meaning of Section 860E of the Code) of NHF that is allocable to a stockholder that is a “disqualified organization” (as defined in Section 860E(e)(5) of the Code), the Board of Trustees may, in its sole discretion, cause NHF to allocate such tax solely to the stock held by such disqualified organization in the manner described in Treasury Regulation Section 1.860E-2(b)(4), by reducing from one or more distributions paid to such stockholder the tax incurred by NHF pursuant to Section 860E(e)(6) as a result of such stockholder’s stock ownership.

12.1 Definitions. For the purpose of this Article XII, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

Aggregate Share Ownership Limit. The term “Aggregate Share Ownership Limit” shall mean 9.8 percent (in value or in number of shares, whichever is more restrictive) of the aggregate of the outstanding Shares of any class or series, or such other percentage determined by the Board of Trustees in accordance with Section 12.2.8 of the Declaration. The value and number of the outstanding Shares shall be determined by the Board of Trustees, which determination shall be conclusive for all purposes hereof. For the purposes of determining the percentage ownership of Shares by any Person, Shares that may be acquired upon conversion, exchange or exercise of any securities of NHF directly or constructively held by such Person, but not Shares issuable with respect to the conversion, exchange or exercise of securities for NHF held by other Persons, shall be deemed to be outstanding prior to conversion, exchange or exercise.

Beneficial Ownership. The term “Beneficial Ownership” shall mean ownership of Shares by a Person, whether the interest in the Shares is held directly or indirectly (including by a nominee), and shall include interests that would be treated as owned through the application of Section 544 of the Code, as modified by Section 856(h)(1)(B) and 856(h)(3) of the Code. The terms “Beneficial Owner,” “Beneficially Owns” and “Beneficially Owned” shall have the correlative meanings.

Business Day. The term “Business Day” shall mean any day, other than a Saturday or Sunday, that is neither a legal holiday nor a day on which banking institutions in Texas or New York are authorized or required by law, regulation or executive order to close.

Charitable Beneficiary. The term “Charitable Beneficiary” shall mean one or more beneficiaries of the Charitable Trust as determined pursuant to Section 12.3.6, provided that each such organization must be described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code and contributions to each such organization must be eligible for deduction under each of Sections 170(b)(1)(A), 2055 and 2522 of the Code.

Charitable Trust. The term “Charitable Trust” shall mean any trust provided for in Section 12.3.1.

Charitable Trustee. The term “Charitable Trustee” shall mean the Person unaffiliated with NHF and a Prohibited Owner that is appointed by NHF to serve as trustee of the Charitable Trust.

Common Share Ownership Limit. The term “Common Share Ownership Limit” shall mean 9.8 percent (in value or in number of shares, whichever is more restrictive) of the aggregate of the outstanding common shares of beneficial interest of NHF, par value $0.001 per share (“Common Shares”), or such other percentage determined by the Board of Trustees in accordance with Section 12.2.8 of the Declaration. The value and number of the outstanding Common Shares shall be determined by the Board of Trustees, which determination shall be conclusive for all purposes hereof.

For purposes of determining the percentage ownership of Common Shares by any Person, shares of Common Shares that may be acquired upon conversion, exchange or exercise of any securities of NHF directly or constructively held by such Person, but not shares of Common Shares issuable with respect to the conversion, exchange or exercise of securities for NHF held by other Persons, shall be deemed to be outstanding prior to conversion, exchange or exercise.

Constructive Ownership. The term “Constructive Ownership” shall mean ownership of Shares by a Person, whether the interest in the Shares is held directly or indirectly (including by a nominee), and shall include interests that would be treated as owned through the application of Section 318(a) of the Code, as modified by Section 856(d)(5) of the Code. The terms “Constructive Owner,” “Constructively Owns” and “Constructively Owned” shall have the correlative meanings.

Excepted Holder. The term “Excepted Holder” shall mean a Person for whom an Excepted Holder Limit is created by this Article XII or by the Board of Trustees pursuant to Section 12.2.12.

Excepted Holder Limit. The term “Excepted Holder Limit” shall mean, provided that the affected Excepted Holder agrees to comply with the requirements established by this Article XII or by the Board of Trustees pursuant to Section 12.2.7 and subject to adjustment pursuant to Section 12.2.8, the percentage limit established by the Board of Trustees pursuant to Section 12.2.12.

Initial Date. The term “Initial Date” shall mean the date on which the Shareholders approve the conversion of the NHF from an investment company registered under the 1940 Act to a REIT.

Market Price. The term “Market Price” on any date shall mean, with respect to any class or series of outstanding Shares, the Closing Price for such Shares on such date. The “Closing Price” on any date shall mean the last sale price for such Shares, regular way, or, in case no such sale takes place on such day, the average of the closing bid and asked prices, regular way, for such Shares, in either case as reported in the principal consolidated transaction reporting system with respect to securities listed or admitted to trading on the NYSE or, if such Shares is not listed or admitted to trading on the NYSE, as reported on the principal consolidated transaction reporting system with respect to securities listed on the principal national securities exchange on which such Shares is listed or admitted to trading or, if such Shares is not listed or admitted to trading on any national securities exchange, the last quoted price, or, if not so quoted, the average of the high bid and low asked prices in the over-the-counter market, as reported by the principal automated quotation system that may then be in use or, if such Shares is not quoted by any such system, the average of the closing bid and asked prices as furnished by a professional market maker making a market in such Shares selected by the Board of Trustees or, in the event that no trading price is available for such Shares, the fair market value of the Shares, as determined by the Board of Trustees.

NHF. The term “NHF” shall mean the Trust, as defined in Section 1.2 of this Declaration.

NYSE. The term “NYSE” shall mean The New York Stock Exchange.

Person. The term “Person” shall mean an individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability company, estate, trust (including a trust qualified under Sections 401(a) or 501(c)(17) of the Code), a portion of a trust permanently set aside for or to be used exclusively for the purposes described in Section 642(c) of the Code, association, private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a) of the Code, joint stock company or other entity and also includes a group as that term is used for purposes of Section 13(d)(3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and a group to which an Excepted Holder Limit applies.

Table of Contents

Prohibited Owner. The term “Prohibited Owner” shall mean, with respect to any purported Transfer (or other event), any Person who, but for the provisions of this Article XII, would Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares in violation of Section 12.2.1, and if appropriate in the context, shall also mean any Person who would have been the record owner of the shares that the Prohibited Owner would have so owned.

REIT. The term “REIT” shall mean a real estate investment trust within the meaning of Section 856 of the Code.

Restriction Termination Date. The term “Restriction Termination Date” shall mean the first day after the Initial Date on which the Board of Trustees determines that compliance with the restrictions and limitations on Beneficial Ownership, Constructive Ownership and Transfers set forth herein are no longer in the best interests of NHF

Transfer. The term “Transfer” shall mean any issuance, sale, transfer, gift, assignment, devise or other disposition, as well as any other event or circumstance that causes any Person to acquire or possess, or change its level of, Beneficial Ownership or Constructive Ownership, or any agreement to take any such actions or cause any such events, of Shares or the right to vote or receive dividends on Shares, including (a) the granting or exercise of any option (or any disposition of any option), (b) any disposition of any securities or rights convertible into or exchangeable for Shares or any interest in Shares or any exercise of any such conversion or exchange right, (c) Transfers of interests in other entities that result in changes in Beneficial Ownership or Constructive Ownership of Shares and (d) changes in the relative values of Shares; in each case, whether voluntary or involuntary, whether owned of record, Constructively Owned or Beneficially Owned and whether by operation of law or otherwise. The terms “Transferring” and “Transferred” shall have the correlative meanings.

12.2 Shares.

Section 12.2.1 Ownership Limitations. During the period commencing on the Initial Date and prior to the Restriction Termination Date, but subject to Section 12.4 of this Article XII:

(a) Basic Restrictions.

(i) (1) No Person, other than an Excepted Holder, shall Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares in excess of the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit, (2) no Person, other than an Excepted Holder, shall Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares in excess of the Common Share Ownership Limit and (3) no Excepted Holder shall Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares in excess of the Excepted Holder Limit for such Excepted Holder.

(ii) No Person shall Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares to the extent that such Beneficial Ownership or Constructive Ownership of Shares would result in NHF being “closely held” within the meaning of Section 856(h) of the Code (without regard to whether the ownership interest is held during the last half of a taxable year), or otherwise failing to qualify as a REIT (including, but not limited to, Beneficial Ownership or Constructive Ownership that would result in NHF (or any subsidiary REIT thereof, as applicable) owning (actually or Constructively) an interest in a tenant that is described in Section 856(d)(2)(B) of the Code if the income derived by NHF (or such subsidiary) from such tenant would cause NHF (or such subsidiary) to fail to satisfy any of the gross income requirements of Section 856(c) of the Code, taking into account any other income of NHF (or such subsidiary) that would not constitute qualifying income under such requirements).

(iii) Any Transfer of Shares that, if effective, would result in the Shares being beneficially owned by less than 100 Persons (determined under the principles of Section 856(a)(5) of the Code) shall be void ab initio, and the intended transferee shall acquire no rights in such Shares.

(iv) No Person shall Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares to the extent that such Beneficial Ownership or Constructive Ownership of Shares would result in NHF failing to qualify as a “domestically controlled qualified investment entity” within the meaning of Section 897(h)(4)(B) of the Code.

(b) Transfer in Charitable Trust. If any Transfer of Shares (whether or not such Transfer is the result of a transaction entered into through the facilities of the NYSE or any other national securities exchange or automated inter-dealer quotation system) occurs which, if effective, would result in any Person Beneficially Owning or Constructively Owning Shares in violation of Section 12.2.1(a)(i), (ii), (iii) or (iv),

(i) then that number of shares of the Shares the Beneficial Ownership or Constructive Ownership of which otherwise would cause such Person to violate Section 12.2.1(a)(i), (ii), (iii) or (iv) (rounded up to the nearest whole share) shall be automatically transferred to a Charitable Trust for the benefit of a Charitable Beneficiary, as described in Section 12.3, effective as of the close of business on the Business Day prior to the date of such Transfer, and such Person shall acquire no rights in such shares; or

(ii) if the transfer to the Charitable Trust described in clause (i) of this sentence would not be effective for any reason to prevent the violation of Section 12.2.1(a)(i), (ii), (iii) or (iv), then the Transfer of that number of Shares that otherwise would cause any Person to violate Section 12.2.1(a)(i), (ii), (iii) or (iv) shall be void ab initio, and the intended transferee shall acquire no rights in such Shares.

(iii) To the extent that, upon a transfer of Shares pursuant to this Section 12.2.1(b), a violation of any provision of this Article XII would nonetheless be continuing (for example where the ownership of Shares by a single Charitable Trust would violate the 100 shareholder requirement applicable to REITs), then Shares shall be transferred to that number of Charitable Trusts, each having a distinct Charitable Trustee and a Charitable Beneficiary or Charitable Beneficiaries that are distinct from those of each other Trust, such that there is no violation of any provision of this Article XII.

(iv) In determining which Shares are to be transferred to a Charitable Trust in accordance with this Section 12.2.1(b), Shares shall be so transferred to a Charitable Trust in such manner that minimizes the aggregate value of the Shares that are transferred to the Charitable Trust (except to the extent that the Board of Trustees determines that the Shares transferred to the Charitable Trust shall be those directly or indirectly held or Beneficially Owned or Constructively Owned by a Person or Persons that caused or contributed to the application of this Section 12.2.1(b)), and to the extent not inconsistent therewith, on a pro rata basis.

12.2.2 Remedies for Breach. If the Board of Trustees shall at any time determine that a Transfer or other event has taken place that results in a violation of Section 12.2.1 or that a Person intends to acquire or has attempted to acquire Beneficial Ownership or Constructive Ownership of any Shares in violation of Section 12.2.1 (whether or not such violation is intended), the Board of Trustees shall take such action as it deems advisable to refuse to give effect to or to prevent such Transfer or other event, including, without limitation, causing NHF to redeem Shares, refusing to give effect to such Transfer on the books of NHF or instituting proceedings to enjoin such Transfer or other event; provided, however, that any Transfer or attempted Transfer or other event in violation of Section 12.2.1 shall automatically result in the transfer to the Charitable Trust described above, and, where applicable, such Transfer (or other event) shall be void ab initio as provided above irrespective of any action (or non-action) by the Board of Trustees.

12.2.3 Notice of Restricted Transfer. Any Person who acquires or attempts or intends to acquire Beneficial Ownership or Constructive Ownership of Shares that will or may violate Section 12.2.1(a) or any Person who would have owned Shares that resulted in a transfer to the Charitable Trust pursuant to the provisions of Section 12.2.1(b) shall immediately give written notice to NHF of such event or, in the case of such a proposed or attempted transaction, give at least 15 days prior written notice, and shall provide to NHF such other information as NHF may request in order to determine the effect, if any, of such Transfer on NHF's status as a REIT.

12.2.4 Owners Required To Provide Information. From the Initial Date and prior to the Restriction Termination Date:

(a) every owner of five percent or more (or such lower percentage as required by the Code or the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder) in number or value of the outstanding Shares, within 30 days after the end of each taxable year, shall give written notice to NHF stating the name and address of such owner, the number of Shares Beneficially Owned and a description of the manner in which such shares are held. Each such owner shall provide to NHF such additional information as NHF may request in order to determine the effect, if any, of such Beneficial Ownership on NHF's status as a REIT and to ensure compliance with the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit and the Common Share Ownership Limit; and

(b) each Person who is a Beneficial Owner or Constructive Owner of Shares and each Person (including the Shareholder of record) who is holding Shares for a Beneficial Owner or Constructive Owner shall provide to NHF such information as NHF may request in good faith in order to determine NHF's status as a REIT and to comply with the requirements of any taxing authority or governmental authority or to determine such compliance and to ensure compliance with the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit and the Common Share Ownership Limit.

12.2.5 Remedies Not Limited. Nothing contained in this Section 12.2 shall limit the authority of the Board of Trustees to take such other action as it deems necessary or advisable to protect NHF in preserving NHF's status as a REIT.

12.2.6 Ambiguity. In the case of an ambiguity in the application of any of the provisions of this Article XII, the Board of Trustees shall have the power to determine the application of the provisions of this Article XII with respect to any situation based on the facts known to it. In the event this Article XII requires an action by the Board of Trustees and the Declaration fails to provide specific guidance with respect to such action, the Board of Trustees shall have the power to determine the action to be taken so long as such action is not contrary to the provisions of this Article XII. Absent a decision to the contrary by the Board of Trustees (which the Board of Trustees may make in its sole and absolute discretion), if a Person would have (but for the remedies set forth in this Article XII) acquired Beneficial or Constructive Ownership of Shares in violation of this Article XII, such remedies (as applicable) shall apply first to the Shares that, but for such remedies, would have been actually owned by such Person, and second to Shares which, but for such remedies, would have been Beneficially Owned or Constructively Owned (but not actually owned) by such Person, pro rata among the Persons who actually own such Shares based upon the relative number of the Shares held by each such Person.

12.2.7 Exceptions.

(a) Subject to Section 12.2.1(a)(ii), (iii) and (iv), the Board of Trustees may exempt (prospectively or retroactively) a Person from the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit or the Common Share Ownership Limit, as the case may be, and may establish or increase an Excepted Holder Limit for such Person if NHF obtains such representations and undertakings from such Person as are reasonably necessary for the Board of Trustees to determine that:

(i) no Person's Beneficial or Constructive Ownership of Shares will violate Section 12.2.1(a)(ii), (iii) or (iv); and

(ii) such Person does not and will not own, actually or Constructively, an interest in a tenant of NHF (or a tenant of any entity owned or controlled by NHF, including a subsidiary REIT) that would cause NHF (or such subsidiary REIT) to own, actually or Constructively, more than a 9.9% interest (as set forth in Section 856(d)(2)(B) of the Code) in such tenant (for this purpose, a tenant shall not be treated as a tenant of NHF if NHF (or an entity owned or controlled by NHF, including such subsidiary REIT) derives (and is expected to continue to derive) a sufficiently small amount of revenue from such tenant such that, in the judgment of the Board of Trustees, rent from such tenant would not adversely affect NHF's (or such subsidiary REIT's) ability to qualify as a REIT).

Any violation or attempted violation of any such representations or undertakings (or other action which is contrary to the restrictions contained in this Article XII) will result in such Shares being automatically transferred to a Charitable Trust in accordance with Sections 12.2.1(b) and 12.3.

(b) Prior to granting any exception pursuant to Section 12.2.7(a), the Board of Trustees may require a ruling from the Internal Revenue Service, or an opinion of counsel, in either case in form and substance satisfactory to the Board of Trustees as it may deem necessary or advisable in order to determine or ensure NHF's status as a REIT. Notwithstanding the receipt of any ruling or opinion, the Board of Trustees may impose such conditions or restrictions as it deems appropriate in connection with granting such exception.

(c) Subject to Section 12.2.1(a)(ii), an underwriter or placement agent that participates in a public offering or a private placement of Shares (or securities convertible into or exchangeable for Shares) may Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares (or securities convertible into or exchangeable for Shares) in excess of the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit, the Common Share Ownership Limit, or both such limits, but only to the extent necessary to facilitate such public offering or private placement.

(d) The Board of Trustees may only reduce the Excepted Holder Limit for an Excepted Holder: (1) with the written consent of such Excepted Holder at any time, or (2) pursuant to the terms and conditions of the agreements and undertakings entered into with such Excepted Holder in connection with the establishment of the Excepted Holder Limit for that Excepted Holder. No Excepted Holder Limit shall be reduced to a percentage that is less than the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit or the Common Share Ownership Limit, as the case may be.

12.2.8 Increase or Decrease in Common Share Ownership or Aggregate Share Ownership Limits. Subject to Section 12.2.1(a)(ii) and this Section 12.2.8, the Board of Trustees may from time to time increase or decrease the Common Share Ownership Limit or the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit for one or more Persons and increase or decrease the Common Share Ownership Limit or the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit for all other Persons. No decreased Common Share Ownership Limit or Aggregate Share Ownership Limit will be effective for any Person whose percentage of ownership of Shares is in excess of such decreased Common Share Ownership Limit or Aggregate Share Ownership Limit, as applicable, until such time as such Person's percentage of ownership of Shares equals or falls below the decreased Common Share Ownership Limit or Aggregate Share Ownership Limit, as applicable; provided, however, any further acquisition of Shares by any such Person (other than a Person for whom an exemption has been granted pursuant to Section 12.2.7(a) or an Excepted Holder) in excess of the Shares owned by such person on the date the decreased Common Share Ownership Limit or Aggregate Share Ownership Limit, as applicable, became effective will be in violation of the Common Share Ownership Limit or Aggregate Share Ownership Limit. No increase to the Common Share Ownership Limit or Aggregate Share Ownership Limit may be approved if the new Common Share Ownership Limit and/or Aggregate Share Ownership Limit would allow five or fewer Persons to Beneficially Own, in the aggregate more than 49.9% in value of the outstanding Shares.

12.2.9 Legend. Each certificate for Shares, if certificated, or the notice in lieu of a certificate shall bear substantially the following legend:

The shares represented by this certificate are subject to restrictions on Beneficial Ownership and Constructive Ownership and Transfer for the purpose, among others, of NHF's maintenance of its status as a Real Estate Investment Trust under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Subject to certain further restrictions and except as expressly provided in NHF's Declaration, (i) no Person may Beneficially Own or Constructively Own shares of NHF's Common Shares in excess of the Common Share Ownership Limit, unless such Person is an Excepted Holder (in which case the Excepted Holder Limit shall be applicable); (ii) no Person may Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares of NHF in excess of the Aggregate Share Ownership Limit, unless such Person is an Excepted Holder (in which case the Excepted Holder Limit shall be applicable); (iii) no Person may Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares that would result in NHF being "closely held" under Section 856(h) of the Code or otherwise cause NHF to fail to qualify as a REIT; (iv) no Person may Transfer Shares if such Transfer would result in the Shares of NHF being owned by fewer than 100 Persons; and (v) no Person may Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares that could result in NHF failing to qualify as a "domestically controlled qualified investment entity" under Section 897(h)(4)(B) of the Code. Any Person who Beneficially Owns or Constructively Owns or attempts or intends to Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares which causes or will cause a Person to Beneficially Own or Constructively Own Shares in excess or in violation of the above limitations must immediately notify NHF. If any of the restrictions on transfer or ownership provided in (i), (ii), (iii) or (v) above are violated, the Shares in excess or in violation of the above limitations will be automatically transferred to a Charitable Trustee of a Charitable Trust for the benefit of one or more Charitable Beneficiaries. In addition, NHF may redeem shares upon the terms and conditions specified by the Board of Trustees in its sole discretion if the Board of Trustees determines that ownership or a Transfer or other event may violate the restrictions described above. Furthermore, if the ownership restriction provided in (iv) above would be violated, or upon the occurrence of certain events, attempted Transfers in violation of the restrictions described above may be void ab initio. All capitalized terms in this legend have the meanings given to them in the Declaration, as the same may be amended from time to time, a copy of which, including the restrictions on transfer and ownership, will be furnished to each holder of Shares of NHF on request and without charge. Requests for such a copy may be directed to the Secretary of NHF at its principal office.

