IN THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
DALLAS DIVISION

In re:	§	Chapter 11
HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P., ¹	§	Case No. 19-34054-sgj11
Debtor.	§

GLOBAL NOTES AND STATEMENT OF LIMITATIONS, METHODS, AND DISCLAIMER REGARDING DEBTOR’S SCHEDULES OF ASSETS AND LIABILITIES AND STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) submits its Schedules of Assets and Liabilities (the “Schedules”) and Statement of Financial Affairs (the “SoFA”) in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (the “Bankruptcy Court”). The Debtor, with the assistance of its advisors and management, prepared the Schedules and SoFA in accordance with section 521 title 11 of the United States Code, 11 U.S.C. §§ 101-1532 (the “Bankruptcy Code”) and Rule 1007 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the “Bankruptcy Rules”).

These Global Notes and Statement of Limitations, Methods, and Disclaimer Regarding the Debtor’s Schedules and SoFA (collectively, the “Global Notes”) pertain to, are incorporated by reference in, and comprise an integral part of the Schedules and SoFA. These Global Notes should be referred to, and reviewed in connection with any review of the Schedules and SoFA.²

The Schedules and SoFA have been prepared by the Debtor with the assistance and under the direction of the Debtor’s proposed Chief Restructuring Officer and additional personnel at Development Specialists, Inc. (collectively, the “CRO”) and are unaudited and subject to further review and potential adjustment and amendment. In preparing the Schedules and SoFA, the CRO relied on financial data derived from the Debtor’s books and records that was available at the time of preparation. The CRO has made reasonable efforts to ensure the accuracy and completeness of such financial information, however, subsequent information or discovery of other relevant facts may result in material changes to the Schedules and SoFA and inadvertent errors, omissions, or inaccuracies may exist. The Debtor reserves all rights to amend or supplement its Schedules and SoFA.

² These Global Notes are in addition to any specific notes contained in the Debtor’s Schedules or SoFA. The fact that the Debtor has prepared a “general note” with respect to any of the Schedules and SoFA and not to others should not be interpreted as a decision by the Debtor to exclude the applicability of such general note to any of the Debtor’s remaining Schedules and SoFA, as appropriate.

Reservation of Rights. The Debtor reserves all rights to amend the SoFA and Schedules in all respects, as may be necessary or appropriate, including, but not limited to, the right to dispute or to assert offsets or defenses to any claim reflected on the SoFA and Schedules as to amount, liability or classification of the claim, or to otherwise subsequently designate any claim as “disputed,” “contingent” or “unliquidated.” Furthermore, nothing contained in the SoFA and Schedules shall constitute a waiver of rights by the Debtor involving any present or future causes of action, contested matters or other issues under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code or other applicable non-bankruptcy laws.

Description of the Case and “As Is” Information Date. On October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief with the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware (the “Delaware Bankruptcy Court”) under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor is managing its assets as a debtor in possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. On December 4, 2019, the Delaware Bankruptcy Court entered an Order transferring this case to the Bankruptcy Court [Docket No. 1].

Asset information in the Schedules reflects the Debtor’s best estimate of asset values as of the Petition Date, unless otherwise noted. No independent valuation has been obtained.

Basis of Presentation. The Schedules and SoFA do not purport to represent financial statements prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (“GAAP”), nor are they intended to fully reconcile to any financial statements otherwise prepared and/or distributed by the Debtor.

Although these Schedules and SoFA may, at times, incorporate information prepared in accordance with GAAP, the Schedules and SoFA neither purport to represent nor reconcile to financial statements prepared and/or distributed by the Debtor in accordance with GAAP or otherwise. Moreover, given, among other things, the valuation and nature of certain liabilities, to the extent that the Debtor shows more assets than liabilities, this is not a conclusion that the Debtor was solvent at the Petition Date. Likewise, to the extent that the Debtor shows more liabilities than assets, this is not a conclusion that the Debtor was insolvent at the Petition Date or any time prior to the Petition Date.

Estimates. To timely close the books and records of the Debtor, the CRO must make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and reported revenue and expenses. The Debtor reserves all rights to amend the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses to reflect changes in those estimates and assumptions.

Confidentiality. There may be instances within the Schedules and SoFA where names, addresses, or amounts have been left blank. Due to the nature of an agreement between the Debtor and the third party, concerns of confidentiality, or concerns for the privacy of an individual, the Debtor may have deemed it appropriate and necessary to avoid listing such names, addresses, and amounts.

Intercompany Claims. Any receivables and payables between the Debtor and affiliated or related entities in this case (each an “Intercompany Receivable” or “Intercompany Payable” and, collectively, the “Intercompany Claims”) are reported as assets on Schedule B or liabilities on Schedule E and Schedule F. These Intercompany Claims include the following components, among others: 1) loans to affiliates or related entities, 2) accounts payable and payroll disbursements made out of an affiliate’s or related entity’s bank accounts on behalf of the Debtor, 3) centrally billed expenses, 4) corporate expense allocations, and 5) accounting for trade and other intercompany transactions. These Intercompany Claims may or may not result in allowed or enforceable claims by or against the Debtor, and by listing these claims the Debtor is not indicating a conclusion that the Intercompany Claims are enforceable. Intercompany Claims may also be subject to set off, recoupment, and netting not reflected in the Schedules. In situations where there is not an enforceable claim, the assets and/or liabilities of the Debtor may be greater or lesser than the amounts stated herein. All rights to amend intercompany Claims in the Schedules and SoFA are reserved.

The Debtor has listed the intercompany payables as unsecured claims on Schedule F. The Debtor reserves its rights to later change the characterization, classification, categorization, or designation of such items.

Insiders. For purposes of the Schedules and SoFA, the Debtor defines “insider” pursuant to section 101(31) of the Bankruptcy Code. Payments to insiders are set forth on Question 3.c. of the SoFA.

Persons listed as “insiders” have been included for informational purposes only. The Debtor did not take any position with respect to whether such individual could successfully argue that he or she is not an “insider” under applicable law, including without limitation, the federal securities laws, or with respect to any theories of liability or for any other purpose. Inclusion of any party in the Schedules and SoFA as an insider does not constitute an admission that such party is an insider or a waiver of such party’s right to dispute insider status.

Excluded Accruals and GAAP Entries. The Debtor’s balance sheet reflects liabilities recognized in accordance with GAAP; however, not all such liabilities would result in a claim against the Debtor. Certain liabilities (including but not limited to certain reserves, deferred charges, and future contractual obligations) have not been included in the Debtor’s Schedules. Other immaterial assets and liabilities may also have been excluded.

Classification and Claim Descriptions. Any failure to designate a claim on the Schedules as “disputed,” “contingent” or “unliquidated” does not constitute an admission by the Debtor that such amount is not “disputed,” “contingent” or “unliquidated.” The Debtor reserves the right to dispute, or to assert offsets or defenses to, any claim reflected on its Schedules as to amount, liability or classification or to otherwise subsequently designate any claim as “disputed,” “contingent” or “unliquidated.”

Listing a claim (i) in Schedule D as “secured,” (ii) in Schedule E as “priority” or (iii) in Schedule F as “unsecured nonpriority,” or listing a contract in Schedule G as “executory” or “unexpired,” does not constitute an admission by the Debtor of the legal rights of the claimant or a waiver of the Debtor’s right to recharacterize or reclassify such claim or contract.

Moreover, the Debtor reserves all rights to amend the SoFA and Schedules, in all respects, as may be necessary or appropriate, including, but not limited to, the right to dispute or to assert offsets or defenses to any claim reflected on the SoFA and Schedules as to amount, liability or classification of the claim, or to otherwise subsequently designate any claim as “disputed,” “contingent” or “unliquidated.” Furthermore, nothing contained in the SoFA and Schedules shall constitute a waiver of rights by the Debtor involving any present or future causes of action, contested matters or other issues under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code or other relevant non-bankruptcy laws.

Credits and Adjustments. The claims of individual creditors for, among other things, goods, products, services or taxes are listed as the amounts entered on the Debtor’s books and records and may not reflect credits, allowances or other adjustments due from such creditors to the Debtor. The Debtor reserves all of its rights respecting such credits, allowances or other adjustments.

Setoffs. The Debtor may incur setoffs from third parties in its business. Setoffs in the ordinary course can result from various routine transactions, including intercompany transactions, pricing discrepancies, warranty claims and other disputes between the Debtor and third parties. Certain of these constitute normal setoffs consistent with the ordinary course of business in the Debtor’s industry. In such instances, such ordinary course setoffs are excluded from the Debtor’s responses to Question 13 of the SoFA. The Debtor reserves all rights to enforce or challenge, as the case may be, any setoffs that have been or may be asserted.

Specific Notes. These general notes are in addition to the specific notes set forth below or in the related Statement and Schedules hereinafter.

General Disclaimer

The Debtor has prepared the Schedules and the SoFA based on the information reflected in the Debtor’s books and records. However, inasmuch as the Debtor’s books and records have not been audited or formally closed and evaluated for proper cut-off on the Petition Date, the Debtor cannot warrant the absolute accuracy of these documents. The Debtor has made a diligent effort to complete these documents accurately and completely. To the extent additional information becomes available, the Debtor will amend and supplement the Schedules and SoFA.

Specific Schedules Disclosures

- a. Schedule A/B, Part 4 - Investments; Non-Publicly Traded Stock and Interests in Incorporated and Unincorporated Businesses, including any Interest in an LLC, Partnership, or Joint Venture. Certain ownership interests in subsidiaries have been listed in Schedule A/B, Part 4, at their book value on account of the fact that the fair market value of such ownership is dependent on numerous variables and factors. Fair value of such interests may differ significantly from their net book value. Further, for investments listed at fair value, many of the Debtor’s assets are not exchange traded and are fair valued utilizing unobservable inputs, historical information, and significant and/or subjective estimates. As a result the liquidity and ultimately realized value of such investments may differ materially from the fair value listed on the schedule.

- b. Schedule A/B, Part 7 - Office Furniture, Fixtures, and Equipment; and Collectibles. Dollar amounts are presented net of accumulated depreciation and other adjustments.
- c. Schedule A/B, Part 11 - All Other Assets. Dollar amounts are presented net of impairments and other adjustments. Debtor has reflected “unknown” for value of its interests in various other assets. While the face value of the notes receivable is included, the current value of these as well as the other assets has not been determined and may differ materially.

Additionally, the Debtor may receive refunds, income tax refunds or other sales tax refunds at various times throughout its fiscal year. As of the Petition Date, however, certain of these amounts are unknown to the Debtor, and accordingly, may not be listed in Schedule A/B.

Other Contingent and Unliquidated Claims or Causes of Action of Every Nature, including Counterclaims of the Debtor and Rights to Setoff Claims. In the ordinary course of its business, the Debtor may have accrued, or may subsequently accrue, certain rights to counter-claims, cross-claims, setoffs, or refunds with its customers and suppliers. Additionally, the Debtor may be party to pending litigation in which the Debtor has asserted, or may assert, claims as a plaintiff or counter-claims and/or cross-claims as a defendant. Because certain of these claims are unknown to the Debtor and not quantifiable as of the Petition Date, they may not be listed on Schedule A/B, Part 11.

- d. Schedule D - Creditors Who Have Claims Secured by Property. The Debtor reserves its rights to dispute or challenge the validity, perfection, or immunity from avoidance of any lien purported to be granted or perfected in any specific asset to a secured creditor listed on Schedule D. Moreover, although the Debtor has scheduled claims of various creditors as secured claims, the Debtor reserves all rights to dispute or challenge the secured nature of any such creditor’s claim or the characterization of the structure of any such transaction or any document or instrument related to such creditor’s claim.

The descriptions provided in Schedule D are intended only to be a summary. Reference to the applicable agreements and other related relevant documents is necessary for a complete description of the collateral and the nature, extent, and priority of any liens.

The Debtor has not included on Schedule D parties that may believe their claims are secured through setoff rights or inchoate statutory lien rights. Although there are multiple parties that hold a portion of the debt included in the secured facilities, only the administrative agents have been listed for purposes of Schedule D.

e. Schedule E/F - Creditors Who Have Unsecured Claims.

Part 1 - Creditors with Priority Unsecured Claims. Pursuant to the Order (I) Authorizing the Debtor to (A) Pay and Honor Prepetition Compensation, Reimbursable Business Expenses, and Employee Benefit Obligations, and (B) Maintain and Continue Certain Compensation and Benefit Programs Postpetition; and (11) Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 39] (the “Wage Order”), the Debtor received authority to pay certain prepetition obligations, including to pay employee wages and other employee benefits, in the ordinary course of business. The Debtor believes that any non-insider employee claims for prepetition amounts related to ongoing payroll and benefits, whether allowable as a priority or nonpriority claim, which were due and payable at the time of the Petition Date have been or will be satisfied as permitted pursuant to the Wage Order. The Debtor filed the Motion of the Debtor for Entry of an Order Authorizing the Debtor to Pay and Honor Ordinary Course Obligations under Employee Bonus Plans and Granting Related Relief [Docket No. 177] pursuant to which the Debtor seeks authority to pay and honor certain prepetition bonus programs. Employee claims related to these programs are shown in the aggregate amounts in Schedule E/F for privacy reasons. Additional information is available by appropriate request to the Debtor. The listing of a claim on Schedule E/F, Part 1, does not constitute an admission by the Debtor that such claim or any portion thereof is entitled to priority status.

Part 2 - Creditors with Nonpriority Unsecured Claims. The liabilities identified in Schedule E/F, Part 2, are derived from the Debtor’s books and records. The Debtor made a reasonable attempt to set forth its unsecured obligations, although the actual amount of claims against the Debtor may vary from those liabilities represented on Schedule E/F, Part 2. The listed liabilities may not reflect the correct amount of any unsecured creditor’s allowed claims or the correct amount of all unsecured claims.

Schedule E/F, Part 2 reflects liabilities based on the Debtor’s books and records.

Schedule E/F, Part 2, contains information regarding threatened or pending litigation involving the Debtor. The amounts for these potential claims are listed as “unknown” and are marked as contingent, unliquidated, and disputed in the Schedules and Statements. Additionally, the amounts of certain litigation claims may be estimates based on the allegations asserted by the litigation counterparty, and do not constitute an admission by the Debtor with respect to either liability for, or the amount of, such claims.

Schedule E/F, Part 2, reflects certain prepetition amounts owing to counterparties to executory contracts and unexpired leases. Such prepetition amounts, however, may be paid in connection with the assumption or assumption and assignment of an executory contract or unexpired lease. In addition, Schedule E/F, Part 2, does not include claims that may arise in connection with the rejection of any executory contracts and unexpired leases, if any, that may be or have been rejected.

As of the time of filing of the Schedules and Statements, the Debtor had not received all invoices for payables, expenses, and other liabilities that may have accrued prior to the Petition Date. Accordingly, the information contained in Schedules D and E/F may be incomplete. The Debtor reserves its rights to amend Schedules D and E/F if and as it receive such invoices.

- f. Schedule G - Executory Contracts and Unexpired Leases. While reasonable efforts have been made to ensure the accuracy of Schedule G, inadvertent errors or omissions may have occurred.

Listing a contract or agreement on Schedule G does not constitute an admission that such contract or agreement is an executory contract or unexpired lease or that such contract or agreement was in effect on the Petition Date or is valid or enforceable. The Debtor hereby reserves all of its rights to dispute the validity, status, or enforceability of any contracts, agreements, or leases set forth in Schedule G and to amend or supplement such Schedule as necessary. Certain of the leases and contracts listed on Schedule G may contain renewal options, guarantees of payment, indemnifications, options to purchase, rights of first refusal and other miscellaneous rights. Such rights, powers, duties and obligations are not set forth separately on Schedule G. In addition, the Debtor may have entered into various other types of agreements in the ordinary course of its business, such as supplemental agreements, amendments, and letter agreement, which documents may not be set forth in Schedule G.

Certain of the agreements listed on Schedule G may have expired or terminated pursuant to their terms, but are listed on Schedule G in an abundance of caution.

The Debtor reserves all rights to dispute or challenge the characterization of any transaction or any document or instrument related to a creditor's claim.

In some cases, the same supplier or provider may appear multiple times in Schedule G. Multiple listings, if any, reflect distinct agreements between the Debtor and such supplier or provider.

The listing of any contract on Schedule G does not constitute an admission by the Debtor as to the validity of any such contract. The Debtor reserves the right to dispute the effectiveness of any such contract listed on Schedule G or to amend Schedule G at any time to remove any contract.

Omission of a contract or agreement from Schedule G does not constitute an admission that such omitted contract or agreement is not an executory contract or unexpired lease. The Debtor's rights under the Bankruptcy Code with respect to any such omitted contracts or agreements are not impaired by the omission.

HIGHLAND CAPITAL	§	Case No. 19-34054-SGJ
MANAGEMENT, L.P.	§
Debtors-in-Possession.	§	(Chapter 11)

UNITED STATES TRUSTEE'S MOTION FOR AN ORDER DIRECTING THE APPOINTMENT OF A CHAPTER 11 TRUSTEE

A hearing will be held on January 21, 2020. The objection and response deadlines will be governed by the Scheduling Order, ECF No. 269. The Court orally denied the U.S. Trustee's request to have this motion considered in connection with any Governance Motion. See Scheduling Order, ECF. No. 269 and transcript.

TO THE HONORABLE STACEY G.C. JERNIGAN, UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE:

The United States Trustee for Region 6 moves for an order directing the appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee based on cause and the best interests of the creditors. 11 U.S.C. § 1104(a).
The United States Trustee would show:

Overview

Documented management concerns mandate a trustee in this case. This Court has recognized that Highland's management concerns involve a culture that surpasses the officers and board. Steps such as replacing the board or having a chief restructuring officer who reports to the Court rather do not fix Highland's problems.

Prior efforts to use external oversight to curtail Highland management's self-dealing have failed. As the Acis case demonstrated, the Highland Capital cases have many inter-connected relationships. A trustee can nimbly evaluate whether the inter-company transactions are in the best interests of the estate and creditors. In the Acis case, the trustee concluded other options were either superior, cheaper, or less-conflicted. A board is farther from the impact of the related-entity transactions and the culture of the debtor. It meets periodically. Here, the inter-connected relationships include the Debtor's bank as well as other legal entities.

The remedy Congress defined for these facts is a trustee. The Court should direct the appointment of a trustee.

Jurisdiction, Power, and Standing

1. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1334, 28 U.S.C. § 157(a)(1), and the standing order of reference. Appointing a trustee or examiner impacts the case administration and therefore is a core matter that the Court has the power to resolve. 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2)(A).
2. The United States Trustee has standing to seek appointment of a trustee or examiner. 11 U.S.C. §§ 307, 1104.

Facts

The Acis case involved findings of fraud, self-dealing, and mismanagement by this debtor:

3. This Court presided over the Acis bankruptcy case, case number 18-30264. In Acis, the Court catalogued the decision-making authority as belonging to James Dondero, as president; Mark K. Akada, chief investment officer with a decreasing role; Frank Waterhouse, as treasurer; and –by delegation of authority – Highland in-house counsel Scott Levington and Isaac Leventon. With the exception of Mark K. Akada, the same individuals have decision-making authority for the debtor-in-possession. In re Acis Capital Mgmt., Inc., 584 B.R. 115, 119, 131. The Court found the Acis witnesses’ testimony “of questionable reliability and, oftentimes, there seemed to be an effort to convey plausible deniability.” Acis, 584 B.R. at 131.

4. “[S]ince the arbitration award [in favor of Terry, the petitioning creditor], there has been a calculated effort (largely by Highland) to effectively liquidate the Alleged [Acis] Debtors.” Acis, 584 B.R. at 148. The Court found the Alleged Debtors were “really out to protect –Highland and Highland-affiliates” in contravention of their fiduciary duties of loyalty. Acis, 584 B.R. at 149.

5. In addition to finding breaches of fiduciary duty when Highland promoted its self-interests over those of Acis creditors, the Court found “evidence of both intentional and constructive fraudulent transfers.” In re Acis Capital Mgmt., L.P., 2019 WL 417149, at *11 (confirmation opinion also referencing “actual intent to hinder, delay, or defraud”).

6. After the Court directed the appointment of the Acis chapter 11 trustee, the chapter 11 trustee found service providers unrelated to Highland entities. These providers were cheaper and decreased conflicts.

Prior Efforts to Curb Highland Capital Management's Self-Dealing and Other Willful and Intentional Acts Have Failed.

14. Highland has been found to engage in self-dealing and other misconduct for years. The prior efforts to remediate and change the culture have failed.

15. In 2014, the SEC determined that Highland had historically engaged in multiple transactions in its client advisory accounts without disclosing that Highland was acting as principal or obtaining client consent before the trades were completed. The SEC required

Highland to retain an outside compliance consultant and to implement that consultant's recommendations.

16. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

17. Cumulatively, the findings of this Court and other tribunals establish that the problems exist in the management culture at Highland. These problems go beyond the officers and directors.

18. The general partner of Highland is controlled by Dondero.

19. Moreover, the integrated nature of the board for Highland-related entities allows for the possibility that individuals removed from the board and from management may still monitor the financial transactions and use their relationships with the Highland's employees to direct outcomes. For example, Highland proposes to bank, in part, with NexBank. The NexBank website reflects that Dondero chairs the board and Okada is a director. Similarly, Highland Management, the debtor, has intercompany transactions with Highland Capital Management Korea Limited, Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., and Highland Capital Management (Singapore) Pte Ltd.

Legal Analysis and Argument

20. The United States Trustee is charged with monitoring the federal bankruptcy system. See 28 U.S.C. § 586(a)(3); see also United States Trustee v. Columbia Gas Sys., Inc. (In re Columbia Gas Sys., Inc.) 33 F.3d 294, 295-96 (3d Cir. 1994).

21. Before confirmation, the Court "shall order the appointment of a trustee . . . for cause, including fraud, dishonesty, incompetence, or gross mismanagement of the affairs of the debtor by current management, either before or after the commencement of the case, or similar cause.” 11 U.S.C. §1104(a)(1) (emphasis added). In addition, by adding appointment of a trustee as a remedy in section 1112, “cause” also may be factors traditionally resulting in dismissal or conversion. 11 U.S.C. §1112(b)(1). Here, an additional factor is “bad faith.” Alternatively, the Court must appoint a trustee “if such appointment is in the interest of the creditors, any equity security holders, and other interests of the estate.” 11 U.S.C. § 1104(a)(2).

22. The Fifth Circuit has indicated that the burden of proof for the appointment of a trustee is “clear and convincing” evidence, but the Court later adopted the dissent’s opinion. Cajun Elec. Co. v. Louisiana Elec. Co. (In re Cajun Electric Power Co-Op, Inc.), 69 F.3d 746, on reh’g, 74 F.3d 599 (5th Cir. 1996) (adopting dissent).¹

23. The duties of a trustee are defined in section 1106, and the Court has the ability to tailor some of them. 11 U.S.C. § 1106(a).

24. The “cause” to appoint an examiner or a trustee may be a reason other than the enumerated factors. Oklahoma Ref. Co. v. Blaik (In re Oklahoma Ref. Co.), 838 F.2d 1133, 1136 (10th Cir. 1988); cf. Little Creek Dev. Corp. v. Commonwealth Mortg. Corp. (In re Little Creek Dev. Corp.), 779 F.2d 1068, 1072 (5th Cir. 1986) (defining “cause” in context of dismissal statute).

25. For example, courts have appointed trustees or examiners when the debtor’s insiders have conflicts of interest arising from the sale of the Debtor’s assets. In Cajun Electric, the Fifth Circuit affirmed the appointment of a trustee, in part, because the co-operative members were interested in purchasing part or all of Cajun Electric's assets. Cajun Elec. Power Cooperative, Inc. v. Central Louisiana Elec. Co., Inc. (In re Cajun Elec. Power Cooperative, Inc.), 69 F.3d 746, 751 (5th Cir. 1995) (Garza, J., dissenting), adopted as majority opinion on reh'g, 74 F.3d 599 (5th Cir. 1996). The Fifth Circuit held that "a trustee may be the only effective way to pursue reorganization" when the management has cross-purposes. Cajun Elec., 69 F.2d at 751.

Cause exists to appoint a chapter 11 trustee:

26. Here, both express statutory standards and the common law case standards for "cause" exist. Specifically, "fraud, dishonesty, incompetence, or gross mismanagement of the affairs of the debtor" and bad faith exist under the facts of this case.²

27. The record regarding a series of self-dealing categories reflects both incompetence and gross mismanagement. SEC Judgment, pp. 5-7.

28. Other "cause" exists to appoint a trustee because tribunals have historically found the management's testimony unreliable and the Debtor's actions as reflecting willfulness and intent. This Court has found that the Debtor's management had fraudulent intent when it removed assets from Acis.

It is in the best interests of creditors to appoint a chapter 11 trustee.

29. Appointment of chapter 11 trustee is also in the interests of creditors, equity security holders, and other interests of the estate. The Court should direct the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee to serve the "interests of creditors, any equity security holders, and other interests of the estate." 11 U.S.C. §1104(a)(2).

² "The United States trustee shall move for the appointment of a trustee under subsection (a) if there are reasonable grounds to suspect that current members of the governing body of the debtor, the debtor's chief executive officer . . . participated in actual fraud, dishonesty, or criminal conduct in the management of the debtor or the debtor's public financial reporting." 11 U.S.C. §1104(e).

30. First, it is in the best interest of the creditors to have an independent trustee to assume control over the estate in order to evaluate any alter ego claims, avoidance actions, and other tort claims.

31. Second, it is in the best interest of the creditors and other parties-in-interest to have accurate financial information. Accurate financial information ensures parties understand the facts of the case and avoids post-petition liabilities for violations. Like the information provided to investors in securities filings, the information provided in a bankruptcy case depends on affirmative disclosure.

32. Other efforts to check or monitor the Debtor's management have failed. The Acis trustee's actions reflect a need to be able to bid competing services and replace related-entities when conflicts of interest or cost concerns arise.

33. Congress has defined the remedy for the facts of this case. "The court shall order the appointment of a trustee." 11 U.S.C. § 1104(a).

Conclusion

For the foregoing reasons, the United States Trustee requests the Court to

- a order the United States Trustee to appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee; or
- b grant to the United States Trustee such other and further relief as is just and proper.

MOTION OF THE DEBTOR FOR APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT WITH THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS REGARDING GOVERNANCE OF THE DEBTOR AND PROCEDURES FOR OPERATIONS IN THE ORDINARY COURSE

The above-captioned debtor and debtor in possession (the “Debtor”) files this motion (the “Motion”) for the entry of an order (the “Order”) approving the terms of a settlement between the Debtor and the Committee (as defined below) regarding governance of the Debtor and procedures for operations in the ordinary course of business, as embodied in the term sheet attached hereto as Exhibit A (the “Term Sheet”). In support of this Motion, the Debtor respectfully represents as follows:

Preliminary Statement

1. Following weeks of negotiations, the Debtor and the Committee have reached a proposed settlement, which contemplates the creation of a new independent board of directors (the “Independent Directors”) at Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), the Debtor’s general partner and ultimate party in control, and the implementation of certain protocols governing the operation of the Debtor’s business in the ordinary course. The Independent Directors will consist of the following three highly qualified and independent individuals: James Seery, John Dubel, and a third director to be selected by or otherwise acceptable to the Committee.² Two of the Independent Directors were chosen by the Committee and the third Independent Director will be selected by or otherwise acceptable to the Committee. Background information for each of the Independent Directors is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

2. Pursuant to the Term Sheet, and effective upon entry of the Order, James Dondero will no longer be a director, officer, managing member, or employee of the Debtor or Strand and will have no authority, directly or indirectly, to act on the Debtor’s behalf. Going forward, the Independent Directors, through Strand, will have sole and exclusive management and control of the Debtor. The Independent Directors will have the discretion to appoint an interim

² The Committee’s agreement to the Term Sheet in its entirety is contingent upon the selection of a third Independent Director acceptable to the Committee. In the event the Committee and the Debtor cannot reach an agreement on an acceptable Independent Director to fill the third seat of the Board of Directors, the Term Sheet shall be null and void.

Chief Executive Officer (the “CEO”) who will manage the Debtor’s day-to-day business operations. Subject to Court approval, the Debtor still intends to retain Development Specialists, Inc. (“DSI”) to provide a Chief Restructuring Officer (the “CRO”) that will serve at the direction of the Independent Directors (or CEO, if appointed).

3. It bears emphasis that the Independent Directors will not be mere figureheads. The Debtor and the Committee envision that the Independent Directors will be actively involved and intimately familiar with all material aspects of the Debtor’s business and restructuring efforts. Moreover, with guidance of the CRO and CEO (if appointed), the Independent Directors will endeavor to prevent any negative influence Mr. Dondero or any of his affiliates or agents may have on the Debtor and its employees. Further, as part of the Term Sheet, the Committee will be granted standing to pursue estate claims against Mr. Dondero and other former insiders of the Debtor who were not employed by the Debtor as of the execution of the Term Sheet. The Committee will also retain the right to move for a chapter 11 trustee.

4. In sum, the Term Sheet resolves months of litigation between the Debtor and the Committee over the Debtor’s governance structure and operating protocols, allowing all parties to refocus on a path forward for this chapter 11 case. With the Independent Directors in place, the Debtor can move forward expeditiously, efficiently, and effectively with the substantive aspects of this case and consider any available restructuring options that will maximize value for all constituents. The Debtor therefore urges the Court to approve the Term Sheet and allow the key economic interest holders to proceed with a productive restructuring effort.

Jurisdiction and Venue

5. The United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (the “Court”) has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This matter is a core proceeding within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2).

6. Venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

7. The statutory bases for the relief requested herein are sections 105(a) and 363 of the Bankruptcy Code and Rule 9019 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the “Bankruptcy Rules”).

Background

8. On October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Delaware Court”).

9. To assist and coordinate the restructuring process, the Debtor retained DSI and Bradley D. Sharp to serve as the CRO on October 7, 2019. On October 29, 2019, the Debtor filed the Motion of the Debtor Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105(a) and 363(b) to Employ and Retain Development Specialists, Inc. to Provide a Chief Restructuring Officer, Additional Personnel, and Financial Advisory and Restructuring Related Services, Nunc Pro Tunc as of the Petition Date [Docket No. 74] (the “CRO Motion”) seeking to formally retain the CRO. The CRO Motion remains pending, and the Debtor is filing a supplement to the CRO Motion concurrently herewith.

10. On October 29, 2019, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) was appointed by the U.S. Trustee in the Delaware Court. On November 12, 2019, the Committee filed an omnibus objection to the CRO Motion, cash management motion, and motion for approval of ordinary course protocols [Docket No. 130] (the “Committee Objection”), raising various concerns regarding the Debtor’s governance and business practices.

11. On December 4, 2019, the Delaware Court entered an order transferring venue of the Debtor’s bankruptcy case to this Court [Docket No. 186].³ The Debtor has continued in the possession of its property and has continued to operate and manage its business as a debtor in possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in this chapter 11 case.

12. On December 23, 2019, the U.S. Trustee filed a motion in this Court to appoint a chapter 11 trustee for the Debtor [Docket No. 271] (the “Trustee Motion”). Although the Debtor will be filing a separate response to the Trustee Motion, it suffices to say that the Trustee Motion (filed without even considering the proposed Term Sheet) completely lacks merit given the governance changes and other resolutions encompassed in the Term Sheet agreed to by the Committee, as the representative of the primary economic stakeholders here.

Terms of the Proposed Settlement

13. Pursuant to the Term Sheet, the Debtor and the Committee have agreed to: (a) implement certain changes to the Debtor’s governance, including the appointment of the Independent Directors; (b) provide the Committee with additional transparency into the operation of the Debtor’s business; (c) retain the CRO on updated terms; and (d) implement certain protocols governing the ordinary course business operations of the Debtor. The terms of this agreement are contained in the Term Sheet.⁴ A summary of the Term Sheet is as follows:

³ All docket numbers refer to the docket maintained by this Court.

⁴ In the event of any inconsistency between the summary of the Term Sheet contained herein and the Term Sheet, the Term Sheet will govern.

Independent Directors

The Debtor's general partner, Strand will appoint the following three (3) Independent Directors: James Seery, John Dubel, and a third director to be selected by or otherwise acceptable to the Committee. The Independent Directors will be granted exclusive control over the Debtor and its operations. Among other things, the Independent Directors shall conduct a review of all current employees as soon as practicable following the Independent Directors' appointment, determine whether and which employees should be subject to a key employee retention plan and/or key employee incentive plan and, if applicable, propose plan(s) covering such employees. The appointment and powers of the Independent Directors and the corporate governance structure shall be pursuant to the documents attached to the Term Sheet (the "Governing Documents"), which documents shall be satisfactory to the Committee. Once appointed, the Independent Directors (i) cannot be removed without the Committee's written consent or Order of the Court, and (ii) may be removed and replaced at the Committee's direction upon approval of the Court (subject in all respects to the right of any party in interest, including the Debtor and the Independent Directors, to object to such removal and replacement).

The Independent Directors shall be compensated in a manner to be determined, with an understanding that the source of funding, whether directly or via reimbursement, will be the Debtor.

As soon as practicable after their appointments, the Independent Directors shall, in consultation with the Committee, determine whether a CEO should be appointed for the Debtor. If the Independent Directors determine that appointment of a CEO is appropriate, the Independent Directors shall appoint a CEO acceptable to the Committee as soon as practicable, which may be one of the Independent Directors. Once appointed, the CEO cannot be removed without the Committee's written consent or Order of the Court.

The Committee shall have regular, direct access to the Independent Directors, provided, however that (1) if the communications include FTI Consulting Inc. ("FTI"), Development Specialists Inc. ("DSI") shall also participate in such communications; and (2) if the communications include counsel, then either Debtor's counsel or, if retained, counsel to the Independent Directors shall also participate in such communications.

Role of Mr. James Dondero

Upon approval of the Term Sheet by the Bankruptcy Court, Mr. Dondero will (1) resign from his position as a Board of Director of Strand Advisors, Inc., (2) resign as an officer of Strand Advisors, Inc., and (3) resign as an employee of the Debtor.

CRO

Bradley Sharp and DSI shall, subject to approval of the Court, be retained as the CRO to the Debtor and report to and be directed by the Independent Directors and, if and once appointed, the CEO. Mr. Sharp's and DSI's retention is subject to this Court's approval. The Debtor has filed the CRO Motion, as supplemented as of the date hereof, which requests authority to retain Mr. Sharp and DSI.⁵

DSI and all other Debtor professionals shall serve at the direction of the CEO, if any, and the Independent Directors.

Estate Claims

The Committee is granted standing to pursue any and all estate claims and causes of action against Mr. Dondero, Mr. Mark Okada, other insiders of the Debtor, and each of the Related Entities, including any promissory notes held by any of the foregoing (collectively, the "Estate Claims"); provided, however, that the term Estate Claims will not include any estate claim or cause of action against any then-current employee of the Debtor.

Document Management, Preservation, and Production

The Debtor shall be subject to and comply with the document management, preservation, and production requirements attached to the Term Sheet, which requirements cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order (the "Document Production Protocol").

Solely with respect to the investigation and pursuit of Estate Claims, the document production protocol will acknowledge that the Committee will have access to the privileged documents and communications that are within the Debtor's possession, custody, or control ("Shared Privilege").

With respect to determining if any particular document is subject to the Shared Privilege, the following process shall be followed: (i) the Committee will request documents from the Debtor, (ii) the Debtor shall log all documents requested but withheld on the basis of privilege, (iii) the Debtor shall not withhold documents it understands to be subject to the Shared Privilege; (iv) the Committee will identify each additional document on the log that the Committee believes is subject to the Shared Privilege, and (v) a special master or other third party neutral agreed to by the Committee and the Debtor shall make a determination if such documents are subject to the Shared Privilege. The Committee further agrees that the production of any particular document by the Debtor under this process will not be used as a basis for a claim of subject matter waiver.

Reporting Requirements

The Debtor shall be subject to and comply with the reporting requirements attached to the Term Sheet, which reporting requirements cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order (the "Reporting Requirements").

Plan Exclusivity

The Independent Directors may elect to waive the Debtor's exclusive right to file a plan under section 1121 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Operating Protocols

The Debtor shall comply with the operating protocols attached to the Term Sheet, regarding the Debtor's operation in the ordinary course of business, which protocols cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order (the "Operating Protocols" and, together with the Reporting Requirements, the "Protocols").

14. By this Motion, the Debtor is seeking the Court's approval of the Term Sheet, the terms contained therein, and the exhibits attached thereto. For the avoidance of doubt, approval of the Term Sheet includes the approval of the following:

- Independent Directors: The appointment of James Seery, John Dubel, and a third director to be selected by or otherwise acceptable to the Committee as the Independent Directors of Strand, the Debtor's general partner, with power to oversee the operations of the Debtor as set forth in the Term Sheet. Mr. Seery and Mr. Dubel were selected by the Committee, and the Debtor agreed to their appointment as Independent Directors. The Debtor is also seeking approval of the Governing Documents appointing the Independent Directors, to the extent required, and the authority to compensate the Independent Directors either directly from the assets of the Debtor or via the reimbursement of Strand of any compensation paid to the Independent Directors.

- Document Management and Preservation: The implementation of the Document Production Protocol, which will govern how the Debtor retains and produces documents and information to the Committee during the pendency of its bankruptcy case. The Debtor is also agreeing to allow the Committee to access certain documents that are otherwise subject to the Shared Privilege to assist the Debtor in investigating the Estate Claims.

- Estate Claims. The Debtor has agreed to grant the Committee standing to pursue any Estate Claims. Estate Claims do not include claims or causes of action against any current employees of the Debtor; however, if any employee ceases to be employed by the Debtor, the Committee will have standing to pursue claims against such former employee.

- Reporting Requirements and Operating Protocols: The Debtor has agreed to provide certain reporting to the Committee and to operate under certain protocols, which set forth the parameters of how the Debtor can conduct its business without the requirement of Court approval. The Protocols provide, in certain circumstances, how the CRO and the Independent Directors will oversee the Debtor's operations. The purpose of the Protocols is to allow the Debtor to function in the ordinary course of its business while providing transparency to the Committee.

15. The Debtor believes that appointing the Independent Directors and otherwise effectuating the terms of the Term Sheet is in the best interests of the Debtor, its estate, and its creditors. The Term Sheet will allow the Debtor to proceed with a productive reorganization effort that will maximize value for all constituents. Accordingly, the Debtor seeks approval of the Term Sheet.

Relief Requested

16. By this Motion, the Debtor seeks entry of an order pursuant to sections 105(a), 363(b)(1), and 363(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 9019: (a) approving the Debtor's settlement with the Committee as set forth in the Term Sheet and outlined herein; (b) authorizing the Debtor to take any action as may be reasonably required to effectuate the terms of the Term Sheet, including entering into the Governing Documents and compensating – either directly or through reimbursement – the Independent Directors; (c) granting the Committee standing to pursue the Estate Claims; and (d) granting related relief.

Authority for the Relief Requested

A. Section 363(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code Authorizes the Debtor to Enter Into Certain Aspects of the Term Sheet in the Ordinary Course

17. Because the Debtor is not settling any claims or causes of action through the Term Sheet or otherwise expending estate resources, the Debtor believes that it has the authority to effectuate the majority of the transactions and compromises set forth in the Term Sheet without Court approval under section 363(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code. Specifically, section 363(c)(1) provides:

[i]f the business of the debtor is authorized to be operated under section. . . 1108. . . of this title. . . the trustee may enter into transactions, including the sale or lease of property of the estate, in the ordinary course of business, without notice or a hearing, and may use property of the estate in the ordinary course of business without notice or a hearing.

11 U.S.C. § 363(c)(1). As such, a debtor may engage in postpetition actions if the debtor is authorized to operate its business under section 1108 and such transactions are “in the ordinary course of business.”

18. An activity is “ordinary course” if it satisfies both the “horizontal test” and the “vertical test.” See, e.g., Denton Cty. Elec. Coop. v. Eldorado Ranch, Ltd. (In re Denton Cty. Elec. Coop.), 281 B.R. 876, 882 n.12 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2002); see also In re Roth American, Inc., 975 F.2d 949, 952 (3d Cir. 1992). The vertical test looks to “whether the transaction subjects a hypothetical creditor to a different economic risk than existed when the creditor originally extended credit.” In re Patriot Place, Ltd., 486 B.R. 773, 793 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2013). The horizontal test considers “whether the transaction was of the sort commonly undertaken by companies in the industry.” Id. Here, both the vertical test and horizontal test are satisfied.

19. Under the Term Sheet, the Debtor is seeking authority to (a) appoint the Independent Directors at Strand (a non-debtor entity), (b) have Mr. Dondero removed from his role at the Debtor and Strand; (c) agree to seek the retention of the CRO under a revised engagement letter that provides that the CRO will report to the Independent Directors; (d) grant the Committee standing to pursue the Estate Claims; (e) enter into and implement the Document Production Protocols; (f) grant the Independent Directors the exclusive right to determine whether to waive exclusivity; and (g) enter into and implement the Protocols. Only the compensation of the Independent Directors, the entrance into the Protocols (which provide the Committee with certain right to object to the Debtor engaging in a “Transaction” (as defined in the Protocols) and allow the Debtor to seek a hearing before this Court on an expedited basis), and the grant of standing to the Committee to pursue Estate Claims could be construed as outside of the ordinary course of business. The balance of the terms of the Term Sheet either involve non-debtors⁶ or will be the subject of separate motions seeking Court approval at the appropriate time.

B. The Court Should Approve the Term Sheet Under Rule 9019 of the Bankruptcy Code

20. Although the Debtor believes that it has authority to implement the majority of the Term Sheet in the ordinary course of its business under section 363(c), the Debtor is seeking this Court's approval of the Term Sheet under section 105 of the Bankruptcy Code and Rule 9019 of the Bankruptcy Rules out of an abundance of caution. Section 105(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides in relevant part that "[t]he court may issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this title." 11 U.S.C. § 105(a). Section 105(a) has been interpreted to expressly empower bankruptcy courts with broad equitable powers to "craft flexible remedies that, while not expressly authorized by the Code, effect the result the Code was designed to obtain." Official Comm. of Unsecured Creditors of Cybergenics Corp. ex rel. Cybergenics Corp. v. Chinery, 330 F.3d 548, 568 (3d Cir. 2003) (en banc); see also Southmark Corp. v. Grosz (In re Southmark Corp.), 49 F.3d 1111, 1116 (5th Cir. 1995) (stating that section 105(a) of the Bankruptcy Code "authorizes bankruptcy courts to fashion such orders as are necessary to further the substantive provisions of the Code").

21. Bankruptcy Rule 9019 governs the procedural prerequisites to approval of a settlement, providing that:

On motion by the trustee and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise or settlement. Notice shall be given to creditors, the United States trustee, the debtor, and indenture trustees as provided in Rule 2002 and to any other entity as the court may direct.

Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9019(a).

22. Settlements in bankruptcy are favored as a means of minimizing litigation, expediting the administration of the bankruptcy estate, and providing for the efficient resolution of bankruptcy cases. Myers v. Martin (In re Martin), 91 F.3d 389, 393 (3d Cir. 1996); see also Rivercity v. Herpel (In re Jackson Brewing Co.), 624 F.2d 599, 602 (5th Cir. 1980). Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a), a bankruptcy court may, after appropriate notice and a hearing, approve a compromise or settlement so long as the proposed settlement is fair, reasonable, and in the best interest of the estate. See In re Age Ref. Inc., 801 F.3d 530, 540 (5th Cir. 2015). Ultimately, “approval of a compromise is within the sound discretion of the bankruptcy court.” See United States v. AWECO, Inc. (In re AWECO, Inc.), 725 F.2d 293, 297 (5th Cir. 1984); Jackson Brewing, 624 F.2d at 602–03.

23. In making this determination, the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit applies a three-party test, “with a focus on comparing ‘the terms of the compromise with the rewards of litigation.’” Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors v. Cajun Elec. Power Coop. by & through Mabey (In re Cajun Elec. Power Coop.), 119 F. 3d 349, 356 (5th Cir. 1997) (citing Jackson Brewing, 624 F.2d at 602). The Fifth Circuit has instructed courts to consider the following factors: “(1) The probability of success in the litigation, with due consideration for the uncertainty of law and fact, (2) The complexity and likely duration of the litigation and any attendant expense, inconvenience and delay, and (3) All other factors bearing on the wisdom of the compromise.” Id.

24. Under the rubric of the third factor referenced above, the Fifth Circuit has specified two additional factors that bear on the decision to approve a proposed settlement. First, the court should consider “the paramount interest of creditors with proper deference to their reasonable views.” Id.; Conn. Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. United Cos. Fin. Corp. (In re Foster Mortg. Corp.), 68 F.3d 914, 917 (5th Cir. 1995). Second, the court should consider the “extent to which the settlement is truly the product of arms-length bargaining, and not of fraud or collusion.” Age Ref. Inc., 801 F.3d at 540; Foster Mortg. Corp., 68 F.3d at 918 (citations omitted).

25. Here, the Debtor submits that effectuating the transactions set forth in the Term Sheet satisfies the Fifth Circuit's three-part test. The settlement embodied in the Term Sheet was driven in large part by the Debtor's creditors and has the support of the Committee, which consists of the Debtor's principal creditors. The Term Sheet was negotiated at arm's length, and there was no fraud or collusion in its negotiation. The settlement is also fair and reasonable and in the best interests of the Debtor's estate and also resolves the open disputes regarding the CRO Motion, the Motion of Debtor for Interim and Final Orders Authorizing (A) Continuance of Existing Cash Management System, (B) Continued Use of the Prime Account, (C) Limited Waiver, as supplemented [Docket Nos. 51 & 259], and Precautionary Motion of the Debtor for Order Approving Protocols for the Debtor to Implement Certain Transactions in the Ordinary Course of Business [Docket No. 76].

26. The Debtor and members of the Committee have been entangled in highly contentious litigation that has spanned many years and multiple venues. As evidenced by the brief history of the Debtor's bankruptcy case,⁷ that contention and mistrust has carried over into this proceeding and could derail any chance that the Debtor has to successfully reorganize and structure a plan to pay its creditors. The governance and operational changes set forth in the Term Sheet, will provide greater transparency to the Committee and start the process of rebuilding the trust necessary to negotiate a successful resolution of this case. Without the Term Sheet, the Debtor anticipates that the Committee would move to appoint a chapter 11 trustee and the U.S. Trustee has already done so (without even seeing the Term Sheet). The Debtor will contest such motions because the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee could gravely harm the Debtor's business. The implementation of the Term Sheet will head off any potential issues that could arise, eliminate costly, time consuming and uncertain litigation, and give the Debtor sufficient breathing room to work towards rebuilding trust with its creditor body and allow the Debtor to exit bankruptcy and preserve the value of its business. The Debtor's bankruptcy case has been pending for over two and a half months, and it is time for the parties to put the acrimony that marked the initial stages of this case behind them and to move forward in a productive manner – precisely what the Term Sheet seeks to accomplish.

C. Consummating the Settlement Agreement is a Sound Exercise of the Debtors' Business Judgment.

27. Section 363(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code authorizes a debtor in possession to “use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate,” after notice and a hearing. It is well established in this jurisdiction that a debtor may use property of the estate outside the ordinary course of business under this provision if there is a good business reason for doing so. See, e.g., ASARCO, Inc. v. Elliott Mgmt. (In re ASARCO, L.L.C.), 650 F.3d 593, 601 (5th Cir. 2011) (“[F]or the debtor-in-possession or trustee to satisfy its fiduciary duty to the debtor, creditors, and equity holders, there must be some articulated business justification for using, selling, or leasing the property outside the ordinary course of business.”) (quoting In re Cont'l Air Lines, Inc., 780 F.3d 1223, 1226 (5th Cir. 1986)); 441 B.R. 813, 830 (Bankr. S.D. Tex.

2010); GBL Holding Co., Inc. v. Blackburn/Travis/Cole, Ltd. (In re State Park Bldg. Grp., Ltd.), 331 B.R. 251, 254 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2005).

28. The transactions contemplated by the Term Sheet are within the sound business judgment of the Debtor. The Term Sheet resolves potentially costly and protracted litigation with the Committee over the Debtor's corporate governance and will give the Debtor the breathing room necessary to negotiate and effectuate the terms of a plan acceptable to the Debtor's creditors. Further, providing standing to the Committee to investigate Estate Claims and the payment of the Independent Directors from the assets of the estate are each necessary components of the Term Sheet. The Committee would not have agreed to the Term Sheet without the grant of standing to investigate Estate Claims. Moreover, Strand, a non-debtor, is unable to cover the costs of the Independent Directors. As such, there is a good business reason for the Debtor's payment of the Independent Directors' compensation: the Term Sheet and the appointment of the Independent Directors would not have been agreed to or possible without that condition.⁸ The foregoing is sufficient grounds to approve the Term Sheet and authorize the Debtor to effectuate the terms of the Term Sheet under Section 363(b)(1).

No Prior Request

29. No previous request for the relief sought herein has been made to this, or any other, Court.

⁸ Further, although the Debtor seeks to reimburse Strand for the cost of the Independent Directors, the Debtor is otherwise obligated to reimburse Strand for any costs or expenses incurred by Strand in its management of the Debtor. See Fourth Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of Highland Capital Management, L.P., § 3.10(b).

Notice

30. Notice of this Motion shall be given to the following parties or, in lieu thereof, to their counsel, if known: (a) the Office of the United States Trustee; (b) the Office of the United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas; (c) the Debtor's principal secured parties; (d) counsel to the Committee; and (e) parties requesting notice pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 2002. The Debtor submits that, in light of the nature of the relief requested, no other or further notice need be given.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons set forth herein, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court enter an Order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit C, (a) approving the Debtor's settlement with the Committee as set forth in the Term Sheet and outlined herein; (b) authorizing the Debtor to take any action as may be reasonably required to effectuate the terms of the Term Sheet, including entering into the Governing Documents and compensating – either directly or through reimbursement – the Independent Directors; and (c) granting related relief.

Counsel and Proposed Counsel for the Debtor and Debtor in Possession

Highland Capital Management, L.P.

Preliminary Term Sheet

This term sheet (“Term Sheet”) outlines the principal terms of a proposed settlement between Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) in the chapter 11 case captioned In re Highland Capital Mgm’t, L.P, Case No. 19-34054 (SGJ) (the “Chapter 11 Case”), pending in the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the “Bankruptcy Court”), to resolve a good faith dispute between the parties related to the Debtor’s corporate governance, and specifically, the Committee’s various objections to certain relief being sought by the Debtors in the Chapter 11 Case [Del. Docket No. 125]. This Term Sheet shall be subject to approval by the Bankruptcy Court.

Topic	Proposed Terms
Parties	Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”). The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Committee”).
Independent Directors	The Debtor’s general partner, Strand Advisors, Inc., will appoint the following three (3) independent directors (the “Independent Directors”): James Seery, John Dubel, and a third director to be selected by or otherwise acceptable to the Committee. The Independent Directors will be granted exclusive control over the Debtor and its operations. Among other things, the Independent Directors shall conduct a review of all current employees as soon as practicable following the Independent Directors’ appointment, determine whether and which employees should be subject to a key employee retention plan and/or key employee incentive plan and, if applicable, propose plan(s) covering such employees. The appointment and powers of the Independent Directors and the corporate governance structure shall be pursuant to the documents attached hereto as Exhibit A, which documents shall be satisfactory to the Committee. Once appointed, the Independent Directors (i) cannot be removed without the Committee’s written consent or Order of the Court, and (ii) may be removed and replaced at the Committee’s direction upon approval of the Court (subject in all respects to the right of any party in interest, including the Debtor and the Independent Directors, to object to such removal and replacement). The Independent Directors shall be compensated in a manner to be determined with an understanding that the

	source of funding, whether directly or via reimbursement, will be the Debtor. As soon as practicable after their appointments, the Independent Directors shall, in consultation with the Committee, determine whether an interim Chief Executive Officer (the “CEO”) should be appointed for the Debtor. If the Independent Directors determine that appointment of a CEO is appropriate, the Independent Directors shall appoint a CEO acceptable to the Committee as soon as practicable, which may be one of the Independent Directors. Once appointed, the CEO cannot be removed without the Committee’s written consent or Order of the Court. The Committee shall have regular, direct access to the Independent Directors, provided, however that (1) if the communications include FTI Consulting Inc. (“FTI”), Development Specialists Inc. (“DSI”) shall also participate in such communications; and (2) if the communications include counsel, then either Debtor’s counsel or, if retained, counsel to the Independent Directors shall also participate in such communications.
Role of Mr. James Dondero	Upon approval of this Term Sheet by the Bankruptcy Court, Mr. Dondero will (1) resign from his position as a Board of Director of Strand Advisors, Inc., (2) resign as an officer of Strand Advisors, Inc., and (3) resign as an employee of the Debtor.
CRO	DSI shall, subject to approval of the Bankruptcy Court, be retained as chief restructuring officer (“CRO”) to the Debtor and report to and be directed by the Independent Directors and, if and once appointed, the CEO. The retention and scope of duties of DSI shall be pursuant to the Further Amended Retention Agreement, attached hereto as Exhibit B. DSI and all other Debtor professionals shall serve at the direction of the CEO, if any, and the Independent Directors.
Estate Claims	The Committee is granted standing to pursue any and all estate claims and causes of action against Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, other insiders of the Debtor, and each of the Related Entities, including any promissory notes held by any of the foregoing (collectively, the “Estate Claims”); provided, however, that the term Estate Claims will not include any estate claim or cause of action against any then-current employee of the Debtor.

Document Management, Preservation, and Production	The Debtor shall be subject to and comply with the document management, preservation, and production requirements attached hereto as Exhibit C, which requirements cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order (the “Document Production Protocol”). Solely with respect to the investigation and pursuit of Estate Claims, the document production protocol will acknowledge that the Committee will have access to the privileged documents and communications that are within the Debtor’s possession, custody, or control (“Shared Privilege”). With respect to determining if any particular document is subject to the Shared Privilege, the following process shall be followed: (i) the Committee will request documents from the Debtor, (ii) the Debtor shall log all documents requested but withheld on the basis of privilege, (iii) the Debtor shall not withhold documents it understands to be subject to the Shared Privilege; (iv) the Committee will identify each additional document on the log that the Committee believes is subject to the Shared Privilege, and (v) a special master or other third party neutral agreed to by the Committee and the Debtor shall make a determination if such documents are subject to the Shared Privilege. The Committee further agrees that the production of any particular document by the Debtor under this process will not be used as a basis for a claim of subject matter waiver.
Reporting Requirements	The Debtor shall be subject to and comply with the reporting requirements attached hereto as Exhibit D , which reporting requirements cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order (the “ Reporting Requirements ”).
Plan Exclusivity	The Independent Directors may elect to waive the Debtor’s exclusive right to file a plan under section 1121 of the Bankruptcy Code.
Operating Protocols	The Debtor shall comply with the operating protocols set forth in Exhibit D hereto, regarding the Debtor’s operation in the ordinary course of business, which protocols cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order.

Reservation of Rights	This agreement is without prejudice to the Committee's rights to, among other things, seek the appointment of a trustee or examiner at a later date. Nothing herein shall constitute or be construed as a waiver of any right of the Debtor or any other party in interest to contest the appointment of a trustee or examiner, and all such rights are expressly reserved.

WRITTEN CONSENT OF SOLE STOCKHOLDER AND DIRECTOR

STRAND ADVISORS, INC.

[____]

Pursuant to the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the “DGCL”) and consistent with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation (the “Certificate”) and Bylaws (the “Bylaws”) of Strand Advisors, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), the undersigned, being the holder of all of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company and the sole director of the Company (the “Stockholder”), acting by written consent without a meeting pursuant to Section 228 of the DGCL and Article IV, Section 6, and Article XII of the Bylaws, does hereby consent to the adoption of the following resolutions and to the taking of the actions contemplated thereby, in each case with the same force and effect as if presented to and adopted at a meeting of the stockholders:

I. AMENDMENT OF BYLAWS

WHEREAS, it is acknowledged that the Board of Directors of the Company (the “Board”) has heretofore been fixed at one (1) and that the Board currently consists of James Dondero;

WHEREAS, pursuant to Article XII of the Bylaws, the Stockholder wishes to amend the Bylaws in the manner set forth on Appendix A hereto (the “Bylaws Amendment”) to increase the size of the Board from one (1) to three (3) directors; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Bylaws Amendment is hereby authorized and approved and the Board is increased from one (1) to three (3) directors;

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any officer of the Company is authorized to take any such actions as may be required to effectuate the Bylaws Amendment; and

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any action taken by any officer of the Company on or prior to the date hereof to effectuate such Bylaws Amendment is hereby authorized and affirmed.

II. ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

WHEREAS, the Stockholder desires to appoint James Seery, John Dubel, and _____ to the Board and desires that such individuals constitute the whole Board;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that James Seery, John Dubel, and _____, having consented to act as such, be, and each of them hereby is, appointed as a director, to serve as a director of the Company and to hold such office until such director’s respective successor shall have been duly elected or appointed and shall qualify, or until such director’s death, resignation or removal;

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any officer of the Company is authorized to take any such actions as may be required to effectuate the appointment of the foregoing directors, including executing an indemnification agreement in favor of such directors in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix B (each, an “Indemnification Agreement”);

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any action taken by any officer of the Company on or prior to the date hereof to effectuate the appointment of such directors, including the execution of an Indemnification Agreement, is hereby authorized and affirmed.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that James Dondero and any other directors of the Company are hereby removed as directors of the Company;

RESOLVED FURTHER, that the directors appointed pursuant to these resolutions shall, pursuant to the terms of the Bylaws, appoint a Chairman of the Board.

III. STIPULATION WITH THE BANKRUPTCY COURT

WHEREAS, on October 16, 2019, Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCMLP”) filed for chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Bankruptcy Case”);

WHEREAS, the Company is the general partner for HCMLP;

WHEREAS, the Bankruptcy Case was transferred to the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (the “Texas Court”) by order of the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware on December 4, 2019;

WHEREAS, the Company and the Stockholder wish to enter into a stipulation with HCMLP and the Official Unsecured Creditors Committee appointed in the Bankruptcy Case (the “Committee”), such stipulation to be approved by the Texas Court, whereby the Stockholder will agree (a) not to transfer or assign his shares in the Company or exercise the voting power of such shares to remove any member of the Board appointed pursuant to these resolutions or further change the authorized number of directors from three (3) directors; (b) to exercise the voting power of his shares so as to cause each member of the Board appointed by this resolutions to be re-elected at upon the expiration of his or her term; and (c) upon the death, disability, or resignation of _____, will exercise the voting power of such shares so as to cause the resulting vacancy to be filled by a successor that is both independent and acceptable to the Stockholder and the Committee (the “Stipulation”);

WHEREAS, for purposes of the Stipulation, “independent” would exclude the Stockholder, any affiliate of the Stockholder, and any member of management of the Company; and

WHEREAS, it is in the intent of the parties that the Stipulation will no longer be effective or bind Strand or the Stockholder following the termination of the Bankruptcy Case.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Company is authorized to take such actions as may be necessary to enter into and effectuate the Stipulation in the manner and on the terms set forth above, including, but not limited to, further amending the Certificate, Bylaws, or any other corporate governance documents; and

RESOLVED FURTHER, that Scott Ellington, as an officer of the Company, is authorized to take any such actions as may be required to enter into and effectuate the Stipulation in the manner set forth herein; and

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any action taken by Scott Ellington or any other officer of the Company on or prior to the date hereof to effectuate such Stipulation is hereby authorized and affirmed.

First Amendment to Bylaws of Strand Advisors, Inc.

Strand Advisors, Inc. (the “Company”), a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, does hereby certify that the Company’s sole stockholder, acting by written consent without a meeting, resolved to amend the Company’s Bylaws (the “Bylaws”) as follows:

1. Article III, Section 2, of the Bylaws is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Section 2. Number of Directors. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be three (3).

2. The following shall be added as Section 6 to Article III of the Bylaws:

Section 6. Director Qualifications. Each director appointed to serve on the Board shall (A) (i) be an independent director, (ii) not be affiliated with the corporation’s stockholders, and (iii) not be an officer of the corporation; and (B) have been (x) nominated by the stockholders, (y) a retired bankruptcy judge and nominated jointly by the stockholders and any official committee of unsecured creditors in the chapter 11 bankruptcy of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Committee”) currently pending in the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the “Court”), Case No. 19-34054-sgj11; or (z) nominated by the Committee and reasonably acceptable to the stockholders.

3. The following shall be added as Section 7 to Article III of the Bylaws:

Section 7. Removal of Directors. Once appointed, the Independent Directors (i) cannot be removed without the Committee’s written consent or Order of the Court, and (ii) may be removed and replaced at the Committee’s direction upon approval of the Court (subject in all respects to the right of any party in interest, including the Debtor and the Independent Directors, to object to such removal and replacement).

Except as expressly amended hereby, the terms of the Company’s Bylaws shall remain in full force and effect.

Re: Strand Advisors, Inc. – Director Agreement

Dear [REDACTED]:

On behalf of Strand Advisors, Inc. (the “Company”), I am pleased to have you join the Company’s Board of Directors. This letter sets forth the terms of the Director Agreement (the “Agreement”) that the Company is offering to you.

1. APPOINTMENT TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

a. Title, Term and Responsibilities.

i. Subject to terms set forth herein, the Company agrees to appoint you to serve as a Director on the Company’s Board of Directors (the “Board”), and you hereby accept such appointment the date you sign this Agreement (the “Effective Date”). You will serve as a Director of the Board from the Effective Date until you voluntarily resign, are removed from the Board, or are not re-elected (the “Term”). Your rights, duties and obligations as a Director shall be governed by the Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws of the Company, each as amended from time to time (collectively, the “Governing Documents”), except that where the Governing Documents conflict with this Agreement, this Agreement shall control.

ii. You acknowledge and understand that the Company is the general partner of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCMLP”) and that HCMLP is currently the debtor in possession in a chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding pending in the Northern District of Texas (the “Bankruptcy”). Your rights, duties, and obligations may in certain instances require your involvement, either directly or indirectly, in the Bankruptcy and such rights, duties, and obligations may be impacted in whole or in part by the Bankruptcy.

b. Mandatory Board Meeting Attendance. As a Director, you agree to apply all reasonable efforts to attend each regular meeting of the Board and no fewer than fifty percent (50%) of these meetings of the Board in person, and no more than fifty percent (50%) of such meetings by telephone or teleconference. You also agree to devote sufficient time to matters that may arise at the Company from time to time that require your attention as a Director.

c. Independent Contractor. Under this Agreement, your relationship with the Company will be that of an independent contractor as you will not be an employee of the Company nor eligible to participate in regular employee benefit and compensation plans of the Company.

d. Information Provided by the Companies. The Company shall: (i) provide you with reasonable access to management and other representatives of the Company, except to the extent that any such access may impair any attorney client privilege to which the Company may be entitled; and (ii) furnish all data, material, and other information concerning the business, assets, liabilities, operations, cash flows, properties, financial condition and prospects of the Company that you reasonably request in connection with the services to be provided to the Company. You will rely, without further independent verification, on the accuracy and completeness of all publicly available information and information that is furnished by or on behalf of the Company and otherwise reviewed by you in connection with the services performed for the Company. The Company acknowledges and agrees that you are not responsible for the accuracy or completeness of such information and shall not be responsible for any inaccuracies or omissions therein, provided that if you become aware of material inaccuracies or errors in any such information you shall promptly notify the Board of such errors, inaccuracies or concerns. You are under no obligation to update data submitted to you or to review any other information unless specifically requested by the Board to do so.

2. COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS.

a. Retainer. The Company will pay you a retainer for each month you serve on the Board (the “Retainer”) to be paid in monthly installments of $[TBD]. The Company’s obligation to pay the Retainer will cease upon the termination of the Term.

b. Expense Reimbursement. The Company will reimburse you for all reasonable travel or other expenses, including expenses of counsel, incurred by you in connection with your services hereunder, in accordance with the Company’s expense reimbursement policy as in effect from time to time.

c. Invoices; Payment.

i. In order to receive the compensation and reimbursement set forth in this Section 2, you are required to send to the Company regular monthly invoices indicating your fees, costs, and expenses incurred. Payment will be due to you within 10 business days after receipt of each such invoice, subject to the Company’s receipt of appropriate documentation required by the Company’s expenses reimbursement policy.

ii. You further agree that the Company’s obligation to pay the compensation and reimbursement set forth in this Section 2 is conditioned in all respects on the entry of a final order in the court overseeing the Bankruptcy that authorizes and requires HCMLP to reimburse the Company for all such payments to you.

d. Indemnification; D&O Insurance. You will receive indemnification as a Director of the Company on the terms set forth in that certain Indemnification Agreement, dated December 5, 2019, a copy of which is attached hereto as Appendix A (the “Indemnification Agreement”). You will also be provided coverage under the Company’s directors’ and officers’ insurance policy as set forth in the Indemnification Agreement.

e. Tax Indemnification. You acknowledge that the Company will not be responsible for the payment of any federal or state taxes that might be assessed with respect to the Retainer and you agree to be responsible for all such taxes.

3. PROPRIETARY INFORMATION OBLIGATIONS.

a. Proprietary Information. You agree that during the Term and thereafter that you will take all steps reasonably necessary to hold all information of the Company, its affiliates, and related entities, which a reasonable person would believe to be confidential or proprietary information, in trust and confidence, and not disclose any such confidential or proprietary information to any third party without first obtaining the Company’s express written consent on a case-by-case basis.

b. Third Party Information. The Company has received and will in the future receive from third parties confidential or proprietary information (“Third Party Information”) subject to a duty on the Company’s part to maintain the confidentiality of such information and to use it only for certain limited purposes. You agree to hold such Third Party Information in confidence and not to disclose it to anyone (other than Company personnel who need to know such information in connection with their work for Company) or to use, except in connection with your services for Company under this Agreement, Third Party Information unless expressly authorized in writing by the Company.

c. Return of Company Property. Upon the end of the Term or upon the Company’s earlier request, you agree to deliver to the Company any and all notes, materials and documents, together with any copies thereof, which contain or disclose any confidential or proprietary information or Third Party Information.

a. Investments and Interests. Except as permitted by Section 4(b), you agree not to participate in, directly or indirectly, any position or investment known by you to be materially adverse to the Company or any of its affiliates or related entities.

b. Activities. Except with the prior written consent of the Board, you will not during your tenure as a member of the Company’s Board undertake or engage in any other directorship, employment or business enterprise in direct competition with the Company or any of its affiliates or related entities, other than ones in which you are a passive investor or other activities in which you were a participant prior to your appointment to the Board as disclosed to the Company.

c. Other Agreements. You agree that you will not disclose to the Company or use on behalf of the Company any confidential information governed by any agreement between you and any third party except in accordance with such agreement.

5. TERMINATION OF DIRECTORSHIP.

a. Voluntary Resignation, Removal Pursuant to Bylaws and Stockholder Action. You may resign from the Board at any time with or without advance notice, with or without reason. Subject to any orders or agreements entered into in connection with the Bankruptcy, you may be removed from the Board at any time, for any reason, in any manner provided by the Governing Documents and applicable law or by an affirmative vote of a majority of the stockholders of the Company.

b. Continuation. The provisions of this Agreement that give the parties rights or obligations beyond the termination of this Agreement will survive and continue to bind the parties.

c. Payment of Fees; Reimbursement. Following termination of this Agreement, any undisputed fees and expenses due to you will be remitted promptly following receipt by the Company of any outstanding invoices.

6. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

a. Severability. Whenever possible, each provision of this Agreement will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under applicable law. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable such provision will be reformed, construed and enforced to render it valid, legal, and enforceable consistent with the intent of the parties insofar as possible.

b. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between you and the Company with respect to your service as a Director and supersedes any prior agreement, promise, representation or statement written between you and the Company with regard to this subject matter. It is entered into without reliance on any promise, representation, statement or agreement other than those expressly contained or incorporated herein, and it cannot be modified or amended except in a writing signed by the party or parties affected by such modification or amendment.

c. Successors and Assigns. This Agreement is intended to bind and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by you and the Company and our respective successors, assigns, heirs, executors and administrators, except that you may not assign any of your rights or duties hereunder without the written consent of the Company.

d. Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by the law of the State of Delaware as applied to contracts made and performed entirely within Delaware.

We are all delighted to be able to extend you this offer and look forward to working with you. To indicate your acceptance of the Company's offer, please sign and date this Agreement below.

Sincerely,

STRAND ADVISORS, INC.

INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT

This Indemnification Agreement (“Agreement”), dated as of [_____], is by and between STRAND ADVISORS, INC., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and [_____] (the “Indemnitee”).

WHEREAS, Indemnitee has agreed to serve as a member of the Company’s board of directors (the “Board”) effective as of the date hereof;

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that enhancing the ability of the Company to retain and attract as directors the most capable Persons is in the best interests of the Company and that the Company therefore should seek to assure such Persons that indemnification and insurance coverage is available; and

WHEREAS, in recognition of the need to provide Indemnitee with protection against personal liability, in order to procure Indemnitee’s service as a director of the Company, in order to enhance Indemnitee’s ability to serve the Company in an effective manner and in order to provide such protection pursuant to express contract rights (intended to be enforceable irrespective of, among other things, any amendment to the Company’s Bylaws (as may be amended further from time to time, the “Bylaws”), any change in the composition of the Board or any change in control, business combination or similar transaction relating to the Company), the Company wishes to provide in this Agreement for the indemnification of, and the advancement of Expenses (as defined in Section 1(g) below) to, Indemnitee as set forth in this Agreement and for the coverage of Indemnitee under the Company’s directors’ and officers’ liability or similar insurance policies (“D&O Insurance”).

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the Indemnitee’s agreement to provide services to the Company, the parties agree as follows:

1. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) “Change in Control” means the occurrence of any of the following: (i) the direct or indirect sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition, in one or a series of related transactions (including any merger or consolidation or whether by operation of law or otherwise), of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company and its subsidiaries, to a third party purchaser (or group of affiliated third party purchasers) or (ii) the consummation of any transaction (including any merger or consolidation or whether by operation of law or otherwise), the result of which is that a third party purchaser (or group of affiliated third party purchasers) becomes the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than fifty percent (50%) of the then outstanding Shares or of the surviving entity of any such merger or consolidation.

(b) “Claim” means:

(i) any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, claim, demand, arbitration, inquiry, hearing, proceeding or alternative dispute resolution mechanism, or

any actual, threatened or completed proceeding, including any and all appeals, in each case, whether brought by or in the right of the Company or otherwise, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitral, investigative or other, whether formal or informal, and whether made pursuant to federal, state, local, foreign or other law, and whether or not commenced prior to the date of this Agreement, in which Indemnitee was, is or will be involved as a party or otherwise, by reason of or relating to either (a) any action or alleged action taken by Indemnitee (or failure or alleged failure to act) or of any action or alleged action (or failure or alleged failure to act) on Indemnitee's part, while acting in his or her Corporate Status or (b) the fact that Indemnitee is or was serving at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company as director, officer, employee, partner, member, manager, trustee, fiduciary or agent of another Enterprise, in each case, whether or not serving in such capacity at the time any Loss or Expense is paid or incurred for which indemnification or advancement of Expenses can be provided under this Agreement, except one initiated by Indemnitee to enforce his or her rights under this Agreement; or

(ii) any inquiry, hearing or investigation that the Indemnitee determines might lead to the institution of any such action, suit, proceeding or alternative dispute resolution mechanism.

(c) "Controlled Entity" means any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust or other Enterprise, whether or not for profit, that is, directly or indirectly, controlled by the Company. For purposes of this definition, the term "control" means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct, or cause the direction of, the management or policies of an Enterprise, whether through the ownership of voting securities, through other voting rights, by contract or otherwise.

(d) "Corporate Status" means the status of a Person who is or was a director, officer, employee, partner, member, manager, trustee, fiduciary or agent of the Company or of any other Enterprise which such Person is or was serving at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company. In addition to any service at the actual request of the Company, Indemnitee will be deemed, for purposes of this Agreement, to be serving or to have served at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company as a director, officer, employee, partner, member, manager, trustee, fiduciary or agent of another Enterprise if Indemnitee is or was serving as a director, officer, employee, partner, member, manager, fiduciary, trustee or agent of such Enterprise and (i) such Enterprise is or at the time of such service was a Controlled Entity, (ii) such Enterprise is or at the time of such service was an employee benefit plan (or related trust) sponsored or maintained by the Company or a Controlled Entity or (iii) the Company or a Controlled Entity, directly or indirectly, caused Indemnitee to be nominated, elected, appointed, designated, employed, engaged or selected to serve in such capacity.

(e) "Disinterested Director" means a director of the Company who is not and was not a party to the Claim in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee. Under no circumstances will James Dondero be considered a Disinterested Director.

(f) "Enterprise" means the Company or any subsidiary of the Company or any other corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, employee benefit plan, trust or other entity or other enterprise of which Indemnatee is or was serving at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company in a Corporate Status.

(g) “Expenses” means any and all expenses, fees, including attorneys’, witnesses’ and experts’ fees, disbursements and retainers, court costs, transcript costs, travel expenses, duplicating, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, fax transmission charges, secretarial services, delivery services fees, and all other fees, costs, disbursements and expenses paid or incurred in connection with investigating, defending, prosecuting, being a witness in or participating in (including on appeal), or preparing to defend, prosecute, be a witness or participate in, any Claim. Expenses also shall include (i) Expenses paid or incurred in connection with any appeal resulting from any Claim, including, without limitation, the premium, security for, and other costs relating to any cost bond, supersedeas bond, or other appeal bond or its equivalent, and (ii) for purposes of Section 4 only, Expenses incurred by Indemnatee in connection with the interpretation, enforcement or defense of Indemnatee’s rights under this Agreement, by litigation or otherwise. Expenses, however, shall not include amounts paid in settlement by Indemnatee or the amount of judgments or fines against Indemnatee.

(h) “Exchange Act” means the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or any successor statute thereto, and the rules and regulations of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission promulgated thereunder.

(i) “Expense Advance” means any payment of Expenses advanced to Indemnatee by the Company pursuant to Section 4 or Section 5 hereof.

(j) “Indemnifiable Event” means any event or occurrence, whether occurring before, on or after the date of this Agreement, related to the fact that Indemnatee is or was a manager, director, officer, employee or agent of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company, or is or was serving at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company as a manager, director, officer, employee, member, manager, trustee or agent of any other Enterprise or by reason of an action or inaction by Indemnatee in any such capacity (whether or not serving in such capacity at the time any Loss is incurred for which indemnification can be provided under this Agreement).

(k) “Independent Counsel” means a law firm, or a member of a law firm, that is experienced in matters of corporation law and neither presently performs, nor in the past three (3) years has performed, services for any of: (i) James Dondero, (ii) the Company or Indemnatee (other than in connection with matters concerning Indemnatee under this Agreement or of other indemnitees under similar agreements), or (iii) any other party to the Claim giving rise to a claim for indemnification hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term “Independent Counsel” shall not include any Person who, under the applicable standards of professional conduct then prevailing, would have a conflict of interest in representing either the Company or Indemnatee in an action to determine Indemnatee’s rights under this Agreement.

benefit plans and ERISA excise taxes), penalties (whether civil, criminal or other), amounts paid or payable in settlement, including any interest, assessments, any federal, state, local or foreign taxes imposed as a result of the actual or deemed receipt of any payments under this Agreement and all other charges paid or payable in connection with investigating, defending, being a witness in or participating in (including on appeal), or preparing to defend, be a witness or participate in, any Claim.

(m) “Person” means any individual, corporation, firm, partnership, joint venture, limited liability company, estate, trust, business association, organization, governmental entity or other entity and includes the meaning set forth in Sections 13(d) and 14(d) of the Exchange Act.

(n) “Shares” means an ownership interest of a member in the Company, including each of the common shares of the Company or any other class or series of Shares designated by the Board.

(o) References to “serving at the request of the Company” include any service as a director, manager, officer, employee, representative or agent of the Company which imposes duties on, or involves services by, such director, manager, officer, employee or agent, including but not limited to any employee benefit plan, its participants or beneficiaries; and a Person who acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in and not opposed to the best interests of the Company in Indemnitee’s capacity as a director, manager, officer, employee, representative or agent of the Company, including but not limited to acting in the best interest of participants and beneficiaries of an employee benefit plan will be deemed to have acted in a manner “not opposed to the best interests of the Company” as referred to under applicable law or in this Agreement.

2. Indemnification.

(a) Subject to Section 9 and Section 10 of this Agreement, the Company shall indemnify and hold Indemnitee harmless, to the fullest extent permitted by the laws of the State of Delaware in effect on the date hereof, or as such laws may from time to time hereafter be amended to increase the scope of such permitted indemnification, against any and all Losses and Expenses if Indemnitee was or is or becomes a party to or participant in, or is threatened to be made a party to or participant in, any Claim by reason of or arising in part out of an Indemnifiable Event, including, without limitation, Claims brought by or in the right of the Company, Claims brought by third parties, and Claims in which the Indemnitee is solely a witness.

(b) For the avoidance of doubt, the indemnification rights and obligations contained herein shall also extend to any Claim in which the Indemnitee was or is a party to, was or is threatened to be made a party to or was or is otherwise involved in any capacity in by reason of Indemnitee’s Corporate Status as a fiduciary capacity with respect to an employee benefit plan. In connection therewith, if the Indemnitee has acted in good faith and in a manner which appeared to be consistent with the best interests of the participants and beneficiaries of an employee benefit plan and not opposed thereto, the Indemnitee shall be deemed to have acted in a manner not opposed to the best interests of the Company.

3. Contribution.

(a) Whether or not the indemnification provided in Section 2 is available, if, for any reason, Indemnatee shall elect or be required to pay all or any portion of any judgment or settlement in any Claim in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnatee (or would be if joined in such Claim), the Company shall contribute to the amount of Losses paid or payable by Indemnatee in proportion to the relative benefits received by the Company and all officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company, other than Indemnatee, who are jointly liable with Indemnatee (or would be if joined in such Claim), on the one hand, and Indemnatee, on the other hand, from the transaction or events from which such Claim arose; provided, however, that the proportion determined on the basis of relative benefit may, to the extent necessary to conform to law, be further adjusted by reference to the relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company other than Indemnatee who are jointly liable with Indemnatee (or would be if joined in such Claim), on the one hand, and Indemnatee, on the other hand, in connection with the transaction or events that resulted in such Losses, as well as any other equitable considerations which applicable law may require to be considered. The relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company, other than Indemnatee, who are jointly liable with Indemnatee (or would be if joined in such Claim), on the one hand, and Indemnatee, on the other hand, shall be determined by reference to, among other things, the degree to which their actions were motivated by intent to gain personal profit or advantage, the degree to which their liability is primary or secondary and the degree to which their conduct is active or passive.

(b) The Company hereby agrees to fully indemnify and hold Indemnatee harmless from any claims of contribution which may be brought by officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company, other than Indemnatee, who may be jointly liable with Indemnatee.

(c) To the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, if the indemnification provided for in this Agreement is unavailable to Indemnatee for any reason whatsoever, the Company, in lieu of indemnifying Indemnatee, shall contribute to the amount incurred by Indemnatee, whether for judgments, fines, penalties, excise taxes, amounts paid or to be paid in settlement and/or for Expenses, in connection with any Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event under this Agreement, in such proportion as is deemed fair and reasonable in light of all of the circumstances of such Claim in order to reflect (i) the relative benefits received by the Company and Indemnatee as a result of the event(s) and/or transaction(s) giving cause to such Claim; and/or (ii) the relative fault of the Company (and its directors, managers, officers, employees and agents) and Indemnatee in connection with such event(s) and/or transaction(s).

4. Advancement of Expenses. The Company shall, if requested by Indemnatee, advance, to the fullest extent permitted by law, to Indemnatee (an “Expense Advance”) any and all Expenses actually and reasonably paid or incurred (even if unpaid) by Indemnatee in connection with any Claim arising out of an Indemnifiable Event (whether prior to or after its final disposition). Indemnatee’s right to such advancement is not subject to the satisfaction of any standard of conduct. Without limiting the generality or effect of the foregoing, within thirty (30) business days after any request by Indemnatee, the Company shall, in accordance with such request, (a) pay such Expenses on behalf of Indemnatee, (b) advance to Indemnatee funds in an amount sufficient to pay such Expenses, or (c) reimburse Indemnatee for such Expenses. In connection with any request for Expense Advances, Indemnatee shall not be required to provide any documentation or information to the extent that the provision thereof would undermine or otherwise jeopardize attorney-client privilege. Execution and delivery to the Company of this Agreement by Indemnatee constitutes an undertaking by the Indemnatee to repay any amounts paid, advanced or reimbursed by the Company pursuant to this Section 4, the final sentence of Section 9(b), or Section 11(b) in respect of Expenses relating to, arising out of or resulting from any Claim in respect of which it shall be determined, pursuant to Section 9, following the final disposition of such Claim, that Indemnatee is not entitled to indemnification hereunder. No other form of undertaking shall be required other than the execution of this Agreement. Each Expense Advance will be unsecured and interest free and will be made by the Company without regard to Indemnatee's ability to repay the Expense Advance.

5. Indemnification for Expenses in Enforcing Rights. To the fullest extent allowable under applicable law, the Company shall also indemnify against, and, if requested by Indemnatee, shall advance to Indemnatee subject to and in accordance with Section 4, any Expenses actually and reasonably paid or incurred (even if unpaid) by Indemnatee in connection with any action or proceeding by Indemnatee for (a) indemnification or reimbursement or advance payment of Expenses by the Company under any provision of this Agreement, or under any other agreement or provision of the Bylaws now or hereafter in effect relating to Claims relating to Indemnifiable Events, and/or (b) recovery under any D&O Insurance maintained by the Company, regardless of whether Indemnatee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification or insurance recovery, as the case may be. Indemnatee shall be required to reimburse the Company in the event that a final judicial determination is made that such action brought by Indemnatee was frivolous or not made in good faith.

6. Partial Indemnity. If Indemnatee is entitled under any provision of this Agreement to indemnification by the Company for a portion of any Losses in respect of a Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event but not for the total amount thereof, the Company shall nevertheless indemnify Indemnatee for the portion thereof to which Indemnatee is entitled.

7. Notification and Defense of Claims.

(a) Notification of Claims. Indemnatee shall notify the Company in writing as soon as reasonably practicable of any Claim which could relate to an Indemnifiable Event or for which Indemnatee could seek Expense Advances, including a brief description (based upon information then available to Indemnatee) of the nature of, and the facts underlying, such Claim, to the extent then known. The failure by Indemnatee to timely notify the Company hereunder shall not relieve the Company from any liability hereunder except to the extent the Company's ability to participate in the defense of such claim was materially and adversely affected by such failure. If at the time of the receipt of such notice, the Company has D&O Insurance or any other insurance in effect under which coverage for Claims related to Indemnifiable Events is potentially available, the Company shall give prompt written notice to the applicable insurers in accordance with the procedures, provisions, and terms set forth in the applicable policies. The Company shall provide to Indemnatee a copy of such notice delivered to the applicable insurers, and copies of all subsequent correspondence between the Company and such insurers regarding the Claim, in each case substantially concurrently with the delivery or receipt thereof by the Company.

(b) Defense of Claims. The Company shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event at its own expense and, except as otherwise provided below, to the extent the Company so wishes, it may assume the defense thereof with counsel reasonably satisfactory to Indemnatee. After notice from the Company to Indemnatee of its election to assume the defense of any such Claim, the Company shall not be liable to Indemnatee under this Agreement or otherwise for any Expenses subsequently directly incurred by Indemnatee in connection with Indemnatee's defense of such Claim other than reasonable costs of investigation or as otherwise provided below. Indemnatee shall have the right to employ its own legal counsel in such Claim, but all Expenses related to such counsel incurred after notice from the Company of its assumption of the defense shall be at Indemnatee's own expense; provided, however, that if (i) Indemnatee's employment of its own legal counsel has been authorized by the Company, (ii) Indemnatee has reasonably determined that there may be a conflict of interest between Indemnatee and the Company in the defense of such Claim, (iii) after a Change in Control, Indemnatee's employment of its own counsel has been approved by the Independent Counsel or (iv) the Company shall not in fact have employed counsel to assume the defense of such Claim, then Indemnatee shall be entitled to retain its own separate counsel (but not more than one law firm plus, if applicable, local counsel in respect of any such Claim) and all Expenses related to such separate counsel shall be borne by the Company.

8. Procedure upon Application for Indemnification. In order to obtain indemnification pursuant to this Agreement, Indemnatee shall submit to the Company a written request therefor, including in such request such documentation and information as is reasonably available to Indemnatee and is reasonably necessary to determine whether and to what extent Indemnatee is entitled to indemnification following the final disposition of the Claim, provided that documentation and information need not be so provided to the extent that the provision thereof would undermine or otherwise jeopardize attorney-client privilege. Indemnification shall be made insofar as the Company determines Indemnatee is entitled to indemnification in accordance with Section 9 below.

9. Determination of Right to Indemnification.

(a) Mandatory Indemnification; Indemnification as a Witness.

(i) To the extent that Indemnatee shall have been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event or any portion thereof or in defense of any issue or matter therein, including without limitation dismissal without prejudice, Indemnatee shall be indemnified against all Losses relating to such Claim in accordance with Section 2, and no Standard of Conduct Determination (as defined in Section 9(b)) shall be required.

(ii) To the extent that Indemnitee's involvement in a Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event is to prepare to serve and serve as a witness, and not as a party, the Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Losses incurred in connection therewith to the fullest extent allowable by law and no Standard of Conduct Determination (as defined in Section 9(b)) shall be required.

(b) Standard of Conduct. To the extent that the provisions of Section 9(a) are inapplicable to a Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event that shall have been finally disposed of, any determination of whether Indemnitee has satisfied any applicable standard of conduct under Delaware law that is a legally required condition to indemnification of Indemnitee hereunder against Losses relating to such Claim and any determination that Expense Advances must be repaid to the Company (a "Standard of Conduct Determination") shall be made as follows:

(i) if no Change in Control has occurred, (A) by a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors, even if less than a quorum of the Board, (B) by a committee of Disinterested Directors designated by a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors, even though less than a quorum or (C) if there are no such Disinterested Directors, by Independent Counsel in a written opinion addressed to the Board, a copy of which shall be delivered to Indemnitee; and

(ii) if a Change in Control shall have occurred, (A) if the Indemnitee so requests in writing, by a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors, even if less than a quorum of the Board or (B) otherwise, by Independent Counsel in a written opinion addressed to the Board, a copy of which shall be delivered to Indemnitee.

Subject to Section 4, the Company shall indemnify and hold Indemnitee harmless against and, if requested by Indemnitee, shall reimburse Indemnitee for, or advance to Indemnitee, within thirty (30) business days of such request, any and all Expenses incurred by Indemnitee in cooperating with the Person or Persons making such Standard of Conduct Determination.

(c) Making the Standard of Conduct Determination. The Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause any Standard of Conduct Determination required under Section 9(b) to be made as promptly as practicable. If the Person or Persons designated to make the Standard of Conduct Determination under Section 9(b) shall not have made a determination within ninety (90) days after the later of (A) receipt by the Company of a written request from Indemnitee for indemnification pursuant to Section 8 (the date of such receipt being the "Notification Date") and (B) the selection of an Independent Counsel, if such determination is to be made by Independent Counsel, then Indemnitee shall be deemed to have satisfied the applicable standard of conduct; provided that such 90-day period may be extended for a reasonable time, not to exceed an additional thirty (30) days, if the Person or Persons making such determination in good faith requires such additional time to obtain or evaluate information relating thereto. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, no determination as to entitlement of Indemnitee to indemnification under this Agreement shall be required to be made prior to the final disposition of any Claim.

(d) Payment of Indemnification. If, in regard to any Losses:

(i) Indemnatee shall be entitled to indemnification pursuant to Section 9(a);

(ii) no Standard of Conduct Determination is legally required as a condition to indemnification of Indemnatee hereunder; or

(iii) Indemnatee has been determined or deemed pursuant to Section 9(b) or Section 9(c) to have satisfied the Standard of Conduct Determination, then the Company shall pay to Indemnatee, within thirty (30) business days after the later of (A) the Notification Date or (B) the earliest date on which the applicable criterion specified in clause (i), (ii) or (iii) is satisfied, an amount equal to such Losses.

(e) Selection of Independent Counsel for Standard of Conduct Determination. If a Standard of Conduct Determination is to be made by Independent Counsel pursuant to Section 9(b)(i), the Independent Counsel shall be selected by the Board and the Company shall give written notice to Indemnatee advising him of the identity of the Independent Counsel so selected. If a Standard of Conduct Determination is to be made by Independent Counsel pursuant to Section 9(b)(ii), the Independent Counsel shall be selected by Indemnatee, and Indemnatee shall give written notice to the Company advising it of the identity of the Independent Counsel so selected. In either case, Indemnatee or the Company, as applicable, may, within thirty (3) business days after receiving written notice of selection from the other, deliver to the other a written objection to such selection; provided, however, that such objection may be asserted only on the ground that the Independent Counsel so selected does not satisfy the criteria set forth in the definition of “Independent Counsel” in Section 1(k), and the objection shall set forth with particularity the factual basis of such assertion. Absent a proper and timely objection, the Person or firm so selected shall act as Independent Counsel. If such written objection is properly and timely made and substantiated, (i) the Independent Counsel so selected may not serve as Independent Counsel unless and until such objection is withdrawn or a court has determined that such objection is without merit; and (ii) the non-objecting party may, at its option, select an alternative Independent Counsel and give written notice to the other party advising such other party of the identity of the alternative Independent Counsel so selected, in which case the provisions of the two immediately preceding sentences, the introductory clause of this sentence and numbered clause (i) of this sentence shall apply to such subsequent selection and notice. If applicable, the provisions of clause (ii) of the immediately preceding sentence shall apply to successive alternative selections. If no Independent Counsel that is permitted under the foregoing provisions of this Section 9(e) to make the Standard of Conduct Determination shall have been selected within twenty (20) days after the Company gives its initial notice pursuant to the first sentence of this Section 9(e) or Indemnatee gives its initial notice pursuant to the second sentence of this Section 9(e), as the case may be, either the Company or Indemnatee may petition the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (“Delaware Court”) to resolve any objection which shall have been made by the Company or Indemnatee to the other’s selection of Independent Counsel and/or to appoint as Independent Counsel a Person to be selected by the Court or such other Person as the Court shall designate, and the Person or firm with respect to whom all objections are so resolved or the Person or firm so appointed will act as Independent Counsel. In all events, the Company shall pay all of the reasonable fees and expenses of the Independent Counsel incurred in connection with the Independent Counsel's determination pursuant to Section 9(b).

(f) Presumptions and Defenses.

(i) Indemnitee's Entitlement to Indemnification. In making any Standard of Conduct Determination, the Person or Persons making such determination shall presume that Indemnitee has satisfied the applicable standard of conduct and is entitled to indemnification, and the Company shall have the burden of proof to overcome that presumption and establish that Indemnitee is not so entitled. Any Standard of Conduct Determination that is adverse to Indemnitee may be challenged by the Indemnitee in the Delaware Court. No determination by the Company (including by its Board or any Independent Counsel) that Indemnitee has not satisfied any applicable standard of conduct may be used as a defense to enforcement by Indemnitee of Indemnitee's rights of indemnification or reimbursement or advance of payment of Expenses by the Company hereunder or create a presumption that Indemnitee has not met any applicable standard of conduct.

(ii) Reliance as a Safe Harbor. For purposes of this Agreement, and without creating any presumption as to a lack of good faith if the following circumstances do not exist, Indemnitee shall be deemed to have acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company if Indemnitee's actions or omissions to act are taken in good faith reliance upon the records of the Company, including its financial statements, or upon information, opinions, reports or statements furnished to Indemnitee by the officers or employees of the Company or any of its subsidiaries in the course of their duties, or by committees of the Board or by any other Person (including legal counsel, accountants and financial advisors) as to matters Indemnitee reasonably believes are within such other Person's professional or expert competence and who has been selected with reasonable care by or on behalf of the Company. In addition, the knowledge and/or actions, or failures to act, of any director, manager, officer, agent or employee of the Company (other than Indemnitee) shall not be imputed to Indemnitee for purposes of determining the right to indemnity hereunder.

(iii) Defense to Indemnification and Burden of Proof. It shall be a defense to any action brought by Indemnitee against the Company to enforce this Agreement (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for Losses incurred in defending against a Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event in advance of its final disposition) that it is not permissible under applicable law for the Company to indemnify Indemnitee for the amount claimed. In connection with any such action or any related Standard of Conduct Determination, the burden of proving such a defense or that the Indemnitee did not satisfy the applicable standard of conduct shall be on the Company.

10. Exclusions from Indemnification. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Company shall not be obligated to:

(a) indemnify or advance funds to Indemnitee for Losses with respect to proceedings initiated by Indemnitee, including any proceedings against the Company or its managers, officers, employees or other indemnitees and not by way of defense, except:

(i) proceedings referenced in Section 4 above (unless a court of competent jurisdiction determines that each of the material assertions made by Indemnitee in such proceeding was not made in good faith or was frivolous); or

(ii) where the Company has joined in or the Board has consented to the initiation of such proceedings.

(b) indemnify Indemnitee if a final decision by a court of competent jurisdiction determines that such indemnification is prohibited by applicable law.

(c) indemnify Indemnitee for the disgorgement of profits arising from the purchase or sale by Indemnitee of securities of the Company in violation of Section 16(b) of the Exchange Act, or any similar successor statute.

11. Remedies of Indemnitee.

(a) In the event that (i) a determination is made pursuant to Section 9 that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification under this Agreement, (ii) an Expense Advance is not timely made pursuant to Section 4, (iii) no determination of entitlement to indemnification is made pursuant to Section 9 within 90 days after receipt by the Company of the request for indemnification, or (iv) payment of indemnification is not made pursuant Section 9(d), Indemnitee shall be entitled to an adjudication in a Delaware Court, or in any other court of competent jurisdiction, of Indemnitee's entitlement to such indemnification. Indemnitee shall commence such proceeding seeking an adjudication within 180 days following the date on which Indemnitee first has the right to commence such proceeding pursuant to this Section 11(a). The Company shall not oppose Indemnitee's right to seek any such adjudication.

(b) In the event that Indemnitee, pursuant to this Section 11, seeks a judicial adjudication or arbitration of his or her rights under, or to recover damages for breach of, this Agreement, any other agreement for indemnification, payment of Expenses in advance or contribution hereunder or to recover under any director, manager, and officer liability insurance policies or any other insurance policies maintained by the Company, the Company will, to the fullest extent permitted by law and subject to Section 4, indemnify and hold harmless Indemnitee against any and all Expenses which are paid or incurred by Indemnitee in connection with such judicial adjudication or arbitration, regardless of whether Indemnitee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification, payment of Expenses in advance or contribution or insurance recovery. In addition, if requested by Indemnitee, subject to Section 4 the Company will (within thirty (30) days after receipt by the Company of the written request therefor), pay as an Expense Advance such Expenses, to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(c) In the event that a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 9 that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification, any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 11 shall be conducted in all respects as a de novo trial on the merits, and Indemnatee shall not be prejudiced by reason of the adverse determination under Section 9.

(d) If a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 9 that Indemnatee is entitled to indemnification, the Company shall be bound by such determination in any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 11, absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnatee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnatee's misstatement not materially misleading in connection with the application for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under applicable law.

12. Settlement of Claims. The Company shall not be liable to Indemnatee under this Agreement for any amounts paid in settlement of any threatened or pending Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event effected without the Company's prior written consent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld; provided, however, that if a Change in Control has occurred, the Company shall be liable for indemnification of the Indemnatee for amounts paid in settlement if an Independent Counsel (which, for purposes of this Section 12, shall be selected by the Company with the prior consent of the Indemnatee, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) has approved the settlement. The Company shall not settle any Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event in any manner that would impose any Losses on the Indemnatee without the Indemnatee's prior written consent.

13. Duration. All agreements and obligations of the Company contained herein shall continue during the period that Indemnatee is a manager of the Company (or is serving at the request of the Company as a director, manager, officer, employee, member, trustee or agent of another Enterprise) and shall continue thereafter (i) so long as Indemnatee may be subject to any possible Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event (including any rights of appeal thereto) and (ii) throughout the pendency of any proceeding (including any rights of appeal thereto) commenced by Indemnatee to enforce or interpret his or her rights under this Agreement, even if, in either case, he or she may have ceased to serve in such capacity at the time of any such Claim or proceeding.

14. Other Indemnitors. The Company hereby acknowledges that Indemnatee may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of Expenses and/or insurance provided by certain private equity funds, hedge funds or other investment vehicles or management companies and/or certain of their affiliates and by personal policies (collectively, the "Other Indemnitors"). The Company hereby agrees (i) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to Indemnatee are primary and any obligation of the Other Indemnitors to advance Expenses or to provide indemnification for the same Expenses or liabilities incurred by Indemnatee are secondary), (ii) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of Expenses incurred by Indemnatee and shall be liable for the full amount of all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the extent legally permitted and as required by the terms of this Agreement and the Bylaws (or any other agreement between the Company and Indemnatee), without regard to any rights Indemnatee may have against the Other Indemnitors, and, (iii) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Other Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Other

Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Other Indemnitors on behalf of Indemnitee with respect to any claim for which Indemnitee has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Other Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee against the Company. The Company and Indemnitee agree that the Other Indemnitors are express third party beneficiaries of the terms of this Section 14.

15. Non-Exclusivity. The rights of Indemnitee hereunder will be in addition to any other rights Indemnitee may have under the Bylaws, the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (as may be amended from time to time, the “DGCL”), any other contract, in law or in equity, and under the laws of any state, territory, or jurisdiction, or otherwise (collectively, “Other Indemnity Provisions”). The Company will not adopt any amendment to its Bylaws the effect of which would be to deny, diminish, encumber or limit Indemnitee’s right to indemnification under this Agreement or any Other Indemnity Provision.

16. Liability Insurance. For the duration of Indemnitee’s service as a director of the Company, and thereafter for so long as Indemnitee shall be subject to any pending Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event, the Company shall use best efforts to continue to maintain in effect policies of D&O Insurance providing coverage that is at least substantially comparable in scope and amount to that provided by similarly situated companies. In all policies of D&O Insurance maintained by the Company, Indemnitee shall be named as an insured in such a manner as to provide Indemnitee the same rights and benefits as are provided to the most favorably insured of the Company’s directors. Upon request, the Company will provide to Indemnitee copies of all D&O Insurance applications, binders, policies, declarations, endorsements and other related materials.

17. No Duplication of Payments. The Company shall not be liable under this Agreement to make any payment to Indemnitee in respect of any Losses to the extent Indemnitee has otherwise received payment under any insurance policy, any Other Indemnity Provisions or otherwise of the amounts otherwise indemnifiable by the Company hereunder.

18. Subrogation. In the event of payment to Indemnitee under this Agreement, the Company shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee. Indemnitee shall execute all papers required and shall do everything that may be necessary to secure such rights, including the execution of such documents necessary to enable the Company effectively to bring suit to enforce such rights.

19. Indemnitee Consent. The Company will not, without the prior written consent of Indemnitee, consent to the entry of any judgment against Indemnitee or enter into any settlement or compromise which (a) includes an admission of fault of Indemnitee, any non-monetary remedy imposed on Indemnitee or a Loss for which Indemnitee is not wholly indemnified hereunder or (b) with respect to any Claim with respect to which Indemnitee may be or is made a party or a participant or may be or is otherwise entitled to seek indemnification hereunder, does not include, as an unconditional term thereof, the full release of Indemnatee from all liability in respect of such Claim, which release will be in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Indemnatee. Neither the Company nor Indemnatee will unreasonably withhold its consent to any proposed settlement; provided, however, Indemnatee may withhold consent to any settlement that does not provide a full and unconditional release of Indemnatee from all liability in respect of such Claim.

20. Amendments. No supplement, modification or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless executed in writing by both of the parties hereto. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be binding unless in the form of a writing signed by the party against whom enforcement of the waiver is sought, and no such waiver shall operate as a waiver of any other provisions hereof (whether or not similar), nor shall such waiver constitute a continuing waiver. Except as specifically provided herein, no failure to exercise or any delay in exercising any right or remedy hereunder shall constitute a waiver thereof.

21. Binding Effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors (including any direct or indirect successor by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise to all or substantially all of the business and/or assets of the Company), assigns, spouses, heirs and personal and legal representatives. The Company shall require and cause any successor (whether direct or indirect by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise) to all, substantially all or a substantial part of the business and/or assets of the Company, by written agreement in form and substance satisfactory to Indemnatee, expressly to assume and agree to perform this Agreement in the same manner and to the same extent that the Company would be required to perform if no such succession had taken place.

22. Severability. Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered severable and if for any reason any provision which is not essential to the effectuation of the basic purposes of this Agreement is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unenforceable or contrary to the DGCL or existing or future applicable law, such invalidity, unenforceability or illegality shall not impair the operation of or affect those provisions of this Agreement which are valid, enforceable and legal. In that case, this Agreement shall be construed so as to limit any term or provision so as to make it valid, enforceable and legal within the requirements of any applicable law, and in the event such term or provision cannot be so limited, this Agreement shall be construed to omit such invalid, unenforceable or illegal provisions.

23. Notices. All notices, requests, demands and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given if delivered by hand, against receipt, or mailed, by postage prepaid, certified or registered mail:

- (a) if to Indemnatee, to the address set forth on the signature page hereto.
- (b) if to the Company, to:

Strand Advisors, Inc.

Notice of change of address shall be effective only when given in accordance with this Section 23. All notices complying with this Section 23 shall be deemed to have been received on the date of hand delivery or on the third business day after mailing.

24. Governing Law. THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE (OTHER THAN ITS RULES OF CONFLICTS OF LAW TO THE EXTENT THAT THE APPLICATION OF THE LAWS OF ANOTHER JURISDICTION WOULD BE REQUIRED THEREBY).

25. Jurisdiction. The parties hereby agree that any suit, action or proceeding seeking to enforce any provision of, or based on any matter arising out of or in connection with, this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, whether in contract, tort or otherwise, shall be brought in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware or in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (or, if such court lacks subject matter jurisdiction, in the Superior Court of the State of Delaware), so long as one of such courts shall have subject-matter jurisdiction over such suit, action or proceeding, and that any case of action arising out of this Agreement shall be deemed to have arisen from a transaction of business in the State of Delaware. Each of the parties hereby irrevocably consents to the jurisdiction of such courts (and of the appropriate appellate courts therefrom) in any such suit, action or proceeding and irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such suit, action or proceeding in any such court or that any such suit, action or proceeding which is brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

26. Enforcement.

(a) Without limiting Section 15, this Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, oral, written and implied, between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof.

(b) The Company shall not seek from a court, or agree to, a "bar order" which would have the effect of prohibiting or limiting the Indemnatee's rights to receive advancement of Expenses under this Agreement other than in accordance with this Agreement.

27. Headings and Captions. All headings and captions contained in this Agreement and the table of contents hereto are inserted for convenience only and shall not be deemed a part of this Agreement.

28. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall constitute an original and all of which, when taken together, shall constitute one and the same agreement. Facsimile counterpart signatures to this Agreement shall be binding and enforceable.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of the date first above written.

Re: Development Specialists, Inc. ("DSI")
Retention and Letter of Engagement

Dear Members of the Board:

Please accept this letter as our firm's formal written agreement (the "Agreement") to provide restructuring support services to Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the "Company"). This Agreement replaces and supersedes in all respects the letter agreement between DSI and the Company, dated October 7, 2019, as amended and revised by the letter agreement dated October 29, 2019. However, all fees and expenses incurred by DSI prior to the date hereof in accordance with such prior letter agreements will be paid by the Company, subject to allowance of such fees and expenses by the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the "Bankruptcy Court"). The Agreement will become effective upon execution by duly authorized representatives of the respective parties and approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

Section 1 – Scope of Work

DSI will provide the following services (the "Services") to the Company:

1. Bradley D. Sharp will act as the Company's Chief Restructuring Officer ("CRO") with other DSI personnel to assist Mr. Sharp in carrying out those duties and responsibilities.
2. Subject to the terms of this Agreement, as CRO, Mr. Sharp will assume control of the Company's restructuring and direct the Company with respect to its bankruptcy filed on October 16, 2019 (the "Chapter 11 Case"), which Chapter 11 Case has now been transferred to the Bankruptcy Court.
3. Subject to the terms of this Agreement, Mr. Sharp will report to the Independent Directors and, if appointed, the Chief Executive Officer of the Company ("CEO") and will comply with the Company's corporate governance requirements.
4. As directed by the Independent Directors and/or CEO, the CRO will be responsible for the implementation and prosecution of the Chapter 11 Case, including negotiations with creditors, reconciliation of claims, and confirmation of a plan or plans of reorganization.
5. Provide other personnel of DSI ("Additional Personnel") to provide restructuring support services as requested or required to the Company, which may include but are not limited to:

Highland Capital Management, LP
Page 2

- a. assisting the Company in the preparation of financial disclosures required by the Bankruptcy Code, including the Schedules of Assets and Liabilities, the Statements of Financial Affairs and Monthly Operating Reports;
- b. advising and assisting the Company, the Company's legal counsel, and other professionals in responding to third party requests;
- c. attending meetings and assisting in communications with parties in interest and their professionals, including the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors appointed in the Chapter 11 Case;
- d. providing litigation advisory services with respect to accounting matters, along with expert witness testimony on case related issues; and
- e. rendering such other general business consulting services or other assistance as the Company may deem necessary and which are consistent with the role of a financial advisor and not duplicative of services provided by other professionals in this case.

DSI's ability to adequately perform the Services is dependent upon the Company timely providing reliable, accurate, and complete necessary information. The Company agrees that CRO will have (i) access to and the ability to communicate with any employee of the Company or any affiliate of the Company and (ii) access to any information, including documents, relating to the Company or any Company affiliate, including, but not limited to, information concerning collections and disbursements. The Company acknowledges that DSI or CRO are not responsible for independently verifying the veracity, completeness, or accuracy of any information supplied to us by or on behalf of the Company.

DSI will submit its evaluations and analyses pursuant to this Agreement in periodic oral and written reports. Such reports are intended to and shall constitute privileged and confidential information, and shall constitute the Company's property.

Although we do not predict or warrant the outcome of any particular matter or issue, and our fees are not dependent upon such outcomes, we will perform the Services with reasonable care and in a diligent and competent manner.

Section 2 – Rates, Invoicing and Retainer

DSI will be compensated at a rate of $100,000 per month, plus expenses (capped at $10,000 per month), for the services of Bradley D. Sharp as CRO and such DSI personnel (including Fred Caruso) as are required to fulfill Mr. Sharp's responsibilities as CRO; provided that if any single expense exceeds $1,000, DSI will provide reasonable documentation and will obtain the Company's prior written approval.

A number of DSI's personnel have experience in providing restructuring support services and may be utilized as Additional Personnel in this representation. Although others of our staff may also be involved, we have listed below certain of the DSI personnel (along with their corresponding billing rates) who would likely constitute the Additional Personnel. The individuals are:

R. Brian Calvert	$640.00/hr.
Thomas P. Jeremiassen	$575.00/hr.
Eric J. Held	$495.00/hr.
Nicholas R. Troszak	$485.00/hr.
Spencer G. Ferrero	$350.00/hr.
Tom Frey	$325.00/hr.

The above rates are adjusted as of January 1 of each year to reflect advancing experience, capabilities, and seniority of our professionals as well as general economic factors.

We acknowledge receipt of a retainer of $250,000 from the Company. The purpose of the retainer is to secure a portion of our fees and expenses and to retain our status as a non-creditor should such be required for DSI to continue to provide the Services. As such, should a need arise to increase this retainer due to the level of Services DSI is providing or projected to provide, we will send the Company a supplement to this Agreement requesting the necessary increases and discuss with the Company the amount and timing of providing such increase to the retainer.

This retainer will be applied to our final invoice. If the retainer exceeds the amount of our final invoice, we will refund the difference to the Company at that time. In the event that periodic invoices are not paid timely, we will apply the retainer to the amounts owing on such invoices and, if applicable, any related late charges, and we will stop work until the retainer is replenished to the full amount required. If the retainer is not replenished within ten (10) days after the application of the retainer to unpaid balances, we reserve the right to terminate this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 of this Agreement.

DSI also will be entitled to reimbursement for its reasonable costs and expenses. Such costs and expenses may include, among others, charges for messenger services, photocopying, travel expenses, long distance telephone charges, postage and other charges customarily invoiced by consulting firms. Airfare for international flights will be charged at the business class fare; provided that if any single expense exceeds $1,000, DSI will provide reasonable documentation and will obtain the Company's prior written approval.

This Agreement shall be presented to the Bankruptcy Court for approval and continuation, pursuant to Bankruptcy Code Section 363 and DSI's then-prospective obligations shall be contingent upon such approval.

Section 3 – Termination

Either the Company or DSI may terminate this Agreement for any reason with ten (10) business days' written notice. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the Company shall be obligated, in accordance with any orders of or procedures established by the Court, to pay and/or reimburse DSI all fees and expenses accrued under this Agreement as of the effective date of the termination.

Section 4 – Relationship of the Parties, Confidentiality

DSI will provide the Services to and for the Company, with select members of DSI assigned to specific roles for the benefit of the Company. These members will remain as DSI employees during the pendency of this case. Specifically, the parties intend that an independent contractor relationship will be created by this Agreement. Employees of DSI are not to be considered employees of the Company and are not entitled to any of the benefits that the Company provides for the Company's employees.

The Company acknowledges that all advice (written or oral) given by DSI to the Company in connection with DSI's engagement is intended solely for the benefit and use of the Company in considering the transaction to which it relates, and that no third party is entitled to rely on any such advice or communication. DSI will in no way be deemed to be providing services for any person not a party to this Agreement.

DSI agrees that all information not publicly available that is received by DSI from the Company in connection with this Agreement or that is developed pursuant to this Agreement, will be treated as confidential and will not be disclosed by DSI, except as required by Court order, or other legal process, or as may be authorized by the Company. DSI shall not be required to defend any action to obtain an order requiring disclosure of such information, but shall instead give prompt notice of any such action to the Company so that it may seek appropriate remedies, including a protective order. The Company shall reimburse DSI for all costs and fees (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by DSI relating to responding to (whether by objecting to or complying with) any subpoenas or requests for production of information or documents.

Section 5 – Indemnity

The Company shall name Bradley D. Sharp as its Chief Restructuring Officer and shall indemnify him on the same terms as provided to the Company's other officers and directors under the Company partnership agreement or other governing document and applicable state law. Mr. Sharp shall be included as an insured under any insurance policies or coverage available to officers and directors of the Company.

Highland Capital Management, LP

The Company shall additionally indemnify those persons, and only those persons, serving as executive officers on the same terms as provided to the Company's other officers and directors under the Company's partnership agreement or other governing document and applicable state law, along with insurance coverage under the Company's D&O policies. Any such indemnity shall survive the expiration or termination by either party of this Agreement. Except as provided in this Section and in Section 4, there shall be no indemnification of DSI, its affiliates or the Additional Personnel.

Each and every one of the personnel employed by DSI who works on this particular project, as well as DSI officers, directors, employees and agents (the "DSI Parties") shall not be liable to the Company, or any party asserting claims on behalf of the Company, except for direct damages found in a final determination (not subject to further appeal) by a court of competent jurisdiction to be the direct result of the bad faith, self-dealing or intentional misconduct or gross negligence of DSI.

Section 6 – Conflicts

DSI has made diligent inquiries to determine whether it or any of its professionals have any connections with the Company, its creditors, or other parties in interest in the Chapter 11 Case. Based on that review, the review of DSI's conflict files and responses to inquiries from DSI's professional staff, neither DSI nor its professionals have any known conflicts with the parties in this case. DSI will separately provide its connections to parties in this case and/or their professionals.

Section 7 – No Audit

The Company acknowledges that it is hiring DSI to assist and advise the Company in business planning and operations. DSI's engagement shall not constitute an audit, review or compilation, or any other type of financial statement reporting engagement that is subject to the rules of AICPA or other such state and national professional bodies.

Section 8 – Non-Solicitation

The Company agrees not to solicit, recruit or hire any employees or agents of DSI for a period of one year subsequent to the completion and/or termination of this Agreement; provided that the Company shall not be prohibited from (x) making general advertisements for employment not specifically directed at employees of DSI or (y) employees of DSI responding to unsolicited requests for employment.

Section 9 – Survival

The provisions of this Agreement relating to indemnification, the non-solicitation or hiring of DSI employees, and all other provisions necessary to the enforcement of the intent of this Agreement will survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement.

Section 10 – Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to conflicts of law principles.

Section 11 – Entire Agreement, Amendment

This Agreement contains the entire understanding of the parties relating to the subject matter of this Agreement and supersedes and is intended to nullify any other agreements, understandings or representations relating to the subject of this Agreement. This Agreement may not be amended or modified except in a writing signed by the parties.

If you are in agreement with the foregoing terms and conditions please indicate your acceptance by signing an original copy of this Agreement on the signature lines below, then returning one fully-executed Agreement to DSI's office. The Agreement will become effective upon execution by duly authorized representatives of the respective parties.

Very truly yours,

Bradley Sharp

A. Definitions

- a. Electronically stored information” or “ESI” shall include all electronic files, documents, data, and information covered under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

B. Preservation of ESI - Generally

- a. Debtor acknowledges that they should take reasonable and proportional steps to preserve discoverable information in the party’s possession, custody or control. This includes notifying employees possessing relevant information of their obligation to preserve such data.

C. Preservation of ESI – Specific Forms

- a. For email, Debtor uses Outlook Email on an Exchange server. Veritas Enterprise Vault is used to archive emails. Journaling is and has been in active use since 2007, and all inbound, outbound, and in-system email .communications have been preserved and are not at risk of deletion due to normal document retention practices. Out of an abundance of caution, a copy of the latest email back-up, which was performed two months ago, shall be copied and stored at a secured location.
- b. The file server used by Debtor was backed up approximately one week ago. A copy of this backup shall be created and stored on a portable hard drive at a secured location.
- c. The Sharepoint server used by Debtor was backed up approximately one week ago. A copy of this backup shall be created in a format that maintains all potentially relevant information and stored at a secured location.
- d. The Oracle E-Business Suite (EBS) server used by Debtor was backed up one week ago. A copy of this backup shall be created in a format and stored at a secured location.
- e. The Advent Geneva accounting system used by Debtor was backed up approximately one week ago. Upon reasonable notice, the Committee may submit search criteria to Debtor to run searches in Advent Geneva. Subject to Debtor’s rights to assert objections as provided by Part G herein, Debtor will provide the data resulting from such agreed searches pursuant to Part F herein..
- f. The Siepe Database (data warehouse) used by Debtor was backed up approximately one week ago. A copy of this backup shall be created in a format and stored at a secured location.
- g. For the Box account used by Debtor, to the extent routine data retention practices may result in file deletion, they shall be suspended pending further discussion with the Committee concerning the relevance of such data. Users of the Box account who have the ability to delete files shall be notified of the obligation to suspend deletion of any data stored in Box.
- h. Bloomberg data is archived for five years. Debtor shall work with Bloomberg client services to preserve a copy of all such archived material, which shall be stored at a secured location, or otherwise extend the backup window in which Bloomberg preserves the data by reasonable time to be agreed by the parties.

- i. Files may be saved locally on laptops/work computers used by employees of Debtor. This practice is discouraged, but may result in the creation of relevant ESI on local systems in a manner that will not be replicated elsewhere. Debtor shall therefore cease the deletion of data (i.e., wiping) of any employee-assigned computer hard drives, such as for departing employees. Debtor shall furthermore instruct current employees not to delete files stored locally on their assigned computers.

D. Not Reasonably Accessible Documents

- a. Absent an order from the Court upon a showing of good cause, a Party from whom ESI has been requested shall not be required to search for responsive ESI from sources that are not reasonably accessible without undue burden or cost. The following types of data stores are presumed to be inaccessible and are not subject to discovery, and need not be collected or preserved, absent a particularized need for the data as established by the facts and legal issues of the case:
 - i. Deleted, slack, fragmented, or other data only accessible by forensics;
 - ii. Random access memory (RAM), temporary files, or other ephemeral data that are difficult to preserve without disabling the operating system; and
 - iii. On-line access data such as temporary internet files, history, cache, cookies, and the like.
- b. To conduct collections in a focused and efficient manner, the Parties also agree to exclude the following file types from collection: Standard system file extensions including, but not limited to, BIN, CAB, CHK, CLASS, COD, COM, DLL DRV, EXE, INF, INI, JAVA, LIB, LOG, SYS and TMP and other file extensions and directories that likely do not contain user generated content such as files identified by hash value when compared to the National Software Reference Library reference data set (RDS Hash), a sub-project of the National Institute of Standards and Technology ("NIST"), of known traceable system and application files. This process is commonly referred to as "De-NISTing."

E. Collection and Search Methodology

- a. Searches for emails in Debtor's custody shall be conducted by DSI on Debtor's Veritas Enterprise Vault storage using an unrestricted account at the earliest opportunity, but in no event later than [date]. DSI shall use an add-on component called Discovery Assistant, which enables searches based on email properties, such as senders, recipients, and dates. Discovery Assistant also permits text searching of email contents and the contents of electronic file attachments, although not pictures of text (e.g., scanned PDFs). Debtor did not employ employee message or file encryption that would prevent reasonable operation of the Discovery Assistant search capabilities.
- b. The results of email searches shall be produced to the Committee pursuant to Part F below, subject to completion of any review for privilege or other purposes contemplated by this Agreement.
- c. A snapshot copy of Debtor databases (Oracle, Siepe) shall be created in a format to be specified later by agreement with the Committee per Part (C)(d), (f), above.

Prior to any production of responsive data from such a structured database Debtor will first identify the database type and version number, provide the vendor-originated database dictionary, if any, (identifying all tables in the database, their fields, the meaning of those fields, and any interrelation among fields) and any user manuals, or any other documentation describing the structure and/or content of the database, and a list of all reports that can be generated from the database. The list of reports shall be provided in native Excel (.xls or .xlsx) format.

- d. The Geneva system is highly proprietary and shall not be collected, but the Committee will be given reasonable access to that system per Part C(e), above.
- e. Debtor and Committee will meet and confer to discuss the scope of any necessary searches on the Box account.
- f. Debtor file server contents, where requested by the Committee, shall be produced pursuant to Part F below.
- g. Debtor shall propose a format for producing Sharepoint data. The Committee agrees that it is not necessary to reproduce the interface used by Debtor in the ordinary course of business for Sharepoint.

F. Format of Documents Produced

- a. Non-database ESI shall be produced as black and white Group 4 TIFF files, with a resolution of 300 DPI. Page size shall be 8.5 x 11 inches unless, in the reasonable judgment of the Producing Party, a particular item requires a different page size, and original document orientation shall be maintained (i.e., portrait to portrait and landscape to landscape). A Requesting Party may, in good faith and reasonable judgment, request a color copy of a production document if it is necessary to convey the relevant and responsive information. Such color copies may be produced as single page JPG (JPEG) image files. The Requesting Party will bear the costs for color images.
- b. The files shall be accompanied by a metadata load file, in a single standard format to be requested by the Receiving Party prior to any production (e.g., Opticon, Summation DII, or the like) showing the Bates number of each page, the appropriate unitization of the documents, and the entire family range. The Parties agree to meet and confer regarding the requested standard format prior to production.
- c. The files shall be accompanied by a .DAT text file including the delimited fields identified in the Metadata List (below). No Party will have any obligation to manually generate information to provide the fields identified in the Metadata List.
- d. The Producing Party reserves the right to make hard copy documents available for inspection and copying pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34.
- e. In the event that a Party identifies hard copy documents for production, hard copy paper documents shall be scanned and will include, to the extent feasible, the following fields in the .DAT text file: PRODBEG, PRODEND, PAGECOUNT, FULLTEXT, and CUSTODIAN. The Parties agree to share equally in the cost of scanning hard copy documents.
- f. For any documents that were scanned from hard copy paper documents, the Parties will produce images of hard copy documents unitized to the extent the original documents appeared to be units in physical form, with attachments following parents, and with information that identifies the holder (or container) structure, to the extent such structure exists and it is reasonable to do so. The Producing Party is not required to OCR (Optical Character Recognition) hard copy documents. If the Receiving Party requests that hard copy documents be OCR'ed, the Receiving Party shall bear the cost of such request, unless the Parties agree to split the cost so that each has an OCR'ed copy of the documents.

- g. For ESI that the Producing Party produces in TIFF or JPEG format, the Producing Party shall electronically "burn" a legible, unique Bates number onto each page. The Bates number shall, to the extent reasonably possible: (1) identify the Producing Party; (2) maintain a constant length of nine numeric digits (including 0-padding) across the entire production; (3) contain only alphanumeric characters, no special characters or embedded spaces; and (4) be sequential within a given document. If the Bates number conceals, interferes with, or otherwise obscures any information from the source document, the Producing Party, at the request of the Receiving Party, shall produce a copy that is not obscured.
- h. For ESI that the Producing Party produces in TIFF format, if the Producing Party is producing the ESI subject to a claim that it is protected from disclosure under any confidentiality order entered in this matter, the Producing Party shall electronically "burn" the appropriate confidentiality designation onto each page of the document. If the designation conceals, interferes with, or otherwise obscures any information from the source document, the Producing Party, at the request of the Receiving Party, shall produce a copy that is not obscured.
- i. The Parties agree to produce e-mail families intact absent a privilege or work product claim, so long as each document contains responsive information; for all documents that contain a responsive, non-privileged attachment, the following fields will be produced (if available) as part of the metadata load file to indicate the parent child or parent/sibling relationship:
 - i. Production Bates begin
 - ii. Production Bates end
 - iii. Production Bates begin attachment
 - iv. Production Bates end attachment

Notwithstanding the aforementioned, all parties acknowledge that Debtor's Veritas Enterprise Vault system does not have the ability to search for the family members of responsive documents, and that Debtor does not have an obligation to manually search for non-responsive family members of otherwise responsive documents.

- j. Unless otherwise agreed, all dynamic date and time fields, where such fields are processed to contain a value, and all metadata pertaining to dates and times, will be standardized to Universal Coordinated Time (UTC) or Universal Coordinated Time + 1 (UTC+1) [TBD]. The Parties understand and acknowledge that such standardization affects only dynamic fields and metadata values and does not affect, among other things, dates and times that are hard-coded text within a file. Dates and times that are hard-coded text within a file (for example, in an email thread, dates and times of earlier messages that were converted to body text when subsequently replied to or forwarded; and in any file type, dates and times that are typed as such by users) will be produced as part of the document text in accordance with the provisions herein.

- k. Exceptions to the Production Format
- l. Excel spreadsheets shall be produced in native application format, unless redactions are required. The Producing Party will make reasonable efforts to provide a TIFF image of a slip sheet with the Bates number of documents produced natively in its production. The corresponding native file shall be named by using the same Bates number identified on the placeholder TIFF image. Any Excel spreadsheet that requires redaction will be produced in TIFF format only. Certain types of databases are dynamic in nature and may contain information that is irrelevant. These files are sometimes large and would, if rendered to TIFF images completely, produce thousands of pages that would have little utility to a reviewer without the associated database.
- m. To the extent information from a structured data repository, such as a database, is requested, responsive information will be produced via a report or export of such data to an appropriate program that is agreeable to the requesting Party. The Parties agree to meet and confer before such data is exported.

G. Production Format Shall Not Alter Authenticity, Admissibility, or Privilege Status

- a. No Party shall object that ESI produced pursuant to this Protocol is not authentic by virtue of the ESI having been converted to TIFF. The Parties otherwise reserve all rights regarding their ability to object to the authenticity of documents.
- b. Nothing in this Protocol shall be construed to affect in any way the rights of any Party to make any objection as to the production, discoverability, admissibility, or confidentiality of documents and ESI.
- c. Nothing in this Protocol shall constitute a waiver by any Party of any claim or privilege or other protection from discovery.
- d. Nothing in this Protocol shall be interpreted to in any way limit a Producing Parties right and ability to review documents for responsiveness prior to production.
- e. Nothing in the Protocol shall require disclosure of irrelevant information or relevant information protected by the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or any other applicable privilege or immunity.

I. Definitions

- A. “Court” means the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas.
- B. “NAV” means (A) with respect to an entity that is not a CLO, the value of such entity’s assets less the value of its liabilities calculated as of the month end prior to any Transaction; and (B) with respect to a CLO, the CLO’s gross assets less expenses calculated as of the quarter end prior to any Transaction.
- C. “Non-Discretionary Account” means an account that is managed by the Debtor pursuant to the terms of an agreement providing, among other things, that the ultimate investment discretion does not rest with the Debtor but with the entity whose assets are being managed through the account.
- D. “Related Entity” means collectively (A)(i) any non-publicly traded third party in which Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, or Mr. Grant Scott, or Mr. John Honis (with respect to Messrs. Okada, Scott and Honis, only to the extent known by the Debtor) has any direct or indirect economic or ownership interest, including as a beneficiary of a trust; (ii) any entity controlled directly or indirectly by Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, Mr. Grant Scott, or Mr. John Honis (with respect to Messrs. Okada, Scott and Honis, only to the extent known by the Debtor); (iii) MGM Holdings, Inc.; (iv) any publicly traded company with respect to which the Debtor or any Related Entity has filed a Form 13D or Form 13G; (v) any relative (as defined in Section 101 of the Bankruptcy Code) of Mr. Dondero or Mr. Okada each solely to the extent reasonably knowable by the Debtor; (vi) the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust and Dugaboy Investment Trust; (vii) any entity or person that is an insider of the Debtor under Section 101(31) the Bankruptcy Code, including any “non-statutory” insider; and (viii) to the extent not included in (A)(i)-(vii), any entity included in the listing of related entities in Schedule B hereto (the “Related Entities Listing”); and (B) the following Transactions, (x) any intercompany Transactions with certain affiliates referred to in paragraphs 16.a through 16.e of the Debtor’s cash management motion [Del. Docket No. 7]; and (y) any Transactions with Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. (provided, however, that additional parties may be added to this subclause (y) with the mutual consent of the Debtor and the Committee, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld).
- E. “Stage 1” means the time period from the date of execution of a term sheet incorporating the protocols contained below the (“Term Sheet”) by all applicable parties until approval of the Term Sheet by the Court.
- F. “Stage 2” means the date from the appointment of a Board of Independent Directors at Strand Advisors, Inc. until 45 days after such appointment, such appointment being effective upon Court approval.
- G. “Stage 3” means any date after Stage 2 while there is a Board of Independent Directors at Strand Advisors, Inc.
- H. “Transaction” means (i) any purchase, sale, or exchange of assets, (ii) any lending or borrowing of money, including the direct payment of any obligations of another entity, (iii) the satisfaction of any capital call or other contractual requirement to pay money, including the satisfaction of any redemption requests, (iv) funding of affiliates and (v) the creation of any lien or encumbrance.

- I. "Ordinary Course Transaction" means any transaction with any third party which is not a Related Entity and that would otherwise constitute an "ordinary course transaction" under section 363(c) of the Bankruptcy Code.
- J. "Notice" means notification or communication in a written format and shall include supporting documents necessary to evaluate the propriety of the proposed transaction.

II. Transactions involving the (i) assets held directly on the Debtor's balance sheet or the balance sheet of the Debtor's wholly-owned subsidiaries, including Jefferies Prime Account, and (ii) the Highland Select Equity Fund, L.P., Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., and Highland Restoration Capital Partners

A. Covered Entities: N/A (See entities above).

B. Operating Requirements

- 1. Ordinary Course Transactions do not require Court approval (All Stages).
 - a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: ordinary course determined by the CRO.
 - b) Stage 3: ordinary course determined by the Debtor.
- 2. Related Entity Transactions
 - a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: Transactions with Related Entities require prior approval of CRO and five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
 - b) Stage 3:
 - (1) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $1,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
 - (2) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $2,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
- 3. Third Party Transactions (All Stages)
 - a) Except as set forth in (b) and (c) below, Transactions in excess of $2,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require three business days advance notice to Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the

Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

- b) The Debtor may satisfy any redemption requests from entities that are not Related Entities without advance notice so long as the Debtor provides notice of such Transactions to the Committee as soon as reasonably practicable. Redemption requests payable to Related Entities will be held in escrow and will not prevent the winding up or liquidation of any fund or entity.
- c) The Debtor may satisfy margin calls and short covers without providing the Committee advance notice if the exigencies do not allow advance notice so long as the Debtor provides notice of such Transactions to the Committee as soon as reasonably practicable.

C. Weekly Reporting: The Debtor will provide the Committee with weekly reports showing all Transactions under this category.

III. Transactions involving entities the Debtor manages and in which the Debtor holds a direct or indirect interest (other than the entities discussed in Section I above)

A. Covered Entities: See Schedule A hereto. Schedule A includes or will include all entities the Debtor manages and in which the Debtor holds a direct or indirect interest (other than the entities discussed in Section I above).¹

B. Operating Requirements

- 1. Ordinary Course Transactions do not require Court approval (All Stages).
 - a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: ordinary course determined by the CRO.
 - b) Stage 3: ordinary course determined by the Debtor.
- 2. Related Entity Transactions
 - a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: Transactions with Related Entities require prior approval of CRO and five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
 - b) Stage 3:
 - (1) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $1,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

¹ The Debtor is continuing to review the Related Entities List and to determine whether any additional parties or entities should be included on Schedule A. The Debtor will update Schedule A as soon as reasonably practicable to the extent necessary.

- (2) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $2,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

3. Third Party Transactions (All Stages)

- a) Except as set forth in (b) and (c) below, Transactions in excess of $2,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require three business days advance notice to Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
- b) The Debtor may satisfy any redemption requests from entities that are not Related Entities without advance notice so long as the Debtor provides notice of such Transactions to the Committee as soon as reasonably practicable. The Debtor will provide the Committee with five business days advance notice of any redemption requests made by and payable to a Related Entity, and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
- c) The Debtor may satisfy margin calls and short covers without providing the Committee advance notice if the exigencies do not allow advance notice so long as the Debtor provides notice of such Transactions to the Committee as soon as reasonably practicable.

- C. Weekly Reporting: The Debtor will provide the Committee with weekly reports showing all Transactions under this category.

IV. Transactions involving entities that the Debtor manages but in which the Debtor does not hold a direct or indirect interest

- A. Covered Entities: See Schedule A hereto. Schedule A includes or will include all entities that the Debtor manages but in which the Debtor does not hold a direct or indirect interest.²

B. Operating Requirements

- 1. Ordinary Course Transactions do not require Court approval (All Stages).
 - a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: ordinary course determined by the CRO.
 - b) Stage 3: ordinary course determined by the Debtor.
- 2. Related Entity Transactions

² The Debtor is continuing to review the Related Entities List and to determine whether any additional parties or entities should be included on Schedule A. The Debtor will update Schedule A as soon as reasonably practicable to the extent necessary.

a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: Transactions with Related Entities require prior approval of CRO and five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

b) Stage 3:

(1) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $1,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

(2) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $2,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

3. Third Party Transactions (All Stages):

a) Except as set forth in (b) and (c) below, any Transaction that decreases the NAV of an entity managed by the Debtor in excess of the greater of (i) 10% of NAV or (ii) $3,000,000 requires five business days advance notice to Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

b) The Debtor may satisfy any redemption requests from entities that are not Related Entities without advance notice so long as the Debtor provides notice of such Transactions to the Committee as soon as reasonably practicable. The Debtor will provide the Committee with five business days advance notice of any redemption requests made by and payable to a Related Entity, and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

c) The Debtor may take such steps as may be reasonably necessary to winddown any managed entity and make distributions as may be required in connection with such winddown to any required parties. The Debtor will provide the Committee with five business days advance notice of any distributions to be made to a Related Entity, and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

C. Weekly Reporting: The Debtor will provide the Committee with weekly reports showing all Transactions under this category.

V. Transactions involving entities that the Debtor does not manage but in which the Debtor holds a direct or indirect interest

James P. Seery, Jr.

New York, NY

James P. Seery, Jr. is a high yield and distressed investing professional who was most recently a Senior Managing Director and co-Head of Credit at Guggenheim Securities LLC, where he is responsible for helping direct the development of a leveraged finance and credit distribution business. Prior to joining Guggenheim, Mr. Seery was the President and a senior investing partner of River Birch Capital, LLC, a $1.3bn global credit fund manager. In that role, he developed and led many of the firm's most profitable credit investments. Mr. Seery is a licensed attorney and was formerly a partner and co-Head of the Sidley Austin LLP New York Corporate Reorganization and Bankruptcy Group, and he also recently served as a Commissioner on The American Bankruptcy Institute's Commission to Study the Reform of Chapter 11.

Before his joining Sidley Austin, Mr. Seery was a Managing Director and the Global Head of Lehman Brothers' Fixed Income Loan business. In that position, he was responsible for managing the Lehman Brothers' Fixed Income investment grade and high yield loan businesses, including underwriting commitments, distribution, hedging, trading and sales (including CLO manager relationships), portfolio management, and restructuring. Mr. Seery was also a member of the Lehman Brothers' Fixed Income Operating Committee and Global Credit Products Operating Committee as well as the High Yield Commitment and New Business Committees. From 2000 to 2004, Mr. Seery ran Lehman Brothers' restructuring and workout businesses with responsibility for management of distressed corporate debt investments, and in 2008 he was a key member of the small team that successfully sold Lehman to Barclays.

Mr. Seery was selected as one of the Top Restructuring Lawyers in the U.S. Under 40 by Turnarounds and Workouts in 1999. Mr. Seery graduated in 1990 from New York Law School, magna cum laude, where he was an editor of the Law Review and Colgate University in 1984. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Loan Syndications and Trading Association from 2006 to 2008 and a member of the INSOL International Lenders Group from 2016-2017.

Board of Directors Experience

- Purdue Pharma Inc. – July 2019 to Present - Independent Board Member and Chair of the Special Committee of Directors

In addition to being a member of the Board of Directors of Purdue Pharma Inc., I am the Chair of the Special Committee of Independent Directors charged with overseeing the investigation of relationships between Purdue and Purdue owners, the Sackler family.

- WMC Mortgage, LLC – Indirect Subsidiary GE – July 2018 to December 2019 - Independent Board Member and Chair of the Special Independent Committee of Directors

WMC's chapter 11 plan was recently confirmed and WMC will emerge from Chapter 11 in early December 2019. I am the Chair of the Special Independent Committee of Independent Directors for this indirect subsidiary of GE. The Special Committee was tasked with reviewing the relationship between the insolvent WMC and GE and resolving its insolvency issues through a court supervised chapter 11 proceeding. I was the lead person responsible for negotiations with the parent concerning the level of support that the parent was required to provide and worked with our creditors to negotiate a resolution amongst all parties.

- Werner Co. – January 2013 to Present – Sole Independent Director

Werner is a global leader in access equipment, secure storage, light duty construction and fall protection products with operations across all geographies. A consortium of private equity investors bought the assets out of a bankruptcy proceeding in 2007. I was asked to serve on the Board as the sole Independent Director by the largest shareholder. Werner more than doubled the size of its business, diversified its product offering and substantially improved its EBITDA prior to its sale in July 2017. As an independent director, working with one other director, we lead the effort in the sale process that achieved an additional $180 million increase in the sale price of the company for its distressed investors. I am currently the lead director responsible for the resolution of post-sale purchase price adjustments.

- Old PSG f/k/a Performance Sports Group – August 2017 to December 2017

Asked to serve on the Board, by the Official Equity Committee, after the sale of Performance Sports Group's assets. My role was to oversee the plan of reorganization process to drive to a smooth confirmation.

Dubel & Associates, L.L.C.

- FXI Holdings – September 2010 to October 2017 – Independent Director

FXI is a leading producer of engineered polyurethane foam solutions serving the largest customers in the largest markets. It has the broadest customer and consumer reach of any North American foam producer. FXI's assets were purchased during a bankruptcy proceeding in 2009. I was asked to serve on the board of directors by one of the two private equity firms that owned FXI. Shortly after joining the Board, I was asked to Chair a Special Committee of the Board to manage certain litigation and government investigations related to alleged anti-trust infractions. FXI was the subject of over 50 different class action and individual litigations alleging damages in excess of $3 billion. Over a period of several years, FXI was able to settle all of its litigation for a minor fraction of the alleged damages and all investigations by the government were dropped. During this time, the company's performance improved in a consistent manner with EBITDA more than doubling. Once these litigations were settled, the company was marketed and ultimately sold in October 2017.

- ResCap Liquidating Trust – December 2013 to March 2017 – Chairman of the Board - December 2013 to late 2015

After the ResCap chapter 11 plan was confirmed, I served on the Board of the ResCap Liquidating Trust, as FGIC's representative, to guide the wind down of the remaining assets and prosecute claims in excess of $4 billion against institutions that caused harm to ResCap. During this time, I also served as Liquidating Trustee while we brought on board a new in-house lawyer to prosecute these claims and transitioned this individual into the permanent Liquidating Trustee role.

- FGIC Corporation and FGIC - December 2008 to April 2014 – Chairman of the Board during various parts of that time frame – while serving as CEO
- Barneys New York – February 2012 to May 2012 – Sole Independent Director

After Barneys' 2007 sale to Istithmar World, the Government of Dubai's private investment fund, Barneys was impacted by the recession in the late 2000's. I was brought in to serve as the sole independent director during the out of court restructuring process which resulted in a consensual change of control for Barneys to its distressed investor creditors.

- The Leslie Fay Companies – April 1993 to May 1996 – while serving as the EVP of Restructuring and CFO
- Mr. Dubel has also served as a member and chairperson of various ad hoc and official creditor committees.

Key Management Experience

- Noble Environmental Power – Restructuring Advisor to the Company - 2018

Noble was the owner of two utility scale wind power plants in upstate New York which were in default on their debt instruments. Working closely with Noble's investment bankers we were able to complete a sale of these plants while keeping the companies out of chapter 11 and returning net sale proceeds to its shareholders.

- SunEdison, Inc. – Chief Executive Officer and Chief Restructuring Officer – 2016-2017

SunEdison was the largest global renewable energy development company prior to its filing for chapter 11 in April 2016. SunEdison had over $10 billion of liabilities and 4,500 employees spread across operations in over 50 countries on 6 continents. A decline in energy prices along with loss of faith in management by investors and numerous litigations filed against the company caused the closing of the capital markets for SunEdison which led to its filing for chapter 11. I was brought in as a requirement of the DIP agreement. SunEdison's assets were sold in a manner to preserve the greatest value for its creditors. I am currently assisting the wind down SunEdison entity as requested.

- Financial Guaranty Insurance Company – Chairman and Chief Executive Officer – 2008-2014

FGIC was the third largest monoline bond insurer, insuring in excess of $300 billion of public finance instruments, RMBS securitizations and CDS contracts with over $4 billion of capital. After the collapse of the residential mortgage market in the 2007/08 timeframe, FGIC lost its AAA ratings and experienced tremendous losses on its insurance contracts. This led to an insolvency proceeding under NY State insurance law with an innovative resolution through a pre-arranged rehabilitation plan. This enabled it to continue to pay its policy holders in a timely manner.

- Residential Capital – Co-Chairman of the Official Creditors Committee – 2012-2013

ResCap, a wholly owned subsidiary of Ally Financial, was one of the largest mortgage originators in the US. FGIC was its 2nd largest creditor and after its chapter 11 filing in May of 2012, I was appointed as the Co-Chair of ResCap's Official Unsecured Creditors Committee. As the lead negotiator for the UCC, the UCC was able to negotiate an increase in the contribution to the plan of reorganization by the parent, Ally, from approximately $650 million to $2.1 billion. This contribution settled all of the litigation between Ally and Rescap and enabled ResCap to emerge from chapter 11.

- Anchor Glass Container Corporation – Chief Restructuring Officer – 2005-2006

Anchor Glass was the 3rd largest manufacturer of glass containers in the US, with Anheuser Busch and Snapple as its largest customers, where it provided “just in time” deliveries to enable its customers plants to operate 24/7. Its third trip through chapter 11 resulted from poor contract pricing and high legacy costs. I worked closely with the CEO to renegotiate these contracts and reduce the cost structure which enabled it to emerge from chapter 11 as a viable business which continues to operate today.

- RCN Corporation – President and Chief Operating Officer - 2004

RCN was a Bundled 3-product cable provider offering integrated voice, video and data products in the US Northeast, Midwest and West Coast markets with over $1.7 billion of debt incurred during its build out period. Working with the Lead Director, a pre-arranged chapter 11 plan was negotiated with all of its creditor constituencies to enable it to emerge as a profitable business in its markets where it continues to operate today.

- Cable & Wireless America – Chief Executive Officer – 2003-2004

C&W America was a premier hosting business with 14% share of the US market and world class a Tier 1 IP Network. When its British parent company experienced financial difficulties, they attempted to abandon C&W America which caused stress for its major customers, including Yahoo, Google and others. A plan was put in place, though a chapter 11 process, to dramatically reduce its daily cash burn and sell the entity while maintaining its customer base.

- Acterna Corporation – Chief Restructuring Officer - 2003

Acterna was a multi-national manufacturer of telecommunications and cable equipment with revenues of approximately $1.7 billion and debt of $1 billion prior to the industry down turn. I worked closely with the CEO to stabilize the operations and avoid a fire sale of the business. A quick turn through chapter 11 enabled it to emerge as a viable business, where upon the CEO was able to regrow the business and position it for a successful sale to an industry player 18 months later.

- WorldCom, Inc. – Chief Financial Officer – 2002, Advisor – 2003

WorldCom was one of the largest telecommunication companies with assets of over $107 billion and operations across the globe. It filed for chapter 11 during 2002 due to a massive fraud which covered up the significant operational deficiencies and losses it was experiencing. I was brought in as a condition of the DIP agreement and worked closely with the CEO and other members of the senior management to stabilize the company, restructure the operations to reduce opex, provide stability to the international operations and assist with the plan of reorganization negotiations and confirmation.

- CellNet Data Systems, Inc. – Chief Restructuring Officer – 1999-2001

CellNet was a startup technology company that provided smart grid and smart metering and billing solutions for the utility industry. After burning through in excess of $600 million of initial funding it was not able to access the capital markets to continue to build out its platform and realize the cost synergies across contracts that would make it profitable. Working closely with the new CEO, we reduced the cost structure and sold the company to one of its meter suppliers enabling it to continue to operate in a successful manner.

- Barneys New York – Chief Financial Officer – 1996-1999

Barneys was, at this time, a family owned high end retail store chain operating with over 30 stores and international affiliations in Asia. After an uncontrolled growth plan and management that did not understand its cost structure, it filed for chapter 11. I was brought in at the request of the DIP lender to oversee the family's management, to control its costs, close unprofitable locations, renegotiate store leases and work out a consensual chapter 11 plan that included its largest creditors providing financing through a rights offering to enable Barneys to successfully emerge from chapter 11 as a profitable retailer.

- The Leslie Fay Companies – EVP Restructuring and Chief Financial Officer – 1993-1995

Leslie Fay was one of the larger designer and manufacturer of ladies dresses, sportswear and suits in the US. A public company, it was the victim of fraud by its financial management team to hide the true cost of operations and manufacturing of its products. This led to a chapter 11 filing. I worked closely with the CEO and President to stabilize its financial management team, reduce costs and position it for an emergence from chapter 11.

- Robert Maxwell Group – Head of US Private Companies – 1991-1993

Robert Maxwell was a British entrepreneur who invested heavily in the publishing space. After financial improprieties were uncovered and his subsequent suicide, I was appointed by the UK Administrators to run all of his US operations, which included over 40 private companies. I worked closely with the UK administrators to realize value through sales of these US operations and turn those proceeds over to the UK Administrators.

(Chapter 11)

United States Trustee's Objection to the Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operating in the Ordinary Course

The United States Trustee for Region 6 files this Objection to the Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course ("Joint Agreement Motion," ECF No. 281, filed 12/27/2019) and respectfully states:

Objection Overview

1. The United States Trustee objects to the Joint Agreement Motion. First, the Joint Agreement is an agreement to do an agreement in the future, and it leaves many open litigation issues. Second, the Court lacks jurisdiction to enter an order defining the corporate governance of Strand Advisors, a non-debtor; the proposal improperly supplants Delaware corporate law defining governance for that non-debtor; and it is unclear how the Court would be able to enforce the agreement were James Dondero, Strand Advisor's sole stockholder, to change his Written Consent. Third, this bankruptcy case is not just about resolving monetary claims between individuals. It is also about protecting investors. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Anticipating and circumventing each of these problems, section 1104 of the Bankruptcy Code defines a chapter 11 trustee as the remedy for the issues in this case, and the Court should impose that remedy.

Objection

The Joint Agreement is an agreement to do an agreement in the future, and it leaves open many important legal issues. Appointing a trustee obviates these issues.

2. First, the Joint Agreement does not define who the third board of director would be. The parties are left to select that person.

3. Second, the compensation terms for the board members are undisclosed. They are paid indirectly by the Debtor, but the amounts are left blank in the agreement. Strand Advisors, Inc. – Director Agreement, Section 2, Compensation and Benefits.

4. Third, the Joint Agreement references the possibility of a new Chief Executive Officer, but it does not specify who that individual would be. That individual would not need to be disinterested, could be one of the new board members, or could be someone else. Joint Agreement Motion, p. 6. The Court then delegates to the Unsecured Creditors Committee – and only the committee-- the power to replace that individual. Alternatively, the Court may order the replacement of the Chief Executive Officer.

5. The committee retains standing to seek appointment of a trustee. It is unclear whether this provision is clarifying or is intended to narrow the standing of parties who can seek a trustee.

6. The Motion to Appoint a Chapter 11 Trustee cites other instances where management problems go beyond James Dondero and involve other officers and employees. The statement of financial affairs reveals that employees -- some of whom might be insiders by operation of law or determined to be insiders based on the facts, 11 U.S.C. 101(31) -- received large bonuses and large expense reimbursements before the bankruptcy case. The Joint Agreement provides that the committee will have standing to pursue litigation against insiders but that it will not have standing to pursue current employees. It is unclear how the statute of limitations concerns might be impacted by this provision.

7. The Joint Agreement contemplates that some – but not all – of the attorney-client and work product privileges pass to the committee so it can pursue litigation claims. Under the facts of this case, where historically internal and external attorney legal advice has been pivotal to litigation, a trustee should acquire the corporate attorney-client and work product privileges. CFTC v. Weintraub, 471 U.S. 343 (1985). Attempting to parse the issues that can be transferred only leads to additional litigation.

The Court lacks jurisdiction to enter an order defining the corporate governance of a Strand Advisors, a non-debtor; the proposal improperly supplants Delaware corporate law defining governance for that non-debtor; and it is unclear how the Court would be able to enforce the agreement were James Dondero, Strand Advisor's sole stockholder, to change his Written Consent.

8. Strand Advisors, Inc. is the debtor's general partner. The "Independent Directors are being appointed to a new independent board of Strand, the Debtor's general partner, and Strand is not a debtor in this case or subject to this Court's jurisdiction." Joint Agreement Motion, p. 11 n. 6. Based on the draft consent attached to the Joint Agreement Motion, Dondero is the sole stockholder of Strand Advisors, Inc.

9. While Dondero resigns from the board of Strand, resigns as an officer of Strand, and resigns as an employee of the debtor, he does not give up his stock at Strand Advisors, Inc. Thus, he maintains the right to vote the stock.

10. The Court should eschew the Joint Agreement's invitation to control boards and managements of non-debtors. If Strand Advisors were a public corporation such as IBM, the proposal never would have been made. Here, the facts suggest that Strand Advisors, Inc. only has management authority over this debtor, but it is not clear. It may manage other entities. While the Court might authorize a change of officer or board for a corporate debtor, it is not in the ordinary course of business under section 363(c) or within the Court's authority to authorize the use, sale, or lease of property outside the ordinary course of business under section 363(b) for a subsidiary limited partnership's creditors to obtain a court order defining management replacement for a parent corporation. If one were outside of bankruptcy and in state court, a court typically would not enter an order changing management. It would direct the appointment of a receiver.

11. The Crusader liquidation resulted in questions about the Debtor's handling of transactions, and these questions were resolved by the appointment of the Redeemer Committee.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]. As the motion itself concedes, Strand Advisors, Inc is outside the Court's jurisdiction. A trustee avoids these issues.

This bankruptcy case is not just about resolving monetary claims between individuals. It is about protecting investors – both directly and indirectly.

12. If a trustee were appointed, then the trustee would acquire the causes of action. The transfer of the litigation claims to the committee is an important aspect of the Joint Agreement. The litigation document protocol and protective order reflect a focus on quantifying past issues.

[REDACTED]

13. The Bankruptcy Code defines a straightforward route to minimize future litigation about the Debtor's management, about ownership of the attorney-client privilege, about ownership of causes of action, [REDACTED]. The Bankruptcy Code provides for the appointment of a trustee. 11 U.S.C. § 1104.

Conclusion

Wherefore, the United States Trustee respectfully requests that the Court:

- A. Deny the Joint Agreement Motion;
- B. Grant the U.S. Trustee's Motion to Appoint a Trustee;
- C. Alternatively, tailor it within proper jurisdictional confines;
- D. Grant further proper relief.

DECLARATION OF BRADLEY D. SHARP IN SUPPORT OF MOTION OF THE DEBTOR FOR APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT WITH THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS REGARDING GOVERNANCE OF THE DEBTOR AND PROCEDURES FOR OPERATIONS IN THE ORDINARY COURSE

I, Bradley D. Sharp, make this declaration pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 and state as follows:

¹ The Debtor's last four digits of its taxpayer identification number are (6725). The headquarters and service address for the above-captioned Debtor is 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, TX 75201.

1. I am the President and Chief Executive Officer of Development Specialists, Inc. (“DSI”), a leading provider of management consulting and financial advisory services, including turnaround consulting, fiduciary roles, and financial restructuring services with numerous offices throughout the country.

2. I was retained as the Debtor’s Chief Restructuring Officer (the “CRO”) on October 7, 2019.

3. On October 29, 2019, the Debtor filed the Motion of the Debtor Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105(a) and 363(b) to Employ and Retain Development Specialists, Inc. to Provide a Chief Restructuring Officer, Additional Personnel, and Financial Advisory and Restructuring Related Services, Nunc Pro Tunc as of the Petition Date, as supplemented [Docket Nos. 74 & 282] (the “CRO Motion”) seeking to formally retain me as the CRO. The CRO Motion remains pending but will be resolved if the Motion (defined below) is approved by this Court.

4. As the CRO, I am duly authorized to make this declaration (the “Declaration”) in support of the Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course (the “Motion,”) ² for entry of an Order approving the terms of a settlement between the Debtor and the Committee regarding governance of the Debtor and procedures for operations in the ordinary course of business as embodied in the Term Sheet filed with the Motion.

5. Unless otherwise stated in this Declaration, I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth herein and, if called as a witness, I would testify thereto.

² Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings set forth in the Motion.

6. Following weeks of negotiations, the Debtor and the Committee have reached a proposed settlement which is embodied in the Term Sheet and which provides for, among other things, the appointment of three Independent Directors at Strand, the Debtor's general partner and ultimate party in control.

7. The three proposed Independent Directors are James Seery, John Dubel, and Russell Nelms. Background information for each of the Independent Directors is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

8. Upon approval of the Motion, the Independent Directors will be responsible for implementing the agreement embodied in the Term Sheet.

9. The Term Sheet was negotiated at arm's length, and is the product of lengthy, extended and far-reaching discussions between the Debtor and the Committee and their respective professionals. I firmly believe that the settlement is fair and reasonable and is in the best interests of the Debtor's estate and also resolves the open disputes regarding other matters. See Docket Nos. 51, 76, and 259.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on January 6, 2020, Dallas, Texas.

DEBTOR'S REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION OF THE DEBTOR FOR APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT WITH THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED
CREDITORS REGARDING GOVERNANCE OF THE DEBTOR AND PROCEDURES FOR OPERATIONS IN THE ORDINARY COURSE

The above-captioned debtor and debtor in possession (the "Debtor") hereby submits this reply (the "Reply") in support of the Motion of the Debtor for Approval of

¹ The Debtor's last four digits of its taxpayer identification number are (6725). The headquarters and service address for the above-captioned Debtor is 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, TX 75201.

Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 281] (the “Settlement Motion”).²

In further support of the Settlement Motion, the Debtor respectfully states as follows:

Preliminary Statement

1. The settlement, embodied in the Term Sheet, resolves months of litigation between the Debtor and the Committee over the Debtor’s governance structure and operations and allows the Debtor and the Committee to focus their efforts on moving this case to a resolution that benefits all stakeholders. The Debtor, the Committee, and the Committee’s members, who are the Debtor’s major creditors, agreed to the Term Sheet and have not objected to the Settlement Motion.

2. Further, although the Settlement Motion was properly noticed, the only party to file a full objection was the United States Trustee for Region 6 (the “UST”).³ In fact, (a) other than certain issuers of collateralized loan and debt obligations (the “Issuers”),⁴ no investor in any fund or entity managed by the Debtor has objected to the Settlement Motion; (b) no governmental agency, including the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”), has

² All capitalized terms used but not defined herein have the meaning given to them in the Settlement Motion.

³ See United States Trustee’s Objection to the Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operating in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 313] (the “UST Objection”).

objected to the Settlement Motion; and (c) no other party-in-interest has objected to the Settlement Motion.⁵

3. In the UST Objection, the UST raises various concerns regarding the Term Sheet and the manner in which the settlement embodied therein will be implemented. However, at its core, the UST Objection is an attempt by the UST to substitute its judgment for the judgment of the Debtor, the Committee, the Debtor's creditors and other parties-in-interest (including investors in the Debtor's managed funds and related entities), and the governmental agencies tasked with overseeing and regulating the Debtor, and to advocate for the appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee.⁶ Although the UST is empowered with certain rights and duties under 28 U.S.C. § 586, substituting its judgment for the judgment of every major constituency in the Debtor's bankruptcy proceeding is not one of them.

Reply

4. In the UST Objection, the UST raises three general objections: (a) the Term Sheet leaves certain items to be resolved in the future, including "important legal issues;" (b) this Court lacks jurisdiction to implement the corporate governance matters or enforce the corporate governance matters set forth in the Term Sheet; and (c) the Term Sheet does not protect investors. Each of these three objections is addressed below.

⁵ Jefferies LLC ("Jefferies") filed the Statement and Reservation of Rights of Jefferies LLC in Response to Debtor's Motion for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 312] (the "RoR"). The RoR was not an objection to the Settlement Motion, and the Debtor and Jefferies have agreed to certain language to be added to the proposed order approving the Settlement Motion, which resolves the RoR.

⁶ On December 23, 2019, the UST filed the United States Trustee's Motion for an Order Directing the Appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee [Docket No. 271] (the "Trustee Motion"). Although the UST was informed that the Committee and the Debtor were attempting to resolve the Debtor's governance issues, the UST, through the Trustee Motion, sought the appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee to oversee the Debtor's estate. The Debtor intends to object to the Trustee Motion, and, on information and belief, believes that no party-in-interest in this case supports the Trustee Motion.

