- (b) The Partnership shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Person from and against any and all liabilities suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Person by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Person or in connection with this Agreement or the Partnership's business or affairs, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability did not result from the gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of such Indemnified Person. The Partnership will, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, advance to any Indemnified Person reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct. In the event that such an advance is made by the Partnership, the Indemnified Person will agree to reimburse the Partnership to the extent that it is finally determined that the Indemnified Person was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.
- (c) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of this Section 4.5 do not provide for the exculpation or indemnification of any Indemnified Person for any liability (including liability under U.S. federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- (d) Pursuant to the indemnification and exculpation provisions above and as set forth in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund (and not the applicable Indemnified Person) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, and the Partnership will bear its pro rata portion thereof, absent gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of any Indemnified Person.

- (e) The above-mentioned Indemnified Persons are also indemnified by each Limited Partner for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that Limited Partner, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith to the extent that the balance of the Limited Partner's Capital Account is insufficient to fully compensate the General Partner or the Investment Manager for such costs.

Article V

ADMISSIONS, TRANSFERS AND WITHDRAWALS

5.1 Admission of Limited Partners

The General Partner may, on the first day of each calendar month, or at such other times as the General Partner may determine, without advance notice to or consent of the Limited Partners, admit to the Partnership any Person who shall execute this Agreement or any other writing evidencing the intent of such Person to become a Limited Partner. Such admission shall be effective when the General Partner enters the name of such Person on the Schedule of Partners and does not require the consent or approval of any other Partner. The General Partner shall have the authority to reject subscriptions for Interests in whole or in part.

5.2 Admission of Additional General Partners

- (a) Except as provided in Section 5.2(b), the General Partner may admit one or more Persons as additional general partners to the Partnership. No additional general partner shall be added unless such additional general partner agrees to be bound by all of the terms of this Agreement and adding such additional general partner would not have any of the effects described in clauses (i) through (iv) of Section 5.3(c) (except as specifically set forth therein).
- (b) Any Person to whom the General Partner has transferred its general partner interest in accordance with Section 5.4 will be admitted to the Partnership as a substitute General Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners unless otherwise provided for in Section 5.4.

5.3 Transfer of Interests of Limited Partners

- (a) Each Limited Partner agrees with all other Partners that it shall not make or attempt to make any Transfer of its Interest which will violate this Section 5.3. In the event of any attempted Transfer of any Limited Partner's Interest in violation of the provisions of this Section 5.3, without limiting any other rights of the Partnership, the General Partner shall have the right to require the withdrawal of such Limited Partner's Interest from the Partnership as provided by Section 5.5(j).

- (b) No Transfer of any Limited Partner's Interest, whether voluntary or involuntary, shall be valid or effective, and no transferee shall become a substituted Limited Partner, unless the prior written consent of the General Partner has been obtained, which consent may be granted, withheld or conditioned for any reason by the General Partner. In the event of any Transfer, all of the conditions of the remainder of this Section 5.3 must also be satisfied.
- (c) Without limiting the General Partner's discretion pursuant to the preceding paragraph, the General Partner expects to withhold consent to any Transfer of any Limited Partner's Interest, whether voluntary or involuntary, if the General Partner has reason to believe that such Transfer may:
 - (i) require registration of any Interest under any securities laws of the United States of America, any state thereof or any other jurisdiction;
 - (ii) subject the Partnership or the General Partner to a requirement to register, or to additional disclosure or other requirements, under any securities or commodities laws of the United States of America, any state thereof or any other jurisdiction;
 - (iii) result in a termination of the Partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes under Section 708(b)(1)(B) of the Code, or cause the Partnership to be treated as a "publicly traded partnership" for U.S. federal income tax purposes under Section 7704(b) of the Code or cause the Partnership not to qualify for one of the safe harbors under Section 1.7704-1(e), (f), (g), (h) or (j) of the Regulations;
 - (iv) result in the Partnership being considered an investment company within the meaning of the Investment Company Act;
 - (v) result in violation of any anti-money laundering rules or regulations applicable to the Partnership, the Investment Manager or the General Partner;
 - (vi) violate or be inconsistent with any representation or warranty made by the transferring Limited Partner at the time the Limited Partner subscribed to purchase an Interest; or
 - (vii) cause all or any portion of the assets of the Master Fund to constitute Plan Assets of any ERISA Partner for purposes of ERISA or to be subject to the provisions of ERISA to substantially the same extent as if owned directly by an ERISA Partner.

The transferring Limited Partner, or its legal representative, must give the General Partner written notice before making any voluntary Transfer and after any involuntary Transfer and must provide sufficient information to allow legal counsel acting for the Partnership to make the determination that the proposed Transfer would not result in any of the consequences referred to in clauses (i) through (vii) above. If an assignment, Transfer or disposition occurs by reason of the death of a Limited Partner or assignee, the notice may be given by the duly authorized representative of the estate of the Limited Partner or assignee. The notice must be supported by proof of legal authority and valid assignment acceptable to the General Partner.

- (d) In the event any Transfer permitted by this Section 5.3 shall result in multiple ownership of any Limited Partner's Interest, the General Partner may require one or more trustees or nominees to be designated to represent a portion of or the entire Interest transferred for the purpose of receiving all notices which may be given and all payments which may be made under this Agreement, and for the purpose of exercising the rights which the transferor as a Limited Partner had pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement.
- (e) Subsequent to receipt of the consent of the General Partner (which consent may be withheld by the General Partner), an authorized transferee shall be entitled to the allocations and distributions attributable to the Interest transferred to such transferee and to transfer such Interest in accordance with the terms of this Agreement; provided, however, that such transferee shall not be entitled to the other rights of a Limited Partner as a result of such Transfer until it becomes a substituted Limited Partner. No transferee may become a substituted Limited Partner without the consent of the General Partner (which consent may be withheld for any reason or no reason by the General Partner). If the General Partner withholds consent to such substitution, a transferee will not have any of the rights of a Limited Partner, except that the transferee will be entitled, unless prohibited by law, to receive that share of capital or profits and to have the right of withdrawal to which its transferor would have been entitled and will be subject to the other terms of this Agreement. A transferring Limited Partner will remain liable to the Partnership as provided under applicable law and this Agreement regardless of whether its transferee becomes a substituted Limited Partner. Notwithstanding the above, the Partnership and the General Partner shall incur no liability for allocations and distributions made in good faith to the transferring Limited Partner until a written instrument of transfer has been received by the Partnership and recorded on its books and the effective date of the Transfer has passed.
- (f) Any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, a transferee shall be bound by the provisions hereof. Prior to recognizing any Transfer in accordance with this Section 5.3, the General Partner may require the transferring Limited Partner to execute and acknowledge an instrument of Transfer in form and substance satisfactory to the General Partner, and may require the transferee to make certain representations and warranties to the Partnership and Partners and to accept, adopt and approve in writing all of the terms and provisions of this Agreement. A transferee shall become a substituted Limited Partner and shall succeed to the portion of the transferor's Capital Account relating to the Interest transferred effective upon the satisfaction of all of the conditions for such Transfer contained in this Section 5.3.

- (g) In the event of a Transfer or in the event of a distribution of assets of the Partnership to any Partner, the Partnership may, but shall not be required to, file an election under Section 754 of the Code and in accordance with the applicable Regulations, to cause the basis of the Partnership's assets to be adjusted for U.S. federal income tax purposes as provided by Section 734 or 743 of the Code and shall make any mandatory adjustments to the basis of the Partnership's assets as required by Section 734 or 743 of the Code. If the Partnership does not file an election under Section 754 in connection with a Transfer and if the transferring Limited Partner is a Negative Basis Partner, the General Partner may elect to allocate to the transferring Limited Partner pursuant to Section 3.9(d) net losses or items of loss and deduction realized by the Partnership for the Fiscal Year in which the Transfer occurs as if the transferring Limited Partner were withdrawing from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5.
- (h) In the event of a Transfer at any time other than the end of a Fiscal Year, items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit recognized by the Partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes will be allocated between the transferring parties, as determined by the General Partner, using any permissible method under Code Section 706(d) and the Regulations thereunder. The transferring parties agree to reimburse the General Partner and the Partnership for any incidental accounting fees and other expenses incurred by the General Partner and the Partnership in making allocations pursuant to this Section 5.3(h).

5.4 Transfer of Interest of the General Partner

The General Partner may not Transfer its Interest as a general partner of the Partnership other than (a) to one or more of its direct or indirect beneficial owners or their Affiliates, or (b) with the approval of a Majority of Limited Partners. Each Limited Partner shall be deemed to have consented to any such Transfer made in accordance with this Section 5.4.

5.5 Withdrawal of Interests of Partners

- (a) Except as provided in this Section 5.5, a Limited Partner may voluntarily withdraw all or part of its Capital Account effective as of the last Business Day of each calendar month and/or such other Business Days as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion (such date, a "Withdrawal Date") upon not less than 30 calendar days' prior written notice ("Withdrawal Notice") to the Administrator; provided that, any partial withdrawals may only be made in minimum amounts of $100,000. Any notice of withdrawal shall be irrevocable by the Limited Partner, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner. The General Partner may waive the notice requirements of this Section 5.5(a), including with respect to the Capital Accounts of the Affiliated Investors. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the General Partner may agree with certain Limited Partners to provide for different withdrawal terms and notice periods.
- (b) For the purposes of this Section 5.5 (and as described in Section 3.3(a)), each capital contribution shall be accounted for using a separate memorandum sub-account, and, in the case of a Limited Partner for which more than one memorandum sub-account is maintained, the withdrawals of the balance of any such sub-accounts shall be processed on a “first-in, first-out” basis based upon the date on which each capital contribution was made, unless otherwise agreed between the General Partner and such Limited Partner. Each memorandum sub-account related to a contribution of capital from a Limited Partner will be treated as if it were the separate Capital Account of a separate Partner for the purposes of applying the withdrawal provisions of this Section 5.5.

- (c) A withdrawal of capital from a Capital Account that occurs during an applicable Soft Lock-up Period or Second Soft Lock-up Period is subject to the applicable Early Withdrawal Reduction. The General Partner may waive the Soft Lock-up Period or the Second Soft Lock-up Period with respect to any Capital Account of a Limited Partner.
- (d) Any Withdrawal Notice shall be irrevocable by the Limited Partner, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, if a Limited Partner notifies the General Partner of its intent to withdraw and later chooses not to withdraw (with the General Partner’s consent), any transaction costs incurred by the Partnership or the General Partner in connection therewith may, in the discretion of the General Partner, be charged to such withdrawing Limited Partner. The General Partner or the Administrator may refuse to honor any Limited Partner’s request for a full or partial withdrawal if such request is not accompanied by such additional information as the General Partner or the Administrator may reasonably require.
- (e) Payment of the estimated amount due with respect to any permitted withdrawal pursuant to this Section 5.5 will generally be made within 10 Business Days of the Withdrawal Date, provided that, the General Partner may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such withdrawal from having a material adverse impact on the Partnership. Amounts withdrawn by a Limited Partner will not earn interest for the period from the effective Withdrawal Date through the settlement date.
- (f) The General Partner may deduct from any withdrawal proceeds due to any Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 5.5 an amount representing the Partnership’s actual or estimated expenses, as determined by the General Partner in good faith, associated with processing the withdrawal, as well as any Early Withdrawal Reduction. Any such withdrawal deduction will be retained for the benefit of the Partnership.
- (g) Upon receipt by the Partnership of a Limited Partner’s Withdrawal Notice, the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund, will have the discretion to manage the Master Fund’s assets in a manner that would provide for cash being available to the Partnership to satisfy such Limited Partner’s withdrawal request, but the General Partner shall be under no obligation to effect sales of Master Fund assets if the General Partner determines that such transactions might be detrimental to the interest of the other Investors or that such transactions are not reasonably practicable. The General Partner may effect withdrawal payments (i) in cash, (ii) in kind, by transfer of marketable or non-marketable Investments received from the Master Fund or other assets of the Partnership, the value of which, as determined in accordance with Section 7.3, would satisfy the Limited Partner's request for withdrawal, or (iii) in any combination of the foregoing. In the event that the General Partner satisfies a withdrawal request with Investments or assets in kind, such securities may be transferred to a liquidating account and sold by the Partnership for the benefit of the withdrawing Limited Partner, in which case, payment of the withdrawal proceeds attributable to such Investments will be delayed until such Investments are sold. The amount payable in respect of such Investments will depend on the performance of such Investments through to the date on which they are sold. The cost of operating the liquidating account and selling the Investment(s) will be deducted from the proceeds of sale paid to the withdrawing Limited Partner.

- (h) The General Partner may, at any time, suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Interests (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of Interests; (c) the withdrawal by Limited Partners of their Interests (and the applicable Withdrawal Date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and Withdrawal Dates are not postponed), during any period which: (i) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of Investments owned by the Partnership (through the Master Fund) are traded is closed, other than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended; (ii) there exists any state of affairs as a result of which (A) disposal of a substantial part of the Investments owned by the Partnership (through the Master Fund) would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the Limited Partners, or (B) it is not reasonably practicable for the Partnership fairly to determine the value of its net assets; (iii) none of the withdrawal requests which have been made may lawfully be satisfied by the Partnership; (iv) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the Investments of the Partnership (through the Master Fund); (v) in the sole discretion of the General Partner, it is necessary to preserve the Partnership's assets; or (vi) automatically upon any suspension of withdrawals by the Master Fund for similar reasons.
- (i) The Administrator will promptly notify each Limited Partner who has submitted a withdrawal request and to whom payment in full of the amount being withdrawn has not yet been remitted of any suspension of withdrawals or suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds pursuant to Section 5.5(h). Any remaining amount of a withdrawal request that is not satisfied due to such a suspension remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Partnership and subject to the applicable Management Fee until such amount is finally and fully withdrawn. Such Limited Partners will not be given any priority with respect to the withdrawal of Interests after the cause for such suspension or limitation ceases to exist. The General Partner may in its sole discretion, however, permit such Limited Partners to withdraw their withdrawal requests to the extent that the relevant Withdrawal

Date has not yet passed. For the avoidance of doubt, where a suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds is declared between the relevant Withdrawal Date and the remittance of such payment proceeds, affected Limited Partners shall not have any right to withdraw their withdrawal requests. Upon the reasonable determination by the General Partner that conditions leading to a suspension no longer apply, the Administrator will notify the Limited Partners of the end of the suspension. At such time, any such suspended payments shall generally be paid in accordance with the normal process for making such payments, withdrawal rights shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending withdrawal requests which were not withdrawn (or new, timely withdrawal requests) will be effected as of the first Withdrawal Date following the removal of the suspension, subject to the foregoing restrictions on withdrawals. For the avoidance of doubt, the terms of Section 5.5(h) and this Section 5.5(i) shall not affect the discretion of the General Partner to compel the withdrawal of the Interest of any Limited Partner pursuant to Section 5.5(j).

- (j) The General Partner may, upon not less than seven days' prior written notice (or immediately if the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that such Limited Partner's continued participation in the Partnership may cause the Partnership, the Master Fund, the General Partner or the Investment Manager to violate any applicable law), require any Limited Partner's Interest to be withdrawn in part or in its entirety from the Partnership and for the Limited Partner to cease to be a limited partner of the Partnership (in the case of a withdrawal of the Limited Partner's Interest in its entirety) pursuant to this Section 5.5(j) (a "Compulsory Withdrawal"). The General Partner will compel the withdrawal of a Limited Partner's Interest in its entirety if a Limited Partner requests a withdrawal that would cause its total investment with respect to a particular Series to fall below a minimum of $100,000 (a "Minimum Required Withdrawal"). In either case, the amount due to any such Partner required to withdraw from the Partnership shall be equal to the value of such Partner's Capital Account as of the Withdrawal Date determined by the General Partner, net of any deductions imposed pursuant to Section 5.5(f). Except as otherwise provided herein, settlements pursuant to this Section 5.5(j) will be made in the same manner as voluntary withdrawals, but the Early Withdrawal Reduction will not apply in the event of a Compulsory Withdrawal. However, for purposes of clarity, the Early Withdrawal Reduction will apply to any Minimum Required Withdrawal.
- (k) The right of any Partner to withdraw or receive distributions pursuant to the provisions of this Section 5.5 is subject to all Capital Account allocations and adjustments contemplated by this Agreement and to the provision by the General Partner for all Partnership liabilities and for reserves for contingencies provided in Section 3.6. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may establish reserves and holdbacks for estimated accrued expenses, liabilities and contingencies, including, without limitation, general reserves for unspecified contingencies (even if such reserves or holdbacks are not otherwise required by GAAP) or liabilities stemming from tax obligations (as such may be determined in the sole discretion of the General Partner and whether or not incurred directly or indirectly), which could reduce the amount of a distribution upon a Limited Partner's withdrawal.

- (l) With respect to any amounts withdrawn, a withdrawing Partner shall not share in the income, gains and losses of the Partnership or have any other rights as a Partner (in the case of a complete withdrawal) after the applicable Withdrawal Date, except as provided in Section 3.6. For the avoidance of doubt, none of the Partnership, the General Partner or the Investment Manager will be liable to a Limited Partner for interest on the proceeds of any withdrawal.
- (m) The Interest of a Limited Partner may not be withdrawn from the Partnership prior to its dissolution, except as provided in this Section 5.5.
- (n) Unless prohibited by law, the Special Limited Partner, its Affiliates and any other Person that is entitled to any portion of the Performance Allocation may make withdrawals of all or any portion of the amount of the Performance Allocation from their capital accounts in the Master Fund as of any Withdrawal Date.
- (o) If the Master Fund violates the investment restrictions set forth in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and fails to remedy the violation on or before the Remedy Date, any Limited Partner may withdraw all or part of its Capital Account (and corresponding Capital Sub-Account) on the next Withdrawal Date and will not be subject to the Early Withdrawal Reduction; provided that, such Limited Partner has requested such withdrawal in writing within 30 Business Days after the Remedy Date.

5.6 Withdrawal of Original Limited Partner

The Original Limited Partner (in its capacity as the original limited partner of the Partnership) hereby withdraws from the Partnership and is entitled to the return of any capital contribution, without interest or deduction, upon the Commencement Date.

Article VI DISSOLUTION AND LIQUIDATION

6.1 Dissolution of Partnership

- (a) The Partnership shall be dissolved upon the first to occur of the following dates:
 - (i) any date on which the General Partner shall elect in writing to dissolve the Partnership; or

- (ii) the occurrence of any other event causing (A) the General Partner (or a successor to its business) to cease to be the general partner of the Partnership or (B) the dissolution of the Partnership under the Act.
- (b) The parties agree that irreparable damage would be done to the goodwill and reputation of the Partners if any Limited Partner should bring an action in court to dissolve the Partnership. Care has been taken in this Agreement to provide for fair and just payment in liquidation of the Interests of all Partners. Accordingly, each Limited Partner hereby waives and renounces its right to such a court decree of dissolution or to seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Partnership except as provided herein.

6.2 Liquidation of Assets

- (a) Upon dissolution of the Partnership, the General Partner shall promptly liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership to the extent feasible, except that if the General Partner is unable to perform this function, a liquidator elected by a Majority of Limited Partners shall liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership. Net Profit and Net Loss during the Fiscal Periods, which includes the period of liquidation, shall be allocated pursuant to Article III. The proceeds from liquidation shall be divided in the following manner, subject to the Act:
 - (i) the debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership, other than any debts to the Partners as Partners, and the expenses of liquidation (including legal, administrative and accounting expenses incurred in connection therewith), up to and including the date that distribution of the Partnership's assets to the Partners has been completed, shall first be satisfied (whether by payment or the making of reasonable provision for payment thereof);
 - (ii) such debts as are owing to the Partners as Partners are next paid; and
 - (iii) the Partners shall next be paid liquidating distributions (in cash or in securities or other assets, whether or not readily marketable) pro rata in accordance with, and up to the positive balances of their respective Capital Accounts, as adjusted pursuant to Article III to reflect allocations for the Fiscal Period ending on the date of the distributions under this Section 6.2(a)(iii).
- (b) Notwithstanding this Section 6.2 and the priorities set forth in the Act, the General Partner or liquidator may distribute ratably in kind rather than in cash, upon dissolution, any assets of the Partnership; provided, however, that if any in kind distribution is to be made, (i) the assets distributed in kind shall be valued pursuant to Section 7.3, and charged as so valued and distributed against amounts to be paid under Section 6.2(a) and (ii) any gain or loss (as computed for book purposes) attributable to property distributed in kind shall be included in the Net Profit or Net Loss for the Fiscal Period ending on the date of such distribution.

Article VII
ACCOUNTING AND VALUATION; BOOKS AND RECORDS

7.1 Accounting and Reports

- (a) The Partnership may adopt for tax accounting purposes any accounting method that the General Partner shall decide is in the best interests of the Partnership and that is permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
- (b) As soon as practicable after the end of each Fiscal Year, the General Partner shall cause an audit of the financial statements of the Partnership as of the end of such period to be made by a firm of independent accountants selected by the General Partner. Within 120 days of the end of each year (or as soon as practicable thereafter), but subject to Section 7.5, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner a copy of the set of audited financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP, with such adjustments thereto as the General Partner determines appropriate, including a statement of profit and loss for such Fiscal Year and an unaudited status of each such Partner's holdings in the Partnership at such time. The General Partner may elect not to reserve certain amounts that may be required by GAAP and not to provide certain portfolio disclosure required by GAAP to investors and may capitalize and amortize certain of its organizational expenses in deviation from GAAP. Such deviations from GAAP may result in a qualified opinion rendered on the financial statements of the Partnership.
- (c) Upon request to the Administrator, each Partner may receive copies of semi-annual financial statements of the Partnership.
- (d) As soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner such information as may be required to enable each such Limited Partner properly to report for U.S. federal, state and local income tax purposes its distributive share of each Partnership item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit for such year. The General Partner shall have discretion as to how to report Partnership items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit on the Partnership's tax returns, and the Limited Partners shall treat such items consistently on their own tax returns.

7.2 Certain Tax Matters

- (a) By joining this Agreement, each Limited Partner appoints and designates the General Partner (i) as the "tax matters partner," within the meaning of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code, and, (ii) for any BBA Effective Period, as the "partnership representative" within the meaning of Section 6223 of the Code (as applicable, the "Tax Matters Partner"), or, in each case, under any similar state or local law. The Tax Matters Partner shall have any powers necessary to perform fully in such capacity, and shall be permitted to take any and all actions, to the extent permitted by law, in consultation with the General Partner if the General Partner is not the Tax Matters Partner. The General Partner shall have the exclusive authority to appoint and designate the Investment Manager, or an Affiliate of the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as a successor Tax Matters Partner for any BBA Effective Period. The Tax Matters Partner shall be reimbursed by the Partnership for all costs and expenses incurred by it, and to be indemnified by the Partnership with respect to any action brought against it, in its capacity as the Tax Matters Partner.

- (b) The Limited Partners agree that any and all actions taken by the Tax Matters Partner shall be binding on the Partnership and all of the Limited Partners and the Limited Partners shall reasonably cooperate with the Partnership or the General Partner, and undertake any action reasonably requested by the Partnership or the General Partner, in connection with any elections made by the Tax Matters Partner or as determined to be reasonably necessary by the Tax Matters Partners under any BBA provision.
- (c) Each Limited Partner further agrees that such Limited Partner will not treat any Partnership item inconsistently on such Limited Partner's U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. tax returns or in any claim for a refund with the treatment of the item on the Partnership's tax returns and that such Limited Partner will not independently act with respect to tax audits or tax litigation affecting the Partnership, unless the prior written consent of the General Partner has been obtained.
- (d) The General Partner may in its sole discretion cause the Partnership to make all elections not otherwise expressly provided for in this Agreement required or permitted to be made by the Partnership under the Code and any state, local or non-U.S. tax laws.

7.3 Valuation of Partnership Assets and Interests

- (a) The Partnership's assets are valued as of the close of each Fiscal Period and on any other date selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion in accordance with the valuation of the Master Fund's assets. The Partnership shall utilize the Master Fund's valuations for all purposes in connection with the Partnership.
- (b) The value of the assets of the Partnership and the net worth of the Partnership as a whole determined pursuant to this Section 7.3 are conclusive and binding on all of the Partners and all parties claiming through or under them.

7.4 Determinations by the General Partner

- (a) All matters concerning the determination and allocation among the Partners of the amounts to be determined and allocated pursuant to this Agreement, including Article III and accounting procedures applicable thereto, shall be determined by the General Partner, unless specifically and expressly otherwise provided for by the provisions of this Agreement, and such determinations and allocations shall be final and binding on all the Partners; provided, however, that all calculations of the Performance Allocation will be made on the basis of, or subject to correction based on, the annual audit of the Partnership's financial statements and appropriate adjustments will be made to all such calculations and related allocations to the extent necessary as a result of that audit.

- (b) The General Partner may make such adjustments to the computation of Net Profit or Net Loss or any other allocations with respect to any Limited Partner, or any component items comprising any of the foregoing, as it considers appropriate to reflect the financial results of the Partnership and the intended allocation thereof among the Partners in a reasonably accurate, fair and efficient manner. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any provision of this Agreement that requires an adjustment to be made to any Capital Account or Capital Sub-Account (or other memorandum sub-account) as of any mid-month or mid-quarter date may be made as of the most recent preceding or succeeding date when a regular valuation is being conducted.

7.5 Books and Records

- (a) The General Partner shall keep books and records pertaining to the Partnership's affairs showing all of its assets and liabilities, receipts and disbursements, realized income, gains, deductions and losses, Partners' Capital Accounts and all transactions entered into by the Partnership. The General Partner shall afford to the Partnership's independent auditors reasonable access to such documents during customary business hours and shall permit the Partnership's auditors to make copies thereof or extracts therefrom at the expense of the Partnership.
- (b) The General Partner shall establish such standards as it deems appropriate regarding the access of Limited Partners to the books and records of the Partnership and shall not be obliged to permit access by a Limited Partner to the name or address of any other Limited Partner.

7.6 Confidentiality

- (a) Each Limited Partner agrees to keep confidential, and not to make any use of (other than for purposes reasonably related to its Interest or for purposes of filing such Limited Partner's tax returns) or disclose to any Person, any information or matter relating to the Partnership and its affairs and any information or matter related to any Investment (other than disclosure to such Limited Partner's directors, employees, agents, advisors, or representatives responsible for matters relating to the Partnership or to any other Person approved in writing by the General Partner (each such Person being hereinafter referred to as an "Authorized Representative")); provided that (i) such Limited Partner and its Authorized Representatives may make such disclosure to the extent that (A) the information to be disclosed is publicly available at the time of proposed disclosure by such Limited Partner or Authorized Representative, (B) the information otherwise is or becomes legally available to such Limited Partner other than through disclosure by the Partnership or the General Partner, or (C) such disclosure is required by law or in response to any governmental agency request or in connection with an examination by any regulatory authorities; provided that such governmental agency, regulatory authorities or association is aware of the confidential nature of the information disclosed; (ii) such Limited Partner and its Authorized Representatives may make such disclosure to its beneficial owners to the extent required under the terms of its arrangements with such beneficial owners; and (iii) each Limited Partner will be permitted, after written notice to the General Partner, to correct any false or misleading information which becomes public concerning such Limited Partner's relationship to the Partnership or the General Partner. Prior to making any disclosure required by law, each Limited Partner shall use its best efforts to notify the General Partner of such disclosure. Prior to any disclosure to any Authorized Representative or beneficial owner, each Limited Partner shall advise such Authorized Representative or beneficial owner of the obligations set forth in this Section 7.6(a) and each such Authorized Representative or beneficial owner shall agree to be bound by such obligations.

- (b) The General Partner shall have the right to keep confidential from the Limited Partners, for such period of time as the General Partner deems reasonable, any information, including the identity of the Partners or information regarding the Partners or Investments, which the General Partner reasonably believes to be in the nature of trade secrets or other information the disclosure of which the General Partner believes is not in the best interests of the Partnership or could damage the Partnership or its business or which the Partnership is required by law or agreement with a third party to keep confidential.
- (c) Subject to applicable legal, fiscal and regulatory considerations, the General Partner shall use reasonable efforts to keep confidential any information relating to a Limited Partner obtained by the General Partner in connection with or arising out of the Partnership which the Limited Partner requests to be kept confidential.
- (d) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 7.6, Partners (and their employees, representatives and other agents) may disclose to any and all Persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the Partnership and its transactions and all materials of any kind (including tax opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to such Person by, or on behalf of the Partnership. For this purpose, "tax treatment" is the purported or claimed U.S. federal income tax treatment of a transaction and "tax structure" is limited to any fact that may be relevant to understanding the purported or claimed U.S. federal income tax treatment of a transaction. For this purpose, the names of the Partnership, the Partners, their Affiliates, the names of their partners, members or equity holders and the representatives, agents and tax advisors of any of the foregoing are not items of tax treatment or tax structure.
- (e) The General Partner may disclose to prospective investors such information relating to the Partnership or the Investments as it believes in good faith will benefit the Partnership and facilitate investment in the Partnership by such prospective investors.

- (f) The Investment Manager and any other Person acting as a service provider to the Partnership shall have the right to access all information belonging to the Partnership.

Article VIII GENERAL PROVISIONS

8.1 Amendment of Partnership Agreement

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Section 8.1, this Agreement may be amended, in whole or in part, with the written consent of (i) the General Partner and (ii) the consent of a Majority of Limited Partners (which approval may be obtained by negative consent affording the Limited Partners 30 calendar days to object).
- (b) Any amendment that would:
 - (i) increase the obligation of a Partner to make any contribution to the capital of the Partnership;
 - (ii) reduce the Capital Account of a Partner other than in accordance with Article III;
 - (iii) adversely alter any Partner's rights with respect to the allocation of Net Profit or Net Loss or with respect to distributions and withdrawals; or
 - (iv) change the respective liabilities of the General Partner and the Limited Partners; may only be made if the prior written consent of each Partner adversely affected thereby is obtained (which consent may be obtained by negative consent affording the Limited Partners 30 calendar days to object).

- (c) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Section 8.1, this Agreement may be amended by the General Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners, at any time and without limitation, if any Limited Partner whose contractual rights as a Limited Partner would be materially and adversely changed by such amendment has an opportunity to withdraw from the Partnership (without being subject to the Early Withdrawal Reduction) as of a date determined by the General Partner that is not less than 30 calendar days after the General Partner has furnished written notice of such amendment to each affected Limited Partner and that is prior to the effective date of the amendment. The admission and withdrawal of Limited Partners will not require notice or disclosure to, or the approval of, the other Limited Partners.

- (d) The General Partner may at any time without the consent of the other Partners:
 - (i) add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner or surrender any right or power granted to the General Partner under this Agreement, for the benefit of the Limited Partners;
 - (ii) cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any conflicting provisions of this Agreement;
 - (iii) change the name of the Partnership;
 - (iv) make any changes required by a governmental body or agency which is deemed to be for the benefit or protection of the Limited Partners, provided, however, that no such amendment may be made unless such change (A) is for the benefit of, or not adverse to, the interests of Limited Partners, (B) does not affect the right of the General Partner to manage and control the Partnership's business, (C) does not affect the allocation of profits and losses among the Partners and (D) does not affect the limited liability of the Limited Partners;
 - (v) amend this Agreement to reflect a change in the identity of the General Partner which has been made in accordance with this Agreement;
 - (vi) amend this Agreement (other than with respect to the matters set forth in Section 8.1(b)) to effect compliance with any applicable laws, regulations or administrative actions, or to reflect any change made in accordance with Section 4.1(b);
 - (vii) subject to Section 8.1(b), amend this Agreement to reflect the creation, and terms, of any new Series;
 - (viii) effect any other amendment which would not, in the good faith judgment of the General Partner, adversely affect any of the existing Limited Partners;
 - (ix) enable the Partnership or the Tax Matters Partner to comply with BBA provisions, or to make any elections or take any other actions available thereunder; and
 - (x) restate this Agreement together with any amendments hereto which have been duly adopted in accordance herewith to incorporate such amendments in a single, integrated document.
- (e) The General Partner and the Investment Manager shall have the authority to agree with a Limited Partner to waive, modify or supplement the application of any provision of this Agreement or any subscription agreement with respect to such Limited Partner without notifying or obtaining the consent of any other Limited Partner (other than a Limited Partner whose rights as a Limited Partner pursuant to this Agreement would be materially and adversely changed by such waiver or modification). Any such waiver, modification or supplementation may be evidenced by a “side letter” or other agreement, and the form thereof shall not impair its binding effect as if incorporated in this Agreement.

- (f) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 8.1 to the contrary, any amendment to Section 2.5 requires the prior written consent of ERISA Partners whose Partnership Percentages represent more than 50% of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of all ERISA Partners.

8.2 Special Power-of-Attorney

- (a) Each Partner hereby irrevocably makes, constitutes and appoints the General Partner (and each of its successors and permitted assigns), with full power of substitution, as the true and lawful representative and attorney-in-fact of, and in the name, place and stead of, such Partner with the power from time to time to make, execute, sign, acknowledge, swear to, verify, deliver, record, file or publish:
 - (i) an amendment to this Agreement that complies with the provisions of this Agreement (including the provisions of Section 8.1);
 - (ii) the Certificate and any amendment thereof required because this Agreement is amended, including an amendment to effectuate any change in the membership of the Partnership or in the capital contributions of the Partners;
 - (iii) any financing statement or other filing or document required or permitted to perfect the security interests contemplated by any provision hereof; and
 - (iv) all such other instruments, documents and certificates which, in the opinion of legal counsel to the Partnership, may from time to time be required by the laws of the United States of America, the State of Delaware, or any other jurisdiction in which the Partnership determines to do business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof, or which such legal counsel may deem necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence and business of the Partnership as a limited partnership, adjust the structure of the Partnership in accordance with Sections 4.1(b) or 8.8, or to effect the dissolution or termination of the Partnership.
- (b) Each Limited Partner is aware that the terms of this Agreement permit certain amendments to this Agreement to be effected and certain other actions to be taken or omitted by or with respect to the Partnership without that Limited Partner's consent. If an amendment of the Certificate or this Agreement or any action by or with respect to the Partnership is taken by the General Partner in the manner contemplated by this Agreement, each Limited Partner agrees that, notwithstanding any objection which such Limited Partner may assert with respect to such action, the General Partner in its sole discretion is authorized and empowered, with full power of substitution, to exercise the authority granted above in any manner which may be necessary or appropriate to permit such amendment to be made or action to be lawfully taken or omitted. Each Partner is fully aware that each other Partner relies on the effectiveness of this special power-of-attorney with a view to the orderly administration of the affairs of the Partnership. This power-of-attorney is a special power-of-attorney and is coupled with an interest in favor of the General Partner and as such:

- (i) is irrevocable and continues in full force and effect notwithstanding the subsequent death or incapacity of any party granting this power-of-attorney, regardless of whether the Partnership or the General Partner has had notice thereof; and
- (ii) survives the delivery of an assignment by a Limited Partner of the whole or any portion of such Limited Partner's Interest, except that where the assignee thereof has been approved by the General Partner for admission to the Partnership as a substituted Limited Partner, this power-of-attorney given by the assignor survives the delivery of such agreement for the sole purpose of enabling the General Partner to execute, acknowledge and file any instrument necessary to effect such substitution.

8.3 Notices

Notices which may be or are required to be given under this Agreement by any party to another shall be given by hand delivery, transmitted by facsimile, transmitted electronically to an address that has been previously provided or verified through another form of notice or sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested or internationally recognized courier service, and shall be addressed to the respective parties hereto at their addresses as set forth on the Schedule of Partners maintained by the General Partner or to such other addresses, facsimile numbers or electronic addresses as may be designated by any party hereto by notice addressed to (a) the General Partner, in the case of notice given by any Limited Partner, and (b) each of the Limited Partners, in the case of notice given by the General Partner. Notices shall be deemed to have been given (i) when delivered by hand, transmitted by facsimile or transmitted electronically or (ii) on the date indicated as the date of receipt on the return receipt when delivered by mail or courier service.

8.4 Agreement Binding Upon Successors and Assigns; Delegation

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors, but the rights and obligations of the Partners hereunder shall not be assignable, transferable or delegable except as provided in Sections 4.1(d), 5.3 and 5.4, and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof which is not made pursuant to the terms of such Sections shall be null and void ab initio.

8.5 Governing Law

This Agreement is, and the rights of the Partners hereunder are, governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to the conflict of laws rule thereof which would result in the application of the laws of a different jurisdiction. The parties hereby consent to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue for any action arising out of this Agreement in Dallas, Texas. Each Partner consents to service of process in any action or proceeding involving the Partnership by the mailing thereof by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to such Partner's mailing address set forth in the Schedule of Partners maintained by the General Partner.

8.6 Not for Benefit of Creditors

The provisions of this Agreement are intended only for the regulation of relations among Partners and between Partners and former or prospective Partners and the Partnership. Except for the rights of the Indemnified Persons hereunder, this Agreement is not intended for the benefit of non-Partner creditors and no rights are granted to non-Partner creditors under this Agreement.

8.7 Consents and Voting

- (a) Except as provided in Section 5.4, Limited Partners do not have any right to vote for the admission or removal of any General Partner and, except for the right to vote on certain amendments proposed by the General Partner, have no other voting rights. Upon the request of any Limited Partner, including pursuant to Section 8.10 hereof, the General Partner may designate an Interest as a Non-Voting Interest, in which case the Limited Partner shall not have the right to vote on any matter, including amendments.
- (b) Any and all consents, agreements or approvals provided for or permitted by this Agreement shall be in writing and a copy thereof shall be filed and kept with the books of the Partnership. (For the avoidance of doubt, an amendment made pursuant to Section 8.1(c) or (d) or pursuant to negative consent under Section 8.1(a) or (b) shall not require any affirmative written response by any Limited Partner who is not electing to withdraw from the Partnership.)

8.8 Merger and Consolidation

- (a) The Partnership may merge or consolidate with or into one or more limited partnerships formed under the Act or other business entities pursuant to an agreement of merger or consolidation which has been approved in the manner contemplated by Section 17-211(b) of the Act.
- (b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Agreement, an agreement of merger or consolidation approved in accordance with Section 17-211(b) of the Act may, to the extent permitted by Section 17-211(g) of the Act, (i) effect any amendment to this Agreement, (ii) effect the adoption of a new limited partnership agreement for the Partnership if it is the surviving or resulting limited partnership in the merger or consolidation, or (iii) provide that the limited partnership agreement of any other constituent partnership to the merger or consolidation (including a limited partnership formed for the purpose of consummating the merger or consolidation) shall be the limited partnership agreement of the surviving or resulting limited partnership.

8.9 Miscellaneous

- (a) The captions and titles preceding the text of each Section hereof shall be disregarded in the construction of this Agreement. Use of the word “including” in this Agreement means in each case “without limitation,” whether or not such term is explicitly stated.
- (b) This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original hereof.
- (c) If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, the other provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect. Any provision of this Agreement held invalid or unenforceable only in part or degree will remain in full force and effect to the extent not held invalid or unenforceable.

8.10 BHCA Subject Persons

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary:

- (a) Solely for purposes of any provision of this Agreement that confers voting rights on the Limited Partners and any other provisions hereof regarding consents of or action by the Limited Partners, any BHCA Subject Person that shall have given the General Partner an Election Notice and shall not thereafter have given the General Partner a Revocation Notice, and that at any time has an Partnership Percentage in excess of 4.9 percent of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of the Limited Partners entitled to participate in such voting or the giving of any consent or the taking of any action, shall be deemed to hold an Partnership Percentage of only 4.9 percent of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of the Limited Partners (after giving effect to the limitations imposed by this Section 8.10 on all such Limited Partners), and such Partnership Percentage in excess of said 4.9 percent shall be deemed held by the Limited Partners who are not BHCA Subject Persons, pro rata in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages; provided that this limitation shall not prohibit a Limited Partner from voting or participating in giving or withholding consent or taking any action under any provision of this Agreement up to the full amount of its Partnership Percentage in situations where such Limited Partner’s vote or consent or action is of the type customarily provided by statute or stock exchange rules with regard to matters that would significantly and adversely affect the rights or preference of the Limited Partner’s Interest. The foregoing voting restriction shall continue to apply with respect to any assignee or other transferee of such BHCA Subject Person’s Interest; provided, however, that the foregoing voting restriction shall not continue to apply if the Interest is transferred:

- (i) to the Partnership; (ii) to the public in an offering registered under the Securities Act; (iii) in a transaction pursuant to Rule 144 or Rule 144A under the Securities Act in which no Person acquires more than 2% of the Partnership's outstanding Interests; or (iv) in a single transaction to a third party who acquires at least a majority of the Partnership's outstanding Interests without regard to the Transfer of such Interests.
- (b) Except as specifically provided otherwise in this Agreement, a Limited Partner that is a BHCA Subject Person that shall have given the General Partner an Election Notice, and shall not thereafter have given the General Partner a Revocation Notice, shall not be entitled to exercise any rights to consent to actions to be taken with respect to the Partnership, including rights conferred by any applicable law. Such right to consent shall be deemed granted to the Limited Partners who are not BHCA Subject Persons, pro rata in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages.
- (c) A Limited Partner that is a BHCA Subject Person and that elects to be subject to Section 8.10(a) and (b) shall notify the General Partner thereof (an "Election Notice") and, on the General Partner's receipt of such Election Notice, such Limited Partner shall be subject to Section 8.10(a) and (b) until 30 calendar days after such Limited Partner notifies the General Partner that it elects no longer to be subject to Section 8.10(a) and (b) (a "Revocation Notice"), which period may be reduced by the General Partner.

8.11 RIC Limited Partners

An Interest of a RIC Limited Partner does not entitle the RIC Limited Partner to vote or consent with respect to any Partnership matter unless the RIC Limited Partner's vote or consent with respect to its Interest would not be considered to be "voting securities" as defined under Section 2(a)(42) of the Investment Company Act. Except as provided in this Section 8.11, an Interest held by a RIC Limited Partner as a Non-Voting Interest is identical in all regards to all other Interests held by Limited Partners.

8.12 Bad Actor Limited Partners

Under Rule 506(d) under the Securities Act, the Partnership may be banned from selling Interests under Rule 506 if a Limited Partner beneficially owning 20% or more of the Partnership's voting securities engages in a "bad act" set forth in Rule 506. Accordingly, each Limited Partner agrees that the General Partner may deem the portion of any Bad Actor Limited Partner's Interest to be, or convert any Bad Actor Limited Partner's Interest into, a Non-Voting Interest (except for the purposes of voting on any amendment to this Agreement that would materially and adversely change the Bad Actor Limited Partner's rights and preferences as a Limited Partner other than pursuant to an amendment under Section 8.1(c)) to the extent that the General Partner determines that such portion is in excess of 19.99% of the outstanding aggregate voting Interests of all Partners excluding any Interests that are Non-Voting Interests.

8.13 Survival

The obligations and covenants of the Limited Partners set forth in Sections 3.5 and 3.12 hereof shall apply jointly and severally to each Limited Partner and any direct or indirect transferee of or successor to such Limited Partner's interest and will survive such Partner's ceasing to be a partner of the Partnership and/or the termination, dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Partnership.

8.14 Entire Agreement

The parties acknowledge and agree that, subject to Section 8.1(f), the General Partner without the approval of any other Partner may enter into a written agreement on behalf of the Partnership with any Limited Partner affecting the terms hereof in order to meet certain requirements of the Limited Partner (each an "Other Agreement"), and the terms of such Other Agreement shall govern with respect to such Limited Partner notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement. This Agreement and each Other Agreement constitute the entire agreement among the parties hereto pertaining to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior agreements and understandings pertaining thereto.

1.2 In these Articles:

- (a) the singular number includes the plural number and vice versa;
- (b) the masculine gender includes the feminine gender;
- (c) persons includes corporations;

- (d) "written" and "in writing" include all modes of representing or reproducing words in visible form, including in the form of an Electronic Record;
- (e) "shall" shall be construed as imperative and "may" shall be construed as permissive;
- (f) references to provisions of any law or regulation shall be construed as references to those provisions as amended, modified, re-enacted or replaced from time to time;
- (g) any phrase introduced by the terms "including", "include", "in particular" or any similar expression shall be construed as illustrative and shall not limit the sense of the words preceding those terms;
- (h) the term "and/or" is used herein to mean both "and" as well as "or." The use of "and/or" in certain contexts in no respects qualifies or modifies the use of the terms "and" or "or" in others. "Or" shall not be interpreted to be exclusive, and "and" shall not be interpreted to require the conjunctive — in each case, unless the context otherwise requires;
- (i) any reference to the powers of the Directors shall include, when the context admits, the service providers or any other person to whom the Directors may delegate their powers;

- (l) sections 8 and 19(3) of the Electronic Transactions Law shall not apply; and
- (m) headings are inserted for reference only and shall be ignored in construing these Articles.

2 Commencement of Business

- 2.1 The business of the Company may be commenced as soon after incorporation as the Directors shall see fit.
- 2.2 The Directors may pay, out of the capital or any other monies of the Company, all expenses incurred in or about the formation and operation of the Company, including the expenses of registration and the initial offering of Participating Shares.

3 Service Providers

- 3.1 The Directors may appoint any person, firm or corporation to act as a service provider to the Company (whether in general or in respect of any Class and/or Series of Shares) and may entrust to and confer upon any such service providers any of the functions, duties, powers and discretions exercisable by them as Directors, upon such terms and conditions (including as to remuneration payable by the Company) and with such powers of delegation, but subject to such restrictions, as they think fit. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such service providers may include managers, investment advisers, administrators, registrars, transfer agents, custodians and prime brokers.

- 3.2 Without prejudice to the generality of the preceding Article, the Directors may appoint any person, firm or corporation to act as the Investment Manager with respect to the assets of the Company (whether in general or in respect of any Class and/or Series of Shares). The Directors may entrust to and confer upon the Investment Manager any of the functions, duties, powers and discretions exercisable by them as Directors upon such terms and conditions (including as to remuneration payable by the Company) and with such powers of delegation, but subject to such restrictions, as they think fit.

4 Rights attaching to Shares

- 4.1 The Management Shares shall have the following rights:

- (a) as to voting: the holder of a Management Share shall (in respect of such Management Share) have the right to receive notice of, attend at and vote as a Member at any general meeting of the Company; and
- (b) as to capital: a Management Share shall confer upon the holder the right in a winding up to repayment of capital as provided in these Articles but shall confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company; and
- (c) as to income: no dividends shall be payable on the Management Shares.

- 4.2 The Participating Shares shall have the following rights:

- (a) as to voting: the holder of a Participating Share shall not (in respect of such Participating Share) have the right to receive notice of, attend at or vote as a Member at any general meeting of the Company, but may vote at a separate Class meeting convened in accordance with these Articles; and
- (b) as to capital: a Participating Share shall confer upon the holder thereof the right in a winding up to participate in the surplus assets of the Company by reference to the Separate Account attributable to the relevant Class or Series of Participating Shares as provided in these Articles; and
- (c) as to income: the Participating Shares shall confer on the holders thereof the right to receive dividends as provided in these Articles.

5 Share Capital

- 5.1 Subject to these Articles, the Directors may allot, issue, grant options or warrants over, or otherwise dispose of Shares in separate classes and/or series with different terms, preferences, privileges or special rights including, without limitation, with respect to investment strategy and/or policy, participation in assets, profits and losses of the Company, voting, fees charged (including management, performance and incentive fees), redemption privileges, allocation of costs and expenses (including, without limitation, the costs and expenses incurred in any hedging activities and any profits and losses arising therefrom) as they think proper. Subject to the Statute, these Articles and any applicable subscription agreement, any Share Rights (other than those set out in these Articles or set out in a Special Resolution) may be varied by either the Directors or by Ordinary Resolution.
- 5.2 On or before the allotment of any Participating Share the Directors shall resolve the Class and/or Series to which such Participating Share shall be classified and may, prior to the issue of any Participating Share, reclassify such Participating Share. Each Class and/or Series shall be specifically identified. Subject to the Statute and these Articles, the Directors may at any time re-name any Participating Share.
- 5.3 Notwithstanding the currency in which the par value of the Participating Shares is denominated, the Directors may specify any currency as the currency in which the Subscription Price, Redemption Price and Net Asset Value of Participating Shares of a Class and/or Series is calculated.
- 5.4 The Company shall not issue Shares to bearer.
- 5.5 Fractional Shares may be issued.
- 5.6 Unless the Directors determine otherwise, shares shall only be issued as fully paid-up.
- 5.7 Unless the Directors determine otherwise, no right of pre-emption or first refusal shall attach to any Shares.

6 Allotment and Issue of Participating Shares

- 6.1 The Directors may from time to time allot and issue Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series. The Directors may, in their discretion, refuse to allot and issue any Participating Shares, and shall not issue any Participating Shares to or for the account of an investor who is not an Eligible Investor. If the Directors have declared a Calculation Suspension or Issue Suspension, no Participating Shares of that Class or Series (as appropriate) shall be issued until the relevant Suspension has ended.
- 6.2 The Directors shall determine the Subscription Price at the time of issue of the first issue of Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series. Thereafter, the Directors may allot and issue

Participating Shares of the same Class and/or Series on any Subscription Date provided that such additional Participating Shares are issued at a Subscription Price equal to not less than the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of such Class and/or Series calculated on the relevant Subscription Date (or if the Subscription Date is not also a Valuation Date then on the immediately preceding Valuation Date).

- 6.3 The Directors may add to the Subscription Price per Participating Share (before making any rounding adjustment) an amount which they consider to be an appropriate allowance to reflect fiscal and purchase charges which would be incurred for the account of the Company in investing an amount equal to the Subscription Price. The Directors may also add, in their discretion, a Sales Charge and/or an amount equal to any stamp duty and any other governmental taxes or charges payable by the Company with respect to the issue of such Participating Shares.
- 6.4 An applicant for Participating Shares shall pay for such Participating Shares in such currencies, in such manner, at such time, in such place and to such person acting on behalf of the Company as the Directors may from time to time determine.
- 6.5 Subject to the terms of any subscription agreement, an application for Participating Shares shall be irrevocable by an applicant for Participating Shares once it has been received by the Company. Participating Shares shall be treated as having been issued with effect from the relevant Subscription Date notwithstanding that the subscriber for those Participating Shares may not be entered in the Register of Members until after the Subscription Date.
- 6.6 Participating Shares shall be issued in such minimum numbers as the Directors may specify either generally or in any particular case; likewise the Directors may from time to time prescribe an amount as the minimum subscription amount.
- 6.7 The Directors may resolve to accept non-cash assets in satisfaction (in whole or in part) of the Subscription Price.
- 6.8 The Directors may require an applicant for Participating Shares to pay to the Company for the benefit of any selling agent such selling commissions or such organisational charges as may have been disclosed to such applicant. The Directors may differentiate between applicants as to the amount of such selling commissions or such organisational charges.
- 6.9 The Company may, in so far as the Statute permits, pay a commission to any person in consideration of that person subscribing or agreeing to subscribe whether absolutely or conditionally for any Participating Shares. Such commissions may be satisfied by the payment of cash and/or the issue of fully or partly paid-up Participating Shares. The Company may also on any issue of Participating Shares pay such brokerage as may be lawful.

7 Separate Accounts

- 7.1 The Directors shall have the power to establish and maintain, with respect to Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series, a Separate Account, to record (purely as an internal accounting matter) the allocation, on a differentiated basis, of the assets and liabilities of the Company to the holders of Participating Shares of any such Class and/or a Series in a manner consistent with the methodology set forth in the Offering Memorandum and the rights otherwise attaching to the Participating Shares.
- 7.2 The proceeds from the issue of Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series shall be applied in the books of the Company to the Separate Account established for Participating Shares of that Class and/or Series. The assets and liabilities and income and expenditure attributable to that Separate Account shall be applied to such Separate Account and, subject to the provisions of these Articles, to no other Separate Account. In the event that the assets of a Separate Account referable to any Class and/or Series are exhausted, any and all unsatisfied claims which any Members or former Members referable to that Class and/or Series have against the Company shall be extinguished. The Members or former Members referable to a Class and/or Series shall have no recourse against the assets of any other Separate Account established by the Company.
- 7.3 Where any asset is derived from another asset (whether cash or otherwise), such derivative asset shall be applied in the books of the Company to the same Separate Account as the asset from which it was derived, and on each revaluation of an asset the increase or diminution in value shall be applied to the same Separate Account and, subject to the provisions of these Articles, to no other Separate Account.
- 7.4 In the case of any asset or liability of the Company which the Directors do not consider is attributable to a particular Separate Account, the Directors shall have discretion to determine the basis upon which any such asset or liability shall be allocated between or among Separate Accounts.
- 7.5 The Directors may, in the books of the Company, allocate assets and liabilities to and from Separate Accounts if, as a result of a creditor proceeding against certain of the assets of the Company or otherwise, a liability would be borne in a different manner from that in which it would have been borne if applied under the foregoing Articles.
- 7.6 The Directors may from time to time transfer, allocate or exchange an asset or liability from one Separate Account to another Separate Account provided that at the time of such transfer, allocation or exchange the Directors form the opinion (in good faith) that the value in money or money's worth of each such asset or liability transferred, allocated or exchanged is not significantly less or more than the value in money or money's worth (referred to in these Articles as "proper value") received by the Separate Account from which such asset or liability is transferred, allocated or exchanged except only as is otherwise provided by these Articles.

8 Determination of Net Asset Value

- 8.1 The Net Asset Value and Net Asset Value per Participating Share of each Class and/or Series shall be determined by or on behalf of the Directors as at the relevant Valuation Point on each relevant Valuation Date.
- 8.2 In calculating the Net Asset Value and the Net Asset Value per Participating Share, the Directors shall apply such generally accepted accounting principles as they may determine.
- 8.3 The assets and liabilities of the Company shall be valued in accordance with such policies as the Directors may determine. Absent bad faith or manifest error, any valuation made pursuant to these Articles shall be binding on all persons.
- 8.4 Unless otherwise determined by the Directors in any resolution creating a Class and/or Series of Participating Shares or as otherwise disclosed in any Offering Memorandum, the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of each Class (or Series) shall be determined by allocating pro rata the Net Asset Value, as at the relevant Valuation Point, of the Company and/or of the relevant Separate Account among each Class and/or Series, adjusting the amount so calculated to reflect any fees, costs, foreign exchange items or other assets or liabilities which are properly attributable to a specific Class and/or Series and then by dividing the resultant amount by the number of Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series then in issue.
- 8.5 The Directors may determine that the Net Asset Value of any Class and/or Series shall be definitively determined on the basis of estimates and that such determination shall not be modified to reflect final valuations.
- 8.6 Any expense or liability may be amortised over such period as the Directors may determine.
- 8.7 The Directors may establish such reserves as they deem reasonably necessary for Company expenses and any other contingent Company assets or liabilities, and may, upon the reversal or release of such reserves, apply any monies resulting therefrom in such manner as they may, in their absolute discretion, determine.
- 8.8 Net Asset Value per Participating Share shall be rounded to the nearest cent or such other amount as the Directors may determine and the benefit of any such roundings may be retained by the Company.
- 8.9 The Directors may cause the Company to issue new Participating Shares at par or to compulsorily redeem at par such number of Participating Shares as they consider necessary to address, in such manner as they consider equitable, any prior miscalculation of Net Asset Value or Net Asset Value per Participating Share. The Company shall not be required to pay to the holder the redemption proceeds of any such compulsorily redeemed Participating Shares, which proceeds shall be retained by the Company.

9 Suspensions

- 9.1 The Directors may, from time to time, in the circumstances disclosed in the Offering Memorandum, declare a Suspension with respect to any one or more Classes and/or Series of Participating Shares.
- 9.2 The Directors shall promptly notify all affected Members of any such Suspension and shall promptly notify such Members upon termination of such Suspension.

10 Transfer of Shares

- 10.1 Subject to Article 5.1, Shares may not be Transferred without the prior written approval of the Directors (which may be withheld for any or no reason) provided that the Directors may waive this requirement to the extent that they deem appropriate in connection with the listing of any Class or Series of Share on a stock exchange.
- 10.2 The Directors shall not register any Transfer of any Share to any person who is, in the opinion of the Directors, not an Eligible Investor.
- 10.3 Any proposed transferee shall provide to the Directors such information and documents as the Directors may request, including, without limitation, such documents or information as the Directors deem necessary or desirable:
- (a) to enable the Directors to determine that the proposed transferee is an Eligible Investor; and
 - (b) to enable the Company to comply with all applicable laws, including anti-money laundering laws.
- 10.4 The instrument of Transfer of any Share shall be in writing and shall be executed by or on behalf of the transferor (and, if the Directors so require, signed by or on behalf of the transferee). The transferor shall be deemed to remain the holder of a Share until the name of the transferee is entered in the Register of Members.

11 Transmission of Shares

- 11.1 If a Member dies, the survivor or survivors (where the Member was a joint holder) or his or her legal personal representatives (where the Member was a sole holder) shall be the only persons recognised by the Company as having any title to the Member's interest in the Company. The death of any Member shall not operate to relieve, waive or reduce any liabilities attaching to the Member's Shares at the time of death and such liabilities shall continue to bind any survivor or survivors, or any personal representative, as the case may be.

11.2 Any person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy, or the liquidation or dissolution, of a Member (or in any other way than by Transfer) and who is an Eligible Investor may, upon delivery to the Directors of such evidence as may from time to time be required by them of:

(a) such person's entitlement to such Shares; and/or

(b) such person's status as an Eligible Investor,

elect, either to become the holder of such Share or to have such Share Transferred to another Eligible Investor nominated by such person. If such person elects to become the holder of such Share, such person shall give notice in writing to the Directors to that effect, but the Directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline registration of such person as a holder of such Share as they would have had in the case of a Transfer of the Share by that Member before his or her death or bankruptcy, or liquidation or dissolution, as the case may be.

11.3 Any person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy, or the liquidation or dissolution, of a Member (or in any other way than by Transfer) and who is not an Eligible Investor shall not be registered as the holder of such Share and shall promptly Transfer such Share to an Eligible Investor in accordance with these Articles.

11.4 A person becoming entitled to a Share by reason of the death or bankruptcy or liquidation or dissolution of the holder (or in any other case than by Transfer), and who is an Eligible Investor, shall be entitled to the same dividends and other advantages to which such person would be entitled if such person were the registered holder of such Share. However, the person shall not, before becoming a Member in respect of a Share, be entitled in respect of it to exercise any right conferred by membership in relation to meetings of the Company and the Directors may at any time give notice requiring any such person to elect either to be registered himself or to have some person nominated by him become the holder of the Share (but the Directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline or suspend registration as they would have had in the case of a transfer of the Share by the relevant Member before his death or bankruptcy or liquidation or dissolution or any other case than by transfer, as the case may be). If the notice is not complied with within ninety days the Directors may thereafter withhold payment of all dividends, bonuses or other monies payable in respect of the Share until the requirements of the notice have been complied with.

12 Redemption of Shares

12.1 Subject to any provisions relating to a specific Class and/or Series as set out in the Offering Memorandum or these Articles or in any resolution constituting a Class and/or Series or otherwise forming part of the special rights of such Participating Shares, a Member may require the redemption of all or any of such Member's Participating Shares by serving a Redemption Notice on the Company. Unless timely receipt is waived by the Directors in a particular case, a Redemption Notice shall be required to be received on or before a Redemption Date with respect to such Participating Shares (or such number of days prior to such Redemption Date as may be determined by the Directors). Any Member redeeming Participating Shares shall submit to the Directors the share certificate (if any) issued in respect of those Participating Shares. The Company shall redeem such Participating Shares at the Redemption Price, being an amount equal to the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of the relevant Class and/or Series prevailing on the relevant Redemption Date (or if the Redemption Date is not a Valuation Date then on the immediately preceding Valuation Date) subject to any deductions, holdbacks or adjustments provided for in these Articles and/or the Offering Memorandum.

- 12.2 The Directors may deduct any Redemption Fee from the Redemption Price. The Directors may also deduct such amount which they consider to be an appropriate allowance to reflect fiscal and sale charges which would be incurred for the account of the Company in realising assets or closing out positions to provide funds to meet any redemption request.
- 12.3 A Member may not withdraw a Redemption Notice once submitted to the Company unless (a) the Directors shall have declared a Suspension or (b) the Directors determine (in their sole discretion) to permit the withdrawal of such redemption request (which they may do in whole or in part). If a relevant Suspension has been declared by the Directors, the right of a Member to have its Participating Shares redeemed shall be suspended and during the period of Suspension the Member may withdraw its Redemption Notice. Any withdrawal of the Redemption Notice shall be made in writing and shall only be effective if actually received by the Company before the termination of the period of the Redemption Suspension or Calculation Suspension, as applicable. If the Redemption Notice is not withdrawn, any Participating Shares the redemption of which has been suspended shall be redeemed once the relevant Suspension has ended at the Redemption Price for Participating Shares of the relevant Class and/or Series calculated on the next Redemption Date following the end of the relevant Suspension.
- 12.4 If one or more redemption requests are received in respect of any one Redemption Day that would, if satisfied, result in the redemptions of an amount equal to more than 15% of the total net asset value of the Company, the Directors may determine in their discretion to reduce the amount of each redemption request pro rata so that redemption requests represent in aggregate an amount equal to no more than 15% of the total net asset value of the Company. The partial amounts of the redemption requests which remain unsatisfied shall be carried forward to the next Redemption Day and satisfied in priority to any redemption requests received in relation to such subsequent Redemption Day until the prior redemption requests shall have been satisfied in full.
- 12.5 If the Company is required by the laws of any relevant jurisdiction to make a withholding from any redemption monies payable to the holder of Participating Shares the amount of such withholding shall be deducted from the redemption monies otherwise payable to such person.
- 12.6 The Directors may deduct any Redemption Fee from the Redemption Price. The Directors may also deduct such amount which they consider to be an appropriate allowance to reflect fiscal and sale charges which would be incurred for the account of the Company in realising assets or closing out positions to provide funds to meet any redemption request.

- 12.7 No redemption of part of a Member's holding of Participating Shares of any one Class and/or Series may be made if, as a result thereof, such Member would hold fewer Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series than such minimum number or value of Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series as may from time to time be specified (either generally or in any particular case or cases) by the Directors. If such partial redemption would reduce such Member's holding of Participating Shares to less than such minimum holding, the Directors may, in their discretion, elect to compulsorily redeem all of such Member's Participating Shares.
- 12.8 The Company may, in the absolute discretion of the Directors, refuse to make a redemption payment to a Member if the Directors suspect or are advised that the payment of any redemption proceeds to such Member may result in a breach or violation of any anti-money laundering law by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or if such refusal is necessary to ensure the compliance by the Company, its Directors, the Administrator or any other service provider of the Company with any anti-money laundering law in any relevant jurisdiction.
- 12.9 Any amount payable to a Member for the redemption of Participating Shares shall be paid in such currency or currencies as the Directors may determine. Subject to any Payment Suspension, the Company shall remit redemption proceeds (net of the costs of remittance) by cheque or wire transfer within such period or periods as the Directors shall have disclosed to the Member at the time of its subscription for Participating Shares or, in the absence of any such disclosure, within such period or periods as the Directors shall determine. In the absence of directions as to payment the Company may remit redemption proceeds by cheque to the address of the Member appearing on the Register of Members or by wire transfer to such account as the Directors deem appropriate in the circumstances. The Company shall not be liable for any loss resulting from this procedure.
- 12.10 On any redemption of Participating Shares the Directors shall have the power to satisfy (in whole or in part) the Redemption Price (and any other sums payable on redemption as provided in these Articles) owing on the redemption of such Participating Shares by dividing in specie the whole or any part of the assets of the Company (including, without limitation, shares, debentures, or securities of any other company whether or not held by the Company on the Redemption Date in question) and either (i) distributing such assets directly to the redeeming shareholder, and/or (ii) distributing or allocating such assets to a liquidating account or other similar mechanism to be managed and/or liquidated at the discretion of the Directors.
- 12.11 Participating Shares shall be treated as having been redeemed with effect from the relevant Redemption Date irrespective of whether or not a Member has been removed from the Register of Members or the Redemption Price has been determined or remitted. Accordingly, on and from the relevant Redemption Date, Members in their capacity as such will not be entitled to or be capable of exercising any rights arising under these Articles with respect to Participating Shares being redeemed (including any right to receive notice of, attend or vote at any meeting of the Company) save the right to receive the Redemption Price and any dividend which has been declared prior to the relevant Redemption Date but not yet paid (in each case with respect to the Participating Shares being redeemed). Such redeemed Members will be creditors of the Company with respect to the Redemption Price. In an insolvent liquidation, redeemed Members will rank behind ordinary creditors but ahead of Members.

- 12.12 Once a Participating Share is redeemed it shall be available for re issue and, until re issue, shall form part of the authorised and unissued share capital of the Company.
- 12.13 Upon the written request of a Member or prospective Member in a form acceptable to the Directors, the Company may, in the discretion of the Directors, accept a standing redemption request from such Member or prospective Member pursuant to which the Company shall agree (without assuming any liability for failing to do so) to use its commercially reasonable efforts to redeem such Member's Participating Shares to the extent necessary to ensure that such Member does not own over a specified percentage of the outstanding Participating Shares of the Company or any Class and/or Series thereof; such percentage to be the percentage identified by such Member or prospective Member in such written request as being the percentage which such Member's or prospective Member's ownership cannot exceed without material risk of such Member or prospective Member being in violation of applicable law or regulation. Any such written request may be revoked by notice in writing to the Company from the affected Member.
- 12.14 No amendment to these Articles made after a Redemption Date shall affect a Member with respect to Participating Shares of that Member which have been redeemed, or are being treated as redeemed, on or prior to that Redemption Date.
- 12.15 Unless otherwise provided in the Offering Memorandum, unremitted redemption proceeds shall not bear interest against the Company and redeemed Participating Shares shall not participate in the profits and losses of the Company with effect from the relevant Redemption Date.

13 Compulsory Redemption

- 13.1 The Directors may at any time by notice in writing to any Non-qualified Person compulsorily redeem all or any of the Participating Shares held by such person upon a day which shall be not less than, nor more than, such number of days as the Directors may, in their discretion, from time to time determine, from the date of such notice. Upon such day, such Participating Shares shall be redeemed in all respects as if the holder thereof had submitted a Redemption Request whether or not the Company shall have received any certificate(s) in respect of such Participating Shares.
- 13.2 The Directors, in their discretion, with or without cause, may at any time by notice in writing to any Member compulsorily redeem all or any of a Member's Participating Shares on any Redemption Day which shall be not less than such number of days as the Directors may, in their discretion, from time to time determine from the date of the notice. Upon such day, such Participating Shares shall be redeemed in all respects as if the holder thereof had submitted a Redemption Request whether or not the Company shall have received any certificate(s) in respect of such Participating Shares.
- 13.3 The Directors may at any time redeem Participating Shares to effect a conversion in the manner described in these Articles, including pursuant to Article 15.

- 13.4 Subject to Article 12.6, any restrictions imposed pursuant to these Articles on redemptions made at the option of the Members shall not apply to any compulsory redemption of Participating Shares by the Company.
- 13.5 All costs incurred in a compulsory redemption of Participating Shares shall be for the account of the Member thereof and may be deducted from the proceeds of the redemption.
- 13.6 The procedure for determining which Participating Shares will be compulsorily redeemed in any particular case is subject to change at the discretion of the Directors. In exercising discretion and in making determinations as to whether to compulsorily redeem Participating Shares, and in determining which Members shall be subject to compulsory redemption, the Directors may act upon the basis of such information as may be known to them, without any obligation to make special enquiries, and may rely upon the advice of counsel. In no event shall the Company be liable to any Member for any consequence of any determination made by the Directors with respect to such compulsory redemption.
- 13.7 Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Company may (without notice) compulsorily redeem the Participating Shares of any Member and, on behalf of such Member, apply the proceeds of redemption in paying for new Participating Shares to give effect to any exchange, conversion or roll up policy disclosed to Members pursuant to which Participating Shares of one Class or Series (the "Old Shares") may, at the option of the Company, be exchanged for Participating Shares of another Class or Series (the "New Shares") by means of the redemption of the Old Shares and the immediate re-subscription of the redemption proceeds in paying up the New Shares.

- 14.1 Notwithstanding any other Article, in order to comply with AEOL, any Director shall be entitled to release and/or disclose on behalf of the Company to the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority or equivalent authority (the "TIA") and any other foreign government body as required by AEOL, any information in its or its agents' or delegates' possession regarding a Member including, without limitation, financial information concerning the Member's investment in the Company, and any information relating to any shareholders, principals, partners, beneficial owners (direct or indirect) or controlling persons (direct or indirect) of such Member. Any such Director may also authorise any third party agent, including but not limited to, the Investment Manager or Administrator, to release and/or disclose such information on behalf of the Company.
- 14.2 In order to comply with AEOL and, if necessary, to reduce or eliminate any risk that the Company or its Members are subject to withholding taxes pursuant to AEOL or incur any costs, debts, expenses, obligations or liabilities (whether external, or internal, to the Company) (together, "costs") associated with AEOL, the Directors may cause the Company to undertake any of the following actions:

- (a) compulsorily redeem any or all of the Shares held by a Member either (i) where the Member fails to provide (in a timely manner) to the Company, or any agent or delegate of the Company, including but not limited to, the Investment Manager or the Administrator, any information requested by the Company or such agent or delegate pursuant to AEOL; or (ii) where there has otherwise been non-compliance by the Company with AEOL whether caused, directly or indirectly, by the action or inaction of such Member, or any related person, or otherwise;
- (b) deduct from, or hold back, redemption or repurchase proceeds, dividend payments or any other distributions, in order to:
 - (i) comply with any applicable requirement to apply and collect withholding tax pursuant to AEOL;
 - (ii) allocate to a Member an amount equal to any withholding tax imposed on the Company as a result of the Member's, or any related person's, action or inaction (direct or indirect), or where there has otherwise been non-compliance by the Company with AEOL;
 - (iii) ensure that any AEOL related costs are recovered from the Member(s) whose action or inaction (directly or indirectly, including the action or inaction of any person related to such Member) gave rise or contributed to such costs.

14.3 In order to give effect to the requirements imposed upon the Company by AEOL, as well as any of the actions contemplated by Articles 14.2(a) and 14.2(b), the Directors may undertake any of the following actions:

- (a) create separate classes and/or series of Shares ("AEOL Shares"), with such rights and terms as the Directors may in their sole discretion determine, and following the compulsory redemption of some or all of a Member's Shares may immediately apply such redemption proceeds in subscribing for such number of AEOL Shares as the Directors determine;
- (b) may re-name any number of Shares (whether issued or unissued) as AEOL Shares, create a Separate Account with respect to such AEOL Shares and apply any AEOL related costs or withholding taxes to such Separate Account;
- (c) allocate any AEOL costs or withholding tax among Separate Accounts on a basis determined solely by the Directors;
- (d) adjust the Net Asset Value per Share of any relevant Shares (including any AEOL Share).

15 Purchase and Surrender of Shares

- 15.1 Subject to the provisions of the Statute and without prejudice to these Articles, the Company may purchase its own Shares (including any redeemable Shares) in such manner and on such other terms as the Directors may agree with the relevant Member.
- 15.2 The Company may make a payment in respect of the redemption or purchase of its own Shares in any manner permitted by the Statute, including out of capital.
- 15.3 The Directors may accept the surrender for no consideration of any fully paid Share.

16 Treasury Shares

- 16.1 The Directors may, prior to the purchase, redemption or surrender of any Share, determine that such Share shall be held as a Treasury Share.
- 16.2 The Directors may determine to cancel a Treasury Share or transfer a Treasury Share on such terms as they think proper (including, without limitation, for nil consideration).

17 Modification of Rights

- 17.1 Subject to the following Article, the rights attached to any Series of Participating Shares may be varied or abrogated either whilst the Company is a going concern or during or in contemplation of a winding up, with the consent in writing of two thirds of the issued Shares of that Series or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a two-thirds majority of the holders of the issued Participating Shares of that Series, at a separate meeting of the holders of the Participating Shares of that Series. For such purposes the Directors may, in their discretion, treat all Series of Participating Shares as forming one Series, if they consider that they would all be affected in the same way by the proposals under consideration and that there would be no conflict of interest between them, but in any other case shall treat them as separate Series, as the case may be. To every such separate meeting all the provisions of these Articles relating to general meetings of the Company or to the proceedings thereat shall, mutatis mutandis, apply except that the necessary quorum shall be one person holding or representing by proxy at least one-third in nominal amount of the issued Participating Shares of the Series (but so that if at any adjourned meeting of such holders a quorum as above defined is not present, those holders who are present shall be a quorum) and that every holder of Participating Shares of the Series shall on a poll have one vote for each Participating Share of the Series held by him.
- 17.2 The rights conferred upon the holders of the Participating Shares shall be deemed to be varied by the creation or issue of any Participating Shares ranking ahead of the Participating Shares with regard to participation in the profits or assets of the Company. A Series to which different levels of fees are payable to the Manager or different redemption rights apply (including the imposition of, absence of, or different level of, a redemption fee) shall not be deemed to rank in priority to any other Series as regards shareholder rights or participating in the profits or assets of the Company.

- 17.3 The rights attached to the Participating Shares shall be deemed not to be varied or abrogated by:
- (a) the creation, allotment or issue of Management Shares;
 - (b) the creation, allotment or issue of Participating Shares of any Series;
 - (c) the redemption or repurchase of any Participating Share;
 - (d) the conversion of Participating Shares of one Series into Participating Shares of another Series at the request of a Member pursuant to Article 13.3;
 - (e) the redesignation of a Series of Participating Share by the Directors pursuant to these Articles;
 - (f) the exercise by the Directors or any liquidator of any of their discretions specified in these Articles; or
 - (g) the Company entering into any written agreement with a prospective member providing for offering terms that vary from those applicable to other Members of the same Series.

18 Variation of Terms

The Directors, with the consent of the Investment Manager, shall have the absolute discretion to agree with a Member to waive or modify the terms applicable to such Member's subscription for Participating Shares (including those relating to management and performance fees and redemption terms) without obtaining the consent of any other Member; provided that such waiver or modification does not amount to a variation of the rights attaching to the Participating Shares of such other Members.

19 Certificates for Shares

- 19.1 A Member shall only be entitled to a share certificate if the Directors resolve that share certificates shall be issued. Share certificates representing Shares, if any, shall be in such form as the Directors may determine. Share certificates shall be signed by one or more Directors or another person authorised by the Directors. The Directors may authorise certificates to be issued with the authorised signature(s) affixed by mechanical process. All certificates for Shares shall be consecutively numbered or otherwise identified and shall specify the Shares to which they relate. All certificates surrendered to the Company for transfer shall be cancelled and, subject to these Articles, no new certificate shall be issued until the former certificate representing a like number of relevant Shares shall have been surrendered and cancelled.
- 19.2 The Company shall not be bound to issue more than one certificate for Shares held jointly by more than one person and delivery of a certificate to one joint holder shall be a sufficient delivery to all of them.

- 19.3 If a share certificate is defaced, worn out, lost or destroyed, it may be renewed on such terms (if any) as to evidence and indemnity and on the payment of such expenses reasonably incurred by the Company in investigating evidence, as the Directors may prescribe, and (in the case of defacement or wearing out) on delivery up of the old certificate.

20 Register of Members

- 20.1 The Company shall maintain or cause to be maintained the Register of Members.
- 20.2 The Directors may determine that the Company shall maintain one or more branch registers of Members in accordance with the Statute. The Directors may also determine which register of Members shall constitute the principal register and which shall constitute the branch register or registers, and to vary such determination from time to time.

21 Closing Register of Members and Fixing Record Date

- 21.1 For the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at any meeting of Members or any adjournment thereof, or Members entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose, the Directors may provide that the Register of Members shall be closed for transfers for a stated period which shall not in any case exceed thirty days.
- 21.2 In lieu of, or apart from, closing the Register of Members, the Directors may fix in advance or arrears a date as the record date for any such determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at any meeting of the Members or any adjournment thereof, or for the purpose of determining the Members entitled to receive payment of any dividend or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose.
- 21.3 If the Register of Members is not so closed and no record date is fixed for the determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members or Members entitled to receive payment of a dividend, the date on which notice of the meeting is sent or the date on which the resolution of the Directors declaring such dividend is passed, as the case may be, shall be the record date for such determination of Members. When a determination of Members entitled to vote at any meeting of Members has been made as provided in this Article, such determination shall apply to any adjournment thereof.

22 Non Recognition of Trusts

The Company shall not be bound by or compelled to recognise in any way (even when notified) any equitable, contingent, future or partial interest in any Share, or (except only as is otherwise provided by these Articles or the Statute) any other rights in respect of any Share other than an absolute right to the entirety thereof in the registered holder.

23 Amendments of Memorandum and Articles and Alteration of Capital

23.1 The Company may, by Ordinary Resolution:

- (a) increase its share capital by such sum and with such rights, priorities and privileges annexed thereto, as the resolution shall prescribe;
- (b) consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into Shares of larger amount than its existing Shares;
- (c) by subdivision of its existing Shares or any of them divide the whole or any part of its share capital into Shares of smaller amount than is fixed by the Memorandum; and
- (d) cancel any Shares that at the date of the passing of the resolution have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person.

23.2 All new Shares created in accordance with the provisions of the preceding Article shall be subject to the same provisions of these Articles with reference to liens, Transfer, transmission and otherwise as the Shares in the original share capital.

23.3 Subject to the provisions of the Statute and the provisions of these Articles as regards the matters to be dealt with by Ordinary Resolution the Company may, by Special Resolution:

- (a) change its name;
- (b) alter or add to these Articles;
- (c) alter or add to the Memorandum with respect to any objects, powers or other matters specified therein;
- (d) reduce its share capital or any capital redemption reserve fund; and
- (e) wind up the Company.

24 Registered Office

Subject to the provisions of the Statute, the Company may by resolution of the Directors change the location of its Registered Office. The Company may, in addition to its Registered Office, maintain such other offices or places of business as the Directors determine.

25 General Meetings

25.1 All general meetings other than annual general meetings shall be called extraordinary general meetings. The Directors may call general meetings.

- 25.2 The Company may but shall not be obliged to hold a general meeting in each year as its annual general meeting, and shall specify the meeting as such in the notice calling it. Any annual general meeting shall be held at such time and place as the Directors shall determine.

26 Notice of General Meetings

- 26.1 At least seven Business Days' notice shall be given of any general meeting. Every notice shall be exclusive of the day on which it is given or deemed to be given and of the day on which the meeting is to be held and shall specify the place, the day and the hour of the meeting and the general nature of the business and shall be given in the manner hereinafter mentioned or in such other manner if any as may be prescribed by the Company, provided that a general meeting of the Company shall, whether or not the notice specified in this Article has been given and whether or not the provisions of these Articles regarding general meetings have been complied with, be deemed to have been duly convened if it is so agreed:
- (a) in the case of an annual general meeting, by all the Members entitled to attend and vote thereat; and
 - (b) in the case of an extraordinary general meeting, by a majority in number of the Members having the right to attend and vote at the meeting, being a majority together holding not less than ninety per cent. in par value of the Shares giving that right.
- 26.2 The accidental omission to give notice of a general meeting to, or the non receipt of notice of a meeting by, any person entitled to receive notice thereof shall not invalidate the proceedings of that meeting.

27 Proceedings at General Meetings

- 27.1 No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum is present. A quorum shall be one or more Members (present in person, by proxy or authorised corporate representative, as the case may be) entitled to attend and vote and representing not less than one third of the Management Shares present in person or by proxy and carrying the right to vote at the meeting.
- 27.2 A person may, with the consent of the Directors, participate at a general meeting by conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all the persons participating in the meeting can communicate with each other. Participation by a person in a general meeting in this manner is treated as presence in person at that meeting.
- 27.3 A resolution (including a Special Resolution) in writing (in one or more counterparts) signed by all Members for the time being entitled to receive notice of and to attend and vote at general meetings (or, being corporations or other non-natural persons, signed by their duly authorised representatives) shall be as valid and effective as if the resolution had been passed at a general meeting of the Company duly convened and held.

- 27.4 If a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting or if during such a meeting a quorum ceases to be present, the meeting, if convened upon the requisition of Members, shall be dissolved and in any other case it shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week at the same time and place or to such other day, time or such other place as the Directors may determine, and if at the adjourned meeting a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting the Members present shall be a quorum.
- 27.5 The chairman, if any, of the board of Directors shall preside as chairman at every general meeting of the Company, or if there is no such chairman, or if the chairman shall not be present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for the holding of the meeting, or is unwilling to act, the Directors present shall elect one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.
- 27.6 If no Director is willing to act as chairman, or if no Director is present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the Members present shall choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.
- 27.7 The chairman may, with the consent of a meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting) adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place, but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place. When a general meeting is adjourned for thirty days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given as in the case of an original meeting. Otherwise it shall not be necessary to give any such notice.
- 27.8 A resolution put to the vote of a meeting shall be decided on a show of hands unless before, or on the declaration of the result of, the show of hands, the chairman or any Member present in person or by proxy (or in the case of a non-natural person, by its duly authorised representative or by proxy) demands a poll.
- 27.9 Unless a poll is duly demanded a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has been carried or carried unanimously, or by a particular majority, or lost or not carried by a particular majority, an entry to that effect in the minutes of the proceedings of the meeting shall be conclusive evidence of that fact without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against such resolution.
- 27.10 The demand for a poll may be withdrawn.
- 27.11 Except on a poll demanded on the election of a chairman or on a question of adjournment, a poll shall be taken as the chairman directs, and the result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the general meeting at which the poll was demanded.
- 27.12 A poll demanded on the election of a chairman or on a question of adjournment shall be taken forthwith. A poll demanded on any other question shall be taken at such time as the chairman of the general meeting directs, and any business other than that upon which a poll has been demanded or is contingent thereon may proceed pending the taking of the poll.

- 27.13 In the case of an equality of votes, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, the chairman shall not be entitled to a second or casting vote.

28 Votes of Members

- 28.1 Subject to any rights or restrictions attached to any Shares, on a show of hands every Member holding Shares carrying the right to vote on the matter in question who (being an individual) is present in person or by proxy or (if a corporation or other non-natural person) is present by its duly authorised representative or by proxy, shall have one vote and on a poll every such Member shall have one vote for every Share of which he is the holder.
- 28.2 In the case of joint holders of record, the vote of the senior holder who tenders a vote, whether in person or by proxy, shall be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint holders. Seniority among joint holders shall be determined by the order in which the names of the holders stand in the Register of Members.
- 28.3 A Member of unsound mind, or in respect of whom an order has been made by any court or authority having jurisdiction in lunacy, may vote, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, by the Member's committee, receiver, curator bonis, or other similar person appointed on such Member's behalf by that court or authority and any such committee, receiver, curator bonis or other similar person may vote by proxy.
- 28.4 No person shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting unless such person is registered as a Member on the record date for such meeting, nor unless all calls or other monies then payable by such person in respect of such Shares have been paid.
- 28.5 No objection shall be raised to the qualification of any voter except at the general meeting or adjourned general meeting at which the vote objected to is purported to be given or tendered and every vote not disallowed at the meeting shall be valid. Any objection made in due time shall be referred to the chairman whose decision shall be final and conclusive.
- 28.6 On a poll or on a show of hands votes may be cast either personally or by proxy. A Member may appoint more than one proxy or the same proxy under one or more instruments to attend and vote at a meeting. Where a Member appoints more than one proxy the instrument of proxy shall state which proxy is entitled to vote on a show of hands.
- 28.7 On a poll, a Member holding more than one Share need not cast the votes in respect of its Shares in the same way on any resolution and therefore may vote a Share or some or all such Shares either for or against a resolution and/or abstain (any such abstentions to count neither for nor against the resolution) from voting a Share or some or all of the Shares and, subject to the terms of the instrument appointing it, a proxy appointed under one or more instruments may vote a Share or some or all of the Shares in respect of which such proxy is appointed either for or against a resolution and/or abstain from voting.

29 Proxies

- 29.1 The instrument appointing a proxy shall be in writing, be executed under the hand of the appointor or of such appointor's attorney duly authorised in writing or, if the appointor is a corporation or other non-natural person, under the hand of an officer or other person duly authorised for that purpose. A proxy need not be a Member of the Company.
- 29.2 The Directors may, in the notice convening any meeting or adjourned meeting, or in an instrument of proxy sent out by the Company, specify the place and the time (being not later than the time for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting to which the proxy relates) at which the instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited. In the absence of any such direction from the Directors in the notice convening any meeting or adjourned meeting, the instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited at the Registered Office not less than 48 hours before the time for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting at which the person named in the instrument proposes to vote.
- 29.3 The chairman may in any event, at the chairman's discretion, declare that an instrument of proxy shall be deemed to have been duly deposited. An instrument of proxy that is not deposited in the manner permitted and which has not been declared to have been duly deposited by the chairman, shall be invalid.
- 29.4 The instrument appointing a proxy may be in any usual or common form and may be incorporated within any subscription agreement or other document signed by or on behalf of the Member. An instrument appointing a proxy may be expressed to be for a particular meeting or any adjournment thereof or generally until revoked. An instrument appointing a proxy shall be deemed to include the power to demand or join or concur in demanding a poll.
- 29.5 Votes given in accordance with the terms of an instrument of proxy shall be valid notwithstanding the previous death or insanity of the principal or revocation of the proxy or of the authority under which the proxy was executed, or the Transfer of the Share in respect of which the proxy is given unless notice in writing of such death, insanity, revocation or Transfer was received by the Company at the Registered Office before the commencement of the general meeting, or adjourned meeting at which it is sought to use the proxy.

30 Corporate Members

Any corporation or other non-natural person which is a Member of the Company may in accordance with its constitutional documents, or in the absence of such provision by resolution of its directors or other governing body, authorise such person as it thinks fit to act as its representative at any meeting of the Company or of any Class of Members, and the person so authorised shall be entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of the corporation which such person represents as the corporation could exercise if it were an individual Member.

31 Shares Beneficially Owned by the Company

Shares of the Company that are beneficially owned by the Company shall not be voted, directly or indirectly, at any meeting and shall not be counted in determining the total number of outstanding Shares at any given time.

32 Directors

There shall be a board of Directors consisting of not less than one person (exclusive of alternate Directors) provided however that the Company may from time to time by Ordinary Resolution increase or reduce the limits in the number of Directors. The first Directors of the Company shall be determined in writing by, or appointed by a resolution of, the Subscriber.

33 Powers of Directors

- 33.1 Subject to the provisions of the Statute, the Memorandum and the Articles and to any directions given by Special Resolution, the business of the Company shall be managed by the Directors who may exercise all the powers of the Company. No alteration of the Memorandum or these Articles and no such direction shall invalidate any prior act of the Directors which would have been valid if that alteration had not been made or that direction had not been given. A duly convened meeting of Directors at which a quorum is present may exercise all powers exercisable by the Directors.
- 33.2 All cheques, promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange and other negotiable instruments and all receipts for monies paid to the Company shall be signed, drawn, accepted, endorsed or otherwise executed as the case may be in such manner as the Directors shall determine by resolution.
- 33.3 The Directors may exercise all the powers of the Company to borrow money and to mortgage or charge its undertaking, property and uncalled capital or any part thereof and to issue debentures, debenture stock, mortgages, bonds and other such securities whether outright or as security for any debt, liability or obligation of the Company or of any third party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Directors shall not exercise the powers specified in this Article in breach of any limits or restrictions specified in the Offering Memorandum.

34 Appointment and Removal of Directors

- 34.1 The Company may, by Ordinary Resolution, appoint any person to be a Director and may, by Ordinary Resolution, remove any Director.
- 34.2 The Directors may appoint any person to be a Director, either to fill a vacancy or as an additional Director provided that the appointment does not cause the number of Directors to exceed any number fixed by or in accordance with these Articles as the maximum number of Directors.

35 Vacation of Office of Director

The office of a Director shall be vacated if:

- (a) he becomes prohibited by law from being a Director;
- (b) he becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with his creditors generally;
- (c) he dies, or is, in the opinion of all his co-Directors, incapable by reason in mental disorder of discharging his duties as a Director;
- (d) he resigns the office of Director by notice to the Company;
- (e) he has for more than six consecutive months been absent without permission of the Directors from meetings of Directors held during that period and his alternate Director (if any) has not during such period attended any such meetings in his stead, and the Directors resolve that his office be vacated; or
- (f) he is removed from the office of Director by notice addressed to him at his last known address and signed by all his co-Directors.

36 Proceedings of Directors

- 36.1 The quorum for the transaction of the business of the Directors may be fixed by the Directors, and unless so fixed shall be two if there are two or more Directors, and shall be one if there is only one Director. A person who holds office as an alternate Director shall, if such person's appointor is not present, be counted in the quorum. A Director who also acts as an alternate Director shall, if such Director's appointor is not present, count twice towards the quorum.
- 36.2 Subject to the provisions of these Articles, the Directors may regulate their proceedings as they think fit. Questions arising at any meeting shall be decided by a majority of votes. In the case of an equality of votes, the chairman shall not have a second or casting vote. A Director who is also an alternate Director shall be entitled in the absence of such Director's appointor to a separate vote on behalf of such Director's appointor in addition to such Director's own vote.
- 36.3 A person may participate in a meeting of the Directors or any committee of Directors by conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all the persons participating in the meeting can communicate with each other at the same time. Participation by a person in a meeting in this manner is treated as presence in person at that meeting. Unless otherwise determined by the Directors, the meeting shall be deemed to be held at the place where the chairman is located at the start of the meeting.
- 36.4 A resolution in writing (in one or more counterparts) signed by all the Directors or all the members of a committee of Directors (an alternate Director being entitled to sign such a resolution on behalf of such alternate Director's appointor) shall be as valid and effectual as if it had been passed at a meeting of the Directors, or committee of Directors as the case may be, duly convened and held.

- 36.5 A Director or alternate Director may, or other officer of the Company at the direction of a Director or alternate Director may call a meeting of the Directors by at least two days' notice in writing to every Director and alternate Director which notice shall set forth the general nature of the business to be considered unless notice is waived by all the Directors (or their alternates) either at, before or after the meeting is held.
- 36.6 The continuing Directors may act notwithstanding any vacancy in their body, but if and so long as their number is reduced below the number fixed by or pursuant to these Articles as the necessary quorum of Directors the continuing Directors or Director may act for the purpose of increasing the number of Directors to that number, or of summoning a general meeting of the Company, but for no other purpose.
- 36.7 The Directors may elect a chairman of their board and determine the period for which the chairman is to hold office; but if no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present within five minutes after the time appointed for holding the same, the Directors present may choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.
- 36.8 All acts done by any meeting of the Directors or of a committee of Directors (including any person acting as an alternate Director) shall, notwithstanding that it be afterwards discovered that there was some defect in the appointment of any Director or alternate Director, or that they or any of them were disqualified, be as valid as if every such person had been duly appointed and qualified to be a Director or alternate Director as the case may be.
- 36.9 A Director but not an alternate Director may be represented at any meetings of the board of Directors by a proxy appointed in writing by such Director. The proxy shall count towards the quorum and the vote of the proxy shall for all purposes be deemed to be that of the appointing Director.

37 Presumption of Assent

A Director who is present at a meeting of the board of Directors at which action on any Company matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless the Director's dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless the Director shall file such Director's written dissent from such action with the person acting as the chairman or secretary of the meeting before the close or adjournment thereof or shall forward such dissent by personal delivery, courier or registered post to such person immediately after the close or adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a Director who voted in favour of such action.

38 Directors' Interests

- 38.1 A Director may hold any other office or place of profit under the Company (other than the office of Auditor) in conjunction with such Director's office of Director for such period and on such terms as to remuneration and otherwise as the Directors may determine.

- 38.2 A Director may act alone or by such Director's firm in a professional capacity for the Company and the Director or such Director's firm shall be entitled to remuneration for professional services as if such Director were not a Director or alternate Director.
- 38.3 A Director or alternate Director of the Company may be or become a director or other officer of or otherwise interested in any company promoted by the Company or in which the Company may be interested as shareholder or otherwise, and no such Director or alternate Director shall be accountable to the Company for any remuneration or other benefits received by such Director or alternate Director as a director or officer of, or from such Director or alternate Director's interest in, such other company.
- 38.4 No person shall be disqualified from the office of Director or alternate Director or prevented by such office from contracting with the Company, either as vendor, purchaser or otherwise, nor shall any such contract or any contract or transaction entered into by or on behalf of the Company in which any Director or alternate Director shall be in any way interested be or be liable to be avoided, nor shall any Director or alternate Director so contracting or being so interested be liable to account to the Company for any profit realised by any such contract or transaction by reason of such Director holding office or of the fiduciary relationship thereby established. A Director (or such Director's alternate Director in such Director's absence) shall be at liberty to vote in respect of any contract or transaction in which such Director is interested provided that the nature of the interest of any Director or alternate Director in any such contract or transaction shall be disclosed by such Director at or prior to such Director's consideration and any vote thereon.
- 38.5 A general notice that a Director or alternate Director is a shareholder, director, officer or employee of any specified firm or company and is to be regarded as interested in any transaction with such firm or company shall be sufficient disclosure for the purposes of voting on a resolution in respect of a contract or transaction in which such Director has an interest, and after such general notice it shall not be necessary to give special notice relating to any particular transaction.

39 Minutes

The Directors shall cause minutes to be made in books kept for the purpose of recording all appointments of officers made by the Directors, all proceedings at meetings of the Company or the holders of any Class of Shares and of the Directors, and of committees of Directors including the names of the Directors or alternate Directors present at each meeting.

40 Delegation of Directors' Powers

- 40.1 The Directors may delegate any of their powers to any committee consisting of one or more Directors or such other persons as the Directors may designate. They may also delegate to any managing director or any Director holding any other executive office such of their powers as they consider desirable to be exercised by such managing director or any Director provided that an alternate Director may not act as managing director and the appointment of a managing director shall be revoked forthwith if such managing director ceases to be a Director. Any such appointment may be made subject to any conditions the Directors may impose, and either collaterally with or to the exclusion of their own powers, and may be revoked or altered. Subject to any such conditions, the proceedings of a committee of Directors shall be governed by these Articles regulating the proceedings of Directors, so far as they are capable of applying.

- 40.2 The Directors may establish any committees, local boards or agencies or appoint any person to be a manager or agent for managing the affairs of the Company and may appoint any person to be a member of such committees or local boards. Any such appointment may be made either collaterally with or to the exclusion of the Directors' powers, shall be subject to any conditions the Directors may impose, and may be revoked or altered. Subject to any such conditions, the proceedings of any such committee, local board or agency shall be governed by these Articles regulating the proceedings of Directors, so far as they are capable of applying.
- 40.3 The Directors may by power of attorney or otherwise appoint any company, firm, person or body of persons to be the attorney or authorised signatory of the Company for such purpose and with such powers, authorities and discretions (not exceeding those vested in or exercisable by the Directors under these Articles) and for such period and subject to such conditions as they may think fit, and any such powers of attorney or other appointment may contain such provisions for the protection and convenience of persons dealing with any such attorneys or authorised signatories as the Directors may think fit and may also authorise any such attorney or authorised person to delegate all or any of the powers, authorities and discretions vested in such attorney or authorised person.
- 40.4 The Directors may appoint such officers as they consider necessary on such terms, at such remuneration (if any) and to perform such duties, and subject to such provisions as to disqualification and removal as the Directors may think fit. Unless otherwise specified in the terms of such officer's appointment an officer may be removed by resolution of the Directors or Members.

41 Alternate Directors

- 41.1 Any Director (other than an alternate Director) may by written notice to the Company appoint any other Director, or any other person willing to act, to be an alternate Director and by written notice to the Company may remove from office an alternate Director so appointed by the Director.
- 41.2 An alternate Director shall be entitled to receive notice of all meetings of Directors and of meetings of committees of Directors of which such alternate Director's appointor is a member, to attend and vote at every such meeting at which the Director appointing such alternate Director is not personally present, and generally to perform all the functions of such alternate Director's appointor as a Director in such Director's absence.
- 41.3 An alternate Director shall cease to be an alternate Director if such alternate Director's appointor ceases to be a Director.
- 41.4 Any appointment or removal of an alternate Director shall be by notice to the Company signed by the Director making or revoking the appointment or in any other manner approved by the Directors.

- 41.5 Subject to the provisions of the Articles, an alternate Director shall be deemed for all purposes to be a Director and shall alone be responsible for such alternate Director's own acts and defaults and shall not be deemed to be the agent of the Director appointing such alternate Director.

42 No Minimum Shareholding for Directors

The Company in general meeting may fix a minimum shareholding required to be held by a Director, but unless and until such a shareholding qualification is fixed a Director shall not be required to hold Shares.

43 Remuneration of Directors

- 43.1 The remuneration to be paid to the Directors, if any, shall be such remuneration as the Directors shall determine. The Directors shall also be entitled to be paid all travelling, hotel and other expenses properly incurred by them in connection with their attendance at meetings of Directors or committees of Directors, or general meetings of the Company, or separate meetings of the holders of any Class of Shares or debentures of the Company, or otherwise in connection with the business of the Company, or to receive a fixed allowance in respect thereof as may be determined by the Directors, or a combination partly of one such method and partly the other.
- 43.2 The Directors may by resolution approve additional remuneration to any Director for any services other than such Director's ordinary routine work as a Director. Any fees paid to a Director who is also counsel to the Company, or otherwise serves it in a professional capacity, shall be in addition to such Director's remuneration as a Director.

The Company may, if the Directors so determine, have a Seal, which shall only be used by the authority of the Directors or of a committee of the Directors authorised by the Directors. Every instrument to which the Seal has been affixed shall be signed by at least one person who shall be either a Director or some officer or other person authorised by the Directors for the purpose.

45 Dividends, Distributions and Reserves

- 45.1 Subject to the Statute, these Articles, and the special rights attaching to Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series, the Directors may, in their absolute discretion, declare dividends and distributions on Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series in issue and authorise payment of the dividends or distributions out of the relevant Separate Account in respect of such Participating Shares. No dividend or distribution shall be paid except out of the realised or unrealised profits of the Company, or out of the share premium account attributable to Participating Shares of the Class and/or Series in respect of which the dividend or distribution is proposed to be paid, or as otherwise permitted by law.
- 45.2 Except as otherwise provided by the rights attached to Participating Shares, or as otherwise determined by the Directors, all dividends and distributions in respect of Participating Shares of a particular Class and/or Series shall be declared and paid according to the Net Asset Value of the Participating Shares of the Class and/or Series that a Member holds. If any Participating Share is issued on terms providing that it shall rank for dividend or distribution as from a particular date, that Participating Share shall rank for dividend or distribution accordingly.

- 45.3 The Directors may deduct and withhold from any dividend or distribution otherwise payable to any Member all sums of money (if any) then payable by it to the Company on account of calls or otherwise or any monies which the Company is obliged by law to pay to any taxing or other authority.
- 45.4 Under no circumstances may the assets (or the income derived from such assets) attributed to a Separate Account in respect of any Class and/or Series be used to pay a dividend in respect of a Separate Account that is attributed to any other Class and/or Series.
- 45.5 The Directors may declare that any dividend or distribution be paid wholly or partly by the distribution of specific assets and in particular of shares, debentures or securities of any other company or in any one or more of such ways and, where any difficulty arises in regard to such distribution, the Directors may settle the same as they think expedient and in particular may issue fractional Shares and fix the value for distribution of such specific assets or any part thereof and may determine that cash payments shall be made to any Members upon the basis of the value so fixed in order to adjust the rights of all Members and may vest any such specific assets in trustees as may seem expedient to the Directors.
- 45.6 Any dividend, distribution, interest or other monies payable in cash in respect of Participating Shares may be paid by wire transfer to the holder or by cheque or warrant sent through the post directed to the registered address of the holder or, in the case of joint holders, to the registered address of the holder who is first named on the Register of Members or to such person and to such address as such holder or joint holders may in writing direct. Every such cheque or warrant shall (unless the Directors in their sole discretion otherwise determine) be made payable to the order of the person to whom it is sent. Any one of two or more joint holders may give effectual receipts for any dividends, bonuses, or other monies payable in respect of the Participating Share held by them as joint holders.
- 45.7 Any dividend or distribution which cannot be paid to a Member and/or which remains unclaimed after six months from the date of declaration of such dividend or distribution may, in the discretion of the Directors, be paid into a separate account in the Company's name, provided that the Company shall not be constituted as a trustee in respect of that account and the dividend or distribution shall remain as a debt due to the Member. Any dividend or distribution which remains unclaimed after a period of six years from the date of declaration of such dividend or distribution shall be forfeited and shall revert to the Company.
- 45.8 No dividend or distribution shall bear interest against the Company.

46 Capitalisation

The Directors may capitalise any sum standing to the credit of any of the Company's reserve accounts (including share premium account and capital redemption reserve) or any sum standing to the credit of profit and loss account or otherwise available for distribution and to appropriate such sum to Members of any Class and/or Series in the proportions in which such sum would have been divisible amongst them had the same been a distribution of profits by way of dividend and to apply such sum on their behalf in paying up in full unissued Participating Shares for allotment and distribution credited as fully paid-up to and amongst them in the proportion aforesaid. In such event the Directors shall do all acts and things required to give effect to such capitalisation, with full power to the Directors to make such provisions as they think fit for the case of Participating Shares becoming distributable in fractions (including provisions whereby the benefit of fractional entitlements accrue to the Company rather than to the Members concerned). The Directors may authorise any person to enter into an agreement with the Company, on behalf of all of the Members interested, providing for such capitalisation and matters incidental thereto and any agreement made under such authority shall be effective and binding on all concerned.

47 Books of Account

- 47.1 The Directors shall cause proper books of account (including, where applicable, material underlying documentation including contracts and invoices) to be kept with respect to all sums of money received and expended by the Company and the matters in respect of which the receipt or expenditure takes place, all sales and purchases of goods by the Company and the assets and liabilities of the Company. Such books of account must be retained for a minimum period of five years from the date on which they are prepared. Proper books shall not be deemed to be kept if there are not kept such books of account as are necessary to give a true and fair view of the state of the Company's affairs and to explain its transactions.
- 47.2 The Directors shall from time to time determine whether and to what extent and at what times and places and under what conditions or regulations the accounts and books of the Company or any of them shall be open to the inspection of Members not being Directors and no Member (not being a Director) shall have any right of inspecting any account or book or document of the Company except as conferred by Statute, or authorised by the Directors or by the Company in general meeting.
- 47.3 The Directors may from time to time cause to be prepared and to be laid before the Company in general meeting profit and loss accounts, balance sheets, group accounts (if any) and such other reports and accounts as may be required by law.

48 Audit

- 48.1 The Directors shall appoint an Auditor of the Company who shall hold office on such terms as the Directors determine.

- 48.2 Every Auditor of the Company shall have a right of access at all times to the books and accounts and vouchers of the Company and shall be entitled to require from the Directors and officers of the Company such information and explanation as may be necessary for the performance of the duties of the Auditor.
- 48.3 Any Auditors of the Company shall, if so required by the Directors, make a report on the accounts of the Company during their tenure of office at the next annual general meeting following their appointment in the case of a company which is registered with the Registrar of Companies as an ordinary company, and at the next extraordinary general meeting following their appointment in the case of a company which is registered with the Registrar of Companies as an exempted company, and at any other time during their term of office, upon request of the Directors or any general meeting of the Members.

- 49.1 Notices shall be in writing and may be given by the Company to any Member either personally or by sending it by courier, post, cable, telex, fax or e-mail to the Member or to the address as shown in the Register of Members (or where the notice is given by e-mail by sending it to the e-mail address provided by such Member). Any notice, if posted from one country to another, is to be sent airmail.
- 49.2 Where a notice is sent by courier, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by delivery of the notice to a courier company, and shall be deemed to have been received on the third day (not including Saturdays or Sundays or public holidays) following the day on which the notice was delivered to the courier. Where a notice is sent by post, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing, pre paying and posting a letter containing the notice, and shall be deemed to have been received on the fifth day (not including Saturdays or Sundays or public holidays in the Cayman Islands) following the day on which the notice was posted. Where a notice is sent by cable, telex or fax, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing and sending such notice and shall be deemed to have been received on the same day that it was transmitted. Where a notice is given by e-mail service shall be deemed to be effected by transmitting the e-mail to the e-mail address provided by the intended recipient and shall be deemed to have been received on the same day that it was sent, and it shall not be necessary for the receipt of the e-mail to be acknowledged by the recipient.
- 49.3 A notice may be given by the Company to the person or persons which the Company has been advised are entitled to a Share or Shares in consequence of the death or bankruptcy of a Member in the same manner as other notices which are required to be given under these Articles and shall be addressed to them by name, or by the title of representatives of the deceased, or trustee of the bankrupt, or by any like description at the address supplied for that purpose by the persons claiming to be so entitled, or at the option of the Company by giving the notice in any manner in which the same might have been given if the death or bankruptcy had not occurred.

- 49.4 Notice of every general meeting shall be given in the manner authorised by these Articles to every person shown as holding Shares carrying an entitlement to receive such notice in the Register of Members on the record date for such meeting except that in the case of joint holders the notice shall be sufficient if given to the joint holder first named in the Register of Members and every person upon whom the ownership of a Share devolves by reason of such person being a legal personal representative or a trustee in bankruptcy of a Member where the Member but for such Member's death or bankruptcy would be entitled to receive notice of the meeting, and no other person shall be entitled to receive notices of general meetings.

50 Winding Up

- (a) If the Company shall be wound up the liquidator shall apply the assets of the Company in such manner and order as he thinks fit in satisfaction of creditors' claims.
- (b) The assets available for distribution to the Members shall be distributed in the following manner and priority:
 - (i) first, in the payment to the holders of the Participating Shares of each Class of a sum as nearly as possible equal to the nominal amount of the Participating Shares of that Class held by such holders respectively; and
 - (ii) second, in the payment to the holders of Management Shares of an amount equal to the nominal amount of such Management Shares; and
 - (iii) third, in the payment to the holders of each Class of Participating Shares of any remaining balance then attributable to the relevant Record, such payment being made in proportion to the number of Participating Shares of that Class held (adjusted to give effect to any equalisation arising by reason of the winding up pursuant to any equalisation policy adopted by the Directors pursuant to Article 29).

If the Company is wound up (whether the liquidation is voluntary, or under supervision by the Court) the liquidator may, with the sanction of a Special Resolution and any other sanction required by the Law, divide among the Members in specie the whole or any part of the assets of the Company and whether or not the assets shall consist of property of a single kind, and may for such purposes set such value as he deemed fair upon any one or more class or classes of property, and may determine how such division shall be carried out as between the Members or different classes of Members. The liquidator may, with the like sanction, vest the whole or any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of Members as the liquidator, with the like authority, shall think fit, and the liquidation of the Company may be closed and the Company dissolved, but so that no Member shall be compelled to accept any shares in respect of which there is a liability.

51 Indemnity and Insurance

- 51.1 Every Director (including for the purposes of this Article, any alternate Director appointed pursuant to the provisions of these Articles), managing Director, agent, Secretary, or other officer for the time being and from time to time of the Company and the personal representatives of the same shall be indemnified and secured harmless out of the assets and funds of the Company against all actions, proceedings, costs, charges, expenses, losses, damages or liabilities incurred or sustained by him otherwise than by reason of his own Gross Negligence or wilful default in or about the conduct of the Company's business or affairs or in the execution or discharge of his duties, powers, authorities or discretions, including without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, any costs, expenses, losses or liabilities incurred by him in defending (whether successfully or otherwise) any civil proceedings concerning the Company or its affairs in any court whether in the Islands or elsewhere.
- 51.2 The Administrator, the Manager and any other agent which the Company has appointed shall be entitled to such indemnity from the Company under such terms and subject to such conditions and exceptions and with such entitlement to have recourse to the assets of the Company with a view to meeting and discharging the cost thereof as shall be specified in the relevant contract or instrument appointing such agent.
- 51.3 No such Director, alternate Director, managing Director, agent, Secretary, or other officer of the Company and the personal representatives of the same shall be liable (i) for the acts, receipts, neglects, defaults or omissions of any other such Director or officer or agent of the Company, (ii) by reason of his having joined in any receipt for money not received by him personally or in any other act to which he was not a direct party for conformity, (iii) for any loss on account of defect of title to any property of the Company, (iv) on account of the insufficiency of any security in or upon which any money of the Company shall be invested, (v) for any loss incurred through any bank, broker or other agent or any other party with whom any of the Company's property may be deposited or (vi) for any loss, damage or misfortune whatsoever which may happen in or arise from the execution or discharge of the duties, powers, authorities or discretions of his office or in relation thereto unless the same shall happen through his own Gross Negligence or wilful default.
- 51.4 The Directors may exercise all the powers of the Company to purchase and maintain insurance for the benefit of a person who is or was a Director, alternate Director, Secretary or auditor of the Company indemnifying him against any liability which may lawfully be insured against by the Company:

52 Disclosure

If required to do so under the laws of any jurisdiction to which the Company, the Investment Manager, the Administrator or any other service provider is subject, or in compliance with the rules of any stock exchange upon which the Company's Shares are listed, or to ensure the compliance by any person with any anti-money laundering law in any relevant jurisdiction, any Director, Officer, the Investment Manager, the Administrator or Auditor of the Company shall be entitled to release or disclose any information in its possession regarding the affairs of the Company or a Member including, without limitation, any information contained in the Register of Members or subscription documentation of the Company relating to any Member.

53 Financial Year

Unless the Directors otherwise prescribe, the financial year of the Company shall end on 31st December in each year and, following the year of incorporation, shall begin on 1st January in each year.

54 Transfer by way of Continuation

The Company shall, subject to the provisions of the Statute and with the approval of a Special Resolution, have the power to register by way of continuation as a body corporate under the laws of any jurisdiction outside the Cayman Islands and to be deregistered in the Cayman Islands.

55 Mergers and Consolidations

The Company shall have the power to merge or consolidate with one or more other constituent companies (as defined in the Statute) upon such terms as the Directors may determine and (to the extent required by the Statute) with the approval of a Special Resolution.

AMENDMENT TO
AMENDED AND RESTATED EXEMPTED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT
HIGHLAND ARGENTINA REGIONAL OPPORTUNITY MASTER FUND, L.P.

THIS AMENDMENT (this “Amendment”) to the Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement (the “Partnership Agreement”) dated November 1, 2017 (the “Effective Date”) of Highland Argentina Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Partnership”), is entered into to be effective as of the Effective Date by Highland Argentina Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, as the General Partner, and as the true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact on behalf of each of the Limited Partners. All capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Partnership Agreement.

WHEREAS, due to a scrivener’s error, the definition of “Calculation Period” under subsection (a) of Article I of the Partnership Agreement incorrectly provided that the Calculation Period with respect to Capital Sub-Account of a Feeder Fund, after the initial Calculation Period, shall commence as of the day following the last day of the preceding Calculation Period and end as of the close of business on the last day of a calendar year;

WHEREAS, at all times the Calculation Period was intended to end as of the close of business on the last day of a fiscal quarter;

WHEREAS, pursuant to the authority granted under Sections 8.1 and 8.2 of the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner, on behalf of itself and on behalf of each of the Limited Partners, now desires to correct the definition of “Calculation Period” under subsection (a) of Article I of the Partnership Agreement to provide that the Calculation Period shall end as of the close of business on the last day of a fiscal quarter.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the agreements contained herein and for other valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the General Partner, on behalf of itself and on behalf of each of the Limited Partners, hereby amends the Partnership Agreement as follows:

1. The definition of “Calculation Period” in the Partnership Agreements is hereby amended and replaced in its entirety to read as follows:

“Calculation Period” means, with respect to each Capital Sub-Account of a Feeder Fund, the period commencing as of the date of the establishment of the Capital Sub-Account (in the case of the initial Calculation Period) and thereafter each period commencing as of the day following the last day of the preceding Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Sub-Account, and ending as of the close of business on the first to occur of the following:

- (a) the last day of a fiscal quarter;

- (b) the withdrawal of all or a portion of the Capital Sub-Account, including as a result of a distribution (but only with respect to the amount withdrawn in the event of a partial withdrawal);
- (c) the permitted Transfer of all or any portion of the Capital Sub-Account (but only with respect to the amount withdrawn in the event of a partial permitted Transfer); or
- (d) the final distribution with respect to the Capital Sub-Account following the dissolution of the Partnership.

If a Calculation Period ends solely due to a partial withdrawal or a partial Transfer from the Capital Sub-Account, the Calculation Period is deemed to have ended only with respect to that particular Capital Sub-Account and only with respect to the portion of such Capital Sub-Account withdrawn or transferred. Thus, the Performance Allocation for such withdrawn or transferred amount shall be determined by multiplying the Performance Allocation attributable to the entire Capital Sub-Account at such time by a fraction (i) the numerator of which is equal to the amount so withdrawn or transferred from such Capital Sub-Account and (ii) the denominator of which is equal to the balance of such Capital Sub-Account immediately before giving effect to such withdrawal or Transfer.”

2. This Amendment shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the Cayman Islands, without regard to the conflict of laws rule thereof which would result in the application of the laws of a different jurisdiction.

3. This Amendment may be executed in multiple counterparts, each of which, when assembled to include an original or faxed signature for each party contemplated to sign this Amendment, will constitute a complete and fully executed agreement. All such fully executed original or faxed counterparts will collectively constitute a single agreement.

4. Except as modified hereby, the Partnership Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and the Amendment shall be binding upon the parties and their respective successors and assigns. If any inconsistency exists or arises between the terms of the Amendment and the terms of the Partnership Agreements, the Amendment shall prevail.

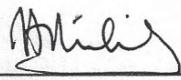

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Amendment to be executed to be effective as of the Effective Date.

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED EXEMPTED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. is made on November 1, 2017 by and among Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, as General Partner, Gustavo Prilick, as withdrawing Original Limited Partner, those Persons who are listed on Exhibit A as Limited Partners and any other Persons who are admitted, from time to time, as limited partners of the Partnership, in accordance with this Agreement. This Agreement amends and restates in its entirety the Initial Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, dated September 21, 2017 (the “Prior Agreement”).

Article I DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Agreement:

“Act” means the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, 2014 of the Cayman Islands, as amended, supplemented or replaced from time to time.

“Administrator” means such Person as the General Partner may designate from time to time, in its sole discretion, to serve as administrator to the Partnership.

“Advisers Act” means the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, and the rules promulgated thereunder.

“AEOP” means:

- (i) Sections 1471 to 1474 of the Code and any associated legislation, regulations or guidance, and any other similar legislation, regulations or guidance enacted in any other jurisdiction which seeks to implement similar financial account information reporting and/or withholding tax regimes;
- (ii) the OECD Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters – the Common Reporting Standard and any associated guidance;
- (iii) any intergovernmental agreement, treaty, regulation, guidance, standard or other agreement between the Cayman Islands (or any Cayman Islands government body) and any other jurisdiction (including any government bodies in such jurisdiction), entered into in order to comply with, facilitate, supplement or implement the legislation, regulations, guidance or standards described in sub-paragraphs (a) and (b); and
- (iv) any legislation, regulations or guidance in the Cayman Islands that give effect to the matters outlined in the preceding sub-paragraphs.

“Affiliate” means, with respect to any Person, a Person which controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person. For these purposes, “control” means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise.

“Affiliated Investor” means the Investment Manager, the General Partner and their respective Affiliates, principals, employees, partners, agents, the respective family members of such personnel and trusts and other entities established primarily for their benefit or for charitable purposes.

“Agreement” means this Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, as amended from time to time.

“Automatic Dissolution Date” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1(a)(ii).

“BBA” means Subchapter C of Chapter 63 of the Code (Sections 6221 through 6241 of the Code), as enacted by the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, Pub. L. No. 114-74, as amended from time to time, and the Regulations thereunder (whether proposed, temporary or final), including any subsequent amendments, successor provisions or other guidance thereunder, and any equivalent provisions for state, local or non-U.S. tax purposes.

“BBA Effective Period” means any taxable year commencing after 2017, taking into account any extensions of the effective date set forth in Bipartisan Budget Act Section 1101(g)(1), as applicable, or in any other BBA guidance.

“Business Day” means any day or days on which banks in the Cayman Islands, Buenos Aires and New York City are authorized to open for business or such other days as the General Partner may determine generally, or in any particular case.

“Calculation Period” means, with respect to each Capital Sub-Account of a Feeder Fund, the period commencing as of the date of the establishment of the Capital Sub-Account (in the case of the initial Calculation Period) and thereafter each period commencing as of the day following the last day of the preceding Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Sub-Account, and ending as of the close of business on the first to occur of the following:

- (a) the last day of a calendar year;
- (b) the withdrawal of all or a portion of the Capital Sub-Account, including as a result of a distribution (but only with respect to the amount withdrawn in the event of a partial withdrawal);
- (c) the permitted Transfer of all or any portion of the Capital Sub-Account (but only with respect to the amount withdrawn in the event of a partial permitted Transfer); or
- (d) the final distribution with respect to the Capital Sub-Account following the dissolution of the Partnership.

If a Calculation Period ends solely due to a partial withdrawal or a partial Transfer from the Capital Sub-Account, the Calculation Period is deemed to have ended only with respect to that particular Capital Sub-Account and only with respect to the portion of such Capital Sub-Account withdrawn or transferred. Thus, the Performance Allocation for such withdrawn or transferred amount shall be determined by multiplying the Performance Allocation attributable to the entire Capital Sub-Account at such time by a fraction (i) the numerator of which is equal to the amount so withdrawn or transferred from such Capital Sub-Account and (ii) the denominator of which is equal to the balance of such Capital Sub-Account immediately before giving effect to such withdrawal or Transfer.

“Capital Account” means, with respect to each Partner, the capital account (including any related Capital Sub-Accounts) established and maintained on behalf of such Partner as described in Section 3.3.

“Capital Sub-Account” means, with respect to each Feeder Fund, the separate memorandum account to be recorded in the books and records of the Partnership as a sub-account within such Feeder Fund’s Capital Account that corresponds to each series or sub-series of interests held by each Feeder Fund Investor, including Series A Capital Sub-Accounts, Series B Capital Sub-Accounts and Series C Capital Sub-Accounts. Each Capital Sub-Account with respect to the Capital Account of the Domestic Fund shall correspond to the beneficial interest of each partner in the Domestic Fund; and each Capital Sub-Account with respect to the Capital Account of the Offshore Fund shall correspond to each Sub-Series of shares of the Offshore Fund. The Partnership will also maintain Capital Sub-Accounts to reflect varied ownership interests in a Feeder Fund. The aggregate of the balances of all Capital Sub-Accounts with respect to each Feeder Fund shall equal the balance of each such Feeder Fund’s Capital Account. Except as the context otherwise requires, the term Capital Account includes any Capital Sub-Account of a Feeder Fund.

“Carryforward Account” means a memorandum account to be recorded in the books and records of the Partnership with respect to each Capital Sub-Account of a Feeder Fund. The Carryforward Account with respect to each Capital Sub-Account of any Feeder Fund will have an initial balance of zero and will be adjusted as follows:

- (a) As of the first day after the close of each Calculation Period for such Capital Sub-Account, the balance of the Carryforward Account is (i) increased by the amount, if any, of the Negative Performance Change with respect to such Capital Sub-Account for such Calculation Period and (ii) reduced (but not below zero) by the amount, if any, of the Positive Performance Change with respect to such Capital Sub-Account for such Calculation Period.
- (b) As of the close of the Calculation Period, any positive balance of the Carryforward Account is further adjusted if such Capital Sub-Account has been reduced during such Calculation Period as a result of a distribution or withdrawal, by reducing such positive balance (but not below zero) by an amount determined by multiplying (i) such positive balance by (ii) a fraction, of which (A) the numerator is equal to the amount so distributed or withdrawn, and (B) the denominator is equal to the balance of such Capital Sub-Account immediately before giving effect to such distribution or withdrawal.

“Carrying Value” means, with respect to any Investment, except as set forth herein, the asset’s adjusted tax basis for United States federal income tax purposes, except that the Carrying Values of all Investments may, in the discretion of the General Partner, be adjusted to equal their respective fair market values (as determined by the General Partner), in accordance with the rules set forth in Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(f). In the case of any Investment that has a Carrying Value that differs from its adjusted tax basis, Carrying Value shall be adjusted by the amount of depreciation, depletion and amortization calculated for purposes of the definition of Net Profit and Net Loss rather than the amount of depreciation, depletion and amortization determined for United States federal income tax purposes.

“Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and as hereafter amended, or any successor law.

“Commencement Date” means the first date on or as of which a Limited Partner, other than the Original Limited Partner, makes a capital contribution to the Partnership.

“Domestic Fund” means Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership that invests in the Partnership as a Limited Partner.

“Domestic Fund LPA” means the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Domestic Fund, dated November 1, 2017, as may be amended from time to time.

“ERISA” means the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as the same may be amended from time to time.

“ERISA Partner” means a Limited Partner which is (a) an employee benefit plan subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA, (b) a “plan” subject to Section 4975 of the Code, (c) an entity whose underlying assets include “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA by reason of a Plan’s investment in the entity, or (d) an entity that otherwise constitutes a “benefit plan investor” within the meaning of Section 3(42) of ERISA or any regulation promulgated thereunder.

“FATCA” means legislation known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code and any Regulations thereunder, including any subsequent amendments, and administrative guidance promulgated thereunder (or which may be promulgated in the future), any applicable intergovernmental agreements and related statutes, regulations or rules and other guidance thereunder, any governmental authority pursuant to the foregoing authorities, and any agreement entered into with respect thereto.

“Feeder Funds” means the Domestic Fund, the Offshore Fund and any other investment vehicle(s) sponsored by the Investment Manager or one of its Affiliates that invests in parallel with the Domestic Fund and the Offshore Fund in the Partnership.

“Fiscal Period” means each period that starts at the opening of business on the Commencement Date (in the case of the initial Fiscal Period) and thereafter on the day immediately following the last day of the preceding Fiscal Period, and that ends at the close of business on the earliest of the following dates:

- (a) the last day of a calendar month;
- (b) any date as of which any withdrawal or distribution of capital is made with respect to any Capital Account or as of which this Agreement provides for any amount to be credited to or debited against a Capital Account, other than a withdrawal or distribution by or to, or an allocation to, all Capital Accounts that does not result in any change of the Partnership Percentage relating to any Capital Account;
- (c) the date which immediately precedes any day as of which a capital contribution is accepted by the General Partner from any new or existing Partner; or
- (d) any other date which the General Partner selects.

“Fiscal Year” means the period commencing on the Commencement Date and ending on December 31 of the same year, and thereafter each period commencing on January 1 of each year and ending on December 31 of such year, unless the General Partner shall elect another fiscal year; provided that any such other fiscal year shall be permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In the case of the Fiscal Year in which the Partnership is terminated in accordance with Article VI, “Fiscal Year” means the period commencing on January 1 of that year and ending on the date on which the Partnership is terminated.

“GAAP” means generally accepted accounting principles in the United States.

“General Partner” means Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands, any successor thereto, and any Person hereafter admitted as an additional general partner, in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership.

“Gross Negligence” means “gross negligence” as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, United States.

“IFRS” means the International Financial Reporting Standards issued by the International Accounting Standards Board.

“Indemnified Person” means each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, each member, shareholder, partner, manager and director of, and any person who controls, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, each of the respective Affiliates of the foregoing and each of their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors and other legal representatives.

“Interest” means the entire ownership interest of a Partner in the Partnership at the relevant time, including the right of such Partner to any and all benefits to which a Partner may be entitled as provided in this Agreement, together with the obligations of such Partner to comply with all the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

“Investment Management Agreement” means the investment management agreement by and among the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Domestic Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Partnership, as amended from time to time.

“Investment Manager” means Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership, or any successor thereto, or any Person thereafter appointed as an investment manager of the Partnership in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement.

“Investments” means investments in securities or other financial or intangible investment instruments, contracts or products made by the Partnership, as more fully described in the Feeder Funds’ offering memoranda (as may be amended, updated or supplemented from time to time).

“Limited Partner” means each of the Persons set forth on Exhibit A, other than the General Partner, and any Person who hereafter becomes a Limited Partner pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, in each case in such Person’s capacity as a limited partner of the Partnership. The General Partner may subdivide the Interests into separate series and establish new series pursuant to Section 2.10; provided, that, except as expressly set forth in this Agreement, for all purposes of the Act, the Limited Partners constitute a single class or group of limited partners.

“Liquidator” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1(b).

“Majority of Limited Partners” means Limited Partners whose Partnership Percentages represent more than 50% of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of all Limited Partners or the series of Limited Partners, as applicable.

“Management Fee” means an amount calculated at an annual rate of (a) 1.75% of each Series A Capital Sub-Account, (b) 1.25% of each Series B Capital Sub-Account, and (c) 1.00% of each Series C Capital Sub-Account. The Management Fee accrues from the date a Capital Sub-Account is created, is calculated monthly based on the Capital Sub-Account balance on the last day of each calendar month (before giving effect to any withdrawals from such Capital Sub-Account during such calendar month) and is payable quarterly in arrears on the last day of each calendar quarter. The General Partner or the Investment Manager may reduce, waive or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to any Limited Partner and any Capital Sub-Account.

“Negative Basis” means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of such Partner’s “adjusted tax basis” in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer of such Interest) over the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or the winding up and subsequent dissolution of the Partnership.

“Negative Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership and who has a Negative Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal, but such Partner will cease to be a Negative Basis Partner at such time as it has received allocations pursuant to Section 3.9(d) equal to such Partner's Negative Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal and without regard to such Partner's share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

"Net Assets" means the total value, as determined by the Administrator in accordance with Section 7.3, of all Investments and other assets of the Partnership (including net unrealized appreciation or depreciation of the assets and accrued interest and dividends receivable net of any withholding taxes), less an amount equal to all accrued debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership (including any reserves for contingencies accrued pursuant to Section 3.6). Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, Net Assets as of the first day of any Fiscal Period shall be determined on the basis of the valuation of assets conducted as of the close of the immediately preceding Fiscal Period but after giving effect to any capital contributions made by any Partner subsequent to the last day of such immediately preceding Fiscal Period and after giving effect to Management Fee charges and Net Assets as of the last day of any Fiscal Period shall be determined before giving effect to any of the following amounts payable by the Partnership generally or in respect of any Investment which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made:

- (a) any Performance Allocation as of the date on which such determination is made;
- (b) any withdrawals or distributions payable to any Partner which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made; and
- (c) withholding or other taxes (including any amounts payable under any BBA provision), expenses of processing withdrawals and other items payable and any increases or decreases in any reserves, holdbacks or other amounts recorded pursuant to Section 3.6 during the Fiscal Period ending as of the date on which such determination is made, to the extent the General Partner determines that, pursuant to any provisions of this Agreement, such items are not to be charged ratably among the Capital Accounts of all Partners on the basis of their respective Partnership Percentages as of the commencement of the Fiscal Period.

"Net Profit or Net Loss" means, for each Fiscal Year or other period, the taxable income or loss of the Partnership, or particular items thereof, determined in accordance with the accounting method used by the Partnership for United States federal income tax purposes with the following adjustments: (a) all items of income, gain, loss or deduction specially allocated pursuant to Section 3.9 shall not be taken into account in computing such Net Profit or Net Loss; (b) any income of the Partnership that is exempt from United States federal income taxation and not otherwise taken into account in computing Net Profit and Net Loss shall be added to such taxable income or loss; (c) if the Carrying Value of any asset differs from its adjusted tax basis for United States federal income tax purposes, any gain or loss resulting from a disposition of such asset shall be calculated with reference to such Carrying Value; (d) if the Carrying Value of any asset differs from its adjusted tax basis for United States federal income tax purposes, the amount of depreciation, amortization or cost recovery deductions with respect to such asset shall, for purposes of determining Net Profit and Net Loss, be an amount that bears the same ratio to such Carrying Value as the United States federal income tax depreciation, amortization or other cost recovery deductions bears to such adjusted tax basis (provided, that, if the United States federal income tax depreciation, amortization or other cost recovery deduction is zero (0), the General Partner may use any reasonable method for purposes of determining depreciation, amortization or other cost recovery deductions in calculating Net Profit and Net Loss); (e) any expenditures of the Partnership that are described in Section 705(a)(2)(B) of the Code or are treated as described in Section 705(a)(2)(B) of the Code pursuant to Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(i) and not otherwise taken into account in computing Net Profit and Net Loss shall be treated as deductible items; (f) any deduction or debit of the Partnership attributable to Management Fees, placement fees or Organizational Expenses, as the case may be, shall not be taken into account in computing such Net Profit or Net Loss; and (g) if the Carrying Value of any Partnership property is adjusted as provided in the definition of Carrying Value, the amount of such adjustment shall be taken into account, as and if appropriate, immediately prior to the event giving rise to such adjustment, as gain or loss from the hypothetical disposition of such property.

“New Limited Partner” has the meaning assigned to such term in Section 8.2(a)(vi).

“Offshore Fund” means Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company that invests in the Partnership as a Limited Partner.

“Offshore Fund POM” means the Offering Memorandum of the Offshore Fund, dated October 2017, as may be modified or supplemented from time to time.

“Original Limited Partner” means Gustavo Prilick, in his capacity as the original limited partner of the Partnership.

“Other Account” means any assets or investment of the General Partner or the Investment Manager, or any assets managed by the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective Affiliates for the account of any Person or entity (including investment vehicles) other than the Partnership, which are invested or which are available for investment in securities or other instruments or for trading activities whether or not of the specific type being conducted by the Partnership.

“Partner” means the General Partner or any of the Limited Partners, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and “Partners” means the General Partner and all of the Limited Partners.

“Partnership” means the exempted limited partnership formed upon the filing of a statement under Section 9 of the Act with the Registrar on September 21, 2017, pursuant to the Prior Agreement and registered with the name “Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P.”

“Partnership Percentage” means a percentage established for each Capital Account on the Partnership’s books as of the first day of each Fiscal Period. The Partnership Percentage of a Capital Account for a Fiscal Period shall be determined by dividing the amount of such Capital Account as of the beginning of the Fiscal Period (after crediting all capital contributions to such Capital Account which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees) by the sum of all Capital Accounts as of the beginning of the Fiscal Period (after crediting all capital contributions to the Partnership which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees). The sum of the Partnership Percentages of all Capital Accounts for each Fiscal Period shall equal 100%.

“Performance Allocation” means:

- (a) with respect to each Series A Capital Sub-Account, 20.0% of the amount, determined as of the close of each Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Sub-Account, by which (i) such Capital Sub-Account’s Positive Performance Change for such Calculation Period, if any, exceeds (ii) any positive balance in such Capital Sub-Account’s Carryforward Account as of the most recent prior date as of which any adjustment has been made thereto;
- (b) with respect to each Series B Capital-Sub Account, 17.5% of the amount, determined as of the close of each Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Sub-Account, by which (i) such Capital Sub-Account’s Positive Performance Change for such Calculation Period, if any, exceeds (ii) any positive balance in such Capital Sub-Account’s Carryforward Account as of the most recent prior date as of which any adjustment has been made thereto; and
- (c) with respect to each Series C Capital Sub-Account, 15.0% of the amount, determined as of the close of each Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Sub-Account, by which (i) such Capital Sub-Account’s Positive Performance Change for such Calculation Period, if any, exceeds (ii) any positive balance in such Capital Sub-Account’s Carryforward Account as of the most recent prior date as of which any adjustment has been made thereto.

The General Partner has the discretion to fully or partially waive or decrease the Performance Allocation with respect to any Capital Sub-Account. For the avoidance of doubt, if and for so long as Capital Sub-Accounts are maintained for any Limited Partner, the Performance Allocation shall be calculated separately with respect to each such Capital Sub-Account as if such Capital Sub-Account was the sole Capital Account of a Person admitted as a Limited Partner upon establishment of such Capital Sub-Account. In such event, the Performance Allocation for such Limited Partner shall be the total of the Performance Allocations as calculated with respect to each such Capital Sub-Account.

“Performance Change” means, with respect to each Capital Sub-Account for each Calculation Period, the difference between:

- (a) the sum of (i) the balance of such Capital Sub-Account as of the close of the Calculation Period (after giving effect to Management Fees and all allocations to be made to such Capital Sub-Account as of such date other than any Performance Allocation to be debited against such Capital Sub-Account), plus (ii) any debits to such Capital Sub-Account during the Calculation Period to reflect any actual or deemed distributions or withdrawals with respect to such Capital Sub-Account, plus (iii) any debits to such Capital Sub-Account during the Calculation Period to reflect any items allocable to such Capital Sub-Account pursuant to Section 3.5(b) or (c); and

- (b) the sum of (i) the balance of such Capital Sub-Account as of the commencement of the Calculation Period, plus (ii) any credits to such Capital Sub-Account during the Calculation Period to reflect any contributions by such Limited Partner to the Capital Sub-Account.

If there is any change in the Net Assets associated with such Capital Sub-Account during a relevant Calculation Period that is not reflected in the Carrying Value of the Partnership's Investment, the General Partner shall be permitted, in its sole discretion, to adjust the Performance Change with respect to such Capital Sub-Account as if such change had been (i) reflected in the Carrying Value of the Partnership's Investments in respect of the relevant Calculation Period and (ii) allocated among the Capital Sub-Accounts in the manner prescribed for comparable items by this Agreement.

The calculation of the Performance Change will take into account all expenses of the relevant Feeder Fund incurred with respect to such Capital Sub-Account as of such calculation date. If the amount specified in clause (a) exceeds the amount specified in clause (b), such difference is a "Positive Performance Change," and if the amount specified in clause (b) exceeds the amount specified in clause (a), such difference is a "Negative Performance Change."

For the avoidance of doubt, if and for so long as Capital Sub-Accounts are maintained for any Limited Partner, the Performance Change for each Calculation Period shall be computed separately with respect to each such Capital Sub-Account and the resulting "Positive Performance Changes" and "Negative Performance Changes" shall be separately allocated to such Capital Sub-Accounts and shall not be netted against each other.

"Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, or other entity.

"Plan Assets" means assets of the Partnership that are considered to be assets of an ERISA Partner, as determined pursuant to Section 3(42) of ERISA.

"Positive Basis" means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or the winding up and subsequent dissolution of the Partnership over such Partner's "adjusted tax basis" in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer of such Interest).

"Positive Basis Partner" means any Partner who withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership and who has a Positive Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal, but such Partner shall cease to be a Positive Basis Partner at such time as it shall have received allocations pursuant to Section 3.9(c) equal to such Partner's Positive Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal and without regard to such Partner's share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

“Prior Agreement” has the meaning set forth in the recitals hereto.

“Registrar” means the Registrar of Exempted Limited Partnerships of the Cayman Islands.

“Regulations” means the proposed, temporary and final U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated under the Code, including any successor regulations.

“Regulatory Allocations” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.10.

“Section 9 Statement” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.1(a).

“Series A Capital Sub-Account” means a Capital Sub-Account that corresponds to a holder of Series A Interests (as defined in the Domestic Fund LPA) in the Domestic Fund or a holder of a Sub-Series of Series A Shares (as defined in the Offshore Fund POM) in the Offshore Fund, as applicable.

“Series B Capital Sub-Account” means a Capital Sub-Account that corresponds to a holder of Series B Interests (as defined in the Domestic Fund LPA) in the Domestic Fund or a holder of a Sub-Series of Series B Shares (as defined in the Offshore Fund POM) in the Offshore Fund, as applicable.

“Series C Capital Sub-Account” means a Capital Sub-Account that corresponds to a holder of Series C Interests (as defined in the Domestic Fund LPA) in the Domestic Fund or a holder of a Sub-Series of Series C Shares (as defined in the Offshore Fund POM) in the Offshore Fund, as applicable.

“Special Limited Partner” means Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., in its capacity as a special limited partner of the Partnership for purposes of the receipt of the Performance Allocation.

“Sub-Series” means sub-series of shares of the Offshore Fund, as created from time to time, for purposes of accounting for any profits and losses attributable to each individual shareholder and of permitting the Performance Allocation to be calculated separately with respect to each shareholder to reflect different returns achieved as a result of subscriptions received from shareholders at different times.

“Transfer” means any direct or indirect sale, exchange, transfer, assignment, pledge, encumbrance, charge, exchange, hypothecation, placing of a lien or a security interest on an Interest or any other disposition by a Partner of its Interest to or in favor of another party, whether voluntary or involuntary (including, but not limited to, being offered or listed on or through any placement agent, intermediary, online service, site, agent or similar Person).

Article II ORGANIZATION

2.1 Continuation of Exempted Limited Partnership

- (a) The General Partner and the Original Limited Partner established the Partnership upon filing a statement under Section 9 of the Act (the “Section 9 Statement”) with the Registrar on September 21, 2017, pursuant to the Prior Agreement, which Prior Agreement has governed the operation of the Partnership since that date. The Original Limited Partner hereby withdraws as a Limited Partner immediately following the admission of any additional Limited Partner and thereafter shall have no further rights, interest or obligations of any kind whatsoever under or in respect of this Agreement or as the Original Limited Partner. The General Partner hereby admits the Limited Partners who are a party to this Agreement (excluding the Original Limited Partner) and the General Partner and the Limited Partners hereby amend and restate the Prior Agreement in its entirety on the terms of this Agreement.
- (b) If requested by the General Partner, the Limited Partners will promptly execute all certificates and other documents consistent with the terms of this Agreement necessary for the General Partner to accomplish all filings, recordings, publishings and other acts as may be appropriate to comply with all requirements for (i) the formation and operation of an exempted limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands, (ii) if the General Partner deems it advisable, the operation of the Partnership as an exempted limited partnership, or partnership in which the Limited Partners have limited liability, in all jurisdictions where the Partnership proposes to operate and (iii) all other filings required by the Act to be made by the Partnership. The General Partner shall cause any required amendment to the Section 9 Statement or any other amendment requiring filing under the Act to be filed promptly following the event requiring such amendment. All such amendments may be signed by the General Partner (as required by the Act), and may be signed either personally or by an attorney-in-fact or agent of the General Partner.
- (c) The Partnership expects to receive an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands to the effect that, for a period of 50 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits or income or gains or appreciations shall apply to the Partnership or to any Partner in respect of the operations or assets of the Partnership or the Interest of a Partner. The parties hereto acknowledge that they intend that the Partnership be taxed in the United States as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. No election may be made to treat the Partnership as other than a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

2.2 Name of Partnership

- (a) The name of the Partnership is Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. or such other name as the General Partner may hereafter adopt upon (i) causing a statement pursuant to Section 10 of the Act to be filed with the Registrar and (ii) giving notice thereof to the Limited Partners.
- (b) The Partnership shall have the exclusive ownership and right to use the Partnership name so long as the Partnership continues, despite the withdrawal, expulsion, resignation or removal of any Limited Partner, but upon the Partnership's winding up or at such time as there ceases to be a general partner, the Partnership shall assign the name and the goodwill attached thereto to the General Partner or one of its Affiliates without payment by the assignee(s) of any consideration therefor.

2.3 Registered Office

- (a) The registered office address of the Partnership in the Cayman Islands is at c/o Maples Corporate Services Limited, P.O. Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands.
- (b) The General Partner may at any time change the location of the Partnership's registered office or registered agent in its sole discretion, provided that the registered office of the Partnership shall be in the Cayman Islands.

2.4 Term of Partnership

The term of the Partnership commenced on the date of formation and continues until wound up and dissolved pursuant to Section 6.1 (unless its term is extended pursuant to Section 6.1).

2.5 Object and Powers of Partnership

- (a) The object and business of the Partnership is to (1) purchase, sell (including short sales), invest and trade in the Investments, (2) engage in financial transactions, including borrowing, financing, pledging, hedging and other derivative transactions relating thereto for the benefit of the Partnership, (3) engage in any other lawful act or activity for which exempted limited partnerships may be formed under the Act and (4) engage in any and all activities necessary or incidental to the foregoing; provided that the Partnership shall not undertake business with the public in the Cayman Islands other than so far as is necessary for the carrying on of the business of the Partnership exterior to the Cayman Islands.
- (b) The Partnership possesses and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership may exercise all such powers and privileges as the General Partner considers necessary, convenient or incidental to the conduct, promotion or attainment of the objects of the Partnership.

2.6 Liability of Partners

- (a) The liability of the Limited Partners is limited to their obligations under this Agreement and the Act. The General Partner is liable for all of the debts and obligations of the Partnership to the extent that the Partnership has insufficient assets. The General Partner shall not be personally liable for the withdrawal, payment or distribution of all or any part of any Interest, it being expressly agreed that any such withdrawal, payment or distribution to be made pursuant to this Agreement shall be made solely from the assets of the Partnership (which shall not include the General Partner's capital contributions) and on the terms and subject to the conditions contained in this Agreement.
- (b) In no event shall any Limited Partner (or former Limited Partner) be obligated to make any contribution to the Partnership in addition to its agreed capital contribution (or other payments provided for herein) or have any personal liability for the repayment or discharge of the debts and obligations of the Partnership except to the extent provided herein or as required by the Act or other applicable law.

2.7 Actions by Partnership

The General Partner on behalf of the Partnership may execute, deliver and perform all contracts, agreements and other undertakings and engage in all activities and transactions as may in the opinion of the General Partner be necessary or advisable to carry out the objects of the Partnership as set forth in Section 2.5 above. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Partnership shall not issue any securities other than interests in the Partnership.

2.8 Reliance by Third Parties

Persons dealing with the Partnership are entitled to rely conclusively upon the power and authority of the General Partner as herein set forth.

2.9 Filings

- (a) The General Partner shall take any and all other actions as may be reasonably necessary to perfect and maintain the status of the Partnership as an exempted limited partnership under the Act and other laws of the Cayman Islands, including the filing of a notice pursuant to Section 10 of the Act with the Registrar signed by the General Partner upon the occurrence of certain amendments to the Section 9 Statement of the Partnership, and any other states or jurisdictions in which the Partnership engages in business.
- (b) Following the winding up of the Partnership in accordance with the terms of this Agreement and to effect the dissolution of the same, the General Partner or any duly appointed liquidator shall promptly (i) comply with the applicable provisions of Section 15 of the Act, (ii) execute and cause to be filed a notice of dissolution in accordance with Section 15(3) of the Act and (iii) file any certificates of cancellation in accordance with the laws of any states or jurisdictions in which the Partnership has filed certificates.

2.10 Series of Interests

The General Partner, at any time, may without notification to or consent of the other Limited Partners, create and offer different series of Interests with such rights, obligations, liabilities, privileges, designations and preferences (including different investment strategies, underlying investments, degrees of leverage, management fees, performance allocations, brokerage commissions, transparency, withdrawal rights, co-investment opportunities, and other differences) as the General Partner may determine upon the issuance of such series of Interests; provided that such series of Interests would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the existing Feeder Fund Investors. The terms and rights of each such series of Interests may be set forth in the Feeder Funds' offering memoranda, any supplement thereto or a "side letter" or other agreement, which the General Partner may incorporate by reference.

Article III CAPITAL

3.1 Contributions to Capital

- (a) Each Partner is permitted to make contributions to the capital of the Partnership at such times and in such amounts as the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may determine. The Limited Partners are not required to make any additional capital contributions to the Partnership, subject to the provisions of Section 3.5(b) and any contrary provision of the Act.
- (b) Each Person admitted as a general partner of the Partnership agrees to make and maintain a capital contribution as a general partner of at least U.S.$1.00. Except as provided above or in the Act, the General Partner is not required or obligated to make any additional contributions to the capital of the Partnership. However, the General Partner or an Affiliate shall have the right at any time to make additional capital contributions as a Limited Partner or General Partner in such amounts as it may determine. If an Affiliated Investor makes a capital contribution as a Feeder Fund Investor or a Limited Partner, the General Partner has the authority to waive the Management Fee and/or Performance Allocation with respect to such Feeder Fund Investor or Limited Partner, respectively.

3.2 Rights of Partners in Capital

- (a) No Partner shall be entitled to interest on its capital contributions to the Partnership.
- (b) No Partner shall have the right to the return of any capital contribution to the Partnership except, subject to the Act, (i) upon withdrawal by such Partner of all or part of its Interest pursuant to Section 5.3 or (ii) upon the winding up and dissolution of the Partnership pursuant to Section 6.1. The entitlement to any such return shall be limited to the value of the Capital Account, including corresponding Capital Sub-Accounts, of the Partner. The General Partner shall not be liable for the return of any such amounts.

3.3 Capital Accounts

- (a) The Partnership shall maintain a separate Capital Account for each Partner. The General Partner may, in its discretion, maintain separate memorandum sub-accounts with respect to each such Capital Account for purposes of this Agreement. Each Capital Account will reflect the aggregate sum of the balances of all memorandum sub-accounts associated with each such Capital Account. Without limiting the foregoing, the Partnership shall also maintain separate Capital Sub-Accounts within the Capital Account of each Feeder Fund relating to the beneficial interest of each Feeder Fund Investor therein. If a Feeder Fund Investor invests in more than one series of limited partner interests in the Domestic Fund, the Partnership will maintain a separate Capital Sub-Account on behalf of such Feeder Fund Investor with respect to each series. The Partnership will maintain a separate Capital Sub-Account corresponding to each Sub-Series of shares held by a Feeder Fund Investor in the Offshore Fund. Each Capital Sub-Account will be treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of this Agreement, unless otherwise determined by the General Partner, including, without limitation, for purposes of determining the Management Fee and the Performance Allocation applicable to each such Capital Sub-Account. References herein to a “Capital Account” shall be deemed to refer to such a Capital Sub-Account where the context admits.
- (b) Each Capital Account shall have an initial balance equal to the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting the relevant Partner’s initial capital contribution to the Partnership.
- (c) Each Capital Account shall be increased by (i) the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting additional contributions to such Capital Account permitted pursuant to Section 3.1 and (ii) such Capital Account’s allocable share of the Net Profits allocated by the Partnership to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.4.
- (d) Each Capital Account shall be reduced by (i) the amount of any cash and the net value of any property withdrawn by or distributed to the relevant Partner pursuant to Sections 5.3 or 6.2, (ii) such Capital Account’s allocable share of the Net Losses allocated by the Partnership to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.4, (iii) such Capital Account’s pro rata portion of the expenses allocable (or specially allocable) by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.5, (iv) such Capital Account’s allocable share of the Performance Allocation allocable pursuant to Section 3.7, and (v) such Capital Account’s pro rata portion of the expenses payable by the Partnership pursuant to Section 4.2(b).

- (e) The Capital Account of the Special Limited Partner will be increased by the amount of the Performance Allocation allocated to such Capital Account and the investment gains thereon pursuant to Section 3.7(a).
- (f) Each Capital Account shall be adjusted to reflect all other allocations and other changes in the value of such Capital Account not otherwise described in this Section 3.3 in the manner specified in the remaining provisions of this Article III.

3.4 Allocation of Net Profit and Net Loss

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, Net Profits, Net Losses and, to the extent necessary, individual items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit of the Partnership shall be allocated among the Partners in a manner that, after giving effect to the special allocations set forth in Section 3.5, give economic effect to the provisions of this Agreement taking into account such facts and circumstances as the General Partner deems reasonably necessary or appropriate for this purpose. For the avoidance of doubt and solely for the purposes of applying the preceding sentence, the General Partner shall be permitted, in its sole discretion, to cause the Carrying Value of the Partnership's Investments to be adjusted, as described in the definition of "Carrying Value", on a mutatis mutandis basis, at the time at which such allocations are made.
- (b) Notwithstanding Section 3.4(a), items of income, gain, loss, deduction, credit and expenses for a Fiscal Period that are not allocable to specific Investments of the Partnership, including short term interest income, and audit, administration and legal expenses, shall be separately allocated among and credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners pro rata in accordance with their Partnership Percentages for such Fiscal Period.

3.5 Allocation of Management Fees, Withholding Taxes and Certain Other Expenditures

- (a) As of the last day of each calendar quarter, the Management Fee applicable to each Capital Account for such calendar quarter will be debited against the relevant Capital Account. Capital contributions accepted after the commencement of the calendar quarter shall be subject to a prorated Management Fee reflecting the time remaining during such calendar quarter. The General Partner or the Investment Manager may reduce, waive or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to any Limited Partner and any Capital Sub-Account. For the avoidance of doubt, if and for so long as Capital Sub-Accounts are maintained for any Limited Partner, the Management Fee shall be calculated separately with respect to each such Capital Sub-Account as if such Capital Sub-Account was the sole Capital Account of a Person admitted as a Limited Partner upon establishment of such Capital Sub-Account. The General Partner may delay the timing or alter the structure of fees payable to the Investment Manager so long as such changes are not materially adverse to the Feeder Fund Investors. The Investment Manager may also assign all or any portion of fees payable to the Investment Manager to any Affiliate thereof or any third party in its sole discretion.

- (b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, to the extent the General Partner or the Partnership is required by law (including under circumstances where the General Partner or the Partnership is unable to rely conclusively on any withholding certification provided by a Partner) to withhold or to make tax payments, including any interest or penalties, on behalf of or with respect to any Partner or Partners (including, without limitation, any amount attributable to an actual or imputed underpayment of taxes under any BBA provision, backup withholding or FATCA withholding), the General Partner or the Partnership may withhold such amounts and make such tax payments as so required. If the Partnership directly or indirectly pays or incurs any withholding tax or other tax obligation (including any amount under any BBA provision), or otherwise incurs a tax payment with respect to the income allocable or distributable to, or otherwise attributable to, one or more Partners, then the amount of such withholding tax, tax obligation or payment will be treated as a distribution to such Partner or Partners, as applicable, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Such amount will be debited against the Capital Account(s) of such Partner or Partners as of the close of the Fiscal Period during which the Partnership so withholds, pays or incurs such obligation. If the amount so withheld, paid or incurred is greater than the balance of the Capital Account(s) of the relevant Partner or Partners, as applicable, then such Partner or Partners and any successors must make a contribution to the capital of the Partnership within 10 Business Days after notification and demand by the General Partner in the amount of such excess. The General Partner is not obligated to apply for or obtain a refund, or reduction of or exemption from withholding tax or other tax obligation (including any amount under any BBA provision) on behalf of any Partner that may be eligible for such refund, reduction or exemption, or otherwise obligated to structure Investments so as to reduce or avoid any withholding tax. Each Limited Partner agrees to repay to the Partnership and the General Partner and each of the partners and former partners of the General Partner, any liability for taxes, interest or penalties which may be asserted by reason of the failure to deduct and withhold tax on amounts distributable or allocable to such Limited Partner.
- (c) Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement, any expenditures payable by the Partnership (including any taxes imposed on the Partnership pursuant to Section 6225 of the Code, as amended by the BBA), to the extent determined by the General Partner to have been paid or withheld on behalf of, or by reason of particular circumstances applicable to, one or more but fewer than all of the Partners, shall be specially allocated only to the Capital Accounts of those Partners on whose behalf such payments are made or whose particular circumstances gave rise to such payments. Such allocations shall be debited from the relevant Capital Accounts of such Partners as of the close of the Fiscal Period during which any such items were accrued by the Partnership.

3.6 Reserves; Adjustments for Certain Future Events

- (a) The General Partner may cause appropriate reserves to be created, accrued and charged against Net Assets and proportionately against the Capital Accounts (and the corresponding Capital Sub-Accounts) for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts which the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The General Partner may increase or reduce any such reserve from time to time by such amounts as the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The amount of any such reserve, or any increase or decrease therein, may, at the election of the General Partner, be charged or credited, as the General Partner deems appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of those parties that are Partners at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those parties that were Partners at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established by the General Partner.
- (b) If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then all or a portion of such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, in proportion to the Capital Account balances of the current Partners as such balances existed during any such prior period(s).

3.7 Performance Allocation

- (a) The Performance Allocation is debited against each applicable Capital Sub-Account as of the last day of each Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Sub-Account, and the amount so debited is simultaneously credited to the Capital Account of the Special Limited Partner pursuant to Section 3.3(e). Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Special Limited Partner may assign all or any portion of the Performance Allocation to its Affiliates or any other Person.
- (b) The General Partner may fully or partially waive or decrease the Performance Allocation with respect to any Limited Partner and any Capital Sub-Account.

3.8 Allocation to Avoid Capital Account Deficits

To the extent that any debits pursuant to this Article III would reduce the balance of the Capital Account of any Limited Partner below zero, that portion of any such debits shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner. Any credits in any subsequent Fiscal Period which would otherwise be allocable pursuant to this Article III to a Capital Account of any Limited Partner previously affected by the application of this Section 3.8 shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner in such amounts as are necessary to offset all previous debits attributable to such Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 3.8 not previously recovered.

3.9 Allocations for U.S. Federal Income Tax Purposes

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

- (a) Income Tax Allocations. Except as otherwise required by Code Section 704(c), items of income, gain, deduction, loss, or credit that are recognized for income tax purposes in each Fiscal Year will be allocated among the Partners (and among such Partner's Capital Accounts) in such manner as to reflect equitably amounts credited to or debited against each Partner's Capital Accounts, whether in such Fiscal Year or in prior Fiscal Years. To this end, the Partnership will establish and maintain records which shall show the extent to which the Capital Accounts of each Partner will, as of the last day of each Fiscal Year, comprise amounts that have not been reflected in the taxable income of such Partner. To the extent deemed by the General Partner to be feasible and equitable, taxable income and gains in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have enjoyed the related credits to their Capital Accounts, and items of deduction, loss and credit in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have borne the burden of the related debits to their Capital Accounts. Non-U.S. tax credits attributable to taxes incurred by the Partnership shall be allocated in a manner consistent with Section 1.704-1(b)(4)(viii) of the Regulations. All matters concerning allocations for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes, including accounting procedures, not expressly provided for in this Agreement will be determined by the General Partner.
- (b) Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Partnership asset pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code or Section 743(b) of the Code is required under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Regulations to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Partners in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such Section of the Regulations; provided that in the event that an adjustment to the book value of Partnership property is made as a result of an adjustment pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code, items of income, gain, loss, or deduction, as computed for book and tax purposes, will be specially allocated among the Partners so that the effect of any such adjustment shall benefit (or be borne by) the Partner(s) receiving the distribution that caused such adjustment.
- (c) General Partner Special Allocations. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, if the General Partner withdraws (or is otherwise entitled to withdraw) all or a portion of its Capital Account during any Fiscal Year, the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may specially allocate items of income, gain, deduction, loss or credit that are recognized for U.S. federal income tax purposes to itself equal to the amount by which the withdrawn amount exceed its adjusted tax basis, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, in its Partnership interest (determined prior to any such special allocations).

- (d) Positive Basis Allocations. If the Partnership realizes gains or items of gross income (including short term capital gain) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Positive Basis Partners withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.3, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such gains or items of gross income among such Positive Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner, until either the full amount of such gains or items of gross income shall have been so allocated or the Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any gains or items of gross income not so allocated to Positive Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner as shall reflect equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership realizes gains or items of gross income from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Positive Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Positive Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there shall be allocated to such Positive Basis Partner an amount of such gains or items of gross income equal to the amount, if any, by which its Positive Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this sentence. For the avoidance of doubt, the General Partner may also, in its sole discretion, to apply the Positive Basis definitions and the provisions of this Section 3.9(c) to a withdrawal from a Capital Sub-Account.
- (e) Negative Basis Allocations. If the Partnership realizes net losses or items of gross loss or deduction (including short term capital loss) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Negative Basis Partners withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.3, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction among such Negative Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partners, until either the full amount of such losses or items of loss or deduction shall have been so allocated or the Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any net losses or items of gross loss or deduction not so allocated to Negative Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner as shall reflect equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership realizes net losses or items of gross loss and deduction from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Negative Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Negative Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there shall may be allocated to such Negative Basis Partner an amount of such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction equal to the amount, if any, by which its Negative Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this sentence. For the avoidance of doubt, the General Partner may also, in its sole discretion, to apply the Negative Basis definitions and the provisions of this Section 3.9(d) to a withdrawal from a Capital Sub-Account.

- (f) Qualified Income Offset. In the event any Limited Partner unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6) of the Regulations, items of Partnership income and gain will be specially allocated to each such Limited Partner in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the deficit balance in the Capital Account of such Limited Partner as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.9(e) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit balance in its Capital Account after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been tentatively made as if this Section 3.9(e) were not in this Agreement. This Section 3.9(e) is intended to constitute a “qualified income offset” within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii) of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.
- (g) Gross Income Allocation. In the event any Limited Partner has a deficit Capital Account at the end of any Fiscal Year that is in excess of the sum of (i) the amount such Limited Partner is obligated to restore pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and (ii) the amount such Limited Partner is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5) of the Regulations, each such Limited Partner will be specially allocated items of Partnership gross income and gain in the amount of such excess as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.9(f) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit Capital Account in excess of such sum after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been made as if Section 3.9(e) and this Section 3.9(f) were not in this Agreement.
- (h) Section 704(b) Compliance. The allocations provided in this Section 3.9 are intended to comply with the Regulations under Section 704(b) of the Code and may, as determined by the General Partner, be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent therewith. In the event the General Partner determines that it is prudent to modify the manner in which the Capital Accounts, or any debits or credits thereto, are determined (including, without limitation, debits or credits relating to liabilities that are secured by contributed or distributed property or that are assumed by the Partnership or any Partners), the General Partner may make such modification, provided that it is not likely to have a material adverse effect on the amounts distributed to any Partner pursuant to Sections 3.12 and 6.2 hereof. The General Partner also shall (i) make any adjustments that are necessary or appropriate to maintain equality between the Capital Accounts of the Partners and the amount of capital reflected on the Partnership's balance sheet, as computed for book purposes, in accordance with Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(q) and (ii) make any appropriate modifications in the event unanticipated events might otherwise cause this Agreement not to comply with Regulations Section 1.704-1(b).

3.10 Curative Allocations

The allocations set forth in Sections 3.9(b), (e) and (f) (the "Regulatory Allocations") are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Regulations. It is the intent of the Partners that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 3.10. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provision of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations), the General Partner shall make such offsetting special allocations of the Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Partner's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Partner would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of this Agreement and all Partnership items were allocated pursuant to other provisions of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations).

3.11 Tax Matters

- (a) Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership or which would result in inconsistent treatment, and each Partner further agrees to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner consistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership.
- (b) To the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner agrees to (i) provide such cooperation and assistance, including executing and filing forms or other statements and providing information about the Limited Partner, as is reasonably requested by the Tax Matters Partner, to enable the Partnership to satisfy any applicable tax reporting or compliance requirements, to make any tax election or to qualify for an exception from or reduced rate of tax or other tax benefit or be relieved of liability for any tax regardless of whether such requirement, tax benefit or tax liability existed on the date such Partner was admitted to the Partnership, (ii) amend the Limited Partner's tax returns and pay any resulting taxes, interest and penalties in connection with an election by the Partnership under Section 6225(a) of the Code, as amended by the BBA, (iii) take into account any adjustments and pay any taxes, interest and penalties that result from an election by the Partnership under Section 6226 of the Code, as amended by the BBA, and/or (iv) indemnify and hold harmless the Partnership from and against any liability with respect to the Limited Partner's share of any tax deficiency

(including any interest and penalties associated therewith) paid or payable by the Partnership that is (A) allocable to such Limited Partner (as reasonably determined by the General Partner in accordance with this Agreement) with respect to an audited or reviewed taxable year for which such Partner was a partner in the Partnership or (B) attributable (as reasonably determined by the General Partner) to the failure of such Limited Partner to cooperate with or provide any such forms, statements, or other information as requested by the Tax Matters Partner pursuant to clause (i) above.

3.12 Distributions

- (a) The amount and timing of any distributions from the Partnership shall be determined by the General Partner. Distributions will generally be made in proportion to the respective Partnership Percentages of the Partners for the Fiscal Period when made. Any distributions may be paid in cash, in kind or partly in cash and partly in kind.
- (b) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership, and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, may not make a distribution to any Partner from any account in connection with its Interest if such distribution would violate the Act or other applicable law.

3.13 Other Matters

- (a) The General Partner does not have any personal liability for the repayment of any capital contribution of any Partner.
- (b) Subject only to the relevant provisions of the Act, the Limited Partners are not personally liable for the debts, liabilities, contracts or other obligations of the Partnership except to the extent of their respective capital contributions; provided, however, that the foregoing is not to be construed as relieving any Partner of any obligations arising under Section 3.1 of this Agreement.
- (c) The Limited Partners shall not participate in the conduct of the Partnership's business nor shall they transact business for the Partnership, nor shall they have the power to sign for or bind the Partnership, said powers being vested exclusively in the General Partner.

Article IV MANAGEMENT

4.1 Duties and Powers of the General Partner

- (a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the General Partner shall have complete and exclusive power and responsibility, to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, for (i) all investment and investment management decisions to be undertaken on behalf of the Partnership and (ii) managing and administering the conduct of the business and the affairs of the Partnership, and shall have the power and authority to do all things that the General Partner considers necessary or desirable to carry out its duties hereunder and to achieve the purposes of the Partnership. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the General Partner's powers include the power to borrow, obtain leverage or otherwise incur indebtedness with respect to the Partnership's capital. The General Partner has delegated (and the Investment Manager has agreed to assume) its rights and responsibilities with respect to making Investments and the operation of the Partnership to the Investment Manager.

- (b) The General Partner shall have the right, without the notification to or consent of any Limited Partner or other Person, to make adjustments to the structure of the Partnership in order to address applicable structural, ownership, legal, or regulatory issues, or to improve overall tax efficiency; provided that no such adjustment would cause any material adverse consequences to the Feeder Fund Investors.
- (c) Without limiting the generality of the General Partner's duties and powers hereunder and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the General Partner shall have full power and authority, subject to the other terms and provisions of this Agreement, to execute, deliver and perform such contracts, agreements and other undertakings on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of any other Person, and to engage in all activities and transactions, as it may deem necessary or advisable for, or as may be incidental to, the conduct of the business contemplated by this Section 4.1, including, without in any manner limiting the generality of the foregoing, (i) contracts, agreements, undertakings and transactions with any Partner or with any other Person, firm or corporation having any business, financial or other relationship with any Partner or Partners, (ii) agreements with each Limited Partner in connection with its purchase of an Interest, (iii) any agreements to induce any Person to purchase an Interest, and (iv) the Investment Management Agreement delegating to the Investment Manager certain of the powers and authority vested by this Agreement in the General Partner as the General Partner and the Investment Manager may agree from time to time, each without any further act, approval or vote of any Person.
- (d) The General Partner may terminate or replace the Investment Manager in accordance with the terms of the Investment Management Agreement. The General Partner may delegate to any other Person (including any of its Affiliates) any power and authority vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement that is not otherwise delegated to the Investment Manager.
- (e) Every power vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement shall be construed as a power to act (or not to act) in its sole and absolute discretion, except as otherwise expressly provided herein. No provision of this Agreement shall be construed to require the General Partner to violate the Act or any other law, regulation or rule of any self-regulatory organization.

- (f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or otherwise applicable provision of law or equity, whenever in this Agreement, the General Partner is permitted or required to make a decision (i) in its “sole discretion” or “discretion” or under a grant of similar authority or latitude, the General Partner shall be entitled to consider only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests, and shall, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, have no duty or obligation to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting the Partnership or the Limited Partners, or (ii) in its “good faith” or under another expressed standard, the General Partner shall act under such express standard and shall not be subject to any other or different standards. Unless otherwise expressly stated, for purposes of this Section 4.1(f), the General Partner shall be deemed to be permitted or required to make all decisions hereunder in its sole discretion.
- (g) The General Partner must cause the Partnership to conduct its dealings with third parties in its own name.
- (h) The General Partner must, throughout the term of the Partnership as set out in Section 2.4, take all actions that may be necessary or appropriate for the continuation of the Partnership’s valid existence as an exempted limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands.

4.2 Expenses

- (a) Subject to Section 4.2(f), each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager pays all of its own operating and overhead costs without reimbursement by the Partnership (except liability insurance). The Partnership will not have its own separate employees or office, and it will not reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead expenses of the General Partner or the Investment Manager.
- (b) The Partnership, and not the General Partner or the Investment Manager, will pay, or reimburse the General Partner and the Investment Manager for, all costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Partnership’s operations. Such expenses payable by the Partnership include the following:
 - (i) all costs related to the Partnership’s investment program, including, without limitation, brokerage commissions, other expenses related to buying and selling securities (including trading errors that are not the result of the Investment Manager’s Gross Negligence, willful misconduct or fraud), costs of due diligence regardless of whether a particular transaction is consummated, the costs of attending shareholder meetings, research expenses and costs related to monitoring Investments;

- (ii) initial organizational expenses of the Partnership; provided that, such organizational costs may be expensed immediately, or in the General Partner's discretion, amortized in whole or in part and capitalized over a period of 60 calendar months from the date the Partnership commences operations, which may result in an exception to IFRS;
 - (iii) fees and expenses of advisers and consultants;
 - (iv) Management Fees;
 - (v) fees and expenses of any custodians, escrow or transfer agents or other investment-related service providers;
 - (vi) indemnification expenses incurred in connection with Section 4.5 and the cost of insurance against potential indemnification liabilities;
 - (vii) interest and other borrowing expenses;
 - (viii) legal, administrative, accounting, tax, audit and insurance expenses;
 - (ix) expenses of preparing and distributing reports, financial statements and notices to Limited Partners;
 - (x) litigation or other extraordinary expenses;
 - (xi) any withholding, transfer or other taxes imposed or assessed on, or payable by, the Partnership (including any interest and penalties); and
 - (xii) the cost of periodically updating this Agreement.
- (c) Expenses generally will be borne pro rata by the Partners in accordance with their respective Partnership Percentages; provided that expenses may be specially allocated among the Partners as follows:
- (i) with respect to expenses related to Investments (other than taxes), pro rata in accordance with their respective Partnership Percentages; and
 - (ii) as provided elsewhere in this Agreement, including Sections 3.4, 3.5, 3.6 and 5.3.
- (d) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Partnership for any of the expenses paid by it on behalf of the Partnership pursuant to Section 4.2(b); provided that the General Partner or the Investment Manager may absorb any or all of such expenses incurred on behalf of the Partnership. The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities hereunder as a delegate of the General Partner, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Partnership, including, but not limited to, any Affiliate of the Investment

Manager, but payment for any such services shall be assumed by the Investment Manager and the Partnership shall not have any liability therefor; provided, however, that the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals on behalf of the Partnership, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Partnership hereunder, and the Partnership shall bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.

- (e) If the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall incur any of the expenses referred to in Section 4.2(b) for the account or for the benefit of, or in connection with its activities or those of its Affiliates on behalf of, both the Partnership and any Other Account, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, will allocate such expense among the Partnership and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the Investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the General Partner considers fair and reasonable.
- (f) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is entitled to use “soft dollars” generated by the Partnership to pay for certain investment research and brokerage services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the General Partner or the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities to the extent such use falls within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Use of “soft dollars” by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as described herein shall not constitute a breach by either the General Partner or the Investment Manager of any fiduciary or other duty which the General Partner or the Investment Manager may be deemed to owe to the Partnership or its Partners.

4.3 Rights of Limited Partners

The Limited Partners shall take no part in the management, control or operation of the Partnership’s business, and shall have no right or authority to act for the Partnership or to vote on matters other than the matters set forth in this Agreement or as required by applicable law. Except as otherwise provided herein or required by law, a Limited Partner shall have no liability for the debts or obligations of the Partnership.

4.4 Other Activities of Partners

- (a) The General Partner shall not be required to devote any specific amount of its time to the affairs of the Partnership, but shall devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Partnership as it shall determine in good faith to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Partnership for the benefit of the Partnership and the Partners.
- (b) Each Partner acknowledges and agrees that any other Partner, its Affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees, may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures or commercial dealings of every kind and description, independently or with others, including, but not limited to, management of other accounts, investment in, or financing, acquisition and disposition of, securities, investment and management counseling, brokerage services, serving as directors, officers, advisers or agents of other companies, partners of any partnership, or trustees of any trust, or entering into any other commercial arrangements, and will not be disqualified solely on the basis that any such activities may conflict with any interest of the parties with respect to the Partnership. Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each Partner hereby acknowledges that (i) none of the Partners, their Affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees shall have any obligation or responsibility to disclose or refer any of the investment or other opportunities obtained through activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) to the General Partner or the Limited Partners, but may refer the same to any other party or keep such opportunities for their own benefit; and (ii) the Partners, their Affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees are hereby authorized to engage in activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) with, or to purchase, sell or otherwise deal or invest in investments issued by, companies in which the General Partner might from time to time invest or be able to invest or otherwise have any interest on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of the Partnership or any other Partner. The Partners expressly agree that no other Partner shall have any rights in or to such other activities, or any profits derived therefrom.

- (c) The General Partner and its Affiliates shall allocate investment opportunities to the Partnership and any Other Account fairly and equitably over time. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner is under no obligation to accord exclusivity or priority to the Partnership in the event of limited investment opportunities. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) fiduciary duties owed to the accounts; (ii) the primary mandate of the accounts; (iii) the capital available to the accounts; (iv) any restrictions on the accounts and the investment opportunity; (v) the sourcing of the investment, size of the investment and amount of follow-on available related to the investment; (vi) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (vii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (viii) liquidity requirements of the account; (ix) potentially adverse tax consequences; (x) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (xi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio. The General Partner has the authority to allocate trades to multiple accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the General Partner may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time.

- (d) The principal of the General Partner, as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Partnership (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of Interests) unless such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Advisers Act.
- (e) Each Partner hereto hereby waives, and covenants not to bring a cause of action in law or equity on the basis of, any law (statutory, common law or otherwise) respecting the rights and obligations of the Partners which is or may be inconsistent with this Section 4.4.
- (f) The General Partner and its Affiliates reserve the right to establish collective investment vehicles that have stated investment programs or terms that differ from those of the Partnership or that are targeted primarily to investors for which the Partnership is not designed to be a suitable investment vehicle. The General Partner and its Affiliates also reserve the right to establish and provide management or advisory services to Other Accounts for significant investors, whether or not such accounts have the same investment program as the Partnership.
- (g) Each Limited Partner acknowledges that the General Partner or the Investment Manager may engage one or more of their respective Affiliates to provide services to the Partnership for compensation.

4.5 Duty of Care; Indemnification

- (a) None of the Indemnified Persons will be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner (or any Feeder Fund Investors) for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Person or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as an Indemnified Person in the absence of Gross Negligence, willful misconduct or fraud, or as otherwise required by law. In no event shall any Indemnified Person be liable for any consequential damages, special or indirect damages or lost profits. An Indemnified Person may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Partnership's affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above.
- (b) The Partnership shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Person from and against any and all liabilities suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Person by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Person or in connection with this Agreement or the Partnership's business or affairs, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability did not result from the Gross Negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of such Indemnified Person. The Partnership will, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, advance to any Indemnified Person reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct. In the event that such an advance is made by the Partnership, the Indemnified Person will agree to reimburse the Partnership to the extent that it is finally determined that the Indemnified Person was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.

