Re: In re Modivcare Inc., Case No. 25-90309 (ARP) (jointly administered)

Dear Ms. Whitworth and Ms. Sall:

Latham & Watkins LLP ("Latham") represents Modivcare Inc. ("Modivcare") and its subsidiaries (together, the "Debtors") in the above chapter 11 case currently pending in the Southern District of Texas. We write to make you aware of a phone call that took place on November 10, 2025. Given that the conversation could be understood to involve a settlement offer or request for a private payment from the Debtors' secured lenders on account of a position in the Debtors' public stock held by the private equity fund managed by one of the Debtors' former directors—which payment would be in exchange for not taking action in the Debtors' chapter 11 cases—we believe it raises concerns we must share with your office, consistent with our ethical obligations and as counsel to the Debtors as fiduciaries for all stakeholders in these cases.

On Sunday, November 9, 2025, one of the outside directors on the Board of Modivcare, David Mounts Gonzales, resigned from the Board unexpectedly. Mr. Mounts Gonzales had been on the Board since March 2025 and is a general partner at AI Catalyst Fund ("AI Catalyst"), which owns approximately 15% of the public equity in Modivcare. AI Catalyst is represented by Olshan Law ("Olshan"), and Mr. Mounts Gonzales is represented in his individual capacity by Kasowitz.

The next day, Monday, November 10, Olshan requested a phone call with Paul Hastings, which represents the ad hoc group of secured lenders (the "Ad Hoc Group") to the Debtors.[1] Olshan informed Latham of the call as a courtesy, and Latham asked Paul Hastings if Latham could join the call as well, given that the Debtors have plan exclusivity and the call otherwise would be inappropriate. Paul Hastings agreed and forwarded the call invitation. Latham did not know the purpose of the requested call, and we understand from Paul Hastings that this information was not offered to Paul Hastings prior to the call. At 8:00 p.m. ET, Adam Friedman and Jacqueline Ma joined for Olshan on behalf of AI Catalyst; Kris Hansen and Matt Warren joined for Paul Hastings on behalf of the Ad Hoc Group; and Ray Schrock, George Klidonas, and Keith Simon joined from Latham on behalf of the Debtors.

[1] The Ad Hoc Group has signed a restructuring support agreement in these cases with the Debtors, and solicitation for votes on the Debtors' plan currently is underway, with a scheduled hearing to consider confirmation of plan on December 8, 2025. The plan does not currently provide a recovery to holders of the Debtors' equity.

At the outset of the call, Olshan represented that they would have preferred to have had this call with just the Ad Hoc Group's counsel given the subject, but they would go ahead with the Debtors' counsel on the line; Olshan then requested that all parties agree that the conversation would be covered by Federal Rule of Evidence 408, to which all parties agreed. Olshan stated that they were speaking on behalf of AI Catalyst and not Mr. Mounts Gonzales for purposes of this call. Olshan also stated that Mr. Mounts Gonzales could no longer reconcile his separate positions as a member of the Debtors' Board of Directors and his position with AI Catalyst. Olshan then stated that, although AI Catalyst does not intend to object to confirmation of the plan, it believes there are grounds for filing a request for an examiner in the chapter 11 cases given that, among other things, (a) the independent director leading the Debtors' investigation to determine whether to pursue or release any estate causes of action was a person suggested to be on the Board by the Debtors' lenders, and (b) the Debtors' Board was otherwise dominated by the secured lenders. Olshan also stated that Mr. Mounts Gonzalez had other issues with the Debtors' process leading up to these cases. Olshan further stated that, in its view, the independent investigation was not legitimate or appropriate, its request for an examiner would be granted by the Court, this would delay emergence by 60-90 days, and it would cost the estates and the Ad Hoc Group, who are funding these cases, with the attendant costs associated with a delay. Olshan then said that this delay and cost could be avoided, and this matter could be resolved, as AI Catalyst would be willing to settle this potential dispute and would forego filing the examiner motion if the lenders would make a direct payment outside of the Debtors' plan of approximately 50 cents on the dollar of the price paid by AI Catalyst for the Debtors' public equity shares. Olshan said this would equate to a payment of approximately $8 million plus attorneys' fees to AI Catalyst. Olshan also said that AI Catalyst and Mr. Mounts Gonzales would be willing to discuss the potential for Mr. Mounts Gonzales to continue in an advisory or consulting role with the reorganized company as part of this settlement offer.

At no time did Paul Hastings indicate that their clients would be supportive of the proposal.

The Debtors are not supportive of the proposal.

Mr. Mounts Gonzales currently is set to be deposed this Friday, November 14, 2025, in conjunction with previously scheduled plan discovery in these cases. The Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors have noticed this deposition and the Debtors cross-noticed Mr. Mounts Gonzales for deposition. We understand that Kasowitz will defend Mr. Mounts Gonzales.

LATHAM & WATKINS LLP

We truly hope that this was not a serious proposal or a misunderstanding and that none of this is an issue for your office or anyone, but we felt we had no choice but to make your office aware of the call in light of the foregoing.[2]

In re: In re Modivcare Inc., Case No. 25-90309 (ARP) (jointly administered)

Dear Ms. Whitworth and Ms. Sall:

We write in response to the letter (the "Letter") from Latham & Watkins LLP ("Latham") dated November 12, 2025, which concerns a confidential Rule 408 settlement phone call on November 10, 2025, between counsel for the ad hoc group of secured lenders, Paul Hastings LLP, counsel for AI Catalyst Fund, Olshan Frome Wolosky LLP, and counsel for the Debtors in this case, Latham. The Letter results from a Debtor intrusion into what was supposed to be a confidential settlement discussion solely among private non-estate parties. Latham's reason for insisting on participating in a settlement call that had nothing to with the Debtors is now obvious – their improper attendance and patently baseless letter is a transparent attempt to intimidate Mr. Mounts Gonzales, AI Catalysts' co-managing partner, who is scheduled to appear at a deposition scheduled for tomorrow. Such gamesmanship should not be tolerated.

While we will not respond to each of the Letter's unfounded accusations, which the Letter itself concedes could be a result of Latham's "misunderstanding," we do feel compelled to respond to some of its more inaccurate and misleading statements.

First, the Debtors' Letter insinuates that an ordinary Rule 408 settlement discussion between non-estate parties was somehow untoward. It wasn't. AI Catalyst has serious claims and concerns regarding the lenders' actions relating to this case. Likewise, Mr. Mounts Gonzales, co-manager of AI Catalyst, has longstanding and well-known concerns about various pre-petition acts taken by the lenders and certain estate fiduciaries appointed by the lenders. He has also previously informed the Board of his opinion that the head of the "one-man" independent investigations committee, charged with conducting an investigation, Mr. Daniel Silvers, was insufficiently independent and disinterested from the lenders, and incapable of investigating his own independence and disinterestedness, let alone material transactions with the lender group who appointed him to the Debtors' board.

Exhibit
David Mounts Gonzales

After Mr. Mounts Gonzales resigned from the board, AI Catalyst through Olshan requested a settlement meeting with the lenders and, in a gesture of good faith and transparency, notified the Debtors of its intended call. In response, Latham conveyed to us they were supportive of settlement discussions. Neither the Debtors nor their counsel were invited by AI Catalyst to participate in what was arranged as a private party, non-debtor settlement call, between counsel for AI Catalyst and the counsel for the Ad Hoc Lender Group. While AI Catalyst was hopeful Latham's uninvited attendance was in furtherance of its support for a settlement and in good faith, the true motive, however, appears far more nefarious: to intimidate and improperly damage the credibility of a witness.

After first agreeing that all discussions were strictly confidential and for settlement purposes only, Olshan outlined AI Catalyst's concerns that could impact recoveries on account of its potential claims against third parties, including the lenders, that the proposed chapter 11 plan releases, including third party releases of claims AI Catalyst has against the lenders. Due to its concerns, Olshan also outlined the inadequacy of the Debtors' internal investigation, and that AI Catalyst is considering its options, including filing a motion for an examiner, and believes there are legitimate grounds to do so.

Importantly, as Debtors admit, AI Catalyst stated it had no intention to object to the plan and merely sought to preserve its own claims it was seeking to settle with the lenders. Contrary to the suggestions made in the Letter, AI Catalyst's counsel made no demands, let alone inappropriate ones. Rather, when asked by Paul Hastings, counsel for the lenders, what would it take to settle, AI Catalyst's counsel made a proposal to settle its claims.

Settlement discussions between AI Catalyst Fund and the first-lien lenders are entirely common and not in any way inappropriate. To the contrary, such settlement discussions routinely occur and are encouraged in Chapter 11 cases. As the Letter concedes, AI Catalyst made no demands or requests from the Debtors or the estates. It only offered to settle with the lenders. Counsel for AI Catalyst also indicated its willingness to have any settlement included in the plan if the Debtors believed that was required. Debtors' suggestions to the contrary are spurious.

AI Catalyst wants to avoid costly and time-consuming litigation, but it owes duties to its own investors to pursue recoveries to AI Catalyst on account of valid claims for which the lenders are seeking releases from AI Catalyst for no value. Settlement discussions to achieve this goal are wholly reasonable and appropriate.

We are available if the U.S. Trustee would like to discuss.

Respectfully submitted,

Adam H. Friedman

(v) whether and the extent to which any agreement, arrangement or understanding has been made, the effect or intent of which is to increase or decrease the voting power of such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person with respect to any shares of the capital stock of the Corporation, without regard to whether such transaction is required to be reported on a Schedule 13D or other form in accordance with Section 13(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or any successor provisions thereto and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; (vi) any material interest of each such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person in the business proposed to be conducted at the special meeting; (vii) a representation that each of the stockholders and any Stockholder Associated Persons submitting the Special Meeting Request intend to appear in person or by proxy at the special meeting to present the proposal(s) or business to be brought before the special meeting; For purposes of these Bylaws, a "Stockholder Associated Person" shall mean with respect to any stockholder (A) any person controlling, directly or indirectly, or acting in concert with, such stockholder, (B) any beneficial owner of shares of stock of the Corporation owned of record or beneficially by such stockholder, and (C) any person controlling, controlled by or under common control with such Stockholder Associated Person.

In addition, a Special Meeting Request shall not be valid if (i) the Special Meeting Request relates to an item of business that is not a proper subject for stockholder action under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, as amended from time to time (the "DGCL"), and other applicable law; (ii) the Special Meeting Request is received by the Corporation during the period commencing ninety (90) days prior to the first anniversary of the date of the immediately preceding annual meeting and ending on the date of the next annual meeting; (iii) a Similar Item was presented at any meeting of stockholders held within one hundred twenty (120) days prior to receipt by the Corporation of such Special Meeting Request (and, for purposes of this clause (iii), the election of directors shall be deemed a "Similar Item" with respect to all items of business involving the election or removal of directors); (iv) a Similar Item is included in the Corporation's notice as an item of business to be brought before a stockholder meeting that has been called but not yet held; or (v) such Special Meeting Request was made in a manner that involved a violation of Regulation 14A under the Exchange Act or other applicable law. Stockholders may revoke a Special Meeting Request by written revocation delivered to the Corporation at any time prior to the special meeting; provided, however, the Board shall have the discretion to determine whether or not to proceed with the special meeting. In addition, failure of the Requisite Holders (A) to appear or send a qualified representative to present such proposal(s) or business for consideration at the special meeting; or (B) to own of record shares representing at least the Requisite Percentage at the time of the special meeting shall also constitute a revocation of the Special Meeting Request.

Section 1.04 Conduct of Stockholders' Meetings. The Chairman of the Board shall preside at all stockholders' meetings. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board, the Chief Executive Officer shall preside or, in his or her absence, any officer designated by the Board shall preside. The Secretary, or, in the Secretary's absence, an Assistant Secretary, or in the absence of both the Secretary and Assistant Secretaries, a person appointed by the chairman of the meeting shall serve as secretary of the meeting. In the event that the Secretary presides at a meeting of the stockholders, an Assistant Secretary shall record the minutes of the meeting. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Board of the Corporation shall be entitled to make such rules or regulations for the conduct of meetings of stockholders as it shall deem necessary, appropriate or convenient. Subject to such rules and regulations of the Board, if any, the chairman of the meeting shall have the right and authority to prescribe such rules, regulations and procedures and take such action as, in the discretion of such chairman, are deemed necessary, appropriate or convenient for the proper conduct of the meeting. Such rules, regulations and procedures, whether adopted by the Board or prescribed by the chairman of the meeting, may include, without limitation, the following: (i) establishing an agenda for the meeting and the order for the consideration of the items of business on such agenda; (ii) restricting admission to the time set for the commencement of the meeting; (iii) limiting attendance at the meeting to stockholders of record of the Corporation entitled to vote at the meeting, their duly authorized proxies or other such persons as the chairman of the meeting may determine; (iv) limiting participation at the meeting on any matter to stockholders of record of the Corporation entitled to vote on such matter, their duly authorized proxies or other such persons as the chairman of the meeting may determine to recognize and, as a condition to recognizing any such participant, requiring such participant to provide the chairman of the meeting with evidence of his or her name and affiliation, whether he or she is a stockholder or a proxy for a stockholder, and the class and series and number of shares of each class and series of capital stock of the Corporation which are owned beneficially and/or of record by such stockholder; (v) limiting the time allotted to questions or comments by participants; (vi) determining when the polls should be opened and closed for voting; (vii) taking such actions as are necessary or appropriate to maintain order, decorum, safety and security at the meeting; (viii) removing any stockholder who refuses to comply with meeting procedures, rules or guidelines as established by the chairman of the meeting; (ix) subject to Section 1.05 hereof, adjourning the meeting to a later date, time and place announced at the meeting by the chairman; and (x) complying with any state and local laws and regulations concerning safety and security. Unless otherwise determined by the chairman of the meeting, meetings of stockholders shall not be required to be held in accordance with the rules of parliamentary procedure.

Section 1.05 Adjournment. The holders of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast by the stockholders who are present in person or by proxy may adjourn the meeting from time to time whether or not a quorum is present. If a quorum exists, the chairman of the meeting may only adjourn the meeting where such adjournment is deemed reasonably necessary, as determined by a majority vote of the Board, and upon the advice of the Corporation's counsel, to provide stockholders with a full and fair opportunity to make informed voting decisions with respect to the matters presented or where required for the Corporation to comply with the Exchange Act, or other applicable law. In the event that a quorum does not exist with respect to any vote to be taken by a particular class or series, the chairman of the meeting or the holders of a majority of the votes entitled to be cast by the stockholders of such class or series who are present in person or by proxy may adjourn the meeting with respect to the vote(s) to be taken by such class or series. Except as otherwise provided herein, notice need not be given of an adjourned meeting if the time and place thereof are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken. At any such adjourned meeting at which a quorum may be present, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally called. If the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder entitled to vote at the meeting.

Section 1.06 Voting List. The Secretary will prepare and make, at least ten (10) days before every meeting of stockholders, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote at the meeting, arranged in alphabetical order, and showing the address of each stockholder and the number of shares registered in the name of each stockholder. Nothing contained in this Section 1.06 shall require the Corporation to include electronic mail addresses or other electronic contact information on such list. Such list shall be open to the examination of any stockholder, for any purpose germane to the meeting for a period of at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting: (i) on a reasonably accessible electronic network, provided that the information required to gain access to such list is provided with the notice of the meeting, or (ii) during ordinary business hours, at the principal place of business of the Corporation. In the event that the Corporation determines to make the list available on an electronic network, the Corporation may take reasonable steps to ensure that such information is available only to stockholders of the Corporation. If the meeting is to be held at a physical location, then the list shall be produced and kept at the time and place of the meeting during the whole time thereof, and may be inspected by any stockholder who is present. If the meeting is to be held solely by means of remote communications, then the list shall be open to the examination of any stockholder during the whole time of the meeting on a reasonably accessible electronic network, and the information required to access such list shall be provided with the notice of the meeting. The stock ledger shall be the only evidence as to who are the stockholders entitled to examine the stock ledger, the list required by this Section 1.06 or the books of the Corporation, or to vote at any meeting of stockholders.

In no event shall any adjournment or postponement of an annual meeting or the public disclosure thereof commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice as described above.

(d) To be in proper written form, a stockholder's notice to the Secretary shall set forth in writing, as to each matter the stockholder proposes to bring before the meeting the following: (i) a description of the business desired to be brought before the meeting, including the text of the proposal or business and the text of any resolutions proposed for consideration; (ii) the name and record address, as they appear on the Corporation's stock ledger, of such stockholder and the name and address of any Stockholder Associated Person; (iii) (A) the class and series and number of shares of each class and series of capital stock of the Corporation which are, directly or indirectly, owned beneficially and/or of record by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person, documentary evidence of such record or beneficial ownership, and the date or dates such shares were acquired and the investment intent at the time such shares were acquired, (B) any Derivative Instrument directly or indirectly owned beneficially by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person and any other direct or indirect right held by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person to profit from, or share in any profit derived from, any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation, (C) any proxy, contract, arrangement, understanding, or relationship pursuant to which such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person has a right to vote any shares of any security of the Corporation, (D) any Short Interest indirectly or directly held by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person in any security issued by the Corporation, (E) any rights to dividends on the shares of the Corporation owned beneficially by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person that are separated or separable from the underlying shares of the Corporation, (F) any proportionate interest in shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments held, directly or indirectly, by a general or limited partnership in which such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person is a general partner or, directly or indirectly, beneficially owns an interest in a general partner, and (G) any performance-related fees (other than an asset-based fee) that such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person is entitled to based on any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments, if any, as of the date of such notice, including without limitation any such interests held by members of such stockholder's or any Stockholder Associated Person's immediate family sharing the same household (which information, in each case, shall be supplemented by such stockholder and any Stockholder Associated Person not later than ten (10) calendar days after the record date for the meeting to disclose such ownership as of the record date); (iv) a description of all arrangements or understandings between such stockholder and/or any Stockholder Associated Person and any other person or persons (naming such person or persons) in connection with the proposal of such business by such stockholder; (v) any material interest of such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person in such business, individually or in the aggregate, including any anticipated benefit to such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person therefrom; (vi) a representation from such stockholder as to whether the stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person intends or is part of a group which intends (1) to deliver a proxy statement and/or form of proxy to holders of at least the percentage of the Corporation's outstanding capital stock required to approve or adopt the proposal and/or (2) otherwise to solicit proxies in support of such proposal; (vii) a representation that such stockholder is a holder of record of stock of the Corporation entitled to vote at such meeting, that such stockholder intends to vote such stock at such meeting, and that such stockholder intends to appear at the meeting in person or by proxy to bring such business before such meeting; (viii) whether and the extent to which any agreement, arrangement or understanding has been made, the effect or intent of which is to increase or decrease the voting power of such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person with respect to any shares of the capital stock of the Corporation, without regard to whether such transaction is required to be reported on a Schedule 13D or other form in accordance with Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act or any successor provisions thereto and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; (ix) in the event that such business includes a proposal to amend these Bylaws, the complete text of the proposed amendment; and (x) such other information regarding each matter of business to be proposed by such stockholder, regarding the stockholder in his or her capacity as a proponent of a stockholder proposal, or regarding any Stockholder Associated Person, that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made with the SEC in connection with the solicitations of proxies for such business pursuant to Section 14 of the Exchange Act (or pursuant to any law or statute replacing such section) and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(e) A majority of the Board may reject any stockholder proposal not timely made or otherwise not made in accordance with the terms of this Section 1.07. If a majority of the Board reasonably determines that the information provided in a stockholder's notice does not satisfy the informational requirements hereof in any material respect, the Secretary shall promptly notify such stockholder of the deficiency in writing. The stockholder shall then have an opportunity to cure the deficiency by providing additional information to the Secretary within such period of time, not to exceed ten (10) days from the date such deficiency notice is given to the stockholder, as a majority of the Board shall reasonably determine. If the deficiency is not cured within such period, or if a majority of the Board reasonably determines that the additional information provided by the stockholder, together with the information previously provided, does not satisfy the requirements of this Section 1.07 in any material respect, then a majority of the Board may reject such stockholder's proposal.

(f) For purposes of these Bylaws, "public disclosure" shall be deemed to include a disclosure made in a (A) press release reported by the Dow Jones News Service, Reuters Information Service, Associated Press or any similar or successor news wire service, or (B) in a document filed by the Corporation with the SEC pursuant to Section 13, 14 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act or any successor provisions thereto.

(g) No business (other than nominations of persons for election to the Board which shall be made in accordance with the procedures set forth in Article II, Section 2.02 of these Bylaws) shall be conducted at the annual meeting of stockholders except business brought before the annual meeting in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 1.07.

(h) Except as otherwise required by the DGCL and other applicable law, the Certificate or these Bylaws, the Chairman of the Board or other person presiding at an annual meeting shall have the power and duty (i) to determine whether any business proposed to be brought before the annual meeting was properly brought before the meeting in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 1.07, including whether the stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person on whose behalf the proposal is made, solicited (or is part of a group which solicited) or did not so solicit, as the case may be, proxies in support of such stockholder's proposal in compliance with such stockholder's representation as required by this Section 1.07, and (ii) if any proposed business was not brought in compliance with this Section 1.07, to declare that such proposal is defective and shall be disregarded.

(i) In addition to the provisions of this Section 1.07. a stockholder shall also comply with all applicable requirements of the DGCL, other applicable law and the Exchange Act, and the rules and regulations thereunder, with respect to the matters set forth herein, provided, however, that any references in these Bylaws to the Exchange Act or the rules promulgated thereunder are not intended to and shall not limit the requirements applicable to stockholder proposals to be considered pursuant to Section 1.07(a)(iii) of these Bylaws.

(j) Nothing in this Section 1.07 shall be deemed to affect any rights of stockholders to request the inclusion of proposals in the Corporation's proxy statement pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act.

(k) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 1.07 to the contrary, a stockholder intending to nominate one or more persons for election as a director at an annual meeting must comply with Article II, Section 2.02 of these Bylaws for any such nomination to be properly brought before such meeting.

ARTICLE II

BOARD

Section 2.01 Election of Directors.

(a) Except as otherwise provided by these Bylaws, directors shall be elected by a "majority of votes cast" (as defined herein) at any meeting for the election of directors at which a quorum is present, unless the election is a Contested Election (as defined herein), in which case directors shall be elected by a plurality of the votes cast. An election shall be deemed a Contested Election if, as determined by the Board, (i) the Secretary of the Corporation receives a notice that a stockholder has nominated a person for election to the Board in compliance with the advance notice requirements for stockholder nominees for director set forth in Article II, Section 2.02 of these Bylaws and such nomination has not been withdrawn by such stockholder on or prior to the day next preceding the date the Corporation first mails its notice of meeting for such meeting to the stockholders, or (ii) the number of nominees otherwise exceeds the number of directors to be elected. For the purposes of this Section 2.01, a "majority of votes cast" means that the number of shares voted "for" the election of a director exceeds the number of votes cast "against" the election of that director (with "abstentions" and "broker non-votes" not counted as a vote cast either "for" or "against" that director's election).

(b) In order for any incumbent director to become a nominee of the Board for further service on the Board, such person must submit an irrevocable resignation, contingent on (i) that person not receiving a majority of the votes cast in an election that is not a Contested Election, and (ii) acceptance of that resignation by the Board in accordance with the policies and procedures adopted by the Board for such purpose.

(c) In the event an incumbent director fails to receive a majority of the votes cast in an election that is not a Contested Election, the Nominating and Governance Committee, or such other committee designated by the Board pursuant to these Bylaws, shall make a recommendation to the Board as to whether to accept or reject the resignation of such incumbent director, or whether other action should be taken. In determining whether or not to recommend that the Board accept a resignation from any director, the Nominating and Governance Committee may consider any factors and other information they consider appropriate and relevant, including, but not limited to, the reasons for the failure to receive a majority of votes cast "for" his or her election, whether the underlying cause or causes of the "against" votes are curable, the length of service of such director, and such director's historic or potential contributions to the Board's knowledge, independence, balance and expertise. The Board will determine whether to accept to reject such resignation, or what other action should be taken, within ninety (90) days from the date of the certification of the stockholder vote. The Board shall, within four (4) business days after reaching its decision, publicly disclose the decision, including, if applicable, the reasons for not accepting the tendered resignation, by filing with the SEC a Current Report on Form 8-K or other appropriate filing. If the Board accepts a director's resignation pursuant to this Section 2.01(c), or if a nominee for director is not elected and the nominee is not an incumbent director, then the resulting vacancy may be filled pursuant to Article II, Section 2.05 of these Bylaws.

Section 2.02 Notice of Nominations for Directors.

(a) Annual Meetings of Stockholders.

(1) Nominations of persons for election to the Board at an annual meeting of stockholders may be made (A) by or at the direction of the Board or a committee appointed by the Board, or (B) by any stockholder of the Corporation (i) who is a stockholder of record on the date of the giving of the notice provided for in this Section 2.02(a), on the record date for the determination of the stockholders entitled to vote at such annual meeting of stockholders and at the time of such annual meeting of stockholders, (ii) who is entitled to vote at the annual meeting of stockholders, and (iii) who complies with the notice procedures set forth in this Section 2.02(a) as to such nominations, including, but not limited to, the procedures regarding such notice's timeliness and required form.

In no event shall any adjournment or postponement of an annual meeting or the public disclosure thereof commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice as described above.

To be in proper written form, a stockholder's notice of nomination to the Secretary (whether given pursuant to this Section 2.02(a) or Section 2.02(b) of these Bylaws) shall set forth in writing the following: (a) as to each person whom the stockholder proposes to nominate for election or reelection as a director (i) the name, age, business address and residence address of such person; (iv) such person's executed written consent to being named in the proxy statement as a nominee and to serving as a director if elected; (v) all information relating to such person that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made with the SEC in connection with the solicitation of proxies for the election of directors in a contested election pursuant to Section 14 of the Exchange Act (or pursuant to any law or statute replacing such section), and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; (vi) a description of all direct and indirect compensation and other material monetary agreements, arrangements and understandings during the past three years, and any other material relationships, between or among such person being nominated, on the one hand, and the stockholder and any Stockholder Associated Person, on the other hand, including, without limitation all information that would be required to be disclosed pursuant to Item 404 promulgated under Regulation S-K of the Exchange Act if the stockholder making the nomination and any Stockholder Associated Person were the "registrant" for purposes of such rule and the person being nominated were a director or executive officer of such registrant; and (vii) the information and agreement required under Section 2.03(b) of these Bylaws; and (b) as to the stockholder giving the notice (i) the name and record address of such stockholder, as they appear on the Corporation's stock ledger, and the name and address of any Stockholder Associated Person; (ii) (A) the class and series and number of shares of each class and series of capital stock of the Corporation which are, directly or indirectly, owned beneficially and/or of record by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person, documentary evidence of such record or beneficial ownership, and the date or dates such shares were acquired and the investment intent at the time such shares were acquired, (B) any Derivative Instrument directly or indirectly owned beneficially by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person and any other direct or indirect right held by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person to profit from, or share in any profit derived from, any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation, (C) any proxy, contract, arrangement, understanding, or relationship pursuant to which such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person has a right to vote any shares of any security of the Corporation, (D) any Short Interest indirectly or directly held by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person in any security issued by the Corporation, (E) any rights to dividends on the shares of the Corporation owned beneficially by such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person that are separated or separable from the underlying shares of the Corporation, (F) any proportionate interest in shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments held, directly or indirectly, by a general or limited partnership in which such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person is a general partner or, directly or indirectly, beneficially owns an interest in a general partner, and (G) any performance-related fees (other than an asset-based fee) that such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person is entitled to based on any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments, if any, as of the date of such notice, including without limitation any such interests held by members of such stockholder's or any Stockholder Associated Person's immediate family sharing the same household (which information shall, in each case, be supplemented by such stockholder and any Stockholder Associated Person not later than ten (10) calendar days after the record date for the meeting to disclose such ownership as of the record date); (iii) a description of all arrangements or understandings between such stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person and each proposed nominee and any other person or persons (naming such person or persons) pursuant to which the nomination(s) are to be made by such stockholder; (vii) whether and the extent to which any agreement, arrangement or understanding has been made, the effect or intent of which is to increase or decrease the voting power of such stockholder or such Stockholder Associated Person with respect to any shares of the capital stock of the Corporation, without regard to whether such transaction is required to be reported on a Schedule 13D or other form in accordance with Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act or any successor provisions thereto and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; and (viii) any other information relating to such stockholder and any Stockholder Associated Person that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made with the SEC in connection with solicitations of proxies for the election of directors in a contested election pursuant to Section 14 of the Exchange Act (or pursuant to any law or statute replacing such section) and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 2.02 to the contrary, in the event that the number of directors to be elected to the Board at an annual meeting of the stockholders is increased and there is no public disclosure by the Corporation, naming all of the nominees for directors or specifying the size of the increased Board, at least ninety (90) calendar days prior to the first anniversary of the date of the immediately preceding year's annual meeting, a stockholder's notice required by this Section 2.02 shall also be considered timely, but only with respect to nominees for any new positions created by such increase, if it shall be delivered to, or mailed and received by, the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not later than the close of business on the tenth (10th) calendar day following the day on which such public disclosure is first made by the Corporation.

(b) Special Meetings of Stockholders. Nominations of persons for election to the Board may be made at a special meeting of stockholders at which directors are to be elected (i) pursuant to the Corporation's notice of meeting, (ii) by or at the direction of the Board, or (iii) provided that the Board has determined that directors shall be elected at such meeting, by any stockholder of the Corporation who (A) is a stockholder of record at the time of giving of notice provided for in this Section 2.02(b), (B) is a stockholder of record on the record date for the determination of the stockholders entitled to vote at such meeting, (C) is a stockholder of record at the time of such meeting, (D) is entitled to vote at such meeting, and (E) complies with the notice procedures set forth in this Section 2.02(b) as to such nomination. In the event the Corporation calls a special meeting of stockholders for the purpose of electing one or more directors to the Board, any such stockholder may nominate a person or persons (as the case may be) for election to such position(s) as specified in the Corporation's notice of meeting, if the proper form of stockholder's notice required by Section 2.02(a)(2) of these Bylaws with respect to any nomination shall be delivered to the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not earlier than the close of business on the one hundred twentieth (120 th) calendar day prior to the date of such special meeting and not later than the close of business on the later of the sixtieth (60th) calendar day prior to the date of such special meeting or, if the first public disclosure made by the Corporation of the date of such special meeting is less than seventy (70) days prior to the date of such special meeting, not later than the tenth (10th) calendar day following the day on which public disclosure is first made of the date of the special meeting and of the nominees proposed by the Board to be elected at such meeting. In no event shall any adjournment or postponement of a special meeting or the public disclosure thereof commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice as described above.

(c) General.

(1) A majority of the Board may reject any nomination by a stockholder not timely made or otherwise not made in accordance with the terms of this Section 2.02. If a majority of the Board reasonably determines that the information provided in a stockholders notice does not satisfy the informational requirements of this Section 2.02 in any material respect, the Secretary shall promptly notify such stockholder of the deficiency in writing. The stockholder shall then have an opportunity to cure the deficiency by providing additional information to the Secretary within such period of time, not to exceed ten (10) days from the date such deficiency notice is given to the stockholder, as a majority of the Board shall reasonably determine. If the deficiency is not cured within such period, or if a majority of the Board reasonably determines that the additional information provided by the stockholder, together with the information previously provided, does not satisfy the requirements of this Section 2.02 in any material respect, then a majority of the Board may reject such stockholder's nomination.