I. The Term Sheet

5. Identity of Third Independent Director. The Settlement Motion identified James Seery and John Dubel as proposed Independent Directors, but the UST objects that the Term Sheet did not disclose the identity of the third Independent Director. After the Settlement Motion was filed, the Debtor and the Committee agreed to a slate of four potential directors from which Messrs. Seery and Dubel would select the third Independent Director, and they have selected the Honorable Russell E. Nelms to be the third Independent Director. Judge Nelms' curriculum vitae is attached to this Reply as Exhibit A.

6. Independent Director Compensation. The UST objects that the compensation to be paid to the Independent Directors is not disclosed in the Term Sheet. Since filing the Settlement Motion, the Debtor and the Committee have discussed with the Independent Directors the amount of compensation to be paid to each Independent Director and have agreed that each Independent Director will receive a monthly payment of (a) $60,000 for each of the first three months, (b) $50,000 for each of the next three months, and (c) $30,000 for each of the following six months, provided that the parties will re-visit the director compensation after the sixth month (the "Director Compensation"). Although the Independent Directors will sit at Strand, the Debtor is seeking authority from this Court to pay the Director Compensation.

7. Appointment of Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"). The Term Sheet does not require the appointment of any CEO. Instead, the Term Sheet recognizes that the Independent Directors may determine, for any number of reasons, whether a CEO is necessary for the management of the Debtor. In that circumstance, the Independent Directors will consult with the Committee as to who should be appointed as CEO. The Independent Directors' ability to determine that a CEO is necessary to the effective management of the Debtor is an ordinary and customary responsibility of a board of directors. As an ordinary course function, the appointment of an executive officer would not require court approval. Similarly, the appointment of a CEO for the Debtor would not require this Court's approval.

8. Further, if a CEO is appointed, the Term Sheet provides that the CEO can only be removed with the consent of the Committee or an order of this Court. This requirement is in place to protect any appointed CEO from improper termination by the Debtor, not to avoid the Bankruptcy Code or this Court, and is not unlike other cases where removal of a high ranking officer is an event of default.

9. Appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee. The Term Sheet reserves the Committee's right to seek the appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee. This provision is not intended to limit the right of any other party-in-interest with proper standing to seek a Chapter 11 trustee.

10. Management Issues. The UST states that the Debtor's management issues extend to parties other than James Dondero and argues that because the Term Sheet does not provide the Committee with the right to pursue insider claims against current employees, that there may be "statute of limitations concerns." (UST Objection, ¶ 6.) The UST, however, does not specify its concerns nor does it indicate how any purported "statute of limitations concerns" in this case differ from those in every other Chapter 11 proceeding, including cases where (unlike here) a committee is not granted standing to pursue insider claims.

11. The Term Sheet, however, provides that that Independent Directors will "conduct a review of all current employees," and the Independent Directors will make their own determination regarding whether any persons have engaged in improper conduct. The Term Sheet also provides that if an employee is terminated, then the Committee will have standing to pursue insider claims against such employee. Finally, nothing in the Term Sheet limits the Committee's right to seek standing to pursue insider claims against then-current employees or any other party, if the Committee believes that the statute of limitations is set to expire. Absent the Term Sheet, the Debtor would have the sole right to pursue insider claims (absent contrary order from this Court), no independent employee review would occur, and any statute of limitations concerns would still exist. The Committee and the Independent Directors having these rights is solely a function of the Term Sheet, and the Term Sheet ameliorates the concerns raised by the UST.

12. Attorney-Client Material. Under the Term Sheet, the Debtor has agreed to provide the Committee access to certain privileged documents and communications. The UST argues that this is insufficient as it will lead to additional litigation and that, to avoid litigation, a Chapter 11 trustee should be appointed to accede to all privileges afforded to the Debtor. This argument is a gross overstep and the clearest example of the UST attempting to substitute its judgment for the judgment of all other constituents in this case. The Debtor and the Committee have agreed to a mechanism to determine which potentially privileged documents and communications should be turned over to the Committee to facilitate the prosecution of the Estate Claims for the benefit of all parties-in-interest. That process will be overseen by this Court. It is not appropriate for the UST to substitute its judgment with respect thereto for that of the Debtor, the Committee, and the Debtor's major creditors.

II. The Court's Jurisdiction to Implement the Corporate Governance Matters

13. The UST argues that because Strand is not a debtor in this Case that the Court lacks jurisdiction to appoint the Independent Directors at Strand and to limit Mr. Dondero's rights as Strand's sole stockholder to remove those Independent Directors.⁷ This is correct, and the Debtor does not contest the UST's position on this matter.

14. However, the Debtor is not seeking authority from this Court to appoint the Independent Directors. Nor is the Debtor seeking this Court's authority, generally, to enter into the Governing Documents. Strand, as a non-debtor entity, is appointing the Independent Directors and executing the Governing Documents to effectuate such appointment of its own volition consistent with Delaware corporate law and its governing documents.⁸ The UST has not – and cannot – point to any provision in Delaware law prohibiting Strand's appointment of the Independent Directors or entrance into the Governing Documents.

15. In distinction, through the Settlement Motion, the Debtor is only requesting authority from this Court to pay the Independent Directors the Director Compensation and such other relief as the Court may determine is required to effectuate the appointment of the Independent Directors and to enter into the Governing Documents. Because the Debtor is seeking to use estate assets to pay directors of a non-debtor entity, the Debtor sought this Court's approval to make such payments. The Debtor is not seeking authority to appoint the Independent

⁸ Because the Debtor is a limited partner, it is managed by its general partner, Strand, rather than a board of directors or similar governing body. The Committee requested the appointment of an independent fiduciary with oversight authority over the Debtor, and it was determined that a change in Strand's board of directors would be the most efficient means of achieving that result.

Directors to the board of a non-debtor entity.

16. Further, the Debtor recognizes that this Court would not have the requisite authority to limit Mr. Dondero's right as the sole stockholder of Strand to remove the Independent Directors or to take any other action that could neuter the settlement embodied in the Term Sheet. To address that issue, the written consent of the sole stockholder of Strand (included in the Governing Documents) contemplates the parties entering into a stipulation which will address the concerns raised by the UST, among other things (the "Stipulation"). The Stipulation is subject to this Court's approval. As such, the Term Sheet provides an extra level of protection and Court oversight without running afoul of the jurisdictional issues raised by the UST. Ultimately, though, if Mr. Dondero attempts to remove the Independent Directors or otherwise act in a way that contravenes the Term Sheet, the Committee has reserved its right to immediately seek appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee.

III. The Term Sheet Protects Investors or Provides Transparency

17. Finally, the UST argues that "quantification" of "past issues" is not a sufficient basis for approving the Settlement Motion and that transparency is needed for all "investors and for government agencies charged with overseeing [the] Debtor." (UST Objection, ¶ 12.) This, however, is not an argument against the Settlement Motion. Rather, it is an argument for the UST's Trustee Motion. The Trustee Motion is set for a hearing on January 21, 2019, and the Debtor will file an objection to the Trustee Motion at the appropriate time.

18. However, the UST's purported objection still fails. The Term Sheet creates the transparency for which the UST advocates.⁹ In addition to providing a mechanism by which the Committee can investigate and potentially litigate prepetition transfers, it allows substantial oversight of the Debtor's postpetition activities, including transactions between "Related Entities" (as such term is defined in the Protocols). The Protocols thus create three layers of oversight of the Debtor's postpetition activities. Those activities will be reviewed by the CRO, the Independent Directors (consisting of two experienced professionals and a former federal bankruptcy judge), and, in relatively expansive circumstances, the Committee. The Protocols also require the Debtor to provide the Committee with regular reporting concerning its postpetition trades and investments. Finally, all of the Debtor's activities – both pre- and postpetition – will ultimately be subject to this Court's oversight. The substantial oversight afforded by the Term Sheet should address the concerns of any investor in any entity or fund managed by the Debtor.

19. For the foregoing reasons as well as those set forth in the Settlement Motion, the UST's arguments that the Settlement Motion does not provide transparency for both governmental agencies charged with overseeing the Debtor and the Debtor's investors or address purported lapses in fiduciary duties are not well founded. The UST has not provided any evidence that the Settlement Motion will not address these concerns. Instead, the UST has simply stated that there is insufficient transparency for investors and governmental agencies.

20. Finally, it is also important to reiterate that, although the Settlement Motion was properly noticed, no governmental agency, including the SEC, or investor has objected to the Settlement Motion (with the exception of the Issuers, who believe the settlement provides too much oversight and transparency). The only party that has objected is the UST, and the UST does not have standing to object to the Settlement Motion on behalf of parties that themselves received notice and chose not to act. If any governmental agency (including the SEC) or any investor wished to object to the Settlement Motion, they had the right to do so but determined not to.

[Remainder of Page Intentionally Blank]

WHEREFORE, for the reasons set forth above and in the Settlement Motion, the UST Objection should be overruled in all respects and the settlement between the Debtor and the Committee should be approved on the terms set forth in the Settlement Motion.

Mr. Nelms served as a bankruptcy judge in Fort Worth, Texas from 2004 to 2018. During that time he consistently received top ratings from the Tarrant County Bar for his knowledge of the law, fairness, and judicial temperament. His experience, coupled with his unconventional sense of humor, led to frequent speaking engagements at bankruptcy forums in and outside of Texas.

On the bench, Judge Nelms counted kindness and compassion as his key virtues. This extended to lawyers and their clients. At the conclusion of any matter, however, Judge Nelms never lost sight of the fact that his job was to apply the law to the facts, regardless of where his sympathies might lie. As he often said, "A judge who always likes the result of his rulings is not a very good judge."

Off the bench, Judge Nelms loved the company of lawyers, but his favorite time of each day was the first 30 minutes of the work day. At that time, Judge Nelms would gather his chambers staff together to share jokes and catch up on "the big picture."

Mr. Nelms is no longer "The Judge." Still, he brings to his current endeavors the traits that served him well on the bench. Chief among those is the willingness to listen while reserving judgment. That trait is bolstered by patience, a commitment to solving problems quickly and economically, and an adherence to "doing the right thing."

Mr. Nelms received a B.A. with high honors from Texas Tech in 1975, and a J.D. with high honors from Texas Tech School of Law in 1978. He served in the United States Army Judge Advocate General's Corps from 1978 to 1984. Mr. Nelms practiced with Carrington, Coleman, Sloman and Blumenthal, LLP from 1984 to 2004, spending the last 15 years as a partner in its bankruptcy litigation section.

From 2012 to 2018, Mr. Nelms was a contributing editor to the Collier Handbook for Trustees and Debtors in Possession. For his service on the bench and to his community, Mr. Nelms was named as a Sergeant in the American Inns of Court.

Currently, Mr. Nelms is serving as the chairman of the independent board of directors of Warrior Custom Golf, a company in chapter 11 in Houston, Texas. He also serves as the trustee of the Think Financial Litigation Trust, a trust created by the confirmed plan of Think Financial, a debtor in possession in Dallas, Texas.

REPLY OF THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS IN SUPPORT OF THE MOTION OF THE DEBTOR FOR APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT
WITH THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS REGARDING GOVERNANCE OF THE DEBTOR AND PROCEDURES FOR OPERATING IN THE ORDINARY COURSE

The official committee of unsecured creditors (the “Committee”) of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”), hereby submits this reply (this “Reply”) to the United States Trustee’s Objection to the Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operating in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 313] (the “Objection”) and in support of the Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operating in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 218](the “Motion”).² In opposition of the Objection and in support of the Motion, the Committee respectfully states as follows:

¹ The Debtor’s last four digits of its taxpayer identification number are (6725). The headquarters and service address for the above-captioned Debtor is 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, TX 75201.

² All capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Motion.

REPLY

1. The Committee strongly agrees with the U.S. Trustee that Mr. Dondero cannot remain in a position of management authority at the Debtor, however, as a fiduciary to all unsecured creditors in this chapter 11 case, the Committee believes that the Settlement is in the best interests of all creditors and should be approved. The Settlement is the product of weeks of hard-fought negotiations between the Debtor and the Committee and would result in the immediate appointment of three highly-qualified, independent directors who will make all key decisions on behalf of the Debtor and oversee the Debtor's operations going forward. The Settlement also grants the Committee significant information and oversight rights and standing to investigate and pursue claims against certain of the Debtor's insiders. The Committee believes these and other provisions of the Settlement appropriately address the concerns raised by the U.S. Trustee regarding the Debtor's current management and its ability to dispatch its fiduciary duties – which, as noted above, are concerns the Committee shares and has previously raised before this Court. The Committee believes the Settlement establishes a governance structure that best enables the Debtor to maximize value for its stakeholders while protecting them from any potential wrongdoing by the Debtor's principals. In the event the Settlement is not properly implemented, the U.S. Trustee and all other parties in interest, including the Committee, will have the right to seek a chapter 11 trustee at that time.

2. The Committee represents all of the unsecured creditors in this case and the Committee members themselves hold the substantial majority of unsecured claims against the Debtor. Consequently, the Committee and its constituents are the economic parties in interest who stand to benefit from (or be harmed by the failure of) the Debtor and its management effectively dispatching their fiduciary duty. The Committee therefore respectfully asserts that it is the best situated constituency in this case to fully assess the benefits and costs of the various governance structures available to the Debtor, including a chapter 11 trustee, and to ensure that value is maximized for the benefit of all creditors. Only after weeks of intensive negotiations did the Committee ultimately conclude the Settlement, including the governance structure reflected therein, represents the best path forward for the Debtor and this case.

3. The Settlement, if approved, avoids the significant delay and costs that would be associated with a contested chapter 11 trustee appointment. Indeed, if the Settlement is approved at the hearing on January 9, 2020, the Independent Directors may be installed as soon as that same day. On the other hand, it would be several weeks or potentially months until a contested chapter 11 trustee would be installed (if at all), taking into account the briefing and discovery the process would likely entail. A swift resolution of the Debtor's governance issues as reflected in the Settlement – i.e., appointment of an independent board and immediate removal of Mr. Dondero from control and decision-making – is in the interest of all creditors.

4. Finally, it is highly improbable that a chapter 11 trustee would be more capable and better suited to oversee the Debtor's business than the three highly-qualified independent directors appointed pursuant to the Settlement. Collectively, the Independent Directors have extensive experience with asset management, corporate restructurings, and bankruptcy. This experience is essential, complementary and unlikely to be matched by any one individual trustee. As the Court is aware, this Debtor is unlike the average chapter 11 debtor—its business of asset management and trading requires specialized knowledge. The Independent Directors, collectively, have the requisite knowledge and skill set to ensure that the value of the Debtor's estate is maximized, fiduciary duties are honored, and value is preserved for the benefit of all creditors.

5. For the reasons set forth above and in the Debtor's reply, the Committee believes that the Settlement is in the best interests of creditors and should be approved. Importantly, if the new governance structure contemplated by the Settlement ultimately proves unsuccessful or circumstances otherwise change, the Settlement does not prejudice the right of any party in this chapter 11 case, including the Committee, from seeking appropriate relief down the road (including, without limitation, a chapter 11 trustee). As such, approval of the Settlement is less prejudicial than appointment of a chapter 11 trustee at this time because the Settlement expressly preserves all parties' rights to seek additional relief in the future. If, however, the Court were to sustain the Objection and appoint a chapter 11 trustee, any resulting diminution in value of the estate could not be undone at a later date.

WHEREFORE, the Committee respectfully requests that the Court overrule the Objection and grant the Motion and provide such other and any further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

STIPULATION IN SUPPORT OF MOTION OF THE DEBTOR FOR APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENT WITH THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS REGARDING GOVERNANCE OF THE DEBTOR AND PROCEDURES FOR OPERATIONS IN THE ORDINARY COURSE

This Stipulation (the “Stipulation”) is being entered into by and among Highland Capital Management, L.P., as the above-captioned debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”), the

¹ The Debtor’s last four digits of its taxpayer identification number are (6725). The headquarters and service address for the above-captioned Debtor is 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, TX 75201.

Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors appointed in the above captioned case (the “Committee”), Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), and James Dondero (“Mr. Dondero” and together with the Debtor, the Committee, and Strand, the “Parties”), with reference to the following facts:

Recitals

1. On October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Delaware Court”).

2. On October 29, 2019, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) was appointed by the U.S. Trustee in the Delaware Court.

3. On December 4, 2019, the Delaware Court entered an order transferring venue of the Debtor’s bankruptcy case to this Court [Docket No. 186].² The Debtor has continued in the possession of its property and has continued to operate and manage its business as a debtor-in-possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in this chapter 11 case.

4. On December 27, 2019, the Debtor filed the Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 281] (the “Settlement Motion”).³

5. The Settlement Motion seeks approval of a proposed settlement embodied in the Term Sheet (as amended). The Term Sheet, among other things, contemplated the creation of a new independent board of directors of Strand.

6. Strand is the Debtor's general partner and the ultimate party in control of the Debtor.

7. Mr. Dondero is the sole shareholder of Strand.

8. The Term Sheet provides that James Seery, John Dubel, and Russell Nelms (collectively, the "Independent Directors") will be appointed to Strand's board of directors (the "Board") pursuant to the terms of the Term Sheet and the Governing Documents.

9. The Governing Documents provide, among other things, that the Parties will enter into this Stipulation and seek this Court's approval of the Stipulation.

Stipulation

10. In consideration for the Committee entering into the Term Sheet, Mr. Dondero, being the sole shareholder of Strand, agrees as follows:

- a. not to transfer or assign his shares in Strand or exercise the voting power of such shares to remove any of the Independent Directors from Strand's Board or further change the authorized number of directors on the Board from three directors;
- b. to exercise the voting power of his shares so as to cause each of the Independent Directors to be re-elected upon the expiration of each such person's term;
- c. upon the death, disability, or resignation of any member of the Board, to exercise the voting power of his shares so as to cause the resulting vacancy to be filled by a successor that is both independent and (i) acceptable to Mr. Dondero and the Committee or (ii) selected by the remaining members of the Board; and
- d. not take any action or exercise the voting power of his shares in Strand in any way that is inconsistent with the Term Sheet or any order of this Court approving the Term Sheet.

11. The Parties stipulate and agree that this Stipulation will no longer be effective or bind Strand or Mr. Dondero following the termination of the Debtor's bankruptcy case and that the Parties will take such steps as may be reasonably necessary to cause this Stipulation to terminate at such time.

12. The Parties further stipulate and agree that the Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction over (a) all matters arising from or related to the interpretation and implementation of this Stipulation and (b) the adjudication of any Party's breach of this Stipulation.

² Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Motion.

(the “Debtor”); the Court having reviewed the Motion, and finding that (a) the Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§157 and 1334, (b) this is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §157(b)(2)(A), and (c) notice of this Motion having been sufficient under the circumstances and no other or further notice is required; and having determined that the legal and factual bases set forth in the Motion establish just cause for the relief granted herein; and having determined that the relief sought in the Motion is in the best interests of the Debtor and its estate; and after due deliberation and sufficient cause appearing therefore,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

1. The Motion is GRANTED on the terms and conditions set forth herein, and the United States Trustee’s objection to the Motion is OVERRULED.

2. The Term Sheet is approved and the Debtor is authorized to take such steps as may be necessary to effectuate the settlement contained in the Term Sheet, including, but not limited to: (i) implementing the Document Production Protocol; and (ii) implementing the Protocols.

3. The Debtor is authorized (A) to compensate the Independent Directors for their services by paying each Independent Director a monthly retainer of (i) $60,000 for each of the first three months, (ii) $50,000 for each of the next three months, and (iii) $30,000 for each of the following six months, provided that the parties will re-visit the director compensation after the sixth month and (B) to reimburse each Independent Director for all reasonable travel or other expenses, including expenses of counsel, incurred by such Independent Director in connection with its service as an Independent Director in accordance with the Debtor’s expense reimbursement policy as in effect from time to time.

4. The Debtor is authorized to guarantee Strand's obligations to indemnify each Independent Director pursuant to the terms of the Indemnification Agreements entered into by Strand with each Independent Director on the date hereof.

5. The Debtor is authorized to purchase an insurance policy to cover the Independent Directors.

6. All of the rights and obligations of the Debtor referred to in paragraphs 3 and 4 hereof shall be afforded administrative expense priority under 11 U.S.C. § 503(b).

7. Subject to the Protocols and the Term Sheet, the Debtor is authorized to continue operations in the ordinary course of its business.

8. Pursuant to the Term Sheet, Mr. James Dondero will remain as an employee of the Debtor, including maintaining his title as portfolio manager for all funds and investment vehicles for which he currently holds that title; provided, however, that Mr. Dondero's responsibilities in such capacities shall in all cases be as determined by the Independent Directors and Mr. Dondero shall receive no compensation for serving in such capacities. Mr. Dondero's role as an employee of the Debtor will be subject at all times to the supervision, direction and authority of the Independent Directors. In the event the Independent Directors determine for any reason that the Debtor shall no longer retain Mr. Dondero as an employee, Mr. Dondero shall resign immediately upon such determination.

9. Mr. Dondero shall not cause any Related Entity to terminate any agreements with the Debtor.

10. No entity may commence or pursue a claim or cause of action of any kind against any Independent Director, any Independent Director's agents, or any Independent

Director's advisors relating in any way to the Independent Director's role as an independent director of Strand without the Court (i) first determining after notice that such claim or cause of action represents a colorable claim of willful misconduct or gross negligence against Independent Director, any Independent Director's agents, or any Independent Director's advisors and (ii) specifically authorizing such entity to bring such claim. The Court will have sole jurisdiction to adjudicate any such claim for which approval of the Court to commence or pursue has been granted.

11. Nothing in the Protocols, the Term Sheet or this Order shall affect or impair Jefferies LLC's rights under its Prime Brokerage Customer Agreements with the Debtor and non-debtor Highland Select Equity Master Fund, L.P., or any of their affiliates, including, but not limited to, Jefferies LLC's rights of termination, liquidation and netting in accordance with the terms of the Prime Brokerage Customer Agreements or, to the extent applicable, under the Bankruptcy Code's "safe harbor" protections, including under sections 555 and 561 of the Bankruptcy Code. The Debtor shall not conduct any transactions or cause any transactions to be conducted in or relating to the Jefferies LLC accounts without the express consent and cooperation of Jefferies LLC or, in the event that Jefferies withholds consent, as otherwise ordered by the Court. For the avoidance of doubt, Jefferies LLC shall not be deemed to have waived any rights under the Prime Brokerage Customer Agreements or, to the extent applicable, the Bankruptcy Code's "safe harbor" protections, including under sections 555 and 561 of the Bankruptcy Code, and shall be entitled to take all actions authorized therein without further order of the Court

12. Notwithstanding any stay under applicable Bankruptcy Rules, this Order shall be effective immediately upon entry.

13. The Court shall retain jurisdiction over all matters arising from or related to the interpretation and implementation of this Order, including matters related to the Committee's approval rights over the appointment and removal of the Independent Directors.

EXHIBIT “A”

Highland Capital Management, L.P.

Preliminary Term Sheet

This term sheet (“Term Sheet”) outlines the principal terms of a proposed settlement between Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) and the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”) in the chapter 11 case captioned In re Highland Capital Mgm’t, L.P., Case No. 19-34054 (SGJ) (the “Chapter 11 Case”), pending in the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the “Bankruptcy Court”), to resolve a good faith dispute between the parties related to the Debtor’s corporate governance, and specifically, the Committee’s various objections to certain relief being sought by the Debtors in the Chapter 11 Case [Del. Docket No. 125]. This Term Sheet shall be subject to approval by the Bankruptcy Court.

Topic	Proposed Terms
Parties	Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “ Debtor ”). The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “ Committee ”).
Independent Directors	The Debtor’s general partner, Strand Advisors, Inc., will appoint the following three (3) independent directors (the “ Independent Directors ”): James Seery, John Dubel, and Judge Russell Nelms. The Independent Directors will be granted exclusive control over the Debtor and its operations. Among other things, the Independent Directors shall conduct a review of all current employees as soon as practicable following the Independent Directors’ appointment, determine whether and which employees should be subject to a key employee retention plan and/or key employee incentive plan and, if applicable, propose plan(s) covering such employees. The appointment and powers of the Independent Directors and the corporate governance structure shall be pursuant to the documents attached hereto as Exhibit A , which documents shall be satisfactory to the Committee. Once appointed, the Independent Directors (i) cannot be removed without the Committee’s written consent or Order of the Court, and (ii) may be removed and replaced at the Committee’s direction upon approval of the Court (subject in all respects to the right of any party in interest, including the Debtor and the Independent Directors, to object to such removal and replacement). The Independent Directors shall be compensated in a manner to be determined with an understanding that the

	source of funding, whether directly or via reimbursement, will be the Debtor. As soon as practicable after their appointments, the Independent Directors shall, in consultation with the Committee, determine whether an interim Chief Executive Officer (the “CEO”) should be appointed for the Debtor. If the Independent Directors determine that appointment of a CEO is appropriate, the Independent Directors shall appoint a CEO acceptable to the Committee as soon as practicable, which may be one of the Independent Directors. Once appointed, the CEO cannot be removed without the Committee’s written consent or Order of the Court. The Committee shall have regular, direct access to the Independent Directors, provided, however that (1) if the communications include FTI Consulting Inc. (“FTI”), Development Specialists Inc. (“DSI”) shall also participate in such communications; and (2) if the communications include counsel, then either Debtor’s counsel or, if retained, counsel to the Independent Directors shall also participate in such communications.
Role of Mr. James Dondero	Upon approval of this Term Sheet by the Bankruptcy Court, Mr. Dondero will (1) resign from his position as a Board of Director of Strand Advisors, Inc., (2) resign as an officer of Strand Advisors, Inc., and (3) resign as President and CEO of the Debtor, and (4) will remain as an employee of the Debtor, including maintaining his title as portfolio manager for all funds and investment vehicles for which he currently holds that title; provided, however, that Mr. Dondero’s responsibilities in such capacities shall in all cases be as determined by the Independent Directors and Mr. Dondero shall receive no compensation for serving in such capacities. Mr. Dondero’s role as an employee of the Debtor will be subject at all times to the supervision, direction and authority of the Independent Directors. In the event the Independent Directors determine for any reason that the Debtor shall no longer retain Mr. Dondero as an employee, Mr. Dondero agrees to resign immediately upon such determination. Mr. Dondero shall not cause any Related Entity to terminate any agreements with the Debtor.
CRO	DSI shall, subject to approval of the Bankruptcy Court, be retained as chief restructuring officer (“CRO”) to the

	Debtor and report to and be directed by the Independent Directors and, if and once appointed, the CEO. The retention and scope of duties of DSI shall be pursuant to the Further Amended Retention Agreement, attached hereto as Exhibit B. DSI and all other Debtor professionals shall serve at the direction of the CEO, if any, and the Independent Directors.
Estate Claims	The Committee is granted standing to pursue any and all estate claims and causes of action against Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, other insiders of the Debtor, and each of the Related Entities, including any promissory notes held by any of the foregoing (collectively, the “Estate Claims”); provided, however, that the term Estate Claims will not include any estate claim or cause of action against any then-current employee of the Debtor other than Mr. Dondero.
Document Management, Preservation, and Production	The Debtor shall be subject to and comply with the document management, preservation, and production requirements attached hereto as Exhibit C, which requirements cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order (the “Document Production Protocol”). Solely with respect to the investigation and pursuit of Estate Claims, the document production protocol will acknowledge that the Committee will have access to the privileged documents and communications that are within the Debtor’s possession, custody, or control (“Shared Privilege”). With respect to determining if any particular document is subject to the Shared Privilege, the following process shall be followed: (i) the Committee will request documents from the Debtor, (ii) the Debtor shall log all documents requested but withheld on the basis of privilege, (iii) the Debtor shall not withhold documents it understands to be subject to the Shared Privilege; (iv) the Committee will identify each additional document on the log that the Committee believes is subject to the Shared Privilege, and (v) a special master or other third party neutral agreed to by the Committee and the Debtor shall make a determination if such documents are subject to the Shared Privilege. The Committee further agrees that the production of any particular document by

	the Debtor under this process will not be used as a basis for a claim of subject matter waiver.
Reporting Requirements	The Debtor shall be subject to and comply with the reporting requirements attached hereto as Exhibit D , which reporting requirements cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order (the “ Reporting Requirements ”).
Plan Exclusivity	The Independent Directors may elect to waive the Debtor’s exclusive right to file a plan under section 1121 of the Bankruptcy Code.
Operating Protocols	The Debtor shall comply with the operating protocols set forth in Exhibit D hereto, regarding the Debtor’s operation in the ordinary course of business, which protocols cannot be modified without the consent of the Committee or Court order.
Reservation of Rights	This agreement is without prejudice to the Committee’s rights to, among other things, seek the appointment of a trustee or examiner at a later date. Nothing herein shall constitute or be construed as a waiver of any right of the Debtor or any other party in interest to contest the appointment of a trustee or examiner, and all such rights are expressly reserved.

OF

January 9, 2020

Pursuant to the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (the “DGCL”) and consistent with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation (the “Certificate”) and Bylaws (the “Bylaws”) of Strand Advisors, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), the undersigned, being the holder of all of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company and the sole director of the Company (the “Stockholder”), acting by written consent without a meeting pursuant to Section 228 of the DGCL and Article IV, Section 6, and Article XII of the Bylaws, does hereby consent to the adoption of the following resolutions and to the taking of the actions contemplated thereby, in each case with the same force and effect as if presented to and adopted at a meeting of the stockholders:

I. AMENDMENT OF BYLAWS

WHEREAS, it is acknowledged that the Board of Directors of the Company (the “Board”) has heretofore been fixed at one (1) and that the Board currently consists of James Dondero;

WHEREAS, pursuant to Article XII of the Bylaws, the Stockholder wishes to amend the Bylaws in the manner set forth on Appendix A hereto (the “Bylaws Amendment”) to increase the size of the Board from one (1) to three (3) directors, and to add certain provisions respecting director qualifications and the removal of directors; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Bylaws Amendment is hereby authorized and approved, and the Board is increased from one (1) to three (3) directors;

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any officer of the Company is authorized to take any such actions as may be required to effectuate the Bylaws Amendment; and

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any action taken by any officer of the Company on or prior to the date hereof to effectuate such Bylaws Amendment is hereby authorized and affirmed.

II. ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

WHEREAS, the Stockholder desires to appoint James Seery, John Dubel, and Russell Nelms to the Board and desires that such individuals constitute the whole Board;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that James Seery, John Dubel, and Russell Nelms, having consented to act as such, be, and each of them hereby is, appointed as a director, to serve as a director of the Company and to hold such office until such director’s respective successor shall have been duly elected or appointed and shall qualify, or until such director’s death, resignation or removal;

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any officer of the Company is authorized to take any such actions as may be required to effectuate the appointment of the foregoing directors, including executing an indemnification agreement in favor of such directors in substantially the form attached hereto as Appendix B (each, an “Indemnification Agreement”);

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any action taken by any officer of the Company on or prior to the date hereof to effectuate the appointment of such directors, including the execution of an Indemnification Agreement, is hereby authorized and affirmed.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that James Dondero and any other directors of the Company are hereby removed as directors of the Company;

RESOLVED FURTHER, that the directors appointed pursuant to these resolutions shall, pursuant to the terms of the Bylaws, appoint a Chairman of the Board.

III. STIPULATION WITH THE BANKRUPTCY COURT

WHEREAS, on October 16, 2019, Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCMLP”) filed for chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Bankruptcy Case”);

WHEREAS, the Company is the general partner for HCMLP;

WHEREAS, the Bankruptcy Case was transferred to the Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 (the “Texas Court”) by order of the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware on December 4, 2019;

WHEREAS, the Company and the Stockholder wish to enter into a stipulation (the “Stipulation”) with HCMLP and the Official Unsecured Creditors Committee appointed in the Bankruptcy Case (the “Committee”), such Stipulation to be approved by the Texas Court, whereby the Stockholder will agree (a) not to transfer or assign his shares in the Company or exercise the voting power of such shares to remove any member of the Board appointed pursuant to these resolutions or further change the authorized number of directors from three (3) directors; (b) to exercise the voting power of his shares so as to cause each member of the Board appointed by these resolutions to be re-elected upon the expiration of his or her term; (c) upon the death, disability, or resignation of a member of the Board, will exercise the voting power of such shares so as to cause the resulting vacancy to be filled by a successor that is both independent and (i) acceptable to the Stockholder and the Committee or (ii) selected by the remaining members of the Board; and (d) not take any action or exercise the voting power of such shares in any way that is inconsistent with the term sheet agreed to by HCMLP and the Committee and any order of the Texas Court approving such agreement and compromise between HCMLP and the Committee;

WHEREAS, for purposes of the Stipulation, “independent” would exclude the Stockholder, any affiliate of the Stockholder, and any member of management of the Company; and

WHEREAS, it is in the intent of the parties that the Stipulation will no longer be effective or bind the Company or the Stockholder following the termination of the Bankruptcy Case.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Company is authorized to take such actions as may be necessary to enter into and effectuate the Stipulation in the manner and on the terms set forth above, including, but not limited to, further amending the Certificate, Bylaws, or any other corporate governance documents; and

RESOLVED FURTHER, that Scott Ellington, as an officer of the Company, is authorized to take any such actions as may be required to enter into and effectuate the Stipulation in the manner set forth herein; and

RESOLVED FURTHER, that any action taken by Scott Ellington or any other officer of the Company on or prior to the date hereof to effectuate such Stipulation is hereby authorized and affirmed.

First Amendment to Bylaws of Strand Advisors, Inc.

Strand Advisors, Inc. (the “Company”), a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, does hereby certify that the Company’s sole stockholder, acting by written consent without a meeting, resolved to amend the Company’s Bylaws (the “Bylaws”) as follows:

1. Article III, Section 2, of the Bylaws is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Section 2. Number of Directors. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be three (3).

2. Article III, Section 5, of the Bylaws is hereby deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Section 5. Director Qualifications. Each director appointed to serve on the Board shall (A) (i) be an independent director, (ii) not be affiliated with the corporation’s stockholders, and (iii) not be an officer of the corporation; and (B) have been (x) nominated by the official committee of unsecured creditors (the “Committee”) appointed in the chapter 11 bankruptcy of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”) currently pending in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the “Court”), Case No. 19-34054-sgj11 and reasonably acceptable to the stockholders; (y) nominated by the stockholders and acceptable to the Committee; or (z) selected by the duly appointed independent directors.

3. The following shall be added as Section 6 to Article III of the Bylaws:

Section 6. Removal of Directors. Once appointed, the independent directors (i) cannot be removed without the Committee’s written consent or Order of the Court, and (ii) may be removed and replaced at the Committee’s direction upon approval of the Court (subject in all respects to the right of any party in interest, including the Debtor and the independent directors, to object to such removal and replacement).

Except as expressly amended hereby, the terms of the Company’s Bylaws shall remain in full force and effect.

Re: Strand Advisors, Inc. – Director Agreement

Dear [REDACTED]:

On behalf of Strand Advisors, Inc. (the “Company”), I am pleased to have you join the Company’s Board of Directors. This letter sets forth the terms of the Director Agreement (the “Agreement”) that the Company is offering to you.

1. APPOINTMENT TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

a. Title, Term and Responsibilities.

i. Subject to terms set forth herein, the Company agrees to appoint you to serve as a Director on the Company’s Board of Directors (the “Board”), and you hereby accept such appointment the date you sign this Agreement (the “Effective Date”). You will serve as a Director of the Board from the Effective Date until you voluntarily resign, are removed from the Board, or are not re-elected (the “Term”). Your rights, duties and obligations as a Director shall be governed by the Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws of the Company, each as amended from time to time (collectively, the “Governing Documents”), except that where the Governing Documents conflict with this Agreement, this Agreement shall control.

ii. You acknowledge and understand that the Company is the general partner of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (“HCMLP”) and that HCMLP is currently the debtor in possession in a chapter 11 bankruptcy proceeding (the “Bankruptcy”) pending in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the “Bankruptcy Court”). Your rights, duties, and obligations may in certain instances require your involvement, either directly or indirectly, in the Bankruptcy and such rights, duties, and obligations may be impacted in whole or in part by the Bankruptcy.

b. Mandatory Board Meeting Attendance. As a Director, you agree to apply all reasonable efforts to attend each regular meeting of the Board. You also agree to devote sufficient time to matters that may arise at the Company from time to time that require your attention as a Director.

c. Independent Contractor. Under this Agreement, your relationship with the Company will be that of an independent contractor as you will not be an employee of the Company nor eligible to participate in regular employee benefit and compensation plans of the Company.

d. Information Provided by the Company. The Company shall: (i) provide you with reasonable access to management and other representatives of the Company and HCMLP; and (ii) furnish all data, material, and other information concerning the business, assets, liabilities, operations, cash flows, properties, financial condition and prospects of the Company and HCMLP that you request in connection with the services to be provided to the Company. You will rely, without further independent verification, on the accuracy and completeness of all publicly available information and information that is furnished by or on behalf of the Company and otherwise reviewed by you in connection with the services performed for the Company. The Company acknowledges and agrees that you are not responsible for the accuracy or completeness of such information and shall not be responsible for any inaccuracies or omissions therein, provided that if you become aware of material inaccuracies or errors in any such information you shall promptly notify the Board of such errors, inaccuracies or concerns.

2. COMPENSATION AND BENEFITS.

a. Retainer. The Company will pay you a retainer for each month you serve on the Board (the “Retainer”) to be paid in monthly installments of (a) $60,000 for each of the first three months, (b) $50,000 for each of the next three months, and (c) $30,000 for each of the following six months. The parties will re-visit the Retainer after the sixth month. The Company’s obligation to pay the Retainer will cease upon the termination of the Term.

b. Expense Reimbursement. The Company will reimburse you for all reasonable travel or other expenses, including expenses of counsel, incurred by you in connection with your services hereunder, in accordance with the Company’s expense reimbursement policy as in effect from time to time.

c. Invoices; Payment.

i. In order to receive the compensation and reimbursement set forth in this Section 2, you are required to send to the Company regular monthly invoices indicating your fees, costs, and expenses incurred. Payment of the Retainer will be due on the first business day of each month regardless of whether an invoice has been provided. Reimbursement of expenses will also occur on the first business day of each month, subject to the Company’s receipt of appropriate documentation required by the Company’s expenses reimbursement policy.

ii. You further agree that the Company’s obligation to pay the compensation and reimbursement set forth in this Section 2 is conditioned in all respects on the entry of a final order in the court overseeing the Bankruptcy that authorizes and requires HCMLP to reimburse the Company for all such payments to you.

d. Indemnification; D&O Insurance. You will receive indemnification as a Director of the Company on the terms set forth in that certain Indemnification Agreement, dated [REDACTED], a copy of which is attached hereto as Appendix A (the “Indemnification Agreement”). You will also be provided coverage under the Company’s directors’ and officers’ insurance policy as set forth in the Indemnification Agreement.

e. Tax Indemnification. You acknowledge that the Company will not be responsible for the payment of any federal or state taxes that might be assessed with respect to the Retainer and you agree to be responsible for all such taxes.

3. PROPRIETARY INFORMATION OBLIGATIONS.

a. Proprietary Information. You agree that during the Term and thereafter that you will take all steps reasonably necessary to hold all information of the Company, its affiliates, and related entities, which a reasonable person would believe to be confidential or proprietary information, in trust and confidence, and not disclose any such confidential or proprietary information to any third party without first obtaining the Company’s express written consent on a case-by-case basis.

b. Third Party Information. The Company has received and will in the future receive from third parties confidential or proprietary information (“Third Party Information”) subject to a duty on the Company’s part to maintain the confidentiality of such information and to use it only for certain limited purposes. You agree to hold such Third Party Information in confidence and not to disclose it to anyone (other than Company personnel who need to know such information in connection with their work for Company) or to use, except in connection with your services for Company under this Agreement, Third Party Information unless expressly authorized in writing by the Company.

c. Return of Company Property. Upon the end of the Term or upon the Company’s earlier request, you agree to deliver to the Company any and all notes, materials and documents, together with any copies thereof, which contain or disclose any confidential or proprietary information or Third Party Information.

a. Investments and Interests. Except as permitted by Section 4(b), you agree not to participate in, directly or indirectly, any position or investment known by you to be materially adverse to the Company or any of its affiliates or related entities.

b. Activities. Except with the prior written consent of the Board, you will not during your tenure as a member of the Company’s Board undertake or engage in any other directorship, employment or business enterprise in direct competition with the Company or any of its affiliates or related entities, other than ones in which you are a passive investor or other activities in which you were a participant prior to your appointment to the Board as disclosed to the Company.

c. Other Agreements. You agree that you will not disclose to the Company or use on behalf of the Company any confidential information governed by any agreement between you and any third party except in accordance with such agreement.

5. TERMINATION OF DIRECTORSHIP.

a. Voluntary Resignation, Removal Pursuant to Bylaws. You may resign from the Board at any time with or without advance notice, with or without reason. Subject to any orders or agreements entered into in connection with the Bankruptcy, you may be removed from the Board at any time, for any reason, in any manner provided by the Governing Documents and applicable law.

b. Continuation. The provisions of this Agreement that give the parties rights or obligations beyond the termination of this Agreement will survive and continue to bind the parties.

c. Payment of Fees; Reimbursement. Following termination of this Agreement, any undisputed fees and expenses due to you will be remitted promptly following receipt by the Company of any outstanding invoices.

6. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

a. Severability. Whenever possible, each provision of this Agreement will be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under applicable law. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable such provision will be reformed, construed and enforced to render it valid, legal, and enforceable consistent with the intent of the parties insofar as possible.

b. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between you and the Company with respect to your service as a Director and supersedes any prior agreement, promise, representation or statement written between you and the Company with regard to this subject matter. It is entered into without reliance on any promise, representation, statement or agreement other than those expressly contained or incorporated herein, and it cannot be modified or amended except in a writing signed by the party or parties affected by such modification or amendment.

c. Successors and Assigns. This Agreement is intended to bind and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by you and the Company and our respective successors, assigns, heirs, executors and administrators, except that you may not assign any of your rights or duties hereunder.

d. Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by the law of the State of Delaware as applied to contracts made and performed entirely within Delaware.

We are all delighted to be able to extend you this offer and look forward to working with you. To indicate your acceptance of the Company's offer, please sign and date this Agreement below.

Sincerely,

STRAND ADVISORS, INC.

Date: _____

INDEMNIFICATION AND GUARANTY AGREEMENT

This Indemnification and Guaranty Agreement (“Agreement”), dated as of [_____] , is by and between STRAND ADVISORS, INC., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, LP, a Delaware partnership (the “Debtor”) (solely as to Section 29 hereunder), and [_____] (the “Indemnitee”).

WHEREAS, the Company is the general partner of the Debtor and, in such capacity, manages the business affairs of the Debtor;

WHEREAS, Indemnitee has agreed to serve as a member of the Company’s board of directors (the “Board”) effective as of the date hereof;

WHEREAS, the Board has determined that enhancing the ability of the Company, on its own behalf and for the benefit of the Debtor, to retain and attract as directors the most capable Persons is in the best interests of the Company and the Debtor and that the Company and the Debtor therefore should seek to assure such Persons that indemnification and insurance coverage is available; and

WHEREAS, in recognition of the need to provide Indemnitee with protection against personal liability, in order to procure Indemnitee’s service as a director of the Company, in order to enhance Indemnitee’s ability to serve the Company in an effective manner and in order to provide such protection pursuant to express contract rights (intended to be enforceable irrespective of, among other things, any amendment to the Company’s Bylaws (as may be amended further from time to time, the “Bylaws”), any change in the composition of the Board or any change in control, business combination or similar transaction relating to the Company), the Company wishes to provide in this Agreement for the indemnification of, and the advancement of Expenses (as defined in Section 1(g) below) to, Indemnitee as set forth in this Agreement and for the coverage of Indemnitee under the Company’s directors’ and officers’ liability or similar insurance policies (“D&O Insurance”).

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the Indemnitee’s agreement to provide services to the Company, the parties (including the Debtor solely as to Section 29 hereunder) agree as follows:

1. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) “Change in Control” means the occurrence of any of the following: (i) the direct or indirect sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition, in one or a series of related transactions (including any merger or consolidation or whether by operation of law or otherwise), of all or substantially all of the properties or assets of the Company and its subsidiaries, to a third party purchaser (or group of affiliated third party purchasers) or (ii) the consummation of any transaction (including any merger or consolidation or whether by operation of law or otherwise), the result of which is that a third party purchaser (or group of affiliated third party purchasers) becomes the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than fifty percent (50%) of the then outstanding Shares or of the surviving entity of any such merger or consolidation.

(b) “Claim” means:

(i) any threatened, pending or completed action, suit, claim, demand, arbitration, inquiry, hearing, proceeding or alternative dispute resolution mechanism, or any actual, threatened or completed proceeding, including any and all appeals, in each case, whether brought by or in the right of the Company or otherwise, whether civil, criminal, administrative, arbitrative, investigative or other, whether formal or informal, and whether made pursuant to federal, state, local, foreign or other law, and whether or not commenced prior to the date of this Agreement, in which Indemnitee was, is or will be involved as a party or otherwise, by reason of or relating to either (a) any action or alleged action taken by Indemnitee (or failure or alleged failure to act) or of any action or alleged action (or failure or alleged failure to act) on Indemnitee’s part, while acting in his or her Corporate Status or (b) the fact that Indemnitee is or was serving at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company as director, officer, employee, partner, member, manager, trustee, fiduciary or agent of another Enterprise, in each case, whether or not serving in such capacity at the time any Loss or Expense is paid or incurred for which indemnification or advancement of Expenses can be provided under this Agreement, except one initiated by Indemnitee to enforce his or her rights under this Agreement; or

(ii) any inquiry, hearing or investigation that the Indemnitee determines might lead to the institution of any such action, suit, proceeding or alternative dispute resolution mechanism.

(c) “Controlled Entity” means any corporation, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust or other Enterprise, whether or not for profit, that is, directly or indirectly, controlled by the Company. For purposes of this definition, the term “control” means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct, or cause the direction of, the management or policies of an Enterprise, whether through the ownership of voting securities, through other voting rights, by contract or otherwise.

(d) “Corporate Status” means the status of a Person who is or was a director, officer, employee, partner, member, manager, trustee, fiduciary or agent of the Company or of any other Enterprise which such Person is or was serving at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company. In addition to any service at the actual request of the Company, Indemnitee will be deemed, for purposes of this Agreement, to be serving or to have served at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company as a director, officer, employee, partner, member, manager, trustee, fiduciary or agent of another Enterprise if Indemnitee is or was serving as a director, officer, employee, partner, member, manager, fiduciary, trustee or agent of such Enterprise and (i) such Enterprise is or at the time of such service was a Controlled Entity, (ii) such Enterprise is or at the time of such service was an employee benefit plan (or related trust) sponsored or maintained by the Company or a Controlled Entity or (iii) the Company or a Controlled Entity, directly or indirectly, caused Indemnitee to be nominated, elected, appointed, designated, employed, engaged or selected to serve in such capacity.

(e) “Disinterested Director” means a director of the Company who is not and was not a party to the Claim in respect of which indemnification is sought by Indemnitee. Under no circumstances will James Dondero be considered a Disinterested Director.

(f) “Enterprise” means the Company or any subsidiary of the Company or any other corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, employee benefit plan, trust or other entity or other enterprise of which Indemnitee is or was serving at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company in a Corporate Status.

(g) “Expenses” means any and all expenses, fees, including attorneys’, witnesses’ and experts’ fees, disbursements and retainers, court costs, transcript costs, travel expenses, duplicating, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, fax transmission charges, secretarial services, delivery services fees, and all other fees, costs, disbursements and expenses paid or incurred in connection with investigating, defending, prosecuting, being a witness in or participating in (including on appeal), or preparing to defend, prosecute, be a witness or participate in, any Claim. Expenses also shall include (i) Expenses paid or incurred in connection with any appeal resulting from any Claim, including, without limitation, the premium, security for, and other costs relating to any cost bond, supersedeas bond, or other appeal bond or its equivalent, and (ii) for purposes of Section 4 only, Expenses incurred by Indemnitee in connection with the interpretation, enforcement or defense of Indemnitee’s rights under this Agreement, by litigation or otherwise. Expenses, however, shall not include amounts paid in settlement by Indemnitee or the amount of judgments or fines against Indemnitee.

(h) “Exchange Act” means the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or any successor statute thereto, and the rules and regulations of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission promulgated thereunder.

(i) “Expense Advance” means any payment of Expenses advanced to Indemnitee by the Company pursuant to Section 4 or Section 5 hereof.

(j) “Indemnifiable Event” means any event or occurrence, whether occurring before, on or after the date of this Agreement, related to the fact that Indemnitee is or was a manager, director, officer, employee or agent of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company, or is or was serving at the request of the Company or any subsidiary of the Company as a manager, director, officer, employee, member, manager, trustee or agent of any other Enterprise or by reason of an action or inaction by Indemnitee in any such capacity (whether or not serving in such capacity at the time any Loss is incurred for which indemnification can be provided under this Agreement).

(k) “Independent Counsel” means a law firm, or a member of a law firm, that is experienced in matters of corporation law and neither presently performs, nor in the past three (3) years has performed, services for any of: (i) James Dondero, (ii) the Company or Indemnitee (other than in connection with matters concerning Indemnitee under this Agreement or of other indemnitees under similar agreements), or (iii) any other party to the Claim giving rise to a claim for indemnification hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the term “Independent Counsel” shall not include any Person who, under the applicable standards of professional conduct then prevailing, would have a conflict of interest in representing either the Company or Indemnitee in an action to determine Indemnitee’s rights under this Agreement.

(l) “Losses” means any and all Expenses, damages, losses, liabilities, judgments, fines (including excise taxes and penalties assessed with respect to employee benefit plans and ERISA excise taxes), penalties (whether civil, criminal or other), amounts paid or payable in settlement, including any interest, assessments, any federal, state, local or foreign taxes imposed as a result of the actual or deemed receipt of any payments under this Agreement and all other charges paid or payable in connection with investigating, defending, being a witness in or participating in (including on appeal), or preparing to defend, be a witness or participate in, any Claim.

(m) “Person” means any individual, corporation, firm, partnership, joint venture, limited liability company, estate, trust, business association, organization, governmental entity or other entity and includes the meaning set forth in Sections 13(d) and 14(d) of the Exchange Act.

(n) “Shares” means an ownership interest of a member in the Company, including each of the common shares of the Company or any other class or series of Shares designated by the Board.

(o) References to “serving at the request of the Company” include any service as a director, manager, officer, employee, representative or agent of the Company which imposes duties on, or involves services by, such director, manager, officer, employee or agent, including but not limited to any employee benefit plan, its participants or beneficiaries; and a Person who acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in and not opposed to the best interests of the Company in Indemnitee’s capacity as a director, manager, officer, employee, representative or agent of the Company, including but not limited to acting in the best interest of participants and beneficiaries of an employee benefit plan will be deemed to have acted in a manner “not opposed to the best interests of the Company” as referred to under applicable law or in this Agreement.

2. Indemnification.

(a) Subject to Section 9 and Section 10 of this Agreement, the Company shall indemnify and hold Indemnitee harmless, to the fullest extent permitted by the laws of the State of Delaware in effect on the date hereof, or as such laws may from time to time hereafter be amended to increase the scope of such permitted indemnification, against any and all Losses and Expenses if Indemnitee was or is or becomes a party to or participant in, or is threatened to be made a party to or participant in, any Claim by reason of or arising in part out of an Indemnifiable Event, including, without limitation, Claims brought by or in the right of the Company, Claims brought by third parties, and Claims in which the Indemnitee is solely a witness.

(b) For the avoidance of doubt, the indemnification rights and obligations contained herein shall also extend to any Claim in which the Indemnitee was or is a party to, was or is threatened to be made a party to or was or is otherwise involved in any capacity in by reason of Indemnitee's Corporate Status as a fiduciary capacity with respect to an employee benefit plan. In connection therewith, if the Indemnitee has acted in good faith and in a manner which appeared to be consistent with the best interests of the participants and beneficiaries of an employee benefit plan and not opposed thereto, the Indemnitee shall be deemed to have acted in a manner not opposed to the best interests of the Company.

3. Contribution.

(a) Whether or not the indemnification provided in Section 2 is available, if, for any reason, Indemnitee shall elect or be required to pay all or any portion of any judgment or settlement in any Claim in which the Company is jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such Claim), the Company shall contribute to the amount of Losses paid or payable by Indemnitee in proportion to the relative benefits received by the Company and all officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such Claim), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, from the transaction or events from which such Claim arose; provided, however, that the proportion determined on the basis of relative benefit may, to the extent necessary to conform to law, be further adjusted by reference to the relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company other than Indemnitee who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such Claim), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, in connection with the transaction or events that resulted in such Losses, as well as any other equitable considerations which applicable law may require to be considered. The relative fault of the Company and all officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who are jointly liable with Indemnitee (or would be if joined in such Claim), on the one hand, and Indemnitee, on the other hand, shall be determined by reference to, among other things, the degree to which their actions were motivated by intent to gain personal profit or advantage, the degree to which their liability is primary or secondary and the degree to which their conduct is active or passive.

(b) The Company hereby agrees to fully indemnify and hold Indemnitee harmless from any claims of contribution which may be brought by officers, directors, managers or employees of the Company, other than Indemnitee, who may be jointly liable with Indemnitee.

(c) To the fullest extent permissible under applicable law, if the indemnification provided for in this Agreement is unavailable to Indemnitee for any reason whatsoever, the Company, in lieu of indemnifying Indemnitee, shall contribute to the amount incurred by Indemnitee, whether for judgments, fines, penalties, excise taxes, amounts paid or to be paid in settlement and/or for Expenses, in connection with any Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event under this Agreement, in such proportion as is deemed fair and reasonable in light of all of the circumstances of such Claim in order to reflect (i) the relative benefits received by the Company and Indemnatee as a result of the event(s) and/or transaction(s) giving cause to such Claim; and/or (ii) the relative fault of the Company (and its directors, managers, officers, employees and agents) and Indemnatee in connection with such event(s) and/or transaction(s).

4. Advancement of Expenses. The Company shall, if requested by Indemnatee, advance, to the fullest extent permitted by law, to Indemnatee (an “Expense Advance”) any and all Expenses actually and reasonably paid or incurred (even if unpaid) by Indemnatee in connection with any Claim arising out of an Indemnifiable Event (whether prior to or after its final disposition). Indemnatee’s right to such advancement is not subject to the satisfaction of any standard of conduct. Without limiting the generality or effect of the foregoing, within thirty (30) business days after any request by Indemnatee, the Company shall, in accordance with such request, (a) pay such Expenses on behalf of Indemnatee, (b) advance to Indemnatee funds in an amount sufficient to pay such Expenses, or (c) reimburse Indemnatee for such Expenses. In connection with any request for Expense Advances, Indemnatee shall not be required to provide any documentation or information to the extent that the provision thereof would undermine or otherwise jeopardize attorney-client privilege. Execution and delivery to the Company of this Agreement by Indemnatee constitutes an undertaking by the Indemnatee to repay any amounts paid, advanced or reimbursed by the Company pursuant to this Section 4, the final sentence of Section 9(b), or Section 11(b) in respect of Expenses relating to, arising out of or resulting from any Claim in respect of which it shall be determined, pursuant to Section 9, following the final disposition of such Claim, that Indemnatee is not entitled to indemnification hereunder. No other form of undertaking shall be required other than the execution of this Agreement. Each Expense Advance will be unsecured and interest free and will be made by the Company without regard to Indemnatee’s ability to repay the Expense Advance.

5. Indemnification for Expenses in Enforcing Rights. To the fullest extent allowable under applicable law, the Company shall also indemnify against, and, if requested by Indemnatee, shall advance to Indemnatee subject to and in accordance with Section 4, any Expenses actually and reasonably paid or incurred (even if unpaid) by Indemnatee in connection with any action or proceeding by Indemnatee for (a) indemnification or reimbursement or advance payment of Expenses by the Company under any provision of this Agreement, or under any other agreement or provision of the Bylaws now or hereafter in effect relating to Claims relating to Indemnifiable Events, and/or (b) recovery under any D&O Insurance maintained by the Company, regardless of whether Indemnatee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification or insurance recovery, as the case may be. Indemnatee shall be required to reimburse the Company in the event that a final judicial determination is made that such action brought by Indemnatee was frivolous or not made in good faith.

6. Partial Indemnity. If Indemnatee is entitled under any provision of this Agreement to indemnification by the Company for a portion of any Losses in respect of a Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event but not for the total amount thereof, the Company shall nevertheless indemnify Indemnitee for the portion thereof to which Indemnitee is entitled.

7. Notification and Defense of Claims.

(a) Notification of Claims. Indemnitee shall notify the Company in writing as soon as reasonably practicable of any Claim which could relate to an Indemnifiable Event or for which Indemnitee could seek Expense Advances, including a brief description (based upon information then available to Indemnitee) of the nature of, and the facts underlying, such Claim, to the extent then known. The failure by Indemnitee to timely notify the Company hereunder shall not relieve the Company from any liability hereunder except to the extent the Company's ability to participate in the defense of such claim was materially and adversely affected by such failure. If at the time of the receipt of such notice, the Company has D&O Insurance or any other insurance in effect under which coverage for Claims related to Indemnifiable Events is potentially available, the Company shall give prompt written notice to the applicable insurers in accordance with the procedures, provisions, and terms set forth in the applicable policies. The Company shall provide to Indemnitee a copy of such notice delivered to the applicable insurers, and copies of all subsequent correspondence between the Company and such insurers regarding the Claim, in each case substantially concurrently with the delivery or receipt thereof by the Company.

(b) Defense of Claims. The Company shall be entitled to participate in the defense of any Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event at its own expense and, except as otherwise provided below, to the extent the Company so wishes, it may assume the defense thereof with counsel reasonably satisfactory to Indemnitee. After notice from the Company to Indemnitee of its election to assume the defense of any such Claim, the Company shall not be liable to Indemnitee under this Agreement or otherwise for any Expenses subsequently directly incurred by Indemnitee in connection with Indemnitee's defense of such Claim other than reasonable costs of investigation or as otherwise provided below. Indemnitee shall have the right to employ its own legal counsel in such Claim, but all Expenses related to such counsel incurred after notice from the Company of its assumption of the defense shall be at Indemnitee's own expense; provided, however, that if (i) Indemnitee's employment of its own legal counsel has been authorized by the Company, (ii) Indemnitee has reasonably determined that there may be a conflict of interest between Indemnitee and the Company in the defense of such Claim, (iii) after a Change in Control, Indemnitee's employment of its own counsel has been approved by the Independent Counsel or (iv) the Company shall not in fact have employed counsel to assume the defense of such Claim, then Indemnitee shall be entitled to retain its own separate counsel (but not more than one law firm plus, if applicable, local counsel in respect of any such Claim) and all Expenses related to such separate counsel shall be borne by the Company.

8. Procedure upon Application for Indemnification. In order to obtain indemnification pursuant to this Agreement, Indemnitee shall submit to the Company a written request therefor, including in such request such documentation and information as is reasonably available to Indemnitee and is reasonably necessary to determine whether and to what extent Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification following the final disposition of the Claim, provided that documentation and information need not be so provided to the extent that the provision thereof would undermine or otherwise jeopardize attorney-client privilege. Indemnification shall be made insofar as the Company determines Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification in accordance with Section 9 below.

9. Determination of Right to Indemnification.

(a) Mandatory Indemnification; Indemnification as a Witness.

(i) To the extent that Indemnitee shall have been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event or any portion thereof or in defense of any issue or matter therein, including without limitation dismissal without prejudice, Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Losses relating to such Claim in accordance with Section 2, and no Standard of Conduct Determination (as defined in Section 9(b)) shall be required.

(ii) To the extent that Indemnitee's involvement in a Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event is to prepare to serve and serve as a witness, and not as a party, the Indemnitee shall be indemnified against all Losses incurred in connection therewith to the fullest extent allowable by law and no Standard of Conduct Determination (as defined in Section 9(b)) shall be required.

(b) Standard of Conduct. To the extent that the provisions of Section 9(a) are inapplicable to a Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event that shall have been finally disposed of, any determination of whether Indemnitee has satisfied any applicable standard of conduct under Delaware law that is a legally required condition to indemnification of Indemnitee hereunder against Losses relating to such Claim and any determination that Expense Advances must be repaid to the Company (a "Standard of Conduct Determination") shall be made as follows:

(i) if no Change in Control has occurred, (A) by a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors, even if less than a quorum of the Board, (B) by a committee of Disinterested Directors designated by a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors, even though less than a quorum or (C) if there are no such Disinterested Directors, by Independent Counsel in a written opinion addressed to the Board, a copy of which shall be delivered to Indemnitee; and

(ii) if a Change in Control shall have occurred, (A) if the Indemnitee so requests in writing, by a majority vote of the Disinterested Directors, even if less than a quorum of the Board or (B) otherwise, by Independent Counsel in a written opinion addressed to the Board, a copy of which shall be delivered to Indemnitee.

Subject to Section 4, the Company shall indemnify and hold Indemnitee harmless against and, if requested by Indemnitee, shall reimburse Indemnitee for, or advance to Indemnitee, within thirty (30) business days of such request, any and all Expenses incurred by Indemnitee in cooperating with the Person or Persons making such Standard of Conduct Determination.

(c) Making the Standard of Conduct Determination. The Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause any Standard of Conduct Determination required under Section 9(b) to be made as promptly as practicable. If the Person or Persons designated to make the Standard of Conduct Determination under Section 9(b) shall not have made a determination within ninety (90) days after the later of (A) receipt by the Company of a written request from Indemnitee for indemnification pursuant to Section 8 (the date of such receipt being the “Notification Date”) and (B) the selection of an Independent Counsel, if such determination is to be made by Independent Counsel, then Indemnitee shall be deemed to have satisfied the applicable standard of conduct; provided that such 90-day period may be extended for a reasonable time, not to exceed an additional thirty (30) days, if the Person or Persons making such determination in good faith requires such additional time to obtain or evaluate information relating thereto. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, no determination as to entitlement of Indemnitee to indemnification under this Agreement shall be required to be made prior to the final disposition of any Claim.

(d) Payment of Indemnification. If, in regard to any Losses:

(i) Indemnitee shall be entitled to indemnification pursuant to Section 9(a);

(ii) no Standard of Conduct Determination is legally required as a condition to indemnification of Indemnitee hereunder; or

(iii) Indemnitee has been determined or deemed pursuant to Section 9(b) or Section 9(c) to have satisfied the Standard of Conduct Determination, then the Company shall pay to Indemnitee, within thirty (30) business days after the later of (A) the Notification Date or (B) the earliest date on which the applicable criterion specified in clause (i), (ii) or (iii) is satisfied, an amount equal to such Losses.

(e) Selection of Independent Counsel for Standard of Conduct Determination. If a Standard of Conduct Determination is to be made by Independent Counsel pursuant to Section 9(b)(i), the Independent Counsel shall be selected by the Board and the Company shall give written notice to Indemnitee advising him of the identity of the Independent Counsel so selected. If a Standard of Conduct Determination is to be made by Independent Counsel pursuant to Section 9(b)(ii), the Independent Counsel shall be selected by Indemnitee, and Indemnitee shall give written notice to the Company advising it of the identity of the Independent Counsel so selected. In either case, Indemnitee or the Company, as applicable, may, within thirty (3) business days after receiving written notice of selection from the other, deliver to the other a written objection to such selection; provided, however, that such objection may be asserted only on the ground that the Independent Counsel so selected does not satisfy the criteria set forth in the definition of “Independent Counsel” in Section 1(k), and the objection shall set forth with particularity the factual basis of such assertion. Absent a proper and timely objection, the Person or firm so selected shall act as Independent Counsel. If such written objection is properly and timely made and substantiated, (i) the Independent Counsel so selected may not serve as Independent Counsel unless and until such objection is withdrawn or a court has determined that such objection is without merit; and (ii) the non-objecting party may, at its option, select an alternative Independent Counsel and give written notice to the other party advising such other party of the identity of the alternative Independent Counsel so selected, in which case the provisions of the two immediately preceding sentences, the introductory clause of this sentence and numbered clause (i) of this sentence shall apply to such subsequent selection and notice. If applicable, the provisions of clause (ii) of the immediately preceding sentence shall apply to successive alternative selections. If no Independent Counsel that is permitted under the foregoing provisions of this Section 9(e) to make the Standard of Conduct Determination shall have been selected within twenty (20) days after the Company gives its initial notice pursuant to the first sentence of this Section 9(e) or Indemnatee gives its initial notice pursuant to the second sentence of this Section 9(e), as the case may be, either the Company or Indemnatee may petition the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (“Delaware Court”) to resolve any objection which shall have been made by the Company or Indemnatee to the other’s selection of Independent Counsel and/or to appoint as Independent Counsel a Person to be selected by the Court or such other Person as the Court shall designate, and the Person or firm with respect to whom all objections are so resolved or the Person or firm so appointed will act as Independent Counsel. In all events, the Company shall pay all of the reasonable fees and expenses of the Independent Counsel incurred in connection with the Independent Counsel’s determination pursuant to Section 9(b).

(f) Presumptions and Defenses.

(i) Indemnatee’s Entitlement to Indemnification. In making any Standard of Conduct Determination, the Person or Persons making such determination shall presume that Indemnatee has satisfied the applicable standard of conduct and is entitled to indemnification, and the Company shall have the burden of proof to overcome that presumption and establish that Indemnatee is not so entitled. Any Standard of Conduct Determination that is adverse to Indemnatee may be challenged by the Indemnatee in the Delaware Court. No determination by the Company (including by its Board or any Independent Counsel) that Indemnatee has not satisfied any applicable standard of conduct may be used as a defense to enforcement by Indemnatee of Indemnatee’s rights of indemnification or reimbursement or advance of payment of Expenses by the Company hereunder or create a presumption that Indemnatee has not met any applicable standard of conduct.

(ii) Reliance as a Safe Harbor. For purposes of this Agreement, and without creating any presumption as to a lack of good faith if the following circumstances do not exist, Indemnatee shall be deemed to have acted in good faith and in a manner he or she reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company if Indemnatee’s actions or omissions to act are taken in good faith reliance upon the records of the Company, including its financial statements, or upon information, opinions, reports or statements furnished to Indemnitee by the officers or employees of the Company or any of its subsidiaries in the course of their duties, or by committees of the Board or by any other Person (including legal counsel, accountants and financial advisors) as to matters Indemnitee reasonably believes are within such other Person's professional or expert competence and who has been selected with reasonable care by or on behalf of the Company. In addition, the knowledge and/or actions, or failures to act, of any director, manager, officer, agent or employee of the Company (other than Indemnitee) shall not be imputed to Indemnitee for purposes of determining the right to indemnity hereunder.

(iii) Defense to Indemnification and Burden of Proof. It shall be a defense to any action brought by Indemnitee against the Company to enforce this Agreement (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for Losses incurred in defending against a Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event in advance of its final disposition) that it is not permissible under applicable law for the Company to indemnify Indemnitee for the amount claimed. In connection with any such action or any related Standard of Conduct Determination, the burden of proving such a defense or that the Indemnitee did not satisfy the applicable standard of conduct shall be on the Company.

10. Exclusions from Indemnification. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the Company shall not be obligated to:

(a) indemnify or advance funds to Indemnitee for Losses with respect to proceedings initiated by Indemnitee, including any proceedings against the Company or its managers, officers, employees or other indemnitees and not by way of defense, except:

(i) proceedings referenced in Section 4 above (unless a court of competent jurisdiction determines that each of the material assertions made by Indemnitee in such proceeding was not made in good faith or was frivolous); or

(ii) where the Company has joined in or the Board has consented to the initiation of such proceedings.

(b) indemnify Indemnitee if a final decision by a court of competent jurisdiction determines that such indemnification is prohibited by applicable law.

(c) indemnify Indemnitee for the disgorgement of profits arising from the purchase or sale by Indemnitee of securities of the Company in violation of Section 16(b) of the Exchange Act, or any similar successor statute.

11. Remedies of Indemnitee.

(a) In the event that (i) a determination is made pursuant to Section 9 that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification under this Agreement, (ii) an Expense Advance is not timely made pursuant to Section 4, (iii) no determination of entitlement to indemnification is made pursuant to Section 9 within 90 days after receipt by the Company of the request for indemnification, or (iv) payment of indemnification is not made pursuant Section 9(d), Indemnitee shall be entitled to an adjudication in a Delaware Court, or in any other court of competent jurisdiction, of Indemnitee's entitlement to such indemnification. Indemnitee shall commence such proceeding seeking an adjudication within 180 days following the date on which Indemnitee first has the right to commence such proceeding pursuant to this Section 11(a). The Company shall not oppose Indemnitee's right to seek any such adjudication.

(b) In the event that Indemnitee, pursuant to this Section 11, seeks a judicial adjudication or arbitration of his or her rights under, or to recover damages for breach of, this Agreement, any other agreement for indemnification, payment of Expenses in advance or contribution hereunder or to recover under any director, manager, and officer liability insurance policies or any other insurance policies maintained by the Company, the Company will, to the fullest extent permitted by law and subject to Section 4, indemnify and hold harmless Indemnitee against any and all Expenses which are paid or incurred by Indemnitee in connection with such judicial adjudication or arbitration, regardless of whether Indemnitee ultimately is determined to be entitled to such indemnification, payment of Expenses in advance or contribution or insurance recovery. In addition, if requested by Indemnitee, subject to Section 4 the Company will (within thirty (30) days after receipt by the Company of the written request therefor), pay as an Expense Advance such Expenses, to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(c) In the event that a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 9 that Indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification, any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 11 shall be conducted in all respects as a de novo trial on the merits, and Indemnitee shall not be prejudiced by reason of the adverse determination under Section 9.

(d) If a determination shall have been made pursuant to Section 9 that Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification, the Company shall be bound by such determination in any judicial proceeding commenced pursuant to this Section 11, absent (i) a misstatement by Indemnitee of a material fact, or an omission of a material fact necessary to make Indemnitee's misstatement not materially misleading in connection with the application for indemnification, or (ii) a prohibition of such indemnification under applicable law.

12. Settlement of Claims. The Company shall not be liable to Indemnitee under this Agreement for any amounts paid in settlement of any threatened or pending Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event effected without the Company's prior written consent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld; provided, however, that if a Change in Control has occurred, the Company shall be liable for indemnification of the Indemnitee for amounts paid in settlement if an Independent Counsel (which, for purposes of this Section 12, shall be selected by the Company with the prior consent of the Indemnitee, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) has approved the settlement. The Company shall not settle any Claim related to an Indemnifiable Event in any manner that would impose any Losses on the Indemnitee without the Indemnitee's prior written consent.

13. Duration. All agreements and obligations of the Company contained herein shall continue during the period that Indemnitee is a manager of the Company (or is serving at the request of the Company as a director, manager, officer, employee, member, trustee or agent of another Enterprise) and shall continue thereafter (i) so long as Indemnatee may be subject to any possible Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event (including any rights of appeal thereto) and (ii) throughout the pendency of any proceeding (including any rights of appeal thereto) commenced by Indemnatee to enforce or interpret his or her rights under this Agreement, even if, in either case, he or she may have ceased to serve in such capacity at the time of any such Claim or proceeding.

14. Other Indemnitors. The Company hereby acknowledges that Indemnatee may have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of Expenses and/or insurance provided by certain private equity funds, hedge funds or other investment vehicles or management companies and/or certain of their affiliates and by personal policies (collectively, the “Other Indemnitors”). The Company hereby agrees (i) that it is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., its obligations to Indemnatee are primary and any obligation of the Other Indemnitors to advance Expenses or to provide indemnification for the same Expenses or liabilities incurred by Indemnatee are secondary), (ii) that it shall be required to advance the full amount of Expenses incurred by Indemnatee and shall be liable for the full amount of all Expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the extent legally permitted and as required by the terms of this Agreement and the Bylaws (or any other agreement between the Company and Indemnatee), without regard to any rights Indemnatee may have against the Other Indemnitors, and, (iii) that it irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases the Other Indemnitors from any and all claims against the Other Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. The Company further agrees that no advancement or payment by the Other Indemnitors on behalf of Indemnatee with respect to any claim for which Indemnatee has sought indemnification from the Company shall affect the foregoing and the Other Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnatee against the Company. The Company and Indemnatee agree that the Other Indemnitors are express third party beneficiaries of the terms of this Section 14.

15. Non-Exclusivity. The rights of Indemnatee hereunder will be in addition to any other rights Indemnatee may have under the Bylaws, the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (as may be amended from time to time, the “DGCL”), any other contract, in law or in equity, and under the laws of any state, territory, or jurisdiction, or otherwise (collectively, “Other Indemnity Provisions”). The Company will not adopt any amendment to its Bylaws the effect of which would be to deny, diminish, encumber or limit Indemnatee’s right to indemnification under this Agreement or any Other Indemnity Provision.

16. Liability Insurance. For the duration of Indemnatee’s service as a director of the Company, and thereafter for so long as Indemnatee shall be subject to any pending Claim relating to an Indemnifiable Event, the Company shall use best efforts to continue to maintain in effect policies of D&O Insurance providing coverage that is at least substantially comparable in scope and amount to that provided by similarly situated companies. In all policies of D&O Insurance maintained by the Company, Indemnatee shall be named as an insured in such a manner as to provide Indemnatee the same rights and benefits as are provided to the most favorably insured of the Company's directors. Upon request, the Company will provide to Indemnitee copies of all D&O Insurance applications, binders, policies, declarations, endorsements and other related materials.

17. No Duplication of Payments. The Company shall not be liable under this Agreement to make any payment to Indemnitee in respect of any Losses to the extent Indemnitee has otherwise received payment under any insurance policy, any Other Indemnity Provisions or otherwise of the amounts otherwise indemnifiable by the Company hereunder.

18. Subrogation. In the event of payment to Indemnitee under this Agreement, the Company shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all of the rights of recovery of Indemnitee. Indemnitee shall execute all papers required and shall do everything that may be necessary to secure such rights, including the execution of such documents necessary to enable the Company effectively to bring suit to enforce such rights.

19. Indemnitee Consent. The Company will not, without the prior written consent of Indemnitee, consent to the entry of any judgment against Indemnitee or enter into any settlement or compromise which (a) includes an admission of fault of Indemnitee, any non-monetary remedy imposed on Indemnitee or a Loss for which Indemnitee is not wholly indemnified hereunder or (b) with respect to any Claim with respect to which Indemnitee may be or is made a party or a participant or may be or is otherwise entitled to seek indemnification hereunder, does not include, as an unconditional term thereof, the full release of Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Claim, which release will be in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to Indemnitee. Neither the Company nor Indemnitee will unreasonably withhold its consent to any proposed settlement; provided, however, Indemnitee may withhold consent to any settlement that does not provide a full and unconditional release of Indemnitee from all liability in respect of such Claim.

20. Amendments. No supplement, modification or amendment of this Agreement shall be binding unless executed in writing by both of the parties hereto. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be binding unless in the form of a writing signed by the party against whom enforcement of the waiver is sought, and no such waiver shall operate as a waiver of any other provisions hereof (whether or not similar), nor shall such waiver constitute a continuing waiver. Except as specifically provided herein, no failure to exercise or any delay in exercising any right or remedy hereunder shall constitute a waiver thereof.

21. Binding Effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties hereto and their respective successors (including any direct or indirect successor by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise to all or substantially all of the business and/or assets of the Company), assigns, spouses, heirs and personal and legal representatives. The Company shall require and cause any successor (whether direct or indirect by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise) to all, substantially all or a substantial part of the business and/or assets of the Company, by written agreement in form and substance satisfactory to Indemnitee, expressly to assume and agree to perform this Agreement in the same manner and to the same extent that the Company would be required to perform if no such succession had taken place.

22. Severability. Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered severable and if for any reason any provision which is not essential to the effectuation of the basic purposes of this Agreement is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unenforceable or contrary to the DGCL or existing or future applicable law, such invalidity, unenforceability or illegality shall not impair the operation of or affect those provisions of this Agreement which are valid, enforceable and legal. In that case, this Agreement shall be construed so as to limit any term or provision so as to make it valid, enforceable and legal within the requirements of any applicable law, and in the event such term or provision cannot be so limited, this Agreement shall be construed to omit such invalid, unenforceable or illegal provisions.

23. Notices. All notices, requests, demands and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given if delivered by hand, against receipt, or mailed, by postage prepaid, certified or registered mail:

- (a) if to Indemnitee, to the address set forth on the signature page hereto.
- (b) if to the Company, to:

Notice of change of address shall be effective only when given in accordance with this Section 23. All notices complying with this Section 23 shall be deemed to have been received on the date of hand delivery or on the third business day after mailing.

24. Governing Law. THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE GOVERNED BY THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE (OTHER THAN ITS RULES OF CONFLICTS OF LAW TO THE EXTENT THAT THE APPLICATION OF THE LAWS OF ANOTHER JURISDICTION WOULD BE REQUIRED THEREBY).

25. Jurisdiction. The parties hereby agree that any suit, action or proceeding seeking to enforce any provision of, or based on any matter arising out of or in connection with, this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, whether in contract, tort or otherwise, shall be brought in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware or in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (or, if such court lacks subject matter jurisdiction, in the Superior Court of the State of Delaware), so long as one of such courts shall have subject-matter jurisdiction over such suit, action or proceeding, and that any case of action arising out of this Agreement shall be deemed to have arisen from a transaction of business in the State of Delaware. Each of the parties hereby irrevocably consents to the jurisdiction of such courts (and of the appropriate appellate courts therefrom) in any such suit, action or proceeding and irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any objection that it may now or hereafter have to the laying of the venue of any such suit, action or proceeding in any such court or that any such suit, action or proceeding which is brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

26. Enforcement.

(a) Without limiting Section 15, this Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, oral, written and implied, between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof.

(b) The Company shall not seek from a court, or agree to, a "bar order" which would have the effect of prohibiting or limiting the Indemnatee's rights to receive advancement of Expenses under this Agreement other than in accordance with this Agreement.

27. Headings and Captions. All headings and captions contained in this Agreement and the table of contents hereto are inserted for convenience only and shall not be deemed a part of this Agreement.

28. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall constitute an original and all of which, when taken together, shall constitute one and the same agreement. Facsimile counterpart signatures to this Agreement shall be binding and enforceable.

29. Guaranty By Debtor. The Debtor guarantees to Indemnatee the performance of the obligations of the Company hereunder (the "Guaranteed Obligations"). If the Company does not satisfy any of the Guaranteed Obligations when due, Indemnatee may demand that the Debtor satisfy such obligations and the Debtor shall be required to do so by making payment to, or for the benefit of, Indemnatee. Indemnatee can make any number of demands upon the Debtor and such demands can be made for all or part of the Guaranteed Obligations. This guaranty by the Debtor is for the full amount of the Guaranteed Obligations. The Debtor's obligations under this Agreement are continuing. Even though Indemnatee receives payments from or makes arrangements with the Company or anyone else, the Debtor shall remain liable for the Guaranteed Obligations until satisfied in full. The guaranty hereunder is a guaranty of payment, and not merely of collectability, and may be enforced against the Debtor. The Debtor's liability under this Section 29 is unconditional. It is not affected by anything that might release the Debtor from or limit all or part of its obligations.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of the date first above written.

Amended DSI Retention Letter

January ___, 2020

Attn: Independent Directors
Highland Capital Management, LP
300 Crescent Court, Ste. 700
Dallas, TX 75201

Re: Development Specialists, Inc. (“DSI”)
Retention and Letter of Engagement

Dear Members of the Board:

Please accept this letter as our firm’s formal written agreement (the “Agreement”) to provide restructuring support services to Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Company”). This Agreement replaces and supersedes in all respects the letter agreement between DSI and the Company, dated October 7, 2019, as amended and revised by the letter agreement dated October 29, 2019. However, all fees and expenses incurred by DSI prior to the date hereof in accordance with such prior letter agreements will be paid by the Company, subject to allowance of such fees and expenses by the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas (the “Bankruptcy Court”). The Agreement will become effective upon execution by duly authorized representatives of the respective parties and approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

Section 1 – Scope of Work

DSI will provide the following services (the “Services”) to the Company:

1. Bradley D. Sharp will act as the Company’s Chief Restructuring Officer (“CRO”) with other DSI personnel to assist Mr. Sharp in carrying out those duties and responsibilities.
2. Subject to the terms of this Agreement, Mr. Sharp will report to the Independent Directors and, if appointed, the Chief Executive Officer of the Company (“CEO”) and will comply with the Company’s corporate governance requirements.
3. Mr. Sharp will fulfill such duties as directed by the Independent Directors and/or CEO, if any, of the Company with respect to the Company’s restructuring and bankruptcy filed on October 16, 2019 (the “Chapter 11 Case”), including implementation and prosecution of the Chapter 11 Case.
4. Provide other personnel of DSI (“Additional Personnel”) to provide restructuring support services as requested or required to the Company, which may include but are not limited to:
 - a. assisting the Company in the preparation of financial disclosures required by the Bankruptcy Code, including the Schedules of Assets and Liabilities, the Statements of Financial Affairs and Monthly Operating Reports;

- b. advising and assisting the Company, the Company's legal counsel, and other professionals in responding to third party requests;
- c. attending meetings and assisting in communications with parties in interest and their professionals, including the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors appointed in the Chapter 11 Case;
- d. providing litigation advisory services with respect to accounting matters, along with expert witness testimony on case related issues; and
- e. rendering such other general business consulting services or other assistance as the Company may deem necessary and which are consistent with the role of a financial advisor and not duplicative of services provided by other professionals in this case.

DSI's ability to adequately perform the Services is dependent upon the Company timely providing reliable, accurate, and complete necessary information. The Company agrees that CRO will have (i) access to and the ability to communicate with any employee of the Company or any affiliate of the Company and (ii) access to any information, including documents, relating to the Company or any Company affiliate, including, but not limited to, information concerning collections and disbursements. The Company acknowledges that DSI or CRO are not responsible for independently verifying the veracity, completeness, or accuracy of any information supplied to us by or on behalf of the Company.

DSI will submit its evaluations and analyses pursuant to this Agreement in periodic oral and written reports. Such reports are intended to and shall constitute privileged and confidential information, and shall constitute the Company's property.

Although we do not predict or warrant the outcome of any particular matter or issue, and our fees are not dependent upon such outcomes, we will perform the Services with reasonable care and in a diligent and competent manner.

Section 2 – Rates, Invoicing and Retainer

DSI will be compensated at a rate of $100,000 per month, plus expenses (capped at $10,000 per month), for the services of Bradley D. Sharp as CRO and such DSI personnel (including Fred Caruso) as are required to fulfill Mr. Sharp's responsibilities as CRO; provided that if any single expense exceeds $1,000, DSI will provide reasonable documentation and will obtain the Company's prior written approval.

A number of DSI's personnel have experience in providing restructuring support services and may be utilized as Additional Personnel in this representation. Although others of our staff may also be involved, we have listed below certain of the DSI personnel (along with their corresponding billing rates) who would likely constitute the Additional Personnel. The individuals are:

R. Brian Calvert	$640.00/hr.
Thomas P. Jeremiassen	$575.00/hr.
Eric J. Held	$495.00/hr.
Nicholas R. Troszak	$485.00/hr.
Spencer G. Ferrero	$350.00/hr.
Tom Frey	$325.00/hr.

The above rates are adjusted as of January 1 of each year to reflect advancing experience, capabilities, and seniority of our professionals as well as general economic factors.

We acknowledge receipt of a retainer of $250,000 from the Company. The purpose of the retainer is to secure a portion of our fees and expenses and to retain our status as a non-creditor should such be required for DSI to continue to provide the Services. As such, should a need arise to increase this retainer due to the level of Services DSI is providing or projected to provide, we will send the Company a supplement to this Agreement requesting the necessary increases and discuss with the Company the amount and timing of providing such increase to the retainer.

This retainer will be applied to our final invoice. If the retainer exceeds the amount of our final invoice, we will refund the difference to the Company at that time. In the event that periodic invoices are not paid timely, we will apply the retainer to the amounts owing on such invoices and, if applicable, any related late charges, and we will stop work until the retainer is replenished to the full amount required. If the retainer is not replenished within ten (10) days after the application of the retainer to unpaid balances, we reserve the right to terminate this Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 of this Agreement.

DSI also will be entitled to reimbursement for its reasonable costs and expenses. Such costs and expenses may include, among others, charges for messenger services, photocopying, travel expenses, long distance telephone charges, postage and other charges customarily invoiced by consulting firms. Airfare for international flights will be charged at the business class fare; provided that if any single expense exceeds $1,000, DSI will provide reasonable documentation and will obtain the Company's prior written approval.

This Agreement shall be presented to the Bankruptcy Court for approval and continuation, pursuant to Bankruptcy Code Section 363 and DSI's then-prospective obligations shall be contingent upon such approval.

Section 3 – Termination

Either the Company or DSI may terminate this Agreement for any reason with ten (10) business days' written notice. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the Company shall be obligated, in accordance with any orders of or procedures established by the Court, to pay and/or reimburse DSI all fees and expenses accrued under this Agreement as of the effective date of the termination.

Section 4 – Relationship of the Parties, Confidentiality

DSI will provide the Services to and for the Company, with select members of DSI assigned to specific roles for the benefit of the Company. These members will remain as DSI employees during the pendency of this case. Specifically, the parties intend that an independent contractor relationship will be created by this Agreement. Employees of DSI are not to be considered employees of the Company and are not entitled to any of the benefits that the Company provides for the Company's employees.

The Company acknowledges that all advice (written or oral) given by DSI to the Company in connection with DSI's engagement is intended solely for the benefit and use of the Company in considering the transaction to which it relates, and that no third party is entitled to rely on any such advice or communication. DSI will in no way be deemed to be providing services for any person not a party to this Agreement.

DSI agrees that all information not publicly available that is received by DSI from the Company in connection with this Agreement or that is developed pursuant to this Agreement, will be treated as confidential and will not be disclosed by DSI, except as required by Court order, or other legal process, or as may be authorized by the Company. DSI shall not be required to defend any action to obtain an order requiring disclosure of such information, but shall instead give prompt notice of any such action to the Company so that it may seek appropriate remedies, including a protective order. The Company shall reimburse DSI for all costs and fees (including reasonable attorney's fees) incurred by DSI relating to responding to (whether by objecting to or complying with) any subpoenas or requests for production of information or documents.

Section 5 – Indemnity

The Company shall name Bradley D. Sharp as its Chief Restructuring Officer and shall indemnify him on the same terms as provided to the Company's other officers and directors under the Company partnership agreement or other governing document and applicable state law. Mr. Sharp shall be included as an insured under any insurance policies or coverage available to officers and directors of the Company.

The Company shall additionally indemnify those persons, and only those persons, serving as executive officers on the same terms as provided to the Company's other officers and directors under the Company's partnership agreement or other governing document and applicable state law, along with insurance coverage under the Company's D&O policies. Any such indemnity shall survive the expiration or termination by either party of this Agreement. Except as provided in this Section and in Section 4, there shall be no indemnification of DSI, its affiliates or the Additional Personnel.

Each and every one of the personnel employed by DSI who works on this particular project, as well as DSI officers, directors, employees and agents (the “DSI Parties”) shall not be liable to the Company, or any party asserting claims on behalf of the Company, except for direct damages found in a final determination (not subject to further appeal) by a court of competent jurisdiction to be the direct result of the bad faith, self-dealing or intentional misconduct or gross negligence of DSI.

Section 6 – Conflicts

DSI has made diligent inquiries to determine whether it or any of its professionals have any connections with the Company, its creditors, or other parties in interest in the Chapter 11 Case. Based on that review, the review of DSI’s conflict files and responses to inquiries from DSI’s professional staff, neither DSI nor its professionals have any known conflicts with the parties in this case. DSI will separately provide its connections to parties in this case and/or their professionals.

Section 7 – No Audit

The Company acknowledges that it is hiring DSI to assist and advise the Company in business planning and operations. DSI’s engagement shall not constitute an audit, review or compilation, or any other type of financial statement reporting engagement that is subject to the rules of AICPA or other such state and national professional bodies.

Section 8 – Non-Solicitation

The Company agrees not to solicit, recruit or hire any employees or agents of DSI for a period of one year subsequent to the completion and/or termination of this Agreement; provided that the Company shall not be prohibited from (x) making general advertisements for employment not specifically directed at employees of DSI or (y) employees of DSI responding to unsolicited requests for employment.

Section 9 – Survival

The provisions of this Agreement relating to indemnification, the non-solicitation or hiring of DSI employees, and all other provisions necessary to the enforcement of the intent of this Agreement will survive the termination or expiration of this Agreement.

Section 10 – Governing Law

Highland Capital Management, LP

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to conflicts of law principles.

Section 11 – Entire Agreement, Amendment

This Agreement contains the entire understanding of the parties relating to the subject matter of this Agreement and supersedes and is intended to nullify any other agreements, understandings or representations relating to the subject of this Agreement. This Agreement may not be amended or modified except in a writing signed by the parties.

If you are in agreement with the foregoing terms and conditions please indicate your acceptance by signing an original copy of this Agreement on the signature lines below, then returning one fully-executed Agreement to DSI's office. The Agreement will become effective upon execution by duly authorized representatives of the respective parties.

Very truly yours,

Bradley Sharp

Document Production Protocol

A. Definitions

- a. Electronically stored information” or “ESI” shall include all electronic files, documents, data, and information covered under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

B. Preservation of ESI - Generally

- a. Debtor acknowledges that they should take reasonable and proportional steps to preserve discoverable information in the party’s possession, custody or control. This includes notifying employees possessing relevant information of their obligation to preserve such data.

C. Preservation of ESI – Specific Forms

- a. For email, Debtor uses Outlook Email on an Exchange server. Veritas Enterprise Vault is used to archive emails. Journaling is and has been in active use since 2007, and all inbound, outbound, and in-system email communications have been preserved and are not at risk of deletion due to normal document retention practices. Out of an abundance of caution, a copy of the latest email back-up, which was performed two months ago, shall be copied and stored at a secured location.
- b. The file server used by Debtor was backed up approximately one week ago. A copy of this backup shall be created and stored on a portable hard drive at a secured location.
- c. The Sharepoint server used by Debtor was backed up approximately one week ago. A copy of this backup shall be created in a format that maintains all potentially relevant information and stored at a secured location.
- d. The Oracle E-Business Suite (EBS) server used by Debtor was backed up one week ago. A copy of this backup shall be created in a format and stored at a secured location.
- e. The Advent Geneva accounting system used by Debtor was backed up approximately one week ago. Upon reasonable notice, the Committee may submit search criteria to Debtor to run searches in Advent Geneva. Subject to Debtor’s rights to assert objections as provided by Part G herein, Debtor will provide the data resulting from such agreed searches pursuant to Part F herein.
- f. The Siepe Database (data warehouse) used by Debtor was backed up approximately one week ago. A copy of this backup shall be created in a format and stored at a secured location.
- g. For the Box account used by Debtor, to the extent routine data retention practices may result in file deletion, they shall be suspended pending further discussion with the Committee concerning the relevance of such data. Users of the Box account who have the ability to delete files shall be notified of the obligation to suspend deletion of any data stored in Box.
- h. Bloomberg data is archived for five years. Debtor shall work with Bloomberg client services to preserve a copy of all such archived material, which shall be stored at a secured location, or otherwise extend the backup window in which Bloomberg preserves the data by reasonable time to be agreed by the parties.

- i. Files may be saved locally on laptops/work computers used by employees of Debtor. This practice is discouraged, but may result in the creation of relevant ESI on local systems in a manner that will not be replicated elsewhere. Debtor shall therefore cease the deletion of data (i.e., wiping) of any employee-assigned computer hard drives, such as for departing employees. Debtor shall furthermore instruct current employees not to delete files stored locally on their assigned computers.

D. Not Reasonably Accessible Documents

- a. Absent an order from the Court upon a showing of good cause, a Party from whom ESI has been requested shall not be required to search for responsive ESI from sources that are not reasonably accessible without undue burden or cost. The following types of data stores are presumed to be inaccessible and are not subject to discovery, and need not be collected or preserved, absent a particularized need for the data as established by the facts and legal issues of the case:
 - i. Deleted, slack, fragmented, or other data only accessible by forensics;
 - ii. Random access memory (RAM), temporary files, or other ephemeral data that are difficult to preserve without disabling the operating system; and
 - iii. On-line access data such as temporary internet files, history, cache, cookies, and the like.
- b. To conduct collections in a focused and efficient manner, the Parties also agree to exclude the following file types from collection: Standard system file extensions including, but not limited to, BIN, CAB, CHK, CLASS, COD, COM, DLL DRV, EXE, INF, INI, JAVA, LIB, LOG, SYS and TMP and other file extensions and directories that likely do not contain user generated content such as files identified by hash value when compared to the National Software Reference Library reference data set (RDS Hash), a sub-project of the National Institute of Standards and Technology ("NIST"), of known traceable system and application files. This process is commonly referred to as "De-NISTing."

E. Collection and Search Methodology

- a. Searches for emails in Debtor's custody shall be conducted by DSI on Debtor's Veritas Enterprise Vault storage using an unrestricted account at the earliest opportunity, but in no event later than seven (7) days after the Committee requests ESI from the Debtor. DSI shall use an add-on component called Discovery Assistant, which enables searches based on email properties, such as senders, recipients, and dates. Discovery Assistant also permits text searching of email contents and the contents of electronic file attachments, although not pictures of text (e.g., scanned PDFs). Debtor did not employ employee message or file encryption that would prevent reasonable operation of the Discovery Assistant search capabilities.
- b. The results of email searches shall be produced to the Committee pursuant to Part F below, subject to completion of any review for privilege or other purposes contemplated by this Agreement.

- c. A snapshot copy of Debtor databases (Oracle, Siepe) shall be created in a format to be specified later by agreement with the Committee per Part (C)(d), (f), above. Prior to any production of responsive data from such a structured database Debtor will first identify the database type and version number, provide the vendor-originated database dictionary, if any, (identifying all tables in the database, their fields, the meaning of those fields, and any interrelation among fields) and any user manuals, or any other documentation describing the structure and/or content of the database, and a list of all reports that can be generated from the database. The list of reports shall be provided in native Excel (.xis or .xlsx) format.
- d. The Geneva system is highly proprietary and shall not be collected, but the Committee will be given reasonable access to that system per Part C(e), above.
- e. Debtor and Committee will meet and confer to discuss the scope of any necessary searches on the Box account.
- f. Debtor file server contents, where requested by the Committee, shall be produced pursuant to Part F below.
- g. Debtor shall propose a format for producing Sharepoint data. The Committee agrees that it is not necessary to reproduce the interface used by Debtor in the ordinary course of business for Sharepoint.

F. Format of Documents Produced

- a. Non-database ESI shall be produced as black and white Group 4 TIFF files, with a resolution of 300 DPI. Page size shall be 8.5 x 11 inches unless, in the reasonable judgment of the Producing Party, a particular item requires a different page size, and original document orientation shall be maintained (i.e., portrait to portrait and landscape to landscape). A Requesting Party may, in good faith and reasonable judgment, request a color copy of a production document if it is necessary to convey the relevant and responsive information. Such color copies may be produced as single page JPG (JPEG) image files. The Requesting Party will bear the costs for color images.
- b. The files shall be accompanied by a metadata load file, in a single standard format to be requested by the Receiving Party prior to any production (e.g., Opticon, Summation DII, or the like) showing the Bates number of each page, the appropriate unitization of the documents, and the entire family range. The Parties agree to meet and confer regarding the requested standard format prior to production.
- c. The files shall be accompanied by a .DAT text file including the delimited fields identified in the Metadata List (below). No Party will have any obligation to manually generate information to provide the fields identified in the Metadata List.
- d. The Producing Party reserves the right to make hard copy documents available for inspection and copying pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34.
- e. In the event that a Party identifies hard copy documents for production, hard copy paper documents shall be scanned and will include, to the extent feasible, the following fields in the .DAT text file: PRODBEG, PRODEND, PAGECOUNT, FULLTEXT, and CUSTODIAN. The Parties agree to share equally in the cost of scanning hard copy documents.

- f. For any documents that were scanned from hard copy paper documents, the Parties will produce images of hard copy documents unitized to the extent the original documents appeared to be units in physical form, with attachments following parents, and with information that identifies the holder (or container) structure, to the extent such structure exists and it is reasonable to do so. The Producing Party is not required to OCR (Optical Character Recognition) hard copy documents. If the Receiving Party requests that hard copy documents be OCR'ed, the Receiving Party shall bear the cost of such request, unless the Parties agree to split the cost so that each has an OCR'ed copy of the documents.
- g. For ESI that the Producing Party produces in TIFF or JPEG format, the Producing Party shall electronically "burn" a legible, unique Bates number onto each page. The Bates number shall, to the extent reasonably possible: (1) identify the Producing Party; (2) maintain a constant length of nine numeric digits (including 0-padding) across the entire production; (3) contain only alphanumeric characters, no special characters or embedded spaces; and (4) be sequential within a given document. If the Bates number conceals, interferes with, or otherwise obscures any information from the source document, the Producing Party, at the request of the Receiving Party, shall produce a copy that is not obscured.
- h. For ESI that the Producing Party produces in TIFF format, if the Producing Party is producing the ESI subject to a claim that it is protected from disclosure under any confidentiality order entered in this matter, the Producing Party shall electronically "burn" the appropriate confidentiality designation onto each page of the document. If the designation conceals, interferes with, or otherwise obscures any information from the source document, the Producing Party, at the request of the Receiving Party, shall produce a copy that is not obscured.
- i. The Parties agree to produce e-mail families intact absent a privilege or work product claim, so long as each document contains responsive information; for all documents that contain a responsive, non-privileged attachment, the following fields will be produced (if available) as part of the metadata load file to indicate the parent child or parent/sibling relationship:
 - i. Production Bates begin
 - ii. Production Bates end
 - iii. Production Bates begin attachment
 - iv. Production Bates end attachment

Notwithstanding the aforementioned, all parties acknowledge that Debtor's Veritas Enterprise Vault system does not have the ability to search for the family members of responsive documents, and that Debtor does not have an obligation to manually search for non-responsive family members of otherwise responsive documents.

- j. Unless otherwise agreed, all dynamic date and time fields, where such fields are processed to contain a value, and all metadata pertaining to dates and times, will be standardized to Universal Coordinated Time (UTC) or Universal Coordinated Time + 1 (UTC+1) [TBD]. The Parties understand and acknowledge that such standardization affects only dynamic fields and metadata values and does not affect, among other things, dates and times that are hard-coded text within a file. Dates and times that are hard-coded text within a file (for example, in an email thread, dates and times of earlier messages that were converted to body text when subsequently replied to or forwarded; and in any file type, dates and times that are typed as such by users) will be produced as part of the document text in accordance with the provisions herein.

- k. Excel spreadsheets shall be produced in native application format, unless redactions are required. The Producing Party will make reasonable efforts to provide a TIFF image of a slip sheet with the Bates number of documents produced natively in its production. The corresponding native file shall be named by using the same Bates number identified on the placeholder TIFF image. Any Excel spreadsheet that requires redaction will be produced in TIFF format only. Certain types of databases are dynamic in nature and may contain information that is irrelevant. These files are sometimes large and would, if rendered to TIFF images completely, produce thousands of pages that would have little utility to a reviewer without the associated database.
- l. To the extent information from a structured data repository, such as a database, is requested, responsive information will be produced via a report or export of such data to an appropriate program that is agreeable to the requesting Party. The Parties agree to meet and confer before such data is exported.

G. Production Format Shall Not Alter Authenticity, Admissibility, or Privilege Status

- a. No Party shall object that ESI produced pursuant to this Protocol is not authentic by virtue of the ESI having been converted to TIFF. The Parties otherwise reserve all rights regarding their ability to object to the authenticity of documents.
- b. Nothing in this Protocol shall be construed to affect in any way the rights of any Party to make any objection as to the production, discoverability, admissibility, or confidentiality of documents and ESI.
- c. Nothing in this Protocol shall constitute a waiver by any Party of any claim or privilege or other protection from discovery.
- d. Nothing in this Protocol shall be interpreted to in any way limit a Producing Parties right and ability to review documents for responsiveness prior to production.
- e. Nothing in the Protocol shall require disclosure of irrelevant information or relevant information protected by the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or any other applicable privilege or immunity.

I. Definitions

- A. “Court” means the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas.
- B. “NAV” means (A) with respect to an entity that is not a CLO, the value of such entity’s assets less the value of its liabilities calculated as of the month end prior to any Transaction; and (B) with respect to a CLO, the CLO’s gross assets less expenses calculated as of the quarter end prior to any Transaction.
- C. “Non-Discretionary Account” means an account that is managed by the Debtor pursuant to the terms of an agreement providing, among other things, that the ultimate investment discretion does not rest with the Debtor but with the entity whose assets are being managed through the account.
- D. “Related Entity” means collectively (A)(i) any non-publicly traded third party in which Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, or Mr. Grant Scott, or Mr. John Honis (with respect to Messrs. Okada, Scott and Honis, only to the extent known by the Debtor) has any direct or indirect economic or ownership interest, including as a beneficiary of a trust; (ii) any entity controlled directly or indirectly by Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, Mr. Grant Scott, or Mr. John Honis (with respect to Messrs. Okada, Scott and Honis, only to the extent known by the Debtor); (iii) MGM Holdings, Inc.; (iv) any publicly traded company with respect to which the Debtor or any Related Entity has filed a Form 13D or Form 13G; (v) any relative (as defined in Section 101 of the Bankruptcy Code) of Mr. Dondero or Mr. Okada each solely to the extent reasonably knowable by the Debtor; (vi) the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust and Dugaboy Investment Trust; (vii) any entity or person that is an insider of the Debtor under Section 101(31) the Bankruptcy Code, including any “non-statutory” insider; and (viii) to the extent not included in (A)(i)-(vii), any entity included in the listing of related entities in Schedule B hereto (the “Related Entities Listing”); and (B) the following Transactions, (x) any intercompany Transactions with certain affiliates referred to in paragraphs 16.a through 16.e of the Debtor’s cash management motion [Del. Docket No. 7]; and (y) any Transactions with Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. (provided, however, that additional parties may be added to this subclause (y) with the mutual consent of the Debtor and the Committee, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld).
- E. “Stage 1” means the time period from the date of execution of a term sheet incorporating the protocols contained below the (“Term Sheet”) by all applicable parties until approval of the Term Sheet by the Court.
- F. “Stage 2” means the date from the appointment of a Board of Independent Directors at Strand Advisors, Inc. until 45 days after such appointment, such appointment being effective upon Court approval.
- G. “Stage 3” means any date after Stage 2 while there is a Board of Independent Directors at Strand Advisors, Inc.
- H. “Transaction” means (i) any purchase, sale, or exchange of assets, (ii) any lending or borrowing of money, including the direct payment of any obligations of another entity, (iii) the satisfaction of any capital call or other contractual requirement to pay money, including the satisfaction of any redemption requests, (iv) funding of affiliates and (v) the creation of any lien or encumbrance.

- I. "Ordinary Course Transaction" means any transaction with any third party which is not a Related Entity and that would otherwise constitute an "ordinary course transaction" under section 363(c) of the Bankruptcy Code.
- J. "Notice" means notification or communication in a written format and shall include supporting documents necessary to evaluate the propriety of the proposed transaction.

II. Transactions involving the (i) assets held directly on the Debtor's balance sheet or the balance sheet of the Debtor's wholly-owned subsidiaries, including Jefferies Prime Account, and (ii) the Highland Select Equity Fund, L.P., Highland Multi Strategy Credit Fund, L.P., and Highland Restoration Capital Partners

A. Covered Entities: N/A (See entities above).

B. Operating Requirements

- 1. Ordinary Course Transactions do not require Court approval (All Stages).
 - a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: ordinary course determined by the CRO.
 - b) Stage 3: ordinary course determined by the Debtor.
- 2. Related Entity Transactions
 - a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: Transactions with Related Entities require prior approval of CRO and five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
 - b) Stage 3:
 - (1) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $1,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
 - (2) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $2,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
- 3. Third Party Transactions (All Stages)
 - a) Except as set forth in (b) and (c) below, Transactions in excess of $2,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require three business days advance notice to Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the

Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

- b) The Debtor may satisfy any redemption requests from entities that are not Related Entities without advance notice so long as the Debtor provides notice of such Transactions to the Committee as soon as reasonably practicable. The Debtor will provide the Committee with five business days advance notice of any redemption requests made by and payable to a Related Entity, and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
- c) The Debtor may satisfy margin calls and short covers without providing the Committee advance notice if the exigencies do not allow advance notice so long as the Debtor provides notice of such Transactions to the Committee as soon as reasonably practicable.

C. Weekly Reporting: The Debtor will provide the Committee with weekly reports showing all Transactions under this category.

III. Transactions involving entities the Debtor manages and in which the Debtor holds a direct or indirect interest (other than the entities discussed in Section I above)

A. Covered Entities: See Schedule A hereto. Schedule A includes or will include all entities the Debtor manages and in which the Debtor holds a direct or indirect interest (other than the entities discussed in Section I above).¹

2. Related Entity Transactions

- a) Stage 1 and Stage 2: Transactions with Related Entities require prior approval of CRO and five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
- b) Stage 3:
 - (1) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $1,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require five business days advance notice to the Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
 - (2) Transactions with Related Entities greater than $2,000,000 (either individually or in the aggregate basis on a rolling 30 day period) require Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

3. Third Party Transactions (All Stages):

- a) Except as set forth in (b) and (c) below, any Transaction that decreases the NAV of an entity managed by the Debtor in excess of the greater of (i) 10% of NAV or (ii) $3,000,000 requires five business days advance notice to Committee and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
- b) The Debtor may satisfy any redemption requests from entities that are not Related Entities without advance notice so long as the Debtor provides notice of such Transactions to the Committee as soon as reasonably practicable. The Debtor will provide the Committee with five business days advance notice of any redemption requests made by and payable to a Related Entity, and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.
- c) The Debtor may take such steps as may be reasonably necessary to winddown any managed entity and make distributions as may be required in connection with such winddown to any required parties. The Debtor will provide the Committee with five business days advance notice of any distributions to be made to a Related Entity, and if the Committee objects, the burden is on the Debtor to seek Court approval, which the Committee agrees may be sought on an expedited basis.

- C. Weekly Reporting: The Debtor will provide the Committee with weekly reports showing all Transactions under this category.

Case No. 19-34054-sgj11

OBJECTION OF THE DEBTOR TO UNITED STATES TRUSTEE'S MOTION FOR AN ORDER DIRECTING THE APPOINTMENT OF A CHAPTER 11 TRUSTEE

The above-captioned debtor and debtor-in-possession (the "Debtor") files this objection (this "Objection") to the United States Trustee's Motion for an Order Directing the Appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee [Docket No. 271] (the "Trustee Motion"), filed by the United

States Trustee for Region 6 (the “UST”) on December 23, 2019. In support of this Objection, the Debtor respectfully represents as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. The appointment of a chapter 11 trustee in this case would be a completely needless and wasteful exercise, and it would be wholly inconsistent with the interests of creditors, most of whom are represented by the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the “Committee”). This Court has already approved (over the objection of the UST and no other economic stakeholder) the settlement between the Debtor and the Committee regarding governance issues and certain operating protocols. The Debtor’s estate is now managed by a new independent board of directors (the “Independent Board”) at Strand Advisors, Inc. (“Strand”), the Debtor’s general partner. The Independent Board’s fiduciary duty is foremost to the Debtor’s estate, and the Independent Board may not be removed without Committee consent or approval of this Court. Pursuant to the settlement, the Debtor has also implemented certain protocols governing the operation of its business in the ordinary course.

2. The UST filed the Trustee Motion four days before the Debtor filed the Settlement Motion (as defined below), despite knowing that the Settlement Motion might be filed shortly thereafter. By not waiting to see the definitive terms of the settlement between the Debtor and the Committee, the Trustee Motion fails to take into account that James Dondero, the Debtor’s co-founder and prior principal in control, has been irrevocably replaced and removed from any continuing management role with the Debtor (or its general partner, Strand). The Trustee Motion also fails to consider that the Independent Board has assumed control of the Debtor’s management functions. In this regard, the Independent Board has the authority to hire a new Chief Executive Officer (a “CEO”), if necessary, and to direct the actions of the Debtor’s existing Chief Restructuring Officer (the “CRO”). Consistent with the governance requirements of applicable Delaware corporate and partnership law, the Independent Board is now in charge of Strand and thereby manages the Debtor for all purposes. The UST has argued that the Independent Board has duties to the shareholders of Strand. In fact, Mr. Dondero, the sole shareholder of Strand, has agreed not to take any action or exercise the voting power of his shares in Strand in any way that is inconsistent with the Committee settlement or any order of this Court approving the Committee settlement. Mr. Dondero has also relinquished any right to remove the Independent Directors except with Committee consent or Court approval. As such, the Independent Board’s focus is on maximizing the value of the Debtor’s estate.

3. The UST bases the Trustee Motion on prepetition misconduct that is no longer relevant now that the Debtor is governed by the Independent Board, which has the full support of the Committee. The UST cites to no precedent, and the Debtor is aware of none, that would support the extraordinary remedy of the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee under the circumstances here.² In fact, no outcome could be possibly worse from the perspective of this estate and the interests of stakeholders than appointing a single as yet unknown person to manage the Debtor’s complex business and replace the highly qualified Independent Board that was just appointed with the Committee’s support and this Court’s approval.

² The UST notably never states what the UST expects a chapter 11 trustee to actually do in this case. The reasons for that are apparent. Either the UST is seeking to appoint a chapter 11 trustee who will serve the exact same function as the Independent Board or the UST is seeking to unseat the Independent Board and unwind this Court’s order approving the Settlement Motion [Docket No. 339]. As such, the UST is either duplicating efforts and substantially increasing the costs and burdens to the estate or is impermissibly launching a collateral attack on this Court’s order approving the Settlement Motion. Either result is impermissible.

4. For these reasons and those set forth below, the Debtor strongly urges the Court to deny the Trustee Motion.

BACKGROUND

5. On October 16, 2019 (the “Petition Date”), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”) in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the “Delaware Court”).

6. To assist and coordinate the restructuring process, the Debtor retained Bradley D. Sharp to serve as the CRO on October 7, 2019. On October 29, 2019, the Debtor filed the Motion of the Debtor Pursuant to 11 U.S.C. §§ 105(a) and 363(b) to Employ and Retain Development Specialists, Inc. to Provide a Chief Restructuring Officer, Additional Personnel, and Financial Advisory and Restructuring Related Services, Nunc Pro Tunc as of the Petition Date [Docket No. 74] (the “CRO Motion”), seeking to formally retain the CRO. On December 27, 2019, the Debtor amended the CRO Motion consistent with the terms of the Settlement Motion [Docket No. 282]. The Court approved the CRO Motion, as amended, at the hearing on January 9, 2020 [Docket No. 342].

7. On October 29, 2019, the Committee was appointed by the United States Trustee in the Delaware Court.

8. On December 4, 2019, the Delaware Court entered an order transferring venue of the Debtor’s bankruptcy case to this Court [Docket No. 186].³ The Debtor has continued in the possession of its property and has continued to operate and manage its business as a debtor-in-possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in this chapter 11 case.

9. On December 23, 2019, the UST filed the Trustee Motion, despite the Debtor having informed the Court and the UST that the Settlement Motion would be filed no later than December 27, 2019, assuming that a settlement had been reached with the Committee.

10. On December 27, 2019, the Debtor filed its Motion of the Debtor to Approve Settlement with Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 281] (the “Settlement Motion”). Pursuant to the Settlement Motion, the Debtor sought approval of a settlement with the Committee regarding: (a) wholesale changes to the Debtor’s governance, including replacing Debtor’s management by James Dondero with the Independent Board; (b) additional transparency for the Committee into the operation of the Debtor’s business; (c) the Independent Board’s possible retention of a CEO acceptable to the Committee and the retention of the CRO on updated terms; and (d) implementation of certain protocols governing the Debtor’s ordinary course business operations.

11. The Independent Board is a highly qualified group consisting of James P. Seery, Jr., John S. Dubel, and Russell Nelms. Mr. Seery is a high yield and distressed investing professional with extensive experience managing large asset portfolios. Mr. Dubel has served as an independent director and restructuring professional in a wide variety of industries. The Honorable Mr. Nelms is a former bankruptcy judge in this District and a highly respected member of the bar.

12. Notwithstanding the qualifications of the Independent Board, the UST objected to the Settlement Motion on the principal basis that a chapter 11 trustee should be appointed instead. No other economic stakeholder objected to the proposed governance changes incorporated in the Settlement Motion.

13. On January 9, 2020, this Court overruled the UST's objection and approved the Settlement Motion [Docket No. 339]. In so ruling, this Court concluded that appointment of the Independent Board was a sound exercise of the Debtor's business judgment and that the settlement was fair and equitable and in the best interests of the Debtor's estate.

14. As part of the settlement with the Committee, James Dondero, as the principal of Strand, which is the general partner of the Debtor, agreed to appoint the Independent Directors and not to remove them except with Committee consent or approval of this Court. Mr. Dondero also agreed not to take any action or exercise the voting power of his shares in Strand in any way that is inconsistent with the Committee settlement or any order of this Court approving the Committee settlement. Strand has no business operations other than its general partnership role in the Debtor. Hence, the Independent Board's primary duty in this case is to the Debtor's estate.

15. Since entry of this Court's order approving the Settlement Motion, the Independent Board was installed and immediately began implementing the terms of the settlement and managing the Debtor on a going-forward basis. Indeed, the Independent Board has already conducted intensive and lengthy meetings with the Debtor's employees and professionals to understand the status of the Debtor's affairs, overseen the execution of certain ordinary course transactions, and initiated the process of charting a path forward. Additional meetings have been, or are in the process of being, scheduled to allow the Board to address the Debtor's on-going business. Any chapter 11 trustee that may be appointed would thus be weeks behind the Board in what has been a rapidly developing case.

OBJECTION TO TRUSTEE MOTION

A. Appointment of a Trustee is an Extraordinary Remedy That Does Not Apply Here

16. Section 1104(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides for the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee in only limited circumstances, including (1) for cause, and (2) if such appointment is in the interests of parties in interest. 11 U.S.C. § 1104(a).

17. As this Court stated in its decision in In re Patman Drilling Int'l, Inc., the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee is a "draconian remedy." 2008 Bankr. LEXIS 715, at *15 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Mar. 14, 2008). "A strong presumption exists that a Chapter 11 debtor should be permitted to remain in possession. The Movants have the burden of showing, by clear and convincing evidence, that the appointment of a trustee is justified." Id. at *15-16 (emphasis added); see also In re Cajun Electric Power Coop., Inc., 69 F.3d 746, 749 (5th Cir. 1995), withdrawn in part on other grounds, 74 F.3d 599 (5th Cir. 1996) (adopting dissent's position in 69 F.3d 746).

18. The UST implies that the Fifth Circuit's decision in Cajun Electric with respect to the applicability of the clear and convincing standard was withdrawn, but there is no indication of that in the dissenting opinion that was adopted by the court. Subsequent decisions within this Circuit, including this Court's opinion in Patman Drilling, continue to apply the clear and convincing standard in the context of a motion to appoint a chapter 11 trustee. See, e.g., In re Amerejuve, Inc., 2015 Bankr. LEXIS 1496, at *16 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. Apr. 29, 2015) ("The parties moving to appoint a trustee bear the burden, by clear and convincing evidence, of demonstrating that cause exists for the appointment of a trustee.”) (citing, among other cases, Cajun Electric, 69 F.3d at 749, withdrawn in part on other grounds, 74 F.3d 599 (5th Cir. 1996); In re ATP Oil & Gas Corp., 2013 Bankr. LEXIS 5698, 2013 WL 9792582, at *9 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2013)). Thus, there is a strong presumption against appointing a chapter 11 trustee, which “must be considered a last resort.” In re Marvel Entm’t Group, Inc., 140 F.3d 463, 471 (3d Cir. 1998).

19. As set forth below, there is no evidence here that supports the need for a trustee – much less clear and convincing evidence. The Independent Board is now firmly in place and in control of the Debtor. The Independent Board is already taking a highly proactive approach to managing the Debtor, is quickly learning all about the Debtor’s assets and various business affairs, and is otherwise executing the terms of the settlement. There is no reason to supplant the highly-qualified, consensual Independent Board with a new and unknown chapter 11 trustee.

20. The UST may make the technical argument that the Independent Board has duties to the shareholders of Strand (among other constituents), but this position ignores the terms of the Committee settlement. Although Mr. Dondero is the sole shareholder of Strand, he has agreed not to take any action or exercise the voting power of his shares in Strand in any way that is inconsistent with the Committee settlement or any order of this Court approving the Committee settlement. Mr. Dondero also has relinquished any right to remove the Independent Directors except with Committee consent or the approval of this Court. The Independent Board’s primary duty is therefore to maximize the value of the Debtor’s estate, which in turn also benefits Strand. See In Re Houston Reg’l Sports Network, L.P., 505 B.R. 468, 481-82 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2014) (“The individuals who manage the Estate’s affairs – whether ‘officers and managing employees’ or puppeteers acting through a general partner – must respect the fiduciary sanctity of the operation of a bankruptcy estate.”) (citations omitted).

21. Appointment of the Independent Board has fundamentally altered the Debtor’s governance structure from the top down. The Independent Board, among other rights, has the power to hire and fire the Debtor’s employees and to decide the terms on which employees will remain employed by the Debtor. Hence, there is no basis for the UST’s unsubstantiated point that prior attempts at restricting the authority of the Debtor’s management have failed. No prior governance change involved the removal of Mr. Dondero and appointment of independent management with sole authority to make the ultimate decisions on behalf of the Debtor.⁴

B. Prepetition Conduct by Replaced Management is Not “Cause” that Merits the Appointment of a Trustee

22. Section 1104(a)(1) provides for the appointment of a trustee “for cause, including fraud, dishonesty, incompetence, or gross mismanagement of the affairs of the debtor by current management, either before or after the commencement of the case, or similar cause”

11 U.S.C. § 1104(a)(1) (emphasis added).

23. The UST argues that cause exists to appoint a trustee based on the alleged prepetition misconduct of the Debtor’s prior management, including actions that were the subject of litigation commenced by the Redeemer Committee and Acis Capital.⁵ Regardless of any alleged prepetition impropriety by the Debtor’s prior management, no cause exists here to appoint a trustee because current management is now the newly installed Independent Board. Adams v. Marwil

⁴ Notably, the prior restrictions on Debtor’s management related only to the Crusader Fund. The Redeemer Committee of the Crusader Fund, the body best able to compare the prior restrictions on the Crusader Fund to the Debtor’s current governance, is on the Committee that expressly supported the current governance.

(In re Bayou Group, LLC), 564 F.3d 541, 547 n.3 (2d Cir. 2009) (“[w]hen considering whether to appoint a trustee for cause, a court’s focus is on the debtor’s current management, not the misdeeds of past management.”) (citation omitted). In Bayou Group, the court denied a motion of a U.S. Trustee to appoint a chapter 11 trustee in a case where an independent receiver had been appointed prepetition to manage the debtor’s affairs and there was no evidence of mismanagement by such receiver, notwithstanding the improprieties of prior management. Id. at 547-548.

24. Here, by ignoring the settlement between the Debtor and the Committee, the UST has failed to consider that no cause exists to justify the appointment of a trustee because current management, as contemplated by section 1104(a)(1), is now the Independent Board. The UST has also failed to cite to any case law (and the Debtor is aware of none) supporting the appointment of a trustee for cause where prepetition management has been replaced with new and independent management, especially when done so under the auspices of a settlement with the Committee approved by this Court.

C. Appointment of a Trustee Would Not Be in the Best Interests of the Debtor’s Estate

25. Under section 1104(a)(2), a court must find that the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee is in the best interest of the bankruptcy estate generally, not simply for a select group or groups. See 7 COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 1104.02[3][d][i] (15th ed. 2007); In re Sletteland, 260 B.R. 657, 672 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2001) (“[A] creditor group, no matter how dominant, cannot justify the appointment of a trustee or examiner simply by alleging that it would be in its interests. It must show that the appointment is in the interests of all those with a stake in the estate”); In re Sea Queen Kontaratos Lines, Ltd., 10 B.R. 609, 610 (Bankr. D. Me. 1981)

(finding that a creditor confused “its own self interest with the interests of the estate and creditors generally” and denying motion to appoint trustee).

26. Here, no economic party in interest supports the appointment of a chapter 11 trustee in this case. The Committee, which represents the bulk of the creditor constituents in this case, entered into a settlement with the Debtor effectuating wholesale governance changes for the Debtor and implementing various operating protocols. That settlement was approved by this Court as a proper exercise of the Debtor’s business judgment and as being in the best interests of the Debtor’s estate, and such settlement has since been implemented by the Debtor. Any issues involving the Debtor’s affiliates or insiders can be addressed by the Independent Board or the Committee consistent with the terms of the settlement. Hence, the parties and this Court have already determined that new independent management, rather than the appointment of a trustee, furthers the best interests of all stakeholders in this case.

27. The UST has offered no evidence or legal basis to the contrary and no justification or reason for appointing a chapter 11 trustee whose duties will duplicate those of the Independent Board. Further, the UST has articulated no reason why a chapter 11 trustee would better maximize the value of the Debtor’s estate or better advance this case towards a confirmable plan or what a chapter 11 trustee would do differently than the Independent Board. The UST cannot argue that the chapter 11 trustee would be more qualified than the Independent Board because we do not know the identity of the trustee. It is likely that a trustee would be less qualified than the diverse and well-recognized expertise of the three-person Independent Board. Finally, as a practical matter, a chapter 11 trustee likely would seek to replace the CRO or other debtor professionals with their own staff. This would discard months of progress, and require duplicative expenses to bring the Debtor's estate back to its current posture. Granting the UST's relief certainly will lead to lost time, lost expertise, and increased costs for the Debtor, with no articulated, much less likely, benefit for the Debtor's estate or its stakeholders.

CONCLUSION

28. For the reasons set forth herein, the Debtor requests that the Court enter an order denying the Trustee Motion. No cause exists to appoint a trustee in this case given that the Independent Board has been appointed, and the best interests of all parties in interest will be served by allowing the Independent Board to do its job by maximizing the value of this estate.

*Counsel and Proposed Counsel for the Debtor and

in place at the time the Trustee Motion was filed. As a result of the Settlement, James Dondero is no longer in a position of decision-making authority at the Debtor. A new, highly-qualified and independent board of directors (the “Independent Board”) has assumed control of the Debtor. Mr. Dondero and all other employees are subject to the authority and direction of the Independent Board. Pursuant to the Settlement, the Committee has significant information and oversight rights with respect to material transactions and proposed transactions involving the Debtor. The Committee also has standing to investigate and pursue claims against Mr. Dondero and certain other insiders of the Debtor. In view of these and other significant changes resulting from the Settlement, the U.S. Trustee’s arguments for a Chapter 11 Trustee based upon past actions taken by prior management are largely irrelevant. More importantly, those historic actions under the prior regime cannot be used to support the request for appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee. Adams v. Marwil (In re Bayou Group, LLC), 564 F.3d 541, 547 n.3 (2d Cir. 2009) (“[w]hen considering whether to appoint a trustee for cause, a court’s focus is on the debtor’s current management, not the misdeeds of past management.”) (citation omitted).

2. The U.S. Trustee fails to show how a court appointed Chapter 11 Trustee would be better positioned than the Independent Board to address the Debtor’s challenges. The Independent Board has significant experience and expertise in operating complicated financial organizations, overseeing companies in chapter 11 and satisfying the legal requirements of chapter 11. Contrary to the U.S. Trustee’s assertions, the Independent Board will be heavily-involved in the Debtor’s decision-making and will have an almost constant presence on-site at the Debtor (in the initial weeks/months, at a minimum). The Independent Board also has the authority to retain a new chief executive officer to carry out day to day management of the Debtor. Any difficulties that the Independent Board may face, including with respect to inter-company transactions or the culture of the Debtor, also would be faced by a Chapter 11 Trustee. Finally, if circumstances change, the U.S. Trustee and all other parties in interest, including the Committee, have the right to seek a Chapter 11 Trustee at a future date.

3. The U.S. Trustee cannot demonstrate that the appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee is in the best interests of the Debtor's stakeholders. See 7 COLLIER ON BANKRUPTCY ¶ 1104.02[3][d][i] (15th ed. 2007); In re Sletteland, 260 B.R. 657, 672 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2001) ([Movant], "must show that the appointment is in the interests of all those with a stake in the estate"). The Committee, as the representative of the primary economic stakeholders in this case (and the Committee members themselves directly holding the substantial majority of unsecured claims), strongly objects to the U.S. Trustee's request for appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee. The Committee believes that the Debtor's new corporate governance structure, as embodied in the Settlement, provides the Debtor with the best opportunity to maximize value for its stakeholders. Appointing a Chapter 11 Trustee at this time would eviscerate the recently-approved Settlement and harm the Debtor's estate and its creditors.

4. For the reasons set forth above and in the Debtor's objection to the Trustee Motion [Docket No. 362], the U.S. Trustee has not met its burden in seeking the appointment of a Chapter 11 Trustee, and the Trustee Motion should be denied.

WHEREFORE, the Committee respectfully requests that the Court deny the Trustee Motion.

1 DALLAS, TEXAS - JANUARY 21, 2020 - 9:35 A.M.

2 THE COURT: Counsel in the courtroom first in 3 Highland.

4 MR. POMERANTZ: Good morning, Your Honor. Jeff
5 Pomerantz, John Morris, and Max Litvak from Pachulski Stang
6 Ziehl & Jones, counsel for the Debtor.

7 THE COURT: Good morning.

8 MR. POMERANTZ: Also in the courtroom are the members
9 of the independent board: John Dubel, Jim Seery, and Russell
10 Nelms.

11 THE COURT: Good morning.

12 MS. HAYWARD: Good morning, Your Honor. Melissa
13 Hayward and Zachery Annable on behalf of the Debtor.

14 THE COURT: Good morning.

15 MS. LAMBERT: Lisa Lambert with the U.S. Department
16 of Justice representing William Neary, the United States
17 Trustee. I believe Ms. Kippes will also be joining later this 18 morning.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Good morning.

20 MS. LAMBERT: Thank you.

21 MR. TWOMEY: Good morning, Your Honor. Dennis 22 Twomey, Penny Reid, and Juliana Hoffman on behalf of the 23 Unsecured Creditors' Committee from Sidley Austin. Thank you.

24 THE COURT: Good morning.

25 MS. PATEL: Good morning, Your Honor. Rakhee Patel

1 of Winstead, P.C. on behalf of ACIS Capital Management, LP and 2 ACIS Capital Management, GP, LLC.

3 THE COURT: Good morning.

4 MS. PATEL: Thank you.

5 MR. PLATT: Good morning, Your Honor. Mark Platt.

6 I'm here on behalf of the Redeemer Committee of the Highland 7 Crusader Fund. And Mark Hankin, I believe, is on the phone as 8 well.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Good morning.

10 MS. POSIN: Good morning, Your Honor. Kim Posin of 11 Latham & Watkins. Also here is Asif Attarwala from Latham.
12 We represent creditor UBS Securities, LLC and UBS AG London
13 Branch.

14 THE COURT: Good morning.

15 MS. ANDERSON: Good morning, Your Honor. Amy
16 Anderson with Jones Walker on behalf of the Issuer Entities.
17 And with me on the phone is Mr. James Bentley with Schulte
18 Roth.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

20 All right. That's all the courtroom appearances. If 21 you're on the phone and wish to appear, you may go ahead. I
22 think we heard at least Mr. Bentley, you're on the phone,
23 correct?

24 MR. BENTLEY: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you.

25 THE COURT: All right. And we heard Mr. Mark Hankin

1 should be on the phone, correct?

2 MR. HANKIN: Yes, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: All right. Anyone else wishing to 4 appear?

5 All right. Well, we originally had quite a few things on 6 the calendar, and it looks like we're down just to four or 7 five maybe at this point, correct?

8 MR. POMERANTZ: That is correct, Your Honor. Again,
9 Jeff Pomerantz; Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones.

10 There has been a flurry of paperwork. I have either
11 inserts or replacements to things in your binders, or I have 12 completely new binders. What would Your Honor prefer?

13 THE COURT: Well, by the way, you had a very helpful
14 binder, whoever was responsible for that. I think just the 15 inserts will do.

16 MR. POMERANTZ: Okay. May I approach?

17 THE COURT: You may. And I assume we're talking
18 about the pleadings binder that you sent over Friday-ish?

19 MR. POMERANTZ: Correct.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 (Pause.)

22 THE COURT: Okay. Very good. Thank you.

23 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, I thought I would take 24 Your Honor through the agenda. And if the agenda that we 25 provided today was helpful, we would propose to do it for all

1 hearings, if that would be acceptable.

2 THE COURT: That would be great, yes.

3 MR. POMERANTZ: Thank you, Your Honor.

4 So, Your Honor, number one on the agenda was the DSI
5 retention motion. Your Honor has already entered an order
6 approving that motion.

7 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

8 MR. POMERANTZ: Number two is the ordinary course of 9 business protocol motion, which was rendered moot by Your 10 Honor's approval of the settlement, so a notice of withdrawal
11 of that motion has been filed on the docket.

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MR. POMERANTZ: The number three and four, the 14 retentions of Foley Gardere and Lynn Pinker, we have agreed 15 with the Committee and ACIS to continue those hearings. At the 16 conclusion of this hearing, I will be asking perhaps for a
17 couple of hearing dates --

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. POMERANTZ: -- over the next couple of months so
20 that --

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. POMERANTZ: -- we can set these for the next one.
23 Number five is the PensionDanmark relief from stay motion.
24 That also by agreement has been continued until the next date.

25 Number six is the settlement motion. The only trailing

1 issue, if Your Honor may recall, the CLO Issuers had raised
2 some concerns that the ordinary course of business protocols
3 would somehow impact the ability of the Debtor and the CLO
4 Funds to operate in accordance with their contractual
5 documents. We have been engaged with them and with the 6 Creditors' Committee in discussions on how to address their 7 concerns. We are still working on that, and we would ask that 8 that matter continue to trail to the next hearing.

9 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

10 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, number seven and number 11 eight and number nine, we are -- we were -- they were -- 12 they're unopposed. There have been some discussions, both in 13 connection with the cash management motion and on the bonus
14 motion, of the Committee and others. We would propose to hear
15 those after the contested matters. So we would prefer to trail
16 them until after the three contested matters.

17 THE COURT: All right.

18 MR. POMERANTZ: And Your Honor, the three contested
19 matters remaining, we would propose to take them in the order
20 of argument on the agreed protective order. There is 21 opposition by the Trustee's Office. Then an argument on the 22 Committee seal motion, and then followed by the United States
23 Trustee's motion to appoint a trustee.

24 THE COURT: All right. I am good with that sequence.
25 Anyone want to comment?

1 All right. So we'll start with the protective order.

2 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, and I will cede the
3 podium to my partner, John Morris, who will be handling
4 argument on that.

5 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. Mr. Morris?

6 MR. MORRIS: Good morning, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Good morning.

8 MR. MORRIS: John Morris; Pachulski Stang Ziehl &
9 Jones; for the Debtor.

10 Your Honor, the Committee and the Debtor have agreed upon 11 the terms of a protective order. The protective order really 12 is a garden-variety protective order. And if I may, I would 13 just like to spend a couple of minutes giving the Court some 14 background as to how we got here.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MR. MORRIS: This case has been going on for three 17 months, and obviously there's been a substantial exchange of 18 information during the interim. The case was filed in mid-
19 October. Almost immediately, the Debtor received substantial
20 requests from the Committee's professionals, both the lawyers
21 as well as the financial advisors. Under the leadership of 22 Brad Sharp, who was acting at that point as the CRO, the Debtor
23 acted very quickly to provide the information that it could.

24 Given that it was asked to produce documents on a very 25 expedited basis, given that it was asked to produce information

1 on a wide variety of issues that didn't concern an adversary
2 proceeding, that didn't concern a contested matter, some of 3 which related to, for example, transactions that were being
4 contemplated and we wanted to give the Committee visibility,
5 for all those reasons, the documents were produced initially on 6 a professional-eyes-only basis.

7 From time to time, the Committee sought the Debtor's
8 consent to share certain of that information with the Committee
9 members in order to enable the Committee members to fulfill
10 their duties. And I won't go into detail, but most of the time
11 we agreed. Sometimes we didn't.

12 The fact is, Your Honor, the parties worked very 13 cooperatively throughout the fall, notwithstanding the 14 adversarial nature of the proceedings, to provide information.
15 And we continued on that basis until late December, when the 16 Committee and the Debtor finally reached an agreement on the 17 terms of a protective order, and that's what we filed I think 18 on December 27th.

19 And the flow of information continued. The parties, I
20 think it's fair to say, have relied upon the terms of that 21 order. Under the guidance of the newly-appointed independent 22 directors, the Debtor has continued to provide information to 23 the Debtor as well as to other parties.

24 What information has been provided during this time? I
25 think it's important for Your Honor to understand the

1 magnitude of just what the Debtor has done here. I think the 2 Committee has made over 30 -- no, let me state it differently.
3 The Debtor has made over 30 separate document productions. It
4 covers more than 10,000 pages of material. It covers the 5 laundry list of issues that the Committee is interested in,
6 again, both with respect to contested matters and stuff that 7 has absolutely nothing to do with anything that's on the 8 Court's calendar today.

9 We've engaged in depositions. The Committee took three 10 very extensive depositions of Mr. Sharp, the CRO, of Mr.
11 Caruso, his partner at DSI, and they took a more-than-seven-
12 hour deposition of Frank Waterhouse, the CFO of the Debtor. I 13 defended each of those depositions. I didn't direct any of my 14 witnesses not to answer a single question. So there's been 15 full transparency here. I think there was maybe one question
16 that I asked to be marked confidential because it pertained to 17 the identity of investors in a nondebtor entity, and the 18 Committee didn't object to that.

19 So there's been that free flow of information.

20 Of course, Your Honor, the Debtor has filed its schedules,
21 its SOFAs. The Debtor sat for an almost-two-hour examination
22 before the United States Trustee and creditors, answering 23 questions about those documents at a 341 meeting that is going
24 to be continued tomorrow morning.

25 The point here, Your Honor, is that the agreed-upon rules

1 as reflected in the protective order haven't hindered the flow
2 of information. In fact, it's enhanced the ability of the 3 Creditors' Committee to gain information.

4 In the absence of the cooperation between the Committee
5 and the Debtor, Your Honor, I believe it's hard to imagine how 6 we could have reached an agreement on things like corporate
7 governance and the bonus motion, which includes information
8 relating to personnel matters, salaries and things of that 9 nature. And so this flow of information I think is helping 10 the Debtor's estate, it's helping the process, and I think it
11 ought to be encouraged, frankly.

12 As I mentioned earlier, another very critical component of 13 the information-sharing is sharing with the Committee
14 information relating to proposed transactions. That has 15 nothing, again, to do with an adversary proceeding, has 16 nothing to do with a contested matter, but it would really
17 hinder the Debtor's ability to operate if it was in a
18 contentious situation with the Committee over its day-to-day
19 business. And so, again, this protective order enables the 20 Debtor to carry forth its business.

21 I think it's important, Your Honor, to look at what the 22 consequences of this have been. Neither the Committee nor 23 anybody else has ever filed a motion to compel the Debtor to 24 provide information. Neither the Committee nor any other 25 party in interest has ever even requested a conference with

1 this Court or the Court in Delaware on matters relating to 2 discovery.

3 No one has objected to the protective order except the 4 United States Trustee. And we do appreciate the perspective
5 and the position that the United States Trustee is in, but 6 it's got to be taken into the context of this case. And in 7 the context of this case, where the Committee is on board,
8 where nobody else is objecting, the Court ought to ask itself
9 why. And I think the reason why is because the process is 10 really working, and it's working very well.

11 The people and the entities that are mentioned in the 12 United States Trustee's objection, whether it's ACIS or the 13 SEC or the PBGC or investors, they're all very sophisticated
14 parties, they're all well aware of what's happening, they all 15 have notice, and nobody is here objecting. And I think that's 16 very important.

17 The good news, Your Honor, I think the good news, anyway,
18 is the Committee and the Debtor have agreed to amend its form
19 of protective order in a way that we hope and we believe goes
20 a long way to addressing the United States Trustee's concerns.
21 In particular, what we've done is we've added the United 22 States Trustee as one of the parties who will receive
23 everything. Okay. So we've amended that. And Your Honor, I
24 have both clean and blacklines of the revised protective 25 order, if you'd like me to hand it up.

1 THE COURT: All right. You may approach.

2 MR. MORRIS: And I can just show you exactly where 3 these changes have been made.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Thank you.

5 MR. MORRIS: So, Your Honor, you'll see in the 6 blackline at Paragraph 2 on Page 7 that we've added in 7 Subparagraph 2(f) the United States Trustee's Office. So
8 they're now one of the people or entities --

9 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

10 MR. MORRIS: -- who will receive everything. And 11 then on Page 11 in Paragraph 10, we've tried to make it very 12 clear that the protective order is not intended to prevent the 13 U.S. Trustee from disclosing discovery material in compliance
14 with a subpoena or court order or a FOIA request, provided 15 that the Debtor and the Committee are given notice pursuant to 16 Paragraph 9 so that we have an opportunity to intervene if we 17 think that there's a reason not to engage in that process.

18 So, as long as we receive notice, you know, the U.S.
19 Trustee can be responsive in the way that I think, I think at 20 least to some degree, they want to.

21 This order now, Your Honor, and I think this is -- I'll 22 thank the Committee for pointing this out -- this order is now
23 really wholly consistent with a protective order that was 24 entered by Judge Hale in the PHI case. It was entered just 25 last April, and it's filed at Docket #316. And that's a

1 protective order that wasn't entered in connection with an
2 adversary proceeding or a contested matter. It was a
3 protective order that was for use to all parties who wanted to 4 participate in discovery at any stage of the case. It also 5 included the United States Trustee's Office as one of the 6 recipients of documents, and it specifically provided not only
7 for confidential information but for professional-eyes-only 8 designation. I have a copy of that order if it would be 9 helpful for the Court to see.

10 THE COURT: All right. You may approach.

11 (Pause.)

12 MR. MORRIS: To the extent that there's any party who 13 has not yet requested information or has not sought discovery,
14 if the Court enters this order they'll be able to do so
15 pursuant to this order. And to be clear, as soon as a party
16 either requests or produces information, discovery
17 information, they become a party to this document. And so 18 they'll have all of the rights and the abilities to seek 19 information, to challenge designations. So nobody's rights
20 are really being curtailed in their ability to gain discovery.
21 And at this point, Your Honor, we have both the Committee as 22 well as the United States Trustee's Office who are going to 23 see everything. And so if either the Committee or the 24 Trustee's Office believe that the Debtor has improperly 25 labeled or categorized any document as either confidential or

1 highly confidential, there's a process to be followed. And 2 that process, I think, is quite reasonable. It's pretty
3 standard, at least in my experience. They'll let us know that
4 they disagree. We'll have a conversation. We'll either --
5 the Debtor will either agree to redesignate the document or 6 we'll bring the matter to the Court for the Court's
7 determination.

8 Sealing issues. Again, the U.S. Trustee's Office and the 9 Committee will both be fully informed as to what's happening
10 here. And if either of them has an issue, they can bring that 11 to the Court's attention.

12 To the extent that there is a disputed matter before the 13 Court on a sealing motion, the rules of engagement remain the 14 same. There's nothing in this protective order that seeks to 15 shift the burden. There's nothing in this protective order
16 that seeks to change the burden. The only thing that it does 17 is it attempts to identify, through the agreement with the 18 Committee, the types of information that the Debtor reserves
19 the right to designate as highly confidential.

20 It doesn't mean that that's now the standard that the 21 Court has -- the Court will rule, employ whatever standard it
22 thinks is appropriate, frankly. But it's a description, I
23 think it's in Paragraph 12, of the type of information that we 24 would mark as highly confidential. And I think the Committee
25 would agree, if given the opportunity, to give the Court some

1 comfort that at this point the Debtor has been quite judicious
2 and limiting in terms of the amount of information that
3 they've designated for that particular category.

4 So, in summary, Your Honor, there's no dispute that it's 5 needed. Gratefully, even the U.S. Trustee isn't telling the 6 Court that a protective order is not needed. From the 7 Debtor's perspective, it's not only needed, I would -- I
8 daresay it's required. Because if you want the Debtor and the 9 Committee to continue to engage in a free flow of information
10 outside of an adversary proceeding, outside of a contested
11 matter, this is the only way to do it. And I know that's what 12 the Debtor wants. I believe that's what the Committee wants.
13 It's why we've entered into this agreement. So these are 14 matters that ought to be protected.

15 1102(b)(3) doesn't give all creditors a right to all 16 documents. It gives them the right to information. And we 17 believe that this agreement facilitates the Committee's 18 ability to get information and to share it, as they determine,
19 with their members.

20 Unless Your Honor has any questions, I have nothing
21 further.

22 THE COURT: I do not. All right. Ms. Reid, did you
23 -- it's a joint motion. Did you want to say something?

24 MS. REID: Yes, Your Honor. Penny Reid with Sidley
25 Austin on behalf of the Creditors' Committee.

1 Just briefly, I would agree with Mr. Morris that this
2 protective order was a heavily-negotiated protective order
3 that took quite a while to get the parties' agreement, and it
4 enabled the Creditors' Committee to get the documents it
5 needed.

6 What is very important to note is two things. It does 7 provide a mechanism for any party to object to the 8 designation. And it's the burden of the party designating it
9 to support the designation. And all disputes or anything
10 related to this order comes to Your Honor. It's the 11 jurisdiction of this Court to decide everything, which is also 12 very important to our client.

13 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

14 MS. REID: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Lambert? Have we at 16 least made some progress from your prospective with the added
17 language?

18 MS. LAMBERT: We're making some progress, but not 19 sufficient progress. May I approach the bench --

20 THE COURT: You may.

21 MS. LAMBERT: -- with the exhibit binders?

22 THE COURT: All right.

23 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, this is not, as the Debtor
24 characterized it, a garden-variety protective order. This is 25 not like the PHI order, which was a confidentiality order that

1 defined parameters for sharing information with the creditors.
2 This is a motion that prevents the sharing of matters.
3 Protective orders are granted in contested matters and in 4 adversaries, not in the case in chief. Rule 23 is not
5 available in the case in chief. Section 1102, the only 6 statute that they cite, presumes sharing, not failing to 7 disclose. And the reason --

8 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you this. I want to 9 really drill down on this, because, you know, he used the 10 words, counsel used the words garden-variety. And frankly,
11 when I read these pleadings back in chambers, I thought, I
12 think this is pretty standard fare, this protective order. I
13 think I've signed something like this many times before.

14 And I get what you're saying. Well, let me see if I get 15 what you're saying. It feels like your main issue is that we 16 don't have a contested matter or an adversary proceeding. But 17 what I will throw out is this: Had we had a motion for a 2004
18 exam, a gazillion times I have seen people come back with 19 okay, we, debtor, will produce, but we want this protective 20 order. And it ends up looking maybe almost identical to this 21 one.

22 Another context I thought of was back shortly after the 23 2005 amendments when these new provisions were added with 24 regard to creditors' committees and sharing in 1102(b), I very 25 often saw, in complex Chapter 11s, a protocol order, we

1 sometimes called it, where a creditors' committee sort of 2 wanted cover for their dos and don'ts, and it resulted in sort
3 of a protective order. You know, I haven't gone back and 4 looked and compared terms, but something like this.

5 MS. LAMBERT: Right.

6 THE COURT: So, --

7 MS. LAMBERT: And the PHI order is --

8 THE COURT: -- are we punishing -- is this a no good 9 deed goes unpunished sort of thing? They didn't make the 10 Creditors' Committee file a 2004 motion.

11 MS. LAMBERT: The difference --

12 THE COURT: They've produced. And then now they've 13 negotiated this. I mean, --

14 MS. LAMBERT: The difference is very important, Your 15 Honor. You have --

16 THE COURT: What is --

17 MS. LAMBERT: -- gone right to the crux. A motion
18 for 2004 exam defines the areas to be discovered. An 19 adversary proceeding defines the areas to be discovered. A 20 motion for contested matter defines the issues that are 21 subject to discovery. Here, --

22 THE COURT: They -- the Debtor --

23 MS. LAMBERT: -- no one --

24 THE COURT: -- didn't insist on that. The Debtor is 25 just like, fine. We're going to in good faith produce.

1 MS. LAMBERT: But it's not the Debtor's issue.

2 THE COURT: We just want this order.

3 MS. LAMBERT: It's also the parties' issues, the 4 other creditors. If you have some knowledge of what is at 5 issue, you have some opportunity to come to the Court and say
6 hey, I, the SEC, or I, Creditor X, also am interested in what 7 --

8 THE COURT: But nothing about this order would 9 prevent them from filing --

10 MS. LAMBERT: But they don't know --

11 THE COURT: -- a 2004 motion and seeking the 12 information themselves, correct?

13 MS. LAMBERT: Right. And then they're going to have 14 to fight the sealing provision. So -- or the fact that it's 15 been designated highly confidential, which they would not have 16 had to fight otherwise until an opportunity came and they knew 17 what the information was. But now they don't have the 18 information. See, the information would have been given to 19 them as highly confidential, --

20 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

21 MS. LAMBERT: -- maybe labeled that way, in a
22 protective order in connection with their litigation.

23 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

24 MS. LAMBERT: But now they don't even get to get it
25 because it's already protected from them. Already insulated.

1 This is the problem.

2 So the -- if the Court compares the PHI order -- and the 3 U.S. Trustee certainly understands that there must be sharing
4 protocols or some type of confidentiality in general. This is 5 not it, though. This goes way beyond that. There should be a
6 provision that creditors can get information under certain 7 circumstances.

8 If the Court looks at the orders that are typical in these 9 cases, there is such a provision. That does not exist. In 10 addition, the carve-out in the order for contested matters, 11 2004 exams, and adversaries is material. And they should be 12 carved out here, too.

13 So those are the substantive, big-parameter issues of why
14 this, as a matter of law, is problematic.

15 In addition, there are particular provisions that are 16 untenable. The first is the limitation on the Government.
17 And this goes all the way back to the WorldCom case, Your 18 Honor. In WorldCom, a court entered an order for the examiner
19 to be able to interview people under seal, basically, in 20 confidence. An examiner prepared various reports. Later, the 21 U.S. Attorney's Office sought to obtain those, and they were 22 not able to because they had been done under seal originally 23 and that was material to the disclosure of the information.
24 This Court should not modify the statutory obligations that 25 the parties have to refer matters, either for ethical or

1 criminal matters. The U.S. Trustee circulated the routine
2 language that we ask for in every order of this type, and they
3 declined to do it.

4 THE COURT: Show me that language.

5 MS. LAMBERT: I can -- I can provide the Court with a
6 -- the language. I emailed it to them. I don't have it here
7 right now, but I can provide it to the Court. But basically,
8 I'm sure the Court has seen it before, we put it in all of our 9 languages, and it says nothing in this order constrains the 10 obligations of any party under ethical or federal statute to 11 share information. But now what's required is, if the U.S.
12 Trustee wants --

13 THE COURT: I don't know if I've ever signed -- I 14 mean, that might be an exception that would swallow up the 15 rule. I feel like I have -- I've approved language before 16 that, you know, says kind of the sky is blue, nothing prevents 17 a party from seeking modification of this order on notice to 18 parties and a hearing.

19 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, --

20 THE COURT: I mean, --

21 MS. LAMBERT: -- the United States Trustee should not 22 be required to come to this Court to tell -- or to tell the 23 Debtor that they have a subpoena for information or that 24 they're sending a criminal referral.

25 THE COURT: No, no, no. There's already an exception

1 on there for a subpoena.

2 MS. LAMBERT: No. No. The issue is --

3 THE COURT: But you don't think you have to give them
4 notice if you did a subpoena?

5 MS. LAMBERT: I have to give them notice. If I have 6 a FOIA request --

7 THE COURT: I mean, but you don't think that's 8 appropriate?

9 MS. LAMBERT: No, Your Honor. I don't think it's 10 appropriate that the U.S. Trustee, who has an obligation
11 statutorily, and the Court has an obligation statutorily, to 12 send matters to the U.S. Attorney's Office, that we have to 13 disclose when we're doing that. No. And other parties in 14 interest should be free to do that, too. That's what the 15 statute says. We have an obligation to do that.

16 We don't have to tell them what our whole case is. It
17 will become apparent if the U.S. Attorney's Office pursues it.
18 They release the information, usually. But this is not 19 standard. It has never been --

20 THE COURT: Okay. I just want the language that you
21 --

22 MS. LAMBERT: All right.

23 THE COURT: -- you argue is standard, and you said
24 that --

25 MS. LAMBERT: That language is, Nothing in this order

1 constrains anybody --

2 THE COURT: I want to see it. I want to get -- see
3 examples.

4 MS. LAMBERT: All right. Well, I'm happy --

5 THE COURT: Because I don't remember -- maybe I've 6 signed it a million times and I just don't remember, but I
7 don't really remember that.

8 MS. LAMBERT: I'm happy to provide the Court with a
9 number of orders signed by a number of judges in this 10 district.

11 THE COURT: I would like to see it now.

12 MS. LAMBERT: Okay. Well, I will have Ms. Kippes
13 provide that. But --

14 THE COURT: She's sitting in the back of the 15 courtroom now.

16 MS. LAMBERT: I'm sure that she is.

17 So, the other thing is, Your Honor, --

18 THE COURT: Unless you can show me right now, look, 19 here, in fact, is the garden-variety form of order, here is 20 the language that time after time after time after time after 21 time courts insist upon, --

22 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor has not required -- Your 23 Honor has not required them to provide any evidence that this
24 language is standard. And it's not. So, --

25 THE COURT: I have a form of order that the

1 Creditors' Committee is supportive of and has heavily
2 negotiated. And it just looks at first glance to me to be
3 somewhat garden-variety. So, --

4 MS. LAMBERT: Well, --

5 THE COURT: -- you as the objector need to, you know,
6 point out why it's not.

7 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the appearance of this case
8 is that there's a desire to keep it from being public. This 9 Court routinely, all the time, says bankruptcy is an open
10 process.

11 THE COURT: But I also, routinely, all the time, sign
12 protective orders. And it's like, We'll have a hearing down
13 the road if something needs to get in the record. This is 14 about discovery outside the courtroom.

15 MS. LAMBERT: Correct. And the order in PHI, I think 16 the Court will find, is very different from the order in this 17 case. So -- and is useful for that reason. I anticipate the 18 --

19 THE COURT: Okay. Go through the protective order in 20 PHI and highlight for me provisions that it has --

21 MS. LAMBERT: It does not bar sharing with government
22 entities. It is not as limiting to professional eyes, though 23 it has some limitations. And it contemplates sharing with 24 creditors under defined provisions.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Again, lengthy order. Point out

1 which provision from PHI you would like to see in this order.

2 MS. LAMBERT: All right. If the Court gives me a
3 break, I will annotate the order.

4 The IRS, I anticipate the evidence will be, has an 5 estimated claim of $8 million to $9 million that's on appeal.
6 The SEC is involved in the oversight of this Debtor. The PBGC
7 is a creditor.

8 THE COURT: They can file motions for a 2004 or file
9 an adversary. Or they file a proof of claim, it's objected
10 to, we can have discovery.

11 MS. LAMBERT: That changes the --

12 THE COURT: They got notice of this motion --

13 MS. LAMBERT: The change --

14 THE COURT: -- for approval of a protective order.
15 Yes or no?

16 MS. LAMBERT: Yes. I'm not -- I question whether the 17 IRS has as a creditor. I think they received notice because 18 they're not really listed as a creditor, they're listed as 19 contested.

20 THE COURT: Okay. But they got notice. They have 21 able counsel that shows up all the time in cases.

22 MS. LAMBERT: So, Your Honor, the statute, 1102,
23 presumes the disclosure of information, not the constraining
24 of information.

25 THE COURT: But you would agree, would you not, that

1 many, many times courts have entered protective orders in 2 connection with a Committee's 1102(b) obligations?

3 MS. LAMBERT: No.

4 THE COURT: Again, I use the analogy back shortly
5 after the 2005 amendments, --

6 MS. LAMBERT: They're referred --

7 THE COURT: -- where people prospectively said hey,
8 we want -- we want to be clear we're doing things correct,
9 we'll share information with our constituency, we, the 10 Creditors' Committee, but there's certain confidential,
11 privileged items we may somehow get into our hands, and we 12 want to --

13 MS. LAMBERT: It is --

14 THE COURT: -- be clear about what we have to share
15 and what we should not.

16 MS. LAMBERT: It is true that the Court enters 17 confidentiality orders in cases. I'm well aware of that. The 18 issues of this one is different. It is not garden-variety.
19 The difference goes right to the language of confidential
20 versus protected.

21 Your Honor, another aspect of this case or this motion
22 that is not workable is the sealing provision being co-
23 extensive with those, the items that are designated as highly 24 protected. You heard at the Federal Bar Association meeting
25 only last week that the magistrate judges were talking about

1 striking these provisions routinely. The FJC's publication on 2 protective orders and sealing also says it should not be
3 coextensive, should be a separate motion to seal. The 4 standards are totally different and much higher for sealing
5 the documents. This is a public process, and it should be 6 maintained as a public process.

7 THE COURT: All right. Any --

8 MS. LAMBERT: The Court delegates under this motion
9 its responsibility to evaluate information to the Debtor
10 unilaterally. The Debtor gets to make the decisions, not the 11 Court. And nobody knows what those decisions are, except 12 maybe the party that is asking for the information. If you
13 don't know that the information exists and it's already 14 subject to protection, you never get that opportunity.

15 It's for these reasons that the motion should be denied or 16 tailored.

17 THE COURT: All right. Anything else?

18 You know, no one has mentioned this, but it danced through 19 my brain: Part of the settlement I approved with the 20 Committee contemplated sort of a common interest privilege on 21 some things, right? Or am I misremembering that?

22 MR. MORRIS: They will have access, Your Honor, to 23 information as part of their investigation. I can't tell you
24 off the top of my head --

25 THE COURT: Okay. No one --

1 MR. MORRIS: -- the precise parameters of it.

2 THE COURT: No one can immediately tell me?

3 MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Anything else?

5 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, if the Court would like,
6 the U.S. Trustee is happy to annotate one of the orders and to 7 provide a supplement with the orders that contain the 8 language, both that the Court -- this Court has entered and 9 other courts have entered from the district.

10 THE COURT: All right. Well, --

11 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, just very briefly. John 12 Morris, again. Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones.

13 THE COURT: This motion has been pending for a long
14 time. It was actually filed in Delaware?

15 MR. MORRIS: It has.

16 THE COURT: Okay.

17 MR. MORRIS: And it's -- and we've relied on it.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. MORRIS: The reason that I went through the 20 background, Your Honor, is to give the Court the assurance 21 that it's working, it's not being abused. By bringing the 22 U.S. Trustee under the tent with the Creditors' Committee, 23 you're going to have two independent parties who are going to 24 review and challenge, if they think appropriate, the Debtor's
25 designations.

