24. The professional services performed predominantly by partners, counsel, and associates of Dentons were rendered by the Restructuring, Corporate, Labor and Employment, Real Estate, Health Care, Litigation, and Benefits & Executive Compensation Departments in various offices. Dentons has a preeminent Restructuring practice and enjoys a national reputation for its expertise in financial reorganizations and restructurings of troubled entities.

25. The professional services performed by Dentons on behalf of the Debtors during the Compensation Period required an aggregate expenditure of approximately 748.75 hours by Dentons' partners, counsel, associates, and paraprofessionals. Of the aggregate time expended, approximately 308.80 recorded hours were expended by partners and counsel of Dentons, approximately 348.55 recorded hours were expended by associates, and approximately 91.40 recorded hours were expended by paraprofessionals of Dentons. Of the fourteen (14) Dentons attorneys who billed time, two (2) billed fewer than 15 hours to this matter. Of the five (5) Dentons paraprofessionals who billed time, two (2) billed fewer than 15 hours to this matter.

26. During the Compensation Period, Dentons billed the Debtors for time expended by attorneys based on hourly rates ranging from $410.00 to $1,240.00 per hour for attorneys. Allowance of compensation in the amount requested would result in a blended hourly billing rate for Dentons attorneys in this Interim Application of approximately $958.97 (based on 657.35 recorded hours for attorneys at Dentons' agreed billing rates in effect at the time of the performance of services).

27. Dentons submits that this Interim Application satisfies Bankruptcy Code Section 330 and the factors for reasonableness of attorney's fees from Johnson v. Georgia Highway Express, Inc., 488 F. 2d 718 (5th Cir. 1974), as outlined below:

a. The Time and Labor Required. Dentons' attorneys and paraprofessionals have expended 748.75 hours during the Compensation Period in the representation of the Debtors. All of the time spent was necessary and appropriate for the representation of the Debtors in these cases to ensure that the Debtors maximized the value of their estates to the benefit of the Debtors' creditors. This is especially true when considering the urgency of the tasks and issues that arose in these chapter 11 cases during the Compensation Period, including, among other things, drafting procedural and operational motions, finalizing the multiple, complex sales of the Debtors' facilities and attending to issues arising from the same and preparing to close those transactions for each of the facilities. Dentons submits that the hours spent were reasonable given the size and complexity of these cases, the significant and often urgent legal and business issues raised, and the numerous pleadings filed in these cases. All of the services performed were necessary to assist the Debtors in fulfilling their statutory duties and proceeding through these chapter 11 cases in an expeditious and efficient manner. Dentons has additionally made every effort to avoid any unnecessary duplication of time or services.

b. The Novelty and Difficulty of the Questions Involved. These chapter 11 cases involve a significant number of complex issues in the areas of restructuring, sales, corporate finance, tax, insurance, health care, and labor law. These cases are a large and complex restructuring, involving significant outstanding debt-funded obligations as of the Petition Date, significant obligations to vendors and contract counterparties, and the sale of substantially all of the Debtors' assets to certain purchasers. Dentons' effective advocacy and creative approach helped clarify and resolve a number of complex issues as described in this Interim Application.

Each of the facilities now sold had been structured and operated as standalone unique operating businesses in a highly regulated industry with an array of varying services and contractual resident agreements, separate licensing from federal, state and local governments and agencies, participation and provider agreements under Medicare and Medicaid programs, social service and medical components with various level of care from independent living to assisted living and skilled nursing and separate local markets spread out over four states. Each of the closings had complications. Significant interactions with federal and state agencies on approvals or other related entities were required for the regulated facilities.

c. The Skill to Perform the Professional Services Properly. Dentons believes that its recognized expertise in the area of corporate reorganization, its ability to draw from highly experienced professionals in other areas of Dentons' practice, and its creative approach to the resolution of issues has contributed to the successful administration of these cases and benefitted the Debtors' estates and creditors. Due to the nature and complexity of the legal issues presented in these cases, Dentons was required to exhibit a high degree of legal skill in areas related to, among others, bankruptcy, litigation, labor, insurance, health care, acquisitions, and other corporate matters. Additionally, Dentons' strong working relationship with the legal and financial advisors retained on behalf of the various interested parties involved in these cases enabled Dentons to work with such professionals towards consensual resolutions of many of the issues that have arisen thus far in these cases. Dentons respectfully submits that its professionals have provided substantial benefits to the Debtors and their estates during the Compensation Period.

d. The Preclusion of Other Employment by the Professional Due to Acceptance of the Case. Due to the size of Dentons' restructuring department, Dentons' representation of the Debtors did not preclude its acceptance of new clients.

e. The Customary Fee. The rates charged by Dentons attorneys, paraprofessional, and other-non legal staff in these chapter 11 cases are the same rates charged by Dentons in connection with non-bankruptcy work. The professional fees sought herein are based upon Dentons' normal hourly rates for services of this kind. Dentons respectfully submits that the professional fees sought herein are not unusual given the magnitude and complexity of these cases and time expended in representing the Debtors, and are commensurate with fees Dentons, has been awarded in other cases, as well with professional fees charged by other attorneys of comparable experience.