(4) Except as otherwise required by the DGCL and other applicable law, the Certificate or these Bylaws, the Chairman of the Board or other person presiding at the meeting shall have the power and duty (a) to determine whether any nomination proposed to be brought before the meeting was properly made in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 2.02, including whether the stockholder or any Stockholder Associated Person on whose behalf the nomination is made, solicited (or is part of a group which solicited) or did not so solicit, as the case may be, proxies in support of the election of such stockholder's nominee(s) in compliance with such stockholder's representation as required by this Section 2.02, and (b) if any proposed nomination was not made in compliance with this Section 2.02, to declare that such nomination is defective and shall be disregarded.

(5) In addition to the provisions of this Section 2.02, a stockholder shall also comply with all applicable requirements of the DGCL, other applicable law and the Exchange Act, and the rules and regulations thereunder, with respect to the matters set forth herein, provided, however, that any references in these Bylaws to the Exchange Act or the rules promulgated thereunder are not intended to and shall not limit the applicable requirements for nominations by stockholders to be considered pursuant to Section 2.02(a) or Section 2.02(b) of these Bylaws.

The Prospective Director Agreement shall provide that such person (i) is not and will not become a party to (A) any agreement, arrangement or understanding with, and has not given any commitment or assurance to, any person or entity as to how such person, if such person is at the time a director or is subsequently elected as a director of the Corporation, will act or vote on any issue or question (a "Voting Commitment") that has not been disclosed to the Corporation, or (B) any Voting Commitment that could limit or interfere with such person's ability to comply, if such person is at the time a director or is subsequently elected as a director of the Corporation, with such person's duties as a director under applicable law, (ii) is not and will not become a party to any agreement, arrangement or understanding with any person or entity other than the Corporation with respect to any direct or indirect compensation, reimbursement or indemnification in connection with service or action as a director that has not been disclosed therein, and (iii) would be in compliance with, if elected as a director of the Corporation, and will comply with, applicable law and all applicable publicly disclosed corporate governance, conflicts of interest, corporate opportunities, confidentiality, securities ownership and stock trading policies and guidelines of the Corporation. ARTICLE V

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 5.01 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be determined by the Board.

Section 5.02 Record Date.

(a) Record Date for Stockholder Meetings. For the purpose of determining the stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of stockholders or any adjournment thereof, the directors may fix, in advance, a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board, and which record date shall not be more than sixty (60) days nor less than ten (10) days before the date of such meeting. If no record date is fixed, the record date for determining stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of stockholders shall be at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held. A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the Board may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting.

(b) Record Date for Payments of Dividends and Distributions. In order that the Corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights or the stockholders entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion, or exchange of stock or for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted, and which record date shall be not more than sixty (60) days prior to such action. If no record date is fixed, the record date for determining stockholders for any such purpose shall be at the close of business on the day on which the Board adopts the resolution relating thereto.

(c) Record Date for Corporate Actions by Written Consent.

(i) Notwithstanding Section 5.02(a) and Section 5.02(b) of these Bylaws, the record date for determining stockholders entitled to express consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting shall be as fixed by the Board or as otherwise established under this Section 5.02(c). Any person seeking to have the stockholders authorize or take corporate action by written consent without a meeting shall, by written notice addressed to the Secretary and delivered to the Corporation, request that a record date be fixed for such purpose. The Board may fix a record date for such purpose which shall be no more than ten (10) days after the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board and shall not precede the date on which such resolution is adopted. If the Board fails within ten (10) days after the Corporation receives such notice to fix a record date for such purpose, the record date shall be the day on which the first written consent is delivered to the Corporation in the manner described in Section 5.02(c)(ii) below unless prior action by the Board is required under the DGCL, in which event the record date shall be at the close of business on the day on which the Board adopts the resolution taking such prior action.

(ii) (A) Every written consent purporting to take or authorizing the taking of corporate action and/or related revocations (each such written consent and related revocation is referred to in this Section 5.02(c)(ii) of these Bylaws as a "Consent") shall bear the date of signature of each stockholder who signs the Consent, and no Consent shall be effective to take the corporate action referred to therein unless, within sixty (60) days of the earliest dated Consent delivered in the manner required by this Section 5.02(c)(ii), Consents signed by a sufficient number of stockholders to take such action are so delivered to the Corporation.

(B) A Consent shall be delivered to the Corporation by delivery to its registered office in the State of Delaware, its principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the Corporation having custody of the book in which proceedings of meetings of stockholders are recorded. Delivery to the Corporation's registered office shall be made by hand or by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested.

(C) In the event of the delivery to the Corporation of a Consent, the Secretary shall provide for the safe-keeping of such Consent and shall promptly conduct such ministerial review of the sufficiency of the Consents and of the validity of the action to be taken by stockholder consent as he deems necessary or appropriate, including, without limitation, whether the holders of a number of shares having the requisite voting power to authorize or take the action specified in the Consent have given consent; provided, however, that if the corporate action to which the Consent relates is the removal or replacement of one or more members of the Board, the Secretary shall promptly designate two persons, who shall not be members of the Board, to serve as inspectors with respect to such Consent and such inspectors shall discharge the functions of the Secretary under this Section 5.02(c)(ii). If after such investigation the Secretary or the inspectors (as the case may be) shall determine that the Consent is valid and that the action therein specified has been validly authorized, that fact shall forthwith be certified on the records of the Corporation kept for the purpose of recording the proceedings of meetings of stockholders, and the Consent shall be filed in such records, at which time the Consent shall become effective as stockholder action. In conducting the investigation required by this Section 5.02(c)(ii), the Secretary or the inspectors (as the case may be) may, at the expense of the Corporation, retain special legal counsel and any other necessary or appropriate professional advisors, and such other personnel as they may deem necessary or appropriate to assist them, and shall be fully protected in relying in good faith upon the opinion of such counsel or advisors.

Section 5.03 Emergency Bylaws. In the event of any emergency resulting from an attack on the United States, a nuclear disaster or another catastrophe as a result of which a quorum cannot be readily assembled and during the continuance of such emergency, the following Bylaw provisions shall be in effect, notwithstanding any other provisions of these Bylaws.

(a) A meeting of the Board or of any committee thereof may be called by any officer or director upon one hour's notice to all persons entitled to notice whom, in the sole judgment of the notifier, it is feasible to notify;

(b) The director or directors in attendance at the meeting of the Board or of any committee thereof shall constitute a quorum; and

(c) These Bylaws may be amended or repealed, in whole or in part, by a majority vote of the directors attending any meeting of the Board, provided such amendment or repeal shall only be effective for the duration of such emergency.

Section 5.04 Severability. If any provision of these Bylaws is illegal or unenforceable as such, such illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other provision of these Bylaws and such other provisions shall continue in full force and effect.

Section 5.05 Subject to Law and Certificate of Incorporation. All rights, powers, duties and responsibilities provided for in these Bylaws, whether or not explicitly so qualified, are qualified by the provisions of the Certificate, the DGCL and any other applicable law.

ARTICLE VI

Notwithstanding the foregoing, any decision by the Board to repeal, alter or amend, or to adopt or readopt any bylaw inconsistent with a bylaw adopted or repealed, altered or amended by the stockholders of the Corporation shall, if such repeal, alteration or amendment is not approved by stockholders, require the affirmative vote of two-thirds (66 2/ 3%) of the directors then in office at any regular or special meeting of the Board.

Section 6.03 No Conflict with the Certificate of Incorporation. No Bylaw shall be amended or repealed so as to cause such Bylaw or these Bylaws to be inconsistent or in conflict with or violate any provision of the Certificate.

Our Strategies

ModivCare has grown from a stand-alone non-emergency medical transportation provider to a company with multi-faceted supportive care solutions focused on improving SDoH. Our services include non-emergency medical transportation, personal care services and in-home monitoring solutions. Our strategic framework emphasizes our focus on centralizing and standardizing operations to support all of our supportive care services. By adhering to this strategy, we aim to cultivate best practices, achieve operational scalability and efficiencies, and standardize processes to ensure an optimal experience for both our members and customers. ModivCare is focused on aligning our people, processes, and technology for each business segment while integrating data across our point solutions to better serve our members and customers.

ModivCare is focused on execution, growth, and results. To highlight a couple of strategic initiatives in our business segments:

- NEMT – our transportation network is selected using a partnership model with credentialed transportation providers to ensure we provide our members with high quality service and on-time performance. Our multi-modal strategy ensures that members receive the most appropriate type of ride, whether it is a traditional sedan, ride share, public transit, or a family member driving the member and receiving mileage reimbursement. Our focus is to make sure our members have the best transportation experience tailored to their individualized transportation needs. Our NEMT segment strategy is to drive operational efficiencies and optimize performance, using our omnichannel member engagement model, multi-modal network strategy, and digital customer integration.

- PCS – our personal care team remains focused on streamlining its operations through centralizing and standardizing non-clinical functions and certain operational processes across our network of personal care offices. This strategy will empower and enable caregivers to focus on providing high quality services to members and minimize the time spent on administrative functions and expand our workforce development to improve recruiting and retention efforts. This operational advancement in PCS coupled with the recruiting and retention efforts deployed to enhance our caregiver engagement will drive growth and ensure increased member and caregiver satisfaction.

- Monitoring – our monitoring team is focused on gaining market share through referral sales growth and strengthening our long-standing relationships with managed care organizations. We are continuing to innovate and invest in technology and comprehensive data analytics to advance our position as a leader in the in-home monitoring industry.

Technology Enhancements

At the core of our operational and technological strategies is a focus on driving member satisfaction and enhancing our technological capabilities to support each members care experience. Our technology solutions at our NEMT segment aim to improve the member experience by providing real-time visibility into trip status, optimized trip routing, and automated trip assignments and billing. Our technology platform and continued technological enhancements reduce inbound calls from members that require assistance identifying the location of the transportation provider, improve on-time performance, and reduce costs while increasing efficiency and member satisfaction. Specifically, our platform and continuous investment in technology improvements, as well as digital customer integration, provide opportunities for revenue growth and reduced costs as well as the following additional benefits:

- member communications through texting, email and automated calls, including the ability for the member to see the location of the transportation provider in real time on a mobile device;
- optimized routing from industry-leading technology software;
- automated trip assignments allowing for proactive management for rejected, canceled and late rides;
- automated billing allowing for more precise and timely mileage logs and service outcomes; and
- driver application enhancements for transportation providers.

With respect to our PCS segment, process improvements, augmented by technology, are expected to help reduce costs while maintaining quality patient care. In addition, we strive to become the employer of choice in each of our PCS segment markets. Our scale and density in these markets allow us to provide the number of weekly work hours our caregivers desire, which gives us a competitive advantage in recruitment and retention of caregivers that might otherwise need to work for several agencies to obtain the desired number of work hours.

With respect to our Monitoring segment, the suite of technology-enabled in-home solutions provides improved patient outcomes with peace-of-mind support and reduced costs to payers which drives value and deepens our engagement with members. Greater access to real time information, enabled through our technology and monitoring devices, provides us the ability to shorten cycle times to help identify and resolve client and member issues.

Organic Growth

- NEMT Segment. Across the healthcare market, we see an increasing understanding of the benefit of removing transportation as a barrier to care and a way to improve other determinants of health, such as access to food, shelter, socialization, and medication. We believe that our scale, deep experience, operational strategy, and technology tools uniquely position us to address member needs related to access to transportation for vulnerable populations. We approach sales, marketing and business development in a manner that is focused on driving market share in our core Medicaid market, including states and MCOs, Medicare Advantage plans, health systems and providers. Simultaneously, we target business development efforts with partners to enter new transportation markets, including the movement of home health providers, pharmacy delivery and beneficiaries of workers compensation.

- PCS Segment. We intend to continue to grow in our existing markets for personal care services by:

    - increasing recruiting and expanding our caregiver workforce;
    - developing and retaining our caregivers;
    - delivering consistent and reliable quality of care;
    - leveraging and expanding existing payor and referral source relationships; and
    - strategic de novo sites to increase density and scale.

  Our business development activities in this area include community outreach in each of our markets, where we educate referral sources about the benefits of personal care services and the programs available to patients. We believe that demographic trends such as an aging population and longer life expectancies will increase the size of our addressable market, and that the demand for in-home personal care will further increase because it is the lowest cost healthcare setting and therefore preferred by payors and also by patients, who also tend to prefer to receive care in their own homes over institutional settings. We also believe that the carve-in of personal care into Medicare Advantage plans provides further opportunity for organic growth. As one of the largest platforms providing in-home personal care, we differentiate our services by providing broad geographic coverage in both urban and rural areas and the capability to offer a broad suite of services and manage complex cases involving high-needs patients. In addition, we are working with MCOs and other payors to lower the overall cost of care and improve outcomes by managing risk factors, such as falls, and using technology solutions to provide early indicators of change in condition to avoid hospitalization. With these capabilities, we strive to be the provider of choice for in-home personal care services and intend to continue differentiating our services from the competition and winning market share by relying on strong regional leadership, clinical capabilities, qualified and well-trained caregivers and investment in technology.

- Monitoring Segment. We see the opportunity for in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions, to provide an alternative to existing costly healthcare services, which can be obtained in the safety and comfort of our members' homes. We believe that there is a natural untapped market with considerable growth opportunities that we can reach by leveraging our existing relationships with Medicaid and Medicare Advantage plans and marketing the reduced cost of providing coverage for in-home monitoring solutions while also resulting in improved patient outcomes and enhanced patient engagement and experience. Further, we believe that demographic trends such as the aging population and increasing prevalence of chronic illness increase the addressable market to support patients that demand in-home solutions where they are able to maintain their independence and avoid long-term care facilities, preventable emergency room use, hospitalization, and hospital readmission. Along with the demographic trends, structural changes in the healthcare industry driven by the pandemic have accelerated the shift to virtual healthcare solutions and highlighted the efficiencies and cost effectiveness of providing virtual health solutions. By addressing this sizable market that is expected to increase with the shift in the demographic trends and structural changes in the industry toward value-based solutions, we also see an opportunity to address additional payors in order to provide awareness of the benefits of in-home monitoring solutions in order to expand the number of payors that offer coverage for this solution and expand our geographic span as we strive to be the provider of choice for in-home monitoring services.

Inorganic Growth

- NEMT Segment. We believe our experience, relationships in the industry, scale and executive team strongly position us to be a consolidator in healthcare transportation. Our acquisition strategy may include an evaluation of new entrants, which may not be able to otherwise compete without the benefits of scale and experience, and closely-held businesses that may seek a new capital structure or sale to achieve liquidity for founders. With our strong team and track record, we believe we are a natural consolidator.

- PCS Segment. We believe there is a significant opportunity for continued growth through acquisition in both new and existing personal care services markets. The personal care services industry is highly fragmented, and smaller competitors are finding it increasingly difficult to compete as payors look to narrow their provider networks and contract with providers of scale that can offer a wide breadth of services and capabilities across a broad geographic area. Moreover, smaller competitors may not have the capital to invest in technology and lack the market density to attract caregivers. We will continue to explore opportunities to acquire regional providers to enter into new markets, and tuck-in acquisitions to grow our presence in existing markets, as well as to branch out into adjacent businesses.

- Monitoring Segment. We believe there are opportunities for growth through acquisitions in the in-home monitoring market. The in-home monitoring industry is highly fragmented, and we believe that our scale and healthcare-centric platform provide us with the ability to acquire companies in new markets and regions and expand our breadth of operations. Technological innovation is also a critical component of the industry's growth. We believe that our technology agnostic platform allows us to efficiently acquire companies that offer newer technologies and service offerings that we can leverage to accelerate our existing technology and offerings. We will continue to evaluate acquisition opportunities in the Monitoring segment to supplement our growth going forward.

Strategic Capital Allocation

We seek to manage and allocate capital in a way that creates value and supports the execution of our business strategy. The operations of our respective business segments contribute the primary source of capital to the Company supplemented by any issuances by the Company in the capital markets. Our NEMT segment has continued to generate strong revenue growth for the Company. Further, our PCS segment has shown consistent revenue growth and maintains an asset-light model. Our Monitoring segment has also contributed to our continued growth with a strong profit margin. We will continue to focus on operational efficiencies by investing in platforms that streamline our operations and seek to enhance our technical capabilities through technological initiatives in an effort to enhance our client and member experience. We are implementing technology enhancements and service protocols intended to promote best practices, enhance the member experience, and improve the operating effectiveness and efficiency of our case management, training, staffing, scheduling and labor management. We will also continue to assess the opportunities for capital deployment in order to create value for stockholders, which may include dividends, share repurchases and acquisitions.

Our Operations

We are a technology-enabled, healthcare services company that is the nation's largest manager of non-emergency medical transportation programs for state governments and MCOs, a leading in-home personal care services provider in the seven eastern states where we provide those services, and a leading provider of in-home monitoring solutions. Our core competencies in NEMT include contact center management, network credentialing, claims management and non-emergency medical transport management. Our in-home personal care services include placements of non-medical personal care assistants, home health aides and nurses primarily to Medicaid patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing daily living activities, including senior citizens and disabled adults. Our in-home monitoring services include in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions.

By offering our suite of integrated supportive care solutions for our payors and members, we are focused on becoming among the nation's preeminent SDoH companies and delivering better care in the home, enhancing patient lives, and reducing healthcare costs. We report our operations as described above under four separate business segments: NEMT; PCS; Monitoring; and Corporate and Other, each of which is described below in greater detail following the next subsection captioned "Business Trends".

Business Trends

Our performance is affected by a number of trends that drive the demand for our services. In particular, the markets in which we operate are exposed to healthcare industry trends and shifts in demographic dynamics. Over the long term, we believe there are numerous factors that could affect growth within the industries in which we operate, including:

- an aging population, which is expected to increase demand for healthcare services including required transportation to such healthcare services, in-home personal care services, and monitoring services;
- increasing prevalence of chronic illnesses that require active and ongoing monitoring of health data which can be accomplished at a lower cost and result in better health outcomes through in-home personal care and monitoring services;
- a movement towards value-based care versus fee-for-service and cost plus care and budget pressure on governments, both of which may increase the use of corporations to provide necessary and innovative services;
- increasing demand for in-home care, driven by cost pressures on traditional reimbursement models and technological advances enabling remote engagement, including remote monitoring and similar internet-based health related services;
- a shift in membership dynamics as a result of any Medicaid redetermination efforts, which have and may continue to decrease membership levels at our NEMT segment;
- advancement of regulatory priorities, which include the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS") final rule, Ensuring Access to Medicaid Services, which, in six years, requires states to generally ensure that a minimum of 80.0% of Medicaid payments are used toward compensation for direct care workers, which may lower profit margins at our PCS segment;
- technological advancements, which may be utilized by us to improve services and lower costs, but may also be utilized by others, which may increase industry competitiveness;
- MCO, Medicaid and Medicare plans increasing coverage of non-emergency medical transportation services for a variety of reasons, including increased access to care, improved patient compliance with treatment plans, social trends, and to promote SDoH, and this trend may be accelerated or reinforced by The Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2021 ("H.R.133"), a component of which mandates that state Medicaid programs ensure that Medicaid beneficiaries have necessary transportation to and from health care providers;
- macroeconomic conditions, including the impact of inflationary matters and changes in interest rates, which may impact the industries in which we operate and our customers' ability to utilize the services we and our competitors provide; and
- extended collection periods, which may cause uncertainty concerning the timing of the collection of outstanding contract receivables with some customers due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements.

Changes in the composition of the United States population are expected to continue to drive an increase in demand for all health-related services, including non-emergency medical transportation, in-home personal care, and monitoring services. These demographic shifts include, but are not limited to, an aging U.S. population, increased life expectancy, increased prevalence of chronic health conditions, and patients' preference to receive home-based care. The population of individuals aged 65 years and older nationally has been consistently growing and the U.S. Census Bureau estimates that starting in 2030, when all baby boomers will be older than 65 years, Americans 65 years and older will make up 20.6% of the population. Presently, Americans 65 years and older are estimated to make up 18.3% of the population. Concurrently, approximately 60.0% of adults in the U.S. have one reported chronic health condition with approximately 40.0% of adults in the U.S. reporting two or more. With the increasing population of Americans aged 65 and older and the significant increase in the occurrence of chronic diseases, demand for lower-cost solutions in lieu of costly doctor visits and institutional care will continue to grow.

This demographic shift will continue to drive an increase in demand for transportation services from this vulnerable population. Each year, millions of members are estimated to miss out on medical care due to lack of transportation. Non-emergency medical transportation solutions enable access to care that not only improves the quality of life and health of the patients receiving services, but also enable many of the individuals to pursue independent living in their homes rather than in more expensive institutional care settings. In addition, studies have shown that missed medical appointments disrupt ongoing patient care plans which can lead to delayed care and increased emergency room visits as well as unresolved medical problems. Moreover, providing access to healthcare transportation services allows patients to utilize preventive care solutions to identify and mitigate health risks at earlier intervals which can lower the cost of overall care by avoiding potentially more serious, costly emergency services at the onset of a health condition. In our NEMT segment, we specialize in offering services tailored to individuals with specific transportation needs. To ensure the highest standards of service, we complete the credentialing process for our transportation providers well before any service is rendered. This proactive approach ensures that we accurately match each member with a transportation provider that best suits their unique requirements, guaranteeing a seamless experience.

Members are thus assured of receiving personalized service, with their sole responsibility being to initiate the scheduling of their ride.

The U.S. personal care services market also benefits from the strong demographic trends of the aging U.S. population, increased life expectancy, and a shift toward value-based care, which is moving care away from more expensive institutional settings and into the preferred setting of the individuals' home. Personal care services are a significant component of home and community-based services, which have grown in significance and demand in recent years. Many consumers in this segment need services on a long-term basis to address chronic conditions. Payors establish their own eligibility standards, determine the type, amount, duration and scope of services, and establish the applicable reimbursement rate in accordance with applicable law, regulations or contracts. By providing services in the home to members who require long-term care and support with the activities of daily living, personal care service providers lower the cost of treatment by delaying or eliminating the need for care in more expensive settings, such as nursing homes and long-term rehabilitation facilities. In addition, caregivers observe and report changes in the condition of patients for the purpose of facilitating early intervention in the disease progression, which often reduces the cost of medical services by preventing unnecessary emergency room visits and/or hospital admissions and re-admissions. By providing care in the preferred setting of the home and by providing opportunities to improve the patient's conditions and allow early intervention, personal care also is designed to improve patient outcomes and satisfaction.

The personal care services industry developed in a highly fragmented manner, with few large participants and many small ones. Few companies have a significant market share across multiple regions or states. We expect ongoing consolidation within the industry, driven by the desire of payors to narrow their networks of service providers, and as a result of the industry's increasingly complex regulatory, operating and technology requirements. We believe we are well positioned to capitalize on a consolidating industry given our reputation in the market, strong payor relationships and integration of technology into our business model.

The in-home monitoring services market also supports the shift toward value-based care as it provides patient self-management and care management operations which support and enable seniors, the chronically ill, and persons with disabilities to maintain their independence and avoid long-term care facilities, preventable emergency room use, hospitalization, and hospital readmission. With the increasing population of Americans 65 and older and the significant increase in the occurrence of chronic diseases, demand for at-home care solutions in lieu of costly doctor visits and institutional care will continue to grow. This is further driven by structural changes that have occurred in the healthcare industry as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic toward virtual healthcare solutions. As in-home monitoring has continued to grow in popularity, this has supported the underlying trend showing increased desire of seniors and individuals to "age-in-place" while also receiving a comparable standard of care.

Monitoring also provides the ability to leverage the data analytics obtained in order to produce actionable insights to drive proactive patient interventions which are especially valuable given the growing occurrence of chronic illness, as discussed above. These conditions require ongoing and active management and the use of remote monitoring solutions can work to manage symptoms and keep costs for individuals lower in the long-term. Remote monitoring services allow patients to monitor symptoms from home which decreases the strain on hospitals that have capacity constraints and ensures continued care and interaction with patients. This tech-enabled healthcare solution is covered by Medicare, Medicaid, and many private insurers that set eligibility criteria and establish reimbursement rates in accordance with applicable law, regulations or contracts and has gained significant traction during the COVID-19 pandemic where patients and providers were able to experience the value of remote health solutions while increasing patient experience and retention. This solution has many facets and we believe we are well positioned as the preeminent leader in providing solutions to address the social determinants of health that will work in tandem to increase payor and member value across our holistic suite of solutions.

NEMT Segment

We provide non-emergency medical transportation solutions to our members after obtaining contracts with the third-party payors that we have relationships with, including state governments and MCOs, in 48 states and the District of Columbia. Throughout 2024, approximately 29.5 million average monthly members were eligible to receive our transportation services and we managed approximately 36.8 million trips.

We primarily contract with state Medicaid programs and MCOs, including Medicare Advantage plans, for the coordination of their members', who are our "end-users", non-emergency medical transportation needs. Our customers are typically Medicaid or Medicare eligible members whose limited mobility or financial resources hinder their ability to access necessary healthcare and social services. We believe our transportation services enable access to care, as well as access to meals, shelter, socialization, and the pharmacy, that not only improve the quality of life and health of the populations we serve, but also enable many of the individuals we serve to pursue independent living in their homes rather than in more expensive institutional care settings. We provide access to non-emergency medical transportation services on a more cost-effective basis than self-administered state Medicaid or MCO transportation programs while improving the lives and health outcomes of the populations we serve.

To fulfill the transportation needs of our customers, we apply our proprietary technology platform to an extensive network of approximately 4,100 transportation resources. This includes our in-network roster of fully contracted third-party transportation providers who operate sedans, wheelchair equipped vehicles, multi-passenger vans and ambulances. Our system also utilizes relationships with on-demand transportation network companies, mass transit entities, mileage reimbursement programs, taxis and county-based emergency medical service providers. To promote safety, quality and compliance, our in-network transportation providers undergo an in-depth credentialing and education process.

Our transportation management services also include fraud, waste, and abuse prevention and identification through utilization review programs designed to monitor that our transportation services are provided in compliance with Medicaid and Medicare program rules and regulations as well as to remediate issues that are identified. Compliance controls include ongoing monitoring, auditing and remediation efforts, such as validating end-user eligibility for the requested date of service and employing a series of gatekeeping questions to verify that the treatment type is covered and the appropriate mode of transportation is assigned. We also conduct post-trip confirmations of attendance directly with the healthcare providers for certain repetitive trips, and we employ field monitors to inspect transportation provider vehicles and to observe transports in real time. Our claims validation process generally limits payment to trips that are properly documented, have been authorized in advance, and are billed at the pre-trip estimated amount. Our claims process is increasingly digital, which provides more protection to member protected health information and reduces the impact on the environment. Transportation providers are able to submit their bills and supporting documentation directly to us through a secured web portal.

Contracts with state Medicaid agencies are typically for three to five years with multiple renewal options. Contracts with MCOs continue until terminated by either party upon reasonable notice in accordance with the terms of the contract and allow for regular price adjustments based upon utilization and transportation cost. As of December 31, 2024, 24.0% of NEMT segment revenue was generated under state Medicaid contracts that are subject to renewal within the next 12 months. While we typically expect to renew these contracts as they approach their term, we may receive notice from customers that they are terminating or not renewing their contracts upon expiration.

The NEMT segment generated 80.9% of its revenue in 2024 under capitated contracts. Under capitated contracts, payors pay a fixed amount per eligible member. We assume the responsibility of meeting the covered healthcare related transportation requirements based on per-member per-month fees for the number of eligible members in the customer's program. Revenue is recognized based on the population served during the period. Certain of our capitated contracts are structured as shared risk contracts and have provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors or profit rebates. For shared risk contracts with reconciliation provisions, capitation payment is received as a prepayment during the month service is provided. These prepayments are periodically reconciled based on actual cost and/or trip volume and may result in refunds to the customer, or additional payments due from the customer. Contracts with risk corridor or profit rebate provisions allow for profit within a certain corridor and once we reach profit level thresholds or maximums, we discontinue recognizing revenue and instead record a liability within the accrued contract payable account. This liability may be reduced through future increases in trip volume or periodic settlements with the customer. While a profit rebate provision could only result in a liability from this profit threshold, a risk corridor provision could potentially result in receivables if the Company does not reach certain profit minimums, which would be recorded in the contract receivables account.

The remaining 19.1% of NEMT segment revenue was generated under other types of fee arrangements, including administrative services only and fee-for-service ("FFS"), under which fees are generated based upon billing rates for specific services or defined membership populations. Revenue under FFS contracts represents revenue earned under non-capitated contracts in which we bill and collect a specified amount for each service that we provide. FFS revenue is recognized in the period in which the services are rendered and is reduced by the estimated impact of contractual allowances.

As further discussed in the sections titled "Risk Factors" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis - Liquidity," shared risk contracts with provisions for reconciliation, risk corridors, or profit rebates have resulted in an extended amount of time between the fulfillment of our performance obligations and the collection of cash owed for our services. In an effort to shorten collection times, we have been focused on transitioning some of our shared risk contracts to FFS contracts.

- Customers. In 2024, contracts with state Medicaid agencies and MCOs, including Medicare agencies, represented 100.0% of NEMT segment revenue. The NEMT segment does not derive any of its revenue from private pay or other contracts. The NEMT segment derived approximately 10.9%, 11.2% and 10.9% of its revenue from a single state Medicaid agency for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. The next four largest NEMT segment customers by revenue comprised in the aggregate approximately 22.4%, 19.8% and 19.8% of NEMT segment revenue for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

- Development Efforts and New Product Offerings. The delivery of our NEMT program is dependent upon a highly integrated platform of technology and business processes as well as the management of a multifaceted network of third-party transportation providers. Our technology platform is purpose-built for the unique needs of our industry and is highly scalable; capable of supporting substantial growth in our clients' current and future membership base. In addition, our technology platform efficiently provides a broad interconnectivity among end-users, customers, and our network of transportation providers. We believe this technological capability and our industry experience position us well as a leader in the evolving healthcare industry to introduce valuable population insights. We also believe that it will enable us to deliver to our customers and end-users a single repeatable model that standardizes our offerings and is more customer-centric across each contact center. We provide service offerings and technological features for end-users to improve service levels, lower costs and build the foundation for additional data analytics capabilities. We have implemented a modern, cloud based, interactive, voice responsive automated call distribution and work force management system across all contact centers. Our technology also allows for real time notifications to members on their mobile devices, integration with a wide variety of ATMS and transportation network companies, real time ride tracking, network management and analytics.

- Competition. We compete with a variety of national organizations that provide similar healthcare and social services related to transportation, such as Medical Transportation Management, Southeastrans (nka Verida), Access2Care, and SafeRide, as well as local and regional providers. Most local competitors seek to win contracts for specific counties or small geographic territories, whereas we and other larger competitors seek to win contracts for an entire state or large regional area. We compete based upon a number of factors, including our nationwide network, technical expertise, experience, service capability, service quality, and price.

- Seasonality. While we experience minor fluctuations in trip volume as a result of seasonal variations in the business, principally due to lower transportation demand during the winter season and higher demand during the summer season, our quarterly operating income and cash flows do not materially fluctuate as a result of these minor seasonal shifts.

PCS Segment

We provide in-home personal care services to our customers with agency branches across various states, including in several of the nation's largest home care markets: New York, New Jersey, Florida, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, West Virginia and Connecticut. We place non-medical personal care assistants, home health aides and skilled nurses primarily to Medicaid patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing daily living activities in the home setting, including persons who are at increased risk of hospitalization or institutionalization. Our personal care services include bathing, personal hygiene, grooming, oral care, dressing, medication reminders, meal planning, preparation and feeding, housekeeping, transportation services, prescription reminders, and assistance with dressing and ambulation, all of which enable aging-in-place and support overall wellness. Within New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, our PCS Private Duty Nursing program provides services targeted to assisting medically fragile children. As of December 31, 2024, we had approximately 18,300 trained caregivers throughout all of our branch locations serving, on average, approximately 20,700 patients and providing approximately 28.2 million hours of patient care annually.

