Defendant NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC f/k/a HCRE Partners, LLC ("NREP") submits this limited objection to the Bankruptcy Court's Report and Recommendation to District Court Proposing That It: (A) Grant Defendant's Motion to Withdraw the Reference at Such Time as Bankruptcy Court Certifies that Action is Trial Ready; and (B) Defer Pretrial Matters to Bankruptcy Court ("Report and Recommendation") [Highland Capital Management, L.P. v. NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC, Civil Case No. 3:21-CV-01379, District Court Dkt. No. 3-1] which was transmitted to this Court on July 15, 2021. In support of this limited objection, NREP states the following:

I. INTRODUCTION

NREP objects to the portions of the Report and Recommendation that recommend retaining the adversary case until it is certified trial ready. NREP also believes that withdrawal of the reference is mandatory. For the reasons described below, withdrawal is mandatory and there are reasons of efficiency and the avoidance of the appearance of impropriety that the District Court should withdraw the reference immediately and for all purposes.

II. BACKGROUND

1. On October 16, 2019, Debtor filed bankruptcy in Delaware. Debtor's creditors, including Acis Capital Management, L.P. (a debtor in a previous bankruptcy case before the Bankruptcy Court involving Mr. Dondero (the "Acis Bankruptcy")), moved to transfer this bankruptcy case to the Northern District of Texas seeking to have it assigned to the Bankruptcy Court. During the hearing, Debtor's current counsel, Jeffrey Pomerantz, acknowledged that a "fresh start" in the Delaware Bankruptcy Court was needed because the Bankruptcy Court in the Northern District of Texas had pre-existing, negative views of Debtor's management, including Mr. Dondero as a result of the Acis Bankruptcy.<sup>1</sup> Nonetheless, on December 4, 2019, the Delaware Bankruptcy Court transferred the case to the Northern District of Texas where it was assigned to Judge Jernigan, who presided over the Acis Bankruptcy.<sup>2</sup> See HCM Bankr. Dkt. No. 1.

2. On January 22, 2021, Debtor commenced Adversary Proceeding No. 21-03007-sgj against NREP, asserting a state law, non-core breach of contract claim ("Count I") and an entirely dependent turnover claim under 11 U.S.C. § 542(b) for the amounts allegedly owed on the Notes ("Count II"). HCMS denied consent to the Bankruptcy Court entering a final order or judgment, and demanded a jury trial in the District Court. [Highland Capital Management, L.P. v. HCRE Partners, LLC (N/K/A NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC)], Adv. Pro. No. 21-03007, Dkt. No. 7, ¶¶ 3-5, 59, 60; Dkt. No. 16, ¶¶ 3-5, 60-61].<sup>3</sup>

3. On March 18, 2021, James Dondero, and others affiliated with Mr. Dondero and HCMS filed their Motion to Recuse Bankruptcy Judge Jernigan, together with a supporting 37-page Brief and supplemental materials (consisting of 2,722 pages) ("Motion to Recuse") [Bankr. Dkt. Nos. 2060-2062]. Five days later, without holding a hearing, the Bankruptcy Court entered the Order Denying Motion to Recuse Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 455 [HCM Bankr. Dkt. No. 2083].

4. On June 3, 2021, NREP filed its Brief in Support of its Motion to Withdraw the Reference ("Motion") [Highland Capital Management, L.P. v. HCRE Partners, LLC (N/K/A

<sup>3</sup> On April 28, 2020, NREP filed Proof of Claim No. 146. On July 30, 2020, the Debtor filed its First Omnibus Objection, including objections to this proof of claim. While the proof of claim has not yet been resolved, the result of a finding in favor of NREP will not result in a claim or setoff against Debtor's estate. Therefore, the pending proof of claim does not relate to the notes at issue in this adversary proceeding. October 20, 2020 Order on First Omnibus Objection.

NexPoint Real Estate Partners, LLC), Adv. Pro. No. 21-03007, Dkt. No. 21] asserting that the District Court should hear and determine the matter, including all pretrial proceedings because there is good cause for permissive withdrawal.

5. The Bankruptcy Court agreed with NREP with respect to permissive withdrawal stating:

This court views the turnover claim as derivative of the breach of contract claims. The breach of contract claims are clearly non-core, and the bankruptcy court lacks constitutional authority to confer jurisdiction over them (absent consent—which does not exist here). A turnover action under 11 U.S.C. § 542(b) cannot be tacked onto a complaint so as to confer authority in the bankruptcy court to adjudicate an otherwise non-core claim.