Instead of the foregoing legend, the certificate or notice may state that NHF will furnish a full statement about certain restrictions on ownership and transferability to a Shareholder on request and without charge.

12.3 Transfer of Shares in Charitable Trust.

12.3.1 Ownership in Charitable Trust. Upon any purported Transfer or other event described in Section 12.2.1(b) that would result in a transfer of Shares to a Charitable Trust, such Shares shall be deemed to have been transferred to the Charitable Trustee as trustee of a Charitable Trust for the exclusive benefit of one or more Charitable Beneficiaries. Such transfer to the Charitable Trustee shall be deemed to be effective as of the close of business on the Business Day prior to the purported Transfer or other event that results in the transfer to the Charitable Trust pursuant to Section 12.2.1(b). The Charitable Trustee shall be appointed by NHF and shall be a Person unaffiliated with NHF and any Prohibited Owner. Each Charitable Beneficiary shall be designated by NHF as provided in Section 12.3.6.

12.3.2 Status of Shares Held by the Charitable Trustee. Shares held by the Charitable Trustee shall be issued and outstanding Shares of NHF. The Prohibited Owner shall have no rights in the shares held by the Charitable Trustee. The Prohibited Owner shall not benefit economically from ownership of any shares held in trust by the Charitable Trustee, shall have no rights to dividends or other distributions and shall not possess any rights to vote or other rights attributable to the shares held in the Charitable Trust.

12.3.3 Dividend and Voting Rights. The Charitable Trustee shall have all voting rights and rights to dividends or other distributions with respect to Shares held in the Charitable Trust, which rights shall be exercised for the exclusive benefit of the Charitable Beneficiary. Any dividend or other distribution paid prior to the discovery by NHF that the Shares have been transferred to the Charitable Trustee shall be paid by the recipient of such dividend or distribution to the Charitable Trustee upon demand, and any dividend or other distribution authorized but unpaid shall be paid when due to the Charitable Trustee. Any dividend or distribution so paid to the Charitable Trustee shall be held in trust for the Charitable Beneficiary. The Prohibited Owner shall have no voting rights with respect to Shares held in the Charitable Trust and, subject to Delaware law, effective as of the date that the Shares have been transferred to the Charitable Trust, the Charitable Trustee shall have the authority (at the Charitable Trustee's sole discretion) (i) to rescind as void any vote cast by a Prohibited Owner prior to the discovery by NHF that the Shares have been transferred to the Charitable Trust and (ii) to recast such vote in accordance with the desires of the Charitable Trustee acting for the benefit of the Charitable Beneficiary; provided, however, that if NHF has already taken irreversible corporate action, then the Charitable Trustee shall not have the authority to rescind and recast such vote. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Article XII, until NHF has received notification that Shares have been transferred into a Charitable Trust, NHF shall be entitled to rely on its share transfer and other Shareholder records for purposes of preparing lists of Shareholders entitled to vote at meetings, determining the validity and authority of proxies and otherwise conducting votes and determining the other rights of Shareholders.

12.3.4 Sale of Shares by Charitable Trustee. Within 20 days of receiving notice from NHF that Shares have been transferred to the Charitable Trust, the Charitable Trustee of the Charitable Trust shall sell the shares held in the Charitable Trust to a person, designated by the Charitable Trustee, whose ownership of the shares will not violate the ownership limitations set forth in Section 12.2.1(a). Upon such sale, the interest of the Charitable Beneficiary in the shares sold shall terminate and the Charitable Trustee shall distribute the net proceeds of the sale to the Prohibited Owner and to the Charitable Beneficiary as provided in this Section 12.3.4. The Prohibited Owner shall receive the lesser of (1) the price paid by the Prohibited Owner for the shares or, if the Prohibited Owner did not give value for the shares in connection with the event causing the shares to be held in the Charitable Trust (e.g., in the case of a gift, devise or other such transaction), the Market Price of the shares on the day of the event causing the shares to be held in the Charitable Trust and (2) the price per share received by the Charitable Trustee (net of any commissions and other expenses of sale) from the sale or other disposition of the shares held in the Charitable Trust. The Charitable Trustee may reduce the amount payable to the Prohibited Owner by the amount of dividends and distributions which have been paid to the Prohibited Owner and are owed by the Prohibited Owner to the Charitable Trustee pursuant to Section 12.3.3 of this Article XII. Any net sales proceeds in excess of the amount payable to the Prohibited Owner shall be immediately paid to the Charitable Beneficiary. If, prior to the discovery by NHF that Shares have been transferred to the Charitable Trustee, such shares are sold by a Prohibited Owner, then (i) such shares shall be deemed to have been sold on behalf of the Charitable Trust and (ii) to the extent that the Prohibited Owner received an amount for, or in respect of, such shares that exceeds the amount that such Prohibited Owner was entitled to receive pursuant to this Section 12.3.4, such excess shall be paid to the Charitable Trustee upon demand.

12.3.5 Purchase Right in Shares Transferred to the Charitable Trustee. Shares transferred to the Charitable Trustee shall be deemed to have been offered for sale to NHF, or its designee, at a price per share equal to the lesser of (i) the price per share in the transaction that resulted in such transfer to the Charitable Trust (or, in the case of a devise or gift, the Market Price at the time of such devise or gift) and (ii) the Market Price on the date NHF, or its designee, accepts such offer. NHF may reduce the amount payable to the Prohibited Owner by the amount of dividends and distributions which have been paid to the Prohibited Owner and are owed by the Prohibited Owner to the Charitable Trustee pursuant to Section 12.3.3 of this Article XII. NHF may pay the amount of such reduction to the Charitable Trustee for the benefit of the Charitable Beneficiary. NHF shall have the right to accept such offer until the Charitable Trustee has sold the shares held in the Charitable Trust pursuant to Section 12.3.4. Upon such a sale to NHF, the interest of the Charitable Beneficiary in the shares sold shall terminate and the Charitable Trustee shall distribute the net proceeds of the sale to the Prohibited Owner.

12.3.6 Designation of Charitable Beneficiaries. By written notice to the Charitable Trustee, NHF shall designate one or more nonprofit organizations to be the Charitable Beneficiary or Charitable Beneficiaries of the interest in the Charitable Trust such that (i) the Shares held in the Charitable Trust would not violate the restrictions set forth in Section 12.2.1(a) in the hands of such Charitable Beneficiary or Charitable Beneficiaries and (ii) each such organization must be described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code and contributions to each such organization must be eligible for deduction under each of Sections 170(b)(1)(A), 2055 and 2522 of the Code. Neither the failure of NHF to make such designation nor the failure of NHF to appoint the Charitable Trustee before the automatic transfer provided in Section 12.2.1(b) shall make such transfer ineffective, provided that NHF thereafter makes such designation and appointment.

12.4 NYSE Transactions. Nothing in this Article XII shall preclude the settlement of any transaction entered into through the facilities of the NYSE or any other national securities exchange or automated inter-dealer quotation system. The fact that the settlement of any transaction occurs shall not negate the effect of any other provision of this Article XII and any transferee in such a transaction shall be subject to all of the provisions and limitations set forth in this Article XII.

12.5 Enforcement. NHF is authorized specifically to seek equitable relief, including injunctive relief, to enforce the provisions of this Article XII.

12.6 Non-Waiver. No delay or failure on the part of NHF or the Board of Trustees in exercising any right hereunder shall operate as a waiver of any right of NHF or the Board of Trustees, as the case may be, except to the extent specifically waived in writing.

12.7. Severability. If any provision of this Article XII or any application of any such provision is determined to be invalid by any federal or state court having jurisdiction over the issues, the validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected and other applications of such provisions shall be affected only to the extent necessary to comply with the determination of such court.

ARTICLE XIII

MISCELLANEOUS

13.1 Filing. This Declaration and any amendment or supplement hereto shall be filed in such places as may be required or as the Trustees deem appropriate. Each amendment or supplement shall be accompanied by a certificate signed and acknowledged by a Trustee stating that such action was duly taken in a manner provided herein, and shall, upon insertion in the Trust's minute book, be conclusive evidence of all amendments contained therein. A restated Declaration, containing the original Declaration and all amendments and supplements theretofore made, may be executed from time to time by a majority of the Trustees and shall, upon insertion in the Trust's minute book, be conclusive evidence of all amendments and supplements contained therein and may thereafter be referred to in lieu of the original Declaration and the various amendments and supplements thereto.

13.2 Resident Agent. The Trust shall maintain a resident agent in the State of Delaware, which agent shall initially be The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, Wilmington, Delaware 19801 The Trustees may designate a successor resident agent; provided, however, that such appointment shall not become effective until written notice thereof is delivered to the office of the Secretary of the State.

13.3 Governing Law. This Declaration is executed by the Trustees and delivered in the State of Delaware and with reference to the laws thereof, and the rights of all parties and the validity and construction of every provision hereof shall be subject to and construed according to the DSTA.

13.4 Counterparts. This Declaration may be simultaneously executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, and such counterparts, together, shall constitute one and the same instrument, which shall be sufficiently evidenced by any such original counterpart.

13.5 Reliance by Third Parties. Any certificate executed by an individual who, according to the records of the Trust, or of any recording office in which this Declaration may be recorded, appears to be a Trustee hereunder, certifying to: (a) the number or identity of Trustees or Shareholders, (b) the name of the Trust, (c) the due authorization of the execution of any instrument or writing, (d) the form of any vote passed at a meeting of Trustees or Shareholders, (e) the fact that the number of Trustees or Shareholders present at any meeting or executing any written instrument satisfies the requirements of this Declaration, (f) the form of any By-Laws adopted by or the identity of any officers elected by the Trustees, or (g) the existence of any fact or facts which in any manner relate to the affairs of the Trust, shall be conclusive evidence as to the matters so certified in favor of any person dealing with the Trustees and their successors.

13.6 Provisions in Conflict with Law or Regulation. (a) The provisions of this Declaration are severable, and if the Trustees shall determine, with the advice of counsel, that any of such provisions is in conflict with the provisions of the Code or with other applicable laws and regulations, the conflicting provision shall, to the maximum extent possible, be interpreted to give as much effect as possible to the intent of the Declaration taken as a whole; provided, however, that such determination shall not affect any of the remaining provisions of this Declaration or render invalid or improper any action taken or omitted prior to such determination.

(b) If any provision of this Declaration shall be held invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, such invalidity or unenforceability shall attach only to such provision in such jurisdiction and shall not in any manner affect such provision in any other jurisdiction or any other provision of this Declaration in any jurisdiction.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned has caused this Amended and Restated Agreement and Declaration of Trust to be executed as of [ ], 2020.

Dear Stockholder:

You are cordially invited to attend the 2019 Annual Meeting of Stockholders of NexPoint Capital, Inc. (the "Corporation") to be held at 200 Crescent Court, Crescent Club, Dallas, Texas 75201, on Friday, June 14, 2019, at 8:15 a.m. Central Time (the "Annual Meeting").

At the Annual Meeting, you will be asked to elect two (2) Class I directors to each serve a three-year term. In addition to voting on the election of directors, which is described in more detail in the accompanying Notice of Annual Meeting of Stockholders and Proxy Statement, you will have an opportunity to hear a report on the Corporation and to discuss other matters of interest to you as a stockholder.

It is very important that your shares be represented at the Annual Meeting. We hope that you will be able to attend the Annual Meeting in person. Whether or not you plan to attend, I urge you to please complete, date, sign and mail the enclosed proxy card to us to assure that your shares are represented at the Annual Meeting.

Sincerely,

/s/ James Dondero

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS
TO BE HELD ON JUNE 14, 2019

Notice is hereby given to holders of shares of common stock of NexPoint Capital, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Corporation"), that the 2019 Annual Meeting of the Stockholders will be held at 200 Crescent Court, Crescent Club, Dallas, Texas 75201, on Friday, June 14, 2019, at 8:15 a.m. Central Time (the "Annual Meeting"), for the following purposes:

1. To elect each of Bryan A. Ward and Ethan Powell as a Class I director of the Corporation to serve for a three-year term expiring at the 2022 Annual Meeting of the Stockholders or until his successor is duly elected and qualifies; and
2. To transact such other business as may properly come before the Annual Meeting and any adjournment or postponement thereof.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS, INCLUDING EACH OF THE INDEPENDENT DIRECTORS, UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS A VOTE FOR THE ELECTION OF EACH OF THE DIRECTOR NOMINEES.

The close of business on April 16, 2019 has been fixed as the record date for the determination of stockholders entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Annual Meeting and any adjournment or postponement thereof. Please call (844) 485-9167 for directions on how to attend the Annual Meeting and vote in person.

Important Notice Regarding Availability of Proxy Materials for the Stockholder Meeting to be held on June 14, 2019: Copies of these proxy materials, including the Corporation's Annual Report, the Notice for the Annual Meeting, the Proxy Statement and the form of proxy, are available to you on the Internet at <https://www.proxyonline.com/docs/NexPoint2019.pdf>. Copies of the proxy materials are also available upon request, without charge, by writing to AST Fund Solutions, LLC at AST Fund Solutions, ATTN: NexPoint 13450 Fulfillment, 55 Challenger Road, Ridgefield Park, New Jersey 07660, by calling (800) 967-5068, or by sending an e-mail to corporateservices@astfundsolutions.com using subject line: NexPoint 13450 Fulfillment. Stockholders are encouraged to read all of the proxy materials before voting as the proxy materials contain important information necessary to make an informed decision.

The Board of Directors is requesting your vote. Your vote is important regardless of the number of shares that you own. Whether or not you expect to be present at the Annual Meeting, please complete and sign the enclosed proxy card and return it promptly in the enclosed envelope, which needs no postage if mailed in the United States. If you desire to vote in person at the Annual Meeting, you may revoke your proxy at any time before it is exercised.

By Order of the Board of Directors,

PROXY STATEMENT
ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS
JUNE 14, 2019

This Proxy Statement is furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies on behalf of the Board of Directors (the “Board”) of NexPoint Capital, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Corporation”), for use at the Corporation’s 2019 Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the “Annual Meeting”) to be held at 200 Crescent Court, Crescent Club, Dallas, Texas 75201, on Friday, June 14, 2019, at 8:15 a.m. Central Time, and at any and all adjournments or postponements thereof, for the purposes set forth in the accompanying Notice of Annual Meeting of Stockholders dated April 24, 2019. The Corporation is a closed-end management investment company that has elected to be treated as a business development company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”). NexPoint Advisors, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Adviser”) serves as the investment adviser and the administrator (“Administrator”) to the Corporation. The principal executive offices of each of the Corporation and the Adviser are located at 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201.

This Proxy Statement and the accompanying Notice of Annual Meeting of Stockholders and form of proxy are being provided to stockholders on or about April 24, 2019. The Board of Directors (the “Board”) has fixed the close of business on April 16, 2019 as the record date (the “Record Date”) for the determination of stockholders entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, the Annual Meeting. As of the Record Date, 10,385,280 shares of the Common Stock were issued and outstanding, and the Corporation had not issued any shares of preferred stock. Stockholders of the Corporation are entitled to one vote for each share held and fractional votes for each fractional share held.

If the form of proxy is properly executed and returned in time to be voted at the Annual Meeting, the shares covered thereby will be voted at the Annual Meeting in accordance with the instructions marked thereon. All properly executed proxies received by the Board that do not specify how shares should be voted will be voted “FOR” the election as a director of the nominees listed below, and in the discretion of the persons named as proxies in connection with any other matter which may properly come before the Annual Meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof.

The Board does not know of any matter to be considered at the Annual Meeting other than the election of the directors referred to in this Proxy Statement and the Notice of Annual Meeting. A stockholder may revoke his or her proxy any time before it is exercised by (i) voting in person at the Annual Meeting, (ii) giving written notice of such revocation to the Secretary of the Corporation or (iii) returning a properly executed, later-dated proxy.

In addition to soliciting proxies by mail, officers of the Corporation or officers or employees of the Adviser may solicit proxies by web, by telephone or in person. Copies of the Notice for the Annual Meeting, the Proxy Statement, the form of proxy and the Corporation’s annual report are available at <https://www.proxyonline.com/docs/NexPoint2019.pdf>. The Corporation has engaged AST Fund Solutions, LLC, at AST Fund Solutions, ATTN: NexPoint 13450 Fulfillment, 55 Challenger Road, Suite 201, Ridgefield Park, New Jersey 07660 to provide stockholder meeting services, including the distribution of this Proxy Statement and related materials to stockholders, as well as assisting the Corporation in soliciting proxies for the Annual Meeting, at an approximate cost of $16,284. The costs of proxy solicitation and expenses incurred in connection with the preparation of this Proxy Statement and its enclosures will be paid by the Corporation.

Quorum

A quorum must be present at the Annual Meeting for any business to be conducted. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares of Common Stock entitled to vote shall constitute a quorum for the Annual Meeting. Shares represented by properly executed proxies with respect to which (i) a vote is withheld or (ii) the stockholder abstains will be treated as shares that are present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining a quorum.

Shares of Common Stock held by a broker or other nominee for which the nominee has not received voting instructions from the record holder and does not have discretionary authority to vote the shares on non-routine proposals are considered “broker non-votes” with respect to such proposals. Because the election of directors is a non-routine matter, broker non-votes are not entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting. Therefore, broker non-votes will be treated as shares that are not present for quorum purposes at the Annual Meeting.

If a quorum is not present at the Annual Meeting, or if a quorum is present but sufficient votes to approve the proposal are not received, the persons named as proxies may propose one or more adjournments or postponements of the Annual Meeting to permit further solicitation of proxies. Any adjournment or postponement will require the affirmative vote of a majority of those shares that are represented at the Annual Meeting in person or by proxy, whether or not a quorum is present.

Vote Required

The election of a director requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of Common Stock cast at the Annual Meeting in person or by proxy. Abstentions are counted as present at the Annual Meeting but, assuming the presence of a quorum, will have the effect of a vote against each nominee.

Broker non-votes are described as votes cast by a broker or other nominee on behalf of a beneficial holder who does not provide explicit voting instructions to such broker or nominee and who does not attend the Annual Meeting. The election of a director is a non-routine matter. As a result, if you hold shares in “street name” through a broker, bank or other nominee, your broker, bank or nominee will not be permitted to exercise voting discretion with respect to the proposal at the Annual Meeting to elect each of Bryan A. Ward and Ethan Powell as a Class I director of the Corporation. Thus, if you do not give your broker or nominee specific instructions on how to vote for you or do not vote for yourself by returning a proxy card or by other arrangement with your broker or nominee, your shares will have no effect on the election of the Class I directors at the Annual Meeting.

THE PROPOSAL ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Board is currently composed of five directors, who are divided into three classes with staggered terms of three years each, with the term of office of one of the three classes expiring at each annual meeting of the stockholders. At the Annual Meeting, the holders of the Corporation’s shares of Common Stock are being asked to re-elect Bryan A. Ward and Ethan Powell as Class I Directors of the Corporation, each to serve for a three-year term expiring at the 2022 Annual Meeting of Stockholders or until his respective successor is duly elected and qualifies. Each of Messrs. Ward and Powell is currently serving as a Class I Director of the Corporation and has agreed to continue to serve as a Class I Director, if re-elected. If Messrs. Ward and Powell are not available for re-election at the time of the Annual Meeting, the persons named as proxies will vote for such substitute nominee(s) as the Corporation’s Governance and Compliance Committee may select.

Each of John Honis and Dustin Norris is currently serving as a Class III Director and each was last elected to serve a three year term at the Corporation’s annual meeting of stockholders held on June 22, 2018. Dr. Bob Froehlich is currently serving as a Class II Director. Dr. Froehlich was last elected to serve a three year term at the Corporation's annual meeting of stockholders held on June 2, 2017. Ethan Powell and Bryan A. Ward are currently serving as Class I Directors. Messrs. Powell and Ward will continue to serve as Class I Directors if re-elected at the Annual Meeting. The Corporation's Directors are not required to attend the Corporation's annual stockholder meetings.

THE BOARD, INCLUDING EACH OF THE INDEPENDENT DIRECTORS, UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS THAT STOCKHOLDERS VOTE "FOR" THE ELECTION OF THE NOMINEES AS DIRECTORS.