- (c) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of this Section 4.5 do not provide for the exculpation or indemnification of any Indemnified Person for any liability (including liability under U.S. federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- (d) Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Indemnified Person, the Partnership (and not the applicable Indemnified Person) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent Gross Negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of any Indemnified Person.
- (e) The above-mentioned Indemnified Persons are also indemnified by each Limited Partner for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that Limited Partner, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith to the extent that the balance of the Limited Partner's Capital Account is insufficient to fully compensate the General Partner or the Investment Manager for such costs.
- (f) The General Partner may make, execute, record and file on its own behalf and on behalf of the Partnership all instruments and other documents (including one or more deed polls in favor of categories of Indemnified Persons and/or one or more separate indemnification agreements between the Partnership and individual Indemnified Persons) that the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate in order to extend the benefit of the provisions of Sections 4.5(a) and 4.5(b) to the Indemnified Persons; provided, that, such other instruments and documents authorized hereunder shall be on the same terms as provided for in Sections 4.5(a) and 4.5(b) except as otherwise may be required by applicable law.

4.6 Investment Restrictions

Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Partnership may not at the time of investment:

- (a) invest more than 50% of its gross assets in its net holdings of equities;
- (b) borrow more than 100% of its Net Assets;
- (c) invest more than 20% of its gross assets in a single equity position;
- (d) invest more than 20% of its gross assets in a single corporate issuer;
- (e) invest more than 30% of its gross assets in GDP-linked warrants; and
- (f) invest more than 30% of its gross assets in a single sovereign or provincial issuer.

Article V ADMISSIONS, TRANSFERS AND WITHDRAWALS

5.1 Admission of Partners

The General Partner may, without the consent of any existing Partners, admit any Person to the Partnership who agrees to adhere to and be bound by all of the terms of this Agreement as a General Partner or a Limited Partner upon the execution by or on behalf of it and the acceptance by the General Partner of a deed of adherence to this Agreement in form satisfactory to the General Partner. The amount of any initial capital contribution to be made by such additional Partner is determined by the General Partner (in its sole discretion). Effective upon such admission, the Partnership Percentage of each existing Partner is adjusted pro rata to reflect the Partnership Percentage of the additional Partner, and the Partnership's records are revised to reflect such adjusted Partnership Percentages, as well as the name, initial capital contribution and Partnership Percentage of such additional Partner.

5.2 Transfer and Withdrawal of the General Partner

Without the consent of a Majority of the Limited Partners, the General Partner shall not have the right to assign or otherwise transfer its Interest as the general partner of the Partnership, and the General Partner shall not have the right to withdraw from the Partnership without the consent of the Limited Partners; provided in each case that, the Feeder Funds must vote their Interests proportionately based on the votes of their respective Feeder Fund Investors. In the event of an assignment or Transfer of all of its Interest as a general partner of the Partnership in accordance with this clause, the new general partner will immediately notify the Registrar in the Cayman Islands in accordance with Section 10 of the Act and the outgoing General Partner will take such actions as may be reasonably necessary to novate and assign all contracts signed on behalf of the Partnership to the new general partner whereupon the new general partner will be substituted as general partner of the Partnership in place of the outgoing General Partner and immediately thereafter the outgoing General Partner will cease to be the general partner of the Partnership.

5.3 Transfer and Withdrawal of Interests of Limited Partners

- (a) The General Partner shall have the right, in its sole discretion, to (i) prohibit Transfers of Interests by Limited Partners, (ii) compel withdrawals of Interests and (iii) take such other actions as the General Partner deems necessary to ensure that the assets of the Partnership do not constitute Plan Assets for purposes of ERISA.
- (b) Subject to obtaining the General Partner's consent, each Limited Partner may voluntarily withdraw all or part of its Interest at such times and in such amounts as such Limited Partner may determine.
- (c) The General Partner may, at any time, suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Partnership (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of Interests; (c) the withdrawal by Limited Partners of their Interests (and the applicable withdrawal date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and withdrawal dates are not postponed), during any period which: (i) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of Investments owned by the Partnership are traded is closed, other than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended; (ii) there exists any state of affairs as a result of which (A) disposal of a substantial part of the Investments owned by the Partnership would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the Limited Partners, or (B) it is not reasonably practicable for the Partnership fairly to determine the value of its Net Assets; (iii) none of the withdrawal requests which have been made may lawfully be satisfied by the Partnership; (iv) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the Investments of the Partnership; or (v) in the sole discretion of the General Partner, it is necessary to preserve the Partnership's assets.
- (d) The Administrator will promptly notify each Limited Partner and each Feeder Fund Investor who, directly or indirectly through a Limited Partner, has submitted a withdrawal request and to whom payment in full of the amount being withdrawn has not yet been remitted of any suspension of withdrawals or suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds pursuant to Section 5.3(c). Any remaining amount of a withdrawal request that is not satisfied due to such a suspension remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Partnership and subject to the applicable Management Fee until such amount is finally and fully withdrawn. Such Limited Partners and Feeder Fund Investors will not be given any priority with respect to the withdrawal of Interests after the cause for such suspension or limitation ceases to exist. The General Partner may in its sole discretion, however, permit such Limited Partners or Feeder Fund Investors (through a Limited Partner) to withdraw their withdrawal requests to the extent that the relevant withdrawal date has not yet passed. For the avoidance of doubt, where a suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds is declared between the relevant withdrawal date and the remittance of such payment proceeds, affected Limited Partners and Feeder Fund Investors shall not have any right to withdraw their withdrawal requests. Upon the reasonable determination by the General Partner that conditions leading to a suspension no longer apply, the Administrator will notify the Limited Partners and Feeder Fund Investors of the end of the suspension. At such time, any such suspended payments shall generally be paid in accordance with the normal process for making such payments, withdrawal rights shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending withdrawal requests which were not withdrawn (or new, timely withdrawal requests) will be effected as of the first withdrawal date following the removal of the suspension, subject to the foregoing restrictions on withdrawals.

- (e) Unless prohibited by law, the Special Limited Partner, its Affiliates and any other Person that is entitled to any portion of the Performance Allocation may make withdrawals of all or any portion of the amount of the Performance Allocation from their Capital Accounts as of the last Business Day of any calendar month and/or such other Business Days as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion.

Article VI LIQUIDATION AND TERMINATION

6.1 Termination of Partnership

- (a) The Partnership shall be wound up and dissolved upon the first to occur of any of the following dates (each, a “Termination Date”) and Sections 36(1)(b), 36(9) and 36(12) of the Act shall not apply to the Partnership:
 - (i) any date on which the General Partner shall elect in writing to terminate the Partnership; and
 - (ii) if the General Partner is the sole or last remaining general partner, the date (the “Automatic Dissolution Date”) falling 90 days after the date of the service of a notice by the General Partner (or its legal representative) on all the Limited Partners informing the Limited Partners of:
 - (1) the commencement of liquidation or bankruptcy proceedings in relation to the General Partner; or
 - (2) the withdrawal, removal or making of a winding up or dissolution order in relation to the General Partner;

provided that, if a majority in number of the Limited Partners elects one or more new general partners before the Automatic Dissolution Date, the business of the Partnership shall be resumed and continued. If a new general partner is not elected by the Automatic Dissolution Date, the Partnership shall be wound up and dissolved in accordance with terms of this Agreement and the Act.

- (b) Upon such Termination Date, the Partnership shall be wound up in accordance with the Act by the General Partner or if the General Partner is unable to perform this function, a liquidator elected by a Majority of the Limited Partners (a “Liquidator”), which shall take all steps necessary or appropriate to wind up the affairs of the Partnership as promptly as practicable thereafter. Neither the admission of Partners nor the withdrawal, bankruptcy, death, legal incapacity or disability of a Limited Partner shall terminate the Partnership.
- (c) The parties agree that irreparable damage would be done to the goodwill and reputation of the Partners if any Limited Partner should bring an action in court to dissolve the Partnership. Care has been taken in this Agreement to provide for fair and just payment in liquidation of the Interests of all Partners. Accordingly, to the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner hereby waives and renounces its right to such a court decree of dissolution or to seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Partnership except as provided herein, and no Limited Partner may present a winding up petition against the Partnership without the prior written consent of the General Partner.

6.2 Liquidation of Assets

- (a) Upon the Termination Date of the Partnership, the General Partner or Liquidator (as applicable) shall promptly liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership to the extent feasible. Net Profit and Net Loss during the Fiscal Periods, which includes the period of liquidation, shall be allocated pursuant to Article III. The proceeds from liquidation shall be divided in the following manner, subject to the Act:
 - (i) the debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership, other than any debts to the Partners as Partners, and the expenses of liquidation (including legal, administrative and accounting expenses incurred in connection therewith), up to and including the date that distribution of the Partnership’s assets to the Partners has been completed, shall first be satisfied (whether by payment or the making of reasonable provision for payment thereof);
 - (ii) such debts as are owing to the Partners as Partners are next paid; and
 - (iii) the Partners shall next be paid liquidating distributions (in cash or in securities or other assets, whether or not readily marketable) pro rata in accordance with, and up to the positive balances of their respective Capital Accounts, as adjusted pursuant to Article III to reflect allocations for the Fiscal Period ending on the date of the distributions under this Section 6.2(a)(iii).
- (b) Notwithstanding this Section 6.2 and the priorities set forth in the Act, the General Partner or Liquidator may distribute ratably in kind rather than in cash, upon dissolution, any assets of the Partnership; provided, however, that if any in kind distribution is to be made, (i) the assets distributed in kind shall be valued pursuant to Section 7.3, and charged as so valued and distributed against amounts to be paid under Section 6.2(a) and (ii) any gain or loss (as computed for book purposes) attributable to property distributed in kind shall be included in the Net Profit or Net Loss for the Fiscal Period ending on the date of such distribution.

Article VII ACCOUNTING AND VALUATION; BOOKS AND RECORDS

7.1 Accounting and Reports

- (a) The Partnership may adopt for tax accounting purposes any accounting method which the General Partner shall decide is in the best interests of the Partnership and which is permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
- (b) As soon as practicable after the end of each Fiscal Year, the General Partner shall cause an audit of the financial statements of the Partnership as of the end of such period to be made by a firm of independent accountants selected by the General Partner. As soon as is practicable thereafter, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner a copy of the set of audited financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS (subject to this Agreement) with GAAP reconciliation and such adjustments thereto as the General Partner determines appropriate, including a statement of profit and loss for such Fiscal Year and an unaudited status of each such Partner's holdings in the Partnership at such time.
- (c) As soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner such information as may be required to enable each such Limited Partner properly to report for U.S. federal, state and local income tax purposes its distributive share of each Partnership item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit for such year. The General Partner shall have discretion as to how to report Partnership items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit on the Partnership's tax returns, and the Limited Partners shall treat such items consistently on their own tax returns.

7.2 Certain Tax Matters

- (a) By joining this Agreement, each Limited Partner appoints and designates the General Partner (i) as the "tax matters partner," within the meaning of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code, and, (ii) for any BBA Effective Period, as the "partnership representative" within the meaning of Section 6223 of the Code (as applicable, the "Tax Matters Partner"), or, in each case, under any similar state or local law. The Tax Matters Partner shall have any powers necessary to perform fully in such capacity, and shall be permitted to take any and all actions, to the extent permitted by law, in consultation with the General Partner if the General Partner is not the Tax Matters Partner. The General Partner shall have the exclusive authority to appoint and designate the Investment Manager, or an Affiliate of the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as a successor Tax Matters Partner for any BBA Effective Period. The Tax Matters Partner shall be reimbursed by the Partnership for all costs and expenses incurred by it, and to be indemnified by the Partnership with respect to any action brought against it, in its capacity as the Tax Matters Partner.

- (b) The Limited Partners agree that any and all actions taken by the Tax Matters Partner shall be binding on the Partnership and all of the Limited Partners and the Limited Partners shall reasonably cooperate with the Partnership or the General Partner, and undertake any action reasonably requested by the Partnership or the General Partner, in connection with any elections made by the Tax Matters Partner or as determined to be reasonably necessary by the Tax Matters Partners under any BBA provision.
- (c) Each Limited Partner further agrees that such Limited Partner will not treat any Partnership item inconsistently on such Limited Partner's U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. tax returns or in any claim for a refund with the treatment of the item on the Partnership's tax returns and that such Limited Partner will not independently act with respect to tax audits or tax litigation affecting the Partnership, unless the prior written consent of the General Partner has been obtained.
- (d) The General Partner may in its sole discretion cause the Partnership to make all elections not otherwise expressly provided for in this Agreement required or permitted to be made by the Partnership under the Code and any state, local or non-U.S. tax laws.

7.3 AEOI

Each Partner acknowledges and agrees that:

- (a) the Partnership is required to comply with the provisions of AEOI;
- (b) it will provide, in a timely manner, such information regarding the Partner and its beneficial owners and such forms or documentation as may be requested from time to time by the Partnership (whether by its General Partner or other agents such as the Investment Manager or the Administrator) to enable the Partnership to comply with the requirements and obligations imposed on it pursuant to AEOI, specifically, but not limited to, forms and documentation which the Partnership may require to determine whether or not the Partner's relevant investment is a "Reportable Account" (under any AEOI regime) and to comply with the relevant due diligence procedures in making such determination;
- (c) any such forms or documentation requested by the Partnership or its agents pursuant to paragraph (b), or any financial or account information with respect to the Partner's investment in the Partnership, may be disclosed to the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority (or any other Cayman Islands governmental body which collects information in accordance with AEOI) and to any withholding agent where the provision of that information is required by such agent to avoid the application of any withholding tax on any payments to the Partnership;

- (d) it waives, and/or shall cooperate with the Partnership to obtain a waiver of, the provisions of any law which:
 - (i) prohibit the disclosure by the Partnership, or by any of its agents, of the information or documentation requested from the Partner pursuant to paragraph (b);
 - (ii) prohibit the reporting of financial or account information by the Partnership or its agents required pursuant to AEOI; or
 - (iii) otherwise prevent compliance by the Partnership with its obligations under AEOI;
- (e) if it provides information and documentation that is in anyway misleading, or it fails to provide the Partnership or its agents with the requested information and documentation necessary in either case to satisfy the Partnership's obligations under AEOI, the General Partner reserves the right (whether or not such action or inaction leads to compliance failures by the Partnership, or a risk of the Partnership or its investors being subject to withholding tax or other costs, debts, expenses, obligations or liabilities (whether external, or internal, to the Partnership) (together, "costs") under AEOI), in its sole discretion, to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at its disposal including, without limitation:
 - (i) to establish separate sub-accounts within a Partner's Capital Account for the purpose of calculating AEOI related costs; and/or
 - (ii) to allocate any or all AEOI costs among Capital Accounts (or Capital Sub-Accounts within a Partner's Capital Account) on a basis determined solely by the General Partner; and/or
 - (iii) to compulsory withdraw such Partner from the Partnership; and/or
 - (iv) to hold back or deduct from any withdrawal proceeds or from any other payments or distributions due to such Partner any costs caused (directly or indirectly) by the Partner's action or inaction;
- (f) it shall have no claim against the Partnership, the General Partner or any of its or their agents, for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Partnership in order to comply with AEOI; and
- (g) it hereby indemnifies the Partnership, the General Partner and each of their respective principals, members, partners, managers, officers, directors, stockholders, employees and agents and holds them harmless from and against any AEOI related liability, action, proceeding, claim, demand, costs, damages, expenses (including legal expenses) penalties or taxes whatsoever which such parties may incur as a result of any action or inaction (directly or indirectly) of such Partner (or any related person) described in the preceding paragraphs. This indemnification shall survive the disposition of such Partner's Interest in the Partnership.

7.4 Valuation of Partnership Assets and Interests

- (a) The Partnership's assets are valued as of the close of each Fiscal Period and on any other date selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion in accordance with the Investment Manager's valuation policies and procedures.
- (b) The value of the assets of the Partnership and the net worth of the Partnership as a whole determined pursuant to this Section 7.3 are conclusive and binding on all of the Partners and all parties claiming through or under them.

7.5 Determinations by the General Partner

- (a) All matters concerning the determination and allocation among the Partners and their respective Capital Accounts of the amounts to be determined and allocated pursuant to this Agreement, including Article III and accounting procedures applicable thereto, shall be determined by the General Partner, unless specifically and expressly otherwise provided for by the provisions of this Agreement, and such determinations and allocations shall be final and binding on all the Partners; provided, however, that all calculations of the Performance Allocation will be made on the basis of, or subject to correction based on, the annual audit of the Partnership's financial statements and appropriate adjustments will be made to all such calculations and related allocations to the extent necessary as a result of that audit.
- (b) The General Partner may make such adjustments to the computation of Net Profit or Net Loss, the Performance Change and the Carryforward Account or any other allocations with respect to any Limited Partner and their respective Capital Accounts, or any component items comprising any of the foregoing, as it considers appropriate to reflect the financial results of the Partnership and the intended allocation thereof among the Partners and their respective Capital Accounts in a reasonably accurate, fair and efficient manner. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any provision of this Agreement that requires an adjustment to be made to any Capital Account or Capital Sub-Account (or other memorandum sub-account) as of any mid-month or mid-quarter date may be made as of the most recent preceding or succeeding date when a regular valuation is being conducted.

7.6 Books and Records

The General Partner shall keep books and records pertaining to the Partnership's affairs showing all of its assets and liabilities, receipts and disbursements, realized income, gains, deductions and losses, Partners' Capital Accounts and associated Capital Sub-Accounts and all transactions entered into by the Partnership. Subject to the documentation requirements of the Act, such books and records of the Partnership (and/or copies thereof, as appropriate) must be kept at the Partnership's principal office, at the registered office of the Partnership or at the office of an agent of the Partnership.

Article VIII GENERAL PROVISIONS

8.1 Amendment of Partnership Agreement

- (a) Except as required by law, this Agreement may be amended, in whole or in part, by an instrument in writing signed by each of the Limited Partners and the General Partner.
- (b) Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the General Partner may amend this Agreement without the consent of the Limited Partners in order:
 - (i) to make consequential amendments following any amendment made pursuant to this Section 8.1;
 - (ii) to clarify any manifest or clerical inaccuracy, ambiguity or reconcile any inconsistency in this Agreement;
 - (iii) to add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner or waive any right or power of the General Partner under this Agreement for the benefit of the Limited Partners;
 - (iv) so as to qualify or maintain the qualification of the Partnership as a limited partnership in any jurisdiction;
 - (v) to change the name of the Partnership;
 - (vi) to admit any new Limited Partners or to carry out the Transfer of any Interests;
 - (vii) to make any other amendment whatsoever to this Agreement which the General Partner deems advisable, provided that it does not adversely affect any rights of the Limited Partners; or
 - (viii) to create separate classes or sub-classes or series or sub-series of Interests.

8.2 Special Power-of-Attorney

- (a) Each Partner hereby irrevocably makes, constitutes and appoints the General Partner (and each of its successors and permitted assigns) for the time being, with full power of substitution, as the true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact of, and in the name, place and stead of, such Partner with the power from time to time to make, execute, sign, acknowledge, swear to (and deliver as may be appropriate) on its behalf and file and record in the appropriate public offices and publish (as may in the reasonable judgment of the General Partner be required by law):

- (i) any amendments to this Agreement made in accordance with the terms hereof;
 - (ii) any instruments or documents which the General Partner determines in its sole discretion are required to admit any new Limited Partners or to carry out the Transfer of any Interests;
 - (iii) declarations of limited partnership in various jurisdictions and amendments thereto;
 - (iv) all deeds, agreements and other documents which the General Partner deems appropriate to conduct and carry on the business of the Partnership, including, without limitation, to qualify or continue the Partnership as an exempted limited partnership in the Cayman Islands and as required in the jurisdictions in which the Partnership may conduct business, or which may be required to be filed by the Partnership or the Partners under the laws of any jurisdiction or under any amendments or successor statute to the law, to reflect the dissolution or termination of the Partnership or the Partnership being governed by any amendments or successor statutes to the law or to reorganize or refile the Partnership in a different jurisdiction, provided that such reorganization or refiling does not result in a material change in the rights of the Partners;
 - (v) to file, prosecute, defend, settle or compromise litigation, claims or arbitration on behalf of the Partnership;
 - (vi) one or more subscription agreements (or other agreements or documents) on behalf of such Limited Partner between the Partnership, the General Partner and any Person (a "New Limited Partner") being admitted by the General Partner to the Partnership as a limited partner thereof (or such other parties as may be appropriate) in such form and on such terms and conditions as the General Partner considers in its absolute discretion necessary or appropriate, including reference to this Agreement and its novation and agreeing and covenanting with such New Limited Partner on behalf of such Limited Partner that the Limited Partner will from the effective date of such subscription agreement or agreements comply with and observe the terms of this Agreement.
- (b) The above power of attorney shall be irrevocable and deemed to be given to secure a proprietary interest of the donee of the power or performance of an obligation owed to the donee and shall survive and shall not be affected by the subsequent death, lack of capacity, insolvency, bankruptcy or dissolution of any Limited Partner.

- (c) Each Limited Partner shall, at the request of the General Partner, execute additional powers of attorney on a document separate from this Agreement. In the event of any conflict between this Agreement and any instruments executed, delivered, or filed by the General Partner (and any successor thereto) pursuant to this power of attorney, this Agreement shall prevail.
- (d) The General Partner may exercise this power of attorney by listing all of the Partners executing any agreement, certificate, instrument, or document with the single signature of the General Partner as attorney-in-fact for all Partners.
- (e) Each Limited Partner hereby appoints the General Partner by any one or more of its directors or officers in office from time to time, acting singly, to be the Limited Partner's agent and attorney-in-fact.

8.3 Notices

Notices which may be or are required to be given under this Agreement by any party to another shall be given by hand delivery, transmitted by facsimile or telecopier facsimile, transmitted electronically to an address that has been previously provided or verified through another form of notice or sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested or internationally recognized courier service, and shall be addressed to the respective parties hereto at their addresses as set forth on the register of Partners maintained by the General Partner or to such other addresses, facsimile numbers or electronic addresses as may be designated by any party hereto by notice addressed to (a) the General Partner, in the case of notice given by any Limited Partner, and (b) each of the Limited Partners, in the case of notice given by the General Partner. Notices shall be deemed to have been given (i) when delivered by hand, transmitted by facsimile or transmitted electronically or (ii) on the date indicated as the date of receipt on the return receipt when delivered by mail or courier service. Sections 8 and 19 of the Electronic Transactions Law (2003 Revision) of the Cayman Islands shall not apply to this Agreement.

8.4 Agreement Binding Upon Successors and Assigns; Delegation

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors, but the rights and obligations of the Partners hereunder shall not be assignable, transferable or delegable except as provided in Section 4.1(d), 5.3 and 5.4 and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof which is not made pursuant to the terms of such Sections shall be null and void ab initio.

8.5 Governing Law

This Agreement is, and the rights of the Partners hereunder are, governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the Cayman Islands, without regard to the conflict of laws rule thereof which would result in the application of the laws of a different jurisdiction. The parties hereby consent to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue for any action arising out of this Agreement in Dallas, Texas. Each Partner consents to service of process in any action or proceeding involving the Partnership by the mailing thereof by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to such Partner's mailing address set forth in the register of limited partnership interests maintained by the General Partner in accordance with the Act.

8.6 Interpretation of Partnership Accounting Systems and Terminology

In the event that the Partnership employs an accounting system which is different from the accounting system of the General Partner or whose terminology does not conform precisely to the terminology in this Agreement, the General Partner shall have the authority to interpret such accounting system and/or terminology in a manner which it, in its sole discretion, determines to be consistent with the objectives of this Agreement.

8.7 Miscellaneous

- (a) The captions and titles preceding the text of each Section hereof shall be disregarded in the construction of this Agreement. Use of the word "including" in this Agreement means in each case "without limitation," whether or not such term is explicitly stated.
- (b) This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original hereof.
- (c) If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, the other provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect. Any provision of this Agreement held invalid or unenforceable only in part or degree will remain in full force and effect to the extent not held invalid or unenforceable.

8.8 Survival

The obligations and covenants of the Limited Partners set forth in Sections 3.5 and 3.11 hereof shall apply jointly and severally to each such Limited Partner and any direct or indirect transferee of or successor to such Limited Partner's interest and will survive such Partner's ceasing to be a partner in the Partnership and/or the termination, dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Partnership.

8.9 Entire Agreement

The parties acknowledge and agree that this Agreement, together with any other agreement with a Limited Partner, constitutes the entire agreement among the parties hereto pertaining to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings pertaining thereto.

and

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT LATIN AMERICA, L.P.

November 1, 2017

This AMENDED AND RESTATED INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”), dated as of November 1, 2017, is by and among:

HIGHLAND ARGENTINA REGIONAL OPPORTUNITY FUND, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Domestic Fund”), acting through its general partner, Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”);

HIGHLAND ARGENTINA REGIONAL OPPORTUNITY FUND, LTD., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Offshore Fund” and together with the Domestic Fund, the “Feeder Funds”);

HIGHLAND ARGENTINA REGIONAL OPPORTUNITY MASTER FUND, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Master Fund,” and together with the Feeder Funds, the “Clients”) acting by its general partner, the General Partner;

HIGHLAND ARGENTINA REGIONAL OPPORTUNITY FUND GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, as the general partner of the Domestic Fund and the Master Fund; and

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT LATIN AMERICA, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership, as the investment manager of each of the Clients (the “Investment Manager”);

Preliminary Statements

A. The Investment Manager and the Offshore Fund entered into an Investment Management Agreement dated as of June 28, 2017 (the “Original Agreement”).

B. The Offshore Fund has re-organized into a master-feeder structure together with the Master Fund and the Domestic Fund. As a result, the Investment Manager and the Offshore Fund desire to amend and restate the Original Agreement in its entirety to give effect to this restructuring and to admit the Master Fund, the General Partner and the Domestic Fund as parties to this Agreement.

C. Each of the Feeder Funds is required to invest all of its investable assets in the Master Fund. The Investment Manager exercises no discretion with respect to the investment of the assets of the Feeder Funds and will serve merely as a steward thereof. All investment activities of the Investment Manager are conducted at the Master Fund level in the Investment Manager’s role as investment manager to the Master Fund.

D. The Clients desire to retain the Investment Manager to provide certain discretionary advisory services relating to the assets and liabilities of the Master Fund and certain custodial services in respect of the Feeder Funds, and the Investment Manager desires to accept such appointment, all subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

Agreement

For good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

1. Appointment.

The Investment Manager will serve as investment manager with respect to the assets and liabilities of the Master Fund, and will provide certain administrative services in respect of the Domestic Fund and the Offshore Fund, and the Investment Manager hereby agrees to perform its obligations in accordance with the terms hereof and of the Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement of the Master Fund, as amended from time to time (the “Master Fund Partnership Agreement”), and the investment objectives, policies, guidelines and restrictions that from time to time are set forth in the Governing Documents of the Clients, as applicable. “Governing Documents” means, with respect to:

- (a) the Domestic Fund: the confidential private placement memorandum of the Domestic Fund, as supplemented or superseded from time to time (the “PPM”), and the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Domestic Fund, as amended from time to time (the “Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement” and, together with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, the “Partnership Agreements”);
- (b) the Offshore Fund: the offering memorandum of the Offshore Fund, as supplemented or superseded from time to time (the “POM”), and the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Offshore Fund, as amended and restated from time to time (the “Articles” and, together with the POM, the “Offshore Governing Documents”); and
- (c) the Master Fund: the Master Fund Partnership Agreement.

Any capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meanings assigned to such terms in the Governing Documents, as applicable.

2. Authority and Duties of the Investment Manager.

- (a) All of the investable assets of the Feeder Funds shall be invested in, and the investment program of the Feeder Funds is to be conducted by the Investment Manager through, the Master Fund. The Investment Manager shall exercise no discretion with respect to the investments or the assets of the Feeder Funds and the investment activities of the Investment Manager shall be conducted at the Master Fund level in the Investment Manager’s role as investment manager to the Master Fund.
- (b) The Master Fund’s investment program will be conducted by the Investment Manager in accordance with the PPM and the POM.

- (c) The Investment Manager serves as the investment manager to the Master Fund and, in that capacity, has full discretion and authority, without obtaining the prior approval of any officer or other agent of the Master Fund, but subject to the investment restrictions set forth in the Governing Documents: (i) to effect any and all transactions and investments on behalf of the Master Fund; (ii) to determine all matters relating to the manner, method and timing of transactions and to engage consultants and analysts in connection therewith; (iii) to select brokers, dealers, futures commission merchants, banks and other intermediaries by or through whom such transactions will be executed or carried out; (iv) to trade on margin; (v) to borrow funds from banks, futures commission merchants, brokers and other lenders and pledge the securities or other portfolio assets as collateral therefor, and otherwise to utilize any lines of credit, credit balances or overdraft privileges available to the Master Fund; (vi) to direct banks, brokers or other custodians to effect deliveries of funds or assets, but only in the course of effecting portfolio transactions for the account of the Master Fund; (vii) to exercise all voting and other powers and privileges attributable to any investments held for the Master Fund's account hereunder; (viii) to authorize remuneration for the directors of the Offshore Fund (the "Directors") who are not principals or employees of the Investment Manager; and (ix) to make and execute all such documents and to take all such other actions as the Investment Manager considers necessary or appropriate to carry out its investment management duties hereunder (including, but not limited to, the engagement of third party service providers on behalf of the Clients).
- (d) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the authority granted hereby to the Investment Manager shall include, without limitation, the power and authority to:
- (i) with respect to the Offshore Fund and in consultation with the Directors, approve the rescission of a request for voluntary redemption submitted by a shareholder of the Offshore Fund (each, a "Shareholder"); waive any applicable requirements and restrictions in relation to the redemption of shares of the Offshore Fund ("Shares") by any Shareholder; waive certain eligibility requirements with respect to any new subscription for participating Shares or the transfer of Shares; waive any of the subscription requirements as set out in the POM with respect to any new subscription for Shares; permit a Shareholder to redeem its Shares at any time in the event that continuing to hold the Shares becomes impractical or illegal, upon a Shareholder's death or total disability, or in order for a Shareholder to avoid materially adverse tax or regulatory consequences; make in-kind distributions of Offshore Fund assets; approve the establishment of reserves for contingencies and distribution holdbacks; approve Side Letters (as defined in the POM); accept subscriptions below the minimum subscription amount; accept redemptions of Shares outside the frequency established by the Articles; and cause the Offshore Fund to invest all of its investable assets in the Master Fund;

- (ii) with respect to the Domestic Fund, consent to or advise the Domestic Fund with respect to any actions of the Domestic Fund for which its consent or advice is required, as outlined in the PPM; make and execute all such documents and take all such other actions as the Investment Manager considers necessary or appropriate to carry out its duties hereunder; and cause the Domestic Fund to invest all of its investable assets in the Master Fund, in each case to the extent permitted under the Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement; and
 - (iii) deposit and withdraw the funds of each Client in the name of such Client in any bank or trust company and to entrust such bank or trust company with any of the securities, monies, documents and papers belonging to or relating to such Client; or to deposit in and entrust to any brokerage firm that is a member of any U.S. national securities exchange any of said funds, securities, monies, documents and papers belonging to or relating to such Client.
- (e) Each Client hereby designates the Investment Manager as the commodity pool operator (the “CPO”) for such Client with complete authority and responsibility for compliance with the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder, including the authority to perform any and all duties required of a CPO (i) that is exempt from registration under the regulations of the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”) and (ii) that is in compliance with CFTC Rule 4.13(a)(3), including the filing of a notice of exemption under Rule 4.13(a)(3) with the CFTC.
- (f) Additionally, each of the Clients hereby designates and appoints the Investment Manager as its agent and attorney-in-fact, with full power and authority and without the need for further approval of the Clients (except as may be required by law), to complete and execute all such documents and to take any and all actions that the Investment Manager, in its discretion, may deem advisable to carry out the foregoing with respect to the assets of the Clients; provided, however, that the Investment Manager is not intended to have actual or constructive custody of any securities or other assets of the Clients. In connection with any of the foregoing, the Investment Manager is further authorized to transfer or tender for cash or exchange such securities or other assets. In all such purchases, sales or trades, the Clients authorize the Investment Manager to act for the Clients, at their risk, in their name and on their behalf, in the same manner and with the same force and effect as the Clients might or could do with respect to such purchases, sales or trades without prior consultation with the Clients. The Clients also appoint the Investment Manager as their agent and attorney-in-fact to vote, and to execute proxies, waivers, consents and other instruments with respect to, the securities and other assets of the Clients.
- (g) At the request of a Client, in any wind down of such Client, the Investment Manager will manage the realization of the Client’s assets and the distribution thereof to investors.

- (h) In connection with the execution of transactions on behalf of the Master Fund, the Master Fund hereby acknowledges and agrees that in the course of selecting brokers, dealers, futures commission merchants, banks and financial intermediaries to effect transactions for the Master Fund's account, the Investment Manager may agree to such commissions, fees and other charges on behalf of the Master Fund's account as it may deem reasonable in the circumstances, taking into consideration all such factors as the Investment Manager deems relevant, including, without limitation, the following: price quotes, the size of the transaction, the nature of the market for the financial instrument, the timing of the transaction, difficulty of execution, the broker-dealer's expertise in the specific financial instrument or sector in which the Master Fund seeks to trade, the extent to which the broker-dealer makes a market in the financial instrument involved or has access to such markets, the broker-dealer's skill in positioning the financial instruments involved, the broker-dealer's promptness of execution, the broker-dealer's financial stability, reputation for diligence, fairness and integrity, quality of service rendered by the broker-dealer in other transactions for the Investment Manager and its respective affiliates, confidentiality considerations, the quality and usefulness of research services and investment ideas presented by the broker-dealer, the broker-dealer's willingness to correct errors, the broker-dealer's ability to accommodate any special execution or order handling requirements that may surround the particular transaction, and other factors deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. It is understood that the Investment Manager need not solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost or spread.

3. Fees, Expenses and Indemnification.

- (a) The Investment Manager shall be paid the Management Fee by the Master Fund in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement.
- (b) The Investment Manager agrees to be bound by all of the terms and provisions of the Partnership Agreements applicable to it, as a delegatee of the General Partner, as though expressly made a party thereto, and shall be governed by the same standard of care applicable to the General Partner in connection therewith. The General Partner, on behalf of each of the Domestic Fund and the Master Fund, agrees that the Investment Manager shall be entitled to all of the benefits of the Partnership Agreements applicable to it as a delegatee of the General Partner, including, without limitation, the right to reimbursement of expenses provided under Section 4.2 of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and Section 4.2 of the Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement, and the right to limitation of liability and indemnification provided under Section 4.5 of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and Section 4.5 of the Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement, and such sections are hereby incorporated by reference as if set forth in full herein.
- (c) With respect to the reimbursement of expenses directly attributable to the Offshore Fund separate and apart from the Master Fund, the Offshore Fund agrees that it will pay the Investment Manager's expenses as follows:

- (i) In accordance with and subject to the Offshore Governing Documents, the Offshore Fund will pay, or will reimburse the Investment Manager for, all costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Offshore Fund's operations and its pro rata share of the cost of the Master Fund's operations and investments. Expenses payable by the Offshore Fund include the following:
 - (A) the Offshore Fund's pro rata share of the cost of the Master Fund's investment program, including, without limitation, brokerage commissions, other expenses related to buying and selling securities (including trading errors that are not the result of the Investment Manager's gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud), costs of due diligence regardless of whether a particular transaction is consummated, the costs of attending shareholder meetings, research expenses and costs related to monitoring investments;
 - (B) initial organizational expenses of the Offshore Fund;
 - (C) fees and expenses of advisers and consultants;
 - (D) fees and expenses of any custodians, escrow or transfer agents or other investment-related service providers;
 - (E) indemnification expenses incurred in connection with the Offshore Governing Documents and the cost of insurance against potential indemnification liabilities;
 - (F) interest and other borrowing expenses;
 - (G) legal, administrative, accounting, tax, audit and insurance expenses;
 - (H) expenses of preparing and distributing reports, financial statements and notices to Shareholders;
 - (I) litigation or other extraordinary expenses;
 - (J) any withholding, transfer or other taxes imposed or assessed on, or payable by, the Offshore Fund (including any interest and penalties); and
 - (K) the cost of periodically updating the POM.
- (ii) Except as set forth herein or in the POM, in accordance with and subject to the Offshore Governing Documents, the Investment Manager will pay all of its own operating and overhead costs (including salaries, office rent and other general overhead expenses), without reimbursement by the Offshore Fund.

- (iii) The Investment Manager shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Offshore Fund for any expenses paid by it on behalf of the Offshore Fund; provided that, the Investment Manager in its sole discretion may absorb any or all of such expenses incurred on behalf of the Offshore Fund. The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities hereunder as a delegatee of the General Partner, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Master Fund, including, but not limited to, any affiliate of the Investment Manager, but payment for any such services shall be assumed by the Investment Manager and neither the Master Fund nor the Offshore Fund shall have any liability therefor; provided, however, that the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals on behalf of the Master Fund, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Master Fund, and the Master Fund shall bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.
- (d) With respect to the right to indemnification directly attributable to the Offshore Fund separate and apart from the Master Fund:
 - (i) The Offshore Fund agrees that the Investment Manager, its members, shareholders, partners, managers, directors, any person who controls the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, and each of their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors and other legal representatives (each an “Indemnified Person”) shall not be liable to the Offshore Fund or to any of the Shareholders for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Person or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as an Indemnified Person in the absence of gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud, or as otherwise required by law. In no event shall any Indemnified Person be liable for any consequential damages, special or indirect damages or lost profits. An Indemnified Person may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Offshore Fund’s affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above.
 - (ii) The Offshore Fund shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Person from and against any and all liabilities suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Person by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Person or in connection with this Agreement or the Offshore Fund's business or affairs, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability did not result from the gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud of such Indemnified Person. The Offshore Fund will, in the sole discretion of the Directors, advance to any Indemnified Person reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct. In the event that such an advance is made by the Offshore Fund, the Indemnified Person will agree to reimburse the Offshore Fund to the extent that it is finally determined that the Indemnified Person was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.

- (iii) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of this Section 3(d) do not provide for the exculpation or indemnification of any Indemnified Person for any liability (including liability under U.S. federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- (iv) Pursuant to the indemnification and exculpation provisions above and as set forth in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund (and not the applicable Indemnified Person) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud of any Indemnified Person.
- (v) The above-mentioned Indemnified Persons are also indemnified by each Shareholder for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that Shareholder, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith.
- (vi) Each Indemnified Person shall be deemed a third-party beneficiary (to the extent not a direct party hereto) of this Agreement and, in particular, the provisions of this Section 3(d). The Investment Manager may enter into agreements on behalf of the Offshore Fund with an Indemnified Person to provide an indemnity to the same extent provided in this Section 3(d).

4. Termination.

This Agreement shall become effective on the date hereof and shall continue in effect until the earlier of the dissolution of a Client or termination by either the Investment Manager, the Offshore Fund or the General Partner, on behalf of the Domestic Fund or the Master Fund, upon at least 90 days' prior notice.

5. Other Activities and Investments.

- (a) Each party hereto acknowledges and agrees that the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees, may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures or commercial dealings of every kind and description, independently or with others, including, but not limited to, management of other accounts, investment in, or financing, acquisition and disposition of, securities, investment and management counseling, brokerage services, serving as directors, officers, advisers or agents of other companies, partners of any partnership, or trustees of any trust, or entering into any other commercial arrangements, and will not be disqualified solely on the basis that any such activities may conflict with any interest of the parties to this Agreement. Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each party hereto hereby acknowledges that (i) none of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees shall have any obligation or responsibility to disclose or refer any of the investment or other opportunities obtained through activities contemplated by this Section 5(a) to any Client or its investors, but may refer the same to any other party or keep such opportunities for their own benefit; and (ii) the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees are hereby authorized to engage in activities contemplated by this Section 5(a) with, or to purchase, sell or otherwise deal or invest in investments issued by, companies in which the Master Fund might from time to time invest or be able to invest or otherwise have any interest, without the consent or approval of the Clients or their investors. The parties hereto expressly agree that neither the Clients nor their investors shall have any rights in or to such other activities, or any profits derived therefrom.
- (b) The Investment Manager and its affiliates shall allocate investment opportunities to the Master Fund and any Other Account (as defined below) fairly and equitably over time. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investment Manager is under no obligation to accord exclusivity or priority to the Master Fund in the event of limited investment opportunities. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) fiduciary duties owed to the accounts; (ii) the primary mandate of the accounts; (iii) the capital available to the accounts; (iv) any restrictions on the accounts and the investment opportunity; (v) the sourcing of the investment, size of the investment and amount of follow-on available related to the investment; (vi) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (vii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (viii) liquidity requirements of the account; (ix) potentially adverse tax consequences; (x) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (xi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio. The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. For purposes of this Agreement, "Other Account" means any assets or investment of the Investment Manager, or any assets managed by the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates for the account of any person or entity (including investment vehicles) other than the Clients, which are invested or which are available for investment in securities or other instruments or for trading activities whether or not of the specific type being conducted by the Clients.

- (c) The Principal (as defined in the Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement), as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Master Fund (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of limited partner interests in the Master Fund), unless such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.
- (d) The Investment Manager and its affiliates reserve the right to establish collective investment vehicles that have stated investment programs or terms that differ from those of the Clients or that are targeted primarily to investors for which none of the Clients are designed to be a suitable investment vehicle. The Investment Manager and its affiliates also reserve the right to establish and provide management or advisory services to Other Accounts for significant investors, whether or not such accounts have the same investment program as the Clients.

6. Complete Agreement; Amendment.

- (a) This Agreement, together with the Governing Documents, contains the entire agreement between the parties hereto relating to the subject matter hereof. No provision of this Agreement may be amended without the written consent of the Investment Manager and the Clients.
- (b) This Agreement shall automatically and immediately terminate in the event of its assignment by the Investment Manager other than in accordance with Section 7.

- (c) The expiration or termination of this Agreement shall not extinguish the obligations of the Clients for the payment of fees and expenses in respect of services rendered by the Investment Manager prior to the effective date of such expiration or termination.

7. Binding Effect; Assignment.

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors, but the rights and obligations hereunder shall not, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, be assignable, transferable or delegable without the written consent of the other parties hereto, and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof without such consent shall be void.

8. Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts all of which taken together shall be deemed to constitute one and the same instrument.

9. Notice by Investment Manager.

To the extent required by law, the Investment Manager agrees to notify the Clients in writing within 30 days after any change in the membership of the Investment Manager.

10. Severability.

If any provision herein is deemed invalid or unenforceable, such provision shall be deemed modified and limited to the extent necessary to make it valid and enforceable.

11. Independent Contractor.

For all purposes of this Agreement, the Investment Manager shall be an independent contractor and not an employee or dependent agent of the Clients, nor shall anything herein be construed as making the Clients partners or co-venturers with the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates or customers. Except as provided in this Agreement, the Investment Manager shall have no authority to bind, obligate or represent the Clients.

12. Governing Law.

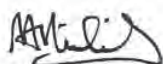

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the substantive laws of the Cayman Islands, which are applicable to contracts made and entirely to be performed therein, without regard to the place of performance hereunder.

Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P.

March 2019

Prospective investors should review this Offering Memorandum carefully and consult with their legal and financial advisers to determine possible tax or other consequences of purchasing, holding or redeeming Shares (as defined herein).

The distribution of this Offering Memorandum and the offering or purchase of the Shares may be restricted in certain jurisdictions. No persons receiving a copy of this Offering Memorandum or the accompanying subscription documents in any such jurisdiction may treat this Offering Memorandum or such subscription documents as constituting an invitation to them to subscribe for Shares, nor should they in any event use such subscription documents, unless in the relevant jurisdiction such an invitation could lawfully be made to them and such subscription documents could lawfully be used without compliance with any registration or other legal requirements.

Application has previously been made on 16 June 2006 to The International Stock Exchange (the "Exchange"), which has approved the listing of up to 4,999,900 Series A Shares of US$0.01 each to be issued by Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd. (the "Fund") to be admitted to the Official List. The Series B Shares are not listed on any stock-exchange. This document will comprise listing particulars for the purpose of the listing of the Shares on that Exchange. It is not presently proposed to seek an admission to listing on any other stock exchange. The Directors do not anticipate that an active secondary market will develop in any of the Shares of the Fund. Ogier Corporate Finance Limited is acting for the Fund and for no one else in connection with the listing of the Shares and will not be responsible to anyone other than the Fund.

This Offering Memorandum includes particulars given in compliance with the Listing Rules of the Exchange for the purpose of giving information with regard to the Fund. The Directors, whose names appear on page 39, accept full responsibility for the information contained in this Offering Memorandum and confirm, having made all reasonable enquiries, that to the best of their knowledge and belief there are no other facts the omission of which would make any statement herein misleading.

Neither the admission of the Shares to the Official List nor the approval of the Offering Memorandum pursuant to the listing requirements of the Exchange shall constitute a warranty or representation by the Exchange as to the competence of the service providers to or any other party connected with the listed fund, the adequacy and accuracy of the information contained in the Offering Memorandum or the suitability of the issuer for investment or for any other purpose.

NOTICE

THIS OFFERING MEMORANDUM

This Offering Memorandum (“Memorandum”) relates to the offering of Series A and Series B Shares of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd. (the “Fund”), a company incorporated under the Companies Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands as an exempted company limited by shares and of unlimited duration.

This Memorandum is confidential and intended solely for the use of the person to whom it has been delivered by the Fund for the purpose of enabling the recipient to evaluate an investment in the Fund, and it is not to be reproduced or distributed to any other persons. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, each investor (and each employee, representative, or other agent of the investor) may disclose to its tax and other professional advisors, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the investor relating to such tax treatment and tax structure.

The Directors of the Fund whose names appear in the Directory accept responsibility for the information contained in this document. To the best of the knowledge and belief of the Directors (who have taken all reasonable care to ensure that such is the case) the information contained in this document is in accordance with the facts and does not omit anything likely to affect the import of such information.

INVESTOR RESPONSIBILITY

No representations or warranties of any kind are intended or should be inferred with respect to the economic return from, or the tax consequences of, an investment in the Fund. No assurance can be given that existing laws will not be changed or interpreted adversely. Prospective investors are not to construe this Memorandum as legal, investment or tax advice. No person is authorized to make any representations concerning the Fund which are inconsistent with those contained in this Memorandum. This Memorandum supersedes all prior versions thereof and should be reviewed prior to making an investment decision.

Prospective investors should review this Memorandum carefully and in its entirety and consult with their legal, tax and financial advisors in relation to (i) the legal and regulatory requirements within their own countries for the purchase, holding, redemption or disposal of shares of the Fund (“Shares”); (ii) any foreign exchange restrictions to which they are subject in their own countries in relation to the purchase, holding, redemption or disposal of Shares; and (iii) the legal, tax, financial or other consequences of subscribing for, purchasing, holding, redeeming or disposing of Shares.

DISTRIBUTION AND SELLING RESTRICTIONS

Neither this Memorandum nor the Shares described herein have been qualified for offer, sale or distribution under the laws of any jurisdiction governing the offer or sale of mutual fund shares or other securities. The distribution of this Memorandum and the offering or purchase of the Shares may be restricted in certain jurisdictions. No persons receiving a copy of this Memorandum or the accompanying Subscription Documents (as defined herein) in any such jurisdiction may treat this Memorandum or such Subscription Documents as constituting an invitation to them to subscribe for Shares, nor should they in any event use such Subscription Documents, unless in the relevant jurisdiction such an invitation could lawfully be made to them and such Subscription Documents could lawfully be used without compliance with any registration or other legal requirements. Accordingly, this Memorandum does not constitute an offer or solicitation by anyone in any jurisdiction in which such offer or solicitation is not lawful or in which the person making such offer or solicitation is not qualified to do so or to anyone to whom it is unlawful to make such offer or solicitation. It is the responsibility of any persons in possession of this Memorandum and any persons wishing to apply for Shares pursuant to this Memorandum to inform themselves of and to observe all applicable laws and regulations of any relevant jurisdiction.

The Fund may not make an invitation to the public in the Cayman Islands to subscribe for the Shares unless the Fund is listed on the Cayman Islands Stock Exchange. For these purposes, “public” has the same meaning as “public in the Islands” as defined in the Mutual Funds Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands. Apart from this restriction, persons resident, domiciled, established, incorporated or registered pursuant to the laws of the Cayman Islands may beneficially own Shares.

The Fund does not constitute a recognized collective investment scheme for the purposes of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 of the United Kingdom (the “Act”). In addition, the Investment Manager is not authorized or supervised by the United Kingdom Financial Conduct Authority (“FCA”) as an “alternative investment fund manager” or “AIFM”, as defined in the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Alternative Investment Fund Managers) Regulations 2013 (SI 2013/1773) (“UK AIFMD Regulations”). The promotion and offering or placement of the Fund and the distribution of this Memorandum in the United Kingdom are accordingly restricted by law. The distribution of this Memorandum in the United Kingdom:

- (a) if made by a person who is not an authorized person under the Act, must be made to, and/or directed at, only persons (A) who are professional investors, as defined in the UK AIFMD Regulations; or (B) to whom it may lawfully be made or directed at under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotion) Order 2005 (as amended), including persons who are authorized under the Act (“authorized persons”), certain persons having professional experience in matters relating to investments, high net worth companies, high net worth unincorporated associations or partnerships, trustees of high value trusts and persons who qualify as certified sophisticated investors; and
- (b) if made by a person who is an authorized person under the Act must be made to, and/or directed at, only persons (A) who are professional investors, as defined in the UK AIFMD Regulations; or (B) to whom it may lawfully be made or directed at under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Promotion of Collective Investment Schemes) (Exemptions) Order 2001 (as amended) or chapter 4, section 4.12 of the FCA's Conduct of Business Sourcebook, including authorized persons, certain persons having professional experience of participating in unregulated schemes, high net worth companies, high net worth unincorporated associations or partnerships, trustees of high value trusts, persons who qualify as certified sophisticated investors and clients of the person making the distribution for whom that person has taken reasonable steps to ensure that the investment in the Fund is suitable.

All such persons in (a) and (b) above together are referred to as "Relevant Persons." Any investment or investment activity to which this communication relates must only be made available to Relevant Persons in the United Kingdom and this Memorandum must not be distributed to or relied on or acted upon by any other persons in the United Kingdom.

The Shares of the Fund have not been admitted for marketing in Germany. The Shares have only been admitted for marketing to professional investors in the territory of Germany. Accordingly, the Shares may not be offered and marketed to semi-professional and retail investors within the meaning of section 1(19) no. 31 and 33 German Capital Investment Act (Kapitalanlagegesetzbuch) in the territory of Germany. The Memorandum may not be passed on to semi-professional and retail investors in Germany.

The Shares described in this Memorandum have not been, and will not be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or any similar law, rule or regulation in any other jurisdiction (including without limitation any law, rule or regulation of England and Wales, the Cayman Islands or any of the states of the United States of America). Shares of the Fund may not be directly or indirectly offered or sold to or for the benefit of any United States Person (as defined herein) except pursuant to placements exempt from registration under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended. In addition, the Fund has not been and will not be registered under the United States Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, or any similar law, rule or regulation in any other jurisdiction (including without limitation any law, rule or regulation of England and Wales, the Cayman Islands or any of the states of the United States of America).

The Shares offered hereby may not be publicly offered, sold or advertised in Switzerland pursuant to Article 2 of the Swiss Investment Fund Act 1995 and this Memorandum may only be circulated to a limited number of persons in Switzerland. Therefore, no steps have been taken to register the Fund and/or this Memorandum as a prospectus in Switzerland.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION CONCERNING THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE FUND IN SWITZERLAND

The Shares of the Fund can be distributed in Switzerland exclusively to qualified investors as defined by Article 10 § 3 of the Collective Investment Scheme Act (CISA) and Article 6 of the Collective Investment Scheme Ordinance (CISO) (Qualified Investors). The Fund has not been and will not be registered with the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority (FINMA). This offering memorandum and/or any other offering materials relating to the Shares may be made available in Switzerland solely to Qualified Investors.

The Representative of the Fund in Switzerland is Hugo Fund Services SA, with its registered office at 6 Cours de Rive, CH-1204 Geneva. The offering documents and annual or semi-annual reports can be obtained free of charge from the Representative. The place of performance for Shares of the Fund offered or distributed in or from Switzerland are the registered office of the Representative. The courts of the canton of Geneva shall have jurisdiction in relation to any disputes arising out of the duties of the Representative. Any dispute related to the distribution of Shares of the Fund in and from Switzerland shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the registered office of the distributor. The Paying Agent in Switzerland is Banque Heritage SA, 61 Route de Chêne, CH-1208 Geneva, Switzerland. Shares may be subscribed and/or redeemed with the Paying Agent. A handling commission will be charged by the Paying Agent and deducted from the subscription or redemption amount paid or received. If a subscription or redemption is made through the Paying Agent, instructions and money must be received by the paying agent at least 24 hours before the appropriate dealing cut-off time.

The fees and expenses associated with the representation, paying agency and other distribution items may be charged to the Fund. As applicable, the actual amount of such fees and expenses will be disclosed in the audited annual report.

In distributing shares of the Fund in Switzerland, the Fund is authorised to pass on distribution fees to the distributors and sales partners listed below:

- Distributors subject to authorization as defined in Article 19 al. 1 of the CISA (Swiss or foreign distributors regulated in their home jurisdiction)
- Distributors that are not required to obtain an authorization as defined under Article 19 al 1 of the CISA and article 8 of CISO (financial intermediaries regulated by FINMA, banks, insurance companies, fund managers, representatives)
- Sales partners who place shares in the Fund with their customers exclusively through a written commission-based investment management or advisory mandate (e.g. independent asset managers or advisors).

When a retrocession payment may give rise to a conflict of interest, the recipient of the retrocession must ensure transparent disclosure and inform investors, unsolicited and free of charge, of the amount of retrocession it may receive for distribution. Upon request, the recipient must disclose the actual amount of retrocession received for distributing the Fund to the investor requiring information.

RELIANCE ON THIS MEMORANDUM

The Shares are offered only on the basis of the information contained in this Memorandum and the latest audited annual accounts of the Fund. Any further information or representations given or made by any dealer, broker or other person should be disregarded and, accordingly, should not be relied upon. No person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representations in connection with the offering of Shares in the Fund other than those contained in this Memorandum and in any subsequent annual report for the Fund and, if given or made, such information or representations must not be relied on as having been authorized by the Fund, the Directors, the Investment Manager or the Administrator (each as defined herein). Statements in this Memorandum are based on the law and practice currently in force in the Cayman Islands at the date hereof and are subject to change. Neither the delivery of this Memorandum nor the issue of Shares shall under any circumstance create any implication or constitute any representation that the affairs of the Fund have not changed since the date of this Memorandum.

RISKS

Investment in the Fund carries with it a degree of risk. The value of Shares and the income from them may go down as well as up, and investors may not get back the amount invested. Because of the risks involved, investment in the Fund is only suitable for sophisticated investors who are able to bear the loss of a substantial portion or even all of the money they invest in the Fund, who understand the high degree of risk involved, believe that investment in the Fund is suitable for them based on their investment objectives and financial needs and have no need of liquidity of investment. Investors are therefore advised to seek independent professional advice on the implications of investing in the Fund. Certain risk factors for an investor to consider are set out in the Section headed "Certain Risk Factors."

There is no public market for the Shares and no active secondary trading market is expected to develop in the future.

REGULATION

The Fund is a regulated mutual fund for the purposes of the Mutual Funds Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands. The Fund is registered with the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority pursuant to section 4(3) of that Law and this Memorandum has been filed with the Monetary Authority. Such registration does not imply that the Monetary Authority or any other regulatory authority in the Cayman Islands has approved this Memorandum or the offering of the Shares. For a summary of the continuing regulatory obligations of the Fund and a description of the regulatory powers of the Monetary Authority, see the Section headed "The Fund– Regulations."

CONFIDENTIALITY

Any information forwarded to the Fund by any potential investors will be treated on a confidential basis except as outlined in the Data Protection policy in the accompanying Subscription Documents and that such information may be passed on to a relevant third party by the Fund where so required by law or regulation and each investor upon subscribing for Shares shall be deemed to have consented to such release of such confidential information pursuant to the terms of Clause 3(2)(b)(i) (or any amendment thereto) of the Confidential Relationships (Preservation) Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The following summary should be read in conjunction with the full text of this Memorandum, the Articles, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and other Material Contracts disclosed in this Memorandum and is qualified in its entirety by reference to such documents:

The Fund

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd. is incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands as an exempted company with limited liability. It was incorporated on February 8, 2006, as MBA Latin America Opportunity Fund, Ltd. The Fund's name was changed to Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd. on July 28, 2017.

It has an authorized share capital of US$50,000 made up of 100 Management Shares and 4,999,900 Shares. The Directors have designated two Series of Shares, Series A Shares and Series B Shares. The Directors may also designate further Series of Shares in the future that will be attributable to the single underlying portfolio of the Fund. Each additional Series of Shares may be offered on different terms and in such different currencies as the Directors may determine.

See the Section headed "Description of the Fund's Shares" below for full details.

Investment Objective and Strategies

The investment objective of the Fund is to maximize the total return of its assets in US Dollars through capital appreciation by investing all of its investable assets in the Master Fund, which intends to hold primarily a portfolio of investments in securities of Latin American corporate and sovereign issuers as well as non-Latin American issuers that derive a portion of their revenues from business activities in Latin America, in each case with a primary focus on Argentina, and that the Investment Manager believes would provide profitable investment opportunities for the Master Fund. The Master Fund will invest in a single portfolio of assets and does not currently intend to have a separate portfolio of assets for each of its series of limited partner interests, each of which will correspond to a Series of Shares.

The Master Fund is a multi-strategy investment fund and there is no limit on the investment strategies that may be utilized. The Investment Manager will be focused on identifying assets that are mispriced against similar assets and/or against the Investment Manager's expectations for assets' fair values and market movements, special situations, such as mergers, financial restructurings, hostile takeovers, or leveraged buy-outs. There is no set allocation among these and any other strategies that the Investment Manager may use.

Master-Feeder Structure

In order to facilitate investments by U.S. taxable and certain U.S. tax-exempt investors, the Investment Manager and its affiliates recently sponsored Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership. The Feeder Funds will place all of their investable assets in, and conduct all of their investment and trading activities in parallel through, the Master Fund. Accordingly, references herein to the investment activity of the Fund should be construed to refer to the Fund's investment activities through the Master Fund. The Feeder Funds share all items of profit, loss, income and expense of the Master Fund on a pro rata basis in accordance with their respective capital account balances in the Master Fund. Except as the context otherwise requires, the term "Fund" also includes the Master Fund.

The Investment Manager or an affiliate may also sponsor one or more additional investment funds or accounts.

Management

The Directors of the Fund are Claire Kasumba, Martin Laufer and Sophia Dilbert.

Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership, is the investment manager of the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund with responsibility for overseeing the investment of the Fund's assets (through the Master Fund) and the distribution of the Shares in accordance with the investment objective and policies of the Master Fund. With the approval of the Master Fund General Partner, the Investment Manager may delegate certain of its duties to other companies and entities, which may be affiliated with, or independent of, the Investment Manager.

MUFG Fund Services (Cayman) Limited, a company formed under the laws of the Cayman Islands, has been appointed as the administrator of the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund pursuant to the Administration Agreement. The Administrator is responsible for conducting the day-to-day administration, including processing subscriptions, transfers and redemptions of Shares, net asset value calculation and coordinating the payment of the Fund's and Master Fund's expenses.

See the Section headed “Management and Administration” below for full details.

Offering

The Series A Shares and Series B Shares offered pursuant to this Memorandum are available for issue to Eligible Investors at a Subscription Price based on the Net Asset Value per Share of such Series on the Valuation Day that occurs after the Subscription Documents are received and approved by the Fund and immediately preceding the relevant Subscription Day, as calculated in accordance with the Articles and described herein.

The Fund reserves the right to reject an application for Shares.

See the Section headed “Subscription, Redemption and Transfer of Shares” below for full details.

Minimum Investment

The minimum initial investment for the Series A Shares and Series B Shares is US$500,000. The minimum subsequent investment for the Series A Shares and Series B Shares is US$500,000. In each case, the Investment Manager may in its sole discretion determine other minimum investment amounts in respect of a particular Shareholder or group of Shareholders, subject to the Listing Rules of the Exchange but not below US$100,000 in respect of the Series B Shares.

Eligible Investors

Only Eligible Investors may subscribe for Shares. See the Subscription Documents.

Redemptions

Shares generally may be redeemed as of the last Business Day of any calendar month, on 30 calendar days’ prior written notice, at Net Asset Value per Share prevailing at the close of business of such Redemption Day.

Partial redemptions will only be accepted in minimum amounts of US$100,000.

The Fund may also compulsorily redeem Shares in certain circumstances.

Redemption proceeds will be paid in cash (in US$) by electronic transfer at the Shareholder’s risk and expense or, in certain circumstances, in securities, or partly in cash and partly in securities. Except as set forth above, no redemption charges will apply to the Shares.

Any Shareholder who redeems Series B Shares prior to the first anniversary of its purchase of such Series B Shares may be assessed an early redemption fee of up to 3% of the Net Asset Value per Series B Share prevailing at the close of business of such Redemption Day, payable to the Fund. For purposes hereof, an anniversary shall occur on the 365th consecutive day (counting the closing date as the first day) or, if such 365th day is not a Business Day, the immediately preceding Business Day.

See the Section headed “Subscription, Redemption and Transfer of Shares – Redemption of Shares” below for full details.

Transfers

Shares may not be transferred without the prior written consent of the Directors. See Section headed “Subscription, Redemption and Transfer of Shares – Transfer of Shares” below for full details.

Dividends

The Fund may pay dividends or other distributions to Shareholders in the sole and exclusive discretion of the Directors, although generation of income is not a principal objective of the Fund.

Fees and Expenses

Series A Shares

The Investment Manager will receive a quarterly Management Fee in respect of the Series A Shares at an annual rate equal to 1.75% of the net assets of the Fund attributable to each Series A Share, calculated monthly and payable quarterly in arrears. The Management Fee is paid at the Master Fund level.

The Special Limited Partner will be entitled to a quarterly Performance Allocation in respect of each sub-series of Series A Shares calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is effectively equal to 20% of the net profits (including unrealized gains), if any, applicable to each Series A Share for each fiscal quarter; but only to the extent that such profits exceed any losses carried forward from prior years.

Series B Shares

The Investment Manager will receive a quarterly Management Fee in respect of the Series B Shares at an annual rate equal to 1.25% of the net assets of the Fund attributable to each Series B Share, calculated monthly and payable quarterly in arrears. The Management Fee is paid at the Master Fund level.

The Special Limited Partner will be entitled to a quarterly Performance Allocation in respect of each sub-series of Series B Shares calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is effectively equal to 17.5% of the net profits (including unrealized gains), if any, applicable to each Series B Share for each fiscal quarter; but only to the extent that such profits exceed any losses carried forward from prior years.

Series A and Series B Shares

The Investment Manager pays all the fees and expenses of the Investment Manager and certain other service providers out of the Management Fee and Performance Allocation (it receives in its capacity as the Special Limited Partner) it receives from the Master Fund. The Fund shall have no obligation to the Investment Manager for any such fees.

The Administrator is entitled to fees as agreed under the Administration Agreement.

The Fund bears all costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Fund's operations. The Fund also bears its pro rata share of the cost of the Master Fund's operations and investments as provided in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Fund is responsible for paying its own initial organizational expenses and its pro rata share of the initial organizational expenses of the Master Fund. See the Section headed "Management and Administration – Fees and Expenses" below.

Risk Factors

An investment in the Fund entails certain risks. Prospective investors should review carefully the discussion under the Section headed "Certain Risk Factors" below.

Reporting

The Fund will furnish to each Shareholder an annual report that will include audited financial statements as of the end of each fiscal year. In accordance with and to the extent required by the Exchange listing rules, the Fund will also provide Shareholders with interim unaudited reports made up to June 30 in each year, including income statements and a statement of charges included in the calculation of the Net Asset Value of the Fund, and quarterly statements of the Net Asset Value of the Fund.

Fiscal Year

December 31.

Tax

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Fund, the Master Fund or the Shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Fund and/or the Master Fund. The Fund and the Master Fund generally do not expect to be subject to United States federal income tax, except potential U.S. federal withholding with respect to U.S. source dividends (including certain dividend equivalent amounts) and certain interest from U.S. sources.

The Fund has received an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Fund or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable (i) on or in respect of the Shares, debentures or other obligations of the Fund or (ii) by way of the withholding in whole or in part of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Fund to its shareholders or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Fund.

See the Section headed "Taxation" below.

Application Procedure

To participate, an investor must complete and return the Subscription Documents and arrange for the transfer of their funds to the bank account of the Fund.

STRUCTURE

The Fund is an exempted company limited by shares and is of unlimited duration. It was incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands on February 8, 2006, as MBA Latin America Opportunity Fund, Ltd. The Fund's name was changed to Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd. on July 28, 2017. The location of the Fund's principal office and its registered office are listed in the Directory. The Fund has been structured as an investment fund to allow its Shareholders to indirectly invest in the Master Fund pursuant to its investment objectives and strategies set out herein. The Fund will only accept subscriptions for Shares from Eligible Investors and reserves the right to reject any subscriptions.

REGULATION

The Fund is regulated as a mutual fund under the Mutual Funds Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands (the "Mutual Funds Law"). The Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (the "Monetary Authority") has supervisory and enforcement powers to ensure compliance with the Mutual Funds Law. Regulation under the Mutual Funds Law entails the filing of prescribed details and audited accounts annually with the Monetary Authority. As a regulated mutual fund, the Monetary Authority may at any time instruct the Fund to have its accounts audited and to submit them to the Monetary Authority within such time as the Monetary Authority specifies. Failure to comply with these requests by the Monetary Authority may result in substantial fines on the part of the Directors and may result in the Monetary Authority applying to the court to have the Fund wound up.

The Fund will not, however, be subject to supervision in respect of its investment activities or the constitution of the Fund's portfolio (in each case through the Master Fund) by the Monetary Authority or any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands, although the Monetary Authority does have power to investigate the activities of the Fund in certain circumstances. Neither the Monetary Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented upon or approved the terms or merits of this document. There is no investment compensation scheme available to investors in the Cayman Islands.

The Monetary Authority may take certain actions if it is satisfied that a regulated mutual fund is or is likely to become unable to meet its obligations as they fall due or is carrying on or is attempting to carry on business or is winding up its business voluntarily in a manner that is prejudicial to its investors or creditors. The powers of the Monetary Authority include the power to require the substitution of Directors, to appoint a person to advise the Fund on the proper conduct of its affairs or to appoint a person to assume control of the affairs of the Fund. There are other remedies available to the Monetary Authority including the ability to apply to court for approval of other actions.

The Fund, or any Directors or agents domiciled in the Cayman Islands, may be compelled to provide information, subject to a request for information made by a regulatory or governmental authority or agency under applicable law; e.g. by the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority, either for itself or for a recognised overseas regulatory authority, under the Monetary Authority Law (Revised), or by the Tax Information Authority, under the Tax Information Authority Law (Revised) or Reporting of Savings Income Information (European Union) Law (Revised) and associated regulations, agreements, arrangements and memoranda of understanding. Disclosure of confidential information under such laws shall not be regarded as a breach of any duty of confidentiality and, in certain circumstances, the Fund, Director or agent, may be prohibited from disclosing that the request has been made.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

This Memorandum does not purport to be and should not be construed as a complete description of the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Fund, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement or the Material Contracts. Before investing in the Fund, each prospective investor should examine this Memorandum, the Subscription Documents, the Memorandum of Association and Articles of the Fund, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Material Contracts and satisfy itself that an investment in the Fund is appropriate. Additionally, and prior to the sale of any Shares, the Fund will make available to each subscriber or his or her representative the opportunity to ask questions of and receive written answers from representatives of the Fund concerning any aspect of the investment and to obtain any additional information, to the extent that the Fund possesses such information or can acquire it without unreasonable effort or expense.

An investment in the Fund may be deemed speculative and is not intended as a complete investment program. It is designed only for experienced and sophisticated persons who are able to bear the risk of the substantial impairment or total loss of their investment in the Fund.

THE MASTER FUND

THE MASTER FUND'S PARTNERSHIP INTERESTS

The Master Fund's partnership interests are currently held exclusively by the Fund and the Domestic Fund as limited partners, the Investment Manager as the special limited partner of the Master Fund, and the Master Fund General Partner as the general partner of the Master Fund, pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Master Fund General Partner is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands pursuant to Part IX of the Companies Law (2016 Revision).

THE MASTER FUND PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT

The Master Fund is constituted as a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, 2014 (the "Exempted Limited Partnership Law"). A Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership is constituted by the signing of the relevant partnership agreement and its registration with the Registrar of Exempted Limited Partnerships in the Cayman Islands.

A Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership is not a separate legal person distinct from its partners. Under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, any property which is conveyed into or vested in the name of the exempted limited partnership shall be held or deemed to be held by the general partner, and if more than one, then by the general partners jointly upon trust, as an asset of the partnership in accordance with the terms of the partnership agreement. Any debt or obligation incurred by a general partner in the conduct of the business of an exempted limited partnership shall be a debt or obligation of the exempted limited partnership. Registration under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law entails that the partnership becomes subject to, and the limited partners therein are afforded the limited liability and other benefits of, the Exempted Limited Partnership Law (subject to compliance therewith).

Liability of Partners and Indemnification of the Master Fund General Partner and Others.

The business of a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership will be conducted by its general partner(s) who will be liable for all debts and obligations of the exempted limited partnership to the extent that the partnership has insufficient assets. As a general matter, a limited partner of a Cayman Islands partnership will not be liable for the debts and obligations of the exempted limited partnership, other than:

- (i) as expressed in the partnership agreement,
- (ii) if such limited partner takes part in the conduct of the business of an exempted limited partnership in its dealings with persons who are not partners, then that limited partner shall be liable, in the event of the insolvency of the exempted limited partnership, for all debts and obligations of that exempted limited partnership incurred during the period that he so participates in the conduct of the business as though he were, for such period, a general partner, provided always that he shall be rendered liable pursuant to the foregoing provision only to a person who transacts business with the exempted limited partnership during such period with actual knowledge of such participation and who then reasonably believed such limited partner to be a general partner, or

- (iii) if such limited partner is obligated pursuant to Section 34(1) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Law to return a distribution made to it (with interest at a rate of 10% per annum, unless otherwise specified in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement) when the exempted limited partnership is insolvent or within six months prior to such insolvency.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides that none of the Master Fund General Partner, the Investment Manager, each member, shareholder, partner, manager and director of, and any person who controls, the Master Fund General Partner or the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing and each of their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors and other legal representatives (each such person, an "Indemnified Party") will be liable to the Master Fund or any limited partner of the Master Fund (including the Feeder Funds) for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Party or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as an Indemnified Party in the absence of gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud, or as otherwise required by law. An Indemnified Party may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Master Fund's affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. In addition, in no event shall any Indemnified Party be liable for any consequential damages, special or indirect damages or lost profits.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides that the Master Fund shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Party from and against any and all liabilities suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Party by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Party or in connection with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement or the Master Fund's business or affairs, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability did not result from the gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud of such Indemnified Party. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement also provides that the Master Fund will, in the sole discretion of the Master Fund General Partner, advance to any Indemnified Party reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct, subject to receiving a written undertaking from the Indemnified Party to repay such amounts if and to the extent that it is finally determined that the Indemnified Party was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement do not provide for the exculpation or indemnification of any Indemnified Party for any liability (including liability under U.S. federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Indemnified Party, the Master Fund (and not the applicable Indemnified Party) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud. Given the volume of transactions executed on behalf of the Master Fund, trading errors (and similar errors) will occur and the Master Fund will be responsible for any resulting losses, even if such losses result from the negligence (but not gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware)) of any Indemnified Party.

The Indemnified Parties will also be indemnified by each limited partner of the Master Fund for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that limited partner, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith to the extent that the balance of the limited partner's capital account is insufficient to fully compensate the Master Fund General Partner and the Investment Manager for such costs.

Contributions and Withdrawals by the Fund. Limited partners of the Master Fund may make contributions at such times and in such amounts as the Master Fund General Partner determines. As a limited partner of the Master Fund, the Fund may, subject to the consent of the Master Fund General Partner, voluntarily request a withdrawal of all or part of its capital in the Master Fund at such times and in such amounts as it may determine. The Master Fund General Partner may, at any time, suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Master Fund (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of limited partner interests in the Master Fund; (c) the withdrawal by limited partners of their interests (and the applicable withdrawal date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and withdrawal dates are not postponed) during any period which: (i) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of investments owned by the Master Fund are traded is closed, other than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended; (ii) there exists any state of affairs as a result of which (A) disposal of a substantial part of the investments owned by the Master Fund would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the limited partners of the Master Fund, or (B) it is not reasonably practicable for the Master Fund fairly to determine the value of its net assets; (iii) none of the withdrawal requests which have been made may lawfully be satisfied by the Master Fund; (iv) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the investments of the Master Fund; or (v) in the sole discretion of the Master Fund General Partner, it is necessary to preserve the Master Fund's assets.

Amendment of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement may be amended by an instrument in writing signed by each of the limited partners of the Master Fund and the Master Fund General Partner; provided that, the Master Fund General Partner may amend the Master Fund Partnership Agreement without the consent of the limited partners so long as the amendment does not adversely affect any rights of the limited partners.

Dissolution of the Master Fund. The Master Fund shall be wound up and dissolved upon the first to occur of any of the following liquidating events, and Sections 36(1)(b), 36(9) and 36(12) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Law shall not apply to the Master Fund:

- (i) the written election of the Master Fund General Partner to terminate the Master Fund; or
- (ii) if the Master Fund General Partner is the sole or last remaining general partner, the date (the “Automatic Dissolution Date”) falling 90 days after the date of the service of a notice by the Master Fund General Partner (or its legal representative) on all the limited partners informing the limited partners of:
 - (1) the commencement of liquidation or bankruptcy proceedings in relation to the Master Fund General Partner; or
 - (2) the withdrawal, removal or making of a winding up or dissolution order in relation to the Master Fund General Partner;

provided that, if a majority in number of the limited partners elects one or more new general partners before the Automatic Dissolution Date, the business of the Master Fund shall be resumed and continued. If a new general partner is not elected by the Automatic Dissolution Date, the Master Fund shall be wound up and dissolved in accordance with terms of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Exempted Limited Partnership Law.

Power of Attorney. Each limited partner of the Master Fund shall make, constitute and appoint the Master Fund General Partner (and each of its successors and permitted assigns) for the time being, with full power of substitution, as its true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact of, and in the name, place and stead of, such partner with the power from time to time to make, execute, sign, acknowledge, swear to (and deliver as may be appropriate) on its behalf and file and record in the appropriate public offices and publish (as may in the reasonable judgment of the Master Fund General Partner be required by law), including the admission of any new partners of the Master Fund and any amendments to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. Each limited partner of the Master Fund shall authorize the Master Fund General Partner to take any further action that the Master Fund General Partner considers necessary or advisable in connection with the foregoing. Such power of attorney granted is intended to secure a proprietary interest of the Master Fund General Partner and the performance by each limited partner of the Master Fund of its obligations under the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and shall be irrevocable and shall survive and not be affected by the subsequent death, lack of capacity, insolvency, bankruptcy or dissolution of any limited partner of the Master Fund.

VALUATION OF ASSETS

The Master Fund General Partner has delegated the valuation of the Master Fund's assets to the Administrator, which will generally compute the value of the securities and other assets of the Master Fund as of the close of business on the last day of each fiscal period and on any other date selected by the Master Fund General Partner in its sole discretion. In addition, the Administrator must compute the value of the securities that are being distributed in-kind as of their date of distribution in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. In determining the value of the assets of the Master Fund, no value is placed on the goodwill or name of the Master Fund, or the office records, files, statistical data or any similar intangible assets of the Master Fund not normally reflected in the Master Fund's accounting records, but there must be taken into consideration any related items of income earned but not received, expenses incurred but not yet paid, liabilities fixed or contingent, prepaid expenses to the extent not otherwise reflected in the books of account, and the value of options or commitments to purchase or sell securities pursuant to agreements entered into on or prior to such valuation date.

A copy of the Investment Manager's valuation policy is available upon request from the Master Fund General Partner.

The value of each security and other asset of the Master Fund and the net worth of the Master Fund as a whole determined pursuant Master Fund Partnership Agreement are conclusive and binding on all of the partners of the Master Fund and all persons claiming through or under them.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The investment objective of the Fund is to maximize the total return of its assets in US Dollars through capital appreciation by investing all of its investable assets in the Master Fund, which intends to hold primarily a portfolio of investments in securities of Latin American corporate and sovereign issuers as well as non-Latin American issuers that derive a portion of their revenues from business activities in Latin America, in each case with a primary focus on Argentina, and that the Investment Manager believes would provide profitable investment opportunities for the Master Fund. The Master Fund will invest in a single portfolio of assets and does not currently intend to have a separate portfolio of assets for each of its series of limited partner interests, each of which will correspond to a Series of Shares.

The objects for which the Fund is established are unrestricted and the Fund shall have full power and authority to carry out any object not prohibited by any law as provided by Section 7(4) of the Companies Law.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Master Fund is a multi-strategy investment fund and there is no limit on the investment strategies that may be utilized. The Investment Manager believes that focusing on a multi-strategy approach will enable the Master Fund to enhance results by compounding returns generated by each strategy and at the same time have the needed flexibility to adjust to potentially changing regulations and market conditions.

The Investment Manager will be focused on identifying assets that are mispriced against similar assets and/or against the Investment Manager's expectations for assets' fair values and market movements, special situations, such as mergers, financial restructurings, hostile takeovers, or leveraged buy-outs. There is no set allocation among these and any other strategies that the Investment Manager may use.

The Master Fund may hold long and short positions in a wide range of liquid or illiquid fixed income securities including, but not limited to, sovereign and private debt, distressed debt, secured and unsecured debt, structured debt, loans, asset-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations. Furthermore, the Master Fund may invest, both long and short, in a wide range of liquid or illiquid equity-related instruments including, but not limited to, equities, convertible bonds, options, equity-linked notes, preferred shares and warrants, whether or not listed or traded on one or more Recognized Exchanges.

The Master Fund may hold any of these positions indirectly by entering into swaps, options, futures, forward contracts or similar derivative transactions.

The Master Fund may hold both US Dollar and non US Dollar denominated securities.

The Master Fund may leverage its investment portfolio by up to 100% of the Master Fund's Net Asset Value (calculated at the time of investment) by borrowing for investment purposes and by using leverage techniques and products. It is anticipated that by doing so the performance of the Master Fund will be enhanced. While the use of the leverage may improve the return on invested capital, leverage may also significantly increase the impact of adverse movement in the value of the Master Fund.

The Master Fund may also utilize hedging strategies in order to maximize returns and reduce the risk to principal or the volatility associated with its holdings. As part of these hedging strategies, the Master Fund may hedge any of its investments with long or short positions in any financial instrument, which the Investment Manager deems appropriate. The Master Fund may utilize US and European securities for hedging purposes.

The Master Fund may invest through one or more subsidiaries established in an appropriate jurisdiction in order to take advantage of applicable tax treaties or increase the tax efficiency of the Master Fund's investments, or in such other circumstances as the Master Fund General Partner, following consultation with the Investment Manager, deem appropriate, including compliance with local investment laws.

The Master Fund may maintain assets in cash or cash equivalent instruments, money market funds, repurchase agreements, or other cash management vehicles pending investment, for defensive purposes, to fund withdrawals requested by the limited partners of the Master Fund or otherwise at the discretion of the Investment Manager. The Master Fund may hold with no limitation US and European AAA fixed income securities for defensive purposes.

INVESTMENT RESTRICTIONS

In deploying the investment strategy, the Master Fund will observe the following investment restrictions. The Master Fund will not at the time of investment:

1. Invest more than 50 percent of its gross assets in its net holdings of equities;
2. Borrow more than 100 percent of its net assets;
3. Invest more than 20 percent of its gross assets in a single equity position;
4. Invest more than 20 percent of its gross assets in a single corporate issuer position;
5. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single GDP-linked warrant position;
6. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single sovereign issuer security position; and
7. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single provincial issuer.

If a percentage limitation on investment or use of assets set forth above is adhered to at the time a transaction is effected, later changes in percentage resulting from changing values will not be considered a violation.

In the event that the Investment Manager discovers that a violation of any of the Master Fund's investment limitations has occurred (the date of such discovery being the "Discovery Date"), the Investment Manager shall inform the limited partners of the Master Fund, including the Fund, who shall: (i) notify each of their limited partners or shareholders, as applicable, in writing within 30 Business Days after the Discovery Date of the nature of the violation, the steps taken, or to be taken, to remedy the violation and the reason the violation occurred and (ii) use reasonable commercial efforts to cause the Investment Manager to remedy such violation within 90 Business Days after the Discovery Date (the "Remedy Date"). If such violation has not been remedied on or before the Remedy Date, the limited partners of the Master Fund, including the Fund, shall: (i) notify each of their limited partners or shareholders, as applicable, in writing, 30 Business Days after the Remedy Date, of the steps taken to remedy the violation and the reason that the violation has not been remedied by the Remedy Date (the "Remedy Notice") and (ii) use reasonable commercial efforts to cause the Master Fund's portfolio to be examined by an independent auditor other than the Auditors and shall request that such independent auditor issue a report to the investors in each of the Master Fund's limited partners as to its concurrence or disagreement with the statements in the Remedy Notice. The Investment Manager shall pay for the costs of such audit and the costs of the Remedy Notice if the violation that was the subject of the Remedy Notice occurred as a result of the Investment Manager's willful misfeasance, bad faith or gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware). In addition, the failure to remedy the violation in a timely manner may give rise to special redemption rights. See "Redemption of Shares - General."

DISTRIBUTION POLICY

The Fund's objective is to maximize capital appreciation and accordingly it is not envisaged that any income or gains derived from the investments made by the Master Fund will be distributed by way of dividend. This does not preclude the Directors from declaring a dividend at any time in the future if they consider it appropriate to do so. To the extent that a dividend may be declared, it will be paid in compliance with any applicable laws.

The investment objectives and strategies summarized herein represent the Investment Manager's current intentions. Depending on conditions and trends in the securities markets and the economy in general, the Investment Manager may pursue any strategies, employ any investment techniques or purchase any type of security that it considers appropriate, whether or not described in this section, subject to any applicable law or regulation. The discussion herein includes and is based upon numerous assumptions and opinions of the Investment Manager concerning world financial markets and other matters, the accuracy of which cannot be assured. There can be no assurance that the investment strategy of the Master Fund will achieve the intended investment objective. The Master Fund's investment program is speculative and involves a high degree of risk, including, without limitation, the risk of loss of the entire amount invested.

CERTAIN RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Fund entails substantial risks, including, but not limited to, those listed below, and prospective investors should carefully consider the following factors, among others, in determining whether an investment in the Fund is suitable for them. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund's program will be successful or that investments purchased by the Master Fund will increase in value. An investor must be prepared to bear capital losses that might result from an investment in the Fund, including a complete loss of the investor's invested capital. All investors in the Fund should consult their own legal, tax and financial advisors prior to investing in the Fund.

For purposes of this section, references to the "Fund" should be understood to mean each of the Fund and the Master Fund, as applicable, and each of the risk factors set forth herein, while not exhaustive, shall apply equally to each of the Fund and the Master Fund, as applicable.

RISK FACTORS SPECIFIC TO THE INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

Changes in Strategy. The Investment Manager has the power to expand, revise or alter its trading strategies on behalf of the Master Fund without prior approval by, or notice to, the Fund or the Shareholders. Any such change could result in exposure of the Fund's assets (through the Master Fund) to additional risks, which may be substantial. The Investment Manager may also invest in additional instruments than those specifically identified in the "Investment Objective and Strategy" section.

Latin America Investments. The Master Fund invests in securities of companies based in Latin America or issued by Latin American governments, or in the securities of companies which are not incorporated in Latin America, but which derive some of their revenues from business activities conducted in Latin America. Such investment involves certain considerations not usually associated with investing in securities of developed countries or of companies located in developed countries, including political and economic consideration, such as greater risks of expatriation, nationalization and general, political, and economic instability, the small size of the securities markets in such countries and the low volume of trading, resulting in potential lack of liquidity and substantially greater price volatility, fluctuations in the rate of exchange between currencies, and costs associated with currency conversions, certain government policies that may restrict the Master Fund's investment opportunities and problems that may arise in connection with the clearance and settlements of trades. In addition, accounting and financial reporting standards that prevail in such countries are not equivalent to standards in more developed countries, consequently, less information is available to investors in companies located in more developed countries. There is also less regulation, generally, of the securities markets in Latin American countries than there is in more developed countries.

Risks Related to Investing in Argentina. Argentina has experienced high interest rates, economic volatility, inflation, currency devaluations and high unemployment rates. The economy is heavily dependent on exports and commodities. Argentina's default on its debt in 2001, and its past nationalization of private pensions and national oil company YPF, continues to impact the confidence of investors in Argentina, which might adversely impact returns in the Master Fund, and thus, the Fund.

Argentina's Economy. Argentina's economy could grow at a lower rate than in past years, or could contract. Factors that could negatively affect Argentina's rate of economic growth, its public finances and Argentina's ability to service its debt include: the competitiveness of Argentine exports, which are influenced by the peso's value relative to the value of the currencies of Argentina's trading partners and trade competitors; the level of inflation in Argentina; international commodities prices, foreign currency exchange rates and the levels of consumer consumption and foreign and domestic investment; negative economic developments in Argentina's major trading partners, or "contagion" effects more generally; and Argentina's ability to meet its energy requirements.

Uncertainty of Economic Reforms. A runoff election on November 22, 2015 resulted in Mr. Mauricio Macri being elected President of Argentina. The Macri administration assumed office on December 10, 2015. Since assuming office on December 10, 2015, the Macri administration has announced several significant economic and policy reforms, including methodological reforms with respect to the calculation of certain macroeconomic statistics, the loosening of foreign exchange controls, reduction of tariffs, other easing of international trade restrictions, infrastructure reforms and reopened negotiation with holders of debt in default since 2001. The impact that these measures and any future measures taken by the new administration will have on the Argentine economy as a whole and the financial sector in particular cannot be predicted. The Investment Manager believes that the effect of the planned liberalization of the economy and renewed access to capital markets will be positive for the Master Fund's intended investments by stimulating economic activity, but it is not possible to predict such effect with certainty and such liberalization could also be disruptive to the economy and fail to benefit or harm companies in Argentina. The Investment Manager cannot predict how the Macri administration will address certain other political and economic issues that were central during the 2015 presidential election campaign, such as the financing of public expenditures, public service subsidies and tax reforms, the resolution of holdout debt or the impact that any measures related to these issues that are implemented by the Macri administration will have on the Argentine economy as a whole.

Currency Controls. In the past, Argentina imposed exchange controls and transfer restrictions substantially limiting the ability of companies to retain foreign currency or make payments abroad. Although the Macri government lifted exchange controls and liberalized capital controls, there can be no assurances regarding future modifications to exchange and capital controls. Exchange and capital controls could adversely affect the financial condition or results of operations of issuers in whose securities the Master Fund intends to invest, as well as their ability to meet foreign currency obligations and to execute financing plans.

Challenges to Argentina's Debt Payments. Argentina's payments in connection with a debt offering may be attached, enjoined or otherwise challenged. In recent years, hold-out creditors have used litigation against sovereign debtors, most prominently Peru and Nicaragua, to attach or interrupt payments made by these sovereign debtors to, among others, bondholders who have agreed to a debt restructuring and accepted new securities in an exchange offer. Argentina has been subjected to suits to collect on amounts due on defaulted bonds, including actions in the United States, the United Kingdom, Italy and Germany. Some of these actions have resulted in judgments against Argentina. There can be no assurance that a creditor will not be able to interfere, through an attachment of assets, injunction, temporary restraining order or otherwise, with payments made in connection with a debt offering.

Pro Rata Payment Litigation. Argentina's defaults with respect to the payment of its foreign debt could prevent the government and the private sector from accessing the international capital markets, which could adversely affect the financial condition of sovereign and corporate issuers in which the Master Fund invests. In September 2014, the Argentine Congress passed a law to restructure foreign-law bonds held by exchange bondholders to allow the payment in Argentina and to appoint a new paying agent. On September 29, 2014, the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York held Argentina in contempt of court as a result of this law. The U.S. District Court authorized limited exceptions to the injunction allowing certain custodians of Argentine law-governed bonds to process payments in August 2014, September 2014 and December 2014.

On May 11, 2015, the plaintiffs that obtained pari passu injunctions asked the U.S. district court to amend their complaints to include claims alleging that Argentina's issuance and servicing of its 2024 dollar-denominated bonds, and its external indebtedness in general, would violate the pari passu clause. On June 5, 2015, the Second Circuit granted partial summary judgment to a group of 526 "me-too" plaintiffs in 36 separate lawsuits, finding that, consistent with the previous ruling of such court, Argentina violated a pari passu clause in bonds issued to the "me-too" bondholders. The decision obligates Argentina to pay the plaintiffs $5.4 billion before it can make payments on restructured debt.

In 2016, the Argentine government working under a court appointed mediator, entered into settlement agreements with a large portion of hold-out debt holders contingent on Argentina repealing laws that prevented the country from complying with rulings by U.S. courts. In this context Judge Thomas Griesa ruled he would lift the injunctions preventing Argentina from serving post-2005 exchange debt if these laws are repealed. Argentina's lower chamber approved the repeal of these laws and Argentina's senate voted to approve the same in March 2016. In April 2016, the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in the United States upheld Judge Griesa's ruling, finding that he did not abuse his discretion in lifting the pari passu injunctions.

The repercussions of restructuring Argentina's bond debts are ongoing. The 2016 U.S. court rulings only settled claims of certain bondholders. Argentina reached a $475 million settlement with other bondholders in November 2016. Financial indices have only just started moving Argentina back to "emerging market" status, where it had been before 2009.

Argentina's default with respect to the payment of its foreign debt, its delay in completing the debt restructuring process with creditors that did not participate in the related exchange offers, the complaints filed against Argentina discussed above, the U.S. Supreme Court's decision not to hear Argentina's appeal, the declaration of contempt, and the long-term difficulty of reestablishing itself in the global marketplace could prevent Argentina's government from obtaining international private financing or receiving direct foreign investment, as well as private sector companies in Argentina from accessing the international capital markets. Without access to international private financing, Argentina may not be able to finance its obligations, and financing from multilateral financial institutions may be limited or not available. Without access to direct foreign investment, the government may not have sufficient financial resources to foster economic growth and the performance of the Master Fund's investments in Argentina could be materially and adversely affected.

GENERAL RISK FACTORS

Overall Investment Risk. All securities investments risk the loss of capital. The nature of the securities to be purchased and traded by the Master Fund and the investment techniques and strategies to be employed in an effort to increase profits may increase this risk. While the Investment Manager will devote its commercially reasonable best efforts to the management of the Master Fund's portfolio, there can be no assurance that the Master Fund, and thus, the Fund will not incur losses. Many unforeseeable events, including actions by various government agencies, and domestic and international political events, may cause sharp market fluctuations.

Limited Operating History. The Fund has limited operating history and the Master Fund and the Master Fund General Partner do not have operating histories upon which prospective investors can evaluate the anticipated performance of the Fund. Although the principals of the Investment Manager have extensive prior experience in Latin America, past performance of the Investment Manager should not be construed as an indication of the future results of an investment in the Fund. The Master Fund's investment program should be evaluated on the basis that there can be no assurance that the Investment Manager's assessment of the short-term or long-term prospects of its investment strategy will prove accurate, or that the Master Fund will achieve its investment objectives.

Illiquidity of Shares. Shares are not transferable without the approval of the Directors, and there will be no secondary market for Shares. Consequently, Shareholders may not be able to dispose of their Shares except by means of the redemption privilege and may receive securities rather than cash in exchange for their Shares.

Possible Effect of Substantial Redemptions. Substantial redemptions of Shares from the Fund could require the Master Fund to liquidate its positions more rapidly than otherwise desired in order to raise the cash necessary to fund the redemptions. Illiquidity in certain securities could make it difficult for the Master Fund to liquidate positions on favorable terms, which could result in losses or a decrease in the Net Asset Value of the Master Fund, and thus, the Fund. The Master Fund is permitted to borrow cash necessary to make payments in connection with redemption of Shares from the Fund when the Investment Manager determines that it would not be advisable to liquidate portfolio assets for that purpose. The Master Fund is also authorized to pledge portfolio assets as collateral security for the repayment of such loans. In these circumstances, the continuing Shareholders will bear the risk of any subsequent decline in the value of the Fund's assets.

Master-Feeder Structure. The Fund will invest all of its investable assets in the Master Fund. The “master-feeder” fund structure presents certain risks to the Shareholders. Smaller feeder funds may be materially affected by the actions of larger feeder funds.

While the Investment Manager, as investment manager of the Master Fund, generally will not consider tax issues applicable to any particular investors, it generally will take into account the tax positions of the Fund and the Domestic Fund that invest in the Master Fund. However, the use of a “master-feeder” structure may create a conflict of interest in that different tax considerations for the Fund and the Domestic Fund may cause or result in the Master Fund structuring or disposing of an investment in a manner or at a time that is more advantageous (or disadvantageous) for tax purposes to one Feeder Fund or its investors.

Absence of Regulatory Oversight. Although the Fund is a regulated mutual fund under the Mutual Funds Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands, the Fund is not required to, and does not intend to, register under the laws of any other jurisdiction, and, accordingly, the provisions of statutes of certain jurisdictions (which may provide certain regulatory safeguards to investors) are not applicable. For example, neither the Fund nor the Master Fund is required to maintain custody of its securities or place its securities in the custody of a bank or a member of a recognized securities exchange in the manner required under the statutes of certain jurisdictions. A registered investment company that places its securities in the custody of a member of a recognized securities exchange is generally required to have a written custodian agreement, which provides that securities held in custody will be at all times individually segregated from the securities of any other person and marked to clearly identify such securities as the property of such investment company and which contains other provisions complying with applicable regulations. The Master Fund may maintain such accounts at brokerage firms that do not separately segregate such assets as would be required in the case of registered investment companies. The bankruptcy of any such brokerage firms might have a greater adverse effect on the Master Fund and the Fund than would be the case if the accounts were maintained to meet the requirements applicable to registered investment companies.

Handling of Mail. Mail addressed to the Fund and received at its registered office will be forwarded unopened to the forwarding address supplied by the Investment Manager to be dealt with. None of the Fund, its Directors, officers, advisors or service providers (including the organisation which provides registered office services in the Cayman Islands) will bear any responsibility for any delay howsoever caused in mail reaching the forwarding address. In particular, the Directors will only receive, open or deal directly with mail which is addressed to them personally (as opposed to mail which is addressed just to the Fund).

Subscription Monies. Where a subscription for Shares is accepted, the Shares will be treated as having been issued with effect from the relevant Subscription Day notwithstanding that the subscriber for those Shares may not be entered in the Fund's register of members until after the relevant Subscription Day. The subscription monies paid by a subscriber for Shares will accordingly be subject to investment risk in the Fund from the relevant Subscription Day.

Effect of Redemptions. Where a redemption request is accepted, the Shares will be treated as having been redeemed with effect from the relevant Redemption Day irrespective of whether or not such redeeming Shareholder has been removed from the Fund's register of members or the Redemption Price has been determined or remitted. Accordingly, on and from the relevant Redemption Day, Shareholders in their capacity as such will not be entitled to or be capable of exercising any rights arising under the Articles with respect to Shares being redeemed (including any right to receive notice of, attend or vote at any meeting of the Fund) save the right to receive the Redemption Price and any dividend which has been declared prior to the relevant Redemption Day but not yet paid (in each case with respect to the Shares being redeemed). Such redeemed Shareholders will be creditors of the Fund with respect to the Redemption Price. In an insolvent liquidation, redeemed Shareholders will rank behind ordinary creditors but ahead of Shareholders.

Limited Rights of Shareholders. Shareholders holding Shares will have no right to participate in the day to day operations of the Fund and will not be entitled to receive notice of, nor attend or vote at, general meetings of the Fund other than general meetings to vote upon a variation of the rights of the Shares. Consequently, Shareholders will not have any control over the management of the Fund or the appointment and removal of its Directors and service providers. The Investment Manager, as holder of all the Management Shares, control all of the voting interests in the Fund, except on proposals to vary the rights of the Shares, and may make such changes to the Memorandum of Association and Articles of the Fund as it deems appropriate, including increasing the share capital, consolidating the Shares and sub-dividing the Shares. Accordingly, only the Investment Manager can appoint and remove the Directors of the Fund and only the Directors may terminate the services of the Investment Manager, the Administrator and other agents of the Fund. An investment in the Fund should be regarded as a passive investment.

Valuation of the Master Fund's Investments. Valuation of the Master Fund's securities and other investments may involve uncertainties and judgmental determinations, and if such valuations should prove to be incorrect, the Net Asset Value of the Master Fund and the Fund could be adversely affected. Independent pricing information may not at times be available or otherwise utilized regarding certain of the Master Fund's securities and other investments. Valuation determinations will be made in good faith in accordance with the policies of the Investment Manager in effect from time to time, a copy of which will be made available upon request.

The Master Fund may have some of its assets in investments, which by their very nature may be extremely difficult to accurately value. To the extent that the value assigned by the Administrator to any such investment differs from the actual value, the Net Asset Value of the Master Fund and the Fund may be understated or overstated, as the case may be. In light of the foregoing, there is a risk that a Shareholder who redeems all or part of its Shares while the Master Fund holds such investments will be paid an amount less than it would otherwise be paid if the actual value of such investments is higher than the value designated by the Administrator. Similarly, there is a risk that such Shareholder might, in effect, be overpaid if the actual value of such investments is lower than the value designated by the Administrator. In addition, there is risk that an investment in the Fund by a new Shareholder (or an additional investment by an existing Shareholder) could dilute the value of such investments for the other Shareholders if the designated value of such investments is higher than the value designated by the Administrator. Further, there is risk that a new Shareholder (or an existing Shareholder that makes an additional investment) could pay more than it might otherwise if the actual value of such investments is lower than the value designated by the Administrator. The Administrator does not intend to adjust the Net Asset Value of the Master Fund and the Fund retroactively.

None of the Directors, the Fund, the Master Fund, the Master Fund General Partner or the Administrator shall have any liability in the event that any price or valuation, used in good faith in connection with the above procedures, proves to be an incorrect or an inaccurate estimate or determination of the price or value of any part of the property of the Master Fund.

In-Kind Distributions. A redeeming Shareholder may, in the discretion of the Directors, receive securities owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) in lieu of, or in combination with, cash. The value of securities distributed may increase or decrease before the securities can be sold (either by the Shareholder or by the Fund if the Directors establishes a liquidating account on behalf of the Shareholder to sell such assets), and the investor will incur transaction costs in connection with the sale of such securities. Additionally, securities distributed with respect to a redemption by a Shareholder may not be readily marketable. The risk of loss and delay in liquidating these securities will be borne by the investor, with the result that such investor may receive less cash than it would have received on the date of redemption.

Business and Regulatory Risks of Hedge Funds. Legal, tax and regulatory changes could occur during the term of the Fund that may adversely affect the Fund. The regulatory environment for hedge funds is evolving, and changes in the regulation of hedge funds may adversely affect the value of investments held by the Master Fund and the ability of the Master Fund to obtain the leverage it might otherwise obtain or to pursue its trading strategies. In addition, securities and futures markets are subject to comprehensive statutes, regulations and margin requirements. Regulators and self-regulatory organizations and exchanges are authorized to take extraordinary actions in the event of market emergencies. The regulation of derivative transactions and funds that engage in such transactions is an evolving area of law and is subject to modification by government and judicial actions. The effect of any future regulatory change on the Fund could be substantial and adverse.

Side Letters. The Investment Manager, in consultation with the Directors, or the Fund may from time to time enter into letter agreements or other similar agreements (collectively, "Side Letters") with one or more Shareholders which provide such Shareholder(s) with additional and/or different rights (including, without limitation, with respect to access to information, the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation, minimum investment amounts, voting rights and liquidity terms) than such Shareholder(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum. As a result of such Side Letters, certain Shareholders may receive additional benefits (including, but not limited to, reduced fee obligations, the ability to redeem Shares on shorter notice and/or expanded informational rights) which other Shareholders will not receive. For example, a Side Letter may permit a Shareholder to redeem its Shares on less notice and/or at different times than other Shareholders. As a result, should the Fund experience a decline in performance over a period of time, a Shareholder who is party to a Side Letter that permits less notice and/or different redemption times may be able to redeem its Shares prior to other Shareholders. In general, the Fund and/or the Investment Manager will not be required to notify any or all of the other Shareholders of any such Side Letters or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the Fund and/or the Investment Manager be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other Shareholders. The Fund and/or the Investment Manager may cause the Fund to enter into such Side Letters with any party as the Fund and/or the Investment Manager may determine in its sole discretion at any time. The other Shareholders will have no recourse against the Fund and/or the Investment Manager in the event certain Shareholders receive additional and/or different rights and/or terms as a result of such Side Letters. A Shareholder will be required to enter into such undertakings with respect to maintaining the confidentiality of any such additional information as the Fund and/or the Investment Manager may in their sole discretion determine.

Competition. The markets in which the Master Fund invests are competitive and some of the opportunities that the Investment Manager may explore may be pursued by better known investors or investment funds. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to identify or successfully pursue such opportunities in this environment. The Investment Manager competes with many firms that may have greater financial resources, more extensive development, better marketing and service capabilities, more favorable financing arrangements, larger research staffs and more securities traders than are available to the Investment Manager.

Cybersecurity. Information and technology systems may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and security breaches, usage errors by their respective professionals, power outages and catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and earthquakes. Although the Investment Manager has implemented various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time or cease to function properly, the Investment Manager, the Master Fund and/or the Fund may have to make a significant investment to fix or replace them, which expense may be borne in whole or in part by the Fund. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the Investment Manager's, the Master Fund's and/or the Fund's operations and result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to investors. Such interruptions could harm the Investment Manager's, the Master Fund's and/or the Fund's reputation, subject any such entity and their respective affiliates to legal claims and otherwise affect their business and financial performance. The foregoing risks and consequences are also extant at any issuer in which the Master Fund invests and could manifest as adverse performance of such investment.

INVESTMENT AND TRADING RISKS

Derivative Instruments. The Investment Manager may use various derivative instruments, including futures, options, forward contracts, swaps and other derivatives which may be volatile and speculative. Certain positions may be subject to wide and sudden fluctuations in market value, with a resulting fluctuation in the amount of profits and losses. Use of derivative instruments presents various risks, including the following:

- Tracking – When used for hedging purposes, an imperfect or variable degree of correlation between price movements of the derivative instrument and the underlying investment sought to be hedged may prevent the Investment Manager from achieving the intended hedging effect or expose the portfolio to the risk of loss.

- Liquidity – Derivative instruments, especially when traded in large amounts, may not be liquid in all circumstances, so that in volatile markets the Investment Manager may not be able to close out a position without incurring a loss. In addition, daily limits on price fluctuations and speculative positions limits on exchanges on which the Investment Manager may conduct its transactions in certain derivative instruments may prevent prompt liquidation of positions, subjecting the portfolio to the potential of greater losses.
- Leverage – Trading in derivative instruments can result in large amounts of leverage. Thus, the leverage offered by trading in derivative instruments may magnify the gains and losses experienced by the Master Fund and could cause the Master Fund's net asset value to be subject to wider fluctuations than would be the case if the Investment Manager did not use the leverage feature in derivative instruments.
- Over-the-Counter-Trading – Derivative instruments that may be purchased or sold for the portfolio may include instruments not traded on an exchange. Over-the-counter options, unlike exchanged-traded options, are two-party contracts with price and other terms negotiated by the buyer and seller. The risk of non-performance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which the Investment Manager can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between "bid" and "asked" prices for derivative instruments that are not traded on an exchange. Derivative instruments not traded on exchanges are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions.

Short Sales. Short sales by the Master Fund that are not made "against the box" create opportunities to increase the Master Fund's return but, at the same time, involve special risk considerations and may be considered a speculative technique. Since the Master Fund, in effect, profits from a decline in the price of the securities sold short without the need to invest the full purchase price of the securities on the date of the short sale, the value of the Master Fund will tend to increase more when the securities it has sold short decrease in value, and to decrease more when the securities it has sold short increase in value, than otherwise would be the case if it had not engaged in such short sales. Short sales theoretically involve unlimited loss potential, as the market price of securities sold short may increase continuously, although the Master Fund may mitigate such losses by replacing the securities sold short before the market price has increased significantly. Under adverse market conditions the Master Fund might have difficulty purchasing securities to meet its short sale delivery obligations, and might have to sell portfolio securities to raise the capital necessary to meet its short sale obligations at a time when fundamental investment considerations would not favor such sales. Short sales may be used with the intent of hedging against the risk of declines in the market value of the Master Fund's long portfolio, but there can be no assurance that such hedging operations will be successful.

Risks of Execution of Investment Strategies. The Master Fund will invest in a number of securities and obligations that entail substantial inherent risks. Although the Master Fund will attempt to manage those risks through careful research, ongoing monitoring of investments and appropriate hedging techniques, there can be no assurance that the securities and other instruments purchased by the Master Fund will in fact increase in value or that the Master Fund will not incur significant losses.

Market Risks and Liquidity. The profitability of a significant portion of the Master Fund's investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to predict accurately these price movements. Although the Master Fund may attempt to mitigate market risk through the use of long and short positions or other methods, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Furthermore, the Master Fund may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the instruments in which they invest, which may impair the Master Fund's ability to adjust their position. The size of the Master Fund's positions may magnify the effect of a decrease in market liquidity for such instruments. Changes in overall market leverage, deleveraging as a consequence of a decision by a broker to reduce the level of leverage available, or the liquidation by other market participants of the same or similar positions, may also adversely affect the Master Fund's portfolio. Some of the underlying investments of the Master Fund may not be actively traded and there may be uncertainties involved in the valuation of such investments. Potential investors should be warned that under such circumstances, the Net Asset Value of the Master Fund may be adversely affected.

Hedging. Although the Master Fund will attempt to hedge its exposure to specific arbitrage positions, it will not always be possible fully to hedge risk from such positions or any other position. In addition, the Master Fund may take positions based on the expected future direction of the markets without fully hedging the market risks.

Currency Risks. A portion of the Master Fund's assets may be invested in securities denominated in various currencies and in other financial instruments, the price of which is determined with reference to such currencies. The account of the Master Fund will, however, be valued in U.S. Dollars. To the extent unhedged, the value of the net assets of the Master Fund will fluctuate with U.S. Dollars exchange rates as well as with price changes of their investments in the various local markets and currencies. Forward currency contracts and options may be utilized by the Master Fund to hedge against currency fluctuations, but there can be no assurance that such hedging transactions will be effective.

Counterparty and Settlement Risk. Due to the nature of some of the investments which the Master Fund may make, the Master Fund may rely on the ability of the counterparty to a transaction to perform its obligations. In the event that any such party fails to complete its obligations for any reason, the Master Fund may suffer losses. The Master Fund will therefore be exposed to a credit risk on the counterparties with which it trades. The Master Fund will also bear the risk of settlement default by clearing houses and exchanges. Any default by a counterparty or on settlement could have a material adverse effect on the Master Fund.

Borrowing. The Master Fund is permitted to finance its operations with secured and unsecured borrowing up to 100% of its net assets, to the extent allowable under applicable credit regulations. Like other forms of leverage, the use of borrowing can enhance the risk of capital loss in the event of adverse changes in the level of market prices of the assets being financed with the borrowings.

Distributions. Since the Fund will not ordinarily make distributions by way of dividends to the Shareholders, all earnings of the Fund are expected to be retained for reinvestment (through the Master Fund).

Discretion of the Investment Manager; Concentration of Investments. The Investment Manager will seek to engage in the investment activities described herein. Nonetheless, the Master Fund's portfolio may be altered at any time in the sole discretion of the Investment Manager and without the approval of any investors in the limited partners of the Master Fund, including the Shareholders. Although the Investment Manager will follow a general policy of seeking to spread the Master Fund's capital among a number of investments, the Investment Manager may depart from such policy from time to time and may hold a few, relatively large securities positions in relation to the Master Fund's capital. The result of such concentration of investments is that a loss in any such position could materially reduce the Master Fund's capital.

Difficult Market for Investment Opportunities. The activity of identifying, completing and realizing on attractive investments involves a high degree of uncertainty. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to locate and complete investments which satisfy the Master Fund's rate of return objective or realize upon their values or that the Master Fund will be able to invest fully its subscribed capital in a manner consistent with its investment strategy.

TAX RELATED RISKS

Uncertainty and Complexity of Tax Treatment. The tax aspects of an investment in the Fund are complicated and complex and, in many cases, uncertain. Statutory provisions and administrative regulations have been interpreted inconsistently by the courts. Additionally, some statutory provisions remain to be interpreted by administrative regulations. Investors will thus be subject to the risk caused by the uncertainty of the tax consequences with respect to an investment in the Fund. Each prospective investor should have the tax aspects of an investment in the Fund reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussion below under "Taxation" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Shares and to consult their own independent tax advisors.

Risk of Adverse Determination. There can be no assurance that the conclusions set forth in this Memorandum will not be challenged successfully by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the "Service") or another applicable taxing authority, or significantly modified by new legislation, changes in the Service's positions, or court decisions. The Fund has not applied for, nor does it expect to apply for, any advance rulings from the Service or any other applicable taxing authority with respect to any of the tax consequences described in this Memorandum. No representation or warranty of any kind is made by the Fund or the Investment Manager with respect to the tax consequences relating to an investment in the Fund. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the Service, other applicable taxing authorities or courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or any other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund.

Tax Audit. An audit of the Fund by the Service or any other applicable taxing authority could result in adjustments to the tax consequences initially reported by the Fund, which examination could affect the after-tax returns of a shareholder's investment in the Fund. If such audit adjustments result in an increase in the Fund's tax liability for any year, the Fund may also be liable for interest and penalties with respect to the amount of underpayment. The legal and accounting costs incurred in connection with any audit of the Fund's tax returns will be borne by the Fund.

Tax-Exempt Entities. Certain prospective investors may be subject to U.S. federal and state laws, rules and regulations that regulate their participation in the Fund, or their engaging directly or indirectly through an investment in the Fund, in certain investment strategies that the Fund (through the Master Fund) may utilize from time-to-time (e.g., short-sales of securities and the use of leverage, the purchase and sale of options and limited diversification). While the Master Fund believes its investment program is generally appropriate for U.S. tax-exempt organizations for which an investment in the Fund would otherwise be suitable, each type of exempt organization may be subject to different laws, rules and regulations, and prospective investors should consult with their own advisers as to the advisability and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Investments in the Fund by entities subject to ERISA (as defined below), and other tax-exempt entities, require special consideration. Trustees or administrators of such entities are urged to review carefully the matters discussed in this Memorandum.

Tax Considerations Taken into Account. The Investment Manager may take tax considerations into account in determining when the Fund's investments should be sold or otherwise disposed of, and may assume certain market risk and incur certain expenses in this regard to achieve favorable tax treatment of a transaction.

Adverse Taxation Events. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Fund, political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Shareholder Level Taxation. Tax consequences to each shareholder will depend on tax laws in that shareholder's jurisdiction. Shareholders should consult their professional advisors as to the possible tax consequences of subscribing for, buying, holding, selling, transferring or redeeming Shares under the laws of their country of citizenship, residence or domicile.

Possible Law Changes. No assurance can be given that legislative, administrative or judicial changes that could alter, either prospectively or retroactively, the U.S. tax considerations or risk factors discussed in this Memorandum will not occur. Currently, various proposals in the U.S. Congress, possibly with retroactive effect, are pending which, if enacted, could result in changes in U.S. federal income tax laws that may adversely affect the federal income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should seek, and must rely on, the advice of their own advisors with respect to the possible impact on its investment of any future proposed legislation or administrative or judicial action.

The foregoing list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read this entire Memorandum and consult with their own advisers before deciding to invest in the Fund. In addition, as the investment program of the Master Fund develops and changes over time, an investment in the Fund may be subject to additional and different risk factors. No assurance can be made that profits will be achieved or that substantial losses will not be incurred.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Shares is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Highland Group & Highland Accounts

Given the nature and size of Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s ("Highland Capital") operations, various potential conflicts of interest arise in connection with its advisory services and the advisory services provided by its affiliates. Information about Highland Capital and its potential conflicts of interest is provided in Highland Capital's Form ADV Part 2 Brochure that can be found by going to <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Default.aspx>, searching by firm name and selecting the Part 2 Brochure to be viewed. The Fund is subject to these conflicts of interest, as well as the other items discussed below.

None of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees (collectively, the "Highland Group") is precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund or the Master Fund. The Investment Manager is permitted to manage other client accounts, and does manage other client accounts, some of which may have objectives similar or identical to those of the Master Fund, including other collective investment vehicles that may be managed by the Highland Group and in which the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates may have an equity interest.

The Fund will be subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest involving the Highland Group including, among other things, the fact that: (i) the Highland Group conducts substantial investment activities for accounts, funds, collateralized debt obligations that invest in leveraged loans (collectively, "CDOs") and other vehicles managed by members of the Highland Group ("Highland Accounts") in which the Fund has no interest; (ii) the Highland Group advises Highland Accounts, which utilize the same, similar or different methodologies as the Fund and may have financial incentives (including, without limitation, as it relates to the composition of investors in such funds and accounts or to the Highland Group's compensation arrangements) to favor certain Highland Accounts over the Fund and the Master Fund; (iii) the Highland Group may use the strategy described herein in certain Highland Accounts; (iv) the Investment Manager may give advice and recommend securities to, or buy or sell securities for, the Master Fund, which advice or securities may differ from advice given to, or securities recommended or bought or sold for, Highland Accounts; (v) the Investment Manager has the discretion, to the extent permitted under applicable law, to use its affiliates as service providers to the Fund and the Master Fund and the Master Fund's portfolio investments; (vi) certain investors affiliated with the Highland Group may choose to personally invest only in certain funds advised by the Highland Group and the amounts invested by them in such funds is expected to vary significantly; (vii) the Highland Group and Highland Accounts may actively engage in transactions in the same securities sought by the Master Fund and, therefore, may compete with the Master Fund for investment opportunities or may hold positions opposite to positions maintained on behalf of the Master Fund; and (viii) the Investment Manager will devote to the Master Fund and the Fund only as much time as the Investment Manager deems necessary and appropriate to manage the Master Fund's and the Fund's business.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Fund's investors.

It is the policy of the Investment Manager to allocate investment opportunities fairly and equitably over time. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) fiduciary duties owed to the accounts; (ii) the primary mandate of the accounts; (iii) the capital available to the accounts; (iv) any restrictions on the accounts and the investment opportunity; (v) the sourcing of the investment, size of the investment and amount of follow-on available related to the investment; (vi) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (vii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (viii) liquidity requirements of the account; (ix) potentially adverse tax consequences; (x) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (xi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio.

The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple Highland Accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. One or more of the foregoing considerations may (and are often expected to) result in allocations among the Master Fund and one or more Highland Accounts on other than a pari passu basis. The Investment Manager will allocate investment opportunities across its accounts for which the opportunities are appropriate, consistent with (i) its internal conflict of interest and allocation policies and (ii) the requirements of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended. The Investment Manager will seek to allocate investment opportunities among such entities in a manner that is fair and equitable over time and consistent with its allocation policy, a copy of which will be provided upon request. However, there is no assurance that such investment opportunities will be allocated to the Master Fund fairly or equitably in the short-term or over time and there can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to participate in all investment opportunities that are suitable for it

The Investment Manager may open “average price” accounts with brokers. In an “average price” account, purchase and sale orders placed during a trading day on behalf of the Investment Manager, the Master Fund, and other accounts managed by the Investment Manager are combined, and securities bought and sold pursuant to such orders are allocated among such accounts on an average price basis.

Cross Transactions and Principal Transactions

As further described below, the Investment Manager may effect client cross-transactions where the Investment Manager causes a transaction to be effected between the Master Fund and another client advised by it or any of its affiliates. The Investment Manager may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Master Fund any time that the Investment Manager believes such transaction to be fair to the Master Fund and such other client. By purchasing Shares, a Shareholder is deemed to have consented to such client cross-transactions between the Master Fund and another client of the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates.

The Investment Manager may direct the Master Fund to acquire or dispose of securities in cross trades between the Master Fund and other clients of the Investment Manager or its affiliates in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, the Master Fund may invest in securities of obligors or issuers in which the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates have a debt, equity or participation interest, and the holding and sale of such investments by the Master Fund may enhance the profitability of the Investment Manager’s own investments in such companies. Moreover, the Master Fund may invest in assets originated by the Investment Manager or its affiliates. In each such case, the Investment Manager and such affiliates may have a potentially conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Master Fund and the other parties to such trade. Under certain circumstances, the Investment Manager and its affiliates may determine that it is appropriate to avoid such conflicts by selling a security at a fair value that has been calculated pursuant to the Investment Manager’s valuation procedures to another client managed or advised by the Investment Manager or such affiliates. In addition, the Investment Manager may enter into agency cross-transactions where it or any of its affiliates acts as broker for the Master Fund and for the other party to the transaction, to the extent permitted under applicable law.

The principal of the Investment Manager, as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Master Fund (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of Shares of the Fund), unless such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

Conflicts Relating to Equity and Debt Ownership by the Master Fund and Affiliates

In certain circumstances, the Master Fund and other client accounts may invest in securities or other instruments of the same issuer (or affiliated group of issuers) having a different seniority in the issuer's capital structure. If the issuer becomes insolvent, restructures or suffers financial distress, there may be a conflict between the interests in the Master Fund and those other accounts insofar as the issuer may be unable (or in the case of a restructuring prior to bankruptcy may be expected to be unable) to satisfy the claims of all classes of its creditors and security holders and the Master Fund and such other accounts may have competing claims for the remaining assets of such issuers. Under these circumstances it may not be feasible for the Investment Manager to reconcile the conflicting interests in the Master Fund and such other accounts in a way that protects the Master Fund's interests. Additionally, the Investment Manager or its nominees may in the future hold board or creditors' committee memberships which may require them to vote or take other actions in such capacities that might be conflicting with respect to certain funds managed by the Investment Manager in that such votes or actions may favor the interests of one account over another account. Furthermore, the Investment Manager's fiduciary responsibilities in these capacities might conflict with the best interests of the investors.

Affiliated Entity Services

Affiliated entities of the Investment Manager may provide services with respect to the Investment Manager, the Master Fund or the Fund. NexBank, SSB ("NexBank SSB") is an affiliate of the Investment Manager and may, from time to time, provide banking and/or agency services to the Investment Manager, clients of the Investment Manager or collective investment vehicles for which the Investment Manager provides investment advisory services (including the Fund, the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Fund (through the Master Fund) may invest) or third parties engaged in transactions involving the Investment Manager. NexBank SSB may also act as an agent in connection with certain securities transactions involving the Investment Manager's client accounts (including the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Master Fund may invest). Principals of the Investment Manager own a majority of the equity interests in NexBank SSB and employees or affiliates of the Investment Manager own or may own a substantial equity interest in NexBank SSB. Certain Master Fund investment transactions may be executed through NexBank Securities, Inc., an affiliate of the Investment Manager and a registered broker-dealer.

Additionally, the Investment Manager or affiliates of the Investment Manager, including, without limitation, Nexbank SSB, NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital Advisors and Governance Re, Ltd., may provide financial advisory, management, insurance, title insurance or other services for a fee to portfolio companies in which the Master Fund may have an interest. Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., an affiliate of the Investment Manager, has been engaged to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager, as more fully described below in "Management and Administration – Investment Manager."

Management Fees

A portion of any Management Fee may be paid to broker-dealers, placement agents or independent third parties, other than the Investment Manager, for services provided in connection with the solicitation of subscriptions from investors. Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent's or distributor's participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions. Each placement agent shall comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Interests.

Diverse Membership

The Shareholders are expected to include entities, persons, or entities organized in various jurisdictions and subject to different tax and regulatory regimes. Such diverse investors may thus have conflicting investment, tax and other interests, relating to, among other things, the nature of investments made by the Master Fund, the structuring or the acquisition of investments and the timing of disposition of investments. As a result, conflicts of interest may arise in connection with decisions made by the Investment Manager including as to the nature and structure of investments that may be more beneficial for one type of Shareholder than for another type of Shareholder, including Shareholders affiliated with the Investment Manager. The results of the Fund's activities may affect individual Shareholders differently, depending upon their individual financial and tax situations because, for instance, of the timing of an event of realization of gain or loss and its characterization as long-term or short-term gain or loss. In addition, the Master Fund may make investments that may have a negative impact on related investments made by the Shareholders in separate transactions. In selecting, structuring and managing investments appropriate for the Master Fund, the Investment Manager will consider the investment and tax objectives of the Master Fund and the Feeder Funds as a whole, not the investment, tax, or other objectives of any Shareholder individually. However, there can be no assurance that a result will not be more advantageous to some Shareholders than to others or to the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates than to a particular Shareholder.

Performance Allocation

As described herein, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides for the payment of the Management Fee to the Investment Manager and the Performance Allocation to the Investment Manager, in its capacity as the Special Limited Partner. The Performance Allocation may create an incentive for the Investment Manager, as the Special Limited Partner, to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such Performance Allocation.

Soft Dollars

The Investment Manager's authority to use "soft dollar" credits generated by the Master Fund's securities transactions to pay for expenses that might otherwise have been borne by the Investment Manager or the Master Fund General Partner may give the Investment Manager an incentive to select brokers or dealers for Master Fund transactions, or to negotiate commission rates or other execution terms, in a manner that takes into account the soft dollar benefits received by the Investment Manager rather than giving exclusive consideration to the interests in the Master Fund. See "Brokerage and Custody."

No Separate Counsel

Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP (“Akin Gump”) serves as counsel to the Fund, the Master Fund, the Investment Manager, the Master Fund General Partner and certain of their Affiliates (the “Clients”) in connection with the formation of certain Clients, the offering of Shares as well as certain other matters for which the Clients may engage Akin Gump from time to time. Akin Gump disclaims any obligation to verify the Clients’ compliance with their obligations either under applicable law or the governing documents of the Fund. In acting as counsel to the Clients, Akin Gump has not represented and will not represent any shareholders nor does it purport to represent their interests. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders. In assisting in the preparation of this Memorandum, Akin Gump has relied on information provided by the Fund, the Investment Manager and the Master Fund General Partner and certain of the Fund’s other service providers (including, without limitation, biographical data, summaries of market conditions, the planned investment strategy of the Master Fund and the performance of the Master Fund, its investments or any predecessor Fund) without verification and does not express a view as to whether such information is accurate or complete.

Maples and Calder, P.O. Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands, acts as Cayman Islands legal counsel to the Fund, the Master Fund and the Master Fund General Partner. In connection with the Fund's offering of Shares and subsequent advice to the Fund, the Master Fund and the Master Fund General Partner, Maples and Calder will not be representing shareholders and/or limited partners. No independent legal counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders and/or limited partners. Maples and Calder's representation of the Fund is limited to specific matters as to which it has been consulted by the Fund. There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Master Fund as to which Maples and Calder has not been consulted. In addition, Maples and Calder does not undertake to monitor compliance by the Investment Manager and its affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Maples and Calder monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Maples and Calder's responsibility is limited to matters of Cayman Islands law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the Fund, there are times when the interests of shareholders/limited partners may differ from those of the Fund, the Master Fund and/or the Master Fund General Partner. Maples and Calder does not represent the shareholders’ and/or the limited partners’ interests in resolving these issues. In reviewing this Memorandum, Maples and Calder has relied upon information furnished to it by the Fund and has not investigated or verified the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Fund, the Master Fund and/or the Master Fund General Partner.

Non-Public Information

From time to time, the Investment Manager may come into possession of non-public information concerning specific companies although internal structures are in place to prevent the receipt of such information. Under applicable securities laws, this may limit the Investment Manager’s flexibility to buy or sell portfolio securities issued by such companies. The Master Fund’s investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager’s inability to use such information for investment purposes.

Directors

The Directors will at all times have regard to their obligations to act in the best interests of the Fund and its Shareholders so far as practicable. The Directors will seek to ensure that any conflict of interest is resolved fairly and in the interests of the Fund and its Shareholders.

The foregoing list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read this entire Memorandum and consult with their own legal, tax and financial advisers before deciding to invest in the Fund.

MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Directors are responsible for the overall management and control of the Fund in accordance with its Memorandum and Articles of Association. However, the Directors are not responsible for the day-to-day operations and administration of the Fund, nor are they responsible for making or approving any investment decisions having delegated such investment responsibilities to the Investment Manager pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement, and the day-to-day administrative functions to the Administrator pursuant to the Administration Agreement in accordance with their powers of delegation as set out in the Articles. The Directors will review, on a periodic basis, the performance of the Investment Manager and the Administrator.

Biographical information for each Director is set forth below.

Claire Kasumba. Claire serves as an independent director on a wide range of investment structures, including hedge funds, private equity funds, fund of funds and segregated portfolio companies. Claire joined Maples Fiduciary Services (Cayman) Limited (“Maples Fiduciary”), a regulated entity in the Cayman Islands, in 2016 and has over 10 years’ legal experience. Claire previously worked as an Associate in the Investment Funds team at Maples and Calder from 2011 where she focused on hedge fund and private equity structuring and formation. Prior to joining Maples and Calder, Claire worked at Nabarro LLP in London in the Funds and Indirect Real Estate team for over five years. During Claire's time at Nabarro LLP, she also completed a six month secondment in the legal department at Aviva Investors. Claire received a Bachelor of Arts degree with first class honours majoring in Economics and Law from the University of Leicester, UK and Göteborgs Universitet, Sweden in 2003. She received a Master of Laws in Commercial and Corporate Law from the University College London, UK. Claire completed her Legal Practice Course in 2005 from BPP Law School, UK. She has been admitted to practice law in England and Wales and the Cayman Islands. Claire also holds an Accredited Director designation from the Institute of Chartered Secretaries and Administrators Canada.

Martin Laufer. Martin works at Maples Fiduciary and serves as an independent director on a wide range of alternative investment funds, including fund of funds, hedge funds and unit trusts. Prior to joining Maples Fiduciary, Martin worked for BNY Mellon Fund Management (Cayman) Limited where he was the Financial Fund Manager from 2010 to 2016, providing fiduciary services to a multi-billion dollar portfolio of unit trusts operating as investment funds as well as administration services to a large portfolio of Cayman Islands domiciled hedge funds and fund of funds. Prior to that, Martin worked for CIBC Bank and Trust Company (Cayman) Limited as a Senior Client Accountant. From 2003 to 2007 Martin worked for KPMG Argentina as a Senior Consultant. Martin graduated from Buenos Aires University as a Certified Public Accountant and holds a Master of Business Administration from the International College of the Cayman Islands. He is a CFA Charterholder and a qualified Trust and Estate Practitioner. Martin is a member of the Society of Trust and Estate Practitioners (STEP), the Cayman Islands CFA Society and the Cayman Islands Institute of Professional Accountants (CIIPA).

Sophia Dilbert. Sophia Dilbert serves as an independent director on a wide range of alternative investment funds, including fund of funds, hedge funds, private equity funds and segregated portfolio companies. Sophia works at Maples Fiduciary, which she joined in 2012. Prior to joining Maples Fiduciary, Sophia was Global Head of Legal at Admiral Administration Ltd. in the Cayman Islands, starting there in 2007, where she was responsible for advising on all legal and regulatory matters. Sophia was also responsible for the implementation of global policies and procedures. Prior to that, Sophia worked for Stuart Walker Hersant as a senior associate in the Cayman Islands, specializing in investment funds and general corporate law. Sophia commenced her career with Maples and Calder where she spent eight years as an associate attorney specializing in capital markets and investment funds. Her area of practice also included general corporate and commercial law, real estate, immigration and employment matters. Sophia graduated from the University of Liverpool with a Bachelor of Laws with Honours. She is an Attorney-at-Law and is a member of the Caymanian Bar Association, the Cayman Islands Law Society and the Honourable Society of Middle Temple in the United Kingdom. Sophia has also received the Accredited Director designation from the Chartered Secretaries Canada and is a member of the Cayman Islands Directors Association and the Council of the Cayman Islands Stock Exchange.

The services of Claire Kasumba, Martin Laufer and Sophia Dilbert will be provided by Maples Fiduciary. Maples Fiduciary is an affiliate of Maples and Calder, who will be engaged as the Fund's legal counsel. Maples Fiduciary will enter into a Director Services Agreement with the Fund which sets out the terms on which it will provide the services of Claire Kasumba, Martin Laufer and Sophia Dilbert.

Maples Fiduciary will be entitled to remuneration from the Fund at its customary rates and for reimbursement of its out-of-pocket expenses, including all travelling, hotel and other expenses properly incurred by the Directors supplied by Maples Fiduciary in attending meetings of the Directors or any shareholders meeting held in connection with the business of the Fund.

The Directors provided by Maples Fiduciary are non-executive Directors of the Fund and are not required to devote their full time and attention to the business of the Fund. They may be engaged in any other business and/or be concerned or interested in or act as directors or officers of any other company or entity. Neither Maples Fiduciary nor any of the Directors supplied by Maples Fiduciary will be responsible for (i) the commercial structuring of the Fund or the Master Fund or the Master Fund's investment strategy, (ii) the purchase or sale of any investment on behalf of the Master Fund (which will be the responsibility solely of the Investment Manager), (iii) the valuation of the assets of the Master Fund and the Fund, or (iv) any loss or damage caused by the acts or omissions of the Investment Manager, the Administrator or any of their delegates or sub-delegates unless any such loss or damage is actually occasioned by the actual fraud, willful default or Gross Negligence (as defined in the Director Services Agreement) of the Directors supplied by Maples Fiduciary.

The Director Services Agreement provides that none of Maples Fiduciary nor any of the Directors provided by the Maples Group shall be liable to the Fund under or in connection with the Director Services Agreement in an amount of more than US$5,000,000, except in circumstances where such liability was caused by the actual fraud of Maples Fiduciary or, as the case may be, any of the Directors provided by the Maples Group.

The Articles do not stipulate a retirement age for the Directors and do not provide for retirement of the Directors by rotation. There is no shareholding qualification for the Directors. The Directors are empowered to exercise all of the borrowing powers of the Fund. The borrowing powers of the Fund may be varied by the Directors or by an amendment to the Articles.

The Articles provide that the Fund may, by Ordinary Resolution, remove a Director from office and may, by Ordinary Resolution, appoint a person who is willing to act to be a Director either to fill a vacancy or as an additional Director. The Directors may appoint any person who is willing to act to be a Director, either to fill a vacancy or as an additional Director, provided that the appointment does not cause the number of Directors to exceed any number fixed by or in accordance with the Articles as the maximum number of Directors.

The Articles further provide that the office of a Director shall be vacated if: (a) he becomes prohibited by law from being a Director; (b) he becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with his creditors generally; (c) he dies, or is, in the opinion of all his co-Directors, incapable by reason of mental disorder of discharging his duties as Director; (d) he resigns his office by notice to the Company; (e) he has for more than six consecutive months been absent without permission of the Directors from meetings of Directors held during that period and his alternate Director (if any) has not during such period attended any such meetings instead of him, and the Directors resolve that his office be vacated; or (f) he is removed from office by notice addressed to him at his last known address and signed by all his co-Directors.

The Articles provide that, so long as the nature of their interest is or has been declared at the earliest opportunity, a Director or prospective Director may enter into any contract or arrangement with the Fund and such contract or arrangement shall not be liable to be avoided and the Director concerned shall not be liable to account to the Fund for any profit realized by any such contract or arrangement by reason of his holding of that office or the fiduciary relationship so established and may hold any other office or place of profit with the Fund (except that of auditor) in conjunction with the office of Director on such terms as to tenure of office and otherwise as the Directors may determine. Provided that a Director has disclosed his material interest pursuant to the Articles, a Director may vote at any meeting of Directors or of a committee of Directors on any resolution concerning a matter in which he has, directly or indirectly, an interest or duty. The Director shall be counted in the quorum present at a meeting when any such resolution is under consideration and if he votes his vote shall be counted.

As at the date of this Memorandum, no Director nor any connected person has any interest, beneficial or non-beneficial, in the share capital of the Fund nor any material interest in the Shares of the Fund nor any options in respect of such Shares nor in any agreement or arrangement with the Fund. Other than the Investment Management Agreement, there are no contracts or arrangements subsisting at the date of this Memorandum in which a Director of the Fund is materially interested and which is significant in relation to the business of the Fund. There are no loans or guarantees provided by the Fund to or for the benefit of the Directors as at the date of this Memorandum.

Other than the Investment Management Agreement, no Director has any direct or indirect interest in any contract or arrangement that was either unusual in its nature or significant to the business of the Fund in previous years and remains outstanding.

The Articles provide certain rights of exculpation and indemnification in favor of Directors and officers of the Fund against legal liability and expenses if such persons did not, in connection with the matter giving rise to a particular claim, engage in gross negligence or willful default in the performance of their duties.

The Directors may change any of the Fund's service providers, including the Fund's auditors, without the consent of the Shareholders. In addition, the remuneration being paid to service providers by the Fund (and any other term of their respective service agreements) may be amended by the mutual consent of the Directors and the relevant service providers. This may be necessary from time to time to keep such remuneration in line with the prevailing market rates being charged.

INVESTMENT MANAGER

The Fund's Investment Manager is Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed on April 13, 2017. The Investment Manager is responsible for overseeing the investment of the Fund's assets (through the Master Fund) and the distribution of the Shares, subject to the overall control of the Master Fund General Partner. With the approval of the Master Fund General Partner, the Investment Manager may delegate certain of its duties to other companies and entities, which may be affiliated with, or independent of, the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager has power to terminate such appointments and to make other appointments in place of them.

The Investment Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership and a registered investment adviser with the U.S. Securities Exchange Commission (CRD# 110126 / SEC# 801-54874). As an advisory affiliate of Highland Capital Management, L.P., the Investment Manager is also subject to compliance with the provisions of the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

The Investment Manager is not required to be licensed in the Cayman Islands because it is providing investment management services exclusively to persons that fall within an exemption under the Securities Investment Business Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands. Accordingly, the Investment Manager has filed an initial declaration of exemption with the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority and will update that filing on an annual basis. The Investment Manager will not provide investment services to any class of person that would require it to be licensed under the Securities Investment Business Law (Revised) without first obtaining such a license. The Investment Manager does not envisage obtaining such a license.

The Investment Manager engaged Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (“Highland Latin America”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Investment Manager, to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager related to its management of the Fund, subject to the Services Agreement. The Fund will not be liable for any consulting services provided by Highland Latin America or any consultants or service providers that Highland Latin America engages.

The key investment professionals of the Investment Manager and Highland Latin America who are responsible for the Master Fund’s investment activities are described below:

James Dondero, CFA, CMA, President, Co-Founder. Mr. Dondero is Co-Founder and President of Highland Capital Management, L.P. and a Director of Highland Latin America GP, Ltd., the general partner of the Investment Manager. Mr. Dondero has over 30 years of experience in the credit and equity markets, focused largely on high-yield and distressed investing. Mr. Dondero is the Chairman and President of NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc. (NYSE:NYRT), Chairman of NexBank Capital, Inc., Cornerstone Healthcare Group Holding, Inc., and CCS Medical, Inc., and a board member of Jernigan Capital, Inc. (NYSE:JCAP), and MGM Holdings, Inc. He also serves on the Southern Methodist University Cox School of Business Executive Board. A dedicated philanthropist, Mr. Dondero actively supports initiatives in education, veterans affairs, and public policy. Prior to founding Highland in 1993, Mr. Dondero was involved in creating the GIC subsidiary of Protective Life, where as Chief Investment Officer he helped take the company from inception to over $2 billion between 1989 and 1993. Between 1985 and 1989, Mr. Dondero was a corporate bond analyst and then portfolio manager at American Express. Mr. Dondero began his career in 1984 as an analyst in the JP Morgan training program. Mr. Dondero graduated from the University of Virginia where he earned highest honors (Beta Gamma Sigma, Beta Alpha Psi) from the McIntire School of Commerce with dual majors in accounting and finance. He has received certification as Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and Certified Managerial Accountant (CMA) and has earned the right to use the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation.

Gustavo Prilick. Mr. Prilick is a Managing Partner at Highland Capital Brasil and a registered asset manager in Brazil, and is a Director of Highland Latin America GP, Ltd., the general partner of the Investment Manager. He has extensively worked in several of Highland Capital Brasil’s portfolio companies in the US mainly as CEO. Prior to his involvement with Highland Capital Brasil, he was a Partner at South America Fund, a private equity firm, mainly focused on providing financial services to export companies in Argentina and Uruguay. Prior to South America Fund, he was the Chief Operating Officer of Millicom International Cellular for 7 years, serving Latin America, Asia, Africa and ten operations in Russia. Prior to Millicom, he served as the Director of International Business for Oracle Corporation where he was responsible for the establishment of most of Oracle’s International Subsidiaries on several continents, including the Brazilian operation. Later he became President of Oracle South America with oversight of several countries in South America. He also served as CEO of Nacion Factoring, a subsidiary of Banco Nacion in Argentina building its operations to reach one of the leading positions in the country. Mr. Prilick received an MBA from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business and a degree in Electrical Engineering from Universidad de Buenos Aires. He has also held teaching positions as a visiting professor in several leading Business Schools in Argentina.

Highland Latin America will enter into relationships and agreements with Argentine relevant parties and/or individuals to obtain supporting services for the management of the Fund, the Domestic Fund and the Master Fund, and will enter into consulting agreements with Andrés Pitchón, Julieta Prieto and Javier Casabal pursuant to which these consultants will provide investment and related services to the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund. Mr. Pitchón will provide portfolio management services to the Master Fund under the overall supervision of the Investment Manager.

Andrés Pitchón. Mr. Pitchón, through a consulting arrangement with Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., provides portfolio management services to the Master Fund. Mr. Pitchón began his career in 1993 as Head of Equity Research for Argentina for MBA-Salomon Brothers and later he also became responsible for Fixed income. As Head of the Research Department his work was recognized by international publications such as Institutional Investor, Latin Finance, The Reuters Survey and The Greenwich Survey. Since 1997 and 1999 he has managed the Fund's equity and fixed income mutual funds. Since 2003 Mr. Pitchón had been Senior Portfolio Manager of the Fund's hedge funds. Mr. Pitchón received a BA degree in IT, focused on Business Administration from the University of Belgrano (1989), together with an academic merit medal for highest GPA in the School of Technology. Mr. Pitchón also received a Master's degree in Business Administration from Anderson Graduate School of Business at UCLA in 1992.

Investment Management Agreement

Under the Investment Management Agreement among the Investment Manager, the Master Fund General Partner, the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund, the Investment Manager has agreed to provide investment management and distribution services to the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund in accordance with the investment objective and strategies of the Master Fund, and the selling restrictions, set forth above. The Directors have delegated the following list of authorities to the Investment Manager under the Investment Management Agreement (to be exercised in consultation with the Directors): (i) authority to approve the rescission of a request for voluntary redemption submitted by a Shareholder; (ii) authority to waive any applicable requirements and restrictions in relation to the redemption of Shares by any Shareholder; (iii) authority to waive certain eligibility requirements with respect to any new subscription for participating shares or the transfer of Shares; (iv) authority to waive any of the subscription requirements as set out in this Memorandum with respect to any new subscription for Shares; (v) authority to permit a Shareholder to redeem its Shares at any time in the event that continuing to hold the Shares becomes impractical or illegal, upon a Shareholder's death or total disability, or in order for a Shareholder to avoid materially adverse tax or regulatory consequences; (vi) authority to make in-kind distributions of Fund assets; (vii) authority to approve the establishment of reserves for contingencies and distribution holdbacks; (viii) authority to approve Side Letters; (ix) authority to accept subscriptions below the minimum subscription amount; and (x) authority to accept redemptions of Shares outside the frequency established by the Memorandum and Articles of the Fund.

Under the terms of the Investment Management Agreement, the Fund pays to the Investment Manager, for its services as Investment Manager, a quarterly “Management Fee” as described below.

Management Fee for Series A Shares

The Management Fee is an amount equal to 1.75% per annum of the Net Asset Value of each Series A Share. The Management Fee is calculated monthly based on the Net Asset Value of each Series A Share on the last day of each calendar month (before issuing new Series A Shares related to subscriptions made as of the first day of the immediately succeeding month and before redemptions, if any, made during such calendar month and before deduction of the Management Fee for such quarter) and is payable quarterly in arrears on the last day of each calendar quarter. The Management Fee is paid at the Master Fund level. The Master Fund will pay the Management Fee in U.S. Dollars promptly following the end of each calendar quarter. The Management Fee will be deducted in computing the net profit or net loss of the Fund attributed to the Series A Shares. In the event that the Investment Manager is not acting as Investment Manager for an entire calendar quarter, the Management Fee payable by the Master Fund for such calendar quarter will be prorated to reflect the portion of such calendar quarter in which the Investment Manager is acting as such under the Investment Management Agreement.

The Master Fund General Partner or the Investment Manager may elect to reduce, waive or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to any Shareholder. The Investment Manager may assign all or any portion of the Management Fee to any of its affiliates or any other person designated by the Investment Manager in its discretion.

Management Fee for Series B Shares

The Management Fee is an amount equal to 1.25% per annum of the Net Asset Value of each Series B Share. The Management Fee is calculated monthly based on the Net Asset Value of each Series B Share on the last day of each calendar month (before issuing new Series B Shares related to subscriptions made as of the first day of the immediately succeeding month and before redemptions, if any, made during such calendar month and before deduction of the Management Fee for such quarter) and is payable quarterly in arrears on the last day of each calendar quarter. The Management Fee is paid at the Master Fund level. The Master Fund will pay the Management Fee in U.S. Dollars promptly following the end of each calendar quarter. The Management Fee will be deducted in computing the net profit or net loss of the Fund attributed to the Series B Shares. In the event that the Investment Manager is not acting as Investment Manager for an entire calendar quarter, the Management Fee payable by the Master Fund for such calendar quarter will be prorated to reflect the portion of such calendar quarter in which the Investment Manager is acting as such under the Investment Management Agreement.

The Master Fund General Partner or the Investment Manager may elect to reduce, waive or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to any Shareholder. The Investment Manager may assign all or any portion of the Management Fee to any of its affiliates or any other person designated by the Investment Manager in its discretion.

Performance Allocation for Series A Shares

Generally, as of the close of each fiscal quarter and subject to the limitations described below, the Performance Allocation is debited against each applicable Master Fund capital sub-account relating to a sub-series of Series A Shares attributable to a Shareholder and simultaneously credited to the Master Fund capital account of the Special Limited Partner. The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is effectively equal to 20.0% of the Net Capital Appreciation (as defined below) of each Series A Share for such fiscal quarter.

The “Net Capital Appreciation” applicable to a Series A Share means the amount by which the Net Asset Value of such Series A Share on the last day of the fiscal quarter (or on the Redemption Day, if applicable) exceeds the higher of the following amounts: (i) the highest Net Asset Value of such Series A Share as of the commencement of any fiscal quarter and (ii) the issue price of such Series A Share (the amount set forth in clause (i) or clause (ii), whichever is higher, the “High Water Mark”). All such calculations include realized and unrealized gains and losses and are made before deduction of the Performance Allocation, but after deduction of the accrued applicable expenses of the Fund and the Master Fund for the applicable period, and in each case adjusted for any subscriptions and redemptions made during the quarter.

Once the Performance Allocation is made to the Special Limited Partner, it will not be returned to the Master Fund if the Net Asset Value of the Series A Shares on which a Performance Allocation has previously been made subsequently declines. The Performance Allocation is allocated based on both realized and unrealized appreciation.

Performance Allocation for Series B Shares

Generally, as of the close of each fiscal quarter and subject to the limitations described below, the Performance Allocation is debited against each applicable Master Fund capital sub-account relating to a sub-series of Series B Shares attributable to a Shareholder and simultaneously credited to the Master Fund capital account of the Special Limited Partner. The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is effectively equal to 17.5% of the Net Capital Appreciation (as defined below) of each Series B Share for such fiscal quarter.

The “Net Capital Appreciation” applicable to a Series B Share means the amount by which the Net Asset Value of such Series B Share on the last day of the fiscal quarter (or on the Redemption Day, if applicable) exceeds the higher of the following amounts: (i) the highest Net Asset Value of such Series B Share as of the commencement of any fiscal quarter and (ii) the issue price of such Series B Share (the amount set forth in clause (i) or clause (ii), whichever is higher, the “High Water Mark”). All such calculations include realized and unrealized gains and losses and are made before deduction of the Performance Allocation, but after deduction of the accrued applicable expenses of the Fund and the Master Fund for the applicable period, and in each case adjusted for any subscriptions and redemptions made during the quarter.

Once the Performance Allocation is made to the Special Limited Partner, it will not be returned to the Master Fund if the Net Asset Value of the Series B Shares on which a Performance

Allocation has previously been made subsequently declines. The Performance Allocation is allocated based on both realized and unrealized appreciation.

Performance Allocation – General

The Special Limited Partner may assign all or any portion of the Performance Allocation to any of its affiliates or any other person designated by the Special Limited Partner in its discretion.

The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level through the use of separate memorandum sub-accounts with respect to the Fund's capital account in the Master Fund that correspond to each sub-series of the relevant Series of Shares attributable to a Shareholder. No separate Performance Allocation will be charged at the Fund level.

The Performance Allocation generally will be allocable to the Special Limited Partner after the end of each fiscal quarter and as of any Redemption Day occurring prior to the end of any fiscal quarter. The Performance Allocation allocated with respect to any Series of Shares redeemed prior to the end of a fiscal quarter will be determined solely by reference to such redeemed Shares and will be allocable to the Special Limited Partner on the Redemption Day. The Performance Allocation with respect to any Shareholder may be fully or partially waived or rebated by the Master Fund General Partner in its sole discretion.

The Investment Management Agreement provides that, in the absence of gross negligence (as defined under the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud, each of the Investment Manager, its members, shareholders, partners, managers, directors, any person who controls the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, and each of their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors and other legal representatives, will be indemnified by the Fund, the Domestic Fund and/or the Master Fund, to the extent permitted by law, against any loss or liability incurred by any of such persons in performing their duties under the Investment Management Agreement.

The Investment Management Agreement is terminable upon the dissolution of any Feeder Fund or the Master Fund or by the holder of the management shares of the Fund upon at least 90 days' prior notice.

Services Agreement

Under the Services Agreement between Highland Latin America and the Investment Manager, Highland Latin America has agreed to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager related to its management of the Fund, the Domestic Fund and the Master Fund. These services include: back- and middle-office services; credit analysis; investment vehicle management; valuation; execution and documentation; marketing; reporting; administrative services; and other ancillary services.

The Services Agreement provides that in the absence of bad faith, gross negligence, fraud or willful misconduct (as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction in a final non-appealable judgment), the Investment Manager will, to the extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless Highland Latin America, any of its affiliates, and any of their respective managers, members, principals, partners, directors, officers, shareholders, employees and agents against any and all claims, demands, liabilities, costs, expenses, damages, losses, suits, proceedings, judgments, assessments, actions and other liabilities incurred by such person in performing their duties under the Services Agreement. The Fund will not be liable for any consulting services provided by Highland Latin America or any consultants or service providers that Highland Latin America engages, and the Fund will not bear any costs or expenses related to the services provided by Highland Latin America.

The Services Agreement will terminate (i) automatically upon the dissolution of the Investment Manager or (ii) at the election of either the Investment Manager or Highland Latin America upon 30 days' notice to the other party.

ADMINISTRATOR

Pursuant to an administration agreement ("Administration Agreement"), the Master Fund has appointed MUFG Fund Services (Cayman) Limited as administrator of the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund (the "Administrator").

MUFG Fund Services is a leading, independent administrator for the alternative investment industry. The Administrator is a Cayman Islands company that is licensed as a Mutual Fund Administrator in the Cayman Islands. It is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of MUFG Fund Services (Bermuda) Group Limited. The registered office of the Administrator is 2nd Floor Strathvale House, 90 North Church Street, P.O. Box 609, George Town, Grand Cayman KY1-1107, Cayman Islands.

Pursuant to the Administration Agreement, the Administrator is responsible, under the overall supervision of the Master Fund General Partner, for certain matters pertaining to the administration for the Fund, including: (i) maintaining the accounts of the Fund and the Master Fund, (ii) calculating the Master Fund's net asset value, (iii) maintaining the principal corporate records of the Fund and the Master Fund, (iv) communicating with Shareholders, (v) accepting the subscriptions of new Shareholders, (vi) making redemptions of Shares, (vii) maintaining the register of sub-fund investments, (viii) executing sub-fund subscriptions and redemptions as instructed by the Fund, and (ix) ensuring compliance with Cayman Islands law and regulation (including anti-money laundering regulations). For its services, the Administrator receives a fee from the Master Fund.

The Administration Agreement is governed by the law of the Cayman Islands and is subject to termination by the Administrator or the Master Fund upon ninety (90) days' written notice or, under certain circumstances, shorter notice. In such event, the Master Fund may enter into a new agreement with a new administrator on behalf of the Master Fund and the Feeder Funds, in its discretion and on such terms as it deems advisable, without prior notice to, or approval of, investors. Under the Administration Agreement, the Master Fund agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Administrator and its affiliated persons and delegates, as well as their respective officers, directors, employees and agents for, and to defend and hold each such person harmless from, any and all taxes, claims, demands, actions, suits, judgments, liabilities, losses, damages, costs, charges, counsel fees (on a solicitor and his own client basis), fines, assessments, amounts paid in settlement and expenses imposed on, incurred by, or asserted against the person which may arise out of or in connection with the Administration Agreement. The Administrator or any other indemnified person will not be indemnified for their own gross negligence, wilful default or fraud.

The Administrator is not responsible for valuing the Master Fund's investments, monitoring any investment restrictions of the Master Fund, determining compliance by the Master Fund with its investment restrictions, the Master Fund's trading activities, the management or performance of the Master Fund, or the accuracy or adequacy of this Memorandum. In addition, the Administrator does not assume any liability to any person or entity, including Shareholders, except as specifically provided in the Administration Agreement. The Administrator may delegate certain services and share information concerning the Fund and its Shareholders with its various non-United States affiliates subject to applicable confidentiality provisions.

The Administrator has no responsibility with respect to trading activities, the Investment Manager, the management or performance of the Fund, or the accuracy or adequacy of this Memorandum.

BROKERAGE AND CUSTODY

Brokerage Arrangements

The Investment Manager will be responsible for the placement of the portfolio transactions of the Master Fund and the negotiation of any commissions or spreads paid on such transactions. Portfolio transactions normally will be effected through brokers on securities exchanges or directly with the issuer, or through an underwriter, or market maker or other dealer for the investments. Portfolio transactions through brokers involve a commission to the broker. Portfolio transactions with dealers typically are priced to include a spread between the bid and the asked price to compensate the dealer. Portfolio transactions will be executed by brokers selected solely by the Investment Manager in its absolute discretion. The Investment Manager is not required to weigh any of these factors equally.

Substantially all of the Master Fund's investments in marketable securities, as well as its cash and cash equivalents, are expected to be held at Société Générale and BNP Paribas Prime Brokerage, Inc. or other prime brokers or custodians selected by the Investment Manager. Instruments not constituting marketable securities generally are recorded through book entry by the borrower or by an agent for the borrower or the creditors. Documentary evidence of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of these assets typically will be held by the Administrator.

Société Générale and BNP Paribas Prime Brokerage, Inc. and other prime brokers or their affiliates may provide capital introduction or other placement services to the Fund and the Investment Manager (with or without separate charges for such other services). In determining which broker-dealer generally provides the best available price and most favorable execution, the Investment Manager considers a totality of circumstances, including price quotes, the size of the transaction, the nature of the market for the financial instrument, the timing of the transaction, difficulty of execution, the broker-dealer's expertise in the specific financial instrument or sector in which the Master Fund seeks to trade, the extent to which the broker-dealer makes a market in the financial instrument involved or has access to such markets, the broker-dealer's skill in positioning the financial instruments involved, the broker-dealer's promptness of execution, the broker-dealer's financial stability, reputation for diligence, fairness and integrity, quality of service rendered by the broker-dealer in other transactions for the Investment Manager and its respective affiliates, confidentiality considerations, the quality and usefulness of research services and investment ideas presented by the broker-dealer, the broker-dealer's willingness to correct errors, the broker-dealer's ability to accommodate any special execution or order handling requirements that may surround the particular transaction, and other factors deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager need not solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost or spread.

Accordingly, if the Investment Manager concludes that the commissions charged by a broker or the spreads applied by a dealer are reasonable in relation to the quality of services rendered by such broker or dealer (including, without limitation, the value of the brokerage and research products or services provided by such broker or dealer), the Master Fund may pay commissions to, or be subject to spreads applied by, such broker-dealer in an amount greater than the amount another broker-dealer might charge or apply.

The Investment Manager may also execute trades with brokers and dealers with whom the Fund, the Master Fund or the Investment Manager has other business relationships, including prime brokerage, credit relationships and capital introduction or investments by affiliates of the broker-dealers in the Fund or other entities managed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager does not believe that these other relationships will influence the choice of brokers and dealers who execute trades for the Master Fund.

Research-related goods and services provided by brokers and dealers through which portfolio transactions for the Master Fund are executed, settled and cleared may include research reports on particular industries and companies, economic surveys and analyses, recommendations as to specific securities, certain research services, and other goods and services providing lawful and appropriate assistance to the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities on behalf of the Master Fund and related accounts (collectively, "soft dollar items").

Soft dollar items may be provided directly by brokers and dealers, by third parties at the direction of brokers and dealers or purchased on behalf of the Master Fund with credits or rebates provided by brokers and dealers. Soft dollar items may arise from over-the-counter principal transactions, as well as exchange traded agency transactions. Brokers and dealers sometimes suggest a level of business they would like to receive in return for the various services they provide. Actual business received by any broker or dealer may be less than the suggested allocations, but can (and often does) exceed the suggestions, because total transaction volume is allocated on the basis of all the considerations described above. A broker or dealer will not be excluded from executing transactions for the Master Fund because it has not been identified as providing soft dollar items.

The use of commissions or "soft dollars" if any, generated by the Master Fund through agency and certain riskless principal transactions to pay for research and research-related products or services, if any, will fall within the safe harbor created by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Under Section 28(e), research products or services obtained with soft dollars generated by the Master Fund may be used by the Investment Manager to service accounts other than the Master Fund. Soft dollars generated in respect of futures, currency and derivatives transactions and principal transactions (that are not riskless principal transactions) do not generally fall within the safe harbor created by Section 28(e) and will be utilized only with respect to research-related products and services for the benefit of the account generating such soft dollars.

Research and brokerage products and services may be used by the Investment Manager in servicing some or all of the Investment Manager's clients. In addition, some research and brokerage may not be used by the Investment Manager in servicing the clients whose commission dollars provided for the research or brokerage. Clients may not, in any particular instance, be the direct or indirect beneficiaries of the research or brokerage provided. Certain clients, who are the beneficiaries of research or brokerage, may have an investment style which results in the generation of a small amount of brokerage commissions due to a lack of active trading for their accounts. As a result, clients who generate sizeable commissions subsidize research or brokerage provided to clients whose accounts generate minimal brokerage commissions since the commission dollars generated by transactions for such clients are not sufficient to pay for research or brokerage that may be received by such clients from other brokers.

In selecting broker-dealers on the basis of the foregoing factors, the Investment Manager may pay a brokerage commission in excess of that which another broker might have charged for effecting the same transaction. In connection therewith, the Investment Manager will make a good faith determination that the amount of commission is reasonable in relation to the value of the research or brokerage services received, viewed in terms of either the specific transaction or the Investment Manager's overall responsibility to its clients. The Investment Manager will regularly evaluate the placement of brokerage services and the reasonableness of commissions paid. Research received from brokers will be supplemental to the Investment Manager's own research efforts. While the receipt of research will not reduce the Investment Manager's normal research activities, the Investment Manager's expenses could increase materially if it attempted to generate such additional research or brokerage services through its own staff, and the Management Fee will not be reduced as a consequence of the receipt of such research or brokerage services or products. As such, the Investment Manager's arrangements for the receipt of research and brokerage services from brokers may create a conflict of interest, in that the Investment Manager may have an incentive to choose a broker-dealer that provides research and brokerage services, instead of one that does not but charges a lower commission rate. In some instances, the Investment Manager receives products and services that may be used for both research and non-research purposes. In such instances, the Investment Manager will make a good faith effort to determine the relative proportion of the products and services used to assist the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution, including research and brokerage, and the relative proportion used for administrative or other non-research purposes. The proportionate amount of the research attributable to assisting the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution will be paid through brokerage commissions generated by the Master Fund's and other client's transactions; the proportionate amount attributable to administrative or other non-research purposes will be paid for by the Investment Manager from its own resources. The receipt of "mixed-use" research and the determination of the appropriate allocation may result in a potential conflict of interest between the Investment Manager and its clients, including the Master Fund.

Custody

The majority of the Master Fund's securities are held in the custody of its prime brokers. The Master Fund is eligible for insurance coverage against loss with respect to assets held in the custody of the prime brokers in the event of the bankruptcy or liquidation of either of the prime brokers to the same extent as that broker's other customers. The Master Fund's and the Fund's cash may be held at banks as well as the prime brokers. Ownership interests which are not represented by certificates generally will be recorded through book-entry systems maintained by the issuer or its agent, and the underlying documentation relating to the acquisition and disposition of these assets for the account of the Master Fund will be held at the business offices of the Investment Manager.

PAYMENTS TO SERVICE PROVIDERS OF THE FUND

The Investment Manager may pay (or cause to be paid) fees to persons (whether or not affiliated with the Investment Manager) who are instrumental in the sale of Shares in the Fund. Any such fees will in no event be payable by or chargeable to the Fund or any Shareholder or prospective Shareholder.

EXPENSES

Operating Expenses

The Fund will bear all costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Fund's operations. The Fund also bears its pro rata share of the cost of the Master Fund's operations and investments as provided in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. Expenses payable by the Fund in connection with the Master Fund's investment program, include, but are not limited to, brokerage commissions, other expenses related to buying and selling securities (including trading errors that are not the result of the Investment Manager's gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud), costs of due diligence regardless of whether a particular transaction is consummated, the costs of attending shareholder meetings, research expenses, and costs related to monitoring investments (collectively, the "investment-related expenses"). Expenses payable by the Fund in connection with its operations include, but are not limited to, fees and expenses of advisers and consultants; the Management Fee; fees and expenses of any custodians, escrow or transfer agents or other investment-related service providers; indemnification expenses and the cost of insurance against potential indemnification liabilities; interest and other borrowing expenses; legal, administrative, accounting, tax, audit and insurance expenses; expenses of preparing and distributing reports, financial statements and notices to Shareholders; litigation or other extraordinary expenses; any withholding, transfer or other taxes payable by the Fund (including any interest and penalties); and the cost of periodically updating the Memorandum. The Fund will not bear any placement agent fees.

If the Master Fund General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, incurs any expenses for both the Master Fund and one or more Other Accounts (as defined below), the Master Fund General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, will allocate such expenses among the Master Fund and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expenses relate, or in such other manner as the Master General Partner considers fair and reasonable.

“Other Account” means any assets or investment of the Master Fund General Partner or the Investment Manager, or any assets managed by the Master Fund General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates for the account of any person or entity (including investment vehicles) other than the Master Fund, which are invested or which are available for investment in securities or other instruments or for trading activities whether or not of the specific type being conducted by the Master Fund.

DESCRIPTION OF THE FUND'S SHARES

GENERAL

The authorized share capital of the Fund is US$50,000 divided into 100 Management Shares and 4,999,900 Shares, which may be issued in Series. Subject to the provisions of the Articles, the unissued Shares of the Fund are under the control of the Directors who may issue, allot and dispose of or grant options over them to such persons, or on such terms and in such manner as they may think fit and no member has any pre-emptive right to purchase such Shares.

MANAGEMENT SHARES

100 Management Shares are in issue, fully paid and held by the Investment Manager. The Management Shares are not transferable without the prior written consent of the Directors, who do not intend to give such consent except in respect of transfers to affiliates of the Investment Manager. The Management Shares have the entire voting power of the Fund except on a variation of rights issue. However, they do not entitle the holder to participate in the Fund's profits and losses and they are not redeemable. Upon the winding up of the Fund, the holders of Management Shares are entitled to receive their paid in capital of US$0.01 per Management Share.

SHARES

The holders of the Shares have no right to receive notice of or to attend or to vote at general meetings of the Fund and have no other voting rights (except on a variation of rights issue – see the Section below entitled “Rights of Shareholders”) but they are entitled to receive, to the exclusion of the holders of the Management Shares, any dividends that may be declared by the Fund and, upon the winding up of the Fund, the full amount of the assets of the Fund available for the distribution (after all debts and liabilities of the Fund have been paid) will be distributed to registered holders of Shares other than the paid in capital in respect of the Management Shares of US$0.01 per Management Share. Shares, when issued, will be fully paid. Within each Series, all Shares (excluding Management Shares) of the Fund have equal dividend, distribution and liquidation rights.

Any dividend which cannot be paid to a Shareholder and/or which remains unclaimed after six months from the date of declaration of such dividend may, in the discretion of the Directors, be paid into a separate account in the Fund's name, provided that the Fund shall not be constituted as a trustee in respect of that account and the dividend shall remain as a debt due to the Shareholder. Any dividend which remains unclaimed after a period of six years from the date of declaration of such dividend shall be forfeited and shall revert to the Fund.

The issue of the Series A Shares was authorized by resolution of the Directors passed on May 22, 2006. The Series A Shares each have a par value of US$0.01 per share and carry identical rights.

The issue of the Series B Shares was authorized by resolution of the Directors passed on February 28, 2013. The Series B Shares each have a par value of US$0.01 per share and carry identical rights.

The Directors may designate further Series of Shares in the future that will be attributable to the single underlying portfolio of the Fund (held through the Master Fund). Each additional Series of Shares may be offered on different terms from the Shares being offered pursuant to this Memorandum (including the offering of Shares in a different currency) and any additional Series of Shares may rank in priority to, or equally with, the outstanding Series of Shares, but within each new Series, all Shares will have equal dividend, distribution and liquidation rights. Additionally, the Fund may, for administrative convenience, issue sub-series of Shares, and in this Memorandum, unless the context requires otherwise, references in this Memorandum to the term “Series” shall include any sub-series derived from that Series.

RECORDS

The Fund shall establish in its books a separate record with its own distinct designation for each Series of Shares. The proceeds from the allotment and issue of each Series of Shares shall be applied in the books of the Fund to the record established for that Series of Shares. The assets, profits, gains, income and liabilities, losses and expenses attributable to a particular Series shall be applied to the record relating to such Series at the end of each fiscal period – see the Section headed “Financial Information and Reports – Fiscal Periods” below.

RIGHTS OF SHAREHOLDERS

All shareholders are entitled to the benefit of, are bound by and are deemed to have notice of the provisions of the Memorandum and Articles of the Fund.

Under the terms of the Fund’s Memorandum of Association and Articles, the liability of the Shareholders is limited to any amount unpaid on their Shares. As the Shares can only be issued if they are fully paid, the Shareholders will not be liable for any debt, obligation or default of the Fund beyond their interest in the Fund.

The Fund’s objects are set out in clause 3 of its Memorandum of Association and are unrestricted.

The Fund’s Articles have been drafted in broad and flexible terms to allow the Directors the authority to, in their discretion, determine a number of issues including the period of notice to be given for redemptions and whether or not to charge subscription or redemption fees, generally or in any particular case. In approving the offering of Shares on the terms set out in this Memorandum, the Directors have exercised a number of these discretions in accordance with the Fund’s Articles.

As an exempted company, the Fund is not required to hold scheduled annual general meetings of Shareholders. General meetings of the holders of Management Shares may be called by the Directors and will be called at the request of the holders of Management Shares holding a simple majority of the outstanding Management Shares in issue. All meetings of the holders of Management Shares will be held in the Cayman Islands, or such other location as the Directors will determine. All meetings of the holders of Management Shares require 7 days' prior notice. Notice may be sent by hand, mail, fax or email, or alternatively, where the recipient has agreed, by posting the notice on a secure nominated web-site.

Except where a Special Resolution is otherwise required by the Companies Law, all decisions of the holders of Management Shares will be made by an Ordinary Resolution, provided that a quorum of the holders of one-third of the Management Shares is present by proxy or in person at the meeting. Any matter referred to herein may also be adopted by resolution in writing of all the holders of Management Shares.

The rights attaching to any Series of Shares may, whether or not the Fund is being wound up, be varied with the consent in writing of the holders of two-thirds of the issued Shares of that Series, or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a two-thirds majority of the holders of the issued Shares of that Series, at a separate meeting of the holders of the Shares of that Series.

Any Series of Shares may be converted into a different Series of Shares with the consent in writing of the holders of two-thirds of the issued Shares of that Series, or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a two-thirds majority of the holders of the issued Shares of that Series, at a separate meeting of the holders of the Shares of that Series.

Further, subject to and in so far as permitted by the provisions of the Companies Law, the Fund may from time to time by Ordinary Resolution alter or amend its memorandum of association to: increase its share capital by such sum as the resolution shall prescribe and with such rights, priorities and privileges annexed thereto as set out in such Ordinary Resolution; consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into shares of larger amounts than its existing shares; convert all or any of its paid-up shares into stock and reconvert that stock into paid-up shares of any denomination; sub-divide its existing shares, or any of them, into shares of smaller amounts than is fixed by the Memorandum; and cancel any shares which, at the date of the passing of the resolution, have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person, and diminish the amount of its share capital by the amount of the shares so cancelled.

The Shares have no conversion or pre-emptive rights. All Shares of the Fund, when duly issued, will be fully paid and non-assessable.

From time to time, the Fund, by an Ordinary Resolution, may increase its authorized share capital in order to have a substantial number of Shares available at all times for issuance.

The Memorandum of Association and the Articles may be amended, and the Fund may be wound up at any time, upon the passing of a Special Resolution by the holders of the Management Shares.

SUBSCRIPTION, REDEMPTION AND TRANSFER OF SHARES

SUBSCRIPTION FOR SHARES

Offering of Shares

The Fund is conducting an offering of its Series A Shares and Series B Shares to a limited number of experienced and sophisticated investors who are Eligible Investors. The purchase of Series A Shares and Series B Shares is not open to the general public and Series A Shares and Series B Shares will be privately offered only to Eligible Investors. The description of an Eligible Investor is set forth in the Subscription Documents.

The minimum initial and subsequent investment for the Series A Shares and Series B Shares is US$500,000 or, in each case, such other amount as the Investment Manager may in its sole discretion determine in respect of a particular Shareholder or group of Shareholders, subject to the Listing Rules of the Exchange but not below US$100,000 in respect of Series B Shares.

The Series A Shares are to be listed on the Exchange by way of an offer for subscription.

The Fund has not applied for the Series B Shares to be admitted to: (i) the Official List of The International Stock Exchange; or (ii) listing on any other stock exchange, and no such application is proposed or expected to be made.

Offer Price, Initial and Subsequent Issuance

The Series A Shares and Series B Shares offered pursuant to this Memorandum are available for issue to Eligible Investors at a Subscription Price based on the Net Asset Value per Share of such Series on the Valuation Day that occurs after the Subscription Documents are received and approved by the Fund and immediately preceding the relevant Subscription Day, as calculated in accordance with the Articles and described herein.

Shares will be issued on each Subscription Day at the Directors' sole discretion. Applications for Shares must be received by 5 pm (Cayman Islands time) no later than the first Business Day before each Subscription Day and payment for such subscriptions (inclusive of any initial charge) must be received by the Administrator in cleared funds in U.S. Dollars at least no later than the Business Day before each Subscription Day in order for Shares to be issued on such Subscription Day. If any application or payment is received late it will be dealt with on the next Subscription Day.

Payment

Payment for Shares must be made in cash by electronic transfer, net of bank charges, and is due in cleared funds in U.S. Dollars. Payment must be sent to the bank details noted on the Subscription Documents.

The Directors may however accept subscriptions in kind. No subscriptions in kind will be accepted unless the Directors are satisfied that:

- (i) the investments to be transferred are valued in accordance with the valuation provisions set out in the Articles and summarized herein; and
- (ii) the terms of any such transfer shall not materially prejudice the remaining Shareholders.

In the event that subscription monies are received in any currency other than U.S. Dollars, conversion into U.S. Dollars will be arranged by the Administrator at the risk and expense of the applicant. Any bank charges in respect of electronic transfers will be deducted from subscriptions and the net amount only invested in Shares.

Prevention of Money Laundering

In order to comply with legislation or regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering, the Fund is required to adopt and maintain anti-money laundering procedures, and may require subscribers to provide evidence to verify their identity and source of funds. Where permitted, and subject to certain conditions, the Fund may also delegate the maintenance of its anti-money laundering procedures (including the acquisition of due diligence information) to a suitable person.

The Fund, and the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, reserve the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a Shareholder (i.e. a subscriber or a transferee). Where the circumstances permit, the Fund, or the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, may be satisfied that full due diligence may not be required where an exemption applies under the Money Laundering Regulations (Revised) of the Cayman Islands, as amended and revised from time to time or any other applicable law.

In the event of delay or failure on the part of the subscriber in producing any information required for verification purposes, the Fund, or the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, may refuse to accept the application, in which case any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which they were originally debited.

The Fund, and the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, also reserve the right to refuse to make any redemption or dividend payment to a Shareholder if the Directors or the Administrator suspect or are advised that the payment of redemption or dividend proceeds to such Shareholder may be non-compliant with applicable laws or regulations, or if such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund or the Administrator with any applicable laws or regulations.