6. On June 28, 2021, Mr. Dondero and NREP (joined by Appellants Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors, L.P., NexPoint Advisors, L.P., The Dugaboy Investment Trust, and The Get Good Trust) appealed to the District Court from the final order entered by Judge Jernigan denying Mr. Dondero's motion to recuse ("Appeal"), arguing that the Bankruptcy Court abused its discretion in denying the Motion to Recuse. See Case 3:21-cv-00879-K at Dkt. No. 16. The appeal is pending before this Court.

7. On July 14, 2021, the Bankruptcy Court issued its Report and Recommendation, recommending that all pre-trial matters remain in the Bankruptcy Court, including the resolution (by recommendation and report) of any dispositive motions, with withdrawal of the reference to occur only if and when the adversary case were certified trial-ready. [Highland Capital Management, L.P. v. HCRE Partners, LLC (N/K/A NexPoint Real Estate Partners)], Adv. Pro. No. 21-03007, Dkt. No. 44.].

III. ARGUMENT

A. Judicial Economy Favors Immediate Withdrawal of the Entire Adversary Proceeding Because of the Certainty of Dispositive Motion Practice Combined with the Right to a Jury Trial.

8. Here, the Bankruptcy Court lacks jurisdiction to rule on a dispositive motion such as a motion to dismiss or a motion for summary judgment. Thus, any ruling by the Bankruptcy Court on any such motion will result only in proposed findings and conclusions, reviewable de novo in this Court. See 28 U.S.C. § 157(c)(1). Because this is a case in which it is virtually certain that there will be dispositive motion practice,<sup>4</sup> considerations of efficiency weigh in favor of withdrawing the reference early to enable the district court to hear the dispositive motion. In re Gulf States Long Term Acute Care of Covington, L.L.C., 455 B.R. 869, 877 (E.D. La. 2011) ("Given the need for a jury trial in this case, it would be inefficient to allow pretrial motion practice to continue in the bankruptcy court, delaying the eventual referral of claims to this Court for resolution at trial.").

9. Numerous courts within the Fifth Circuit, including this Court, have held that judicial economy favors immediate withdrawal of the reference where, as here, a bankruptcy court cannot enter final orders or judgments on dispositive motions, and instead can only issue proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law. See, e.g., In re Mirant Corp. v. S. Co., 337 B.R. 107, 122 (N.D. Tex. 2006) ("Judicial economy will not be sacrificed by the withdrawal. Rather, adjudicating all of the claims, both core and non-core, in the district court eliminates the prospect of an appeal from the bankruptcy judge's adjudications of core claims, and dispenses with the need for the district court to conduct a de novo review of proposed findings and conclusions of the bankruptcy judge after a trial in the bankruptcy court as to non-core claims. And, for the same reasons, withdrawal of the reference will foster the economical use of the resources of the litigants."); see also Guffy v. Brown (In re Brown Med. Ctr., Inc.), No. BR 15-3229, 2016 WL 406959, at *4 (S.D. Tex. Feb. 3, 2016) (overruling bankruptcy court's report and recommendation to maintain the proceeding in the bankruptcy court for pretrial matters and instead ordering immediate withdrawal of the reference).

<sup>4</sup> The Debtor has repeatedly stated it was going to move for summary judgment. See e.g., May 20, 2021 Transcript at 23:19-20, a true and correct copy of which is attached to the Aigen Declaration as Exhibit 2 (App. 17).

10. Withdrawing the reference now promotes judicial economy, as it will enable the District Court to have the familiarity necessary to make key trial determinations on the more complex evidentiary and expert issues that arise in a jury trial. Moreover, because Debtor has indicated an intent to file a motion for summary judgment and the Bankruptcy Court can only recommend a resolution and the District Court will be required to decide such a motion de novo in any event, it will be more efficient for the District Court to preside over this case as soon as possible.

B. The Appearance of Impropriety Dictates the Immediate Withdrawal of the Reference.

11. Withdrawing the reference immediately will also ameliorate any appearance of impropriety arising out of the Bankruptcy Court making pre-trial rulings, including a dispositive motion concerning millions of dollars in disputed obligations involving a party who is appealing that same Bankruptcy Court's denial of a recusal motion. Cooley v. Foti, No. CIV.A. 86-3704, 1988 WL 10166, at *5 (E.D. La. Feb. 5, 1988) (finding the magistrate judge's personal "bias constitutes extraordinary circumstances and justifies the withdrawal of the [analogous] § 636[] references"). For example, in Cooley, the District Court, in making its determination that there was sufficient reasons to justify vacating a reference to a magistrate judge based on the "possibility of bias or prejudice," found that the "magistrate evidenced a degree of anger so pervasive as to amount to personal bias, even though it had its origin in litigation before the magistrate. Id. at **5-6. The evidence of bias in that case included, among other things, sua sponte actions by the magistrate requiring the requesting party to show cause why he should not be sanctioned for filing answers and defenses that did not "fairly meet the substance of the averments denied." Id. at 3. The actions in this case similarly demonstrate, at a minimum, a possibility of bias or prejudice.