1 Nobody is being prevented here from filing a motion,
2 whether it's for a 2004 or another contested matter. Nobody
3 here is -- just because something is marked as highly 4 confidential doesn't mean that other people can't get access
5 to it. They just need to come and use a device pursuant to 6 which it's responsive. That's all it is. It is garden-
7 variety, Your Honor. Thank you.

8 THE COURT: All right. I'm going to overrule the 9 objections and approve the proposed agreed protective order as 10 amended in accordance with the mark-up that was shown and the 11 announcement made.

12 I am also, even though I think this is like saying the sky
13 is blue, I'm also going to direct that the Debtor and 14 Committee add a sentence at the very last paragraph that the 15 Court reserves the right to amend or -- amend this order upon 16 motion by any party in interest and notice and a hearing.

17 Again, I think that's probably a no-brainer, doesn't need
18 to be said, but I'm going to direct it to be said in there.
19 And, again, it would have to be on motion of a party in 20 interest and notice and a hearing, and we can all come and 21 argue whether some sort of amendment is needed to this order.
22 And, you know, you already have provisions in there that 23 contemplate, you know, someone may file a motion pursuant to 24 this order, but we'll just throw that in for good measure.

25 Again, I feel like this is an agreed order that is not

1 substantially different from forms of order this Court and
2 other courts have approved many times before. While the 3 timing and context may seem different, feel different to the 4 U.S. Trustee, I feel like, as we say in the law, it's a
5 difference -- a distinction without a difference, or whatever
6 the expression is.

7 Again, I allude to the many times in the past where a
8 creditors' committee, early in the case, before there were 9 contested matters, before there were adversary proceedings,
10 filed motion for approval of protocols under 1102(b) regarding 11 its obligation to share information, and by the time we showed 12 up for the hearing, there was an agreed protective order that 13 had been negotiated.

14 I compare it to the context of the committee or somebody 15 files a motion for a 2004 exam early in the case, and then we 16 come back with an agreed protective order.

17 I said before it's as though, to me, no good deed goes
18 unpunished. We have cooperation early on the case, and now, 19 you know, when this agreed protective order is proposed, the 20 argument is, well, there wasn't a 2004, there wasn't a 21 contested matter. Again, I don't think that distinction from 22 other cases makes any meaningful difference. I think there's 23 good cause pursuant to 1102(b), 105, and Rule 26. While maybe
24 not triggered yet with a contested matter or adversary
25 proceeding, I think there's good cause to approve this agreed

1 form of protective order.

2 All right. So, if you all could make those changes that
3 we discussed here on the record, and I'll sign it right away.

4 MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: All right. We now had the seal motion of 6 the Committee that I think you all proposed we go to second
7 today. And I'll tell you what floated through my head,
8 reading these pleadings. It almost felt like a moot issue by 9 this point. I don't know if anyone -- maybe I took your 10 thunder here, but --

11 MR. TWOMEY: You did somewhat steal my thunder, Your 12 Honor. I just wanted --

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MR. TWOMEY: Dennis Twomey again on behalf of the 15 Creditors' Committee.

16 THE COURT: I'm sure you're going to articulate it
17 much better than I just did.

18 MR. TWOMEY: If I might, Your Honor, maybe I'll take 19 a minute just to describe the genesis of the motion, which, --

20 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

21 MR. TWOMEY: -- just like the motion you heard, is 22 also about two months old and has been on ice for a while.
23 The Committee filed a motion to seal back in early December in 24 conjunction with, at the time, the Committee's objection, the 25 omnibus objection to the Debtor's second-day motions. As you

1 just noted, those objections were all resolved as part of the 2 governance settlement that you approved at the last hearing.
3 In terms of what was covered by the motion to seal as part of 4 that omnibus objection, which has now been resolved, the 5 Committee had attached as Exhibits C and D two orders that 6 were issued in the arbitration proceedings between the Debtor
7 and the Redeemer Committee, which, as Your Honor is aware, the 8 Redeemer Committee is a member of our Creditors' Committee
9 here. And at the time of the filing, the Committee sought to 10 seal the awards, primarily because the Debtor had previously
11 expressed to the Redeemer Committee that the Debtor believed 12 the rewards were subject to a protective order in that 13 litigation. And the Redeemer Committee at the time, while --

14 THE COURT: Now, let me ask you to repeat what you
15 just said, because I know this was brought up in the U.S.
16 Trustee's motion. You alluded to a protective order in your 17 motion. Are you saying now that you thought at the time there
18 was a protective order in place in the arbitration that you
19 might be running afoul of by disclosing it?

20 MR. TWOMEY: Correct.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. TWOMEY: More specifically, Your Honor, we had to 23 get our omnibus objection, the Committee's omnibus objection
24 on file, and we wanted to include those awards as exhibits to 25 our omnibus objection. And the Redeemer Committee, who sits

1 on our Creditors' Committee, had indicated to the full
2 Committee that the Debtor had previously expressed the view
3 that these awards were subject to that separate protective
4 order in the other case.

5 And so, out of an abundance of caution, so that we could 6 get our omnibus objection on file, we sought -- we filed the 7 seal motion. And so that was sort of the genesis of the 8 motion.

9 So we filed it out of an abundance of caution in order to 10 press forward with our filing of the omnibus objection at the 11 time. And since that time, we've had the opportunity to 12 consider it more, and the Redeemer Committee has sort of 13 indicated its views on the protective order. But most 14 importantly, our objection, obviously, has now been resolved
15 as part of the settlement that Your Honor approved last week.

16 So, given that, coming full circle, Your Honor, the 17 Committee is no longer seeking the relief that we had 18 requested in the seal motion, and so that's where things stand
19 today. The Committee has communicated its position to both 20 the U.S. Trustee and the Debtor, and that's where things
21 stand.

22 So I believe the Debtor, in terms of the underlying 23 merits, I believe the Debtor still believes that those awards
24 contain some confidential information. Mr. Morris can speak
25 to that. And obviously, the U.S. Trustee had objected to our

1 seal motion.

2 But, again, Your Honor, coming full circle to the point
3 you raised initially, this really isn't an issue -- this isn't 4 a motion that the Committee continues to pursue, because the 5 objection, the underlying objection, the omnibus objection to 6 those second-day motions has been resolved as part of last
7 week's, or almost two weeks ago, the order that Your Honor
8 entered.

9 THE COURT: All right. So, to recap: The two 10 arbitration awards, or parts of them, I don't know if it was 11 the whole thing, but they were attached to the omnibus
12 objection, which is now moot because it was an objection to 13 the cash management motion, the DSI retention application, and 14 the ordinary course business protocols. That objection is 15 totally moot, if you will, now, because the global settlement
16 or the -- well, the settlement I approved last week resolved
17 all the issues raised in that objection. So, well, I guess, I 18 mean, what -- I was going to say, what would stop you from 19 just withdrawing the objection?

20 MR. TWOMEY: We can -- I think we can withdraw the 21 motion. Because it's a motion, obviously. We can withdraw 22 the motion to file under seal. That's --

23 THE COURT: Well, and again, I'm not telling you how 24 to do things, but I'm just saying that's what rolled through 25 my mind as far as why this might be a moot point.

1 MR. TWOMEY: Understood, Your Honor. And certainly,
2 from the Committee's perspective, we're not trying to, you
3 know, add more --

4 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

5 MR. TWOMEY: -- more issues that don't need to be 6 added. And I think that's exactly right. That's what I was 7 going to --

8 THE COURT: And that's part of what I'm getting here.
9 I mean, this could be a battle for another day. At some 10 point, someone may want to file a pleading attaching those 11 arbitration awards.

12 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, they are in evidence for 13 the motion to appoint a Chapter 11 trustee. That's why we're 14 having this motion before. The U.S. Trustee was constrained 15 to file its pleading redacted and all the documents under seal

17 THE COURT: Right.

18 MS. LAMBERT: -- because they're filed under seal
19 here and the order seals it.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Well, I guess what you're saying
21 is you're going to move, in connection with your trustee
22 motion in a few minutes, for me to admit into evidence these 23 arbitration awards we're arguing about right now?

24 MS. LAMBERT: That is correct.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

1 MR. TWOMEY: Thank you, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Thank you. Who else wishes to speak on 3 this?

4 MR. MORRIS: John Morris for Pachulski Stang Ziehl &
5 Jones for the Debtor.

6 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

7 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, my first point here was 8 objection moot; procedurally nothing before the Court. I
9 think that's been taken care of.

10 But it's a very important point. And the reason why it's 11 very important is because the Redeemer award was first
12 proffered by the Committee in opposition to the Debtor's
13 motion for the appointment of a CRO. Old management was going 14 to stay in place, and they were using -- I presume that they 15 would have attempted to use the Redeemer award to show that,
16 notwithstanding the Debtor's desire to appoint the CRO, old
17 management was still in place.

18 The reason why it's very important to note that the 19 objection that the Committee filed is now moot is because 20 we're now here in a very different context. We're here
21 because the United States Trustee's Office wants to offer the 22 Redeemer awards into evidence in support of their motion for 23 the appointment of a trustee. That motion is going to be 24 determined under 1104. 1104 relates solely to current 25 management. We were here two weeks ago, Your Honor, and the

1 Court approved an order appointing new management.

2 And so our first argument, Your Honor, is that there is no
3 sealing issue for the Court to decide in the first instance
4 because the Redeemer awards simply are not relevant and 5 shouldn't be admitted into evidence, and we can leave it for 6 another day when and if another party in interest seeks to 7 either discover or otherwise introduce into evidence the 8 Redeemer awards.

9 If you recall, the week before last we were here and the 10 United States Trustee's Office attempted to elicit argument
11 over prior acts that were described in Your Honor's ACIS
12 decision, in a prior SEC order, in the Redeemer awards. And I
13 think Your Honor properly at that point kind of shut it down
14 and said, We're here on a motion to appoint new management.
15 And we have new management. And I'm prepared to put my 16 witness in the box who will testify that the independent 17 directors are firmly in control of this debtor, that every 18 single employee is under their authority and control, that 19 they have the ability to fire any of them, that none of them 20 are able to engage in any conduct that is outside their 21 approval.

22 And so I think the Redeemer award -- and, frankly, we're 23 going to have the same objection to the U.S. Trustee's offer
24 of the ACIS opinion into evidence and the SEC order, because 25 they're all related to conduct that took place prepetition

1 under old management.

2 1104, the only section upon which this motion is based,
3 refers to current management. And I don't think that we want
4 to spend a whole day. I mean, I just don't think it's 5 relevant. And so if it's not relevant, then it's not 6 admissible into evidence. The Court need not even get to the 7 issue of sealing.

8 If the Court were inclined to introduce it into evidence,
9 we would still request that it be marked under seal.

10 Specifically, Your Honor, under 107, the Debtor believes 11 that there is a very compelling interest in keeping the 12 Redeemer awards confidential. It does go into substantial
13 allegations and findings pertaining to the Debtor's business
14 practices. We do believe it contains confidential
15 information, confidential commercial information, as required
16 under 107. And the Debtor is very concerned. And you will 17 hear the testimony from the independent directors about 18 innuendo and rumor that can get into the marketplace and 19 hinder the ability of the Debtor to reorganize and to go
20 forward with their business operations.

21 So, in sum, Your Honor, I think we've got two points to 22 make. One is that the Redeemer award has nothing to do with 23 current management. There's no allegation that it has 24 anything to do with current management. There won't be any 25 facts to establish that the Redeemer award has anything to do

1 with current management. And we think that kind of ends
2 everything.

3 But if Your Honor really is inclined to allow that into 4 evidence, we would still ask that it be marked under seal.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. MORRIS: Thank you.

7 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the U.S. Trustee has two 8 responses. And the first really goes to the motion to seal.
9 Cause can be broader than the items listed. That goes all the 10 way to Little Creek and is carried through into the Fifth
11 Circuit's precedent on trustee appointment. The statute says
12 "or similar cause."

13 So the U.S. Trustee has raised three issues in connection
14 with the appointment of a trustee, and one of those issues is 15 that the legal division of the Debtor has so much control over 16 the Debtor's conduct that that establishes cause to appoint a 17 trustee so that there is somebody to replace the (inaudible)
18 decisions.

19 I anticipate the evidence will be that the Court in ACIS
20 and that the arbitration award and the SEC opinion all go to 21 those types of issues. That's number one.

22 Number two, technically, and it's not just a bureaucratic 23 technicality under the facts, the management of this debtor
24 has not changed. Individuals at Strand have changed. And the 25 U.S. Trustee agrees that, under some circumstances, that might

1 resolve the issues. But not under the facts of this case.

2 And that's because Dondero remains the sole shareholder of the 3 Strand entity. And --

4 THE COURT: That's not management.

5 MS. LAMBERT: No, it's not.

6 THE COURT: It's an equity interest.

7 MS. LAMBERT: It's an equity interest. That's 8 correct. Management has changed, but the management owes a 9 fiduciary duty to the stockholder. And there are a lot of 10 things --

11 THE COURT: Didn't they contract around that --

12 MS. LAMBERT: No.

13 THE COURT: -- in the settlement agreement?

14 MS. LAMBERT: Mr. Dondero contracted around various 15 provisions, but the board did not. And the reason the board
16 did not, I believe, is that the Delaware statute prohibits
17 contracting around a fiduciary duty to shareholders. If you
18 think about it, it makes a lot of sense.

19 THE COURT: I signed an order.

20 MS. LAMBERT: You did sign an order.

21 THE COURT: It's not a contract.

22 MS. LAMBERT: And you signed an order where Mr.
23 Dondero constrained his rights to vote the stock and a variety
24 of other things, but that doesn't change the fiduciary
25 obligations of the board to Mr. Dondero's stock equity

1 interests. And the case law is that corporate fiduciary
2 duties to shareholders, generally speaking, cannot be changed.

3 So it's a problem. It's a problem that, you know, it's 4 not because I'm a genius, it's because I've played chess on 5 this table a number of times that I know that this problem can 6 arise. And it's an issue of conflict for the new board.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Let -- my brain needs to take 8 things in a certain sequence. In all the arguments, we've 9 bled over a little bit to your motion for appointment of a
10 trustee. On the motion to seal, --

11 MS. LAMBERT: On the motion --

12 THE COURT: -- I am inclined, and tell me why I
13 shouldn't, I'm inclined to punt. The objection is now moot.
14 The motion to seal to which it attaches, in my mind, is moot.
15 So I'm inclined to just deny for mootness, and then we --

16 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, --

17 THE COURT: -- punt to another day whether these 18 arbitration awards get in in some context. Can -- is there
19 any disagreement with that, so we can just roll into the U.S.
20 Trustee's motion?

21 MS. LAMBERT: The U.S. Trustee is not subject to a 22 protective order except one the Court's about to enter. At 23 the time this was entered, the U.S. Trustee had no -- was not 24 subject to the protective order, but we did receive these 25 documents under the motion to seal order. So I need some

1 clarity on what I'm going to be doing.

2 This arbitration award was the basis, according to the 3 declaration, the catalyst for the filing of this bankruptcy
4 case. And the Court is considering and being asked to 5 restrain its disclosure to the public. It's highly material
6 to the facts of this case --

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MS. LAMBERT: -- generally.

9 THE COURT: All right. Well, again, my simple brain
10 is going to take these things in sequence. I am denying the 11 motion to seal merely for mootness, okay? I'm overruling the 12 objection -- well, I'm deeming the objection of the Committee
13 as moot, the omnibus objection to the CRO, the cash management 14 motion. It's moot, and therefore the motion to seal relating 15 to it is moot.

16 I haven't made any ruling broader than that with regard to 17 this motion to seal.

18 Now, I realize there's the protective order I've just 19 approved, and that has some relevance here, but we're done on 20 the motion to seal. Okay? Denied for mootness only.

21 MS. LAMBERT: Dismissed for mootness?

22 THE COURT: Denied. Dismissed. Is there a
23 distinction there that I'm glossing over?

24 MS. LAMBERT: I think, procedurally, dismissed for 25 mootness.

1 THE COURT: All right. It's one or the other.
2 Committee, you can draft the order as you think is 3 appropriate. I dismiss/deny, either one.

4 All right. Let's --

5 MR. TWOMEY: Thank you, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Let's move to the motion for appointment
7 of a trustee. I assume you're going to want opening
8 statements. I've read the pleadings. They don't need to be 9 lengthy.

10 OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE U.S. TRUSTEE

11 MS. LAMBERT: Judge Jernigan, the Debtor and the U.S.
12 Trustee have agreed to do brief opening statements, and the 13 U.S. Trustee is going to move for the admission of the binders
14 to establish its case in chief. The Debtor has some 15 objections, some of which you've already heard, to the U.S.
16 Trustee's exhibits. And then we'll move to the Debtor's case
17 in chief.

18 THE COURT: All right. In your opening statement, 19 you're asking the Court to admit the ACIS opinion, the 20 Redeemer Committee's arbitration award, the partial award
21 dated March 3, 2019, the final award dated April 29, 2019, and 22 an SEC order of September 25, 2014?

23 MS. LAMBERT: That is --

24 THE COURT: You're asking me, in your opening
25 statement, to admit those?

1 MS. LAMBERT: No, Your Honor. I was going to do that
2 after my opening statement, --

3 THE COURT: Well, I was confused.

4 MS. LAMBERT: -- but I will do it now if you'd like.

5 THE COURT: I misunderstood your statement.

6 MS. LAMBERT: I was going to make my opening
7 statement, they're going to make their --

8 THE COURT: You may proceed.

9 MS. LAMBERT: All right.

10 THE COURT: You may proceed.

11 MS. LAMBERT: So, the issues in the motion to appoint
12 a Chapter 11 trustee are three.

13 First, the management is the same because Strand is still 14 the general partner. In some context, because the individuals
15 at Strand have changed, it is material. On the other hand, it 16 has created its own conflict, and that is the basis for the 17 appointment of a trustee.

18 Number two, the legal team is central. I anticipate the 19 evidence will be that many of the compliance issues that 20 caused problems in past cases and have -- and the evidence
21 will indicate that the management -- the legal management team
22 ignored the advice of outside counsel. The Court's findings
23 in the ACIS opinion go to individuals at the legal team who 24 still remain there. And the testimony I anticipate will be 25 that they continue to maintain control over compliance

1 decisions and other decisions at the Debtor, based on the 2 testimony of the CRO.

3 And, finally, the efforts to keep this case sub rosa by 4 filing expansive protective orders and seeking expansive
5 sealing of documents that are central to the case continue to 6 prevent the transparency that's necessary, and a Chapter 11
7 trustee would facilitate the transparency that the Court has 8 always emphasized in all of its cases is a cornerstone of 9 Chapter 11.

10 For these reasons, the U.S. Trustee seeks the appointment
11 of a Chapter 11 trustee in this case.

12 THE COURT: All right. Other opening statements?

13 OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DEBTOR

14 MR. POMERANTZ: Good morning again, Your Honor. Jeff
15 Pomerantz; Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones.

16 Your Honor, the burden is on the United States Trustee to 17 demonstrate by clear and convincing evidence that cause exists
18 for the appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee or that the 19 appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee is in the best interest of 20 parties. The Debtor intends to present the testimony of Mr.
21 John Dubel, one of the Debtor's independent directors, which 22 will demonstrate that the U.S. Trustee cannot come close to 23 meeting its burden.

24 Rather, the testimony will unequivocally demonstrate that 25 the alternative governance structure approved by this Court on

1 January 9th satisfactorily addresses any concerns with the 2 Debtor's prepetition management, allows the parties to put the 3 acrimony which marked the first three and a half months of 4 this case behind them, and allows them to focus on efforts to 5 restructure the Debtor's liabilities in an efficient and 6 timely manner.

7 Specifically, the testimony will show that, since its 8 employment, the board has been fully engaged in managing the 9 Debtor's business. That a member of the board has physically
10 been at the Debtor's headquarters for six of the seven days
11 since their appointment, and that Mr. Dubel, the testifying
12 witness, has devoted in excess of 80 hours to the engagement
13 in the last 12 days.

14 The testimony will show that the board has met with 15 department heads and received briefings from them regarding 16 all facets of the Debtor's operations. And that, importantly,
17 the Debtor's employees, including the legal department, are 18 respecting the independent board members' authority and are 19 fully cooperating with the board.

20 And lastly, that the board is effectively overseeing the 21 implementation of the court-approved protocols.

22 Lastly, Your Honor, the evidence will demonstrate that the 23 appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee would destabilize the 24 business further, creating further uncertainty and adversely
25 affect the Debtor's ability to restructure.

1 For these reasons, Your Honor, the Debtor opposes the 2 appointment of a trustee. Thank you, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: All right. Any other opening statements?

4 MR. TWOMEY: Your Honor, Dennis Twomey on behalf of 5 the Committee. The Committee did file an objection, Your 6 Honor, but does not intend to put forth any evidence. So if 7 it's okay with Your Honor, we would prefer to just wait to 8 make our statement until the end of the proceedings.

9 THE COURT: All right. That's fine.

10 MR. TWOMEY: Thank you.

11 THE COURT: Thank you. All right. Ms. Lambert?

12 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, Ms. Kippes has provided me
13 with this Court's order in the Adeptus case, where the Court
14 did include the standard language that the U.S. Trustee has 15 about referring criminal or ethical obligations. I'm happy to 16 present it to the Court.

17 THE COURT: All right. Well, you may. I've made my 18 ruling, but --

19 (Pause.)

20 THE COURT: Again, I've made my ruling. And, you
21 know, I don't know if this was heavily negotiated in that 22 case. If it was, you know, fine. I just don't know.

23 MS. LAMBERT: If I may I approach the bench?

24 THE COURT: Okay. These are the proposed exhibits
25 for the Trustee now?

1 MS. LAMBERT: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, I have an additional set of 4 binders. I'd intended for the ones that I presented to the 5 Court to be the work copies, and there to be an original set.
6 Does the Court not need the original set?

7 THE COURT: Well, did you give one to Tom?

8 MS. LAMBERT: I did.

9 THE COURT: Okay. We're good, then. Well, Tom,
10 don't work on yours.

11 MS. LAMBERT: No, I have an additional one.

12 THE COURT: Oh, well, if you have an additional one, 13 fine.

14 MS. LAMBERT: Yeah.

15 THE COURT: Give it to Michael over here.

16 (Pause.)

17 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the U.S. Trustee moves for 18 the admission of all but Exhibit 6, which the U.S. Trustee
19 hasn't been able to obtain, which is the transcript of the 341
20 meeting.

21 THE COURT: Okay. So, 1 through 5 and 7 through 11?

22 MS. LAMBERT: Yes, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: All right. I know there are objections
24 to some of these. Are there some that are not objected to?

25 MR. MORRIS: May I speak from here, Your Honor?

1 THE COURT: Yes.

2 MR. MORRIS: Okay. John Morris for the Debtor. The 3 Debtor has no objection to Exhibits 4, 5, 8, and 9.

4 (U.S. Trustee's Exhibits 4, 5, 8, and 9 are received into 5 evidence without objection.)

6 MR. MORRIS: With respect to Exhibit #7, which 7 pertains to certain deposition designations, we've got a list
8 here that we shared with the U.S. Trustee's Office yesterday
9 that goes through each of the designations and identifies 10 those with which we have objections, those with which we do
11 not. We identified the bases for each of the objections, and 12 we've also offered a limited set of counterdesignations, to 13 which I understand the U.S. Trustee does not object.

14 If it would be easier, I could just mark this as an 15 exhibit and give it to the Court for the Court's 16 consideration.

17 THE COURT: All right. He's got a substitute, it 18 sounds like, for Exhibit 7. Do you have an issue with that?

19 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the U.S. Trustee put in the 20 entire deposition, anticipating that the rule of completeness
21 would be sought and due to the time constraints and the 22 holiday weekend, not being able to change our depositions. So 23 we don't have any objections to the rule of completeness and 24 the entire deposition transcript, statement of a party, is in 25 the binder under Tab 7.

1 THE COURT: All right. Well, --

2 MR. MORRIS: That's not what we were asking, Your 3 Honor. We do not want the entire transcript admitted into 4 evidence for any reason. The U.S. Trustee's Office
5 specifically identified certain pages and lines, and we 6 responded. And there's a very limited set of 7 counterdesignations that we've offered simply for purposes, I
8 think, of I say completeness in two instances and context in 9 one. But nothing should go into evidence that is either
10 unobjected to or if the Court overrules any of our objections.
11 We don't want the whole transcript into evidence.

12 THE COURT: All right. So, do you need to look at 13 his revised version of your Exhibit 7?

14 MS. LAMBERT: Well, I would, yes.

15 THE COURT: Okay. And, again, I understood he gave 16 it to you earlier.

17 MS. LAMBERT: He gave it to me yesterday during the 18 holiday.

19 The objections that they've made are on relevance, and the 20 U.S. Trustee's response on the relevance is that the 21 management issues go to the in-house counsel as well, and 22 there's testimony about the in-house counsel. The only
23 objections are on relevance, Your Honor, and because this is a
24 bench trial, the Court has broader discretion on a relevance
25 objection than it would in a jury trial, as the Court is

1 disciplined and can scan out those materials that are not
2 relevant. And, more importantly, they are relevant to the 3 case as the U.S. Trustee has alleged it.

4 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, the relevance objections
5 actually are not limited to issues of whether or not the 6 testimony relates to current management. Some of them have to 7 do with venue and I'm not even sure why it was designated.
8 But we've made our objections, and I think it would be 9 appropriate for the Court to rule. We understand that it's a 10 bench trial, but that doesn't -- that doesn't negate the Rules
11 of Evidence.

12 THE COURT: All right. Well, I certainly don't want 13 to go back in chambers and read the entire deposition if 14 that's not really what anyone was originally wanting me to do.

15 MS. LAMBERT: For this reason, Your Honor, the U.S.
16 Trustee has designated the lines that were relevant in the 17 U.S. Trustee's witness and exhibit list 7. And they 18 corresponding have designated the lines that they feel are 19 necessary for completeness and context.

20 THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to -- I guess I'm 21 overruling the objection to 7. I will look at your deposition
22 excerpts and I will look at what Mr. Morris has handed you as 23 far as his supplemental excerpts. All right?

24 (U.S. Trustee's Exhibit 7 is received into evidence as 25 specified. Debtor's supplement is received into evidence as

1 specified.)

2 MR. MORRIS: So then with respect to the exhibits,
3 Your Honor, I don't know if you want to hear argument now on 4 the objections.

5 THE COURT: All right. So, we have objections to 1,
6 2, and 3.

7 MR. MORRIS: Right. And those really just follow
8 along the argument that I made earlier. All of these 9 documents, the first one, I believe, is the ACIS opinion. The 10 second is the Redeemer awards. The third is a more than five-
11 year-old SEC cease-and-desist order. And our argument is that 12 they should not come into evidence for any purpose. They all,
13 to the extent -- you know, I'm not sure what they're trying to 14 use with them, but, again, 1104 is crystal clear. It relates 15 to the current management. None of the current managers were 16 at the Debtor prior to two weeks ago, let alone at the time
17 these orders were entered.

18 THE COURT: All right. Let me tell you where I am on 19 this, Ms. Lambert. I almost think of this as a summary
20 judgment issue on current management. I mean, I am inclined 21 to agree with the Debtor's argument that 1104 -- is it (b)(1)?
22 No. Which one? (a)(1). Just simply doesn't apply as a
23 matter of law anymore because we're not talking about current 24 management anymore.

25 Now, your U.S. Trustee motion lives another day, in my

1 view, because of 1104(a)(2), because you might still convince 2 me that it's in the interest of creditors, equity holders, or 3 other interests of the estate. But it almost feels like,
4 again, a summary judgment issue on current management.

5 So, what is your response to that?

6 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the Fifth Circuit case law
7 is not limited to just management. Fraud, dishonesty,
8 incompetence, or gross [mis]management of the affairs of the 9 debtor by current management, either before or after the 10 commencement of the case, or similar. Or similar cause. The 11 U.S. Trustee is under 1104(a)(1). The Fifth Circuit precedent
12 establishes that cause for purposes of (a)(1) should be 13 considered like cause for bad faith or other factors such as 14 Little --

15 THE COURT: So you're saying there's clear Fifth 16 Circuit authority that says --

17 MS. LAMBERT: That --

18 THE COURT: -- similar cause --

19 MS. LAMBERT: -- inherent --

20 THE COURT: -- goes beyond the context of activities
21 of current management?

22 MS. LAMBERT: Correct. Like inherent conflicts,
23 which is what we have, an inherent conflict.

24 THE COURT: All right. Well, I am going to sustain
25 the objection to those three, but without prejudice,

1 basically, to me reconsidering your offer, for example, during
2 a rebuttal stage. Okay? If I hear something from witnesses
3 that makes me see this in a different light. But my view now
4 is that things changed when we replaced the current management
5 structure of the Debtor, the management structure that it had 6 when it filed bankruptcy, and all of these --

7 MS. LAMBERT: These issues -- these are not --

8 THE COURT: -- these orders --

9 MS. LAMBERT: Are not for current --

10 THE COURT: -- pertain to the prior regime.

11 MS. LAMBERT: No. The ACIS opinion, the Redeemer
12 arbitration partial award, also go line by line to the legal 13 counsel as being in control of decisions.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Again, I'm over -- I'm sustaining
15 the objection to these exhibits, subject to you re-offering
16 them after I've heard witness testimony --

17 MS. LAMBERT: But --

18 THE COURT: -- essentially as rebuttal evidence if 19 you convince me that --

20 MS. LAMBERT: But this is my case-in-chief evidence.

21 THE COURT: I've ruled.

22 MS. LAMBERT: So, the Court is determining that cause
23 must be management? Because these are being introduced for 24 issues as to the counsel.

25 THE COURT: Well, give me -- make your best argument

1 again on why 11(a)(1) is broader than just the context of 2 current management.

3 MS. LAMBERT: Cause can be items other than those 4 that are listed. Or similar cause. That's what the statute
5 says --

6 THE COURT: You're giving me a statutory
7 interpretation I disagree with, but do you have Fifth Circuit
8 authority binding on me --

9 MS. LAMBERT: Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: -- that --

11 MS. LAMBERT: It's cited in the U.S. Trustee's
12 motion, and it is --

13 THE COURT: I mean, I know Cajun Electric and --

14 MS. LAMBERT: Cajun Electric involves an inherent 15 conflict between --

16 THE COURT: But was that a context, I don't think it
17 was, where a whole new slate of directors and managers had 18 been put in place?

19 MS. LAMBERT: It was not a case involving wrongdoing.
20 And so the facts are totally --

21 THE COURT: Conflicts of interest.

22 MS. LAMBERT: It involves directly conflicts of 23 interest, yes, in the positions that must be decided by the 24 controlling board.

25 THE COURT: I am --

1 MS. LAMBERT: And I --

2 THE COURT: -- asking you, had a whole new slate of 3 officers and directors been brought in in Cajun Electric?

4 MS. LAMBERT: No, and that would not have resolved
5 the --

6 THE COURT: It's been many years since I've read it.

7 MS. LAMBERT: That would not have resolved the 8 problem in Cajun Electric.

9 THE COURT: Okay. So Cajun Electric is not --

10 MS. LAMBERT: But Cajun Electric stands for the 11 proposition that cause is broader than the items listed here.

12 THE COURT: Of course. But it's still pertaining to 13 current management. I'm not reading those words "for cause"
14 out of the statute. I'm just saying I think --

15 MS. LAMBERT: Right.

16 THE COURT: -- they all pertain to current
17 management.

18 MS. LAMBERT: But here's the thing on the Court's 19 statutory construction.

20 THE COURT: I either have --

21 MS. LAMBERT: The Court has --

22 THE COURT: -- a binding case or not. I'm telling 23 you what my interpretation of the statute is.

24 MS. LAMBERT: Right. Well, --

25 THE COURT: I either have a binding case or not.

1 MS. LAMBERT: -- Cajun Electric is binding and it
2 establishes, as do Little Creek and other Fifth Circuit cases,
3 in every context --

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MS. LAMBERT: -- where cause is used, --

6 THE COURT: But I am looking for a case on point.

7 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, this is a matter of 8 statutory construction. The Court is reading out a full 9 clause of the statute.

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 MS. LAMBERT: Current management is at the --

12 THE COURT: I've ruled on the evidence. Do we want
13 to talk about Exhibit 6, which was objected to, and Exhibit
14 10?

15 MS. LAMBERT: No. 6 is out. That was the 16 transcript.

17 THE COURT: Oh, I'm sorry. 6 is out. So, 10 was the 18 one that --

19 MS. LAMBERT: And 10, the purpose of 10 is to 20 establish that Strand is -- Advisors is a Delaware
21 corporation, and I think that's stipulated to.

22 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

23 MR. MORRIS: If that's the only fact for which it's 24 offered, we withdraw the objection.

25 THE COURT: Okay. 10 is admitted.

1 (U.S. Trustee's Exhibit 10 is received into evidence.)

2 THE COURT: And 11, that's something that obviously I
3 can take judicial notice of the docket entry in this case.
4 Right?

5 MS. LAMBERT: Right.

6 THE COURT: Okay. So I just, I'll take judicial 7 notice of 11.

8 All right. You may call your first witness.

9 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the U.S. Trustee rests on 10 its documentary exhibits.

11 THE COURT: All right. Debtor, your witness?

12 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, before we call our case, we 13 move for a directed verdict based on the evidence or lack 14 thereof that was adduced.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Well, I'm going to deny that. I
16 haven't had a chance to go back and look at this Frank
17 Waterhouse deposition testimony. It may or may not resolve
18 the issue. So, --

19 MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor. I just wanted to 20 preserve the record.

21 The Debtor calls John Dubel.

22 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Dubel, if you could 23 approach our witness box. Yes. Please raise your right hand.
24 Please raise your right hand.

25 JOHN DUBEL, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

Dubel - Direct

61

1 THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

2 DIRECT EXAMINATION

3 BY MR. MORRIS:

4 Q Good morning, Mr. Dubel. Take your time.

5 (Pause.)

6 MR. MORRIS: May I proceed, Your Honor?

7 THE COURT: You may.

8 MR. MORRIS: Okay.

9 BY MR. MORRIS:

10 Q Mr. Dubel, do you currently have a relationship to the 11 Debtor?

12 A Yes, I do.

13 Q And can you describe for the Court your understanding of 14 your relationship to the Debtor?

15 A Yes. I am one of the three independent directors
16 appointed at the Strand Advisors, Inc. level, which is the 17 general partner of Highland Capital Management, LP, which I'll 18 probably refer to as HCMLP, just for brevity, Your Honor.

19 Q Okay. I may refer to it as the Debtor, if I may.

20 A You may.

21 Q Do you recall when you were appointed as an independent
22 director?

23 A Yes. January 9th of 2020.

24 Q Okay. And prior to that time, did you personally have 25 experience in bankruptcy and the insolvency areas?

003911

62

1 A Yes, I do.

2 Q Can you describe that experience for the Court?

3 A My experience is about 35-plus years of working on all the 4 arenas of the restructuring, both from creditor side, debtor
5 side, as an investor in distressed. The majority of my work
6 over the years has been in the debtor side of running
7 companies as a CEO or a chief restructuring officer, sitting 8 on boards of directors as an independent director for 9 companies going through stress, either bankruptcy or 10 restructuring.

11 Q And are there other independent directors at the Strand
12 level today?

13 A There are.

14 Q And who are they?

15 A There are two of them. Russell Nelms, who is a retired
16 bankruptcy judge from the Fort Worth area, and Mr. James 17 Seery, who is an investor, also an attorney, but an investor
18 in distressed, and has also practiced law.

19 Q Okay.

20 MR. MORRIS: I want to spend a few minutes, if I may,
21 Your Honor, just asking the witness about the independent
22 directors' activities --

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MR. MORRIS: -- since appointment.

25 BY MR. MORRIS:

003912

63

1 Q Has the board, in fact, been engaged in managing the 2 Debtor since being appointed?

3 A We have.

4 Q Can you describe for the Court generally the types of 5 tasks that the independent directors have covered since their 6 appointment?

7 A The first day of our appointment, on the 9th, we met as a
8 board, which the board meeting actually continued through 9 until the 10th, on that Friday, in which we sat down with the 10 chief restructuring officer and his team. We met with the 11 vast majority of the senior managers within the company to 12 make sure that we could hear from them what was going on 13 within the company and to convey to them what our duties and 14 responsibilities were, so it was very clear to both the CRO
15 and to all the management, the senior management, of what the 16 responsibilities were for the independent board and how the 17 protocol would work and how they would need to interact with 18 us in a -- in what has now become a daily basis.

19 Q And since being appointed, have the independent directors
20 received presentations from the Debtor and from DSI concerning 21 the Debtor's operations, assets, and liabilities?

22 A We have.

23 Q Can you describe just generally the nature and scope of 24 those presentations?

25 A Yes. So we've gone through, which is not untypical for 003913

64

1 situations like this when you get involved, go through each of 2 the departments and ask them to walk us through how their 3 department works, what they're working on, key issues that are 4 necessary for us to pay attention to immediately, key issues
5 that we would look at further down the road, understand who 6 the personnel are within the organization, their group.

7 And we, of course, because there were a lot of issues that 8 were very time-sensitive, we reacted to those issues to be 9 able to give them guidance on what we needed, what we needed
10 further information for or what decisions we would make 11 immediately on those decisions -- on those issues.

12 Q Since being appointed, have you -- have the independent
13 directors also reviewed and authorized certain court filings?

14 A We have. We had a protocol in place where one or -- or 15 all three, depending on the filings, are required to sign off
16 on any filings before they're submitted to the Court so that 17 we have a good understanding and can make sure that we have 18 good -- good direction to our counsel as to what would be 19 going forward.

20 Q Mr. Dubel, in the last 12 days, how much time have you
21 personally spent managing the Debtor?

22 A In excess of 80 hours, probably closer to 90 hours. I
23 don't keep a -- I'm fortunate I don't have to keep time
24 records to the tenths of an hour like counsel does. But just 25 in looking at my calendar, in excess of 80 hours. And it's 003914

1 been literally every single day, Saturdays and Sundays
2 included.

3 Q And to the best of your understanding, is the same true
4 with respect to Mr. Nelms and Mr. Seery?

5 A Yes, it is. In fact, a lot of the time has been spent
6 with them together on these issues. So, I, you know, I have 7 firsthand knowledge of the amount of time that they are 8 putting in also.

9 Q Can you describe for the Court the extent to which the 10 three of you have been physically present in the Debtor's
11 office since being appointed as independent directors?

12 A Yes. During the work days, which it's now I think been 13 seven business days that the offices have been open, we have 14 been there six of those days. Actually, seven, if you count
15 this morning. We spent some time in the offices this morning
16 working with folks before we came over here. And either one
17 or all three of us have been there during those six days.
18 We're trying to balance out the workload a little bit with the 19 needs of the organization.

20 Q Can you describe for the Court the role that Mr. Sharp and 21 DSI have played since the time that you were appointed as an 22 independent director?

23 A Yes. Mr. Sharp, as the chief restructuring officer, and 24 his team have provided us with a tremendous amount of 25 information on the organization, on the assets of the various

Dubel - Direct

66

1 different entities that the Debtor has to manage. Provided us
2 with asset positions, liability issues, and has basically been 3 very helpful in bringing us up to speed immediately on 4 everything we need to know to understand how to operate the 5 business, and acted in a very, you know, forthright manner.

6 Q Since being appointed, have the independent directors
7 played a role in the implementation of the protocols that were 8 part of the order appointing them?

9 A Yes. We have made sure that everybody -- all the senior 10 managers in the organization understand what the protocols are 11 and worked with either DSI or directly with us, depending on 12 the facts and circumstances of the particular situation, so
13 that the protocols are being followed. And we continue to do
14 that on a daily basis.

15 Q Have you and the other directors had an opportunity to 16 review proposed transactions since being appointed?

17 A Yes, we have, starting on Thursday, January 9th, through,
18 actually, this morning. While we were sitting in court, we 19 got confirmation of things that were taking place as it
20 related to the protocols.

21 Q Since being appointed, have you and the other directors
22 communicated with the Creditors' Committee and its 23 professionals?

24 A We have. In accordance with the protocol, we have, but we 25 would be doing that anyway, even if the protocols didn't

003916

67

1 require it, because we feel it's good for the transparency in
2 this case. But we have met with the Committee professionals
3 many times and with the Committee members themselves via 4 conference call.

5 Q Let's shift gears a little bit and talk about your 6 interaction and the interaction of the other directors with 7 the Debtor and its employees. Have the directors sought
8 information from the Debtor's employees as part of the tasks
9 that you've just described?

10 A Yes, we have.

11 Q And can you describe for the Court, you know, either by 12 name or by title or by department, the places within the 13 organization from which the directors have sought information?

14 A Yeah. So, I can kind of -- maybe it's easiest by 15 department. There have been investment decisions that have 16 been needed to be made. Part of those investment decisions
17 require compliance reviews and a legal understanding of those 18 decisions. So we have reached out to the three different 19 department heads or the individuals responsible within those 20 departments for information that was necessary for us to 21 understand and be able to make decisions.

22 So, as an example, for compliance, making sure that 23 whatever it is that's being asked of us is in accordance with 24 all of the compliance requirements under the various different 25 regulatory authorities, looking at it from a legal point of 003917

Dubel - Direct

68

1 view, making sure we understand how that transaction legally
2 might fit in with something else, whether it's a related party
3 issue or making sure that it fits in with the protocols.

4 And then, obviously, from the actual asset manager point
5 of view, the trader, understanding how the impact of our 6 decision would be able to be implemented in the ordinary
7 course process of trading a position as necessary or holding 8 onto a position.

9 Q To the best of your knowledge, have the independent
10 directors timely received the information that was sought to 11 fulfill your duties?

12 A We have.

13 Q And do you have any concerns that anyone at the Debtor has 14 withheld information from you or the other directors?

15 A I do not. In fact, I think they've been very forthright 16 in presenting us with information that we have requested and 17 been very responsive.

18 Q To the best of your knowledge, have either of the other 19 directors ever expressed any concern to you about the flow of 20 information?

21 A No, they have not.

22 Q Do you have any reason to believe that any information
23 provided to the independent directors by any of the employees
24 at the Debtor is false or inaccurate?

25 A No, I do not.

003918

Dubel - Direct

69

1 Q Have you and the other independent directors requested to
2 meet with certain employees?

3 A We've requested to meet with many of the employees, yes.

4 Q Can you just describe for the Court, again, either by 5 title or by department, the employees with whom the directors
6 have met thus far?

7 A Pretty much every single department head, whether it's the 8 finance office through the chief financial officer, the 9 controller, the -- looking through, then, to the chief
10 compliance officer, the trading groups for a variety of 11 different entities that we have under management. Our private 12 equity group, the leadership in that. The legal group, 13 looking -- we've met with pretty much everybody in the legal 14 group to understand various issues and get a better
15 understanding of the business. Human resources, et cetera.

16 Q Um, --

17 A Communications. Forgot about that one.

18 Q Have you or any of the other independent directors ever
19 expressed any concerns about the reliability of information
20 provided by any of the Debtor's employees?

21 A No, we have not.

22 Q Are you generally familiar with the Court's order that 23 appointed you as an independent director?

24 A I am.

25 Q Are you generally familiar with the duties and 003919

70

1 responsibilities that have been bestowed upon you as set forth
2 in that order?

3 A I am.

4 Q Have you and the other independent directors discussed the 5 scope and responsibilities for your duties as an independent
6 director?

7 A We have.

8 Q And do you have a general understanding as to what those 9 duties are?

10 A Yes. As the independent directors of Strand, we are the 11 general partner for the Debtor's estate, HCMLP, and it's my 12 understanding that those duties lie to -- go to the Debtor's
13 estate, to maximize value for the Debtor.

14 Q And is it your understanding that the order that was 15 entered was an order that was entered after the Committee and 16 the Debtor reached an agreement for the appointment of new 17 management?

18 A That is my understanding.

19 Q Okay. Did -- have the independent directors taken any 20 steps to make sure that the Debtor's employees are aware of 21 your duties and responsibilities?

22 A Yes. From the first day that we got there, as I mentioned
23 earlier, we've met with all the department heads, explained to 24 them what the roles and responsibilities are. Walked through 25 with them the protocol that is laid out in the order. Asked

003920

1 them to communicate that down into the organization.

2 We continue to walk around the offices. All of our 3 employees, except with the exception of one or two who are 4 overseas, all reside in the offices here in Dallas, and so
5 we've walked around and met with many of the other employees.
6 We've had our communications department put together
7 communication that's been posted on the Intranet and -- the 8 Intranet, the internal communications, and also on the 9 company's website for all employees to see and understand.
10 And we actually will be having an all-hands meeting this 11 afternoon with all of the employees.

12 Q Do you have any concerns that any of the Debtor's
13 employees either don't understand or don't respect the 14 authority and role of the independent directors?

15 A I do not.

16 Q Have either of the other independent directors ever
17 expressed to you any concern at all that any of the Debtor's
18 employees either don't understand or fail to respect the 19 authority and role that the three of you play?

20 A I've not heard any concerns, no.

21 Q Do you have any concerns at all that the Debtors engage in 22 any transactions that don't have the independent directors'
23 knowledge and approval?

24 A I do not.

25 Q Do you -- have the independent directors taken any steps

Dubel - Direct

72

1 to try to prevent any unauthorized transactions from taking
2 place?

3 A Yes, through communications directly with all of the 4 individuals that could have the authority to do -- or the 5 apparent authority to enter into transactions, making it very 6 clear what our role and responsibility is, making it clear
7 what they have to do in order to execute anything.

8 We've also engaged, through working with the chief
9 restructuring officer and his team, to have them be 10 continuously looking at transactions that take place through 11 the Debtor's systems.

12 Q So, is it your understanding that the CRO has visibility 13 into the movement of the Debtor's assets?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. Do you have any concern that the independent 16 directors are not firmly in control of the Debtor?

17 A I do not.

18 Q Have either of the other independent directors expressed
19 any concern to you at all that the independent directors might 20 not be fully in control of the Debtor?

21 A They have not expressed that.

22 Q I think you were in the courtroom for the argument that 23 preceded your testimony; is that right?

24 A I was.

003922

73

1 A Or, except for a very short period of time.

2 Q Pursuant to the order that was entered by this Court, is 3 it your understanding that the independent directors have the 4 ability to fire any employee of the Debtor?

5 A That is my understanding and that is exactly what we have 6 the authority to do.

7 Q And is it your understanding that the independent
8 directors have the final authority over transactions that are 9 being made on behalf of the Debtor?

10 A It is very clear in my mind that we have that authority.

11 Q Is there any aspect of the Debtor's business in which any 12 employee of the Debtor has authority that exceeds any of the 13 independent directors'?

14 A When you say exceeds, meaning overrides?

15 Q Correct.

16 A No. There's no -- no one has the authority that overrides
17 our decisions. We may authorize people to do things, but no
18 one has the authority to override our decisions.

19 Q And have the independent directors made that known to all
20 of the department heads?

21 A We have.

22 Q And have the independent directors made that known to all
23 of the employees in the legal department?

24 A We have.

25 Q And have the independent directors made that known to all

003923

Dubel - Direct

74

1 of the employees in the compliance department?

2 A I think there's only one person who's in Compliance, but

3 --

4 Q That's --

5 A Our chief compliance officer. Yes.

6 Q I do love precision. Thank you.

7 Does the independent -- do you or any of the independent
8 directors have any concerns at all that the message of control
9 has not been adequately conveyed to the people who are 10 executing your orders?

11 A I don't have any concerns about that.

12 Q Okay. Do you believe the independent directors -- have 13 you begun to kind of familiarize yourself with the Debtor's
14 operations, structures, and assets?

15 A Yes, we have.

16 Q And does the Debtor oppose the motion for the appointment
17 of a trustee at this time?

18 A Yes, the Debtor does.

19 Q Can you explain to the Court why the Debtor opposes the 20 appointment of a trustee at this time?

21 A Yes. There is a new management team in place, led by the 22 -- you know, with the independent directors in place, having 23 the authority over all of the actions of the Debtor. And we 24 believe that, based upon the expertise of the three 25 individuals, that we have the right expertise to run the 003924

Dubel - Direct

75

1 company, between legal, trading, restructuring, investment
2 management, that the expertise that we bring to the table is 3 what is necessary to run the company, and that if there were a
4 change in that it would obviously cause a tremendous amount of 5 disruption in the business. If there were a Chapter 11
6 trustee appointed, that it would have a tremendous negative
7 impact on the Debtor's ability to create the greatest value
8 for our creditors and other stakeholders.

9 Q Have any of the Debtor's employees quit since the 10 independent directors were appointed?

11 A We've lost a couple of people. I just don't remember the 12 exact timeline. But it's -- it has happened. It's -- you
13 know, we've had three -- I think three resignations.

14 Q Okay. Does the Debtor have any concerns that if a trustee
15 is appointed that the Debtor will be at risk of losing senior 16 -- senior management or other -- you know, senior employees or 17 other employees of the Debtor?

18 A Yes, we do.

19 Q And what's the basis for that concern?

20 A Our goal here is to reorganize the company and create the 21 greatest value for our creditors and others. And if an 22 appointment of a trustee was to be so ordered, that it would 23 send the wrong message to the employees and the employees
24 would lose confidence and seek employment elsewhere. And it's 25 a vibrant market for employees right now.

003925

76

1 Q Based on your experience in the insolvency area, do you
2 have a view as to how the appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee
3 might be viewed in the marketplace?

4 A This is a business that trades on credibility. It's not
5 walking into a store and buying an item off of a shelf of a
6 company that's in Chapter 11, but it's all about the 7 credibility of the individuals. And if an appointment of a
8 Chapter 11 trustee was so ordered, we think it would have a 9 negative impact on our ability to continue to have that 10 relationship with the third parties that we have to deal with 11 on a daily basis.

12 Q Do you have a view as to whether or not the appointment of 13 a trustee could impair the Debtor's ability to reorganize?

14 A I do.

15 Q And can you share that view with the Court?

16 A I think it's for the exact same things that I just 17 mentioned. Our ability to create the greatest value and 18 reorganize and -- would be impacted by, you know, loss of 19 personnel who might not want to work in that environment and 20 also the loss of the relationships in the trading partners
21 that we have to deal with. And so it would -- it would 22 inhibit our ability to reorganize properly for this and create 23 greatest value.

24 MR. MORRIS: I have no further questions, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. Cross?

1 CROSS-EXAMINATION

2 BY MS. LAMBERT:

3 Q Hello again. We talked before the hearing. But my name
4 is Lisa Lambert. I'm with the U.S. Trustee's Office.

5 A Good morning, Ms. Lambert.

6 Q How are you?

7 A Good.

8 Q So, you're an independent director of Strand, and Strand
9 is the general partner of the Debtor, right?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And your testimony is that the duties to the Debtor trump
12 any duties to the stockholders of Strand, right?

13 A It is my testimony that, as the general partner, our 14 duties are to the Debtor's estate and to protect the Debtor's 15 estate and create the greatest value there, which would 16 ultimately benefit Strand.

17 Q Okay. So is it your testimony that there's no duty to the 18 stockholders of Strand?

19 A Our duty is to the Debtor's estate as the general partner,
20 and that would then protect Strand.

21 Q So your perspective is the duties are not in conflict?
22 They are coextensive, right?

23 A I apologize. I don't know -- I'm not a lawyer, so --

24 Q I'm going to --

25 A -- the reference to coextensive might be something that's

003927

1 a legal term, but --

2 Q But the duties are the same, --

3 A Uh, --

4 Q -- is your testimony?

5 A I don't know if they're the same. My -- my view is the 6 duties are to the Debtor's estate as the general partner of 7 Strand.

8 Q Okay. Mr. Dondero is the -- still a stockholder of 9 Strand, right?

10 A As I understand, yes.

11 Q And Mr. Dondero currently is an employee of the Debtor?

12 A He is a nonpaid employee of the Debtor.

13 Q So if the decision came to terminate Mr. Dondero as an 14 employee, do you think it impacts his -- your fiduciary role
15 to him as the stockholder?

16 MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor, to the extent all 17 of this calls for a legal conclusion. I just want to make 18 sure that we're just talking about the witness's lay
19 understanding.

20 MS. LAMBERT: No. His understanding.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Over...

22 MS. LAMBERT: His under...

23 THE COURT: Overruled.

24 BY MS. LAMBERT:

25 Q What is your understanding?

Dubel - Cross

79

1 A I'm sorry. Could you repeat the question, Ms. Lambert?

2 Q Mr. Dondero is an employee of the Debtor, whether unpaid
3 or not. And does the board's -- the directors' decisions
4 about whether to maintain him or terminate him, is that
5 impacted by his holding all of the stock of Strand?

6 A From my perspective, it would have no impact. If there
7 was a decision to be made to keep him on board or terminate,
8 it would have no impact as to what his holdings are in Strand.

9 Q Why is that?

10 A Because our duties in managing the Debtor would be to 11 figure out what the right answer is for the Debtor. And if 12 that decision was to either keep him in place, as we currently 13 have, or to terminate him because there was no longer a need
14 for him at that level, it would be a decision we would make on 15 behalf of managing the Debtor.

16 Q You would agree with me that he might have a different
17 perspective on that, right?

18 A I don't know what his decision -- what his view would be.
19 It may be different; it may not be. It depends on the facts
20 and circumstances at the time that we would have to make that 21 decision.

22 Q Now, you testified that you've been very busy with the 23 activities of the Debtor. Did you have an opportunity to read
24 the Court's ACIS opinion?

25 A Yeah. I've read multiple decisions or multiple filings on 003929

1 -- on ACIS. I --

2 Q I'm talking about the published opinion. It's a little
3 bit lengthy. You would have remembered seeing it, I think.

4 A I believe I did read that prior to our appointment, yes.

5 Q Okay. And then did you also read the Redeemer arbitration
6 awards?

7 A I've read a few different Redeemer arbitration awards. I
8 think there were two or three of them.

9 Q Two.

10 A Yeah.

11 Q And I'm talking about the partial --

12 A Yeah.

13 Q -- and the final judgments.

14 A Yes, I have.

15 Q Okay. You're aware that both of those opinions talk about 16 the attorneys testifying with plausible deniability, --

17 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor?

18 MS. LAMBERT: -- the in-house counsel?

19 MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, I would just ask the witness
20 not to answer the question until I state my objection.

21 This is exactly why we objected to the relevance of these 22 exhibits into evidence, and now she's just doing orally what 23 she has not yet been able to do with the admission of the 24 documents.

25 She should establish a foundation first that there's

1 anybody in any of those decisions who are in control of the 2 Debtor or who are deemed to be current management. Because 3 the evidence at this point I think is undisputed that the 4 independent directors are in fully -- are in full control of 5 this enterprise. They -- everybody reports to them. All
6 decisions are made with their knowledge and approval. And 7 there's no evidence to the contrary.

8 So I don't, you know, I don't think the U.S. Trustee
9 should be able to get through the back door what they're not 10 able to get through the front door.

11 THE COURT: I sustain that objection.

12 BY MS. LAMBERT:

13 Q Have you worked with the in-house legal department?

14 A Of the Debtor?

15 Q Of the Debtor.

16 A Yes.

17 Q Can you name for me the employees of the legal department
18 of the Debtor?

19 A I probably can't name all of them, but starting from the 20 top, Scott Ellington. Isaac Leventon. J.P. Sevilla. Tim
21 Cournoyer. Thomas Surgent is an in-house -- he's a lawyer.
22 He's also our chief compliance officer. I don't know
23 technically which -- whether he covers both. And then there
24 have been others in the group that I -- I don't remember all 25 the names. But those are the main folks that we've had to 1 deal with.

2 Q And Compliance is part of Legal, right?

3 A I don't technically know. I think it stands on its own.

4 But Mr. Surgent is an attorney, as I understand.

5 Q And how often have you dealt with Mr. Ellington?

6 A In the seven days that we've been there, probably five or 7 six of them he's had to travel for, you know, for work, so we 8 haven't always, you know, seen him every day. But pretty much
9 every day, including yesterday, when we were in the office.

10 Q And Mr. Leventon, how often have you consulted with him?

11 A Unfortunately, not as often as we would like, because Mr.
12 Ellington -- Mr. Leventon had an auto accident that he was 13 involved with, so he's been out of the office. But I've dealt 14 with him a little bit over the last several days as he, you
15 know, as he's allowed to -- as he's recuperating.

16 Q So, the board has been talking with the legal department
17 almost every day, right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And the legal department in this particular business is 20 particularly important for management decisions, right?

21 A It's important to get information from them to inform us
22 as the managers, meaning the board, yes.

23 Q You rely on their advice, don't you?

24 A We take into consideration what they -- what they share
25 with us, yes.

1 Q And they have expertise in the areas of the legal issues
2 that are central to this case, right?

3 A They have expertise. Fortunately, the board also has a
4 tremendous amount of legal expertise, both in the -- specific 5 to investment management and also corporate governance. And 6 having been a CEO and a CRO and been involved for the last 35
7 years in some highly-contentious, litigious litigations, I've 8 unfortunately picked up a little bit of how to understand what 9 is given to me and interpret it.

10 Q All right. Have you had any hesitation in relying on 11 their legal advice?

12 A No.

13 Q Are you aware that the -- that the Redeemer's arbitration 14 award determines that their advice ignored the advice of 15 outside counsel?

16 MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor. Relevance.

17 THE COURT: Sustained.

18 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the relevant --

19 BY MS. LAMBERT:

20 Q Are you aware that the ACIS Court also determined that Mr.
21 Ellington and Mr. Leventon were providing affidavits for the 22 Debtor rather than the Debtor, --

23 MR. MORRIS: Object, Your Honor.

24 MS. LAMBERT: -- Mr. Dondero?

25 MR. MORRIS: Same objection.

1 THE COURT: Sustained.

2 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, these -- both of these 3 questions go to our presentation that the in-house counsel is 4 not providing advice that's in the interest of the Debtor and 5 has ignored outside counsel. It's relevant to whether -- to 6 the case if current management knows that, which the evidence
7 is unclear, and whether they're doing something about it.
8 That's the United States Trustee's case.

9 THE COURT: All right. I don't think you've laid the 10 foundation to go this route.

11 MS. LAMBERT: Okay.

12 BY MS. LAMBERT:

13 Q You're relying on the advice of the legal counsel on a
14 daily basis, right?

15 A We take information from counsel and we process it. We 16 talk as a group, meaning the board. And as I referenced 17 earlier, two of our board members happen to be experienced 18 lawyers, one of whom is an expert in corporate governance and 19 bankruptcy law, having been a judge for 14 years. We sift the 20 information that comes from all different parties and make our 21 decisions based upon our experience in these situations. We 22 talk to outside counsel also as necessary.

23 Q Are you aware of any concerns about the advice that your 24 legal counsel in-house has provided to you?

25 A I'm sorry. Could you -- are -- excuse --

85

1 Q Are you aware of any concerns about the advice that the
2 in-house legal counsel has provided to you?

3 A Nothing that's been provided to us, no. No concerns about 4 that.

5 Q Are you aware of any concerns historically?

6 A I understand that there -- and have read that there were 7 issues related to that on a historical basis, yes.

8 Q Has that impacted the way you interact with the legal 9 counsel?

10 A Sure. A healthy dose of skepticism is always important
11 whenever you get into a new situation, whether there are those 12 allegations or rulings or what have you. It's always 13 important to have a healthy set of skepticism on these things.

14 Q All right.

15 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the U.S. Trustee moves for 16 the admission of U.S. Trustee's 1, 2, and 3.

17 MR. MORRIS: Voir dire, Your Honor?

18 THE COURT: Pardon?

19 MR. MORRIS: Voir dire? Can I just ask a few 20 questions?

21 THE COURT: You may. Uh-huh.

22 VOIR DIRE EXAMINATION

23 BY MR. MORRIS:

24 Q Sir, has -- have the members of the legal department been 25 cooperative?

003935

1 A Yes.

2 Q Have the members of the legal department been responsive
3 to the independent directors' requests?

4 A Yes, they have.

5 Q Have the members of the legal department been authorized
6 to do anything without the independent directors' knowledge
7 and approval?

8 A No.

9 Q Are the independent directors aware of any member of the 10 legal department having done anything without the knowledge
11 and approval of any of the independent directors?

12 A I am not.

13 Q Do the members of the legal department all report to the 14 independent directors?

15 A They report through the legal department organization,
16 which reports to the independent directors.

17 Q And the independent directors ultimately have the sole 18 authority as to whether or not to fire any member of the legal 19 department, as true with any member of the organization; is 20 that right?

21 A That is correct.

22 Q All right.

23 MR. MORRIS: I have no further questions.

24 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, the U.S. Trustee contends
25 that this is -- these opinions are highly relevant to the

1 board's understanding of the current situation. The 2 cooperativeness and the responsiveness and the doing of the 3 acts for the board members is not the issue if the information
4 that is being provided to the board is fundamentally 5 unreliable. And that's the issue the U.S. Trustee wants to 6 raise.

7 THE COURT: Okay. I sustain the objection and I
8 overrule the request to have the Court admit Exhibits 1
9 through 3.

10 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, is it necessary for me to 11 do an offer of proof, given that these exhibits are already in 12 the binder and have been -- everybody is familiar with the 13 desire that they be admitted?

14 THE COURT: All right. Well, if you're not wanting 15 any testimony, if you're just wanting the admission of the 16 exhibits, they will certainly be included in the record as 17 offered but not admitted. So if there's an appeal, they're in 18 there for the Court of Appeals to see.

19 CROSS-EXAMINATION, RESUMED

20 BY MS. LAMBERT:

21 Q So, it's your testimony that the Debtor's legal counsel
22 have been cooperative, responsive, and doing acts for the 23 board, and that ultimately the board acts as the sole 24 authority, right?

25 A That's correct.

1 Q Has the legal counsel provided the board with any advice
2 that they have -- that the board has disagreed with?

3 MR. MORRIS: Objection, Your Honor. To the extent
4 that this calls for the disclosure of attorney-client
5 communications, I would object.

6 THE COURT: All right. If you can answer without 7 disclosing privileged information, you may answer.

8 THE WITNESS: Okay. May I ask if you could repeat
9 the question, just so I --

10 BY MS. LAMBERT:

11 Q Has the board reached a determination that disagreed with 12 the legal counsel's recommendations?

13 A I don't believe so.

14 Q Has the board sought outside legal counsel after receiving 15 a report from in-house counsel that they -- that they wanted
16 more information on?

17 A That would be very common practice for getting information
18 from in-house counsel, then getting additional information
19 from outside counsel. It's -- we have done that. I would say
20 that's just a normal part of any organization, and I would do
21 that in every situation I'm involved with, --

22 Q Okay. But --

23 A -- if it was so relevant.

24 Q But I'm asking a little different question, which is, to 25 date, in this case, has the board done that?

89

1 A Have we sought advice from outside counsel on something --

2 Q That the in-house counsel provided advice on.

3 A Yes. And as I said, I think that's just a normal part of 4 our understanding information so that we can make decisions.

5 Q Now, you testified that having a trustee would impact the 6 Debtor's credibility in the market, right?

7 A That's my --

8 Q And ACIS --

9 A -- view.

10 Q -- had a trustee, correct?

11 A As I understand, yes.

12 Q And ACIS reorganized, didn't it?

13 A I am not familiar with the ACIS case, you know, whether it
14 was a reorganization. I'm just not familiar with the details
15 of it.

16 Q Okay. So, earlier, I had asked you if you were familiar
17 with the ACIS opinion and with the ACIS case, and my 18 understanding was you had read documents in the ACIS case.
19 Right?

20 A I've read them. I haven't studied them. I believe ACIS
21 was a reorganization, but I'm not familiar with the details of 22 it.

23 MS. LAMBERT: No further questions.

24 THE COURT: All right. Any other examination?

25 MR. MORRIS: No, Your Honor.

003939

1 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. You're excused.

2 (The witness steps down.)

3 THE COURT: Does the Debtor have other evidence?

4 MR. MORRIS: No, Your Honor. The Debtor rests.

5 THE COURT: All right.

6 MR. MORRIS: Oh, I apologize. The only exhibit that 7 we did have that we noted on the exhibit list was the Court's
8 order and the exhibits that appointed the independent
9 directors. The protocols. We'd just --

10 THE COURT: All right. Well, the Court can take 11 judicial notice of those.

12 MR. MORRIS: Exactly. And just for the record, it's 13 at Docket #354-1.

14 THE COURT: Thank you.

15 MR. MORRIS: And I have a binder of exhibits if --

16 THE COURT: All right. You may approach with that.
17 Thank you.

18 All right. And the Committee said it did not intend to 19 put on evidence, correct?

20 MR. TWOMEY: That's correct.

21 THE COURT: All right. Any rebuttal evidence?

22 MS. LAMBERT: No, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: All right. I'll hear closing arguments.

24 CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE U.S. TRUSTEE

25 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, Section 1104(a) is

1 structured with the clause about fraud, dishonesty, and gross
2 [mis]management, referring to -- management. Thereafter, the 3 statute says "or for other cause." The structure
4 grammatically of the statute is important because the 5 management provisions are one set and the "or for cause" is 6 another.

7 The Fifth Circuit precedent is clear that there can be 8 other types of cause. The inability to manage this Debtor and 9 to rely on its in-house legal counsel is pervasive in the 10 prior opinions and remains an issue today.

11 It is for this reason that the U.S. Trustee sought the 12 admission of Exhibits 1 through 3. There are not just issues
13 with Mr. Dondero, but there remains an issue with Dondero,
14 which brings me to point two, which is that the Delaware
15 corporate statute requires that there be a fiduciary duty to 16 him. There are many contexts where one can contract around a 17 fiduciary duty in partnerships, limited partnerships, but not 18 in corporations, because corporations have the stockholder and 19 creditor function. There is no evidence, no evidence, about 20 what creditors there might be of Strand. We have no knowledge
21 of that. And the Delaware case law is that there is a
22 fiduciary duty to creditors.

23 But if there are no creditors, then that duty runs to Mr.
24 Dondero. This remains a conflict of interest issue for 25 consideration. And it is an actual conflict, especially

1 because Mr. Dondero remains in the Debtor as an employee. And 2 the evidence is that, today, he, Mr. Ellington, and Mr.
3 Leventon, all of whom have been cited in prior opinions as 4 trying to establish plausible credibility, remain at the 5 Debtor, advising the management. And the board -- no one
6 questions that the board is some of the best people that we 7 have. But the issue is that, as a board, they are separate
8 from the Debtor, and there is a CRO in, but the CRO, I
9 anticipate the evidence will be that the CFO relies on the in-
10 house legal counsel, and that's -- the deposition transcript
11 cites go to the reliance on in-house legal counsel for major
12 decisions.

13 And so this remains a concern. And it is within Section
14 1104.

15 Finally, Your Honor, the effort to seal matters, including 16 the sine qua non, the catalyst for the bankruptcy filing, the 17 arbitration award, impede the ability of the public to 18 understand the facts of this case, impede the ability of the 19 regulators to understand this case, and it's too far. For 20 these reasons, the U.S. Trustee moves for the appointment of a
21 Chapter 11 trustee.

22 THE COURT: Let me just ask. I'm going to hit on 23 something you said there at the end, because you've said it a
24 few times. It concerns me a little. The words I remember Mr.
25 Pomerantz using on day one, and maybe using a couple of times

1 thereafter, was that the Redeemer Committee's arbitration
2 award created a liquidity problem at the Debtor's level and
3 that was the impetus for the bankruptcy.

4 MS. LAMBERT: Yes, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: That is a little bit more of a narrow
6 statement than what I think your last sentence has implied.

7 MS. LAMBERT: Well, --

8 THE COURT: I mean, I hear what you're saying, tell
9 me if I'm hearing wrong, that there are statements in that 10 arbitration award that were the impetus for the bankruptcy
11 filing and the public needs to hear that. But that's not what 12 I heard Mr. Pomerantz say from day one. He said the 13 arbitration award, $180 million in amount or whatever it was,
14 in that neighborhood, caused a liquidity problem that caused
15 the bankruptcy.

16 MS. LAMBERT: Yes, Your Honor. But the testimony is 17 today that the Debtor's credibility in the market is 18 important, and the Redeemer arbitration award and its basis --
19 I mean, it's not just that it was $180 million. It's that 20 there was a basis for it -- they caused this bankruptcy [five-
21 second audio recording malfunction at 11:40 a.m.] award.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Well, again, maybe I shouldn't 23 have opened up that can of worms, but I just felt like there
24 was incorrect --

25 MS. LAMBERT: The --

1 THE COURT: -- repeating of the words of the Debtor.

2 MS. LAMBERT: The Court is right to be precise, and 3 it -- I suppose, from the U.S. Trustee's perspective, it's the 4 straw that broke the camel's back, and that's what we meant in 5 terms of a catalyst. And it is a judgment. But normally the 6 public has the opportunity to know what the basis of the 7 judgment is. And the basis of that ruling.

8 THE COURT: All right. Well, again, this is an issue
9 that may come up on another day and the Court will decide
10 whether it needs to come into the record. But, today, I
11 didn't think it was relevant for the motion before the Court.

12 All right. Anything else?

13 MS. LAMBERT: Finally, Your Honor, the evidence is 14 that, historically, the Debtor has had oversight externally as 15 a result of the same kind of problems that led to this, and 16 yet that did not work. And so for all those reasons, the U.S.
17 Trustee moves for the appointment of a trustee.

18 THE COURT: All right. Other arguments?

19 CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DEBTOR

20 MR. POMERANTZ: Good morning again, Your Honor. Jeff
21 Pomerantz; Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones; on behalf of the 22 Debtor.

23 Just to pick up on the last point of your colloquy with 24 Ms. Lambert, Your Honor was correct. My statements at the 25 beginning of the case were that the reason the case was filed

1 was because of the Debtor's inability to satisfy the award
2 which was about to be confirmed in a judgment. It's not 3 inconsistent with what the testimony you heard today that the 4 disclosure of that award in the current context, where 5 management has completely changed, is totally irrelevant and 6 would be unduly prejudicial, and that is why we have 7 consistently sought to have that sealed and why we have 8 indicated to Your Honor and Your Honor has ruled that it's not 9 relevant for today's hearing.

10 Your Honor, the Trustee seeks appointment of a Chapter 11
11 trustee, notwithstanding Your Honor's January 9th approval of 12 a settlement between the Debtor and the Committee that 13 restructured management. And I think it's important to just 14 highlight some of the things that the settlement that Your 15 Honor approved did.

16 First, it involved a sweeping governance change,
17 highlighted by the establishment of a new board of directors
18 with three individuals who have exceptional reputations and a 19 diverse skillset that makes them unquestionably qualified to 20 manage a complex business such as the Debtor.

21 It also involved the removal of Mr. Dondero as the 22 Debtor's decision-maker, along with his agreement, which is 23 the subject, as Your Honor pointed out, of a separate court
24 order, not to interfere with the board's performance of its 25 duties, along with his agreement not to terminate substantial

1 contracts his affiliated entities have with the Debtor.

2 The settlement also established detailed operating 3 protocols which provide significant transparency regarding the 4 Debtor's operations and ensures, among other things, that the 5 Committee will have visibility into any related transactions
6 before they are consummated.

7 The settlement also granted standing to the Committee to 8 investigate and prosecute certain insider claims, along with 9 broad access to the Debtor's books and records, including 10 attorney-client information necessary to prosecute those 11 claims. While perhaps not unprecedented, this type of 12 authority being granted to Committee at this early in the case
13 is rarely granted and is quite unusual.

14 It is against this backdrop, Your Honor, that the Court
15 must evaluate the Trustee's motion. The applicable standard,
16 as you have heard, is under 1104 of the Bankruptcy Code, which 17 provides that the Court shall appoint a trustee for cause or 18 if the appointment is in the best interest of parties in 19 interest or for other cause.

20 As Your Honor wrote in the Patman Drilling case years ago,
21 "Appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee is a draconian remedy,
22 and there is a strong presumption that Chapter 11 -- a debtor
23 shall remain in possession."

24 And notwithstanding the Trustee's argument to the 25 contrary, the courts in the Fifth Circuit, including Your

1 Honor in Patman Drilling, follow Cajun Electric and require a
2 movant to demonstrate that appointment of a trustee is 3 justified by clear and convincing evidence.

4 Not only has the U.S. Trustee not met his burden, but the 5 facts demonstrate overwhelmingly that allowing the Debtor to 6 remain in possession is clearly in the best interests of all
7 parties in interest. In fact, no stakeholder supports the 8 U.S. Trustee's motion, and the Creditors' Committee, which 9 comprises the vast majority of unsecured claims in this case,
10 opposes the motion.

11 This bankruptcy case has been pending for over three 12 months and has been marked by significant acrimony and 13 litigation over governance and control. With the installation 14 of the board, the establishment of the protocols, the case is 15 finally on a positive trajectory, and the Debtor, through the 16 independent board, is now in a position to sit down and 17 cooperatively work with the Committee to develop a plan so
18 that the Debtor can exit Chapter 11 as quickly as possible.
19 Appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee would create further
20 uncertainty, adversely affect operations, and further delay
21 the efforts of the Debtor towards developing an exit strategy.

22 The Trustee has advanced three principal arguments on why
23 the Court should appoint a Chapter 11 trustee, none of which 24 are persuasive.

25 First, the United States Trustee argues that a Chapter 11

1 trustee is the only remedy to address various forms of 2 malfeasance that courts have found the Debtor to have
3 committed in the past. In so arguing to the Court, the U.S.
4 Trustee ignores the court-approved settlement, ignores the 5 existence of the independent board, ignores the removal of Mr.
6 Dondero from any position of control in the Debtor.

7 Section 1104 authorizes the appointment of a trustee for
8 cause, including fraud, dishonesty, incompetence, or gross
9 [mis]management of the affairs by current management. Case
10 law is clear that the focus is on the actions of current 11 management and not prior management. And, in fact, in the 12 Bayou case from the Second Circuit, which we identified and 13 cited, the Court refused to appoint a Chapter 11 trustee where 14 new management had been installed and there had been no
15 allegation that new management had committed any of those 16 acts.

17 The Debtor doesn't dispute that, prepetition, the Debtor
18 was involved in litigation where the courts found wrongdoing
19 by the Debtor. However, those findings are irrelevant if the 20 Debtor is under new management. New management, through the 21 independent board, is now in control, managing the Debtor's
22 operation. And importantly, James Dondero is not in a 23 position of control anymore. And as I said, there have been 24 no allegations that current management has engaged in any type
25 of fraud or mismanagement or done anything not to engender

1 confidence by the Court or the creditors. The independent
2 board consists of individuals with sterling reputations with 3 substantial skill.

4 Second, the Trustee argues that the independent board is 5 incapable of effectively managing the Debtor's affairs; the 6 structures implemented in other situations to combat Debtor's
7 bad acts have failed. Essentially, the Debtor [sic] is 8 arguing that other members of management, including the legal 9 team, may remain employed by the Debtor and the board will not 10 be able to prevent the Debtor from engaging in the same type
11 of activities that occurred prior to Chapter 11.

12 There is absolutely no evidence, Your Honor, to support
13 the U.S. Trustee's unfounded allegations. Rather, all the 14 evidence before Your Honor contradicts this argument and 15 demonstrates that the independent board has been and continue 16 to be an independent fiduciary to the estate and ensuring that 17 the Debtor takes only actions that are, in fact, benefiting 18 the estate and all parties in interest.

19 The only evidence before Your Honor regarding this is the 20 testimony you heard from John Dubel, one of the independent
21 directors. He testified as follows. Since his appointment
22 was effective on January 9th, at least one member of the board
23 has been present at the Debtor's headquarters for six of the 24 seven business days. Mr. Dubel himself has worked over 80
25 hours on the Debtor since the 9th. He testified that he

1 believes that other members of the board have put in the same
2 amount of work.

3 The board conducted a board meeting immediately upon its 4 appointment on January 9th and January 10th, and has had many 5 other informal discussions among themselves on a daily basis.

6 Mr. Dubel testified that the board has received
7 comprehensive presentations from counsel, from the CRO and his 8 team, and from each of the Debtor's department heads, and is 9 in daily communications with all such parties. He testified
10 that such presentations have covered the Debtor's structure, 11 organizations, operations, assets and liabilities, and the 12 rights and responsibilities of the board.

13 He testified that the board is reviewing and overseeing on 14 a daily basis implementing -- implementation of the protocols
15 approved by the Court.

16 He testified that, as any good board and fiduciary would 17 do, he has reached out and he has been in contact with the 18 Committee, the Committee members and their advisors on a 19 variety of issues. He's also testified that he has -- that 20 the board has reached out to department heads, who have 21 provided information without question to the board, and that 22 he believes and other members of the board believe that all
23 such information is truthful and accurate information.

24 He's testified that the authority of the board has been 25 communicated to employees, and that he believes and other

1 directors believe that the employees are respecting such 2 authority and that the CRO and the independent board are
3 providing critical interaction with the other Debtor's
4 employees and approval of transactions that are required.

5 He's testified that resolution of the corporate governance
6 will now allow the Debtor to move forward towards pursuing a
7 plan, and that appointment of a trustee would be very divisive
8 to the Debtor's operations and adversely affect operations.

9 In fact, Your Honor, the uncontradicted evidence is that 10 the independent board members are doing exactly what an 11 independent fiduciary like the trustee should or would be 12 doing: assessing the Debtor's operations and assets and 13 liabilities and evaluating how to maximize the Debtor's assets
14 for all stakeholders.

15 Moreover, the Trustee's argument that prior structures
16 implemented were insufficient is irrelevant. Never before has 17 an independent board been installed in this company, and never 18 before has Mr. Dondero been removed completely from a position
19 of authority.

20 It is also telling that two of the litigants who have had 21 significant dealings with the Debtor and its management over
22 the last years -- the Redeemer Committee and ACIS, both
23 members of the Committee -- oppose the U.S. Trustee's motion
24 and believe that the current structure is in the best
25 interests of the Debtor's stakeholders.

1 I would like to turn, Your Honor, to the last of the U.S.
2 Trustee's arguments with respect to the fiduciary duty, which 3 the Trustee says constitutes other cause because of some 4 apparent conflict. First, Your Honor, I would mention that 5 there is nothing in the pleadings regarding the fiduciary duty
6 issue. When --

7 MS. LAMBERT: Your Honor, I object.

8 MR. POMERANTZ: Excuse me.

9 MS. LAMBERT: I couldn't put it in the pleadings
10 because it didn't exist.

11 THE COURT: I'm not sure --

12 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor?

13 THE COURT: -- I understand the objection. He's 14 about to say what was in your pleadings.

15 MS. LAMBERT: Right. And he's saying that I should 16 have put it in my pleading, which was filed before there was 17 any management agreement, at a time when it looked like there
18 wasn't going to be a management agreement.

19 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, then --

20 THE COURT: Well, --

21 MR. POMERANTZ: All right.

22 THE COURT: -- clarify. You were about to say
23 there's nothing about --

24 MR. POMERANTZ: Yes.

25 THE COURT: -- breach of fiduciary duty in --

1 MR. POMERANTZ: I was going to say, --

2 THE COURT: -- the motion?

3 MR. POMERANTZ: -- Your Honor, that the motion that 4 was filed was before the Committee settlement.

5 THE COURT: Right.

6 MR. POMERANTZ: The Committee settlement happened.
7 We opposed. In our position, we addressed the fiduciary duty
8 issue head-on. The U.S. Trustee chose not to file a reply.

9 THE COURT: Okay.

10 MR. POMERANTZ: The U.S. Trustee stood up and, Your 11 Honor, cited case law on what Delaware fiduciary duty is.
12 There is nothing in their pleadings. And the argument that 13 she -- the Trustee could not --

14 MS. LAMBERT: I again object.

15 MR. POMERANTZ: -- put that in the pleading --

16 MS. LAMBERT: The reason that they raised this in 17 their response is that, and they said in there, we anticipate 18 the U.S. Trustee will raise it, it's because I raised it at 19 the hearing on the management.

20 MR. POMERANTZ: Well, Your --

21 THE COURT: Okay. I overrule --

22 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor?

23 THE COURT: -- that objection. You can make your 24 argument.

25 MR. POMERANTZ: I will move on. It -- my only point

1 was there was a little bit of trial by ambush here, with 2 counsel standing up at the podium, talking about case law and 3 talking about Delaware fiduciary duties. That's not in the 4 record. But I'll move on, Your Honor.

5 Second, this issue was raised at the January 9th hearing
6 and Your Honor ruled that there was no conflict. So, in some 7 sense, it is res judicata to the issues that are here.

8 And most importantly, Your Honor, the Committee, as you
9 know, has been extremely active in this case, is represented
10 by competent professionals. There is no way that the 11 Committee would have allowed management to come in if they 12 believed that management would be subject to competing duties.

13 Nevertheless, Your Honor, I'd like to address the argument
14 head-on. The Debtor is a limited partnership. The limited
15 partnership is managed by Strand, which is the general
16 partner. And the management of the Debtor is carried out by a
17 board that has been installed at Strand at the general
18 partnership level.

19 When the Debtor filed its bankruptcy, its managers at 20 Strand owed a fiduciary duty to the bankruptcy estate. The 21 managers owe a fiduciary duty to the bankruptcy estate in the 22 same way that a trustee, if appointed, would owe a fiduciary
23 duty to the bankruptcy estate. And the argument that Jim 24 Dondero is an equity holder at Strand and somehow creates a 25 conflict is a red herring. Strand is a single-purpose entity.

1 All it does is manage the Debtor. Strand has an obligation to 2 manage the Debtor appropriately. If the board at Strand is 3 fulfilling its duties to the Debtor, it's fulfilling Strand's
4 duties to the Debtor.

5 So, in other words, Your Honor, what the board does that 6 is in honor of its fiduciary duties: makes sure Strand is 7 complying with its obligations and makes sure Strand is not 8 subject to any claims that they have not fulfilled their 9 obligations under the management agreement.

10 This was the situation in a case before Judge Isgur in 11 2014 in the Houston Regional Sports case, which we cite in our 12 papers at 505 B.R. 468. The debtor, a limited partnership,
13 was managed by a general partnership. The partners, ultimate 14 partners, disagreed in how the company should proceed, and the 15 company found itself subject to an involuntary bankruptcy
16 proceeding. One of the partners, the Houston Astros -- I
17 guess this is rag on Houston Astros week -- was --

18 THE COURT: Don't mention that, please.

19 MR. POMERANTZ: -- appointed a board member to the 20 general partner and argued to Judge Isgur that that board
21 member had duties to it as the general partner and that 22 because of that, and since its consent was needed for any 23 restructuring, that any Chapter 11 would have to fail.

24 Judge Isgur said no, no, no. A general partner, a board
25 member of a general partner, regardless of that it was

1 appointed by the Houston Astros, who may have different views,
2 had the obligations to the estate and to fulfill its the 3 obligations to the estate, and that if they did anything in 4 violation of that, it would create liability.

5 So that Judge Isgur directly challenged and opposed the 6 conclusion that there's somehow a different fiduciary duty.
7 Now, he did sort of, in a footnote, say that he wasn't finally 8 determining fiduciary duty issues, but he did not find any 9 conflict.

10 The same is true here. And the argument that there is 11 somehow this conflict, somehow these competing interests,
12 somehow that the board may act in favor of Jim Dondero that's 13 not in favor the board and that's different than a trustee, 14 that is essentially a red herring. It's hornbook law. When 15 an estate files bankruptcy, its managers owe a fiduciary duty
16 to the estate.

17 And who do we have on our board? We have a former judge.
18 What better to have on a board, considering what its fiduciary 19 duties are, as a former judge, a former bankruptcy judge who 20 is well-familiar with what fiduciary duties exist and to whom 21 they exist?

22 So, Your Honor, we don't think there's a conflict, and 23 there's certainly not a conflict that would rise to the level
24 of "other cause" that the Trustee is trying to fit and 25 shoehorn its motion for appointment of a trustee.

1 In conclusion, Your Honor, the Trustee has not carried its
2 burden of establishing that cause exists for the appointment
3 of a Chapter 11 Trustee, that "other cause" exists, or that it
4 is in the best interest of parties in interest. The corporate
5 governance structure approved by the Court renders moot the 6 concerns about the prepetition conduct and Debtor's prior 7 management, and there's nothing been adduced through the 8 testimony to lead to the conclusion that any of the members of 9 the -- employees of the Debtor are not doing what they're 10 supposed to be doing, reporting to the independent board, and 11 that the independent board cannot fulfill their duties.

12 Appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee would adversely impact
13 the Debtor's operations, jeopardize restructuring efforts.
14 And for all of these reasons, Your Honor, the Debtor requests
15 that the Court deny the Trustee's motion.

16 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Twomey, anything from 17 you?

18 CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE OFFICIAL COMMITTEE

19 MR. TWOMEY: Thank you, Your Honor. I will be brief,
20 but I do want to provide the Committee's perspective on this,
21 given in particular 1104's focus on stakeholders.

22 As Your Honor is aware, the Committee represents the 23 primary economic stakeholders in this case. Even more than 24 most cases, the unsecured creditors in this case comprise the 25 vast majority of creditors, given how little secured debt

1 there is. And Your Honor, the Committee which represents
2 those unsecured creditors strongly disputes the notion that
3 appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee would be in the best
4 interest of stakeholders, for many of the same reasons as Mr.
5 Clemente discussed at the prior hearing in support of the 6 settlement.

7 The Committee believes the settlement approved by this
8 Court a week and a half ago, and the corporate governance
9 structures embodied therein, provide the Debtor with the best
10 opportunity to maximize value in this case.

11 As described earlier, the Committee believes that the 12 board members are highly qualified, with complementary 13 skillsets. It's hard to imagine that there's a single trustee
14 out there that could match their combined experience and 15 expertise.

16 Any Chapter 11 trustee would face the same challenges that 17 the board is facing, and those challenges just wouldn't 18 magically go away by appointment of a trustee.

19 In addition, appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee at this 20 point would lead to more delay getting up to speed, additional 21 cost for the trustee trying to get up to speed in the case,
22 and it obviously would basically undo the settlement that the 23 Committee and the Debtor spent so much time trying to pull 24 together.

25 As Your Honor has heard today, the board clearly has

1 rolled up their sleeves. They're becoming heavily involved in 2 the case. And the Committee also has information and 3 oversight rights and standing to pursue certain claims under 4 the settlement that provides an additional check on all of 5 this process going forward.

6 So, Your Honor, in light of the foregoing, especially the 7 settlement that Your Honor approved a little over ten days
8 ago, the U.S. Trustee simply can't meet its burden of showing,
9 under these circumstances, that cause warrants appointment of 10 a Chapter 11 trustee or that appointment of a Chapter 11
11 trustee would be in the best interest of stakeholders.

12 So, Your Honor, the Committee respectfully requests that 13 the motion be denied.

14 THE COURT: Counsel for UBS, did you have something?

15 CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE UBS PARTIES

16 MS. POSIN: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you, Your Honor.
17 Kim Posin of Latham & Watkins, counsel for creditors and 18 Unsecured Creditors' Committee members, UBS Securities, LLC,
19 and UBS AG London Branch.

20 Your Honor, just very briefly, I wanted to say that UBS
21 has a very substantial claim against Debtors and this estate.
22 We believe our claim to be in excess of $1 billion. And that 23 results from a November 2019 judgment in the New York Supreme 24 -- or Superior Court -- Supreme Court, excuse me, on a breach
25 of contract claim.

1 So, as a very significant creditor of this estate, we have
2 spent a substantial amount of time with the Committee and with 3 Committee counsel over the last few weeks creating this new 4 governance structure that the Court has put into place in the 5 last week and a half.

6 We are hopeful and we fully expect that, now the new 7 governance is in place, that the Debtors will be able to 8 proceed with a path forward and avoid the distractions and,
9 you know, influences that may have hindered their decision-
10 making processes to date or before the new governance
11 structure was put into place.

12 While we appreciate the U.S. Trustee's concerns with the 13 pre-existing management structure, we believe that that broken
14 structure has now been fixed. And unless and until the new 15 governance structure proves to be unworkable or detrimental to 16 the Debtor's estate or to its creditors in some fashion, the 17 -- there is no need and it would be inappropriate to appoint a
18 Chapter 11 trustee.

19 In fact, we agree with Mr. Twomey and Mr. Pomerantz that 20 the appointment of a Chapter 11 trustee at this point in these 21 cases would be detrimental, it would be disruptive, it would 22 cause delays, and there's no assurances that any Chapter 11
23 trustee that could be appointed would be -- would have 24 anywhere near the qualifications and capabilities of the new 25 board members.

1 So, Your Honor, we believe it is in the best interests of 2 all creditors, not just the numbers of this Committee, to deny
3 the motion, to allow the new governance structure to proceed,
4 and to give the board members an opportunity to manage the 5 Debtor's decision-making processes to preserve value and 6 hopefully to reach a resolution of this case in an appropriate
7 manner as efficiently and effectively as possible.

8 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

9 MS. POSIN: Thank you.

10 THE COURT: Anyone else? Any rebuttal? All right.
11 We'll take a 15-minute break. It's 12:02. We'll come back at 12 12:17 and I'll give you a ruling.

13 THE CLERK: All rise.

14 (A recess ensued from 12:02 p.m. until 12:34 p.m.)

15 THE COURT: All right. We are going back on the 16 record in the Highland case. This is the Court's ruling on 17 the United States Trustee's motion for appointment of a
18 trustee.

19 The Court has bankruptcy subject matter jurisdiction
20 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Section 1334. This is a statutory core
21 proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157. The Court concludes 22 it has constitutional authority to make a final ruling in this 23 contested matter. And the Bankruptcy Code section that 24 governs the merits of the motion is Section 1104.

25 Based on the totality of the evidence, the Court believes

1 -- well, let me back up. Based on case authority, the Court
2 believes the legal standard is that there must be clear and 3 convincing evidence establishing the need for a trustee. But 4 even if I am misremembering the procedural history of Cajun
5 Electric, and even if the Fifth Circuit later, on a
6 rehearing, adopted a preponderance of the evidence standard
7 that had been suggested in a prior dissent, I would still find
8 here, under a preponderance of the evidence standard, that 9 there are not grounds under Section 1104(a)(1) or (2) for the 10 appointment of a trustee in this case. So the motion of the 11 U.S. Trustee is denied.

12 I frequently say in court hearings, some folks know, that 13 facts matter. It's kind of a mantra of mine. It seems like a 14 very obvious statement, I know. But facts, evidence, really 15 does matter. And here are some of the facts involved that 16 are, frankly, quite atypical compared to what bankruptcy
17 courts frequently see with trustee motions, motions to appoint
18 a Chapter 11 trustee.

19 First, as I've noted a couple of times before, we have a 20 well-constituted and well-represented Official Unsecured
21 Creditors' Committee. Three of the four members of the 22 Committee have extensive multi-year experience litigating with 23 this debtor. They are collectively owed many millions of 24 dollars. Actually, one Committee member, UBS, represented
25 today it thinks it's owed a billion dollars.

1 They are, beyond any doubt, sophisticated, well-
2 represented parties. And with all of their background and 3 breadth of knowledge about this debtor and its now-former 4 control person, Jim Dondero, with all of their history of 5 distrust and acrimony, they do not at this juncture support a
6 Chapter 11 trustee.

7 In fact, as we all know, the Committee and its 8 professionals worked mightily for several weeks with the 9 Debtor's professionals to come up with a new corporate 10 governance structure that, in their reasonable view, could 11 serve as a much more favorable vehicle than a Chapter 11
12 trustee.

13 They, as we all know, negotiated and chose three new 14 independent board members of the general partner of the 15 Debtor, Strand, which general partner, of course, ultimately 16 controls the Debtor and has fiduciary duties to the Debtor as 17 a general partner. And this new board not only has all the 18 attributes, benefits of independence and an understanding of 19 fiduciary duties, the Court has issued an order defining its 20 role as such, but, in this Court's opinion, this new board has 21 at least two distinct advantages over a Chapter 11 trustee.

22 First, with no offense to any of the Chapter 11 trustee
23 candidates out there that might be able to serve, the three 24 board members bring a fabulous skillset to the process. A
25 retired bankruptcy judge, an individual with tremendous high-

1 yield investment and portfolio management experience, and an
2 individual with significant experience as an independent
3 director in difficult, large restructuring cases.

4 Second, the Debtor and the Committee professionals believe
5 that a new board, with the ability to retain or terminate
6 employees as they deem fit, would be less disruptive overall
7 and could potentially preserve enterprise value better than 8 the more drastic mechanism of a Chapter 11 trustee.

9 Moreover, in connection with this overhaul of governance,
10 corporate governance, the UCC, the Official Unsecured
11 Creditors' Committee, also negotiated mechanisms for 12 transparency in the Debtor's operation of its business, and 13 the Committee, Official Unsecured Creditors' Committee, was 14 given standing to pursue certain actions.

15 So, back to my mantra. The bottom line is facts matter,
16 and the facts are that we have sophisticated, well-heeled
17 economic stakeholders who have worked mightily to essentially
18 overhaul the entire corporate governance as to this debtor.
19 They have sanitized the problems.

20 Again, some of these Unsecured Creditors' Committee have a 21 history with this debtor. They have a history with putting 22 checks and balances in place and those not ideally working.
23 It is with this background that they have worked mightily for 24 several weeks with Debtor's professionals to come up with this 25 new corporate governance structure that, in their reasonable

1 view, provides the appropriate oversight and control that the 2 mechanisms perhaps in prior situations did not provide.

3 The U.S. Trustee relies on the strict wording of Section
4 1104 in urging its motion. Specifically, the wording that,
5 quote, The Court shall order the appointment of a trustee for
6 cause, including fraud, dishonesty, incompetence, or gross
7 [mis]management of the affairs of the debtor by current 8 management, either before or after the commencement of the 9 case, or similar cause.

10 The Court believes this statutory provision is aimed at 11 problems or malfeasance with current management. All of this 12 has been fixed. It's a very different scenario than when this 13 case was filed. If there are problems with remaining 14 employees, like in-house lawyers or treasurers or others, the 15 board has the ability to terminate these individuals. But I
16 had no evidence that there are specific problems with any 17 particular remaining individuals.

18 Simply because I or another Court may have made statements
19 in prior rulings about unreliable testimony or may have found
20 evidence of fraudulent transfers is not a problem that taints
21 this completely-overhauled management structure. Again, this 22 was a complete overhaul. The facts and timing are such today
23 that Mr. Dondero is no longer current management. Current 24 management are the words used in Section 1104.

25 This case is no different than numerous other large

1 Chapter 11 cases when, often before the petition date but
2 sometimes after, old board members resign, new board members
3 are brought in, CEOs are ousted. It's common. It avoids the 4 possible need for a Chapter 11 trustee. It brings integrity
5 to the process and hopefully preserves the ability to 6 reorganize. Creditors sometimes demand it. The debtor's
7 professionals sometimes suggest it. Sometimes, current 8 management resigns before being told they'll need to. This is 9 one of the realities with distressed companies.

10 A new board and new management are not only a pragmatic
11 solution, but this Court concludes are totally within the 12 parameters and the provisions and overall structure of Chapter
13 11.

14 At bottom, the professionals for the Debtor and the 15 Official Unsecured Creditors' Committee have fixed the 16 problem, the problems with the current management that existed
17 as of the petition date. I approved the new governance
18 structure pursuant to Sections 363 and 105, and now we don't 19 have the cause that 1104 refers to.

20 Moreover, I have no evidence that a trustee is in the best
21 interest of parties pursuant to Section 1104(a)(2). So, no
22 cause for a Chapter 11 trustee.

23 I reserve the right to supplement or amend in a form of 24 order, but I will ask Debtor's counsel to submit a form of 25 order.

1 All right. Well, turning to the remaining business, I
2 know we had two or three other motions, and there were no
3 objections to those motions.

4 MR. LITVAK: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

6 MR. LITVAK: Max Litvak; Pachulski Stang Ziehl &
7 Jones; on behalf of the Debtor.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. LITVAK: I'm here to present those last three 10 items on the agenda, which are 7, 8, and 9.

11 THE COURT: All right.

12 MR. LITVAK: And Your Honor, if I may suggest that we 13 go in reverse order.

14 THE COURT: All right. I'm pulling out my agenda to 15 the appropriate --

16 MR. LITVAK: Yes, Your Honor. Number 9 is the Mercer
17 retention application.

18 THE COURT: Okay. That is the compensation expert
19 professional, correct?

20 MR. LITVAK: Exactly right, Your Honor. We have no
21 objections to this application, and Mercer has already, some 22 time ago, actually, commenced rendering services for -- to the 23 Debtor with respect to compensation issues.

24 THE COURT: All right. Again, we did not have any 25 written objection. Anybody want to say anything about this

1 application?

2 All right. Well, notice has been proper. We have no
3 objections. They appear to be well-qualified. I approve this 4 under 327 and 328 of the Bankruptcy Code.

5 MR. LITVAK: Your Honor, would you like to see a
6 proposed form of order, or -- it is essentially the same one
7 that we filed with the application, except we have updated the 8 caption because the application was actually originally filed
9 in Delaware.

10 THE COURT: All right. No. You may simply upload it
11 electronically, please.

12 MR. LITVAK: Yes, Your Honor. Will do. Thank you.

13 Moving to Number 8 on the agenda, Your Honor, is the bonus
14 motion. It is the Debtor's motion to pay our ordinary course
15 obligations under employee bonus plans. And Your Honor, there 16 are no pending objections with respect to this motion. The 17 U.S. Trustee has filed no objection. We did negotiate
18 resolution with the Creditors' Committee that I wanted to tell 19 you about.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. LITVAK: We have agreed, for purposes of today,
22 to exclude four statutory insiders.

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 MR. LITVAK: So, from our perspective, there are no
25 -- no insiders who are covered by the motion. Or covered with

1 respect to the proposed order that we'd be submitting to you
2 today, which has been reviewed and approved by the Creditors'
3 Committee. There are a few others that are being pulled out
4 as well.

5 But the net result of it, Your Honor, is that we are 6 asking for approval of ordinary course plans in an amount
7 that's substantially reduced from what was initially asked
8 for, the initial request for relief.

9 Specifically, Your Honor, the order for relief here today
10 is with respect to what we've called an annual bonus plan and 11 also what we've called a -- as a deferred bonus plan. The 12 annual bonus plan was actually approved almost a year ago, in 13 February 2019. It relates to employee performance in 2018
14 calendar year. As I mentioned, it's all ordinary course. But 15 the payments are in installments. So it's deferred
16 compensation, which actually is a substantial portion of 17 employee compensation in the industry as well as for this 18 Debtor. Employees agree to take reduced salaries with the 19 expectation that they're going to be compensated substantially
20 with respect to bonuses.

21 And that is, in fact, what happened here, and what has 22 happened in the ordinary course. And in February 2019, the 23 company approved bonuses for employees for their performance
24 in 2018, but employees will only be entitled to receive those 25 bonuses to the extent they continue to be employed with the

1 Debtor on deferred payment dates. And there are four
2 installments. Two were made prepetition and two remain to be 3 paid. And what we're asking for today, Your Honor, is for 4 your authority to continue to make those payments in the
5 ordinary course.

6 So the third installment comes due on February, in 7 February 2020, and then the fourth installment comes due in 8 August 2020. So this year, next month, and then a few months
9 down the road.

10 The deferred bonus plan goes back even further. It was 11 approved in February 2017 for the 2016 calendar year. And it,
12 in the ordinary course, is deferred 39 months, and those 13 payments are actually tied in with certain publicly-traded
14 allocated -- allocated publicly-traded stock. So an employee
15 is awarded a certain amount, and that value is represented in 16 publicly-traded stock, which is actually set aside, held by 17 the company for the benefit of that employee.

18 If the employee sticks around for 39 months, then on the 19 39th month there will be a vesting. And the next vesting will 20 be in May, May 2020 for the February 2017 awards.

21 And the stock in many cases has increased in value, just 22 as the stock market has increased in value, generally
23 speaking. So the amounts that were awarded in February 2017
24 have actually increased in value, and the employees would be 25 expecting that, that if they're continuing to perform and do

1 their job and they're still employed on that date of when
2 there is a vesting, that they would be entitled to that stock
3 at the value -- at the market value of that stock on the 4 vesting date.

5 Your Honor, another important thing that's significant
6 about the Debtor's bonus plans is that they are not
7 guaranteed. Even -- even when they're awarded. An employee
8 has to continue to perform at a very high level or they can be 9 terminated. Frankly, an employee can continue to perform at a 10 high level and still be terminated. So someone can be 11 terminated without cause, and then they will not be entitled 12 to the bonus, unless they're there on the actual payment date.
13 So, come February 28th, the employees that are there, the 14 board will decide which employees are there. Presumably, it's 15 the bulk of the employees. Then those employees will be 16 entitled to what they have been awarded prepetition. And 17 that's what we're asking the Court to approve today.

18 We're not asking Your Honor to approve anything with 19 respect to 2019 bonuses yet. Frankly, the board is still 20 getting its arms around that and making determinations as to 21 what bonuses will be payable.

22 Your Honor, the board, the independent board, has closely
23 evaluated the Debtor's employee compensation structure and 24 reached a decision that most aspects of the bonus should be 25 approved, to avoid potentially catastrophic consequences for

1 this estate.

2 The board has considered input from the Creditors'
3 Committee. The board has decided to make certain 4 modifications to the bonus plans as they were proposed in the 5 initial filing. So the initial motion that we filed was 6 actually filed in Delaware, I believe on November 26, 2019.
7 And the matter was initially set for hearing on December 17th
8 in Delaware. Then venue was transferred, and we have 9 subsequently renoticed the hearing a couple of times to today,
10 ultimately.

11 The bonus amounts -- as I mentioned, Your Honor, the board
12 has decided with respect to the modifications to exclude the 13 four statutory insiders as well as a few others, and the board
14 intends to address the compensation of those employees
15 separately.

16 The bonus amounts that are requested today, Your Honor,
17 after reductions, now aggregate $1.8 million in February, $1.2
18 million in May, and $1.7 million in August, for a grand total
19 of approximately $4.6 million, Your Honor. That would cover
20 approximately 40 employees.

21 In the original motion, we actually asked for over $10
22 million, so this is more than cutting it in half. The board
23 has had the benefit of a compensation expert, which is Mercer,
24 who has confirmed that the Debtor's bonus, bonus plans, are 25 well within market, and that if such bonuses are not paid, the

1 Debtor's employees would be severely undercompensated.

2 The bottom line, Your Honor, is that the board has 3 concluded, in its sound business judgment, that continuing to 4 honor the Debtor's ordinary course bonus obligations, as 5 modified, to employees is critical. The failure to do so is 6 likely to cause an employee exodus and will adversely
7 prejudice the Debtor's efforts to maximize value for all
8 constituents.

9 Your Honor, we're asking you to approve the payments, the 10 bonus payments, under Sections 105 and 363 of the Bankruptcy
11 Code as a sound exercise of business judgment. Also, under 12 Section 1107 of the Bankruptcy Code in that the Debtor is 13 exercising its fiduciary duty to try and maximize value,
14 consistent with a couple opinions that we've run across in 15 this district from Judge Lynn.

16 Most recently, Your Honor, there is a decision called In 17 re Tusa -- T-U-S-A hyphen -- Expo Holdings, 2008 Bankr. LEXIS
18 2852. It's Judge Lynn's opinion from 2008 where he clarifies
19 an earlier opinion, In re CoServ, 273 B.R. 487. He basically 20 reaches the conclusion, Your Honor, that, under Section 1107,
21 the Debtor has a fiduciary duty to maximize value, and 22 maintaining relationships with employees is a necessity.

23 So, under the necessity of payment doctrine, we would ask
24 Your Honor to approve these payments. Even though they were 25 approved prepetition, they are coming due postpetition. We

1 would ask the Court to approve that.

2 Further, Your Honor, because we have carved out insiders,
3 we do not believe that Sections 503(c)(1) or (c)(2) of the 4 Bankruptcy Code apply at all to what we're asking for today,
5 and that 503(c)(3) also doesn't apply. Even though that 6 section is not limited to insiders, we don't think it applies
7 because this is an ordinary course program and 503(c)(3) talks
8 about outside the ordinary course.

9 Here, the bonus plans are entirely consistent with the 10 ordinary course operations of the Debtor and completely
11 consistent with prepetition practice.

12 Your Honor, in addition to the bonus plans, just as a 13 minor point, there is what is called a dividend reinvestment
14 plan where the Debtor will contribute -- gross up, effectively
15 -- an employee contribution into an investment fund, which is 16 actually with an affiliate called NexPoint. So, basically,
17 employees of the Debtor are given the opportunity to invest in 18 a couple of mutual funds that are run by affiliates. If they 19 choose to do that, then the Debtor will gross up the value of 20 those employees' investments as an employee benefit. So it's 21 really just another form of compensation to employees. It's a
22 15 percent gross-up. And with respect to possible prepetition
23 obligations under the DRIP, they're very nominal. Less than 24 $30,000, if any. So we are asking approval in the motion up
25 to $30,000, and then authority to continue the program in the

1 ordinary course.

2 The Debtor also has certain of its own funds invested in
3 these mutual funds, and those mutual funds throw off
4 dividends. And the Debtor in the ordinary course reinvests
5 the dividends in those funds. And the Debtor is asking for 6 authority to continue to do that.

7 These are not huge numbers, Your Honor, but it's -- it's 8 maybe $10,000 to $20,000 a month.

9 For these reasons, Your Honor, the Debtor would urge you
10 to approve the motion. If you need any further factual
11 support, I'm prepared to offer it, but the motions are 12 uncontested, as far as we know.

13 THE COURT: All right.

14 MR. LITVAK: Or the motion is.

15 THE COURT: All right. Well, I certainly didn't see 16 written objections. Do we have comments from, first, the 17 Committee? Are you willing to accept these facts as 18 unrefuted, or do you have a desire to examine witnesses on 19 this?

20 MR. TWOMEY: Absolutely not, Your Honor. Just wanted
21 to confirm for Your Honor that the Committee did originally 22 have issues with the scope of the relief requested in the 23 motion as it was filed back in November, but the Committee and 24 its advisors have worked with the Debtor, primarily through 25 their directors and advisors, to narrow the scope of the

1 relief requested to the point where it is, in fact, acceptable
2 to the Committee, as outlined by Mr. Litvak. So, the 3 Committee is now comfortable with the narrowed relief as just 4 outlined and is comfortable with the Court approving that 5 requested relief.

6 THE COURT: All right. Well, we appreciate your role
7 --

8 MR. TWOMEY: Thank you, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: -- in negotiating some narrowing of the 10 relief.

11 Anyone else? U.S. Trustee or anyone else have issues?
12 All right. Ms. Lambert, you had something?

13 MS. LAMBERT: No. No issues, Your Honor. It is our 14 understanding that any new bonus program will be subject to a
15 separate motion.

16 THE COURT: All right. I think that's what I
17 inferred, but maybe you should clarify on the record.

18 MR. LITVAK: Your Honor, I would like to clarify
19 that, because we -- we actually have not reached that 20 determination. We are evaluating what the bonus plan will 21 look like, and then we'll confer with the board, do some 22 research of our own, and make that determination. But if it
23 would make Ms. Lambert happy, I'm sure we could agree to 24 communicate to her our decision.

25 THE COURT: All right. So think what I'm hearing is

1 you're reserving the right to take the position that any new 2 bonus program would be ordinary course of business and 3 wouldn't need court approval?

4 MR. LITVAK: Yes, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: All right. Well, then I am going to 6 accept you at your word made on the record that you will 7 communicate, you'll give notice to the U.S. Trustee if any new 8 bonus plan is -- the Debtor desires to implement one and takes 9 the position it doesn't need court approval, and then if she 10 disagrees or the Committee disagrees, someone can file a 11 motion to, whatever the motion would be worded, to have the 12 Court weigh in on the subject.

13 MR. LITVAK: Yes, ma'am.

14 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

15 MR. LITVAK: Your Honor, I do have a proposed form of 16 order, along with a redline against the original form of order
17 that we had filed, if you'd care to see that with respect to 18 the bonus motions.

19 THE COURT: You --

20 MR. LITVAK: If I may approach.

21 THE COURT: You can approach on that.

22 (Pause.)

23 THE COURT: Thank you.

24 MR. LITVAK: The redline primarily reflects changes
25 that were requested by the Creditors' Committee, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 MR. LITVAK: And clarifying that the motion is 3 granted as presented at the hearing today minus the few
4 employees, insiders that I had mentioned.

5 THE COURT: All right. Well, the Court is going to 6 approve the bonus motion as narrowed here on the record today.
7 The Court believes that, based on the unrefuted facts, there's 8 a sound exercise of business judgment reflected in this 9 proposal, and that it would certainly be a preservation of 10 value by keeping these bonuses in place that were negotiated
11 or put in place prepetition. So the Court thinks this form of 12 order looks fine and the motion is hereby approved.

13 MR. LITVAK: Thank you very much, Your Honor.

14 With that, I'll move to the last item on the agenda, which 15 is Number 7, the cash management motion, which was filed some 16 time ago as a first-day filing. Judge Sontchi did enter an 17 interim order. We've been operating under the interim order
18 ever since. It's been over three months now.

19 And at the last hearing, we were prepared to present the 20 final order, but the U.S. Trustee, as I understand it, stood
21 up and made a speaking objection to the effect that the Debtor
22 should be required to bond a couple of brokerage accounts.

23 So the Debtor has two brokerage accounts that are at 24 issue. There is a Jefferies account and then there's an 25 account at Maxim. And there is a significant amount in terms

1 of value of securities there. At Jefferies, we're looking at 2 in the range of $80 million, and at Maxim $30 million. At 3 Jefferies, there is a margin balance, so basically a
4 prepetition secured claim by Jefferies against the estate of 5 $30 million.

6 We have gone to these brokers to ask them if they would be 7 willing to participate in a bond or surety relationship of 8 some sort with a third party. We have also gone out and 9 obtained one quote so far with respect to how much that would 10 cost. The one quote was in the range of $200,000 or $300,000.

11 The board -- I've discussed this with the board. It is 12 the board's view that spending that money to buy a surety bond
13 is not a good use of the estate's limited resources. But 14 further, as a practical matter, Your Honor, we have gone to 15 Jefferies, and they are unwilling to enter into surety -- they 16 would be required to sign an indemnity agreement with a 17 surety. So if a surety is ever called upon to pay because the 18 securities that are supposed to be there for some reason are 19 not there, then Jefferies would be obligated to reimburse the 20 surety. That's the indemnity. And further, Jefferies would 21 be required to become an approved depository here. They're 22 not willing to do that.

23 So, Your Honor, I think we're at the position, from the 24 Debtor's perspective, that we would ask you to, to the extent
25 that the U.S. Trustee still has an objection, that we would

1 ask you to approve a waiver of the 345 requirement for cause,
2 the cause being that the Debtor does not believe that this is
3 a good use of estate resources. The Debtor is in the business
4 of doing just this, which is money management, investing in 5 securities. This is not a retail business that, on the side,
6 is trying to make some money off securities. This is what the 7 Debtor does. So it is a very unique set of facts here.

8 The Debtor also doesn't have the ability to move the 9 accounts, particularly the one at Jefferies, because Jefferies
10 has a significant margin balance which secures them. So
11 they're not going to let us move the money out. So we're kind
12 of stuck.

13 And it has never been an issue before, Your Honor.
14 Jefferies, incidentally, has, we found out from their website
15 -- it is obviously a highly-regulated entity, as is Maxim --
16 Jefferies has significant insurance in place. Beyond the SIPC
17 coverage for securities accounts, which is tapped at $500,000,
18 Jefferies has another -- an excess policy of $24-1/2 million
19 on top of that, and maybe more.

20 So, Your Honor, from the Debtor's perspective, we would 21 ask the Court to give us the waiver here under the unique
22 circumstances here of 345 and that the Debtor be permitted to 23 continue to maintain those two brokerage accounts in the 24 ordinary course.

25 THE COURT: All right. Others wish to be heard?

1 MS. LAMBERT: So, to be clear, Your Honor, the United
2 States Trustee didn't ask them to bond the amounts. The U.S.
3 Trustee asked that the insurance parallel the specific 4 insurance, or the bonding, parallel that, so that if the 5 actual stocks are not there, there's something to go against,
6 and so, therefore, making it parallel to the same kind of 7 posting of collateral with the Fed in case an institution
8 fails.

9 So, it is also possible to get insurance, just as 10 Jefferies has, for the Debtor. And they're still outstanding 11 on several requests. But if Jefferies won't sign the 12 indemnification agreement, they won't sign it. So that's the 13 issue. I mean, could they get insurance separately? I don't 14 know. They haven't tried. But I will want the Court -- I 15 mean, like Judge Houser will never ever grant this kind of 16 relief. I want the Court to be aware that the estate is at 17 risk if there's a problem at Jefferies or if there's a problem
18 at the other institution.

19 THE COURT: All right. Anyone else wish to weigh in?

20 And I'm going to go back to my mantra. Facts matter. I'm 21 not sure Judge Houser has ever had this type of entity. You
22 know, it's not a retail store, it's not a restaurant, it's not 23 an apartment complex. It's a debtor whose reason for existing 24 is money management and investing. Not that it doesn't ever 25 make mistakes, but, again, I think the unique circumstances of

1 this debtor in this case merit a waiver of the Section 345(b)
2 requirement.

3 I think it would not be an exercise of reasonable
4 judgment, under the facts I have before me, to require, you
5 know, a $200,000 or $300,000 cost surety bond. So I grant the 6 motion and grant the waiver.

7 And as with any order, I won't require this blue sky
8 language, but certainly if, you know, Jefferies and Maxim, you
9 know, it's well publicized, they go into distress themselves
10 and we need to revisit this ruling, the Court would certainly 11 be willing to revisit the issue if the world changes, and I
12 think that's a good thing to do.

13 All right. Before we end matters on this motion, I left
14 my notes on my desk, but I had in my brain that at one time
15 there were four stray issues that the Committee had. And I 16 just want to double-check these four stray issues were 17 resolved with the settlement. I know there was an issue with 18 regard to a couple, I mean, well, four recurring commitments
19 of the Debtor. One regarding that life settlement entity,
20 where the premium was something like a million dollars a month
21 that Debtor was paying. There was another, you know,
22 Singapore office and a Korea investment company. And I can't 23 remember, I think the other was just general overhead
24 provided. Have those issues been resolved, wrapped up in the 25 settlement? I did not go back and double-check the

1 settlement.

2 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, Jeff Pomerantz. We had
3 interim approval under the cash management to do certain
4 things.

5 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

6 MR. POMERANTZ: But Your Honor is correct that any 7 continued intercompany cash management issues were covered by 8 the protocols. So that is where we will be seeking authority
9 to do any other type of intercompany transactions. It will 10 not be pursuant to this cash management order, but it was 11 important for this cash management order to become final 12 because it did govern the case before the case got transferred 13 here and we took action as we were permitted to do under the 14 interim order.

15 THE COURT: Okay. So without asking you to recite
16 every single sentence of the settlement motion and order,
17 there's some sort of oversight and approval mechanism for 18 those payments, those obligations?

19 MR. POMERANTZ: Correct. Correct. Correct.
20 Intercompany transactions, related-party transactions, is a --

21 THE COURT: Just that general umbrella?

22 MR. POMERANTZ: -- is the general umbrella.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MR. POMERANTZ: And there's a certain process and 25 procedure how we would get approval from that, giving

1 visibility to the Creditors' Committee.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Counsel, did you want to add
3 anything?

4 MR. TWOMEY: Just to confirm that's correct, Your 5 Honor. We had an operating protocol that was approved as part 6 of the settlement. And so, pursuant to that, these types of 7 transactions will be, you know, for example, run by the 8 Committee, and only if there are issues will we have to come
9 back to the Court.

10 THE COURT: The general umbrella --

11 MR. TWOMEY: Yes.

12 THE COURT: -- of intercompany transactions? All 13 right. I bet Retired Judge Nelms' ears perked up when he 14 heard about life settlements. If you don't understand that 15 comment, I'm sure he'll love to talk to you about Life
16 Partners.

17 MR. POMERANTZ: Yes. We've had those discussions,
18 Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Okay.

20 MR. POMERANTZ: Your Honor, I think the only thing
21 remaining to be done is a couple of dates.

22 THE COURT: Okay.

23 MR. POMERANTZ: We thought it would be helpful to set
24 sort of, you know, essentially omnibus dates.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MR. POMERANTZ: We may have things relating to the 2 continued bonus programs to bring before the Court. May not.
3 And just so people generally could know when to file things.
4 So we've conferred with the Creditors' Committee counsel. I
5 didn't have the opportunity to confer with the Trustee. But 6 we have a date in February, perhaps either February 19th or 7 20th.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. POMERANTZ: And then also a date in March, either
10 the 10th, 11th, or 12th.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Let me see what we can do.

12 (Pause.)

13 THE COURT: Okay. We can give you 2/19 at 9:30 in 14 the morning.

15 (Pause.)

16 THE COURT: Okay. We can give you Wednesday, March
17 11th, at 9:30.

18 MR. POMERANTZ: Thank you very much, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: All right. So, for now, do we want to 20 absolutely set some of these carryover matters? I know we had 21 the retention application.

22 MR. POMERANTZ: We have the retention applications,
23 we have the PensionDanmark, --

24 THE COURT: The Pension --

25 MR. POMERANTZ: -- and then we have the settlement

1 related to the CLO Issuer. So why don't we put all those
2 three on for the 19th at 9:30 a.m.?

3 THE COURT: Okay. I think it's four things. I think
4 there were two retention applications.

5 So, for now, Traci, we're going to set the Foley Gardere
6 and Lynn Pinkerton retention applications on February 19th, as 7 well as the Pension motion to lift stay. I can't remember the 8 exact name of that. And then, okay, you said there's a CLO
9 Issuers motion?

10 MR. POMERANTZ: Well, it was the -- it was the 11 overall settlement motion, if Your Honor recalls, that I
12 mentioned at the beginning of the hearing.

13 THE COURT: Oh, the language --

14 MR. POMERANTZ: That specific issue on the protocols.

15 THE COURT: -- they were hoping to have for 16 protocols?

17 MR. POMERANTZ: Correct.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Yeah. So we'll carry over the 19 settlement motion between the Committee and the Debtor. Even 20 though I've entered an order, we actually have some carryover
21 language. So we'll put that on the calendar again. No, all 22 of those on February 19th. And, again, you'll coordinate with 23 Traci if you have add-on matters that you need --

24 MR. POMERANTZ: Correct, Your Honor. And then we 25 will file the appropriate agenda of that in advance and

1 provide Your Honor with notebooks so that Your Honor will know
2 exactly what was on. I know Traci was -- did a great job of 3 trying to figure it out, and we didn't make her life easier up
4 until the agenda, but we promise to make both yours and her
5 life easier going forward.

6 THE COURT: Well, for my life, the notebook and 7 everything was great when I started looking at it over the 8 weekend, so thank you. Appreciate it.

9 MR. POMERANTZ: Thank you very much, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right. I appreciate everyone's
11 positions and courtesies today. All right.

12 MR. POMERANTZ: Thank you, Your Honor.

13 THE CLERK: All rise.

Creditors Joshua N. Terry and Jennifer G. Terry (the “Terrys”) file this Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Allow Pursuit of State Court Action Against Non-Debtors (the “Motion”) pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 362(d), and show the Court as follows:

SUMMARY OF MOTION

1. Out of an abundance of caution, the Terrys request stay relief to pursue their state court claims against non-debtors James Dondero (“Dondero”) and Thomas Surgent (“Surgent”). In state court litigation, Surgent and Dondero, along with the Debtor Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the “Debtor”), agreed to pay the Terrys $425,000.00 to resolve claims associated with the theft of monies from the Terrys’ retirement accounts. Surgent and Dondero are jointly and severally liable with the Debtor for that amount. In state court, the Terrys wish to sever their claims from those against the Debtor and recoup their retirement savings from Surgent and Dondero. The Terrys have been deprived of their stolen retirement savings for more than three years, and it is about time they get back what was stolen from them in 2016.

JURISDICTION

2. This Court has jurisdiction over the Motion by virtue of 11 U.S.C. §§103, 361, 362, 363 and 28 U.S.C. §§1334(b), 157(b).

RELEVANT FACTS

3. As this Court knows, an arbitration panel of three well-respected former state court jurists issued a scathing arbitration award involving actions of the Debtor’s former affiliates and present employees, including Dondero and Surgent. A true and correct copy of the arbitration award is attached hereto as Exhibit 1. The arbitration panel found that approximately $350,000.00 in the Terrys’ retirement accounts were converted and that their claims for conversion and damages “should be stated against those parties or others, elsewhere.” Ex. 1 at p. 16.

4. The Terrys did as the arbitration panel advised and brought those claims in state court for the conversion of their retirement accounts against the orchestrators of the scheme:

Highland, Dondero and Surgent. The state court suit is in the 162nd District Court of Dallas County, Texas, Case No. DC-16-11396 (the “State Court Litigation”).

5. On October 2, 2019, the parties to the State Court Litigation settled, as reflected in the agreement attached hereto as Exhibit 2, which is a legally-enforceable agreement pursuant to Texas Rule of Civil Procedure 11 (the “Rule 11”). The Rule 11 provides, among other things, that “Defendants shall pay Plaintiffs $425,000” and “[t]he parties will mutually, fully, and comprehensively release each other with usual and customary releases (we do not intend to settle this matter if it is Defendants’ intent to use one of their thousands of entities, funds, or affiliates to sue, directly or indirectly, Mr. or Mrs. Terry); however, the releases shall not release Highland CLO Funding Ltd.’s claims in Guernsey nor any claims of Acis Capital Management, LP or Acis Capital Management GP, LLC.” Ex. 2 (emphasis added).

6. On October 16, 2019, Debtor filed this bankruptcy case.

7. On October 21, 2019, Debtor filed a Suggestion of Bankruptcy in the State Court Litigation.

8. Attached hereto as Exhibit 3 is a declaration of Joshua N. Terry setting out the aforementioned facts.

ARGUMENT & AUTHORITY

9. “Cause” exists for relief from the automatic stay permitting the Terrys to:

- (a) File and pursue to order a motion to sever claims against Dondero and Surgent from those against Debtor, such that the State Court Litigation will have two separate causes with separate defendants, one with the Debtor and one with Dondero and Surgent;
- (b) Pursue their claims against Surgent and Dondero in the severed action.

10. Other than severing the claims against Dondero and Surgent from those against the Debtor, the latter of which will remain stayed by the automatic stay, the requested relief will not affect the Debtor.

11. “[W]hile the stay protects the debtor who has filed a bankruptcy petition, litigation can proceed against other co-defendants.” GATX Aircraft Corp. v. M/V Courtney Leigh, 768 F.2d 711, 716 (5th Cir. 1985). The Terrys request the Court grant them stay relief to sever and pursue their state law claims against the Debtor’s co-defendants, Dondero and Surgent.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, the Terrys respectfully request that upon hearing of the Motion, the Court grants the Terrys the following stay relief to:

- (a) File and pursue to order a motion to sever claims against Dondero and Surgent from those as against Debtor, such that the State Court Litigation will have two separate causes with separate defendants, one with the Debtor and one with Dondero and Surgent;
- (b) Pursue their claims against Surgent and Dondero in the severed action.

The Terrys also request the Court grant such other and further relief to which they are entitled.

HEARING

In accordance with the Parties' agreement to arbitrate and Court Order, disputes between Claimant, Joshua N. Terry ("Terry") and Highland Capital Management, LP, ("Highland"), ACIS

Capital Management, LP (“ACIS”), ACIS Capital Management GP, LLC (“ACIS GP”), James Dondero, as Trustee of the Dugaboy Investment Trust (“Trust”), and Mark K. Okada (“Okada”), all Respondents were submitted to binding arbitration before JAMS. The Arbitration Panel members are the Hon. Glen M. Ashworth (Ret.), the Hon. Mark Whittington (Ret.) and the Hon. Harlan Martin (Former), serving as Chairman of the Panel.

The arbitration hearing was conducted in Dallas, Texas on the dates of September 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, 2017, with additional briefing submitted thereafter. The briefing was closed and the hearing was complete on September 28, 2017.

PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

In Cause No. DC-16-11396, styled Highland Capital Management, LP vs. Joshua N. Terry, the 162nd Judicial District Court stayed the litigation and Ordered the parties to arbitration.

The Panel has previously dismissed all claims stated by Terry against Jams Dondero, individually. James Dondero is not an appropriate party to this proceeding and did not obligate himself to the Parties’ arbitration agreement.

The Panel has previously dismissed Terry’s claims for Declaratory Judgment relief.

The Panel has previously dismissed Terry’s claims for Exemplary Damages, as same are an excluded remedy by the terms of the Parties’ arbitration agreement.

The Panel has previously denied Respondents’ Motion to Disqualify Clouse Dunn and ruled that the firm is not disqualified to represent Terry.

The Panel has declined to entertain any request for injunctive relief.

REMAINING CLAIMS STATED BY PARTIES

Terry states claims against Highland for Sabine Pilot wrongful termination and seeks damages for deferred compensation, unpaid wages, future wages and reimbursement of benefits not paid. Terry states claims against ACIS, ACIS GP and Highland for reputational damages, resulting from statements published in the pending District Court litigation and a press release to Law 360.

Terry states claims against ACIS, ACIS GP, Trust and Okada for breach of contract and seeks damages for amounts due under the terms of the ACIS LPA and damages resulting from overcharging expenses and withholding of retirement assets.

Terry states claims against ACIS and ACIS GP for fraud.

Terry states claims against ACIS GP for breach of fiduciary duty.

Terry states claims against ACIS, ACIS GP and Highland for conversion of assets, fraudulent transfer of ACIS assets, recovery of his attorney's fees and costs, together with pre and post award interest.

Highland states claims against Terry, "subject to, and without waiver of its contention that Highland is not a party to a valid arbitration agreement with Terry and its claims against him are not arbitrable or within the scope of any applicable arbitration agreement, which contentions remain fully reserved." With this reservation, Highland states claims against Terry for breach of employment agreement, theft/theft of trade secrets, breach of fiduciary duty/self-dealing and recovery of its attorneys' fees and costs together with pre and post award interest.

BACKGROUND FACTS

Terry began his employment with Highland in 2005. During the ensuing years he achieved remarkable success and ultimately became Highland's most productive portfolio manager and had direct responsibility for more than ten billion dollars of assets under his management.

In 2011, Terry, James Dondero and Okada formed ACIS as a registered investment advisor to raise money from third-party investors to invest in collateralized loan obligations, (CLOs). ACIS earns a fee for managing the loans.

As the general partner of ACIS, ACIS GP owned .1%. As limited partners of ACIS, Trust owned 59.9%; Okada owned 15% and Terry owned 25%.

James Dondero owned 100% of Trust and was an officer of ACIS GP, and in fact made or approved the financial strategies and decisions of ACIS. While Okada was less active, Terry was responsible for the day-to-day management of ACIS. Terry managed well, attracted significant investors and grew ACIS assets under his management from nothing to three billion seven hundred million dollars in less than six years.

Prior to 2016, Terry enjoyed a good relationship with Dondero. Terry had never been criticized, written up or disciplined during his eleven years of employment with Highland. Terry had been paid millions of dollars in Highland salary, bonuses and ACIS profit distributions, as he had produced many more millions for Highland and his ACIS partners.

Thereafter, tensions arose between Terry and Dondero which were centered in Dondero's plans to have Trussway Holdings, Inc. acquire Targa, a Brazilian latex manufacturer, out of bankruptcy. Trussway is a Highland affiliated company controlled by Dondero. The plan was to have Highland managed CLOs loan Trussway approximately seventeen million dollars so Trussway could loan a Highland affiliated Brazilian entity the money to acquire Targa and have Trussway use its cash to acquire its own equity to effectively increase Highland's ownership in Trussway.

At this time, Trussway's only lenders were the Highland CLOs and it owed the Highland CLOs approximately fifty six million dollars in Trussway notes coming due on May 31, 2016. Trussway did not have the money to pay the notes. Trussway did have more than twenty three million dollars still available on its revolver note (credit line), with the Highland CLOs. Dondero's plan was to extend the notes then due within days and finance Trussway's acquisition of Targa by drawing down the revolver funds. Dondero's plan was to not pay any of the CLOs' notes until such time as Trussway could be refinanced or sold.

All of the Highland CLOs lending to Trussway were "pre-crisis" 2009, CLOs. One of the CLOs, Pamco-Cayman, had matured years before and its notes were in technical default. Another, Vahalla was maturing within four months.

Terry was opposed to Dondero's plan and saw a need to vigorously oppose the plan. Terry was the portfolio manager of these Highland CLOs and was convinced it would be a breach of his fiduciary duty to allow the Pamco-Cayman and Vahalla notes to be extended, as they were past or near maturity. Terry's opposition escalated at the May 2016 Conflicts Committee meeting and having been told that outside counsel had approved the transaction, Terry was sure they could not know all of the facts. Terry then informed outside counsel of "the facts" and his opposition to Dondero's plan. Outside counsel was in agreement with Terry and thereafter, on June 9, 2016, the Conflicts Committee approved the Trussway/Targa Transaction, but with the Pamco-Cayman and Vahalla notes being paid off and not extended. Thus, less cash was available to Dondero to fund his plan.

On June 9, 2016, following the Conflicts Committee meeting, Dondero told Terry that “he had lost all trust in him”; that “he could not go through another conflicts process with him”; and “it was best that Terry work with Surgent, Highland’s Chief Compliance Officer (CCO), on an exit or transition out of Highland.” The next day, Dondero emailed Terry and told him to focus on a “clean break scenario” and not come back to the office. On June 13, 2106, Terry received an email from Highland’s Human Resources (H/R) director advising that he had been terminated for cause, but that Highland was “willing to consider the separation package previously offered”, presumably referring to CCO Surgent’s email of June 10, 2106, wherein he acknowledges that, “We are in agreement that we would like the termination of this relationship to be amicable.” On June 13, 2016, Terry communicates with Dondero protesting his termination and demanding he be paid by Highland and ACIS. Thereafter, Highland’s outside counsel sent a letter to Terry’s counsel, demanding the return of all Highland related documents in the possession of Terry. Terry’s counsel responds and reminds Highland’s counsel of Terry’s prior offer to return appropriate documents to Highland, and suggests a protocol for managing the electronically stored documents and electronic devices in possession of ESI, a third party forensics vendor, and demands redemption of Terry’s and his wife’s retirement account investments in ACIS CLO Value Fund II (CLOVF). Terry first requested redemption of these retirement account investments on June 20, 2016.

Thereafter, on June 27, 2016, Terry returns documents to Highland and continues to await an agreement on ESI return protocols. However, on July 27, 2016, Highland’s counsel rejects the proposed ESI return protocols and does not suggest alternate protocols. In the same e-mail string, Highland’s counsel responds to Terry’s request for redemption of the retirement investments in CLOVF, advising that; “we do not contest that Mr. Terry has submitted a request for redemption in full of all of his accounts. However, please note that those accounts do not have any value.” On September 1, 2016, the CCO, for the first time, memos Terry’s “compliance file” with allegations of Terry’s breach of fiduciary duty, self-dealing and material compliance violations regarding the CLOVF. This memo alleges an investor loss in the CLOVF attributed solely to Terry’s actions and that Highland in part offset such loss against “Mr. Terry’s” remaining interest in the CLOVF, “in accordance with Section 3.5(c) of the Agreement of Limited Partnership.” Thus, Terry’s and his wife’s retirement investment in the CLOVF was swept by Highland or others and “those accounts have no value,” as stated in Highland’s counsel’s email of July 27, 2016.

On September 7, 2016, the Parties mediated their dispute, but did not settle. The next day Highland filed suit against Terry alleging the same facts which the CCO alleged in his September 1, 2016 memo, and alleging Terry had a sexual relationship with a number of his subordinates, and alleging that Terry made disparaging/disrespectful remarks about Dondero. Highland’s suit stated claims for breach of employment agreement, breach of fiduciary duty/self-dealing, violation of the Texas Uniform Trade Secrets Act and sought declaratory relief that Terry was terminated for cause.

On September 12, 2106, Highland files its Application for Temporary Restraining Order and Motion to Disqualify Terry’s attorneys, and Terry files his Motion to Compel Arbitration. On September 28, 2106, the Court issued its Order compelling the Parties to arbitration and Ordered the litigation (Cause No. DC-16-11396, 162nd Judicial District Court) stayed pending a Final Award in Arbitration.

ANALYSIS OF FACTS AND CLAIMS

The Panel first addresses Terry's claims for breach of contract stated against ACIS and ACIS GP and breach of fiduciary duty stated against ACIS GP.

The evidence establishes that Highland terminated Terry's employment on June 9, 2016. The ACIS Limited Partnership Agreement (LPA), Section 4.04 requires that, "upon the resignation, death, disability or termination of employment with the Partnership or any Affiliate Employer (for any reason whatsoever) (as such event, a 'Removal Event') of any Limited Partner, the Partnership Interest of such Limited Partner shall automatically be forfeited to the Partnership and such Limited Partner shall be entitled to receive in consideration of such interest an amount equal to (i) 100% of such Limited Partners Percentage Interest of all Net Available Cash through the first year end following the Removal Event, (ii) 66 2/3% of such Limited Partner's Percentage Interest of all Net Available Cash through the second year end following such Removal Event, (iii) 33 1/3% of such limited Partner's Percentage Interest of Net Available Cash through the third year end following such Removal Event...; provided, that if the basis of such Removal Event was termination of employment with the Partnership or any Affiliate Employer for cause...such partner shall automatically forfeit its right to any further compensation or consideration for its Partnership Interest."

Because Highland stated that Terry was terminated for cause, ACIS and ACIS GP invoked the provided clause and deemed all of Terry's limited partnership interest and entitlement to payout as forfeit. Thus, ACIS and ACIS GP claim to owe Terry nothing for his 25% limited partnership interest in ACIS, as Terry claims he is contractually owed twelve million nine hundred and eight two thousand dollars for his 25% limited partnership interest in ACIS.

The evidence establishes that ACIS and ACIS GP did not just simply rely on Highland's statement of terminating Terry for cause. ACIS and ACIS GP became part of Highland's and Dondero's efforts to construct a pretext of "for cause" termination so Terry could be denied the value of his limited partnership interest in ACIS. ACIS and ACIS GP knowingly and willingly pretextually characterized Terry's termination from Highland as a "for cause" termination to deny Terry the value of his limited partnership interest, all in contractual breach of the ACIS LPA and in breach of fiduciary duty to Terry as its limited partner. ACIS and ACIS GP have no employees. All who act for ACIS and ACIS GP are officers or employees of Highland and perform multiple roles.

The evidence establishes that Highland's termination of Terry was, in fact, pre-textual, without basis of cause and only because Dondero wanted him gone. Terry's opposition to Dondero's Trussway/Targa plan was not self-dealing and not a breach of fiduciary duty. Terry's opposition to Dondero's plan to not pay investors and extend past due and near due notes was appropriate and was ultimately accepted by all to be the correct approach to complete the Trussway/Targa acquisition. Dondero was simply angry and realized Terry was not a "yes man" willing to let Dondero have his wrongheaded way, so Dondero fired Terry on the spot and later sought to characterize Terry's termination of employment as "for cause."

Respondents' offer to prove that Terry's termination was "for cause" is not persuasive. The contrasts between the true facts and their temporal relationship to Terry's termination, as those "facts" are characterized by Respondents as a predicate for his "for cause" termination, are not credible. The CCO's memo to Terry's file of September 1, 2016 was the first documentation of his alleged breach of fiduciary duty or self-dealing as a justification for his "for cause" termination.

There is no credible evidence that anyone ever discussed any prior sexual relationship between Terry and a co-worker, other than Terry in a "father/son" talk with Dondero in January 2015. That admitted relationship had ended months earlier, was not significant to Dondero and he told Terry there was no need to report the relationship to Human Resources. Respondents alleged other sexual relationships between Terry and co-workers which are denied by Terry. One is alleged to have occurred in 2011, but there is no credible evidence that it even occurred. It is simply not credible that a rumored relationship four years prior was any motivation for or could be any justification for Terry's "for cause" termination. Respondents' allegation that Terry had a sexual relationship with a Highland junior attorney is most offensive, as the relationship did not occur and was denied by both Terry and the junior attorney. This allegation was based solely on someone's fantasy related to costumes they wore at an office Halloween party and their common attendance at a business conference. It is not credible that a sophisticated CCO and H/R director would reasonably rely on such as a basis for Terry's "for cause" termination and resulting forfeiture of the value of his limited partnership interest in ACIS. The evidence establishes that Terry did not have a sexual relationship with the junior attorney, and the Respondents or others, in good faith, could not have reasonably believed he did.

The Panel is persuaded that the Respondents, feeling need to find motive for the junior attorney's assistance of Terry and her involvement in the CLOVF restructure, sponsored these allegations to support their claims that Terry was seeking the restructure of the CLOVF out of self-interest and in breach of his fiduciary duties, and establish the motives of the junior attorney in "knowingly" facilitating Terry's alleged breach of duty. This is a pretextual construct of the CCO and is simply not credible.

The proposed restructure of the CLOVF began in early 2015 and was always known by Dondero, Highland's legal department and CCO. The CLOVF was small, only had a few investors, was subject to investor redemption requests, had been co-opted to be supported by Highland employee's investment of their retirement accounts and not structured in a way to attract a target group of investors. The proposal was to restructure the CLOVF to make it more “hedge fund like”, and grow the CLOVF with new investors.

The CLOVF routinely paid profit distributions to its investors. This is not “hedge fund like” because profits were distributed rather than retained to be reinvested for growth. The two primary investors, referred to as Rampart and Kyser did not require routine distributions and sought growth. Highland employees had access to investing in the CLOVF by investing in its ITA retirement accounts, which were basically IRAs. Employee investors who wished to invest more in their ITA retirement accounts were required to invest in the CLOVF’s interest bearing notes at a ratio of 80% notes to support 20% investment in their ITA retirement accounts. If the CLOVF was to no longer distribute profits to accomplish “hedge fund like” reinvestment for growth, no distributions would be available to pay interest on the employee investment notes and the notes would need to be paid off. If there was no longer a vehicle to support aggressive employee investment in the CLOVF (the four to one ratio), the ITA did not need to continue to exist. The employee’s retirement accounts could simply be redeemed or transferred to other IRAs.

Terry was the portfolio manager of the CLOVF and its third largest investor. Like other investors, Terry had rights to redeem his investment, but he did not seek to redeem and continued to invest in CLOVF notes and he and his wife continued to invest their retirement funds in the ITA. Nonetheless, Respondents allege that a dichotomy of interest led Terry to lie and scheme to have his investment in the CLOVF paid while others were encouraged to invest. This is the substance of Respondents’ allegations of Terry’s self-dealing and breach of fiduciary duty, supporting both their allegations of “for cause” termination and Highland’s claims for damages and offset in the District Court suit. As noted, these claims were never documented or disclosed to Terry prior to the CCO’s memo of September 1, 2016, and Highland’s District Court suit.

As noted, the proposed restructure of CLOVF began in early 2015 and continued for a year thereafter. The business purpose of the restructure was well known to Dondero and the CCO. As early as the fall of 2015, Dondero and Terry were discussing the appropriateness of continuing the CLOVF without new investors. Dondero did not want to close the CLOVF and suggested that the DAF would become a major investor. The DAF (Donor Advised Fund), CLO Hold Co is the Parties' reference to a group of charitable foundations which were invested in Highland managed CLOs. The DAF's trustee is a Highland employee and Dondero's former college roommate. Apparently, Dondero knew he could direct the DAF's investment in the CLOVF and support its continuation. Dondero and the Highland CCO were aware of the planned restructure and its consequential effect on the ITA and the employee investor notes supporting the employee's retirement investments in the ITA. By December 2015, Dondero approves the restructure plan, payment of employee investor notes and the windup of the ITA. The Highland CCO expresses concern that Rampart's and Kyser's written approval is necessary for the CLOVF to stop paying profit distributions. Later the necessary approval is documented, apparently to the CCO's satisfaction, and the restructure plan proceeds. The DAF contributes sixteen million six hundred thousand dollars of Highland managed assets to the CLOVF, employee investor notes are paid and the ITA is wound up by the end of April 2016.

Following Terry's termination and later notice of "for cause" termination, Terry requested redemption of his and his wife's remaining investments in the CLOVF. Five weeks later, on July 27, 2016, he is advised that his investment has no value. Apparently, when the ITA was wound up in late April, Terry's and his wife's retirement investments were somehow re-characterized as Terry's capital account in the ACIS CLO Value Master Fund II, L.P. or his capital account in the CLOVF.

On or about July 19, 2106, Highland rescinded the DAF contributions to the CLOVF and returned the contributed assets to the DAF. Respondents state this rescission was necessary because they had “recently discovered (a) conflict of interest regarding an ex-employee.” However, the Rescission Agreement itself recites that, “the Parties have each determined that it is in their respective best interests of each of the Parties to rescind and cancel the Contribution.”

Incident to the rescission, the CLOVF returned all of the contributed assets to the DAF and paid in cash or transfer of additional assets the total value of seven hundred and eight thousand dollars, “to make the DAF whole”, and economically in the same position as before its contribution to the CLOVF.

The “recently discovered conflict of interest” is the CCO’s recent epiphany that Terry must have lied when he advised that the CLOVF investors Rampart and Kyser “requested” that distributions be terminated to accommodate reinvestment growth. The CCO’s testimony that he called these investors and confirmed this lie is not persuasive and begs credibility. The only documented evidence are the investors written approvals which the CCO required.

The July 27, 2016 advice that Terry’s and his wife’s retirement accounts had no value is only accurate because the value was taken and used to pay the DAF following the rescission. In the District Court suit, Highland states a claim for damages and offset for the additional value paid to the DAF. Respondents’ witness testified that the retirement fund’s value was in Terry’s capital account and it was swept pursuant to Section 3.5(c) of the ACIS CLO Value Master Fund II, L.P.’s limited partnership agreement.

Terry is a limited partner in the CLOVF and the CLOVF is a limited partner in the ACIS CLO Value Master Fund II (CLOVMF) but the evidence does not show Terry to be a partner in the CLOVMF. Assuming that Terry is a partner, as referenced in Section 3.5(c), Respondents’ claimed authority to sweep the accounts in satisfaction of or offset of damage or loss is directly dependent upon a nexus in causation between the alleged damage or loss and the conduct of Terry.

The evidence establishes that the CCO's claims of "recently discovered conflict of interest" is yet another construct and pretext to support Respondents' denial of limited partnership value based on a "for cause" termination and was not in fact the reason for the DAF rescission. It would make little difference to Highland which of its CLOs managed the DAF investments. Dondero simply reconsidered his decision to support the continuation of the CLOVF with Highland managed funds and realized, that in fact, as Terry had advised, the fund would be too small to manage without significant investors. The CLOVF was ultimately closed out because Dondero did not see benefit to its continuation. The evidence establishes that no conduct of Terry was a cause of damage or loss to the CLOVMF or the CLOVF.

Section 3.10(a) of the ACIS LPA limits compensation and reimbursement of expenses payable to the General Partner and any Affiliate of the General Partner to an amount not to exceed 20% of Revenues without the consent of all members of the Founding Partner Group. There is no dispute that Terry is a member of the Founding Partner Group. There is no evidence that Terry offered written consent to any expenses paid by ACIS in excess of 20% of Revenues. It is undisputed that ACIS habitually paid more than 20% of Revenues to Highland for providing ACIS with overhead and administration. Respondents' evidence and arguments that Terry waived or consented to ACIS's payment of excess expenses is not persuasive. At most, Terry accepted his ACIS distributions without regard to the expenses paid to Highland. This is not consent contemplated by the ACIS LPA. Highland is owned 75% by Dondero and 25% by Okada and Terry is not a partner in Highland. Terry had no reason to consent to excess expenses being paid to Highland. Additionally, the ACIS LPA has an express waiver clause at Section 6.09 which states,

“Waiver. No failure by any party to insist upon strict performance of any covenant, duty, agreement, or condition of this Agreement or exercise of any right or remedy consequent upon breach thereof shall constitute waiver of any such breach or any other covenant, duty, agreement, or condition.”

The evidence establishes that Terry did not consent to ACIS payments of expenses in excess of 20% of Revenue and Terry has not waived his right to claim damages directly resulting from ACIS’ and ACIS GP’s breach of contract and breach of fiduciary duty. Clearly ACIS and ACIS GP ignored Terry’s contractual rights and ACIS GP as a general partner has a fiduciary duty not to benefit itself or another at the expense of its limited partner, as they ignore and breach the terms of the partnership agreement and diminish Terry’s distributions.

The Panel next addresses Terry’s claim for conversion of the ITA retirement accounts stated against Highland, ACIS and ACIS GP.

Without again reciting the convoluted structure and history of the ITA retirement accounts in issue, it is established that there is no remaining value to the accounts because its value was swept and used by Highland or CLOVF to pay the DAF incident to the DAF rescission. It is noted that Respondents argue and offer to prove that Terry has no standing to state a claim for conversion of three of the five accounts because his wife is the trustee and owner of those three accounts. She is the trustee and owner of those accounts. Yet those accounts too were swept to pay the DAF and construct a pretextual damage and offset claim for having paid the DAF. While this establishes conversion of the accounts to the damage of Terry and his wife, the converters (CLOVF, CLOVMF, ACIS CLO VF GP), are not parties to this arbitration. The claims for breach of contract and conversion and damages should be stated against those parties or others, elsewhere.

The Panel next addresses Terry’s claims for reputational damages and fraudulent transfer stated against Highland, ACIS and ACIS GP.

The evidence establishes that Highland and not ACIS or ACIS GP was the publisher of any false or defamatory statements. Whether those statements in pleadings or press release to Law360 are actionable against Highland is a matter deferred for the District Court suit. Terry's claims for reputational damages stated against ACIS or ACIS GP are not proved.

Terry states a claim against Highland, ACIS and ACIS GP for the fraudulent transfer or conveyance of assets under the Texas Fraudulent Transfer Act. In October 2016, ACIS sold to Highland a participation interest in ACIS's Service Fees (management fees) which ACIS would receive between November 2016 and through August 2019. This sale of a participation interest represents near one-half of ACIS revenues during the covered period. Highland is to pay, in cash and promissory note with interest at 3%, ACIS a total of thirteen million three hundred and thirty three thousand dollars, plus interest for the participation interest. Highland's payment is scheduled as follows:

- October 7, 2016 - $666,655.00 – cash at closing
- May 31, 2017 - $3,370,694.00 – principal and interest
- May 31, 2018 - $5,286,243.00 – principal and interest
- May 31, 2019 - $4,677,690.00 – principal and interest

The transactional documents recite business purpose and reasonable consideration for the sale. Terry offers no evidence that ACIS did not receive reasonable equivalent value in the transaction or that ACIS made the transfer with "actual intent to hinder, delay or defraud." Terry has not proved a claim for fraudulent transfer or conveyance.

The Panel next addresses Terry's claims for wrongful termination and resulting damages stated against Highland.

Terry's employment with Highland was "At Will" and he could have been terminated for any reason other than an unlawful reason. Terry did not prove that the sole reason for his termination was his refusal to commit an illegal act, as is required under Sabine Pilot. The evidence establishes that Dondero terminated Terry because he was angry with Terry's opposition to his Trussway/Targa acquisition plan and he wanted Terry gone. "At Will" employment contemplates that if the boss wishes, one's employment is terminated and the termination is not actionably wrongful. Even as an "At Will" employee, Terry may have claims for damages against Highland for his unpaid severance, unused vacation, deferred compensation and unreimbursed expenses, but these claims are a matter deferred for the District Court suit. Terry's claims stated against Highland for Sabine Pilot wrongful termination are not proved.

Although Trust and Okada are limited partners in ACIS and are named as Respondents in this arbitration, Terry has failed to offer any evidence of actionable claims against Trust or Okada. All claims stated by Terry in this arbitration against Trust or Okada are not proved.

The Panel next addresses Highland's claims for breach of employment agreement, theft/theft of trade secrets and breach of fiduciary duty stated against Terry.

Although Highland is a party to the District Court suit Ordered to arbitration, Highland is not a party to an arbitration agreement and has stated claims against Terry with the above noted reservation, "subject to and without waiver." To the extent these claims are stated in this Arbitration in affirmative avoidance of Terry's claims stated against ACIS and ACIS GP they are addressed in this Award.

The evidence does not establish that Terry breached his employment agreement or any fiduciary duty to Highland, ACIS or ACIS GP or that Terry self-dealt in anyway. On the contrary, Terry's actions in opposing Dondero's Trussway/Targa acquisition plan and his efforts to restructure the CLOVF were reasonable and appropriate and as his portfolio manager duties required. These claims are not proved and are not an affirmative defense or avoidance available to ACIS or ACIS GP.

The evidence does not establish that Terry is guilty of theft or theft of trade secrets. Respondents offered no evidence of a trade secret or a protectable trade secret interest in the documents in issue. Although Highland's claim for turnover is overreaching, it was heard in this Arbitration at Respondents' insistence and the record and all evidence admitted in that preliminary hearing was offered and admitted in the final hearing. This claim is not proved and is not an affirmative defense or avoidance available to ACIS or ACIS GP. Otherwise, the Panel issues its turnover decision in this Award.

The evidence does not establish that any disparaging remarks of Terry were ever communicated to Dondero prior to Terry's termination or that the alleged remarks could have been a reason for Terry's "for cause" termination. All of Respondents' alleged bases of "for cause" termination of Terry's employment are not proved and none are an affirmative defense or avoidance available to ACIS or ACIS GP.

ANALYSIS OF TERRY'S DAMAGES

The Panel only addresses proved claims stated against appropriate Parties to this Arbitration.

Terry has proved his claims stated against ACIS and ACIS GP for breach of contract and claims stated against ACIS GP for breach of fiduciary duty incident to their payment of excess expenses to Highland and their wrongful forfeiture of Terry's contractual right to be paid for his ACIS limited partnership interest.

The evidence establishes that ACIS and ACIS GP paid excess expenses to Highland during the years of 2013, 2014, 2015 and January through May 2016. These expenses paid exceeded the 20% of Revenues cap stated in Section 3.10(a) of the ACIS LPA. The payment of these excess expenses reduced Terry's ACIS partnership distributions during this period. Had excess expenses not been paid and only the contractually capped expenses had been paid, Terry would have received additional ACIS profits distributions of $1,755,481.00 for his 25% partnership interest in ACIS.

The best evidence of the value of the Section 4.04 limited partnership payout is Terry's June 13, 2016 calculations, which he communicated to Dondero within days of his termination. Terry was the portfolio manager of ACIS and as such was most aware of ACIS's financial performance and expected performance within the payout period. The calculations do not include an assumed growth rate of ACIS revenues and are not burdened by Highland's after termination manipulations of ACIS managed assets or ACIS revenues.

The evidence establishes that Terry's ACIS limited partnership payout upon termination had a total value of $5,688,351.00.

Because ACIS and ACIS GP breached the ACIS LPA and ACIS GP breached its fiduciary duty in June 2016 when they repudiated their obligations to their limited partner, Terry's contractual entitlement to payout under the ACIS LPA is liquidated, accelerated and is now fully due.

Additionally, Terry is entitled to pre-award interest at the rate of five percent (5%) per annum from the date of commencement of this Arbitration, September 20, 2016, until entry of Final Award in the amount of $372,192.00.00.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Based upon the Parties' offers of proof, evidence submitted and argument of counsel, the following facts and conclusions are found by these Arbitrators to be established by the evidence to be true and necessary to this Award. To the extent these findings and conclusions differ from any Parties' position that is the result of these Arbitrators determinations as to credibility, relevance, burden of proof considerations, and the weighing of the evidence, both oral and written.

The Arbitration Panel finds and concludes as follows:

1. This dispute is arbitrable pursuant to the Parties' agreement to arbitrate and prior Court Order in Cause No. DC-16-11396, 162nd Judicial District Court, Dallas County, Texas.
2. The Arbitration panel has jurisdiction to resolve all disputes presented and not deferred to the 162nd District Court.
3. JAMS Comprehensive Arbitration Rules and Procedures govern the resolution of this dispute with the law of the States of Texas and Delaware.
4. Prior to his termination on June 9, 2016, Terry was an at will employee of Highland and a 25% limited partner in ACIS.
5. Highland's termination of Terry's employment was not, in fact, "for cause." Highland's stated "for cause" termination of Terry's employment was, in fact, pretextual and for purpose of denying Terry benefits of employment payable at his termination and as a basis for the forfeiture of the value of Terry's limited partnership interest in ACIS.

6. ACIS and ACIS GP knowingly and willingly invoked Highland's false pretext of "for cause" termination to deny Terry the value of his 25% limited partnership in ACIS.
7. ACIS and ACIS GP paid Highland expenses in excess of the contractual limit imposed by Section 3.10(a) of the ACIS LPA.
8. ACIS and ACIS GP wrongfully denied Terry his contractual rights to payment for his limited partnership interest in ACIS and are liable for and owe Terry for same.
9. In breach of contract and fiduciary duties, ACIS and ACIS GP are liable to and owe Terry his ACIS profits distributions which were payable but for the wrongful payment of excess expenses to Highland.
10. ACIS GP's actions were willful and wanton breaches of their fiduciary duties to Terry as their limited partner.
11. All claims stated by Highland, "subject to and without waiver" against Terry are not proved and as such none are an affirmative defense or avoidance of Terry's claims stated against ACIS and ACIS GP.
12. All claims stated by Terry against Trust and Okada are not proved and are denied.
13. All claims stated by Terry against ACIS and ACIS GP for fraudulent transfer or conveyance are not proved and are denied.
14. Terry's fraud claims stated against ACIS and ACIS GP are not proved and are denied.
15. All claims, not denied or awarded, are deferred to the 162nd District Court, Dallas County, Texas or other appropriate venue.

16. ACIS's and ACIS GP's breaches of contract and ACIS GP's breach of fiduciary duties have injured Terry and resulted in damages, together with pre-award interest in the total amount of Seven Million Eight Hundred Sixteen Thousand Twenty-Four Dollars and No/100 ($7,816,024.00).
17. The Parties' agreement to arbitrate does not allow the award of prevailing party attorneys' fees. All claims for attorneys' fees are denied.
18. The Parties' agreement to arbitrate allows the Panel discretion to award the prevailing party costs of arbitration. Terry is entitled to recover his JAMS arbitration costs.
19. Terry is awarded One Hundred Thirty Three Thousand, Seven Hundred Twenty Five and 15/100 Dollars ($133,725.15) for his JAMS arbitration costs.
20. Terry is entitled to recover post-award interest on all amounts awarded herein.

AWARD

TURNOVER:

Claimant, Joshua N. Terry may retain: all recordings of conversations to which he is a party; all agreements to which he is a signatory; all "track record" documents regarding his performance; all documents in the public domain; all documents relating to his investment in or ownership of any Highland affiliated entity; all personal notes or memoranda derived from conversations to which he is a party; all notes or memoranda prepared for and offered to his attorneys.