If any person resident in the Cayman Islands knows or suspects or has reasonable grounds for knowing or suspecting that another person is engaged in criminal conduct or money laundering or is involved with terrorism or terrorist financing and property and the information for that knowledge or suspicion came to their attention in the course of business in the regulated sector, or other trade, profession, business or employment, the person will be required to report such knowledge or suspicion to (i) the Financial Reporting Authority of the Cayman Islands, pursuant to the Proceeds of Crime Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands if the disclosure relates to criminal conduct or money laundering, or (ii) a police officer of the rank of constable or higher, or the Financial Reporting Authority, pursuant to the Terrorism Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands, if the disclosure relates to involvement with terrorism or terrorist financing and property. Such a report shall not be treated as a breach of confidence or of any restriction upon the disclosure of information imposed by any enactment or otherwise.

Procedure for the Purchase of Shares

Applications are subject to the terms of this Memorandum, the Memorandum of Association and Articles of the Fund, the accompanying Subscription Documents and the Master Fund Partnership Agreement.

Only Eligible Investors may subscribe for Shares. Shares may only be issued in the names of companies, partnerships or individuals. Further, Shares purchased for those under 18 years of age must be registered in the name of the parent or legal guardian.

Application must be made in the form of the accompanying Subscription Documents, which should be sent to the Administrator at the address or facsimile number set forth in the Subscription Documents.

Where applications are made by facsimile, the original written form should be forwarded without delay to the Administrator. Shares will not be issued until the original Subscription Documents and all other relevant due diligence documents have been received by the Administrator.

Shares will be issued to two decimal places and any smaller fractions of a Share that would otherwise arise will be rounded down, with the relevant subscription monies being retained for the benefit of the Fund.

Any application may be rejected or scaled down in the absolute discretion of the Directors. Where applications are scaled down or rejected, subscription monies received by the Fund will be returned to the account from where the monies were initially remitted, without interest.

Form of Shareholding

Shares will be held in registered form. Share certificates will generally not be issued nor will any other documentation be issued, other than confirmation notices. Confirmation notices will include a Shareholder Identification number and details of the Shares that have been allotted. However, confirmation notices will be sent to subscribers only after approval of their Subscription Documents and satisfactory completion of due diligence. Share certificates will only be issued if an investor can demonstrate to the Directors or any authorised agent of the Fund that he is legally required to hold certificated shares. Certificates will be issued in registered form only. If a valid request for share certificates is made, certificates representing Shares will normally be dispatched at the applicant's risk within 28 days to the address specified in the Subscription Documents. Temporary certificates of title will not be issued.

REDEMPTION OF SHARES

General

Series A Shares and Series B Shares may be redeemed on any Redemption Day at the Redemption Price; provided that partial redemptions may be made only in minimum amounts of US$100,000.

If a holder of Series A Shares or Series B Shares requests a redemption that would cause its total investment in the Series A Shares or Series B Shares to fall below a minimum of US$100,000, such shareholder will be required by the Investment Manager to redeem all of its Series A Shares or Series B Shares.

Shareholders wishing to redeem their Series A Shares or Series B Shares should deliver an executed Redemption Request to the Administrator, at the address specified in the Redemption Request. The completed Redemption Request must be actually received by the Administrator no later than the 30th calendar day before the Redemption Day on which the redemption is to be effected, and if received thereafter will be held over and dealt with on the next Redemption Day. The Directors may provide for a redemption notice period of less than 30 calendar days in a particular case or generally if, in their discretion, they determine that, under the circumstances, to waive such requirement will not have an adverse effect on the Master Fund's portfolio. In no event, however, will redemption requests be accepted for processing as of a particular Redemption Day if the Redemption Form is received by the Administrator after 5 pm (Cayman Islands time) on such Redemption Day.

The Redemption Request may be delivered to the Administrator by facsimile, so long as the original Redemption Request is immediately forwarded to the Administrator. None of the Fund, the Directors, the Administrator or any other agents of the Fund accepts any responsibility for any errors in facsimile transmissions. Where a Redemption Request is forwarded by facsimile, no redemption proceeds will be paid to the Shareholder until the original Redemption Request for the Shares being redeemed has been received by the Administrator.

Cayman Islands law imposes certain restrictions on the redemption of Shares, particularly where the Fund is not funding such redemption out of profits or the proceeds of fresh issues of Shares made for the purposes of redemption. In particular, any redemption payment out of capital will only be possible if the Fund remains able to pay its debts as they fall due in the ordinary course of business after such redemption payment is made out of capital.

The Fund, or the Administrator on its behalf, also reserves the right to refuse to make any redemption payment or distribution to a Shareholder if any of the Directors of the Fund or the Administrator suspects or is advised that the payment of any redemption or distribution moneys to such Shareholder might result in a breach or violation of any applicable anti-money laundering or other laws or regulations by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund, its Directors or the Administrator with any such laws or regulations in any relevant jurisdiction.

Once given, a Redemption Request may not be revoked by the Shareholder save where determination of the Net Asset Value is suspended by the Directors in the circumstances set out below or except as otherwise agreed by the Directors.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Special Limited Partner may, unless prohibited by law, make withdrawals of all or any part of its Performance Allocation and gains thereon from its capital account in the Master Fund as of any Redemption Day.

On giving at least 30 calendar days' notice to Shareholders, the Directors may amend the frequency of redemptions, provided that such change shall only take effect following the Redemption Day next succeeding such notice.

Should any violation of any of the Master Fund's investment limitations fail to be remedied on or before the Remedy Date, any Shareholder may redeem all or part of its Shares on the next Redemption Day and will not be subject to any early redemption fee, provided that such Shareholder has requested such a redemption in writing within 30 Business Days after the Remedy Date. See "Investment Restrictions."

Soft Lock-Up Period and Early Redemption Fee

Any Shareholder who redeems Series B Shares prior to the first anniversary of its purchase of such Series B Shares may be assessed an early redemption fee of up to 3% of the Net Asset Value per Series B Share prevailing at the close of business of such Redemption Day, payable to the Fund. For purposes hereof, an anniversary shall occur on the 365th consecutive day (counting the closing date as the first day) or, if such 365th day is not a Business Day, the immediately preceding Business Day.

Redemption Proceeds

At redemption, Shareholders will be paid the Redemption Price, which is calculated in accordance with the Articles and is based on the Net Asset Value per Share on the applicable Redemption Day.

The Redemption Price will be paid in U.S. Dollars by electronic transfer at the request and expense of the redeeming Shareholder usually within 10 Business Days of the relevant Redemption Day.

The Fund aims to effect the payment of all redemption proceeds in cash. However, the Directors under circumstances of low liquidity or adverse market conditions may elect to effect the payment of the redemptions in assets of the Fund (received from the Master Fund). No Investment will be transferred to a Shareholder unless the Directors are satisfied that:

- (i) the value of the investments to be transferred, calculated in accordance with the valuation provisions set out in the Articles and summarized herein, is equal to and does not exceed the Net Asset Value of the Shares to be redeemed less all fiscal duties and charges arising in connection with the vesting of such Investments in the Shareholder; and
- (ii) the terms of any such transfer do not materially prejudice the interests of the remaining Shareholders.

Investments may be transferred directly to the redeeming Shareholder or may be transferred to a liquidating account and sold by the Fund for the benefit of the redeeming Shareholder, in which case payment of that proportion of the Redemption Price attributable to such investments will be delayed until such Investments are sold and the amount payable in respect of such Investments will depend on the performance of such Investments through to the date on which they are sold. The cost of operating the liquidating account and selling the Investment(s) will be deducted from the proceeds of sale paid to the redeeming Shareholder.

Compulsory Redemption

Shareholders are required to notify the Fund and the Administrator immediately in the event that they cease to be Eligible Investors whereupon they may be required to, and the Fund shall be entitled to redeem their Shares at the Net Asset Value per Share as at the next Redemption Day succeeding the date of such notification. The Fund reserves the right to redeem any Shares that are or become owned, directly or indirectly, by or for the benefit of any person who is not an Eligible Investor.

Further, the Fund shall be entitled, with or without cause, by notice in writing to the Shareholders being redeemed, to redeem all or any Shares on any day designated by the Directors, provided that any such Redemption Day shall be not less than 7 days from the date of such notice (or immediately if the Fund, in its sole discretion, determines that such Shareholder's continued investment in the Fund may cause the Fund, the Master Fund, the Master Fund General Partner or the Investment Manager to violate any applicable law).

For the avoidance of doubt, no early redemption fee will apply in the event of a compulsory redemption.

DETERMINATION OF NET ASSET VALUE

The Net Asset Value of each Series and the Net Asset Value per Share will be calculated, based on the calculation of the Master Fund's assets, by the Administrator as of the close of business on each Valuation Day in accordance with the valuation policies of the Investment Manager in effect from time to time, as summarized below, a copy of which will be made available upon request. The Net Asset Value of a Share of the relevant Series will be calculated by dividing the assets of the Fund attributable to the Series to which such Share belongs, less the liabilities attributable to such Series, by the number of Shares of such Series in issue.

The value of the assets of the Fund will be determined on the accrual basis of accounting using IFRS (except for amortization of organizational costs) as a guideline, unless otherwise deemed appropriate in the discretion of the Directors, and in accordance with the principles set out in the Articles and summarized below.

Assets

The assets of the Fund shall be deemed to include, without limitation, (1) all cash on hand or on deposit, including any interest accrued thereon, (2) all bills and demand notes and accounts receivable (including proceeds of investments and other assets sold but not delivered), (3) all investments and other assets owned or contracted for by the Fund (through the Master Fund), (4) all dividends and distributions payable in stock, cash or other property receivable by the Fund (through the Master Fund), provided that the Administrator may make adjustments with respect to fluctuations in the market value of investments caused by trading ex-dividend or ex-rights or by similar practices, (5) all interest accrued on any interest-bearing instruments owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund), except to the extent that the same is included or reflected in the valuation of such instruments, and (6) all other assets of every kind and nature, including prepaid expenses (it being understood that goodwill shall be deemed to have no value).

Liabilities

The liabilities of the Fund shall be deemed to include, without limitation, (1) all loans, bills and accounts payable, (2) all accrued or payable expenses and fees chargeable to the Fund including dividends declared but unpaid and amortized organizational expenses (provided that expenses of a regular or recurring nature may be calculated on an estimated figure for yearly or other periods in advance and accrued over any such period) and accrued Management Fees and Performance Allocations (each borne at the Master Fund level), (3) its pro rata portion of gross acquisition cost of Investments and other property contracted to be purchased by the Master Fund, (4) such sum (if any) as the Directors consider appropriate to allow for brokerage, stamp duty and any other governmental tax or charges, (5) dividends declared on the Shares, but not yet paid, and (6) all other liabilities, including unknown or unfixed contingencies and such reserves as the Directors may reasonably deem advisable.

Valuations

Positions in Investments held by the Master Fund shall be valued in accordance with the valuation policies of the Investment Manager, as amended from time to time, a copy of which will be provided upon request.

Values of assets expressed in a currency other than U.S. Dollars will be converted into U.S. Dollars at the latest available exchange rate.

The Administrator will notify the Exchange, immediately upon calculation, of the Net Asset Value per Share on each Valuation Day.

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF DEALINGS

The Directors may, at any time, suspend (i) the calculation of Net Asset Value of the Shares (and the applicable Valuation Day); (ii) the issuance of Shares; (iii) the redemption by Shareholders of Shares (and the applicable Redemption Day); and/or (iv) the payment of redemption proceeds (even if the Valuation Days and Redemption Days are not postponed) (each, a “Suspension”) during any period which:

- (a) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of Investments owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) are traded is closed, other than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended;
- (b) there exists any state of affairs as a result of which (i) disposal of a substantial part of the Investments owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the Shareholders or (ii) it is not reasonably practicable for the Fund fairly to determine the value of its net assets;
- (c) none of the Redemption Requests which have been made may lawfully be satisfied by the Fund in U.S. Dollars;
- (d) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the Investments of the Fund (through the Master Fund);
- (e) in the sole discretion of the Directors, it is necessary to preserve the Fund’s assets; or
- (f) automatically upon any suspension of withdrawals by the Master Fund for similar reasons.

During such period, the valuation, sale, purchase and redemption of Shares will be suspended. The Administrator will promptly notify each Shareholder who has submitted a Redemption Request and to whom payment in full of the amount being redeemed has not yet been remitted of any Suspension of redemptions or Suspension of the payment of redemption proceeds. Any remaining amount of a Redemption Request that is not satisfied due to such a Suspension remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Fund and subject to the applicable Management Fee until such amount is finally and fully withdrawn. Such Shareholders will not be given any priority with respect to the redemption of Shares after the cause for such Suspension or limitation ceases to exist. The Directors may in their sole discretion, however, permit such Shareholders to withdraw their Redemption Requests to the extent that the relevant Redemption Day has not yet passed. For the avoidance of doubt, where a Suspension of the payment of redemption proceeds is declared between the relevant Redemption Day and the remittance of such payment proceeds, affected Shareholders shall not have any right to withdraw their Redemption Requests. Upon the reasonable determination by the Directors that conditions leading to a Suspension no longer apply, the Administrator will notify the Shareholders of the end of the Suspension. At such time, any such suspended payments shall generally be paid in accordance with the normal process for making such payments, redemption rights shall be promptly reinstated and any pending Redemption Requests which were not withdrawn (or new, timely Redemption Requests) will be effected as of the first Redemption Day following the removal of the Suspension, subject to the foregoing restrictions on redemptions.

In addition, the Directors have the right to postpone the calculation of the Net Asset Value date up to one Business Day without the requirement to give notice to Shareholders when, in the opinion of the Directors, a significant proportion of the assets (which is five percent or more) of the Fund cannot be valued on an equitable basis and such difficulty is expected by the Directors to be overcome within that period.

TRANSFER OF SHARES

Shares may not be transferred without the prior written consent of the Directors, which consent may be withheld by the Directors in their absolute discretion. Furthermore, transfers of Shares may only be conducted in accordance with the anti-money laundering policies and procedures of the Administrator. A transferee will be required to complete the Subscription Documents and will be subject to the requirements set forth for Eligible Investors in the Fund.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION AND REPORTS

FISCAL YEAR

The fiscal year of the Fund ends on December 31 of each year.

FISCAL PERIODS

Since Shares may be issued and redeemed, and dividends may be declared on Shares, during the course of a fiscal year, the Fund's Articles of Association provide for fiscal periods, which are portions of a fiscal year, for the purpose of allocating net profits and net losses to the records maintained for each Series. A new fiscal period will commence on the date next following the date of any redemption of Shares, the date of any issuance of Shares and the date established by the Directors for determining the record ownership of Shares of any Series for the payment of dividends, and the prior fiscal period will terminate on the date immediately preceding the first day of a new fiscal period.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Fund's financial statements will be prepared using IFRS as a guideline, unless otherwise deemed appropriate in the sole discretion of the Directors. The books and records of the Fund will be audited at the end of each fiscal year by auditors selected by the Directors.

As a regulated mutual fund, the Fund is required to file copies of its audited financial statements with the Monetary Authority within 180 days of the end of each financial year.

AUDITORS

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP are the auditors for the Fund and have consented in writing to their appointment as auditors of the Fund and to all references to them as such in this Memorandum. The Directors may replace the auditors without prior notice to the Shareholders.

REPORTS TO SHAREHOLDERS

Each year, Shareholders will be sent audited financial statements of the Fund within 120 days of the end of the year (or as soon as practicable thereafter) including a statement of profit or loss for such fiscal year and of an unaudited status of such Shareholder's holdings in the Fund at such time. Shareholders will also receive, upon making a request to the Administrator, copies of semi-annual financial statements of the Fund. In addition, the Net Asset Value of the Fund's listed Shares will be notified to the Exchange monthly and these net asset valuations are available to subscribers to the Reuters network.

TAXATION

GENERAL

The following is a general discussion of certain of the anticipated income tax considerations relevant to Non-U.S. Shareholders (as defined below) and to certain Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders (as defined below) arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors to determine the application and effect of tax laws with respect to their own particular circumstances. This discussion is based on the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), Treasury Regulations (the “Treasury Regulations”) promulgated thereunder in force on the date of this Memorandum, and administrative and judicial interpretations thereof, all as currently in effect, all of which may change or be subject to different interpretations, possibly with retroactive effect. The Fund does not intend to seek a ruling from the Service, or any similar state or local authority, with respect to any of the tax issues affecting the Fund.

In view of the number of different jurisdictions where local laws may apply to Shareholders, the discussion below does not address all the tax consequences to potential investors of the purchase, ownership, and disposition of Shares. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors in determining the possible tax consequences to them under the laws of the jurisdictions of which they are citizens, residents or domiciliaries, jurisdictions in which they conduct business and jurisdictions in which they hold Shares. This discussion does not constitute tax advice.

This summary does not address all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a particular investor, nor does it address, unless specifically indicated, the tax consequences to, among others (i) persons that may be subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax law, including, but not limited to, banks, insurance companies, thrift institutions, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts and dealers in securities or currencies, (ii) persons that will hold Shares as part of a position in a “straddle” or as part of a “hedging,” “conversion” or other integrated investment transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (iii) persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. Dollar or (iv) persons that do not hold Shares as capital assets within the meaning of Code Section 1221.

If a partnership holds Shares, the tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Prospective investors who are partners of a partnership should consult their own tax advisors.

This summary assumes that only persons that are not “United States persons” as defined in Code Section 7701(a)(30) (such investors, “Non-U.S. Shareholders”) and organizations that are exempt from U.S. federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Code (such investors, “Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders”) will invest in the Fund.

The summary assumes that no U.S. taxable investors will invest in the Fund and, therefore, does not address the U.S. tax consequences to such investors. Potential U.S. taxable investors should be aware that the Fund is expected to be a passive foreign investment company for U.S. federal income tax purposes (a “PFIC”) and does not intend to provide information to any U.S. person for purposes of such person qualifying to make an election to treat the Fund as a “qualifying electing fund” (“QEF”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Accordingly, potential U.S. investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors in this regard.

Unless the context indicates otherwise, the activities and tax items of the Fund will include the activities of the Master Fund, and the Fund’s distributive share of the Master Fund’s tax items, as applicable.

EACH PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR IS URGED TO CONSULT ITS TAX ADVISOR IN ORDER TO FULLY UNDERSTAND THE U.S. FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL AND/OR NON-U.S. TAX CONSEQUENCES OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND.

UNITED STATES

Classification and Taxation of the Fund and the Master Fund

The Fund is expected to be treated as a non-U.S. corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Master Fund is expected to be treated as a partnership, and not as an association taxable as a corporation, for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The following discussion assumes that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Fund will be treated as a non-U.S. corporation and the Master Fund will be treated as a partnership.

As a non-U.S. corporation, the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Fund will vary depending on whether the Fund derives income or gains that are treated as effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States. It is intended that the Fund’s affairs will generally be conducted in a manner such that no income realized by the Fund is expected to be effectively connected with the conduct of a U.S. trade or business or otherwise subject to regular U.S. federal income taxation on a net basis. As a result, it is anticipated that no gains realized by the Fund (other than gains, if any, realized on the disposition of U.S. real property interests) will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation, but generally dividends, dividend equivalent amounts and certain interest income from U.S. sources will be subject to U.S. federal withholding tax as discussed further below.

In general, under Section 881 of the Code, a non-U.S. corporation which does not conduct a U.S. trade or business is nonetheless subject to withholding tax at a flat rate of 30% (or lower tax treaty rate) on the gross amount of certain U.S. source income which is not effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business. Income subject to such a flat tax rate is of a fixed or determinable annual or periodical nature, including dividends and certain interest income. Therefore, to the extent that the Fund receives dividend income (including “dividend equivalent” income under Section 871(m) of the Code) through the Master Fund from U.S. sources, the Fund will be subject to U.S. withholding tax at a 30% rate. U.S. source interest income received by the Fund through the Master Fund generally will be exempt from U.S. federal income and withholding tax to the extent such interest qualifies as “portfolio interest,” or qualifies under another statutory exemption. Interest on corporate obligations will not qualify as “portfolio interest” to a non-U.S. person that owns (directly and under certain constructive ownership rules) 10% or more of the total combined voting power of the corporation paying the interest, or, with respect to certain obligations issued after April 7, 1993, if and to the extent the interest is determined by reference to certain economic attributes of the debtor (or a person related thereto). In addition, interest on U.S. bank deposits, certificates of deposit and certain obligations with maturities of 183 days or less (from original issuance) will not be subject to withholding tax. Interest (including original issue discount) derived by the Fund or the Master Fund from U.S. sources not qualifying as “portfolio interest” or not otherwise exempt under U.S. law will be subject to U.S. withholding tax at a rate of 30%. Capital gains from the sale of stock or other capital assets such as commodities generally are not subject to U.S. withholding tax.

Taxation of Non-U.S. Shareholders

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, a Non-U.S. Shareholder will not be subject to U.S. federal income taxation on amounts paid by the Fund in respect of the Shares or gains recognized on the sale, exchange or redemption of the Shares, provided that such income and gains are not considered to be effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business by the Shareholder in the United States. In limited circumstances, an individual Non-U.S. Shareholder who is present in the United States for 183 days or more during a taxable year may be subject to U.S. income tax at a flat rate of 30% on gains realized on a disposition of the Shares in such year. Individual Shareholders who at the time of their death are not citizens, former citizens or residents of the United States should not be subject, by reason of the ownership of the Shares, to any U.S. federal gift or estate taxes.

Special rules may apply in the case of non-U.S. persons that (i) conduct a trade or business in the United States or that have an office or fixed place of business in the United States, (ii) have a tax home in the United States, (iii) are former citizens or long-term residents of the United States or (iv) are controlled foreign corporations, PFICs, foreign insurance companies that hold the Shares in connection with their U.S. business or corporations which accumulate earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax. Such persons are urged to consult their U.S. tax advisors before investing in the Fund.

In the case of the Shares held in the United States by a custodian or nominee for a non-U.S. person, U.S. “backup” withholding taxes may apply to distributions in respect of the Shares held by such Shareholder unless such Shareholder properly certifies as to its non-U.S. status or otherwise establishes an exemption from “backup” withholding. Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Rather, the U.S. federal income tax liability of non-U.S. persons subject to backup withholding will be reduced by the amount of tax withheld. If backup withholding results in an overpayment of U.S. federal income taxes, a refund may be obtained, provided the required documents are timely filed with the Service.

Taxation of Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders

Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders are subject to U.S. tax on their “unrelated business taxable income” (“UBTI”) as defined in Section 512 of the Code. UBTI is generally the excess of gross income from any unrelated trade or business conducted by a tax-exempt entity over the deductions attributable to such trade or business, with certain modifications. These modifications provide that UBTI generally does not include interest, dividends or gains from the sale of securities not held as either inventory or primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business, except to the extent that any such item of income is deemed to constitute “unrelated debt financed income” within the meaning of Section 514 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations, and certain other requirements are met. Income that a Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholder derives from an investment in the Shares generally should not give rise to UBTI, except to the extent that such Shareholder’s acquisition of the Shares is debt financed.

The Fund expects to be classified as a PFIC for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Under the Treasury Regulations, a U.S. tax-exempt entity is generally not subject to the PFIC rules, except to the extent that a “dividend” from such PFIC would be taxable as income under subchapter F of the Code, for example, as unrelated debt-financed income. Hence, a tax-exempt entity would be subject to tax under the PFIC regime in respect of an excess distribution from, or any gain realized on the sale of, the interests of a PFIC in only limited circumstances. Additionally, the Treasury Regulations provide that a tax-exempt entity that is not taxable under the PFIC rules may not make a QEF election under Section 1295 of the Code and the Fund will not provide any QEF information to investors. Moreover, different rules may apply to certain types of tax-exempt entities, such as charitable remainder trusts. Accordingly, potential Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Prospective Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Shares.

Information Reporting Requirements

A U.S. person, within the meaning of the Code, (including in certain circumstances a Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholder) that transfers property (including cash) to the Fund in exchange for Shares will be required to file a Form 926 or a similar form with the Service. In the event a U.S. Shareholder fails to file any required form, such Shareholder could be subject to a penalty of up to 10% of the value of the property transferred, subject to a $100,000 limit so long as the failure was not due to intentional disregard.

Under the Treasury Regulations, a U.S. person, within the meaning of the Code (including a Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholder), owning 10% or more (taking certain attribution rules into account) of either the total combined voting power or total value of all classes of the interests of a non-U.S. entity that is treated as a non-U.S. corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, such as the Fund, or whose ownership interest changes by a statutorily specified amount, may be required to file an information return with the Service containing certain disclosures concerning the filing shareholder, other U.S. shareholders and the non-U.S. entity. The Fund has not committed to provide all of the information about the Fund or its Shareholders necessary to complete such an information return. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors about such information return filing requirements.

Certain U.S. Persons are required to file FinCEN Form 114 with the Service with respect to financial interests in foreign financial accounts held by such U.S. Persons during the previous calendar year if the aggregate value of such accounts exceeds $10,000 at any time during the calendar year. Significant penalties may apply in respect of the failure to file FinCEN Form 114 in respect of foreign financial accounts. Thus, potential Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders should consult their tax advisors as to whether to file FinCEN Form 114 in respect of ownership of Shares.

Investor Tax Filings and Record Retention.

The U.S. Department of the Treasury has adopted Treasury Regulations designed to assist the Service in identifying abusive tax shelter transactions. In general, these Treasury Regulations require investors in specified transactions (including certain shareholders in foreign corporations and partners in partnerships that engage in such transactions) to satisfy certain special tax filing and record retention requirements. Significant monetary penalties (in addition to penalties that generally may be applicable as a result of a failure to comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations) may be imposed for failure to comply with these tax filing and record retention rules.

These Treasury Regulations are broad in scope, and it is conceivable that the Fund may enter into transactions that will subject the Fund and certain investors to the special tax filing and record retention rules. Investors should consult their own tax advisors in this regard.

Reporting Under FATCA

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (together with any regulations, rules and other guidance implementing such Code sections and any applicable intergovernmental agreement (“IGA”) or information exchange agreement and related statutes, regulations, rules and other guidance thereunder, “FATCA”) impose a withholding tax of 30% on (i) certain U.S. source interest, dividends and other types of income, and (ii) the gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of certain assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest and dividends, which are received by a foreign financial institution (“FFI”), unless such FFI enters into an agreement with the Service, and/or complies with an applicable IGA, to obtain certain information as to the identity of the direct and indirect owners of accounts in such institution. In addition, a withholding tax may be imposed on payments to certain non-financial foreign entities that do not obtain and provide information as to their direct and indirect owners. These rules generally apply to payments of U.S. source interest, dividends and certain other types of income from U.S. sources and, after December 31, 2018, are expected to apply to payments of gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest or dividends.

The Service has released temporary and final Treasury Regulations and other guidance that will be used in implementing FATCA, which contain a number of phase-in dates for FATCA compliance. In addition, the Cayman Islands has entered into a Model 1 IGA with the United States (the “Cayman-U.S. IGA”), which is treated as in effect, and has issued the Tax Information Authority (International Tax Compliance) (United States of America) Regulations 2014, and guidance notes thereunder, each as updated from time to time.

Both the Fund and the Master Fund are likely to be considered FFIs. In order to avoid incurring U.S. withholding under FATCA, the Master Fund and the Fund each are generally required to register with the Service and to comply with the Cayman-U.S. IGA and any guidance thereunder. The Fund has registered with the Service and the Master Fund intends to register with the Service, and expect that they will be required to identify and report on certain direct and indirect U.S. owners in order to comply with the Cayman-U.S. IGA. Therefore, the Fund and the Master Fund generally do not expect to become subject to U.S. withholding under FATCA. An investor may be required to provide to the Fund information which identifies its direct and indirect ownership. Any such information provided to the Fund may ultimately be shared with the Cayman Islands Tax Information Agency ("Cayman TIA") and transmitted to the Service and, potentially, certain other authorities and withholding agents, as applicable.

By investing (or continuing to invest) in the Fund (and indirectly invest in the Master Fund), investors shall be deemed to have acknowledged, and to have given their consent to, the following:

- (i) the Fund (or its agent) may be required to disclose to the Cayman TIA and withholding agents certain information (which could otherwise be deemed to be confidential) in relation to the investor or its direct or indirect owners, including the investor's name, address, date of birth, tax identification number (if any), social security or national insurance number (if any) and certain additional information or documentation relating to the investor's investment or identity, and the investor may be required to provide any such information or documentation;
- (ii) the Cayman TIA may be required to automatically exchange information with, among other authorities, the Service, and to provide additional information to such authorities, and the Master Fund or the Fund (or its agents) may be required to disclose certain information (including information that could otherwise be deemed to be confidential) when registering with such authorities and in response to a request by any such authority for further information;
- (iii) in the event an investor's failure to comply with any FATCA related reporting requirements gives rise to any withholding tax, the Fund reserves the right to ensure that any such withholding tax and any related cost, interest, penalties and other losses or liabilities suffered by the Fund, the Master Fund, the Master Fund General Partner, the Administrator or any other investor, or any agent, delegate, employee, director, officer or affiliate of any of the foregoing persons, arising from such investor's failure to provide information to the Fund, is economically borne by such investor;
- (iv) in the event an investor does not provide the information and/or documentation necessary for the Fund's (or the Master Fund's) satisfaction of its FATCA related reporting requirements, whether or not that actually leads to compliance failures by the Fund, or a risk of the Fund (or the Master Fund) or its investors being subject to U.S. withholding under FATCA, the Fund reserves the right to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at its disposal to mitigate the consequences of the investor's failure to comply with the requirements described above, including compulsory redemption or withdrawal of the investor concerned; and

- (v) no investor affected by any such action or remedy shall have any claim against the Fund, the Master Fund, the Master Fund General Partner, the Administrator (or their agents, delegates, employees, directors, officers or affiliates) for any damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Fund in order to comply with FATCA.

Investors should consult their tax advisors as to the withholding, filing and information reporting requirements that may be imposed on them in respect of their ownership of Shares.

CAYMAN ISLANDS

Fund Level

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Fund or the Shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Fund.

The Fund has received an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (Revised) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Fund or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable (i) on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Fund or (ii) by way of the withholding in whole or in part of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Fund to its members or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Fund.

Shareholder Level

Shareholders will not be subject to any income, withholding or capital gains taxes in the Cayman Islands, with respect to the Shares owned by them and dividends received on such Shares, nor will they be subject to any estate or inheritance taxes in the Cayman Islands.

OTHER JURISDICTIONS

It is possible that certain dividends, interest and other income received by the Fund from sources within certain countries will be subject to withholding taxes imposed by such countries. In addition, the Fund may also be subject to capital gains taxes or other taxes in some of the countries where it purchases and sells securities or otherwise conducts business. It is impossible to predict the rate of tax that the Fund will pay in advance since the amount of the Fund's assets to be invested in various countries is not known.

ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

GENERAL

Fiduciaries and other persons who are proposing to purchase Shares on behalf of retirement plans, investment retirement accounts (“IRAs”) and other employee benefit plans (“Plans”) covered by the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or the Code, must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that an investment in the Fund plays in the Plan’s portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed to reasonably further the Plan’s purposes, the investment’s risk and return factors, the portfolio’s composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the Plan, the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the Plan’s objectives, the limited right of Shareholders to redeem all or any part of their Shares or to transfer their Shares and whether investment in the Fund constitutes a direct or indirect transaction with a party in interest (under ERISA) or a disqualified person (under the Code).

PLAN ASSET REGULATIONS AND BENEFIT PLAN INVESTORS

The United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) has adopted regulations that treat the assets of certain pooled investment vehicles, such as the Fund, as “plan assets” for purposes of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code (“Plan Assets”). Section 3(42) of ERISA defines the term “Plan Assets” to mean plan assets as defined by such regulations as the DOL may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of an entity shall not be treated as Plan Assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of an equity interest in the entity, less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by “Benefit Plan Investors” (the “significant participation test”). For purposes of this determination, the value of any equity interest held by a person (other than such a Benefit Plan Investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or any person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, or any affiliate of such a person, shall be disregarded. An entity shall be considered to hold Plan Assets only to the extent of the percentage of the equity interest held by Benefit Plan Investors. The term “Benefit Plan Investors” means any employee benefit plan subject to part 4 of subtitle B of Title I of ERISA (i.e., plans subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA), any plan to which the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code apply (e.g., IRAs), and any entity whose underlying assets include Plan Assets by reason of a plan’s investment in such entity (a “Plan Asset Entity”).

In order to prevent the assets of the Master Fund from being considered Plan Assets under ERISA, it is the intention of the Master Fund to monitor the investments in the Master Fund and prohibit the acquisition, withdrawal or transfer of any limited partner interests of the Master Fund by any investor, including a Benefit Plan Investor, unless, after giving effect to such an acquisition, withdrawal or transfer, the total proportion of limited partner interests of each class of the Master Fund owned by Benefit Plan Investors would be less than 25% of the aggregate value of that class of limited partner interests (determined, as described above, by excluding certain limited partner interests held by the Master Fund General Partner, other fiduciaries and affiliates).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in order to limit equity participation in any class of limited partner interests of the Master Fund by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25%, the Fund may require the compulsory redemption of Shares. Each Shareholder that is an insurance company acting on behalf of its general account or a Plan Asset Entity will be required to represent and warrant as of the date it acquires Shares the maximum percentage of such general account or Plan Asset Entity (as reasonably determined by such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity) that will constitute Plan Assets (the “Maximum Percentage”) so such percentage can be calculated in determining the percentage of Plan Assets invested in the Master Fund. Further, each such insurance company and Plan Asset Entity will be required to covenant that if, after its initial acquisition of Shares, the Maximum Percentage is exceeded at any time, then such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity shall immediately notify the Fund of that occurrence and shall, if and as directed by the Fund, in a manner consistent with the restrictions on transfer set forth herein, redeem or dispose of some or all of the Shares held in its general account or Plan Asset Entity.

It is anticipated that investment in the Fund by benefit plan investors may be “significant” for purposes of the regulations. In such event, the underlying assets of the Fund would be deemed to constitute “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA. As a general rule, if the assets of the Fund were regarded as “plan assets” of a benefit plan investor, the Investment Manager would be deemed a fiduciary with respect to each Plan investing in the Fund. However, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and given the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each benefit plan investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s subscription agreement, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Master Fund, neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund would be exercising any discretionary authority or control with respect to the Fund. Accordingly, the Investment Manager believes that neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund will act as a fiduciary (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA) with respect to the assets of the Fund or any benefit plan investor. Rather, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and given the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each benefit plan investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s subscription agreement, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Master Fund, the fiduciary of each such benefit plan investor has retained the fiduciary authority and responsibility with respect to the investor’s initial and continuing investment in the Fund as though the benefit plan investor is investing directly in the Master Fund.

The fiduciaries of each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that they have been informed of and understand the Fund’s investment objectives, policies and strategies and that the decision to invest Plan Assets in the Fund is consistent with the provisions of ERISA and/or the Code that require diversification of Plan Assets and impose other fiduciary responsibilities. By its purchase, each investor will be deemed to have represented that either (a) it is not a Plan that is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code, (b) it is not an entity whose assets include Plan Assets or (c) its investment in the Fund will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code.

INELIGIBLE PURCHASERS

Shares may not be purchased with Plan Assets if the Investment Manager, any selling agent, finder, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective employees: (a) has investment discretion with respect to the investment of such Plan Assets; (b) has authority or responsibility to give or regularly gives investment advice with respect to such Plan Assets, for a fee, and pursuant to an agreement or understanding that such advice will serve as a primary basis for investment decisions with respect to such Plan Assets and that such advice will be based on the particular investment needs of the Plan; or (c) is an employer maintaining or contributing to such Plan. A party that is described in clause (a) or (b) of the preceding sentence is a fiduciary under ERISA and the Code with respect to the Plan, and any such purchase might result in a “prohibited transaction” under ERISA and the Code.

PLANS’ REPORTING OBLIGATIONS

The information contained herein and in the other documentation provided to investors in connection with an investment in the Fund is intended to satisfy the alternative reporting option for “eligible indirect compensation” on Schedule C of the Form 5500, in addition to the other purposes for which such documents were created.

Whether or not the underlying assets of the Fund are deemed Plan Assets, an investment in the Fund by a Plan is subject to ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, Plan fiduciaries should consult their own counsel as to the consequences under ERISA and the Code of an investment in the Fund. Note that similar laws governing the investment and management of the assets of governmental or non-U.S. plans may contain fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements similar to those under ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, fiduciaries of such governmental or non-U.S. plans, in consultation with their counsel, should consider the impact of their respective laws and regulations on an investment in the Fund.

This Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (this “Memorandum”) is being furnished on a confidential basis solely to selected qualified investors considering the purchase of limited partner interests (the “Interests”) in Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P. (the “Fund”). This Memorandum is not to be reproduced or distributed to others, at any time, without the prior written consent of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC (the “General Partner”). Each recipient agrees to keep confidential all information contained herein not already in the public domain and will use this Memorandum for the sole purpose of evaluating a possible investment in the Fund. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, each investor (and each employee, representative, or other agent of the investor) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the investor relating to such tax treatment and tax structure. Acceptance of this Memorandum by prospective investors constitutes an agreement to be bound by the foregoing terms.

Prospective investors should not construe the contents of this Memorandum as legal, tax or financial advice. Each prospective investor should consult its own professional advisors as to the legal, financial, tax, ERISA (as defined herein) or other matters relevant to the suitability of an investment in the Fund for such investor.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Fund and the terms of the offering contemplated by this Memorandum. The Interests have not been recommended by any U.S. federal or state, or any non-U.S., securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of this Memorandum. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

The Interests have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or the securities laws of any of the states of the United States. The offering and any potential sale contemplated by this Memorandum will be made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act for offers and sales of securities which do not involve any public offering and analogous exemptions under state securities laws. There will be no public market for the Interests, and there is no obligation on the part of any person to register the Interests under the Securities Act or any state securities laws.

The Fund has not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Investment Company Act”), since Interests will only be sold to persons who are “qualified purchasers,” as defined in the Investment Company Act.

Each subscriber for an Interest will be required to certify that it is an “accredited investor” as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act and a “qualified purchaser,” as defined in the Investment Company Act.

Pursuant to an exemption from the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”), Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., the investment manager to the Fund (the “Investment Manager”), is not registered with the CFTC as a commodity pool operator (“CPO”) and therefore, unlike a registered CPO, is not required to deliver a disclosure document or a certified annual report to participants in this pool. Among other things, the exemption requires the filing of a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. It is also required that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions does not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Fund's commodity interest positions does not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio and further that all pool participants are required to be accredited investors or certain other qualified investors. The Investment Manager qualifies for an exemption from registration as a commodity trading advisor pursuant to CFTC Rule 4.14(a)(8).

Interests are suitable only for sophisticated investors who do not require immediate liquidity for their investments, for whom an investment in the Fund does not constitute a complete investment program and who fully understand and are willing to assume the risks involved in the Fund's investment program. The Fund's investment practices, by their nature, may be considered to involve a substantial degree of risk. See "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest." No assurance can be given that the Fund's investment objectives will be achieved or that investors will receive a return of their capital.

The Interests are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold except as permitted under the Securities Act and any applicable state or other securities laws, pursuant to registration or an exemption therefrom. The transferability of the Interests will be further restricted by the terms of the limited partnership agreement of the Fund, as amended (the "Partnership Agreement"). Investors should be aware that they will be required to bear the financial risks of an investment in the Interests for an extended period of time.

This Memorandum does not constitute an offer to sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy, any Interests in any state or other jurisdiction where, or to or from any person to or from whom, such offer or solicitation is unlawful or not authorized.

No person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representation concerning the Fund or the offering of the Interests other than the information contained in this Memorandum and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorized by the Fund or the General Partner.

The Interests are offered subject to the right of the General Partner to reject any subscription in whole or in part.

This Memorandum is intended solely for the use of the person to whom it has been delivered by the General Partner or its authorized representative for the purpose of evaluating a possible investment by the recipient in the Interests described herein, and is not to be reproduced or distributed to any other persons (other than professional advisors of the prospective investor receiving this Memorandum from the General Partner or its authorized representative).

This Memorandum does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the Partnership Agreement or the investment management agreement by and among the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Master Fund, the Offshore Fund (each as defined below) and the Fund (the "Investment Management Agreement"). Each prospective investor in the Fund is encouraged to review the Partnership Agreement carefully, in addition to consulting appropriate legal and tax advisors. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement, the terms of the Partnership Agreement shall control.

The delivery of this Memorandum does not, under any circumstances, create any implication that there has been no change in the circumstances affecting the Fund or Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (the “Master Fund”) since the date hereof. An amended or updated Memorandum will be provided to reflect any material changes to the information contained herein.

Certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes “forward-looking statements,” which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “expect,” “anticipate,” “project,” “estimate,” “intend,” or “believe” or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those described in “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest,” actual events or results or the actual performance of the Fund may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

All references herein to “$” refer to U.S. dollars. Except as the context otherwise requires, references to the term “Fund” in this Memorandum shall be deemed to include the Master Fund.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Fund”), seeks to maximize the total return of its assets through capital appreciation by investing all of its investable assets in Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Master Fund”), which intends to hold primarily a portfolio of investments in securities of Latin American corporate and sovereign issuers as well as non-Latin American issuers that derive a portion of their revenues from business activities in Latin America, in each case with a primary focus on Argentina.

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”), acts as general partner of the Fund and the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Investment Manager” and, together with its affiliates, shareholders, directors, members, partners, officers and employees, the “Advisory Parties”), serves as investment manager to the Fund, the Offshore Fund (as defined below) and the Master Fund and manages the Master Fund’s investment program. Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is ultimately controlled by James D. Dondero (the “Principal”).

In order to facilitate investments by non-U.S. and certain U.S. tax-exempt investors, the Investment Manager and its affiliates recently assumed the management of an existing investment fund, Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Offshore Fund” and, together with the Fund, the “Feeder Funds”). The Feeder Funds will place all of their investable assets in, and conduct all of their investment and trading activities in parallel through, the Master Fund. References in this Memorandum to the Fund shall include the Master Fund, unless otherwise specified or the context so requires.

The Fund (but not the Master Fund) is seeking subscriptions from investors who qualify as both “accredited investors” and “qualified purchasers” (each as defined in the Fund’s subscription materials). The minimum initial investment is $500,000, and thereafter, the minimum subsequent investment is $500,000, although, in each case, the Fund may accept investments in a lesser amount, but no less than $100,000 with respect to Series B Interests. The Fund generally accepts subscriptions on the first day of each calendar month. A subscriber admitted to the Fund as a limited partner (each, a “Limited Partner”) will receive, in exchange for its initial capital contribution and any subsequent capital contribution, a limited partner interest representing a proportionate share of the net assets of the Fund at that time.

The Fund intends to issue multiple series of limited partner interests (“Interests”) over time. Not all series of Interests will be available for subscription at the same time and the terms among the series of Interests will vary. The Fund is currently offering Series A Interests, Series B Interests and Series C Interests pursuant to this Memorandum.

For its services to the Master Fund, the Investment Manager is generally entitled to a management fee (the “Management Fee”), which is calculated monthly and paid quarterly in arrears at the Master Fund level. The Management Fee is calculated at an annual rate of (i) 1.75% of each Limited Partner’s capital account that is attributable to a Series A Interest, (ii) 1.25% of each Limited Partner’s capital account that is attributable to a Series B Interest, and (iii) 1.00% of each Limited Partner’s capital account that is attributable to a Series C Interest.

In addition, the Investment Manager, in its capacity as the special limited partner of the Master Fund (the “Special Limited Partner”), is entitled to a quarterly performance-based profits allocation (the “Performance Allocation”) at the end of each fiscal quarter. The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is effectively equal to (i) 20.0% of the amount by which the net asset value of each Series A Interest on the last day of a fiscal quarter exceeds the “high water mark” for such Series A Interest, if any, (ii) 17.5% of the amount by which the net asset value of each Series B Interest on the last day of a fiscal quarter exceeds the “high water mark” for such Series B Interest, if any, and (iii) 15.0% of the amount by which the net asset value of each Series C Interest on the last day of a fiscal quarter exceeds the “high water mark” for such Series C Interest, if any.

Subject to a one-year “soft lock-up” with an early withdrawal reduction attributable to Series B Interests only and a two-year “soft lock-up” with an early withdrawal reduction attributable to Series C Interests only, a Limited Partner is generally permitted to withdraw all or a portion of its Interest on 30 calendar days’ prior written notice on the last business day of each calendar month. Withdrawals may be subject to reserves for contingencies and suspension restrictions as discussed further in this Memorandum.

The Fund may agree with certain Limited Partners to a variation of the terms set forth in this Memorandum or establish additional series of Interests that have terms that differ from those described herein, including, without limitation, different management fees, performance allocations and withdrawal rights.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The investment objective of the Fund is to maximize the total return of its assets through capital appreciation by investing all of its investable assets in the Master Fund, which intends to hold primarily a portfolio of investments in securities of Latin American corporate and sovereign issuers as well as non-Latin American issuers that derive a portion of their revenues from business activities in Latin America, in each case with a primary focus on Argentina, and that the Investment Manager believes would provide profitable investment opportunities for the Master Fund. The Master Fund will invest in a single portfolio of assets and does not currently intend to have a separate portfolio of assets for each of its series, each of which will correspond to a series of limited partner interests in the Fund.

The Master Fund is a multi-strategy investment fund and there is no limit on the investment strategies that may be utilized. The Investment Manager believes that focusing on a multi-strategy approach will enable the Master Fund to enhance results by compounding returns generated by each strategy and at the same time have the needed flexibility to adjust to potentially changing regulations and market conditions.

The Investment Manager will be focused on identifying assets that are mispriced against similar assets and/or against the Investment Manager's expectations for assets' fair values and market movements, special situations, such as mergers, financial restructurings, hostile takeovers, or leveraged buy-outs. There is no set allocation among these and any other strategies that the Investment Manager may use.

The Master Fund may hold long and short positions in a wide range of liquid or illiquid fixed income securities including, but not limited to, sovereign and private debt, distressed debt, secured and unsecured debt, structured debt, loans, asset-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations. Furthermore, the Master Fund may invest, both long and short, in a wide range of liquid or illiquid equity-related instruments including, but not limited to, equities, convertible bonds, options, equity-linked notes, preferred shares and warrants, whether or not listed or traded on one or more exchanges.

The Master Fund may hold any of these positions indirectly by entering into swaps, options, futures, forward contracts or similar derivative transactions.

The Master Fund may hold both U.S. dollar and non-U.S. dollar denominated securities.

The Master Fund may leverage its investment portfolio by up to 100% of the Master Fund's net asset value (calculated at the time of investment) by borrowing for investment purposes and by using leverage techniques and products. It is anticipated that by doing so the performance of the Master Fund will be enhanced. While the use of the leverage may improve the return on invested capital, leverage may also significantly increase the impact of adverse movement in the value of the Master Fund.

The Master Fund may also utilize hedging strategies in order to maximize returns and reduce the risk to principal or the volatility associated with its holdings. As part of these hedging strategies, the Master Fund may hedge any of its investments with long or short positions in any financial instrument, which the Investment Manager deems appropriate. The Master Fund may utilize U.S. and European securities for hedging purposes.

The Master Fund may invest through one or more subsidiaries established in an appropriate jurisdiction in order to take advantage of applicable tax treaties or increase the tax efficiency of the Master Fund's investments, or in such other circumstances as the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund, following consultation with the Investment Manager, deem appropriate, including compliance with local investment laws.

The Master Fund may maintain assets in cash or cash equivalent instruments, money market funds, repurchase agreements, or other cash management vehicles pending investment, for defensive purposes, to fund withdrawals requested by the limited partners of the Master Fund or otherwise at the discretion of the Investment Manager. The Master Fund may hold with no limitation U.S. and European AAA fixed income securities for defensive purposes.

INVESTMENT RESTRICTIONS

In deploying the investment strategy, the Master Fund will observe the following investment restrictions. The Master Fund will not at the time of investment:

1. Invest more than 50 percent of its gross assets in its net holdings of equities;
 2. Borrow more than 100 percent of its net assets;
 3. Invest more than 20 percent of its gross assets in a single equity position;
 4. Invest more than 20 percent of its gross assets in a single corporate issuer position;
 5. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single GDP-linked warrant position; and
 6. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single sovereign issuer security position;
- and
7. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single provincial issuer.

If a percentage limitation on investment or use of assets set forth above is adhered to at the time a transaction is effected, later changes in percentage resulting from changing values will not be considered a violation.

In the event that the Investment Manager discovers that a violation of any of the Master Fund's investment limitations has occurred (the date of such discovery being the "Discovery Date"), the Investment Manager shall inform the limited partners of the Master Fund, including the Fund, who shall: (i) notify each of their limited partners or shareholders, as applicable, in writing within 30 business days after the Discovery Date of the nature of the violation, the steps taken, or to be taken, to remedy the violation and the reason the violation occurred and (ii) use reasonable commercial efforts to cause the Investment Manager to remedy such violation within 90 business days after the Discovery Date (the "Remedy Date"). If such violation has not been remedied on or before the Remedy Date, the limited partners of the Master Fund, including the Fund, shall: (i) notify each of their limited partners or shareholders, as applicable, in writing, 30 business days after the Remedy Date, of the steps taken to remedy the violation and the reason that the violation has not been remedied by the Remedy Date (the "Remedy Notice") and (ii) use reasonable commercial efforts to cause the Master Fund's portfolio to be examined by an independent auditor other than PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP and shall request that such independent auditor issue a report to the investors in each of the Master Fund's limited partners as to its concurrence or disagreement with the statements in the Remedy Notice. The Investment Manager shall pay for the costs of such audit and the costs of the Remedy Notice if the violation that was the subject of the Remedy Notice occurred as a result of the Investment Manager's willful misfeasance, bad faith or gross negligence. In addition, the failure to remedy the violation in a timely manner may give rise to special withdrawal rights. See “Summary of Terms – Withdrawals; Lock-Ups.”

DISTRIBUTION POLICY

The Fund’s objective is to maximize capital appreciation and accordingly it is not envisaged that any income or gains derived from the investments made by the Master Fund will be distributed by way of dividend. This does not preclude the General Partner from declaring a dividend at any time in the future if it considers it appropriate to do so. To the extent that a dividend may be declared, it will be paid in compliance with any applicable laws.

The investment objectives and strategies summarized herein represent the Investment Manager’s current intentions. Depending on conditions and trends in the securities markets and the economy in general, the Investment Manager may pursue any strategies, employ any investment techniques or purchase any type of security that it considers appropriate, whether or not described in this section, subject to any applicable law or regulation. The discussion herein includes and is based upon numerous assumptions and opinions of the Investment Manager concerning world financial markets and other matters, the accuracy of which cannot be assured. There can be no assurance that the investment strategy of the Master Fund will achieve the intended investment objective. The Master Fund’s investment program is speculative and involves a high degree of risk, including, without limitation, the risk of loss of the entire amount invested.

MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

The General Partner and the Investment Manager

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”), acts as the general partner of the Fund and the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands.

Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Investment Manager”), serves as the investment manager of the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund and has responsibility for the Master Fund’s investment program.

Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is ultimately controlled by James D. Dondero (the “Principal”).

The Investment Management Agreement

The Investment Manager was appointed as the investment manager to the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund pursuant to an investment management agreement (the “Investment Management Agreement”). Under the Investment Management Agreement, the Investment Manager has full discretion to invest the assets of the Master Fund in pursuit of the investment objective and strategy described in this Memorandum. For its services, the Investment Manager is entitled to the Management Fee, as well as reimbursement for any Feeder Fund or Master Fund expenses incurred by the Investment Manager.

The Investment Management Agreement provides that, in the absence of gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud, each of the Investment Manager, its members, shareholders, partners, managers, directors, any person who controls the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, and each of their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors and other legal representatives, will be indemnified by the Fund, the Offshore Fund and/or the Master Fund, to the extent permitted by law, against any loss or liability incurred by any of such persons in performing their duties under the Investment Management Agreement.

Services Agreement

The Investment Manager engaged Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company and a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Investment Manager (“Highland Latin America”), pursuant to a services agreement (the “Services Agreement”) to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager related to its management of the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund, including back- and middle-office services; credit analysis; investment vehicle management; valuation; execution and documentation; marketing; reporting; administrative services; and other ancillary services.

The Services Agreement provides that in the absence of bad faith, gross negligence, fraud or willful misconduct (as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction in a final non-appealable judgment), the Investment Manager will, to the extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless Highland Latin America, any of its affiliates, and any of their respective managers, members, principals, partners, directors, officers, shareholders, employees and agents against any and all claims, demands, liabilities, costs, expenses, damages, losses, suits, proceedings, judgments, assessments, actions and other liabilities incurred by such person in performing their duties under the Services Agreement. The Fund will not be liable for any consulting services provided by Highland Latin America or any consultants or service providers that Highland Latin America engages, and the Fund will not bear any costs or expenses related to the services provided by Highland Latin America.

Investment Personnel

The key investment professionals of the Investment Manager and Highland Latin America who will be responsible for the Master Fund's investments are described below:

James Dondero, CFA, CMA, President, Co-Founder. Mr. Dondero is Co-Founder and President of Highland Capital Management, L.P. and a Director of Highland Latin America GP, Ltd., the general partner of the Investment Manager. Mr. Dondero has over 30 years of experience in the credit and equity markets, focused largely on high-yield and distressed investing. Mr. Dondero is the Chairman and President of NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc. (NYSE:NYRT), Chairman of NexBank Capital, Inc., Cornerstone Healthcare Group Holding, Inc., and CCS Medical, Inc., and a board member of Jernigan Capital, Inc. (NYSE:JCAP), and MGM Holdings, Inc. He also serves on the Southern Methodist University Cox School of Business Executive Board. A dedicated philanthropist, Mr. Dondero actively supports initiatives in education, veterans affairs, and public policy. Prior to founding Highland in 1993, Mr. Dondero was involved in creating the GIC subsidiary of Protective Life, where as Chief Investment Officer he helped take the company from inception to over $2 billion between 1989 and 1993. Between 1985 and 1989, Mr. Dondero was a corporate bond analyst and then portfolio manager at American Express. Mr. Dondero began his career in 1984 as an analyst in the JP Morgan training program. Mr. Dondero graduated from the University of Virginia where he earned highest honors (Beta Gamma Sigma, Beta Alpha Psi) from the McIntire School of Commerce with dual majors in accounting and finance. He has received certification as Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and Certified Managerial Accountant (CMA) and has earned the right to use the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation.

Gustavo Prilick. Mr. Prilick is a Managing Partner at Highland Capital Brasil and a registered asset manager in Brazil, and is a Director of Highland Latin America GP, Ltd., the general partner of the Investment Manager. He has extensively worked in several of Highland Capital Brasil's portfolio companies in the US mainly as CEO. Prior to his involvement with Highland Capital Brasil, he was a Partner at South America Fund, a private equity firm, mainly focused on providing financial services to export companies in Argentina and Uruguay. Prior to South America Fund, he was the Chief Operating Officer of Millicom International Cellular for 7 years, serving Latin America, Asia, Africa and ten operations in Russia. Prior to Millicom, he served as the Director of International Business for Oracle Corporation where he was responsible for the establishment of most of Oracle's International Subsidiaries on several continents, including the Brazilian operation. Later he became President of Oracle South America with oversight of several countries in South America. He also served as CEO of Nacion Factoring, a subsidiary of Banco Nacion in Argentina building its operations to reach one of the leading positions in the country. Mr. Prilick received an MBA from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business and a degree in Electrical Engineering from Universidad de Buenos Aires. He has also held teaching positions as a visiting professor in several leading Business Schools in Argentina.

Highland Latin America will enter into relationships and agreements with Argentine relevant parties and/or individuals to obtain supporting services for the management of the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund, and will enter into consulting agreements with Andrés Pitchón, Julieta Prieto and Javier Casabal pursuant to which these consultants will provide investment and related services to the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund. Mr. Pitchón will provide portfolio management services to the Master Fund under the overall supervision of the Investment Manager.

Andrés Pitchón. Mr. Pitchón, through a consulting arrangement with Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., provides portfolio management services to the Master Fund. Mr. Pitchón began his career in 1993 as Head of Equity Research for Argentina for MBA-Salomon Brothers and later he also became responsible for Fixed income. As Head of the Research Department, his work was recognized by international publications such as Institutional Investor, Latin Finance, The Reuters Survey and The Greenwich Survey. Since 1997 and 1999, he has managed the Offshore Fund's equity and fixed income mutual funds. Since 2003, Mr. Pitchón had been Senior Portfolio Manager of the Offshore Fund's hedge funds. Mr. Pitchón received a BA degree in IT, focused on Business Administration from the University of Belgrano (1989), together with an academic merit medal for highest GPA in the School of Technology. Mr. Pitchón also received a Master's degree in Business Administration from Anderson Graduate School of Business at UCLA in 1992.

The Administrator

The Master Fund has entered into an Administration Agreement (the “Administration Agreement”) with MUFG Fund Services (Cayman) Limited (the “Administrator”) pursuant to which the Administrator performs certain administrative and accounting services for the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund, subject to the oversight and control of the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund.

Pursuant to the Administration Agreement, the Administrator is responsible, under the overall supervision of the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund, for certain matters pertaining to the administration for the Fund, including: (i) maintaining the accounts of the Fund and the Master Fund, (ii) calculating the Master Fund's net asset value, (iii) maintaining the principal corporate records of the Fund and the Master Fund, (iv) communicating with Limited Partners, (v) accepting the subscriptions of new Limited Partners, (vi) effecting withdrawals of Interests, (vii) maintaining the register of sub-fund investments, (viii) executing sub-fund subscriptions and withdrawals as instructed by the Fund, and (ix) ensuring compliance with applicable law and regulation (including anti-money laundering regulations). For its services, the Administrator receives a fee from the Master Fund.

The Administration Agreement may be terminated by the Administrator or the Master Fund upon ninety (90) days' written notice or, under certain circumstances, shorter notice. In such event, the Master Fund may enter into a new agreement with a new administrator on behalf of the Master Fund and the Feeder Funds, in its discretion and on such terms as it deems advisable, without prior notice to, or approval of, investors.

Under the Administration Agreement, the Master Fund agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Administrator and its affiliated persons and delegates, as well as their respective officers, directors, employees and agents for, and to defend and hold each such person harmless from, any and all taxes, claims, demands, actions, suits, judgments, liabilities, losses, damages, costs, charges, counsel fees (on a solicitor and his own client basis), fines, assessments, amounts paid in settlement and expenses imposed on, incurred by, or asserted against the person which may arise out of or in connection with the Administration Agreement. The Administrator or any other indemnified person will not be indemnified for their own gross negligence, wilful default or fraud.

The Administrator is not responsible for valuing the Master Fund's investments, monitoring any investment restrictions of the Master Fund, determining compliance by the Master Fund with its investment restrictions, the Master Fund's trading activities, the management or performance of the Master Fund or the accuracy or adequacy of this Memorandum. In addition, the Administrator does not assume any liability to any person or entity, including Limited Partners, except as specifically provided in the Administration Agreement. The Administrator may delegate certain services and share information concerning the Fund and its Limited Partners with its various non-United States affiliates subject to applicable confidentiality provisions.

The Administrator has no responsibility with respect to trading activities, the Investment Manager, the management or performance of the Master Fund, or the accuracy or adequacy of this Memorandum.

SUMMARY OF TERMS

The following Summary of Terms summarizes the principal terms governing an investment in the Fund, and is subject, and qualified in its entirety by reference, to the Partnership Agreement, the exempted limited partnership agreement of the Master Fund, as amended (the “Master Fund Partnership Agreement”), and the Fund’s subscription documents (the “Subscription Documents”). This summary is intended to be brief and does not purport to provide a comprehensive explanation of the Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Subscription Documents. Accordingly, statements made in this Memorandum are subject to the detailed provisions of those agreements. Prospective investors are urged to review those agreements in their entirety prior to determining whether to invest in the Fund.

The Fund

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Fund”), primarily seeks to maximize the total return of its assets through capital appreciation by investing all of its investable assets in Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Master Fund”), which intends to hold primarily a portfolio of investments in securities of Latin American corporate and sovereign issuers as well as non-Latin American issuers that derive a portion of their revenues from business activities in Latin America, in each case with a primary focus on Argentina.

General Partner

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”), acts as the general partner of the Fund and the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. James D. Dondero (the “Principal”) ultimately controls the General Partner.

Investment Manager

Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership controlled by the Principal (the “Investment Manager”), serves as investment manager to the Feeder Funds (as defined below) and the Master Fund and has responsibility for the Master Fund’s investments.

Master-Feeder Structure

In order to facilitate investments by non-U.S. and certain U.S. tax-exempt investors, the Investment Manager and its affiliates recently assumed the management of an existing investment fund, Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Offshore Fund” and, together with the Fund, the “Feeder Funds”). The Feeder Funds will place all of their investable assets in, and conduct all of their investment and trading activities in parallel through, the Master Fund. Accordingly, references herein to the investment activity of the Fund should be construed to refer to the Fund’s investment activities through the Master Fund. The Feeder Funds share all items of profit, loss, income and expense of the Master Fund on a pro rata basis in accordance with their respective capital account balances in the Master Fund. Except as the context otherwise requires, the term “Fund” also includes the Master Fund.

The Investment Manager or an affiliate may also sponsor one or more additional investment funds or accounts.

Eligible Investors

Limited partner interests (“Interests”) may be purchased only by investors who qualify as both “accredited investors” and “qualified purchasers,” each as defined in the Fund’s Subscription Documents. Subscribers will be required to complete the Fund’s Subscription Documents consisting of the subscription agreement and the subscriber information form to determine their eligibility. The General Partner reserves the right to reject any investor for any reason or for no reason in its sole discretion.

An investment in the Fund is suitable only for persons that have adequate means of providing for their current needs and personal contingencies and have no need for liquidity in their investments. An investment in the Fund should not be made by any person that (a) cannot afford a total loss of its principal, or (b) has not carefully read or does not understand this Memorandum, including the portions concerning the risks and the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

The Fund intends to issue multiple series of Interests over time. Not all series of Interests will be available for subscription at the same time and the terms among the series of Interests will vary. Each series will have separate rights and preferences, including, without limitation, with respect to fees and withdrawal rights. The Fund is currently offering Series A Interests, Series B Interests and Series C Interests (each, a “Series”).

New series of Interests may be established by the General Partner without notice to or approval of the Limited Partners (defined below). References herein to “Interests” or “Limited Partners” shall include all Series and Limited Partners unless otherwise specified or context so requires.

Subscriptions

Subscriptions for Interests may be accepted as of the first day of each calendar month and/or such other days as the General Partner may determine in its discretion from time to time, generally subject to the receipt of cleared funds no later than the Business Day immediately preceding the acceptance date. The initial minimum investment is $500,000, and thereafter, a Limited Partner may make additional investments, with the consent of the General Partner, in increments of not less than $500,000; provided that, in each case, the Fund may accept investments in a lesser amount, but no less than $100,000 with respect to Series B Interests.

“Business Day” is defined as any day on which banks in the Cayman Islands, Buenos Aires and New York City are authorized to open for business or such other days as the General Partner may determine generally, or in any particular case.

A subscriber admitted to the Fund (a “Limited Partner”) receives, in exchange for its initial capital contribution and any subsequent capital contribution, an Interest representing a proportionate share of the net assets of the Fund at that time.

All subscribers will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56) and other applicable anti-money laundering regulations as further described in this Memorandum and the Subscription Documents.

Placement Agents

There will be no sales charge payable by or to the Fund in connection with the offering of Interests. However, the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may enter into arrangements with placement agents (which may include its affiliates) to solicit investors in the Fund, and such arrangements may provide for the compensation of such placements agents for their services at the General Partner’s and/or the Investment Manager’s expense or such placement agents may be paid a portion of the Management Fee. For the avoidance of doubt, the Fund will not bear any placement agent fees.

Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent’s or distributor’s participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions.

Each placement agent shall comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Interests.

Capital Accounts

The Fund will maintain a book capital account (a “Capital Account”), which may be divided into capital sub-accounts, for the General Partner and each Limited Partner (each, a “Partner” and together, the “Partners”) to reflect contributions, withdrawals, distributions and allocations of net profit and net loss, with each sub-account being maintained as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner in order to calculate the Series B Early Withdrawal Reduction and Series C Early Withdrawal Reduction (each as defined below), as applicable, and the Performance Allocation (as defined below) for each capital contribution. The initial balance of each Partner’s Capital Account will be equal to the amount of cash or net value of any property contributed to the Fund by such Partner.

If a Partner invests in more than one Series, the Fund will maintain a separate Capital Account on behalf of such Partner with respect to each such Series and each Capital Account will be treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of determining the Management Fee (as defined below) and Performance Allocation applicable to each Capital Account.

The Master Fund will issue to the Fund a limited partner interest in the Master Fund and will maintain capital accounts and sub-accounts that correspond to Limited Partners' Capital Accounts in the Fund.

Affiliated Investors

The Investment Manager, the General Partner and their respective affiliates, principals, employees, partners, agents, the respective family members of such personnel and trusts and other entities established primarily for their benefit or for charitable purposes ("Affiliated Investors") may not be subject to restrictions on withdrawals or be assessed the Management Fee or the Performance Allocation that are applicable to other investors in the Fund, but do share pro rata in all other applicable expenses of the Fund; provided that, the Special Limited Partner may, unless prohibited by law, make withdrawals of all or any part of its Performance Allocation and gains thereon from its capital account in the Master Fund as of any Withdrawal Date (as defined below).

Borrowing and Leverage

The Master Fund may buy securities or commodities on margin and arrange with banks, brokers and others to borrow money against a pledge of securities or commodities in order to employ leverage when the Investment Manager deems such action appropriate. The Master Fund may not borrow more than 100% of its net assets as described in "Investment Program – Investment Restrictions" above.

Management Fee

For its services to the Master Fund, the Investment Manager is entitled to a management fee (the "Management Fee") calculated monthly and payable quarterly in arrears at an annual rate of (i) 1.75% of each Limited Partner's Capital Account balance that is attributable to a Series A Interest, (ii) 1.25% of each Limited Partner's Capital Account balance that is attributable to a Series B Interest, and (iii) 1.00% of each Limited Partner's Capital Account balance that is attributable to a Series C Interest. The Management Fee is paid at the Master Fund level. The Management Fee will be prorated for any period that is less than a full calendar quarter.

The General Partner or the Investment Manager may elect to reduce, waive or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to any Limited Partner, including, without limitation, Affiliated Investors. To effect such reduction, waiver or difference in calculation, the Fund may issue a separate series of Interests.

The General Partner may delay the timing or alter the structure of fees payable to the Investment Manager so long as such changes are not materially adverse to the Limited Partners. The Investment Manager may also assign all or any portion of fees payable to the Investment Manager, including the Management Fee and the Performance Allocation, to any affiliate thereof or any third party in its sole discretion.

Performance Allocation

Pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, generally, as of the close of each fiscal quarter and subject to the limitations described below, a performance-based profits allocation (the “Performance Allocation”) is debited against the Master Fund capital sub-account relating to each Series attributable to a Limited Partner and simultaneously credited to the Master Fund capital account of the Special Limited Partner. The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is effectively equal to (i) 20.0% of the Net Capital Appreciation (as defined below) of each Series A Interest for such fiscal quarter, (ii) 17.5% of the Net Capital Appreciation of each Series B Interest for such fiscal quarter, and (iii) 15.0% of the Net Capital Appreciation of each Series C Interest for such fiscal quarter.

The “Net Capital Appreciation” applicable to an Interest shall mean the amount by which the net asset value of such Interest on the last day of the fiscal quarter (or on the Withdrawal Date, if applicable) exceeds the higher of the following amounts: (i) the highest net asset value of such Interest as of the commencement of any fiscal quarter and (ii) the issue price of such Interest. All such calculations include realized and unrealized gains and losses and are made before deduction of the Performance Allocation, but after deduction of the accrued applicable expenses of the Fund and the Master Fund for the applicable period, and in each case adjusted for any subscriptions and withdrawals made during the quarter.

The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level through the use of separate memorandum sub-accounts with respect to the Fund’s capital account in the Master Fund that correspond to each Series attributable to a Limited Partner. No separate Performance Allocation will be charged at the Fund level.

The Performance Allocation generally will be allocable to the Special Limited Partner after the end of each fiscal quarter and as of any Withdrawal Date occurring prior to the end of any fiscal quarter. The Performance Allocation payable with respect to any Interests withdrawn prior to the end of a fiscal quarter will be determined solely by reference to such withdrawn Interests and will be allocable to the Special Limited Partner on the Withdrawal Date. The Performance Allocation with respect to any Limited Partner may be fully or partially waived or rebated by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

Other Fees and Expenses

The Fund bears all of its own initial organizational expenses and its pro rata share of the initial organizational expenses of the Master Fund. In general, the Fund’s financial statements will be prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (“GAAP”). However, the General Partner intends to amortize the Fund’s organizational expenses over a period of 60 calendar months from the date the Fund commenced operations because it believes such treatment is more equitable than expensing the entire amount of the organizational expenses in the Fund's first year of operation, as is required by GAAP. The General Partner may, however, limit the amount of start-up and organizational expenses that the Fund amortizes so that the audit opinion issued with respect to the Fund's financial statements will not be qualified.

The Fund pays all costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Fund's operations. The Fund also bears its pro rata share of the cost of the Master Fund's operations and investments as provided in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. Expenses payable by the Fund in connection with the Master Fund's investment program, include, but are not limited to, brokerage commissions, other expenses related to buying and selling securities (including trading errors that are not the result of the Investment Manager's gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud), costs of due diligence regardless of whether a particular transaction is consummated, the costs of attending shareholder meetings, research expenses and costs related to monitoring investments. Expenses payable by the Fund in connection with its operations include, but are not limited to, fees and expenses of advisers and consultants; the Management Fee; fees and expenses of any custodians, escrow or transfer agents or other investment-related service providers; indemnification expenses and the cost of insurance against potential indemnification liabilities; interest and other borrowing expenses; legal, administrative, accounting, tax, audit and insurance expenses; expenses of preparing and distributing reports, financial statements and notices to Limited Partners; litigation or other extraordinary expenses; any withholding, transfer or other taxes payable by the Fund (including any interest and penalties), and the cost of periodically updating this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement.

The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities under the Investment Management Agreement, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Master Fund, including, but not limited to, any affiliate of the Investment Manager. Payment for any such services will be assumed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals on behalf of the Master Fund, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Master Fund, and the Master Fund will bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.

The Fund and the Master Fund do not have their own separate employees or office, and neither the Fund nor the Master Fund will reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the General Partner or the Investment

Manager. A portion of the commissions generated on the Master Fund's brokerage transactions may generate soft dollar credits that the Investment Manager is authorized to use to pay for research and other research-related services and products used by the Investment Manager. It is the current policy of the Investment Manager to limit such use of soft dollars to fall within the safe harbor of Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or to be otherwise reasonably related to the investment decision-making process or for Master Fund expenses. See "Brokerage and Custody."

If the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, incurs any expenses for both the Master Fund and one or more Other Accounts (as defined herein), the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, will allocate such expenses among the Master Fund and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expenses relate, or in such other manner as the General Partner considers fair and reasonable.

Allocation of Net Profit and Loss

Net profit or net loss of the Fund is allocated among the Capital Accounts of the Partners as of the close of each calendar month, at any other time when the Fund receives an additional capital contribution or effects a withdrawal or distribution, or at such other times as the General Partner may determine (each, a "Fiscal Period").

The net profit or net loss of the Fund for any calendar month or other valuation period will reflect, with respect to all positions:

- (a) the dividends and interest accrued during the period;
- (b) the net realized gains or losses from the sale or other disposition of investments during the period allocated by the Fund;
- (c) the net change in the unrealized appreciation or depreciation of investments during the period held at the close of the period (i.e., the difference between the fair market value of each investment at the end of the period compared with either the fair market value at the commencement of the period or, in the case of any investment made after the commencement of the period, the cost); and
- (d) the expenses of the Fund incurred or accrued during the period (other than the Management Fee and any other items that are charged on a Partner-by-Partner basis).

As of the close of each Fiscal Period, the net profit or net loss (subject to any applicable Performance Allocation paid at the Master Fund level) will be allocated pro rata among the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their percentage interests in the Fund as of the commencement of the period. Each Partner's percentage interest in the Fund as of the commencement of any period is based on the value of the Partner's Capital Account at such time in relation to the sum of the Capital Accounts of all of the Partners at such time.

The Management Fee will be calculated separately with respect to each Limited Partner and will be debited from the capital sub-account at the Master Fund level corresponding to each Limited Partner's Capital Account.

Distributions

Subject to the monthly withdrawal privilege described below, all earnings of the Fund are ordinarily retained for investment. Limited Partners should not expect the Fund to make any dividend distributions.

Withdrawals; Lock-Up

Subject to certain withdrawal restrictions described below, a Limited Partner is generally permitted to withdraw all or a portion of its Capital Account as of the last Business Day of each calendar month (and/or such other Business Days as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion) (each, a "Withdrawal Date"); provided that, any partial withdrawals may only be made in minimum amounts of $100,000. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Limited Partner that withdraws all or a portion of its Capital Account with respect to a Series B Interest prior to the one-year anniversary of the date such capital was contributed to the Fund is subject to an early withdrawal reduction of up to 3.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series B Interest being withdrawn, as determined at the close of business of such Withdrawal Date (such fee, the "Series B Early Withdrawal Reduction"). In addition, any Limited Partner that withdraws all or a portion of its Capital Account with respect to a Series C Interest prior to the:

- (i) one-year anniversary of the date such capital was contributed to the Fund is subject to an early withdrawal reduction of 5.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series C Interest being withdrawn, as determined at the close of business of such Withdrawal Date, and
- (ii) two-year anniversary, but on or after the one-year anniversary, of the date such capital was contributed to the Fund is subject to an early withdrawal reduction of 3.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series C Interest being withdrawn, as determined at the close of business of such Withdrawal Date (such fees with respect to Series C Interests, the "Series C Early Withdrawal Reduction" and together with the Series B Early Withdrawal Reduction, the "Early Withdrawal Reduction").

The Early Withdrawal Reduction is retained by the Fund (and generally invested in the Master Fund) and deducted from the withdrawal proceeds of the withdrawing Limited Partner. The Early Withdrawal Reduction will not apply in the event of a Compulsory Withdrawal (defined below).

Written notice of any withdrawal request must be received in writing by the Administrator at least 30 calendar days prior to the requested Withdrawal Date. The General Partner may waive such notice requirements, or permit withdrawals under such other circumstances, if, in its sole discretion, it determines that, under the circumstances, to waive such requirement will not have an adverse effect on the Master Fund's portfolio.

If the Master Fund violates the investment restrictions and fails to remedy the violation on or before the Remedy Date (as described in "Investment Program – Investment Restrictions"), any Limited Partner may withdraw all or part of its Capital Account on the next Withdrawal Date and will not be subject to the Early Withdrawal Reduction; provided that, such Limited Partner has requested such withdrawal in writing within 30 Business Days after the Remedy Date.

Settlement of Withdrawal Proceeds

A withdrawal request is normally settled in cash or, subject to the sole discretion of the General Partner, wholly or partially with securities or other assets of the Fund (received from the Master Fund), whether or not readily marketable, generally within 10 Business Days after the Withdrawal Date; provided that the General Partner may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such withdrawal from having a material adverse impact on the Fund. In the event that the General Partner satisfies a withdrawal request with assets in kind, such securities may be transferred to a liquidating account and sold by the Fund for the benefit of the withdrawing Limited Partner, in which case, payment of the withdrawal proceeds attributable to such investments will be delayed until such investments are sold. The amount payable in respect of such investments will depend on the performance of such investments through to the date on which they are sold. The cost of operating the liquidating account and selling the investment(s) will be deducted from the proceeds of sale paid to the withdrawing Limited Partner.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may establish reserves and holdbacks for estimated accrued expenses, liabilities and contingencies, including, without limitation, general reserves for unspecified contingencies (even if such reserves or holdbacks are not otherwise required by GAAP) or liabilities stemming from tax obligations (as such may be determined in the sole discretion of the General Partner and whether or not incurred directly or indirectly), which could reduce the amount of a distribution upon a Limited Partner's withdrawal. The General Partner may withhold for the benefit of the Fund from any distribution to a withdrawing Limited Partner an amount representing the actual or estimated costs incurred by the Fund with respect to such withdrawal, as well as any Early Withdrawal Reduction described above.

Withdrawal Conditions

The General Partner or the Administrator may refuse to accept a withdrawal request if it is not accompanied by such additional information as the General Partner or the Administrator may reasonably require. This power may, without limitation to the generality of the foregoing, be exercised where proper information has not been provided for money laundering verification purposes. In addition, where withdrawal proceeds are requested to be remitted to an account which is not in the name of the Limited Partner, the General Partner and the Administrator reserve the right to request such information as may be reasonably necessary in order to verify the identity of the Limited Partner and the owner of the account to which the withdrawal proceeds will be paid. The withdrawal proceeds will not be paid to a third-party account if the Limited Partner and/or owner of the account fails to provide such information.

Compulsory Withdrawals

The General Partner reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to compel the withdrawal of a Limited Partner's Interest at any time and for any reason on not less than seven days' prior written notice (or immediately if the General Partner, in its sole discretion, determines that such Limited Partner's continued investment in the Fund may cause the Fund, the Master Fund, the General Partner or the Investment Manager to violate any applicable law) (a "Compulsory Withdrawal"). The General Partner will compel the withdrawal of a Limited Partner's Interest in its entirety if a Limited Partner requests a withdrawal that would cause its total investment with respect to a particular Series to fall below a minimum of $100,000 (a "Minimum Required Withdrawal"). In either case, settlements are made in the same manner as voluntary withdrawals, except that the Early Withdrawal Reduction will not apply in the event of a Compulsory Withdrawal, but will apply to any Minimum Required Withdrawal.

Suspension of Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments

The General Partner may, at any time, suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Interests (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of Interests, (c) the withdrawal by Limited Partners of Interests (and the applicable Withdrawal Date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and Withdrawals Dates are not postponed) (each, a "Suspension") during any period which: (i) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of investments owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) are traded is closed, other than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended; (ii) there exists any state of affairs as a result of which (A) disposal of a substantial part of the investments owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the Limited Partners, or (B) it is not reasonably practicable for the Fund fairly to determine the value of its net assets; (iii) none of the withdrawal requests which have been made may lawfully be satisfied by the Fund; (iv) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the investments of the Fund (through the Master Fund); (v) in the sole discretion of the General Partner, it is necessary to preserve the Fund's assets; or (vi) automatically upon any suspension of withdrawals by the Master Fund for similar reasons as described in "The Master Fund," below.

The Administrator will promptly notify each Limited Partner who has submitted a withdrawal request and to whom payment in full of the amount being withdrawn has not yet been remitted of any Suspension of withdrawals or Suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds. Any remaining amount of a withdrawal request that is not satisfied due to such a Suspension remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Fund and subject to the applicable Management Fee until such amount is finally and fully withdrawn. Such Limited Partners will not be given any priority with respect to the withdrawal of Interests after the cause for such Suspension or limitation ceases to exist. The General Partner may in its sole discretion, however, permit such Limited Partners to withdraw their withdrawal requests to the extent that the relevant Withdrawal Date has not yet passed. For the avoidance of doubt, where a suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds is declared between the relevant Withdrawal Date and the remittance of such payment proceeds, affected Limited Partners shall not have any right to withdraw their withdrawal requests. Upon the reasonable determination by the General Partner that conditions leading to a Suspension no longer apply, the Administrator will notify the Limited Partners of the end of the Suspension. At such time, any such suspended payments shall generally be paid in accordance with the normal process for making such payments, withdrawal rights shall be promptly reinstated and any pending withdrawal requests which were not withdrawn (or new, timely withdrawal requests) will be effected as of the first Withdrawal Date following the removal of the Suspension, subject to the foregoing restrictions on withdrawals.

Transfers

Interests are not transferable except with the prior written consent of the General Partner, which consent may be withheld in its sole discretion. The General Partner will require any transferee or assignee of any Limited Partner to execute the Subscription Documents.

Duty of Care;
Indemnification

Pursuant to the Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, each member, shareholder, partner, manager and director of, and any person who controls, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing and each of their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors and other legal representatives (each such person, an "Indemnified Party") shall not be liable to the Master Fund, the Fund or the Limited Partners for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Party or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as an Indemnified Party in the absence of gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud, or as otherwise required by law. In no event shall any Indemnified Party be liable for any consequential damages, special or indirect damages or lost profits.

The Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement contain provisions for the indemnification of the Indemnified Parties by the Master Fund and the Fund (but not by the Limited Partners individually) against any liabilities arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Party or in connection with the Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, the Investment Management Agreement, or the Master Fund's or the Fund's business or affairs to the fullest extent permitted by law in the absence of gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud. The General Partner is not personally liable to any Limited Partner for the repayment of any withdrawal proceeds or for contributions by such Limited Partner to the capital of the Fund or by reason of any change in the U.S. federal or state income tax laws applicable to the Fund or its investors.

Non-Exclusivity;
Allocation of Opportunities

None of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees is precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund or the Master Fund.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement requires the General Partner, and the Investment Manager as delegatee of the General Partner, to act in a manner that it considers fair and equitable over time in allocating investment opportunities to the Master Fund. Although the General Partner and the Investment Manager consider certain factors set forth in the Investment Manager's policies to determine how to allocate trades, the Investment Manager's policies and the Master Fund Partnership Agreement do not otherwise impose any specific obligations or requirements concerning the allocation of time, effort or investment opportunities to the Master Fund or any restrictions on the nature or timing of investments for the account of the Master Fund and for the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own accounts or for other accounts that the General Partner, the Investment Manager or their affiliates may manage (each, an "Other Account"). The General Partner and the Investment Manager are not obligated to devote any specific amount of time to the affairs of the Master Fund and are not required to accord exclusivity or priority to the Master Fund in the event of limited investment opportunities arising from the application of speculative position limits or other factors.

The Principal, as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Master Fund (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of interests in the Fund), unless such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Fund's investors.

It is the policy of the Investment Manager to allocate investment opportunities fairly and equitably over time. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate. The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. One or more of the foregoing considerations may (and are often expected to) result in allocations among the Master Fund and one or more accounts on other than a pari passu basis. See "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest" below.

Affiliated Service Providers

NexBank, SSB ("NexBank SSB") is an affiliate of the Investment Manager and may, from time to time, provide banking and/or agency services to the Investment Manager, clients of the Investment Manager or collective investment vehicles for which the Investment Manager provides investment advisory services (including the Fund and other vehicles in which the Fund, through the Master Fund, may invest) or third parties engaged in transactions involving the Investment Manager. NexBank SSB may also act as an agent in connection with certain securities transactions involving the Investment Manager's client accounts (including the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Master Fund may invest). Principals of the Investment Manager own a majority of the equity interests in NexBank SSB and employees or affiliates of the Investment Manager own or may own a substantial equity interest in NexBank SSB. Certain Master Fund investment transactions may be executed through NexBank Securities, Inc., an affiliate of the Investment Manager and a registered broker-dealer.

Additionally, the Investment Manager or affiliates of the Investment Manager, including, without limitation, Nexbank SSB, NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital Advisors and Governance Re, Ltd., may provide financial advisory, management, insurance, title insurance or other services for a fee to portfolio companies in which the Master Fund may have an interest. Highland Latin America, an affiliate of the Investment Manager, has been engaged to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager. See "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest" below.

Valuations

In general, the Fund's financial statements will be prepared in accordance with GAAP. The General Partner has delegated the valuation of the Fund's assets, based on the Master Fund's assets, to the Administrator who values the Fund's assets as of the close of each Fiscal Period in accordance with the Investment Manager's valuation policies and procedures.

Reserves

Appropriate reserves may be accrued and charged against net assets and proportionately against the Capital Accounts of the Partners for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts (subject to increase or reduction) that the General Partner in its sole discretion deems necessary or appropriate. At the sole discretion of the General Partner, the amount of any such reserve (or any increase or decrease therein) may be charged or credited, as appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of those investors who are Limited Partners at the time when such reserve is created, increased or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those investors who were Limited Partners at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established.

If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, to those persons who were Limited Partners during any such prior period(s).

Fiscal Year

The Fund has a fiscal year ending on December 31 of each calendar year.

Reports to Limited Partners

The Fund furnishes to its Partners as soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year (or as otherwise required by law) such tax information as is necessary for each Partner to complete U.S. federal and state income tax or information returns, along with any other tax information required by law. Within 120 days of the end of each year (or as soon as practicable thereafter), the Fund distributes to each Partner audited financial statements of the Fund, including a statement of profit or loss for such fiscal year and an unaudited status of each such Partner's holdings in the Fund at such time. Partners will also receive, upon request to the Administrator, copies of semi-annual financial statements of the Fund.

Tax Status

The General Partner believes that the Fund should be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and should not itself be subject to U.S. federal income taxation. Each Limited Partner otherwise subject to U.S. federal income tax is required to include in such Limited Partner's taxable income such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's income and gains, when realized by the Fund (regardless of cash distributions from the Fund to such investor), and may claim, to the extent allowable, such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's losses and deductions. Due to the nature of the Fund's activities, the Fund's income or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes for a particular taxable period may differ from its financial or economic results. The deductibility of a Limited Partner's share of any Fund losses or deductions may be limited. See "Tax Considerations."

ERISA

The Investment Manager intends to limit investment in the Master Fund by "benefit plan investors" so that the assets of the Master Fund will not be considered "plan assets" for purposes of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). It is anticipated that the assets of the Fund may constitute "plan assets" for purposes of ERISA. See "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations."

Amendment of the Limited Partnership Agreement

The Partnership Agreement may be amended by the General Partner with the consent of a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, which consent may be obtained through negative consent. However, the Fund may not: (a) increase the obligation of a Limited Partner to make any contribution to the capital of the Fund; (b) reduce the Capital Account of any Limited Partner other than as contemplated by the Partnership Agreement; or (c) reduce any Limited Partner's right to share in net profits or assets of the Fund, in each case, without the consent of each Limited Partner adversely affected thereby. The above consent may be obtained by negative consent.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may amend the Partnership Agreement at any time without the consent of any Limited Partner: (a) to comply with applicable laws and regulations; (b) to make changes that do not adversely affect the rights or obligations of any Limited Partner; (c) to cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any conflicting provisions of the Partnership Agreement; or (d) with respect to any other amendment, if any Limited Partner whose contractual rights as a Limited Partner would be materially and adversely changed by such amendment has an opportunity to withdraw from the Fund (without being subject to the Early Withdrawal Reduction) as of a date that is not less than 30 days after the General Partner has furnished written notice of such amendment to each Limited Partner and that is prior to the effective date of the amendment.

Variation of Terms

The General Partner or the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may enter into a side letter or similar agreement to or with one or more Limited Partners that has the effect of establishing rights under, or altering or supplementing the terms of, the Partnership Agreement or of any Subscription Documents (including those relating to access to information, the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation, minimum investment amount, voting rights and withdrawal rights) with respect to such Limited Partner(s).

THE MASTER FUND

The Master Fund's Partnership Interests

The Master Fund's partnership interests are currently held exclusively by the Fund and the Offshore Fund as limited partners, the Investment Manager as the special limited partner of the Master Fund, and the General Partner as the general partner of the Master Fund, pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The General Partner is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands pursuant to Part IX of the Companies Law (2016 Revision).

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement

The Master Fund is constituted as a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, 2014 (the "Exempted Limited Partnership Law"). A Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership is constituted by the signing of the relevant partnership agreement and its registration with the Registrar of Exempted Limited Partnerships in the Cayman Islands.

A Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership is not a separate legal person distinct from its partners. Under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, any property which is conveyed into or vested in the name of the exempted limited partnership shall be held or deemed to be held by the general partner, and if more than one, then by the general partners jointly upon trust, as an asset of the partnership in accordance with the terms of the partnership agreement. Any debt or obligation incurred by a general partner in the conduct of the business of an exempted limited partnership shall be a debt or obligation of the exempted limited partnership. Registration under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law entails that the partnership becomes subject to, and the limited partners therein are afforded the limited liability and other benefits of, the Exempted Limited Partnership Law (subject to compliance therewith).

Liability of Partners and Indemnification of the General Partner and Others. The business of a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership will be conducted by its general partner(s) who will be liable for all debts and obligations of the exempted limited partnership to the extent that the partnership has insufficient assets. As a general matter, a limited partner of a Cayman Islands partnership will not be liable for the debts and obligations of the exempted limited partnership, other than:

- (i) as expressed in the partnership agreement,
- (ii) if such limited partner takes part in the conduct of the business of an exempted limited partnership in its dealings with persons who are not partners, then that limited partner shall be liable, in the event of the insolvency of the exempted limited partnership, for all debts and obligations of that exempted limited partnership incurred during the period that he so participates in the conduct of the business as though he were, for such period, a general partner, provided always that he shall be rendered liable pursuant to the foregoing provision only to a person who transacts business with the exempted limited partnership during such period with actual knowledge of such participation and who then reasonably believed such limited partner to be a general partner, or
- (iii) if such limited partner is obligated pursuant to Section 34(1) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Law to return a distribution made to it (with interest at a rate of 10% per annum, unless otherwise specified in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement) when the exempted limited partnership is insolvent or within six months prior to such insolvency.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides that none of the Indemnified Parties will be liable to the Master Fund or any limited partner of the Master Fund (including the Feeder Funds) for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Party or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as an Indemnified Party in the absence of gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud, or as otherwise required by law. An Indemnified Party may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Master Fund's affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. In addition, in no event shall any Indemnified Party be liable for any consequential damages, special or indirect damages or lost profits.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides that the Master Fund shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Party from and against any and all liabilities suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Party by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Party or in connection with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement or the Master Fund's business or affairs, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability did not result from the gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud of such Indemnified Party. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement also provides that the Master Fund will, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, advance to any Indemnified Party reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct, subject to receiving a written undertaking from the Indemnified Party to repay such amounts if and to the extent that it is finally determined that the Indemnified Party was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement do not provide for the exculpation or indemnification of any Indemnified Party for any liability (including liability under U.S. federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Indemnified Party, the Master Fund (and not the applicable Indemnified Party) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud. Given the volume of transactions executed on behalf of the Master Fund, trading errors (and similar errors) will occur and the Master Fund will be responsible for any resulting losses, even if such losses result from the negligence (but not gross negligence) of any Indemnified Party.

The Indemnified Parties will also be indemnified by each limited partner of the Master Fund for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that limited partner, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith to the extent that the balance of the limited partner's capital account is insufficient to fully compensate the General Partner and the Investment Manager for such costs.

Contributions and Withdrawals by the Fund. Limited partners of the Master Fund may make contributions at such times and in such amounts as the General Partner determines. As a limited partner of the Master Fund, the Fund may, subject to the consent of the General Partner, voluntarily request a withdrawal of all or part of its capital in the Master Fund at such times and in such amounts as it may determine. The General Partner may, at any time, suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Master Fund (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of limited partner interests in the Master Fund; (c) the withdrawal by limited partners of their interests (and the applicable withdrawal date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and withdrawal dates are not postponed) during any period which: (i) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of investments owned by the Master Fund are traded is closed, other than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended; (ii) there exists any state of affairs as a result of which (A) disposal of a substantial part of the investments owned by the Master Fund would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the limited partners of the Master Fund, or (B) it is not reasonably practicable for the Master Fund fairly to determine the value of its net assets; (iii) none of the withdrawal requests which have been made may lawfully be satisfied by the Master Fund; (iv) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the investments of the Master Fund; or (v) in the sole discretion of the General Partner, it is necessary to preserve the Master Fund's assets.

Amendment of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement may be amended by an instrument in writing signed by each of the limited partners of the Master Fund and the General Partner; provided that, the General Partner may amend the Master Fund Partnership Agreement without the consent of the limited partners so long as the amendment does not adversely affect any rights of the limited partners.

Dissolution of the Master Fund. The Master Fund shall be wound up and dissolved upon the first to occur of any of the following liquidating events, and Sections 36(1)(b), 36(9) and 36(12) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Law shall not apply to the Master Fund:

- (i) the written election of the General Partner to terminate the Master Fund; or
- (ii) if the General Partner is the sole or last remaining general partner, the date (the "Automatic Dissolution Date") falling 90 days after the date of the service of a notice by the General Partner (or its legal representative) on all the limited partners informing the limited partners of:
 - (1) the commencement of liquidation or bankruptcy proceedings in relation to the General Partner; or
 - (2) the withdrawal, removal or making of a winding up or dissolution order in relation to the General Partner;

provided that, if a majority in number of the limited partners elects one or more new general partners before the Automatic Dissolution Date, the business of the Master Fund shall be resumed and continued. If a new general partner is not elected by the Automatic Dissolution Date, the Master Fund shall be wound up and dissolved in accordance with terms of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Exempted Limited Partnership Law.

Power of Attorney. Each limited partner of the Master Fund shall make, constitute and appoint the General Partner (and each of its successors and permitted assigns) for the time being, with full power of substitution, as its true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact of, and in the name, place and stead of, such Partner with the power from time to time to make, execute, sign, acknowledge, swear to (and deliver as may be appropriate) on its behalf and file and record in the appropriate public offices and publish (as may in the reasonable judgment of the General Partner be required by law), including the admission of any new partners of the Master Fund and any amendments to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. Each limited partner of the Master Fund shall authorize the General Partner to take any further action that the General Partner considers necessary or advisable in connection with the foregoing. Such power of attorney granted is intended to secure a proprietary interest of the General Partner and the performance by each limited partner of the Master Fund of its obligations under the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and shall be irrevocable and shall survive and not be affected by the subsequent death, lack of capacity, insolvency, bankruptcy or dissolution of any limited partner of the Master Fund.

Valuation of Assets

The General Partner has delegated the valuation of the Master Fund's assets to the Administrator, which will generally compute the value of the securities and other assets of the Master Fund as of the close of business on the last day of each fiscal period and on any other date selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion. In addition, the Administrator must compute the value of the securities that are being distributed in-kind as of their date of distribution in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. In determining the value of the assets of the Master Fund, no value is placed on the goodwill or name of the Master Fund, or the office records, files, statistical data or any similar intangible assets of the Master Fund not normally reflected in the Master Fund's accounting records, but there must be taken into consideration any related items of income earned but not received, expenses incurred but not yet paid, liabilities fixed or contingent, prepaid expenses to the extent not otherwise reflected in the books of account, and the value of options or commitments to purchase or sell securities pursuant to agreements entered into on or prior to such valuation date.

A copy of the Investment Manager's valuation policy is available upon request from the General Partner.

The value of each security and other asset of the Master Fund and the net worth of the Master Fund as a whole determined pursuant Master Fund Partnership Agreement are conclusive and binding on all of the partners of the Master Fund and all persons claiming through or under them.

RISK FACTORS AND POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Investment in the Fund is speculative and involves substantial risks, including, but not limited to, those summarized below. The Fund is not suitable for all investors and is intended for sophisticated investors who can accept the risks associated with their investments. Prospective investors should carefully consider the risk factors described in this section, among others, in determining whether an investment in the Fund is suitable for them. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund's program will be successful or that investments purchased by the Master Fund will increase in value. An investor must be prepared to bear capital losses that might result from an investment in the Fund, including a complete loss of the investor's invested capital. All investors in the Fund should consult their own legal, tax and financial advisors prior to investing in the Fund.

For purposes of this section, references to the "Fund" should be understood to mean each of the Fund and the Master Fund, as applicable, and each of the risk factors set forth herein, while not exhaustive, shall apply equally to each of the Fund and the Master Fund, as applicable.

General Risks

Lack of Operating History. The Fund, the Master Fund and the General Partner do not have operating histories upon which investors can evaluate the anticipated performance of the Fund. Although the principals of the Investment Manager have extensive prior experience in Latin America, past performance of the Investment Manager should not be construed as an indication of the future results of an investment in the Fund. The Master Fund's investment program should be evaluated on the basis that there can be no assurance that the Investment Manager's assessment of the short-term or long-term prospects of its investment strategy will prove accurate, or that the Master Fund will achieve its investment objectives.

Risks Associated With Investments in Securities. Any investment in securities carries market risks. An investment in the Fund is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk due to the nature of the Master Fund's investments and the strategies to be employed. An investment in the Fund should not in itself be considered a balanced investment program, but rather is intended to provide diversification in a more complete investment portfolio.

Investment Judgment; Market Risk. The profitability of a significant portion of the Master Fund's investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to predict accurately these price movements. With respect to the investment strategy utilized by the Master Fund, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Limited Liquidity; Additional Information. An investment in the Fund provides limited liquidity since the Interests are not freely transferable and may only be withdrawn at such times as set forth in this Memorandum. The General Partner may suspend withdrawals, in whole or in part, when such a suspension is warranted by extraordinary circumstances described in "Summary of Terms – Suspension of Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments" above. The General Partner may also delay the payment of withdrawal proceeds as more fully described elsewhere in this Memorandum. Investments that remain in the Fund are subject to all risks related to an investment in the Fund as described in this Memorandum.

Also, certain Limited Partners (including, without limitation, the Affiliated Investors), may invest on terms that provide access to information that is not generally available to other Limited Partners and, as a result, may be able to act on such additional information (e.g., withdraw their Interests) that other Limited Partners do not receive. An investment in the Fund is suitable only for sophisticated investors who have no need for current liquidity.

Effect of Substantial Withdrawals. Substantial withdrawals from the Fund could require the Master Fund to liquidate its positions more rapidly than otherwise desired in order to raise the cash necessary to fund the withdrawals at the Fund level. Illiquidity in certain securities could make it difficult for the Master Fund to liquidate positions on favorable terms, which could result in losses or a decrease in the net asset value of the Master Fund, and thus, the Fund. The Master Fund is permitted to borrow cash necessary to make payments in connection with withdrawals from the Fund when the Investment Manager determines that it would not be advisable to liquidate portfolio assets for that purpose. The Master Fund is also authorized to pledge portfolio assets as collateral security for the repayment of such loans. In these circumstances, the continuing Limited Partners will bear the risk of any subsequent decline in the value of the Fund's assets.

Effect of Withdrawal by Limited Partner on its Investment. Where a withdrawal request is accepted, an Interest will be treated as having been withdrawn effective as of the relevant Withdrawal Date, irrespective of whether or not such withdrawing Limited Partner has been removed from the Fund's books and records or the withdrawal proceeds have been determined or remitted. Accordingly, on and from the relevant Withdrawal Date, Limited Partners in their capacity as such will not be entitled to or be capable of exercising any rights arising under the Partnership Agreement or Subscription Documents with respect to the Interest being withdrawn, save the right to receive the withdrawal proceeds. Such withdrawing Limited Partners will be creditors of the Fund with respect to the withdrawal proceeds. In an insolvent liquidation, withdrawing Limited Partners will rank behind ordinary creditors but ahead of existing Limited Partners.

Master-Feeder Structure. The Fund will invest all of its investable assets in the Master Fund. The "master-feeder" fund structure presents certain risks to the Limited Partners. Smaller feeder funds may be materially affected by the actions of larger feeder funds.

While the Investment Manager, as investment manager of the Master Fund, generally will not consider tax issues applicable to any particular investors, it generally will take into account the tax positions of the Fund and the Offshore Fund that invest in the Master Fund. However, the use of a "master-feeder" structure may create a conflict of interest in that different tax considerations for the Fund and the Offshore Fund may cause or result in the Master Fund structuring or disposing of an investment in a manner or at a time that is more advantageous (or disadvantageous) for tax purposes to one Feeder Fund or its investors.

Management Fee and Performance Allocations. As described above, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides for the payment of the Management Fee to the Investment Manager and the Performance Allocation to the Investment Manager, in its capacity as the Special Limited Partner. The Performance Allocation may create an incentive for the Investment Manager, as the Special Limited Partner, to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such Performance Allocation.

Side Letters. The Investment Manager or the Fund may from time to time enter into letter agreements or other similar agreements (collectively, "Side Letters") with one or more Limited Partners which provide such Limited Partner(s) with additional and/or different rights (including, without limitation, with respect to access to information, the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation, minimum investment amounts, voting rights and withdrawal rights) than such Limited Partner(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum. As a result of such Side Letters, certain Limited Partners may receive additional benefits (including, but not limited to, reduced fee obligations, the ability to withdraw Interests on shorter notice and/or expanded informational rights) which other Limited Partners will not receive. For example, a Side Letter may permit a Limited Partner to withdraw its Interest on less notice and/or at different times than other Limited Partners. As a result, should the Fund experience a decline in performance over a period of time, a Limited Partner who is party to a Side Letter that permits less notice and/or different withdrawal times may be able to withdraw its Interest prior to other Limited Partners. In general, the Fund and/or the Investment Manager will not be required to notify any or all of the other Limited Partners of any such Side Letters or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the Fund and/or the Investment Manager be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other Limited Partners. The Fund and/or the Investment Manager may cause the Fund to enter into such Side Letters with any party as the Fund and/or the Investment Manager may determine in its sole discretion at any time. The other Limited Partners will have no recourse against the Fund and/or the Investment Manager in the event certain Limited Partners receive additional and/or different rights and/or terms as a result of such Side Letters. A Limited Partner will be required to enter into such undertakings with respect to maintaining the confidentiality of any such additional information as the Fund and/or the Investment Manager may in their sole discretion determine.

Valuation Considerations. Valuation of the Master Fund's securities and other investments may involve uncertainties and judgmental determinations, and if such valuations should prove to be incorrect, the net asset value of the Master Fund and the Fund could be adversely affected. Independent pricing information may not at times be available or otherwise utilized regarding certain of the Master Fund's securities and other investments. Valuation determinations will be made in good faith in accordance with the policies of the Investment Manager in effect from time to time, a copy of which will be made available upon request.

The Master Fund may have some of its assets in investments, which by their very nature may be extremely difficult to accurately value. To the extent that the value assigned by the Administrator to any such investment differs from the actual value, the net asset value of the Master Fund and the Fund may be understated or overstated, as the case may be. In light of the foregoing, there is a risk that a Limited Partner that withdraws all or part of its Interests while the Master Fund holds such investments will be paid an amount less than it would otherwise be paid if the actual value of such investments is higher than the value designated by the Administrator. Similarly, there is a risk that such Limited Partner might, in effect, be overpaid if the actual value of such investments is lower than the value designated by the Administrator. In addition, there is risk that an investment in the Fund by a new Limited Partner (or an additional investment by an existing Limited Partner) could dilute the value of such investments for the other Limited Partners if the designated value of such investments is higher than the value designated by the Administrator. Further, there is risk that a new Limited Partner (or an existing Limited Partner that makes an additional investment) could pay more than it might otherwise if the actual value of such investments is lower than the value designated by the Administrator. The Administrator does not intend to adjust the net asset value of the Master Fund and the Fund retroactively.

None of the Fund, the Master Fund, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or the Administrator shall have any liability in the event that any price or valuation, used in good faith in connection with the above procedures, proves to be an incorrect or an inaccurate estimate or determination of the price or value of any part of the property of the Master Fund, subject to the standard of care set forth in "Summary of Terms – Duty of Care; Indemnification" above.

MANAGEMENT, L.P. AND ACIS
CAPITAL MANAGEMENT GP, LLC,

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I hereby certify that on December 7, 2020, notice of this document will be electronically mailed to the parties that are registered or otherwise entitled to receive electronic notices in this case pursuant to the Electronic Filing Procedures in this District.

One of Counsel

No Participation by Investors. All decisions with respect to the management of the day-to-day affairs of the Fund are made exclusively by the General Partner and the Investment Manager. Limited Partners have no right or power to take part in the management of the Fund. The Investment Manager makes all of the trading and investment decisions of the Master Fund. In the event of the withdrawal of the Investment Manager, generally the Fund will be liquidated.

Investment Strategies. The Investment Manager will seek to engage in the investment activities that have been discussed in “Investment Program” herein. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be successful in applying any such strategy and that losses will be avoided.

Competition. The markets in which the Master Fund invests are competitive and some of the opportunities that the Investment Manager may explore may be pursued by better known investors or investment funds. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to identify or successfully pursue such opportunities in this environment. The Investment Manager competes with many firms that may have greater financial resources, more extensive development, better marketing and service capabilities, more favorable financing arrangements, larger research staffs and more securities traders than are available to the Investment Manager.

In-Kind Distributions. A withdrawing Limited Partner may, in the discretion of the General Partner and/or Investment Manager, receive securities owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) in lieu of, or in combination with, cash. The value of securities distributed may increase or decrease before the securities can be sold (either by the Limited Partner or by the Fund if the General Partner establishes a liquidating account on behalf of the Limited Partner to sell such assets), and the Limited Partner will incur transaction costs in connection with the sale of such securities. Additionally, securities distributed with respect to a withdrawal by a Limited Partner may not be readily marketable. The risk of loss and delay in liquidating these securities will be borne by the Limited Partner, with the result that such Limited Partner may receive less cash than it would have received on the date of withdrawal.

No Current Income. Since the Fund does not generally intend to pay distributions, an investment in the Fund is not suitable for investors seeking current income. Moreover, an investor is required to report and pay taxes on his allocable share of income from the Fund, even though no cash is distributed by the Fund.

Cybersecurity. Information and technology systems may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and security breaches, usage errors by their respective professionals, power outages and catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and earthquakes. Although the Investment Manager has implemented various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time or cease to function properly, the Investment Manager, the Master Fund and/or the Fund may have to make a significant investment to fix or replace them, which expense may be borne in whole or in part by the Fund. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the Investment Manager’s, the Master Fund’s and/or the Fund’s operations and result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to investors. Such interruptions could harm the Investment Manager’s, the Master Fund’s and/or the Fund’s reputation, subject any such entity and their respective affiliates to legal claims and otherwise affect their business and financial performance. The foregoing risks and consequences are also extant at any issuer in which the Master Fund invests and could manifest as adverse performance of such investment.

Investment Strategy and Investment Risks

Changes in Strategy. The Investment Manager has the power to expand, revise or alter its trading strategies on behalf of the Master Fund without prior approval by, or notice to, the Fund or the Limited Partners. Any such change could result in exposure of the Fund's assets (through the Master Fund) to additional risks, which may be substantial. The Investment Manager may also invest in additional instruments than those specifically identified in the "Investment Program" section.

Latin America Investments. The Master Fund invests in securities of companies based in Latin America or issued by Latin American governments, or in the securities of companies which are not incorporated in Latin America, but which derive some of their revenues from business activities conducted in Latin America. Such investment involves certain considerations not usually associated with investing in securities of developed countries or of companies located in developed countries, including political and economic consideration, such as greater risks of expatriation, nationalization and general, political, and economic instability, the small size of the securities markets in such countries and the low volume of trading, resulting in potential lack of liquidity and substantially greater price volatility, fluctuations in the rate of exchange between currencies, and costs associated with currency conversions, certain government policies that may restrict the Master Fund's investment opportunities and problems that may arise in connection with the clearance and settlements of trades. In addition, accounting and financial reporting standards that prevail in such countries are not equivalent to standards in more developed countries, consequently, less information is available to investors in companies located in more developed countries. There is also less regulation, generally, of the securities markets in Latin American countries than there is in more developed countries.

Risks Related to Investing in Argentina. Argentina has experienced high interest rates, economic volatility, inflation, currency devaluations and high unemployment rates. The economy is heavily dependent on exports and commodities. Argentina's default on its debt in 2001, and its past nationalization of private pensions and national oil company YPF, continues to impact the confidence of investors in Argentina, which might adversely impact returns in the Master Fund, and thus, the Fund.

Argentina's Economy. Argentina's economy could grow at a lower rate than in past years, or could contract. Factors that could negatively affect Argentina's rate of economic growth, its public finances and Argentina's ability to service its debt include: the competitiveness of Argentine exports, which are influenced by the peso's value relative to the value of the currencies of Argentina's trading partners and trade competitors; the level of inflation in Argentina; international commodities prices, foreign currency exchange rates and the levels of consumer consumption and foreign and domestic investment; negative economic developments in Argentina's major trading partners, or "contagion" effects more generally; and Argentina's ability to meet its energy requirements.

Uncertainty of Economic Reforms. A runoff election on November 22, 2015 resulted in Mr. Mauricio Macri being elected President of Argentina. The Macri administration assumed office on December 10, 2015. Since assuming office on December 10, 2015, the Macri administration has announced several significant economic and policy reforms, including methodological reforms with respect to the calculation of certain macroeconomic statistics, the loosening of foreign exchange controls, reduction of tariffs, other easing of international trade restrictions, infrastructure reforms and reopened negotiation with holders of debt in default since 2001. The impact that these measures and any future measures taken by the new administration will have on the Argentine economy as a whole and the financial sector in particular cannot be predicted. The Investment Manager believes that the effect of the planned liberalization of the economy and renewed access to capital markets will be positive for the Master Fund's intended investments by stimulating economic activity, but it is not possible to predict such effect with certainty and such liberalization could also be disruptive to the economy and fail to benefit or harm companies in Argentina. The Investment Manager cannot predict how the Macri administration will address certain other political and economic issues that were central during the 2015 presidential election campaign, such as the financing of public expenditures, public service subsidies and tax reforms, the resolution of holdout debt or the impact that any measures related to these issues that are implemented by the Macri administration will have on the Argentine economy as a whole.

Currency Controls. In the past, Argentina imposed exchange controls and transfer restrictions substantially limiting the ability of companies to retain foreign currency or make payments abroad. Although the Macri government lifted exchange controls and liberalized capital controls, there can be no assurances regarding future modifications to exchange and capital controls. Exchange and capital controls could adversely affect the financial condition or results of operations of issuers in whose securities the Master Fund intends to invest, as well as their ability to meet foreign currency obligations and to execute financing plans.

Challenges to Argentina's Debt Payments. Argentina's payments in connection with a debt offering may be attached, enjoined or otherwise challenged. In recent years, hold-out creditors have used litigation against sovereign debtors, most prominently Peru and Nicaragua, to attach or interrupt payments made by these sovereign debtors to, among others, bondholders who have agreed to a debt restructuring and accepted new securities in an exchange offer. Argentina has been subjected to suits to collect on amounts due on defaulted bonds, including actions in the United States, the United Kingdom, Italy and Germany. Some of these actions have resulted in judgments against Argentina. There can be no assurance that a creditor will not be able to interfere, through an attachment of assets, injunction, temporary restraining order or otherwise, with payments made in connection with a debt offering.

Pro Rata Payment Litigation. Argentina's defaults with respect to the payment of its foreign debt could prevent the government and the private sector from accessing the international capital markets, which could adversely affect the financial condition of sovereign and corporate issuers in which the Master Fund invests. In September 2014, the Argentine Congress passed a law to restructure foreign-law bonds held by exchange bondholders to allow the payment in Argentina and to appoint a new paying agent. On September 29, 2014, the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York held Argentina in contempt of court as a result of this law. The U.S. District Court authorized limited exceptions to the injunction allowing certain custodians of Argentine law-governed bonds to process payments in August 2014, September 2014 and December 2014.

On May 11, 2015, the plaintiffs that obtained pari passu injunctions asked the U.S. district court to amend their complaints to include claims alleging that Argentina's issuance and servicing of its 2024 dollar-denominated bonds, and its external indebtedness in general, would violate the pari passu clause. On June 5, 2015, the Second Circuit granted partial summary judgment to a group of 526 "me-too" plaintiffs in 36 separate lawsuits, finding that, consistent with the previous ruling of such court, Argentina violated a pari passu clause in bonds issued to the "me-too" bondholders. The decision obligates Argentina to pay the plaintiffs $5.4 billion before it can make payments on restructured debt.

In 2016, the Argentine government working under a court appointed mediator, entered into settlement agreements with a large portion of hold-out debt holders contingent on Argentina repealing laws that prevented the country from complying with rulings by U.S. courts. In this context Judge Thomas Griesa ruled he would lift the injunctions preventing Argentina from serving post-2005 exchange debt if these laws are repealed. Argentina's lower chamber approved the repeal of these laws and Argentina's senate voted to approve the same in March 2016. In April 2016, the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in the United States upheld Judge Griesa's ruling, finding that he did not abuse his discretion in lifting the pari passu injunctions.

The repercussions of restructuring Argentina's bond debts are ongoing. The 2016 U.S. court rulings only settled claims of certain bondholders. Argentina reached a $475 million settlement with other bondholders in November 2016. Financial indices have only just started moving Argentina back to "emerging market" status, where it had been before 2009.

Argentina's default with respect to the payment of its foreign debt, its delay in completing the debt restructuring process with creditors that did not participate in the related exchange offers, the complaints filed against Argentina discussed above, the U.S. Supreme Court's decision not to hear Argentina's appeal, the declaration of contempt, and the long-term difficulty of reestablishing itself in the global marketplace could prevent Argentina's government from obtaining international private financing or receiving direct foreign investment, as well as private sector companies in Argentina from accessing the international capital markets. Without access to international private financing, Argentina may not be able to finance its obligations, and financing from multilateral financial institutions may be limited or not available. Without access to direct foreign investment, the government may not have sufficient financial resources to foster economic growth and the performance of the Master Fund's investments in Argentina could be materially and adversely affected.

Derivative Instruments. The Investment Manager may use various derivative instruments, including futures, options, forward contracts, swaps and other derivatives which may be volatile and speculative. Certain positions may be subject to wide and sudden fluctuations in market value, with a resulting fluctuation in the amount of profits and losses. Use of derivative instruments presents various risks, including the following:

- Tracking – When used for hedging purposes, an imperfect or variable degree of correlation between price movements of the derivative instrument and the underlying investment sought to be hedged may prevent the Investment Manager from achieving the intended hedging effect or expose the portfolio to the risk of loss.
- Liquidity – Derivative instruments, especially when traded in large amounts, may not be liquid in all circumstances, so that in volatile markets the Investment Manager may not be able to close out a position without incurring a loss. In addition, daily limits on price fluctuations and speculative positions limits on exchanges on which the Investment Manager may conduct its transactions in certain derivative instruments may prevent prompt liquidation of positions, subjecting the portfolio to the potential of greater losses.
- Leverage – Trading in derivative instruments can result in large amounts of leverage. Thus, the leverage offered by trading in derivative instruments may magnify the gains and losses experienced by the Master Fund and could cause the Master Fund's net asset value to be subject to wider fluctuations than would be the case if the Investment Manager did not use the leverage feature in derivative instruments.
- Over-the-Counter-Trading – Derivative instruments that may be purchased or sold for the portfolio may include instruments not traded on an exchange. Over-the-counter options, unlike exchanged-traded options, are two-party contracts with price and other terms negotiated by the buyer and seller. The risk of non-performance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which the Investment Manager can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between “bid” and “asked” prices for derivative instruments that are not traded on an exchange. Derivative instruments not traded on exchanges are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions.

Short Sales. Short sales by the Master Fund that are not made “against the box” create opportunities to increase the Master Fund’s return but, at the same time, involve special risk considerations and may be considered a speculative technique. Since the Master Fund, in effect, profits from a decline in the price of the securities sold short without the need to invest the full purchase price of the securities on the date of the short sale, the value of the Master Fund will tend to increase more when the securities it has sold short decrease in value, and to decrease more when the securities it has sold short increase in value, than otherwise would be the case if it had not engaged in such short sales. Short sales theoretically involve unlimited loss potential, as the market price of securities sold short may increase continuously, although the Master Fund may mitigate such losses by replacing the securities sold short before the market price has increased significantly. Under adverse market conditions the Master Fund might have difficulty purchasing securities to meet its short sale delivery obligations, and might have to sell portfolio securities to raise the capital necessary to meet its short sale obligations at a time when fundamental investment considerations would not favor such sales. Short sales may be used with the intent of hedging against the risk of declines in the market value of the Master Fund’s long portfolio, but there can be no assurance that such hedging operations will be successful.

Risks of Execution of Investment Strategies. The Master Fund will invest in a number of securities and obligations that entail substantial inherent risks. Although the Master Fund will attempt to manage those risks through careful research, ongoing monitoring of investments and appropriate hedging techniques, there can be no assurance that the securities and other instruments purchased by the Master Fund will in fact increase in value or that the Master Fund will not incur significant losses.

Market Risks and Liquidity. The profitability of a significant portion of the Master Fund’s investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to predict accurately these price movements. Although the Master Fund may attempt to mitigate market risk through the use of long and short positions or other methods, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Furthermore, the Master Fund may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the instruments in which they invest, which may impair the Master Fund’s ability to adjust their position. The size of the Master Fund’s positions may magnify the effect of a decrease in market liquidity for such instruments. Changes in overall market leverage, deleveraging as a consequence of a decision by a broker to reduce the level of leverage available, or the liquidation by other market participants of the same or similar positions, may also adversely affect the Master Fund’s portfolio. Some of the underlying investments of the Master Fund may not be actively traded and there may be uncertainties involved in the valuation of such investments. Potential investors should be warned that under such circumstances, the net asset value of the Master Fund may be adversely affected.

Hedging. Although the Master Fund will attempt to hedge its exposure to specific arbitrage positions, it will not always be possible fully to hedge risk from such positions or any other position. In addition, the Master Fund may take positions based on the expected future direction of the markets without fully hedging the market risks.

Currency Risks. A portion of the Master Fund's assets may be invested in securities denominated in various currencies and in other financial instruments, the price of which is determined with reference to such currencies. The account of the Master Fund will, however, be valued in U.S. Dollars. To the extent unhedged, the value of the net assets of the Master Fund will fluctuate with U.S. Dollars exchange rates as well as with price changes of their investments in the various local markets and currencies. Forward currency contracts and options may be utilized by the Master Fund to hedge against currency fluctuations, but there can be no assurance that such hedging transactions will be effective.

Counterparty and Settlement Risk. Due to the nature of some of the investments which the Master Fund may make, the Master Fund may rely on the ability of the counterparty to a transaction to perform its obligations. In the event that any such party fails to complete its obligations for any reason, the Master Fund may suffer losses. The Master Fund will therefore be exposed to a credit risk on the counterparties with which it trades. The Master Fund will also bear the risk of settlement default by clearing houses and exchanges. Any default by a counterparty or on settlement could have a material adverse effect on the Master Fund.

Borrowing. The Master Fund is permitted to finance its operations with secured and unsecured borrowing up to 100% of its net assets, to the extent allowable under applicable credit regulations. Like other forms of leverage, the use of borrowing can enhance the risk of capital loss in the event of adverse changes in the level of market prices of the assets being financed with the borrowings.

Concentration of Investments. Although the Investment Manager will follow a general policy of seeking to spread the Master Fund's capital among a number of investments, the Investment Manager may depart from such policy from time to time and may hold a few, relatively large securities positions in relation to the Master Fund's capital. The result of such concentration of investments is that a loss in any such position could materially reduce the Master Fund's capital.

Difficult Market for Investment Opportunities. The activity of identifying, completing and realizing on attractive investments involves a high degree of uncertainty. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to locate and complete investments which satisfy the Master Fund's rate of return objective or realize upon their values or that the Master Fund will be able to invest fully its subscribed capital in a manner consistent with its investment strategy.

Certain Regulatory Risks

Absence of Regulatory Oversight. While the Fund may be considered similar to an investment company, it is not required and does not intend to register as such under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act"), and, accordingly, the provisions of the Investment Company Act (which may provide certain regulatory safeguards to investors) are not applicable to investors in the Fund. Neither the Fund nor the Master Fund will maintain custody of its securities or place its securities in the custody of a bank or a member of a national securities exchange in the manner required of registered investment companies under rules promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). A registered investment company which places its securities in the custody of a member of a national securities exchange is required to have a written custodian agreement, which provides that securities held in custody will be at all times individually segregated from the securities of any other person and marked to clearly identify such securities as the property of such investment company, and which contains other provisions complying with SEC regulations. The Master Fund generally will maintain such accounts at brokerage firms that do not separately segregate such assets as would be required in the case of registered investment companies. Under the provisions of the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970, as amended, the bankruptcy of any such brokerage firm might have a greater adverse effect on the Master Fund and the Fund than would be the case if the accounts were maintained to meet the requirements applicable to registered investment companies.

Forward-Looking Statements. Certain statements contained in this Memorandum, including without limitation, statements containing the words “believes,” “anticipates,” “intends,” “expects,” and words of similar import constitute “forward-looking statements.” Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Fund to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Certain of these factors are discussed in more detail elsewhere in this Memorandum, including without limitation under “Summary of Terms,” “Certain Risk Factors,” and “Investment Program.” Given these uncertainties, prospective investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements. The Investment Manager and the Fund disclaim any obligation to update any such factors or to announce the result of any revisions to any of the forward-looking statements contained herein to reflect future events or developments.

Impact of U.S. Presidential Election. On January 20, 2017, Donald Trump became President of the United States of America. President Trump and other members of the Republican Party have proposed to reverse some of the recent regulation of the financial industry and to change tax policy. If some of these proposals were enacted, banks could dramatically increase their lending practices and accept additional types of collateral, borrowers could reduce their demand for debt financing, certain investment advisers could de-register with SEC and portfolio companies that are net importers or hold significant assets outside of the United States could be subject to increased tax liability. The effect of any such regulatory or tax changes on the Master Fund and the markets in which it trades and invests is uncertain.

Evolving Regulatory Risks of Private Investment Funds. The regulatory environment for private investment funds is evolving, and changes in the regulation of private investment funds and their advisers may adversely affect the value of investments held by the Master Fund.

The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (“Dodd-Frank”), which was enacted in July 2010, regulates markets, market participants and financial instruments that were historically unregulated and has substantially altered the regulation of many other markets, market participants and financial instruments. Certain provisions of Dodd-Frank subject registered investment advisers to requirements to keep records and to report information to the SEC, which could in turn be supplied to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve, a new Financial Services Oversight Council or other U.S. governmental agencies or Congress. Under Dodd-Frank, the information includes, among other things, the amount of assets under management, use of leverage (including off-balance sheet leverage), counterparty credit risk exposures, trading and investment positions, and trading practices. All such records are subject to examination by the SEC at any time. It is anticipated that there may be significant changes to the financial regulatory environment as a result of the outcome of the recent U.S. elections. There is currently pending legislation in U.S. Congress which if enacted would result in the repeal of portions of Dodd-Frank which in turn would have a significant impact on the regulatory environment for private investment funds. In addition, the impact of the legislation on current and future rulemaking by various regulators under Dodd-Frank is difficult to predict. It is possible that rules that have been proposed by various regulators, which had been anticipated to take effect previously, may no longer be implemented in their proposed form or at all. Further, there may also be substantial changes in the enforcement and interpretation of existing statutes and rules by governmental regulatory authorities or self-regulatory organizations that supervise the financial markets. The effect of future regulatory change on the Fund and the Master Fund and their operations is uncertain. Prospective investors should seek, and must rely on, the advice of their own advisers with respect to the possible impact on its investment of any future proposed legislation or administrative or judicial action.

Tax Related Risks

Uncertainty and Complexity of Tax Treatment. The tax aspects of an investment in a partnership are complicated and complex and, in many cases, uncertain. Statutory provisions and administrative regulations have been interpreted inconsistently by the courts. Additionally, some statutory provisions remain to be interpreted by administrative regulations. Investors will thus be subject to the risk caused by the uncertainty of the tax consequences with respect to an investment in the Fund. Each prospective investor should have the tax aspects of an investment in the Fund reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussion below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Interests and to consult their own independent tax advisors.

Risk of Adverse Determination. There can be no assurance that the conclusions set forth in this Memorandum will not be challenged successfully by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the "Service") or other applicable taxing authority, or significantly modified by new legislation, changes in the Service's positions or court decisions. The Fund has not applied for, nor does it expect to apply for, any advance rulings from the Service with respect to any of the federal income tax consequences described in this Memorandum. No representation or warranty of any kind is made by the General Partner with respect to the tax consequences relating to an investment in the Fund. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund, and a Limited Partner might be found to have a different tax liability for that year than that reported on its income tax returns.

Risk of Tax Audit. An audit of the Fund by the Service or another taxing authority could result in adjustments to the tax consequences initially reported by the Fund and may result in an audit of the returns of some or all of the Limited Partners, which examination could affect items not related to a Limited Partner's investment in the Fund. If audit adjustments result in an increase in a Limited Partner's income tax liability for any year, such Limited Partner may also be liable for interest and penalties with respect to the amount of underpayment. The legal and accounting costs incurred in connection with any audit of the Fund's tax returns will be borne by the Fund. The cost of any audit of a Limited Partner's tax return will be borne solely by that Limited Partner.

Entity-Level Audits. Pursuant to the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2017, the Service generally will be permitted to determine adjustments to items of income, gain, deduction, loss or credit of the Fund, and assess and collect taxes attributable thereto (including any applicable penalties and interest), at the Fund level. If this new regime applies to the Fund (which depends, among other things, on whether the Fund has more than 100 partners or has any partner that is itself classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes), then any person who is a partner of the Fund in the relevant year of the adjustment may indirectly bear the economic burden of any such taxes assessed or collected (initially determined at the highest rate of tax applicable to an individual or corporation in effect for the reviewed year), regardless of whether such person was a Limited Partner during any reviewed year. It is expected that guidance will be issued that permits the Fund to reduce the underpayment of taxes owed by the Fund, including to the extent that the Fund demonstrates such taxes are allocable to a Limited Partner that would not owe any tax by reason of its status as a “tax-exempt entity” or the character of income is subject to a lower rate of tax. The Fund may under certain circumstances have the ability to avoid such entity-level tax assessment or collection by electing to issue a statement to each partner of any reviewed year with its share of such adjustment, resulting in such partner being required to take into account any such adjustment for the taxable year which includes the date such statement was furnished. In such case, the partners of the reviewed year would also incur a two-percentage point increase on the interest rate that would otherwise have been imposed on any underpayment of taxes. There can be no assurances, however, that the Fund will avoid, or be able to avoid, any entity-level determination, assessment or collection. Limited Partners should note that there is substantial uncertainty regarding the implementation of these rules and the impact on any current or future allocations made or cash available for distributions or withdrawals by the Fund. The Fund may also be exposed to the risk that these rules apply to any lower-tier entity in which the Fund directly or indirectly invests and that is treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If this new legislation applies to the Fund, the Fund will designate a tax representative, which is expected to be the General Partner, the Investment Manager, or an affiliate thereof, who shall have the sole authority to act on behalf of the Fund with respect to dealings with the Service under these new procedures. Prospective Limited Partners should consult their own tax advisors regarding this new legislation.

Tax Considerations Taken into Account. The General Partner may take tax considerations into account in determining when the Fund’s investments should be sold or otherwise disposed of, and may assume certain market risk and incur certain expenses in this regard to achieve favorable tax treatment of a transaction.

Foreign Taxation. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, and imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Fund, political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Tax Liabilities Without Distributions. If the Fund has taxable income in a fiscal year, each Limited Partner will be taxed on that income in accordance with its allocable share of the Fund’s profits, whether or not such profits have been distributed. Because the General Partner anticipates that there will be no cash distributions to the Limited Partners, an investor may incur tax liability with respect to activities of the Fund without receiving sufficient distributions from the Fund to defray such tax liabilities. In order to satisfy its tax liability in such a case, a Limited Partner would need sufficient funds from sources other than the Fund. Furthermore, the Fund may make investments with respect to which the Fund recognizes income for U.S. federal income tax purposes prior to receiving the cash or realizing the income as an economic matter. In addition, the Fund may recognize income for U.S. federal income tax purposes that does not reflect income as an economic matter. Such recognition of income prior to receipt of an economic benefit, if any, may result in increased tax liability for the Partners.

Delayed Schedules K-1. The Fund will provide Schedules K-1 as soon as practicable after receipt of all of the necessary information. However, the Fund may be unable to provide final Schedules K-1 to Limited Partners for any given tax year until significantly after April 15 of the following year. The General Partner will endeavor to provide Limited Partners with estimates of the taxable income or loss allocated to their investment in the Fund on or before such date, but final Schedules K-1 may not be available until completion of the Fund's annual audit. Limited Partners should be prepared to obtain extensions of the filing date for their income tax returns at the federal, state and local levels.

Unrelated Business Taxable Income. The Fund may make investments or engage in activities that will give rise to unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI") under Sections 512 and 514 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Thus, an investment in the Fund may be less desirable for certain tax-exempt investors. For example, the Fund may incur leverage giving rise to UBTI or may participate in investments that give rise to UBTI through entities that are treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Because of the "flow-through" principles applicable to partnerships, if UBTI is earned by the Fund, a tax-exempt investor in the Fund will realize UBTI. Because of the General Partner's objective of maximizing the pre-tax returns of all the Limited Partners, the General Partner may be required to make certain decisions to maximize pre-tax returns that result in tax-exempt investors recognizing more UBTI than might otherwise be the case. In some cases, the General Partner may forgo actions with regard to the acquisition, financing, management and disposition of assets that would reduce UBTI because such actions would reduce the overall pre-tax returns to all the Limited Partners.

Tax Changes. Investors will be subject to the risk that changes to the tax law may adversely affect the federal income tax consequences of their investment in the Fund. Changes in existing tax laws or regulations and their interpretation may be enacted after the date of this Memorandum, possibly with retroactive effect, and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Certain provisions of the Code may be further amended or interpreted in a manner adverse to the Fund, in which event any benefits derived from an investment in the Fund may be adversely affected. In addition, significant legislative and budgetary proposals affecting tax laws have been made by the legislative and executive branches of the U.S. federal government. The likelihood of enactment of any such proposals, or any similar proposals, into law is uncertain. The enactment of any such proposals, including subsequent proposals, into law could have material adverse effects on the Fund and/or the Limited Partners. Enactment of such legislation, or similar legislation, could require significant restructuring of the Fund in order to mitigate such effects.

The foregoing list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read this entire Memorandum and consult with their own advisers before deciding to invest in the Fund. In addition, as the investment program of the Fund develops and changes over time, an investment in the Fund may be subject to additional and different risk factors. No assurance can be made that profits will be achieved or that substantial losses will not be incurred.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Interests is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Given the nature and size of Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s ("Highland Capital") operations, various potential conflicts of interest arise in connection with its advisory services and the advisory services provided by its affiliates. Information about Highland Capital and its potential conflicts of interest is provided in Highland Capital's Form ADV Part 2 Brochure that can be found by going to <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Default.aspx>, searching by firm name and selecting the Part 2 Brochure to be viewed. The Fund is subject to these conflicts of interest, as well as the other items discussed below.

None of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees (collectively, the "Highland Group") is precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund or the Master Fund. The Investment Manager is permitted to manage other client accounts, and does manage other client accounts, some of which may have objectives similar or identical to those of the Master Fund, including other collective investment vehicles that may be managed by the Highland Group and in which the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates may have an equity interest.

The Fund will be subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest involving the Highland Group including, among other things, the fact that: (i) the Highland Group conducts substantial investment activities for accounts, funds, collateralized debt obligations that invest in leveraged loans (collectively, "CDOs") and other vehicles managed by members of the Highland Group ("Highland Accounts") in which the Fund has no interest; (ii) the Highland Group advises Highland Accounts, which utilize the same, similar or different methodologies as the Fund and may have financial incentives (including, without limitation, as it relates to the composition of investors in such funds and accounts or to the Highland Group's compensation arrangements) to favor certain Highland Accounts over the Fund and the Master Fund; (iii) the Highland Group may use the strategy described herein in certain Highland Accounts; (iv) the Investment Manager may give advice and recommend securities to, or buy or sell securities for, the Master Fund, which advice or securities may differ from advice given to, or securities recommended or bought or sold for, Highland Accounts; (v) the Investment Manager has the discretion, to the extent permitted under applicable law, to use its affiliates as service providers to the Fund and the Master Fund and the Master Fund's portfolio investments; (vi) certain investors affiliated with the Highland Group may choose to personally invest only in certain funds advised by the Highland Group and the amounts invested by them in such funds is expected to vary significantly; (vii) the Highland Group and Highland Accounts may actively engage in transactions in the same securities sought by the Master Fund and, therefore, may compete with the Master Fund for investment opportunities or may hold positions opposite to positions maintained on behalf of the Master Fund; and (viii) the Investment Manager will devote to the Master Fund and the Fund only as much time as the Investment Manager deems necessary and appropriate to manage the Master Fund's and the Fund's business.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Fund's investors.

It is the policy of the Investment Manager to allocate investment opportunities fairly and equitably over time. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) fiduciary duties owed to the accounts; (ii) the primary mandate of the accounts; (iii) the capital available to the accounts; (iv) any restrictions on the accounts and the investment opportunity; (v) the sourcing of the investment, size of the investment and amount of follow-on available related to the investment; (vi) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (vii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (viii) liquidity requirements of the account; (ix) potentially adverse tax consequences; (x) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (xi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio.

The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple Highland Accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. One or more of the foregoing considerations may (and are often expected to) result in allocations among the Master Fund and one or more Highland Accounts on other than a pari passu basis. The Investment Manager will allocate investment opportunities across its accounts for which the opportunities are appropriate, consistent with (i) its internal conflict of interest and allocation policies and (ii) the requirements of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended. The Investment Manager will seek to allocate investment opportunities among such entities in a manner that is fair and equitable over time and consistent with its allocation policy, a copy of which will be provided upon request. However, there is no assurance that such investment opportunities will be allocated to the Master Fund fairly or equitably in the short-term or over time and there can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to participate in all investment opportunities that are suitable for it

The Investment Manager may open "average price" accounts with brokers. In an "average price" account, purchase and sale orders placed during a trading day on behalf of the Investment Manager, the Master Fund and other accounts managed by the Investment Manager are combined, and securities bought and sold pursuant to such orders are allocated among such accounts on an average price basis.

As further described below, the Investment Manager may effect client cross-transactions where the Investment Manager causes a transaction to be effected between the Master Fund and another client advised by it or any of its affiliates. The Investment Manager may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Master Fund any time that the Investment Manager believes such transaction to be fair to the Master Fund and such other client. By subscribing for an Interest, a Limited Partner is deemed to have consented to such client cross-transactions between the Master Fund and another client of the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates.

The Investment Manager may direct the Master Fund to acquire or dispose of securities in cross trades between the Master Fund and other clients of the Investment Manager or its affiliates in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, the Master Fund may invest in securities of obligors or issuers in which the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates have a debt, equity or participation interest, and the holding and sale of such investments by the Master Fund may enhance the profitability of the Investment Manager's own investments in such companies. Moreover, the Master Fund may invest in assets originated by the Investment Manager or its affiliates. In each such case, the Investment Manager and such affiliates may have a potentially conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Master Fund and the other parties to such trade. Under certain circumstances, the Investment Manager and its affiliates may determine that it is appropriate to avoid such conflicts by selling a security at a fair value that has been calculated pursuant to the Investment Manager's valuation procedures to another client managed or advised by the Investment Manager or such affiliates. In addition, the Investment Manager may enter into agency cross-transactions where it or any of its affiliates acts as broker for the Master Fund and for the other party to the transaction, to the extent permitted under applicable law.

The Principal, as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Master Fund (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of interests in the Fund), unless such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

Conflicts Relating to Equity and Debt Ownership by the Master Fund and Affiliates

In certain circumstances, the Master Fund and other client accounts may invest in securities or other instruments of the same issuer (or affiliated group of issuers) having a different seniority in the issuer's capital structure. If the issuer becomes insolvent, restructures or suffers financial distress, there may be a conflict between the interests in the Master Fund and those other accounts insofar as the issuer may be unable (or in the case of a restructuring prior to bankruptcy may be expected to be unable) to satisfy the claims of all classes of its creditors and security holders and the Master Fund and such other accounts may have competing claims for the remaining assets of such issuers. Under these circumstances it may not be feasible for the Investment Manager to reconcile the conflicting interests in the Master Fund and such other accounts in a way that protects the Master Fund's interests. Additionally, the Investment Manager or its nominees may in the future hold board or creditors' committee memberships which may require them to vote or take other actions in such capacities that might be conflicting with respect to certain funds managed by the Investment Manager in that such votes or actions may favor the interests of one account over another account. Furthermore, the Investment Manager's fiduciary responsibilities in these capacities might conflict with the best interests of the investors.

Affiliated Entity Services

Affiliated entities of the Investment Manager may provide services with respect to the Investment Manager, the Master Fund or the Fund. NexBank, SSB ("NexBank SSB") is an affiliate of the Investment Manager and may, from time to time, provide banking and/or agency services to the Investment Manager, clients of the Investment Manager or collective investment vehicles for which the Investment Manager provides investment advisory services (including the Fund, the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Fund (through the Master Fund) may invest) or third parties engaged in transactions involving the Investment Manager. NexBank SSB may also act as an agent in connection with certain securities transactions involving the Investment Manager's client accounts (including the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Master Fund may invest). Principals of the Investment Manager own a majority of the equity interests in NexBank SSB and employees or affiliates of the Investment Manager own or may own a substantial equity interest in NexBank SSB. Certain Master Fund investment transactions may be executed through NexBank Securities, Inc., an affiliate of the Investment Manager and a registered broker-dealer.

Additionally, the Investment Manager or affiliates of the Investment Manager, including, without limitation, Nexbank SSB, NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital Advisors and Governance Re, Ltd., may provide financial advisory, management, insurance, title insurance or other services for a fee to portfolio companies in which the Master Fund may have an interest. Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., an affiliate of the Investment Manager, has been engaged to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager, as more fully described below in “Management – Services Agreement.”

Management Fee

A portion of any Management Fee may be paid to broker-dealers, placement agents or independent third parties, other than the Investment Manager, for services provided in connection with the solicitation of subscriptions from investors. Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent’s or distributor’s participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions. Each placement agent shall comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Interests.

Diverse Membership

The Limited Partners are expected to include entities, persons, or entities organized in various jurisdictions and subject to different tax and regulatory regimes. Such diverse investors may thus have conflicting investment, tax and other interests, relating to, among other things, the nature of investments made by the Master Fund, the structuring or the acquisition of investments and the timing of disposition of investments. As a result, conflicts of interest may arise in connection with decisions made by the Investment Manager including as to the nature and structure of investments that may be more beneficial for one type of Limited Partner than for another type of Limited Partner, including Limited Partners affiliated with the Investment Manager. The results of the Fund’s activities may affect individual Limited Partners differently, depending upon their individual financial and tax situations because, for instance, of the timing of an event of realization of gain or loss and its characterization as long-term or short-term gain or loss. In addition, the Master Fund may make investments that may have a negative impact on related investments made by the Limited Partners in separate transactions. In selecting, structuring and managing investments appropriate for the Master Fund, the Investment Manager will consider the investment and tax objectives of the Master Fund and the Feeder Funds as a whole, not the investment, tax, or other objectives of any Limited Partner individually. However, there can be no assurance that a result will not be more advantageous to some Limited Partners than to others or to the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates than to a particular Limited Partner.

Soft Dollars

The Investment Manager’s authority to use “soft dollar” credits generated by the Master Fund’s securities transactions to pay for expenses that might otherwise have been borne by the Investment Manager or the General Partner may give the Investment Manager an incentive to select brokers or dealers for Master Fund transactions, or to negotiate commission rates or other execution terms, in a manner that takes into account the soft dollar benefits received by the Investment Manager rather than giving exclusive consideration to the interests in the Master Fund. See “Brokerage and Custody.”

No Separate Counsel

Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP (“Akin Gump”) serves as counsel to the Fund, the Master Fund, the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their Affiliates (the “Clients”) in connection with the formation of the Fund and certain other Clients, the offering of Interests as well as certain other matters for which the Clients may engage Akin Gump from time to time. Akin Gump disclaims any obligation to verify the Clients’ compliance with their obligations either under applicable law or the governing documents of the Fund. In acting as counsel to the Clients, Akin Gump has not represented and will not represent any Limited Partners nor does it purport to represent their interests. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the Limited Partners. In assisting in the preparation of this Memorandum, Akin Gump has relied on information provided by the Fund, the Investment Manager and the General Partner and certain of the Fund's other service providers (including, without limitation, the Principal's biographical data, summaries of market conditions, the planned investment strategy of the Master Fund and the performance of the Master Fund, its investments or any predecessor Fund) without verification and does not express a view as to whether such information is accurate or complete.

Maples and Calder, PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands, acts as Cayman Islands legal counsel to the Offshore Fund, the Master Fund and the General Partner. In connection with the offering of interests and subsequent advice to the Offshore Fund, the Master Fund and the General Partner, Maples and Calder will not be representing shareholders and/or limited partners. No independent legal counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders and/or limited partners. Maples and Calder's representation of the General Partner is limited to specific matters as to which it has been consulted by the General Partner. There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Master Fund as to which Maples and Calder has not been consulted. In addition, Maples and Calder does not undertake to monitor compliance by the General Partner and its affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Maples and Calder monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Maples and Calder's responsibility is limited to matters of Cayman Islands law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the General Partner, there are times when the interests of the shareholders/limited partners may differ from those of the Offshore Fund, Master Fund and/or the General Partner. Maples and Calder does not represent the shareholders and/or limited partners' interests in resolving these issues. In reviewing this Memorandum, Maples and Calder has relied upon information furnished to it by the General Partner and has not investigated or verified the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Offshore Fund, Master Fund and/or the General Partner.

From time to time, the Investment Manager may come into possession of non-public information concerning specific companies although internal structures are in place to prevent the receipt of such information. Under applicable securities laws, this may limit the Investment Manager's flexibility to buy or sell portfolio securities issued by such companies. The Master Fund's investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager's inability to use such information for investment purposes.

The foregoing list of risk factors and potential conflicts of interest do not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read this entire Memorandum and consult with their own legal, tax and financial advisers before deciding to invest in the Fund.

Brokerage Arrangements

The Investment Manager will be responsible for the placement of the portfolio transactions of the Master Fund and the negotiation of any commissions or spreads paid on such transactions. Portfolio transactions normally will be effected through brokers on securities exchanges or directly with the issuer, or through an underwriter, or market maker or other dealer for the investments. Portfolio transactions through brokers involve a commission to the broker. Portfolio transactions with dealers typically are priced to include a spread between the bid and the asked price to compensate the dealer. Portfolio transactions will be executed by brokers selected solely by the Investment Manager in its absolute discretion. The Investment Manager is not required to weigh any of these factors equally.

Substantially all of the Master Fund's investments in marketable securities, as well as its cash and cash equivalents, are expected to be held at Société Générale and BNP Paribas Prime Brokerage, Inc. or other prime brokers or custodians selected by the Investment Manager. Instruments not constituting marketable securities generally are recorded through book entry by the borrower or by an agent for the borrower or the creditors. Documentary evidence of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of these assets typically will be held by the Administrator.

Société Générale and BNP Paribas Prime Brokerage, Inc. and other prime brokers or their affiliates may provide capital introduction or other placement services to the Fund and the Investment Manager (with or without separate charges for such other services). In determining which broker-dealer generally provides the best available price and most favorable execution, the Investment Manager considers a totality of circumstances, including price quotes, the size of the transaction, the nature of the market for the financial instrument, the timing of the transaction, difficulty of execution, the broker-dealer's expertise in the specific financial instrument or sector in which the Master Fund seeks to trade, the extent to which the broker-dealer makes a market in the financial instrument involved or has access to such markets, the broker-dealer's skill in positioning the financial instruments involved, the broker-dealer's promptness of execution, the broker-dealer's financial stability, reputation for diligence, fairness and integrity, quality of service rendered by the broker-dealer in other transactions for the Investment Manager and its respective affiliates, confidentiality considerations, the quality and usefulness of research services and investment ideas presented by the broker-dealer, the broker-dealer's willingness to correct errors, the broker-dealer's ability to accommodate any special execution or order handling requirements that may surround the particular transaction, and other factors deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager need not solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost or spread.

Accordingly, if the Investment Manager concludes that the commissions charged by a broker or the spreads applied by a dealer are reasonable in relation to the quality of services rendered by such broker or dealer (including, without limitation, the value of the brokerage and research products or services provided by such broker or dealer), the Master Fund may pay commissions to, or be subject to spreads applied by, such broker-dealer in an amount greater than the amount another broker-dealer might charge or apply.

The Investment Manager may also execute trades with brokers and dealers with whom the Fund, the Master Fund or the Investment Manager has other business relationships, including prime brokerage, credit relationships and capital introduction or investments by affiliates of the broker-dealers in the Fund or other entities managed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager does not believe that these other relationships will influence the choice of brokers and dealers who execute trades for the Master Fund.

Research-related goods and services provided by brokers and dealers through which portfolio transactions for the Master Fund are executed, settled and cleared may include research reports on particular industries and companies, economic surveys and analyses, recommendations as to specific securities, certain research services, and other goods and services providing lawful and appropriate assistance to the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities on behalf of the Master Fund and related accounts (collectively, “soft dollar items”).

Soft dollar items may be provided directly by brokers and dealers, by third parties at the direction of brokers and dealers or purchased on behalf of the Master Fund with credits or rebates provided by brokers and dealers. Soft dollar items may arise from over-the-counter principal transactions, as well as exchange traded agency transactions. Brokers and dealers sometimes suggest a level of business they would like to receive in return for the various services they provide. Actual business received by any broker or dealer may be less than the suggested allocations, but can (and often does) exceed the suggestions, because total transaction volume is allocated on the basis of all the considerations described above. A broker or dealer will not be excluded from executing transactions for the Master Fund because it has not been identified as providing soft dollar items.

The use of commissions or “soft dollars” if any, generated by the Master Fund through agency and certain riskless principal transactions to pay for research and research-related products or services, if any, will fall within the safe harbor created by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Under Section 28(e), research products or services obtained with soft dollars generated by the Master Fund may be used by the Investment Manager to service accounts other than the Master Fund. Soft dollars generated in respect of futures, currency and derivatives transactions and principal transactions (that are not riskless principal transactions) do not generally fall within the safe harbor created by Section 28(e) and will be utilized only with respect to research-related products and services for the benefit of the account generating such soft dollars.

Research and brokerage products and services may be used by the Investment Manager in servicing some or all of the Investment Manager’s clients. In addition, some research and brokerage may not be used by the Investment Manager in servicing the clients whose commission dollars provided for the research or brokerage. Clients may not, in any particular instance, be the direct or indirect beneficiaries of the research or brokerage provided. Certain clients, who are the beneficiaries of research or brokerage, may have an investment style which results in the generation of a small amount of brokerage commissions due to a lack of active trading for their accounts. As a result, clients who generate sizeable commissions subsidize research or brokerage provided to clients whose accounts generate minimal brokerage commissions since the commission dollars generated by transactions for such clients are not sufficient to pay for research or brokerage that may be received by such clients from other brokers.

In selecting broker-dealers on the basis of the foregoing factors, the Investment Manager may pay a brokerage commission in excess of that which another broker might have charged for effecting the same transaction. In connection therewith, the Investment Manager will make a good faith determination that the amount of commission is reasonable in relation to the value of the research or brokerage services received, viewed in terms of either the specific transaction or the Investment Manager’s overall responsibility to its clients. The Investment Manager will regularly evaluate the placement of brokerage services and the reasonableness of commissions paid. Research received from brokers will be supplemental to the Investment Manager's own research efforts. While the receipt of research will not reduce the Investment Manager's normal research activities, the Investment Manager's expenses could increase materially if it attempted to generate such additional research or brokerage services through its own staff, and the Management Fee will not be reduced as a consequence of the receipt of such research or brokerage services or products. As such, the Investment Manager's arrangements for the receipt of research and brokerage services from brokers may create a conflict of interest, in that the Investment Manager may have an incentive to choose a broker-dealer that provides research and brokerage services, instead of one that does not but charges a lower commission rate. In some instances, the Investment Manager receives products and services that may be used for both research and non-research purposes. In such instances, the Investment Manager will make a good faith effort to determine the relative proportion of the products and services used to assist the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution, including research and brokerage, and the relative proportion used for administrative or other non-research purposes. The proportionate amount of the research attributable to assisting the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution will be paid through brokerage commissions generated by the Master Fund's and other client's transactions; the proportionate amount attributable to administrative or other non-research purposes will be paid for by the Investment Manager from its own resources. The receipt of "mixed-use" research and the determination of the appropriate allocation may result in a potential conflict of interest between the Investment Manager and its clients, including the Master Fund.

Custody

The majority of the Master Fund's securities are held in the custody of its prime brokers. The Master Fund is eligible for insurance coverage against loss with respect to assets held in the custody of the prime brokers in the event of the bankruptcy or liquidation of either of the prime brokers to the same extent as that broker's other customers. The Master Fund's and the Fund's cash may be held at banks as well as the prime brokers. Ownership interests which are not represented by certificates generally will be recorded through book-entry systems maintained by the issuer or its agent, and the underlying documentation relating to the acquisition and disposition of these assets for the account of the Master Fund will be held at the business offices of the Investment Manager.

TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Introduction

The following is a summary of certain aspects of the U.S. federal income taxation of the Fund and its Limited Partners arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of an Interest that should be considered by a prospective Limited Partner. The Fund has not sought a ruling from the Service or any similar state, local or foreign authority with respect to any of the tax issues affecting Limited Partners or the Fund, nor has it obtained an opinion of counsel with respect to any U.S. federal, state, local or foreign tax issues.

This summary is based on the Code, the U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code (the “Treasury Regulations”), judicial decisions, administrative rulings, and state and local tax laws in force on the date of this Memorandum, all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect). Changes in existing laws or regulations and their interpretation may occur after the date of this Memorandum and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. This discussion does not address all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a particular investor, nor does it address, unless specifically indicated, the tax consequences to, among others (i) persons that may be subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax law, including, but not limited to, banks, insurance companies, thrift institutions, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts and dealers in securities or currencies, (ii) persons that will hold Interests as part of a position in a “straddle” or as part of a “hedging,” “conversion” or other integrated investment transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (iii) persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar or (iv) persons that do not hold Interests as capital assets within the meaning of Code Section 1221.

Further, this summary does not address the tax considerations relevant to an investment in the Fund by a person that is not a “United States person” as defined in Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code because this summary assumes that all such persons will invest in the Offshore Fund.

If a partnership holds an Interest in the Fund, the tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the Fund. Prospective investors who are partners of a partnership should consult their own tax advisors.

Unless otherwise expressly provided herein, this discussion does not address possible state, local or foreign tax consequences of the purchase, ownership or disposition of Interests, some or all of which may be material to particular investors. This discussion also does not address the potential application of the U.S. federal alternative minimum tax (“AMT”) to the Limited Partners. There is uncertainty concerning certain tax aspects of the Fund, and there can be no assurance that the Service will not challenge the positions taken by the Fund.

THE TAX CONSEQUENCES OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND ARE PARTICULARLY COMPLEX. ACCORDINGLY, PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD NOT CONSIDER THIS DISCUSSION AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR CAREFUL TAX PLANNING. PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD CONSULT WITH THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS, ATTORNEYS OR ACCOUNTANTS ON MATTERS RELATING TO AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO SUCH INVESTOR’S PARTICULAR SITUATION.

Certain United States Taxation Matters

U.S. Entity Classification of the Fund

The General Partner believes that, under the provisions of the Code and the Treasury Regulations as currently in effect, each of the Fund and the Master Fund should be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation.

Certain “publicly traded partnerships” are treated as associations that are taxable as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A publicly traded partnership is any partnership the interests in which are traded on an established securities market or which are readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof). Interests in the Fund are not and will not be traded on an established securities market. Treasury Regulations concerning the classification of partnerships as publicly traded partnerships provide certain safe harbors under which interests in a partnership will not be considered readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof). The General Partner believes that the Fund may qualify for an exemption from the publicly traded partnership rules, although there is no assurance that the Fund will so qualify.

The remainder of this discussion assumes that the Fund and the Master Fund will each be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and not as a publicly-traded partnership treated as an association that is taxable as a corporation. Unless the context requires otherwise, references to the Fund in the following discussion include the Master Fund.

Taxation of the Master Fund

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Master Fund or the limited partners of the Master Fund. Interest, dividends and gains payable to the Master Fund and all distributions by the Master Fund to its limited partners will be received free of any Cayman Islands income or withholding taxes. The Master Fund has registered as an exempted limited partnership under Cayman Islands law and the Master Fund has received an undertaking from the Governor in Cabinet of the Cayman Islands to the effect that, for a period of 50 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits or income or gains or appreciations shall apply to the Master Fund or to any partner thereof in respect of the operations or assets of the Master Fund or the interest of a partner therein; and may further provide that any such taxes or any tax in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall not be payable in respect of the obligations of the Master Fund or the interests of the partners therein. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Master Fund.

U.S. Federal Income Taxation of the Fund and Partners Generally

As a partnership, the Fund will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax. Each Limited Partner otherwise subject to tax will be required to report separately on its U.S. federal income tax return its distributive share of the Fund’s net long-term capital gain or loss, net short-term capital gain or loss, and net ordinary income and deductions and credits in accordance with the allocations set forth in the Partnership Agreement. Each Limited Partner will be liable for any taxes owed upon its distributive share of the income or gains realized by the Fund, and may claim deductions for its distributive share of the Fund’s losses and deductions and credits for its distributive share of the Fund’s credits, to the extent allowed under the Code. Each Limited Partner will be taxed on its distributive share of the Fund’s taxable income and gain regardless of whether it has received or will receive a distribution from the Fund. Consequently, a Limited Partner may be subject to tax with respect to its share of the taxable income of the Fund for a taxable year and may not receive a corresponding distribution of cash from the Fund in such year with which to satisfy its tax liability in respect of such taxable income.

The Fund will file an annual partnership information return with the Service that reports the results of its operations for the taxable year, and will distribute annually to each Limited Partner a form showing its distributive share of the Fund's items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit. The General Partner will have the authority to decide how to report these items on the Fund's tax returns, and all Limited Partners will be required under the Partnership Agreement to treat the items consistently on their own returns. Under current law, an audit by the Service of the tax treatment of the Fund's income and deductions generally will be determined at the Fund level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Limited Partners. For tax years beginning before January 1, 2018 (and absent an election by the Fund to apply the new partnership tax audit rules described in more detail below), the administrative proceeding is managed by the "Tax Matters Partner." For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2018 (or in the case of an election by the Fund to apply the new partnership tax audit rules), the Fund will be required to appoint one person as the "Partnership Representative" to act on its behalf in connection with an audit by the Service and related proceedings. Pursuant to the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner or its delegate will be designated as the Tax Matters Partner and/or the Partnership Representative. The Partnership Representative's actions, including the Partnership Representative's agreement to adjustments of the Fund's income in settlement of an audit by the Service of the Fund, will bind all Limited Partners, and opt-out rights available to certain Limited Partners in connection with certain actions of the Tax Matters Partner under the current partnership tax audit rules for tax years beginning before January 1, 2018 will no longer be available.

In certain cases, the Fund may be required to file a statement with the Service, disclosing one or more positions taken on its tax return, generally where the tax law is uncertain or a position lacks clear authority. All Partners are required under the Code to treat the partnership items consistently on their own returns, unless they file a statement with the Service disclosing the inconsistency. Given the uncertainty and complexity of the tax laws, it is possible that the Service may not agree with the manner in which the Fund's items have been reported.

Under the Partnership Agreement, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the General Partner has the discretion to allocate specially an amount of the Fund's net gains or net losses (or items of gross income or losses or deduction) to a withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's Capital Account differs either positively or negatively from its U.S. federal income tax basis in its Interest. There can be no assurance that, if the General Partner makes such a special allocation, the Service will accept such allocation. If such allocation is successfully challenged by the Service, the Fund's allocations to the remaining Partners would be affected as well.

The Fund expects to act as a trader or an investor, and not as a dealer, with respect to its securities transactions. Generally, the gains and losses realized by a trader or an investor on the sale of securities are capital gains and losses. Thus, the Fund expects that its gains and losses from its securities transactions typically will be capital gains and capital losses. These capital gains and losses may be long-term or short-term depending, in general, upon the length of time the Fund maintains a particular investment position and, in some cases, upon the nature of the transaction. An investment held for more than one year generally will be eligible for long-term capital gain or loss treatment. The Fund may also realize income from dividends, which will generally be taxed at either ordinary income rates or, if they are eligible for treatment as "qualified dividend income," at applicable long-term capital gains rates.

Dividends from Argentine corporations are generally expected to be treated as “qualified dividend income” only to the extent that the stock for which the dividend is paid is readily tradable on an established securities market in the United States. Limited Partners should consult with their own tax advisors to determine the tax rates applicable to them in their particular tax situations.

In addition, individuals with “modified adjusted gross income” that exceeds certain thresholds (e.g., $250,000 for married individuals filing jointly and $200,000 for single individuals) are subject to a Medicare tax of 3.8% on the lesser of: (i) their investment income, net of deductions properly allocable to such income, and (ii) the excess of their “modified adjusted gross income” above the applicable threshold. It is expected that most or all of the Fund’s income will be treated as investment income for this purpose, and as a result Limited Partners receiving allocations of income from the Fund for these taxable years may be subject to this tax. This tax will be in addition to any U.S. federal income tax imposed on Limited Partners with respect to their allocable share of income of the Fund. Trusts and estates also may be subject to this additional tax. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of this Medicare tax to their investment in the Fund.

The Fund may be involved in a variety of hedging transactions to reduce the risk of changes in value in the Fund’s investments. Special rules may apply to determine the tax treatment of such hedging transactions, which may affect the Fund’s holding period attributable to such property, the characterization of gain or loss as ordinary or capital and, if capital, as long-term or short-term, and the timing of the realization of gains or losses on the actual or deemed sale of the property, including, in some cases, property owned by a Limited Partner outside of the Fund. For instance, gain or loss from a short sale of property generally will be considered as capital gain or loss to the extent the property used to close the short sale constitutes a capital asset in the Fund’s hands. Except with respect to certain situations where the property used by the Fund to close a short sale has a long-term holding period on the date of the short sale, gains on short sales will be treated as short-term capital gains. These rules also may terminate the running of the holding period of “substantially identical property” held by the Fund. Moreover, a loss on a short sale will be treated as a long-term capital loss if, on the date of the short sale, “substantially identical property” has been held by the Fund for more than one year. Certain hedging transactions also may cause a constructive sale of the Fund’s long position that is the subject of the hedge.

Special “mark to market” rules apply to the Fund’s investment in “Section 1256 Contracts.” Section 1256 Contracts include certain regulated futures contracts, certain foreign currency forward contracts and certain options contracts. Capital gains and losses from qualifying Section 1256 Contracts generally are characterized as short-term capital gains or losses to the extent of 40% thereof and as long-term capital gains or losses to the extent of 60% thereof.

The Fund may derive ordinary interest income and dividends on securities, and may be required to recognize income in respect of certain securities prior to receipt of any payment in respect of such securities. For instance, the Fund may hold debt obligations with “original issue discount.” In such case, the Fund will be required to include a portion of such discount in its taxable income on a current basis, and allocate such income to the Limited Partners, even though receipt of such amounts by the Fund may occur in a subsequent tax year. The Fund also may acquire debt obligations with “market discount.” Upon disposition of such an obligation, which might include the receipt of securities of the issuer in a recapitalization exchange, the Fund generally will be required to treat any gain realized (and required to be recognized) as ordinary interest income to the extent of the market discount that accrued during the period the debt obligation was held by the Fund. Recapitalization exchanges involving securities held by the Fund also may result in the recognition of taxable gains prior to the receipt of cash or readily tradable property.

If the Fund is treated as a trader, it may, in its discretion, make an election under Code section 475(f) to apply a mark to market system of recognizing unrealized gains and losses on securities as if the securities were sold for fair market value at the close of any taxable year of the Fund. The amount recognized when gain or loss is subsequently realized would be adjusted for amounts recognized in marking to market. The election would apply with respect to securities held in connection with the Fund's trade or business as a trader in securities. The election would not apply to any securities with respect to which the Fund could demonstrate, to the satisfaction of the Service, that they are held for investment. In the event that the Fund makes such an election, the Fund's gains and losses from marking securities to market (and gain or loss recognized before the end of the taxable year with respect to any security that would have been marked to market) would be treated as ordinary income and losses. The rules relating to appreciated financial positions under Code section 1259 and wash sales under Code section 1091 would not apply to the securities to which the election applies and the Code section 1092 straddle rules would not have any effect where all the offsetting positions of a straddle are marked to market.

The Fund may be required to purchase foreign currency with which to make its investments and may receive foreign currency when a security is sold or when an interest payment is made on a security. These transactions may give rise to gains and losses because of fluctuations in the value of the foreign currency relative to the U.S. dollar during the Fund's holding period of an investment. Foreign currency gain or loss in respect of certain types of transactions must be accounted for separately, apart from any gain or loss on the underlying transaction, and the Code contains special rules which treat, in most circumstances, such gains and losses as ordinary income or losses rather than capital gains or losses.

The U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Fund's investment in swaps or other derivatives is subject to significant uncertainty and depends in large part on the terms of the specific swap or other derivative. In particular, it is possible that the Fund may enter into so-called "bullet swaps" or other swaps that provide for non-periodic payments. In certain circumstances, income from a swap can be treated as ordinary income and not capital gain if the swap is treated as a "constructive ownership transaction" under Code section 1260. The Fund intends to take positions that are reasonable under the law that provide for optimal tax treatment of the Limited Partners. However, there can be no assurance that the Service or a court would agree with the Fund's position. Moreover, the Service might take the contrary position that the Fund is subject to U.S. federal income tax in respect of some or all of the income earned from the swap investments on the theory that the Fund should be treated as the owner for U.S. federal income tax purposes of the property underlying certain swaps, in which case the after-tax return on the swap investments could be significantly reduced.

Pursuant to various "anti-deferral" provisions of the Code (e.g., the "Subpart F" and "passive foreign investment company" provisions), any investments by the Fund in certain foreign corporations may cause a Limited Partner to (i) recognize taxable income prior to the Fund's receipt of distributable proceeds, (ii) pay an interest charge on receipts that are deemed as having been deferred, (iii) recognize ordinary income that, but for the "anti-deferral" provisions, would have been treated as long-term or short-term capital gain, or (iv) become subject to certain reporting requirements with respect to such investments. There can be no assurance that the General Partner or the Fund will mitigate, or be able to mitigate, the application of these provisions, or provide certain information with respect to such foreign corporations or such filing requirements. Potential investors are advised to consult with their own tax advisors with respect to the application of these “anti-deferral provisions” in their particular circumstances.

Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the authority to elect on behalf of the Fund, under Code section 754, to adjust the tax basis of the Fund’s assets in connection with certain distributions to Limited Partners or certain transfers of Interests. Such an election, if made, could affect the amount of a Limited Partner’s distributive share of the gain or loss recognized by the Fund upon the disposition of its assets. Because of the complexity and additional expense involved in making a section 754 election, the General Partner has no present intention to make such election on behalf of the Fund.

Prospective investors that are subject to the AMT should consider the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund in view of their AMT position, taking into account the special rules that apply in computing the AMT.

Taxation of Distributions and Withdrawals

Cash nonliquidating distributions and withdrawals, to the extent they do not exceed a Limited Partner’s basis in its Interest, will not result in taxable income to that Limited Partner, but will reduce its tax basis in its Interest by the amount distributed or withdrawn. Cash distributed to a Limited Partner in excess of the basis of its Interest is generally taxable as capital gain. Conversely, if the cash distributed by the Fund to a Partner for any year exceeds the taxable income of the Fund allocated to such Partner for that year, the excess will be treated as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of a Limited Partner’s tax basis in its Interest. To the extent that cash distributions are treated as a return of capital and to the extent that any tax losses are allocated to the Limited Partners, the tax bases of the Limited Partners in their Interests will be reduced (but not below zero). Because of such basis adjustments, any tax that is avoided in the early years of a Limited Partner’s investment in the Fund may become due later through the realization of gain upon the sale of assets of the Fund, the liquidation of the Fund or the sale of Interests.

Prospective Limited Partners should be aware that a Limited Partner’s share of the taxable income of the Fund for any year may exceed the amount of cash distributed to such Limited Partner for that year, which may require that the Limited Partner make an out-of-pocket expenditure to cover its tax liability. Conversely, if the cash distributed by the Fund to a Partner for any year exceeds the taxable income of the Fund allocated to such Partner for that year, the excess will be treated as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of a Limited Partner’s tax basis of its Interest. To the extent that cash distributions are treated as a return of capital and to the extent that any tax losses are allocated to the Limited Partners, the tax bases of the Limited Partners in their Interests will be reduced (but not below zero). Because of such basis adjustments, any tax that is avoided in the early years of a Limited Partner’s investment in the Fund may become due later through the realization of gain upon the sale of assets of the Fund, the liquidation of the Fund or the sale of Interests.

The Fund’s ability to make cash distributions to a withdrawing Limited Partner or to the Partners, if applicable, may be limited by, among other things, the terms of the investment leverage entered into by the Fund for the purpose of making portfolio investments on a leveraged basis.

Upon the withdrawal of a Limited Partner receiving a cash liquidating distribution from the Fund, such Limited Partner generally will recognize capital gain or loss to the extent of the difference between the proceeds received by the withdrawing Limited Partner and such Partner’s adjusted tax basis in its Interest. Such capital gain or loss will be short-term or long-term depending upon the Partner’s holding period (or holding periods) for its Interest. However, a withdrawing Limited Partner will recognize ordinary income to the extent such Partner's allocable share of the Fund's "unrealized receivables" exceeds the Partner's basis in such unrealized receivables (as determined pursuant to the Treasury Regulations). For these purposes, accrued but untaxed market discount, if any, on securities held by the Fund will be treated as an unrealized receivable, with respect to which a withdrawing Partner would recognize ordinary income.

Distributions of property other than cash, whether in complete or partial liquidation of a Limited Partner's Interest, generally will not result in the recognition of taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner (except to the extent such distribution is treated as made in exchange for such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's unrealized receivables). However, a distribution of marketable securities will be treated as a distribution of cash (which, as described above, can require the recognition of gain by the recipient Limited Partner), unless the distributing partnership is an "investment partnership" and the recipient is an "eligible partner" as defined in Code section 731(c). Although the General Partner cannot provide any assurances of whether the Fund is an "investment partnership" for these purposes, the General Partner anticipates that the Fund should qualify as an "investment partnership." Thus, if a Limited Partner is an "eligible partner," which term should include a Limited Partner whose sole contributions to the Fund consisted of cash, a distribution of marketable securities to such Limited Partner should not require the recognition of gain by such Limited Partner.

As discussed above, under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the discretion to allocate specially an amount of the Fund's net gains or net losses (or items of gross income or losses or deductions) for U.S. federal income tax purposes to a withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's capital account differs from its U.S. federal income tax basis in its Interest. Such a special allocation may result in the withdrawing Partner recognizing more or less taxable income, which may include short-term gain, in the Partner's last taxable year in the Fund, thereby reducing, or increasing, as applicable, the amount of long-term capital gain recognized during the tax year in which it receives its liquidating distribution upon withdrawal. In certain circumstances, special allocations of net gains (or items of income or gain) to a withdrawing Partner may result in a greater allocation of losses, or a lower allocation of taxable income or gain, to the remaining Partners. Likewise, special allocations of net losses (or items of expense, loss or deduction) to a withdrawing Partner may result in a greater allocation of taxable income or gain, or a lower allocation of losses, to the remaining Partners.

Assuming the Fund has not made an election pursuant to Code Section 754 and the General Partner does not exercise its discretion to specially allocate losses to a withdrawing Limited Partner, distributions of property or cash by the Fund to a Limited Partner in redemption of its Interest in certain circumstances where the Fund has a substantial built-in loss may require the Fund to reduce the tax basis of its remaining property.

Limitations on Losses, Deductions and Credits

Limited Partners who are individuals or which are certain types of corporations may be limited in their ability to deduct expenses or losses of the Fund. For instance, if or to the extent that the Fund's operations do not constitute a "trade or business" within the meaning of Section 162 and other provisions of the Code, an individual Limited Partner's distributive share of the Fund's expenses (including any amounts that are treated for tax purposes as expenses of the Fund, such as the Management Fee) would be deductible only as itemized deductions, subject to the limitations of Sections 67 and 68 of the Code. In this regard, if all or a portion of the Performance Allocation to the Special Limited Partner were re-characterized for tax purposes as an expense of the Fund, each non-corporate Limited Partner's share of such expense could be subject to such limitations. Itemized deductions are non-deductible in computing such Limited Partner's AMT income and AMT liability.

Further, income, gains and losses of the Fund generally will not be treated as passive income or losses for purposes of the passive activity loss limitations of Section 469 of the Code. Accordingly, individuals, personal service corporations and certain closely-held corporations that have passive activity losses from other activities are restricted in their ability to use such losses to offset income and gains from the Fund, although losses of the Fund will not be subject to the passive activity loss limitation.

For each taxable year, Section 1277 of the Code limits the deduction of the portion of any interest expense on indebtedness incurred by a taxpayer to purchase or carry a security with market discount which exceeds the amount of interest (including original issue discount) includible in the taxpayer's gross income for such taxable year with respect to such security ("Net Interest Expense"). Net Interest Expense in any taxable year is deductible only to the extent it exceeds the amount of market discount which accrued on the security during the taxable year or portion of the taxable year during which the taxpayer held the security. Net Interest Expense that is non-deductible under the rules described above is carried forward and deducted in the year in which the taxpayer disposes of the security. Alternatively, at the taxpayer's election, such Net Interest Expense can be carried forward and deducted in a year prior to the disposition of the security, if any, in which the taxpayer has net interest income from the security.

Section 1277 would apply to a Limited Partner's share of the Fund's Net Interest Expense attributable to a security held by the Fund (through the Master Fund) with market discount. In such case, a Limited Partner would be denied a current deduction for all or part of that portion of its distributive share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to such Net Interest Expense and such losses would be carried forward to future years, in each case as described above. Although no guidance has been issued regarding the election to deduct previously disallowed Net Interest Expense prior to the year of disposition of the bond, it appears that the election would be made by the Fund rather than by the Limited Partner. Section 1277 would also apply to the portion of interest paid by a Limited Partner on money borrowed to finance its investment in the Fund to the extent such interest was allocable to securities held by the Fund (through the Master Fund) with market discount.