12. For example, as detailed in the Appellate Brief filed in the District Court,<sup>5</sup> Mr. Dondero contends the Bankruptcy Court entered the Highland bankruptcy case with negative opinions of Mr. Dondero and this predisposition "manifested itself in actions that impaired Appellants' legal rights; favored Appellants' opponents; and created, at a minimum, the clear perception that the Bankruptcy Court was unwilling to act impartially where Mr. Dondero and the Affected Entities were concerned." Specifically, among other things, the record reflects that the Bankruptcy Court has:

(a) repeatedly made negative statements about Mr. Dondero and questioned Mr. Dondero's credibility before he ever testified;<sup>6</sup>

(b) summarily disregarded the testimony of any witness favorable to Mr. Dondero (or any of the Appellants) as 'under [Mr. Dondero's] control' and per se not credible;<sup>7</sup>

<sup>5</sup> Appellants' Brief (filed by James Dondero, Highland Capital Management Fund Advisors LP, NexPoint Advisors LP, NexPoint Real Estate Partners LLC, The Dugaboy Investment Trust, and The Get Good Trust) at p. 15 (citations omitted), Case No. 3:21-CV-00879-K [Appeal Dkt. No. 16], attached to the Aigen Declaration as Exhibit 3 (App. 40).

<sup>6</sup> For example, on February 19, 2020, the Court held a hearing on Debtor's application to retain a law firm to, among other things, appeal an order against Neutra Ltd. ("Neutra") (a company owned by Mr. Dondero). While former Bankruptcy Judge Russell Nelms (one of the Debtor's independent directors) determined that engaging the firm to represent Neutra was in the Debtor's best interest, the Bankruptcy Court concluded, without evidence, that Debtor's fully independent board was being unduly influenced by Mr. Dondero. At the same hearing, the Bankruptcy Court indicated that it believed Mr. Dondero lacked credibility even though, at that point in time, Mr. Dondero had not yet testified. See February 19, 2020 Transcript at 38:22-39:17; 62:6-17; 174:22-175:1; 177:7-178:3; a true and correct copy of which is attached to the Aigen Declaration as Exhibit 4 (App. 57-63).

<sup>7</sup> See, e.g., February 22, 2021 Order (I) Confirming the Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (as Modified) and (II) Granting Related Relief [Bankr. Dkt. No. 1943] at p. 19 ("At the Confirmation Hearing, Mr. Post testified on behalf of the Highland Advisors and Funds that the Funds have independent board members that run the Funds, but the Bankruptcy Court was not convinced of their independence from Mr. Dondero merely because none of the so-called independent board members have ever testified before the Bankruptcy Court and all have been engaged with the Highland complex for many years. Notably, the Court questions Mr. Post's credibility because, after more than 12 years of service, he abruptly resigned from the Debtor in October 2020 at the exact same time that Mr. Dondero resigned at the Board of Directors' request, and he is currently employed

(c) repeatedly concluded, without evidence, that any entity the Bankruptcy Court deemed associated with Mr. Dondero was essentially an agent and no more than a pawn of Mr. Dondero;<sup>8</sup>

(d) declared that Mr. Dondero and his 'controlled entities' are vexations litigants because: (i) they defended lawsuits and motions filed against them; and/or (ii) have asserted valid legal positions (including to preserve their and the Affected Entities' legal rights on appeal);<sup>9</sup>

(e) issued a sua sponte order demanding that so-called 'Dondero-Affiliated Entities' disclose their ownership and control, including entities that have not appeared or filed anything in the Highland Bankruptcy;<sup>10</sup> and

(f) applied more favorable standards and rules to Debtor than those it afforded to Appellants."<sup>11</sup>

13. NREP notes the following in particular. On February 17, 2021, the Debtor filed yet another adversary proceeding against an affiliated company, Adversary Proceeding No. 21-03010.<sup>12</sup> The Debtor sought a permanent, mandatory injunction. The Bankruptcy Court set the injunction for trial on six days' notice. At the conclusion of the trial, the Bankruptcy Court denied the mandatory injunction as moot.<sup>13</sup> Notwithstanding such denial and the resulting loss of jurisdiction, as there was no case or controversy, the Bankruptcy Court nevertheless entered an order highly favorable to the Debtor, giving the Debtor all kinds of findings that were not even requested or the subject of the trial, and changing the defendant's legal and contractual rights.<sup>14</sup> And, the Bankruptcy Court blamed the defendant, not the Debtor, for forcing an all-day trial on something that never was an emergency and never was a live case or controversy, instead being obviously moot:

I don't want you to think my calm demeanor means I am a happy camper. I am not. I am beyond annoyed. I mean, I can't even begin to guesstimate how many wasted hours were spent on the drafting Option A, Option B. Wait. Let me pull up the exact words. Mr. Norris confirming, We withdrew Option B after the Debtor accepted it.