Our PCS segment payor clients include federal, state and local governmental agencies, MCOs, commercial insurers and private individuals. The federal, state and local programs under which these organizations operate are subject to legislative, budgetary and other risks that can influence reimbursement rates. MCOs that operate as an extension of our government payors are subject to similar economic pressures. Our commercial insurance payor clients are continuously seeking opportunities to control costs.

Most of our personal care services are provided pursuant to agreements with state and local governmental aging services agencies, Medicaid waiver programs, and home and community based long-term living programs. These agreements generally have an initial term of one to two years and may be terminated with 60 days' notice. They are typically renewed in our experience for one to five-year terms, provided that we have complied with licensing, certification and program standards, and other regulatory requirements.

Reimbursement rates and methods vary by state and type of service, but are typically fee-for-service based on hourly or other unit-of-service bases. MCOs are becoming an increasing portion of our PCS segment payor mix as states shift from administering FFS programs to utilizing managed care models.

- Customers. In 2024, contracts with state Medicaid agencies and MCOs represented approximately 96.7% of PCS segment revenue, with the remaining revenue derived from private pay and other contracts. The PCS segment derived approximately 12.5%, 11.3% and 12.0% of its revenue from a single state Medicaid agency for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. The next four largest PCS segment customers by revenue comprised in the aggregate approximately 33.5%, 32.2% and 29.6% of segment revenue for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023, and 2022, respectively.

- Development Efforts and New Product Offerings. We do not deploy proprietary technology in our PCS segment, but we continue to invest in new technology to improve efficiency and team member experience. CareConnect, a scheduling optimization application, was piloted in Lynbrook, New York. This application integrates with the enterprise technology solution Homecare Software Solutions, LLC, which operates under the HHAeXchange brand and which we refer to as "HHAeXchange", and has enabled caregivers to independently schedule their shifts. The goal of this pilot was to increase the acceptance rate of unfulfilled caregiver shifts, reduce overtime, and enhance Care Coordinator efficiency. Caribou Rewards, an employee recognition program that aligns incentives with desired outcomes, was piloted in both Massachusetts and our largest Pennsylvania branch. This application integrates with our existing home care platforms and applicant tracking system. We have demonstrated success with caregiver referrals in converting to new hires in Massachusetts and sustained an increased use of electronic visit verification (EVV) in our Pennsylvania branch. In addition to these technology solutions, we continue to identify new technologies that we can invest in to further unify our PCS segment across one streamlined technology platform. Additionally, we have invested in Nevvron for an all-in-one e-learning solution that enables required training to be delivered remotely and helps improve utilization by reducing time lost for training.

- Competition. The personal care services industry in which we operate is highly competitive and fragmented. Providers range from facility-based agencies (e.g., day health centers, live-in facilities, government agencies) to independent home care companies. They can be not-for-profit organizations or for-profit organizations. There are relatively few barriers to entry in some of the home healthcare services markets in which we operate. We believe, however, that we have a favorable competitive position, attributable mainly to:

    - the consistently high quality and targeted services we have provided over the years to our patients;
    - our ability to serve complex, high-needs patient populations;
    - our scale and density in the markets we serve;
    - our strong relationships with payors and referral sources; and
    - our investments in technology.

- Seasonality. While we experience minor fluctuations in hours of care provided as a result of seasonal variations in the business, principally due to somewhat lower demand for in-home services from caregivers during the summer and periods with major holidays, as patients may spend more time with family and less time alone needing outside care during those periods, our quarterly operating income and cash flows do not materially fluctuate as a result of these minor seasonal shifts.

Monitoring Segment

We provide in-home monitoring services to support patient self-management and care management operations that enable seniors, the chronically ill, and persons with disabilities to maintain their independence and avoid long-term care facilities, preventable emergency room use, hospitalization, and hospital readmission. Services include in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care and data-driven patient engagement solutions. With high-touch engagement, the Monitoring segment has several million annual person-to-person interactions which served a population of approximately 247,000 actively monitored health plan members throughout 2024.

We market our in-home monitoring services to national and regional health plans, government funded benefit programs, healthcare provider organizations, and individuals. Our commercial insurance payor clients are continuously seeking opportunities to control costs.

- Customers. In 2024, the Company served approximately 247,000 members within national and regional health plans, government-funded benefit programs, and healthcare provider organizations members, and individuals across the country. We have a diverse base of customers across multiple end markets including Medicare Advantage, State and Managed Medicaid, and Health Systems or Distributors.

- Development Efforts and New Product Offerings. Our device-agnostic technology platform allows our Monitoring segment to rapidly adopt and seamlessly integrate new products as hardware innovation continues across the industry. Currently, the Company is contracted with over 30 manufacturers and integrated across more than 200 devices. The Monitoring segment continuously evaluates new products, integrating several devices annually with rapid onboarding for quick deployment in the field.

- Competition. We compete with a variety of Monitoring solution providers that include both new entrants to the healthcare industry and legacy healthcare providers. Top providers include Livongo, Omada, Medical Guardian, Connect America, and Best Buy Health. Given the rapidly changing technology that supports the health-tech industry, any Company that is able to innovate and provide a more efficient and effective solution could enter the Monitoring market, however there are significant barriers to entry, including long contracting and licensing timeframes, multiple compliance audits necessitating numerous internal tracking systems and complicated reimbursement processes and rules.

- Seasonality. While we experience minor fluctuations in membership as a result of seasonal variations in the business, our quarterly operating income and cash flows do not materially fluctuate as a result of these minor seasonal shifts.

Corporate and Other Segment

Our Corporate and Other segment supports the strategic objectives and continued growth of the ModivCare business and includes the activities related to executive, accounting, finance, internal audit, tax, legal and certain strategic and corporate development functions for each segment. The Corporate and Other segment also includes the operating results of our non-controlling equity interest in Matrix Medical Network ("Matrix"). In addition, the Corporate and Other Segment includes the results of our investment in innovation, made during the first quarter of 2023, related to expanding our virtual care, digital engagement, monitoring capabilities, and member insights and analytics. As part of this investment in innovation, such wholly-owned subsidiary also began providing virtual clinical care management services (the "MSO") through an unaffiliated professional corporation (the "PC") owned and operated by a licensed physician in the third quarter of 2023.

Our Corporate and Other segment operations support the Company's vision to operate as "One ModivCare" and align our people, processes, and technology across each business segment in order to better serve our members and have a positive impact on closing certain health gaps and addressing the social determinants of health.

Governmental Regulations

Overview

Our business is subject to numerous U.S. federal, state and local laws, regulations and agency guidance. These laws significantly affect the way in which we operate various aspects of our business. We must also comply with state and local licensing requirements, state and federal requirements for participation in Medicare and Medicaid, requirements for contracting with Medicare Advantage plans, and contractual requirements imposed upon us by the federal, state and local agencies and third-party commercial insurers that provide payment for our services to patients. Failure to follow the rules and requirements of these programs can significantly affect our ability to be paid for the services we provide and be authorized to provide on an ongoing basis.

The Medicare and Medicaid programs are governed by significant and complex laws. Both Medicare and Medicaid are financed, at least in part, with federal funds. Therefore, any direct or indirect recipients of those funds are subject to federal fraud, waste and abuse laws. In addition, there are federal privacy and data security laws that govern the healthcare industry. State laws primarily pertain to the licensure of certain categories of healthcare professionals and providers and the state's interest in regulating the quality of healthcare in the state, regardless of the source of payment, but may also include state laws pertaining to fraud, waste and abuse, privacy and data security laws, and the state's regulation of its Medicaid program. Federal and state regulatory laws that may affect our business, include, but are not limited to the following:

- false and other improper claims or false statements laws pertaining to reimbursement;
- the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, or HIPAA, and its privacy, security, breach notification and enforcement and code set regulations and guidance, along with evolving state laws protecting patient privacy and requiring notifications of unauthorized access to, or use of, patient medical information;
- civil monetary penalties law;
- anti-kickback laws;

- Section 1877 of the Social Security Act, also known as the "Stark Law", and other self-referral, financial inducement, fee splitting, and patient brokering laws;
- The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, or CMS, regulations pertaining to Medicare and Medicaid as well as CMS releases applicable to the operation of Medicare Advantage plans, such as reimbursement rates, risk adjustment and data collection methodologies, adjustments to quality management measurements and other relevant factors;
- State Medicaid laws, rules and regulations that govern program participation, operations, the provision of care to Medicaid beneficiaries and the reimbursement for such services; and
- state licensure laws.

A violation of certain of these laws could result in civil and criminal damages and penalties, the refund of monies paid by government or private payors, our exclusion from participation in federal healthcare payor programs, or the loss of our license to conduct some or all of our business within a particular state's boundaries. While we believe that our programs are in compliance with these laws, failure to comply with these requirements could have a material adverse impact on our business.

Federal Law and State Laws

Federal healthcare laws apply in any case in which we provide an item or service that is reimbursable or provide information to our customers that results in reimbursement by a federal healthcare payor program. The principal federal laws that affect our business include those that prohibit the filing of false or improper claims or other data with federal healthcare payor programs, require confidentiality of patient health information, prohibit unlawful inducements for the referral of business reimbursable under federal healthcare payor programs and those that prohibit physicians from referring to certain entities if the physician has a financial relationship with that entity.

State healthcare laws apply in any case in which we provide an item or service that is reimbursable or provide information to our customers that results in reimbursement by a state Medicaid program. The principal state Medicaid laws that affect our business include those that prohibit the filing of false or improper claims or other data with state Medicaid programs, prohibit unlawful inducements for the referral of business reimbursable by a state Medicaid program and those that prohibit physicians from referring patients to certain entities if the physician has a financial relationship with that entity. Because we receive Medicaid reimbursement, we are subject to applicable participation conditions including a variety of operational, conflict of interest, and structural obligations. For example, in states that have elected to obtain authority to provide NEMT as a medical service through a broker using the regulatory process permitted by the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005, or DRA, we are prohibited from contracting with any transportation provider with which we have a financial relationship. In addition to Medicaid laws, many states have health care or professional licensure requirements that potentially apply to parts of our business.

False and Other Improper Claims

Under the federal False Claims Act and similar state laws, the government may impose civil liability on us if we knowingly submit a false claim to the government or cause another to submit a false claim to the government, or knowingly make a false record or statement intended to get a false claim paid by the government. The False Claims Act defines a claim as a demand for money or property made directly to the government or to a contractor, grantee, or other recipient if the money is to be spent on the government's behalf or if the government will reimburse the contractor or grantee. Liability can be incurred for submitting (or causing another to submit) false claims with actual knowledge or for submitting false claims with reckless disregard or deliberate ignorance. Liability can also be incurred for knowingly making or using a false record or statement to receive payment from the federal government; for knowingly and improperly avoiding or decreasing an obligation to pay or transmit money or property to the government; or for knowingly noncomplying with a law or regulation that is material to the government's decision to pay Medicare or Medicaid claims. Consequently, a provider need not take an affirmative action to conceal or avoid an obligation to the government, but the mere retention of an overpayment from the government could lead to potential liability under the False Claims Act.

Many states also have similar false claims statutes. In addition, healthcare fraud is a priority of the U.S. Department of Justice, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, or DHHS, its program integrity contractors and its Office of Inspector General, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and state Attorneys General. These agencies have devoted a significant amount of resources to investigating healthcare fraud.

If we are ever found to have violated the False Claims Act, we could be required to make significant payments to the government (including damages and penalties in addition to the return of reimbursements previously collected) and could be excluded from participating in federal healthcare programs or providing services to entities which contract with those programs. Although we monitor our billing practices for compliance with applicable laws, such laws are very complex, and we might not be able to detect all errors or interpret such laws in a manner consistent with a court or an agency's interpretation. While the criminal statutes generally are reserved for instances evidencing fraudulent intent, the civil and administrative penalty statutes are being applied by the federal government in an increasingly broad range of circumstances. Examples of the types of activities giving rise to liability for filing false claims include billing for services not rendered, misrepresenting services rendered (i.e., miscoding), applications for duplicate reimbursement and providing false information that results in reimbursement or impacts reimbursement amounts. Additionally, the federal government takes the position that a pattern of claiming reimbursement for unnecessary services violates these statutes if the claimant should have known that the services were unnecessary. The federal government also takes the position that claiming reimbursement for services that are substandard is a violation of these statutes if the claimant should have known that the care was substandard. Criminal penalties also are available even in the case of claims filed with private insurers if the federal government shows that the claims constitute mail fraud or wire fraud or violate any of the federal criminal healthcare fraud statutes.

State Medicaid agencies and state Attorneys General also have authority to seek criminal or civil sanctions for fraud and abuse violations. In addition, private insurers may bring actions under state false claim laws. In certain circumstances, federal and state laws authorize private whistleblowers to bring false claim or "qui tam" suits on behalf of the government against providers and reward the whistleblower with a portion of any final recovery. In addition, the federal government has engaged a number of private audit organizations to assist it in tracking and recovering claims for healthcare services that may have been improperly submitted.

Governmental investigations and whistleblower qui tam suits against healthcare companies remain at high levels and have resulted in substantial penalties and fines and exclusions of persons and entities from participating in government healthcare programs. While we believe that our programs are in compliance with these laws, failure to comply with these requirements could have a material adverse impact on our business.

Health Information, Privacy and Data Protection Practices

Under HIPAA, DHHS issued rules to define and implement standards for the electronic transactions and code sets for the submission of transactions such as claims, and privacy and security of individually identifiable health information in whatever manner it is maintained.

The Final Rule on Enforcement of the HIPAA Administrative Simplification provisions, including the transaction standards, the security standards and the privacy rule, published by DHHS addresses, among other issues, DHHS's policies for determining violations and calculating civil monetary penalties, how DHHS will address the statutory limitations on the imposition of civil monetary penalties, and various procedural issues. The rule extends enforcement provisions currently applicable to the healthcare privacy regulations to other HIPAA standards, including security, transactions and the appropriate use of service code sets.

The Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act, or HITECH, enacted as part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, extends certain of HIPAA's obligations to parties providing services to healthcare entities covered by HIPAA known as "business associates," imposes new notice of privacy breach reporting obligations, extends enforcement powers to state Attorneys General and amends the HIPAA privacy and security laws to strengthen the civil and criminal enforcement of HIPAA. HITECH establishes four categories of violations that reflect increasing levels of culpability, four corresponding tiers of penalty amounts that significantly increase the minimum penalty amount for each violation, and a maximum penalty amount of $1.5 million for all violations of an identical provision. With the additional HIPAA enforcement power under HITECH, the Office for Civil Rights of DHHS and states are increasing their investigations and enforcement of HIPAA compliance. We have taken steps to ensure compliance with HIPAA and are monitoring compliance on an ongoing basis.

Additionally, the HITECH Final Rule imposes various requirements on covered entities and business associates, and expands the definition of "business associates" to cover contractors of business associates. Even when we are not operating as covered entities, we may be deemed to be "business associates" for HIPAA rule purposes of such covered entities. We monitor compliance obligations under HIPAA as modified by HITECH, and implement operational and systems changes, associate training and education, conduct risk assessments and allocate resources as needed. Any noncompliance with HIPAA requirements could expose us to criminal and increased civil penalties provided under HITECH and require significant costs in order to comply with its requirements or to remediate potential issues that may arise.

Other state privacy laws may also apply to us, including the California Consumer Privacy Act, or CCPA, which came into force in January 2020. The CCPA affords California residents with specified rights relating to the collection and use of their personal information. Violation of the CCPA may lead to monetary fines, and data breaches may give rise in certain circumstances to private rights of action by impacted individuals. While we believe that our practices are in compliance with these laws, failure to comply with these requirements could have a material adverse impact on our business.

Federal and State Anti-Kickback Laws

Federal law commonly known as the "Anti-Kickback Statute" prohibits the knowing and willful offer, solicitation, payment or receipt of anything of value (direct or indirect, overt or covert, in cash or in kind) which is intended to induce:

- the referral of an individual for a service for which payment may be made by Medicare, Medicaid or certain other federal healthcare programs; or
- the ordering, purchasing, leasing, or arranging for, or recommending the purchase, lease or order of, any service or item for which payment may be made by Medicare, Medicaid or certain other federal healthcare programs.

Interpretations of the Anti-Kickback Statute have been very broad and under current law, courts and federal regulatory authorities have stated that the Anti-Kickback Statute is violated if even one purpose (as opposed to the sole or primary purpose) of the arrangement is to induce referrals. Even bona fide investment interests in a healthcare provider may be questioned under the Anti-Kickback Statute if the government concludes that the opportunity to invest was offered as an inducement for referrals.

This act is subject to numerous statutory and regulatory "safe harbors." Compliance with the requirements of a safe harbor offers defenses against Anti-Kickback Statute allegations. Failure of an arrangement to satisfy all of the requirements of a particular safe harbor does not mean that the arrangement is unlawful. It may mean, however, that such an arrangement will be subject to scrutiny by the regulatory authorities.

Many states, including some where we do business, have adopted anti-kickback laws that are similar to the federal Anti-Kickback Statute. Some of these state laws are very closely patterned on the federal Anti-Kickback Statute; others, however, are broader and reach reimbursement by private payors. If our activities were deemed to be inconsistent with state anti-kickback or illegal remuneration laws, we could face civil and criminal penalties or be barred from such activities, any of which could harm us.

If our arrangements are found to violate the Anti-Kickback Statute or applicable state laws, we, along with our clients, would be subject to civil and criminal penalties. In addition, implicated contracts may not be legally enforceable, which could materially and adversely affect our business. While we believe that our programs are in compliance with these laws, failure to comply with these requirements could have a material adverse impact on our business.

Federal and State Self-Referral Prohibitions

We may be subject to federal and state statutes banning payments for referrals of patients and referrals by physicians to healthcare providers with whom the physicians have a financial relationship. Section 1877 of the Social Security Act, also known as the "Stark Law", prohibits physicians from making a "referral" for "designated health services" for Medicare (and in many cases Medicaid) patients from entities or facilities in which such physicians directly or indirectly hold a "financial relationship".

A financial relationship can take the form of a direct or indirect ownership, investment or compensation arrangement. A referral includes the request by a physician for, or ordering of, or the certifying or recertifying the need for, any designated health services.

Certain services that we provide may be identified as "designated health services" for purposes of the Stark Law. We cannot provide assurance that future regulatory changes will not result in other services they provide becoming subject to the Stark Law's ownership, investment or compensation prohibitions in the future.

Many states, including some states where we do business, have adopted similar or broader prohibitions against payments that are intended to induce referrals of clients. Moreover, many states where we operate have laws similar to the Stark Law prohibiting physician self-referrals. While we believe that our programs are in compliance with these laws, failure to comply with these requirements could have a material adverse impact on our business.

Surveys and Audits

Our business is subject to periodic surveys by government authorities or their contractors and our payors to ensure compliance with various requirements. Regulators conducting periodic surveys often provide reports containing statements of deficiencies for alleged failures to comply with various regulatory requirements. In most cases, if a deficiency finding is made by a reviewing agency, we will work with the reviewing agency to agree upon the steps to be taken to bring our program into compliance with applicable regulatory requirements. In some cases, however, an agency may take a number of adverse actions against a program, including:

- the imposition of fines or penalties or the recoupment of amounts paid;
- temporary suspension of admission of new clients to our program's service;
- in extreme circumstances, exclusion from participation in Medicaid, Medicare or other programs;
- revocation of our license; or
- contract termination.

While we believe that our programs are in compliance with Medicare, Medicaid and other program certification requirements and state licensure requirements, the rules and regulations governing Medicare, Medicaid participation and state licensure are lengthy and complex. Failure to comply with these laws could have a material adverse impact on our business and our ability to enter into contracts with other agencies to provide services.

Billing/Claims Reviews and Audits

Agencies and other third-party commercial payors periodically conduct pre-payment or post-payment medical reviews or other audits of our claims or other audits in conjunction with obligations to comply with the requirements of Medicare or Medicaid. In order to conduct these reviews, payors request documentation from us and then review that documentation to determine compliance with applicable rules and regulations, including the eligibility of clients to receive benefits, the appropriateness of the care provided to those clients, and the documentation of that care. Any determination that we have not complied with applicable rules and regulations could result in adjustment of payments or the incurrence of fines and penalties, or in situations of significant compliance failures review or non-renewal of related contracts.

Corporate Practice of Medicine and Fee Splitting

The corporate practice of medicine doctrine prohibits corporations from practicing medicine or employing a physician to provide professional medical services. This doctrine arises from state medical practice acts and is based on a number of public policy concerns, including:

- allowing corporations to practice medicine or employ physicians will result in the commercialization of the practice of medicine;
- a corporation's obligation to its stockholders may not align with a physician's obligation to the physician's patients; and
- employment of a physician by a corporation may interfere with the physician's independent medical judgment.

Most states in which Matrix operates and in which we provide personal care services prohibit the corporate practice of medicine. Every state provides an exception for physician ownership of a professional corporation. Many states provide an exception for employment of physicians by certain entities. The scope of these exceptions varies from state to state. Corporate practice of medicine doctrine issues can also overlap with kickback and fee-splitting concerns. Some states use the corporate practice of medicine doctrine to limit the services that a manager can furnish to a physician or medical practice because the state is concerned that a manager might interfere with the physician's independent medical judgment and/or impose an unacceptable intrusion into the relationship between the physician and the patient.

Among other activities, Matrix currently contracts with and employs nurse practitioners to perform Comprehensive Health Assessments ("CHAs") and our PCS segment currently:

- employs registered nurses and licensed practical nurses to render skilled nursing care directly and to provide overall clinical supervision to patients; and
- has medical professionals provide guidance to its Quality Improvement Committees.

In addition, under the MSO-PC model within the Corporate and Other Segment, the MSO's contractual relationships and arrangements with the PC, through which virtual healthcare services are provided, may implicate certain of the corporate practice of medicine laws, which prohibit non-professional entities from providing licensed medical services or exercising control over licensed physicians or other healthcare professionals. This MSO-PC model may also implicate certain fee-splitting and anti-kickback laws.

While we believe that Matrix, our PCS segment, and the MSO-PC model have structured operations appropriately, any of these could be alleged or found to be in violation of some or all of these laws. If a state determines that some portion of the business violates these laws, or that a payment induced a physician to refer a patient, it may seek to have an entity discontinue or restructure those portions of operations or subject the entity to increased costs, penalties, fines, certain license requirements or other measures. Any determination that Matrix or we acted improperly in this regard may result in liability. In addition, agreements between Matrix and the particular professional may be considered void and unenforceable.

Professional Licensure and Other Requirements

Many of Matrix's employees are subject to federal and state laws and regulations governing the ethics and practice of their professions. For example, mid-level practitioners (e.g., Nurse Practitioners) are subject to state laws requiring physician supervision and state laws governing mid-level scope of practice. As physicians' use of mid-level practitioners increases, state governing boards are implementing more robust regulations governing mid-levels and their scope of practice under physician supervision. The ability of Matrix to provide mid-level practitioner services may be restricted by the enactment of new state laws governing mid-level scope of practice and by state agency interpretations and enforcement of such existing laws. In addition, services rendered by mid-level practitioners may not be reimbursed by payors at the same rates as payors may reimburse physicians for the same services. Lastly, professionals who are eligible to participate in Medicare and Medicaid as individual providers must not have been excluded from participation in government programs at any time. The ability of Matrix to provide services depends upon the ability of personnel to meet individual licensure and other requirements and maintain such licensure in good standing.

COVID-19 Public Health Emergency Orders

On May 11, 2023, the Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS") declared the end of the public health emergency ("PHE") for the COVID-19 pandemic. Emergency, public health and executive orders, issued, extended, or declared by the U.S. federal and state governments in response to the COVID-19 pandemic have waived numerous legal requirements while also imposing new legal restrictions which are issued, rescinded or modified with little advance notice. These emergency, public health and executive orders have created significant uncertainty in the legal and operational duties of health care providers. The declaration of the end of the public health emergency has and will continue to result in the rescission and modification of a number of regulatory requirements which will likely increase the uncertainty of the legal and operational duties of health care providers. While we have taken measures to plan for and mitigate this uncertainty in the regulatory environment, failure to adjust our operations based upon the public health emergency reaching its end and the resulting wind down of certain regulatory measures put in place to respond to public health concerns as a result of the global pandemic could have a material adverse impact on our business.

CARES Act Provider Relief Fund and ARPA State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds Program

The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act, which was signed into law on March 27, 2020 (the "CARES Act"), established the Provider Relief Fund ("PRF") that made relief payments to certain health care providers. The purpose of the PRF was to provide funding to health care providers so they could prevent, prepare for, and respond to the coronavirus. Providers who received relief payments are subject to eligibility criteria and specific terms and conditions on the use of relief payments. To receive relief payments, many providers were required to attest to numerous statements regarding accuracy of their application and their compliance with the eligibility criteria and the terms and conditions. Providers' use of relief payments is limited to health care related expenses or lost revenues that are attributable to coronavirus. Providers are required to have documentation that relief payments were used for those purposes.

The American Rescue Plan Act ("ARPA"), which was signed into law on March 11, 2021, established the Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Recover Funds ("SLFRF") program which issued a final rule in 2022 that delivered funding to state, territorial, local, and Tribal governments across the country to support their response to and recovery from the COVID-19 public health emergency. The purpose of the SLFRF was to support families and businesses struggling with the public health and economic impacts of the pandemic, maintain vital public services despite declining revenues from the crisis, and build a strong and equitable recovery from the pandemic by making investments in long-term growth and opportunity. While the intention of the SLFRF was to allow for flexibility of the diverse and disproportionate needs across diverse communities, compliance and reporting requirements exist which require recipients to report to the U.S. Department of the Treasury and ensure all SLFRF are used in compliance with the program's requirements. Recipients are also responsible for subrecipient oversight and management and providing supporting documentation as required by the Department of Treasury.

For both government fund programs, there is limited guidance concerning what the government might consider a health care related expense or lost revenue that was attributable to coronavirus or what type of documentation is adequate. As our PCS segment has received relief payments from the CARES Act PRF and ARPA SLFRF, we must comply with all reporting requirements instituted for recipients of these funds. While we believe that the receipt and use of these funds was in compliance with PRF and SLFRF requirements, failure to comply with these requirements could have a material adverse impact on our business.

California Climate Disclosure Laws

On Oct. 7, 2023, California enacted three climate-related bills imposing extensive new climate-related disclosure obligations applicable to companies doing business in California. The Climate Corporate Data Accountability Act (SB 253) requires covered companies with total annual revenues of $1 billion or more to disclose annually their Scope 1 (direct emissions from owned and controlled sources) and Scope 2 (indirect emissions from energy purchased and used) greenhouse gas ("GHG") emissions beginning in 2026, and Scope 3 (indirect emissions up and down value chain) greenhouse gas emissions beginning in 2027. Certain attestation requirements also apply to these Scope 1, Scope 2 and Scope 3 GHG emission reports, pursuant to which assurance must be provided by an approved third-party assurance provider. The information required to make the disclosures is complex and requires sophisticated internal and third party GHG risk management and data collection procedures.

In addition, the Climate-Related Financial Risk Act (SB 261) requires covered companies with total annual revenues of $500 million or more to publish biennial reports disclosing climate-related financial risks and the measures adopted to mitigate the disclosed risks by January 1, 2026. The Voluntary Carbon Market Disclosures Act (AB 1305), effective January 1, 2024, requires companies making certain claims, including regarding carbon neutrality or reduction of greenhouse gas emissions, and companies purchasing carbon offsets in addition to making such claims, to disclose information on the determination of accuracy of the claim, interim progress measures, third-party verification and, if applicable, information on the carbon offsets purchased and emissions data. The laws may be modified by future legislation. We are in the process of assessing the potential impact of these new climate disclosure laws.

Human Capital Management

Attracting, developing, and retaining talented people who embrace our culture, execute our strategy, and enable us to compete effectively in our industry is critical to our success. Our vision statement, "We drive positive health outcomes by transforming the way we connect to care" is at the core of everything we do. We understand that our success is directly correlated to ensuring that we employ the right team members and that each of our team members is passionate about the important role that they play in executing our vision and improving the health outcomes of our members. As such, we aim to attract and retain qualified and passionate people that represent a diverse array of perspectives and skills who work together as a cohesive team that embodies our values and support our mission.

Our ability to recruit and retain our employees depends on a number of factors, including providing competitive compensation and benefits, development and career advancement opportunities, and a collegial work environment. We invest in those areas in an effort to ensure that we continue to be the employer of choice for our team members.

Compensation and Benefits

Our benefits are designed to help team members and their families stay healthy, meet their financial goals, protect their income and help them have harmony between their work and personal lives. These benefits include health and wellness, paid time off, employee assistance, competitive pay, broad-based bonus programs, pension and retirement savings plans, career growth opportunities, and a culture of recognition.

Team Member Development and Advancement

We invest significant resources to develop team members with the right capabilities to deliver the growth and innovation needed to support our strategy. We seek to ensure that we are building the organizational capabilities required for success in the years to come. We offer team members and their managers several tools to help in their personal and professional development, including career development plans, mentoring programs and in-house learning opportunities, including an in-house continuing education program. We also have a practice of investing in our next generation of leaders and offer team members a number of leadership development programs. We believe in and encourage our team members and managers to maintain a growth mindset, a belief that qualities and talents can be developed through dedication and hard work, and have aligned our performance management programs to support our culture transformation with increased focus on continuous learning and development.

As of December 31, 2024, we had approximately 23,675 team members, of which approximately 3,400 were dedicated to our NEMT and our Corporate and Other segments, approximately 19,900 were dedicated to our PCS segment, and approximately 375 were dedicated to our Monitoring segment. Approximately 2,500 of our PCS segment caregivers were unionized in New York at the end of 2024, and we believe that we have good relationships with all of our team members.

Demographics and Diversity

Our team members reflect the communities in which they live and work and the members they serve and they possess a broad range of thoughts and experiences that have helped us achieve our successes to date. A key component of our growth and success is our commitment to diversity and inclusion. We believe this commitment allows us to better our understanding of member needs, while developing technologies and solutions to meet those needs. As part of our efforts to advance this important area, we have instituted several forums to ensure our team members have a channel to share their experiences. This includes our annual experience survey and quarterly town hall meetings where our executive leadership team can gather feedback from our team members and answer questions related to their concerns. Additionally, we have developed seven Employee Resource Groups ("ERGs"), which are team member led, experience-based groups of individuals that share a common interest in diversity and inclusion topics such as race, ethnicity, national origin, veteran status, ability awareness, gender, and sexual orientation/gender identity. Each of our ERGs is sponsored by a member of our executive leadership team or senior management that serves as an advocate and representative on our Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Council ("DEI Council") to continue the advancement of these important initiatives and further our effort to make an impact from the work that each of these ERGs is doing. Although we have made progress in our workforce diversity representation, we continue to seek input from our team members and make significant strides to continue to improve and make meaningful impacts in this area. We have established goals to continue improving our hiring, development, and retention of team members with diverse backgrounds and our overall diversity representation, including within our executive leadership team, in an effort to be a socially-responsible community member.

We also include additional team member information in our annual Sustainability reports (formerly Environmental, Social, and Governance ("ESG") reports), which are available on our website.

Environmental, Social and Governance

In May 2024, we released our 2023 Sustainability report. This was our second publication of the report and we will continue to prepare this report annually to enhance our disclosures and provide key information about our work toward our commitment to eliminating inequities in healthcare while enhancing our sustainability and governance efforts.