The ability of a non-corporate Limited Partner to deduct its share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and certain short sale expenses may be subject to the "investment interest limitation" under Section 163(d) of the Code. In general, a non-corporate taxpayer's investment interest (including interest and certain short sale expenses) in the current year is not deductible to the extent it exceeds its "net investment income", consisting of net gain and ordinary income derived from investments in the current year less certain directly connected expenses (other than interest or short sale expenses). For this purpose, any long-term capital gain is excluded from net investment income unless the taxpayer elects to pay tax on such amount at ordinary income tax rates. The Fund's activities are expected to be treated as giving rise to investment income for a Limited Partner, and the investment interest limitation would apply to a non-corporate Limited Partner's share of the interest and short sale expenses attributable to the Fund's operation. Accordingly, a non-corporate Limited Partner would be denied a deduction for all or a part of its distributive share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and short sale expenses unless it has sufficient investment income from all sources, including the Fund. Any amount not deductible as a result of the applicability of Section 163(d) may be carried forward to future years, subject to certain limitations.

Limited Partners may be entitled to a foreign tax credit with respect to creditable foreign taxes paid on the income and gains of the Fund. There are complex rules contained in the Code that may, depending on each Limited Partner's particular circumstances, limit the availability or use of foreign tax credits. For example, a Limited Partner's share of gain realized by the Fund will generally be treated as U.S. source income. Consequently, a Limited Partner may not be able to use the foreign tax credit relating to foreign taxes, if any, imposed on such gains unless such credit can be applied against the U.S. tax due on other income derived from foreign sources. Limited Partners should contact their own tax advisors with respect to the availability of any foreign tax credits.

The consequences of these limitations will vary depending upon the particular tax situation of each taxpayer. Accordingly, non-corporate Limited Partners should consult their tax advisors with respect to the application of these limitations.

The Fund may incur certain expenses in connection with its organization and the marketing of its Interests. Amounts paid or incurred to organize a partnership are not deductible, but generally may, by election of the Fund, be capitalized and amortized for U.S. federal income tax purposes over a period of not less than 180 months. Amounts paid or incurred to market interests in the Fund that qualify as "syndication expenses" are not deductible or amortizable.

Tax Consequences for Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors

A Limited Partner that is an organization exempt from tax under Code section 501(a) (a "Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor") will be subject to tax on its allocable share of the Fund's income that is considered to be "unrelated business taxable income" ("UBTI") as defined in Code section 512, and may be subject to the AMT with respect to items of tax preference which enter into the computation of UBTI. Code section 512(b) provides that UBTI generally does not include dividends, interest, and gain or loss from the disposition of property other than stock in trade or property held for sale in the ordinary course of the unrelated trade or business. The Fund may invest in entities that are treated as partnerships or other pass-through entities. UBTI generated by such entities would generally flow up to Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors, causing the realization of UBTI by such investors. A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor should not realize UBTI to the extent that its distributive share of the Fund's income consists of dividends, interest, capital gains and certain other items which are excluded from UBTI under Code section 512(b) (except to the extent any such income constitutes "UDFI," as discussed in the next paragraph). Prospective Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors should be aware that it is unclear under current law whether income from certain swaps or derivative transactions that the Fund may invest or hold a position in, may be excluded from UBTI.

A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor is also subject to tax with respect to its, and its allocable share of the Fund's, "unrelated debt-financed income" pursuant to Code section 514 ("UDFI"). In general, UDFI consists of (i) income derived by a tax-exempt organization (directly or through a partnership) from income-producing property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the taxable year and (ii) gains derived by a tax-exempt organization (directly or through a partnership) from the disposition of property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness." In addition, a tax-exempt organization that borrows money to finance its investment in the Fund would be subject to tax on the portion of its income that is UDFI. Income and gains derived by a tax-exempt organization from the ownership and sale of debt-financed property is taxable in the proportion to which such property is financed by acquisition indebtedness during the relevant period of time. For these purposes, a Limited Partner is deemed to own a proportionate share of the Fund's debt-financed property and the income attributable thereto, and a short sale of publicly traded stock will not create "acquisition indebtedness" unless the Fund borrows funds to post collateral against such short sale.

The Fund expects to generate income attributable to debt-financed property which will be attributed to the Partners, including any Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors. A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor's share of the Fund's income that is treated as UBTI may be significant (depending upon the degree of leverage utilized by the Fund). In addition to other relevant considerations, fiduciaries of employee pension trusts and other prospective tax-exempt investors should consider the consequences of realizing UBTI in making a decision whether to invest in the Fund.

We urge prospective Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors that are sensitive to UBTI or UDFI to consult their tax advisors as to the tax consequences of investing in the Fund and as to the comparative tax treatment of an investment in the Offshore Fund.

Investor Tax Filings and Record Retention.

The U.S. Department of the Treasury has adopted Treasury Regulations designed to assist the Service in identifying abusive tax shelter transactions. In general, the Treasury Regulations require investors in specified transactions (including certain investors in partnerships that engage in such transactions) to satisfy certain special tax filing and record retention requirements. Significant monetary penalties may be applicable as a result of a failure to comply with these tax filing and record retention rules.

The Treasury Regulations are broad in scope and it is conceivable that the Fund may enter into transactions that will subject the Fund and certain Limited Partners to the special tax filing and record retention rules. Additionally, a Limited Partner's recognition of a loss on its disposition of its Interest in the Fund could in certain circumstances subject such Limited Partner to these rules.

Reporting Under FATCA.

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (together with any regulations, rules and other guidance implementing such Code sections and any applicable intergovernmental agreement ("IGA") or information exchange agreement and related statutes, regulations, rules and other guidance thereunder, "FATCA") impose a withholding tax of 30% on (i) certain U.S. source interest, dividends and other types of income, and (ii) the gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of certain assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest and dividends, which are received by a foreign financial institution ("FFI"), unless such FFI enters into an agreement with the Service (an "FFI Agreement"), and/or complies with an applicable IGA, to obtain certain information as to the identity of the direct and indirect owners of accounts in such institution. In addition, a withholding tax may be imposed on payments to certain non-financial foreign entities that do not obtain and provide information as to their direct and indirect owners. These rules generally apply to payments of U.S. source interest, dividends and certain other types of income from U.S. sources and, after December 31, 2018, are expected to apply to payments of gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest or dividends.

The Service has released temporary and final Treasury Regulations and other guidance that will be used in implementing FATCA, which contain a number of phase-in dates for FATCA compliance. In addition, the Cayman Islands has entered into a Model 1 IGA with the United States (the "Cayman-U.S. IGA"), which is treated as in effect, and has issued the Tax Information Authority (International Tax Compliance) (United States of America) Regulations 2014 and guidance notes thereunder, each as updated from time to time.

The Master Fund is likely to be considered an FFI. In order to avoid incurring U.S. withholding under FATCA, the Master Fund is generally required to register with the Service and to comply with the Cayman-U.S. IGA and any guidance thereunder. The Master Fund expects to register with the Service and expects to comply with the Cayman-U.S. IGA and, therefore, generally does not expect to become subject to U.S. withholding under FATCA.

In addition, the Fund may be required to act as a withholding agent under FATCA and therefore be required to withhold on income and proceeds paid or allocated to an investor that fails to comply with FATCA, which could occur if an investor that is an FFI does not enter into an FFI Agreement, is not otherwise exempt from such withholding, and/or does not provide the appropriate information and documentation to the Fund or its agents showing its exemption from such withholding or compliance with FATCA. The General Partner intends to collect the appropriate documentation from all investors in the Fund in order to determine whether it is required to withhold under FATCA with respect to distributions or allocations made to investors.

The General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Fund reserve the right to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at their disposal to avoid withholding requirements or otherwise to mitigate the consequences of an investor's failure to comply with FATCA, including compulsory redemption or withdrawal of the investor concerned. In this regard, the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Fund have certain rights to request, and the investors have certain obligations to provide, information and documentation that may be used by the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Fund in complying with their obligations under FATCA. In addition, no investor affected by any action or remedy by the Fund shall have any claim against the Fund, the Administrator, the Investment Manager, the Master Fund or the General Partner (or their agents, delegates, employees, directors, officers or affiliates) for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Fund in order to comply with FATCA.

The Cayman Islands has also signed, along with over 80 other countries, a multilateral competent authority agreement to implement the OECD Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information – Common Reporting Standard (“CRS” and together with the Cayman-U.S. IGA, “AEOI”).

Cayman Islands regulations have been issued to give effect to the Cayman-U.S. IGA and CRS (collectively, the “AEOI Regulations”). Pursuant to the AEOI Regulations, the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority (the “TIA”) has published guidance notes on the application of the Cayman-U.S. IGA and CRS.

All Cayman Islands “Financial Institutions” are required to comply with the registration, due diligence and reporting requirements of the AEOI Regulations, unless they are able to rely on an exemption that allows them to become a “Non-Reporting Financial Institution” (as defined in the relevant AEOI Regulations) with respect to one or more of the AEOI regimes, in which case only the registration requirement would apply under CRS. The Master Fund does not propose to rely on any Non-Reporting Financial Institution exemption and therefore intends to comply with all of the requirements of the AEOI Regulations.

The AEOI Regulations require the Master Fund and/or the General Partner (as applicable) to, amongst other things (i) register with the Service to obtain a GIIN (in the context of the U.S. IGA only), (ii) register with the TIA, and thereby notify the TIA of its status as a “Reporting Financial Institution”, (iii) adopt and implement written policies and procedures setting out how it will address its obligations under CRS, (iv) conduct due diligence on its accounts to identify whether any such accounts are considered “Reportable Accounts”, and (v) report information on such Reportable Accounts to the TIA. The TIA will transmit the information reported to it to the overseas fiscal authority relevant to a reportable account (e.g. the Service in the case of a US Reportable Account) annually on an automatic basis.

Investors should consult their tax advisors as to the withholding, filing and information reporting requirements that may be imposed on them in respect of their ownership of Interests.

State and Local Taxes

In addition to the U.S. federal income tax consequences described above, prospective investors should consider potential state and local tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. State and local laws often differ from U.S. federal income tax laws with respect to the treatment of specific items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. A Partner’s distributive share of the taxable income or loss of the Fund generally will be required to be included in determining its reportable income for state and local tax purposes in the jurisdiction in which it is a resident.

Limited Partners or the Fund may be subject to state and/or local franchise, withholding, income, capital gain or other tax payment obligations and filing requirements in those jurisdictions where the Fund owns real estate assets or is otherwise regarded as doing business or earning income. Credits for these taxes may not be available (or may be subject to limitations) in the jurisdictions in which Limited Partners, or the Fund, as applicable, are residents. Each potential investor is urged to consult with its own tax advisor in this regard.

Each prospective Limited Partner should consult its own tax advisor with respect to its state and local tax consequences and filing obligations as a result of an investment in the Fund.

Other Taxes

The Fund and its Limited Partners may be subject to other taxes, such as the AMT, and estate, inheritance or intangible property taxes that may be imposed by various domestic jurisdictions, as well as foreign withholding or gains taxes. Each prospective investor should consider the potential consequences of such taxes on an investment in the Fund. It is the responsibility of each prospective investor to satisfy itself as to, among other things, the legal and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, under the laws of the various jurisdictions of its domicile and its residence, by obtaining advice from its own tax counsel or other advisor, and to file all appropriate tax returns that may be required.

Other Income Taxation

Although there can be no assurance, it is intended that the affairs of the Fund will be conducted such that the Fund will not be subject to regular income taxation in any foreign jurisdiction. However, income and gains from investments held by the Fund may be subject to withholding taxes or taxes in jurisdictions other than those described herein, subject to the possibility of reduction under applicable tax treaties. Limited Partners generally may be entitled, subject to applicable limitations, to a credit against U.S. income tax for creditable foreign income taxes paid on the foreign source income and gains of the Fund (which may not include all of the Fund’s gains). The foreign tax credit rules are complex, and may, depending on each Limited Partner’s particular circumstances, limit the availability or use of foreign tax credits. Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the foreign tax credit rules.

Future Tax Legislation; Necessity of Obtaining Professional Advice

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Treasury Regulations, administrative rulings or decisions by the Service or judicial decisions may adversely affect the U.S. federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Fund, with or without advance notice, retroactively or prospectively. The foregoing analysis is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Fund are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. There can be no assurance that the Service will agree with each position taken by the Fund with respect to the tax treatment of Fund items and transactions. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on Limited Partners will vary with the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner and, in reviewing this Memorandum and any exhibits hereto, these matters should be considered.

Accordingly, each prospective investor must consult with and rely solely on its professional tax advisors with respect to the tax results of its investment in the Fund. In no event will the Fund, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, or their Affiliates, counsel or other professional advisors be liable to any Limited Partner for any U.S. federal, state, local or foreign tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, whether or not such consequences are as described above.

The foregoing is a summary of some of the important tax rules and considerations affecting the Limited Partners, the Fund, and the Fund's proposed operations. This summary does not purport to be a complete analysis of all relevant tax rules and considerations, which will vary with the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner, nor does it purport to be a complete listing of all potential tax risks inherent in purchasing or holding Interests. Each prospective investor in the Fund is urged to consult its own tax advisor in order to understand fully the U.S. federal, state, local and any non-U.S. tax consequences of such an investment in its particular situation.

ERISA AND OTHER REGULATORY CONSIDERATIONS

ERISA Considerations

General

Fiduciaries and other persons who are proposing to invest in Interests on behalf of retirement plans, IRAs and other employee benefit plans (“Plans”) covered by the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or the Code, must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that an investment in the Fund plays in the Plan’s portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed to reasonably further the Plan’s purposes, the investment’s risk and return factors, the portfolio’s composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the Plan, the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the Plan’s objectives, the limited right of Limited Partners to withdraw all or any part of their Interests or to transfer their Interests and whether investment in the Fund constitutes a direct or indirect transaction with a party in interest (under ERISA) or a disqualified person (under the Code).

Plan Asset Regulations and Benefit Plan Investors

The United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) has adopted regulations that treat the assets of certain pooled investment vehicles, such as the Fund, as “plan assets” for purposes of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code (“Plan Assets”). Section 3(42) of ERISA defines the term “Plan Assets” to mean plan assets as defined by such regulations as the DOL may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of an entity shall not be treated as Plan Assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of an equity interest in the entity, less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by “Benefit Plan Investors” (the “significant participation test”). For purposes of this determination, the value of any equity interest held by a person (other than such a Benefit Plan Investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or any person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, or any affiliate of such a person, shall be disregarded. An entity shall be considered to hold Plan Assets only to the extent of the percentage of the equity interest held by Benefit Plan Investors. The term “Benefit Plan Investors” means any employee benefit plan subject to part 4 of subtitle B of Title I of ERISA (i.e., plans subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA), any plan to which the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code apply (e.g., IRAs), and any entity whose underlying assets include Plan Assets by reason of a plan’s investment in such entity (a “Plan Asset Entity”).

In order to prevent the assets of the Master Fund from being considered Plan Assets under ERISA, it is the intention of the Master Fund to monitor the investments in the Master Fund and prohibit the acquisition, withdrawal or transfer of any limited partner interests of the Master Fund by any investor, including a Benefit Plan Investor, unless, after giving effect to such an acquisition, withdrawal or transfer, the total proportion of limited partner interests of each class of the Master Fund owned by Benefit Plan Investors would be less than 25% of the aggregate value of that class of limited partner interests (determined, as described above, by excluding certain limited partner interests held by the General Partner, other fiduciaries and affiliates).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in order to limit equity participation in any class of limited partner interests of the Master Fund by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25%, the Fund may require the Compulsory Withdrawal of Interests. Each Limited Partner that is an insurance company acting on behalf of its general account or a Plan Asset Entity will be required to represent and warrant as of the date it acquires Interests the maximum percentage of such general account or Plan Asset Entity (as reasonably determined by such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity) that will constitute Plan Assets (the “Maximum Percentage”) so such percentage can be calculated in determining the percentage of Plan Assets invested in the Master Fund. Further, each such insurance company and Plan Asset Entity will be required to covenant that if, after its initial acquisition of Interests, the Maximum Percentage is exceeded at any time, then such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity shall immediately notify the Fund of that occurrence and shall, if and as directed by the Fund, in a manner consistent with the restrictions on transfer set forth herein, withdraw or dispose of some or all of the Interests held in its general account or Plan Asset Entity.

It is anticipated that investment in the Fund by benefit plan investors may be “significant” for purposes of the regulations. In such event, the underlying assets of the Fund would be deemed to constitute “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA. As a general rule, if the assets of the Fund were regarded as “plan assets” of a benefit plan investor, the Investment Manager would be deemed a fiduciary with respect to each Plan investing in the Fund. However, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and given the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each benefit plan investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s subscription agreement, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Master Fund, neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund would be exercising any discretionary authority or control with respect to the Fund. Accordingly, the Investment Manager believes that neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund will act as a fiduciary (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA) with respect to the assets of the Fund or any benefit plan investor. Rather, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and given the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each benefit plan investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s subscription agreement, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Master Fund, the fiduciary of each such benefit plan investor has retained the fiduciary authority and responsibility with respect to the investor’s initial and continuing investment in the Fund as though the benefit plan investor is investing directly in the Master Fund.

Representation by Plans

The fiduciaries of each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that they have been informed of and understand the Fund’s investment objectives, policies and strategies and that the decision to invest Plan Assets in the Fund is consistent with the provisions of ERISA and/or the Code that require diversification of Plan Assets and impose other fiduciary responsibilities. By its purchase, each investor will be deemed to have represented that either (a) it is not a Plan that is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code, (b) it is not an entity whose assets include Plan Assets or (c) its investment in the Fund will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code.

Ineligible Purchasers

Limited partner interests may not be purchased with Plan Assets if the Investment Manager, any selling agent, finder, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective employees: (a) has investment discretion with respect to the investment of such Plan Assets; (b) has authority or responsibility to give or regularly gives investment advice with respect to such Plan Assets, for a fee, and pursuant to an agreement or understanding that such advice will serve as a primary basis for investment decisions with respect to such Plan Assets and that such advice will be based on the particular investment needs of the Plan; or (c) is an employer maintaining or contributing to such Plan. A party that is described in clause (a) or (b) of the preceding sentence is a fiduciary under ERISA and the Code with respect to the Plan, and any such purchase might result in a “prohibited transaction” under ERISA and the Code.

Plans’ Reporting Obligations

The information contained herein and in the other documentation provided to investors in connection with an investment in the Fund is intended to satisfy the alternative reporting option for “eligible indirect compensation” on Schedule C of the Form 5500, in addition to the other purposes for which such documents were created.

Whether or not the underlying assets of the Fund are deemed Plan Assets, an investment in the Fund by a Plan is subject to ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, Plan fiduciaries should consult their own counsel as to the consequences under ERISA and the Code of an investment in the Fund. Note that similar laws governing the investment and management of the assets of governmental or non-U.S. plans may contain fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements similar to those under ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, fiduciaries of such governmental or non-U.S. plans, in consultation with their counsel, should consider the impact of their respective laws and regulations on an investment in the Fund.

Other Regulatory Matters

Securities Act of 1933

Interests are not registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or any other securities law, including state securities or blue sky laws. Interests are offered without registration in reliance upon the exemption contained in Regulation D of the Securities Act and/or rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission applicable to transactions not involving a public offering. Each investor is required, in the Fund’s Subscription Documents pursuant to which such investor subscribes for an Interest, to make customary Regulation D representations.

Investment Company Act of 1940

The Fund is not registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Investment Company Act”), in reliance upon relief from registration afforded to collective investment vehicles whose outstanding securities are not publicly offered and are beneficially owned exclusively by investors that are considered “qualified purchasers” within the meaning of the Investment Company Act. “Qualified purchasers” generally include individuals and certain family-owned companies owning total investments in excess of $5 million and entities owning total investments in excess of $25 million. Each investor will be required to complete the Fund’s Subscription Documents to enable the Fund to determine its eligibility.

Investment Adviser Registration

The Investment Manager is registered as relying adviser to Highland Capital Management, L.P., an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

Commodity Exchange Act

Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is required to register as a commodity pool operator (“CPO”) or commodity trading advisor under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act and each has filed a notice of claim effectuating exemption. As such, the General Partner and the Investment Manager will operate the Fund and the Master Fund pursuant to such exemption. Unlike a registered CPO, the General Partner and the Investment Manager are not required to deliver a disclosure document and a certified annual report to participants in the Fund. Among other things, the exemption requires the General Partner and the Investment Manager to file a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. The Investment Manager qualifies for an exemption from registration with the CFTC as a commodity trading adviser pursuant to CFTC Rule 4.14(a)(8).

Cayman Islands Mutual Fund Law

The Offshore Fund and the Master Fund are regulated under the Mutual Funds Law (2015 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (“Mutual Funds Law”). The Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (the “Authority”) has supervisory and enforcement powers to ensure compliance with the Mutual Funds Law. Regulation under the Mutual Funds Law entails the filing of prescribed details and audited accounts annually with the Authority. As a regulated mutual fund, the Authority may at any time instruct the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund to have its or their accounts audited and to submit them to the Authority within such time as the Authority specifies. Failure to comply with these requests by the Authority may result in substantial fines on the part of the directors of the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund, as applicable, and may result in the Authority applying to the court to have the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund wound up.

Neither the Offshore Fund nor the Master Fund is, however, subject to supervision in respect of their investment activities or the constitution of the Master Fund's portfolio by the Authority or any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands, although the Authority does have power to investigate the activities of the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund in certain circumstances. Neither the Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented upon or approved the terms or merits of this document. There is no investment compensation scheme available to investors in the Cayman Islands.

The Authority may take certain actions if it is satisfied that a regulated mutual fund is or is likely to become unable to meet its obligations as they fall due or is carrying on or is attempting to carry on business or is winding up its business voluntarily in a manner that is prejudicial to its investors or creditors. The powers of the Authority include the power to require the substitution of the directors of the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund, to appoint a person to advise the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund on the proper conduct of its affairs or to appoint a person to assume control of the affairs of the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund, as the case may be. There are other remedies available to the Authority including the ability to apply to court for approval of other actions.

The Master Fund and the General Partner or any of its members or agents domiciled in the Cayman Islands may be compelled to provide information, subject to a request for information made by a regulatory or governmental authority or agency under applicable law; e.g. by the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority, either for itself or for a recognised overseas regulatory authority, under the Monetary Authority Law (2016 Revision), or by the Tax Information Authority, under the Tax Information Authority Law (2017 Revision) or Reporting of Savings Income Information (European Union) Law (2014 Revision) and associated regulations, agreements, arrangements and memoranda of understanding. Disclosure of confidential information under such laws shall not be regarded as a breach of any duty of confidentiality and, in certain circumstances, the Master Fund, and the General Partner or any of its or their directors or agents, may be prohibited from disclosing that the request has been made.

Anti-Money Laundering Regulations

All subscriptions for Interests will be subject to applicable anti-money laundering regulations. Investors will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT Act) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56).

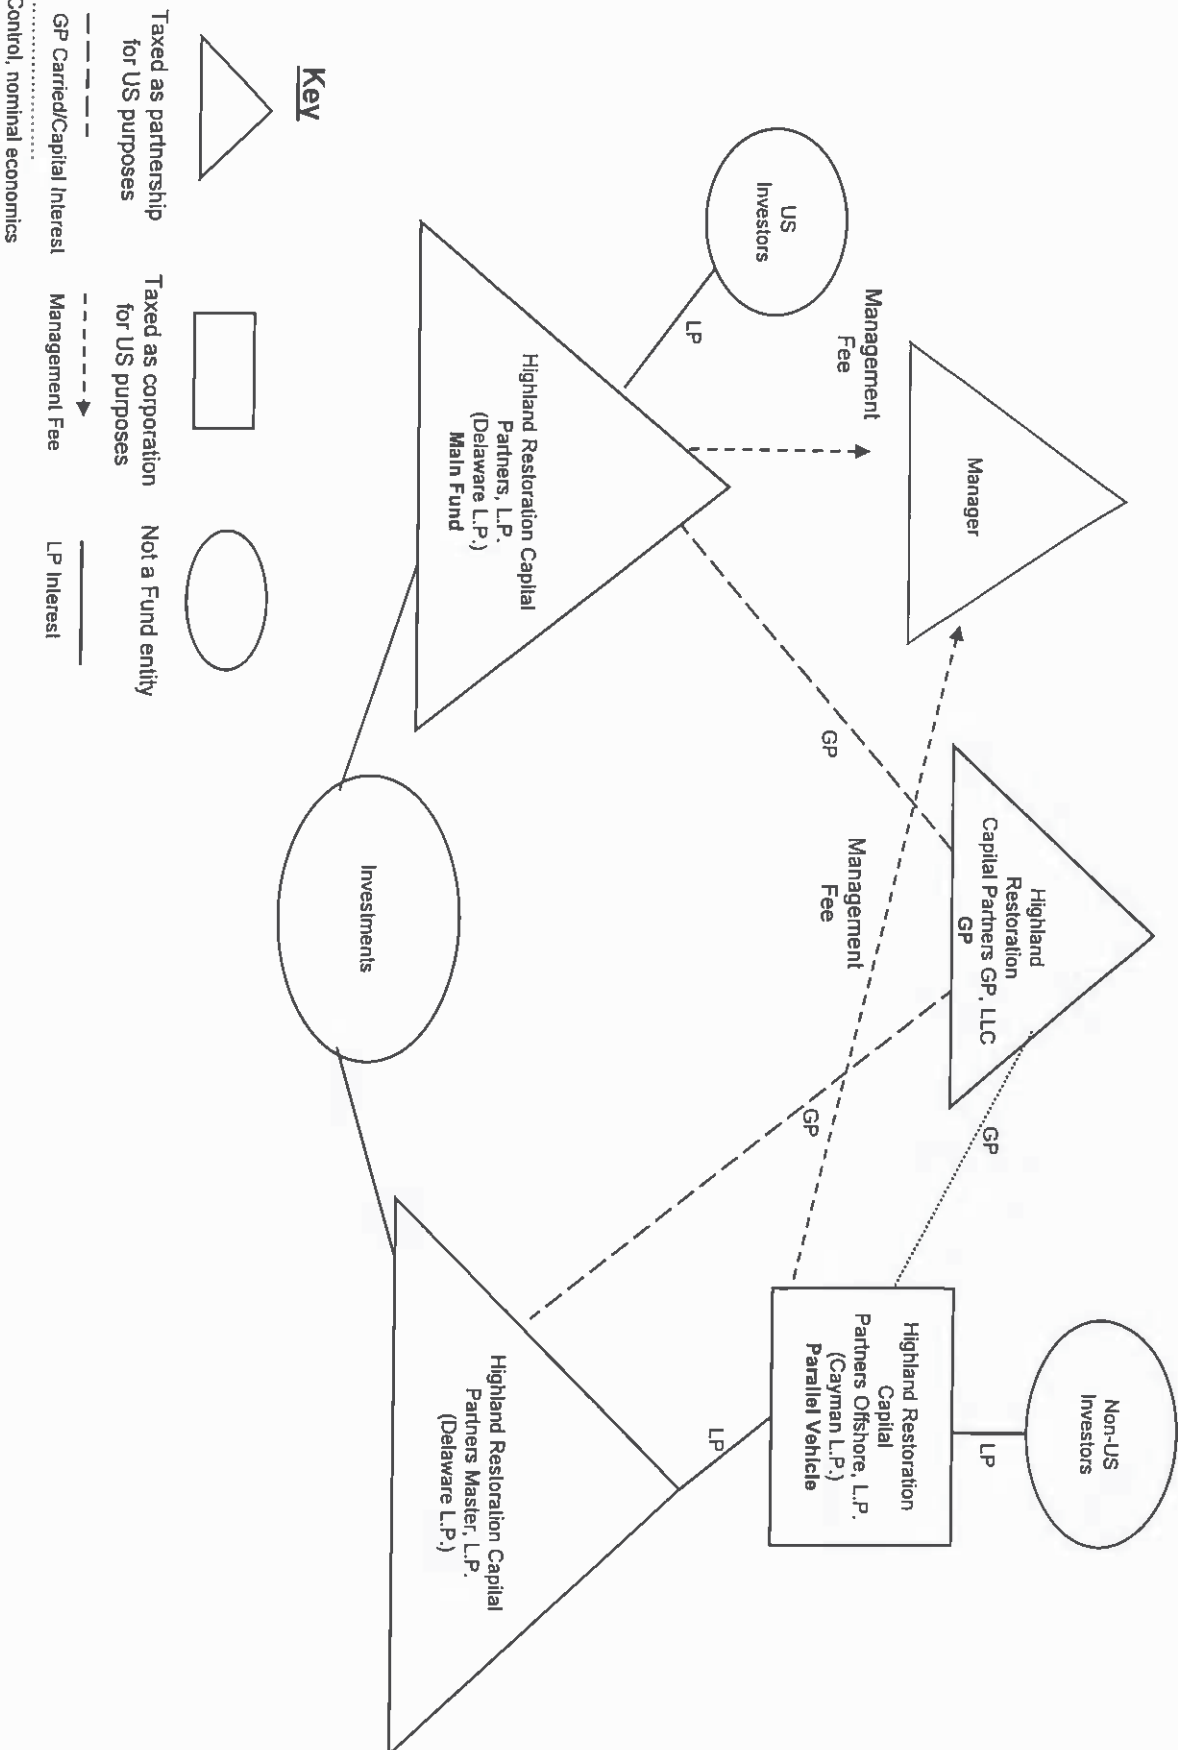

As part of the Fund's responsibility to comply with regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering, the Fund or its delegate may require verification of identity from all prospective investors. Depending on the circumstances of each subscription, it may not be necessary to obtain full documentary evidence of identity.

The Fund reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a prospective investor. The Fund also reserves the right to request such identification evidence in respect of a transferee of Interests. In the event of delay or failure by the prospective investor or transferee to produce any information required for verification purposes, the Fund may refuse to accept the application or (as the case may be) to register the relevant transfer and (in the case of a subscription of Interests) any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which the monies were originally debited.

The Fund also reserves the right to refuse to make any withdrawal payment or distribution to a Limited Partner, if the Fund suspects or is advised that the payment of any withdrawal or distribution moneys to such Limited Partner might result in a breach or violation of any applicable anti-money laundering or other laws or regulations by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund and the Investment Manager with any such laws or regulations in any relevant jurisdiction.

Schedule 1 Limited Partners/Commitments/Notice Information
Exhibit A Master Partnership Agreement

SECOND AMENDED AND RESTATED AGREEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP
HIGHLAND RESTORATION CAPITAL PARTNERS OFFSHORE, L.P.

THIS SECOND AMENDED AND RESTATED AGREEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (this “Agreement”) is dated April 18, 2008 between Highland Restoration Capital Partners GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership, the “General Partner”) and the limited partners listed in Schedule 1 attached hereto (in their capacities as limited partners of the Partnership, the “Limited Partners”) (the General Partner and the Limited Partners being herein collectively called the “Partners”). Capitalized terms not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in Section 2.1(a).

Highland Restoration Capital Partners Offshore, L.P., is an exempted limited partnership (the “Partnership”) registered under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law (as amended) of the Cayman Islands (the “ELP Law”) on the 12th day of November 2007.

The General Partner and the Initial Limited Partner entered into an Agreement of Limited Partnership, dated as of November 9, 2007 (the “Original Agreement”). The Original Agreement was subsequently amended and restated on November 15, 2007 (the “Amended and Restated Agreement”).

The parties hereto wish to amend and restate the Amended and Restated Agreement in the manner set forth herein.

ARTICLE I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1.1 Formation. The Partners hereby agree to amend and restate the Amended and Restated Agreement which is replaced and superseded in its entirety by this Agreement.

Section 1.2 Name. The name of the Partnership will be “Highland Restoration Capital Partners Offshore, L.P.” or such other name or names as the General Partner may from time to time designate. The General Partner will notify Limited Partners in writing of any change to the name of the Partnership.

Section 1.3 Purpose. Subject to the express limitations set forth herein, the Partnership is organized for the object and purpose of (i) investing in senior secured bank loans, debt obligations, trade claims and equity securities of middle market Distressed Companies primarily based in the United States generally consistent with the investment strategy described in the Partnership’s Confidential Private Placement Memorandum, including, without limitation, privately placed or publicly traded debt securities and other debt obligations, senior and subordinated debt obligations, secured and unsecured debt obligations, privately placed or publicly traded equity securities including common stock, preferred stock and warrants (all of which investments will be made through the Master Partnership (other than investments made through a Separate Investment Entity pursuant to Section 5.15)), (ii) managing and monitoring such investments and (iii) engaging in such activities incidental or ancillary thereto and otherwise permitted by the ELP Law as the General Partner deems necessary or advisable.

Section 1.4 Place of Business. The Partnership maintains a registered office at Walker House, 87 Mary Street, George Town, Grand Cayman KY1-9002, Cayman Islands or at such other place in the Cayman Islands as the General Partner may from time to time designate, and its principal place of business is at Two Galleria Tower, 13455 Noel Road, Dallas, TX 75240, or at such other place or places in the United States as the General Partner may from time to time designate; provided, however, that if the General Partner designates different places of business, it shall promptly notify the Limited Partners in writing.

ARTICLE II

“Partnership Expenses” means all reasonable costs and expenses relating to the Partnership’s activities, investments and business (to the extent not borne or reimbursed by a Portfolio Company or proposed Portfolio Company), including, but not limited to, (i) all costs and out-of-pocket fees and expenses attributable to acquiring, investing, holding, monitoring and disposing of the Partnership’s investments, (ii) all other out-of-pocket costs and out-of-pocket fees and expenses attributable to unconsummated transactions or investment strategies (but excluding marketing strategies) that do not lead to consummated acquisitions, (iii) legal, accounting, auditing, administrative, consulting and other fees and expenses (including, but not limited to, fees of the administrator of the Partnership and insurance and other out-of-pocket expenses associated with negotiating, consummating, monitoring and disposing of the Partnership’s investments and the preparation of Partnership financial statements, tax returns and forms K-1), (iv) expenses of the Advisory Committee incurred in accordance with Article VII, (v) extraordinary expenses, liabilities, indemnities and other obligations of the Partnership (including, but not limited to, litigation and indemnification costs and expenses, judgments and settlements (including, but not limited to, costs and expenses payable under Section 5.11)), and (vi) all debt service obligations, including interest, premium, if any, fees, expenses and other amounts payable in respect of indebtedness of the Partnership incurred in accordance with Section 5.3, but in each case, not including Organizational Expenses in excess of $1,250,000, Management Fees, Placement Fees and those expenses borne by the Manager pursuant to Section 4.3.

“Partnership Legal Matters” has the meaning set forth in Section 12.5.

“Permitted GP Transferee” means, as to any membership or other ownership interest in the General Partner, of or held by any Principal or other member or investor in the General Partner (a) any family member of such person provided the transferor retains all voting control with respect to the interest, (b) any other partner or investor in the General Partner who was a partner or investor in the General Partner as of the Final Closing, and (c) any trust, partnership, foundation corporation or other entity that is either controlled by such person or is primarily for the benefit of such person and/or their family members.

“Person” means an individual, a partnership, a limited liability company, a corporation, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, a joint venture, an unincorporated organization, or a governmental entity (or any department, agency or political subdivision thereof).

“Placement Fees” means the fees and expenses and any interest on any deferred fees and expenses charged by or paid to any placement agency designated by the Partnership or the General Partner for the marketing and sale of interests in the Partnership and the Parallel Vehicles. The Partnership’s pro rata share of any Placement Fees shall be the amount of such fees multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the aggregate Commitments of the Limited Partners giving rise to such fees, and the denominator of which is the sum of the aggregate Commitments of the Limited Partners and the aggregate capital commitments of all limited partners in all Parallel Vehicles giving rise to such fees.

“Plan Asset Event” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.6(e).

“Plan Asset Regulation” means the U.S. Department of Labor regulation located at 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101, or any successor regulation thereto, as in effect at the time of reference, as modified by Section 3(42) of ERISA.

“Portfolio Company” means any corporation, partnership, limited liability, company or other entity in which the Partnership has directly or indirectly made an investment, other than Short-Term Investments.

“Portfolio Investments” means any investments held directly or indirectly by the Partnership, other than Short-Term Investments. If the Partnership holds multiple classes of securities or other interests that were issued by a Portfolio Company in a single closing or series of related closings, all of such securities or interests in the aggregate shall constitute one Portfolio Investment.

“Principals” means the following senior investment professionals who are partners or members of the General Partner or are employed by the Manager, for so long as such persons have not voluntarily resigned from, or been terminated by, the General Partner or Manager, and any other senior investment professionals from time to time who are designated as such by the General Partner: James Dondero, Mark Okada, Patrick Daugherty and John Honis.

“Qualified Purchaser” has the meaning set forth in Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

“Redeemed Limited Partner” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.6(c).

“Redemption Effective Date” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.6(c).

“Redemption Value” means, with respect to any interest in the Partnership, or such portion thereof in the case of a partial withdrawal, being redeemed because of a Plan Asset Event or Regulatory Issue, the fair market value of such interest as of the applicable Redemption Effective Date, as determined in good faith by the General Partner; provided that, if the Plan Asset Event or the Regulatory Issue is a result of a breach of a representation, warranty or covenant made by the Redeemed Limited Partner, the Redemption Value shall be (in each case as determined in good faith by the General Partner) the lesser of (i) the fair market value of such Redeemed Limited Partner’s interest in the Partnership on the applicable Redemption Effective Date and (ii) the fair market value of the applicable portion of the Redeemed Limited Partner’s interest in the Partnership being redeemed on the date on which cash is allocated to make redemption payments. In making such determination of fair market value, the General Partner shall assume that all of the assets of the Partnership will be sold on the applicable date in a commercially reasonable manner and the proceeds of such sale, net of estimated closing costs, as reasonably determined by the General Partner, and all obligations of the Partnership (other than the redemption of the interest or interests in the Partnership being redeemed as of such date), will be distributed to the Partners pursuant to this Agreement. With respect to a Plan Asset Event or Regulatory Issue that is not a result of a breach of a representation or warranty made by the Redeemed Limited Partner, if the majority of such Redeemed Limited Partners disagree with the General Partner’s determination of the Redemption Value of the applicable interests in the Partnership, such Redeemed Limited Partners shall negotiate in good faith to resolve such disagreement, and if such Redeemed Limited Partners continue to disagree after negotiations are held, either side may request that an independent evaluator (who must be reasonably acceptable to the other party) be retained, whose valuation shall be final and binding on the Partnership and all of the Partners. The Partnership will bear the cost of the independent evaluator.

“Registration” has the meaning set forth in Section 11.1.

“Regulated Investor” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.6(b).

“Regulatory Issue” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.6(b).

“Separate Investment Entity” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.15.

“Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited Partners” means Limited Partners with Commitments and limited partners in Parallel Vehicles with capital commitments to Parallel Vehicles totaling 75% of the aggregate Commitments of all Limited Partners and capital commitments of limited partners in Parallel Vehicles.

“Short-Term Investment Income” means the income earned on Short-Term Investments including in any event any gains and net of any losses from dispositions of Short-Term Investments and also net of any costs and expenses directly attributable thereto.

“Short-Term Investments” means investments in (a) cash, (b) obligations of, or fully guaranteed as to timely payment of principal and interest by, the United States of America and with a maturity date not in excess of 12 months from the date of purchase by the Partnership, (c) interest-bearing accounts and/or certificates of deposit of any U.S. bank with capital and surplus in excess of $500 million and whose short-term debt securities are rated not lower than P-1 by Moody’s Investor Services, Inc. and A-1+ by Standard & Poor’s Corporation and whose long term unsecured debt securities, or the long term unsecured debt securities of its affiliated holding company, are rated no lower than A1 by Moody’s Investor Services, Inc. and A+ by Standard & Poor’s Corporation, (d) reverse repurchase agreements using U.S. Treasury securities and entered into with any U.S. bank with capital and surplus in excess of $500 million and whose short-term debt securities are rated not lower than P-1 by Moody’s Investor Services, Inc. and A-1+ by Standard & Poor’s Corporation and whose long term unsecured debt securities, or the long term unsecured debt securities of its affiliated holding company, are rated no lower than A1 by Moody’s Investor Services, Inc. and A+ by Standard & Poor’s Corporation, and (e) money market mutual funds with assets of not less than $500 million, substantially all of which assets are reasonably believed by the General Partner to consist of items described in one or more of the foregoing clauses (b), (c) and (d).

“Subscription Agreement” means the Subscription Agreements (including a Subscriber Information Form) executed and delivered by Partners investing in the Partnership substantially in the form of the Subscription Agreement, dated as of the date hereof.

“Successor Fund” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.12.

“Tax Exempt Partner” means (i) a Limited Partner that is exempt from tax under Section 501 of the Code or (ii) a Limited Partner that has a direct or indirect beneficial owner that (x) is exempt from tax under Section 501 of the Code and (y) would be required to report on a United States federal income tax return or report UBTI that would be derived from the Partnership if the Partnership were classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes, to the extent of such beneficial owner’s pro rata share of such income, but only in each case if such Limited Partner has notified the General Partner in writing regarding the status of such direct or indirect beneficial owner.

“Topping and Break-up Fees” means topping, break-up or similar fees in connection with prospective Portfolio Investments that are not completed, in each case to the extent actually paid by a prospective Portfolio Company and received by the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, employees of the Manager or their Affiliates; provided, however, that (A) such fees shall not include, in each case, any such amounts that are applied to cover amounts paid by the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, employees of the Manager or their Affiliates that constitute unreimbursed (i) out-of-pocket expenses of such persons incurred in generating such fees, and (ii) Partnership Expenses incurred in generating such fees, and (B) to the extent that the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their Affiliates were actually reimbursed by the Partnership for any Partnership Expenses incurred in generating such fees, such fees will first be applied to repay the Partnership for such Partnership Expenses.

“Transaction and Monitoring Fees” means commitment, transaction, closing, merger and acquisition, divestiture, financing, monitoring and similar advisory fees in respect of a Portfolio Company, in each case to the extent actually paid by a Portfolio Company and received by the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, employees of the Manager or their Affiliates; provided, however, that (A) such fees shall not include, in each case, any such amounts that are applied to cover amounts paid by the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, employees of the Manager or their Affiliates that constitute unreimbursed (i) out-of-pocket expenses of such persons incurred in generating such fees, and (ii) Partnership Expenses incurred in generating such fees, and (B) to the extent that the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their Affiliates were actually reimbursed by the Partnership for any Partnership Expenses incurred in generating such fees, such fees will first be applied to repay the Partnership for such Partnership Expenses.

“Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners” means Limited Partners with Commitments and limited partners in Parallel Vehicles with capital commitments to Parallel Vehicles totaling more than $66\frac{2}{3}\%$ of the aggregate Commitments of all Limited Partners and capital commitments of limited partners in Parallel Vehicles.

“UBTI” means unrelated business taxable income and unrelated debt financed taxable income, as defined in Sections 512 and 514 of the Code, respectively.

“Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts” has the meaning set forth in the Master Partnership Agreement.

“Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses” means Partnership Expenses that are not Capitalized Partnership Expenses.

“Unfunded Commitment” means that portion of a Partner’s Commitment that is not a Funded Commitment.

“U.S.” means the United States of America.

“Waived Fee Amount” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.1(d).

“Waived Fee Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.1(d).

“Waiver Contribution” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.2(a)(ii).

Section 2.2 Capital Contribution Commitment; Key Person Provision. Subject to Section 5.6(b):

(a) (i) Each Partner agrees to make contributions in cash to the capital of the Partnership pro rata based upon such Partner’s respective Unfunded Commitment in an aggregate amount up to its Unfunded Commitment when and as called by the General Partner (“Capital Call”) upon at least ten Business Days written notice (the “Capital Call Notice”); provided, however, that the General Partner shall contribute its share of any contribution to be used to make a Portfolio Investment directly to the Master Partnership in lieu of making a Capital Contribution to the Partnership for such amount. The General Partner shall not be obligated to make Capital Contributions to be used to pay the Management Fee or Placement Fees, and Capital Contributions to pay the Management Fee will be made by each Limited Partner based on the amount of each payment of the Management Fee that is borne by such Limited Partner pursuant to Section 4.1(b). Any Capital Contributions made by the Limited Partners to pay the Partnership’s pro rata share of any Placement Fees shall be made by the Limited Partners whose Commitments gave rise to such fees, pro rata in accordance with their respective Commitments. The aggregate Commitments and capital commitments to all Parallel Vehicles of the General Partner, the Principals, Highland and their Affiliates, shall be pro rata and shall equal the lesser of 5.0% of aggregate Commitments and capital commitments to all Parallel Vehicles and $50 million. In the event of the election described in Section 2.2(a)(ii), each Limited Partner required to make a Waiver Contribution pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(ii) shall make the Waiver Contribution specified in the Capital Call Notice. Each Portfolio Investment shall be made through the Master Partnership (other than investments made through a Separate Investment Entity pursuant to Section 5.15), and the Master Partnership shall call capital from the Partnership and the General Partner in the manner set forth in the Master Partnership Agreement for purposes of making such Portfolio Investment. Each Capital Contribution shall be made by Partners in cash either by delivery to the Partnership of a certified check or wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account designated by the General Partner, provided, however, that the Capital Contributions of the General Partner may be made by cash contributions or by Deemed Contributions as set forth in Section 2.2(a)(ii).

A Capital Call Notice shall: (i) specify the purpose for which the Capital Contributions are required to be made (including a breakdown of the amounts called in respect of Portfolio Investments, Partnership Expenses, Organizational Expenses, Management Fees or Placement Fees); (ii) in the case of a Capital Call Notice with respect to the anticipated making of a Portfolio Investment, include: (A) a brief description of the identity, nature and business of such Portfolio Investment; (B) a statement as to whether the Portfolio Investment might be structured through a Separate Investment Entity; (C) a designation as such of any Bridge Financing to be made as part of such Portfolio Investment, and (D) a statement as to whether the Portfolio Investment is an investment in a Media Company or could, in the reasonable judgment of the General Partner, cause a Limited Partner to recognize UBTI; and (iii) specify a Limited Partner's pro rata share of the Capital Contributions required to be made by such Limited Partner, the portion of the Capital Contribution to be applied towards the payment of Management Fees, and the amount of a Limited Partner's Unfunded Commitment remaining following the funding of such Capital Contribution.

(ii) Notwithstanding Section 2.2(a)(i) above, at such time as the General Partner delivers any Capital Call Notice, the General Partner's required contribution to the Master Partnership in respect of anticipated or actual Portfolio Investment and/or expenses incurred directly in connection with the making, maintaining or disposing of such Portfolio Investment, at the General Partner's election, shall be reduced by an amount up to the lesser of (A) the amount of the contribution to the Master Partnership otherwise required to be made by the General Partner pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(i), or (B) the amount of any existing Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts, and such amount shall instead be funded through Capital Contributions to the Partnership by the Participating Partners with respect to whom the Management Fee is payable pursuant to Section 4.1(b), pro rata according to their respective Commitments (for any Partner, a "Waiver Contribution"). If, as of any date, the aggregate amounts described in clause (i) of the definition of "Deemed Contribution" in the Master Partnership Agreement exceed the sum of the amounts described in clause (i) of the definition of "Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts," in the Master Partnership Agreement, the General Partner shall, within ten Business Days after such date, make a Capital Contribution equal to the amount of such excess. Such amount shall be distributed to the Partners as a return of their Capital Contributions, in proportion to their respective Waiver Contributions.

(b) Each Partner's Commitment will commence on the date of the First Closing and will expire on the earlier of (i) five years from the Final Closing, (ii) the date after the second anniversary of the Final Closing on which the Commitment Period is terminated with the consent of Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited Partners, (iii) the date on which the General Partner determines that 90% of the aggregate Commitments of the Partners have been funded or are needed for purposes described in clauses (i) through (iii) of the next sentence below, or (iv) the date that the Commitment Period is terminated pursuant to Section 2.2(d), (such period being referred to as the "Commitment Period"). Notwithstanding the expiration or the termination of the Commitment Period, the Partners will remain obligated to make cash contributions throughout the duration of the Partnership pursuant to their respective Unfunded Commitments to the extent needed (i) to make Follow-on Investments; provided, however, that the aggregate of all Follow-on Investments made after the termination of the Commitment Period shall not exceed 15% of the aggregate Commitments, (ii) to make investments that were the subject of written agreements in process or under active consideration prior to or on the date of termination of the Commitment Period and which are consummated within 120 days of the date of termination of the Commitment Period, subject to extension, if necessary, in order to obtain requisite regulatory approvals, and (iii) to pay Partnership Expenses and the Management Fee. The General Partner shall notify the Limited Partners within 30 days of the termination of the Commitment Period as to all in process investments that were the subject of written agreements in process and investments under active consideration to the extent the General Partner is not bound by confidentiality obligations related thereto.

(c) Subject to the ELP Law, the General Partner shall cause the Partnership to return to the Partners all or any portion of any Capital Contribution to the Partnership which is not invested directly or indirectly in a Portfolio Investment or used to pay Partnership Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees or Organizational Expenses or which has been contributed in order to fund a Bridge Financing which is refinanced. Subject to the ELP Law, each such return of Capital Contributions shall be made pro rata among all Partners in the same proportion as the Partners made such Capital Contributions and shall be made on or before the sixtieth (60th) day following the date such Capital Contributions were due (as set forth in the Capital Call Notice pursuant to which such Capital Contributions were made by the Partners to the Partnership), provided, however, that such Capital Contributions may be retained and applied with respect to another outstanding Capital Call Notice and may also be retained if the General Partner determines in good faith that there will be a Capital Call within thirty (30) days after the date that such Capital Contributions would otherwise be required to be returned, and if not so applied and retained, may be called again by the General Partner according to the provisions of this Section 2.2 as if such returned Capital Contributions had not been previously called.

(d) If:

(i) James Dondero and Mark Okada both cease to be actively involved, including in a supervisory role, on an ongoing basis with respect to the business, operations or investment decisions of Highland, the Manager and General Partner,

(ii) the Keyman Group, together with the Principals as of the Final Closing and Permitted GP Transferees thereof, are no longer entitled to receive, directly or indirectly, in the aggregate at least 50% of the Carried Interest (as defined in the Master Partnership Agreement) payable to the General Partner, or

(iii) any two or more of the members of the Keyman Group cease to be actively involved, including in a supervisory role, on an ongoing basis with respect to the business, operations or investment decisions of Highland, the Manager and General Partner,

(the circumstances specified in each of clauses (i), (ii), and (iii), above being referred to herein as a "Triggering Event"), then the Partnership shall automatically enter into a 120 day period (subject to extension for an additional 120 day period as described below) in which the Commitment Period will be suspended (a "Continuity Period").

The Partnership shall not make any new investments during the Continuity Period, except to the extent such investments (a) were the subject of written agreements, (b) were in process or (c) under active consideration prior to the commencement of the Continuity Period, and in each such case, are consummated within 120 days of the commencement of the Continuity Period, subject to extension, if necessary, in order to obtain requisite regulatory approvals for such investments. The pursuit of Other Permitted Investment Activities by the Principals and the members of the Keyman Group will not give rise to a Triggering Event. The General Partner will promptly notify the Limited Partners of the occurrence of a Triggering Event.

During a Continuity Period, if a Triggering Event described in clause (i) above has occurred, the General Partner, after consultation with the Advisory Committee, will prepare for and provide to the Limited Partners within 60 days of the Triggering Event a program recommended by the General Partner for resumption by the Partnership of its full range of activities at the end of such Continuity Period. Prior to the end of the Continuity Period, but within a reasonable time period following the delivery of a program recommended by the General Partner, the General Partner will arrange for a vote of all Limited Partners. By consent of Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners, the Limited Partners may cause an early termination of the Commitment Period, such termination to commence on the date such Continuity Period expires. If a Continuity Period expires without the occurrence of an effective consent of the requisite Limited Partners to terminate the Commitment Period, the Partnership, and the General Partner on its behalf, shall be authorized and entitled to resume the Partnership's full range of activities.

During a Continuity Period, if a Triggering Event described in clauses (ii) or (iii) above has occurred, within 90 days of the Triggering Event the General Partner may propose to the Advisory Committee one or more replacements to serve as members of the Keyman Group for purposes of this Section 2.2(d); if a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee approve of such replacement or replacements, such replacement person or persons shall thereafter be members of the Keyman Group and the Partnership, and the General Partner on its behalf, shall be authorized and entitled to resume the Partnership's full range of activities. If the Advisory Committee does not approve of such replacement person or persons within 30 days following the delivery of the General Partner proposal to the Advisory Committee, the Continuity Period shall be extended for an additional 120 day period. The General Partner may propose to the Advisory Committee, within 90 days after the rejection by the Advisory Committee of the initial replacement person or persons, a different replacement or replacements than originally proposed to serve as members of the Keyman Group for purposes of this Section 2.2(d); if a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee approve of such replacement or replacements within 30 days following delivery of the new General Partner proposal, such replacement person or persons shall thereafter be members of the Keyman Group and the Partnership, and the General Partner on its behalf, shall be authorized and entitled to resume the Partnership's full range of activities. If the Advisory Committee does not approve of such replacement person or persons within such thirty day period, the General Partner will arrange for a vote of all Limited Partners. By consent of Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners, the Limited Partners may cause an early termination of the Commitment Period, such termination to commence on the date the Continuity Period expires.

Section 2.3 Capital Accounts. A capital account ("Capital Account") will be established for each Partner on the books of the Partnership and will be adjusted as follows:

(a) Capital Contributions and Allocations. A Partner's Capital Contribution will be credited to its Capital Account when received by the Partnership.

(b) Short-Term Investment Income. Short-Term Investment Income earned in each quarterly period with respect to Capital Contributions that have not yet been invested in Portfolio Investments or used to pay fees and expenses of the Partnership will be credited to the Capital Accounts of the Partners pro rata according to their respective Partner Capital Contributions to which such Short-Term Investment Income is attributable. Short-Term Investment Income on undistributed proceeds from Portfolio Investments shall be credited to the Capital Accounts of the Partners ratably in proportion to their respective shares of such undistributed amounts.

(c) Investment Income and Gain and Investment Loss. Taking into account Section 6.6(d) and except as otherwise provided in this Section 2.3(c), Investment Income and Gain or Investment Loss shall be allocated among the Partners for each taxable period in such a manner that, as of the end of such taxable period, and to the extent possible, the Capital Account of each Partner shall be equal to the net amount, positive or negative, which would be distributed to each Partner or for which such Partner would be liable to the Partnership under this Agreement, determined as if the Partnership were to liquidate the assets of the Partnership for an amount equal to their Basis, reduced, but not below zero, by the amount of nonrecourse debt, if any, to which such Partnership assets are subject, and distribute the proceeds in liquidation after the payment of all liabilities (other than nonrecourse liabilities) in accordance with Sections 3.2 and 3.3. For purposes of the foregoing determination, any increase in the Basis of a Portfolio Investment shall be taken into account for this purpose in the same manner as proceeds of a Partial Realization.

(d) Organizational Expenses, Management Fee. Organizational Expenses that are borne by the Partnership will be apportioned to the Partners pro rata according to their respective Capital Contributions to pay Organizational Expenses. Organizational Expenses that are described in Section 705(a)(2)(B) of the Code will be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in the fiscal period in which they are incurred, and Organizational Expenses that are described in Section 709(b) of the Code will be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners over a 180-month period. The Management Fee for any Management Fee Period shall be debited against the Capital Account of each Limited Partner in the amount that is borne by such Limited Partner pursuant to Section 4.1(b) for such Management Fee Period.

(e) Distributions. Any amounts distributed to the Partners will be debited against their Capital Accounts.

(f) Partnership Expenses. Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses shall be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their respective Commitments.

(g) Placement Fees. Placement Fees, shall be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Limited Partners whose Commitments gave rise to such fees, in proportion to their respective Commitments.

Section 2.4 Distributions in Kind.

(a) If any securities are to be distributed in kind to the Partners as provided in Article III, such securities will first be written up or down to their value (as determined pursuant to Article IX as of the date of such distribution), thus creating Investment Income or Gain or

Investment Loss, which shall be allocated in accordance with Section 2.3 to the Capital Accounts of the Partners, and upon the distribution (or deemed distribution pursuant to Section 2.4(b)) of such securities to the Partners, the value of such securities shall be debited, in accordance with Section 2.3(e), against the Capital Accounts of the Partners.

(b) The General Partner shall give at least ten Business Days prior notice to the Limited Partners of any proposed distribution of securities pursuant to this Section 2.4 and the date of such proposed distribution. In connection with any distribution of securities in kind, the General Partner shall offer each Limited Partner the right to elect to receive a distribution of securities or to have the Partnership dispose of all or any portion of such securities for the account of such Limited Partner. At the election of a Limited Partner (an "Electing Limited Partner"), all distributions of securities that otherwise would be made to the Electing Limited Partner by the Partnership shall be made, as determined by the General Partner, to the General Partner or an independent escrow agent or custodian as agent for the Limited Partner (the "Agent") and, unless otherwise specified in writing, an Electing Limited Partner shall be deemed to have chosen to have the Partnership sell its share of securities in full. An Electing Limited Partner shall bear all expenses (including, without limitation, underwriting costs and brokerage commissions) relating to the sale by the Partnership of such securities. The General Partner may require the Electing Limited Partner to make any representations, warranties and covenants as the General Partner shall reasonably determine are necessary or desirable in order to dispose of the securities. For all purposes of this Agreement, the Limited Partner shall be deemed to have received such distribution of securities on the date that such securities are delivered to the Agent. Immediately following a distribution to the Agent pursuant to this Section 2.4(b), the General Partner shall notify the Limited Partner of the type and quantity of securities distributed. The Agent shall thereafter hold such securities for a period of 10 Business Days following which the Agent shall use its reasonable efforts to promptly sell such securities and deliver the net proceeds therefrom to the Limited Partner; provided, however, that the Agent shall not sell such securities and shall instead promptly deliver such securities to the Limited Partner following the conclusion of such 10 Business Day period if, prior to the conclusion of such period, the Limited Partner notifies the Agent that the receipt of such securities would not violate any law, regulation or governmental order applicable to the Limited Partner. The Agent shall use good faith efforts in selling such securities at the highest available price, but shall not be liable to an Electing Limited Partner in any manner in connection with such sale in the absence of gross negligence or willful misconduct, including for any claim that the Agent was unable to effect any such sale (for any reason) or failed to obtain the highest possible sale price for such securities.

(c) An Electing Limited Partner's election pursuant to Section 2.4(b) may be revoked by the Electing Limited Partner at any time upon notice to the General Partner; provided, however, that an election may not be revoked with respect to securities if the Agent has entered into a binding commitment to sell securities on behalf of the Electing Limited Partner.

Section 2.5 Determination of Voting Thresholds. Any vote, approval or consent that is to be based upon a specified proportion of the interests in the Partnership held by the limited partners shall be based upon the Limited Partners' Commitments and the capital commitments of limited partners in Parallel Vehicles, excluding (i) except as specifically provided in Section 6.9, that portion of each Limited Partner's Commitment and the capital commitment of each limited partner in a Parallel Vehicle that represents a Non-Voting Interest, (ii) except as otherwise set forth in Section 12.1(b), limited partner interests in the Partnership or in any Parallel Vehicle held by a Defaulting Partner or a defaulting partner of a Parallel Vehicle, and (iii) limited partner interests in the Partnership or in any Parallel Vehicle held, directly or indirectly, by the General Partner, Highland, the Principals or any of their respective Affiliates prior to any removal of the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.9, and (iv) in the case of any particular matter that affects or pertains only to the Partners and not to any partner of a Parallel Vehicle, limited partner interests in such Parallel Vehicle held, directly or indirectly, by the General Partner or by any limited partner of such Parallel Vehicle.

ARTICLE III

DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 3.1 Distribution Policy.

(a) The General Partner may in its sole discretion make distributions of cash or Marketable Securities at any time and from time to time subject to the remaining provisions of this Section 3.1; provided, however, that no securities will be distributed in kind to the Partners that are not Marketable Securities until the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership to the Partners pursuant to Section 8.3(b).

(b) The General Partner will cause the Partnership to distribute (i) Current Cash Income at least semi-annually unless reinvested as described in this Section 3.1(b), (ii) Short-Term Investment Income at least quarterly, and (iii) the net cash proceeds received from Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments within 60 days of the receipt thereof unless reinvested as described in this Section 3.1(b), after, in each case, the setting aside by the General Partner, in its discretion, of reasonable reserves for anticipated obligations and commitments of the Partnership as well as any required tax withholdings; provided, however, that if the General Partner determines in good faith that there will be a Capital Call within 30 days after the date that an amount that would otherwise be distributed that would be described in clauses (a), (b) and (d) of the definition of Funded Commitment, or if there is an outstanding Capital Call Notice the General Partner may, in its discretion, retain such amount and reduce the amount required to be contributed with respect to such Capital Call.

Section 3.2 Distribution of Short-Term Investment Income. Short-Term Investment Income will be distributed among the Partners in the same proportions as Short-Term Investment Income was credited to the Partners' Capital Accounts.

Section 3.3 Distributions of Current Cash Income and Proceeds From Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with Respect to Investments and In Kind Distributions.

(a) Distributions not attributable to a Portfolio Investment shall be distributed to the Limited Partners in proportion to their Funded Commitments as of the date of such distribution. All distributions of Current Cash Income and all distributions out of net proceeds from Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments (in each case, net of Partnership Expenses) and all distributions of Portfolio Investments shall be distributed to the Participating Partners in proportion to their respective Partner Interests with respect to the Portfolio Investment that gave rise to such Current Cash Income or net proceeds or that is being distributed in kind.

(b) A Partner's Capital Contributions used to pay Organizational Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees and Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses that are to be allocated to a Portfolio Investment shall be determined on the date such Portfolio Investment is Disposed of, and shall equal the product of (i) such Capital Contributions not theretofore allocated to Portfolio Investments that have been Disposed of multiplied by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which shall equal such Partner's Capital Contributions in respect of such Portfolio Investment and the denominator of which shall equal such Partner's Capital Contributions in respect of such Portfolio Investment and all Portfolio Investments that have not been Disposed of on or prior to the date such allocation is effected. For purposes of the determinations described in clause (b)(i) of the definition of "Excess Partial Realization Proceeds" in the Master Partnership Agreement, such Capital Contributions shall be tentatively allocated to the Portfolio Investment giving rise to such Partial Realization proceeds as though such Portfolio Investment had been Disposed of on the date such proceeds were realized.

Section 3.4 Foreign Taxes. The amount of any foreign taxes paid by the Partnership (or by an entity in which the Partnership holds an interest, either directly or indirectly through one or more such entities, that is treated as a partnership or is disregarded for federal income tax purposes) or withheld from receipts of the Partnership or such entity from a Portfolio Investment shall be allocated among the Partners as reasonably determined by the General Partner (taking into account any allocation of taxes under Section 6.7) and, for purposes of Sections 3.3(a)(i) – (iii) of the Master Partnership Agreement, shall be deemed to have been distributed to each Partner as Current Cash Income or proceeds from the Disposition of a Portfolio Investment to the extent that the payment or withholding of such foreign taxes reduced Current Cash Income or the proceeds from the Disposition of a Portfolio Investment, as the case may be, otherwise distributable to such Partner as provided herein (for this purpose taking into account with respect to each Partner any reduction in such foreign taxes that occurs by reason of such Partner's status); provided that the General Partner may deem foreign taxes paid by or withheld from receipts of the Partnership and allocable to a Tax Exempt Partner to have been distributed to such Tax Exempt Partner as described above only to the extent that such Tax Exempt Partner incurs and is subject to tax on UBTI relating to such Tax Exempt Partner's Interest in the Partnership, as determined by the General Partner.

ARTICLE IV

MANAGEMENT FEE AND ORGANIZATIONAL EXPENSES

Section 4.1 Management Fee.

(a) During each quarterly period beginning on each January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1 from and after the First Closing (each such quarterly period, a "Management Fee Period") until the termination of the Partnership, the Partnership will pay the Manager a quarterly fee as calculated below (the “Management Fee”), in advance on each January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1, as compensation for managing the affairs of the Partnership, provided, however, that the initial payment of the Management Fee shall be for the period from the First Closing to December 31, 2007.

(b) The Management Fee payable by the Partnership shall be the sum of the amounts determined for each Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 4.1. No Management Fee shall be payable with respect to the General Partner and their Affiliates. Subject to Sections 4.1(c) and 4.1(d), the quarterly Management Fee payable with respect to a Limited Partner during the Initial Fee Period shall be 0.4375% of the Commitments of such Limited Partner resulting in an aggregate annual Management Fee of 1.75%. Following the expiration of the Initial Fee Period, the quarterly Management Fee payable with respect to a Limited Partner shall be 0.4375% of the aggregate Net Funded Commitment of such Limited Partner as reduced by any writedowns or writeoffs pursuant to Section 9.4 in respect of Portfolio Investments that have not been Disposed of on or prior to such date (resulting in an aggregate annual Management Fee of 1.75%). The Management Fee in any partial quarterly period will be pro rated on a daily basis according to the actual number of days in such period.

(c) The Management Fee payable with respect to any Management Fee Period and with respect to a Limited Partner will be reduced (but not below zero) by such Limited Partner’s Partner Share of eighty-five percent (85%) of the Partnership’s pro rata share of all Topping and Break-up Fees, Transaction and Monitoring Fees, and Director Fees. The Management Fee shall also be reduced, but not below zero, by such Limited Partner’s Capital Contributions used pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(i) to pay (x) any Placement Fees and (y) any Organizational Expenses in excess of $1,250,000, paid or payable by the Partnership. To the extent that such Limited Partner’s share of the Management Fee in any Management Fee Period is reduced to zero as a result of the reduction for Placement Fees, Organizational Expenses in excess of $1,250,000, Director Fees, Topping and Break-up Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees, the excess shall be carried forward to the next Management Fee Period (and, if necessary, to one or more subsequent Management Fee Periods) and applied as a reduction of the Management Fee, but not below zero, for such succeeding Management Fee Period (or a subsequent Management Fee Period). To the extent that Director Fees, Topping and Break Up Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees exceed or cannot be applied as a reduction of Management Fees for succeeding Management Fee Periods, then such excess will first be applied to reimburse the Partnership for any previously unreimbursed Management Fees paid by the Partnership for prior Management Fee Periods (with such amounts being treated for purposes of Section 3.3(a) as distributions in return of the Capital Contributions made to pay such Management Fees), and the remainder of such excess will be paid or contributed to the Partnership and will be distributed pursuant to Section 3.3(a) as if net proceeds from the Disposition of a Portfolio Investment; provided, however, that in the event that any Partner desires not to receive any such excess fee offsets upon the termination of the Partnership, such Partner may elect in writing at any time prior to the termination of the Partnership to waive receipt of any such fee offsets, in which case the amount of fee offsets that would otherwise have been allocated and distributed to such Partner shall instead be allocated and distributed to the other non-waiving Partners on a pro rata basis in accordance with their respective Commitments. The Partnership’s pro rata share of all Topping and Break-up Fees, Transaction and Monitoring Fees and Director Fees shall be the amount of such fees multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the Partnership’s investment in the Portfolio Investment (or proposed investment in the proposed Portfolio Investment) giving rise to such fee and the denominator of which is the aggregate investment or proposed investment in such Portfolio Investment or proposed Portfolio Investment by the Partnership, all Parallel Vehicles, all Separate Investment Entities, all Co-investment Funds and all other co-investment arrangements arranged by the Manager with respect to such Portfolio Investment or proposed Portfolio Investment (provided, that for the avoidance of doubt, any such Co-Investment Funds or other co-investment arrangements will not receive any amount of fee offsets).

(d) After taking into account any reduction in the Management Fee payable for any Management Fee Period with respect to a Limited Partner pursuant to Section 4.1(c), the Management Fee payable for any Management Fee Period with respect to such Limited Partner shall be further reduced by an amount (the "Waived Fee Amount") equal to the lesser of (i) the amount of the Management Fee to which the Manager would otherwise be entitled pursuant to this Section 4.1 that the Manager has irrevocably elected to waive in a written notice (a "Waived Fee Notice") delivered to the Partnership with respect to each Management Fee Period, at least 15 days prior to the end of the calendar year immediately preceding the calendar year in which such Management Fee Period begins, and with respect to each Management Fee Period in the first calendar year of the term of the Partnership, such Waived Fee Notice delivered on or prior to the delivery of the first Capital Call Notice in respect of Management Fees and (ii) the amount that would be payable to the Manager on such Management Fee Period pursuant to this Section 4.1 in the absence of this Section 4.1(d). A Limited Partner's share of the Waived Fee Amount for any Management Fee Period is equal to the Waived Fee Amount for such Management Fee Period multiplied by the quotient determined by dividing (i) the Management Fee that would be payable for such Management Fee Period with respect to such Limited Partner in the absence of this Section 4.1(d) by (ii) the total Management Fee that would be payable for such Management Fee Period in the absence of this Section 4.1(d). If the Manager delivers a Waived Fee Notice with respect to any Management Fee Period that begins before the date of the Final Closing, (i) if such Waived Fee Notice specifies that a percentage of the Management Fee otherwise payable for such Management Fee Period be waived, the Manager shall be deemed to have waived a proportionate amount of the Management Fee otherwise payable for such Management Fee Period by all Additional Limited Partners whose subscriptions are accepted after the date of such Waived Fee Notice and (ii) if such Waived Fee Notice specifies that a fixed dollar amount of such Management Fee otherwise payable for such Management Fee Period be waived, the reduction in the Management Fee for such Management Fee Period shall be allocated to all Limited Partners in the same proportion as the Management Fee is borne by the Limited Partners for such Management Fee Period.

(e) For purposes of Section 4.1(c), a Limited Partner's share of Director Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees is equal to the amount of the Partnership's pro rata share of such fees multiplied by the Limited Partner's Partner Interest in the Portfolio Investment to which such Director Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees are attributable, and a Limited Partner's share of Topping and Break-up Fees is equal to the amount of such fees multiplied by the proportion of such Limited Partner's Commitment to the Commitments of all Partners on the first day of the Management Fee Period in which such Topping and Break-up Fees are paid.

Section 4.2 Organizational and Partnership Expenses. The Partnership will reimburse the General Partner or the Manager for all Organizational Expenses incurred by the General Partner or the Manager on behalf of the Partnership. The Partnership will pay all Partnership Expenses.

Section 4.3 Ordinary Operating Expenses. The Manager shall pay all ordinary overhead expenses of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Manager, the Separate Investment Entities and the Parallel Vehicles (including salaries, rent, overhead, travel expenses and similar expenses), other than Partnership Expenses, Organizational Expenses and Placement Fees.

ARTICLE V

GENERAL PARTNER

Section 5.1 Investment Opportunities; Devotion of Time; Management Authority.

(a) The Principals shall each be actively involved in the business of the Fund Group and shall devote such amount of their business time and attention in order to fulfill their fiduciary duties to the Limited Partners in accordance with the ELP Law; provided, however, that the Principals may engage and be involved in Other Permitted Investment Activities. Subject to the foregoing and to Section 5.12(a) and the Highland Investment Allocation Policy, during the Commitment Period, the General Partner, the Manager and the Principals will present all investment opportunities to the Partnership which they believe in good faith are suitable for the Partnership and fit the investment objective of the Partnership. However, the Principals and the Manager will not be restricted from pursuing, engaging in and completing acquisitions and investments in, through or by Highland Portfolio Companies in connection with Other Permitted Investment Activities and other investments through other Highland Accounts, in each such case, in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy.

(b) The General Partner will have full control over the business and affairs of the Partnership consistent with its duties arising under the ELP Law. The General Partner will have the power on behalf and in the name of the Partnership to carry out any and all of the objects and purposes of the Partnership and to perform all acts and enter into and perform all contracts and other undertakings which, in its sole discretion, are necessary or advisable or incidental thereto, including the power to acquire or dispose of any security (including Marketable Securities). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the management of the Partnership will vest in the Manager which will provide the Partnership with portfolio management and administrative services, including investigating, analyzing, structuring and negotiating potential investments, monitoring the performance of Portfolio Companies and advising as to disposition opportunities. In no event shall the Manager, which has been engaged by the Partnership, be treated as an agent or partner of the General Partner.

(c) Except to the extent otherwise provided in this Agreement, all matters concerning (i) the allocation of Short-Term Investment Income, Current Income, Investment Income and Gain, Investment Loss, Partnership Expenses, Organizational Expenses, and the distribution of net proceeds and the return of capital among the Partners, including the taxes thereon, (ii) accounting procedures and determinations, estimates of the amount of Management Fees or Placement Fees payable by any Defaulting Partner, (iii) the calculation of the Management Fee

(including Director Fees, Topping and Break-up Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees), and (iv) the reinvestment of any amounts distributed in respect of a Bridge Financing (or portion thereof) that was sold, refinanced or otherwise disposed of within eighteen (18) months from the Investment Date of such Bridge Financing, shall be determined by the General Partner in accordance with its reasonable interpretation of the provisions of this Agreement made in good faith.

Section 5.2 Use of Affiliates. The General Partner shall retain the services of the Manager and any officers, directors or Affiliates thereof in connection with the operation of the Partnership, and the compensation of the Manager and such persons shall be as provided in Section 4.1 hereof; provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section 5.2 shall be construed to relieve the General Partner of its responsibilities under this Agreement or the duties and limitations set forth in this Article V.

Section 5.3 Indebtedness. Subject to Section 5.5 and Section 5.4, the Partnership may incur indebtedness consisting of Bridge Leveraging or the issuance of credit support of the obligations of Portfolio Companies or their subsidiaries, which may be in the form of guarantees, letters of credit or pledges of a portion of the Commitments ("Credit Support"). Any such indebtedness will not be considered as Capital Contributions by the Partners unless, until and to the extent the General Partner calls for Capital Contributions in connection therewith pursuant to a Capital Call Notice pursuant to this Agreement.

Section 5.4 Limitation on Investments.

(a) The Partnership will not invest (including through Credit Support) more than twenty five percent (25%) of the aggregate Commitments in any single Portfolio Company together with any of its Affiliates (valued at original cost). A Bridge Financing, when added to the amount of permanent investment by the Partnership in the Portfolio Investment that is the subject of the Bridge Financing, may not exceed twenty five percent (25%) of the aggregate Commitments.

(b) The aggregate amount of Bridge Financings outstanding at any one time shall not exceed fifteen percent (15%) of the aggregate Commitments.

(c) Subject to Section 5.5, the Partnership may issue Credit Support, which does not at any one time exceed Unfunded Commitments.

(d) The Partnership shall invest cash in Short-Term Investments.

(e) The aggregate investments (valued at cost) by the Partnership in Portfolio Companies organized and with principal executive offices outside the United States shall not exceed thirty percent (30%) of the aggregate Commitments. The Partnership will not invest in Portfolio Companies that are organized or with principal executive offices in countries that are not within the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development as of the date of the First Closing.

(f) The Partnership will not invest as a partner or member in any pooled investment fund or "fund of funds" in which an investment adviser or manager of such fund (other than the Partnership) receives management fees or the right to carried interest distributions on the Partnership's investment or interest therein unless the amount of any such management fee is considered part of the Capital Contribution relating to such Portfolio Investment and the amounts distributable to the General Partner under Sections 3.3(a)(ii) and 3.3(a)(iii) of the Master Partnership Agreement are reduced by the amount of any carried interest payable to such sponsor or investment manager.

(g) In connection with a Portfolio Investment in any non-U.S. jurisdiction, the General Partner shall obtain an opinion of counsel with respect to such jurisdiction to the effect that (i) no Limited Partner, solely as a result of the Partnership making such investments, will be required either (x) to file an income tax return in such jurisdiction (other than in connection with an application for a refund of withholding or similar taxes) or (y) to pay income tax in such jurisdiction with respect to income not derived from the Partnership, and (ii) no Limited Partner shall be personally liable for any debts or losses of the Partnership in such jurisdiction in excess of such Limited Partner's Unfunded Commitment. The General Partner shall use commercially reasonable efforts to ensure that any opinion obtained pursuant to this Section 5.4(i) will permit the Limited Partners to rely thereon. The General Partner shall ask local counsel to confirm and/or update periodically as it deems necessary any opinion it obtains pursuant to this Section 5.4(i). The Partnership will use commercially reasonable efforts to prepare all tax rebate, reduction or reclaim forms or other filings or elections that are required to obtain any available exemption from, reduction in, or refund of, any withholding or other taxes required in any taxing jurisdiction on behalf of each Limited Partner, for signature by such Limited Partner, and to assist each Limited Partner, at such Limited Partner's expense, to obtain refunds for taxes withheld or paid with respect to such Limited Partner as to which a refund is obtainable. Each Partner agrees that it will cooperate with the General Partner in making any such filings or elections to the extent the General Partner determines that such cooperation is necessary or desirable.

(h) The Partnership will not invest (including through Credit Support) more than twenty percent (20%) of the aggregate Commitments in Persons that are not Distressed Companies; provided that the General Partner in its good faith discretion believes that an investment in such Persons is consistent with the Partnership's investment objective.

Section 5.5 UBTI; USRPI; ECI. The General Partner shall use commercially reasonable efforts not to (i) structure the Fund's Portfolio Investments in a manner that would result in the realization by a Tax Exempt Partner of a substantial amount of UBTI, (ii) take any action that would cause any Non-U.S. Partner to recognize ECI, (iii) cause the Partnership to acquire a Portfolio Investment that the General Partner reasonably believes at the time of such acquisition is or is likely to become a "United States real property interest" ("USRPI") within the meaning of Section 897(c) of the Code or (iv) take any action that would cause any Non-U.S. Partner to which Section 892 of the Code applies to be considered or deemed to be engaged in a commercial activity for purposes of Section 892 of the Code; provided, however, that the use of Bridge Leveraging and the use of Director Fees, Topping and Break-up Fees, Transaction Fees and Monitoring Fees, and Placement Fees to offset the Management Fee, as described in Section 4.1(c) will not be deemed a violation of this Section 5.5. The General Partner will consider the economic consequences of the manner in which it structures Portfolio Investments, and will use commercially reasonable efforts to make such Portfolio Investments through structures that are intended to minimize the tax cost that will be economically borne by the Limited Partners as a result of such structures, including, where appropriate, making Portfolio Investments through a “blocker” structure, to the extent consistent with applicable law.

Section 5.6 ERISA Matters.

(a) The General Partner will use reasonable efforts to conduct the affairs and operations of the Partnership in such a manner that the Partnership will qualify as an Operating Company or for another exception from being deemed to hold Plan Assets of any Benefit Plan Investor. As of the initial Capital Contribution date, the General Partner shall deliver to each Benefit Plan Investor either (i) an opinion from the General Partner’s counsel to the effect that the Partnership should qualify as an Operating Company as of the initial Capital Contribution date or (ii) a certificate, based on consultation with the General Partner’s counsel, to the effect that the Partnership should qualify for another exemption from being deemed to hold Plan Assets of any Benefit Plan Investor as of the initial Capital Contribution date. Annually thereafter, the General Partner will provide a certificate to Benefit Plan Investors confirming that the Partnership continues to qualify for an exception from being deemed to hold Plan Assets of any Benefit Plan Investor and specifying which exception from Plan Assets is available to the Partnership as of the date of the certificate.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 2.2, until such time as the General Partner delivers to each Benefit Plan Investor (and the escrow agent, if any) either the opinion or the certificate described above in Section 5.6(a), the initial Capital Contribution required to be made to the Partnership by a Benefit Plan Investor shall, at the request of the General Partner, instead be deposited directly by such Benefit Plan Investor into an escrow account that is intended to comply with Department of Labor Advisory Opinion 95-04A.

(c) Each Partner that is or will be a Benefit Plan Investor on the Closing Date when it is admitted to the Partnership shall so notify the General Partner in writing prior to such Closing Date. Any Limited Partner which has not indicated in its Subscription Agreement that it is a Benefit Plan Investor hereby represents, warrants and covenants that it is not, it is not acting on behalf of and, so long as it holds an interest in the Partnership, it will not be and will not be acting on behalf of a Benefit Plan Investor.

(d) It is intended that none of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Manager or any of their Affiliates will act as or be deemed to be a fiduciary under ERISA with respect to any Benefit Plan Investor or the assets of the Partnership; provided, however, that this provision is not intended to negate the fiduciary duties imposed upon a general partner under the ELP Law. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the General Partner is authorized to take any action or refrain from taking any action which in its judgment is necessary or desirable in order to prevent any Partnership assets from being deemed to constitute Plan Assets of any Benefit Plan Investor.

(e) Should the General Partner reasonably determine that the continued participation of a Benefit Plan Investor would result in the assets of the Partnership being deemed Plan Assets of such Benefit Plan Investor (a “Plan Asset Event”), the General Partner shall so notify, each of the Benefit Plan Investors in writing within 30 days of such determination. Thereafter, the General Partner shall take reasonable steps to correct or cure the Plan Asset Event and, if the General Partner determines that it is not reasonably likely that the Partnership's Plan Asset Event can be reasonably corrected or cured, taking into account the overall interest of the Partnership, the General Partner shall dissolve the Partnership and wind up its affairs in accordance with Sections 8.2 and 8.3. In connection with the foregoing obligation, in addition to any other powers the General Partner may have, the General Partner shall have the authority to take any of the following actions, in its sole discretion: (i) any action necessary or desirable, in the General Partner's reasonable judgment, to cure the Partnership's failure to qualify as an Operating Company, if applicable; (ii) in accordance with the provisions of Section 12.1, amend this Agreement to cure any illegality or other material adverse consequences to the Partnership; (iii) amend, terminate or restructure any then existing or contemplated arrangements with third parties to cure any illegality or other adverse consequences to the Partnership so long as such action would not have a material adverse effect on the Limited Partners; (iv) redeem any Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership, in whole or in part, in a manner consistent with the procedures in Section 6.6(d); (v) force the sale of all or any portion of any Benefit Plan Investor's interest in the Partnership to one or more Limited Partners at the Redemption Value or (vi) dissolve the Partnership and wind up its affairs in accordance with Sections 8.2 and 8.3.

Section 5.7 Conflicts of Interest.

(a) The Limited Partners hereby acknowledge and agree that the General Partner and its Affiliates currently manage and may in the future manage Highland Accounts that invest in securities that may be eligible for purchase by the Partnership, which presents the potential for conflicts of interest. While the General Partner and the Manager intend to manage potential conflicts of interest, as Highland has in the past, by following certain guidelines, and to avoid where practicable situations involving conflicts of interest in a portfolio company or otherwise, each Limited Partner acknowledges that there may be situations in which the interests of the Partnership in a portfolio company or otherwise may conflict with the interests of other Highland Accounts, the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their respective Affiliates. On any matter involving a conflict of interest not otherwise provided for in this Agreement, the General Partner shall be guided by its good faith judgment as to the best interests of the Partnership and shall take such actions as are determined by the General Partner and Highland to be appropriate and in compliance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy. Each Limited Partner agrees that the activities of any other Highland Account, the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals and their Affiliates, including Other Permitted Investment Activities, authorized by this Agreement or conducted consistently with this Agreement and the Highland Investment Allocation Policy may be engaged in by such other Highland Accounts, the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals and their Affiliates, as the case may be, and will not, in any case or in the aggregate, be deemed a breach of this Agreement or any duty that might be owed by any such person to the Partnership or to any Partner.

(b) Except as permitted by Sections 5.12(a) and 5.17(a), without the prior approval of either (i) a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee or (ii) a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners, none of the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, or any of their respective Affiliates will invest in any securities of any company in which the Partnership either is actively considering making a Portfolio Investment or has an investment; provided, that (x) the foregoing will not apply to Other Permitted Investment Activities or investments made in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy, (y) each such person will be permitted to hold securities which such person received in a distribution by the Partnership and (z) any Parallel Vehicles or Separate Investment Entities will be permitted to invest in Portfolio Companies in accordance with this Agreement.

(c) Except as permitted by Sections 5.12(a) and 5.17(a), without the prior approval of either (i) a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee or (ii) a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners, the Partnership will not invest in any securities issued by, acquire investments from, sell investments to, or enter into any transaction with an entity in which the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, or their respective Affiliates has a material financial interest in respect of such entity; provided that the foregoing will not apply to (w) Other Permitted Investment Activities, (x) investments by the Partnership in Portfolio Companies in which the Parallel Vehicles, Separate Investment Entities or Co-Investment Funds invest in accordance with this Agreement; (y) investments by the Partnership in Portfolio Companies in which the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their respective Affiliates have a material interest that have been made in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy, or (z) investments by the Partnership in publicly traded securities of Portfolio Companies in which a Highland Account has a material financial interest that are made on arms length terms at prevailing market prices; provided, further, that the Partnership will not be precluded from investing in securities of a company in which the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, or their respective Affiliates either (A) in the case of public companies, owns securities issued by such company representing one percent (1%) or less of the outstanding equity securities, or (B) own only securities which such Persons received in a distribution by the Partnership.

(d) The General Partner will furnish to the Advisory Committee annually at the time annual financial statements of the Partnership are furnished pursuant to Section 10.3(b) a report of each acquisition or investment by the Partnership in Portfolio Companies in which the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their respective Affiliates have a material financial interest that have been made in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy.

Section 5.8 Transfer of General Partnership Interest; No Withdrawal or Loans. The General Partner generally may not sell, assign, pledge, mortgage or otherwise dispose of its General Partner interest in the Partnership; provided, however, that the General Partner may transfer its General Partner interest in the Partnership (or consent to the transfer of an interest in the General Partner) in a derivative transaction if the transferor maintains the economic attributes of the interest and voting control of the interest. The General Partner will not borrow or withdraw any amount from the Partnership or voluntarily withdraw from the Partnership.

Section 5.9 Removal of the General Partner. By consent of Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners, the General Partner may be removed in the event of (a) the General Partner's or any member of the Keyman Group's conviction of (or plea of nolo contendere (that is, neither admitting nor denying the charges) to), a material violation of U.S. federal or U.S. state securities law or a U.S. felony criminal violation, (b) the General Partner's adjudication in a final judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction as having committed in respect of the Partnership an act or omission of a material nature involving gross negligence, bad faith, willful misconduct or fraud, or (c) the General Partner's violation of this Agreement which has a material and adverse effect on the Partnership and which remains uncured for 30 days. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if an event described in clause (a) above has occurred and the event relates to a violation or act of a member of the Keyman Group, the Limited Partners may remove the General Partner only if such violation or act (i) relates to the Partnership or a Portfolio Company, (ii) has a material adverse effect on the Partnership, (iii) such member of the Keyman Group is not terminated as a member of the General Partner and the Manager within 45 days, and (iv) such member of the Keyman Group does not cease to own any interest in the future carried interest or voting interests in the General Partner following termination. The General Partner will provide the Limited Partners with written notice of the occurrence of any event described in clauses (a), (b) or (c) above. Concurrently with the removal of the General Partner, the Manager shall be removed as manager of the Partnership unless re-appointed by the successor general partner of the Partnership. Upon removal of the General Partner, the Limited Partners may elect to continue the Partnership and appoint a new duly authorized general partner of the Partnership and all Parallel Vehicles with the consent of all of the Limited Partners of the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle and such election shall be deemed to have occurred as of the date of the removal of the former General Partner. In such an event, the former General Partner shall be entitled to receive distributions equal to any amounts it would have been entitled to had the Partnership been dissolved and wound up in accordance with Sections 8.3(a) and (b) and distributed in kind all Partnership assets as of the date of the election of the Limited Partners to continue the Partnership. The Partnership shall issue an unsecured non-interest bearing promissory note to the former General Partner in the face amount of the liquidating distribution determined in accordance with this Section 5.9, such note to be payable upon the final liquidation of the Partnership. All such distributions shall be subject to the obligations set forth in Section 8.3(c) and (d) of the Master Partnership Agreement; provided, however, that the General Partner's obligation, if any, to fund Commitments in respect of its obligations in Section 8.3(c) of the Master Partnership Agreement relating to such liquidating distribution shall be satisfied by a reduction to the principal amount of the unsecured non-interest bearing promissory note described in this Section 5.9 in the amount of such obligation. For purposes of determining allocation and distributions pursuant to the preceding sentence, securities and other property held by the Partnership shall be valued pursuant to the procedures set forth in Article IX.

Section 5.10 No Liability to Limited Partners.

(a) None of the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their Affiliates, officers, directors, members, partners, shareholders, employees or agents will be liable to any Limited Partner or to the Partnership for any action taken, or omitted to be taken, as General Partner with respect to the Partnership, or for any action taken, or omitted to be taken, by any member, partner, director, officer, employee or agent of the General Partner or Manager in connection with its activities for or on behalf of the Partnership so long as such person (i) acted in good faith, (ii) acted in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Partnership, (iii) was neither grossly negligent nor engaged in willful malfeasance, fraud or reckless disregard of fiduciary duties, (iv) did not materially breach this Agreement, and (v) with respect to any criminal action, such person is not finally determined to be and does not admit to be guilty or enter a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(b) No member of the Advisory Committee, or any Affiliate or employer of any member of the Advisory Committee or any Limited Partner represented on the Advisory Committee by any member (as the case may be) will be liable to any Partner or the Partnership for any action taken, or omitted to be taken, in good faith on behalf of the Advisory Committee (as the case may be) with respect to the Partnership and in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

(c) If any Limited Partner obtains a final judgment in a court of competent jurisdiction against the General Partner for matters relating to the Partnership, the General Partner shall pursue against its members the remedies (if any) that it has against such member relating to such claim.

Section 5.11 Indemnification of General Partner, the Manager and Advisory Committee.

(a) The Partnership will indemnify (A) the Principals, the General Partner, the Manager and each of their respective members, partners, shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents and Affiliates against any losses, liabilities, damages or expenses (including amounts paid for attorneys' fees, judgments and settlements in connection with any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding) to which any of such persons may become subject in connection with such person's activities on behalf of the Partnership or in connection with any involvement with a Portfolio Company (including serving as an officer, director, consultant or employee of any Portfolio Company) directly or indirectly on behalf of the Partnership and (B) the members of the Advisory Committee, any Affiliate or employer of any such members and any Limited Partner represented on the Advisory Committee by any member, in connection with any involvement with the Advisory Committee, respectively, but, in the case of members of the Advisory Committee or their Affiliates and employers or any Limited Partner represented on the Advisory Committee by any member, only to the extent that such person acted in good faith and, in the case of the Principals, the General Partner, the manager and each of their respective members, partners, shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents and Affiliates, only to the extent that such person (i) acted in good faith, (ii) acted in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Partnership or the Portfolio Company (as the case may be), (iii) was neither grossly negligent nor engaged in willful malfeasance, fraud or reckless disregard of fiduciary duties, (iv) did not materially breach this Agreement, and (v) with respect to any criminal action, such person is not finally determined to be and does not admit to be guilty or enter a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction. Any person described in clause (A) of this Section 5.11(a) entitled to seek indemnification hereunder shall first use reasonable efforts to seek indemnification from other available sources, if any, prior to obtaining indemnification hereunder; provided that any such person may seek and obtain indemnification hereunder if at any time such person reasonably believes that such person will not receive timely indemnification on terms reasonably acceptable to such person from such other sources; and provided, further, that such person shall continue to use reasonable efforts to seek such indemnification from such other sources and, to the extent any such indemnification is obtained, reimburse the Partnership for any such recovery. The Partnership may, in the sole judgment of the General Partner, pay the expenses of any person indemnifiable under this Section 5.11 in advance of the final disposition of any proceeding, so long as (w) with respect to any derivative action brought by any Limited Partner, the person receiving the advance is not the subject of such derivative action, (x) the proceeding is not instituted by a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners against the General Partner or the Manager, (y) General Partner has a good faith belief such expenses are indemnifiable, and (z) the General Partner receives a written undertaking by such person for the benefit of the Partnership to repay the full amount advanced if (A) there is a final determination that such person did not satisfy the standards set forth in clauses (i) through (v) immediately above, (B) with respect to any criminal action, such person is finally determined to be or admits to being guilty or enters a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction, or (C) such person is not otherwise entitled to indemnification as provided herein.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no person will be exculpated or exonerated from liability or indemnified against loss for violations of federal or state securities laws, or for any other intentional or criminal wrongdoing. No person shall be indemnifiable under this Section 5.11 in respect of losses, liabilities, damages or expenses to which any such person may become subject in connection with (x) such person's activities with any Portfolio Company if such losses arise after the Partnership's final disposition of such Portfolio Company or (y) a dispute among the General Partner, the Manager, their respective members and employees, and the Principals.

(b) No Limited Partner shall have any obligation or liability, including any obligation to make a Capital Contribution to the Partnership, in respect of an indemnity obligation arising from a Portfolio Investment with respect to which such Limited Partner is not a Participating Partner.

(c) The General Partner will use reasonable efforts to cause each Portfolio Company for which any Affiliate of the General Partner serves as an officer or director to adopt organizational documents which provide mandatory indemnification to directors, officers, and managers to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law.

Section 5.12 Formation of New Fund or Business Endeavor. (a) Subject to the other provisions of this Article V, each Partner's interest in the business endeavors of the other Partners is limited to his, her or its interest in the Partnership and no Partner's future business activities are restricted. Notwithstanding the foregoing, unless consented to by Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners or approved by a majority vote of the Advisory Committee, neither the General Partner, nor the Manager or any of their Affiliates will close and make investments, or act as general partner, managing member, advisor, employee, agent, or the primary source of transactions on behalf of another private equity investment vehicle or pooled investment vehicle (other than Crusader, a Parallel Vehicle or Separate Investment Entity) that has primary investment objectives substantially similar to those of the Partnership (a "Successor Fund") until the earlier of (i) the date on which at least 75% of the Commitments have been invested or committed for investment in Portfolio Companies or otherwise set aside for Follow-on Investments, Partnership Expenses or Management Fees, and (ii) the end of the Commitment Period; provided, however, that this Section 5.12 shall not prohibit the formation of one or more Co-investment Funds, and Co-investment Funds shall not be considered Successor Funds. If a Successor Fund is organized prior to the termination of the Commitment Period of the Partnership, as permitted under the previous sentence, the Successor Fund may only coinvest in investments made by the Partnership alongside the Partnership, on the same terms and conditions in all material respects, with amounts for investment allocated between the Partnership and the Successor Fund, subject to available capital or other investment limitations on the Partnership and the Successor Fund, as determined by the General Partner. Any Successor Fund will dispose of securities of a Portfolio Company that are of the same class as those purchased by the Partnership at the same time as the Partnership, and on the same economic and other terms.

Section 5.13 Interest as a Limited Partner. To the extent that the General Partner acquires the interest of a Defaulting Partner or any other Limited Partner, the General Partner will (subject to Section 2.5) be deemed to be a Limited Partner with respect to such interest for all purposes of this Agreement.

Section 5.14 Parallel Vehicles. The General Partner has organized the Main Fund as a Parallel Vehicle, and may organize additional Parallel Vehicles (or series of related Parallel Vehicles), for purposes of facilitating investments in Portfolio Companies by non-U.S. investors and certain accredited investors that are not qualified purchasers (as defined in the Investment Company Act) in the Fund Group. If any Parallel Vehicles are organized, then the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle (a) will invest in each Portfolio Company in direct proportion to their respective available capital commitments so that the Partnership will invest in each Portfolio Company an amount equal to the total investment by the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicle multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the aggregate Commitments, and the denominator of which is the sum of the aggregate Commitments plus the aggregate capital commitments by investors in the Parallel Vehicles, provided that such proportion may be modified by the General Partner with the prior approval of the Advisory Committee or a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners in order to reflect the available commitments and any tax, regulatory or other legal aspects of any Parallel Vehicle and its investors and (b) invest in and dispose of Portfolio Company at the same time and on effectively the same economic terms and conditions. Any item of income, fees, reimbursement or expense that relates to a Portfolio Company in which the Partnership and one or more Parallel Vehicles are investors or to a potential investment that is considered on behalf of the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicles by the General Partner, the Manager or the general partners or managers of any Parallel Vehicles shall, to the extent that any such item is not directly attributable to the Partnership or a Parallel Vehicle, be pro rated among the Partnership and the Parallel Vehicles based on their respective investments in such Portfolio Company or the portions of such potential investment that would have been made available to the Partnership in accordance with the preceding sentence, as applicable. Organizational Expenses shall be borne by the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle in proportion to their respective aggregate capital commitments, except the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle shall separately bear the Organizational Expenses that are directly attributed to each such entity. Each Parallel Vehicle shall reimburse the Partnership for such Parallel Vehicle's share of Organizational Expenses that were paid by the Partnership. Investments in Parallel Vehicles by investors shall be on substantially the same terms and conditions as investments in the Partnership by Limited Partners. For the avoidance of doubt, all references to Portfolio Investments shall include investments made by the Partnership, all Parallel Vehicles and all Separate Investment Entities. To the extent that this Agreement provides that the Limited Partners shall vote together with the investors of any Parallel Vehicle, the General Partner agrees (i) that the relevant documentation of any such Parallel Vehicle shall contain comparable voting provisions to the extent applicable, (ii) that any combined vote of the Limited Partners and the investors in any Parallel Vehicle on any such matter for the purposes of this Agreement shall constitute a combined vote on the matter for the purposes of the Parallel Vehicles, and (iii) each such matter shall, if approved by such vote, be equally applicable to the Partnership and all Parallel Vehicles.

Section 5.15 Separate Investment Entities. If the General Partner determines for legal, tax, regulatory or other reasons, in its sole discretion that it is in the best interests of the Partners to invest in one or more Portfolio Companies through an entity other than the Partnership, such investment or investments shall not be made by the Partnership but shall instead be made, either in lieu of or in conjunction with, the Partnership, by one or more limited partnerships, limited liability companies, corporations or similar entities (each a “Separate Investment Entity”) owned in the aggregate by all of the Partners and managed by the General Partner or an Affiliate thereof controlled by the Principals. Each Separate Investment Entity shall receive an opinion of counsel for the benefit of the Limited Partners (x) regarding its classification for United States Federal income tax purposes and the limited liability of the Separate Investment Entity and (y) to the effect that no Limited Partner shall be personally liable for any debts or losses of the Separate Investment Entity in such jurisdiction in excess of such Limited Partner’s Unfunded Commitment. The Partnership and each Separate Investment Entity will invest in and dispose of Portfolio Investments at the same time and on effectively the same economic terms and conditions. To the extent that Benefit Plan Investors participate in a Separate Investment Entity, such Separate Investment Entity shall be (i) structured so that it will not be deemed to hold Plan Assets and shall provide the same ERISA protections to those Benefit Plan Investors that are provided under this Agreement, and (ii) established on substantially the same terms and conditions in all material respects as Partners are required to make Capital Contributions to the Partnership, and such capital contributions shall be deemed to reduce the Unfunded Commitment of each Partner to the same extent that it would be reduced if made to the Partnership. The provisions and economic terms of each such Separate Investment Entity shall be substantially the same in all material respects as those of the Partnership, except to the extent such terms are required to differ from the economic and other material arrangements reflected in the terms of this Agreement in order to accomplish the purposes of such Separate Investment Entity (including, for example, different economic treatment of different Partners resulting solely from the consequences of a structure created to minimize the amount of UBTI recognized by a Tax Exempt Partner). The gains and losses of any such Separate Investment Entity shall be treated as having been realized by the Partnership for all economic calculations under this Agreement, and there will be no duplication of the management fees. The Partners having interests in the Separate Investment Entity (including the General Partner and its Affiliates with respect to their Commitments as Partners) shall contribute to each Separate Investment Entity the amounts required to fund such Separate Investment Entity, with each such Partner contributing its pro rata portion of such amounts (based on the relative Unfunded Commitments of the Partners as of the date of such contributions) up to such Partner’s remaining Unfunded Commitment and such amounts will reduce such Partner’s Unfunded Commitment. Each Limited Partner hereby agrees and consents to the formation of each Separate Investment Entity and hereby covenants and agrees that it will execute and deliver any agreements, documents and certificates as reasonably necessary for, or incidental to, the formation and continuation of each such Separate Investment Entity and its participation as a limited partner, member or participant in each such Separate Investment Entity established in accordance with this Section 5.15.

Section 5.16 Media Company Investments.

(a) In the event and for so long as, and only during periods from time to time in which, the Partnership shall directly or indirectly hold (or otherwise have attributed to it) an ownership or other interest in a Media Company that is “attributed” to the Partnership under the rules and regulations of the FCC relating to the particular FCC service in which the Media Company operates, no Limited Partner (an “Insulated Partner”), or any person that is a director, officer, equivalent non-corporate official, partner, member or 5% or greater shareholder or other direct or indirect owner of an Insulated Partner such that the ownership interests of the Insulated Partner, are “attributed” to such owner, director, officer, equivalent non-corporate officer, partner or member (an “Insulated Partner Affiliate”), to the extent reasonably determined by the General Partner (with the advice of GP’s Counsel) to be necessary to have such ownership or interest not be attributable to the Limited Partners for purposes of the FCC Attribution Rules and the Ownership Rules, shall do any of the following:

- (i) act as an employee of the Partnership or any Media Company if such Insulated Partner’s or Insulated Partner Affiliate’s functions, directly or indirectly, relate to the media or common carrier enterprises of the Partnership or any Media Company;
- (ii) serve, in any material capacity, as an independent contractor or agent of the Partnership or any Media Company with respect to the media or common carrier enterprises of the Partnership or any such Media Company;
- (iii) communicate with the General Partner or any Portfolio Company on matters pertaining to the day-to-day operations of any Media Company;
- (iv) to the extent Partners have the power under this Agreement to admit additional General Partners, vote to admit any additional General Partner to the Partnership unless such addition is subject to the veto of the General Partner;
- (v) to the extent Partners have the power under this Agreement, except as permitted under Sections 5.9 and 8.2, vote on the removal of the General Partner;
- (vi) perform any services for the Partnership or any Media Company materially relating to the media or common carrier enterprises of the Partnership or such Media Company, with the exception of making loans to, or acting as a surety for, such Media Company or the Partnership to the extent consistent with the “equity or debt plus” component of the FCC Attribution Rules; or
- (vii) become actively involved in the management or operation of any Media Company.
- (viii) serve as a member or otherwise participate in the activities of the Advisory Committee if, in the determination of the Insulated Partner, such membership or participation would cause the Insulated Partner to lose its insulated status under the Attribution Rules.

(b) An Insulated Partner may, upon five Business Days’ prior written notice to the General Partner, relinquish its status as an Insulated Partner, in which case the provisions of this Section 5.16 shall no longer apply to such Limited Partner; provided, that such relinquishment shall not be effective until the General Partner has received an opinion of special counsel to the Partnership on FCC matters stating that such relinquishment will not (1) cause the Partnership or any of its Affiliates to violate any law, regulation, rule or policy applicable to matters currently subject to FCC jurisdiction or (2) in any way limit or restrict the activities of the Partnership or any of its Affiliates. To the extent that issuance of such an opinion requires the filing of any notices with the FCC or the issuance of any approvals by the FCC, the General Partner and the Insulated Partner seeking to relinquish its insulated status shall reasonably cooperate in making any such filing or obtaining any such approval, and the General Partner shall seek the opinion of special counsel to the Partnership on FCC matters with respect to the making of any such filing or the obtaining of any such approval.

(c) Nothing in this Section 5.16 shall be interpreted to restrict the activities of (A) the Limited Partners or (B) the beneficial interest holders of any Limited Partner during the period that it is an Insulated Partner so long as such Limited Partner's partnership or other governing agreement contains language reasonably designed to insulate such Limited Partner's unaffiliated limited partners or beneficial interest holders, as the case may be, from having the Partnership's interest in any Media Company being attributed under the FCC attribution rules to such beneficial owners, as necessary pursuant to the FCC attribution rules.

(d) Upon written request by an Insulated Partner, the General Partner shall, prior to the Partnership consummating an investment in a Media Company, cause the legal counsel to the Partnership to deliver an opinion reasonably acceptable to such Insulated Partner to the effect that such investment shall not be "attributed" to the Insulated Partner under the rules and regulations of the FCC relating to the particular FCC service in which such Media Company operates.

Section 5.17 Co-investment Funds.

(a) Where possible and appropriate, the General Partner may, in its discretion, provide co-investment opportunities to invest in a Portfolio Company (each a "Co-Investment Opportunity") to one or more Limited Partners, strategic investors, lenders, or members, investors, Affiliates or employees of the General Partner and Manager or, other accounts managed by Highland (each a "Co-Investor"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, investment opportunities allocated to Affiliates of the Manager or the General Partner or client accounts managed by the Manager, in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy, shall not be deemed Co-Investment Opportunities. The General Partner, the Manager, and their respective Affiliates will not receive any carried interest in any Co-Investment Opportunity provided to Limited Partners or receive management fees from Limited Partners in respect of Co-Investment Opportunities provided to Limited Partners. The General Partner intends to not provide Co-Investment Opportunities to Benefit Plan Investors to the extent necessary to prevent such Co-Investment Opportunity from being deemed to be Plan Assets of the related Benefit Plan Investor.

(b) The General Partner may, as a condition to any Co-Investment Opportunity, (i) require any or all Co-Investors to execute a confidentiality agreement relating to such Co-Investment Opportunity in form and substance acceptable to the General Partner, and (ii) require Co-Investors electing to participate in a Co-Investment Opportunity to coinvest through a Co-Investment Fund, which may have investors other than Limited Partners.

(c) Each Limited Partner shall treat the information provided to it pursuant to this Section 5.17 as confidential, shall use such information solely for the purpose of considering the offer made pursuant to this Section, shall, upon the request of the General Partner, promptly return to the General Partner any written information provided it pursuant to this Section, and shall not disclose the identity of the securities or issuer to any person other than (i) its employees, counsel or advisors, solely on a need to know and confidential basis, (ii) any governmental authority or regulatory authority which regulates such Limited Partner's ability to engage in any of its businesses under U.S. or foreign law to the extent such information is required by such governmental authority or regulatory authority, as the case may be, and (iii) to the extent such Limited Partner is required by law or regulation to disclose such information.

(d) If Co-Investment Funds or Co-Investors purchase securities of a Portfolio Company that are of the same class as securities of a Portfolio Company purchased by the Partnership, the Co-Investment Funds or Co-Investors shall purchase such securities on terms that are no less advantageous than the terms on which the Partnership purchases such securities. Each Co-Investment Fund and Co-Investor will dispose of securities of a Portfolio Company that are of the same class as securities of a Portfolio Company purchased by the Partnership at the same time and on substantially the same terms (including price) as the Partnership.

Section 5.18 Bridge Leveraging. (a) The Partnership is authorized to enter into one or more credit facilities (each, a "Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility") in order to (i) borrow money for the purpose of (A) Bridge Leveraging, and (B) paying Partnership Expenses; and/or (ii) provide Credit Support for the obligations of Portfolio Companies or their subsidiaries as described in Section 5.4(c); provided, however, that in no event shall the aggregate amount of Bridge Leveraging outstanding at any time under any Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility exceed the aggregate amount of Unfunded Commitments as of such date and provided, further, that in no event shall the maturity date of an individual borrowing under any Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility be later than the 45th day following the incurrence of such debt under a Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility. A Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility may be secured by (x) a pledge by the Partnership of all or a portion of the aggregate Unfunded Commitments of the Partners, and (y) a pledge and assignment by the General Partner of the rights of the General Partner contained herein, including, without limitation, the right to deliver Capital Call Notices and enforce all remedies against Partners that fail to fund their respective Unfunded Commitments pursuant thereto and in accordance with the terms hereof. The Partnership and any Parallel Vehicles may be co-borrowers under any Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility, in which event the Partnership and the Parallel Vehicles may be jointly and severally liable for all obligations under such Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility. In the event such a Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility is so secured by Commitments, and to the extent funds are advanced against the Commitment of a particular Partner or partner of a Parallel Vehicle because such Person is late in funding or defaults on a Capital Call Notice delivered hereunder or by the Parallel Vehicle, each Limited Partner understands, acknowledges and agrees that (i) it may be required to make a Capital Contribution in respect of its pro rata share of such late or defaulted contribution amount, provided, however, that in no event shall any Partner be required to make Capital Contributions in excess of its Unfunded Commitment, and (ii) as a result of such default or late payment, the allocation between the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle of a Portfolio Investment (together with any item of income, fees, reimbursement or expense that relates to such Portfolio Investment) with respect to which there has occurred a shortfall in contributions made by the Partners or the partners in a Parallel Vehicle shall be made by the General Partner based on the total amount of Capital Contributions of the Partners and the partners in each Parallel Vehicle actually funded to acquire such Portfolio Investment. In addition to the rights and remedies of the General Partner in respect of a Defaulting Partner pursuant to Section 6.11, any Partner that is late in funding or defaults on a Capital Call Notice shall be responsible for any interest or other expenses incurred in connection with such advance. Any such expenses shall be withheld from distributions otherwise to be made to such Defaulting Partner, and, to the extent such expenses exceed such distributions, such Defaulting Partner shall pay the amount of such excess to the Partnership in the manner and at the time or times required by the General Partner. Any such excess shall not be credited to such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account. For purposes of this Agreement, any amount withheld from a Defaulting Partner and paid to a lender shall be paid to the lender on behalf of such Defaulting Partner and shall be treated as if distributed to such Defaulting Partner.

(b) Each Limited Partner understands, acknowledges and agrees, in connection with any such Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility and for the benefit of any lender thereunder, as follows: (i) that the General Partner may from time to time request a certificate confirming (x) the remaining amount of such Limited Partner's Unfunded Commitment or (y) that the Limited Partner has not and will not pledge, collaterally assign, encumber or otherwise grant a security interest in its limited partnership interest in the Partnership, and (ii) that the General Partner may from time to time request such other information as may be reasonably required by the lender(s) under the terms of the Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility. Each Limited Partner agrees to comply with such requests to the extent they are reasonable.

(c) To induce any such lender to enter into a Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility with the Partnership, each Limited Partner hereby: (i) acknowledges that the Partnership has informed such Limited Partner that the Partnership may pledge to a lender the right to call all Unfunded Commitments to secure all obligations made under the Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility (collectively, the "Obligations"), the terms of which are in accordance with this Agreement, and, in connection therewith, grant to such lender the right to issue Capital Call Notices pursuant to the terms of this Agreement when an event of default under such Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility exists, including an event of default resulting from the failure of a partner of a Parallel Vehicle to fund any capital contributions when required, which each Limited Partner shall fund, in accordance with the terms hereof and its rights and obligations hereunder; and (ii) acknowledges that the Partnership has informed such Limited Partner that for so long as the Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility is in place, the General Partner and the Partnership may agree with the lender not to amend, modify, supplement, cancel, terminate, reduce (other than with respect to Funded Commitments) or suspend any of such Limited Partner's obligations to fund its Unfunded Commitment pursuant hereto, subject to excuse provisions set forth herein, without the lender's prior written consent.

ARTICLE VI

LIMITED PARTNERS

Section 6.1 Limited Liability. The Limited Partners will not be personally liable for any obligations of the Partnership and will have no obligation (including with respect to a deficit balance in their Capital Account) to make contributions to the Partnership in excess of their respective Commitments specified in Schedule 1 attached hereto in accordance with this Agreement, except to the extent set forth in Section 6.7 or the ELP Law. The Limited Partners will take no part in the conduct of the business, to include, without limitation, the control, direction or operation of the affairs of the Partnership and will have no power to bind the Partnership.

Section 6.2 Transfer of Limited Partnership Interests.

(a) A Limited Partner may not sell, assign, transfer, pledge, mortgage or otherwise dispose of all or any of its interest in the Partnership unless the General Partner has consented to such transfer or assignment in writing; provided, that with regard to an assignment by a Limited Partner to an Affiliate of such Limited Partner, such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Any transfer shall be effected in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, by execution of an assignment in writing and by entry of the name of the new limited partner in the register of limited partners.

(b) A Limited Partner which is a trust under an employee benefit plan may, upon prior written notice to the General Partner, assign a beneficial interest in all or a portion of its interest in the Partnership to any other trust under such employee benefit plan or to any other employee benefit plan having the same sponsor (provided that income and loss allocable to the Limited Partner of the Partnership will continue to be included in the same filings under the same employer identification number with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service). Such assignment to another trust under such employee benefit plan or to any other employee benefit plan having the same sponsor will not be deemed to be an assignment or transfer of a limited partnership interest pursuant to this Agreement (and therefore will not require the General Partner's consent pursuant to Section 6.2(a)). In addition, a change in any trustee or fiduciary of a Limited Partner will not be deemed to be an assignment or transfer of a limited partnership interest pursuant to this Agreement (and therefore not require the General Partner's consent pursuant to Section 6.2(e)), so long as any such replacement trustee or fiduciary is also a fiduciary as defined under applicable law, that income and loss allocable to the Limited Partner of the Partnership will continue to be included in the same filings under the same employer identification number with the Internal Revenue Service, and the General Partner receives prior written notice of such change in trustee or fiduciary. In connection with any assignment of interest or change in trustee or fiduciary under this Section 6.2(b), the Limited Partner shall provide such documentation as the General Partner shall reasonably request.

(c) The voting rights of any Limited Partner's interest shall automatically terminate upon any transfer of such interest to a trust, heir, beneficiary, executor, personal representative, guardian or conservator or upon any other transfer if the transferor no longer retains control over such voting rights and the General Partner has not consented pursuant to Section 6.2(e) to such transferee becoming a substitute Limited Partner. No consent of any other Limited Partner will be required as a condition precedent to any such transfer or substitution.

(d) As a condition to any transfer of a Limited Partner's interest pursuant to Section 6.2(a), the transferor and the transferee shall provide such legal opinions and documentation as the General Partner shall reasonably request; provided that if the transfer is to be made from a Limited Partner to a co-trustee or trustee as contemplated above or to an Affiliate pursuant to Section 6.2(a), an officer's certificate in form reasonably satisfactory to the General Partner may be delivered by the Limited Partner in lieu of such legal opinions and other documentation.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 6.2 or 6.11, a transferee or assignee will not become a substitute Limited Partner (i.e., a transfer other than as described in Section 6.2(b)) without the consent of the General Partner, which consent may be granted or withheld in its sole and absolute discretion (except for a disposition by a Limited Partner to an Affiliate permitted by Section 6.2(a), for which such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), and without executing (i) a copy of this Agreement or amendment hereto, and (ii) a Subscription Agreement in form and substance satisfactory to the General Partner in its sole discretion. Any substitute Limited Partner admitted to the Partnership with the consent of the General Partner will succeed to all rights and be subject to all the obligations of the transferring or assigning Limited Partner with respect to the interest to which such Limited Partner was substituted, but any transferee or assignee that does not become a substitute Limited Partner shall have the right to receive allocations pursuant to Section 2.3 and distributions pursuant to Article III and Article VIII, but shall have no other rights under this Agreement.

(f) The transferor and transferee of any Limited Partner's interest shall be jointly and severally obligated to reimburse the General Partner and the Partnership for all reasonable expenses (including attorneys' fees and expenses) of any transfer or proposed transfer of a Limited Partner's interest, whether or not consummated.

(g) The transferee of any Limited Partner's interest shall be treated as having made all of the Capital Contributions made by, and received all of the distributions received by, the transferor of such interest.

(h) Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, no admission (or purported admission) of a Partner, and no transfer (or purported transfer) of all or any part of a Partner's interest in the Partnership (or any economic interest therein) whether to another Partner or to a person who is not a Partner, shall be effective, and any such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) shall be void ab initio, and no person shall otherwise become a Partner if after such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) the Partnership would be subject to the registration or reporting requirements of the Investment Company Act or in the General Partner's good faith determination, such transfer would cause the assets of the Partnership to be deemed Plan Assets. Each transferee that is or will be a Benefit Plan Investor as of the transfer effective date shall so notify the General Partner in writing prior to the transfer effective date. Any transferee that has not so indicated in writing its status as a Benefit Plan Investor hereby represents, warrants and covenants that it is not, it is not acting on behalf of and, so long as it holds an interest in the Partnership, it will not be and will not be acting on behalf of a Benefit Plan Investor.

Section 6.3 No Withdrawal. Subject to the provisions of Sections 6.2, 6.6 and 6.11, no Limited Partner may withdraw as a Partner of the Partnership, nor may a Limited Partner be required to withdraw, nor may a Limited Partner borrow or withdraw any portion of its Capital Account from the Partnership.

Section 6.4 No Termination. The substitution, death, insanity, dissolution (whether voluntary or involuntary) or bankruptcy of a Limited Partner will not affect the existence of the Partnership, and the Partnership will continue for the term of this Agreement until its existence is terminated as provided herein.

Section 6.5 Subsequent Limited Partners.

(a) The General Partner may accept additional Limited Partners ("Additional Limited Partners") subsequent to the First Closing of the Partnership up to and including the date fourteen months after the First Closing. Any Additional Limited Partners will be treated as having been a party to this Agreement and have made its Commitment as of the date hereof for all purposes, and such Additional Limited Partners will be required to bear a portion of the Management Fee, Organizational Expenses and Partnership Expenses equivalent to that which would have been borne by such Additional Limited Partner had such Limited Partner been a Limited Partner from the date of the First Closing.

(b) Such Additional Limited Partners shall contribute to the Partnership, on the date of their admission to the Partnership, an amount of their Commitments equal to their portion (based on the Commitments of all Partners) determined pursuant to this Section 6.5(b). The initial drawdown for each Limited Partner will include such Limited Partner's proportionate share of (i) Management Fees retroactive to the First Closing; (ii) Placement Fees, if any, retroactive to the First Closing, (iii) Organizational Expenses (to the extent provided in Section 4.2) and Partnership Expenses attributable to the Partnership; and (iv) Capital Contributions made at or prior to such drawdown to fund any Portfolio Investment, other than Capital Contributions that have been returned prior to such drawdown to the Partners who made such Capital Contributions. In addition, Additional Limited Partners will be required to pay to the Partnership, with respect to the period from the date of the applicable Capital Contributions made by the Partners who were admitted pursuant to the First Closing to the date of their admission to the Partnership: (A) interest at the rate of 10% on their proportionate share of Management Fees retroactive to the First Closing; (B) interest at the rate of 10% on their proportionate share of Organizational Expenses (to the extent provided in Section 4.2), Placement Fees and Partnership Expenses attributable to the Partnership; and (C) interest at the rate of 10% on their proportionate share of the Capital Contributions made prior to such drawdown (other than Capital Contributions that have been returned prior to such drawdown to the Partners who make such Capital Contributions), to fund any Portfolio Investment; provided, however, that interest payable pursuant to sub-clauses (B) and (C) above shall be reduced, but not below zero, by each Additional Limited Partner's pro rata portion (based on Commitments of all Partners) of all distributions made prior to the date of such drawdown to all Partners pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(i), 3.3(a)(ii)(B) and 3.3(a)(iii)(A) of the Master Partnership Agreement, to the extent such distributions exceed the aggregate amount of Capital Contributions to make Portfolio Investments that have been Disposed of prior to the date of such drawdown. Any amounts paid to the Partnership under clause (i) and subclause (A) above will be paid to the Manager (and to the extent the General Partner has waived all or part of such Management Fees, such Waived Fee Amount shall not be paid to the Manager or the General Partner but will instead increase the Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts). Any amounts paid to the Partnership under clause (ii) above shall be paid to the applicable placement agency if applicable to such Limited Partner. Any amounts paid to the Partnership under clauses (iii) and (iv) above, and subclauses (B) and (C) above shall be distributed to the Partners that participated in the earlier Capital Contributions based upon their relative shares of each earlier Capital Contribution, and any such returned Capital Contributions (but not amounts referred to in subclauses (B) and (C) above) may be recalled by the General Partner pursuant to Section 2.2(a) above as if such returned Capital Contributions had not previously been called; provided, that if the General Partner determines in good faith that there will be a Capital Call within 30 days after the contribution of such amounts to the Partnership, the General Partner may, in its discretion, retain such amounts and reduce the Capital Call with respect to such other Partners (in which event the Funded Commitments of such other Partners shall be increased by their pro rata share of that portion of such amounts referred to in subclauses (B) and (C) above). For purposes of this Section 6.5, a Limited Partner that increases its Commitment shall be treated as an Additional Limited Partner with respect to the amount by which its Commitment increased.

(c) Each Additional Limited Partner admitted to the Partnership pursuant to this Section 6.5 shall be treated as purchasing a pro rata share of the interests in the Partnership of the Partners to whom amounts are distributed pursuant to this Section 6.5 ("Existing Partners"), and a portion of the Capital Account of each Existing Partner shall be allocated to such Additional Limited Partner so that after such allocation the Capital Accounts and Capital Contributions of such Additional Limited Partner and Existing Partners attributable to each Portfolio Investment and to the payment of Organizational Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees and Partnership Expenses are as equal as practicable to what their Capital Accounts and Capital Contributions attributable to each Portfolio Investment and to the payment of Organizational Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees and Partnership Expenses would have been if such Additional Limited Partner had been admitted to the Partnership at the First Closing.

Section 6.6 Regulatory Matters.

(a) Each Limited Partner acknowledges that the assets of the Partnership are not intended to constitute plan assets of such Limited Partner for purposes of any applicable non-U.S., state or local law governing the investment and management of the assets of that Limited Partner, and that, as a result, none of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Manager or any of their Affiliates intend to be acting as a fiduciary within the meaning of any applicable non-U.S., state or local law relating to governmental plans or foreign plans with respect to such Limited Partner or the Partnership assets; provided, however, that this provision is not intended to negate the fiduciary duties imposed upon a general partner under the ELP Law.

(b) In the event that the General Partner determines in good faith that (i) the investment in the Partnership by a Limited Partner which is a governmental plan, foreign plan or other regulated entity (each, a "Regulated Investor") is reasonably likely to result in (A) any violation of any provision of law applicable to such Regulated Investor, (B) the treatment of the assets of the Partnership as assets of such Regulated Investor or (C) the treatment of the Partnership, the General Partner or the Manager as a fiduciary under such provisions of law applicable to such Regulated Investor and (ii) if, in the reasonable judgment of the General Partner, any of the foregoing conditions result in or are reasonably likely to result in any material adverse consequences to the Partnership or the General Partner (both of (i) and (ii), a "Regulatory Issue"), then the General Partner shall use its reasonable best efforts to work with the Regulated Investor to cure the Regulatory Issue. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may require that such Regulated Investor provide (at such Regulated Investor's expense) an opinion of counsel, reasonably acceptable to the General Partner in form and substance, that no Regulatory Issue exists or, in the event such an opinion is not delivered within a reasonable time after being requested, may cause the Partnership to redeem such Regulated Investor's interest in the Partnership, in whole or in part.

(c) Effective upon the date specified by the General Partner in the notice sent to a Limited Partner, notifying such Limited Partner of the General Partner's determination to completely or partially redeem such Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.6(e) or Section 6.6(b) (the "Redemption Effective Date"), such Limited Partner (the "Redeemed Limited Partner") shall cease to be a Partner of the Partnership for purposes of the withdrawn portion of its interest only and, in addition to its right to receive payment for its withdrawn interest in the Partnership as provided in Section 6.6(d), shall continue to be entitled, with respect to its remaining interest only, if any, to the rights of a Partner under this Agreement (including, without limitation, the right to have any allocations made to its Capital Account (as such may be adjusted) pursuant to Article II, the right to receive distributions pursuant to Article III and upon dissolution of the Partnership pursuant to Article VIII and the right to vote on matters as provided in this Agreement).

(d) The Redemption Value shall be paid by the Partnership to such Redeemed Limited Partner in cash by paying to such Limited Partner a "pro rata portion" of each distribution payable to the Redeemed Limited Partners until the Redemption Value has been fully paid; provided, that the General Partner shall be under no obligation to sell, finance or refinance any Partnership property or assets or to take any other action to effect such redemption which, in the judgment of the General Partner, may affect adversely the Partnership (taking into account the liquidity needs of the Partnership) or any Partner. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a Redeemed Limited Partner's "pro rata portion" of a distribution shall be an amount equal to the amount such Redeemed Limited Partner would have received in respect of the redeemed interest had such interest not been redeemed.

Section 6.7 Indemnification and Reimbursement for Payments on Behalf of a Partner/Partner Clawback.

(a) If the Partnership is obligated to pay any amount to a governmental agency or to any other person (or otherwise makes a payment) in respect of any tax because of a Partner's status or otherwise specifically attributable to a Partner (including, without limitation, federal withholding taxes with respect to foreign partners, state personal property taxes, state unincorporated business taxes, etc.), then such Partner (the "Indemnifying Partner") shall indemnify the Partnership in full for the entire amount paid (including, without limitation, any interest, and any penalties and expenses associated with such payment to the extent such penalties and expenses are attributable to such Partner's actions or failure to act). At the option of the General Partner, the amount to be indemnified may be charged against the Capital Account of the Indemnifying Partner, and, at the option of the General Partner, either:

(i) promptly upon notification of an obligation to indemnify the Partnership, the Indemnifying Partner shall make a cash payment to the Partnership equal to the full amount to be indemnified (and the amount paid shall be added to the Indemnifying Partner's Capital Account but shall not be deemed a Capital Contribution hereunder), or

(ii) the Partnership shall reduce subsequent distributions which would otherwise be made to the Indemnifying Partner until the Partnership has recovered the amount to be indemnified (provided, that the amount of such reduction shall be deemed to have been distributed for all purposes of this Agreement, but such deemed distribution shall not further reduce the Indemnifying Partner's Capital Account). If the General Partner reasonably expects that subsequent distributions to such Partner will be sufficient to satisfy such Partner's obligation to pay such amount, the General Partner shall not seek a payment pursuant to clause (i) above, until the General Partner reasonably believes such distributions will not be sufficient.

(b) A Partner's obligation to make contributions to the Partnership under this Section 6.7 shall, subject to the limitations set forth in Section 6.7(c), survive the termination, dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Partnership until the third (3rd) anniversary of the date of the final distribution made in connection with the complete liquidation of the assets of the Partnership and, for purposes of this Section 6.7, the Partnership shall be treated as continuing in existence. The General Partner may pursue and enforce all rights and remedies the Partnership may have against each Partner under this Section 6.7, including instituting a lawsuit to collect such contribution with interest equal to the prime or base rate then in effect (as announced by Citibank, N.A., New York, New York) plus six percentage points per annum (but not in excess of the highest rate per annum permitted by law).

(c) At any time and from time to time prior to the third (3rd) anniversary of the date of receipt thereof, the General Partner may require each Partner to return distributions (including distributions made in connection with the complete liquidation of the assets of the Partnership) to the Partnership in an amount sufficient to satisfy all or any portion of (i) such Partner's indemnification obligations pursuant to Section 6.7(a), or (ii) any liability which the Partnership would be required by this Agreement or otherwise to pay if it had adequate funds, including but not limited to (A) the expenses of investigating, defending or handling any pending or threatened litigation or claim arising out of the Partnership's activities, investments or business, (B) the amount of any judgment or settlement arising out of such litigation or claim, and (C) the Partnership's obligation to indemnify any Partner or other Person pursuant to Section 5.11 (a "Liability"), whether such obligations arise before or after the last day of the Partnership or, with respect to any Partner, before or after such Partner's withdrawal from the Partnership; provided, that (x) each Partner will return distributions in respect of its share of any such indemnification payment in proportion to the aggregate amount of distributions received by such Partner that have not previously been returned to the Partnership by such Partner pursuant to this Section 6.7(c); and (y) Partner's maximum liability under this Section 6.7 is limited to an amount equal to the lesser of (1) 33^{1/3}% of such Partner's Commitment, and (2) 50% of the aggregate amount of distributions received by such Partner as of such date. Any distributions returned pursuant to this Section 6.7(c) shall not be treated as Capital Contributions, but shall be treated as returns of distributions in making subsequent distributions pursuant to Section 3.3 and in determining the amount that the General Partner is required to contribute to the Partnership pursuant to Section 8.3(c) of the Master Partnership Agreement. Nothing in this Section 6.7(c), express or implied, is intended or shall be construed to give any person other than the Partnership or the Partners any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Section 6.7(c) or any provision contained herein. If a Limited Partner returns an amount to the Partnership under Section 6.7(c)(ii) after the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership, the amount the General Partner is required to contribute to the Partnership with respect to such Limited Partner pursuant to Section 8.3(c) of the Master Partnership Agreement shall be re-determined, taking into account the return of such amount to the Partnership. The provisions of Section 8.3(c) of the Master Partnership Agreement shall apply, and the payments required thereby shall be made, in the same manner as if the return of such amount to the Partnership had occurred prior to the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership.

Section 6.8 Section 754 Election. Upon the written request of a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners, that an election provided for in Section 754 of the Code be made, the General Partner shall, if then permitted by applicable law, make such election.

Section 6.9 BHCA Partners.

(a) Any Limited Partner may, upon notice to the General Partner, elect to hold all or any fraction of such Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership as a Non-Voting Interest, in which case such Limited Partner shall not be entitled to vote or otherwise participate in any consent of the Limited Partners with respect to the portion of its interest which is held as a Non-Voting Interest (and such Non-Voting Interest shall not be counted in determining the giving or withholding of any such consent or whether the requisite percentage of the Limited Partners or Partners, as the case may be, have consented to, approved, adopted or taken any other action hereunder). Except as provided in this Section 6.9, an interest held as a Non-Voting Interest shall be identical in all regards to all other interests held by Limited Partners. Any such election shall be irrevocable and shall bind the assignees of such Limited Partner's interest.

(b) Any interest in the Partnership held for its own account by a BHCA Partner, that is determined at the time of admission of such BHCA Partner, the complete or partial withdrawal of another Limited Partner or any other adjustment of the interests of the Partners pursuant to this Agreement to be in excess of 4.99% (or such other amount as may be permitted by applicable regulation to be held by a BHCA Partner as voting securities, but not including Section 4(k) of the BHC Act or any successor provision thereto) of the interests of the Limited Partners, excluding for purposes of calculating this percentage portions of any other interests that are Non-Voting Interests pursuant to this Section 6.9 and any other Section of this Agreement (collectively the "Non-Voting Partnership Interests"), shall be a Non-Voting Partnership Interest (whether or not subsequently transferred in whole or in part to any other person) and shall not be included in determining whether the requisite percentage of the Partners have consented to, approved, adopted or taken any action hereunder; provided, that such Non-Voting Partnership Interest shall be permitted to vote on any proposal to continue the business of the Partnership under Section 8.2(a) but not on the selection of a General Partner pursuant to Section 8.2(a). Each BHCA Partner hereby further irrevocably waives its corresponding right to vote for a successor general partner with respect to any Non-Voting Partnership Interest, which waiver shall be binding upon such BHCA Partner and any entity which succeeds to its interest. Upon the occurrence of a subsequent closing or any event specified in the second preceding sentence, a recalculation of the interest held by all BHC Partners shall be made, and only that portion of the total interest held by each BHC Partner that is determined as of the date of such recalculation to be in excess of 4.99% (or such other amount) of the interests of the Limited Partners, excluding Non-Voting Partnership Interests as of such date, shall be a Non-Voting Partnership Interest.

Section 6.10 Excused Investments. In the event that (a) the Partnership makes or proposes to make a Portfolio Investment which the General Partner reasonably determines could result in a material violation by any Limited Partner (or any of its Affiliates) of any law, order, decree or judgment of any court or governmental agency applicable to such Limited Partner (or any of its Affiliates), or (b) the General Partner reasonably determines that a Limited Partner's participation in a proposed Portfolio Investment of the Partnership could have a material adverse effect on the Partnership, the entity in which such investment is to be made, such Limited Partner, or the General Partner and its Affiliates, the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, and subject to Section 5.6(a), (x) reduce or eliminate the interest of such Limited Partner with respect to such Portfolio Investment and the distributions with respect thereto (provided that any Capital Contributions made by such Limited Partner with respect to such Portfolio Investment shall be promptly returned to such Limited Partner) and correspondingly increase the interest of the other Limited Partners with respect to such Portfolio Investment and/or (y) increase the interest of such Limited Partner in future Portfolio Investments of the Partnership and such Limited Partner's interest in the distributions with respect thereto and correspondingly decrease the interests of the other Limited Partners in such Portfolio Investments. All determinations necessary to reflect the operation of this Section 6.10 and not otherwise explicitly provided for in this Section 6.10 shall be made on an equitable basis as determined by the General Partner in good faith, whose decision thereon shall be final and binding on all Limited Partners. Determinations by the General Partner pursuant to clauses (a) and (b) above may be made on its own initiative or after considering the request of any Limited Partner, including any supporting legal analysis or other documentation submitted by such Limited Partner.

Section 6.11 Limited Partner's Default on Commitment.

(a) If any Limited Partner fails to make full payment of any portion of its Commitment when due (a "Defaulting Partner") and such failure is not cured within five Business Days after receipt by such Limited Partner of written notice from the General Partner with respect to such failure to pay, the General Partner may in its discretion and subject to Section 5.6(a), undertake any one or more of the following steps:

(i) The General Partner may assist the Defaulting Partner in finding a buyer for the Defaulting Partner's Partnership interest (provided, that the General Partner will have no obligation to contact any particular Limited Partner or other person with regard to such sale).

(ii) The Partnership may pursue and enforce all rights and remedies the Partnership may have against such Defaulting Partner with respect thereto, including a lawsuit to collect the overdue portion of the Commitment and any other amounts due the Partnership or General Partner hereunder, with interest at a rate equal to the prime or base rate then in effect (as announced by Citibank, N.A., New York, New York) plus six percentage points (but not in excess of the highest rate per annum permitted by law).

(iii) The General Partner may offer the Defaulting Partner's interest to the Partners and the partners in the Parallel Vehicles (other than any Defaulting Partners) pro rata in accordance with their Commitments and their capital commitments to Parallel Vehicles on the terms set forth below. If any Partner or partner in a Parallel Vehicle does not elect to purchase the entire interest offered to it, the remaining interest allocable to the Partners and the partners in the Parallel Vehicles will be reoffered pro rata to the Partners and the partners in Parallel Vehicles who have purchased the entire interest offered to them until either all of such interest is acquired or no Partner or partner in a Parallel Vehicle wishes to make a further investment. At the closing of such purchase (on a date and at a place designated by the General Partner), each purchasing Partner shall (A) deliver a non-interest bearing, non-recourse (except to the extent of the Partnership interest purchased and the proceeds therefrom) ten-year promissory note (in a form approved by the General Partner) payable to the Defaulting Partner in an amount equal to the portion of the Defaulting Partner's Capital Account being purchased by such Partner, (B) assume the portion of the Defaulting Partner's obligation to make both defaulted and further Capital Contributions pursuant to its Commitment which is equal to the portion of the Defaulting Partner's interest being purchased by such Partner, and (C) be entitled to have his name entered in the register of limited partners held by the Partnership. In the case of a purchase of a portion of a Defaulted Partner's Capital Account by one or more partners in a Parallel Vehicle, such Parallel Vehicle shall deliver a note in the same form as the note described above to the Partnership for the aggregate portion of the Defaulted Partner's Capital Account being purchased by the limited partners in such Parallel Vehicle, the Partnership shall make the adjustments described in Section 6.5 of the Master Partnership Agreement with respect to such purchase and the Partnership shall distribute such note to the Defaulting Partner. If a Partner purchases a portion of the interest of a defaulting partner of a Parallel Vehicle, the Partner purchasing such interest shall increase its Commitments as described above with respect to purchases of an interest of a Defaulting Partner, and shall guarantee the note delivered to the Parallel Vehicle, and the Partnership shall make such other adjustments as are required by Section 6.5 of the Master Partnership Agreement. The General Partner will handle the mechanics of making the offers set forth herein and will in its discretion impose time limits for acceptance.

(iv) If the entire Defaulting Partner's interest is not purchased in the manner set forth in (iii) above, the General Partner in its sole discretion may offer the remaining interest either (A) to a third party or parties on the same terms as originally offered to the Partners pursuant to (iii) above (in which case such third party or parties will, as a condition of purchasing such interest, become a party to this Agreement), or (B) to the Partners and the partners in Parallel Vehicles in the manner provided in (iii) above, but with no requirement to assume the Defaulting Partner's obligation to make further capital contributions pursuant to its Commitment, in which case the Defaulting Partner's Commitment shall be deemed reduced (effective on the date of the default) to the amount actually paid in and the aggregate Commitments of the Partnership shall be reduced by the amount of such Defaulting Partner's remaining contributions to be made pursuant to its Commitment.

(v) In addition to, or instead of, the other remedies and undertakings available to the General Partner pursuant to this Section 6.11(a), the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, reduce (effective on the date of the default, after giving effect to the 5-day cure period) any portion of such Defaulting Partner's Commitment (which has not been assumed by another Partner) to the amount of the Capital Contributions (which have not been purchased by another Partner) made by such Defaulting Partner (net of distributions pursuant to Section 6.5(b)) and the aggregate Commitments of the Partnership shall be commensurately reduced.

(vi) Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, from and after any date on which a Defaulting Partner's Commitment is reduced pursuant to subparagraph (v) above, (A) such Defaulting Partner will have no right to receive any distributions, except for distributions made upon the Partnership's liquidation, (B) such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account will not be credited with any Investment Income and Gain or Short-Term Investment Income which shall instead be allocated to the Partners (other than any Defaulting Partners) in accordance with Section 2.3(b) and (c), as appropriate (and as adjusted to treat the Defaulting Partner's Capital Contribution as equal to zero), (C) until such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account is reduced to zero, (1) such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account shall continue to be debited in accordance with Sections 2.3(c), (d), (f), and (g) for such Defaulting Partner's share of Investment Loss, Organizational Expenses, Placement Fees and Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses as if there had been no reduction in such Defaulting Partner's Commitment or Capital Contributions and (2) the Management Fee payable by the Defaulting Partner shall be calculated as if there had been no reduction in such Defaulting Partner's Commitment, and (D) once such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account is reduced to zero, (1) such Defaulting Partner's Commitment shall be reduced to zero for all purposes of the Agreement, including the calculation of the Partnership's aggregate Commitments and determination of the Management Fee and (2) such Defaulting Partner (and not the Partnership or any other Limited Partner) shall be liable each quarterly period to the General Partner for an amount equal to its portion of the Management Fee for such period as if there had been no reduction in such Defaulting Partner's Commitment.

(vii) No consent of any Limited Partner shall be required as a condition precedent to any transfer, assignment or other disposition of a Defaulting Partner's interest pursuant to this Section 6.11.

(b) Additionally, the Defaulting Partner shall indemnify and hold harmless the General Partner and the Partnership against any losses, damages and expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred by the General Partner and the Partnership in enforcing or attempting to enforce the provisions of this Section 6.11 or resulting from the Partnership failing to meet its obligations with respect to any Portfolio Investment by reason of any such default.

Section 6.12 Investment Company Act Limitations. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, (i) no person shall be admitted to the Partnership as Limited Partner, an Additional Limited Partner or a substitute Limited Partner unless such person is a Qualified Purchaser, and (ii) no sale, assignment, transfer, pledge, mortgage or other disposition of any or all of a Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership shall be effective unless the assignee of any beneficial interest in the Partnership is a Qualified Purchaser.

ARTICLE VII

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Section 7.1 Advisory Committee. (a) A committee (an "Advisory Committee") of not fewer than three individuals and not more than seven individuals who are affiliated with or officers, employees, representatives or designees of Limited Partners or limited partners of Parallel Vehicles (but are not affiliated with the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or any Affiliates thereof) will be appointed by the General Partner. The General Partner will not appoint to the Advisory Committee any individual who is an officer, employee or representative of a BHC Partner whose Partner Interest in the Partnership is over 4.99%. The Advisory Committee will meet at least semi-annually with the Manager and will perform such duties as is contemplated by this Agreement and provide such advice and counsel, including advice and counsel as to general economic and financial trends, portfolio investments and valuations, as is requested by the General Partner in connection with the investments of the Partnership, the Parallel Vehicles and the Separate Investment Entities, and other matters related thereto; provided, that the General Partner will retain ultimate responsibility for all decisions relating to the operation and management of the Partnership, including all investment decisions. The Advisory Committee will be consulted on potential conflicts involving the Partnership and will perform the duties contemplated by this Agreement and all transactions between the Partnership and the General Partner, the Manager and their Affiliates not specifically contemplated by this Agreement must be approved by the Advisory Committee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Advisory Committee will not consult with the General Partner on allocations of investment opportunities to Affiliates of the Manager or client accounts managed by the Manager if such allocations are made in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy. The Manager shall be entitled to remove a member of the Advisory Committee selected by the Manager from among the Limited Partners (or their representatives) upon at least 15 days prior written notice to the Limited Partners, provided, however, that the Manager may not remove a member of the Advisory Committee designated by a Limited Partner without the consent of 75% of the other members of the Advisory Committee. The Limited Partner that had the right to designate the removed member of the Advisory Committee shall have the right to designate a replacement. The Partnership will reimburse each member of the Advisory Committee for such member's reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in attending meetings of the Advisory Committee. Such reimbursements shall be Partnership Expenses. The Advisory Committee shall act by affirmative vote or written consent of a majority of its members.

(b) Neither the members of the Advisory Committee, nor the Limited Partners on behalf of whom such members act as representatives, shall owe any duties (fiduciary or otherwise) to the Partnership or any other Limited Partner in respect of the activities of the Advisory Committee, other than the duty to act in good faith.

ARTICLE VIII

DURATION AND TERMINATION

Section 8.1 Duration. The General Partner shall cause the Partnership to be dissolved and the Partnership will terminate on the tenth anniversary of the Final Closing and the General Partner will take all necessary steps pursuant to the ELP Law to dissolve the Partnership, except that the term of the Partnership may be extended by the General Partner, with the approval of the Advisory Committee, for up to two consecutive one-year extensions.

Section 8.2 Early Termination.

(a) Subject to the ELP Law, the Partnership shall terminate on:

(i) the bankruptcy of the General Partner or on the happening of any other event that would cause a dissolution of the Partnership under the ELP Law, unless, within 90 days after the occurrence of such event, the Limited Partners and limited partners of all Parallel Vehicles unanimously elect a new general partner pursuant to the ELP Law and resolve to continue the business of the Partnership;

(ii) a good faith determination upon receipt of written legal advice of counsel by the General Partner that dissolution of the Partnership is necessary or desirable (A) as a result of a Plan Asset Event or (B) to avoid any material adverse consequences to the Partnership or the General Partner as a result of any law applicable to a Regulated Investor;

(iii) the removal of the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.9 unless all of the Limited Partners and limited partners of all Parallel Vehicles elect a new General Partner and resolve to continue the business of the Partnership; or

(iv) at any time after the second anniversary of the Final Closing upon the consent of Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited Partners and the filing of a notice of dissolution by the General Partner.

(b) As promptly as possible following the election by the Limited Partners of a successor General Partner pursuant to Section 8.2(a)(i), there shall be distributed to the former General Partner, in full payment and satisfaction of its interest in the Partnership, a Limited Partnership Interest in the Partnership. The Limited Partnership Interest of the former General Partner shall entitle the former General Partner to the same distributions and allocations in respect of Portfolio Investments made prior to the termination of the former General Partner it would have received had it remained the General Partner, subject to the obligations set forth in Section 8.3(c) of the Master Partnership Agreement, and to the rights of a Limited Partner hereunder with a Commitment equal to the Commitment of the former General Partner, but shall not entitle it to any other rights to participate in the management of the Partnership. After its withdrawal as General Partner, a former General Partner shall only be liable under this Agreement for actions taken and investments in Portfolio Companies made prior to the date of such withdrawal. If the Limited Partners elect to continue the Partnership's business pursuant to Section 8.2(a)(i), an appropriate amendment to this Agreement and to the Registration shall be made within 90 days after the event giving rise to such election.

Section 8.3 Termination and Liquidation of Partnership Interests; Annual Determination of General Partner Give Back.

(a) Liquidation. Upon dissolution, the Partnership will be dissolved and wound up in accordance with the ELP Law.

(b) Final Allocation and Distribution. Upon termination of the Partnership (whether or not an early termination), the General Partner shall approve a plan of dissolution in accordance with the ELP Law and take all steps necessary to appoint a liquidator and otherwise to dissolve and wind up the Partnership in accordance with the ELP Law.

ARTICLE IX

VALUATION OF PARTNERSHIP ASSETS

Section 9.1 Normal Valuation. For purposes of this Agreement, the value of any security as of any date (or in the event such date is a holiday or other day which is not a Business Day, as of the next preceding Business Day) will be determined as follows:

(a) a Marketable Security which is listed on a recognized securities exchange or the NMS will be valued at the average of the last sales prices (or, if no sale occurred on such date, at the last "bid" price thereon) for the five consecutive trading days before such date and the five consecutive trading days after such date;

(b) a Marketable Security which is traded over-the-counter (other than on the NMS) will be valued at the average of the last "bid" prices for the five consecutive trading days before such date and the five consecutive trading days after such date;

(c) subject to Section 9.3, all Non-Marketable Securities will be valued on such date by the General Partner at fair market value in such manner as it may determine; and

(d) a Marketable Security which meets clause (ii), but not clause (i) of the definition of "Marketable Securities" will be valued as if it had been converted, exchanged or exercised as of such date.

Section 9.2 Restrictions on Transfer or Blockage. Any security which is held under a representation that it has been acquired for investment and not with a view to public sale or distribution, or which is held subject to any other restriction, or where the size of the Partnership's holdings compared to the trading volume would affect its marketability, will, subject to the provisions of Section 9.3, be valued at such discount from the value determined under Section 9.1 above as the General Partner deems necessary to reflect properly the marketability of such security.

Section 9.3 Objection to Valuation. Prior to acting upon its final valuation of any security pursuant to Sections 9.1 or 9.2 or its determination of written down value pursuant to Section 9.4, the General Partner shall provide the members of the Advisory Committee with notice and backup support of the General Partner's valuation of such security. If within 30 days after delivery of such notice a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee delivers written notice to the General Partner objecting to the valuation of such security and if, within 15 days from the date on which the General Partner receives such notice from a majority of the Advisory Committee, the General Partner and the Advisory Committee cannot agree on the valuation of such security, then the General Partner will (at the Partnership's expense) cause an independent securities expert mutually acceptable to the General Partner and the Advisory Committee to review such valuation, and such expert's determination will be binding on the parties.

Section 9.4 Write-down to Value. Any Portfolio Investment that has permanently declined in value as determined by the General Partner will be written down to its value (or, if applicable, written off) pursuant to the provisions of this Article IX, including the valuation provisions of Section 9.3, as of the date of such determination. The General Partner shall provide the Advisory Committee at least annually with the then current valuation of all Portfolio Investments.

ARTICLE X

BOOKS OF ACCOUNTS; MEETINGS

Section 10.1 Books. The Partnership will maintain complete and accurate books of account of the Partnership's affairs at the Partnership's principal office, which books will be open to inspection by any Partner (or its authorized representative) at any time during ordinary business hours.

Section 10.2 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Partnership will be the calendar year, unless otherwise determined by the General Partner.

Section 10.3 Reports. The General Partner will furnish the Limited Partners:

(a) within 60 days after the end of each of the first three quarters of each fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 2008, and with respect to the fourth quarter in each fiscal year at the time of delivery of the annual financial statements under Section 10.3(c), (i) unaudited quarterly financial statements (including balance sheet and income statement (including additions, dispositions and write-offs)) showing each Partner's Capital Account prepared in accordance with GAAP, applied on a consistent basis (except that, in accordance with GAAP, such quarterly financial reports may omit footnotes and year-end adjustments, accruals and reserves), and (ii) a schedule of investments including the Partnership's cost and the value of such investments prepared in accordance with Article IX;

(b) within 60 days after the end of each of the first three quarters of each fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 2008, and with respect to the fourth quarter in each fiscal year at the time of delivery of the annual financial statements under Section 10.3(c), unaudited quarterly descriptive investment information for each Portfolio Company and narrative summary financial information for each Portfolio Company, including revenues, EBITDA and net debt; and

(c) within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 2008, (i) financial statements for such year prepared, in accordance with GAAP, applied on a consistent basis (certified by a firm of independent certified public accountants of recognized national standing selected by the General Partner), (ii) valuations of the Partnership's investments as of the end of such year (including a statement of each Partner's closing Capital Account) prepared in accordance with Article IX, and (iii) the certification to Benefit Plan

Investors confirming that the Partnership continues to qualify for an exception from Plan Assets described in the last sentence of Section 5.6(a) and a certification regarding the Partnership's compliance in all material respects with Article III hereof.

Section 10.4 Certain Tax Elections. The Partnership shall file an election effective as of the date of its formation pursuant to U.S. Treasury Regulation §301.7701-3(c) to be treated as an association taxable as a corporation.

Section 10.5 Annual Meeting. The General Partner will hold annual general informational meetings for the Limited Partners until such time, after the termination of the Commitment Period, that substantially all of the Portfolio Investments have been Disposed.

ARTICLE XI

MAINTENANCE OF REGISTRATION OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP; POWER OF ATTORNEY

Section 11.1 Maintenance of Registration of Limited Partnership. The General Partner has caused to be filed, recorded and published such statements, notices, certificates or other instruments required by any provision of any applicable law which governs the formation of the Partnership or the conduct of its business from time to time (collectively, the "Registration").

Section 11.2 Power of Attorney. Each of the undersigned does hereby constitute and appoint each member of the General Partner and each person who hereafter becomes a member of the General Partner with full power to act without the others, as his, her or its true and lawful representative and attorney-in-fact, in her, his or its name, place and stead, to make, execute, sign, acknowledge and deliver or file (a) the Registration, (b) any amendment to or cancellation of the Registration or any amendment to, or waiver of, this Agreement effected in accordance with Section 12.1, (c) all instruments, documents and certificates which may from time to time be required by any law to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence of the Partnership, (d) all instruments, documents and certificates which may be required to effectuate the dissolution and termination of the Partnership, and (e) in the case of a Defaulting Partner any bills of sale or other appropriate transfer documents necessary to effectuate transfers of such Defaulting Partner's interest pursuant to Section 6.11 above. The powers of attorney granted herein are intended to secure an interest in property and the obligations of each relevant Limited Partner under this Agreement and shall be irrevocable and will survive the death, incompetency, disability or dissolution of a Limited Partner. Without limiting the foregoing, the powers of attorney granted herein will not be deemed to constitute the written consent of any Limited Partner for purposes of Section 12.1. Each Limited Partner hereby agrees not to revoke this power of attorney and further agrees that this power of attorney shall survive and shall not be affected by its dissolution, bankruptcy or legal disability and shall extend to its successors and assigns whomsoever. Any attempted revocation by a Limited Partner of any power of attorney granted herein shall constitute a breach of this Agreement by such Limited Partner. Further, each Limited Partner agrees that at any time, upon request by the General Partner, it will confirm in writing that the power of attorney granted herein has not been revoked. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, the foregoing power of attorney may not be exercised by the General Partner after the occurrence of an event specified in Section 8.2 or the removal of the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.9.

ARTICLE XII

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 12.1 Amendments.

(a) This Agreement may be amended only by the written consent of the General Partner and, except as otherwise provided in this Section 12.1, a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment will be valid as to any Limited Partner (including a Defaulting Partner) which (i) increases or decreases such Limited Partner's Commitment without the written consent of such Limited Partner or (ii) amends the provisions of this Section 12.1(b).

(c) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment will be valid as to any Limited Partner (including a Defaulting Partner) which alters (i) the provisions of Sections 2.3, 3.3, 4.1, 6.1 or the provisions of this Section 12.1(c), (ii) the provisions of Section 6.7(c) in a manner that increases a Limited Partner's potential obligations, or (iii) any other provision of this Agreement, in a manner adverse to such Limited Partner, without the written consent of such Limited Partner; provided, however, that with respect to clause (iii), if such Limited Partner is not treated differently in any material respect from any other Limited Partner then such amendment will be valid with only the written consent of the General Partner and the Limited Partners representing at least a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment will be valid as to any Limited Partner (including a Defaulting Partner), which alters the provisions of Sections 1.3, 5.4, 5.10, 5.11, 12.1 or any provision which requires the consent or vote of at least Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners without the written consent of the General Partner and at least Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(e) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment which would alter the provisions of Sections 5.5, 6.6 and the provisions of this Section 12.1(e), or, with respect to Benefit Plan Investors, Sections 5.6, 12.1(e), and the provisions in Section 5.15 relating to Benefit Plan Investors or the definitions of Benefit Plan Investor or Redemption Value, will be valid without the written consent of at least a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners that are materially and adversely affected by such amendment (including Limited Partners whose direct or indirect beneficial owners would be so affected).

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment will be valid as to any Limited Partner (including a Defaulting Partner), which alters any provision which requires the consent or vote of at least Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited

Partners or the provisions of this Section 12.1(f) without the written consent of the General Partner and at least Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(g) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment shall be made which would amend the provisions hereof relating to the rights of BHCA Partners without the consent of each BHCA Partner affected thereby.

(h) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, the General Partner may amend any provisions of this Agreement solely as it relates to a Limited Partner pursuant to one or more side letters with such Limited Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners not party to such side letters.

(i) Subject to Section 12.1 of the Master Partnership Agreement, no amendment or waiver of the provisions of the Master Partnership Agreement shall be made without the written consent of a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(j) In addition to any amendments or waivers otherwise authorized hereby, this Agreement may be amended from time to time by the General Partner without the consent of any of the Limited Partners (i) to add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner or surrender any right or power (but not responsibilities) granted to the General Partner herein; (ii) to cure any ambiguity or correct any provisions hereof which may be inconsistent with any other provisions hereof, or correct any printing, stenographic or clerical errors or omissions; (iii) to admit one or more Additional Limited Partners, or withdraw one or more Limited Partners, in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, and (iv) with the consent of the Advisory Committee, to take such actions contemplated in Section 5.6(e) or avoid any material adverse consequences to the Partnership or the General Partner as a result of any change in law or interpretation of law applicable to a Regulated Investor. The General Partner shall promptly send each Limited Partner a copy of any amendment adopted pursuant to Section 12.1.

Section 12.2 Successors. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement will inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the Partners and their legal representatives, heirs, successors and assigns.

Section 12.3 Governing Law; Severability. This Agreement will be construed in accordance with the laws of the Cayman Islands and, to the maximum extent possible, in such manner as to comply with all the terms and conditions of the ELP Law. If it is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that any provision of this Agreement is invalid under applicable law, such provision will be ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition or invalidity, without invalidating the remainder of this Agreement.

Section 12.4 Notices. All notices, demands and other communications to be given and delivered under or by reason of provisions under this Agreement will be in writing and will be deemed to have been given when personally delivered, sent by telecopy (with hard copy to follow by reputable overnight courier) or sent by reputable overnight courier service (charges prepaid) or mailed by first class mail (with a copy sent by telecopy) to the addresses or telecopy numbers set forth in Schedule 1 hereto or to such other address or telecopy number as has been indicated to all Partners.

Section 12.5 Legal Counsel. Each Partner hereby agrees and acknowledges that:

(a) The law firm retained by the General Partner, the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicle or Separate Investment Entity (the “GP’s Counsel”) in connection with the formation of the Partnership, the offering of Limited Partner interests and the management and operation of the Partnership does not and will not represent the Limited Partners in connection with any such matter or in connection with any dispute which may arise between the Limited Partners on one hand and the General Partner, the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicle or Separate Investment Entity on the other (the “Partnership Legal Matters”).

(b) Each Limited Partner will, if it wishes counsel on a Partnership Legal Matter, retain its own independent counsel with respect to each of the foregoing matters described in Section 12.5(a).

(c) Each Limited Partner hereby agrees that the GP’s Counsel may represent (i) the General Partner and the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicle or Separate Investment Entity in connection with any and all Partnership Legal Matters (including any dispute between the General Partner and one or more Limited Partners, but excluding a Limited Partner’s derivative action brought against the General Partner).

Section 12.6 Miscellaneous. This document and the schedules, exhibits and side letter agreements between the Partnership and certain of the Limited Partners in connection herewith and the Subscription Agreements contain the entire Agreement among the parties and supersede all prior arrangements or understanding with respect thereto. Descriptive headings are for convenience only and will not control or affect the meaning or construction of any provision of this Agreement. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, any one of which need not contain the signatures of more than one party, but all of such counterparts together will constitute one agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be signed as of the date first above written.

Schedule 1 Limited Partners/Commitments/Notice Information
Exhibit A Form of Guaranty Agreement

HIGHLAND RESTORATION CAPITAL PARTNERS, L.P.

THIS AGREEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (this “Agreement”) is dated effective as of April 18, 2008 between Highland Restoration Capital Partners GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership, the “General Partner”), and the limited partners listed in Schedule 1 attached hereto (in their capacities as limited partners of the Partnership, the “Limited Partners”) (the General Partner and the Limited Partners being herein collectively called the “Partners”). Capitalized terms not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in Section 2.1(a).

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1.1 Formation. The Partners hereby agree to form a limited partnership (the “Partnership”) pursuant to and in accordance with the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act (the “Delaware Partnership Act”).

Section 1.2 Name. The name of the Partnership will be “Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P.” or such other name or names as the General Partner may from time to time designate. The General Partner will notify Limited Partners in writing of any change to the name of the Partnership.

Section 1.3 Purpose. Subject to the express limitations set forth herein, the Partnership is organized for the object and purpose of (i) investing in senior secured bank loans, debt obligations, trade claims and equity securities of middle market Distressed Companies primarily based in the United States generally consistent with the investment strategy described in the Partnership’s Confidential Private Placement Memorandum, including, without limitation, privately placed or publicly traded debt securities and other debt obligations, senior and subordinated debt obligations, secured and unsecured debt obligations, privately placed or publicly traded equity securities including common stock, preferred stock and warrants, and (ii) managing and monitoring such investments and engaging in such activities incidental or ancillary thereto and otherwise permitted by the Delaware Partnership Act as the General Partner deems necessary or advisable.

Section 1.4 Place of Business. The Partnership will maintain offices and places of business at Two Galleria Tower, 13455 Noel Road, Dallas, TX 75240, or at such other place or places in the United States as the General Partner may from time to time designate; provided, however, that if the General Partner designates different places of business, it shall promptly notify the Limited Partners in writing.

ARTICLE II

DEFINITIONS; DETERMINATIONS; CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS; CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Section 2.1 Definitions; Determinations.

(a) For purposes of this Agreement the following capitalized terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

“Additional Limited Partners” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.5(a).

“Advisory Committee” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.1(a).

“Affiliate” has the meaning set forth in Rule 405 promulgated under the Securities Act.

“Agent” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.4(b).

“Agreement” has the meaning set forth in the introduction.

“Allocated Expenses” means, for any Partner as of any date with respect to any Portfolio Investment, such Partner’s Capital Contributions applied to pay Management Fees, Organizational Expenses and Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses that have been allocated pursuant to Section 3.3(c) to such Portfolio Investment as of such date.

“Available Profits” means, with respect to a Waived Fee Amount, the cumulative amount of items of Partnership income and gain (such items being “Partnership Profits”) realized after the Waived Fee Notice giving rise to such Waived Fee Amount. The amount of Partnership Profits realized after a Waived Fee Notice for the purpose of this Available Profits definition shall equal the amount of Partnership income and gain realized after the Waived Fee Notice for purposes of maintaining Capital Accounts; provided, however, the amount of Partnership gain realized after a Waived Fee Notice that is attributable to any Portfolio Investment held by the Partnership at the time of such Waived Fee Notice that is taken into account in calculating Partnership Profits shall equal the excess, if any, of (1) the amount the Partnership realizes on the sale, transfer, or other disposition of such Portfolio Investment or its assets over (2) the fair market value (as determined by the General Partner) of such Portfolio Investment or its assets, as applicable, on the date of such Waived Fee Notice. Notwithstanding the two preceding sentences, the aggregate amount of all items of Partnership Profits for any taxable year included in Available Profits shall not exceed the total amount of the Partnership’s net income and gain for such taxable year as determined for federal income tax purposes, except that gain attributable to a Portfolio Investment shall be determined as described in the proviso to the preceding sentence. Notwithstanding the three preceding sentences, to the extent of the amount by which the Special Profit Interest with respect to a Portfolio Investment exceeds the Deemed Contribution with respect to such Portfolio Investment, Available Profits includes an allocable share of all items of income or gain realized by the Partnership with respect to such Portfolio Investment.

“Basis” of any security means the basis of such security as determined in accordance with the Code less the amount of any write-down pursuant to Section 9.4 and as further adjusted by the General Partner in its reasonable discretion to reverse the effects of any exchange of securities that would result in an increase in tax basis pursuant to the Code.

“Benefit Plan Investor” means any Partner that is a “benefit plan investor” as defined in Section 3(42) of ERISA and any regulations promulgated thereunder.

“BHC Act” means the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended.

“BHCA Partner” means a Limited Partner that is a bank holding company, as defined in Section 2(a) of the BHC Act, or a non-bank subsidiary of such bank holding company, provided, that such Limited Partner shall not be a BHC Partner if (i) it is a financial holding company, as defined in Section 2(p) of the BHC Act, or a non-bank subsidiary thereof and is acting pursuant to Section 4(k)(4)(h) or Section 4(k)(4)(i) of the BHC Act as set forth in a notice to such effect to the General Partner; or (ii) it is a small business investment company licensed as such under the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, as amended.

“Bridge Financing” means, with respect to the Partnership’s investment in a Portfolio Company, that portion of the investment that the Partnership provides as interim financing (including guarantees of debt financing) in anticipation of, or to support, a permanent investment by the Partnership in such Portfolio Company and that the Partnership intends to cause the Portfolio Company to repay or refinance within 18 months after the date of such investment in the Portfolio Company and which the General Partner designates in the Capital Call Notice therefor. During the first 18 months following a Bridge Financing, such Bridge Financing shall be treated as a Short-Term Investment. A Bridge Financing that is outstanding 18 months following the making of such Bridge Financing, shall be treated by the Partnership as a permanent investment in a Portfolio Company.

“Bridge Leveraging” means indebtedness incurred by the Partnership to fund the acquisition of a Portfolio Investment pending receipt of Capital Contributions (including as a result of any default by any Limited Partner or limited partner of a Parallel Vehicle in the making of Capital Contributions) pursuant to a Capital Call Notice that the Partnership anticipates issuing pursuant to Section 2.2(a), provided that the Capital Contributions made with respect to such Capital Call Notice are applied by the Partnership upon receipt thereof to repay such indebtedness.

“Built-In Tax Amount” means, with respect to any distribution of securities in-kind received by the General Partner, an amount equal to the taxes that would be payable by the General Partner (and its direct and indirect members), assuming (i) such securities were sold in a taxable transaction immediately after their receipt by the General Partner for an amount equal to their value and (ii) any gains were taxed at the highest marginal rates applicable to any of the General Partner’s members or former members, applying the assumptions set forth in Section 3.3(b) in the same manner as if such securities had been sold by the Partnership immediately before such distribution.

“Business Day” means any day other than (i) Saturday or Sunday or (ii) any other day on which banks located in New York City generally are closed for business.

“Capital Account” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.3.

“Capital Call” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.2(a).

“Capital Call Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.2(a).

“Capital Contribution” of any Partner means the amount received by the Partnership from such Partner as an actual contribution.

“Capitalized Partnership Expenses” means Partnership Expenses that are reflected in the Basis of Portfolio Investments.

“Carried Interest” means the General Partner’s 20% interest in the Partnership’s distributions specified in Section 3.3(a)(ii)(A) and Section 3.3(a)(iii)(B).

“Certificate” has the meaning set forth in Section 11.1.

“Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

“Co-Investment Opportunity” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.17(a).

“Co-Investment Fund” means any partnership, limited liability company or other entity that is an Affiliate of the General Partner or the Manager, is not a Parallel Vehicle or a Separate Investment Entity, and is organized to invest in Portfolio Investments pursuant to a Co-Investment Opportunity.

“Co-Investor” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.17(a).

“Commitment” with respect to each Partner means the aggregate amount of cash agreed to be contributed as capital to the Partnership by such Partner (as determined with respect to the General Partner without regard to Section 2.2(a)(ii)) as specified in Schedule 1 attached hereto as the same may be modified from time to time under the terms of this Agreement.

“Commitment Period” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.2(b).

“Continuity Period” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.2(d).

“Credit Support” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.3.

“Crusader” means Highland Crusader Fund, L.P., and its successors.

“Current Cash Income” means all Current Income paid in cash or cash equivalents.

“Current Income” means all interest and dividend income (including from original issue discount, purchases or investments at a market discount, and payment of in-kind income and other non-cash current income) from a Portfolio Company.

“Deemed Contribution” means, as of any date, for any Portfolio Investment or the payment of expenses incurred directly in connection with the making, maintaining or disposing of such Portfolio Investment, the Gross-up Percentage multiplied by the product of (i) the amount by which the Capital Contributions required from the General Partner are reduced pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(ii) with respect to such Portfolio Investment or the payment of related expenses, multiplied by (ii) (1) with respect to the General Partner, the quotient determined by dividing (x) the aggregate Commitments of all Partners (including the General Partner) other than Limited Partners as to whom no Management Fee is payable pursuant to Section 4.1(b) by (y) the aggregate Commitments of all Partners, and (2) with respect to each Limited Partner as to whom no Management Fee is payable pursuant to Section 4.1(b), the quotient determined by dividing (x) the Commitment of such Limited Partner by (y) the aggregate Commitments of all Partners.

“Defaulting Partner” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.11(a).

“Determination Date” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.3(c).

“Director Fees” means directors, consulting, monitoring or similar fees in respect of a Portfolio Company, including options, warrants or other non-cash compensation received by a director or officer of a Portfolio Company which shall be valued at the earlier of (v) the time of exercise of such instrument, (w) three years after the underlying security of such instrument becomes a Marketable Security, (x) the dissolution of the Partnership, (y) the date the Partnership disposes of the Portfolio Investment that gave rise to such fee or (z) the date such option, warrant or other non-cash compensation was disposed of by the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their Affiliates and thereafter credited against Management Fees pursuant to Section 4.1(c), in each such case to the extent actually paid by a Portfolio Company and received by the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, employees of the Manager or their Affiliates in respect of Portfolio Investments; provided, however, that (A) such fees shall not include, in each case, any such amounts that are applied to cover amounts paid by the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their Affiliates that constitute unreimbursed (i) out-of-pocket expenses of such persons incurred in generating such fees, and (ii) Partnership Expenses incurred in generating such fees, and (B) to the extent that the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, employees of the Manager or their Affiliates were actually reimbursed by the Partnership for any Partnership Expenses incurred in generating such fees, such fees will first be applied to repay the Partnership for such Partnership Expenses.

“Disposition” or “Disposed of” means, with respect to all or a portion of a Portfolio Investment, (i) except as provided in the next sentence, the sale, exchange or other disposition by the Partnership of all or a portion of the securities or other interests constituting that Portfolio Investment for cash, securities or other property, (ii) the receipt by the Partnership of a distribution of the proceeds of the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the Portfolio Company in complete liquidation of the Partnership’s entire interest in the Portfolio Investment and (iii) an in-kind distribution of all or part of a Portfolio Investment that has not previously been deemed to have been Disposed of, as of the date of and to the extent of such distribution. A “Disposition” does not include (i) a recapitalization that consists of an exchange of a Portfolio

Investment for other securities of or claims against the issuing Portfolio Company, (ii) a business combination that consists of an exchange of substantially all of the Partnership's remaining interest in a Portfolio Investment for securities issued by an acquiring entity, (iii) a business combination that consists of the exchange of all or substantially all of the assets of a Portfolio Company or one or more divisions or operating units of a Portfolio Company for securities issued by an acquiring entity or (iv) a sale, exchange or other disposition that does not constitute a pro rata disposition of a portion of each class of securities or other interests constituting such Portfolio Investment.

"Distressed Companies" shall mean persons that, in the opinion of the General Partner, (a) are or have been in financial or other stress; (b) are restructuring, are considered likely to be restructured, or have been restructured in an out-of-court process or in a proceeding under the Federal bankruptcy laws or state insolvency laws or similar laws in or outside of the United States; (c) are being, are considered likely to be or have been reorganized within or outside of a proceeding under federal bankruptcy laws or state insolvency laws or similar laws in or outside of the United States; or (d) are engaged, are considered likely to engage or have been engaged in other extraordinary transactions, such as debt restructurings, reorganizations and liquidations outside of bankruptcy.

"ECI" means income that is effectively connected with a United States trade or business within the meaning of Section 864(c) of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, but not including any income or gain attributable to the disposition of a "United States real property interest" as defined for purposes of Section 897(c) of the Code.

"Electing Limited Partner" has the meaning set forth in Section 2.4(b).

"ERISA" means the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended.

"Excess Partial Realization Proceeds" means, for any Partner and as of any date, the sum of the positive amounts determined with respect to each Portfolio Investment (or portion thereof) that has not been Disposed of as of such date and as to which there have been proceeds from a Partial Realization as of such date, equal to the excess of (a) such Partner's Partner Share of aggregate proceeds that have been distributed as of such date of all Partial Realizations with respect to such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof over (b) the sum of (i) such Partner's Capital Contributions applied to make such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof, including Capitalized Partnership Expenses attributed to such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof and any Allocated Expenses with respect to such Portfolio Investment as of such date, plus (ii) an amount that would be equal to such Partner's Preferred Amount if such Partner's Preference Base were only the amounts described in clause (i).

"Existing Partners" has the meaning set forth in Section 6.5(c).

"FCC" shall mean the U.S. Federal Communications Commission.

"FCC Attribution Rules" shall mean the ownership attribution rules of the FCC, including, but not limited to, 47 C.F.R. §§ 21.912, Note 1; 24-709; 24.720; 26.101(b), (c);

73.3555, Note 2; 76.501, Note 2; 76.503, Note 2; 76-504, Note 1; Attribution Reconsideration Order, 58 Radio Regulation 2nd 604 (1985); Further Attribution Reconsideration Order, 1 FCC Rcd 802 (1986); Report and Order, 14 FCC Rcd 12559 (1999); Report and Order, 14 FCC Rcd 19014 (1999); Memorandum Opinion and Second Order in Reconsideration, FCC 00-431 (released Jan. 19, 2001); and Memorandum and Opinion and Order on Reconsideration, FCC-00-438 (released Jan. 19, 2001), all as the same may be amended or supplemented from time to time.

“Final Closing” means the final closing of subscriptions by Limited Partners pursuant to Subscription Agreements, which, in any event, shall take place no later than the fourteen month anniversary of the First Closing.

“First Closing” means the first closing of subscriptions by Limited Partners pursuant to Subscription Agreements.

“Follow-on Investment” means investments made after the termination of the Commitment Period in securities of an existing Portfolio Company that are appropriate or necessary in the opinion of the General Partner to preserve, protect or enhance the investment in such Portfolio Company that was made by the Partnership during the Commitment Period.

“Fund Group” means the Partnership, Parallel Vehicles, Separate Investment Entities and their respective Portfolio Investments.