Qualifications and Additional Information about each Director Nominee and Continuing Directors

The following provides an overview of the considerations that led the Board to conclude that each individual nominee for director or the individuals serving as continuing directors of the Corporation should be nominated or so serve, as well as each nominee's and each director's name and certain biographical information as reported by them to the Corporation. Among the factors the Board considered when concluding that an individual should be a nominee for director or serve on the Board were the following: the individual's experience, skills, expertise, education, knowledge, diversity, personal and professional integrity, character, business judgment, time availability in light of other commitments, dedication, the candidate's ability to qualify as an Independent Director and the existence of any other relationships that might give rise to a conflict of interest and other relevant factors that the Corporation's Governance and Compliance Committee considers appropriate in the context of the needs of the Board (e.g., whether a candidate is an "audit committee financial expert" under the federal securities laws).

In respect of each director nominee and each continuing director, the individual's professional accomplishments and prior experience, including, in some cases, in fields related to the operations of the Corporation, were a significant factor in the determination that the individual should be a nominee for director or serve as a director of the Corporation. Each director nominee's and each continuing director's professional experience and additional considerations that contributed to the Board's conclusion that an individual should serve on the Board are summarized in the table below.

The "Highland Funds Complex," as referred to herein consists of: the Corporation, each series of Highland Funds I ("HFI"), each series of Highland Funds II ("HFII"), Highland Floating Rate Opportunities Fund ("HFRO"), NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund ("NHF"), Highland Global Allocation Fund ("GAF"), NexPoint Event-Driven Fund ("NEDF"), NexPoint Latin American Opportunities Fund ("NLAF"), NexPoint Real Estate Strategies Fund ("NRESF"), NexPoint Strategic Income Fund ("NSIF"), NexPoint Energy and Materials Opportunities Fund ("NEMO"), NexPoint Discount Strategies Fund ("NDSF"), and NexPoint Healthcare Opportunities Fund ("NHOF" and, together with NEDF, NLAF, NRESF, NSIF, NEMO and NDSF, the "Interval Funds").

Dustin Norris (6) (1/6/1984)	Director	Terms expires 2021; Class III Director since February 2018	President of NexPoint Securities, Inc. (formerly, Highland Capital Funds Distributor, Inc.) since April 2018; Head of Distribution and Chief Product Strategist at the Adviser since March 2019; Head of Distribution at HCMFA from November 2018 to March 2019; Secretary of Highland Floating Rate Opportunities Fund ("HFRO"), Highland Global Allocation Fund ("GAF"), Highland Funds I ("HFI") and Highland Funds II ("HFII") from October 2017-April 2019; Assistant Secretary of HFRO and GAF from August 2017 to October 2017; Chief Product Strategist at HCMFA from September 2015 to March 2019; and Director of Product Strategy at HCMFA from May 2014 to September 2015; Assistant Secretary of HFI and HFII from March 2017 to October 2017; Secretary of NexPoint Strategic Opportunities Fund ("NHF") from December 2015 to April 2019; Assistant Treasurer of NexPoint Real Estate Advisors, L.P. since May 2015; Assistant Treasurer of NexPoint Real Estate Advisors II, L.P. since June 2016; Assistant Treasurer of HFI and HFII from November 2012 to March 2017; Assistant Treasurer of NHF from November 2012 to December 2015; Secretary of the Corporation from 2014 to April 2019; Secretary of the Interval Funds from March 2016 to April 2019; and Senior Accounting Manager at HCMFA from August 2012 to May 2014.	None	Significant experience in the financial industry; significant managerial and executive experience, including experience as an officer of the Highland Funds Complex since 2012.

- (1) The address for each nominee and director is c/o NexPoint Advisors, L.P., 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201.
- (2) On an annual basis, as a matter of Board policy, the Governance and Compliance Committee reviews each director's performance and determines whether to extend each such director's service for another year. Effective June 2013, the Board adopted a retirement policy wherein the Committee shall not recommend the continued service as a director of a Board member who is older than 80 years of age at the time the Committee reports its findings to the Board.
- (3) Each nominee and director oversees 24 portfolios in the Highland Funds Complex.
- (4) Prior to December 8, 2017, Mr. Powell was treated as an Interested Director of the Corporation for all purposes other than compensation and the Corporation's code of ethics.
- (5) Since May 1, 2015, Mr. Honis has been treated as an Independent Director of the Corporation. Prior to that date, Mr. Honis was treated as an Interested Director because he was a partner of an investment adviser affiliated with the Adviser until his resignation in November 2014. As of March 5, 2019, Mr. Honis was entitled to receive aggregate severance and/or deferred compensation payments of approximately $400,000 from another affiliate of the Adviser.

In addition, Mr. Honis serves as a trustee of a trust that owns substantially all of the economic interest in an investment adviser affiliated with the Adviser. Mr. Honis indirectly receives an asset-based fee in respect of such interest, which is projected to range from $450,000-$550,000 annually. Additionally, an investment adviser controlled by Mr. Honis has entered into a shared services arrangement with an affiliate of the Adviser, pursuant to which the affiliate provides back office support in exchange for approximately $50,000 per quarter. The affiliated adviser was paid $147,000 and $208,000 in 2017 and 2018, respectively. In light of these relationships between Mr. Honis and affiliates of the Adviser, it is possible that the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") might in the future determine Mr. Honis to be an interested person of the Corporation.

- (6) On February 7, 2018, Mr. Norris was appointed as an Interested Director of the Corporation.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act") and the rules thereunder require that the Corporation's directors and officers and persons who own beneficially, directly or indirectly, more than 10 percent of any class of the Corporation's securities file initial reports of beneficial ownership and reports of changes in beneficial ownership with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and furnish the Corporation with copies of all such reports. Specific due dates for those reports have been established, and the Corporation is required to report in this Proxy Statement any known failure to file such reports by those due dates. Based solely upon a review of the copies of such reports furnished, the Corporation does not know of any director, officer or person who beneficially owns more than 10 percent of any class of the Corporation's securities who failed to file on a timely basis the required reports.

Role of the Board of Directors, Leadership Structure and Risk Oversight

The Role of the Board of Directors

The Board oversees the management and operations of the Corporation. Like most business development companies and registered investment companies, the day-to-day management and operation of the Corporation is performed by various service providers to the Corporation, such as the Adviser, custodian and transfer agent. The Board has appointed senior employees of certain of these service providers as officers of the Corporation, with responsibility to monitor and report to the Board on the Corporation's operations. The Board receives regular reports from these officers and service providers regarding the Corporation's operations. For example, the Chief Financial Officer provides reports as to financial reporting matters and investment personnel report on the performance of the Corporation. The Board has appointed a Chief Compliance Officer who administers the Corporation's compliance program and regularly reports to the Board as to compliance matters. Some of these reports are provided as part of formal in-person Board meetings, which are typically held quarterly, and involve the Board's review of, among other items, recent Corporation operations. The Board also periodically holds telephonic meetings as part of its review of the Corporation's activities. From time to time, one or more members of the Board may also meet with management in less formal settings, between scheduled Board meetings, to discuss various topics. In all cases, however, the role of the Board and of any individual director is one of oversight and not of management of the day-to-day affairs of the Corporation and its oversight role does not make the Board a guarantor of the Corporation's investments, operations or activities.

Board Structure and Leadership

The Board has structured itself in a manner that it believes allows it to perform its oversight function effectively. The Board consists of five directors, four of whom are not "interested persons," as defined in 1940 Act, of the Corporation. These individuals are referred to as the Corporation's independent directors (the "Independent Directors"). The other director, Mr. Norris, is currently treated as an interested director (the "Interested Director") because of his position with the Adviser, and his previous position with HCMFA, an affiliate of the Adviser. During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018, the Board convened eleven times. Each Director then serving in such capacity attended at least 75% of the meetings. The Corporation encourages, but does not require, Directors to attend the Annual Meeting.

The Board periodically reviews its leadership structure, including the role of the Chairman. The Board also completes an annual self-assessment during which it reviews its leadership and Committee structure and considers whether its structure remains appropriate in light of the Corporation's current operations. The Board believes that its leadership structure, including the current percentage of the Board who are Independent Directors is appropriate given its specific characteristics. These characteristics include: (i) the extent to which the work of the Board is conducted through the standing committees, each of whose meetings are chaired by an Independent Director; (ii) the extent to which the Independent Directors meet as needed, together with their independent legal counsel, in the absence of members of management and any member of the Board who is considered an "interested person" of the Corporation; and (iii) Mr. Powell's and Mr. Honis' previous positions with affiliates of the Adviser, which enhances the Board's understanding of the operations of the Adviser.

Board Oversight of Risk Management. The Board's role is one of oversight, rather than active management. This oversight extends to the Corporation's risk management processes. These processes are embedded in the responsibilities of officers of, and service providers to, the Corporation. For example, the Adviser and other service providers to the Corporation are primarily responsible for the management of the Corporation's investment risks. The Board has not established a formal risk oversight committee. However, much of the regular work of the Board and its standing Committees addresses aspects of risk oversight. For example, the Directors seek to understand the key risks facing the Corporation, including those involving conflicts of interest; how management identifies and monitors these risks on an ongoing basis; how management develops and implements controls to mitigate these risks; and how management tests the effectiveness of those controls.

In the course of providing that oversight, the Board receives a wide range of reports on the Corporation's activities from the Adviser and other service providers, including reports regarding the Corporation's investment portfolio, the compliance of the Corporation with applicable laws, and the Corporation's financial accounting and reporting. The Board also meets periodically with the Corporation's Chief Compliance Officer to receive reports regarding the compliance of the Corporation with the federal securities laws and the Corporation's internal compliance policies and procedures and meets with the Corporation's Chief Compliance Officer periodically, including at least annually, to review the Chief Compliance Officer's annual report, including the Chief Compliance Officer's risk-based analysis for the Corporation. The Board's Audit and Qualified Legal Compliance Committee (the "Audit Committee") also meets regularly with the Chief Financial Officer and the Corporation's independent registered public accounting firm to discuss, among other things, the internal control structure of the Corporation's financial reporting function. The Board also meets periodically with the portfolio managers of the Corporation to receive reports regarding the management of the Corporation, including its investment risks.

The Board recognizes that not all risks that may affect the Corporation can be identified, that it may not be practical or cost-effective to eliminate or mitigate certain risks, that it may be necessary to bear certain risks (such as investment-related risks) to achieve the Corporation's goals, that reports received by the directors with respect to risk management matters are typically summaries of the relevant information, and that the processes, procedures and controls employed to address risks may be limited in their effectiveness. As a result of the foregoing and other factors, risk management oversight by the Board and by the Committees is subject to substantial limitations.

Committees of the Board

The Board conducts much of its work through certain standing Committees. The Board has three Committees, the Audit and Qualified Legal Compliance Committee (the "Audit Committee"), the Governance and Compliance Committee, and the Distribution and Alternatives Oversight Committee, which are discussed in greater detail below. The Board has adopted charters for each of these Committees.

Prior to March 1, 2019, the Board had five Committees, the Audit Committee, the Governance Committee, the Compliance Committee, the Distribution Oversight Committee and the Alternatives Oversight Committee. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018, the Audit Committee held seven meetings and the Governance Committee held three meetings. The Compliance Committee held three meetings during the fiscal year ended

December 31, 2018. The Distribution Oversight Committee held two meetings during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018. The Alternatives Oversight Committee held two meetings during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018. Each Director then serving in such capacity attended at least 75% of the meetings of the Committees of which he is a member.

Audit and Qualified Legal Compliance Committee

The members of the Audit Committee are Dr. Froehlich and Messrs. Ward and Powell, each of whom is an Independent Director. Mr. Ward serves as Chairman of the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee is responsible for approving the Corporation's independent registered public accounting firm, reviewing with the Corporation's independent accountants the plans and results of the audit engagement and the adequacy of the Corporation's internal accounting controls, and approving professional services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm. The Audit Committee is charged with compliance with Rules 205.2(k) and 205.3(c) of Title 17 of the Code of Federal Regulations regarding alternative reporting procedures for attorneys representing the Corporation who appear and practice before the SEC on behalf of the Corporation. The Audit Committee is also responsible for reviewing and overseeing the valuation of debt and equity securities that are not publicly traded or for which current market values are not readily available pursuant to policies and procedures adopted by the Board. The Board and Audit Committee will use the services of one or more independent valuation firms to help them determine the fair value of these securities. The Board has determined that Mr. Ward is an "audit committee financial expert," as defined under Item 407(d)(5) of Regulation S-K under the Exchange Act. In addition, each member of the Audit Committee meets the current independence and experience requirements of Rule 10A-3 under the Exchange Act.

A current copy of the Corporation's Audit Committee Charter is available on the Corporation's website at <http://nexpointcapital.com/investor-relations/>.

Governance and Compliance Committee

The members of the Governance and Compliance Committee are Dr. Froehlich and Messrs. Honis, Powell and Ward, each of whom is independent for purposes of the 1940 Act. Dr. Froehlich serves as the Chairman of the Governance and Compliance Committee. The Governance and Compliance Committee's function is to oversee and make recommendations to the full Board or the Independent Directors, as applicable, with respect to the Corporation's governance, selection and nomination of directors, compensation of directors, and related matters, as well as to oversee and assist Board oversight of the Corporation's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements and to seek to address any potential conflicts of interest between the Corporation and the Adviser in connection with any potential or existing litigation or other legal proceeding related to securities held by the Corporation and the Adviser or another client of the Adviser. The Governance and Compliance Committee is also responsible for at least annually evaluating each director and determining whether to recommend each director's continued service in that capacity.

The Governance and Compliance Committee considers nominees properly recommended by the Corporation's stockholders. The Corporation's bylaws provide that for any nomination to be properly brought by a stockholder for a meeting, such stockholder will have to comply with advance notice requirements and provide the Corporation with certain information. Generally, to be timely, a stockholder's notice must be received at the Corporation's principal executive offices not less than 90 days nor more than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the date the proxy statement for the immediately preceding annual meeting of stockholders was released to the Corporation's stockholders.

The Corporation's bylaws further provide that nominations of persons for election to the Board at a special meeting may be made only by or at the direction of the Board and, provided that the Board has determined that directors will be elected at the meeting, by a stockholder who is entitled to vote at the meeting and who has complied with the advance notice provisions of the bylaws.

This notice must contain, as to each nominee, all of the information relating to such person as would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement meeting the requirements of Regulation 14A under the Exchange Act, and certain other information set forth in the bylaws, including the following information for each director nominee: full name, age and address; principal occupation during the past five years; directorships on publicly held companies and investment companies during the past five years; number of shares of Common Stock owned, if any; and a written consent of the individual to stand for election if nominated by the Board and to serve if elected by the stockholders. In order to be eligible to be a nominee for election as a director, such potential nominee may be required to provide additional information to determine his or her qualifications or eligibility to serve on the Board.

The Governance and Compliance Committee has not established any specific, minimum qualifications that must be met for an individual to be considered for nomination as a director. Criteria and attributes considered by the Governance and Compliance Committee in evaluating the qualifications of individuals for election as a director, including individuals nominated by stockholders, include the following: experience, skills, expertise, education, knowledge, diversity, personal and professional integrity, character, business judgment, time availability in light of other commitments, dedication, the individual's ability to qualify as an Independent Director and the existence of any other relationships that might give rise to a conflict of interest and other relevant factors that the Governance and Compliance Committee considers appropriate in the context of the needs of the Board (e.g., whether a candidate is an "audit committee financial expert" under the federal securities laws).

A current copy of the Corporation's Governance and Compliance Committee Charter is available on the Corporation's website at <http://nexpointcapital.com/investor-relations/>.

Alternatives and Distribution Oversight Committee

The members of the Alternatives and Distribution Oversight Committee are Dr. Froehlich and Messrs. Honis, Norris, Powell and Ward. The Alternatives and Distribution Oversight Committee is responsible for reviewing arrangements with financial intermediaries who provide service to the Corporation, including Corporation payments to financial intermediaries and for overseeing any funds that, in the Board's determination, employ alternative investment strategies. Mr. Honis serves as Chairman of the Alternatives and Distribution Oversight Committee.

Compensation Committee

As none of the Corporation's executive officers are compensated by the Corporation, the Corporation does not have a compensation committee and neither the Board nor a Committee thereof produces and/or reviews a report on executive compensation practices. The Governance and Compliance Committee reviews and evaluates compensation payable to the Independent Directors at least annually to ensure that such compensation continues to be appropriate in light of the responsibilities of the Independent Directors. The Governance and Compliance Committee makes any recommendations regarding changes to Independent Directors' compensation to the Board, and the full Board approves the Independent Directors' compensation.

Compensation of Directors and Executive Officers

The executive officers of the Corporation receive no direct remuneration from the Corporation. Each Independent Director of the Corporation receives an annual retainer of $150,000 payable in quarterly installments and allocated among each portfolio in the Highland Funds Complex based upon relative net assets. The Independent Directors are reimbursed for actual out-of-pocket expenses relating to attendance at meetings. The Independent Directors do not receive any separate compensation in connection with service on Committees or for attending Board or Committee meetings; however, the Chairman of the Board and the Chairman of the Audit Committee each receive an additional payment of $10,000 payable in quarterly installments and allocated among each portfolio in the Highland Funds Complex based on relative net assets. The Independent Directors do not receive equity awards or incentive-based compensation and do not have any pension or retirement plan.

The following table summarizes the compensation paid by the Corporation to its directors and the aggregate compensation paid by the Highland Funds Complex to the directors for services rendered in the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018.

Name of Director	Aggregate Compensation from the Corporation	Aggregate Compensation from the Highland Funds Complex

Interested Director
Dustin Norris(5)	N/A	N/A

- (1) Effective March 31, 2019, Mr. Hui resigned as an Independent Director of the Corporation.
- (2) Effective December 31, 2018, the Board approved an aggregate compensation increase of $10,000 payable to each of the Chairman of the Audit Committee and the Chairman of the Board.
- (3) Effective May 1, 2015, Mr. Honis is treated as an Independent Director of the Corporation.
- (4) Prior to December 8, 2017, Mr. Powell was treated as an Interested Director of the Corporation for all purposes other than compensation and the Corporation's code of ethics.
- (5) On February 7, 2018, Mr. Norris was appointed an Interested Director of the Corporation.

Code of Conduct and Code of Ethics

The Corporation expects each of its officers and directors, as well as any person affiliated with its operations, to act in accordance with the highest standards of personal and professional integrity at all times and to comply with the Corporation's policies and procedures and all laws, rules and regulations of any applicable international, federal, provincial, state or local government. To this effect, the Corporation has adopted a Sarbanes-Oxley ("SOX") Code of Ethics, which is posted on the Corporation's website at <http://nexpointcapital.com/investor-relations/>. The SOX Code of Ethics applies to the Corporation's principal executive officer and principal financial officer.

As required by the 1940 Act, the Corporation and the Adviser have each adopted a Code of Ethics (the "Rule 17j-1 Code of Ethics") that establishes procedures that apply to the Corporation's directors, executive officers, officers, their respective staffs and the employees of the Adviser with respect to their personal investments and investment transactions. Each Rule 17j-1 Code of Ethics generally does not permit investments by the Corporation's directors, officers or any other covered person in securities that may be purchased or held by the Corporation. You may access the Corporation's Rule 17j-1 Code of Ethics on the Corporation's website at <http://nexpointcapital.com/investor-relations/>.

Certain Relationships and Related Party Transactions

The Corporation has entered into agreements with the Adviser and Administrator. Certain members of the Corporation's senior management have ownership and financial interests in the Adviser and the Administrator. Members of senior management also serve as officers of other investment managers affiliated with the Adviser that do and may in the future manage investment funds, accounts or other investment vehicles with investment objectives similar to those of the Corporation. In addition, the Corporation's executive officers and directors and the members of the Adviser serve or may serve as officers, directors or principals of entities that operate in the same, or related, lines of business as the Corporation does or of investment funds, accounts or other investment vehicles managed by the Corporation's affiliates. These investment funds, accounts or other investment vehicles may have investment objectives similar to the Corporation's investment objective.

As a result, the Corporation may not be given the opportunity to participate in certain investments made by investment funds, accounts or other investment vehicles managed by the Adviser or its affiliates. However, in order to fulfill its fiduciary duties to each of its clients, the Adviser intends to allocate investment opportunities in a manner that is fair and equitable over time and is consistent with the Adviser's allocation policy, investment objective and strategies so that the Corporation is not disadvantaged in relation to any other client. Where the Corporation is able to co-invest consistent with the requirements of the 1940 Act, if sufficient securities or loan amounts are available to satisfy the Corporation's and each such account's proposed demand, the opportunity will be allocated in accordance with the Adviser's pre-transaction determination. If there is an insufficient amount of an investment opportunity to satisfy the Corporation's demand and that of other accounts sponsored or managed by the Adviser or its affiliates, the allocation policy provides that allocations among the Corporation and such other accounts will generally be made pro rata based on the amount that each such party would have invested if sufficient securities or loan amounts were available. Where the Corporation is unable to co-invest consistent with the requirements of the 1940 Act, the Adviser's allocation policy further provides for investments to be allocated on a random or rotational basis to assure that all clients have fair and equitable access to such investment opportunities.