Except for attorney work product, claimant's attorneys Clouse Dunn LLP may retain copies of all documents which were admitted into evidence in this Arbitration until five business days following the latter of, issuance of this Final Award or final confirmation of this Final Award, no longer subject to appeal. At such time, Clouse Dunn LLP shall turnover these documents to Respondents' attorneys and verify the destruction of electronically formatted documents turned over.

Otherwise, Claimant, Terry, shall turnover all documents, not subject to his awarded right of retention, related to Highland affiliated entities within five business days of entry of this Final Award.

MONETARY AWARD:

Claimant, Joshua N. Terry is Awarded and shall have and recover jointly and severally against Respondents, ACIS Capital Management, LP and ACIS Capital Management GP, LLC, the total sum of Seven Million, Nine Hundred Forty Nine Thousand, Seven Hundred Forty Nine and 15/100 Dollars ($7,949,749.15).

All sums payable by the terms of this Final Award shall accrue post-award interest at the legal rate until fully paid.

All claims for relief, not awarded herein or deferred to the Court, are denied.

Pursuant to our call, see attached, which when agreed to by you, will be part of our Rule 11 Agreement. I also moved the date to have the formal settlement docs done to October 9th.

So, incorporating all of the terms and revisions from our back-and-forth, the Rule 11 shall be as follows in bold:

- 1. Defendants shall pay Plaintiffs $425,000;
- 2. Dismissal with prejudice of all claims that were or could have been brought in the case;
- 3. The parties will mutually, fully, and comprehensively release each other with usual and customary releases (we do not intend to settle this matter if it is Defendants’ intent to use one of their thousands of entities, funds, or affiliates to sue, directly or indirectly, Mr. or Mrs. Terry);

however, the releases shall not release Highland CLO Funding Ltd.'s claims in Guernsey nor any claims of Acis Capital Management, LP or Acis Capital Management GP, LLC;

4. Defendants shall (a) take down the press release and letter from Highland's website (Ex. 4 and 5 to Plaintiffs' live pleading), and shall not otherwise publish same or similar through any other avenue, but Defendants may post the press release and letter with the revisions in the attached Exhibit 1, and (b) Defendants shall refrain from taking any affirmative steps to associate the press release or letter to Mr. Terry, e.g. through search engine optimization;
5. The parties will execute a formal settlement agreement that reflects the foregoing and other usual and customary settlement terms. If no such settlement agreement is signed by October 9, 2019 because of a dispute on its terms, the parties agree to proceed to a bench trial—and hereby expressly and knowingly waive their right to a jury--before Judge Moore starting on October 21st (with no discovery), and the Court shall determine breach of the Rule 11 Agreement, shall enter a declaratory judgment as to the terms of the settlement agreement, and shall award the prevailing party their attorneys' fees, costs and expenses (only those that accrued on or after the date of this Rule 11 Agreement).

Please respond with "agreed" and this will constitute a legally-enforceable agreement.

1. Ok.
2. Ok
3. We are not releasing any of the Guernsey claims, nor do we expect Terry to release Acis' claims arising after the Acis BK. We are settling THIS case, and this case only. Agreed as to Guernsey and Acis BK (with the strike-out), but if Highland or its affiliates has a present intent to sue Mr. or Mrs. Terry, directly or indirectly, in any other fora, then we are not settling this case and will proceed to trial.
4. ~~As mentioned, we cannot "withdraw" a press release; it was already sent out years ago. However, they can repost the release on their website with the allegedly defamatory remark removed, as well as the comments about your firm. We have not requested you "withdraw" the press release, but rather "take it down." That is a simple affair — remove it from Highland's website. It's almost two years old, anyway. And this is the only reason my client came down $325K. So, if your client is not willing to take that modest and very reasonable step, and instead wants to continue attempting to besmirch my client and my firm's reputation online, then we'll go to trial on our theft and conversion claims.~~

I know you have some people out today, but since we continue to prepare for trial that starts a short three weeks from today, we need to get a Rule 11 in place by tomorrow at 5:00 pm. That's our drop-dead, i.e. our offer is withdrawn at that time and we can work to reschedule Pitt. We also need to move up our exchange of exhibits, etc., so that we have everything in advance of our pre-trial, which is two weeks from today.

I trust you understand the time-sensitivity of this.

Thanks,

Brian, this is consistent with what we discussed yesterday. As I mentioned, I have authority on the monetary competent. I need to get confirmation on the remaining items, which may not happen until Tuesday.

004028

In the meantime, per our discussion, we are pulling the Pitt Depo for this week. If we do not settle, we can schedule his depo for next week. The rescheduling of the depo will not be used as a reason for a continuance of the trial.

Matt Wirz, Wall Street Journal: Fake News, Sloppy and Malicious Reporting

November 30, 2017 Press Releases

The Wall Street Journal currently is involved in legal proceedings arising from the newspaper aiding a source, a former Highland employee, in violating a court order. The former employee since has been sentenced to jail for violating this court order. Is it appropriate for the Journal to publish a sensationalized article against Highland under such circumstances?

The following is Highland Capital Management's response to that article, which ran online on November 26, 2017 and in print on November 27, 2017. The below follows a letter sent by Highland co-founder and president James Dondero to the editor in chief of the Wall Street Journal (WSJ), which can be found here: Highland Capital Management Letter to the Wall Street Journal, November 28, 2017

When a reporter with an agenda mischaracterizes the facts, it falls on the victim to set the record straight. This is just such a situation. Matthieu Wirz's article about Highland was long on salacious language, but short on context and facts. Mr. Wirz's record makes his agenda clear. Since June 2016, he has written 15 stories for which he was the sole reporter, four of which are negative stories about Highland. He has not written any negative pieces focused on any other investment managers. Despite our repeated efforts to provide Mr. Wirz with the actual facts, Mr. Wirz refuses to present an accurate picture of Highland. Interestingly he is the only WSJ author to write a negative article about Highland in the past ten years. The facts below are those that Mr. Wirz did not deem relevant in his latest printed attack on Highland's business.

In stark contrast to Mr. Wirz's current journalistic agenda, his earlier writings from 2004 to 2011 about our firm lauded Highland's "legal judo" for the benefit of its investors. His tone radically changed in 2012 once he started using Patrick Daugherty, a former Highland portfolio manager, as a primary information source. Mr. Daugherty resigned and then embarked on a defamatory crusade when Highland rejected his exorbitant compensation demands in February 2012. In March 2012, Mr. Wirz published his first negative article about Highland on an unrelated dispute. The article quotes "people close to the matter," which the facts indicate was none other than Mr. Daugherty.

Two months later, when Mr. Daugherty's dispute with Highland went to court, Mr. Wirz's first article on the dispute further relied on Mr. Daugherty's skewed portrayal of Highland. In the resulting 2014 trial, the jury cleared Highland of Mr. Daugherty's allegations of mismanagement during the financial crisis, while Mr. Daugherty himself was found to be in breach of his fiduciary duties and ordered to pay Highland $3.2 million dollars. Most notably, the court put in place an injunction ordering Mr. Daugherty to cease disclosing Highland's confidential information. Despite these findings, Mr. Wirz continued to use Mr. Daugherty as a primary source in biased reporting about Highland's business, including with respect to matters wholly unrelated to Mr. Daugherty.

Astoundingly, Mr. Daugherty's misconduct was not deterred by the injunction against him. As recently as 2016, the court found Mr. Daugherty lied under oath about recent violations of the injunction. After seven different court hearings in which the judge repeatedly warned Mr. Daugherty of the consequences of his violations, the court ultimately found Mr. Daugherty in contempt of court and sentenced him to 38 days in jail.

In a separate set of violations still under investigation, Mr. Daugherty leaked confidential information to the WSJ. On Friday August 12, 2016, Highland provided the WSJ with a copy of the injunction order prohibiting Mr. Daugherty from leaking Highland's confidential information. The following Monday, Mr. Wirz again was on the phone with Mr. Daugherty discussing Highland's confidential information. The court ordered Mr. Wirz and the WSJ to provide information about these conversations to Highland, which the WSJ is appealing. Despite Mr. Daugherty having been found to have lied under oath about Highland, Mr. Wirz confirmed in writing as recently as yesterday that he continues to use Mr. Daugherty as a source in his Highland-related coverage, including the misleading November 27, 2017 WSJ article.

~~The November 27, 2017 article about Highland's employment dispute with another former employee, Josh Terry, is a continuation of his agenda-based and misleading journalism about Highland in the wake of the Mr. Daugherty dispute. Mr. Wirz once again failed to mention numerous salient facts, including that Mr. Terry's false and sensationalized allegations against Highland were simply part of Mr. Terry's extortion scheme against Highland. In late 2014, Mr. Terry tried to renegotiate his partnership agreement with Highland's principals to increase his interest in Highland affiliate Acis Capital Management, L.P. to a permanent 25 percent equity position. Though he declared that he loved working at Highland and wanted to spend the rest of his career here, he threatened to leave if his increased equity demands were not met. Highland explained that Mr. Terry's performance and track record did not warrant such a restructuring of his agreement. After Highland denied his requests, Mr. Terry commenced secretly recording conversations to extort in settlement the value he failed to achieve in negotiations.~~

~~Mr. Terry secretly recorded conversations at Highland for over 18 months. He recorded calls with investors, counterparties, attorneys, and employees without Highland's knowledge or consent. He recorded conversations with persons in various states and countries, in violation of federal and state wiretapping laws. He recorded, and later disclosed, Highland's privileged conversations with its attorneys on various transactions. During these recorded conversations, Mr. Terry repeatedly baited co-workers to elicit inflammatory or out-of-context statements so he could attempt to manufacture a whistleblower claim. After his termination on June 9, 2016, Mr. Terry selectively retained recordings with inflammatory statements, but deleted recordings that exonerated Highland or~~

~~tended to disprove Mr. Terry's narrative of the facts. Prior to filing his claims against Highland, Mr. Terry threatened to make wild allegations to the SEC unless Highland paid him over $10 million in ransom. It is telling that despite over 18 months of recordings, Mr. Terry did not make any allegations of impropriety by Highland until after he was terminated for cause.~~

~~Mr. Terry was terminated for improper sexual relations, poor performance and numerous compliance violations, among other things. Mr. Wirz's recent article states "Highland... used pretexts and false allegations of a sexual relationship with a coworker to fire [Mr. Terry]." Terry's own pleadings state "Terry did not have a sexual relationship with any of his subordinates." While Mr. Wirz would leave his readers believing Highland maliciously made up Mr. Terry's affairs as some form of retribution, Mr. Terry admitted, both at deposition and in the arbitration, that "I had an affair with Ms. [omitted] from mid 2103 to the end of 2014." The affair severely impacted the junior female employee's career and was indicative of a pattern of behavior that resulted in his ultimate termination. Once Highland proved that Mr. Terry lied in his pleadings about one of his affairs, we did not want to further disrupt the lives of its former employees nor did we need to prove anything else. While Highland continues to assert that Mr. Terry had at least three intra-office affairs, the WSJ's observation that Highland did not present enough evidence of additional affairs is not relevant in light of Mr. Terry's admission. Additionally, since Mr. Terry's departure, several additional women have come forward with allegations of sexual harassment and unwanted advances by Mr. Terry. Finally, numerous senior persons at Highland recommended that he be fired for both his sexual misconduct and numerous compliance violations. This was not a personal battle between Mr. Terry and Mr. Dondero. Highland was compelled to terminate Mr. Terry for his overall pattern of misconduct.~~

~~Highland made Mr. Wirz aware of this background. We also expressed concern to both Mr. Wirz and his editor on numerous occasions about Mr. Wirz's characterization of these inappropriate sexual relationships. Rather than seeking to understand the truth in our allegations of Mr. Terry's inappropriate sexual relationships, Mr. Wirz chose to write a story that misleads readers with the implication that Highland's very real accusations were baseless.~~

~~Mr. Wirz's article omits or twists key facts about the arbitration proceeding. Mr. Terry demanded for over $210 million in the arbitration. He was awarded less than four percent of that amount. Additionally, Mr. Terry lied under oath at the arbitration, including about his contacts with Mr. Daugherty after his departure from Highland.~~

~~Furthermore, though Mr. Terry testified that Highland relied on him as the primary driver of its CLO business, Mr. Terry failed to raise a single dollar of third party CLO equity for his Acis business, which was his key job responsibility. Mr. Terry's self-aggrandizing testimony to the contrary, Highland helped to create the CLO industry years before Mr. Terry arrived and he merely filled a senior vacancy on the structured products team. Notably, Highland has continued to grow its CLO business in his absence.~~

~~Mr. Wirz's article gratuitously raises unrelated legal disputes from Highland's past, but fails to mention those related to the subject of the article. In particular, Mr. Wirz did not report that Rogge Dunn, Mr. Terry's counsel, represented a group of clients opposed to Highland that were sanctioned, billed for costs, and admonished by the court in a prior matter. In that proceeding, Mr. Dunn's former client, a 62 year old CEO, served six months in jail for destroying evidence~~

~~and then repeatedly lying about it under oath. The defendants, including Mr. Dunn's clients, were fined over $750,000 for destruction of evidence while Mr. Dunn's firm was representing them. This was the largest sanctions award in Dallas County history. As a result, the defendants settled the lawsuit, paying to a Highland affiliate the largest commercial case settlement in Texas that year.~~^[1] Mr. Dunn, now seeking retribution against Highland, worked with Mr. Terry months before Mr. Terry was terminated, including consulting with Mr. Terry on how to make his secret recordings.

~~Highland's ongoing compensation dispute with Mr. Terry gave Mr. Wirz another opportunity to twist the facts of a Highland lawsuit. The article misleads its readers in several ways. First, Mr. Wirz wrote that Highland made "transfers" between investment vehicles, when he knows that did not occur. Rather, Mr. Wirz is aware that the transaction involved a mere six-month extension of a previously existing credit facility. No Highland investors ever extended additional loans or "transferred" anything. Mr. Wirz was told this before he published, but only said that he "would take everything under consideration."~~

~~Mr. Wirz intentionally drafted the article to imply, if not state, that Highland breached a duty to its investors. Mr. Wirz suggested to Highland that he was going to draw just such a conclusion, only backing down after Highland engaged in numerous conversations with his editor. Prior to the article's publication, Highland provided Mr. Wirz with the written testimony of Mr. Terry's own expert showing Highland neither breached nor ever instructed Mr. Terry to breach any duty to Highland's investors. Mr. Wirz did not find this newsworthy. He also did not find newsworthy that Mr. Terry lost his wrongful termination claim, meaning that the arbitrators found that Highland did not ask Mr. Terry to breach any duties in relation to any transaction. While Mr. Wirz alleges that Highland engaged in improper transfers, Mr. Wirz omitted that the arbitration panel dismissed the fraudulent transfer claims against Highland. Finally, though Mr. Wirz mentions that Mr. Daugherty had alleged improper transfers in his earlier litigation with Highland, Mr. Wirz's article fails to mention that the jury found these allegations were baseless. Mr. Wirz intentionally reported incomplete facts, leading his readers to false conclusions.~~

Mr. Wirz, as part of his agenda, also mischaracterized several unrelated disputes. For example, Mr. Wirz focused on a prior arbitration regarding the Highland Credit Strategies Fund. The article focused on a small part of numerous issues raised by the wind down of this financial crisis-era hedge fund. Mr. Wirz refused to mention that Highland voluntarily bought out the remaining portfolio assets at the request and for the benefit of the investors. As part of the transaction, the lawsuit was resolved and the investors agreed to vacate and nullify the award against Highland. One investor requested WSJ retract an inaccurate, negative statement that was attributed to the investor in the Mr. Wirz's 2016 article about the dispute. The Credit Strategies Fund's final resolution not only maximized returns to investors, but also generated $10 million in value to Highland. However, these additional facts did not fit Mr. Wirz's narrative.

Mr. Wirz's Highland narrative does not have much room for either facts or context. Since Highland's founding in 1993, approximately 25 partners have come and gone from the firm. While Mr. Wirz paints Highland as constantly litigating against its former partners, Highland ~~only~~ has had ~~two such disputes in 24 years. Mr. Daugherty and Mr. Terry.~~ In Mr. Daugherty's case, a jury found him to have breached his fiduciary duty and a judge held him in contempt of court and sentenced him to jail. Mr. Daugherty also paid a $3.2 million judgment to Highland, and continues to owe additional amounts. Mr. Wirz neglected to mention any of these facts about his source. ~~The second dispute, Mr. Terry, is on going and Highland's numerous counterclaims against Mr. Terry will be substantially larger than the initial arbitration award. While Highland regrets having to litigate with former employees, the firm cannot reward extortion behavior.~~

Mr. Wirz also refuses to cover any positive legal or other news about Highland. Though he states that Highland has fought with investors since the financial crisis, he fails to mention that Highland was vindicated in every case ultimately decided by a court. Mr. Wirz mentions Highland's financial crisis-era fights with counterparties, but fails to mention that Highland has achieved over $700 million in judgments and settlements for its investors. He also omits key industry context: despite these legal proceedings, Highland's litigation docket is less than similarly situated asset managers and is not particularly litigious.

Of the recent interaction with Mr. Wirz, Andrew Merrill, a senior partner at a financial communications firm involved in the matter whose clients manage over $10 trillion, said, "In all the media interactions we've witnessed, this was among the most biased, unfair treatments we have ever seen, especially considering Highland's willingness to engage in constructive dialogue and numerous attempts at information sharing."

Evidently, this is not an isolated incident at the Journal. Ray Dalio's account of Bridgewater's interaction with two WSJ reporters from January of this year indicates there is a pattern of this behavior. (See Mr. Dalio's account of Bridgewater's experience here: The Fake and Distorted News Epidemic and Bridgewater's Recent Experience with the Wall Street Journal).

As Mr. Dalio points out, the news media, unlike the asset management industry, exists without regulation and supervision. As such, there is no obvious recourse available to address unethical behavior. The closest proxy to regulatory standards in this instance is the Dow Jones Code of Conduct. (Read the full code of conduct here: Dow Jones Code of Conduct)

That document states:

*"Dow Jones will suffer...if our customers cannot assume that:
Our facts are accurate and fairly presented;
Our analyses represent our best independent judgments rather than our preferences, or those of our sources, advertisers, or information providers;
Our opinions represent only our own editorial philosophies; or
There are no hidden agendas in any of our journalistic undertakings.
All companies profess business integrity. But the impact of our work on the work of others, and on their lives and fortunes, places special responsibilities upon all Dow Jones employees."*

In his interactions with Highland, Mr. Wirz violated those stated principles. Highland made those transgressions known to his editors, yet the WSJ proceeded to allow an inaccurate, misleading, agenda-driven article to be published with conclusions directly informed by a biased source.

[1] Highland is prohibited by agreement from disclosing the exact amount.

Mr. Gerard Baker
Editor in Chief
The Wall Street Journal

November 28, 2017

Dear Mr. Baker,

I write to make you aware of the situation around the Wall Street Journal's recent article about Highland Capital Management. The article, which ran online on November 26, 2017 and in print on November 27, 2017, included a litany of inaccurate and misleading information about Highland, despite extensive efforts by our firm to engage in constructive dialogue with both the reporter responsible and ultimately his editor to provide the relevant facts necessary to produce a fair and balanced report.

When a reporter with an agenda mischaracterizes the facts, it falls on the victim to set the record straight. This is just such a situation. Matthieu Wirz's article about Highland was long on salacious language, but short on context and facts. Mr. Wirz's record makes his agenda clear. He recorded calls with investors, counterparties, attorneys, and employees without Highland's knowledge or consent. He recorded conversations with persons in various states and countries, in violation of federal and state wiretapping laws. He recorded, and later disclosed, Highland's privileged conversations with its attorneys on various transactions. During these recorded conversations, Mr. Terry repeatedly baited co-workers to elicit inflammatory or out of context statements so he could attempt to manufacture a whistleblower claim. After his termination on June 9, 2016, Mr. Terry selectively retained recordings with inflammatory statements, but deleted recordings that exonerated Highland or tended to disprove Mr. Terry's narrative of the facts. Prior to filing his claims against Highland, Mr. Terry threatened to make wild allegations to the SEC unless Highland paid him over $10 million in ransom. It is telling that despite over 18 months of recordings, Mr. Terry did not make any allegations of impropriety by Highland until after he was terminated for cause.~~

~~Mr. Terry was terminated for improper sexual relations, poor performance and numerous compliance violations, among other things. Mr. Wirz's recent article states "Highland... used pretexts and false allegations of a sexual relationship with a coworker to fire [Mr. Terry]." Terry's own pleadings state "Terry did not have a sexual relationship with any of his subordinates." While Mr. Wirz would leave his readers believing Highland maliciously made up Mr. Terry's affairs as some form of retribution, Mr. Terry admitted, both at deposition and in the arbitration, that "I had an affair with Ms. [omitted] from mid-2103 to the end of 2014." The affair severely impacted the junior female employee's career and was indicative of a pattern of behavior that resulted in his ultimate termination. Once Highland proved that Mr. Terry lied in his pleadings about one of his affairs, we did not want to further disrupt the lives of its former employees nor did we need to prove anything else. While Highland continues to assert that Mr. Terry had at least three intra-office affairs, the WSJ's observation that Highland did not present enough evidence of additional affairs is not relevant in light of Mr. Terry's admission. Additionally, since Mr. Terry's departure, several additional women have come forward with allegations of sexual harassment and unwanted advances by Mr. Terry. Finally, numerous senior persons at Highland recommended that he be fired for both his sexual misconduct and numerous compliance violations. This was not a personal battle between Mr. Terry and Mr. Dondero. Highland was compelled to terminate Mr. Terry for his overall pattern of misconduct.~~

~~Highland made Mr. Wirz aware of this background. We also expressed concern to both Mr. Wirz and his editor on numerous occasions about Mr. Wirz's characterization of these inappropriate sexual relationships. Rather than seeking to understand the truth in our allegations of Mr. Terry's inappropriate sexual relationships, Mr. Wirz chose to write a story that misleads readers with the implication that Highland's very real accusations were baseless.~~

~~Mr. Wirz's article omits or twists key facts about the arbitration proceeding. Mr. Terry demanded for over $210 million in the arbitration. He was awarded less than four percent of that amount. Additionally, Mr. Terry lied under oath at the arbitration, including about his contacts with Mr. Daugherty after his departure from Highland.~~

~~Furthermore, though Mr. Terry testified that Highland relied on him as the primary driver of its CLO business, Mr. Terry failed to raise a single dollar of third party CLO equity for his Acis business, which was his key job responsibility. Mr. Terry's self aggrandizing testimony to the contrary, Highland helped to create the CLO industry years before Mr. Terry arrived and he merely filled a senior vacancy on the structured products team. Notably, Highland has continued to grow its CLO business in his absence.~~

~~Mr. Wirz's article gratuitously raises unrelated legal disputes from Highland's past, but fails to mention those related to the subject of the article. In particular, Mr. Wirz did not report that Rogge Dunn, Mr. Terry's counsel, represented a group of clients opposed to Highland that were sanctioned, billed for costs, and admonished by the court in a prior matter. In that proceeding, Mr. Dunn's former client, a 62-year-old CEO, served six months in jail for destroying evidence and then repeatedly lying about it under oath. The defendants, including Mr. Dunn's clients, were fined over $750,000 for destruction of evidence while Mr. Dunn's firm was representing them. This was the largest sanctions award in Dallas County history. As a result, the defendants settled the lawsuit, paying to a Highland affiliate the largest commercial case settlement in Texas that year.¹ Mr. Dunn, now seeking retribution against Highland, worked with Mr. Terry months before Mr. Terry was terminated, including consulting with Mr. Terry on how to make his secret recordings.~~

~~Highland's ongoing compensation dispute with Mr. Terry gave Mr. Wirz another opportunity to twist the facts of a Highland lawsuit. The article misleads its readers in several ways. First, Mr. Wirz wrote that Highland made "transfers" between investment vehicles, when he knows that did not occur. Rather, Mr. Wirz is aware that the transaction involved a mere six-month extension of a previously existing credit facility. No Highland investors ever extended additional loans or "transferred" anything. Mr. Wirz was told this before he published, but only said that he "would take everything under consideration."~~

~~Mr. Wirz intentionally drafted the article to imply, if not state, that Highland breached a duty to its investors. Mr. Wirz suggested to Highland that he was going to draw just such a conclusion, only backing down after Highland engaged in numerous conversations with his editor. Prior to the article's publication, Highland provided Mr. Wirz with the written testimony of Mr. Terry's own expert showing Highland neither breached nor ever instructed Mr. Terry to breach any duty to Highland's investors. Mr. Wirz did not find this newsworthy. He also did not find newsworthy that Mr. Terry lost his wrongful termination claim, meaning that the arbitrators found that Highland did not ask Mr. Terry to breach any duties in relation to any transaction. While Mr. Wirz alleges that Highland engaged in improper transfers, Mr. Wirz omitted that the arbitration panel dismissed the fraudulent transfer claims against Highland. Finally, though Mr. Wirz mentions that Mr. Daugherty had alleged improper transfers in his earlier litigation with Highland, Mr. Wirz's article fails to mention that the jury found these allegations were baseless. Mr. Wirz intentionally reported incomplete facts, leading his readers to false conclusions.~~

Mr. Wirz, as part of his agenda, also mischaracterized several unrelated disputes. For example, Mr. Wirz focused on a prior arbitration regarding the Highland Credit Strategies Fund. The article focused on a small part of numerous issues raised by the wind down of this financial crisis-era hedge fund. Mr. Wirz refused to mention that Highland voluntarily bought out the remaining portfolio assets at the request and for the benefit of the investors. As part of the transaction, the lawsuit was resolved and the investors agreed to vacate and nullify the award against Highland. One investor requested WSJ retract an inaccurate, negative statement that was attributed to the investor in the Mr. Wirz's 2016 article about the dispute. The Credit Strategies Fund's final resolution not only maximized returns to investors, but also generated $10 million in value to Highland. However, these additional facts did not fit Mr. Wirz's narrative.

Mr. Wirz's Highland narrative does not have much room for either facts or context. Since Highland's founding in 1993, approximately 25 partners have come and gone from the firm. While Mr. Wirz paints Highland as constantly litigating against its former partners, Highland ~~only has had two such disputes in 24 years: Mr. Daugherty and Mr. Terry.~~ In Mr. Daugherty's case, a jury found him to have breached his fiduciary duty and a judge held him in contempt of court and sentenced him to jail. Mr. Daugherty also paid a $3.2 million judgment to Highland, and continues to owe additional amounts. Mr. Wirz neglected to mention any of these facts about his source. ~~The second dispute, Mr. Terry, is on going and Highland's numerous counterclaims against Mr. Terry will be substantially larger than the initial arbitration award. While Highland regrets having to litigate with former employees, the firm cannot reward extortion behavior.~~

Mr. Wirz also refuses to cover any positive legal or other news about Highland. Though he states that Highland has fought with investors since the financial crisis, he fails to mention that Highland was vindicated in every case ultimately decided by a court. Mr. Wirz mentions Highland's financial crisis-era fights with counterparties, but fails to mention that Highland has achieved over $700 million in judgments and settlements for its investors. He also omits key industry context: despite these legal proceedings, Highland's litigation docket is less than similarly situated asset managers and is not particularly litigious.

Of the recent interaction with Mr. Wirz, Andrew Merrill, a senior partner at a financial communications firm involved in the matter whose clients manage over $10 trillion, said, "In all the media interactions we've witnessed, this was among the most biased, unfair treatments we have ever seen, especially considering Highland's willingness to engage in constructive dialogue and numerous attempts at information sharing."

Equipped with that background, we urge you to address this behavior taking place in your newsroom. It certainly defies the standards of your publication and undermines the integrity of your journalistic undertakings. While we believe this comprehensive account of the treatment we have received from Mr. Wirz and the various editors responsible for his work sheds ample light on the issues at hand here, we are happy to discuss the situation with you further to help you better address these transgressions.

Further, since we were deprived of the opportunity to fairly and accurately respond to the serious allegations raised by Mr. Wirz in the recent article, we plan to make this communication public to correct the inaccurate information that was disseminated by the Wall Street Journal about Highland.

We appreciate your consideration of these matters.

Sincerely,

James Dondero

DECLARATION OF JOSHUA N. TERRY

1. My name is Joshua N. Terry. I am over the age of 18 and am qualified to make this declaration.
2. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein, except where specifically stated otherwise, and they are declared by me to be true and correct. I have never been convicted of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude.
3. This declaration is given in support of the Motion for Relief from the Automatic Stay to Allow Pursuit of State Court Action Against Non-Debtors to be filed in the above-referenced matter (the "Motion").
4. An arbitration panel of three well-respected former state court jurists issued a scathing arbitration award involving actions of the Debtor's former affiliates and present employees, including Dondero and Surgent. A true and correct copy of the arbitration award is attached to the Motion as Exhibit 1. The arbitration panel found that approximately $350,000.00 in the Terrys' retirement accounts were converted and that their claims for conversion and damages "should be stated against those parties or others, elsewhere." Ex. 1 at p. 16.
5. The Terrys did as the arbitration panel advised and brought those claims in state court for the conversion of their retirement accounts against the orchestrators of the scheme:

Highland, Dondero and Surgent. The state court suit is in the 162nd District Court of Dallas County, Texas, Case No. DC-16-11396 (the “State Court Litigation”).

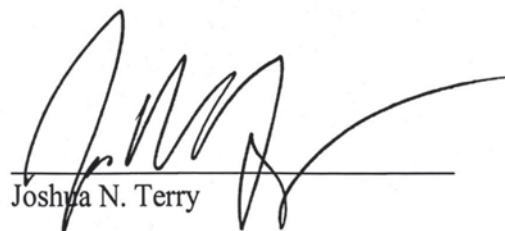

6. On October 2, 2019, the parties to the State Court Litigation settled, as reflected in the agreement attached to the Motion as Exhibit 2, which I understand is a legally-enforceable agreement pursuant to Texas Rule of Civil Procedure 11 (the “Rule 11”). The Rule 11 provides, among other things, that “Defendants shall pay Plaintiffs $425,000” and “[t]he parties will mutually, fully, and comprehensively release each other with usual and customary releases (we do not intend to settle this matter if it is Defendants’ intent to use one of their thousands of entities, funds, or affiliates to sue, directly or indirectly, Mr. or Mrs. Terry); however, the releases shall not release Highland CLO Funding Ltd.’s claims in Guernsey nor any claims of Acis Capital Management, LP or Acis Capital Management GP, LLC.”

7. On October 16, 2019, Debtor filed this bankruptcy case.

8. On October 21, 2019, Debtor filed a Suggestion of Bankruptcy in the State Court Litigation.

“I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States, that the foregoing statements are true and correct.”

Date: February 14, 2020.

Case No. 19-34054-sgj11

MOTION OF THE DEBTOR FOR ENTRY OF AN ORDER AUTHORIZING, BUT NOT DIRECTING, THE DEBTOR TO CAUSE DISTRIBUTIONS TO CERTAIN “RELATED ENTITIES”

¹ The Debtor’s last four digits of its taxpayer identification number are (6725). The headquarters and service address for the above-captioned Debtor is 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, TX 75201.

The above-captioned debtor and debtor-in-possession (the “Debtor”) files this motion (the “Motion”) for entry of an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, authorizing, but not directing, the Debtor, or its relying adviser, as appropriate, to cause the distribution of assets, in the ordinary course of its business, to certain Related Entities that have invested in Dynamic, AROF, and RCP (each as defined below). In support of this Motion, the Debtor respectfully states as follows:

Jurisdiction and Venue

1. The United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division (the “Court”), has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This matter is a core proceeding within the meaning of 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2).
2. Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.
3. The statutory bases for the relief requested in this Motion are sections 105(a) and 363 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Summary of Relief Requested

4. In this Motion, the Debtor, through its Independent Board (defined below), seeks this Court’s authorization, indeed its direction, to meet its obligations to the funds managed by the Debtor. These obligations exist under contract and according to applicable law. In the ordinary course of its business, the Debtor is routinely called upon to liquidate or wind down the assets held by the funds under its direct or indirect management and then to distribute the proceeds of such liquidations to the investors in the funds. Normally, these obligations – that is to liquidate and distribute – are neither disputed nor controversial.

5. And yet, because of the history of this case, one of these duties – that is the duty to distribute – is now contested. The Committee (defined below) has voiced no objection to the liquidation of the assets subject to this Motion, but it does object to certain of the distributions. The Committee says that any distributions to James Dondero, Mark Okada, or any entities related to them should be withheld. The Debtor understands the reasons for the Committee's objection, but not the legal basis for it.

6. Everyone would agree that the Independent Board must act in accordance with the law in fulfilling its obligations to the Debtor's estate. That means dealing with creditors in the manner prescribed by Bankruptcy Code. The Independent Board takes its obligations under the Bankruptcy Code seriously. But, the Independent Board takes just as seriously its obligations to the funds managed by the Debtor. The Debtor is no more free to unilaterally change the obligations it has to those funds under their operative documents and applicable law – especially considering that many of the investors in those funds are complete strangers to this case – than it is to unilaterally modify its obligations to creditors under the Bankruptcy Code. This is so even if some creditors view some of the Debtor's investors as suspicious or unworthy.

7. The Debtor asks this Court to affirm that in the absence of specific injunctive relief entered by this Court or any other court of appropriate jurisdiction, the Debtor must fulfill its obligations under contract and according to applicable law.

Background

8. On October 16, 2019 (the "Petition Date"), the Debtor filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code in the Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware, Case No. 19-12239 (CSS) (the "Delaware Court").

9. On October 29, 2019, the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") was appointed by the U.S. Trustee in the Delaware Court.

10. On December 4, 2019, the Delaware Court entered an order transferring venue of the Debtor's Bankruptcy Case to this Court [Docket No. 186].²

11. On December 27, 2019, the Debtor filed that certain Motion of the Debtor for Approval of Settlement with the Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors Regarding Governance of the Debtor and Procedures for Operations in the Ordinary Course [Docket No. 281] (the "Settlement Motion"). This Court approved the Settlement Motion on January 9, 2020 [Docket No. 339] (the "Settlement Order").

12. The Settlement Order approved, among other things, certain operating and reporting protocols [Docket Nos. 354, 466] (as amended, the "Protocols"), which, in certain circumstances, require the Debtor to seek the approval of its Chief Restructuring Officer³ and/or the Committee prior to engaging in "Transactions" (as defined in the Protocols).

13. In connection with the Settlement Order, an independent board of directors was appointed on January 9, 2020, at the Debtor's general partner, Strand Advisors, Inc. (the "Independent Board")

14. The Debtor has continued in the possession of its property and has continued to operate and manage its business as a debtor-in-possession pursuant to sections 1107(a) and 1108 of the Bankruptcy Code. No trustee or examiner has been appointed in this chapter 11 case.

² All docket numbers refer to the docket maintained by this Court.

³ The Debtor's retention of Development Specialists, Inc. as the Debtor's Chief Restructuring Officer (the "CRO") was approved by this Court on January 10, 2020 [Docket No. 342].

Background to the Relief Requested

A. The Debtor's Business Generally

15. On October 29, 2019, the Debtor filed that certain Precautionary Motion of the Debtor for Order Approving Protocols for the Debtor to Implement Certain Transactions in the Ordinary Course of Business [Docket No. 76] (the "Precautionary Motion"). As described in the Precautionary Motion, the Debtor, as a registered investment adviser, provides in the ordinary course of its business, investment management services to its clients, which include, among others, hedge funds and private equity style funds.

16. Hedge funds and private equity style funds are types of pooled investment vehicles in which third-party investors subscribe for equity interests. These funds are governed by a board of directors or general partner, depending on the corporate form of the fund entity, and retain an investment manager pursuant to an investment management agreement to oversee their investments. The fund itself, and the relationship of the investors in the fund, is governed by a contractual governing document (e.g., a limited partnership agreement or articles of association), and the board of directors or the general partner, as applicable – as well as the investment manager – have fiduciary obligations to the fund entity. Further, while the investment manager may have investment discretion under the investment management agreement, the investment manager is also required to comply with the terms of the fund's contractual governing documents, including the investment management agreement, and the investment manager has fiduciary and other obligations imposed on the investment manager by applicable law, including, the Advisers Act. These types of funds are also often organized as two-tiered structures with a single "master" fund that trades and holds the fund's investment portfolio and multiple "feeder funds" that invest in the master fund.

17. Investors in a hedge fund generally can redeem their interests in the fund on periodic redemption dates. Redemptions occur in the ordinary course for all hedge funds, and hedge funds manage their liquidity on an ongoing basis, by selling assets to satisfy these investor redemptions in the ordinary course. Similarly, upon a determination by a hedge fund's governing body that the fund should be liquidated, the fund sells its remaining portfolio holdings in an orderly manner and distributes the proceeds to its investors. Common reasons for a hedge fund to liquidate include, among other things, the fund no longer being viable as a result of significant investor redemptions.

18. Private equity style funds, on the other hand, generally have a set term after which they are required to liquidate and distribute their assets to their investors (although they may under certain circumstances be wound down prior to the expiration of their term). Further, investors in private equity style funds are generally not permitted to redeem their interests or withdraw their capital from the fund. The term of a private equity style fund may, subject to the fund's governing documents, be extendable.

B. Distributions from Dynamic, AROF, and RCP

Dynamic Distribution and AROF Distribution

19. The Debtor manages (a) Highland Dynamic Income Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, (b) Highland Dynamic Income Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company, and (c) Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (collectively, "Dynamic"). Dynamic consists of three entities: a "master fund" (which is a Cayman exempted limited partnership) owned by two "feeder funds" (one being a Delaware limited partnership and the other being a Cayman Islands exempted company).⁴ The master funds and the Delaware feeder funds are managed by their applicable general partner, which in each case is a wholly-owned affiliate of the Debtor. The Cayman feeder fund is governed by a board consisting of an employee of the Debtor. The Debtor's direct relationship with each of the three Dynamic entities is governed by an investment management agreement under which the Debtor serves as investment adviser to such entities. Accordingly, Dynamic is an investment advisory client of the Debtor. An organizational chart for Dynamic is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

20. Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P. ("HCM Latin America"), which is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of the Debtor that is registered as a relying adviser of the Debtor, manages (a) Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, (b) Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company, and (c) Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (collectively, "AROF"). The Debtor has entered into a services agreement pursuant to which the Debtor provides certain back- and middle-office services and administrative, infrastructure and other services to HCM Latin America. AROF consists of three entities: a "master fund" (which is a Cayman exempted limited partnership) owned by two "feeder funds" (one being a Delaware limited partnership and the other being a Cayman Islands exempted company).⁵ The master fund and the Delaware feeder fund are True and accurate copies of the Dynamic Fund Documents are attached hereto as Exhibit C.

⁵ The documents governing AROF are (i) the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., dated November 1, 2017; (ii) the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., adopted on 8 November 2017; (iii) the Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Argentina Regional managed by their applicable general partner, which in each case is a wholly-owned affiliate of the Debtor. The Cayman feeder fund is managed by an independent board of Cayman-based directors unaffiliated with the Debtor. HCM Latin America's relationship with each of the three AROF entities is governed by an investment management agreement under which HCM Latin America serves as investment adviser to such entities. Accordingly, AROF is an investment advisory client of HCM Latin America. An organizational chart for AROF is attached hereto as Exhibit D.

21. Each of Dynamic and AROF received significant redemption requests from limited partners both before and after the Petition Date. Following those requests – and as disclosed in the Precautionary Motion – each of Dynamic and AROF began winding down. These funds' governing bodies (general partner and board of directors), as well as the Debtor, concluded that Dynamic and AROF were no longer viable following such redemptions and therefore should be liquidated in an orderly manner.

22. Further, the Debtor believed (and continues to believe) that its fiduciary and contractual obligations to Dynamic and AROF mandated an orderly liquidation and distribution of assets to investors given that such funds were no longer viable. When a significant redemption request is made, a fund typically is required to liquidate its assets to satisfy the redemption request, which in turn both decreases the total assets available to satisfy later redemption requests and may result in a fund's costs being allocated disproportionately to the remaining investors. An orderly liquidation helps ensure that all investors are treated in the same manner, bear the same costs, and receive distributions on a pro rata basis. Otherwise, liquidation costs and proceeds could adversely impact some investors (likely the investors that have not submitted a redemption or withdrawal request).

23. The Debtor disclosed the proposed liquidation of Dynamic and AROF to the Committee, and the Committee did not object.

24. As such, since the Petition Date, the Debtor has taken steps to liquidate the investments held by Dynamic and AROF and is seeking to distribute the cash to those funds' respective investors/redeemers in accordance with the documents governing the funds.⁶ Distribution of the cash to investors/redeemers is a necessary step in liquidating the funds; Dynamic and AROF cannot close unless all assets have been distributed in accordance with the Dynamic Fund Documents and the AROF Fund Documents, respectively.

25. On January 24, 2020, the Debtor notified the Committee that it intended to distribute (i) approximately $35 million in cash to investors/redeemers in Dynamic (the "Dynamic Distribution") and (ii) approximately $22 million in cash to investors/redeemers in AROF (the "AROF Distribution"). In that notice, the Debtor disclosed that:

- (i) CLO Holdco, Ltd. ("CLOH"),⁷ (ii) Mark Okada,⁸ and (iii) Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC (the "Dynamic GP")⁹ are investors in Dynamic¹⁰ and that (a)

⁶ In the case of AROF, all redemptions were suspended and the Fund was placed in liquidation. In the case of Dynamic, all investors were subject to compulsory redemptions and the fund was placed in liquidation.

⁷ The limited partnership interests in Dynamic held by CLOH were originally held by the Debtor. The Debtor transferred those interests to The Get Good Nonexempt Trust ("Get Good") on December 28, 2016, in exchange for 97.6835% of Get Good's interest in a promissory note in original principal amount of approximately $24 million issued by The Dugaboy Investment Trust. Get Good subsequently transferred its interests in Dynamic to the Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc., which transferred those interests to CLOH. The Dugaboy Investment Trust has been paying amounts due under the $24 million note, and the current principal amount is approximately $17.5 million.

⁸ Mr. Okada is an investor in the Debtor and has an interest in the Debtor's Class A limited partnership interests. Mr. Okada resigned from his position with the Debtor prior to the Petition Date.

⁹ The Dynamic GP is wholly owned by the Debtor.

¹⁰ The Debtor is also a limited partner in Dynamic and will receive its applicable share of the Dynamic Distribution.

CLOH's share of the Dynamic Distribution was $872,194.00; (b) Mr. Okada's share was $4,176,774.74; and (c) the Dynamic GP's share was $137,182.03; and

- CLOH is an investor in AROF, and its share of the AROF Distribution was $1,516,354.38.

The Debtor further disclosed that it intended to distribute to CLOH, Mr. Okada, and the Dynamic GP their pro rata share of the Distributions in the same manner as distributions were being made to other investors.

RCP Distribution

26. In the ordinary course of its business, the Debtor also manages (a) Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, (b) Highland Restoration Capital Partners Offshore, L.P., a Cayman exempted limited partnership, and (c) Highland Restoration Capital Partners Master, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (collectively, "RCP"). RCP consists of a "parallel" fund structure that invests side-by-side in the same investments on a proportional basis. The domestic side consists of a Delaware limited partnership, and the parallel Cayman side consists of a Cayman exempted limited partnership that feeds into a separate Delaware limited partnership. Each fund is managed by the same general partner, which is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Debtor. The Debtor's direct relationship with each of the three RCP entities, like its relationship with Dynamic, is governed by an investment management agreement under which the Debtor serves as investment adviser to such entities. Accordingly, RCP is an investment advisory client of the Debtor. An organizational chart for RCP is attached hereto as Exhibit F.

27. RCP is a private equity style fund, and, as a private equity fund, RCP has a set term after which it is required to liquidate and distribute its assets to its investors. Investors are not permitted to withdraw their capital from the fund. In this case, RCP had an original term of ten years (the "Term") with the potential to extend the Term for two additional one year periods

if RCP's independent advisory board (the "Advisory Board")¹¹ consented to such extensions. RCP's initial ten-year term expired in April 2018. The Advisory Board agreed to extend the term for one additional year to April 2019. However, following that one year extension, the Advisory Board did not consent to an additional one-year extension, and instead allowed RCP to continue month-to-month with the Advisory Board reserving the right to approve each additional monthly extension. As a condition to receiving these monthly extensions, the Debtor agreed to waive its management fees.

28. The Advisory Board has not granted any additional extensions of the Term since November 2019. Because RCP is past its Term, RCP has gone into orderly liquidation under the terms of its governing documents.¹² As a result of that liquidation, RCP has substantial assets to distribute to its limited partners (the "RCP Distribution," and together with the Dynamic Distribution and the AROF Distribution, the "Distributions").

29. The RCP Distribution comes from RCP's sale of 1,700,000 shares of common stock in MGM Holdings, Inc. ("MGM"), which trade was disclosed to the Committee on February 7, 2020 (the "MGM Sale"). The MGM Sale generated $123.25 million in proceeds, all of which is subject to distribution to RCP's limited partners, including the Debtor, which will receive approximately $18.5 million from the MGM Sale proceeds.

¹¹ None of the Advisory Board members are affiliated with or related in any way to the Debtor, James Dondero, or Mark Okada.

¹² The documents governing RCP are (i) Second Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of Highland Restoration Capital Partners Offshore, L.P. dated April 18, 2008; (ii) the Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P., dated April 18, 2008; (iii) Amended and Restated Agreement of Limited Partnership of Highland Restoration Capital Partners Master, L.P., dated April 18, 2008; and (iv) the Investment Management Agreement, dated November 15, 2007, by and among Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P., Highland Restoration Capital Partners Offshore, L.P., Highland Restoration Capital Partners Master, L.P., each parallel vehicle that may be formed from time to time, Highland Restoration Capital Partners GP, LLC, and Highland Capital Management, L.P. ((i) – (iv) collectively, the "RCP Fund Documents"). True and accurate copies of the RCP Fund Documents are attached hereto as Exhibit G.

30. The MGM Sale was originally part of a much larger liquidating transaction that was being discussed last November 2019, long before the appointment of the Independent Board. In late November 2019, the Debtor requested the Committee's authorization to proceed first with the larger transactions and then solely the MGM Sale, but the Committee rejected both of these transactions.

31. After the appointment of the Independent Board, the Debtor asked the Independent Board to re-assess the larger transaction, and while the Independent Board was reviewing the transaction, the Independent Board determined that the MGM Sale had been agreed to in November 2019 but had not yet closed. Subsequently, the Independent Board spent substantial time and resources considering the Debtor's fiduciary duties to the investors in RCP and the benefits and risks of the transaction, the Independent Board ultimately decided not to proceed with the larger transaction. However, the Independent Board determined to close the MGM Sale in accordance with its terms, and the Independent Board notified the Committee on February 7, 2020, of its intention to close the MGM Sale and followed with a presentation to the full Committee on February 14, 2020, and with the Committee's consent, the MGM Sale closed on February 24, 2020.

32. Also on February 7, 2020, the Debtor notified the Committee that it intended to distribute the RCP Distribution as soon as practicable following their receipt by RCP of such liquidation proceeds. The Debtor also disclosed that Highland Capital Management Services, Inc. ("HCM Services"),¹³ would receive a share of the RCP Distribution of approximately $2.1 million in the same manner as all other limited partners in RCP.¹⁴ HCM

¹³ HCM Services received its interests in RCP from the Debtor over eleven years ago. Additional materials will be provided concerning HCM Services' ownership interest.

¹⁴ The Debtor is also a limited partner in RCP and would receive approximately $18.5 million from the RCP Distribution.

Services is owned 75% by James Dondero and 25% by Mark Okada, and HCM Services is considered a “Related Entity”¹⁵ under the Protocols.

The Committee’s Objections to the Distributions

33. On January 30, 2020, the Debtor, through counsel, received notice that the Committee objected to Dynamic and AROF making distributions to the Related Entity investors under the Protocols unless the Debtor satisfied three demands: (1) no part of the foregoing distributions are to be made to any Related Entities; (2) Dynamic and AROF must provide an unredacted list of all their investors; and (3) the Debtor must make demand for payment on all demand notes held by the Debtor. The Committee also requested information regarding how CLOH obtained its limited partnership interest in Dynamic.¹⁶ The Committee has not objected to either Dynamic or AROF making distributions to non-Related Entity Investors.

34. On February 14, 2020, the Debtor, through counsel, also received notice that the Committee objected to RCP making distributions to HCM Services, as a Related Entity. The Committee has not objected to RCP making distributions to its non-Related Entity investors.

35. Under the applicable governing documents, the rights and obligations of Related Entity investors in Dynamic, AROF, RCP, and the Debtor’s other managed investment

¹⁵ A “Related Entity,” as defined in the Protocols, means “collectively (A)(i) any non-publicly traded third party in which Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, or Mr. Grant Scott, or Mr. John Honis (with respect to Messrs. Okada, Scott and Honis, only to the extent known by the Debtor) has any direct or indirect economic or ownership interest, including as a beneficiary of a trust; (ii) any entity controlled directly or indirectly by Mr. Dondero, Mr. Okada, Mr. Grant Scott, or Mr. John Honis (with respect to Messrs. Okada, Scott and Honis, only to the extent known by the Debtor); (iii) MGM Holdings, Inc.; (iv) any publicly traded company with respect to which the Debtor or any Related Entity has filed a Form 13D or Form 13G; (v) any relative (as defined in Section 101 of the Bankruptcy Code) of Mr. Dondero or Mr. Okada each solely to the extent reasonably knowable by the Debtor; (vi) the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust and Dugaboy Investment Trust; (vii) any entity or person that is an insider of the Debtor under Section 101(31) the Bankruptcy Code, including any “non-statutory” insider; and (viii) to the extent not included in (A)(i)-(vii), any entity included in the listing of related entities in Schedule B hereto (the “Related Entities Listing”); and (B) the following Transactions, (x) any intercompany Transactions with certain affiliates referred to in paragraphs 16.a through 16.e of the Debtor’s cash management motion [Del. Docket No. 7]; and (y) any Transactions with Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. (provided, however, that additional parties may be added to this subclause (y) with the mutual consent of the Debtor and the Committee, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld).”

¹⁶ See note 7, supra.

vehicles as applicable, are the same as those of other investors in the applicable funds. Further, at this time, the Debtor is not aware of any claims that Dynamic, AROF, or RCP have against their Related Entity investors. However, the Debtor understands that the Committee has started its investigation with respect to claims against the Related Entities but does not believe that there is cause to delay otherwise payable distributions to Related Entities until the Committee has completed its review. As such, and as discussed at greater length below, the Debtor believes that failing to provide such parties their pro rata share of the Distributions based upon the potential that the Debtor (not Dynamic, AROF, or RCP) might assert claims against the Related Entities at some point in the future could potentially subject the Debtor, as well as the applicable fund, to claims for, among other things, breach of contract and breach of fiduciary duty under applicable state law, federal law, and Cayman law.

36. Consequently, the Debtor is filing this Motion and seeking an order from this Court authorizing the Debtor to cause Distributions to be made to the Related Entity investors in Dynamic, AROF, and RCP (collectively, the “Funds”).

Relief Requested

37. By this Motion, the Debtor seeks the entry of an order authorizing, but not directing: (i) the Dynamic Distribution to the Related Entity investors in Dynamic, in accordance with the Dynamic Fund Documents, (ii) the AROF Distribution to the Related Entity investors in AROF in accordance with the AROF Fund Documents, and (iii) the RCP Distribution to the Related Entity investors in RCP in accordance with the RCP Fund Documents.

Basis for the Relief Requested

A. The Governing Documents for the Funds Do Not Give Discretion Regarding Fund Distributions

38. Each Fund is a distinct legal entity with its own property rights in its own assets. Further, each entity in each Fund is governed by its own set of governing documents, which govern how distributions are to be made to investors in the applicable Fund. As set forth below, because certain of the Related Entities have invested through the Cayman entities and others have invested through the Delaware entities, only certain documents apply to each Related Entity investors. The Related Entities and their applicable funds are set forth below:

Dynamic

Related Entity	Applicable Entity
CLOH	Dynamic Master Fund & Dynamic Domestic Feeder Fund
Mark Okada	Dynamic Master Fund & Dynamic Domestic Feeder Fund
Dynamic GP	Dynamic Master Fund & Dynamic Domestic Feeder Fund

AROF

Related Entity	Applicable Entity

RCP

HCM Services	RCP Domestic Fund
--------------	-------------------

39. Because the Dynamic and AROF funds are structured as “master/feeder” funds, investors invest by subscribing for limited partnership interests or shares in the feeder funds; however, the feeder funds do not own interests in underlying portfolio investments. Those investments are held by the master funds, and the feeder funds are the master fund’s limited partners. As such, the master fund is the entity that receives the proceeds from any investment and then distributes those proceeds to its limited partners – the feeder funds – pursuant to the master fund’s governing documents. The feeder funds in turn distribute those proceeds to their limited partners or shareholders – the third-party investors – pursuant to the feeder fund’s governing documents. As, and by way of example, if an investor is invested in a Delaware feeder fund, the documents governing its distributions are the documents governing both the master fund and the documents governing the Delaware feeder fund. The documents governing the Cayman fund are, in these circumstances, generally immaterial.

40. RCP is structured as a “parallel fund.” This structure is similar to the master/feeder structure discussed above. RCP has a master fund incorporated in Delaware; however, the RCP master fund only has one limited partner – the Cayman fund. The domestic RCP fund invests in the same portfolio investments as the RCP master fund but is not a limited partner of the RCP master fund. Instead, the RCP domestic fund is a standalone entity, which owns its own assets, receives the proceeds of those assets directly, and distributes those proceeds directly to its limited partners. The RCP domestic fund does not rely on distributions from the RCP master fund, and, consequently, for purposes of distributions to investors in the RCP domestic fund, the documents governing the RCP master fund and RCP Cayman fund are largely immaterial.

41. The relevant documents are discussed below. Because of their similarities, the Dynamic Fund Documents and Argentina Fund Documents are addressed together.

Dynamic Fund Documents and AROF Fund Documents

42. The Dynamic and AROF Master Fund. Because on November 15, 2019, and November 20, 2019, respectively, the general partners of the Dynamic and AROF master funds elected to terminate Dynamic and AROF, respectively, Dynamic and AROF entered wind up as of those respective dates.¹⁷ Upon such dates, the general partners of Dynamic and AROF became

obligated to “promptly liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership to the extent feasible.”¹⁸ Section 6.2 of each of the Dynamic and AROF master fund partnership agreements also provides that the limited partners in the master funds, i.e. their feeder funds, “shall... be paid liquidating distributions” after applicable debts are repaid.¹⁹ Such funds’ general partners, therefore, have an obligation to promptly liquidate their assets and distribute the proceeds to such funds’ limited partners – their respective feeder funds. Generally, the failure to distribute such proceeds could give rise to a claim for breach of contract under Cayman law.²⁰

43. The Dynamic and AROF Domestic Feeder Fund. Again because each of Dynamic and AROF are in wind up, they are required to “promptly liquidate” their business and affairs, and their investors, including the Related Entity investors – CLOH, Mr. Okada, and Dynamic GP – are required to “be paid liquidating distributions. . . pro rata in accordance with, and up to the positive balances of their respective Capital Accounts.”²¹ Section 6.2 of the applicable documents, however, does not state that the Debtor can withhold any individual investor’s pro rata distribution.²² Consequently, the Debtor believes it is obligated, under its Agreement of Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P., dated 1 April 2018 § 6.1(a); Exempted Limited Partnership Law (2018 Revision) § 36(10)(d).

¹⁸ Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., dated 1 November 2017 § 6.2; Second Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P., dated 1 April 2018 § 6.2.

¹⁹ Id.

²⁰ Section 6.2 of each fund’s partnership agreement provides that distributions to the feeder funds only need to be made to the “extent feasible.” The Debtor believes that this exception does not apply here as distributions are “feasible” if authorized by this Court and that such exception cannot be relied on to excuse the relevant master funds from distributing proceeds to their feeder funds.

²¹ Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., § 6.2(a)(iii); Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Dynamic Income Fund, L.P., § 6.2(a)(iii)

contractual and fiduciary duties, to petition this Court for authority to make distributions to the Related Entity investors.

44. The Dynamic and AROF Cayman Feeder Fund. There are no Related Entity investors in the Dynamic Cayman feeder fund and, therefore, the documents governing the Dynamic Cayman feeder fund are not relevant with respect to any distributions to Related Entities investors.

45. CLOH is invested in the AROF Cayman feeder fund. That fund suspended all rights of its shareholders to redeem (as well as all redemption payments) on October 30, 2019, to enable an orderly realization of assets following receipt of very significant redemption requests. While the directors of the AROF Cayman feeder fund have discretion with respect to the imposition (and the lifting) of the suspension of redemptions, that discretion must, as a matter of Cayman law, be exercised for a proper purpose in the best interests of the company and consistent with the directors' fiduciary duties and fund documents. The assets of AROF have been liquidated, and there is no longer a reason to suspend redemptions.²³ Furthermore, since CLOH – the Related Party investor in the AROF Cayman feeder fund – has not yet been redeemed, it is eligible (as a member of a particular class and/or series of issued shares) to be paid distributions under the fund's articles of association.²⁴ Therefore, the Debtor believes that, if the suspension of redemptions is ²³ It may be argued that the suspension was automatically justified by the like suspension of withdrawals by the AROF master fund on October 30, 2019 (Offering Memorandum of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., at p. 75.), but it is also arguable that that condition fell away with the termination of the AROF master fund on November 15, 2019. Further, it may be arguable that under section 12.5 of the AROF feeder articles of association the directors might be entitled to withhold redemption amounts payable to the Related Parties if required by U.S. law, but it may equally be arguable that that provision applies only to tax withholdings.

²⁴ Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd. § 45.1. In the interests of full disclosure, such distributions to shareholders of a particular class and/or series are in the "absolute discretion" of the board of Cayman-based directors and, further, directors can hold distributions due to a particular member in abeyance in a separate account if such distributions "cannot be paid" to a particular member, though they will retain their status as a debt owed to that member. For these purposes, it might be arguable that a distribution "cannot be paid" if its payment is prohibited by applicable law or by an order of a court of competent maintained and distributions are not paid to CLOH, there may be claims that the continuance of the suspension of redemptions and failure to pay distributions constitutes a breach of the AROF Cayman feeder fund's articles of association and of the Cayman directors' fiduciary duties. The Cayman-based directors are independent of the Debtor and are not required to take the Debtor's direction, and if the AROF Cayman feeder fund receives assets from its master fund, the Debtor has no control over how the Cayman directors will treat those assets, including whether the Cayman directors will cause those assets to be distributed to CLOH as a Related Entity investor. As such, the Debtor is asking this Court to authorize distributions to the Related Entity investor in AROF to protect the Debtor from any liability based on the Cayman directors' actions or inactions.

RCP Fund Documents

46. The RCP Domestic Fund. As set forth above, the RCP domestic fund has the same general partner as the other RCP funds but holds its own investments in parallel with such funds. Further, distributions to investors in the RCP domestic fund are governed a limited partnership agreement specific to the domestic fund. The RCP domestic fund's distributions are not contingent on distributions from the RCP master fund. Under the documents governing the RCP domestic fund, the general partner is required to distribute assets proportionally based on each investor's funded commitments as of the date of distribution, and the documents do not provide that a distribution can be made to one investor but not another.²⁵ Because the RCP domestic fund governing documents do not allow the general partner to select which investors are to receive a distribution, the Debtor believes that it is not permitted under those documents to make distributions to some but not all of the investors and that if the Debtor were to make a distribution jurisdiction. (Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., Art. 45.1; 45.7.)

²⁵ Limited Partnership Agreement of Highland Restoration Capital Partners, L.P., § 3.3(a); see also § 3.2 (requiring short term investment gains to be allocated proportionally to investors).

to a subset of investors only, it may be exposed to liability. Accordingly, the Debtor is seeking authority to make Distributions to the Related Entity investors as part of a liquidating distribution made to all investors on a pro rata basis.

47. The RCP Master Fund & RCP Cayman Fund. There are no Related Entity investors in in RCP's Cayman fund and, therefore, the documents governing the RCP master fund and the RCP Cayman fund are not currently relevant with respect to any distributions to Related Entities.

Potential Fiduciary and Common Law Obligations

48. The obligations of the Funds' domestic governing entities (general partners and directors) are also governed by Delaware fiduciary duties. Under the laws of the State of Delaware, a general partner to a limited partnership owes duties of good faith, fairness and loyalty to its limited partners. Boxer v. Husky Oil, 329 A.2d 995, 997 (1981). Pursuant to Delaware law, subject to certain limitations, a general partner can limit its fiduciary duties by contract. Specifically, 6 Del. C. § 17-1101(d), allows for a general partner to expand, restrict or even eliminate its fiduciary duties, so long as the general partner's duties of fair dealing and good faith are unaffected. The governing documents for the Delaware-domiciled Funds do not include a waiver or disclaimer of fiduciary duties that generally apply to general partners.²⁶

49. Further, the conduct and activities of the Debtor and HCM Latin America as investment manager to the Funds are governed by the Advisers Act and the relevant investment management agreements. An investment adviser (such as the Debtor and HCM Latin America),

²⁶ The only language that acts as a waiver of fiduciary duties is very narrow and does not apply to general fiduciary duties under state law or securities law. Specifically, there is a disclaimer of the general partner's status as a fiduciary under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and language that limits the general partner's liability for breach of fiduciary duty in connection with the use of "soft dollars" generated from brokerage transactions. There are also typical "standard of care" and indemnity provisions that limit liability of the general partner, but these do not specifically address or provide a waiver of fiduciary duties.

in managing client accounts (such as those of the Fund) or otherwise providing investment advice, is subject to fiduciary duties. The Supreme Court has held that Section 206 of the Advisers Act imposes fiduciary duties on an investment adviser by operation of law. See SEC v. Capital Gains Research Bureau, Inc., 375 US 180, 191 (1963). Under Section 206 of the Advisers Act, an investment adviser has a fiduciary duty of loyalty. This duty, among other things, requires that an investment adviser, as is the Debtor, ensure that it does not benefit one client (such as a Fund) to the disadvantage of another or to itself.²⁷ Relatedly, an investment adviser to pooled investment vehicles, such as the Funds, must comply with Advisers Act Rule 206(4)-8. Advisers Act Rule 206(4)-8 prohibits investment advisers from defrauding investors in pooled investment vehicles they advise.²⁸ Rule 206(4)-8 extends, in part, the Debtor's fiduciary obligations to the investors in such Funds.

50. As set forth above, the Committee has objected to distributions being made to Related Entity investors because the Committee believes that the Debtor and its estate may have claims against such Related Entities. Although the Debtor understands that the Committee has commenced its investigation into potential claims against Related Entities, no claims against such Related Entities have been articulated and no allegations have been made that any of Dynamic, AROF, or RCP have claims against the Related Entities or that there is any other reason to treat the respective distributions to those investors differently than those being made to non-Related Entity investors.

51. Accordingly, absent an express ability to withhold or offset distributions on a non-pro rata basis, the failure to make distributions otherwise due to the Related Entity investors

²⁷ Proposed Commission Interpretation Regarding Standard of Conduct for Investment Advisers; Request for Comment on Enhancing Investment Adviser Regulation, Release No. IA-4889 (Apr. 18, 2018).

²⁸ Rule 206(4)-8; Prohibition of Fraud By Advisers to Certain Pooled Investment Vehicles, Advisers Act Rel. No. 2628 (Aug. 3, 2007).

could be a potential violation of (i) the Funds' governing documents, (ii) Delaware and/or Cayman fiduciary law, and (iii) the Advisers Act (to the extent the Debtor, HCM Latin America, or any affiliate of the Debtor has a role in causing such distributions to be withheld). Moreover, the potential for a violation of the Advisers Act, Rule 206(4)-8 and the Delaware fiduciary duties is substantially greater if such delay has the intention of, or results in, favorable treatment to the Debtor or any of its affiliates in a manner that was not expressly contemplated at the time of investment. Because of those fiduciary obligations, the Debtor believes that it has a duty to seek this Court's authority to cause each of Dynamic, AROF, and RCP to make distributions to each such Fund's Related Entity investors in accordance with the applicable Fund's governing documents.

B. Section 363(c)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code Authorizes the Debtor to Make the Distributions

52. The Debtor believes that, but for the Protocols, Court approval of the Distributions to the Related Entities would not be required for the Funds to make distributions to their investors. However, even if Court approval were required, making the Distributions to the Related Entities is an ordinary course transaction authorized under section 363(c)(1). Specifically, section 363(c)(1) provides:

[i]f the business of the debtor is authorized to be operated under section. . . 1108. . . of this title. . . the trustee may enter into transactions, including the sale or lease of property of the estate, in the ordinary course of business, without notice or a hearing, and may use property of the estate in the ordinary course of business without notice or a hearing.

11 U.S.C. § 363(c)(1). As such, a debtor may engage in postpetition actions if the debtor is authorized to operate its business under section 1108 and such transactions are "in the ordinary course of business."

53. An activity is “ordinary course” if it satisfies both the “horizontal test” and the “vertical test.” See, e.g., Denton Cty. Elec. Coop. v. Eldorado Ranch, Ltd. (In re Denton Cty. Elec. Coop.), 281 B.R. 876, 882 n.12 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2002); see also In re Roth American, Inc., 975 F.2d 949, 952 (3d Cir. 1992). The vertical test looks to “whether the transaction subjects a hypothetical creditor to a different economic risk than existed when the creditor originally extended credit.” In re Patriot Place, Ltd., 486 B.R. 773, 793 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 2013). The horizontal test considers “whether the transaction was of the sort commonly undertaken by companies in the industry.” Id. Here, both the vertical test and horizontal test are satisfied.

54. First, the vertical test is satisfied. The Distributions will be made in accordance with the applicable Fund’s governing documents, which govern the making of all distributions to investors, including Related Entity investors. The Distributions will thus be consistent with the types of distributions routinely made to investors in the Funds prior to the Petition Date. Because the Debtor is engaging in the same conduct postpetition as it did prepetition, the Debtor’s creditors are incurring no additional risk from the Distributions. In fact, the risks to the Debtor’s creditors may very well increase if the Distributions are not made as the Funds’ investors may, as discussed above, have various claims against both the Funds and the Debtor, as the investment manager.

55. Second, the horizontal test is satisfied. The Debtor is an investment manager. Investment managers manage hedge funds, private equity funds, and other investment vehicles, which funds by definition distribute the proceeds of their investments to investors. Assuming the Debtor has any role in the Distributions, the Debtor and the Funds are simply attempting to do postpetition what was done prepetition and to distribute investment gains and losses to the Funds’ investors. A fund that sequesters gains and refuses to distribute profits would be more than an anomaly; it would arguably be a fraud. Consequently, the horizontal test is satisfied as making the Distributions is entirely consistent with the operation of investment managers and hedge funds throughout the industry.

C. Making the Distributions is a Sound Exercise of the Debtors' Business Judgment.

56. Although the Debtor believes that the Distributions are ordinary course pursuant to section 363(c)(1), and that, but for the Protocols, this Court's approval of the Distributions to the Related Entities would not be required. However, even if Court approval were required, the Debtor submits that the Distributions also satisfy section 363(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. Section 363(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code authorizes a debtor-in-possession to "use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate," after notice and a hearing. It is well established in this jurisdiction that a debtor may use property of the estate outside the ordinary course of business under this provision if there is a good business reason for doing so. See, e.g., ASARCO, Inc. v. Elliott Management. (In re ASARCO, L.L.C.), 650 F.3d 593, 601 (5th Cir. 2011) ("[F]or the debtor-in-possession or trustee to satisfy its fiduciary duty to the debtor, creditors, and equity holders, there must be some articulated business justification for using, selling, or leasing the property outside the ordinary course of business.") (quoting In re Continental Air Lines, Inc., 780 F.3d 1223, 1226 (5th Cir. 1986)); 441 B.R. 813, 830 (Bankr. S.D. Tex. 2010); GBL Holding Co., Inc. v. Blackburn/Travis/Cole, Ltd. (In re State Park Building Group, Ltd.), 331 B.R. 251, 254 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. 2005).

57. Here, making Distributions to the Related Entities is in the exercise of the Debtor's sound business judgment. As an initial matter, and as set forth above, Dynamic, AROF, and RCP are in liquidation because the Debtor (or, in the case of AROF, the Debtor's relying adviser) has determined, in its business judgment, that continuing the existence of those funds in the face of substantial redemptions, on the one hand, and the expiration of the Term, on the other, is not practicable and not in the interest of those funds or their investors. In addition, failing to liquidate those funds in an orderly manner could result in some investors being disadvantaged. In order to liquidate, Dynamic, AROF, and RCP, by definition, must sell their assets, which sales generate cash. Under their relevant governing documents, that cash is to be distributed to investors in those Funds, and returning that cash to investors is how the Funds actually liquidate; the Funds cannot wind-down without distributing their assets to their investors. Further, the failure to distribute cash in accordance with the Fund Documents to all investors, including Related Entities, could subject the Debtor to claims for breach of contract and fiduciary duty. As such, the decision to liquidate Dynamic, AROF, and RCP is in the sound business judgment of the Debtor as is the distribution of the cash received as a result of that liquidation. Making the Distribution is the necessary and logical corollary to liquidating these funds and squarely within the Debtor's business judgment; they cannot be wound down without making the Distribution to all investors, including Related Entities.

No Prior Request

58. No previous request for the relief sought in this Motion has been made to this, or any other, Court.

Notice

59. Notice of this Motion shall be given to the following parties or, in lieu thereof, to their counsel, if known: (a) the Office of the United States Trustee; (b) the Office of the United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas; (c) the Debtor's principal secured parties; (d) counsel to the Committee; and (e) parties requesting notice pursuant to Bankruptcy

Rule 2002. The Debtor submits that, in light of the nature of the relief requested, no other or further notice need be given.

WHEREFORE, the Debtor respectfully requests that the Court (a) grant the Motion, (b) enter an order, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, and (c) grant such other relief as is just and proper.

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT of Highland Dynamic Income Fund, L.P. is dated effective as of April 1, 2018 by and among Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC, the Limited Partners, and those Persons who are hereafter admitted as additional Limited Partners in accordance with this Agreement. This Agreement amends and restates in its entirety the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership dated March 28, 2013 (the “Prior Agreement”).

Article I
DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Agreement:

“Act” means the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act, 6 Del. C. §§ 17-101, et seq., as in effect on the date hereof and as amended from time to time, or any successor law.

“Administrator” means such Person as the General Partner may designate from time to time, in its sole discretion, to serve as administrator to the Partnership.

“Advisory Committee” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.6.

“Affiliate” means, with respect to any Person, a Person which controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person. For these purposes, “control” means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise.

“Affiliated Investors” means the Investment Manager, the General Partner and their respective Affiliates, Principals, employees, partners, agents, the respective family members of such personnel and trusts and other entities established primarily for their benefit or for charitable purposes.

“Agreement” means this Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement, as amended from time to time.

“Authorized Representative” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.6(a).

“Bad Actor Limited Partner” means a Limited Partner that (a) would cause the disqualification of the Partnership from using Rule 506 under the Securities Act due to the operation of paragraph (d) thereof (or its successor) if such Limited Partner were to beneficially own 20% or more of the outstanding voting interests of all of the Partners (excluding any other Interests that are Non-Voting Interests) or (b) the General Partner determines is likely to become subject to a conviction, order, judgment or finding that would be likely to cause the disqualification described in clause (a).

“BBA” means Subchapter C of Chapter 63 of the Code (Sections 6221 through 6241 of the Code), as enacted by the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, Pub. L. No. 114-74, as amended from time to time, and the Regulations thereunder (whether proposed, temporary or final), including any subsequent amendments, successor provisions or other guidance thereunder, and any equivalent provisions for state, local or non-U.S. tax purposes.

“BBA Effective Period” means any taxable year commencing after 2017, taking into account any extensions of the effective date set forth in the BBA.

“BHCA” means the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended.

“BHCA Subject Person” means any Limited Partner that is subject, directly or indirectly, to the provisions of Section 4 of the BHCA and the regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System promulgated thereunder.

“Business Day” means any day or days on which banks are open for business in the city of New York, NY and/or such other place or places as the General Partner may determine.

“Capital Account” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.3(a).

“Certificate” means the Certificate of Limited Partnership of the Partnership referred to in Section 2.1(b).

“Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and as hereafter amended, or any successor law.

“Designated Individual” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.2(a).

“Election Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.11(c).

“ERISA” means the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as the same may be amended from time to time.

“ERISA Partner” means a Limited Partner which is (a) an employee benefit plan subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA, (b) a “plan” subject to Section 4975 of the Code, (c) an entity whose underlying assets include “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA by reason of a Plan’s investment in the entity, or (d) an entity that otherwise constitutes a “benefit plan investor” within the meaning of Section 3(42) of ERISA or any regulation promulgated thereunder.

“FATCA” means Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, as amended, and any Regulations thereunder or official interpretations or other official guidance thereof, including any successor Regulations or interpretations, and any intergovernmental agreement and any regulations with respect thereto or official interpretations or other official guidance thereof implementing the foregoing.

“Fiscal Period” means each period that starts at the opening of business on the Commencement Date (in the case of the initial Fiscal Period) and thereafter on the day immediately following the last day of the preceding Fiscal Period, and that ends at the close of business on the earliest of the following dates:

- (a) the last day of a calendar month;
- (b) any date as of which any withdrawal or distribution of capital is made with respect to any Capital Account or as of which this Agreement provides for any amount to be credited to or debited against a Capital Account, other than a withdrawal or distribution by or to, or an allocation to, all Capital Accounts that does not result in any change of the Partnership Percentage relating to any Capital Account;
- (c) the date which immediately precedes any day as of which a capital contribution is accepted by the General Partner from any new or existing Partner; or
- (d) any other date which the General Partner selects.

“Fiscal Year” means the period commencing on the Commencement Date and ending on December 31 of the year of commencement, and thereafter each period commencing on January 1 of each year and ending on December 31 of such year, unless the General Partner shall elect another fiscal year; provided that any such other fiscal year shall be permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In the case of the Fiscal Year in which the Partnership is terminated in accordance with Article VI, “Fiscal Year” means the portion of the calendar year ending on the date on which the Partnership is terminated.

“GAAP” means generally accepted accounting principles in the United States.

“General Partner” means Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, any successor thereto, and any Person hereafter admitted as an additional general partner, in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership.

“Indemnified Person” means each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, any member, shareholder, partner, manager, director, officer, employee or agent of, or any person who controls, the General Partner, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, members of the Advisory Committee or the Pricing Committee, their respective affiliates, or any of the legal representatives of any of the foregoing.

“Interest” means the entire ownership interest of a Partner in the Partnership at the relevant time, including the right of such Partner to any and all benefits to which a Partner may be entitled as provided in this Agreement, together with the obligations of such Partner to comply with all the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

“Investment Company Act” means the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

“Investment Management Agreement” means the investment management agreement by and among the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Partnership, the Master Fund and the Offshore Fund.

“Investment Manager” means Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, or any successor thereto, or any Person thereafter appointed as an investment manager of the Partnership in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement.

“Investments” means investments in securities or other financial or intangible investment instruments, contracts or products, whether made directly by the Partnership or through the Master Fund, as described in the Partnership’s offering memorandum.

“Limited Participation Investment” means an Investment which, as determined by the General Partner, is suitable for some but not all of the Partners, or of which certain Partners should receive a reduced participation, for legal, tax, regulatory or other bona fide reasons.

“Limited Participation Sub-Accounts” means memorandum accounts to be maintained in the accounting records of the Partnership on a Partner-by-Partner basis with respect to each particular Limited Participation Investment to reflect the entitlement of each Partner (other than a Partner who does not have any credit balance in its Capital Account at the time of the establishment of the Limited Participation Sub-Account that is unrelated to a pre-existing Limited Participation Sub-Account) to allocations and distributions attributable to Master Fund transactions involving such Limited Participation Investments.

“Limited Partner” means any Person admitted to the Partnership as a limited partner, until the entire Interest of such Person has been withdrawn pursuant to Section 5.5 or a substitute Limited Partner or Limited Partners are admitted with respect to such Person’s entire Interest.

“Majority of Limited Partners” means Limited Partners whose Partnership Percentages represent more than 50% of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of all Limited Partners.

“Management Fee” means the management fee, as defined in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, payable by the Master Fund to the Investment Manager pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement.

“Master Fund” means Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P., a collective investment vehicle formed as an exempted limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands in which the Partnership and the Offshore Fund place their assets and conduct their investment and trading activities.

“Master Fund Partnership Agreement” means the amended and restated agreement of limited partnership of the Master Fund, as the same may be amended or restated from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof.

“Negative Basis” means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of such Partner’s “adjusted tax basis” in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer or assignment of such Interest, including by reason of death) over the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or liquidation of the Partnership.

“Negative Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership and who has a Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date, but such Partner shall cease to be a Negative Basis Partner at such time as it shall have received allocations pursuant to Section 3.10(d) equal to such Partner's Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date and without regard to such Partner's share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

"Net Assets" means the total value, as determined by the General Partner or its delegate(s) in accordance with Section 7.3, of all Investments and other assets of the Partnership (including net unrealized appreciation or depreciation of the assets and accrued interest and dividends receivable net of any withholding taxes), less an amount equal to all accrued debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership (including any reserves for contingencies accrued pursuant to Section 3.6). Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, Net Assets as of the first day of any Fiscal Period shall be determined on the basis of the valuation of assets conducted as of the close of the immediately preceding Fiscal Period but after giving effect to any capital contributions made by any Partner subsequent to the last day of such immediately preceding Fiscal Period and after giving effect to Management Fee charges (borne indirectly at the Master Fund level) and Net Assets as of the last day of any Fiscal Period shall be determined before giving effect to any of the following amounts payable by the Partnership generally or in respect of any Investment which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made:

- (a) any Performance Allocation (borne indirectly at the Master Fund level) as of the date on which such determination is made;
- (b) any withdrawals or distributions payable to any Partner which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made; and
- (c) withholding or other taxes (including any amounts under any BBA provision), expenses of processing withdrawals and other items payable, any increases or decreases in any reserves or other amounts recorded pursuant to Section 3.6 and any increases or decreases in the value of any Limited Participation Investments during the Fiscal Period ending as of the date on which such determination is made, to the extent the General Partner determines that, pursuant to any provisions of this Agreement, such items are not to be charged ratably among the Capital Accounts of all Partners on the basis of their respective Partnership Percentages as of the commencement of the Fiscal Period.

"Net Loss" means any amount by which the Net Assets as of the first day of a Fiscal Period exceed the Net Assets as of the last day of the same Fiscal Period.

"Net Profit" means any amount by which the Net Assets as of the last day of a Fiscal Period exceed the Net Assets as of the first day of the same Fiscal Period.

"Nonaffiliated Limited Partners" means Limited Partners that are not affiliates or employees of the Investment Manager.

"Non-Voting Interests" means an Interest, the holder of which is not entitled to vote, consent or withhold consent with respect to any Partnership matter (including, but not limited to, mergers, sales of substantially all assets or consolidations of the Partnership), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

“Offshore Fund” means Highland Dynamic Income Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company.

“Other Account” means any assets or investment of the General Partner, or any assets managed by the General Partner or any Affiliate of the General Partner for the account of any Person or entity (including investment vehicles) other than the Partnership, which are invested or which are available for investment in securities or other instruments or for trading activities whether or not of the specific type being conducted by the Partnership.

“Other Agreement” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.12.

“Partner” means the General Partner or any of the Limited Partners, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and “Partners” means the General Partner and all of the Limited Partners.

“Partnership” means the limited partnership formed pursuant to this Agreement.

“Partnership Minimum Gain” has the meaning set forth in Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(2) and (d).

“Partnership Percentage” means a percentage established for each Partner on the Partnership’s books as of the first day of each Fiscal Period. The Partnership Percentage of a Partner for a Fiscal Period shall be determined by dividing the amount of such Partner’s Capital Account as of the beginning of the Fiscal Period (after crediting all capital contributions to such Capital Account which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees borne at the Master Fund level) by the sum of the Capital Accounts of all of the Partners as of the beginning of the Fiscal Period (after crediting all capital contributions to the Partnership which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees borne at the Master Fund level). The sum of the Partnership Percentages of all Capital Accounts for each Fiscal Period shall equal 100%.

“Performance Allocation” means the performance allocation, as defined in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, allocated to the General Partner pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement.

“Person” means any individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, or other entity.

“Plan Assets” means assets of the Partnership that are considered to be assets of an ERISA Partner, pursuant to Section 3(42) of ERISA or otherwise.

“Positive Basis” means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or liquidation of the Partnership over such Partner’s “adjusted tax basis” in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer or assignment of such Interest, including by reason of death).

“Positive Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership and who has a Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date, but such Partner shall cease to be a Positive Basis Partner at such time as it shall have received allocations pursuant to Section 3.10(c) equal to such Partner’s Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date and without regard to such Partner’s share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

“Pricing Committee” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.7.

“Principals” means James D. Dondero and Mark K. Okada.

“Prior Agreement” has the meaning set forth in the preamble hereto.

“Regulations” means the proposed, temporary and final U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated under the Code, including any successor regulations.

“Regulatory Allocations” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.11.

“Revocation Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.11(c).

“RIC Limited Partner” means a Limited Partner that is registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act.

“Schedule of Partners” means a schedule to be maintained by the General Partner containing the following information with respect to each Partner: (a) name; (b) address; (c) date of admission; (d) amount and date of all capital contributions and withdrawals; and (e) the amount and date of any permitted Transfers.

“Securities Act” means the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended from time to time.

“Series” means a designated series of Interests established in accordance with this Agreement and having such terms as the General Partner determines.

“Tax Matters Partner” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.2(a).

“Transfer” means any direct or indirect sale, exchange, transfer, assignment, pledge, encumbrance, charge, exchange, hypothecation, placing of a lien or a security interest on an Interest or any other disposition by a Partner of its Interest to or in favor of another party, whether voluntary or involuntary (including, but not limited to, being offered or listed on or through any placement agent, intermediary, online service, site, agent or similar Person).

“Withdrawal Date” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.5(a).

“Withdrawal Gate” has the meaning set forth in 5.5(d).

“Withdrawal Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.5(a).

Article II
ORGANIZATION

2.1 Continuation of Limited Partnership

- (a) The General Partner and the Limited Partners hereby agree to continue the Partnership as a limited partnership under and pursuant to the Act and this Agreement.
- (b) The General Partner has executed and filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware an Amended Certificate of Limited Partnership of the Partnership (the “Certificate”), and shall execute, acknowledge and file with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware any further amendments thereto as may be required by the Act, and any other instruments, documents and certificates which, in the opinion of the Partnership’s legal counsel, may from time to time be required by the laws of the United States of America, the State of Delaware or any other jurisdiction in which the Partnership determines to do business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof or which such legal counsel may deem necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence and business of the Partnership. The General Partner shall cause any required amendment to the Certificate to be filed promptly following the event requiring such amendment. All amendments may be signed by the General Partner (as required by the Act) and may be signed either personally or by an attorney-in-fact.
- (c) The parties hereto agree to operate the Partnership as a limited partnership pursuant to the provisions of the Act and of this Agreement and agree that the rights and liabilities of the Limited Partners and the General Partner shall be as provided in the Act for limited partners and the general partner except as provided herein.
- (d) The General Partner may change the domicile of the Partnership to another state, country or other jurisdiction where advisable due to legal, tax or other considerations; provided that no such change of domicile would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Limited Partners.
- (e) The parties acknowledge that they intend that the Partnership be taxed in the United States as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. No election may be made to treat the Partnership as other than a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any income tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership.

2.2 Name of Partnership

- (a) The name of the Partnership is Highland Dynamic Income Fund, L.P. or such other name as the General Partner may hereafter adopt, subject to causing an amendment to the Certificate to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware in accordance with the Act. The Partnership commenced operations in 2013 as Highland Capital Loan Fund, L.P., and pursuant to Section 2.1(b), the General Partner filed an amended Certificate with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware to affect the change of name. The General Partner will send a notice of any change of name to the Limited Partners. All business of the Partnership will be conducted under such name or under such other name as the General Partner deems appropriate.
- (b) The Partnership shall have the exclusive ownership and right to use the Partnership name so long as the Partnership continues, despite the withdrawal, expulsion, resignation or removal of any Limited Partner, but upon the Partnership's termination or at such time as there ceases to be a general partner, the Partnership shall assign the name and the goodwill attached thereto to the General Partner without payment by the assignee(s) of any consideration therefor.

2.3 Principal Office; Registered Office

- (a) The Partnership shall have its principal office at such location as the General Partner shall designate from time to time.
- (b) The Partnership shall have its registered office at c/o The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, Wilmington, New Castle County, Delaware 19801, unless a different registered office or agent is designated from time to time by the General Partner.

2.4 Term of Partnership

The term of the Partnership commenced on the date on which the Certificate was filed with the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware and will continue until dissolved pursuant to Section 6.1 (unless its term is extended pursuant to Section 6.1). The legal existence of the Partnership as a separate legal entity shall continue until the cancellation of the Certificate.

2.5 Object and Powers of Partnership

- (a) The Partnership is formed solely for the object and purpose of indirectly investing in Investments by subscribing for and holding a limited partner interest in, and investing all of its investible assets in, the Master Fund. The Partnership is a directed feeder fund for the Limited Partners with respect to the Master Fund. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Partnership shall perform no other business and shall not make directly any Investments as such Investments will be made by the Master Fund.

- (b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Partnership, and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, may execute, deliver and perform any agreement with any Limited Partner or prospective Limited Partner without any further act, vote or approval of any Partner. The General Partner is hereby authorized to enter into the agreements described in the preceding sentence on behalf of the Partnership, but such authorization should not be deemed a restriction on the power of the General Partner to enter into other agreements on behalf of the Partnership. In furtherance of this purpose, the Partnership shall have all powers necessary, suitable or convenient for the accomplishment of the aforesaid purpose, subject to the limitations and restrictions set forth herein alone or with others, as principal or agent.
- (c) Each Limited Partner hereby acknowledges that the Partnership is not expected to qualify as an “operating company” for purposes of ERISA, and the assets of the Partnership may therefore constitute Plan Assets of ERISA Partners; and that the Partnership is therefore intended to be structured as a directed feeder fund through which the Limited Partners may participate in an investment in the Master Fund and with respect to which the General Partner is not, except as expressly provided under the terms of this Agreement, intended to have any discretionary authority or control with respect to the investment of the assets of the Partnership. Each Limited Partner (i) shall by making a capital contribution to the Partnership with respect to the Partnership’s underlying interests in the Master Fund, be deemed to direct the General Partner to invest the amount of such capital contribution in the Master Fund and (ii) acknowledges that during any period when the underlying interests of the Partnership in the Master Fund are deemed to constitute Plan Assets, the General Partner will act as a custodian with respect to the assets of such Limited Partner, but is not intended to be a fiduciary with respect to the assets of such Limited Partner for purposes of ERISA, the Code or any applicable similar law. No provision of this Agreement shall create any obligation of the general partner of the Master Fund and the general partner of the Master Fund will not have any fiduciary obligations to any person, under ERISA or otherwise, pursuant to this Agreement. Any action or determination of the general partner of the Master Fund referenced herein shall only regard such action or determination made by the general partner of the Master Fund solely in their capacity as the general partner thereof.

2.6 Liability of Partners

In no event shall any Limited Partner (or former Limited Partner) be obligated to make any contribution to the Partnership in addition to its agreed capital contribution (or other payments provided for herein) or have any liability for the repayment or discharge of the debts and obligations of the Partnership except to the extent provided herein or as required by the Act.

2.7 Actions by Partnership

The Partnership may execute, deliver and perform all contracts, agreements and other undertakings and engage in all activities and transactions as may in the opinion of the General Partner be necessary or advisable to carry out its objects as set forth in Section 2.5 above.

2.8 Reliance by Third Parties

Persons dealing with the Partnership are entitled to rely conclusively upon the power and authority of the General Partner as herein set forth.

2.9 UCC Status of Limited Partner Interests

- (a) For purposes of the grant, pledge, attachment or perfection of a security interest in an Interest or otherwise, the Interests shall be deemed to be “securities” within the meaning of Section 8-102(a)(15) and as provided by Section 8-103(c) of the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect from time to time in the State of Delaware or analogous provisions in the Uniform Commercial Code in effect in any other jurisdiction.
- (b) Any Interest may be evidenced by a certificate of partnership interest issued by the Partnership in such form as the General Partner may approve. Every certificate representing an Interest shall bear a legend substantially in the following form:

“For the purposes of Section 8-103 of the Uniform Commercial Code of the United States of America in effect in any relevant jurisdiction, the certificates representing an interest in the Limited Partnership shall constitute “securities” within the meaning of Section 8-102 and Section 8-103 of the Uniform Commercial Code.”

2.10 Series of Interests

The General Partner, at any time, may without notification to or consent of the other Limited Partners, create and offer different Series of Interests in the Partnership with such rights, obligations, liabilities, privileges, designations and preferences (including different investment strategies, underlying investments, degrees of leverage, management fees, performance allocations, brokerage commissions, transparency, withdrawal rights, co-investment opportunities, and other differences) as the General Partner may determine upon the issuance of such Series; provided that such Series would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the existing Limited Partners. The terms and rights of such Series may be set forth in the Partnership’s offering memorandum, supplement thereto or a “side letter” or other agreement, which the General Partner may incorporate by reference. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, shall choose which Limited Partners may join a Series. Although the Partnership may offer more than one Series of Interests, the Partnership is not a Delaware series limited partnership and the assets and liabilities of the Partnership are not segregated by Series.

Article III CAPITAL

3.1 Contributions to Capital

- (a) The minimum required initial capital contribution of each Limited Partner to the Partnership shall be $1,000,000, or such lesser amount as the General Partner may permit. The General Partner may change the required minimum initial contribution amount at any time.
- (b) The Partnership may accept additional contributions at such times as the General Partner may permit, but no Limited Partner shall be obligated to make any additional capital contribution to the Partnership, subject to the provisions of Section 3.5 and any contrary provision of the Act.
- (c) The General Partner or an Affiliate has made a capital contribution to the Partnership as set forth in the Schedule of Partners. Except as required by the Act, the General Partner shall not be required to make any additional capital contributions to the Partnership. The General Partner may, however, make capital contributions to the Partnership in such amounts and at such times as it may determine. The General Partner or any of its Affiliates shall have the right at any time to make additional capital contributions as a Limited Partner or General Partner. If the General Partner or any of its Affiliates or Affiliated Investors makes a capital contribution as a Limited Partner, the General Partner will have authority to waive or reduce the Management Fee or the Performance Allocation with respect to such Limited Partner.
- (d) The Partnership may enter into placement agent agreements providing compensation to unaffiliated third parties to assist in obtaining subscriptions for Interests, but such placement agent fees will not affect the subscription amount and will not be collected by or from the Partnership. Placement agents may be paid a portion of the Management Fee attributable to the investors solicited by such placement agents thereby reducing the compensation received by the Investment Manager. Placement agents may be indemnified by the Partnership.
- (e) Except as otherwise permitted by the General Partner (i) initial or additional capital contributions by each Partner shall be payable in cash and in one installment, and (ii) initial contributions shall be due as of the date of admission of such Person as a Limited Partner of the Partnership.

3.2 Rights of Partners in Capital

- (a) No Partner shall be entitled to interest on its capital contributions to the Partnership. For the avoidance of doubt, interest income, if any, earned on subscription amounts remitted to the Partnership prior to the date an Interest is issued to a Partner will be payable to the Partnership and not applied toward the purchase of an Interest.

- (b) No Partner shall have the right to the return of any capital contribution to the Partnership except (i) upon withdrawal of such Partner pursuant to Section 5.5 or (ii) upon the dissolution of the Partnership pursuant to Section 6.1. The entitlement to any such return shall be limited to the value of the Capital Account of the Partner. The General Partner shall not be liable for the return of any such amounts.

3.3 Capital Accounts

- (a) The Partnership maintains a separate capital account (each a “Capital Account”) on the books and records of the Partnership for each Partner. The General Partner may, in its discretion, maintain separate memorandum sub-accounts related to a Capital Account for such purposes as the General Partner may determine appropriate, including for recordkeeping, accounting or reporting or to otherwise give effect to the provisions of this Agreement, and, if so determined by the General Partner, with each memorandum sub-account being maintained as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for all purposes of this Agreement unless the context requires otherwise. References herein to a “Capital Account” shall be deemed to refer to such a capital memorandum sub-account where the context admits. Each Capital Account must reflect the aggregate sum of the balances of memorandum sub-accounts in such Partner’s Capital Account.
- (b) Each Capital Account shall have an initial balance equal to the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting the relevant Partner’s initial capital contribution to the Partnership.
- (c) Each Capital Account shall be increased by the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting additional contributions to such Partner’s Capital Account permitted pursuant to Section 3.1.
- (d) Each Capital Account shall be reduced by the amount of any cash and the net value of any property withdrawn by or distributed to the relevant Partner pursuant to Sections 5.5 or 6.3, including any amount deducted from any such withdrawal or distribution pursuant to Section 5.5(f).
- (e) Each Capital Account (including any corresponding capital sub-accounts) shall be adjusted to reflect allocations and other changes in the value of such Capital Account in the manner specified in the remaining provisions of this Article III.

3.4 Allocation of Net Profit and Net Loss

- (a) Subject to the remaining provisions of this Article III, as of the last day of each Fiscal Period, any Net Profit or Net Loss for such Fiscal Period shall be separately allocated among and credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages for such Fiscal Period.

- (b) Notwithstanding Section 3.4(a), items of income, gain, loss, deduction, credit and expenses for a Fiscal Period that are not allocable to specific Investments of the Master Fund, including short term interest income, receipt of any withdrawal charges by the Partnership, and audit, administration and legal expenses, shall be credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners pro rata in accordance with their Partnership Percentages for such Fiscal Period.
- (c) Notwithstanding Section 3.4(a), items of income, gain, loss, deduction, credit and expenses that relate to a Limited Participation Investment shall be allocated exclusively to Partners who, as the General Partner determines, are eligible to participate in such Limited Participation Investment on a pro rata basis based on their relative participation in such Investment.

3.5 Allocation of Management Fees, Withholding Taxes and Certain Other Expenditures

- (a) The Partnership shall bear its allocable portion of the Management Fees in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Management Fees borne by the Partnership shall be allocated to the Capital Accounts of the relevant Limited Partners subject to the Management Fee, and such Capital Accounts shall be subject to the corresponding adjustments. The Management Fee shall be charged at the Master Fund level through the use of capital sub-accounts in the Master Fund that correspond to the Capital Accounts in the Partnership.
- (b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, to the extent the General Partner or the Partnership is required by law (including under circumstances where the General Partner or the Partnership is unable to rely conclusively on any withholding certification provided by a Partner) to withhold or to make tax payments, including any interest or penalties, on behalf of or with respect to any Partner or Partners (including, without limitation, any amount attributable to an actual or imputed underpayment of taxes under any BBA provision, backup withholding or FATCA withholding), the General Partner or the Partnership may withhold such amounts and make such tax payments as so required. If the Partnership directly or indirectly pays or incurs any withholding tax or other tax obligation (including any amount under any BBA provision), or otherwise incurs a tax payment with respect to the income allocable or distributable to, or otherwise attributable to, one or more Partners, then the amount of such withholding tax, tax obligation or payment will be treated as a distribution to such Partner or Partners, as applicable, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Such amount will be debited against the Capital Account(s) of such Partner or Partners as of the close of the Fiscal Period during which the Partnership so withholds, pays or incurs such obligation. If the amount so withheld, paid or incurred is greater than the balance of the Capital Account(s) of the relevant Partner or Partners, as applicable, then such Partner or Partners and any successors must make a contribution to the capital of the Partnership within 10 business days after notification and demand by the General Partner in the amount of such excess. The General Partner is not obligated to apply for or obtain a refund, or reduction of or exemption from withholding tax on behalf of any Partner that may be eligible for such refund, reduction or exemption, or otherwise obligated to structure Investments so as to reduce or avoid any such withholding tax. Each Limited Partner agrees to repay to the Partnership and the General Partner and each of the partners and former partners of the General Partner, any liability for taxes, interest or penalties which may be asserted by reason of the failure to deduct and withhold tax on amounts distributable or allocable to such Limited Partner.

- (c) Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement, any expenditures payable by the Partnership, to the extent determined by the General Partner to have been paid or withheld on behalf of, or by reason of particular circumstances applicable to, one or more but fewer than all of the Partners, shall be charged only to the relevant Capital Accounts of those Partners on whose behalf such payments are made or whose particular circumstances gave rise to such payments. Such charges shall be debited from the relevant Capital Accounts of such Partners as of the close of the Fiscal Period during which any such items were accrued by the Partnership.

3.6 Reserves; Adjustments for Certain Future Events

- (a) The General Partner may cause appropriate reserves to be created, accrued and charged against Net Assets including Limited Participation Investments and proportionately against the Capital Accounts for contingent liabilities or probable losses, such reserves to be in the amounts which the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The General Partner may increase or reduce any such reserve from time to time by such amounts as the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The amount of any such reserve, or any increase or decrease therein, may, at the election of the General Partner, be charged or credited, as the General Partner deems appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of those parties that were Partners at the time when such reserve was created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those parties that were Partners at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established by the General Partner.
- (b) If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then all or a portion of such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, in proportion to the Capital Account balances of the current Partners as such balances existed during any such prior period.

3.7 Performance Allocation

The Partnership bears its allocable portion of the Performance Allocation in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Performance Allocation borne by the Partnership shall be specially allocated to the Capital Accounts of the relevant Limited Partners, and such Capital Accounts shall be subject to the corresponding adjustments. The Performance Allocation shall be debited at the Master Fund level.

3.8 Limited Participation Investments

Whenever the Partnership indirectly makes a Limited Participation Investment through the Master Fund, a Limited Participation Sub-Account shall be established for each Partner participating in such Limited Participation Investment to reflect such Partner's pro rata share of all allocations and distributions attributable to transactions involving such Limited Participation Investment (and any related follow-on Investment, unless the General Partner determines to treat such follow-on Investment as a new Limited Participation Investment). Thereafter, all credits and debits relating to such Limited Participation Investment (including those specifically referred to herein) shall be allocated among the Limited Participation Sub-Accounts for such Limited Participation Investment on a pro rata basis in accordance with each Partner's interest in such Limited Participation Investment. Expenses that relate to a Limited Participation Investment shall be allocated exclusively among the Limited Participation Sub-Accounts for such Limited Participation Investment on a pro rata basis in accordance with each Partner's interest in such Limited Participation Investment.

3.9 Allocation to Avoid Capital Account Deficits

To the extent that any debits pursuant to this Article III would reduce the balance of the Capital Account of any Limited Partner below zero, that portion of any such debits shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner. Any credits in any subsequent Fiscal Period which would otherwise be allocable pursuant to this Article III to a Capital Account of any Limited Partner previously affected by the application of this Section 3.9 shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner in such amounts as are necessary to offset all previous debits attributable to such Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 3.9 not previously recovered.

3.10 Allocations for Income Tax Purposes

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

- (a) Income Tax Allocations. Except as otherwise required by Code Section 704(c), items of income, gain, deduction, loss, or credit that are recognized for income tax purposes in each Fiscal Year will be allocated among the Partners in such manner as to reflect equitably amounts credited to or debited against each Partner's Capital Account, whether in such Fiscal Year or in prior Fiscal Years. To this end, the Partnership will establish and maintain records which shall show the extent to which the Capital Account of each Partner will, as of the last day of each Fiscal Year, comprise amounts that have not been reflected in the taxable income of such Partner. To the extent deemed by the General Partner to be feasible and equitable, taxable income and gains in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have enjoyed the related credits to their Capital Accounts, and items of deduction, loss and credit in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have borne the burden of the related debits to their Capital Accounts. Foreign tax credits attributable to taxes incurred by the Partnership shall be allocated in a manner consistent with Section 1.704-1(b)(4)(viii) of the Regulations. All matters concerning allocations for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes, including accounting procedures, not expressly provided for in this Agreement will be determined by the General Partner.

- (b) Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Partnership asset pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code or Section 743(b) of the Code is required under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Regulations to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Partners in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such section of the Regulations; provided that in the event that an adjustment to the book value of Partnership property is made as a result of an adjustment pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code, items of income, gain, loss, or deduction, as computed for book and tax purposes, will be specially allocated among the Partners so that the effect of any such adjustment shall benefit (or be borne by) the Partner(s) receiving the distribution that caused such adjustment.
- (c) Positive Basis Allocations. If the Partnership realizes gains or items of gross income (including short term capital gain) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Positive Basis Partners withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such gains or items of gross income among such Positive Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner, until either the full amount of such gains or items of gross income shall have been so allocated or the Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any gains or items of gross income not so allocated to Positive Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner as shall reflect equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership realizes gains or items of gross income from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Positive Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Positive Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there shall be allocated to such Positive Basis Partner an amount of such gains or items of gross income equal to the amount, if any, by which its Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this sentence.
- (d) Negative Basis Allocations. If the Partnership realizes net losses or items of gross loss or deduction (including short term capital loss) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Negative Basis Partners withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction among such Negative Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partners, until either the full amount of such losses or items of loss or deduction shall have been so allocated or the Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any net losses or items of gross loss or deduction not so allocated to Negative Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner as shall reflect equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership realizes net losses or items of gross loss and deduction from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Negative Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Negative Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there shall may be allocated to such Negative Basis Partner an amount of such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction equal to the amount, if any, by which its Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this Section 3.10(d).

- (e) Qualified Income Offset. In the event any Limited Partner unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6) of the Regulations, items of Partnership income and gain will be specially allocated to each such Limited Partner in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the deficit balance in the Capital Account of such Limited Partner as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.10(e) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit balance in its Capital Account after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been tentatively made as if this Section 3.9(e) were not in this Agreement. This Section 3.10(e) is intended to constitute a "qualified income offset" within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii) of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.
- (f) Minimum Gain Chargeback. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 3.10, if there is a net decrease in Partnership Minimum Gain during any Fiscal Year, the Partners will be specially allocated items of Partnership income and gain for such Fiscal Year (and, if necessary, subsequent Fiscal Years) in an amount equal to the portion of any such Partner's share of the net decrease in Partnership Minimum Gain, determined in accordance with Regulations Sections 1.704-2(f) and (g). This Section 3.10(f) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement in such sections of the Regulations and must be interpreted consistently therewith.
- (g) Gross Income Allocation. In the event any Limited Partner has a deficit Capital Account at the end of any Fiscal Year that is in excess of the sum of (i) the amount such Limited Partner is obligated to restore pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and (ii) the amount such Limited Partner is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5) of the Regulations, each such Limited Partner will be specially allocated items of Partnership gross income and gain in the amount of such excess as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.10(g) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit Capital Account in excess of such sum after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been made as if Section 3.10(e) and this Section 3.10(g) were not in this Agreement.

- (h) Section 704(b) Compliance. The allocations provided in this Section 3.10 are intended to comply with the Regulations under Section 704(b) of the Code and may, as determined by the General Partner, be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent therewith.

3.11 Curative Allocations

The allocations set forth in Sections 3.10(b), (e), (f) and (g) (the “Regulatory Allocations”) are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Regulations. It is the intent of the Partners that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 3.11. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provision of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations), the General Partner shall make such offsetting special allocations of the Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Partner’s Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Partner would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of this Agreement and all Partnership items were allocated pursuant to other provisions of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations).

3.12 Individual Partners’ Tax Treatment

Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership.

3.13 Distributions

- (a) The amount and timing of any distributions from the Partnership shall be determined by the General Partner. Distributions will generally be made in proportion to the Capital Account balances of the Partners at the beginning of the Fiscal Period when made; provided that distributions related to Limited Participation Investments will be made based on the proportionate interests of the Capital Accounts participating in such Investments. Any distributions may be paid in cash, in kind or partly in cash and partly in kind.

- (b) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership, and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, may not make a distribution to any Partner on any account of its Interest if such distribution would violate Section 17-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

Article IV
MANAGEMENT

4.1 Duties and Powers of the General Partner

- (a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the General Partner shall have complete and exclusive power and responsibility, to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, for managing and administering the affairs of the Partnership (other than any investment or trading activities, which are entered into at the Master Fund level and managed by the Investment Manager), and shall have the power and authority to do all things that the General Partner considers necessary or desirable to carry out its duties hereunder and to achieve the purposes of the Partnership.
- (b) The General Partner shall have the right, without the notification to or consent of any Limited Partner or other Person, to make adjustments to the structure of the Partnership in order to address applicable structural, ownership, legal, or regulatory issues, or to improve overall tax efficiency; provided that no such adjustment would cause any material adverse consequences to the Limited Partners.
- (c) Without limiting the generality of the General Partner's duties and powers hereunder and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the General Partner shall have full power and authority, subject to the other terms and provisions of this Agreement, to execute, deliver and perform such contracts, agreements and other undertakings on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of any other Person, and to engage in all activities and transactions, as it may deem necessary or advisable for, or as may be incidental to, the conduct of the business contemplated by this Section 4.1, including, without in any manner limiting the generality of the foregoing, (i) contracts, agreements, undertakings and transactions with any Partner or with any other Person, firm or corporation having any business, financial or other relationship with any Partner or Partners, (ii) agreements with each Limited Partner in connection with its purchase of an Interest, including a subscription agreement wherein such Limited Partner agrees to be bound by the terms of this Agreement, (iii) any agreements to induce any Person to purchase an Interest and (iv) the Investment Management Agreement delegating to the Investment Manager certain of the powers and authority vested by this Agreement in the General Partner as the General Partner and the Investment Manager may agree from time to time, each without any further act, approval or vote of any Person.

- (d) The General Partner may terminate or replace the Investment Manager in accordance with the terms of the Investment Management Agreement. The General Partner may delegate to any other Person any power and authority vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement that is not otherwise delegated to the Investment Manager.
- (e) Every power vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement shall be construed as a power to act (or not to act) in its sole and absolute discretion, except as otherwise expressly provided herein. No provision of this Agreement shall be construed to require the General Partner to violate the Act or any other law, regulation or rule of any self-regulatory organization.
- (f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or otherwise applicable provision of law or equity, whenever in this Agreement, the General Partner is permitted or required to make a decision (i) in its “sole discretion” or “discretion” or under a grant of similar authority or latitude, the General Partner shall be entitled to consider only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests, and shall, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, have no duty or obligation to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting the Partnership or the Limited Partners, or (ii) in its “good faith” or under another expressed standard, the General Partner shall act under such express standard and shall not be subject to any other or different standards. Unless otherwise expressly stated, for purposes of this Section 4.1(g), the General Partner shall be deemed to be permitted or required to make all decisions hereunder in its sole discretion.
- (g) If requested by the General Partner, each Limited Partner shall deliver to the General Partner: (i) an affidavit in form satisfactory to the General Partner that the applicable Limited Partner (and its partners, shareholders, members, and/or beneficial owners, and/or controlling persons, as the case may be) is not subject to withholding under the provisions of any United States federal, state, local or non-U.S. laws; (ii) any certificate that the General Partner may reasonably request with respect to any such laws; (iii) any other form or instrument reasonably requested by the General Partner relating to such Limited Partner’s status under such laws; and/or (iv) any information or documentation prescribed under FATCA or as may be necessary for the Partnership to comply with its obligations, or to avoid withholding, under FATCA or any other automatic exchange of information agreement or arrangement, including, without limitation, the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development’s Common Reporting Standard. In the event that a Limited Partner fails or is unable to deliver to the General Partner an affidavit described in Section 4.1(g), the General Partner may withhold amounts from such Partner in accordance with Section 3.5(b).

4.2 Expenses

- (a) Subject to Section 4.2(f), each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager pays all of its own operating and overhead costs without reimbursement by the Partnership (except liability insurance and items described in Section

4.2(b)(iv)). The Partnership will not have its own separate employees or officers, and it will not reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead expenses of the General Partner or the Investment Manager.

- (b) The Partnership, and not the General Partner or the Investment Manager, will pay, or reimburse the General Partner and the Investment Manager for, all other costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Partnership's operations, including, without duplication, its pro rata share of the Master Fund's expenses. Such expenses payable by the Partnership include the following:
- (i) the Partnership's pro rata share of all investment-related expenses (including those related to identifying and evaluating contemplated investments, whether or not such contemplated investments are actually made), including, but not limited to, brokerage commissions and other transaction costs, expenses related to short sales, clearing and settlement charges, expenses related to proxies, underwriting and private placements, custodial fees, transfer agent fees, bank service fees, any governmental, regulatory, licensing, filing or registration fees incurred in compliance with the rules of any self-regulatory organization or any federal, state or local laws, consulting and any other professional fees or compensation (including investment banking expenses) relating to particular investments or contemplated investments, appraisal fees and expenses, investment-related travel and lodging expenses and research-related expenses (including, without limitation, news and quotation equipment and services), fees to third-party providers of risk-monitoring services, investment and trading-related computer hardware and software, including, without limitation, trade order management software (i.e., software used to route trade orders);
 - (ii) accounting (including accounting software), audit and tax preparation expenses;
 - (iii) costs and expenses associated with reporting and providing information to existing and prospective investors;
 - (iv) any legal fees and costs (including indemnification expenses, regulatory costs and settlement costs) arising in connection with any litigation or regulatory investigation instituted against the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates in their capacity as such, subject to Section 4.5;
 - (v) except as otherwise provided in Section 3.5, any withholding, transfer or other taxes imposed or assessed upon, or payable by, the Partnership (including interest and penalties);

- (vi) costs of any meeting of the Partners (or of obtaining the consent of the Partners in lieu of meeting);
 - (vii) expenses related to the Advisory Committee and the Pricing Committee;
 - (viii) premiums for directors' and officers' liability insurance (if any) and any other insurance benefiting the Partnership;
 - (ix) Management Fees;
 - (x) administrative expenses (including, without limitation, the fees and expenses of the Administrator in relation to its services provided pursuant to the administration agreement);
 - (xi) fees relating to valuing the Partnership's assets;
 - (xii) expenses related to the maintenance of the Partnership's registered office;
 - (xiii) corporate licensing expenses;
 - (xiv) extraordinary expenses; and
 - (xv) any costs or expenses of winding up and liquidating the Partnership.
 - (xvi) a pro rata portion of similar costs and expenses with respect to the Master Fund.
- (c) Expenses generally will be borne pro rata by the Partners in accordance with their respective Capital Account balances; provided that expenses may be specially allocated among the Partners as follows:
- (i) with respect to expenses related to Investments (other than Limited Participation Investments), pro rata in accordance with their respective Capital Account balances exclusive of the value of any Limited Participation Sub-Account; and
 - (ii) as provided elsewhere in this Agreement, including Sections 3.4, 3.5, 3.6, 3.8 and 5.5.
- (d) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Partnership for any of the expenses paid by it on behalf of the Partnership pursuant to Section 4.2(b); provided that the General Partner may absorb any or all of such expenses incurred on behalf of the Partnership. The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities hereunder, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Partnership, including, but not limited to, any affiliate of the Investment Manager, but payment for any such services shall be assumed by the Investment Manager and the Partnership shall not have any liability therefor;

provided, however, that the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Partnership hereunder, and the Partnership shall bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.

- (e) If the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall incur any of the expenses referred to in Section 4.2(b) for the account or for the benefit of, or in connection with its activities or those of its Affiliates on behalf of, both the Partnership and any Other Account, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, will allocate such expense among the Partnership and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the Investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the General Partner considers fair and reasonable.
- (f) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is entitled to use “soft dollars” generated by the Master Fund to pay for certain investment research and brokerage services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the General Partner or the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities to the extent such use falls within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or is otherwise reasonably related to the investment decision-making process, or to cover certain Partnership expenses described in Section 4.2(b). Use of “soft dollars” by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as described herein shall not constitute a breach by either the General Partner or the Investment Manager of any fiduciary or other duty which the General Partner or the Investment Manager may be deemed to owe to the Partnership or its Partners.

4.3 Rights of Limited Partners

The Limited Partners shall take no part in the management, control or operation of the Partnership’s business, and shall have no right or authority to act for the Partnership or to vote on matters other than the matters set forth in this Agreement or as required by applicable law. Except as otherwise provided herein or required by law, a Limited Partner shall have no liability for the debts or obligations of the Partnership.

4.4 Other Activities of Partners

- (a) The General Partner shall not be required to devote any specific amount of its time to the affairs of the Partnership, but shall devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Partnership as it shall determine in good faith to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Partnership for the benefit of the Partnership and the Partners.
- (b) Each Partner agrees that any other Partner, and any partner, director, officer, shareholder, member, Affiliate or employee of any other Partner, may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures or commercial dealings of every kind and description, independently or with others, including, but not limited to, management of other accounts, investment in, or financing, acquisition and disposition of, securities, investment and management counseling, brokerage services, serving as directors, officers, advisers or agents of other companies, partners of any partnership, or trustee of any trust, or entering into any other commercial arrangements, and will not be disqualified solely on the basis that any such activities may conflict with any interest of the parties with respect to the Partnership. Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each Partner hereby acknowledges that (i) none of the Partners or their respective partners, directors, officers, shareholders, members, Affiliates or employees shall have any obligation or responsibility to disclose or refer any of the investment or other opportunities obtained through activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) to the General Partner or the Limited Partners, but may refer the same to any other party or keep such opportunities for their own benefit; and (ii) the Partners and their respective partners, directors, officers, shareholders, members, Affiliates and employees are hereby authorized to engage in activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) with, or to purchase, sell or otherwise deal or invest in Investments issued by, companies in which the General Partner might from time to time invest or be able to invest or otherwise have any interest on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of the Partnership or any other Partner. The Partners expressly agree that no other Partner shall have any rights in or to such other activities, or any profits derived therefrom.

- (c) The General Partner and its Affiliates shall allocate investment opportunities to the Partnership and any Other Account fairly and equitably over time. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner is under no obligation to accord exclusivity or priority to the Partnership in the event of limited investment opportunities. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed Investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific Investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (ii) the potential for the proposed Investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (iii) liquidity requirements of the account; (iv) potentially adverse tax consequences; (v) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed Investment; and (vi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio. The General Partner has the authority to allocate trades to multiple accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the General Partner may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time.
- (d) The Principals of the General Partner, as well as the employees and officers thereof and of organizations affiliated with the General Partner, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Partnership (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of Interests) unless appropriate approval of the Advisory Committee is obtained and such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Advisers Act or such purchase or sale is otherwise in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Advisers Act.

- (e) Each Partner hereto hereby waives, and covenants not to bring a cause of action in law or equity on the basis of, any law (statutory, common law or otherwise) respecting the rights and obligations of the Partners which is or may be inconsistent with this Section 4.4.
- (f) The General Partner and its Affiliates reserve the right to establish collective investment vehicles that have stated investment programs or terms that differ from those of the Partnership or that are targeted primarily to investors for which the Partnership is not designed to be a suitable investment vehicle. The General Partner and its Affiliates also reserve the right to establish and provide management or advisory services pursuant to separate Other Accounts for significant investors, whether or not such accounts have the same investment program as the Partnership.

4.5 Duty of Care; Indemnification

- (a) None of the Indemnified Persons will be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner or any other person for mistakes of judgment or for action or inaction that did not constitute gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith, or for losses due to such mistakes, action or inaction or to the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of any broker or agent of the Partnership, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by the Indemnified Person in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. No Indemnified Person shall be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner or any other person for any amount in excess of the amount of Management Fees received by the Investment Manager, to the extent permitted under applicable law. In addition, in no event shall any Indemnified Person be liable for any special, indirect, exemplary, consequential or punitive losses or damages. An Indemnified Person may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Partnership's affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. The foregoing provisions, however, shall not be construed so as to provide for the exculpation of an Indemnified Person of any liability (including liability under U.S. Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons acting in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law (including liability under U.S. Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons acting in good faith), but shall be construed so as to effectuate the abovementioned provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

- (b) The Partnership shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Person from and against any and all loss, cost or expense suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Person by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Person, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability, damage loss, cost or expense resulted from a mistake of judgment on the part of an Indemnified Person or from action or inaction that did not constitute gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith, or from the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of a broker or other agent of an Indemnified Person, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by the Indemnified Person in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. The Partnership will, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, advance to any Indemnified Person reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct. In the event that such an advance is made by the Partnership, the Indemnified Person will agree to reimburse the Partnership to the extent that it is finally determined that it was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.
- (c) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of this Section 4.5 do not provide for the indemnification of any Indemnified Person for any liability (including liability under Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- (d) Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Indemnified Person, the Partnership (and not the applicable Indemnified Person) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of any Indemnified Person.
- (e) The above-mentioned Indemnified Persons are also indemnified by each Limited Partner for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that Limited Partner, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith to the extent that the balance of the Limited Partner's Capital Account is insufficient to fully compensate the General Partner the Investment Manager for such costs.

4.6 Advisory Committee

- (a) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may appoint a committee (the "Advisory Committee") composed of one or more individuals selected by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager from time to time, none of whom is affiliated with the General Partner or the Investment Manager.

- (b) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may in its/their discretion seek the approval of the Advisory Committee or establish any other reasonable mechanism in connection with (i) approvals that are or would be required under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (including Section 206(3)), or (ii) any other matter deemed appropriate by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager. Each Limited Partner agrees that, except as otherwise specifically provided herein and to the extent permitted by applicable law, the approval of a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee at such time is binding upon the Partnership and each Partner with respect to any approval sought under this Section 4.6(b).
- (c) Subject to the foregoing, any recommendations of or actions taken by the Advisory Committee are advisory only and the General Partner and the Investment Manager are not required or otherwise bound to act in accordance with any such recommendations or actions.
- (d) As determined by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, meetings of the Advisory Committee may be held in person or by telephone. Approval of the Advisory Committee is deemed to have been given if given by a majority of those members present at a meeting or by a majority of all members of the Advisory Committee if given pursuant to a written consent without a meeting.
- (e) The Partnership agrees to reimburse members of the Advisory Committee for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify them to the maximum extent permitted by law.

4.7 Pricing Committee

The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager shall appoint a committee (a “Pricing Committee”) whose quorum consists of at least a majority of the following individuals: the Chief Financial Officer of the Investment Manager, the Chief Compliance Officer of the Investment Manager and one or more traders of the Investment Manager. The Pricing Committee meets on at least a monthly basis to review, confirm and agree on all pricing information established by the Investment Manager in respect of the Partnership’s assets that are fair valued. The final pricing or valuation of such Partnership assets shall require the approval of a majority in number of the members of the Pricing Committee constituting a quorum as of a relevant valuation date. In lieu of meeting, the Pricing Committee may take action by written consent signed by a majority of the committee members. The Pricing Committee may, at the Partnership’s expense, engage third-party experts and consultants to provide services in connection with any determination to be made by the Pricing Committee. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may replace members of the Pricing Committee or change the composition of the Pricing Committee, in their sole discretion.

Article V
ADMISSIONS, TRANSFERS AND WITHDRAWALS

5.1 Admission of Limited Partners

The General Partner may, on the first Business Day of each calendar month, or at such other times as the General Partner may determine, without advance notice to or consent from the Limited Partners, admit to the Partnership any Person who shall execute this Agreement or any other writing evidencing the intent of such Person to become a Limited Partner. Such admission shall be effective when the General Partner enters the name of such Person on the Schedule of Partners and does not require the consent or approval of any other Partner. The General Partner shall have the authority to reject subscriptions for Limited Partner Interests in whole or in part.

5.2 Admission of Additional General Partners

- (a) Except as provided in Section 5.2(b), the General Partner may admit one or more Persons as additional general partners to the Partnership. No additional general partner shall be added unless such additional general partner agrees to be bound by all of the terms of this Agreement or if adding such additional general partner would have any of the effects described in clauses (i) through (iv) of Section 5.3(c) (except as specifically set forth therein).
- (b) Any Person to whom the General Partner has transferred its general partner interest in accordance with Section 5.4 will be admitted to the Partnership as a substitute General Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners.

5.3 Transfer of Interests of Limited Partners

- (a) Each Limited Partner agrees with all other Partners that it shall not make or attempt to make any Transfer of its Interest which will violate this Section 5.3. In the event of any attempted Transfer of any Limited Partner's Interest in violation of the provisions of this Section 5.3, without limiting any other rights of the Partnership, the General Partner shall have the right to require the withdrawal of such Limited Partner's Interest from the Partnership as provided by Section 5.5(j).
- (b) No Transfer of any Limited Partner's Interest, whether voluntary or involuntary, shall be valid or effective, and no transferee shall become a substituted Limited Partner, unless the prior written consent of the General Partner has been obtained, which consent may be granted, withheld or conditioned for any reason by the General Partner. In the event of any Transfer, all of the conditions of the remainder of this Section 5.3 must also be satisfied.
- (c) Without limiting the General Partner's discretion pursuant to the preceding paragraph, the General Partner expects to withhold consent to any Transfer of any Limited Partner's Interest, whether voluntary or involuntary, if the General Partner has reason to believe that such Transfer may:

- (i) require registration of any Interest under any securities laws of the United States of America, any state thereof or any other jurisdiction;
- (ii) subject the Partnership or the General Partner to a requirement to register, or to additional disclosure or other requirements, under any securities or commodities laws of the United States of America, any state thereof or any other jurisdiction;
- (iii) cause the Partnership to be treated as a "publicly traded partnership" for U.S. federal income tax purposes under Section 7704(b) of the Code or cause the Partnership not to qualify for one of the safe harbors under Section 1.7704-1(e), (f), (g), (h) or (j) of the Regulations;
- (iv) result in the Partnership being considered an investment company within the meaning of the Investment Company Act;
- (v) result in violation of any anti-money laundering rules or regulations applicable to the Partnership, the Investment Manager or the General Partner;
- (vi) violate or be inconsistent with any representation or warranty made by the transferring Limited Partner at the time the Limited Partner subscribed to purchase an Interest; or
- (vii) cause all or any portion of the assets of the Master Fund to constitute Plan Assets of any ERISA Partner for purposes of ERISA or to be subject to the provisions of ERISA to substantially the same extent as if owned directly by an ERISA Partner.

The transferring Limited Partner, or its legal representative, must give the General Partner written notice before making any voluntary Transfer and after any involuntary Transfer and must provide sufficient information to allow legal counsel acting for the Partnership to make the determination that the proposed Transfer would not result in any of the consequences referred to in clauses (i) through (vi) above. If an assignment, Transfer or disposition occurs by reason of the death of a Limited Partner or assignee, the notice may be given by the duly authorized representative of the estate of the Limited Partner or assignee. The notice must be supported by proof of legal authority and valid assignment acceptable to the General Partner.

- (d) In the event any Transfer permitted by this Section 5.3 shall result in multiple ownership of any Limited Partner's Interest, the General Partner may require one or more trustees or nominees to be designated to represent a portion of or the entire Interest transferred for the purpose of receiving all notices which may be given and all payments which may be made under this Agreement, and for the purpose of exercising the rights which the transferor as a Limited Partner had pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement.

- (e) Subsequent to receipt of the consent of the General Partner (which consent may be withheld by the General Partner), an authorized transferee shall be entitled to the allocations and distributions attributable to the Interest transferred to such transferee and to transfer such Interest in accordance with the terms of this Agreement; provided, however, that such transferee shall not be entitled to the other rights of a Limited Partner as a result of such Transfer until it becomes a substituted Limited Partner. No transferee may become a substituted Limited Partner without the consent of the General Partner (which consent may be withheld for any reason or no reason by the General Partner). If the General Partner withholds consent to such substitution, a transferee will not have any of the rights of a Limited Partner, except that the transferee will be entitled, unless prohibited by law, to receive that share of capital or profits and to have the right of withdrawal to which its transferor would have been entitled and will be subject to the other terms of this Agreement. A transferring Limited Partner will remain liable to the Partnership as provided under applicable law and this Agreement regardless of whether its transferee becomes a substituted Limited Partner. Notwithstanding the above, the Partnership and the General Partner shall incur no liability for allocations and distributions made in good faith to the transferring Limited Partner until a written instrument of transfer has been received by the Partnership and recorded on its books and the effective date of the Transfer has passed.
- (f) Any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, a transferee shall be bound by the provisions hereof. Prior to recognizing any Transfer in accordance with this Section 5.3, the General Partner may require the transferring Limited Partner to execute and acknowledge an instrument of Transfer in form and substance satisfactory to the General Partner, and may require the transferee to make certain representations and warranties to the Partnership and Partners and to accept, adopt and approve in writing all of the terms and provisions of this Agreement. A transferee shall become a substituted Limited Partner and shall succeed to the portion of the transferor's Capital Account relating to the Interest transferred effective upon the satisfaction of all of the conditions for such Transfer contained in this Section 5.3.
- (g) In the event of a Transfer or in the event of a distribution of assets of the Partnership to any Partner, the Partnership may, but shall not be required to, file an election under Section 754 of the Code and in accordance with the applicable Regulations, to cause the basis of the Partnership's assets to be adjusted for U.S. federal income tax purposes as provided by Section 734 or 743 of the Code and shall make any mandatory adjustments to the basis of the Partnership's assets as required by Section 734 or 743 of the Code. If the Partnership does not file an election under Section 754 in connection with a Transfer and if the transferring Limited Partner is a Negative Basis Partner, the General Partner may elect to allocate to the transferring Limited Partner pursuant to Section 3.10(d) net losses or items of loss and deduction realized by the Partnership for the Fiscal Year in which the Transfer occurs as if the transferring Limited Partner were withdrawing from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5.

- (h) In the event of a Transfer at any time other than the end of a Fiscal Year, items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit recognized by the Partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes will be allocated between the transferring parties, as determined by the General Partner, using any permissible method under Code Section 706(d) and the Regulations thereunder. The transferring parties agree to reimburse the General Partner and the Partnership for any incidental accounting fees and other expenses incurred by the General Partner and the Partnership in making allocations pursuant to this Section 5.3(h).

5.4 Transfer of Interest of the General Partner

The General Partner may not Transfer its Interest as a General Partner in the Partnership other than (a) to one or more of its direct or indirect beneficial owners or their Affiliates, (b) pursuant to a transaction not deemed to involve an assignment of its investment management obligations within the meaning of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, or (c) with the approval of a Majority of Limited Partners. By executing this Agreement, each Limited Partner shall be deemed to have consented to any such Transfer made in accordance with this Section 5.4.

5.5 Withdrawal of Interests of Partners

- (a) Except as provided in this Section 5.5, a Limited Partner may voluntarily withdraw all or part of its Capital Account effective as of the last Business Day of each calendar quarter and/or such other days as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion (such date, a “Withdrawal Date”) upon not less than 45 calendar days’ prior written notice (“Withdrawal Notice”) to the General Partner. Any notice of withdrawal shall be irrevocable by the Limited Partner, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner. The General Partner may waive the notice requirements of this Section 5.5(a). Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the General Partner may agree with certain Limited Partners to provide for different withdrawal terms and notice periods.
- (b) For the purposes of this Section 5.5 (and as described in Section 3.3(a)), each capital contribution shall be accounted for using a separate sub-account, and, in the case of a Limited Partner for which more than one sub-account is maintained, the withdrawals of the balance of any such sub-accounts shall be processed on a “first-in, first-out” basis based upon the date on which each capital contribution was made, unless otherwise agreed between the General Partner and such Limited Partner. Each sub-account related to a contribution of capital from a Limited Partner will be treated as if it were the separate Capital Account of a separate Partner for the purposes of applying the withdrawal provisions of this Section 5.5.
- (c) Any Withdrawal Notice shall be irrevocable by the Limited Partner, unless otherwise agreed by the General Partner. For the avoidance of doubt, if a Limited Partner notifies the General Partner of its intent to withdraw and later chooses not to withdraw (with the General Partner's consent), any transaction costs incurred by the Partnership or the General Partner in connection therewith may, in the discretion of the General Partner, be charged to such withdrawing Limited Partner. The General Partner may refuse to honor any Limited Partner's request for a full or partial withdrawal if such request is not accompanied by such additional information as the General Partner may reasonably require.

- (d) If, for any Withdrawal Date, (i) Limited Partners submit withdrawal notices that, when combined, are in excess of 25% of the Partnership's net asset value, or (ii) withdrawal requests are received by the Master Fund from any or all feeder vehicles in the Master Fund in excess of 25% of the Master Fund's net asset value, then the General Partner may determine, in its sole discretion, to reduce all such requests proportionately (based on the net asset value of each Limited Partner's Interest) so that the aggregate amount of such withdrawals does not exceed 25% of the Partnership's net asset value or such greater amount if the General Partner so determines (such restriction is referred to herein as the "Withdrawal Gate"). If withdrawals are subject to the Withdrawal Gate, withdrawal requests are carried over to the next Withdrawal Date (and, if not fully satisfied as of that date because of the Withdrawal Gate, then as of the next, and, if necessary, successive Withdrawal Dates), except to the extent Limited Partners rescind their withdrawal request(s). Any remaining amount of a withdrawal request that is not satisfied due to the Withdrawal Gate (i) remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Partnership and subject to the applicable Management Fee, if any, until such amount is finally and fully withdrawn, (ii) is considered requested as of the next Withdrawal Date without further action by the withdrawing Limited Partner, (iii) is not entitled to priority over withdrawal requests on any subsequent Withdrawal Date, and (iv) remains subject to further application of the Withdrawal Gate on subsequent Withdrawal Dates. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the General Partner may waive the application of the Withdrawal Gate with respect to certain Limited Partners.
- (e) Except as otherwise provided herein, payment of the estimated amount due will generally be made within 30 Business Days of the Withdrawal Date, provided that (i) the General Partner may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such withdrawal from having a material adverse impact on the Partnership or the remaining Partners and (ii) in the event that a distribution from a Capital Account to a withdrawing Limited Partner during a Fiscal Year would reduce the balance of the Capital Account below 10% of the Capital Account's balance as of the beginning of such Fiscal Year, excess requested amounts will be held back and distributed, without interest thereon, within 30 Business Days following completion of the audit of the Partnership's financial statements for such Fiscal Year. Amounts withdrawn by a Limited Partner will not earn interest for the period from the effective Withdrawal Date through the settlement date.
- (f) The General Partner may deduct from any withdrawal proceeds due to any Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 5.5 an amount representing the Partnership's actual or estimated expenses, as determined by the General Partner in good faith, associated with processing the withdrawal. Any such withdrawal deduction will be retained by the Partnership for the benefit of the remaining Partners.

- (g) Upon receipt by the Partnership of a Limited Partner's Withdrawal Notice, the General Partner will have the discretion to manage the Partnership's assets in a manner that would provide for cash being available to satisfy such Limited Partner's withdrawal request, but the General Partner shall be under no obligation to effect sales of Partnership assets if the General Partner determines that such transactions might be detrimental to the interest of the other Partners or that such transactions are not reasonably practicable. The General Partner may effect withdrawal payments (i) in cash, (ii) in kind, by transfer of marketable or non-marketable Investments received from the Master Fund to the Limited Partner, the value of which, as determined in accordance with Section 7.3, would satisfy the Limited Partner's request for withdrawal, or (iii) in any combination of the foregoing.
- (h) The General Partner may postpone or suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Partnership (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of Interests, (c) the withdrawal by Limited Partners (and the applicable Withdrawal Date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and Withdrawal Dates are not postponed) if it determines that such a suspension is warranted by extraordinary circumstances, including: (i) during any period when any stock exchange or over-the-counter market on which the Master Fund's Investments are quoted, traded or dealt in is closed, other than for ordinary holidays and weekends, or during periods in which dealings are restricted or suspended; (ii) during the existence of any state of affairs as a result of which, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, disposal of Investments by the Partnership, or the determination of the value of the assets of the Partnership, would not be reasonably practicable or would be seriously prejudicial to the non-redeeming partners; (iii) during any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the price or value of the Partnership's assets or liabilities, or of current prices in any stock market as aforesaid, or when for any other reason the prices or values of any assets or liabilities of the Partnership cannot reasonably be accurately ascertained within a reasonable time frame; (iv) during any period when the transfer of funds involved in the realization or acquisition of any Investments cannot, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, be effected at normal rates of exchange; (v) automatically upon termination of the Partnership as described in Section 6.1, or (vi) automatically upon any suspension of withdrawals by the Master Fund.
- (i) The General Partner will promptly notify each Limited Partner who has submitted a withdrawal request and to whom payment in full of the amount being withdrawn has not yet been remitted of any suspension of withdrawals or suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds pursuant to Section 5.5(h). Any remaining amount of a withdrawal request that is not satisfied due to such a suspension remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Partnership and subject to the applicable Management Fee until such amount is finally and fully withdrawn. Such Limited Partners will not be given any priority with respect to the withdrawal of Interests after the cause for such suspension or limitation ceases to exist. The General Partner may in its sole discretion, however, permit such Limited Partners to withdraw their withdrawal requests to the extent that the relevant Withdrawal Date has not yet passed. For the avoidance of doubt, where a suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds is declared between the relevant Withdrawal Date and the remittance of such payment proceeds, affected Limited Partners shall not have any right to withdraw their withdrawal requests. Upon the reasonable determination by the General Partner that conditions leading to suspension no longer apply, any such suspended payments shall generally be paid in accordance with the normal process for making such payments, withdrawal rights shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending withdrawal requests which were not withdrawn (or new, timely withdrawal requests) will be effected as of the first Withdrawal Date following the removal of the suspension, subject to the foregoing restrictions on withdrawals. For the avoidance of doubt, the terms of Section 5.5(h) and this Section 5.5(i) shall not affect the discretion of the General Partner to compel the withdrawal of the Interest of any Limited Partner pursuant to Section 5.5(j).

- (j) The General Partner may, upon not less than five days' prior written notice (or immediately if the General Partner determines in its sole discretion that such Limited Partner's continued participation in the Partnership may cause the Partnership, the Master Fund, the General Partner or the Investment Manager to violate any applicable law), require any Limited Partner's Interest to be withdrawn in part or in its entirety from the Partnership and for the Limited Partner to cease to be a Limited Partner of the Partnership (in the case of a withdrawal of a Limited Partner's Interest in its entirety) pursuant to this Section 5.5(j). The amount due to any such Partner required to withdraw from the Partnership shall be equal to the value of such Partner's Capital Account as of the Withdrawal Date determined by the General Partner, net of any deductions imposed pursuant to Section 5.5(f).
- (k) The right of any Partner to withdraw or receive distributions pursuant to the provisions of this Section 5.5 is subject to all Capital Account allocations and adjustments contemplated by this Agreement and to the provision by the General Partner for all Partnership liabilities and for reserves for contingencies provided in Section 3.6. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may establish reserves and holdbacks for estimated accrued expenses, liabilities and contingencies, including, without limitation, general reserves for unspecified contingencies (even if such reserves or holdbacks are not otherwise required by GAAP) or liabilities stemming from tax obligations (as such may be determined in the sole discretion of the General Partner and whether or not incurred directly or indirectly), which could reduce the amount of a distribution upon a Limited Partner's withdrawal.
- (l) With respect to any amounts withdrawn, a withdrawing Partner shall not share in the income, gains and losses of the Partnership or have any other rights as a Partner

(in the case of a complete withdrawal) after the applicable Withdrawal Date except as provided in Section 3.6. For the avoidance of doubt, none of the Partnership, the General Partner or the Investment Manager will be liable to a Limited Partner for interest on the proceeds of any withdrawal.

- (m) The Interest of a Limited Partner may not be withdrawn from the Partnership prior to its dissolution except as provided in this Section 5.5.

Article VI

DISSOLUTION AND LIQUIDATION

6.1 Dissolution of Partnership

- (a) The Partnership shall be dissolved upon the first to occur of the following dates:
 - (i) any date on which the General Partner shall elect in writing to dissolve the Partnership;
 - (ii) the occurrence of any other event causing (A) the General Partner (or a successor to its business) to cease to be the general partner of the Partnership or (B) the dissolution of the Partnership under the Act; or
- (b) The parties agree that irreparable damage would be done to the goodwill and reputation of the Partners if any Limited Partner should bring an action in court to dissolve the Partnership. Care has been taken in this Agreement to provide for fair and just payment in liquidation of the Interests of all Partners. Accordingly, each Limited Partner hereby waives and renounces its right to such a court decree of dissolution or to seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Partnership except as provided herein.

6.2 Liquidation of Assets

- (a) Upon dissolution of the Partnership, the General Partner shall promptly liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership to the extent feasible, except that if the General Partner is unable to perform this function, a liquidator elected by a Majority of Limited Partners shall liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership. Net Profit and Net Loss and any balances in Limited Participation Sub-Accounts during the Fiscal Periods, which includes the period of liquidation, shall be allocated pursuant to Article III. The proceeds from liquidation shall be divided in the following manner, subject to the Act:
 - (i) the debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership, other than any debts to the Partners as Partners, and the expenses of liquidation (including legal, administrative and accounting expenses incurred in connection therewith), up to and including the date that distribution of the Partnership's assets to the Partners has been completed, shall first be satisfied (whether by payment or the making of reasonable provision for payment thereof);

- (ii) such debts as are owing to the Partners as Partners are next paid; and
 - (iii) the Partners shall next be paid liquidating distributions (in cash or in securities or other assets, whether or not readily marketable) pro rata in accordance with, and up to the positive balances of their respective Capital Accounts, as adjusted pursuant to Article III to reflect allocations for the Fiscal Period ending on the date of the distributions under this Section 6.2(a)(iii).
- (b) Notwithstanding this Section 6.2 and the priorities set forth in the Act, the General Partner or liquidator may distribute ratably in kind rather than in cash, upon dissolution, any assets of the Partnership; provided, however, that if any in kind distribution is to be made, (i) the assets distributed in kind shall be valued pursuant to Section 7.3, and charged as so valued and distributed against amounts to be paid under Section 6.2(a) and (ii) any gain or loss (as computed for book purposes) attributable to property distributed in kind shall be included in the Net Profit, Net Loss or Limited Participation Sub-Accounts for the Fiscal Period ending on the date of such distribution.

Article VII

ACCOUNTING AND VALUATION; BOOKS AND RECORDS

7.1 Accounting and Reports

- (a) The Partnership may adopt for tax accounting purposes any accounting method that the General Partner shall decide is in the best interests of the Partnership and that is permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
- (b) As soon as practicable after the end of each Fiscal Year, the General Partner shall cause an audit of the financial statements of the Partnership as of the end of such period to be made by a firm of independent accountants selected by the General Partner. Within 120 days of the end of each year (or as soon as practicable thereafter), but subject to Section 7.5, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner a copy of the set of audited financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP, with such adjustments thereto as the General Partner determines appropriate, including a statement of profit and loss for such Fiscal Year and an unaudited status of each such Partner's holdings in the Partnership at such time. The General Partner may elect not to reserve certain amounts that may be required by GAAP and not to provide certain portfolio disclosure required by GAAP to investors and may capitalize and amortize certain of its organizational expenses in deviation from GAAP. Such deviations from GAAP may result in a qualified opinion rendered on the financial statements of the Partnership.

- (c) As soon as practicable after the end of each fiscal month, but subject to Section 7.5, the General Partner shall arrange for the preparation and delivery to each Limited Partner of unaudited monthly statements of the estimated net asset value of the Partnership, monthly performance and portfolio reports.
- (d) As soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner such information as may be required to enable each Limited Partner properly to report for U.S. federal, state and local income tax purposes its distributive share of each Partnership item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit for such year. The General Partner shall have discretion as to how to report Partnership items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit on the Partnership's tax returns, and the Limited Partners shall treat such items consistently on their own tax returns.

7.2 Certain Tax Matters

- (a) By joining this Agreement, each Limited Partner appoints and designates the General Partner (i) as the "tax matters partner," within the meaning of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code, and, (ii) for any BBA Effective Period, as the "partnership representative" within the meaning of Section 6223 of the Code (as applicable, the "Tax Matters Partner"), or, in each case, under any similar state or local law, and, if the "partnership representative" is an entity, the General Partner shall have the exclusive authority to appoint and designate the individual through whom such partnership representative will act for all purposes under subchapter C of chapter 63 of the Code and, if applicable, any similar state or local law (the "Designated Individual"). All references to the Tax Matters Partner herein shall include the Designated Individual, unless the context requires otherwise. The Tax Matters Partner shall have any powers necessary to perform fully in such capacity, and shall be permitted to take any and all actions, to the extent permitted by law, in consultation with the General Partner if the General Partner is not the Tax Matters Partner. The General Partner shall have the exclusive authority to appoint and designate the Investment Manager, or an Affiliate of the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as a successor Tax Matters Partner for any BBA Effective Period. The Tax Matters Partner shall be reimbursed by the Partnership for all costs and expenses incurred by it, and to be indemnified by the Partnership with respect to any action brought against it, in its capacity as the Tax Matters Partner.
- (b) The Limited Partners agree that any and all actions taken by the Tax Matters Partner shall be binding on the Partnership and all of the Limited Partners and the Limited Partners shall reasonably cooperate with the Partnership or the General Partner, and undertake any action reasonably requested by the Partnership or the General Partner, in connection with any elections made by the Tax Matters Partner or as determined to be reasonably necessary by the Tax Matters Partners under any BBA provision.

- (c) Each Limited Partner further agrees that such Limited Partner will not independently act with respect to tax audits or tax litigation affecting the Partnership, unless the prior written consent of the General Partner has been obtained.
- (d) The General Partner may in its sole discretion cause the Partnership to make all elections not otherwise expressly provided for in this Agreement required or permitted to be made by the Partnership under the Code and any state, local or non-U.S. tax laws.
- (e) To the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner agrees to (i) provide such cooperation and assistance, including executing and filing forms or other statements and providing information about the Limited Partner, as is reasonably requested by the Tax Matters Partner, to enable the Partnership to satisfy any applicable tax reporting or compliance requirements, to make any tax election or to qualify for an exception from or reduced rate of tax or other tax benefit or be relieved of liability for any tax regardless of whether such requirement, tax benefit or tax liability existed on the date such Partner was admitted to the Partnership, (ii) amend the Limited Partner's tax returns and pay any resulting taxes, interest and penalties in connection with the Partnership's electing under Section 6225(a) of the Code, as amended by the BBA, (iii) take into account any adjustments and pay any taxes, interest and penalties that result from the Partnership's electing under Section 6226 of the Code, as amended by the BBA, and/or (iv) indemnify and hold harmless the Partnership, the Tax Matters Partner and any other individual designated to interact with tax authorities on behalf of the Partnership from and against any liability with respect to the Limited Partner's share of any tax deficiency (including any interest and penalties associated therewith) paid or payable by the Partnership that is (a) allocable to such Limited Partner (as reasonably determined by the General Partner in accordance with this Agreement) with respect to an audited or reviewed taxable year for which such Partner was a Partner in the Partnership or (b) attributable (as reasonably determined by the General Partner) to the failure of such Limited Partner to cooperate with or provide any such forms, statements, or other information as requested by the Tax Matters Partner pursuant to clause (i) above.
- (f) The obligations and covenants of the Limited Partners set forth in Sections 3.5 and 7.2 hereof shall apply jointly and severally to each Limited Partner and any direct or indirect transferee of or successor to such Limited Partner's interest and shall survive such Limited Partner's ceasing to be a Partner in the Partnership and/or the termination, dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Partnership.

7.3 Valuation of Partnership Assets and Interests

- (a) The Partnership's assets are valued as of the close of each Fiscal Period and on any other date selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion in accordance with the valuation of the Master Fund's assets. The Partnership shall utilize the Master Fund's valuations for all purposes in connection with the Partnership.

- (b) The value of the assets of the Partnership and the net worth of the Partnership as a whole determined pursuant to this Section 7.3 are conclusive and binding on all of the Partners and all parties claiming through or under them.

7.4 Determinations by the General Partner

- (a) All matters concerning the determination and allocation among the Partners of the amounts to be determined and allocated pursuant to this Agreement, including Article III and accounting procedures applicable thereto, shall be determined by the General Partner, unless specifically and expressly otherwise provided for by the provisions of this Agreement, and such determinations and allocations shall be final and binding on all the Partners; provided, however, that all calculations of the Performance Allocation will be made on the basis of, or subject to correction based on, the annual audit of the Partnership's financial statements and appropriate adjustments will be made to all such calculations and related allocations to the extent necessary as a result of that audit.
- (b) The General Partner may make such adjustments to the computation of Net Profit or Net Loss or any other allocations with respect to any Limited Partner, or any component items comprising any of the foregoing, as it considers appropriate to reflect the financial results of the Partnership and the intended allocation thereof among the Partners in a reasonably accurate, fair and efficient manner. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any provision of this Agreement that requires an adjustment to be made to any Capital Account or sub-account as of any mid-month or mid-quarter date may be made as of the most recent preceding or succeeding date when a regular valuation is being conducted.

7.5 Books and Records

- (a) The General Partner shall keep books and records pertaining to the Partnership's affairs showing all of its assets and liabilities, receipts and disbursements, realized income, gains, deductions and losses, Partners' Capital Accounts and all transactions entered into by the Partnership. The General Partner shall afford to the Partnership's independent auditors reasonable access to such documents during customary business hours and shall permit the Partnership's auditors to make copies thereof or extracts therefrom at the expense of the Partnership.
- (b) The General Partner shall establish such standards as it deems appropriate regarding the access of Limited Partners to the books and records of the Partnership and shall not be obliged to permit access by a Limited Partner to the name or address of any other Limited Partner.

7.6 Confidentiality

- (a) Each Limited Partner agrees to keep confidential, and not to make any use of (other than for purposes reasonably related to its Interest or for purposes of filing such Limited Partner's tax returns) or disclose to any Person, any information or matter relating to the Partnership and its affairs and any information or matter related to any Investment (other than disclosure to such Limited Partner's directors, employees, agents, advisors, or representatives responsible for matters relating to the Partnership or to any other Person approved in writing by the General Partner (each such Person being hereinafter referred to as an "Authorized Representative")); provided that (i) such Limited Partner and its Authorized Representatives may make such disclosure to the extent that (A) the information to be disclosed is publicly available at the time of proposed disclosure by such Limited Partner or Authorized Representative, (B) the information otherwise is or becomes legally available to such Limited Partner other than through disclosure by the Partnership or the General Partner, or (C) such disclosure is required by law or in response to any governmental agency request or in connection with an examination by any regulatory authorities; provided that such governmental agency, regulatory authorities or association is aware of the confidential nature of the information disclosed; (ii) such Limited Partner and its Authorized Representatives may make such disclosure to its beneficial owners to the extent required under the terms of its arrangements with such beneficial owners; and (iii) each Limited Partner will be permitted, after written notice to the General Partner, to correct any false or misleading information which becomes public concerning such Limited Partner's relationship to the Partnership or the General Partner. Prior to making any disclosure required by law, each Limited Partner shall use its best efforts to notify the General Partner of such disclosure. Prior to any disclosure to any Authorized Representative or beneficial owner, each Limited Partner shall advise such Authorized Representative or beneficial owner of the obligations set forth in this Section 7.6(a) and each such Authorized Representative or beneficial owner shall agree to be bound by such obligations.

- (b) The General Partner shall have the right to keep confidential from the Limited Partners, for such period of time as the General Partner deems reasonable, any information, including the identity of the Partners or information regarding the Partners or Investments, which the General Partner reasonably believes to be in the nature of trade secrets or other information the disclosure of which the General Partner believes is not in the best interests of the Partnership or could damage the Partnership or its business or which the Partnership is required by law or agreement with a third party to keep confidential.
- (c) Subject to applicable legal, fiscal and regulatory considerations, the General Partner shall use reasonable efforts to keep confidential any information relating to a Limited Partner obtained by the General Partner in connection with or arising out of the Partnership which the Limited Partner requests be kept confidential.
- (d) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 7.6, Partners (and their employees, representatives and other agents) may disclose to any and all Persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the Partnership and its transactions and all materials of any kind (including tax opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to such Person by, or on behalf of the Partnership. For this purpose, "tax treatment" is the purported or claimed U.S. federal income tax treatment of a transaction and "tax structure" is limited to any fact that may be relevant to understanding the purported or claimed U.S. federal income tax treatment of a transaction. For this purpose, the names of the Partnership, the Partners, their affiliates, the names of their partners, members or equity holders and the representatives, agents and tax advisors of any of the foregoing are not items of tax structure.

- (e) The General Partner may disclose to prospective investors such information relating to the Partnership or the Investments as it believes in good faith will benefit the Partnership and facilitate investment in the Partnership by such prospective investors.
- (f) The Investment Manager and a Person acting as a service provider to the Partnership shall have the right to access all information belonging to the Partnership.

Article VIII GENERAL PROVISIONS

8.1 Amendment of Partnership Agreement

- (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Section 8.1, this Agreement may be amended, in whole or in part, with the written consent of (i) the General Partner and (ii) the consent of a Majority of Limited Partners (which approval may be obtained by negative consent affording the Limited Partners 30 calendar days to object).
- (b) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 8.1 to the contrary, any amendment to Section 2.5 requires the prior written consent of ERISA Partners whose Partnership Percentages represent more than 50% of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of all ERISA Partners.
- (c) Any amendment that would:
 - (i) increase the obligation of a Partner to make any contribution to the capital of the Partnership;
 - (ii) reduce the Capital Account of a Partner other than in accordance with Article III;
 - (iii) adversely alter any Partner's rights with respect to the allocation of Net Profit or Net Loss or with respect to distributions and withdrawals; or
 - (iv) change the respective liabilities of the General Partner and the Limited Partners; may only be made if the prior written consent of each Partner adversely affected thereby is obtained.

- (d) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (c) of this Section 8.1, this Agreement may be amended by the General Partner without the consent of the Limited Partners, at any time and without limitation, if any Limited Partner whose contractual rights as a Limited Partner would be materially and adversely changed by such amendment has an opportunity to withdraw from the Partnership as of a date determined by the General Partner that is not less than 45 calendar days after the General Partner has furnished written notice of such amendment to each affected Limited Partner and that is prior to the effective date of the amendment. The admission and withdrawal of Limited Partners will not require notice or disclosure to, or the approval of, the other Limited Partners.
- (e) The General Partner may at any time without the consent of the other Partners:
 - (i) add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner or surrender any right or power granted to the General Partner under this Agreement, for the benefit of the Limited Partners;
 - (ii) cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any conflicting provisions of this Agreement;
 - (iii) change the name of the Partnership;
 - (iv) make any changes required by governmental body or agency which is deemed to be for the benefit or protection of the Limited Partners, provided, however, that no such amendment may be made unless such change (A) is for the benefit of, or not adverse to, the interests of Limited Partners, (B) does not affect the right of the General Partner to manage and control the Partnership's business, (C) does not affect the allocation of profits and losses among the Partners and (D) does not affect the limited liability of the Limited Partners;
 - (v) amend this Agreement to reflect a change in the identity of the General Partner which has been made in accordance with this Agreement;
 - (vi) amend this Agreement (other than with respect to the matters set forth in Section 8.1(c)) to effect compliance with any applicable laws, regulations or administrative actions, or to reflect any change made in accordance with Section 4.1(b);
 - (vii) subject to Section 8.1(c), amend this Agreement to reflect the creation, and terms, of any new Series of Limited Partner Interests in the Partnership;
 - (viii) effect any other amendment which would not, in the good faith judgment of the General Partner, adversely affect any of the existing Limited Partners; and

- (ix) restate this Agreement together with any amendments hereto which have been duly adopted in accordance herewith to incorporate such amendments in a single, integrated document.
- (f) The General Partner shall have the authority to agree with a Limited Partner to waive or modify the application of any provision of this Agreement with respect to such Limited Partner without notifying or obtaining the consent of any other Limited Partner (other than a Limited Partner whose rights as a Limited Partner pursuant to this Agreement would be materially and adversely changed by such waiver or modification). Any such waiver or modification may be evidenced by a “side letter” or other document, and the form thereof shall not impair its binding effect as if incorporated in this Agreement.

8.2 Special Power-of-Attorney

- (a) Each Partner hereby irrevocably makes, constitutes and appoints the General Partner (and each of its successors and permitted assigns), with full power of substitution, the true and lawful representative and attorney-in-fact of, and in the name, place and stead of, such Partner with the power from time to time to make, execute, sign, acknowledge, swear to, verify, deliver, record, file or publish:
 - (i) an amendment to this Agreement that complies with the provisions of this Agreement (including the provisions of Section 8.1);
 - (ii) the Certificate and any amendment thereof required because this Agreement is amended, including an amendment to effectuate any change in the membership of the Partnership or in the capital contributions of the Partners;
 - (iii) any financing statement or other filing or document required or permitted to perfect the security interests contemplated by any provision hereof; and
 - (iv) all such other instruments, documents and certificates which, in the opinion of legal counsel to the Partnership, may from time to time be required by the laws of the United States of America, the State of Delaware, or any other jurisdiction in which the Partnership determines to do business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof, or which such legal counsel may deem necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence and business of the Partnership as a limited partnership, adjust the structure of the Partnership in accordance with Sections 4.1(b) or 8.8, or to effect the dissolution or termination of the Partnership.
- (b) Each Limited Partner is aware that the terms of this Agreement permit certain amendments to this Agreement to be effected and certain other actions to be taken or omitted by or with respect to the Partnership without that Limited Partner’s consent. If an amendment of the Certificate or this Agreement or any action by or with respect to the Partnership is taken by the General Partner in the manner contemplated by this Agreement, each Limited Partner agrees that, notwithstanding any objection which such Limited Partner may assert with respect to such action, the General Partner in its sole discretion is authorized and empowered, with full power of substitution, to exercise the authority granted above in any manner which may be necessary or appropriate to permit such amendment to be made or action to be lawfully taken or omitted. Each Partner is fully aware that each other Partner relies on the effectiveness of this special power-of-attorney with a view to the orderly administration of the affairs of the Partnership. This power-of-attorney is a special power-of-attorney and is coupled with an interest in favor of the General Partner and as such:

- (i) is irrevocable and continues in full force and effect notwithstanding the subsequent death or incapacity of any party granting this power-of-attorney, regardless of whether the Partnership or the General Partner has had notice thereof; and
- (ii) survives the delivery of an assignment by a Limited Partner of the whole or any portion of such Limited Partner's Interest, except that where the assignee thereof has been approved by the General Partner for admission to the Partnership as a substituted Limited Partner, this power-of-attorney given by the assignor survives the delivery of such agreement for the sole purpose of enabling the General Partner to execute, acknowledge and file any instrument necessary to effect such substitution.

8.3 Notices

Notices which may be or are required to be given under this Agreement by any party to another shall be given by hand delivery, transmitted by facsimile, transmitted electronically to an address that has been previously provided or verified through another form of notice or sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested or internationally recognized courier service, and shall be addressed to the respective parties hereto at their addresses as set forth on the register of Partners maintained by the General Partner or to such other addresses, facsimile numbers or electronic addresses as may be designated by any party hereto by notice addressed to (a) the General Partner, in the case of notice given by any Limited Partner, and (b) each of the Limited Partners, in the case of notice given by the General Partner. Notices shall be deemed to have been given (i) when delivered by hand, transmitted by facsimile or transmitted electronically or (ii) on the date indicated as the date of receipt on the return receipt when delivered by mail or courier service.