Environmental

Making connections to care is our purpose. We strive to bring equity, hope, and healing to those who need it most, one member at a time. We do this through our NEMT segment where we connect our members to their non-emergency medical appointments so they can receive necessary care; through our PCS segment where our caregivers provide necessary services to our members who need assistance performing daily-living activities in the comfort of their homes; and through our Monitoring segment where our real-time monitoring services allow our members to live peacefully in their homes while assisting and engaging in response services in the event that an emergency occurs. While our mission to be a leader in addressing the SDoH has our members at the forefront of each decision we make, we are also committed to being a responsible environmental steward in the communities in which we serve. This includes using our multi-modal strategy within the NEMT segment in order to not only provide the most appropriate mode of transportation for each individual member, but to also increase the use of public transit or multi-passenger vehicles when possible. Additionally, we work with our transportation providers to find more efficient routes, eliminate unnecessary trips and assist with procurement of more fuel-efficient fleets.

Social

Members of all incomes and identities rely on our non-emergency medical transportation, personal care services, and remote patient monitoring solutions to receive greater access to healthcare. We seek to improve the lives of our members by providing connections to care and eliminating inequities in healthcare. Our team operates with the same passion for helping and serving our members that we care for in order to improve their lives and health outcomes.

Governance

Our board of directors regularly evaluates our corporate governance structure and processes to help steer the Company's direction and ensure we are operating with the utmost business integrity. More information about our directors, executive officers and governance will be included in our 2025 Proxy Statement for our 2025 Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

Item 1A. Risk Factors.

You should consider and read carefully all of the risks and uncertainties described below, as well as the other information included in this Annual Report, including our consolidated financial statements and related notes. The risks described below have been organized under headings that are provided for convenience and intended to organize the risks and uncertainties into related categories to improve readability for investors; no inference should be drawn, however, that the placement of a risk factor under a particular category means that it is not applicable to another category of risks or that it may be more or less material than another risk factor. Regardless, they are also not the only risks and uncertainties facing us. The occurrence of any of the following risks or additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently believe to be immaterial could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. This Annual Report also contains forward-looking statements and estimates that involve risks and uncertainties, as discussed above in this Part I under the caption "Disclosure Regarding Forward-Looking Statements". Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in any forward-looking statements as a result of many factors, including the risk factors and uncertainties described below.

Risks Related to Our Industry

The cost of healthcare is funded substantially by government and private insurance programs, and if such funding is reduced or limited or no longer available, our business may be adversely impacted.

Third-party payors, including Medicaid, Medicare and private health insurance providers, provide substantial funding for our services. Other payors, including MCOs, are also dependent upon Medicaid funding. These payors are increasingly seeking to reduce the cost of healthcare, which drives pressure on the reimbursement rates for healthcare services, which include our services. We cannot assure you that our services will be considered cost-effective by third-party payors, that reimbursement will continue to be available, or that payor reimbursement policies will not have a material adverse effect on our ability to sell our services on a profitable basis, if at all. We cannot control reimbursement rates, including Medicare market basket or other rate adjustments. Reimbursement for services that we provide is primarily through Medicaid and MCOs and rates can vary state by state and payor by payor. Legislative efforts driving increases in minimum wage levels have been made and continue to be proposed to increase minimum wages in markets in which we operate, and that could significantly impact the wage rates for personal care attendants we utilize to provide our personal care services. Further, the continued increase in inflation has the potential to continue to drive up costs related to employee wages and other inputs to our services including fuel costs. The current payors may be unable or unwilling to increase reimbursement rates sufficiently to offset the impact on us of such cost increases or, in cases where payors do increase reimbursement rates, such increases may not occur concurrently with the increase in costs or fully offset such increases. These changes could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position, results of operations and liquidity.

The implementation of alternative payment models and the transition of Medicaid and Medicare beneficiaries to MCOs may limit our market share and could adversely affect our revenues.

Many government and commercial payors are transitioning providers to alternative payment models that are designed to promote cost-efficiency, quality and coordination of care. For example, accountable care organizations, or ACOs, seek to motivate hospitals, physician groups, and other providers to organize and coordinate patient care while reducing unnecessary costs. Several states have implemented, or have announced that they plan to implement, accountable care models for their Medicaid populations. If we are not included in these programs, or if ACOs establish programs that overlap with the services provided by us, we are at risk for losing market share and of experiencing a loss of business.

We may be similarly impacted by increased enrollment of Medicare and Medicaid beneficiaries in managed care plans, shifting away from traditional fee-for-service models. Under the Medicare managed care program, also known as Medicare Advantage or MA, the federal government contracts with private health insurers to provide Medicare benefits. Insurers may choose to offer supplemental benefits and impose higher plan costs on beneficiaries. Enrollment in managed Medicaid plans is also growing, as states are increasingly relying on MCOs to deliver Medicaid program services as a strategy to control costs and manage resources. We may experience increased competition for managed care contracts due to state regulation and limitations. For instance, the New York Consumer Directed Personal Assistance Program, or CDPAP, Medicaid program allows Medicaid beneficiaries in the State of New York that are in need of home care services to recruit, hire and train the caregiver of their choice, which can include friends or family members. The New York CDPAP also includes the creation of a statewide partnership with more than 30 regional home care partners by mid-2025, of which these partners have not yet been confirmed. This program and any similar program could result in a loss of business as existing patients may elect to have friends or family members provide these necessary services in lieu of our personal care providers or we may not be selected by the state as one of the home care partners. We cannot assure you that we will be successful in our efforts to be included in plan networks, that we will be able to secure favorable contracts with all or some of the MCOs, that our reimbursement under these programs will remain at current levels, that the authorizations for services will remain at current levels or that our profitability will remain at levels consistent with past performance, and if we are not successful in these areas our business could be materially harmed and our financial condition materially adversely affected.

In addition, operational processes may not be well defined as a state transitions beneficiaries to managed care. For example, membership, new referrals and the related authorization for services to be provided may be delayed, which may result in delays in service delivery to customers or in payment for services rendered. Difficulties with operational processes may negatively affect our revenue growth rates, cash flow and profitability for services provided. Other alternative payment models, such as value-based billing, capitated rates and per member per month pricing may be required by the government, MCOs and other commercial payors to control their costs while shifting financial risk to us, which could also materially affect our operations and financial condition.

We are limited in our ability to control reimbursement rates received for our services, and if we are not able to maintain or reduce our costs to provide such services, our business could be materially adversely affected.

Medicare and Medicaid are among our most significant payors, and their rates are established through federal and state statutes and regulations. Additionally, reimbursement rates with MCOs and other payors are difficult for us to negotiate as such payors are themselves limited in their ability to control rates and funding received from Medicaid and Medicare and are under pressure to reduce their own costs. We therefore manage our costs to achieve a desired level of profitability, including centralizing various back office processes, using technology to streamline processes and practicing efficient management of our workforce. If we are not able to continue to streamline our processes and reduce our costs, our business and consolidated financial condition, results of operations and cash flows could be materially adversely affected.

Future cost containment initiatives undertaken by private third-party payors, especially if we are unable to maintain or reduce our cost of services below rates set forth by payors, may limit our future revenue and profitability and cause us to experience reduced or negative margins and our results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

Our commercial payor and managed Medicaid revenue and profitability are affected by continuing efforts of third-party payors to maintain or reduce costs of healthcare by lowering payment rates, narrowing the scope and utilization of covered services, increasing case management review of services and negotiating pricing. There can be no assurance that third-party payors will make timely payments for our services, and there is no assurance that we will continue to maintain our current payor or revenue mix. We will continue our efforts to develop our commercial payor and managed Medicaid sources of revenue and any changes in payment levels from current or future third-party payors could have a material adverse effect on our business and consolidated financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We may be adversely affected by inadequacies in, or security breaches of, our information technology systems, including the systems intended to protect our clients' privacy and confidential information, which could lead to legal liability, adversely affect our reputation and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our information technology, or IT, systems are critically important to our operations and we must implement and maintain appropriate and sufficient infrastructure and IT systems to support our existing and future business processes. We provide services to individuals and others that require us to collect, process, maintain and retain a variety of sensitive and personal confidential information in our computer systems, including proprietary information, intellectual property, patient identifiable health information, employee information, financial information and other personal information about our customers and end-users, such as names, addresses, phone numbers, email addresses, identification numbers, sensitive health information, and payment account information. As a result, we are subject to complex and evolving United States privacy laws and regulations, including those pertaining to the handling of personal information, such as HIPAA, CCPA, and others. Most states have enacted laws, which vary significantly from jurisdiction to jurisdiction, to safeguard the privacy and security of personal information, and to require notification in the case of a breach of such information. California residents and households in particular are afforded significantly expanded privacy protections under the CCPA. The enacted laws often provide for civil penalties for violations, as well as a private right of action for privacy and security incidents or breaches, which may increase litigation. Further, while we are using internal and external resources to monitor compliance with and to continue to modify our information processing practices and policies in order to comply with evolving privacy laws, relevant regulatory authorities could determine that our information handling practices fail to address all the requirements of certain of these laws, which could subject us to penalties and/or litigation. In addition, there is no assurance that our security controls over confidential information, the training of employees and vendors on privacy, security, and breaches and the policies, procedures and practices we implemented or may implement in the future will successfully prevent the improper disclosure of confidential information. Improper disclosure of confidential information, including in violation of the CCPA and/or of other state, federal, and international personal data protection laws could harm our reputation, cause loss of consumer confidence, subject us to government enforcement actions (including fines), or result in private litigation against us, which, in turn, could result in loss of revenue, increased costs, liability for monetary damages, fines and/or criminal prosecution, all of which could adversely affect our business, consolidated results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

We also rely on our IT systems (some of which are supported by third party vendors) to manage the information, communications and business processes for other business functions, including a wide variety of health care infrastructure and operations such as marketing, sales, logistics, customer service, accounting and administrative functions. Furthermore, our systems include interfaces to third-party stakeholders, often connected via the internet. In addition, some of our services or information related to our services are carried out or hosted within our customers' IT systems, and any failure or weaknesses in their IT systems may negatively impact our ability to deliver the services, for which we may not receive relief from contractual performance obligations or compensation for services provided. All of these systems, no matter how sophisticated, are vulnerable to a variety of cyber-attacks. As a result of the information we and our vendors maintain, we are all subject to increasing cybersecurity risks related to such valuable information. The nature of our business, where services are often performed outside of locations where network security can be assured, adds additional risk. If we or our vendors do not allocate and effectively manage the resources necessary to build, sustain and protect an appropriate technology infrastructure, our business or financial results could be negatively impacted.

Furthermore, cyber, insider, and other criminal attacks are increasingly sophisticated and operate large scale and complex automated attacks, and our information technology systems may be vulnerable to material privacy and security incidents or breaches (including the access to or acquisition of customer, employee or other confidential information), cyber-attacks or other material system failures arising out of malware or ransomware attacks, denial of services, or other attacks or security incidents, any of which could adversely impact our operations and financial results, our relationships with business partners and customers, and our reputation. Because the techniques used to obtain unauthorized access to, acquire confidential information from, or sabotage systems frequently change and may be difficult to detect for long periods of time, we may be unable to implement adequate preventative measures sufficient to prevent a breach of our systems and protect sensitive data, including confidential information. Any breach of our security could result in an unauthorized release, transfer, or theft of confidential information, including customer or employee information, or the loss of valuable business data or cause a disruption in our business. A failure to prevent, detect and respond in a timely manner to a material breach of our security or to other cybersecurity threats could result in system disruption, business continuity issues or compromised integrity of confidential information. These events or any other failure to safeguard personal data could give rise to unwanted media attention, damage our reputation, damage our customer relationships and result in lost sales, fines or lawsuits. We may also be required to expend significant capital and other resources to protect against or respond to or alleviate problems caused by a privacy or security incident or breach. If we are unable to prevent material failures, our operations may be impacted, and we may suffer other negative consequences such as reputational damage, litigation, remediation costs, a requirement not to operate our business until defects are remedied, or penalties under various state and federal laws and regulations, any of which could detrimentally affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may be more vulnerable to the effects of a public health emergency than other businesses due to the nature of our end-users and the physical proximity required by our operations, which could harm our business disproportionately to other businesses.

The majority of our end-users are older individuals with complex medical challenges or multiple ongoing diseases or chronic illnesses, many of whom may be more vulnerable than the general public during a pandemic or in a public health emergency. Our employees are also at greater risk of contracting contagious diseases due to their increased exposure to vulnerable end-users. Our employees could also have difficulty attending to our end-users if a program of social distancing or quarantine is instituted in response to a public health emergency, or if any "stay at home" orders are instituted. If a public health emergency were to occur, we could suffer significant losses to our consumer population or a willingness by our end-users to utilize our services, in particular in our PCS segment, or a reduction in the availability of our employees and, at an inflated cost, we could be required to hire replacements for affected workers. Accordingly, public health emergencies could have a disproportionate material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Related to Our Business and Operations

We derive a significant amount of our revenues from a limited number of payors, and any changes in the funding, financial viability or our relationships with these payors could have a material adverse impact on our financial condition and results of operations.

We generate a significant amount of our revenue from a limited number of payors under a relatively small number of contracts. For example, for the year ended December 31, 2024, approximately 33.3% of our NEMT segment revenue was derived from only five payors, and one of which, a single state Medicaid agency, contributed 10.9% to our aggregate NEMT segment revenue during that period. As it relates to our other segments, for the year ended December 31, 2024, approximately 12.5% of our PCS segment revenue was derived from one U.S. state Medicaid program, and approximately 18.9% of our Monitoring segment revenue was derived from one health plan. The loss of, reduction in amounts generated by, or changes in methods or regulations governing payments for our services under these contracts could have a material adverse impact on our revenue and results of operations. In addition, any consolidation of any of our private payors could increase the impact that any such risks would have on our revenue, financial position, and results of operations.

Delays in collection, or non-collection, of our accounts receivable, particularly during any business integration process, could adversely affect our business, financial position, results of operations and liquidity.

Prompt billing and collection are important factors in our liquidity. Billing and collection of our accounts receivable are subject to the complex regulations that govern Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement and rules imposed by nongovernment payors. Our inability to bill and collect on a timely basis pursuant to these regulations and rules could subject us to payment delays that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position, results of operations and liquidity. It is possible that documentation support, system problems, Medicare, Medicaid or other payor issues, particularly in markets transitioning to managed care for the first time, or industry trends may extend our collection period, which may materially adversely affect our working capital, and our working capital management procedures may not successfully mitigate this risk.

The timing of payments made under the Medicare and Medicaid programs is subject to governmental budgetary constraints, resulting in an increased period of time between submission of claims and subsequent payment under specific programs, most notably under the Medicaid and Medicaid managed programs. In addition, we may experience delays in reimbursement as a result of the failure to receive prompt approvals related to change of ownership applications for acquired or other facilities or from delays caused by our or other third parties' information system failures. We may also experience delayed payment of reimbursement rate increases that are subject to the approval of the CMS and/or various state agencies before claims can be submitted or paid at the new rates. Any delays experienced for the foregoing or other reasons could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Further, a delay in collecting our accounts receivable, or the non-collection of accounts receivable in connection with our transition and integration of acquired companies and the attendant movement of underlying billing and collection operations from legacy systems to our systems could have a material negative impact on our results of operations and liquidity.

Our reported financial results could suffer if there is an impairment of goodwill or long-lived assets, which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

We are required under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, or GAAP, to review the carrying value of long-lived assets to be used in operations whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may be impaired. Factors that may necessitate an impairment assessment include, among others, significant adverse changes in the extent or manner in which an asset is used, significant adverse changes in legal factors or the business climate that could affect the value of an asset or significant declines in the observable market value of an asset. Where the presence or occurrence of those events indicates that an asset may be impaired, we assess its recoverability by determining whether the carrying value of the asset exceeds the sum of the projected undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset over the remaining economic life of the asset. If such testing indicates the carrying value of the asset is not recoverable, we estimate the fair value of the asset using appropriate valuation methodologies, which would typically include an estimate of discounted cash flows. If the fair value of those assets is less than carrying value, we record an impairment loss equal to the excess of the carrying value over the estimated fair value. The use of different estimates or assumptions in determining the fair value of our intangible assets may result in different values for those assets, which could result in an impairment or, in the period in which an impairment is recognized, could result in a materially different impairment charge.

In addition, goodwill may be impaired if the estimated fair value of our reporting units is less than the carrying value of the respective reporting unit. As a result of our growth, in part through acquisitions, goodwill and other intangible assets represent a significant portion of our assets. From our largest acquisitions, goodwill generated in relation to the acquisition of Simplura in 2020 was $320.4 million, goodwill generated in relation to the acquisition of Care Finders in 2021 was $232.1 million, goodwill generated in relation to the acquisition of VRI in 2021 was $236.3 million, and goodwill generated in relation to the acquisition of GMM in 2022 was $44.3 million. We perform an analysis on our goodwill balances to test for impairment on an annual basis. Interim impairment tests may also be required in advance of our annual impairment test if events occur or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value, including goodwill, of our reporting unit below the reporting unit's carrying value. Such circumstances could include: (1) loss of significant contracts; (2) a significant adverse change in legal factors or in the climate of our business; (3) unanticipated competition; (4) an adverse action or assessment by a regulator; or (5) a significant decline in our stock price.

During our July 1 annual assessment of goodwill for both 2024 and 2023, we determined that based on our qualitative assessment for each reporting unit, factors existed which required us to test our goodwill for impairment. For the 2024 assessment, these factors included changes in key assumptions from the prior year annual goodwill assessment as a result of lower than anticipated operating results during the first half of 2024 as compared to forecast which resulted in a decrease in the fair value of the Company's Monitoring reporting unit such that the fair value was less than its carrying value. As a result of our quantitative assessment, we determined that the goodwill at our Monitoring reporting unit was impaired and the Company recorded a non-cash goodwill impairment charge of $105.3 million during fiscal year 2024, all of which was recorded in the Monitoring reporting unit.

For the 2023 assessment, these factors included a decline in the market price of the Company's common stock, industry specific regulatory pressures such as Medicaid redetermination and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS") proposed ruling on Ensuring Access to Medicaid Services, and general economic and market volatility. As a result, the Company performed a quantitative assessment and determined that the goodwill at its PCS and Monitoring reporting units was impaired and the Company recorded a non-cash goodwill impairment charge of $183.1 million during fiscal year 2023, of which $137.3 million was recorded in the PCS reporting unit and $45.8 million was recorded in the Monitoring reporting unit.

As of December 31, 2024, the carrying value of goodwill, intangibles, equity method investments, and property and equipment, net was $680.3 million, $282.3 million, $31.4 million and $82.4 million, respectively. We continue to monitor the carrying value of these long-lived assets. If future conditions are different from management's estimates at the time of an acquisition or market conditions change subsequently, we may incur future charges for impairment of our goodwill, intangible assets, equity method investments or property and equipment, which could have a material adverse impact on our results of operations and financial position.

Failure to maintain or to develop further reliable, efficient and secure IT systems would be disruptive to our operations and diminish our ability to compete and successfully grow our business.

We are highly dependent on efficient and uninterrupted performance of our IT and business systems. These systems quote, process and service our business, and perform financial functions necessary for pricing and service delivery. These systems must also be able to undergo periodic modifications and improvements without interruptions or untimely delays in service. Additionally, our ability to integrate our systems with those of our clients is critical to our success. Our information systems rely on the commitment of significant financial and managerial resources to maintain and enhance existing systems as well as develop and create new systems to keep pace with continuing changes in information processing technology or evolving industry and regulatory requirements. Nevertheless, we still rely on manual processes and procedures, including accounting, reporting and consolidation processes that may result in errors and may not scale proportionately with our business growth, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

A failure or delay to achieve improvements in our IT platforms could interrupt certain processes or degrade business operations and could place us at a competitive disadvantage. If we are unable to implement appropriate systems, procedures and controls, we may not be able to successfully offer our services and grow our business and account for transactions in an appropriate and timely manner, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We face risks related to attracting and retaining qualified employees, which could harm our business and have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

Our business success depends, to a significant degree, on our ability to identify, attract, develop, motivate and retain highly qualified and experienced employees who possess the skills and experience necessary to deliver high-quality services to our clients, with the continued contributions of our senior management being especially critical to our success. Our objective of providing the highest quality of service to our clients is a significant consideration when we evaluate the education, experience and qualifications of potential candidates for employment as direct care and administrative staff. A portion of our staff is made up of professionals with requisite educational backgrounds and professional certifications. These employees are in great demand and are likely to remain a limited resource for the foreseeable future, exacerbated by continued labor shortages in the current economy.

Our ability to attract and retain employees with the requisite experience and skills depends on several factors, including our ability to offer competitive wages, benefits and professional growth opportunities. While we have established programs to attract new employees and provide incentives to retain existing employees, particularly our senior management, we cannot assure you that we will be able to attract new employees or retain the services of our senior management or any other key employees in the future. Some of the companies with which we compete for experienced personnel may have greater financial, technical, political and marketing resources, name recognition and a larger number of clients and payors than we do, which may prove more attractive to employment candidates. The inability to attract and retain experienced personnel could have a material adverse effect on our business.

The performance of our business also depends on the talents and efforts of our highly skilled IT professionals. Our success depends on our ability to recruit, retain and motivate these individuals. Effective succession planning is also important to our future success. If we fail to ensure the effective transfer of senior management knowledge and smooth transitions involving senior management, our ability to execute short and long-term strategic, financial and operating goals, as well as our business, financial condition and results of operations generally, could be materially adversely affected.

Any acquisition or acquisition integration efforts that we undertake could disrupt our business, not generate anticipated results, dilute stockholder value and have a material adverse impact on our operating results.

Our ability to achieve the anticipated potential benefits of any strategic acquisition is subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, and depends in part on our ability to integrate any such acquisition into our business operations. Integration of any acquired assets, data, or businesses may place significant demands on our management, systems, internal controls and financial and physical resources and could require us to incur significant expense for, among other things, hiring additional qualified personnel, retaining professionals to assist in developing the appropriate control systems and expanding our IT infrastructure. The nature of our business is such that qualified management personnel can be difficult to find.

Acquisitions and other transactions, arrangements, and investments are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, many of which are outside of our control, including:

- challenges and unanticipated costs associated with integrating complex organizations, systems, operating procedures, compliance programs, technology, networks and other assets;
- difficulties harmonizing differences in the business cultures of an acquired business;
- difficulties in integrating an acquisition with our business in a manner that permits us to achieve the cost savings and other anticipated benefits from the acquisition;
- challenges associated with known and unknown legal or financial liabilities associated with acquisitions;
- the risk of entering markets in which we have little or no experience;
- to the extent we incur debt to fund any acquisitions, the impact of such debt on our overall capital structure, any material restrictions thereunder on our ability to conduct our business, our ability to maintain compliance with any financial covenants and dilution to stockholders to the extent such debt instruments are convertible;
- to the extent we use cash to pay for acquisitions, the commensurate limitation of other potential uses for our cash;
- to the extent we issue equity securities in connection with future acquisitions, existing stockholders may be diluted and earnings per share may decrease;
- the inability to minimize the diversion of management attention from ongoing business concerns during the process of integrating our businesses;
- the inability to resolve potential conflicts that may arise relating to customer, supplier and other important relationships;
- the inability to maintain, or changes in, the relationships with key customers and partners of an acquired business;
- the difficulties in retaining key management and other key employees;
- potential write-offs of acquired assets or investments, impairments of goodwill or intangible assets, or potential financial and credit risks associated with acquired customers; and
- challenges relating to the structure of an investment, such as governance, accountability, and decision-making conflicts that may arise in the context of a joint venture or other shared ownership investments.

There can also be no assurance that any acquisitions we complete, will generate income or incur expenses at the historical or projected levels on which we based our acquisition decisions, that we will be able to realize operating and economic efficiencies upon integration of such acquisitions or that the acquisitions will not adversely affect our results of operations or financial condition. We may also decide to restructure, divest, or sell businesses, products, or technologies that we have acquired or in which we invested.

The occurrence of any of the above risks and uncertainties could cause us to fail to realize the anticipated benefits of such acquisitions or investments, incur unanticipated liabilities and harm our business generally.

Adverse general economic, political, credit and/or capital market conditions in the markets in which we do business could adversely affect our financial performance, our ability to grow or sustain our business, financial condition, and results of operations, and our ability to access capital markets.

Adverse economic conditions, including slow growth or recession, high unemployment, inflation, tighter credit, higher interest rates, supply chain challenges, labor shortages and volatility in capital markets have had and could continue to have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. Increased inflation rates could result in higher costs related to employee wages and other inputs to our services, including fuel costs, and could result in us incurring higher debt obligations than expected. If we incur higher costs than originally anticipated, including under our FFS contracts, and are unable to adjust the rates to reflect the changes in costs due to the structure of our contracts, our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

In addition, adverse economic conditions and economic uncertainty may lead to increased credit risk, higher borrowing costs, reduced liquidity, and reduced availability of capital and credit markets, which could impact our access to financing in the credit and capital markets at reasonable rates in the event we find it desirable to do so. Higher interest rates and borrowing costs as well as increased costs of labor as a result of the tight labor market, particularly in the healthcare industry, could create additional economic challenges. With the majority of our payors being governmental healthcare agencies who are also under significant operational and budgetary strain, these significantly increased labor and supply costs without a commensurate increase in revenue may lead to a continued deterioration of operating margins across our business.

Our estimated income taxes could be materially different from income taxes that we ultimately pay, which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

Our total income tax provision is based on our taxable income and the tax laws in the various jurisdictions in which we operate or operated. Judgment and estimation is required in determining our annual income tax expense and in evaluating our tax positions and related matters. In the ordinary course of our business, there are many transactions and calculations for which the ultimate tax determinations are uncertain or otherwise subject to interpretation. In the event one taxing jurisdiction disagrees with another taxing jurisdiction with respect to the amount or applicability of a particular type of tax, or the amount or availability of a particular type of tax refund or credit, we could experience temporary or permanent double taxation and increased professional fees to resolve such taxation matters.

Our determination of our income tax liability is subject to review by applicable tax authorities, and we have been audited by various jurisdictions in prior years. Although we believe our income tax estimates and related determinations are reasonable and appropriate, relevant taxing authorities may disagree. The ultimate outcome of any such audits and reviews could be materially different from the estimates and determinations reflected in our historical income tax provisions and accruals.

We may not be successful in implementing our business plan, which may force us to seek additional strategic alternatives in the future.

We are undertaking a number of actions pursuant to our go-forward business plan in order to improve the performance of our business, including, but not limited to, contract renegotiations, cost cutting, lowering capital expenditures, centralizing various back-office processes, using technology to streamline processes and practicing efficient management of our workforce.

The timely improvement of our business as well as our ability to maintain an adequate level of liquidity are subject to various risks, some of which are outside of our control. Such risks have included, and continue to include, difficulties in managing our revenue cycle and cash flows. In particular, our ability to collect outstanding contract receivables for services rendered is critical to the success of our business plan. We face a prolonged time interval between earning revenue and collecting receivables under outstanding contracts with some of our customers due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid and non-governmental payor arrangements, particularly with respect to shared-risk contracts that have reconciliation provisions. This prolonged interval between the Company fulfilling its performance obligations and collecting the cash owed for its services from its customers has lengthened collection periods and increased the uncertainty concerning the timing of the collection of these corresponding outstanding contract receivables. While we are making various efforts to reduce collection periods, we cannot give assurance that such efforts will be successful and that our customers will cooperate and effectively allow us to bill and collect payment for our services in a more timely manner. Although our transition to fee-for-service contracts is intended to reduce the extended collection delays we face under shared-risk contracts, such fee-for-service contracts may also involve a prolonged interval between the Company fulfilling its obligations and receiving the cash it is owed. Unlike our full-risk contracts where we are paid a fixed fee per member for service provided or our shared-risk contracts where we are paid a lower fixed monthly fee per member with an additional amount to be paid at a future date as described above, our fee-for-service contracts provide for a payment on a per-ride or per-customer basis but the payments will only be made in arrears, typically 60 to 75 days after the services are rendered. Accordingly, we expect a near-term impact on our cash flows as we manage this transition. Delays experienced in connection with collections have had, and further delays could have, an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

In recent years we have underperformed in implementing our business plan. If we are not successful in implementing our business plan, our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity may be adversely affected, which may force us to consider additional strategic alternatives, including (subject to market conditions) restructuring or refinancing our debt, seeking additional debt or equity capital, reducing or delaying our business activities and strategic initiatives, selling assets, other strategic transactions and/or other measures. For example, as previously announced, we are commencing a strategic review of our assets, which may include divestitures of certain of our assets. Such strategic alternatives involve significant uncertainties, potential delays, significant costs and other risks, and there can be no assurance that any of these alternatives will be available on acceptable terms, or at all, in the current market environment or in the foreseeable future. Our ability to pursue any strategic alternatives will depend on, among other things, our business plans, operating performance, including the operating performance of the assets that may become subject to divestiture, changes in the economic or business environment, investor demand, the condition of the capital markets and the support of our existing lenders and stockholders. The agreements governing our indebtedness also contain a number of restrictive covenants that impose significant operating and financial restrictions on us and may limit our ability to engage in any strategic alternative opportunities.

In addition, the agreements governing our indebtedness restrict our ability to dispose of certain assets and may restrict the use of the proceeds from any such dispositions to the repayment of outstanding indebtedness. Therefore, even if we successfully consummate such transactions, we may not be able to use the proceeds of such sales to, for example, meet our liquidity needs or make other investments in our business. The process of negotiating with buyers and implementing a sale may also take a prolonged period of time, may adversely affect our relationships with existing and potential customers and may lead to increased employee turnover, any of which may harm our business, financial condition, results of operation and liquidity.

Our failure to implement our business plan or successfully consummate strategic alternatives could have important consequences, including the following:

- our ability to continue as a going concern could be adversely affected;
- our ability to obtain financing to fund working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions or other general corporate requirements could be adversely affected;
- we would be required to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flows to debt payments instead of for other purposes;
- our ability to attract and retain employees and capitalize on business opportunities may be adversely affected;
- we could be placed at a competitive disadvantage compared to our competitors that may have less debt;
- our flexibility in planning for and reacting to changes in the industry in which we compete could be limited; and
- our vulnerability to general adverse economic conditions could increase.

We have a history of operating losses and negative cash flow and failure to improve our financial condition could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

We have a history of operating losses and expect to continue to generate negative cash flows from operations in the near term. We incurred net losses of $201.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2024 and $204.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2023. As a result, we face uncertainty regarding the adequacy of our long-term liquidity and capital resources. In addition to the cash requirements necessary to fund ongoing operations, we have incurred, and will continue to incur, significant professional fees and other costs in connection with advisory services provided to the Company regarding its financial condition and related transactions. We cannot assure you that available cash on hand and cash generated from operations, net of capital expenditures, will be sufficient to continue to fund our operations.

Our liquidity, including our ability to meet our ongoing operational obligations, is dependent upon, among other things, our ability to maintain adequate cash on hand and our ability to generate cash flow from operations (including, but not limited to, our ability to collect outstanding contract receivables in a timely manner).

On January 9, 2025, we entered into an amendment to our credit agreement, pursuant to which we obtained $75.0 million of additional capital from a consortium of our existing lenders in the form of an incremental term loan (the "Incremental Term Loan"), which will mature on January 10, 2026. This amendment increased the interest rates across our revolving and term loan credit facilities and made more restrictive certain of our operating and financial covenants. This amendment also provided the Company with financial covenant relief in the form of (i) a covenant holiday with respect to the maximum net leverage ratio and interest coverage ratio from the fourth fiscal quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025 as well as the liquidity covenant for the fourth fiscal quarter of 2024, (ii) resetting the maximum total net leverage ratio covenant to 6.75:1.00 for the third fiscal quarter of 2025 and the fourth fiscal quarter of 2025 and (iii) resetting the minimum interest coverage ratio to 1.65:1.00 for the third fiscal quarter of 2025 and the fourth fiscal quarter of 2025. The Company will also be required to maintain minimum liquidity of $25.0 million and be subject to a cash variance compliance test with respect to aggregate disbursements and aggregate receipts, subject to customary cures. If our financial condition does not improve organically and if we are unable to obtain adequate additional financing to meet our liquidity needs or consummate other appropriate strategic alternatives, we may need further covenant relief in the future. In the event additional financing or covenant relief is required in the future, we may be required to pay additional fees to our creditors and/or agree to additional covenants that limit our ability to engage in specified types of transactions. There can be no assurance that additional financing and/or covenant relief will be available in the future on acceptable terms, or at all. Failure to improve our financial condition and/or failure to obtain covenant relief from our creditors in the future may require us to delay, limit or curtail our operations or otherwise impede our business strategy, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity and our ability to continue as a going concern.