I mentioned fee-shifting once before in a different context, and, of course, we haven't even gotten to the motion for a show cause order declaring Mr. Dondero in contempt. I don't know if the lawyers fully appreciate how this looks. Mr. Rukavina, you said that I have formed opinions that you don't think are fair and made comments about vexatious litigation and whatnot. But while I continue, I promise you, to have an open mind, it is days like this that make me come out with statements that Mr. Dondero, repeating his own words, apparently, he's going to burn the house down if he doesn't get his baby back.

I mean, it seems so obviously transparent that he's just driving the legal fees up. It's as though he doesn't want the creditors to get anything, is the way this looks. If he wants me to have a different impression, then he needs to start behaving differently. I mean, I can't even imagine how many hundreds of thousands of dollars of legal fees were probably spent the past two weeks on Option A, Option B, and all the different sub-agreements and whatnot. And as recently as Friday afternoon, the K&L Gates lawyer saying we have a deal, and then, oh, wait, maybe not, maybe we do, maybe we don't. And then Mr. Dondero acting like he had no clue what the K&L Gates lawyers were saying as far as we have a deal. And Mr. Norris distancing himself from having seen any of that, and I didn't have power. You know, I'm sure he had a cell phone, like the rest of us, that gets emails. I'm making a supposition. I shouldn't make that. But it just feels like sickening games.

<sup>13</sup> February 24, 2021 Order on Debtor's Emergency Motion for a Mandatory Injunction Requiring the Advisors to Adopt and Implement a Plan for the Transition of Services by February 28, 2021, a true and correct copy of which is attached to the Aigen Declaration as Exhibit 8 (App. 98-103).

And again, if this keeps on, if this keeps on, one day, one day, there may be an enormous attorney fee-shifting order. And, of course, I would have to find bad faith, and I wouldn't be surprised at all if I get there.

* * *

[Addressing Jim Dondero] I'm glad you're on the line. I cannot overstate how very annoyed I am by hearing all these hours of testimony and to feel like none of it was necessary. None of it was necessary. Okay? There could have been a consensual deal.<sup>15</sup>

14. Instead of focusing on the all-day trial that was not needed and was forced by the Debtor, and at which the defendant prevailed, the Bankruptcy Court instead focused on settlement negotiations and blamed Mr. Dondero, and therefore the defendant, for not taking the Debtor's settlement proposal.

15. Moreover, the Debtor is amending its adversary complaint in this case to add additional fraudulent transfer claims that the Bankruptcy Court itself has suggested the Debtor bring.<sup>16</sup> Resolving the adversary complaint will entail, among other things, proof of oral agreements to which Mr. Dondero was a party, determinations about the adequacy of Mr. Dondero's compensation, an examination of whether the potential compensation via loan forgiveness was properly structured for IRS purposes and the value of Mr. Dondero's performance at the Debtor. Given the Bankruptcy Court's prior pronouncements about Mr. Dondero, coupled with the Bankruptcy Court's own suggestion that the Debtor amend its claims to include fraud, having another court – this Court – preside over the claims that will inevitably turn on credibility determinations will avoid the appearance of impropriety.

<sup>16</sup> Appellants' Brief at 24-25 [Appeal Dkt. Not coincidentally, these are the exact claims that Debtor is now amending its complaint to seek to bring against Mr. Dondero and the other defendants based on the Bankruptcy Court's suggestion to Debtor's counsel. A true and correct copy of the proposed Amended Complaint is attached to the Aigen Declaration as Exhibit 11 (App. 118-140).

16. As the Bankruptcy Court appears to have a bias against Mr. Dondero, or at least that it has already formed the opinion that Mr. Dondero is not credible, NREP is reasonably, and deeply, concerned that the Bankruptcy Court will conclude a priori that its defenses are not credible and will act on pretrial matters with that bias or pre-existing conclusion. NREP does not propose to try the recusal matter through this Objection. However, all of these legitimate concerns about potential bias are best resolved by this Court simply doing what Congress intended: withdrawing the reference immediately and in toto.