“Funded Commitment” means as to any Partner as of any date, that portion of a Partner’s Commitment that has been contributed (or “deemed contributed”) to the Partnership to meet a Capital Call (including any amounts contributed pursuant to Section 6.5(b)), reduced by (a) any amounts which are distributed (or “deemed distributed”) to such Partner in respect of a proposed Portfolio Investment (or portion thereof) that was not consummated, (b) any amounts which are distributed (or “deemed distributed”) to such Partner in respect of a Bridge Financing (or portion thereof) that was sold, refinanced, redeemed or otherwise disposed of within 18 months from the Investment Date of such Portfolio Investment in an amount not to exceed the Partner’s portion of Funded Commitments used to acquire such Bridge Financing, (c) any amounts paid by such Partner pursuant to subclauses (A), (B) and (C) of the third sentence of Section 6.5(b), (d) any amounts distributed (or “deemed distributed”) to such Partner pursuant to Section 6.5 (other than amounts attributable to payments by an Additional Limited Partner pursuant to subclauses (A), (B) and (C) of the third sentence of Section 6.5(b)), and (e) in the sole discretion of the General Partner, any amounts distributed (or “deemed distributed”) to such Partner with respect to a Portfolio Investment that was sold, refinanced, redeemed or otherwise disposed of within 48 months after the Investment Date for such Portfolio Investment in an amount not to exceed the portion of such Partner’s Funded Commitments used to acquire such Portfolio Investment, all as determined in good faith by the General Partner. For the purposes of this definition, those proceeds otherwise distributable to a Partner that are retained for reinvestment or application to a Capital Call in accordance with the proviso to Section 3.1(b) or the proviso to the second to last sentence in Section 6.5(b), shall be “deemed distributed” to such Partner by the Partnership and “deemed contributed” by such Partner to the Partnership. The General Partner, in its discretion, may reduce the 48 month period referenced above at any time during the Commitment Period.

“GAAP” means U.S. generally accepted accounting principles as in effect from time to time.

“General Partner” has the meaning set forth in the introduction to this Agreement and includes any successor general partner of the Partnership appointed in accordance with this Agreement.

“Waived Fee Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.1(d).

“Waiver Contribution” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.2(a)(ii).

Section 2.2 Capital Contribution Commitment; Key Person Provision. Subject to Section 5.6(b):

(a) (i) Each Partner agrees to make contributions in cash to the capital of the Partnership pro rata based upon such Partner’s respective Unfunded Commitment in an aggregate amount up to its Unfunded Commitment when and as called by the General Partner (“Capital Call”) upon at least ten Business Days written notice (the “Capital Call Notice”); provided, however, that the General Partner shall not be obligated to make Capital Contributions to be used to pay the Management Fee or Placement Fees, and Capital Contributions to pay the Management Fee will be made by each Limited Partner based on the amount of each payment of the Management Fee that is borne by such Limited Partner pursuant to Section 4.1(b). Any Capital Contributions made by the Limited Partners to pay the Partnership’s pro rata share of any Placement Fees shall be made by the Limited Partners whose Commitments gave rise to such fees, pro rata in accordance with their respective Commitments. The aggregate Commitments and capital commitments to all Parallel Vehicles of the General Partner, the Principals, Highland and their Affiliates, shall be pro rata and shall equal the lesser of 5.0% of aggregate Commitments and capital commitments to all Parallel Vehicles and $50 million. In the event of the election described in Section 2.2(a)(ii), each Limited Partner required to make a Waiver Contribution pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(ii) shall make the Waiver Contribution specified in the Capital Call Notice. Each Capital Contribution shall be made by Partners in cash either by delivery to the Partnership of a certified check or wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account designated by the General Partner, provided, however, that the Capital Contributions of the General Partner may be made by cash contributions or by Deemed Contributions as set forth in Section 2.2(a)(ii).

A Capital Call Notice shall: (i) specify the purpose for which the Capital Contributions are required to be made (including a breakdown of the amounts called in respect of Portfolio Investments, Partnership Expenses, Organizational Expenses, Management Fees or Placement Fees); (ii) in the case of a Capital Call Notice with respect to the anticipated making of a Portfolio Investment, include: (A) a brief description of the identity, nature and business of such Portfolio Investment; (B) a statement as to whether the Portfolio Investment might be structured through a Separate Investment Entity; (C) a designation as such of any Bridge Financing to be made as part of such Portfolio Investment, and (D) a statement as to whether the Portfolio Investment is an investment in a Media Company or could, in the reasonable judgment of the General Partner, cause a Limited Partner to recognize UBTI; and (iii) specify a Limited Partner’s pro rata share of the Capital Contributions required to be made by such Limited Partner, the portion of the Capital Contribution to be applied towards the payment of Management Fees, and the amount of a Limited Partner's Unfunded Commitment remaining following the funding of such Capital Contribution.

(ii) Notwithstanding Section 2.2(a)(i) above, at such time as the General Partner delivers any Capital Call Notice, the General Partner's required Capital Contributions in respect of anticipated or actual Portfolio Investment and/or expenses incurred directly in connection with the making, maintaining or disposing of such Portfolio Investment, at the General Partner's election, shall be reduced by an amount up to the lesser of (A) the amount of Capital Contributions otherwise required to be made by the General Partner pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(i), or (B) the amount of any existing Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts, and such amount shall instead be funded by the Participating Partners with respect to whom the Management Fee is payable pursuant to Section 4.1(b), pro rata according to their respective Commitments (for any Partner, a "Waiver Contribution"). If, as of any date, the aggregate amounts described in clause (i) of the definition of "Deemed Contribution" exceed the sum of the amounts described in clause (i) of the definition of "Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts," the General Partner shall, within ten Business Days after such date, make a Capital Contribution equal to the amount of such excess. Such amount shall be distributed to the Partners as a return of their Capital Contributions, in proportion to their respective Waiver Contributions. Corresponding adjustments shall be made to the Special Profits Interest.

(b) Each Partner's Commitment will commence on the date of the First Closing and will expire on the earlier of (i) five years from the Final Closing, (ii) the date after the second anniversary of the Final Closing on which the Commitment Period is terminated with the consent of Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited Partners, (iii) the date on which the General Partner determines that 90% of the aggregate Commitments of the Partners have been funded or are needed for purposes described in clauses (i) through (iii) of the next sentence below, or (iv) the date that the Commitment Period is terminated pursuant to Section 2.2(d), (such period being referred to as the "Commitment Period"). Notwithstanding the expiration or the termination of the Commitment Period, the Partners will remain obligated to make cash contributions throughout the duration of the Partnership pursuant to their respective Unfunded Commitments to the extent needed (i) to make Follow-on Investments; provided, however, that the aggregate of all Follow-on Investments made after the termination of the Commitment Period shall not exceed 15% of the aggregate Commitments, (ii) to make investments that were the subject of written agreements in process or under active consideration prior to or on the date of termination of the Commitment Period and which are consummated within 120 days of the date of termination of the Commitment Period, subject to extension, if necessary, in order to obtain requisite regulatory approvals, and (iii) to pay Partnership Expenses and the Management Fee. The General Partner shall notify the Limited Partners within 30 days of the termination of the Commitment Period as to all in process investments that were the subject of written agreements in process and investments under active consideration to the extent the General Partner is not bound by confidentiality obligations related thereto.

(c) The General Partner shall cause the Partnership to return to the Partners all or any portion of any Capital Contribution to the Partnership which is not invested in a Portfolio Investment or used to pay Partnership Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees or Organizational Expenses or which has been contributed in order to fund a Bridge Financing which is refinanced. Each such return of Capital Contributions shall be made pro rata among all Partners in the same proportion as the Partners made such Capital Contributions and shall be made on or before the sixtieth (60th) day following the date such Capital Contributions were due (as set forth in the Capital Call Notice pursuant to which such Capital Contributions were made by the Partners to the Partnership), provided, however, that such Capital Contributions may be retained and applied with respect to another outstanding Capital Call Notice and may also be retained if the General Partner determines in good faith that there will be a Capital Call within thirty (30) days after the date that such Capital Contributions would otherwise be required to be returned, and if not so applied and retained, may be called again by the General Partner according to the provisions of this Section 2.2 as if such returned Capital Contributions had not been previously called.

(d) If:

(i) James Dondero and Mark Okada both cease to be actively involved, including in a supervisory role, on an ongoing basis with respect to the business, operations or investment decisions of Highland, the Manager and General Partner,

(ii) the Keyman Group, together with the Principals as of the Final Closing and Permitted GP Transferees thereof, are no longer entitled to receive, directly or indirectly, in the aggregate at least 50% of the Carried Interest (as defined in the Master Partnership Agreement) payable to the General Partner, or

(iii) any two or more of the members of the Keyman Group cease to be actively involved, including in a supervisory role, on an ongoing basis with respect to the business, operations or investment decisions of Highland, the Manager and General Partner,

(the circumstances specified in each of clauses (i), (ii), and (iii), above being referred to herein as a "Triggering Event"), then the Partnership shall automatically enter into a 120 day period (subject to extension for an additional 120 day period as described below) in which the Commitment Period will be suspended (a "Continuity Period").

The Partnership shall not make any new investments during the Continuity Period, except to the extent such investments (a) were the subject of written agreements, (b) were in process or (c) under active consideration prior to the commencement of the Continuity Period, and in each such case, are consummated within 120 days of the commencement of the Continuity Period, subject to extension, if necessary, in order to obtain requisite regulatory approvals for such investments. The pursuit of Other Permitted Investment Activities by the Principals and the members of the Keyman Group will not give rise to a Triggering Event. The General Partner will promptly notify the Limited Partners of the occurrence of a Triggering Event.

During a Continuity Period, if a Triggering Event described in clause (i) above has occurred, the General Partner, after consultation with the Advisory Committee, will prepare for and provide to the Limited Partners within 60 days of the Triggering Event a program recommended by the General Partner for resumption by the Partnership of its full range of activities at the end of such Continuity Period. Prior to the end of the Continuity Period, but within a reasonable time period following the delivery of a program recommended by the General Partner, the General Partner will arrange for a vote of all Limited Partners. By consent of Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners, the Limited Partners may cause an early termination of the Commitment Period, such termination to commence on the date such Continuity Period expires. If a Continuity Period expires without the occurrence of an effective consent of the requisite Limited Partners to terminate the Commitment Period, the Partnership, and the General Partner on its behalf, shall be authorized and entitled to resume the Partnership's full range of activities.

During a Continuity Period, if a Triggering Event described in clauses (ii) or (iii) above has occurred, within 90 days of the Triggering Event the General Partner may propose to the Advisory Committee one or more replacements to serve as members of the Keyman Group for purposes of this Section 2.2(d); if a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee approve of such replacement or replacements, such replacement person or persons shall thereafter be members of the Keyman Group and the Partnership, and the General Partner on its behalf, shall be authorized and entitled to resume the Partnership's full range of activities. If the Advisory Committee does not approve of such replacement person or persons within 30 days following the delivery of the General Partner proposal to the Advisory Committee, the Continuity Period shall be extended for an additional 120 day period. The General Partner may propose to the Advisory Committee, within 90 days after the rejection by the Advisory Committee of the initial replacement person or persons, a different replacement or replacements than originally proposed to serve as members of the Keyman Group for purposes of this Section 2.2(d); if a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee approve of such replacement or replacements within 30 days following delivery of the new General Partner proposal, such replacement person or persons shall thereafter be members of the Keyman Group and the Partnership, and the General Partner on its behalf, shall be authorized and entitled to resume the Partnership's full range of activities. If the Advisory Committee does not approve of such replacement person or persons within such thirty day period, the General Partner will arrange for a vote of all Limited Partners. By consent of Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners, the Limited Partners may cause an early termination of the Commitment Period, such termination to commence on the date the Continuity Period expires.

Section 2.3 Capital Accounts. A capital account ("Capital Account") will be established for each Partner on the books of the Partnership and will be adjusted as follows:

(a) Capital Contributions and Allocations. A Partner's Capital Contribution will be credited to its Capital Account when received by the Partnership.

(b) Short-Term Investment Income. Short-Term Investment Income earned in each quarterly period with respect to Capital Contributions that have not yet been invested in Portfolio Investments or used to pay fees and expenses of the Partnership will be credited to the Capital Accounts of the Partners pro rata according to their respective Partner Capital Contributions to which such Short-Term Investment Income is attributable. Short-Term Investment Income on undistributed proceeds from Portfolio Investments shall be credited to the Capital Accounts of the Partners ratably in proportion to their respective shares of such undistributed amounts.

(c) Investment Income and Gain and Investment Loss. Taking into account Section 6.6(d) and except as otherwise provided in this Section 2.3(c), Investment Income and Gain or Investment Loss shall be allocated among the Partners for each taxable period in such a manner that, as of the end of such taxable period, and to the extent possible, the Capital Account of each Partner shall be equal to the net amount, positive or negative, which would be distributed to each Partner or for which such Partner would be liable to the Partnership under this Agreement (including Sections 8.3(c) and (e)), determined as if the Partnership were to liquidate the assets of the Partnership for an amount equal to their Basis, reduced, but not below zero, by the amount of nonrecourse debt, if any, to which such Partnership assets are subject, and distribute the proceeds in liquidation after the payment of all liabilities (other than nonrecourse liabilities) in accordance with Sections 3.2 and 3.3. For purposes of the foregoing determination, no amount shall be treated as distributable pursuant to subclause (z) of clause (A) of Section 3.3(a)(i) by virtue of clause (a)(ii) of the definition of Preference Base or clause (B) of Section 3.3(a)(i) with respect to any Portfolio Investment or portion thereof solely because of the deemed liquidation of such Portfolio Investment; provided, however, that any increase in the Basis of a Portfolio Investment shall be taken into account for this purpose in the same manner as proceeds of a Partial Realization. Investment Income and Gain or Investment Loss attributable to Portfolio Investments retained by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.3(e)(ii) shall be allocated 100% to the General Partner.

(d) Organizational Expenses, Management Fee. Organizational Expenses that are borne by the Partnership will be apportioned to the Partners pro rata according to their respective Capital Contributions to pay Organizational Expenses. Organizational Expenses that are described in Section 705(a)(2)(B) of the Code will be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in the fiscal period in which they are incurred, and Organizational Expenses that are described in Section 709(b) of the Code will be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners over a 180-month period. The Management Fee for any Management Fee Period shall be debited against the Capital Account of each Limited Partner in the amount that is borne by such Limited Partner pursuant to Section 4.1(b) for such Management Fee Period.

(e) Distributions. Any amounts distributed to the Partners will be debited against their Capital Accounts.

(f) Partnership Expenses. Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses shall be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their respective Commitments.

(g) Placement Fees. Placement Fees, shall be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Limited Partners whose Commitments gave rise to such fees, in proportion to their respective Commitments.

Section 2.4 Distributions in Kind.

(a) If any securities are to be distributed in kind to the Partners as provided in Article III, such securities will first be written up or down to their value (as determined pursuant to Article IX as of the date of such distribution), thus creating Investment Income or Gain or Investment Loss, which shall be allocated in accordance with Section 2.3 to the Capital Accounts of the Partners, and upon the distribution (or deemed distribution pursuant to Section 2.4(b)) of such securities to the Partners, the value of such securities shall be debited, in accordance with Section 2.3(e), against the Capital Accounts of the Partners.

(b) The General Partner shall give at least ten Business Days prior notice to the Limited Partners of any proposed distribution of securities pursuant to this Section 2.4 and the date of such proposed distribution. In connection with any distribution of securities in kind, the General Partner shall offer each Limited Partner the right to elect to receive a distribution of securities or to have the Partnership dispose of all or any portion of such securities for the account of such Limited Partner. At the election of a Limited Partner (an "Electing Limited Partner"), all distributions of securities that otherwise would be made to the Electing Limited Partner by the Partnership shall be made, as determined by the General Partner, to the General Partner or an independent escrow agent or custodian as agent for the Limited Partner (the "Agent") and, unless otherwise specified in writing, an Electing Limited Partner shall be deemed to have chosen to have the Partnership sell its share of securities in full. An Electing Limited Partner shall bear all expenses (including, without limitation, underwriting costs and brokerage commissions) relating to the sale by the Partnership of such securities. The General Partner may require the Electing Limited Partner to make any representations, warranties and covenants as the General Partner shall reasonably determine are necessary or desirable in order to dispose of the securities. For all purposes of this Agreement, the Limited Partner shall be deemed to have received such distribution of securities on the date that such securities are delivered to the Agent. Immediately following a distribution to the Agent pursuant to this Section 2.4(b), the General Partner shall notify the Limited Partner of the type and quantity of securities distributed. The Agent shall thereafter hold such securities for a period of 10 Business Days following which the Agent shall use its reasonable efforts to promptly sell such securities and deliver the net proceeds therefrom to the Limited Partner; provided, however, that the Agent shall not sell such securities and shall instead promptly deliver such securities to the Limited Partner following the conclusion of such 10 Business Day period if, prior to the conclusion of such period, the Limited Partner notifies the Agent that the receipt of such securities would not violate any law, regulation or governmental order applicable to the Limited Partner. The Agent shall use good faith efforts in selling such securities at the highest available price, but shall not be liable to an Electing Limited Partner in any manner in connection with such sale in the absence of gross negligence or willful misconduct, including for any claim that the Agent was unable to effect any such sale (for any reason) or failed to obtain the highest possible sale price for such securities.

(c) An Electing Limited Partner's election pursuant to Section 2.4(b) may be revoked by the Electing Limited Partner at any time upon notice to the General Partner; provided, however, that an election may not be revoked with respect to securities if the Agent has entered into a binding commitment to sell securities on behalf of the Electing Limited Partner.

Section 2.5 Determination of Voting Thresholds. Any vote, approval or consent that is to be based upon a specified proportion of the interests in the Partnership held by the limited partners shall be based upon the Limited Partners' Commitments and the capital commitments of limited partners in Parallel Vehicles, excluding (i) except as specifically provided in Section 6.9, that portion of each Limited Partner's Commitment and the capital commitment of each limited partner in a Parallel Vehicle that represents a Non-Voting Interest, (ii) except as otherwise set forth in Section 12.1(b), limited partner interests in the Partnership or in any Parallel Vehicle held by a Defaulting Partner or a defaulting partner of a Parallel Vehicle, (iii) limited partner interests in the Partnership or in any Parallel Vehicle held, directly or indirectly, by the General Partner, Highland, the Principals or any of their respective Affiliates prior to any removal of the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.9, and (iv) in the case of any particular matter that affects or pertains only to the Partners and not to any partner of a Parallel Vehicle, limited partner interests in such Parallel Vehicle held, directly or indirectly, by the General Partner or by any limited partner of such Parallel Vehicle.

ARTICLE III

DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 3.1 Distribution Policy.

(a) The General Partner may in its sole discretion make distributions of cash or Marketable Securities at any time and from time to time subject to the remaining provisions of this Section 3.1; provided, however, that no securities will be distributed in kind to the Partners that are not Marketable Securities until the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership to the Partners pursuant to Section 8.3(b).

(b) The General Partner will cause the Partnership to distribute (i) Current Cash Income at least semi-annually unless reinvested as described in this Section 3.1(b), (ii) Short-Term Investment Income at least quarterly, and (iii) the net cash proceeds received from Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments within 60 days of the receipt thereof unless reinvested as described in this Section 3.1(b), after, in each case, the setting aside by the General Partner, in its discretion, of reasonable reserves for anticipated obligations and commitments of the Partnership as well as any required tax withholdings; provided, however, that if the General Partner determines in good faith that there will be a Capital Call within 30 days after the date that an amount that would otherwise be distributed that would be described in clauses (a), (b) and (d) of the definition of Funded Commitment, or if there is an outstanding Capital Call Notice the General Partner may, in its discretion, retain such amount and reduce the amount required to be contributed with respect to such Capital Call.

Section 3.2 Distribution of Short-Term Investment Income. Short-Term Investment Income will be distributed among the Partners in the same proportions as Short-Term Investment Income was credited to the Partners' Capital Accounts.

Section 3.3 Distributions of Current Cash Income and Proceeds From Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with Respect to Investments and In Kind Distributions.

(a) Distributions not attributable to a Portfolio Investment shall be distributed to the Partners in proportion to their Funded Commitments as of the date of such distribution. All distributions of Current Cash Income and all distributions out of net proceeds from Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments (in each case, net of Partnership Expenses) and all distributions of Portfolio Investments shall be apportioned in proportion to their respective Partner Interests among the General Partner and the Participating Partners with respect to the Portfolio Investment that gave rise to such Current Cash Income or net proceeds or that is being distributed in kind. The General Partner's Partner Share of such distributions shall be distributed 100% to the General Partner. Each Participating Partner's Partner Share shall be distributed to such Participating Partner and the General Partner as follows:

(i) First, 100% to such Participating Partner until (A) the aggregate amount distributed to such Participating Partner in accordance with this Section 3.3(a) equals such Participating Partner's Preference Base as of the date of such distribution and (B) the aggregate amount distributed to such Participating Partner in accordance with this Section 3.3(a) (other than clause (A) of this paragraph) equals such Participating Partner's Preferred Amount as of such date. Solely for purposes of determining how proceeds of a Disposition of a Portfolio Investment are to be distributed pursuant to this Section 3.3(a) no proceeds of Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments or portions thereof that have not been Disposed of as of such date shall be taken into account, other than Excess Partial Realization Proceeds realized as of such date.

(ii) Second, (A) 50% to the General Partner and (B) 50% to such Participating Partner until the aggregate distributions to the General Partner with respect to such Participating Partner pursuant to this paragraph (ii) and paragraph (iii), reduced by any amounts contributed to the Partnership by the General Partner with respect to such Participating Partner pursuant to Section 8.3(c), equal 20% of the aggregate distributions of such Participating Partner's Partner Share of such amounts to the General Partner, reduced by any amounts contributed to the Partnership by the General Partner with respect to such Participating Partner pursuant to Section 8.3(c), and to such Participating Partner pursuant to this paragraph (ii) and paragraph (iii), and clause (B) of the immediately preceding paragraph.

(iii) Third, (A) 80% to such Participating Partner and (B) 20% to the General Partner.

For purposes of this Section 3.3(a), amounts distributed to a Participating Partner pursuant to Section 8.3(c) shall be treated as having been distributed pursuant to this Section 3.3(a).

(b) Anything contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding, the General Partner shall be entitled to receive cash distributions from the Partnership (after taking into account any other distributions received by the General Partner in such fiscal year pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(ii)(A) and 3.3(a)(iii)(B)) in amounts sufficient to enable the General Partner and the individual members of the General Partner to discharge any federal, state and local tax liability (excluding penalties) arising as a result of the allocation of Investment Income and Gain pursuant to Section 2.3(c) attributable to the General Partner's Carried Interest in the Partnership, determined by assuming the applicability of the highest combined effective marginal federal, state and local income tax rates applicable to an individual resident in New York, New York. The amount of such tax liability shall be calculated taking into account (i) the deductibility (to the extent allowed) of state and local income taxes for United States Federal income tax purposes, (ii) the amount of net cumulative tax loss previously allocated to the General Partner in prior fiscal years with respect to the Carried Interest and not used in prior fiscal years to reduce taxable income for the purpose of making distributions under this subsection (b) and (iii) the character of any income or gain and the income tax rates applicable thereto. The calculation shall be made on the assumption that taxable income or tax loss from the Partnership with respect to the Carried Interest is the General Partner's only taxable income or tax loss. Such distributions shall be debited to the General Partner's Capital Account, as provided in Section 2.3(e). Any amounts distributed pursuant to this subsection (b) shall be considered an advance against the next distribution of Carried Interest distributable to the General Partner, and shall offset such distributions.

(c) A Partner's Capital Contributions used to pay Organizational Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees and Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses that are to be allocated to a Portfolio Investment shall be determined on the date such Portfolio Investment is Disposed of, and shall equal the product of (i) such Capital Contributions not theretofore allocated to Portfolio Investments that have been Disposed of multiplied by (ii) a fraction, the numerator of which shall equal such Partner's Capital Contributions in respect of such Portfolio Investment and the denominator of which shall equal such Partner's Capital Contributions in respect of such Portfolio Investment and all Portfolio Investments that have not been Disposed of on or prior to the date such allocation is effected. For purposes of the determinations described in clause (b)(i) of the definition of Excess Partial Realization Proceeds, such Capital Contributions shall be tentatively allocated to the Portfolio Investment giving rise to such Partial Realization proceeds as though such Portfolio Investment had been Disposed of on the date such proceeds were realized.

(d) In the event of a partial Disposition of a Portfolio Investment, the unreturned Capital Contributions and remaining Preferred Amount with respect to such Portfolio Investment shall be allocated between the Disposed portion and retained portion of such Portfolio Investment, pro rata, based on the relative amounts that are Disposed of and retained, respectively, of that portion of such Portfolio Investment held by the Partnership immediately prior to such Disposition.

(e) (i) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the General Partner may at any time elect not to receive all or any portion of any distribution that otherwise would be made to it with respect to its Carried Interest.

(ii) Any amount of cash which is not distributed to the General Partner pursuant to Section 3.3(e)(i) shall, in the General Partner's sole discretion, either be retained by the Partnership or distributed to the Partners (other than to the General Partner) in accordance with Section 3.3(a). Any amount of securities not distributed in-kind to the General Partner pursuant to Section 3.3(e)(i) shall be retained by the Partnership.

(iii) If the General Partner elects to distribute cash to the other Partners pursuant to Section 3.3(e)(ii), 100% of any or all subsequent cash distributions by the Partnership shall be distributed to the General Partner until the General Partner has received the same aggregate amount of cash distributions it would have received had it not waived receipt of certain distributions pursuant to Section 3.3(e)(i) (without regard to the distribution of any Short-Term Investment Income earned on such retained amounts).

(iv) All Current Cash Income attributable to, and distributions out of net proceeds from the Disposition or Partial Realization of, Portfolio Investments retained by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.3(e)(ii) and all cash retained by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.3(e)(ii) shall be distributed to the General Partner as of the date determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. The General Partner shall not be entitled to any additional distributions in respect of such retained amounts, other than Short-Term Investment Income earned on such retained amounts.

(f) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, if at the expiration of the Commitment Period, there are Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts, the General Partner shall, in its sole discretion, prior to any other distribution pursuant to this Article III, be entitled to a distribution of cash equal to the Unapplied Waived Fee Amount.

Section 3.4 Foreign Taxes. The amount of any foreign taxes paid by the Partnership (or by an entity in which the Partnership holds an interest, either directly or indirectly through one or more such entities, that is treated as a partnership or is disregarded for federal income tax purposes) or withheld from receipts of the Partnership or such entity from a Portfolio Investment shall be allocated among the Partners as reasonably determined by the General Partner (taking into account any allocation of taxes under Section 6.7) and, for purposes of Sections 3.3(a)(i) – (iii), shall be deemed to have been distributed to each Partner as Current Cash Income or proceeds from the Disposition of a Portfolio Investment to the extent that the payment or withholding of such foreign taxes reduced Current Cash Income or the proceeds from the Disposition of a Portfolio Investment, as the case may be, otherwise distributable to such Partner as provided herein (for this purpose taking into account with respect to each Partner any reduction in such foreign taxes that occurs by reason of such Partner's status); provided that the General Partner may deem foreign taxes paid by or withheld from receipts of the Partnership and allocable to a Tax Exempt Partner to have been distributed to such Tax Exempt Partner as described above only to the extent that such Tax Exempt Partner incurs and is subject to tax on UBTI relating to such Tax Exempt Partner's Interest in the Partnership, as determined by the General Partner.

MANAGEMENT FEE AND ORGANIZATIONAL EXPENSES

Section 4.1 Management Fee.

(a) During each quarterly period beginning on each January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1 from and after the First Closing (each such quarterly period, a "Management Fee Period") until the termination of the Partnership, the Partnership will pay the Manager a quarterly fee as calculated below (the "Management Fee"), in advance on each January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1, as compensation for managing the affairs of the Partnership, provided, however, that the initial payment of the Management Fee shall be for the period from the First Closing to December 31, 2007.

(b) The Management Fee payable by the Partnership shall be the sum of the amounts determined for each Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 4.1. No Management Fee shall be payable with respect to the General Partner and their Affiliates. Subject to Sections 4.1(c) and 4.1(d), the quarterly Management Fee payable with respect to a Limited Partner during the Initial

Fee Period shall be 0.4375% of the Commitments of such Limited Partner resulting in an aggregate annual Management Fee of 1.75%. Following the expiration of the Initial Fee Period, the quarterly Management Fee payable with respect to a Limited Partner shall be 0.4375% of the aggregate Net Funded Commitment of such Limited Partner as reduced by any writedowns or writeoffs pursuant to Section 9.4 in respect of Portfolio Investments that have not been Disposed of on or prior to such date (resulting in an aggregate annual Management Fee of 1.75%). The Management Fee in any partial quarterly period will be pro rated on a daily basis according to the actual number of days in such period.

(c) The Management Fee payable with respect to any Management Fee Period and with respect to a Limited Partner will be reduced (but not below zero) by such Limited Partner's Partner Share of eighty-five percent (85%) of the Partnership's pro rata share of all Topping and Break-up Fees, Transaction and Monitoring Fees, and Director Fees. The Management Fee shall also be reduced, but not below zero, by such Limited Partner's Capital Contributions used pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(i) to pay (x) any Placement Fees and (y) any Organizational Expenses in excess of $1,250,000, paid or payable by the Partnership. To the extent that such Limited Partner's share of the Management Fee in any Management Fee Period is reduced to zero as a result of the reduction for Placement Fees, Organizational Expenses in excess of $1,250,000, Director Fees, Topping and Break-up Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees, the excess shall be carried forward to the next Management Fee Period (and, if necessary, to one or more subsequent Management Fee Periods) and applied as a reduction of the Management Fee, but not below zero, for such succeeding Management Fee Period (or a subsequent Management Fee Period). To the extent that Director Fees, Topping and Break Up Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees exceed or cannot be applied as a reduction of Management Fees for succeeding Management Fee Periods, then such excess will first be applied to reimburse the Partnership for any previously unreimbursed Management Fees paid by the Partnership for prior Management Fee Periods (with such amounts being treated for purposes of Section 3.3(a) as distributions in return of the Capital Contributions made to pay such Management Fees), and the remainder of such excess will be paid or contributed to the Partnership and will be distributed pursuant to Section 3.3(a) as if net proceeds from the Disposition of a Portfolio Investment; provided, however, that in the event that any Partner desires not to receive any such excess fee offsets upon the termination of the Partnership, such Partner may elect in writing at any time prior to the termination of the Partnership to waive receipt of any such fee offsets, in which case the amount of fee offsets that would otherwise have been allocated and distributed to such Partner shall instead be allocated and distributed to the other non-waiving Partners on a pro rata basis in accordance with their respective Commitments. The Partnership's pro rata share of all Topping and Break-up Fees, Transaction and Monitoring Fees and Director Fees shall be the amount of such fees multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the Partnership's investment in the Portfolio Investment (or proposed investment in the proposed Portfolio Investment) giving rise to such fee and the denominator of which is the aggregate investment or proposed investment in such Portfolio Investment or proposed Portfolio Investment by the Partnership, all Parallel Vehicles, all Separate Investment Entities, all Co-investment Funds and all other co-investment arrangements arranged by the Manager with respect to such Portfolio Investment or proposed Portfolio Investment (provided, that for the avoidance of doubt, any such Co-Investment Funds or other co-investment arrangements will not receive any amount of fee offsets).

(d) After taking into account any reduction in the Management Fee payable for any Management Fee Period with respect to a Limited Partner pursuant to Section 4.1(c), the Management Fee payable for any Management Fee Period with respect to such Limited Partner shall be further reduced by an amount (the “Waived Fee Amount”) equal to the lesser of (i) the amount of the Management Fee to which the Manager would otherwise be entitled pursuant to this Section 4.1 that the Manager has irrevocably elected to waive in a written notice (a “Waived Fee Notice”) delivered to the Partnership with respect to each Management Fee Period, at least 15 days prior to the end of the calendar year immediately preceding the calendar year in which such Management Fee Period begins, and with respect to each Management Fee Period in the first calendar year of the term of the Partnership, such Waived Fee Notice delivered on or prior to the delivery of the first Capital Call Notice in respect of Management Fees and (ii) the amount that would be payable to the Manager on such Management Fee Period pursuant to this Section 4.1 in the absence of this Section 4.1(d). A Limited Partner’s share of the Waived Fee Amount for any Management Fee Period is equal to the Waived Fee Amount for such Management Fee Period multiplied by the quotient determined by dividing (i) the Management Fee that would be payable for such Management Fee Period with respect to such Limited Partner in the absence of this Section 4.1(d) by (ii) the total Management Fee that would be payable for such Management Fee Period in the absence of this Section 4.1(d). If the Manager delivers a Waived Fee Notice with respect to any Management Fee Period that begins before the date of the Final Closing, (i) if such Waived Fee Notice specifies that a percentage of the Management Fee otherwise payable for such Management Fee Period be waived, the Manager shall be deemed to have waived a proportionate amount of the Management Fee otherwise payable for such Management Fee Period by all Additional Limited Partners whose subscriptions are accepted after the date of such Waived Fee Notice and (ii) if such Waived Fee Notice specifies that a fixed dollar amount of such Management Fee otherwise payable for such Management Fee Period be waived, the reduction in the Management Fee for such Management Fee Period shall be allocated to all Limited Partners in the same proportion as the Management Fee is borne by the Limited Partners for such Management Fee Period.

(e) For purposes of Section 4.1(c), a Limited Partner’s share of Director Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees is equal to the amount of the Partnership’s pro rata share of such fees multiplied by the Limited Partner’s Partner Interest in the Portfolio Investment to which such Director Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees are attributable, and a Limited Partner’s share of Topping and Break-up Fees is equal to the amount of such fees multiplied by the proportion of such Limited Partner’s Commitment to the Commitments of all Partners on the first day of the Management Fee Period in which such Topping and Break-up Fees are paid.

Section 4.2 Organizational and Partnership Expenses. The Partnership will reimburse the General Partner or the Manager for all Organizational Expenses incurred by the General Partner or the Manager on behalf of the Partnership. The Partnership will pay all Partnership Expenses.

Section 4.3 Ordinary Operating Expenses. The Manager shall pay all ordinary overhead expenses of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Manager, the Separate Investment Entities and the Parallel Vehicles (including salaries, rent, overhead, travel expenses and similar expenses), other than Partnership Expenses, Organizational Expenses and Placement Fees.

ARTICLE V

GENERAL PARTNER

Section 5.1 Investment Opportunities; Devotion of Time; Management Authority.

(a) The Principals shall each be actively involved in the business of the Fund Group and shall devote such amount of their business time and attention in order to fulfill their fiduciary duties to the Limited Partners in accordance with the Delaware Partnership Act; provided, however, that the Principals may engage and be involved in Other Permitted Investment Activities. Subject to the foregoing and to Section 5.12(a) and the Highland Investment Allocation Policy, during the Commitment Period, the General Partner, the Manager and the Principals will present all investment opportunities to the Partnership which they believe in good faith are suitable for the Partnership and fit the investment objective of the Partnership. However, the Principals and the Manager will not be restricted from pursuing, engaging in and completing acquisitions and investments in, through or by Highland Portfolio Companies in connection with Other Permitted Investment Activities and other investments through other Highland Accounts, in each such case, in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy.

(b) Subject to the retention of the Manager, the General Partner will have full control over the business and affairs of the Partnership consistent with its fiduciary duties arising under the Delaware Partnership Act. The General Partner will have the power on behalf and in the name of the Partnership to carry out any and all of the objects and purposes of the Partnership and to perform all acts and enter into and perform all contracts and other undertakings which, in its sole discretion, are necessary or advisable or incidental thereto, including the power to acquire or dispose of any security (including Marketable Securities). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the management of the Partnership will vest in the Manager which will provide the Partnership with portfolio management and administrative services, including investigating, analyzing, structuring and negotiating potential investments, monitoring the performance of Portfolio Companies and advising as to disposition opportunities. In no event shall the Manager, which has been engaged by the Partnership, be treated as an agent or partner of the General Partner.

(c) Except to the extent otherwise provided in this Agreement, all matters concerning (i) the allocation of Short-Term Investment Income, Current Income, Investment Income and Gain, Investment Loss, Partnership Expenses, Organizational Expenses, Carried Interest, and the distribution of net proceeds and the return of capital among the Partners, including the taxes thereon, (ii) accounting procedures and determinations (including the determination of the Preferred Amount), estimates of the amount of Management Fees or Placement Fees payable by any Defaulting Partner, (iii) the calculation of the Management Fee (including Director Fees, Topping and Break-up Fees and Transaction and Monitoring Fees), and (iv) the reinvestment of any amounts distributed in respect of a Bridge Financing (or portion thereof) that was sold, refinanced or otherwise disposed of within eighteen (18) months from the Investment Date of such Bridge Financing, shall be determined by the General Partner in accordance with its reasonable interpretation of the provisions of this Agreement made in good faith.

Section 5.2 Use of Affiliates. The General Partner shall retain the services of the Manager and any officers, directors or Affiliates thereof in connection with the operation of the Partnership, and the compensation of the Manager and such persons shall be as provided in Section 4.1 hereof; provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section 5.2 shall be construed to relieve the General Partner of its responsibilities under this Agreement or the duties and limitations set forth in this Article V.

Section 5.3 Indebtedness. Subject to Section 5.5 and Section 5.4, the Partnership may incur indebtedness consisting of Bridge Leveraging or the issuance of credit support of the obligations of Portfolio Companies or their subsidiaries, which may be in the form of guarantees, letters of credit or pledges of a portion of the Commitments ("Credit Support"). Any such indebtedness will not be considered as Capital Contributions by the Partners unless, until and to the extent the General Partner calls for Capital Contributions in connection therewith pursuant to a Capital Call Notice pursuant to this Agreement.

Section 5.4 Limitation on Investments.

(a) The Partnership will not invest (including through Credit Support) more than twenty five percent (25%) of the aggregate Commitments in any single Portfolio Company together with any of its Affiliates (valued at original cost). A Bridge Financing, when added to the amount of permanent investment by the Partnership in the Portfolio Investment that is the subject of the Bridge Financing, may not exceed twenty five percent (25%) of the aggregate Commitments.

(b) The aggregate amount of Bridge Financings outstanding at any one time shall not exceed fifteen percent (15%) of the aggregate Commitments.

(c) Subject to Section 5.5, the Partnership may issue Credit Support, which does not at any one time exceed Unfunded Commitments.

(d) The Partnership shall invest cash in Short-Term Investments.

(e) The aggregate investments (valued at cost) by the Partnership in Portfolio Companies organized and with principal executive offices outside the United States shall not exceed thirty percent (30%) of the aggregate Commitments. The Partnership will not invest in Portfolio Companies that are organized or with principal executive offices in countries that are not within the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development as of the date of the First Closing.

(f) The Partnership will not invest as a partner or member in any pooled investment fund or "fund of funds" in which an investment adviser or manager of such fund (other than the Partnership) receives management fees or the right to carried interest distributions on the Partnership's investment or interest therein unless the amount of any such management fee is considered part of the Capital Contribution relating to such Portfolio Investment and the amounts distributable to the General Partner under Sections 3.3(a)(ii) and 3.3(a)(iii) are reduced by the amount of any carried interest payable to such sponsor or investment manager.

(g) In connection with a Portfolio Investment in any non-U.S. jurisdiction, the General Partner shall obtain an opinion of counsel with respect to such jurisdiction to the effect that (i) no Limited Partner, solely as a result of the Partnership making such investments, will be required either (x) to file an income tax return in such jurisdiction (other than in connection with an application for a refund of withholding or similar taxes) or (y) to pay income tax in such jurisdiction with respect to income not derived from the Partnership, and (ii) no Limited Partner shall be personally liable for any debts or losses of the Partnership in such jurisdiction in excess of such Limited Partner's Unfunded Commitment. The General Partner shall use commercially reasonable efforts to ensure that any opinion obtained pursuant to this Section 5.4(i) will permit the Limited Partners to rely thereon. The General Partner shall ask local counsel to confirm and/or update periodically as it deems necessary any opinion it obtains pursuant to this Section 5.4(i). The Partnership will use commercially reasonable efforts to prepare all tax rebate, reduction or reclaim forms or other filings or elections that are required to obtain any available exemption from, reduction in, or refund of, any withholding or other taxes required in any taxing jurisdiction on behalf of each Limited Partner, for signature by such Limited Partner, and to assist each Limited Partner, at such Limited Partner's expense, to obtain refunds for taxes withheld or paid with respect to such Limited Partner as to which a refund is obtainable. Each Partner agrees that it will cooperate with the General Partner in making any such filings or elections to the extent the General Partner determines that such cooperation is necessary or desirable.

(h) The Partnership will not invest (including through Credit Support) more than twenty percent (20%) of the aggregate Commitments in Persons that are not Distressed Companies; provided that the General Partner in its good faith discretion believes that an investment in such Persons is consistent with the Partnership's investment objective.

Section 5.5 UBTI; USRPI. The General Partner shall use commercially reasonable efforts not to (i) structure the Fund's Portfolio Investments in a manner that would result in the realization by a Tax Exempt Partner of a substantial amount of UBTI or (ii) cause the Partnership to acquire a Portfolio Investment that the General Partner reasonably believes at the time of such acquisition is or is likely to become a "United States real property interest" ("USRPI") within the meaning of Section 897(c) of the Code. In addition, if the Partnership makes an investment in a pass-through entity that could give rise to UBTI or income effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business, the Partnership may make available a "blocker" structure through which Tax-Exempt and non-U.S. Partners can invest. However, the use of Bridge Leveraging and the use of Director Fees, Topping and Break-up Fees, Transaction and Monitoring Fees and Placement Fees to offset the Management Fee, as described in Section 4.1(c), will not be deemed a violation of this Section 5.5.

Section 5.6 ERISA Matters.

(a) The General Partner will use reasonable efforts to conduct the affairs and operations of the Partnership in such a manner that the Partnership will qualify as an Operating Company or for another exception from being deemed to hold Plan Assets of any Benefit Plan Investor. As of the initial Capital Contribution date, the General Partner shall deliver to each Benefit Plan Investor either (i) an opinion from the General Partner's counsel to the effect that the Partnership should qualify as an Operating Company as of the initial Capital Contribution date or (ii) a certificate, based on consultation with the General Partner's counsel, to the effect that the Partnership should qualify for another exemption from being deemed to hold Plan Assets of any Benefit Plan Investor as of the initial Capital Contribution date. Annually thereafter, the General Partner will provide a certificate to Benefit Plan Investors confirming that the Partnership continues to qualify for an exception from being deemed to hold Plan Assets of any Benefit Plan Investor and specifying which exception from Plan Assets is available to the Partnership as of the date of the certificate.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 2.2, until such time as the General Partner delivers to each Benefit Plan Investor (and the escrow agent, if any) either the opinion or the certificate described above in Section 5.6(a), the initial Capital Contribution required to be made to the Partnership by a Benefit Plan Investor shall, at the request of the General Partner, instead be deposited directly by such Benefit Plan Investor into an escrow account that is intended to comply with Department of Labor Advisory Opinion 95-04A.

(c) Each Partner that is or will be a Benefit Plan Investor on the Closing Date when it is admitted to the Partnership shall so notify the General Partner in writing prior to such Closing Date. Any Limited Partner which has not indicated in its Subscription Agreement that it is a Benefit Plan Investor hereby represents, warrants and covenants that it is not, it is not acting on behalf of and, so long as it holds an interest in the Partnership, it will not be and will not be acting on behalf of a Benefit Plan Investor.

(d) It is intended that none of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Manager or any of their Affiliates will act as or be deemed to be a fiduciary under ERISA with respect to any Benefit Plan Investor or the assets of the Partnership; provided, however, that this provision is not intended to negate the fiduciary duties imposed upon a general partner under the Delaware Partnership Act. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the General Partner is authorized to take any action or refrain from taking any action which in its judgment is necessary or desirable in order to prevent any Partnership assets from being deemed to constitute Plan Assets of any Benefit Plan Investor.

(e) Should the General Partner reasonably determine that the continued participation of a Benefit Plan Investor would result in the assets of the Partnership being deemed Plan Assets of such Benefit Plan Investor (a "Plan Asset Event"), the General Partner shall so notify, each of the Benefit Plan Investors in writing within 30 days of such determination. Thereafter, the General Partner shall take reasonable steps to correct or cure the Plan Asset Event and, if the General Partner determines that it is not reasonably likely that the Partnership's Plan Asset Event can be reasonably corrected or cured, taking into account the overall interest of the Partnership, the General Partner shall terminate the Partnership and wind up its affairs in accordance with Sections 8.2 and 8.3. In connection with the foregoing obligation, in addition to any other powers the General Partner may have, the General Partner shall have the authority to take any of the following actions, in its sole discretion: (i) any action necessary or desirable, in the General Partner's reasonable judgment, to cure the Partnership's failure to qualify as an Operating Company, if applicable; (ii) in accordance with the provisions of Section 12.1, amend this Agreement to cure any illegality or other material adverse consequences to the Partnership; (iii) amend, terminate or restructure any then existing or contemplated arrangements with third parties to cure any illegality or other adverse consequences to the Partnership so long as such action would not have a material adverse effect on the Limited Partners; (iv) redeem any Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership, in whole or in part, in a manner consistent with the procedures in Section 6.6(d); (v) force the sale of all or any portion of any Benefit Plan Investor's interest in the Partnership to one or more Limited Partners at the Redemption Value or (vi) terminate the Partnership and wind up its affairs in accordance with Sections 8.2 and 8.3.

Section 5.7 Conflicts of Interest.

(a) The Limited Partners hereby acknowledge and agree that the General Partner and its Affiliates currently manage and may in the future manage Highland Accounts that invest in securities that may be eligible for purchase by the Partnership, which presents the potential for conflicts of interest. While the General Partner and the Manager intend to manage potential conflicts of interest, as Highland has in the past, by following certain guidelines, and to avoid where practicable situations involving conflicts of interest in a portfolio company or otherwise, each Limited Partner acknowledges that there may be situations in which the interests of the Partnership in a portfolio company or otherwise may conflict with the interests of other Highland Accounts, the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their respective Affiliates. On any matter involving a conflict of interest not otherwise provided for in this Agreement, the General Partner shall be guided by its good faith judgment as to the best interests of the Partnership and shall take such actions as are determined by the General Partner and Highland to be appropriate and in compliance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy. Each Limited Partner agrees that the activities of any other Highland Account, the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals and their Affiliates, including Other Permitted Investment Activities, authorized by this Agreement or conducted consistently with this Agreement and the Highland Investment Allocation Policy may be engaged in by such other Highland Accounts, the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals and their Affiliates, as the case may be, and will not, in any case or in the aggregate, be deemed a breach of this Agreement or any duty that might be owed by any such person to the Partnership or to any Partner.

(b) Except as permitted by Sections 5.12(a) and 5.17(a), without the prior approval of either (i) a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee or (ii) a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners, none of the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, or any of their respective Affiliates will invest in any securities of any company in which the Partnership either is actively considering making a Portfolio Investment or has an investment; provided, that (x) the foregoing will not apply to Other Permitted Investment Activities or investments made in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy, (y) each such person will be permitted to hold securities which such person received in a distribution by the Partnership and (z) any Parallel Vehicles or Separate Investment Entities will be permitted to invest in Portfolio Companies in accordance with this Agreement.

(c) Except as permitted by Sections 5.12(a) and 5.17(a), without the prior approval of either (i) a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee or (ii) a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners, the Partnership will not invest in any securities issued by, acquire investments from, sell investments to, or enter into any transaction with an entity in which the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, or their respective Affiliates has a material financial interest in respect of such entity; provided that the foregoing will not apply to (w) Other Permitted Investment Activities, (x) investments by the Partnership in Portfolio Companies in which the Parallel Vehicles, Separate Investment Entities or Co-Investment Funds invest in accordance with this Agreement; (y) investments by the Partnership in Portfolio Companies in which the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their respective Affiliates have a material interest that have been made in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy, or (z) investments by the Partnership in publicly traded securities of Portfolio Companies in which a Highland Account has a material financial interest that are made on arms length terms at prevailing market prices; provided, further, that the Partnership will not be precluded from investing in securities of a company in which the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals, or their respective Affiliates either (A) in the case of public companies, owns securities issued by such company representing one percent (1%) or less of the outstanding equity securities, or (B) own only securities which such Persons received in a distribution by the Partnership.

(d) The General Partner will furnish to the Advisory Committee annually at the time annual financial statements of the Partnership are furnished pursuant to Section 10.3(b) a report of each acquisition or investment by the Partnership in Portfolio Companies in which the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their respective Affiliates have a material financial interest that have been made in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy.

Section 5.8 Transfer of General Partnership Interest; No Withdrawal or Loans. The General Partner generally may not sell, assign, pledge, mortgage or otherwise dispose of its General Partner interest in the Partnership; provided, however, that the General Partner may transfer its General Partner interest in the Partnership (or consent to the transfer of an interest in the General Partner) in a derivative transaction if the transferor maintains the economic attributes of the interest and voting control of the interest. The General Partner will not borrow or withdraw any amount from the Partnership or voluntarily withdraw from the Partnership.

Section 5.9 Removal of the General Partner. By consent of Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners, the General Partner may be removed in the event of (a) the General Partner's or any member of the Keyman Group's conviction of (or plea of nolo contendere to), a material violation of federal or state securities law or a felony criminal violation, (b) the General Partner's adjudication in a final judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction as having committed in respect of the Partnership an act or omission of a material nature involving gross negligence, bad faith, willful misconduct or fraud, or (c) the General Partner's violation of this Agreement which has a material and adverse effect on the Partnership and which remains uncured for 30 days. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if an event described in clause (a) above has occurred and the event relates to a violation or act of a member of the Keyman Group, the Limited Partners may remove the General Partner only if such violation or act (i) relates to the Partnership or a Portfolio Company, (ii) has a material adverse effect on the Partnership, (iii) such member of the Keyman Group is not terminated as a member of the General Partner and the Manager within 45 days, and (iv) such member of the Keyman Group does not cease to own any interest in the future carried interest or voting interests in the General Partner following termination. The General Partner will provide the Limited Partners with written notice of the occurrence of any event described in clauses (a), (b) or (c) above. Concurrently with the removal of the General Partner, the Manager shall be removed as manager of the Partnership unless re-appointed by the successor general partner of the Partnership. Upon removal of the General Partner, the Limited Partners may elect to continue the Partnership and appoint a new duly authorized general partner of the Partnership and all Parallel Vehicles with the consent of all of the Limited Partners of the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle and such election shall be deemed to have occurred as of the date of the removal of the former General Partner. In such an event, the former General Partner shall be entitled to receive distributions equal to any amounts it would have been entitled to had the Partnership been dissolved and wound up in accordance with Sections 8.3(a) and (b) and distributed in kind all Partnership assets as of the date of the election of the Limited Partners to continue the Partnership. The Partnership shall issue an unsecured non-interest bearing promissory note to the former General Partner in the face amount of the liquidating distribution determined in accordance with this Section 5.9, such note to be payable upon the final liquidation of the Partnership. All such distributions shall be subject to the obligations set forth in Section 8.3(c) and (d); provided, however, that the General Partner's obligation, if any, to fund Commitments in respect of its obligations in Section 8.3(c) relating to such liquidating distribution shall be satisfied by a reduction to the principal amount of the unsecured non-interest bearing promissory note described in this Section 5.9 in the amount of such obligation. For purposes of determining allocation and distributions pursuant to the preceding sentence, securities and other property held by the Partnership shall be valued pursuant to the procedures set forth in Article IX.

Section 5.10 No Liability to Limited Partners.

(a) None of the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their Affiliates, officers, directors, members, partners, shareholders, employees or agents will be liable to any Limited Partner or to the Partnership for any action taken, or omitted to be taken, as General Partner with respect to the Partnership, or for any action taken, or omitted to be taken, by any member, partner, director, officer, employee or agent of the General Partner or Manager in connection with its activities for or on behalf of the Partnership so long as such person (i) acted in good faith, (ii) acted in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Partnership, (iii) was neither grossly negligent nor engaged in willful malfeasance, fraud or reckless disregard of fiduciary duties, (iv) did not materially breach this Agreement, and (v) with respect to any criminal action, such person is not finally determined to be and does not admit to being guilty or enter a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(b) No member of the Advisory Committee, or any Affiliate or employer of any member of the Advisory Committee or any Limited Partner represented on the Advisory Committee by any member (as the case may be) will be liable to any Partner or the Partnership for any action taken, or omitted to be taken, in good faith on behalf of the Advisory Committee (as the case may be) with respect to the Partnership and in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

(c) If any Limited Partner obtains a final judgment in a court of competent jurisdiction against the General Partner for matters relating to the Partnership, the General Partner shall pursue against its members the remedies (if any) that it has against such member relating to such claim.

Section 5.11 Indemnification of General Partner, the Manager and Advisory Committee.

(a) The Partnership will indemnify (A) the Principals, the General Partner, the Manager and each of their respective members, partners, shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents and

Affiliates against any losses, liabilities, damages or expenses (including amounts paid for attorneys' fees, judgments and settlements in connection with any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding) to which any of such persons may become subject in connection with such person's activities on behalf of the Partnership or in connection with any involvement with a Portfolio Company (including serving as an officer, director, consultant or employee of any Portfolio Company) directly or indirectly on behalf of the Partnership and (B) the members of the Advisory Committee, any Affiliate or employer of any such members and any Limited Partner represented on the Advisory Committee by any member, in connection with any involvement with the Advisory Committee, respectively, but, in the case of members of the Advisory Committee or their Affiliates and employers or any Limited Partner represented on the Advisory Committee by any member, only to the extent that such person acted in good faith and, in the case of the Principals, the General Partner, the manager and each of their respective members, partners, shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents and Affiliates, only to the extent that such person (i) acted in good faith, (ii) acted in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Partnership or the Portfolio Company (as the case may be), (iii) was neither grossly negligent nor engaged in willful malfeasance, fraud or reckless disregard of fiduciary duties, (iv) did not materially breach this Agreement, and (v) with respect to any criminal action, such person is not finally determined to be and does not admit to being guilty or enter a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction. Any person described in clause (A) of this Section 5.11(a) entitled to seek indemnification hereunder shall first use reasonable efforts to seek indemnification from other available sources, if any, prior to obtaining indemnification hereunder; provided that any such person may seek and obtain indemnification hereunder if at any time such person reasonably believes that such person will not receive timely indemnification on terms reasonably acceptable to such person from such other sources; and provided, further, that such person shall continue to use reasonable efforts to seek such indemnification from such other sources and, to the extent any such indemnification is obtained, reimburse the Partnership for any such recovery. The Partnership may, in the sole judgment of the General Partner, pay the expenses of any person indemnifiable under this Section 5.11 in advance of the final disposition of any proceeding, so long as (w) with respect to any derivative action brought by any Limited Partner, the person receiving the advance is not the subject of such derivative action, (x) the proceeding is not instituted by a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners against the General Partner or the Manager, (y) General Partner has a good faith belief such expenses are indemnifiable, and (z) the General Partner receives a written undertaking by such person for the benefit of the Partnership to repay the full amount advanced if (A) there is a final determination that such person did not satisfy the standards set forth in clauses (i) through (v) immediately above, (B) with respect to any criminal action, such person is finally determined to be or admits to being guilty or enters a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction, or (C) such person is not otherwise entitled to indemnification as provided herein.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no person will be exculpated or exonerated from liability or indemnified against loss for violations of federal or state securities laws, or for any other intentional or criminal wrongdoing. No person shall be indemnifiable under this Section 5.11 in respect of losses, liabilities, damages or expenses to which any such person may become subject in connection with (x) such person's activities with any Portfolio Company if such losses arise after the Partnership's final disposition of such Portfolio Company or (y) a dispute among the General Partner, the Manager, their respective members and employees, and the Principals.

(b) No Limited Partner shall have any obligation or liability, including any obligation to make a Capital Contribution to the Partnership, in respect of an indemnity obligation arising from a Portfolio Investment with respect to which such Limited Partner is not a Participating Partner.

(c) The General Partner will use reasonable efforts to cause each Portfolio Company for which any Affiliate of the General Partner serves as an officer or director to adopt organizational documents which provide mandatory indemnification to directors, officers, and managers to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law.

Section 5.12 Formation of New Fund or Business Endeavor. (a) Subject to the other provisions of this Article V, each Partner's interest in the business endeavors of the other Partners is limited to his, her or its interest in the Partnership and no Partner's future business activities are restricted. Notwithstanding the foregoing, unless consented to by Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners or approved by a majority vote of the Advisory Committee, neither the General Partner, nor the Manager or any of their Affiliates will close and make investments, or act as general partner, managing member, advisor, employee, agent, or the primary source of transactions on behalf of another private equity investment vehicle or pooled investment vehicle (other than Crusader, a Parallel Vehicle or Separate Investment Entity) that has primary investment objectives substantially similar to those of the Partnership (a "Successor Fund") until the earlier of (i) the date on which at least 75% of the Commitments have been invested or committed for investment in Portfolio Companies or otherwise set aside for Follow-on Investments, Partnership Expenses or Management Fees, and (ii) the end of the Commitment Period; provided, however, that this Section 5.12 shall not prohibit the formation of one or more Co-investment Funds, and Co-investment Funds shall not be considered Successor Funds. If a Successor Fund is organized prior to the termination of the Commitment Period of the Partnership, as permitted under the previous sentence, the Successor Fund may only coinvest in investments made by the Partnership alongside the Partnership, on the same terms and conditions in all material respects, with amounts for investment allocated between the Partnership and the Successor Fund, subject to available capital or other investment limitations on the Partnership and the Successor Fund, as determined by the General Partner. Any Successor Fund will dispose of securities of a Portfolio Company that are of the same class as those purchased by the Partnership at the same time as the Partnership, and on the same economic and other terms.

Section 5.13 Interest as a Limited Partner. To the extent that the General Partner acquires the interest of a Defaulting Partner or any other Limited Partner, the General Partner will (subject to Section 2.5) be deemed to be a Limited Partner with respect to such interest for all purposes of this Agreement.

Section 5.14 Parallel Vehicles. The General Partner and the Manager may organize and capitalize Parallel Vehicles for purposes of facilitating investments in Portfolio Companies by non-U.S. investors and certain accredited investors that are not qualified purchasers (as defined in the Investment Company Act) in the Fund Group. If any Parallel Vehicles are organized, then the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle (a) will invest in each Portfolio Company in direct proportion to their respective available capital commitments so that the Partnership will invest in each Portfolio Company an amount equal to the total investment by the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicle multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the aggregate Commitments, and the denominator of which is the sum of the aggregate Commitments plus the aggregate capital commitments by investors in the Parallel Vehicles, provided that such proportion may be modified by the General Partner with the prior approval of the Advisory Committee or a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners in order to reflect the available commitments and any tax, regulatory or other legal aspects of any Parallel Vehicle and its investors and (b) invest in and dispose of Portfolio Company at the same time and on effectively the same economic terms and conditions. Any item of income, fees, reimbursement or expense that relates to a Portfolio Company in which the Partnership and one or more Parallel Vehicles are investors or to a potential investment that is considered on behalf of the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicles by the General Partner, the Manager or the general partners or managers of any Parallel Vehicles shall, to the extent that any such item is not directly attributable to the Partnership or a Parallel Vehicle, be pro rated among the Partnership and the Parallel Vehicles based on their respective investments in such Portfolio Company or the portions of such potential investment that would have been made available to the Partnership in accordance with the preceding sentence, as applicable. Organizational Expenses shall be borne by the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle in proportion to their respective aggregate capital commitments, except the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle shall separately bear the Organizational Expenses that are directly attributed to each such entity. Each Parallel Vehicle shall reimburse the Partnership for such Parallel Vehicle's share of Organizational Expenses that were paid by the Partnership. Investments in Parallel Vehicles by investors shall be on substantially the same terms and conditions as investments in the Partnership by Limited Partners. For the avoidance of doubt, all references to Portfolio Investments shall include investments made by the Partnership, all Parallel Vehicles and all Separate Investment Entities. To the extent that this Agreement provides that the Limited Partners shall vote together with the investors of any Parallel Vehicle, the General Partner agrees (i) that the relevant documentation of any such Parallel Vehicle shall contain comparable voting provisions to the extent applicable, (ii) that any combined vote of the Limited Partners and the investors in any Parallel Vehicle on any such matter for the purposes of this Agreement shall constitute a combined vote on the matter for the purposes of the Parallel Vehicles, and (iii) each such matter shall, if approved by such vote, be equally applicable to the Partnership and all Parallel Vehicles.

Section 5.15 Separate Investment Entities. If the General Partner determines for legal, tax, regulatory or other reasons, in its sole discretion that it is in the best interests of the Partners to invest in one or more Portfolio Companies through an entity other than the Partnership, such investment or investments shall not be made by the Partnership but shall instead be made, either in lieu of or in conjunction with, the Partnership, by one or more limited partnerships, limited liability companies, corporations or similar entities (each a "Separate Investment Entity") owned in the aggregate by all of the Partners and managed by the General Partner or an Affiliate thereof controlled by the Principals. Each Separate Investment Entity shall receive an opinion of counsel for the benefit of the Limited Partners (x) regarding its classification for United States Federal income tax purposes and the limited liability of the Separate Investment Entity and (y) to the effect that no Limited Partner shall be personally liable for any debts or losses of the Separate Investment Entity in such jurisdiction in excess of such Limited Partner's Unfunded Commitment. The Partnership and each Separate Investment Entity will invest in and dispose of Portfolio Investments at the same time and on effectively the same economic terms and conditions. To the extent that Benefit Plan Investors participate in a Separate Investment Entity, such Separate Investment Entity shall be (i) structured so that it will not be deemed to hold Plan

Assets and shall provide the same ERISA protections to those Benefit Plan Investors that are provided under this Agreement, and (ii) established on substantially the same terms and conditions in all material respects as Partners are required to make Capital Contributions to the Partnership, and such capital contributions shall be deemed to reduce the Unfunded Commitment of each Partner to the same extent that it would be reduced if made to the Partnership. The provisions and economic terms of each such Separate Investment Entity shall be substantially the same in all material respects as those of the Partnership, except to the extent such terms are required to differ from the economic and other material arrangements reflected in the terms of this Agreement in order to accomplish the purposes of such Separate Investment Entity (including, for example, different economic treatment of different Partners resulting solely from the consequences of a structure created to minimize the amount of UBTI recognized by a Tax Exempt Partner). The gains and losses of any such Separate Investment Entity shall be treated as having been realized by the Partnership for all economic calculations under this Agreement (including, without limitation, the calculation of the General Partner give back obligation pursuant to Section 8.3(c)), and there will be no duplication of management fees or Carried Interest. The Partners having interests in the Separate Investment Entity (including the General Partner and its Affiliates with respect to their Commitments as Partners) shall contribute to each Separate Investment Entity the amounts required to fund such Separate Investment Entity, with each such Partner contributing its pro rata portion of such amounts (based on the relative Unfunded Commitments of the Partners as of the date of such contributions) up to such Partner's remaining Unfunded Commitment and such amounts will reduce such Partner's Unfunded Commitment. Each Limited Partner hereby agrees and consents to the formation of each Separate Investment Entity and hereby covenants and agrees that it will execute and deliver any agreements, documents and certificates as reasonably necessary for, or incidental to, the formation and continuation of each such Separate Investment Entity and its participation as a limited partner, member or participant in each such Separate Investment Entity established in accordance with this Section 5.15.

Section 5.16 Media Company Investments.

(a) In the event and for so long as, and only during periods from time to time in which, the Partnership shall directly or indirectly hold (or otherwise have attributed to it) an ownership or other interest in a Media Company that is "attributed" to the Partnership under the rules and regulations of the FCC relating to the particular FCC service in which the Media Company operates, no Limited Partner (an "Insulated Partner"), or any person that is a director, officer, equivalent non-corporate official, partner, member or 5% or greater shareholder or other direct or indirect owner of an Insulated Partner such that the ownership interests of the Insulated Partner, are "attributed" to such owner, director, officer, equivalent non-corporate officer, partner or member (an "Insulated Partner Affiliate"), to the extent reasonably determined by the General Partner (with the advice of GP's Counsel) to be necessary to have such ownership or interest not be attributable to the Limited Partners for purposes of the FCC Attribution Rules and the Ownership Rules, shall do any of the following:

(i) act as an employee of the Partnership or any Media Company if such Insulated Partner's or Insulated Partner Affiliate's functions, directly or indirectly, relate to the media or common carrier enterprises of the Partnership or any Media Company;

(ii) serve, in any material capacity, as an independent contractor or agent of the Partnership or any Media Company with respect to the media or common carrier enterprises of the Partnership or any such Media Company;

(iii) communicate with the General Partner or any Portfolio Company on matters pertaining to the day-to-day operations of any Media Company;

(iv) to the extent Partners have the power under this Agreement to admit additional General Partners, vote to admit any additional General Partner to the Partnership unless such addition is subject to the veto of the General Partner;

(v) to the extent Partners have the power under this Agreement, except as permitted under Sections 5.9 and 8.2, vote on the removal of the General Partner;

(vi) perform any services for the Partnership or any Media Company materially relating to the media or common carrier enterprises of the Partnership or such Media Company, with the exception of making loans to, or acting as a surety for, such Media Company or the Partnership to the extent consistent with the "equity or debt plus" component of the FCC Attribution Rules; or

(vii) become actively involved in the management or operation of any Media Company.

(viii) serve as a member or otherwise participate in the activities of the Advisory Committee if, in the determination of the Insulated Partner, such membership or participation would cause the Insulated Partner to lose its insulated status under the Attribution Rules.

(b) An Insulated Partner may, upon five Business Days' prior written notice to the General Partner, relinquish its status as an Insulated Partner, in which case the provisions of this Section 5.16 shall no longer apply to such Limited Partner; provided, that such relinquishment shall not be effective until the General Partner has received an opinion of special counsel to the Partnership on FCC matters stating that such relinquishment will not (1) cause the Partnership or any of its Affiliates to violate any law, regulation, rule or policy applicable to matters currently subject to FCC jurisdiction or (2) in any way limit or restrict the activities of the Partnership or any of its Affiliates. To the extent that issuance of such an opinion requires the filing of any notices with the FCC or the issuance of any approvals by the FCC, the General Partner and the Insulated Partner seeking to relinquish its insulated status shall reasonably cooperate in making any such filing or obtaining any such approval, and the General Partner shall seek the opinion of special counsel to the Partnership on FCC matters with respect to the making of any such filing or the obtaining of any such approval.

(c) Nothing in this Section 5.16 shall be interpreted to restrict the activities of (A) the Limited Partners or (B) the beneficial interest holders of any Limited Partner during the period that it is an Insulated Partner so long as such Limited Partner's partnership or other governing agreement contains language reasonably designed to insulate such Limited Partner's unaffiliated limited partners or beneficial interest holders, as the case may be, from having the Partnership's interest in any Media Company being attributed under the FCC attribution rules to such beneficial owners, as necessary pursuant to the FCC attribution rules.

(d) Upon written request by an Insulated Partner, the General Partner shall, prior to the Partnership consummating an investment in a Media Company, cause the legal counsel to the Partnership to deliver an opinion reasonably acceptable to such Insulated Partner to the effect that such investment shall not be “attributed” to the Insulated Partner under the rules and regulations of the FCC relating to the particular FCC service in which such Media Company operates.

Section 5.17 Co-investment Funds.

(a) Where possible and appropriate, the General Partner may, in its discretion, provide co-investment opportunities to invest in a Portfolio Company (each a “Co-Investment Opportunity”) to one or more Limited Partners, strategic investors, lenders, or members, investors, Affiliates or employees of the General Partner and Manager or, other accounts managed by Highland (each a “Co-Investor”). Notwithstanding the foregoing, investment opportunities allocated to Affiliates of the Manager or the General Partner or client accounts managed by the Manager, in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy, shall not be deemed Co-Investment Opportunities. The General Partner, the Manager, and their respective Affiliates will not receive any carried interest in any Co-Investment Opportunity provided to Limited Partners or receive management fees from Limited Partners in respect of Co-Investment Opportunities provided to Limited Partners. The General Partner intends to not provide Co-Investment Opportunities to Benefit Plan Investors to the extent necessary to prevent such Co-Investment Opportunity from being deemed to be Plan Assets of the related Benefit Plan Investor.

(b) The General Partner may, as a condition to any Co-Investment Opportunity, (i) require any or all Co-Investors to execute a confidentiality agreement relating to such Co-Investment Opportunity in form and substance acceptable to the General Partner, and (ii) require Co-Investors electing to participate in a Co-Investment Opportunity to coinvest through a Co-Investment Fund, which may have investors other than Limited Partners.

(c) Each Limited Partner shall treat the information provided to it pursuant to this Section 5.17 as confidential, shall use such information solely for the purpose of considering the offer made pursuant to this Section, shall, upon the request of the General Partner, promptly return to the General Partner any written information provided it pursuant to this Section, and shall not disclose the identity of the securities or issuer to any person other than (i) its employees, counsel or advisors, solely on a need to know and confidential basis, (ii) any governmental authority or regulatory authority which regulates such Limited Partner’s ability to engage in any of its businesses under U.S. or foreign law to the extent such information is required by such governmental authority or regulatory authority, as the case may be, and (iii) to the extent such Limited Partner is required by law or regulation to disclose such information.

(d) If Co-Investment Funds or Co-Investors purchase securities of a Portfolio Company that are of the same class as securities of a Portfolio Company purchased by the Partnership, the Co-Investment Funds or Co-Investors shall purchase such securities on terms that are no less advantageous than the terms on which the Partnership purchases such securities. Each Co-Investment Fund and Co-Investor will dispose of securities of a Portfolio Company that are of the same class as securities of a Portfolio Company purchased by the Partnership at the same time and on substantially the same terms (including price) as the Partnership.

Section 5.18 Bridge Leveraging. (a) The Partnership is authorized to enter into one or more credit facilities (each, a "Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility") in order to (i) borrow money for the purpose of (A) Bridge Leveraging, and (B) paying Partnership Expenses; and/or (ii) provide Credit Support for the obligations of Portfolio Companies or their subsidiaries as described in Section 5.4(c); provided, however, that in no event shall the aggregate amount of Bridge Leveraging outstanding at any time under any Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility exceed the aggregate amount of Unfunded Commitments as of such date and provided, further, that in no event shall the maturity date of an individual borrowing under any Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility be later than the 45th day following the incurrence of such debt under a Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility. A Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility may be secured by (x) a pledge by the Partnership of all or a portion of the aggregate Unfunded Commitments of the Partners, and (y) a pledge and assignment by the General Partner of the rights of the General Partner contained herein, including, without limitation, the right to deliver Capital Call Notices and enforce all remedies against Partners that fail to fund their respective Unfunded Commitments pursuant thereto and in accordance with the terms hereof. The Partnership and any Parallel Vehicles may be co-borrowers under any Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility, in which event the Partnership and the Parallel Vehicles may be jointly and severally liable for all obligations under such Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility. In the event such a Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility is so secured by Commitments, and to the extent funds are advanced against the Commitment of a particular Partner or partner of a Parallel Vehicle because such Person is late in funding or defaults on a Capital Call Notice delivered hereunder or by the Parallel Vehicle, each Limited Partner understands, acknowledges and agrees that (i) it may be required to make a Capital Contribution in respect of its pro rata share of such late or defaulted contribution amount, provided, however, that in no event shall any Partner be required to make Capital Contributions in excess of its Unfunded Commitment, and (ii) as a result of such default or late payment, the allocation between the Partnership and each Parallel Vehicle of a Portfolio Investment (together with any item of income, fees, reimbursement or expense that relates to such Portfolio Investment) with respect to which there has occurred a shortfall in contributions made by the Partners or the partners in a Parallel Vehicle shall be made by the General Partner based on the total amount of Capital Contributions of the Partners and the partners in each Parallel Vehicle actually funded to acquire such Portfolio Investment. In addition to the rights and remedies of the General Partner in respect of a Defaulting Partner pursuant to Section 6.11, any Partner that is late in funding or defaults on a Capital Call Notice shall be responsible for any interest or other expenses incurred in connection with such advance. Any such expenses shall be withheld from distributions otherwise to be made to such Defaulting Partner, and, to the extent such expenses exceed such distributions, such Defaulting Partner shall pay the amount of such excess to the Partnership in the manner and at the time or times required by the General Partner. Any such excess shall not be credited to such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account. For purposes of this Agreement, any amount withheld from a Defaulting Partner and paid to a lender shall be paid to the lender on behalf of such Defaulting Partner and shall be treated as if distributed to such Defaulting Partner.

(b) Each Limited Partner understands, acknowledges and agrees, in connection with any such Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility and for the benefit of any lender thereunder, as follows: (i) that the General Partner may from time to time request a certificate confirming (x) the remaining amount of such Limited Partner's Unfunded Commitment or (y) that the Limited Partner has not and will not pledge, collaterally assign, encumber or otherwise grant a security interest in its limited partnership interest in the Partnership, and (ii) that the General Partner may from time to time request such other information as may be reasonably required by the lender(s) under the terms of the Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility. Each Limited Partner agrees to comply with such requests to the extent they are reasonable.

(c) To induce any such lender to enter into a Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility with the Partnership, each Limited Partner hereby: (i) acknowledges that the Partnership has informed such Limited Partner that the Partnership may pledge to a lender the right to call all Unfunded Commitments to secure all obligations made under the Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility (collectively, the "Obligations") the terms of which are in accordance with this Agreement, and, in connection therewith, grant to such lender the right to issue Capital Call Notices pursuant to the terms of this Agreement when an event of default under such Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility exists, including an event of default resulting from the failure of a partner of a Parallel Vehicle to fund any capital contributions when required, which each Limited Partner shall fund, in accordance with the terms hereof and its rights and obligations hereunder; and (ii) acknowledges that the Partnership has informed such Limited Partner that for so long as the Bridge Leveraging/Credit Support Facility is in place, the General Partner and the Partnership may agree with the lender not to amend, modify, supplement, cancel, terminate, reduce (other than with respect to Funded Commitments) or suspend any of such Limited Partner's obligations to fund its Unfunded Commitment pursuant hereto, subject to excuse provisions set forth herein, without the lender's prior written consent.

LIMITED PARTNERS

Section 6.1 Limited Liability. The Limited Partners will not be personally liable for any obligations of the Partnership and will have no obligation (including with respect to a deficit balance in their Capital Account) to make contributions to the Partnership in excess of their respective Commitments specified in Schedule 1 attached hereto in accordance with this Agreement, except to the extent set forth in Section 6.7 or the Delaware Partnership Act. The Limited Partners will take no part in the control, direction or operation of the affairs of the Partnership and will have no power to bind the Partnership.

Section 6.2 Transfer of Limited Partnership Interests.

(a) A Limited Partner may not sell, assign, transfer, pledge, mortgage or otherwise dispose of all or any of its interest in the Partnership unless the General Partner has consented to such transfer or assignment in writing; provided, that with regard to an assignment by a Limited Partner to an Affiliate of such Limited Partner, such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(b) A Limited Partner which is a trust under an employee benefit plan may, upon prior written notice to the General Partner, assign a beneficial interest in all or a portion of its interest in the Partnership to any other trust under such employee benefit plan or to any other employee benefit plan having the same sponsor (provided that income and loss allocable to the Limited Partner of the Partnership will continue to be included in the same filings under the same employer identification number with the Internal Revenue Service). Such assignment to another trust under such employee benefit plan or to any other employee benefit plan having the same sponsor will not be deemed to be an assignment or transfer of a limited partnership interest pursuant to this Agreement (and therefore will not require the General Partner's consent pursuant to Section 6.2(a)). In addition, a change in any trustee or fiduciary of a Limited Partner will not be deemed to be an assignment or transfer of a limited partnership interest pursuant to this Agreement (and therefore not require the General Partner's consent pursuant to Section 6.2(e)), so long as any such replacement trustee or fiduciary is also a fiduciary as defined under applicable law, that income and loss allocable to the Limited Partner of the Partnership will continue to be included in the same filings under the same employer identification number with the Internal Revenue Service, and the General Partner receives prior written notice of such change in trustee or fiduciary. In connection with any assignment of interest or change in trustee or fiduciary under this Section 6.2(b), the Limited Partner shall provide such documentation as the General Partner shall reasonably request.

(c) The voting rights of any Limited Partner's interest shall automatically terminate upon any transfer of such interest to a trust, heir, beneficiary, executor, personal representative, guardian or conservator or upon any other transfer if the transferor no longer retains control over such voting rights and the General Partner has not consented pursuant to Section 6.2(e) to such transferee becoming a substitute Limited Partner. No consent of any other Limited Partner will be required as a condition precedent to any such transfer or substitution.

(d) As a condition to any transfer of a Limited Partner's interest pursuant to Section 6.2(a), the transferor and the transferee shall provide such legal opinions and documentation as the General Partner shall reasonably request; provided that if the transfer is to be made from a Limited Partner to a co-trustee or trustee as contemplated above or to an Affiliate pursuant to Section 6.2(a), an officer's certificate in form reasonably satisfactory to the General Partner may be delivered by the Limited Partner in lieu of such legal opinions and other documentation.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 6.2 or 6.11, a transferee or assignee will not become a substitute Limited Partner (i.e., a transfer other than as described in Section 6.2(b)) without the consent of the General Partner, which consent may be granted or withheld in its sole and absolute discretion (except for a disposition by a Limited Partner to an Affiliate permitted by Section 6.2(a), for which such consent shall not be unreasonably withheld), and without executing (i) a copy of this Agreement or amendment hereto, and (ii) a Subscription Agreement in form and substance satisfactory to the General Partner in its sole discretion. Any substitute Limited Partner admitted to the Partnership with the consent of the General Partner will succeed to all rights and be subject to all the obligations of the transferring or assigning Limited Partner with respect to the interest to which such Limited Partner was substituted, but any transferee or assignee that does not become a substitute Limited Partner shall have the right to receive allocations pursuant to Section 2.3 and distributions pursuant to Article III and Article VIII, but shall have no other rights under this Agreement.

(f) The transferor and transferee of any Limited Partner's interest shall be jointly and severally obligated to reimburse the General Partner and the Partnership for all reasonable expenses (including attorneys' fees and expenses) of any transfer or proposed transfer of a Limited Partner's interest, whether or not consummated.

(g) The transferee of any Limited Partner's interest shall be treated as having made all of the Capital Contributions made by, and received all of the distributions received by, the transferor of such interest.

(h) Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, no admission (or purported admission) of a Partner, and no transfer (or purported transfer) of all or any part of a Partner's interest in the Partnership (or any economic interest therein) whether to another Partner or to a person who is not a Partner, shall be effective, and any such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) shall be void ab initio, and no person shall otherwise become a Partner if after such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) the Partnership would have more than one hundred (100) Partners, unless the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that the Partnership will meet the requirements set forth in Treasury Regulation § 1.7704-1(j)(1) for the taxable year of such transfer and all subsequent taxable years. In determining whether the Partnership will have more than one hundred (100) Partners for purposes of this Section 6.2(h), each person indirectly owning an interest in the Partnership through a partnership (including any entity treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes), a grantor trust or an S corporation (each such entity a "flow-through entity") shall be treated as a Partner unless the General Partner determines in its sole discretion, after consulting with qualified tax counsel, that less than substantially all of the value of the beneficial owner's interest in the flow-through entity is attributable to the flow-through entity's interest (direct or indirect) in the Partnership.

(i) Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, no admission (or purported admission) of a Partner, and no transfer (or purported transfer) of all or any part of a Partner's interest in the Partnership (or any economic interest therein) whether to another Partner or to a person who is not a Partner, shall be effective, and any such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) shall be void ab initio, and no person shall otherwise become a Partner if after such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) the Partnership would be subject to the registration or reporting requirements of the Investment Company Act or in the General Partner's good faith determination, such transfer would cause the assets of the Partnership to be deemed Plan Assets. Each transferee that is or will be a Benefit Plan Investor as of the transfer effective date shall so notify the General Partner in writing prior to the transfer effective date. Any transferee that has not so indicated in writing its status as a Benefit Plan Investor hereby represents, warrants and covenants that it is not, it is not acting on behalf of and, so long as it holds an interest in the Partnership, it will not be and will not be acting on behalf of a Benefit Plan Investor.

Section 6.3 No Withdrawal. Subject to the provisions of Sections 6.2, 6.6 and 6.11, no Limited Partner may withdraw as a Partner of the Partnership, nor may a Limited Partner be required to withdraw, nor may a Limited Partner borrow or withdraw any portion of its Capital Account from the Partnership.

Section 6.4 No Termination. The substitution, death, insanity, dissolution (whether voluntary or involuntary) or bankruptcy of a Limited Partner will not affect the existence of the Partnership, and the Partnership will continue for the term of this Agreement until its existence is terminated as provided herein.

Section 6.5 Subsequent Limited Partners.

(a) The General Partner may accept additional Limited Partners (“Additional Limited Partners”) subsequent to the First Closing of the Partnership up to and including the date fourteen months after the First Closing. Any Additional Limited Partners will be treated as having been a party to this Agreement and have made its Commitment as of the date hereof for all purposes, and such Additional Limited Partners will be required to bear a portion of the Management Fee, Organizational Expenses and Partnership Expenses equivalent to that which would have been borne by such Additional Limited Partner had such Limited Partner been a Limited Partner from the date of the First Closing.

(b) Such Additional Limited Partners shall contribute to the Partnership, on the date of their admission to the Partnership, an amount of their Commitments equal to their portion (based on the Commitments of all Partners) determined pursuant to this Section 6.5(b). The initial drawdown for each Limited Partner will include such Limited Partner’s proportionate share of (i) Management Fees retroactive to the First Closing; (ii) Placement Fees, if any, retroactive to the First Closing, (iii) Organizational Expenses (to the extent provided in Section 4.2) and Partnership Expenses attributable to the Partnership; and (iv) Capital Contributions made at or prior to such drawdown to fund any Portfolio Investment, other than Capital Contributions that have been returned prior to such drawdown to the Partners who made such Capital Contributions. In addition, Additional Limited Partners will be required to pay to the Partnership, with respect to the period from the date of the applicable Capital Contributions made by the Partners who were admitted pursuant to the First Closing to the date of their admission to the Partnership: (A) interest at the rate of 10% on their proportionate share of Management Fees retroactive to the First Closing; (B) interest at the rate of 10% on their proportionate share of Organizational Expenses (to the extent provided in Section 4.2), Placement Fees and Partnership Expenses attributable to the Partnership; and (C) interest at the rate of 10% on their proportionate share of the Capital Contributions made prior to such drawdown (other than Capital Contributions that have been returned prior to such drawdown to the Partners who make such Capital Contributions), to fund any Portfolio Investment; provided, however, that interest payable pursuant to sub-clauses (B) and (C) above shall be reduced, but not below zero, by each Additional Limited Partner’s pro rata portion (based on Commitments of all Partners) of all distributions made prior to the date of such drawdown to all Partners pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(i), 3.3(a)(ii)(B) and 3.3(a)(iii)(A), to the extent such distributions exceed the aggregate amount of Capital Contributions to make Portfolio Investments that have been Disposed of prior to the date of such drawdown. Any amounts paid to the Partnership under clause (i) and subclause (A) above will be paid to the Manager (and to the extent the General Partner has waived all or part of such Management Fees, such Waived Fee Amount shall not be paid to the Manager or the General Partner but will instead increase the Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts). Any amounts paid to the Partnership under clause (ii) above shall be paid to the applicable placement agency if applicable to such Limited Partner. Any amounts paid to the Partnership under clauses (iii) and (iv) above, and subclauses (B) and (C) above shall be distributed to the Partners that participated in the earlier Capital Contributions based upon their relative shares of each earlier Capital Contribution, and any such returned Capital Contributions (but not amounts referred to in subclauses (B) and (C) above) may be recalled by the General Partner pursuant to Section 2.2(a) above as if such returned Capital Contributions had not previously been called; provided, that if the General Partner determines in good faith that there will be a Capital Call within 30 days after the contribution of such amounts to the Partnership, the General Partner may, in its discretion, retain such amounts and reduce the Capital Call with respect to such other Partners (in which event the Funded Commitments of such other Partners shall be increased by their pro rata share of that portion of such amounts referred to in subclauses (B) and (C) above). For purposes of this Section 6.5, a Limited Partner that increases its Commitment shall be treated as an Additional Limited Partner with respect to the amount by which its Commitment increased.

(c) Each Additional Limited Partner admitted to the Partnership pursuant to this Section 6.5 shall be treated as purchasing a pro rata share of the interests in the Partnership of the Partners to whom amounts are distributed pursuant to this Section 6.5 ("Existing Partners"), and a portion of the Capital Account of each Existing Partner shall be allocated to such Additional Limited Partner so that after such allocation the Capital Accounts and Capital Contributions of such Additional Limited Partner and Existing Partners attributable to each Portfolio Investment and to the payment of Organizational Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees and Partnership Expenses are as equal as practicable to what their Capital Accounts and Capital Contributions attributable to each Portfolio Investment and to the payment of Organizational Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees and Partnership Expenses would have been if such Additional Limited Partner had been admitted to the Partnership at the First Closing.

(d) If the admission of Additional Limited Partners to the Partnership or of investors in Parallel Vehicles or the purchase by a limited partner in a Parallel Vehicle of a portion of the interest of a Defaulting Partner pursuant to Section 6.11 would result in the Partnership and the Parallel Vehicles not having reimbursed the General Partner and its Affiliates for Organizational Expenses in the proportions contemplated by Section 4.2 hereof or would result in the Partnership and the Parallel Vehicles not owning investments in Portfolio Companies in the proportions contemplated by Sections 5.14 or 5.15 hereof, the General Partner shall have the authority:

(i) to effect transfers of funds and of Portfolio Company to Parallel Vehicles and to effect transfers of funds and portfolio investments of Parallel Vehicles to the Partnership for the purpose of reallocating the ownership of investments in Portfolio Companies and the reimbursements of Organizational Expenses by the Partnership and the Parallel Vehicles, and

(ii) to make allocations to, or to reallocate, the Capital Accounts and Capital Contributions attributable to each Portfolio Investment and to the payment of Organizational Expenses, Management Fees, Placement Fees and Partnership Expenses of the Existing Partners and the Additional Limited Partners in the manner contemplated by the previous provisions of this Section 6.5, in each case to achieve allocations and distributions as close as practicable to those that would have obtained had such Additional Limited Partners or investors been admitted to the Partnership or to Parallel Vehicles, respectively, at the First Closing or had such purchased interest of a Defaulting Partner been issued to the purchaser at the First Closing. Any distribution of cash made by the Partnership in connection with a reallocation under this Section 6.5(d) representing a return of Capital Contributions may be recalled by the General Partner pursuant to Section 2.2(a) as if such returned Capital Contributions had not previously been called.

Section 6.6 Regulatory Matters.

(a) Each Limited Partner acknowledges that the assets of the Partnership are not intended to constitute plan assets of such Limited Partner for purposes of any applicable non-U.S., state or local law governing the investment and management of the assets of that Limited Partner, and that, as a result, none of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Manager or any of their Affiliates intend to be acting as a fiduciary within the meaning of any applicable non-U.S., state or local law relating to governmental plans or foreign plans with respect to such Limited Partner or the Partnership assets; provided, however, that this provision is not intended to negate the fiduciary duties imposed upon a general partner under the Delaware Partnership Act.

(b) In the event that the General Partner determines in good faith that (i) the investment in the Partnership by a Limited Partner which is a governmental plan, foreign plan or other regulated entity (each, a "Regulated Investor") is reasonably likely to result in (A) any violation of any provision of law applicable to such Regulated Investor, (B) the treatment of the assets of the Partnership as assets of such Regulated Investor or (C) the treatment of the Partnership, the General Partner or the Manager as a fiduciary under such provisions of law applicable to such Regulated Investor and (ii) if, in the reasonable judgment of the General Partner, any of the foregoing conditions result in or are reasonably likely to result in any material adverse consequences to the Partnership or the General Partner (both of (i) and (ii), a "Regulatory Issue"), then the General Partner shall use its reasonable best efforts to work with the Regulated Investor to cure the Regulatory Issue. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may require that such Regulated Investor provide (at such Regulated Investor's expense) an opinion of counsel, reasonably acceptable to the General Partner in form and substance, that no Regulatory Issue exists or, in the event such an opinion is not delivered within a reasonable time after being requested, may cause the Partnership to redeem such Regulated Investor's interest in the Partnership, in whole or in part.

(c) Effective upon the date specified by the General Partner in the notice sent to a Limited Partner, notifying such Limited Partner of the General Partner's determination to completely or partially redeem such Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.6(e) or Section 6.6(b) (the "Redemption Effective Date"), such Limited Partner (the "Redeemed Limited Partner") shall cease to be a Partner of the Partnership for purposes of the withdrawn portion of its interest only and, in addition to its right to receive payment for its withdrawn interest in the Partnership as provided in Section 6.6(d), shall continue to be entitled, with respect to its remaining interest only, if any, to the rights of a Partner under this Agreement (including, without limitation, the right to have any allocations made to its Capital Account (as such may be adjusted) pursuant to Article II, the right to receive distributions pursuant to Article III and upon dissolution of the Partnership pursuant to Article VIII and the right to vote on matters as provided in this Agreement).

(d) The Redemption Value shall be paid by the Partnership to such Redeemed Limited Partner in cash by paying to such Limited Partner a “pro rata portion” of each distribution payable to the Redeemed Limited Partners until the Redemption Value has been fully paid; provided, that the General Partner shall be under no obligation to sell, finance or refinance any Partnership property or assets or to take any other action to effect such redemption which, in the judgment of the General Partner, may affect adversely the Partnership (taking into account the liquidity needs of the Partnership) or any Partner. For purposes of the preceding sentence, a Redeemed Limited Partner’s “pro rata portion” of a distribution shall be an amount equal to the amount such Redeemed Limited Partner would have received in respect of the redeemed interest had such interest not been redeemed.

Section 6.7 Indemnification and Reimbursement for Payments on Behalf of a Partner/Partner Clawback.

(a) If the Partnership is obligated to pay any amount to a governmental agency or to any other person (or otherwise makes a payment) in respect of any tax because of a Partner’s status or otherwise specifically attributable to a Partner (including, without limitation, federal withholding taxes with respect to foreign partners, state personal property taxes, state unincorporated business taxes, etc.), then such Partner (the “Indemnifying Partner”) shall indemnify the Partnership in full for the entire amount paid (including, without limitation, any interest, and any penalties and expenses associated with such payment to the extent such penalties and expenses are attributable to such Partner’s actions or failure to act). At the option of the General Partner, the amount to be indemnified may be charged against the Capital Account of the Indemnifying Partner, and, at the option of the General Partner, either:

(i) promptly upon notification of an obligation to indemnify the Partnership, the Indemnifying Partner shall make a cash payment to the Partnership equal to the full amount to be indemnified (and the amount paid shall be added to the Indemnifying Partner’s Capital Account but shall not be deemed a Capital Contribution hereunder), or

(ii) the Partnership shall reduce subsequent distributions which would otherwise be made to the Indemnifying Partner until the Partnership has recovered the amount to be indemnified (provided, that the amount of such reduction shall be deemed to have been distributed for all purposes of this Agreement, but such deemed distribution shall not further reduce the Indemnifying Partner’s Capital Account). If the General Partner reasonably expects that subsequent distributions to such Partner will be sufficient to satisfy such Partner’s obligation to pay such amount, the General Partner shall not seek a payment pursuant to clause (i) above, until the General Partner reasonably believes such distributions will not be sufficient.

(b) A Partner’s obligation to make contributions to the Partnership under this Section 6.7 shall, subject to the limitations set forth in Section 6.7(c), survive the termination, dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Partnership until the third (3rd) anniversary of the date of the final distribution made in connection with the complete liquidation of the assets of the Partnership and, for purposes of this Section 6.7, the Partnership shall be treated as continuing in existence. The Partnership may pursue and enforce all rights and remedies it may have against each Partner under this Section 6.7, including instituting a lawsuit to collect such contribution with interest equal to the prime or base rate then in effect (as announced by Citibank, N.A., New York, New York) plus six percentage points per annum (but not in excess of the highest rate per annum permitted by law).

(c) At any time and from time to time prior to the third (3rd) anniversary of the date of receipt thereof, the General Partner may require each Partner to return distributions (including distributions made in connection with the complete liquidation of the assets of the Partnership) to the Partnership in an amount sufficient to satisfy all or any portion of (i) such Partner's indemnification obligations pursuant to Section 6.7(a), or (ii) any liability which the Partnership would be required by this Agreement or otherwise to pay if it had adequate funds, including but not limited to (A) the expenses of investigating, defending or handling any pending or threatened litigation or claim arising out of the Partnership's activities, investments or business, (B) the amount of any judgment or settlement arising out of such litigation or claim, and (C) the Partnership's obligation to indemnify any Partner or other Person pursuant to Section 5.11 (a "Liability"), whether such obligations arise before or after the last day of the Partnership or, with respect to any Partner, before or after such Partner's withdrawal from the Partnership; provided, that (x) each Partner will return distributions in respect of its share of any such indemnification payment in proportion to the aggregate amount of distributions received by such Partner that have not previously been returned to the Partnership by such Partner pursuant to this Section 6.7(c); and (y) Partner's maximum liability under this Section 6.7 is limited to an amount equal to the lesser of (1) $33\frac{1}{3}\%$ of such Partner's Commitment, and (2) 50% of the aggregate amount of distributions received by such Partner as of such date. Any distributions returned pursuant to this Section 6.7(c) shall not be treated as Capital Contributions, but shall be treated as returns of distributions in making subsequent distributions pursuant to Section 3.3 and in determining the amount that the General Partner is required to contribute to the Partnership pursuant to Section 8.3(c) (other than for purposes of computing a Partner's Preferred Amount, which shall be computed based on actual Capital Contributions made and distributions received). Nothing in this Section 6.7(c), express or implied, is intended or shall be construed to give any person other than the Partnership or the Partners any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or in respect of this Section 6.7(c) or any provision contained herein. If a Limited Partner returns an amount to the Partnership under Section 6.7(c)(ii) after the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership, the amount the General Partner is required to contribute to the Partnership with respect to such Limited Partner pursuant to Section 8.3(c) shall be re-determined, taking into account the return of such amount to the Partnership. The provisions of Section 8.3(c) shall apply, and the payments required thereby shall be made, in the same manner as if the return of such amount to the Partnership had occurred prior to the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership.

Section 6.8 Section 754 Election. Upon the written request of a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners, that an election provided for in Section 754 of the Code be made, the General Partner shall, if then permitted by applicable law, make such election.

Section 6.9 BHCA Partners.

(a) Any Limited Partner may, upon notice to the General Partner, elect to hold all or any fraction of such Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership as a Non-Voting Interest, in which case such Limited Partner shall not be entitled to vote or otherwise participate in any consent of the Limited Partners with respect to the portion of its interest which is held as a Non-Voting Interest (and such Non-Voting Interest shall not be counted in determining the giving or withholding of any such consent or whether the requisite percentage of the Limited Partners or Partners, as the case may be, have consented to, approved, adopted or taken any other action hereunder). Except as provided in this Section 6.9, an interest held as a Non-Voting Interest shall be identical in all regards to all other interests held by Limited Partners. Any such election shall be irrevocable and shall bind the assignees of such Limited Partner's interest.

(b) Any interest in the Partnership held for its own account by a BHCA Partner, that is determined at the time of admission of such BHCA Partner, the complete or partial withdrawal of another Limited Partner or any other adjustment of the interests of the Partners pursuant to this Agreement to be in excess of 4.99% (or such other amount as may be permitted by applicable regulation to be held by a BHCA Partner as voting securities, but not including Section 4(k) of the BHC Act or any successor provision thereto) of the interests of the Limited Partners, excluding for purposes of calculating this percentage portions of any other interests that are Non-Voting Interests pursuant to this Section 6.9 and any other Section of this Agreement (collectively the "Non-Voting Partnership Interests"), shall be a Non-Voting Partnership Interest (whether or not subsequently transferred in whole or in part to any other person) and shall not be included in determining whether the requisite percentage of the Partners have consented to, approved, adopted or taken any action hereunder; provided, that such Non-Voting Partnership Interest shall be permitted to vote on any proposal to continue the business of the Partnership under Section 8.2(a) but not on the selection of a General Partner pursuant to Section 8.2(a). Each BHCA Partner hereby further irrevocably waives its corresponding right to vote for a successor general partner under Section 17-801 of the Delaware Partnership Act with respect to any Non-Voting Partnership Interest, which waiver shall be binding upon such BHCA Partner and any entity which succeeds to its interest. Upon the occurrence of a subsequent closing or any event specified in the second preceding sentence, a recalculation of the interest held by all BHC Partners shall be made, and only that portion of the total interest held by each BHC Partner that is determined as of the date of such recalculation to be in excess of 4.99% (or such other amount) of the interests of the Limited Partners, excluding Non-Voting Partnership Interests as of such date, shall be a Non-Voting Partnership Interest.

Section 6.10 Excused Investments. In the event that (a) the Partnership makes or proposes to make a Portfolio Investment which the General Partner reasonably determines could result in a material violation by any Limited Partner (or any of its Affiliates) of any law, order, decree or judgment of any court or governmental agency applicable to such Limited Partner (or any of its Affiliates), or (b) the General Partner reasonably determines that a Limited Partner's participation in a proposed Portfolio Investment of the Partnership could have a material adverse effect on the Partnership, the entity in which such investment is to be made, such Limited Partner, or the General Partner and its Affiliates, the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, and subject to Section 5.6(a), (x) reduce or eliminate the interest of the such Limited Partner with respect to such Portfolio Investment and the distributions with respect thereto (provided that any Capital Contributions made by such Limited Partner with respect to such Portfolio Investment shall be promptly returned to such Limited Partner) and correspondingly increase the interest of the other Limited Partners with respect to such Portfolio Investment and/or (y) increase the interest of such Limited Partner in future Portfolio Investments of the Partnership and such Limited Partner's interest in the distributions with respect thereto and correspondingly decrease the interests of the other Limited Partners in such Portfolio Investments. All determinations necessary to reflect the operation of this Section 6.10 and not otherwise explicitly provided for in this Section 6.10 shall be made on an equitable basis as determined by the General Partner in good faith, whose decision thereon shall be final and binding on all Limited Partners. Determinations by the General Partner pursuant to clauses (a) and (b) above may be made on its own initiative or after considering the request of any Limited Partner, including any supporting legal analysis or other documentation submitted by such Limited Partner.

Section 6.11 Limited Partner's Default on Commitment.

(a) If any Limited Partner fails to make full payment of any portion of its Commitment when due (a "Defaulting Partner") and such failure is not cured within five Business Days after receipt by such Limited Partner of written notice from the General Partner with respect to such failure to pay, the General Partner may in its discretion and subject to Section 5.6(a), undertake any one or more of the following steps:

(i) The General Partner may assist the Defaulting Partner in finding a buyer for the Defaulting Partner's Partnership interest (provided, that the General Partner will have no obligation to contact any particular Limited Partner or other person with regard to such sale).

(ii) The Partnership may pursue and enforce all rights and remedies the Partnership may have against such Defaulting Partner with respect thereto, including a lawsuit to collect the overdue portion of the Commitment and any other amounts due the Partnership or General Partner hereunder, with interest at a rate equal to the prime or base rate then in effect (as announced by Citibank, N.A., New York, New York) plus six percentage points (but not in excess of the highest rate per annum permitted by law).

(iii) The General Partner may offer the Defaulting Partner's interest to the Partners and the partners in the Parallel Vehicles (other than any Defaulting Partners) pro rata in accordance with their Commitments and their capital commitments to Parallel Vehicles on the terms set forth below. If any Partner or partner in a Parallel Vehicle does not elect to purchase the entire interest offered to it, the remaining interest allocable to the Partners and the partners in the Parallel Vehicles will be reoffered pro rata to the Partners and the partners in Parallel Vehicles who have purchased the entire interest offered to them until either all of such interest is acquired or no Partner or partner in a Parallel Vehicle wishes to make a further investment. At the closing of such purchase (on a date and at a place designated by the General Partner), each purchasing Partner shall (A) deliver a non-interest bearing, non-recourse (except to the extent of the Partnership interest purchased and the proceeds therefrom) ten-year promissory note (in a form approved by the General Partner) payable to the Defaulting Partner in an amount equal to the portion of the Defaulting Partner's Capital Account being purchased by such Partner, and (B) assume the portion of the Defaulting Partner's obligation to make both defaulted and further Capital Contributions pursuant to its Commitment which is equal to the portion of the Defaulting

Partner's interest being purchased by such Partner. In the case of a purchase of a portion of a Defaulted Partner's Capital Account by one or more partners in a Parallel Vehicle, such Parallel Vehicle shall deliver a note in the same form as the note described above to the Partnership for the aggregate portion of the Defaulted Partner's Capital Account being purchased by the limited partners in such Parallel Vehicle, the Partnership shall make the adjustments described in Section 6.5(d) with respect to such purchase and the Partnership shall distribute such note to the Defaulting Partner. If a Partner purchases a portion of the interest of a defaulting partner of a Parallel Vehicle, the Partner purchasing such interest shall increase its Commitments as described above with respect to purchases of an interest of a Defaulting Partner, and shall guarantee the note delivered to the Parallel Vehicle, and the Partnership shall make such other adjustments as are required by Section 6.5(d). The General Partner will handle the mechanics of making the offers set forth herein and will in its discretion impose time limits for acceptance.

(iv) If the entire Defaulting Partner's interest is not purchased in the manner set forth in (iii) above, the General Partner in its sole discretion may offer the remaining interest either (A) to a third party or parties on the same terms as originally offered to the Partners pursuant to (iii) above (in which case such third party or parties will, as a condition of purchasing such interest, become a party to this Agreement), or (B) to the Partners and the partners in Parallel Vehicles in the manner provided in (iii) above, but with no requirement to assume the Defaulting Partner's obligation to make further capital contributions pursuant to its Commitment, in which case the Defaulting Partner's Commitment shall be deemed reduced (effective on the date of the default) to the amount actually paid in and the aggregate Commitments of the Partnership shall be reduced by the amount of such Defaulting Partner's remaining contributions to be made pursuant to its Commitment.

(v) In addition to, or instead of, the other remedies and undertakings available to the General Partner pursuant to this Section 6.11(a), the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, reduce (effective on the date of the default, after giving effect to the 5-day cure period) any portion of such Defaulting Partner's Commitment (which has not been assumed by another Partner) to the amount of the Capital Contributions (which have not been purchased by another Partner) made by such Defaulting Partner (net of distributions pursuant to Section 6.5(b)) and the aggregate Commitments of the Partnership shall be commensurately reduced.

(vi) Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, from and after any date on which a Defaulting Partner's Commitment is reduced pursuant to subparagraph (v) above, (A) such Defaulting Partner will have no right to receive any distributions, except for distributions made upon the Partnership's liquidation, (B) such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account will not be credited with any Investment Income and Gain or Short-Term Investment Income which shall instead be allocated to the Partners (other than any Defaulting Partners) in accordance with Section 2.3(b) and (c), as appropriate (and as adjusted to treat the Defaulting Partner's Capital Contribution as equal to zero), (C) until such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account is reduced to zero, (1) such Defaulting Partner's Capital Account shall continue to be debited in accordance with Sections 2.3(c), (d), (f), and (g) for such Defaulting Partner's share of Investment Loss, Organizational Expenses, Placement Fees and Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses as if there had been no reduction in such Defaulting Partner's Commitment or Capital Contributions and (2) the Management Fee payable by the Defaulting Partner shall be calculated as if there had been no reduction in such Defaulting Partner's Commitment, and (D) once such

Defaulting Partner's Capital Account is reduced to zero, (1) such Defaulting Partner's Commitment shall be reduced to zero for all purposes of the Agreement, including the calculation of the Partnership's aggregate Commitments and determination of the Management Fee and (2) such Defaulting Partner (and not the Partnership or any other Limited Partner) shall be liable each quarterly period to the General Partner for an amount equal to its portion of the Management Fee for such period as if there had been no reduction in such Defaulting Partner's Commitment.

(vii) No consent of any Limited Partner shall be required as a condition precedent to any transfer, assignment or other disposition of a Defaulting Partner's interest pursuant to this Section 6.11.

(b) Additionally, the Defaulting Partner shall indemnify and hold harmless the General Partner and the Partnership against any losses, damages and expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred by the General Partner and the Partnership in enforcing or attempting to enforce the provisions of this Section 6.11 or resulting from the Partnership failing to meet its obligations with respect to any Portfolio Investment by reason of any such default.

Section 6.12 Investment Company Act Limitations. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, (i) no person shall be admitted to the Partnership as Limited Partner, an Additional Limited Partner or a substitute Limited Partner unless such person is a Qualified Purchaser, and (ii) no sale, assignment, transfer, pledge, mortgage or other disposition of any or all of a Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership shall be effective unless the assignee of any beneficial interest in the Partnership is a Qualified Purchaser.

ARTICLE VII

Section 7.1 Advisory Committee. (a) A committee (an "Advisory Committee") of not fewer than three individuals and not more than seven individuals who are affiliated with or officers, employees, representatives or designees of Limited Partners or limited partners of Parallel Vehicles (but are not affiliated with the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or any Affiliates thereof) will be appointed by the General Partner. The General Partner will not appoint to the Advisory Committee any individual who is an officer, employee or representative of a BHC Partner whose Partner Interest in the Partnership is over 4.99%. The Advisory Committee will meet at least semi-annually with the Manager and will perform such duties as is contemplated by this Agreement and provide such advice and counsel, including advice and counsel as to general economic and financial trends, portfolio investments and valuations, as is requested by the General Partner in connection with the investments of the Partnership, the Parallel Vehicles and the Separate Investment Entities, and other matters related thereto; provided, that the General Partner will retain ultimate responsibility for all decisions relating to the operation and management of the Partnership, including all investment decisions. The Advisory Committee will be consulted on potential conflicts involving the Partnership and will perform the duties contemplated by this Agreement and all transactions between the Partnership and the General Partner, the Manager and their Affiliates not specifically contemplated by this Agreement must be approved by the Advisory Committee. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Advisory Committee will not consult with the General Partner on allocations of investment opportunities to Affiliates of the Manager or client accounts managed by the Manager if such allocations are made in accordance with the Highland Investment Allocation Policy. The Manager shall be entitled to remove a member of the Advisory Committee selected by the Manager from among the Limited Partners (or their representatives) upon at least 15 days prior written notice to the Limited Partners, provided, however, that the Manager may not remove a member of the Advisory Committee designated by a Limited Partner without the consent of 75% of the other members of the Advisory Committee. The Limited Partner that had the right to designate the removed member of the Advisory Committee shall have the right to designate a replacement. The Partnership will reimburse each member of the Advisory Committee for such member's reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in attending meetings of the Advisory Committee. Such reimbursements shall be Partnership Expenses. The Advisory Committee shall act by affirmative vote or written consent of a majority of its members.

(b) Neither the members of the Advisory Committee, nor the Limited Partners on behalf of whom such members act as representatives, shall owe any duties (fiduciary or otherwise) to the Partnership or any other Limited Partner in respect of the activities of the Advisory Committee, other than the duty to act in good faith.

ARTICLE VIII

DURATION AND TERMINATION

Section 8.1 Duration. The Partnership will terminate on the tenth anniversary of the Final Closing, except that the term of the Partnership may be extended by the General Partner, with the approval of the Advisory Committee, for up to two consecutive one-year extensions.

Section 8.2 Early Termination.

(a) The Partnership shall terminate on:

(i) the bankruptcy of the General Partner or on the happening of any other event that would cause a dissolution of the Partnership under the Delaware Partnership Act unless, within 90 days after notice is given to the Limited Partners of the occurrence of such event, the Limited Partners and limited partners of all Parallel Vehicles unanimously select a new general partner and resolve to continue the business of the Partnership;

(ii) a good faith determination upon receipt of written legal advice of counsel by the General Partner that dissolution of the Partnership is necessary or desirable (A) as a result of a Plan Asset Event or (B) to avoid any material adverse consequences to the Partnership or the General Partner as a result of any law applicable to a Regulated Investor;

(iii) the removal of the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.9 unless all of the Limited Partners and all limited partners of Parallel Vehicles select a successor general partner and resolve to continue the business of the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.9; or

(iv) at any time after the second anniversary of the Final Closing upon the consent of Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(b) As promptly as possible following the election by the Limited Partners of a successor General Partner pursuant to Section 8.2(a)(i), there shall be distributed to the former General Partner, in full payment and satisfaction of its interest in the Partnership, a Limited Partnership Interest in the Partnership. The Limited Partnership Interest of the former General Partner shall entitle the former General Partner to the same distributions and allocations in respect of Portfolio Investments made prior to the termination of the former General Partner it would have received had it remained the General Partner, subject to the obligations set forth in Section 8.3(c), and to the rights of a Limited Partner hereunder with a Commitment equal to the Commitment of the former General Partner, but shall not entitle it to any other rights to participate in the management of the Partnership. After its withdrawal as General Partner, a former General Partner shall only be liable under this Agreement for actions taken and investments in Portfolio Companies made prior to the date of such withdrawal. If the Limited Partners elect to continue the Partnership's business pursuant to Section 8.2(a)(i), an appropriate amendment to this Agreement and to the Certificate shall be made within 90 days after the event giving rise to such election.

Section 8.3 Termination and Liquidation of Partnership Interests; Annual Determination of General Partner Give Back.

(a) Liquidation. Upon termination, the Partnership will be liquidated in an orderly manner. The General Partner (or, in the absence, bankruptcy or removal under Section 5.9, of the General Partner, the party selected by a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners) will be the liquidator to wind up the affairs of the Partnership pursuant to this Agreement.

(b) Final Allocation and Distribution. Upon termination of the Partnership (whether or not an early termination), the General Partner will make a final allocation of all kinds of income, loss and expense in accordance with Article II hereof and the Partnership's liabilities and obligations to its creditors shall be paid or adequately provided for prior to any distributions to the Partners. After payment or provision for payment of all debts of the Partnership, the remaining assets, if any, will be distributed among the Partners as provided in Sections 3.2 and 3.3.

(c) General Partner Give Back. Within 90 days after the termination of the Commitment Period and after the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership among the Partners as provided in Sections 3.2 and 3.3 (each of the termination of the Commitment Period and the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership, a "Determination Date"), the General Partner will make a Capital Contribution to the Partnership with respect to each Limited Partner (and such amount will be distributed to the Limited Partners in proportion to the amounts determined with respect to each Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 8.3(c)), equal to the greater of:

(i) the amount by which (A) (x) the aggregate distributions to the General Partner pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(ii) and 3.3(a)(iii) (including amounts initially distributed pursuant to Section 3.3(b)) with respect to such Limited Partner's Partner Share of distributions pursuant to Section 3.3(a) as of the applicable Determination Date less (y) all amounts previously contributed by the General Partner pursuant to this Section 8.3(c) with respect to such Limited Partner, exceed (B) 20% of the excess of (x) such Limited Partner's Partner Share of all distributions pursuant to Section 3.3(a) from the Partnership as of the applicable Determination Date (including amounts distributed to the General Partner pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(ii) and 3.3(a)(iii), but reduced by any amounts previously contributed by the General Partner pursuant to this Section 8.3(c)) over (y) the aggregate Capital Contributions made by such Limited Partner to the Partnership as of the applicable Determination Date; and

(ii) the amount by which all distributions received by such Limited Partner as of the applicable Determination Date are less than the sum of such Limited Partner's Capital Contributions as of the applicable Determination Date, plus such Limited Partner's aggregate Preferred Amount as of the applicable Determination Date; provided, however, that the aggregate General Partner Capital Contributions pursuant to this Section 8.3(c) will not exceed the excess, if any, of (x) an amount equal to 100% of the net amount distributed to the General Partner with respect to such Limited Partner over the entire term of the Partnership (other than Tax Distributions) pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(ii) and 3.3(a)(iii) over (y) the Built-In Tax Amount with respect to any distribution of securities in-kind received by the General Partner with respect to such Limited Partner.

(d) The General Partner hereby covenants and agrees that each of the members of the General Partner entitled to receive Carried Interest distributions from the General Partner has guaranteed and will guaranty severally, but not jointly, the payment of his, her or its pro rata share of the payments required by Section 8.3(c) to the extent and on the terms set forth in the Guaranty Agreement.

(e) Special Profit Interest Give Back. After the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership among the Partners as provided in this Section 8.3 (and Article III hereof), but prior to the application of Section 8.3(c), the General Partner shall be obligated to make aggregate Capital Contributions to the Partnership, within 30 days after the date of such final distribution, in an amount equal to the sum of the excess, if any, of (i) the distributions received by the General Partner on account of the Special Profit Interest attributable to each Waived Fee Amount over (ii) the Available Profits with respect to such Waived Fee Amount. The distributions described in clause (i) of the preceding sentence with respect to a Waived Fee Amount are the Special Profit Interest distributions attributable to the Portfolio Company with respect to which the General Partner applied such Waived Fee Amount pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(ii), treating the Waived Fee Amounts as having been applied on a "first-in, first-out" basis. Amounts distributed to the General Partner pursuant to Section 3.3(f) shall be treated for this purpose as proceeds from Portfolio Company made on the date of each Waived Fee Notice giving rise to Waived Fee Amounts that are not applied to Portfolio Company pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(ii). For purposes of applying the first sentence of this Section 8.3(e), Partnership Profits shall not be treated as Available Profits with respect to more than one Waived Fee Amount. All such amounts returned to the Partnership shall be distributed to the Partners (other than a Defaulting Partner or the General Partner) in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.3. All determinations and calculations pursuant to this Section 8.3(e) shall be made by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

ARTICLE IX

VALUATION OF PARTNERSHIP ASSETS

Section 9.1 Normal Valuation. For purposes of this Agreement, the value of any security as of any date (or in the event such date is a holiday or other day which is not a Business Day, as of the next preceding Business Day) will be determined as follows:

(a) a Marketable Security which is listed on a recognized securities exchange or the NMS will be valued at the average of the last sales prices (or, if no sale occurred on such date, at the last "bid" price thereon) for the five consecutive trading days before such date and the five consecutive trading days after such date;

(b) a Marketable Security which is traded over-the-counter (other than on the NMS) will be valued at the average of the last "bid" prices for the five consecutive trading days before such date and the five consecutive trading days after such date;

(c) subject to Section 9.3, all Non-Marketable Securities will be valued on such date by the General Partner at fair market value in such manner as it may determine; and

(d) a Marketable Security which meets clause (ii), but not clause (i) of the definition of "Marketable Securities" will be valued as if it had been converted, exchanged or exercised as of such date.

Section 9.2 Restrictions on Transfer or Blockage. Any security which is held under a representation that it has been acquired for investment and not with a view to public sale or distribution, or which is held subject to any other restriction, or where the size of the Partnership's holdings compared to the trading volume would affect its marketability, will, subject to the provisions of Section 9.3, be valued at such discount from the value determined under Section 9.1 above as the General Partner deems necessary to reflect properly the marketability of such security.

Section 9.3 Objection to Valuation. Prior to acting upon its final valuation of any security pursuant to Sections 9.1 or 9.2 or its determination of written down value pursuant to Section 9.4, the General Partner shall provide the members of the Advisory Committee with notice and backup support of the General Partner's valuation of such security. If within 30 days after delivery of such notice a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee delivers written notice to the General Partner objecting to the valuation of such security and if, within 15 days from the date on which the General Partner receives such notice from a majority of the Advisory Committee, the General Partner and the Advisory Committee cannot agree on the valuation of such security, then the General Partner will (at the Partnership's expense) cause an independent securities expert mutually acceptable to the General Partner and the Advisory Committee to review such valuation, and such expert's determination will be binding on the parties.

Section 9.4 Write-down to Value. Any Portfolio Investment that has permanently declined in value as determined by the General Partner will be written down to its value (or, if applicable, written off) pursuant to the provisions of this Article IX, including the valuation provisions of Section 9.3, as of the date of such determination. The General Partner shall provide the Advisory Committee at least annually with the then current valuation of all Portfolio Investments.

BOOKS OF ACCOUNTS; MEETINGS

Section 10.1 Books. The Partnership will maintain complete and accurate books of account of the Partnership's affairs at the Partnership's principal office, which books will be open to inspection by any Partner (or its authorized representative) at any time during ordinary business hours.

Section 10.2 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Partnership will be the calendar year, unless otherwise determined by the General Partner.

Section 10.3 Reports. The General Partner will furnish the Limited Partners:

(a) within 60 days after the end of each of the first three quarters of each fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 2008, and with respect to the fourth quarter in each fiscal year at the time of delivery of the annual financial statements under Section 10.3(c), (i) unaudited quarterly financial statements (including balance sheet and income statement (including additions, dispositions and write-offs)) showing each Partner's Capital Account prepared in accordance with GAAP, applied on a consistent basis (except that, in accordance with GAAP, such quarterly financial reports may omit footnotes and year-end adjustments, accruals and reserves), and (ii) a schedule of investments including the Partnership's cost and the value of such investments prepared in accordance with Article IX;

(b) within 60 days after the end of each of the first three quarters of each fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 2008, and with respect to the fourth quarter in each fiscal year at the time of delivery of the annual financial statements under Section 10.3(c), unaudited quarterly descriptive investment information for each Portfolio Company and narrative summary financial information for each Portfolio Company, including revenues, EBITDA and net debt;

(c) within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 2008, (i) financial statements for such year prepared in accordance with GAAP, applied on a consistent basis (certified by a firm of independent certified public accountants of recognized national standing selected by the General Partner), (ii) valuations of the Partnership's investments as of the end of such year (including a statement of each Partner's closing Capital Account) prepared in accordance with Article IX, and (iii) the certification to Benefit Plan Investors confirming that the Partnership continues to qualify for an exception from Plan Assets described in the last sentence of Section 5.6(a) and a certification regarding the Partnership's compliance in all material respects with Article III hereof; and

(d) within 90 days after the end of each fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 2008, (subject to reasonable delays in the event of late receipt of any necessary financial statements or other information necessary to prepare tax returns in respect of any Portfolio Investment), the Partnership's tax return and the Limited Partners' respective forms K-1.

Section 10.4 Tax Allocation.

(a) Except as otherwise set forth in this Section 10.4(a), the income, gains, losses, deductions and credits of the Partnership will be allocated, for federal, state and local income tax purposes, among the Partners in accordance with the allocation of such income, gains, losses, deductions and credits among the Partners for computing their Capital Accounts, except that if any such allocation is not permitted by the Code or other applicable law, the Partnership's subsequent income, gains, losses, deductions and credits will be allocated among the Partners so as to reflect as nearly as possible the allocation set forth herein in computing their Capital Accounts. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, in the event the Basis of any asset of the Partnership differs from its adjusted tax basis for federal income tax purposes, subsequent allocations of income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to such asset shall take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such asset for federal income tax purposes and its Basis in the same manner as under Section 704(c) of the Code and the Regulations thereunder.

(b) If any Partner is treated for income tax purposes as realizing ordinary income because of receipt of his, her or its Partnership interest (whether under Section 83 of the Code or any similar provisions of any law, rule or regulation or any other applicable law, rule, regulation or doctrine) and the Partnership is entitled to any offsetting deduction, the Partnership's deduction will be allocated among the Partners in such manner as to, as nearly as possible, offset such ordinary income realized by such Partner. If the Internal Revenue Service successfully asserts an adjustment to the taxable income of a Partner and, as a result of such adjustment, the Partnership is entitled to a deduction for federal income tax purposes in excess of any gain recognized by the Partnership, such excess deduction shall be allocated to such Partner. If the Internal Revenue Service successfully asserts an adjustment to the taxable income of the Partnership and, as a result of such adjustment, any Partner is entitled to a deduction for federal income tax purposes in excess of any gain recognized by such Partner, the additional Partnership taxable income shall be allocated to such Partner. If the Internal Revenue Service successfully asserts an adjustment to the taxable income of the Partnership disallowing deductions for any of the fees paid or payable to the General Partner, then additional Partnership taxable income allocable to the Partners as a result of such disallowance shall be reallocated to the General Partner.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, if a Partner unexpectedly receives an adjustment, allocation or distribution described in Treasury Regulation § 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii) (d)(4), (5) or (6) which gives rise to a negative Capital Account (or which would give rise to a negative Capital Account when added to expected adjustments, allocations or distributions of the same type), such Partner will be allocated items of income and gain in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate such deficit balance as quickly as possible; provided that the Partnership's subsequent income, gains, losses, deductions and credits will be allocated among the Partners so as to achieve as nearly as possible the results that would have been achieved if this Section 10.4(c) had not been in this Agreement, except that no such allocation shall be made which would violate the provisions or purposes of Treasury Regulation § 1.704-1(b).

Section 10.5 Tax Controversies. The General Partner is hereby designated the "Tax Matters Partner" (as defined in Section 6231 of the Code), and is authorized and required to represent the Partnership (at the Partnership's expense) in connection with all examinations of the Partnership's business and affairs by tax authorities, including resulting administrative and judicial proceedings, and to expend Partnership funds for professional services and costs associated therewith. Each Limited Partner agrees to cooperate with the General Partner and to do or refrain from doing any or all things reasonably requested by the General Partner with respect to the conduct of such proceedings. The General Partner shall provide the Limited Partners with all notices required to be provided to them by law in connection with such proceedings, and shall otherwise keep the Limited Partners reasonably informed of the progress thereof.

Section 10.6 Certain Tax Elections. The Partnership shall not, without the consent of all Partners, file an election (i) pursuant to Section 761 of the Code not to be treated as a partnership, or (ii) pursuant to Treasury Regulation §301.7701-3(c) to be treated as an association taxable as a corporation.

Section 10.7 Code Section 83 Safe Harbor Election.

(a) Notice 2005-43. By executing this Agreement, each Partner authorizes and directs the Partnership to elect to have the "Safe Harbor" described in the proposed Revenue Procedure set forth in Internal Revenue Service Notice 2005-43 (the "Notice") apply to any interest in the Partnership transferred to a service provider by the Partnership on or after the effective date of such Revenue Procedure in connection with services provided to the Partnership. For purposes of making such Safe Harbor election, the General Partner is hereby designated as the "partner who has responsibility for federal income tax reporting" by the Partnership and, accordingly, execution of such Safe Harbor election by the General Partner constitutes execution of a "Safe Harbor Election" in accordance with section 3.03(1) of the Notice. The Partnership and each Partner hereby agrees to comply with all requirements of the Safe Harbor described in the Notice, including, without limitation, the requirement that each Partner shall prepare and file all federal income tax returns reporting the income tax effects of each "Safe Harbor Partnership Interest" (as described in Section 3.02 of the Notice) issued by the Partnership in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Notice.

(b) Amendment. Each Partner authorizes the General Partner to amend Section 10.7(a) to the extent necessary to achieve substantially the same tax treatment with respect to any interest in the Partnership transferred to a service provider by the Partnership in connection with services provided to the Partnership as set forth in section 4 of the Notice (e.g., to reflect changes from the rules set forth in the Notice in subsequent Internal Revenue Service guidance), provided that such amendment is not materially adverse to any Partner (as compared with the after-tax consequences that would result if the provisions of the Notice applied to all interests in the Partnership transferred to a service provider by the Partnership in connection with services provided to the Partnership).

Section 10.8 Tax Basis Elections. Each Limited Partner hereby agrees and covenants that, with respect to such Partner's interest in the Partnership, it shall not make an election under Section 732(d) of the Code without the prior written consent of the General Partner. Each Limited Partner hereby acknowledges and agrees that the Partnership may, but shall not be obligated to, elect to be treated as an electing investment Partnership under Section 743(e) of the Code in the event the Partnership qualifies to do so. In such event, each transferring Limited Partner hereby agrees to provide the Partnership and its transferee with the timely notice required in IRS Notice 2005-32, or any successor guidance or interpretations(s), including such information as is necessary to enable such transferee to compute the amount of losses disallowed under Section 743(e) of the Code. Alternatively, in the event that the Partnership elects or is required to adjust the basis of the Partnership property under Section 743 of the Code, each Limited Partner hereby agrees to promptly provide the General Partner with any information reasonably requested by the General Partner in connection with such adjustment to the basis of Partnership property. In addition, to the extent that the transfer to a Limited Partner (or the transfer of interests in a Limited Partner) results in the Partnership adjusting the basis of Partnership property, each Limited Partner that received an interest in the Partnership by reason of such transfer (or, in the case of the transfer of interest in a Limited Partner, such Limited Partner) hereby agrees to reimburse the Partnership and/or the General Partner within 10 Business Days for any expenses (including without limitation accounting fees) reasonably incurred by the Partnership and/or the General Partner (and their respective affiliates) in connection with effecting such adjustments to the basis of Partnership property as it relates to such transfer. The General Partner is hereby authorized by each Limited Partner, with respect to any distribution to which such Limited Partner might otherwise be entitled, to defer making such distribution to such Limited Partner, if at the time such distribution would otherwise be effected, such Limited Partner has not satisfied its obligation to make the reimbursements provided for in the preceding sentence within the period specified therein.

Section 10.9 Annual Meeting. The General Partner will hold annual general informational meetings for the Limited Partners until such time, after the termination of the Commitment Period, that substantially all of the Portfolio Investments have been Disposed..

CERTIFICATE OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP; POWER OF ATTORNEY

Section 11.1 Certificate of Partnership. A certificate of Limited Partnership within the meaning of the Delaware Partnership Act (the "Certificate") will be prepared upon the execution and delivery of this Agreement. The General Partner will cause the Certificate to be filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware and, to the extent required by local law, in the appropriate place in each state in which the Partnership may hereafter establish a place of business; provided, however, that the Partnership will not be obligated to provide the Limited Partners with a copy of any amendment to or restatement of the Certificate other than any amendment or restatement required to be filed in connection with an amendment of this Agreement pursuant to Section 12.1. The General Partner will also cause to be filed, recorded and published such statements, notices, certificates or other instruments required by any provision of any applicable law which governs the formation of the Partnership or the conduct of its business from time to time.

Section 11.2 Power of Attorney. Each of the undersigned does hereby constitute and appoint each member of the General Partner and each person who hereafter becomes a member of the General Partner with full power to act without the others, as his, her or its true and lawful representative and attorney-in-fact, in her, his or its name, place and stead, to make, execute, sign, acknowledge and deliver or file (a) the Certificate, (b) any amendment to or cancellation of the Certificate or any amendment to, or waiver of, this Agreement effected in accordance with Section 12.1, (c) all instruments, documents and certificates which may from time to time be required by any law to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence of the Partnership, (d) all instruments, documents and certificates which may be required to effectuate the dissolution and termination of the Partnership, and (e) in the case of a Defaulting Partner any bills of sale or other appropriate transfer documents necessary to effectuate transfers of such Defaulting Partner's interest pursuant to Section 6.11 above. The powers of attorney granted herein will be deemed to be coupled with an interest, will be irrevocable and will survive the death, incompetency, disability or dissolution of a Limited Partner. Without limiting the foregoing, the powers of attorney granted herein will not be deemed to constitute the written consent of any Limited Partner for purposes of Section 12.1. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, the foregoing power of attorney may not be exercised by the General Partner after the occurrence of an event specified in Section 8.2 or the removal of the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.9.

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 12.1 Amendments.

(a) This Agreement may be amended only by the written consent of the General Partner and, except as otherwise provided in this Section 12.1, a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment will be valid as to any Limited Partner (including a Defaulting Partner) which (i) increases or decreases such Limited Partner's Commitment without the written consent of such Limited Partner or (ii) amends the provisions of this Section 12.1(b).

(c) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment will be valid as to any Limited Partner (including a Defaulting Partner) which alters (i) the provisions of Sections 2.3, 3.3, 4.1, 6.1, 8.3(c) or the provisions of this Section 12.1(c), (ii) the provisions of Section 6.7(c) in a manner that increases a Limited Partner's potential obligations, or (iii) any other provision of this Agreement, in a manner adverse to such Limited Partner, without the written consent of such Limited Partner; provided, however, that with respect to clause (iii), if such Limited Partner is not treated differently in any material respect from any other Limited Partner then such amendment will be valid with only the written consent of the General Partner and the Limited Partners representing at least a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(d) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment will be valid as to any Limited Partner (including a Defaulting Partner), which alters the provisions of Sections 1.3, 5.4, 5.10, 5.11, 12.1 or any provision which requires the consent or vote of at least Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners without the written consent of the General Partner and at least Two-Thirds in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(e) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment which would alter the provisions of Sections 5.5, 6.6 and the provisions of this Section 12.1(e), or, with respect to Benefit Plan Investors, Sections 5.6, 12.1(e), and the provisions in Section 5.15 relating to Benefit Plan Investors or the definitions of Benefit Plan Investor or Redemption Value, will be valid without the written consent of at least a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners that are materially and adversely affected by such amendment (including Limited Partners whose direct or indirect beneficial owners would be so affected).

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment will be valid as to any Limited Partner (including a Defaulting Partner), which alters any provision which requires the consent or vote of at least Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited Partners or the provisions of this Section 12.1(f) without the written consent of the General Partner and at least Seventy-Five Percent in Interest of the Limited Partners.

(g) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, no amendment shall be made which would amend the provisions hereof relating to the rights of BHCA Partners without the consent of each BHCA Partner affected thereby.

(h) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 12.1 to the contrary, the General Partner may amend any provisions of this Agreement solely as it relates to a Limited Partner pursuant to one or more side letters with such Limited Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners not party to such side letters.

(i) In addition to any amendments or waivers otherwise authorized hereby, this Agreement may be amended from time to time by the General Partner without the consent of any of the Limited Partners (i) to add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner or surrender any right or power (but not responsibilities) granted to the General Partner herein; (ii) to cure any ambiguity or correct any provisions hereof which may be inconsistent with any other provisions hereof, or correct any printing, stenographic or clerical errors or omissions; (iii) to admit one or more Additional Limited Partners, or withdraw one or more Limited Partners, in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, and (iv) with the consent of the Advisory Committee, to take such actions contemplated in Section 5.6(e) or avoid any material adverse consequences to the Partnership or the General Partner as a result of any change in law or interpretation of law applicable to a Regulated Investor. The General Partner shall promptly send each Limited Partner a copy of any amendment adopted pursuant to Section 12.1.

Section 12.2 Successors. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement will inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the Partners and their legal representatives, heirs, successors and assigns.

Section 12.3 Governing Law; Severability. This Agreement will be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware and, to the maximum extent possible, in such manner as to comply with all the terms and conditions of the Delaware Partnership Act. If it is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that any provision of this Agreement is invalid under applicable law, such provision will be ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition or invalidity, without invalidating the remainder of this Agreement.

Section 12.4 Notices. All notices, demands and other communications to be given and delivered under or by reason of provisions under this Agreement will be in writing and will be deemed to have been given when personally delivered, sent by telecopy (with hard copy to follow by reputable overnight courier) or sent by reputable overnight courier service (charges prepaid) or mailed by first class mail (with a copy sent by telecopy) to the addresses or telecopy numbers set forth in Schedule I hereto or to such other address or telecopy number as has been indicated to all Partners.

Section 12.5 Legal Counsel. Each Partner hereby agrees and acknowledges that:

(a) The law firm retained by the General Partner, the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicle or Separate Investment Entity (the "GP's Counsel") in connection with the formation of the Partnership, the offering of Limited Partner interests and the management and operation of the Partnership does not and will not represent the Limited Partners in connection with any such matter or in connection with any dispute which may arise between the Limited Partners on one hand and the General Partner, the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicle or Separate Investment Entity on the other (the "Partnership Legal Matters").

(b) Each Limited Partner will, if it wishes counsel on a Partnership Legal Matter, retain its own independent counsel with respect to each of the foregoing matters described in Section 12.5(a).

(c) Each Limited Partner hereby agrees that the GP's Counsel may represent (i) the General Partner and the Partnership and any Parallel Vehicle or Separate Investment Entity in connection with any and all Partnership Legal Matters (including any dispute between the General Partner and one or more Limited Partners, but excluding a Limited Partner's derivative action brought against the General Partner).

Section 12.6 Miscellaneous. This document and the schedules, exhibits and side letter agreements between the Partnership and certain of the Limited Partners in connection herewith and the Subscription Agreements contain the entire Agreement among the parties and supersede all prior arrangements or understanding with respect thereto. Descriptive headings are for convenience only and will not control or affect the meaning or construction of any provision of this Agreement. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, any one of which need not contain the signatures of more than one party, but all of such counterparts together will constitute one agreement.

Schedule 1 Limited Partners/Partnership Percentage Interest/Notice Information

AMENDED AND RESTATED
HIGHLAND RESTORATION CAPITAL PARTNERS MASTER, L.P.

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED AGREEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP (this “Agreement”) is dated effective as of April 18, 2008 between Highland Restoration Capital Partners GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership, the “General Partner”), and the limited partners listed in Schedule 1 attached hereto (in their capacities as limited partners of the Partnership, the “Limited Partners”) (the General Partner and the Limited Partners being herein collectively called the “Partners”). Capitalized terms not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in Section 2.1(a).

The General Partner and certain of the Limited Partners entered into an Agreement of Limited Partnership, dated as of November 15, 2007 (the “Original Agreement”). The parties hereto wish to amend and restate the Original Agreement in the manner set forth herein.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1.1 Formation. The Partners hereby agree to form a limited partnership (the “Partnership”) pursuant to and in accordance with the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act (the “Delaware Partnership Act”).

Section 1.2 Name. The name of the Partnership will be “Highland Restoration Capital Partners Master, L.P.” or such other name or names as the General Partner may from time to time designate. The General Partner will notify Limited Partners in writing of any change to the name of the Partnership.

Section 1.3 Purpose. Subject to the express limitations set forth herein and in the Offshore Fund Agreement, the Partnership is organized for the object and purpose of (i) investing in senior secured bank loans, debt obligations, trade claims and equity securities of middle market Distressed Companies primarily based in the United States generally consistent with the investment strategy described in the Partnership’s Confidential Private Placement Memorandum, including, without limitation, privately placed or publicly traded debt securities and other debt obligations, senior and subordinated debt obligations, secured and unsecured debt obligations, privately placed or publicly traded equity securities including common stock, preferred stock and warrants, (ii) managing and monitoring such investments and (iii) engaging in such activities incidental or ancillary thereto and otherwise permitted by the Delaware Partnership Act as the General Partner deems necessary or advisable.

Section 1.4 Place of Business. The Partnership will maintain offices and places of business at Two Galleria Tower, 13455 Noel Road, Dallas, TX 75240, or at such other place or places in the United States as the General Partner may from time to time designate; provided, however, that if the General Partner designates different places of business, it shall promptly notify the Limited Partners in writing.

ARTICLE II

DEFINITIONS; DETERMINATIONS; CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS; CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Section 2.1 Definitions; Determinations.

(a) For purposes of this Agreement the following capitalized terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

“Affiliate” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Agreement” has the meaning set forth in the introduction.

“Allocated Expenses” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Available Profits” means, with respect to a Waived Fee Amount, the cumulative amount of items of Partnership income and gain (such items being “Partnership Profits”) realized after the Waived Fee Notice giving rise to such Waived Fee Amount. The amount of Partnership Profits realized after a Waived Fee Notice for the purpose of this Available Profits definition shall equal the amount of Partnership income and gain realized after the Waived Fee Notice for purposes of maintaining Capital Accounts; provided, however, the amount of Partnership gain realized after a Waived Fee Notice that is attributable to any Portfolio Investment held by the Partnership at the time of such Waived Fee Notice that is taken into account in calculating Partnership Profits shall equal the excess, if any, of (1) the amount the Partnership realizes on the sale, transfer, or other disposition of such Portfolio Investment or its assets over (2) the fair market value (as determined by the General Partner) of such Portfolio Investment or its assets, as applicable, on the date of such Waived Fee Notice. Notwithstanding the two preceding sentences, the aggregate amount of all items of Partnership Profits for any taxable year included in Available Profits shall not exceed the total amount of the Partnership’s net income and gain for such taxable year as determined for federal income tax purposes, except that gain attributable to a Portfolio Investment shall be determined as described in the proviso to the preceding sentence. Notwithstanding the three preceding sentences, to the extent of the amount by which the Special Profit Interest with respect to a Portfolio Investment exceeds the Deemed Contribution with respect to such Portfolio Investment, Available Profits includes an allocable share of all items of income or gain realized by the Partnership with respect to such Portfolio Investment.

“Basis” of any security means the basis of such security as determined in accordance with the Code less the amount of any write-down pursuant to Section 9.4 of the Offshore Fund Agreement and as further adjusted by the General Partner in its reasonable discretion to reverse the effects of any exchange of securities that would result in an increase in tax basis pursuant to the Code.

“Bridge Financing” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Built-In Tax Amount” means, with respect to any distribution of securities in-kind received by the General Partner, an amount equal to the taxes that would be payable by the General Partner (and its direct and indirect members), assuming (i) such securities were sold in a taxable transaction immediately after their receipt by the General Partner for an amount equal to their value and (ii) any gains were taxed at the highest marginal rates applicable to any of the General Partner’s members or former members, applying the assumptions set forth in Section 3.3(b) in the same manner as if such securities had been sold by the Partnership immediately before such distribution.

“Business Day” means any day other than (i) Saturday or Sunday or (ii) any other day on which banks located in New York City generally are closed for business.

“Capital Account” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.3.

“Capital Contribution” of any Partner means the amount received by the Partnership from such Partner as an actual contribution.

“Capitalized Partnership Expenses” means Partnership Expenses that are reflected in the Basis of Portfolio Investments.

“Carried Interest” means the General Partner’s 20% interest in the Partnership’s distributions specified in Section 3.3(a)(ii)(A) and Section 3.3(a)(iii)(B).

“Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

“Commitment” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Commitment Period” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Current Cash Income” means all Current Income paid in cash or cash equivalents.

“Current Income” means all interest and dividend income (including from original issue discount, purchases or investments at a market discount, and payment of in-kind income and other non-cash current income) from a Portfolio Company.

“Deemed Contribution” means, as of any date, for any Portfolio Investment or the payment of expenses incurred directly in connection with the making, maintaining or disposing of such Portfolio Investment, the Gross-up Percentage multiplied by the product of (i) the amount by which the Capital Contributions required from the General Partner pursuant to the Offshore Fund Agreement are reduced pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(ii) of the Offshore Fund Agreement with respect to such Portfolio Investment or the payment of related expenses, multiplied by (ii) (1) with respect to the General Partner, the quotient determined by dividing (x) the aggregate Commitments of all Partners in the Offshore Fund (including the General Partner) other than Limited Partners as to whom no Management Fee is payable pursuant to Section 4.1(b) by (y) the aggregate Commitments of all Partners in the Offshore Fund, and (2) with respect to each Limited Partner as to whom no Management Fee is payable pursuant to Section

4.1(b), the quotient determined by dividing (x) the Commitment of such Limited Partner by (y) the aggregate Commitments of all Partners.

“Disposition” or “Disposed of” means, with respect to all or a portion of a Portfolio Investment, (i) except as provided in the next sentence, the sale, exchange or other disposition by the Partnership of all or a portion of the securities or other interests constituting that Portfolio Investment for cash, securities or other property, (ii) the receipt by the Partnership of a distribution of the proceeds of the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the Portfolio Company in complete liquidation of the Partnership’s entire interest in the Portfolio Investment and (iii) an in-kind distribution of all or part of a Portfolio Investment that has not previously been deemed to have been Disposed of, as of the date of and to the extent of such distribution. A “Disposition” does not include (i) a recapitalization that consists of an exchange of a Portfolio Investment for other securities of or claims against the issuing Portfolio Company, (ii) a business combination that consists of an exchange of substantially all of the Partnership’s remaining interest in a Portfolio Investment for securities issued by an acquiring entity, (iii) a business combination that consists of the exchange of all or substantially all of the assets of a Portfolio Company or one or more divisions or operating units of a Portfolio Company for securities issued by an acquiring entity or (iv) a sale, exchange or other disposition that does not constitute a pro rata disposition of a portion of each class of securities or other interests constituting such Portfolio Investment.

“Distressed Companies” shall mean persons that, in the opinion of the General Partner, (a) are or have been in financial or other stress; (b) are restructuring, are considered likely to be restructured, or have been restructured in an out-of-court process or in a proceeding under the Federal bankruptcy laws or state insolvency laws or similar laws in or outside of the United States; (c) are being, are considered likely to be or have been reorganized within or outside of a proceeding under federal bankruptcy laws or state insolvency laws or similar laws in or outside of the United States; or (d) are engaged, are considered likely to engage or have been engaged in other extraordinary transactions, such as debt restructurings, reorganizations and liquidations outside of bankruptcy.

“Excess Partial Realization Proceeds” means, for any Partner and as of any date, the sum of the positive amounts determined with respect to each Portfolio Investment (or portion thereof) that has not been Disposed of as of such date and as to which there have been proceeds from a Partial Realization as of such date, equal to the excess of (a) such Partner’s Partner Share of aggregate proceeds that have been distributed as of such date of all Partial Realizations with respect to such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof over (b) the sum of (i) such Partner’s Capital Contributions applied to make such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof, including Capitalized Partnership Expenses attributed to such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof and any Allocated Expenses with respect to such Portfolio Investment as of such date, plus (ii) an amount that would be equal to such Partner’s Preferred Amount if such Partner’s Preference Base were only the amounts described in clause (i).

“Final Closing” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“First Closing” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“General Partner” has the meaning set forth in the introduction to this Agreement and includes any successor general partner of the Partnership appointed in accordance with this Agreement.

“Guaranty Agreement” shall mean the Guaranty Agreement, dated as of the date hereof, by and among the Partnership, the General Partner and the guarantors party thereto, substantially in the form of the agreement set forth in Exhibit A to the Offshore Fund Agreement, as amended from time to time in accordance with its terms.

“Initial Limited Partner” has the meaning set forth in the introduction.

“Interest” means a partnership interest in the Partnership.

“Investment Company Act” means the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

“Investment Date” means, with respect to any Portfolio Investment, the date such Portfolio Investment was acquired by the Partnership.

“Investment Income and Gain” means, with respect to a Portfolio Investment, (i) the excess, if any, of the proceeds from the Disposition of such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof or Partial Realization with respect to such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof that does not give rise to Current Income over the Basis of such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof, (ii) to the extent all or any portion of such Portfolio Investment is distributed to the Partners in kind as contemplated by Section 2.3, the excess, if any, of the value (as determined pursuant to Article IX) of the portion of such Portfolio Investment distributed to the Partners over the Basis of such portion of such Portfolio Investment, and (iii) Current Income attributable to such Portfolio Investment.

“Investment Loss” means, with respect to a Portfolio Investment, (i) the deficiency, if any, of the proceeds from the Disposition of such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof or Partial Realization with respect to such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof that does not give rise to Current Income as compared to the Basis of such Portfolio Investment or portion thereof, (ii) to the extent all or any portion of such Portfolio Investment is distributed to the Partners in kind as contemplated by Section 2.4, the deficiency, if any, of the value (as determined pursuant to Article IX) of the portion of such Portfolio Investment distributed to the Partners as compared to the Basis of such portion of such Portfolio Investment, and (iii) the amount, as reasonably determined by the General Partner in accordance with Section 9.4 of the Offshore Fund Agreement, by which such Portfolio Investment has permanently declined in value below the Basis of such Portfolio Investment immediately prior to such determination.

“Limited Partners” means the persons listed in Schedule 1 hereto in their capacity as limited partners of the Partnership and each person who is admitted to the Partnership as a substitute limited partner pursuant to Section 6.2, so long as each such person continues to be a limited partner of the Partnership hereunder.

“Majority in Interest of the Offshore Fund Limited Partners” means limited partners of the Offshore Fund with aggregate percentage interests in the Offshore Fund in excess of 50%.

“Manager” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Marketable Securities” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 10.6(a).

“Offshore Fund” means Highland Restoration Capital Partners Offshore, L.P., a Cayman exempted limited partnership.

“Offshore Fund Agreement” means Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of the Offshore Fund, dated as of November 15, 2007, as amended from time to time in accordance with its terms.

“Parallel Vehicle” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Partial Realization” means, with respect to any Portfolio Investment, the realization by the Partnership of Current Income or of proceeds from a recapitalization, extraordinary dividend, sale, redemption or other disposition of less than all of such Portfolio Investment (other than a pro rata disposition of a portion of each class of securities or other interests constituting such Portfolio Investment) or any other similar event that does not constitute a Disposition of such Portfolio Investment.

“Participating Partner” means, with respect to any Portfolio Investment, any Limited Partner who made a Capital Contribution (other than solely a Waiver Contribution) that was applied to such Portfolio Investment.

“Partner Interest” means, for any Partner that is a Participating Partner with respect to any Portfolio Investment (i) for each Partner as to which there is a Deemed Contribution, the proportion that the sum of such Partner’s Capital Contributions and allocable share of Deemed Contributions that were applied to such Portfolio Investment bears to the aggregate Capital Contributions and Deemed Contributions of all Partners that were applied to such Portfolio Investment, and (ii) for any Partner other than Partners described in clause(i), the proportion that such Partner’s Capital Contributions that were applied to such Portfolio Investment bears to the aggregate Capital Contributions and Deemed Contributions of all Partners that were applied to such Portfolio Investment.

“Partner Share” means, for any Partner, and for any period, the amount of Investment Income and Gain, Investment Loss, Current Cash Income, proceeds from the Disposition of or Partial Realization with respect to such Portfolio Investment for such period or distribution in kind with respect to such Portfolio Investment, as the case may be, or items of Partnership income or expense generated by such Portfolio Investment or allocable to such Portfolio Investment pursuant to Section 3.3(b) of the Offshore Fund Agreement, in each case for such period multiplied by such Partner’s Partner Interest in such Portfolio Investment.

“Partners” means the General Partner and the Limited Partners, collectively.

“Partnership” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.1.

“Partnership Expenses” means all reasonable costs and expenses relating to the Partnership’s activities, investments and business (to the extent not borne or reimbursed by a Portfolio Company or proposed Portfolio Company), including, but not limited to, (i) all costs and out-of-pocket fees and expenses attributable to acquiring, investing, holding, monitoring and disposing of the Partnership’s investments, (ii) all other out-of-pocket costs and out-of-pocket fees and expenses attributable to unconsummated transactions or investment strategies (but excluding marketing strategies) that do not lead to consummated acquisitions, (iii) legal, accounting, auditing, administrative, consulting and other fees and expenses (including, but not limited to, fees of the administrator of the Partnership and insurance and other out-of-pocket expenses associated with negotiating, consummating, monitoring and disposing of the Partnership’s investments and the preparation of Partnership financial statements, tax returns and forms K-1), (iv) extraordinary expenses, liabilities, indemnities and other obligations of the Partnership (including, but not limited to, litigation and indemnification costs and expenses, judgments and settlements (including, but not limited to, costs and expenses payable under Section 5.6)), and (v) all debt service obligations, including interest, premium, if any, fees, expenses and other amounts payable in respect of indebtedness of the Partnership.

“Partnership Percentage Interest” shall mean in respect of each Partner, the percentage designated as such Partner’s Partnership Percentage Interest in Schedule 1 attached hereto, as the same shall be amended from time to time in order to reflect transfers of Interests. The General Partner’s Partnership Percentage Interest shall be the percentage determined by dividing the General Partner’s Commitment as of the date of determination by the aggregate Commitments of all partners in the Offshore Fund (including the General Partner) as of such date.

“Person” means an individual, a partnership, a limited liability company, a corporation, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, a joint venture, an unincorporated organization, or a governmental entity (or any department, agency or political subdivision thereof).

“Portfolio Company” means any corporation, partnership, limited liability, company or other entity in which the Partnership has made an investment, other than Short-Term Investments.

“Portfolio Investments” means any investments held by the Partnership, other than Short-Term Investments. If the Partnership holds multiple classes of securities or other interests that were issued by a Portfolio Company in a single closing or series of related closings, all of such securities or interests in the aggregate shall constitute one Portfolio Investment.

“Preference Base” means for any Partner and, as of any date, (a) with respect to any distribution of the proceeds of a Disposition, the sum of (i) the Limited Partners’ aggregate Capital Contributions applied to make Portfolio Investments that have been Disposed of on or prior to such date or applied to pay Capitalized Partnership Expenses with respect to such Portfolio Investments, (ii) the Limited Partners’ aggregate Partner Share of all writedowns (including write-offs) pursuant to Section 9.4 of the Offshore Fund Agreement in respect of Portfolio Investments that have not been Disposed of by the Partnership on or prior to such date and (iii) the Limited Partners’ aggregate Capital Contributions applied to pay Allocated

Expenses with respect to Portfolio Investments that have been Disposed of, written down or written off on or prior to such date, and (b) with respect to any distribution of proceeds of a Partial Realization, the amounts determined pursuant to clause (a), plus the Limited Partners' aggregate Capital Contributions applied to make the Portfolio Investment to which such proceeds are attributable, including Capitalized Partnership Expenses attributable to such Portfolio Investment and Allocated Expenses with respect to such Portfolio Investment as of such date. For purposes of determining a Partner's Preferred Amount, a Partner's Preference Base shall not include any Capital Contributions returned to such Partner pursuant to Section 2.2(c).

"Preferred Amount" means, for any Partner and as of any date, the amount, if any, that would be required to be distributed on such date so that the aggregate distributions pursuant to Section 3.3 (including distributions pursuant to Sections 8.3(b) and (c)), to such Partner in excess of such Partner's Preference Base provide a return of 8% per annum (compounded annually) on such Partner's Preference Base. For purposes of determining a Partner's Preferred Amount with respect to a Disposition of a Portfolio Investment, no proceeds of Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments or portions thereof that have not been Disposed of as of such date shall be taken into account, other than Excess Partial Realization Proceeds realized as of such date. A Partner's Preferred Amount shall be calculated on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed from and including the date on which each Capital Contribution is invested in a Portfolio Company or contributions are made to the Offshore Fund for the purpose of paying Management Fees, Organizational Expenses and Partnership Expenses (as such terms are defined in the Offshore Fund Agreement), as applicable, to, but not including, the date that distributions constituting a return of such Capital Contributions were made by the Offshore Fund to the Partners thereof pursuant to Section 3.3(a)(i).

"Principals" has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

"Short-Term Investment Income" means the income earned on Short-Term Investments including in any event any gains and net of any losses from dispositions of Short-Term Investments and also net of any costs and expenses directly attributable thereto.

"Short-Term Investments" means investments in (a) cash, (b) obligations of, or fully guaranteed as to timely payment of principal and interest by, the United States of America and with a maturity date not in excess of 12 months from the date of purchase by the Partnership, (c) interest-bearing accounts and/or certificates of deposit of any U.S. bank with capital and surplus in excess of $500 million and whose short-term debt securities are rated not lower than P-1 by Moody's Investor Services, Inc. and A-1+ by Standard & Poor's Corporation and whose long term unsecured debt securities, or the long term unsecured debt securities of its affiliated holding company, are rated no lower than A1 by Moody's Investor Services, Inc. and A+ by Standard & Poor's Corporation, (d) reverse repurchase agreements using U.S. Treasury securities and entered into with any U.S. bank with capital and surplus in excess of $500 million and whose short-term debt securities are rated not lower than P-1 by Moody's Investor Services, Inc. and A-1+ by Standard & Poor's Corporation and whose long term unsecured debt securities, or the long term unsecured debt securities of its affiliated holding company, are rated no lower than A1 by Moody's Investor Services, Inc. and A+ by Standard & Poor's Corporation, and (e) money market mutual funds with assets of not less than $500 million, substantially all of which assets are reasonably believed by the General Partner to consist of items described in one or more of the foregoing clauses (b), (c) and (d).

“Special Profit Interest” means (i) the General Partner’s right to receive distributions pursuant to the first two sentences of Section 3.3(a), but only to the extent such distributions exceed the distributions that would have been made to the General Partner pursuant to the first two sentences of Section 3.3(a) if such distributions had been made pro rata according to each Partner’s Capital Contributions to the Partnership, and (ii) the General Partner’s right to receive distributions pursuant to Section 3.3(e).

“Tax Distributions” means the aggregate amount of distributions that would be made to the General Partner if the General Partner received no distributions other than those required pursuant to Section 3.3(b).

“Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts” means, as of the date of determination, the excess, if any, of (i) the sum of (A) the aggregate Waived Fee Amount for all Management Fee Periods (as defined in the Offshore Fund Agreement), beginning on or before the date of determination (B) the aggregate amount described in clause (i) of the definition of “Deemed Contribution” relating to the aggregate Waiver Contributions previously returned to the limited partners of the Offshore Fund pursuant to Section 2.2(c) of the Offshore Fund Agreement (including, without limitation, in respect of Bridge Financings) and (C) amounts added to the Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts pursuant to Section 6.5(b) of the Offshore Fund Agreement over (ii) the aggregate amount described in clause (i) of the definition of “Deemed Contribution” as of such date.

“Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses” means Partnership Expenses that are not Capitalized Partnership Expenses.

“Unfunded Commitment” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Waived Fee Amount” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Waived Fee Notice” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

“Waiver Contribution” has the meaning set forth in the Offshore Fund Agreement.

Section 2.2 Capital Contribution Commitment. The General Partner shall make Capital Contributions to the Partnership as provided in Section 2.2(a)(i) of the Offshore Fund Agreement, taking into account any reduction in such Capital Contributions as provided in Section 2.2(a)(ii) of the Offshore Fund Agreement. The remaining capital requirements of the Partnership shall be funded through Capital Contributions by the Limited Partners pro rata in accordance with their respective Partnership Percentage Interests. Each Capital Contribution shall be made by the Partners in cash either by delivery to the Partnership of a certified check or wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account designated by the General Partner.

Section 2.3 Capital Accounts. A capital account (“Capital Account”) will be established for each Partner on the books of the Partnership and will be adjusted as follows:

(a) Capital Contributions and Allocations. A Partner's Capital Contribution will be credited to its Capital Account when received by the Partnership.

(b) Short-Term Investment Income. Short-Term Investment Income earned in each quarterly period with respect to Capital Contributions that have not yet been invested in Portfolio Investments or used to pay fees and expenses of the Partnership will be credited to the Capital Accounts of the Partners pro rata according to their respective Partner Capital Contributions to which such Short-Term Investment Income is attributable. Short-Term Investment Income on undistributed proceeds from Portfolio Investments shall be credited to the Capital Accounts of the Partners ratably in proportion to their respective shares of such undistributed amounts.

(c) Investment Income and Gain and Investment Loss. Except as otherwise provided in this Section 2.3(c), Investment Income and Gain or Investment Loss shall be allocated among the Partners for each taxable period in such a manner that, as of the end of such taxable period, and to the extent possible, the Capital Account of each Partner shall be equal to the net amount, positive or negative, which would be distributed to each Partner or for which such Partner would be liable to the Partnership under this Agreement (including Sections 8.3(c) and (e)), determined as if the Partnership were to liquidate the assets of the Partnership for an amount equal to their Basis, reduced, but not below zero, by the amount of nonrecourse debt, if any, to which such Partnership assets are subject, and distribute the proceeds in liquidation after the payment of all liabilities (other than nonrecourse liabilities) in accordance with Sections 3.2 and 3.3. For purposes of the foregoing determination, no amount shall be treated as distributable pursuant to clause (A) of Section 3.3(a)(i) by virtue of clause (a)(iii) of the definition of Preference Base or clause (B) of Section 3.3(a)(i) with respect to any Portfolio Investment or portion thereof solely because of the deemed liquidation of such Portfolio Investment; provided, however, that any increase in the Basis of a Portfolio Investment shall be taken into account for this purpose in the same manner as proceeds of a Partial Realization. Investment Income and Gain or Investment Loss attributable to Portfolio Investments retained by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.3(e)(ii) shall be allocated 100% to the General Partner.

(d) Distributions. Any amounts distributed to the Partners will be debited against their Capital Accounts.

(e) Partnership Expenses. Uncapitalized Partnership Expenses shall be debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their respective Commitments.

Section 2.4 Distributions in Kind.

(a) If any securities are to be distributed in kind to the Partners as provided in Article III, such securities will first be written up or down to their value (as determined pursuant to Article IX of the Offshore Fund Agreement as of the date of such distribution), thus creating Investment Income or Gain or Investment Loss, which shall be allocated in accordance with Section 2.3 to the Capital Accounts of the Partners, and upon the distribution of such securities to the Partners, the value of such securities shall be debited, in accordance with Section 2.3(e), against the Capital Accounts of the Partners.

ARTICLE III

DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 3.1 Distribution Policy.

(a) The General Partner may in its sole discretion make distributions of cash, property and securities.

(b) The General Partner will cause the Partnership to distribute (i) Current Cash Income at least semi-annually unless reinvested as described in this Section 3.1(b), (ii) Short-Term Investment Income at least quarterly, and (iii) the net cash proceeds received from Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments within 60 days of the receipt thereof unless reinvested as described in this Section 3.1(b), after, in each case, the setting aside by the General Partner, in its discretion, of appropriate reserves for anticipated obligations and commitments of the Partnership as well as any required tax withholdings; provided, however, that if the General Partner determines in good faith that the Partnership will require additional capital within 30 days after the date that an amount that would otherwise be distributed that would be described in clauses (a), (b) and (d) of the definition of "Funded Commitment" in the Offshore Fund Agreement, the General Partner may, in its discretion, retain such amount and reduce the amount required to be contributed by the applicable Partners.

(c) If any Marketable Security is distributed in kind, such Marketable Security shall be valued pursuant to Section 9.1 of the Offshore Fund Agreement as of the date of such distribution and shall be distributed in accordance with Section 3.3.

(d) The General Partner may, immediately prior to the Disposition of any Portfolio Investment, cause such Portfolio Investment to be distributed in accordance with Section 3.3 based on the value of the Portfolio Investment at such time, as determined by the consideration to be received in connection with such Disposition.

Section 3.2 Distribution of Short-Term Investment Income. Short-Term Investment Income will be distributed among the Partners in the same proportions as Short-Term Investment Income was credited to the Partners' Capital Accounts.

Section 3.3 Distributions of Current Cash Income and Proceeds From Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with Respect to Investments and In Kind Distributions.

(a) All distributions of Current Cash Income and all distributions out of net proceeds from Dispositions of or Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments (in each case, net of Partnership Expenses) and all distributions of Portfolio Investments shall be apportioned in proportion to their respective Partner Interests among the General Partner and the Participating Partners with respect to the Portfolio Investment that gave rise to such Current Cash Income or net proceeds or that is being distributed in kind. The General Partner's Partner Share of such distributions shall be distributed 100% to the General Partner. Each Participating Partner's Partner Share shall be distributed to such Participating Partner and the General Partner as follows:

(i) First, 100% to such Participating Partner until (A) the aggregate amount distributed to such Participating Partner in accordance with this Section 3.3(a) equals such Participating Partner's Preference Base as of the date of such distribution and (B) the aggregate amount distributed to such Participating Partner in accordance with this Section 3.3(a) (other than clause (A) of this paragraph) equals such Participating Partner's Preferred Amount as of such date. Solely for purposes of determining how proceeds of a Disposition of a Portfolio Investment are to be distributed pursuant to this Section 3.3(a) no proceeds of Partial Realizations with respect to Portfolio Investments or portions thereof that have not been Disposed of as of such date shall be taken into account, other than Excess Partial Realization Proceeds realized as of such date.

(ii) Second, (A) 50% to the General Partner and (B) 50% to such Participating Partner until the aggregate distributions to the General Partner with respect to such Participating Partner pursuant to this paragraph (ii) and paragraph (iii), reduced by any amounts contributed to the Partnership by the General Partner with respect to such Participating Partner pursuant to Section 8.3(c), equal 20% of the aggregate distributions of such Participating Partner's Partner Share of such amounts to the General Partner, reduced by any amounts contributed to the Partnership by the General Partner with respect to such Participating Partner pursuant to Section 8.3(c), and to such Participating Partner pursuant to this paragraph (ii) and paragraph (iii), and clause (B) of the immediately preceding paragraph.

(iii) Third, (A) 80% to such Participating Partner and (B) 20% to the General Partner.

For purposes of this Section 3.3(a), amounts distributed to a Participating Partner pursuant to Section 8.3(c) shall be treated as having been distributed pursuant to this Section 3.3(a).

(b) Anything contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding, the General Partner shall be entitled to receive cash distributions from the Partnership (after taking into account any other distributions received by the General Partner in such fiscal year pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(ii)(A) and 3.3(a)(iii)(B)) in amounts sufficient to enable the General Partner and the individual members of the General Partner to discharge any federal, state and local tax liability (excluding penalties) arising as a result of the allocation of Investment Income and Gain pursuant to Section 2.3(c) attributable to the General Partner's Carried Interest in the Partnership, determined by assuming the applicability of the highest combined effective marginal federal, state and local income tax rates applicable to an individual resident in New York, New York. The amount of such tax liability shall be calculated taking into account (i) the deductibility (to the extent allowed) of state and local income taxes for United States Federal income tax purposes, (ii) the amount of net cumulative tax loss previously allocated to the General Partner in prior fiscal years with respect to the Carried Interest and not used in prior fiscal years to reduce taxable income for the purpose of making distributions under this subsection (b) and (iii) the character of any income or gain and the income tax rates applicable thereto. The calculation shall be made on the assumption that taxable income or tax loss from the Partnership with respect to the Carried Interest is the General Partner's only taxable income or tax loss. Such distributions shall be debited to the General Partner's Capital Account, as provided in Section 2.3(e). Any amounts distributed pursuant to this subsection (b) shall be considered an advance against the next distribution of Carried Interest distributable to the General Partner, and shall offset such distributions.

(c) In the event of a partial Disposition of a Portfolio Investment, the unreturned Capital Contributions and remaining Preferred Amount with respect to such Portfolio Investment shall be allocated between the Disposed portion and retained portion of such Portfolio Investment, pro rata, based on the relative amounts that are Disposed of and retained, respectively, of that portion of such Portfolio Investment held by the Partnership immediately prior to such Disposition.

(d) (i) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the General Partner may at any time elect not to receive all or any portion of any distribution that otherwise would be made to it with respect to its Carried Interest.

(ii) Any amount of cash which is not distributed to the General Partner pursuant to Section 3.3(d)(i) shall, in the General Partner's sole discretion, either be retained by the Partnership or distributed to the Partners (other than to the General Partner) in accordance with Section 3.3(a). Any amount of securities not distributed in-kind to the General Partner pursuant to Section 3.3(d)(i) shall be retained by the Partnership.

(iii) If the General Partner elects to distribute cash to the other Partners pursuant to Section 3.3(d)(ii), 100% of any or all subsequent cash distributions by the Partnership shall be distributed to the General Partner until the General Partner has received the same aggregate amount of cash distributions it would have received had it not waived receipt of certain distributions pursuant to Section 3.3(d)(i) (without regard to the distribution of any Short-Term Investment Income earned on such retained amounts).

(iv) All Current Cash Income attributable to, and distributions out of net proceeds from the Disposition or Partial Realization of, Portfolio Investments retained by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.3(d)(ii) and all cash retained by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.3(d)(ii) shall be distributed to the General Partner as of the date determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. The General Partner shall not be entitled to any additional distributions in respect of such retained amounts, other than Short-Term Investment Income earned on such retained amounts.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, if at the expiration of the Commitment Period, there are Unapplied Waived Fee Amounts, the General Partner shall, in its sole discretion, prior to any other distribution pursuant to this Article III, be entitled to a distribution of cash equal to the Unapplied Waived Fee Amount.

Section 3.4 Foreign Taxes. The amount of any foreign taxes paid by the Partnership (or by an entity in which the Partnership holds an interest, either directly or indirectly through one or more such entities, that is treated as a partnership or is disregarded for federal income tax purposes) or withheld from receipts of the Partnership or such entity from a Portfolio Investment shall be allocated among the Partners as reasonably determined by the General Partner and, for purposes of Sections 3.3(a)(i) – (iii), shall be deemed to have been distributed to each Partner as Current Cash Income or proceeds from the Disposition of a Portfolio Investment to the extent that the payment or withholding of such foreign taxes reduced Current Cash Income or the proceeds from the Disposition of a Portfolio Investment, as the case may be, otherwise distributable to such Partner as provided herein (for this purpose taking into account with respect to each Partner any reduction in such foreign taxes that occurs by reason of such Partner's status).

PARTNERSHIP EXPENSES

Section 4.1 Partnership Expenses. The Partnership will pay all Partnership Expenses.

ARTICLE V

GENERAL PARTNER

Section 5.1 Management Authority.

(a) Subject to the retention of the Manager, the General Partner will have full control over the business and affairs of the Partnership consistent with its duties arising under the Delaware Partnership Act. The General Partner will have the power on behalf and in the name of the Partnership to carry out any and all of the objects and purposes of the Partnership and to perform all acts and enter into and perform all contracts and other undertakings which, in its sole discretion, are necessary or advisable or incidental thereto, including the power to acquire or dispose of any security. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the management of the Partnership will vest in the Manager which will provide the Partnership with portfolio management and administrative services, including investigating, analyzing, structuring and negotiating potential investments, monitoring the performance of Portfolio Companies and advising as to disposition opportunities. In no event shall the Manager, which has been engaged by the Partnership, be treated as an agent or partner of the General Partner.

(b) Except to the extent otherwise provided in this Agreement, all matters concerning (i) the allocation of Short-Term Investment Income, Current Income, Investment Income and Gain, Investment Loss, Partnership Expenses, and the distribution of net proceeds and the return of capital among the Partners, including the taxes thereon, (ii) accounting procedures and determinations (including the determination of the Preferred Amount and (iii) other determinations not specifically and expressly provided for by the terms of this Agreement, shall be determined by the General Partner in accordance with its reasonable interpretation of the provisions of this Agreement made in good faith.

(c) The General Partner shall have the authority to admit additional Limited Partners in connection with making a Portfolio Investment.

Section 5.2 Use of Affiliates. The General Partner shall retain the services of the Manager and any officers, directors or Affiliates thereof in connection with the operation of the Partnership, and the compensation of the Manager and such persons shall be as provided in Section 4.1 of the Offshore Fund Agreement.

Section 5.3 Transfer of General Partnership Interest; No Withdrawal or Loans. The General Partner generally may not sell, assign, pledge, mortgage or otherwise dispose of its General Partner interest in the Partnership; provided, however, that the General Partner may transfer its General Partner interest in the Partnership (or consent to the transfer of an interest in the General Partner) in a derivative transaction if the transferor maintains the economic attributes of the interest and voting control of the interest. The General Partner will not borrow or withdraw any amount from the Partnership or voluntarily withdraw from the Partnership.

Section 5.4 Removal of the General Partner. In the event that the General Partner is removed as general partner of the Offshore Fund pursuant to Section 5.9 of the Offshore Fund Agreement, the General Partner shall also be removed as general partner of the Partnership. If the Offshore Fund has appointed another Person to act as general partner of the Offshore Fund and the limited partners of the Offshore Fund have consented to continue the Offshore Fund pursuant to Section 5.9 of the Offshore Fund Agreement, such Person shall also be appointed to act as General Partner of the Partnership and the Partnership shall also be continued. In such an event, the former General Partner shall be entitled to receive distributions equal to any amounts it would have been entitled to had the Partnership been dissolved and wound up in accordance with Sections 8.3(a) and (b) and distributed in kind all Partnership assets as of the date of the election of the Limited Partners to continue the Partnership. The Partnership shall issue an unsecured non-interest bearing promissory note to the former General Partner in the face amount of the liquidating distribution determined in accordance with this Section 5.4, such note to be payable upon the final liquidation of the Partnership. All such distributions shall be subject to the obligations set forth in Section 8.3(c) and (d); provided, however, that the General Partner's obligation, if any, to fund Commitments in respect of its obligations in Section 8.3(c) relating to such liquidating distribution shall be satisfied by a reduction to the principal amount of the unsecured non-interest bearing promissory note described in this Section 5.4 in the amount of such obligation. For purposes of determining allocation and distributions pursuant to the preceding sentence, securities and other property held by the Partnership shall be valued pursuant to the procedures set forth in Article IX.

Section 5.5 No Liability to Limited Partners.

(a) None of the General Partner, the Manager, the Principals or their Affiliates, officers, directors, members, partners, shareholders, employees or agents will be liable to any Limited Partner or to the Partnership for any action taken, or omitted to be taken, as General Partner with respect to the Partnership, or for any action taken, or omitted to be taken, by any member, partner, director, officer, employee or agent of the General Partner or Manager in connection with its activities for or on behalf of the Partnership so long as such person (i) acted in good faith, (ii) acted in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Partnership, (iii) was neither grossly negligent nor engaged in willful malfeasance, fraud or reckless disregard of fiduciary duties, (iv) did not materially breach this Agreement, and (v) with respect to any criminal action, such person is not finally determined to be and does not admit to be guilty or enter a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(b) If any Limited Partner obtains a final judgment in a court of competent jurisdiction against the General Partner for matters relating to the Partnership, the General Partner shall pursue against its members the remedies (if any) that it has against such member relating to such claim.

Section 5.6 Indemnification. The Partnership will indemnify the Principals, the General Partner, the Manager and each of their respective members, partners, shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents and Affiliates against any losses, liabilities, damages or expenses (including amounts paid for attorneys' fees, judgments and settlements in connection with any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding) to which any of such persons may become subject in connection with such person's activities on behalf of the Partnership or in connection with any involvement with a Portfolio Company (including serving as an officer, director, consultant or employee of any Portfolio Company) directly or indirectly on behalf of the Partnership, but only to the extent that such person (i) acted in good faith, (ii) acted in a manner reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Partnership or the Portfolio Company (as the case may be), (iii) was neither grossly negligent nor engaged in willful malfeasance, fraud or reckless disregard of fiduciary duties, (iv) did not materially breach this Agreement, and (v) with respect to any criminal action, such person is not finally determined to be and does not admit to be guilty or enter a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction. Any person described in this Section 5.6 entitled to seek indemnification hereunder shall first use reasonable efforts to seek indemnification from other available sources, if any, prior to obtaining indemnification hereunder; provided that any such person may seek and obtain indemnification hereunder if at any time such person reasonably believes that such person will not receive timely indemnification on terms reasonably acceptable to such person from such other sources; and provided, further, that such person shall continue to use reasonable efforts to seek such indemnification from such other sources and, to the extent any such indemnification is obtained, reimburse the Partnership for any such recovery. The Partnership may, in the sole judgment of the General Partner, pay the expenses of any person indemnifiable under this Section 5.6 in advance of the final disposition of any proceeding, so long as (w) with respect to any derivative action brought by any Limited Partner, the person receiving the advance is not the subject of such derivative action, (x) the proceeding is not instituted by a Majority in Interest of the Offshore Fund Limited Partners against the General Partner or the Manager, (y) General Partner has a good faith belief such expenses are indemnifiable, and (z) the General Partner receives a written undertaking by such person for the benefit of the Partnership to repay the full amount advanced if (A) there is a final determination that such person did not satisfy the standards set forth in clauses (i) through (v) immediately above, (B) with respect to any criminal action, such person is finally determined to be or admits to being guilty or enters a plea of nolo contendere (including as part of a settlement) by a court of competent jurisdiction, or (C) such person is not otherwise entitled to indemnification as provided herein. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no person will be exculpated or exonerated from liability or indemnified against loss for violations of federal or state securities laws, or for any other intentional or criminal wrongdoing. No person shall be indemnifiable under this Section 5.6 in respect of losses, liabilities, damages or expenses to which any such person may become subject in connection with (x) such person's activities with any Portfolio Company if such losses arise after the Partnership's final disposition of such Portfolio Company or (y) a dispute among the General Partner, the Manager, their respective members and employees, and the Principals.