The Board, in consultation with the Corporation's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Compliance Officer and legal counsel, may review potential related party transactions and, during these reviews, it may also consider any conflicts of interest brought to its attention pursuant to the Corporation's Code of Conduct or the Corporation's or the Adviser's Rule 17j-1 Code of Ethics.

The Corporation has entered into an investment advisory agreement with the Adviser pursuant to which the Adviser has agreed to provide investment advisory services to the Corporation. In exchange for these services, the Corporation will pay the Adviser a fee for investment management services consisting of a base management fee and a performance-based incentive fee. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018, the Adviser earned a base management fee of $2,025,178. For the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018, the Adviser did not earn an incentive fee. Effective December 20, 2017, the Adviser ended its voluntary waiver of advisory fees. Fees waived before June 10, 2016 are not subject to recoupment. The Adviser may elect to recoup any fees voluntarily waived from and after June 10, 2016 within three years from the date that such fees were otherwise payable, provided that the recoupment of the Adviser will be limited to the amount of such voluntarily waived fees (excluding any fees the Adviser has indicated are not subject to recoupment) and will not cause the sum of the Corporation's advisory fees, administration fees, and "Other Expenses" (as defined in the Expense Limitation Agreement), nor will any recoupment exceed the annual rate of 3.40% of average gross assets.

The Corporation has also entered into an administration agreement pursuant to which the Adviser furnishes the Corporation with office facilities, equipment and clerical, bookkeeping, recordkeeping and other administrative services to enable the Corporation to operate. The Corporation has agreed to reimburse the Adviser for its allocable portion of overhead and other expenses incurred by the Adviser in performing its obligations under the administration agreement. To the extent that the Adviser outsources any of its functions, the Corporation will pay the fees associated with such functions on a direct basis without profit to the Adviser. In no event, however, will the Corporation reimburse the Adviser under the administration agreement in an amount that exceeds an annual rate of 0.4% of the Corporation's gross assets, including cash and cash equivalents and assets purchased with borrowed funds.

In the future, the Corporation may engage the Adviser or certain of its affiliates to provide services other than those discussed above. Any arrangements would be subject to approval by the Board prior to the Adviser or its affiliates being engaged to provide services to the Corporation.

Information About the Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

At a meeting held on December 6-7, 2018, the Corporation's Audit Committee approved, and the Corporation's Board, including a majority of the Independent Directors, ratified the selection of, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP ("PwC") as the Corporation's independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2019. After reviewing the Corporation's audited financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018, the Corporation's Audit Committee recommended to the Corporation's Board that such statements be included in the Corporation's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018. A copy of the Audit Committee's report appears below. The directors do not have knowledge of any direct or indirect financial interest of PwC in the Corporation. Representative(s) of PwC will not attend the Annual Meeting.

The following table presents fees for professional services rendered by PwC for the Corporation's fiscal years ended December 31, 2018 and 2017. One hundred percent (100%) of all services provided by PwC were pre-approved and no fees were subject to pre-approval by the Audit Committee pursuant to Rule 2-01(c)(7)(i)(c) of Regulation S-X. The audit services are approved by the Audit Committee pursuant to an audit engagement letter, and, in accordance with the Corporation's pre-approval policies and procedures, the Audit Committee of the Corporation must pre-approve all non-audit services provided by PwC, and all non-audit services provided by PwC to the Adviser, or any entity controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the Adviser that provides ongoing services to the Corporation that are related to the operations and financial reporting of the Corporation. In some circumstances, when certain services were not recognized at the time of the engagement to be non-audit services, the pre-approval requirement may be waived if the aggregate amount of the fees for such non-audit services constitutes less than five percent of the total amount of revenues paid to PwC by the Corporation during the fiscal year in which the non-audit services are provided. PwC provides permitted non-audit services to certain entities controlling, controlled by or under common control with the Adviser that provide ongoing services to the Corporation.

Audit Fees paid by the Corporation	$139,500	$132,000
Audit-Related Fees paid by the Corporation	$ 66,000	$ 67,500
Tax Fees paid by the Corporation	$ 11,430	$ 11,430
All Other Fees paid by the Corporation	$ 0	$ 0
Total Fees	$216,930	$210,930

Audit Fees. Audit fees consist of fees billed for professional services rendered for the audit of the Corporation's year-end financial statements and reviews of the interim financial statements included in quarterly reports and services that are normally provided by PwC in connection with statutory and regulatory filings.

Audit-Related Fees. Audit-related fees consist of fees billed for assurance and related services that are reasonably related to the performance of the audit or review of the Corporation's financial statements and are not reported under "Audit Fees." These services include attestation services that are not required by statute or regulation, consultations concerning financial accounting and reporting standards, and fees related to requests for documentation and information from regulatory and other government agencies.

Tax Fees. Tax fees consist of fees billed for professional services for tax compliance. These services include assistance regarding federal, state, and local tax compliance.

All Other Fees. All other fees include fees for products and services other than the services reported above.

Report of the Audit Committee(1)

The following is the report of the Audit Committee (the “Committee”) of NexPoint Capital, Inc. (the “Corporation”) with respect to the Corporation’s audited financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018.

The Committee oversees the Corporation’s accounting and financial reporting processes and the audits of the Corporation’s financial statements. Management is responsible for the preparation, presentation and integrity of the Corporation’s financial statements, the Corporation’s accounting and financial and reporting principles, and internal controls and procedures designed to assure compliance with accounting standards and applicable laws and regulations. The Committee reviewed the audited financial statements in the Corporation’s annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018 with management and discussed the quality of the accounting principles, the reasonableness of significant judgments and the clarity of disclosures in the financial statements.

The Committee has considered and discussed the above described December 31, 2018 audited financial statements with management and with PwC. The Committee has also discussed with PwC the matters required to be discussed by the statement on Auditing Standards No. 1301, as amended (AICPA, Professional Standards, Vol. 1. AU section 380), as adopted by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (“PCAOB”) in Rule 3200T, The Auditor’s Communication With Those Charged With Governance. The Committee reviewed with PwC, who is responsible for expressing an opinion on the conformity of those audited financial statements with generally accepted accounting principles, their judgment as to the quality, not just the acceptability, of the Corporation’s accounting principles and such other matters as are required to be discussed with the Committee under generally accepted auditing standards. Finally, the Committee reviewed the written disclosures and the letters from PwC required by PCAOB Rule 3526, Communication with Audit Committees Concerning Independence, as currently in effect, has considered whether the provision of other non-audit services by PwC to the Corporation are compatible with maintaining PwC’s independence, and has discussed with PwC its independence of the Corporation.

The Committee discussed with PwC the overall scope and plans for the audit. The Committee met with PwC to discuss the results of their audit, their evaluations of the Corporation’s internal controls and the overall quality of the Corporation’s financial reporting.

Based upon the reports and discussions described in this report, and subject to the limitations on the role and responsibilities of the Committee referred to in this proxy statement and in the Committee’s Charter, the Committee recommended to the Board (and the Board has approved) that the Corporation’s audited financial statements be included in the Corporation’s annual report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018 and filed with the SEC.

Stockholders are reminded, however, that the members of the Committee are not professionally engaged in the practice of auditing or accounting. Members of the Committee rely, without independent verification, on the information provided to them and on the representations made by management and PwC. Accordingly, the Committee’s oversight does not provide an independent basis to determine that management has maintained appropriate accounting and financial reporting principles or appropriate internal controls and procedures designed to assure compliance with accounting standards and applicable laws and regulations. Furthermore, the Committee’s considerations and discussions, referred to above, do not assure that the audit of the Corporation’s financial statements has been carried out in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB, that the financial statements are presented in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America or that the Corporation's independent registered public accounting firm is, in fact, "independent."

OTHER MATTERS TO COME BEFORE THE ANNUAL MEETING

The directors do not intend to present any other business at the Annual Meeting nor are they aware that any stockholder intends to do so. If, however, any other matters are properly brought before the Annual Meeting, the persons named in the proxy will vote thereon in accordance with their judgment.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Stockholder Proposals

The Corporation expects that the 2020 Annual Meeting of Stockholders will be held in June 2020, but the exact date, time and location of such meeting have yet to be determined. Proposals to be included in the proxy statement for the 2020 Annual Meeting must be submitted by eligible stockholders who have complied with the relevant regulations of the SEC and received no later than December 26, 2019.

In addition, the Corporation's bylaws contain an advance notice provision requiring that, if a stockholder's proposal, including nomination of a director, is brought before the next annual meeting of the Corporation's stockholders, such stockholder must provide timely notice thereof in writing addressed to Lauren Thedford, Secretary, c/o NexPoint Capital, Inc., 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201. Notices of intention to present proposals, including nomination of a director, at the 2020 Annual Meeting must be received by the Corporation between December 26, 2019 and 5:00 p.m. Central Time on January 24, 2020. The submission of a proposal does not guarantee its inclusion in the Corporation's proxy statement or presentation at the 2020 Annual Meeting of the Stockholders unless certain securities law requirements are met. The Corporation reserves the right to reject, rule out of order, or to take other appropriate action with respect to any proposal that does not comply with these and other applicable requirements. Proxies solicited by the Corporation will confer discretionary voting authority with respect to these proposals if the proposals are not received by the Corporation, in good order and complying with all applicable legal requirements, by March 9, 2020, and may confer discretionary voting authority with respect to proposals received before such date, in each case subject to SEC rules governing the exercise of this authority.

Delivery Requirements

The SEC has adopted rules that permit companies and intermediaries such as brokers to satisfy delivery requirements for proxy statements with respect to two or more stockholders sharing the same address by delivering a single proxy statement or Notice of Internet Availability of Proxy Materials ("Notice") addressed to those stockholders or by sending separate Notices for each household account in a single envelope. This process, which is commonly referred to as "householding," potentially provides extra convenience for stockholders and cost savings for companies. The Corporation and some brokers household proxy materials or Notices, delivering a single proxy statement or Notice to multiple stockholders sharing an address unless contrary instructions have been received from the affected stockholders. Once a stockholder has received notice from a broker or the Corporation that they will be householding materials to the stockholder's address, householding will continue until the stockholder is notified otherwise or until the stockholder revokes consent. If a stockholder does not want Corporation mailings consolidated and would prefer to receive separate mailings at any time in the future, the stockholder should call the Corporation at (844) 485-9167 or write the Corporation c/o NexPoint Advisors, L.P., 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201 and the Corporation will furnish separate mailings, in accordance with instructions.

COPIES OF THE CORPORATION'S ANNUAL REPORT DATED DECEMBER 31, 2018 TO STOCKHOLDERS ARE AVAILABLE UPON REQUEST, WITHOUT CHARGE, BY WRITING TO AST FUND SOLUTIONS, LLC AT AST FUND SOLUTIONS, ATTN: NEXPOINT 13450 FULFILLMENT, 55 CHALLENGER ROAD, RIDGEFIELD PARK, NEW JERSEY 07660, BY CALLING (800) 967-5068, OR BY SENDING AN E-MAIL TO CORPORATESERVICES@ASTFUNDSOLUTIONS.COM, USING SUBJECT LINE: NEXPOINT 13450 FULFILLMENT.

Communications with Directors

Stockholders of the Corporation who wish to communicate with the directors (or with an individual director) should send communications to the attention of Lauren Thedford, Secretary, c/o NexPoint Advisors, L.P., 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201, and all communications will be directed to the director or directors indicated in the communication or, if no director or directors are indicated, to all directors.

It is important that proxies be returned promptly. Whether or not you expect to attend the Annual Meeting in person, you are urged to complete and sign the enclosed proxy card and return it promptly in the enclosed envelope, which needs no postage if mailed in the United States.

PROSPECTUS SUPPLEMENT

(To Prospectus dated July 1, 2019)

$135,000,000
5,400,000 Shares
5.375% Series A Cumulative Preferred Shares
(Liquidation Preference $25.00 per share)

Highland Income Fund (the “Trust”) is offering 5,400,000 shares of 5.375% Series A Cumulative Preferred Shares, par value $0.001 per share (the “Series A Preferred Shares”). Investors in Series A Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive, when, as and if declared by, or under authority granted by, the Fund’s Board of Trustees, out of funds legally available therefor, cumulative cash dividends and distributions at the rate of 5.375% per annum of the $25.00 per share liquidation preference on the Series A Preferred Shares. Dividends and distributions on Series A Preferred Shares will be payable quarterly on March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 in each year commencing on September 30, 2019. The Series A Preferred Shares will rank on parity with our any future preferred shares and senior to our common shares with respect to dividend and distribution rights and rights upon our liquidation.

The Series A Preferred Shares are redeemable at our option on or after September 30, 2024 and are subject to mandatory redemption by us in certain circumstances. See “Special Characteristics and Risks of the Series A Preferred Shares — Redemption.”

The Trust is a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”). The Trust’s investment objective is to provide a high level of current income, consistent with preservation of capital.

The Trust seeks to achieve its objective by primarily investing directly and indirectly (e.g., through derivatives that are the economic equivalent of direct investments) in the following categories of securities and instruments: (i) floating rate loans and other securities deemed to be floating rate investments; (ii) investments in securities or other instruments directly or indirectly secured by real estate, including real estate investment trusts (“REITs”), preferred equity, securities convertible into equity securities and mezzanine debt; and (iii) other instruments, including, but not limited to, secured and unsecured fixed-rate loans and corporate bonds, distressed securities, mezzanine securities, structured products (including but not limited to mortgage-backed securities, collateralized loan obligations and asset-backed securities), convertible and preferred securities, equities (public and private), and futures and options. Floating rate investments are debt obligations of companies or other entities, the interest rates of which float or vary periodically based upon a benchmark indicator of prevailing interest rates. Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. (“HCMFA” or the “Adviser”) serves as investment adviser to the Trust.

Our common shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange (the “NYSE”) under the symbol “HFRO”. On July 26, 2019, the last reported sale price of our common shares was $13.50. The net asset value of the Trust’s common shares at the close of business on July 26, 2019 was $14.33 per share. As of the date hereof, the Trust has outstanding 71,872,584 common shares.

Application has been made to list the Series A Preferred Shares on the NYSE. If the application is approved, the Series A Preferred Shares are expected to commence trading on the NYSE under the symbol “HFRO Pr A” within thirty days of the date of issuance.

An investment in the Trust is not appropriate for all investors. We cannot assure you that the Trust’s investment objective will be achieved. You should read this prospectus supplement (the “Prospectus Supplement”) and the accompanying prospectus (the “Prospectus”) before deciding whether to invest in Series A Preferred Shares and retain them for future reference. The Prospectus Supplement and the accompanying Prospectus contain important information about us. Material that has been incorporated by reference and other information about us can be obtained from us by calling 1-877- 665-1287 or by writing to the Trust or from the Securities and Exchange Commission’s (“SEC”) website (<http://www.sec.gov>).

Investing in Series A Preferred Shares involves certain risks that are described in the “Special Characteristics and Risks of the Series A Preferred Shares” section of this Prospectus Supplement and the “Principal Risks of the Trust” section beginning on page 39 of the accompanying Prospectus.

CAUTIONARY NOTICE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Prospectus Supplement, the accompanying Base Prospectus and the Statement of Additional Information (the “SAI”) contain “forward-looking statements.” Forward-looking statements relate to future events or the Trust’s future financial performance. Forward-looking statements can generally be identified by terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “expects,” “plans,” “anticipates,” “could,” “intends,” “target,” “projects,” “contemplates,” “believes,” “estimates,” “predicts,” “potential” or “continue” or the negative of these terms or other similar words. Important assumptions in forward-looking statements include the Trust’s ability to acquire or originate new investments and to achieve certain margins and levels of profitability. In light of these and other uncertainties, the inclusion of a projection or forward-looking statement should not be regarded as a representation by the Trust that its plans or objectives will be achieved.

There are a number of important risks and uncertainties that could cause the Trust’s actual results to differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements. These risks include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment risk;
- Changes in interest rates;
- Risks associated with investing in high yield securities (also known as “junk securities”), senior loans and other debt and equity securities;
- Risks of investing in obligations of stressed, distressed and bankrupt issuers;
- Risk associated with investments in REITs;
- Risks associated with the Trust’s use of leverage;
- Derivatives and structured finance securities risk; and
- Market risk generally.

For a discussion of these and additional risks as well as other factors that could cause the Trust’s actual results to differ from forward-looking statements contained in this Prospectus Supplement, the Base Prospectus and the SAI, please see the discussion under “Principal Risks of the Trust.” You should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. The forward-looking statements made in this Prospectus Supplement, the Base Prospectus and the SAI relate only to events as of the date on which the statements are made. The Trust undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances occurring after the date of this Prospectus Supplement, the Base Prospectus and the SAI, except as required by federal securities laws.

The forward-looking statements contained in this Prospectus Supplement, the Base Prospectus and the SAI excluded from the safe harbor protection provided by Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the forward looking statements contained in our periodic reports are excluded from the safe harbor protection provided by Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

Table of ContentsSUMMARY OF THE TERMS OF THE SERIES A PREFERRED SHARES

This Prospectus Supplement sets forth certain terms of the Series A Preferred Shares that we are offering pursuant to this Prospectus Supplement and the accompanying Prospectus that is attached to the back of this Prospectus Supplement. This section outlines certain specific legal and financial terms of the Series A Preferred Shares that are more generally described under the headings "Special Characteristics and Risks of the Series A Preferred Shares" and "Description of the Series A Preferred Shares" herein and in the accompanying Prospectus under the heading "Description of Capital Structure." Capitalized terms used in this Prospectus Supplement and not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the accompanying Prospectus or in the Statement of Preferences (as defined herein) governing and establishing the terms of the Series A Preferred Shares.

The Trust

Highland Income Fund (formerly, Highland Floating Rate Opportunities Fund) is a closed-end, non-diversified management investment company organized as a Massachusetts business trust on June 28, 2017. Throughout this Prospectus Supplement, we refer to Highland Income Fund as the "Trust" or as "we."

The Trust's investment objective is to provide a high level of current income, consistent with preservation of capital. See the accompanying Prospectus under the heading "Investment Objective and Policies" for additional information. Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. (the "Adviser") serves as investment adviser to the Trust.

The Trust's outstanding common shares, par value $0.001 per share, are listed on the New York Stock Exchange (the "NYSE") under the symbol "HFRO". On July 26, 2019, the last reported sale price of our common shares was $13.50. The net asset value of the Trust's common shares at the close of business on July 26, 2019 was $14.33 per share. As of the date hereof, the Trust has outstanding 71,872,584 common shares. As of June 30, 2019, the net assets of the Trust attributable to its common shares were $1,037,528,378.

Securities Offered

5,400,000 shares of 5.375% Series A Cumulative Preferred Shares (the "Series A Preferred Shares"). Series A Preferred Shares shall constitute a separate series of preferred shares of the Trust.

Dividend Rate

Dividends and distributions on the Series A Preferred Shares are cumulative from their original issue date at the annual rate of 5.375% of the $25.00 per share liquidation preference on the Series A Preferred Shares.

Dividend Payment Date

Holders of Series A Preferred Shares will be entitled to receive, when, as and if declared by, or under authority granted by, the Trust's Board of Trustees (the "Board"), out of funds legally available therefor, cumulative cash dividends and distributions at the rate of 5.375% per annum of the $25.00 per share liquidation preference on the Series A Preferred Shares. Dividends and distributions will be paid quarterly on March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 in each year, commencing on September 30, 2019.

Liquidation Preference

Use of Proceeds

The Trust estimates the total net proceeds of the offering to be $130,247,500, based on the public offering price of $25.00 per share without exercise of the over-allotment option and after deduction of the underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us.

The Trust intends to use net proceeds from this offering to purchase portfolio securities in accordance with its investment objectives and policies and may pay down a portion of the existing borrowings from the Trust's $350 million credit facility. See "Use of Proceeds."