8.4 Agreement Binding Upon Successors and Assigns; Delegation

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors, but the rights and obligations of the Partners hereunder shall not be assignable, transferable or delegable except as provided in Sections 4.1(d), 5.3 and 5.4, and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof which is not made pursuant to the terms of such Sections shall be void.

8.5 Governing Law

This Agreement is, and the rights of the Partners hereunder are, governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to the conflict of laws rule thereof which would result in the application of the laws of a different jurisdiction. The parties hereby consent to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue for any action arising out of this Agreement in Dallas, Texas. Each Partner consents to service of process in any action or proceeding involving the Partnership by the mailing thereof by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to such Partner's mailing address set forth in the Schedule of Partners maintained by the General Partner.

8.6 Not for Benefit of Creditors

The provisions of this Agreement are intended only for the regulation of relations among Partners and between Partners and former or prospective Partners and the Partnership. Except for the rights of the Indemnified Persons hereunder, this Agreement is not intended for the benefit of non-Partner creditors and no rights are granted to non-Partner creditors under this Agreement.

8.7 Consents and Voting

- (a) Except as provided in Section 5.4, Limited Partners do not have any right to vote for the admission or removal of any General Partner and, except for the right to vote on certain amendments proposed by the General Partner, have no other voting rights. Upon the request of any Limited Partner, including pursuant to Section 8.11 hereof, the General Partner may designate an Interest as a Non-Voting Interest, in which case the Limited Partner shall not have the right to vote on any matter including amendments.
- (b) Any and all consents, agreements or approvals provided for or permitted by this Agreement shall be in writing and a copy thereof shall be filed and kept with the books of the Partnership. (For the avoidance of doubt, an amendment made pursuant to Section 8.1(d) or pursuant to negative consent under Section 8.1(a) shall not require any affirmative written response by any Limited Partner who is not electing to withdraw from the Partnership.)

8.8 Merger and Consolidation

- (a) The Partnership may merge or consolidate with or into one or more limited partnerships formed under the Act or other business entities pursuant to an agreement of merger or consolidation which has been approved in the manner contemplated by Section 17-211(b) of the Act.
- (b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained elsewhere in this Agreement, an agreement of merger or consolidation approved in accordance with Section 17-211(b) of the Act may, to the extent permitted by Section 17-211(g) of the Act, (i) effect any amendment to this Agreement, (ii) effect the adoption of a new limited partnership agreement for the Partnership if it is the surviving or resulting limited partnership in the merger or consolidation, or (iii) provide that the limited partnership agreement of any other constituent partnership to the merger or consolidation (including a limited partnership formed for the purpose of consummating the merger or consolidation) shall be the limited partnership agreement of the surviving or resulting limited partnership.

8.9 Interpretation of Partnership Accounting Systems and Terminology

In the event that the Partnership employs an accounting system which is different from the accounting system of the General Partner or whose terminology does not conform precisely to the terminology in this Agreement, the General Partner shall have the authority to interpret such accounting system and/or terminology in a manner which it, in its sole discretion, determines to be consistent with the objectives of this Agreement.

8.10 Miscellaneous

- (a) The captions and titles preceding the text of each Section hereof shall be disregarded in the construction of this Agreement. Use of the word “including” in this Agreement means in each case “without limitation,” whether or not such term is explicitly stated.
- (b) This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original hereof.
- (c) If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, the other provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect. Any provision of this Agreement held invalid or unenforceable only in part or degree will remain in full force and effect to the extent not held invalid or unenforceable.

8.11 BHCA Subject Persons

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary:

- (a) Solely for purposes of any provision of this Agreement that confers voting rights on the Limited Partners and any other provisions hereof regarding consents of or action by the Limited Partners, any BHCA Subject Person that shall have given the General Partner an Election Notice and shall not thereafter have given the General Partner a Revocation Notice, and that at any time has an Partnership Percentage in excess of 4.9 percent of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of the Limited Partners entitled to participate in such voting or the giving of any consent or the taking of any action, shall be deemed to hold an Partnership Percentage of only 4.9 percent of the aggregate Partnership Percentages of the Limited Partners (after giving effect to the limitations imposed by this Section 8.11 on all such Limited Partners), and such Partnership Percentage in excess of said 4.9 percent shall be deemed held by the Limited Partners who are not BHCA Subject Persons, pro rata in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages; provided that this limitation shall not prohibit a Limited Partner from voting or participating in giving or withholding consent or taking any action under any provision of this Agreement up to the full amount of its Partnership Percentage in situations where such Limited Partner's vote or consent or action is of the type customarily provided by statute or stock exchange rules with regard to matters that would significantly and adversely affect the rights or preference of the Limited Partner's Interest. The foregoing voting restriction shall continue to apply with respect to any assignee or other transferee of such BHCA Subject Person's Interest; provided, however, that the foregoing voting restriction shall not continue to apply if the Interest is transferred: (i) to the Partnership; (ii) to the public in an offering registered under the Securities Act; (iii) in a transaction pursuant to Rule 144 or Rule 144A under the Securities Act in which no Person acquires more than 2% of the Partnership's outstanding Interests; or (iv) in a single transaction to a third party who acquires at least a majority of the Partnership's outstanding Interests without regard to the Transfer of such Interests.

- (b) Except as specifically provided otherwise in this Agreement, a Limited Partner that is a BHCA Subject Person that shall have given the General Partner an Election Notice, and shall not thereafter have given the General Partner a Revocation Notice, shall not be entitled to exercise any rights to consent to actions to be taken with respect to the Partnership, including rights conferred by any applicable law. Such right to consent shall be deemed granted to the Limited Partners who are not BHCA Subject Persons, pro rata in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages.
- (c) A Limited Partner that is a BHCA Subject Person and that elects to be subject to Section 8.11(a) and (b) shall notify the General Partner thereof (an "Election Notice") and, on the General Partner's receipt of such Election Notice, such Limited Partner shall be subject to Section 8.11(a) and (b) until 30 calendar days after such Limited Partner notifies the General Partner that it elects no longer to be subject to Section 8.11(a) and (b) (a "Revocation Notice"), which period may be reduced by the General Partner.

8.12 RIC Limited Partners

An Interest of a RIC Limited Partner does not entitle the RIC Limited Partner to vote or consent with respect to any Partnership matter unless the RIC Limited Partner's vote or consent with respect to its Interest would not be considered to be "voting securities" as defined under Section 2(a)(42) of the Investment Company Act. Except as provided in this Section 8.12, an Interest held by a RIC Limited Partner as a Non-Voting Interest is identical in all regards to all other Interests held by Limited Partners.

8.13 Bad Actor Limited Partners

Under Rule 506(d) under the Securities Act, the Partnership may be banned from selling Interests under Rule 506 if a Limited Partner beneficially owning 20% or more of the Partnership's voting securities engages in a "bad act" set forth in Rule 506. Accordingly, each Limited Partner agrees that the General Partner may deem the portion of any Bad Actor Limited Partner's Interest to be, or convert any Bad Actor Limited Partner's Interest into, a Non-Voting Interest (except for the purposes of voting on any amendment to this Agreement that would materially and adversely change the Bad Actor Limited Partner's rights and preferences as a Limited Partner other than pursuant to an amendment under Section 8.1(d)) to the extent that the General Partner determines that such portion is in excess of 19.99% of the outstanding aggregate voting Interests of all Partners excluding any Interests that are Non-Voting Interests.

8.14 Survival

The obligations and covenants of the Limited Partners set forth in Sections 3.5 and 3.13 hereof shall apply jointly and severally to each Limited Partner and any direct or indirect transferee of or successor to such Limited Partner's interest and will survive such Partner's ceasing to be a partner of the Partnership and/or the termination, dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Partnership.

8.15 Entire Agreement

The parties acknowledge and agree that, subject to Section 8.1(f), the General Partner without the approval of any other Partner may enter into a written agreement on behalf of the Partnership with any Limited Partner affecting the terms hereof in order to meet certain requirements of the Limited Partner (each an "Other Agreement"), and the terms of such Other Agreement shall govern with respect to such Limited Partner notwithstanding the provisions of this Agreement. This Agreement and each Other Agreement constitute the entire agreement among the parties hereto pertaining to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior agreements and understandings pertaining thereto.

1 Interpretation

- 1.1 In these Articles, Table A in the First Schedule to the Statute does not apply and unless there is something in the subject or context inconsistent therewith:

"Administrator"	means the person, firm or corporation appointed and from time to time acting as administrator of the Company.
"Articles"	means these articles of association of the Company.
"Auditor"	means the person (if any) for the time being performing the duties of auditor of the Company.
"Business Day"	means any day normally treated as a business day in such places and/or on such markets as the Directors may from time to time determine.
"Cayman Islands"	means the British Overseas Territory of the Cayman Islands.
"Class"	means a separate class of Participating Share (and includes any sub-class of any such class).
"Company"	means the above-named Company.
"Directors"	means the directors for the time being of the Company.
"Dollars" or "US$"	refers to the currency of the United States.
"Electronic Record"	has the same meaning as in the Electronic Transactions Law.
"Electronic Transactions Law"	means the Electronic Transactions Law (2003 Revision) of the Cayman Islands.
"Eligible Investor"	means a person eligible to hold Participating Shares, as determined from time to time by the Directors.

004133

"Investment Manager"	means the person, firm or corporation appointed and for the time being acting as the investment manager of the Company.
"Management Share"	means a voting non participating Share in the capital of the Company of US$1.00 par value designated as a Management Share and having the rights provided for in these Articles.
"Member"	means each person whose name is, from time to time and for the time being, entered in the Register of Members as the holder of one or more Shares.
"Memorandum"	means the memorandum of association of the Company.
"Net Asset Value"	means the value of the assets less the liabilities of the Company, or of a Separate Account (as the context may require), calculated in accordance with these Articles.
"Net Asset Value per Participating Share"	means the amount determined in accordance with these Articles as being the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of a particular Class and/or Series.
"Offering Memorandum"	means an offering memorandum relating to Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series as amended or supplemented from time to time subject to and in accordance with these Articles.
"Ordinary Resolution"	means a resolution passed by a simple majority of the votes of such Members as, being entitled to do so, vote in person or, where proxies are allowed, by proxy at a general meeting, and includes a unanimous written resolution.
"Participating Share"	means a participating redeemable Share in the capital of the Company of US$0.01 par value and having the rights provided for in these Articles. Participating Shares may be divided into Classes in the discretion of the Directors in accordance with the provisions of these Articles and each Class may be further divided into different Series of Participating Shares and the term "Participating Share" shall include all such Classes and Series of Participating Share.
"Redemption Date"	means, in relation to any Class and/or Series of Participating Shares, such day or days as are set out in the Offering Memorandum or as may be specified by the Directors from time to time, upon which a Member is entitled to require the redemption of Participating Shares of that Class and/or Series.
"Redemption Fee"	means such fee (if any) payable by a Member to the Company on a redemption of Participating Shares, as the same may be determined by the Directors and disclosed to the Member at the time of its subscription for such Participating Shares.
"Redemption Notice"	means a notice in a form approved by the Directors by which a holder of Participating Shares is entitled to require the Company to redeem its Participating Shares.

- "Redemption Price" means the price determined in accordance with these Articles at which redeemable Participating Shares of the relevant Class and/or Series may be redeemed.
- "Register of Members" means the register of Members, which shall be maintained in accordance with the Statute and includes (except where otherwise stated) any branch or duplicate Register of Members.
- "Registered Office" means the registered office for the time being of the Company.
- "Sales Charge" means such sales charge (if any) determined by the Directors as being payable by a subscriber on a subscription for Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series.
- "Seal" means the common seal of the Company and includes every duplicate seal.
- "Separate Account" means a separate internal account of the Company which the Directors may establish and cause to be maintained in accordance with these Articles.
- "Series" means a separate series of Participating Share (and includes any sub-series of any such series).
- "Share" and "Shares" means a share or shares of any class or series in the Company, including a Management Share or a Participating Share, as well as any fraction of a Share.
- "Share Rights" means, with respect to the Participating Shares of any Class or Series in issue, the class rights for the time being applicable to such Participating Shares or other terms of offer for the time being applicable to such Participating Shares whether set out in the Offering Memorandum, any subscription agreement or otherwise (including any representations, warranties or other disclosure relating to the offer or holding of such Participating Shares).
- "Special Resolution" has the same meaning as in the Statute and includes a unanimous written resolution.
- "Statute" means the Companies Law (2012 Revision) of the Cayman Islands.
- "Subscriber" means the subscriber to the Memorandum.
- "Subscription Date" means, in relation to Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series, such day or days as are set out in the Offering Memorandum or as may be specified by the Directors from time to time upon which a person may subscribe for Participating Shares of that Class and/or Series.

"Subscription Price"	means the price determined in accordance with these Articles at which Participating Shares of the relevant Class and/or Series may be subscribed.
"Suspension"	means a determination by the Directors to postpone or suspend (i) the calculation of the Net Asset Value of Participating Shares of any one or more Classes and/or Series (and the applicable Valuation Date) (a "Calculation Suspension"); (ii) the issue of Participating Shares of any one or more Classes and/or Series (and the applicable Subscription Date) (an "Issue Suspension"); (iii) the redemption by Members (in whole or in part) of Participating Shares of any one or more Classes and/or Series (and the applicable Redemption Date) (a "Redemption Suspension"); and/or (iv) the payment (in whole or in part) of any redemption proceeds (even if Valuation Dates and Redemption Dates are not postponed) (a "Payment Suspension").
"Transfer"	means, in respect of any Share, any sale, assignment, exchange, transfer, pledge, encumbrance or other disposition of that Share, and "Transferred" shall be construed accordingly.
"Treasury Share"	means a Share held in the name of the Company as a treasury share in accordance with the Statute.
"Valuation Date"	means, in relation to each Class and/or Series of Participating Shares, the day or days determined from time to time by the Directors to be the day or days on which the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of that Class and/or Series is calculated.
"Valuation Point"	means, with respect to any Class and/or Series, the time or times on the Valuation Date of such Class and/or Series at which the Directors determine that the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of that Class and/or Series shall be calculated.

1.2 In these Articles:

- (a) the singular number includes the plural number and vice versa;
- (b) the masculine gender includes the feminine gender;
- (c) persons includes corporations;
- (d) "written" and "in writing" include all modes of representing or reproducing words in visible form, including in the form of an Electronic Record;
- (e) "shall" shall be construed as imperative and "may" shall be construed as permissive;
- (f) references to provisions of any law or regulation shall be construed as references to those provisions as amended, modified, re-enacted or replaced from time to time;

- (g) any phrase introduced by the terms "including", "include", "in particular" or any similar expression shall be construed as illustrative and shall not limit the sense of the words preceding those terms;
- (h) the term "and/or" is used herein to mean both "and" as well as "or." The use of "and/or" in certain contexts in no respects qualifies or modifies the use of the terms "and" or "or" in others. "Or" shall not be interpreted to be exclusive, and "and" shall not be interpreted to require the conjunctive — in each case, unless the context otherwise requires;
- (i) any reference to the powers of the Directors shall include, when the context admits, the service providers or any other person to whom the Directors may delegate their powers;
- (j) any requirements as to delivery under the Articles include delivery in the form of an Electronic Record;
- (k) any requirements as to execution or signature under the Articles including the execution of the Articles themselves can be satisfied in the form of an electronic signature as defined in the Electronic Transactions Law;
- (l) sections 8 and 19(3) of the Electronic Transactions Law shall not apply; and
- (m) headings are inserted for reference only and shall be ignored in construing these Articles.

2 Commencement of Business

- 2.1 The business of the Company may be commenced as soon after incorporation as the Directors shall see fit.
- 2.2 The Directors may pay, out of the capital or any other monies of the Company, all expenses incurred in or about the formation and operation of the Company, including the expenses of registration and the initial offering of Participating Shares.

3 Service Providers

- 3.1 The Directors may appoint any person, firm or corporation to act as a service provider to the Company (whether in general or in respect of any Class and/or Series of Shares) and may entrust to and confer upon any such service providers any of the functions, duties, powers and discretions exercisable by them as Directors, upon such terms and conditions (including as to remuneration payable by the Company) and with such powers of delegation, but subject to such restrictions, as they think fit. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such service providers may include managers, investment advisers, administrators, registrars, transfer agents, custodians and prime brokers.
- 3.2 Without prejudice to the generality of the preceding Article, the Directors may appoint any person, firm or corporation to act as the Investment Manager with respect to the assets of the Company (whether in general or in respect of any Class and/or Series of Shares). The Directors may entrust to and confer upon the Investment Manager any of the functions, duties, powers and discretions exercisable by them as Directors upon such terms and conditions (including as to remuneration payable by the Company) and with such powers of delegation, but subject to such restrictions, as they think fit.

4 Rights attaching to Shares

4.1 The Management Shares shall have the following rights:

- (a) as to voting: the holder of a Management Share shall (in respect of such Management Share) have the right to receive notice of, attend at and vote as a Member at any general meeting of the Company; and
- (b) as to capital: a Management Share shall confer upon the holder the right in a winding up to repayment of capital as provided in these Articles but shall confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company; and
- (c) as to income: no dividends shall be payable on the Management Shares.

4.2 The Participating Shares shall have the following rights:

- (a) as to voting: the holder of a Participating Share shall not (in respect of such Participating Share) have the right to receive notice of, attend at or vote as a Member at any general meeting of the Company, but may vote at a separate Class meeting convened in accordance with these Articles; and
- (b) as to capital: a Participating Share shall confer upon the holder thereof the right in a winding up to participate in the surplus assets of the Company by reference to the Separate Account attributable to the relevant Class or Series of Participating Shares as provided in these Articles; and
- (c) as to income: the Participating Shares shall confer on the holders thereof the right to receive dividends as provided in these Articles.

5 Share Capital

5.1 Subject to these Articles, the Directors may allot, issue, grant options or warrants over, or otherwise dispose of Shares in separate classes and/or series with different terms, preferences, privileges or special rights including, without limitation, with respect to investment strategy and/or policy, participation in assets, profits and losses of the Company, voting, fees charged (including management, performance and incentive fees), redemption privileges, allocation of costs and expenses (including, without limitation, the costs and expenses incurred in any hedging activities and any profits and losses arising therefrom) as they think proper. Subject to the Statute, these Articles and any applicable subscription agreement, any Share Rights (other than those set out in these Articles or set out in a Special Resolution) may be varied by either the Directors or by Ordinary Resolution. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Subscriber shall have the power to:

- (a) issue one Share to itself;
- (b) transfer that Share by an instrument of transfer to any person; and
- (c) update the Register of Members in respect of the issue and transfer of that Share.

5.2 On or before the allotment of any Participating Share the Directors shall resolve the Class and/or Series to which such Participating Share shall be classified and may, prior to the issue of any Participating Share, reclassify such Participating Share. Each Class and/or Series shall be specifically identified. Subject to the Statute and these Articles, the Directors may at any time re-name any Participating Share.

- 5.3 Notwithstanding the currency in which the par value of the Participating Shares is denominated, the Directors may specify any currency as the currency in which the Subscription Price, Redemption Price and Net Asset Value of Participating Shares of a Class and/or Series is calculated.
- 5.4 The Company shall not issue Shares to bearer.
- 5.5 Fractional Shares may be issued.
- 5.6 Unless the Directors determine otherwise, Shares shall only be issued as fully paid-up.
- 5.7 Unless the Directors determine otherwise No right of pre-emption or first refusal shall attach to any Shares.

6 Allotment and Issue of Participating Shares

- 6.1 The Directors may from time to time allot and issue Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series. The Directors may, in their discretion, refuse to allot and issue any Participating Shares, and shall not issue any Participating Shares to or for the account of an investor who is not an Eligible Investor. If the Directors have declared a Calculation Suspension or Issue Suspension, no Participating Shares of that Class or Series (as appropriate) shall be issued until the relevant Suspension has ended.
- 6.2 The Directors shall determine the Subscription Price at the time of issue of the first issue of Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series. Thereafter, the Directors may allot and issue Participating Shares of the same Class and/or Series on any Subscription Date provided that such additional Participating Shares are issued at a Subscription Price equal to not less than the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of such Class and/or Series calculated on the relevant Subscription Date (or if the Subscription Date is not also a Valuation Date then on the immediately preceding Valuation Date).
- 6.3 The Directors may add to the Subscription Price per Participating Share (before making any rounding adjustment) an amount which they consider to be an appropriate allowance to reflect fiscal and purchase charges which would be incurred for the account of the Company in investing an amount equal to the Subscription Price. The Directors may also add, in their discretion, a Sales Charge and/or an amount equal to any stamp duty and any other governmental taxes or charges payable by the Company with respect to the issue of such Participating Shares.
- 6.4 An applicant for Participating Shares shall pay for such Participating Shares in such currencies, in such manner, at such time, in such place and to such person acting on behalf of the Company as the Directors may from time to time determine.
- 6.5 Subject to the terms of any subscription agreement, an application for Participating Shares shall be irrevocable by an applicant for Participating Shares once it has been received by the Company. Participating Shares shall be treated as having been issued with effect from the relevant Subscription Date notwithstanding that the subscriber for those Participating Shares may not be entered in the Register of Members until after the Subscription Date.

- 6.6 Participating Shares shall be issued in such minimum numbers as the Directors may specify either generally or in any particular case; likewise the Directors may from time to time prescribe an amount as the minimum subscription amount.
- 6.7 The Directors may resolve to accept non-cash assets in satisfaction (in whole or in part) of the Subscription Price.
- 6.8 The Directors may require an applicant for Participating Shares to pay to the Company for the benefit of any selling agent such selling commissions or such organisational charges as may have been disclosed to such applicant. The Directors may differentiate between applicants as to the amount of such selling commissions or such organisational charges.
- 6.9 The Company may, in so far as the Statute permits, pay a commission to any person in consideration of that person subscribing or agreeing to subscribe whether absolutely or conditionally for any Participating Shares. Such commissions may be satisfied by the payment of cash and/or the issue of fully or partly paid-up Participating Shares. The Company may also on any issue of Participating Shares pay such brokerage as may be lawful.

7 Separate Accounts

- 7.1 The Directors shall have the power to establish and maintain, with respect to Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series, a Separate Account, to record (purely as an internal accounting matter) the allocation, on a differentiated basis, of the assets and liabilities of the Company to the holders of Participating Shares of any such Class and/or a Series in a manner consistent with the methodology set forth in the Offering Memorandum and the rights otherwise attaching to the Participating Shares.
- 7.2 The proceeds from the issue of Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series shall be applied in the books of the Company to the Separate Account established for Participating Shares of that Class and/or Series. The assets and liabilities and income and expenditure attributable to that Separate Account shall be applied to such Separate Account and, subject to the provisions of these Articles, to no other Separate Account. In the event that the assets of a Separate Account referable to any Class and/or Series are exhausted, any and all unsatisfied claims which any Members or former Members referable to that Class and/or Series have against the Company shall be extinguished. The Members or former Members referable to a Class and/or Series shall have no recourse against the assets of any other Separate Account established by the Company.
- 7.3 Where any asset is derived from another asset (whether cash or otherwise), such derivative asset shall be applied in the books of the Company to the same Separate Account as the asset from which it was derived, and on each revaluation of an asset the increase or diminution in value shall be applied to the same Separate Account and, subject to the provisions of these Articles, to no other Separate Account.
- 7.4 In the case of any asset or liability of the Company which the Directors do not consider is attributable to a particular Separate Account, the Directors shall have discretion to determine the basis upon which any such asset or liability shall be allocated between or among Separate Accounts.
- 7.5 The Directors may, in the books of the Company, allocate assets and liabilities to and from Separate Accounts if, as a result of a creditor proceeding against certain of the assets of the Company or otherwise, a liability would be borne in a different manner from that in which it would have been borne if applied under the foregoing Articles.

- 7.6 The Directors may from time to time transfer, allocate or exchange an asset or liability from one Separate Account to another Separate Account provided that at the time of such transfer, allocation or exchange the Directors form the opinion (in good faith) that the value in money or money's worth of each such asset or liability transferred, allocated or exchanged is not significantly less or more than the value in money or money's worth (referred to in these Articles as "proper value") received by the Separate Account from which such asset or liability is transferred, allocated or exchanged except only as is otherwise provided by these Articles.

8 Determination of Net Asset Value

- 8.1 The Net Asset Value and Net Asset Value per Participating Share of each Class and/or Series shall be determined by or on behalf of the Directors as at the relevant Valuation Point on each relevant Valuation Date.
- 8.2 In calculating the Net Asset Value and the Net Asset Value per Participating Share, the Directors shall apply such generally accepted accounting principles as they may determine.
- 8.3 The assets and liabilities of the Company shall be valued in accordance with such policies as the Directors may determine. Absent bad faith or manifest error, any valuation made pursuant to these Articles shall be binding on all persons.
- 8.4 Unless otherwise determined by the Directors in any resolution creating a Class and/or Series of Participating Shares or as otherwise disclosed in any Offering Memorandum, the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of each Class (or Series) shall be determined by allocating pro rata the Net Asset Value, as at the relevant Valuation Point, of the Company and/or of the relevant Separate Account among each Class and/or Series, adjusting the amount so calculated to reflect any fees, costs, foreign exchange items or other assets or liabilities which are properly attributable to a specific Class and/or Series and then by dividing the resultant amount by the number of Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series then in issue.
- 8.5 The Directors may determine that the Net Asset Value of any Class and/or Series shall be definitively determined on the basis of estimates and that such determination shall not be modified to reflect final valuations.
- 8.6 Any expense or liability may be amortised over such period as the Directors may determine.
- 8.7 The Directors may establish such reserves as they deem reasonably necessary for Company expenses and any other contingent Company assets or liabilities, and may, upon the reversal or release of such reserves, apply any monies resulting therefrom in such manner as they may, in their absolute discretion, determine.
- 8.8 Net Asset Value per Participating Share shall be rounded to the nearest cent or such other amount as the Directors may determine and the benefit of any such roundings may be retained by the Company.
- 8.9 The Directors may cause the Company to issue new Participating Shares at par or to compulsorily redeem at par such number of Participating Shares as they consider necessary to address, in such manner as they consider equitable, any prior miscalculation of Net Asset Value.

or Net Asset Value per Participating Share. The Company shall not be required to pay to the holder the redemption proceeds of any such compulsorily redeemed Participating Shares, which proceeds shall be retained by the Company.

9 Suspensions

- 9.1 The Directors may, from time to time, in the circumstances disclosed in the Offering Memorandum, declare a Suspension with respect to any one or more Classes and/or Series of Participating Shares.
- 9.2 The Directors shall promptly notify all affected Members of any such Suspension and shall promptly notify such Members upon termination of such Suspension.

10 Transfer of Shares

- 10.1 Subject to Article 5.1, Shares may not be Transferred without the prior written approval of the Directors (which may be withheld for any or no reason) provided that the Directors may waive this requirement to the extent that they deem appropriate in connection with the listing of any Class or Series of Share on a stock exchange.
- 10.2 The Directors shall not register any Transfer of any Share to any person who is, in the opinion of the Directors, not an Eligible Investor.
- 10.3 Any proposed transferee shall provide to the Directors such information and documents as the Directors may request, including, without limitation, such documents or information as the Directors deem necessary or desirable:
- (a) to enable the Directors to determine that the proposed transferee is an Eligible Investor; and
 - (b) to enable the Company to comply with all applicable laws, including anti-money laundering laws.
- 10.4 The instrument of Transfer of any Share shall be in writing and shall be executed by or on behalf of the transferor (and, if the Directors so require, signed by or on behalf of the transferee). The transferor shall be deemed to remain the holder of a Share until the name of the transferee is entered in the Register of Members.

11 Transmission of Shares

- 11.1 If a Member dies, the survivor or survivors (where the Member was a joint holder) or his or her legal personal representatives (where the Member was a sole holder) shall be the only persons recognised by the Company as having any title to the Member's interest in the Company. The death of any Member shall not operate to relieve, waive or reduce any liabilities attaching to the Member's Shares at the time of death and such liabilities shall continue to bind any survivor or survivors, or any personal representative, as the case may be.
- 11.2 Any person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy, or the liquidation or dissolution, of a Member (or in any other way than by Transfer) and who is an Eligible Investor may, upon delivery to the Directors of such evidence as may from time to time be required by them of:

(a) such person's entitlement to such Shares; and/or

(b) such person's status as an Eligible Investor, elect, either to become the holder of such Share or to have such Share Transferred to another Eligible Investor nominated by such person. If such person elects to become the holder of such Share, such person shall give notice in writing to the Directors to that effect, but the Directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline registration of such person as a holder of such Share as they would have had in the case of a Transfer of the Share by that Member before his or her death or bankruptcy, or liquidation or dissolution, as the case may be.

11.3 Any person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy, or the liquidation or dissolution, of a Member (or in any other way than by Transfer) and who is not an Eligible Investor shall not be registered as the holder of such Share and shall promptly Transfer such Share to an Eligible Investor in accordance with these Articles.

11.4 A person becoming entitled to a Share by reason of the death or bankruptcy or liquidation or dissolution of the holder (or in any other case than by Transfer), and who is an Eligible Investor, shall be entitled to the same dividends and other advantages to which such person would be entitled if such person were the registered holder of such Share. However, the person shall not, before becoming a Member in respect of a Share, be entitled in respect of it to exercise any right conferred by membership in relation to meetings of the Company and the Directors may at any time give notice requiring any such person to elect either to be registered himself or to have some person nominated by him become the holder of the Share (but the Directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline or suspend registration as they would have had in the case of a transfer of the Share by the relevant Member before his death or bankruptcy or liquidation or dissolution or any other case than by transfer, as the case may be). If the notice is not complied with within ninety days the Directors may thereafter withhold payment of all dividends, bonuses or other monies payable in respect of the Share until the requirements of the notice have been complied with.

12 Redemption of Shares

12.1 Subject to any provisions relating to a specific Class and/or Series as set out in the Offering Memorandum or these Articles or in any resolution constituting a Class and/or Series or otherwise forming part of the special rights of such Participating Shares, a Member may require the redemption of all or any of such Member's Participating Shares by serving a Redemption Notice on the Company. Unless timely receipt is waived by the Directors in a particular case, a Redemption Notice shall be required to be received on or before a Redemption Date with respect to such Participating Shares (or such number of days prior to such Redemption Date as may be determined by the Directors). Any Member redeeming Participating Shares shall submit to the Directors the share certificate (if any) issued in respect of those Participating Shares. The Company shall redeem such Participating Shares at the Redemption Price, being an amount equal to the Net Asset Value per Participating Share of the relevant Class and/or Series calculated on the relevant Redemption Date (or if the Redemption Date is not a Valuation Date then on the immediately preceding Valuation Date) subject to any deductions, holdbacks or adjustments provided for in these Articles and/or the Offering Memorandum.

12.2 The Directors may deduct any Redemption Fee from the Redemption Price. The Directors may also deduct such amount which they consider to be an appropriate allowance to reflect fiscal and sale charges which would be incurred for the account of the Company in realising assets or closing out positions to provide funds to meet any redemption request.

- 12.3 A Member may not withdraw a Redemption Notice once submitted to the Company unless (a) the Directors shall have declared a Calculation Suspension or Redemption Suspension or (b) the Directors determine (in their sole discretion) to permit the withdrawal of such redemption request (which they may do in whole or in part). If a relevant Suspension has been declared by the Directors, the right of a Member to have its Participating Shares redeemed shall be suspended and during the period of Suspension the Member may withdraw its Redemption Notice. Any withdrawal of the Redemption Notice shall be made in writing and shall only be effective if actually received by the Company before the termination of the period of the Redemption Suspension or Calculation Suspension, as applicable. If the Redemption Notice is not withdrawn, any Participating Shares the redemption of which has been suspended shall be redeemed once the relevant Suspension has ended at the Redemption Price for Participating Shares of the relevant Class and/or Series calculated on the next Redemption Date following the end of the relevant Suspension.
- 12.4 The Directors may impose a gate the effect of which is to limit the redemptions of Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series or to limit the redemptions of Participating Shares held by any Member or Members as of any Redemption Date to such extent and in such manner as is disclosed in the Offering Memorandum. If the Directors determine to limit redemptions, the Directors may determine the manner in which such gated redemption requests will be dealt with on any subsequent Redemption Date.
- 12.5 If the Company is required by the laws of any relevant jurisdiction to make a withholding from any redemption monies payable to the holder of Participating Shares the amount of such withholding shall be deducted from the redemption monies otherwise payable to such person.
- 12.6 No redemption of part of a Member's holding of Participating Shares of any one Class and/or Series may be made if, as a result thereof, such Member would hold fewer Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series than such minimum number or value of Participating Shares of such Class and/or Series as may from time to time be specified (either generally or in any particular case or cases) by the Directors. If such partial redemption would reduce such Member's holding of Participating Shares to less than such minimum holding, the Directors may, in their discretion, elect to compulsorily redeem all of such Member's Participating Shares.
- 12.7 The Company may, in the absolute discretion of the Directors, refuse to make a redemption payment to a Member if the Directors suspect or are advised that the payment of any redemption proceeds to such Member may result in a breach or violation of any anti-money laundering law by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or if such refusal is necessary to ensure the compliance by the Company, its Directors, the Administrator or any other service provider of the Company with any anti-money laundering law in any relevant jurisdiction.
- 12.8 Any amount payable to a Member for the redemption of Participating Shares shall be paid in such currency or currencies as the Directors may determine. Subject to any Payment Suspension, the Company shall remit redemption proceeds (net of the costs of remittance) by cheque or wire transfer within such period or periods as the Directors shall have disclosed to the Member at the time of its subscription for Participating Shares or, in the absence of any such disclosure, within such period or periods as the Directors shall determine. In the absence of directions as to payment the Company may remit redemption proceeds by cheque to the address of the Member appearing on the Register of Members or by wire transfer to such account as the Directors deem appropriate in the circumstances. The Company shall not be liable for any loss resulting from this procedure.

- 12.9 On any redemption of Participating Shares the Directors shall have the power to satisfy (in whole or in part) the Redemption Price (and any other sums payable on redemption as provided in these Articles) owing on the redemption of such Participating Shares by dividing in specie the whole or any part of the assets of the Company (including, without limitation, shares, debentures, or securities of any other company whether or not held by the Company on the Redemption Date in question) and either (i) distributing such assets directly to the redeeming shareholder, and/or (ii) distributing or allocating such assets to a liquidating account or other similar mechanism to be managed and/or liquidated at the discretion of the Directors.
- 12.10 Participating Shares shall be treated as having been redeemed with effect from the relevant Redemption Date irrespective of whether or not a Member has been removed from the Register of Members or the Redemption Price has been determined or remitted. Accordingly, on and from the relevant Redemption Date, Members in their capacity as such will not be entitled to or be capable of exercising any rights arising under these Articles with respect to Participating Shares being redeemed (including any right to receive notice of, attend or vote at any meeting of the Company) save the right to receive the Redemption Price and any dividend which has been declared prior to the relevant Redemption Date but not yet paid (in each case with respect to the Participating Shares being redeemed). Such Members will be treated as creditors of the Company with respect to the Redemption Price and will rank accordingly in the priority of the Company's creditors.
- 12.11 Once a Participating Share is redeemed it shall be available for re issue and, until re issue, shall form part of the authorised and unissued share capital of the Company.
- 12.12 Upon the written request of a Member or prospective Member in a form acceptable to the Directors, the Company may, in the discretion of the Directors, accept a standing redemption request from such Member or prospective Member pursuant to which the Company shall agree (without assuming any liability for failing to do so) to use its commercially reasonable efforts to redeem such Member's Participating Shares to the extent necessary to ensure that such Member does not own over a specified percentage of the outstanding Participating Shares of the Company or any Class and/or Series thereof; such percentage to be the percentage identified by such Member or prospective Member in such written request as being the percentage which such Member's or prospective Member's ownership cannot exceed without material risk of such Member or prospective Member being in violation of applicable law or regulation. Any such written request may be revoked by notice in writing to the Company from the affected Member.
- 12.13 No amendment to these Articles made after a Redemption Date shall affect a Member with respect to Participating Shares of that Member which have been redeemed, or are being treated as redeemed, on or prior to that Redemption Date.
- 12.14 Unless otherwise provided in the Offering Memorandum, unremitted redemption proceeds shall not bear interest against the Company and redeemed Participating Shares shall not participate in the profits and losses of the Company with effect from the relevant Redemption Date.

13 Compulsory Redemption

- 13.1 The Directors may cause the Company to redeem any or all of the Participating Shares held by any person at the appropriate Redemption Price in the circumstances disclosed in the Offering

Memorandum. If the Directors determine compulsorily to redeem any Participating Shares under this Article they shall give the holder of the Participating Shares such notice of the redemption as they shall have disclosed to the Member at the time of its subscription for Participating Shares or, in the absence of any such disclosure, within such period as the Directors shall determine.

- 13.2 The Directors may cause a compulsory redemption during any period for which a Redemption Suspension has been declared.
- 13.3 Without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, the Company may (without notice) compulsorily redeem the Participating Shares of any Member and, on behalf of such Member, apply the proceeds of redemption in paying for new Participating Shares to give effect to any exchange, conversion or roll-up policy disclosed to Members pursuant to which Participating Shares of one Class or Series (the "Old Shares") may, at the option of the Company, be exchanged for Participating Shares of another Class or Series (the "New Shares") by means of the redemption of the Old Shares and the immediate re-subscription of the redemption proceeds in paying up the New Shares.

14 Purchase and Surrender of Shares

- 14.1 Subject to the provisions of the Statute and without prejudice to these Articles, the Company may purchase its own Shares (including any redeemable Shares) in such manner and on such other terms as the Directors may agree with the relevant Member.
- 14.2 The Company may make a payment in respect of the redemption or purchase of its own Shares in any manner permitted by the Statute, including out of capital.
- 14.3 The Directors may accept the surrender for no consideration of any fully paid Share.

15 Treasury Shares

- 15.1 The Directors may, prior to the purchase, redemption or surrender of any Share, determine that such Share shall be held as a Treasury Share.
- 15.2 The Directors may determine to cancel a Treasury Share or transfer a Treasury Share on such terms as they think proper (including, without limitation, for nil consideration).

16 Variation of Share Rights

- 16.1 Subject to the Statute and these Articles, all or any of the Share Rights applicable to any Class or Series of Participating Shares in issue (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of those Participating Shares) may (whether or not the Company is being wound up) be varied without the consent of the holders of the issued Participating Shares of that Class or Series where such variation is considered by the Directors not to have a material adverse effect upon such holders' Share Rights; otherwise, any such variation may be made only with the prior consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds by Net Asset Value of such Participating Shares, or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the votes cast in person or by proxy at a separate meeting of the holders of such Participating Shares. For the avoidance of doubt, the Directors reserve the right, notwithstanding that any such variation may not have a material adverse effect, to obtain consent from the holders of such Participating Shares. To any such meeting all the provisions of these Articles as to general meetings shall mutatis mutandis apply, but so that any holder of a Participating Share present in person or by proxy may demand a poll, and the quorum for any such meeting shall be Members holding not less than twenty per cent. By Net Asset Value of the issued Participating Shares of the relevant Class or Series. At any Class meeting, the voting rights attributable to each Participating Share shall be calculated by reference to the Net Asset Value per Participating Share (calculated as at the most recent Valuation Date) and not on the basis of one Participating Share, one vote.

- 16.2 For the purposes of a Class consent, the Directors may treat two or more or all the Classes or Series of Participating Shares as forming one Class or Series if the Directors consider that such Classes or Series would be affected in the same way by the proposals under consideration, but in any other case shall treat them as separate Classes or Series.
- 16.3 Where the Shares of any Class or Series (the "First Class") rank, or will on issue rank, pari passu with the Shares of another Class or Series (the "Second Class") with respect to participation in the same pool of profits or assets of the Company on a winding up, the rights of the First Class shall be deemed to be varied by any variation of or creation of rights in the Second Class (including on initial issue) which gives the Second Class priority over the First Class on a winding up of the Company.
- 16.4 In relation to any Class or Series consent required pursuant to Article 16.1, the Directors in their discretion may invoke the following procedure (the "Negative Consent Procedure"). The Directors shall provide written notice of the proposed variation (the "Proposal") to the Members of the affected Class or Series and shall specify a deadline (the "Redemption Request Date"), which shall be no earlier than 30 days after the date of giving such notice, by which date such Members may submit a written request for redemption of some or all of their Participating Shares of the affected Class and/or Series on the Redemption Date (the "Specified Redemption Date") specified by the Directors in such notice. The terms of the Proposal shall be such that its specified effective date (the "Effective Date") shall not be on or prior to the Specified Redemption Date. Such notice shall further provide that the holders of any Participating Shares in respect of which a request for redemption has not been received by the Redemption Request Date (the "Affected Shares") shall, in the absence of express written refusal to consent, be deemed to have consented in writing to the Proposal (such Affected Shares being the "Negative Consent Shares"). In the event that the Negative Consent Procedure is followed, only the Affected Shares shall be considered for the purposes of determining whether the written consent majority has been obtained under Article 16.1 with the holders of the Negative Consent Shares being deemed to have submitted a written consent in favour of the Proposal on the Effective Date.
- 16.5 Subject to the foregoing Articles, the Share Rights applicable to any Class or Series of Shares in issue shall (unless otherwise expressly provided by the conditions of issue of such Shares) be deemed not to be varied by:
- (a) the creation, allotment or issue of further Shares ranking pari passu therewith and which may be issued with the benefit of the terms referred to below;
 - (b) the purchase or redemption of any Shares;
 - (c) the exercise of the powers to allocate assets and charge liabilities to the various Separate Accounts or any of them and to transfer the same to and from the various Separate Accounts or any of them, as provided for in these Articles;
 - (d) any reduction or waiver of any fees (including early redemption, management or performance fees) chargeable or allocable to any Class or Series of Shares;

- (e) any reduction or waiver of any redemption notice, gate or lock-up period applicable to any Class or Series of Shares; or
- (f) any variation or waiver contemplated by or provided for in the Offering Memorandum applicable to the relevant Class and/or Series.

17 Variation of Terms

The Directors, with the consent of the Investment Manager, shall have the absolute discretion to agree with a Member to waive or modify the terms applicable to such Member's subscription for Participating Shares (including those relating to management and performance fees and redemption terms) without obtaining the consent of any other Member; provided that such waiver or modification does not amount to a variation of the rights attaching to the Participating Shares of such other Members.

18 Certificates for Shares

- 18.1 A Member shall only be entitled to a share certificate if the Directors resolve that share certificates shall be issued. Share certificates representing Shares, if any, shall be in such form as the Directors may determine. Share certificates shall be signed by one or more Directors or another person authorised by the Directors. The Directors may authorise certificates to be issued with the authorised signature(s) affixed by mechanical process. All certificates for Shares shall be consecutively numbered or otherwise identified and shall specify the Shares to which they relate. All certificates surrendered to the Company for transfer shall be cancelled and, subject to these Articles, no new certificate shall be issued until the former certificate representing a like number of relevant Shares shall have been surrendered and cancelled.
- 18.2 The Company shall not be bound to issue more than one certificate for Shares held jointly by more than one person and delivery of a certificate to one joint holder shall be a sufficient delivery to all of them.
- 18.3 If a share certificate is defaced, worn out, lost or destroyed, it may be renewed on such terms (if any) as to evidence and indemnity and on the payment of such expenses reasonably incurred by the Company in investigating evidence, as the Directors may prescribe, and (in the case of defacement or wearing out) on delivery up of the old certificate.

19 Register of Members

- 19.1 The Company shall maintain or cause to be maintained the Register of Members.
- 19.2 The Directors may determine that the Company shall maintain one or more branch registers of Members in accordance with the Statute. The Directors may also determine which register of Members shall constitute the principal register and which shall constitute the branch register or registers, and to vary such determination from time to time.

20 Closing Register of Members and Fixing Record Date

- 20.1 For the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at any meeting of Members or any adjournment thereof, or Members entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose, the Directors may provide that the Register of Members shall be closed for transfers for a stated period which shall not in any case exceed thirty days.

- 20.2 In lieu of, or apart from, closing the Register of Members, the Directors may fix in advance or arrears a date as the record date for any such determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at any meeting of the Members or any adjournment thereof, or for the purpose of determining the Members entitled to receive payment of any dividend or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose.
- 20.3 If the Register of Members is not so closed and no record date is fixed for the determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members or Members entitled to receive payment of a dividend, the date on which notice of the meeting is sent or the date on which the resolution of the Directors declaring such dividend is passed, as the case may be, shall be the record date for such determination of Members. When a determination of Members entitled to vote at any meeting of Members has been made as provided in this Article, such determination shall apply to any adjournment thereof.

21 Non Recognition of Trusts

The Company shall not be bound by or compelled to recognise in any way (even when notified) any equitable, contingent, future or partial interest in any Share, or (except only as is otherwise provided by these Articles or the Statute) any other rights in respect of any Share other than an absolute right to the entirety thereof in the registered holder.

22 Lien on Shares

- 22.1 The Company shall have a first and paramount lien on all Shares (whether fully paid-up or not) registered in the name of a Member (whether solely or jointly with others) for all debts, liabilities or engagements to or with the Company (whether presently payable or not) by such Member or such Member's estate, either alone or jointly with any other person, whether a Member or not, but the Directors may at any time declare any Share to be wholly or in part exempt from the provisions of this Article. The registration of a Transfer of any such Share shall operate as a waiver of the Company's lien thereon. The Company's lien on a Share shall also extend to any amount payable in respect of that Share.
- 22.2 The Company may sell, in such manner as the Directors think fit, any Shares on which the Company has a lien, if a sum in respect of which the lien exists is presently payable, and is not paid within fourteen clear days after notice has been given to the holder of the Shares, or to the person entitled to it in consequence of the death or bankruptcy of the holder, demanding payment and stating that if the notice is not complied with the Shares may be sold.
- 22.3 To give effect to any such sale the Directors may authorise any person to execute an instrument of Transfer of the Shares sold to, or in accordance with the directions of, the purchaser. The purchaser or such purchaser's nominee shall be registered as the holder of the Shares comprised in any such Transfer, and the purchaser shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money, nor shall the purchaser's title to the Shares be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the sale or the exercise of the Company's power of sale under these Articles.
- 22.4 The net proceeds of such sale after payment of costs, shall be applied in payment of such part of the amount in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable and any balance shall

(subject to a like lien for sums not presently payable as existed upon the Shares before the sale) be paid to the person entitled to the Shares at the date of the sale.

23 Amendments of Memorandum and Articles and Alteration of Capital

23.1 The Company may, by Ordinary Resolution:

- (a) increase its share capital by such sum and with such rights, priorities and privileges annexed thereto, as the resolution shall prescribe;
- (b) consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into Shares of larger amount than its existing Shares;
- (c) by subdivision of its existing Shares or any of them divide the whole or any part of its share capital into Shares of smaller amount than is fixed by the Memorandum; and
- (d) cancel any Shares that at the date of the passing of the resolution have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person.

23.2 All new Shares created in accordance with the provisions of the preceding Article shall be subject to the same provisions of these Articles with reference to liens, Transfer, transmission and otherwise as the Shares in the original share capital.

23.3 Subject to the provisions of the Statute and the provisions of these Articles as regards the matters to be dealt with by Ordinary Resolution the Company may, by Special Resolution:

- (a) change its name;
- (b) alter or add to these Articles;
- (c) alter or add to the Memorandum with respect to any objects, powers or other matters specified therein; and
- (d) reduce its share capital or any capital redemption reserve fund.

24 Registered Office

Subject to the provisions of the Statute, the Company may by resolution of the Directors change the location of its Registered Office. The Company may, in addition to its Registered Office, maintain such other offices or places of business as the Directors determine.

25 General Meetings

25.1 All general meetings other than annual general meetings shall be called extraordinary general meetings. The Directors may call general meetings.

25.2 The Company may but shall not be obliged to hold a general meeting in each year as its annual general meeting, and shall specify the meeting as such in the notice calling it. Any annual general meeting shall be held at such time and place as the Directors shall determine.

- 25.3 The Directors shall, on a Members' requisition, forthwith proceed to convene an extraordinary general meeting of the Company. A Members' requisition is a requisition of Members of the Company holding at the date of deposit of the requisition not less than ten per cent. in Net Asset Value of the Shares as at that date which carry the right to vote at general meetings of the Company.
- 25.4 The requisition must state the objects of the meeting and must be signed by the requisitionists and deposited at the Registered Office, and may consist of several documents in like form each signed by one or more requisitionists.
- 25.5 If the Directors do not, within twenty-one days from the date of the deposit of the requisition, duly proceed to convene a general meeting to be held within a further twenty-one days, the requisitionists, or any of them representing more than one-half of the total voting rights of all of them, may themselves convene a general meeting, but any meeting so convened shall not be held after the expiration of three months after the expiration of the first above-mentioned twenty-one days.
- 25.6 A general meeting convened as aforesaid by requisitionists shall be convened in the same manner, as nearly as possible, as that in which general meetings are to be convened by Directors.

26 Notice of General Meetings

- 26.1 At least five Business Days' notice shall be given of any general meeting. Every notice shall be exclusive of the day on which it is given or deemed to be given and of the day on which the meeting is to be held and shall specify the place, the day and the hour of the meeting and the general nature of the business and shall be given in the manner hereinafter mentioned or in such other manner if any as may be prescribed by the Company, provided that a general meeting of the Company shall, whether or not the notice specified in this Article has been given and whether or not the provisions of these Articles regarding general meetings have been complied with, be deemed to have been duly convened if it is so agreed:
- (a) in the case of an annual general meeting, by all the Members entitled to attend and vote thereat; and
 - (b) in the case of an extraordinary general meeting, by a majority in number of the Members having the right to attend and vote at the meeting, being a majority together holding not less than ninety five per cent. in Net Asset Value of the Shares giving that right.
- 26.2 The accidental omission to give notice of a general meeting to, or the non receipt of notice of a meeting by, any person entitled to receive notice thereof shall not invalidate the proceedings of that meeting.

27 Proceedings at General Meetings

- 27.1 No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum is present. A quorum shall be one or more Members (present in person, by proxy or authorised corporate representative, as the case may be) entitled to attend and vote and representing not less than twenty per cent. in Net Asset Value of all of the Shares in issue and carrying the right to vote at the meeting.

- 27.2 A person may, with the consent of the Directors, participate at a general meeting by conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all the persons participating in the meeting can communicate with each other. Participation by a person in a general meeting in this manner is treated as presence in person at that meeting.
- 27.3 A resolution (including a Special Resolution) in writing (in one or more counterparts) signed by all Members for the time being entitled to receive notice of and to attend and vote at general meetings (or, being corporations or other non-natural persons, signed by their duly authorised representatives) shall be as valid and effective as if the resolution had been passed at a general meeting of the Company duly convened and held.
- 27.4 If a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting or if during such a meeting a quorum ceases to be present, the meeting, if convened upon the requisition of Members, shall be dissolved and in any other case it shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week at the same time and place or to such other day, time or such other place as the Directors may determine, and if at the adjourned meeting a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting the Members present shall be a quorum.
- 27.5 The chairman, if any, of the board of Directors shall preside as chairman at every general meeting of the Company, or if there is no such chairman, or if the chairman shall not be present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for the holding of the meeting, or is unwilling to act, the Directors present shall elect one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.
- 27.6 If no Director is willing to act as chairman, or if no Director is present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the Members present shall choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.
- 27.7 The chairman may, with the consent of a meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting) adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place, but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place. When a general meeting is adjourned for thirty days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given as in the case of an original meeting. Otherwise it shall not be necessary to give any such notice.
- 27.8 A resolution put to the vote of a meeting shall be decided on a show of hands unless before, or on the declaration of the result of, the show of hands, the chairman or any Member present in person or by proxy (or in the case of a non-natural person, by its duly authorised representative or by proxy) demands a poll.
- 27.9 Unless a poll is duly demanded a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has been carried or carried unanimously, or by a particular majority, or lost or not carried by a particular majority, an entry to that effect in the minutes of the proceedings of the meeting shall be conclusive evidence of that fact without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against such resolution.
- 27.10 The demand for a poll may be withdrawn.
- 27.11 Except on a poll demanded on the election of a chairman or on a question of adjournment, a poll shall be taken as the chairman directs, and the result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the general meeting at which the poll was demanded.

- 27.12 A poll demanded on the election of a chairman or on a question of adjournment shall be taken forthwith. A poll demanded on any other question shall be taken at such time as the chairman of the general meeting directs, and any business other than that upon which a poll has been demanded or is contingent thereon may proceed pending the taking of the poll.
- 27.13 In the case of an equality of votes, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, the chairman shall not be entitled to a second or casting vote.

28 Votes of Members

- 28.1 Subject to any rights or restrictions attached to any Shares, on a show of hands every Member holding Shares carrying the right to vote on the matter in question who (being an individual) is present in person or by proxy or (if a corporation or other non-natural person) is present by its duly authorised representative or by proxy, shall have one vote and on a poll the voting rights attributable to each Share carrying the right to vote on the matter in question shall be calculated by reference to the Net Asset Value per Share (calculated as at the most recent Valuation Date) and not on the basis of one Share, one vote.
- 28.2 In the case of joint holders of record, the vote of the senior holder who tenders a vote, whether in person or by proxy, shall be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint holders. Seniority among joint holders shall be determined by the order in which the names of the holders stand in the Register of Members.
- 28.3 A Member of unsound mind, or in respect of whom an order has been made by any court or authority having jurisdiction in lunacy, may vote, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, by the Member's committee, receiver, curator bonis, or other similar person appointed on such Member's behalf by that court or authority and any such committee, receiver, curator bonis or other similar person may vote by proxy.
- 28.4 No person shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting unless such person is registered as a Member on the record date for such meeting, nor unless all calls or other monies then payable by such person in respect of such Shares have been paid.
- 28.5 No objection shall be raised to the qualification of any voter except at the general meeting or adjourned general meeting at which the vote objected to is purported to be given or tendered and every vote not disallowed at the meeting shall be valid. Any objection made in due time shall be referred to the chairman whose decision shall be final and conclusive.
- 28.6 On a poll or on a show of hands votes may be cast either personally or by proxy. A Member may appoint more than one proxy or the same proxy under one or more instruments to attend and vote at a meeting. Where a Member appoints more than one proxy the instrument of proxy shall state which proxy is entitled to vote on a show of hands.
- 28.7 A Member holding more than one Share need not cast the votes in respect of its Shares in the same way on any resolution and therefore may vote a Share or some or all such Shares either for or against a resolution and/or abstain (any such abstentions to count neither for nor against the resolution) from voting a Share or some or all of the Shares and, subject to the terms of the instrument appointing it, a proxy appointed under one or more instruments may vote a Share or some or all of the Shares in respect of which such proxy is appointed either for or against a resolution and/or abstain from voting.

29 Proxies

- 29.1 The instrument appointing a proxy shall be in writing, be executed under the hand of the appointor or of such appointor's attorney duly authorised in writing or, if the appointor is a corporation or other non-natural person, under the hand of an officer or other person duly authorised for that purpose. A proxy need not be a Member of the Company.
- 29.2 The Directors may, in the notice convening any meeting or adjourned meeting, or in an instrument of proxy sent out by the Company, specify the place and the time (being not later than the time for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting to which the proxy relates) at which the instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited. In the absence of any such direction from the Directors in the notice convening any meeting or adjourned meeting, the instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited at the Registered Office not less than 48 hours before the time for holding the meeting or adjourned meeting at which the person named in the instrument proposes to vote.
- 29.3 The chairman may in any event, at the chairman's discretion, declare that an instrument of proxy shall be deemed to have been duly deposited. An instrument of proxy that is not deposited in the manner permitted and which has not been declared to have been duly deposited by the chairman, shall be invalid.
- 29.4 The instrument appointing a proxy may be in any usual or common form and may be incorporated within any subscription agreement or other document signed by or on behalf of the Member. An instrument appointing a proxy may be expressed to be for a particular meeting or any adjournment thereof or generally until revoked. An instrument appointing a proxy shall be deemed to include the power to demand or join or concur in demanding a poll.
- 29.5 Votes given in accordance with the terms of an instrument of proxy shall be valid notwithstanding the previous death or insanity of the principal or revocation of the proxy or of the authority under which the proxy was executed, or the Transfer of the Share in respect of which the proxy is given unless notice in writing of such death, insanity, revocation or Transfer was received by the Company at the Registered Office before the commencement of the general meeting, or adjourned meeting at which it is sought to use the proxy.

30 Corporate Members

Any corporation or other non-natural person which is a Member of the Company may in accordance with its constitutional documents, or in the absence of such provision by resolution of its directors or other governing body, authorise such person as it thinks fit to act as its representative at any meeting of the Company or of any Class of Members, and the person so authorised shall be entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of the corporation which such person represents as the corporation could exercise if it were an individual Member.

31 Shares Beneficially Owned by the Company

Shares of the Company that are beneficially owned by the Company shall not be voted, directly or indirectly, at any meeting and shall not be counted in determining the total number of outstanding Shares at any given time.

32 Directors

There shall be a board of Directors consisting of not less than one person (exclusive of alternate Directors) provided however that the Company may from time to time by Ordinary Resolution increase or reduce the limits in the number of Directors. The first Directors of the Company shall be determined in writing by, or appointed by a resolution of, the Subscriber.

33 Powers of Directors

- 33.1 Subject to the provisions of the Statute, the Memorandum and the Articles and to any directions given by Special Resolution, the business of the Company shall be managed by the Directors who may exercise all the powers of the Company. No alteration of the Memorandum or these Articles and no such direction shall invalidate any prior act of the Directors which would have been valid if that alteration had not been made or that direction had not been given. A duly convened meeting of Directors at which a quorum is present may exercise all powers exercisable by the Directors.
- 33.2 All cheques, promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange and other negotiable instruments and all receipts for monies paid to the Company shall be signed, drawn, accepted, endorsed or otherwise executed as the case may be in such manner as the Directors shall determine by resolution.
- 33.3 The Directors may exercise all the powers of the Company to borrow money and to mortgage or charge its undertaking, property and uncalled capital or any part thereof and to issue debentures, debenture stock, mortgages, bonds and other such securities whether outright or as security for any debt, liability or obligation of the Company or of any third party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Directors shall not exercise the powers specified in this Article in breach of any limits or restrictions specified in the Offering Memorandum.

34 Appointment and Removal of Directors

- 34.1 The Company may, by Ordinary Resolution, appoint any person to be a Director and may, by Ordinary Resolution, remove any Director.
- 34.2 The Directors may appoint any person to be a Director, either to fill a vacancy or as an additional Director provided that the appointment does not cause the number of Directors to exceed any number fixed by or in accordance with these Articles as the maximum number of Directors.

35 Vacation of Office of Director

The office of a Director shall be vacated if:

- (a) the Director gives notice in writing to the Company that such Director resigns the office of Director;
- (b) the Director is absent (without being represented by proxy or an alternate Director appointed by such Director) from three consecutive meetings of the board of Directors without special leave of absence from the Directors, and they pass a resolution that such Director has by reason of such absence vacated office;
- (c) the Director dies, becomes bankrupt or makes any arrangement or composition with such Director's creditors generally;

- (d) the Director is or becomes of unsound mind;
- (e) the Director ceases to be a Director by virtue of, or is prohibited from being a Director by, an order made pursuant to any law or regulation binding on the Company; or
- (f) all the other Directors of the Company (being not less than two in number) resolve that such Director should be removed as a Director.

36 Proceedings of Directors

- 36.1 The quorum for the transaction of the business of the Directors may be fixed by the Directors, and unless so fixed shall be two if there are two or more Directors, and shall be one if there is only one Director. A person who holds office as an alternate Director shall, if such person's appointor is not present, be counted in the quorum. A Director who also acts as an alternate Director shall, if such Director's appointor is not present, count twice towards the quorum.
- 36.2 Subject to the provisions of these Articles, the Directors may regulate their proceedings as they think fit. Questions arising at any meeting shall be decided by a majority of votes. In the case of an equality of votes, the chairman shall not have a second or casting vote. A Director who is also an alternate Director shall be entitled in the absence of such Director's appointor to a separate vote on behalf of such Director's appointor in addition to such Director's own vote.
- 36.3 A person may participate in a meeting of the Directors or committee of Directors by conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all the persons participating in the meeting can communicate with each other at the same time. Participation by a person in a meeting in this manner is treated as presence in person at that meeting. Unless otherwise determined by the Directors, the meeting shall be deemed to be held at the place where the chairman is located at the start of the meeting.
- 36.4 A resolution in writing (in one or more counterparts) signed by all the Directors or all the members of a committee of Directors (an alternate Director being entitled to sign such a resolution on behalf of such alternate Director's appointor) shall be as valid and effectual as if it had been passed at a meeting of the Directors, or committee of Directors as the case may be, duly convened and held.
- 36.5 A Director or alternate Director may, or other officer of the Company at the direction of a Director or alternate Director may call a meeting of the Directors by at least two days' notice in writing to every Director and alternate Director which notice shall set forth the general nature of the business to be considered unless notice is waived by all the Directors (or their alternates) either at, before or after the meeting is held.
- 36.6 The continuing Directors may act notwithstanding any vacancy in their body, but if and so long as their number is reduced below the number fixed by or pursuant to these Articles as the necessary quorum of Directors the continuing Directors or Director may act for the purpose of increasing the number of Directors to that number, or of summoning a general meeting of the Company, but for no other purpose.
- 36.7 The Directors may elect a chairman of their board and determine the period for which the chairman is to hold office; but if no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present within five minutes after the time appointed for holding the same, the Directors present may choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.

36.8 All acts done by any meeting of the Directors or of a committee of Directors (including any person acting as an alternate Director) shall, notwithstanding that it be afterwards discovered that there was some defect in the appointment of any Director or alternate Director, or that they or any of them were disqualified, be as valid as if every such person had been duly appointed and qualified to be a Director or alternate Director as the case may be.

36.9 A Director but not an alternate Director may be represented at any meetings of the board of Directors by a proxy appointed in writing by such Director. The proxy shall count towards the quorum and the vote of the proxy shall for all purposes be deemed to be that of the appointing Director.

37 Presumption of Assent

A Director who is present at a meeting of the board of Directors at which action on any Company matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action taken unless the Director's dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless the Director shall file such Director's written dissent from such action with the person acting as the chairman or secretary of the meeting before the close or adjournment thereof or shall forward such dissent by personal delivery, courier or registered post to such person immediately after the close or adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a Director who voted in favour of such action.

38 Directors' Interests

38.1 A Director may hold any other office or place of profit under the Company (other than the office of Auditor) in conjunction with such Director's office of Director for such period and on such terms as to remuneration and otherwise as the Directors may determine.

38.2 A Director may act alone or by such Director's firm in a professional capacity for the Company and the Director or such Director's firm shall be entitled to remuneration for professional services as if such Director were not a Director or alternate Director.

38.3 A Director or alternate Director of the Company may be or become a director or other officer of or otherwise interested in any company promoted by the Company or in which the Company may be interested as shareholder or otherwise, and no such Director or alternate Director shall be accountable to the Company for any remuneration or other benefits received by such Director or alternate Director as a director or officer of, or from such Director or alternate Director's interest in, such other company.

38.4 No person shall be disqualified from the office of Director or alternate Director or prevented by such office from contracting with the Company, either as vendor, purchaser or otherwise, nor shall any such contract or any contract or transaction entered into by or on behalf of the Company in which any Director or alternate Director shall be in any way interested be or be liable to be avoided, nor shall any Director or alternate Director so contracting or being so interested be liable to account to the Company for any profit realised by any such contract or transaction by reason of such Director holding office or of the fiduciary relationship thereby established. A Director (or such Director's alternate Director in such Director's absence) shall be at liberty to vote in respect of any contract or transaction in which such Director is interested provided that the nature of the interest of any Director or alternate Director in any such contract or transaction shall be disclosed by such Director at or prior to such Director's consideration and any vote thereon.

- 38.5 A general notice that a Director or alternate Director is a shareholder, director, officer or employee of any specified firm or company and is to be regarded as interested in any transaction with such firm or company shall be sufficient disclosure for the purposes of voting on a resolution in respect of a contract or transaction in which such Director has an interest, and after such general notice it shall not be necessary to give special notice relating to any particular transaction.

39 Minutes

The Directors shall cause minutes to be made in books kept for the purpose of all appointments of officers made by the Directors, all proceedings at meetings of the Company or the holders of any Class of Shares and of the Directors, and of committees of Directors including the names of the Directors or alternate Directors present at each meeting.

40 Delegation of Directors' Powers

- 40.1 The Directors may delegate any of their powers to any committee consisting of one or more Directors or such other persons as the Directors may designate. They may also delegate to any managing director or any Director holding any other executive office such of their powers as they consider desirable to be exercised by such managing director or any Director provided that an alternate Director may not act as managing director and the appointment of a managing director shall be revoked forthwith if such managing director ceases to be a Director. Any such appointment may be made subject to any conditions the Directors may impose, and either collaterally with or to the exclusion of their own powers, and may be revoked or altered. Subject to any such conditions, the proceedings of a committee of Directors shall be governed by these Articles regulating the proceedings of Directors, so far as they are capable of applying.
- 40.2 The Directors may establish any committees, local boards or agencies or appoint any person to be a manager or agent for managing the affairs of the Company and may appoint any person to be a member of such committees or local boards. Any such appointment may be made either collaterally with or to the exclusion of the Directors' powers, shall be subject to any conditions the Directors may impose, and may be revoked or altered. Subject to any such conditions, the proceedings of any such committee, local board or agency shall be governed by these Articles regulating the proceedings of Directors, so far as they are capable of applying.
- 40.3 The Directors may by power of attorney or otherwise appoint any company, firm, person or body of persons to be the attorney or authorised signatory of the Company for such purpose and with such powers, authorities and discretions (not exceeding those vested in or exercisable by the Directors under these Articles) and for such period and subject to such conditions as they may think fit, and any such powers of attorney or other appointment may contain such provisions for the protection and convenience of persons dealing with any such attorneys or authorised signatories as the Directors may think fit and may also authorise any such attorney or authorised person to delegate all or any of the powers, authorities and discretions vested in such attorney or authorised person.
- 40.4 The Directors may appoint such officers as they consider necessary on such terms, at such remuneration (if any) and to perform such duties, and subject to such provisions as to disqualification and removal as the Directors may think fit. Unless otherwise specified in the terms of such officer's appointment an officer may be removed by resolution of the Directors or Members.

41 Alternate Directors

- 41.1 Any Director (other than an alternate Director) may by written notice to the Company appoint any other Director, or any other person willing to act, to be an alternate Director and by written notice to the Company may remove from office an alternate Director so appointed by the Director.
- 41.2 An alternate Director shall be entitled to receive notice of all meetings of Directors and of meetings of committees of Directors of which such alternate Director's appointor is a member, to attend and vote at every such meeting at which the Director appointing such alternate Director is not personally present, and generally to perform all the functions of such alternate Director's appointor as a Director in such Director's absence.
- 41.3 An alternate Director shall cease to be an alternate Director if such alternate Director's appointor ceases to be a Director.
- 41.4 Any appointment or removal of an alternate Director shall be by notice to the Company signed by the Director making or revoking the appointment or in any other manner approved by the Directors.
- 41.5 Subject to the provisions of the Articles, an alternate Director shall be deemed for all purposes to be a Director and shall alone be responsible for such alternate Director's own acts and defaults and shall not be deemed to be the agent of the Director appointing such alternate Director.

42 No Minimum Shareholding for Directors

The Company in general meeting may fix a minimum shareholding required to be held by a Director, but unless and until such a shareholding qualification is fixed a Director shall not be required to hold Shares.

43 Remuneration of Directors

- 43.1 The remuneration to be paid to the Directors, if any, shall be such remuneration as the Directors shall determine. The Directors shall also be entitled to be paid all travelling, hotel and other expenses properly incurred by them in connection with their attendance at meetings of Directors or committees of Directors, or general meetings of the Company, or separate meetings of the holders of any Class of Shares or debentures of the Company, or otherwise in connection with the business of the Company, or to receive a fixed allowance in respect thereof as may be determined by the Directors, or a combination partly of one such method and partly the other.
- 43.2 The Directors may by resolution approve additional remuneration to any Director for any services other than such Director's ordinary routine work as a Director. Any fees paid to a Director who is also counsel to the Company, or otherwise serves it in a professional capacity, shall be in addition to such Director's remuneration as a Director.

44 Seal

The Company may, if the Directors so determine, have a Seal, which shall only be used by the authority of the Directors or of a committee of the Directors authorised by the Directors. Every instrument to which the Seal has been affixed shall be signed by at least one person who shall be either a Director or some officer or other person authorised by the Directors for the purpose.

45 Dividends, Distributions and Reserves

- 45.1 Subject to the Statute, these Articles, and the special rights attaching to Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series, the Directors may, in their absolute discretion, declare dividends and distributions on Participating Shares of any Class and/or Series in issue and authorise payment of the dividends or distributions out of the relevant Separate Account in respect of such Participating Shares. No dividend or distribution shall be paid except out of the realised or unrealised profits of the Company, or out of the share premium account attributable to Participating Shares of the Class and/or Series in respect of which the dividend or distribution is proposed to be paid, or as otherwise permitted by the Statute.
- 45.2 Except as otherwise provided by the rights attached to Participating Shares, or as otherwise determined by the Directors, all dividends and distributions in respect of Participating Shares of a particular Class and/or Series shall be declared and paid according to the Net Asset Value of the Participating Shares of the Class and/or Series that a Member holds. If any Participating Share is issued on terms providing that it shall rank for dividend or distribution as from a particular date, that Participating Share shall rank for dividend or distribution accordingly.
- 45.3 The Directors may deduct and withhold from any dividend or distribution otherwise payable to any Member all sums of money (if any) then payable by it to the Company on account of calls or otherwise or any monies which the Company is obliged by law to pay to any taxing or other authority.
- 45.4 Under no circumstances may the assets (or the income derived from such assets) attributed to a Separate Account in respect of any Class and/or Series be used to pay a dividend in respect of a Separate Account that is attributed to any other Class and/or Series.
- 45.5 The Directors may declare that any dividend or distribution be paid wholly or partly by the distribution of specific assets and in particular of shares, debentures or securities of any other company or in any one or more of such ways and, where any difficulty arises in regard to such distribution, the Directors may settle the same as they think expedient and in particular may issue fractional Shares and fix the value for distribution of such specific assets or any part thereof and may determine that cash payments shall be made to any Members upon the basis of the value so fixed in order to adjust the rights of all Members and may vest any such specific assets in trustees as may seem expedient to the Directors.
- 45.6 Any dividend, distribution, interest or other monies payable in cash in respect of Participating Shares may be paid by wire transfer to the holder or by cheque or warrant sent through the post directed to the registered address of the holder or, in the case of joint holders, to the registered address of the holder who is first named on the Register of Members or to such person and to such address as such holder or joint holders may in writing direct. Every such cheque or warrant shall (unless the Directors in their sole discretion otherwise determine) be made payable to the order of the person to whom it is sent. Any one of two or more joint holders may give effectual receipts for any dividends, bonuses, or other monies payable in respect of the Participating Share held by them as joint holders.
- 45.7 Any dividend or distribution which cannot be paid to a Member and/or which remains unclaimed after six months from the date of declaration of such dividend or distribution may, in the discretion of the Directors, be paid into a separate account in the Company's name, provided that the Company shall not be constituted as a trustee in respect of that account and the dividend or distribution shall remain as a debt due to the Member. Any dividend or distribution which remains unclaimed after a period of six years from the date of declaration of such dividend or distribution shall be forfeited and shall revert to the Company.

- 45.8 No dividend or distribution shall bear interest against the Company.

46 Capitalisation

The Directors may capitalise any sum standing to the credit of any of the Company's reserve accounts (including share premium account and capital redemption reserve) or any sum standing to the credit of profit and loss account or otherwise available for distribution and to appropriate such sum to Members of any Class and/or Series in the proportions in which such sum would have been divisible amongst them had the same been a distribution of profits by way of dividend and to apply such sum on their behalf in paying up in full unissued Participating Shares for allotment and distribution credited as fully paid-up to and amongst them in the proportion aforesaid. In such event the Directors shall do all acts and things required to give effect to such capitalisation, with full power to the Directors to make such provisions as they think fit for the case of Participating Shares becoming distributable in fractions (including provisions whereby the benefit of fractional entitlements accrue to the Company rather than to the Members concerned). The Directors may authorise any person to enter into an agreement with the Company, on behalf of all of the Members interested, providing for such capitalisation and matters incidental thereto and any agreement made under such authority shall be effective and binding on all concerned.

47 Books of Account

- 47.1 The Directors shall cause proper books of account (including, where applicable, material underlying documentation including contracts and invoices) to be kept with respect to all sums of money received and expended by the Company and the matters in respect of which the receipt or expenditure takes place, all sales and purchases of goods by the Company and the assets and liabilities of the Company. Such books of account must be retained for a minimum period of five years from the date on which they are prepared. Proper books shall not be deemed to be kept if there are not kept such books of account as are necessary to give a true and fair view of the state of the Company's affairs and to explain its transactions.
- 47.2 The Directors shall from time to time determine whether and to what extent and at what times and places and under what conditions or regulations the accounts and books of the Company or any of them shall be open to the inspection of Members not being Directors and no Member (not being a Director) shall have any right of inspecting any account or book or document of the Company except as conferred by Statute, or authorised by the Directors or by the Company in general meeting.
- 47.3 The Directors may from time to time cause to be prepared and to be laid before the Company in general meeting profit and loss accounts, balance sheets, group accounts (if any) and such other reports and accounts as may be required by law.

48 Audit

- 48.1 The Directors may appoint an Auditor of the Company who shall hold office on such terms as the Directors determine.
- 48.2 Every Auditor of the Company shall have a right of access at all times to the books and accounts and vouchers of the Company and shall be entitled to require from the Directors and officers of the Company such information and explanation as may be necessary for the performance of the duties of the Auditor.

- 48.3 Any Auditors of the Company shall, if so required by the Directors, make a report on the accounts of the Company during their tenure of office at the next annual general meeting following their appointment in the case of a company which is registered with the Registrar of Companies as an ordinary company, and at the next extraordinary general meeting following their appointment in the case of a company which is registered with the Registrar of Companies as an exempted company, and at any other time during their term of office, upon request of the Directors or any general meeting of the Members.

49 Notices

- 49.1 Notices shall be in writing and may be given by the Company to any Member either personally or by sending it by courier, post, cable, telex, fax or e-mail to the Member or to the address as shown in the Register of Members (or where the notice is given by e-mail by sending it to the e-mail address provided by such Member). Any notice, if posted from one country to another, is to be sent airmail.
- 49.2 Where a notice is sent by courier, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by delivery of the notice to a courier company, and shall be deemed to have been received on the third day (not including Saturdays or Sundays or public holidays) following the day on which the notice was delivered to the courier. Where a notice is sent by post, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing, pre paying and posting a letter containing the notice, and shall be deemed to have been received on the fifth day (not including Saturdays or Sundays or public holidays in the Cayman Islands) following the day on which the notice was posted. Where a notice is sent by cable, telex or fax, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing and sending such notice and shall be deemed to have been received on the same day that it was transmitted. Where a notice is given by e-mail service shall be deemed to be effected by transmitting the e-mail to the e-mail address provided by the intended recipient and shall be deemed to have been received on the same day that it was sent, and it shall not be necessary for the receipt of the e-mail to be acknowledged by the recipient.
- 49.3 A notice may be given by the Company to the person or persons which the Company has been advised are entitled to a Share or Shares in consequence of the death or bankruptcy of a Member in the same manner as other notices which are required to be given under these Articles and shall be addressed to them by name, or by the title of representatives of the deceased, or trustee of the bankrupt, or by any like description at the address supplied for that purpose by the persons claiming to be so entitled, or at the option of the Company by giving the notice in any manner in which the same might have been given if the death or bankruptcy had not occurred.
- 49.4 Notice of every general meeting shall be given in the manner authorised by these Articles to every person shown as holding Shares carrying an entitlement to receive such notice in the Register of Members on the record date for such meeting except that in the case of joint holders the notice shall be sufficient if given to the joint holder first named in the Register of Members and every person upon whom the ownership of a Share devolves by reason of such person being a legal personal representative or a trustee in bankruptcy of a Member where the Member but for such Member's death or bankruptcy would be entitled to receive notice of the meeting, and no other person shall be entitled to receive notices of general meetings.

50 Winding Up

- 50.1 If the Company shall be wound up the liquidator shall apply the assets of the Company in satisfaction of creditors' claims in such manner and order as such liquidator thinks fit. The liquidator shall in relation to the assets available for distribution among the Members make in the books of the Company such transfers thereof to and from Separate Accounts as may be necessary in order that the effective burden of such creditors' claims may be shared among the holders of Participating Shares of different Classes and/or Series in such proportions as the liquidator in such liquidator's absolute discretion may think equitable.
- 50.2 Subject to the special rights attaching to Participating Shares of any Class or Series, the balance shall then be applied in the following priority:
- (a) first, to the holders of Management Shares, an amount equal to the par value of such Management Shares; and
 - (b) second, the balance shall be paid to the holders of Participating Shares in proportion to the Net Asset Value of Participating Shares held, subject to a deduction from those Participating Shares in respect of which there are monies due, of all monies due to the Company for unpaid calls, or otherwise.
- 50.3 If the Company shall be wound up (whether the liquidation is voluntary or by or under the supervision of the Court) the liquidator may, with the authority of a resolution or resolutions passed by the holders of Participating Shares (whether as a whole or at separate Class meetings), divide among the Members in specie the whole or any part of the assets of the Company, and whether or not the assets shall consist of property of one kind or shall consist of property of different kinds, and may for such purposes set such value as the liquidator deems fair upon any one or more class or classes of property, and may determine how such division shall be carried out as between the Members or different classes of Members. The liquidator may, with the like authority, vest any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of Members as the liquidator, with the like authority, shall think fit, and the liquidation of the Company may be closed and the Company dissolved, but so that no Member shall be compelled to accept any shares or other property in respect of which there is a liability.

51 Indemnity and Insurance

- 51.1 Every Director and officer of the Company (which for the avoidance of doubt, shall not include any Auditor), together with every former Director and former officer of the Company (each an "Indemnified Person") shall be indemnified out of the assets of the Company against any liability, action, proceeding, claim, demand, costs, damages or expenses, including legal expenses, whatsoever which they or any of them may incur as a result of any act or failure to act in carrying out their functions other than such liability (if any) that they may incur by reason of their own actual fraud or wilful default. No Indemnified Person shall be liable to the Company for any loss or damage incurred by the Company as a result (whether direct or indirect) of the carrying out of their functions unless that liability arises through the actual fraud or wilful default of such Indemnified Person. No person shall be found to have committed actual fraud or wilful default under this Article unless or until a court of competent jurisdiction shall have made a finding to that effect.
- 51.2 The Company shall advance to each Indemnified Person reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defence of any action, suit, proceeding or investigation involving such Indemnified Person for which indemnity will or could be sought. In connection with any advance of any expenses hereunder, the Indemnified Person shall execute an undertaking to repay the advanced amount to the Company if it shall be determined by final judgment or other final adjudication that such Indemnified Person was not entitled to indemnification pursuant to this Article. If it shall be determined by a final judgment or other final adjudication that such Indemnified Person was not entitled to indemnification with respect to such judgment, costs or expenses, then such party shall not be indemnified with respect to such judgment, costs or expenses and any advancement shall be returned to the Company (without interest) by the Indemnified Person.

- 51.3 The Directors, on behalf of the Company, may purchase and maintain insurance for the benefit of any Director or other officer of the Company against any liability which, by virtue of any rule of law, would otherwise attach to such person in respect of any negligence, default, breach of duty or breach of trust of which such person may be guilty in relation to the Company.
- 51.4 Pursuant to the foregoing provisions, the Company may enter into a service or other agreement with any Director (or any entity providing one or more persons to the Company to act as Directors) upon such terms and conditions (including as to indemnification and exculpation) as the Directors shall, in their absolute discretion, determine. Any such indemnification and exculpation provisions may be specified to a standard equal to or more favourable (but not less favourable) to the Company than any standard specified in these Articles.

52 Disclosure

If required to do so under the laws of any jurisdiction to which the Company, the Investment Manager, the Administrator or any other service provider is subject, or in compliance with the rules of any stock exchange upon which the Company's Shares are listed, or to ensure the compliance by any person with any anti-money laundering law in any relevant jurisdiction, any Director, Officer, the Investment Manager, the Administrator or Auditor of the Company shall be entitled to release or disclose any information in its possession regarding the affairs of the Company or a Member including, without limitation, any information contained in the Register of Members or subscription documentation of the Company relating to any Member.

53 Financial Year

Unless the Directors otherwise prescribe, the financial year of the Company shall end on 31st December in each year and, following the year of incorporation, shall begin on 1st January in each year.

54 Transfer by way of Continuation

The Company shall, subject to the provisions of the Statute and with the approval of a Special Resolution, have the power to register by way of continuation as a body corporate under the laws of any jurisdiction outside the Cayman Islands and to be deregistered in the Cayman Islands.

55 Mergers and Consolidations

The Company shall, with the approval of a Special Resolution, have the power to merge or consolidate with one or more constituent companies (as defined in the Statute), upon such terms as the Directors may determine.

THIS SECOND AMENDED AND RESTATED EXEMPTED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT of Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P. is made on April 1, 2018 by and among Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC, as General Partner, those Persons who are listed on Exhibit A as Limited Partners and any other Persons who are admitted, from time to time, as Limited Partners of the Partnership, in accordance with this Agreement. This Agreement amends and restates in its entirety the Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership dated March 28, 2013 (the “Prior Agreement”).

Article I DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Agreement:

“Act” means the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, 2014 of the Cayman Islands, as amended, supplemented or replaced from time to time.

“Administrator” means such Person as the General Partner may designate from time to time, in its sole discretion, to serve as administrator to the Partnership.

“Advisory Committee” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.6.

“AEOI” means:

- (i) Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code and any associated legislation, regulations or guidance, and any other similar legislation, regulations or guidance enacted in any other jurisdiction which seeks to implement similar financial account information reporting and/or withholding tax regimes;
- (ii) the OECD Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters – the Common Reporting Standard and any associated guidance;
- (iii) any intergovernmental agreement, treaty, regulation, guidance, standard or other agreement between the Cayman Islands (or any Cayman Islands government body) and any other jurisdiction (including any government bodies in such jurisdiction), entered into in order to comply with, facilitate, supplement or implement the legislation, regulations, guidance or standards described in sub-paragraphs (a) and (b); and
- (iv) any legislation, regulations or guidance in the Cayman Islands that give effect to the matters outlined in the preceding sub-paragraphs.

“Affiliate” means, with respect to any Person, a Person which controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person. For these purposes, “control” means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise.

“Agreement” means this Second Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement, as amended from time to time.

“Automatic Dissolution Date” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1(a)(ii).

“BBA” means Subchapter C of Chapter 63 of the Code (Sections 6221 through 6241 of the Code), as enacted by the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, Pub. L. No. 114-74, as amended from time to time, and the Regulations thereunder (whether proposed, temporary or final), including any subsequent amendments, successor provisions or other guidance thereunder, and any equivalent provisions for state, local or non-U.S. tax purposes.

“BBA Effective Period” means any taxable year commencing after 2017, taking into account any extensions of the effective date set forth in the BBA.

“Business Day” means any day or days on which banks are open for business in the city of New York, NY and the Cayman Islands and/or such other place or places as the General Partner may determine.

“Calculation Period” means, with respect to each Capital Account of a Limited Partner, the period commencing as of the date of the establishment of the Capital Account (in the case of the initial Calculation Period) and thereafter each period commencing as of the day following the last day of the preceding Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Account, and ending as of the close of business on the first to occur of the following:

- (a) the last day of a calendar year;
- (b) the withdrawal of all or a portion of the Interest attributable to such Capital Account (but only with respect to such withdrawn amount);
- (c) the permitted transfer of all or any portion of such Capital Account; or
- (d) the final distribution with respect to such Capital Account to such Limited Partner following the dissolution of the Partnership.

“Capital Account” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.3(a).

“Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and as hereafter amended, or any successor law.

“Commencement Date” means the first date on or as of which a Limited Partner makes a capital contribution to the Partnership.

“Designated Individual” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.2(a).

“Domestic Fund” means Highland Dynamic Income Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership.

“ERISA” means the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as the same may be amended from time to time.

“ERISA Partner” means a Limited Partner which is (a) an employee benefit plan subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA, (b) a “plan” subject to Section 4975 of the Code, (c) an entity whose underlying assets include “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA by reason of a Plan’s investment in the entity, or (d) an entity that otherwise constitutes a “benefit plan investor” within the meaning of Section 3(42) of ERISA or any regulation promulgated thereunder.

“Feeder Fund Investor” means an investor in one of the Feeder Funds.

“Feeder Funds” means the Domestic Fund and the Offshore Fund.

“Fiscal Period” means each period that starts at the opening of business on the Commencement Date (in the case of the initial Fiscal Period) and thereafter on the day immediately following the last day of the preceding Fiscal Period, and that ends at the close of business on the earliest of the following dates:

- (a) the last day of a calendar month;
- (b) any date as of which any withdrawal or distribution of capital is made with respect to any Capital Account or as of which this Agreement provides for any amount to be credited to or debited against a Capital Account, other than a withdrawal or distribution by or to, or an allocation to, all Capital Accounts that does not result in any change of the Partnership Percentage relating to any Capital Account;
- (c) the date which immediately precedes any day as of which a capital contribution is accepted by the General Partner from any new or existing Partner; or
- (d) any other date which the General Partner selects.

“Fiscal Year” means the period commencing on the Commencement Date and ending on December 31 of the year of commencement, and thereafter each period commencing on January 1 of each year and ending on December 31 of such year, unless the General Partner shall elect another fiscal year, provided that any such other fiscal year shall be permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In the case of the Fiscal Year in which the Partnership is terminated in accordance with Article VI, “Fiscal Year” means the portion of the calendar year ending on the date on which the Partnership is terminated.

“GAAP” means generally accepted accounting principles in the United States.

“General Partner” means Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands, any successor thereto, and any Persons hereafter admitted as additional general partners, in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership.

“Gross Negligence” means “gross negligence” as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware.

“Indemnified Person” means each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, any member, shareholder, partner, manager, director, officer, employee or agent of, or any person who controls, the General Partner, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, members of the Advisory Committee or the Pricing Committee, their respective affiliates, or any of the legal representatives of any of the foregoing.

“Index Return Amount” means the amount that would have been credited or debited to such Capital Account for the Calculation Period if the rate of return had been equal to the return of the S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Total Return Index for such Calculation Period.

“Interest” means the entire ownership interest of a Partner in the Partnership at the relevant time, including the right of such Partner to any and all benefits to which a Partner may be entitled as provided in this Agreement, together with the obligations of such Partner to comply with all the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

“Investment Management Agreement” means the Investment Management Agreement by and among the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Feeder Funds and the Partnership.

“Investment Manager” means Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership, or any successor thereto, or any Person thereafter appointed as an investment manager of the Partnership in accordance with the Investment Management Agreement.

“Investments” means investments in securities or other financial or intangible investment instruments, contracts or products made by the Partnership, as more fully described in the Feeder Funds’ offering memoranda (as may be amended, updated or supplemented from time to time).

“Limited Participation Investment” means an Investment which, as determined by the General Partner, is suitable for some but not all of the Capital Accounts, or of which certain Capital Accounts should receive a reduced participation, for legal, tax, regulatory or other bona fide reasons.

“Limited Participation Sub-Accounts” means memorandum accounts to be maintained in the accounting records of the Partnership on a Capital Account-by-Capital Account basis with respect to each particular Limited Participation Investment to reflect the entitlement of each Capital Account (other than a Capital Account that does not have any credit balance at the time of the establishment of the Limited Participation Sub-Account that is unrelated to a pre-existing Limited Participation Sub-Account) to allocations and distributions attributable to Partnership transactions involving such Limited Participation Investments.

“Limited Partner” means each of the Persons set forth on Exhibit A and any Person who has become a Limited Partner pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, in each case in such Person's capacity as a limited partner of the Partnership. The General Partner may subdivide the Interests into separate series and establish new series pursuant to Section 2.10; provided, that, except as expressly set forth in this Agreement, for all purposes of the Act, the Limited Partners constitute a single class or group of limited partners.

"Liquidator" has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1(b).

"Management Fee" means an amount calculated at an annual rate of (i) 0.75% of each Capital Account of a Limited Partner. The Management Fee is calculated and payable quarterly in advance as further described in Section 3.5(a).

"Negative Basis" means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of such Partner's "adjusted tax basis" in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer or assignment of such Interest, including by reason of death) over the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or liquidation of the Partnership.

"Negative Basis Partner" means any Partner who withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership and who has a Negative Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal, but such Partner shall cease to be a Negative Basis Partner at such time as it shall have received allocations pursuant to Section 3.10(d) equal to such Partner's Negative Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal and without regard to such Partner's share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

"Net Assets" means the total value, as determined by the General Partner or its delegate(s) in accordance with Section 7.3, of all Investments and other assets of the Partnership (including net unrealized appreciation or depreciation of the assets and accrued interest and dividends receivable net of any withholding taxes), less an amount equal to all accrued debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership (including any reserves for contingencies accrued pursuant to Section 3.6). Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, Net Assets as of the first day of any Fiscal Period shall be determined on the basis of the valuation of assets conducted as of the close of the immediately preceding Fiscal Period but after giving effect to any capital contributions made by any Partner subsequent to the last day of such immediately preceding Fiscal Period and after giving effect to Management Fee charges and Net Assets as of the last day of any Fiscal Period shall be determined before giving effect to any of the following amounts payable by the Partnership generally or in respect of any Investment which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made:

- (a) any withdrawals or distributions payable to any Partner which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made; and
- (b) withholding or other taxes (including any amounts under any BBA provision), expenses of processing withdrawals and other items payable, any increases or decreases in any reserves or other amounts recorded pursuant to Section 3.6 and any increases or decreases in the value of any Limited Participation Investments during the Fiscal Period ending as of the date on which such determination is made, to the extent the General Partner determines that, pursuant to any provisions of this Agreement, such items are not to be charged ratably among the Capital Accounts of all Partners on the basis of their respective Partnership Percentages as of the commencement of the Fiscal Period.

“Net Loss” means any amount by which the Net Assets as of the first day of a Fiscal Period exceed the Net Assets as of the last day of the same Fiscal Period.

“Net Profit” means any amount by which the Net Assets as of the last day of a Fiscal Period exceed the Net Assets as of the first day of the same Fiscal Period.

“New Limited Partner” has the meaning assigned to such term in Section 8.2(a)(vi).

“Offshore Fund” means Highland Dynamic Income Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company.

“Other Account” means any assets or investment of the General Partner, or any assets managed by the General Partner or any Affiliate of the General Partner for the account of any Person or entity (including investment vehicles) other than the Partnership, which are invested or which are available for investment in securities or other instruments or for trading activities whether or not of the specific type being conducted by the Partnership.

“Partner” means the General Partner or any of the Limited Partners, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and “Partners” means the General Partner and all of the Limited Partners.

“Partnership” means the exempted limited partnership formed upon the filing of a statement under Section 9 of the Act with the Registrar on February 26, 2013, pursuant to the Prior Agreement and registered with the name “Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P.”

“Partnership Minimum Gain” has the meaning set forth in Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(2) and (d).

“Partnership Percentage” means a percentage established for each Capital Account on the Partnership’s books as of the first day of each Fiscal Period. The Partnership Percentage of a Capital Account for a Fiscal Period shall be determined by dividing the amount of such Capital Account as of the beginning of the Fiscal Period (after crediting all capital contributions to such Capital Account which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees) by the sum of all Capital Accounts as of the beginning of the Fiscal Period (after crediting all capital contributions to the Partnership which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees). The sum of the Partnership Percentages of all Capital Accounts for each Fiscal Period shall equal 100%.

“Performance Allocation” means, with respect to each Capital Account of a Limited Partner, 10% of the amount, determined as of the close of each Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Account, by which the Performance Change amount (positive and negative) for such Calculation Period exceeds the Index Return Amount (positive and negative) for such Capital Account for such Calculation Period.

“Performance Change” means, with respect to each Capital Account of a Limited Partner for each Calculation Period, the difference between:

(a) the sum of (a) the balance of such Capital Account as of the close of the Calculation Period (after giving effect to all allocations to be made to such Capital Account as of such date other than any Performance Allocation to be debited against such Capital Account), plus (b) any debits to such Capital Account during the Calculation Period to reflect any actual or deemed distributions or withdrawals with respect to such Capital Account, plus (c) any debits to such Capital Account during the Calculation Period to reflect any items allocable to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.5(b) or 3.5(c) hereof; and

(b) the sum of (a) the balance of such Capital Account as of the commencement of the Calculation Period, plus (b) any credits to such Capital Account during the Calculation Period to reflect any contributions by such Limited Partner to the Capital Account.

“Person” means any individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, or other entity.

“Plan Assets” means assets of the Partnership that are considered to be assets of an ERISA Partner, as determined pursuant to Section 3(42) of ERISA.

“Positive Basis” means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or liquidation of the Partnership over such Partner’s “adjusted tax basis” in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer or assignment of such Interest, including by reason of death).

“Positive Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership and who has a Positive Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal, but such Partner shall cease to be a Positive Basis Partner at such time as it shall have received allocations pursuant to Section 3.10(c) equal to such Partner’s Positive Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal and without regard to such Partner’s share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

“Pricing Committee” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.7.

“Prior Agreement” has the meaning set forth in the recitals hereto.

“Registrar” means the Registrar of Exempted Limited Partnerships of the Cayman Islands.

“Regulations” means the proposed, temporary and final U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated under the Code, including any successor regulations.

“Regulatory Allocations” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.11.

“Section 9 Statement” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.1(a).

“Section 10 Statement” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.1(b).

“Tax Matters Partner” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.2(a).

“Termination Date” has the meaning assigned to such term in Section 6.1(a).

“Transfer” means any sale, exchange, transfer, assignment or other disposition by a Partner of its Interest to another party, whether voluntary or involuntary, including a transfer by operation of law, but not including a pledge of or a granting of another form of security interest in any such Interest.

Article II ORGANIZATION

2.1 Continuation of Limited Partnership

- (a) The General Partner and Offshore Fund established the Partnership upon filing a statement under section 9 of the Act (the “Section 9 Statement”) with the Registrar on February 26, 2013, pursuant to the Prior Agreement, which Prior Agreement has governed the operation of the Partnership since that date. The General Partner hereby admits the Limited Partners who are a party to this Agreement (provided that the Initial Limited Partner (as defined in the Prior Agreement) is not hereby admitted but shall continue as a Limited Partner) and the General Partner and the Limited Partners hereby amend and restate the Prior Agreement in its entirety on the terms of this Agreement.
- (b) If requested by the General Partner, the Limited Partners will promptly execute all certificates and other documents consistent with the terms of this Agreement necessary for the General Partner to accomplish all filings, recordings, publishings and other acts as may be appropriate to comply with all requirements for (i) the formation and operation of an exempted limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands, (ii) if the General Partner deems it advisable, the operation of the Partnership as an exempted limited partnership, or partnership in which the Limited Partners have limited liability, in all jurisdictions where the Partnership proposes to operate and (iii) all other filings required by the Act to be made by the Partnership. The General Partner shall cause any required amendment to the Section 9 Statement, which shall be effected by way of the execution by the General Partner of a statement under Section 10 of the Act (the “Section 10 Statement”) with such statement to be filed promptly following the event requiring such amendment. All Section 10 Statements or any such amendments may be signed by the General Partner (as required by the Act), and may be signed either personally or by an attorney-in-fact or agent of the General Partner.

- (c) The Partnership received an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands to the effect that, for a period of 50 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits or income or gains or appreciations shall apply to the Partnership or to any Partner in respect of the operations or assets of the Partnership or the Interest of a Partner. The parties hereto acknowledge that they intend that the Partnership be taxed in the United States as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. No election may be made to treat the Partnership as other than a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

2.2 Name of Partnership

- (a) The name of the Partnership shall be Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P. or such other name as the General Partner may hereafter adopt upon (i) causing a statement pursuant to Section 10 of the Act to be filed with the Registrar and (ii) giving notice thereof to the Limited Partners.
- (b) The Partnership shall have the exclusive ownership and right to use the Partnership name so long as the Partnership continues, despite the withdrawal, expulsion, resignation or removal of any Limited Partner, but upon the Partnership's winding up or at such time as there ceases to be a General Partner, the Partnership shall assign the name and the goodwill attached thereto to the General Partner without payment by the assignee(s) of any consideration therefor.

2.3 Registered Office

- (a) The registered office address of the Partnership in the Cayman Islands is at c/o Maples Corporate Services Limited, P.O. Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands.
- (b) The General Partner may at any time change the location of the Partnership's registered office or registered agent in its sole discretion, provided that the registered office of the Partnership shall be in the Cayman Islands.

2.4 Term of Partnership

The term of the Partnership commenced on the date of formation and continues until wound up and dissolved pursuant to Section 6.1 (unless its term is extended pursuant to Section 6.1).

2.5 Object and Powers of Partnership

- (a) The object and business of the Partnership is to (1) purchase, sell (including short sales), invest and trade in Investments (2) engage in financial transactions, including borrowing, financing, pledging, hedging and other derivative transactions relating thereto for the benefit of the Partnership, (3) engage in any lawful act or activity for which exempted limited partnerships may be formed under the Act and (4) engage in any and all activities necessary or incidental to the foregoing; provided that the Partnership shall not undertake business with the public in the Cayman Islands other than so far as is necessary for the carrying on of the business of the Partnership exterior to the Cayman Islands.
- (b) The Partnership possesses and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership may exercise all such powers and privileges as the General Partner considers necessary, convenient or incidental to the conduct, promotion or attainment of the objects of the Partnership.

2.6 Liability of Partners

- (a) The liability of the Limited Partners is limited to their obligations under this Agreement and the Act. The General Partner is liable for all of the debts and obligations of the Partnership to the extent that the Partnership has insufficient assets. The General Partner shall not be personally liable for the withdrawal, payment or distribution of all or any part of any Interest, it being expressly agreed that any such withdrawal, payment or distribution to be made pursuant to this Agreement shall be made solely from the assets of the Partnership (which shall not include the General Partner's capital contributions) and on the terms and subject to the conditions contained in this Agreement.
- (b) In no event shall any Limited Partner (or former Limited Partner) be obligated to make any contribution to the Partnership in addition to its agreed capital contribution (or other payments provided for herein) or have any personal liability for the repayment or discharge of the debts and obligations of the Partnership except to the extent provided herein or as required by the Act or other applicable law.

2.7 Actions by Partnership

The General Partner on behalf of the Partnership may execute, deliver and perform all contracts, agreements and other undertakings and engage in all activities and transactions as may in the opinion of the General Partner be necessary or advisable to carry out the objects of the Partnership as set forth in Section 2.5 above. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Partnership shall not issue any securities other than Interests in the Partnership.

2.8 Reliance by Third Parties

Persons dealing with the Partnership are entitled to rely conclusively upon the power and authority of the General Partner as herein set forth.

2.9 Filings

- (a) The General Partner shall take any and all other actions as may be reasonably necessary to perfect and maintain the status of the Partnership as an exempted limited partnership under the Act and other laws of the Cayman Islands, including the filing of a notice pursuant to Section 10 of the Act with the Registrar signed by the General Partner upon the occurrence of certain amendments to the Section 9 Statement of the Partnership, and any other states or jurisdictions in which the Partnership engages in business.
- (b) Following the winding up of the Partnership and to effect the dissolution of the same, the General Partner or any duly appointed liquidator shall promptly (i) comply with the applicable provisions of Section 15 of the Act, (ii) execute and cause to be filed a notice of dissolution in accordance with Section 15(3) of the Act and (iii) file any certificates of cancellation in accordance with the laws of any states or jurisdictions in which the Partnership has filed certificates.

2.10 Series of Interests

The General Partner, at any time, may without notification to or consent of the other Limited Partners, create and offer different classes or series of Interests in the Partnership with such rights, obligations, liabilities, privileges, designations and preferences (including different investment strategies, underlying investments, degrees of leverage, management fees, performance allocations, brokerage commissions, transparency, withdrawal rights, co-investment opportunities, and other differences) as the General Partner may determine upon the issuance of such class or series; provided that such class or series would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the existing Limited Partners.

Article III CAPITAL

3.1 Contributions to Capital

- (a) Each Partner is permitted to make contributions to the capital of the Partnership at such times and in such amounts as the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may determine. The Limited Partners are not required to make any additional contributions to the Partnership, subject to the provisions of Section 3.5(b) and any contrary provision of the Act.
- (b) Each Person admitted as a General Partner agrees to make and maintain a capital contribution as a General Partner of at least U.S.$1.00. Except as provided above or in the Act, the General Partner is not required or obligated to make any additional contributions to the capital of the Partnership. The General Partner or an Affiliate shall have the right at any time to make additional capital contributions as a Limited Partner or General Partner.

3.2 Rights of Partners in Capital

- (a) No Partner shall be entitled to interest on its capital contributions to the Partnership.
- (b) No Partner shall have the right to the return of any capital contribution to the Partnership except, subject to the Act, (i) upon withdrawal by such Partner of all or part of its Interest pursuant to Section 5.3 or (ii) upon the winding up and dissolution of the Partnership pursuant to Section 6.1. The entitlement to any such return shall be limited to the value of the Capital Account of the Partner. The General Partner shall not be liable for the return of any such amounts.

3.3 Capital Accounts

- (a) The Partnership maintains a separate capital account (each a “Capital Account”) on the books and records of the Partnership for each Partner. The General Partner may, in its discretion, maintain separate memorandum sub-accounts related to a Capital Account for such purposes as the General Partner may determine appropriate, including for recordkeeping, accounting or reporting or to otherwise give effect to the provisions of this Agreement, and, if so determined by the General Partner, with each memorandum sub-account being maintained as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for all purposes of this Agreement unless the context requires otherwise. References herein to a “Capital Account” shall be deemed to refer to such a capital memorandum sub-account where the context admits. Each Capital Account must reflect the aggregate sum of the balances of memorandum sub-accounts in such Partner’s Capital Account. Without limiting the foregoing:
 - (i) with respect to the Domestic Fund, the Partnership maintains a separate memorandum sub-account with respect to the Domestic Fund’s Capital Account with respect to the capital account (and applicable memorandum sub-account) of each partner of such Domestic Fund;
 - (ii) in the case of the Offshore Fund, the Partnership maintains a separate memorandum sub-account with respect to each class and series of shares of the Offshore Fund attributable to a shareholder; and
 - (iii) Any separate memorandum sub-accounts established for a Limited Partner’s Capital Account may be consolidated at the beginning of each Calculation Period, as determined by the General Partner.
- (b) Each Capital Account shall have an initial balance equal to the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting the relevant Partner’s initial capital contribution to the Partnership.

- (c) Each Capital Account shall be increased by the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting additional contributions to such Capital Account permitted pursuant to Section 3.1.
- (d) Each Capital Account shall be reduced by the amount of any cash and the net value of any property withdrawn by or distributed to the relevant Partner pursuant to Sections 5.3 or 6.2.
- (e) The Capital Account of the General Partner will be increased by the amount of the Performance Allocation allocated to such Capital Account and the investment gains thereon pursuant to Section 3.7(a).
- (f) Each Capital Account, including any related Limited Participation Sub-Accounts, shall be adjusted to reflect allocations and other changes in the value of such Capital Account in the manner specified in the remaining provisions of this Article III.

3.4 Allocation of Net Profit and Net Loss

- (a) Subject to the remaining provisions of this Article III, as of the last day of each Fiscal Period, any Net Profit or Net Loss for such Fiscal Period shall be separately allocated among and credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages for such Fiscal Period.
- (b) Notwithstanding Section 3.4(a), items of income, gain, loss, deduction, credit and expenses for a Fiscal Period that are not allocable to specific Investments of the Partnership, including short term interest income, and audit, administration and legal expenses, shall be credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners pro rata in accordance with their Partnership Percentages for such Fiscal Period.
- (c) Notwithstanding Section 3.4(a), items of income, gain, loss, deduction, credit and expenses that relate to a Limited Participation Investment shall be allocated exclusively to those Capital Accounts that the General Partner determines are eligible to participate in such Limited Participation Investment on a pro rata basis based on their relative participation in such Limited Participation Investment.

3.5 Allocation of Management Fees, Withholding Taxes and Certain Other Expenditures

- (a) As of the first Business Day of each calendar quarter, and in the case of any Limited Partner who makes a capital contribution as of any other date, as of the date of such capital contribution, the Management Fee applicable to each Capital Account for such calendar quarter will be debited against the relevant Capital Account. Capital contributions accepted after the commencement of the calendar quarter shall be subject to a prorated Management Fee reflecting the time remaining during such calendar quarter. The General Partner may waive or decrease the Management Fee with respect to any Limited Partner and any Capital Account. The General Partner may delay the timing or alter the structure of fees payable to the Investment Manager so long as such changes are not materially adverse to the Limited Partners.

- (b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, to the extent the General Partner or the Partnership is required by law (including under circumstances where the General Partner or the Partnership is unable to rely conclusively on any withholding certification provided by a Partner) to withhold or to make tax payments, including any interest or penalties, on behalf of or with respect to any Partner or Partners (including, without limitation, any amount attributable to an actual or imputed underpayment of taxes under any BBA provision, backup withholding or AEOI withholding), the General Partner or the Partnership may withhold such amounts and make such tax payments as so required. If the Partnership directly or indirectly pays or incurs any withholding tax or other tax obligation (including any amount under any BBA provision), or otherwise incurs a tax payment with respect to the income allocable or distributable to, or otherwise attributable to, one or more Partners, then the amount of such withholding tax, tax obligation or payment will be treated as a distribution to such Partner or Partners, as applicable, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Such amount will be debited against the Capital Account(s) of such Partner or Partners as of the close of the Fiscal Period during which the Partnership so withholds, pays or incurs such obligation. If the amount so withheld, paid or incurred is greater than the balance of the Capital Account(s) of the relevant Partner or Partners, as applicable, then such Partner or Partners and any successors must make a contribution to the capital of the Partnership within 10 business days after notification and demand by the General Partner in the amount of such excess. The General Partner is not obligated to apply for or obtain a refund, or reduction of or exemption from withholding tax on behalf of any Partner that may be eligible for such refund, reduction or exemption, or otherwise obligated to structure Investments so as to reduce or avoid any such withholding tax. Each Limited Partner agrees to repay to the Partnership and the General Partner and each of the partners and former partners of the General Partner, any liability for taxes, interest or penalties which may be asserted by reason of the failure to deduct and withhold tax on amounts distributable or allocable to such Limited Partner.
- (c) Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement, any expenditures payable by the Partnership, to the extent determined by the General Partner to have been paid or withheld on behalf of, or by reason of particular circumstances applicable to, one or more but fewer than all of the Partners, shall be charged only to the relevant Capital Accounts of those Partners on whose behalf such payments are made or whose particular circumstances gave rise to such payments. Such charges shall be debited from the relevant Capital Accounts of such Partners as of the close of the Fiscal Period during which any such items were accrued by the Partnership.

3.6 Reserves; Adjustments for Certain Future Events

- (a) The General Partner may cause appropriate reserves to be created, accrued and charged against Net Assets including Limited Participation Investments and proportionately against the Capital Accounts for contingent liabilities or probable losses, such reserves to be in the amounts which the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The General Partner may increase or reduce any such reserve from time to time by such amounts as the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The amount of any such reserve, or any increase or decrease therein, may, at the election of the General Partner, be charged or credited, as the General Partner deems appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of those parties that were Partners at the time when such reserve was created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those parties that were Partners at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established by the General Partner.
- (b) If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then all or a portion of such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, in proportion to the Capital Account balances of the current Partners as such balances existed during any such prior period.

3.7 Performance Allocation

- (a) The Performance Allocation will be debited against each Capital Account of each Limited Partner as of the last day of each Calculation Period with respect to such Capital Account, and the amount so debited will simultaneously be credited to the Capital Account of the General Partner pursuant to Section 3.3(e).
- (b) The General Partner may waive or decrease the Performance Allocation with respect to any Limited Partner and any Capital Account.
- (c) Net Profit for each year shall be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner from the Capital Accounts of the Limited Partners pro rata in accordance with their share of Net Profits for such Calculation Period determined prior to the application of this Section 3.7 in an amount equal to the Performance Allocation for such Calculation Period. If the Performance Allocation for the Calculation Period is greater than the aggregate net profits realized by the Partnership allocable to the Capital Accounts bearing the Performance Allocation for such Calculation Period, the Capital Account of the General Partner will be allocated, in addition to the Net Profits, additional items of gross income realized by the Partnership allocable to the Capital Accounts bearing the Performance Allocation during such year sufficient to credit the Capital Account of the General Partner with the full Performance Allocation. If such special allocations of items of gross income cannot be made in an amount equal to such shortfall, the excess amounts shall be treated as a guaranteed payment for services pursuant to Section 707(c) of the Code. Appropriate adjustments will be made to the Capital Accounts bearing the Performance Allocation to reflect allocations of gross income described in the preceding sentence. The parties agree that, to the extent permitted by applicable law, for all federal income tax purposes, the Performance Allocation shall be treated as an allocation of profits of the partnership for purposes of Section 704(b) of the Code and the Regulations promulgated thereunder.

3.8 Limited Participation Investments

Whenever the Partnership makes a Limited Participation Investment, a Limited Participation Sub-Account shall be established for each Capital Account participating in such Limited Participation Investment to reflect such Capital Account's pro rata share of the Partnership's portion of all allocations and distributions attributable to transactions involving such Limited Participation Investment (and any related follow-on Investments, unless the General Partner determines to treat such follow-on Investment as a new Limited Participation Investment). Thereafter, the Partnership's portion of all credits and debits relating to such Limited Participation Investment (including those specifically referred to herein) shall be allocated among the Limited Participation Sub-Accounts for such Limited Participation Investment on a pro rata basis in accordance with each Capital Account's interest in such Limited Participation Investment. Expenses that relate to a Limited Participation Investment shall be allocated exclusively among the Limited Participation Sub-Accounts for such Limited Participation Investment on a pro rata basis in accordance with each Capital Account's interest in such Limited Participation Investment.

3.9 Allocation to Avoid Capital Account Deficits

To the extent that any debits pursuant to this Article III would reduce the balance of the Capital Account of any Limited Partner below zero, that portion of any such debits shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner. Any credits in any subsequent Fiscal Period which would otherwise be allocable pursuant to this Article III to a Capital Account of any Limited Partner previously affected by the application of this Section 3.9 shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner in such amounts as are necessary to offset all previous debits attributable to such Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 3.9 not previously recovered.

3.10 Allocations for Income Tax Purposes

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

- (a) Income Tax Allocations. Except as otherwise required by Code Section 704(c), items of income, gain, deduction, loss, or credit that are recognized for income tax purposes in each Fiscal Year will be allocated among the Partners (and among such Partner's Capital Accounts) in such manner as to reflect equitably amounts credited to or debited against each Partner's Capital Accounts, whether in such Fiscal Year or in prior Fiscal Years. To this end, the Partnership will establish and maintain records which shall show the extent to which the Capital Accounts of each Partner will, as of the last day of each Fiscal Year, comprise amounts that have not been reflected in the taxable income of such Partner. To the extent deemed by the General Partner to be feasible and equitable, taxable income and gains in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have enjoyed the related credits to their Capital Accounts, and items of deduction, loss and credit in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have borne the burden of the related debits to their Capital Accounts. Non-U.S. tax credits attributable to taxes incurred by the Partnership shall be allocated in a manner consistent with Section 1.704-1(b)(4)(viii) of the Regulations. All matters concerning allocations for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes, including accounting procedures, not expressly provided for in this Agreement will be determined by the General Partner.

- (b) Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Partnership asset pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code or Section 743(b) of the Code is required under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Regulations to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Partners in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such Section of the Regulations; provided that in the event that an adjustment to the book value of Partnership property is made as a result of an adjustment pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code, items of income, gain, loss, or deduction, as computed for book and tax purposes, will be specially allocated among the Partners so that the effect of any such adjustment shall benefit (or be borne by) the Partner(s) receiving the distribution that caused such adjustment.
- (c) Positive Basis Allocations. If the Partnership realizes gains or items of gross income (including short term capital gain) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Positive Basis Partners withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.3, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such gains or items of gross income among such Positive Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner, until either the full amount of such gains or items of gross income shall have been so allocated or the Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any gains or items of gross income not so allocated to Positive Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner as shall reflect equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership realizes gains or items of gross income from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Positive Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Positive Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there shall be allocated to such Positive Basis Partner an amount of such gains or items of gross income equal to the amount, if any, by which its Positive Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this sentence. For the avoidance of doubt, the General Partner may also, in its sole discretion, to apply the Positive Basis definitions and the provisions of this Section 3.10(c) to a withdrawal from a Capital Account.

- (d) Negative Basis Allocations. If the Partnership realizes net losses or items of gross loss or deduction (including short term capital loss) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Negative Basis Partners withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.3, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction among such Negative Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partners, until either the full amount of such losses or items of loss or deduction shall have been so allocated or the Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any net losses or items of gross loss or deduction not so allocated to Negative Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner as shall reflect equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership realizes net losses or items of gross loss and deduction from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Negative Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Negative Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there shall may be allocated to such Negative Basis Partner an amount of such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction equal to the amount, if any, by which its Negative Basis as of the effective date of withdrawal exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this sentence. For the avoidance of doubt, the General Partner may also, in its sole discretion, to apply the Negative Basis definitions and the provisions of this Section 3.10(d) to a withdrawal from a Capital Account.
- (e) Qualified Income Offset. In the event any Limited Partner unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6) of the Regulations, items of Partnership income and gain will be specially allocated to each such Limited Partner in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the deficit balance in the Capital Account of such Limited Partner as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.10(e) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit balance in its Capital Account after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been tentatively made as if this Section 3.10(e) were not in this Agreement. This Section 3.10(e) is intended to constitute a "qualified income offset" within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii) of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

- (f) Minimum Gain Chargeback. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 3.10, if there is a net decrease in Partnership Minimum Gain during any Fiscal Year, the Partners will be specially allocated items of Partnership income and gain for such Fiscal Year (and, if necessary, subsequent Fiscal Years) in an amount equal to the portion of any such Partner's share of the net decrease in Partnership Minimum Gain, determined in accordance with Regulations Sections 1.704-2(f) and (g). This Section 3.10(f) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement in such sections of the Regulations and must be interpreted consistently therewith.
- (g) Gross Income Allocation. In the event any Limited Partner has a deficit Capital Account at the end of any Fiscal Year that is in excess of the sum of (i) the amount such Limited Partner is obligated to restore pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and (ii) the amount such Limited Partner is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5) of the Regulations, each such Limited Partner will be specially allocated items of Partnership gross income and gain in the amount of such excess as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.10(g) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit Capital Account in excess of such sum after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been made as if Section 3.10(e) and this Section 3.10(g) were not in this Agreement.
- (h) Section 704(b) Compliance. The allocations provided in this Section 3.10 are intended to comply with the Regulations under Section 704(b) of the Code and may, as determined by the General Partner, be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent therewith.

3.11 Curative Allocations

The allocations set forth in Sections 3.10(b), (e), (f) and (g) (the “Regulatory Allocations”) are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Regulations. It is the intent of the Partners that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 3.11. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provision of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations), the General Partner shall make such offsetting special allocations of the Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Partner's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Partner would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of this Agreement and all Partnership items were allocated pursuant to other provisions of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations).

3.12 Individual Partners' Tax Treatment

Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership.

3.13 Distributions

- (a) The amount and timing of any distributions from the Partnership shall be determined by the General Partner. Distributions will generally be made in proportion to the Capital Account balances of the Partners at the beginning of the Fiscal Period when made; provided that distributions related to Limited Participation Investments will be made based on the proportionate interests of the Capital Accounts participating in such Limited Participation Investments. Any distributions may be paid in cash, in kind or partly in cash and partly in kind.
- (b) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership, and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, may not make a distribution to any Partner on any account of its Interest if such distribution would violate the Act or other applicable law.

3.14 Other Matters

- (a) The General Partner does not have any personal liability for the repayment of any capital contribution of any Partner.
- (b) Subject only to the relevant provisions of the Act, the Limited Partners are not personally liable for the debts, liabilities, contracts or other obligations of the Partnership except to the extent of their respective capital contributions; provided, however, that the foregoing is not to be construed as relieving any Partner of any obligations arising under Section 3.1 of this Agreement.
- (c) The Limited Partners shall not participate in the conduct of the Partnership's business nor shall they transact business for the Partnership, nor shall they have the power to sign for or bind the Partnership, said powers being vested exclusively in the General Partner.

Article IV MANAGEMENT

4.1 Duties and Powers of the General Partner

- (a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the General Partner shall have complete and exclusive power and responsibility, to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, for (i) all investment and investment management decisions to be undertaken on behalf of the Partnership and (ii) managing and administering the affairs of the Partnership, and shall have the power and authority to do all things that the General Partner considers necessary or desirable to carry out its duties hereunder and to achieve the purposes of the Partnership.

- (b) The General Partner shall have the right, without the notification to or consent of any Limited Partner or other Person, to make adjustments to the structure of the Partnership in order to address applicable structural, ownership, legal, or regulatory issues, or to improve overall tax efficiency; provided that no such adjustment would cause any material adverse consequences to the Limited Partners.
- (c) Without limiting the generality of the General Partner's duties and powers hereunder and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the General Partner shall have full power and authority, subject to the other terms and provisions of this Agreement, to execute, deliver and perform such contracts, agreements and other undertakings on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of any other Person, and to engage in all activities and transactions, as it may deem necessary or advisable for, or as may be incidental to, the conduct of the business contemplated by this Section 4.1, including, without in any manner limiting the generality of the foregoing, (i) contracts, agreements, undertakings and transactions with any Partner or with any other Person, firm or corporation having any business, financial or other relationship with any Partner or Partners, (ii) agreements with each Limited Partner in connection with its purchase of an Interest, (iii) any agreements to induce any Person to purchase an Interest, and (iv) the Investment Management Agreement delegating to the Investment Manager certain of the powers and authority vested by this Agreement in the General Partner as the General Partner and the Investment Manager may agree from time to time, each without any further act, approval or vote of any Person.
- (d) The General Partner may terminate or replace the Investment Manager in accordance with the terms of the Investment Management Agreement. The General Partner may delegate to any other Person any power and authority vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement that is not otherwise delegated to the Investment Manager.
- (e) Every power vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement shall be construed as a power to act (or not to act) in its sole and absolute discretion, except as otherwise expressly provided herein. No provision of this Agreement shall be construed to require the General Partner to violate the Act or any other law, regulation or rule of any self-regulatory organization.
- (f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or otherwise applicable provision of law or equity, whenever in this Agreement, the General Partner is permitted or required to make a decision (i) in its "sole discretion" or "discretion" or under a grant of similar authority or latitude, the General Partner shall be entitled to consider only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests, and shall, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, have no duty or obligation to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting the Partnership or the Limited Partners, or (ii) in its “good faith” or under another expressed standard, the General Partner shall act under such express standard and shall not be subject to any other or different standards. Unless otherwise expressly stated, for purposes of this Section 4.1(f), the General Partner shall be deemed to be permitted or required to make all decisions hereunder in its sole discretion.

- (g) The General Partner must cause the Partnership to conduct its dealings with third parties in its own name.
- (h) The General Partner must, throughout the term of the Partnership as set out in Section 2.4, take all actions that may be necessary or appropriate for the continuation of the Partnership’s valid existence as an exempted limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands.

4.2 Expenses

- (a) Subject to Section 4.2(f), each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager pays all of its own operating and overhead costs without reimbursement by the Partnership (except liability insurance and items described in Section 4.2(b)(iv)). The Partnership will not have its own separate employees or officers, and it will not reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead expenses of the General Partner or the Investment Manager.
- (b) The Partnership, and not the General Partner or the Investment Manager, will pay, or reimburse the General Partner and the Investment Manager for, all other costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Partnership’s operations. Such expenses payable by the Partnership include the following:
 - (i) all investment-related expenses (including those related to identifying and evaluating contemplated investments, whether or not such contemplated investments are actually made), including, but not limited to, brokerage commissions and other transaction costs, expenses related to short sales, clearing and settlement charges, expenses related to proxies, underwriting and private placements, custodial fees, transfer agent fees, bank service fees, any governmental, regulatory, licensing, filing or registration fees incurred in compliance with the rules of any self-regulatory organization or any federal, state or local laws, consulting and any other professional fees or compensation (including investment banking expenses) relating to particular investments or contemplated investments, appraisal fees and expenses, investment-related travel and lodging expenses and research-related expenses (including, without limitation, news and quotation equipment and services), fees to third-party providers of risk-monitoring services, investment and trading-related computer hardware and software,

- including, without limitation, trade order management software (i.e., software used to route trade orders);
- (ii) accounting (including accounting software), audit and tax preparation expenses;
 - (iii) costs and expenses associated with reporting and providing information to existing and prospective investors;
 - (iv) any legal fees and costs (including indemnification expenses, regulatory costs and settlement costs) arising in connection with any litigation or regulatory investigation instituted against the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates in their capacity as such, subject to Section 4.5;
 - (v) except as otherwise provided in Section 3.5, any taxes imposed or assessed upon, or payable by, the Partnership (including interest and penalties);
 - (vi) costs of any meeting of the Partners (or of obtaining the consent of the Partners in lieu of meeting);
 - (vii) expenses related to the Advisory Committee and the Pricing Committee;
 - (viii) premiums for directors' and officers' liability insurance (if any) and any other insurance benefiting the Partnership;
 - (ix) Management Fees;
 - (x) administrative expenses (including, without limitation, the fees and expenses of the Administrator in relation to its services provided pursuant to the administration agreement);
 - (xi) fees relating to valuing the Partnership's assets;
 - (xii) expenses related to the maintenance of the Partnership's registered office;
 - (xiii) corporate licensing expenses;
 - (xiv) extraordinary expenses; and
 - (xv) any costs or expenses of winding up and liquidating the Partnership.
- (c) Expenses generally will be borne pro rata by the Partners in accordance with the balances of their respective Capital Accounts; provided that expenses may be specially allocated among the Capital Accounts as follows:
- (i) with respect to expenses related to Investments (other than Limited Participation Investments), pro rata in accordance with the balances of their respective Capital Accounts exclusive of the value of any Limited Participation Sub-Account; and

- (ii) as provided elsewhere in this Agreement, including Sections 3.4, 3.5, 3.6, 3.8 and 5.3.
- (d) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Partnership for any of the expenses paid by it on behalf of the Partnership pursuant to Section 4.2(b); provided that the General Partner may absorb any or all of such expenses incurred on behalf of the Partnership. The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities hereunder, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Partnership, including, but not limited to, any affiliate of the Investment Manager, but payment for any such services shall be assumed by the Investment Manager and the Partnership shall not have any liability therefor; provided, however, that the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Partnership hereunder, and the Partnership shall bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.
- (e) If the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall incur any of the expenses referred to in Section 4.2(b) for the account or for the benefit of, or in connection with its activities or those of its Affiliates on behalf of, both the Partnership and any Other Account, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, will allocate such expense among the Partnership and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the Investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the General Partner considers fair and reasonable.
- (f) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is entitled to use “soft dollars” generated by the Partnership to pay for certain investment research and brokerage services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the General Partner or the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities to the extent such use falls within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or is otherwise reasonably related to the investment decision-making process, or to cover certain Partnership expenses described in Section 4.2(b). Use of “soft dollars” by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as described herein shall not constitute a breach by either the General Partner or the Investment Manager of any fiduciary or other duty which the General Partner or the Investment Manager may be deemed to owe to the Partnership or its Partners.

4.3 Rights of Limited Partners

The Limited Partners shall take no part in the management, control or operation of the Partnership's business, and shall have no right or authority to act for the Partnership or to vote on matters other than the matters set forth in this Agreement or as required by applicable law. Except as otherwise provided herein or required by law, a Limited Partner shall have no liability for the debts or obligations of the Partnership.

4.4 Other Activities of Partners

- (a) The General Partner shall not be required to devote any specific amount of its time to the affairs of the Partnership, but shall devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Partnership as it shall determine in good faith to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Partnership for the benefit of the Partnership and the Partners.
- (b) Each Partner agrees that any other Partner, and any partner, director, officer, shareholder, member, Affiliate or employee of any other Partner, may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures or commercial dealings of every kind and description, independently or with others, including, but not limited to, management of other accounts, investment in, or financing, acquisition and disposition of, securities, investment and management counseling, brokerage services, serving as directors, officers, advisers or agents of other companies, partners of any partnership, or trustee of any trust, or entering into any other commercial arrangements, and will not be disqualified solely on the basis that any such activities may conflict with any interest of the parties with respect to the Partnership. Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each Partner hereby acknowledges that (i) none of the Partners or their respective partners, directors, officers, shareholders, members, Affiliates or employees shall have any obligation or responsibility to disclose or refer any of the investment or other opportunities obtained through activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) to the General Partner or the Limited Partners, but may refer the same to any other party or keep such opportunities for their own benefit; and (ii) the Partners and their respective partners, directors, officers, shareholders, members, Affiliates and employees are hereby authorized to engage in activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) with, or to purchase, sell or otherwise deal or invest in Investments issued by, companies in which the General Partner might from time to time invest or be able to invest or otherwise have any interest on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of the Partnership or any other Partner. The Partners expressly agree that no other Partner shall have any rights in or to such other activities, or any profits derived therefrom.
- (c) The General Partner and its Affiliates shall allocate investment opportunities to the Partnership and any Other Account fairly and equitably over time. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner is under no obligation to accord exclusivity or priority to the Partnership in the event of limited investment opportunities. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed Investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific Investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (ii) the potential for the proposed Investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (iii) liquidity requirements of the account; (iv) potentially adverse tax consequences; (v) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed Investment; and (vi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio. The General Partner has the authority to allocate trades to multiple accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the General Partner may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time.

- (d) The principals of the General Partner, as well as the employees and officers thereof and of organizations affiliated with the General Partner, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Partnership (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of Interests) unless appropriate approval of the Advisory Committee is obtained and such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Advisers Act or such purchase or sale is otherwise in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Advisers Act.
- (e) Each Partner hereto hereby waives, and covenants not to bring a cause of action in law or equity on the basis of, any law (statutory, common law or otherwise) respecting the rights and obligations of the Partners which is or may be inconsistent with this Section 4.4.
- (f) The General Partner and its Affiliates reserve the right to establish collective investment vehicles that have stated investment programs or terms that differ from those of the Partnership or that are targeted primarily to investors for which the Partnership is not designed to be a suitable investment vehicle. The General Partner and its Affiliates also reserve the right to establish and provide management or advisory services pursuant to separate Other Accounts for significant investors, whether or not such accounts have the same investment program as the Partnership.

4.5 Duty of Care; Indemnification

- (a) None of the Indemnified Persons will be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner or any other person for mistakes of judgment or for action or inaction that did not constitute Gross Negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith, or for losses due to such mistakes, action or inaction or to the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of any broker or agent of the Partnership, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by the Indemnified Person in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. No Indemnified Person shall be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner or any other person for any amount in excess of the amount of Management Fees received by the Investment Manager, to the extent permitted under applicable law. In addition, in no event shall any Indemnified Person be liable for any special, indirect, exemplary, consequential or punitive losses or damages. An Indemnified Person may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Partnership's affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. The foregoing provisions, however, shall not be construed so as to provide for the exculpation of an Indemnified Person of any liability (including liability under U.S. Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons acting in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law (including liability under U.S. Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons acting in good faith), but shall be construed so as to effectuate the abovementioned provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

- (b) The Partnership shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Person from and against any and all loss, cost or expense suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Person by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Person, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability, damage loss, cost or expense resulted from a mistake of judgment on the part of an Indemnified Person or from action or inaction that did not constitute Gross Negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith, or from the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of a broker or other agent of an Indemnified Person, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by the Indemnified Person in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. The Partnership will, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, advance to any Indemnified Person reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct. In the event that such an advance is made by the Partnership, the Indemnified Person will agree to reimburse the Partnership to the extent that it is finally determined that it was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.
- (c) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of this Section 4.5 do not provide for the indemnification of any Indemnified Person for any liability (including liability under Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

- (d) Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Indemnified Person, the Partnership (and not the applicable Indemnified Person) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent Gross Negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of any Indemnified Person.
- (e) The above-mentioned Indemnified Persons are also indemnified by each Limited Partner for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that Limited Partner, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith to the extent that the balance of the Limited Partner's Capital Account is insufficient to fully compensate the General Partner or the Investment Manager for such costs.
- (f) The General Partner may make, execute, record and file on its own behalf and on behalf of the Partnership all instruments and other documents (including one or more deed polls in favor of categories of Indemnified Persons and/or one or more separate indemnification agreements between the Partnership and individual Indemnified Persons) that the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate in order to extend the benefit of the provisions of Sections 4.5(a) and 4.5(b) to the Indemnified Persons; provided, that, such other instruments and documents authorized hereunder shall be on the same terms as provided for in Sections 4.5(a) and 4.5(b) except as otherwise may be required by applicable law.

4.6 Advisory Committee

- (a) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may appoint a committee (the "Advisory Committee") composed of one or more individuals selected by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager from time to time, none of whom is affiliated with the General Partner or the Investment Manager.
- (b) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may in its/their discretion seek the approval of the Advisory Committee or establish any other reasonable mechanism in connection with (i) approvals that are or would be required under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (including Section 206(3)), or (ii) any other matter deemed appropriate by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager. Each Limited Partner agrees that, except as otherwise specifically provided herein and to the extent permitted by applicable law, the approval of a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee at such time is binding upon the Partnership and each Partner with respect to any approval sought under this Section 4.6(b).
- (c) Subject to the foregoing, any recommendations of or actions taken by the Advisory Committee are advisory only and the General Partner and the Investment Manager are not required or otherwise bound to act in accordance with any such recommendations or actions.

- (d) As determined by the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, meetings of the Advisory Committee may be held in person or by telephone. Approval of the Advisory Committee is deemed to have been given if given by a majority of those members present at a meeting or by a majority of all members of the Advisory Committee if given pursuant to a written consent without a meeting.
- (e) The Partnership agrees to reimburse members of the Advisory Committee for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify them to the maximum extent permitted by law.

4.7 Pricing Committee

- (a) The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager shall appoint a committee (a “Pricing Committee”) whose quorum consists of at least a majority of the following individuals: the Chief Financial Officer of the Investment Manager, the Chief Compliance Officer of the Investment Manager and one or more traders of the Investment Manager. The Pricing Committee meets on at least a monthly basis to review, confirm and agree on all pricing information established by the Investment Manager in respect of the Partnership’s assets that are fair valued. The final pricing or valuation of such Partnership assets shall require the approval of a majority in number of the members of the Pricing Committee constituting a quorum as of a relevant valuation date. In lieu of meeting, the Pricing Committee may take action by written consent signed by a majority of the committee members. The Pricing Committee may, at the Partnership’s expense, engage third-party experts and consultants to provide services in connection with any determination to be made by the Pricing Committee. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may replace members of the Pricing Committee or change the composition of the Pricing Committee, in their sole discretion.
- (b) In connection with the valuation of Partnership assets, the General Partner shall:
 - (i) with respect to the Partnership’s assets that are tracked by third party pricing services to which the Investment Manager’s data administrator currently subscribes, use reasonable efforts to cause the Administrator (if any) to obtain independent pricing on at least a monthly basis from such data administrator;
 - (ii) with respect to the Partnership’s assets that are not tracked by third party pricing services, but for which the Investment Manager obtains pricing information from third party brokerage firms, require that the Investment Manager provide copies of such brokerage pricing to the Administrator on at least a monthly basis; and
 - (iii) with respect to the Partnership’s assets that are neither tracked by a third party pricing service nor for which the Investment Manager obtains pricing information from third party brokerage firms, require the Investment Manager to calculate pricing in its reasonable discretion and will provide all such pricing information directly to the Administrator on at least a monthly basis.

Article V ADMISSIONS, TRANSFERS AND WITHDRAWALS

5.1 Admission of Partners

The General Partner may, without the consent of any existing Partners, admit any Person who agrees to be bound by all of the terms of this Agreement as a General Partner or a Limited Partner upon the execution by or on behalf of it and the acceptance by the General Partner of a deed of adherence to this Agreement in form satisfactory to the General Partner. The amount of any initial capital contribution to be made by such additional Partner is determined by the General Partner (in its sole discretion). Effective upon such admission, the Partnership Percentage of each existing Partner is adjusted pro rata to reflect the Partnership Percentage of the additional Partner, and the Partnership's records are revised to reflect such adjusted Partnership Percentages, as well as the name, initial capital contribution and Partnership Percentage of such additional Partner. No Limited Partner may Transfer all or any portion of its Interest without the prior written consent of the General Partner.

5.2 Transfer and Withdrawal of the General Partner

Without the consent of a majority in number of the Limited Partners, the General Partner shall not have the right to assign or otherwise transfer its Interest as the general partner of the Partnership, and the General Partner shall not have the right to withdraw from the Partnership without the consent of the Limited Partners. In the event of an assignment or transfer of all of its Interest as a general partner of the Partnership in accordance with this clause, the new general partner will immediately notify the Registrar in the Cayman Islands in accordance with Section 10 of the Act and the outgoing General Partner will take such actions as may be necessary to novate and assign all contracts signed on behalf of the Partnership to the new general partner whereupon the new general partner will be substituted as general partner of the Partnership in place of the outgoing General Partner and immediately thereafter the outgoing General Partner will cease to be the general partner of the Partnership.

5.3 Transfer and Withdrawal of Interests of Limited Partners

- (a) The General Partner shall have the right, in its sole discretion, to (i) prohibit Transfers of Limited Partner Interests, (ii) compel withdrawals of Limited Partner Interests and (iii) take such other actions as the General Partner deems necessary to ensure that the assets of the Partnership do not constitute Plan Assets for purposes of ERISA.
- (b) Subject to obtaining the General Partner's consent, each of the Limited Partners may voluntarily withdraw all or part of its Interest at such times and in such amounts as such Limited Partner may determine.

- (c) The General Partner may postpone or suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Partnership (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of Interests, (c) the withdrawal by Limited Partners (and the applicable withdrawal date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and withdrawal dates are not postponed) if it determines that such a suspension is warranted by extraordinary circumstances, including: (i) during any period when any stock exchange or over-the-counter market on which the Partnership's investments are quoted, traded or dealt in is closed, other than for ordinary holidays and weekends, or during periods in which dealings are restricted or suspended; (ii) during the existence of any state of affairs as a result of which, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, disposal of investments by the Partnership, or the determination of the value of the assets of the Partnership, would not be reasonably practicable or would be seriously prejudicial to the non-redeeming partners; (iii) during any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the price or value of the Partnership's assets or liabilities, or of current prices in any stock market as aforesaid, or when for any other reason the prices or values of any assets or liabilities of the Partnership cannot reasonably be accurately ascertained within a reasonable time frame; (iv) during any period when the transfer of funds involved in the realization or acquisition of any investments cannot, in the reasonable opinion of the General Partner, be effected at normal rates of exchange; or (v) automatically upon termination of the Partnership as described in Section 6.1.

Article VI LIQUIDATION AND TERMINATION

6.1 Termination of Partnership

- (a) The Partnership shall be wound up and dissolved upon the first to occur of the following dates (each, a "Termination Date") and Sections 36(1)(b), 36(9) and 36(12) of the Act shall not apply to the Partnership:
- (i) any date on which the General Partner shall elect in writing to terminate the Partnership;
 - (ii) if the General Partner is the sole or last remaining general partner, the date (the "Automatic Dissolution Date") falling 90 days after the date of the service of a notice by the General Partner (or its legal representative) on all the Limited Partners informing the Limited Partners of:
 - (1) the commencement of liquidation or bankruptcy proceedings in relation to the General Partner; or
 - (2) the withdrawal, removal or making of a winding up or dissolution order in relation to the General Partner;

provided that, if a majority in number of the Limited Partners elects one or more new general partners before the Automatic Dissolution Date, the business of the Partnership shall be resumed and continued. If a new general partner is not elected by the Automatic Dissolution Date, the Partnership shall be wound up and dissolved in accordance with terms of this Agreement and the Act.

- (b) Upon such Termination Date, the Partnership shall be wound up in accordance with the Act by the General Partner or if the General Partner is unable to perform this function, a liquidator elected by a Majority of the Limited Partners (a “Liquidator”), which shall take all steps necessary or appropriate to wind up the affairs of the Partnership as promptly as practicable thereafter. Neither the admission of Partners nor the withdrawal, bankruptcy, death, legal incapacity or disability of a Limited Partner shall terminate the Partnership.
- (c) The parties agree that irreparable damage would be done to the goodwill and reputation of the Partners if any Limited Partner should bring an action in court to dissolve the Partnership. Care has been taken in this Agreement to provide for fair and just payment in liquidation of the Interests of all Partners. Accordingly, to the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner hereby waives and renounces its right to such a court decree of dissolution or to seek the appointment by the court of a liquidator for the Partnership except as provided herein, and no Limited Partner may present a winding up petition against the Partnership without the prior written consent of the General Partner.

6.2 Liquidation of Assets

- (a) Upon the Termination Date of the Partnership, the General Partner or Liquidator (as applicable) shall promptly liquidate the business and administrative affairs of the Partnership to the extent feasible. Net Profit and Net Loss and any balances in Limited Participation Sub-Accounts during the Fiscal Periods, which includes the period of liquidation, shall be allocated pursuant to Article III. The proceeds from liquidation shall be divided in the following manner, subject to the Act:
 - (i) the debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership, other than any debts to the Partners as Partners, and the expenses of liquidation (including legal, administrative and accounting expenses incurred in connection therewith), up to and including the date that distribution of the Partnership’s assets to the Partners has been completed, shall first be satisfied (whether by payment or the making of reasonable provision for payment thereof);
 - (ii) such debts as are owing to the Partners as Partners are next paid; and
 - (iii) the Partners shall next be paid liquidating distributions (in cash or in securities or other assets, whether or not readily marketable) pro rata in accordance with, and up to the positive balances of their respective Capital Accounts, as adjusted pursuant to Article III to reflect allocations for the Fiscal Period ending on the date of the distributions under this Section 6.2(a)(iii).

- (b) Notwithstanding this Section 6.2 and the priorities set forth in the Act, the General Partner or Liquidator may distribute ratably in-kind rather than in cash, upon dissolution, any assets of the Partnership; provided, however, that if any in-kind distribution is to be made, (i) the assets distributed in-kind shall be valued pursuant to Section 7.3, and charged as so valued and distributed against amounts to be paid under Section 6.2(a) and (ii) any gain or loss (as computed for book purposes) attributable to property distributed in-kind shall be included in the Net Profit, Net Loss or Limited Participation Sub-Accounts for the Fiscal Period ending on the date of such distribution.
- (c) The General Partner shall, pursuant to Section 36(2) of the Act, file a notice of dissolution with the Registrar upon completion of the winding up of the Partnership.

Article VII ACCOUNTING AND VALUATION; BOOKS AND RECORDS

7.1 Accounting and Reports

- (a) The Partnership may adopt for tax accounting purposes any accounting method which the General Partner shall decide is in the best interests of the Partnership and which is permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
- (b) As soon as practicable after the end of each Fiscal Year, the General Partner shall cause an audit of the financial statements of the Partnership as of the end of each such period to be made by a firm of independent accountants selected by the General Partner. As soon as is practicable thereafter the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner a copy of the set of financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP (subject to this Agreement), with such adjustments thereto as the General Partner determines appropriate, including the report of such independent accountants. The General Partner may elect not to reserve certain amounts that may be required by GAAP and not to provide certain portfolio disclosure required by GAAP to investors and may capitalize and amortize certain of its organizational expenses in deviation from GAAP. Such deviations from GAAP may result in a qualified opinion rendered on the financial statements of the Partnership.
- (c) As soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year, the General Partner shall furnish to each Limited Partner such information as may be required to enable each Limited Partner properly to report for U.S. federal, state, local or other income tax purposes its distributive share of each Partnership item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit for such year. The General Partner shall have discretion as to how to report Partnership items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit on the Partnership's tax returns, and the Limited Partners shall treat such items consistently on their own tax returns.

7.2 Certain Tax Matters

- (a) By joining this Agreement, each Limited Partner appoints and designates the General Partner (i) as the "tax matters partner," within the meaning of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code, and, (ii) for any BBA Effective Period, as the "partnership representative" within the meaning of Section 6223 of the Code (as applicable, the "Tax Matters Partner"), or, in each case, under any similar state or local law, and, if the "partnership representative" is an entity, the General Partner shall have the exclusive authority to appoint and designate the individual through whom such partnership representative will act for all purposes under subchapter C of chapter 63 of the Code and, if applicable, any similar state or local law (the "Designated Individual"). All references to the Tax Matters Partner herein shall include the Designated Individual, unless the context requires otherwise. The Tax Matters Partner shall have any powers necessary to perform fully in such capacity, and shall be permitted to take any and all actions, to the extent permitted by law, in consultation with the General Partner if the General Partner is not the Tax Matters Partner. The General Partner shall have the exclusive authority to appoint and designate the Investment Manager, or an Affiliate of the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as a successor Tax Matters Partner for any BBA Effective Period. The Tax Matters Partner shall be reimbursed by the Partnership for all costs and expenses incurred by it, and to be indemnified by the Partnership with respect to any action brought against it, in its capacity as the Tax Matters Partner.
- (b) The Limited Partners agree that any and all actions taken by the Tax Matters Partner shall be binding on the Partnership and all of the Limited Partners and the Limited Partners shall reasonably cooperate with the Partnership or the General Partner, and undertake any action reasonably requested by the Partnership or the General Partner, in connection with any elections made by the Tax Matters Partner or as determined to be reasonably necessary by the Tax Matters Partners under any BBA provision.
- (c) Each Limited Partner further agrees that such Limited Partner will not independently act with respect to tax audits or tax litigation affecting the Partnership, unless the prior written consent of the General Partner has been obtained.
- (d) The General Partner may in its sole discretion cause the Partnership to make all elections not otherwise expressly provided for in this Agreement required or permitted to be made by the Partnership under the Code and any state, local or non-U.S. tax laws.
- (e) To the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner agrees to (i) provide such cooperation and assistance, including executing and filing forms or other statements and providing information about the Limited Partner, as is reasonably requested by the Tax Matters Partner, to enable the Partnership to satisfy any applicable tax reporting or compliance requirements, to make any tax election or to qualify for an exception from or reduced rate of tax or other tax benefit or be relieved of liability for any tax regardless of whether such requirement, tax benefit or tax liability existed on the date such Partner was admitted to the Partnership, (ii) amend the Limited Partner's tax returns and pay any resulting taxes, interest and penalties in connection with the Partnership's electing under Section 6225(a) of the Code, as amended by the BBA, (iii) take into account any adjustments and pay any taxes, interest and penalties that result from the Partnership's electing under Section 6226 of the Code, as amended by the BBA, and/or (iv) indemnify and hold harmless the Partnership, the Tax Matters Partner and any other individual designated to interact with tax authorities on behalf of the Partnership from and against any liability with respect to the Limited Partner's share of any tax deficiency (including any interest and penalties associated therewith) paid or payable by the Partnership that is (a) allocable to such Limited Partner (as reasonably determined by the General Partner in accordance with this Agreement) with respect to an audited or reviewed taxable year for which such Partner was a Partner in the Partnership or (b) attributable (as reasonably determined by the General Partner) to the failure of such Limited Partner to cooperate with or provide any such forms, statements, or other information as requested by the Tax Matters Partner pursuant to clause (i) above.

- (f) The obligations and covenants of the Limited Partners set forth in Sections 3.5, 7.2 and 7.3 hereof shall apply jointly and severally to each Limited Partner and any direct or indirect transferee of or successor to such Limited Partner's interest and shall survive such Limited Partner's ceasing to be a Partner in the Partnership and/or the termination, dissolution, liquidation and winding up of the Partnership.

7.3 AEOI

Each Partner acknowledges and agrees that:

- (a) the Partnership is required to comply with the provisions of AEOI;
- (b) it will provide, in a timely manner, such information regarding the Partner and its beneficial owners and such forms or documentation as may be requested from time to time by the Partnership (whether by its General Partner or other agents such as the Investment Manager or the Administrator) to enable the Partnership to comply with the requirements and obligations imposed on it pursuant to AEOI, specifically, but not limited to, forms and documentation which the Partnership may require to determine whether or not the Partner's relevant investment is a "Reportable Account" (under any AEOI regime) and to comply with the relevant due diligence procedures in making such determination;
- (c) any such forms or documentation requested by the Partnership or its agents pursuant to paragraph (b), or any financial or account information with respect to the Partner's investment in the Partnership, may be disclosed to the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority (or any other Cayman Islands governmental body which collects information in accordance with AEOI) and to any withholding agent where the provision of that information is required by such agent to avoid the application of any withholding tax on any payments to the Partnership;

- (d) it waives, and/or shall cooperate with the Partnership to obtain a waiver of, the provisions of any law which:
 - (i) prohibit the disclosure by the Partnership, or by any of its agents, of the information or documentation requested from the Partner pursuant to paragraph (b);
 - (ii) prohibit the reporting of financial or account information by the Partnership or its agents required pursuant to AEOI; or
 - (iii) otherwise prevent compliance by the Partnership with its obligations under AEOI;
- (e) if it provides information and documentation that is in anyway misleading, or it fails to provide the Partnership or its agents with the requested information and documentation necessary in either case to satisfy the Partnership's obligations under AEOI, the General Partner reserves the right (whether or not such action or inaction leads to compliance failures by the Partnership, or a risk of the Partnership or its investors being subject to withholding tax or other costs, debts, expenses, obligations or liabilities (whether external, or internal, to the Partnership) (together, "costs") under AEOI), in its sole discretion, to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at its disposal including, without limitation:
 - (i) to establish separate sub-accounts within a Partner's Capital Account for the purpose of calculating AEOI related costs; and/or
 - (ii) to allocate any or all AEOI costs among Capital Accounts on a basis determined solely by the General Partner; and/or
 - (iii) to compulsory withdraw such Partner from the Partnership; and/or
 - (iv) to hold back or deduct from any withdrawal proceeds or from any other payments or distributions due to such Partner any costs caused (directly or indirectly) by the Partner's action or inaction;
- (f) it shall have no claim against the Partnership, the General Partner or any of its or their agents, for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Partnership in order to comply with AEOI; and
- (g) it hereby indemnifies the Partnership, the General Partner and each of their respective principals, members, partners, managers, officers, directors, stockholders, employees and agents and holds them harmless from and against any AEOI related liability, action, proceeding, claim, demand, costs, damages, expenses (including legal expenses) penalties or taxes whatsoever which such parties may incur as a result of any action or inaction (directly or indirectly) of such Partner (or any related person) described in the preceding paragraphs. This indemnification shall survive the disposition of such Partner's Interest in the Partnership.

7.4 Valuation of Partnership Assets and Interests

- (a) The Partnership's assets are valued as of the close of each Fiscal Period and on any other date selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion in accordance with its valuation policies and procedures.
- (b) The value of the assets of the Partnership and the net worth of the Partnership as a whole determined pursuant to this Section 7.3 are conclusive and binding on all of the Partners and all parties claiming through or under them.

7.5 Determinations by the General Partner

- (a) All matters concerning the determination and allocation among the Partners and their respective Capital Accounts of the amounts to be determined and allocated pursuant to this Agreement, including Article III and accounting procedures applicable thereto, shall be determined by the General Partner, unless specifically and expressly otherwise provided for by the provisions of this Agreement, and such determinations and allocations shall be final and binding on all the Partners; provided, however, that all calculations of the Performance Allocation will be made on the basis of, or subject to correction based on, the annual audit of the Partnership's financial statements and appropriate adjustments will be made to all such calculations and related allocations to the extent necessary as a result of that audit.
- (b) The General Partner may make such adjustments to the computation of Net Profit or Net Loss or any other allocations with respect to any Limited Partner and their respective Capital Accounts, or any component items comprising any of the foregoing, as it considers appropriate to reflect the financial results of the Partnership and the intended allocation thereof among the Partners and their respective Capital Accounts in a reasonably accurate, fair and efficient manner. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any provision of this Agreement that requires an adjustment to be made to any Capital Account or sub-account as of any mid-month or mid-quarter date may be made as of the most recent preceding or succeeding date when a regular valuation is being conducted.

7.6 Books and Records

The General Partner shall keep books and records pertaining to the Partnership's affairs showing all of its assets and liabilities, receipts and disbursements, realized income, gains, deductions and losses, Partners' Capital Accounts and all transactions entered into by the Partnership. Subject to the documentation requirements of the Act, such books and records of the Partnership must be kept at the Partnership's office or at the office of an agent.

Article VIII GENERAL PROVISIONS

8.1 Amendment of Partnership Agreement

- (a) Except as required by law, this Agreement may be amended, in whole or in part, by an instrument in writing signed by each of the Limited Partners and the General Partners.
- (b) The General Partner may amend this Agreement without the consent of the Limited Partners in order:
 - (i) to make consequential amendments following any amendment made pursuant to this Section 8.1;
 - (ii) to clarify any manifest or clerical inaccuracy, ambiguity or reconcile any inconsistency in this Agreement;
 - (iii) to add to the representations, duties or obligations of the General Partner or waive any right or power of the General Partner for the benefit of the Limited Partners;
 - (iv) so as to qualify or maintain the qualification of the Partnership as a limited partnership in any jurisdiction;
 - (v) to change the name of the Partnership;
 - (vi) to admit any new Limited Partners or to carry out the Transfer of any Interests;
 - (vii) to make any other amendment whatsoever to this Agreement which the General Partner deems advisable, provided that it does not adversely affect any rights of the Limited Partners; or
 - (viii) to create separate classes or sub-classes or series or sub-series of Partnership Interests.

8.2 Special Power-of-Attorney

- (a) Each Limited Partner hereby appoints the General Partner for the time being, with power of substitution, as his lawful attorney in his name to execute, acknowledge, swear to (and deliver as may be appropriate) on his behalf and file and record in the appropriate public offices and publish (as may in the reasonable judgment of the General Partner be required by law):

- (i) any amendments to this Agreement made in accordance with the terms hereof;
 - (ii) any instruments or documents which the General Partner determines in its sole discretion are required to admit any new Limited Partners or to carry out the Transfer of any Interests;
 - (iii) declarations of limited partnership in various jurisdictions and amendments thereto;
 - (iv) all deeds, agreements and other documents which the General Partner deems appropriate to conduct and carry on the business of the Partnership, including without limitation to qualify or continue the Partnership as an exempted limited partnership in the Cayman Islands and as required in the jurisdictions in which the Partnership may conduct business, or which may be required to be filed by the Partnership or the Partners under the laws of any jurisdiction or under any amendments or successor statute to the Act, to reflect the dissolution or termination of the Partnership or the Partnership being governed by any amendments or successor statutes to the Act or to reorganize or refile the Partnership in a different jurisdiction, provided that such reorganization or refiling does not result in a material change in the rights of the Partners;
 - (v) to file, prosecute, defend, settle or compromise litigation, claims or arbitration on behalf of the Partnership;
 - (vi) one or more subscription agreements (or other agreements or documents) on behalf of such Limited Partner between the Partnership, the General Partner and any Person (a "New Limited Partner") being admitted by the General Partner to the Partnership as a limited partner thereof (or such other parties as may be appropriate) in such form and on such terms and conditions as the General Partner considers in its absolute discretion necessary or appropriate, including reference to this Agreement and its novation and agreeing and covenanting with such New Limited Partner on behalf of such Limited Partner that the Limited Partner will from the effective date of such subscription agreement or agreements comply with and observe the terms of this Agreement.
- (b) The above power of attorney shall be irrevocable and deemed to be given to secure a proprietary interest of the donee of the power or performance of an obligation owed to the donee and shall survive and shall not be affected by the subsequent death, lack of capacity, insolvency, bankruptcy or dissolution of any Limited Partner.

- (c) Each Limited Partner shall, at the request of the General Partner, execute additional powers of attorney on a document separate from this Agreement. In the event of any conflict between this Agreement and any instruments executed, delivered, or filed by the General Partner (and any successor thereto) pursuant to this power of attorney, this Agreement shall prevail.
- (d) The General Partner may exercise this power of attorney by listing all of the Partners executing any agreement, certificate, instrument, or document with the single signature of the General Partner as attorney-in-fact for all Partners.
- (e) Each Limited Partner hereby appoints the General Partner by any one or more of its directors or officers in office from time to time, acting singly, to be the Limited Partner's agent and attorney-in-fact.

8.3 Notices

Notices which may be or are required to be given under this Agreement by any party to another shall be given by hand delivery, transmitted by facsimile or telecopier facsimile, transmitted electronically to an address that has been previously provided or verified through another form of notice or sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested or internationally recognized courier service, and shall be addressed to the respective parties hereto at their addresses as set forth on the register of Partners maintained by the General Partner or to such other addresses or facsimile numbers as may be designated by any party hereto by notice addressed to (i) the General Partner, in the case of notice given by any Limited Partner, and (ii) each of the Limited Partners, in the case of notice given by the General Partner. Notices shall be deemed to have been given (A) when delivered by hand, transmitted by facsimile or transmitted electronically or (B) on the date indicated as the date of receipt on the return receipt when delivered by mail or courier service. Sections 8 and 19 of the Electronic Transactions Law (2003 Revision) of the Cayman Islands shall not apply to this Agreement.

8.4 Agreement Binding Upon Successors and Assigns; Delegation

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors, but the rights and obligations of the Partners hereunder shall not be assignable, transferable or delegable except as provided in Section 4.1(d) and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof which is not made pursuant to the terms of such Sections shall be void.

8.5 Governing Law

This Agreement is, and the rights of the Partners hereunder are, governed by and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the Cayman Islands, without regard to the conflict of laws rule thereof which would result in the application of the laws of a different jurisdiction. The parties hereby consent to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue for any action arising out of this Agreement in Dallas, Texas. Each Partner consents to service of process in any action or proceeding involving the Partnership by the mailing thereof by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, to such Partner's mailing address set forth in the register of limited partnership interests maintained by the General Partner in accordance with the Act.

8.6 Interpretation of Partnership Accounting Systems and Terminology

In the event that the Partnership employs an accounting system which is different from the accounting system of the General Partner or whose terminology does not conform precisely to the terminology in this Agreement, the General Partner shall have the authority to interpret such accounting system and/or terminology in a manner which it, in its sole discretion, determines to be consistent with the objectives of this Agreement.

8.7 Miscellaneous

- (a) The captions and titles preceding the text of each Section hereof shall be disregarded in the construction of this Agreement. Use of the word “including” in this Agreement means in each case “without limitation,” whether or not such term is explicitly stated.
- (b) This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original hereof.