LIMITED PARTNERS

Section 6.1 Limited Liability. The Limited Partners will not be personally liable for any obligations of the Partnership and will have no obligation (including with respect to a deficit balance in their Capital Account) to make contributions to the Partnership in excess of their respective capital commitments to the Partnership, except to the extent set forth under the Delaware Partnership Act. The Limited Partners will take no part in the control, direction or operation of the affairs of the Partnership and will have no power to bind the Partnership.

Section 6.2 Transfer of Limited Partnership Interests.

(a) A Limited Partner may not sell, assign, transfer, pledge, mortgage or otherwise dispose of all or any of its interest in the Partnership unless the General Partner has consented to such transfer or assignment in writing. Any transfer shall be effected in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, by execution of an assignment in writing and by entry of the name of the new limited partner in the register of limited partners. A transferee or assignee will not become a substitute Limited Partner without the consent of the General Partner in writing, and without executing a copy of this Agreement or amendment hereto.

(b) Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, no admission (or purported admission) of a Partner, and no transfer (or purported transfer) of all or any part of a Partner's interest in the Partnership (or any economic interest therein) whether to another Partner or to a person who is not a Partner, shall be effective, and any such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) shall be void ab initio, and no person shall otherwise become a Partner if after such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) the Partnership would have more than one hundred (100) Partners, unless the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that the Partnership will meet the requirements set forth in Treasury Regulation

§ 1.7704-1(j)(1) for the taxable year of such transfer and all subsequent taxable years. In determining whether the Partnership will have more than one hundred (100) Partners for purposes of this Section 6.2(b), each person indirectly owning an interest in the Partnership through a partnership (including any entity treated as a partnership for federal income tax purposes), a grantor trust or an S corporation (each such entity a “flow-through entity”) shall be treated as a Partner unless the General Partner determines in its sole discretion, after consulting with qualified tax counsel, that less than substantially all of the value of the beneficial owner’s interest in the flow-through entity is attributable to the flow-through entity’s interest (direct or indirect) in the Partnership.

(c) Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, no admission (or purported admission) of a Partner, and no transfer (or purported transfer) of all or any part of a Partner’s interest in the Partnership (or any economic interest therein) whether to another Partner or to a person who is not a Partner, shall be effective, and any such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) shall be void ab initio, and no person shall otherwise become a Partner if after such admission or transfer (or purported admission or transfer) the Partnership would be subject to the registration or reporting requirements of the Investment Company Act.

Section 6.3 No Withdrawal. Subject to the provisions of Section 6.2, no Limited Partner may withdraw as a Partner of the Partnership, nor may a Limited Partner be required to withdraw, nor may a Limited Partner borrow or withdraw any portion of its Capital Account from the Partnership.

Section 6.4 No Termination. The substitution, death, insanity, dissolution (whether voluntary or involuntary) or bankruptcy of a Limited Partner will not affect the existence of the Partnership, and the Partnership will continue for the term of this Agreement until its existence is terminated as provided herein.

Section 6.5 Additional Investors. If the admission of investors in Parallel Vehicles or the purchase by a limited partner in a Parallel Vehicle of a portion of the interest of a Defaulting Partner (as defined in the Offshore Fund Agreement) pursuant to Section 6.11 of the Offshore Fund Agreement would result in the Partnership, the Offshore Fund and the Parallel Vehicles not having reimbursed the General Partner and its Affiliates for Organizational Expenses (as defined in the Offshore Fund Agreement) in the proportions contemplated by Section 4.2 of the Offshore Fund Agreement or would result in the Partnership, the Offshore Fund and the Parallel Vehicles not owning investments in Portfolio Companies in the proportions contemplated by Sections 5.14 or 5.15 of the Offshore Fund Agreement, the General Partner shall have the authority to effect transfers of funds and of Portfolio Investments to Parallel Vehicles and to effect transfers of funds and portfolio investments of Parallel Vehicles to the Partnership for the purpose of reallocating the ownership of investments in Portfolio Companies and the reimbursements of Organizational Expenses (as defined in the Offshore Fund Agreement) by the Partnership, the Offshore Fund and the Parallel Vehicles, to achieve allocations and distributions as close as practicable to those that would have obtained had such investors been admitted to the Partnership, the Offshore Fund or to Parallel Vehicles, respectively, at the First Closing or had such purchased interest of a Defaulting Partner (as defined in the Offshore Fund Agreement) been issued to the purchaser at the First Closing.

Section 6.6 Section 754 Election. Upon the written request of a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners, that an election provided for in Section 754 of the Code be made, the General Partner shall, if then permitted by applicable law, make such election.

ARTICLE VII

[RESERVED]

ARTICLE VIII

DURATION AND TERMINATION

Section 8.1 Duration. The Partnership will terminate on the tenth anniversary of the Final Closing, except that in the event that the term of the Offshore Fund is extended pursuant to Section 8.1 of the Offshore Fund Agreement, the term of the Partnership shall be extended for the same period.

Section 8.2 Early Termination.

(a) The Partnership shall terminate on:

(i) the bankruptcy of the General Partner or on the happening of any other event that would cause a dissolution of the Partnership under the Delaware Partnership Act (other than removal of the General Partner for Cause pursuant to Section 5.4), unless, within 90 days after notice is given to the Offshore Fund Limited Partners of the occurrence of such event, the Offshore Fund Limited Partners and limited partners of all Parallel Vehicles unanimously select a new general partner and resolve to continue the business of the Partnership;

(ii) the removal of the General Partner pursuant to Section 5.4 unless all of the Limited Partners and all limited partners of Parallel Vehicles select a successor general partner and resolve to continue the business of the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.4; or

(iii) the date that the Offshore Fund is terminated.

(b) As promptly as possible following the election by the Limited Partners of a successor General Partner pursuant to Section 8.2(a)(i), there shall be distributed to the former General Partner, in full payment and satisfaction of its interest in the Partnership, a Limited Partnership Interest in the Partnership. The Limited Partnership Interest of the former General Partner shall entitle the former General Partner to the same distributions and allocations in respect of Portfolio Investments made prior to the termination of the former General Partner it would have received had it remained the General Partner, subject to the obligations set forth in Section 8.3(c), and to the rights of a Limited Partner hereunder with a Commitment equal to the Commitment of the former General Partner, but shall not entitle it to any other rights to participate in the management of the Partnership. After its withdrawal as General Partner, a former General Partner shall only be liable under this Agreement for actions taken and investments in Portfolio Companies made prior to the date of such withdrawal. If the Limited Partners elect to continue the Partnership's business pursuant to Section 8.2(a)(i), an appropriate amendment to this Agreement and to the Certificate shall be made within 90 days after the event giving rise to such election.

Section 8.3 Termination and Liquidation of Partnership Interests; Annual Determination of General Partner Give Back.

(a) Liquidation. Upon termination, the Partnership will be liquidated in an orderly manner. The General Partner (or, in the absence, bankruptcy or removal under Section 5.4, of the General Partner, the party selected by a Majority in Interest of the Offshore Fund Limited Partners) will be the liquidator to wind up the affairs of the Partnership pursuant to this Agreement.

(b) Final Allocation and Distribution. Upon termination of the Partnership (whether or not an early termination), the General Partner will make a final allocation of all kinds of income, loss and expense in accordance with Article II hereof and the Partnership's liabilities and obligations to its creditors shall be paid or adequately provided for prior to any distributions to the Partners. After payment or provision for payment of all debts of the Partnership, the remaining assets, if any, will be distributed among the Partners as provided in Sections 3.2 and 3.3.

(c) General Partner Give Back. Within 90 days after the termination of the Commitment Period and after the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership among the Partners as provided in Sections 3.2 and 3.3 (each of the termination of the Commitment Period and the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership, a "Determination Date"), the General Partner will make a Capital Contribution to the Partnership (and such amount will be distributed to the Offshore Fund), equal to the greater of:

(i) the amount by which (A) (x) the aggregate distributions to the General Partner pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(ii) and 3.3(a)(iii) (including amounts initially distributed pursuant to Section 3.3(b)) with respect to such Limited Partner's Partner Share of distributions pursuant to Section 3.3(a) as of the applicable Determination Date less (y) all amounts previously contributed by the General Partner pursuant to this Section 8.3(c) with respect to such Limited Partner, exceed (B) 20% of the excess of (x) such Limited Partner's Partner Share of all distributions pursuant to Section 3.3(a) from the Partnership as of the applicable Determination Date (including amounts distributed to the General Partner pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(ii) and 3.3(a)(iii), but reduced by any amounts previously contributed by the General Partner pursuant to this Section 8.3(c)) over (y) the aggregate Capital Contributions made by such Limited Partner to the Partnership as of the applicable Determination Date; and

(ii) the amount by which all distributions received by such Limited Partner as of the applicable Determination Date are less than the sum of such Limited Partner's Capital Contributions as of the applicable Determination Date, plus such Limited Partner's aggregate Preferred Amount as of the applicable Determination Date; provided, however, that the aggregate General Partner Capital Contributions pursuant to this Section 8.3(c) will not exceed

the excess, if any, of (x) an amount equal to 100% of the net amount distributed to the General Partner with respect to such Limited Partner over the entire term of the Partnership (other than Tax Distributions) pursuant to Sections 3.3(a)(ii) and 3.3(a)(iii) over (y) the Built-In Tax Amount with respect to any distribution of securities in-kind received by the General Partner with respect to such Limited Partner.

(d) The General Partner hereby covenants and agrees that each of the members of the General Partner entitled to receive Carried Interest distributions from the General Partner has guaranteed and will guaranty severally, but not jointly, the payment of his, her or its pro rata share of the payments required by Section 8.3(c) to the extent and on the terms set forth in the Guaranty Agreement.

(e) Special Profit Interest Give Back. After the final distribution of the assets of the Partnership among the Partners as provided in this Section 8.3 (and Article III hereof), but prior to the application of Section 8.3(c), the General Partner shall be obligated to make aggregate Capital Contributions to the Partnership, within 30 days after the date of such final distribution, in an amount equal to the sum of the excess, if any, of (i) the distributions received by the General Partner on account of the Special Profit Interest attributable to each Waived Fee Amount over (ii) the Available Profits with respect to such Waived Fee Amount. The distributions described in clause (i) of the preceding sentence with respect to a Waived Fee Amount are the Special Profit Interest distributions attributable to the Portfolio Company with respect to which the General Partner applied such Waived Fee Amount pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(ii) of the Offshore Fund Agreement, treating the Waived Fee Amounts as having been applied on a “first-in, first-out” basis. Amounts distributed to the General Partner pursuant to Section 3.3(f) shall be treated for this purpose as proceeds from Portfolio Company made on the date of each Waived Fee Notice giving rise to Waived Fee Amounts that are not applied to Portfolio Company pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(ii) of the Offshore Fund Agreement. For purposes of applying the first sentence of this Section 8.3(e), Partnership Profits shall not be treated as Available Profits with respect to more than one Waived Fee Amount. All such amounts returned to the Partnership shall be distributed to the Partners (other than the General Partner) in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.3. All determinations and calculations pursuant to this Section 8.3(e) shall be made by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

BOOKS OF ACCOUNTS; MEETINGS

Section 10.1 Books. The Partnership will maintain complete and accurate books of account of the Partnership's affairs at the Partnership's principal office, which books will be open to inspection by any Partner (or its authorized representative) at any time during ordinary business hours.

Section 10.2 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Partnership will be the calendar year, unless otherwise determined by the General Partner.

Section 10.3 Tax Allocation.

(a) Except as otherwise set forth in this Section 10.3(a), the income, gains, losses, deductions and credits of the Partnership will be allocated, for federal, state and local income tax purposes, among the Partners in accordance with the allocation of such income, gains, losses, deductions and credits among the Partners for computing their Capital Accounts, except that if any such allocation is not permitted by the Code or other applicable law, the Partnership's subsequent income, gains, losses, deductions and credits will be allocated among the Partners so as to reflect as nearly as possible the allocation set forth herein in computing their Capital Accounts. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, in the event the Basis of any asset of the Partnership differs from its adjusted tax basis for federal income tax purposes, subsequent allocations of income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to such asset shall take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such asset for federal income tax purposes and its Basis in the same manner as under Section 704(c) of the Code and the Regulations thereunder.

(b) If any Partner is treated for income tax purposes as realizing ordinary income because of receipt of his, her or its Partnership interest (whether under Section 83 of the Code or any similar provisions of any law, rule or regulation or any other applicable law, rule, regulation or doctrine) and the Partnership is entitled to any offsetting deduction, the Partnership's deduction will be allocated among the Partners in such manner as to, as nearly as possible, offset such ordinary income realized by such Partner. If the Internal Revenue Service successfully asserts an adjustment to the taxable income of a Partner and, as a result of such adjustment, the Partnership is entitled to a deduction for federal income tax purposes in excess of any gain recognized by the Partnership, such excess deduction shall be allocated to such Partner. If the Internal Revenue Service successfully asserts an adjustment to the taxable income of the Partnership and, as a result of such adjustment, any Partner is entitled to a deduction for federal income tax purposes in excess of any gain recognized by such Partner, the additional Partnership taxable income shall be allocated to such Partner. If the Internal Revenue Service successfully asserts an adjustment to the taxable income of the Partnership disallowing deductions for any of the fees paid or payable to the General Partner, then additional Partnership taxable income allocable to the Partners as a result of such disallowance shall be reallocated to the General Partner.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, if a Partner unexpectedly receives an adjustment, allocation or distribution described in Treasury Regulation § 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii) (d)(4), (5) or (6) which gives rise to a negative Capital Account (or which would give rise to a negative Capital Account when added to expected adjustments, allocations or distributions of the same type), such Partner will be allocated items of income and gain in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate such deficit balance as quickly as possible; provided that the Partnership's subsequent income, gains, losses, deductions and credits will be allocated among the Partners so as to achieve as nearly as possible the results that would have been achieved if this Section 10.3(c) had not been in this Agreement, except that no such allocation shall be made which would violate the provisions or purposes of Treasury Regulation § 1.704-1(b).

Section 10.4 Tax Controversies. The General Partner is hereby designated the “Tax Matters Partner” (as defined in Section 6231 of the Code), and is authorized and required to represent the Partnership (at the Partnership’s expense) in connection with all examinations of the Partnership’s business and affairs by tax authorities, including resulting administrative and judicial proceedings, and to expend Partnership funds for professional services and costs associated therewith. Each Limited Partner agrees to cooperate with the General Partner and to do or refrain from doing any or all things reasonably requested by the General Partner with respect to the conduct of such proceedings. The General Partner shall provide the Limited Partners with all notices required to be provided to them by law in connection with such proceedings, and shall otherwise keep the Limited Partners reasonably informed of the progress thereof.

Section 10.5 Certain Tax Elections. The Partnership shall not, without the consent of all Partners, file an election (i) pursuant to Section 761 of the Code not to be treated as a partnership, or (ii) pursuant to Treasury Regulation §301.7701-3(c) to be treated as an association taxable as a corporation.

Section 10.6 Code Section 83 Safe Harbor Election.

(a) Notice 2005-43. By executing this Agreement, each Partner authorizes and directs the Partnership to elect to have the “Safe Harbor” described in the proposed Revenue Procedure set forth in Internal Revenue Service Notice 2005-43 (the “Notice”) apply to any interest in the Partnership transferred to a service provider by the Partnership on or after the effective date of such Revenue Procedure in connection with services provided to the Partnership. For purposes of making such Safe Harbor election, the General Partner is hereby designated as the “partner who has responsibility for federal income tax reporting” by the Partnership and, accordingly, execution of such Safe Harbor election by the General Partner constitutes execution of a “Safe Harbor Election” in accordance with section 3.03(1) of the Notice. The Partnership and each Partner hereby agrees to comply with all requirements of the Safe Harbor described in the Notice, including, without limitation, the requirement that each Partner shall prepare and file all federal income tax returns reporting the income tax effects of each “Safe Harbor Partnership Interest” (as described in Section 3.02 of the Notice) issued by the Partnership in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Notice.

(b) Amendment. Each Partner authorizes the General Partner to amend Section 10.6(a) to the extent necessary to achieve substantially the same tax treatment with respect to any interest in the Partnership transferred to a service provider by the Partnership in connection with services provided to the Partnership as set forth in section 4 of the Notice (e.g., to reflect changes from the rules set forth in the Notice in subsequent Internal Revenue Service guidance), provided that such amendment is not materially adverse to any Partner (as compared with the after-tax consequences that would result if the provisions of the Notice applied to all interests in the Partnership transferred to a service provider by the Partnership in connection with services provided to the Partnership).

REGISTRATION OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP

Section 11.1 Registration of Limited Partnership. The General Partner will cause to be filed, recorded and published such statements, notices, certificates or other instruments required by any provision of any applicable law which governs the formation of the Partnership or the conduct of its business from time to time.

ARTICLE XII

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 12.1 Amendments. This Agreement may be amended, and waivers hereunder may be given, only by the written consent of the General Partner and a Majority in Interest of the Offshore Fund Limited Partners, provided, however, that notwithstanding the foregoing, the provisions of this Agreement may be amended or waived from time to time by the General Partner without the consent of a Majority in Interest of the Offshore Fund Limited Partners (i) to add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner or surrender any right or power (but not responsibilities) granted to the General Partner herein; (ii) to cure any ambiguity or correct any provisions hereof which may be inconsistent with any other provisions hereof, or correct any printing, stenographic or clerical errors or omissions; and (iii) to admit one or more additional Limited Partners, or withdraw one or more Limited Partners, in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

Section 12.2 Successors. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement will inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the Partners and their legal representatives, heirs, successors and assigns.

Section 12.3 Governing Law; Severability. This Agreement will be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware and, to the maximum extent possible, in such manner as to comply with all the terms and conditions of the Delaware Partnership Act. If it is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that any provision of this Agreement is invalid under applicable law, such provision will be ineffective only to the extent of such prohibition or invalidity, without invalidating the remainder of this Agreement.

Section 12.4 Notices. All notices, demands and other communications to be given and delivered under or by reason of provisions under this Agreement will be in writing and will be deemed to have been given when personally delivered, sent by telecopy (with hard copy to follow by reputable overnight courier) or sent by reputable overnight courier service (charges prepaid) or mailed by first class mail (with a copy sent by telecopy) to the addresses or telecopy numbers set forth in Schedule 1 hereto or to such other address or telecopy number as has been indicated to all Partners.

Section 12.5 Miscellaneous. This document and its schedules and exhibits contain the entire Agreement among the parties and supersede all prior arrangements or understanding with respect thereto. Descriptive headings are for convenience only and will not control or affect the meaning or construction of any provision of this Agreement. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, any one of which need not contain the signatures of more than one party, but all of such counterparts together will constitute one agreement.

Limited Partners/ Partnership Percentage Interest/Notice Information

Limited Partner	Partnership Percentage Interest	Notice Information
-------------------------------	---	----------------------------------

MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT

This Management Agreement (this “Agreement”) is made as of November 15, 2007, between Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Partnership”), Highland Restoration Capital Partners Offshore, L.P., a Cayman exempted limited partnerships (the “Offshore Partnership”), Highland Restoration Capital Partners Master, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Master Partnership”), each Parallel Vehicle that may be formed from time to time (the “Parallel Vehicles”, and, together with the Partnership, the Offshore Partnership, and the Master Partnership, the “Highland Partnerships”), Highland Restoration Capital Partners GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, the general partner of each of the Highland Partnerships (the “General Partner”), and Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Manager”).

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, the General Partner desires to engage the Manager on behalf of each of the Highland Partnerships to advise the General Partner and each of the Highland Partnerships with respect to the Highland Partnerships’ investments as hereinafter set forth;

WHEREAS, the Manager is willing to render such advice on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth; and

WHEREAS, capitalized terms used herein and not defined herein have the meanings set forth in the Agreement of Limited Partnership of each of the Highland Partnerships, as amended from time to time (the “Partnership Agreements”).

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the mutual covenants herein contained, the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

1. Services to be Rendered by the Manager. Each of the Highland Partnerships and the General Partner hereby appoint the Manager, and the Manager hereby accepts such appointment, as the Manager for each of the Highland Partnerships on the terms and conditions set forth herein. To the extent requested and determined by the General Partner to be necessary or appropriate, the Manager shall advise and consult with the General Partner concerning the general and day-to-day operations of the Highland Partnerships and the acquisition and disposal of, and dealings with, investments by or for the account of the Highland Partnerships. The provisions of this Agreement shall not, however, confer any power or authority on the Manager to enter into any transaction on behalf of or in any way bind the Highland Partnerships except as expressly conferred upon the Manager by the General Partner and only in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Partnership Agreements. In performing its duties hereunder, the Manager shall act in accordance with the Partnership Agreements. In no event shall the Manager, which has been engaged on behalf of the Highland Partnerships, be treated as an agent or partner of the General Partner.

2. Manager’s Fees. As compensation for services to be rendered hereunder, each of the Highland Partnerships shall pay, or cause to be paid, to the Manager the Management Fee (as defined in Section 4.1 of the Partnership Agreements) on the terms, and subject to the conditions, set forth in Section 4.1 and the other provisions of the Partnership Agreements.

3. Expenses. The Manager shall pay all expenses that the Manager is required to pay under the Partnership Agreements out of the Management Fee received by the Manager. The Highland Partnerships shall bear and pay Partnership Expenses and Organizational Expenses during the term of this Agreement in accordance with the Partnership Agreements.

4. Use of Affiliates. The parties hereto agree that any member, director, officer, employee or agent of the Manager may be a partner, director, officer, employee or agent of the Highland Partnerships or a member, director, officer, employee or agent of the General Partner.

5. Indemnification and Exculpation.

(a) The Manager and any delegate of the Manager shall not be liable and shall be exculpated and indemnified by the Highland Partnerships for any liabilities incurred by the Manager to the full extent provided in Sections 5.10 and 5.11 of the Partnership Agreements.

(b) The term "liability," as used in this Section 5, shall include any losses, liabilities, claims, damages of any kind or expenses (including amounts paid for attorneys' fees, judgments and settlements in connection with any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding and other reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Manager or its delegate(s) in the course of defending itself) or other liabilities arising for any reason under this Agreement.

6. Amendments; Termination. No provision of this Agreement may be amended, altered or modified unless in a writing executed by the parties hereto and a Majority in Interest of the Limited Partners. This Agreement shall become effective with respect to each Highland Partnership commencing as of the date set forth on its respective signature page hereto and shall continue until the earlier of (a) the date that such Highland Partnership is finally terminated and its liquidation completed under the applicable Partnership Agreement, (b) the effective date of the removal of the General Partner under the applicable Partnership Agreement, or (c) the effective date of termination of this Agreement by the General Partner, in its sole discretion; provided, however, that the provisions of Section 5 will survive the termination of this Agreement with respect to any actions taken by the Manager prior to any such date.

7. Notice. Any notice under this Agreement shall be given in writing, addressed and delivered by first class mail, postage paid, and shall be deemed to be effective upon receipt, if to the Highland Partnerships, or the Manager:

(i) if to the General Partner or any of the Highland Partnerships:

Highland Restoration Capital Partners GP, LLC
c/o Highland Capital Management, L.P.
Two Galleria Tower
13455 Noel Road
Dallas, Texas 75240

or to such other address specified for this purpose in the Partnership Agreements;

(ii) if to the Manager:

Highland Capital Management, L.P.
Two Galleria Tower
13455 Noel Road

or at such other address as such party shall have specified in writing to the other parties hereto.

8. Assignment. This Agreement may not be assigned by any of the parties hereto, unless agreed to by all other parties, provided, that the Manager may assign this Agreement to an affiliate of the Manager to the extent permitted by the Partnership Agreements.

9. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without reference to principles of conflicts of law.

10. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but all of which together shall constitute one and the same agreement.

11. Entire Agreement. There are no oral agreements or understandings with respect to or affecting this Agreement, and this Agreement and the Partnership Agreements constitute the entire agreement between the parties hereto with regard to the subject hereof.

12. Partnership Agreements. This Agreement will be subject to the terms and provisions of the Partnership Agreements, and in the event of any conflict between this Agreement and the Partnership Agreements, the Partnership Agreements will supersede and control such conflict.

1 DALLAS, TEXAS - FEBRUARY 19, 2020 - 9:43 A.M.

2 THE COURT: All right. Well, we have Highland
3 matters. Let's get lawyer appearances, in the courtroom
4 first.

5 MR. DEMO: Good morning, Your Honor. Greg Demo;
6 Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones, on behalf of the Debtor. With 7 me are Jeff Pomerantz and John Morris.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Good morning.

9 MR. POMERANTZ: Good morning.

10 MR. CLEMENTE: Good morning, Your Honor. Matthew 11 Clemente and Juliana Hoffman from Sidley Austin on behalf of 12 the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors.

13 THE COURT: Good morning.

14 MS. HAYWARD: Good morning, Your Honor. Melissa
15 Hayward and Zachery Annable also on behalf of the Debtor.

16 THE COURT: Good morning.

17 MS. LAMBERT: Lisa Lambert with the U.S. Department
18 of Justice on behalf of the U.S. Trustee, William Neary.

19 THE COURT: Good morning.

20 MS. PATEL: Good morning, Your Honor. Rakhee Patel, 21 Phil Lamberson, and Annemarie Chiarello of Winstead, P.C., and 22 also Brian Shaw of Rogge Dunn Group, on behalf of Acis Capital
23 Management, LP and Acis Capital Management, GP, LLC.

24 THE COURT: Thank you.

25 MR. PLATT: Good morning, Your Honor. Mark Platt

1 from Frost Brown Todd on behalf of the Redeemer Committee of 2 the Highland Crusader Fund. I believe that at least Marc
3 Hankin from Jenner & Block is on the line as well.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

5 MS. ANDERSON: Good morning, Your Honor. Amy
6 Anderson with Jones Walker on behalf of the Issuers. And I
7 believe Mr. James Bentley with Schulte Roth is also on the 8 phone.

9 And I apologize for interrupting the flow. I would ask if 10 Mr. Bentley and I could be excused after the uncontested
11 matters are taken up this morning, just to avoid --

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MS. ANDERSON: -- having us -- I don't want to re-
14 interrupt later, if that is all right with Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Okay. That's fine. Thank you.

16 MS. ANDERSON: Okay.

17 THE COURT: All right. That looks like all the 18 courtroom appearances. On the phone, we heard that James 19 Bentley is there. Do you want to appear, Mr. Bentley?

20 MR. BENTLEY: Yes, that's correct, Your Honor. Good 21 morning.

22 THE COURT: All right.

23 MR. BENTLEY: Good morning, Your Honor. James 24 Bentley; Schulte Roth & Zabel; for the Cayman Issuers.

25 THE COURT: All right. And someone else was there

1 for the Redeemer Fund. I can't remember. Was it Mr. Clubok
2 you said, or anyone else on the phone?

3 MR. HANKIN: Marc Hankin from Jenner & Block, --

4 THE COURT: Oh, okay.

5 MR. HANKIN: -- Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Hankin. Anyone else on 7 the phone who wants to appear may go ahead.

8 All right. I guess we're good to go. Well, I'll turn now
9 -- Mr. Demo, are you going to start us off today?

10 MR. DEMO: Yes, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Someone delivered a wonderful notebook
12 and an easy-to-follow agenda. I appreciate whoseever hard work 13 was behind that. It really helps us get prepared back in 14 chambers. So, thank you.

15 MR. DEMO: And we're happy to do it, Your Honor,
16 because, honestly, it helps us, I think, as much as it helps
17 you.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. DEMO: And we do have extra copies if anybody
20 needs a copy of the agenda.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. DEMO: Generally speaking, we'd kind of like to 23 go in the order of the agenda, I think, with two exceptions.
24 I know that Ms. Adams and Mr. Bentley have to move, so I
25 thought maybe we could do their objection to the settlement

1 motion first.

2 THE COURT: Okay. So that's the carryover matter.

3 MR. DEMO: Correct, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: We obviously have an order in place, but 5 we kept it open to accommodate their issues.

6 MR. DEMO: Correct.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. DEMO: And that's Item 7 on Page 7.

9 THE COURT: All right.

10 MR. DEMO: And I think this one -- and anybody can 11 correct if I'm wrong -- will go pretty easily. We've come to 12 an agreement with the Objecting Parties.

13 THE COURT: All right.

14 MR. DEMO: We are planning on submitting, under a 15 notice, a revised copy of the operating protocols that were 16 approved by this Court in connection with the settlement that 17 addresses those Objectors' concerns. And then once that is 18 filed, the Objecting Parties will withdraw their objection.

19 THE COURT: All right. Anyone wish to speak up on 20 this matter?

21 All right. Well, as I recall, the concern had been that 22 they didn't want the agreed-upon operating protocols with the 23 Committee to somehow change contractual rights of the parties,
24 and so --

25 MR. DEMO: That is correct, Your Honor. And we took

1 their language and we carved out a small universe of CLO
2 Issuers, --

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 MR. DEMO: -- exactly as they asked for.

5 THE COURT: All right. Well, again, I'll ask: Does
6 anyone have any comment about this revised process?

7 All right. Well, that sounds perfectly fine to me, so
8 we'll look for the revised copy of the operational procedures.

9 MR. DEMO: Okay. Great, Your Honor.

10 And then I guess the only other exception to the order of 11 the agenda --

12 (Garbled phone noises.)

13 THE COURT: Is someone on the phone wishing to speak
14 up? (no response) All right. I guess not.

15 MR. DEMO: Yeah. I guess the only other exception to 16 the order in the agenda is the Foley Gardere retention
17 application.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. DEMO: We would like to do that last. It is a 20 contested hearing and I think we are going to have some 21 evidence on that.

22 THE COURT: All right. All right. Sounds fine.

23 MR. DEMO: Then, I guess, just going through the 24 agenda in the order that it's written, the first one is the 25 Lynn Pinker retention application. We had originally filed

1 that retention application back in October. We recently
2 withdrew it. We're not going to go forward on it.

3 THE COURT: All right.

4 MR. DEMO: The second matter, and I guess the second
5 two matters, hopefully, we can take at the same time. These 6 are two uncontested matters. Certificates of no objection
7 have been filed for both of them. The first is the foreign 8 representative motion.

9 THE COURT: Yeah, and I will tell you, I don't know
10 if it's shown up on PACER yet, --

11 MR. DEMO: Okay.

12 THE COURT: -- but I actually already signed an order
13 on that, --

14 MR. DEMO: Okay.

15 THE COURT: -- as well as exclusivity.

16 MR. DEMO: Perfect.

17 THE COURT: But, you know, I saw the certificates of 18 no objection, but perhaps we need to talk about it in case
19 anyone wants to comment in any way.

20 MR. DEMO: If anybody does, I mean, if you've already 21 entered them -- I know PACER was down, so I don't think we've 22 seen it yet.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MR. DEMO: But we're fine moving on if --

25 THE COURT: Well, yeah. The foreign representative

1 motion looked like a no-brainer, if you will.

2 MR. DEMO: Uh-huh.

3 THE COURT: It was filed way back in October, right?

4 MR. DEMO: Correct. Right.

5 THE COURT: And no one had ever objected. It's just 6 that there are some foreign proceedings out there; --

7 MR. DEMO: Right. Right.

8 THE COURT: -- you wanted to make sure that there was 9 a human being who had authority to act in those?

10 MR. DEMO: Correct.

11 THE COURT: All right. So, if no one has any 12 comment, I did go ahead and sign the order approving that.

13 MR. DEMO: Okay.

14 THE COURT: Similarly, exclusivity. I signed an 15 order on that yesterday. In probably nine out of ten cases, I
16 would have had a hearing with evidence.

17 MR. DEMO: Uh-huh.

18 THE COURT: But, again, that one seemed like a no-
19 brainer. We had no objections, and obviously you've been in 20 court a lot, with a lot of things happening.

21 MR. DEMO: Yes.

22 THE COURT: So it seemed like a no-brainer to give
23 more time on that. So, does anyone have anything they wanted
24 to say about that? (no response) All right.

25 MR. DEMO: Okay.

1 THE COURT: So that is granted. I can't remember,
2 off the top of my brain, what the extended time frame was. Do
3 you want to say that on the record? Because I've just blanked
4 out at the moment.

5 (Counsel confer.)

6 MR. DEMO: It's -- we extended it for four months,
7 Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Okay. All right. So that was June, June 9 12th as the deadline for filing a plan, and then the 10 solicitation period would expire on August 11th, 2020. That's 11 what I've approved.

12 MR. DEMO: Yes.

13 THE COURT: All right.

14 MR. DEMO: Okay. The next matter is the bar date
15 motion. There was an automatic bar date set for April 8th --

16 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

17 MR. DEMO: -- in connection with the 341 notice. We 18 just wanted to have procedures for filing claims approved by 19 this Court.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. DEMO: You know, we filed the motion. There are 22 no objections. We did have some comments from the United 23 States Trustee, which we've incorporated into a redlined
24 order.

25 Something came up last night where, the way that it works

1 because we have a lot of investors, is that a lot of people
2 get notice through their custodians and through the different
3 administrators.

4 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

5 MR. DEMO: And so we worked that into the motion.

6 The United States Trustee has asked for an extension of 45
7 days for those folks to file their claim. We're okay with 8 that. We're going to work with her afterwards, and we will 9 submit a revised form of order.

10 THE COURT: Okay. So, just to be clear, the proposed 11 deadlines, as revised, would be what?

12 MR. DEMO: It depends on when the notice is actually 13 able to be sent out.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. DEMO: We need to work through some technical 16 issues on that.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Ms. Lambert?

18 MS. LAMBERT: So, Judge Jernigan, I think the Court
19 is familiar with this from when we solicit Equity Committees.
20 It's the same issue here. You go to TD Ameritrade and then
21 they send the notice to the direct holders, but also asked
22 that they include correspondence to the TD Ameritrade or 23 Merrill Lynch equivalents saying -- instructing them to send 24 the notice of the bar date to their direct holders.

25 So we're going to agree on the phrasing of the letter.

1 I'm hopeful that we can attach that to the order so the Court
2 can see what it looks like.

3 THE COURT: All right.

4 MR. DEMO: Okay. And we'll work through those 5 issues, Your Honor, and have something to you as soon as 6 possible.

7 THE COURT: All right. And you're also asking for 8 bar dates, really, bar date for 503(b)(9) claims as well?

9 MR. DEMO: Yeah. We don't think we're going to have 10 any.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MR. DEMO: So it's really just out of an abundance of 13 caution.

14 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Well, I'll look for 15 that form of order --

16 MR. DEMO: Okay.

17 THE COURT: -- and be happy to sign it as you all
18 have negotiated it.

19 MR. DEMO: Okay. And then skipping over Foley
20 Gardere, there is one still outstanding objection on that, so
21 we will hear that in due course.

22 THE COURT: Okay.

23 MR. DEMO: The next one is Item 6 on Page 6, and 24 that's the PensionDanmark motion to lift the stay. We have an 25 agreement in principle with PensionDanmark that the Committee

1 has signed off on. We're just going through and working
2 through the paperwork. And so we would like to just push this 3 to the next hearing date, with the expectation that we would 4 get the paperwork filed in between then and we wouldn't have 5 to have it set.

6 THE COURT: All right. So we will carry this to our 7 next omnibus hearing date. I don't know if we have one
8 automatically set at this point or --

9 MR DEMO: It's March 13th.

10 THE COURT: March--?

11 MR. DEMO: 12th.

12 MS. HAYWARD: 11th.

13 MR. DEMO: 11th. I'm sorry. I was in the ballpark.

14 THE COURT: Okay. So, carried to March 11th, as 15 necessary.

16 MR. DEMO: Uh-huh.

17 THE COURT: All right.

18 MR. DEMO: And then I guess the next thing, skipping
19 over the CLO Issuers' objection, which we already addressed, 20 --

21 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

22 MR. DEMO: -- is the sealing conference motion.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MR. DEMO: And I would turn this over to my 25 colleague, John Morris.

1 THE COURT: All right.

2 MR. MORRIS: Good morning, Your Honor. John Morris,
3 Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones.

4 THE COURT: Good morning.

5 MR. MORRIS: I hope that this doesn't take too much
6 time. But following the last hearing that we had, the Court
7 had rendered a ruling with respect to the Committee's sealing
8 motion. And regrettably, the Debtor and the U.S. Trustee's
9 Office were unable to agree on a form of order. And that led 10 to kind of a back-and-forth about the scope of the protective 11 order that had been entered.

12 So, because we couldn't come to an agreement, and because 13 the Debtor had concerns about the interpretation and the 14 position, frankly, that the U.S. Trustee was taking with 15 respect to the protective order, we filed our motion for the 16 entry of an order concerning the sealing motion and for a
17 conference. And that was filed at Docket 397.

18 The Court subsequently entered the Debtor's proposed order
19 on the sealing motion, on the Committee's sealing motion. So
20 that's moot.

21 The only issue, to the extent there is an issue, and I'm 22 not sure that there is, but to the extent that there is an 23 issue, it was just the Debtor's desire to make clear on the 24 record that the words of the protective order are clear and 25 unambiguous and that they apply to any party who receives

1 documents in this bankruptcy case, whether it's in connection
2 with a contested matter or an adversary proceeding, and that
3 order applies both to documents previously received and to 4 documents that will be received in the future.

5 We had asked the U.S. Trustee's Office to make -- just to 6 agree that they would abide by the protective order. And I'm
7 not casting aspersions, I'm not saying, you know, they're bad
8 people or anything, but we never got the crystal-clear
9 response that we needed and expected, frankly, that the order
10 says what the order says and the U.S. Trustee's Office would,
11 you know, would abide by it.

12 THE COURT: Okay. So, --

13 MR. MORRIS: So that's why we asked for this status
14 conference.

15 THE COURT: So this is more than just the issue of 16 the Redeemer Committee arbitration award --

17 MR. MORRIS: Correct.

18 THE COURT: -- that was the attachment to the --

19 MS. LAMBERT: No, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Wait. Oh, okay. Well, what I was about 21 to say is I was understanding from your presentation that you
22 thought this was about more than just the arbitration award,
23 the Redeemer Committee arbitration award that had been 24 attached to that Committee objection and that was subject to 25 the motion to seal.

1 You think it is also about items marked Confidential that
2 the U.S. Trustee received before the entry of the protective
3 order?

4 MR. MORRIS: As it explicitly provides for. And I'll 5 just say that the concerns arise from the written
6 communications that we received, where the U.S. Trustee's
7 Office specifically said that they would file matters
8 unredacted and without seal. And we asked them to simply 9 retract that statement, because the order says what the order
10 says. And I think it's a fair concern that the Debtor has in 11 this regard, and it was really a very simple request. Please, 12 please, I mean, you can't file documents unredacted and 13 without seal because there's a protective order in place.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Now, Ms. Lambert, you say -- what 15 were you about to say?

16 MS. LAMBERT: First, Your Honor, I want to be clear
17 that the U.S. Trustee -- everyone in the U.S. Trustee's Office
18 intends to honor the Court's orders. There are many things
19 that we debate hotly and that we feel animated about in terms
20 of legal advocacy, but we intend to honor both the office and 21 the individual that holds that office when the Court has made
22 a ruling.

23 The issue that is presented to the Court is what is the 24 effect of dismissing a motion to seal on the basis that it is 25 moot? There's black-letter law that sealing should be for

1 limited time periods and things should be unsealed --

2 THE COURT: Okay. Can I stop you? Are you saying
3 that you think the sole issue here is just the arbitration
4 award?

5 MS. LAMBERT: Yes, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Okay. So, so --

7 MS. LAMBERT: And this is how it springs back to the 8 protective order.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Let me --

10 MS. LAMBERT: The U.S. --

11 THE COURT: Let me stop you, because what about other
12 documents besides the arbitration award that the U.S. Trustee
13 might have received prior to the Court signing the protective
14 order?

15 MS. LAMBERT: The U.S. Trustee did not receive any 16 other items that --

17 THE COURT: Okay. So we are just talking about the 18 arbitration?

19 MS. LAMBERT: We have not to this date received any 20 other items than those items --

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MS. LAMBERT: -- that were subject to the motion to
23 seal.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MS. LAMBERT: And this is the U.S. Trustee's

1 position. The Court --

2 THE COURT: I will say that one of the Debtor's
3 lawyers is shaking his head. I want to see if there's a
4 disagreement about, did the U.S. Trustee receive more items?
5 Was that --

6 MR. MORRIS: I would say, Your Honor, I don't know
7 exactly what was delivered, because I'm, --

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. MORRIS: -- right, I'm part of a team. But I do
10 know that we gave, for example, information about bonus --
11 about, you know, personnel bonus motions that is confidential.

12 MS. LAMBERT: But the issue about what was going to 13 be filed unsealed was related to the items in the motion to 14 seal and the U.S. Trustee's attendant motion for the 15 appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee, which had been redacted.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Let me -- I'm going to take a shot
17 at making this go quicker. What I meant when I ruled that,
18 well, the objection of the Committee is moot now because it
19 was resolved by other orders; therefore, I think the motion to 20 file under seal the arbitration award is moot because it was 21 connected to the Committee's objection; you know, that was a
22 quick, off-the-cuff comment. What I was trying to say is I
23 didn't think this needed any more court time. There was no
24 case in controversy anymore. I didn't know why I needed to 25 resolve an objection to the motion to file under seal.

1 What I meant is it's going to be like it never even
2 happened, right? And what I probably should have done is
3 said, Committee, you want to make an oral motion to withdraw
4 your objection and withdraw your motion to seal, you know,
5 orally, I'll grant it orally and just remove it from the 6 record, so to speak.

7 And I thought we were passing off to another day whether
8 that arbitration award, if someone wanted to file it and file
9 it publicly or disclose it, they could then file a motion
10 later.

11 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor?

12 MS. LAMBERT: Here's the -- here's the --

13 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, if I may?

14 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

15 MR. MORRIS: You've done exactly what you've said.

16 THE COURT: Okay.

17 MR. MORRIS: I don't think there is an issue now.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. MORRIS: I've heard from the U.S. Trustee's
20 Office what I asked for probably three times in writing, that 21 they are going to abide by the terms of the protective order.
22 With respect to the sealing order, Your Honor has entered an 23 order. It declared the Committee's motion to seal moot, and 24 it specifically provided that anybody who's received the 25 awards has to treat them in accordance with the protective

1 order.

2 THE COURT: Yeah.

3 MR. MORRIS: Nobody's appealed that order.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. MORRIS: It's now the -- it's -- whatever the 6 U.S. Trustee's interpretation is of the law is kind of 7 irrelevant at this point because the order has been entered
8 and it hasn't been appealed.

9 THE COURT: Okay.

10 MS. LAMBERT: Here's the thing, Your Honor. The case
11 law, Omni Video, similar things. There are two issues.
12 Number one is whether the mootness of the underlying issue
13 means that the pleadings should be unredacted, which is black 14 letter that at some point pleadings should be unredacted and 15 made available to the public. And the Court's ruling is that 16 by replacing the management the Court has mooted anything that 17 might be scandalous about that or that might be problematic
18 about it, and therefore --

19 THE COURT: What is the it? I'm not following.

20 MS. LAMBERT: -- the arbitration award and the 21 pleadings attendant were redacted, but the --

22 THE COURT: I haven't said anything about -- I mean,
23 I denied a Chapter 11 trustee motion because I thought the new 24 management was a correct way to go forward in this case.

25 MS. LAMBERT: Correct.

1 THE COURT: The arbitration award, what I meant was
2 it's like it never happened now. And if I --

3 MS. LAMBERT: Right.

4 THE COURT: -- need to do an amended order saying the 5 Committee has permission to withdraw the objection and 6 withdraw the motion to seal, I'll --

7 MS. LAMBERT: That's --

8 THE COURT: -- I'll do that, --

9 MS. LAMBERT: But --

10 THE COURT: -- so there's nothing on the record to 11 make public.

12 MS. LAMBERT: But withdrawing the motion, objection,
13 does not delete it from the record, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Well, I'm going to make it so. I'm going
15 to make it so. And then if, one day, you or someone else --

16 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, currently, --

17 THE COURT: -- wants to be relieved from the 18 protective order and asks that it be publicly filed, I'll 19 consider --

20 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor?

21 THE COURT: -- the merits of that.

22 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the thing is that the 23 Committee, when it filed its original objection, did not 24 redact. So this information has been in the public domain for 25 months now. And the arbitration --

1 THE COURT: Wait. Okay. This all happened in
2 Delaware, so I don't know their procedure. Are you saying it
3 was on the public PACER?

4 MS. LAMBERT: They didn't redact.

5 MR. MORRIS: No. Your Honor, the Redeemer Award
6 (inaudible). The order says what the order says. It's been 7 entered. I mean, this is the concern, is that we have this 8 never-ending debate. I've heard -- the Debtor has heard what 9 it needed to hear, and that is the U.S. Trustee's Office will 10 abide by the terms of the protective order.

11 With respect to the Committee's motion to seal, we're done 12 with that.

13 MS. LAMBERT: There is no --

14 MR. MORRIS: An order has been entered.

15 MS. LAMBERT: There is no motion to seal. The normal
16 effect of -- the dismissal of a motion to seal on the basis
17 that it is moot is that everything attendant to that becomes 18 unredacted and unsealed.

19 In addition, there's a separate issue that the Debtor gets 20 to talk about what the amounts in the Redeemer awards were 21 unilaterally, without -- and the Committee gets to talk about 22 it unilaterally. They've mentioned what the findings were in 23 four different spots in their objection that are not redacted.
24 And the U.S. Trustee is the only one that's held to the motion
25 to seal, which we have honored, but the --

1 THE COURT: I don't understand why we're having this
2 discussion. For now, I've made it a moot issue, a dead issue.
3 The objection to which the arbitration award was attached as 4 an exhibit became moot. Maybe I'm not using the best legal
5 description, but it was resolved. And I didn't feel the need
6 for us to have a dispute about whether that motion to seal,
7 which related to the objection --

8 MS. LAMBERT: The motion to seal --

9 THE COURT: -- was meritorious or not. If -- again,
10 --

11 MS. LAMBERT: But the motion to --

12 THE COURT: -- to me, there's an easy fix. If you're 13 -- if you think it's necessary, I'll grant the --

14 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor?

15 THE COURT: This seems like wasted energy, --

16 MS. LAMBERT: But --

17 THE COURT: -- granting the Committee authority to 18 withdraw their objection and their motion to seal --

19 MS. LAMBERT: But, Your Honor, --

20 THE COURT: -- so that it's off the record.

21 MS. LAMBERT: -- the interim sealing order didn't
22 impact just their objection. It impacted the U.S. Trustee's
23 motion to dismiss. It impacted the evidence. The finding 24 that these issues are moot because they're resolved means that 25 the Court should unredact them because it's no longer

1 confidential. It's no longer a problem. If the evidence is
2 --

3 THE COURT: Why are we having this discussion? Why
4 is this important in this Chapter 11 case? The arbitration
5 award may get in one day, and someone may ask me, and I may 6 say yes, I may say no. It depends on what the legal arguments
7 are.

8 MS. LAMBERT: It's --

9 THE COURT: Why is this relevant right now?

10 MS. LAMBERT: It's important to the public's 11 perception, and the U.S. Trustee is charged with making the 12 information about a case available to the public.

13 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, there is no motion --

14 MS. LAMBERT: This -- these -- these arbitration --

15 MR. MORRIS: There's no relief that's been sought.

16 MS. LAMBERT: The arbitration awards have been
17 discussed in the press, Your Honor. And the press --

18 THE COURT: Well, let me just say this. Okay? This 19 was obviously -- there was an arbitration award. It was never 20 confirmed with a judgment by a court. And I am presuming -- I
21 don't need to decide today -- but I'm presuming that there is 22 some legal argument that someone feels can be made about why
23 that arbitration award is confidential. You know, it
24 obviously --

25 MR. MORRIS: The Committee made that argument in

1 their motion.

2 THE COURT: Obviously, if there had been a judgment,
3 it all would have been out in the world. And I will say I
4 cannot remember ever being in a situation where someone wanted
5 to keep an arbitration award confidential in a bankruptcy
6 case. Maybe it happens. I'm just -- I've never seen it. So
7 if there is a day where someone wants me to find this
8 arbitration award can be made public, I may very well do it.
9 I don't know. I'll hear the legal arguments. But I am just 10 asking, why are we arguing about this today?

11 MS. LAMBERT: We're arguing about it today because it
12 remains a point of interest and a point of information sharing
13 to government creditors and other creditors that are involved
14 in the case, as well as the public.

15 THE COURT: They're not in here, the SEC or whoever 16 you're --

17 MS. LAMBERT: Well, how would they know to be in 18 here?

19 THE COURT: Because maybe they've seen the press that 20 you're talking about. All right. I don't know --

21 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, we -- the Debtor's heard
22 what --

23 THE COURT: The protective order governs. And my 24 prior order with regard to the sealing motion I think made
25 clear, but if it didn't, I'm going to say right now: As far

1 as I'm concerned, the arbitration award, nothing gets unsealed
2 on the Court's docket, and no one will file it or disclose it
3 without bringing a motion, and we'll have a legal argument and 4 evidence or whatever we need and I'll rule on the issue.

5 MS. LAMBERT: So, Your Honor, my understanding is 6 that the Court is striking the objection to the CRO that the 7 Committee filed and striking the U.S. Trustee's motion to 8 dismiss, which was redacted, and striking the evidence, and 9 those will not be on the docket available to the public at 10 all.

11 THE COURT: That's not what I'm doing. I don't -- I
12 don't even know -- I don't understand why you're saying that.

13 MS. LAMBERT: Well, you can't just withdraw the 14 objection. The objection had the exhibits attached to it.
15 The issue that the U.S. Trustee -- I'm sorry, but I'm always 16 charged with this issue -- is trying to unseal documents and 17 trying to determine the proper date for unsealing them. They 18 attached to the arbitration award, like a motion for summary
19 judgment. That's the practice in Delaware. And so the issue
20 is, at what point will that become unsealed? It's a higher
21 standard --

22 THE COURT: The answer is no, without an order from
23 this Court.

24 MS. LAMBERT: It is a higher standard than for 25 confidentiality. And in addition, --

1 THE COURT: All right. If you want to file a motion
2 and we set it for hearing and we have briefing, we'll do that.
3 But, for now, there's -- there are two orders that I will tell
4 you on the record what they mean is, right now, the 5 arbitration award is not to be publicly disclosed. Not by the 6 Court on the docket system. Not by any person.

7 If someone wants to publicly disclose it, they can file a
8 motion and we'll talk about whether it's protected or not.

9 MR. MORRIS: Thank you.

10 THE COURT: Whether there are grounds, legal grounds,
11 to protect it.

12 MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: I've told you I'm skeptical. I'm 14 skeptical. But, you know, we'll see. Okay?

15 MS. LAMBERT: Okay. Your Honor, the FJC publication
16 is very clear that the Court should be trying, when issues are 17 moot, to unseal items. And this is why our advocacy is this 18 way. And I will move to unseal it.

19 THE COURT: All right.

20 MR. DEMO: For the record, Your Honor, again, Greg 21 Demo; Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones; for the Debtor.

22 Before we move on to the Foley retention, two quick
23 housekeeping matters.

24 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

25 MR. DEMO: We would like to set the next omnibus

1 hearing date on April 22nd. At that date, we would do the 2 quarterly fee applications and whatever else comes up onto the 3 docket.

4 THE COURT: All right. Have you run that by Traci
5 Ellison yet?

6 MR. DEMO: We have not.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. DEMO: We've talked to the Committee about it,
9 though.

10 THE COURT: So I will call her right now.

11 MR. DEMO: And then, I guess, Your Honor, before you
12 do that, we are actually asking for a hearing date on March 13 4th at 1:30 as well. We're going to have an expedited motion
14 that we'll be filing, I think, this week. So if you're going 15 to check with her, I guess it might make sense to check on 16 both of those dates.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 (Court confers with Clerk telephonically.)

19 THE COURT: Okay. We can give you April 22nd, as you
20 requested, at 9:30.

21 MR. DEMO: Okay. Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Okay. So that's going to be an omnibus.

23 (Court confers with Clerk telephonically.)

24 THE COURT: All right. We can give you March 4th at 25 1:30.

1 How about a preview of what we're going to -- what are we
2 going to be seeing?

3 MR. DEMO: And, Your Honor, I guess we had also 4 reserved March 2nd, and we can release that date.

5 THE COURT: What? I'm sorry.

6 MR. DEMO: We had previously reserved March 2nd at 7 9:30 for the expedited motion, which I'll describe briefly in 8 a second. We don't need the March 2nd date.

9 THE COURT: So, okay.

10 MR. DEMO: Yeah.

11 THE COURT: All right. So I'll tell Traci that one 12 --

13 MR. DEMO: Yeah. Okay. Perfect. Thank you.

14 THE COURT: -- is off. Okay. What is this going to 15 be?

16 MR. DEMO: The expedited motion, we obviously run a
17 series of investment funds. From time to time, those funds,
18 either through liquidation or just through normal proceeds
19 generation, make distributions out to their investors.

20 Under the protocols, distributions out to what are 21 related, called related entities under the protocols, which 22 include Mr. Dondero, entities owned by Mr. Dondero, and 23 numerous other categories, those entities cannot receive their 24 distributions from those investment vehicles if the Committee
25 objects to those distributions unless we come to the Court and

1 we get Your Honor's approval.

2 That issue has come up. We are hoping to make those
3 distributions to these related entities. The Committee has 4 said that they will object, but they've also agreed to the 5 motion to expedite.

6 THE COURT: All right.

7 MR. DEMO: So that's the issue that's going to be in 8 front of Your Honor on March 4th.

9 THE COURT: All right. When are you going to file
10 the motion?

11 MR. DEMO: We are hoping to file it, I think, by 12 Friday.

13 THE COURT: Okay. So that would be -- what are we at 14 now, the 19th?

15 MR. DEMO: Yeah.

16 THE COURT: Okay. So that'd be --

17 MR. DEMO: Yeah. And obviously, --

18 THE COURT: -- a couple weeks.

19 MR. DEMO: -- yeah, we'll endeavor to get it filed as 20 soon as possible.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. DEMO: And then I guess the last item, Your 23 Honor, is the Foley Gardere retention application.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. DEMO: And, you know, this should be a relatively

1 simple retention application. You know, we'll get into it a
2 little bit more. There are two objections that were
3 originally filed, one by the Committee and one by Acis.
4 Yesterday morning, the Committee withdrew their objection, so
5 the only objection to the Foley Gardere retention application
6 is by Acis.

7 In the courtroom with me are Holland O'Neil with Foley
8 Gardere -- she's the partner in charge of that representation
9 -- and then also The Honorable Russell Nelms, who's a member
10 of the Independent Board of Directors of Strand Advisors, the 11 party that manages the Debtor. And I should be remiss if I
12 didn't mention that the two other independent directors, James
13 Seery and John Dubel, are also in the courtroom, --

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. DEMO: -- as is the Debtor's chief restructuring
16 officer.

17 And as I said, Your Honor, really, the only thing, the 18 only substantive thing we're here this morning on is this 19 retention application. The retention application is under 20 Section 327 of the Bankruptcy Code, and it's to represent the 21 Debtor in three matters related to the Acis bankruptcy and the 22 resulting litigation.

23 Judge Nelms is going to be testifying in support of the 24 Foley retention this afternoon.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MR. DEMO: We filed the retention application on
2 October 29th, along with the retention application of Lynn
3 Pinker. As I mentioned earlier, the Lynn Pinker retention
4 application was withdrawn. Two objections were filed to the 5 Foley retention: One by the Committee, one by Acis.

6 The Committee -- or, sorry, the Debtor addressed those two
7 objections in an omnibus reply that we filed on November 21st.
8 The primary response to those objections was providing 9 additional disclosure to this Court concerning the parties
10 being represented by Foley, the proceedings in which Foley was 11 going to represent those parties, and the allocation of fees,
12 of Foley's fees, across those parties.

13 The reply disclosed, and Judge Nelms will also testify,
14 that the Debtor had originally intended to engage Foley on 15 four matters, not three. The first matters is general matters
16 just relating to the Acis bankruptcy, status conferences,
17 proof of claim issues. The second matter is the appeal to the 18 Fifth Circuit of the confirmation order. The third matter was 19 the appeal, again to the Fifth Circuit, of the entry of the 20 involuntary petition. And then the fourth matter was the 21 appeal of Winstead's retention as counsel to both Mr. Terry,
22 who is a pre-petition creditor of Acis, and Robert [sic]
23 Phelan as the Chapter 11 trustee.

24 The two appeals, the appeal of the confirmation order and 25 the appeal of the involuntary petition, have been fully

1 briefed to the Fifth Circuit, and some of that briefing was
2 done, by necessity, post-petition, because of the drag in time
3 between when we filed the retention and now. And the Fifth
4 Circuit has actually set both of those appeals for oral
5 argument. They've been consolidated for purposes of oral
6 argument, and both of the appeals are set for March 30th, so
7 about six weeks away.

8 Now, it's an understatement to say a lot has happened in 9 this case since we filed the reply on November 21st. One of 10 the most major things in this case, as the Court knows, is the 11 appointment of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors
12 was appointed on January 9th and it oversees the management of 13 the Debtor. Judge Nelms is in this courtroom and will be 14 testifying as to what the Board did to familiarize itself with 15 the Acis litigation and with Foley's retention. And you'll 16 hear from Judge Nelms that the Board had extensive 17 conversation with the Debtor's employees, including the 18 Debtor's internal legal team, Ms. O'Neil with Foley Gardere,
19 attorneys from Pachulski regarding the status of the Acis
20 litigation and the bankruptcy and Foley's retention.

21 You'll also hear that Judge Nelms reached out directly to 22 Josh Terry, the major party in the Acis litigation, and that 23 Judge Nelms met with both Josh Terry and Ms. Patel to discuss 24 the status of the Acis litigation.

25 And then finally you'll hear, as part of that diligence,

1 that the Board analyzed the economic benefit of proceeding
2 with Foley's retention in all three of those matters that I
3 mentioned and also conducted their own diligence on the claims
4 that are being raised in those matters.

5 As a result of that diligence, and I'll discuss the 6 explicit reasons later, the Board determined that it is in the 7 best interest of the Debtor and its estate to proceed with 8 Foley's retention with respect to the three matters I
9 mentioned earlier: the Acis general bankruptcy, the appeal of 10 the confirmation order, and the appeal of the involuntary
11 petition.

12 The Debtor has also asked for Foley's assistance on 13 certain ancillary matters, like including about disclosures of 14 the Acis litigation, including what needs to go on the 15 schedules and things like that.

16 As a result of this diligence, however, the Board decided 17 to drop the Winstead appeal. So Acis -- I'm sorry, Foley is 18 not going to be retained to challenge Winstead's retention in 19 that proceeding. And assuming that Foley is retained, Foley
20 will prepare the papers to withdraw that objection as soon as 21 possible.

22 As a quick aside, though, you know, Foley was directed by 23 the Debtor to continue with the Winstead matter post-petition.
24 Incurred about $25,000 of fees. And we believe that Foley was 25 working in good faith on that. So although we're not going to

1 proceed with the Winstead matter, we would still ask that
2 Foley be entitled to file a fee application for those fees.
3 The Committee has agreed with this, and we have a form of 4 proposed order with the Committee that contemplates Foley's
5 payment or Foley's receiving payment for the Winstead fees of 6 $25,000.

7 THE COURT: Wait. You're talking about, if I approve
8 their retention, rolling that into the retention order?

9 MR. DEMO: We are, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 MR. DEMO: No?

12 THE COURT: That's a no-go, I'll tell you right now.

13 MR. DEMO: Okay.

14 THE COURT: I mean, --

15 MR. DEMO: And we can, we can deal with that.

16 THE COURT: Yeah.

17 MR. DEMO: But I --

18 THE COURT: I'm not going to say yes or no to any 19 fees I haven't seen.

20 MR. DEMO: Okay. And -- well, I'm sorry. What's 21 going to be rolled into the order is their ability to file for 22 those fees. Everybody would still have the right to object to 23 those fees. You would have the right to say yes or no on 24 those fees. The only thing that we would be asking for is 25 that they would be able to apply for those fees and that the

1 fact that they weren't retained on that matter specifically
2 would not be a basis for an objection to those fees. So it's 3 a little bit different.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. DEMO: We're not trying to cut off anybody's
6 right to object to those fees.

7 THE COURT: Okay. But I don't want to put some 8 imprimatur on their ability to ask for them.

9 MR. DEMO: Okay.

10 THE COURT: Okay? So, you know, it's just another
11 day.

12 MR. DEMO: Yeah.

13 THE COURT: If they ask for that in a fee app -- if I
14 approve their retention and they ask for it in a fee app,
15 we'll --

16 MR. DEMO: Okay. Understood, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: -- decide whether it's meritorious or 18 not.

19 MR. DEMO: Okay.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. DEMO: And then I guess, just moving on, you
22 know, as you'll hear from Judge Nelms, all of the elements of 23 227(e), you know, have been met. You know, first, Foley is 24 being retained for a special purpose. Nobody has objected on 25 that basis.

1 Second, Foley is not being retained to conduct the
2 Debtor's bankruptcy case. That's my firm, Pachulski Stang.
3 Again, nobody has objected on that basis.

4 Third, Foley represented the Debtor prior to the petition
5 date on these matters. Again, nobody has objected on that 6 basis.

7 And, fourth, you know, as Judge Nelms will testify, the 8 retention of Foley and Foley's continued prosecution of the 9 Acis matters is in the best interest of the Debtor's estate.

10 And then fifth and finally, Foley has no adverse interest
11 with respect to the matters on which it is being retained.

12 Now, as I mentioned, there were two omnibus objections
13 that were filed. There was the Committee's objection and then 14 there was Acis's objection. Both of these objections really
15 had one common theme, which was that there was insufficient
16 disclosure as to how the fees were going to be allocated, and,
17 honestly, whether or not Mr. James Dondero would benefit from 18 Foley's retention without paying his share of those fees.

19 Now, we had a meeting with the Committee on Friday and we 20 walked through this issue. And as a result of that, the 21 Committee withdrew its objection.

22 What we told to the Committee is that, prior to the Acis
23 bankruptcy -- and this goes primarily to the retention -- or,
24 the prosecution of the involuntary petition appeal. In that 25 appeal, Foley is representing just Neutra. Foley is not

1 representing the Debtor. Now, the economic benefit to the 2 estate, though, in that appeal accrues almost solely to the 3 Debtor. It does not accrue to Neutra or to Neutra's economic
4 interest owners, which, full disclosure, are Mr. James Dondero
5 and Mr. Mark Okada.

6 The reason why the Debtor -- and you'll hear, again, hear
7 this from Judge Nelms -- believes that it's in the economic 8 best interest of its estate to pay for Neutra's fees in that 9 appeal is that, if Neutra is successful in that appeal, the 10 involuntary petition obviously will be struck, the involuntary
11 will be unwound, and the economic interest and the economic 12 ownership of Acis will revert to Neutra.

13 Upon that reversion, Highland Capital Management will be 14 reinstated as the advisor to Neutra.

15 Now, if Neutra -- I'm sorry, if Acis then generates fees,
16 those fees are going to be paid about 85 percent to satisfy
17 the contractual obligations under that advisory agreement.

18 So, on a go-forward basis, again, if Neutra is successful,
19 85 percent of the revenue generated by Acis will go to Neutra.
20 That remaining 15 percent will be used to satisfy the claim
21 that Acis -- I'm sorry, that Highland Capital Management has 22 against Acis for the pre-, post-petition, and gap period
23 services that it provided to Acis under the advisory 24 agreements. That claim is about $8 million.

25 So, 85 percent of the revenue on a go-forward basis is

1 going to be used to satisfy the obligations under the
2 management agreement. The balance of that is going to be used
3 to satisfy that $8 million claim.

4 That means that, you know, if our math is right -- and 5 obviously, the numbers are not static -- that there's not 6 going to be any contributions or any distributions to the 7 upstream equity, to Mr. Dondero or Mr. Okada, for about four 8 years. After that four years, 85 percent of the revenue is 9 still going to go to Highland Capital Management, the Debtor,
10 under those advisory agreements.

11 So for that reason, we do believe, and Judge Nelms will 12 testify, that the true economic beneficiary of the Neutra
13 appeal of the involuntary petition is actually Highland
14 Capital Management.

15 THE COURT: I don't want to jump ahead too much, but 16 are we going to talk today about mootness as a potential issue
17 with both of these appeals? I mean, you know, I have to say
18 it's very compelling to me that you tell me all the briefing
19 has been done --

20 MR. DEMO: Uh-huh.

21 THE COURT: -- and oral argument is set in March, so
22 -- but is mootness a --

23 MR. DEMO: We don't --

24 THE COURT: Was there ever a motion to dismiss for 25 mootness or --

1 MR. DEMO: Not that I'm aware of, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. DEMO: And all the briefing has been done.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. DEMO: Again, oral argument is set. And as far
6 as I know, nobody has raised that issue.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. DEMO: So I think that we're still proceeding as 9 to whether --

10 THE COURT: And, again, I'm leaping ahead, but I'm 11 just -- you know, you went through the scenario --

12 MR. DEMO: Uh-huh.

13 THE COURT: -- to show that, you know, Dondero and --
14 if the involuntary was reversed, you know, no money would ever
15 get there. But you're painting a picture, to me, that, again,
16 it feels a little farfetched. But the evidence will either,
17 you know, bear it out or not.

18 MR. DEMO: Again, the evidence, you know, I think,
19 will bear it out.

20 And I think what's important also is, when you're thinking
21 about this, is to think of the actual universe of post-
22 petition fees that Foley is going to incur for those services,
23 for the briefing of the two appeals and then for the 24 bankruptcy services, versus the actual economic gain that the 25 Debtor could and hopefully will get if those appeals are

1 successful.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. DEMO: So, Foley --

4 THE COURT: And hopefully the evidence will really go
5 to this.

6 MR. DEMO: Yes.

7 THE COURT: I'm trying to think of -- I'm trying to 8 decide what life looks like --

9 MR. DEMO: Right.

10 THE COURT: -- if there is a successful reversal.

11 MR. DEMO: Right.

12 THE COURT: And I'm not at all clear. So the 13 evidence and argument will hopefully make me clear.

14 MR. DEMO: Yes. And, honestly, Your Honor knows the 15 facts and circumstances --

16 THE COURT: Right.

17 MR. DEMO: -- better than me and probably better than 18 anyone.

19 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

20 MR. DEMO: But I think what's --

21 THE COURT: I mean, we've had -- we had terminated
22 contracts --

23 MR. DEMO: Right.

24 THE COURT: -- with Highland. We have a Reorganized
25 Debtor now, which, you know, --

1 MR. DEMO: Right.

2 THE COURT: -- has new contractual arrangements.

3 MR. DEMO: Right.

4 THE COURT: I just, I'm not sure how that all goes
5 away if there's a reversal. So I'm --

6 MR. DEMO: Right.

7 THE COURT: I'm really wanting to drill down on the 8 benefit --

9 MR. DEMO: Okay. And --

10 THE COURT: -- to Highland.

11 MR. DEMO: And we can do that. But I think --

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MR. DEMO: -- it's helpful to talk about --

14 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

15 MR. DEMO: -- the universe of fees first and then
16 talk about the related benefit for that.

17 Foley Gardere has helpfully filed two post-petition fee
18 applications. Those fee applications disclose that, on all 19 three of these matters, Foley has billed about $330,000. We 20 believe that Foley was probably going to bill, up through the 21 end of oral argument, about $500,000.

22 And then, you know, again -- and not getting too deep into 23 it, because I do think this is something that's better for 24 testimony because I think it goes to, you know, what the Board
25 believes is the economic benefit to the estate -- but if the

1 Neutra appeal is successful, if the confirmation order appeal
2 is successful, then the post-petition fees that are going to
3 accrue or we believe are going to accrue to Highland Capital
4 Management under those contracts are tens of millions of 5 dollars a year.

6 The post-petition and gap period and pre-petition fees
7 that we believe that Acis owes to Highland are $8 million a
8 year. And then there's the go-forward fees.

9 So we believe that, for spending $500,000, the benefits to 10 the estate are actually going to be in the tens of millions of 11 dollars. So, you know, even though, you know, reasonable 12 minds can differ as to the merits -- and, again, we'll put on 13 some testimony about that, although there's obviously 14 privilege issues and things like that -- the actual economic 15 benefit to the estate is $500,000 versus the possible benefit
16 of $50 million, possibly more dollars, plus the removal of a
17 substantial portion of Acis's proof of claim, which is -- I
18 think it says not less than $75 million. So you're looking 19 at, if we're successful, fees into the estate --

20 THE COURT: Well, that's a different issue, though.
21 Isn't that --

22 MR. DEMO: It is, but it --

23 THE COURT: Isn't that the Acis adversary proceeding
24 component?

25 MR. DEMO: Yes.

1 THE COURT: So, --

2 MR. DEMO: But if the -- if the -- and, again, I
3 don't want to get too far into this --

4 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

5 MR. DEMO: -- because I don't want to get into, you
6 know, legal arguments that are going to be on appeal.

7 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

8 MR. DEMO: But what we believe is that, and what 9 Judge Nelms will testify to and what you'll hear, is that if 10 the confirmation order and the involuntary petition are 11 erased, especially the involuntary petition, and we go back to 12 status quo ante, the benefit to the estate is going to be in 13 the tens of millions of dollars, at a minimum, plus the 14 possible diminution, to a large extent, of a proof of claim 15 that is not less than $75 million, and we've heard numbers of 16 up to $300 million.

17 So you're looking to spend $500,000 on these two matters
18 for a benefit to the estate that's going to be astronomically
19 more than that. So the benefit to the estate versus the money
20 that is going out of the estate, especially since everything
21 has been briefed and set for oral argument, I guess,
22 personally, I find it difficult to not see that benefit and 23 not to see that spending that half a million dollars to 24 possibly get back $50-plus million, I just don't see how 25 that's not a benefit to the estate and how that does not

1 warrant the retention of Foley Gardere in the limited matters
2 that we're honestly asking them to be retained for.

3 THE COURT: All right.

4 MR. DEMO: Okay.

5 THE COURT: I'll hear other opening statements on
6 this.

7 MR. LAMBERSON: Good morning, Your Honor. Phillip
8 Lamberson on behalf of Acis Capital Management.

9 First of all, let me start off with outlining exactly what 10 our limited objection relates to. We are not objecting to the 11 Debtor retaining Foley Gardere to handle the litigation
12 matters for the Debtor. So, for example, the Acis litigation, 13 anything related to the Acis bankruptcy, that's fine. We 14 don't have any objection to that.

15 THE COURT: So the mega-adversary proceeding against 16 Highland and affiliates that is stayed, --

17 MR. LAMBERSON: Uh-huh.

18 THE COURT: -- I have a giant Report and 19 Recommendation on my desk that was ready to go about the time
20 the Highland bankruptcy was filed -- but it's stayed: You
21 would have no objection to Gardere defending Highland --

22 MR. LAMBERSON: Correct.

23 THE COURT: -- in that if ever a motion to lift stay
24 is filed and that goes forward?

25 MR. LAMBERSON: Correct.

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 MR. LAMBERSON: And, for example, I believe counsel
3 mentioned this: To the extent that there's a status
4 conference in the Acis case or something like that, we don't
5 have any issue with Foley representing the Debtor as it
6 relates to that.

7 We don't have any objection to the representation of the 8 Debtor as it relates to the Debtor's appeal of the 9 confirmation order. We don't have any objection to Neutra's
10 retention of Foley at all. In fact, we don't have any basis
11 to object to Neutra's retention of Foley Gardere. Neutra is 12 not a debtor.

13 We fully expect and anticipate that we'll be opposite
14 Foley Gardere in the appeal which is going to be argued at the 15 end of next month, as well as any matters in front of this 16 Court.

17 What we do object to is the Debtor agreeing -- frankly,
18 pre-agreeing -- to pay Foley Gardere for litigation costs
19 incurred by non-debtors, and, specifically, Neutra. And as 20 counsel outlined, and the reply filed by the Debtors is very 21 clear on this point, Neutra is not a subsidiary of the Debtor.
22 Neutra is ultimately owned one hundred percent by Mr. Dondero
23 and Mr. Okada.

24 So why, why are we objecting? There's a couple of 25 reasons. Number one, this is obviously an extremely unusual

1 request. It's not really a --

2 THE COURT: Okay. Let me just make sure I heard you
3 correct. The only thing that Acis is objecting to is the 4 Debtor paying fees for Gardere -- Foley Gardere's
5 representation of Neutra?

6 MR. LAMBERSON: Correct.

7 THE COURT: Okay. So, --

8 MR. LAMBERSON: Right. And let me --

9 THE COURT: -- you don't have a problem with Foley
10 representing the Debtor in these appeal -- well, the Debtor
11 isn't an appellant in the involuntary appeal, right? Or no?

12 MR. LAMBERSON: It is -- no. So, the Debtor is an 13 appellant in the --

14 THE COURT: The confirmation order.

15 MR. LAMBERSON: -- confirmation order appeal.

16 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

17 MR. LAMBERSON: It's one of two appellants.

18 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

19 MR. LAMBERSON: The other one is Neutra.

20 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

21 MR. LAMBERSON: Neutra is the only appellant in the 22 confirmation order -- I'm sorry, in the order for relief
23 appeal.

24 THE COURT: Okay. So you don't have any problem with 25 Foley's retention; it's just you don't want the Debtor to pay

1 Neutra's legal fees?

2 MR. LAMBERSON: Correct.

3 THE COURT: And there needs to be some allocation in 4 the confirmation appeal between Neutra and the Debtor, and it
5 needs to all be paid by Neutra, --

6 MR. LAMBERSON: Correct.

7 THE COURT: -- not the Debtor? Okay.

8 MR. LAMBERSON: Yeah. That's exactly correct, Your 9 Honor.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Just --

11 MR. LAMBERSON: So I wanted to be clear on that, --

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MR. LAMBERSON: -- that we're not -- we understand
14 that they're --

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MR. LAMBERSON: -- going to be our opponents going 17 forward, and we're fine with that.

18 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

19 MR. LAMBERSON: I actually like Mrs. O'Neil.

20 So, why are we objecting? So, there's a couple of 21 reasons. One is procedural and one is really more
22 substantive. So, this is obviously a strange request under 23 Section 327. 327 is to approve counsel for the Debtor, for 24 the estate. And this request doesn't really fit.

25 So, for example, you engage Foley Gardere. You agree that

1 the Debtor is going to pay fees under 330. Okay. Well, how
2 do we apply 330 in this situation, right? What constitutes 3 reasonable and necessary as it relates to the Debtor when the 4 work wasn't done for the Debtor? What constitutes a
5 determination of whether it was beneficial to the Debtor when,
6 again, the work wasn't done for the Debtor?

7 There's other issues, obviously. Who controls Neutra?
8 It's not controlled by the Debtor. The Debtor doesn't own any 9 of Neutra. Who is making litigation decisions for Neutra?
10 All we know is that the Debtor is paying the freight for 11 whatever Neutra decides to do going forward.

12 The other issue, Your Honor, and this is probably the 13 broader issue, is this decision evidences a continuation of a
14 failed litigation strategy that precipitated this bankruptcy
15 in the first place. Right? So, we all heard that the reason
16 Highland Capital Management had to file bankruptcy is because 17 they couldn't pay the Crusader judgment. Right? They had a
18 $190 million judgment, or about to be judgment against them,
19 and they couldn't pay it.

20 So let's look at the Committee. Right? We have a 21 Committee with four members on it. Three of them are 22 litigants. Three of them are in active litigation against the 23 Debtor.

24 If you look at the Top 20 List in this case, of the Top
25 10, only one of them is not a litigation creditor, and that's

1 -- I'm trying to -- is an insider creditor. The rest of the 2 Top 10 are either litigation adversaries or they're law firms
3 that were paid to fight the litigation adversaries.

4 So why is the Debtor continuing its strategy of fighting
5 every last issue, and using various instrumentalities to do
6 it, and then paying the freight for all of it? That's exactly
7 how we got to where we are today in this case.

8 So, let me address also the benefit from the Neutra
9 appeal. And, Your Honor, I think that's definitely an area
10 that we need to probe. Because, like you, I don't get it. I 11 think what they're outlining is sort of a fantasyland where 12 money is going to rain from the sky when they win this appeal,
13 or if they win this appeal. And obviously, their reply goes
14 on for pages about the benefit to the Debtor.

15 So, just using basic odds of winning -- and I'm not going 16 to go to the substance of this appeal, which I think is 17 probably worse than the basic odds -- there's a 90 percent
18 chance that the Fifth Circuit just affirms the -- Judge
19 Fitzwater's ruling. Right? I mean, there's a 90 percent
20 chance that what the Debtor gets out of this is an affirmance
21 that says, "You lose." Right?

22 But even if it's reversed, --

23 THE COURT: What are you basing that on? Because 24 Fitzwater affirmed 90 percent of the time?

25 MR. LAMBERSON: Well, so, actually, Judge -- and Ms.

1 Chiarello can probably address this more specifically -- Judge
2 Fitzwater actually gets affirmed, I think, more than 90
3 percent of the time, --

4 THE COURT: Probably, yes.

5 MR. LAMBERSON: -- but the general reversal rate at 6 the Fifth Circuit is about ten percent. So, and that 7 obviously includes things like 1983 appeals and things like
8 that.

9 But even if it is reversed, which I think we'd all agree
10 is fairly unlikely, again, money isn't just going to start
11 raining down on Highland Capital. So what's most likely going 12 to happen if the Fifth Circuit decides to reverse -- and let 13 me, let me point out one issue, Your Honor. The only issue on 14 appeal, I should say the only -- there are various issues on 15 appeal, and I'll just click through them. So, one of them is 16 whether Neutra has standing to appeal. Right? Whether they 17 qualify under the person aggrieved standard that the Fifth 18 Circuit uses. That's obviously a gating issue. And, by the 19 way, that's the basis of Judge Fitzwater's ruling affirming
20 this Court's ruling, which was basically Neutra doesn't have 21 standing to appeal the order for relief. They're not the 22 Debtor.

23 So the first issue is whether Neutra is a person
24 aggrieved. Okay?

25 The second issue, and this is the substantive bankruptcy

1 issue, the only substantive bankruptcy issue, is whether the
2 order for relief should have been arbitrated. Right? So
3 that's the next issue. That would be, frankly, the issue that
4 the Fifth Circuit would have to reverse on, is that well, yes,
5 this should have been arbitrated. Right? The order for 6 relief should have been arbitrated.

7 And then the final issue that we raised on appeal is 8 whether, even if Neutra has standing and even if there was 9 some right to arbitration, whether Neutra, via the putative
10 debtor, waived its right to arbitration by waiting until 11 literally, and you'll remember this, literally the day before 12 the order for relief file started, to raise its request for 13 arbitration. Right?

14 So, assuming that they get some reversal, what's really
15 likely to happen is that the Court, the Fifth Circuit is going 16 to send it back to you on a remand and say, This is the 17 standard you should have applied, you need to make this 18 finding, or something like that, right? It's very unlikely
19 the Fifth Circuit is going to say, We're going to reverse and 20 we're just going to render, right, and this thing just goes
21 away forever, particularly considering that the only live
22 substantive issue is whether the order for relief should have 23 been arbitrated, right?

24 But even if Neutra wins and its relief is wholly granted, 25 well, what does that mean? That doesn't mean that the

1 involuntary goes away. It doesn't mean the order for relief
2 permanently goes away. It means that we go arbitrate it.
3 Right? That's what they asked for, is that we go arbitrate
4 it. So now we go arbitrate it. Right?

5 So, basically, if you break it down, if, in the unlikely
6 event Neutra wins on appeal, it doesn't mean the bankruptcy
7 permanently goes away. What it means is we have more
8 litigation. Right? And that's what normally happens when 9 there's a reversal on appeal, right? You relitigate the 10 issues that were litigated in the first place.

11 So this concept -- you're exactly right, Your Honor. This 12 sounds like fantasyland. This concept that money is just 13 going to fall out of the sky and onto Highland because Neutra
14 got a reversal is just not going to happen.

15 There's some other problems here, obviously. Counsel just 16 spent a lot of time talking about how all of Acis's funds are 17 going to get paid to Highland. Well, that completely misses 18 the point that Josh Terry has an eight, probably somewhere in 19 the neighborhood of maybe $12 million judgment now against 20 Acis. They're just going to ignore that? They're just going
21 to ignore the fact that their largest creditor has a judgment
22 against them and is just hanging out there? That's going to 23 have some impact on what happens to all that cash flow.

24 And then, finally -- and we'll talk about this in more
25 substance when we get to the testimony -- as you recall, this

1 was the entire basis of the Acis case: Mr. Dondero and
2 Highland Capital were aggressively trying to liquidate Acis
3 when we showed up in your Court asking for relief. So what
4 makes anybody think that that isn't going to continue
5 happening if there's not a bankruptcy anymore? Right?

6 And Your Honor will recall that you had to twice enjoin
7 Dondero affiliates, HCLOF, from liquidating the PMAs and 8 Acis's assets during the bankruptcy. Right? So the concept
9 that if they win on appeal and there is no bankruptcy,
10 everything just goes away and we're not in this Court at all,
11 that Acis is going to have all of these valuable PMAs and cash
12 flow and it's all going to go to the benefit of Highland, is 13 completely contrary to what happened during the Acis case and 14 what precipitated the Acis case.

15 One other issue that we raised in the objection and in the 16 Debtor's omnibus reply is what we call the DAF litigation,
17 which is litigation filed in the Southern District of New 18 York. And Your Honor, I think you probably remember that from 19 the pleadings. I do want to point out that -- so this, this 20 is a serious issue for Acis. And the reason is because,
21 contrary to what was stated in the reply -- admittedly, this
22 happened after the reply -- but contrary to what happened --
23 was stated in the reply, that litigation has now been expanded
24 to include Acis and Mr. Terry and Brigade, and with basically 25 the same allegations of CLO mismanagement that were raised in

1 this Court during the confirmation hearing.

2 So this is a very significant matter to us. We are very 3 concerned that this Debtor is involved in that and is 4 promoting it in some way. And we want Your Honor to be aware
5 of that litigation and the actions that are taken challenging
6 your rulings in a court that's miles and miles away from here.

7 Thank you, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Morris, are you ready to 9 call your witness?

10 MR. MORRIS: Yes, I am, Your Honor. The Debtor calls
11 Russell Nelms.

12 THE COURT: All right.

13 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, I have some exhibit binders.
14 May I hand up?

15 THE COURT: You may. All right. Well, odd as it is,
16 I suppose I in this context need to swear you in.

17 RUSSELL NELMS, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

18 THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

19 MR. MORRIS: John Morris for Pachulski Stang Ziehl &
20 Jones on behalf of the Debtor, Your Honor.

21 Before we get to the testimony, the Debtor has put on its 22 exhibit list nine specific documents that are in the binder
23 before you, and the Debtor moves for the introduction of those 24 documents into evidence.

25 THE COURT: All right. Any objection?

Nelms - Direct

57

1 MR. LAMBERSON: No objections, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Exhibits 1 through 9 are admitted.

3 (Debtor's Exhibits 1 through 9 are received into 4 evidence.)

5 MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

6 DIRECT EXAMINATION

7 BY MR. MORRIS:

8 Q Mr. Nelms, do you currently have a relationship to the 9 Debtor?

10 A I do.

11 Q And what is that relationship?

12 A I am one of three independent directors of the Debtor.

13 Q And when were you appointed?

14 A January the 9th of this year.

15 Q Did you just listen to the opening statement on behalf of 16 Acis?

17 A I did.

18 Q And did you hear the reference to the DAF litigation?

19 A I did.

20 Q And did you hear the allegation that the Debtor somehow
21 was involved in the prosecution of the DAF litigation?

22 A I heard that, yes.

23 Q Okay. Did there come a time last week that the Board
24 learned of the possibility of a filing with respect to the DAF
25 litigation?

004964

Nelms - Direct

58

1 A We learned about the filing of the DAF litigation sometime
2 within the last two weeks.

3 Q And what did the Board do in response to learning that 4 information?

5 A Well, first of all, I -- we met with Ms. Patel and her
6 client, Josh Terry. They expressed their concerns about the 7 DAF litigation. And so the Board used its influence to 8 encourage the trustee of the DAF, Grant Scott, to dismiss that 9 litigation, and we have gotten Mr. Scott's commitment to 10 dismiss the litigation.

11 There's a little bit of an issue there concerning about 12 whether some of the claims can -- they may need to be 13 dismissed without -- the preference is, of course, to dismiss
14 them without prejudice, but there are some issues about that.
15 But I'm told by Mr. Scott that he's going to dismiss the 16 litigation.

17 Q Let's go back in time before this was filed. Did the 18 Board express its view as to whether there should be a filing
19 at all?

20 A It was really a very brief thing. This was probably a 21 couple weeks or so ago, kind of late in the day at the end of 22 a long, long day, one of those long days we've been having.
23 Someone brought into a board meeting I guess a copy of this 24 new DAF complaint. It had not been filed at that time. They 25 showed it to Mr. Dubel. He looked at it and just kind of 004965

Nelms - Direct

59

1 asked what it was. There was a brief explanation of what it
2 was. And Mr. Dubel said, Tell them not to file this. He 3 goes, This is only going to cause us problems. And that's the 4 last we heard of it before it was filed.

5 Q And what law firm filed that complaint?

6 A That was filed by the Lynn Pinker firm.

7 Q And after the Board learned that Lynn Pinker filed this,
8 in spite of the Board's instructions, did the Board take any 9 steps with respect to Lynn Pinker?

10 A Well, of course, we -- one of the matters that previously
11 was before the Court was the Lynn Pinker application to be 12 retained in this case. And I'll just say that it was -- it
13 was a factor that went into our deliberations concerning our 14 decision not to go forward with the Lynn Pinker litigation.

15 Q So, I just want to make sure I have this right. So the 16 Board, upon learning of a possible filing, gave instructions
17 not to do so; is that right?

18 A It did.

19 Q And upon learning that it was filed, it became one of the 20 factors that the Board relied upon in determining not to 21 pursue the Lynn Pinker retention; is that right?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q And you personally reached out to Mr. Terry and Ms. Patel
24 to discuss the issue; is that right?

25 A Mr. Seery and I did, the two of us.

004966

Nelms - Direct

60

1 Q And you used whatever influence you had to try to reach an
2 agreement for the withdrawal of that complaint without
3 prejudice; is that right?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Okay. Now, let's get back to the issues that are relevant
6 to the actual motion. Are you aware that the Debtor has 7 sought the Court's approval to retain Foley Gardere as special
8 counsel?

9 A I am.

10 Q And have you reviewed the court filings with respect to 11 that motion?

12 A Yes, I have.

13 Q Okay. Can you describe for the Court generally the 14 matters for which the Debtor seeks to retain Foley Gardere?

15 A There are three matters, essentially. One is an appeal in 16 the Fifth Circuit which concerns the entry of the order for 17 relief in the involuntary petition itself. The second is an 18 appeal in the Fifth Circuit that concerns the confirmation of 19 the Acis plan. And the third matter is the assertion of,
20 prosecution of a proof of claim that Highland Capital
21 Management would have in the Acis bankruptcy.

22 Q Okay. And are these the special purposes for which the 23 Debtor seeks to retain Foley?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Do you know whether there are matters that were part of 004967

Nelms - Direct

61

1 the original motion but which the Debtor no longer seeks to 2 pursue?

3 A One of the matters that was pending when we took office
4 was an appeal, and I believe it was still in the District
5 Court, and that related to an alleged conflict of interest by 6 the Winstead firm. And so there was an objection to their 7 fees and an appeal concerning payment of Winstead fees. And 8 the Board has decided not to go forward with that appeal.

9 Q Okay. So the Board -- did you hear the opening from 10 Acis's counsel that charged that the Debtor was just doing
11 more scorched-earth litigation tactics? Did you hear that 12 charge?

13 A I heard that, yes.

14 Q Okay. But yet the Board has instructed Foley not to 15 pursue the Winstead matter; is that right?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q And just again, for the record, why did the Board make 18 that decision?

19 A The Board made that decision because we just thought it
20 was in the best interest of the Debtor and this estate not to 21 do that.

22 Q And did the Debtor see any benefit to pursuing that 23 particular litigation?

24 A You know, there -- a benefit could be articulated, but we 25 decided not to pursue it.

004968

Nelms - Direct

62

1 Q Okay. So, that, plus the Neutra appeal, are two -- I
2 mean, I apologize, withdrawn. That, plus the DAF matter, are 3 two examples where the Board exercised its judgment not to 4 pursue pending litigation; is that fair?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q Okay. Is the Board supportive of the Debtor's application
7 to retain Foley for the three matters you have described?

8 A It is.

9 Q And without revealing privileged communications, can you
10 describe generally the diligence that the Board conducted to 11 reach that decision?

12 A Well, we met with some of the people that work at 13 Highland. We met with the Debtor's attorneys, the Pachulski
14 firm. We did have a couple of meetings with Ms. Patel and Mr.
15 Terry. Some of us have reviewed the pleadings, some more than 16 others. And, well, we may have done other things, but those 17 are the ones that come to mind right now.

18 Q I don't know if you mentioned it, but did you confer with 19 Ms. O'Neil?

20 A Oh, yes, we did. We talked with Ms. O'Neil about it.

21 Q Okay. And what was the purpose of the diligence that you
22 just described for the Court?

23 A Well, ultimately, what we as a board were trying to do was 24 to conduct kind of a cost-benefit analysis to the estate: How 25 much will this potentially cost us? What's the potential

004969

63

1 upside of pursuing it? And based upon that cost-benefit
2 analysis, we thought that this was the best thing to do.

3 Q Okay. Let's just focus on a couple of very narrow 327(e)
4 issues. Is the Debtor seeking to retain Foley to act as 5 general bankruptcy counsel?

6 A No.

7 Q And which firm serves as general bankruptcy counsel?

8 A That would be the Pachulski firm.

9 Q Okay. And do you know whether Foley Gardere represented
10 the Debtor's interest in each of the three matters that you've 11 described?

12 A It has been representing the Debtor previously.

13 Q Okay. So let's talk about those three matters. The first
14 one I believe you said was with respect to the representation
15 of the Debtor in connection with an $8 million claim that it
16 has against Acis; is that right?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q And is that the claim -- is that the subject of a formal 19 proof of claim?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay.

22 A It is a claim filed in the Acis case.

23 Q I've placed before you an exhibit binder, and I would ask
24 you to turn first to Exhibit 4.

25 A Okay.

004970

Nelms - Direct

64

1 Q And is that one of the proofs of claim that the Debtor has
2 filed against Acis?

3 A It is.

4 Q And you'll see that attached to the proof of claim a few
5 pages in there's a document called the Third Amended and 6 Restated Sub-Advisory Agreement. Do you see that?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Do you know what that document is? Generally?

9 A Well, generally, I know what this document is.

10 Q All right. And what's your general understanding of the 11 document?

12 A This is an advisory agreement that -- the only thing that 13 I know, I can tell you, really, about this agreement is it 14 gives rise to and generates fees that would inure to the 15 benefit of the Debtor.

16 Q Okay. And a few pages past that, you'll see something
17 called a Fourth Amended and Restated Shared Services
18 Agreement. Do you see that?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Is it your understanding that that was another source of 21 revenue that the Debtor generated when it had this agreement
22 in place with Acis?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. Do you have an understanding as to, you know,
25 ballpark, what the annual fees were that the Debtor received

004971

Nelms - Direct

65

1 pursuant to these agreements prior to the Acis bankruptcy?

2 A Well, I think, prior to the bankruptcy, it was more, and
3 perhaps significantly more, than it is today. It may have
4 been in the $12 million range per annum. I think it's less
5 than that today.

6 Q Okay. And can you turn to Exhibit 5, please? Is that
7 another proof of claim that was filed in the bankruptcy case,
8 the Acis bankruptcy case?

9 A Yes. This is a little bit different. This is an 10 application for an administrative expense claim. The prior 11 proof of claim that we looked at related to a pre-petition
12 claim that the Debtor had, then a gap period claim that the 13 Debtor had, and this is post-petition. So this is an 14 administrative claim. It's basically for the same services,
15 but just different time periods.

16 Q Okay. And who was responsible for preparing Exhibits 4,
17 5, and 6?

18 A Ms. O'Neil and the Foley firm.

19 Q Okay. And has the Board reached a conclusion that it's in 20 the Debtor's best interest to retain Foley on a post-petition
21 basis to prosecute these claims?

22 A It has.

23 Q And why -- what's the justification for that? Why did the 24 Board reach that decision?

25 A Well, we believe it's in the best interest of the Debtor.

004972

Nelms - Direct

66

1 Obviously, a couple of things there. I realize we may have a
2 very long road ahead of us with respect to these things. But
3 the overall aspirational goal is to have an income stream
4 that's associated with these agreements. The goal is to have
5 an amount of money out there that's available to pay our pre-
6 petition claims, the gap claims, the administrative claims,
7 while at the same time acknowledging that this company has the 8 obligation to satisfy and fulfill Mr. Terry's claim as well.

9 Q All right. Let's just focus for the moment on the three
10 proofs of claim. The aggregate amount is approximately $8
11 million. Do I have that right?

12 A Yes, that's right.

13 Q And from the Board's perspective, is the -- are those 14 claims an asset of the estate?

15 A They are.

16 Q And does the Board want to retain Foley for the purpose of 17 trying to recover that asset?

18 A It does.

19 Q And has the Board concluded that Foley is familiar with 20 these particular claims?

21 A Foley is familiar with these claims, yes.

22 Q And -- okay. Let's move on, then, to the second task for 23 which the Debtor seeks approval to retain Foley, and that is 24 with respect to the confirmation order. That's one of the 25 tasks, right?

004973

Nelms - Direct

67

1 A It is.

2 Q Okay. And this is one of the Fifth Circuit arguments
3 that's scheduled for six weeks from now; is that right?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Okay. And has Foley represented the Debtor throughout the 6 proceedings that are leading up to this oral argument?

7 A It has.

8 Q And did Foley prepare all of the briefing in connection
9 with the arguments?

10 A It did prepare the briefing. It did that, in some 11 respects, along with Lynn Pinker.

12 Q Okay. Did you personally review the Debtor's briefs that 13 were filed in connection with the appeal?

14 A I have reviewed those.

15 Q Okay. Have you reviewed every single piece of the record
16 on appeal?

17 A I would doubt that I have.

18 Q Okay. Do you have a general understanding of the nature
19 of the appeal? Of -- and this would --

20 A Are we talking now about the confirmation appeal?

21 Q Yes. Just the confirmation. Yeah.

22 Q Well, the appeal has basically two broad elements, and the 23 first is an argument that the plan was not brought in good 24 faith. Section 1129(a)(3). And that goes back to the 25 arbitration issue. Generally speaking, that because -- the 004974

1 allegation is that because Mr. Terry refused to arbitrate,
2 then the plan was tainted by that lack of good faith. And the 3 second issue, broad issue that's involved in that appeal has 4 to do with, oh, the injunction, the breadth and scope of the 5 injunction, which the Debtor contends is -- was improper.

6 Q And if the Fifth Circuit reverses the underlying decision,
7 has the Board made a determination of the possible benefits
8 that the Debtor may receive?

9 A Well, there's two aspects of that appeal. One would be a
10 narrower decision. I suppose, if it's just related to the 11 injunction, it's -- it's hard to quantify exactly what that 12 would mean.

13 Q Okay.

14 A The bigger issue, of course, has to do with the 15 arbitration. And if the -- theoretically, at least, the 16 arbitration, if the Fifth Circuit agreed on the issue of 17 arbitration, then the argument would be that we would -- that 18 in the arbitra... well, it is true to say that -- well, I
19 think I'm kind of getting ahead of myself here.

20 Q You are, just a bit. Let's just focus on the confirmation
21 appeal. That's been consolidated for oral argument purposes
22 --

23 A It has.

24 Q -- with the appeal of the involuntary; is that right?

25 A That's correct.

1 Q Okay. And just to sum up this piece of it, did Foley
2 represent the Debtor with respect to all of the underlying
3 proceedings?

4 A It did.

5 Q And why does the Board believe it's in the Debtor's best
6 interest to retain Foley to conduct the oral argument and to 7 finish up this proceeding?

8 A Well, first of all, I think the Court would agree with me
9 that Foley is a very competent law firm. It's competent to do
10 the work that they've been charged to do.

11 Second, pretty much all the work on the appeal is already 12 in the can. The only thing that's left to be done at this 13 point in time is to make the oral argument. Obviously, if we 14 didn't go forward with the Foley firm, we'd have to find 15 somebody who could make the argument. So, we would -- but we 16 would lose the benefit of Foley's experience that they have in 17 the case so far.

18 I think there will be a cost element that would be 19 associated with bringing somebody new up to speed with respect
20 to this.

21 So, those, generally speaking, are the benefits that we 22 see.

23 Q Okay. Let's turn then, finally, to the Neutra appeal. Do
24 you have a general understanding of that matter for which the 25 Debtor seeks to retain Foley?

Nelms - Direct

70

1 A Yeah. The Neutra appeal, what happened in Neutra is that
2 Neutra, to my understanding, moved to intervene in the 3 involuntary proceeding. I think that intervention was denied.
4 And so that appeal has to do with the fact that Neutra
5 contends that it should have been permitted to intervene, that 6 the matter of collections should have been arbitrated.

7 I think that one of the issues in there is this -- in that
8 appeal is who decides on the issue of arbitrability. Is it
9 this Court, or is it the arbitrators themselves?

10 So, those are the issues that are present in the Neutra
11 appeal.

12 Q Okay. Is the Debtor named a party to the appeal?

13 A The Debtor is not a named party in the Neutra appeal.

14 Q But the Board nevertheless wants to retain Foley on a
15 post-petition basis to prosecute that appeal; is that right?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q And why is that?

18 A Well, I think both -- we recognize and I think the Fifth
19 Circuit recognizes as well that these two things, that these 20 two appeals kind of go hand-in-glove. The 1129(a)(3) argument
21 basically is dependent upon the arbitration issue, which is 22 fleshed out in the Neutra appeal.

23 And so, at the end of the day, the way that the Board sees 24 this is that the Debtor is the most immediate beneficiary of 25 the economic benefit of the Neutra appeal. We see the 004977

Nelms - Direct

71

1 possibility of an income stream there. We see the possibility
2 of the ability to pay our claims in the Acis case. And I
3 think -- one of the things I think that is of particular focus
4 when it comes to all of this litigation is the fact that, as I
5 understand it, Mr. Terry started out with an $8 million claim,
6 and I think he bid $1 million of that claim for the interest
7 that he got in Acis, which reduced it, say, to $7 million.
8 And I think Mr. Terry's interest now over time I believe it's 9 been reduced to somewhere between $4 to $6 million. So
10 that's, that's a claim.

11 But in this case, Mr. Terry has filed a proof of claim for 12 $70 million. And my understanding from our visit with Mr.
13 Terry and his counsel is that that claim could get up to $300
14 million. And so, as a board, we look at that and what we're 15 concerned about is the migration, the alleged migration of a 16 tremendous amount of value from Highland down to Acis. So, at 17 the end of the day, it doesn't really matter who you regard as 18 the ultimate equity owner of Acis, whether it's Mr. Terry or 19 whether it's Mr. Dondero: The migration of that value
20 downstream to Acis is of no real benefit to Highland Capital
21 at all.

22 Q Is this one of the issues that the Board discussed with 23 the Committee last week in connection with this motion?

24 A Yes. It is.

25 Q Okay. And let's just go back to the income stream for a 004978

Nelms - Direct

72

1 second. The income stream that the Board is hoping it will
2 get if the decision is reversed, is that income stream derived
3 from the two agreements that we just looked at?

4 A It is.

5 Q So those are the two very agreements that the Board would 6 look to have reinstated if it were to succeed on the appeal;
7 is that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Now, does the Board know exactly the form of relief the 10 Fifth Circuit is going to grant?

11 A I have no earthly idea.

12 Q Right? But has the Board made a determination that the 13 outcome of Neutra obtaining control of Acis is one
14 possibility?

15 A It's certainly a possibility.

16 Q And is that the potential benefit that the Board focused
17 on in deciding to pursue this motion?

18 A Yes. I mean, I'm glad to adopt the percentages that Mr.
19 Terry's counsel has mentioned today. I guess if the cost-
20 benefit analysis is that we're going to pay a couple hundred 21 thousand dollars here to get to the end of the road, and the 22 benefit is millions of dollars, well, even if our chances are 23 only ten percent, I think that's a shot worth taking.

24 Q Thank you very much. If the Fifth Circuit reversed,
25 because this is a point that was also made in the Acis

004979

1 opening, what would happen to Mr. Terry's claim? Or what's
2 your understanding or what's the Board's view as to whether or
3 not it would intend to satisfy Mr. Terry's claim?

4 A I know, speaking on my behalf, that I'd -- the claim that
5 Mr. Terry got through arbitration I regard as a valid claim.
6 I think it's one that would have to be addressed no matter who
7 is in charge of paying the obligations of Neutra.

8 Q Has the Board concluded that it's in the Debtor's best
9 interest to retain Foley for the purpose of prosecuting the 10 Neutra appeal, or at least in issuing the oral argument?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. And when is the argument scheduled for?

13 A March the 30th.

14 Q And is the fact that that's all that's left with respect
15 to this aspect of the engagement a factor that the Board took 16 into account in its decision?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Has the Board reached a decision as to who the real
19 economic party in interest is with respect to the Neutra
20 appeal?

21 A Yes. We believe ultimately that our Debtor would bear the 22 most economic interest in the outcome. And, really, because 23 of the amount of the obligations that are owed, both to Mr.
24 Terry, to Highland Capital, by the time that you have this 25 kind of runoff of all the revenue streams, I'm not really sure

Nelms - Direct

74

1 that there would be anything left for either Mr. Dondero or
2 Mr. Okada.

3 Q So, --

4 A That's -- that's a view from 50,000 feet, not even 30,000
5 feet.

6 Q Okay. Well, let's talk about the specific benefits,
7 potential benefits, if it's reversed on appeal. Does the 8 Board believe it's possible that the two contracts get
9 reinstated?

10 A It is possible.

11 Q And is that a motivating factor in supporting this motion?

12 A It is.

13 Q What would happen to the $8 million claim that the Debtor
14 has against Acis right now in the Acis bankruptcy? Does the 15 Board have a view as to what would happen to that?

16 A It would be our aspiration to collect that claim on behalf
17 of our client, which is Highland Capital Management.

18 Q And would -- is it the Board's expectation that if it was 19 in that position it would get paid hundred-cent dollars,
20 rather than at least a portion of it as a general unsecured
21 claim?

22 A Again, that would be our aspiration.

23 Q Uh-huh. What would happen to the adversary proceeding?
24 Do you have an understanding as to what would happen in the 25 adversary proceeding with respect to Mr. Terry if the Fifth

004981

1 Circuit reverses and Neutra regains control of Acis?

2 A Well, I'm assuming -- I'm assuming that that adversary
3 proceeding would go away.

4 Q Okay. And would that -- is that a potential benefit to 5 the estate?

6 A That would be a benefit to the estate if it did.

7 Q And do all of the factors that we just discussed go into 8 the cost-benefit analysis that the Board did in deciding to 9 pursue only these three very limited aspects of the 10 engagement?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. Has the Board considered the potential harm to the 13 Debtor if the motion is denied?

14 A We have.

15 Q And have -- can you share with the Court the issues that 16 the Board has identified as potentially being adverse if the 17 motion is denied?

18 A It's really just the other -- the flip side of the coin of 19 benefit, which is added expense, loss of the experience that 20 the Foley firm has, perhaps delay of time in finding somebody 21 else, bringing them up to speed, not just with respect to the 22 two appeals but with respect to the proof of claim. And there
23 may be others that I'm not thinking of right now.

24 Q Did the Board consider the potential loss of the 25 institutional knowledge that Foley has and the potential

Nelms - Direct

76

1 adverse impact it would have on the quality of the oral
2 argument?

3 A It did.

4 Q Okay. So, two of the three matters that the Debtor seeks
5 to retain Foley for are appeals to the Fifth Circuit; is that
6 right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And did those matters originate in this courtroom?

9 A They did.

10 Q And you were colleagues with Judge Jernigan at one time,
11 weren't you?

12 A Yes. We were bench colleagues for twelve years.

13 Q And do you believe Judge Jernigan is a good judge?

14 A I do.

15 Q Do you believe she's a fair judge?

16 A I do.

17 Q Do you believe she tries to get it right every single 18 time?

19 A I know she tries to get it right every time.

20 Q So then why is the Board seeking to prosecute these 21 appeals of Judge Jernigan's decision?

22 A Well, it's in the best interest of our client to do that.
23 And I have not -- I have to say there's always a little bit of 24 discomfort that comes with something like this, but I do know
25 this from my time on the bench, and that is that when you take

004983

Nelms - Direct

77

1 the job that Judge Jernigan has, you take it with full
2 understanding of how the system works. And in the system,
3 half the people lose at any one given time. And when you
4 lose, you tend to be disappointed in the result, and the 5 result of that is that you get the right to go to the next
6 court and have someone say that the judge got it wrong.

7 So those of us that take the bench understand that that's 8 the system, and I don't think -- for the most part, we're not 9 threatened by that. And so I, you know, as uncomfortable as 10 this may -- this may put -- a position it may put me in from 11 time to time, I think that -- I think Judge Jernigan
12 understands the roles that we all play in this system. And so
13 --

14 Q Just, okay, just to summarize: If the motion is granted,
15 what's the absolute worst-case scenario here for the Debtor?

16 A I'm sorry. Would you say that again?

17 Q If the motion is granted and the Debtor is allowed to 18 retain Foley for the three tasks which you have described, do
19 you have an understanding as to what -- what's the worst that 20 could happen? They'd have to pay Foley's fees, right?

21 A We'd have to pay -- well, subject to Judge Jernigan's
22 approval, --

23 Q Right.

24 A -- those fees would be paid.

25 Q And subject to everybody's opportunity to object, right?

004984

Nelms - Direct

78

1 A Right.

2 Q But if the fees were paid at a hundred percent, nobody
3 objected and Judge Jernigan approved of them, what's the 4 maximum exposure that the Debtor has from this?

5 A I think Foley has about $311,000, I believe, right now in 6 time. And I think they would probably have about maybe
7 another $100,000 more. And I know -- I hate to scoff at the 8 notion that $400,000 is a lot of -- is not a lot of money.
9 But, you know, in the grand scheme of things in this case,
10 it's -- I won't say it's a rounding error, but it's not a lot
11 of money.

12 Q And forget about, I mean, not forget about, but in 13 addition to its relative size to the overall case, how does
14 that compare to the relative economic benefit that the Debtor
15 believes it will recover if the appeal is successful?

16 A Well, I think the cost is -- the cost is less than half a
17 million, and the potential benefits are in the millions.

18 MR. MORRIS: Okay. Just one moment, Your Honor, if I 19 may?

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 (Pause.)

22 MR. MORRIS: All right. Just a few more questions,
23 Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 BY MR. MORRIS:

004985

Nelms - Direct

79

1 Q Mr. Nelms, did Neutra pay a portion of the fees, Foley's
2 fees prior to the petition date in connection with an April
3 litigation? Do you know?

4 A If they did, I'm not aware of it.

5 Q Okay. Do you know what would happen to the appeal if 6 there was no funding for the appeal?

7 A Well, I think I know what the result of the appellant not 8 showing up for an appellant argument would be.

9 Q And what would that be?

10 A Well, I think that would be a pretty quick resolution.

11 Q Do you think the case would be dismissed, the appeal would 12 be dismissed?

13 A I think so.

14 Q And would that be the loss of a potential material benefit
15 and asset of the Debtor's estate?

16 A It would be.

17 Q Can you think of any way to ensure the appeal is 18 prosecuted today other than making sure the Debtor funds it?

19 A I'll put it this way. I think the most certainty can be 20 added to this case by having the Debtor fund this matter
21 through the end of March.

22 Q And from --

23 A I think that's -- that's -- for the time being, that's the 24 easiest, most simple path.

25 Q And you say for the time being. Has the Board reached an

004986

Nelms - Direct

80

1 agreement to never request, from Neutra or anybody else,
2 contributions for the funding of this case?

3 A No. Ultimately, there is going to be at some point in 4 this case a settling of accounts between the Debtor and Mr.
5 Dondero, just as there are -- will be a settling of accounts
6 between the Debtor and other parties in interest. We, as the 7 Board, have just chosen not to have that fight today.

8 Q And why did the Board reach that decision?

9 A Because we just thought it was in the best interest of the 10 Debtor to proceed that way.

11 Q And is that because you need this appeal argued on March 12 30th?

13 A It is.

14 Q And that's because of all of the potential benefits that 15 you've identified; is that right?

16 A Right.

17 Q Okay.

18 MR. MORRIS: I have no further questions, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Cross?

20 MR. LAMBERSON: Yes, Your Honor.

21 CROSS-EXAMINATION

22 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

23 Q Good morning, Mr. Nelms.

24 A Good morning.

25 Q How's it to be on that side of the bench?

004987

1 A Not so fun.

2 Q It's not great, right?

3 MR. LAMBERSON: And Your Honor, we have an exhibit
4 notebook, which we're not -- we're not going to use all these 5 exhibits. We actually -- you'll notice that there are some 6 empty tabs in here. We downsized the exhibits from the 7 exhibit list, and I'm not going to use all these. So I'll 8 just introduce them as I get to them.

9 THE COURT: Okay.

10 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

11 Q Let me pick up on your last point.

12 MS. CHIARELLO: Your Honor, may we approach? We have 13 binders.

14 THE COURT: You may.

15 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

16 Q So, let me pick up on your last point, Mr. Nelms. So, who 17 -- who owns Neutra?

18 A Well, if you follow the stream all the way up, it is owned
19 75 percent by Mr. Dondero and 25 percent by Mr. Okada.

20 Q Okay. And Mr. Dondero is one of the richest men in 21 Dallas. Correct?

22 A I don't know.

23 Q Presumably? Mr. Okada is also one of the richest men in 24 Dallas?

25 A I don't know. I haven't lived in Dallas in 17 years.

1 Q Okay. Fair enough. But they can't -- they can't pay the
2 litigation costs for their own entity?

3 A Well, I don't know that they -- whether they can or 4 whether they can't.

5 Q Right. So, are you familiar with an entity called
6 Highland CLO Funding?

7 A Vaguely, yeah.

8 Q Okay. And Highland CLO Funding is one of the appellants
9 in the appeal of the confirmation order, correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q Okay. And one of the issues on appeal is actually the 12 plan injunction that's embedded in the confirmed plan,
13 correct?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Right. And is your understanding that that's really 16 Highland CLO Funding's main appeal issue?

17 A I think it probably would be, yes.

18 Q Okay. And is there any reason that Highland CLO Funding
19 can't pay Neutra's legal fees to have -- have another
20 appellant in the Fifth Circuit?

21 A I don't know the answer to that question.

22 Q Okay. So, let me -- let me -- I'm going to try to keep 23 this coordinated, but my notes are a little bit over the 24 place, so I apologize in advance if I move around a little 25 bit.

1 So, you had testified earlier that -- and I'm just trying
2 to synopsise your testimony -- that you -- that the Board
3 believes the primary benefit of paying Neutra's legal expenses
4 related to the order for relief appeal and the confirmation
5 appeal is the income stream that would be evidenced by the 6 sub-advisory agreement, right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And I'm -- when I say sub-advisory agreement, I'm 9 talking about this is the attachment to the Debtor's Exhibit
10 4, which is the proof of claim.

11 A Right.

12 Q Right? And so it's your understanding that the way that 13 works is Acis Capital Management, my client, is the portfolio
14 manager for a bundle of CLOs, right?

15 A That's my understanding.

16 Q And that before the Acis bankruptcy, the sub-advisory 17 agreement allowed Highland Capital Management to sub-advise 18 those CLOs for a fee, correct?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q Okay. So, I'm going to focus on the confirmation appeal.
21 So, you understand that the plan injunction prevents the 22 liquidation of the CLOs and the Acis portfolio management
23 agreement?

24 A That is my understanding.

25 Q Okay. And the reason that, frankly, we had to get the

1 plan injunction is because HCLOF three times tried to
2 liquidate, redeem the CLOs, including twice in the bankruptcy
3 case?

4 A I understand that was an issue. But -- I have a general
5 understanding as to what you're saying, but not a specific
6 understanding. But I'm not disagreeing with you.

7 Q Yeah. Okay. And so if the plan goes away, the plan
8 injunction goes away, then is there any reason to think that 9 HCLOF isn't going to liquidate the CLOs?

10 A I would not know.

11 Q And in that case, there's not going to be any cash flow
12 under the portfolio management agreements or the sub-advisory
13 agreements, right?

14 A If you're asking me if that's a possibility, I'd say it's 15 certainly within the realm of possibilities.

16 Q Okay. So, staying on the confirmation appeal, so let's --
17 let's assume that, for whatever reason, the Fifth Circuit
18 decides that the confirmation order needs to be reversed and 19 they send it back down to Judge Jernigan and say, "Try again."
20 Would you agree that that would effectively reactivate the 21 Acis case?

22 A Well, I don't know, because, you know, one of the issues
23 in the appeal is who gets to make the decision with respect to 24 arbitrability. Because I know that it's the Appellants'
25 position that the decision as to whether or not it should be

1 arbitrated, something such as collections, should they go to
2 be decided by the arbitrator, --

3 Q Let me stop you, just to be clear. I'm talking about the 4 confirmation appeal, the appeal of the confirmation order.

5 A Uh-huh.

6 Q Right? Okay. I'm not talking about the order for relief
7 appeal.

8 A I may be conflating the two, so I'm sorry.

9 Q Yeah, yeah, and I -- and it's -- yeah, it's -- but it is 10 confusing. But I'm talking about the confirmation appeal. So
11 the appeal of the Court's confirmation order confirming the -- 12 I think was the third amended plan. Okay? So, I'm focusing 13 on that appeal only. If the Fifth Circuit says, "Nope. Try 14 again," then you would agree with me that that effectively
15 reactivates the Acis Chapter 11 case?

16 A Well, I think it depends. If you -- would you like me to 17 explain why I think it depends?

18 Q Yeah. Go ahead. I don't -- because, I mean, honestly,
19 I'm not exactly sure what happened, so I would actually -- I
20 would like your opinion.

21 A Well, given that the first issue in the confirmation
22 appeal is the issue of good faith, and the foundation of that 23 pretty much is the whole arbitration issue, if the Fifth
24 Circuit were to reverse on that basis, then I don't
25 necessarily know that it would go back to the Bankruptcy

1 Court.

2 If it was reversed just on the narrower issue with respect
3 to the injunction, and maybe whether the injunction was too
4 broad or something like that, --

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A -- and that was the only basis for reversal, I would agree
7 with you it would go back to Bankruptcy Court.

8 Q Okay. So there's some possibility that a result of the 9 confirmation appeal is that the Acis Chapter 11 case is 10 reactivated and we're back in front of Judge Jernigan on that 11 case, too?

12 A That would be a possibility.

13 Q Okay. And then you'd get to talk with Mr. Phelan, right?
14 That would be fun.

15 A Right.

16 Q So, so how much money did Highland Capital spend in the 17 Acis bankruptcy case?

18 A I don't know.

19 Q Was it -- it was millions and millions, right?

20 A I don't know, but I'm -- I'm assuming it exceeded a
21 million.

22 Q Okay. Well, aren't there -- aren't there claims of unpaid
23 fees just in the Top 20 list, which we'll point to here in a 24 minute, in the millions of dollars that relate to the 25 attorneys that represented Highland in the bankruptcy -- in

1 the Acis bankruptcy case?

2 A I don't know.

3 Q Okay. So, why, you know, assuming that a result of the 4 confirmation appeal is that the Acis bankruptcy case is
5 reactivated, how is that in Highland's best interest? And I'm 6 not talking about Neutra, and I'm not talking about HCLOF.
7 I'm talking about Highland.

8 A Well, the -- what would be in our best interest would be 9 to once again control the sub-advisory agreement and to 10 generate revenues for the benefit of this estate. Use those 11 -- that revenue stream both to address any claims that 12 Highland might have, as well as Mr. Terry. That would be the 13 benefit as we see it.

14 Q Right. But by the time of the confirmation order, --

15 A But if your question is, oh, but you're going to be 16 involved in a lot of other litigation and so how does that 17 benefit, then I guess my answer to that is it's a -- my answer
18 is a "Yes, but," and but may exceed the scope of your
19 question, so I won't --

20 Q Okay.

21 A -- I won't give you the but answer unless you want me to 22 do it.

23 Q That's fine. I just -- if we go back, if we go back to 24 where we were before confirmation, I mean, I'm not talking
25 about the order for relief, I'm talking about confirmation,

1 the sub-advisory agreement had been terminated. Highland had
2 been fired and Brigade was managing everything.

3 A Right.

4 Q So, there wouldn't be any cash flow going to Highland
5 based on the -- just the reversal of the confirmation order.

6 A Well, what would have to happen, of course, is that Neutra
7 would have to -- would have to appoint us as -- would have to 8 allow us to come in under the sub-advisory agreement to 9 perform those services.

10 Q Right. Except that there's a trustee, right? Robin
11 Phelan was in charge of everything.

12 A Well, you're assuming there's still a bankruptcy.

13 Q Right. Yeah. Well, I am. I mean, again -- and maybe I'm 14 being simplistic about this, but if the confirmation order is 15 reversed, --

16 THE COURT: Counsel is standing. Do you have an 17 objection?

18 MR. MORRIS: Yeah. I do, Your Honor, to this whole
19 line of hypothetical questions. We do understand, I think 20 everybody understands, that we don't know if the appeal will 21 be granted. I think we do all understand that we don't know
22 what the form of relief, the exact form of relief will be.
23 But the testimony here is that the Board has decided that one
24 possible form of relief is that -- is that Neutra will regain 25 control of Acis and get these contracts reinstated, get the

1 adversary proceeding dismissed, and get paid on its $8 million
2 claim.

3 If there's questions about that, I think it's relevant,
4 but I don't know why we're spending a lot of time on 5 hypotheticals with a fact witness.

6 THE COURT: But the --

7 MR. MORRIS: Not an expert witness.

8 THE COURT: The business judgment of the Board of the 9 Debtor is at issue here, correct?

10 MR. MORRIS: Correct. Absolutely.

11 THE COURT: Don't these hypotheticals go to, is 12 reasonable business judgment being exercised here?

13 MR. MORRIS: I think he has to lay a foundation and 14 say, Is this -- is this a hypothetical you considered? Is 15 this a hypothetical that you considered? Because we're just 16 -- this is like expert testimony almost. There is no evidence
17 that any of these factors were considered. And at the end of 18 the day, there is no dispute that the scenario that the Board
19 is saying is worth the investment, basically, is also a
20 possibility.

21 THE COURT: Okay. I overrule the objection.

22 MR. LAMBERSON: Okay.

23 THE COURT: You can proceed.

24 MR. LAMBERSON: And Your Honor, I'm just about done.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

2 Q So, okay. So, we -- but we can agree that -- okay. Let
3 me -- let me hopefully do this. Okay. So, I mean, I think
4 that's fine for the confirmation appeal, so now I want to talk
5 about the order for relief appeal. Right? So this is the 6 appeal of the order for relief or the -- and I stated this 7 earlier to the Court, but the sole substantive issue in that
8 appeal is whether this Court should have compelled the order
9 for relief to arbitration. Is that right?

10 A The sole substantive issue? I think, if you paint with a
11 broad brush, yeah. I would agree with you, yes.

12 Q Okay. Well, and again, I'm not trying to --

13 A I know. So, --

14 Q I'm not trying to trap anybody. The three issues --

15 A And I'm not trying to be evasive, either.

16 Q Yeah.

17 A Yeah.

18 Q Are the standing issue, which, in my mind, isn't really a 19 substantive issue. And then there's the issue about the 20 arbitration of the order for relief. And then, finally, as I
21 mentioned, we've raised a waiver argument that basically, if 22 they had a right to arbitrate, which we think they don't, they 23 waited too long to raise it. Right? Those are the three 24 issues. Correct?

25 A That's correct.

1 Q Okay. So, let me ask you. And I'm not going to -- I'm
2 not going to hold this against you at the Fifth Circuit level,
3 but, I mean, do you -- do you think an order for relief is 4 subject to arbitration?

5 MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor. Calls for a
6 legal conclusion.

7 THE COURT: Overruled.

8 MR. LAMBERSON: Sure it does.

9 THE COURT: Overruled.

10 THE WITNESS: I think the -- I think it's a -- I
11 think there's a colorable argument.

12 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 MR. MORRIS: Objection withdrawn.

15 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

16 Q So you don't think National Gypsum and Gandy would apply
17 to an involuntary petition and order for relief?

18 A Well, I'll put it this way. I guess they'll apply if the 19 Fifth Circuit tells us they do.

20 Q Right.

21 A That's as much as I can tell you.

22 Q Okay. So, so if that ruling is reversed, right, as I
23 mentioned earlier -- and let me ask you, actually, another 24 thing. So, how often, when you were a judge, how often were 25 -- I shouldn't say how often -- how many times were your

1 rulings reversed? Just roughly?

2 A Was I reversed?

3 Q Yeah.

4 A I think six.

5 Q Not very many claims, right?

6 A No.

7 Q So how many times was there a reverse and a render?

8 A I'm sorry. Say again?

9 Q How many times was there a reverse and a render, where 10 nothing came back to you, that basically the higher court just 11 said, It's done?

12 A Well, it was rendered every time except on one occasion,
13 and that --

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A -- Stern v. Marshall had just been decided, and so --
16 gosh, I can't remember the district judge.

17 Q Okay.

18 A One of the judges reversed but sent it back to me to 19 reconsider it under the light of the ruling in Stern v.
20 Marshall, a jurisdictional issue. So, in all those instances,
21 it was rendered.

22 Q Okay. So there was nothing -- there was no issue that 23 came back to you? The case was just resolved?

24 A No. No issue came back to me.

25 Q Okay.

1 A No, you know what, there was a second one. I think the 2 second one was In re Mirant. Commerzbank versus -- MCAR v.
3 Commerzbank. That came back as well.

4 Q Right. Okay. So, again, but focusing on the order for 5 relief appeal, one possibility is that the Fifth Circuit says,
6 okay, this may be subject to arbitration, and sends it back to 7 Judge Jernigan to make additional findings, apply a different
8 standard, right? That's possible, right?

9 A That's possible.

10 Q Okay. So, in that case, nothing necessarily came out of 11 the appeal, right? Like you're just basically back in front
12 of her on the same issues?

13 A Well, I -- that may very well be the case, but --

14 Q Okay. Well, let's assume that the Fifth Circuit does 15 reverse and render. Wouldn't -- isn't what they would render 16 would be a -- compelling this case to arbitration? Right?
17 Not that the bankruptcy goes away, disappears. It would 18 basically be, "Should have been arbitrated. Go arbitrate."

19 A It's a good question, what the effect of reversing it
20 would be and sending it back, remanding it. They -- I mean, 21 one of the things that they might decide is to say that the 22 whole issue of arbitration should be decided by an arbitrator.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A That's a possibility.

25 Q Right. But in that situation, the bankruptcy doesn't go

1 away. It just moves to a different forum, right?

2 A No, I mean, you're probably right. That, in and of
3 itself, would not eviscerate the bankruptcy filing.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A That's true.

6 Q And so, in that situation, the result is -- and this is --
7 that's, frankly, the best situation, is --

8 A But, of course, I mean -- can I go back to that? Just,
9 I'm not sure about that. Because, after all, this was an 10 involuntary petition.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A If it was a voluntary petition, then I would certainly 13 agree with you wholeheartedly. Inasmuch as it was an 14 involuntary petition, I'm not sure about the answer to that 15 question.

16 Q Uh-huh. Okay.

17 A That's a good question.

18 Q But you would agree with me that a possible result of even 19 a reversal of the order for relief appeal would just be more
20 litigation?

21 A Yes. That's certainly a possibility.

22 Q Right. In this Court? Maybe in front of an arbitrator?
23 Maybe both?

24 A Yes. That's possible.

25 Q Okay. All right. So, still focusing on the order for

1 relief appeal, but I want to go to this idea that, again,
2 there's this cash flow stream that is going to be reinstated
3 for the benefit of Highland Capital under the sub-advisory
4 agreement. Okay?

5 A Right.

6 Q All right. So, before the Acis bankruptcy was filed,
7 Dondero, and at that time, in control of Highland, were 8 actually in the process of liquidating Acis, weren't they?

9 A Were they in the process of liquidating Acis?

10 Q Uh-huh.

11 A And I take it these are the transfers that were -- 12 concerning your client that prompted the filing of the 13 involuntary petition itself?

14 Q Correct.

15 A Is that what you're referring to as the --

16 Q Yes.

17 A -- liquidation?

18 Q Yes.

19 A Well, I certainly know that -- I understand those 20 transfers were taking place. Now, whether you'd call that a 21 liquidation or not, I don't know, but I know what you're 22 referring to --

23 Q Okay.

24 A -- and I think the answer to your --

25 Q So, --

1 A Yeah.

2 Q Yeah. So there were a variety of transfers of assets away
3 from Acis before --

4 A Right.

5 Q -- the Acis bankruptcy filing, right? And, actually, are 6 you aware that there was actually an agreement between 7 Highland CLO Management and Acis to transfer those PMAs to 8 HCLOF Management?

9 A No, I'm not aware of that.

10 Q Okay. And as we talked about earlier, HCLOF repeatedly 11 attempted to redeem the CLOs, even during the Acis bankruptcy,
12 right?

13 A I read about that in Judge Jernigan's opinion, so I'm 14 assuming that's the case.

15 Q Right. Okay. And then -- and, in fact, if HCLOF was 16 successful, that would liquidate the CLOs and it would 17 effectively terminate the Acis portfolio management
18 agreements, right?

19 A I don't know.

20 Q Okay. But if that was the case, if the portfolio
21 management agreements went away or no longer had assets to 22 manage, then the sub-advisory agreement would have no income,
23 right?

24 A If you're asking me if that's something within the realm
25 of possibilities, I suppose so.

1 Q Okay. So, if, because of the appeal, the Acis bankruptcy
2 -- because of the order for relief appeal, if the bankruptcy
3 -- if the Acis bankruptcy just went entire away, just 4 disappeared, right, so Mr. Dondero would be in control of 5 Acis, not you, right?

6 A He would be in control. That's correct.

7 Q Okay. And so if he wanted to terminate the PMAs and enter 8 new PMAs with Dondero Capital Management, you couldn't keep 9 him from doing that, could you?

10 A Well, I -- no, I could not keep him from doing that.

11 Q Okay. Or if he wanted to terminate the sub-advisory 12 agreement and enter into a different agreement, I mean, you
13 couldn't keep him from doing that, either, could you?

14 A No, I couldn't.

15 Q Right. So what makes you think that Highland Capital
16 Management, a debtor that he lost control of, just like Acis, 17 would benefit from Acis's PMAs, when he was actively trying to 18 take Acis's PMAs away from Acis?

19 A Well, I have -- I spoke to Mr. Dondero about this, and he 20 -- I asked him the question, and he said that he would 21 reinstate Highland under the sub-advisory agreement and the 22 shared services agreement.

23 Q Okay. So, on that point, you did mention earlier that, as 24 part of your -- as part of the Board's diligence, you talked
25 with Mrs. O'Neil and you talked to Pachulski. Obviously,

1 you've analyzed the issues. I can tell you're familiar with
2 all these, all of the pleadings. But you also talked with 3 different Highland Capital employees about the litigation and 4 the appeals, correct?

5 A I did.

6 Q Okay. Who did you talk with?

7 A Well, I have to say that the interaction with Highland
8 employees was actually fairly abbreviated.

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A We spoke very, very briefly about this with Isaac Leventon
11 on the day that we were appointed. I don't know if the Court
12 is aware of this or not, but we spoke about it very briefly,
13 and then he was injured later that night and he really hasn't 14 been back at the office since then. So, --

15 Q Oh.

16 A -- I would say, for the most part, I have relied mainly on 17 Pachulski.

18 Q Okay. But you did indicate you talked to Mr. Dondero as 19 well?

20 A I talked to him about this issue about reinstatement, yes.

21 MR. LAMBERSON: So, Your Honor, I'd like to turn to 22 --

23 THE WITNESS: Oh, you don't have to call me Your 24 Honor.

25 THE COURT: There are two Your Honors.

Nelms - Cross

99

1 MR. LAMBERSON: Your Honors. How about that?

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 THE WITNESS: Yeah, there's only one judge in the
4 court today.

5 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

6 Q Could you turn to Exhibit 16, please? This is Acis's
7 Exhibit 16. I'm sorry. Do you have that, Mr. Nelms?

8 A I do.

9 Q And could you identify Acis Exhibit 16?

10 A Yes. This is Official Form 204 in the current case, the 11 one we're here for today.

12 Q Right. So it's the Top 20 List of Creditors for Highland
13 Capital Management?

14 A Yes, that's correct.

15 Q Okay. And have you seen Exhibit 16 before?

16 A Pardon me?

17 Q Have you seen Exhibit 16 before, the Top 20 List?

18 A No, I have not seen it before.

19 Q Okay.

20 MR. LAMBERSON: Your Honor, we'd ask for the 21 admission of Exhibit 16.

22 THE COURT: Any objection?

23 MR. MORRIS: Just on relevance grounds. Can we at 24 least establish a foundation as to which element of 327(e)
25 this goes to?

005006

Nelms - Cross

100

1 THE COURT: Response?

2 MR. LAMBERSON: Well, Your Honor, what I'm going to 3 point out is that the top ten creditors, other than an insider
4 creditor, are all litigation-based, and that the, as I pointed 5 out in my opening, the origin of this case was a bad
6 litigation strategy.

7 MR. MORRIS: No objection to the introduction of this
8 exhibit for that limited purpose.

9 THE COURT: All right. It's admitted.

10 (Acis Capital Management GP, LLC's Exhibit 16 is received 11 into evidence.)

12 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

13 Q All right. So, Mr. Nelms, you said you hadn't seen this 14 before, but I think you'll probably be familiar with the 15 information on it generally. So let's walk through this 16 quickly. So, this is the Top 20 List of Creditors. The first
17 creditor is Redeemer Committee, listed as litigation, do you
18 see that, for about $190 million?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And that's the arbitration award that precipitated this 21 filing, correct?

22 A It is.

23 Q Okay. So the next claim is Pat Daugherty, litigation
24 claim. It's $11.7 million. Do you see that?

25 A Yes.

005007

1 Q So, do you know what is Mr. Daugherty's history with
2 Highland Capital? And try to keep it under five minutes.

3 A Yeah. Mr. Daugherty is a former employee. And I know he 4 has some contractual disputes with the company based upon his 5 separation.

6 Q Right. And he's a long-time litigant with Highland
7 Capital, correct?

8 A He is, yes.

9 Q Yes. So the next one is CLO HoldCo. This is about $11.5
10 million. CLO HoldCo is an insider of the Debtor, correct? If 11 you know.

12 A Is -- is it an insider? I don't know.

13 Q Okay. Well, Grant Scott, the party here, is Mr. Dondero's
14 college roommate. Do you know that?

15 A That's my understanding, yes.

16 Q Okay. So, Creditor #4, McKool Smith, for two point --
17 roughly $2.1 million. Do you see this? This is for 18 attorneys' fees incurred by Highland Capital, correct?

19 MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor. I still fail to 20 see how this is at all connected to any of the elements of 21 327(e) or the retention of Foley.

22 THE COURT: Okay. I overrule.

23 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

24 Q So, this is -- this -- these are fees incurred by Highland
25 Capital, you know, a variety of venues, right, including this

1 one, state court fights against Mr. Terry, right?

2 A I thought -- McKool Smith, I thought they were involved in
3 the Redeemer litigation, but they may be involved in other
4 litigation as well.

5 Q Okay. Fair enough. And do you know, this claim is 6 disputed by the Debtor, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And do you know, obviously subject to the stay, but 9 do you know if this claim is being arbitrated or has been sent 10 to arbitration?

11 A No, I don't know any -- no, I don't know.

12 Q Okay. That's fair enough. So, then #5 -- I'll move it
13 along here. Meta Discovery, Meta-e Discovery, they're a 14 litigation vendor, right?

15 A I'm sorry, would you ask your question again?

16 Q Meta-e Discovery, the next creditor. They're a litigation
17 vendor and they provide litigation support services?

18 A I don't know what they do.

19 Q Okay. Fair enough. Foley Gardere. Obviously, that's the 20 law firm you all are seeking to have engaged. DLA Piper.
21 This relates to fees incurred in connection with the Terry
22 arbitration award, correct?

23 A I think so.

24 Q Okay. Reid Collins. These are fees related to the UBS
25 lawsuit, correct?

1 A I don't know.

2 Q Okay. Josh and -- Joshua and Jennifer Terry. This is a
3 litigation claim, right? This is -- this is an IRA claim,
4 right?

5 A It is.

6 Q NWCC. This is also a litigation claim? In other words, a
7 litigant fighting with Highland?

8 A I can only intuit that just because of the fact that it's 9 a law firm.

10 Q Okay. Fair enough. So, out of the Top 20 -- or, out of 11 the Top 10 Creditors, basically, they're all litigants or 12 attorneys paid to fight litigants, with the exception of 13 Dondero's college roommate. Right?

14 A With the exception of what?

15 Q Mr. Dondero's college roommate that has a claim based on 16 some entity.

17 A Yes. They're -- they all have some nexus to litigation.

18 Q Okay. And let me just ask you: If you were able to 19 completely set aside all of Highland Capital's litigation
20 issues, right, just like -- just like the concept of the order
21 for relief appeal makes the Acis bankruptcy go away forever,
22 if you could snap your fingers and make all of Highland's
23 litigation go away forever, would Highland have any financial 24 problems at all?

25 A Well, I don't know that I know the answer to that, but I

1 -- but it's certainly to say that litigation up to this point
2 has been the driving force behind its bankruptcy filing.

3 Q Okay. Fair enough. Okay. So, Mr. Nelms, would you turn
4 -- could you turn to Acis Exhibit 27?

5 A Okay.

6 Q Do you have that?

7 A I do.

8 Q Okay. And can you identify Exhibit 27?

9 A Yes. My understanding is that this was the lawsuit that 10 was filed by the DAF and CLO HoldCo in the Southern District
11 of New York.

12 Q Okay. And so I had mentioned this in my opening, and I
13 believe counsel had asked you about what we call the DAF
14 litigation. Is this the complaint that's the basis of the DAF
15 litigation?

16 A Yeah, that's my understanding. It is.

17 Q Okay. And I think you had testified earlier that the 18 board was actually shown a copy of this complaint, was before
19 it was filed, and --

20 A I wouldn't call it -- I'm sorry, go ahead, ask your 21 question.

22 Q No, no, I -- that's fine.

23 A I wouldn't call it a board presentation. I just remember
24 it being handed to Mr. Dubel and Mr. Dubel looking at it,
25 asking what it was, and saying, Tell them not to do this.

1 Q Okay. Thank you. And -- but it's your understanding that
2 the complaint was filed anyway?

3 A It is my understanding it was filed later.

4 Q Okay. And in fact, this has a file-stamp at the top,
5 which I'm sure you're very familiar with. Correct? Has a
6 PACER file-stamp at the top.

7 A Right.

8 Q Right.

9 MR. LAMBERSON: So, Your Honor, we'd ask for the 10 admission of Exhibit 27.

11 THE COURT: Any objection?

12 MR. MORRIS: No objection.

13 THE COURT: Admitted.

14 (Acis Capital Management GP, LLC's Exhibit 27 is received
15 into evidence.)

16 MR. LAMBERSON: And I'll be relatively quick.

17 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

18 Q I had mentioned in my opening that we -- I should say Acis
19 was concerned that Highland Capital Management had some 20 participation in this, and I probably should have been clearer
21 in saying that Highland Capital Management employees had some 22 participation in Exhibit 27. Has the Board done any 23 investigation as to whether any Highland Capital employees
24 were involved in the preparation of Exhibit 27 or the filing
25 of Exhibit 27?

Nelms - Cross

106

1 A No, we have not. At least, let me speak for myself. I
2 haven't done that investigation.

3 Q Uh-huh. And your counsel had mentioned that -- I believe
4 this is correct -- your counsel had mentioned that you all had
5 reached out -- the Board, I should say -- reached out to Grant
6 Scott, who's the -- who's in control of the DAF as well as CLO
7 HoldCo, and, you know, had sort of convinced them that it
8 probably -- to dismiss this lawsuit. Correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. And but do you -- as far as you know, it hasn't 11 been dismissed yet?

12 A It hasn't been dismissed. There's some kind of technical 13 things there, and I don't know if you want to go into them or 14 not, but it hasn't been dismissed, but I have a high degree of 15 certainty that this is going to get dismissed.

16 Q Okay. Fair enough. And are you aware that there was 17 already a press release issued related to this lawsuit that 18 was picked up by various CLO publications?

19 A When you say "already," are you talking about a specific
20 time?

21 Q Well, that -- I guess what's I'm getting at is are you
22 aware that the filing of this lawsuit has already resulted in 23 various articles in CLO journals, periodicals?

24 A I'm aware of it having appeared in one publication.

25 Q Okay. And so is it fair to say that the damage is already

005013

107

1 done and that, you know, dismissal of these claims probably
2 isn't really all that -- isn't really all that significant
3 when they've already, you know, put it in the press?

4 A I don't know if the damage has already been done or not.

5 Q Okay.

6 MR. LAMBERSON: Give me just a second, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 (Pause.)

9 BY MR. LAMBERSON:

10 Q So, there is actually one other -- there is one point.

11 And I told you in advance that I was afraid I might be jumping
12 around a little bit, so I'm going to jump around a little bit.

13 Let me go back to the order for relief appeal. So, this is 14 the appeal of the Court's order for relief that started the 15 Acis bankruptcy.

16 One of the things you testified about related -- on your 17 direct testimony is one of the benefits, one of the potential
18 benefits, understanding we don't know what's going to happen,
19 of the order for relief appeal is that if the -- if that 20 ruling was reversed and the Acis bankruptcy went away, then
21 the adversary would go away, the adversary between Acis
22 Capital Management and Highland Capital Management. Correct?

23 A Well, yes. In my opinion, the adversary opinion -- excuse
24 me, the adversary proceeding would go away. Would a lawsuit
25 under TUFTA be avoided altogether by Mr. Terry?

005014

1 Q Right.

2 A I don't know that it would take that away.

3 Q Okay. And that's -- you actually anticipated my question,

4 --

5 A Uh-huh.

6 Q -- which was: It's fair to say that, even if the 7 adversary went away between Acis and Highland Capital
8 Management, that the -- certain of the claims in the adversary
9 -- for example, the fraudulent transfer claims or derivative
10 claims -- would not necessarily go away because they could be 11 asserted by Mr. Terry as a judgment creditor, correct?

12 A They could, but the consequences of asserting that claim
13 outside of bankruptcy are vastly different than asserting them
14 inside of a bankruptcy case.

15 Q Uh-huh. Right.

16 A At least potentially.

17 Q And just to close the thought here, are you aware that one 18 of Acis's main arguments during the order for relief trial was 19 that we didn't need an involuntary, that Mr. Terry could just 20 go litigate all that stuff in state court?

21 A Yeah, I think so. I think I am aware of that. Yes.

22 Q Okay. So you'd agree with me that, even on your possible
23 day on the order for relief appeal, that doesn't make the -- 24 what I'll call the Terry litigation, right, the judgment
25 litigation, go away?

Nelms - Redirect

109

1 A No. No. The reversal on appeal would not necessarily
2 make the Terry litigation go away.

3 Q Okay. Thank you.

4 MR. LAMBERSON: That's all I have, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: All right. Redirect?

6 MR. MORRIS: I just have a few questions, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

9 BY MR. MORRIS:

10 Q Can you turn to Exhibit 16 in your binder, sir?

11 A Which one?

12 Q I guess it's the Acis exhibits.

13 A The Acis? Okay.

14 Q Yeah. The List of Top 20 Creditors.

15 A Okay.

16 Q You were taken through each and every one of those to make 17 the point that they're largely litigation claims. Is that 18 fair?

19 A Say again, please?

20 Q You were taken through many of those creditors to 21 establish that --

22 A I was.

23 Q -- that the Debtor was involved in a lot of litigation; is 24 that right?

25 A It was.

005016

1 Q Okay. And the Board was appointed on January 9th; is that
2 right?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Did the Board have anything to do with any of the claims
5 that are set forth in Exhibit 16?

6 A No.

7 Q Did the Board authorize the filing of any suits that are 8 related to any of the claims that are set forth in Exhibit 16?

9 A No.

10 Q Did the Board direct the defense of any suits that were 11 commenced against Highland with respect to Exhibit 16?

12 A No.

13 Q Okay. Has the Board been trying to diminish and eliminate 14 litigation where it thought it was in the Debtor's best
15 interests?

16 A It has.

17 Q And is that, for example, why the Board decided not to 18 pursue the Winstead matter?

19 A It is.

20 Q Is that why the Board has used its efforts to try to 21 thwart the DAF litigation?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Does the Debtor control DAF?

24 A The Debtor does not control the DAF.

25 Q Okay. Did the Debtor authorize -- withdrawn. Did the

1 Board authorize the filing of the DAF complaint?

2 A It did not.

3 Q Did the Board know the DAF complaint was going to be 4 filed?

5 A Well, I mean, I know Mr. Dubel was presented with a copy
6 of the complaint. We had noticed that that document existed.
7 But it came as somewhat of a surprise to us when it got filed.

8 Q It came as a surprise to you?

9 A It did.

10 Q Because that's not what was expected after Mr. Dubel said,
11 Don't file it. Right?

12 A Right.

13 Q Okay. You were asked a bunch of questions on cross about 14 different possibilities and results and potential orders from 15 the Fifth Circuit on the assumption that the appeal was 16 granted. Do you remember that?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And some of them were purported to be better or worse for 19 the Debtor. Do you remember that?

20 A Yes.

21 Q If the appeal is not prosecuted, is there any chance that 22 the contracts that the Board has focused on will be
23 reinstated?

24 A No.

25 Q Is it fair to say that if the appeal is not prosecuted the

1 chances of the Debtor recovering the tens of millions of
2 dollars of revenue will be exactly zero?

3 A Well, I don't know that it's exactly zero, but severely
4 diminished.

5 Q Yeah. How about getting paid a hundred-cent dollars on 6 the $8 million claim that's in the Acis litigation? If the 7 appeal is not prosecuted, is there any chance that the Debtor
8 is likely to recover hundred-cent dollars?

9 A Again, that possibility is severely diminished.

10 Q Uh-huh. How about with respect to terminating the 11 adversary proceeding in the Acis litigation? If the appeal is 12 not prosecuted, is there any possibility of that adversary
13 proceeding just going away and being left with the arbitration
14 that you've described?

15 A Again, a severely diminished possibility.

16 Q You mentioned that the $8 million fraudulent transfer as 17 part of an arbitration would be very different outside of a 18 bankruptcy case. Do you remember saying that?

19 A I do.

20 Q Can you explain to the Court why you believe it would be 21 different outside of a bankruptcy case?

22 A Well, it actually goes to a case that started in my court.
23 This was the MCAR v. Commerzbank case in In re Mirant, and the 24 issue in that case, Mirant, when it filed its petition in 25 bankruptcy, was insolvent, but by the time that its bankruptcy

1 concluded, Mirant was a solvent entity. And so all of its
2 creditors were paid in full, but the trust that was
3 established in the Mirant case brought some fraudulent
4 transfer claims that were predicated on solvency, where these 5 were constructively fraudulent as opposed to actual.

6 And so the question was, if all the creditors had been
7 paid in full, is there standing to bring fraudulent transfer
8 claims that would basically not benefit creditors but would go
9 to equity?

10 I originally -- I ruled that there was no such -- that you
11 couldn't bring such a cause of action, that the satisfaction
12 of claims in full extinguished those claims. And I do recall
13 that one of the interesting things about that case is that a 14 lady named Elizabeth Warren wrote -- or proposed -- she 15 submitted -- they submitted an expert opinion on her behalf,
16 which I wouldn't let them file because I took the position
17 that I was an expert, the expert in the Court.

18 And in any event, it turns out I wasn't the expert. I was 19 reversed by Judge Means on that, who said that it's not 20 limited. It went up to the Fifth Circuit, and the Fifth
21 Circuit ruled the same thing.

22 So my takeaway from all of this is that, in a bankruptcy
23 setting, as opposed to just a state court setting, that the 24 potential recovery on account of fraudulent transfers is much
25 broader, much more unlimited than it would be in the context

1 of a state court lawsuit.

2 So, now, there may be things that would distinguish that,
3 but that's something to be -- that's something to be troubled
4 about if you're a director of this company.

5 Q And are these the types of things that, without, you know,
6 just divulging privileged communications, are these the type
7 of experiences and perspectives that you've shared with the 8 other board members in the context of considering the various 9 motions, the various matters for which Foley's retention is 10 sought?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay.

13 MR. MORRIS: Just one second, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 (Pause.)

16 MR. MORRIS: Nothing further, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: All right. Any recross on that redirect?

18 MR. LAMBERSON: No, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: All right. Thank you, Mr. Nelms.

20 (The witness steps down.)

21 THE COURT: Any other evidence from Highland?

22 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, we have had admitted our 23 exhibits. Among those exhibits are two declarations from Ms.
24 O'Neil, and so she's available in the courtroom today if 25 anybody wants to cross-examine on those issues.

O'Neil - Cross

115

1 THE COURT: All right. Well, I will accept those
2 declarations as direct evidence. Any desire to cross-examine
3 Ms. O'Neil?

4 MS. PATEL: Yes, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: All right. Ms. O'Neil, we'll go ahead
6 and swear you in on this today.

7 HOLLAND O'NEIL, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

8 THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

9 CROSS-EXAMINATION

10 BY MS. PATEL:

11 Q Good afternoon, Ms. O'Neil.

12 A Good afternoon.

13 Q Ms. O'Neil, do you concurrently represent both Highland 14 Capital Management and Neutra, which is a Cayman entity,
15 correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. There are other entities that you either represent 18 or have represented that are kind of affiliated or within the 19 Highland umbrella; is that correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And that includes, for example, CLO HoldCo was one
22 such representation. Isn't that right?

23 A Previous. Previously.

24 Q Okay.

25 A Not currently.

005022

1 Q Okay. So, and I believe you say that in your declaration,
2 right, that you didn't -- that you no longer represent CLO
3 HoldCo?

4 A Correct.

5 Q Okay. And when did that representation cease?

6 A It was -- it was very brief. I came into the case after 7 the involuntary -- after the orders for relief were entered.
8 And at that time, there had been the motion to intervene that 9 included that entity, and it was determined to proceed with an 10 appeal on that motion to intervene, or the denial of the 11 motion to intervene, as well as the orders for relief.
12 Actually, there was a compendium of orders that were appealed
13 all at the same time.

14 And so, because that entity had also filed a motion to 15 intervene, we had included that in the appeal. And at that 16 time I was retained, but then by the time we kind of analyzed
17 the issues, determined it was not necessary to proceed with 18 that appeal, then I no longer represented that entity and 19 disengaged.

20 Q Okay. But CLO -- to be clear, CLO HoldCo was actually an 21 appellant for the order for relief appeal that we've been 22 talking about today, correct?

23 A Initially, yes.

24 Q Okay. And it still remains an appellant; it just didn't
25 file a brief in the involuntary appeal. Isn't that right?

1 A It has not filed any brief. And I would have to look at 2 the record if it even filed a notice to the Fifth Circuit. It
3 did -- was included in the notice to the District Court. I
4 just honestly can't recall if it was included in the -- in any
5 notice to the Fifth Circuit.

6 Q Okay. And did you ever withdraw from your representation
7 of CLO HoldCo in the District Court appeal?

8 A What do you mean, withdraw?

9 Q Well, I mean, you entered an appearance.

10 A You mean file a notice with the -- with the Court?

11 Q Right.

12 A I can't recall.

13 Q Okay. Ms. O'Neil, with respect to Neutra, you understand
14 and you've heard testimony, and I believe it's in the 15 declarations in support of the retention papers for Foley, and 16 if you need to look at that I can direct you to the exhibit
17 book, but it's -- is it your understanding that ultimately 18 Neutra is owned 75 percent by Mr. Dondero and 25 percent by 19 Mr. Okada?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And Ms. O'Neil, in connection with your 22 representation of Neutra, who are the human beings that you
23 interact with? Who directs your services?

24 A At -- currently? Are you --

25 Q Just on behalf of Neutra.

1 A Predominantly, I get direction from Highland's in-house
2 counsel.

3 Q Okay. And who would that be? Who are the people?

4 A The people are Mr. J.P. Sevilla, Mr. Isaac Leventon, Ms.
5 Stephanie Vitiello. Those are the primary individuals that
6 direct vis-à-vis Neutra.

7 Q Okay. Have you ever spoke with Mr. Dondero regarding your
8 representation of Neutra?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. And when was that? When was the last time?

11 A It has -- it's been a while. Certainly, it hasn't been 12 since this bankruptcy was commenced. I think the last time I
13 recall discussing that specifically is when we were together
14 at the mediation during the course of the bankruptcy. And I'd 15 have to look at my calendar. I can't recall exactly when that 16 was.

17 Q Okay. And what about Mr. Okada? Have you -- when was the 18 last time you spoke with Mr. Okada?

19 A I have never spoken with Mr. Okada.

20 Q During the course of your entire representation of Neutra,
21 you've never spoken with Mr. Okada?

22 A That is correct.

23 Q Okay. And under -- do you have an understanding of under 24 what authority Mr. Sevilla or Mr. Leventon or Ms. Vitiello
25 would have to direct your legal services on behalf of Neutra?

1 A Generally, yes, through the direction from the owners of 2 Neutra.

3 Q Okay. That would be Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada?

4 A Correct.

5 Q Okay. And it's your understanding, then, that Mr. Dondero
6 and Mr. Okada have directed Highland's legal department to 7 direct your services?

8 A Yes. Previously, yes.

9 Q Okay. Do you have -- is there a contract between Neutra
10 and Highland, or --

11 A I don't know.

12 Q Okay. Did you ever ask if there was one?

13 A No, I did not.

14 Q Okay. In connection with your representation of Neutra,
15 do you bill separately for the Neutra representation?

16 A Since the bankruptcy was -- since the Highland bankruptcy
17 was commenced, we set up a separate task code to track the 18 fees being incurred on the Neutra appeal. Prior to the 19 bankruptcy, we did not have a reason to do that.

20 Q Okay. So let's talk about prior to the bankruptcy. I
21 believe in your declaration it was disclosed that there were 22 approximately $2.1 million in billings relating to your 23 representation of Highland, Neutra, and certain of the 24 Highland Cayman entities: Highland CLO Management, Highland
25 CLO Holdings, and HCF Advisor, amongst others. Right?

1 A That sounds about right. I might want to look at the
2 declaration just to confirm on the number, but that sounds
3 about right.

4 Q Okay. Well, your declaration can be found under Tab 10.

5 A Okay. (Pause.) And are you referring to Paragraph 16?

6 Q Well, if you look at Page -- at the bottom, you'll see
7 that there's page numbers, and it says Page 15 of 48. And 8 this would be your declaration.

9 A Oh, thank you. I was looking at the --

10 Q Uh-huh. Paragraph 3.

11 A -- at the application, that's all. Correct. Yes. Thank 12 you.

13 Q Firm-earned fees of two point -- roughly $2.15 million,
14 almost, correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And there's about $1.4 million of that that was 17 unpaid from the pre-petition period, correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q Okay. And is it your testimony that, of the $2.15 million
20 in fees, that there was no apportionment between Highland,
21 Neutra, and the Cayman defendants?

22 A Correct.

23 Q Okay. So, --

24 A Not -- not in my account -- not through my accounting
25 processes. Obviously, the time entries, you could parse them

1 out, if need be.

2 Q Okay. But you didn't keep your time necessarily that way,
3 where they were already apportioned and parsed?

4 A Not under separate task codes, --

5 Q Okay.

6 A -- as we have done post-bankruptcy.

7 Q So, in connection with the billings that would have 8 represented that $2.15 million, were those bills submitted to 9 Highland, to Neutra, to the Cayman defendants?

10 A They are submitted through an e-billing process that it
11 goes through a Highland portal and -- in the aggregate. So
12 they're submitted through that portal.

13 Q Okay. But the portal goes to Highland, correct?

14 A I do not know. I honestly -- our e-billing department
15 handles it and I just know it goes through e-billing, an e-
16 billing portal, and I don't know exactly. I'm assuming 17 obviously it goes to Highland. They certainly get copies of 18 it.

19 Q Okay. Did you or Foley ever submit a bill to Neutra?

20 A I mean, my understanding is that, going through the 21 portal, we would go to the various parties that are affiliated 22 with Highland.

23 Q Okay. But you've never directly sent a bill to Neutra for 24 your representation of Neutra?

25 A As I said, it goes through e-billing, so that could be

1 interpreted to go directly to them if it goes through an e-
2 billing process.

3 Q Okay. But I'm asking, have you ever --

4 A I'm -- maybe I'm being hyper-technical, but I'm just --

5 Q Right.

6 A It's being submitted through --

7 Q I understand, but I just -- here's where I want to just 8 direct us, is: Have you ever addressed a bill to Neutra, Ltd.
9 care of either Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, or its formal business
10 address?

11 A As I indicated, post-petition, we have been segregating
12 them under a different task code and indicating it's Neutra.
13 Pre-petition, it was all under the same invoice.

14 Q That was submitted to Highland only?

15 A Submitted through the e-billing process.

16 Q To Highland only, right?

17 MR. LAMBERSON: Objection to the form of the 18 question. This has been asked about four times. The witness
19 is very clear.

20 THE COURT: Overruled. I think she's trying to get 21 an exact answer to her question, and she feels like she's not 22 getting it. So, overruled.

23 THE WITNESS: Okay. Then I apologize, Your Honor.
24 I'm not -- I just don't know technically, once it goes through 25 the e-billing, how it's distributed on the other side. I

O'Neil - Cross

123

1 just, I honestly --

2 THE COURT: I think the question is, to whom was the 3 invoice directed?

4 THE WITNESS: In terms of the -- not where it was 5 sent, but who it's directed to?

6 BY MS. PATEL:

7 Q Yes.

8 A It would have -- I believe it has the entities on it. It
9 definitely has Highland on it for sure.

10 Q Okay. Does it have Neutra on it?

11 A Neutra is subject to the engagement letter, so it would be 12 applicable to -- if our accounting department didn't 13 technically put Neutra on it, that is not necessarily at any 14 moment being -- as the engagement letter is -- was with all
15 those parties. So I would have to look at the invoice, if it
16 has all of the clients listed on there. I honestly -- I just 17 can't remember right now.

18 Q Okay. Well, --

19 A We do have some post-petition invoices, and you'll see
20 where they're segregated with Neutra.

21 Q You raise an interesting point. If Highland and Neutra
22 and the other entities are all part of the engagement letter,
23 is Neutra also liable for all of Highland's legal fees?

24 A I don't know the answer to that.

25 Q Okay. Is it your position that because Highland, Neutra,

005030

1 and the Cayman defendants are all part of the engagement
2 letter, that Highland is responsible for Neutra's legal fees?

3 A From my firm's standpoint?

4 Q Yes.

5 A I think the, you know, our perspective is that they were
6 -- we were primarily working for Highland, so the beneficial
7 work, and as I think the Court knows, most of the work here
8 was on behalf of Highland Capital Management. And it's in our 9 engagement letter to that effect, effectively.

10 Q Sitting here today, Ms. O'Neil, post-petition, who's 11 calling the legal shots for purposes of Neutra?

12 A The -- well, where we have been is the process with the 13 Fifth Circuit. The Fifth Circuit schedule was already set
14 pre-petition, and we have just been complying with the pre-
15 petition -- or, rather, that schedule, which has rolled post-
16 petition. And so our direction pre-petition has just 17 continued in terms of proceeding with the briefing. And so,
18 again, going back to who it was pre-petition, it's the same
19 legal team giving instructions on behalf of Neutra.

20 Q Okay. And if the question were to be posed, for example,
21 whether the Neutra involuntary or the order for relief appeal
22 should be dismissed, for example, who would call the legal 23 shots on that? Who would make the decision on that?

24 A To dismiss the appeal?

25 Q Yeah.

1 A Not proceed with it up to this point? Despite where we
2 are at this point, to just -- to just drop it?

3 Q Yes.

4 A It would be the owners of Neutra.

5 Q So that would be Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada, right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. You -- Ms. O'Neil, were you in the courtroom when 8 Mr. Demo or -- and Mr. Nelms -- when Mr. Demo made the opening
9 statement and then when Mr. Nelms was testifying?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Okay. And you heard, again, the opening statement and 12 then the testimony regarding the benefit to Highland of 13 Highland paying for Neutra's legal fees in connection with the 14 appeals, correct?

15 A I did hear that, yes.

16 Q Okay. All right. And can you, in your words, then,
17 articulate, from your perspective as legal counsel to both
18 entities, what the benefit is to Highland in this bankruptcy
19 for Foley's representation of Neutra and Highland paying the 20 bill for it?

21 A I just want to make sure I'm not, you know, getting onto 22 attorney-client privileged discussions in terms of the 23 benefit. I think I would agree with what has been stated in 24 court today.

25 Q Okay. So, so, and just to kind of recap that, if I

1 understand it, it's that if Neutra is successful in its appeal
2 of the involuntary orders for relief and also its appeal of 3 the confirmation order, then everything goes back and Highland
4 gets this revenue stream, correct, of about $12 million, plus
5 it gets paid on an $8 million, approximately, purported claim.
6 Right?

7 A That the -- the agreements would be reinstated, which 8 would then yield approximately that type of revenue stream as 9 -- pursuant to the sub-advisor and sub-management agreements
10 that were in place.

11 Q Okay. And one of the entities -- and I know that the 12 retention application doesn't actually go to, anymore, Foley's
13 representation of the Cayman entities, but -- that's kind of 14 been put to the side. But you do -- and you do represent 15 Highland CLO Management, correct, which is a Cayman entity?

16 A Correct.

17 Q All right. And it's one of the defendants in the Acis
18 adversary proceeding, right?

19 A And that is the only engagement that we have for that 20 party, is in conjunction with that adversary proceeding, which 21 is stayed. So nothing is going on with that right now.

22 Q Well, I understand that, but you --

23 A Okay.

24 Q My question was, you represent Highland CLO Management,
25 correct?

1 A In that adversary proceeding.

2 Q Okay. So -- but you also represent it in connection with
3 -- in -- generally with the bankruptcy as well, Acis's
4 bankruptcy?

5 A There was no involvement until the adversary proceeding,
6 until they were sued in the adversary proceeding.

7 Q Okay. And in the adversary proceeding, Highland CLO
8 Management was sued for a few things, correct?

9 A In the adversary proceeding?

10 Q Yes.

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. Highland CLO Management, for example, received a 13 $9.5 million note that Acis was previously the holder of and 14 that was transferred after Mr. Terry's judgment, correct?

15 A Are you asking if that was an allegation in the adversary
16 proceeding?

17 Q Sure.

18 A I --

19 Q Right.

20 A That sounds right. That's been stayed, and I would have 21 to defer to the -- obviously, the second amended complaint and 22 the allegations therein. So, --

23 Q Okay. And are you aware that your client, Highland CLO
24 Management, was also sued because it was to receive the 25 portfolio management agreements under which Acis represents --

1 or, I'm sorry, manages the Acis CLOs?

2 A That was -- that sounds like one of the allegations from
3 that point in time.

4 Q Okay. So I guess let me -- let me ask you a slightly
5 different way. Are you aware that there was a pre-petition
6 agreement that was entered into and signed by Mr. Dondero that 7 transferred the PMAs from Acis to Highland CLO Management?

8 A I cannot recall the -- all the evidence at the -- in 9 conjunction with that at this time, but if that's one of your 10 representations. I wasn't representing any of the parties at 11 that time, but I do recall that there may have been some 12 evidence presented in that regard. But I would have to look.
13 It's been a long time. And that record is hundreds of 14 thousands of pages. I would need to check back on that.

15 Q Okay. But if there were such an agreement, for example,
16 that transferred the portfolio management agreements from Acis
17 to another entity, a Cayman entity, can you agree with me,
18 then, that Mr. Dondero's ownership interest in Neutra would 19 really be of no import anymore because there wouldn't be a $12
20 million revenue stream anymore, would there, if Acis wasn't
21 the portfolio manager of the Acis CLOs?

22 A I don't agree with the premi... at the end, when you said,
23 if Acis isn't the CLO manager, then there would be no revenue
24 stream from the CLOs if it's not reinstated as the -- as the 25 manager.

1 Q Okay. So you agree that if Acis isn't the portfolio
2 manager of the Acis CLOs, there's no $12 million revenue
3 stream potential to Highland by virtue of Highland coming back
4 in as the sub-advisor and shared services provider, right?

5 A Okay. Now, the -- no, I don't know that that's 6 necessarily the case.

7 Q Well, why not?

8 A It could be appointed to be the sub-advisor, sub-manager
9 for -- through a different entity.

10 Q Okay. So it would basically be -- but, again, going back,
11 it would be through a different entity. Again, Mr. Dondero's
12 ownership of Neutra would be of no import then, right?

13 A Perhaps I'm not understanding your question.

14 Q Well, --

15 A I -- it's a hypothetical, and I --

16 Q If Acis -- if Acis didn't have these portfolio management
17 agreements, it doesn't matter if Mr. Dondero wins the Neutra
18 appeal or not, right? Because he wouldn't have control of the 19 Acis entity within which to redirect, through Acis, the sub-
20 advisory and the shared services agreements, correct?

21 A He could direct it through another entity, as I think it's 22 been well-discussed that Highland had -- Highland had the 23 personnel to manage the CLOs. In fact, Mr. Terry was a 24 Highland employee when he managed the CLOs. So he could 25 certainly direct that management through another entity, even

1 if it wasn't Acis. But vis-à-vis Neutra, Neutra would be --
2 well, before the confirmation of the plan, Neutra owned Acis.
3 So, vis-à-vis through Neutra, I believe your statement would 4 be correct.

5 Q Okay. Ms. O'Neil, also as sort of a participant during
6 the Acis bankruptcy cases --

7 MS. PATEL: And Your Honor, I know you're intimately
8 familiar with all of these.

9 BY MS. PATEL:

10 Q But Ms. O'Neil, do you recall the multiple attempts during 11 the bankruptcy case to effectuate what was called an optional
12 redemption, which sought to liquidate the Acis CLOs?

13 A By HCLOF, I believe there were two instances, yes.

14 Q Okay. HCLOF executed those optional redemptions, correct?
15 Mr. Bill Scott, one of the independent directors? Is that
16 right?

17 A I believe the evidence was presented before the Court --

18 Q Okay.

19 A -- in that regard.

20 Q And during the course of the -- all of those proceedings
21 with the optional redemptions, Highland was the ultimate
22 advisor to HCLOF, was it not?

23 A I'm not sure I understand what you mean by the ultimate 24 advisor.

25 Q Well, the technical contractual advisor was an entity by

1 the name of Highland HCF Advisor, right? Is the portfolio
2 manager for Highland CLO Funding?

3 A It has been a while since I looked at that org chart or 4 those issues, so I do not recall off the top of my head.

5 Q Okay. Well, you said that you interacted, for example,
6 with Neutra -- on your Neutra issues with JP Sevilla, Mr.
7 Leventon, and Stephanie Vitiello, correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. Wasn't it really, from a legal perspective, at 10 least, Mr. Sevilla, Mr. Leventon, who were all advising
11 Highland CLO Funding as well?

12 A I don't know the answer. You'd have to inquire of them.

13 Q So, is it your testimony, then, that Highland had nothing
14 to do with the optional redemption notices that were issued
15 during the course of the Acis bankruptcy cases?

16 A I'm not sure that I understand the relevance of that as to 17 whether Highland had any -- had nothing to do with it. I
18 think they were certainly involved and were aware. But they 19 weren't the -- independently making those determinations.

20 Q Okay.

21 A As you know, Ms. Patel, there were directors that were
22 involved. They testified before this Court. There -- HCLOF
23 was represented by counsel as well. King & Spalding. So
24 there were multiple parties involved.

25 Q Okay. So is it, again, your testimony that Highland had

1 nothing to do with the optional redemption notices that were
2 issued during the Acis bankruptcy case?

3 MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor. It may be me,
4 but I don't understand what this has to do with the Foley
5 retention application.

6 THE COURT: Okay. We do seem like we're getting a
7 little far afield. What's your response to that?

8 MS. PATEL: Your Honor, the contention has been made 9 that if these bankruptcy appeals are somehow granted or in the 10 District Court and this Court are reversed, --

11 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

12 MS. PATEL: -- that these cases are going to come
13 back and that suddenly, magically, there's going to be a $12
14 million revenue stream flowing out of Acis back into Highland,
15 and they're going to be able to collect on an $8 million
16 objected-to claim.

17 I'm just trying to get to how likely is that really to 18 happen. I mean, given the course -- and again, I know Your 19 Honor was a viewer of all of this -- of the multiple attempts
20 to try to liquidate these assets, --

21 THE COURT: Okay. I'll allow the question, but it'll 22 be the end of the line of questioning. Okay?

23 MS. PATEL: Understood. And Your Honor, just 24 additionally, it's -- that's part of the appeal that Foley is 25 handling on the confirmation appeal. As Mr. Nelms said, it's

1 also based on the plan injunction.

2 THE COURT: All right. She can answer the question,
3 but then we move on to another area.

4 MS. PATEL: Okay.

5 BY MS. PATEL:

6 Q So is it your testimony, Ms. O'Neil, that Highland had 7 absolutely nothing to do with the optional redemptions --

8 A I did not --

9 Q -- during the bankruptcy case?

10 A That is not what I said.

11 Q Okay. So, -- and I get it. Highland CLO Funding is a 12 different entity, and the Bankruptcy Court made findings with 13 respect to the fact that it is controlled in every way by 14 Highland. Do you recall that finding?

15 A Preliminary findings in conjunction with determining 16 whether there was a likelihood of success on the merits. I do
17 recall that --

18 Q Okay.

19 A -- those conclusions by the Court.

20 Q As a part of the bench memorandum in support of the 21 confirmation order, correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay.

24 A Actually, I will -- I will -- I'll correct that. I'll let 25 that -- the Court's order speak for itself. You may have said

1 a few things that were more or less than what the Court's
2 order said, so I'd just defer to what the Court's order said.

3 Q Okay. Well, part of the representation for Foley here is 4 to represent Highland and Neutra in connection with the 5 confirmation appeal, correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And part of that confirmation appeal is also -- one of the 8 grounds there is that you're appealing the plan injunction,
9 which the plan injunction is what stops the CLOs from being 10 redeemed, correct?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Okay. So, how is Highland damaged by the plan injunction?

13 A I think it's fairly obvi... again, I want to not tread too
14 much on attorney-client privilege. But, obviously, I have yet
15 to have a client over my 30-plus years of practicing law that 16 likes to be subject to any kind of injunction. It limits --
17 that injunction is more than just on the -- it's a very broad
18 injunction. So I'd like -- if I had the injunction in front
19 of me, there's -- there's lots of restrictions under that 20 injunction, and that is prejudicial to Highland to be able to 21 act freely.

22 Q Able to act freely to liquidate CLOs?

23 A Among other things, as it may do in the ordinary course of 24 business, in its opinion, that may be beneficial to his 25 clients.

O'Neil - Cross

135

1 Q Okay. Now, Ms. O'Neil, --

2 A If I may, may I add one more thing?

3 THE COURT: You may.

4 THE WITNESS: Okay. Highland, at least in that role,
5 could not liquidate CLOs. So I think that was an improper
6 statement. Or suggestion.

7 BY MS. PATEL:

8 Q Okay. Well, then, what specific actions that Highland
9 would like to take is it being damaged by the injunction?

10 A I would need to look at the -- the injunction is very,
11 very broad. So, anything that it can't do freely that is 12 covered by the injunction is obviously a detriment to 13 Highland.

14 Q Okay. Now, Ms. O'Neil, if you would turn to Tab 31 in the 15 book, --

16 A All right.

17 Q -- please. And I will ask you, this is the declaration of 18 Bradley Sharp that was in support of the order authorizing the 19 retention of Foley Gardere. Have you had an opportunity to 20 review this?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Any dispute with any of the statements in here?

23 A I don't recall having a -- I don't -- I think it was 24 accurate, but --

25 Q Okay. Well, when you read it, did you have any disputes

005042

1 with the statements that were in here?

2 A I did not see it before it was filed, so -- but having
3 read it after it was filed, I don't recall having any disputes
4 with anything that was in it.

5 Q Okay. And I'll turn you specifically to Paragraph 13,
6 which is found on Page 4 of 5.

7 A Okay.

8 Q And I'll -- well, let's look at this together. (reading)
9 Prior to the petition date, the majority of Foley's and Lynn
10 Pinker's fees and expenses were paid by a non-debtor entity,
11 Highland CLO Funding Limited.

12 Do you see that?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And were Foley's bills sent to Highland CLO
15 Funding?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. And is -- were those bills separate and apart from 18 the $2.15 million that we talked about earlier that were 19 remitted through the Highland e-billing system?

20 A Separate, yes.

21 Q Okay. About how much in fees has Highland CLO Funding
22 paid to Foley to date?

23 A Nothing post-petition. Prior -- I mean, during -- from 24 the inception of the representation of Highland, probably 25 approximately -- over a million dollars, for sure.

1 Q Over $2 million?

2 A I do not believe it is over $2 million. It's somewhere
3 between $1 and $2 million.

4 Q Okay. And those separate matters that were billed to 5 Highland CLO Funding, how did those differ from what was 6 billed to Highland or to Neutra or to the Cayman defendants?