We have experienced significant turnover in our senior management team and across our organization, including our board of directors, and our failure to attract and retain qualified personnel, skilled workers and key officers and directors could have an adverse effect on us.

We have recently experienced and will continue to experience significant turnover in our board of directors and senior management team. In December 2024, two of our directors resigned, and two other directors were appointed to the board. In February 2025, an additional director was appointed to the board and two directors resigned. In connection with the Incremental Term Loan, we agreed to appoint three lender-approved directors to the board, one of whom was appointed in February 2025, and, once all three new appointments are made, to reduce and limit the total number of our directors to seven. We have also recently experienced reductions in our workforce. Our ability to retain key employees in the long-term is affected by our financial situation, our business performance and our ability to successfully implement our go-forward business plan. As a result of our negotiations with lenders and other investors, we may continue to experience turnover in our senior management team and board of directors. Our business may be adversely affected by the transitions in our senior management team and reduction in workforce, and turnover at the senior management level may create instability within the Company, which could disrupt and impede our day-to-day operations and our ability to fully implement our business plan and growth strategy. In addition, management transition inherently causes some loss of institutional knowledge, which can negatively affect strategy and execution, and our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity could be negatively impacted as a result. Competition for key management personnel is intense. If we fail to successfully attract and appoint permanent replacements with the appropriate expertise, we could experience increased employee turnover and harm to our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity. The search for permanent replacements could also result in significant recruiting and relocation costs, as well as increased salary and benefit costs.

Negotiations regarding new capital investment in the Company, as well as efforts to effect strategic divestitures of certain of our assets, may consume a substantial portion of the time and attention of our management, which may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

Our management has spent, and may continue to be required to spend, a significant amount of time and effort focusing on negotiations with existing debt and equity holders of the Company and new investors. In addition, our management is expected to engage in efforts to effect strategic divestitures of certain of our assets during fiscal year 2025, which could require a significant amount of time and attention of our management. This diversion of attention may have a material adverse effect on the conduct of our business, and, as a result, on our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity, particularly if such negotiations with existing debt and equity holders or regarding the strategic divestitures of certain of our assets are protracted.

Our business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected by pandemic infectious diseases, including our contact center employees who may be disproportionately impacted by health epidemics or pandemics, which could disrupt our business and adversely affect our financial results.

The widespread outbreak of an illness or any other communicable disease, or any other public health crisis that results in economic disruptions could materially adversely affect our business and results of operations. Any such outbreak, health epidemic or pandemic or other health crisis, as well as measures taken by governmental authorities and private actors to contain such health crisis could interfere with, and may continue to interfere with the ability of our employees, suppliers, transportation providers and other business providers to carry out their assigned tasks at ordinary levels of performance relative to the conduct of our business, which may cause us to materially curtail portions of our business operations. Any such widespread health crisis could adversely impact our business in a number of ways, such as limiting customer and member demand for certain of our services; limiting our ability to provide our services as a result of, among other things, travel restrictions, disruptions in our contact centers, people working from home and taking the opportunity to provide personal care services that we might otherwise provide through our PCS segment, and the willingness or ability of our employees to work due to health issues or concerns, childcare issues or enhanced unemployment benefits, including after "shelter in place" and other related "stay at home restrictions" are lifted or modified; increased costs to us responding to a health crisis and protecting the health and safety of our employees, including increased spending for hazard pay and personal protective equipment; and the ability of our payors to pay for our services.

Furthermore, any failure to appropriately respond, or the perception of an inadequate response, could cause reputational harm and/or subject us to claims and litigation, either of which could result in a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Risks Related to Our NEMT Segment

There can be no assurance that our contracts will survive as contemplated until the end of their stated terms, or that upon their expiration will be renewed or extended on satisfactory terms, if at all, and disruptions to, the early expiration or renegotiation of, or the failure to renew our contracts could have a material adverse impact on our financial condition and results of operations.

Our NEMT segment contracts are subject to frequent renewal and, from time to time, requests for renegotiation during a contract term. For example, many of our state Medicaid contracts, which represented approximately 37.5% of our NEMT segment revenue for the year ended December 31, 2024, have terms ranging from three to five years and are typically subject to a competitive procurement process near the end of the term. We also contract with MCOs, which represented approximately 62.5% of our NEMT segment revenue for the year ended December 31, 2024. Our MCO contracts for NEMT segment services typically continue until terminated by either party upon reasonable notice in accordance with the terms of the contract, and sometimes a contractual counterparty will seek to renegotiate the pricing and other terms of a contract to our detriment prior to the stated termination date of a contract. We cannot anticipate if, when or to what extent we will be successful in renewing our state Medicaid contracts or retaining our MCO contracts through their contractual duration on terms originally negotiated or at all. For the year ended December 31, 2024, 24.0% of our NEMT segment revenue was generated under state Medicaid contracts that are subject to renewal during 2025.

In addition, with respect to many of our state contracts, the payor may terminate the contract without cause, or for convenience, at will and without penalty to the payor, either immediately or upon the expiration of a short notice period in the event that, among other reasons, government appropriations supporting the programs serviced by the contract are reduced or eliminated. We cannot anticipate if, when or to what extent a payor might terminate a contract with us prior to its expiration, or fail to renew or extend a contract with us. If we are unable to retain or renew our contracts, or replace lost contracts, on satisfactory terms, our financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected. While we pursue new contract awards and also undertake efficiency measures, there can be no assurance that such measures will fully offset the negative impact of contracts that are not renewed or are canceled on our financial condition and results of operations.

Our success depends on our ability to compete effectively in the marketplace, and our results of operations could be materially adversely affected if we are unable to compete effectively in the markets for our services.

We compete for clients and for contracts with a variety of organizations that offer similar services. Many organizations of varying sizes compete with us, including local not-for-profit organizations and community-based organizations, larger companies, organizations that currently provide or may begin to provide similar NEMT services (including transportation network companies such as Uber and Lyft) and CHA providers. Some of these companies may have greater brand recognition as well as greater financial, technical, political, marketing, and other resources that contribute to a larger number of clients or payors than we have. In addition, some of these companies may offer more services than we do. To remain competitive, we must provide superior quality services on a cost-effective basis to our payors and customers.

The market in which we operate is influenced by technological developments that affect cost-efficiency and quality of services, and the needs of our customers change and evolve regularly. Accordingly, our success depends on our ability to develop services that address these changing needs and to provide technology needed to deliver these services on a cost-effective basis. Our competitors may better utilize technology to change the way services in our industry are designed and delivered and they may be able to provide our customers with different or greater capabilities than we can provide, including better contract terms, technical qualifications, price and availability of qualified professional personnel. In addition, new or disruptive technologies and methodologies by our competitors may make our services noncompetitive. For example, in recent years there has been an industry shift toward virtual health solutions which may reduce the number of in-person visits an end-user may be required to make to healthcare providers in order to receive care, which could reduce the utilization of our NEMT services.

We have experienced, and expect to continue to experience, competition from new entrants into the markets in which we operate. Increased competition may result in pricing pressures, loss of or failure to gain market share, or loss of or failure to gain clients or payors, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our operating results. Our business may also be adversely affected by the consolidation of competitors, which may result in increased pricing pressure or negotiating leverage with payors, or by the provision of our services by payors or clients directly to customers, including through the acquisition of competitors.

We obtain a significant portion of our business through responses to government requests for proposals and we may not be awarded contracts through this process in the future, or contracts we are awarded may not be profitable.

We obtain, and will continue to seek to obtain, a significant portion of our business from state government entities, which generally entails responding to a government request for proposal, or RFP. To propose effectively, we must accurately estimate our cost structure for servicing a proposed contract, the time required to establish operations and submit the most attractive proposal with respect to both technical and price specifications. The accurate estimate of costs is based on historical experience with similar contracts and future expectation around transportation costs, which may be inaccurately forecasted due to uncertainties driven by the current macroeconomic environment which poses supply chain shortages, uncertain inflationary impacts, and the current geopolitical environment. We must also assemble and submit a large volume of information within rigid and often short timetables. Our ability to respond successfully to an RFP will greatly affect our business. If we misinterpret bid requirements as to performance criteria or do not accurately estimate performance costs in a binding bid for an RFP, there can be no assurance that we will be able to modify the proposed contract and we may be required to perform under a contract that is not profitable, which could materially adversely affect our results of operations.

If we fail to satisfy our contractual obligations, we could be liable for damages and financial penalties, which may place existing pledged performance and payment bonds at risk as well as harm our ability to keep our existing contracts or obtain new contracts and future bonds, any of which could harm our business and results of operations.

Our failure to comply with our contractual obligations could, in addition to providing grounds for immediate termination of the contract for cause, negatively impact our financial performance and damage our reputation, which, in turn, could have a material adverse effect on our ability to maintain current contracts or obtain new contracts. The termination of a contract for cause could, for instance, subject us to liabilities for excess costs incurred by a payor in obtaining similar services from another source. In addition, our contracts require us to indemnify payors for our failure to meet standards of care, and some of them contain liquidated damages provisions and financial penalties if we breach these contracts, which amounts could be material. Our failure to meet contractual obligations could also result in substantial actual and consequential financial damages, the impact of which could be materially adverse to our business and reputation

If we fail to estimate accurately the cost of performing certain contracts, we may experience reduced or negative margins and our results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

During 2024, 2023, and 2022, 80.9%, 85.3%, and 87.8% of our NEMT segment revenue, respectively, was generated under capitated contracts with the remainder generated through fee for service ("FFS") contracts. Under most of our capitated contracts, we assume the responsibility of managing the needs of a specific geographic population by contracting out transportation services to local transportation companies on a per ride or per mile basis. We use "pricing models" to determine applicable contract rates, which take into account factors such as estimated utilization, state specific data, previous experience in the state or with similar services, the medically covered programs outlined in the contract, identified populations to be serviced, estimated volume, estimated transportation provider rates and availability of mass transit. The amount of the fixed per-member, monthly fee is determined in the bidding process, but is predicated on actual historical transportation data for the subject geographic region as provided by the payor, actuarial work performed in-house as well as by third party actuarial firms and actuarial analysis provided by the payor. If the utilization of our services is more than we estimated, the contract may be less profitable than anticipated, or may not be profitable at all.

Certain capitated contracts are structured in a shared risk format and have provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors or profit rebates. Under this shared risk structure, the amount of the fixed per-member fee is determined based on actual realized transportation volumes or costs. This provides some margin protection against unprofitable contracts, as the rate per member will increase if cost of transportation was to increase above certain specified levels. These shared risk contracts pose certain risks to cash management and liquidity, as contracts under this structure can lead to large contract payables and contract receivables balances on our balance sheet, that have longer payment terms than typical cycles. This can lead to large outflows of cash and impact our liquidity.

Under our FFS contracts, we receive fees based on our interactions with government-sponsored clients. To earn a profit on these contracts, we must accurately estimate costs incurred in providing services. If the client population relating to these contracts is not large enough to cover our fixed costs, such as rent and overhead, our operating results could be materially adversely affected and our profitability impaired. Our FFS contracts are not reimbursed on a cost basis; therefore, if we fail to estimate our costs accurately, we may experience reduced margins or losses on these contracts. Revenue under certain contracts may be adjusted prospectively if client volumes are below expectations. If we are unable to adjust our costs accordingly, our profitability may be negatively affected. In addition, certain contracts with state Medicaid agencies are renewable or extended at the state's option without an adjustment to pricing terms. If such renewed contracts require us to incur higher costs, including inflation or regulatory changes, than originally anticipated, our results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

Delays in collection, or non-collection, of our accounts receivable, particularly concerning the timing of collection of outstanding contract receivables from certain NEMT customers due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid and nongovernmental payor arrangements, could adversely affect our business, financial position, results of operations and liquidity.

In addition to the risk of delays in collection, or non-collection, of our accounts receivable included in the "Risks Related to our Business" discussion above, the NEMT segment is subject to additional risk from delays in collection specific to its outstanding contract receivables from certain customers. Certain capitated contracts in the NEMT segment are structured in a shared risk format that include provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors, or profit rebates. While these contracts provide some margin protection against unprofitable contracts, these shared risk contracts pose certain risks to cash management and liquidity as contracts under this structure can lead to large contract payables and contract receivables balances on our balance sheet that have longer payment terms than typical cycles. Because the amount of the fixed per-member fee is determined based on actual realized transportation volumes or costs, the reconciliation provisions may result in a delay in billing and collection on our contract receivables that are subject to the complex regulations that govern Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement and rules imposed by nongovernment payors. Our inability to bill and collect on a timely basis pursuant to these regulations and rules could subject us to payment delays that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position, results of operations and liquidity.

The timing of payments made under the Medicare and Medicaid programs is subject to governmental budgetary constraints, resulting in an increased period of time between submission of claims and subsequent payment under specific programs, most notably under the Medicaid and Medicaid managed programs. Any delays experienced for the foregoing or other reasons could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial position, and liquidity.

The NEMT segment may be adversely impacted if the drivers we engage as independent contractors were instead classified as employees.

We believe that the drivers we engage to provide rider benefits are properly classified as independent contractors and that these drivers are not our employees. Changes to federal, state or local laws governing the definition or classification of independent contractors, or judicial or administrative challenges to our classification of these drivers as independent contractors, could affect the status of these drivers as independent contractors. A change in the classification of these drivers from independent contractors to employees could increase materially our expenses associated with the delivery of our services, which could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Significant interruptions in communication and data services could adversely affect our business.

Our contact centers are significantly dependent on telephone, internet and data service provided by various communication companies. Any disruption of these services could adversely affect our business. We have taken steps to mitigate our exposure to service disruptions by investing in complex and multi-layered redundancies, and we can transition services among our different contact centers. Despite these efforts, there can be no assurance that the redundancies we have in place would be sufficient to maintain the contact centers' operations without disruption. Any disruption could harm our customer relationships and have a material adverse effect on our results of operations.

Risks Related to Our PCS Segment

Competition among in-home personal care, or home healthcare, services companies is significant, and if we are not successful in executing on our strategies in the face of this competition, our business could be materially adversely affected.

The in-home personal care services industry, which is sometimes referred to as the home healthcare services industry, is highly competitive. Our PCS segment competes with a variety of other companies in providing personal care services, some of which may have greater financial and other resources and may be more established in their respective communities. Competing companies may offer newer or different services from those offered by us, which may attract customers who are presently receiving our in-home personal care services to those other companies. Competing companies may also offer services across a greater continuum of care and therefore may be able to obtain new cases or retain patients that might otherwise choose us. In the areas in which our in-home personal care programs are provided, we also compete with a large number of organizations, including:

- community-based home healthcare providers;
- hospital-based home healthcare agencies;
- rehabilitation centers, including those providing home healthcare services;
- adult day care centers;
- assisted living centers;
- skilled nursing facilities; and
- fiscal intermediaries that process payroll and undertake other administrative responsibilities related to the provision of care by a patient's family members or other directly-hired personal assistants.

Some of our current and potential competitors have or may obtain significantly greater marketing and financial resources to promote their programs than we have or may obtain. We compete based on the availability of personnel, the quality of services, the expertise of staff and, in some instances, the price of the services. Relatively few barriers to entry in the personal care industry exist in our local markets. Accordingly, other companies, including hospitals and other healthcare organizations that are not currently providing in-home personal care services, may expand their services to include those services or similar services. We may encounter increased competition in the future that could negatively impact patient referrals to us and limit our ability to maintain or increase our market position, the effect of any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position, results of operations and liquidity.

If any large, national healthcare entities that do not currently directly compete with us move into the in-home personal care market, competition could significantly increase. Larger, national healthcare entities have significant financial resources and extensive technology infrastructure. In addition, companies that currently compete with respect to some of our personal care services could begin competing with additional services through the acquisition of an existing company or de novo expansion into these services. Additionally, consolidation, especially by way of the acquisition of any of our competitors by any large, national healthcare entity, could also lead to increased competition.

State certificates of need, or CON, laws, which often limit the ability of competitors to enter into a given market, are not uniform throughout the United States and are frequently the subject of efforts to limit or repeal such laws. If states remove existing CON laws, we could face increased competition in these states. Further, we cannot assure you that we will be able to compete successfully against current or future competitors, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

If we are unable to maintain relationships with existing patient referral sources, our business and consolidated financial condition, results of operations and cash flows could be materially adversely affected.

Our success in entering the markets we serve depends on referrals from physicians, hospitals, nursing homes, service coordination agencies, MCOs, health plans and other sources in the communities we serve and on our ability to maintain good relationships with existing referral sources. Our referral sources are not contractually obligated to refer patients to us and may refer their patients to other providers. Our growth and profitability depends, in part, on our ability to establish and maintain close working relationships with these patient referral sources and to increase awareness and acceptance of the benefits of personal care services by our referral sources and their patients. Our loss of, or failure to maintain, existing relationships or our failure to develop new referral relationships could have a material adverse effect on our business.

Many states have CON laws or other regulatory and licensure obligations that may adversely affect the successful integration of our personal care service lines and that may adversely affect our ability to expand into new markets and thereby limit our ability to grow and increase net patient service revenue.

Many states have enacted CON laws that require prior state approval to open new healthcare facilities or expand services at existing facilities. In such states, expansion by existing providers or entry into the market by new providers is permitted only where a given amount of unmet need exists, resulting either from population increases or a reduction in competing providers. These states ration the entry of new providers or services and the expansion of existing providers or services in their markets through a CON process, which is periodically evaluated and updated as required by applicable state law. The process is intended to promote comprehensive healthcare planning, assist in providing high-quality healthcare at the lowest possible cost and avoid unnecessary duplication by ensuring that only those healthcare facilities and operations that are needed will be built and opened. New York, New Jersey, and West Virginia have CON laws applicable to the in-home personal care services we provide.

In every state where required, our home healthcare offices and personal care centers possess a license and/or CON issued by the state health authority that determines the local service areas for the home healthcare office or personal care center. In general, the process for opening a home healthcare office or personal care center begins by a provider submitting an application for licensure and certification to the state and federal regulatory bodies, which is followed by a testing period of transmitting data from the applicant to the CMS. Once this process is complete, the care center receives a provider agreement and corresponding number and can begin billing for services that it provides unless a CON is required. For those states that require a CON, the provider must also complete a separate application process before billing can commence and receive required approvals for capital expenditures exceeding amounts above prescribed thresholds. Our failure or inability to obtain any necessary approvals could adversely affect our ability to expand into new markets and to expand our PCS segment services and facilities in existing markets.

If a state with CON laws finds that there is an over-abundance of one type of Medicaid provider within the state, it may, for a period of time, impose a moratorium against the issuance of new Medicaid licenses for that type of service. While a moratorium would not prohibit us from continuing to provide services for which we are already licensed in that state, it may prevent us from entering a new state de novo, which could limit our expansion opportunities, affect our ability to execute on our business strategies and materially harm our business and operations.

Although we obtained approval to effectuate the change of control of our licensed in-home personal care services agency business in the State of New York, which permits our management team to manage those operations, our board may not, absent the consent of the New York Department of Health, be able to influence the management of that business in the State of New York, which would have an adverse impact on our expected results from that acquisition and could result in a material adverse effect on our business and operations.

Our operation of our licensed in-home personal care services agency business in the State of New York is subject to a "no control" affidavit that limits the influence our board may have on that business. We have, however, successfully obtained the change of ownership approval from the New York Department of Health with respect to our Simplura acquisition, which permits our management team to now control the day to day operations of that personal care business in the State of New York. Pursuant to the affidavit, our board cannot exercise day to day management of these entities, and our current management will operate the business. There is no prohibition on these entities making cash distributions to us while the affidavit of "no control" is in effect. The affidavit that limits the influence of our board may limit our ability to achieve the synergies and operational benefits expected from the Simplura acquisition as contemplated and our business and results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

Changes in the case-mix of our personal care patients, as well as payor mix and payment methodologies, may have a material adverse effect on our profitability.

The sources and amounts of our patient revenues are determined by a number of factors, including the mix of patients and the rates of reimbursement among payors. Changes in the case-mix of the patients as well as payor mix among private pay, Medicare and Medicaid, as well as specialty programs, including waiver programs within Medicaid, may significantly affect our profitability. In particular, any significant increase in our Medicaid population or decrease in Medicaid payments could have a material adverse effect on our financial position, results of operations and cash flow, particularly if states operating these programs continue to limit, or more aggressively seek limits on, reimbursement rates or service levels.

Our loss of existing favorable managed care contracts could have a material adverse effect on our business and consolidated financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

There is a risk that our existing favorable managed care contracts could be terminated. Managed care contracts typically permit us or the payor to terminate the contract without cause, typically within 90 days, which can provide payors leverage to reduce volume or obtain favorable pricing. Our failure to negotiate and put in place favorable managed care contracts, or our failure to maintain favorable managed care contracts, could have a material adverse effect on our business.

The personal care industry has historically experienced shortages in qualified employees and management, which could harm our business.

Our personal care services compete with other healthcare providers for both professional and management level employees. Our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel depends on several factors, including our ability to provide these personnel with attractive assignments for the desired number of hours per week and competitive compensation and benefits. There can be no assurance that we will succeed in any of these areas. As the demand for personal care services continues to exceed the supply of available and qualified personnel, our competitors may be forced to offer more attractive wage and benefit packages to these professionals. Furthermore, the competitive market for this labor force has created turnover as many seek to take advantage of the supply of available positions, each offering new and more attractive wage and benefit packages. In addition to the wage pressures inherent in this environment, including any changes to minimum wage, the cost of training new employees amid the turnover rates may cause added pressure on our operating results and harm our business.

Our personal care business may be adversely impacted by labor relations which could create labor disruptions that impact our ability to perform our obligations.

Approximately 2,500 of our hourly caregivers are unionized in regions of New York. Certain collective bargaining agreements with the 1199 SEIU United Healthcare Workers East are currently being negotiated, and others will require renegotiation upon expiration. We may not be able to negotiate terms that are satisfactory to the labor unions, and ultimate agreement may be on terms unfavorable to us. In addition, a unionized work force poses the risk of work stoppages, which if initiated could materially harm our results of operations as well as our commercial relationships with our customers if we are unable to perform under our contracts with them during any such stoppage.

If additional regions in which we operate become unionized, or if we expand our personal care operations into geographic areas where healthcare workers historically have been unionized, being subject to additional collective bargaining agreements may have a negative impact on our ability to timely and successfully recruit qualified personnel and may increase our operating costs. Generally, if we are unable to attract and retain qualified personnel, the quality of our services may decline and we could lose patients and referral sources, which could have a material adverse effect on our business and consolidated financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our PCS segment may be subject to malpractice or other similar claims, which could adversely impact our brand and our success in the marketplace.

The services our PCS segment offers involve an inherent risk of professional liability and related substantial damage awards. Due to the nature of our personal care business, we, through our employees and caregivers who provide services on our behalf, may be the subject of medical malpractice claims. A court could find that these individuals should be considered our agents, and, as a result, we could be held liable for their acts or omissions. Claims of this nature, regardless of their ultimate outcome, could have a material adverse effect on our business or reputation or on our ability to attract and retain patients and employees. While we maintain malpractice liability coverage that we believe is appropriate given the nature and breadth of our operations, any claims against us in excess of insurance limits, or multiple claims requiring us to pay deductibles, could have a material adverse effect on our business and consolidated financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Risks Related to Our Monitoring Segment

We operate in a competitive industry, and any failure to develop and enhance technology applications could harm our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Strategic shifts in the industry as a result of the pandemic toward in-home care solutions have accelerated the growth in the Monitoring industry which is a competitive industry and we expect it to attract increased competition, which could make it difficult for us to succeed. We currently face competition in the Monitoring industry from a range of companies, including specialized software and solution providers that offer similar solutions, often at substantially lower prices, and that are continuing to develop additional products and becoming more sophisticated and effective. In addition, large, well-financed health plans have in some cases developed their own telehealth, expert medical service or chronic condition management tools and may provide these solutions to their customers at discounted prices. Competition from specialized software and solution providers, health plans and other parties will result in continued pricing pressures, which is likely to lead to price declines in certain product segments, which could negatively impact our sales, profitability and market share.

Some of our competitors may have, or new competitors or alliances may emerge that have, greater name recognition, a larger customer base, longer operating histories, more widely-adopted proprietary technologies, greater marketing expertise, larger sales forces and significantly greater resources than we do. Further, our current or potential competitors may be acquired by third parties with greater available resources. As a result, our competitors may be able to respond more quickly and effectively than we can to new or changing opportunities, technologies, standards or customer requirements and may have the ability to initiate or withstand substantial price competition. In addition, current and potential competitors have established, and may in the future establish, cooperative relationships with vendors of complementary products, technologies or services to increase the availability of their solutions in the marketplace. Our competitors could also be better positioned to serve certain segments of our markets, which could create additional price pressure. In light of these factors, even if our solutions are more effective than those of our competitors, current or potential customers may accept competitive solutions in lieu of purchasing our solutions. If we are unable to successfully compete, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

If we do not continue to innovate and provide services that are useful to customers and achieve and maintain market acceptance, we may not remain competitive, and our revenue and results of operations could suffer.

Our success depends on our ability to keep pace with technological developments, satisfy increasingly sophisticated customer requirements, and achieve and maintain market acceptance on our existing and future services in the rapidly evolving market for the management and administration of healthcare services. In addition, market acceptance and adoption of our existing and future services depends on the acceptance by health plans and provider partners as to the distinct features, cost savings and other perceived benefits of our existing and future offerings as compared to competitive alternative services. Our competitors are constantly developing products and services that may become more efficient or appealing to our customers. As a result, we must continue to invest significant resources in research and development in order to enhance our existing services and introduce new services that our customers will want, while offering our existing and future services at competitive prices. If we are unable to predict customer preferences or industry changes, or if we are unable to modify our existing and future services on a timely or cost-effective basis, we may lose customers and our business, financial condition and results of operations may be harmed.

If we are not successful in demonstrating to existing and potential customers the benefits of our existing and future services, or if we are not able to achieve the support of health plans and provider partners for our existing and future services, our revenue may decline or we may fail to increase our revenue in line with our forecasts. Our results of operations would also suffer if our technology and other innovations are not responsive to the needs of our customers, are not timed to match the corresponding market opportunity, or are not effectively brought to market.

Risks Related to Our Corporate and Other Segment

Our investment in Matrix could be adversely affected by our lack of sole decision-making authority, our reliance on our equity investment's financial condition, any disputes that may arise between us and Matrix and our exposure to potential losses from the actions of Matrix, and could materially and adversely affect the value of our consolidated assets.

We hold a non-controlling interest in Matrix, which, as of December 31, 2024, constituted 1.8% of our consolidated assets. We do not have unilateral power to direct the activities that most significantly impact Matrix's economic performance. The arrangement with Matrix involves risks not present with respect to our wholly-owned subsidiaries and that may negatively impact our financial condition and results of operations or make the arrangement less successful than anticipated. Factors that may negatively impact the success of our Matrix investment include the following:

- we may be unable to take actions that we believe are appropriate but are opposed by Matrix under arrangements that require us to cede or share decision-making authority over major decisions affecting the ownership or operation of the company and any property owned by the company, such as the sale or financing of the business or the making of additional capital contributions for the benefit of the business;
- Matrix management may take actions that we oppose;
- we may be unable to sell or transfer our investment to a third party if we fail to obtain the prior consent of our investment partner;
- Matrix may become bankrupt or the majority member may fail to fund its share of required capital contributions, which could adversely impact the investment or increase our financial commitment to the investment;
- Matrix may have business interests or goals with respect to a business that conflict with our business interests and goals, including with respect to the timing, terms and strategies for investment, which could increase the likelihood of disputes regarding the ownership, management or disposition of the business;
- disagreements with Matrix could result in litigation or arbitration that increases our expenses, distracts our management, and disrupts the day-to-day operations of the business, including the delay of important decisions until the dispute is resolved; and
- we may suffer losses as a result of actions taken by Matrix with respect to our investment.

If any of the foregoing events were to transpire, our results of operations and liquidity position could be materially adversely affected and our business could be materially harmed.

As part of our investment in innovation, the MSO provides virtual clinical care management services through the PC, an unaffiliated professional corporation owned and operated by a licensed physician, and our relationships or arrangements with the PC could become subject to legal challenges.

The MSO's contractual relationships and arrangements with the PC, through which virtual healthcare services are provided, may implicate certain state laws that generally prohibit non-professional entities from providing licensed medical services or exercising control over licensed physicians or other healthcare professionals (such activities are generally referred to as the "corporate practice of medicine") or engaging in certain practices such as fee-splitting with such licensed professionals. The interpretation and enforcement of these laws vary significantly from state to state. There can be no assurance that these laws will be interpreted in a manner consistent with our practices or that other laws or regulations will not be enacted in the future that could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Regulatory authorities, state boards of medicine, state attorneys general and other parties may assert that, despite the agreements through which we operate, we are engaged in the provision of medical services and/or that our arrangements with the PC constitute unlawful fee-splitting. If a jurisdiction's prohibition on the corporate practice of medicine or fee-splitting is interpreted in a manner that is inconsistent with our practices, we would be required to restructure or terminate our arrangements with the PC to bring our activities into compliance with such laws. A determination of non-compliance, or the termination of or failure to successfully restructure these relationships could result in disciplinary action, penalties, damages, fines, and/or a loss of revenue, any of which could have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Some state corporate practice of medicine and fee-splitting prohibitions also authorize penalties on healthcare professionals for aiding in the improper rendering of professional services, which could discourage physicians and other healthcare professionals with whom we contract from providing clinical services.

The MSO, the PC and the medical practitioners providing virtual clinical care services through such PC may become subject to medical liability claims which may impact their ability to deliver the service and could have an adverse impact on our business.

The relationships and arrangements between the MSO, the PC and the medical practitioners providing virtual clinical care services through such PC entail the risk of medical liability claims against the MSO. Although the PC carries insurance covering medical malpractice claims in amounts that we believe are appropriate in light of the risks attendant to the PC business, successful medical liability claims could result in substantial damage awards that exceed the limits of the PC's insurance coverage, and/or plaintiffs in these matters may request punitive or other damages that may not be covered by insurance. In addition, such liability insurance is expensive and insurance premiums may increase significantly in the future, particularly as we expand the services offered by the MSO. As a result, adequate liability insurance may not be available to the MSO in the future at acceptable costs or at all. Any claims made against the MSO that are not fully covered by insurance could be costly to defend, result in substantial damage awards against the MSO and divert the attention of our or the MSO's management, as well as cause the PC to be unable to provide services on our behalf, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The MSO and the PC remote patient monitoring business model depends on the ability for new patient encounters to occur remotely by means of telehealth, and if the telehealth flexibilities currently permitted under the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2023 are not extended, this business model may no longer be feasible and our results of operations could be adversely affected.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, CMS made several changes in the manner in which Medicare will pay for telehealth visits, many of which relax previous requirements, including the "established patient" restriction which required an initiating in-person visit with the physician, initiating site requirements for both the providers and patients and telehealth modality requirements. The Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2023 extended many of the COVID-19 public health emergency provisions related to telehealth until December 31, 2024, and many, but not all, of the telehealth provisions were extended to March 31, 2025 in the American Relief Act, 2025,including the flexibility to permit a patient's home to be an originating cite and to permit telehealth by means of audio only communication. Although CMS has indicated support for continuing certain telehealth flexibilities, including utilizing audio only communication, in its 2025 Physician Fee Schedule final rule, it is unclear if Congress will enact further legislation to extend coverage of these telehealth services. The provision of telehealth is largely regulated at the state level. Although state laws applicable to telehealth, particularly licensure requirements, have been relaxed in many jurisdictions as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, many state waivers in relation to COVID-19 have already expired. Our ability to conduct telehealth services in a particular jurisdiction directly depend on applicable laws governing remote healthcare. It is unclear which, if any, of these changes pertaining to telehealth services will remain in place permanently and which will be rolled-back following the COVID-19 pandemic. If regulations change to restrict the ability of physicians to deliver care through telehealth modalities, including with respect to the initiating visit, our results of operations may be adversely affected.