HIGHLAND CAPITAL LOAN FUND, L.P.

HIGHLAND LOAN MASTER FUND, L.P.

HIGHLAND CAPITAL LOAN GP, LLC

and

HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P.

March 28, 2013

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT (“Agreement”), dated effective as of March 28, 2013, by and among:

HIGHLAND LOAN FUND, LTD., an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability (the “Offshore Fund”);

HIGHLAND CAPITAL LOAN FUND, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Domestic Fund”);

HIGHLAND LOAN MASTER FUND, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Master Fund” and, together with the Domestic Fund and the Offshore Fund, the “Clients”);

HIGHLAND CAPITAL LOAN GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company as the general partner of each of the Domestic Fund and the Master Fund (the “General Partner”); and HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Investment Manager”).

Preliminary Statements

A. The Domestic Fund and the Offshore Fund each invest all of their investable assets in the Master Fund. The Investment Manager will exercise no discretion with respect to the investment of the assets of the Offshore Fund or the Domestic Fund and will serve merely as a steward thereof and the investment activities of the Investment Manager will be conducted at the Master Fund level as the Investment Manager to the Master Fund.

B. The Clients desire to retain the Investment Manager to provide certain discretionary advisory services relating to the assets and liabilities of the Master Fund, and the Investment Manager desires to accept such appointment, all subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

In consideration of the mutual covenants herein contained, and other valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, and intending to be legally bound hereby, the parties hereto agree as follows:

Agreement

For good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Appointment.

The Clients hereby appoint the Investment Manager as investment manager with respect to the assets and liabilities of the Master Fund, and to provide certain custodial services in respect of the Domestic Fund and the Offshore Fund, and the Investment Manager hereby accepts such appointment and agrees to perform its obligations in accordance with the terms hereof and of the Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement of the Master Fund, as amended from time to time (the “Master Fund”).

Partnership Agreement”) and the investment objectives, policies, guidelines and restrictions that from time to time are set forth in the confidential private placement memorandum of the Domestic Fund, as supplemented or superseded from time to time (the “PPM”), the confidential private offering memorandum of the Offshore Fund, as supplemented or superseded from time to time (the “POM”), the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the Offshore Fund (the “Articles”) and the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Domestic Fund, as amended from time to time (the “Domestic Fund Partnership Agreement” and, together with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, the “Partnership Agreements” and, the Partnership Agreements collectively with the PPM, the POM and the Articles, the “Governing Documents”). Any capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meanings assigned to such terms in the Governing Documents.

2. Authority and Duties of the Investment Manager.

- (a) All of the assets of the Domestic Fund and the Offshore Fund shall be invested in the Master Fund. The Investment Manager will exercise no discretion with respect to the investment of the assets of the Offshore Fund or the Domestic Fund and will serve merely as a steward thereof and the investment activities of the Investment Manager will be conducted at the Master Fund level as the Investment Manager to the Master Fund.
- (b) Subject to 2(a), the Investment Manager shall serve as the investment manager to the Master Fund and shall in that capacity have full discretion and authority, without obtaining the prior approval of any officer or other agent of the Master Fund: (i) to effect any and all transactions in securities, currencies and other financial instruments (and options and other contracts thereon), and everything connected therewith in the broadest sense; (ii) to determine all matters relating to the manner, method and timing of portfolio transactions and to engage consultants and analysts in connection therewith; (iii) to select brokers, dealers, banks and other intermediaries by or through whom such transactions will be executed or carried out; (iv) to make short sales; (v) to purchase or write options (including uncovered options); (vi) to direct the administrator of the Master Fund, banks, brokers or other custodians to effect deliveries of funds or assets, but only in the course of effecting portfolio transactions for the account of the Master Fund; (vii) to exercise all voting and other powers and privileges attributable to any securities or other property held for the Master Fund’s account hereunder; (viii) to authorize remuneration for the Directors of the Offshore Fund other than Directors of the Offshore Fund who are principals or employees of the Investment Manager; and (ix) to make and execute all such documents and to take all such other actions as the Investment Manager considers necessary or appropriate to carry out its investment management duties hereunder.
- (c) In furtherance of the foregoing, the Clients hereby designate and appoint the Investment Manager as its agent and attorney-in-fact, with full power and authority and without the need for further approval of the Clients (except as may be required by law) to complete and execute all such documents and to take any and all actions that the Investment Manager, in its discretion, shall deem advisable to carry out the foregoing with respect to the assets of the Clients; provided, however, that the Investment Manager is not intended to have actual or constructive custody of any securities or other assets of the Clients. In connection with any of the foregoing, the Investment Manager is further authorized to transfer or tender for cash or exchange such securities. In all such purchases, sales or trades the Clients authorize the Investment Manager to act for the Clients, and at their risk, and in their name and on their behalf, in the same manner and with the same force and effect as the Clients might or could do with respect to such purchases, sales or trades without prior consultation with the Clients. The Clients also appoint the Investment Manager as their agent and attorney-in-fact to vote, and to execute proxies, waivers, consents and other instruments with respect to, the securities and other assets of the Clients.

- (d) In connection with the execution of transactions on behalf of the Master Fund, the Master Fund hereby acknowledges and agrees that in the course of selecting brokers, dealers, banks and financial intermediaries to effect transactions for the Master Fund's account, the Investment Manager may agree to such commissions, fees and other charges on behalf of the Master Fund's account as it shall deem reasonable in the circumstances, taking into consideration all such factors as the Investment Manager deems relevant, including the following: price quotes; the size of the transaction; the nature of the market for the financial instrument; the timing of the transaction; difficulty of execution; the broker-dealer's expertise in the specific financial instrument or sector in which the Master Fund seeks to trade; the extent to which the broker-dealer makes a market in the financial instrument involved or has access to such markets; the broker-dealer's skill in positioning the financial instruments involved; the broker-dealer's promptness of execution; the broker-dealer's financial stability, reputation for diligence, fairness and integrity; quality of service rendered by the broker-dealer in other transactions for the Investment Manager and its respective affiliates; confidentiality considerations; the quality and usefulness of research services and investment ideas presented by the broker-dealer; the broker-dealer's willingness to correct errors; the broker-dealer's ability to accommodate any special execution or order handling requirements that may surround the particular transaction; and other factors deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager need not solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost or spread. It is understood that the costs of such services will not necessarily represent the lowest costs available and that the Investment Manager is under no obligation to combine or arrange orders so as to obtain reduced charges.
- (e) At the request of a Client, in any wind down of such Client, the Investment Manager will manage the realization of the Client's assets and the distribution thereof to investors.
- (f) The General Partner, on behalf of the Domestic Fund and the Master Fund, agrees that the Investment Manager shall be entitled to all of the benefits of the Partnership Agreements applicable to it as a delegate of the General Partner, including, without limitation, the right to reimbursement of expenses provided under the Partnership Agreements and the right to indemnification provided under the Partnership Agreements, and such sections are hereby incorporated by reference as if set forth in full herein; provided, however, this proviso shall not operate to provide duplicative amounts to any reimbursement or payment received pursuant to Sections 4 and 8 of this Agreement.

3. Management Fees.

Pursuant to this Agreement, the Investment Manager is entitled to be paid management fees by the Master Fund, which shall be calculated with the methodology set out in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement.

4. Expenses.

- (a) The Clients will pay, or will reimburse the Investment Manager, for all costs and expenses arising in connection with their administration and operations, including without limitation, the following expenses:
 - (i) all investment-related expenses (including those related to identifying and evaluating contemplated investments, whether or not such contemplated investments are actually made), including, but not limited to, brokerage commissions and other transaction costs, expenses related to short sales, clearing and settlement charges, expenses related to proxies, underwriting and private placements, custodial fees, transfer agent fees, bank service fees, any governmental, regulatory, licensing, filing or registration fees incurred in compliance with the rules of any self-regulatory organization or any federal, state or local laws, consulting and any other professional fees or compensation (including investment banking expenses) relating to particular investments or contemplated investments, appraisal fees and expenses, investment-related travel and lodging expenses and research-related expenses (including, without limitation, news and quotation equipment and services), fees to third-party providers of risk-monitoring services, and investment and trading-related computer hardware and software, including, without limitation, trade order management software (i.e., software used to route trade orders);
 - (ii) accounting (including accounting software), audit and tax preparation expenses;
 - (iii) costs and expenses associated with reporting and providing information to existing and prospective investors;
 - (iv) any legal fees and costs (including indemnification expenses, regulatory costs and settlement costs) arising in connection with any litigation or regulatory investigation instituted against any of the Clients, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates in their capacity as such, subject to the indemnification provisions of the Partnership Agreements and Section 8 below;
 - (v) any taxes imposed upon the Clients;

- (vi) costs of any meeting of investors (or of obtaining the consent of investors in lieu of meeting);
 - (vii) expenses related to the Advisory Committee and the Pricing Committee;
 - (viii) premiums for directors' and officers' liability insurance (if any) and any other insurance benefiting the Clients;
 - (ix) administrative expenses (including, without limitation, the fees and expenses of any administration in relation to its services provided pursuant to an administration agreement);
 - (x) fees relating to valuing the Clients' assets;
 - (xi) expenses related to the maintenance of the Clients' registered offices;
 - (xii) corporate licensing expenses;
 - (xiii) extraordinary expenses; and
 - (xiv) any costs or expenses of winding up and liquidating any of the Clients.
- (b) The Investment Manager will pay all of its own operating and overhead costs (except liability insurance and items described in Section 4(a)(iv) above) without reimbursement by the Clients, and any expenses arising in connection with the Investment Manager's services to the Clients, other than those specified in this Agreement to be the obligation of the Clients and the fees payable to the Investment Manager, shall be the responsibility of the Investment Manager.
- (c) The Investment Manager shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Clients for any of the expenses mentioned in Section 4(a) above paid by it on behalf of the Clients; provided that, the Investment Manager in its sole discretion may absorb any or all of such expenses incurred on behalf of the Clients. The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities hereunder, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Master Fund, including, but not limited to, any affiliate of the Investment Manager, but payment for any such services shall be assumed by the Investment Manager and the Clients shall not have any liability therefor; provided, however, that the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Clients hereunder, and the Clients shall bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.
- (d) If the Investment Manager shall incur any of the expenses mentioned in Section 4(a) above for the account of the Clients and any Other Accounts (as defined in Section 5(c) hereof), the Investment Manager will allocate such expense among the Clients and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the Investment Manager in its sole discretion considers fair and reasonable.

- (a) The Investment Manager is entitled to use “soft dollars” generated by the Master Fund to pay for certain investment research and brokerage services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities to the extent such use falls within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or is otherwise reasonably related to the investment decision-making process, or to cover certain Client expenses described in Section 4(a). Use of “soft dollars” by the Investment Manager as described herein shall not constitute a breach by the Investment Manager of any fiduciary or other duty which the Investment Manager may be deemed to owe to the Clients.

5. Other Activities and Investments.

- (a) The Investment Manager shall not be required to devote any specific amount of its time to the affairs of the Clients, but shall devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Clients as it shall determine in good faith to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Clients for the benefit of the Clients.
- (b) Each of the Clients agree that the Investment Manager, and any partner, director, officer, shareholder, member, affiliate or employee of the Investment Manager, may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures or commercial dealings of every kind and description, independently or with others, including, but not limited to, management of other accounts, investment in, or financing, acquisition and disposition of, securities, investment and management counseling, brokerage services, serving as directors, officers, advisers or agents of other companies, partners of any partnership, or trustee of any trust, or entering into any other commercial arrangements, and will not be disqualified solely on the basis that any such activities may conflict with any interest of the parties with respect to the Clients. Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each Clients hereby acknowledge that (i) none of the Investment Manager or its partners, directors, officers, shareholders, members, affiliates or employees shall have any obligation or responsibility to disclose or refer any of the investment or other opportunities obtained through activities contemplated by this Section 5 to the Clients, but may refer the same to any other party or keep such opportunities for their own benefit; and (ii) the Investment Manager and its partners, directors, officers, shareholders, members, affiliates and employees are hereby authorized to engage in activities contemplated by this Section 5 with, or to purchase, sell or otherwise deal or invest in investments issued by, companies in which the Investment Manager might from time to time invest or be able to invest or otherwise have any interest on behalf of the Clients, without the consent or approval of the Clients.
- (c) The Investment Manager shall act allocate investment opportunities to the Master Fund and any Other Account fairly and equitably over time. “Other Account” means any assets or investment of the Investment Manager, or any assets managed by the Investment Manager or any affiliate of the Investment Manager for the account of any person or entity (including investment vehicles) other than the Clients, which are invested or which are available for investment in securities or other instruments or for trading activities whether or not of the specific type being conducted by the Clients. The Investment Manager is under no obligation to accord exclusivity or priority to the Master Fund in the event of limited investment opportunities. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (ii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (iii) liquidity requirements of the account; (iv) potentially adverse tax consequences; (v) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (vi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio. The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time.

- (d) The principals of the Investment Manager, as well as the employees and officers thereof and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Clients (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of limited partner interests or shares, as applicable, in any of the Clients) unless appropriate approval of the Advisory Committee is obtained and such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the "Advisers Act") or such purchase or sale is otherwise in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Advisers Act.
- (e) Each Client hereby waives, and covenants not to bring a cause of action in law or equity on the basis of, any law (statutory, common law or otherwise) respecting the rights and obligations of the Clients which is or may be inconsistent with this Section 5.
- (f) The Investment Manager and its affiliates reserve the right to establish collective investment vehicles that have stated investment programs or terms that differ from those of the Clients or that are targeted primarily to investors for which the Clients are not designed to be suitable investment vehicles. The Investment Manager and its affiliates also reserve the right to establish and provide management or advisory services pursuant to separate Other Accounts for significant investors, whether or not such accounts have the same investment program as the Clients.

6. Custody.

The assets of the Clients shall be held in the custody of one or more qualified custodians (or other independent institutions performing the functions of custodian, with respect to the assets which are held by such institutions) selected by the Investment Manager.

7. Scope of Liability.

None of the Investment Manager, nor any member, shareholder, partner, manager, director, officer, employee or agent of, or any person who controls, the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, or any of the legal representatives of any of the foregoing (collectively, the “Indemnified Persons”) will be liable to the Clients or any other person for mistakes of judgment or for action or inaction that did not constitute gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith, or for losses due to such mistakes, action or inaction or to the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of any broker or agent of the Clients, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by the Indemnified Person in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. No Indemnified Person shall be liable to the Clients or any other person for any amount in excess of the amount of Management Fees received by the Investment Manager, to the extent permitted under applicable law. In addition, in no event shall any Indemnified Person be liable for any special, indirect, exemplary, consequential or punitive losses or damages. An Indemnified Person may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Clients’ affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. The foregoing provisions, however, shall not be construed so as to provide for the exculpation of an Indemnified Person of any liability (including liability under U.S. Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons acting in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law (including liability under U.S. Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons acting in good faith), but shall be construed so as to effectuate the abovementioned provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

8. Indemnification.

- (a) The Clients shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Person from and against any and all loss, cost or expense suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Person by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Person, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys’ fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability, damage, loss, cost or expense resulted from a mistake of judgment on the part of an Indemnified Person or from action or inaction that did not constitute gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith, or from the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of a broker or other agent of an Indemnified Person, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by the Indemnified Person in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. Each of the Clients shall, in the sole discretion of the General Partner or the Directors, as applicable, advance to any Indemnified Person reasonable attorneys’ fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct. In the event that such an advance is made by the Client(s), the Indemnified Person will agree to reimburse the Client(s) to the extent that it is finally determined that it was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.

- (b) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of this Section 8 do not provide for the indemnification of any Indemnified Person for any liability (including liability under Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- (c) Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Indemnified Person, the Clients (and not the applicable Indemnified Person) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct of any Indemnified Person.
- (d) To the extent that the indemnity under this Section 8 inures for the benefit of the Investment Manager or of any Indemnified Person (whether existing or in the future) and for the benefit of any successor of the Investment Manager or any Indemnified Person, the General Partner, on behalf of the Master Fund, declares that it holds the benefit of that promise on trust for that person.

9. Committees.

- (a) The Investment Manager may appoint a committee (the “Advisory Committee”) consisting of one or more individuals selected by the Investment Manager, none of whom is affiliated with the Investment Manager (except as an investor in one of the Clients or an affiliate of the Clients). If established, the Advisory Committee will have the authority, at the request of the Investment Manager, to consult with the Investment Manager on any matters that may involve a conflict of interest between the Investment Manager (and its affiliates) on the one hand and the Clients on the other. The Advisory Committee may also grant approvals required under the Advisers Act or related to any other matter deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. Any such approval given by the Advisory Committee is binding on the Clients. The Clients will have the authority to agree to reasonably compensate members of the Advisory Committee for their services and to agree to reimburse them for their out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify them to the maximum extent permitted by law. In the event an Advisory Committee is not appointed, the Investment Manager may obtain the approval of an unaffiliated third party, as is determined advisable by the Investment Manager, and any such approval by such third party shall, to the extent permitted under applicable law, serve as the approval of the Advisory Committee and shall be binding on the Clients.
- (b) The Investment Manager may appoint a committee (the “Pricing Committee”) whose quorum consists of at least a majority of the following individuals: the Chief Financial Officer of the Investment Manager, the Chief Compliance Officer of the Investment Manager and one or more traders of the Investment Manager. The Pricing Committee will meet on at least a monthly basis to review, confirm and agree on all pricing information established by the Investment Manager in respect of the Master Fund's assets that are fair valued or which the Investment Manager believes should require review. The final pricing or valuation of such Master Fund assets will require the approval of a majority in number of the members of the Pricing Committee constituting a quorum. In lieu of meeting, the Pricing Committee may take action by written consent signed by a majority of the committee members. The Pricing Committee may, at the Master Fund's expense, engage third-party experts and consultants to provide services in connection with any determination to be made by the Pricing Committee. The Investment Manager may replace members of the Pricing Committee or change the composition of the Pricing Committee, in its sole discretion.

10. Independent Contractor.

For all purposes of this Agreement, the Investment Manager shall be an independent contractor and not an employee or dependent agent of the Clients, nor shall anything herein be construed as making the Clients a partner or co-venturer with the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates or Other Accounts. Except as provided in this Agreement, the Investment Manager shall have no authority to bind, obligate or represent the Clients.

11. Acknowledgement.

The Clients certify and acknowledge to the Investment Manager that the Clients:

- (i) have fully disclosed to potential investors the fee provisions and other arrangements relating to the Clients' accounts with the Investment Manager and are satisfied that the potential investors have received sufficient information from the Investment Manager to enable them to evaluate the terms of this Agreement; and
- (ii) fully understand the method of compensation provided herein and its associated risks, and that such risks have been disclosed to potential investors.

12. Entire Agreement.

This instrument, together with the Governing Documents, contains the entire agreement between the parties hereto relating to the subject matter hereof. No provision of this Agreement may be amended without the written consent of the Investment Manager and the Clients.

13. Amendment; Modification; Waiver.

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, this Agreement shall not be amended, nor shall any provision of this Agreement be considered modified or waived, unless evidenced by a writing signed by all parties hereto.

14. Binding Effect; Assignment.

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors. The rights and obligations hereunder shall not, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, be assignable, transferable or delegable by the Investment Manager without the written consent of the Clients, and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof without such consent shall be void. The rights and obligations hereunder shall not, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, be assignable, transferable or delegable by the Clients without the written consent of the Investment Manager, and any attempted assignment, transfer or delegation thereof without such consent shall be void. The Investment Manager agrees to notify the Clients in writing within thirty (30) days after any change in control of the Investment Manager.

15. Termination.

This Agreement shall become effective on the date hereof and shall continue in effect until the earlier of the dissolution (or in the case of the Offshore Fund, the liquidation) of the Clients, or the termination by any of the Investment Manager, the Offshore Fund or the General Partner on behalf of the Domestic Fund or the Master Fund upon at least seventy-five (75) days' prior written notice.

16. Governing Law.

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the substantive laws of the State of Delaware which are applicable to contracts made and entirely to be performed therein, without regard to the place of performance hereunder.

NOTICE

This Confidential Private Offering Memorandum (this “Memorandum”) is being furnished on a confidential basis solely to selected qualified investors for the purpose of enabling the recipient to evaluate an investment in Highland Dynamic Income Fund, Ltd. (the “Fund”). This Memorandum is not to be reproduced or distributed to others, at any time, without the prior written consent of the board of directors of the Fund. Each recipient agrees to keep confidential all information contained herein not already in the public domain and will use this Memorandum for the sole purpose of evaluating a possible investment in the Fund. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, each investor (and each employee, representative, or other agent of the investor) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the investor relating to such tax treatment and tax structure. Acceptance of this Memorandum by prospective investors constitutes an agreement to be bound by the foregoing terms.

Prospective investors should not construe the contents of this Memorandum as legal, tax or financial advice. Each prospective investor should consult its own professional advisors as to the legal, financial, tax, ERISA (as defined herein) or other matters relevant to the suitability of an investment in the Fund for such investor.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Fund and the terms of the offering contemplated by this Memorandum. The participating non-voting shares of the Fund (the “Shares”) have not been recommended by any U.S. federal or state, or any non-U.S., securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of this Memorandum. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

Neither this Memorandum nor the Shares described herein have been qualified for offer, sale or distribution under the laws of any jurisdiction governing the offer or sale of mutual fund shares or other securities. This Memorandum does not constitute an offer to sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy, any Shares in any state or other jurisdiction where, or to or from any person to or from whom, such offer or solicitation is unlawful or not authorized.

The Shares have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or the securities laws of any of the states of the United States, and the Fund has not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. Direct or indirect acquisition or ownership of Shares by “United States Persons” (as defined in Annex A) without compliance with applicable U.S. securities laws or in contravention of the relevant provisions of the constituent documents of the Fund is prohibited. The offering and any potential sale contemplated by this Memorandum will be made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act for offers and sales of securities which do not involve any public offering and analogous exemptions under state securities laws. There will be no public market for the Shares, and there is no obligation on the part of any person to register the Shares under the Securities Act or any state securities laws.

Pursuant to an exemption from the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”), Highland Capital Management, L.P., the investment manager to the Fund (the “Investment Manager”), is not registered with the CFTC as a commodity pool operator (“CPO”) and therefore, unlike a registered CPO, is not required to deliver a disclosure document or a certified annual report to participants in this pool. Among other things, the exemption requires the filing of a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. It is also required that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions does not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Fund's commodity interest positions does not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio and further that all pool participants are required to be accredited investors or certain other qualified investors. The Investment Manager qualifies for an exemption from registration as a commodity trading advisor pursuant to CFTC Rule 4.14(a)(8).

In each European Economic Area member state (each a "Relevant Member State") that has implemented Directive 2011/61/EU of the European Parliament and the Council of the European Union on Alternative Investment Fund Managers and applicable implementing legislation, including Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) No 231/2013 (the "AIFMD"), the Fund may only be offered to investors in accordance with local measures implementing AIFMD. Investors, together with any relevant person making or assisting in the decision to invest in the Fund, who are situated, domiciled or who have a registered office, in a Relevant Member State where the Fund is not being offered pursuant to private placement rules implementing AIFMD may invest, or effect an investment in the Fund, but only in circumstances where they do so at their own initiative. The Memorandum may only be issued to "Professional Clients" within the meaning of Directive 2004/39/EC on Markets in Financial Instruments. At the date hereof, the Investment Manager has not registered and does not intend to register the Fund for marketing in any Relevant Member State. It may register the Fund in Relevant Member States in the future.

NO OFFER OR INVITATION TO SUBSCRIBE FOR SHARES MAY BE MADE TO THE PUBLIC IN THE CAYMAN ISLANDS.

Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P. (the "Master Fund") is not hereby offering any securities and accordingly this Memorandum is not to be regarded as having been authorised or issued by the Master Fund. The Master Fund does not have an offering document or equivalent document.

Any information forwarded to the Fund by any potential shareholder will be treated on a confidential basis except that such information may be passed on to a relevant third party by the Fund where so required by law or regulation and each shareholder, upon subscribing for Shares, shall be deemed to have consented to such release of such confidential information pursuant to the terms of the Confidential Information Disclosure Law, 2016 of the Cayman Islands (as amended).

An investment in the Fund involves significant risk. Potential investors should pay particular attention to the information in "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest." Investment in the Fund is suitable only for sophisticated investors and requires the financial ability and willingness to accept the high risks inherent in an investment in the Fund. An investment in the Fund does not constitute a complete investment program. No assurance can be given that the Fund's investment objectives will be achieved or that investors will receive a return of their capital.

The Shares are offered subject to the right of the Fund to reject any subscription in whole or in part.

This Memorandum does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the Fund's Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association, as may be amended from time to time (together, the “Articles of Association”) or the exempted limited partnership agreement, as may be amended from time to time (the “Master Fund Partnership Agreement”), of the Master Fund. Each prospective investor in the Fund is encouraged to review the Articles of Association and the Master Fund Partnership Agreement carefully, in addition to consulting appropriate legal and tax advisors. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum and the Articles of Association or the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, the terms of the Articles of Association or the Master Fund Partnership Agreement (as applicable) shall control. A copy of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement is available upon request from the Investment Manager.

The Fund and the Master Fund are regulated under the Mutual Funds Law (2015 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (the “Mutual Funds Law”). The Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (the “Authority”) has supervisory and enforcement powers to ensure compliance with the Mutual Funds Law. Regulation under the Mutual Funds Law entails the filing of prescribed details and audited accounts annually with the Authority. As a regulated mutual fund, the Authority may at any time instruct the Fund or the Master Fund to have its or their accounts audited and to submit them to the Authority within such time as the Authority specifies. Failure to comply with these requests by the Authority may result in substantial fines on the part of the directors of the Fund or the Master Fund, as applicable, and may result in the Authority applying to the court to have the Fund or the Master Fund wound up.

Neither the Fund nor the Master Fund are, however, subject to supervision in respect of their investment activities or the constitution of the Master Fund’s portfolio by the Authority or any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands, although the Authority does have power to investigate the activities of the Fund and the Master Fund in certain circumstances. Neither the Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented upon or approved the terms or merits of this document. There is no investment compensation scheme available to investors in the Cayman Islands.

The Authority may take certain actions if it is satisfied that a regulated mutual fund is or is likely to become unable to meet its obligations as they fall due or is carrying on or is attempting to carry on business or is winding up its business voluntarily in a manner that is prejudicial to its investors or creditors. The powers of the Authority include the power to require the substitution of the directors of the Fund or the Master Fund, to appoint a person to advise the Fund or the Master Fund on the proper conduct of its affairs or to appoint a person to assume control of the affairs of the Fund or the Master Fund, as the case may be. There are other remedies available to the Authority including the ability to apply to court for approval of other actions.

The delivery of this Memorandum does not, under any circumstances, create any implication that there has been no change in the circumstances affecting the Fund or the Master Fund since the date hereof. An amended or updated Memorandum will be provided to reflect any material changes to the information contained herein.

Certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes “forward-looking statements,” which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “expect,” “anticipate,” “project,” “estimate,” “intend,” or “believe” or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those described in “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest,” actual events or results or the actual performance of the Fund may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

All references herein to “$” refer to U.S. dollars. All references to day, month, quarter and year are to calendar day, calendar month, calendar quarter and calendar year, unless otherwise specified or the context so requires. Except as the context otherwise requires, references to the term “Fund” in this Memorandum shall be deemed to include the Master Fund.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Highland Dynamic Income Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company with limited liability (the “Fund”), seeks to generate returns that exceed the S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Total Return Index¹ by investing all of its investable assets in Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Master Fund”), which provides exposure to the broader bank loan market.

Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “Master Fund GP”), acts as general partner of the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Investment Manager” and, together with its affiliates, shareholders, directors, members, partners, officers and employees, the “Advisory Parties”), serves as investment manager to the Fund and the Master Fund and manages the Master Fund’s investment program. Each of the Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager are ultimately controlled by James D. Dondero (the “Principal”).

In order to facilitate investments by U.S. investors, the Investment Manager has sponsored the formation of Highland Dynamic Income Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership of which the Master Fund GP also serves as the general partner (the “Domestic Fund” and, together with the Fund, the “Feeder Funds”). The Feeder Funds place all of their investable assets in, and conduct all of their investment and trading activities in parallel through, the Master Fund. References in this Memorandum to the Fund shall include the Master Fund, unless otherwise specified or the context so requires.

The Fund is seeking subscriptions for participating non-voting shares of the Fund (the “Shares”) from eligible investors. The minimum initial investment is $1,000,000, although the Fund may accept investments in a lesser amount, subject to an absolute minimum of $100,000, or such other sum as may be required from time to time by applicable law. The Fund generally accepts subscriptions on the first business day of each month.

For its services to the Master Fund, the Investment Manager is generally entitled to a management fee (the “Management Fee”), which is calculated and paid quarterly in advance at the Master Fund level, and the Master Fund GP is entitled to an annual performance-based allocation, at the Master Fund level, essentially to the extent that the return of a Share (positive or negative) outperforms the hypothetical return of the capital account based on the S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Total Return Index for such year. Please see “Summary of Terms – Management Fee” and “Summary of Terms – Performance Allocation.”

A shareholder is generally permitted to redeem all or a portion of its Shares on 45 days’ prior written notice on the last business day of each quarter. Redemptions may be subject to reserves for contingencies, hold-back pending audit, gating and suspension restrictions as discussed further in this Memorandum.

The Fund may agree with certain shareholders to a variation of the terms set forth in this Memorandum or establish additional series of Shares that have terms that differ from those described herein, including, without limitation, different management fees and redemption rights.

¹ The S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Total Return Index (the “Index”) is used only for purposes of calculating performance fees. The Fund will not directly invest in the Index nor seek to replicate the Index, and there might or might not be a close correlation between the performance of the Fund and that of the Index. The Index does not reflect the investment strategy of the Fund.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

Investment Objective

The Fund's investment objective is to seek high current income and capital appreciation by maximizing risk-adjusted returns as measured against the S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan Total Return Index.²

Investment Strategy

The Master Fund's net assets will be invested and traded primarily in senior secured floating rate bank loans ("Bank Loans"), high yield debt securities and structured credit products denominated in U.S. dollars. The Master Fund's investments will be subject to the following restrictions:

- (a) a minimum of 50% (measured at the time of settlement) of the Master Fund's gross assets will be invested in loans, and no more than 5% (measured at the time of settlement) of the Master Fund's gross assets will be invested in a single loan instrument;
- (b) no more than 50% (measured at the time of settlement) of the Master Fund's gross assets will be invested in collateralized loan obligations ("CLO" or "CLO Securities") and structured credit products, and no more than 5% (measured at the time of settlement) of the Master Fund's gross assets will be invested in a single CLO issuer;
- (c) no more than 10% (measured at the time of settlement) of the Master Fund's gross assets will be invested in high yield bonds;
- (d) no more than 10% (measured at the time of settlement) of the Master Fund's gross assets will be invested in equity securities, which equity securities are primarily issued in connection with a reorganization or restructuring of a borrower or debt positions of the Master Fund that convert into equity securities ("Re-Org Equities");
- (e) the top 3 industries in which the Master Fund holds positions will comprise no more than 50% (measured at the time of settlement) of the Master Fund's gross assets, and no more than 20% (measured at the time of settlement) of the Master Fund's gross assets will be invested in a single industry; and
- (f) the minimum weighted average rating of the Master Fund's entire portfolio will be B+, the minimum weighted average rating of the Master Fund's holdings that are loans will be B, and the minimum weighted average rating of the Master Fund's holdings that are CLOs will be BB (in each case, measured at the time of settlement).

Bank Loans

Bank Loans represent amounts borrowed by corporate entities from banks and other lenders. In many cases, they are issued in connection with recapitalizations, acquisitions, leveraged buyouts and refinancings. Most, if not all, of the Bank Loans in which the Master Fund invests will have a below investment-grade credit rating or will not be rated by a major credit rating agency. The Bank Loans in which the Master Fund invests are often referred to as “leveraged loans” because the borrowing companies have significantly more debt than equity.

Bank Loans have the highest seniority within a borrower’s capital structure. Therefore, in the event of a bankruptcy, holders of Bank Loans are typically paid (to the extent assets are available) before certain other creditors, such as bond and equity holders. Bank Loan maturities typically range from 5 to 8 years, although loan prepayments and refinancings generally result in effective average lives of approximately 3 years depending on market conditions.

Bank Loans generally pay interest at rates that are determined periodically by reference to a base lending rate plus a premium. These rates often are re-determined daily, monthly, quarterly or semi-annually. As a result, the Investment Manager believes the Master Fund should experience less sensitivity to changes in market interest rates and lower volatility than if the Master Fund invested exclusively in fixed rate obligations.

The Bank Loan market has grown significantly in recent years, as investors have been drawn into the market by the advantageous characteristics of Bank Loans, which include floating interest rates, senior secured status, lower volatility, growing liquidity, greater control over an issuer in times of stress, and lower correlation with other asset classes.

Collateralized Loan Obligations

An investment in CLO tranches represents varying levels of exposure primarily to credit performance of the underlying assets (i.e., bank loans, which comprise the primary asset class of the Master Fund’s portfolio) and is characterized by a combination of expected significant current cash flow as well as the opportunity for positive returns through long-term gains on the underlying portfolios. Investments in CLO Securities often have a relatively short expected duration (usually less than 10 years), as a typical CLO distributes excess cash flows quarterly or semi-annually concurrent with the payment of interest on its liabilities subject to compliance with overall collateral quality tests and other performance criteria.

High Yield Bonds

The price and yield of lower-quality (high yield, high-risk) bonds, commonly referred to as “junk bonds,” can be expected to fluctuate more than the price and yield of higher-quality bonds. Because these bonds are rated below BBB or are in default, they are regarded as predominantly speculative with respect to the issuer’s continuing ability to meet principal and interest payments. Successful investment in lower-medium- and low-quality bonds involves greater investment risk and is highly dependent on the Advisory Parties’ credit analysis. A real or perceived economic downturn could cause a decline in high yield bond prices by lessening the ability of issuers to make principal and interest payments. These bonds can be more difficult to sell and value accurately than high-quality bonds. Because objective pricing data may be less available, judgment may play a greater role in the valuation process. In addition, the entire high yield bond market can experience sudden and sharp price swings due to a variety of factors, including changes in economic forecasts, stock market activity, large or sustained sales by major investors, a high-profile default, or just a change in the market’s psychology. This type of volatility is usually associated more with stocks than bonds, but junk bond investors should be prepared for it.

Reorganization Equities

Re-Org Equity refers to equity securities that are issued in connection with a reorganization or restructuring of a borrower, including both registered and non-registered securities under Section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and therefore are not traded on an exchange or inter-dealer quotation system, and debt positions of the Master Fund that convert into equity securities. The Master Fund may receive Re-Org Equities as a loan marker participant and/or trade such securities on a stand-alone basis.

Cash Positions and Money Market Instruments

From time to time, subject to the investment limitations set forth above, the Investment Manager may maintain cash positions and invest some of the Master Fund's assets in short-term U.S. Government obligations, certificates of deposit, commercial paper and other money market instruments. A greater percentage of Master Fund assets may be invested in such obligations if the Investment Manager believes that a defensive position is appropriate because of expected economic or business conditions or the outlook for security prices. From time to time, in the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, cash balances in the Master Fund's brokerage account may be placed in a money-market fund or other cash equivalents.

Derivative Transactions

The Master Fund may enter into derivative transactions, including options, futures, credit default swaps and other derivatives transactions to hedge the market risk or express market views of its portfolio.

Foreign Investments

Although the Investment Manager intends to focus primarily on the U.S. marketplace, it may invest in dollar-denominated securities of foreign issuers or loans of foreign borrowers. Investing in foreign securities and loans of foreign borrowers involve special risks that can increase the potential for losses. These include exposure to potentially adverse local, political, and economic developments such as war, political instability, hyperinflation, currency devaluations, and overdependence on particular industries; government interference in markets such as nationalization and exchange controls, expropriation of assets, or imposition of punitive taxes; potentially lower liquidity and higher volatility; possible problems arising from accounting, disclosure, settlement, and regulatory practices and legal rights that differ from U.S. standards; and the chance that fluctuations in foreign exchange rates will decrease the investment's value (favorable changes can increase its value). In addition, information with respect to foreign borrowers may differ from that available for U.S. borrowers because foreign companies are not generally subject to accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, practices and requirements comparable to those applicable to U.S. borrowers. These risks are heightened for investments in emerging markets.

Risk Management and Hedging Activity

Risk Management

Risk management is integrated into all levels of the investment process, from due diligence to portfolio construction and management to ongoing monitoring. The process addresses factors including credit risk, liquidity risk and volatility risk. The Investment Manager conducts extensive position and portfolio monitoring activities on a daily basis. Portfolio risk is reviewed using internally generated daily, weekly and monthly reports which measure transaction compliance including metrics such as portfolio concentrations or required test scores, as well as compliance with evolving internal positioning targets. Individual position risk is monitored in a number of ways, including the extensive proprietary intranet system (Highland Online Management Engine or “HOME”), which pulls together data from our various data providers (Wall Street Office, LPC, Moody's, S&P, MarkIt, S&P LCD, CSFB Index) to provide a comprehensive portfolio/risk management system. The system allows the Investment Manager to monitor metrics at any level of aggregation (instrument, issuer, portfolio, fund and across the platform). Additionally, the system is designed to be scalable with flexibility to enable future data inputs and reporting requirements.

For both CLOs and for the underlying loans, the HOME intranet system allows the Investment Manager to monitor portfolios on a real-time, ongoing basis by receiving alerts showing positions with the largest daily/weekly/monthly mark change, as well as alerts on downgrades/upgrades and when the Investment Manager has changed the opinion on a broadly syndicated loan. The Investment Manager monitors existing positions by receiving monthly Trustee Reports and other data feeds to track the ongoing metrics of each particular investment, looking for trends and comparing current deal statistics to original expectations when the investment was made.

Certain of the Investment Manager's employees meet every morning to discuss current events in the market and meet weekly and monthly to take detailed looks at current economic data and leading indicators such as jobless claims and consumer expectations, consumer confidence, employment, industrial production and manufacturing, inflation, business conditions/confidence, construction/housing and commodity prices. The Investment Manager also determines risk-on/risk-off parameters, which allow it to adjust holdings and exposures accordingly.

Hedging Activity

The Investment Manager may, from time to time, employ its differentiated and sophisticated quasi-systematic hedging programs for the Master Fund. Such hedging programs may be customized for the Master Fund and may employ derivatives to partially or fully hedge the following risks:

- Tail Risk – The risk that the Master Fund's portfolio value declines by 2 standard deviations or more over a 1-month period.
- Systematic Risk – Undiversifiable risk of the Master Fund's portfolio.
- Catalyst/Event Risk – The risk that a catalyst or an event results in losses to the Master Fund's portfolio.
- Currency Risk – The downside sensitivity of the Master Fund's portfolio value to changes in exchange rates.
- Interest Rate Risk – The downside sensitivity of the Master Fund's portfolio value to changes in interest rates.
- Credit Risk – The downside sensitivity of the Master Fund's portfolio value.

The Investment Manager may employ derivative instruments to structure a “net” buyer of protection profile for the Master Fund. The Investment Manager classifies the risks arising from the use of derivatives into the following categories:

- Delta – The change in value of the derivative instrument due to a unit change in the underlying security.
- Gamma – The change in the delta due to a unit change in the underlying security.
- Vega – The change in value of the derivative instrument due to a unit change in volatility.
- Theta – The change in value of the derivative instrument due to the passage of time.
- Rates DV01 – The change in value of the derivative instrument due to a 1 basis point increase in interest rates.
- Credit DV01 – The change in value of the derivative instrument due to a 1 basis point increase in credit spreads.

The Investment Manager may monitor these risks associated with the use of derivative instruments on a real-time basis. In addition, the Investment Manager may perform scenario analyses on such derivative instruments to assess the payouts for market fluctuations up and down. The Investment Manager also may monitor such scenarios on a real-time basis.

Although the Investment Manager expects to maintain a diversified portfolio of investments, it does not intend to limit itself to any one particular investment theme or asset class.

The investment objectives and methods summarized above represent the Investment Manager's current intentions. The foregoing discussion includes and is based upon numerous assumptions and opinions of the Investment Manager concerning world financial markets and other matters, the accuracy of which cannot be assured. There can be no assurance that the Fund's investment strategy will achieve profitable results.

MANAGEMENT

The Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager

Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “Master Fund GP”), acts as the general partner of the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands.

Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware partnership (the “Investment Manager”), serves as the investment manager of the Fund and the Master Fund and has responsibility for the Master Fund’s investment program.

Each of the Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager are ultimately controlled by James D. Dondero (the “Principal”).

The Investment Management Agreement

The Investment Manager was appointed as the investment manager to the Fund, the Domestic Fund and the Master Fund pursuant to an investment management agreement (the “Investment Management Agreement”). Under the Investment Management Agreement, the Investment Manager has full discretion to invest the assets of the Master Fund in pursuit of the investment objective and strategy described in this Memorandum. For its services, the Investment Manager is entitled to the management fee as well as reimbursement for any Fund or Master Fund expenses incurred by the Investment Manager.

The Investment Management Agreement provides that, in the absence of gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or bad faith, each of the Investment Manager, its members, shareholders, partners, managers, directors, officers, employees or agents, any person who controls the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, and any of the legal representatives of any of the foregoing, will be indemnified by the Fund, the Domestic Fund and/or the Master Fund, to the extent permitted by law, against any loss or liability incurred by any of such persons in performing their duties under the Investment Management Agreement.

Between 1985 and 1989, Mr. Dondero was a corporate bond analyst and then portfolio manager at American Express. Mr. Dondero began his career in 1984 as an analyst in the JP Morgan training program.

Mr. Dondero graduated from the University of Virginia where he earned highest honors (Beta Gamma Sigma, Beta Alpha Psi) from the McIntire School of Commerce with dual majors in accounting and finance. He has received certification as a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and a Certified Managerial Accountant (CMA) and has earned the right to use the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation.

Hunter Covitz, CFA, Head of Structured Products

Mr. Covitz is Head of Structured Products and Portfolio Manager at Highland Capital Management, L.P. He is responsible for all CLOs and CLO investments managed by Highland. Mr. Covitz serves on Highland's investment committee and leads the structured products investment team. Since joining Highland in 2003, Mr. Covitz has been instrumental in the structuring, warehousing, ramping, and ongoing portfolio management of over 30 Highland-originated CLOs. Prior to joining Highland, Mr. Covitz served as a tax consultant at Deloitte & Touche and KBA Group LLP, where he focused on high-net worth individuals and middle-market companies. He received both his MS and BBA in Accounting from the University of Oklahoma, where he played baseball. Mr. Covitz is a licensed Certified Public Accountant.

Advisory Committee

The Master Fund GP and/or the Investment Manager may appoint a committee (the “Advisory Committee”) consisting of one or more individuals selected by the Master Fund GP and/or the Investment Manager, none of whom is affiliated with the Master Fund GP or the Investment Manager (except as an investor in the Fund or an affiliate of the Fund). If established, the Advisory Committee will have the authority, at the request of the Master Fund GP and/or Investment Manager, to consult with the Master Fund GP and/or Investment Manager on any matters that may involve a conflict of interest between the Investment Manager (and its affiliates) on the one hand and the shareholders and the Fund on the other. The Advisory Committee may also grant approvals required under the Advisers Act or related to any other matter deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. Any such approval given by a majority of the members of the Advisory Committee is binding on the Fund and the shareholders. Meetings of the Advisory Committee may be held in person or by telephone. The Fund will have the authority to agree to reasonably compensate members of the Advisory Committee for their services and to agree to reimburse them for their out-of-pocket expenses and to indemnify them to the maximum extent permitted by law.

Pricing Committee

The Master Fund GP and/or the Investment Manager may appoint a committee (the “Pricing Committee”) consisting of the following individuals: the Chief Financial Officer of the Investment Manager, the Chief Compliance Officer of the Investment Manager and one or more traders of the Investment Manager. The Pricing Committee will meet on at least a monthly basis to review, confirm and agree on all pricing information established by the Investment Manager in respect of the Master Fund’s assets that are fair valued. The final pricing or valuation of such assets will require the approval of a majority in number of the members of the Pricing Committee constituting a quorum. In lieu of meeting, the Pricing Committee may take action by written consent signed by a majority of the committee members. The Pricing Committee may, at the Master Fund’s expense, engage third-party experts and consultants to provide services in connection with any determination to be made by the Pricing Committee. The Master Fund GP and/or the Investment Manager may replace members of the Pricing Committee or change the composition of the Pricing Committee in its sole discretion.

Board of Directors

The Fund’s board of directors (the “Board of Directors”) currently consists of two directors (each, a “Director” and, collectively, the “Directors”). The current members of the Board of Directors are Mark Okada and Trey Parker. The biographies of Mark Okada and Trey Parker are set forth above.

The Administrator and Administration Agreement

The Master Fund has entered into an Administration Agreement (the “Administration Agreement”), with SEI Global Services, Inc. (the “Administrator”) pursuant to which the Administrator performs certain administrative and accounting services for the Fund and the Master Fund, subject to the oversight and control of the Investment Manager. SEI Investments Global (Cayman), Limited (“SEI Cayman”), an affiliate of the Administrator, will also be a party to the Administration Agreement in a limited capacity pursuant to which SEI Cayman provides certain investor servicing and transfer agency services (including anti-money laundering services) directly to the Fund.

Pursuant to the Administration Agreement, the Administrator is responsible, under the overall supervision of the Investment Manager, for certain matters pertaining to the day-to-day administration of the Fund including, but not limited to: (a) maintaining books and records related to Fund and Master Fund cash and position reconciliations, and portfolio transactions; (b) preparation of financial statements and other reports for the Fund and the Master Fund; (c) calculating the net asset value of the Master Fund (in accordance with the Investment Manager's valuation policies and procedures); (d) preparing certain reports to investors; (e) calculating fees payable or allocable to the Investment Manager (as applicable); (f) reviewing Subscription Documents and withdrawal requests and performing various other transfer agency and investor services; and (g) performing certain other administrative and clerical services in connection with the administration of the Fund and the Master Fund pursuant to the terms of the Administration Agreement. For purposes of determining net asset value, the Administrator will follow the valuation policies and procedures adopted by the Master Fund and the Investment Manager.

The fees payable to the Administrator will be based on the schedule of fees charged by the Administrator and as detailed in the Administration Agreement. The Master Fund may elect to terminate the Administration Agreement (in accordance with the terms thereof) and enter into a new agreement with a new administrator on behalf of the Master Fund and the Fund, in its discretion and on such terms as it deems advisable, without prior notice to, or approval of, investors.

The Administration Agreement provides that the Administrator may delegate some or all of its administrative functions on behalf of the Fund to one or more third parties, and also provides for certain limitations of the Administrator's liability and indemnification of the Administrator by the Fund.

The Administrator does not have a direct contractual relationship with the investors. The Administrator, however, has entered into a contractual relationship with the Fund in relation to the performance of the services described herein. The Fund will enforce its contractual rights with respect to the Administrator as necessary to protect the interests of the Fund (and, therefore, the interest of investors).

The Administrator in no way acts or will act as guarantor or offeror of interests in the Fund or any underlying investment, nor will it be responsible for the actions of the Fund's sales agents, its brokers, its custodians, any other brokers or the Investment Manager. The Administrator will not be responsible for any trading decisions of the Investment Manager or the Master Fund. The Administrator will not be responsible in any way for the Master Fund's selection or ongoing monitoring of its brokers, custodians or other counterparties. The decision to select any counterparties on behalf of the Master Fund will be made solely by the Investment Manager.

THE ADMINISTRATOR WILL NOT PROVIDE ANY INVESTMENT ADVISORY OR INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT SERVICES TO THE FUND AND, THEREFORE, WILL NOT BE IN ANY WAY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE FUND'S PERFORMANCE. THE ADMINISTRATOR WILL NOT BE RESPONSIBLE FOR MONITORING ANY INVESTMENT RESTRICTIONS OR COMPLIANCE WITH ANY INVESTMENT RESTRICTIONS APPLICABLE TO THE FUND AND THEREFORE WILL NOT BE LIABLE FOR ANY BREACH THEREOF.

SUMMARY OF TERMS

The following Summary of Terms summarizes the principal terms governing an investment in the Fund, and is subject, and qualified in its entirety by reference, to the Fund's Articles of Association, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Fund's subscription documents (the "Subscription Documents"). This summary is intended to be brief and does not purport to provide a comprehensive explanation of the Articles of Association, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Subscription Documents. Accordingly, statements made in this Memorandum are subject to the detailed provisions of those agreements. Prospective investors are urged to review those agreements in their entirety prior to determining whether to invest in the Fund.

The Fund

Highland Dynamic Income Fund, Ltd. (formerly known as Highland Capital Loan Fund, Ltd.) an exempted company incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability (the "Fund"), primarily seeks to maximize risk adjusted absolute returns, and secondarily seeks to preserve capital by investing all of its investable assets in Highland Dynamic Income Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the "Master Fund"), which provides exposure to the broader bank loan market.

Master Fund GP

Highland Dynamic Income Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "Master Fund GP"), acts as the general partner of the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. James D. Dondero (the "Principal") ultimately controls the Master Fund GP.

Investment Manager

Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership controlled by the Principal (the "Investment Manager"), serves as investment manager to the Fund and the Master Fund and has responsibility for the Master Fund's investments.

Directors

The Fund's board of directors (the "Board of Directors") currently consists of two directors (each, a "Director" and, collectively, the "Directors"). The current members of the Board of Directors are Mark Okada and Trey Parker. The Directors are responsible for the overall management and control of the Fund in accordance with its Articles of Association; however, the Directors have delegated the day-to-day operation of the Fund to service providers, including the Investment Manager and the Administrator. References herein to the "Board of Directors" shall mean the Board of Directors acting in consultation with the Investment Manager.

Master-Feeder Structure

In order to facilitate investments by U.S. investors, the Master Fund GP has sponsored the formation of Highland Dynamic Income Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the "Domestic Fund" and, together with the Fund, the "Feeder Funds"). The Feeder Funds place all of their investible assets in, and conduct all of their investment and trading activities in parallel through, the Master Fund. Accordingly, references herein to the investment activity of the Fund should be construed to refer to the Fund's investment activities through the Master Fund. The Feeder Funds share all items of profit, loss, income and expense of the Master Fund on a pro rata basis in accordance with their respective capital account balances in the Master Fund. Except as the context otherwise requires, the term “Fund” also includes the Master Fund.

The Investment Manager or an affiliate may also sponsor one or more additional investment funds or accounts.

Eligible Investors

Participating non-voting shares of the Fund (the “Shares”) may be purchased only by eligible investors. Subscribers will be required to complete the Fund’s Subscription Documents consisting of the subscription agreement and the subscriber information form to determine their eligibility. The Board of Directors reserves the right to reject any investor for any reason or for no reason in its sole discretion.

No Shares may be offered to the public in the Cayman Islands. Shares may be purchased only by eligible investors who are sophisticated individual or institutional investors. Each subscriber for Shares must certify that the beneficial owner of such Shares will not be a United States Person (as defined in Appendix A); provided, however, that subscriptions for Shares may also be accepted from certain qualified U.S. tax-exempt organizations.

An investment in the Fund is suitable only for persons that have adequate means of providing for their current needs and personal contingencies and have no need for liquidity in their investments. An investment in the Fund should not be made by any person that (a) cannot afford a total loss of its principal, or (b) has not carefully read or does not understand this Memorandum, including the portions concerning the risks and the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Series of Shares

The Fund may create and offer various classes or series of Shares with different terms and conditions than those described in this Memorandum, including, without limitation, fees, performance allocations and redemption rights. New classes or series of Shares may be established by the Board of Directors without notice to or approval of the shareholders.

Share Sub-Series

Shares are offered in a separate series to each shareholder on each subscription date (each, a “Sub-Series”) at $1,000 per Share. The Fund issues Shares as a separate Sub-Series for the purposes, among others, of accounting for any profits and losses attributable to each individual shareholder to reflect different returns achieved as a result of subscriptions received from shareholders at different times in order to calculate the Performance Allocation (as defined below) at the Master Fund level. Each separate Sub-Series of Shares will be identified and referable to each shareholder.

Subscriptions

Subscriptions for Shares may be accepted as of the first Business Day of each month and/or such other days as the Board of Directors may determine from time to time, generally subject to the receipt of cleared funds on or before the acceptance date. The initial minimum investment is $1,000,000, although the Fund may accept investments in a lesser amount, subject to an absolute minimum of $100,000 or such other amount as may, from time to time, be prescribed by the Mutual Funds Law or other applicable law.

“Business Day” is defined as any day on which commercial banks are open in New York City and the Cayman Islands, or such other day as the Board of Directors may determine from time to time.

All subscriptions for Shares will be subject to applicable anti-money laundering regulations. As part of the Fund’s responsibility to comply with regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering, the Board of Directors or its delegate may require verification of identity from all prospective investors. Depending on the circumstances of each subscription, it may not be necessary to obtain full documentary evidence of identity.

Where a subscription for Shares is accepted, the Shares will be treated as having been issued with effect from the relevant subscription date notwithstanding that the subscriber for those Shares may not be entered in the Fund’s register of members until after the relevant subscription date. The subscription monies paid by a subscriber for Shares will accordingly be subject to investment risk in the Fund from the relevant subscription date.

Placement Agents

There will be no sales charge payable by or to the Fund in connection with the offering of Shares. However, the Investment Manager may enter into arrangements with placement agents (which may include its affiliates) to solicit investors in the Fund, and such arrangements, may provide for the compensation of such placements agents for their services at the Investment Manager’s expense.

Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent’s or distributor’s participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions.

Each placement agent shall comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Shares.

Affiliated Investors

The Investment Manager, the Master Fund GP and their respective affiliates, principals, employees, partners, agents, the respective family members of such personnel and trusts and other entities established primarily for their benefit or for charitable purposes (“Affiliated Investors”) may not be subject to restrictions on redemptions or be assessed the Management Fee or the Performance Allocation (each as defined below) that are applicable to other investors in the Fund, but do share pro rata in all other applicable expenses of the Fund.

Borrowing and Leverage

The Master Fund may buy securities or commodities on margin and arrange with banks, brokers and others to borrow money against a pledge of securities or commodities in order to employ leverage when the Master Fund GP deems such action appropriate.

Management Fee

For its services to the Master Fund, the Investment Manager is entitled to a management fee (the “Management Fee”) calculated and payable quarterly in advance at an annual rate of 0.75% of the net asset value of each Sub-Series Account (as defined below). The Management Fee is paid at the Master Fund level. The Management Fee will be prorated for any period that is less than a full quarter.

The Investment Manager may elect to reduce, waive or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to any shareholder, including, without limitation, Affiliated Investors.

The Fund and/or the Investment Manager may delay the timing or alter the structure of fees payable to the Investment Manager so long as such changes are not materially adverse to the shareholders. The Investment Manager may also assign all or any portion of fees payable to the Investment Manager to any affiliate thereof in its sole discretion.

Performance
Allocation

Pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, generally, as of the close of each year and subject to the limitations described below, a performance-based allocation (the “Performance Allocation”) is debited against the Sub-Series Account relating to each Sub-Series of Shares attributable to a shareholder and simultaneously credited to the Master Fund capital account of the Master Fund GP. The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is equal to 10% of the amount by which the Performance Change Amount (positive and negative) for such fiscal year exceeds the Index Return Amount (positive and negative) for such fiscal year.

A Sub-Series Account’s “Performance Change Amount” for any fiscal year equals such Sub-Series Account’s pro rata allocation of net profit or net loss, plus or minus the Sub-Series Account’s share items that are allocated on a Sub-Series Account-by- Sub-Series Account basis, such as the Management Fee. Net profit and net loss includes unrealized appreciation or depreciation of the Master Fund’s assets and accrued applicable expenses of the Fund and the Master Fund for the applicable fiscal year.

The “Index Return Amount” is the amount that would have been credited or debited to such Sub-Series Account for the fiscal year if the rate of return had been equal to the return of the S&P/LSTA Leveraged Loan

Total Return Index for such fiscal year.³

The Performance Allocation is generally allocable to the Master Fund GP at the end of each fiscal year. The Performance Allocation is also calculated and charged with respect to any Sub-Series Account with respect to Shares redeemed as of any time other than the close of a fiscal year on the basis of the Performance Change Amount with respect to such Shares through the Redemption Date (as defined below). In the case of a partial redemption, the Performance Allocation is calculated and charged only with respect to the portion of the Sub-Series Account related to such Shares being redeemed.

The Performance Allocation with respect to any shareholder may be fully or partially waived or rebated by the Master Fund GP in its sole discretion.

The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level through the use of separate memorandum sub-accounts with respect to the Fund's capital account in the Master Fund that correspond to each Sub-Series of Shares attributable to a shareholder (each a "Sub-Series Account"). No separate Performance Allocation will be charged at the Fund level.

Other Fees and Expenses

The Fund bears the expenses of the organization of the Fund and the offering of Shares (including legal and accounting fees, printing costs, travel, "blue sky" filing fees and expenses and out-of-pocket expenses). In general, the Fund's financial statements will be prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP"). However, the Fund intends to amortize its organizational expenses over a period of 60 months from the date the Fund commenced operations because it believes such treatment is more equitable than expensing the entire amount of the organizational expenses in the Fund's first year of operation, as is required by GAAP. The Fund may, however, limit the amount of start-up and organizational expenses that the Fund amortizes so that the audit opinion issued with respect to the Fund's financial statements will not be qualified.

The Fund bears its own operating, administrative and other expenses, as well as a pro rata portion of the Master Fund's expenses, including, but not limited to, investment-related expenses (including those related to identifying and evaluating contemplated investments, whether or not such contemplated investments are actually made), brokerage commissions and other transaction costs, expenses related to short sales, clearing and settlement charges, expenses related to proxies, underwriting and private placements, custodial fees, transfer agent fees, bank service fees, any governmental, regulatory, licensing, filing or registration fees incurred in compliance with the rules of any self-regulatory organization or any federal, state or local laws, consulting and any other professional fees or compensation (including investment banking expenses) relating to particular investments or contemplated investments, appraisal fees and expenses, investment-related travel and lodging expenses and research-related expenses (including, without limitation, news and quotation equipment and services), fees to third-party providers of risk-monitoring services, investment and trading-related computer hardware and software, including, without limitation, trade order management software (i.e., software used to route trade orders), accounting (including accounting software), audit and tax preparation expenses, organizational expenses, expenses relating to the offer and sale of Shares and interests of the Master Fund (including the legal and other expenses associated with preparing and updating offering materials), costs and expenses associated with reporting and providing information to existing and prospective investors, any legal fees and costs (including indemnification expenses, regulatory costs and settlement costs) arising in connection with any litigation or regulatory investigation instituted against the Fund, the Master Fund, the Master Fund GP, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates in their capacity as such unless a final determination was made by a court of competent jurisdiction that any of the foregoing indemnified parties was grossly negligent or acted in bad faith, except as otherwise provided in the Articles of Association and/or the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, any withholding, transfer or other taxes imposed or assessed upon, or payable by, the Fund (including any interest and penalties), costs of any meeting of the shareholders (or in obtaining the consent of shareholders in lieu of meeting), expenses related to the Advisory Committee and the Pricing Committee, premiums for directors' and officers' liability insurance (if any) and any other insurance benefiting the Fund, the Management Fee, administrative expenses (including, without limitation, the fees and expenses of the Administrator in relation to its services provided pursuant to the Administration Agreement), fees relating to valuing the Fund's assets, expenses related to the maintenance of the Fund's registered office, corporate licensing expenses, and extraordinary expenses.

The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities under the Investment Management Agreement, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Master Fund, including, but not limited to, any affiliate of the Investment Manager, but payment for any such services will be assumed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Master Fund, and the Master Fund will bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.

The Fund and the Master Fund do not have their own separate employees or office, and neither the Fund nor the Master Fund reimburse the Master Fund GP or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the Master Fund GP or the Investment Manager. A portion of the commissions generated on the Master Fund's brokerage transactions may generate soft dollar credits that the Investment Manager is authorized to use to pay for research and other research-related services and products used by the Investment Manager. It is the current policy of the Investment Manager to limit such use of soft dollars to fall within the safe harbor of Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or to be otherwise reasonably related to the investment decision-making process or for Master Fund expenses. See "Brokerage and Custody."

Certain Fees

The Investment Manager, including, without limitation, the employees of the Investment Manager, may serve on the board of directors or committees thereof and/or provide financial advisory, consulting and/or as officers or otherwise provide management services, in each case for a fee to portfolio companies in which the Master Fund may have an interest. Such services are provided only after approval by the board of directors of such portfolio companies (or after approval of a court of appropriate jurisdiction with respect to bankruptcy proceedings or other appropriate approval) and based on "arm's length" negotiations of terms and conditions. Any fees earned pursuant to any such agreements for services will be retained by the Investment Manager.

Distributions

Subject to the quarterly redemption privilege described below, all earnings of the Fund are ordinarily retained for investment. Shareholders should not expect the Fund to make any distributions.

Redemptions
Generally

Subject to certain redemption restrictions described below, a shareholder is generally permitted to redeem all or a portion of its Shares as of the last Business Day of each quarter (and/or such other days as the Board of Directors may determine in its sole discretion) (each, a "Redemption Date"). Written notice of any redemption request must be received in writing by the Administrator at least 45 days prior to the requested Redemption Date. The Board of Directors may waive such notice requirements, or permit redemptions under such other circumstances as it, in its sole discretion, deems appropriate.

Settlement of Redemption Proceeds

A redemption request is normally settled in cash or, subject to the sole discretion of the Board of Directors, wholly or partially with securities or other assets of the Fund (received from the Master Fund), whether or not readily marketable, generally within 30 days after the Redemption Date; provided that the Board of Directors may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such redemption from having a material adverse impact on the Fund.

In the event that distributions during a fiscal year to a redeeming shareholder would exceed 90% of the value of such shareholder's Shares as of the beginning of such fiscal year, excess requested amounts will be held back and distributed (without interest thereon) within 30 days following completion of the audit of the Fund's financial statements for the year.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the Board of Directors may establish reserves and holdbacks for estimated accrued expenses, liabilities and contingencies, including, without limitation, general reserves for unspecified contingencies (even if such reserves or holdbacks are not otherwise required by GAAP) or liabilities stemming from tax obligations (as such may be determined in the sole discretion of the Board of Directors and whether or not incurred directly or indirectly), which could reduce the amount of a distribution upon a shareholder's redemption of Shares. The Board of Directors may withhold for the benefit of the Fund from any distribution to a redeeming shareholder an amount representing the actual or estimated costs incurred by the Fund with respect to such redemption.

Redemption Gate

If, for any Redemption Date, (i) shareholders submit redemption notices that, when combined, are in excess of 25% of the Fund's net asset value, or (ii) redemption requests are received by the Master Fund from any or all feeder vehicles in the Master Fund in excess of 25% of the Master Fund's net asset value, then the Board of Directors may determine, in its sole discretion, to reduce all such requests proportionately (based on the net asset value of each shareholder's Shares) so that the aggregate amount of such redemptions does not exceed 25% of the Fund's net asset value or such greater amount if the Board of Directors so determines (such restriction is referred to herein as the "Redemption Gate"). If redemptions are subject to the Redemption Gate, redemption requests are carried over to the next Redemption Date (and, if not fully satisfied as of that date because of the Redemption Gate, then as of the next, and, if necessary, successive Redemption Dates), except to the extent shareholders rescind their redemption request(s).

Any remaining amount of a redemption request that is not satisfied due to the Redemption Gate (i) remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Fund and subject to the applicable Management Fee, if any, until such amount is finally and fully redeemed, (ii) is considered requested as of the next Redemption Date without further action by the redeeming shareholder, (iii) is not entitled to priority over redemption requests on any subsequent Redemption Date, and (iv) remains subject to further application of the Redemption Gate on subsequent Redemption Dates.

Redemption Conditions

The Fund or the Administrator may refuse to accept a redemption request if it is not accompanied by such additional information as the Fund or the Administrator may reasonably require. This power may, without limitation to the generality of the foregoing, be exercised where proper information has not been provided for money laundering verification purposes. In addition, where redemption proceeds are requested to be remitted to an account which is not in the name of the investor, the Fund and the Administrator reserve the right to request such information as may be reasonably necessary in order to verify the identity of the investor and the owner of the account to which the redemption proceeds will be paid. The redemption proceeds will not be paid to a third-party account if the investor and/or owner of the account fails to provide such information.

Redemption payments will be made by wire transfer only to a bank account in the name of the shareholder located at a recognized financial institution which is regulated by a recognized regulatory authority and carries on business in a country recognized in Schedule 3 of the Money Laundering Regulations (2017 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (the “Money Laundering Regulations”).

Compulsory
Redemptions

The Board of Directors reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to compel the redemption of a shareholder’s Shares at any time and for any reason on not less than five days’ prior written notice (or immediately if the Directors, in their sole discretion, determine that such shareholder’s continued investment in the Fund may cause the Fund or the Investment Manager to violate any applicable law). Settlements are made in the same manner as voluntary redemptions, but without application of the Redemption Gate.

Suspension of Redemptions and Redemption Payments

The Board of Directors may postpone or suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Shares (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of Shares, (c) the redemption by shareholders of Shares (and the applicable Redemption Date); and/or (d) the payment of redemption proceeds (even if the calculation dates and Redemptions Dates are not postponed) (each, a “Suspension”) if it determines that such a Suspension is warranted by extraordinary circumstances, including: (i) during any period when any stock exchange or over-the-counter market on which the Master Fund’s investments are quoted, traded or dealt in is closed, other than for ordinary holidays and weekends, or during periods in which dealings are restricted or suspended; (ii) during the existence of any state of affairs as a result of which, in the reasonable opinion of the Board of Directors, disposal of investments by the Fund, or the determination of the value of the assets of the Fund, would not be reasonably practicable or would be seriously prejudicial to the non-redeeming shareholders; (iii) during any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the price or value of the Fund’s assets or liabilities, or of current prices in any stock market as aforesaid, or when for any other reason the prices or values of any assets or liabilities of the Fund cannot reasonably be accurately ascertained within a reasonable time frame; (iv) during any period when the transfer of funds involved in the realization or acquisition of any investments cannot, in the reasonable opinion of the Board of Directors, be effected at normal rates of exchange; (v) automatically upon liquidation of the Fund; or (vi) automatically upon any suspension of redemptions by the Master Fund for similar reasons as described in “The Master Fund,” below.

The Fund will promptly notify each shareholder who has submitted a redemption request and to whom payment in full of the amount being redeemed has not yet been remitted of any Suspension of redemptions or Suspension of the payment of redemption proceeds. Any remaining amount of a redemption request that is not satisfied due to such a Suspension remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Fund and subject to the applicable Management Fee until such amount is finally and fully redeemed. Such shareholders will not be given any priority with respect to the redemption of Shares after the cause for such Suspension or limitation ceases to exist. The Board of Directors may in their sole discretion, however, permit such shareholders to withdraw their redemption requests to the extent that the relevant Redemption Date has not yet passed. For the avoidance of doubt, where a suspension of the payment of redemption proceeds is declared between the relevant Redemption Date and the remittance of such payment proceeds, affected shareholders shall not have any right to withdraw their redemption requests. Upon the reasonable determination by the Board of Directors that conditions leading to Suspension no longer apply, any such suspended payments shall generally be paid in accordance with the normal process for making such payments, redemption rights shall be promptly reinstated, and any pending redemption requests which were not withdrawn (or new, timely redemption requests) will be effected as of the first Redemption Date following the removal of the Suspension, subject to the foregoing restrictions on redemptions.

The Directors have the power, in the circumstances described above, to effect a Suspension. It is anticipated that any Suspension would ordinarily be temporary. However, there may be situations in which the circumstances giving rise to the Suspension continue to be present for a considerable period of time with the result that the Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager, consider it appropriate to keep the Suspension in place indefinitely. In certain circumstances, even where a Suspension has not been declared, the Directors may, in consultation with the Investment Manager, make a determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued. During any such period of Suspension or having made such determination that the investment strategy should no longer be continued, the Investment Manager may recommend to the Directors that the Fund be managed with the objective of returning the Fund's assets to shareholders in an orderly manner (an “Orderly Realization”). The Directors may, in such circumstances, resolve to effect an Orderly Realization should they determine that doing so is in the best interests of the Fund's stakeholders. Such Orderly Realization shall not constitute a dissolution or winding up of the Fund for any purposes, but rather only the continued management of the Fund's portfolio so as to reduce such portfolio to cash (to the extent reasonably practicable, as advised by the Investment Manager) and return such cash as well as all other assets of the Fund to the shareholders. The Directors shall promptly communicate to shareholders any resolution to proceed with an Orderly Realization of the Fund. During an Orderly Realization, the Investment Manager may, in consultation with the Directors, take such steps as are considered appropriate in the best interests of the Fund's stakeholders to effect the Orderly Realization. The Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager shall establish what they consider to be a reasonable time by which the Orderly Realization should be effected (the "Realization Period"). Any resolution to undertake an Orderly Realization and the process thereof shall be deemed to be integral to the business of the Fund and may be carried out without recourse to a formal process of liquidation under the Companies Law (2016 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (the "Companies Law") or any other applicable bankruptcy or insolvency regime. The Directors, in consultation with the Investment Manager, may resolve to cease the Orderly Realization within the Realization Period and recommence active trading if the circumstances permit a lifting of any applicable Suspension or, where no Suspension is in effect, if the circumstances are such that the investment strategy can then be continued. The Management Fee shall be payable during an Orderly Realization on the same basis as described herein.

Transfers

Shares are not transferable except with the prior written consent of the Board of Directors, which consent may be withheld in its sole discretion. The Board of Directors will require any transferee or assignee of any shareholder to execute the Subscription Documents.

Duty of Care; Indemnification

Pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement, the Master Fund GP, the Investment Manager, each member, shareholder, partner, manager, director, officer, employee and agent of, and any person who controls, the Master Fund GP or the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, members of the Advisory Committee and Pricing Committee, their respective affiliates, and any of the legal representatives of any of the foregoing (each such person, an "Indemnified Party") shall not be liable to the Master Fund, Fund or the shareholders for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been the Master Fund GP or the Investment Manager or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as the Master Fund GP or the Investment Manager in the absence of gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or bad faith, or as otherwise required by law. No Indemnified Party shall be liable to the Master Fund, the Fund, any shareholder or any other person for any amount in excess of the amount of the Management Fee received by the Investment Manager, to the extent permitted under applicable law. In addition, in no event shall any Indemnified Party be liable for any special, indirect, exemplary, consequential or punitive losses or damages.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement and Investment Management Agreement contain provisions for the indemnification of the Indemnified Parties by the Master Fund and the Fund (but not by the shareholders individually) against any liabilities arising by reason of being or having been the Master Fund GP or the Investment Manager or in connection with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, the Investment Management Agreement, or the Master Fund or the Fund's business or affairs to the fullest extent permitted by law. The Investment Manager is not personally liable to any shareholder for the repayment of any redemption proceeds or for contributions by such shareholder to the capital of the Fund or by reason of any change in the U.S. federal or state income tax laws applicable to the Fund or its investors.

Every Director and officer of the Fund, together with every former Director and former officer of the Fund, shall be indemnified out of the assets of the Fund against any liability, action, proceeding, claim, demand, costs, damages or expenses, including legal expenses, whatsoever which they or any of them may incur as a result of any act or failure to act in carrying out their functions other than such liability (if any) that they may incur by reason of their own actual fraud or willful default. No Director or officer of the Fund shall be liable to the Fund for any loss or damage incurred by the Fund as a result (whether direct or indirect) of the carrying out of their functions unless that liability arises through the actual fraud or willful default of such Indemnified Party. No person shall be found to have committed actual fraud or willful default under the Articles of Association unless or until a court of competent jurisdiction shall have made a finding to that effect.

Non-Exclusivity;
Allocation of Opportunities

The partners, officers, managers, members, employees and affiliates of the Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager are not precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund. See "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest – Allocation of Trading Opportunities" below.

Affiliated Service Providers

NexBank, SSB ("NexBank SSB") is an affiliate of the Investment Manager and may, from time to time, provide banking and/or agency services to the Investment Manager, clients of the Investment Manager or collective investment vehicles for which the Investment Manager provides investment advisory services (including the Fund and other vehicles in which the Fund may invest) or third parties engaged in transactions involving the Investment Manager. NexBank SSB may also act as an agent in connection with certain securities transactions involving the Investment Manager's client accounts (including the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Master Fund may invest). Principals of the Investment Manager own a majority of the equity interests in NexBank SSB and employees or affiliates of the Investment Manager own or may own a substantial equity interest in NexBank SSB. Certain Master Fund investment transactions may be executed through NexBank Securities, Inc., an affiliate of the Investment Manager and a registered broker-dealer.

Additionally, the Investment Manager or affiliates of the Investment

Manager, including, without limitation, Nexbank SSB, NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital Advisors and Governance Re, Ltd. may provide financial advisory, management, insurance, title insurance or other services for a fee to portfolio companies in which the Master Fund may have an interest. See “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest” below.

Valuations

In general, the Fund’s financial statements will be prepared in accordance with GAAP. The Board of Directors has delegated the valuation of the Fund’s assets, based on the Master Fund’s assets, to the Investment Manager who values the Fund’s assets as of the close of each fiscal period in accordance with its valuation policies and procedures.

Reserves

Appropriate reserves may be accrued and charged against net assets and proportionately against the Shares of the shareholders for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts (subject to increase or reduction) that the Board of Directors in its sole discretion deems necessary or appropriate. At the sole discretion of the Board of Directors, the amount of any such reserve (or any increase or decrease therein) may be charged or credited, as appropriate, to the Shares of those investors who are shareholders at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those investors who were shareholders at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established.

If the Board of Directors determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, to those persons who were shareholders during any such prior period.

Fiscal Year

The Fund has a fiscal year ending on December 31 of each year.

Reports to Shareholders

Shareholders will receive unaudited monthly statements of the estimated net asset value of the Fund, monthly performance and portfolio reports, and an annual financial report of the Fund audited by the Fund’s independent auditors. The Fund may elect not to reserve certain amounts that may be required by GAAP and not to provide certain portfolio disclosure required by GAAP to investors and may capitalize and amortize certain of its organizational expenses in deviation from GAAP. Such deviations from GAAP may result in a qualified opinion rendered on the financial statements of the Fund. In addition, the Fund may provide certain information to certain shareholders, but not to all shareholders.

Tax Status

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Fund or the shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Fund.

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I hereby certify that on December 7, 2020, notice of this document will be electronically mailed to the parties that are registered or otherwise entitled to receive electronic notices in this case pursuant to the Electronic Filing Procedures in this District.

/s/ Annmarie Chiarello

One of Counsel

The Fund has applied for and can expect to receive an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Fund or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable (i) on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Fund or (ii) by way of the withholding in whole or in part of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Fund to its members or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Fund.

The Investment Manager believes that the Fund will be treated as a non-U.S. corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes. The Fund generally does not expect to be subject to U.S. federal income tax on its capital gains from securities trading. Dividends (including certain dividend equivalent amounts) and certain interest received by the Fund may be subject to withholding at the source. See “Tax Considerations.”

ERISA

The Investment Manager intends to limit investment in the Master Fund by “benefit plan investors” so that the assets of the Master Fund will not be considered “plan assets” for purposes of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”). It is anticipated that the assets of the Fund may constitute “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA. See “ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations.”

Variation of Terms

The Fund may enter into agreements with certain shareholders pursuant to which such shareholders will invest in the Fund on different terms, and in some cases, more favorable terms (including with respect to information and reporting, the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation and redemption rights), than those described herein, without the consent of, or notice to, the other shareholders.

The Articles of Association provide that, subject to the Companies Law of the Cayman Islands and the other provisions of the Articles of Association, all or any of the series rights or other terms of offer whether set out in the Memorandum, the Subscription Documents or otherwise (including any representations, warranties or other disclosure relating to the offer or holding of Shares) (collectively referred to as “Share Rights”) for the time being applicable to any class or series of Shares in issue (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of those Shares) may (whether or not the Fund is being wound up) be varied without the consent of the holders of the issued Shares of that class or series where such variation is considered by the Directors, not to have a material adverse effect upon such holders’ Share Rights; otherwise, any such variation shall be made only with the prior consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds by net asset value of such Shares, or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the votes cast in person or by proxy at a separate meeting of the holders of such Shares. For the avoidance of doubt, the Directors reserve the right, notwithstanding that any such variation may not have a material adverse effect, to obtain consent from the holders of such Shares. At any class meeting, the voting rights attributable to each Share shall be calculated by reference to the net asset value per Share and not on the basis of one Share, one vote. Each subscriber for Shares will be required to agree that the terms of offer set out in the applicable Subscription Documents and the rights attaching to the Shares can be varied in accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Association.

Dissolution Right

Shareholders that are not affiliates or employees of the Investment Manager (“Nonaffiliated Shareholders”) may cause the dissolution of the Fund upon the affirmative vote of shareholders holding Shares representing more than 50% of the net asset value of all Shares attributable to Non-Affiliated Shareholders at a special meeting of shareholders duly called by the Board of Directors pursuant to a notice circulated by the Board of Directors at the written request of shareholders holding Shares representing 20% or more of the net asset value of all Shares attributable to Non-Affiliated Shareholders. In the event of a dissolution of the Fund effected pursuant to the Articles, the Master Fund will make an in-kind distribution to the Fund (to the extent such in-kind distribution is reasonably practicable) and the Fund will distribute its assets to the shareholders in kind (to the extent such in-kind distribution is reasonably practicable).

A petition to submit to shareholders a proposal to dissolve the Fund (any such petition, a “Dissolution Petition”) may be submitted to the Board of Directors by any Nonaffiliated Shareholders holding Shares representing 2% or more of the net asset value of all Shares attributable to Non-Affiliated Shareholders. The Board of Directors shall have the power and duty to determine whether a Dissolution Petition was properly made in accordance with the Articles. If a Dissolution Petition was not properly made in accordance with the Articles, the Board of Directors shall so notify the requesting Nonaffiliated Shareholder(s) in writing of any procedural or eligibility deficiencies and such Dissolution Petition shall be disregarded. If the Dissolution Petition is properly made in accordance with the Articles, the Board of Directors shall within 30 days after receipt of the Dissolution Petition mail the Dissolution Petition to all Nonaffiliated Shareholder(s) together with written instructions specifying that a special meeting of shareholders will be called to dissolve the Fund if the Dissolution Petition is signed by Nonaffiliated Shareholders holding Shares representing 20% or more of the net asset value of all Shares attributable to Non-Affiliated Shareholders and returned to the Fund within 60 days after the date of such mailing. To be properly made, a Dissolution Petition must be received in writing by the Board of Directors at the principal place of business of the Fund, request that the Board of Directors mail the Dissolution Petition to all Nonaffiliated Shareholders and set forth as to the Nonaffiliated Shareholder(s) making the Dissolution Petition: (i) each such Nonaffiliated Shareholder's name and address, as they appear on the Fund's books, (ii) the net asset value of each such Nonaffiliated Shareholder's Shares as of the most recent month-end (which in the aggregate must represent at least 2% of the net asset value of all Shares attributable to Non-Affiliated Shareholders), and (iii) a representation that at least one shareholder from the group of shareholders that will sign the Dissolution Petition (or a qualified representative of at least one such shareholder) intends to appear in person at the special meeting of shareholders to determine whether to dissolve the Fund.

The Dissolution Petition may not set forth any proposal regarding the Fund other than the dissolution of the Fund. The Dissolution Petition shall be improper if it contains any false or misleading statements. The Board of Directors may, in its sole and absolute discretion, deem a Dissolution Petition improper if another proposal to dissolve the Fund was previously submitted by one or more of the same shareholders (or an affiliate or immediate family member thereof) during the preceding two years.

Upon receipt of the Dissolution Petition, signed by Nonaffiliated Shareholders holding Shares representing 20% or more of the net asset value of all Shares attributable to Non-Affiliated Shareholders and returned to the Fund within 60 days after the date on which the Dissolution Petition was mailed, the Board of Directors shall, by written notice to each shareholder of record within 15 days after such receipt, call such a special meeting of shareholders to vote (in person or by proxy) on the dissolution of the Fund. Such meeting shall be held at least 30 but not more than 60 days after the mailing of such notice, and such notice shall specify the date, a reasonable place (which shall include, for avoidance of doubt, the principal place of business of the Fund or the Board of Directors), and time for such meeting, as well as its purpose, and include a form of proxy.

Except as otherwise required by the Articles of Association, neither the Fund nor the Board of Directors shall have any obligation to forward any communication received by a shareholder to any other shareholder or to call a meeting of shareholders. Nothing herein shall in any way limit or restrict the ability of the Fund or the Board of Directors to solicit votes or consents in opposition of any Dissolution Petition. If no shareholder from the group of shareholders that signed the Dissolution Petition (or any qualified representative of at least one such shareholder) appears in person at the special meeting of shareholders, then no vote on the dissolution of the Fund will be taken at such meeting. In order to be considered a qualified representative of the shareholder, a person must be authorized by a written instrument executed by such shareholder or an electronic transmission delivered by such shareholder to act for such shareholder as proxy at the meeting of shareholders and such person must produce such written instrument or electronic transmission, or a reliable reproduction of the written instrument or electronic transmission, at the meeting of shareholders. By submitting a Dissolution Petition to the Board of Directors, the Nonaffiliated Shareholder(s) shall be deemed to consent to the Board of Director's mailing of the Dissolution Petition to all Nonaffiliated Shareholders for all purposes, including without limitation for purposes of Regulation S-P under section 504 of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, as amended, and other applicable privacy laws.

SHARES OF THE FUND

The Fund's Share Capital

The Fund has an authorized share capital of U.S.$50,000 divided into 100 management shares (“Management Shares”) of a nominal par value of U.S.$1.00 each and 4,990,000 participating non-voting shares (the “Shares”) of a nominal par value of U.S.$0.01. The Directors may by resolution divide the Shares into separate series (each, a “Series”) which may be subject to different rights, restrictions, preferences, privileges and payment obligations as between the different Series and further into separate Sub-Series within such Series. The different Series and Sub-Series thereof shall be established and designated, and the variations in the relative rights and preferences as between the different Series and Sub-Series thereof shall be fixed and determined by the Board of Directors. Sub-Series of Shares of each Series are issued for the purposes, among others, of accounting for any profits and losses attributable to each individual shareholder to reflect different returns achieved as a result of subscriptions received at different times.

Each separate Sub-Series of Shares is identified by the investor to whom it was issued and its date of issue. Shares are issued to shareholders in Sub-Series at $1,000 per Share. Immediately following the close of any fiscal year, each such Sub-Series of Shares may be redeemed and the proceeds applied to the subscription for an earlier Sub-Series of Shares of such Series.

The Shares are being offered pursuant to this Memorandum. The Shares generally will be entitled to all rights and privileges of Share ownership (including the right to receive dividends when declared and distributions of assets, net of all final fees and expenses, upon winding up) other than voting rights, except under limited circumstances.

The Management Shares will carry all the voting rights but will have no right to participate in the assets of the Fund (other than to a return of the par value on a winding up). The Management Shares will be held by the Investment Manager or an affiliate, and will be voted in accordance with the instructions of the Investment Manager.

The holders of Shares will only be entitled to vote at class meetings of shareholders to the extent that the matter considered thereat would materially adversely vary or abrogate the existing class rights attaching to the Shares. The holders of Shares have no other voting rights.

The Articles of Association provide that, subject to the Companies Law and the other provisions of the Articles of Association, all or any of the class and/or Series rights or other terms of offer, whether set out in this Memorandum, the Subscription Documents or otherwise (including any representations, warranties or other disclosures relating to the offer or holding of Shares) (collectively referred to as “Share Rights”), for the time being applicable to any class or Series of Shares in issue (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of those Shares) may (whether or not the Fund is being wound up) be varied without the consent of the holders of the issued Shares of that class or Series where such variation is considered by the Directors not to have a material adverse effect upon such holders' Share Rights; otherwise, any such variation shall be made only with the prior consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds by net asset value of such Shares, or with the sanction of a resolution passed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the votes cast in person or by proxy at a separate meeting of the holders of such Shares. For the avoidance of doubt, the Directors reserve the right, notwithstanding that any such variation might not have a material adverse effect, to obtain consent from the holders of such Shares. At any class meeting, the voting rights attributable to each

Share shall be calculated by reference to the net asset value per Share and not on the basis of one Share, one vote. Each subscriber for Shares will be required to agree that the terms of offer set out in the Subscription Documents and the rights attaching to the Shares can be varied in accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Association. The Articles of Association provide that, in relation to any class or Series consent required pursuant to the “Variation of Share Rights” Article, the Directors in their discretion may invoke the following procedure (the “Negative Consent Procedure”). The Directors shall provide written notice in respect of the proposed variation (the “Proposal”) to the members of the affected class or Series and shall specify a deadline (the “Redemption Request Date”), which shall be no earlier than 30 days after the date of giving such notice, by which date such members may submit a written request for redemption of some or all of their Shares of the affected class and/or Series on the Redemption Date (the “Specified Redemption Date”) specified by the Directors in such notice. The terms of the Proposal shall be such that its specified effective date (the “Effective Date”) shall not be on or prior to the Specified Redemption Date. Such notice shall further provide that the holders of any Shares in respect of which a request for redemption has not been received by the Redemption Request Date (the “Affected Shares”) shall, in the absence of express written refusal to consent, be deemed to have consented in writing to the Proposal (such Affected Shares being the “Negative Consent Shares”). In the event that the Negative Consent Procedure is followed, only the Affected Shares shall be considered for the purposes of determining whether the written consent majority has been obtained under the “Variation of Share Rights” Article with the holders of the Negative Consent Shares being deemed to have submitted a written consent in favor of the Proposal on the Effective Date.

The rights conferred upon the holders of the Shares of any class issued with preferred or other rights shall not, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Shares, be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them, the redemption or purchase of any Shares or by the passing of any Directors’ resolution to change or vary any investment objective, investment technique and strategy and/or investment policy in relation to the Shares or any modification of the fees payable to any service provider to the Fund.

In general, each Share will participate in the Fund’s profits and losses attributable to the relevant class in the same manner. Each of the Shares will participate ratably with all other outstanding Shares in the Fund’s assets and earnings and will have the redemption rights discussed above.

The Directors may impose such restrictions as they think necessary for the purpose of ensuring that no Shares in the Fund are held by (i) any person in breach of the laws or requirements of any country or governmental authority or (ii) any person or persons in circumstances which, in the opinion of the Directors, might result in the Fund incurring any liability of taxation or suffering any other pecuniary disadvantage which the Fund might not otherwise have incurred or suffered. A person who becomes aware that he or she is holding or owning Shares in breach of any restriction mentioned in the Articles of Association shall promptly either deliver to the Fund a written request for redemption of his or her Shares or transfer the same to a person who would not thereby be a non-qualified person.

Management Shares

The Fund will have a single class of Management Shares that is not entitled to participate in the Fund’s assets, earnings and distributions, other than with respect to a return of their par value on a winding up of the Fund. The Management Shares are issued at par value at U.S.$1.00 per share.

General meetings of the holders of Management Shares may be held to vote on various matters including to elect the Directors and to attend to such other business as may properly be placed before the meeting. At any such general meeting, the favorable vote of a majority of the Management Shares present is sufficient for the approval of any action, unless such action is a matter requiring a special resolution, in which case two-thirds of the Management Shares shall be required, in each case as further detailed in the Articles of Association.

Registration of Management Shares and Shares and Share Certificates

Management Shares and Shares of the Fund are issued only in registered form; the Fund will not issue bearer shares. A current register of the names and addresses of the Fund's shareholders and their shareholdings is maintained at the office of the Administrator. Management Shares and Shares are registered only in book entry form. No share certificates have been or will be issued.

Other Rights and Liabilities

Under the terms of the Articles of Association, the liability of the shareholders of the Fund is limited, and shareholders will not be liable for any debt, obligation or default of the Fund in excess of the amounts unpaid on their Shares.

The Fund and the Investment Manager may agree with certain investors to a fee structure, redemption rights or other terms that differ from the fee structure, redemption rights and other terms that are set forth in this Memorandum. Such different rights may, subject to applicable law, be effected by issuance of a separate Series of Shares or any other permissible means. Such rights may not be offered to all investors.

Calculation of Fund Net Asset Value

The Directors have delegated to the Administrator the calculation of the net asset value of the Fund and the net asset value per Share of each Series and, if applicable, Sub-Series, subject to the overall supervision and direction of the Directors. Net asset valuations of the Fund and each Sub-Series of each Series of Shares will be calculated as of the close of business on the last day of each month, or such other days as may from time to time be determined by the Fund (each, a "Valuation Date") in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles. To the extent feasible, liabilities are accrued as of each Valuation Date.

The Fund's assets are valued based on the Master Fund's assets. The net asset value of the Fund is determined by taking the amount of all cash and credit balances plus the market value of all commodities and other assets comprising the Fund's assets (including any interest and dividends receivable but excluding any subscription amounts committed to the Fund from time to time to the extent such amounts are not held by or on behalf of the Fund), as valued by the Investment Manager and the Administrator, minus all debit balances and other liabilities and obligations of the Fund (including any liability for the payment of the Management Fee and Performance Allocation hereunder). Net asset value in respect of any Series or Sub-Series of participating Share is calculated by dividing the value of the account relating to that Series or Sub-Series of participating Share by the number of participating Shares of that Series or Sub-Series in issue. For the sole purpose of determining the number of participating Shares of a Series or Sub-Series in issue, participating Shares of that Series or Sub-Series which are to be redeemed on the relevant Valuation Date shall be deemed to be in issue until and including the close of business on the applicable Valuation Date.

Based on the Master Fund's assets, assets of the Fund will be valued by both the Investment Manager, who will provide such valuations to the Administrator, and independently by the Administrator. The Administrator will then calculate and disseminate the net asset value of the Fund and each Sub-Series of each Series of Shares.

THE MASTER FUND

The Master Fund's Limited Partner Interests

The Master Fund's partnership interests are currently held exclusively by the Fund and the Domestic Fund as limited partners, as well as the Master Fund GP, as the general partner of the Master Fund pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Master Fund GP is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands pursuant to Part IX of the Companies Law (2016 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (the "Companies Law").

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement

The Master Fund is constituted as a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, 2014 (the "Exempted Limited Partnership Law"). A Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership is constituted by the signing of the relevant partnership agreement and its registration with the Registrar of Exempted Limited Partnerships in the Cayman Islands.

A Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership is not a separate legal person distinct from its partners. Under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, any property which is conveyed into or vested in the name of the exempted limited partnership shall be held or deemed to be held by the general partner, and if more than one, then by the general partners jointly upon trust, as an asset of the partnership in accordance with the terms of the partnership agreement. Any debt or obligation incurred by a general partner in the conduct of the business of an exempted limited partnership shall be a debt or obligation of the exempted limited partnership. Registration under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law entails that the partnership becomes subject to, and the limited partners therein are afforded the limited liability and other benefits of, the Exempted Limited Partnership Law (subject to compliance therewith).

Liability of Partners and Indemnification of the Master Partnership GP and Others. The business of a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership will be conducted by its general partner(s) who will be liable for all debts and obligations of the exempted limited partnership to the extent that the partnership has insufficient assets. As a general matter, a limited partner of a Cayman Islands partnership will not be liable for the debts and obligations of the exempted limited partnership, other than:

- (i) as expressed in the partnership agreement,
- (ii) if such limited partner takes part in the conduct of the business of an exempted limited partnership in its dealings with persons who are not partners, then that limited partner shall be liable, in the event of the insolvency of the exempted limited partnership, for all debts and obligations of that exempted limited partnership incurred during the period that he so participates in the conduct of the business as though he were, for such period, a general partner, provided always that he shall be rendered liable pursuant to the foregoing provision only to a person who transacts business with the exempted limited partnership during such period with actual knowledge of such participation and who then reasonably believed such limited partner to be a general partner, or
- (iii) if such limited partner is obligated pursuant to Section 34(1) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Law to return a distribution made to it (with interest at a rate of 10% per annum, unless otherwise specified in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement) when the exempted limited partnership is insolvent or within six months prior to such insolvency.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides that none of the Indemnified Parties will be liable to the Master Fund or any limited partner of the Master Fund (including the Feeder Funds) or any other person for mistakes of judgment or for action or inaction that did not constitute gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or bad faith, or for losses due to such mistakes, action or inaction or to the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of any broker or agent of the Master Fund, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by the Indemnified Party in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. An Indemnified Party may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Master Fund's affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. The foregoing provisions, however, shall not be construed so as to provide for the exculpation of an Indemnified Party of any liability (including liability under U.S. Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons acting in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law (including liability under U.S. Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons acting in good faith), but shall be construed so as to effectuate the abovementioned provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement also limits the liability of any Indemnified Party to the amount of the Management Fee received, to the extent permitted under applicable law. In addition, in no event shall any Indemnified Party be liable for any special, indirect, exemplary, consequential or punitive losses or damages.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides that the Master Fund shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Party from and against any and all loss, cost or expense suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Party by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Party, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability, damage loss, cost or expense resulted from a mistake of judgment on the part of an Indemnified Party or from action or inaction that did not constitute gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or bad faith, or from the negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of a broker or other agent of an Indemnified Party, provided that such broker or agent was selected, engaged or retained by the Indemnified Party in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement also provides that the Master Fund will, in the sole discretion of the Master Fund GP, advance to any Indemnified Party reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct. In the event that such an advance is made by the Master Fund, the Indemnified Party will agree to reimburse the Master Fund to the extent that it is finally determined that it was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement do not provide for the indemnification of any Indemnified Party for any liability (including liability under Federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Indemnified Party, the Master Fund (and not the applicable Indemnified Party) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or bad faith. Given the volume of transactions executed on behalf of the Master Fund, trading errors (and similar errors) will occur and the Master Fund will be responsible for any resulting losses, even if such losses result from the negligence (but not gross negligence) of any Indemnified Party.

The Indemnified Parties will also be indemnified by each limited partner of the Master Fund for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that limited partner, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith to the extent that the balance of the limited partner's capital account is insufficient to fully compensate the Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager for such costs.

Contributions and Withdrawals by the Fund. Limited partners of the Master Fund may make contributions at such times and in such amounts as the Master Fund GP determines. As a limited partner of the Master Fund, the Fund may, subject to the consent of the Master Fund GP, voluntarily request a withdrawal of all or part of its capital in the Master Fund at such times and in such amounts as it may determine. The Master Fund GP may postpone or suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Master Fund (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of limited partner interests, (c) the withdrawal by limited partners (and the applicable withdrawal date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and withdrawal dates are not postponed) if it determines that such a suspension is warranted by extraordinary circumstances, including: (i) during any period when any stock exchange or over-the-counter market on which the Master Fund's investments are quoted, traded or dealt in is closed, other than for ordinary holidays and weekends, or during periods in which dealings are restricted or suspended; (ii) during the existence of any state of affairs as a result of which, in the reasonable opinion of the Master Fund GP, disposal of investments by the Master Fund, or the determination of the value of the assets of the Master Fund, would not be reasonably practicable or would be seriously prejudicial to the non-withdrawing partners; (iii) during any breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the price or value of the Master Fund's assets or liabilities, or of current prices in any stock market as aforesaid, or when for any other reason the prices or values of any assets or liabilities of the Master Fund cannot reasonably be accurately ascertained within a reasonable time frame; (iv) during any period when the transfer of funds involved in the realization or acquisition of any investments cannot, in the reasonable opinion of the Master Fund GP, be effected at normal rates of exchange; or (v) automatically upon liquidation of the Master Fund.

Amendment of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement may be amended by the Master Fund GP without the consent of the limited partners in any manner that does not materially adversely affect any limited partner.

Dissolution of the Master Fund. The Master Fund shall be wound up and dissolved upon the first to occur of any of the following liquidating events, and Sections 36(1)(b), 36(9) and 36(12) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Law shall not apply to the Master Fund:

- (i) the written election of the Master Fund GP to dissolve the Master Fund; or
- (ii) if the Master Fund GP is the sole or last remaining general partner, the date (the "Automatic Dissolution Date") falling 90 days after the date of the service of a notice by the Master Fund GP (or its legal representative) on all the limited partners informing the limited partners of:

- (1) the commencement of liquidation or bankruptcy proceedings in relation to the Master Fund GP; or
- (2) the withdrawal, removal or making of a winding up or dissolution order in relation to the Master Fund GP;

provided that, if a majority in number of the limited partners elects one or more new general partners before the Automatic Dissolution Date, the business of the Master Fund shall be resumed and continued. If a new general partner is not elected by the Automatic Dissolution Date, the Master Fund shall be wound up and dissolved in accordance with terms of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Exempted Limited Partnership Law.

Power of Attorney. Each limited partner of the Master Fund shall make, constitute and appoint the Master Fund GP its true and lawful attorney to make, sign, execute, certify, acknowledge, file and record any instrument deemed necessary or appropriate by the Master Fund GP to carry out fully the provisions of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, including the admission of any new partners of the Master Fund and any amendments to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. Each limited partner of the Master Fund shall authorize the Master Fund GP to take any further action that the Master Fund GP considers necessary or advisable in connection with the foregoing. Such power of attorney granted is intended to secure an interest in property and, in addition, the obligation of each relevant limited partner of the Master Fund under the Master Fund Partnership Agreement shall be irrevocable and shall survive and not be affected by the subsequent death, lack of capacity, insolvency, bankruptcy or dissolution of any limited partner of the Master Fund.

Valuation of Assets

The Master Fund GP (meaning for the purposes of the valuation of assets described herein, the Master Fund GP itself, the Investment Manager or the Administrator under the ultimate supervision of the Master Fund GP) will generally compute the value of the securities and other assets of the Master Fund as of the close of business on the last day of each fiscal period and on any other date selected by the Master Fund GP in its sole discretion. In addition, the Master Fund GP must compute the value of the securities that are being distributed in-kind as of their date of distribution in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. In determining the value of the assets of the Master Fund, no value is placed on the goodwill or name of the Master Fund, or the office records, files, statistical data or any similar intangible assets of the Master Fund not normally reflected in the Master Fund's accounting records, but there must be taken into consideration any related items of income earned but not received, expenses incurred but not yet paid, liabilities fixed or contingent, prepaid expenses to the extent not otherwise reflected in the books of account, and the value of options or commitments to purchase or sell securities pursuant to agreements entered into on or prior to such valuation date.

A copy of the Master Fund's valuation policy is available upon request from the Master Fund GP.

The value of each security and other asset of the Master Fund and the net worth of the Master Fund as a whole determined pursuant Master Fund Partnership Agreement are conclusive and binding on all of the partners of the Master Fund and all persons claiming through or under them.

RISK FACTORS AND POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Investment in the Fund is speculative and involves substantial risks, including, but not limited to, those summarized below. The Fund is not suitable for all investors and is intended for sophisticated investors who can accept the risks associated with their investments. Prospective investors should carefully consider the risk factors described in this section, among others, in determining whether an investment in the Fund is suitable for them. There can be no assurance that the Fund's program will be successful or that investments purchased by the Fund will increase in value. An investor must be prepared to bear capital losses that might result from an investment in the Fund, including a complete loss of the investor's invested capital. All investors in the Fund should consult their own legal, tax and financial advisors prior to investing in the Fund.

For purposes of this section, references to the "Fund" should be understood to mean each of the Fund and the Master Fund, as applicable, and each of the risk factors set forth herein, while not exhaustive, shall apply equally to each of the Fund and the Master Fund, as applicable.

General Risks

Limited Operating History. The Fund, the Master Fund and the Master Fund GP have limited operating histories upon which investors can evaluate the anticipated performance of the Fund. The Investment Manager has been in operation since 1993. However, the past performance of the Investment Manager and its officers and personnel is not an indication of future success of the Fund.

Risks Associated With Investments in Securities. Any investment in securities carries market risks. An investment in the Fund is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk due to the nature of the Fund's investments and the strategies to be employed. An investment in the Fund should not in itself be considered a balanced investment program, but rather is intended to provide diversification in a more complete investment portfolio.

Investment Judgment; Market Risk. The profitability of a significant portion of the Master Fund's investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to predict accurately these price movements. With respect to the investment strategy utilized by the Master Fund, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Limited Liquidity; Additional Information. An investment in the Fund provides limited liquidity since the Shares are not freely transferable and may only be redeemed at such times as set forth in this Memorandum. The Board of Directors may suspend redemptions, in whole or in part, when, in the sole discretion of the Board of Directors, such a suspension is warranted by extraordinary circumstances. The Board of Directors may also delay the payment of redemption proceeds as more fully described elsewhere in this Memorandum. Investments that remain in the Fund are subject to all risks related to an investment in the Fund as described in this Memorandum.

Also, certain shareholders (including, without limitation, the Affiliated Investors), may invest on terms that provide access to information that is not generally available to other shareholders of the Fund and, as a result, may be able to act on such additional information (e.g., redeem their Shares) that other shareholders do not receive. An investment in the Fund is suitable only for sophisticated investors who have no need for current liquidity.

Effect of Substantial Redemptions. Several factors make substantial redemptions (and possibly substantial withdrawals from the Domestic Fund) a risk factor for shareholders. The Master Fund will pursue a variety of investment strategies that will take time to develop and implement. The Master Fund may not be able to readily dispose of such financial instruments and, in some cases, may be contractually prohibited from disposing of such financial instruments for a period of time. Substantial redemptions (and possibly substantial withdrawals from the Domestic Fund) could be triggered by a number of events, including, for example, unsatisfactory performance or a significant change in personnel or management of the Investment Manager, investor reaction to redemptions or withdrawals from other investment funds sponsored by the Investment Manager, legal or regulatory issues that investors perceive to have a bearing on the Fund or the Investment Manager, or other factors. Actions taken to meet substantial redemption requests from the Fund (as well as similar actions taken simultaneously in other investment funds sponsored by the Investment Manager) could result in prices of financial instruments held by the Master Fund decreasing and in Master Fund expenses increasing (e.g., transaction costs and the costs of terminating agreements). The overall value of the Master Fund also may decrease because the liquidation value of certain assets may be materially less than their mark-to-market value. The Master Fund may be forced to sell its more liquid positions while maintaining a relatively concentrated portfolio of illiquid assets. Substantial redemptions could also significantly restrict the Master Fund's ability to obtain financing or derivatives counterparties needed for its investment and trading strategies, which would have a further material adverse effect on the Master Fund's performance.

Substantial redemptions from the Fund within a short period of time could require the Master Fund to liquidate securities positions more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, possibly reducing the value of the Fund's assets and/or disrupting the Investment Manager's investment strategy. Reduction in the size of the Fund could make it more difficult to generate a positive return or to recoup losses due to, among other things, reductions in the Master Fund's ability to take advantage of particular investment opportunities or decreases in the ratio of its income to its expenses.

Master-Feeder Structure. The Fund will invest all of its investable assets in the Master Fund. The "master-feeder" fund structure presents certain risks to the shareholders. Smaller feeder funds may be materially affected by the actions of larger feeder funds.

While the Investment Manager, as investment manager of the Master Fund, generally will not consider tax issues applicable to any particular investors, it generally will take into account the tax positions of the Fund and the Domestic Fund that invest in the Master Fund. However, the use of a "master-feeder" structure may create a conflict of interest in that different tax considerations for the Fund and the Domestic Fund may cause or result in the Master Fund structuring or disposing of an investment in a manner or at a time that is more advantageous (or disadvantageous) for tax purposes to one Feeder Fund or its investors.

Management Fee and Performance Allocations. As described above, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides for the payment of the Management Fee to the Investment Manager and the Performance Allocation to the Master Fund GP. The Performance Allocation may create an incentive for the Investment Manager, an affiliate of the Master Fund GP, to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such Performance Allocation.

Side Letters. The Fund may from time to time enter into letter agreements or other similar agreements (collectively, "Side Letters") with one or more shareholders which provide such shareholder(s) with additional and/or different rights (including, without limitation, with respect to access to information, the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation, minimum investment amounts, voting rights and liquidity terms) than such shareholder(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum. As a result of such Side Letters, certain shareholders may receive additional benefits (including, but not limited to, reduced fee obligations, the ability to redeem Shares on shorter notice and/or expanded informational rights) which other shareholders will not receive. For example, a Side Letter may permit a shareholder to redeem its Shares on less notice and/or at different times than other shareholders. As a result, should the Fund experience a decline in performance over a period of time, a shareholder who is party to a Side Letter that permits less notice and/or different redemption times may be able to redeem its Shares prior to other shareholders. In general, the Fund and/or the Investment Manager will not be required to notify any or all of the other shareholders of any such Side Letters or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the Fund and/or the Investment Manager be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other shareholders. The Fund and/or the Investment Manager may cause the Fund to enter into such Side Letters with any party as the Fund and/or the Investment Manager may determine in its sole discretion at any time. The other shareholders will have no recourse against the Fund and/or the Investment Manager in the event certain shareholders receive additional and/or different rights and/or terms as a result of such Side Letters. A shareholder will be required to enter into such undertakings with respect to maintaining the confidentiality of any such additional information as the Fund and/or the Investment Manager may in their sole discretion determine.

Net Asset Value Considerations. The net asset value of the Fund is expected to fluctuate over time with the performance of the Master Fund's investments. A shareholder may not fully recover its investment when it chooses to redeem its Shares from the Fund or upon a compulsory redemption if the net asset value of the shareholder's Shares at the time of such redemption is less than the share price of such Shares or if there remain any unamortized costs and expenses of establishing the Fund.

No Participation by Investors. All decisions with respect to the management of the day-to-day affairs of the Fund are made exclusively by the Board of Directors and the Investment Manager. Shareholders have no right or power to take part in the management of the Fund. The Investment Manager makes all of the trading and investment decisions of the Fund. In the event of the withdrawal of the Investment Manager, generally the Fund will be liquidated.

Investment Strategies. The Investment Manager will seek to engage in the investment activities that have been discussed in "Investment Program" herein. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be successful in applying any such strategy and that losses will be avoided.

Competition. The markets in which the Master Fund invests are competitive and some of the opportunities that the Investment Manager may explore may be pursued by better known investors or investment funds. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to identify or successfully pursue such opportunities in this environment. The Investment Manager competes with many firms that may have greater financial resources, more extensive development, better marketing and service capabilities, more favorable financing arrangements, larger research staffs and more securities traders than are available to the Investment Manager.

In-Kind Distributions. A redeeming shareholder may, in the discretion of the Fund and/or Investment Manager, receive securities owned by the Fund in lieu of, or in combination with, cash. The value of securities distributed may increase or decrease before the securities can be sold, and the shareholder will incur transaction costs in connection with the sale of such securities. Additionally, securities distributed with respect to a redemption by a shareholder may not be readily marketable. The risk of loss and delay in liquidating these securities will be borne by the shareholder, with the result that such shareholder may receive less cash than it would have received on the date of redemption.

No Current Income. Since the Fund does not generally intend to pay distributions, an investment in the Fund is not suitable for investors seeking current income.

Terrorist Action. There is a risk of terrorist attacks on the United States and elsewhere causing significant loss of life and property damage and disruptions in the global market. Economic and diplomatic sanctions may be in place or imposed on certain states and military action may be commenced. The impact of such events is unclear, but could have a material effect on general economic conditions and market liquidity.

Unforeseen Events. The Master Fund may be adversely affected by unforeseen events involving such matters as changes in interest rates or the credit status of an issuer, forced redemptions of securities or acquisition proposals, break-up of planned mergers, unexpected changes in relative value or changes in tax treatment.

Cybersecurity. Information and technology systems may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and security breaches, usage errors by their respective professionals, power outages and catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and earthquakes. Although the Investment Manager has implemented various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time or cease to function properly, the Investment Manager, the Master Fund and/or the Fund may have to make a significant investment to fix or replace them, which expense may be borne in whole or in part by the Fund. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the Investment Manager's, the Master Fund's and/or the Fund's operations and result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to investors. Such interruptions could harm the Investment Manager's, the Master Fund's and/or the Fund's reputation, subject any such entity and their respective affiliates to legal claims and otherwise affect their business and financial performance. The foregoing risks and consequences are also extant at any issuer in which the Master Fund invests and could manifest as adverse performance of such investment.

Accounting Rules. The Fund's and the Master Fund's assets and liabilities are valued in accordance with the Articles of Association or the Master Fund Partnership Agreement (collectively, the "Operating Agreements"), as applicable. However, for purposes of preparing the Fund's and the Master Fund's annual audited financial statements, which are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), certain of the Fund's and the Master Fund's assets and liabilities may be valued in a manner that, while consistent with GAAP, is different from the manner in which such assets are valued pursuant to the Operating Agreements.

Accordingly, to the extent that GAAP would require any of the Fund's assets or liabilities to be valued in a manner that differs from the valuation procedures set forth in the Operating Agreements, such assets or liabilities will be valued in accordance with GAAP, solely for purposes of preparing the Fund's GAAP-compliant annual audited financial statements, and in accordance with the Operating Agreements (without regard to any GAAP requirements relating to the determination of fair value), for all other purposes.

Generally, GAAP and other related accounting rules applicable to investment funds and various assets they invest in are evolving. Such changes may adversely affect the Fund and the Master Fund. For example, the evolution of rules governing the determination of the fair market value of assets to the extent such rules become more stringent would tend to increase the cost and/or reduce the availability of third-party determinations of fair market value. This may in turn increase the costs associated with selling assets or affect their liquidity due to an inability to obtain a third-party determination of fair market value.

Valuations. From time to time, certain situations affecting the valuation of the Master Fund's investments (such as limited liquidity, unavailability or unreliability of third-party pricing information and acts or omissions of service providers to the Master Fund) could have an impact on the net asset value of the Fund, particularly if prior judgments as to the appropriate valuation of an investment should later prove to be incorrect after a net asset value-related calculation or transaction is completed. The Fund is not required to make retroactive adjustments to prior subscription or redemption transactions or the Management Fee or Performance Allocations based on subsequent valuation data.

Trade Errors. The Investment Manager, on behalf of the Fund, may from time to time make trade errors. Trade errors are not errors in judgment, strategy, market analysis, economic outlook or the like, but rather errors in implementing specific trades which the Investment Manager has determined (rightly or wrongly) to make. Examples of trade errors would be: buying 10,000 shares of an issue, rather than the 1,000 that was intended or taking a short, rather than the intended long, position in a particular issue. Trade errors can result from clerical mistakes, miscommunications between the Investment Manager's personnel and other reasons. Importantly, however, trade errors are not the function of poor strategies, valuation models, economic expectations, undue speculation, unauthorized trades or the like, but rather of the physical implementation of specific trades on which the Investment Manager had decided. The Investment Manager will determine whether to have the costs arising from trade errors borne by the Fund or the Investment Manager by applying the pertinent standard of liability for the Investment Manager in its management of the Fund's capital — i.e., the same standard of liability which would apply to any other action or omission by the Investment Manager in the course of such management. The Investment Manager will, accordingly, be obligated to reimburse the Fund for any trade error resulting from the Investment Manager's willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence (as interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), and not otherwise. The Investment Manager will itself determine in good faith whether or not a given trade error is required to be reimbursed under the general liability and exculpation standards applicable to the Fund. The Investment Manager has a conflict of interest in determining whether a trade error should be for the account of the Fund or the Investment Manager and will attempt to resolve such conflict by an objective determination of the status of such trade error under the applicable liability standard. Trade error costs can be significant — including market losses resulting from the position incorrectly acquired as well as the additional brokerage costs of closing out or reversing the error. The opportunity cost (lost profits) of not having made the trade intended to be made is not considered a trade error cost. Any gains recognized on trade errors will be for the benefit of the Fund; none will be retained by the Investment Manager.

Investment Strategy and Investment Risks

Risks Associated with Investing in CLOs

Dependence Upon Other Unrelated Managers. The success of a collateralized loan obligation (“CLO” or “CLO Securities”) may depend on the management talents and efforts of one person or a small group of persons whose management could adversely affect the CLO and, accordingly, the Master Fund as an investor in such CLO. Given that the Investment Manager will not have an active role in the management of these CLOs, the return on the Master Fund's investments in such CLOs will depend on the performance of unrelated managers.

Investments in CLOs Managed by the Investment Manager or its Affiliates. The Master Fund may invest a significant portion of its capital in structured investments, including CLO tranches originated and managed by third parties and CLO tranches managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates (the "Affiliated CLOs"); provided, however, that the Master Fund will only invest in Affiliated CLOs in secondary transactions, and not primary issuance. The Investment Manager or its affiliates will receive senior and subordinated management fees and, in some cases, a performance-based allocation or fee with respect to its role as general partner and/or manager of the Affiliated CLOs. The Investment Manager will have conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Master Fund and an Affiliated CLO, and certain other conflicts of interest would be inherent in the situation. There can be no assurance that the interests of the Master Fund would not be subordinated to those of an Affiliated CLO or to other interests of the Investment Manager.

Multiple Levels of Fees. The Master Fund and the CLOs (including Affiliated CLOs) are expected to impose management fees, other administrative fees, carried interest and other performance allocations on realized and unrealized appreciation in the value of the assets managed and other income. This may result in greater expense than if Limited Partners were able to invest directly in the CLOs or underlying investments. Limited Partners should take into account that the return on their investment will be reduced to the extent of both levels of fees. The general partner or manager of a CLO may receive the economic benefit of certain fees from its portfolio companies for services and in connection with unconsummated transactions (e.g., break-up, placement, monitoring, directors', organizational and set-up fees and financial advisory fees). Additionally, the Investment Manager may receive fees from certain CLOs in connection with its role as "backup manager" for the CLOs.

Limited Diversification. CLOs may invest in concentrated portfolios of assets. The concentration of an underlying portfolio in any one obligor would subject the related CLO Securities to a greater degree of risk with respect to defaults by such obligor and the concentration of a portfolio in any one industry would subject the related CLOs to a greater degree of risk with respect to economic downturns relating to such industry. The Master Fund may have a concentrated exposure to a particular type of CLO.

Risks of Investment Focus. The Master Fund's portfolio will primarily consist of CLO Securities. CLO Securities are subject to, among other risks, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks.

The value of the CLO Securities that the Master Fund may own generally will fluctuate with, among other things, the financial condition of the obligors or issuers of the CLO Securities' underlying portfolio of assets ("CLO Collateral"), general economic conditions, the condition of certain financial markets, political events, developments or trends in any particular industry and changes in prevailing interest rates. CLO Securities are issued on a non-recourse basis and holders of CLO Securities must rely solely on distributions on the CLO Collateral or proceeds thereof for payment in respect thereof. If distributions on the CLO Collateral are insufficient to make payments on the CLO Securities, no other assets will be available for payment of the deficiency and following realization of the CLO Securities, the obligations of such issuer to pay such deficiency generally will be extinguished.

Issuers of CLO Securities may acquire interests in loans and other debt obligations by way of sale, assignment or participation ("CLO Debt"). The purchaser of an assignment typically succeeds to all the rights and obligations of the assigning institution and becomes a lender under the credit agreement with respect to the loan or debt obligation; however, its rights can be more restricted than those of the assigning institution.

CLO Collateral may consist of corporate loans, leveraged loans and other instruments, which often are rated below investment grade (or of equivalent credit quality). Loans may be unsecured and may be subordinated to certain other obligations of the issuer thereof. The lower ratings of below investment grade loans reflect a greater possibility that adverse changes in the financial condition of an issuer or in general economic conditions or both may impair the ability of the related issuer or obligor to make payments of principal or interest. Such investments may be speculative.

Interest Rate Mismatch. CLOs may be subject to interest rate risk. The CLO Collateral of an issuer of a CLO may bear interest at a fixed or floating rate, while the CLO Debt may bear interest at a floating or fixed rate. As a result, there could be a floating/fixed rate or basis mismatch between such CLO Debt and the CLO Collateral which bears interest at a fixed rate (“Fixed Rate Assets”), and there may be a timing mismatch between such CLO Debt and the assets that are not Fixed Rate Assets (“Floating Rate Assets”). In addition, the interest rate on Floating Rate Assets may adjust more frequently or less frequently, on different dates and based on different indices than the interest rates on the CLO Debt. As a result of such mismatches, an increase or decrease in the level of the floating rate indices could adversely impact the ability to make payments on such CLO Debt. Although many CLOs attempt to hedge this interest rate risk, the hedges may not eliminate this risk and payments by the CLO under the hedges may significantly reduce the distributions on the CLO Securities. In addition, these hedges may have additional risks, such as counterparty risk, that are not present without these hedges.

Defaulted Assets Underlying CLO Securities. If the assets underlying a CLO Security become defaulted assets, such defaulted assets may become subject to either substantial workout negotiations or restructuring, which may entail, among other things, a substantial reduction in the interest rate, a substantial write-down of principal, and a substantial change in the terms, conditions and covenants with respect to such defaulted asset. In addition, such negotiations or restructuring may be quite extensive and protracted over time, and therefore may result in substantial uncertainty with respect to the ultimate recovery on such defaulted asset. The liquidity for defaulted assets may be limited, and to the extent that defaulted assets are sold, it is highly unlikely that the proceeds from such sale will be equal to the amount of unpaid principal and interest thereon. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that the ultimate recovery on any defaulted assets will be at least equal to either the minimum recovery rate assumed by any rating agency that rates the notes of the CLO Security. Therefore, if any CLO Security has defaulted assets which correspond to the exposure of the Master Fund’s interest in the CLO Security, the Fund may be adversely affected.

There exist significant additional risks for CLO Securities and investors in such securities as a result of the current liquidity crisis. Those risks include, among others, (i) the likelihood that the issuer of the CLO Security will find it harder to sell any of its assets in the secondary market, thus rendering it more difficult to dispose of assets which it has the discretion to manage, including credit risk obligations, credit improved obligations or defaulted obligations, (ii) the possibility that the price at which assets can be sold by the issuer of the CLO Security will have deteriorated from their effective purchase price and (iii) the increased illiquidity of the notes issued by the CLO Security. These additional risks may affect the returns on the investments in the Master Fund’s portfolio.

Subordination of CLO Debt and CLO Equity. The Master Fund’s portfolio may consist of CLO Equity and subordinate CLO Debt. Subordinate CLO Debt generally is fully subordinated to the related CLO senior tranches. CLO Equity generally is fully subordinated to any related CLO Debt.

Thus, some of the investments of the Master Fund in a CLO may rank behind other creditors of the CLO and an investment by the Master Fund in the equity tranche of a CLO may rank behind all creditors of the CLO. To the extent that any losses are incurred by a CLO in respect of its related CLO Collateral, such losses are likely to be borne first by the holders of the related CLO Equity, next by the holders of any related subordinated CLO debt and finally by the holders of the related CLO senior tranches. In addition, if an event of default occurs under the governing instrument or underlying investment, as long as any CLO senior tranches are outstanding, the holders thereof generally are likely to be entitled to determine the remedies to be exercised under the instrument governing the CLO. Remedies pursued by such holders could be adverse to the interests of the holders of any related subordinated CLO Debt and/or the holders of the related CLO Equity, as applicable. Investments of the Master Fund may be the first to absorb any losses by the CLO on its underlying portfolio. This may result in losses on the invested proceeds of the Master Fund and could result in the complete loss of invested proceeds.

Mandatory Redemption of CLO Senior Tranches and CLO Debt. Under certain circumstances, cash flows from CLO Collateral that otherwise would have been paid to the holders of any related CLO Debt will be used to redeem the related CLO senior tranches. This could result in an elimination, deferral or reduction in the interest payments, principal repayments or other payments made to the holders of such CLO Debt, which could adversely impact the returns to the holders of such CLO Debt.

Optional Redemption of CLO Senior Tranches and CLO Debt. An optional redemption by a CLO of its securities and, in particular, the exercise of rights by the holders of one or more classes of its securities (or the requisite percentages thereof) so as to effect any such optional redemption, could require the collateral or portfolio manager of the related CLO to liquidate positions more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, which is likely to materially and adversely affect the realized value of the items of CLO Collateral sold (and which in turn is likely to materially and adversely impact the holders of any related CLO Securities, including the Master Fund). As a result of any such rapid liquidation of a CLO, a holder of the related CLO Securities (including the Master Fund) could lose all or a substantial portion of its investment in such CLO Securities.

Insolvency Risks. Various laws enacted for the protection of creditors may apply to the issuers of the CLO Collateral (solely for purposes of this risk factor, an “Insolvent Company”). The information in this paragraph and the following paragraph is applicable with respect to U.S. issuers of CLO Collateral. Insolvency considerations may differ with respect to non-U.S. issuers of CLO Collateral. If a court in a lawsuit brought by an unpaid creditor or representative of creditors of an Insolvent Company, such as a trustee in bankruptcy, were to find that the issuer did not receive fair consideration or reasonably equivalent value for incurring the indebtedness constituting the CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) and, after giving effect to such indebtedness, the Insolvent Company (i) was insolvent, (ii) was engaged in a business for which the remaining assets of the Insolvent Company constituted unreasonably small capital or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that it would incur, debts beyond its ability to pay such debts as they mature, such court could determine to invalidate, in whole or in part, such indebtedness as a fraudulent conveyance, to subordinate such indebtedness to existing or future creditors of the Insolvent Company or to recover amounts previously paid by such issuer in satisfaction of such indebtedness. The measure of insolvency for purposes of the foregoing will vary. Generally, an Insolvent Company would be considered insolvent at a particular time if the sum of its debts were then greater than all of its property at a fair valuation or if the present fair saleable value of its assets were then less than the amount that would be required to pay its probable liabilities on its existing debts as they became absolute and matured. There can be no assurance as to what standard a court would apply in order to determine whether the Insolvent Company was “insolvent” after giving effect to the incurrence of the indebtedness constituting the CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) or that, regardless of the method of valuation, a court would not determine that the Insolvent Company was “insolvent” upon giving effect to such incurrence. In addition, in the event of the insolvency of an Insolvent Company, payments made on such CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) could be subject to avoidance as a “preference” if made within a certain period of time (which may be as long as one year) before insolvency.

In general, if payments on a CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) are avoidable, whether as fraudulent conveyances or preferences, such payments can be recaptured either from the initial recipient (such as the Master Fund) or from subsequent transferees of such payments (such as the Limited Partners). However, a court in a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding would be able to direct the recapture of any such payment from a Limited Partner only to the extent that such court has jurisdiction over such holder or its assets. Moreover, it is likely that avoidable payments could not be recaptured directly from a holder that has given value in exchange for its interest, in good faith and without knowledge that the payments were avoidable. Nevertheless, there can be no assurance that a Limited Partner will be able to avoid recapture on this or any other basis.

The preceding discussion is based upon principles of United States Federal and state laws. Insofar as the Master Fund’s portfolio consists of the obligations of non-United States obligors, the laws of certain foreign jurisdictions may provide for avoidance remedies under factual circumstances similar to those described above or under different circumstances, with consequences that may or may not be analogous to those described above under United States Federal and state laws.

“Widening” Risk. For reasons not necessarily attributable to any of the risks set forth herein (for example, supply/demand imbalances or other market forces), the prices of the CLO Securities in which the Master Fund invests may decline substantially. In particular, purchasing assets at what may appear to be “undervalued” levels is no guarantee that these assets will not be trading at even lower levels at a time of valuation or at the time of sale. It may not be possible to predict, or to hedge against, such “spread widening” risk.

There Is Limited Disclosure About the CLO Securities and the Underlying CLO Collateral in this Memorandum. The Investment Manager will not be required to provide the investors in the Fund with financial or other information (which may include material non-public information) it receives related to the CLO Securities. The Investment Manager also may not disclose to investors notices the Investment Manager receives and it will not have any obligation to keep investors informed as to defaults in the CLO Securities, failure by the Master Fund to receive any payment of principal, interest, or other amounts or to disclose the portfolio or the decisions of which CLO Securities were not purchased in general to any investor. In addition, the investors will not have any right to inspect any records relating to the CLO Securities, and the Investment Manager will not be obligated to disclose any further information or evidence regarding the existence or terms of, or the identity of any obligor on, any CLO Securities.

Impact of the Volcker Rule on the Liquidity of the Notes. Section 619 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (“Dodd-Frank”) added a provision, commonly referred to (together with the final regulations with respect thereto adopted on December 10, 2013) as the Volcker Rule, to federal banking laws to generally prohibit various covered banking entities from engaging in proprietary trading or acquiring or retaining an ownership interest in “covered funds” which generally include, sponsoring or having certain relationships with a hedge fund or private equity fund (defined in final regulations adopted on December 10, 2013 as any entity relying on Section 3(c)(1) or Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act to be exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act), subject to certain exemptions. The Volcker Rule also provides for certain supervised nonbank financial companies that engage in such activities or have such interests or relationships to be subject to additional capital requirements, quantitative limits or other restrictions. The conformance period for the Volcker Rule ended July 21, 2017 for CLOs. Certain CLOs may be considered “covered funds” under the Volcker rule and therefore the most senior tranche of the CLO may be a restricted security for various banking and nonbanking entities. This may restrict the liquidity of certain non-Volcker compliant CLOs in the future and may affect the Master Fund’s ability to liquidate these positions on a timely basis.

Investment Strategy and Investment Risks

General Economic and Market Conditions. The success of the Master Fund’s activities will be affected by general economic and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, economic uncertainty, changes in laws (including laws relating to taxation of the Master Fund’s investments), trade barriers, currency exchange controls, and national and international political circumstances (including wars, terrorist acts or security operations). These factors may affect the level and volatility of securities prices and the liquidity of the Master Fund’s investments. Volatility or illiquidity could impair the Master Fund’s profitability or result in losses. The Master Fund may maintain substantial trading positions that can be adversely affected by the level of volatility in the financial markets; the larger the positions, the greater the potential for loss.

Unpredictable or unstable market conditions may result in reduced opportunities to find suitable investments to deploy capital or make it more difficult to exit and realize value (or avoid significant losses) from the Master Fund’s existing investments. This sort of instability occurred in late 2008 and continued into 2009 when markets experienced significant losses arising largely because global credit spreads widened materially, equity index levels declined, and many funds liquidated assets. It is important to understand that the Master Fund can incur material losses even if it reacts quickly to difficult market conditions and there can be no assurance that the Master Fund will not suffer material adverse effects from broad and rapid changes in market conditions.

Foreign Currencies and Investments. Investing in foreign issuers involves certain considerations comprising of both risks and opportunities not typically associated with investing in United States issuers. These considerations include changes in exchange control regulations, political and social instability, expropriation, imposition of withholding and other foreign taxes, less liquid markets and less available information than is generally the case in the United States, higher transaction costs, less government supervision of exchanges, brokers and issuers, different legal systems with less developed bankruptcy laws, difficulty in enforcing contractual obligations, lack of uniform accounting and auditing standards and greater price volatility.

Although the Master Fund intends that most of its investments will be U.S. dollar denominated, Master Fund investments that are denominated in a foreign currency are subject to the risk that the value of a particular currency will change in relation to one or more other currencies. Among the factors that may affect currency values are trade balances, the level of interest rates, differences in relative values of similar assets in different currencies, long-term opportunities for investment and capital appreciation and political developments. The Investment Manager intends, but is under no obligation, to employ hedging techniques to reduce these risks, but there can be no assurance that such strategies will be effective.

Diversification. Since the Master Fund’s portfolio will not necessarily be widely diversified, the investment portfolio of the Master Fund may be subject to more rapid changes in value than would be the case if the Master Fund were required to maintain a wide diversification among companies, securities and types of securities.

Volatility Risk. The Master Fund's investment program may involve the purchase and sale of relatively volatile instruments. Fluctuations or prolonged changes in the volatility of such instruments, therefore, can adversely affect the value of investments held by the Master Fund. In addition, many non-U.S. financial markets are not as developed or as efficient as those in the U.S., and as a result, price volatility may be higher for the Master Fund's investments.

Illiquid Securities. From time to time, the Master Fund may invest in financial instruments that are not publicly traded. The Master Fund may also invest in securities and other financial instruments that trade regularly but may be only thinly traded, either periodically or on an on-going basis. The Master Fund may not be able to readily dispose of such financial instruments and, in some cases, may be contractually prohibited from disposing of such financial instruments for a specified period of time. Accordingly, the Master Fund may be forced to sell its more liquid positions at a disadvantageous time, resulting in a greater percentage of the portfolio consisting of illiquid securities. In addition, the market prices, if any, for such financial instruments tend to be volatile, and the Master Fund may not be able to sell them when it desires to do so or to realize what it perceives to be their fair value in the event of a sale. The sale of illiquid securities also often requires more time and results in higher brokerage charges or dealer discounts and other selling expenses than does the sale of securities eligible for trading on national securities exchanges or in the over-the-counter markets. Furthermore, there may be limited information available about the assets of such issuers of the financial instruments which may make valuation of such financial instruments difficult or uncertain. It also should be noted that, even those markets which the Investment Manager expects to be liquid can experience periods, possibly extended periods, of illiquidity.

Market Liquidity. The Master Fund may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the instruments in which it invests, which may impair the Master Fund's ability to adjust its positions. The size of the Master Fund's positions may magnify the effect of a decrease in market liquidity for such instruments. Changes in overall market leverage, or the liquidation by other market participants of the same or similar positions, may also adversely affect the Master Fund's portfolio.

Reinvestment Risk. The Master Fund reinvests the cash flows received from a security. The additional income from such reinvestment, sometimes called interest-on-interest, is reliant on the prevailing interest rate levels at the time of reinvestment. There is a risk that the interest rate at which interim cash flows can be reinvested will fall. Reinvestment risk is greater for longer holding periods and for securities with large, early cash flows such as high-coupon bonds. Reinvestment risk also applies generally to the reinvestment of the proceeds the Master Fund receives upon the maturity or sale of a portfolio security.

Leverage. The Master Fund may seek to maximize its investment position by purchasing securities on margin or by arranging with banks, brokers and others to borrow money against a pledge of securities or commodities. As a result, the possibilities of profit and loss will be increased. Borrowing money to purchase securities will provide the Master Fund with advantages of leverage, but exposes it to capital risk, interest rate risk and higher current expenses. Any gain in the value of securities purchased with borrowed money or income earned from these securities that exceeds interest paid on the amount borrowed would cause the Master Fund's net profit to increase faster than would otherwise be the case. Conversely, any decline in the value of the securities purchased would cause the Master Fund's net loss to increase faster than would otherwise be the case. In addition to purchasing securities on margin, the Master Fund will engage in short selling of securities. A short sale will result in a gain if the price of the securities sold declines sufficiently between the time of the short sale and the time at which securities are purchased to replace those borrowed. A short sale will result in a loss if the price of the securities sold short increases or does not decline sufficiently to cover transaction costs. Any gain would be decreased and any loss would be increased by the amount of any premium or interest which the Master Fund may be required to pay with respect to the borrowed securities.

Inflation Risk. Inflation risk results from the variation in the value of cash flows from a security due to inflation, as measured in terms of purchasing power. For example, if the Master Fund purchases a five (5) year bond in which it can realize a coupon rate of five percent (5%), but the rate of inflation is six percent (6%), then the purchasing power of the cash flow has declined. For all but adjustable securities or floating rate securities, the Master Fund is exposed to inflation risk because the interest rate the issuer promises to make is fixed for the life of the security. To the extent that interest rates reflect the expected inflation rate, floating rate securities have a lower level of inflation risk.

Over-the-Counter-Trading. Financial instruments that may be purchased or sold by the Master Fund may include instruments not traded on an exchange. The risk of nonperformance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which the Master Fund can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between “bid” and “asked” prices for financial instruments that are not traded on an exchange. Financial instruments not traded on exchanges are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions. To the extent that the Master Fund engages in these transactions, the Master Fund must rely on the creditworthiness of its counterparty.

Position Limits. “Position limits” imposed by various regulators or regulations may also limit the Master Fund’s ability to effect desired trades. Position limits are the maximum amounts of gross, net long or net short positions that any one person or entity may own or control in a particular financial instrument. All positions owned or controlled by the same person or entity, even if in different accounts, may be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the applicable position limits have been exceeded. Thus, even if the Master Fund does not intend to exceed applicable position limits, it is possible that different accounts managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates may be aggregated. If at any time positions managed by the Investment Manager were to exceed applicable position limits, the Investment Manager would be required to liquidate positions, which might include positions of the Master Fund, to the extent necessary to come within those limits. Further, to avoid exceeding the position limits, the Master Fund might have to forgo or modify certain of its contemplated trades.

Dodd-Frank significantly expanded the scope of the CFTC’s authority and obligation to require reporting of, and adopt limits on, the size of positions that market participants may own or control in commodity futures and futures options contracts and swaps. Dodd-Frank also narrowed existing exemptions from such position limits for a broad range of risk management transactions.

In accordance with the requirements of Dodd-Frank, the CFTC has proposed speculative position limits on listed futures and options on physical commodities and economically equivalent over-the-counter derivatives; position limits applicable to swaps that are economically equivalent to United States listed futures and futures options contracts, including contracts on non-physical commodities, such as rates, currencies, equities and credit default swaps; and aggregate position limits for a broad range of derivatives contracts based on the same underlying commodity, including swaps and futures and futures options contracts. While certain persons, contracts or transactions or classes thereof are exempt from the speculative position limit requirements, such position aggregation requirements may further restrict the swap positions that the Master Fund may enter into or require additional filings, policies and monitoring.

The full impact of these recent changes to aggregation and whether the proposed changes to position limits themselves will take effect are not known at this time. Individually and collectively, if these changes take effect, they could increase the costs to the Master Fund of maintaining positions in commodity futures and futures option contracts and swaps, reduce the level of exposure the Master Fund is able to obtain (whether for risk management or investment purposes) through commodity futures and futures option contracts and swaps. These changes could also impair liquidity in certain swaps and adversely affect the quality of execution pricing obtained by the Master Fund, all of which could adversely impact the Master Fund's investment returns.

Prime Brokers. The Master Fund will rank as an unsecured creditor to each of its prime brokers in relation to assets that each such prime broker borrows, lends or otherwise uses and, in the event of the insolvency of a prime broker, the Master Fund might not be able to recover equivalent assets in full. In addition, if applicable law permits, cash that a prime broker holds or receives on the Master Fund's behalf may not be treated by the prime broker as client money, may not be segregated from the prime broker's own cash and may be used by the prime broker in the course of its investment business. In such event, the Master Fund will rank as one of the prime broker's general creditors.

Counterparty Risk. Some of the markets in which the Master Fund may effect transactions are "over-the-counter" or "interdealer" markets. The participants in such markets are typically not subject to credit evaluation and regulatory oversight as are members of "exchange-based" markets. This exposes the Master Fund to the risk that a counterparty will not settle a transaction in accordance with its terms and conditions because of a dispute over the terms of the contract (whether or not bona fide) or because of a credit or liquidity problem, thus causing the Master Fund to suffer a loss. Such "counterparty risk" is accentuated for contracts with longer maturities where events may intervene to prevent settlement, or where the Master Fund has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties. The Master Fund is not restricted from dealing with any particular counterparty or from concentrating any or all of its transactions with one counterparty. Moreover, the Master Fund's internal credit function, which evaluates the creditworthiness of its counterparties, may prove insufficient. The lack of a complete and "foolproof" evaluation of the financial capabilities of the Master Fund's counterparties and the absence of a regulated market to facilitate settlement may increase the potential for losses by the Master Fund.

Undervalued Securities. The Master Fund may invest in undervalued securities. The identification of investment opportunities in misvalued securities is a difficult task, and there can be no assurance that such opportunities will be successfully recognized. While purchases of undervalued securities offer opportunities for above-average capital appreciation, these investments involve a high degree of financial risk and can result in substantial losses. Returns generated from the investments of the Master Fund may not adequately compensate for the business and financial risks assumed.

The Master Fund may make certain speculative investments in securities which the Investment Manager believes to be misvalued; however, there can be no assurance that the securities purchased and sold will in fact be misvalued. In addition, the Master Fund may be required to maintain positions in such securities for a substantial period of time before realizing their anticipated value. During this period, a portion of the capital of the Master Fund may be committed to the securities, thus possibly preventing the Master Fund from investing in other opportunities.

Small and Medium Capitalization Companies. While the Investment Manager believes securities in companies with small and medium capitalizations often provide significant potential for appreciation, the securities of certain companies, particularly smaller-capitalization companies, involve higher risks in some respects than do investments in securities of larger companies. For example, prices of small-capitalization and even medium-capitalization securities are often more volatile than prices of large-capitalization securities and the risk of bankruptcy or insolvency of many smaller companies (with the attendant losses to investors) is higher than for larger, “blue-chip” companies. In addition, due to thin trading in the securities of some small-capitalization companies, an investment in those companies may be illiquid.

Senior Loans Risk. Senior loans are usually rated below investment grade or may also be unrated. As a result, the risks associated with senior loans are similar to the risks of below investment grade fixed income instruments, although senior loans are senior and secured in contrast to other below investment grade fixed income instruments, which are often subordinated or unsecured. Investment in senior loans rated below investment grade is considered speculative because of the credit risk of their issuers. Such companies are more likely than investment grade issuers to default on their payments of interest and principal owed to the Master Fund, and such defaults could have a materially adverse effect on the Master Fund’s performance. An economic downturn would generally lead to a higher non-payment rate, and a senior loan may lose significant market value before a default occurs. Moreover, any specific collateral used to secure a senior loan may decline in value or become illiquid, which would adversely affect the senior loan’s value. Senior loans are subject to a number of risks described elsewhere in this Memorandum, including liquidity risk and the risk of investing in below investment grade fixed income instruments.

There may be less readily available and reliable information about most senior loans than is the case for many other types of securities, including securities issued in transactions registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or registered under the Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. As a result, the Investment Manager will rely primarily on its own evaluation of a borrower’s credit quality rather than on any available independent sources. Therefore, the Master Fund will be particularly dependent on the analytical abilities of the Investment Manager.

In general, the secondary trading market for senior loans is not well developed. No active trading market may exist for certain senior loans, which may make it difficult to value them. Illiquidity and adverse market conditions may mean that the Master Fund may not be able to sell senior loans quickly or at a fair price. To the extent that a secondary market does exist for certain senior loans the market for them may be subject to irregular trading activity, wide bid/ask spreads and extended trade settlement periods.

Variable Interest Rate Risk. Because senior loans with floating or variable rates reset their interest rates periodically, changes in prevailing interest rates can be expected to cause some fluctuations in the value of the Master Fund’s investments. Similarly, a sudden and significant increase in market interest rates may cause a decline in the value of the Master Fund’s investments. In addition, senior loans or similar securities may allow the borrower or issuer to opt between LIBOR-based interest rates and interest rates based on bank prime rates, which may have an impact on value of the Master Fund’s investments.

Bank Loans. The Master Fund’s investment program will include investments in significant amounts of Bank Loans and participations. These obligations are subject to unique risks, including: (i) the possible invalidation of an investment transaction as a fraudulent conveyance under relevant creditors’ rights laws; (ii) so-called lender-liability claims by the issuer of the obligations; (iii)

environmental liabilities that may arise with respect to collateral securing the obligations; and (iv) limitations on the ability of the Master Fund to directly enforce its rights with respect to participations. In analyzing each Bank Loan or participation, the Investment Manager compares the relative significance of the risks against the expected benefits of the investment. Successful claims by third parties arising from these and other risks will be borne by the Master Fund.

DIP Loans. From time to time, the Master Fund may invest in loans to companies that have filed for protection under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code, as amended. DIP loans are typically asset-based, revolving working-capital facilities put into place at the outset of a Chapter 11 bankruptcy to provide both immediate cash as well as ongoing working capital during the reorganization process. Such loans are risky and present significant exposure for default risk to the Master Fund.

Adjustments to Terms of Fund Investments. The terms and conditions of loan agreements and related assignments may be amended, modified or waived only by the agreement of the lenders. Generally, any such agreement must include a majority or a super majority (measured by outstanding loans or commitments) or, in certain circumstances, a unanimous vote of the lenders. Consequently, the terms and conditions of the payment obligation arising from loan agreements could be modified, amended or waived in a manner contrary to the preferences of the Master Fund if a sufficient number of the other lenders concurred with such modification, amendment or waiver. There can be no assurance that any obligations arising from a loan agreement will maintain the terms and conditions to which the Master Fund originally agreed.

The exercise of remedies may also be subject to the vote of a specified percentage of the lenders thereunder. The Investment Manager will have the authority to cause the Master Fund to consent to certain amendments, waivers or modifications to the Master Fund's investments requested by obligors or the lead agents for loan syndication agreements. The Investment Manager may, in accordance with its investment management standards, cause the Master Fund to extend or defer the maturity, adjust the outstanding balance of any investment, reduce or forgive interest or fees, release material collateral or guarantees, or otherwise amend, modify or waive the terms of any related loan agreement, including the payment terms thereunder. The Investment Manager will make such determinations in accordance with its investment management standards. Any amendment, waiver or modification of the terms of an investment could adversely impact the Master Fund's investment returns.

Prepayments. Certain of the Master Fund's investments may be prepaid more quickly than expected. Prepayment rates are influenced by changes in interest rates and a variety of economic, geographic and other factors beyond the Master Fund's control and consequently cannot be predicted with certainty. Early prepayments give rise to increased re-investment risk, as the Master Fund might realize excess cash earlier than it expected. If the Master Fund is unable to reinvest the principle portion of a prepayment in a new investment with an expected rate of return at least equal to that of the investment repaid, this may reduce the Master Fund's net investment income and, consequently, could have an adverse impact on the Fund's ability to make distributions.

Investments in Loans Secured by Real Estate. While direct real estate investment is not intended to be the focus of the Master Fund, it is possible that, from time to time, the Master Fund may, as a result of default, foreclosure or otherwise, hold real estate assets. Special risks associated with such investments include changes in the general economic climate or local conditions (such as an oversupply of space or a reduction in demand for space), competition based on rental rates, attractiveness and location of the properties, changes in the financial condition of tenants, and changes in operating costs. Real estate values are also affected by such factors as government regulations (including those governing usage, improvements, zoning and taxes), interest rate levels, the availability of financing and potential liability under changing environmental and other laws. Of particular concern may be those mortgaged properties which are, or have been, the site of manufacturing, industrial or disposal activity. Such environmental risks may give rise to a diminution in the value of property (including real property securing any portfolio investment) or liability for cleanup costs or other remedial actions, which liability could exceed the value of such property or the principal balance of the related portfolio investment. In certain circumstances, a lender may choose not to foreclose on contaminated property rather than risk incurring liability for remedial actions.

Limitations on the Enforcement of Creditor's Rights. The Master Fund's investments may or may not be secured by mortgages, charges, pledges, liens or other security interests. Depending on the jurisdiction in which such security interests are created, enforcement of such security interests may be a complicated and difficult process. Any attempt by the Fund to enforce its rights against the obligor or to realize value from any security interests in connection with a credit investment will be subject to numerous risks, delays and uncertainties, including those related to the validity or enforceability of the Fund's claims, the maintenance of the anticipated priority and perfection of any security interests, the effect of any bankruptcy or insolvency laws, disputes among different classes of creditors, the possibility of counterclaims or defenses, practical difficulties and costs in litigating and enforcing claims in foreign jurisdictions, unfriendly venues for litigation and many others. All of these risks are magnified by the political and legal environment in many emerging markets. As a result, there can be no assurance that the Fund will be able to enforce its legal rights to the extent expected.

Environmental Hazards. Under environmental laws enacted by the United States and the various states, owners of property may be liable for the cleanup and removal of hazardous substances even where the owner was not responsible for placing the hazardous substances on the property or where the property was contaminated prior to the time the owner took title. The kinds of hazardous substances for which liability may be incurred include, among other things, chemicals and other materials commonly used by small businesses and manufacturing operations. The costs of removal and clean-up of hazardous substances and wastes can be extremely expensive and, in some cases, can exceed the value of a property. If any property acquired by the Master Fund through foreclosure or otherwise subsequently were found to have an environmental problem, such acquiring entity could incur substantial costs and suffer a complete loss of its investment in such property as well as of other assets. Similarly, real estate is subject to loss due to so-called "special hazards" (e.g., floods, earthquakes and hurricanes). It may be impractical or impossible to fully insure against such events and, should such an event occur, the Master Fund could incur substantial costs and suffer a loss of its investment in such property.

Fraud. Of paramount concern in lending is the possibility of material misrepresentation or omission on the part of the borrower. Such inaccuracy or incompleteness may adversely affect the valuation of the collateral underlying the loans or may adversely affect the ability of the Master Fund to perfect or effectuate a lien on the collateral securing the loan. The Master Fund will rely upon the accuracy and completeness of representations made by borrowers to the extent reasonable, but cannot guarantee such accuracy or completeness. Under certain circumstances, payments to the Master Fund may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance or a preferential payment.

Debt Securities. The Master Fund intends to invest in bonds or other fixed income securities, including, without limitation, commercial paper and “higher yielding” (and, therefore, higher risk) debt securities. It is likely that a major economic recession could disrupt severely the market for such securities and may have an adverse impact on the value of such securities. In addition, it is likely that any such economic downturn could adversely affect the ability of the issuers of such securities to repay principal and pay interest thereon and increase the incidence of default for such securities.

Investing in High Yield Securities. The Master Fund intends to invest in high-yield securities. Such securities are generally not exchange traded and, as a result, these instruments trade in the over-the-counter marketplace, which is less transparent than the exchange-traded marketplace. In addition, the Master Fund will invest in bonds of issuers that do not have publicly traded equity securities, making it more difficult to hedge the risks associated with such investments. High-yield securities face ongoing uncertainties and exposure to adverse business, financial or economic conditions which could lead to the issuer’s inability to meet timely interest and principal payments. The market values of certain of these lower-rated and unrated debt securities tend to reflect individual corporate developments to a greater extent than do higher-rated securities which react primarily to fluctuations in the general level of interest rates, and tend to be more sensitive to economic conditions than are higher-rated securities. Companies that issue such securities are often highly leveraged and may not have available to them more traditional methods of financing. It is possible that a major economic recession could disrupt severely the market for such securities and may have an adverse impact on the value of such securities. In addition, it is possible that any such economic downturn could adversely affect the ability of the issuers of such securities to repay principal and pay interest thereon and increase the incidence of default of such securities.

Timing Risk. Many agency, corporate and municipal bonds, and all mortgage-backed securities, contain a provision that allows the issuer to “call” all or part of the issue before the bond’s maturity date. The issuer usually retains the right to refinance the bond in the future if market interest rates decline below the coupon rate. There are three disadvantages to the call provision. First, the cash flow pattern of a callable bond is not known with certainty. Second, because the issuer will call the bonds when interest rates have dropped, the Master Fund is exposed to reinvestment rate risk, i.e., the Master Fund will have to reinvest the proceeds received when the bond is called at lower interest rates. Finally, the capital appreciation potential of a bond will be reduced because the price of a callable bond may not rise much above the price at which the issuer may call the bond.

Maturity Risk. In certain situations, the Master Fund may purchase a bond of a given maturity as an alternative to another bond of a different maturity. Ordinarily, under these circumstances, the Master Fund will make an adjustment to account for the differential interest rate risks in the two bonds. This adjustment, however, makes an assumption about how the interest rates at different maturities will move. To the extent that the yield movements deviate from this assumption, there is a yield-curve or maturity risk. Another situation where yield-curve risk should be considered is in the analysis of bond swap transactions where the potential incremental returns are dependent entirely on the parallel shift assumption for the yield curve.

Revolving Credit Facilities. From time to time the Master Fund may incur contingent liabilities in connection with an investment. For example, the Master Fund may purchase from a lender a revolving credit facility that has not yet been fully drawn. If the borrower subsequently draws down on the facility, the Master Fund would be obligated to fund the amounts due.

Investments in Stressed Debt. The Master Fund is authorized to invest in securities and other obligations of stressed issuers. Stressed issuers are issuers that are not yet deemed distressed or bankrupt and whose debt securities are trading at a discount to par, but not yet at distressed levels. An example would be an issuer that is in technical default of its credit agreement, or undergoing strategic or operational changes, which results in market pricing uncertainty.

Investments in Distressed Securities. The Master Fund may invest in securities and obligations of issuers in weak financial condition, experiencing poor operating results, having substantial capital needs or negative net worth, facing special competitive or product obsolescence problems, including companies involved in bankruptcy or other reorganization and liquidation proceedings. These securities are likely to be particularly risky investments although they also may offer the potential for correspondingly high returns. Among the risks inherent in investments in troubled entities is the fact that it frequently may be difficult to obtain information as to the true condition of such issuers. Such investments may also be adversely affected by laws relating to, among other things, fraudulent transfers and other voidable transfers or payments, lender liability and the bankruptcy court's power to disallow, reduce, subordinate or disenfranchise particular claims. Such companies' securities may be considered speculative, and the ability of such companies to pay their debts on schedule could be affected by adverse interest rate movements, changes in the general economic climate, economic factors affecting a particular industry or specific developments within such companies. In addition, there is no minimum credit standard that is a prerequisite to the Master Fund's investment in any instrument, and a significant portion of the obligations and securities in which the Master Fund invests may be less than investment grade. The level of analytical sophistication, both financial and legal, necessary for successful investment in companies experiencing significant business and financial difficulties is unusually high. There is no assurance that the Investment Manager will correctly evaluate the value of the assets collateralizing the Master Fund's loans or the prospects for a successful reorganization or similar action. In any reorganization or liquidation proceeding relating to a company in which the Master Fund invests, the Master Fund may lose its entire investment, may be required to accept cash or securities with a value less than the Master Fund's original investment and/or may be required to accept payment over an extended period of time. Under such circumstances, the returns generated from the Master Fund's investments may not compensate the investors adequately for the risks assumed.

In liquidation (both in and out of bankruptcy) and other forms of corporate reorganization, there exists the risk that the reorganization either will be unsuccessful (due to, for example, failure to obtain requisite approvals), will be delayed (for example, until various liabilities, actual or contingent, have been satisfied) or will result in a distribution of cash or a new security the value of which will be less than the purchase price to the Master Fund of the security in respect to which such distribution was made.

Troubled Origination. The investments chosen by the Investment Manager may have been originated by financial institutions or other entities that are, or may in the future be, insolvent, in serious financial difficulty, or no longer in existence. As a result, the standards by which such investments were originated, the recourse to the selling institution, or the standards by which such investments are being serviced or operated may be adversely affected.

Issuer Default Risk; Negative Loan Performance. There are varying sources of statistical default and recovery rate data for commercial loans and numerous methods for measuring default and recovery rates. The levels of defaults and delinquencies with respect to loans have been increasing, and slowing economic activity continues to contribute to a decline in overall credit quality. The historical performance of the loan market is not necessarily indicative of its future performance, and there is no way to determine whether such trends in the credit markets will improve or worsen in the future.

A substantial portion of the Master Fund's income is expected to be derived, directly or indirectly, from repayments of principal and interest received in respect of debt securities. A wide range of factors may adversely affect an obligor's ability to make repayments, including: adverse changes in the financial condition of such obligor or the industries or regions in which it operates; the obligor's exposure to counterparty risk; systemic risk in the financial system and settlement; changes in law or taxation; changes in governmental regulations or other policies; natural disasters; terrorism; social unrest, civil disturbances; or general economic conditions. Default rates tend to accelerate during economic downturns. A continuing decreased ability of borrowers to obtain refinancing may result in a further economic decline that could delay an economic recovery and cause a further deterioration in loan performance generally.

To the extent the Master Fund invests in debt securities secured by collateral, there can be no assurance that the liquidation of any collateral securing any of the Master Fund's investments would satisfy the borrower's obligation in the event of non-payment of scheduled interest or principal payments, or that the collateral could be readily liquidated. In the event of bankruptcy or insolvency of a borrower, the Master Fund could experience delays or limitations with respect to its ability to realize the benefits of the collateral securing such investment. The collateral securing an investment may lose all or substantially all of its value in the event of the bankruptcy or insolvency of a borrower.

Any defaults will have a negative impact on the value of the Master Fund's investments and may reduce the return that such Master Fund receives from its investments in certain circumstances. While some amount of defaults is expected to occur in the Master Fund's portfolio, in the event that the Master Fund elects to apply leverage to an investment, defaults in or declines in the value of the portfolio investments in excess of these expected amounts may result in breaches of covenants under applicable financing arrangements, triggering credit enhancement requirements or accelerated repayment provisions and, if not cured within the relevant grace periods, permitting the finance provider to enforce its security over all the assets of the Master Fund.

In the case of debt ranking equally with the loans or debt securities in which the Master Fund invests, the Master Fund would have to share on an equal basis any distributions with other creditors holding such debt in the event of an insolvency, liquidation, dissolution, reorganization or bankruptcy of the relevant company's debt securities. Each jurisdiction in which the Master Fund invests has its own insolvency laws. As a result, investments in similarly situated companies in different jurisdictions may confer different rights in the event of insolvency.

Post-Reorganization Securities. The Master Fund will hold debt and equity of companies as a result of the recapitalization or restructuring of debt obligations. Investments in the debt or equity of companies involved in reorganization proceedings typically entail a number of risks that do not normally apply to investments in financially sound companies. For example, if the Investment Manager's evaluation of the anticipated outcome of a reorganization or the timing of such outcome should prove incorrect, the Master Fund could experience losses. Moreover, post-reorganization securities can be subject to heavy selling or downward pricing pressure after the completion of a bankruptcy reorganization or restructuring. A wide variety of considerations make any evaluation of the outcome of an investment in such a company uncertain. Such considerations include, for example, the possibility of litigation between the participants in a reorganization or liquidation proceeding or a requirement to obtain mandatory or discretionary consents from various governmental authorities or others. The uncertainties inherent in evaluating such investments may be increased by legal and practical considerations which limit the access of the Investment Manager to reliable and timely information concerning material developments affecting a company, or which cause lengthy delays in the completion of a reorganization or liquidation proceeding. Competition from other investors may also render it difficult or impossible for the Master Fund to achieve intended results or promptly effect transactions.

Insolvency and Enforceability of Security. The Master Fund's investments may be secured by mortgages, charges, pledges, liens or other security interests. Depending on the jurisdiction in which such security interests are created, enforcement of such security interests may be a complicated and difficult process. For example, enforcement of security interests in certain jurisdictions may require a court order and a sale of the secured property through public bidding or auction. In addition, some jurisdictions grant courts the power to declare security interest arrangements to be void if they deem the security interest to be excessive.

Risks Associated with Bankruptcy Cases. Many of the events within a bankruptcy case are adversarial and often beyond the control of the creditors. While creditors generally are afforded an opportunity to object to significant actions, there can be no assurance that a bankruptcy court would not approve actions which may be contrary to the interests of the Master Fund. Furthermore, there are instances where creditors and equity holders lose their ranking and priority as such if they are considered to have taken over management and functional operating control of a debtor.