Non-Call Period/Redemption	The Series A Preferred Shares generally may not be called for redemption at the option of the Trust prior to September 30, 2024. The Trust reserves the right, however, to redeem the Series A Preferred Shares at any time if it is necessary, in the judgment of the Board, to maintain its status as a regulated investment company (a “RIC”) under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). The Trust may also be required under certain circumstances to redeem Series A Preferred Shares before or after September 30, 2024, in order to meet certain regulatory or rating agency asset coverage requirements. Commencing September 30, 2024, and thereafter, to the extent permitted by the 1940 Act and Massachusetts law, the Trust may at any time, upon notice of redemption, redeem the Series A Preferred Shares in whole or in part at the liquidation preference per share plus accumulated unpaid dividends through the date of redemption.
Stock Exchange Listing	Application has been made to list the Series A Preferred Shares on the NYSE. Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for Series A Preferred Shares. If the application is approved, it is anticipated that trading on the NYSE will begin within thirty days from the date of this Prospectus Supplement under the symbol “HFRO Pr A.” Before the Series A Preferred Shares are listed on the NYSE, the underwriters may, but are not obligated to, make a market in Series A Preferred Shares. Consequently, it is anticipated that, prior to the commencement of trading on the NYSE, an investment in Series A Preferred Shares will be illiquid.
Taxation	See “Tax Matters” in the accompanying Prospectus and SAI for a discussion of U.S. federal income tax considerations affecting the Trust and holders of Series A Preferred Shares. The Trust will inform shareholders of the source and tax status of all distributions promptly after the close of each calendar year. The Internal Revenue Service has taken the position that if a RIC, such as the Trust, has more than one class of shares, it may designate distributions made to each class in any year as consisting of no more than that class’s proportionate share of particular types of income for that year, including ordinary income and net capital gain. A class’s proportionate share of a particular type of income for a year is determined according to the percentage of total dividends paid by the RIC during that year to the class. Accordingly, if the Trust pays any capital gain dividends for any year, the Trust intends to designate a portion of its dividends paid to holders of Series A Preferred Shares as capital gain dividends in accordance with the Internal Revenue Service position.

Table of ContentsDESCRIPTION OF THE SERIES A PREFERRED SHARES

The following is a brief description of the terms of the Series A Preferred Shares. This is not a complete description and is subject to and entirely qualified by reference to the Trust's Statement of Preferences for the Series A Preferred Shares (the "Statement of Preferences"). The Statement of Preferences will be attached as an exhibit to post-effective amendment number 1 to the Trust's registration statement. Copies may be obtained as described under "Additional Information" in the accompanying Prospectus. Any capitalized terms in this section and the "Special Characteristics and Risks of the Series A Preferred Shares" section of this Prospectus Supplement that are not defined have the meaning assigned to them in the Statement of Preferences.

The Trust's Agreement and Declaration of Trust (the "Declaration of Trust"), as amended from time to time, provides that the Board may authorize and issue classes of shares with rights and preferences as determined by the Board, by action of the Board without the approval of the holders of the common shares. Currently, an unlimited number of the Trust's shares are available for classification by the Board as preferred shares, par value $0.001 per share. The Statement of Preferences authorizes the issuance of up to 6,210,000 Series A Preferred Shares. All Series A Preferred Shares will have a liquidation preference of $25.00 per share plus accumulated and unpaid dividends. Holders of Series A Preferred Shares shall be entitled to receive, when, as and if declared by, or under authority granted by the Board, out of funds legally available therefor, cumulative cash dividends and distributions at the rate of 5.375% per annum (computed on the basis of a 360 day year consisting of twelve 30 day months) of the $25.00 per share liquidation preference on the Series A Preferred Shares. Dividends and distributions on Series A Preferred Shares will accumulate from the date of their original issue, which is expected to be August 1, 2019.

The Series A Preferred Shares, when issued by the Trust and paid for pursuant to the terms of this Prospectus Supplement and the accompanying Prospectus, will be fully paid and non-assessable and will have no preemptive, exchange or conversion rights. Any Series A Preferred Shares purchased or redeemed by the Trust will, after such purchase or redemption, have the status of authorized but unissued preferred shares. The Board may by resolution classify or reclassify any authorized and unissued Series A Preferred Shares from time to time by setting or changing the preferences, conversion or other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends and distributions, qualifications or terms or conditions of redemption of such shares. So long as any Series A Preferred Shares are outstanding, the Trust may not, without the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the Trust's preferred shares outstanding at the time and present and voting on such matter, voting separately as one class, amend, alter or repeal the provisions of the Statement of Preferences so as to in the aggregate adversely affect the rights and preferences of any preferred shares of the Trust. To the extent permitted under the 1940 Act, in the event that more than one series of the Trust's preferred shares are outstanding, the Trust will not effect any of the actions set forth in the preceding sentence which in the aggregate adversely affects the rights and preferences for a series of preferred shares differently than such rights and preferences for any other series of preferred shares without the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the Trust's preferred shares outstanding and present and voting on such matter of each series adversely affected (each such adversely affected series voting separately as a class to the extent its rights are affected differently).

The holders of the Series A Preferred Shares are not entitled to vote on any matter that affects the rights or interests of only one or more other series of the Trust's preferred shares. The Trust will notify the relevant Rating Agency ten Business Days prior to any such vote described above. Unless a higher percentage is required under the Governing Documents (as defined in the Statement of Preferences) or applicable provisions of Massachusetts law or the 1940 Act, the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding preferred shares, including Series A Preferred Shares, voting together as a single class, will be required to approve any plan of reorganization adversely affecting the Trust's preferred shares or any action requiring a vote of security holders under Section 13(a) of the 1940 Act. The class vote of holders of the Trust's preferred shares described above will in each case be in addition to a separate vote of the requisite percentage of common shares and preferred shares, including Series A Preferred Shares, voting together as a single class, necessary to authorize the action in question. An increase in the number of authorized preferred shares pursuant to the Governing Documents or the issuance of additional shares of any series of preferred shares (including Series A Preferred Shares) pursuant to the Governing Documents shall not in and of itself be considered to adversely affect the rights and preferences of the Trust's preferred shares.

Any dividend payment made on the Series A Preferred Shares will first be credited against the dividends and distributions accumulated with respect to the earliest Dividend Period for which dividends and distributions have not been paid.

“Description of Capital Structure – Preferred Shares” in the accompanying Prospectus, and in the event that any provision described in the disclosure set forth in this Description of the Series A Preferred Shares and under the heading “Special Characteristics and Risks of the Series A Preferred Shares” is inconsistent with any description contained in the accompanying Prospectus, the disclosure set forth in this Description of the Series A Preferred Shares and under the heading “Special Characteristics and Risks of the Series A Preferred Shares” will apply and supersede the description in the accompanying Prospectus.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The Trust estimates the total net proceeds of the offering to be $130,247,500, based on the public offering price of $25.00 per Series A Preferred Share without exercise of the over-allotment option and after deduction of the underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by the Trust. The Trust intends to use net proceeds from this offering to purchase portfolio securities in accordance with its investment objectives and policies and may pay down a portion of the existing borrowings from the Trust’s $350 million credit facility, which currently bears interest at Libor + 1.35% with a maturity date of February 2, 2020.

CAPITALIZATION

The following table sets forth (i) the audited capitalization of the Trust as of December 31, 2018 and (ii) the unaudited adjusted capitalization of the Trust assuming the issuance of the 5,400,000 Series A Preferred Shares offered in this Prospectus Supplement. The actual size of the offering (including with the overallotment option) may be greater or less than what is assumed in the table below.

	Actual (audited)	As adjusted (unaudited)
Preferred shares, $0.001 par value per share, unlimited shares authorized	$ —	135,000,000
(The “Actual” column reflects the Trust’s outstanding capitalization as of December 31, 2018. The “As adjusted (unaudited)” column assumes the issuance of 5,400,000 Series A Preferred Shares, $25.00 liquidation preference per share, and the common shares outstanding at December 31, 2018.)
Shareholders’ equity applicable to common shares:
Common shares, $0.001 par value per share; unlimited shares authorized	71,873	71,873
(The “Actual” and “As Adjusted (unaudited)” columns reflect the 71,872,584 shares outstanding as of December 31, 2018.)
Paid-in surplus*	1,628,548,821	1,624,898,821
Total distributable loss	(602,209,176)	(602,209,176)
Net assets applicable to common shares	1,026,411,518	1,022,761,518
Liquidation preference of preferred shares	—	135,000,000
Net assets, plus the liquidation preference of preferred shares	1,026,411,518	1,157,761,518

* As adjusted paid-in surplus reflects a deduction for the estimated underwriting discounts of $3,150,000 and estimated offering expenses of $500,000.

For financial reporting purposes, the Trust will deduct the liquidation preference of its outstanding preferred shares from “net assets,” so long as the senior securities have redemption features that are not solely within the control of the Trust. For all regulatory purposes, the Trust’s preferred shares will be treated as equity (rather than debt).

DESCRIPTION OF THE SECURITIES

The following information regarding the Trust’s authorized shares is as of the date hereof.

Title of Class	Amount Authorized	Amount Held by Trust or for its Account	Amount Outstanding Exclusive of Amount Held by Trust
Common Shares	Unlimited	—	71,872,584
Series A Preferred Shares	6,210,000	—	0
Other Series of Preferred Shares	Unlimited	—	0

ASSET COVERAGE RATIO

Pursuant to the 1940 Act, the Trust generally will not be permitted to declare any dividend, or declare any other distribution, upon any outstanding common shares, purchase any common shares or issue preferred shares, unless, in every such case, all preferred shares issued by the Trust have at the time of declaration of any such dividend or distribution or at the time of any such purchase or issuance an asset coverage of at least 200% (“1940 Act Asset Coverage Requirement”) after deducting the amount of such dividend, distribution, or purchase price, as the case may be. As of the date of this Prospectus Supplement, all of the Trust’s outstanding preferred shares are expected to have asset coverage on the date of issuance of the Series A Preferred Shares of approximately 270%.

In addition to the 1940 Act Asset Coverage Requirement, the Trust is subject to certain restrictions on investments imposed by guidelines of one or more rating agencies that are expected to issue a rating for the Series A Preferred Shares. See “Special Characteristics and Risks of the Series A Preferred Shares — Risks — Credit Rating Risk” in this Prospectus Supplement.

Table of ContentsSPECIAL CHARACTERISTICS AND RISKS OF THE SERIES A PREFERRED SHARES*Dividends

Holders of Series A Preferred Shares shall be entitled to receive, when, as and if declared by, or under authority granted by the Board, out of funds legally available therefor, cumulative cash dividends and distributions at the rate of 5.375% per annum (computed on the basis of a 360 day year consisting of twelve 30 day months) of the $25.00 per share liquidation preference on the Series A Preferred Shares. Dividends and distributions on Series A Preferred Shares will accumulate from the date of their original issue, which is expected to be August 1, 2019.

Dividends and distributions will be payable quarterly on March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 in each year (each a "Dividend Payment Date") commencing on September 30, 2019 (or, if any such day is not a business day, then on the next succeeding business day) to holders of record of Series A Preferred Shares as they appear on the share register of the Trust at the close of business on the fifth preceding business day (each, a "Record Date"). Dividends and distributions on Series A Preferred Shares that were originally issued on the Date of Original Issue (i.e., the Series A Preferred Shares to be issued in this offering) shall accumulate from the Date of Original Issue. Dividends and distributions on all other Series A Preferred Shares (i.e., any additional Series A Preferred Shares that may be issued in future offerings) will accumulate from (i) the date on which such shares are originally issued if such date is a Dividend Payment Date, (ii) the immediately preceding Dividend Payment Date if the date on which such shares are originally issued is other than a Dividend Payment Date and is on or before a Record Date or (iii) the immediately following Dividend Payment Date if the date on which such shares are originally issued is during the period between a Record Date and a Dividend Payment Date. Each period beginning on and including a Dividend Payment Date (or the date of original issue, in the case of the first dividend period after the first issuance of the Series A Preferred Shares) and ending on but excluding the next succeeding Dividend Payment Date is referred to herein as a "Dividend Period." Dividends and distributions on account of arrears for any past Dividend Period or in connection with the redemption of Series A Preferred Shares may be declared and paid at any time, without reference to any Dividend Payment Date, to holders of record on such date as shall be fixed by the Board that is not more than 30 days before the Dividend Payment Date.

No full dividends or distributions will be declared or paid on Series A Preferred Shares for any Dividend Period or part thereof unless full cumulative dividends and distributions due through the most recent Dividend Payment Dates therefor on all outstanding shares of any series of preferred shares of the Trust ranking on a parity with the Series A Preferred Shares as to the payment of dividends and distributions have been or contemporaneously are declared and paid through the most recent Dividend Payment Dates therefor. If full cumulative dividends and distributions due have not been paid on all of the Trust's outstanding preferred shares, any dividends and distributions being paid on such preferred shares (including the Series A Preferred Shares) will be paid as nearly pro rata as possible in proportion to the respective amounts of dividends and distributions accumulated but unpaid on each such series of preferred shares on the relevant Dividend Payment Date.

Restrictions on Issuance, Dividend, Redemption and Other Payments

Under the 1940 Act, the Trust is not permitted to issue preferred shares (such as the Series A Preferred Shares) unless immediately after such issuance the Trust will have an asset coverage of at least 200% (or such other percentage as may in the future be specified in or under the 1940 Act as the minimum asset coverage for senior securities representing stock of a closed-end investment company as a condition of declaring distributions, purchases or redemptions of its stock). In general, the term "asset coverage" for this purpose means the ratio which the value of the total assets of the Trust, less all liabilities and indebtedness not represented by senior securities, bears to the aggregate amount of senior securities representing indebtedness of the Trust plus the aggregate of the involuntary liquidation preference of the preferred shares. The involuntary liquidation preference refers to the amount to which the preferred shares would be entitled on the involuntary liquidation of the Trust in preference to a security junior to them. The Trust also is not permitted to declare any cash dividend or other distribution on its common shares or purchase its common shares unless, at the time of such declaration or purchase, the Trust satisfies this 200% asset coverage requirement after deducting the amount of the dividend, distribution or purchase price, as applicable.

In addition, the Trust may be limited in its ability to declare any cash distribution on its shares (including the Series A Preferred Shares) or purchase its capital stock (including the Series A Preferred Shares) unless, at the time of such declaration or purchase, the Trust has an asset coverage on its indebtedness, if any, of at least 300% after deducting the amount of such distribution or purchase price, as applicable. The 1940 Act contains an exception, however, that permits dividends to be declared upon any preferred shares issued by the Trust (including the Series A Preferred Shares) if the Trust's indebtedness has an asset coverage of at least 200% at the time of declaration after deducting the amount of the dividend. In general, the term "asset coverage" for this purpose means the ratio which the value of the total assets of the Trust, less all liabilities and indebtedness not represented by senior securities, bears to the aggregate amount of senior securities representing indebtedness of the Trust.

The term “senior security” does not include any promissory note or other evidence of indebtedness in any case where such a loan is for temporary purposes only and in an amount not exceeding 5% of the value of the total assets of the Trust at the time when the loan is made. A loan is presumed under the 1940 Act to be for temporary purposes if it is repaid within 60 days and is not extended or renewed; otherwise it is presumed not to be for temporary purposes. For purposes of determining whether the 200% and 300% asset coverage requirements described above apply in connection with dividends or distributions on or purchases or redemptions of Series A Preferred Shares, the asset coverages may be calculated on the basis of values calculated as of a time within 48 hours (not including Sundays or holidays) next preceding the time of the applicable determination.

So long as any preferred shares are outstanding, the Trust may not pay any dividend or distribution (other than a dividend or distribution paid in common shares or in options, warrants or rights to subscribe for or purchase common shares) in respect of the common shares (except by conversion into or exchange for shares of the Trust ranking junior to the preferred shares as to the payment of dividends or distributions and the distribution of assets upon liquidation), unless:

- the Trust has declared and paid (or provided to the relevant dividend paying agent) all cumulative distributions on the Trust’s outstanding preferred shares due on or prior to the date of such common shares dividend or distribution;
- the Trust has redeemed the full number of preferred shares to be redeemed pursuant to any mandatory redemption provision in the Trust’s Governing Documents; and
- after making the distribution, the Trust meets applicable asset coverage requirements under the 1940 Act with respect to its preferred shares.

No complete distribution due for a particular dividend period will be declared or made on any series of preferred shares for any dividend period, or part thereof, unless full cumulative distributions due through the most recent dividend payment dates therefore for all outstanding series of preferred shares of the Trust ranking on a parity with such series as to distributions have been or contemporaneously are declared and made. If full cumulative distributions due have not been made on all outstanding preferred shares of the Trust ranking on a parity with such series of preferred shares as to the payment of distributions, any distributions being paid on the preferred shares will be paid as nearly pro rata as possible in proportion to the respective amounts of distribution accumulated but unmade on each such series of preferred shares on the relevant dividend payment date. The Trust’s obligations to make distributions on the preferred shares will be subordinate to its obligations to pay interest and principal, when due, on any senior securities representing debt.

Voting Rights

Except as otherwise provided in the Trust’s Governing Documents (including the Statement of Preferences) or a resolution of the Board, or as required by applicable law, holders of Series A Preferred Shares will have no power to vote on any matter except matters submitted to a vote of the Trust’s common shares. In any matter submitted to a vote of the holders of the common shares, each holder of Series A Preferred Shares will be entitled to one vote for each Series A Preferred Share held and the holders of the outstanding preferred shares of the Trust, including Series A Preferred Shares, and the common shares will vote together as a single class; provided, however, that the holders of the outstanding preferred shares of the Trust, including Series A Preferred Shares, shall be entitled, as a separate class, to the exclusion of the holders of all other securities and classes of capital shares of the Trust, to elect two of the Trust’s Trustees.

During any period in which any one or more of the conditions described below shall exist (such period being referred to herein as a “Voting Period”), the number and/or composition of Trustees constituting the Board will be automatically adjusted as necessary to permit the holders of outstanding preferred shares of the Trust, including the Series A Preferred Shares, voting separately as one class (to the exclusion of the holders of all other securities and classes of capital shares of the Trust) to elect the number of Trustees that, when added to the two Trustees elected exclusively by the holders of the Trust’s preferred shares as described in the above paragraph, would constitute a simple majority of the Board as so adjusted. The Trust and the Board will take all necessary actions, including effecting the removal of Trustees or amendment of the Trust’s Declaration of Trust, to effect an adjustment of the number and/or composition of Trustees as described in the preceding sentence. A Voting Period shall commence:

(i) if at any time accumulated dividends and distributions (whether or not earned or declared, and whether or not funds are then legally available in an amount sufficient therefor) on the outstanding Series A Preferred Shares equal to at least two full years’ dividends and distributions shall be due and unpaid and sufficient cash or specified securities shall not have been deposited with AST and its successors or any other dividend disbursing agent appointed by the Trust for the payment of such accumulated dividends and distributions; or

(ii) if at any time holders of any other preferred shares of the Trust are entitled to elect a majority of the Trustees of the Trust under the 1940 Act or statement of preferences creating such shares.

Additional voting rights are described in “Description of the Series A Preferred Shares.”

Rating Agency Guidelines

The Trust anticipates that Moody’s Investors Service, Inc. (“Moody’s”) will initially rate the Series A Preferred Shares. The Trust is, and expects that it will be, required under the applicable rating agency guidelines to maintain assets having in the aggregate a discounted value at least equal to the Basic Maintenance Amount (as defined in the Statement of Preferences), for its outstanding preferred shares, including the Series A Preferred Shares. To the extent any particular portfolio holding does not satisfy the applicable rating agency’s guidelines, all or a portion of such holding’s value will not be included in the calculation of discounted value (as defined by such rating agency). The Moody’s guidelines also impose certain diversification requirements and industry concentration limitations on the Trust’s overall portfolio, and apply specified discounts to securities held by the Trust (except certain money market securities).

If the value of the Trust’s assets, as discounted in accordance with the rating agency guidelines, is less than the Basic Maintenance Amount, the Trust is required to use its commercially reasonable efforts to cure such failure. If the Trust does not cure in a timely manner a failure to maintain a discounted value of its portfolio equal to the Basic Maintenance Amount in accordance with the requirements of the applicable rating agency or agencies then rating the Trust’s preferred shares, including the Series A Preferred Shares, at the request of the Trust, the Trust will be required to mandatorily redeem a portion its preferred shares, including the Series A Preferred Shares, sufficient to cure such failure as described below under “—Redemption.”

Any rating agency providing a rating for the Trust’s preferred shares, including the Series A Preferred Shares, at the request of the Trust may, at any time, change or withdraw any such rating. The Board, without further action by the Trust’s shareholders, may amend, alter, add to or repeal any provision of the statements of preferences for the preferred shares, including the Statement of Preferences for the Series A Preferred Shares, that has been adopted by the Trust pursuant to the rating agency guidelines or add covenants and other obligations of the Trust to the statements of preferences, if the applicable rating agency confirms that such amendments or modifications are necessary to prevent a reduction in, or the withdrawal of, a rating of the Trust’s preferred shares, including the Series A Preferred Shares, and such amendments and modifications do not adversely affect the rights and preferences of and are in the aggregate in the best interests of the holders of the Trust’s preferred shares.