7 A If it was a matter that was clearly of some benefit to 8 HCLOF, it was billed directly. Otherwise, there was an 9 allocation billing for just the general work. And that was 10 primarily through an indemnity agreement, as I understood it,
11 between Highland and HCLOF.

12 Q Okay. And who did the allocation between Highland and 13 Highland CLO Funding?

14 A I was instructed as to what the allocation should be or 15 asked what I thought the allocation should be on any given 16 time, and I believe it was the -- it was discussed with the 17 board of HCLOF as to the allocation.

18 Q Okay. And who were you directed as to the categories of 19 allocation by that you just referenced?

20 A You mean in terms of a person?

21 Q Yes.

22 A I most frequently discussed this with Mr. Sevilla, but 23 also had conversations with Mr. Maloney, with King & Spalding,
24 who was representing HCLOF, and occasionally would have direct
25 conversations with Mr. Maloney and Mr. Scott and Ms. Bestwick,

1 who were the two independent directors of HCLOF.

2 Q Okay. And what types of work generally either were
3 allocated or apportioned or billed in full to Highland CLO
4 Funding. What was the benefit there?

5 A The work was -- the work that was going on in the 6 bankruptcy case.

7 Q Okay. But I -- I understand that it was work in the 8 bankruptcy case because that's where Foley represented
9 Highland and various other entities, but I'm asking you
10 specifically: What types of categories, and I don't -- you
11 don't have to go task by task -- but categories of work that 12 you performed for Highland or Neutra or for the Highland 13 Cayman defendants that benefited and were billed to Highland
14 CLO Funding?

15 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, I'm going to again assert a 16 relevance objection to any of this post-petition stuff. This 17 is an application to retain Foley on a post-petition basis
18 for the benefits to this estate, not with respect to what 19 happened on a pre-petition basis.

20 THE COURT: Your response?

21 MS. PATEL: Your Honor, there's been much discussion
22 about what -- whether Neutra should have to pay this bill or 23 whether it should not have to pay its own way here. This is 24 -- this is, in my mind, a bit of an extraordinary application
25 in that we're asking a debtor entity to pay for non-debtor

1 representation.

2 I want to inquire as to sort of this jumbled mix of work
3 that's been performed. There's -- clearly, Ms. O'Neil said
4 she hasn't been paid by HCLOF post-petition, but I think we 5 need to separate out all of these representations, who's 6 controlling what, and how -- how these bills really should be 7 paid.

8 THE COURT: How the allocation has worked --

9 MS. PATEL: Yes.

10 THE COURT: -- thus far?

11 MS. PATEL: Yes, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: I overrule the relevance objection, but 13 let me tell you a pickle we're getting into timewise. I have 14 a confirmation hearing starting at 1:30. And we've gone three 15 hours on this without a bathroom break. How much longer do
16 you think you're going to need? Because we might have to stop
17 and come back at 2:30 if you're going to need much longer.

18 MS. PATEL: Your Honor, I would say give me ten
19 minutes and I can wrap it up.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Ten minutes.

21 MS. PATEL: Okay.

22 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry. What was the question? I
23 apologize.

24 BY MS. PATEL:

25 Q I'm trying to remember it myself, Ms. O'Neil. The

1 question was, what specifically -- what -- and I don't -- you
2 don't have to go task by task. But categorically, what was
3 the work that was performed that you would have billed
4 directly to HCLOF?

5 A Prior to King & Spalding's involvement, you may recall
6 that we were representing HCLOF as well. So there was direct 7 bill for the work during the bankruptcy by Foley Gardere for 8 specific work for HCLOF.

9 The -- the -- pursuant to the indemnification, as I
10 understood it, although I never read the indemnification
11 personally, that there would be an allocation between Highland 12 to HCLOF for that, for work that they performed that was of 13 benefit to HCLOF or its equity interest in the CLOs.

14 And so I was more directed as to what that allocation
15 should be vis-à-vis the work that was going on. I think,
16 generally speaking, because the CLOs were being impacted, as 17 was well-discussed during the course of the Acis bankruptcy,
18 by the issues in the bankruptcy, by the temporary injunction
19 that were in place vis-à-vis their inability to seek an 20 optional redemption during the course of the bankruptcy, that 21 they were being significantly impacted by the actions in the 22 bankruptcy, even though they were not specifically a creditor
23 in the bankruptcy.

24 Q So you performed services on behalf of your client,
25 Highland, that you then billed to Highland CLO Funding because

1 Highland CLO Funding couldn't effectuate an optional
2 redemption?

3 A It was -- it was in conjunction with the overall
4 activities that were going on in the bankruptcy.

5 Q Okay.

6 A Not that specifically, no.

7 Q All right, Ms. O'Neil. I've only got a few minutes left.
8 So let me ask you: Towards the end of January, did there come
9 a time where you sent me an email regarding Acis's quarterly
10 operating reports?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. And you copied Mr. Hurst on that email as well,
13 correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q Okay. And your email was to say, hey, can we set up a
16 time to talk because I've got -- Highland's got some questions
17 about the quarterly operating report. Do you recall that?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And again, just so we're clear, this is around end
20 of January 2020, right, after the appointment of the Board?

21 A Yes. You --

22 Q Okay.

23 A I think there's an exhibit. One of your exhibits is that.

24 Q There is. If you turn to --

25 A Or it's a portion of that email communication.

1 Q It is. It's -- if you turn to Tab 28, this is sort of 2 your initial email to me, correct?

3 A Yeah. This is not the entire email dialogue, because --

4 Q There were other emails afterward.

5 A -- I did not get a response and sent a couple of emails
6 later, several days later, asking for a response.

7 Q Right. And I actually did respond to you after that,
8 correct?

9 A Approximately a week later, yeah.

10 Q Okay. Because I was out sick, actually.

11 A Yeah. That's what you said.

12 Q Right. So, --

13 A You didn't say sick, but you were out, so it's okay.

14 Q Yeah. I was out. And so -- and I will tell you, I was 15 sick. So I responded, albeit a little bit late, but I did
16 respond to you and say, Ms. O'Neil, could you tell me what 17 your questions are so that I can be prepared?

18 Does that sound about right?

19 A Yeah.

20 Q Okay.

21 A Yes.

22 Q And I never -- I never got a response to that. You never 23 told me what your questions were with respect to the quarterly
24 operating report, right?

25 A Yes. And I --

1 Q Okay.

2 A I can explain that. Because Mr. -- I believe Mr.

3 Pomerantz said that there was a meeting that was -- and they
4 would discuss it then, so --

5 Q Okay.

6 A Or Mr. Demo. I'm sorry. Somebody from Pachulski told me
7 that that would be addressed. Also, the status conference --
8 I mean, the questions we had were because there was a February
9 3rd status conference coming, and I wanted to see if we could 10 get some clarity so that when we appeared before the status
11 conference we could limit what we were going to be discussing
12 with the Court, if anything.

13 Q Okay. Well, what were -- what were the nature of your 14 questions? Because there was a conversation between Mr. Terry
15 and myself and the Board and -- well, certain members of the 16 Board. But what were your questions pertaining to?

17 A Oh, okay. Happy to discuss that. It's kind of awkward to 18 have it in -- on this, in this --

19 Q On Q and A.

20 A -- forum, but --

21 Q I hear you.

22 A We sent -- as the Court will recall, the confirmation
23 injunction can be lifted if all the claims are paid. So,
24 since the plan, the Acis plan was confirmed, we have been
25 tracking -- and the only way to track it is through the QORs

1 -- what the revenues were coming in and what has been paid.
2 And so -- in terms of expenses and then claims. And so we
3 have been -- my paralegal has been tracking this.

4 As the Court may know from looking at the record, almost
5 all of -- any other claims that were in the case were either
6 disallowed or withdrawn. And so, really, the only claim,
7 other than Highland's, was Mr. Terry's that was really left to 8 be paid, other than administrative claims. And I believe the 9 administrative claimants had agreed to deferral on some of 10 their payments after the effective date.

11 So we had been tracking the payments, which you can track
12 through the QORs, and it appeared that all of -- including Oak
13 Tree's most recently allowed administrative claim -- that all 14 of the administrative claims had been paid, and it appeared at 15 least approximately a half of Mr. Terry's claim had been paid.

16 When you look at the QORs, it doesn't specifically say,
17 "Here's who got what payment," but it shows the claims being 18 paid down, in addition to just general expenses of the post-
19 confirmation Debtor. And I'm -- this is taking a little bit, 20 but in the disclosure statement to the plan, there had also 21 been plan projections that set forth the revenues that were 22 anticipated post-confirmation to pay the claims. And so
23 likewise -- as well as the expenses, including to Brigade or 24 just general operating expenses for Acis.

25 So, likewise, through the QORs, we had been comparing

1 those against what was in the plan projection. And there were 2 some things that weren't matching and we simply were having
3 questions about the expenses seemed to be much higher.
4 However, the claims were being paid down, so it looked like
5 Mr. Terry was the only claimant left and was probably owed, by 6 our calculation, around $4-1/2 million, and that was the only 7 thing left to be paid. And, but the revenues per the QOR was 8 showing cash available of over five and -- $5.3 million.

9 So, one of the things we wanted to discuss was the 10 application of using the cash to go ahead and pay down what 11 was left of Mr. Terry's claim so that the injunction could be 12 lifted. But wanted to discuss that with you. That was the 13 purpose of that.

14 Q Okay. And I guess let me back up. One, let me kind of 15 correct you on a technical point, which is Mr. Terry's claim
16 isn't the only claim that's left outstanding. There were also 17 law firm claims that were lodged as against Acis, correct?

18 A I believe there were two --

19 MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor. Just relevance.
20 I don't get it.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Sustained. You've gone seven
22 minutes. So, three more minutes and we need to wrap it up.

23 MS. PATEL: Okay.

24 BY MS. PATEL:

25 Q Well, I guess, Ms. O'Neil, kind of in line with the email,

O'Neil - Cross

146

1 the email came in shortly before Acis was sued by your co-
2 counsel, Lynn Pinker, on behalf of the Charitable DAF and CLO
3 HoldCo. Are you aware of this lawsuit?

4 A After it was filed. I was not aware of it before it was 5 filed. The second one. I had seen the first one after it was 6 filed. I had not seen the second one until after it was 7 filed. We have a conflict with one of the defendants in that,
8 so --

9 Q Okay. So, and when you say "the first one," are you
10 talking about when it was originally the Charitable DAF versus 11 U.S. Bank National Association and Moody's Investors Service?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. And that all involved claims by the DAF brought 14 against U.S. Bank and Moody's at the time relating to the Acis
15 bankruptcy, right? It's claims that U.S. Bank didn't manage 16 --

17 A Ms. --

18 Q -- as a trustee correctly, correct?

19 A Ms. --

20 MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor. She's got no
21 foundation. She said she has a conflict and wasn't involved
22 with this case.

23 THE COURT: Sustained.

24 THE WITNESS: That's correct.

25 BY MS. PATEL:

O'Neil - Cross

147

1 Q Okay. I guess, Ms. O'Neil, let me just ask you: Did you
2 have any involvement with -- if you look at Tab 27, that's a
3 copy of the lawsuit, so that we're all clear exactly which one
4 I'm asking you about. This is the lawsuit between the 5 Charitable DAF and CLO HoldCo, your former client, versus U.S.
6 Bank National Association, Moody's Investors Service, Acis
7 Capital Management, Brigade, and Josh Terry. Did Foley have 8 any involvement in the drafting or formulation of this 9 lawsuit?

10 A None.

11 Q Okay.

12 MS. PATEL: No further questions, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: All right. Any redirect?

14 MR. MORRIS: Very briefly.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

17 BY MR. MORRIS:

18 Q Ms. O'Neil, you've been representing a number of different
19 entities associated with Highland since 2018, right?

20 A Correct.

21 Q And are those entities identified in Plaintiff's Exhibit
22 #2 in the engagement letter?

23 A Plaintiff's 2 or -- sorry.

24 Q The Debtor's.

25 A The Debtor's 2. Okay. Let me switch. They are.

005054

1 Q Okay. And since the Board has been appointed, have you
2 met with board members to discuss the status of the matters
3 that your firm has been handling?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And without disclosing attorney-client communications, did
6 that involve providing a history of the work that you'd done?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Did that involve providing a history of the work that you
9 expected to do in the future?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Did the Board have an opportunity to ask questions of you?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And did you, in fact, answer the Board's questions?

14 A I endeavored to do so to the best of my ability, yes.

15 Q Okay.

16 A Or I followed up if -- with information via email if I
17 needed to get additional information.

18 Q And is it your understanding that the Board supports your 19 retention for the purposes that were described earlier by Mr.
20 Nelms?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay.

23 MR. MORRIS: I have nothing further, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Any recross on that redirect?

25 MS. PATEL: No, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: All right. Ms. O'Neil, you're excused.

2 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

3 (The witness steps down.)

4 THE COURT: All right. Highland, any more evidence?

5 MR. MORRIS: No, Your Honor. We rest.

6 THE COURT: All right. Is there any evidence from 7 Acis?

8 MR. LAMBERSON: No, ma'am.

9 THE COURT: All right. Let's take a five-minute --
10 please, five-minute break -- and then we'll hear your closing
11 arguments.

12 THE CLERK: All rise.

13 (A recess ensued from 12:47 p.m. until 12:56 p.m.)

14 THE CLERK: All rise.

15 THE COURT: All right. Please be seated. We're 16 going back on the record in Highland. I'll hear closing
17 arguments.

18 I'm going to ask a question. I need clarification --

19 MR. DEMO: Of course.

20 THE COURT: -- on this. First off, in the Acis
21 adversary that's stayed in the Acis bankruptcy case, Foley,
22 it's proposed, would represent Highland. But is Foley also 23 representing co-defendants in that adversary? You know, I
24 think King & Spalding is representing all the co-defendants,
25 or someone else is, but am I wrong or right about that?

1 MR. DEMO: Yes and no, Your Honor. I think there's
2 been some miscommunication on that. The adversary, as we
3 understand it, is stayed, and because of that we are not
4 seeking to represent -- or retain Foley in that adversary,
5 although we will if that comes up again. So, in the 6 adversary, pre-petition, Foley did represent the Debtor and 7 then a handful of other creditors who were brought into that
8 adversary, as we understand it, as defendants. On a go-
9 forward basis, though, we are proposing to retain Foley on 10 three things: General matters in the bankruptcy proceeding;
11 the appellate --

12 THE COURT: General matters in the Acis bankruptcy
13 proceeding?

14 MR. DEMO: Correct, Your Honor. The appeal involving 15 the confirmation order. And the appeal involving the Neutra
16 litigation. And --

17 THE COURT: Okay. On the appeal of the involuntary, 18 --

19 MR. DEMO: Yes, ma'am.

20 THE COURT: -- only Neutra --

21 MR. DEMO: That is correct.

22 THE COURT: -- is an appellant. Okay. So what 23 you're asking is for authority for Highland to pay the legal 24 fees of Neutra on that?

25 MR. DEMO: Yes, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 MR. DEMO: We are. And we, again, to the --

3 THE COURT: And let me -- let me -- and then the 4 appeal of the confirmation order, are the appellants Highland
5 and Neutra only, or is HCLOF an appellant?

6 MR. DEMO: In terms of Foley's representation, it's -

8 THE COURT: No, no, no. Just answer the question.
9 Who are the appellants in the confirmation order?

10 MR. DEMO: Highland, Neutra, and HCLOF.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Who is representing HCLOF?

12 MR. DEMO: King & Spalding.

13 THE COURT: Okay. And Foley has thus far been 14 representing Neutra and Highland?

15 MR. DEMO: Correct, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Well, okay. You may proceed.

17 MR. DEMO: And I will be brief. And I think
18 ultimately this, this is a relatively simple thing, and I
19 think you've nailed it.

20 What are the benefits to the estate of -- because nobody 21 has objected, again, to Foley representing the Debtor. What 22 are the benefits to the estate for Foley representing Neutra
23 and being paid for that by the Debtor? And to answer that 24 question, I think you have to look to all the testimony that 25 we've heard today, and you also have to look at who's

1 objecting, Your Honor. The Committee is not objecting. There
2 is no other committee member objecting besides Acis. The only
3 party objecting to Neutra -- or, I'm sorry, to Highland paying 4 Neutra's fees in the appeal, which, again, are a portion of 5 the $500,000 that we think is going to be incurred post-
6 petition on this, excluding today, because today has obviously 7 gone a little bit long -- the only party objecting to paying a
8 portion of that $500,000 to have Foley represent Neutra in an
9 appeal that is happening less than six weeks from now is Acis.

10 Acis is the party opponent in that. Acis is the party
11 that stands to benefit, not just because the involuntary
12 petition will not be overturned, but because there will be a
13 lack of leverage and a lack of ability to contest their $75
14 million, which is where it started, but it keeps growing.
15 It's at $300 million now. The only party who's objected to 16 that is Acis. None of the other creditors have objected.

17 THE COURT: Well, until the past 24 hours, the 18 Committee was objecting.

19 MR. DEMO: Correct, Your Honor. And we had a --
20 finally had a chance, with the new Board in place, to discuss 21 it with the Committee. And the new Board explained to the 22 Committee that, in their business judgment, spending this
23 money, this $500,000 -- which, again, is going to be allocated 24 across these three matters; not all of it's going to be 25 allocated to Neutra; a portion of it is going to be allocated

1 to Neutra -- $500,000 for the possibility of a recovery to the
2 estate, the possibility of the ability to challenge a $300
3 million proof of claim that impacts not just the estate but 4 the other creditors in the estate, substantially, because
5 there's only so much money here. So, --

6 THE COURT: Okay. Let me ask you to recap what the 7 evidence was on benefit to Highland --

8 MR. DEMO: On benefit --

9 THE COURT: -- from the overturning of the order for 10 relief in Acis.

11 MR. DEMO: In terms of the overturning of the order
12 for relief in Acis, there were -- there was testimony on the 13 possibility -- and again, it's a possibility, and we're not 14 disputing that. Acis's attorneys said it was 10 percent.
15 That's fine. Maybe it's 10 percent. There was evidence
16 presented by Mr. Nelms on the possibility that if the Acis
17 involuntary is overturned, that the contracts at issue, the 18 advisory and the sub-management agreements, --

19 THE COURT: Well, let's take it sequentially, because 20 you've got to, you know, look at benefit of the estate --

21 MR. DEMO: Understood.

22 THE COURT: -- versus time and cost, to some degree,
23 right?

24 MR. DEMO: Right.

25 THE COURT: So, Neutra wins.

1 MR. DEMO: Okay.

2 THE COURT: Okay? That means, according to Mr.
3 Lamberson's argument, which I think is the correct argument,
4 that we send to arbitration whether it's appropriate for Acis
5 to be in a bankruptcy.

6 MR. DEMO: Correct, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. DEMO: Well, may be correct.

9 THE COURT: So, --

10 MR. DEMO: I think we did hear there's a different
11 possibility from Mr. Nelms.

12 THE COURT: Well, what is the other possibility?

13 MR. DEMO: Well, okay. Understood, Your Honor.
14 Okay.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MR. DEMO: So, say we -- assuming we send it to
17 arbitration, --

18 THE COURT: So that means an arbitration panel is 19 convened, and at some point, many months from now, an 20 arbitration panel will either say yes or no, involuntary, you
21 know, should have gone forward.

22 MR. DEMO: Okay.

23 THE COURT: Okay? Let's say the arbitration panel
24 says no, should not have gone forward. Then what does the 25 world look like for Highland?

1 MR. DEMO: I guess, taking it a step back, Your
2 Honor, assuming that this does go to arbitration, it also
3 means that the involuntary petition was not entered. If the 4 involuntary petition was not entered, which means that the 5 Acis equity did not go to Mr. Terry, it stayed under Neutra,
6 at that point --

7 THE COURT: Wait, wait, wait.

8 MR. DEMO: -- you also go into arbitration.

9 THE COURT: Wait, wait. Wait, wait. So you're 10 saying that everything is wiped out in the involuntary, the 11 Acis bankruptcy case?

12 MR. DEMO: Your Honor, and I do want to be really,
13 honestly, very, very clear about this. I am -- I am not
14 saying anything. I'm not -- trying very hard not to draw a 15 legal conclusion. What I'm saying is that the Board has 16 analyzed this, the Board has applied business --

17 THE COURT: But I'm trying to understand --

18 MR. DEMO: -- judgment to this, and that there is a -
19 - there is a possibility. Now, --

20 THE COURT: I'm trying --

21 MR. DEMO: -- obviously, reasonable minds can --

22 THE COURT: Okay. Here's where I'm coming from. And 23 you can tell me if I'm analyzing this incorrectly, in your 24 view. Okay. We used to have this terrible Fifth Circuit case
25 -- you know, God help me if this transcript gets sent -- but

1 called Pro-Snax. Okay?

2 MR. DEMO: Okay.

3 THE COURT: I think the Fifth Circuit has decided 4 itself that it was terrible, so it's not going to come back to 5 haunt me, saying that. So, Pro-Snax said basically the 6 Bankruptcy Court is a Monday-morning quarterback in looking at 7 the reasonableness of fees. You know, did it provide a
8 benefit to the estate?

9 MR. DEMO: Uh-huh.

10 THE COURT: And then that got reversed a few years
11 ago. I think it was the Woerner case -- Baron & Newburger
12 (Woerner) -- where the Court said, no, you don't do a 13 hindsight look. You look at, at the time fees were expensed, 14 --

15 MR. DEMO: Uh-huh.

16 THE COURT: -- was there something like a reasonable
17 possibility they would benefit the estate?

18 MR. DEMO: Yes.

19 THE COURT: Okay? So I'm looking through it in that 20 lens, so to speak, and I'm like, what benefit to the Highland 21 estate could there be if the confirmation -- well, if the 22 order for relief is unwound or the confirmation order is 23 unwound? And I'm not there. I'm not there understanding any 24 benefit for Highland.

25 I can understand a benefit, maybe, for Neutra, although I

1 am even hard-pressed to see that, because it looks like years
2 of more litigation.

3 MR. DEMO: And Your Honor, I mean, I do think that 4 there was -- and again, I'm not going to challenge your legal 5 conclusions -- I do think that there was evidence that in the 6 Board's business judgment they did analyze this and they see
7 it, I think, a little bit differently.

8 THE COURT: And I should defer heavily to a Board's
9 reasonable exercise of business judgment. I've got trouble.
10 So I'm just trying to --

11 MR. DEMO: Understood. And I think, when you look at 12 that business judgment, --

13 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

14 MR. DEMO: -- you know, obviously, I don't disagree.
15 I do think that when you have a three-person independent board
16 of this caliber who's come into a difficult situation, has 17 reviewed all of the evidence, talked to all the applicable
18 people, when things happened with the DAF litigation that they 19 didn't like, they took action to stop that. When they looked 20 at the Winstead appeal and they said, you know, there's not a
21 benefit to the estate here, let's drop they, they dropped it.

22 THE COURT: But again, work with --

23 MR. DEMO: When they --

24 THE COURT: Work with me. Fifth Circuit reverses the 25 order for relief. I don't think you have disagreed with

1 Lamberson's argument that best-case scenario in that reversal
2 scenario is that an arbitration panel now looks at, should 3 this Acis -- you know, should it have gone forward in a
4 bankruptcy?

5 MR. DEMO: Well, I guess, Your Honor, then maybe I --

6 THE COURT: So, in that many --

7 MR. DEMO: -- I'm not being clear.

8 THE COURT: -- months, let's say eight months that an 9 arbitration panel takes to decide, what happens during that 10 eight months?

11 MR. DEMO: Well, then I guess, Your Honor, I need to 12 step back, because I have not -- absolutely not been clear.
13 If it goes to an arbitration panel, our view -- and I think
14 Ms. O'Neil's briefs to the Fifth Circuit are clear on this -- 15 the arbitration panel is going to arbiter or arbitrate whether 16 or not there was a fraudulent conveyance. It's going to 17 arbitrate how to resolve the claims. It's not going to 18 arbitrate whether or not the involuntary petition should ever
19 have been entered.

20 THE COURT: Wait, wait. What does that mean? Of 21 course. That's the starting point of it all, right? The 22 appeal is the Bankruptcy Court wrongly held a trial on the 23 involuntary petition and ordered for relief. It should have 24 deferred to an arbitration panel to do that. Isn't that 25 appeal number one that we're talking about?

1 MR. DEMO: Yes, but --

2 THE COURT: Neutra's appeal?

3 MR. DEMO: Yes, it is.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. DEMO: But I do think there's a nuance. And I do
6 want to defer to the pleadings that were filed with the Fifth
7 Circuit, because I don't want here to get myself out in front
8 of that Fifth Circuit appeal, because obviously I do very much
9 want that appeal to go forward. And maybe we lose and maybe
10 we win, but if we win, I think the --

11 THE COURT: If Neutra wins.

12 MR. DEMO: If Neutra wins, one of the outcomes -- and 13 again, I understand that, you know, reasonable minds can 14 differ that there --

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MR. DEMO: -- of the outcomes.

17 THE COURT: But one of the outcomes.

18 MR. DEMO: One of the outcomes is that the 19 involuntary petition is unwound, withdrawn, and the parties go
20 to arbitration on the claims. If that were to happen, --

21 THE COURT: Wait. It's unwound and they go to 22 arbitration on what claims? The claims in the adversary
23 proceeding that's been filed in Acis?

24 MR. DEMO: Again, Your Honor, I'm not the appellate
25 lawyer here. I mean, this is why we are here.

1 THE COURT: But how do you skip over the arbitration
2 of the order for relief? Because if Joshua Terry, who 3 commenced it, you know, he has the right now to argue to an
4 arbitration panel that this should have been in bankruptcy,
5 right? He doesn't have to just agree that the adversary
6 proceeding is now arbitrated. Right?

7 MR. DEMO: Well, again, Your Honor, I don't want to 8 substitute my judgment for the judgment of the Board. I think
9 the judgment of the Board is that there is a scenario and that 10 it's worth exploring and that it's worth the -- what we 11 honestly think is a limited amount of money to explore.
12 Because I think, if we explore that, we explore the 13 possibility, quite honestly, of taking it out of bankruptcy, 14 then, yes, in that scenario, and which we do it think is 15 possible, in that scenario, and call it whatever probability 16 you want, but if you're going to spend half a million dollars
17 to get to a scenario that could reap you -- and I don't want
18 to put a number on it -- but millions of dollars in future
19 revenue, millions of dollars in terms of --

20 THE COURT: You're melding. You're collapsing. And 21 we all know as lawyers that's not how it works. Things happen
22 sequentially, okay?

23 MR. DEMO: Okay. Then I guess, going --

24 THE COURT: There's a setting aside -- well, there's 25 a reversal of the Bankruptcy Court's issuance of an order for

1 relief.

2 MR. DEMO: Okay.

3 THE COURT: And that means you should have deferred
4 to an arbitration panel, Judge Jernigan. And so they remand
5 so that I can, consistent with that appellate ruling, say,
6 We're staying the bankruptcy and it's going to arbitration to 7 decide whether an order for relief. Is there really any 8 realistic scenario where we skip that step?

9 MR. DEMO: We think that there's a scenario that is 10 worth exploring.

11 THE COURT: I feel like your colleagues are really 12 dying to chime in because they think they've got the answer to 13 my question, no offense to you.

14 MR. MORRIS: I really -- I don't, Your Honor, but if 15 I may.

16 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

17 MR. MORRIS: I think Ms. O'Neil is the appellate
18 lawyer. Maybe she should speak on this very precise point, --

19 THE COURT: Okay. Because --

20 MR. MORRIS: -- if that's okay with the Court.

21 THE COURT: Because I see many miles --

22 MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

23 THE COURT: -- to go before we sleep if there's a
24 reversal, and I'm trying to figure -- well, you know, we all
25 know that, right?

1 MS. O'NEIL: Your Honor, if I may.

2 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

3 MS. O'NEIL: And I did not want to interrupt Mr.
4 Demo, and he's done a great job, but obviously we've been
5 involved with the appeal.

6 THE COURT: Right.

7 MS. O'NEIL: We've prepared the briefs.

8 THE COURT: So how does it play out if there's a
9 reversal in favor of Neutra --

10 MS. O'NEIL: If I may, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: -- of the order for relief?

12 MS. O'NEIL: The issue on the appeal is not to send 13 the concept to arbitration of the involuntary petitions.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MS. O'NEIL: It is that Mr. Terry was not a qualified
16 petitioner because he was bound by an arbitration, a binding
17 arbitration agreement, and that the issue that he -- by 18 proceeding with these involuntary petitions, he commenced a
19 suit, a proceeding that was, at its core, about fraudulent
20 transfers, and that that should have gone to arbitration. And 21 to proceed and try to engage this Court's jurisdiction on 22 something that he had contractually agreed to go to 23 arbitration on was improper.

24 So, if Neutra wins on that argument, and I would encourage 25 the Court, we -- I think the briefs are in one of the

1 exhibits, but certainly I would provide them to the Court
2 before the Court makes a determination if it would help. If
3 there -- if Neutra wins on that appeal, then our position
4 would be that yes, the bankruptcy is effectively void ab
5 initio, and that's what we believe the case law supports.

6 Where that would put the parties, potentially -- and 7 again, we're speculating what the Fifth Circuit may or may not
8 due to instruct this Court to do -- could reverse and render,
9 as it were, as Mr. Nelms testified happened to him previously,
10 but could instruct this Court to abstain, which I think was -- 11 and that is one of the various motions and the orders that the 12 Court had denied. All of these are wrapped up in the appeal,
13 Your Honor. And in doing so, instruct the petitioner, Mr.
14 Terry, and Acis to go arbitrate the issue of the fraudulent
15 transfers. That would reinstate Acis. Acis could reinstate
16 Highland as the manager of the CLOs.

17 THE COURT: So every single order in the Acis case
18 would be null and void?

19 MS. O'NEIL: We believe that the case law is that it
20 would be void ab initio. And now, Your Honor, practically 21 speaking, --

22 THE COURT: Void ab initio? Okay. That could only 23 -- is that hinged to a subject matter jurisdiction, lack of 24 subject matter jurisdiction --

25 MS. O'NEIL: Partially, that's part of the argument.

1 THE COURT: -- theory?

2 MS. O'NEIL: That's part of the argument. Yes, Your
3 Honor.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MS. O'NEIL: Practically speaking, it is our belief,
6 although it is not clear, is what I've tried to kind of convey 7 to the Court, and in conjunction with this conversation I was 8 trying to have with Mr. Terry's counsel/Acis's counsel, is 9 that we believe Mr. Terry has been paid down. Practically 10 speaking, if that happens and he's only left with a claim or 11 currently has a claim of $4 million, $4-1/2 million, which is 12 what we think it is, or it's somewhere in that neighborhood,
13 that -- and there's sufficient cash in Acis to pay that claim
14 off -- it is a claim Judge -- Mr. Nelms testified to the fact
15 that it would need to be paid -- then there may not even need
16 to be a fraudulent transfer lawsuit because the claim would --
17 what's left of the claim would just be paid off. And then 18 Acis -- Neutra would be back in ownership of Acis, Acis would 19 engage Highland to come back in and do what it was doing
20 before, Mr. Terry got his claim paid off, and there we are.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. DEMO: That's honestly pretty much it, Your 23 Honor. And we think that -- and the Board thinks that the 24 benefit of pursuing that is worth it, quite honestly. And 25 they think, in their business judgment, that it's worth paying

1 those Neutra fees -- which again, are a portion of the 2 $500,000, only a portion -- because that benefit accrues to
3 the estate, or could accrue to the estate in a situation
4 where, in their business judgment, it's worth going forward on
5 this.

6 THE COURT: Okay. The appeal -- okay. Let me make
7 sure I heard this correctly. The appeal of the confirmation
8 order, whereas we have Neutra only on the appeal --

9 MR. DEMO: Correct.

10 THE COURT: -- of the order for relief, the appeal of 11 the confirmation order is Highland, Neutra, and HCLOF.

12 MR. DEMO: Correct.

13 THE COURT: And King & Spalding still represents
14 HCLOF in connection with that appeal.

15 MR. DEMO: Correct. And they're the only law firm
16 representing HCLOF in that appeal.

17 THE COURT: So here's what I'm struggling with. You
18 know, what initially seemed like kind of a compelling argument
19 -- all the briefing has been done, oral argument is set in 20 March -- it feels like to me the main beneficiaries of a
21 reversal of that confirmation order are HCLOF and Neutra.
22 Foley can represent Neutra. Neutra can pay. King & Spalding
23 can represent HCLOF. HCLOF can pay. And that seems like the 24 reasonable scenario to me.

25 MR. DEMO: And I hear that. But I think -- and I

1 think Mr. Nelms --

2 THE COURT: Because let's --

3 MR. DEMO: -- testified to it, but --

4 THE COURT: Work with me. Let's say they don't
5 reverse the order for relief --

6 MR. DEMO: Okay.

7 THE COURT: -- but they do reverse the confirmation
8 order.

9 MR. DEMO: Okay.

10 THE COURT: So, Chapter 11 Trustee is in place
11 representing Highland, and he can -- I'm sorry -- he is the 12 spokesperson for the Acis, the controller of the Acis estate.
13 He might go forward with plan number four, five, whatever it 14 would be.

15 MR. DEMO: Okay.

16 THE COURT: Or say, I think it's time to convert this
17 to 7. I mean I'm just trying to figure out --

18 MR. DEMO: And I guess I do want to go back to one 19 thing, --

20 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

21 MR. DEMO: -- because I do not think there is another
22 economic beneficiary that would pay Neutra's fees. I think if 23 the Debtor is not allowed to pay Neutra's fees, nobody will 24 pay Neutra's fees, and that portion of the appellate argument
25 will fall by the wayside. Because --

1 THE COURT: So Neutra loses, but I don't see how
2 Highland loses. You have not painted a scenario where it's
3 clear to me there's any economic benefit to the estate.

4 MR. DEMO: I would, I would, with all --

5 THE COURT: And you're telling me, Defer to the 6 Board's business judgment. But I'm --

7 MR. DEMO: Well, I --

8 THE COURT: I'm concerned that the evidence hasn't 9 shown me --

10 MR. DEMO: I would also ask, Your Honor, --

11 THE COURT: -- all of the --

12 MR. DEMO: -- in all --

13 THE COURT: -- scenarios that lead to their 14 reasonable business judgment on this.

15 MR. DEMO: As Ms. O'Neil just said, I mean, this is 16 above the Fifth -- to the Fifth Circuit. The Fifth Circuit is 17 set to hear this in six weeks. And if the Fifth Circuit rules
18 the way that Ms. O'Neil just said, I do think, and I think the 19 Board thinks -- actually, I know the Board thinks -- that 20 there is a tangible benefit to the estate here. And so I know
21 that I'm asking you to defer to their judgment, --

22 THE COURT: All I heard was --

23 MR. DEMO: -- but I'm also asking just for --

24 THE COURT: -- that they'd reinstate the sub-advisory 25 and shared services agreements.

1 MR. DEMO: Which are --

2 THE COURT: Which, by the way, Highland moved to 3 terminate, moved to compel rejection at one point during the 4 case, and then, when that didn't work, HCLOF started calling
5 for redemption.

6 MR. DEMO: And it's not the --

7 THE COURT: This is nuts for me --

8 MR. DEMO: It's not -- it's not the -- Your Honor, 9 it's --

10 THE COURT: Tell me why it's not nuts for me to think 11 --

12 MR. DEMO: Because it's not the same Highland.

13 THE COURT: -- that Highland would be thrilled to 14 have Acis back managing the CLOs and subcontracting with 15 Highland. I mean, that --

16 MR. DEMO: It's not, it's not the same Highland. The 17 stuff that happened prior to the institution of the Board was 18 the stuff that happened prior to the institution of the Board.
19 There is new management of Highland. That new management is 20 working very hard. As you've seen, Your Honor, that new 21 management is willing to push back. That new management, with 22 the DAF, which you've heard testimony of, that new management
23 is working to get that motion withdrawn. That new management
24 is not going forward with Lynn Pinker because of actions that 25 it took that it thought subverted their control and their

1 management of the Debtor. The new management decided to drop
2 an appeal that they did not think had any merit.

3 It's not the same Debtor, Your Honor. It is a board
4 consisting of three highly-qualified people who are exercising
5 their own judgment. So all of that stuff that happened prior 6 to January 9th, I don't want to say hey, it's a clear line in 7 the sand, but it is. Mr. Dondero is not in control of 8 Highland Capital Management.

9 THE COURT: But he is in control of Neutra.

10 MR. DEMO: He is the economic beneficiary of Neutra.
11 That is correct. But Mr. Dondero did tell Mr. Nelms, as Mr.
12 Nelms testified, that he would reinstate those contracts. And 13 I understand that. But again, as you've seen, Mr. Nelms and 14 the Board have been able to push back, have been able to exert 15 control, to exert influence, and to exert management over an 16 institution that is very difficult to manage.

17 And I do think that deference to that is something that 18 should very much be considered, because it's very easy to 19 think of this as Old Highland, but this is New Highland, who 20 has done an independent, objective review of these claims, who 21 has sat with Ms. O'Neil, who has sat with Pachulski, who has 22 sat with Mr. Terry and Ms. Patel and talked about this stuff,
23 and still thinks that there is a benefit here to the estate,
24 and that spending the $500,000 to pursue that benefit, which 25 is not just a benefit to Highland but it's a benefit to

1 Highland other -- to Highland's other creditors, I guess, Your
2 Honor, quite honestly, I would ask that you to defer to that
3 new management, because it is not -- it is not Old Highland.

4 All that stuff that people have talked about -- I mean,
5 you've seen today in court, you've heard testimony about very 6 qualified people working to stop that and working to put this 7 estate into a position where it can reorganize, where it can
8 come to agreements with its creditors, where it can work
9 through this process, where it can come out the other side.

10 But if we take away that Board's ability to manage
11 litigation with one of their biggest creditors, whose 12 litigation claim keeps growing, all you're doing is 13 benefitting that one creditor, not to the detriment of Mr.
14 Dondero but to the detriment of the other creditors in this
15 case.

16 UBS has a claim. Redeemer has a claim. Meta-e has a
17 claim. McKool's has a claim. You can run through that whole
18 list. And if you take away the Board's right to direct 19 litigation that is going directly to the Board's ability to 20 control runaway claims, to negotiate with creditors, and to 21 come up with an idea of how to split the pie, then, with all
22 respect, Your Honor, you are infringing on that Board's 23 business judgment and that Board's ability to reorganize this
24 case.

25 This case isn't just about --

1 THE COURT: It wouldn't be taking away. And here is
2 a nuance that -- I think it is perfectly reasonable, in case
3 you don't know where I'm heading on this, for Foley to 4 represent Highland in the Acis case, in that adversary
5 proceeding, if it goes forward, because heck yeah, Highland
6 has been sued for huge amounts of money.

7 MR. DEMO: Understood.

8 THE COURT: Their claim, that is many millions, has 9 been objected to. So, heck yeah, this estate needs good
10 representation of Highland in that case, where there are many 11 unresolved issues still in the Acis case.

12 But on the appeal, I am just still lost as to how there is 13 any chance in the world Highland benefits in those appeals.
14 Neutra, heck yeah. Maybe they get their Acis back and can 15 instruct it to, you know, stop suing Highland or whatever.
16 Dondero controlling Neutra can do that. Okay? And HCLOF, it
17 doesn't want Acis to have anything to do anymore with managing 18 its equity piece of those CLOs. Sure. But how -- I mean,
19 you're telling me that there could be a scenario -- here's 20 what I'm hearing. That there is a benefit in having all those 21 fraudulent transfer claims arbitrated, I guess, not litigated
22 in the Bankruptcy or District Court, and there's a benefit in 23 having all of the management agreements, portfolio management
24 agreements reinstated. And I just, I don't see how that 25 happens anytime soon based on how I perceive a reversal of

1 orders on appeal happening.

2 MR. DEMO: And I guess I don't know what else to say
3 on that point. We do think there's a $12 million tangible
4 benefit to reinstating those contracts. We think there's a
5 tangible benefit to allowing Neutra to go forward with its
6 appeal. And again, there is nobody else who I think would pay
7 that freight besides the Debtor, because that benefit, we
8 believe, goes to the Debtor.

9 THE COURT: How many years of life are there left on 10 the CLOs that Acis manages?

11 MR. DEMO: I would have to check, Your Honor. I
12 don't know off the top of my head. I can ask. But --

13 THE COURT: I mean, you're saying $12 million. I
14 mean, I don't --

15 MR. DEMO: I, you know, --

16 THE COURT: There's not a -- I'm just not sure where 17 that number is coming from. I never heard direct evidence of 18 that.

19 MR. DEMO: Okay. Well, I guess, Your Honor, I mean,
20 again, I would just ask that you defer to the business
21 judgment of the Board and allow them to position this 22 litigation in a way that best enables them to deal with every 23 creditor's claim, and not just the claims of one creditor.
24 And if they cannot fight the claims of the creditor, then they 25 can't negotiate how that pot is going to be split in a fashion

1 that benefits everybody.

2 So I guess, Your Honor, I mean, I don't know what else to 3 say about the benefits of the Neutra appeal except that the 4 testimony, I think, speaks for itself. But, you know, I --
5 and in terms of --

6 THE COURT: Again, fight the claim of a creditor.
7 Foley can represent Highland in the adversary proceeding,
8 wherever that goes forward.

9 MR. DEMO: Yeah.

10 THE COURT: Probably District Court, not this Court.
11 At least some of it, if not all of it. But anyway, I'm 12 digressing. They can object to Acis's proof of claim. They 13 can object to Terry's proof of claim. I mean, --

14 MR. DEMO: And conversely, Your Honor, if -- if --

15 THE COURT: -- this has nothing to do with -- I mean,
16 I don't get the appeal. I mean, I --

17 MR. DEMO: Right.

18 THE COURT: Neutra can appeal, HCLOF can appeal, but 19 I'm not seeing the benefit to Highland.

20 MR. DEMO: And I guess the only thing I would say,
21 Your Honor, is if there is an improper benefit, we are not
22 saying that the fee applications are sacrosanct. People can 23 challenge the improper benefit there.

24 And again, the settlement gave broad discretion to the 25 Committee to pursue insider claims. So if an insider is

1 receiving a benefit from this, the Committee has standing to
2 pursue that.

3 So it's not a null set, Your Honor, whereas cutting off
4 the appeal now does take away that possibility.

5 THE COURT: How would I be cutting off the appeal?
6 I'm not cutting off the appeal. King & Spalding can go in 7 there and fight hard. Foley can go in there and fight hard
8 for Neutra. So, --

9 MR. DEMO: One second, Your Honor.

10 (Counsel confer.)

11 MR. DEMO: And I guess, you know, Your Honor, and I
12 do want to reiterate that there is no other party with an 13 economic incentive to fight the Neutra appeal the way that the 14 Debtor has an economic incentive.

15 THE COURT: That makes no sense to me. HCLOF is the 16 one who hated this injunction.

17 MR. DEMO: That's not the Neutra appeal, Your Honor.
18 That's the confirmation order.

19 THE COURT: Well, okay. Neutra gets its company back
20 if they win.

21 MR. DEMO: And we would get our contracts back.

22 THE COURT: And arguably, it can control Acis, maybe,
23 okay, and it can assign management contracts to whoever it
24 wants. That just -- and it says it'll assign them to 25 Highland. If you can trust Jim Dondero, then Highland's going

1 to benefit if Neutra wins that appeal. Right?

2 MR. DEMO: Yes. Yes, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Okay. So that --

4 MR. DEMO: Highland would benefit greatly --

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. DEMO: -- if Neutra were to win that appeal.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Okay. Well, but first Neutra
8 benefits, right? And then --

9 MR. DEMO: No.

10 THE COURT: -- Highland only secondarily benefits --

11 MR. DEMO: I -- I --

12 THE COURT: -- if Jim Dondero keeps his word and 13 gives the management contracts back to Highland.

14 MR. DEMO: Jim Dondero would also have to repay the 15 $8 million in claim, even if he didn't reinstate those 16 contracts. And that $8 million would be hundred-cent dollars.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MR. DEMO: So, worst case, --

19 THE COURT: It would have been nice to have him
20 testify as to all of this.

21 MR. DEMO: Worst --

22 THE COURT: It would be more compelling if I had him.

23 MR. DEMO: Well, --

24 THE COURT: Okay? But I don't think --

25 MR. DEMO: -- I can only do so much, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: -- that's going to happen anytime soon.

2 MR. DEMO: But I guess worst-case scenario is that
3 it's $8 million in hundred-cent dollars.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. DEMO: And that's not nothing for $500,000. And 6 only a portion of that $500,000.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. DEMO: Thank you, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Lamberson?

10 MR. LAMBERSON: Your Honor, do you want a closing
11 from me? Or no?

12 THE COURT: I don't really need it. Thank you.

13 MR. LAMBERSON: Okay.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. LAMBERSON: Because I know your hearing starts in 16 about two minutes.

17 THE COURT: All right. So, I just hate it that we 18 spent so much time on this. I hate it that we spent so much
19 time, but, I mean, I understand. I understand. You know, I 20 think the employment application was filed pretty early in the 21 case, right, and -- October 29th. And it was continued, 22 continued, continued, because we were getting objections from 23 the Committee, or they wanted time to look at it, I guess.
24 And now you're kind of up against the wire, right, because 25 oral arguments are set at the Fifth Circuit next month. So I,

1 you know, I hate it that we were here, but I understand it.

2 But I'm concerned. I'm concerned -- well, here's the 3 deal. We have a great board, and I totally get that
4 Bankruptcy Courts should defer heavily to the reasonable
5 exercise of business judgment by a board. And we've got great
6 professionals. And we've got this case, I think, on a good
7 track as a general matter now. But I'm concerned that Dondero
8 or certain in-house counsel has -- you know, they're smart,
9 they're persuasive -- that -- what are the words I want to 10 look for -- they have exercised their powers of persuasion or 11 whatever to make the Board and the professionals think that 12 there is some valid prospect of benefit to Highland with these 13 appeals, when it's really all about Neutra, HCLOF, and Mr.
14 Dondero. That's what I believe.

15 I mean, this is awkward, right, because you want to defer
16 to the debtor-in-possession, but I have this long history, and 17 I can think through the scenarios. If this is reversed, here
18 is how it will play out. If this is reversed, here is how it
19 might play out. And I know, you know, there are multiple ways
20 it might play out, but I cannot believe there is a chance in 21 the world there is economic benefit to Highland if these 22 things get reversed. Economic benefit to Neutra: Yeah,
23 maybe. Economic benefit to HCLOF: Well, they'll get what 24 they want. You know, whether it's an economic benefit, I
25 don't know. But benefit to Highland? I just don't think the

1 evidence has been there to convince me it's reasonable
2 business judgment for Highland to pay the legal fees
3 associated with the appeal.

4 And even more concerning to me is a valid point was made
5 that Highland is in bankruptcy because of litigation,
6 litigation, litigation. The past officers and directors and 7 controls' propensity to fight about everything. This isn't a
8 balance sheet restructuring, okay? It's not a Chapter 11
9 caused by operational problems or revenue disruption or who 10 knows what kind of disruption. It's about years of litigation
11 finally coming home to roost. And this just appears to be 12 more of the same, potentially.

13 Okay. Parties have a right to appeal. I respect that.
14 Neutra, go for it. HCLOF, go for it. But this estate and its
15 creditors should not bear the burden of having Highland pay
16 for that, when, again, I don't think there's any evidence to 17 suggest they could benefit at the end of the day.

18 So what I'm going to do is I'm going to approve the 19 retention of Foley to represent Highland in the Acis case. We 20 all know the adversary is stayed right now. It may or may not 21 ever be un-stayed, depending on what strategies people want to 22 pursue. But Highland, I think a meritorious case has been 23 presented, and under 327(e) I will approve Foley representing 24 Highland in all Acis matters. Okay? The Acis bankruptcy
25 case. The adversary proceeding, if it goes forward. And so

1 that's my ruling.

2 I will additionally rule, for the avoidance of doubt, that
3 if Foley wants to represent Neutra in the appeals and get paid
4 by Neutra, I don't have any problem with that. In other
5 words, I'm not going to find something like there's a conflict
6 with the estate, you know, because of its simultaneous
7 representation of Neutra. That's fine. But I'm not going to 8 approve Highland paying anything in connection with either of 9 those appeals. So that is the ruling of the Court.

10 Have I left any gaps here?

11 MR. DEMO: Your Honor, just one clarification.

12 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

13 MR. DEMO: Foley is representing Highland Capital
14 Management in the appeal of the confirmation order to the 15 Fifth Circuit. I just want to clarify that your ruling that 16 Highland can represent -- I'm sorry -- Foley can represent 17 Highland in all Acis matters extends to their representation
18 of Highland Capital Management in the appeal of the 19 confirmation order that's set for March 30th.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Let me think through that.

21 MR. DEMO: And again, Your Honor, there's been no
22 objection to that.

23 THE COURT: King & Spalding is in there representing 24 HCLOF. Foley would be representing both Neutra and Highland
25 in connection with the confirmation order?

1 MR. DEMO: Technically, but Neutra really has
2 nothing. It's a coattail party in that case. Highland
3 Capital Management, to the extent that they could bifurcate
4 Neutra, it would still be doing the exact same work. So if
5 there is an issue there with the representation of Neutra,
6 we'd still ask that Foley be allowed to represent Highland
7 Capital Management in that appeal.

8 THE COURT: Okay. So you're telling me Neutra
9 doesn't really benefit from that appeal, so you want Highland 10 to pay all of the fees of Foley in connection with the 11 confirmation order appeal?

12 MR. DEMO: All I'm asking, Your Honor, is that Foley
13 can represent Highland Capital Management in that appeal. And 14 again, there's been no objection to that. What happens with 15 Neutra, I, you know, I understand your position. I am simply 16 asking for a clarification that Foley can continue 17 representing the Debtor in the Debtor's appeal of the 18 confirmation order.

19 THE COURT: All right. I will say yes to that, but 20 they need to be prepared to have their fees split. I'm not 21 saying 50/50, I don't know what the percentage is, but they 22 are going to be allocated between Neutra and Highland, and 23 they should not expect to get a hundred percent of those 24 covered by Highland at the end of the day. Okay? There's 25 going to be a deep dive into looking at how that allocation

1 should work, okay?

2 MR. DEMO: And they will be filing fee apps,
3 obviously, on all of the matters that they are --

4 THE COURT: Okay. Anything else?

5 MR. POMERANTZ: One moment, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 (Pause.)

8 MR. DEMO: Yeah. And Your Honor, I do just want to 9 clarify that when we talk about the involuntary petition
10 appeal, that when we talk about its effect on the fraudulent
11 conveyance action, to the extent that -- and I would like to 12 clarify your position on this, Your Honor. Is your position
13 that the appeal of the involuntary, if successful, would have 14 no impact on the fraudulent conveyance actions in the Acis
15 litigation?

16 Because I do think that it is clear that --

17 THE COURT: I think we don't know. We would have to 18 see --

19 MR. DEMO: And I guess that's -- that's --

20 THE COURT: -- what the Fifth Circuit states.

21 MR. DEMO: And my --

22 THE COURT: And it may be: Bankruptcy Court, stay
23 the proceedings and defer, send it to arbitration. "It" being 24 re-litigation of --

25 MR. DEMO: Understood.

1 THE COURT: -- the involuntary.

2 MR. DEMO: And --

3 THE COURT: That may be, to me, a likely scenario,
4 but maybe not.

5 MR. DEMO: And -- and --

6 THE COURT: Maybe they'll say something else.

7 MR. DEMO: Understood. And I think we're honestly on 8 the same page with that.

9 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

10 MR. DEMO: Because to the extent that it does put it
11 into arbitration, to the extent that there is that 12 possibility, that it changes the color of those fraudulent
13 conveyance claims, changes the color of Acis's $300 million
14 proof of claim, which goes to settlement strategy, which goes
15 to the benefits to other creditors, which goes to a whole
16 panoply of other things that tie into a benefit to the estate.
17 And I don't want to re-argue what we've already argued, but I
18 think, as Your Honor said, that chance that there is going to 19 be a change to the fraudulent conveyance, either because it
20 throws them into an arbitration or because it somehow
21 otherwise colors it, is, in and of itself, a substantial 22 benefit to the estate -- leaving aside the dollars from the 23 contracts, leaving aside the $8 million proof of claim --
24 because that benefit goes to, again, that $300 million proof
25 of claim that Acis has filed, which impacts the estate, which

1 impacts other creditors, and which impacts the settlement
2 mechanics in this case.

3 So to the extent that there is a chance that the 4 involuntary changes that and recolors it, there is a
5 substantial benefit to the estate in that, because it allows
6 the estate to work with creditors --

7 THE COURT: I mean, --

8 MR. DEMO: -- to figure out a way to settle claims in 9 a way that are --

10 THE COURT: I get what you're saying, but guess what?
11 You can object to that $300 million proof of claim. And we 12 might have a very interesting conversation about --

13 MR. DEMO: What --

14 THE COURT: Well, it's the same judge either way, but 15 -- well, I guess I don't get what you're saying. You have the 16 ability to object to the proof of claim whether there's 17 affirmance or --

18 MR. DEMO: Yeah. But --

19 THE COURT: -- reversal, right? I'm just --

20 MR. DEMO: We don't have a -- you know, we may not 21 have to get -- I'm sorry, Your Honor, and I'll stop it -- but 22 we may not have to get there. Objecting to the proof of claim
23 is quali... it is quantitatively and qualitatively different 24 than a Fifth Circuit order saying that there are changes to 25 the fraudulent conveyance, there are changes to the

1 distribution of equity under the plan. Maybe there is no plan
2 -- or maybe there is no bankruptcy at all.

3 Those things fundamentally change the dynamics of this
4 case in a way that's good for the estate. And those things
5 can only happen if there's an order from the Fifth Circuit
6 entering that. We can object all down the pipe, and we are 7 going to object, Your Honor, and I assume other people will
8 object as well. But our objecting does not have the same
9 benefit to the estate as a Fifth Circuit opinion saying,
10 Fraudulent conveyance claims go to arbitration; saying, There
11 is no involuntary petition.

12 Now, I understand that there are questions as to the 13 probability of those things, but the fact that there is a 14 probability of those things happening and the cost to the 15 estate is a hundred thousand dollars, I understand what Your 16 Honor has said and I don't want to overstay my welcome, but I
17 do think we are -- at least maybe I am presenting it wrong --
18 but that Fifth Circuit order either way is going to calcify
19 and solidify this in ways that are beneficial to the estate
20 and beneficial to how this bankruptcy is going to progress.

21 THE COURT: Okay. I understand you feel passionately
22 about that, but just so you know, for future purposes or not,
23 I'm not there because, you know, among other things, we -- you
24 know, life has changed. You know, if the Fifth Circuit says
25 reversal, not a darn thing should happen in a bankruptcy case

1 of Acis, you know, it can all go to arbitration, well, that's
2 the Acis litigation, right? But Acis has filed a proof of 3 claim now. And are you going to tell me the Fifth Circuit is 4 going to say the arbitration that should have happened in the 5 earlier Acis case trumps, if you will, adjudication of a proof
6 of claim now in a new case?

7 MR. DEMO: And the claims are --

8 THE COURT: I mean, I'm just -- someone mentioned
9 Gandy and National Gypsum, and there's even a more recent 10 Fifth Circuit case dealing with arbitration which --

11 MR. DEMO: The claims, Your Honor, are state law
12 claims if there's no bankruptcy, and I think --

13 THE COURT: But there is a bankruptcy. There's a 14 Highland bankruptcy now. And there's a proof of claim --

15 MR. DEMO: Not if the Fifth Circuit --

16 THE COURT: -- in the Highland case.

17 MR. DEMO: -- overturns the involuntary petition.

18 THE COURT: Yeah. I just -- okay. We're just, we're 19 having academic conversations, and I'm probably guilty for 20 going down this trail. So, anyway, is there anything further,

OBJECTION OF THE OFFICIAL
COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS TO THE MOTION OF THE DEBTOR FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER AUTHORIZING, BUT NOT DIRECTING, THE DEBTOR TO CAUSE DISTRIBUTIONS TO CERTAIN “RELATED ENTITIES”

The official committee of unsecured creditors (the “Committee”) of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”), hereby submits this objection (this “Objection”) to the Motion of the Debtor for Entry of an Order Authorizing, But Not Directing, the Debtor to Cause Distributions to Certain “Related Entities” [Docket No.474] (the “Distribution Motion”).² In support of this Objection, the Committee respectfully states as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. The Committee’s objection focuses on a very limited portion of the transaction currently proposed by the Debtor – namely, proposed distributions of approximately $8.6 million (the “Proposed Insider Distributions”) to several insiders who not only owe money to the Debtor but also may be the target of avoidance and other litigation brought by the Committee on behalf of the Debtor's estate - Mark Okada and two entities owned and/or controlled by James Dondero and/or Mark Okada (such entities, together with Messrs. Dondero and Okada, the "Insider Parties"). As this Court is aware, Messrs. Dondero and Okada owned and controlled the Debtor for most of the past 30 years. During that time, the Debtor repeatedly breached fiduciary duties and contractual obligations, leading to hundreds of millions of dollars in judgments against the Debtor and certain affiliates. The Committee is currently investigating a variety of significant potential estate claims against the Insider Parties. For example, certain of the interests held by the Insider Parties, which form the basis for a portion of the Proposed Insider Distributions, were once owned by the Debtor – the Committee is investigating, among other things, the propriety of the transfers of these interests from the Debtor to the Insider Parties. In addition, Messrs. Dondero and Okada currently owe the Debtor over $10.6 million in demand notes and another Insider Party owes the Debtor nearly $7.5 million in notes receivable, some of which also are demand notes. In light of these and other potential claims, which are only now the subject of review by a party other than the Debtor, the Committee believes the Proposed Insider Distributions to the Insider Parties should be reserved in segregated accounts pending resolution of the issues under investigation by the Committee and repayment of all amounts owed to the Debtor by the Insider Parties.

² All capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Distribution Motion.

2. This Court's order granting the relief requested by the Committee would shield the Debtor from any purported legal risks associated with withholding the Proposed Insider Distributions. Similarly, the Debtor and Independent Board would not breach their fiduciary duties by complying with this Court's order to withhold the Proposed Insider Distributions.³

³ Even absent court order, the Committee is highly skeptical of the legal merit of any such legal claims by Messrs. Dondero and Okada and related damages for any alleged breach of contract and/or fiduciary duty by the Debtor.

3. Temporarily withholding and segregating the proposed distributions would greatly facilitate the Debtor's interests while causing little harm to the Insider Parties. It would facilitate repayment of over $18 million in notes payable to the Debtor by the Insider Parties. Moreover, delay in the distribution will allow the Committee an adequate opportunity to investigate potential estate claims against the Insider Parties, including claims arising from the very transactions pursuant to which the Debtor transferred certain of the interests at issue to such parties.

4. While the Debtor and Independent Board have taken the position that they cannot affirmatively seek this relief, clearly both should be supportive of this outcome which preserves claims of the Debtor's estate and a ready source of recovery for the outstanding demand notes. Moreover, the Proposed Insider Distributions will be temporarily placed in segregated, interest bearing accounts, compensating the Insider Parties for any material injury from the mere passage of time. To the extent Messrs. Dondero and Okada believe they would incur additional harm of which the Committee is not aware, they – not the Debtor – should bring those concerns directly to this Court.

OBJECTION

5. Through the Distribution Motion, the Debtor seeks authority to make redemption payments and other distributions to investors in certain funds managed by the Debtor. Specifically, as part of the Debtor's plan to distribute (i) approximately $123.25 million to investors of RCP, (ii) $21.8 million to investors of AROF in connection with the wind up of such fund, and (iii) $34.8 million to investors in Dynamic in connection with the wind up of such fund – the Debtor seeks authority for some of the foregoing distributions to be made to the Insider Parties. Of the almost $180 million in distributions, the Committee only objects to the distribution of a total of $8.6 million to be distributed to three Insider Parties. Specifically, the Committee objects to the request to make distributions to Mark Okada, Highland Capital Management Services, Inc. (“HCM Services,” owned by James Dondero, and Mark Okada), and CLO Holdco Ltd. (“CLOH”).⁴ To be clear, the Committee does not object to the Debtor’s orderly liquidation of Dynamic or AROF, or to the distributions from AROF, Dynamic, and RCP to any third-party, non-affiliated investors. However, in light of the significant amounts of money owed to the Debtor by Mr. Okada, Mr. Dondero and HCM Services, the Committee’s ongoing investigation of the Debtor’s insiders and related entities (including with respect to the propriety of how the Insider Parties obtained the interests which form the basis of the Proposed Insider Distributions (such interests, the “Insider Interests”)), and the well-documented fraudulent and improper activities engaged in by the Debtor’s insiders, the Committee requests that the Court order the Debtor to hold the Proposed Insider Distributions in a reserve for a limited period of time.

I. The Proposed Insider Distributions Should Be Reserved Pending the Repayment of Insiders Parties’ Obligations Owed to the Debtor and the Committee Investigation

6. Through the Distribution Motion, the Debtor seeks to make the following Proposed Insider Distributions:

Investor	Distribution Amount	Fund
CLO HoldCo, Ltd.	$872,000	AROF
CLO HoldCo, Ltd.	$1,521,000	Dynamic
Mark Okada	$4,185,000	Dynamic
Highland Capital Management Services, Inc.	$2,085,000	RCP
Total	$8,663,000

These Proposed Insider Distributions are a small portion of the $180 million to be distributed from Dynamic, AROF and RCP.

⁴ The Distribution Motion also seeks authority to make distributions to Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC. The Committee does not object to such distribution.

The Insider Parties Owe the Debtor Money

7. It is undisputed that James Dondero, Mark Okada, and HCM Services owe the Debtor significant amounts of money. The Debtor's schedule of assets and liabilities [Docket No. 247] discloses that, as of the Petition Date, the Debtor holds notes receivable from (i) James Dondero, in the principle amount of $9,334,012 (the "Dondero Note")⁵; (ii) HCM Services in the aggregate principle amount of $7,482,480.88 (the "HCM Services Notes"), and (iii) Mark Okada, in the principle amount of $1,336,287.84 (the "Okada Note"), and with the Dondero Note and the HCM Services Notes, the "Notes"). The Dondero Note, the Okada Note, and four of the five HCM Services Notes are demand notes, payable upon the request of the Debtor. These Notes should be repaid before the Debtor makes any distributions to these insiders.

The Insider Parties Have Engaged in a Pattern of Fraudulent Activities to the Detriment of Creditors

8. Further, as this Court is well-aware, the Debtor has a documented history of engaging in misconduct, breaches of fiduciary duty and fraudulent transactions in multiple settings, which ultimately led to the commencement of this bankruptcy case. At all relevant times, Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada, as co-founders and executive officers, managed and controlled the Debtor and were ultimately responsible for the Debtor's pattern of misconduct, breaches of fiduciary duty and fraudulent activities.

9. As examples of the extensive misconduct, in 2014, the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") determined (i) that the Debtor knowingly engaged in multiple transactions with its client advisory accounts without disclosing that the Debtor was acting as principal, or obtaining client consent, before the trades were completed, and (ii) that the debtor failed to maintain sufficient documentation with respect to certain transactions. See SEC Order ¶¶ 6-7, In the Matter of Highland Capital Mgmt., L.P., File No. 3-16169 [Docket No. 130. Ex. A]. As established in the Redeemer Committee litigation, the Debtor, under the control of Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada, was found to have covertly and improperly taken $32.3 million in cash out of the a fund for which the Debtor acted as investment manager (the “Crusader Fund”), and was found to have made decisions with the “willful intent” to benefit itself and not the parties to whom the Debtor owed fiduciary duties. An arbitration panel unanimously found that the Debtor, Mr. Dondero, and Highland’s in-house lawyers violated their fiduciary duties to the Crusader Fund, engaged in willful misconduct, self-dealing, and secrecy, and made multiple misrepresentations to the Crusader Fund’s investors as well as the Debtor’s auditors.

10. In the Acis Capital Management bankruptcy case, this Court found that there was a “legitimate prospect” that the Debtor “would continue dismantling [Acis], to the detriment of [Acis] creditors.” In re Acis Capital Mgmt., L.P., 584 B.R. 115, 147, 149 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2018). Following an arbitration award against Acis, Mr. Dondero and other members of the Debtor’s management transferred tens of millions of dollars in assets out of Acis into newly-formed Cayman Islands-based Highland affiliates. Id. at 127-130. This Court ultimately concluded that the “record contain[ed] substantial evidence of both intentional and constructive fraudulent transfers,” and “[t]he numerous prepetition transfers that occurred around the time of and after the Terry Arbitration Award appear[ed] more likely than not to have been made to deprive the Debtor-Acis of value and with the actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud the Debtors’ creditors.” See In re Acis Capital Mgmt., L.P., No. 18-30264, 2019 WL 417149, at *11 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Jan. 31, 2019), aff’d 604 B.R. 484 (N.D. Tex. 2019). In both the Acis bankruptcy case and the Crusader Fund arbitration, the Debtor’s management were found to have manufactured dishonest and illegitimate defenses and provided unreliable and incredible testimony regarding the Debtor's actions.

11. Each of the Insider Parties are closely affiliated with Mr. Dondero and/or the fraudulent actions that led the Debtor to bankruptcy:

- Mark Okada: Mr. Okada is the co-founder of the Debtor, and was the Chief Investment Officer until shortly before the commencement of this chapter 11 case. As Chief Investment Officer, Mr. Okada was responsible for overseeing the Debtor's investment activities across all investment platforms. Mr. Okada was an executive officer of the Debtor (i) when the Debtor was found by the SEC to have engaged in wrongful transactions without disclosing important information to clients, (ii) when the Debtor stripped Acis of its assets – CLO portfolio management contracts – and transferred to them a newly formed Cayman entity, and (iii) when the Debtor engaged in misconduct and breached fiduciary duties with respect to the Crusader Fund. Mr. Okada was the beneficial owner of 25% of Acis Capital Management, L.P. when Mr. Dondero and the Debtor transferred assets away from Acis, and this Court found that Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada were the individuals making decisions for Highland CLO Funding Ltd. (“HCLOF Guernsey”) in connection with the events leading to the Acis bankruptcy litigation.⁶
- HCM Services – As the Debtor disclosed, HCM Services is owned 75% by Mr. Dondero and 25% by Mr. Okada. HCM Services appears to have received its interests in RCP from the Debtor, but the circumstances of such transaction have yet to be fully investigated by the Committee. HCM Services owes the Debtor $7,482,481, of which $900,000 is payable on demand. The Committee understands that Mr. Dondero remains in complete control of HCM Services.
- CLOH – CLOH is an entity owned by Charitable DAF Fund, LP (the “DAF”), which was seeded with contributions from the Debtor; the consideration for such contributions has yet to be fully investigated by the Committee. The DAF is managed and advised by the Debtor, and its trustee is a long-time friend of Mr. Dondero.⁷ The trustee for the DAF has also served as trustee for The Get Good Trust, The Dugaboy Investment Trust, and the SLHC Trust, of which Mr. Dondero

⁶ In re Acis Capital Management, L.P., 2019 WL 417149, at *7, *9 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. January 31, 2019) (observing (i) that Mr. Okada owed 25% of Acis until the day after Mr. Terry obtained his arbitration judgement against Acis, at which point Mr. Okada conveyed his interests in Acis to Neutra, Ltd. for no consideration, and that (ii) Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, and another Highland employee made decisions for HCLOF Guernsey regarding the optional redemptions of the Acis CLOs).

⁷ See In re Acis Capital Management, L.P., 2019 WL 417149, at *6 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. January 31, 2019) (noting that one of the three equity owners of HCLOF Guernsey was the DAF, which was “seeded with contributions from Highland, is managed/advised by Highland, and whose independent trustee is a long-time friend of Highland's chief executive officer, Mr. Dondero” (emphasis in original)).

is a beneficiary. The Distribution Motion discloses that the interests in Dynamic currently held by CLOH were originally held by the Debtor, and were transferred to The Get Good Nonexempt Trust, in exchange for Get Good's interest in a promissory note made by The Dugaboy Investment Trust, and then from Get Good to Mr. Dondero's Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. and then to CLOH. The Distribution Motion does not disclose how or when CLOH obtained its interests in AROF. The Committee is investigating CLOH's relationship to and transactions with Mr. Dondero and other entities controlled by or otherwise benefitting Mr. Dondero.

The Committee is Investigating Claims Against the Insider Parties, Including Transfers the Transfers of the Insider Interest

12. Pursuant to the Term Sheet outlining the agreement between the Debtor and the Committee, the Committee has standing to pursue any and all estate claims and causes of action against Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, other insiders of the Debtor and the Debtor's related entities (which include the DAF and CLOH), "including any promissory notes held by any of the foregoing." [Docket No. 354] This part of the settlement with the Debtor was a critical component of the Committee's agreement to the governance structure in lieu of seeking appointment of a chapter 11 trustee. The Committee has begun its investigation and served document production requests to the Debtor. Among other claims and causes of action, the Committee is investigating potential preferential transfers, fraudulent transfers, breaches of fiduciary duties, usurpation of corporate opportunities, misappropriation of assets, and abuses of the corporate form. The Committee's investigation includes fully exploring the circumstances and transactions through which HCM Services, CLOH and Mr. Okada obtained the Insider Interests.

13. The Debtor's history of self-dealing and improper or fraudulent activities suggests that the Committee's investigation is likely to uncover similar inappropriate activities with respect to the Debtor's assets, including the Insider Interests. The Debtor's statements of financial affairs [Docket No. 248] disclosed that the Debtor made significant payments to affiliates through purported intercompany funding and affiliate loans in the 90 days prior to the filing date, along with significant other insider transfers in the one year before the filing date (including very large expense reimbursement payments to Mr. Dondero). The Committee must have the opportunity to fully investigate the insider and affiliate transactions, including those that gave rise to the Insider Interests, that may be the subject of valuable estate causes of action before transactions distributing funds to those same insiders and affiliates can be consummated.

14. This is all the more true because the evidence is that, even during this bankruptcy case, Mr. Dondero continues to engage in secretive and potentially improper transactions. The Distribution Motion fails to highlight that the MGM Sale was negotiated by Mr. Dondero without the knowledge or approval of Debtor's counsel or the Debtor's financial advisors. Specifically, at the very same time that the Debtor's counsel and financial advisors were attempting to persuade the Committee to approve certain transactions with respect to RCP, Mr. Dondero, unbeknownst to any Debtor professional, committed the Debtor to executing the MGM Sale. The Independent Directors, the Debtor's counsel and the Debtor's CRO and financial advisors were not made aware of the MGM Sale until two months after Mr. Dondero allegedly committed to the transaction on behalf of the Debtor. While the Committee has decided not to object to the MGM Sale itself (based, in significant part, on feedback from the Independent Board regarding its concern about the alleged binding nature of Mr. Dondero's secretive agreement with MGM), the circumstances surrounding Mr. Dondero's negotiation of and entry into the transaction are alarming at best, and the Committee has not waived any rights to fully investigate that transaction and any related potential causes of action against Mr. Dondero or others.

15. In addition to its concern that some or all of the Proposed Insider Distributions may be on account of otherwise avoidable transactions, based upon the Interested Parties' long history of transferring assets and taking other actions to hinder, delay, and defraud creditors, the Committee is also seriously concerned that the Insider Parties will swiftly place these distributions out of reach of the Debtor's estate while refusing to satisfy their obligations to the Debtor. Such actions would jeopardize the estate's ability to recover amounts owed to it and any future judgments against the Insider Parties, and would waste estate resources by forcing the Debtor to incur additional litigation costs to recover such debts and judgments.

II. The Court Has Authority to Direct the Debtor to Withhold the Proposed Insider Distributions

16. The Court “may issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of [the Bankruptcy Code].” 11 U.S.C. § 105(a). “Courts interpret Section 105 liberally.” King Louie Mining, LLC v. Comu (In re Comu), Nos. 09-38820-SGJ-7, 10-03269-SGJ, 2014 Bankr. LEXIS 2969, at *264 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. July 8, 2014) (citing Momentum Mfg. Corp. v. Employee Creditors Committee (In re Momentum Mfg. Corp.), 25 F.3d 1132, 1136 (2d Cir. 1994)). While the Supreme Court has found that section 105(a) does not give the bankruptcy court the ability to take any actions explicitly prohibited by another provision of the Bankruptcy Code, it does grant “extensive equitable powers that bankruptcy courts need in order to be able to perform their statutory duties.” Caesars Entm't Operating Co. v. BOKF, N.A. (In re Caesars Entm't Operating Co.), 808 F.3d 1186, 1188 (7th Cir. 2015) (citing Law v. Siegel, 571 U.S. 415, 420 (2014)). Section 105 has been the source of authority for courts to, among other things, enjoin third parties, substantively consolidate non-debtors, and extend the automatic stay. See e.g., Celotex Corp. v. Edwards, 514 U.S. 300, 303 (1995) (holding that an injunction issued under § 105 was an appropriate use of the court's powers); Alexander v. Compton (In re Bonham), 229 F.3d 750, 769 (9th Cir. 2000) (holding that the court's power to substantively consolidate non-debtors was found in § 105); In re DeLorean Motor Co., 755 F.2d 1223, 1230

(6th Cir. 1985) (holding that a preliminary injunction issued to bar distributions from a non-debtor to third parties was an appropriate use of the court's equitable power under § 105).

17. Temporarily withholding the Proposed Insider Distributions and placing the corresponding funds in segregated accounts is well within the authority of this Court under section 105 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Insider Parties are current and former affiliates and/or insiders of the Debtor and creditors of the Debtor. The order requested by the Committee will allow full investigation of the claims and causes of action against the Insider Parties that was integral to the settlement approved by this Court in connection with approval of the Term Sheet. Furthermore, the Committee submits (and the Debtor has not asserted otherwise) that the relief sought by the Committee would not violate any explicit or implicit requirements of the Bankruptcy Code. Therefore, the Court need only consider the equitable nature of the relief that the Committee seeks, and its appropriateness in the context of furthering the goals of this bankruptcy. See In re Caesars Entm't Operating Co., 808 F.3d at 1188.

18. The equitable argument for temporarily withholding the Proposed Insider Distributions and segregating such funds is straightforward. These actions merely maintain the status quo. The Committee is not requesting that the Debtor effectuate a set-off or take possession of the Proposed Insider Distribution. No party has asserted that any economic harm (much less any significant harm) will be done to the Insider Parties by holding the Proposed Insider Distributions in segregated interest bearing accounts pending further order of this Court. On the other hand, the withholding of the Proposed Insider Distributions (and the resulting leverage that creates against the Insider Parties) may be the only chance for the Debtor to receive any value for the amounts it is owed (or potentially owed) by the Insider Parties or obtaining redress for fraudulent or improper transactions involving those parties, including with respect to the Insider

Interest. As set forth above, the Insider Parties and the persons controlling them have repeatedly engaged in schemes and other behavior designed to evade creditors. It should not surprise this Court to learn that, after making demand for payment on the demand note from Mr. Okada as of February 13th at the urging of the Committee, the Debtor still has yet to receive any payment from Mr. Okada. Absent approval of the Committee's request, the Debtor's efforts to collect from the Insider Parties may be extremely cost intensive and time-consuming. It is fair and equitable for this Court to temporarily prevent money from flowing to the Insider Parties in order to facilitate the Debtor's efforts to recover amounts owed to it. Furthermore, the Committee should be given the opportunity to investigate the propriety of the Debtor's transfers of its interests in the underlying funds to the Insider Parties, including the Insider Interests. Maintaining the status quo until the Committee has investigated those transfers is fair and equitable and falls well within this Court's authority under section 105.

19. Moreover, the relief sought by the Committee would further the goals of this bankruptcy case and would allow the Debtor to fulfill its duties to creditors by maximizing the value of the estate. The Debtor contends, and the Committee does not disagree, that the Debtor has certain contractual and fiduciary duties to the investors in the funds that it manages. The Debtor asserts that those duties compelled the Debtor to file the Distribution Motion. Distribution Motion ¶ 7. The Debtor also has duties to its creditors, however, and the Committee, for the reasons set forth above, asserts that such duties require the Debtor to avoid making the Proposed Insider Distributions at this time. Filing the Distribution Motion should fulfill any duties the Debtor may have to the Insider Parties in respect of the Proposed Insider Distributions. An order from this Court providing that the Proposed Insider Distributions should be temporarily withheld and segregated fully addresses any conflict of duties the Debtor otherwise may have, and would allow the Debtor to more effectively carry out its duty to maximize the value of the estate.

20. Accordingly, the Committee believes that the Court should order the Debtor to withhold and segregate the Proposed Insider Distributions until (i) the Insider Parties repay the Notes that are currently due and payable and (ii) the Committee has an opportunity to fully investigate estate causes of action against such Insider Parties. The Committee does not propose that the Debtor effectuate a setoff or take possession of the Proposed Insider Distributions; rather the Committee requests that the Court order the Debtor to segregate and hold the Proposed Insider Distributions in reserve for a limited period of time in order to avoid the significant prejudice to the estate in allowing cash distributions to be paid to Insider Parties and beneficiaries that owe the Debtor money, and then forcing the estate to spend resources recovering assets from these parties.

WHEREFORE, the Committee respectfully requests that the Court deny the Distribution Motion and direct the Debtor to hold the Proposed Insider Distributions in segregated interest bearing accounts pending further order of the Court.

COUNSEL FOR THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS

I. INTRODUCTION

1. Acis wants the Court to know the whole story. After the Debtor filed for bankruptcy—and after the Debtor filed its initial motion to approve protocols for certain "ordinary course" transactions—James Dondero purportedly entered into a rogue oral trade of $123.25 million in thinly-traded stock of MGM, a private company of which Dondero is on the board of directors, and thus privy to unique information. Upon information and belief, Dondero did so unbeknownst to Debtor's bankruptcy counsel or the newly-installed chief restructuring officer and his staff; however, there is a question whether Debtor's in-house legal team was aware of Dondero's actions. Like so many prior transactions, Dondero was on both sides of the deal. To make things worse, after the purported oral trade, MGM's stock price appreciated significantly in value. Moreover, other Dondero-controlled entities have not sold their pro-rata positions in MGM, calling into question why doing so for this Debtor-controlled fund was in the various stakeholders' best interests, and consequently in the estate's best interests.

2. While the Committee did not ultimately object to the underlying transaction, Acis objected in the strongest terms. This was not an "ordinary course" transaction, and much is to be learned about the circumstances surrounding Dondero's purported $123.25 million oral trade. Even if the trade really happened and was proper, it does not reflect sound business judgment for the Debtor to allow millions of dollars go out the door to insiders when those same insiders will likely owe much, much more to the estate. Rather than authorizing the Debtor to reward Dondero and other insiders for his misfeasance, the Court should sustain the Committee's Objection.

II. RELEVANT FACTS

3. On October 16, 2019, the Debtor filed the above-captioned bankruptcy case (this "Bankruptcy Case").

4. On October 24, 2019, the Debtor filed its Precautionary Motion of the Debtor for Order Approving Protocols for the Debtor to Implement Certain Transactions in the Ordinary Course of Business [Docket No. 76] (the "Initial Protocols Motion"), whereby the Debtor requested that the Court approve certain protocols with respect to "ordinary course" services and intercompany transactions.

5. Also on October 24, 2019, the U.S. Trustee appointed the Committee, of which Acis is a member. See Docket No. 64.

6. In November 2019, as described in the Distribution Motion, prior to the appointment of the Independent Board, "the Debtor requested the Committee's authorization to proceed first with the larger transactions and then solely the MGM Sale, but the Committee rejected both of these transactions." Distribution Motion ¶ 30.

7. Sometime in late November 2019, after the Committee rejected the proposed MGM Sale, and without approval of the Debtor's counsel or financial advisors (or their knowledge), Dondero purportedly orally entered into the clandestine, rogue trade of 1.7 million shares of MGM stock for $123.25 million, or for $72.50 per share. See id. ¶ 29. While Dondero was still controlling the Debtor, he was also on the board of directors of MGM. Upon information and belief, Dondero engaged in this purported trade just after MGM reported earnings, and most likely before the market absorbed the reported earnings.² These circumstances reflect the continuation of Dondero's pattern of flouting his duties in connection with the Debtor or this Bankruptcy Case.

8. As explained by the Committee in its Objection, the Independent Board, Debtor's counsel, and the Debtor's CRO and financial advisors were not made aware of the MGM Sale until over two months after Dondero purportedly committed to the transaction on behalf of the Debtor. Likewise, the MGM Sale was not disclosed to the Committee until February 7, 2020. Id.

9. On January 14, 2020, the Debtor filed its Notice of Final Term Sheet [Docket No. 354] (the "Term Sheet"), which set out proposed terms of a settlement between the Debtor and the Committee related to the Debtor's corporate governance and operating protocols. The next day, on January 15, 2020, the Debtor withdrew the Initial Protocols Motion. See Docket No. 360.

10. On February 21, 2020, the Debtor filed its Notice of Debtor's Amended Operating Protocols [Docket No. 466] (the "Protocols"). Under the Protocols (amended slightly from the Term Sheet), the operating requirements for "Ordinary Course Transactions" (which do not require Court approval) differ significantly from "Related Entity Transactions," which likely do require Court approval if the Committee objects. See Protocols Ex. A at 2-6. Under the Protocols, MGM Holdings, Inc. is specifically defined as a "Related Entity." Id. at 1.

III. JOINDER AND COMMENT

11. Acis expressly joins the Committee's Objection and hereby incorporates the Objection as if set forth in full and for all purposes herein.

A. The Court should not allow Dondero and other Insider Parties to benefit from the rogue MGM Sale by allowing the Debtor to make the Proposed Insider Distributions.

12. The MGM Sale is just a continuation of Dondero's self-dealing—even during this Bankruptcy Case—to enrich himself (or other entities he controls), at the expense of the estate. Now the Debtor seeks "authority" to approve Dondero's misfeasance. At a minimum, it is only proper for this Court to sustain the Committee's Objection and prevent distribution of any of the Proposed Insider Distributions.

13. The MGM Sale continues a familiar pattern. Like many prior transactions, Dondero was on both sides of the MGM Sale. While acting as a director on MGM's board, he was also acting on behalf of the Debtor. Further, even though this transaction required CRO oversight under the proposed protocols (which were contemplated at the time of or soon after the bankruptcy filing), Dondero engaged in the purported rogue MGM Sale without knowledge of the Debtor's counsel or the CRO.

14. Since Dondero entered into this clandestine, rogue trade at $72.50 a share, on information and belief, MGM shares have recently traded in the $90s. Moreover, other Dondero-controlled entities have not sold their pro-rata positions in MGM, which calls into question whether this transaction was in the best interest of the Debtor and the various stakeholders in this Debtor-controlled fund.

15. After the Committee learned of the transaction, Acis strenuously objected to its approval. The Committee nevertheless voted to approve it. Still, by its Objection, the Committee requests that the Court direct the Debtor to withhold any Proposed Insider Distributions until the Insider Parties repay Notes that are currently due and payable to the Debtor and the Committee can fully investigate causes of action against the Insider Parties. Acis joins in this request.

B. The MGM Sale was not in the ordinary course and distributing its proceeds to the Insider Parties is not in the Debtors' sound business judgment.

16. The Debtor first asserts that the Distributions, including those from the MGM Sale, are in the ordinary course pursuant to section 363(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Protocols themselves belie this assertion. The Protocols specifically carve out "Related Entity" Transactions," such as the MGM Sale, from "Ordinary Course Transactions," which do not require Court approval. Now arguing that these Related Entity Transactions should simply be rubber stamped because they are ordinary course under section 363(c) defeats the purpose of Court approval and undermines the Protocols.

17. Alternatively, the Debtor argues that if the Distributions are not ordinary course, they are within the exercise of the Debtor's sound business judgment, and therefore allowed under section 363(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code. See Distribution Motion ¶¶ 56-57.

18. When exercising its business judgment pursuant to section 363(b), the trustee or debtor in possession has a duty to maximize value for the estate and its creditors. See Gluckstadt Holdings, L.L.C. v. VCR I, L.L.C. (In re VCR I, L.L.C.), 922 F.3d 323, 326-27 (5th Cir. 2019) (noting that, under section 363(b), a "trustee as a duty to maximize the value of the estate") (quoting Cadle Co. v. Mims (In re Moore), 608 F.3d 253, 263 (5th Cir. 2010)); ASARCO, Inc. v. Elliott Mgmt. (In re ASARCO, L.L.C.), 650 F.3d 593, 601 (5th Cir. 2011) (affirming the bankruptcy court's finding that the "proposed reimbursement of expenses was designed to maximize the value of [the] estate, and was fair, reasonable, and appropriate").

19. Accordingly, when the Debtor uses property of the estate, which here are the Debtor's contract rights in connection with making the Distributions, outside of the ordinary

JOINDER OF ACIS CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P. AND ACIS CAPITAL MANAGEMENT GP, LLC TO THE COMMITTEE'S OBJECTION TO THE MOTION TO THE DEBTOR FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER AUTHORIZING, BUT NOT DIRECTING, THE DEBTOR TO CAUSE DISTRIBUTIONS TO CERTAIN "RELATED ENTITIES," AND COMMENT TO THE SAME course, the Debtor has a duty maximize value for the estate. As expressed by the Committee in its Objection, it does not reflect sound business judgment for the Debtor to pay millions of dollars in cash distributions to insiders when those same insiders likely owe much more to the estate.

20. As a court of equity, and pursuant to sections 105 and 363 of the Bankruptcy Code, at a minimum this Court should prevent the Debtor from making any Proposed Insider Distributions, as set forth in the Objection, until the Committee has the opportunity to fully investigate estate causes of action against Dondero and other Insider Parties.

IV. PRAYER

Acis respectfully requests that this Court sustain the Committee's Objection and grant Acis such other and further relief to which it may show itself to be justly entitled.

² Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein have the meanings ascribed to them in the Motion.

Related Entities that have invested in Dynamic, AROF, and RCP, as more fully set forth in the Motion, and having heard the statements in support of the relief requested in the Motion at a hearing before this Court (the “Hearing”), the Court finds that (i) the Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334; (ii) the Motion involves a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2); (iii) venue of the Bankruptcy Case in this district is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409; (iv) the relief requested in the Motion is in the best interests of the Debtor’s estate, its creditors, and other parties-in-interest; (v) the Debtor’s notice of the Motion and opportunity for a hearing on the Motion were appropriate under the circumstances and no further or additional notice need be provided; and (vi) the legal and factual bases set forth in the Motion and at the Hearing establish just cause for the relief granted herein.

Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

1. The Motion is GRANTED to the extent set forth in this Order.
2. The Debtor is directed to pay or to cause the payment of:
 - a. the allocable portions of the Dynamic Distribution (i) otherwise payable to CLOH as a deposit into the Court Registry Investment System, administered by the Administrative Office of the United States Courts under 28 U.S.C. § 2045 (the “Court Registry”); (ii) in an amount equal to $1,363,388.69³ (the “Demand Amount”) otherwise payable to Mark Okada to the Debtor on account of the Demand Note;⁴ provided, however, that all amounts otherwise payable to Mark Okada in excess of the Demand Amount will be paid to

⁴ Prior to the Hearing, the Independent Board, through James Seery, Jr., contacted Mark Okada concerning the payment of the Demand Note. Mr. Seery and Mr. Okada discussed Mr. Okada’s repayment of the Demand Note as well as potential defenses that Mr. Okada believed he had to repayment. After the hearing, Mr. Seery continued the discussions and as a result thereof, Mr. Okada agreed to pay the Demand Note from amounts otherwise payable to him from the Dynamic Distribution.

Mark Okada in accordance with the Dynamic Fund Documents; and (iii) otherwise payable to Dynamic GP to the Dynamic GP in accordance with the Dynamic Fund Documents;

b. the allocable portions of the AROF Distribution otherwise payable to CLOH as a deposit into the Court Registry; and

c. the allocable portion of the RCP Distribution otherwise payable to HCM Services as a deposit into the Court Registry.

3. The deposit of the foregoing amounts into the Court Registry will be done in each case in accordance with General Order 2016-03, Order Regarding Deposit and Investment of Registry Funds, entered by the United States Bankruptcy Court of the Northern District of Texas on November 17, 2016 (the “General Order”). For the avoidance of doubt, this Order shall constitute the Court’s express order authorizing the deposit or transfer of funds into the Court Registry as required by the terms of the General Order, and the Clerk of Court shall accept this Order as the requisite order of the Court permitting the deposit or transfer of funds into the Court Registry.

4. The deposit of the foregoing Distributions into the Court Registry and the payment of the Demand Amount to the Debtor will constitute payment of such amounts in each case in accordance with the Dynamic Fund Documents, the AROF Fund Documents, and the RCP Fund Documents, as applicable, and none of the Debtor, the Funds, the applicable governing or managing entity of each of the Funds, or any other party will have any liability to any of CLOH, Mark Okada, HCM Services, or any person that owns or controls CLOH or HCM Services arising out of or from such party’s compliance with this Order.

5. Each of CLOH, and HCM Services may seek the release of the funds deposited into the Court Registry pursuant to this Order in each case in accordance with the General Order.

6. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary and for the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Order shall prevent or otherwise hinder distributions to be made to any other investor in Dynamic, AROF, or RCP, and such distributions may be made in each case in accordance with the Dynamic Fund Documents, the AROF Fund Documents, or the RCP Fund Documents, as applicable.

7. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary and for the avoidance of doubt, this Order does not alter the rights of any parties with respect to the monies deposited into the Court Registry pursuant to this Order.

8. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary and for the avoidance of doubt, all rights of (or on behalf of) the Debtor's estate under the Demand Note are preserved, and all defenses of Mr. Okada under the Demand Note are preserved.

9. Notwithstanding any stay under applicable Bankruptcy Rules, this Order shall be effective immediately upon entry.

10. The Court shall retain jurisdiction over all matters arising from or related to the interpretation and implementation of this Order.

1 THE COURT: -- set a motion of the debtor for entry
2 of an order authorizing but not directing the debtor to cause
3 distributions to certain related entities.

4 Let's get lawyer appearances in the courtroom.

5 MR. POMERANTZ: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Jeff
6 Pomerantz and Greg Demo, Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones, on 7 behalf of the debtors.

8 THE COURT: Thank you.

9 MS. HAYWARD: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Melissa
10 Hayward and Zachary Annable of Hayward & Associates on behalf
11 of the debtor.

12 THE COURT: Thank you.

13 MR. CLEMENTE: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Matthew 14 Clemente, Dennis Twomey, and Penny Reid from Sidley Austin on 15 behalf of the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors.

16 THE COURT: Thank you.

17 MS. SHRIRO: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Michelle
18 Shriro on behalf of CalPERS. And I also have my co-counsel
19 Louis Cisz from Nixon Peabody, and he is -- he should be on the 20 line.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

22 MR. LYNN: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Michel Lynn
23 and John Bonds for James Dundero.

24 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

25 MS. PATEL: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Rakhee

1 Patel, Winstead PC, on behalf of Acis Capital Management, LP,
2 and Acis Capital Management, GP, LLC. Also, I have my co-
3 counsel Mr. Brian Shaw of the Rogge Dunn Firm on behalf of the 4 same clients.

5 THE COURT: Thank you.

6 MR. PLATT: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Mark Platt
7 firm Frost Brown Todd on behalf of the Redeemer Committee of 8 the Highland Crusader Fund. And I believe Terry Mascherin is 9 on the phone, as well --

10 THE COURT: All right.

11 MR. PLATT: -- from Jenner & Block.

12 THE COURT: Thank you.

13 MS. ANDERSON: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Amy
14 Anderson with Jones Walker on behalf of the Issuers. I believe 15 Mr. James Bentley with Schulte Roth is also on the phone on 16 behalf of the same parties.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

18 All right. We do have a large number of people on 19 the phone. I'm just going to go through the live lines and 20 take roll. Asif Attarwalla for UBS, are you there?

21 MR. ATTARWALLA: Here. Yes, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: All right. James Bentley?

23 MR. BENTLEY: Yes, Your Honor. I'm here.

24 THE COURT: Okay. Also Jeff Bjork from Latham?

25 Yes/no?

2 THE COURT: All right. Earnestiena Cheng for FTI?

3 MS. CHENG: Yes, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Okay, thank you. And Louis Cisz, I think
5 we heard he was CalPERS co-counsel. Are you there?

6 MR. CISZ: Yes, I am, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. Kimberly Gianis
8 for Contrarian? Yes/no?

9 (No response)

10 THE COURT: All right. Terry Mascherin, I think we 11 heard he was there for the Redeemer Committee.

12 MR. MASCHERIN: Yes, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Okay. I'll just ask anyone else on the 14 phone who wishes to appear, go ahead at this time.

15 (No response)

16 THE COURT: All right. That may be it.

17 All right. Mr. Pomerantz, I see a 20-minute time
18 estimate on our calendar. I'm not sure where that came from,
19 but that --

20 MR. POMERANTZ: I think that's quite aggressive.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. POMERANTZ: Good afternoon again, Your Honor.

23 Jeff Pomerantz, Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones. First, I want
24 to thank Your Honor for scheduling the hearing on shortened
25 time. I would also like to introduce once again the three

1 members of the independent board who have been appointed
2 pursuant to the settlement, Your Honor, that Your Honor
3 approved on January 9th. That's James Seery, John Dubel, and
4 Russell Nelms.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Hello.

6 MR. POMERANTZ: I thought it might be helpful, Your 7 Honor, to provide Your Honor with a brief background of each
8 board member, how they have been approaching their duties as 9 independent directors, and what the focus has been the first 10 two months of the case. And then I will go into the background
11 of this present motion.

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MR. POMERANTZ: James Seery will be the debtor's
14 witness at today's hearing, and he's a 30-year restructuring
15 lawyer with extensive experience with high-yield and distressed
16 investing both as a principal and manager which is precisely
17 the business in which the debtors operate. He is an attorney 18 licensed to practice in New York who has passed and held the 19 Series 7, 63, 79, SIE and Series 24 FINRA principal
20 designations.

21 From April 2012 to 2017, he was the president and 22 senior investing manager of RiverBirch Capital. And RiverBirch
23 is an SEC-registered investment advisor managing a $1.3 billion
24 global long short fund that focused on high yield loans, bonds,
25 CLOs, and distressed investments. Prior to that, Mr. Seery

1 spent ten years as a senior high yield manager at Lehman
2 Brothers, and he was the global head of Lehman Brothers fixed-
3 income loan business.

4 Accordingly, Mr. Seery brings to his role as an
5 independent director a unique combination of a legal 6 background, restructuring experience, and a deep knowledge of 7 the highly regulated business in which the debtor operates.

8 Mr. Dubel brings 35 years' practice in the 9 restructuring area. His experience includes turnaround
10 management, crisis management, operational restructurings, and 11 corporate acquisitions and divestitures. He's worked at both 12 sides of the table, both on the company side and other side.
13 And he brings a unique perspective to each situation, and he 14 spent the last ten years being an independent director for a
15 wide range of distressed companies including Purdue Pharma
16 which obviously is the newest in current Chapter 11, WMC
17 Mortgage, Wartaco (phonetic), FXI, and ResCap.

18 And as an independent board member, he's played a 19 principle role in overseeing management, negotiating with 20 creditors, supervising and investigating resolution, either
21 consensually or through litigation of insider and affiliate
22 claims, and also spearheading reorganization efforts.

23 I'm sure Your Honor is familiar with Russell Nelms
24 but briefly he was a distinguished bankruptcy litigator with 25 Carrington Coleman for 20 years which followed a stint of six

1 years as a United States Army judge advocate, and also he sat
2 with the bankruptcy court here in Fort Worth from 2004 to 2018.

3 Your Honor, these individuals bring a complementary 4 skill set to the independent board that have made them uniquely
5 qualified to manage the debtor's restructuring efforts in this
6 case, that bring a combination of sophisticated asset
7 management experience, financial restructuring, a legal 8 insolvency background, and judicial experience. They've been 9 involved in many cases on all sides of the aisle, whether it's 10 been alleged wrongdoing or questionable conduct with people
11 they've ever had to supervise as a board member, advise as a 12 restructuring lawyer, work with as a financial advisor, or 13 administer their cases as a judge.

14 Mr. Seery and Dubel were selected by the Committee
15 not only because of their relevant expertise but because of 16 their commitment to independence and ability to stand up to 17 strong personalities that exist on all sides of this case. Mr.
18 Nelms, while originally identified by the debtor, was scheduled
19 by the Committee, and was ultimately chosen to be the third 20 board member by Mr. Seery and Dubel from a group of highly-21 qualified candidates.

22 Your Honor, I provide this background to stress that 23 the independent board consists of individuals whose background
24 and experience speak to their independence, experience, and 25 strength, and who take their job seriously to do what they

1 believe is right for this debtor, and they're not bring
2 influenced by any party in this case, be that the debtor, Jim
3 Dondero, members of the management committee, members of the 4 debtor's management, or the creditors' committee. The 5 reputations of each of these gentlemen at are stake in a case
6 like this, and they take their attendance very seriously.

7 Upon taking over on January 9th, 2020, the board
8 quickly made a few observations about the current circumstances
9 that have guided their actions today. First, the board
10 understood that the debtor was where it was in part due to many 11 years of intense litigation arising out of sometimes aggressive
12 management decisions or failure to settle certain employee
13 disputes and that the litigation led to cost and diversion of 14 time and energy for what the debtor did best which was manage
15 assets.

16 The board concluded that for case to succeed, the 17 board would have to chance the culture from one of litigation
18 to reconciliation and consensus building. It doesn't mean that 19 the debtor will back down from defending itself from claims
20 that it doesn't believe are legitimate but rather the 21 litigation that the company under their watch would be involved
22 in would need to be carefully vetted by the independent board,
23 outside advisors, and the results of which would guide the 24 board's conduct.

25 The board's focus has and continues to be operating

1 the debtor's business in accordance with its obligations of 2 their debtor in possession in conformance with its statutory,
3 contractual, and fiduciary obligations as an investment
4 advisor. By scrupulously meeting its obligations as an 5 investment advisor, the debtor will continue to enhance the 6 asset management business and avoid the litigation that 7 contributed to this case.

8 Second, the board understood the relationship between 9 the debtor's largest creditors and senior management had 10 materially deteriorated and that there was severe lack of trust
11 that creditors had with respect to management. The board
12 initially determined, has determined to continue retaining the 13 services of senior management because it believes that their 14 historical background and deep knowledge of the debtor's assets
15 provide material value to the estate. However, the board's 16 decisions thus far have and will continue to be based upon 17 their independent review of the facts and circumstances and 18 based upon consultation with outside advisors as appropriate.

19 Third, the board believe that a lengthy stay in 20 Chapter 11 only would serve to erode asset value while at the 21 same time leading to extensive restructuring costs. The Court
22 and the board developed a timeline that will hopefully lead to 23 a confirmed plan at the end of the year.

24 Against this backdrop, the board is focused on the 25 following things the first two months of the case. Initially,

1 the board met with all department heads and other members of
2 senior management including Mr. Dondero and let them know that
3 the board was now in charge and that all business decisions
4 needed to be run by the board subject to the board delegating
5 authority as it deemed appropriate.

6 The board has had several calls with the committee
7 and its professionals to discuss among other things the board's
8 initial determination as to staffing levels and employee
9 compensation, time-sensitive transactions that needed the 10 committee's input under the Court's approved operating 11 protocols, and the proposed timeline for achieving 12 restructuring. There is an in-person meeting scheduled next 13 week in New York City between all the committee members and 14 their professionals and the debtor and their professionals.

15 Members of the board have also reached out to 16 individual committee members and have had or will have meetings
17 with them to understand their specific concerns with the debtor
18 and to importantly have a dialogue about the claims they have 19 against the debtor, as resolving the claims against the debtor
20 is a key part of achieving a consensual restructuring in this
21 case.

22 The debtor's asset basis is also extremely complex,
23 and the board has worked hard to get a grasp on how best to 24 maximize their value. The board has analyzed the debtor's
25 liquidity needs and worked with the debtor's chief

1 restructuring officer to develop a 13-week cash flow and
2 otherwise address how to enhance liquidity. The board has also
3 conducted a thorough review of the debtor's employee basis,
4 including performance reviews and address ongoing staffing and
5 compensation in a manner that the board believes will sustain
6 the debtor's business operations and maximize value.

7 Related to the motion before the Court, the board has 8 evaluated the status of certain funds which were in the process
9 of being wound down at the commencement of the case and has 10 supervised their wind-down in a manner consistent with the 11 debtors' fiduciary, statutory, contractual liabilities. The 12 board has also commissioned outside counsel to provide an 13 independent analysis of the significant litigation claims that 14 are facing the debtor. And as I mentioned, the board
15 anticipates engaging with these creditors to seek a resolution.

16 The board is acutely aware that resolving 17 consensually claims of creditors and claims the estate has 18 against third parties is the only way to restructure this
19 debtor efficiently and economically. I'll now turn Your Honor
20 to the background with respect to the motion, explain the 21 relief requested, and address the two objections that are 22 before the Court.

23 Your Honor will hear testimony from Mr. Seery that 24 the debtor is the asset manager of two hedge funds, Dynamic and 25 ARF, that are in liquidation because of redemption requests

1 from large non-affiliated investors that render the funds
2 economically not viable. The term of the third fund, which is
3 a private equity fund, Restoration Capital expired, and the 4 governing board comprised of large institutional pension funds
5 has refused to grant further extensions.

6 Mr. Seery will testify that while these wind-downs
7 were already in process and fully disclosed to the Court prior
8 to the installation of the independent board, the board
9 evaluated the decision to wind down the funds independently of 10 the debtor's decision and decided that the prudent exercise of 11 the debtor's business judgment was to continue with the wind-
12 down. Neither the committee nor Acis challenge the board's 13 selection to continue with the wind-down.

14 You will hear testimony from Mr. Seery that a 15 priority of the independent board was to make sure that the 16 debtor operated in accordance with applicable law to ensure 17 that the debtor fills its obligations to investors and doesn't 18 act or fail to act in a manner which could expose the debtor to 19 liability. After all, as I mentioned, Your Honor, a material
20 reason why the debtor is before the Court is because of 21 litigation claims that have plagued it over the last several 22 years.

23 Mr. Seery will testify that in evaluating the 24 debtor's duties and obligations as an asset manager of these 25 three funds, the board consulted with bankruptcy counsel with

1 respect to the applicability of the operated protocols and 2 domestic and Cayman counsel specializing in advising funds with 3 respect to their obligations under the transactional documents,
4 the Advisors Act, and general fiduciary duty obligations.

5 Tim Silva, a partner of WilmerHale, the debtor's
6 outside firm that provides fund advice, is present in the 7 courtroom and will be available to answer any questions the 8 Court or the parties have. Dennis Olarou, a partner with Carey
9 Olsen, is on the phone. He is the debtor's Cayman counsel and 10 also available.

11 Importantly, Mr. Seery will testify that the 12 independent board made the decisions that led to the filing of 13 this motion based upon their own expertise and the advise of 14 outside counsel and did not rely on the advice of the debtor's
15 employees or any of the related parties.

16 He will further testify that based upon the input of 17 outside counsel, the independent board concluded, one, that the 18 operating documents governing the funds did not permit the 19 debtor to unilaterally withhold distributions from some 20 investors and not others; that, two, the debtor risked 21 breaching its fiduciary duty to investors under principles of 22 common law if it withheld distributions on its own; and that,
23 three, the debtor risked liability under the Advisors Act if it
24 essentially attempted to use its position as an investment
25 manager to gain leverage against investors in connection with

1 an unrelated matter, to wit, potential claims that the estate
2 may have.

3 The motion describes in detail the nature and extent
4 of the debtor's obligations, and I think the substance of that
5 is not challenged by either the Committee or Acis. I didn't
6 read their objections to challenge that the debtor has these 7 obligations and seeks to fulfill them.

8 Based upon the foregoing and to make sure that the 9 debtor didn't expose itself to liability, Mr. Seery will 10 testify that the board decided that it was obligated to 11 exercise its authority as asset manager to distribute the funds
12 to all investors. After consultation with the bankruptcy
13 counsel, Mr. Seery will testify that the independent board
14 decided to provide the Committee with notice prior to making
15 such distributions as were required by the operating protocols
16 approved as part of the settlement.

17 The Committee objected to the distributions which led 18 to the filing of this motion. The objections relate to 19 distributions to be made as follows. Mr. Seery will testify
20 that Dynamic proposes to distribute $35 million of investor
21 funds that are held by Dynamic of which CLO Holdco stands to 22 receive $872,000 and Mr. Okada stands to receive $4,176,000.

23 With respect to ARF, Mr. Seery will testify that they 24 propose to distribute $22 million of investor funds held by 25 ARF. HoldCo stands to receive $1.5 million. And with respect

1 to Restoration Capital Partners, it proposes to distribute
2 $123,250,000 of which 2.1 million will be received by ACM
3 Services and, importantly, the debtor will receive 18 and a
4 half million dollars, the balance of approximately 121 million
5 would be distributed to non -- or 103 million would be 6 distributed to non-related parties, including CalPERS which 7 filed the statement with the Court.

8 The Committee and Acis argue that the Court should 9 prohibit the debtor from making distributions to related
10 parties, notwithstanding the debtor has contractual, fiduciary,
11 statutory obligations to do so as an asset manager. It is 12 important for the Court to understand that the money to be paid
13 to these related parties is not the debtor's money, it's not 14 property of the estate. It's actually funds that are the 15 investors' funds that were invested in these various funds.

16 Essentially, the Committee argues and Acis argues
17 that because the debtor may assert claims against some of all
18 of these related parties at some time in the future, the Court
19 should prohibit the debtor from authorizing the distribution of 20 non-debtor estate funds. Essentially as we said in our papers,
21 the objectors are asking this Court to issue a pre-judgment
22 writ of attachment adjoining these distributions without the 23 filing of any complaint which would assert causes of action,
24 without the need to satisfy applicable standards for a pre-
25 judgment writ either under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 64

1 estate law, and without appropriate notice to the parties and
2 an opportunity to object.

3 The objectors want to use the debtor's position as an
4 asset manager to stop distribution of funds in which the debtor
5 has no interest to gain a potential litigation advantage
6 against these related parties. The debtor just submits that is 7 not appropriate. The Committee and Acis spent a lot of time in 8 their papers talking about the allegations and in some estate
9 case findings against the debtor's prior management relating to 10 the operation of the debtor's business, some of which have 11 matured into claims against the estate.

12 However, the fact that the debtor's actions taken by 13 prior management led to claims against the debtor is not
14 legally relevant as to whether the debtor should be permitted
15 to make these distributions of non-estate funds. Allegations
16 of prior wrongdoing would not be sufficient in the context of a 17 pre-judgment attachment, and it should not form the basis for 18 essentially the injunctive relief the Committee and Acis urge 19 to the Court.

20 The Committee also argues that because the 21 Committee's currently investigating claims against the released
22 parties and other insiders that the distribution should be held 23 up essentially indefinitely until the Committee completes its 24 investigation. Whether or not the estate has claims against 25 the related parties and insiders is unknown at this point

1 except for the notes which I will address in a moment.

2 Also, whether or not there are claims and how the 3 related parties acquired their investment in the funds is also 4 unknown at this time. Since January 9th, the Committee has had 5 standing to investigate and prosecute these claims and the 6 debtor is cooperating with the Committee in its investigation.
7 If legitimate claims exist, they should most certainly be 8 prosecuted, and the independent board will cooperate with the 9 Committee in its efforts.

10 However, at this point other than with respect to the 11 notes, there is no admissible evidence that any claims exist,
12 and no claims have been clearly articulated other than some 13 vague allegations of fraudulent conveyance, breach of fiduciary 14 duty, the garden variety of claims you would expect to be 15 asserted in a case like this. Again, no bankruptcy court, no
16 non-bankruptcy court would be authorized to enjoin payments on 17 the basis of these vague and unasserted claims, and the Court
18 shouldn't accept the invitation to do so wither.

19 The Committee also points to certain demand notes
20 executed by Jim Dondero, Mark Okada, and ACM Services in favor
21 of the debtor as a basis for withholding the distributions.
22 The debtor has made a demand on Mr. Okada to pay back the note, 23 and he has asserted that he may have potential offsets and the 24 nature of potential service obligations and expense
25 reimbursements allegedly owed to. At some point in time, we

1 suspect those issues will be resolved either consensually or 2 there will be litigation to recover the demand.

3 ACM Services which is owned 75 percent by Mr. Dondero
4 and 25 percent by Mr. Okada, executed several notes in favor of 5 the debtor of which 850,000 are demand notes. The total amount
6 is approximately seven and a half million. The remaining notes
7 are current and have been paid down over the years.

8 The debtor has not made demand on ACM Services for 9 payment of the notes, nor have they made demand on Mr. Dondero
10 for payment of the notes he issued in favor of the debtor. Mr.
11 Seery will testify that the reason for that is that, as I
12 indicated before, the board recognizes that in order for there 13 to be a consensual restructuring in this case, it's going to 14 involve not only resolution with the creditors and their claims
15 but also resolution with Mr. Dondero or potential claims the 16 estate has.

17 The independent board at this early stage in the case
18 does not believe that commencement of an adversary proceeding
19 against Mr. Dondero at this time is in their best interest. If 20 this case turns into a litigation case, and as Your Honor
21 experienced previously, then such litigation will be commenced.
22 However, until the board has the opportunity to try to forge a 23 consensual resolution, aggressive action is premature. The 24 last thing, Your Honor, CLO Holdco is not a party to any demand
25 notes.

1 THE COURT: Let me stop you.

2 MR. POMERANTZ: Sure.

3 THE COURT: You mentioned dollars on the notes. The 4 note receivable from Okada I think is 1.3 million.

5 MR. POMERANTZ: With credentials, yes.

6 THE COURT: And then you mentioned roughly seven and 7 a half million of notes receivable from HCM Services.

8 MR. POMERANTZ: Of which 950 are demand notes. The 9 rest are currently before me in accordance with the terms.

10 THE COURT: Okay. You didn't mention a dollar amount
11 on the note receivable from Dondero. My notes show 9.3
12 million.

13 MR. POMERANTZ: Yeah, and so I think that's around
14 that --

15 THE COURT: Is that a demand note or notes?

16 MR. POMERANTZ: That is a demand note and then the 17 related party notes, yes --

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. POMERANTZ: -- Your Honor. And, again, we're now
20 the board knows, fully aware. The board could have commenced a 21 lawsuit. Honestly, Your Honor, the Committee could have 22 commenced a lawsuit in the last two months. I suspect the 23 Committee also would like to see a consensual restructuring.

24 And I think parties are taking the view of, again,
25 this can be a litigation case which would be like a lot of

1 money for all the professionals, not really do all that well
2 for the creditors. Or the parties could cooperatively work
3 towards a restructuring to see based upon the leverage, based 4 upon the claims everyone has that it makes more sense. And the 5 board's determination, again, made on its own coming into this
6 case in the last two months is that proceeding aggressively now
7 just does not make sense.

8 Even though it has not commenced any litigation
9 against the related parties nor presented any evidence of any 10 claims against the related parties, the Committee asks this
11 Court to use its equitable powers under Section 105 to enjoin
12 the distribution again of non-estate funds to the related
13 parties. Your Honor, bankruptcy court -- bankruptcy
14 practitioners in certain cases love to use 105, assert 105. My 15 experience has been when you assert 105 and that's all you
16 assert 105, it really means you don't have much authority and I
17 think that's the case here.

18 The courts have held that 105 is not -- grant the 19 court authority to be a roving commission to do equity because 20 it has to be tethered to something in the Bankruptcy Code.
21 Here the proper way for the Committee to obtain the relief they 22 sought was to file a complaint and seek pre-judgment remedy,
23 either an attachment under Rule 64 or an attachment under 24 applicable provisions of Texas law or other applicable law, or 25 an injunction under FRCP 65.

1 The debtor would not stand in the way if the
2 Committee decided to do that. That's what the debtor bargained
3 for. They gave the Committee the authority to do that. The 4 Committee has not yet done that. And the Court should just not
5 allow the debtor -- the Committee to use the debtor's position
6 as fiduciary to its investors as leverage. That's what's 7 really happening. The only reason we're here is because the 8 debtor is the asset manager of these other funds, and the 9 Committee and Acis want the debtor to use that leverage and 10 somehow to gain an advantage.

11 Your Honor, we would submit that the fiduciary duty
12 of the estate is to act in accordance with its obligations, and 13 that's the primary fiduciary duty and that the creditors are 14 best served if the company complies with its obligations and 15 doesn't expose the estate to any liability.

16 Lastly, Your Honor, I want to address the Committee
17 and Acis's allegations regarding the circumstances surrounding 18 the sale of the MGM shares, the proceeds of which the debtors
19 intend to use to distribute as part of the RCP fund. Whether 20 or not Mr. Dondero's authorized to make that trade, it's really 21 irrelevant to the issues before the Court. The independent 22 board first learned about the trade only a few weeks ago, and 23 the independent board -- and, again, this happened back in 24 November, two months before the independent board took over.
25 They promptly investigated the circumstances around the trade,

1 engaged counsel to advise whether it was binding and,
2 importantly, evaluated whether the trade was a sound exercise
3 in the debtor's business judgment at that time.

4 The board concluded that the trade was binding and 5 that it in fact was a good trade as of November 2019 and 6 disclosed that information to the Committee and engaged the 7 Committee in a dialogue to discuss the options that the debtor
8 had with respect to that trade. The Committee, while I
9 understand was not unanimous, ultimately agreed with the 10 independent board that it was in the debtor's best interest to 11 consummate that trade. While we understand that the Committee
12 and Acis may want to investigate the circumstances surrounding 13 that trade to determine whether the estate has any colorable
14 claims that could be asserted, that doesn't provide a basis for 15 enjoying the distribution of the funds.

16 Moreover, the allegation in Acis papers that Mr.
17 Dondero used his position on the board of MGM to facilitate the 18 trade so that ACM Services could receive $2.1 million of 123
19 and $250,000 sale, it just lacks and factual support. And, in 20 fact, Mr. Dondero has steadfastly encouraged the investment
21 board not to sell the MGM shares because he believes they will 22 continue to appreciate and the estate and its creditors would 23 be benefitted thereby.

24 The reason that the RCP shares were sold is as I
25 mentioned before, the RCP, the term of that private equity fund

1 expired. No more extensions were given, and the debtor as a
2 fiduciary and as an asset manager needed to liquidate the
3 assets in that estate which included the shares. But, again,
4 if there are claims surrounding how that happened, we 5 understand there's concern that the creditors have about the 6 circumstances, they can investigate them and the independent
7 board will surely cooperate with such investigation.

8 In conclusion, Your Honor, this independent board was 9 installed because of its independence and sophistication in 10 managing a business as complex as the debtor's. As you will 11 hear in the testimony, the independent board has been 12 thoughtful and thorough in its approach to the issues raised by 13 this motion and is trying to manage the debtor in a responsible 14 way to maximize value and prevent the estate from incurring any 15 liability. The independent board understands and shares the 16 Committee's and Acis's decision to hold other parties
17 accountable for any liability they have against the debtor
18 arising out of conduct that occurred pre- or post-bankruptcy.
19 But trying to use the debtor's role as an independent asset
20 manager and fiduciary duty to investors is inappropriate and 21 create risks for the estate.

22 For these reasons, Your Honor, the debtor
23 respectfully requests that the Court approve the motion and 24 overrule the objections.

25 THE COURT: All right, thank you. Other opening

1 statements, Mr. Clemente?

2 MR. CLEMENTE: Yes, Your Honor. You actually touched
3 on a question that I had. I assume I have more fulsome
4 comments that I had anticipated making after testimony, but so
5 I would reserve the opportunity to do that. It was quite a
6 lengthy opening there, so I didn't know whether there was going 7 to be the opportunity for that after testimony, but --

8 THE COURT: Certainly.

9 MR. CLEMENTE: -- I certainly want to reserve that.
10 Thank you, Your Honor.

11 So I do have some opening remarks prepared, but I'm 12 going to react a little bit to what I just heard. I and the 13 Committee do not dispute the credentials of the board. We 14 obviously were involved in choosing them. I heard a lot about 15 the duty to, quote/unquote, investors. I don't think I heard a
16 word about the duty to the creditors and to the estate. And I
17 think it's important when thinking about the investors that Mr.
18 Pomerantz keeps referring to, the Committee is not talking 19 about the legitimate third party investors, the CalPERS. The 20 Committee is talking about the very people that were in charge
21 of this debtor while breaches of fiduciary duty were rampant
22 and their related entities that resulted in the filing of this
23 bankruptcy case.

24 And I find it a little bit rich, Your Honor, that 25 their debtor is using the duty to investors to include third

1 parties to try and come in here and passionately argue that
2 distribution should be made at this time to these insider
3 parties without a word at all about why it may actually be in 4 the creditors' best interest or this estate's best interest to 5 not make those distributions at this time. So those were a
6 couple of comments that struck me as I was listening to what
7 Mr. Pomerantz said.

8 But let me be clear, Your Honor, as Your Honor is 9 aware the debtor is in bankruptcy because of the documented and 10 egregious breaches of fiduciary duties and contractual
11 obligations to its creditors and its propensity for fraudulent
12 and litigious conduct as documented. Mr. Dondero and until 13 recently Mr. Okada dominated all aspects of the debtor and 14 controlled all of its decision-making, including the decision-
15 making that led various tribunals, including this Court, to 16 conclude that the debtor had breached its fiduciary duty,
17 engaged in fraudulent conduct, and employed persons who are not
18 credible and not truthful.

19 Against this backdrop, Your Honor, the debtor wants
20 to make distributions to investors, again, the investors we're 21 talking about here are Mr. Okada, and entities owned and/or 22 controlled by Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada without regard 23 apparently because I didn't hear anything about that to the 24 interest of creditors under the rubric of a fiduciary duty that 25 is supposedly owed to those insider parties, the same insider

1 parties, Your Honor, who were found to have breached the duties
2 to the creditors of this estate or to the investors which then
3 resulted in them becoming creditors of this estate and led to 4 the bankruptcy.

5 Your Honor, I think the irony is fairly thick, and I
6 don't think the Court should allow the distributions at this
7 time. These insider parties, and I'm glad Mr. Pomerantz
8 mentioned it to you because their papers did not mention the 9 notes that were owed, they owe the debtor millions of dollars.
10 The numbers that Your Honor read are just the direct notes
11 among those parties. They do not include the notes that are 12 owed by, for example, affiliated entities of Mr. Dondero. So
13 those numbers are even larger than what Mr. Pomerantz suggested
14 to Your Honor.

15 Second, as the debtors do finally disclose in their 16 papers, the insider parties receive certain of the insider
17 interests from the debtor pursuant to transactions that were 18 only recently disclosed to the Committee and not have been 19 examined by the Committee. So in many of the circumstances, 20 the very interests that are giving rise to the basis for these 21 distributions once belonged to the debtor.

22 Third, obviously, the insider parties are the focus
23 of the Committee's ongoing investigation of the estate causes
24 of action, and that's entirely appropriate given the long
25 history and the findings made by this Court and others

1 regarding the behavior of this debtor prior to the bankruptcy.

2 Your Honor, instead of allowing the distributions to 3 be made, the Court should direct that the distributions that
4 the debtor seeks to make to the insider parties to be placed
5 into a segregated interest-bearing account pending the 6 resolution of potential claims against the insider parties
7 including the collection of notes owed by the insider parties
8 and the investigation into the validity of the insider
9 interests.

10 If the insider parties have an issue with this,
11 obviously, they can come before Your Honor, perhaps they'll 12 come before Your Honor today, and explain to you why what is 13 being proposed is unfair to them or why despite the 14 circumstances surrounding this case, the rampant breaches of 15 fiduciary duty, the questionable transactions, and the 16 existence of the notes they owe the debtor they should receive
17 those distributions now. And we can do that after a fulsome
18 discovery of those parties, a fulsome record, full opportunity
19 to brief.

20 I believe, the Committee believes this is a very
21 sensible proposal, and it would seem to serve all interests.
22 The interests of the estate would be protected. Let's talk
23 about those. Obviously, we're more likely to recover on the 24 notes and any potential claims, including claims that the 25 insider interests were inappropriately obtained.

1 Mr. Pomerantz referred to the word "leverage."
2 Again, it's the estate, the estate should be thinking about how
3 it can actually collect on its claims and notes. So the word
4 "leverage" I don't think is appropriate here. It just seems
5 sensible. The interest of the insider parties would also be 6 protected. The money will be placed in a segregated account,
7 and the status quo would be preserved. And legitimate third
8 party investors, we are all fully in support of the legitimate
9 third party investors receiving their distributions. We've 10 never had an issue with that, Your Honor.

11 Mr. Pomerantz referred to the authority, Section 105.
12 I do believe the Court has ample authority under Section 105 of 13 the Bankruptcy Code to order the relief requested by the 14 Committee. Obviously, Section 105 is broad and, as we'll 15 discuss further later, it's been interpreted by this Court and 16 other courts to apply very broadly and in circumstances similar 17 to this.

18 Additionally, Your Honor, although I do not believe
19 105 needs to be tethered, I believe is the word that was used,
20 to other sections of the Code. I do believe that other
21 sections of the Code are implicated as the relief the Committee
22 requests impacts property of the estate which includes the 23 notes and potential claims against the insider parties as well
24 as the rights and obligations of the debtor under the various 25 contracts that Mr. Pomerantz referred to.

1 So, we have 105. If we need to tether it to
2 something, we can tether it to 541 and we can tether it to 363.
3 What we're asking the Court to do impacts property of the 4 estate, impacts the rights and obligations of the debtor.

5 Finally, Your Honor, there was a long discussion or 6 somewhat of a discussion about the fact that the Committee has
7 not sought a preliminary injunction or has not filed claims
8 against the insider parties. First, again, I believe Section
9 105 gives the Court the authority that it needs to provide the 10 relief. Second, the Court has the flexibility should it choose
11 to construe or find it necessary to construe our objection as a 12 request for a preliminary injunction and the request satisfies
13 that standard.

14 Third, Your Honor, this has been an expedited process
15 initiated by the debtor. If this Court believes that other or 16 further proceedings or processes are necessary or appropriate,
17 the Court should allow the parties the time for that. We 18 agreed to an expedited motion practice under the protocols.
19 That's a fact. The protocols cover a variety of circumstances 20 designed with the exigencies of the debtor's business in mind,
21 not designed with trying to speed distributions to Dondero,
22 Okada, and the insider parties. There simply is no exigencies
23 surrounding that, and the Committee should not be prejudiced if 24 this Court believes a further or other procedural vehicle is 25 necessary.

1 And a moment, Your Honor, on the investigation, as 2 Your Honor is aware the insider parties have dominated the 3 debtor for years. Only recently January 9th the Committee has 4 gotten the ability to investigate. And to date, we've been 5 doing that. I do dispute what Mr. Pomerantz said about the 6 debtor's cooperation. I believe that they've used words to 7 that effect but we've not gotten the documents that we need.
8 This is a complicated enterprise as Your Honor is aware. It's 9 unrealistic to think that we would be in a position to bring 10 claims against insider parties at this particular time in the 11 case. And we cannot be prejudiced by saying we should have 12 completed our investigation and had brought claims every time
13 the debtor thinks it should make a distribution to Mr. Dondero
14 or one of its related entities.

15 And so, Your Honor, to sum up, we think that the most 16 logical solution here and frankly the one that I assume the 17 debtor would have agreed with me on would be to come to this 18 Court, allow the distributions to be made to all the third
19 party investors, to withhold the distributions to the related 20 parties while the investigation occurs, while the notes are 21 settled, and while the Committee determines and the Court may 22 perhaps ultimately determine whether the interest that gave 23 rise to those distributions were in fact appropriately with 24 those parties.

25 Instead, we're here talking about duties owed to,

1 quote/unquote, the investors without considering what it is
2 that's owed to these creditors and to this estate. And with
3 that, Your Honor, we would ask that the motion be denied or 4 however you'd look at it but that the relief we noticed in our
5 paper be ordered by Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Let me follow up and make sure I
7 understand a couple of things. You've said a couple of times
8 that it's just the distributions that would go to related 9 investors, Mark Okada, CLO Holdco, HCM Services. And I got the 10 impression from your pleadings as well as your oral statements
11 that the Committee is not challenging in any way the decision
12 to wind down these three funds, if you will. You know, my 13 reading of the pleadings was November 2019, you know, less than 14 a month after the bankruptcy was filed or about a month after 15 the bankruptcy was filed, you know, there were significant 16 redemptions. In the face of significant redemptions, the 17 debtor decided it was appropriate to wind these down.

18 Is that going to be the subject of evidence and 19 testimony today? Is the Committee at all concerned about how 20 that all played out, whether it was legitimate unaffiliated
21 investors seeking redemption or if it was by chance insider
22 investors?

23 MR. CLEMENTE: No, Your Honor. The Committee is not 24 challenging the wind-down as I believe you're referring to. We 25 are not doing that, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Okay. And this may be one instance where 2 it's kind of hard for me to separate what happened in the 3 related case of Acis versus this where we had all of a sudden
4 we don't want Acis to, you know, manage these in that case CLOs
5 anymore until redemptions were happening.

6 MR. CLEMENTE: I understand, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: And the business judgment of that --
8 well, it's complicated, right.

9 MR. CLEMENTE: I completely understand.

10 THE COURT: It was, in the end of the day, depriving
11 Acis debtor of management fees. Same thing is happening here, 12 right? Highland is being deprived of management fees by the 13 wind-down of these three funds, but you're not challenging the 14 business judgment of the --

15 MR. CLEMENTE: That is correct, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: -- whole process of the redemptions
17 period?

18 MR. CLEMENTE: That is correct, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Okay.

20 MR. CLEMENTE: There is a pot of funds sitting in 21 those funds, and there is a pot of funds sitting in RCP --

22 THE COURT: It was a legitimate non-affiliated 23 entity's --

24 MR. CLEMENTE: We're not challenging it, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MR. CLEMENTE: What we are challenging obviously is
2 now the distribution of those funds to the related entities.
3 That's where we take issue with it at this particular moment in
4 time.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 All right. Who else wishes to make an opening
7 statement? I know Acis had a joinder or a slightly different
8 objection, I think.

9 MS. PATEL: Yes, Your Honor. Good afternoon.
10 Again, Rakhee Patel on behalf of Acis. And I'll address Your 11 Honor's question first. Acis has concerns about the wind-down
12 of these funds. I'll just clear with respect to it. And Your 13 Honor referenced, you know, perhaps we need to separate what 14 happened in the Acis case and whether that's happening here or 15 not.

16 Your Honor, I'm not sure from Acis's perspective that 17 we don't object to the wind-down of these funds. We just 18 frankly don't have enough information to kind of take a 19 position with respect to that whether these funds should be 20 wound down. But the fact of the matter is is in the lead-in 21 into this motion -- and this is sort of the source and subject
22 of Acis's additional objection and not just plain vanilla
23 joinder and with the Committee -- is is that the transactions
24 happened. The sale of the stock has happened. So whether it's 25 in connection with the wind-down of the funds or whether it's

1 just a sale, it's happened now.

2 So I'm not sure that we can unring that bell, but
3 Acis's whole point and as we sort of set out in our joinder and 4 our separate comment or objection was, Your Honor, the light of 5 day needs to be cast on this transaction as a whole and we need
6 to be talking about it that the transaction needs to be 7 discussed here in open court. And, frankly, the entire 8 creditor body needs to have and the Court needs to have 9 transparency with respect to that.

10 So to that point, Your Honor, the debtor filed the 11 motion to approve the distributions of the proceeds from the 12 sale in accordance with the procedures approved as part of the 13 broader settlement motion that Your Honor heard in January.
14 Now the debtor incredibly takes the position that this Court
15 and the creditors are effectively powerless to stop these 16 distributions. And here's the problems with that position.

17 First, from a technical legal perspective, the debtor
18 ignores the language of Section 363. Frankly, it's easy to 19 have a strong initial knee-jerk reaction that Section 363
20 doesn't apply here because there's no sale of property to the 21 estate. The MGM stock was held down in a different entity.
22 Your Honor, frankly, I did it myself. But when you analyze the 23 language of Section 363, it also prescribes the use of property
24 of the estate outside of the ordinary course of business. And 25 here, the use of property of the estate is the debtor's

1 valuable management rights of the various entities, so Dynamic,
2 AROF or AROF or NRCP.

3 And let's just assume for argument's sake that the 4 debtor's statement is correct and enforceable and there's no
5 problem with it that the funds are in liquidation. No one can
6 rationally argue that that liquidation of a fund or a manager's
7 actions in liquidating said fund are ordinary course. So there
8 is sort of the Section 363 hook for lack of a better term.

9 Second, from an equity perspective, it is wholly
10 inequitable for the debtor in an attempt to derail the Court
11 and the creditors from inserting a Chapter 11 trustee -- and 12 recall, Your Honor, that this case was filed on October 16th of 13 2019 where the debtor filed to seek protection from the 14 imminent within minutes if not hours of entry of $189 million
15 judgment against the debtor. And it's really frankly, and as 16 Mr. Pomerantz acknowledged, the product of failed -- numerous 17 other failed litigation strategies. Acis, UBS, Pat Daugherty,
18 quickly all -- and all of those the pieces of litigation
19 quickly coming home to roost.

20 Acis was clear right out of the gate, Your Honor, at 21 the first day hearings held on October the 18th, 2019 that it
22 would seek the appointment of a trustee. And in an attempt to 23 sort of take itself out of a trustee potentially being 24 appointed or, you know, as to forestall that happening, the 25 debtor filed an ordinary course protocol motion. And this is

1 in October of 2019. And as a part of that ordinary course
2 protocol motion, the proposal was that Mr. Sharp, the CRO of 3 the debtor, be appointed the CRO of the debtor and that he
4 would be the gatekeeper, he would be in charge of all related
5 party transactions, and he would oversee all of those 6 transactions.

7 And, Your Honor, indeed Mr. Sharp testified that he 8 was the gatekeeper. He was the guy in charge, and that was on 9 I want to say like November 20th of 2019. And commensurately,
10 Mr. Waterhouse, the CFO for Highland Capital Management, also 11 testified and Mr. Waterhouse was the first day declarant for 12 Highland as well. He testified that everyone understood that 13 Mr. Sharp was to be the gatekeeper. And, indeed, Mr. Sharp
14 would -- they had training at Highland Capital Management to 15 the effect that all employees knew if you've got a related
16 party transaction, it's got to go through Brad Sharp.

17 So in an attempt to sort of derail Acis from getting 18 a trustee appointed, they affirmatively sought out these 19 protocols and ultimately agreed to protocols that look similar,
20 not exactly but similar to those proposed ordinary course
21 protocols. And the protocols that ultimately were approved
22 required court approval. And now we've got them coming back
23 and saying, ha ha, just kidding, no one can do anything about 24 it anyway and we have to make these distributions because we've 25 got a fiduciary duty to do it.

1 On that note, the debtor who should be fully
2 transparent during this process while it seeks the benefit of 3 bankruptcy including the automatic stay, argues in its reply
4 brief filed this morning at Footnote 9 that the underlying sale
5 transaction in excess of $123.25 million is sacrosanct and 6 irrelevant because the Committee blessed it. Acis objected,
7 Your Honor. When that transaction was presented to the 8 Committee, Acis objected.

9 First, it would have its cake and eat it, too. It
10 can't take advantage of the protocols it likes while at the 11 same time stiff-arming those that are inconvenient to it. It
12 can't say the transaction's good because the Committee blessed 13 it, but the Committee didn't bless the distributions to the 14 insiders and, oh well, you can't do anything about that anyway.

15 Second, the broader transaction is violative of at a 16 minimum traditional notions of transparency in bankruptcy and 17 likely 363 along with what the debtor's fiduciary duties to its 18 creditors. As Mr. Clemente pointed out, the debtor has dueling
19 fiduciary duties, and we didn't hear nearly a word with respect
20 to the debtor's fiduciary duties to its creditors. And, Your 21 Honor, we're not looking to generally micromanage what this
22 debtor is doing, but this transaction is fundamentally flawed
23 and at a minimum has red flags all over it.

24 As we now know from the CalPERS objection, Mr.
25 Dondero entered into a transaction with Highland Capital

1 Management buying CalPERS' interest and likely others'
2 interests at June 30 prices or by giving over a set number of 3 MGM shares to CalPERS. That's the agreement that's attached to 4 the CalPERS objection. The agreement was always a win-win for 5 Highland Capital Management because it could either make money
6 on the arbitrage of the stock -- it bought it at a particular 7 price, and if it's ordered at a different price, you got to 8 keep the differential -- or give over the stock if the stock be 9 valued and priced. Win-win.

10 He then immediately the very next day fraudulently
11 transferred that agreement from Highland Capital Management to 12 Highland Capital Management Services, an entity in which he is 13 the 75-percent owner and Mr. Okada is the 25-percent owner.
14 That is 15 days before filing this Chapter 11 bankruptcy case.
15 The only purported consideration for the transfer, and I think
16 this is Exhibit B, to the CalPERS objection, was an indemnity
17 by Highland Capital Management Services. That's the only 18 consideration that was transferred as a part of that 19 transaction, Your Honor.

20 Then when the stock price rises in November, he seeks 21 committee approval for a transaction that still benefits
22 Highland Capital Management Services. Despite not having a
23 Committee response, he enters into a rogue unauthorized trade
24 of MGM stock on whose board he serves on and is thus privy to 25 information, violative of the very protocols that the debtor

1 was pressing so strenuously to avoid the appointment of a
2 trustee. Indeed, Brad Sharp testified the day before the rogue
3 trade that this exact type of transaction had to go through 4 him. And Mr. Waterhouse's testimony came right after that to 5 indicate that everybody at the debtor knew that Mr. Sharp had 6 to approve it.

7 Ultimately, the Committee rejected that transaction
8 in November, but the trade was already done. If Mr. Dondero
9 had his way, Highland Capital Management Services would have 10 benefitted from the transaction. Frankly, every one of these 11 transactions needs the light of day shed upon them here in 12 court to determine what is in the best interest of creditors.
13 The debtor's attempt to cloak itself in the Committee's non-14 objection, and I want to be clear on this, it was a non-
15 objection. I think reference was made that the Committee
16 agreed to the sale of the MGM stock. That's not what happened.
17 The Committee just did not object to the transaction which can 18 likely best be characterized frankly as everyone plugging their 19 nose while simultaneously telling this Court it can't do
20 anything about the proceeds is the exact reason why the Court
21 should be inquiring into the transaction in the first place.

22 And not so incidentally, that stock that Mr. Dondero
23 traded without authority in November is trading approximately 24 20 percent higher today, around the low 90s.

25 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

1 Thank you. All right.

2 Do we have any other opening statements? I'm
3 probably going to have to take a break before we do evidence
4 and hear my 2:30 matter, which I don't think is going to take 5 very long, at all.

6 All right. Judge Lynn.

7 MR. LYNN: Your Honor, thank you.

8 We're not opposed to the motion, and we understand
9 the concerns expressed both by the debtor, the debtor's
10 independent board, which feels that it's compelled to make the 11 distribution to insiders. And while we don't necessarily agree
12 with them, we understand the Creditors Committee's concerns as 13 well.

14 We'd like to suggest the following should the Court
15 determine that the motion should be denied. And that is that 16 instead of the debtor retaining the funds, that the debtor
17 distribute the funds into the registry of the Court. That way, 18 they lose control over the funds and they can say that they've 19 distributed them in accordance with their agreements and 20 applicable law.

21 The funds would remain there until either a recipient
22 or prospective recipient posts a bond or other suitable 23 collateral or the Creditors Committee agrees to the 24 distribution to the insider or there is a Court entered for 25 another reason after a showing made before Your Honor. The

1 debtor and the Creditors Committee would, of course, retain all
2 rights to seek the funds they would have had, which rights they
3 would have had immediately before the distribution to the 4 registry, plus any rights that would be gained by reason of the 5 distribution itself.

6 The debtor thus distributes, the Creditors Committee
7 retains its rights, the Court retains control, and this can all
8 be done, we believe, by a Court order and we hope this may give 9 the Court a suitable alternative.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Let me make sure I understand.
11 You said, if the Court is inclined to deny the motion. Are you
12 offering, I guess Mr. Dondero's proposal that -- I mean, these 13 aren't disbursements that would all go to him, they would --
14 some would go to Okada, and -- who's not objected or appeared.
15 But -- let me cut to the chase.

16 Are you trying to avoid a hearing and evidence
17 altogether by saying, you know, these related entities agree
18 their distributions will go into the registry of the Court
19 right now?

20 MR. LYNN: Mr. Dondero supports this position. We do
21 not speak for Mr. Okada.

22 THE COURT: Right.

23 MR. LYNN: I understand that more than one of the 24 entities -- and Your Honor must forgive me. We're relatively 25 new to this case.

1 THE COURT: Yeah. One is Holdco, and that is
2 technically a DAF, a charitable entity that --

3 MR. LYNN: Yes. I believe that's so, and I
4 understand there may have been communications between the 5 independent board and the trustee of a DAF, but I was not a
6 party to those communications. I'm just trying to give the 7 Court an alternative -- Mr. Dondero is doing so -- that might 8 be acceptable to the debtor and at the same time would 9 accomplish what the Creditors Committee wants, which is to 10 retain control of the funds.

11 I must say, Your Honor, that having been there
12 myself, I have a great deal more confidence in the registry of 13 the Court protecting funds than I do in just about anyone else.

14 THE COURT: All right. Well, that would certainly 15 seem to give the Committee everything it's asking for, and --

16 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, if I may interrupt.

17 I understand from members of the debtor's independent
18 board who have spoken to Grant Scott, who is the principal in 19 charge of CLO Holdco, that CLO Holdco would also support the 20 proposal that has just been made by Judge Lynn. We do not have 21 the agreement of Mr. Okada to support that proposal.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Although, he has not weighed in 23 with any sort of -- well, I don't know. How do we feel about 24 Mr. Okada's interest here? I mean, he's obviously been given 25 notice of all of that, and --

1 MR. POMERANTZ: Well, actually we asked him --

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. POMERANTZ: -- when we heard last night that this
4 might be a possibility. He has rejected that. And in light of 5 his rejection of that proposal, we as the debtor feel we need
6 to proceed with the motion. I would think it substantially
7 narrows the issues that are going to be in evidence, all the 8 stuff we've heard about MGM Trade, which may at some point in 9 time be something that people don't testify from the podium and 10 that actually the subject of real evidence. But with respect
11 to Mr. Okada, we will have to go forward with the motion.

12 MR. LYNN: Yeah, so let me express that at this 13 point, Mr. Dondero is of course not supporting the Acis
14 suggestion that a trustee should be appointed. We did not 15 understand that this hearing would address that issue.

16 THE COURT: Yeah. I'm not sure. That's what they 17 were suggesting today. I think they were just saying at one
18 point, they adamantly wanted a trustee, and these protocols
19 alleviated their concerns and caused them to back off. And 20 now, they're upset that, you know, the debtor is resisting the 21 protocols in a way. So -- all right.

22 Mr. Clemente, what say you? I --

23 MR. CLEMENTE: Your Honor, I --

24 MR. LYNN: Thank you, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Thank you.

1 MR. CLEMENTE: -- I think you can tell from our
2 papers, this is effectively what we asked for.

3 THE COURT: Right.

4 MR. CLEMENTE: I don't even know why it took us to 5 get to this point for that. It seemed so obvious to me. But 6 when it was articulated by the former Judge here, it -- I think
7 it just held more -- maybe it made more sense.

8 As far as Mr. Okada's concerned, I think Your Honor
9 could clearly deposit the funds in the registry of the Court,
10 and he's free to come in. I think that's what Counsel for 11 Mr. Dondero was actually suggesting. So I'm not sure that 12 anything is required further with respect to Mr. Okada, unless 13 he has a representative here that would like to raise something
14 with Your Honor. So, to me, on behalf of the Committee, I
15 think that accomplishes what the Committee was trying to do
16 with its objection.

17 THE COURT: All right.

18 Anyone else wish to be heard? Ms. Shriro, I know
19 that you filed something for CalPERS, but obviously, your 20 client is an unaffiliated investor in the private equity fund,
21 RCP. You just want to get paid.

22 MS. SHRIRO: That's correct. We just want to get 23 paid, and I would defer to my co-counsel on the phone. If he 24 has any comments, this would be the time to raise them.

25 THE COURT: All right.

1 Co-Counsel on the phone, I think it's Mr. Cisz. Is
2 that correct?

3 MS. SHRIRO: Yes.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Anything you want to say about
5 what's (indiscernible)?

6 MR. CISZ: That's correct, Your Honor. This is Louis
7 Cisz on behalf of CalPERS, and Ms. Shriro is correct. So long
8 as CalPERS receives its distribution relative to the sale of 9 the MGM stock, CalPERS otherwise doesn't take a position with 10 respect to the motion.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

12 All right. Well, turning to the literal terms of the 13 motion, the relief the motion sought was simply an order
14 authorizing distribution of the cash from these wind-downs of 15 the three funds to insider investors. And so we have the 16 Committee objection, we have the Acis objection, we have 17 Dondero's counsel here appearing. I think I can, given this 18 request for relief and the opposition of the Committee, as well
19 as one of the Committee members, Acis, and due to these 20 representations of Dondero's counsel and the board, I can order
21 that the money that would otherwise go to insider investors --
22 I think it's roughly about 8.6 million -- will, instead of 23 going to the insider investors, will go into the registry of 24 the Court with reservation of everyone's rights later to file
25 motions requesting that it be disbursed to them. So everyone

1 understands, this is just kind of a holding place for the funds
2 right now.

3 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, we do not have 4 Mr. Okada's representation and the debtor is not modifying its 5 motion. The debtor would like to proceed with respect to 6 Mr. Okada. We asked him, he did not want to agree to the same
7 things that would be in consideration by CLO Holdco, and for 8 the reasons we've identified in the motion and I've expressed
9 to Your Honor, we feel we have the obligation, we have the duty
10 to proceed, and we would request the opportunity to put on 11 evidence so you can hear from Mr. Seery and ultimately make a
12 determination whether the Committee and Acis have laid out a 13 legitimate basis for use of 105. I'll reserve my comments and 14 their comments until the end.

15 But we would want to proceed in that limited matter
16 because we don't have all agreements of the parties and the 17 same reasons stand for why we filed the motion to proceed with 18 the distribution for Mr. Okada.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Well, I guess I misinterpreted
20 everything that I thought was going on out there. Mr. Okada, I
21 guess, you said is owed 4.176 million from the Dynamic Hedge
22 Fund, and then -- I don't know if that was the total amount
23 from the three funds, but you feel like you have a fiduciary
24 duty to pursue that disbursement.

25 MR. POMERANTZ: Absolutely, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: All right.

2 MR. POMERANTZ: And again, you know, we could get
3 this into argument. Mr. Okada is in a much different position
4 than some of the other insiders. We understand the comments
5 about Mr. --

6 THE COURT: Well, I remember some of the dynamics
7 here, but let me tell you what I'm going to feel the need to 8 get into if we hear evidence. And what we'll do is we're going
9 to take a short break in a minute. Let me ask the Barker
10 people who I think are in the back.

11 (Off record discussion 2:34:51 to 2:35:01)

12 THE COURT: Okay. So we'll take a 10-minute break in 13 a minute.

14 But again, one reason I was sort of delighted to get
15 the suggestion of Judge Lynn is I see this evidentiary hearing
16 as being a little more involved than looking at contractual 17 obligations and whatnot, and you know, the fact that these are 18 non-property of the estate funds that we're talking about. I
19 have fundamental questions having read the pleadings about the 20 decision to wind-down these funds that was made in November
21 2019, days after Highland filed bankruptcy.

22 Who made the decision? Was it insider investors
23 seeking redemption? Or was it, you know, did we have large
24 unaffiliated investors exercising redemptions, and so
25 therefore, it was reasonable business judgment, you know, we

1 need to wind down?

2 I know the issues are a little bit different with the 3 two hedge funds versus the RCP fund that had the term. And I
4 understand, I read the pleadings, how the term expired in April
5 2018, it was extended for one year, and then the advisory board
6 didn't consent to an additional extension.

7 Again, maybe the new board has thoroughly scrubbed
8 this and you're going to tell me that in evidence. And maybe 9 the Committee has thoroughly scrubbed this, and you're going to 10 tell me that with evidence. But I -- I'll want to hear that.
11 I'll want to hear that this was all legitimate, independent,
12 non-affiliated investors pressing for the wind-down of these 13 funds, and we didn't have what I refer to as the Acis situation
14 where -- well --

15 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, Mr. Seery is prepared to 16 testify to each of those. And as I mentioned, the board did
17 thoroughly consider it and you will -- Your Honor will hear
18 evidence that led Mr. Seery and the board to conclude that each 19 of these were appropriate. But we intended to get into that in 20 the evidence.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 (Proceedings recessed from 2:37 p.m. to 3:01 p.m.)

23 THE COURT: All right. We're going back on the 24 record in Highland. Mr. Pomerantz, are you ready to call your 25 witness?

1 MR. CLEMENTE: Your Honor, if I might before.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Clemente?

3 MR. CLEMENTE: Matt Clemente on behalf of the 4 Committee, again.

5 I would just like to revisit the colloquy we had 6 before we broke.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. CLEMENTE: I'm still confused as to why Your 9 Honor just can't enter or so order that the debtor has 10 satisfied its duty upon depositing the money into the Court
11 registry. And we don't need to have any of this this 12 afternoon. I see it as similar to the Foley hearing where Your 13 Honor expressed some frustration. It's kind of maybe not the 14 best use of time. I'm not sure what exactly we're trying to 15 accomplish here.

16 If the debtor's concerned about its duty to a 17 constituent who is not present in Court today, I think Your 18 Honor can deal with that by entering an order that says, you
19 know, based on the pleadings and the record so far, the debtor
20 has satisfied its duty and placed the money in the Court
21 registry.

22 And if Mr. Okada has an issue with that, he can come
23 back before Your Honor. I'm just not quite sure what the point
24 is here, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. Well, let's turn back to

1 Mr. Pomerantz, and let's talk about what my, I guess, unrefuted
2 evidence is. I have -- Mr. Okada would be due for the Dynamic
3 Hedge Fund, 4.176 million is what I read in the pleadings where 4 you told me.

5 And then, I don't know that I have written down what
6 he would be owed from either the Argentina Fund or the RCP
7 Fund. Anything?

8 MR. POMERANTZ: Zero.

9 THE COURT: Zero. So we're talking about the 4.176
10 from termination of the Dynamic Fund.

11 MR. POMERANTZ: Right.

12 THE COURT: Meanwhile, we know there is a $1.3
13 million demand note --

14 MR. POMERANTZ: Correct.

15 THE COURT: -- owing to Highland from Okada. And I
16 feel like I heard that there was more, but that's the only --

17 MR. POMERANTZ: That is the only note from Mr. Okada.

18 Your Honor, I think part of it is I stood up and gave 19 a lengthy presentation, and I told Your Honor what the 20 testimony would show. Now there's been a lot of issues in this 21 case about what the board's doing, what it's not doing. Part
22 of our reason for being here today and part of my presentation
23 was to get Your Honor comfortable with how the board is 24 handling its duties. I didn't want you to hear that just from 25 me. I wanted you to hear that from Mr. Seery.

1 There also have been allegations by Acis and concerns
2 Your Honor has raised as to what went into the wind-down of 3 these funds, given Your Honor's past experience with Acis. And 4 I'm sure Ms. Patel's past experience with Acis.

5 I think it's important to hear from Mr. Seery because 6 he has good explanations of why each of these funds are in
7 wind-down. And then, furthermore, look, Your Honor will decide
8 what Your Honor decides and whether the Committee and Acis have 9 met the showing under 105 to hold back the Okada funds. If 10 Your Honor decides that, of course we will abide by that 11 decision.

12 But we didn't want any implication that we were sort
13 of laying down for that issue. So I think it would be helpful
14 maybe to hear some testimony from Mr. Seery. If Your Honor
15 then concludes that funds shouldn't be disbursed, Your Honor
16 will conclude that funds shouldn't be disbursed. I don't think
17 this has to be very lengthy. I think we've -- we've narrowed 18 the issues, given that we don't have an issue with respect to 19 RCP anymore. We don't have the issue with HCM Services
20 receiving money on account of a trade that Acis is very 21 critical about. Again, those issues at an appropriate time can 22 be raised in appropriate form, and Your Honor will have a full 23 evidentiary hearing, as opposed to a tail wagging the dog on 24 this motion when it's not even relevant anymore.

25 So what I would propose is that we allow Mr. Seery to

1 take the stand. We allow him to address Your Honor's concerns.
2 We allow him to testify to the things that I said he would
3 testify to so it gives Your Honor some comfort, and hopefully
4 the other parties comfort, exactly how Mr. Seery and the other
5 board members are performing their duties.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Can we all agree to some 7 reasonable time limitations here? I'm thinking we're done in 8 an hour. Maximum 30 minute direct of debtor, or redirect, and 9 maximum 30 minute cross of all objectors. Can we do that 10 today?

11 MR. POMERANTZ: I think we can do that, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Then that's --

13 MR. CLEMENTE: My only question, Your Honor -- Matt
14 Clemente on behalf of the Committee -- is what are we still 15 talking about here? Are we just talking about the distribution
16 to Mr. Okada? And the other distributions are off the table as 17 suggested by -- or as agreed to at least on behalf of 18 Mr. Dondero? I don't even know what we're talking about.

19 MR. POMERANTZ: That is correct, Your Honor. It's 20 only the distributions to Mr. Okada.

21 THE COURT: Although, I think he wanted the Court to 22 get some testimony from Mr. Seery about sort of the business
23 judgment of the three wind-downs, but I don't think that's 24 going to --

25 MR. POMERANTZ: That shouldn't take a long time.

1 THE COURT: -- be a probe today of MGM stock sales.

2 MR. POMERANTZ: No, it won't be at all, Your Honor.

3 And again, look, we understand Your Honor has had experience
4 with Acis, and we understand the concerns, Your Honor, coming
5 in, seeing redemptions, and the questions you asked.

6 Again, it's important for the debtor to be able to 7 demonstrate to Your Honor that this board is doing its 8 appropriate things and hearing from Mr. Seery why he made these 9 decisions so Your Honor can get comfortable, not only in these 10 matters, but in other matters that brought before Your Honor in 11 the future that this board is doing exactly what they should be 12 doing acting as an independent fiduciary.

13 That's why I think some of our testimony, but we're 14 happy to live within the time frame that Your Honor has given 15 us.

16 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Thank you.

17 MS. PATEL: Your Honor, I just wanted to follow along
18 with one of the comments that I made during my opening
19 statement and hopefully, it will help further narrow the issues
20 and keep us within the time limits, is is that when -- in 21 responding to Your Honor's question about the wind-down of 22 these funds, and I said Acis had concerns, I want to say we've 23 got concerns with respect to the Argentina and the Dynamic
24 fund. We frankly just don't understand or have that much
25 information with which to really evaluate the transaction, so

1 we're a little hamstrung today for purposes of cross-
2 examination because that's not something that necessarily Acis
3 has inquired into.

4 But separate and apart from that, just again so
5 everyone's clear, with respect to the wind-down of RCP, Acis
6 does not take issue with respect to the genesis of the wind-
7 down. So the decision to wind it down is a find from Acis's
8 perspective that should probably have been wound down. Now,
9 the methodology of how it's being wound-down, that's fair game.

10 THE COURT: I don't know what that meant --

11 MS. PATEL: Okay.

12 (Laughter)

13 THE COURT: -- the methodology of how it's being 14 wound-down.

15 MS. PATEL: Okay. Let me --

16 THE COURT: Very quickly because, you know --

17 MS. PATEL: Yes. Your Honor, what I meant by that 18 was, in terms of the decision to wind-down RCP, that makes 19 sense to Acis because it is a fund that should have been wound-
20 down. How it is going about being wound-down, that is open for 21 dispute, and one of those things being here this MGM stock
22 sale, etcetera.

23 THE COURT: We'll hear from Mr. Seery. I thought
24 there was a pile of cash at this point, but maybe I misread the 25 pleadings.

1 Okay.

2 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, let's remember what this
3 motion is. This motion wasn't a referendum on wind-down, it
4 was the ability to make a distribution.

5 THE COURT: Right.

6 MR. POMERANTZ: Mr. Dondero's counsel, who is 7 speaking on behalf of ACM Services, said they're prepared to 8 hold those distributions in the registry of the Court. The 9 issues regarding what Ms. Patel testified from the podium, at 10 some point, they may very well be the subject of a hearing in 11 the Court. We're happy to continue responding to the Committee
12 and Ms. Patel's comments and questions about how, but it's just 13 not relevant here.

14 And, Your Honor, there is no way if Ms. Patel is 15 going to go down that road that we will ever be here only an 16 hour. That is a much longer discussion.

17 THE COURT: And let me just clarify where I was 18 coming from.

19 I thought if we were evaluating whether insiders
20 should get $8.6 million of distributions, the bona fides of the 21 decision to go into wind-down mode needed to be explored a
22 little bit and see if some of these insiders were improperly
23 exercising control in that.

24 So I agree with what you're saying. Now, that we're 25 just talking about deferring to another day all but maybe

1 Mr. Okada's disbursement, we don't need to hear great detail
2 about the whole decision-making process for the wind-down of 3 these three. A little bit of background would be useful,
4 but --

5 MR. POMERANTZ: Absolutely, Your Honor, and we 6 will --

7 THE COURT: -- it doesn't need to be, you know --

8 MR. POMERANTZ: -- tailor our testimony to the issues
9 that Your Honor was concerned about and the comments that I
10 made, and we will keep within the time limit that Your Honor
11 wants us to keep it to.

12 THE COURT: All right. Very good.

13 Mr. Seery?

14 MR. SEERY: Yes, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: There you are. If you could approach the 16 witness stand. I know I've been introduced to you before. I'm 17 not sure if you've taken the witness stand yet.

18 MR. SEERY: I have not.

19 THE COURT: I don't think you have.

20 Please raise your right hand.

21 JAMES P. SEERY, JR., DEBTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

22 THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

23 MS. HAYWARD: Your Honor, may I approach with an 24 exhibit binder?

25 THE COURT: You may.

Seery - Direct/Hayward

60

1 MS. HAYWARD: Or two?

2 THE COURT: Okay. One for the Court.

3 Thank you.

4 MS. HAYWARD: May I approach the witness?

5 THE COURT: You may.

6 DIRECT EXAMINATION

7 BY MR. HAYWARD:

8 Q Well, good afternoon, Mr. Seery. Since this is your first 9 time testifying, would you introduce yourself to the Court and 10 give her just a little bit of background?

11 A I'll go pretty quickly because of the time constraints.
12 James P. Seery, Jr., for the record. I am an independent
13 director for Highland Capital. I've been in the asset
14 management restructuring business for about 32 years.

15 I started as a restructuring lawyer handling
16 everything from real estate to debtor's side to financial 17 transactions. From there, I moved into asset management and 18 distressed investing.

19 From there, I moved into managing a large global loan
20 portfolio for a big investment bank. That included teams of 21 people who both underwrote, distributed, held, managed,
22 restructured, and traded both loans, indicated loan assets,
23 primarily, but also high end bonds, distressed assets, as well
24 as CLO assets.

25 After that, I went into a hedge fund. We had a

Seery - Direct/Hayward

61

1 billion, three long-short credit fund. I was the senior
2 investment partner and president of that firm. We did similar
3 types of investments, high yield, high yield loans, distressed
4 loans, CLO assets, and some other structured products, long-
5 shorts. So we were domestic primarily, but we also had a
6 global investment view and an office in London.

7 Subsequent to that, I was a co-head of a credit
8 business for an investment bank. And then, in the last six
9 months, I've decided to do this job.

10 Q So of the three board members, you're kind of the stock
11 guy. Would that be a fair --

12 A I think -- stock isn't really my stock and trade, but I do
13 know my way a little bit around the stock market. But it's 14 primarily been credit products, but I do -- I am familiar with 15 equities and equity trade.

16 Q Okay. So since coming onto the board, give the Court a 17 day in the life, if you don't mind, and maybe starting with the 18 day that the board took over on January 9th.

19 A I think, as Your Honor will recall, when we left and we 20 talked about what the role would be and what the compensation
21 would be, I think your comment was, Your Honor, that it -- we 22 wouldn't be 50,000 feet. Well, we -- we're actually fully on 23 the ground. We're not even five feet above. We don't keep 24 track of our hours like lawyers, but probably logged about 190
25 hours in January starting on the 9th, and then about 150 hours,

Seery - Direct/Hayward

62

1 160 hours in February. And I know my fellow board members are
2 similar time commitments.

3 We're involved day-to-day in each of the decisions
4 that the debtor makes from assets management decisions,
5 understanding how the funds are being managed and what the ways
6 that they could either be walled off if they're in liquidation,
7 or if what the proper way to treat them on a day-to-day basis
8 is, evaluating assets that the debtor owns directly or through 9 funds, be thinking about ways to monetize those assets;
10 employee issues, what they're doing, who they're reporting to,
11 how they're -- how they're performing, how they're being paid;
12 claims issues.

13 This case got started, as we all know, by three major
14 litigations, and they're not all easy to understand. They've 15 got the redeemer arbitration, which I think is fairly
16 straightforward in terms of liability and amount. There's a
17 number of offsets that are complicated.

18 We've got the UVS litigation that is a lot more
19 complicated because it's not against the debtor. The judgment
20 is against two offshore funds that are, in essence, shells, and 21 there's a very complex history around the 10-year litigation
22 that that is.

23 Then we have the Acis litigation, which comes out of 24 the Acis bankruptcy, but is an unliquidated claim. So 25 understanding those thinking about what the pros and cons of

Seery - Direct/Hayward

63

1 those claims are, how we would manage them down the road, how
2 we would go forward. Thinking about how to resolve them has 3 been a key part of what we're doing on a day-to-day basis.

4 Q So has the board done an independent analysis of all these
5 various litigation claims?

6 A Not yet. So we've -- we've done a preliminary analysis,
7 and then we've gone further. So with respect -- we haven't sat
8 down with -- frankly with Redeemer, yet, although one of the 9 board members has had a call with them separately. But we have 10 sat down with the Acis creditors, and we've done some 11 significant analysis around that. And we have sat down with 12 UBS claimants, and we've done significant analysis around that.

13 All three of those require a ton more work, and not 14 because it's not easy to figure out what the numbers are. It's 15 really difficult to figure out what the liability is, how it
16 rolls up to the debtor, and then how to satisfy it, and so
17 we're trying to get our hands around that. But that is a
18 critical component of resolving this case.

19 Q When the board took over, did -- what types of things did
20 you do immediately upon taking over control of this debtor?
21 Did you meet with people at the facility?

22 A Oh, sure. So the first thing we did, actually, is have 23 lunch with the Committee and with Acis, and we wanted to get 24 their perspective because they were here and it was easier to 25 do that than to run back to the debtor and try to -- try to

Seery - Direct/Hayward

64

1 then set up another meeting.

2 And so we wanted to get their perspective. They'd
3 been living with the debtor from the litigations and through 4 the time in Delaware and the litigation in this case. So we 5 got a feel for them of what their desires were, how they 6 thought the case would work out or potentially resolve, and 7 also, how they thought about our role.

8 One of the things we stressed at that time, and I
9 stressed when I was interviewed for the role, is that -- I know
10 my fellow directors feel the same way, but I'm a pretty 11 independent person, and I wasn't going to be certainly the 12 management of Highlands guy, nor would I be the guy of the 13 Committee. So we're going to -- I'm going to work
14 independently make decisions with the fellow board members in 15 what I think is the best way.

16 I'm going to try to exercise my duty in both care and 17 loyalty to the estate, but then if the estate has duties, I'm 18 going to make sure we exercise those. And I feel very strongly
19 about that because this is just one -- a decent sized matter, 20 but one small piece of a career, and I'm not going to 21 compromise myself to satisfy either people on the management
22 side or people on the Committee side.

23 Q Yeah. Well, and I want to talk a little bit about the 24 duties since you mentioned them, because we heard I think the 25 Committee say that we -- the debtor has not mentioned the

Seery - Direct/Hayward

65

1 fiduciary duties to the estate in the opening statement. Do
2 you think that by presenting this motion the debtor -- does
3 this motion contemplate protecting the fiduciary duties that 4 the debtor owes to the estate?

5 A To me, it absolutely does. But to be fair, I think that
6 the rhetorical flair and opening remarks and missing the duties
7 to the estate, we're very conscious as a board of our duties to 8 the estate. We're also very conscious of our duties as an 9 asset manager. And what is in the pleadings is absolutely the 10 case, it's been -- it's my experience, my understanding of the 11 law, and it's being confirmed by both Cayman counsel, and by 12 fund counsel in the U.S. separate from bankruptcy counsel.

13 We owe a duty under the Advisor's Act to the funds
14 and to the investors in those funds. That duty actually
15 supercedes the benefit to the estate, but it doesn't undercut
16 it because by vindicating the duty to the funds, you actually 17 vindicate the duty to the estate. If you create liability at 18 the funds, it will roll to the estate. So by exercising your 19 duty correctly, you do in fact, vindicate the duty of the 20 estate.

21 And what's important in the Advisor's Act, and it's 22 an interesting part of U.S. law. At least my understanding,
23 it's been confirmed by outside counsel, is if the manager,
24 which would be Highland, has an interest, it's actually 25 required to subordinate that interest to the interest of the

Seery - Direct/Hayward

66

1 investors in the funds it managed. And it makes sense.

2 If you have funds invested in a fund with an outside
3 investor, you want to make sure that that investor is not --
4 that manager is not using your funds to aggrandize itself as 5 opposed to looking out for your best interest. And so, I think
6 by vindicating our obligations with respect to the funds, we 7 actually enhance our obligations with respect to the estate.

8 Q Let's talk a little bit about the funds now. So
9 originally, the motion pertained to three different funds.
10 Could you just briefly explain to the Court the status of those 11 funds and how they got there?

12 A Yeah. I'll try to go quickly, and if I skip something or 13 I go too quickly, Your Honor, please let me know.

14 The Highland Dynamic Fund, which is the primary one
15 we're talking about now, I think you'll see at the end of Tab 1
16 how it's set up right before Tab 2. And I haven't looked at 17 these exhibits in a long time, so I apologize. I didn't know I
18 was getting this. But it's really straightforward.

19 These funds are set up, and this is a pretty typical 20 structure. It's a limited partnership structure. It's got a
21 master feeder structure. And what does that mean? The master
22 is the main fund. That's the King Exemptive Limited
23 Partnership at the bottom.

24 It's fed by two feeders, a domestic feeder and an
25 offshore feeder. Why is it done that way? Purely tax.

Seery - Direct/Hayward

67

1 Offshore investors, non-taxables in the U.S. who are worried
2 about ECI or UVTI, or unrelated business income, we want to
3 make sure that there's no withholding or any tax ramifications
4 with respect to the distributions they get off the fund. Since
5 it's a pass-through entity, both of those investors, either
6 domestic or foreign, are non-taxables in the U.S., will have
7 their own tax treatment when it gets up to them. So they don't 8 want anything withheld.

9 When you look at the left side of the page, Dynamic
10 domestic feeder, the other investors is where you'd include
11 Mark Okada. This fund was founded originally under a different
12 name. I believe it was called the Highland Loan Fund. It 13 might have been CLO Loan Fund, I apologize. And then that was 14 in 2013.

15 Mark Okada put $2 million cash into the fund at that 16 time. Why did he put it in? This fund was designed to own CLO
17 assets and loan assets. Okada was the founder of that part of 18 the business and the driver of that business. It was pretty 19 essential that he put some money in.

20 However, in '13, they did get third-party investors,
21 but this fund never got real scale. I think it was only a bit 22 over $100 million. Not insignificant, but not a big fund. And 23 they went out looking for loan funds, loan opportunities, and 24 CLO paper. So the CLO papers, the debt of the CLOs, generally
25 (indiscernible) type paper that was higher yielding unless

Seery - Direct/Hayward

68

1 there was some interesting opportunity in the -- in the higher
2 rated tranches.

3 In 2018, the fund got restructured, and they -- I'm 4 pretty sure that's when the name change occurred. Okada put 5 another two and a half million dollars of cash in. So he 6 didn't get this as free-carry or anything. This was actually
7 cash that he deposited in the fund.

8 In 2019, Okada in the spring of 2019, determined that 9 he was leaving Highland. And his separation was finally
10 completed in September of 2019. So he is no longer an employee
11 of the debtor. He has no influence, say, discussion, he's not 12 involved in anything. He hasn't been since we've been there.

13 The investor, I think it was late summer, either
14 understood that or the fund hadn't performed that well.
15 Frankly, it was undersized anyway. Realdania, a third-party, I 16 believe they're European, issued a redemption notice. This was 17 a hedge fund style fund. So we've got three different funds
18 here, two of them are hedge fund, and we explained a little bit
19 in the papers, but the real dynamic, no pun intended,
20 difference between the two is that Dynamic and Argentina are 21 hedge funds which provide liquidity to the investor.

22 What does that mean? Monthly, quarterly, semi-23 annually, they can look for redemptions. The fund manager
24 sales assets because the assets are supposed to be a little bit
25 more liquid, makes distributions per the redemptions.

Seery - Direct/Hayward

69

1 If the redemptions are too big and the sales will
2 somehow disadvantage the remaining investors, either gates come
3 down or you put the fund into liquidation. Realdania had made
4 a, I believe it's a $65 million -- it was initially a smaller
5 one, then there was a $65 million redemption, and it -- this is 6 prepetition. The debtor determined we've got to wind this fund
7 up because we can't basically more than halve it and then
8 continue to try to function. It would have been far too
9 undersized.

10 So the debtor then went about selling the assets,
11 creating a pool of cash, and then this motion is to liquidate
12 it and pay the investors, including Okada. When it's done,
13 assuming they made the full distributions, about 80-something
14 percent of the assets will have been distributed. There's a 15 few small assets that are left. They're not particularly 16 liquid, but they're small and I'm relatively certain we can
17 unload those at decent prices, create cash for the investors, 18 make the final distribution, so it would be a hold cash to 19 wind-down and then dissolve the various little limited
20 partnerships.

21 Argentina is similar. The basically different
22 premise of why that fund existed, the original theory was post
23 the Argentina crisis with the election of Macri in '15. Late 24 '15, Argentina started going through a number of changes in its 25 economy and the thought was that Argentina would start to grow

Seery - Direct/Hayward

70

1 and really be able to realize the potential of its people and
2 its resources. That didn't work out that well, and then at the 3 end of, I think it was '18, Macri was voted out and the former
4 Kirchner, effectively, government is going to back. Argentina
5 economy has slid into basically -- certainly recession over
6 multiple quarters, but even some would say depression.

7 Very difficult time. This was not a unique fund for 8 Highland. There were a lot of these Argentina-type opportunity 9 funds, and that -- that performance has not been particularly 10 good. The decision there was made to wind-down a third-party
11 investor who made a 15 percent withdrawal, and that a number of 12 other funds that I forget the percentage, but they're managed 13 by UBS, third parties made a -- indicated that they were going 14 to have full redemptions, as well, so that fund was put into 15 liquidation.

16 Importantly, I think something that was mentioned
17 before, there's no benefit to keeping these funds around. They 18 don't make any fees.

19 Q Why is that?

20 A And once they've gone into liquidation, they're not paying 21 any fees. Similarly, RCP -- now, RCP is a different style of 22 fund, and I think Your Honor, you mentioned it in the papers,
23 you saw that it was a 10-year old fund. That term was 24 extended. It was originally a 2008 fund. It was done as a
25 distressed for control. Very different opportunity,

Seery - Direct/Hayward

71

1 (indiscernible), at the time, they probably didn't see the
2 global financial crisis, but saw it as distressed and the 3 opportunity to do distressed for control positions had to be 4 long term. So that fund had no liquidity provisions for 5 investors. Typical PE-style fund.

6 The -- when it got to the end of its life, the 10-
7 year life, Highland didn't have the ability to extend the term.
8 A steering committee of third-party institutional investors
9 with no Highland influence whatsoever, Ontario Teachers,
10 CalPERS, some of the biggest, most sophisticated investors in 11 the world in both debt, equity, and distress were driving that.
12 There was also a couple of other funds that are third parties
13 on that steering group. And they still exist. They gave a 14 one-year extension. Highland had no ability to do anything
15 about that.

16 In exchange for the extension, Highland waived fees.
17 So there are no fees being paid on the RCP Fund. There was a 18 series of one-month extensions that went -- was finished in 19 November of 2019. And with this distribution, there's still a
20 lot of assets in RCP that have to be managed, about 175
21 million. And so we're going to -- after we make the 22 distribution -- we've had a few calls and I've been on them,
23 with the steering group.

24 We've told them we're coming to Court to make the 25 distribution. We were confident that we would be able to -- to

Seery - Direct/Hayward

72

1 be able to make a distribution to them subject to the Court's
2 order, that we make that distribution and somewhere in the next
3 two weeks we're going to have a steering group meeting to talk
4 about the other assets and how we monetize them.

5 They are different types of assets. Some have more
6 liquidity than others, so we're going to need to come up with a
7 plan. It's 85 percent, roughly, third parties. Highland
8 Capital Management, the debtor, actually has a roughly 15
9 percent interest in HCM Services, has as a couple percentage,
10 because I think there would have been about 2 percent of the 11 distribution.

12 So it's vast -- the vast majority of the owners of 13 the fund are outsiders, and we're going to need to come up with 14 a structured plan to get them their cash because they've been 15 invested for 12 years in this fund.

16 Q Do you agree, having had the chance to come in and look
17 over all these things, that these funds should be wound-down?

18 A Oh, absolutely. So I think it's easiest to say,
19 Dynamic -- Okada was the driver. It never got to where it
20 wanted. The biggest investor wanted out. It's not big enough
21 to support itself. Even if one were to look today, and say, it
22 should have, frankly, owning CLO paper when this fund was 23 started until today, there should have been good appreciation
24 in it, and it just didn't -- I don't know the reasons it
25 didn't, but it didn't perform the way it should have, and it

Seery - Direct/Hayward

73

1 didn't attract the investors it should have. Perhaps that had
2 something to do with it, you know, the way the other cases or 3 litigations were going on and the public nature of them.