Generally, the duration of a bankruptcy case can only be roughly estimated. The reorganization of a company usually involves the development and negotiation of a plan of reorganization, plan approval by creditors and confirmation by the bankruptcy court. This process can involve substantial legal, professional and administrative costs to the company and the Master Fund; it is subject to unpredictable and lengthy delays; and during the process the company's competitive position may erode, key management may depart and the company may not be able to invest adequately. In some cases, the company may not be able to reorganize and may be required to liquidate assets. Although the Master Fund intends to invest primarily in debt, the debt of companies in financial reorganization will, in most cases, not pay current interest, may not accrue interest during reorganization and may be adversely affected by an erosion of the issuer's fundamental value. Such investments can result in a total loss of principal.

U.S. bankruptcy law permits the classification of "substantially similar" claims in determining the classification of claims in a reorganization for purpose of voting on a plan of reorganization. Because the standard for classification is vague, there exists a significant risk that the Master Fund's influence with respect to a class of securities can be lost by the inflation of the number and the amount of claims in, or other gerrymandering of, the class. In addition, certain administrative costs and claims that have priority by law over the claims of certain creditors (for example, claims for taxes) may be quite high.

Furthermore, there are instances where creditors and equity holders lose their ranking and priority as such when they take over management and functional operating control of a debtor. In those cases where the Master Fund, by virtue of such action, is found to exercise "domination and control" of a debtor, the Master Fund may lose its priority if the debtor can demonstrate that its business was adversely impacted or other creditors and equity holders were harmed by the Master Fund.

The Master Fund may invest in companies based outside the United States. Investment in the debt of financially distressed companies domiciled outside the United States involves additional risks. Bankruptcy law and process may differ substantially from that in the United States, resulting in greater uncertainty as to the rights of creditors, the enforceability of such rights, reorganization timing and the classification, seniority and treatment of claims. In certain developing countries, although bankruptcy laws have been enacted, the process for reorganization remains highly uncertain.

The Investment Manager, on behalf of the Master Fund, may elect to serve on creditors' committees, equity holders' committees or other groups to ensure preservation of the Master Fund's position as a creditor or equity holder. A member of any such committee or group may owe certain obligations generally to all parties similarly situated that the committee represents. If the Investment Manager concludes that its obligations owed to the other parties as a committee or group member conflict with its duties owed to the Master Fund, it will resign from that committee or group, and the Master Fund may not realize the benefits, if any, of participation on the committee or group. In addition, and also as discussed above, if the Master Fund is represented on a committee or group, it may be restricted or prohibited under applicable law from disposing of or increasing its investments in such company while it continues to be represented on such committee or group.

The Master Fund may purchase creditor claims subsequent to the commencement of a bankruptcy case. Under judicial decisions, it is possible that such purchase may be disallowed by the bankruptcy court if the court determines that the purchaser has taken unfair advantage of an unsophisticated seller, which may result in the rescission of the transaction (presumably at the original purchase price) or forfeiture by the purchaser.

Equitable Subordination. Under common law principles that in some cases form the basis for lender liability claims, if a lender (a) intentionally takes an action that results in the undercapitalization of a borrower or issuer to the detriment of other creditors of such borrower or issuer, (b) engages in other inequitable conduct to the detriment of such other creditors, (c) engages in fraud with respect to, or makes misrepresentations to, such other creditors or (d) uses its influence as a stockholder to dominate or control a borrower or issuer to the detriment of other creditors of such borrower or issuer, a court may elect to subordinate the claim of the offending lender or bondholder to the claims of the disadvantaged creditor or creditors (a remedy called "equitable subordination"). The Master Fund does not intend to engage in conduct that would form the basis for a successful cause of action based upon the equitable subordination doctrine; however, because of the nature of the debt obligations, the Master Fund may be subject to claims from creditors of an obligor that debt obligations of such obligor which are held by the issuer should be equitably subordinated.

Liability Following the Disposal of Investments. While the Master Fund may hold certain of its investments to maturity, the Master Fund may dispose of investments in some circumstances prior to termination and, in connection therewith, may be required to pay damages to the extent that any representations or warranties given in connection with such investments turn out to be inaccurate. The Master Fund may become involved in disputes or litigation concerning such representations and warranties and may be required to make payments to third parties as a result of such disputes or litigation. In the event the Master Fund does not have cash available to conduct such litigation or make such payments, it may be forced to sell investments to obtain funds. Such sales may be effected on unsatisfactory terms.

Potential Involvement in Litigation. In the event that the Master Fund holds investments in distressed investments, there is a possibility that the Investment Manager may participate in restructuring activities, it is possible that the Master Fund may become involved in litigation respecting creditor disputes and similar issues among classes of claimants. Litigation entails expense and the possibility of counterclaims against the Master Fund including the Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager and ultimately judgments may be rendered against the Master Fund for which the Master Fund does not carry insurance.

Directorships on Boards of Portfolio Companies. The Principal and other members and employees of the Investment Manager or its designees may serve as directors of companies the securities of which are purchased or sold on behalf of the Master Fund and may be compensated for such service. In the event that material non-public information obtained with respect to such companies becomes subject to trading restrictions pursuant to the internal trading policies of such companies or as a result of applicable law or regulations, the Master Fund may be prohibited for a period of time from purchasing or selling the securities of such companies, which prohibition may have an adverse effect on the Master Fund.

Material, Nonpublic Information. From time to time, certain personnel of the Investment Manager may come into possession of material, nonpublic information (including in connection with other investments or proposed investments not intended to benefit the Master Fund) that would limit the Investment Manager's ability to buy and sell investments. The Master Fund's investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager's inability to take certain actions because of such information. The Master Fund may experience losses if it is unable to sell an investment that it holds because certain personnel of the Investment Manager have obtained material, nonpublic information about such investment.

Investments in Structured Products: The Master Fund may invest in securities backed by, or representing interests in, certain underlying instruments ("Structured Products"). The cash flow on the underlying instruments may be apportioned among the Structured Products to create securities with different investment characteristics such as varying maturities, payment priorities and interest rate provisions, and the extent of the payments made with respect to the Structured Products is dependent on the extent of the cash flow on the underlying instruments. The Master Fund may invest in Structured Products that represent derived investment positions based on relationships among different markets or asset classes.

The performance of a Structured Product will be affected by a variety of factors, including its priority in the capital structure of the issuer, the availability of any credit enhancement, the level and timing of payments and recoveries on and the characteristics of the underlying receivables, loans or other assets that are being securitized, remoteness of those assets from the originator or transferor, the adequacy of and ability to realize upon any related collateral and the capability of the servicer of the securitized assets.

Investments in Collateralized Loan Obligations. The Master Fund may look to invest in CLOs diversified across maturities, underlying assets, tranches (debt, mezzanine and equity) and managers. In addition to implementing its investment process and utilizing proprietary analytical tools to evaluate and select investments for the Master Fund, the Investment Manager uses its market knowledge and industry position to add value by addressing what it believes are material inefficiencies of the existing CLO execution process. For example, within the primary new issuance market the Investment Manager will look to invest in CLOs where it can leverage its expertise and market relationships to achieve the timing, structural and financial terms especially advantageous to the Investment Manager's investments. In addition, the Investment Manager will look to assess value dislocations of CLO and other structured investments within the secondary market, as the Investment Manager believes structured products markets have inherent inefficiencies which often cause significant differentials between intrinsic value and market value. Such inefficiencies are typically driven by factors such as (i) little secondary market liquidity, (ii) complex valuation requirements for both underlying collateral as well as derivative instruments, and (iii) explosive growth of the market.

Short-Swing Liability and Other Limitations. From time to time, the Master Fund, acting alone or as part of a group, may acquire beneficial ownership of more than 10% of a certain class of securities of a public company, or may place a director on the board of directors of such a company. As a result, under Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, the Master Fund may be subject to certain additional reporting requirements and may be required to disgorge certain short-swing profits arising from purchases and sales of such securities. In addition, in such circumstances the Master Fund will be prohibited from entering into a short position in such issuer's securities, and therefore limited in its ability to hedge such investments.

Fixed Interest Rate Risk. The value of the fixed rate securities in which the Master Fund may invest generally will have an inverse relationship with interest rates. Accordingly, if interest rates rise the value of such securities may decline. In addition, to the extent that the receivables or loans underlying specific securities are prepayable without penalty or premium, the value of such securities may be negatively affected by increasing prepayments, which generally occur when interest rates decline.

Other Instruments. The Master Fund may take advantage of opportunities with respect to certain other instruments that are not presently contemplated for use or that are currently not available, but that may be developed, to the extent such opportunities are both consistent with the investment objective of the Master Fund and legally permissible. Special risks may apply to instruments that are invested in by the Master Fund in the future that cannot be determined at this time or until such instruments are developed or invested in by the Master Fund.

Long-Biased Investment Program. The Master Fund expects that its strategy will have a long bias. Therefore, any decline in the overall market may result in a decline in the value of the Master Fund's assets.

Certain Regulatory Risks

Regulatory Risks of Commingled Loan Funds. Legal, tax and regulatory changes could occur that may adversely affect the Fund. The regulatory environment for commingled loan funds is evolving and changes in the regulation of such funds may adversely affect the value of investments held by the Master Fund. In addition, the securities markets are subject to comprehensive statutes, regulations and margin requirements. The United States Securities and Exchange Commission, other regulators and self-regulatory organizations and exchanges are authorized to take extraordinary actions in the event of market emergencies. The effect of any future regulatory change on the Fund could be substantial and adverse.

The Fund and/or the Investment Manager also may be subject to regulation in jurisdictions in which the Fund and the Investment Manager engage in business. Investors should understand that the Fund's business is dynamic and is expected to change over time. Therefore, the Fund may be subject to new or additional regulatory constraints in the future. This Memorandum cannot address or anticipate every possible current or future regulation that may affect the Investment Manager, the Fund or their businesses. Such regulations may have a significant impact on shareholders or the operations of the Fund, including, without limitation, restricting the types of investments the Fund may make, preventing the Fund from exercising its voting rights with regard to certain financial instruments, requiring the Fund to disclose the identity of its investors or otherwise. The Investment Manager may, in its sole discretion, cause the Fund to be subject to such regulations if it believes that an investment or business activity is in the Fund's interest, even if such regulations may have a detrimental effect on one or more shareholders. Prospective investors are encouraged to consult their own advisors regarding an investment in the Fund.

Absence of Regulatory Oversight. While the Fund may be considered similar to an investment company, it is not required and does not intend to register as such under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Company Act”), and, accordingly, the provisions of the Company Act (which may provide certain regulatory safeguards to investors) are not applicable to investors in the Fund. The Fund will not maintain custody of its securities or place its securities in the custody of a bank or a member of a national securities exchange in the manner required of registered investment companies under rules promulgated by the SEC. A registered investment company which places its securities in the custody of a member of a national securities exchange is required to have a written custodian agreement, which provides that securities held in custody will be at all times individually segregated from the securities of any other person and marked to clearly identify such securities as the property of such investment company, and which contains other provisions complying with SEC regulations. The Fund generally will maintain such accounts at brokerage firms that do not separately segregate such assets as would be required in the case of registered investment companies. Under the provisions of the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970, as amended, the bankruptcy of any such brokerage firm might have a greater adverse effect on the Fund than would be the case if the accounts were maintained to meet the requirements applicable to registered investment companies.

Forward-Looking Statements. Certain statements contained in this Memorandum, including without limitation, statements containing the words “believes,” “anticipates,” “intends,” “expects,” and words of similar import constitute “forward-looking statements.” Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Fund to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Certain of these factors are discussed in more detail elsewhere in this Memorandum, including without limitation under “Summary of Terms,” “Certain Risk Factors,” and “Investment Program.” Given these uncertainties, prospective investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements. The Investment Manager and the Fund disclaim any obligation to update any such factors or to announce the result of any revisions to any of the forward-looking statements contained herein to reflect future events or developments.

Impact of U.S. Presidential Election. On January 20, 2017, Donald Trump became President of the United States of America. President Trump and other members of the Republican Party have proposed to reverse some of the recent regulation of the financial industry and to change tax policy. If some of these proposals were enacted, banks could dramatically increase their lending practices and accept additional types of collateral, borrowers could reduce their demand for debt financing, certain investment advisers could de-register with SEC and portfolio companies that are net importers or hold significant assets outside of the United States could be subject to increased tax liability. The effect of any such regulatory or tax changes on the Master Fund and the markets in which it trades and invests is uncertain.

Evolving Regulatory Risks of Private Investment Funds. The regulatory environment for private investment funds is evolving, and changes in the regulation of private investment funds and their advisers may adversely affect the value of investments held by the Master Fund.

Dodd-Frank, which was enacted in July 2010, regulates markets, market participants and financial instruments that were historically unregulated and has substantially altered the regulation of many other markets, market participants and financial instruments. Certain provisions of Dodd-Frank subject registered investment advisers to requirements to keep records and to report information to the SEC, which could in turn be supplied to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve, a new Financial Services Oversight Council or other U.S. governmental agencies or Congress. Under Dodd-Frank, the information includes, among other things, the amount of assets under management, use of leverage (including off-balance sheet leverage), counterparty credit risk exposures, trading and investment positions, and trading practices. All such records are subject to examination by the SEC at any time. It is anticipated that there may be significant changes to the financial regulatory environment as a result of the outcome of the recent U.S. elections. There is currently pending legislation in U.S. Congress which if enacted would result in the repeal of portions of Dodd-Frank which in turn would have a significant impact on the regulatory environment for private investment funds. In addition, the impact of the legislation on current and future rulemaking by various regulators under Dodd-Frank is difficult to predict. It is possible that rules that have been proposed by various regulators, which had been anticipated to take effect previously, may no longer be implemented in their proposed form or at all. Further, there may also be substantial changes in the enforcement and interpretation of existing statutes and rules by governmental regulatory authorities or self-regulatory organizations that supervise the financial markets. The effect of future regulatory change on the Fund and the Master Fund and their operations is uncertain. Prospective investors should seek, and must rely on, the advice of their own advisers with respect to the possible impact on its investment of any future proposed legislation or administrative or judicial action.

Enhanced Regulation of Swaps. The recently enacted Wall Street Transparency and Accountability Act of 2010 (the “WSTAA”) will, subject to exceptions for certain hedgers, (1) require swaps accepted for clearing by a derivatives clearing organization (a “DCO”) or for trading through a designated contract market or swaps-execution facility to be so cleared and traded, (2) require margin for almost all swap transactions, (3) subject traders with a “substantial position” in swaps to registration and regulation requirements as a “major swap participant” or “swap dealer” and (4) impose position limits on swaps either individually or in the aggregate with respect to positions in commodity-futures contracts. Due to the new requirements imposed by the WSTAA, the Master Fund may experience increased transaction costs to pay for the clearing, execution and segregation obligations. In addition, margin requirements may increase once margin is set by DCOs with input from the CFTC, which may limit the Master Fund’s ability to engage in leverage and limit the Master Fund’s return. The application of position limits to swap contracts may also limit the Master Fund’s ability to concentrate in any particular contract or exposure to an underlying commodity and may negatively impact the Master Fund’s ability to take advantage of current market trends or conditions. Any tightening in the market for swaps may significantly impact the Master Fund and its returns. In addition, if the Master Fund were deemed to be a swap dealer or a major swap participant under WSTAA, the Master Fund may be required to register with the CFTC and would be subject to a number of regulatory requirements that would significantly impact the Master Fund’s legal obligations and its returns.

Contagion Risk Factor. The Fund has the power to issue Shares in classes or series. The Articles provide for the manner in which the liabilities are to be attributed across the various classes or series (liabilities are to be attributed to the specific class or series in respect of which the liability was incurred). However, the Fund is a single legal entity and there is no limited recourse protection for any class or series. Accordingly, all of the assets of the Fund will be available to meet all of its liabilities regardless of the class or series to which such assets or liabilities are attributable. In practice, cross-class or cross-series liability is only expected to arise where liabilities referable to one class or series are in excess of the assets referable to such class or series and it is unable to meet all liabilities attributed to it. In such a case, the assets of the Fund attributable to other classes or series may be applied to cover such liability excess and the value of the contributing classes or series will be reduced as a result.

Handling of mail. Mail addressed to the Fund and/or the Master Fund and received at its registered office will be forwarded unopened to the forwarding address supplied by the Investment Manager to be dealt with. None of the Fund and/or the Master Fund, its directors, officers, advisors or service providers (including the organization which provides registered office services in the Cayman Islands) will bear any responsibility for any delay howsoever caused in mail reaching the forwarding address. In particular the Directors will only receive, open or deal directly with mail which is addressed to them personally (as opposed to mail which is addressed just to the Fund and/or the Master Fund).

Subscription Monies. Where a subscription for Shares is accepted, the Shares will be treated as having been issued with effect from the relevant subscription date notwithstanding that the subscriber for those Shares may not be entered in the Fund's register of members until after the relevant subscription date. The subscription monies paid by a subscriber for Shares will accordingly be subject to investment risk in the Fund from the relevant subscription date.

Tax Related Risks

Uncertainty and Complexity of Tax Treatment. The tax aspects of an investment in the Fund are complicated and complex and, in many cases, uncertain. Statutory provisions and administrative regulations have been interpreted inconsistently by the courts. Additionally, some statutory provisions remain to be interpreted by administrative regulations. Investors will thus be subject to the risk caused by the uncertainty of the tax consequences with respect to an investment in the Fund. Each prospective investor should have the tax aspects of an investment in the Fund reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussion below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Shares and to consult their own independent tax advisors.

Risk of Adverse Determination. There can be no assurance that the conclusions set forth in this Memorandum will not be challenged successfully by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the "Service") or other applicable taxing authority, or significantly modified by new legislation, changes in a taxing authority's positions, or court decisions. The Fund has not applied for, nor does it expect to apply for, any advance rulings from the Service with respect to any of the U.S. federal income tax consequences described in this Memorandum. No representation or warranty of any kind is made by the Fund or the Investment Manager with respect to the U.S. federal income tax consequences relating to an investment in the Fund. The Master Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts or other applicable taxing authority. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Master Fund and consequently, the Fund.

Tax Audit. An audit of the Fund by the Service or another taxing authority could result in adjustments to the tax consequences initially reported by the Fund, which examination could affect the after-tax returns of a shareholder's investment in the Fund. If such audit adjustments result in an increase in the Fund's U.S. federal income tax liability for any year, the Fund may also be liable for interest and penalties with respect to the amount of underpayment. The legal and accounting costs incurred in connection with any audit of the Fund's tax returns will be borne by the Fund.

Tax Considerations Taken into Account. The Investment Manager may take tax considerations into account in determining when the Master Fund's investments should be sold or otherwise disposed of, and may assume certain market risk and incur certain expenses in this regard to achieve favorable tax treatment of a transaction.

Tax-Exempt Entities. Certain prospective investors that are tax-exempt for U.S. income tax purposes may be subject to U.S. federal and state laws, rules and regulations that regulate their participation in the Fund, or their engaging directly or indirectly through an investment in the Fund, in certain investment strategies that the Master Fund may utilize from time-to-time (e.g., short-sales of securities and the use of leverage, the purchase and sale of options and limited diversification). While the Fund believes its investment program is generally appropriate for U.S. tax-exempt investors for which an investment in the Fund would otherwise be suitable, each type of tax-exempt organization may be subject to different laws, rules and regulations, and prospective investors should consult with their own advisers as to the advisability and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Investments in the Fund by entities subject to ERISA, and other tax-exempt entities, require special consideration. Trustees or administrators of such entities are urged to review carefully the matters discussed in this Memorandum.

Non-U.S. Taxation. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Master Fund, political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Shareholder Level Taxation. Tax consequences to each shareholder will depend on tax laws in that shareholder's jurisdiction. Shareholders should consult their professional advisors as to the possible tax consequences of subscribing for, buying, holding, selling, transferring or redeeming Shares under the laws of their country of citizenship, residence or domicile.

Tax Changes. Investors will be subject to the risk that changes to the tax law may adversely affect the federal income tax consequences of their investment in the Fund. Changes in existing tax laws or regulations and their interpretation may be enacted after the date of this Memorandum, possibly with retroactive effect, and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Certain provisions of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), may be further amended or interpreted in a manner adverse to the Fund or the Master Fund, in which event any benefits derived from an investment in the Fund may be adversely affected. In addition, significant legislative and budgetary proposals affecting tax laws have been made by the legislative and executive branches of the U.S. federal government. The likelihood of enactment of any such proposals, or any similar proposals, into law is uncertain. The enactment of any such proposals, including subsequent proposals, into law could have material adverse effects on the Fund and/or its shareholders. Enactment of such legislation, or similar legislation, could require significant restructuring of the Fund in order to mitigate such effects.

Recently Enacted Tax Reform Legislation. Recently enacted H.R. 1 (Pub. L. No. 115-97) makes significant changes to the rules potentially applicable to the Fund and/or its investors. Certain of these new rules are complex and, pending guidance that may be forthcoming, the impact on the Fund and its investors may be unclear. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisers regarding potential changes in any tax laws, potentially with retroactive effect.

The foregoing list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read this entire Memorandum and consult with their own advisers before deciding to invest in the Fund. In addition, as the investment program of the Fund develops and changes over time, an investment in the Fund may be subject to additional and different risk factors. No assurance can be made that profits will be achieved or that substantial losses will not be incurred.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Shares is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Given the nature and size of Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s ("Highland Capital") operations, various potential conflicts of interest arise in connection with its advisory services and the advisory services provided by its affiliates. Information about Highland Capital and its potential conflicts of interest is provided in Highland Capital's Form ADV Part 2 Brochure that can be found by going to <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Default.aspx>, searching by firm name and selecting the Part 2 Brochure to be viewed. The Fund is subject to these conflicts of interest, as well as the other items discussed below.

None of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees (collectively, the "Highland Group") is precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund or the Master Fund. The Investment Manager is permitted to manage other client accounts, and does manage other client accounts, some of which may have objectives similar or identical to those of the Master Fund, including other collective investment vehicles that may be managed by the Highland Group and in which the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates may have an equity interest.

The Fund will be subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest involving the Highland Group including, among other things, the fact that: (i) the Highland Group conducts substantial investment activities for accounts, funds, collateralized debt obligations that invest in leveraged loans (collectively, "CDOs") and other vehicles managed by members of the Highland Group ("Highland Accounts") in which the Fund has no interest; (ii) the Highland Group advises Highland Accounts, which utilize the same, similar or different methodologies as the Fund and may have financial incentives (including, without limitation, as it relates to the composition of investors in such funds and accounts or to the Highland Group's compensation arrangements) to favor certain Highland Accounts over the Fund and the Master Fund; (iii) the Highland Group may use the strategy described herein in certain Highland Accounts; (iv) the Investment Manager may give advice and recommend securities to, or buy or sell securities for, the Master Fund, which advice or securities may differ from advice given to, or securities recommended or bought or sold for, Highland Accounts; (v) the Investment Manager has the discretion, to the extent permitted under applicable law, to use its affiliates as service providers to the Fund and the Master Fund and the Master Fund's portfolio investments; (vi) certain investors affiliated with the Highland Group may choose to personally invest only in certain funds advised by the Highland Group and the amounts invested by them in such funds is expected to vary significantly; (vii) the Highland Group and Highland Accounts may actively engage in transactions in the same securities sought by the Master Fund and, therefore, may compete with the Master Fund for investment opportunities or may hold positions opposite to positions maintained on behalf of the Master Fund; and (viii) the Investment Manager will devote to the Master

Fund and the Fund only as much time as the Investment Manager deems necessary and appropriate to manage the Master Fund's and the Fund's business.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Fund's investors.

Allocation of Trading Opportunities

It is the policy of the Investment Manager to allocate investment opportunities fairly and equitably over time. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) fiduciary duties owed to the accounts; (ii) the primary mandate of the accounts; (iii) the capital available to the accounts; (iv) any restrictions on the accounts and the investment opportunity; (v) the sourcing of the investment, size of the investment and amount of follow-on available related to the investment; (vi) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (vii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (viii) liquidity requirements of the account; (ix) potentially adverse tax consequences; (x) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (xi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio.

The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple Highland Accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. One or more of the foregoing considerations may (and are often expected to) result in allocations among the Master Fund and one or more Highland Accounts on other than a pari passu basis. The Investment Manager will allocate investment opportunities across its accounts for which the opportunities are appropriate, consistent with (i) its internal conflict of interest and allocation policies and (ii) the requirements of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended. The Investment Manager will seek to allocate investment opportunities among such entities in a manner that is fair and equitable over time and consistent with its allocation policy, a copy of which will be provided upon request. However, there is no assurance that such investment opportunities will be allocated to the Master Fund fairly or equitably in the short-term or over time and there can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to participate in all investment opportunities that are suitable for it

The Investment Manager may open "average price" accounts with brokers. In an "average price" account, purchase and sale orders placed during a trading day on behalf of the Investment Manager, the Master Fund and other accounts managed by the Investment Manager are combined, and securities bought and sold pursuant to such orders are allocated among such accounts on an average price basis.

Cross Transactions and Principal Transactions

As further described below, the Investment Manager may effect client cross-transactions where the Investment Manager causes a transaction to be effected between the Master Fund and another client advised by it or any of its affiliates. The Investment Manager may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Master Fund any time that the Investment Manager believes such transaction to be fair to the Master Fund and such other client. By subscribing for an Interest, a Limited Partner is deemed to have consented to such client cross-transactions between the Master Fund and another client of the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates.

The Investment Manager may direct the Master Fund to acquire or dispose of securities in cross trades between the Master Fund and other clients of the Investment Manager or its affiliates in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, the Master Fund may invest in securities of obligors or issuers in which the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates have a debt, equity or participation interest, and the holding and sale of such investments by the Master Fund may enhance the profitability of the Investment Manager's own investments in such companies. Moreover, the Master Fund may invest in assets originated by the Investment Manager or its affiliates. In each such case, the Investment Manager and such affiliates may have a potentially conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Master Fund and the other parties to such trade. Under certain circumstances, the Investment Manager and its affiliates may determine that it is appropriate to avoid such conflicts by selling a security at a fair value that has been calculated pursuant to the Investment Manager's valuation procedures to another client managed or advised by the Investment Manager or such affiliates. In addition, the Investment Manager may enter into agency cross-transactions where it or any of its affiliates acts as broker for the Master Fund and for the other party to the transaction, to the extent permitted under applicable law.

The Principal, as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Master Fund (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of Interests in the Fund), unless appropriate approval of the Advisory Committee is obtained and such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

Conflicts Relating to Equity and Debt Ownership by the Master Fund and Affiliates

In certain circumstances, the Master Fund and other client accounts may invest in securities or other instruments of the same issuer (or affiliated group of issuers) having a different seniority in the issuer's capital structure. If the issuer becomes insolvent, restructures or suffers financial distress, there may be a conflict between the interests in the Master Fund and those other accounts insofar as the issuer may be unable (or in the case of a restructuring prior to bankruptcy may be expected to be unable) to satisfy the claims of all classes of its creditors and security holders and the Master Fund and such other accounts may have competing claims for the remaining assets of such issuers. Under these circumstances it may not be feasible for the Investment Manager to reconcile the conflicting interests in the Master Fund and such other accounts in a way that protects the Master Fund's interests. Additionally, the Investment Manager or its nominees may in the future hold board or creditors' committee memberships which may require them to vote or take other actions in such capacities that might be conflicting with respect to certain funds managed by the Investment Manager in that such votes or actions may favor the interests of one account over another account. Furthermore, the Investment Manager's fiduciary responsibilities in these capacities might conflict with the best interests of the investors.

Affiliated Entity Services

Affiliated entities of the Investment Manager may provide services with respect to the Investment Manager, the Master Fund or the Fund. NexBank, SSB ("NexBank SSB") is an affiliate of the Investment Manager and may, from time to time, provide banking and/or agency services to the Investment Manager, clients of the Investment Manager or collective investment vehicles for which the Investment Manager provides investment advisory services (including the Fund, the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Fund (through the Master Fund) may invest) or third parties engaged in transactions involving the Investment Manager. NexBank SSB may also act as an agent in connection with certain securities transactions involving the Investment Manager's client accounts (including the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Master Fund may invest). Principals of the Investment Manager own a majority of the equity interests in NexBank SSB and employees or affiliates of the Investment Manager own or may own a substantial equity interest in NexBank SSB. Certain Master Fund investment transactions may be executed through NexBank Securities, Inc., an affiliate of the Investment Manager and a registered broker-dealer.

Additionally, the Investment Manager or affiliates of the Investment Manager, including, without limitation, Nexbank SSB, NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital Advisors and Governance Re, Ltd., may provide financial advisory, management, insurance, title insurance or other services for a fee to portfolio companies in which the Master Fund may have an interest. Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., an affiliate of the Investment Manager, has been engaged to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager, as more fully described below in "Management –Services Agreement."

Management Fee

A portion of any Management Fee may be paid to broker-dealers, placement agents or independent third parties, other than the Investment Manager, for services provided in connection with the solicitation of subscriptions from investors. Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent's or distributor's participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions. Each placement agent shall comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Interests.

Diverse Membership

The Limited Partners are expected to include entities, persons, or entities organized in various jurisdictions and subject to different tax and regulatory regimes. Such diverse investors may thus have conflicting investment, tax and other interests, relating to, among other things, the nature of investments made by the Master Fund, the structuring or the acquisition of investments and the timing of disposition of investments. As a result, conflicts of interest may arise in connection with decisions made by the Investment Manager including as to the nature and structure of investments that may be more beneficial for one type of Limited Partner than for another type of Limited Partner, including Limited Partners affiliated with the Investment Manager. The results of the Fund's activities may affect individual Limited Partners differently, depending upon their individual financial and tax situations because, for instance, of the timing of an event of realization of gain or loss and its characterization as long-term or short-term gain or loss. In addition, the Master Fund may make investments that may have a negative impact on related investments made by the Limited Partners in separate transactions. In selecting, structuring and managing investments appropriate for the Master Fund, the Investment Manager will consider the investment and tax objectives of the Master Fund and the Feeder Funds as a whole, not the investment, tax, or other objectives of any Limited Partner individually. However, there can be no assurance that a result will not be more advantageous to some Limited Partners than to others or to the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates than to a particular Limited Partner.

Soft Dollars

The Investment Manager's authority to use "soft dollar" credits generated by the Master Fund's securities transactions to pay for expenses that might otherwise have been borne by the Investment Manager or the Master Fund GP may give the Investment Manager an incentive to select brokers or dealers for Master Fund transactions, or to negotiate commission rates or other execution terms, in a manner that takes into account the soft dollar benefits received by the Investment Manager rather than giving exclusive consideration to the interests in the Master Fund. See "Brokerage and Custody."

No Separate Counsel

Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP ("Akin Gump") serves as counsel to the Fund, the Master Fund, the Investment Manager, the Master Fund GP and certain of their Affiliates (the "Clients") in connection with the formation of the Fund and certain other Clients, the offering of Shares as well as certain other matters for which the Clients may engage Akin Gump from time to time. Akin Gump disclaims any obligation to verify the Clients' compliance with their obligations either under applicable law or the governing documents of the Fund. In acting as counsel to the Clients, Akin Gump has not represented and will not represent any shareholders nor does it purport to represent their interests. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders. In assisting in the preparation of this Memorandum, Akin Gump has relied on information provided by the Fund, the Investment Manager and the Master Fund GP and certain of the Fund's other service providers (including, without limitation, the Principal's biographical data, summaries of market conditions, the planned investment strategy of the Master Fund and the performance of the Master Fund, its investments or any predecessor Fund) without verification and does not express a view as to whether such information is accurate or complete.

Maples and Calder, PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands, acts as Cayman Islands legal counsel to the Fund, the Master Fund and the Master Fund GP. In connection with the offering of shares and/or interests and subsequent advice to the Fund, the Master Fund and the Master Fund GP, Maples and Calder will not be representing shareholders and/or limited partners. No independent legal counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders and/or limited partners. Maples and Calder's representation of the Master Fund GP is limited to specific matters as to which it has been consulted by the Master Fund GP. There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Master Fund as to which Maples and Calder has not been consulted. In addition, Maples and Calder does not undertake to monitor compliance by the Master Fund GP and its affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Maples and Calder monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Maples and Calder's responsibility is limited to matters of Cayman Islands law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the Master Fund GP, there are times when the interests of the shareholders/limited partners may differ from those of the Fund, Master Fund and/or the Master Fund GP. Maples and Calder does not represent the shareholders and/or limited partners' interests in resolving these issues. In reviewing this Memorandum, Maples and Calder has relied upon information furnished to it by the Master Fund GP and has not investigated or verified the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Fund, Master Fund and/or the Master Fund GP.

Non-Public Information

From time to time, the Investment Manager may come into possession of non-public information concerning specific companies although internal structures are in place to prevent the receipt of such information. Under applicable securities laws, this may limit the Investment Manager's flexibility to buy or sell portfolio securities issued by such companies. The Master Fund's investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager's inability to use such information for investment purposes.

The foregoing list of risk factors and potential conflicts of interest do not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read this entire Memorandum and consult with their own legal, tax and financial advisers before deciding to invest in the Fund.

BROKERAGE AND CUSTODY

Brokerage Arrangements

The Investment Manager will be responsible for the placement of the portfolio transactions of the Master Fund and the negotiation of any commissions or spreads paid on such transactions. Portfolio transactions normally will be effected through brokers on securities exchanges or directly with the issuer, or through an underwriter, or market maker or other dealer for the investments. Portfolio transactions through brokers involve a commission to the broker. Portfolio transactions with dealers typically are priced to include a spread between the bid and the asked price to compensate the dealer. Portfolio transactions will be executed by brokers selected solely by the Investment Manager in its absolute discretion. The Investment Manager is not required to weigh any of these factors equally.

Substantially all of the Master Fund's investments in marketable securities, as well as its cash and cash equivalents, are expected to be held with brokers or custodians selected by the Investment Manager. Instruments not constituting marketable securities generally are recorded through book entry by the borrower or by an agent for the borrower or the creditors. Documentary evidence of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of these assets typically will be held by the Investment Manager.

Brokers or their affiliates may provide capital introduction or other placement services to the Fund and the Investment Manager (with or without separate charges for such other services). In determining which broker-dealer generally provides the best available price and most favorable execution, the Investment Manager considers a totality of circumstances, including price quotes, the size of the transaction, the nature of the market for the financial instrument, the timing of the transaction, difficulty of execution, the broker-dealer's expertise in the specific financial instrument or sector in which the Master Fund seeks to trade, the extent to which the broker-dealer makes a market in the financial instrument involved or has access to such markets, the broker-dealer's skill in positioning the financial instruments involved, the broker-dealer's promptness of execution, the broker-dealer's financial stability, reputation for diligence, fairness and integrity, quality of service rendered by the broker-dealer in other transactions for the Investment Manager and its respective affiliates, confidentiality considerations, the quality and usefulness of research services and investment ideas presented by the broker-dealer, the broker-dealer's willingness to correct errors, the broker-dealer's ability to accommodate any special execution or order handling requirements that may surround the particular transaction, and other factors deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager need not solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost or spread.

Accordingly, if the Investment Manager concludes that the commissions charged by a broker or the spreads applied by a dealer are reasonable in relation to the quality of services rendered by such broker or dealer (including, without limitation, the value of the brokerage and research products or services provided by such broker or dealer), the Master Fund may pay commissions to, or be subject to spreads applied by, such broker-dealer in an amount greater than the amount another broker-dealer might charge or apply.

The Investment Manager may also execute trades with brokers and dealers with whom the Fund, the Master Fund or the Investment Manager has other business relationships, including prime brokerage, credit relationships and capital introduction or investments by affiliates of the broker-dealers in the Fund or other entities managed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager does not believe that these other relationships will influence the choice of brokers and dealers who execute trades for the Master Fund.

Research-related goods and services provided by brokers and dealers through which portfolio transactions for the Master Fund are executed, settled and cleared may include research reports on particular industries and companies, economic surveys and analyses, recommendations as to specific securities, certain research services, and other goods and services providing lawful and appropriate assistance to the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities on behalf of the Master Fund and related accounts (collectively, “soft dollar items”).

Soft dollar items may be provided directly by brokers and dealers, by third parties at the direction of brokers and dealers or purchased on behalf of the Master Fund with credits or rebates provided by brokers and dealers. Soft dollar items may arise from over-the-counter principal transactions, as well as exchange traded agency transactions. Brokers and dealers sometimes suggest a level of business they would like to receive in return for the various services they provide. Actual business received by any broker or dealer may be less than the suggested allocations, but can (and often does) exceed the suggestions, because total transaction volume is allocated on the basis of all the considerations described above. A broker or dealer will not be excluded from executing transactions for the Master Fund because it has not been identified as providing soft dollar items.

The use of commissions or “soft dollars” if any, generated by the Master Fund through agency and certain riskless principal transactions to pay for research and research-related products or services, if any, will fall within the safe harbor created by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Under Section 28(e), research products or services obtained with soft dollars generated by the Master Fund may be used by the Investment Manager to service accounts other than the Master Fund. Soft dollars generated in respect of futures, currency and derivatives transactions and principal transactions (that are not riskless principal transactions) do not generally fall within the safe harbor created by Section 28(e) and will be utilized only with respect to research-related products and services for the benefit of the account generating such soft dollars.

Research and brokerage products and services may be used by the Investment Manager in servicing some or all of the Investment Manager’s clients. In addition, some research and brokerage may not be used by the Investment Manager in servicing the clients whose commission dollars provided for the research or brokerage. Clients may not, in any particular instance, be the direct or indirect beneficiaries of the research or brokerage provided. Certain clients, who are the beneficiaries of research or brokerage, may have an investment style which results in the generation of a small amount of brokerage commissions due to a lack of active trading for their accounts. As a result, clients who generate sizeable commissions subsidize research or brokerage provided to clients whose accounts generate minimal brokerage commissions since the commission dollars generated by transactions for such clients are not sufficient to pay for research or brokerage that may be received by such clients from other brokers.

In selecting broker-dealers on the basis of the foregoing factors, the Investment Manager may pay a brokerage commission in excess of that which another broker might have charged for effecting the same transaction. In connection therewith, the Investment Manager will make a good faith determination that the amount of commission is reasonable in relation to the value of the research or brokerage services received, viewed in terms of either the specific transaction or the Investment Manager’s overall responsibility to its clients. The Investment Manager will regularly evaluate the placement of brokerage services and the reasonableness of commissions paid. Research received from brokers will be supplemental to the Investment Manager's own research efforts. While the receipt of research will not reduce the Investment Manager's normal research activities, the Investment Manager's expenses could increase materially if it attempted to generate such additional research or brokerage services through its own staff, and the Management Fee will not be reduced as a consequence of the receipt of such research or brokerage services or products. As such, the Investment Manager's arrangements for the receipt of research and brokerage services from brokers may create a conflict of interest, in that the Investment Manager may have an incentive to choose a broker-dealer that provides research and brokerage services, instead of one that does not but charges a lower commission rate. In some instances, the Investment Manager receives products and services that may be used for both research and non-research purposes. In such instances, the Investment Manager will make a good faith effort to determine the relative proportion of the products and services used to assist the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution, including research and brokerage, and the relative proportion used for administrative or other non-research purposes. The proportionate amount of the research attributable to assisting the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution will be paid through brokerage commissions generated by the Master Fund's and other client's transactions; the proportionate amount attributable to administrative or other non-research purposes will be paid for by the Investment Manager from its own resources. The receipt of "mixed-use" research and the determination of the appropriate allocation may result in a potential conflict of interest between the Investment Manager and its clients, including the Master Fund.

Custody

U.S. Bank has been retained to perform certain custodial services for the Fund and the Master Fund (in such capacity, the "Custodian"). In its capacity as Custodian, it will receive customary fees that will be paid out of the assets of the Fund. The Custodian will also be reimbursed for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

The Custodian does not have a direct contractual relationship with the investors. The Custodian has, however, entered into a contractual relationship with the Fund in relation to the performance of the services described herein. The Fund will enforce its contractual rights with respect to the Custodian as necessary to protect the interests of the Fund (and, therefore, the interest of investors).

TAX CONSIDERATIONS

General

The following is a general discussion of certain of the anticipated U.S. federal and Cayman Islands income tax considerations applicable to the Fund's activities and those relevant to "Non-U.S. Shareholders" (as defined below) and "Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders" (as defined below) arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares. The discussion that follows is based on the provisions of the Code and the U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder (the "Treasury Regulations") as in effect on the date hereof and on existing judicial and administrative interpretations thereof. These authorities are subject to change and to differing interpretations, which could apply retroactively.

This discussion does not address all tax consequences that may be applicable to a beneficial owner of Shares, nor does it address, unless specifically indicated, the tax consequences to, among others (i) persons that may be subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax law, including, but not limited to, banks, insurance companies, thrift institutions, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts and dealers in securities or currencies, (ii) persons that will hold Shares as part of a position in a "straddle" or as part of a "hedging," "conversion" or other integrated investment transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (iii) persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar or (iv) persons that do not hold Shares as capital assets within the meaning of Code Section 1221.

If a partnership holds Shares of the Fund, the tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the Fund. Prospective investors who are partners of a partnership should consult their own tax advisors.

In addition, this summary does not address U.S. federal alternative minimum or estate and gift tax consequences or consequences under the tax laws of any non-U.S. jurisdiction. The Fund has not sought any ruling from the Service with respect to the statements made and the conclusions reached in this summary, and cannot assure any investor that the Service will agree with such statements and conclusions. As with any investment, potential investors should consult their own tax advisors in determining the U.S. federal, state, local, non-U.S. and any other tax consequences to them of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares.

In view of the number of different jurisdictions where local laws may apply to shareholders, the discussion below does not address the local tax consequences to prospective investors of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors in determining the possible tax, exchange control or other consequences to them under the laws of the jurisdictions of which they are citizens, residents or domiciliaries or in which they conduct business.

This summary assumes that only persons that are not "United States persons" as defined in Code Section 7701(a)(30) (such investors, "Non-U.S. Shareholders") and organizations that are exempt from U.S. federal income tax under the Code (such investors, "Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders") will invest in the Fund. Therefore, this summary does not address the U.S. tax consequences to U.S. taxable investors. The Fund is expected to constitute a "passive foreign investment company" (a "PFIC") for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Potential U.S. investors should be aware that the Fund does not intend to provide information to any U.S. person for purposes of such person qualifying to make an election to treat the Fund as a "qualified electing fund" (a “QEF”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes under Code Section 1295. Accordingly, potential U.S. investors are urged to consult their tax advisors in this regard.

EACH PROSPECTIVE INVESTOR IS URGED TO CONSULT ITS OWN TAX ADVISOR IN ORDER TO UNDERSTAND FULLY THE U.S. FEDERAL, STATE AND LOCAL AND ANY NON-U.S. TAX CONSEQUENCES OF AN INVESTMENT IN ITS PARTICULAR SITUATION, INCLUDING CONSEQUENCES TO THEM UNDER THE LAWS OF THE JURISDICTIONS OF WHICH THEY ARE OR WERE CITIZENS, RESIDENTS OR DOMICILIARIES, OR IN WHICH THEY CONDUCT BUSINESS.

Material U.S. Federal Income Taxation Matters

Classification and Taxation of the Fund and the Master Fund

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, the Fund is expected to be treated as a corporation and the Master Fund is expected to be treated as a partnership. The Fund and the Master Fund will make any necessary entity classification elections for U.S. tax purposes.

The following discussion assumes that the Master Fund will be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Unless otherwise indicated, references in the following discussion to the tax consequences of Fund investments, activities, income, gain and loss include the indirect investments, activities, income, gain and loss attributable to the Fund as a result of being a limited partner of the Master Fund.

Under Code Section 864, a safe harbor (the “Safe Harbor”) applies to a non-U.S. corporation (other than a dealer in securities or commodities) that engages in trading securities (including contracts or options to buy or sell securities) and commodities (including derivatives) for its own account within the United States, pursuant to which such a non-U.S. corporation will not be deemed to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business by reason of such trading activities. If certain of the activities of the Fund were determined not to be of the type described in the Safe Harbor, the activities of the Fund could constitute a U.S. trade or business, in which case the Fund would be subject to U.S. income and branch profits tax on the income and gain treated as connected with those activities. Although there is a risk that certain of the Fund’s investments could fall outside of the Safe Harbor and constitute a trade or business (e.g., a lending business), the Fund intends to take the position that it is not engaged in trade or business.

The Fund also may be deemed to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business by attribution from a pass-through entity in which it owns an interest and which is so engaged. In this circumstance, the Fund’s share of any income and gain that is effectively connected with such U.S. trade or business will be subject to regular U.S. federal income taxation (currently imposed at a maximum rate of 21%) on a net basis and an additional 30% U.S. branch profits tax on certain of its after-tax earnings and profits that are not reinvested in a U.S. business, and the Fund will be required to file U.S. federal (and potentially, state and local) income tax returns in connection with such trade or business. Such a pass-through entity would also be required (and would be legally liable) to withhold and pay over to the Service on behalf of the Fund an amount equal to 21% of the Fund’s share of such entity’s effectively connected income. Any amount so withheld would be creditable against the Fund’s ultimate U.S. federal income tax liability, and the Fund would be entitled to a refund to the extent that the amount withheld exceeded the Fund’s U.S. federal income tax liability for the taxable year. Further, if the Fund holds certain property (or is deemed to hold certain property as the result of its investments), such property could be treated as U.S. real property interests. Upon the disposition of any such U.S.

real property interest, the Fund would be subject to tax on any gain recognized as though such gain were effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business of the Fund. Gains from the disposition by the Fund of securities that are not (and are not deemed to be) effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business of the Fund would generally be free from U.S. federal income and withholding tax. The Fund may, however, also be subject to U.S. federal income tax on any gain realized, or deemed realized, upon a sale or exchange of an interest in a partnership directly or indirectly held which is engaged in a U.S. trade or business (including, without limitation, certain gains realized upon a redemption of interests from the Master Fund). In such case, U.S. withholding tax may be incurred (or required to be deducted by the Master Fund, as applicable) equal to 10% of the amount realized. Any amounts so withheld would generally be creditable (subject to certain limitations) against the Fund's ultimate U.S. federal income tax liability, and the Fund would be entitled to a refund to the extent that the amount withheld exceeded the Fund's U.S. federal income tax liability for the taxable year. In addition, it is possible the Fund could be subject to taxation on a net basis by state and local jurisdictions within the United States. Any such taxation could materially adversely affect the Fund's investment returns.

In general, under Section 881 of the Code, a non-U.S. corporation which does not conduct a U.S. trade or business is nonetheless subject to tax at a flat rate of 30% (or lower tax treaty rate) on the gross amount of certain U.S. source income which is not effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business, generally payable through withholding under Section 1442 of the Code. Income subject to such a flat tax rate is of a fixed or determinable annual or periodical nature, including dividends (including "dividend equivalent" income under Section 871(m) of the Code) and certain interest income. There is presently no tax treaty between the United States and the Cayman Islands.

Certain types of income are specifically exempted from the 30% tax and thus withholding is not required on payments of such income to a non-U.S. corporation. The 30% tax does not apply to U.S. source capital gains (whether long or short-term) or to interest paid to a non-U.S. corporation on its deposits with U.S. banks. The 30% tax also does not apply to interest which qualifies as portfolio interest. The term "portfolio interest" generally includes interest (including original issue discount) on an obligation in registered form which has been issued after July 18, 1984 that is paid to persons with limited ownership in the obligor and with respect to which the person who would otherwise be required to deduct and withhold the 30% tax receives the required statement that the beneficial owner of the obligation is not a U.S. person within the meaning of the Code. Also exempt from the 30% tax is income from original issue discount obligations which are payable no more than 183 days from the date of issue. Interest on corporate obligations will not qualify as "portfolio interest" to a non-U.S. person that owns (directly and under certain constructive ownership rules) 10% or more of the total combined voting power of the corporation paying the interest, or, with respect to certain obligations issued after April 7, 1993, if and to the extent the interest is determined by reference to certain economic attributes of the debtor (or a person related thereto).

As indicated above, certain investments by the Fund could result in the Fund being deemed to be engaged in a U.S. trade or business, including, without limitation, direct investments by the Fund in U.S. real estate or real estate acquired in foreclosures on mortgages held by the Fund. The Fund may conduct such activities through U.S. corporate entities, in order for the Fund to avoid filing a U.S. income tax return and directly paying tax on such investments. Each such investment may be made in a separate U.S. corporation directly owned by the Fund (a "U.S. Subsidiary"). Each U.S. Subsidiary will be subject to U.S. income tax on its net taxable income at regular U.S. federal corporate income tax rates. Dividend distributions from the U.S. Subsidiary to the Fund will be subject to a 30% U.S. withholding tax. However, cash distributions by the U.S. Subsidiary upon its complete liquidation will generally not be subject to taxation or to U.S. withholding tax.

Taxation of Non-U.S. Shareholders

For U.S. federal income tax purposes, a Non-U.S. Shareholder will not be subject to U.S. federal income taxation on amounts paid by the Fund in respect of Shares or gains recognized on the sale, exchange or redemption of Shares, provided that such income and gains are not considered to be effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business by the shareholder in the United States. In limited circumstances, an individual Non-U.S. Shareholder who is present in the United States for 183 days or more during a taxable year may be subject to U.S. income tax at a flat rate of 30% on gains realized on a disposition of Shares in such year. Individual shareholders who at the time of their death are not citizens, former citizens or residents of the United States should not be subject, by reason of the ownership of Shares, to any U.S. federal gift or estate taxes.

Special rules may apply in the case of non-U.S. persons that (i) conduct a trade or business in the United States or that have an office or fixed place of business in the United States, (ii) have a tax home in the United States, (iii) are former citizens or long-term residents of the United States or (iv) are controlled foreign corporations, PFICs, foreign insurance companies (“CFCs”) that hold Shares in connection with their U.S. business or corporations which accumulate earnings to avoid U.S. federal income tax. Such persons are urged to consult their U.S. tax advisors before investing in the Fund.

In the case of Shares held in the United States by a custodian or nominee for a non-U.S. person, U.S. “backup” withholding taxes may apply to distributions in respect of Shares held by such shareholder unless such shareholder properly certifies as to its non-U.S. status or otherwise establishes an exemption from “backup” withholding. Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Rather, the U.S. federal income tax liability of non-U.S. persons subject to backup withholding will be reduced by the amount of tax withheld. If backup withholding results in an overpayment of U.S. federal income taxes, a refund may be obtained, provided the required documents are timely filed with the Service.

Taxation of Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders

Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders are subject to U.S. tax on their “unrelated business taxable income” (“UBTI”) as defined in Section 512 of the Code. UBTI is generally the excess of gross income from any unrelated trade or business conducted by a tax-exempt entity over the deductions attributable to such trade or business, with certain modifications. These modifications provide that UBTI generally does not include interest, dividends or gains from the sale of securities not held as either inventory or primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of business, except to the extent that any such item of income is deemed to constitute “unrelated debt financed income” within the meaning of Section 514 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations, and certain other requirements are met. The ability to offset deductions or losses realized in respect of one “unrelated trade or business” against income or gains from other “unrelated trades or businesses” is subject to certain limitations. Income that a U.S. tax-exempt entity derives from an investment in Shares generally should not give rise to UBTI, except to the extent that such entity’s acquisition of Shares is debt financed.

The Fund will constitute a PFIC for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Under the Treasury Regulations, a tax-exempt entity is generally not considered to be a shareholder in a PFIC. Therefore, the tax-exempt entity would generally not be subject to the PFIC tax rules, except to the extent that a “dividend” paid by such PFIC would be taxable under subchapter F of the Code. Hence, a tax-exempt entity would be subject to tax under the PFIC regime in respect of an excess distribution from, or any gain realized on the sale of, the shares of a PFIC in only limited circumstances. Additionally, the Treasury Regulations provide that a tax-exempt entity that is not taxable under the PFIC rules may not make a QEF election under Section 1295 of the Code and the Fund will not provide any QEF information to investors.

The Fund may be classified as a CFC for U.S. federal income tax purposes if U.S. persons who own (actually or constructively) 10% or more of either voting interest or the value of the Fund hold 50% or more of the vote or value of the Fund, as determined under the Code. However, a Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholder's share of the Fund's "subpart F income" generally would not be treated as UBTI (provided that such investor has not debt-financed its investment in the Fund) except in the case of certain insurance- and reinsurance-related income. In addition, if the Fund is classified as a CFC, U.S. tax-exempt investors may be subject to special information reporting requirements. Prospective investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences in this regard, including with respect to certain other types of income, and with respect to complex attribution rules that may apply.

Moreover, different rules may apply to certain types of tax-exempt entities, such as charitable remainder trusts. Accordingly, potential tax-exempt investors are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Prospective Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Shares.

Information Reporting Requirements

A U.S. person (including in certain circumstances a Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholder) that transfers property (including cash) to the Fund in exchange for Shares will be required to file a Form 926 or a similar form with the Service. In the event a U.S. shareholder fails to file any required form, such shareholder could be subject to a penalty of up to 10% of the value of the property transferred, subject to a $100,000 limit so long as the failure was not due to intentional disregard.

Under the Treasury Regulations, any U.S. person, within the meaning of the Code, owning 10% or more (taking certain attribution rules into account) of either the total combined voting power or total value of all classes of the shares of a non-U.S. corporation, or whose ownership interest changes by a statutorily specified amount, may be required to file an information return with the Service containing certain disclosures concerning the filing shareholder, other U.S. shareholders and the corporation. The determination of whether a U.S. person is a 10% U.S. shareholder for purposes of this filing requirement may be made by reference to such shareholder's percentage ownership of Shares within each class rather than that of all Shares of the Fund. The Fund has not committed to provide all of the information about the Fund or its shareholders necessary to complete such an information return. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors about such information return filing requirements.

Certain U.S. persons are required to file Financial Crimes Enforcement Network ("FinCEN") Form 114 with the Service with respect to financial interests in foreign financial accounts held by such U.S. persons during the previous year if the aggregate value of such accounts exceeds $10,000 at any time during the year. Significant penalties may apply in respect of the failure to file FinCEN Form 114 in respect of foreign financial accounts. Thus, potential Tax-Exempt U.S. Shareholders should consult their tax advisors as to whether to file FinCEN Form 114 in respect of ownership of Shares.

Investor Tax Filings and Record Retention

The United States Department of the Treasury has adopted Treasury Regulations designed to assist the Service in identifying abusive tax shelter transactions. In general, these Treasury Regulations require investors in specified transactions (including certain shareholders in non-U.S. corporations and partners in partnerships that engage in such transactions) to satisfy certain special tax filing and record retention requirements. Significant monetary penalties may be imposed (in addition to penalties that generally may be applicable as a result of a failure to comply with applicable Treasury Regulations) for failure to comply with these tax filing and record retention rules.

These Treasury Regulations are broad in scope and it is conceivable that the Master Fund may enter into transactions that will subject the Fund and certain investors in the Fund to the special tax filing and record retention rules. The Fund and the Investment Manager intend to use reasonable efforts to obtain and provide information to investors necessary to enable investors to satisfy any tax filing and record retention requirements that may arise as a result of any transactions entered into by the Master Fund.

Reporting Under FATCA

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (together with any regulations, rules and other guidance implementing such Code sections and any applicable intergovernmental agreement (“IGA”) or information exchange agreement and related statutes, regulations, rules and other guidance thereunder, “FATCA”) impose a withholding tax of 30% on (i) certain U.S. source interest, dividends and other types of income, and (ii) the gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of certain assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest and dividends, which are received by a foreign financial institution (“FFI”), unless such FFI enters into an agreement with the Service, and/or complies with an applicable IGA, to obtain certain information as to the identity of the direct and indirect owners of accounts in such institution. In addition, a withholding tax may be imposed on payments to certain non-financial foreign entities that do not obtain and provide information as to their direct and indirect owners. These rules generally apply to payments of U.S. source interest, dividends and certain other types of income from U.S. sources and, after December 31, 2018, are expected to apply to payments of gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest or dividends.

The Service has released temporary and final Treasury Regulations and other guidance to implement FATCA, which contain a number of phase-in dates for FATCA compliance. In addition, the Cayman Islands has entered into a Model 1 IGA with the United States (the “Cayman-U.S. IGA”) and has issued the Tax Information Authority (International Tax Compliance) (United States of America) Regulations 2014, and guidance notes thereunder, each as updated from time to time.

Both the Fund and the Master Fund are likely to be considered FFIs. In order to avoid incurring U.S. withholding under FATCA, the Master Fund and the Fund each are generally required to register with the Service and to comply with the Cayman-U.S. IGA and any guidance thereunder. The Fund and the Master Fund each have registered with the Service and expect that they will be required to identify and report on certain direct and indirect U.S. owners in order to comply with the Cayman-U.S. IGA. Therefore, the Fund and the Master Fund generally do not expect to become subject to U.S. withholding under FATCA. An investor may be required to provide to the Fund information which identifies its direct and indirect ownership. Any such information provided to the Fund may ultimately be shared with the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority (“TIA”) and transmitted to the Service and, potentially, certain other authorities and withholding agents, as applicable.

CAYMAN ISLANDS LEGAL, REGULATORY AND TAX MATTERS

It is the responsibility of all persons interested in purchasing Shares to inform themselves as to any tax consequences from their investing in the Fund and the Fund's operations or management, as well as any foreign exchange or other fiscal or legal restrictions, which are relevant to their particular circumstances in connection with the acquisition, holding or disposition of Shares. Investors should therefore seek their own separate tax advice in relation to their holding of Shares and accordingly none of the Fund, the Investment Manager or the Administrator accepts any responsibility for the taxation consequences of any investment in the Fund by an investor.

Taxation of the Fund

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Fund or the shareholders. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Fund.

The Fund has received an undertaking from the Governor-in-Cabinet of the Cayman Islands that, in accordance with section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, for a period of 20 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations shall apply to the Fund or its operations and, in addition, that no tax to be levied on profits, income, gains or appreciations or which is in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall be payable (i) on or in respect of the shares, debentures or other obligations of the Fund or (ii) by way of the withholding in whole or in part of a payment of dividend or other distribution of income or capital by the Fund to its members or a payment of principal or interest or other sums due under a debenture or other obligation of the Fund.

Taxation of the Master Fund

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Master Fund or the limited partners of the Master Fund (the "Master Fund Limited Partners"). Interest, dividends and gains payable to the Master Fund and all distributions by the Master Fund to Master Fund Limited Partners will be received free of any Cayman Islands income or withholding taxes. The Master Fund has registered as an exempted limited partnership under Cayman Islands law and the Master Fund has received an undertaking from the Governor in Cabinet of the Cayman Islands to the effect that, for a period of 50 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits or income or gains or appreciations shall apply to the Master Fund or to any partner thereof in respect of the operations or assets of the Master Fund or the interest of a partner therein; and may further provide that any such taxes or any tax in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall not be payable in respect of the obligations of the Master Fund or the interests of the partners therein. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Master Fund.

Cayman Islands – Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information

The Cayman Islands has signed two inter-governmental agreements to improve international tax compliance and the exchange of information - one with the United States, the Cayman-U.S. IGA, and one with the United Kingdom (the "Cayman-U.K. IGA"). The Cayman Islands has also signed, along with over 80 other countries, a multilateral competent authority agreement to implement the OECD Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information – Common Reporting Standard (the “CRS” and together with the Cayman-U.S. IGA and the Cayman-U.K. IGA, “AEOI”).

Cayman Islands regulations were issued on 4 July 2014 to give effect to the Cayman-U.S. IGA and the Cayman-U.K. IGA, and on 16 October 2015 to give effect to the CRS (collectively, the “AEOI Regulations”). Pursuant to the AEOI Regulations, the TIA has published guidance notes on the application of the Cayman-U.S. IGA and Cayman-U.K. IGAs and the CRS. It is anticipated that the Cayman-U.K. IGA related regulations and relevant provisions of the guidance notes will be phased out and replaced with CRS.

All Cayman Islands “Financial Institutions” will be required to comply with the registration, due diligence and reporting requirements of the AEOI Regulations, except to the extent that they can rely on an exemption that allows them to become a “Non-Reporting Financial Institution” (as defined in the relevant AEOI Regulations) with respect to one or more of the AEOI regimes. The Fund does not propose to rely on any reporting exemption and therefore intends to comply with the requirements of the AEOI Regulations.

The AEOI Regulations require the Fund to, amongst other things (i) register with the Service to obtain a Global Intermediary Identification Number (in the context of the Cayman-U.S. IGA only), (ii) register with the TIA, and thereby notify the TIA of its status as a “Reporting Financial Institution”; (iii) conduct due diligence on its accounts to identify whether any such accounts are considered “Reportable Accounts”, and (iv) report information on such Reportable Accounts to the TIA. The TIA will transmit the information reported to it to the overseas fiscal authority relevant to a reportable account (i.e. the Service in the case of a US Reportable Account, HMRC in the case of a UK Reportable Account, etc.) annually on an automatic basis.

By investing (or continuing to invest) in the Fund (and indirectly investing in the Master Fund), investors will be deemed to have acknowledged, and to have given their consent to, the following:

- (i) the Fund (or its agent) may be required to disclose to the TIA and withholding agents certain information (which could otherwise be deemed to be confidential) in relation to the investor or its direct or indirect owners, including the investor’s name, address, date of birth, tax identification number (if any), social security or national insurance number (if any) and certain additional information or documentation relating to the investor’s investment or identity, and the investor may be required to provide any such information or documentation;
- (ii) the TIA may be required to automatically exchange information with, among other authorities, the Service, and to provide additional information to such authorities, and the Master Fund or the Fund (or its agent) may be required to disclose certain information (including information that could otherwise be deemed to be confidential) when registering with such authorities and in response to a request by any such authority for further information;
- (iii) in the event an investor’s failure to comply with any AEOI related reporting requirements gives rise to any withholding tax or other liabilities the Fund reserves the right to ensure that any such withholding tax and or any related cost, interest, penalties and other losses or liabilities suffered by the Fund, the Master Fund, the Master Fund GP, the Administrator or any other investor, or any agent, delegate, employee, director, officer or affiliate of any of the foregoing persons, arising from such investor's failure to provide information to the Fund, is economically borne by such investor;

- (iv) in the event an investor does not provide the information and/or documentation necessary for the Fund's (or the Master Fund's) satisfaction of its AEOI related reporting requirements, whether or not that actually leads to compliance failures by the Fund, or a risk of the Fund (or the Master Fund) or its investors being subject to U.S. withholding under FATCA or other liabilities under AEOI generally, the Fund reserves the right to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at its disposal to mitigate the consequences of the investor's failure to comply with the requirements described above, including compulsory redemption or withdrawal of the investor concerned; and
- (v) no investor affected by any such action or remedy shall have any claim against the Fund, the Master Fund, the Master Fund GP, the Administrator (or their agents, delegates, employees, directors, officers or affiliates) for any damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Fund in order to comply with AEOI.

Shareholders should consult their tax advisors as to the filing and information requirements that may be imposed on them in respect of their ownership of Shares of the Fund.

The European Union Savings Directive

On November 10, 2015, the European Council repealed the EU Council Directive 2003/48/EC of June 3, 2003 on taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments (the "EUSD") with effect from January 1, 2016 (January 1, 2017 in the case of Austria) in order to avoid overlap with the requirements of the CRS and other tax information reporting regimes. It is anticipated that the Cayman Islands, together with those other jurisdictions which have adopted EUSD-equivalent legislation, will also give consideration in due course to the repeal of their EUSD-equivalent legislation in the light of the introduction of the CRS regime.

Future Changes in Applicable Law

The foregoing description of U.S. and Cayman Islands income tax consequences of an investment in, and the operations of, the Fund are based on laws and Treasury Regulations that are subject to change through legislative, judicial or administrative action. There can be no assurance that the U.S. or Cayman Islands tax laws will not be changed adversely with respect to the Fund and its shareholders, or that the Fund's income tax status will not be successfully challenged by such authorities. In addition, future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Treasury Regulations, administrative rulings or decisions by the Service or judicial decisions may adversely affect the U.S. federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Fund, with or without advance notice, retroactively or prospectively.

Other Taxation

A portion of the Master Fund's investments may be made in non-U.S. jurisdictions. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation and imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Fund and political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Future Tax Legislation; Necessity of Obtaining Professional Advice

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Treasury Regulations, administrative rulings or decisions by the Service or judicial decisions may adversely affect the U.S. federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Fund, with or without advance notice, retroactively or prospectively. The foregoing analysis is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Fund and the Master Fund are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. There can be no assurance that the Service will agree with each position taken by the Fund or the Master Fund with respect to the tax treatment of Fund items and transactions. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on shareholders will vary with the particular circumstances of each shareholder and, in reviewing this Memorandum and any exhibits hereto, these matters should be considered.

It is the responsibility of all persons interested in purchasing Shares to inform themselves as to any tax consequences from their investing in the Fund and the Fund's operations or management, as well as any foreign exchange or other fiscal or legal restrictions, which are relevant to their particular circumstances in connection with the acquisition, holding or disposition of Shares. Accordingly, each prospective investor should therefore consult their own advisors regarding tax treatment by the jurisdiction applicable to them in relation to their holding of Shares. Shareholders should rely only upon advice received from their own tax advisors based upon their own individual circumstances and the laws applicable to them. In no event will the Fund, the Master Fund, the Master Fund GPs, the Investment Manager, the Principal, the Directors or their principals, affiliates, counsel or other professional advisers be liable to any shareholder for any tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, whether or not such consequences are as described above.

The foregoing is a summary of some of the important tax rules and considerations affecting the shareholders, the Fund, and the Fund's proposed operations. This summary does not purport to be a complete analysis of all relevant tax rules and considerations, which will vary with the particular circumstances of each shareholder, nor does it purport to be a complete listing of all potential tax risks inherent in purchasing or holding Shares. Each prospective investor in the Fund is urged to consult its own tax advisor in order to understand fully the U.S. federal, state, local and any non-U.S. tax consequences of such an investment in its particular situation.

ERISA AND OTHER REGULATORY CONSIDERATIONS

ERISA Considerations

General

Fiduciaries and other persons who are proposing to invest in Shares on behalf of retirement plans, IRAs and other employee benefit plans (“Plans”) covered by the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that an investment in the Fund plays in the Plan’s portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed to reasonably further the Plan’s purposes, the investment’s risk and return factors, the portfolio’s composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the Plan, the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the Plan’s objectives, the limited right of shareholders to redeem all or any part of their Shares or to transfer their Shares and whether investment in the Fund constitutes a direct or indirect transaction with a party in interest (under ERISA) or a disqualified person (under the Code).

Plan Asset Regulations and Benefit Plan Investors

The United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) has adopted regulations that treat the assets of certain pooled investment vehicles, such as the Fund, as “plan assets” for purposes of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code (“Plan Assets”). Section 3(42) of ERISA defines the term “Plan Assets” to mean plan assets as defined by such regulations as the DOL may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of an entity shall not be treated as Plan Assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of an equity interest in the entity, less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by “Benefit Plan Investors” (the “significant participation test”). For purposes of this determination, the value of any equity interest held by a person (other than such a Benefit Plan Investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or any person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, or any affiliate of such a person, shall be disregarded. An entity shall be considered to hold Plan Assets only to the extent of the percentage of the equity interest held by Benefit Plan Investors. The term “Benefit Plan Investors” means any employee benefit plan subject to part 4 of subtitle B of Title I of ERISA (i.e., plans subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA), any plan to which the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code apply (e.g., IRAs), and any entity whose underlying assets include Plan Assets by reason of a plan’s investment in such entity (a “Plan Asset Entity”).

In order to prevent the assets of the Master Fund from being considered Plan Assets under ERISA, it is the intention of the Master Fund to monitor the investments in the Master Fund and prohibit the acquisition, withdrawal or transfer of any limited partner interests of the Master Fund by any investor, including a Benefit Plan Investor, unless, after giving effect to such an acquisition, withdrawal or transfer, the total proportion of limited partner interests of each class of the Master Fund owned by Benefit Plan Investors would be less than 25% of the aggregate value of that class of limited partner interests (determined, as described above, by excluding certain limited partner interests held by the Master Fund GP, other fiduciaries and affiliates).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in order to limit equity participation in any class of limited partner interests of the Master Fund by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25%, the Fund may require the compulsory redemption of Shares. Each shareholder that is an insurance company acting on behalf of its general account or a Plan Asset Entity will be required to represent and warrant as of the date it acquires Shares the maximum percentage of such general account or Plan Asset Entity (as reasonably determined by such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity) that will constitute Plan Assets (the “Maximum Percentage”) so such percentage can be calculated in determining the percentage of Plan Assets invested in the Master Fund. Further, each such insurance company and Plan Asset Entity will be required to covenant that if, after its initial acquisition of Shares, the Maximum Percentage is exceeded at any time, then such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity shall immediately notify the Fund of that occurrence and shall, if and as directed by the Fund, in a manner consistent with the restrictions on transfer set forth herein, redeem or dispose of some or all of the Shares held in its general account or Plan Asset Entity.

It is anticipated that investment in the Fund by benefit plan investors may be “significant” for purposes of the regulations. In such event, the underlying assets of the Fund would be deemed to constitute “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA. As a general rule, if the assets of the Fund were regarded as “plan assets” of a benefit plan investor, the Investment Manager would be deemed a fiduciary with respect to each Plan investing in the Fund. However, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and given the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each benefit plan investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s subscription agreement, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Master Fund, neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund would be exercising any discretionary authority or control with respect to the Fund. Accordingly, the Investment Manager believes that neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund will act as a fiduciary (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA) with respect to the assets of the Fund or any benefit plan investor. Rather, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and given the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each benefit plan investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s subscription agreement, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Master Fund, the fiduciary of each such benefit plan investor has retained the fiduciary authority and responsibility with respect to the investor’s initial and continuing investment in the Fund as though the benefit plan investor is investing directly in the Master Fund.

Representation by Plans

The fiduciaries of each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that they have been informed of and understand the Fund’s investment objectives, policies and strategies and that the decision to invest Plan Assets in the Fund is consistent with the provisions of ERISA and/or the Code that require diversification of Plan Assets and impose other fiduciary responsibilities. By its purchase, each investor will be deemed to have represented that either (a) it is not a Plan that is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code, (b) it is not an entity whose assets include Plan Assets or (c) its investment in the Fund will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code.

In addition, each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that, in connection with its decision to invest in the Fund, it is and will remain represented by a party independent of the Master Fund GP, the Investment Manager and each of their affiliates and employees and such party (A) is described in 29 CFR §2510.3-21(c)(1)(i); (B) is capable of evaluating investment risks independently, both in general and with regard to particular transactions and investment strategies; (C) acknowledges that it has been informed that none of the Master Fund GP, the Investment Manager or any of their affiliates or employees is undertaking to provide impartial investment advice, or to give advice in a fiduciary capacity, in connection with the Plan’s investment in the Fund; and (D) is acting as a fiduciary under ERISA with respect to the Plan’s investment in the Fund and is responsible for exercising independent judgment in evaluating such investment. If a Plan cannot make the representations set forth in the preceding sentence, it must contact the Investment Manager and its subscription will not be accepted unless specifically agreed to by the Investment Manager.

Ineligible Purchasers

Limited partner interests may not be purchased with Plan Assets if the Investment Manager, any selling agent, finder, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective employees: (a) has investment discretion with respect to the investment of such Plan Assets; (b) has authority or responsibility to give or regularly gives investment advice with respect to such Plan Assets, for a fee, and pursuant to an agreement or understanding that such advice will serve as a primary basis for investment decisions with respect to such Plan Assets and that such advice will be based on the particular investment needs of the Plan; or (c) is an employer maintaining or contributing to such Plan. A party that is described in clause (a) or (b) of the preceding sentence is a fiduciary under ERISA and the Code with respect to the Plan, and any such purchase might result in a “prohibited transaction” under ERISA and the Code.

Plans’ Reporting Obligations

The information contained herein and in the other documentation provided to investors in connection with an investment in the Fund is intended to satisfy the alternative reporting option for “eligible indirect compensation” on Schedule C of the Form 5500, in addition to the other purposes for which such documents were created.

Whether or not the underlying assets of the Fund are deemed Plan Assets, an investment in the Fund by a Plan is subject to ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, Plan fiduciaries should consult their own counsel as to the consequences under ERISA and the Code of an investment in the Fund. Note that similar laws governing the investment and management of the assets of governmental or non-U.S. plans may contain fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements similar to those under ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, fiduciaries of such governmental or non-U.S. plans, in consultation with their counsel, should consider the impact of their respective laws and regulations on an investment in the Fund.

Other Regulatory Matters

Securities Act of 1933

Shares will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, any state “blue sky” laws or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction. Shares may be offered privately (i) outside the United States of America, its territories or possessions or areas subject to its jurisdiction (the “United States”), or to or for the benefit of an investor that is not a United States Person, only in accordance with relevant laws of the jurisdiction where the offer is made or (ii) within the United States or to a United States Person only in a transaction that does not require the registration of the Shares or the Fund under applicable U.S. federal or state securities laws.

Investment Company Act of 1940

The Fund is exempt from the provisions of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, pursuant to the exemption contained in Section 3(c)(7) thereunder.

Investment Adviser Registration

The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

Commodity Exchange Act

Neither the Master Fund GP nor the Investment Manager is required to register as a commodity pool operator (“CPO”) or commodity trading advisor under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act and each has filed a notice of claim effectuating exemption. As such, the Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager will operate the Fund and the Master Fund pursuant to such exemption. Unlike a registered CPO, the Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager are not required to deliver a disclosure document and a certified annual report to participants in the Fund. Among other things, the exemption requires the Master Fund GP and the Investment Manager to file a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. The Investment Manager qualifies for an exemption from registration with the CFTC as a commodity trading adviser pursuant to CFTC Rule 4.14(a)(8).

Cayman Islands Mutual Fund Law

The Fund and the Master Fund are regulated under the Mutual Funds Law (2015 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (“Mutual Funds Law”). The Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (the “Authority”) has supervisory and enforcement powers to ensure compliance with the Mutual Funds Law. Regulation under the Mutual Funds Law entails the filing of prescribed details and audited accounts annually with the Authority. As a regulated mutual fund, the Authority may at any time instruct the Fund or the Master Fund to have its or their accounts audited and to submit them to the Authority within such time as the Authority specifies. Failure to comply with these requests by the Authority may result in substantial fines on the part of the directors of the Fund or the Master Fund, as applicable, and may result in the Authority applying to the court to have the Fund or the Master Fund wound up.

Neither the Fund nor the Master Fund are, however, subject to supervision in respect of their investment activities or the constitution of the Master Fund’s portfolio by the Authority or any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands, although the Authority does have power to investigate the activities of the Fund and the Master Fund in certain circumstances. Neither the Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented upon or approved the terms or merits of this document. There is no investment compensation scheme available to investors in the Cayman Islands.

The Authority may take certain actions if it is satisfied that a regulated mutual fund is or is likely to become unable to meet its obligations as they fall due or is carrying on or is attempting to carry on business or is winding up its business voluntarily in a manner that is prejudicial to its investors or creditors. The powers of the Authority include the power to require the substitution of the directors of the Fund or the Master Fund, to appoint a person to advise the Fund or the Master Fund on the proper conduct of its affairs or to appoint a person to assume control of the affairs of the Fund or the Master Fund, as the case may be. There are other remedies available to the Authority including the ability to apply to court for approval of other actions.

Anti-Money Laundering Regulations

Cayman Islands

In order to comply with legislation or regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering the Fund is required to adopt and maintain anti-money laundering procedures, and may require subscribers to provide evidence to verify their identity and source of funds. Where permitted, and subject to certain conditions, the Fund may also delegate the maintenance of its anti-money laundering procedures (including the acquisition of due diligence information) to a suitable person.

The Fund, and the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, reserve the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a shareholder (i.e. a subscriber or a transferee) and the identity of their beneficial owners/controllers (where applicable). Where the circumstances permit, the Fund, or the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, may be satisfied that full due diligence may not be required at subscription where an exemption applies under the Anti-Money Laundering Regulations, 2017 of the Cayman Islands, as amended and revised from time to time or any other applicable law. However, detailed verification information may be required prior to the payment of any proceeds from or any transfer of an interest in Shares. Depending on the circumstances of each application, a detailed verification of identity might not be required where:

- (a) the subscriber makes the payment for their investment from an account held in the subscriber's name at a recognized financial institution and redemptions/dividends are repaid directly to the subscriber; or
- (b) the subscriber is regulated by a recognized regulatory authority or listed on a recognized stock exchange (or is a subsidiary of either) and is based or incorporated in, or formed under the law of, a recognized jurisdiction; or
- (c) the application is made through an intermediary which is regulated by a recognized regulatory authority and is based in or incorporated in, or formed under the law of a recognized jurisdiction and an assurance is provided in relation to the procedures undertaken on the underlying investors.

For the purposes of these exceptions, recognition of a financial institution, regulatory authority, stock exchange or jurisdiction will be determined in accordance with the Money Laundering Regulations by reference to those jurisdictions recognized by the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority as having equivalent anti-money laundering regulations to the Cayman Islands.

In the event of delay or failure on the part of the subscriber in producing any information required for verification purposes, the Fund, or the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, may refuse to accept the application, in which case any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which they were originally debited.

The Fund, and the Administrator on the Fund's behalf, also reserve the right to refuse to make any redemption or dividend payment to a shareholder if the Directors or the Administrator suspect or are advised that the payment of redemption or dividend proceeds to such shareholder may be non-compliant with applicable laws or regulations, or if such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund or the Administrator with any applicable laws or regulations.

If any person resident in the Cayman Islands knows or suspects or has reasonable grounds for knowing or suspecting that another person is engaged in criminal conduct or is involved with terrorism or terrorist property and the information for that knowledge or suspicion came to their attention in the course of business in the regulated sector, or other trade, profession, business or employment, the person will be required to report such knowledge or suspicion to (i) the Financial Reporting Authority of the Cayman Islands, pursuant to the Proceeds of Crime Law, 2016 Revision of the Cayman Islands if the disclosure relates to criminal conduct or money laundering, or (ii) a police officer of the rank of constable or higher, or the Financial Reporting Authority, pursuant to the Terrorism Law (2015 Revision) of the Cayman Islands, if the disclosure relates to involvement with terrorism or terrorist financing and property. Such a report shall not be treated as a breach of confidence or of any restriction upon the disclosure of information imposed by any enactment or otherwise.

As a regulated mutual fund in the Cayman Islands, the Master Fund is also subject to the same legislation and regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering that are applicable to the Fund. The Master Fund will discharge its obligations by implementing procedures substantially similar to the Fund.

Requests for Information

The Fund and the Master Fund, or any of its or their directors or agents domiciled in the Cayman Islands, may be compelled to provide information, subject to a request for information made by a regulatory or governmental authority or agency under applicable law; e.g. by the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority, either for itself or for a recognized overseas regulatory authority, under the Monetary Authority Law (2016 Revision), or by the Tax Information Authority, under the Tax Information Authority Law (2017 Revision) or Reporting of Savings Income information (European Union) Law (2014 Revision) and associated regulations, agreements, arrangements and memoranda of understanding. Disclosure of confidential information under such laws shall not be regarded as a breach of any duty of confidentiality and, in certain circumstances, the Fund, the Master Fund and any of its or their directors or agents, may be prohibited from disclosing that the request has been made.

United States

All subscriptions for Shares will be subject to applicable anti-money laundering regulations. Investors will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56).

As part of the Fund's responsibility to comply with regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering, the Fund or its delegate may require verification of identity from all prospective investors. Depending on the circumstances of each subscription, it may not be necessary to obtain full documentary evidence of identity.

The Fund reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a prospective investor. The Fund also reserves the right to request such identification evidence in respect of a transferee of Shares. In the event of delay or failure by the prospective investor or transferee to produce any information required for verification purposes, the Fund may refuse to accept the application or (as the case may be) to register the relevant transfer and (in the case of a subscription of Shares) any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which the monies were originally debited.

The Fund also reserves the right to refuse to make any redemption payment or distribution to a shareholder, if the Fund suspects or is advised that the payment of any redemption or distribution moneys to such shareholder might result in a breach or violation of any applicable anti-money laundering or other laws or regulations by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund and the Investment Manager with any such laws or regulations in any relevant jurisdiction.

Beneficial Ownership Regime

The Fund is regulated as a mutual fund under the Mutual Funds Law and, accordingly, does not fall within the scope of the primary obligations under Part XVIIA of the Companies Law (the “Beneficial Ownership Regime”). The Fund is therefore not required to maintain a beneficial ownership register. The Fund may, however, be required from time to time to provide, on request, certain particulars to other Cayman Islands entities which are within the scope of the Beneficial Ownership Regime and which are therefore required to maintain beneficial ownership registers under the Beneficial Ownership Regime. It is anticipated that such particulars will generally be limited to the identity and certain related particulars of (i) any person holding (or controlling through a joint arrangement) a majority of the voting rights in respect of the Fund; (ii) any person who is a member of the Fund and who has the right to appoint and remove a majority of the board of directors of the Fund; and (iii) any person who has the right to exercise, or actually exercises, dominant direct influence or control over the Fund.

Legal Implications of Investment in the Fund

The Fund is incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands and has its registered office in the Cayman Islands. In summary, the main Cayman Islands legal implications of investing in the Fund are as follows:

- (a) by submitting the Subscription Documents to the Administrator, the prospective investor makes an offer to subscribe for the Shares which, once accepted by the Fund, has the effect of a binding contract. The terms of such contract are governed by the Subscription Documents (read together with the Memorandum);
- (b) upon the issue of the Shares, such prospective investor becomes a shareholder of the Fund, and the Articles of Association of the Fund take effect as a contract between the shareholders and the Fund by operation of law;
- (c) the Articles of Association may only be amended by way of a special resolution in accordance with the Cayman Islands Companies Law (as amended);
- (d) subject to any separate contractual arrangements agreed to by a shareholder with the Fund and the indemnity provisions of the Subscription Documents, a shareholder’s liability to the Fund will generally be limited to the amount, if any, unpaid on the Shares held by such shareholder;
- (e) the Articles of Association are governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Cayman Islands. The Subscription Documents are expressed to be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Cayman Islands;
- (f) the rights and restrictions that apply to a shareholder’s Shares may be modified and/or additional terms agreed by way of side letters (subject to such terms being consistent with the Articles of Association). As a matter of Cayman Islands law, side letters may not contravene the terms of the Articles of Association or Cayman Islands law generally; and

- (g) although there is no statutory enforcement in the Cayman Islands of judgments obtained in a foreign jurisdiction (other than judgments rendered by an Australian superior court which may be enforced under the Cayman Islands Foreign Judgments Reciprocal Enforcement Law (1996 Revision)), a judgment obtained in such jurisdiction will be recognized and enforced in the courts of the Cayman Islands at common law, without any re-examination of the merits of the underlying dispute, by an action commenced on the foreign judgment debt in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands, provided such judgment satisfies certain criteria.

Appendix A

Definition of “United States Person”

For purposes of the applicable prohibitions against ownership and transfer of Shares of the Fund, the term “United States Person” and “U.S. Person” means:

- (1) a resident or citizen of the United States;
- (2) a partnership or corporation organized under the laws of the United States;
- (3) any entity not organized under the laws of the United States:
 - (a) that has its principal office or place of business in the United States; or
 - (b)
 - (i) in which citizens or residents of or entities organized under the laws of or existing in the United States directly or indirectly hold in the aggregate 50% or more of the beneficial interests; and
 - (ii) that will own directly or indirectly, either alone or together with affiliated persons, an aggregate of more than 9.9% of the Fund’s outstanding Shares; or
 - (c)
 - (i) that is organized principally for passive investment (such as an investment company, a commodity pool or other similar vehicle); and
 - (ii)
 - (A) in which the amount of units of participation held by United States Persons (other than “qualified eligible participants” as defined in Rule 4.7(a)(2) under the United States Commodity Exchange Act) represents in the aggregate 10% or more of the beneficial interest in the entity;
 - (B) that was formed for the purpose of facilitating investment by United States Persons in the Fund, or in any other commodity pool with respect to which the operator is exempt from certain requirements of Part 4 of the regulations promulgated by the United States Commodity Futures Trading Commission by virtue of its participants being non-United States Persons; or
 - (C) that was formed by United States Persons principally for the purpose of investing in securities not registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended, unless it is formed and owned by “accredited investors” (as defined in Rule 501(a) under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended) who are not natural persons, estates or trusts;
- (4) an estate or trust:
 - (a) of which an executor, administrator or trustee is a United States Person, unless:
 - (i) an executor, administrator or trustee who is not a United States Person has sole or shared investment discretion with respect to the assets of the estate or trust; and
 - (ii)
 - (A) in the case of an estate, it is governed by non-U.S. law; or

- (B) in the case of a trust, no beneficiary (and no settlor if the trust is revocable) is a United States Person; or
- (b) the income of which is subject to United States income tax regardless of source;
- (5) any agency or branch of a foreign entity located in the United States;
- (6) any non-discretionary account or similar account (other than an estate or trust) held for the benefit or account of one or more United States Persons; and
- (7) any discretionary account or similar account (other than an estate or trust) held by a dealer or other fiduciary organized, incorporated, or (if an individual) resident in the United States, unless it is held by a dealer or other professional fiduciary exclusively for the benefit or account of one or more non-United States Persons.

For purposes of the foregoing, the term “United States” or “U.S.” means the United States of America, its territories and possessions, any state of the United States, and the District of Columbia. Persons requiring details regarding other terms used in the foregoing definition (such as “qualified eligible participant” and “accredited investor”) should contact the Fund or the Administrator.

NOTICE

This Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (this “Memorandum”) is being furnished on a confidential basis solely to selected qualified investors considering the purchase of limited partner interests (the “Interests”) in Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P. (the “Fund”). This Memorandum is not to be reproduced or distributed to others, at any time, without the prior written consent of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC (the “General Partner”). Each recipient agrees to keep confidential all information contained herein not already in the public domain and will use this Memorandum for the sole purpose of evaluating a possible investment in the Fund. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, each investor (and each employee, representative, or other agent of the investor) may disclose to any and all persons, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of an investment in the Fund and all materials of any kind (including opinions or other tax analyses) that are provided to the investor relating to such tax treatment and tax structure. Acceptance of this Memorandum by prospective investors constitutes an agreement to be bound by the foregoing terms.

Prospective investors should not construe the contents of this Memorandum as legal, tax or financial advice. Each prospective investor should consult its own professional advisors as to the legal, financial, tax, ERISA (as defined herein) or other matters relevant to the suitability of an investment in the Fund for such investor.

In making an investment decision, investors must rely on their own examination of the Fund and the terms of the offering contemplated by this Memorandum. The Interests have not been recommended by any U.S. federal or state, or any non-U.S., securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of this Memorandum. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

The Interests have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or the securities laws of any of the states of the United States. The offering and any potential sale contemplated by this Memorandum will be made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act for offers and sales of securities which do not involve any public offering and analogous exemptions under state securities laws. There will be no public market for the Interests, and there is no obligation on the part of any person to register the Interests under the Securities Act or any state securities laws.

The Fund has not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Investment Company Act”), since Interests will only be sold to persons who are “qualified purchasers,” as defined in the Investment Company Act.

Each subscriber for an Interest will be required to certify that it is an “accredited investor” as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act and a “qualified purchaser,” as defined in the Investment Company Act.

Pursuant to an exemption from the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the “CFTC”), Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., the investment manager to the Fund (the “Investment Manager”), is not registered with the CFTC as a commodity pool operator (“CPO”) and therefore, unlike a registered CPO, is not required to deliver a disclosure document or a certified annual report to participants in this pool. Among other things, the exemption requires the filing of a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. It is also required that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions does not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Fund's commodity interest positions does not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Fund's portfolio and further that all pool participants are required to be accredited investors or certain other qualified investors. The Investment Manager qualifies for an exemption from registration as a commodity trading advisor pursuant to CFTC Rule 4.14(a)(8).

Interests are suitable only for sophisticated investors who do not require immediate liquidity for their investments, for whom an investment in the Fund does not constitute a complete investment program and who fully understand and are willing to assume the risks involved in the Fund's investment program. The Fund's investment practices, by their nature, may be considered to involve a substantial degree of risk. See "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest." No assurance can be given that the Fund's investment objectives will be achieved or that investors will receive a return of their capital.

The Interests are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale and may not be transferred or resold except as permitted under the Securities Act and any applicable state or other securities laws, pursuant to registration or an exemption therefrom. The transferability of the Interests will be further restricted by the terms of the limited partnership agreement of the Fund, as amended (the "Partnership Agreement"). Investors should be aware that they will be required to bear the financial risks of an investment in the Interests for an extended period of time.

This Memorandum does not constitute an offer to sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy, any Interests in any state or other jurisdiction where, or to or from any person to or from whom, such offer or solicitation is unlawful or not authorized.

No person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representation concerning the Fund or the offering of the Interests other than the information contained in this Memorandum and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorized by the Fund or the General Partner.

The Interests are offered subject to the right of the General Partner to reject any subscription in whole or in part.

This Memorandum is intended solely for the use of the person to whom it has been delivered by the General Partner or its authorized representative for the purpose of evaluating a possible investment by the recipient in the Interests described herein, and is not to be reproduced or distributed to any other persons (other than professional advisors of the prospective investor receiving this Memorandum from the General Partner or its authorized representative).

This Memorandum does not purport to be, and should not be construed as, a complete description of the Partnership Agreement or the investment management agreement by and among the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Master Fund, the Offshore Fund (each as defined below) and the Fund (the "Investment Management Agreement"). Each prospective investor in the Fund is encouraged to review the Partnership Agreement carefully, in addition to consulting appropriate legal and tax advisors. To the extent of any inconsistency between this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement, the terms of the Partnership Agreement shall control.

The delivery of this Memorandum does not, under any circumstances, create any implication that there has been no change in the circumstances affecting the Fund or Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P. (the “Master Fund”) since the date hereof. An amended or updated Memorandum will be provided to reflect any material changes to the information contained herein.

Certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes “forward-looking statements,” which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology such as “may,” “will,” “should,” “expect,” “anticipate,” “project,” “estimate,” “intend,” or “believe” or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those described in “Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest,” actual events or results or the actual performance of the Fund may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

All references herein to “$” refer to U.S. dollars. Except as the context otherwise requires, references to the term “Fund” in this Memorandum shall be deemed to include the Master Fund.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Fund”), seeks to maximize the total return of its assets through capital appreciation by investing all of its investable assets in Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Master Fund”), which intends to hold primarily a portfolio of investments in securities of Latin American corporate and sovereign issuers as well as non-Latin American issuers that derive a portion of their revenues from business activities in Latin America, in each case with a primary focus on Argentina.

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”), acts as general partner of the Fund and the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Investment Manager” and, together with its affiliates, shareholders, directors, members, partners, officers and employees, the “Advisory Parties”), serves as investment manager to the Fund, the Offshore Fund (as defined below) and the Master Fund and manages the Master Fund’s investment program. Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is ultimately controlled by James D. Dondero (the “Principal”).

In order to facilitate investments by non-U.S. and certain U.S. tax-exempt investors, the Investment Manager and its affiliates recently assumed the management of an existing investment fund, Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Offshore Fund” and, together with the Fund, the “Feeder Funds”). The Feeder Funds will place all of their investable assets in, and conduct all of their investment and trading activities in parallel through, the Master Fund. References in this Memorandum to the Fund shall include the Master Fund, unless otherwise specified or the context so requires.

The Fund (but not the Master Fund) is seeking subscriptions from investors who qualify as both “accredited investors” and “qualified purchasers” (each as defined in the Fund’s subscription materials). The minimum initial investment is $500,000, and thereafter, the minimum subsequent investment is $500,000, although, in each case, the Fund may accept investments in a lesser amount, but no less than $100,000 with respect to Series B Interests. The Fund generally accepts subscriptions on the first day of each calendar month. A subscriber admitted to the Fund as a limited partner (each, a “Limited Partner”) will receive, in exchange for its initial capital contribution and any subsequent capital contribution, a limited partner interest representing a proportionate share of the net assets of the Fund at that time.

The Fund intends to issue multiple series of limited partner interests (“Interests”) over time. Not all series of Interests will be available for subscription at the same time and the terms among the series of Interests will vary. The Fund is currently offering Series A Interests, Series B Interests and Series C Interests pursuant to this Memorandum.

For its services to the Master Fund, the Investment Manager is generally entitled to a management fee (the “Management Fee”), which is calculated monthly and paid quarterly in arrears at the Master Fund level. The Management Fee is calculated at an annual rate of (i) 1.75% of each Limited Partner’s capital account that is attributable to a Series A Interest, (ii) 1.25% of each Limited Partner’s capital account that is attributable to a Series B Interest, and (iii) 1.00% of each Limited Partner’s capital account that is attributable to a Series C Interest.

In addition, the Investment Manager, in its capacity as the special limited partner of the Master Fund (the “Special Limited Partner”), is entitled to a quarterly performance-based profits allocation (the “Performance Allocation”) at the end of each fiscal quarter. The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is effectively equal to (i) 20.0% of the amount by which the net asset value of each Series A Interest on the last day of a fiscal quarter exceeds the “high water mark” for such Series A Interest, if any, (ii) 17.5% of the amount by which the net asset value of each Series B Interest on the last day of a fiscal quarter exceeds the “high water mark” for such Series B Interest, if any, and (iii) 15.0% of the amount by which the net asset value of each Series C Interest on the last day of a fiscal quarter exceeds the “high water mark” for such Series C Interest, if any.

Subject to a one-year “soft lock-up” with an early withdrawal reduction attributable to Series B Interests only and a two-year “soft lock-up” with an early withdrawal reduction attributable to Series C Interests only, a Limited Partner is generally permitted to withdraw all or a portion of its Interest on 30 calendar days’ prior written notice on the last business day of each calendar month. Withdrawals may be subject to reserves for contingencies and suspension restrictions as discussed further in this Memorandum.

The Fund may agree with certain Limited Partners to a variation of the terms set forth in this Memorandum or establish additional series of Interests that have terms that differ from those described herein, including, without limitation, different management fees, performance allocations and withdrawal rights.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The investment objective of the Fund is to maximize the total return of its assets through capital appreciation by investing all of its investable assets in the Master Fund, which intends to hold primarily a portfolio of investments in securities of Latin American corporate and sovereign issuers as well as non-Latin American issuers that derive a portion of their revenues from business activities in Latin America, in each case with a primary focus on Argentina, and that the Investment Manager believes would provide profitable investment opportunities for the Master Fund. The Master Fund will invest in a single portfolio of assets and does not currently intend to have a separate portfolio of assets for each of its series, each of which will correspond to a series of limited partner interests in the Fund.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Master Fund is a multi-strategy investment fund and there is no limit on the investment strategies that may be utilized. The Investment Manager believes that focusing on a multi-strategy approach will enable the Master Fund to enhance results by compounding returns generated by each strategy and at the same time have the needed flexibility to adjust to potentially changing regulations and market conditions.

The Investment Manager will be focused on identifying assets that are mispriced against similar assets and/or against the Investment Manager's expectations for assets' fair values and market movements, special situations, such as mergers, financial restructurings, hostile takeovers, or leveraged buy-outs. There is no set allocation among these and any other strategies that the Investment Manager may use.

The Master Fund may hold long and short positions in a wide range of liquid or illiquid fixed income securities including, but not limited to, sovereign and private debt, distressed debt, secured and unsecured debt, structured debt, loans, asset-backed securities and collateralized debt obligations. Furthermore, the Master Fund may invest, both long and short, in a wide range of liquid or illiquid equity-related instruments including, but not limited to, equities, convertible bonds, options, equity-linked notes, preferred shares and warrants, whether or not listed or traded on one or more exchanges.

The Master Fund may hold any of these positions indirectly by entering into swaps, options, futures, forward contracts or similar derivative transactions.

The Master Fund may hold both U.S. dollar and non-U.S. dollar denominated securities.

The Master Fund may leverage its investment portfolio by up to 100% of the Master Fund's net asset value (calculated at the time of investment) by borrowing for investment purposes and by using leverage techniques and products. It is anticipated that by doing so the performance of the Master Fund will be enhanced. While the use of the leverage may improve the return on invested capital, leverage may also significantly increase the impact of adverse movement in the value of the Master Fund.

The Master Fund may also utilize hedging strategies in order to maximize returns and reduce the risk to principal or the volatility associated with its holdings. As part of these hedging strategies, the Master Fund may hedge any of its investments with long or short positions in any financial instrument, which the Investment Manager deems appropriate. The Master Fund may utilize U.S. and European securities for hedging purposes.

The Master Fund may invest through one or more subsidiaries established in an appropriate jurisdiction in order to take advantage of applicable tax treaties or increase the tax efficiency of the Master Fund's investments, or in such other circumstances as the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund, following consultation with the Investment Manager, deem appropriate, including compliance with local investment laws.

The Master Fund may maintain assets in cash or cash equivalent instruments, money market funds, repurchase agreements, or other cash management vehicles pending investment, for defensive purposes, to fund withdrawals requested by the limited partners of the Master Fund or otherwise at the discretion of the Investment Manager. The Master Fund may hold with no limitation U.S. and European AAA fixed income securities for defensive purposes.

INVESTMENT RESTRICTIONS

In deploying the investment strategy, the Master Fund will observe the following investment restrictions. The Master Fund will not at the time of investment:

1. Invest more than 50 percent of its gross assets in its net holdings of equities;
 2. Borrow more than 100 percent of its net assets;
 3. Invest more than 20 percent of its gross assets in a single equity position;
 4. Invest more than 20 percent of its gross assets in a single corporate issuer position;
 5. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single GDP-linked warrant position; and
 6. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single sovereign issuer security position;
- and
7. Invest more than 30 percent of its gross assets in a single provincial issuer.

If a percentage limitation on investment or use of assets set forth above is adhered to at the time a transaction is effected, later changes in percentage resulting from changing values will not be considered a violation.

In the event that the Investment Manager discovers that a violation of any of the Master Fund's investment limitations has occurred (the date of such discovery being the "Discovery Date"), the Investment Manager shall inform the limited partners of the Master Fund, including the Fund, who shall: (i) notify each of their limited partners or shareholders, as applicable, in writing within 30 business days after the Discovery Date of the nature of the violation, the steps taken, or to be taken, to remedy the violation and the reason the violation occurred and (ii) use reasonable commercial efforts to cause the Investment Manager to remedy such violation within 90 business days after the Discovery Date (the "Remedy Date"). If such violation has not been remedied on or before the Remedy Date, the limited partners of the Master Fund, including the Fund, shall: (i) notify each of their limited partners or shareholders, as applicable, in writing, 30 business days after the Remedy Date, of the steps taken to remedy the violation and the reason that the violation has not been remedied by the Remedy Date (the "Remedy Notice") and (ii) use reasonable commercial efforts to cause the Master Fund's portfolio to be examined by an independent auditor other than PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP and shall request that such independent auditor issue a report to the investors in each of the Master Fund's limited partners as to its concurrence or disagreement with the statements in the Remedy Notice. The Investment Manager shall pay for the costs of such audit and the costs of the Remedy Notice if the violation that was the subject of the Remedy Notice occurred as a result of the Investment Manager's willful misfeasance, bad faith or gross negligence. In addition, the failure to remedy the violation in a timely manner may give rise to special withdrawal rights. See “Summary of Terms – Withdrawals; Lock-Ups.”

DISTRIBUTION POLICY

The Fund’s objective is to maximize capital appreciation and accordingly it is not envisaged that any income or gains derived from the investments made by the Master Fund will be distributed by way of dividend. This does not preclude the General Partner from declaring a dividend at any time in the future if it considers it appropriate to do so. To the extent that a dividend may be declared, it will be paid in compliance with any applicable laws.

The investment objectives and strategies summarized herein represent the Investment Manager’s current intentions. Depending on conditions and trends in the securities markets and the economy in general, the Investment Manager may pursue any strategies, employ any investment techniques or purchase any type of security that it considers appropriate, whether or not described in this section, subject to any applicable law or regulation. The discussion herein includes and is based upon numerous assumptions and opinions of the Investment Manager concerning world financial markets and other matters, the accuracy of which cannot be assured. There can be no assurance that the investment strategy of the Master Fund will achieve the intended investment objective. The Master Fund’s investment program is speculative and involves a high degree of risk, including, without limitation, the risk of loss of the entire amount invested.

MANAGEMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

The General Partner and the Investment Manager

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”), acts as the general partner of the Fund and the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands.

Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Investment Manager”), serves as the investment manager of the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund and has responsibility for the Master Fund’s investment program.

Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is ultimately controlled by James D. Dondero (the “Principal”).

The Investment Management Agreement

The Investment Manager was appointed as the investment manager to the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund pursuant to an investment management agreement (the “Investment Management Agreement”). Under the Investment Management Agreement, the Investment Manager has full discretion to invest the assets of the Master Fund in pursuit of the investment objective and strategy described in this Memorandum. For its services, the Investment Manager is entitled to the Management Fee, as well as reimbursement for any Feeder Fund or Master Fund expenses incurred by the Investment Manager.

The Investment Management Agreement provides that, in the absence of gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud, each of the Investment Manager, its members, shareholders, partners, managers, directors, any person who controls the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing, and each of their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors and other legal representatives, will be indemnified by the Fund, the Offshore Fund and/or the Master Fund, to the extent permitted by law, against any loss or liability incurred by any of such persons in performing their duties under the Investment Management Agreement.

Services Agreement

The Investment Manager engaged Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company and a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Investment Manager (“Highland Latin America”), pursuant to a services agreement (the “Services Agreement”) to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager related to its management of the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund, including back- and middle-office services; credit analysis; investment vehicle management; valuation; execution and documentation; marketing; reporting; administrative services; and other ancillary services.

The Services Agreement provides that in the absence of bad faith, gross negligence, fraud or willful misconduct (as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction in a final non-appealable judgment), the Investment Manager will, to the extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless Highland Latin America, any of its affiliates, and any of their respective managers, members, principals, partners, directors, officers, shareholders, employees and agents against any and all claims, demands, liabilities, costs, expenses, damages, losses, suits, proceedings, judgments, assessments, actions and other liabilities incurred by such person in performing their duties under the Services Agreement. The Fund will not be liable for any consulting services provided by Highland Latin America or any consultants or service providers that Highland Latin America engages, and the Fund will not bear any costs or expenses related to the services provided by Highland Latin America.

Investment Personnel

The key investment professionals of the Investment Manager and Highland Latin America who will be responsible for the Master Fund's investments are described below:

James Dondero, CFA, CMA, President, Co-Founder. Mr. Dondero is Co-Founder and President of Highland Capital Management, L.P. and a Director of Highland Latin America GP, Ltd., the general partner of the Investment Manager. Mr. Dondero has over 30 years of experience in the credit and equity markets, focused largely on high-yield and distressed investing. Mr. Dondero is the Chairman and President of NexPoint Residential Trust, Inc. (NYSE:NYRT), Chairman of NexBank Capital, Inc., Cornerstone Healthcare Group Holding, Inc., and CCS Medical, Inc., and a board member of Jernigan Capital, Inc. (NYSE:JCAP), and MGM Holdings, Inc. He also serves on the Southern Methodist University Cox School of Business Executive Board. A dedicated philanthropist, Mr. Dondero actively supports initiatives in education, veterans affairs, and public policy. Prior to founding Highland in 1993, Mr. Dondero was involved in creating the GIC subsidiary of Protective Life, where as Chief Investment Officer he helped take the company from inception to over $2 billion between 1989 and 1993. Between 1985 and 1989, Mr. Dondero was a corporate bond analyst and then portfolio manager at American Express. Mr. Dondero began his career in 1984 as an analyst in the JP Morgan training program. Mr. Dondero graduated from the University of Virginia where he earned highest honors (Beta Gamma Sigma, Beta Alpha Psi) from the McIntire School of Commerce with dual majors in accounting and finance. He has received certification as Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and Certified Managerial Accountant (CMA) and has earned the right to use the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation.

Gustavo Prilick. Mr. Prilick is a Managing Partner at Highland Capital Brasil and a registered asset manager in Brazil, and is a Director of Highland Latin America GP, Ltd., the general partner of the Investment Manager. He has extensively worked in several of Highland Capital Brasil's portfolio companies in the US mainly as CEO. Prior to his involvement with Highland Capital Brasil, he was a Partner at South America Fund, a private equity firm, mainly focused on providing financial services to export companies in Argentina and Uruguay. Prior to South America Fund, he was the Chief Operating Officer of Millicom International Cellular for 7 years, serving Latin America, Asia, Africa and ten operations in Russia. Prior to Millicom, he served as the Director of International Business for Oracle Corporation where he was responsible for the establishment of most of Oracle's International Subsidiaries on several continents, including the Brazilian operation. Later he became President of Oracle South America with oversight of several countries in South America. He also served as CEO of Nacion Factoring, a subsidiary of Banco Nacion in Argentina building its operations to reach one of the leading positions in the country. Mr. Prilick received an MBA from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business and a degree in Electrical Engineering from Universidad de Buenos Aires. He has also held teaching positions as a visiting professor in several leading Business Schools in Argentina.

Highland Latin America will enter into relationships and agreements with Argentine relevant parties and/or individuals to obtain supporting services for the management of the Fund, the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund, and will enter into consulting agreements with Andrés Pitchón, Julieta Prieto and Javier Casabal pursuant to which these consultants will provide investment and related services to the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund. Mr. Pitchón will provide portfolio management services to the Master Fund under the overall supervision of the Investment Manager.

Andrés Pitchón. Mr. Pitchón, through a consulting arrangement with Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., provides portfolio management services to the Master Fund. Mr. Pitchón began his career in 1993 as Head of Equity Research for Argentina for MBA-Salomon Brothers and later he also became responsible for Fixed income. As Head of the Research Department, his work was recognized by international publications such as Institutional Investor, Latin Finance, The Reuters Survey and The Greenwich Survey. Since 1997 and 1999, he has managed the Offshore Fund's equity and fixed income mutual funds. Since 2003, Mr. Pitchón had been Senior Portfolio Manager of the Offshore Fund's hedge funds. Mr. Pitchón received a BA degree in IT, focused on Business Administration from the University of Belgrano (1989), together with an academic merit medal for highest GPA in the School of Technology. Mr. Pitchón also received a Master's degree in Business Administration from Anderson Graduate School of Business at UCLA in 1992.

The Administrator

The Master Fund has entered into an Administration Agreement (the “Administration Agreement”) with MUFG Fund Services (Cayman) Limited (the “Administrator”) pursuant to which the Administrator performs certain administrative and accounting services for the Feeder Funds and the Master Fund, subject to the oversight and control of the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund.

Pursuant to the Administration Agreement, the Administrator is responsible, under the overall supervision of the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund, for certain matters pertaining to the administration for the Fund, including: (i) maintaining the accounts of the Fund and the Master Fund, (ii) calculating the Master Fund's net asset value, (iii) maintaining the principal corporate records of the Fund and the Master Fund, (iv) communicating with Limited Partners, (v) accepting the subscriptions of new Limited Partners, (vi) effecting withdrawals of Interests, (vii) maintaining the register of sub-fund investments, (viii) executing sub-fund subscriptions and withdrawals as instructed by the Fund, and (ix) ensuring compliance with applicable law and regulation (including anti-money laundering regulations). For its services, the Administrator receives a fee from the Master Fund.

The Administration Agreement may be terminated by the Administrator or the Master Fund upon ninety (90) days' written notice or, under certain circumstances, shorter notice. In such event, the Master Fund may enter into a new agreement with a new administrator on behalf of the Master Fund and the Feeder Funds, in its discretion and on such terms as it deems advisable, without prior notice to, or approval of, investors.

Under the Administration Agreement, the Master Fund agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Administrator and its affiliated persons and delegates, as well as their respective officers, directors, employees and agents for, and to defend and hold each such person harmless from, any and all taxes, claims, demands, actions, suits, judgments, liabilities, losses, damages, costs, charges, counsel fees (on a solicitor and his own client basis), fines, assessments, amounts paid in settlement and expenses imposed on, incurred by, or asserted against the person which may arise out of or in connection with the Administration Agreement. The Administrator or any other indemnified person will not be indemnified for their own gross negligence, wilful default or fraud.

The Administrator is not responsible for valuing the Master Fund's investments, monitoring any investment restrictions of the Master Fund, determining compliance by the Master Fund with its investment restrictions, the Master Fund's trading activities, the management or performance of the Master Fund or the accuracy or adequacy of this Memorandum. In addition, the Administrator does not assume any liability to any person or entity, including Limited Partners, except as specifically provided in the Administration Agreement. The Administrator may delegate certain services and share information concerning the Fund and its Limited Partners with its various non-United States affiliates subject to applicable confidentiality provisions.

The Administrator has no responsibility with respect to trading activities, the Investment Manager, the management or performance of the Master Fund, or the accuracy or adequacy of this Memorandum.

SUMMARY OF TERMS

The following Summary of Terms summarizes the principal terms governing an investment in the Fund, and is subject, and qualified in its entirety by reference, to the Partnership Agreement, the exempted limited partnership agreement of the Master Fund, as amended (the “Master Fund Partnership Agreement”), and the Fund’s subscription documents (the “Subscription Documents”). This summary is intended to be brief and does not purport to provide a comprehensive explanation of the Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Subscription Documents. Accordingly, statements made in this Memorandum are subject to the detailed provisions of those agreements. Prospective investors are urged to review those agreements in their entirety prior to determining whether to invest in the Fund.

The Fund

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the “Fund”), primarily seeks to maximize the total return of its assets through capital appreciation by investing all of its investable assets in Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership (the “Master Fund”), which intends to hold primarily a portfolio of investments in securities of Latin American corporate and sovereign issuers as well as non-Latin American issuers that derive a portion of their revenues from business activities in Latin America, in each case with a primary focus on Argentina.

General Partner

Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the “General Partner”), acts as the general partner of the Fund and the Master Fund and is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. James D. Dondero (the “Principal”) ultimately controls the General Partner.

Investment Manager

Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership controlled by the Principal (the “Investment Manager”), serves as investment manager to the Feeder Funds (as defined below) and the Master Fund and has responsibility for the Master Fund’s investments.

Master-Feeder Structure

In order to facilitate investments by non-U.S. and certain U.S. tax-exempt investors, the Investment Manager and its affiliates recently assumed the management of an existing investment fund, Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, Ltd., a Cayman Islands exempted company (the “Offshore Fund” and, together with the Fund, the “Feeder Funds”). The Feeder Funds will place all of their investable assets in, and conduct all of their investment and trading activities in parallel through, the Master Fund. Accordingly, references herein to the investment activity of the Fund should be construed to refer to the Fund’s investment activities through the Master Fund. The Feeder Funds share all items of profit, loss, income and expense of the Master Fund on a pro rata basis in accordance with their respective capital account balances in the Master Fund. Except as the context otherwise requires, the term “Fund” also includes the Master Fund.

The Investment Manager or an affiliate may also sponsor one or more additional investment funds or accounts.

Eligible Investors

Limited partner interests (“Interests”) may be purchased only by investors who qualify as both “accredited investors” and “qualified purchasers,” each as defined in the Fund’s Subscription Documents. Subscribers will be required to complete the Fund’s Subscription Documents consisting of the subscription agreement and the subscriber information form to determine their eligibility. The General Partner reserves the right to reject any investor for any reason or for no reason in its sole discretion.

An investment in the Fund is suitable only for persons that have adequate means of providing for their current needs and personal contingencies and have no need for liquidity in their investments. An investment in the Fund should not be made by any person that (a) cannot afford a total loss of its principal, or (b) has not carefully read or does not understand this Memorandum, including the portions concerning the risks and the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund.

Series of Interests

The Fund intends to issue multiple series of Interests over time. Not all series of Interests will be available for subscription at the same time and the terms among the series of Interests will vary. Each series will have separate rights and preferences, including, without limitation, with respect to fees and withdrawal rights. The Fund is currently offering Series A Interests, Series B Interests and Series C Interests (each, a “Series”).

New series of Interests may be established by the General Partner without notice to or approval of the Limited Partners (defined below). References herein to “Interests” or “Limited Partners” shall include all Series and Limited Partners unless otherwise specified or context so requires.

Subscriptions

Subscriptions for Interests may be accepted as of the first day of each calendar month and/or such other days as the General Partner may determine in its discretion from time to time, generally subject to the receipt of cleared funds no later than the Business Day immediately preceding the acceptance date. The initial minimum investment is $500,000, and thereafter, a Limited Partner may make additional investments, with the consent of the General Partner, in increments of not less than $500,000; provided that, in each case, the Fund may accept investments in a lesser amount, but no less than $100,000 with respect to Series B Interests.

“Business Day” is defined as any day on which banks in the Cayman Islands, Buenos Aires and New York City are authorized to open for business or such other days as the General Partner may determine generally, or in any particular case.

A subscriber admitted to the Fund (a “Limited Partner”) receives, in exchange for its initial capital contribution and any subsequent capital contribution, an Interest representing a proportionate share of the net assets of the Fund at that time.

All subscribers will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56) and other applicable anti-money laundering regulations as further described in this Memorandum and the Subscription Documents.

Placement Agents

There will be no sales charge payable by or to the Fund in connection with the offering of Interests. However, the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may enter into arrangements with placement agents (which may include its affiliates) to solicit investors in the Fund, and such arrangements may provide for the compensation of such placement agents for their services at the General Partner’s and/or the Investment Manager’s expense or such placement agents may be paid a portion of the Management Fee. For the avoidance of doubt, the Fund will not bear any placement agent fees.

Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent’s or distributor’s participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions.

Each placement agent shall comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Interests.

Capital Accounts

The Fund will maintain a book capital account (a “Capital Account”), which may be divided into capital sub-accounts, for the General Partner and each Limited Partner (each, a “Partner” and together, the “Partners”) to reflect contributions, withdrawals, distributions and allocations of net profit and net loss, with each sub-account being maintained as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner in order to calculate the Series B Early Withdrawal Reduction and Series C Early Withdrawal Reduction (each as defined below), as applicable, and the Performance Allocation (as defined below) for each capital contribution. The initial balance of each Partner’s Capital Account will be equal to the amount of cash or net value of any property contributed to the Fund by such Partner.

If a Partner invests in more than one Series, the Fund will maintain a separate Capital Account on behalf of such Partner with respect to each such Series and each Capital Account will be treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of determining the Management Fee (as defined below) and Performance Allocation applicable to each Capital Account.

The Master Fund will issue to the Fund a limited partner interest in the Master Fund and will maintain capital accounts and sub-accounts that correspond to Limited Partners' Capital Accounts in the Fund.

Affiliated Investors

The Investment Manager, the General Partner and their respective affiliates, principals, employees, partners, agents, the respective family members of such personnel and trusts and other entities established primarily for their benefit or for charitable purposes ("Affiliated Investors") may not be subject to restrictions on withdrawals or be assessed the Management Fee or the Performance Allocation that are applicable to other investors in the Fund, but do share pro rata in all other applicable expenses of the Fund; provided that, the Special Limited Partner may, unless prohibited by law, make withdrawals of all or any part of its Performance Allocation and gains thereon from its capital account in the Master Fund as of any Withdrawal Date (as defined below).

Borrowing and Leverage

The Master Fund may buy securities or commodities on margin and arrange with banks, brokers and others to borrow money against a pledge of securities or commodities in order to employ leverage when the Investment Manager deems such action appropriate. The Master Fund may not borrow more than 100% of its net assets as described in "Investment Program – Investment Restrictions" above.

Management Fee

For its services to the Master Fund, the Investment Manager is entitled to a management fee (the "Management Fee") calculated monthly and payable quarterly in arrears at an annual rate of (i) 1.75% of each Limited Partner's Capital Account balance that is attributable to a Series A Interest, (ii) 1.25% of each Limited Partner's Capital Account balance that is attributable to a Series B Interest, and (iii) 1.00% of each Limited Partner's Capital Account balance that is attributable to a Series C Interest. The Management Fee is paid at the Master Fund level. The Management Fee will be prorated for any period that is less than a full calendar quarter.

The General Partner or the Investment Manager may elect to reduce, waive or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to any Limited Partner, including, without limitation, Affiliated Investors. To effect such reduction, waiver or difference in calculation, the Fund may issue a separate series of Interests.

The General Partner may delay the timing or alter the structure of fees payable to the Investment Manager so long as such changes are not materially adverse to the Limited Partners. The Investment Manager may also assign all or any portion of fees payable to the Investment Manager, including the Management Fee and the Performance Allocation, to any affiliate thereof or any third party in its sole discretion.

Performance Allocation

Pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, generally, as of the close of each fiscal quarter and subject to the limitations described below, a performance-based profits allocation (the “Performance Allocation”) is debited against the Master Fund capital sub-account relating to each Series attributable to a Limited Partner and simultaneously credited to the Master Fund capital account of the Special Limited Partner. The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level, but is effectively equal to (i) 20.0% of the Net Capital Appreciation (as defined below) of each Series A Interest for such fiscal quarter, (ii) 17.5% of the Net Capital Appreciation of each Series B Interest for such fiscal quarter, and (iii) 15.0% of the Net Capital Appreciation of each Series C Interest for such fiscal quarter.

The “Net Capital Appreciation” applicable to an Interest shall mean the amount by which the net asset value of such Interest on the last day of the fiscal quarter (or on the Withdrawal Date, if applicable) exceeds the higher of the following amounts: (i) the highest net asset value of such Interest as of the commencement of any fiscal quarter and (ii) the issue price of such Interest. All such calculations include realized and unrealized gains and losses and are made before deduction of the Performance Allocation, but after deduction of the accrued applicable expenses of the Fund and the Master Fund for the applicable period, and in each case adjusted for any subscriptions and withdrawals made during the quarter.

The Performance Allocation is calculated and allocated at the Master Fund level through the use of separate memorandum sub-accounts with respect to the Fund’s capital account in the Master Fund that correspond to each Series attributable to a Limited Partner. No separate Performance Allocation will be charged at the Fund level.

The Performance Allocation generally will be allocable to the Special Limited Partner after the end of each fiscal quarter and as of any Withdrawal Date occurring prior to the end of any fiscal quarter. The Performance Allocation payable with respect to any Interests withdrawn prior to the end of a fiscal quarter will be determined solely by reference to such withdrawn Interests and will be allocable to the Special Limited Partner on the Withdrawal Date. The Performance Allocation with respect to any Limited Partner may be fully or partially waived or rebated by the General Partner in its sole discretion.

Other Fees and Expenses

The Fund bears all of its own initial organizational expenses and its pro rata share of the initial organizational expenses of the Master Fund. In general, the Fund’s financial statements will be prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (“GAAP”). However, the General Partner intends to amortize the Fund’s organizational expenses over a period of 60 calendar months from the date the Fund commenced operations because it believes such treatment is more equitable than expensing the entire amount of the organizational expenses in the Fund's first year of operation, as is required by GAAP. The General Partner may, however, limit the amount of start-up and organizational expenses that the Fund amortizes so that the audit opinion issued with respect to the Fund's financial statements will not be qualified.

The Fund pays all costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Fund's operations. The Fund also bears its pro rata share of the cost of the Master Fund's operations and investments as provided in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. Expenses payable by the Fund in connection with the Master Fund's investment program, include, but are not limited to, brokerage commissions, other expenses related to buying and selling securities (including trading errors that are not the result of the Investment Manager's gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud), costs of due diligence regardless of whether a particular transaction is consummated, the costs of attending shareholder meetings, research expenses and costs related to monitoring investments. Expenses payable by the Fund in connection with its operations include, but are not limited to, fees and expenses of advisers and consultants; the Management Fee; fees and expenses of any custodians, escrow or transfer agents or other investment-related service providers; indemnification expenses and the cost of insurance against potential indemnification liabilities; interest and other borrowing expenses; legal, administrative, accounting, tax, audit and insurance expenses; expenses of preparing and distributing reports, financial statements and notices to Limited Partners; litigation or other extraordinary expenses; any withholding, transfer or other taxes payable by the Fund (including any interest and penalties), and the cost of periodically updating this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement.

The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities under the Investment Management Agreement, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Master Fund, including, but not limited to, any affiliate of the Investment Manager. Payment for any such services will be assumed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals on behalf of the Master Fund, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Master Fund, and the Master Fund will bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.

The Fund and the Master Fund do not have their own separate employees or office, and neither the Fund nor the Master Fund will reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead costs of the General Partner or the Investment

Manager. A portion of the commissions generated on the Master Fund's brokerage transactions may generate soft dollar credits that the Investment Manager is authorized to use to pay for research and other research-related services and products used by the Investment Manager. It is the current policy of the Investment Manager to limit such use of soft dollars to fall within the safe harbor of Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or to be otherwise reasonably related to the investment decision-making process or for Master Fund expenses. See "Brokerage and Custody."

If the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, incurs any expenses for both the Master Fund and one or more Other Accounts (as defined herein), the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, will allocate such expenses among the Master Fund and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expenses relate, or in such other manner as the General Partner considers fair and reasonable.

Allocation of Net Profit and Loss

Net profit or net loss of the Fund is allocated among the Capital Accounts of the Partners as of the close of each calendar month, at any other time when the Fund receives an additional capital contribution or effects a withdrawal or distribution, or at such other times as the General Partner may determine (each, a "Fiscal Period").

The net profit or net loss of the Fund for any calendar month or other valuation period will reflect, with respect to all positions:

- (a) the dividends and interest accrued during the period;
- (b) the net realized gains or losses from the sale or other disposition of investments during the period allocated by the Fund;
- (c) the net change in the unrealized appreciation or depreciation of investments during the period held at the close of the period (i.e., the difference between the fair market value of each investment at the end of the period compared with either the fair market value at the commencement of the period or, in the case of any investment made after the commencement of the period, the cost); and
- (d) the expenses of the Fund incurred or accrued during the period (other than the Management Fee and any other items that are charged on a Partner-by-Partner basis).

As of the close of each Fiscal Period, the net profit or net loss (subject to any applicable Performance Allocation paid at the Master Fund level) will be allocated pro rata among the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their percentage interests in the Fund as of the commencement of the period. Each Partner's percentage interest in the Fund as of the commencement of any period is based on the value of the Partner's Capital Account at such time in relation to the sum of the Capital Accounts of all of the Partners at such time.

The Management Fee will be calculated separately with respect to each Limited Partner and will be debited from the capital sub-account at the Master Fund level corresponding to each Limited Partner's Capital Account.

Distributions

Subject to the monthly withdrawal privilege described below, all earnings of the Fund are ordinarily retained for investment. Limited Partners should not expect the Fund to make any dividend distributions.

Withdrawals; Lock-Up

Subject to certain withdrawal restrictions described below, a Limited Partner is generally permitted to withdraw all or a portion of its Capital Account as of the last Business Day of each calendar month (and/or such other Business Days as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion) (each, a "Withdrawal Date"); provided that, any partial withdrawals may only be made in minimum amounts of $100,000. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Limited Partner that withdraws all or a portion of its Capital Account with respect to a Series B Interest prior to the one-year anniversary of the date such capital was contributed to the Fund is subject to an early withdrawal reduction of up to 3.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series B Interest being withdrawn, as determined at the close of business of such Withdrawal Date (such fee, the "Series B Early Withdrawal Reduction"). In addition, any Limited Partner that withdraws all or a portion of its Capital Account with respect to a Series C Interest prior to the:

- (i) one-year anniversary of the date such capital was contributed to the Fund is subject to an early withdrawal reduction of 5.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series C Interest being withdrawn, as determined at the close of business of such Withdrawal Date, and
- (ii) two-year anniversary, but on or after the one-year anniversary, of the date such capital was contributed to the Fund is subject to an early withdrawal reduction of 3.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series C Interest being withdrawn, as determined at the close of business of such Withdrawal Date (such fees with respect to Series C Interests, the "Series C Early Withdrawal Reduction" and together with the Series B Early Withdrawal Reduction, the "Early Withdrawal Reduction").

The Early Withdrawal Reduction is retained by the Fund (and generally invested in the Master Fund) and deducted from the withdrawal proceeds of the withdrawing Limited Partner. The Early Withdrawal Reduction will not apply in the event of a Compulsory Withdrawal (defined below).

Written notice of any withdrawal request must be received in writing by the Administrator at least 30 calendar days prior to the requested Withdrawal Date. The General Partner may waive such notice requirements, or permit withdrawals under such other circumstances, if, in its sole discretion, it determines that, under the circumstances, to waive such requirement will not have an adverse effect on the Master Fund's portfolio.

If the Master Fund violates the investment restrictions and fails to remedy the violation on or before the Remedy Date (as described in "Investment Program – Investment Restrictions"), any Limited Partner may withdraw all or part of its Capital Account on the next Withdrawal Date and will not be subject to the Early Withdrawal Reduction; provided that, such Limited Partner has requested such withdrawal in writing within 30 Business Days after the Remedy Date.

Settlement of Withdrawal Proceeds

A withdrawal request is normally settled in cash or, subject to the sole discretion of the General Partner, wholly or partially with securities or other assets of the Fund (received from the Master Fund), whether or not readily marketable, generally within 10 Business Days after the Withdrawal Date; provided that the General Partner may delay such payment if such delay is reasonably necessary to prevent such withdrawal from having a material adverse impact on the Fund. In the event that the General Partner satisfies a withdrawal request with assets in kind, such securities may be transferred to a liquidating account and sold by the Fund for the benefit of the withdrawing Limited Partner, in which case, payment of the withdrawal proceeds attributable to such investments will be delayed until such investments are sold. The amount payable in respect of such investments will depend on the performance of such investments through to the date on which they are sold. The cost of operating the liquidating account and selling the investment(s) will be deducted from the proceeds of sale paid to the withdrawing Limited Partner.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may establish reserves and holdbacks for estimated accrued expenses, liabilities and contingencies, including, without limitation, general reserves for unspecified contingencies (even if such reserves or holdbacks are not otherwise required by GAAP) or liabilities stemming from tax obligations (as such may be determined in the sole discretion of the General Partner and whether or not incurred directly or indirectly), which could reduce the amount of a distribution upon a Limited Partner's withdrawal. The General Partner may withhold for the benefit of the Fund from any distribution to a withdrawing Limited Partner an amount representing the actual or estimated costs incurred by the Fund with respect to such withdrawal, as well as any Early Withdrawal Reduction described above.

Withdrawal Conditions

The General Partner or the Administrator may refuse to accept a withdrawal request if it is not accompanied by such additional information as the General Partner or the Administrator may reasonably require. This power may, without limitation to the generality of the foregoing, be exercised where proper information has not been provided for money laundering verification purposes. In addition, where withdrawal proceeds are requested to be remitted to an account which is not in the name of the Limited Partner, the General Partner and the Administrator reserve the right to request such information as may be reasonably necessary in order to verify the identity of the Limited Partner and the owner of the account to which the withdrawal proceeds will be paid. The withdrawal proceeds will not be paid to a third-party account if the Limited Partner and/or owner of the account fails to provide such information.

Compulsory Withdrawals

The General Partner reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to compel the withdrawal of a Limited Partner's Interest at any time and for any reason on not less than seven days' prior written notice (or immediately if the General Partner, in its sole discretion, determines that such Limited Partner's continued investment in the Fund may cause the Fund, the Master Fund, the General Partner or the Investment Manager to violate any applicable law) (a "Compulsory Withdrawal"). The General Partner will compel the withdrawal of a Limited Partner's Interest in its entirety if a Limited Partner requests a withdrawal that would cause its total investment with respect to a particular Series to fall below a minimum of $100,000 (a "Minimum Required Withdrawal"). In either case, settlements are made in the same manner as voluntary withdrawals, except that the Early Withdrawal Reduction will not apply in the event of a Compulsory Withdrawal, but will apply to any Minimum Required Withdrawal.

Suspension of Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments

The General Partner may, at any time, suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Interests (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of Interests, (c) the withdrawal by Limited Partners of Interests (and the applicable Withdrawal Date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and Withdrawals Dates are not postponed) (each, a "Suspension") during any period which: (i) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of investments owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) are traded is closed, other than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended; (ii) there exists any state of affairs as a result of which (A) disposal of a substantial part of the investments owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the Limited Partners, or (B) it is not reasonably practicable for the Fund fairly to determine the value of its net assets; (iii) none of the withdrawal requests which have been made may lawfully be satisfied by the Fund; (iv) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the investments of the Fund (through the Master Fund); (v) in the sole discretion of the General Partner, it is necessary to preserve the Fund's assets; or (vi) automatically upon any suspension of withdrawals by the Master Fund for similar reasons as described in "The Master Fund," below.

The Administrator will promptly notify each Limited Partner who has submitted a withdrawal request and to whom payment in full of the amount being withdrawn has not yet been remitted of any Suspension of withdrawals or Suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds. Any remaining amount of a withdrawal request that is not satisfied due to such a Suspension remains at risk as per other amounts invested in the Fund and subject to the applicable Management Fee until such amount is finally and fully withdrawn. Such Limited Partners will not be given any priority with respect to the withdrawal of Interests after the cause for such Suspension or limitation ceases to exist. The General Partner may in its sole discretion, however, permit such Limited Partners to withdraw their withdrawal requests to the extent that the relevant Withdrawal Date has not yet passed. For the avoidance of doubt, where a suspension of the payment of withdrawal proceeds is declared between the relevant Withdrawal Date and the remittance of such payment proceeds, affected Limited Partners shall not have any right to withdraw their withdrawal requests. Upon the reasonable determination by the General Partner that conditions leading to a Suspension no longer apply, the Administrator will notify the Limited Partners of the end of the Suspension. At such time, any such suspended payments shall generally be paid in accordance with the normal process for making such payments, withdrawal rights shall be promptly reinstated and any pending withdrawal requests which were not withdrawn (or new, timely withdrawal requests) will be effected as of the first Withdrawal Date following the removal of the Suspension, subject to the foregoing restrictions on withdrawals.

Transfers

Interests are not transferable except with the prior written consent of the General Partner, which consent may be withheld in its sole discretion. The General Partner will require any transferee or assignee of any Limited Partner to execute the Subscription Documents.

Duty of Care;
Indemnification

Pursuant to the Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, each member, shareholder, partner, manager and director of, and any person who controls, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, each of the respective affiliates of the foregoing and each of their respective executors, heirs, assigns, successors and other legal representatives (each such person, an "Indemnified Party") shall not be liable to the Master Fund, the Fund or the Limited Partners for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Party or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as an Indemnified Party in the absence of gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud, or as otherwise required by law. In no event shall any Indemnified Party be liable for any consequential damages, special or indirect damages or lost profits.

The Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement contain provisions for the indemnification of the Indemnified Parties by the Master Fund and the Fund (but not by the Limited Partners individually) against any liabilities arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Party or in connection with the Partnership Agreement, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, the Investment Management Agreement, or the Master Fund's or the Fund's business or affairs to the fullest extent permitted by law in the absence of gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud. The General Partner is not personally liable to any Limited Partner for the repayment of any withdrawal proceeds or for contributions by such Limited Partner to the capital of the Fund or by reason of any change in the U.S. federal or state income tax laws applicable to the Fund or its investors.

Non-Exclusivity;
Allocation of Opportunities

None of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees is precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund or the Master Fund.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement requires the General Partner, and the Investment Manager as delegatee of the General Partner, to act in a manner that it considers fair and equitable over time in allocating investment opportunities to the Master Fund. Although the General Partner and the Investment Manager consider certain factors set forth in the Investment Manager's policies to determine how to allocate trades, the Investment Manager's policies and the Master Fund Partnership Agreement do not otherwise impose any specific obligations or requirements concerning the allocation of time, effort or investment opportunities to the Master Fund or any restrictions on the nature or timing of investments for the account of the Master Fund and for the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own accounts or for other accounts that the General Partner, the Investment Manager or their affiliates may manage (each, an "Other Account"). The General Partner and the Investment Manager are not obligated to devote any specific amount of time to the affairs of the Master Fund and are not required to accord exclusivity or priority to the Master Fund in the event of limited investment opportunities arising from the application of speculative position limits or other factors.

The Principal, as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Master Fund (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of interests in the Fund), unless such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Fund's investors.

It is the policy of the Investment Manager to allocate investment opportunities fairly and equitably over time. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate. The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. One or more of the foregoing considerations may (and are often expected to) result in allocations among the Master Fund and one or more accounts on other than a pari passu basis. See "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest" below.

Affiliated Service Providers

NexBank, SSB ("NexBank SSB") is an affiliate of the Investment Manager and may, from time to time, provide banking and/or agency services to the Investment Manager, clients of the Investment Manager or collective investment vehicles for which the Investment Manager provides investment advisory services (including the Fund and other vehicles in which the Fund, through the Master Fund, may invest) or third parties engaged in transactions involving the Investment Manager. NexBank SSB may also act as an agent in connection with certain securities transactions involving the Investment Manager's client accounts (including the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Master Fund may invest). Principals of the Investment Manager own a majority of the equity interests in NexBank SSB and employees or affiliates of the Investment Manager own or may own a substantial equity interest in NexBank SSB. Certain Master Fund investment transactions may be executed through NexBank Securities, Inc., an affiliate of the Investment Manager and a registered broker-dealer.

Additionally, the Investment Manager or affiliates of the Investment Manager, including, without limitation, Nexbank SSB, NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital Advisors and Governance Re, Ltd., may provide financial advisory, management, insurance, title insurance or other services for a fee to portfolio companies in which the Master Fund may have an interest. Highland Latin America, an affiliate of the Investment Manager, has been engaged to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager. See "Risk Factors and Potential Conflicts of Interest" below.

Valuations

In general, the Fund's financial statements will be prepared in accordance with GAAP. The General Partner has delegated the valuation of the Fund's assets, based on the Master Fund's assets, to the Administrator who values the Fund's assets as of the close of each Fiscal Period in accordance with the Investment Manager's valuation policies and procedures.

Reserves

Appropriate reserves may be accrued and charged against net assets and proportionately against the Capital Accounts of the Partners for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts (subject to increase or reduction) that the General Partner in its sole discretion deems necessary or appropriate. At the sole discretion of the General Partner, the amount of any such reserve (or any increase or decrease therein) may be charged or credited, as appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of those investors who are Limited Partners at the time when such reserve is created, increased or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those investors who were Limited Partners at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established.

If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, to those persons who were Limited Partners during any such prior period(s).

Fiscal Year

The Fund has a fiscal year ending on December 31 of each calendar year.

Reports to Limited Partners

The Fund furnishes to its Partners as soon as practicable after the end of each taxable year (or as otherwise required by law) such tax information as is necessary for each Partner to complete U.S. federal and state income tax or information returns, along with any other tax information required by law. Within 120 days of the end of each year (or as soon as practicable thereafter), the Fund distributes to each Partner audited financial statements of the Fund, including a statement of profit or loss for such fiscal year and an unaudited status of each such Partner's holdings in the Fund at such time. Partners will also receive, upon request to the Administrator, copies of semi-annual financial statements of the Fund.

Tax Status

The General Partner believes that the Fund should be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and should not itself be subject to U.S. federal income taxation. Each Limited Partner otherwise subject to U.S. federal income tax is required to include in such Limited Partner's taxable income such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's income and gains, when realized by the Fund (regardless of cash distributions from the Fund to such investor), and may claim, to the extent allowable, such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's losses and deductions. Due to the nature of the Fund's activities, the Fund's income or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes for a particular taxable period may differ from its financial or economic results. The deductibility of a Limited Partner's share of any Fund losses or deductions may be limited. See "Tax Considerations."

ERISA

The Investment Manager intends to limit investment in the Master Fund by "benefit plan investors" so that the assets of the Master Fund will not be considered "plan assets" for purposes of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). It is anticipated that the assets of the Fund may constitute "plan assets" for purposes of ERISA. See "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations."

Amendment of the Limited Partnership Agreement

The Partnership Agreement may be amended by the General Partner with the consent of a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, which consent may be obtained through negative consent. However, the Fund may not: (a) increase the obligation of a Limited Partner to make any contribution to the capital of the Fund; (b) reduce the Capital Account of any Limited Partner other than as contemplated by the Partnership Agreement; or (c) reduce any Limited Partner's right to share in net profits or assets of the Fund, in each case, without the consent of each Limited Partner adversely affected thereby. The above consent may be obtained by negative consent.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may amend the Partnership Agreement at any time without the consent of any Limited Partner: (a) to comply with applicable laws and regulations; (b) to make changes that do not adversely affect the rights or obligations of any Limited Partner; (c) to cure any ambiguity or correct or supplement any conflicting provisions of the Partnership Agreement; or (d) with respect to any other amendment, if any Limited Partner whose contractual rights as a Limited Partner would be materially and adversely changed by such amendment has an opportunity to withdraw from the Fund (without being subject to the Early Withdrawal Reduction) as of a date that is not less than 30 days after the General Partner has furnished written notice of such amendment to each Limited Partner and that is prior to the effective date of the amendment.

Variation of Terms

The General Partner or the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may enter into a side letter or similar agreement to or with one or more Limited Partners that has the effect of establishing rights under, or altering or supplementing the terms of, the Partnership Agreement or of any Subscription Documents (including those relating to access to information, the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation, minimum investment amount, voting rights and withdrawal rights) with respect to such Limited Partner(s).

THE MASTER FUND

The Master Fund's Partnership Interests

The Master Fund's partnership interests are currently held exclusively by the Fund and the Offshore Fund as limited partners, the Investment Manager as the special limited partner of the Master Fund, and the General Partner as the general partner of the Master Fund, pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The General Partner is registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands pursuant to Part IX of the Companies Law (2016 Revision).

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement

The Master Fund is constituted as a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, 2014 (the "Exempted Limited Partnership Law"). A Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership is constituted by the signing of the relevant partnership agreement and its registration with the Registrar of Exempted Limited Partnerships in the Cayman Islands.

A Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership is not a separate legal person distinct from its partners. Under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law, any property which is conveyed into or vested in the name of the exempted limited partnership shall be held or deemed to be held by the general partner, and if more than one, then by the general partners jointly upon trust, as an asset of the partnership in accordance with the terms of the partnership agreement. Any debt or obligation incurred by a general partner in the conduct of the business of an exempted limited partnership shall be a debt or obligation of the exempted limited partnership. Registration under the Exempted Limited Partnership Law entails that the partnership becomes subject to, and the limited partners therein are afforded the limited liability and other benefits of, the Exempted Limited Partnership Law (subject to compliance therewith).

Liability of Partners and Indemnification of the General Partner and Others. The business of a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership will be conducted by its general partner(s) who will be liable for all debts and obligations of the exempted limited partnership to the extent that the partnership has insufficient assets. As a general matter, a limited partner of a Cayman Islands partnership will not be liable for the debts and obligations of the exempted limited partnership, other than:

- (i) as expressed in the partnership agreement,
- (ii) if such limited partner takes part in the conduct of the business of an exempted limited partnership in its dealings with persons who are not partners, then that limited partner shall be liable, in the event of the insolvency of the exempted limited partnership, for all debts and obligations of that exempted limited partnership incurred during the period that he so participates in the conduct of the business as though he were, for such period, a general partner, provided always that he shall be rendered liable pursuant to the foregoing provision only to a person who transacts business with the exempted limited partnership during such period with actual knowledge of such participation and who then reasonably believed such limited partner to be a general partner, or
- (iii) if such limited partner is obligated pursuant to Section 34(1) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Law to return a distribution made to it (with interest at a rate of 10% per annum, unless otherwise specified in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement) when the exempted limited partnership is insolvent or within six months prior to such insolvency.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides that none of the Indemnified Parties will be liable to the Master Fund or any limited partner of the Master Fund (including the Feeder Funds) for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Party or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as an Indemnified Party in the absence of gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud, or as otherwise required by law. An Indemnified Party may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Master Fund's affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above. In addition, in no event shall any Indemnified Party be liable for any consequential damages, special or indirect damages or lost profits.

The Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides that the Master Fund shall, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify and hold harmless each Indemnified Party from and against any and all liabilities suffered or sustained by an Indemnified Party by reason of the fact that it, he or she is or was an Indemnified Party or in connection with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement or the Master Fund's business or affairs, including, without limitation, any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, provided that such liability did not result from the gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud of such Indemnified Party. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement also provides that the Master Fund will, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, advance to any Indemnified Party reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs and expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any action, suit or proceeding which arises out of such conduct, subject to receiving a written undertaking from the Indemnified Party to repay such amounts if and to the extent that it is finally determined that the Indemnified Party was not entitled to indemnification in respect thereof.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing, the provisions of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement do not provide for the exculpation or indemnification of any Indemnified Party for any liability (including liability under U.S. federal securities laws which, under certain circumstances, impose liability even on persons that act in good faith), to the extent (but only to the extent) that such liability may not be waived, modified or limited under applicable law, but shall be construed so as to effectuate the above provisions to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Indemnified Party, the Master Fund (and not the applicable Indemnified Party) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent gross negligence (as such term is defined and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware), willful misconduct or fraud. Given the volume of transactions executed on behalf of the Master Fund, trading errors (and similar errors) will occur and the Master Fund will be responsible for any resulting losses, even if such losses result from the negligence (but not gross negligence) of any Indemnified Party.

The Indemnified Parties will also be indemnified by each limited partner of the Master Fund for any amounts of tax withheld or required to be withheld with respect to that limited partner, and also for any amounts of interest, additions to tax, penalties and other costs borne by any such persons in connection therewith to the extent that the balance of the limited partner's capital account is insufficient to fully compensate the General Partner and the Investment Manager for such costs.

Contributions and Withdrawals by the Fund. Limited partners of the Master Fund may make contributions at such times and in such amounts as the General Partner determines. As a limited partner of the Master Fund, the Fund may, subject to the consent of the General Partner, voluntarily request a withdrawal of all or part of its capital in the Master Fund at such times and in such amounts as it may determine. The General Partner may, at any time, suspend (a) the calculation of the net asset value of the Master Fund (and the applicable valuation date); (b) the issuance of limited partner interests in the Master Fund; (c) the withdrawal by limited partners of their interests (and the applicable withdrawal date); and/or (d) the payment of withdrawal proceeds (even if the calculation dates and withdrawal dates are not postponed) during any period which: (i) any stock exchange on which a substantial part of investments owned by the Master Fund are traded is closed, other than for ordinary holidays, or dealings thereon are restricted or suspended; (ii) there exists any state of affairs as a result of which (A) disposal of a substantial part of the investments owned by the Master Fund would not be reasonably practicable and might seriously prejudice the limited partners of the Master Fund, or (B) it is not reasonably practicable for the Master Fund fairly to determine the value of its net assets; (iii) none of the withdrawal requests which have been made may lawfully be satisfied by the Master Fund; (iv) there is a breakdown in the means of communication normally employed in determining the prices of a substantial part of the investments of the Master Fund; or (v) in the sole discretion of the General Partner, it is necessary to preserve the Master Fund's assets.

Amendment of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Master Fund Partnership Agreement may be amended by an instrument in writing signed by each of the limited partners of the Master Fund and the General Partner; provided that, the General Partner may amend the Master Fund Partnership Agreement without the consent of the limited partners so long as the amendment does not adversely affect any rights of the limited partners.

Dissolution of the Master Fund. The Master Fund shall be wound up and dissolved upon the first to occur of any of the following liquidating events, and Sections 36(1)(b), 36(9) and 36(12) of the Exempted Limited Partnership Law shall not apply to the Master Fund:

- (i) the written election of the General Partner to terminate the Master Fund; or
- (ii) if the General Partner is the sole or last remaining general partner, the date (the "Automatic Dissolution Date") falling 90 days after the date of the service of a notice by the General Partner (or its legal representative) on all the limited partners informing the limited partners of:
 - (1) the commencement of liquidation or bankruptcy proceedings in relation to the General Partner; or
 - (2) the withdrawal, removal or making of a winding up or dissolution order in relation to the General Partner;

provided that, if a majority in number of the limited partners elects one or more new general partners before the Automatic Dissolution Date, the business of the Master Fund shall be resumed and continued. If a new general partner is not elected by the Automatic Dissolution Date, the Master Fund shall be wound up and dissolved in accordance with terms of the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and the Exempted Limited Partnership Law.

Power of Attorney. Each limited partner of the Master Fund shall make, constitute and appoint the General Partner (and each of its successors and permitted assigns) for the time being, with full power of substitution, as its true and lawful agent and attorney-in-fact of, and in the name, place and stead of, such Partner with the power from time to time to make, execute, sign, acknowledge, swear to (and deliver as may be appropriate) on its behalf and file and record in the appropriate public offices and publish (as may in the reasonable judgment of the General Partner be required by law), including the admission of any new partners of the Master Fund and any amendments to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. Each limited partner of the Master Fund shall authorize the General Partner to take any further action that the General Partner considers necessary or advisable in connection with the foregoing. Such power of attorney granted is intended to secure a proprietary interest of the General Partner and the performance by each limited partner of the Master Fund of its obligations under the Master Fund Partnership Agreement and shall be irrevocable and shall survive and not be affected by the subsequent death, lack of capacity, insolvency, bankruptcy or dissolution of any limited partner of the Master Fund.

Valuation of Assets

The General Partner has delegated the valuation of the Master Fund's assets to the Administrator, which will generally compute the value of the securities and other assets of the Master Fund as of the close of business on the last day of each fiscal period and on any other date selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion. In addition, the Administrator must compute the value of the securities that are being distributed in-kind as of their date of distribution in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. In determining the value of the assets of the Master Fund, no value is placed on the goodwill or name of the Master Fund, or the office records, files, statistical data or any similar intangible assets of the Master Fund not normally reflected in the Master Fund's accounting records, but there must be taken into consideration any related items of income earned but not received, expenses incurred but not yet paid, liabilities fixed or contingent, prepaid expenses to the extent not otherwise reflected in the books of account, and the value of options or commitments to purchase or sell securities pursuant to agreements entered into on or prior to such valuation date.

A copy of the Investment Manager's valuation policy is available upon request from the General Partner.

The value of each security and other asset of the Master Fund and the net worth of the Master Fund as a whole determined pursuant Master Fund Partnership Agreement are conclusive and binding on all of the partners of the Master Fund and all persons claiming through or under them.

RISK FACTORS AND POTENTIAL CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Investment in the Fund is speculative and involves substantial risks, including, but not limited to, those summarized below. The Fund is not suitable for all investors and is intended for sophisticated investors who can accept the risks associated with their investments. Prospective investors should carefully consider the risk factors described in this section, among others, in determining whether an investment in the Fund is suitable for them. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund's program will be successful or that investments purchased by the Master Fund will increase in value. An investor must be prepared to bear capital losses that might result from an investment in the Fund, including a complete loss of the investor's invested capital. All investors in the Fund should consult their own legal, tax and financial advisors prior to investing in the Fund.

For purposes of this section, references to the "Fund" should be understood to mean each of the Fund and the Master Fund, as applicable, and each of the risk factors set forth herein, while not exhaustive, shall apply equally to each of the Fund and the Master Fund, as applicable.

General Risks

Lack of Operating History. The Fund, the Master Fund and the General Partner do not have operating histories upon which investors can evaluate the anticipated performance of the Fund. Although the principals of the Investment Manager have extensive prior experience in Latin America, past performance of the Investment Manager should not be construed as an indication of the future results of an investment in the Fund. The Master Fund's investment program should be evaluated on the basis that there can be no assurance that the Investment Manager's assessment of the short-term or long-term prospects of its investment strategy will prove accurate, or that the Master Fund will achieve its investment objectives.

Risks Associated With Investments in Securities. Any investment in securities carries market risks. An investment in the Fund is highly speculative and involves a high degree of risk due to the nature of the Master Fund's investments and the strategies to be employed. An investment in the Fund should not in itself be considered a balanced investment program, but rather is intended to provide diversification in a more complete investment portfolio.

Investment Judgment; Market Risk. The profitability of a significant portion of the Master Fund's investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to predict accurately these price movements. With respect to the investment strategy utilized by the Master Fund, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Limited Liquidity; Additional Information. An investment in the Fund provides limited liquidity since the Interests are not freely transferable and may only be withdrawn at such times as set forth in this Memorandum. The General Partner may suspend withdrawals, in whole or in part, when such a suspension is warranted by extraordinary circumstances described in "Summary of Terms – Suspension of Withdrawals and Withdrawal Payments" above. The General Partner may also delay the payment of withdrawal proceeds as more fully described elsewhere in this Memorandum. Investments that remain in the Fund are subject to all risks related to an investment in the Fund as described in this Memorandum.

Also, certain Limited Partners (including, without limitation, the Affiliated Investors), may invest on terms that provide access to information that is not generally available to other Limited Partners and, as a result, may be able to act on such additional information (e.g., withdraw their Interests) that other Limited Partners do not receive. An investment in the Fund is suitable only for sophisticated investors who have no need for current liquidity.

Effect of Substantial Withdrawals. Substantial withdrawals from the Fund could require the Master Fund to liquidate its positions more rapidly than otherwise desired in order to raise the cash necessary to fund the withdrawals at the Fund level. Illiquidity in certain securities could make it difficult for the Master Fund to liquidate positions on favorable terms, which could result in losses or a decrease in the net asset value of the Master Fund, and thus, the Fund. The Master Fund is permitted to borrow cash necessary to make payments in connection with withdrawals from the Fund when the Investment Manager determines that it would not be advisable to liquidate portfolio assets for that purpose. The Master Fund is also authorized to pledge portfolio assets as collateral security for the repayment of such loans. In these circumstances, the continuing Limited Partners will bear the risk of any subsequent decline in the value of the Fund's assets.

Effect of Withdrawal by Limited Partner on its Investment. Where a withdrawal request is accepted, an Interest will be treated as having been withdrawn effective as of the relevant Withdrawal Date, irrespective of whether or not such withdrawing Limited Partner has been removed from the Fund's books and records or the withdrawal proceeds have been determined or remitted. Accordingly, on and from the relevant Withdrawal Date, Limited Partners in their capacity as such will not be entitled to or be capable of exercising any rights arising under the Partnership Agreement or Subscription Documents with respect to the Interest being withdrawn, save the right to receive the withdrawal proceeds. Such withdrawing Limited Partners will be creditors of the Fund with respect to the withdrawal proceeds. In an insolvent liquidation, withdrawing Limited Partners will rank behind ordinary creditors but ahead of existing Limited Partners.

Master-Feeder Structure. The Fund will invest all of its investable assets in the Master Fund. The "master-feeder" fund structure presents certain risks to the Limited Partners. Smaller feeder funds may be materially affected by the actions of larger feeder funds.

While the Investment Manager, as investment manager of the Master Fund, generally will not consider tax issues applicable to any particular investors, it generally will take into account the tax positions of the Fund and the Offshore Fund that invest in the Master Fund. However, the use of a "master-feeder" structure may create a conflict of interest in that different tax considerations for the Fund and the Offshore Fund may cause or result in the Master Fund structuring or disposing of an investment in a manner or at a time that is more advantageous (or disadvantageous) for tax purposes to one Feeder Fund or its investors.

Management Fee and Performance Allocations. As described above, the Master Fund Partnership Agreement provides for the payment of the Management Fee to the Investment Manager and the Performance Allocation to the Investment Manager, in its capacity as the Special Limited Partner. The Performance Allocation may create an incentive for the Investment Manager, as the Special Limited Partner, to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such Performance Allocation.

Side Letters. The Investment Manager or the Fund may from time to time enter into letter agreements or other similar agreements (collectively, "Side Letters") with one or more Limited Partners which provide such Limited Partner(s) with additional and/or different rights (including, without limitation, with respect to access to information, the Management Fee, the Performance Allocation, minimum investment amounts, voting rights and withdrawal rights) than such Limited Partner(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum. As a result of such Side Letters, certain Limited Partners may receive additional benefits (including, but not limited to, reduced fee obligations, the ability to withdraw Interests on shorter notice and/or expanded informational rights) which other Limited Partners will not receive. For example, a Side Letter may permit a Limited Partner to withdraw its Interest on less notice and/or at different times than other Limited Partners. As a result, should the Fund experience a decline in performance over a period of time, a Limited Partner who is party to a Side Letter that permits less notice and/or different withdrawal times may be able to withdraw its Interest prior to other Limited Partners. In general, the Fund and/or the Investment Manager will not be required to notify any or all of the other Limited Partners of any such Side Letters or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the Fund and/or the Investment Manager be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other Limited Partners. The Fund and/or the Investment Manager may cause the Fund to enter into such Side Letters with any party as the Fund and/or the Investment Manager may determine in its sole discretion at any time. The other Limited Partners will have no recourse against the Fund and/or the Investment Manager in the event certain Limited Partners receive additional and/or different rights and/or terms as a result of such Side Letters. A Limited Partner will be required to enter into such undertakings with respect to maintaining the confidentiality of any such additional information as the Fund and/or the Investment Manager may in their sole discretion determine.

Valuation Considerations. Valuation of the Master Fund's securities and other investments may involve uncertainties and judgmental determinations, and if such valuations should prove to be incorrect, the net asset value of the Master Fund and the Fund could be adversely affected. Independent pricing information may not at times be available or otherwise utilized regarding certain of the Master Fund's securities and other investments. Valuation determinations will be made in good faith in accordance with the policies of the Investment Manager in effect from time to time, a copy of which will be made available upon request.

The Master Fund may have some of its assets in investments, which by their very nature may be extremely difficult to accurately value. To the extent that the value assigned by the Administrator to any such investment differs from the actual value, the net asset value of the Master Fund and the Fund may be understated or overstated, as the case may be. In light of the foregoing, there is a risk that a Limited Partner that withdraws all or part of its Interests while the Master Fund holds such investments will be paid an amount less than it would otherwise be paid if the actual value of such investments is higher than the value designated by the Administrator. Similarly, there is a risk that such Limited Partner might, in effect, be overpaid if the actual value of such investments is lower than the value designated by the Administrator. In addition, there is risk that an investment in the Fund by a new Limited Partner (or an additional investment by an existing Limited Partner) could dilute the value of such investments for the other Limited Partners if the designated value of such investments is higher than the value designated by the Administrator. Further, there is risk that a new Limited Partner (or an existing Limited Partner that makes an additional investment) could pay more than it might otherwise if the actual value of such investments is lower than the value designated by the Administrator. The Administrator does not intend to adjust the net asset value of the Master Fund and the Fund retroactively.

None of the Fund, the Master Fund, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or the Administrator shall have any liability in the event that any price or valuation, used in good faith in connection with the above procedures, proves to be an incorrect or an inaccurate estimate or determination of the price or value of any part of the property of the Master Fund, subject to the standard of care set forth in "Summary of Terms – Duty of Care; Indemnification" above.

No Participation by Investors. All decisions with respect to the management of the day-to-day affairs of the Fund are made exclusively by the General Partner and the Investment Manager. Limited Partners have no right or power to take part in the management of the Fund. The Investment Manager makes all of the trading and investment decisions of the Master Fund. In the event of the withdrawal of the Investment Manager, generally the Fund will be liquidated.

Investment Strategies. The Investment Manager will seek to engage in the investment activities that have been discussed in “Investment Program” herein. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be successful in applying any such strategy and that losses will be avoided.