As described by Moody’s or any other rating agency then rating a series of the Trust’s preferred shares at the Trust’s request, the ratings assigned to each series of preferred shares, including the Series A Preferred Shares, are assessments of the capacity and willingness of the Trust to pay the obligations of each such series. The ratings on these series of preferred shares are not recommendations to purchase, hold or sell shares of any series, inasmuch as the ratings do not comment as to market price or suitability for a particular investor. The rating agency guidelines also do not address the likelihood that an owner of preferred shares will be able to sell such shares on an exchange, in an auction or otherwise. The ratings are based on current information furnished to Moody’s or any other rating agency then rating a series of the Trust’s preferred shares at the Trust’s request by the Trust and the Adviser and information obtained from other sources. The ratings may be changed, suspended or withdrawn as a result of changes in, or the unavailability of, such information.

A rating agency’s guidelines apply to each series of preferred shares, including the Series A Preferred Shares, only so long as such rating agency is rating such series at the request of the Trust. The Trust expects to pay fees to Moody’s for rating the Series A Preferred Shares.

Redemption

Mandatory Redemption. Under certain circumstances, the Series A Preferred Shares will be subject to mandatory redemption by the Trust out of funds legally available therefor in accordance with the Statement of Preferences and applicable law.

If the Trust fails to have asset coverage, as determined in accordance with Section 18(h) of the 1940 Act, of at least 200% with respect to all outstanding senior securities of the Trust which are stock, including all outstanding Series A Preferred Shares (or such other asset coverage as may in the future be specified in or under the 1940 Act as the minimum asset coverage for senior securities which are stock of a closed-end investment company as a condition of declaring dividends on its common stock), as of the last Business Day of March, June, September and December of each year in which any Series A Preferred Shares are outstanding, and such failure is not cured as of the cure date specified in the Statement of Preferences (49 days following such Business Day), (i) the Trust shall give a notice of redemption with respect to the redemption of a sufficient number of its preferred shares, which at the Trust’s determination (to the extent permitted by the 1940 Act and Massachusetts law) may include any proportion of Series A Preferred Shares, to enable it to meet such asset coverage requirements, and, at the Trust’s discretion, such additional number of Series A Preferred Shares or any other series of preferred shares in order for the Trust to have asset coverage with respect to the Series A Preferred Shares and any other series of preferred shares of the Trust remaining outstanding after such redemption of as great as 220%, and (ii) deposit an amount with AST and its successors or any other dividend-disbursing agent appointed by the Trust, having an initial combined value sufficient to effect the redemption of the Series A Preferred Shares or other series of preferred shares to be redeemed.

If the Trust is required to redeem any preferred shares (including Series A Preferred Shares) as a result of a failure to maintain such minimum 1940 Act asset coverage as of an applicable cure date, then the Trust shall, to the extent permitted by the 1940 Act and Massachusetts law, by the close of business on such cure date fix a redemption date that is on or before the 30th Business Day after such cure date and proceed to redeem the preferred shares, including the Series A Preferred Shares. On such redemption date, the Trust shall redeem, out of funds legally available therefor, (i) the number of its preferred shares, which, to the extent permitted by the 1940 Act and Massachusetts law, at the option of the Trust may include any proportion of Series A Preferred Shares or shares of any other series of preferred shares of the Trust, is equal to the minimum number of shares the redemption of which, if such redemption had occurred immediately prior to the opening of business on such cure date, would have resulted in the Trust having asset coverage immediately prior to the opening of business on such cure date in compliance with the 1940 Act or (ii) if asset coverage cannot be so restored, all of the outstanding Series A Preferred Shares, in each case at a price equal to $25.00 per share plus accumulated but unpaid dividends and distributions (whether or not earned or declared by the Trust) through and including the date of redemption. In addition, as reflected above, the Trust may, but is not required to, redeem an additional number of preferred shares (including Series A Preferred Shares) which, when aggregated with all other preferred shares redeemed by the Trust, permits the Trust to have with respect to the preferred shares (including Series A Preferred Shares) remaining outstanding after such redemption a 1940 Act asset coverage of as great as 220%.

P-11

Similarly, as reflected above under “—Rating Agency Guidelines,” so long as Moody’s or another rating agency is rating the Trust’s preferred shares (including the Series A Preferred Shares) at the request of the Trust, the Trust will be required to maintain, on the last Business Day of each month, assets having in the aggregate a discounted value at least equal to the Basic Maintenance Amount. So long as Moody’s or another rating agency is rating the Trust’s preferred shares (including the Series A Preferred Shares) at the request of the Trust, if the Trust fails to have assets having in the aggregate a discounted value at least equal to the Basic Maintenance Amount as of the last Business Day of any month, and such failure is not cured as of the cure date specified in the Statement of Preferences (10 Business Days following such Business Day), the Trust shall similarly follow the redemption protocol summarized above to restore compliance with the Basic Maintenance Amount, and the Trust may, but is not required to, redeem an additional number of preferred shares (including Series A Preferred Shares) which, when aggregated with all other preferred shares redeemed by the Trust, permits the Trust to have with respect to the preferred shares (including Series A Preferred Shares) remaining outstanding after such redemption assets having in the aggregate a discounted value equal to as great as 110% of the Basic Maintenance Amount.

Optional Redemption. Prior to September 30, 2024, the Series A Preferred Shares are not subject to optional redemption by the Trust unless the redemption is necessary, in the judgment of the Board, to maintain the Trust’s status as a RIC under Subchapter M of the Code. Commencing September 30, 2024, and thereafter, to the extent permitted by the 1940 Act and Massachusetts law, the Trust may at any time upon notice in the manner provided in the Statement of Preferences redeem the Series A Preferred Shares in whole or in part at a price equal to the liquidation preference per share plus accumulated but unpaid dividends and distributions through and including the date of redemption.

Redemption Procedures. If the Trust determines or is required to redeem preferred shares, it will mail a notice of redemption to holders of the shares to be redeemed. Each notice of redemption will state (i) the redemption date, (ii) the number or percentage of preferred shares to be redeemed (which may be expressed as a percentage of such shares outstanding), (iii) the CUSIP number(s) of such shares, (iv) the redemption price (specifying the amount of accumulated distributions to be included therein), (v) the place or places where such shares are to be redeemed, (vi) that dividends or distributions on the shares to be redeemed will cease to accumulate on such redemption date, (vii) the provision of the Statement of Preferences under which the redemption is being made, and (viii) in the case of an optional redemption, any conditions precedent to such redemption. No defect in the notice of redemption or in the mailing thereof will affect the validity of the redemption proceedings, except as required by applicable law.

The redemption date with respect to the preferred shares will not be fewer than 30 days nor more than 90 days (subject to NYSE requirements) after the date of the applicable notice of redemption. The holders of preferred shares will not have the right to redeem any of their shares at their option except to the extent specified in the Statement of Preferences. The holders of preferred shares may receive shorter notice in the event of a mandatory redemption.

Liquidation

In the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the affairs of the Trust, whether voluntary or involuntary, the holders of Series A Preferred Shares shall be entitled to receive out of the assets of the Trust available for distribution to shareholders, after satisfying claims of creditors but before any distribution or payment shall be made in respect of the Trust’s common shares or any other shares of the Trust ranking junior to the Series A Preferred Shares as to liquidation payments, a liquidation distribution in the amount of $25.00 per share (the “Liquidation Preference”), plus an amount equal to all unpaid dividends and distributions accumulated to and including the date fixed for such distribution or payment (whether or not earned or declared by the Trust, but excluding interest thereon), and such holders shall be entitled to no further participation in any distribution or payment in connection with any such liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Trust.

If, upon any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the affairs of the Trust, whether voluntary or involuntary, the assets of the Trust available for distribution among the holders of all outstanding Series A Preferred Shares and all outstanding shares of any other series of the Trust's preferred shares ranking on a parity with the Series A Preferred Shares as to payment upon liquidation shall be insufficient to permit the payment in full to such holders of Series A Preferred Shares of the Liquidation Preference plus accumulated and unpaid dividends and distributions and the amounts due upon liquidation with respect to all outstanding shares of such other series of preferred shares of the Trust, then such available assets shall be distributed among the holders of Series A Preferred Shares and such other series of preferred shares of the Trust ratably in proportion to the respective preferential liquidation amounts to which they are entitled. Unless and until the Liquidation Preference plus accumulated and unpaid dividends and distributions has been paid in full to the holders of Series A Preferred Shares, no dividends or distributions will be made to holders of the Trust's common shares or any other shares of the Trust ranking junior to the Series A Preferred Shares as to liquidation.

Stock Exchange Listing

Application has been made to list the Series A Preferred Shares on the NYSE. If the application is approved, the Series A Preferred Shares are expected to commence trading on the NYSE within thirty days of the date of issuance under the symbol "HFRO Pr A."

Table of ContentsRisks

Risk is inherent in all investing. Therefore, before investing in the Series A Preferred Shares you should consider the risks carefully. See “Principal Risks of the Trust” in the accompanying Prospectus as well as the risks below.

Material Weakness Risk. The Trust has identified a material weakness in its internal control over financial reporting related to the fair valuation of the Trust’s portfolio securities that, if not properly remediated, could result in material misstatements in its reported net asset value and financial statements. While there were no material misstatements of the Trust’s annual or interim financial reporting for the period ended December 31, 2018 related to fair valuation of the Trust’s portfolio securities, the principal executive officer and principal financial officer identified a material weakness relating to the Trust’s internal control over financial reporting under standards established by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, or PCAOB, for the period then ended. The PCAOB defines a material weakness as a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the company’s annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis.

The Trust has taken actions to remediate this material weakness, but some of these measures will take time to be confirmed to be effective. There can be no assurance that the steps taken will remediate such weaknesses, nor can we be certain of whether additional actions will be required or the costs of any such actions. Until measures are tested and confirmed to be effective, the identified material weakness may continue to exist.

The Trust may need to take additional measures to fully mitigate these issues, and the measures taken to improve its internal controls may not be sufficient to address the issues identified, to ensure that internal controls are effective or to ensure that the identified material weaknesses or significant deficiencies or other material weaknesses or deficiencies will not result in a material misstatement of the Trust’s annual or interim financial statements. Because such material weakness related to our valuation of portfolio securities, it could also impact the accuracy of our daily net asset value calculations. In addition, other material weaknesses or deficiencies may be identified in the future. If the Trust is unable to correct material weaknesses or deficiencies in internal controls in a timely manner, its ability to record, process, summarize and report its net asset value and financial information accurately and within the time periods specified in the rules and forms of the SEC will be adversely affected. This failure could negatively affect the market price and trading liquidity of its securities, cause investors to lose confidence in our reported financial information, subject us to civil and criminal investigations and penalties, and generally materially and adversely impact its business and financial condition.

Primary risks associated with an investment in the Series A Preferred Shares include:

Market Price Risk. The market price for the Series A Preferred Shares will be influenced by changes in interest rates, the perceived credit quality of the Series A Preferred Shares and other factors, and may be higher or lower than the liquidation preference of the Series A Preferred Shares. There is currently no market for the Series A Preferred Shares of the Trust.

Liquidity Risk. Currently, there is no public market for the Series A Preferred Shares of the Trust. As noted above, an application has been made to list the Series A Preferred Shares on the NYSE. However, during an initial period which is not expected to exceed thirty days after the date of its issuance, the Series A Preferred Shares will not be listed on any securities exchange. Before the Series A Preferred Shares are listed on the NYSE, the underwriters may, but are not obligated to, make a market in the Series A Preferred Shares. No assurances can be provided that listing on any securities exchange or market making by the underwriters will occur or will result in the market for Series A Preferred Shares being liquid at any time.

Redemption Risk. The Trust may at any time redeem Series A Preferred Shares to the extent necessary to meet regulatory asset coverage requirements or requirements imposed by credit rating agencies. For example, if the value of the Trust’s investment portfolio declines, thereby reducing the asset coverage for the Series A Preferred Shares, the Trust may be obligated under the terms of the Series A Preferred Shares to redeem some or all of the Series A Preferred Shares. In addition, commencing September 30, 2024, the Trust will be able to call the Series A Preferred Shares at the option of the Trust. Investors may not be able to reinvest the proceeds of any redemption in an investment providing the same or a higher dividend rate than that of the Series A Preferred Shares. Precipitous declines in the value of the Trust’s assets could result in the Trust having insufficient assets to redeem all of the Series A Preferred Shares for the full redemption price.

Subordination Risk. The Series A Preferred Shares are not a debt obligation of the Trust. The Series A Preferred Shares are junior in respect of distributions and liquidation preference to the current and future indebtedness incurred by the Trust, and will have the same priority with respect to payment of dividends and distributions and liquidation preference as any other preferred shares that the Trust may issue. The Series A Preferred Shares are subject to greater credit risk than any of the Trust's debt instruments, which would be of higher priority in the Trust's capital structure.

Table of Contents

Credit Rating Risk. The Trust is seeking a credit rating on the Series A Preferred Shares. Any credit rating that is issued on the Series A Preferred Shares could be reduced or withdrawn while an investor holds Series A Preferred Shares. A reduction or withdrawal of the credit rating would likely have an adverse effect on the market value of the Series A Preferred Shares. In addition, a credit rating does not eliminate or mitigate the risks of investing in the Series A Preferred Shares.

Distribution Risk. The Trust may not earn sufficient income from its investments to make distributions on the Series A Preferred Shares, in which case the distributions on the Series A Preferred Shares would be considered a return of capital. See “Prospectus Summary—Distributions—Preferred Shares Distributions” in the Prospectus. Additionally, if the Trust were to issue notes, the Trust’s failure to meet certain asset coverage requirements with respect to such notes would prohibit the Trust from making distributions on the Series A Preferred Shares; any bank borrowings the Trust may enter into in the future could contain similarly restrictive terms.

The Trust currently leverages through borrowings made by HFRO Sub, LLC under the Financing Arrangement with Bank of America Merrill Lynch (“BAML”). As of June 30, 2019, HFRO Sub, LLC had drawn $350 million under the Financing Arrangement and the Trust’s asset coverage ratio was 342%. On February 2, 2018, HFRO Sub, LLC a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Trust entered into Financing Arrangement with BAML. Pursuant to the terms of the Financing Arrangement, and subject to certain customary conditions, HFRO Sub, LLC may borrow on a revolving basis a maximum of $500 million. In connection with the Financing Arrangement, HFRO Sub, LLC and the Trust have made representations and warranties regarding the loans and underlying collateral and are required to comply with various covenants, reporting requirements and other customary requirements. The Facility also limits the recourse of the lender to the assets of HFRO Sub, LLC and includes usual and customary events of default for senior secured revolving facilities of this nature.

Interest Rate Risk. The Series A Preferred Shares pay dividends at a fixed rate. Prices of fixed income investments tend to vary inversely with changes in market yields. The market yields on securities comparable to the Series A Preferred Shares may increase, which would likely result in a decline in the value of the Series A Preferred Shares. Additionally, if interest rates rise, securities comparable to the Series A Preferred Shares may pay higher dividend rates and holders of the Series A Preferred Shares may not be able to sell the Series A Preferred Shares at their liquidation preference and reinvest the proceeds at market rates. The Trust may be subject to a greater risk of rising interest rates due to the current period of historically low interest rates. Recently, there have been some modest signs of inflationary price movements. There is a possibility that interest rates may rise, which would likely drive down the prices of income- or dividend-paying securities.

CERTAIN EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN AND IRA CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of certain considerations associated with the purchase of the Series A Preferred Shares by employee benefit plans that are subject to Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), plans, individual retirement accounts (“IRAs”) and other arrangements that are subject to Section 4975 of the Code, and entities whose underlying assets are considered to include “plan assets” of any such plan, account or arrangement (each, a “Benefit Plan”).

ERISA and the Code impose certain duties on persons who are fiduciaries of a Benefit Plan and prohibit certain transactions involving the assets of a Benefit Plan and its fiduciaries or other interested parties. Under ERISA and the Code, any person who exercises any discretionary authority or control over the administration of such a Benefit Plan or the management or disposition of the assets of such a Benefit Plan, or who renders investment advice for a fee or other compensation to such a Benefit Plan, is generally considered to be a fiduciary of the Benefit Plan. Moreover, governmental plans (as defined in Section 3(32) of ERISA), certain church plans (as defined in Section 3(33) of ERISA), and foreign plans (as described in Section 4(b)(4) of ERISA) (each such governmental, church and foreign plan referred to as a “Non-ERISA Plan,” and together with Benefit Plans, referred to herein as “Plans”), are not subject to the fiduciary responsibility provisions of Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code, but may be subject to state, federal or other laws or regulations substantively similar to such portions of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (“Similar Law”).

Because the Trust is registered as an investment company under the 1940 Act, it is anticipated that the Trust’s assets should not be deemed “plan assets” of Benefit Plans investing in the Trust for purposes of the fiduciary responsibility and prohibited transaction rules of ERISA and the Code. For this reason, the Adviser should not be a fiduciary within the meaning of ERISA or the Code with respect to the assets of any Benefit Plan solely as a result of the Benefit Plan’s investment in the Trust.

Table of Contents

In considering an investment in the Series A Preferred Shares of a portion of the assets of any Plan, a fiduciary or other person considering the investment should determine whether the investment is in accordance with the documents and instruments governing the Plan and the applicable provisions of ERISA, Section 4975 of the Code and Similar Law including, without limitation, to the extent applicable, the prudence, diversification, delegation of control, conflicts of interest and prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA and the Code. The purchase of Series A Preferred Shares by a fiduciary for a Plan should be considered in light of such requirements.

In addition, Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code prohibit certain transactions involving the assets of a Benefit Plan and certain persons (referred to as “parties in interest” for purposes of ERISA and “disqualified persons” for purposes of the Code) having certain relationships to such Benefit Plans, unless a statutory or administrative exemption is applicable to the transaction. A party in interest or disqualified person who engages in a nonexempt prohibited transaction may be subject to excise taxes and such parties and fiduciaries causing a Benefit Plan to engage in such transactions may be subject to other penalties and liabilities under ERISA and/or the Code (or with respect to certain Benefit Plans, such as IRAs, a prohibited transaction may cause the Benefit Plan to lose its tax-exempt status). In this regard, the U.S. Department of Labor has issued certain prohibited transaction class exemptions (“PTCEs”) that may apply to the purchase of the Series A Preferred Shares. These class exemptions include, without limitation, PTCE 84-14 respecting transactions determined by independent qualified professional asset managers, PTCE 90-1 respecting insurance company pooled separate accounts, PTCE 91-38 respecting bank collective investment funds, PTCE 95-60 respecting life insurance company general accounts and PTCE 96-23 respecting transactions determined by in-house asset managers, PTCE 84-24 respecting purchases of shares in investment companies) and PTCE 75-1 respecting sales of securities. In addition, Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code each provides a limited exemption, commonly referred to as the “service provider exemption,” from the prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code for certain transactions between a Benefit Plan and a person that is a party in interest and/or a disqualified person (other than a fiduciary or an affiliate that, directly or indirectly, has or exercises any discretionary authority or control or renders any investment advice with respect to the assets of any Benefit Plan involved in the transaction) solely by reason of providing services to the Benefit Plan or by relationship to a service provider, provided that the Benefit Plan neither receives nor pays more than adequate consideration. Each of the above-noted exemptions contains conditions and limitations on its application. Fiduciaries of Benefit Plans considering acquiring the Series A Preferred Shares in reliance on these exemptions or any other exemption should carefully review the exemption to assure it is applicable. There can be no assurance that all of the conditions of any such exemptions or any other exemption will be satisfied, or that any exemption will be applicable to all otherwise prohibited transactions which may otherwise occur in connection with a Benefit Plan’s investment in the Series A Preferred Shares.

By its acquisition of a Series A Preferred Share, each purchaser will be deemed to represent and warrant that either (i) the purchaser is not acquiring or holding such Series A Preferred Share or an interest therein with the assets of a Plan or (ii) neither the purchase nor the holding (nor disposition) of such Series A Preferred Share or an interest therein by such purchaser will result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code or a similar violation under any applicable Similar Laws.

Further, if the purchaser is a Benefit Plan, such purchaser or subsequent transferee will be deemed to have represented and warranted that (1) none of the Trust, the Adviser, Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC or any of its respective affiliates (“Transaction Parties”) has acted as the Benefit Plan’s fiduciary (within the meaning of ERISA or the Code), or has been relied upon for any advice, with respect to the purchaser or transferee’s decision to acquire the Series A Preferred Shares, and none of the Transaction Parties shall at any time be relied upon as the Benefit Plan’s fiduciary with respect to any decision to acquire, continue to hold or transfer the Series A Preferred Shares. None of the Transaction Parties have or will undertake to provide impartial investment advice, or to give advice in a fiduciary capacity, in connection with the investment in the Series A Preferred Shares.