4 And frankly, coming out of the global financial 5 crises, Highland had had a tough time of it, so it wasn't as if 6 it was the easiest thing to raise funds. Argentina, there's 7 absolutely no question that the purpose and structure of that
8 fund and what it set out to do doesn't work, just doesn't work.
9 So it makes no sense to keep that going, and that's why the 10 investors -- third-party investors sought redemptions.

11 The insider interests, while not immaterial, are 12 pretty small. Okada's interest is about 12 percent in the 13 fund, and he's not driving it. Like I said, he's not even at 14 the debtor. These two -- but to be fair -- both the decisions
15 to wind-down Dynamic and Argentina were made before the board
16 was involved and before the petition was filed, and they really
17 related to the withdrawals from third parties.

18 Q So why are we here today? Do you -- do these funds wind-
19 down in the ordinary course of their business?

20 A Well, it -- they all have life. So I'd say in the case of 21 RCP, it's pretty clearly in the ordinary course because it
22 reached the end of its life. And the investors were very clear
23 that they wanted to be cashed out. So the difficult part is 24 that it -- because of its structure and in the way it was 25 originally set up as a PE-style fund, it has illiquid, a number

Seery - Direct/Hayward

74

1 of illiquid assets.

2 And the challenge in any of the PE funds is to time
3 your exit, and the timing on this hasn't been opportune because 4 the opportunity to sale has not been as good as one might hope
5 and the investors are just at the point where they want to get
6 cashed out as we've heard today from CalPERS. But we've seen
7 it in the documents and our discussions -- and my discussions
8 directly with them.

9 The other funds, once they've reached this -- it's an 10 ordinary course thing for funds. When funds either they're -- 11 they've reached their life or investors redeem and they get to 12 this state where they really can't support themselves, it's a
13 very ordinary thing for managers to wind-down funds.

14 Q And as part of the winding down of the funds, is it also 15 ordinary then to make distributions once the funds have become 16 liquid?

17 A Well, I mean one of the questions you started to ask, or 18 maybe did ask, and I didn't answer, was why are we here?

19 Our view as an independent board, my view as an 20 independent board member, is we have an obligation to all
21 investors. It would be really easy if the documents or the law
22 said all investors, other than ones who might have been related 23 somehow to the asset manager. It just doesn't say that. And 24 as we talked about, this is -- these are not funds from 25 Highland. If they were funds from Highland, again, it would be

Seery - Direct/Hayward

75

1 really easy.

2 As I described for Highland Dynamic, I don't need to 3 hold and carry water for Mark Okada. But I do need to carry my 4 own fiduciary duties and make sure that I exercise them well.
5 The gentleman put $2 million in -- this is April 2013, put 2
6 million -- 2.5 million in cash in 2018, and the fund is being 7 wound down. It's not the debtor's money. If it was the 8 debtor's money, it would be really easy to say, you know,
9 Mr. Okada, I'm not going to give you the money because we may 10 have claims against you, and a different discussion would 11 ensue.

12 Q Well, I want to walk through that just a little bit. You
13 say it's not the debtor's money. Where is the money?

14 A This money sits in funds or in bank accounts. Its assets
15 are denominated and they're held in trust. And the cash that's 16 in accounts, they're denominated in the name of the fund. The 17 asset manager, Highland, has the ability to access the accounts
18 and use the funds in accordance with the fund documents. It 19 does not have the ability to access the accounts and use the 20 funds however it see fit.

21 Q So it's like an authorized signer?

22 A It's certainly an authorized signer in terms of what its 23 ability to do in terms of accessing the funds. Typically,
24 that's done through the trustee. But it can manage the funds.
25 It couldn't take the funds and make an unrelated investment.

Seery - Direct/Hayward

76

1 It couldn't take the funds and use it for its own purposes and
2 pay them back later. It's just simply not permitted.

3 Q Well, taking that to the next level. If the Court did not
4 allow these distributions to be made, would the distributions
5 then go to the debtor?

6 A No.

7 Q Where would they go?

8 A There's really no provision for it. There are certain 9 provisions in the underlying documents that would enable the 10 manager to withhold funds. If there was a change in law that 11 didn't permit a distribution. If there was some other reason
12 that it became unfeasible to make the distribution. If you
13 couldn't find the investor, and sometimes that happens. There
14 are provisions of how you deal with those funds. But they 15 never would go to the manager.

16 Q So what is the -- why is the primary reason then that 17 we're here today asking this Court for permission to distribute 18 these funds?

19 A It's pretty straightforward. We have a fiduciary duty and 20 we've confirmed that with outside counsel, both Cayman and 21 domestic fund counsel, to make distributions and treat all
22 investors in the funds pro rata. And we're here to make sure
23 we vindicate our duties, not exercising our fiduciary duties,
24 doing things that were not permitted. One, we don't think
25 that's right or appropriate. Two, that's not going to help

Seery - Direct/Hayward

77

1 resolve this case that probably contributes to some of the
2 things that led to this case. So we're not real interested as 3 an independent board in doing things that are close to the 4 edge, along the margin, try to use our positions to leverage
5 investors.

6 Q Are you familiar with the protocols?

7 A I am.

8 Q Okay. But for the protocols, do you believe that the 9 debtor would need to obtain the Court's permission in order to 10 makes these distributions on behalf of these funds?

11 A I don't think so, no.

12 Q So then, why are we asking the Court's permission?

13 A Well, the protocols require it, and I think the Committee,
14 you know, with due respect and I mean that truly, would like us
15 to withhold the funds, and that provides certain leverage
16 potentially over insiders. I think when I look at the 17 protocols, I think the main function of the protocols is to 18 assure that there isn't undue influence by insiders over the 19 actions of the company, and that insiders are not somehow 20 benefitting themselves by virtue of their control over the 21 company.

22 The independent board has control over the company.
23 We're not naive and think we have control over every single 24 persons every single second of every day, but we do have 25 control over what happens with the accounts, how payments are

Seery - Direct/Hayward

78

1 made, when we wind something down, when an asset is sold, how
2 the proceeds will be used. That's the board. That's not
3 anybody in management. The decision around these distributions
4 was made by the board independently. We did consult with the 5 CCO, and that was important to make sure we got all the facts
6 with respect to these funds.

7 We then sought outside counsel to inform our 8 decision, both Cayman and domestic. We didn't have any 9 influence whatsoever and we didn't speak to Mr. Dondero nor 10 Mr. Okada other than to tell Mr. Okada that we were coming to 11 court and then to ask him if he would defer his distribution.
12 And we know his response.

13 Q I want to ask you just a couple -- I know I'm almost at my 14 30 minutes here, so I just want to ask you a few quick
15 questions because one of the issues that came up were these 16 demand notes. I understand that Mr. Okada does have a demand
17 note.

18 A He does. We've --

19 Q And has the board --

20 A And we've sent a demand.

21 Q Okay. And what was -- what is the status of that demand
22 note?

23 A He acknowledges that he signed it and he said that he's 24 owed certain things from the company. He's asked how we work
25 those through because he was severed -- or severed himself in

Seery - Direct/Hayward

79

1 September, and he has -- they reached a severance agreement
2 according to Mr. Okada. I haven't personally investigated it
3 yet, but we will get to it quickly. And he has some expenses
4 that are owed, but I don't think those are material.

5 I'm quite confident. He said his severance was 6 agreement not money, but terms, was very standard. We'll take 7 a look at that and make sure there's agreement on that.

8 I think it would be covered by the protocol, but it's 9 probably a transaction, so we'd have to talk to the Committee
10 about it, but we'll work -- I'm confident that we can work our 11 way through a standard severance agreement very quickly and 12 resolve that issue and collect on the note.

13 Q Now, to be clear, the demand note is payable to whom?

14 A The demand note is payable to the debtor.

15 Q Okay.

16 A It was actually a note that was -- he didn't receive cash
17 for the note. It's basically a tax -- rather than gross-up
18 salary sometime in the past, for whatever reason they decided 19 not to gross it up to cover taxes.

20 Because of the structure of the limited partnership,
21 they could have had taxable income without matching cash, and 22 so they issued notes back to Highland to cover certain of those 23 obligations rather than actually making a distribution.

24 Q To your knowledge, does Mr. Okada owe any money to the 25 fund?

Seery - Direct/Hayward

80

1 A No. Not a -- my knowledge is that he does not. So I am
2 knowledgeable of it, and he does not owe any money to the fund.

3 Q Okay. Quickly, I just want to talk a little bit about 4 Mr. Dondero. One of I think the points that was made at the 5 very beginning of opening statements was that Mr. Dondero is 6 still around. Why is that?

7 A He's around because he has incredible knowledge about the 8 investments. He is a portfolio manager for the fund. He does 9 work with respect to non-Highland unrelated funds, some of 10 which Highland employees do work under shared services
11 arrangement and we get paid for them. But Mr. Dondero is 12 around for those reasons and his knowledge about a number of 13 the investments in which we're involved.

14 Q Does the Debtor -- or does the board have the power to 15 terminate Mr. Dondero if it decides to?

16 A Yeah, he's -- we could, he's unpaid so there's no cost to 17 his involvement. His expertise around certain investments,
18 particularly the equity funds as well as some of the larger
19 investments, including the PE investments, is really important.

20 Q And with respect to the Dondero notes, what are the status
21 of those demand notes?

22 A We've done an investigation of the notes and I wouldn't 23 say it's as exhaustive as -- it's in similar stages as our 24 examination of other assets. We've looked at Dondero's notes,
25 we made a decision to send a demand letter to Okada because

Seery - Direct/Hayward

81

1 he's no longer a part of the company and there's no real
2 benefit that we saw strategically to not making that demand.
3 It's a small amount of money relative to the size of the case,
4 it's real money, but it's a small amount of money relative to 5 the size of the case. We should clean that up and move on from
6 Mr. Okada.

7 With respect to the Dondero notes on Dondero entity
8 notes, we want to think about those strategically. They're a 9 sizable amount of money, not just the ones that are demand, but 10 also there's a number of the notes that are notes with 11 maturities and they're actually current, they're all current,
12 but how can we use those cash, can we collect those, and I
13 think that's more strategic in terms of how we resolve this
14 case.

15 I agree with Mr. Pomerantz's statement that I think
16 it evolves into a pure litigation case and we really hope it
17 doesn't. That then -- those can just be sued on and the demand
18 notes are pretty clear as to how they work and even include
19 cost of collection. So they're pretty straightforward notes.

20 Q But so for now the board --

21 A Well, we thought about it, we don't think it makes sense
22 to make that demand at this time. There's -- our initial -- 23 we're not -- we haven't come up with what the plan is for this
24 case, but we have ideas. We do think they involve Mr. Dondero
25 and they involved contributions from Mr. Dondero whether in the

Seery - Direct/Hayward

82

1 form of notes, whether in the form of cash, whether in the form
2 of other assets. We haven't discussed those with him, but we
3 do think that's ultimately, at least preliminarily, where we're
4 going to end up somewhere. So strategically we think that
5 that'll make sense to include in that sort of a resolution.

6 Q Okay. And --

7 THE COURT: You have one minute.

8 MS. HAYWARD: Yes, thank you, Your Honor.

9 BY MS. HAYWARD:

10 Q Last question I'm going to ask you, are you aware of any 11 legal basis to withhold these funds now from Mr. -- from these 12 investors and these related parties?

13 A I'm not aware of any, but as the Court has contemplating,
14 as the Committee has said, perhaps now that Section 105, you 15 know, grants that sort of authority, but that'll be up to the 16 Judge.

17 MS. HAYWARD: Your Honor, a housekeeping matter. I
18 move for the admission of Exhibits 1 through 12. I don't think 19 any of them are controversial. But I will let --

20 THE COURT: You want me to look through

21 MS. HAYWARD: Your Honor, they are --

22 THE COURT: -- all of these.

23 (Laughter.)

24 MS. HAYWARD: Your Honor, just for the record, they 25 are Number -- Exhibit 1 is the chart showing the structure of

Seery - Direct/Hayward

83

1 the Dynamic Income Fund.

2 THE COURT: Right. We looked at that.

3 MS. HAYWARD: Exhibit 2 is the partnership agreement,
4 so I know they're large documents, but they're not numerous
5 documents. Exhibit 3 is just the chart of the Latin America
6 Argentina Fund. Four, the partnership agreement for that fund.
7 Five, the chart (indiscernible) Third Fund. Six would be the 8 agreement, the limited partnership agreement for that fund.
9 Seven, Your Honor, is Your Honor's order on the ordinary course
10 governance procedures.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MS. HAYWARD: Eight is the final term sheet. Nine is 13 the notice of amended operating protocols that was filed last 14 week.

15 THE COURT: All right. And then CVs of our board
16 members.

17 MS. HAYWARD: And then the CVs for the board members.

18 THE COURT: Any objections to these?

19 MS. REID: No objection, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Okay. They're admitted.

21 MS. HAYWARD: Okay.

22 THE COURT: All right. Any cross-examination?

23 MS. REID: Yes, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MS. REID: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Penny Reid on

Seery - Cross/Reid

84

1 behalf of the Creditors Committee.

2 CROSS-EXAMINATION

3 BY MS. REID:

4 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Seery.

5 A Good afternoon.

6 Q You are aware, Mr. Seery, aren't you, of the Acis
7 bankruptcy?

8 A I'm aware of it, yes.

9 Q Okay. And you're aware that prior to that bankruptcy Mr.
10 Terry obtained an arbitration award in October of 2017.
11 Correct?

12 A I'm aware of that, yes.

13 Q And, Mr. Seery, are you aware that four days after that 14 arbitration award assets started being transferred away from 15 Acis, stripping it of its value at that time?

16 A I've read the judge's decision in the Acis case but I'm 17 not aware of any of the underlying facts, other than from 18 reading that case.

19 Q So you aren't aware of all the assets that went out of 20 Acis the day after an arbitration award was entered.

21 A No, I haven't looked at any of those.

22 Q Okay. And you're not aware that the day after a final 23 judgment was entered more assets were stripped from Acis. Is 24 that correct?

25 A Other than reading the Judge's decision I'm not aware of

Seery - Cross/Reid

85

1 any of the specific assets, no.

2 Q Are you aware that two days after that, or entry of the 3 final judgment was ordered, Acis' entire risk retention
4 structure was transferred away from it and into the ownership
5 of Highland CLO Holdings?

6 A I'm aware of some of the facts relating to the Acis case
7 from the decision and I'm aware of some of the facts from the 8 Acis case because of my discussions with Ms. Patel and Mr.
9 Terry. I'm not aware of the specific transfers to which you're 10 referring without having -- looking at them.

11 Q Okay. So you're not aware that some of the assets that 12 were stripped from Acis went to one of the entities you're 13 wanting to send money to today. Is that right?

14 MS. HAYWARD: Objection. Your Honor, I'm not sure
15 how this is relevant to the Debtor's distribution motion --

16 MS. REID: Well, it's relevant to the distributions
17 that you're trying to give to the same entity.

18 MS. HAYWARD: Your Honor, I think right now Mr.
19 Okada --

20 THE WITNESS: What I --

21 THE COURT: Just a minute.

22 THE WITNESS: Sorry.

23 THE COURT: We have an objection. Let me hear the 24 objection.

25 MS. HAYWARD: Your Honor, I think at this point Mr.

Seery - Cross/Reid

86

1 Okada is the only one getting a distribution at issue in this
2 case as of now in light of the representation that was made by 3 Judge Lynn.

4 THE COURT: All right. Well, what is your response
5 to the relevance objection? She's saying that this line of 6 inquiry has kind of been taken off the table since -- I'm not
7 sure which entity, I think you're talking about the Holdco, CLO
8 Holdco. Right?

9 MS. HAYWARD: Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Since now the disbursement that would 11 have gone to it is being put off the table and would go into 12 the registry of the Court. So what is your response?

13 MS. REID: Well, Your Honor, and I can take it off,
14 but currently it's my understanding that Mr. Okada is a 25
15 percent owner in Holdco. But I can move on to the next
16 question.

17 BY MS. REID:

18 Q Which is, are you aware that Mr. Okada right after the 19 final judgment was entered transferred their entire interest to 20 Nutra Limited?

21 A Who transferred to whom?

22 Q Right after the final judgment --

23 A Right.

24 Q -- that Mr. Terry obtained, Mr. Okada transferred their 25 entire limited partner interest in Acis, LP to Nutra.

Seery - Cross/Reid

87

1 A So I apologize. A couple of things. One is it goes to
2 what you said, I don't believe Mr. Okada has any interest in
3 sale of Holdco, but you're saying Mr. Okada and their in your
4 question, and so it doesn't make sense. He's an individual.
5 So I just don't know what you're asking me. You said Mr. Okada
6 transferred their interest. Who's their?

7 Q Are you aware that Acis -- that you're aware that after 8 the entry of the Acis judgment that Mr. Okada's limited
9 partners interest in Acis was transferred to Nutra?

10 MS. HAYWARD: Again, Your Honor, I lodge the same
11 objection to relevance.

12 THE COURT: All right. Again, what is your response
13 to the relevance objection?

14 MS. REID: I think it's very relevant because I mean
15 he has been saying that they have a fiduciary duty to 16 investors. Mr. Okada is not your normal independent investor.
17 It's a related party that has engaged in prior improper acts in 18 this court which you're aware, aren't you -- well.

19 THE COURT: Yeah, I'll overrule the objection and 20 allow a little latitude.

21 THE WITNESS: So I think what you're referring to is 22 the position in Nutra and I'm aware of some of those issues.
23 Mr. Okada apparently owns 25 percent of Nutra, Mr. Dondero owns 24 75 percent of it. The control in Nutra is actually vested in 25 Highland Capital Management through a control agreement. So

Seery - Cross/Reid

88

1 I'm not -- I'm aware that they made a transfer and that Nutra
2 owns that interest now, and I'm aware that that split is 75-25,
3 I assume because of that split just like ATM Services, Mr.
4 Okada doesn't have any say in how it's run. And the control in
5 that entity anyway is vested in Highland, the Debtor.

6 BY MS. REID:

7 Q So you're aware there were improper transfers made at --
8 during -- before the Acis bankruptcy. Is that correct?

9 A I'm aware --

10 Q You're not aware?

11 A I'm aware of the decision and I'm aware of the transfers.
12 The designation of it then as improper, I'm not sure that I can
13 say one way or the other because I've looked at the transfers
14 and I can't tell you whether that transfer was improper. So if 15 you're asking me if I'm aware that that transfer occurred, I
16 think I said I was. I don't think it's fair for you to color
17 that the transfer was improper. If somebody --

18 Q Are you aware of the Court's decision --

19 A I am --

20 Q -- that they were improper?

21 A -- I don't recall the Court's decision with respect to 22 that transfer. There were a lot of transfers, a number of 23 which the Judge ruled were improper.

24 Q Okay. So you are aware that there were improper transfers
25 made from Acis that the Judge found were improper. Correct?

Seery - Cross/Reid

89

1 A Yes, I am.

2 Q Okay. And you're aware that Mr. Okada was the Chief
3 Investment Officer at the time those transfers were made.
4 Correct?

5 A Of which entity?

6 Q Of Highland, of the Debtor.

7 A I believe he was -- I believe he was a co-CIO of the 8 Debtor at that time, but I'm not positive.

9 Q So you don't know.

10 A I'm not sure, no.

11 Q Okay. Do you know he was -- he was the Debtor's -- so you
12 do not know one way or the other.

13 A I am aware that at some time he was the CIO and then the 14 co-CIO. I don't know the specific time that he was the sole
15 CIO. I just don't know.

16 Q Do you know if he was involved with the Debtor at the time
17 these improper transfers were made?

18 A He definitely worked for the Debtor at that time.

19 Q Okay. You -- the reply that was filed today by the --
20 this morning by the Debtor states that the making of these 21 distribution to Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada is essential to 22 rebuilding the Debtor's reputation in the marketplace. Is that
23 correct?

24 A I believe that's what it says, yes. I assume you're 25 reading it?

Seery - Cross/Reid

90

1 Q I am.

2 A Okay.

3 Q Aren't you -- is the marketplace not well aware of 4 Highland's history including the Acis and the Redeemer
5 Committee litigation?

6 A I believe the market is aware of the Acis and Redeemer
7 litigations.

8 Q Okay. And is the marketplace well aware of the extensive
9 wrongdoing that Mr. Okada and Mr. Dondero engaged in as found
10 by this Court and the other tribunals?

11 A I don't know how the marketplace -- I know that they're 12 aware of the decisions, I can't tell you whether the 13 marketplace as a large general matter knows the specifics. I
14 don't know.

15 Q Have any non-insider investors expressed concern to you
16 over the possibility of Mr. Okada not receiving the 17 distribution?

18 A No, I don't believe so. I think -- just to make sure I
19 answered your question, have the non-insiders raised issues
20 about Mr. Okada --

21 Q Not getting distribution.

22 A No, there won't --

23 Q No one is really concerned about that except Mr. Okada.
24 Correct?

25 A I think each investor is concerned about their own

Seery - Cross/Reid

91

1 distributions, so like with respect to RCP I don't CalPERS
2 referred at all to the distributions to Ontario, they probably
3 don't care, they care about their own distributions.

4 Q And the only one we're talking about right now is the one
5 to Mr. Okada. Correct?

6 A That's correct. I hope so. Right? Meaning I'm under the 7 impression that the Committee doesn't object to the investment,
8 to the release of funds and the distribution to third-party
9 investors.

10 Q Mr. Seery, you testified that one of the reasons you're 11 seeking to distribute these funds is because the Debtor has 12 fiduciary duties to investors. Correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. But these funds aren't being distributed to just 15 regular investors. Correct? They're being distributed to 16 insiders.

17 A Again, unfortunately these are things one has to be 18 precise with. The question is insider under some securities
19 law, or insider under the Bankruptcy Code? So --

20 A Insider under the protocols.

21 Q I believe the term there, again, we should be precise, is 22 related party. So he's a related party under the protocols.
23 As far as I know there's no separation under the Investment
24 Advisors Act, under the Cayman law, under Delaware law, or 25 under the contracts with respect to persons who might have

Seery - Cross/Reid

92

1 worked for the investment manager who made an investment in the
2 fund.

3 Q Are you aware that the Debtor also has duties to the 4 Creditors Committee?

5 A I don't believe the Debtor has any duties to the Creditors
6 Committee.

7 Q To the estate?

8 A I believe the Debtor has significant and overriding
9 duties, but that's what we're here for, to the estate.

10 Q To the estate. And were very conscious of those duties.
11 Correct?

12 A I am indeed.

13 Q That's what you testified. Right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. So can you explain to me what -- how you consider 16 the estate's considerations in deciding to distribute these,
17 what was your consideration of the estates, how does this 18 benefit the estate?

19 A This benefits the estate because we have an obligation to 20 the funds and to the investors in the funds to perform
21 according to the terms of the funds. Unfortunately there is no
22 provision in the fund documents or in the law that allows us to 23 treat the investors in the funds in a disparate way. And we 24 believe, after consulting with outside counsel, domestic and 25 Cayman, considering federal law under the Advisors Act, as well

Seery - Cross/Reid

93

1 as Delaware law, that the only way to make distributions, other
2 than if there was a law change, was pro rata to all of the 3 investors.

4 So in order to vindicate our obligations to the 5 outside investors, we also have to pay the inside investors.
6 In addition, if we don't pay the inside investors, there's no
7 basis not to do that. Now there may ultimately be no liability
8 because it will be hard to bring a case. But it seems to me
9 that incurring potentially liability is not in the best
10 interest of the estate. Holding up a distribution from non-
11 estate property doesn't seem to do anything to help the estate.
12 In fact, it puts it at risk.

13 And so we did the work and that's how we determined,
14 exercising what I think is our duty of care, which is really
15 researching this, and we spent a lot of time and a lot of money
16 making sure we got this right. And our duty of loyalty. Is 17 there some good reason that the fund could hold up the 18 distribution. Until we have a claim is there a valid to attack
19 these distributions.

20 By the way, there were $8 million out of 180 million.
21 Now if there had been 180 -- if there had been 172 out of 180,
22 maybe we would come in here and say, We should something a
23 little bit different because we're really letting the small
24 outside investors dictate us and force us to make distributions
25 to related parties that the Committee has some concern about.

Seery - Cross/Reid

94

1 But while $8 million is real money, and I don't deny
2 that, again, it's not huge in this case. And it seemed to us,
3 after doing the work, that we were putting the estate at risk
4 by not exercising our fiduciary duties. Moreover, we each have 5 reputations, and they're important to us, and they don't 6 override our fiduciary duties. We're not going to do things to 7 aggrandize ourselves, to help our reputation versus the estate.
8 But running this Debtor correctly seems to us, looking at the 9 history, was the right thing to do.

10 Q Has anyone, Mr. Seery, threatened to bring a fiduciary
11 duty claim against you if you don't pay these funds?

12 A No.

13 Q Has any -- has Mr. Okada said he's going to bring a claim
14 against you if you don't distribute these funds?

15 A No, and nor did I consult him about it. We just told him
16 what we were doing. We're not -- I'm not inviting someone to 17 sue us. That I think would be, you know, grossly wrong for us.

18 Q Now we've touched a little bit on this, Mr. Okada owes the 19 Debtor 1.3 million. Correct? In the demand note?

20 A Approximately, yes.

21 Q All right. And you have made a demand on Mr. Okada.
22 Correct?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q And he hasn't paid it. Right?

25 A No, he has not.

Seery - Cross/Reid

95

1 Q And that's money into the estate. Correct?

2 A That will be, yes.

3 Q Now do you still think it's okay to just hand him off, you
4 know, $4 million and even though he's not paying the estate
5 that you have a duty to?

6 A There's no such thing in my life as just handing off $4
7 million. This is fund money --

8 Q Distributable.

9 A -- that will be distributed to the owners of the fund pro
10 rata. We're not handing off anything to Mr. Okada or anybody
11 else.

12 Q But Mr. Okada has not agreed to pay back his note.
13 Correct?

14 A He's not agreed to pay it back, no. Technically I would 15 say no.

16 Q Okay. And that's because of some severance agreement that 17 you're not aware of what the terms are. Is that right?

18 A I have not -- we have not -- I have not looked at the 19 terms, I don't believe many of my fellow directors yet have.
20 It's something that is on the burner for us to get to as soon
21 as this is over.

22 Q And are --

23 A He's pushing for it.

24 Q -- are you aware that the Committee has asked for that 25 severance agreement?

Seery - Cross/Reid

96

1 A I was not aware of that, no.

2 Q You're not aware of that.

3 A I haven't seen it.

4 Q And you don't know that it hasn't been produced to us. Is
5 that correct?

6 A I don't -- I have not seen it myself, I don't -- didn't 7 know that you'd asked for it, nor do I know that it hadn't been 8 produced.

9 Q Okay. And you haven't looked at it.

10 A I haven't seen it.

11 Q So you don't know if his failure to pay that money back is 12 valid or not. Is that correct?

13 A That's -- I don't -- he still owes the money whether he 14 has appropriate setoffs and whether a settlement agreement
15 would actually work as one. I don't -- haven't really analyzed
16 that and I don't know that our counsel has either. It may be 17 that he owes the money and we're holding a severance agreement,
18 but those aren't mutual obligations that are subject to setoff.

19 Q You don't know one way or the other whether he has a right
20 of setoff. Correct?

21 A I don't believe he -- other than perhaps expenses I
22 don't -- haven't heard any articulated monetary setoff against 23 the obligations he owes.

24 Q If the Court orders that his distribution be put into the 25 Court registry, do you still think you've breached your duty to

Seery - Cross/Patel

97

1 the estate somehow by that?

2 A I think if the Court orders it, I don't think we would be
3 subject to a breach of liability. I think that we're here
4 vindicating our responsibilities and our duties to investors.
5 If there's an interceding court order, we will follow it.

6 Q Thank you.

7 MS. HAYWARD: I have no further questions.

8 THE COURT: All right. I think that was about 17
9 minutes. Any other examination? Okay. You'll have 13
10 minutes.

11 MS. PATEL: Just a few questions, Your Honor.

12 CROSS-EXAMINATION

13 BY MS. PATEL:

14 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Seery.

15 A Good afternoon.

16 Q Mr. Seery, I think your testimony was that the fund, let's
17 use RCP -- or I'm sorry, that's the wrong one --

18 A Dynamic?

19 Q I think it was the Dynamic --

20 A Dynamic.

21 Q -- Income Fund is the one that Mr. Okada has an 22 investment in. Correct?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q Okay. And the fund has duties to Mr. Okada including 25 fiduciary duties as an investor. Right?

Seery - Cross/Patel

98

1 A That's correct.

2 Q Okay. Does Mr. Okada have duties to the fund?

3 A I don't believe he does, no.

4 Q Okay. Did he ever?

5 A I believe he did.

6 Q Okay. That was during his tenure at Highland Capital
7 Management. Right?

8 A I think as an officer of Highland Capital Management, the 9 investment manager, he would have had duties to the fund, yes.

10 Q Okay. And have you investigated whether he's breached any 11 of his duties to the fund?

12 A We have looked, we have not seen anything. We know that 13 the redemptions came in without any objection. We have not 14 spoken to the individual investors.

15 Q Okay. So would it be fair to say then that you haven't
16 concluded your investigation of whether Mr. Okada has breached
17 any of his duties to the fund itself?

18 A I don't think that would be fair. I think what would be 19 fair to say is we've taken a look, we see no evidence
20 whatsoever that there were any breaches by Mr. Okada of his 21 duty to that fund, so there would be no reason to undertake an 22 investigation that we had yet to complete.

23 Q Okay. And who undertook that investigation, was it just 24 the board or did you have others involved?

25 A It was the board.

Seery - Cross/Patel

99

1 Q Okay. No one else?

2 A The investigation with respect to the -- we got data from 3 other people but I'm the one who looked at whether there were 4 any claims related to the redemptions, any objections to any of 5 the other distributions, any objections to the fees, and we 6 found none.

7 Q Okay. So no outside counsel advised you with respect to 8 whether Mr. Okada had potentially breached any duties to the 9 fund?

10 A No, again, it's not something that we would have looked at 11 with no evidence whatsoever that there was any sort of 12 complaint or breach.

13 Q Okay. All right. Mr. Seery, with respect to the, I'll 14 call it the agreement because I'm assuming that it is an 15 agreement, that Mr. Dondero's counsel announced on the record
16 regarding putting the funds that would otherwise be payable to 17 Mr. Dondero into the registry of the Court. Do you have an 18 understanding whether that agreement also extends to Highland 19 Capital Management Services?

20 A Yeah, just to be clear because, again, we should be 21 precise, Mr. Dondero was not going to receive any money. The 22 CLO Holdco, which is owned by the charitable DAF has 23 investments in the Argentina Fund and the Dynamic Fund. It was 24 going to receive money. Highland Capital Services has around a 25 2 percent interest in RCP, it was going to receive money.

Seery - Cross/Patel

100

1 I understand that Mr. Dondero, through his counsel,
2 directed that the distribution to Highland Capital Services
3 would not be made. Mr. Okada owns 25 percent of that, he was 4 not consulted. I know that because I spoke to Mr. Okada. The 5 distribution with respect to the CLO Holdco has been similarly
6 treated, but that was done by Grant Scott talking to Mr. Nelms
7 (phonetic) for the charitable DAF that controls the CLO Holdco.

8 Q Okay. So, again, to be clear, Mr. Okada has not consented
9 to the agreement that was announced on the record with respect
10 to any distributions to Highland Capital Management Services.
11 Correct?

12 A He has not, but since he doesn't control it and Mr.
13 Dondero does, the agreement is binding.

14 Q Okay. And how do you know that Mr. Dondero controls
15 Highland Capital Management Services?

16 A Mr. Okada told me.

17 Q Okay. All right. Mr. Seery, with respect to Mr. Okada, I
18 believe your testimony was he separated from Highland Capital
19 Management in September of 2019. Correct?

20 A I believe I testified that he originally began his 21 separation in the spring, I don't know exactly when it was, and 22 I believe his official resignation was some time around
23 September.

24 Q Okay. Would September 30 of 2019 sound about right?

25 A It -- approximately, I don't know the date.

Seery - Cross/Patel

101

1 Q Okay. So it was towards the end of September though.

2 Correct?

3 A I don't -- I don't know whether it was September 1,
4 September 15 or September 30, I just don't know the answer.

5 Q Okay. And at the time Mr. Okada separated from Highland
6 or any time before then, did Mr. Okada have a non-compete
7 agreement?

8 A I have not looked at Mr. Okada's contract.

9 Q Okay.

10 A So I don't know.

11 Q All right. Does -- did Mr. Okada have something called a 12 non-solicit --

13 A I don't know.

14 Q -- where he wouldn't solicit clients for example of 15 Highland Capital Management?

16 A I don't know.

17 Q Okay. Did Mr. Okada have what's called a non-recruit 18 where he wouldn't come in and try and recruit employees of 19 Highland Capital Management?

20 A Again, because I haven't looked at his contract, if he had 21 one, I don't know that he did, and because I haven't looked at 22 it, and I testified that I haven't seen this severance
23 agreement he's talking about, I don't have any understanding of 24 the terms of Mr. Okada's employment with Highland Capital
25 Management.

Seery - Cross/Patel

102

1 Q Okay. So you just haven't looked at any of those things.

2 A That's correct.

3 Q All right. Are you aware -- well, did you have an
4 opportunity to look at -- I believe there was a press release
5 that was somewhere around September 2019 where Mr. Okada said
6 he was actually retiring from Highland Capital Management?

7 A I would have no reason to have looked at such a thing in
8 September.

9 Q Okay. All right. So you haven't seen that. Let me ask
10 you another question, are you aware that Mr. Okada has a new 11 business by the name of Sycamore Tree Capital?

12 A I'm aware that he intends to start a new fund, I have no
13 idea what the name is and I'd have no idea what development --
14 stage of development it's in.

15 Q Okay. Are you aware if any Highland employees have been 16 engaged by Sycamore Tree Capital

17 A I'm aware that at least one maybe, I'd have no idea
18 whether that employee, ex-employee now, is involved or not.

19 Q And isn't that employee Troy Parker?

20 A That's correct, yes.

21 Q Okay. What did Troy Parker do for Highland Capital
22 Management?

23 A Most recently he ran the PE book.

24 Q Okay.

25 MS. PATEL: No further questions, Your Honor.

Seery - By the Court

103

1 THE COURT: All right. We have seven minutes. Do
2 you have questions, Judge Lynn? We have a little bit of time?

3 JUDGE LYNN: No, but I just want to make clear Mr.
4 Dondero's suggestion for resolving the motion was not a
5 dickered agreement, it was a suggestion that we would hope
6 would make life easier for the parties and the Court.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Thank you.

8 I had one or two questions. Is there going to be 9 redirect? Well, no, you used all your time, you don't get 10 redirect.

11 (Laughter.)

12

13 MS. HAYWARD: And, Your Honor, I don't have redirect.

14 THE COURT: Oh, very good.

15

EXAMINATION

16 BY THE COURT:

17 Q Let me ask you, sir, I want to revisit Dynamic, that's the 18 one I hear most about obviously since that's the one that Mr.
19 Okada --

20 A Yes.

21 Q -- has the distribution rights from. You know, I was 22 fixated before I came out here a little on the time line.
23 Right? So the pleadings said Dynamic, the termination date was 24 November 15, 2019.

25 A Correct, Your Honor.

Seery - By the Court

104

1 Q About 30 days after the Highland bankruptcy was filed.

2 What I heard your testimony to be was that pre-petition the

3 largest third-party investor -- I wrote it down phonetically --

4 A Realdania.

5 Q -- Realdania --

6 A I'm not sure if there's someone in the courtroom who know
7 them.

8 Q Sounds like a Spanish company maybe.

9 A I believe they're a European company, it's an investor I'm 10 not familiar with, Your Honor, but I have seen the redemption
11 notices.

12 Q Okay. They issued a $65 million --

13 A I believe it was in the neighborhood of 65 million, yes.

14 Q And it was pre-petition? You wouldn't know?

15 A It was pre-petition, I think it was around 40 percent of 16 the fund.

17 Q Okay. I mean do you remember when? Was it --

18 A I believe it was in the spring and it followed a -- spring
19 or early summer and it followed a separate redemption from a
20 different investor.

21 Q Okay. So there was another third-party investor, even 22 before Realdania that --

23 A That's my recollection, yes, Your Honor.

24 Q -- that was unaffiliated with Highland.

25 A That's correct.

Seery - By the Court

105

1 Q Okay. So it's your business judgment that once these two
2 biggies issued their redemptions, it just wasn't worthwhile to
3 keep this fund going anymore.

4 A That's correct, Your Honor. And as I said, Mr. Okada was 5 a driver to that fund and he had left. He did not actually
6 redeem, but he was being compulsory redeemed as the fund went 7 into liquidation. So all of the investors, redeemed and non,
8 will be treated the same.

9 Q All right. So I guess one thing I'm getting at is timing
10 of Mr. Okada leaving versus timing of these third-party
11 redemptions happening.

12 A Right. I could --

13 Q Is there any --

14 A I see no connection whatsoever. And, again, his piece of 15 the fund was about -- I believe it was round 12 percent of the 16 fund.

17 Q Yeah, his --

18 A And it's a material amount of money I suppose to most 19 folks, including myself, but it's not -- it wasn't a driver
20 whatsoever that we could see, and he did not redeem. So the 21 third-party redeemed, Okada was leaving having been the driver
22 of the fund, it was an undersized fund anyway, there was no
23 real valid reason to keep a small fund trying to do this around
24 after Mr. Okada left.

25 Q Okay. I'm just wondering whether I should or not, you

Seery - By the Court

106

1 know, the timing of this. So this is -- starts spring of 2019,
2 but then a month post-petition let's terminate this thing. I
3 mean who actually makes that decision?

4 A Well, the decision to continue forward is made by the 5 board. Before that it would have been made by the managers of 6 the funds or the compliance group. So I have not looked into
7 specifically who said, Let's terminate it. To be perfectly
8 frank, I don't know --

9 Q But it would --

10 A -- the specifics.

11 Q -- the manager, Highland?

12 A It's Highland who determines to terminate it. Ultimately,
13 if all the investors issued redemption notices, then the fund
14 would have to liquidate --

15 Q Right.

16 A -- on its own. So Highland --

17 Q Right.

18 A -- wouldn't have any say about it. But to put it into 19 liquidation, I believe it was Highland that did it. Some of 20 the funds, it could be foreign directors, but that's not what 21 happened.

22 Q Uh-huh. Okay. So there are third-party non-affiliated 23 investors still in it, there's 35 million that would go out the 24 door and --

25 A It's about -- there's a couple of assets that still have

Seery - By the Court

107

1 to be liquidated. Approximately 85 percent of the distribution
2 is to third-party un-affiliated investors. And then we --
3 we'll have -- we'll retain some cash to make sure that we can 4 manage the liquidation of the fund and the dissolution of the 5 entities. But we still have to get rid of a small amount of 6 assets that are pretty liquid.

7 Q Okay. Now I heard you also say that Highland isn't owning
8 any fees anymore on these refunds. Did I not hear you say
9 that?

10 A Yeah, certainly -- so I think on ours I think. On Dynamic 11 and on AROF, the Argentina Recovery Opportunity Fund, once they 12 were put into liquidation they don't earn any fees anymore.
13 The --

14 Q Okay. Let me -- okay, so when did that stop, when were 15 they "put into liquidation" so the management fees stop?

16 A I believe that Dynamic would have been in the fall, I
17 don't know the exact date, and Argentina --

18 Q Well --

19 A -- was before that.

20 Q -- the Court termination date used in the pleadings was
21 November 20, 2019.

22 A Yeah, but I don't recall the exact date, Your Honor. We 23 can certainly figure that out, I just don't recall off the top
24 of my head. When the fee cutoff date -- the fee cutoff date
25 for RCP was I believe in April of 2018 when the one-year

Seery - By the Court

108

1 extension was given. That was the trade for the extension.

2 Q Okay. But you don't know for sure when the management fee
3 cutoff was --

4 A No.

5 Q -- on either Argentina or Dynamic.

6 A No, that's correct, Your Honor.

7 Q I mean would it have been in November 2019 you think?

8 A I think it was before that, but I don't -- I believe so
9 but I don't know for sure.

10 Q Okay.

11 A If I'm wrong, I'll figure that out and correct it to you.

12 Q Okay. All right. Thank you. You're --

13 A Thank you.

14 Q -- excused.

15 A Thank you.

16 THE COURT: Does anyone in the room know the answer
17 to that?

18 MS. HAYWARD: Your Honor, we can figure it out very 19 quickly I think.

20 THE COURT: Really? Okay.

21 (Pause in the proceedings.)

22 THE COURT: Actually I had one more question for Mr.
23 Seery.

24 THE WITNESS: Yes.

25 BY THE COURT:

Seery - By the Court

109

1 Q Do we have any other Highland managed funds out there that
2 are imminently going to be going into wind-down mode? Is that
3 easy to answer?

4 A We have a number of CLO funds that are what we call 1.0
5 CLOs. They're old and they're effectively winding down. And a
6 number of those we don't get fees off of, but they had --
7 because they own very illiquid assets, we have to realize on 8 those assets. May of those have cross-ownership to funds that 9 we do get fees on. We need --

10 Q Let me back you up. Why didn't Highland get fees on 11 those?

12 A Because sometimes in the CLO structure it depends on what 13 kind of asset gets treated under the net asset value, so for 14 example if it's equity, it may not count, even if it has a
15 value, you don't get paid a fee on it. So if you had a loan
16 that converted to equity, some of those CLOs you may not get a
17 fee on because you don't own any loans anymore. So, but most 18 of those assets, if a CLO owned equity for example in a PE
19 company, we would have other funds that owned additional equity
20 in that same PE company.

21 We do have other assets where they aren't necessarily 22 wind-down, but there will be distributions to entities that may 23 or may not be related parties under the protocols, and we are 24 in the process, and the Committee's aware of it, selling
25 certain assets, and hopefully those sales will go the way we

Seery - By the Court

110

1 want them to. They're valuable assets so we feel we have a
2 good opportunity to realize good value for the estate. There
3 would be requirements on certain of them to pay off debt from 4 certain entities before we can distribute money back up to 5 Highland Capital.

6 Q All right. Thank you.

7 A Thank you.

8 THE COURT: You're excused.

9 All right. Anything else today?

10 MR. POMERANTZ: Do you want to hear closings, or have 11 you heard enough, Your Honor?

12 THE COURT: I mean if you have a quick one or two 13 minute closing, I'll hear that, to recap anything. Did you
14 have that quick answer that Ms. Hayward --

15 MR. POMERANTZ: We are --

16 THE COURT: -- was confident about?

17 MR. POMERANTZ: We are trying to find it.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. POMERANTZ: We have a couple of emails out,
20 hopefully by, we get a couple of answers.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

22 CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DEBTOR

23 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, I just wanted the 24 highlight the fiduciary duty as you -- I know it was a subject
25 of discussion with Mr. Seery, cross-examination. Again, as you

1 heard, and as the only evidence before Your Honor is, Mr.
2 Seery, who as Your Honor knows is a restructuring lawyer,
3 practice in it. He's fully aware of what the fiduciary duty
4 requires.

5 And first and foremost, I think it may even be 28 USC
6 959, the Debtor has to operate in accordance with applicable
7 law. Every debtor before Your Honor has to act in accordance 8 with applicable law, and if the debtor is not acting in 9 accordance with applicable law, then they are creating 10 liability. As Mr. Seery testified, that is exactly what that 11 the Debtor is doing. And this concept of dueling fiduciary
12 duties or the board taking certain actions that just happened
13 to benefit insiders as indicating that they are not looking out
14 for the estate is just not accurate. That's not how the law
15 works and I think Mr. Seery said it correctly, that the Debtor
16 fulfills its fiduciary duty to the estate by operating in 17 accordance with applicable law.

18 With respect to 105, Your Honor, the cases cited by 19 the Committee don't support granting injunctive relief forward
20 of attachment without going through the necessary process.
21 They do cite the DeLorean case which at first blush sounds like 22 a court authorized the holding of money, but if you read that 23 case carefully, it was done because there was a complaint and 24 because the Court ultimately determined that the evidence
25 before the Court established grounds for preliminary

1 injunction.

2 Mr. Clemente has asked Your Honor to hold that the 3 objection filed satisfies the standard. But the objection
4 isn't a legal document. The Committee has not put on any 5 evidence to support any claims that exist. The testimony from 6 Mr. Seery is that there's a claim under a note and that there
7 are defenses to the note. So Your Honor does not have the 8 sufficient evidentiary basis in order to meet the standards of 9 the injunction of which irreparable harm -- there's a whole
10 host of reasons.

11 So while we understand what the Committee wanted to 12 do. If they wanted to file an action, they could have. We 13 don't expect them to have completed their investigation on all
14 the types of claims they're looking at. But they've been aware 15 of this Okada note for a couple of months. It would not have 16 been difficult for them to file, as they have standing, a
17 lawsuit to recover any. They asked us to issue a demand note,
18 we did, and we got the answer.

19 So, Your Honor, I don't think there's a basis under 20 105, the way it's being used here and the lack of evidentiary
21 record to support it. And for those reasons, Your Honor, we 22 would ask that Your Honor support the motion and other than the 23 distributions that are being held in the registry, allow the 24 distribution to be made to Mr. Okada.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MR. POMERANTZ: Thank you, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: All right. Other quick closings?

3 MR. CLEMENTE: Your Honor, I'll be very quick.

4 CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE COMMITTEE

5 MR. CLEMENTE: There's obviously a lot more that I
6 could say, but I'll be respectful and be very quick.

7 First of all, Your Honor is the judge and you're the 8 one that determines what the law is and what the duties
9 ultimately are for this Debtor. Mr. Seery I think indicated in 10 his testimony that, for what it's worth, he does not believe
11 that there would be a viable claim for breach of fiduciary duty 12 if Your Honor ordered the distribution to Mr. Okada be put in 13 the Court registry.

14 I think the testimony was clear from Mr. Seery that 15 Mr. Okada, at all times relevant, when all the things that 16 happened that involved the Redeemer Committee, that involved
17 Acis, that involved UBS, Mr. Okada was at least co-Chief 18 Investment Officer and we all know he was co-founder of 19 Highland. I think Your Honor's questions, and perhaps 20 frustration with sort of trying to figure out some of the 21 answers, show how interrelated all of these things are and the 22 various capacities and roles that Mr. Okada had back at the 23 time when all these different transactions occurred.

24 I think the testimony we heard is that Mr. Seery did
25 a lot of work around why we should pay Mr. Okada, but almost no

1 work around why we shouldn't pay Mr. Okada. And so I go back
2 to what I said earlier, Your Honor, I think Mr. Okada is 3 perfectly capable of coming into this court and arguing that 4 once the monies that were put into this Court's registry should 5 be distributed to him, he can come in and do that.

6 But I think for purposes of today, Your Honor has 7 heard more than enough to come to the conclusion that the 8 appropriate remedy here is to place the money within the 9 registry of this Court. It satisfies the fiduciary duty of the 10 Debtor and it protects the interest of Mr. Okada, who is free
11 to come into this court and make whatever argument he so
12 chooses as to his entitlement to those funds.

13 Unless Your Honor has any questions of me, I'll sit 14 down.

15 THE COURT: Thank you.

16 MR. CLEMENTE: Thank you.

17 THE COURT: Anything else?

18 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, in answer to you
19 question, November 11 was the date that the fees were no longer
20 payable to the Debtor in the Dynamic Fund.

21 THE COURT: November 11 post-petition.

22 MR. POMERANTZ: Correct.

23 THE COURT: I like being transparent and I -- and so
24 I sometimes share my thoughts hoping that it will help. But 25 I'm -- you all get why I'm fixated on this point? Maybe I'm

1 sharing my thoughts when I don't have to. But the time line
2 looks suspect, whether it should be or not, it looks maybe
3 problematic. Do you see what I'm saying?

4 We had this fund that I understand never got to real
5 scale and in spring 2019 we have a couple of big unrelated
6 third-parties -- third-party investors issue redemptions and 7 that makes it really not a very worthwhile fund, so maybe it
8 should go into wind-down mode. Nevertheless, Highland has been 9 continuing to get its management fee. I don't know how much
10 management fee, but it's been getting a management fee until it
11 files bankruptcy, and then, Oh, let's wind this sucker down.

12 Do you see what -- you know, I don't know. I mean
13 again, a hearing for another day. But this is the kind of 14 thing I get concerned about, and maybe kind of want to look
15 into the bona fides of the decision making process to wind
16 down, let's terminate this thing and make disbursements. And,
17 you know, did we have any fingerprints of this on insiders that 18 should make me troubled. I don't know. I mean if I'm going 19 out on a lark here, just stop me.

20 MR. POMERANTZ: Well, look, Your Honor, I certainly 21 understand why you're concerned. As you said at the first 22 hearing, you have stuff in your head that you can't forget, and 23 I understand. I wasn't around but I understand the history and 24 especially the history with certainly similar things that may 25 have happened in the Acis case.

1 The facts are that Realdania made its redemption
2 request on August 15, the fees that the -- August 15, but that
3 the liquidation was the time where the management fees stopped,
4 which incidentally were $12,000 a month based upon the level of 5 this spot.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 MR. POMERANTZ: So, Your Honor, I understand your
8 concerns, however, what I would say is, you have Mr. Seery here
9 answering your questions. You have Mr. Seery who said he's 10 conducted an thorough investigation. At some point, and I'm -- 11 you know, obviously you brought up a couple of questions, at 12 some point the creditors -- Your Honor has to accept that if 13 the board has done a thorough analysis, and we're coming into 14 this hearing today, and before we filed the motion, as Mr.
15 Seery said, we crossed all our Ts and dotted all our Is.

16 We spent a lot of money collectively, the different
17 firms that are involved, because we wanted to make sure it's 18 the right thing. We understood that coming to Your Honor
19 asking to pay investors who are related parties, given the 20 context of this case and given the Committee's opposition, was 21 going to be a big challenge. We thought it was the right thing
22 to do, but we wanted to make sure Your Honor knows that the 23 board actually did a thorough investigation, again, spearheaded 24 by Mr. Seery, who is not just someone off the street, but as he 25 testified, this is what he's done over the last 10-15 years.

1 So I certainly understand Your Honor's concerns. Mr.
2 Seery I think has testified about the thorough investigation,
3 and that the 12,000 a month, that I think if he got back on the 4 stand, he would testify that would be a breach of duty to the 5 investors to continue on getting fees. There's an obligation
6 at some point, when the redemptions happened, to either pay the 7 redemptions, put the fund in liquidation, and that's what
8 happened.

9 And just because it wasn't done by the board, it was 10 done before, it was important, as I mentioned in my opening,
11 and as Mr. Seery testified, he looked at that carefully and 12 thoroughly. He didn't want to be embarrassed, we didn't want
13 to be embarrassed coming in and not having those answers. So,
14 Your Honor, this is a long way of saying I think at some point
15 the board is entitled to the deference of business judgment if 16 they can demonstrate that they've gone through the process
17 necessary to earn the deference to business judgment, which I
18 think Mr. Seery has done.

19 THE COURT: Okay. And while we're on the subject, I
20 mean 12,000 a month was the management fee to Highland from 21 Dynamic. What was the management fee from Argentina, do you
22 have that off the top of your head?

23 MR. SEERY: It would have been in the same -- these 24 are approximately --

25 THE COURT: The same range?

1 MR. SEERY: -- the same neighborhood.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. SEERY: That the meetings would be based upon
4 fees.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. SEERY: Or the redemptions (indiscernible)
7 variable asset now (indiscernible).

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. SEERY: (indiscernible).

10 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Just a minute while I
11 do some math.

12 (Pause in the proceedings.)

13 THE COURT: All right. I'm doing this math in my 14 head. There's a $7.4 million note receivable from HCM Services
15 of which Okada is the 25 percent owner of.

16 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, 7.4 is not the demand
17 notes. Again, 985,000 is the demand notes. The rest of those 18 notes are performing and not in the fall.

19 THE COURT: Okay. All right. With regard to the 20 motion and the objection and the Committee there's been a lot
21 of argument about 105 and what it permits the Court to do and 22 what it doesn't as far as fashioning an equitable remedy here.
23 Here I mean it's clear that this Debtor has receivables owed by 24 these related parties, although they don't necessarily match up
25 perfectly with the amount of disbursements that are owed by

1 these funds and of course the funds are separate legal entities
2 than the Debtor. So I'm not glossing over that fact or 3 ignoring that fact.

4 But I do think the Court has broad equitable powers
5 to remedy -- to fashion remedies that preserve the status quo
6 and I think it is appropriate here to order that most of this
7 money, that most of the 8.6 million that would go to related 8 investors in these three funds, be put into the registry of the 9 court pending further motions, orders, adversary proceedings
10 anyone wants to file to make a claim to that money. I said
11 most of it.

12 I am going to order that with regard to the amount
13 that would be payable to Mr. Okada, the 4.176 million, we will 14 subtract from that the 1.3 million that represents the demand
15 note receivable that the Debtor has so that I'm essentially 16 doing an equitable offset at that point. So he can only be 17 paid -- he should only be paid from the Dynamic Fund whatever 18 4.176 million minus 1.3 million is, and the rest shall be put 19 into the registry of the court. And everybody's rights are 20 reserved on anything and everything with regarding to do tos
21 and do froms.

22 I reserve the right to supplement in more detail in a
23 written form of order to justify the Court's 105 action here.
24 But, Mr. Pomerantz, I'd ask you to upload a form of order on 25 this, please.

1 MR. POMERANTZ: We'll be happy to, Your Honor. We'll
2 circulate it to the Committee and Ms. Patel as well.

3 THE COURT: All right. Well, thank you all, and --

4 MR. CLEMENTE: Your Honor, but just to be clear
5 though, the other amounts, correct, to HCM Services and CLO
6 Holdco, would that be part of the order or what did Your Honor
7 have in mind with respect to that?

8 THE COURT: Well --

9 MR. CLEMENTE: Because I believe those are to be 10 deposited with the Court as well, yes.

11 THE COURT: -- all of -- everything gets deposited 12 in the registry of the court, except Mr. Okada will get 13 whatever the differential is of 4.176 minus 1.3. Okay?

14 MR. CLEMENTE: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

16 COURT SECURITY OFFICER: All rise.

ANY RESPONSE SHALL BE IN WRITING AND FILED WITH THE CLERK OF THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT AT EARLE CABELL FEDERAL BUILDING, 1100 COMMERCE STREET ROOM 1254, DALLAS, TEXAS 75242 BEFORE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON MAY 1, 2020, WHICH IS AT LEAST FOURTEEN (14) DAYS FROM THE DATE OF SERVICE HEREOF. A COPY SHALL BE SERVED UPON COUNSEL FOR THE MOVING PARTY AND ANY TRUSTEE OR EXAMINER APPOINTED IN THE CASE. ANY RESPONSE SHALL INCLUDE A DETAILED AND COMPREHENSIVE STATEMENT AS TO HOW THE MOVANT CAN BE "ADEQUATELY PROTECTED" IF THE STAY IS TO BE CONTINUED.

Creditors and parties-in-interest in the above-caption bankruptcy case, Acis Capital Management, L.P. and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC (collectively "Acis"), file this Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Allow Pursuit of Motion for Order to Show Cause For Violations of the Acis Plan Injunction (the "Motion") pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d) regarding Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland" or the "Debtor") and parties acting in concert with the Debtor, including, Highland CLO Funding, Ltd. ("Highland Funding" and Highland are sometimes collectively referred to as the "Highlands"), William Scott ("Scott"), Heather Bestwick ("Bestwick"), J.P. Sevilla ("Sevilla"), Scott Ellington ("Ellington"), James Dondero ("Dondero," and together with the Highlands, Scott, Bestwick, Sevilla and Ellington, the "Violators"),¹ and any other agents of Highland Funding and Highland that participated in the plan injunction violations, and show as follows:

SUMMARY OF MOTION

1. After Highland filed for bankruptcy, Acis was hopeful it was a new day at Highland. Acis hoped that Highland would see that the continuation of its failed litigation strategy was not only futile, but also self-destructive, and that the Debtor would turn over a new leaf. Thus, in an attempt to foster potential reconciliation and to provide Debtor's newly-appointed independent board with room to maneuver, Acis deferred pursuing the many wrongs which were needlessly inflicted on it and its principal, from a frivolous lawsuit in Guernsey meant to undermine this Court, to litigation against non-debtor individuals for, among other things, breaches of fiduciary duties owed to Acis.

¹ Highland Funding, Scott, Bestwick, Sevilla, Ellington, and Dondero, again, as non-debtors are not protected by the automatic stay, as further described below. To the extent their individual actions on behalf of Highland are protected by the automatic stay, Acis requests relief from the automatic stay, as further described below.

2. Acis can no longer sit back.² The time has come for Highland and the individuals who have engaged in wrongdoing (some of whom continue as highly-compensated employees at the Debtor) to face individual consequences for their actions. The legal process is not a game, and the Violators will only understand that when they are subjected to personal accountability for their actions. Good cause exists to lift the automatic stay and permit Acis to pursue the matters set forth in the draft Motion for Order to Show Cause for Plan Injunction Violations attached hereto as Exhibit 1 (the "Show Cause Motion").³ The Court should grant the Motion – it is well-founded.

STATUTORY BASIS AND JURISDICTION

3. The basis for this Motion is 11 U.S.C. §§ 105 and 362, Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 4001, and Rule 4001-1 of the Local Rules for the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the "Local Rules").⁴ This Court has jurisdiction over this Motion pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b). This matter is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157, and venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

² Acis has engaged in a good-faith effort to work with the Board (as hereinafter defined) and attempt to resolve its Highland-related issues without litigation. During those efforts, Acis was sued in New York federal district court (the "DAF Lawsuit"), many claims of which arose from Acis's bankruptcy in this Court. The DAF Lawsuit harmed Acis's reputation and clouds its attempts at a successful reorganization pursuant to this Court's confirmed plan. While the DAF Lawsuit was eventually voluntarily dismissed, without prejudice, that happened only at the urging of the Board. The filing of the DAF Lawsuit demonstrates that the same group of individuals that led the Debtor through a failed litigation strategy, and ultimately bankruptcy, still have significant sway at the Debtor and its affiliates. Nevertheless, Acis appreciates the Board's role and the dismissal of the DAF Lawsuit.

³ As indicated, the Show Cause Motion is merely a draft and Acis reserves the right to amend or revise it prior to filing, including the ability to make material modifications to the Show Cause Motion. Regardless, the Show Cause Motion provides the parties and the Court with ample notice of the basis for Acis's request for stay relief. Any terms not defined herein have the meanings ascribed to such terms by the Show Cause Motion.

⁴ Pursuant to Local Rule 4001-1(e) Acis intends to serve its evidentiary affidavit in advance of any hearing on this Motion, in compliance with the Local Rules.

RELEVANT FACTS

4. In addition to the matters specifically set forth below, Acis relies on and incorporates herein the fact section of the Show Cause Motion outlining the Guernsey Action and related matters in the Acis bankruptcy.

5. On October 16, 2019, Debtor filed this bankruptcy case.

6. On January 9, 2020, the Court entered an order approving a settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors, which, in turn, approved the installation of a new, independent board of directors (the "Board") for the Debtor. Dkt. No. 339 in Case No. 19-34054.

7. On January 31, 2020, after the installation of the Board, Michael Hurst, this time on behalf of the Charitable Donor Advised Fund, L.P. (the "DAF"), filed a Second Amended Complaint in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York against U.S. Bank National Association, Moody's Investors Services, Inc., Acis Capital Management, L.P., Brigade Capital Management, LP, and Joshua N. Terry. A true and correct copy of the amended complaint is attached hereto as Exhibit 2 (the "Amended Complaint"). This Court might recognize some or all of the parties in the Amended Complaint—as well as Mr. Hurst, who has regularly represented Highland before this Court and others—from the Acis Bankruptcy. The DAF is nominally controlled by Mr. Dondero's college roommate, Grant Scott.

8. On February 5, 2020, at the DAF's request, Judge Buchwald of the Southern District of New York dismissed the Amended Complaint. A true and correct copy of Judge Buchwald's order (a notation on Mr. Hurst's letter) is attached as Exhibit 3.

9. On February 6, 2020—the next day—the DAF and CLO Holdco, Ltd., a subsidiary of the DAF and also controlled by Mr. Dondero's college roommate (and, upon information and belief, Mr. Dondero), filed suit in the United States District Court of the Southern District of New York, again naming the same Acis-Bankruptcy-related parties, U.S. Bank National Association,

Moody's Investors Services, Inc., Acis Capital Management, L.P., Brigade Capital Management, LP, and Joshua N. Terry (the "Complaint"). A true and correct copy of the Complaint is attached as Exhibit 4.

10. On February 25, 2020, at the Board's urging, the DAF and CLO Holdco, Ltd. filed a Notice of Voluntary Dismissal Without Prejudice, a true and correct copy of which is attached as Exhibit 5.

11. On the other hand, the Guernsey Lawsuit (further described by the Show Cause Motion), initiated at the direction and behest of Highland as a naked collateral attack on this Court, remains pending across the Atlantic.

ARGUMENT & AUTHORITY

12. Acis does not believe that the automatic stay protects the non-Highland, non-Debtor Violators. See In re Arrow Huss, Inc., 51 B.R. 853, 856 (Bankr. D. Utah 1985) (collecting cases). ("it is well settled that Section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code, which stays actions against the debtor and against property of the estate, does not forbid actions against its nondebtor principals, partners, officers, employees, co-obligors, guarantors, or sureties."); see also Wedgeworth v. Fibreboard Corp., 706 F.2d 541, 544 (5th Cir. 1983); Mar. Elec. Co. v. United Jersey Bank, 959 F.2d 1194, 1205 (3d Cir. 1991) ("the automatic stay is not available to non-bankrupt co-defendants of a debtor even if they are in a similar legal or factual nexus with the debtor."). However, Acis files this Motion, with respect to the non-Highland Violators, out of an abundance of caution. See Brown v. Chesnut (In re Chesnut), 422 F.3d. 298, 304 (5th Cir. 2005) (providing that creditors should seek order of the court before foreclosing or seizing arguable property of the estate). To the extent this Court finds it necessary to determine if causes exists to lift the automatic stay as to non-Highland, non-Debtor Violators, cause exists for the reasons set forth below.

13. This Court has broad discretion to alter or modify the automatic stay under Section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code. The statutory predicate for granting relief from the automatic stay is Section 362(d) of the Bankruptcy Code. That section provides:

On request of a party in interest and after notice and a hearing, the court shall grant relief from the stay provided under subsection (a) of this section, such as by terminating, annulling, modifying, or conditioning such stay —

(1) for cause, including the lack of adequate protection of an interest in property of such party in interest;

14. Because neither the Bankruptcy Code nor the legislative history provides a specific definition of what constitutes "cause" under Section 362(d)(1), courts must determine whether relief is appropriate on a case-by-case basis. Reitnauer v. Tex. Exotic Feline Found., Inc. (In re Reitnauer), 152 F.3d 341, 343 n.4 (5th Cir. 1998). "Cause is an intentionally broad and flexible concept, made so in order to permit the courts to respond in equity to inherently fact-sensitive situations." Mooney v. Gill, 310 B.R. 543, 546-547 (N.D. Tex. 2002) (quoting In re Sentry Park, Ltd., 87 B.R. 427, 430 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 1988)). Acis is entitled to stay relief under Section 362(d)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code to permit Acis to file and pursue to order, before this Court or any other court, the Show Cause Motion because the Violators have repeatedly violated this Court's orders and have effectively prevented Acis from reorganizing.

15. "The purposes of the bankruptcy stay under 11 U.S.C. § 362 are to protect the debtor's assets, provide temporary relief from creditors, and further equity of distribution among the creditors by forestalling a race to the courthouse." Reliant Energy Servs. v. Enron Can. Corp., 349 F.3d 816, 825 (5th Cir. 2003). By the Show Cause Motion, Acis is not attempting to gain preferential treatment among Highland's creditors, but rather hold the Violators responsible for their post-confirmation actions against Acis.

16. The Show Cause Motion requests this Court hold the Violators responsible for their post-confirmation actions against Acis, actions that violate this Court's confirmation order. The Court should exercise its broad discretion to lift the automatic stay to allow Acis to proceed on the Show Cause Motion before this Court, the very Court where Debtor's Chapter 11 bankruptcy is pending. Ultimately, this Court will grant any relief granted pursuant to the Show Cause Motion. This Court can ensure that all of the various stakeholders' interests are protected vis-à-vis the Show Cause Motion.

17. The automatic stay does not permanently protect Highland from answering for its violations of this Court's orders.⁵ None of the policy goals of the automatic stay are furthered by preventing the enforcement of this Court's own orders against debtors in bankruptcy like Highland. Further, allowing Highland's bankruptcy proceeding to shield the Violators from accountability for their actions in another pending bankruptcy case only emboldens and benefits the wrongdoers. If this Court does not enforce its own orders, who will? If individuals and entities believe they can flout this Court's orders with impunity, the Court's authority is, at a minimum, severely undermined and, at worst, wholly eviscerated.

18. Contempt powers are necessary to ensure that "courts [are not] impotent." Gompers v. Buck's Stove & Range Co., 221 U.S. 418, 450 (1911). The Court has cause to lift the automatic stay to demonstrate exactly that.

19. There is good cause in this case for the Court to grant Acis relief from the automatic stay pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d)(1).

⁵ Highland is responsible for all of the actions of Highland, its agents, and its affiliates, including Highland Funding. In re Acis Capital Mgmt., L.P., 18-30264-SGJ-11, 2019 WL 417149, at *7 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Jan. 31, 2019), aff'd, 604 B.R. 484 (N.D. Tex. 2019).

20. Acis does not believe that the automatic stay protects the non-Highland, non-Debtor Violators. See In re Arrow Huss, Inc., 51 B.R. 853, 856 (Bankr. D. Utah 1985) (collecting cases). ("it is well settled that Section 362 of the Bankruptcy Code, which stays actions against the debtor and against property of the estate, does not forbid actions against its nondebtor principals, partners, officers, employees, co-obligors, guarantors, or sureties."); see also Wedgeworth v. Fibreboard Corp., 706 F.2d 541, 544 (5th Cir. 1983); Mar. Elec. Co. v. United Jersey Bank, 959 F.2d 1194, 1205 (3d Cir. 1991) ("the automatic stay is not available to non-bankrupt co-defendants of a debtor even if they are in a similar legal or factual nexus with the debtor."). However, Acis files this motion, with respect to the non-Highland Violators, out of an abundance of caution. See Brown v. Chesnut (In re Chesnut), 422 F.3d. 298, 304 (5th Cir. 2005) (providing that creditors should seek order of the court before foreclosing or seizing arguable property of the estate). To the extent this Court finds it necessary to determine if cause exists to lift the automatic stay as to non-Highland, non-Debtor Violators, cause exists for the reasons set forth above.

WAIVER OF BANKRUPTCY RULE 4001(a)(3) STAY

21. To the extent applicable, cause exists to lift the 14-day stay of Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 4001(a)(3). Removing the 14-day stay is an appropriate remedy to immediately permit Acis to file and prosecute the Show Cause Motion.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Acis respectfully requests that upon hearing of the Motion, the Court grant Acis stay relief permitting Acis to file and pursue to order, before this Court or any other court, the Show Cause Motion, and any other relief to which Acis is entitled.

Dated: April 17, 2020.

James Dondero ("Dondero"), and any other agents of Highland Funding and Highland that participated in the plan injunction violations, and show as follows:

SUMMARY OF MOTION

The plan injunction entered by the Court and effective February 15, 2019, prohibits the continuation of actions against Acis's property arising before the effective date. Despite this clear prohibition, Highland and Highland Funding, along with Sevilla, Ellington, Scott and Bestwick—all at the behest and direction of Dondero (collectively the "Violators")—have perpetuated an action in the Isle of Guernsey against Joshua N. Terry ("Mr. Terry") that pursues claims owned by Acis and that also clearly undermines Acis's plan of reorganization and seeks to circumvent this Court's authority. Stated another way, the Violators are pursuing an action against Acis's property, a clear and unmistakable violation of the plan injunction. This is not the first time Highland, Dondero and Ellington have run to a far-flung island to re-litigate a U.S. bankruptcy court's rulings. Without question, this Court has civil contempt powers to ensure that its orders are not impotent, that parties comply with those orders, and that insults to the Court and the administration of justice have consequences. The Court should hold the Violators in civil contempt for their insulting end-run in the Isle of Guernsey and otherwise enforce the provisions of Acis's plan of reorganization.

RELEVANT FACTS

A. Highland Funding and its affiliate Highland—bracing themselves for what they thought was an impending confirmation loss—file suit against Mr. Terry in Guernsey.

1. On August 17, 2018, the Court and the parties were hard at work preparing for proceedings related to the Acis's Chapter 11 Trustee plan confirmation efforts. For example, on that day the Chapter 11 Trustee filed his ballot summary showing that the proposed plans had adequate votes for confirmation purposes. See Docket No. 523.

2. On the same day, August 17, 2018, Highland and Highland Funding were hard at work on a secretive effort they launched from Dallas, against a Dallas resident, in a small island in the English Channel—the Isle of Guernsey (the "Guernsey Lawsuit"). Upon information and belief, Highland and Highland Funding knew based upon their U.S.-based counsels' advice, that any lawsuit they filed against Mr. Terry that related to this bankruptcy would be removed to federal court (if it originated in state court), and transferred to the Northern District of Texas for likely assignment to this Court. So, they had to go beyond the jurisdiction of the United States in order to accomplish their collateral attack on this Court's authority. Upon information and belief, they picked Guernsey because at least it had some colorable relationship to Highland Funding, the entity at the center of Highland's vast fraudulent transfer scheme. Plus, Guernsey would be very inconvenient for Mr. Terry, an individual father of two trying to get away from the litigation-factory that is Highland (and that would later result in Highland's own bankruptcy).

3. Attached as Exhibit 1 is Highland Funding's application for leave to serve summons out of jurisdiction on Terry ("Application for Leave") filed on August 17, 2018. The Application for Leave begins that it is supported by the "affidavit of Jean-Paul Sevilla sworn on 17 August 2018 ..." Ex. 1 at 1 (emphasis added). Jean-Paul Sevilla is a lawyer employed by Highland.

4. Attached as Exhibit 2 is the Affidavit of Jean-Paul Sevilla signed on August 17, 2018 (the "First Sevilla Affidavit"). Sevilla signed it before a notary at 2021 McKinney Ave., Ste. 1600, Dallas, Texas 75201, which just happen to be the offices of Highland's U.S.-based bankruptcy counsel at Foley Gardere. Ex. 2 at 18.

5. In the First Sevilla Affidavit, Sevilla swears that he is "c/o Highland Capital Management, LP" and the first paragraph says "I am counsel at Highland Capital Management, LP ..." Id. at 1.

6. Sevilla swears that Mr. Terry's purported obligations to Highland Funding are derivative of Acis's. Id. at ¶11 ("The obligations of [Acis], and therefore of Mr. Terry ..."). And Sevilla repeatedly relies on agreements of which Acis and Highland Funding, f/k/a Acis Loan Funding, are parties. Id. All of the information that Sevilla swears Mr. Terry misused to file in this Court the involuntary petitions in bankruptcy for Acis and "assisting the trustee subsequently"—which is the gist of the Guernsey Lawsuit—is information that Sevilla admits Mr. Terry received as an agent for Acis:

Mr. Terry was only able to know the harm that this would cause the Company and its investors, and the pressure that would therefore be brought to bear upon Mr. Dondero and Acis, because of the confidential information described above, acquired in a fiduciary capacity and/or subject to his obligations of confidence, pertaining to the nature of the Company's investment in CLO sub-notes and the identity of the Company's investors itself. As a result, by taking these steps Mr. Terry misused confidential information in breach of fiduciary duty and/or breach of confidence.

Id. ¶43

From the exhibits to the trustee in bankruptcy's Disclosure Statement Pursuant to Section 1125 of the United States Bankruptcy Code with Respect to the Joint Plan for Acis Capital Management, L.P. and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC (the "Disclosure Statement") estimating the Administrative Claims dated 13 July 2018 (exhibited at [pages 372 to 540 of JPS1]) the Company has also become aware that a highly unorthodox fee of some US$750,000 has been proposed to be paid to Mr. Terry by the trustee in bankruptcy of the Acis entities in consideration for assistance provided by Mr. Terry in respect of proposed reorganisations, each of which involve the CLOs and very substantial detriment to the Company.

Id. ¶47

7. Sevilla also testifies under oath in the Guernsey Lawsuit with regard to the Violators' true motive in filing the Guernsey Lawsuit: the Violators were worried that this Court would confirm plans A-C, and they felt powerless to stop it (at least in the United States). So, the Violators schemed up the Guernsey Lawsuit as a way to pressure Mr. Terry. Sevilla's First Affidavit makes that clear by complaining to the Guernsey court that before this Court:

- "Plan A: Under this proposed reorganization ... the Company is forced to sell its subnotes in the 4 CLOs ..." ¶48.1
- "[U]nder this plan, the Company is being denied the true value of its ownership of the control bloc of the sub-notes underlying the 4 CLOs, since under the plan it is only being afforded a questionable liquidation value." ¶ 48.2
- "Plan B and Plan C: ... this would force the Company to stay in the 4 CLOs as "out-of-the-money" investments with a portfolio manager appointed which the Company had no say in choosing." ¶48.3.

8. Even more strikingly, Sevilla makes clear that Mr. Terry is being sued in Guernsey—at the direction of Highland, a creditor and competitor of Acis—for helping "Acis's trustee in bankruptcy [] formulate such reorganization proposals ..." Id. Highland Funding, who appeared before the Court and acted through Highland, sued Mr. Terry over four thousand miles away in Guernsey, during the course of this bankruptcy proceeding, for helping the court-appointed Chapter 11 Trustee discharge his duties to this Court and stakeholders.

9. Sevilla also accuses Mr. Phelan, a 45-year bankruptcy practitioner with a deservedly sterling reputation, of what amounts to a bribe:

(exhibited at [pages 372 to 540 of JPS1) the Company has also become aware that a highly unorthodox fee of some US$750,000 has been proposed to be paid to Mr. Terry by the trustee in bankruptcy of the Acis entities in consideration for assistance provided by Mr. Terry in respect of proposed reorganisations, each of which involve the CLOs and very substantial detriment to the Company.

Id. at ¶47. Not only is the allegation demonstrably false, it smears the name of a well-respected member of the Dallas bankruptcy bar that was acting as a fiduciary under this Court's supervision.¹

10. Overall, it is somewhat difficult to decipher the claims that Highland Funding pursues in the Guernsey Lawsuit. They are convoluted because they are specious, intended to abuse and harass Mr. Terry half-way across the world and as an end-run around this Court's orders.

B. Highland Funding's directors confirm that Highland Funding is suing Mr. Terry in Guernsey for information he possessed as portfolio manager of Acis and for actions he took only in this bankruptcy.

11. This Court, of course, did not end up confirming Plans A-B, as Highland and Highland Funding feared. See Docket No. 569. Instead, the parties moved to yet another contested confirmation hearing where Highland and Highland Funding fought every move Acis's Chapter 11 Trustee made.

12. In conjunction with the second confirmation hearing, Acis's Chapter 11 Trustee took the oral deposition of Bestwick, one of Highland Funding's supposedly "independent directors." A true and correct copy of Bestwick's deposition transcript is attached as Exhibit 3. She testified before this Court that the "thrust" of the Guernsey Lawsuit is Mr. Terry's disclosure of confidential information to the Chapter 11 Trustee "he would have had by virtue of this role with the portfolio manager prior to his termination." Ex. 3 at 104:5-107:7 (emphasis added).

Bestwick, a lawyer in Guernsey, testified that Mr. Terry shared Acis's information with Acis's Chapter 11 Trustee, and that got him sued by Highland Funding in Guernsey. Id. And finally, Bestwick testified that Mr. Terry was being sued in Guernsey solely as it relates to actions he purportedly took in conjunction with the Acis bankruptcy. Id. at 213:23-214:4.

C. The Court confirms a plan of reorganization, it becomes effective, but the Violators nevertheless continue to pursue the Guernsey Lawsuit in violation of this Court's order.

13. On January 31, 2019, this Court confirmed a plan of reorganization for Acis. See Docket No. 837 (the "Plan"). The Plan and this Court's order confirming it contains an identical plan injunction (the "Plan Injunction"). Id. at ¶19(a); Plan §14.03. The Plan Injunction includes, among other things, the following:

EFFECTIVE DATE ARE HEREBY PERMANENTLY ENJOINED AND PROHIBITED FROM THE FOLLOWING:
(a) THE COMMENCING OR CONTINUATION IN ANY MANNER, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, OF ANY ACTION, CASE, LAWSUIT OR OTHER PROCEEDING OF ANY TYPE OR NATURE AGAINST THE DEBTORS, THE ESTATE, THE REORGANIZED DEBTOR, OR THE REORGANIZED DEBTOR'S ASSETS WITH RESPECT TO ANY SUCH CLAIM OR INTEREST ARISING OR ACCRUING BEFORE THE EFFECTIVE DATE, INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMITATION THE ENTRY OR ENFORCEMENT OF ANY JUDGMENT, OR ANY OTHER ACT FOR THE COLLECTION, EITHER DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, OF ANY CLAIM OR INTEREST AGAINST THE DEBTORS, THE ESTATE, THE REORGANIZED DEBTOR, OR THE REORGANIZED DEBTOR'S ASSETS;
(b) THE CREATION, PERFECTION OR

Id.

14. The Plan went effective on February 15, 2019 (the "Effective Date"). See Docket No. 863.

15. On the day the Plan went effective, Scott signed an affidavit in continuation of the Guernsey Lawsuit, a true and correct copy of which is attached as Exhibit 4. In it, Scott asserts that he and Bestwick are "ultimately responsible for bring the Application on behalf of [Highland Funding] ... [and] instructed the firm of Guernsey advocates, Collas Crill LLP, to represent [Highland Funding] in [the Guernsey Lawsuit]." Ex. 4 at ¶13.

16. On February 18, 2019, three days after the Effective Date, it was Bestwick's turn to engage in continuation of the Guernsey Lawsuit. On that day, she signed the Affidavit of Heather Bestwick, a true and correct copy of which is attached as Exhibit 5. In it, Bestwick takes on this Court's findings head on and "questions whether [Highland Funding] would receive a fair trial" before this Court, and she confirms that "the ultimate decision to bring [the Guernsey Lawsuit] was our own ..." Ex. 5. at ¶¶13-14.

17. Again on February 18, 2019, three days after the Effective Date, Highland's assistant general counsel, Sevilla, signed an affidavit in continuation of the Guernsey Lawsuit before a notary employee of Highland, a true and correct copy of which is attached as Exhibit 6 (the "Second Sevilla Affidavit"). Sevilla makes clear that Highland Funding is pursuing Acis's claims—its property—in the Guernsey Lawsuit:

- [A]s an officer of Acis GP, the entity which had certain delegated authority to act on Highland Funding's behalf as set forth in the PSA, Mr. Terry was the officer tasked with managing the activities of the Acis Accounts, including Highland Funding." Ex. 6 ¶12
- "Each of these individuals was either directly subordinate, or junior, to Mr. Terry in Acis' operational structure ..." Id. at ¶13.

- "... Mr. Terry was a corporate officer of Acis, the entity that, subject to the terms of the PMA, made investment recommendations and implemented decisions on behalf of Highland Funding." Id. at ¶14
- "[T]he directors of Highland Funding relied on the expertise and guidance of the Portfolio Manager [(Acis)], led by its officers, including Mr. Terry." Id. at ¶15.
- "[T]he investment policy and investment strategy were intended to be ... and actually were, implemented on a day-to-day basis by the Portfolio Manager [(Acis)] ..." Id.
- "From Acis' formation until his departure from Highland CM/Acis in June 2016, Mr. Terry was responsible for the day-to-day operations of Acis in the performance of its management duties for all of its advised accounts." Id. at ¶18
- "... Mr. Terry acted as the day-to-day officer in charge of the "CLO Manager," Acis LP, and was responsible for managing the Acis CLOs to maximize returns for the benefit of Highland Funding ..." Id. at ¶19.

Funding. [JPS2 file 2, tab 45 pages 1 to 5] Acis' relationship to Highland Funding was similar to Acis' relationship to the Acis CLOs. Acis was the Portfolio Manager of each of the Acis CLOs pursuant to a Portfolio Management Agreement with each of the respective issuers of the Acis CLOS and was otherwise subject to the authority of the Acis CLOs' governing documents and Indenture Trustee. Similarly, Acis was the Portfolio Manager of Highland Funding, pursuant to the terms of the PSA and subject to the authority of the fund's governing documents and its Board of Directors. In about Highland Funding's structure and ownership, confidential information learned in a fiduciary capacity, to advance legal arguments necessary to convince the Bankruptcy Court to keep Acis in bankruptcy. Mr. Terry knew that (i) Highland Funding

Since the ex parte hearing at which Highland Funding was granted permission to serve Mr. Terry out of the jurisdiction, Mr. Terry has succeeded in achieving his goals or stopping the resets and the redemptions. In the Bankruptcy Proceedings, Mr. Terry affirmatively moved to stop the Acis-3 Reset from proceeding. Within hours of filing the involuntary bankruptcy petition, based on knowledge he had about Highland Funding's connection to Highland CM and Mr. Dondero, Mr. Terry moved to prevent a "series of refinancing transactions," the first of which was the Acis-3 Reset. pages 1 to 27]. It is currently unclear if the injunction will ever be lifted. It is Highland Funding's case that Mr. Terry's improper filing of the bankruptcy in the first instance, using confidential information obtained in a fiduciary capacity, and formulation of arguments based upon the same in conjunction with the Bankruptcy Trustee directly caused Highland Funding not to be able to properly reset or redeem its interests in the Acis CLOs.

18. Sevilla ties the Guernsey Lawsuit all together when he swears, under oath at Highland's office in Dallas, that

... Highland Funding complains of Mr. Terry's bad-faith filing of the Bankruptcy Proceeding, among other things. Absent Mr. Terry's utilizing Highland Funding's confidential information, acquired in a fiduciary capacity relating to equity ownership and portfolio management responsibility as he did in the initial filing of the involuntary bankruptcy petitions and seeking an assortment of other relief from the bankruptcy court (including the appointment of the Trustee and, in conjunction with the trustees (sic), the blocking of actions which have occurred subsequently) ... the Acis Trustee's actions and the harm caused to Highland Funding thereby never would have occurred."

Id. at ¶37.

19. Finally, Sevilla, Highland's assistant general counsel, outlines some of the confidential information Mr. Terry purportedly used in these bankruptcy proceedings that warranted Highland Funding and Highland to file the Guernsey Lawsuit:

- "The identity of the investors or stakeholders in CLO Holdco, Ltd, a Cayman Island exempted company that is a primary equity holder in Highland Funding" – but that information is not Highland Funding's and Mr. Terry did not get that information from Highland Funding.
- "The contents of Acis LP's limited partnership agreement" – but Highland Funding was not a party to the Acis LP limited partnership agreement, while Mr. Terry was.
- "The contents of the indentures for each of the Acis CLOs, which would have been available to investors in such CLOs, but typically subject to confidentiality" – but Highland Funding is not a party to the indentures;
- "The contents of the Portfolio Management Agreements [("PMAs")] for each of the Acis CLOs" – but Highland Funding is not a party to the PMAs, while Acis is.
- "The sub-advisory agreement between Acis and Highland []" – but Highland Funding is not a party to that agreement.
- "The shared services agreement between Acis and Highland []" – but Highland Funding is not a party to that agreement.

D. The Guernsey Lawsuit is not Highland's first effort to re-litigate U.S. bankruptcy court orders in far-flung island jurisdictions, which demonstrates the bad-faith nature of the Violators' actions.

20. When one becomes aware of Highland's "body of litigation work," the Guernsey Lawsuit looks less creative than it does at first blush. It turns out that re-litigating matters it loses before U.S. bankruptcy courts in remote island locales is Highland's modus operandi.

21. The Wall Street Journal, Bloomberg and other respected journalistic organizations have outlined Highland's similar bad-faith litigation tactics, including in articles with titles like "Bankruptcy Tourists' Battle for Assets from Caymans to Marshall Islands", "Highland Goes Globetrotting in Ocean Rig Restructuring Battle" and "Highland's Ocean Rig bet: Fail in Caymans? Try the Marshalls." True and correct copies of these stories are attached as Exhibit 7.

22. Highland's bad-faith tactics in the reorganization of Ocean Rig bear an uncanny resemblance to their actions in this case, and that in turn bears on the willfulness of the Violators' violation of the Plan Injunction set forth below.

23. In Ocean Rig, Highland and its affiliates were unsecured creditors of Ocean Rig UDW, Inc. ("Ocean Rig"). A true and correct copy of an Opinion of the Supreme Court of the Republic of the Marshall Islands is attached hereto as Exhibit 8 (the "Marshall Islands Opinion"). Two U.S. district court judges from Hawaii and the Northern District of California signed on to the Marshall Islands Opinion. Ex. 8 at 1, 17.

24. As set forth in the opinion of the highest court in the Marshall Islands, financially-troubled Ocean Rig reorganized in the Caymans over Highland and its affiliates' objections. Ex.

8 at 5 ("[T]he [] Scheme was approved by all Scheme Creditors who voted, with the exception of Highland.").

25. Thereafter, two Cayman joint provision liquidators filed a Chapter 15 bankruptcy proceeding in the Southern District of New York in Case No. 17-10736 (MG), which was assigned to the Honorable Martin Glenn.

26. Judge Glenn entered a recognition order, and although Highland originally indicated it would object to Ocean Rig's request for recognition, Highland terminated discovery efforts and did not contest recognition, as outlined in Ocean Rig's motion to enjoin Highland from prosecuting its complaint in the High Court of the Republic of the Marshall Islands, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 9 (the "Ocean Rig Injunction Request").

27. Ocean Rig had to file its Injunction Request because, as Ocean Rig put it, "Highland now seeks to collaterally attack those orders, [including Judge Glenn's enforcement order], in The Republic of the Marshall Islands in order to enable it to bring direct claims against third parties ..." Id. at 3-4. Highland eventually dismissed a count in its Marshall Islands collateral attack on Judge Glenn's enforcement order, which appears to have resolved that issue. A true and correct copy of a status report filed by Ocean Rig setting forth that matter is attached as Exhibit 10.

28. This all might sound familiar to the Court. Isaac Leventon, Highland's assistant general counsel, informed that Court of the following at a hearing on May 31, 2018, in the Acis case:

MR. LEVENTON: Judge, the only two individuals from Highland who have dealt with any part of this process are myself and Scott Ellington. Mr. Ellington and I will be out of the country in the Republic of Marshall Islands, which is something like 16 hours ahead, attending a motion to dismiss hearing on a case for Highland. We all endeavor to do our very best, but this motion to dismiss hearing has been set for over two months now, and we are both traveling to this hearing.

Attached as Exhibit 11 is an excerpt from the transcript (emphasis added). So, while the Acis bankruptcy proceeding was in full swing, Highland was in the midst of its foray in the Marshall Islands.

29. Ultimately, like much of the litigation Highland pursues, its collateral attack on Judge Glenn's order was failed in yet another appeal, as outlined in the Marshall Islands Opinion signed by the Chief Justice of the Republic of the Marshall Islands, as well as two U.S. district court judges sitting by assignment. Ex. 8 at 1. Mr. Ellington and Mr. Leventon's travel costs to the Marshall Islands, not to mention the untold attorneys' fees and expenses, yielded nothing but a huge expense, likely borne by Highland.

30. Highland's Ocean-Rig-collateral-attack-in-the-Marshall-Islands on Judge Glenn's enforcement order is almost a carbon copy of Highland's Acis-collateral-attack-in-Guernsey on this Court's rulings, first on what the Violators thought was an impending loss on confirmation of Plan A, and then on this Court's subsequent orders in this case. At base, the Violators are sore losers – if they lose in the United States, as they are all too adept at doing, they use their financial resources to litigate the same issues in obscure jurisdictions all over the world. They must suffer the consequences for these wrongful acts.

ARGUMENT & AUTHORITY

A. The Violators continued an action against Acis's property in Guernsey after the Effective Date.

31. The Violators worked in secret to undermine this Court. While the Court was in the depths of a contentious multi-day confirmation hearing on Plans A-C, the Violators were conspiring to file suit against Joshua N. Terry in the Isle of Guernsey. Sevilla, Highland's assistant general counsel, was tasked with executing the scheme from Dallas, at times in the office, and using the resources of, Highland's counsel at Foley Gardere, and at other times in Highland's office at the Crescent.

32. Everyone on the Highlands' Acis team was in the know about the Guernsey Lawsuit. Counsel at Foley Gardere (who also previously represented Highland Funding before this Court) was unquestionably aware of Highland Funding's intent to file the Guernsey Lawsuit – Sevilla used their resources to advance it, after all. So, too, was Highland Funding's attorney Mark Maloney, who, while attempting to distance himself from it, acknowledged on the record that he "was aware that the [Guernsey Action] was being contemplated and researched and drafted" and that he did not "recall exactly when [he] learned that it had in fact been filed." A true and correct copy of a transcript from this Court is attached hereto as Exhibit 12. (at 17:25-22:5). Mr. Maloney half-heartedly suggested that the Guernsey Lawsuit, which he claims he had very little to do with, was not an end-around this Court's orders. Id. His position is untenable – that is exactly what it is.

33. Highland and Highland Funding sought to put pressure on Mr. Terry regarding the Acis bankruptcy – they feared the Court would confirm Plans A-C. But they knew they could not file suit in the United States because any such case would be removed, as necessary, and transferred to this Court. So, they needed to locate a foreign jurisdiction that would not be subject to that transfer, and they found that in Highland Funding's country of registration, Guernsey, where Mr. Terry had never set foot.

34. The dubious claims the Highlands pursue in the Guernsey Lawsuit are claims not owned by Highland Funding, but rather by Acis. That was confirmed by Highland Funding's own director, Bestwick, when she testified that the "thrust" of the Guernsey Lawsuit is the disclosure of confidential information in the bankruptcy proceedings that Mr. Terry had "by virtue of his role with the portfolio manager prior to his termination." Ex. 3. Sevilla testified under oath in the Guernsey Lawsuit, among other things, that Acis's own partnership agreement "was confidential at the time Mr. Terry filed the Bankruptcy Proceeding" and thus entitles Highland Funding to pursue him for breach of fiduciary duty for disclosing that agreement (even though Mr. Terry was actually a party to the partnership agreement and Highland Funding was not). Ex. 6 at ¶ 64. Acis's limited partnership agreement is not the only contract to which Highland Funding is not a party but that Highland Funding claims entitles it to sue Mr. Terry half-way across the world. Highland Funding claims indentures, portfolio management agreements, sub-advisory agreements, and shared services agreements, to which it is a party to none (and Acis is to all but the indentures) are Highland Funding's confidential information. Id.

B. The Violators willfully violated the Plan Injunction.

35. This Court specifically enjoined "THE [] CONTINUATION IN ANY MANNER [] OF ANY ACTION [] OF ANY TYPE [] AGAINST [] THE REORGANIZED DEBTOR'S ASSETS WITH RESPECT TO ANY SUCH CLAIM OR INTEREST ARISING OR ACCRUING BEFORE THE EFFECTIVE DATE ..." See Docket No. 837 at ¶19(a); Plan §14.03

36. Taking it in reverse order, the claims or interest at issue in the Guernsey Lawsuit arose or accrued before the Effective Date. Mr. Terry was sued before the Effective Date, after all, for having the gal to file the involuntary bankruptcies to stop the fraudulent transfer scheme the Highlands were in the midst of effectuating, and further helping the Chapter 11 Trustee—a fiduciary approved by this Court—to effectuate a plan or reorganization.

37. And there is no doubt that Highland Funding, acting through Highland, is pursuing Acis's claims, that is Acis's property, in the Guernsey Lawsuit. Under the Plan, Acis reserved and succeeded to all claims owned by the Chapter 11 Trustee, including for misuse of Acis's confidential information and breach of fiduciary duty. E.g. Docket No. 837 at 84, 94.

38. The Violators' actions in making filings in the Guernsey Action on or after the Effective Date violates the Plan Injunction contained in Acis's Plan and this Court's Order. Docket No. 830 at p. 35. If anyone owns these dubious claims asserted against Mr. Terry in Guernsey for breach of fiduciary duty and misuse of confidential information, it is Acis, not Highland Funding. 11 U.S.C. § 541(a)(1) (defining property of estate); In re MortgageAmerica Corp., 714 F.2d 1266 (5th Cir. 1983) (holding fraudulent transfer claims were property of the estate); In re Kevco Inc., 113 Fed. Appx. 29, 31 (5th Cir. 2004) (affirming Judge Houser's ruling that affiliates of Highland were pursuing claims owned by the bankruptcy estate); In re Patriot Nat'l Inc., 592 B.R. 560, 572 (Bankr. D. Del. 2018) (finding claims asserted by debtor for misuse of debtor's confidential information were property of the estate); In re Gen. Growth Properties, Inc., 426 B.R. 71, 76 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2010) ("[I]t is well settled that alleged acts of breach of fiduciary duty, corporate waste and mismanagement ... become property of the estate immediately upon the commencement of a bankruptcy case ...")(internal quotations omitted). Highland Funding's own director confirmed under oath that it was suing Mr. Terry in Guernsey for the purported misuse of confidential information that he obtained as portfolio manager of Acis. Ex. 3 at 104:5-107:7. It is clear, then, that on or after the Effective Date, the Violators continued a suit in Guernsey against Acis's property, and such acts violated the Plan Injunction.

39. Highland is well-versed in the legal nuances of what constitutes claims owned by the estate, which further demonstrates the willfulness of the Violators' violation of the Plan Injunction. Highland was an appellant in at least two cases on the subject to the Fifth Circuit. In re Seven Seas Petroleum, Inc., 522 F.3d 575 (5th Cir. 2008); In re Kevco Inc., 113 Fed. Appx. 29, 30 (5th Cir. 2004).

40. In Seven Seas, Highland filed a state-court action against a secured creditor and others. Seven Seas, 522 F.3d at 579. The Fifth Circuit held that the claims asserted by Highland were not property of the estate, but importantly the Fifth Circuit characterized the holding of Seven Seas as a "narrow one." Id. at 587; see also In re Lothian Oil, Inc., 531 Fed. Appx. 428, 439 (5th Cir. 2013) ("While we agree that Seven Seas is instructive, our holding in that case was a 'narrow one.'").

41. In Kevco, the Fifth Circuit affirmed Judge Houser's ruling that Highland's affiliates were pursuing claims owned by the debtor's estate. Kevco, 113 Fed. Appx. at 32. The court based its ruling on the fact that Highland's affiliates could not have brought the claims as of the commencement of the case and because the alleged injury was derivative of the debtor's direct injury. Id. at 31-32.

42. More recently, the Fifth Circuit issued Lothian, in which the court affirmed a finding of contempt against parties asserting state-law claims barred by the plan injunction. Lothian, 531 Fed. Appx. at 431-32. Lothian bears a striking resemblance to this case and addresses not only the ownership of the asserted claims, but also the contempt for pursuing those claims in violation of the plan injunction. Id. at 441, 444, 446.

43. In Lothian, a chapter 11 debtor confirmed a plan of liquidation that contained a plan injunction that, among other things, barred the initiation or continuation of suits against the debtor or its property. Id. at 432. Thereafter, certain creditors initiated state court litigation in New York against certain non-debtors. Id. at 433-34. Included as defendants were "former ... officers[] and representatives" of the debtor. Id. at 434. The bankruptcy court thereafter entered an injunction order against the state-court actions and warned that "any violation of this Order will result in a finding of contempt." Id. at 435. The creditors were undeterred and continued filing pleadings in the state-court actions. Id. The bankruptcy court held a show-cause hearing and held an individual and his attorney in contempt and sanctioned them, jointly and severally, $600,000.00, plus other relief. Id.

44. The Fifth Circuit affirmed the bankruptcy court's ruling. Id. at 446. The court found that the "foremost" problem with the individuals state-law claims is that their "injury is contingent upon the injury [the debtor] suffered when it was forced to enter bankruptcy and fraudulently transfer properties it owned." Id. at 439. The court distinguished Seven Seas, where the debtor was not harmed by the alleged wrongdoing, whereas in Lothian the "allegations focus on actions taken by [the debtor], before and during the bankruptcy proceeding, which the bankruptcy court later approved." Id. at 440.²

45. The same is true in this case. According to Bestwick, Highland Funding's claims in the Guernsey Action against Mr. Terry were solely as it relates to actions he purportedly took in conjunction with the Acis bankruptcy. Ex. 3 at 213:23-214:4. The "focus" of Highland Funding's claims in the Guernsey Lawsuit are on actions taken by Mr. Terry and Acis, acting through its Chapter 11 Trustee, both before and during the bankruptcy proceeding, which this Court later approved. For example,

... Highland Funding complains of Mr. Terry's bad-faith filing of the Bankruptcy Proceeding, among other things. Absent Mr. Terry's utilizing Highland Funding's confidential information, acquired in a fiduciary capacity relating to equity ownership and portfolio management responsibility as he did in the initial filing of the involuntary bankruptcy petitions and seeking an assortment of other relief from the bankruptcy court (including the appointment of the Trustee and, in conjunction with the trustees (sic), the blocking of actions which have occurred subsequently) ... the Acis Trustee's actions and the harm caused to Highland Funding thereby never would have occurred.

Ex. 6 at ¶37 (emphasis added).

46. The Fifth Circuit also characterized the state-court claims in Lothian as "an attempt to make up for lost time: having failed to contest the Plan at its inception, the [individuals] now seek[] to undo its terms." Lothian, 531 Fed. Appx. at 440. Sound familiar?

47. The Highlands failed to successfully challenge the involuntary petitions and confirmation of a plan or reorganization, and now seek to undo both losses in Guernsey. It could not be any clearer that that is exactly what they attempt. Applying the Fifth Circuit's words in Lothian to this case is devastating: "Regardless of the merits of the [Guernsey Action], [it] cannot be divorced from the bankruptcy proceeding itself." Id. (emphasis added). Highland Funding's dubious allegations against Mr. Terry are property of and owned by Acis, not Highland Funding.

C. The Court should issue an order for the Violators to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court, and the Court should sanction the Violators.

48. "[C]ourts [] have the inherent authority to enforce their own injunctive decrees." In re Correra, 589 B.R. 76, 125 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2018) (Jernigan, J.). "To hold a party in civil contempt, a court must find '(1) that a court order was in effect, ... (2) that the order required certain conduct by the respondent, and (3) that the respondent failed to comply with the court's order.'" Lothian, 531 Fed. Appx. at 445 (quoting FDIC v. LeGrand, 43 F.3d 163, 170 (5th Cir.1995)).

49. All three factors are present here. First, the Plan Injunction was in effect. Second, the Plan Injunction prohibited the Violators from "THE [] CONTINUATION IN ANY MANNER [] OF ANY ACTION [] OF ANY TYPE [] AGAINST [] THE REORGANIZED DEBTOR'S ASSETS WITH RESPECT TO ANY SUCH CLAIM OR INTEREST ARISING OR ACCRUING

BEFORE THE EFFECTIVE DATE ..." Docket No. 837 at ¶19(a); Plan §14.03. Third, the Violators failed to comply with the Plan Injunction by taking overt, affirmative acts to continue the Guernsey Action against Acis's property, i.e. its claims against Mr. Terry (however dubious those claims are). For example, after the Effective Date the Violators either filed or caused to be filed documents in the Guernsey Action in which Highland Funding claimed some sort of confidentiality interest in Acis's own partnership agreement, to which none of the Violators were even parties.

50. The case of In re Skyport Glob. Commc'n, Inc., 642 Fed. Appx. 301, 303 (5th Cir. 2016) is analogous. In Skyport, Judge Bohm found individuals in civil contempt and sanctioned them for violating a plan injunction by pursuing state court litigation barred by the plan injunction. Skyport, 642 Fed. Appx. at 304 and n.3. The Fifth Circuit found that the bankruptcy court was well within its discretion in sanctioning the individuals because their state court action "directly convenes the Skyport confirmation order." Id. at 303. Moreover, the Fifth Circuit held that evidence of bad faith was not only that the state court action violated the plan injunction, but that it was an "end-run around § 1144 of the bankruptcy code." Id. at 304. The differences between Skyport and this case are immaterial and actually make the case for sanctions in Acis even stronger: Texas state court versus Guernsey and a new filing versus the continuation of an existing one.

51. Skyport also lacked evidence that collateral attacks on U.S. bankruptcy court orders were a pattern or practice for the individuals, whereas this case presents clear and compelling evidence that such bad-faith tactics are par for the course for Highland, its agents, and those it controls. FED. R. EVID. 405-406 (under certain circumstances, evidence of a person's character trait or habit and routine are admissible to prove person acted in accordance therewith). Highland was engaged in multiple collateral attacks on U.S. bankruptcy courts (this Court and Judge Glenn) in far-flung island nations (Guernsey and the Marshall Islands) at the same time. The Violators knew what they were doing was wrong, but they did it anyway. The excuse of "Jim Dondero made me do it" is no excuse.

52. This Court has the power to impose civil contempt under § 105 of the Bankruptcy Code. In re Bradley, 588 F.3d 254, 266 (5th Cir. 2009); Lothian, 531 Fed. Appx. at 445; FED. R. BANKR. P. 9020. Consistent with that power, the Court has the power to assess monetary sanctions for contempt, which is reviewed on appeal for an abuse of discretion. Id.

53. The Court should sanction the Violators, jointly and severally, no less than $800,000.00. Each of the Violators is guilty of contempt of the Plan Injunction, and this sanction will coerce the Violators into compliance with the Plan Injunction and compensate Mr. Terry and Acis, who is indemnifying him from the Guernsey Action. In order to have its coercive effect, the amount of the sanction must be enough to coerce, and the Violators have vast resources that make any lesser sanction inadequate to change their behavior.

54. This Court may also certify facts to the district court for criminal contempt. Matter of Hipp, Inc., 895 F.2d 1503, 1515 (5th Cir. 1990). The Court should do so. This is not some isolated event – this is the Violators' modus operandi, whether it be in Guernsey or the Marshall Islands. The Violators are all sophisticated actors who knew exactly what they were doing when they knowingly and willfully violated the Plan Injunction in bad faith. The fact that Mr. Dondero instructed them all to do so—either directly or indirectly through others—is no excuse. Each is accountable for his or her own actions.

CONCLUSION

55. Acis hoped it would never have to file this Motion and bring these issues before the Court. Acis hoped the scorched-earth litigation strategy that resulted in the bankruptcy of not just Acis, but of the once-high-flying Highland, who at its apex had $40 billion in assets under management, would come to an end with the realization that the fight-to-the-death litigation strategy was a failure. Acis's hopes were further buoyed by the installation of a new board of directors at Highland. But unfortunately the bad actors remain, many of them the in-house lawyers at Highland, and they clearly still have strong sway over Highland. The architects of the failed litigation strategy have not learned any lessons, or at least any constructive lessons.

56. Acis brings this Motion to hold the Violators—and anyone else involved in violating this Court's Plan Injunction—accountable. The United States Supreme Court long ago stated that contempt powers are necessary to ensure that "courts [are not] impotent." Gompers v. Buck's Stove & Range Co., 221 U.S. 418, 450, (1911). Likewise, this Court's undisputed civil contempt "power is broad and pragmatic, reaching where it must—consistent with prudent court management and due process—to prevent insults, oppression, and experimentation with disobedience of the law." In re Bradley, 588 F.3d at 265–66. The Violators' actions in the Guernsey Lawsuit undermine prudent court management, due process, and are an insult to the Court and a flagrant disobedience of the law. The Court should order the Violators to show cause why they should not be held in civil contempt for the insults and disobedience of law they have committed against this Court and the larger civil justice system in pursuit of their end-run in the Isle of Guernsey.

PRAYER

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Acis respectfully requests that this Court hold the Violators in civil contempt for violations of Acis plan of reorganization and the injunctions contained in the same, sanction the Violators, jointly and severally, no less than $800,000.00, and grant Acis any other relief to which Acis is entitled.

Plaintiff The Charitable Donor Advised Fund, L.P. ("The Charitable DAF"), a charitable partnership whose charitable non-profit beneficiaries include the Dallas Foundation, the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation, the Santa Barbara Foundation and the North Texas Community Foundation, by and through its attorneys of record, files this Second Amended Complaint against Defendants U.S. Bank National Association ("U.S. Bank"), Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's"), ACIS Capital Management, L.P. ("ACM" or "Acis"), and Brigade Capital Management, LP ("Brigade"), and Joshua N. Terry ("Terry"), and in support thereof, respectfully states and alleges as follows:

NATURE OF LAWSUIT

The Charitable DAF files this lawsuit to enforce and protect its rights as an investor in certain collateralized loan obligations, or CLOs, that for at least ten months have been, and continue to be, grossly and willfully mismanaged by their investment advisers: ACM, an entity owned and managed by Mr. Terry, and Brigade, whose CLO business is managed by Jared Worman.¹ Together, ACM and Brigade as Portfolio Manager, have severely mismanaged the Acis CLOs to the tune of several millions of dollars in actual losses, several million dollars in expected losses and exorbitant incurred expenses far in excess of anything seen elsewhere in the $600 billion CLO market. U.S. Bank, which serves as Trustee of the Acis CLOs, has impermissibly enabled this gross mismanagement, and in the process has severely violated The Charitable DAF's rights. The Charitable DAF is both the Holder of Secured Notes issued under certain ACIS Indentures, and an indirect Holder of equity interests under those same Indentures. In this capacity, The Charitable DAF possesses beneficial interests in the portfolio of collateral underlying the Acis CLOs and which the Portfolio Manager, enabled by U.S. Bank and Moody's, has willfully and self-servingly mismanaged and failed to protect. Each of the Portfolio Manager's and U.S. Bank's wrongful and negligent conduct has severely compromised the value of The Charitable DAF's Secured Notes, decimated the credit profile of the Acis CLOs in their entirety, and caused The Charitable DAF to incur other extensive direct damages. This clear mismanagement has resulted in unprecedented losses not explained by market conditions, the extent of which is crystal clear: the equity tranches in the Acis CLOs at issue have lost material value (all fair market value at specified dates):

Acis CLO	August 1, 2018	February 20, 2019	October 31, 2019
Acis CLO 2014-5	$36m	$18.1m	$11.2m
Acis CLO 2015-6	$38.3m	$19m	$12m
Total	$74.3m	$37.1m	$23.2m

¹ Such CLOs, are referred to herein as the "Acis CLOs", of which ACM is the portfolio manager and to which Brigade provides sub-servicing and shared services. Together, ACM and Brigade are referred to herein as the "Portfolio Manager."

To protect its rights, The Charitable DAF seeks four things through this lawsuit.

First, it seeks to recover the losses it sustained in connection with U.S. Bank's negligence and breach of its extra-contractual duties to The Charitable DAF, including the duties to perform all basic, non-discretionary, ministerial tasks with due care, and to avoid conflicts of interest.

Second, it seeks judicial intervention to protect its interests before U.S. Bank commits or facilitates any further wrongful conduct. The Charitable DAF cannot allow U.S. Bank to continue to shirk its duties as Indenture Trustee.

Third, it seeks to recover the losses it sustained from the willful misconduct of the Portfolio Manager and its sub-adviser, whose gross negligence has decimated the value of The Charitable DAF's investment, and whose rampant conflicts of interest have destroyed the value of The Charitable DAF's investment. The Portfolio Manager's conduct has caused The Charitable DAF to sustain direct damages.

Fourth, it seeks to protect the value of its investment by requiring Moody's, as a ratings provider to the Acis CLOs, to accurately, and in accordance with market precedent and practice, communicate to the market the truth about the Portfolio's Managers' and Indenture Trustee's willful violation of the requirements of the Indentures and the PMA that Moody's has been on notice of since at least August 2019. The market deserves the truth about the extensive conflicts of interests, skewed incentives and complete lack of accountability exhibited by each of Acis, Brigade and the Indenture Trustee.

PARTIES

1. Plaintiff The Charitable Donor Advised Fund, L.P. is a limited partnership, with its principal place of business at Intertrust Corporate Services (Cayman) Limited, 190 Elgin Avenue, George Town, Grand Cayman KY1-9005, Cayman Islands. The Charitable DAF is both a Secured

Noteholder and an indirect holder of equity interests under the Acis CLOs discussed in this Complaint.

2. Defendant U.S. Bank National Association (the “Indenture Trustee” or “Trustee”) is a national banking association that is Trustee of the ACIS Indentures, as defined further herein. Pursuant to the ACIS Indentures, Defendant U.S. Bank may be served at its corporate office located at 190 South LaSalle Street, 8th Floor, Chicago, IL 60603.

3. Defendant Moody’s Investors Service, Inc., is a Delaware corporation registered to do business in New York State. Moody’s may be served through its registered agent CT Corporation System, located at 28 Liberty Street, New York, New York 10005. Moody’s is a nationally recognized statistical rating organization (“NRSRO”).

4. Defendant ACIS Capital Management, L.P. (“ACM”) is a Delaware limited partnership. ACM may be served through its registered agent Capitol Services, Inc., located at 1675 S. State Street Suite B, Dover, Delaware 19901.

5. Defendant Brigade Capital Management, LP is a Delaware limited partnership that is registered to do business in New York. Brigade may be served through Donald E. Morgan III, 399 Park Avenue, 16th Floor, New York, New York, 10022. Brigade is a registered investment advisor.

6. Joshua N. Terry (“Mr. Terry”) is an individual resident of Texas located at 3509 Princeton Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75205 who may be personally served wherever he may be found. Mr. Terry is the owner and President of ACM.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(2), in that the matter in controversy exceeds the sum of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and is between a citizen of a State and a citizens of a foreign state.

8. Jurisdiction and venue over Moody's are proper in this District because Moody's is registered to do business in New York, and the transactions and occurrences that are the subject of The Charitable DAF's claims against Moody's took place in New York, New York.

9. Jurisdiction and venue over ACM are proper in this District because ACM is registered to do business in New York, and the transactions and occurrences that are the subject of The Charitable DAF's claims against ACM, including certain trading activity with brokers or dealers, took place in New York, New York.

10. Jurisdiction and venue over Brigade are proper in this District because Brigade is registered to do business in New York, and the transactions and occurrences that are the subject of The Charitable DAF's claims against Brigade, including certain trading activity with brokers or dealers, took place in New York, New York.

11. Jurisdiction and venue over U.S. Bank are proper in this District because, pursuant to Section 14.10 of the ACIS Indentures, as defined further herein, each party to such indentures, including U.S. Bank:

[H]ereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits, for itself and its property, to the nonexclusive jurisdiction of . . . the United States District Court of the Southern District of New York . . . in any action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the notes or th[ese] indenture[s] . . .

12. Venue is also proper because U.S. Bank waived any objection to venue in this District under the ACIS Indentures, as defined further herein. Section 14.10 specifically provides that:

Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waives, to the fullest extent it may legally and effectively do so, any objection which it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to th[e] indenture[s] in any court referred to in the previous paragraph. Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of such action or proceeding in any such court.

13. New York law governs the claims in this lawsuit.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. The Charitable DAF is a Secured Noteholder under a set of collateralized loan obligations to which U.S. Bank serves as Trustee, and ACM and Brigade serve as Portfolio Managers.

14. Between 2014 and 2015, The Charitable DAF became a Secured Noteholder and beneficiary under three CLOs and associated indentures: (i) the Indenture dated November 18, 2014 among ACIS CLO 2014-5 LTD., as Issuer, ACIS CLO 2014-5 LLC, as Co-Issuer, and U.S. Bank as Trustee (“Indenture 5”); and (ii) the Indenture dated April 16, 2015 among ACIS CLO 2015-6 LTD., as Issuer, ACIS CLO 2015-6 LLC as Co-Issuer, and U.S. Bank as Trustee (“Indenture 6” together with Indenture 5, the “ACIS Indentures”).²

15. U.S. Bank agreed to serve as the Trustee for these ACIS Indentures, and ACM as the Portfolio Manager.

16. The ACIS Indentures impose a number of obligations on U.S. Bank in connection with its role as Trustee, and a separate set of agreements, the Portfolio Management Agreements

² The CLOs subject of the Acis Indentures are referred to herein as the Acis CLOs.

(“PMAs”), impose obligations on ACM in connection with its role as Portfolio Manager. ACM, as a result of it having no employees or wherewithal to manage the Acis CLOs itself, retained Brigade to assist it in providing these portfolio management services, with Mr. Terry.

17. Mr. Terry is President of ACM, an entity which he also owns.

i. The ACIS Indentures require that each of U.S. Bank, ACM and Brigade ensure that new investments satisfy certain criteria, and that U.S. Bank not accept any plan that would affect the rights of Secured Noteholders.

18. First, the ACIS Indentures provide that U.S. Bank shall hold in trust, for the “benefit and security” of the Noteholders, all “Collateral Obligations” that secure the Co-Issuers’ financial obligations to the Noteholders. In connection therewith, the ACIS Indentures also provide that, for future purchases and sales of collateral obligations, the Portfolio Manager and the Trustee shall only consummate these transactions where certain investment criteria are satisfied. One such criterion is that, for all purchases, either (A) each requirement or test, as the case may be, of the Concentration Limitations and the Collateral Quality Test will be satisfied, or (B) if any such requirement or test was not satisfied immediately prior to such reinvestment, such requirement or test will be maintained or improved after giving effect to the reinvestment. See, e.g., Indenture 5 § 12.2(a)(iv). The ACIS Indentures define “Collateral Quality Test” as:

A test satisfied if, as of any date of determination . . . in the aggregate, the Collateral Obligations owned (or, for purposes of pro forma calculations in relation to a proposed purchase of a Collateral Obligation, proposed to be owned) by the Issuer satisfy . . . the Maximum Moody’s Rating Factor Test . . . [and the] Weighted Average Life Test.

Id. at 14.

19. These tests are defined, in turn, as follows:

“Maximum Moody’s Rating Factor Test”: The test that will be satisfied on any date of determination if the Weighted Average

Adjusted Moody's Rating Factor³ of the Collateral Obligations is less than or equal to the number set forth in the column entitled "Maximum Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor" in the Moody's Asset Quality Matrix, based upon the applicable "row/column combination" chosen by the Portfolio Manager with notice to the Collateral Administrator . . . plus the Rating Factor Adjustment Amount.

"Weighted Average Life Test": A test that is satisfied if the Aggregate Weighted Average Life⁴ on such date of determination is not later than November 18, 2022.

See, e.g., Indenture 5 at 37-38, 64.

20. These provisions seek to maintain the integrity and performance of the portfolio of collateral securing the Co-Issuers' obligations by requiring certain parties, including the Portfolio Managers and the Trustee, to ensure that any purchase or sale of such collateral complies with detailed, industry-recognized, and bargained-for tests – the exact investor protections that The Charitable DAF relied on when it invested in the Acis CLOs.

21. Second, the ACIS Indentures provide that, in performing its duties as Trustee, U.S. Bank may not "authorize or consent to or vote for or accept or adopt on behalf of any Secured

³ "Weighted Average Adjusted Moody's Rating Factor" means "[a]s of any date of determination, a number equal to the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor determined in the following manner: for purposes of this definition, the last paragraph of the definition of "Moody's Default Probability Rating," the second to last paragraph of the definition of "Moody's Rating" and the last paragraph of the definition of "Moody's Derived Rating" will be disregarded, and instead each applicable rating on credit watch by Moody's that is on (a) positive watch will be treated as having been upgraded by one rating subcategory, (b) negative watch will be treated as having been downgraded by two rating subcategories and (c) negative outlook will be treated as having been downgraded by one rating subcategory. See, e.g., Indenture 5 at 64-65.

"Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor" means "[t]he number (rounded up to the nearest whole number) equal to: (i) the sum of the products of (a) the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation (excluding Equity Securities) multiplied by (b) the Moody's Rating Factor of such Collateral Obligation, divided by (ii) the Aggregate Principal Balance of all such Collateral Obligations." Id.

Noteholders, any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Secured Notes or any Holder thereof”. Similar to the provisions concerning collateral quality, these provisions also seek to ensure that the Trustee does not prejudice the rights of any secured Noteholder under the ACIS Indentures, such as The Charitable DAF.

22. Finally, in addition to requiring that U.S. Bank observe certain safeguards, the ACIS Indentures also grant U.S. Bank the broad power to “execute any of the trusts or powers hereunder or perform any duties hereunder either directly or by or through agents, nominees, custodians, or attorneys.”

23. The foregoing contractual provisions provide context for U.S. Bank’s role as Trustee, and of the Trustee’s relationship with the Portfolio Manager. As Trustee, U.S. Bank is obligated to perform a number of extra-contractual duties for Noteholders, such as The Charitable DAF, including the duties to perform all basic non-discretionary, ministerial tasks with due care, and to avoid conflicts of interest. U.S. Bank’s failure to satisfy the extra-contractual duties that it owes to The Charitable DAF is the focus of The Charitable DAF’s claims against U.S. Bank in this lawsuit, discussed in further detail below.

B. ACM supervises and directs the investment and reinvestment of the ACIS Indentures’ assets, in addition to providing other services delegated to ACM as portfolio manager.

24. At the same time that the issuers executed the ACIS Indentures with U.S. Bank, they also executed portfolio management agreements with ACM, which at the time was sub-advised by Highland Capital Management, LP. Specifically, ACIS CLO 2014-5 LTD., as issuer, executed a portfolio management agreement for Indenture 5 with ACM, as portfolio manager, on November 18, 2014 (“PMA 5”); and ACIS CLO 2015-6 LTD., as issuer, executed a portfolio management agreement for Indenture 6 with ACM, as portfolio manager, on April 16, 2015 (“PMA 6” together with PMA 5, the “PMAs”).

25. Notably, in connection with the 2018 bankruptcy of ACM and its emergence in February 2019, the management of the Acis CLOs was transferred to Messrs. Terry and Worman, through their respective firms ACM and Brigade. Such bankruptcy case is described in further detail below.

26. In general, the PMAs provide that, subject to the terms of the ACIS Indentures, ACM is obligated to “supervise and direct the investment and reinvestment of the Assets” and to “monitor the Assets”. Furthermore, in so doing, ACM must “comply with all [applicable] terms and conditions of the [ACIS Indentures]” and “perform its obligations . . . in good faith and with reasonable care”. The applicable “terms and conditions of” the ACIS Indentures include an obligation to ensure compliance with the collateral quality tests described above.

27. The PMAs hold ACM liable for its acts or omissions, including acting in bad faith, willful misconduct, gross negligence, or reckless disregard in the performance of its obligations under the ACIS Indentures.

28. As Portfolio Manager, ACM, through Mr. Terry and sub-advisor Brigade, were aware that in that capacity, they performed services for the Acis CLOs for a particular purpose.

29. Likewise, the Portfolio Manager had further awareness that Secured Noteholders and Holders of indirect equity interests under the Acis CLOs, like The Charitable DAF, relied on ACM and Brigade to perform services in furtherance of their particular purpose of managing the portfolio of the Acis CLOs.

30. The Portfolio Manager understood that Noteholders and equity interest Holders under the Acis CLOs, including The Charitable DAF, relied on the Portfolio Manager to perform services in furtherance of their particular purpose of managing the portfolio of the Acis CLOs.

31. Despite extra-contractual duties that the Portfolio Manager owes to The Charitable DAF as Secured Noteholders and Holders of indirect equity interests under the Acis CLOs, and in furtherance of clear and impermissible conflicts of interest, from February 20, 2019 to the present, the Portfolio Manager has caused the ACIS Indentures to incur astronomically unprecedented expenses well outside historical expense patterns in the Acis CLOs and very clearly outside market and industry norms, as discussed in more detail below.

i. Brigade is the Sub-Advisor and Shared Services Provider to ACM, and acts as ACM's agent.

32. As part of a jointly administered bankruptcy proceeding under case number 18-30264-SGJ-11 (the "Bankruptcy Proceeding"), in which Mr. Terry became 100% owner of ACM (as well as its President and owner of its general partner),⁵ the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, formally approved ACM's appointment of Brigade as Sub-Advisor and Shared Services Provider to ACM in connection with ACM's management of the ACIS CLOs. Brigade has provided these critical services at all pertinent times (to wit, from February 16, 2019 to the date of filing of this Complaint).

33. Of note, although Mr. Terry effectively approves all trading activity for the ACIS CLOs, Mr. Terry and ACM have no executive level employees aside from Mr. Terry, upon information and belief, nor wherewithal to themselves effectively manage the investment vehicles.

⁵ The two case numbers in the consolidated Bankruptcy Proceeding include case numbers 18-30264-SGJ-11 and 18-30265-SGJ-11.

As President and owner of ACM, Mr. Terry exercises complete domination over ACM. With no chain of command besides himself, as ACM, Mr. Terry only answers to himself.

34. Upon information and belief, other than Mr. Terry's experience in the CLO industry, about which Mr. Terry gave extensive testimony in the Bankruptcy Proceeding in connection with seeking approval of a plan of reorganization and upon which Secured Noteholders in the Acis CLOs have relied, aside from Mr. Terry, ACM has no other executive level employees or other capability to itself provide sufficient portfolio management services to the Acis CLOs.

35. Succinctly, Mr. Terry needed help managing the Acis CLOs, and he retained Brigade to provide, among other services, back-and middle-office functions, including, but not limited to, accounting, payments, operations, technology, and finance, in connection with ACM's obligations under the PMAs. He also employed Brigade to provide assistance relating to the negotiation and execution of any documents necessary to acquire or dispose of an asset under the PMAs.

36. As an agent of ACM and subject at all times to Mr. Terry's approval, Mr. Worman's team at Brigade has purchased well over $300 million in loans for the Acis CLOs, in addition to engaging in other conduct directly related to the portfolio management of the Acis CLOs.

37. In addition to executing the purchase of loans, as an agent of ACM and Mr. Terry, Mr. Worman's team at Brigade has provided several services to ACM in connection with the portfolio management of the Acis CLOs, including the provision of sub-advisory and shared services.

38. During the Bankruptcy Proceedings, in connection with confirmation of Acis' plan of reorganization, Mr. Worman gave extensive testimony describing Brigade's expertise and competencies, including compliance support for the Acis CLOs, in addition to other tasks, such as day-to-day portfolio management, including but not limited to identifying trades due, executing on those trades.

39. Further, Mr. Terry has delegated certain tasks related to the Acis CLOs to Brigade, including, but not limited to research services as needed, and modeling of ratings, default, and price scenarios as needed. In providing these critical portfolio management services for the ACIS CLOs, Brigade works directly with Terry, and is under Terry's direction and control. Mr. Terry testified in the Acis Bankruptcy proceedings that this was the intention.

40. Given Brigade's extensive level of involvement of the portfolio management of the CLOs, under Mr. Worman's direction, Brigade's and Worman's conduct, and by extension ACM's through Mr. Terry's direction and control, severely and adversely impacts the collateral portfolios in which The Charitable DAF owns as a Secured Noteholder and as the indirect Holder of equity interests under the Acis CLOs.

41. As of February 20, 2019 (and also prior to ACM's emergence from bankruptcy), Brigade has charged ACM fifteen basis points on total ACIS CLO assets under management for these portfolio management services, a fee which Brigade has represented it negotiated in good faith with ACM.

42. As discussed in more detail below, none of Mr. Terry, ACM, Mr. Worman nor Brigade has complied with the duties set forth in the PMAs, and the loans it acquired and the expenses incurred have left the Acis CLOs credit profile severely deteriorated and without sufficient interest income to make distributions to its equity holders.

C. U.S. Bank must satisfy extra-contractual obligations owed to The Charitable DAF.

43. U.S. Bank must satisfy certain extra-contractual obligations in connection with its role as Trustee, and the broad powers associated therewith. These pre-default extra-contractual obligations include the duty to perform all basic, non-discretionary, ministerial tasks with due care, and to avoid conflicts of interest.

44. For example, U.S. Bank was required to perform all basic, non-discretionary, ministerial tasks with due care, including, but not limited to, the following extra-contractual tasks: reserving Noteholder rights impacted by active litigation, such as bankruptcy proceedings; exercising due care in connection with the payment of expenses; collecting and distributing the interest and dividends due on the portfolio securities; and providing Noteholders with periodic reports concerning the interest received, amounts distributed and securities in the portfolio.

45. Notably, no provisions of the ACIS Indentures “shall be construed to relieve the Trustee from liability for its own negligent action, its own negligent failure to act, or its own willful misconduct”.

D. U.S. Bank fails to reserve or otherwise protect The Charitable DAF’s rights in connection with bankruptcy proceedings.

46. The Charitable DAF’s rights as a Secured Noteholder under the ACIS Indentures have been compromised by certain proceedings and judicial rulings in the Bankruptcy Proceeding consolidated Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding, and related adversary proceeding.

47. On July 29, 2018, the Chapter 11 Trustee in the Bankruptcy Proceeding filed a First Amended Joint Plan for Acis Capital Management, L.P. and Acis Capital Management, GP, LLC (the “First Amended Plan”).

48. The First Amended Plan provided for certain amendments to the ACIS Indentures that would be effected through a certain Plan B and Plan C. These proposals concerned, among other things, re-writing the ACIS Indentures to protect Acis’ management fee stream for several years.

49. In full recognition that the First Amended Plan encroached on the rights of Noteholders under the Acis CLOs like The Charitable DAF, the Trustee filed a Reservation of Rights and Limited Objections to the First Amended Plan in the Bankruptcy Proceeding. The Trustee took prompt measures to protect noteholder rights, filing these pleadings only fifteen days after the filing of the First Amended Plan.

50. Among other infringements on the rights of Noteholders under the ACIS Indentures, the Trustee explained that: “In other words, both Plan B and Plan C purport to ignore the express terms of the Indenture and the rights of the Noteholders with respect to amending the Indenture.”⁶

51. On January 31, 2019, a Third Amended Joint Plan for Acis Capital Management, L.P. and Acis Capital Management GP, LLC was entered in the Bankruptcy Proceeding (“Plan D”).

52. Like Plan B and C, Plan D also substantially impacted the rights of Noteholders under the ACIS Indentures, including The Charitable DAF.

53. In addition to other restrictions, Plan D impedes the ability of noteholders under the ACIS Indentures to make optional redemptions, which restriction has decimated the value of such investments across the capital stack of each CLO covered by the ACIS Indentures.

54. Moreover, Plan D conflicts with the express terms of the ACIS Indentures. Specifically, the ACIS Indentures do not permit U.S. Bank to “authorize or consent to or vote for or accept or adopt on behalf of any Secured Noteholders, any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Secured Notes or any Holder thereof'. (emphases added).

⁶ See Bankruptcy Proceeding, case number 18-30264-SGJ-11 at Dkt. Nos. 500, 501, and 500; see id. at Dkt. No. 505.

55. Tellingly, in its Reservation of Rights filed in 2018, U.S. Bank acknowledged that the specific plans "adversely affect[ed] the rights of Noteholders."⁷ The same holds true for Plan D.

56. Notwithstanding its ability to do so, U.S. Bank did not reserve any Noteholders' rights, or otherwise object to the entry of Plan D.

57. Instead, as noted by the court's ruling approving confirmation of Plan D on January 31, 2019, "[t]he indenture trustee has retained and appeared through its own separate counsel during the Chapter 11 Bankruptcy Cases and is not currently objecting to the Plan."⁸ (emphasis added).

58. U.S. Bank's election to take no action regarding the entry of Plan D amplified the exposure of The Charitable DAF and the overall risk that it faces during the pendency of the Plan D injunction. Though U.S. Bank has a duty to avoid conflicts of interest, its election to take no action regarding the entry of Plan D underscores the Trustee's self-serving conduct.

59. U.S. Bank is not excused from failing to protect The Charitable DAF's rights affected by Plan D or by the Bankruptcy Proceeding generally.

E. Mr. Terry and ACM, as Portfolio Manager, with the assistance of Mr. Worman's team at Brigade and enabled by U.S. Bank, willfully orchestrate an extensive series of collateral trades that fail to satisfy the collateral quality tests and instead deteriorate the ACIS CLOs' credit profile to the detriment of The Charitable DAF and all investors.

⁷ See e.g., Bankruptcy Proceeding at Dkt. No. 505 ¶ 3; see also, Bankruptcy Proceeding at Dkt. Nos. 499-505

⁸ See e.g., Bankruptcy Proceeding, case number 18-30264-SGJ-11 at Dkt. No. 827 p. 5.

60. As set forth above, U.S. Bank and the Portfolio Manager must ensure that every purchase made under the ACIS Indentures satisfies the collateral quality tests, including the Weighted Average Life Test (“WAL test”) and the Minimum Weighted Average Moody’s Recovery Rate Test (“WAM test”), or maintains or improves any failing collateral quality tests. They failed to satisfy these obligations in at least two ways.

61. First, U.S. Bank and the Portfolio Manager effectuated or facilitated certain transactions that did not satisfy the WAL test or maintain or improve such failing WAL test. Specifically, they made multiple same-day trades and consolidated the weighted average maturity date for these trades. In so doing, they created the false appearance of a maintained or improved WAL test. Absent this consolidation, the same-day purchases could not have maintained or improved the failing WAL tests on individual bases.

62. The value destruction of this forced “bunched trading” is clear when one compares the prices at trade date against the prices from the previous day. For example:

CLO	Trade	Issuer	Commitment	Date	Trade Px	Day Before	Close Mid Price	2 Day Before	Close Mid Price	Change	P&L
CLO 6	Purchase	Diebold Inc - Diebold DD T/L A	1,578,541.42	3/26/2019	99.00	3/25/2019	95.50	3/22/2019	95.5	-3.50	(55,248.95)
CLO 5	Purchase	Diebold Nixdorf Incorporated - Diebold T/L B New Dollar	4,985,751.99	5/23/2019	96.75	5/22/2019	95.75	5/21/2019	95.75	-1.00	(49,857.52)
CLO 6	Purchase	Team Health Holdings Inc - Team Health Holdings T/L	1,279,236.64	3/26/2019	88.50	3/25/2019	86.13	3/22/2019	86.9375	-2.38	(30,381.87)

63. What is more, this artificial trading philosophy, disguised as “responsible management,” has resulted in myriad poorly conceived and timed buys, which positions have plummeted, destroying value for the investors. For example:

Issuer	Buy/Sell	1st Purchase Date	Last Purchase Date	LoanX ID	Sum of 1/14/20 P&L	Cost	11/8/2019 Mark
Chief Power	Buy	3/13/2019	3/26/2019	LX142450	(2,966,283.06)	95.41	51.50
Peak 10	Buy	9/27/2018	3/19/2019	LX167187	(1,198,856.69)	95.58	85.63
KCA Deutag UK Finance PL	Buy	4/22/2019	5/23/2019	LX172320	(1,723,142.31)	84.89	65.58
Envision Healthcare	Buy	4/3/2018	6/18/2019	LX175867	(1,103,425.06)	94.14	886.26

64. Mr. Terry and ACM, with the assistance of Mr. Worman’s team at Brigade, enabled by U.S. Bank as indenture trustee, have continued this blatant trading misconduct. As recently as November 15, 2019, the Portfolio Manager and U.S. Bank effectuated multiple improper same day trades which fail to meet the applicable collateral quality standards, in further reckless disregard of the portfolio management obligations that bind the Portfolio Manager and U.S. Bank, discussed herein.

65. The transaction history of the ACIS Indentures makes clear that each of Mr. Terry, ACM, Mr. Worman’s team at Brigade and U.S. Bank appreciate the import of trading on specific days. In connection with one such indenture, these defendants authorized the purchase of a term loan in Capital Automotive 1st Lien with a maturity date of March 25, 2024. But, to maintain or improve the WAL test for this indenture, they should have required the CLOs to purchase assets with a maturity date of April 4, 2023 or earlier. They committed or facilitated similar misconduct across the ACIS Indentures.

66. Second, the Weighted Average Moody’s Rating Factor (“WARF”) a factor on which the WAM test turns, has steadily increased this year for each portfolio of the ACIS Indentures.

67. Since the entry of Plan D, under ACM's and Brigade's "management" of the ACIS Indentures, U.S. Bank has impermissibly enabled the collective WARF of the portfolios to become one of the dirtiest pools in the market in a matter of months. Specifically, as of October 2019 and through December 20,219, the WARF of each such indenture has dramatically worsened, as follows:

CLO 5:	2673	→	3004	→	3200
CLO 6:	2627	→	2917	→	3074

68. Against the backdrop of malfeasance, it is important to note that the Acis CLO portfolios and its investors including The Charitable DAF, had original risk/ratings expectations based on an average life that would shrink materially as modeled now that the reinvestment period of the Acis CLOs ended.

69. Moreover, and in contrast to Mr. Terry's and ACM's management, prepayments would lower the risk of the Acis CLO notes, including those held by The Charitable DAF, by paying off senior lower-cost debt (for example, at the AAA tranche of the respective CLO). The benefit would be realized at the junior tranches and the equity as holders would receive less-levered, lower interest payments but those investors' residual principal value would have more certainty. By keeping the average life extended and avoiding prepayments: (1) risk increases, (2) residual principal value falls, and (3) interest to equity holders theoretically continues for an artificially longer period.

70. Mr. Terry's and ACM's management thus kills the equity's residual principal recoveries while impairing and extending the duration of the debt. It is clear that the ACIS CLOs' original model and duration and risk expectation was that it would be half of what it is today but for the mismanagement by Mr. Terry and ACM, with the help of Mr. Worman's team at Brigade and enabled by U.S. Bank. And this mismanagement can be shown through the clear diminution in value at the equity tranches of the ACIS CLOs over 2019, which valuation takes into account the “health” of the overall portfolio in each such deal (in which The Charitable DAF is indirectly an investor through a different investment vehicle) (all of the below are third-party valuations on a mark-to-market methodology):

Valuation at	Acis 5	Acis 6
1/31/2019	34.25	36.50
4/30/2019	31.75	35.00
7/31/2019	29.50	29.92
10/31/2019	21.25	23.17

F. U.S. Bank and the Portfolio Manager’s conduct has damaged The Charitable DAF substantially.

71. The conduct described above has resulted in myriad damage to The Charitable DAF, including, but not limited to, the following.

72. The collective failure by each of Mr. Terry and ACM, with the assistance of Mr. Worman’s team at Brigade, as well as U.S. Bank as Indenture Trustee, to ensure that transactions under the ACIS Indentures comply with the collateral quality tests set forth therein constitute violations of the Defendants’ extra-contractual obligations to The Charitable DAF, negligence, and/or willful misconduct. By committing or facilitating extensive portfolio mismanagement, the Defendants have further violated their obligations to The Charitable DAF. These violations have compromised, among other things, the credit profile of the ACIS Indentures, and the value of The Charitable DAF’s secured notes thereunder.

73. Under its watch, since ACM has emerged from bankruptcy, Mr. Terry and ACM have caused the Acis CLOs to incur exorbitant and unprecedented administrative expenses. Indeed, as a result of the payment of uncharacteristically high expenses, equity holders under ACIS Indentures have received zero cash flows, an almost unprecedented situation that severely weakens the overall credit quality of the CLOs, which condition inures to the detriment of all the Secured Noteholders, including The Charitable DAF. The Charitable DAF has summarized these expenses in the following table:

Expenses Paid in 2019
Date	A5	A6	Total
5/1/19	27,135	56,452	176,587
8/1/19	609,974	1,046,612	3,128,642
11/1/19	437,613	1,074,214	3,171,885
Total	$ 1,074,722	$2,177,278	$ 6,477,114

74. On or about November 4, 2019, certain Noteholders under the ACIS Indentures sent a letter to each of Mr. Terry, ACM and U.S. Bank regarding this misconduct. Among other things, Noteholders under the ACIS Indentures requested that each of ACM and U.S. Bank comply with a simple books and records request to provide a written statement setting forth in reasonable detail the Administrative Expenses and other costs and expenses identified in each of the Distribution Reports prepared and delivered pursuant to the Indentures for Payment Dates occurring through November 2019. Highland CLO Funding, Ltd. (“HCLOF”), a Holder of Subordinated Notes under certain of the ACIS Indentures and in which The Charitable DAF is a 49% investor, submitted a substantially similar books and records request to U.S. Bank on November 6, 2019. To date, neither of U.S. Bank nor the Portfolio Manager have provided any kind of accounting for these exorbitant fees or any other books and records response. The sheer magnitude of fees require a necessary inference that expenses unrelated to the Acis CLOs are being improperly reimbursed. This is a clear and actionable conflict of interest. Mr. Terry, one and the same as ACM, abused the privilege of doing business as ACM to perpetuate these wrongs.

75. The request for an accounting described above, was made by similarly situated Noteholders to The Charitable DAF who also own Secured Notes under the Acis Indentures and/or are Holders of equity. As such, the Portfolio Manager, having received the request for an account, had an understanding that Noteholders like The Charitable DAF relied on the Portfolio Manager to perform particular services.

76. Mr. Terry and ACM, Mr. Worman's team at Brigade, and U.S. Bank as Indenture Trustee owed a duty to The Charitable DAF to avoid conflicts of interest. They shirked these duties by, among other things, facilitating trades that did not comply with the collateral test in order to artificially maximize certain management fees. They shirked these duties by incurring unprecedented expenses that were close to twenty times the historical expense rate.

77. Likewise, despite U.S. Bank's duty to avoid conflicts of interest, in failing to object or otherwise reserve any Noteholder rights impacted by Plan D, U.S. Bank further demonstrated its inability to prioritize or protect the rights of Noteholder The Charitable DAF.

G. Moody's knowingly or recklessly published false ratings of the ACIS Indentures.

78. Moody's is a nationally recognized statistical rating organization, or an NRSRO. As an NRSRO, Moody's "evaluate[s] a debt offering based on public, and sometimes nonpublic, information regarding the assets of an issuer and assign[s] the debt offering a rating to convey information to a potential creditor/investor about the creditworthiness of the issuer's debt." Abu Dhabi Commercial Bank v. Morgan Stanley & Co. Inc., 651 F. Supp. 2d 155, 164 (S.D.N.Y. 2009). This rating is important to issuers and investors because, among other things, a "[debt offering]'s success depends on the credit quality of the [underlying] assets,” and “[i]f stable [assets] comprise the [debt offering], then [i]nvestors are much less likely to suffer a loss.” Id. at 165; see also In re Fitch, Inc., 330 F.3d 104, 106 (2d Cir. 2003) (“[Moody’s] endorsement of a given security has regulatory significance, as many regulated institutional investors are limited in what types of securities they may invest based on the securities’ NRSRO ratings.”)

79. Between June and November 2014, Moody’s gave Indenture 5 a AAA rating. This is a top rating, and the “same as those usually assigned by the Rating Agencies to bonds backed by the full faith and credit of the United States Government, such as Treasury Bills.” Abu Dhabi Commercial Bank, 651 F. Supp. 2d at 165. The rating is “commonly understood in the marketplace to [indicate an investment is] stable, secure, and safe.” Id.

80. Still, depending upon the circumstances, an NRSRO like Moody’s can downgrade a particular rating to reflect new information. To that end, on August 6, 2019, certain ACIS Noteholders provided Moody’s with written notice of U.S. Bank’s misconduct, including its practice of bunched trading under the ACIS Indentures by effectuating multiple same day transactions that did not satisfy the WAL test or maintain or improve such failing WAL test.

81. The same Noteholders provided Moody’s with a supplemental notice of U.S. Bank’s trading misconduct on September 13, 2019.

82. Nevertheless, and since that time, Moody’s has continued to publish false ratings of those assets. Indeed, Moody’s has continued to rate Indenture 5 as an AAA investment, notwithstanding its notice of the facts set forth in more detail above.

83. This, in turn, has allowed U.S. Bank and the Portfolio Manager to continue disregarding their obligations under the ACIS Indentures, further compromising the value of the assets securing the Co-Issuers' obligations thereunder. Moody's wrongful conduct has therefore diminished the equity that The Charitable DAF owns indirectly pursuant to the ACIS Indentures.

COUNT I: BREACH OF THE DUTY TO PERFORM ALL BASIC, NON-DISCRETIONARY, MINISTERIAL TASKS WITH DUE CARE
(AGAINST U.S. BANK)

84. The Charitable DAF hereby alleges and incorporates the preceding allegations as if fully set forth herein.

85. U.S. Bank has an extra-contractual duty to perform all basic, non-discretionary, ministerial tasks under the ACIS Indentures with due care. This duty subjects each of the foregoing to tort liability.

86. U.S. Bank breached this duty in at least two ways.

87. First, U.S. Bank breached this duty by permitting the ACIS Indentures to incur exorbitant expenses, which have diminished the equity that The Charitable DAF owns indirectly pursuant to the ACIS Indentures.

88. Second, U.S. Bank breached its duty by negligently failing to act, and by accepting the entry of "Plan D" in the Bankruptcy Proceeding, which directly affects the secured Noteholders. Among other things, Plan D adversely impacts the rights of The Charitable DAF by imposing an injunction that prohibits beneficial trading activity, and impeding the ability of Noteholders to make optional redemptions.

89. U.S. Bank's omission to act was not in good faith. In 2018, U.S. Bank filed multiple pleadings in the Bankruptcy Proceeding, including, but not limited to, a Reservation of Rights, and Limited Objections to the entry of the predecessor plans to Plan D. U.S. Bank failed to take any action whatsoever in regard to Plan D.

90. These breaches were the proximate cause of damages to Charitable DAF.

91. Based on investigation to date, such damages include, but are not limited to, The Charitable DAF's inability to make certain trades or redemptions, which restriction has decreased the value of The Charitable DAF's investment across the capital stack of each contract. They also include the diminished value of the collateral securing the issuer and co-issuer's financial obligations to The Charitable DAF. U.S. Bank's failure to reserve or otherwise protect The Charitable DAF's rights impacted by the Bankruptcy Proceeding has caused it to suffer damages.

COUNT II: BREACH OF THE DUTY TO AVOID CONFLICTS OF INTEREST
(AGAINST U.S. BANK)

92. The Charitable DAF hereby alleges and incorporates the preceding allegations as if fully set forth herein.

93. U.S. Bank has an extra-contractual duty to avoid conflicts of interest. This duty subjects each of such parties to tort liability.

94. U.S. Bank is prohibited from advancing its own interests at the expense of its investor, The Charitable DAF.

95. U.S. Bank breached this duty by, among other things, facilitating extensive portfolio mismanagement and failing to ensure compliance with the collateral quality tests in order to artificially maximize management fees. Such facilitation of noncompliant trades gives rise to an inference of bad faith.

96. U.S. Bank also breached this duty by allowing the ACIS Indentures to incur exorbitant fees which have diminished the equity that The Charitable DAF owns indirectly pursuant to the ACIS Indentures.

97. U.S. Bank's breaches were the proximate cause of damages to The Charitable DAF.

98. Based on investigation to date, such damages include, but are not limited to, the diminished value of the collateral securing the issuer and co-issuer's financial obligations to Charitable DAF.

99. U.S. Bank's breaches, set forth herein, have damaged The Charitable DAF in not less than $5,000,000.00.

COUNT III: DEFAMATION (AGAINST MOODY'S)

100. The Charitable DAF hereby alleges and incorporates the preceding allegations as if fully set forth herein.

101. On August 6, 2019, certain Acis Noteholders provided Moody's with credible information regarding U.S. Bank's wrongful trading conduct and portfolio mismanagement, as described in more detail above. Since that date, Moody's has had actual or constructive notice of U.S. Bank's wrongful trading conduct.

102. Notwithstanding such notice, Moody's has continued to publish a false rating of AAA for Indenture 5 to investors.

103. Moody's published these ratings with knowledge of their falsity or with reckless disregard thereto.

104. In so doing, Moody's has caused The Charitable DAF to suffer special damages. Specifically, by continuing to provide an AAA rating for Indenture 5, Moody's has enabled U.S. Bank and the Portfolio Manager to compromise the value of the assets securing the co-issuer's obligations under the ACIS Indentures. Since August 2019, when Moody's first learned of U.S. Bank's misconduct, these assets have continued to decrease in value.

COUNT IV: NEGLIGENCE (AGAINST ACM)

105. The Charitable DAF hereby alleges and incorporates the preceding allegations as if fully set forth herein.

106. ACM owed independent extra-contractual duties The Charitable DAF, including, but not limited to, the duty to preserve the equity interests that The Charitable DAF indirectly owns, and a duty to refrain from self-dealing. Among other things, ACM assumed obligations that affected The Charitable DAF's rights, and The Charitable DAF detrimentally relied on ACM's continued performance of such obligations. Upon information and belief, ACM understood that The Charitable DAF relied on it to perform the foregoing duties.

107. As set forth in more detail above, ACM breached its duty to The Charitable DAF by mismanaging the portfolio of the ACIS Indentures, and by failing to ensure that new trades complied with the collateral quality tests.

108. The Charitable DAF has suffered direct damages as a proximate result of ACM's breach.

109. Such damages include, but are not limited to, the diminished value of the collateral securing the issuer and co-issuer's financial obligations to The Charitable DAF.

COUNT V: NEGLIGENCE (AGAINST BRIGADE)

110. The Charitable DAF hereby alleges and incorporates the preceding allegations as if fully set forth herein.

111. Brigade owed independent extra-contractual duties to The Charitable DAF, including, but not limited to the duty to preserve the equity interests that The Charitable DAF indirectly owns. As ACM's agent, Brigade assumed obligations that affected The Charitable DAF's rights, and The Charitable DAF detrimentally relied on Brigade's continued performance of such obligations. Upon information and belief, Brigade understood that The Charitable DAF relied on it to perform the foregoing duties.

112. As set forth in more detail above, Brigade breached this duty by mismanaging the portfolio of the ACIS Indentures, and by failing to ensure that new trades complied with the collateral quality tests.

113. The Charitable DAF has suffered direct damages as a proximate result of Brigade's breach.

114. Such damages include, but are not limited to, the diminished value of the collateral securing the issuer and co-issuer's financial obligations to The Charitable DAF.

COUNT VI: CONVERSION (AGAINST MR. TERRY AND ACM)

115. The Charitable DAF hereby alleges and incorporates the preceding allegations as if fully set forth herein.

116. The ACIS CLOs are obligated to pay specific and identifiable Administrative Expenses and other costs and expenses. The payment of these expenses is pulled from a reserve of specific and identifiable equity which includes funds belonging to The Charitable DAF as an indirect holder of equity interests under the Acis CLOs.

117. As a Secured Noteholder and indirect holder of equity interests under the Acis CLOs under the Acis CLOs, The Charitable DAF had ownership, possession or control over the property used to pay the Acis CLOs' Administrative Expenses and costs before the property's conversion.

118. In allowing the payment of uncharacteristically high expenses upwards near twenty times their historical amount—Mr. Terry, upon information and belief, wrongfully and improperly reimbursed ACM, and potentially himself, using The Charitable DAF's property designated for the payment of the Acis CLOs' Administrative Expenses and costs.

119. Upon information and belief, Mr. Terry and ACM exercised a wrongful and unauthorized dominion over The Charitable DAF's property designated for the payment of the Acis CLOs' Administrative Expenses and costs, to the alteration of its condition or to the exclusion of The Charitable DAF's rights.

120. An action for the conversion of using The Charitable DAF's property designated for the payment of the Acis CLOs' Administrative Expenses and costs lies based on this conduct. The property at issue is a specific, identifiable fund that has an obligation to be returned or otherwise treated in a particular manner.

COUNT VII: NEGLIGENCE (AGAINST MR. TERRY)

121. The Charitable DAF hereby alleges and incorporates the preceding allegations as if fully set forth herein.

122. Mr. Terry owed independent extra-contractual duties The Charitable DAF, including, but not limited to the duty to preserve the equity interests that The Charitable DAF indirectly owns, and a duty to refrain from self-dealing. As ACM's owner and upon information and belief, ACM's sole executive level employee, Mr. Terry assumed obligations that affected The Charitable DAF's rights, and The Charitable DAF detrimentally relied on Mr. Terry's continued performance of such obligations. Upon information and belief, Mr. Terry as owner and President of ACM, understood that The Charitable DAF relied on it to perform the foregoing duties.

123. As set forth in more detail above, Mr. Terry breached this duty by mismanaging the portfolio of the ACIS Indentures, and by failing to ensure that new trades complied with the collateral quality tests.

124. Mr. Terry also breached the duties that he owes to The Charitable DAF by incurring unprecedented expenses of the Acis CLOs up to twenty times their historical expense rate.

125. The Charitable DAF has suffered direct damages as a proximate result of Mr. Terry's breach. For example, Mr. Terry's conduct related to the expenses of the Acis CLOs has caused damaged The Charitable DAF's equity residual principal recoveries, and impaired and extended the duration of The Charitable DAF's debt.

126. In addition, Mr. Terry's conduct cause The Charitable DAF to sustain damages which include, but are not limited to, the diminished value of the collateral securing the issuer and co-issuer's financial obligations to The Charitable DAF.

REQUEST TO PIERCE ACIS CAPITAL MANAGEMENT'S CORPORATE VEIL

127. The Charitable DAF hereby alleges and incorporates the preceding allegations as if fully set forth herein.

128. Mr. Terry has exercised complete domination over ACM.

129. As described herein, Mr. Terry used such domination to commit a fraud or wrongs that injured the Charitable DAF. Mr. Terry abused the privilege of doing business as ACM to amass unprecedented expenses of the Acis CLOs up to twenty times the historical expense rate, among other wrongs.

130. These expenses, coupled with ACM's refusal to provide the accounting requested by certain Noteholders under the ACIS Indentures, creates an inference of impropriety. Further, the foregoing conduct raises an inference that expenses under the Acis CLOs are being improperly reimbursed.

131. The circumstances described herein warrant the disregard of ACM's corporate form, in particular, because Courts in this District will disregard the corporate form when necessary to prevent fraud or to achieve equity.

132. The Charitable DAF respectfully requests that the Court pierce the corporate veil of ACM such that ACM and Mr. Terry and jointly and severally liable for the wrongful conduct described herein.

CONDITIONS PRECEDENT

133. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 9(c), Charitable DAF hereby pleads that all conditions precedent have occurred or been performed. Although the ACIS Indentures contain "no-action" clauses that require certain noteholders to make written request to U.S. Bank to institute any judicial proceedings in its own name, the Second Circuit has held that noncompliance with a no-action provision is excused in a suit against the indenture trustee. See Cruden v. Bank of New York, 957 F.2d 961, 968 (2d Cir. 1992) ("The district court held that the 'no action' clause applied only to the debenture holder suits against [the issuer], not the Indenture Trustees . . . This construction of [the limitation on suits provision] obviously is correct, as it would be absurd to require the debenture holders to ask the Trustee to sue itself.").

DEMAND FOR ATTORNEYS' FEES

134. Pursuant to Section 5.15 of the ACIS Indentures, Charitable DAF hereby makes a demand for the attorneys' fees and court costs it has sustained in bringing this action.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff The Charitable Donor Advised Fund, L.P. respectfully requests that judgment be entered in its favor and against Defendants U.S. Bank, Moody's, ACM, and Brigade as follows:

- A. An award of damages sustained as a result of U.S. Bank National Association's activities in not less than $5,000,000.00;
- B. An award of damages sustained as a result of Moody's conduct in an amount to be determined at trial;
- C. An award of damages sustained as a result of ACM's conduct in an amount to be determined at trial;
- D. An award of damages sustained as a result of Brigade's conduct in an amount to be determined at trial;
- E. An award of reasonable attorneys' fees and court costs;
- F. An award of pre-judgment and post-judgment interest on all sums awarded; and
- G. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just, equitable and appropriate.

BRIGADE CAPITAL MANAGEMENT,
LP, AND JOSHUA N. TERRY

Defendants.

CASE NO.: 1:20-cv-1036

PLAINTIFFS' ORIGINAL COMPLAINT AND JURY DEMAND

TO THE HONORABLE COURT:

Plaintiffs The Charitable Donor Advised Fund, L.P., a charitable partnership whose charitable non-profit beneficiaries include the Dallas Foundation, the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation, the Santa Barbara Foundation and the North Texas Community Foundation, and CLO HoldCo, Ltd. (collectively, "Plaintiffs" or "The Charitable DAF"), by and through their attorneys of record, file this Original Complaint against Defendants U.S. Bank National Association ("U.S. Bank"), Moody's Investors Service, Inc. ("Moody's"), ACIS Capital Management, L.P. ("ACM" or "Acis"), and Brigade Capital Management, LP ("Brigade"), and Joshua N. Terry ("Terry"), and in support thereof, respectfully states and alleges as follows:

NATURE OF LAWSUIT

The Charitable DAF files this lawsuit to enforce and protect its rights as an investor in certain collateralized loan obligations, or CLOs, that for at least ten months have been, and continue to be, grossly and willfully mismanaged by their investment advisers: ACM, an entity owned and managed by Mr. Terry, and Brigade, whose CLO business is managed by Jared Worman.¹ Together, ACM and Brigade as Portfolio Manager, have severely mismanaged the Acis CLOs to the tune of several millions of dollars in actual losses, several million dollars in expected losses and exorbitant incurred expenses far in excess of anything seen elsewhere in the $600 billion CLO market. U.S. Bank, which serves as Trustee of the Acis CLOs, has impermissibly enabled this gross mismanagement, and in the process has severely violated The Charitable DAF's rights. The Charitable DAF is both the Holder of Secured Notes issued under certain ACIS Indentures, and an indirect Holder of equity interests under those same Indentures. In this capacity, The Charitable DAF possesses beneficial interests in the portfolio of collateral underlying the Acis CLOs and which the Portfolio Manager, enabled by U.S. Bank and Moody's, has willfully and self-servingly mismanaged and failed to protect.

Each of the Portfolio Manager's and U.S. Bank's wrongful and negligent conduct has severely compromised the value of The Charitable DAF's Secured Notes, decimated the credit profile of the Acis CLOs in their entirety, and caused The Charitable DAF to incur other extensive direct damages. This clear mismanagement has resulted in unprecedented losses not explained by market conditions, the extent of which is crystal clear: the equity tranches in the Acis CLOs at issue have lost material value (all fair market value at specified dates):

¹ Such CLOs, are referred to herein as the "Acis CLOs", of which ACM is the portfolio manager and to which Brigade provides sub-servicing and shared services. Together, ACM and Brigade are referred to herein as the "Portfolio Manager."

Acis CLO	August 1, 2018	February 20, 2019	October 31, 2019
Acis CLO 2014-5	$36m	$18.1m	$11.2m
Acis CLO 2015-6	$38.3m	$19m	$12m
Total	$74.3m	$37.1m	$23.2m

To protect its rights, The Charitable DAF seeks four things through this lawsuit.

First, it seeks to recover the losses it sustained in connection with U.S. Bank’s negligence and breach of its extra-contractual duties to The Charitable DAF, including the duties to perform all basic, non-discretionary, ministerial tasks with due care, and to avoid conflicts of interest.

Second, it seeks judicial intervention to protect its interests before U.S. Bank commits or facilitates any further wrongful conduct. The Charitable DAF cannot allow U.S. Bank to continue to shirk its duties as Indenture Trustee.

Third, it seeks to recover the losses it sustained from the willful misconduct of the Portfolio Manager and its sub-adviser, whose gross negligence has decimated the value of The Charitable DAF’s investment, and whose rampant conflicts of interest have destroyed the value of The Charitable DAF’s investment. The Portfolio Manager’s conduct has caused The Charitable DAF to sustain direct damages.

Fourth, it seeks to protect the value of its investment by requiring Moody’s, as a ratings provider to the Acis CLOs, to accurately, and in accordance with market precedent and practice, communicate to the market the truth about the Portfolio’s Managers’ and Indenture Trustee’s willful violation of the requirements of the Indentures and the PMA that Moody’s has been on notice of since at least August 2019. The market deserves the truth about the extensive conflicts of interests, skewed incentives and complete lack of accountability exhibited by each of Acis, Brigade and the Indenture Trustee.

PARTIES

1. Plaintiff The Charitable Donor Advised Fund, L.P. is a limited partnership, with its principal place of business at Intertrust Corporate Services (Cayman) Limited, 190 Elgin Avenue, George Town, Grand Cayman KY1-9005, Cayman Islands. The Charitable DAF is both a Secured Noteholder and an indirect holder of equity interests under the Acis CLOs discussed in this Complaint.

2. Plaintiff CLO HoldCo, Ltd. (“CLO HoldCo”), a Cayman Islands exempted company, possesses assets of Plaintiff The Charitable Donor Advised Fund, L.P. CLO HoldCo’s principal place of business is 190 Elgin Avenue, George Town, Grand Cayman KY1-9005, Cayman Islands. CLO HoldCo is both a Secured Noteholder and an indirect holder of equity interests under the Acis CLOs discussed in this Complaint.

3. Defendant U.S. Bank National Association (the “Indenture Trustee” or “Trustee”) is a national banking association that is Trustee of the ACIS Indentures, as defined further herein. Pursuant to the ACIS Indentures, Defendant U.S. Bank may be served at its corporate office located at 190 South LaSalle Street, 8th Floor, Chicago, IL 60603.

4. Defendant Moody’s Investors Service, Inc., is a Delaware corporation registered to do business in New York State. Moody’s may be served through its registered agent CT Corporation System, located at 28 Liberty Street, New York, New York 10005. Moody’s is a nationally recognized statistical rating organization (“NRSRO”).

5. Defendant ACIS Capital Management, L.P. (“ACM”) is a Delaware limited partnership. ACM may be served through its registered agent Capitol Services, Inc., located at 1675 S. State Street Suite B, Dover, Delaware 19901.

6. Defendant Brigade Capital Management, LP is a Delaware limited partnership that is registered to do business in New York. Brigade may be served through Donald E. Morgan III, 399 Park Avenue, 16th Floor, New York, New York, 10022. Brigade is a registered investment advisor.

7. Joshua N. Terry (“Mr. Terry”) is an individual resident of Texas located at 3509 Princeton Avenue, Dallas, Texas 75205 who may be personally served wherever he may be found. Mr. Terry is the owner and President of ACM.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(2), in that the matter in controversy exceeds the sum of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs, and is between a citizen of a State and a citizens of a foreign state.

9. Jurisdiction and venue over Moody’s are proper in this District because Moody’s is registered to do business in New York, and the transactions and occurrences that are the subject of The Charitable DAF’s claims against Moody’s took place in New York, New York.

10. Jurisdiction and venue over ACM are proper in this District because ACM is registered to do business in New York, and the transactions and occurrences that are the subject of The Charitable DAF’s claims against ACM, including certain trading activity with brokers or dealers, took place in New York, New York.

11. Jurisdiction and venue over Brigade are proper in this District because Brigade is registered to do business in New York, and the transactions and occurrences that are the subject of

The Charitable DAF's claims against Brigade, including certain trading activity with brokers or dealers, took place in New York, New York.

12. Jurisdiction and venue over U.S. Bank are proper in this District because, pursuant to Section 14.10 of the ACIS Indentures, as defined further herein, each party to such indentures, including U.S. Bank:

[H]ereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits, for itself and its property, to the nonexclusive jurisdiction of . . . the United States District Court of the Southern District of New York . . . in any action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the notes or th[ese] indenture[s] . . .

13. Venue is also proper because U.S. Bank waived any objection to venue in this District under the ACIS Indentures, as defined further herein. Section 14.10 specifically provides that:

Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waives, to the fullest extent it may legally and effectively do so, any objection which it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to th[ese] indenture[s] in any court referred to in the previous paragraph. Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of such action or proceeding in any such court.

14. New York law governs the claims in this lawsuit.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. The Charitable DAF is a Secured Noteholder under a set of collateralized loan obligations to which U.S. Bank serves as Trustee, and ACM and Brigade serve as Portfolio Managers.

15. Between 2014 and 2015, The Charitable DAF became a Secured Noteholder and beneficiary under three CLOs and associated indentures: (i) the Indenture dated November 18, 2014 among ACIS CLO 2014-5 LTD., as Issuer, ACIS CLO 2014-5 LLC, as Co-Issuer, and U.S. Bank as Trustee ("Indenture 5"); and (ii) the Indenture dated April 16, 2015 among ACIS CLO

2015-6 LTD., as Issuer, ACIS CLO 2015-6 LLC as Co-Issuer, and U.S. Bank as Trustee (“Indenture 6” together with Indenture 5, the “ACIS Indentures”).²

16. U.S. Bank agreed to serve as the Trustee for these ACIS Indentures, and ACM as the Portfolio Manager.

17. The ACIS Indentures impose a number of obligations on U.S. Bank in connection with its role as Trustee, and a separate set of agreements, the Portfolio Management Agreements (“PMAs”), impose obligations on ACM in connection with its role as Portfolio Manager. ACM, as a result of it having no employees or wherewithal to manage the Acis CLOs itself, retained Brigade to assist it in providing these portfolio management services, with Mr. Terry.

18. Mr. Terry is President of ACM, an entity which he also owns.

i. The ACIS Indentures require that each of U.S. Bank, ACM and Brigade ensure that new investments satisfy certain criteria, and that U.S. Bank not accept any plan that would affect the rights of Secured Noteholders.

19. First, the ACIS Indentures provide that U.S. Bank shall hold in trust, for the “benefit and security” of the Noteholders, all “Collateral Obligations” that secure the Co-Issuers’ financial obligations to the Noteholders. In connection therewith, the ACIS Indentures also provide that, for future purchases and sales of collateral obligations, the Portfolio Manager and the Trustee shall only consummate these transactions where certain investment criteria are satisfied. One such criterion is that, for all purchases, either (A) each requirement or test, as the case may be, of the Concentration Limitations and the Collateral Quality Test will be satisfied, or (B) if any such requirement or test was not satisfied immediately prior to such reinvestment, such requirement or test will be maintained or improved after giving effect to the reinvestment. See, e.g., Indenture 5 § 12.2(a)(iv). The ACIS Indentures define “Collateral Quality Test” as:

² The CLOs subject of the Acis Indentures are referred to herein as the Acis CLOs.

A test satisfied if, as of any date of determination . . . in the aggregate, the Collateral Obligations owned (or, for purposes of pro forma calculations in relation to a proposed purchase of a Collateral Obligation, proposed to be owned) by the Issuer satisfy . . . the Maximum Moody's Rating Factor Test . . . [and the] Weighted Average Life Test.

Id. at 14.

20. These tests are defined, in turn, as follows:

"Maximum Moody's Rating Factor Test": The test that will be satisfied on any date of determination if the Weighted Average Adjusted Moody's Rating Factor³ of the Collateral Obligations is less than or equal to the number set forth in the column entitled "Maximum Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor" in the Moody's Asset Quality Matrix, based upon the applicable "row/column combination" chosen by the Portfolio Manager with notice to the Collateral Administrator . . . plus the Rating Factor Adjustment Amount.

"Weighted Average Life Test": A test that is satisfied if the Aggregate Weighted Average Life⁴ on such date of determination is not later than November 18, 2022.

See, e.g., Indenture 5 at 37-38, 64.

³ "Weighted Average Adjusted Moody's Rating Factor" means "[a]s of any date of determination, a number equal to the Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor determined in the following manner: for purposes of this definition, the last paragraph of the definition of "Moody's Default Probability Rating," the second to last paragraph of the definition of "Moody's Rating" and the last paragraph of the definition of "Moody's Derived Rating" will be disregarded, and instead each applicable rating on credit watch by Moody's that is on (a) positive watch will be treated as having been upgraded by one rating subcategory, (b) negative watch will be treated as having been downgraded by two rating subcategories and (c) negative outlook will be treated as having been downgraded by one rating subcategory. See, e.g., Indenture 5 at 64-65.

"Weighted Average Moody's Rating Factor" means "[t]he number (rounded up to the nearest whole number) equal to: (i) the sum of the products of (a) the Principal Balance of each Collateral Obligation (excluding Equity Securities) multiplied by (b) the Moody's Rating Factor of such Collateral Obligation, divided by (ii) the Aggregate Principal Balance of all such Collateral Obligations." Id.

⁴ "Aggregate Weighted Average Life" means "[w]ith respect to all Collateral Obligations as of any date of determination is a date equal to (a) the number of years following such date obtained by (i) summing the products obtained by multiplying the Weighted Average Life at such time of each Collateral Obligation by the Principal Balance at such time of such Collateral Obligation and (ii) dividing such sum by the Aggregate Principal Balance at such time of all Collateral Obligations plus (B) such date of determination. Id. at 6.

21. These provisions seek to maintain the integrity and performance of the portfolio of collateral securing the Co-Issuers' obligations by requiring certain parties, including the Portfolio Managers and the Trustee, to ensure that any purchase or sale of such collateral complies with detailed, industry-recognized, and bargained-for tests – the exact investor protections that The Charitable DAF relied on when it invested in the Acis CLOs.

22. Second, the ACIS Indentures provide that, in performing its duties as Trustee, U.S. Bank may not “authorize or consent to or vote for or accept or adopt on behalf of any Secured Noteholders, any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Secured Notes or any Holder thereof”. Similar to the provisions concerning collateral quality, these provisions also seek to ensure that the Trustee does not prejudice the rights of any secured Noteholder under the ACIS Indentures, such as The Charitable DAF.

23. Finally, in addition to requiring that U.S. Bank observe certain safeguards, the ACIS Indentures also grant U.S. Bank the broad power to “execute any of the trusts or powers hereunder or perform any duties hereunder either directly or by or through agents, nominees, custodians, or attorneys.”

24. The foregoing contractual provisions provide context for U.S. Bank's role as Trustee, and of the Trustee's relationship with the Portfolio Manager. As Trustee, U.S. Bank is obligated to perform a number of extra-contractual duties for Noteholders, such as The Charitable DAF, including the duties to perform all basic non-discretionary, ministerial tasks with due care, and to avoid conflicts of interest. U.S. Bank's failure to satisfy the extra-contractual duties that it owes to The Charitable DAF is the focus of The Charitable DAF's claims against U.S. Bank in this lawsuit, discussed in further detail below.

B. ACM supervises and directs the investment and reinvestment of the ACIS Indentures' assets, in addition to providing other services delegated to ACM as portfolio manager.

25. At the same time that the issuers executed the ACIS Indentures with U.S. Bank, they also executed portfolio management agreements with ACM, which at the time was sub-advised by Highland Capital Management, LP. Specifically, ACIS CLO 2014-5 LTD., as issuer, executed a portfolio management agreement for Indenture 5 with ACM, as portfolio manager, on November 18, 2014 (“PMA 5”); and ACIS CLO 2015-6 LTD., as issuer, executed a portfolio management agreement for Indenture 6 with ACM, as portfolio manager, on April 16, 2015 (“PMA 6” together with PMA 5, the “PMAs”).

26. Notably, in connection with the 2018 bankruptcy of ACM and its emergence in February 2019, the management of the Acis CLOs was transferred to Messrs. Terry and Worman, through their respective firms ACM and Brigade. Such bankruptcy case is described in further detail below.

27. In general, the PMAs provide that, subject to the terms of the ACIS Indentures, ACM is obligated to “supervise and direct the investment and reinvestment of the Assets” and to “monitor the Assets”. Furthermore, in so doing, ACM must “comply with all [applicable] terms and conditions of the [ACIS Indentures]” and “perform its obligations . . . in good faith and with reasonable care”. The applicable “terms and conditions of” the ACIS Indentures include an obligation to ensure compliance with the collateral quality tests described above.

28. The PMAs hold ACM liable for its acts or omissions, including acting in bad faith, willful misconduct, gross negligence, or reckless disregard in the performance of its obligations under the ACIS Indentures.

29. As Portfolio Manager, ACM, through Mr. Terry and sub-advisor Brigade, were aware that in that capacity, they performed services for the Acis CLOs for a particular purpose.

30. Likewise, the Portfolio Manager had further awareness that Secured Noteholders and Holders of indirect equity interests under the Acis CLOs, like The Charitable DAF, relied on ACM and Brigade to perform services in furtherance of their particular purpose of managing the portfolio of the Acis CLOs.

31. The Portfolio Manager understood that Noteholders and equity interest Holders under the Acis CLOs, including The Charitable DAF, relied on the Portfolio Manager to perform services in furtherance of their particular purpose of managing the portfolio of the Acis CLOs.

32. Despite extra-contractual duties that the Portfolio Manager owes to The Charitable DAF as Secured Noteholders and Holders of indirect equity interests under the Acis CLOs, and in furtherance of clear and impermissible conflicts of interest, from February 20, 2019 to the present, the Portfolio Manager has caused the ACIS Indentures to incur astronomically unprecedented expenses well outside historical expense patterns in the Acis CLOs and very clearly outside market and industry norms, as discussed in more detail below.

i. Brigade is the Sub-Advisor and Shared Services Provider to ACM, and acts as ACM's agent.

33. As part of a jointly administered bankruptcy proceeding under case number 18-30264-SGJ-11 (the "Bankruptcy Proceeding"), in which Mr. Terry became 100% owner of ACM (as well as its President and owner of its general partner),⁵ the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, formally approved ACM's appointment of Brigade as Sub-Advisor and Shared Services Provider to ACM in connection with ACM's management of the ACIS CLOs. Brigade has provided these critical services at all pertinent times (to wit, from February 16, 2019 to the date of filing of this Complaint).

34. Of note, although Mr. Terry effectively approves all trading activity for the ACIS CLOs, Mr. Terry and ACM have no executive level employees aside from Mr. Terry, upon information and belief, nor wherewithal to themselves effectively manage the investment vehicles. As President and owner of ACM, Mr. Terry exercises complete domination over ACM. With no chain of command besides himself, as ACM, Mr. Terry only answers to himself.

35. Upon information and belief, other than Mr. Terry's experience in the CLO industry, about which Mr. Terry gave extensive testimony in the Bankruptcy Proceeding in connection with seeking approval of a plan of reorganization and upon which Secured Noteholders in the Acis CLOs have relied, aside from Mr. Terry, ACM has no other executive level employees or other capability to itself provide sufficient portfolio management services to the Acis CLOs.

36. Succinctly, Mr. Terry needed help managing the Acis CLOs, and he retained Brigade to provide, among other services, back-and middle-office functions, including, but not limited to, accounting, payments, operations, technology, and finance, in connection with ACM's obligations under the PMAs. He also employed Brigade to provide assistance relating to the negotiation and execution of any documents necessary to acquire or dispose of an asset under the PMAs.

37. As an agent of ACM and subject at all times to Mr. Terry's approval, Mr. Worman's team at Brigade has purchased well over $300 million in loans for the Acis CLOs, in addition to engaging in other conduct directly related to the portfolio management of the Acis CLOs.

38. In addition to executing the purchase of loans, as an agent of ACM and Mr. Terry, Mr. Worman's team at Brigade has provided several services to ACM in connection with the portfolio management of the Acis CLOs, including the provision of sub-advisory and shared services.