C. NREP Has Demonstrated That This Adversary Proceeding Requires Substantial Consideration of Federal Tax Law That Has Wide-Ranging Implications, Which Requires Mandatory Withdrawal.

17. In its underlying motion for withdrawal of the reference, NREP did not seek a mandatory withdrawal of the reference of this proceeding under 28 U.S.C. § 157(d) as a proceeding that involves the construction of both the Bankruptcy Code and other federal law, as NREP had not then asserted its note discharge defense. However, now that NREP is asserting that defense, the mandatory withdrawal of the reference of this Adversary Proceeding also strongly favors the immediate withdrawal of the reference. NREP amended its answer so that withdrawal of the reference is mandatory because a non-Bankruptcy Code federal law at issue (here, federal tax law) has more than a de minimis effect on interstate commerce. Thus, the likelihood of motion practice makes the need for mandatory withdrawal stronger.

18. For example, in Clinton v. Pilgrim's Pride Corp. (In re Pilgrim's Pride Corp.), the Bankruptcy Court recommended immediate withdrawal of the reference with respect to all proceedings because the disposition of a motion for summary judgment required the court's interpretation of a certain federal statute. Nos. 08-45664-DML, 4:09-CV-00386-Y, 09-04222-DML, 2009 Bankr. LEXIS 2291, at *6 (Bankr. N.D. Tex. Aug. 12, 2009) (holding "I further recommend that withdrawal of the reference be immediate and with respect to all proceedings in the Adversary. Disposition of the MTD is likely to require interpretation of the PSA -- as will any other dispositive motions."). Similarly, here, the District Court will be determining dispositive motions that involve federal tax statutes.

19. A principal defense in the Adversary Proceeding is that the Notes were modified by an agreement under which they would be forgiven as compensation to Mr. Dondero (who is indirectly a 70% owner of NREP though his interest in the Dugaboy Trust) if certain achievements were met. And principles of tax law are important to reconcile any apparent confusion between the four corners of the Notes and the subsequent agreement rendering the Notes forgivable. For example, as discussed below, the issue of whether it is credible that the subsequent agreement under which the loans were to be forgiven on the occurrence of certain conditions subsequent needs to be put in context with how loan-based deferred compensation is structured to be compliant with applicable tax law, including Internal Revenue Code sec. 61(a)(11).<sup>17</sup>

20. NREP is not questioning the competency of the Bankruptcy Court to handle routine tax matters. On these claims, however, the fact-finder will ultimately need to hear fact and expert testimony about how loans are used as a deferred compensation device and how those devices are structured. Such analysis requires the Court to determine the particulars and nuances of the Notes, the circumstances and testimony regarding the creation of the Notes, testimony on the conditions subsequent and financial benchmarks resulting in the Notes becoming compensation, whether those conditions subsequent were met, how the funds from the Notes were ultimately treated, and by whom. Salloum v. Comm'r of Internal Revenue, 113 T.C.M. (CCH) 1563 (T.C. 2017). Placing perceived roadblocks to the use of a compensation method that is common in the financial services industry would have an adverse impact on competition for top level professionals in the industry.<sup>18</sup>

21. All the Notes reference the existence of other "existing or hereafter arising" related agreements (e.g., Highland Capital Management, L.P. v. Highland Capital Management Services, Inc., Adv. Pro. No. 21-03006, Dkt. No. 1-1 ¶ 7) that Mr. Dondero will testify related to the conditions under which the loans would be forgiven. As an understanding of the complex tax requirements for a bona fide note that also has the capacity to be deferred compensation is needed to adjudicate this proceeding, the issues should be adjudicated by this Court so that the Court is familiar with the issues and nuances when making a final decision on the dispositive motions and at trial.

22. There is no indication that these are the kind of tax matters that the bankruptcy court routinely hears. Indeed, Mr. Dondero has already retained experts, upon whom NREP will also rely (the reports of which are annexed to the accompanying Declaration of Michael Aigen as Exhibits 12 and 13) that will address the tax-related matters because both the Court and fact-finder jurors would be aided by experts familiar with how loan-based deferred compensation is structured to be compliant with tax law. These opinions bear on whether it is credible that the subsequent agreement here -- under which the loans were to be forgiven on the occurrence of certain conditions subsequent -- was made, by explaining why one would make such an agreement. Rather than duplicate the effort of determining these issues, the parties and judicial economy are better served by immediate withdrawal of the reference.

IV. CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, for the reasons above, NREP respectfully requests that the District Court enter an order: (1) rejecting in part the Bankruptcy Court's Report and Recommendation by immediately withdrawing the reference of the entirety of the case; (2) staying the matter pending determination; and (3) granting such further relief as equity and justice requires.