The sale of Series A Preferred Shares to a Plan is in no respect a recommendation by the Trust, the Adviser, Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC or any of its respective affiliates with respect to whether any Plan should acquire Series A Preferred Shares or that that such an investment meets all relevant legal requirements with respect to investments by Plans generally or any particular Plan or that such an investment is appropriate for Plans generally or any particular Plan. Each purchaser and holder of the Series A Preferred Shares has exclusive responsibility for ensuring that its purchase, holding and subsequent disposition of the Series A Preferred Shares does not violate the fiduciary or prohibited transaction rules of ERISA, the Code or any applicable Similar Laws.

The foregoing discussion is general in nature and is not intended to be all inclusive. The provisions of ERISA and the Code are subject to extensive and continuing administrative and judicial interpretation and review. Due to the complexity of these rules and the penalties that may be imposed upon persons involved in non-exempt prohibited transactions, it is particularly important that fiduciaries, or other persons considering purchasing the Series A Preferred Shares on behalf of, or with the assets of, any Plan, consult with their counsel regarding the potential applicability of ERISA, Section 4975 of the Code and Similar Law to such investment and whether an exemption would be applicable to the purchase and holding of the Series A Preferred Shares and whether the purchase and holding of Series A Preferred Shares otherwise will be in compliance with the applicable provisions of ERISA, Section 4975 of the Code and Similar Law.

Table of ContentsUNDERWRITING

Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC is acting as representative of each of the underwriters named below. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in an underwriting agreement among the Trust, the Adviser and the underwriters, the Trust has agreed to sell to the underwriters, and each of the underwriters has agreed, severally and not jointly, to purchase from the Trust, the number of Series A Preferred Shares set forth opposite its name below.

Underwriter	Number of Series A Preferred Shares
Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC	5,130,000
Jefferies LLC	270,000
Total	5,400,000

Subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the underwriting agreement, the underwriters have agreed, severally and not jointly, to purchase all of the Series A Preferred Shares sold pursuant to the underwriting agreement if any of the Series A Preferred Shares are purchased. If an underwriter defaults, the underwriting agreement provides that the purchase commitments of the nondefaulting underwriters may be increased or the underwriting agreement may be terminated.

The Trust and the Adviser have each agreed to indemnify the underwriters and their controlling persons against certain liabilities in connection with this offering, including liabilities under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or to contribute to payments the underwriters may be required to make in respect of those liabilities.

The underwriters are offering the Series A Preferred Shares, subject to prior sale, when, as and if issued to and accepted by them, subject to approval of legal matters by their counsel, including the validity of the Series A Preferred Shares, and other conditions contained in the underwriting agreement, such as the receipt by the underwriters of officer's certificates and legal opinions. The underwriters reserve the right to withdraw, cancel or modify offers to the public and to reject orders in whole or in part.

We expect that delivery of the Series A Preferred Shares will be made against payment therefor on or about the third business day following the date of confirmation of orders with respect to the Series A Preferred Shares (this settlement cycle being referred to as "T+3"). Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in two business days, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, purchasers who wish to trade prior to the delivery of the Series A Preferred Shares hereunder on the date hereof will be required, by virtue of the fact that the Series A Preferred Shares initially settle in T+3, to specify an alternative settlement arrangement at the time of any such trade to prevent a failed settlement. Purchasers of Series A Preferred Shares who wish to trade the Series A Preferred Shares prior to their date of delivery hereunder should consult their own advisors.

Commissions and Discounts

The representative has advised us that the underwriters propose initially to offer the Series A Preferred Shares to the public at the public offering price set forth on the cover page of this Prospectus Supplement and to certain dealers at such price less a concession not in excess of $0.50 per share. Any underwriter may allow, and such dealers may reallow, a concession not in excess of $0.45 per share to other underwriters or to certain dealers. After the initial offering, the public offering price, concession or any other term of the offering may be changed.

The expenses of the offering, not including the underwriting discount, are estimated at $500,000 and are payable by the Trust.

Over-allotment Option

We have granted the underwriters an option to buy up to an aggregate of additional shares of Series A Preferred Shares. The underwriters may exercise this option solely for the purpose of covering over-allotments, if any, made in connection with this offering. The underwriters have 30 days from the date of this prospectus supplement to exercise this option. If the underwriters exercise this option, they will each purchase additional shares approximately in proportion to the amounts specified in the table above.

No Sales of Similar Securities

The Trust and the Adviser have agreed that the Trust will not, for a period of 90 days from the date of this Prospectus Supplement, without the prior written consent of Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC, directly or indirectly, issue, sell, offer to contract or grant any option to sell, pledge, transfer or otherwise dispose of, any of its preferred shares or securities exchangeable for or convertible into its preferred shares, except for the Series A Preferred Shares sold to the underwriters pursuant to the underwriting agreement.

New York Stock Exchange

Application has been made to list the Series A Preferred Shares on the NYSE. Prior to the offering, there has been no public market for the Series A Preferred Shares. If the application is approved, the Series A Preferred Shares are expected to commence trading on the NYSE within thirty days of the date of issuance under the symbol “HFRO Pr A.” Before the Series A Preferred Shares are listed on the NYSE, the underwriters may, but are not obligated to, make a market in the Series A Preferred Shares. Consequently, it is anticipated that, prior to the commencement of trading on the NYSE, an investment in Series A Preferred Shares will be illiquid.

P-16

If a secondary trading market develops prior to the commencement of trading on the NYSE, holders of the Series A Preferred Shares may be able to sell such shares; however, such shares may trade at discounts from the liquidation preference of the Series A Preferred Shares.

Price Stabilization, Short Positions

Until the distribution of the Series A Preferred Shares is completed, SEC rules may limit underwriters and selling group members from bidding for and purchasing the Series A Preferred Shares. However, the representative may engage in transactions that have the effect of stabilizing the price of the Series A Preferred Shares, such as purchases and other activities that peg, fix or maintain that price.

In connection with the offering, the underwriters may purchase and sell Series A Preferred Shares in the open market. These transactions may include short sales and purchases on the open market to cover positions created by short sales. Short sales involve the sale by the underwriters of a greater number of Series A Preferred Shares than they are required to purchase in the offering. The underwriters must close out any short position by purchasing Series A Preferred Shares in the open market. A short position is more likely to be created if the underwriters are concerned that there may be downward pressure on the price of the Series A Preferred Shares in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in the offering.

The underwriters may impose a penalty bid. Penalty bids permit the underwriters to reclaim a selling concession from a syndicate member when the representative repurchases Series A Preferred Shares originally sold by that syndicate member in order to cover syndicate short positions or make stabilizing purchases.

Short sales may be “covered short sales,” which are short positions in an amount not greater than the underwriters’ over-allotment option referred to above, or may be “naked short sales,” which are short positions in excess of that amount.

The underwriters may close out any covered short position by either exercising their over-allotment option, in whole or in part, or by purchasing shares in the open market. In making this determination, the underwriters will consider, among other things, the price of shares available for purchase in the open market as compared to the price at which they may purchase shares through the over-allotment option.

Similar to other purchase transactions, the underwriters’ purchases to cover the syndicate short sales may have the effect of raising or maintaining the market price of the Series A Preferred Shares or preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of the Series A Preferred Shares. As a result, the price of the Series A Preferred Shares may be higher than the price that might otherwise exist in the open market.

None of the Trust, the Adviser or any of the underwriters makes any representation or prediction as to the direction or magnitude of any effect that the transactions described above may have on the price of the Series A Preferred Shares. In addition, none of the Trust, the Adviser or any of the underwriters makes any representation that the representative will engage in these transactions or that these transactions, once commenced, will not be discontinued without notice.

Electronic Distribution

In connection with this offering, certain of the underwriters or securities dealers may distribute prospectuses by electronic means, such as e-mail.

Table of Contents

Other Relationships

Some of the underwriters and their affiliates have engaged in, and may in the future engage in, investment banking and other commercial dealings in the ordinary course of business with the Trust, the Adviser or their respective affiliates. They have received, or may in the future receive, customary fees and commissions for these transactions.

In addition, in the ordinary course of their business activities, the underwriters and their affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of the Trust, the Adviser or their respective affiliates. The underwriters and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.

The Trust anticipates that, from time to time, certain underwriters may act as brokers or dealers in connection with the execution of the Trust's portfolio transactions after they have ceased to be underwriters and, subject to certain restrictions, may act as brokers while they are underwriters.

The principal business address of Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC is 1585 Broadway, New York, NY 10036.

LEGAL MATTERS

Certain legal matters will be passed on by K&L Gates LLP, Boston, Massachusetts, our counsel in connection with the offering of the Series A Preferred Shares. Certain legal matters in connection with this offering will be passed upon for the underwriters by Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The audited financial statements included in the annual report to the Trust's shareholders for the fiscal period ended December 31, 2018, together with the report of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP for the Trust's annual report, are incorporated by reference into the SAI.

Subscription Rights to Purchase Common and Preferred Shares

The Highland Income Fund (the “Trust”), formerly, Highland Floating Rate Opportunities Fund, is a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company that was organized as a Massachusetts business trust on June 28, 2017 pursuant to a Declaration of Trust dated June 28, 2017. The Trust’s principal office is located at 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201 and its telephone number is 1-877- 665-1287. On September 25, 2017, the Trust acquired the assets of Highland Floating Rate Opportunities Fund (the “Predecessor Fund”), a series of Highland Funds I (the “Predecessor Trust”), a Delaware statutory trust. On May 20, 2019, the Trust’s name changed from “Highland Floating Rate Opportunities Fund” to “Highland Income Fund.” This Prospectus relates only to the Trust.

The Trust’s investment objective is to provide a high level of current income, consistent with preservation of capital. The Trust seeks to achieve its objective by primarily investing directly and indirectly (e.g., through derivatives that are the economic equivalent of direct investments) in the following categories of securities and instruments: (i) floating rate loans and other securities deemed to be floating rate investments; (ii) investments in securities or other instruments directly or indirectly secured by real estate, including real estate investment trusts (“REITs”), preferred equity, securities convertible into equity securities and mezzanine debt; and (iii) other instruments, including, but not limited to, secured and unsecured fixed-rate loans and corporate bonds, distressed securities, mezzanine securities, structured products (including but not limited to mortgage-backed securities, collateralized loan obligations and asset-backed securities), convertible and preferred securities, equities (public and private), and futures and options. Floating rate investments are debt obligations of companies or other entities, the interest rates of which float or vary periodically based upon a benchmark indicator of prevailing interest rates.

You should read this Prospectus and the related Prospectus Supplement, which contains important information about the Trust, before deciding whether to invest, and retain it for future reference. A Statement of Additional Information (“SAI”), dated July 1, 2019, containing additional information about the Trust has been filed with the Commission and is incorporated by reference in its entirety into this Prospectus. You can review the table of contents of the SAI in this Prospectus. You may request a free copy of the SAI, request the Trust’s most recent annual and semi-annual reports, request information about the Trust and make shareholder inquiries by calling 1-877- 665-1287 or by writing to the Trust at 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201. You may also obtain a copy of the SAI (and other information regarding the Trust) from the Commission’s Public Reference Room in Washington, D.C. by calling 1-202-551-8090. The Commission charges a fee for copies. The Trust’s most recent annual and semi-annual reports are available, free of charge from the Commission’s web site at www.sec.gov.

Investing in our securities involves a high degree of risk and may be considered speculative. Before investing in the Trust’s securities, you should read the discussion of the material risks of investing in the Trust, including the risks of leverage, in the “Principal Risks of the Trust” section of this Prospectus.

Neither the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission nor any state securities commission has approved or disapproved of these securities or determined that this Prospectus is truthful or complete. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

Beginning on January 1, 2021, as permitted by regulations adopted by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, paper copies of the Funds’ annual and semi-annual shareholder reports will no longer be sent by mail, unless you specifically request paper copies of the reports. Instead, the reports will be made available on the Funds’ website (highlandfunds.com), and you will be notified by mail each time a report is posted and provided with a website link to access the report.

If you already elected to receive shareholder reports electronically, you will not be affected by this change and you need not take any action. You may elect to receive shareholder reports and other communications from a Fund electronically by contacting your financial intermediary (such as a broker-dealer or bank) or, if you are a direct investor, by contacting the Funds’ transfer agent at 1-877-665-1287.

Beginning on January 1, 2019, you may elect to receive all future reports in paper free of charge. If you invest through a financial intermediary, you can contact your financial intermediary to request that you continue to receive paper copies of your shareholder reports. If you invest directly with a Fund, you can call 1-877-665-1287 to let the Fund know you wish to continue receiving paper copies of your shareholder reports. Your election to receive reports in paper will apply to all funds held in your account if you invest through your financial intermediary or all funds held with the fund complex if you invest directly with a Fund.

The Trust's securities do not represent a deposit or obligation of, and are not guaranteed or endorsed by, any bank or other insured depository institution, and are not federally insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve Board or any other government agency.

You should rely only on the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Prospectus. The Trust has not authorized any other person to provide you with different information. If anyone provides you with different or inconsistent information, you should not rely on it. The Trust is not making an offer to sell these securities in any jurisdiction where the offer or sale is not permitted. The information in this Prospectus and any accompanying Prospectus Supplements is accurate only as of the date of this Prospectus or such Prospectus Supplement, as applicable, and under no circumstances should the delivery of this Prospectus or any accompanying Prospectus Supplement or the sale of any securities imply that the information in this Prospectus or such accompanying Prospectus Supplement is accurate as of any later date or that the affairs of the Trust have not changed since the date hereof or thereof. Our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may have changed since then. We will update the information in these documents to reflect material changes only as required by law.

Table of ContentsCautionary Notice Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Prospectus and the Statement of Additional Information contain “forward-looking statements.” Forward-looking statements relate to future events or the Trust’s future financial performance. Forward-looking statements can generally be identified by terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “expects,” “plans,” “anticipates,” “could,” “intends,” “target,” “projects,” “contemplates,” “believes,” “estimates,” “predicts,” “potential” or “continue” or the negative of these terms or other similar words. Important assumptions in forward-looking statements include the Trust’s ability to acquire or originate new investments and to achieve certain margins and levels of profitability. In light of these and other uncertainties, the inclusion of a projection or forward-looking statement should not be regarded as a representation by the Trust that its plans or objectives will be achieved.

There are a number of important risks and uncertainties that could cause the Trust’s actual results to differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements. These risks include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment risk;
- Changes in interest rates;
- Risks associated with investing in high yield securities (also known as “junk securities”), senior loans and other debt and equity securities;
- Risks of investing in obligations of stressed, distressed and bankrupt issuers;
- Risk associated with investments in REITs;
- Risks associated with the Trust’s use of leverage;
- Derivatives and structured finance securities risk; and
- Market risk generally.

For a discussion of these and additional risks as well as other factors that could cause the Trust’s actual results to differ from forward-looking statements contained in this Prospectus and in the Statement of Additional Information, please see the discussion under “Principal Risks of the Trust.” You should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. The forward-looking statements made in this Prospectus and in the Statement of Additional Information relate only to events as of the date on which the statements are made. The Trust undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances occurring after the date of this Prospectus and Statement of Additional Information, except as required by federal securities laws.

The forward-looking statements contained in this Prospectus are excluded from the safe harbor protection provided by Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the forward looking statements contained in our periodic reports are excluded from the safe harbor protection provided by Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

About this Prospectus

This Prospectus is part of a registration statement that we have filed with the Commission using the “shelf” registration process. Under the shelf registration process, we may offer, from time to time, in one or more offerings or series, up to $1,000,000,000 of our common and/or preferred shares or subscription rights, on the terms to be determined at the time of the offering. The securities may be offered at prices and on terms described in one or more supplements to this Prospectus. Securities may be offered at prices and on terms to be set forth in one or more supplements to this Prospectus (this “Prospectus” and each supplement thereto, a “Prospectus Supplement”). This Prospectus provides you with a general description of the securities that we may offer. Each time we use this Prospectus to offer securities, we will provide a Prospectus Supplement that will contain specific information about the terms of that offering. The Prospectus Supplement may also add, update or change information contained in this Prospectus. Please carefully read this Prospectus and any Prospectus Supplement, together with any exhibits, and the additional information described under the headings “Principal Risks of the Trust” and “Where You Can Find Additional Information” before you make an investment decision.

Table of Contents

Prospectus Summary

The following summary highlights information contained elsewhere in this Prospectus. This summary may not contain all of the information that you should consider before investing in the Trust. You should review the more detailed information contained in this Prospectus and in the Statement of Additional Information, especially the information set forth under the heading “Principal Risks of the Trust.”

The Trust

The Trust is a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The Trust commenced operations on June 28, 2017, following its initial public offering. On September 25, 2017, the Trust acquired the assets of Highland Floating Rate Opportunities Fund, a series of Highland Funds I, a Delaware statutory trust. On May 20, 2019, the Trust’s name changed from “Highland Floating Rate Opportunities Fund” to “Highland Income Fund.”

The Trust’s outstanding common shares, par value $0.001 per share, are listed on the New York Stock Exchange (the “NYSE”) under the symbol HFRO. On May 31, 2019, the last reported sale price of common shares was $13.33. The net asset value of the Trust’s common shares at the close of business on such date was $14.60 per share. As of May 31, 2019, the net assets of the Trust attributable to its common shares were $1.05 billion. As of May 31, 2019, the Trust had outstanding 71,908,209 common shares.

Offerings

We may offer, from time to time, in one or more offerings, our common and/or fixed rate preferred shares, $0.001 par value per share, our notes, or our subscription rights to purchase our common or fixed rate preferred shares or both, which we refer to collectively as the “securities.” The securities may be offered at prices and on terms to be set forth in one or more supplements to this Prospectus (each a “Prospectus Supplement”). The offering price per common share of the Trust will not be less than the net asset value per common share at the time we make the offering, exclusive of any underwriting commissions or discounts; however, rights offerings that meet certain conditions may be offered at a price below the then current net asset value per common share of the Trust. You should read this Prospectus and the applicable Prospectus Supplement carefully before you invest in our securities. Our securities may be offered directly to one or more purchasers, through agents designated from time to time by us, or through underwriters or dealers. The Prospectus Supplement relating to the offering will identify any agents, underwriters or dealers involved in the sale of our shares, and will set forth any applicable purchase price, fee, commission or discount arrangement between us and our agents or underwriters, or among our underwriters, or the basis upon which such amount may be calculated. The Prospectus Supplement relating to any sale of fixed rate preferred shares will set forth the liquidation preference and information about the dividend period, dividend rate, any call protection or non-call period and other matters. The Prospectus Supplement relating to any offering of subscription rights will set forth the number of common and/or fixed rate preferred shares issuable upon the exercise of each right and the other terms of such rights offering. While the aggregate number and amount of securities we may issue pursuant to this registration statement is limited to $1,000,000,000 of securities, our Board of Trustees (the “Board” and each member of the Board individually a “Trustee”) may, without any action by the shareholders, amend our Agreement and Declaration of Trust from time to time to increase or decrease the aggregate number of shares or the number of shares of any class or series that we have authority to issue. We may not sell any of our securities through agents, underwriters or dealers without delivery of a Prospectus Supplement describing the method and terms of the particular offering.

Offerings of the securities will be subject to the provisions of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “1940 Act”), which generally require that the price at which a closed-end investment company sells its common shares (exclusive of distribution commissions and discounts) must equal or exceed the net asset value per share of a company’s common shares (calculated within 48 hours of pricing), except (i) in connection with a rights offering to our existing shareholders, (ii) with the consent of the majority of our common shareholders, or (iii) under such circumstances as the Commission may permit. Any offering of securities by a closed-end investment company that requires shareholder approval must occur, if at all, within one year after receiving such shareholder approval. You should read this Prospectus and the related Prospectus Supplement carefully before you decide to invest in any of the securities.

The Trust may offer the securities directly to one or more purchasers, through agents that the Trust or the purchasers designate from time to time, or to or through underwriters or dealers (including agents, underwriters or dealers affiliated with the Trust’s investment adviser). The Prospectus Supplement relating to the offering will identify any agents or underwriters involved in the sale of the securities, and will set forth any applicable purchase price, fee, commission or discount arrangement between the Trust and such agents or underwriters or among underwriters or the basis upon which such amount may be calculated. See “Plan of Distribution.” The securities may not be sold through agents, underwriters or dealers without delivery of a Prospectus Supplement describing the method and terms of the Offering. The Trust (and thus, indirectly, the Trust’s common shareholders) will bear all of the expenses of any such offering.