Risks Related to Governmental Regulations

Healthcare is a heavily regulated industry, and compliance with existing laws is costly, and non-compliance has the potential to be even costlier considering that violations of laws may result in corrective action or sanctions that could reduce our revenue and profitability.

The United States healthcare industry is subject to extensive federal and state oversight relating to, among other things:

- professional licensure;
- conduct of operations;
- addition of facilities, equipment and services, including certificates of need, or CON;
- coding and billing related to our services; and
- payment for services.

Both federal and state government agencies have increased coordinated civil and criminal enforcement efforts related to the healthcare industry. Regulations related to the healthcare industry are extremely complex and, in many instances, the industry does not have the benefit of significant regulatory or judicial interpretation of those laws.

Medicare and Medicaid anti-fraud and abuse laws prohibit certain business practices and relationships related to items and services reimbursable under Medicare, Medicaid and other governmental healthcare programs, including the payment or receipt of remuneration to induce or arrange for referral of patients or recommendation for the provision of items or services covered by Medicare or Medicaid or any other federal or state healthcare program, often referred to as the Anti-Kickback Statute. Federal and state laws also prohibit the submission of false or fraudulent claims, including claims to obtain reimbursement under Medicare and Medicaid, under what is commonly referred to as the False Claims Act. We have implemented policies to help assure our compliance with these regulations as they become effective, but interpretations different from our interpretations or enforcement of these laws and regulations in the future could subject our practices to allegations of impropriety, illegality, or overpayment, or could require us to make changes in our facilities, equipment, personnel, services or the manner in which we conduct our business, any of which could increase costs and could materially adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Changes to the regulatory landscape applicable to our businesses could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition, including the final rule by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS") titled Ensuring Access to Medicaid Services as well as potential changes to legislative and administrative actions at the federal level related to Medicaid funding.

Our PCS segment locations that maintain a Medicare certified home healthcare line of business (for example, in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts) must comply with ever changing federal conditions or participation, where compliance is difficult to achieve and hard to monitor. The regulatory landscape with respect to Medicaid and Medicare is particularly subject to change during presidential transitions, such as the current year. Recently implemented requirements for which adherence is particularly challenging include the need to:

- provide transfer summary to facility within two days of a planned transfer or within two business days of becoming aware of an unplanned transfer if the patient is still receiving care in the facility;
- provide written notice of patient's rights and responsibilities, and transfer and discharge policies to a patient-selected representative within four business days of the initial evaluation visit;
- communicate revisions to the plan of care due to change in health status to the patient, representative (if any), caregiver and physicians issuing orders for plan of care; and
- communicate discharge plan revisions to the patient, representative (if any), caregiver, all physicians issuing orders for the plan of care and to the provider expected to care for the patient after discharge (if any).

CMS could adopt new requirements or guidelines that may further increase the costs associated with the provision of certified services, which could harm our business and have a material adverse effect on our results of operations. As an example, CMS finalized components of its 2023 proposed rule entitled Ensuring Access to Medicaid Services, which proposes advancements in access to care, quality of care, and improved health outcomes for Medicaid beneficiaries, include stipulations which would require that 80.0% of Medicaid payments for personal care services be spent on compensation for the direct care workforce rather than other administrative or overhead expenses by 2028. This requirement would limit our ability to achieve a gross margin that would allow us to continue to invest in technological platforms that would ease the administrative burden and allow our care providers to focus on higher quality of care, which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

In New York, we provide Service Coordination, or SC, and/or Home and Community Support Services, or HCSS, to Traumatic Brain Injury, or TBI, and Nursing Home Transition and Diversion, or NHTD, Medicaid waiver participants. These waiver programs were developed based on the philosophy that individuals with disabilities, individuals with traumatic brain injury, and seniors, may be successfully served and included in their surrounding communities so long as the individual is the primary decision maker and works in cooperation with care providers to develop a plan of services that promotes personal independence, greater community inclusion, self-reliance and participation in meaningful activities and services. Examples of activities that are at various stages of implementation that may implicate or materially adversely affect our waiver line of business profitability follow.

- Conflict Free Case Management – The NYS DOH, in collaboration with CMS, is implementing mandatory conflict-free case management policies. Conflict-free case management requires the separation of clinical eligibility determinations and care planning assessments (for example, SC) from the direct provision of services (for example, HCSS). Providers in the personal care industry are expected to implement additional conflict of interest standards that may or may not ultimately require the creation of legally separate entities with distinct protocols.

- Managed Long-Term Care Carve-In – Managed Long-Term Care, or MLTC, is a system believed to streamline the delivery of long-term care services to people who are chronically ill or disabled and who wish to reside, or continue to reside, safely in their homes and communities. The entire array of services to which an enrolled member is entitled can be received through the MLTC plan a particular member has chosen. As New York transforms its long-term care system to one that ensures care management for all, enrollment in a MLTC plan may be mandatory or voluntary, depending on individual circumstances. While TBI and NHTD participants are currently excluded from having to enroll in a MLTC plan (for example, SC and HCSS claims are billed and paid on a Medicaid fee-for-service basis), the NYS DOH submitted a transition plan to CMS for consideration that eliminates the exclusion, meaning that TBI and NHTD waiver participants who wish to continue receiving services must enroll in a plan. While the primary goal stated was to improve access to all services across the state, the result may also require our navigation of network participation requirements and typical managed care cost control measures (for example, authorizations, utilization review, rate negotiation).

Regarding in-home personal care generally (including certified or non-certified and waiver or non-waiver), compliance with responsibilities under the Fair Labor Standards Act, or FLSA, remains key. The United States Department of Labor, or DOL, continues its focus on the industry to ensure that personal care workers earn a minimum wage and are afforded various overtime pay protections. We may be sued individually or by a class of workers claiming that a violation has occurred, or a complaint may be filed with the DOL to investigate. If it is ultimately found that we neglected to pay the full amount of wages owed under the FLSA (for meals, breaks, travel, or otherwise), payment for the missing amount and possibly double that amount may be mandated, which could materially increase our costs and harm our results of operations.

With respect to our Matrix investment, the Comprehensive Health Assessment ("CHA") services industry is primarily regulated by federal and state healthcare laws and the requirements of participation and reimbursement of the Medicare Advantage program established by CMS. From time to time, CMS considers changes to regulatory guidelines with respect to prospective CHAs or the risk adjusted payment system applicable to Matrix's Medicare Advantage plan customers. CMS could adopt new requirements or guidelines that may, for example, increase the costs associated with CHAs, limit the opportunities and settings available to administer CHAs, or otherwise change the risk adjusted payment system in a way that would adversely impact our business. Further, changes in or adoption of new state laws governing the scope of practice of mid-level practitioners, or more restrictive interpretations of such laws, may restrict Matrix's ability to provide services using nurse practitioners. Any such implementation of additional regulations on the CHA industry by CMS or other regulatory bodies or further regulation of mid-level practitioners could have a material adverse impact on Matrix's revenues and margins, which could have a material adverse impact on our balance sheet and financial position.

Further, legislation and administrative actions at the federal level may impact the funding for, or structure of, the Medicaid program, and may shape the administration of the Medicaid program at the state level, including by affecting reimbursement rates and eligibility and coverage policies. For example, some members of Congress and the presidential administration have raised, and Congress may in the future adopt, proposals intended to reduce Medicaid expenditures such as restructuring the Medicaid program to give states a "block grant" or fixed amount of overall funding for their respective Medicaid programs or to impose spending caps such as per Medicaid beneficiary limits on federal contributions. Reductions in federal funding or changes to the federal funding formula for Medicaid could have a significant impact, particularly in states that expanded Medicaid under the ACA and especially if federal contributions for Medicaid expansion populations decrease and states are unable to offset the reductions. Further, some states have trigger laws that would end their Medicaid expansion or require other changes if federal funding for the expansion populations is reduced.

Congress, CMS and state authorities may implement changes to reimbursement for or coverage of items and services that affect our business and operations. For example, CMS periodically revises the reimbursement systems used to reimburse healthcare providers, including through changes to the home health and hospice reimbursement systems, which may result in reduced Medicare and/or Medicaid payments. In addition, delays or issues implementing reimbursement-related rules, including periodic payment updates for government programs, and interruptions in the distribution of governmental funds, could have an adverse impact on our business. The shift toward value-based care continues, including through the implementation of alternative payment models and various demonstration projects. Some states have obtained CMS approval to test new or existing approaches to payment and delivery of Medicaid benefits. Payment policies for different types of providers and for various items and services continue to evolve, and future health reform efforts could impact both federal and state programs.

If changes in Medicare, Medicaid or other state and local medical and social programs result in a reduction in available funds for the services we offer, a reduction in the number of beneficiaries eligible for our services or a reduction in the number of hours or amount of services that beneficiaries eligible for our services may receive, then our revenues and profitability could be negatively impacted. Our profitability depends principally on the levels of government-mandated payment rates and our ability to manage the cost of providing services. In some cases, commercial insurance companies and other private payors rely on government payment systems to determine payment rates and policies. As a result, changes to government healthcare programs that reduce Medicare, Medicaid or other payments may negatively impact payments from private payors, as well. Any reduction in reimbursements from governmental or private payors or policies that negatively affect utilization of our services, such as the imposition of co-payments or prior authorization requirements, could also materially adversely affect our profitability.

State eligibility redetermination processes and potential reduction of eligible Medicaid beneficiaries as a result of such revalidation efforts could diminish the demand for our services, affect the profitability of our capitated contracts with our customers, and have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

States must revalidate the eligibility of each Medicaid beneficiary to participate in the program, based on factors such as income, age or disability, at least once every 12 months. During this process, existing Medicaid beneficiaries could lose

Medicaid coverage, not only because of changed circumstances such as regained employment, but also as a result of clerical and other errors that may leave otherwise eligible beneficiaries off the rolls due to the administrative burden to be placed on short-staffed state and local offices. A drop in Medicaid enrollment could affect adversely our ability to be reimbursed by our customers for the services we provide to our end-users, our NEMT per-member per-month fee generation under our capitated contracts, and our FFS payments and the demand for our services generally, the occurrence of any of which could harm our business and have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

The cost of our services is funded substantially by government and private insurance programs, and changes in budgetary priorities of the government entities or private insurance programs that fund these services could result in the loss of contracts, a reduction in reimbursement rates, or a decrease in amounts payable to us under our contracts.

Payments for our services are largely derived from contracts that are directly or indirectly paid by government agencies with public funds and private insurance companies. All of these contracts are subject to legislative appropriations and state and/or national budget approval, as well as changes to potential eligibility for services. The availability of funding under our contracts with state governments is dependent in part upon federal funding to states. Changes in Medicaid provider reimbursement and federal matching funds methodologies may further reduce the availability of federal funds to states in which we provide services.

Currently, many of the states in which we operate are facing budgetary shortfalls or changes in budgetary priorities. While many of these states are dealing with budgetary concerns by shifting costs from institutional care to home and community-based care such as the services we provide, there is no assurance that this trend will continue or be implemented as it has been historically. For example, in New York (one of several states where our PCS segment provides services under the name "All Metro Health Care"), there are Medicaid Redesign Team initiatives taking place aimed at reducing Medicaid expense through provider consolidation and other measures. Our continued ability to provide core services, though expected, is now dependent upon various competitive bid processes, including the following:

- LHCSA Request for Proposal (Anticipated) – The FY 2021 enacted New York State Budget created a new Public Health Law, or PHL, Section 3605-c which, if implemented, would prohibit Licensed Home Care Service Agencies, or LHCSAs, such as our PCS segment's individually-licensed branches, from providing or claiming for services provided to Medicaid recipients without being authorized to do so by contract with the NYS DOH. This restriction would apply to the provision of such services under the state Medicaid plan, a plan waiver, or through an MCO (for example, managed long-term care plan). If implemented, the statute would require the NYS DOH to contract with only enough LHCSAs to ensure that Medicaid recipients have access to care. The NYS DOH is expected to post an RFP that includes demonstrated cultural and language competencies specific to the population of recipients and the available workforce, experience serving individuals with disabilities, and demonstrated compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations among the selection criteria. After contracts are awarded, the NYS DOH could terminate a LHCSA's contract, or suspend or limit a LHCSA's rights and privileges under a contract, upon thirty-days' written notice if the Commissioner of Health finds that a LHCSA has failed to comply with the provisions of Section 3605-c or any regulations promulgated under the statute. Also, authorization received by LHCSAs under PHL Section 3605-c would not substitute for satisfying existing licensure requirements or the screening and enrollment process required for participation in the Medicaid program.

Consequently, a significant decline in government or private insurance company expenditures or the number of program beneficiaries, a shift of expenditures or funding away from programs that call for the types of services that we provide, or change in government contracting or funding policies could cause payors to terminate their contracts with us or reduce their expenditures or reimbursement rates under those contracts, either of which could have a negative impact on our financial position and operating results.

We are subject to regulations relating to privacy and security of patient and service user information, and our failure to comply with such regulations could result in a material adverse impact on our operating results.

As also discussed above, there are numerous state, federal and international regulations addressing patient information privacy, security, and breach requirements. In particular, the federal regulations issued under HIPAA contain provisions that:

- protect individual privacy by limiting the uses and disclosures of patient information;
- provide individuals with significant rights to their information;
- require the implementation of security safeguards to ensure the confidentiality, integrity and availability of individually identifiable health information in electronic form; and
- prescribe specific transaction formats and data code sets for certain electronic healthcare transactions.

Compliance with applicable state, federal, and international privacy laws and regulations requires considerable resources. These costs and investments could negatively impact our financial position and results of operations. Further, the HIPAA regulations and state privacy laws expose us to increased regulatory risk, as the penalties associated with a failure to comply or with information security breaches, even if unintentional, could be substantial and have a material adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations.

If the MSO or the PC fail to comply with applicable data interoperability and information blocking rules, our consolidated results of operations could be adversely affected.

The 21st Century Cures Act (the "Cures Act"), which was signed into law in December 2016, includes provisions related to data interoperability, information blocking and patient access. In May 2020, CMS and the HHS Office of the National Coordinator for Health Information Technology ("ONC") published the Cures Act final rule, which went into effect on April 5, 2021, to clarify provisions of the Cures Act regarding interoperability and information blocking, and to include, among other things, requirements surrounding information blocking, changes to ONC's health IT certification program and requirements that CMS-regulated payors make relevant claims/care data and provider directory information available through standardized patient access and provider directory application programming interfaces, or APIs, that connect to provider electronic health record systems ("EHRs"). The final rule transforms the way in which healthcare providers, health IT developers, health information exchanges/health information networks, ("HIEs/HINs"), and health plans share patient information, and creates significant requirements for healthcare industry participants. For example, the final rule prohibits healthcare providers, health IT developers of certified health IT, and HIEs/HINs from engaging in practices that are likely to interfere with, prevent, materially discourage, or otherwise inhibit the access, exchange or use of electronic health information ("EHI"), also known as "information blocking." To further support access and exchange of EHI, the final rule identifies eight "reasonable and necessary activities" as exceptions to information blocking activities, as long as specific conditions are met. As a relatively new rule, the interpretation of these requirements is continuing to evolve and any failure of the MSO or the PC to comply with these rules could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We could be subject to actions for false claims or recoupment of funds pursuant to certain audits for non-compliance with government coding and billing rules, which could have a material adverse impact on our operating results.

If we fail to comply with federal and state documentation, coding and billing rules, we could be subject to criminal or civil penalties, loss of licenses and exclusion from the Medicare and Medicaid programs, which could have a material adverse impact on our financial position and operating results. In billing for our services to third-party clients, we must follow complex documentation, coding and billing rules. These rules are based on federal and state laws, rules and regulations, various government pronouncements, including guidance and notices, and industry practice. Failure to follow these rules could result in potential criminal or civil liability under the federal False Claims Act, under which extensive financial penalties can be imposed, or under various state statutes which prohibit the submission of false claims for services covered. Compliance failure could further result in criminal liability under various federal and state criminal or civil statutes. We may be subject to audits conducted by our clients or their proxies, including the Office of Inspector General, or OIG, for the Department of Health and Human Services, or DHHS, state Medicaid regulatory agencies, state Medicaid fraud enforcement agencies, health departments, CMS, the Unified Program Integrity Contractors and regional federal program integrity contractors for the Medicare and Medicaid programs that may result in recoupment of funds. In addition, our clients may be subject to certain audits that may result in recoupment of funds from our clients that may, in turn, implicate us. We could be adversely affected in the event such an audit results in negative findings and recoupment from or penalties to our customers.

Our contracts are subject to stringent claims and invoice processing regimes which vary depending on the customer and nature of the payment mechanism. Government entities may take the position that if a transport cannot be matched to a medically necessary healthcare event, or is conducted inconsistently with contractual, regulatory or even policy requirements, payment for such transport may be recouped by such customer. Likewise, a government surveyor may determine that a personal care visit was not sufficiently supported by a time and attendance record and/or that the aide was not qualified on a particular date of service and seek a refund as a result.

While we carefully and regularly review documentation, and coding and billing practices, the rules are frequently vague and confusing and they cannot ensure that governmental investigators, private insurers or private whistleblowers will not challenge our practices. Such a challenge could result in a material adverse effect on our financial position and results of operations.

We could be subject to civil penalties and loss of business if we fail to comply with applicable bribery, corruption and other regulations governing business with public organizations.

We are subject to the federal Anti-Kickback Statute, which prohibits the offer, payment, solicitation or receipt of any form of remuneration in return for referring, ordering, leasing, purchasing or arranging for or recommending the ordering, purchasing or leasing of items or services payable by a federally funded healthcare program. Any of our financial relationships with healthcare providers will be potentially implicated by this statute to the extent Medicare or Medicaid referrals are implicated. Violations of the Anti-Kickback Statute could result in substantial civil or criminal penalties, including criminal fines of up to $100,000 per violation, imprisonment of up to ten years, civil penalties under the Civil Monetary Penalties Law of up to $100,000 per violation, plus three times the remuneration involved, civil penalties under the False Claims Act of up to $28,619 for each claim submitted, plus three times the amounts paid for such claims and exclusion from participation in the Medicaid and Medicare programs. Any such penalties could have a significant negative effect on our operations. Furthermore, the exclusion could result in significant reductions in our revenues, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial position and results of operations.

Increasing scrutiny and changing expectations with respect to environmental, social and governance ("ESG") matters may impose additional costs on us, impact our access to capital, or expose us to new or additional risks.

Increased focus, including from regulators, investors, employees and clients, on ESG matters may result in increased costs (including but not limited to increased costs related to compliance and stakeholder engagement), impact our reputation, or otherwise affect our business performance. Negative public perception, adverse publicity or negative comments in social media could damage our reputation or harm our relationships with regulators, employees or our customers, if we do not, or are not perceived to, adequately address these issues, including if we fail to demonstrate progress towards any current or future ESG goals. Any harm to our reputation could negatively impact employee engagement and retention and the willingness of customers to do business with us. At the same time, various stakeholders may have divergent views on ESG matters. This divergence increases the risk that any action or lack thereof with respect to ESG matters will be perceived negatively by at least some stakeholders and adversely impact our reputation and business. It is possible that stakeholders may not be satisfied with our ESG practices or the speed of their adoption. At the same time, certain stakeholders might not be satisfied if we adopt ESG practices at all. Actual or perceived shortcomings with respect to our ESG practices and reporting could negatively impact our business. We could also incur additional costs and require additional resources to monitor, report, and comply with various ESG practices. In addition, a variety of organizations have developed ratings to measure the performance of companies on ESG topics, and the results of some of these assessments are widely publicized. Such ratings are used by some investors to inform their investment and voting decisions. In addition, many investors have created their own proprietary ratings that inform their investment and voting decisions. Unfavorable ratings of our company or our industry, as well as omission of inclusion of our stock into ESG-oriented investment funds, may lead to negative investor sentiment and the diversion of investment to other companies or industries, which could have a negative impact on our stock price and our access to and cost of capital.

Our business is subject to licensing regulations and other regulatory provisions, including provisions governing surveys and audits, and changes to, or violations of, these regulations could negatively impact us.

In many of the locations where we operate, we are required by local laws to obtain and maintain licenses. The applicable state and local licensing requirements govern the services we provide, the credentials of staff, record keeping, treatment planning, client monitoring and supervision of staff. The failure to maintain these licenses or the loss of a license could have a material adverse impact on us and could prevent us from providing services to clients in a given jurisdiction. Our contracts are subject to surveys or audit by our payors or clients. We are also subject to regulations that restrict our ability to contract directly with a government agency in certain situations. Such restrictions could affect our ability to contract with certain payors and clients, and could have a material adverse impact on our financial condition and results of operations.

Our contracts are subject to audit and modification by the payors with whom we contract, at their sole discretion, and any such audits and modifications could materially and adversely affect our results of operations.

Our businesses depend on our ability to perform successfully under various government funded contracts. Under the terms of these contracts, payors, government agencies or their proxy contractors can review our compliance or performance, as well as our records and general business practices, at any time, and may in their discretion:

- suspend or prevent us from receiving new contracts or extending existing contracts because of violations or suspected violations of procurement laws or regulations;
- terminate or modify our existing contracts;
- seek to recoup the amount we were paid and/or reduce the amount we are paid under our existing contracts; or

- audit and object to our contract related fees.

Any increase in the number or scope of audits could increase our expenses, and the audit process may disrupt the day-to-day operations of our business and distract management. If payors have significant audit findings, or if they make material modifications to our contracts, it could have a material adverse impact on our financial position and results of operations.

Risks Related to Our Indebtedness and Economic Conditions

Our existing debt agreements contain restrictions that limit our flexibility in operating our business and impose affirmative covenants requiring us to maintain certain financial and liquidity targets, and these limitations or an inability to maintain compliance with covenants could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Our agreements covering our outstanding indebtedness, including the Credit Agreement dated February 2022 governing our Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility and the Incremental Term Loan (as amended to date, the "Credit Agreement") and the indenture governing our 5.000% Senior Unsecured Notes due in October 2029 in an aggregate principal amount of $500.0 million (the "Notes due 2029") contain various covenants that limit or will limit our ability to engage in specified types of transactions. These agreements may, among other things, limit our ability to:

- incur additional debt;
- provide guarantees in respect of obligations of other persons;
- issue redeemable stock and preferred stock;
- pay dividends or distributions or redeem or repurchase capital stock;
- make loans, investments and acquisitions;
- enter into transactions with affiliates;
- create or incur liens;
- make distributions from our subsidiaries;
- permit contractual obligations that burden our ability to make distributions from our subsidiaries;
- sell assets and capital stock of our subsidiaries;
- make prepayments on subordinated debt; and
- consolidate or merge with or into, or sell substantially all of our assets to, another person.

In addition, our agreements covering our outstanding indebtedness, including the Credit Agreement and the indenture governing our Notes due 2029, require us to meet financial covenants associated with that debt, and contain cross-default provisions. For example, the Credit Agreement contains an affirmative covenant regarding our Total Net Leverage Ratio and interest coverage ratio as of the end of each of our fiscal quarters, and a covenant to maintain minimum liquidity of $25.0 million, which will be tested each week through the week ending April 11, 2025, each month through the month ending June 30, 2025 and, thereafter, each fiscal quarter. In order to maintain compliance with certain of our financial covenants under the Credit Agreement, including with respect to our Total Net Leverage Ratio, we have had to enter into amendments to our Credit Agreement increasing such limits, as recently as January 9, 2025. Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, we have been provided a covenant holiday with respect to certain financial covenants from the fourth fiscal quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025. There can be no assurance that we will be able to maintain compliance with any such covenants upon expiration of the covenant holiday or any other covenants not subject to the covenant holiday or that our lenders will agree to further amend or waive any covenants in the future. See Part II, Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations for additional information regarding the Credit Agreement and our financial covenants thereunder.

A breach of any of these covenants or restrictions could result in a default under the applicable agreements that govern our indebtedness including as a result of cross default provisions, and, in the case of our Revolving Credit Facility, permit the lenders to cease making loans to us. Upon the occurrence of an event of default under our Credit Agreement, the lenders could elect to declare all amounts outstanding under our Credit Agreement, including the Revolving Credit Facility and the Incremental Term Loan, to be immediately due and payable and terminate all commitments to extend further credit. Such actions by those lenders could cause cross defaults under our other indebtedness resulting in our other indebtedness being declared immediately due and payable, including our Notes due 2029. We cannot provide any assurance that the holders of such indebtedness would waive a default, including as a result of a cross default. In the event of acceleration of our outstanding indebtedness, we would not have sufficient liquidity to satisfy such obligations and would be required to restructure our existing debt or to seek additional equity or debt financing. Even if new financing is made available to us, it may not be on terms acceptable to us. If we were unable to repay these amounts, certain debt holders could proceed against the collateral granted to them to secure the indebtedness, including the equity of subsidiary guarantors that we have pledged as collateral, pursuant to our Credit Agreement. If any of the foregoing were to occur, our business and results of operations could be materially adversely affected and the value of our equity could be materially diminished.

We may not be able to generate sufficient cash to service all of our indebtedness and may be forced to take other actions to satisfy our obligations, including raising additional capital in the future. Such capital may be unavailable to us on acceptable terms or at all.

We have a substantial amount of indebtedness which could adversely affect our ability to raise additional capital to fund our operations, limit our ability to react to changes in the economy or our industry, expose us to interest rate risk to the extent of our variable rate indebtedness, and prevent us from meeting our obligations under the Credit Agreement and our Notes due 2029. As of December 31, 2024, we had $269.0 million in obligations outstanding under our Revolving Credit Facility, $522.4 million in obligations outstanding under our Term Loan Facility, and $500.0 million in obligations outstanding under our Notes due 2029. In addition, on January 9, 2025, we borrowed an additional $75.0 million under the Credit Agreement in the form of the Incremental Term Loan. Our substantial indebtedness could have important consequences, including:

- increasing our vulnerability to adverse economic, industry or competitive developments;
- requiring a substantial portion of cash flow from operations to be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on our indebtedness, therefore reducing our ability to use our cash flow to fund our operations, capital expenditures and future business opportunities;
- exposing us to the risk of increased interest rates because certain of our borrowings, including borrowings under the Revolving Credit Facility, are at variable rates of interest;
- making it more difficult for us to satisfy our obligations with respect to our indebtedness, including our ability to maintain compliance with restrictive covenants under our debt instruments;
- restricting us from making strategic acquisitions or causing us to make non-strategic divestitures;
- imposing restrictions on the operation of our business that may hinder our ability to take advantage of strategic opportunities or to grow our business;
- limiting our ability to obtain additional financing for working capital, capital expenditures (including real estate acquisitions), debt service requirements and general corporate or other purposes; and
- limiting our flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in our business or market conditions and placing us at a competitive disadvantage compared to any of our competitors who are less leveraged and who therefore may be able to take advantage of opportunities that our leverage prevents us from exploiting.

Our ability to make scheduled payments or refinance our obligations depends on our financial condition and operating performance, which are subject to prevailing economic and competitive conditions and to certain financial, business, legislative, regulatory and other factors beyond our control. In connection with the borrowing of the Incremental Term Loan, we agreed to pay higher interest rates on amounts borrowed under our revolving credit facility and our term loan credit facility, thus increasing our overall interest expense. We also agreed to repay the Incremental Term Loan on or prior to January 10, 2026.

In addition, on January 9, 2025, we entered into a purchase and exchange agreement (the "Purchase and Exchange Agreement") with an existing stockholder, Coliseum Capital Partners, L.P. ("Coliseum"), and Blackwell Partners LLC - Series A (together, the "Coliseum Investors"), pursuant to which the Coliseum Investors have committed to purchase $30.0 million of new second lien senior notes due 2029, subject to the approval of 66-2/3% of the Company's stockholders other than Coliseum under Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. We cannot give assurance that we will obtain such stockholder approval in a timely manner, or at all. If we do not obtain such stockholder approval or are otherwise unable to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Purchase and Exchange Agreement, we will need to pursue other financing options to ensure compliance with certain financial covenants in our debt instruments. These financing alternatives may be dilutive to our stockholders and more expensive than the financing that would be provided by the Purchase and Exchange Agreement.

If our cash flows and capital resources are insufficient to fund our obligations, we could face substantial liquidity problems and could be forced to reduce or delay investments and capital expenditures or to dispose of material assets or operations, seek additional debt or equity capital, or restructure or refinance our existing indebtedness and other obligations. We may not be able to effect any such alternative measures, if necessary, on commercially reasonable terms or at all and, even if successful, those alternative actions may not allow us to meet our scheduled debt obligations. If we are unable to effect any such alternative measures to fund our obligations, it may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

In addition, in case we are able to raise additional capital through equity offerings, we may issue shares of our common stock or other securities. We cannot predict the size of future issuances of our shares or the effect, if any, that future sales and issuances of shares would have on the market price of our common stock. We may also issue equity securities that provide for rights, preferences and privileges senior to those of our common stock. Debt financing, if available, would increase our fixed payment obligations and may involve agreements that include covenants further limiting or restricting our ability to take specific actions, such as incurring additional debt, making capital expenditures or other operating restrictions that could adversely impact our ability to conduct our business.

If we cannot make scheduled payments on our debt, or if we violate certain covenants in our debt agreements and such violations are not cured or waived within the applicable time periods, we will be in default and, as a result, lenders under any of our existing and future indebtedness could declare all outstanding principal and interest to be due and payable, the lenders under our debt instruments could terminate their commitments to issue letters of credit and our secured lenders could foreclose against the assets securing such borrowings. In these or other circumstances, we may be forced to pursue reorganization or restructuring proceedings under applicable bankruptcy or insolvency laws, including seeking protection under Chapters 7 or 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code. Any or all of these events could result in you losing your investment.

Expiration of our Credit Agreement, loss of available financing or an inability to renew or refinance our debt could have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

The indebtedness subject to our Notes matures in 2029, amounts outstanding under our Revolving Credit Facility mature in 2027 and 2028, amounts outstanding under our Term Loan Facility mature on the earlier of (a) July 1, 2031 and (b) July 2, 2029 if any of the Company's 2029 Notes remain outstanding on that date, and amounts outstanding under our Incremental Term Loan mature on January 10, 2026. There can be no assurance that we will be able to payoff timely, refinance or extend our Notes due 2029 or our indebtedness under our Credit Agreement or incur any additional indebtedness on terms that are acceptable to us, or at all. If our cash on hand is insufficient, or we are unable to generate sufficient cash flows in the future to cover our cash flow and liquidity needs and service our debt, we may be required to seek additional sources of funds, including extending or replacing our indebtedness, refinancing all or a portion of our existing or future indebtedness, incurring additional indebtedness to maintain sufficient cash flow to fund our ongoing operating needs and fund anticipated expenditures. There can be no assurance that any new financing or refinancing will be possible or obtained on terms acceptable to us, or at all. If we are unable to obtain needed financing, we may (i) be unable to satisfy our ongoing obligations, (ii) be unable to pursue future business opportunities or fund acquisitions, (iii) find it more difficult to fund future operating costs, tax payments or general corporate expenditures, and (iv) become vulnerable to adverse general economic, capital markets and industry conditions. Any of these circumstances could have a material adverse effect on our financial position, liquidity and results of operations.