f. Whether the Fee is Fixed or Contingent. Dentons' fees in these chapter 11 cases are based upon the hourly billing rates of Dentons' attorneys and paraprofessionals. As in all bankruptcy cases, however, pursuant to §§ 330 and 331 of the Bankruptcy Code, fees for professionals employed under §§ 327 of the Bankruptcy Code are subject to court approval and the availability of funds in the Debtors' estates. In this limited sense, Dentons' fees are contingent in nature.

g. Time Limitations Imposed by the Client or the Circumstances. Many of the matters Dentons has handled for the Debtors have been on an expedited basis, including first day motions. Dentons guided the Debtors through the early stages of these chapter 11 cases with speed and efficiency and has helped to preserve the value of the Debtors' assets and businesses.

h. The Amount Involved and the Results Obtained. During the Compensation Period, Dentons assisted the Debtors' efforts to, among other things, conduct a sale and marketing process for the sale of substantially all of the Debtors' assets. Dentons submits that the fees requested in this Interim Application are reasonable and appropriate when considering the results obtained on behalf of the Debtors thus far.

i. The Experience, Reputation and Ability of the Professionals. Dentons has extensive, diversified experience and expertise, including Dentons' recognized expertise in the field of debtor protections, creditors' rights, and the administration of cases under chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code. Dentons' experience enabled it to perform the services described herein competently and expeditiously. In addition to its expertise in the area of restructuring, Dentons called upon the expertise of its partners and associates in other practice areas to perform the wide-ranging scope of legal work necessitated by these chapter 11 cases, including corporate, tax, labor, health care, and litigation work.

j. The Undesirability of the Case. Dentons does not consider these cases to be undesirable. Dentons did discount its rates considering the charitable nature of the Debtors.

k. The Nature and Length of the Professional Relationship with the Client. Dentons has acted as counsel to the Debtors since 2008 and has rendered services continuously to the Debtors.

l. Awards in Similar Cases. Dentons submits that the fees and expenses for which it seeks compensation and reimbursement in this Interim Application are not excessive and are commensurate with the rates awarded in similar cases in the United States Bankruptcy Courts for similar services rendered and results obtained.

ACTUAL AND NECESSARY DISBURSEMENTS OF DENTONS

28. Dentons has disbursed $749.36 as expenses incurred in providing professional services during the Compensation Period. These expenses are reasonable and necessary and were essential to, among other things, timely respond to motions and objections filed in the Debtors' chapter 11 cases and the overall administration of the cases.

29. Certain disbursements are not included in Dentons' overhead for the purpose of setting billing rates. Dentons has made every effort to minimize its disbursements in these cases. The actual expenses incurred in providing professional services were absolutely necessary, reasonable, and justified under the circumstances to serve the needs of the Debtors and their estates and creditors.

THE REQUESTED COMPENSATION SHOULD BE ALLOWED

30. Section 331 of the Bankruptcy Code provides for interim compensation of professionals and incorporates the substantive standards of § 330 to govern the Court's award of such compensation. 11 U.S.C. § 331. Section 330 provides that a Court may award a professional employed under § 327 of the Bankruptcy Code "reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered [and] reimbursement for actual, necessary expenses." 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1).

Section 330 also sets forth the criteria for the award of such compensation and reimbursement:

- (A) In determining the amount of reasonable compensation to be awarded to [a] professional person, the court shall consider the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including – the time spent on such services;
- (B) the rates charged for such services;
- (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under this title;
- (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed;
- (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and
- (F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under this title.

Id. § 330(a)(3).

31. In the instant case, Dentons submits that the services for which it seeks compensation and the expenditures for which it seeks reimbursement in this Interim Application were necessary for and beneficial to the preservation and maximization of value for all stakeholders. The compensation requested herein is reasonable in light of the nature, extent, and value of such services to the Debtors, their estates, and all parties in interest.

32. In sum, the services rendered by Dentons were necessary and beneficial to the Debtors' estates and were consistently performed in a timely manner commensurate with the types of issues involved in these chapter 11 cases. Accordingly, approval of the compensation for professional services and reimbursement of expenses sought in this Interim Application is warranted.

NOTICE

33. Notice of this Application has been provided in accordance with the Local Bankruptcy Rules and Local Guidelines.

CONCLUSION

34. Dentons respectfully requests that the Court (i) award interim allowance of Dentons' compensation for professional services rendered during the Compensation Period in the amount of $677,119.86, consisting of $676,370.50 in fees and $749.36 in actual and necessary expenses, in all instances as incurred during the Compensation Period, and that such allowance be without prejudice to Dentons' right to seek additional compensation for services performed and expenses incurred during the Compensation Period, which were not processed at the time of this Interim Application, (ii) direct payment of the difference between the amounts allowed and any amounts previously paid pursuant to the Interim Compensation Order, and (iii) grant such other and further relief as is just and proper.