Preferred Shares

The terms of the preferred shares may be fixed by the Board and may materially limit and/or qualify the rights of holders of the Trust’s common shares. If the Trust’s Board determines that it may be advantageous to the holders of the Trust’s common shares for the Trust to utilize additional leverage, the Trust may issue additional series of fixed rate preferred shares. Any fixed rate preferred shares issued by the Trust will pay distributions at a fixed rate. Leverage creates a greater risk of loss as well as a potential for more gains for the common shares than if leverage were not used. The Trust may also determine in the future to issue other forms of senior securities, such as securities representing debt, subject to the limitations of the 1940 Act. The Trust may also engage in investment management techniques which will not be considered senior securities if the Trust establishes a segregated account with cash or other liquid assets or sets aside assets on the accounting records equal to the Trust's obligations in respect of such techniques. The Trust may also borrow money, to the extent permitted by the 1940 Act.

Investment Adviser and Administrator

Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P. ("HCMFA" or the "Adviser") serves as investment adviser to the Trust. The address of the Adviser is 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas 75201. Organized in February 2009, HCMFA is registered as an investment adviser under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended. As of March 31, 2019, HCMFA had approximately $3.3 billion in assets under management. HCMFA is also the Trust's administrator. HCMFA is owned by Highland Capital Management Services, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("HCM Services") and its general partner, Strand Advisors XVI, Inc., of which James Dondero is the sole stockholder. HCM Services is controlled by Mr. Dondero and Mr. Mark Okada by virtue of their respective share ownership.

In return for its advisory services, the Trust pays the Adviser a monthly fee of 0.65%, computed and accrued daily, based on an annual rate of the Trust's average daily managed assets. "Average Daily Managed Assets" of the Trust shall mean the average daily value of the total assets of the Trust, less all accrued liabilities of the Trust (other than the aggregate amount of any outstanding borrowings constituting financial leverage).

In return for its administrative services, the Adviser receives an annual fee, payable monthly, in an amount equal to 0.20% of the average weekly value of the Trust's Managed Assets. "Managed Assets" means the total assets of the Trust, including assets attributable to any form of investment leverage, minus all accrued expenses incurred in the normal course of operations, but not excluding any liabilities or obligations attributable to investment leverage obtained through (i) indebtedness of any type (including, without limitation, borrowing through a credit facility or the issuance of debt securities), (ii) the issuance of preferred shares or other similar preference securities, (iii) the reinvestment of collateral received for securities loaned in accordance with the Trust's investment objectives and policies, and/or (iv) any other means. The Adviser, at its own expense, has the authority to engage both a sub-adviser and a sub-administrator, each of which may be an affiliate of the Adviser. See “Management of the Trust — Investment Adviser” and “Management of the Trust — Administrator/Sub-Administrator.”

Potential Conflicts of Interest. As a result of the Trust’s arrangements with Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland”), there may be times when Highland, the Adviser or their affiliates have interests that differ from those of the Trust’s shareholders, giving rise to a conflict of interest. Highland and the Adviser are under common ownership, and the Trust’s officers serve or may serve as officers, directors or principals of entities that operate in the same or a related line of business as the Trust does, or of investment funds managed by the Adviser or its affiliates. Similarly, the Adviser or its affiliates may have other clients with similar, different or competing investment objectives. In serving in these multiple capacities, they may have obligations to other clients or investors in those entities, the fulfillment of which may not be in the best interests of the Trust or its shareholders. For example, the Trust’s officers have, and will continue to have, management responsibilities for other investment funds, accounts or other investment vehicles managed or sponsored by the Adviser and its affiliates.

The Trust’s investment objective may overlap, in part or in whole, with the investment objective of such affiliated investment funds, accounts or other investment vehicles. As a result, those individuals may face conflicts in the allocation of investment opportunities among the Trust and other investment funds or accounts advised by or affiliated with the Adviser. The Adviser will seek to allocate investment opportunities among eligible accounts in a manner that is fair and equitable over time and consistent with its allocation policy. However, the Trust can offer no assurance that such opportunities will be allocated to it fairly or equitably in the short-term or over time.

The Adviser will allocate investment opportunities across the entities for which such opportunities are appropriate, consistent with its internal conflict of interest and allocation policies. The Adviser will seek to allocate investment opportunities among such entities in a manner that is fair and equitable over time and consistent with its allocation policy. However, there is no assurance that such investment opportunities will be allocated to the Trust fairly or equitably in the short-term or over time and there can be no assurance that the Trust will be able to participate in all such investment opportunities that are suitable for it.

Currently, a portion of the Trust’s net assets are invested in REITs, asset-backed securities and/or collateralized loan obligations sponsored, organized and/or managed by Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“Highland”) and its affiliates. The Adviser will monitor for conflicts of interest in accordance with its fiduciary duties and will provide the independent trustees of the Trust with an opportunity to periodically review the Trust’s investments in such

	REITs, asset backed securities and/or CLOs and assure themselves that continued investment in such securities remains in the best interests of the Trust and its shareholders. Please see “Risk Factors—Potential Conflicts of Interest” for a description of risks associated with conflicts of interest. See “Management of the Trust — Investment Adviser.”
Custodian and Transfer Agent	The custodian of the assets of the Trust is Bank of New York Mellon (240 Greenwich Street, New York, New York 10286). The custodian performs custodial services for the Trust. American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC (6201 15th Avenue, Brooklyn, New York 11219; telephone (718) 921-8200) serves as the Trust’s transfer agent with respect to its securities.
Closed-End Structure	Closed-end funds differ from open-end management investment companies (commonly referred to as mutual funds) in that closed-end funds generally list their shares for trading on a securities exchange and do not redeem their shares at the option of the shareholder. By comparison, mutual funds issue securities redeemable at net asset value at the option of the shareholder and typically engage in a continuous offering of their shares. Mutual funds are subject to continuous asset in-flows and out-flows that can complicate portfolio management, whereas closed-end funds generally can stay more fully invested in securities consistent with the closed-end fund’s investment objective and policies. In addition, in comparison to open-end funds, closed-end funds have greater flexibility in their ability to make certain types of investments, including investments in illiquid securities. Shares of closed-end investment companies listed for trading on a securities exchange frequently trade at a discount from net asset value, but in some cases trade at a premium. The market price may be affected by net asset value, dividend or distribution levels (which are dependent, in part, on expenses), supply of and demand for the shares, stability of dividends or distributions, trading volume of the shares, general market and economic conditions and other factors beyond the control of the closed-end fund. The foregoing factors may result in the market price of shares of the Trust being greater than, less than or equal to, net asset value. The Board has reviewed the structure of the Trust in light of its investment objective and policies and has determined that the closed-end structure is appropriate. As described in this Prospectus, however, the Board may review periodically the trading range and activity of the Trust’s shares with respect to their net asset value and may take certain actions to seek to reduce or eliminate any such discount. Such actions may include open market repurchases or tender offers for the common shares at net asset value. There can be no assurance that the Board will decide to undertake any of these actions or that, if undertaken, such actions would result in the common shares trading at a price equal to or close to net asset value per Share.

Listing	The Trust's outstanding common shares are listed on the NYSE under the symbol "HFRO" as will be the common shares offered in the applicable Prospectus Supplement, subject to notice of issuance. Since the Trust commenced trading on the NYSE, the Trust's common shares have traded at a discount to net asset value as high as 15.40% and a premium as high as 5.54%. Any additional series of fixed rate preferred shares or subscription rights issued in the future pursuant to a Prospectus Supplement by the Trust may be listed on the NYSE.
Use of Proceeds	Unless otherwise specified in a Prospectus Supplement, the Trust will use the net proceeds of the sale of securities to invest in accordance with the Trust's investment objectives and policies as stated below, or use such proceeds for other general corporate purposes. See "Use of Proceeds." The Trust may also use the net proceeds from the Offering to call, redeem or repurchase preferred shares.
Investment Objectives and Strategies	The Trust's investment objective is to provide a high level of current income, consistent with preservation of capital. The Trust seeks to achieve its objective by investing directly and indirectly (e.g., through derivatives that are the economic equivalent of direct investments) in the following categories of securities and instruments: (i) floating rate loans and other securities deemed to be floating rate investments; (ii) investments in securities or other instruments directly or indirectly secured by real estate, including real estate investment trusts ("REITs"), preferred equity, securities convertible into equity securities and mezzanine debt; and (iii) other instruments, including, but not limited to, secured and unsecured fixed-rate loans and corporate bonds, distressed securities, mezzanine securities, structured products (including but not limited to mortgage-backed securities, collateralized loan obligations and asset-backed securities), convertible and preferred securities, equities (public and private), and futures and options. The Trust will invest at least 25% of its assets in investments in securities or other instruments directly or indirectly secured by real estate, including REITs, preferred equity, securities convertible into equity securities and mezzanine debt. Floating Rate Investments. Floating rate investments are debt obligations of companies or other entities, the interest rates of which float or vary periodically based upon a benchmark indicator of prevailing interest rates. Floating rate investments may include, by way of example, floating rate debt securities, money market securities of all types, repurchase agreements with remaining maturities of no more than 60 days, collateralized loan obligations and asset backed securities. The reference in the Trust's investment objective to capital preservation does not indicate that the Trust may not lose money. HCMFA seeks to employ strategies that are consistent with capital preservation, but there can be no assurance that the Adviser will be successful in doing so. In making floating rate investments for the Trust, the Trust's Adviser will seek to purchase instruments that it believes are undervalued or will provide attractive income, while attempting to minimize losses.

Floating rate loans in which the Trust invests are expected to be adjustable rate senior loans ("Senior Loans") to domestic or foreign corporations, partnerships and other entities that operate in a variety of industries and geographic regions ("Borrowers"). Senior Loans are business loans that have a right to payment senior to most other debts of the Borrower. Senior Loans generally are arranged through private negotiations between a Borrower and several financial institutions (the "Lenders") represented in each case by one or more such Lenders acting as agent (the "Agent") of the several Lenders. On behalf of the Lenders, the Agent is primarily responsible for negotiating the loan agreement ("Loan Agreement") that establishes the relative terms and conditions of the Senior Loan and rights of the Borrower and the Lenders.

The Trust may invest in securities of any credit quality. Senior Loans are typically below investment grade securities (also known as "high yield securities" or "junk securities"). Such securities are rated below investment grade by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization ("NRSRO") or are unrated but deemed by the Adviser to be of comparable quality. The Trust may invest without limitation in below investment grade or unrated securities, including in insolvent borrowers or borrowers in default.

The Trust may invest in participations ("Participations") in Senior Loans, may purchase assignments ("Assignments") of portions of Senior Loans from third parties, and may act as one of a group of Lenders originating a Senior Loan ("Primary Lender"). Senior Loans often are secured by specific assets of the Borrower, although the Trust may invest without limitation in Senior Loans that are not secured by any collateral. When the Trust acts as a Primary Lender, the Trust or the Adviser could be subject to allegations of lender liability. Senior Loans in which the Trust invests generally pay interest at rates that are periodically redetermined by reference to a base lending rate plus a spread.

Real Estate Investments. The Trust defines securities of issuers conducting their principal business activities in the real estate industry to include common stock, convertible or non-convertible preferred stock, warrants, convertible or non-convertible secured or unsecured debt, and partnership or membership interests issued by:

- commercial mortgage-backed securities ("CMBS"), residential mortgage-backed securities ("RMBS") and other real estate credit investments, which include existing first and second mortgages on real estate, either originated or acquired in the secondary market, and secured, unsecured and/or convertible notes offered by real estate operating companies (“REOCs”) and REITs;

- publicly traded REITs managed by affiliated or unaffiliated asset managers and their foreign equivalents (“Public REITs”);
- REOCs;
- private real estate investment funds managed by affiliated or unaffiliated institutional asset managers (“Private Real Estate Investment Funds”);
- registered closed-end funds that invest principally in real estate (collectively, “Public Investment Funds”);
- real estate exchange traded funds (“ETFs”); and
- publicly-registered non-traded REITs (“Non-Traded REITs”) and private REITs, generally wholly-owned by the Trust or wholly-owned or managed by an affiliate.

REITs are pooled investment vehicles that invest primarily in income-producing real estate or real estate-related loans or interests, and REOCs are companies that invest in real estate and whose shares trade on public exchanges. Foreign REIT equivalents are entities located in jurisdictions that have adopted legislation substantially similar to the REIT tax provisions in that they provide for favorable tax treatment for the foreign REIT equivalent and require distributions of income to shareholders. The Trust may enter into certain real estate and real-estate related investments through its wholly-owned REIT subsidiary, NFRO REIT Sub, LLC (the “REIT Subsidiary”). With respect to the Trust’s real estate investments, the Adviser seeks to: (i) recognize and allocate capital based upon where the Adviser believes we are in the current real estate cycle, and as a result (ii) minimize drawdowns during market downturns and maximize risk adjusted returns during all market cycles, though there can be no assurance that this strategy will achieve this objective. The Trust will rely on the expertise of the Adviser and its affiliates to determine the appropriate structure for structured credit investments, which may include bridge loans, common and preferred equity or other debt-like positions, as well as the acquisition of such instruments from banks, servicers or other third parties.

Preferred equity and mezzanine investments in real estate transactions come in various forms which may or may not be documented in the borrower’s organizational documents. Generally, real estate preferred equity and/or mezzanine investments are typically junior to first mortgage financing but senior to the borrower’s or sponsor’s equity contribution. The investments are typically structured as an investment by a third-party investor in the real estate owner or various affiliates in the chain of ownership in exchange for a direct or indirect ownership interest in the real estate owner entitling it to a preferred/priority return on its investment. Sometimes, the investment is structured much like a loan where (i) “interest” on the investment is required to be paid monthly by the “borrower” regardless of available property cash flow; (ii) the entire investment is required to be paid by a certain maturity date; (iii) default rate “interest” and penalties are assessed against the “borrower” in the event payments are not made timely; and (iv) a default in the repayment of investment potentially results in the loss of management and/or ownership control by the “borrower” in the company in favor of the investor or other third-party.

Other Investments. The Trust may invest up to 15% of its net assets in entities that are excluded from registration under the 1940 Act by virtue of section 3(c)(1) and 3(c)(7) of the 1940 Act (such as private equity funds or hedge funds). This limitation does not apply to any collateralized loan obligations, certain of which may rely on Section 3(c)(1) or 3(c)(7) of the 1940 Act.

In addition, the Trust may invest in equity securities of companies of any market capitalization, market sector or industry. Equity securities of U.S. or non-U.S. issuers in which the Trust may invest include common stocks, preferred stocks, convertible securities, depositary receipts and warrants to buy common stocks. The Trust may invest in securities issued by other investment companies, including investment companies that are advised by the Adviser or its affiliates, to the extent permitted by applicable law and/or pursuant to exemptive relief from the SEC, and exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”). Fees and expenses of such investments will be borne by shareholders of the investing fund (the Trust), and the Adviser voluntarily waives the higher of the two fees for the portion of the Trust’s management fee attributable to the Trust’s investment in the affiliated investment company.

The Trust’s investment in fixed income securities may include convertible securities. A convertible security is a bond, debenture, note, preferred stock or other security that may be converted into or exchanged for a prescribed amount of common stock or other equity security of the same or a different issuer within a particular period of time at a specified price or formula. A convertible security entitles the holder to receive interest paid or accrued on debt or the dividend paid on preferred stock until the convertible security matures or is redeemed, converted or exchanged. Before conversion, convertible securities have characteristics similar to nonconvertible income securities in that they ordinarily provide a stable stream of income with generally higher yields than those of common stocks of the same or similar issuers, but lower yields than comparable nonconvertible securities. The value of a convertible security is influenced by changes in interest rates, with investment value declining as interest rates increase and increasing as interest rates decline. The credit standing of the issuer and other factors also may have an effect on the convertible security’s investment value. Convertible securities rank senior to common stock in a corporation's capital structure but are usually subordinated to comparable nonconvertible securities. Convertible securities may be subject to redemption at the option of the issuer at a price established in the convertible security's governing instrument. Depending on the relationship of the conversion price to the market value of the underlying securities, convertible securities may trade more like equity securities than debt instruments.

The Trust may invest without limitation in warrants and may also use derivatives, primarily swaps (including equity, variance and volatility swaps), options and futures contracts on securities, interest rates, non-physical commodities and/or currencies, as substitutes for direct investments the Trust can make. The Trust may also use derivatives such as swaps, options (including options on futures), futures, and foreign currency transactions (e.g., foreign currency swaps, futures and forwards) to any extent deemed by the Adviser to be in the best interest of the Trust, and to the extent permitted by the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"), to hedge various investments for risk management and speculative purposes.

The Trust may also engage in short sales of securities and may seek additional income by making secured loans of its portfolio securities.

The Trust may engage in securities lending by making secured loans of its portfolio securities amounting to not more than one-third of its total assets, thereby realizing additional income.

The Trust may invest in illiquid and restricted securities. Illiquid securities are those that cannot be disposed of within seven days in the ordinary course of business at approximately the amount at which the Trust has valued the securities.

The Trust may invest without limitation in securities (including loans) of non-U.S. issuers, including emerging market issuers. Such securities (including loans) may be denominated in U.S. dollars, non-U.S. currencies or multinational currency units.

Except as otherwise expressly noted in the Statement of Additional Information ("SAI"), all percentage limitations and ratings criteria apply at the time of purchase of securities.

The Trust may borrow an amount up to 33 1/3% of its total assets (including the amount borrowed) and may use leverage in the form of preferred shares in an amount up to 50% of the Trust's total assets (including the amount borrowed). The Trust may borrow for investment purposes and for temporary, extraordinary or emergency purposes. To the extent the Trust borrows more money than it has cash or short-term cash equivalents and invests the proceeds, the Trust will create financial leverage. The use of borrowing for investment purposes increases both investment opportunity and investment risk.

When adverse market, economic, political or currency conditions domestically or abroad occur, the Trust may temporarily invest all or a portion of its total assets in defensive investments. Such investments may include fixed-income securities, high quality money market instruments, cash and cash equivalents. To the extent the Trust takes a temporary defensive position, it may not achieve its investment objective.

The Trust is a non-diversified fund as defined in the 1940 Act, but it intends to adhere to the diversification requirements applicable to regulated investment companies ("RICs") under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). The Trust is not intended to be a complete investment program.

Distributions

Preferred Shares Distributions. As required by the 1940 Act, all preferred shares of the Trust must have the same seniority with respect to distributions. Accordingly, no complete distribution due for a particular dividend period will be declared or paid on any series of preferred shares of the Trust for any dividend period, or part thereof, unless full cumulative dividends and distributions due through the most recent dividend payment dates for all series of outstanding preferred shares of the Trust are declared and paid. If full cumulative distributions due have not been declared and made on all outstanding preferred shares of the Trust, any distributions on such preferred shares will be made as nearly pro rata as possible in proportion to the respective amounts of distributions accumulated but unmade on each such series of preferred shares on the relevant dividend payment date.

The Trust's annualized distributions may in the future contain a return of capital and should not be considered as the dividend yield or total return of an investment in its common or preferred shares. Shareholders who receive the payment of a distribution consisting of a return of capital may be under the impression that they are receiving net profits when they are not. Shareholders should not assume that the source of a distribution from the Trust is net profit. The composition of each distribution is estimated based on the earnings of the Trust as of the record date for each distribution. The actual composition of each of the current year's distributions will be based on the Trust's investment activity through the end of the calendar year.

Distributions on fixed rate preferred shares, at the applicable annual rate of the per share liquidation preference, are cumulative from the original issue date and are payable, when, as and if declared by the Board, out of funds legally available therefor.

	Common Shares Distributions. Subject to market conditions, the Trust expects to declare dividends on the Trust’s common shares on a monthly basis. The Trust intends to pay any net capital gain distributions annually. Various factors will affect the level of the Trust’s current income and current gains, such as its asset mix and the Trust’s use of options and other derivative transactions. To permit the Trust to maintain more stable monthly dividends and annual capital gain distributions, the Trust may from time to time distribute less than the entire amount of income and gains earned in the relevant month or year, respectively. The undistributed income and gains would be available to supplement future distributions. As a result, the distributions paid by the Trust for any particular period may be more or less than the amount of income and gains actually earned by the Trust during the applicable period. Undistributed income and gains will add to the Trust’s net asset value, and, correspondingly, distributions from previously undistributed income and gains, as well as from capital, if any, will be deducted from the Trust’s net asset value. Shareholders will automatically receive common shares purchased in the open market at prevailing prices for all dividends declared for common shares of the Trust in accordance with the Trust’s Dividend Reinvestment Plan unless an election is made to receive cash. Participants requesting a sale of securities through the plan agent of the Trust’s Dividend Reinvestment Plan are subject to a sales fee and a brokerage commission. See “Dividend Reinvestment Plan.”