We may incur substantial additional indebtedness, which could impair our financial condition.

We may incur substantial additional indebtedness to fund our activities, including to fund share repurchases, acquisitions, cash dividends and business expansion. While our Credit Agreement contains restrictions on the incurrence of additional indebtedness, these restrictions are subject to a number of significant qualifications and exceptions, and under certain circumstances, the amount of indebtedness that could be incurred in compliance with these restrictions could be substantial. Any additional indebtedness would increase the risk that we may be unable to generate cash sufficient to pay amounts due in respect of such indebtedness, and the risks that we already face as a result of our leverage would intensify. Future substantial indebtedness could also have other important consequences on our business. For example, it could:

- make it more difficult for us to satisfy our existing obligations;
- make it more difficult to renew or enter into new contracts with existing and potential future clients;
- limit our ability to borrow additional amounts to fund, among other things, working capital, capital expenditures, debt service requirements, the execution of our business strategy or acquisitions;
- require us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to pay principal and interest on our debt, which would reduce the funds available to us for other purposes;
- restrict our ability to dispose of assets and use the proceeds from any such dispositions;
- restrict our ability to raise debt or equity capital to be used to repay other indebtedness when it becomes due;
- make us more vulnerable to adverse changes in general economic, industry and competitive conditions, as well as in government regulation and to our business; and
- expose us to risks inherent in interest rate fluctuations because some of our borrowings are at variable rates of interest, which could result in higher interest expense in the event of increases in interest rates.

Our ability to satisfy and manage our debt obligations depends on our ability to generate cash flow and on overall financial market conditions. To some extent, this is subject to prevailing economic and competitive conditions and to certain financial, business and other factors, many of which are beyond our control. Our business may not generate sufficient cash flow from operations to permit us to pay principal, premium, if any, or interest on our debt obligations. If we are unable to generate sufficient cash flow from operations to service our debt obligations and meet our other cash needs, we may be forced to reduce or delay capital expenditures, sell or curtail assets or operations, seek additional capital, or seek to restructure or refinance our indebtedness. If we must sell or curtail our assets or operations, it may negatively affect our ability to generate revenue.

Substantial doubt exists about our ability to meet our obligations as they come due within one year from the date of issuance of the financial statements included within this report, the existence of which may have a material adverse effect on our stock price, our ability to raise capital or enter into strategic transactions, and our relationships with key stakeholders.

As discussed in Note 1, Organization and Basis of Presentation, to the financial statements included in this report under the caption "Going Concern" as well as under the caption "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Liquidity" in this report, we have experienced financial challenges, including increased transportation and caregiver costs that have not been offset by corresponding reimbursement rate increases from payors, the loss of contracts, membership declines, and a lengthened time interval between earning revenue and collecting receivables under outstanding contracts with some of our customers due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements. These factors, including the increased uncertainty regarding timing of the collection of outstanding contract receivables, have negatively impacted our liquidity and working capital and have changed our forecasts of, among other things, our ability to meet one or more financial covenants in our Credit Agreement. Any failure to maintain compliance with such financial or other covenants could cause our obligations under the Credit Agreement and our Notes due 2029 to become immediately due and payable, and we may not have sufficient liquidity to satisfy such obligations. In addition, these factors outlined above have raised substantial doubt about our ability to satisfy our obligations, including the repayment of the Incremental Term Loan, as they become due within one year from the issuance date of these financial statements. As a result, it has been determined that substantial doubt exists about our ability to continue as a going concern. The Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm at the beginning of the Consolidated Financial Statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of this Report includes an explanatory paragraph about our ability to continue as a going concern.

We are analyzing various alternatives to support ongoing compliance with financial covenants and the continued funding of operations and to improve liquidity, including certain strategic divestitures. There can be no assurance, however, that any additional funds or strategic transactions will be available when needed on terms acceptable to us, or at all, or in an amount sufficient to enable us to satisfy our obligations or sustain operations in the future. In addition, if we issue equity to raise funds, these securities may have rights, preferences, or privileges senior to those of our common stock, and the current stockholders may experience dilution.

Furthermore, as a result of the determination itself that substantial doubt exists about our ability to meet our obligations as they come due within one year from the date of issuance of the financial statements included in this report, there may be material adverse impacts to our stock price, our ability to raise capital or enter into strategic transactions on terms acceptable to us or at all, or our relationships with our key stakeholders. If we are unable to obtain sufficient, timely financial resources and improve liquidity, our business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected. Any of these adverse impacts could result in a significant or complete loss of your investment.

Risks Related to Our Common Stock

If we experience a material weakness or other deficiency in our internal control over financial reporting or otherwise fail to maintain an effective system of internal controls, we may not be able to accurately and timely report our financial results, in which case our business may be harmed, investors may lose confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial reports, and the price of our common stock may decline.

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting and for evaluating and reporting on the effectiveness of our system of internal control. Our internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external reporting purposes in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). We are required to furnish annually a report by management of its assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of the end of our most recent fiscal year. In addition, our independent registered public accounting firm is required to provide a related attestation report on our internal control over financial reporting.

We have identified as recently as of the fiscal year ended December 31, 2023, control deficiencies that, in the aggregate, constituted a material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting. While such deficiencies have been since adequately remediated to eliminate the material weakness, if we are unable to successfully remediate a future material weakness or other deficiency in our internal control over financial reporting: the accuracy and timing of our financial reporting may be adversely affected; our liquidity, our access to capital markets, the perceptions of our creditworthiness, and our ability to complete strategic transactions may be adversely affected; we may be unable to maintain compliance with applicable securities laws, NASDAQ listing requirements, and the covenants under our debt instruments regarding the timely filing of periodic reports; we may be subject to regulatory investigations and penalties; investors may lose confidence in our financial reporting; and we may suffer defaults, accelerations, or cross-accelerations under our debt instruments or derivative arrangements to the extent we are unable to obtain waivers from the required creditors or counterparties or are unable to cure any breaches. Further, remediation efforts to correct any such internal control deficiencies could place a significant burden on management and add increased pressure to our financial resources and processes. If any such event or circumstance were to occur, our stock price could decline and our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

Future sales of shares of our common stock by existing stockholders could cause our stock price to decline.

Sales of substantial amounts of our common stock in the public market, or the perception that these sales could occur, could cause the market price of our common stock to decline. As of December 31, 2024, we had 19,882,026 shares of common stock outstanding that were freely transferable without restriction or further registration under the Securities Act, unless held by or purchased by our "affiliates" as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act. Shares of our common stock held by or purchased by our affiliates are restricted or "covered" securities within the meaning of Rule 144 under the Securities Act, but will be eligible for resale subject to applicable volume, means of sale, holding period and other limitations of Rule 144 under the Securities Act.

With respect to our stockholders Coliseum Capital Partners, L.P., Coliseum Capital Partners II, L.P. and Blackwell Partners, LLC - Series A, as well as our former stockholder Coliseum Capital Co-Invest, L.P, which we sometimes refer to collectively as the Coliseum Stockholders, any or all of which may continue to be considered an affiliate or affiliates of ours, we have an effective registration statement under the Securities Act covering the resale by the Coliseum Stockholders of an aggregate of 3,145,102 shares of our common stock. As a result, such shares may be sold pursuant to the registration statement without regard to the volume and other limitations of Rule 144 under the Securities Act that would otherwise be applicable to such sales.

We also have effective registration statements under the Securities Act covering all shares of common stock to be issued under our Amended and Restated 2006 Long-Term Incentive Plan ("Incentive Plan") and shares of common stock purchased pursuant to our Employee Stock Purchase Plan ("ESPP"). As a result, all shares of common stock acquired upon exercise of stock options or vesting of shares of restricted stock, restricted stock units or performance-based restricted stock units granted under our Incentive Plan or shares of common stock purchased under our ESPP will also be freely tradable under the Securities Act, unless purchased or acquired by our affiliates under the plan. As of December 31, 2024, there were vested stock options outstanding and exercisable to purchase a total of 39,656 shares of our common stock and there were 572,625 shares of our common stock subject to restricted stock awards, restricted stock units, and performance-based restricted stock units under the Incentive Plan. In addition, 601,519 shares of our common stock are reserved for future issuances under the Incentive Plan and 949,037 shares of our common stock are reserved for future purchases under the ESPP.

Our annual operating results and stock price may be volatile or may decline significantly regardless of our operating performance.

Our annual operating results and the market price for our common stock may fluctuate significantly in response to a number of factors, many of which we cannot control, including:

- changes in rates or coverage for services by payors;
- changes in Medicaid, Medicare or other United States federal or state rules, regulations or policies;
- market conditions or trends in our industry or the economy as a whole, including increases in the minimum wage requirements in various jurisdictions in which we operate, and fluctuations in the size of the Medicare member population as well as overall health of its members;
- increased competition, including through insourcing of services by our clients and new entrants to the market;
- negative effects from war, incidents of terrorism, natural disasters, pandemics, or responses to these events;
- changes in tax laws; and
- changes in accounting principles.

If any of these events or circumstances were to impact our results or stock price, our common stock price could decrease and the value of an investment in our common stock would experience a corresponding decrease.

In addition, the stock markets, and in particular NASDAQ, have experienced considerable price and volume fluctuations that have affected and continue to affect the market prices of equity securities of many companies. Stockholders have recently and in the past instituted securities class action litigation following periods of market volatility. Please refer to Note 17, Commitments and Contingencies, for more information. If we become involved in securities litigation, we could incur substantial costs, and our resources and the attention of management could be diverted from our business.

The Company depends on its subsidiaries for cash to fund all of its operations and expenses, including to make future dividend payments or to fund stock repurchases, if any, and there can be no assurance that our subsidiaries will make available to us the funds necessary for us to fund our operations and capital needs.

Our operations are conducted entirely through our subsidiaries. Our ability to generate cash to fund all of our operations and expenses, to pay dividends or complete stock repurchase programs, or to meet any debt service obligations is highly dependent on our subsidiaries' earnings and the receipt of funds from our subsidiaries by way of dividends or intercompany loans. We have not paid any cash dividends on our common stock and do not expect to pay any dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future. We currently intend to invest our and our subsidiaries' future earnings, if any, to fund our growth, to develop our business, invest in our technology, service our debt obligations, for working capital needs and for general corporate purposes. To the extent that we determine in the future to pay dividends on our common stock, however, none of our subsidiaries will be obligated to make funds available to us for the payment of dividends. Similarly, our subsidiaries are not obligated to make funds available to us to fund stock repurchases. Further, our Credit Agreement significantly restricts the ability of our subsidiaries to pay dividends, make loans or otherwise transfer assets to us. In addition, Delaware law imposes solvency restrictions on our ability to pay dividends to holders of our common stock. Therefore, you are not likely to receive any dividends on our common stock for the foreseeable future and the success of an investment in shares of our common stock will depend upon any future appreciation in their value. There is no guarantee that shares of our common stock will appreciate in value or even maintain the price at which stockholders have purchased their shares. Furthermore, if the subsidiaries are unable or unwilling to fund our cash needs when needed or desired, our results of operations and business and financial condition could be materially adversely affected.

If securities or industry analysts do not publish research or publish misleading or unfavorable research about our business, our stock price and trading volume could decline.

The trading market for our common stock depends in part on the research and reports that securities or industry analysts publish about us or our business. If one or more analysts downgrade our stock or publish misleading or unfavorable research about our business, our stock price would likely decline in reaction to such information. If one or more of these analysts ceases coverage of our company or fails to publish reports on us regularly, demand for our common stock could decrease, which could cause our common stock price or trading volume to decline.

Anti-takeover provisions in our second amended and restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, and amended and restated bylaws could discourage, delay or prevent a change of control of our company and may affect the trading price of our common stock.

Our second amended and restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, and amended and restated bylaws include a number of provisions that may be deemed to have anti-takeover effects, including provisions governing when and by whom special meetings of our stockholders may be called, and provisions that may discourage, delay or prevent a change in our management or control over us that stockholders may consider favorable. As a result of these provisions, holders of our common stock may not receive the full benefit of any premium to the market price of our common stock offered by a bidder in a takeover context.

Even in the absence of a takeover attempt, the existence of these provisions may adversely affect the prevailing market price of our common stock if the provisions are viewed as discouraging takeover attempts in the future. Our second amended and restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, and amended and restated bylaws, as amended, may also make it difficult for stockholders to replace or remove our management, including, no cumulative voting for the election of directors and provisions governing director vacancies, which are filled only by remaining directors (including vacancies resulting from removal or other cause). These provisions may facilitate management entrenchment that may delay, deter, render more difficult or prevent a change in our control, which may not be in the best interests of our stockholders.

Risk Management and Strategy.

Our information technology ("IT") systems are critically important to our existing business operations and growth strategy. We provide services to individuals and others that require us to collect, process, maintain and retain sensitive and personal client confidential information in our IT systems, including protected health information ("PHI"), personally identifiable information ("PII"), financial information and other personal information about our customers and end-users, such as names, addresses, phone numbers, email addresses, identification numbers, sensitive health data, and payment account information. As a result, we are subject to complex and evolving United States privacy laws and regulations, including those pertaining to the handling of personal data, such as HIPAA and CCPA. In addition to protecting the privacy of all health-related information for our members, our IT infrastructure supports the operations of all aspects of our business and ensures that we are able to continue to serve our members' transportation, personal care, and monitoring needs and execute our strategy to better connect people with care.

The Company's Enterprise Risk Management Team (the "ERM Team"), led by Internal Audit, works in collaboration with the Company's Information Security Team to set the enterprise risk strategy and make risk-informed decisions, which include the assessment and response to cybersecurity risk. The Company maintains an information security, technology, and cybersecurity risk management program overseen by the Chief Information Security Officer (the "CISO") that uses a risk-based methodology to support the security, confidentiality, integrity, and availability of its information. Controls over security, confidentiality, integrity, and availability are tested by external audit agencies, resulting in the Company's HITRUST, ISO 27007/27701, SOC2, and HIPAA certifications. The Company's information security, technology, and cybersecurity risk management program provides the structure for managing the respective risks utilizing a combination of automated tools, documented processes, and third-party assessments to identify and assess potential cybersecurity risks.

As part of the risk program, third parties engaged by the Company are subject to initial and continuous security monitoring activities including the use of Security Information Event Monitoring ("SIEM") software and regularly scheduled vulnerability assessments performed by an independent third-party to capture and identify vulnerabilities, security events, and potential incidents. The Company also maintains a formal information security training program that includes training on matters such as phishing and email security best practices as well as data privacy which is required for all employees on an annual basis.

While processes are in place to minimize the chance of a successful cyberattack, the Company has established incident response policies and procedures to address a cyber threat that may occur despite these safeguards. In these instances, the Company maintains a cybersecurity incident response policy (the "Incident Response Policy") and cybersecurity incident response plan (the "Incident Response Plan") to help ensure a timely, consistent and compliant response to actual or attempted cybersecurity incidents impacting the Company. The Incident Response Plan includes (1) detection, (2) analysis, which may include timely notice to the Audit Committee of our Board if deemed material or appropriate, (3) containment, (4) eradication, (5) recovery and (6) post-incident review. The Incident Response Plan includes leveraging the Company's cross-functional Cybersecurity Incident Committee that is supported by an organizational structure that includes executives across the Information Security, ERM, Finance, Legal, and Investor Relations functions of the business. The Cybersecurity Incident Committee is responsible for assessing the materiality of any cybersecurity incidents and for communicating any such incidents to the appropriate parties outside the Company.

The Company relies on our IT systems and networks in connection with many of our business activities. Some of these networks and systems are managed by third-party service providers and are not under our direct control. The Company has implemented processes to manage the cybersecurity risks associated with its use of third-party service providers, including processes during the contract review phase by both Information Security and Legal teams providing contractual safeguards as well as ongoing monitoring of third-party service providers for incidents that may affect the Company. To date, no cybersecurity incidents have had such a material adverse effect on us, and we are not presently aware of any cybersecurity threats that are reasonably likely to materially affect us.

Despite the security measures we have implemented, certain cyber incidents could materially disrupt our operational systems, compromise PHI or PII regarding customers or employees, delay our ability to provide critical services to our customers, and/or jeopardize the security of our facilities. We continuously seek to maintain a robust program of information security and controls, but the impact of a material information technology event could have a material adverse effect on our competitive position, reputation, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

Governance.

Board's Roles and Responsibilities

The Audit Committee is responsible for overseeing and monitoring the Company's information security, technology, and cybersecurity program and other IT and data privacy risks, controls, strategies, and procedures. The Audit Committee is comprised of board members with expertise in the areas of risk management, finance and technology, enabling them to effectively oversee such cybersecurity and other IT and data privacy risks. The Audit Committee receives updates from management as needed or at least quarterly which cover the Company's current cybersecurity and other IT and data privacy risk assessments and key risk areas. The Audit Committee also reviews and discusses with management, at least quarterly, and as needed, any material or significant cyber incidents that have occurred or are reasonably likely to occur. In addition, the Audit Committee receives regular updates on cybersecurity trends and emerging threats from the Information Security Team led by the CISO.

Management's Roles and Responsibilities

In collaboration with the ERM team and the Audit Committee, the Company's Information Security Team, overseen by the CISO, is responsible for assessing and managing cybersecurity risks including the prevention, mitigation, detection, and remediation of cybersecurity incidents. The Information Security Team is comprised of various Technology groups with the knowledge and expertise needed to execute the technical aspect of the Incident Response Plan. This team is led by the CISO and other technical leaders with significant experience in the information security field. The CISO has over 19 years of experience serving as a CISO and in other security leadership positions in the information security and cybersecurity fields, including roles as VP of Enterprise Technology, VP of Information Security, Director of Infrastructure and Cybersecurity, Director of Information Security, and Manager of Information Security. In addition to his work experience, the CISO holds a certification as a Certified Information System Security Professional (CISSP). The CISO works closely with other management positions, including the Chief Accounting Officer, Chief Information Officer, Chief Audit Officer, General Counsel, and VP of Investor Relations through the Cybersecurity Incident Committee in order to ensure that the Company has effective communication and understanding of its cybersecurity risk management.

The processes by which the Information Security Team and CISO monitor the prevention, mitigation, detection, and remediation of cybersecurity incidents include regular vulnerability assessments and penetration testing, security incident and event management, continuous monitoring, and threat and intelligence gathering. The CISO reports to the Audit Committee on a quarterly basis, and as needed, to provide an overview of our cybersecurity risk posture, the effectiveness of our cybersecurity policies, procedures, and strategies, and any material or significant cybersecurity incidents that have occurred or are likely to occur.

Item 2. Properties.

Our principal executive offices are located in Denver, Colorado, where we have leased approximately 73,000 square feet of corporate office and operations space through September 2032. This space, in addition to 27 other leased facilities that serve as both office and operational space, are utilized substantially in our Corporate and NEMT locations.

We maintain offices for our PCS segment in Valley Stream, New York, where we have leased through November 2025 corporate office and operations space. This office as well as an additional 70 locations of leased office and operational space support our PCS segment. To support our Monitoring segment operations, we rent coworking space in various locations as needed.

The lease terms vary for all of our leased facilities, but we believe that they are all generally at market rates. We further believe that our properties are adequate for our current business needs and in any event we believe that we can obtain adequate additional or alternative space at market rates, if needed, to meet our foreseeable business needs.

Item 3. Legal Proceedings.

From time-to-time, we may become involved in legal proceedings arising in the ordinary course of our business. We record accruals for outstanding legal matters when it is believed to be probable that a loss will be incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Management, following consultation with legal counsel, does not expect the ultimate disposition of any or a combination of any such ongoing or anticipated matters to have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or operating results. We cannot predict with certainty, however, the potential for or outcome of any litigation. Regardless of the outcome of any particular litigation and the merits of any particular claim, litigation can have a material adverse impact on our company due to, among other reasons, any injunctive relief granted which could inhibit our ability to operate our business, amounts paid as damages or in settlement of any such matter, diversion of management resources and defense costs. Refer to Note 17, Commitments and Contingencies, for information concerning other potential contingent liabilities matters that do not rise to the level of materiality for purposes of disclosure hereunder.

In addition, our ability to pay dividends on our Common Stock is limited by the terms of our Credit Agreement. The payment of future cash dividends, if any, will be reviewed periodically by the Board of Directors and will depend upon, among other things, our financial condition, funds from operations, the level of our capital and development expenditures, any restrictions imposed by present or future debt or equity instruments, and changes in federal tax policies, if any.

Issuer Sales of Unregistered Securities

There were no sales, including exchanges or conversions, of equity securities by us during the period covered by this Annual Report that were either not registered under the Securities Act or not previously disclosed in a quarterly report on Form 10-Q or current report on Form 8-K previously filed by us with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations should be read in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements and related notes included in Item 8. "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of this Annual Report. This discussion and analysis contains forward-looking statements that involve risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in any forward-looking statements, as discussed in "Disclosure Regarding Forward-Looking Statements". These risks and uncertainties include but are not limited to those set forth in Item 1A. "Risk Factors".

Overview of Our Business

Please refer to Item 1. "Business" of this Annual Report for a discussion of our services and corporate strategy.

ModivCare Inc. ("ModivCare" or the "Company") is a technology-enabled healthcare services company that provides a suite of integrated supportive care solutions for public and private payors and their members. Its value-based solutions address the social determinants of health ("SDoH") by connecting members to essential care services. By doing so, ModivCare helps health plans manage risks, reduce costs, and improve health outcomes. ModivCare is a provider of non-emergency medical transportation ("NEMT"), personal care services ("PCS"), and in-home monitoring solutions ("Monitoring"), which serve similar, highly vulnerable patient populations. The technology-enabled operating model in its NEMT segment includes the coordination of non-emergency medical transportation services supported by an infrastructure of core competencies in risk underwriting, contact center management, network credentialing and claims management. Additionally, its personal care services in its PCS segment include placements of non-medical personal care assistants, home health aides and nurses primarily to Medicaid patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing daily living activities in the home setting. ModivCare's in-home monitoring solutions in its Monitoring segment include in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions.

ModivCare also holds a 43.6% minority interest in CCHN Group Holdings, Inc. and its subsidiaries, which operates under the Matrix Medical Network brand ("Matrix"). Matrix, which is included in our Corporate and Other segment, maintains a national network of community-based clinicians who deliver in-home and on-site services.

Business Outlook and Trends

Our performance is affected by a number of trends that drive the demand for our services. In particular, the markets in which we operate are exposed to various trends, such as healthcare industry and demographic dynamics. Over the long term, we believe there are numerous factors that could affect growth within the industries in which we operate, including:

- an aging population, which is expected to increase demand for healthcare services including required transportation to such healthcare services, in-home personal care services, and monitoring services;
- increasing prevalence of chronic illnesses that require active and ongoing monitoring of health data which can be accomplished at a lower cost and result in better health outcomes through in-home personal care and monitoring services;
- a movement towards value-based care versus fee-for-service and cost plus care and budget pressure on governments, both of which may increase the use of corporations to provide necessary and innovative services;
- increasing demand for in-home care, driven by cost pressures on traditional reimbursement models and technological advances enabling remote engagement, including remote monitoring and similar internet-based health related services;
- a shift in membership dynamics as a result of any Medicaid redetermination efforts, which have and may continue to decrease membership levels at our NEMT segment;
- advancement of regulatory priorities, which include the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS") final rule, Ensuring Access to Medicaid Services, which, in six years, requires states to generally ensure that a minimum of 80.0% of Medicaid payments are used toward compensation for direct care workers, which may lower profit margins at our PCS segment;
- technological advancements, which may be utilized by us to improve services and lower costs, but may also be utilized by others, which may increase industry competitiveness;
- MCO, Medicaid and Medicare plans increasing coverage of non-emergency medical transportation services for a variety of reasons, including increased access to care, improved patient compliance with treatment plans, social trends, and to promote SDoH, and this trend may be accelerated or reinforced by The Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2021 ("H.R.133"), a component of which mandates that state Medicaid programs ensure that Medicaid beneficiaries have necessary transportation to and from health care providers;

- macroeconomic conditions, including the impact of inflationary matters and changes in interest rates, which may impact the industries in which we operate and our customers' ability to utilize the services we and our competitors provide; and
- extended collection periods, which may cause uncertainty concerning the timing of the collection of outstanding contract receivables with some customers due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements.

In recent years, we have experienced increased trip volume, service hours, and caregiver visits. While this indicates increased demand for our non-emergency medical transportation, personal care and monitoring services, adverse economic conditions, including high inflation rates, high interest rates, supply chain challenges, labor shortages, volatility in capital markets and recession risks, have had and could continue to have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. For the NEMT segment, increased trip volume and utilization of non-emergency medical transportation services exposes us to cost containment risk as labor costs and trip costs are rising at a higher rate than reimbursement, which results in lower profit margins than previously reported. The increase in trip costs is driven, in part, by headwinds from the current macroeconomic environment which limit the NEMT segment's ability to provide services at a reasonable cost to achieve historic profit margins. For the PCS segment, the labor shortage, particularly related to availability of healthcare workers including caregivers, will continue to impact the volume of service hours that can be provided while also driving increased wage rates, which limits our ability to be profitable in contracts with set reimbursement rates for various care services. Any of these circumstances and factors could have a material adverse impact on our reputation and business and any long-term macroeconomic impacts that have arisen could continue to create ongoing challenges for our business.

Our business environment is competitive, the healthcare industry's regulatory requirements are increasingly complex, the labor market for healthcare professionals remains constrained, and the market price for our common stock on the Nasdaq Stock Market continues to be volatile; the continuing effect of all or any of the foregoing could result in an impairment of the goodwill in our reporting units. As discussed elsewhere herein and under the caption "Risk Factors" in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the year ended December 31, 2023, impairment tests may be required in addition to the annual impairment testing that occurred as of July 1, 2024, if circumstances change that would, more likely than not, reduce the fair value of goodwill of a reporting unit below such reporting unit's carrying value. The Company monitors the performance of the business and the value of its stock price and estimated fair values of its reporting units, among other relevant considerations, to determine if any impairments to goodwill could exist at any particular time. During our July 1, 2024 annual assessment of goodwill, we determined that based on our qualitative assessment for each reporting unit, factors existed which required us to perform a quantitative assessment to test our goodwill for impairment. As a result of our quantitative assessment, we determined that the goodwill at our Monitoring reporting unit was impaired. See Note 9, Goodwill and Intangible Assets, for additional details.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

We prepare our consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Preparation of the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes requires that we make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the consolidated financial statements as well as revenue and expenses during the periods reported. We base our estimates on historical experience, where applicable, and other assumptions that we believe are reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from our estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

There are certain critical estimates that require significant judgment in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements. We consider an accounting estimate to be critical if:

- it requires us to make an assumption because information was not available at the time or it included matters that were highly uncertain at the time the estimate is made; and
- changes in the estimate or different estimates that could have been selected may have had a material impact on our financial condition or results of operations.

Accrued Transportation Costs

Description. We generally pay our transportation providers for completed trips based on documentation submitted after services have been provided. The transportation service is initiated at the time a member submits a request for transportation services from our providers. At this time, we calculate an estimated transportation cost for each trip based on historical experience. This portion of the accrued transportation cost is based on requests for services we have received and the amount we expect to be billed by our transportation providers. All completed trips (both unbilled and billed) for which we have not yet issued payment reconcile to our total accrued transportation cost, however the critical accounting estimate that requires significant judgment is the portion of the accrual that is estimated related to claims not yet received or those pending adjudication.

Judgments and Uncertainties. The transportation cost accrual requires significant judgment as it is calculated using historical trip experience. We estimate the amount of transportation cost incurred for claims which have not yet been received or pending adjudication. The estimates are routinely monitored and compared to actual invoiced costs. Actual cost could be greater or less than the amounts estimated due to facts and circumstances that differ from historical trends.

Sensitivity of Estimate to Change. The estimates for the transportation accrual are developed using assumptions based on the best information available to the Company at the time, but which are inherently uncertain and unpredictable and as a result, actual results may differ significantly from estimates. In determining our estimate each period, we use data around historical trip experience. Our December 31, 2024 estimated portion of the accrued transportation costs was $33.2 million greater than our estimated portion at December 31, 2023. The increase from 2023 to 2024 is driven by timing of claims adjudication. The assumptions used in the estimate inputs include estimated trip costs and estimated trip volume. If we were to assume that our estimate of future transportation costs was changed to the upper end or lower end of the range we developed in the course of formulating our estimate, the estimate for future transportation costs as of December 31, 2024 would range from $65.6 million to $80.1 million.

Recoverability of Goodwill

Description. In accordance with ASC 350, Intangibles-Goodwill and Other, we review goodwill for impairment annually, and more frequently if events and circumstances indicate that the value may be impaired. Such circumstances could include, but are not limited to: (1) the loss or modification of significant contracts, (2) a significant adverse change in legal factors or in business climate, (3) unanticipated competition, (4) an adverse action or assessment by a regulator, or (5) a significant decline in our stock price. We perform our annual goodwill impairment test as of July 1. Goodwill is allocated across the Company's reporting units: NEMT, PCS, and Monitoring. We first perform qualitative assessments for each reporting unit to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying amount. If the qualitative assessment suggests that it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying value amount, we then perform a quantitative assessment and compare the fair value of the reporting unit to its carrying value. If the carrying value is determined to exceed the estimated fair value, the asset is considered impaired.

Judgments and Uncertainties. When performing a quantitative assessment to estimate the fair value of the Company's goodwill, the Company uses either an income approach, a market valuation approach, or a blended approach. The income approach applies a discounted cash flow method which includes assumptions on the projected future cash flows, discount rates, working capital adjustments, long-term growth rates, and others to estimate the fair value of the reporting unit. The market valuation approach produces an estimated fair value of the reporting unit based on a comparison of the reporting unit to publicly traded entities in similar lines of business.

Sensitivity of Estimate to Change. The use of different estimates or assumptions in determining the fair value of our goodwill may result in a different value recorded, which could result in an impairment charge that has the potential to have a material impact to the consolidated statement of operations. During our July 1 annual assessment of goodwill for both 2024 and 2023, we determined that based on our qualitative assessment for each reporting unit, factors existed which required us to test our goodwill for impairment. For the 2024 annual period, these factors included changes in key assumptions from the prior year annual goodwill assessment as a result of lower than anticipated operating results during the first half of 2024 as compared to forecast which resulted in a decrease in the fair value of the Company's Monitoring reporting unit such that the fair value was less than its carrying value. As a result of our quantitative assessment, we determined that the goodwill at our Monitoring reporting unit was impaired resulting in an impairment charge during the second quarter of 2024 of $105.3 million. For the 2023 annual period, these factors included a decline in the market price of the Company's common stock, industry specific regulatory pressures such as Medicaid redetermination and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS") proposed ruling on Ensuring Access to Medicaid Services, and general economic and market volatility. As a result of our quantitative assessment, we determined that the goodwill at our PCS and Monitoring reporting units was impaired resulting in an impairment charge during the second quarter of 2023 of $137.3 million and $45.8 million, respectively.

Components of Results of Operations

The following results of operations include the accounts of ModivCare and our subsidiaries for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023. For our results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2022 see "Part II, Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" of our Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2023, filed with the SEC on February 26, 2024.