Competition. The markets in which the Master Fund invests are competitive and some of the opportunities that the Investment Manager may explore may be pursued by better known investors or investment funds. There can be no assurance that the Investment Manager will be able to identify or successfully pursue such opportunities in this environment. The Investment Manager competes with many firms that may have greater financial resources, more extensive development, better marketing and service capabilities, more favorable financing arrangements, larger research staffs and more securities traders than are available to the Investment Manager.

In-Kind Distributions. A withdrawing Limited Partner may, in the discretion of the General Partner and/or Investment Manager, receive securities owned by the Fund (through the Master Fund) in lieu of, or in combination with, cash. The value of securities distributed may increase or decrease before the securities can be sold (either by the Limited Partner or by the Fund if the General Partner establishes a liquidating account on behalf of the Limited Partner to sell such assets), and the Limited Partner will incur transaction costs in connection with the sale of such securities. Additionally, securities distributed with respect to a withdrawal by a Limited Partner may not be readily marketable. The risk of loss and delay in liquidating these securities will be borne by the Limited Partner, with the result that such Limited Partner may receive less cash than it would have received on the date of withdrawal.

No Current Income. Since the Fund does not generally intend to pay distributions, an investment in the Fund is not suitable for investors seeking current income. Moreover, an investor is required to report and pay taxes on his allocable share of income from the Fund, even though no cash is distributed by the Fund.

Cybersecurity. Information and technology systems may be vulnerable to damage or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and security breaches, usage errors by their respective professionals, power outages and catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and earthquakes. Although the Investment Manager has implemented various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time or cease to function properly, the Investment Manager, the Master Fund and/or the Fund may have to make a significant investment to fix or replace them, which expense may be borne in whole or in part by the Fund. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the Investment Manager’s, the Master Fund’s and/or the Fund’s operations and result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to investors. Such interruptions could harm the Investment Manager’s, the Master Fund’s and/or the Fund’s reputation, subject any such entity and their respective affiliates to legal claims and otherwise affect their business and financial performance. The foregoing risks and consequences are also extant at any issuer in which the Master Fund invests and could manifest as adverse performance of such investment.

Investment Strategy and Investment Risks

Changes in Strategy. The Investment Manager has the power to expand, revise or alter its trading strategies on behalf of the Master Fund without prior approval by, or notice to, the Fund or the Limited Partners. Any such change could result in exposure of the Fund's assets (through the Master Fund) to additional risks, which may be substantial. The Investment Manager may also invest in additional instruments than those specifically identified in the "Investment Program" section.

Latin America Investments. The Master Fund invests in securities of companies based in Latin America or issued by Latin American governments, or in the securities of companies which are not incorporated in Latin America, but which derive some of their revenues from business activities conducted in Latin America. Such investment involves certain considerations not usually associated with investing in securities of developed countries or of companies located in developed countries, including political and economic consideration, such as greater risks of expatriation, nationalization and general, political, and economic instability, the small size of the securities markets in such countries and the low volume of trading, resulting in potential lack of liquidity and substantially greater price volatility, fluctuations in the rate of exchange between currencies, and costs associated with currency conversions, certain government policies that may restrict the Master Fund's investment opportunities and problems that may arise in connection with the clearance and settlements of trades. In addition, accounting and financial reporting standards that prevail in such countries are not equivalent to standards in more developed countries, consequently, less information is available to investors in companies located in more developed countries. There is also less regulation, generally, of the securities markets in Latin American countries than there is in more developed countries.

Risks Related to Investing in Argentina. Argentina has experienced high interest rates, economic volatility, inflation, currency devaluations and high unemployment rates. The economy is heavily dependent on exports and commodities. Argentina's default on its debt in 2001, and its past nationalization of private pensions and national oil company YPF, continues to impact the confidence of investors in Argentina, which might adversely impact returns in the Master Fund, and thus, the Fund.

Argentina's Economy. Argentina's economy could grow at a lower rate than in past years, or could contract. Factors that could negatively affect Argentina's rate of economic growth, its public finances and Argentina's ability to service its debt include: the competitiveness of Argentine exports, which are influenced by the peso's value relative to the value of the currencies of Argentina's trading partners and trade competitors; the level of inflation in Argentina; international commodities prices, foreign currency exchange rates and the levels of consumer consumption and foreign and domestic investment; negative economic developments in Argentina's major trading partners, or "contagion" effects more generally; and Argentina's ability to meet its energy requirements.

Uncertainty of Economic Reforms. A runoff election on November 22, 2015 resulted in Mr. Mauricio Macri being elected President of Argentina. The Macri administration assumed office on December 10, 2015. Since assuming office on December 10, 2015, the Macri administration has announced several significant economic and policy reforms, including methodological reforms with respect to the calculation of certain macroeconomic statistics, the loosening of foreign exchange controls, reduction of tariffs, other easing of international trade restrictions, infrastructure reforms and reopened negotiation with holders of debt in default since 2001. The impact that these measures and any future measures taken by the new administration will have on the Argentine economy as a whole and the financial sector in particular cannot be predicted. The Investment Manager believes that the effect of the planned liberalization of the economy and renewed access to capital markets will be positive for the Master Fund's intended investments by stimulating economic activity, but it is not possible to predict such effect with certainty and such liberalization could also be disruptive to the economy and fail to benefit or harm companies in Argentina. The Investment Manager cannot predict how the Macri administration will address certain other political and economic issues that were central during the 2015 presidential election campaign, such as the financing of public expenditures, public service subsidies and tax reforms, the resolution of holdout debt or the impact that any measures related to these issues that are implemented by the Macri administration will have on the Argentine economy as a whole.

Currency Controls. In the past, Argentina imposed exchange controls and transfer restrictions substantially limiting the ability of companies to retain foreign currency or make payments abroad. Although the Macri government lifted exchange controls and liberalized capital controls, there can be no assurances regarding future modifications to exchange and capital controls. Exchange and capital controls could adversely affect the financial condition or results of operations of issuers in whose securities the Master Fund intends to invest, as well as their ability to meet foreign currency obligations and to execute financing plans.

Challenges to Argentina's Debt Payments. Argentina's payments in connection with a debt offering may be attached, enjoined or otherwise challenged. In recent years, hold-out creditors have used litigation against sovereign debtors, most prominently Peru and Nicaragua, to attach or interrupt payments made by these sovereign debtors to, among others, bondholders who have agreed to a debt restructuring and accepted new securities in an exchange offer. Argentina has been subjected to suits to collect on amounts due on defaulted bonds, including actions in the United States, the United Kingdom, Italy and Germany. Some of these actions have resulted in judgments against Argentina. There can be no assurance that a creditor will not be able to interfere, through an attachment of assets, injunction, temporary restraining order or otherwise, with payments made in connection with a debt offering.

Pro Rata Payment Litigation. Argentina's defaults with respect to the payment of its foreign debt could prevent the government and the private sector from accessing the international capital markets, which could adversely affect the financial condition of sovereign and corporate issuers in which the Master Fund invests. In September 2014, the Argentine Congress passed a law to restructure foreign-law bonds held by exchange bondholders to allow the payment in Argentina and to appoint a new paying agent. On September 29, 2014, the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York held Argentina in contempt of court as a result of this law. The U.S. District Court authorized limited exceptions to the injunction allowing certain custodians of Argentine law-governed bonds to process payments in August 2014, September 2014 and December 2014.

On May 11, 2015, the plaintiffs that obtained pari passu injunctions asked the U.S. district court to amend their complaints to include claims alleging that Argentina's issuance and servicing of its 2024 dollar-denominated bonds, and its external indebtedness in general, would violate the pari passu clause. On June 5, 2015, the Second Circuit granted partial summary judgment to a group of 526 "me-too" plaintiffs in 36 separate lawsuits, finding that, consistent with the previous ruling of such court, Argentina violated a pari passu clause in bonds issued to the "me-too" bondholders. The decision obligates Argentina to pay the plaintiffs $5.4 billion before it can make payments on restructured debt.

In 2016, the Argentine government working under a court appointed mediator, entered into settlement agreements with a large portion of hold-out debt holders contingent on Argentina repealing laws that prevented the country from complying with rulings by U.S. courts. In this context Judge Thomas Griesa ruled he would lift the injunctions preventing Argentina from serving post-2005 exchange debt if these laws are repealed. Argentina's lower chamber approved the repeal of these laws and Argentina's senate voted to approve the same in March 2016. In April 2016, the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in the United States upheld Judge Griesa's ruling, finding that he did not abuse his discretion in lifting the pari passu injunctions.

The repercussions of restructuring Argentina's bond debts are ongoing. The 2016 U.S. court rulings only settled claims of certain bondholders. Argentina reached a $475 million settlement with other bondholders in November 2016. Financial indices have only just started moving Argentina back to "emerging market" status, where it had been before 2009.

Argentina's default with respect to the payment of its foreign debt, its delay in completing the debt restructuring process with creditors that did not participate in the related exchange offers, the complaints filed against Argentina discussed above, the U.S. Supreme Court's decision not to hear Argentina's appeal, the declaration of contempt, and the long-term difficulty of reestablishing itself in the global marketplace could prevent Argentina's government from obtaining international private financing or receiving direct foreign investment, as well as private sector companies in Argentina from accessing the international capital markets. Without access to international private financing, Argentina may not be able to finance its obligations, and financing from multilateral financial institutions may be limited or not available. Without access to direct foreign investment, the government may not have sufficient financial resources to foster economic growth and the performance of the Master Fund's investments in Argentina could be materially and adversely affected.

Derivative Instruments. The Investment Manager may use various derivative instruments, including futures, options, forward contracts, swaps and other derivatives which may be volatile and speculative. Certain positions may be subject to wide and sudden fluctuations in market value, with a resulting fluctuation in the amount of profits and losses. Use of derivative instruments presents various risks, including the following:

- Tracking – When used for hedging purposes, an imperfect or variable degree of correlation between price movements of the derivative instrument and the underlying investment sought to be hedged may prevent the Investment Manager from achieving the intended hedging effect or expose the portfolio to the risk of loss.
- Liquidity – Derivative instruments, especially when traded in large amounts, may not be liquid in all circumstances, so that in volatile markets the Investment Manager may not be able to close out a position without incurring a loss. In addition, daily limits on price fluctuations and speculative positions limits on exchanges on which the Investment Manager may conduct its transactions in certain derivative instruments may prevent prompt liquidation of positions, subjecting the portfolio to the potential of greater losses.
- Leverage – Trading in derivative instruments can result in large amounts of leverage. Thus, the leverage offered by trading in derivative instruments may magnify the gains and losses experienced by the Master Fund and could cause the Master Fund's net asset value to be subject to wider fluctuations than would be the case if the Investment Manager did not use the leverage feature in derivative instruments.
- Over-the-Counter-Trading – Derivative instruments that may be purchased or sold for the portfolio may include instruments not traded on an exchange. Over-the-counter options, unlike exchanged-traded options, are two-party contracts with price and other terms negotiated by the buyer and seller. The risk of non-performance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which the Investment Manager can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between “bid” and “asked” prices for derivative instruments that are not traded on an exchange. Derivative instruments not traded on exchanges are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions.

Short Sales. Short sales by the Master Fund that are not made “against the box” create opportunities to increase the Master Fund’s return but, at the same time, involve special risk considerations and may be considered a speculative technique. Since the Master Fund, in effect, profits from a decline in the price of the securities sold short without the need to invest the full purchase price of the securities on the date of the short sale, the value of the Master Fund will tend to increase more when the securities it has sold short decrease in value, and to decrease more when the securities it has sold short increase in value, than otherwise would be the case if it had not engaged in such short sales. Short sales theoretically involve unlimited loss potential, as the market price of securities sold short may increase continuously, although the Master Fund may mitigate such losses by replacing the securities sold short before the market price has increased significantly. Under adverse market conditions the Master Fund might have difficulty purchasing securities to meet its short sale delivery obligations, and might have to sell portfolio securities to raise the capital necessary to meet its short sale obligations at a time when fundamental investment considerations would not favor such sales. Short sales may be used with the intent of hedging against the risk of declines in the market value of the Master Fund’s long portfolio, but there can be no assurance that such hedging operations will be successful.

Risks of Execution of Investment Strategies. The Master Fund will invest in a number of securities and obligations that entail substantial inherent risks. Although the Master Fund will attempt to manage those risks through careful research, ongoing monitoring of investments and appropriate hedging techniques, there can be no assurance that the securities and other instruments purchased by the Master Fund will in fact increase in value or that the Master Fund will not incur significant losses.

Market Risks and Liquidity. The profitability of a significant portion of the Master Fund’s investment program depends to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of the price movements of securities and other investments. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to predict accurately these price movements. Although the Master Fund may attempt to mitigate market risk through the use of long and short positions or other methods, there is always some, and occasionally a significant, degree of market risk.

Furthermore, the Master Fund may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the instruments in which they invest, which may impair the Master Fund’s ability to adjust their position. The size of the Master Fund’s positions may magnify the effect of a decrease in market liquidity for such instruments. Changes in overall market leverage, deleveraging as a consequence of a decision by a broker to reduce the level of leverage available, or the liquidation by other market participants of the same or similar positions, may also adversely affect the Master Fund’s portfolio. Some of the underlying investments of the Master Fund may not be actively traded and there may be uncertainties involved in the valuation of such investments. Potential investors should be warned that under such circumstances, the net asset value of the Master Fund may be adversely affected.

Hedging. Although the Master Fund will attempt to hedge its exposure to specific arbitrage positions, it will not always be possible fully to hedge risk from such positions or any other position. In addition, the Master Fund may take positions based on the expected future direction of the markets without fully hedging the market risks.

Currency Risks. A portion of the Master Fund's assets may be invested in securities denominated in various currencies and in other financial instruments, the price of which is determined with reference to such currencies. The account of the Master Fund will, however, be valued in U.S. Dollars. To the extent unhedged, the value of the net assets of the Master Fund will fluctuate with U.S. Dollars exchange rates as well as with price changes of their investments in the various local markets and currencies. Forward currency contracts and options may be utilized by the Master Fund to hedge against currency fluctuations, but there can be no assurance that such hedging transactions will be effective.

Counterparty and Settlement Risk. Due to the nature of some of the investments which the Master Fund may make, the Master Fund may rely on the ability of the counterparty to a transaction to perform its obligations. In the event that any such party fails to complete its obligations for any reason, the Master Fund may suffer losses. The Master Fund will therefore be exposed to a credit risk on the counterparties with which it trades. The Master Fund will also bear the risk of settlement default by clearing houses and exchanges. Any default by a counterparty or on settlement could have a material adverse effect on the Master Fund.

Borrowing. The Master Fund is permitted to finance its operations with secured and unsecured borrowing up to 100% of its net assets, to the extent allowable under applicable credit regulations. Like other forms of leverage, the use of borrowing can enhance the risk of capital loss in the event of adverse changes in the level of market prices of the assets being financed with the borrowings.

Concentration of Investments. Although the Investment Manager will follow a general policy of seeking to spread the Master Fund's capital among a number of investments, the Investment Manager may depart from such policy from time to time and may hold a few, relatively large securities positions in relation to the Master Fund's capital. The result of such concentration of investments is that a loss in any such position could materially reduce the Master Fund's capital.

Difficult Market for Investment Opportunities. The activity of identifying, completing and realizing on attractive investments involves a high degree of uncertainty. There can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to locate and complete investments which satisfy the Master Fund's rate of return objective or realize upon their values or that the Master Fund will be able to invest fully its subscribed capital in a manner consistent with its investment strategy.

Certain Regulatory Risks

Absence of Regulatory Oversight. While the Fund may be considered similar to an investment company, it is not required and does not intend to register as such under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Investment Company Act"), and, accordingly, the provisions of the Investment Company Act (which may provide certain regulatory safeguards to investors) are not applicable to investors in the Fund. Neither the Fund nor the Master Fund will maintain custody of its securities or place its securities in the custody of a bank or a member of a national securities exchange in the manner required of registered investment companies under rules promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). A registered investment company which places its securities in the custody of a member of a national securities exchange is required to have a written custodian agreement, which provides that securities held in custody will be at all times individually segregated from the securities of any other person and marked to clearly identify such securities as the property of such investment company, and which contains other provisions complying with SEC regulations. The Master Fund generally will maintain such accounts at brokerage firms that do not separately segregate such assets as would be required in the case of registered investment companies. Under the provisions of the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970, as amended, the bankruptcy of any such brokerage firm might have a greater adverse effect on the Master Fund and the Fund than would be the case if the accounts were maintained to meet the requirements applicable to registered investment companies.

Forward-Looking Statements. Certain statements contained in this Memorandum, including without limitation, statements containing the words “believes,” “anticipates,” “intends,” “expects,” and words of similar import constitute “forward-looking statements.” Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Fund to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Certain of these factors are discussed in more detail elsewhere in this Memorandum, including without limitation under “Summary of Terms,” “Certain Risk Factors,” and “Investment Program.” Given these uncertainties, prospective investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements. The Investment Manager and the Fund disclaim any obligation to update any such factors or to announce the result of any revisions to any of the forward-looking statements contained herein to reflect future events or developments.

Impact of U.S. Presidential Election. On January 20, 2017, Donald Trump became President of the United States of America. President Trump and other members of the Republican Party have proposed to reverse some of the recent regulation of the financial industry and to change tax policy. If some of these proposals were enacted, banks could dramatically increase their lending practices and accept additional types of collateral, borrowers could reduce their demand for debt financing, certain investment advisers could de-register with SEC and portfolio companies that are net importers or hold significant assets outside of the United States could be subject to increased tax liability. The effect of any such regulatory or tax changes on the Master Fund and the markets in which it trades and invests is uncertain.

Evolving Regulatory Risks of Private Investment Funds. The regulatory environment for private investment funds is evolving, and changes in the regulation of private investment funds and their advisers may adversely affect the value of investments held by the Master Fund.

The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (“Dodd-Frank”), which was enacted in July 2010, regulates markets, market participants and financial instruments that were historically unregulated and has substantially altered the regulation of many other markets, market participants and financial instruments. Certain provisions of Dodd-Frank subject registered investment advisers to requirements to keep records and to report information to the SEC, which could in turn be supplied to the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve, a new Financial Services Oversight Council or other U.S. governmental agencies or Congress. Under Dodd-Frank, the information includes, among other things, the amount of assets under management, use of leverage (including off-balance sheet leverage), counterparty credit risk exposures, trading and investment positions, and trading practices. All such records are subject to examination by the SEC at any time. It is anticipated that there may be significant changes to the financial regulatory environment as a result of the outcome of the recent U.S. elections. There is currently pending legislation in U.S. Congress which if enacted would result in the repeal of portions of Dodd-Frank which in turn would have a significant impact on the regulatory environment for private investment funds. In addition, the impact of the legislation on current and future rulemaking by various regulators under Dodd-Frank is difficult to predict. It is possible that rules that have been proposed by various regulators, which had been anticipated to take effect previously, may no longer be implemented in their proposed form or at all. Further, there may also be substantial changes in the enforcement and interpretation of existing statutes and rules by governmental regulatory authorities or self-regulatory organizations that supervise the financial markets. The effect of future regulatory change on the Fund and the Master Fund and their operations is uncertain. Prospective investors should seek, and must rely on, the advice of their own advisers with respect to the possible impact on its investment of any future proposed legislation or administrative or judicial action.

Tax Related Risks

Uncertainty and Complexity of Tax Treatment. The tax aspects of an investment in a partnership are complicated and complex and, in many cases, uncertain. Statutory provisions and administrative regulations have been interpreted inconsistently by the courts. Additionally, some statutory provisions remain to be interpreted by administrative regulations. Investors will thus be subject to the risk caused by the uncertainty of the tax consequences with respect to an investment in the Fund. Each prospective investor should have the tax aspects of an investment in the Fund reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles. Prospective investors are strongly urged to review the discussion below under "Tax Considerations" and "ERISA and Other Regulatory Considerations" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Interests and to consult their own independent tax advisors.

Risk of Adverse Determination. There can be no assurance that the conclusions set forth in this Memorandum will not be challenged successfully by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the "Service") or other applicable taxing authority, or significantly modified by new legislation, changes in the Service's positions or court decisions. The Fund has not applied for, nor does it expect to apply for, any advance rulings from the Service with respect to any of the federal income tax consequences described in this Memorandum. No representation or warranty of any kind is made by the General Partner with respect to the tax consequences relating to an investment in the Fund. The Fund may take positions with respect to certain tax issues which depend on legal conclusions not yet resolved by the courts. Should any such positions be successfully challenged by the Service or other applicable taxing authority, there could be a materially adverse effect on the Fund, and a Limited Partner might be found to have a different tax liability for that year than that reported on its income tax returns.

Risk of Tax Audit. An audit of the Fund by the Service or another taxing authority could result in adjustments to the tax consequences initially reported by the Fund and may result in an audit of the returns of some or all of the Limited Partners, which examination could affect items not related to a Limited Partner's investment in the Fund. If audit adjustments result in an increase in a Limited Partner's income tax liability for any year, such Limited Partner may also be liable for interest and penalties with respect to the amount of underpayment. The legal and accounting costs incurred in connection with any audit of the Fund's tax returns will be borne by the Fund. The cost of any audit of a Limited Partner's tax return will be borne solely by that Limited Partner.

Entity-Level Audits. Pursuant to the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 2017, the Service generally will be permitted to determine adjustments to items of income, gain, deduction, loss or credit of the Fund, and assess and collect taxes attributable thereto (including any applicable penalties and interest), at the Fund level. If this new regime applies to the Fund (which depends, among other things, on whether the Fund has more than 100 partners or has any partner that is itself classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes), then any person who is a partner of the Fund in the relevant year of the adjustment may indirectly bear the economic burden of any such taxes assessed or collected (initially determined at the highest rate of tax applicable to an individual or corporation in effect for the reviewed year), regardless of whether such person was a Limited Partner during any reviewed year. It is expected that guidance will be issued that permits the Fund to reduce the underpayment of taxes owed by the Fund, including to the extent that the Fund demonstrates such taxes are allocable to a Limited Partner that would not owe any tax by reason of its status as a “tax-exempt entity” or the character of income is subject to a lower rate of tax. The Fund may under certain circumstances have the ability to avoid such entity-level tax assessment or collection by electing to issue a statement to each partner of any reviewed year with its share of such adjustment, resulting in such partner being required to take into account any such adjustment for the taxable year which includes the date such statement was furnished. In such case, the partners of the reviewed year would also incur a two-percentage point increase on the interest rate that would otherwise have been imposed on any underpayment of taxes. There can be no assurances, however, that the Fund will avoid, or be able to avoid, any entity-level determination, assessment or collection. Limited Partners should note that there is substantial uncertainty regarding the implementation of these rules and the impact on any current or future allocations made or cash available for distributions or withdrawals by the Fund. The Fund may also be exposed to the risk that these rules apply to any lower-tier entity in which the Fund directly or indirectly invests and that is treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If this new legislation applies to the Fund, the Fund will designate a tax representative, which is expected to be the General Partner, the Investment Manager, or an affiliate thereof, who shall have the sole authority to act on behalf of the Fund with respect to dealings with the Service under these new procedures. Prospective Limited Partners should consult their own tax advisors regarding this new legislation.

Tax Considerations Taken into Account. The General Partner may take tax considerations into account in determining when the Fund’s investments should be sold or otherwise disposed of, and may assume certain market risk and incur certain expenses in this regard to achieve favorable tax treatment of a transaction.

Foreign Taxation. With respect to certain countries, there is a possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation, and imposition of withholding or other taxes on dividends, interest, capital gains or other income, limitations on the removal of funds or other assets of the Fund, political or social instability or diplomatic developments that could affect investments in those countries. An issuer of securities may be domiciled in a country other than the country in whose currency the instrument is denominated. The values and relative yields of investments in the securities markets of different countries, and their associated risks, are expected to change independently of each other.

Tax Liabilities Without Distributions. If the Fund has taxable income in a fiscal year, each Limited Partner will be taxed on that income in accordance with its allocable share of the Fund’s profits, whether or not such profits have been distributed. Because the General Partner anticipates that there will be no cash distributions to the Limited Partners, an investor may incur tax liability with respect to activities of the Fund without receiving sufficient distributions from the Fund to defray such tax liabilities. In order to satisfy its tax liability in such a case, a Limited Partner would need sufficient funds from sources other than the Fund. Furthermore, the Fund may make investments with respect to which the Fund recognizes income for U.S. federal income tax purposes prior to receiving the cash or realizing the income as an economic matter. In addition, the Fund may recognize income for U.S. federal income tax purposes that does not reflect income as an economic matter. Such recognition of income prior to receipt of an economic benefit, if any, may result in increased tax liability for the Partners.

Delayed Schedules K-1. The Fund will provide Schedules K-1 as soon as practicable after receipt of all of the necessary information. However, the Fund may be unable to provide final Schedules K-1 to Limited Partners for any given tax year until significantly after April 15 of the following year. The General Partner will endeavor to provide Limited Partners with estimates of the taxable income or loss allocated to their investment in the Fund on or before such date, but final Schedules K-1 may not be available until completion of the Fund's annual audit. Limited Partners should be prepared to obtain extensions of the filing date for their income tax returns at the federal, state and local levels.

Unrelated Business Taxable Income. The Fund may make investments or engage in activities that will give rise to unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI") under Sections 512 and 514 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Thus, an investment in the Fund may be less desirable for certain tax-exempt investors. For example, the Fund may incur leverage giving rise to UBTI or may participate in investments that give rise to UBTI through entities that are treated as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Because of the "flow-through" principles applicable to partnerships, if UBTI is earned by the Fund, a tax-exempt investor in the Fund will realize UBTI. Because of the General Partner's objective of maximizing the pre-tax returns of all the Limited Partners, the General Partner may be required to make certain decisions to maximize pre-tax returns that result in tax-exempt investors recognizing more UBTI than might otherwise be the case. In some cases, the General Partner may forgo actions with regard to the acquisition, financing, management and disposition of assets that would reduce UBTI because such actions would reduce the overall pre-tax returns to all the Limited Partners.

Tax Changes. Investors will be subject to the risk that changes to the tax law may adversely affect the federal income tax consequences of their investment in the Fund. Changes in existing tax laws or regulations and their interpretation may be enacted after the date of this Memorandum, possibly with retroactive effect, and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. Certain provisions of the Code may be further amended or interpreted in a manner adverse to the Fund, in which event any benefits derived from an investment in the Fund may be adversely affected. In addition, significant legislative and budgetary proposals affecting tax laws have been made by the legislative and executive branches of the U.S. federal government. The likelihood of enactment of any such proposals, or any similar proposals, into law is uncertain. The enactment of any such proposals, including subsequent proposals, into law could have material adverse effects on the Fund and/or the Limited Partners. Enactment of such legislation, or similar legislation, could require significant restructuring of the Fund in order to mitigate such effects.

The foregoing list of risk factors does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read this entire Memorandum and consult with their own advisers before deciding to invest in the Fund. In addition, as the investment program of the Fund develops and changes over time, an investment in the Fund may be subject to additional and different risk factors. No assurance can be made that profits will be achieved or that substantial losses will not be incurred.

In view of the foregoing considerations, an investment in Interests is suitable only for investors who are capable of bearing the relevant investment risks.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Given the nature and size of Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s ("Highland Capital") operations, various potential conflicts of interest arise in connection with its advisory services and the advisory services provided by its affiliates. Information about Highland Capital and its potential conflicts of interest is provided in Highland Capital's Form ADV Part 2 Brochure that can be found by going to <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Default.aspx>, searching by firm name and selecting the Part 2 Brochure to be viewed. The Fund is subject to these conflicts of interest, as well as the other items discussed below.

None of the Investment Manager, its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees (collectively, the "Highland Group") is precluded from engaging in or owning an interest in other business ventures or investment activities of any kind, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Fund or the Master Fund. The Investment Manager is permitted to manage other client accounts, and does manage other client accounts, some of which may have objectives similar or identical to those of the Master Fund, including other collective investment vehicles that may be managed by the Highland Group and in which the Investment Manager or any of its affiliates may have an equity interest.

The Fund will be subject to a number of actual and potential conflicts of interest involving the Highland Group including, among other things, the fact that: (i) the Highland Group conducts substantial investment activities for accounts, funds, collateralized debt obligations that invest in leveraged loans (collectively, "CDOs") and other vehicles managed by members of the Highland Group ("Highland Accounts") in which the Fund has no interest; (ii) the Highland Group advises Highland Accounts, which utilize the same, similar or different methodologies as the Fund and may have financial incentives (including, without limitation, as it relates to the composition of investors in such funds and accounts or to the Highland Group's compensation arrangements) to favor certain Highland Accounts over the Fund and the Master Fund; (iii) the Highland Group may use the strategy described herein in certain Highland Accounts; (iv) the Investment Manager may give advice and recommend securities to, or buy or sell securities for, the Master Fund, which advice or securities may differ from advice given to, or securities recommended or bought or sold for, Highland Accounts; (v) the Investment Manager has the discretion, to the extent permitted under applicable law, to use its affiliates as service providers to the Fund and the Master Fund and the Master Fund's portfolio investments; (vi) certain investors affiliated with the Highland Group may choose to personally invest only in certain funds advised by the Highland Group and the amounts invested by them in such funds is expected to vary significantly; (vii) the Highland Group and Highland Accounts may actively engage in transactions in the same securities sought by the Master Fund and, therefore, may compete with the Master Fund for investment opportunities or may hold positions opposite to positions maintained on behalf of the Master Fund; and (viii) the Investment Manager will devote to the Master Fund and the Fund only as much time as the Investment Manager deems necessary and appropriate to manage the Master Fund's and the Fund's business.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Fund's investors.

Allocation of Trading Opportunities

It is the policy of the Investment Manager to allocate investment opportunities fairly and equitably over time. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) fiduciary duties owed to the accounts; (ii) the primary mandate of the accounts; (iii) the capital available to the accounts; (iv) any restrictions on the accounts and the investment opportunity; (v) the sourcing of the investment, size of the investment and amount of follow-on available related to the investment; (vi) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (vii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (viii) liquidity requirements of the account; (ix) potentially adverse tax consequences; (x) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (xi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio.

The Investment Manager has the authority to allocate trades to multiple Highland Accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the Investment Manager may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time. One or more of the foregoing considerations may (and are often expected to) result in allocations among the Master Fund and one or more Highland Accounts on other than a pari passu basis. The Investment Manager will allocate investment opportunities across its accounts for which the opportunities are appropriate, consistent with (i) its internal conflict of interest and allocation policies and (ii) the requirements of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended. The Investment Manager will seek to allocate investment opportunities among such entities in a manner that is fair and equitable over time and consistent with its allocation policy, a copy of which will be provided upon request. However, there is no assurance that such investment opportunities will be allocated to the Master Fund fairly or equitably in the short-term or over time and there can be no assurance that the Master Fund will be able to participate in all investment opportunities that are suitable for it

The Investment Manager may open "average price" accounts with brokers. In an "average price" account, purchase and sale orders placed during a trading day on behalf of the Investment Manager, the Master Fund and other accounts managed by the Investment Manager are combined, and securities bought and sold pursuant to such orders are allocated among such accounts on an average price basis.

Cross Transactions and Principal Transactions

As further described below, the Investment Manager may effect client cross-transactions where the Investment Manager causes a transaction to be effected between the Master Fund and another client advised by it or any of its affiliates. The Investment Manager may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Master Fund any time that the Investment Manager believes such transaction to be fair to the Master Fund and such other client. By subscribing for an Interest, a Limited Partner is deemed to have consented to such client cross-transactions between the Master Fund and another client of the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates.

The Investment Manager may direct the Master Fund to acquire or dispose of securities in cross trades between the Master Fund and other clients of the Investment Manager or its affiliates in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. In addition, the Master Fund may invest in securities of obligors or issuers in which the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates have a debt, equity or participation interest, and the holding and sale of such investments by the Master Fund may enhance the profitability of the Investment Manager's own investments in such companies. Moreover, the Master Fund may invest in assets originated by the Investment Manager or its affiliates. In each such case, the Investment Manager and such affiliates may have a potentially conflicting division of loyalties and responsibilities regarding the Master Fund and the other parties to such trade. Under certain circumstances, the Investment Manager and its affiliates may determine that it is appropriate to avoid such conflicts by selling a security at a fair value that has been calculated pursuant to the Investment Manager's valuation procedures to another client managed or advised by the Investment Manager or such affiliates. In addition, the Investment Manager may enter into agency cross-transactions where it or any of its affiliates acts as broker for the Master Fund and for the other party to the transaction, to the extent permitted under applicable law.

The Principal, as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Master Fund (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of interests in the Fund), unless such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

Conflicts Relating to Equity and Debt Ownership by the Master Fund and Affiliates

In certain circumstances, the Master Fund and other client accounts may invest in securities or other instruments of the same issuer (or affiliated group of issuers) having a different seniority in the issuer's capital structure. If the issuer becomes insolvent, restructures or suffers financial distress, there may be a conflict between the interests in the Master Fund and those other accounts insofar as the issuer may be unable (or in the case of a restructuring prior to bankruptcy may be expected to be unable) to satisfy the claims of all classes of its creditors and security holders and the Master Fund and such other accounts may have competing claims for the remaining assets of such issuers. Under these circumstances it may not be feasible for the Investment Manager to reconcile the conflicting interests in the Master Fund and such other accounts in a way that protects the Master Fund's interests. Additionally, the Investment Manager or its nominees may in the future hold board or creditors' committee memberships which may require them to vote or take other actions in such capacities that might be conflicting with respect to certain funds managed by the Investment Manager in that such votes or actions may favor the interests of one account over another account. Furthermore, the Investment Manager's fiduciary responsibilities in these capacities might conflict with the best interests of the investors.

Affiliated Entity Services

Affiliated entities of the Investment Manager may provide services with respect to the Investment Manager, the Master Fund or the Fund. NexBank, SSB ("NexBank SSB") is an affiliate of the Investment Manager and may, from time to time, provide banking and/or agency services to the Investment Manager, clients of the Investment Manager or collective investment vehicles for which the Investment Manager provides investment advisory services (including the Fund, the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Fund (through the Master Fund) may invest) or third parties engaged in transactions involving the Investment Manager. NexBank SSB may also act as an agent in connection with certain securities transactions involving the Investment Manager's client accounts (including the Master Fund and other vehicles in which the Master Fund may invest). Principals of the Investment Manager own a majority of the equity interests in NexBank SSB and employees or affiliates of the Investment Manager own or may own a substantial equity interest in NexBank SSB. Certain Master Fund investment transactions may be executed through NexBank Securities, Inc., an affiliate of the Investment Manager and a registered broker-dealer.

Additionally, the Investment Manager or affiliates of the Investment Manager, including, without limitation, Nexbank SSB, NexBank Securities, Inc., NexBank Capital Advisors and Governance Re, Ltd., may provide financial advisory, management, insurance, title insurance or other services for a fee to portfolio companies in which the Master Fund may have an interest. Highland Latin America Consulting, Ltd., an affiliate of the Investment Manager, has been engaged to provide certain administrative and consulting services to the Investment Manager, as more fully described below in “Management – Services Agreement.”

Management Fee

A portion of any Management Fee may be paid to broker-dealers, placement agents or independent third parties, other than the Investment Manager, for services provided in connection with the solicitation of subscriptions from investors. Accordingly, investors should recognize that a placement agent’s or distributor’s participation in this offering may be influenced by its interest in such current or future fees and compensation. Investors should consider these potential conflicts of interest in making their investment decisions. Each placement agent shall comply with the legal requirements of the jurisdictions within which it offers and sells Interests.

Diverse Membership

The Limited Partners are expected to include entities, persons, or entities organized in various jurisdictions and subject to different tax and regulatory regimes. Such diverse investors may thus have conflicting investment, tax and other interests, relating to, among other things, the nature of investments made by the Master Fund, the structuring or the acquisition of investments and the timing of disposition of investments. As a result, conflicts of interest may arise in connection with decisions made by the Investment Manager including as to the nature and structure of investments that may be more beneficial for one type of Limited Partner than for another type of Limited Partner, including Limited Partners affiliated with the Investment Manager. The results of the Fund’s activities may affect individual Limited Partners differently, depending upon their individual financial and tax situations because, for instance, of the timing of an event of realization of gain or loss and its characterization as long-term or short-term gain or loss. In addition, the Master Fund may make investments that may have a negative impact on related investments made by the Limited Partners in separate transactions. In selecting, structuring and managing investments appropriate for the Master Fund, the Investment Manager will consider the investment and tax objectives of the Master Fund and the Feeder Funds as a whole, not the investment, tax, or other objectives of any Limited Partner individually. However, there can be no assurance that a result will not be more advantageous to some Limited Partners than to others or to the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates than to a particular Limited Partner.

Soft Dollars

The Investment Manager’s authority to use “soft dollar” credits generated by the Master Fund’s securities transactions to pay for expenses that might otherwise have been borne by the Investment Manager or the General Partner may give the Investment Manager an incentive to select brokers or dealers for Master Fund transactions, or to negotiate commission rates or other execution terms, in a manner that takes into account the soft dollar benefits received by the Investment Manager rather than giving exclusive consideration to the interests in the Master Fund. See “Brokerage and Custody.”

No Separate Counsel

Akin Gump Strauss Hauer & Feld LLP (“Akin Gump”) serves as counsel to the Fund, the Master Fund, the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their Affiliates (the “Clients”) in connection with the formation of the Fund and certain other Clients, the offering of Interests as well as certain other matters for which the Clients may engage Akin Gump from time to time. Akin Gump disclaims any obligation to verify the Clients’ compliance with their obligations either under applicable law or the governing documents of the Fund. In acting as counsel to the Clients, Akin Gump has not represented and will not represent any Limited Partners nor does it purport to represent their interests. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the Limited Partners. In assisting in the preparation of this Memorandum, Akin Gump has relied on information provided by the Fund, the Investment Manager and the General Partner and certain of the Fund's other service providers (including, without limitation, the Principal's biographical data, summaries of market conditions, the planned investment strategy of the Master Fund and the performance of the Master Fund, its investments or any predecessor Fund) without verification and does not express a view as to whether such information is accurate or complete.

Maples and Calder, PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands, acts as Cayman Islands legal counsel to the Offshore Fund, the Master Fund and the General Partner. In connection with the offering of interests and subsequent advice to the Offshore Fund, the Master Fund and the General Partner, Maples and Calder will not be representing shareholders and/or limited partners. No independent legal counsel has been retained to represent the shareholders and/or limited partners. Maples and Calder's representation of the General Partner is limited to specific matters as to which it has been consulted by the General Partner. There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Master Fund as to which Maples and Calder has not been consulted. In addition, Maples and Calder does not undertake to monitor compliance by the General Partner and its affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Maples and Calder monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Maples and Calder's responsibility is limited to matters of Cayman Islands law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the General Partner, there are times when the interests of the shareholders/limited partners may differ from those of the Offshore Fund, Master Fund and/or the General Partner. Maples and Calder does not represent the shareholders and/or limited partners' interests in resolving these issues. In reviewing this Memorandum, Maples and Calder has relied upon information furnished to it by the General Partner and has not investigated or verified the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Offshore Fund, Master Fund and/or the General Partner.

Non-Public Information

From time to time, the Investment Manager may come into possession of non-public information concerning specific companies although internal structures are in place to prevent the receipt of such information. Under applicable securities laws, this may limit the Investment Manager's flexibility to buy or sell portfolio securities issued by such companies. The Master Fund's investment flexibility may be constrained as a consequence of the Investment Manager's inability to use such information for investment purposes.

The foregoing list of risk factors and potential conflicts of interest do not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks involved in an investment in the Fund. Prospective investors should read this entire Memorandum and consult with their own legal, tax and financial advisers before deciding to invest in the Fund.

BROKERAGE AND CUSTODY

Brokerage Arrangements

The Investment Manager will be responsible for the placement of the portfolio transactions of the Master Fund and the negotiation of any commissions or spreads paid on such transactions. Portfolio transactions normally will be effected through brokers on securities exchanges or directly with the issuer, or through an underwriter, or market maker or other dealer for the investments. Portfolio transactions through brokers involve a commission to the broker. Portfolio transactions with dealers typically are priced to include a spread between the bid and the asked price to compensate the dealer. Portfolio transactions will be executed by brokers selected solely by the Investment Manager in its absolute discretion. The Investment Manager is not required to weigh any of these factors equally.

Substantially all of the Master Fund's investments in marketable securities, as well as its cash and cash equivalents, are expected to be held at Société Générale and BNP Paribas Prime Brokerage, Inc. or other prime brokers or custodians selected by the Investment Manager. Instruments not constituting marketable securities generally are recorded through book entry by the borrower or by an agent for the borrower or the creditors. Documentary evidence of the acquisition, ownership and disposition of these assets typically will be held by the Administrator.

Société Générale and BNP Paribas Prime Brokerage, Inc. and other prime brokers or their affiliates may provide capital introduction or other placement services to the Fund and the Investment Manager (with or without separate charges for such other services). In determining which broker-dealer generally provides the best available price and most favorable execution, the Investment Manager considers a totality of circumstances, including price quotes, the size of the transaction, the nature of the market for the financial instrument, the timing of the transaction, difficulty of execution, the broker-dealer's expertise in the specific financial instrument or sector in which the Master Fund seeks to trade, the extent to which the broker-dealer makes a market in the financial instrument involved or has access to such markets, the broker-dealer's skill in positioning the financial instruments involved, the broker-dealer's promptness of execution, the broker-dealer's financial stability, reputation for diligence, fairness and integrity, quality of service rendered by the broker-dealer in other transactions for the Investment Manager and its respective affiliates, confidentiality considerations, the quality and usefulness of research services and investment ideas presented by the broker-dealer, the broker-dealer's willingness to correct errors, the broker-dealer's ability to accommodate any special execution or order handling requirements that may surround the particular transaction, and other factors deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager need not solicit competitive bids and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost or spread.

Accordingly, if the Investment Manager concludes that the commissions charged by a broker or the spreads applied by a dealer are reasonable in relation to the quality of services rendered by such broker or dealer (including, without limitation, the value of the brokerage and research products or services provided by such broker or dealer), the Master Fund may pay commissions to, or be subject to spreads applied by, such broker-dealer in an amount greater than the amount another broker-dealer might charge or apply.

The Investment Manager may also execute trades with brokers and dealers with whom the Fund, the Master Fund or the Investment Manager has other business relationships, including prime brokerage, credit relationships and capital introduction or investments by affiliates of the broker-dealers in the Fund or other entities managed by the Investment Manager. However, the Investment Manager does not believe that these other relationships will influence the choice of brokers and dealers who execute trades for the Master Fund.

Research-related goods and services provided by brokers and dealers through which portfolio transactions for the Master Fund are executed, settled and cleared may include research reports on particular industries and companies, economic surveys and analyses, recommendations as to specific securities, certain research services, and other goods and services providing lawful and appropriate assistance to the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities on behalf of the Master Fund and related accounts (collectively, “soft dollar items”).

Soft dollar items may be provided directly by brokers and dealers, by third parties at the direction of brokers and dealers or purchased on behalf of the Master Fund with credits or rebates provided by brokers and dealers. Soft dollar items may arise from over-the-counter principal transactions, as well as exchange traded agency transactions. Brokers and dealers sometimes suggest a level of business they would like to receive in return for the various services they provide. Actual business received by any broker or dealer may be less than the suggested allocations, but can (and often does) exceed the suggestions, because total transaction volume is allocated on the basis of all the considerations described above. A broker or dealer will not be excluded from executing transactions for the Master Fund because it has not been identified as providing soft dollar items.

The use of commissions or “soft dollars” if any, generated by the Master Fund through agency and certain riskless principal transactions to pay for research and research-related products or services, if any, will fall within the safe harbor created by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Under Section 28(e), research products or services obtained with soft dollars generated by the Master Fund may be used by the Investment Manager to service accounts other than the Master Fund. Soft dollars generated in respect of futures, currency and derivatives transactions and principal transactions (that are not riskless principal transactions) do not generally fall within the safe harbor created by Section 28(e) and will be utilized only with respect to research-related products and services for the benefit of the account generating such soft dollars.

Research and brokerage products and services may be used by the Investment Manager in servicing some or all of the Investment Manager’s clients. In addition, some research and brokerage may not be used by the Investment Manager in servicing the clients whose commission dollars provided for the research or brokerage. Clients may not, in any particular instance, be the direct or indirect beneficiaries of the research or brokerage provided. Certain clients, who are the beneficiaries of research or brokerage, may have an investment style which results in the generation of a small amount of brokerage commissions due to a lack of active trading for their accounts. As a result, clients who generate sizeable commissions subsidize research or brokerage provided to clients whose accounts generate minimal brokerage commissions since the commission dollars generated by transactions for such clients are not sufficient to pay for research or brokerage that may be received by such clients from other brokers.

In selecting broker-dealers on the basis of the foregoing factors, the Investment Manager may pay a brokerage commission in excess of that which another broker might have charged for effecting the same transaction. In connection therewith, the Investment Manager will make a good faith determination that the amount of commission is reasonable in relation to the value of the research or brokerage services received, viewed in terms of either the specific transaction or the Investment Manager’s overall responsibility to its clients. The Investment Manager will regularly evaluate the placement of brokerage services and the reasonableness of commissions paid. Research received from brokers will be supplemental to the Investment Manager's own research efforts. While the receipt of research will not reduce the Investment Manager's normal research activities, the Investment Manager's expenses could increase materially if it attempted to generate such additional research or brokerage services through its own staff, and the Management Fee will not be reduced as a consequence of the receipt of such research or brokerage services or products. As such, the Investment Manager's arrangements for the receipt of research and brokerage services from brokers may create a conflict of interest, in that the Investment Manager may have an incentive to choose a broker-dealer that provides research and brokerage services, instead of one that does not but charges a lower commission rate. In some instances, the Investment Manager receives products and services that may be used for both research and non-research purposes. In such instances, the Investment Manager will make a good faith effort to determine the relative proportion of the products and services used to assist the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution, including research and brokerage, and the relative proportion used for administrative or other non-research purposes. The proportionate amount of the research attributable to assisting the Investment Manager in carrying out its investment decision-making responsibilities or order execution will be paid through brokerage commissions generated by the Master Fund's and other client's transactions; the proportionate amount attributable to administrative or other non-research purposes will be paid for by the Investment Manager from its own resources. The receipt of "mixed-use" research and the determination of the appropriate allocation may result in a potential conflict of interest between the Investment Manager and its clients, including the Master Fund.

Custody

The majority of the Master Fund's securities are held in the custody of its prime brokers. The Master Fund is eligible for insurance coverage against loss with respect to assets held in the custody of the prime brokers in the event of the bankruptcy or liquidation of either of the prime brokers to the same extent as that broker's other customers. The Master Fund's and the Fund's cash may be held at banks as well as the prime brokers. Ownership interests which are not represented by certificates generally will be recorded through book-entry systems maintained by the issuer or its agent, and the underlying documentation relating to the acquisition and disposition of these assets for the account of the Master Fund will be held at the business offices of the Investment Manager.

TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Introduction

The following is a summary of certain aspects of the U.S. federal income taxation of the Fund and its Limited Partners arising from the purchase, ownership and disposition of an Interest that should be considered by a prospective Limited Partner. The Fund has not sought a ruling from the Service or any similar state, local or foreign authority with respect to any of the tax issues affecting Limited Partners or the Fund, nor has it obtained an opinion of counsel with respect to any U.S. federal, state, local or foreign tax issues.

This summary is based on the Code, the U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code (the “Treasury Regulations”), judicial decisions, administrative rulings, and state and local tax laws in force on the date of this Memorandum, all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect). Changes in existing laws or regulations and their interpretation may occur after the date of this Memorandum and could alter the income tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. This discussion does not address all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a particular investor, nor does it address, unless specifically indicated, the tax consequences to, among others (i) persons that may be subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax law, including, but not limited to, banks, insurance companies, thrift institutions, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts and dealers in securities or currencies, (ii) persons that will hold Interests as part of a position in a “straddle” or as part of a “hedging,” “conversion” or other integrated investment transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (iii) persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar or (iv) persons that do not hold Interests as capital assets within the meaning of Code Section 1221.

Further, this summary does not address the tax considerations relevant to an investment in the Fund by a person that is not a “United States person” as defined in Section 7701(a)(30) of the Code because this summary assumes that all such persons will invest in the Offshore Fund.

If a partnership holds an Interest in the Fund, the tax treatment of a partner in such partnership will generally depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the Fund. Prospective investors who are partners of a partnership should consult their own tax advisors.

Unless otherwise expressly provided herein, this discussion does not address possible state, local or foreign tax consequences of the purchase, ownership or disposition of Interests, some or all of which may be material to particular investors. This discussion also does not address the potential application of the U.S. federal alternative minimum tax (“AMT”) to the Limited Partners. There is uncertainty concerning certain tax aspects of the Fund, and there can be no assurance that the Service will not challenge the positions taken by the Fund.

THE TAX CONSEQUENCES OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND ARE PARTICULARLY COMPLEX. ACCORDINGLY, PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD NOT CONSIDER THIS DISCUSSION AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR CAREFUL TAX PLANNING. PROSPECTIVE INVESTORS SHOULD CONSULT WITH THEIR OWN TAX ADVISORS, ATTORNEYS OR ACCOUNTANTS ON MATTERS RELATING TO AN INVESTMENT IN THE FUND WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO SUCH INVESTOR’S PARTICULAR SITUATION.

Certain United States Taxation Matters

U.S. Entity Classification of the Fund

The General Partner believes that, under the provisions of the Code and the Treasury Regulations as currently in effect, each of the Fund and the Master Fund should be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation.

Certain “publicly traded partnerships” are treated as associations that are taxable as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A publicly traded partnership is any partnership the interests in which are traded on an established securities market or which are readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof). Interests in the Fund are not and will not be traded on an established securities market. Treasury Regulations concerning the classification of partnerships as publicly traded partnerships provide certain safe harbors under which interests in a partnership will not be considered readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof). The General Partner believes that the Fund may qualify for an exemption from the publicly traded partnership rules, although there is no assurance that the Fund will so qualify.

The remainder of this discussion assumes that the Fund and the Master Fund will each be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and not as a publicly-traded partnership treated as an association that is taxable as a corporation. Unless the context requires otherwise, references to the Fund in the following discussion include the Master Fund.

Taxation of the Master Fund

The Government of the Cayman Islands will not, under existing legislation, impose any income, corporate or capital gains tax, estate duty, inheritance tax, gift tax or withholding tax upon the Master Fund or the limited partners of the Master Fund. Interest, dividends and gains payable to the Master Fund and all distributions by the Master Fund to its limited partners will be received free of any Cayman Islands income or withholding taxes. The Master Fund has registered as an exempted limited partnership under Cayman Islands law and the Master Fund has received an undertaking from the Governor in Cabinet of the Cayman Islands to the effect that, for a period of 50 years from the date of the undertaking, no law which is enacted in the Cayman Islands imposing any tax to be levied on profits or income or gains or appreciations shall apply to the Master Fund or to any partner thereof in respect of the operations or assets of the Master Fund or the interest of a partner therein; and may further provide that any such taxes or any tax in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax shall not be payable in respect of the obligations of the Master Fund or the interests of the partners therein. The Cayman Islands are not party to a double tax treaty with any country that is applicable to any payments made to or by the Master Fund.

U.S. Federal Income Taxation of the Fund and Partners Generally

As a partnership, the Fund will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax. Each Limited Partner otherwise subject to tax will be required to report separately on its U.S. federal income tax return its distributive share of the Fund’s net long-term capital gain or loss, net short-term capital gain or loss, and net ordinary income and deductions and credits in accordance with the allocations set forth in the Partnership Agreement. Each Limited Partner will be liable for any taxes owed upon its distributive share of the income or gains realized by the Fund, and may claim deductions for its distributive share of the Fund’s losses and deductions and credits for its distributive share of the Fund’s credits, to the extent allowed under the Code. Each Limited Partner will be taxed on its distributive share of the Fund’s taxable income and gain regardless of whether it has received or will receive a distribution from the Fund. Consequently, a Limited Partner may be subject to tax with respect to its share of the taxable income of the Fund for a taxable year and may not receive a corresponding distribution of cash from the Fund in such year with which to satisfy its tax liability in respect of such taxable income.

The Fund will file an annual partnership information return with the Service that reports the results of its operations for the taxable year, and will distribute annually to each Limited Partner a form showing its distributive share of the Fund's items of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit. The General Partner will have the authority to decide how to report these items on the Fund's tax returns, and all Limited Partners will be required under the Partnership Agreement to treat the items consistently on their own returns. Under current law, an audit by the Service of the tax treatment of the Fund's income and deductions generally will be determined at the Fund level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Limited Partners. For tax years beginning before January 1, 2018 (and absent an election by the Fund to apply the new partnership tax audit rules described in more detail below), the administrative proceeding is managed by the "Tax Matters Partner." For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2018 (or in the case of an election by the Fund to apply the new partnership tax audit rules), the Fund will be required to appoint one person as the "Partnership Representative" to act on its behalf in connection with an audit by the Service and related proceedings. Pursuant to the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner or its delegate will be designated as the Tax Matters Partner and/or the Partnership Representative. The Partnership Representative's actions, including the Partnership Representative's agreement to adjustments of the Fund's income in settlement of an audit by the Service of the Fund, will bind all Limited Partners, and opt-out rights available to certain Limited Partners in connection with certain actions of the Tax Matters Partner under the current partnership tax audit rules for tax years beginning before January 1, 2018 will no longer be available.

In certain cases, the Fund may be required to file a statement with the Service, disclosing one or more positions taken on its tax return, generally where the tax law is uncertain or a position lacks clear authority. All Partners are required under the Code to treat the partnership items consistently on their own returns, unless they file a statement with the Service disclosing the inconsistency. Given the uncertainty and complexity of the tax laws, it is possible that the Service may not agree with the manner in which the Fund's items have been reported.

Under the Partnership Agreement, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the General Partner has the discretion to allocate specially an amount of the Fund's net gains or net losses (or items of gross income or losses or deduction) to a withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's Capital Account differs either positively or negatively from its U.S. federal income tax basis in its Interest. There can be no assurance that, if the General Partner makes such a special allocation, the Service will accept such allocation. If such allocation is successfully challenged by the Service, the Fund's allocations to the remaining Partners would be affected as well.

The Fund expects to act as a trader or an investor, and not as a dealer, with respect to its securities transactions. Generally, the gains and losses realized by a trader or an investor on the sale of securities are capital gains and losses. Thus, the Fund expects that its gains and losses from its securities transactions typically will be capital gains and capital losses. These capital gains and losses may be long-term or short-term depending, in general, upon the length of time the Fund maintains a particular investment position and, in some cases, upon the nature of the transaction. An investment held for more than one year generally will be eligible for long-term capital gain or loss treatment. The Fund may also realize income from dividends, which will generally be taxed at either ordinary income rates or, if they are eligible for treatment as "qualified dividend income," at applicable long-term capital gains rates.

Dividends from Argentine corporations are generally expected to be treated as “qualified dividend income” only to the extent that the stock for which the dividend is paid is readily tradable on an established securities market in the United States. Limited Partners should consult with their own tax advisors to determine the tax rates applicable to them in their particular tax situations.

In addition, individuals with “modified adjusted gross income” that exceeds certain thresholds (e.g., $250,000 for married individuals filing jointly and $200,000 for single individuals) are subject to a Medicare tax of 3.8% on the lesser of: (i) their investment income, net of deductions properly allocable to such income, and (ii) the excess of their “modified adjusted gross income” above the applicable threshold. It is expected that most or all of the Fund’s income will be treated as investment income for this purpose, and as a result Limited Partners receiving allocations of income from the Fund for these taxable years may be subject to this tax. This tax will be in addition to any U.S. federal income tax imposed on Limited Partners with respect to their allocable share of income of the Fund. Trusts and estates also may be subject to this additional tax. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of this Medicare tax to their investment in the Fund.

The Fund may be involved in a variety of hedging transactions to reduce the risk of changes in value in the Fund’s investments. Special rules may apply to determine the tax treatment of such hedging transactions, which may affect the Fund’s holding period attributable to such property, the characterization of gain or loss as ordinary or capital and, if capital, as long-term or short-term, and the timing of the realization of gains or losses on the actual or deemed sale of the property, including, in some cases, property owned by a Limited Partner outside of the Fund. For instance, gain or loss from a short sale of property generally will be considered as capital gain or loss to the extent the property used to close the short sale constitutes a capital asset in the Fund’s hands. Except with respect to certain situations where the property used by the Fund to close a short sale has a long-term holding period on the date of the short sale, gains on short sales will be treated as short-term capital gains. These rules also may terminate the running of the holding period of “substantially identical property” held by the Fund. Moreover, a loss on a short sale will be treated as a long-term capital loss if, on the date of the short sale, “substantially identical property” has been held by the Fund for more than one year. Certain hedging transactions also may cause a constructive sale of the Fund’s long position that is the subject of the hedge.

Special “mark to market” rules apply to the Fund’s investment in “Section 1256 Contracts.” Section 1256 Contracts include certain regulated futures contracts, certain foreign currency forward contracts and certain options contracts. Capital gains and losses from qualifying Section 1256 Contracts generally are characterized as short-term capital gains or losses to the extent of 40% thereof and as long-term capital gains or losses to the extent of 60% thereof.

The Fund may derive ordinary interest income and dividends on securities, and may be required to recognize income in respect of certain securities prior to receipt of any payment in respect of such securities. For instance, the Fund may hold debt obligations with “original issue discount.” In such case, the Fund will be required to include a portion of such discount in its taxable income on a current basis, and allocate such income to the Limited Partners, even though receipt of such amounts by the Fund may occur in a subsequent tax year. The Fund also may acquire debt obligations with “market discount.” Upon disposition of such an obligation, which might include the receipt of securities of the issuer in a recapitalization exchange, the Fund generally will be required to treat any gain realized (and required to be recognized) as ordinary interest income to the extent of the market discount that accrued during the period the debt obligation was held by the Fund. Recapitalization exchanges involving securities held by the Fund also may result in the recognition of taxable gains prior to the receipt of cash or readily tradable property.

If the Fund is treated as a trader, it may, in its discretion, make an election under Code section 475(f) to apply a mark to market system of recognizing unrealized gains and losses on securities as if the securities were sold for fair market value at the close of any taxable year of the Fund. The amount recognized when gain or loss is subsequently realized would be adjusted for amounts recognized in marking to market. The election would apply with respect to securities held in connection with the Fund's trade or business as a trader in securities. The election would not apply to any securities with respect to which the Fund could demonstrate, to the satisfaction of the Service, that they are held for investment. In the event that the Fund makes such an election, the Fund's gains and losses from marking securities to market (and gain or loss recognized before the end of the taxable year with respect to any security that would have been marked to market) would be treated as ordinary income and losses. The rules relating to appreciated financial positions under Code section 1259 and wash sales under Code section 1091 would not apply to the securities to which the election applies and the Code section 1092 straddle rules would not have any effect where all the offsetting positions of a straddle are marked to market.

The Fund may be required to purchase foreign currency with which to make its investments and may receive foreign currency when a security is sold or when an interest payment is made on a security. These transactions may give rise to gains and losses because of fluctuations in the value of the foreign currency relative to the U.S. dollar during the Fund's holding period of an investment. Foreign currency gain or loss in respect of certain types of transactions must be accounted for separately, apart from any gain or loss on the underlying transaction, and the Code contains special rules which treat, in most circumstances, such gains and losses as ordinary income or losses rather than capital gains or losses.

The U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Fund's investment in swaps or other derivatives is subject to significant uncertainty and depends in large part on the terms of the specific swap or other derivative. In particular, it is possible that the Fund may enter into so-called "bullet swaps" or other swaps that provide for non-periodic payments. In certain circumstances, income from a swap can be treated as ordinary income and not capital gain if the swap is treated as a "constructive ownership transaction" under Code section 1260. The Fund intends to take positions that are reasonable under the law that provide for optimal tax treatment of the Limited Partners. However, there can be no assurance that the Service or a court would agree with the Fund's position. Moreover, the Service might take the contrary position that the Fund is subject to U.S. federal income tax in respect of some or all of the income earned from the swap investments on the theory that the Fund should be treated as the owner for U.S. federal income tax purposes of the property underlying certain swaps, in which case the after-tax return on the swap investments could be significantly reduced.

Pursuant to various "anti-deferral" provisions of the Code (e.g., the "Subpart F" and "passive foreign investment company" provisions), any investments by the Fund in certain foreign corporations may cause a Limited Partner to (i) recognize taxable income prior to the Fund's receipt of distributable proceeds, (ii) pay an interest charge on receipts that are deemed as having been deferred, (iii) recognize ordinary income that, but for the "anti-deferral" provisions, would have been treated as long-term or short-term capital gain, or (iv) become subject to certain reporting requirements with respect to such investments. There can be no assurance that the General Partner or the Fund will mitigate, or be able to mitigate, the application of these provisions, or provide certain information with respect to such foreign corporations or such filing requirements. Potential investors are advised to consult with their own tax advisors with respect to the application of these “anti-deferral provisions” in their particular circumstances.

Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the authority to elect on behalf of the Fund, under Code section 754, to adjust the tax basis of the Fund’s assets in connection with certain distributions to Limited Partners or certain transfers of Interests. Such an election, if made, could affect the amount of a Limited Partner’s distributive share of the gain or loss recognized by the Fund upon the disposition of its assets. Because of the complexity and additional expense involved in making a section 754 election, the General Partner has no present intention to make such election on behalf of the Fund.

Prospective investors that are subject to the AMT should consider the tax consequences of an investment in the Fund in view of their AMT position, taking into account the special rules that apply in computing the AMT.

Taxation of Distributions and Withdrawals

Cash nonliquidating distributions and withdrawals, to the extent they do not exceed a Limited Partner’s basis in its Interest, will not result in taxable income to that Limited Partner, but will reduce its tax basis in its Interest by the amount distributed or withdrawn. Cash distributed to a Limited Partner in excess of the basis of its Interest is generally taxable as capital gain. Conversely, if the cash distributed by the Fund to a Partner for any year exceeds the taxable income of the Fund allocated to such Partner for that year, the excess will be treated as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of a Limited Partner’s tax basis in its Interest. To the extent that cash distributions are treated as a return of capital and to the extent that any tax losses are allocated to the Limited Partners, the tax bases of the Limited Partners in their Interests will be reduced (but not below zero). Because of such basis adjustments, any tax that is avoided in the early years of a Limited Partner’s investment in the Fund may become due later through the realization of gain upon the sale of assets of the Fund, the liquidation of the Fund or the sale of Interests.

Prospective Limited Partners should be aware that a Limited Partner’s share of the taxable income of the Fund for any year may exceed the amount of cash distributed to such Limited Partner for that year, which may require that the Limited Partner make an out-of-pocket expenditure to cover its tax liability. Conversely, if the cash distributed by the Fund to a Partner for any year exceeds the taxable income of the Fund allocated to such Partner for that year, the excess will be treated as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes to the extent of a Limited Partner’s tax basis of its Interest. To the extent that cash distributions are treated as a return of capital and to the extent that any tax losses are allocated to the Limited Partners, the tax bases of the Limited Partners in their Interests will be reduced (but not below zero). Because of such basis adjustments, any tax that is avoided in the early years of a Limited Partner’s investment in the Fund may become due later through the realization of gain upon the sale of assets of the Fund, the liquidation of the Fund or the sale of Interests.

The Fund’s ability to make cash distributions to a withdrawing Limited Partner or to the Partners, if applicable, may be limited by, among other things, the terms of the investment leverage entered into by the Fund for the purpose of making portfolio investments on a leveraged basis.

Upon the withdrawal of a Limited Partner receiving a cash liquidating distribution from the Fund, such Limited Partner generally will recognize capital gain or loss to the extent of the difference between the proceeds received by the withdrawing Limited Partner and such Partner’s adjusted tax basis in its Interest. Such capital gain or loss will be short-term or long-term depending upon the Partner’s holding period (or holding periods) for its Interest. However, a withdrawing Limited Partner will recognize ordinary income to the extent such Partner's allocable share of the Fund's "unrealized receivables" exceeds the Partner's basis in such unrealized receivables (as determined pursuant to the Treasury Regulations). For these purposes, accrued but untaxed market discount, if any, on securities held by the Fund will be treated as an unrealized receivable, with respect to which a withdrawing Partner would recognize ordinary income.

Distributions of property other than cash, whether in complete or partial liquidation of a Limited Partner's Interest, generally will not result in the recognition of taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner (except to the extent such distribution is treated as made in exchange for such Limited Partner's share of the Fund's unrealized receivables). However, a distribution of marketable securities will be treated as a distribution of cash (which, as described above, can require the recognition of gain by the recipient Limited Partner), unless the distributing partnership is an "investment partnership" and the recipient is an "eligible partner" as defined in Code section 731(c). Although the General Partner cannot provide any assurances of whether the Fund is an "investment partnership" for these purposes, the General Partner anticipates that the Fund should qualify as an "investment partnership." Thus, if a Limited Partner is an "eligible partner," which term should include a Limited Partner whose sole contributions to the Fund consisted of cash, a distribution of marketable securities to such Limited Partner should not require the recognition of gain by such Limited Partner.

As discussed above, under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the discretion to allocate specially an amount of the Fund's net gains or net losses (or items of gross income or losses or deductions) for U.S. federal income tax purposes to a withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's capital account differs from its U.S. federal income tax basis in its Interest. Such a special allocation may result in the withdrawing Partner recognizing more or less taxable income, which may include short-term gain, in the Partner's last taxable year in the Fund, thereby reducing, or increasing, as applicable, the amount of long-term capital gain recognized during the tax year in which it receives its liquidating distribution upon withdrawal. In certain circumstances, special allocations of net gains (or items of income or gain) to a withdrawing Partner may result in a greater allocation of losses, or a lower allocation of taxable income or gain, to the remaining Partners. Likewise, special allocations of net losses (or items of expense, loss or deduction) to a withdrawing Partner may result in a greater allocation of taxable income or gain, or a lower allocation of losses, to the remaining Partners.

Assuming the Fund has not made an election pursuant to Code Section 754 and the General Partner does not exercise its discretion to specially allocate losses to a withdrawing Limited Partner, distributions of property or cash by the Fund to a Limited Partner in redemption of its Interest in certain circumstances where the Fund has a substantial built-in loss may require the Fund to reduce the tax basis of its remaining property.

Limitations on Losses, Deductions and Credits

Limited Partners who are individuals or which are certain types of corporations may be limited in their ability to deduct expenses or losses of the Fund. For instance, if or to the extent that the Fund's operations do not constitute a "trade or business" within the meaning of Section 162 and other provisions of the Code, an individual Limited Partner's distributive share of the Fund's expenses (including any amounts that are treated for tax purposes as expenses of the Fund, such as the Management Fee) would be deductible only as itemized deductions, subject to the limitations of Sections 67 and 68 of the Code. In this regard, if all or a portion of the Performance Allocation to the Special Limited Partner were re-characterized for tax purposes as an expense of the Fund, each non-corporate Limited Partner's share of such expense could be subject to such limitations. Itemized deductions are non-deductible in computing such Limited Partner's AMT income and AMT liability.

Further, income, gains and losses of the Fund generally will not be treated as passive income or losses for purposes of the passive activity loss limitations of Section 469 of the Code. Accordingly, individuals, personal service corporations and certain closely-held corporations that have passive activity losses from other activities are restricted in their ability to use such losses to offset income and gains from the Fund, although losses of the Fund will not be subject to the passive activity loss limitation.

For each taxable year, Section 1277 of the Code limits the deduction of the portion of any interest expense on indebtedness incurred by a taxpayer to purchase or carry a security with market discount which exceeds the amount of interest (including original issue discount) includible in the taxpayer's gross income for such taxable year with respect to such security ("Net Interest Expense"). Net Interest Expense in any taxable year is deductible only to the extent it exceeds the amount of market discount which accrued on the security during the taxable year or portion of the taxable year during which the taxpayer held the security. Net Interest Expense that is non-deductible under the rules described above is carried forward and deducted in the year in which the taxpayer disposes of the security. Alternatively, at the taxpayer's election, such Net Interest Expense can be carried forward and deducted in a year prior to the disposition of the security, if any, in which the taxpayer has net interest income from the security.

Section 1277 would apply to a Limited Partner's share of the Fund's Net Interest Expense attributable to a security held by the Fund (through the Master Fund) with market discount. In such case, a Limited Partner would be denied a current deduction for all or part of that portion of its distributive share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to such Net Interest Expense and such losses would be carried forward to future years, in each case as described above. Although no guidance has been issued regarding the election to deduct previously disallowed Net Interest Expense prior to the year of disposition of the bond, it appears that the election would be made by the Fund rather than by the Limited Partner. Section 1277 would also apply to the portion of interest paid by a Limited Partner on money borrowed to finance its investment in the Fund to the extent such interest was allocable to securities held by the Fund (through the Master Fund) with market discount.

The ability of a non-corporate Limited Partner to deduct its share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and certain short sale expenses may be subject to the "investment interest limitation" under Section 163(d) of the Code. In general, a non-corporate taxpayer's investment interest (including interest and certain short sale expenses) in the current year is not deductible to the extent it exceeds its "net investment income", consisting of net gain and ordinary income derived from investments in the current year less certain directly connected expenses (other than interest or short sale expenses). For this purpose, any long-term capital gain is excluded from net investment income unless the taxpayer elects to pay tax on such amount at ordinary income tax rates. The Fund's activities are expected to be treated as giving rise to investment income for a Limited Partner, and the investment interest limitation would apply to a non-corporate Limited Partner's share of the interest and short sale expenses attributable to the Fund's operation. Accordingly, a non-corporate Limited Partner would be denied a deduction for all or a part of its distributive share of the Fund's ordinary losses attributable to interest and short sale expenses unless it has sufficient investment income from all sources, including the Fund. Any amount not deductible as a result of the applicability of Section 163(d) may be carried forward to future years, subject to certain limitations.

Limited Partners may be entitled to a foreign tax credit with respect to creditable foreign taxes paid on the income and gains of the Fund. There are complex rules contained in the Code that may, depending on each Limited Partner's particular circumstances, limit the availability or use of foreign tax credits. For example, a Limited Partner's share of gain realized by the Fund will generally be treated as U.S. source income. Consequently, a Limited Partner may not be able to use the foreign tax credit relating to foreign taxes, if any, imposed on such gains unless such credit can be applied against the U.S. tax due on other income derived from foreign sources. Limited Partners should contact their own tax advisors with respect to the availability of any foreign tax credits.

The consequences of these limitations will vary depending upon the particular tax situation of each taxpayer. Accordingly, non-corporate Limited Partners should consult their tax advisors with respect to the application of these limitations.

The Fund may incur certain expenses in connection with its organization and the marketing of its Interests. Amounts paid or incurred to organize a partnership are not deductible, but generally may, by election of the Fund, be capitalized and amortized for U.S. federal income tax purposes over a period of not less than 180 months. Amounts paid or incurred to market interests in the Fund that qualify as "syndication expenses" are not deductible or amortizable.

Tax Consequences for Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors

A Limited Partner that is an organization exempt from tax under Code section 501(a) (a "Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor") will be subject to tax on its allocable share of the Fund's income that is considered to be "unrelated business taxable income" ("UBTI") as defined in Code section 512, and may be subject to the AMT with respect to items of tax preference which enter into the computation of UBTI. Code section 512(b) provides that UBTI generally does not include dividends, interest, and gain or loss from the disposition of property other than stock in trade or property held for sale in the ordinary course of the unrelated trade or business. The Fund may invest in entities that are treated as partnerships or other pass-through entities. UBTI generated by such entities would generally flow up to Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors, causing the realization of UBTI by such investors. A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor should not realize UBTI to the extent that its distributive share of the Fund's income consists of dividends, interest, capital gains and certain other items which are excluded from UBTI under Code section 512(b) (except to the extent any such income constitutes "UDFI," as discussed in the next paragraph). Prospective Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors should be aware that it is unclear under current law whether income from certain swaps or derivative transactions that the Fund may invest or hold a position in, may be excluded from UBTI.

A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor is also subject to tax with respect to its, and its allocable share of the Fund's, "unrelated debt-financed income" pursuant to Code section 514 ("UDFI"). In general, UDFI consists of (i) income derived by a tax-exempt organization (directly or through a partnership) from income-producing property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the taxable year and (ii) gains derived by a tax-exempt organization (directly or through a partnership) from the disposition of property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness." In addition, a tax-exempt organization that borrows money to finance its investment in the Fund would be subject to tax on the portion of its income that is UDFI. Income and gains derived by a tax-exempt organization from the ownership and sale of debt-financed property is taxable in the proportion to which such property is financed by acquisition indebtedness during the relevant period of time. For these purposes, a Limited Partner is deemed to own a proportionate share of the Fund's debt-financed property and the income attributable thereto, and a short sale of publicly traded stock will not create "acquisition indebtedness" unless the Fund borrows funds to post collateral against such short sale.

The Fund expects to generate income attributable to debt-financed property which will be attributed to the Partners, including any Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors. A Tax-Exempt U.S. Investor's share of the Fund's income that is treated as UBTI may be significant (depending upon the degree of leverage utilized by the Fund). In addition to other relevant considerations, fiduciaries of employee pension trusts and other prospective tax-exempt investors should consider the consequences of realizing UBTI in making a decision whether to invest in the Fund.

We urge prospective Tax-Exempt U.S. Investors that are sensitive to UBTI or UDFI to consult their tax advisors as to the tax consequences of investing in the Fund and as to the comparative tax treatment of an investment in the Offshore Fund.

Investor Tax Filings and Record Retention.

The U.S. Department of the Treasury has adopted Treasury Regulations designed to assist the Service in identifying abusive tax shelter transactions. In general, the Treasury Regulations require investors in specified transactions (including certain investors in partnerships that engage in such transactions) to satisfy certain special tax filing and record retention requirements. Significant monetary penalties may be applicable as a result of a failure to comply with these tax filing and record retention rules.

The Treasury Regulations are broad in scope and it is conceivable that the Fund may enter into transactions that will subject the Fund and certain Limited Partners to the special tax filing and record retention rules. Additionally, a Limited Partner's recognition of a loss on its disposition of its Interest in the Fund could in certain circumstances subject such Limited Partner to these rules.

Reporting Under FATCA.

Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, known as the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (together with any regulations, rules and other guidance implementing such Code sections and any applicable intergovernmental agreement ("IGA") or information exchange agreement and related statutes, regulations, rules and other guidance thereunder, "FATCA") impose a withholding tax of 30% on (i) certain U.S. source interest, dividends and other types of income, and (ii) the gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of certain assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest and dividends, which are received by a foreign financial institution ("FFI"), unless such FFI enters into an agreement with the Service (an "FFI Agreement"), and/or complies with an applicable IGA, to obtain certain information as to the identity of the direct and indirect owners of accounts in such institution. In addition, a withholding tax may be imposed on payments to certain non-financial foreign entities that do not obtain and provide information as to their direct and indirect owners. These rules generally apply to payments of U.S. source interest, dividends and certain other types of income from U.S. sources and, after December 31, 2018, are expected to apply to payments of gross proceeds from the sale or disposition of assets of a type that can produce U.S. source interest or dividends.

The Service has released temporary and final Treasury Regulations and other guidance that will be used in implementing FATCA, which contain a number of phase-in dates for FATCA compliance. In addition, the Cayman Islands has entered into a Model 1 IGA with the United States (the "Cayman-U.S. IGA"), which is treated as in effect, and has issued the Tax Information Authority (International Tax Compliance) (United States of America) Regulations 2014 and guidance notes thereunder, each as updated from time to time.

The Master Fund is likely to be considered an FFI. In order to avoid incurring U.S. withholding under FATCA, the Master Fund is generally required to register with the Service and to comply with the Cayman-U.S. IGA and any guidance thereunder. The Master Fund expects to register with the Service and expects to comply with the Cayman-U.S. IGA and, therefore, generally does not expect to become subject to U.S. withholding under FATCA.

In addition, the Fund may be required to act as a withholding agent under FATCA and therefore be required to withhold on income and proceeds paid or allocated to an investor that fails to comply with FATCA, which could occur if an investor that is an FFI does not enter into an FFI Agreement, is not otherwise exempt from such withholding, and/or does not provide the appropriate information and documentation to the Fund or its agents showing its exemption from such withholding or compliance with FATCA. The General Partner intends to collect the appropriate documentation from all investors in the Fund in order to determine whether it is required to withhold under FATCA with respect to distributions or allocations made to investors.

The General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Fund reserve the right to take any action and/or pursue all remedies at their disposal to avoid withholding requirements or otherwise to mitigate the consequences of an investor's failure to comply with FATCA, including compulsory redemption or withdrawal of the investor concerned. In this regard, the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Fund have certain rights to request, and the investors have certain obligations to provide, information and documentation that may be used by the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Fund in complying with their obligations under FATCA. In addition, no investor affected by any action or remedy by the Fund shall have any claim against the Fund, the Administrator, the Investment Manager, the Master Fund or the General Partner (or their agents, delegates, employees, directors, officers or affiliates) for any form of damages or liability as a result of actions taken or remedies pursued by or on behalf of the Fund in order to comply with FATCA.

The Cayman Islands has also signed, along with over 80 other countries, a multilateral competent authority agreement to implement the OECD Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information – Common Reporting Standard (“CRS” and together with the Cayman-U.S. IGA, “AEOI”).

Cayman Islands regulations have been issued to give effect to the Cayman-U.S. IGA and CRS (collectively, the “AEOI Regulations”). Pursuant to the AEOI Regulations, the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority (the “TIA”) has published guidance notes on the application of the Cayman-U.S. IGA and CRS.

All Cayman Islands “Financial Institutions” are required to comply with the registration, due diligence and reporting requirements of the AEOI Regulations, unless they are able to rely on an exemption that allows them to become a “Non-Reporting Financial Institution” (as defined in the relevant AEOI Regulations) with respect to one or more of the AEOI regimes, in which case only the registration requirement would apply under CRS. The Master Fund does not propose to rely on any Non-Reporting Financial Institution exemption and therefore intends to comply with all of the requirements of the AEOI Regulations.

The AEOI Regulations require the Master Fund and/or the General Partner (as applicable) to, amongst other things (i) register with the Service to obtain a GIIN (in the context of the U.S. IGA only), (ii) register with the TIA, and thereby notify the TIA of its status as a “Reporting Financial Institution”, (iii) adopt and implement written policies and procedures setting out how it will address its obligations under CRS, (iv) conduct due diligence on its accounts to identify whether any such accounts are considered “Reportable Accounts”, and (v) report information on such Reportable Accounts to the TIA. The TIA will transmit the information reported to it to the overseas fiscal authority relevant to a reportable account (e.g. the Service in the case of a US Reportable Account) annually on an automatic basis.

Investors should consult their tax advisors as to the withholding, filing and information reporting requirements that may be imposed on them in respect of their ownership of Interests.

State and Local Taxes

In addition to the U.S. federal income tax consequences described above, prospective investors should consider potential state and local tax consequences of an investment in the Fund. State and local laws often differ from U.S. federal income tax laws with respect to the treatment of specific items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. A Partner’s distributive share of the taxable income or loss of the Fund generally will be required to be included in determining its reportable income for state and local tax purposes in the jurisdiction in which it is a resident.

Limited Partners or the Fund may be subject to state and/or local franchise, withholding, income, capital gain or other tax payment obligations and filing requirements in those jurisdictions where the Fund owns real estate assets or is otherwise regarded as doing business or earning income. Credits for these taxes may not be available (or may be subject to limitations) in the jurisdictions in which Limited Partners, or the Fund, as applicable, are residents. Each potential investor is urged to consult with its own tax advisor in this regard.

Each prospective Limited Partner should consult its own tax advisor with respect to its state and local tax consequences and filing obligations as a result of an investment in the Fund.

Other Taxes

The Fund and its Limited Partners may be subject to other taxes, such as the AMT, and estate, inheritance or intangible property taxes that may be imposed by various domestic jurisdictions, as well as foreign withholding or gains taxes. Each prospective investor should consider the potential consequences of such taxes on an investment in the Fund. It is the responsibility of each prospective investor to satisfy itself as to, among other things, the legal and tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, under the laws of the various jurisdictions of its domicile and its residence, by obtaining advice from its own tax counsel or other advisor, and to file all appropriate tax returns that may be required.

Other Income Taxation

Although there can be no assurance, it is intended that the affairs of the Fund will be conducted such that the Fund will not be subject to regular income taxation in any foreign jurisdiction. However, income and gains from investments held by the Fund may be subject to withholding taxes or taxes in jurisdictions other than those described herein, subject to the possibility of reduction under applicable tax treaties. Limited Partners generally may be entitled, subject to applicable limitations, to a credit against U.S. income tax for creditable foreign income taxes paid on the foreign source income and gains of the Fund (which may not include all of the Fund’s gains). The foreign tax credit rules are complex, and may, depending on each Limited Partner’s particular circumstances, limit the availability or use of foreign tax credits. Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the foreign tax credit rules.

Future Tax Legislation; Necessity of Obtaining Professional Advice

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Treasury Regulations, administrative rulings or decisions by the Service or judicial decisions may adversely affect the U.S. federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Fund, with or without advance notice, retroactively or prospectively. The foregoing analysis is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Fund are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. There can be no assurance that the Service will agree with each position taken by the Fund with respect to the tax treatment of Fund items and transactions. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on Limited Partners will vary with the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner and, in reviewing this Memorandum and any exhibits hereto, these matters should be considered.

Accordingly, each prospective investor must consult with and rely solely on its professional tax advisors with respect to the tax results of its investment in the Fund. In no event will the Fund, the General Partner, the Investment Manager, or their Affiliates, counsel or other professional advisors be liable to any Limited Partner for any U.S. federal, state, local or foreign tax consequences of an investment in the Fund, whether or not such consequences are as described above.

The foregoing is a summary of some of the important tax rules and considerations affecting the Limited Partners, the Fund, and the Fund's proposed operations. This summary does not purport to be a complete analysis of all relevant tax rules and considerations, which will vary with the particular circumstances of each Limited Partner, nor does it purport to be a complete listing of all potential tax risks inherent in purchasing or holding Interests. Each prospective investor in the Fund is urged to consult its own tax advisor in order to understand fully the U.S. federal, state, local and any non-U.S. tax consequences of such an investment in its particular situation.

ERISA AND OTHER REGULATORY CONSIDERATIONS

ERISA Considerations

General

Fiduciaries and other persons who are proposing to invest in Interests on behalf of retirement plans, IRAs and other employee benefit plans (“Plans”) covered by the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”), or the Code, must give appropriate consideration to, among other things, the role that an investment in the Fund plays in the Plan’s portfolio, taking into consideration whether the investment is designed to reasonably further the Plan’s purposes, the investment’s risk and return factors, the portfolio’s composition with regard to diversification, the liquidity and current return of the total portfolio relative to the anticipated cash flow needs of the Plan, the projected return of the total portfolio relative to the Plan’s objectives, the limited right of Limited Partners to withdraw all or any part of their Interests or to transfer their Interests and whether investment in the Fund constitutes a direct or indirect transaction with a party in interest (under ERISA) or a disqualified person (under the Code).

Plan Asset Regulations and Benefit Plan Investors

The United States Department of Labor (“DOL”) has adopted regulations that treat the assets of certain pooled investment vehicles, such as the Fund, as “plan assets” for purposes of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code (“Plan Assets”). Section 3(42) of ERISA defines the term “Plan Assets” to mean plan assets as defined by such regulations as the DOL may prescribe, except that under such regulations the assets of an entity shall not be treated as Plan Assets if, immediately after the most recent acquisition of an equity interest in the entity, less than 25% of the total value of each class of equity interest in the entity is held by “Benefit Plan Investors” (the “significant participation test”). For purposes of this determination, the value of any equity interest held by a person (other than such a Benefit Plan Investor) who has discretionary authority or control with respect to the assets of the entity or any person who provides investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, or any affiliate of such a person, shall be disregarded. An entity shall be considered to hold Plan Assets only to the extent of the percentage of the equity interest held by Benefit Plan Investors. The term “Benefit Plan Investors” means any employee benefit plan subject to part 4 of subtitle B of Title I of ERISA (i.e., plans subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA), any plan to which the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 4975 of the Code apply (e.g., IRAs), and any entity whose underlying assets include Plan Assets by reason of a plan’s investment in such entity (a “Plan Asset Entity”).

In order to prevent the assets of the Master Fund from being considered Plan Assets under ERISA, it is the intention of the Master Fund to monitor the investments in the Master Fund and prohibit the acquisition, withdrawal or transfer of any limited partner interests of the Master Fund by any investor, including a Benefit Plan Investor, unless, after giving effect to such an acquisition, withdrawal or transfer, the total proportion of limited partner interests of each class of the Master Fund owned by Benefit Plan Investors would be less than 25% of the aggregate value of that class of limited partner interests (determined, as described above, by excluding certain limited partner interests held by the General Partner, other fiduciaries and affiliates).

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in order to limit equity participation in any class of limited partner interests of the Master Fund by Benefit Plan Investors to less than 25%, the Fund may require the Compulsory Withdrawal of Interests. Each Limited Partner that is an insurance company acting on behalf of its general account or a Plan Asset Entity will be required to represent and warrant as of the date it acquires Interests the maximum percentage of such general account or Plan Asset Entity (as reasonably determined by such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity) that will constitute Plan Assets (the “Maximum Percentage”) so such percentage can be calculated in determining the percentage of Plan Assets invested in the Master Fund. Further, each such insurance company and Plan Asset Entity will be required to covenant that if, after its initial acquisition of Interests, the Maximum Percentage is exceeded at any time, then such insurance company or Plan Asset Entity shall immediately notify the Fund of that occurrence and shall, if and as directed by the Fund, in a manner consistent with the restrictions on transfer set forth herein, withdraw or dispose of some or all of the Interests held in its general account or Plan Asset Entity.

It is anticipated that investment in the Fund by benefit plan investors may be “significant” for purposes of the regulations. In such event, the underlying assets of the Fund would be deemed to constitute “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA. As a general rule, if the assets of the Fund were regarded as “plan assets” of a benefit plan investor, the Investment Manager would be deemed a fiduciary with respect to each Plan investing in the Fund. However, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and given the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each benefit plan investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s subscription agreement, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Master Fund, neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund would be exercising any discretionary authority or control with respect to the Fund. Accordingly, the Investment Manager believes that neither the Investment Manager nor any other entity providing services to the Fund will act as a fiduciary (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA) with respect to the assets of the Fund or any benefit plan investor. Rather, the Investment Manager believes that, given the limited purpose and role of the Fund and given the requirement that the Investment Manager follow the directions of the fiduciaries of each benefit plan investor investing in the Fund, as set forth in each such investor’s subscription agreement, with respect to the investment by the Fund in the Master Fund, the fiduciary of each such benefit plan investor has retained the fiduciary authority and responsibility with respect to the investor’s initial and continuing investment in the Fund as though the benefit plan investor is investing directly in the Master Fund.

Representation by Plans

The fiduciaries of each Plan proposing to invest in the Fund will be required to represent that they have been informed of and understand the Fund’s investment objectives, policies and strategies and that the decision to invest Plan Assets in the Fund is consistent with the provisions of ERISA and/or the Code that require diversification of Plan Assets and impose other fiduciary responsibilities. By its purchase, each investor will be deemed to have represented that either (a) it is not a Plan that is subject to the prohibited transaction rules of ERISA or the Code, (b) it is not an entity whose assets include Plan Assets or (c) its investment in the Fund will not constitute a non-exempt prohibited transaction under ERISA or the Code.

Ineligible Purchasers

Limited partner interests may not be purchased with Plan Assets if the Investment Manager, any selling agent, finder, any of their respective affiliates or any of their respective employees: (a) has investment discretion with respect to the investment of such Plan Assets; (b) has authority or responsibility to give or regularly gives investment advice with respect to such Plan Assets, for a fee, and pursuant to an agreement or understanding that such advice will serve as a primary basis for investment decisions with respect to such Plan Assets and that such advice will be based on the particular investment needs of the Plan; or (c) is an employer maintaining or contributing to such Plan. A party that is described in clause (a) or (b) of the preceding sentence is a fiduciary under ERISA and the Code with respect to the Plan, and any such purchase might result in a “prohibited transaction” under ERISA and the Code.

Plans’ Reporting Obligations

The information contained herein and in the other documentation provided to investors in connection with an investment in the Fund is intended to satisfy the alternative reporting option for “eligible indirect compensation” on Schedule C of the Form 5500, in addition to the other purposes for which such documents were created.

Whether or not the underlying assets of the Fund are deemed Plan Assets, an investment in the Fund by a Plan is subject to ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, Plan fiduciaries should consult their own counsel as to the consequences under ERISA and the Code of an investment in the Fund. Note that similar laws governing the investment and management of the assets of governmental or non-U.S. plans may contain fiduciary and prohibited transaction requirements similar to those under ERISA and the Code. Accordingly, fiduciaries of such governmental or non-U.S. plans, in consultation with their counsel, should consider the impact of their respective laws and regulations on an investment in the Fund.

Other Regulatory Matters

Securities Act of 1933

Interests are not registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), or any other securities law, including state securities or blue sky laws. Interests are offered without registration in reliance upon the exemption contained in Regulation D of the Securities Act and/or rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission applicable to transactions not involving a public offering. Each investor is required, in the Fund’s Subscription Documents pursuant to which such investor subscribes for an Interest, to make customary Regulation D representations.

Investment Company Act of 1940

The Fund is not registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Investment Company Act”), in reliance upon relief from registration afforded to collective investment vehicles whose outstanding securities are not publicly offered and are beneficially owned exclusively by investors that are considered “qualified purchasers” within the meaning of the Investment Company Act. “Qualified purchasers” generally include individuals and certain family-owned companies owning total investments in excess of $5 million and entities owning total investments in excess of $25 million. Each investor will be required to complete the Fund’s Subscription Documents to enable the Fund to determine its eligibility.

Investment Adviser Registration

The Investment Manager is registered as relying adviser to Highland Capital Management, L.P., an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended.

Commodity Exchange Act

Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is required to register as a commodity pool operator (“CPO”) or commodity trading advisor under the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act and each has filed a notice of claim effectuating exemption. As such, the General Partner and the Investment Manager will operate the Fund and the Master Fund pursuant to such exemption. Unlike a registered CPO, the General Partner and the Investment Manager are not required to deliver a disclosure document and a certified annual report to participants in the Fund. Among other things, the exemption requires the General Partner and the Investment Manager to file a claim of exemption with the National Futures Association. The Investment Manager qualifies for an exemption from registration with the CFTC as a commodity trading adviser pursuant to CFTC Rule 4.14(a)(8).

Cayman Islands Mutual Fund Law

The Offshore Fund and the Master Fund are regulated under the Mutual Funds Law (2015 Revision) of the Cayman Islands (“Mutual Funds Law”). The Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (the “Authority”) has supervisory and enforcement powers to ensure compliance with the Mutual Funds Law. Regulation under the Mutual Funds Law entails the filing of prescribed details and audited accounts annually with the Authority. As a regulated mutual fund, the Authority may at any time instruct the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund to have its or their accounts audited and to submit them to the Authority within such time as the Authority specifies. Failure to comply with these requests by the Authority may result in substantial fines on the part of the directors of the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund, as applicable, and may result in the Authority applying to the court to have the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund wound up.

Neither the Offshore Fund nor the Master Fund is, however, subject to supervision in respect of their investment activities or the constitution of the Master Fund's portfolio by the Authority or any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands, although the Authority does have power to investigate the activities of the Offshore Fund and the Master Fund in certain circumstances. Neither the Authority nor any other governmental authority in the Cayman Islands has commented upon or approved the terms or merits of this document. There is no investment compensation scheme available to investors in the Cayman Islands.

The Authority may take certain actions if it is satisfied that a regulated mutual fund is or is likely to become unable to meet its obligations as they fall due or is carrying on or is attempting to carry on business or is winding up its business voluntarily in a manner that is prejudicial to its investors or creditors. The powers of the Authority include the power to require the substitution of the directors of the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund, to appoint a person to advise the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund on the proper conduct of its affairs or to appoint a person to assume control of the affairs of the Offshore Fund or the Master Fund, as the case may be. There are other remedies available to the Authority including the ability to apply to court for approval of other actions.

The Master Fund and the General Partner or any of its members or agents domiciled in the Cayman Islands may be compelled to provide information, subject to a request for information made by a regulatory or governmental authority or agency under applicable law; e.g. by the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority, either for itself or for a recognised overseas regulatory authority, under the Monetary Authority Law (2016 Revision), or by the Tax Information Authority, under the Tax Information Authority Law (2017 Revision) or Reporting of Savings Income Information (European Union) Law (2014 Revision) and associated regulations, agreements, arrangements and memoranda of understanding. Disclosure of confidential information under such laws shall not be regarded as a breach of any duty of confidentiality and, in certain circumstances, the Master Fund, and the General Partner or any of its or their directors or agents, may be prohibited from disclosing that the request has been made.

Anti-Money Laundering Regulations

All subscriptions for Interests will be subject to applicable anti-money laundering regulations. Investors will be required to comply with such anti-money laundering procedures as are required by the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism (USA PATRIOT Act) Act of 2001 (Pub. L. No. 107-56).

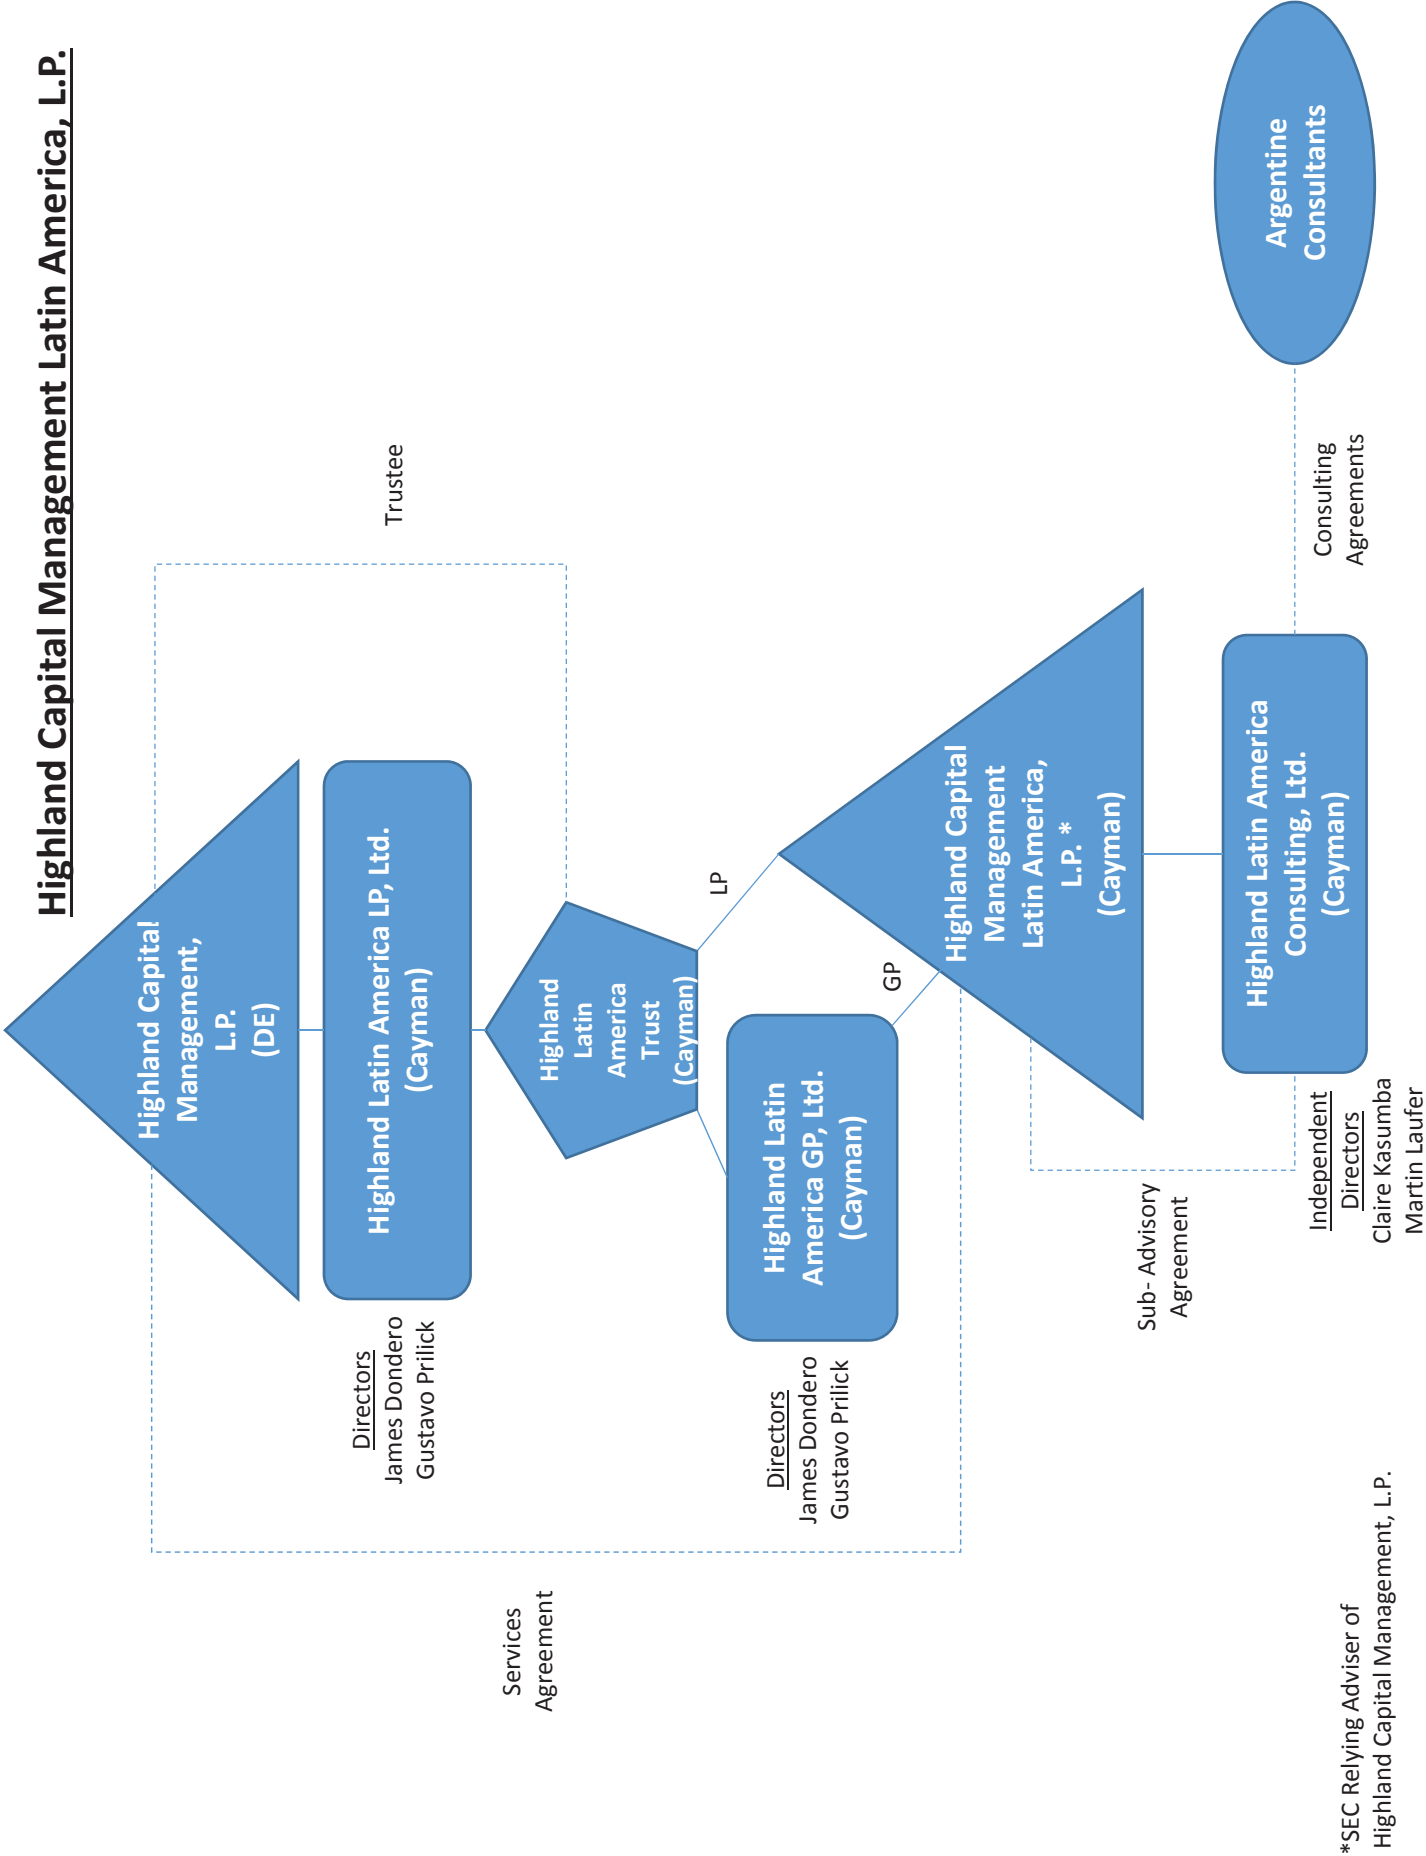

As part of the Fund's responsibility to comply with regulations aimed at the prevention of money laundering, the Fund or its delegate may require verification of identity from all prospective investors. Depending on the circumstances of each subscription, it may not be necessary to obtain full documentary evidence of identity.

The Fund reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of a prospective investor. The Fund also reserves the right to request such identification evidence in respect of a transferee of Interests. In the event of delay or failure by the prospective investor or transferee to produce any information required for verification purposes, the Fund may refuse to accept the application or (as the case may be) to register the relevant transfer and (in the case of a subscription of Interests) any funds received will be returned without interest to the account from which the monies were originally debited.

The Fund also reserves the right to refuse to make any withdrawal payment or distribution to a Limited Partner, if the Fund suspects or is advised that the payment of any withdrawal or distribution moneys to such Limited Partner might result in a breach or violation of any applicable anti-money laundering or other laws or regulations by any person in any relevant jurisdiction, or such refusal is considered necessary or appropriate to ensure the compliance by the Fund and the Investment Manager with any such laws or regulations in any relevant jurisdiction.

THIS AMENDED AND RESTATED LIMITED PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT of Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P. is dated effective as of November 1, 2017 by and among Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, as General Partner, Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., as withdrawing Original Limited Partner, and those Persons who are admitted as Limited Partners in accordance with this Agreement. This Agreement amends and restates in its entirety the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership dated September 11, 2017 (the “Prior Agreement”).

PRELIMINARY STATEMENTS

- (A) The General Partner and the Original Limited Partner formed this limited partnership under the Act by entering into the Prior Agreement and causing the Certificate to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware.
- (B) The parties hereto desire to continue the Partnership as a limited partnership under the Act and to make certain modifications to the Prior Agreement, as hereinafter set forth.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants expressed herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and legal sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto hereby agree that the Prior Agreement is amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

Article I DEFINITIONS

For purposes of this Agreement:

“Act” means the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act, 6 Del. C. §§ 17-101, et seq., as in effect on the date hereof and as amended from time to time, or any successor law.

“Administrator” means such Person as the General Partner may designate from time to time, in its sole discretion, to serve as administrator to the Partnership.

“Advisers Act” means the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, and the rules promulgated thereunder.

“Affiliate” means, with respect to any Person, a Person which controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, such Person. For these purposes, “control” means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such Person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise.

“Affiliated Investors” means the Investment Manager, the General Partner and their respective Affiliates, principals, employees, partners, agents, the respective family members of such personnel and trusts and other entities established primarily for their benefit or for charitable purposes.

“Agreement” means this Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership, as amended from time to time.

“Authorized Representative” has the meaning set forth in Section 7.6(a).

“Bad Actor Limited Partner” means a Limited Partner that (a) would cause the disqualification of the Partnership from using Rule 506 under the Securities Act due to the operation of paragraph (d) thereof (or its successor) if such Limited Partner were to beneficially own 20% or more of the outstanding voting interests of all of the Partners (excluding any other Interests that are Non-Voting Interests) or (b) the General Partner determines is likely to become subject to a conviction, order, judgment or finding that would be likely to cause the disqualification described in clause (a).

“BBA” means Subchapter C of Chapter 63 of the Code (Sections 6221 through 6241 of the Code), as enacted by the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015, Pub. L. No. 114-74, as amended from time to time, and the Regulations thereunder (whether proposed, temporary or final), including any subsequent amendments, successor provisions or other guidance thereunder, and any equivalent provisions for state, local or non-U.S. tax purposes.

“BBA Effective Period” means any taxable year commencing after 2017, taking into account any extensions of the effective date set forth in the BBA.

“BHCA” means the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended.

“BHCA Subject Person” means any Limited Partner that is subject, directly or indirectly, to the provisions of Section 4 of the BHCA and the regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System promulgated thereunder.

“Business Day” means any day or days on which banks in the Cayman Islands, Buenos Aires and New York City are authorized to open for business or such other days as the General Partner may determine generally, or in any particular case.

“Capital Account” means, with respect to each Partner, the capital account (including any memorandum sub-accounts) established and maintained on behalf of such Partner as described in Section 3.3.

“Capital Sub-Account” means, with respect to each Investor, a separate capital sub-account within the Partnership’s or the Offshore Fund’s (or any Other Feeder Fund’s) capital account, as applicable, in the Master Fund that corresponds to such Investor’s Capital Account in the Partnership or the series of shares held by such Investor in the Offshore Fund (or capital account or the series of shares in an Other Feeder Fund), as applicable; provided that, the Master Fund will maintain a separate Capital Sub-Account for each Series held by a Partner.

“Certificate” means the Certificate of Limited Partnership of the Partnership referred to in Section 2.1(b).

“Code” means the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and as hereafter amended, or any successor law.

“Commencement Date” means the first date on or as of which a Limited Partner, other than the Original Limited Partner, makes a capital contribution to the Partnership.

“Compulsory Withdrawal” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.5(j).

“Discovery Date” means the date on which the Investment Manager discovers that a violation of any of the Master Fund’s investment restrictions set forth in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement has occurred.

“Early Withdrawal Reduction” means:

(a) with respect to a Series B Interest, up to 3.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series B Interest being withdrawn in any withdrawal occurring prior to the end of the applicable Soft Lock-up Period;

(b) with respect to a Series C Interest, 5.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series C Interest being withdrawn in any withdrawal occurring prior to the end of the applicable Soft Lock-up Period; and

(c) with respect to a Series C Interest, 3.0% of the net asset value of the portion of the Series C Interest being withdrawn in any withdrawal occurring on or after the Soft Lock-up Period with respect to Series C Interests, but prior to the end of the Second Soft Lock-up Period; provided that, in each case, such amount is determined at the close of business of the relevant Withdrawal Date, is retained by the Partnership for the benefit of the Partners and is deducted from the withdrawal proceeds of the withdrawing Limited Partner.

“Election Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.10(c).

“ERISA” means the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as the same may be amended from time to time.

“ERISA Partner” means a Limited Partner which is (a) an employee benefit plan subject to the fiduciary provisions of ERISA, (b) a “plan” subject to Section 4975 of the Code, (c) an entity whose underlying assets include “plan assets” for purposes of ERISA by reason of a Plan’s investment in the entity, or (d) an entity that otherwise constitutes a “benefit plan investor” within the meaning of Section 3(42) of ERISA or any regulation promulgated thereunder.

“FATCA” means Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Code, as amended, and any Regulations thereunder or official interpretations or other official guidance thereof, including any successor Regulations or interpretations, and any intergovernmental agreement and any regulations with respect thereto or official interpretations or other official guidance thereof implementing the foregoing.

“Fiscal Period” means each period that starts at the opening of business on the Commencement Date (in the case of the initial Fiscal Period) and thereafter on the day immediately following the last day of the preceding Fiscal Period, and that ends at the close of business on the earliest of the following dates:

- (a) the last day of a calendar month;
- (b) any date as of which any withdrawal or distribution of capital is made with respect to any Capital Account or as of which this Agreement provides for any amount to be credited to or debited against a Capital Account, other than a withdrawal or distribution by or to, or an allocation to, all Capital Accounts that does not result in any change of the Partnership Percentage relating to any Capital Account;
- (c) the date which immediately precedes any day as of which a capital contribution is accepted by the General Partner from any new or existing Partner; or
- (d) any other date which the General Partner selects.

“Fiscal Year” means the period commencing on the Commencement Date and ending on December 31 of the same year, and thereafter each period commencing on January 1 of each year and ending on December 31 of such year, unless the General Partner shall elect another fiscal year; provided that any such other fiscal year shall be permissible for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In the case of the Fiscal Year in which the Partnership is terminated in accordance with Article VI, “Fiscal Year” means the period commencing on January 1 of that year and ending on the date on which the Partnership is terminated.

“GAAP” means generally accepted accounting principles in the United States.

“General Partner” means Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, any successor thereto, and any Person hereafter admitted as an additional general partner, in its capacity as general partner of the Partnership.

“Master Fund” means Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Master Fund, L.P., a collective investment vehicle formed as an exempted limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands in which the Partnership, the Offshore Fund and any other co-investment vehicle (such as an Other Feeder Fund) invest all of their investible assets and conduct their investment and trading activities.

“Master Fund Partnership Agreement” means the amended and restated exempted limited partnership agreement of the Master Fund, as the same may be amended or restated from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof.

“Minimum Required Withdrawal” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.5(j)

“Negative Basis” means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of such Partner’s “adjusted tax basis” in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer or assignment of such Interest, including by reason of death) over the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or liquidation of the Partnership.

“Negative Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership and who has a Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date, but such Partner shall cease to be a Negative Basis Partner at such time as it shall have received allocations pursuant to Section 3.9(d) equal to such Partner’s Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date and without regard to such Partner’s share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

“Net Assets” means the total value, as determined by the Administrator in accordance with Section 7.3, of all Investments and other assets of the Partnership (including net unrealized appreciation or depreciation of the assets and accrued interest and dividends receivable net of any withholding taxes), less an amount equal to all accrued debts, liabilities and obligations of the Partnership (including any reserves for contingencies accrued pursuant to Section 3.6). Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, Net Assets as of the first day of any Fiscal Period shall be determined on the basis of the valuation of assets conducted as of the close of the immediately preceding Fiscal Period but after giving effect to any capital contributions made by any Partner subsequent to the last day of such immediately preceding Fiscal Period and after giving effect to Management Fees (borne indirectly at the Master Fund level), and Net Assets as of the last day of any Fiscal Period shall be determined before giving effect to any of the following amounts payable by the Partnership generally or in respect of any Investment which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made:

(a) any Performance Allocation (borne indirectly at the Master Fund level) as of the date on which such determination is made;

(b) any withdrawals or distributions payable to any Partner which are effective as of the date on which such determination is made; and

(c) withholding or other taxes (including any amounts payable under any BBA provision), expenses of processing withdrawals and other items payable, and any increases or decreases in any reserves, holdbacks or other amounts recorded pursuant to Section 3.6 during the Fiscal Period ending as of the date on which such determination is made, to the extent the General Partner determines that, pursuant to any provisions of this Agreement, such items are not to be charged ratably among the Capital Accounts of all Partners on the basis of their respective Partnership Percentages as of the commencement of the Fiscal Period.

“Net Loss” means any amount by which the Net Assets as of the first day of a Fiscal Period exceed the Net Assets as of the last day of the same Fiscal Period.

“Net Profit” means any amount by which the Net Assets as of the last day of a Fiscal Period exceed the Net Assets as of the first day of the same Fiscal Period.

“Non-Voting Interests” means an Interest, the holder of which is not entitled to vote, consent or withhold consent with respect to any Partnership matter (including, but not limited to, mergers, sales of substantially all assets or consolidations of the Partnership), except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement.

“Other Agreement” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.1.

“Other Feeder Fund” means any other investment vehicle sponsored by the Investment Manager or one of its Affiliates that invests in parallel with the Partnership and the Offshore Fund in the Master Fund.

“Partner” means the General Partner or any of the Limited Partners, except as otherwise expressly provided herein, and “Partners” means the General Partner and all of the Limited Partners.

“Partnership” means the limited partnership formed pursuant to this Agreement.

“Partnership Percentage” means a percentage established for each Partner on the Partnership’s books as of the first day of each Fiscal Period. The Partnership Percentage of a Partner for a Fiscal Period shall be determined by dividing the amount of such Partner’s Capital Account as of the beginning of the Fiscal Period (after crediting all capital contributions to such Capital Account which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees borne at the Master Fund level) by the sum of the Capital Accounts of all of the Partners as of the beginning of the Fiscal Period (after crediting all capital contributions to the Partnership which are effective as of such date, net of all deductions, including Management Fees borne at the Master Fund level). The sum of the Partnership Percentages of all Capital Accounts for each Fiscal Period shall equal 100%.

“Performance Allocation” means the performance allocation, as defined in the Master Fund Partnership Agreement, allocated to the Special Limited Partner, any of its Affiliates or any other Person designated by the Special Limited Partner pursuant to the Master Fund Partnership Agreement.

“Person” means any individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, or other entity.

“Plan Assets” means assets of the Partnership that are considered to be assets of an ERISA Partner, pursuant to Section 3(42) of ERISA or otherwise.

“Positive Basis” means, with respect to any Partner and as of any time of calculation, the excess of the amount that such Partner is entitled to receive upon withdrawal from or liquidation of the Partnership over such Partner’s “adjusted tax basis” in its Interest for U.S. federal income tax purposes at such time (determined without regard to any adjustments made to such adjusted tax basis by reason of any Transfer or assignment of such Interest, including by reason of death).

“Positive Basis Partner” means any Partner who withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership and who has a Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date, but such Partner shall cease to be a Positive Basis Partner at such time as it shall have received allocations pursuant to Section 3.9(c) equal to such Partner’s Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date and without regard to such Partner’s share of the liabilities of the Partnership under Section 752 of the Code.

“Principal” means James D. Dondero.

“Prior Agreement” has the meaning set forth in the preamble hereto.

“Regulations” means the proposed, temporary and final U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated under the Code, including any successor regulations.

“Regulatory Allocations” has the meaning set forth in Section 3.10.

“Remedy Date” means the period commencing on the Discovery Date and ending 90 Business Days thereafter.

“Revocation Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 8.10(c).

“RIC Limited Partner” means a Limited Partner that is registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act.

“Schedule of Partners” means a schedule to be maintained by the General Partner containing the following information with respect to each Partner: (a) name; (b) address; (c) date of admission; (d) amount and date of all capital contributions and withdrawals; and (e) the amount and date of any permitted Transfers.

“Second Soft Lock-up Period” means, with respect to a Series C Interest, a period commencing on the one-year anniversary of the date that a capital contribution was made to the Capital Account associated with such Series C Interest and ending on the two-year anniversary of the date of such capital contribution. The General Partner may waive the Second Soft Lock-up Period with respect to any Capital Account.

“Securities Act” means the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended from time to time.

“Series” means a designated series of Interests established in accordance with this Agreement and having such terms as the General Partner determines.

“Series A Interests” means a Series having the rights and obligations applicable to Series A Interests as set forth in this Agreement and which correspond to the “Series A Capital Sub-Accounts” of the Master Fund.

“Series B Interests” means a Series having the rights and obligations applicable to Series B Interests as set forth in this Agreement and which correspond to the “Series B Capital Sub-Accounts” of the Master Fund.

“Series C Interests” means a Series having the rights and obligations applicable to Series C Interests as set forth in this Agreement and which correspond to the “Series C Capital Sub-Accounts” of the Master Fund.

“Soft Lock-up Period” means, with respect to a Series B Interest or a Series C Interest, a period commencing on the date that a capital contribution was made to the Capital Account associated with such Series and ending on the one-year anniversary of the date of such capital contribution. The General Partner may waive the Soft Lock-up Period with respect to any Capital Account.

“Special Limited Partner” means Highland Capital Management Latin America, L.P., in its capacity as a special limited partner of the Master Fund for purposes of the receipt of the Performance Allocation.

“Transfer” means any direct or indirect sale, exchange, transfer, assignment, pledge, encumbrance, charge, exchange, hypothecation, placing of a lien or a security interest on an Interest or any other disposition by a Partner of its Interest to or in favor of another party, whether voluntary or involuntary (including, but not limited to, being offered or listed on or through any placement agent, intermediary, online service, site, agent or similar Person).

“Withdrawal Date” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.5(a).

“Withdrawal Notice” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.5(a).

Article II ORGANIZATION

2.1 Continuation of Limited Partnership

- (a) The General Partner and the Original Limited Partner hereby agree to continue the Partnership as a limited partnership under and pursuant to the Act and this Agreement.
- (b) The General Partner has executed and filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware a Certificate of Limited Partnership of the Partnership (the “Certificate”), and shall execute, acknowledge and file with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware any further amendments thereto as may be required by the Act, and any other instruments, documents and certificates which, in the opinion of the Partnership’s legal counsel, may from time to time be required by the laws of the United States of America, the State of Delaware or any other jurisdiction in which the Partnership determines to do business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof or which such legal counsel may deem necessary or appropriate to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence and business of the Partnership. The General Partner shall cause any required amendment to the Certificate to be filed promptly following the event requiring such amendment. All amendments may be signed by the General Partner (as required by the Act) and may be signed either personally or by an attorney-in-fact.

- (c) The parties hereto agree to operate the Partnership as a limited partnership pursuant to the provisions of the Act and of this Agreement and agree that the rights and liabilities of the Limited Partners and the General Partner shall be as provided in the Act for limited partners and the general partner, except as provided herein.
- (d) The General Partner may change the domicile of the Partnership to another state, country or other jurisdiction where advisable due to legal, tax or other considerations; provided that no such change of domicile would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the Limited Partners.
- (e) The parties acknowledge and agree that the Partnership is intended to be taxed in the United States as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes. No election may be made to treat the Partnership as other than a partnership for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes. Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any income tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership.

2.2 Name of Partnership

- (a) The name of the Partnership is Highland Argentina Regional Opportunity Fund, L.P. or such other name as the General Partner may hereafter adopt, subject to causing an amendment to the Certificate to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware in accordance with the Act. The General Partner will send a notice of any change of name to the Limited Partners. All business of the Partnership will be conducted under such name or under such other name as the General Partner deems appropriate.
- (b) The Partnership shall have the exclusive ownership and right to use the Partnership name so long as the Partnership continues, despite the withdrawal, expulsion, resignation or removal of any Limited Partner, but upon the Partnership's termination or at such time as there ceases to be a general partner, the Partnership shall assign the name and the goodwill attached thereto to the General Partner without payment by the assignee(s) of any consideration therefor.

2.3 Principal Office; Registered Office

- (a) The Partnership shall have its principal office at such location as the General Partner shall designate from time to time.

- (b) The Partnership shall have its registered office at c/o The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, Wilmington, New Castle County, Delaware 19801, unless a different registered office or agent is designated from time to time by the General Partner.

2.4 Term of Partnership

The term of the Partnership commenced on the date on which the Certificate was filed with the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware and will continue until dissolved pursuant to Section 6.1 (unless its term is extended pursuant to Section 6.1). The legal existence of the Partnership as a separate legal entity shall continue until the cancellation of the Certificate.

2.5 Object and Powers of Partnership

- (a) The Partnership is formed solely for the object and purpose of indirectly investing in Investments by subscribing for and holding a limited partner interest in, and investing all of its investible assets in, the Master Fund. The Partnership is a directed feeder fund for the Limited Partners with respect to the Master Fund. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Partnership shall perform no other business and shall not make directly any Investments as such Investments will be made by the Master Fund.
- (b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Partnership, and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, may execute, deliver and perform any agreement with any Limited Partner or prospective Limited Partner without any further act, vote or approval of any Partner. The General Partner is hereby authorized to enter into the agreements described in the preceding sentence on behalf of the Partnership, but such authorization should not be deemed a restriction on the power of the General Partner to enter into other agreements on behalf of the Partnership. In furtherance of this purpose, the Partnership shall have all powers necessary, suitable or convenient for the accomplishment of the aforesaid purpose, subject to the limitations and restrictions set forth herein alone or with others, as principal or agent.
- (c) Each Limited Partner hereby acknowledges that the Partnership is not expected to qualify as an “operating company” for purposes of ERISA, and the assets of the Partnership may therefore constitute Plan Assets of ERISA Partners; and that the Partnership is therefore intended to be structured as a directed feeder fund through which the Limited Partners may participate in an investment in the Master Fund and with respect to which the General Partner is not, except as expressly provided under the terms of this Agreement, intended to have any discretionary authority or control with respect to the investment of the assets of the Partnership. Each Limited Partner (i) shall by making a capital contribution to the Partnership with respect to the Partnership’s underlying interests in the Master Fund, be deemed to direct the General Partner to invest the amount of such capital contribution in the Master Fund and (ii) acknowledges that during any period when the underlying interests of the Partnership in the Master Fund are deemed to constitute Plan

Assets, the General Partner will act as a custodian with respect to the assets of such Limited Partner, but is not intended to be a fiduciary with respect to the assets of such Limited Partner for purposes of ERISA, the Code or any applicable similar law. No provision of this Agreement shall create any obligation of the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund, and the General Partner, in such capacity, will not have any fiduciary obligations to any person, under ERISA or otherwise, pursuant to this Agreement. Any action or determination of the General Partner, as the general partner of the Master Fund, referenced herein shall only regard such action or determination made by the General Partner solely in its capacity as the general partner thereof.

2.6 Liability of Partners

In no event shall any Limited Partner (or former Limited Partner) be obligated to make any contribution to the Partnership in addition to its agreed capital contribution (or other payments provided for herein) or have any liability for the repayment or discharge of the debts and obligations of the Partnership, except to the extent provided herein or as required by the Act or other applicable law.

2.7 Actions by Partnership

The Partnership may execute, deliver and perform all contracts, agreements and other undertakings and engage in all activities and transactions as may in the opinion of the General Partner be necessary or advisable to carry out its objects as set forth in Section 2.5 above.

2.8 Reliance by Third Parties

Persons dealing with the Partnership are entitled to rely conclusively upon the power and authority of the General Partner as herein set forth.

2.9 UCC Status of Limited Partner Interests

- (a) For purposes of the grant, pledge, attachment or perfection of a security interest in an Interest or otherwise, the Interests shall be deemed to be “securities” within the meaning of Section 8-102(a)(15) and as provided by Section 8-103(c) of the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect from time to time in the State of Delaware or analogous provisions in the Uniform Commercial Code in effect in any other jurisdiction.
- (b) Any Interest may be evidenced by a certificate of partnership interest issued by the Partnership in such form as the General Partner may approve. Every certificate representing an Interest shall bear a legend substantially in the following form:

“For the purposes of Section 8-103 of the Uniform Commercial Code of the United States of America in effect in any relevant jurisdiction, the certificates representing an interest in the Limited Partnership shall constitute “securities” within the meaning of Section 8-102 and Section 8-103 of the Uniform Commercial Code.”

2.10 Series of Interests

The General Partner may, at any time, without notification to or consent of the other Limited Partners, create and offer different Series with such rights, obligations, liabilities, privileges, designations and preferences (including different investment strategies, underlying investments, degrees of leverage, management fees, performance allocations, brokerage commissions, transparency, withdrawal rights, co-investment opportunities, and other differences) as the General Partner may determine upon the issuance of such Series; provided that such Series would not reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the existing Limited Partners. The terms and rights of each such Series may be set forth in the Partnership's offering memorandum, any supplement thereto or a "side letter" or other agreement, which the General Partner may incorporate by reference. Although the Partnership may offer more than one Series, the Partnership is not a Delaware series limited partnership and the assets and liabilities of the Partnership are not segregated by Series. As of the effective date of this Agreement, the Partnership has three Series: Series A Interests, Series B Interests and Series C Interests.

Article III CAPITAL

3.1 Contributions to Capital

- (a) The minimum required initial capital contribution with respect to each Series is $500,000, or such lesser amount as the General Partner may permit; provided that, the minimum required initial capital contribution with respect to a Series B Interest is no less than $100,000. Subject to the restriction with respect to any Series B Interest in the immediately preceding sentence, the General Partner may change the required minimum initial capital contribution amount at any time.
- (b) The Partnership may accept additional contributions at such times as the General Partner may permit, but no Limited Partner shall be obligated to make any additional capital contribution to the Partnership, subject to the provisions of Section 3.5 and any contrary provision of the Act. The minimum required additional capital contribution with respect to each Series is $500,000, or such lesser amount as the General Partner may permit; provided that, the minimum required additional capital contribution with respect to a Series B Interest is no less than $100,000. Subject to the restriction with respect to any Series B Interest in the immediately preceding sentence, the General Partner may change the required minimum additional capital contribution amount at any time.
- (c) The General Partner or an Affiliate has made a capital contribution to the Partnership as set forth in the Schedule of Partners. Except as required by the Act, the General Partner (or such Affiliate) shall not be required to make any additional capital contributions to the Partnership. The General Partner (or such Affiliate) may, however, make capital contributions to the Partnership in such amounts and at such times as it may determine. The General Partner or any of its Affiliates shall have the right at any time to make additional capital contributions as a Limited Partner or General Partner. If an Affiliated Investor makes a capital contribution as a Limited Partner, the General Partner, in its capacity as the general partner of the Master Fund, will have authority to waive or reduce the Management Fee or the Performance Allocation with respect to such Limited Partner.

- (d) The General Partner or the Investment Manager may enter into placement agent agreements with placement agents (which may be Affiliates of the General Partner or the Investment Manager) to assist in obtaining subscriptions for Interests in exchange for compensation; provided that, the Partnership will not bear any such placement agent fees. Placement agents may be paid a portion of the Management Fee attributable to the investors solicited by such placement agents, thereby reducing the compensation received by the Investment Manager.
- (e) Except as otherwise permitted by the General Partner, (i) initial or additional capital contributions by each Partner shall be payable in cash and/or Investments having an aggregate value as set forth in the Partnership's books and records in one installment, and (ii) initial contributions shall be due no later than the Business Day immediately preceding the date of admission of such Person as a Limited Partner.

3.2 Rights of Partners in Capital

- (a) No Partner shall be entitled to interest on its capital contributions to the Partnership. For the avoidance of doubt, interest income, if any, earned on subscription amounts remitted to the Partnership prior to the date an Interest is issued to a Partner will be payable to the Partnership and not applied toward the purchase of an Interest.
- (b) No Partner shall have the right to the return of any capital contribution to the Partnership, except (i) upon the withdrawal of such Partner pursuant to Section 5.5 or (ii) upon the dissolution of the Partnership pursuant to Section 6.1. The entitlement to any such return shall be limited to the value of the Capital Account of the Partner. The General Partner shall not be liable for the return of any such amounts.

3.3 Capital Accounts

- (a) The Partnership will maintain a separate Capital Account for each Partner. In the event a Limited Partner invests in more than one Series, the Partnership will maintain a separate Capital Account with respect to each Series held by such Limited Partner, with each such Capital Account being treated as if it were the Capital Account of a separate Partner for purposes of this Agreement, including for purposes of the Management Fee and the Performance Allocation, each borne indirectly at the Master Fund level. The General Partner may, in its discretion, maintain separate memorandum sub-accounts with respect to each such Capital Account for purposes of this Agreement, including to reflect additional capital contributions, withdrawal terms, the Performance Allocation and the application of an Early Withdrawal Reduction. Each Capital Account will reflect the aggregate sum of the balances in all memorandum sub-accounts associated with each such Capital Account.

- (b) Each Capital Account shall have an initial balance equal to the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting the relevant Partner's initial capital contribution to the Partnership.
- (c) Each Capital Account shall be increased by (i) the amount of any cash and the net value of any property constituting additional contributions to such Capital Account permitted pursuant to Section 3.1 and (ii) such Capital Account's allocable share of the Net Profits allocated by the Partnership to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.4.
- (d) Each Capital Account shall be reduced by (i) the amount of any cash and the net value of any property withdrawn by or distributed to the relevant Partner pursuant to Sections 3.12(a), 5.5 or 6.2, including any amount deducted from any such withdrawal or distribution pursuant to Section 5.5(c) or 5.5(f), (ii) such Capital Account's allocable share of the Net Losses allocated by the Partnership to such Capital Account pursuant to Section 3.4, (iii) such Capital Account's pro rata portion of the expenses allocable (or specially allocable) by the Partnership pursuant to Section 3.5, (iv) such Capital Account's allocable share of the Performance Allocation allocable pursuant to Section 3.7 (borne indirectly at the Master Fund level), and (v) such Capital Account's pro rata portion of the expenses payable by the Partnership pursuant to Section 4.2 (b) and (c).
- (e) Each Capital Account (including any corresponding memorandum sub-accounts) shall be adjusted to reflect allocations and other changes in the value of such Capital Account in the manner specified in the remaining provisions of this Article III.
- (f) The Master Fund maintains Capital Sub-Accounts within the Partnership's capital account at the Master Fund level that correspond to the Capital Accounts (and any corresponding memorandum sub-accounts) of the Partners.

3.4 Allocation of Net Profit and Net Loss

- (a) Subject to the remaining provisions of this Article III, as of the last day of each Fiscal Period, any Net Profit or Net Loss for such Fiscal Period shall be separately allocated among and credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners in proportion to their respective Partnership Percentages for such Fiscal Period.
- (b) Notwithstanding Section 3.4(a), items of income, gain, loss, deduction, credit and expenses for a Fiscal Period that are not allocable to specific Investments of the Master Fund, including short term interest income, receipt of any withdrawal charges by the Partnership, and audit, administration and legal expenses, shall be separately allocated among and credited to or debited against the Capital Accounts of the Partners pro rata in accordance with their Partnership Percentages for such Fiscal Period.

3.5 Allocation of Management Fees, Withholding Taxes and Certain Other Expenditures

- (a) The Partnership shall bear its allocable portion of the Management Fees in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Management Fees borne by the Partnership shall be allocated to the Capital Sub-Accounts of the relevant Limited Partners who are subject to the Management Fee based upon the Series they hold, and such Capital Sub-Accounts shall be subject to the corresponding adjustments. The Management Fee shall be charged at the Master Fund level through the use of Capital Sub-Accounts that correspond to each Capital Account of a Limited Partner. The Management Fee will be prorated for any period that is less than a full calendar quarter. The General Partner or the Investment Manager (as the general partner or the investment manager, respectively, of the Master Fund) may reduce, waive or calculate differently the Management Fee with respect to any Capital Sub-Account of a Limited Partner in its discretion.
- (b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, to the extent the General Partner or the Partnership is required by law (including under circumstances where the General Partner or the Partnership is unable to rely conclusively on any withholding certification provided by a Partner) to withhold or to make tax payments, including any interest or penalties, on behalf of or with respect to any Partner or Partners (including, without limitation, any amount attributable to an actual or imputed underpayment of taxes under any BBA provision, backup withholding or FATCA withholding), the General Partner or the Partnership may withhold such amounts and make such tax payments as so required. If the Partnership directly or indirectly pays or incurs any withholding tax or other tax obligation (including any amount under any BBA provision), or otherwise incurs a tax payment with respect to the income allocable or distributable to, or otherwise attributable to, one or more Partners, then the amount of such withholding tax, tax obligation or payment will be treated as a distribution to such Partner or Partners, as applicable, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Such amount will be debited against the Capital Account(s) of such Partner or Partners as of the close of the Fiscal Period during which the Partnership so withholds, pays or incurs such obligation. If the amount so withheld, paid or incurred is greater than the balance of the Capital Account(s) of the relevant Partner or Partners, as applicable, then such Partner or Partners and any successors must make a contribution to the capital of the Partnership within 10 Business Days after notification and demand by the General Partner in the amount of such excess. The General Partner is not obligated to apply for or obtain a refund, or reduction of or exemption from withholding tax or other tax obligation (including any amount under any BBA provision) on behalf of any Partner that may be eligible for such refund, reduction or exemption, or otherwise obligated to structure Investments so as to reduce or avoid any withholding tax. Each Limited Partner agrees to repay to the Partnership and the General Partner and each of the partners and former partners of the General Partner, any liability for taxes, interest or penalties which may be asserted by reason of the failure to deduct and withhold tax on amounts distributable or allocable to such Limited Partner.

- (c) Except as otherwise provided for in this Agreement, any expenditures payable by the Partnership (including any taxes imposed on the Partnership pursuant to Section 6225 of the Code, as amended by the BBA), to the extent determined by the General Partner to have been paid or withheld on behalf of, or by reason of particular circumstances applicable to, one or more but fewer than all of the Partners, shall be specially allocated only to the Capital Accounts of those Partners on whose behalf such payments are made or whose particular circumstances gave rise to such payments. Such allocations shall be debited from the relevant Capital Accounts of such Partners as of the close of the Fiscal Period during which any such items were accrued by the Partnership.

3.6 Reserves; Adjustments for Certain Future Events

- (a) The General Partner may cause appropriate reserves to be created, accrued and charged against Net Assets and proportionately against the Capital Accounts (and the corresponding Capital Sub-Accounts) for contingent liabilities, such reserves to be in the amounts which the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The General Partner may increase or reduce any such reserve from time to time by such amounts as the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate. The amount of any such reserve, or any increase or decrease therein, may, at the election of the General Partner, be charged or credited, as the General Partner deems appropriate, to the Capital Accounts of those parties that are Partners at the time when such reserve is created, increased, or decreased, as the case may be, or alternatively may be charged or credited to those parties that were Partners at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the contingent liability for which the reserve was established by the General Partner.
- (b) If the General Partner determines that it is equitable to treat an amount to be paid or received as being applicable to one or more prior periods, then all or a portion of such amount may be proportionately charged or credited, as appropriate, in proportion to the Capital Account balances of the current Partners as such balances existed during any such prior period(s).

3.7 Performance Allocation

The Partnership bears its allocable portion of the Performance Allocation in accordance with the Master Fund Partnership Agreement. The Performance Allocation borne by the Partnership shall be specially allocated to the Capital Sub-Accounts of the relevant Limited Partners who are subject to the Performance Allocation based upon the Series they hold, and such Capital Sub-Accounts shall be subject to the corresponding adjustments. The Performance Allocation shall be debited at the Master Fund level through the use of Capital Sub-Accounts that correspond to each Capital Account of a Limited Partner. The General Partner (as the general partner of the Master Fund) may waive or reduce the Performance Allocation with respect to any Capital Sub-Account of a Limited Partner.

3.8 Allocation to Avoid Capital Account Deficits

To the extent that any debits pursuant to this Article III would reduce the balance of the Capital Account of any Limited Partner below zero, that portion of any such debits shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner. Any credits in any subsequent Fiscal Period which would otherwise be allocable pursuant to this Article III to a Capital Account of any Limited Partner previously affected by the application of this Section 3.8 shall instead be allocated to the Capital Account of the General Partner in such amounts as are necessary to offset all previous debits attributable to such Limited Partner pursuant to this Section 3.8 not previously recovered.

3.9 Allocations for U.S. Federal Income Tax Purposes

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

- (a) Income Tax Allocations. Except as otherwise required by Code Section 704(c), items of income, gain, deduction, loss, or credit that are recognized for income tax purposes in each Fiscal Year will be allocated among the Partners in such manner as to reflect equitably amounts credited to or debited against each Partner's Capital Account, whether in such Fiscal Year or in prior Fiscal Years. To this end, the Partnership will establish and maintain records which shall show the extent to which the Capital Account of each Partner will, as of the last day of each Fiscal Year, comprise amounts that have not been reflected in the taxable income of such Partner. To the extent deemed by the General Partner to be feasible and equitable, taxable income and gains in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have enjoyed the related credits to their Capital Accounts, and items of deduction, loss and credit in each Fiscal Year shall be allocated among the Partners who have borne the burden of the related debits to their Capital Accounts. Foreign tax credits attributable to taxes incurred by the Partnership shall be allocated in a manner consistent with Section 1.704-1(b)(4)(viii) of the Regulations. All matters concerning allocations for U.S. federal, state and/or local income tax purposes, including accounting procedures, not expressly provided for in this Agreement will be determined by the General Partner.
- (b) Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Partnership asset pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code or Section 743(b) of the Code is required under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Regulations to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Partners in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such section of the Regulations; provided that in the event that an adjustment to the book value of Partnership property is made as a result of an adjustment pursuant to Section 734(b) of the Code, items of income, gain, loss, or deduction, as computed for book and tax purposes, will be specially allocated among the Partners so that the effect of any such adjustment shall benefit (or be borne by) the Partner(s) receiving the distribution that caused such adjustment.

- (c) Positive Basis Allocations. If the Partnership realizes gains or items of gross income (including short term capital gain) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Positive Basis Partners withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such gains or items of gross income among such Positive Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner, until either the full amount of such gains or items of gross income shall have been so allocated or the Positive Basis of each such Positive Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any gains or items of gross income not so allocated to Positive Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner as shall reflect equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership realizes gains or items of gross income from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Positive Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Positive Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there shall be allocated to such Positive Basis Partner an amount of such gains or items of gross income equal to the amount, if any, by which its Positive Basis as of the Withdrawal Date exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this sentence.
- (d) Negative Basis Allocations. If the Partnership realizes net losses or items of gross loss or deduction (including short term capital loss) from the sale of Partnership assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes for any Fiscal Year in which one or more Negative Basis Partners withdraws all or a portion of its Interest from the Partnership pursuant to Section 5.5, the General Partner may elect: (i) to allocate such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction among such Negative Basis Partners, pro rata in proportion to the respective Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partners, until either the full amount of such losses or items of loss or deduction shall have been so allocated or the Negative Basis of each such Negative Basis Partner shall have been eliminated; and (ii) to allocate any net losses or items of gross loss or deduction not so allocated to Negative Basis Partners to the other Partners in such manner as shall reflect equitably the amounts credited to such Partners' Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 3.3; provided, however, that if, following such Fiscal Year, the Partnership realizes net losses or items of gross loss and deduction from a sale of an Investment the proceeds of which are designated on the Partnership's books and records as being used to effect payment of all or part of the liquidating share of any Negative Basis Partner that continues to be a Partner in the Partnership following such withdrawal (i.e., such Negative Basis Partner effected a partial, and not a complete, withdrawal of its Interest), there shall may be allocated to such Negative Basis Partner an amount of such net losses or items of gross loss or deduction equal to the amount, if any, by which its Negative Basis as of the Withdrawal Date exceeds the amount allocated to such Partner pursuant to clause (i) of this Section 3.9(d).

- (e) Qualified Income Offset. In the event any Limited Partner unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6) of the Regulations, items of Partnership income and gain will be specially allocated to each such Limited Partner in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the deficit balance in the Capital Account of such Limited Partner as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.9(e) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit balance in its Capital Account after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been tentatively made as if this Section 3.9(e) were not in this Agreement. This Section 3.9(e) is intended to constitute a “qualified income offset” within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii) of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.
- (f) Gross Income Allocation. In the event any Limited Partner has a deficit Capital Account at the end of any Fiscal Year that is in excess of the sum of (i) the amount such Limited Partner is obligated to restore pursuant to any provision of this Agreement and (ii) the amount such Limited Partner is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5) of the Regulations, each such Limited Partner will be specially allocated items of Partnership gross income and gain in the amount of such excess as quickly as possible; provided that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.9(f) may be made only if and to the extent that such Limited Partner would have a deficit Capital Account in excess of such sum after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been made as if Section 3.9(e) and this Section 3.9(f) were not in this Agreement.
- (g) Section 704(b) Compliance. The allocations provided in this Section 3.9 are intended to comply with the Regulations under Section 704(b) of the Code and may, as determined by the General Partner, be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent therewith.

3.10 Curative Allocations

The allocations set forth in Sections 3.9(b), (e) and (f) (the “Regulatory Allocations”) are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Regulations. It is the intent of the Partners that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 3.10. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provision of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations), the General Partner shall make such offsetting special allocations of the Partnership income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Partner’s Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Partner would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of this Agreement and all Partnership items were allocated pursuant to other provisions of this Article III (other than the Regulatory Allocations).

3.11 Tax Matters

- (a) Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership or which would result in inconsistent treatment, and each Partner further agrees to treat, on any U.S. federal, state, local and/or non-U.S. income tax return in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner consistent with the treatment of such item by the Partnership.
- (b) To the fullest extent permitted by law, each Limited Partner agrees to (i) provide such cooperation and assistance, including executing and filing forms or other statements and providing information about the Limited Partner, as is reasonably requested by the Tax Matters Partner, to enable the Partnership to satisfy any applicable tax reporting or compliance requirements, to make any tax election or to qualify for an exception from or reduced rate of tax or other tax benefit or be relieved of liability for any tax regardless of whether such requirement, tax benefit or tax liability existed on the date such Partner was admitted to the Partnership, (ii) amend the Limited Partner's tax returns and pay any resulting taxes, interest and penalties in connection with an election by the Partnership under Section 6225(a) of the Code, as amended by the BBA, (iii) take into account any adjustments and pay any taxes, interest and penalties that result from an election by the Partnership under Section 6226 of the Code, as amended by the BBA, and/or (iv) indemnify and hold harmless the Partnership from and against any liability with respect to the Limited Partner's share of any tax deficiency (including any interest and penalties associated therewith) paid or payable by the Partnership that is (A) allocable to such Limited Partner (as reasonably determined by the General Partner in accordance with this Agreement) with respect to an audited or reviewed taxable year for which such Partner was a partner in the Partnership or (B) attributable (as reasonably determined by the General Partner) to the failure of such Limited Partner to cooperate with or provide any such forms, statements, or other information as requested by the Tax Matters Partner pursuant to clause (i) above.

3.12 Distributions

- (a) The Partnership will make distributions in respect of withdrawals in accordance with Section 5.5 and liquidation in accordance with Section 6.2. The amount and timing of any other distributions from the Partnership shall be determined by the General Partner. Distributions will generally be made in proportion to the respective Partnership Percentages of the Partners for the Fiscal Period when made. Any distributions may be paid in cash, in kind or partly in cash and partly in kind.

- (b) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership, and the General Partner on behalf of the Partnership, may not make a distribution to any Partner from any account in connection with its Interest if such distribution would violate Section 17-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

Article IV
MANAGEMENT

4.1 Duties and Powers of the General Partner

- (a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the General Partner shall have complete and exclusive power and responsibility, to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, for managing and administering the affairs of the Partnership (other than any investment or trading activities, which are entered into at the Master Fund level and managed by the Investment Manager), and shall have the power and authority to do all things that the General Partner considers necessary or desirable to carry out its duties hereunder and to achieve the purposes of the Partnership.
- (b) The General Partner shall have the right, without the notification to or consent of any Limited Partner or other Person, to make adjustments to the structure of the Partnership in order to address applicable structural, ownership, legal, or regulatory issues, or to improve overall tax efficiency; provided that no such adjustment would cause any material adverse consequences to the Limited Partners.
- (c) Without limiting the generality of the General Partner's duties and powers hereunder and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the General Partner shall have full power and authority, subject to the other terms and provisions of this Agreement, to execute, deliver and perform such contracts, agreements and other undertakings on behalf of the Partnership, without the consent or approval of any other Person, and to engage in all activities and transactions, as it may deem necessary or advisable for, or as may be incidental to, the conduct of the business contemplated by this Section 4.1, including, without in any manner limiting the generality of the foregoing, (i) contracts, agreements, undertakings and transactions with any Partner or with any other Person, firm or corporation having any business, financial or other relationship with any Partner or Partners, (ii) agreements with each Limited Partner in connection with its purchase of an Interest, including a subscription agreement wherein such Limited Partner agrees to be bound by the terms of this Agreement, (iii) any agreements to induce any Person to purchase an Interest and (iv) the Investment Management Agreement delegating to the Investment Manager certain of the powers and authority vested by this Agreement in the General Partner as the General Partner and the Investment Manager may agree from time to time, each without any further act, approval or vote of any Person.

- (d) The General Partner may terminate or replace the Investment Manager in accordance with the terms of the Investment Management Agreement. The General Partner may delegate to any other Person (including any of its Affiliates) any power and authority vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement that is not otherwise delegated to the Investment Manager.
- (e) Every power vested in the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement shall be construed as a power to act (or not to act) in its sole and absolute discretion, except as otherwise expressly provided herein. No provision of this Agreement shall be construed to require the General Partner to violate the Act, the Advisers Act or any other law, regulation or rule of any self-regulatory organization.
- (f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or otherwise applicable provision of law or equity, whenever in this Agreement, the General Partner is permitted or required to make a decision (i) in its “sole discretion” or “discretion” or under a grant of similar authority or latitude, the General Partner shall be entitled to consider only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests, and shall, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, have no duty or obligation to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting the Partnership or the Limited Partners, or (ii) in its “good faith” or under another expressed standard, the General Partner shall act under such express standard and shall not be subject to any other or different standards. Unless otherwise expressly stated, for purposes of this Section 4.1(f), the General Partner shall be deemed to be permitted or required to make all decisions hereunder in its sole discretion.
- (g) If requested by the General Partner, each Limited Partner shall deliver to the General Partner: (i) an affidavit in form satisfactory to the General Partner that the applicable Limited Partner (and its partners, shareholders, members, and/or beneficial owners, and/or controlling persons, as the case may be) is not subject to withholding under the provisions of any United States federal, state, local or non-U.S. laws; (ii) any certificate that the General Partner may reasonably request with respect to any such laws; (iii) any other form or instrument reasonably requested by the General Partner relating to such Limited Partner’s status under such laws; and/or (iv) any information or documentation prescribed under FATCA or as may be necessary for the Partnership to comply with its obligations, or to avoid withholding, under FATCA or any other automatic exchange of information agreement or arrangement, including, without limitation, the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development’s Common Reporting Standard. In the event that a Limited Partner fails or is unable to deliver to the General Partner an affidavit described in Section 4.1(g), the General Partner may withhold amounts from such Partner in accordance with Section 3.5(b).

4.2 Expenses

- (a) Subject to Section 4.2(f), each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager pays all of its own operating and overhead costs without reimbursement by the Partnership. The Partnership will not have its own separate employees or office, and it will not reimburse the General Partner or the Investment Manager for salaries, office rent and other general overhead expenses of the General Partner or the Investment Manager.

- (b) The Partnership, and not the General Partner or the Investment Manager, will pay, or reimburse the General Partner and the Investment Manager for, all costs, fees and expenses arising in connection with the Partnership's operations, as well as its pro rata share of the cost of the Master Fund's initial organization, operations and Investment-related expenses. Such expenses payable by the Partnership include the following:
- (i) the Partnership's pro rata share of the cost of the Master Fund's investment program, including, without limitation, brokerage commissions, other expenses related to buying and selling securities (including trading errors that are not the result of the Investment Manager's gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud), costs of due diligence regardless of whether a particular transaction is consummated, the costs of attending shareholder meetings, research expenses and costs related to monitoring Investments;
 - (ii) initial organizational expenses of the Partnership; provided that, such organizational costs may be expensed immediately, or in the General Partner's discretion, amortized in whole or in part and capitalized over a period of 60 calendar months from the date the Partnership commences operations, which may result in an exception to GAAP;
 - (iii) fees and expenses of advisers and consultants;
 - (iv) Management Fees (charged at the Master Fund level);
 - (v) fees and expenses of any custodians, escrow or transfer agents or other investment-related service providers;
 - (vi) indemnification expenses incurred in connection with Section 4.5 and the cost of insurance against potential indemnification liabilities;
 - (vii) interest and other borrowing expenses;
 - (viii) legal, administrative, accounting, tax, audit and insurance expenses;
 - (ix) expenses of preparing and distributing reports, financial statements and notices to Limited Partners;
 - (x) litigation or other extraordinary expenses;
 - (xi) any withholding, transfer or other taxes imposed or assessed on, or payable by, the Partnership (including any interest and penalties); and

- (xii) the cost of periodically updating the Partnership's offering memorandum and this Agreement.
- (c) Expenses generally will be borne pro rata by the Partners in accordance with their respective Partnership Percentages; provided that expenses may be specially allocated among the Partners as follows:
 - (i) with respect to expenses related to Investments (other than taxes), pro rata in accordance with their respective Partnership Percentages; and
 - (ii) as provided elsewhere in this Agreement, including Sections 3.4, 3.5, 3.6 and 5.5.
- (d) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall be entitled to reimbursement from the Partnership for any of the expenses paid by it on behalf of the Partnership pursuant to Section 4.2(b); provided that the General Partner or the Investment Manager may absorb any or all of such expenses incurred on behalf of the Partnership. The Investment Manager may retain, in connection with its responsibilities hereunder as a delegatee of the General Partner, the services of others to assist in the investment advice to be given to the Master Fund, including, but not limited to, any Affiliate of the Investment Manager, but payment for any such services shall be assumed by the Investment Manager and neither the Master Fund nor the Partnership shall have any liability therefor; provided, however, that the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, may retain the services of independent third party professionals on behalf of the Master Fund, including, without limitation, attorneys, accountants and consultants, to advise and assist it in connection with the performance of its activities on behalf of the Master Fund, and the Master Fund shall bear full responsibility therefor and the expense of any fees and disbursements arising therefrom.
- (e) If the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, shall incur any of the expenses referred to in Section 4.2(b) for the account or for the benefit of, or in connection with its activities or those of its Affiliates on behalf of, both the Master Fund and any Other Account, the General Partner or the Investment Manager, as appropriate, will allocate such expense among the Master Fund and each such Other Account in proportion to the size of the Investment made by each in the activity or entity to which the expense relates, or in such other manner as the General Partner considers fair and reasonable.
- (f) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is entitled to use "soft dollars" generated by the Master Fund to pay for certain investment research and brokerage services that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to the General Partner or the Investment Manager in the performance of investment decision-making responsibilities to the extent such use falls within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or is otherwise reasonably related to the investment decision-making process, or to cover certain Master Fund expenses. Use of "soft dollars" by the General Partner or the Investment Manager as described herein shall not constitute a breach by the either the General Partner or the Investment Manager of any fiduciary or other duty which the General Partner or the Investment Manager may be deemed to owe to the Partnership or its Partners.

4.3 Rights of Limited Partners

The Limited Partners shall take no part in the management, control or operation of the Partnership's business, and shall have no right or authority to act for the Partnership or to vote on matters other than the matters set forth in this Agreement or as required by applicable law. Except as otherwise provided herein or required by law, a Limited Partner shall have no liability for the debts or obligations of the Partnership.

4.4 Other Activities of Partners

- (a) The General Partner shall not be required to devote any specific amount of its time to the affairs of the Partnership, but shall devote such of its time to the business and affairs of the Partnership as it shall determine in good faith to be necessary to conduct the affairs of the Partnership for the benefit of the Partnership and the Partners.
- (b) Each Partner acknowledges and agrees that any other Partner, its Affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees, may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures or commercial dealings of every kind and description, independently or with others, including, but not limited to, management of other accounts, investment in, or financing, acquisition and disposition of, securities, investment and management counseling, brokerage services, serving as directors, officers, advisers or agents of other companies, partners of any partnership, or trustees of any trust, or entering into any other commercial arrangements, and will not be disqualified solely on the basis that any such activities may conflict with any interest of the parties with respect to the Partnership or the Master Fund. Without in any way limiting the foregoing, each Partner hereby acknowledges that (i) none of the Partners, their Affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees shall have any obligation or responsibility to disclose or refer any of the investment or other opportunities obtained through activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) to the General Partner or the Limited Partners, but may refer the same to any other party or keep such opportunities for their own benefit; and (ii) the Partners, their Affiliates and their respective officers, directors, shareholders, members, partners, personnel and employees are hereby authorized to engage in activities contemplated by this Section 4.4(b) with, or to purchase, sell or otherwise deal or invest in investments issued by, companies in which the General Partner might from time to time invest or be able to invest or otherwise have any interest on behalf of the Master Fund, without the consent or approval of the Partnership or any other Partner. The Partners expressly agree that no other Partner shall have any rights in or to such other activities, or any profits derived therefrom.

- (c) The General Partner and its Affiliates shall allocate investment opportunities to the Master Fund and any Other Account fairly and equitably over time. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner is under no obligation to accord exclusivity or priority to the Master Fund in the event of limited investment opportunities. This means that such opportunities will be allocated among those accounts for which participation in the respective opportunity is considered appropriate, taking into account, among other considerations: (i) fiduciary duties owed to the accounts; (ii) the primary mandate of the accounts; (iii) the capital available to the accounts; (iv) any restrictions on the accounts and the investment opportunity; (v) the sourcing of the investment, size of the investment and amount of follow-on available related to the investment; (vi) whether the risk-return profile of the proposed investment is consistent with the account's objectives and program, whether such objectives are considered in light of the specific investment under consideration or in the context of the portfolio's overall holdings; (vii) the potential for the proposed investment to create an imbalance in the account's portfolio (taking into account expected inflows and outflows of capital); (viii) liquidity requirements of the account; (ix) potentially adverse tax consequences; (x) regulatory and other restrictions that would or could limit an account's ability to participate in a proposed investment; and (xi) the need to re-size risk in the account's portfolio. The General Partner has the authority to allocate trades to multiple accounts on an average price basis or on another basis it deems fair and equitable. Similarly, if an order on behalf of any accounts cannot be fully allocated under prevailing market conditions, the General Partner may allocate the trades among different accounts on a basis it considers fair and equitable over time.
- (d) The Principal, as well as the employees and officers of the Investment Manager and of organizations affiliated with the Investment Manager, may buy and sell securities for their own account or the account of others, but may not buy securities from or sell securities to the Master Fund (such prohibition does not extend to the purchase or sale of Interests), unless such purchase or sale is in compliance with the applicable provisions of the Advisers Act.
- (e) Each Partner hereto hereby waives, and covenants not to bring a cause of action in law or equity on the basis of, any law (statutory, common law or otherwise) respecting the rights and obligations of the Partners which is or may be inconsistent with this Section 4.4.
- (f) The General Partner and its Affiliates reserve the right to establish collective investment vehicles that have stated investment programs or terms that differ from those of the Partnership or that are targeted primarily to investors for which the Partnership is not designed to be a suitable investment vehicle. The General Partner and its Affiliates also reserve the right to establish and provide management or advisory services to Other Accounts for significant investors, whether or not such accounts have the same investment program as the Partnership.

- (g) Each Limited Partner acknowledges that the General Partner or the Investment Manager may engage one or more of their respective Affiliates to provide services to the Partnership or the Master Fund for compensation.

4.5 Duty of Care; Indemnification

- (a) None of the Indemnified Persons will be liable to the Partnership or any Limited Partner for any loss or damage arising by reason of being or having been an Indemnified Person or from any acts or omissions in the performance of its services as an Indemnified Person in the absence of gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud, or as otherwise required by law. In no event shall any Indemnified Person be liable for any consequential damages, special or indirect damages or lost profits. An Indemnified Person may consult with counsel and accountants in respect of the Partnership's affairs and will be fully protected and justified in any action or inaction which is taken in accordance with the advice or opinion of such counsel or accountants, provided that they were selected in accordance with the standard of care set forth above.