Revenues

Service revenue, net. Service revenue for our NEMT segment includes the revenue generated by providing non-emergency medical transportation services directly to our customers. These services are provided on either a capitated basis, which means we are paid on a per-member, per-month ("PMPM") basis for each eligible member, or on a fee-for-service ("FFS") basis, which means we are paid based on the volume of trips or services performed. Payment for our NEMT services is received from third-party payors, predominately made up of state Medicaid agencies and MCOs.

Our capitated contracts operate under either a full-risk or a shared-risk structure. Under full-risk contracts, payors pay a fixed amount per eligible member per month and we assume the responsibility of meeting the covered healthcare related transportation requirements for the number of eligible members in the payor's program. Under this structure, we assume full-risk for the costs associated with arranging transportation of members through our network of independent transportation providers. Revenue is recognized based on the number of members served during the period. Under shared-risk contracts, we have provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors, and/or profit rebates. These contracts allow for periodic reconciliations based on actual cost and or/trip volume and may result in refunds to the payor (contract payables), or additional payments due from the payor (contract receivables) based on the provisions contractually agreed upon. These shared-risk contracts also allow for margin stabilization, as generally the amount received PMPM is adjusted for the costs to provide the transportation services. Under both contract structures, we arrange for transportation of members through our network of independent transportation providers, whereby we negotiate rates and remit payment to the transportation providers. However, for certain contracts, we assume no risk for the transportation network, credentialing and/or payments to these providers. For these contracts, we only provide administrative management services to support the customers' efforts to serve their clients.

Under FFS contracts, payors pay a specified amount for each service that we provide based on costs incurred plus an agreed-upon margin. FFS revenue is recognized in the period in which the services are rendered and is reduced by the estimated impact of contractual allowances.

Service revenue for our PCS segment includes the revenue generated based on the hours incurred by our in-home caregivers to provide services to our customers, primarily on a FFS basis in which we earn a specified amount for each service that we provide. Payment for our PCS services is billed to third-party payors which include, but are not limited to, MCOs, Medicaid agencies and programs and other home health care providers who subcontract the services of our caregivers to their patients, and individuals.

Service revenue for our Monitoring segment includes the sale of monitoring equipment to our third-party distributors as well as revenue generated from the hours incurred by our Clinical Team for providing monitoring services to our customers, primarily on a PMPM basis for each eligible member. Payment for our monitoring services is billed to third-party payors which include, but are not limited to, national and regional health plans, government-funded benefit programs, healthcare provider organizations, and individuals.

Grant Income

Grant income. We have received distributions under the ARPA Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Relief Fund ("SLFRF") targeted to providing economic relief and stimulus to combat health and economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic in addition to other governmental funds.

Operating Expenses

Service expense. Service expense for our NEMT segment includes purchased transportation, operational payroll and other operational related costs. Purchased transportation includes the amounts we pay to third-party transportation providers and is typically dependent upon service volume. Operational payroll predominately includes our contact center operations, customer advocacy and transportation network team. Other operating expenses primarily include operational overhead costs, and operating facilities and related charges. Service expense for our PCS segment includes payroll and other operational related costs for our caregivers to provide in-home care. Service expense for our Monitoring segment primarily consists of salaries of employees in our contact centers, connectivity costs and occupancy costs.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense for all segments consists principally of salaries for administrative employees that support the operations, occupancy costs, marketing expenditures, insurance, and professional fees.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation within this caption includes infrastructure items such as computer hardware and software, office equipment, monitoring and vitals equipment, buildings, and leasehold improvements. Amortization expense is generated primarily from amortization of our finite intangible assets, including payor networks, trade names and developed technology.

Impairment of goodwill. Based on our qualitative goodwill assessment for each reporting unit, we determined that qualitative factors existed which required us to test our goodwill for impairment. As a result of the impairment evaluation, we determined that the goodwill within our Monitoring reporting unit was impaired.

Other Expenses (Income)

Interest expense, net. Interest expense consists principally of interest accrued during the period ended December 31, 2024 on our Company's borrowings outstanding under the Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility and Senior Unsecured Notes, and amortization of deferred financing fees. Refer to the "Liquidity and Capital Resources" section below for further discussion of these borrowings.

Loss on debt extinguishment. Our 2025 Notes were redeemed in full prior to contractual maturity, resulting in a loss on debt extinguishment.

Equity in net income (loss) of investee, net of tax. Equity in earnings of equity method investee consists of our proportionate share of equity earnings or losses from our Matrix equity investment held at our Corporate and Other segment, presented net of related taxes, as well as the earnings of our insurance captive held at our NEMT segment, presented net of taxes.

Income tax (provision) benefit. We are subject to federal taxation in the United States and state taxation in the various jurisdictions in which we operate.

Segment Reporting

Our segments reflect the manner in which our operations are organized and reviewed by management. Segment results are based on how our CODM manages our business, makes operating decisions and evaluates operating performance.

We operate four reportable business segments: NEMT, PCS, Monitoring, and Corporate and Other. The NEMT segment provides non-emergency medical transportation services throughout the country. The PCS segment provides non-medical personal care and home health services. The Monitoring segment provides monitoring solutions. The Corporate and Other segment includes the costs associated with our corporate operations and as such, includes activities related to executive, accounting, finance, internal audit, tax, legal and certain strategic and corporate development functions for each segment, as well as the results of an investment in innovation that we completed during the first quarter of 2023. The operating results of the NEMT, PCS and Monitoring segments include revenue and expenses generated and incurred by the segment, and the Corporate and Other segment includes expenses incurred in relation to our Corporate operations as well as certain service revenue and operating expenses associated with the investment in innovation discussed above.

See Note 4, Segments, in our accompanying consolidated financial statements for further information on our segments.

Service revenue, net. Consolidated service revenue, net, for 2024 increased $36.4 million, or 1.3%, compared to 2023. This change consists of an increase in service revenue, net of $5.8 million at our NEMT segment, an increase in service revenue, net of $29.7 million at our PCS segment, and a decrease in service revenue, net of $0.2 million at our Monitoring segment. The remainder of the change is related to our Corporate and Other segment. See our Results of Operations - Segments, for further discussion of the revenue drivers at each respective segment.

Grant income. While we received approximately $19.5 million in grant distributions during 2024, we did not recognize grant income, but recognized a portion of these funds as an offset to service expense once they met the conditions for recognition. We received $21.8 million in grant distributions during 2023 and recognized $5.0 million in grant income, with the difference being recognized either as an offset to service expense, if we incurred the expense for which the grants were intended to compensate, or as an accrued expense, if we have not yet incurred the expense for which the grants were intended to compensate. These funds were received by our NEMT and PCS segments and are available to eligible providers who have healthcare-related expenses and lost revenues attributable to COVID-19 and/or meet the eligibility requirements of the related fund.

	Year Ended December 31,
	2024		2023
	Amount	% of Service Revenue	Amount	% of Service Revenue
Purchased services	$ 1,504,970	54.0%	$ 1,456,796	53.0%
Payroll and related costs	784,583	28.1%	772,629	28.1%
Other operating expenses	77,662	2.8%	74,793	2.7%
Total service expense	$ 2,367,215	84.9%	$ 2,304,218	83.8%

Service expense for 2024 increased $63.0 million, or 2.7%, compared to 2023 primarily due to higher purchased services for our NEMT segment of $48.2 million driven by an increase in transportation costs. Payroll and related costs increased by $12.0 million, which was driven by an increase in payroll and related costs of $42.1 million at our PCS and Monitoring segments, which was partially offset by a decrease in payroll and related costs of $30.4 million at our NEMT segment. See our Results of Operations - Segments, for further discussion.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense for 2024 decreased $6.2 million, or 2.0%, compared to 2023. General and administrative expense at our Corporate and Other segment decreased $18.7 million and at our Monitoring segment decreased $2.5 million, which was offset by an increase in general and administrative expense at our NEMT segment of $9.1 million along with an increase in general and administrative expense at our PCS segment of $6.0 million. General and administrative expense expressed as a percentage of service revenue, net, decreased slightly to 10.7% for 2024 as compared to 11.1% for 2023. See our Results of Operations - Segments, for further discussion.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization for 2024 increased $5.2 million, or 5.0%, compared to 2023, primarily related to the depreciation associated with the capitalization of internal use software.

Impairment of goodwill. Impairment of goodwill for 2024 and 2023 was $105.3 million and $183.1 million, respectively, and is a result of goodwill impairments that were recorded at our Monitoring reporting unit during 2024 and at our PCS and Monitoring reporting units during 2023. See Note 9, Goodwill and Intangible Assets.

Interest expense, net. Interest expense, net, for 2024 and 2023 was $94.1 million and $69.1 million, respectively, for an increase of $24.9 million, or 36.1%, year over year. During 2024, we incurred $16.3 million, $26.6 million, and $28.3 million of interest expense related to the 2025 Notes, the 2029 Notes, and the Term Loan Facility, respectively. The remainder of the interest expense during 2024 is related to interest and fees incurred related to borrowings under the amended Credit Agreement, which increased during 2024 due to increased borrowing activity on the Revolving Credit Facility as compared to 2023. Interest expense is recorded at our Corporate and Other segment.

Loss on debt extinguishment. During 2024, our 2025 Notes were redeemed in full prior to contractual maturity, resulting in a loss on debt extinguishment. This balance consists of the redemption premium of 1.469% on the aggregate original principal amount of the 2025 Notes for $7.3 million plus the recognition of the unamortized deferred issuance costs on the 2025 Notes for $4.5 million.

Equity in net income (loss) of investee, net of tax. Our equity in net loss of investee, net of tax for 2024 of $8.1 million and our equity in net income of investee, net of tax for 2023 of $0.3 million was a result of our proportional share of the net income or loss of Matrix and our investment in a captive insurance program.

Income tax benefit (provision). Our effective tax rate from operations for 2024 and 2023 was a tax benefit of 2.8% and 2.1%, respectively. The 2024 effective tax rate differed from the U.S. federal statutory rate primarily due to increased reserves on deferred tax assets, nondeductible expenses, and the nondeductible goodwill impairment recorded during the year. The 2023 effective tax rate differed from the U.S. federal statutory rate primarily due to the nondeductible goodwill impairment recorded during the year.

For a comparison of our results of operations see "Part II, Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" of our Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2023, filed with the SEC on February 26, 2024.

(1) These metrics are key performance indicators that management uses to evaluate our performance. Trends established in these metrics can be used to evaluate current operating results, identify trends affecting our business, determine the allocation of resources and understand the underlying drivers of costs and revenue for our business. We believe these metrics are useful to investors in evaluating and understanding our business but should not be used solely in assessing our performance. These key performance indicators should not be considered superior to, as a substitute for or as an alternative to, and should be considered in conjunction with, the GAAP financial measures presented herein to fully evaluate and understand the business as a whole.

Our NEMT segment is the largest manager of non-emergency medical transportation programs for state governments and MCOs in the U.S.

Service revenue, net. Service revenue, net, remained consistent in 2024 as compared to 2023, with an increase of $5.8 million, or 0.3%. While average monthly membership decreased 12.2% during 2024 as compared to 2023, the revenue received per member per month increased by 14.3% over the same period helping to maintain consistent revenue year over year. Revenue per member per month is driven by increases in trip volume, which increased by 6.5% in 2024 as compared to 2023. These two factors are correlated due to contract repricing and the partial pass-through of costs associated with our reconciliation, risk corridor, and/or profit rebate contracts (which are considered shared-risk contracts due to the reconciliation provisions).

The change in average monthly members is correlated to the change in revenue because a majority of our contracts are capitated, and we receive monthly payments on a per member per month basis in return for full or shared risk of transportation volumes. Declines in membership over the periods presented were anticipated and related to Medicaid redetermination, along with certain contract losses. While membership decreased, revenue had an offsetting increase due to increases in the average rate received per member, which increases in line with increases in utilization or trip volume from our shared risk contracts. As most of our capitated contracts have been restructured to a shared risk format, revenue remained consistent despite the decline in membership. Increases in trip volume also positively affected revenue from fee-for-service contracts due to a larger number of services performed.

Service expense. Service expense for our NEMT segment primarily consists of purchased services, which are costs paid to our third party transportation providers, and payroll and related costs, which consist of salaries of employees within our contact centers and operations centers. Other service expenses include occupancy costs related to our contact centers. Service expense components for our NEMT segment are shown below (in thousands):

	2024		2023
	Amount	% of Segment Revenue	Amount	% of Segment Revenue
Purchased services	$ 1,504,970	76.9 %	$ 1,456,796	74.7 %
Payroll and related costs	172,800	8.8 %	203,199	10.3 %
Other service expenses	50,214	2.6 %	49,795	2.6 %
Total service expense	$ 1,727,984	88.3 %	$ 1,709,790	87.6 %

Service expense increased by $18.2 million, or 1.1%, for 2024 as compared to 2023, primarily related to higher purchased services of $48.2 million, or 3.3%, partially offset by a decrease in payroll and related costs of $30.4 million, or 15.0%. The decrease in payroll and related costs demonstrates ongoing improvements from cost optimization and digitization efforts in our contact centers. Purchased services costs increased in connection with the 6.5% higher trip volume for 2024 as compared to 2023. This increase in purchased services costs driven by higher trip volume is partially offset by lower purchased services costs per trip of 3.0% due to a reduction in overall trip expense from the implementation of our multi-modal strategy.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense primarily consists of salaries for administrative employees that support the operations of the NEMT segment, occupancy costs, marketing expenditures, insurance, and professional fees. General and administrative expense increased $9.1 million, or 7.9%, for 2024 as compared to 2023, primarily as a result of higher salaries for administrative employees and higher professional services costs during 2024.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation and amortization expense increased by $2.8 million, or 10.1%, for 2024 as compared to 2023, primarily related to the additional depreciation expense recorded as a result of additional investment in internal use software during 2024.

PCS Segment

(1) These metrics are key performance indicators that management uses to evaluate our performance. Trends established in these metrics can be used to evaluate current operating results, identify trends affecting our business, determine the allocation of resources and understand the underlying drivers of costs and revenue for our business. We believe these metrics are useful to investors in evaluating and understanding our business but should not be used solely in assessing our performance. Our PCS segment's services include placements of non-medical personal care assistants and home health aides and nurses primarily to Medicaid patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing daily living activities in the home setting, including senior citizens and disabled adults.

Service revenue, net. PCS contracts are generally structured as fee-for-service contracts, with revenue driven by the number of hours worked by our personal care providers. Service revenue, net, increased by $29.7 million or 4.1% for 2024 as compared to 2023, primarily due to 1.4% higher hours worked by our personal care providers in 2024 as compared to 2023, as well as 2.6% higher rates earned per hour during the same period.

Grant income. During 2024, we did not recognize grant income and during 2023, we recognized $5.0 million of grant income related to government grant distributions received, primarily from the ARPA SLFRF. See discussion in the consolidated Results of Operations section for more information.

Service expense. Service expense for our PCS segment primarily consists of wages for our employees who provide personal care services and it typically trends with the number of hours worked and cost per hour of service. Service expense components for our PCS segment are shown below (in thousands):

	2024		2023
	Amount	% of Segment Service Revenue	Amount	% of Segment Service Revenue
Payroll and related costs	$ 594,150	79.7 %	$ 555,606	77.6 %
Other service expenses	5,108	0.7 %	6,313	0.9 %
Total service expense	$ 599,258	80.4 %	$ 561,919	78.5 %

Service expense for 2024 increased by $37.3 million, or 6.6%, as compared to 2023, primarily as a result of a 5.2% increase in service expense per hour as well as a 1.4% increase in hours of service provided. The increase in service expense per hour is driven primarily by increased wage rates for our caregivers, predominately from wage increases in New York, New Jersey, and West Virginia.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense primarily consists of salaries for administrative employees that support the operations of the PCS segment, occupancy costs, marketing expenditures, insurance, and professional fees. General and administrative expense increased by $6.0 million, or 6.9%, for 2024 as compared to 2023, primarily related to increased legal fees from various audits and legal proceedings as well as increased software maintenance expense related to the implementation of a home care platform in certain markets during the third quarter of 2024.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation and amortization expense remained consistent with a decrease of $0.2 million, or 0.3%, for 2024 as compared to 2023. This balance primarily consists of amortization expense on the payor network intangible asset.

Impairment of goodwill. During 2024, we did not record any impairment charge on the goodwill at our PCS reporting unit. During 2023, as a result of our quantitative goodwill assessment on July 1, we determined that the goodwill within our PCS reporting unit was impaired which resulted in an impairment of goodwill charge of $137.3 million. See Note 9, Goodwill and Intangible Assets for additional details.

We believe these metrics are useful to investors in evaluating and understanding our business but should not be used solely in assessing our performance. These key performance indicators should not be considered superior to, as a substitute for or as an alternative to, and should be considered in conjunction with, the GAAP financial measures presented herein to fully evaluate and understand the business as a whole.

Our Monitoring segment is a provider of in-home monitoring solutions and manages a comprehensive suite of in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions.

Service revenue, net. Monitoring contracts are generally structured as a fixed fee per enrolled member per month and therefore, revenue is generally driven by the number of enrolled members and the rate received per member per month. Service revenue, net, remained consistent for 2024 as compared to 2023 with a decrease of $0.2 million, or 0.3%, primarily related to a 1.2% increase in average monthly members from 2023 to 2024 that was offset by a 1.5% decrease in revenue per member per month over the same period.

Service expense. Service expense for our Monitoring segment primarily consists of salaries for the employees providing the monitoring services as well as occupancy costs. Service expense components for our Monitoring segment are shown below (in thousands):

	Year Ended December 31,
	2024		2023
	Amount	% of Segment Service Revenue	Amount	% of Segment Service Revenue
Payroll and related costs	$ 17,077	22.0 %	$ 13,539	17.4 %
Other service expenses	15,207	19.6 %	13,486	17.3 %
Total service expense	$ 32,284	41.6 %	$ 27,025	34.7 %

Service expense for 2024 increased $5.3 million, or 19.5%, as compared to 2023, primarily as a result of an increase of $3.5 million, or 26.1%, in payroll and related costs due to increased wages and benefits for our Monitoring employees as well as increased device connectivity and installation costs related to the additional devices deployed to service the higher membership levels.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense primarily consists of salaries for administrative employees that indirectly support the operations of the Monitoring segment, occupancy costs, marketing expenditures, insurance, and professional fees. General and administrative expense decreased $2.5 million, or 11.0% for 2024 as compared to 2023. This decrease in general and administrative expense is primarily related to lower salaries for administrative employees in 2024.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation and amortization expense increased by $2.3 million, or 9.2%, for 2024 as compared to 2023, primarily related to additional depreciation expense as a result of purchases of a new product and higher levels of purchased devices due to destroyed or unreturned equipment during 2024 as compared to 2023, in addition to an increased number of Monitoring devices used to service the 1.2% increase in average monthly members in 2024.

Impairment of goodwill. During 2024 and 2023, as a result of our quantitative goodwill assessment on July 1, we determined that the goodwill within our Monitoring reporting unit was impaired which resulted in an impairment of goodwill charge of $105.3 million and $45.8 million, respectively. See Note 9, Goodwill and Intangible Assets for additional details.

Corporate and Other Segment

	Year Ended December 31,
	2024	2023
Service revenue, net	$ 7,273	$ 6,167
Service expense	7,689	5,484
General and administrative expense	60,739	79,471
Depreciation and amortization	1,255	924
Operating loss	$ (62,410)	$ (79,712)

Our Corporate and Other segment includes our executive, accounting, finance, internal audit, tax, legal, public reporting and corporate development functions. This segment also includes the results of our equity investment in Matrix and the operating results of our investments in innovation related to data analytics products and solutions, which is comprised of our wholly-owned subsidiary, Higi Care, LLC ("Higi"), which was acquired during the first quarter of 2023. Higi provides certain data-driven personal health technologies and also began providing virtual clinical care management services (the "MSO") through an unaffiliated professional corporation (the "PC") owned and operated by a licensed physician in the third quarter of 2023.

Service revenue, net and Service expense: The acquisition of Higi, which was a strategic investment in growth, contributes to service revenue and service expense.

General and administrative expense and Depreciation and amortization: Our Corporate and Other segment holds costs incurred related to strategy and stewardship of the other operating segments. These expenses are primarily general and administrative expenses, with a small amount related to depreciation. General and administrative expense decreased by $18.7 million, or 23.6%, for 2024 as compared to 2023. This decrease is primarily related to lower professional service costs and lower legal fees, which were higher in the prior year due to executive departure.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Short-term capital requirements consist primarily of recurring operating expenses, contract start-up costs on new revenue contracts, interest expense on outstanding borrowings, costs associated with our strategic initiatives, and short-term borrowings under our Credit Agreement. As explained below under the caption "Liquidity," various factors exist that have raised substantial doubt about our ability to meet all obligations as they become due over the next twelve months and to continue as a going concern. If we are unsuccessful in our efforts to raise additional capital, including through additional financing and strategic divestitures of assets, based on our current expectations, our current sources of liquidity, including available cash on hand, cash generated from operations, net of capital expenditures, and borrowings under our Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility (both as defined below), may not be sufficient to satisfy our short-term capital requirements for the next twelve months. For information regarding our long-term capital requirements, see below under the caption "Liquidity".

Cash used in operating activities during the year ended December 31, 2024 was $6.4 million. Our balance of cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash, was $112.6 million and $2.2 million at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. We had restricted cash of $0.5 million and $0.6 million at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Restricted cash amounts are not included in our balance of cash and cash equivalents in the consolidated balance sheets, although they are included in the cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash balance on the accompanying consolidated statements of cash flows.

We may, from time to time, access capital markets to raise equity or debt financing for various business reasons, including acquisitions, repurchases of common stock, investments in our business and possible refinancing activity. The timing, term, size, and pricing of any such financing will depend on investor interest and market conditions, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain any such financing on terms acceptable to us at the time or at all.

Operating activities. Cash used in operating activities was $6.4 million for 2024 compared to cash used in operating activities of $83.0 million for 2023. The decrease in cash used of $76.6 million between periods was primarily a result of an increase in cash provided by changes in operating assets and liabilities of $131.8 million. The increase in cash provided by changes in operating assets and liabilities was partially driven by an increase in cash collected from contract receivables of $99.0 million on certain risk corridor and reconciliation contracts during 2024 as compared to 2023. The increase in cash provided by changes in operating assets and liabilities was also partially driven by a decrease in the cash used for accounts payable and accrued expenses of $46.8 million, primarily related to a build of accounts payable and accrued expenses due to the timing of vendor payments during 2024 as compared to 2023. These increases from the changes in operating assets and liabilities were partially offset by a decrease in cash due to an increase in cash paid for contract payables of $18.1 million, primarily related to repayments on previously accrued contract payable amounts during 2024. Also offsetting the increases to the changes in operating assets and liabilities was a decrease in cash due to an increase in cash paid for prepaid expenses and other assets of $5.0 million during 2024 as compared to 2023.

Investing activities. Net cash used in investing activities was $27.6 million in 2024 compared to $42.3 million in 2023. The change in cash used in investing activities was driven by a decrease in cash spent on purchases of property and equipment.

Financing activities. Net cash provided by financing activities was $144.4 million in 2024 compared to $113.1 million in 2023. The increase of $31.3 million was primarily a result of the issuance of a Term Loan Facility in the aggregate principal amount of $525.0 million, which was partially offset by the redemption of our 2025 Notes for $507.3 million. The increase in net cash provided by financing activities is also driven by an increase of $41.4 million in net proceeds from our short-term borrowing on our Revolving Credit Facility during 2024 as compared to 2023, partially offset by higher debt issuance costs of $25.4 million related to the Amendments to the Credit Agreement that were made during 2024.

For a comparison of our cash flows for 2023 to 2022, see "Part II, Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" of our Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2023, filed with the SEC on February 26, 2024.

Obligations and commitments

Senior Unsecured Notes. On August 24, 2021, the Company issued $500.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 5.000% senior unsecured notes due on October 1, 2029 (the "2029 Notes").

The 2029 Notes are senior unsecured obligations and rank senior in right of payment to all of the Company's future subordinated indebtedness, rank equally in right of payment with all of the Company's existing senior indebtedness, are effectively subordinated to any of the Company's existing and future secured indebtedness, including indebtedness under the Credit Agreement, to the extent of the value of the assets securing such indebtedness, and are structurally subordinated to all of the existing and future liabilities (including trade payables) of each of the Company's non-guarantor subsidiaries.

The Company will pay interest on the 2029 Notes semi-annually in arrears on April 1 and October 1 of each year until maturity. Principal payments on the 2029 Notes are not required until the maturity date on October 1, 2029 when 100.0% of the outstanding principal will be required to be repaid. For additional information related to our 2029 Notes, refer to Note 11, Debt, of the Notes to consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8.

Revolving Credit Facility. The Company is party to the Credit Agreement, dated as of February 3, 2022 (as amended, the "Credit Agreement"), with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent, swing line lender and an issuing bank, Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as an issuing bank, Truist Bank and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as co-syndication agents, Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, Bank of America, N.A., Regions Bank, Bank of Montreal and Capital One, National Association, as co-documentation agents, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., Truist Securities, Inc. and Wells Fargo Securities, LLC, as joint bookrunners and joint lead arrangers, and the other lenders party thereto. The Credit Agreement provides the Company with a senior secured revolving credit facility (the "New Credit Facility") in an aggregate principal amount of $325.0 million. The New Credit Facility includes sublimits for swingline loans, letters of credit and alternative currency loans in amounts of up to $25.0 million, $60.0 million and $75.0 million, respectively. The Company did not draw any amount of the New Credit Facility at closing of the New Credit Agreement. At closing of the New Credit Agreement on February 3, 2022, the Company had $22.8 million of outstanding letters of credit under the New Credit Facility. The proceeds of the New Credit Facility may be used (i) to finance working capital needs of the Company and its subsidiaries and (ii) for general corporate purposes of the Company and its subsidiaries (including to finance capital expenditures, permitted acquisitions and investments).

The Credit Agreement contains financial and non-financial covenants, including an affirmative covenant regarding our Total Net Leverage Ratio, determined as of the end of each of our fiscal quarters, which is the ratio of (a) our total net indebtedness to (b) our earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization, and certain non-recurring charges, fees and expenses, as set forth in the Credit Agreement. On June 26, 2023, the Company entered into the First Amendment to the Credit Agreement to increase the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio for all fiscal quarters ending on or after June 30, 2023.

On February 22, 2024, the Company entered into the Second Amendment to the Credit Agreement to further increase the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio for all fiscal quarters ending on or after December 31, 2024 as follows: for the fiscal quarters ending March 31, 2024 through June 30, 2024, 5.50:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending September 30, 2024 through December 31, 2024, 5.25:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending March 31, 2025 through September 30, 2025, 5.00:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending December 31, 2025 through March 31, 2026, 4.75:1.00; and for all fiscal quarters ending after March 31, 2026, 4.50:1.00. The Second Amendment also includes a quarterly minimum liquidity covenant that restricts the Company from permitting its Liquidity (as defined in the Second Amendment and which is determined generally to be, as of any date of determination, the sum of the Company's available borrowing capacity under the New Credit Facility plus the amount of its unencumbered cash), to be less than $100.0 million as of the last day of each fiscal quarter.

On July 1, 2024, we entered into the Third Amendment to the Credit Agreement, which, among other things, extended with respect to the lenders identified in the Third Amendment the maturity date covering $255.0 million in the aggregate principal amount of the commitments under the Revolving Credit Facility to February 3, 2028. The existing financial covenants under the amended Credit Agreement were retained for the benefit solely of the Revolving Credit Facility lenders, and the minimum liquidity level required by the Liquidity Covenant was decreased from $100.0 million to $75.0 million. Certain other financial covenants and restrictions under the Credit Agreement were also modified by the Third Amendment, as previously disclosed. The fees associated with the Third Amendment of $0.3 million will be amortized over the life of the Revolving Credit Facility.

On September 30, 2024, we entered into the Fourth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, which amended the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the amended Credit Agreement for the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2024 to 6.50:1.00. In addition, the Fourth Amendment reduced the minimum interest coverage ratio for the quarter ended September 30, 2024 to 2.00:1.00 and increased the applicable margin on the Revolving Credit Facility by 0.25% until we deliver the required financial statements and compliance certificate for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2024.

On January 9, 2025, we entered into the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, which, among other things, (i) amended the interest rate on the existing Revolving Credit Facility commitments under the Credit Agreement to a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.25%, with a 1.00% SOFR Floor, (ii) amended the 2.0% default rate under the Credit Agreement so that it applies on all obligations upon the election of the administrative agent at the direction of the Required Lenders if an event of default has occurred and continuing and automatically if a specified event of default has occurred and is continuing, (iii) amended the Term Loan Facility maturity date to spring to July 2, 2029 if the second lien senior secured PIK toggle notes remain outstanding as of such date, (iv) included enhanced reporting requirements, and (v) eliminated or reduced certain baskets, which included the elimination of reinvestment rights with respect to certain asset sales and reduction of the de minimis exception for certain asset sale prepayments to $5,000,000. Consenting lenders also agreed to provide financial covenant relief in the form of (i) a covenant holiday with respect to the maximum net leverage ratio and interest coverage ratio from the fourth fiscal quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025, (ii) resetting the maximum total net leverage ratio covenant to 6.75:1.00 for the third fiscal quarter of 2025 and the fourth fiscal quarter of 2025 and (iii) resetting the minimum interest coverage ratio to 1.65:1.00 for the third fiscal quarter of 2025 and the fourth fiscal quarter of 2025. We will also be required to maintain minimum liquidity of $25.0 million pursuant to the terms of the amended minimum liquidity covenant in the Credit Agreement, which will be tested each week through the week ending April 11, 2025, each month through the month ending June 30, 2025 and, thereafter, each fiscal quarter. In addition, we will be subject to a cash variance compliance test with respect to aggregate disbursements and aggregate receipts, subject to customary cures.

Term Loan Facility. On July 1, 2024, pursuant to the Third Amendment, we established a new term loan facility (the "Term Loan Facility") in the aggregate principal amount of $525.0 million with the Term Loan Facility lenders named therein. The proceeds of the Term Loan Facility were used to (i) redeem our 5.875% senior unsecured notes due on November 15, 2025 in aggregate principal amount of $500.0 million, (ii) repay a portion of the Revolving Credit Facility outstanding immediately prior to the effective date of the Third Amendment, and (iii) pay fees and expenses associated with such transactions. We incurred approximately $24.4 million of deferred financing costs with respect to the Term Loan Facility.

The Term Loan Facility matures on the earlier of (a) July 1, 2031 and (b) July 2, 2029 if any of the 2029 Notes remain outstanding on that date. Principal payments on the Term Loan Facility are required on a quarterly basis, commencing with the quarter ending September 30, 2024, in the amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate principal amount of the Term Loan Facility outstanding on the date of issuance. All unpaid amounts of the Term Loan Facility shall be paid in full on the maturity date. The Term Loan Facility requires annual prepayments of a percentage of Excess Cash Flow (as defined in the amended Credit Agreement); commencing with the year ending December 31, 2025 as follows: (i) 75.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 4.40:1.00, (ii) 50.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.90:1.00, but less than or equal to 4.40:1.00, (iii) 25.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.40:1.00, but less than or equal to 3.90:1.00, and (iv) 0.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was less than or equal to 3.40:1.00. The Term Loan Facility also requires mandatory prepayments in the event of certain asset dispositions or casualty events. In addition, the Term Loan Facility is subject to a prepayment premium for the first six months after entering into the Third Amendment in the event of any repricing transaction.

Interest on the Term Loan Facility is generally payable quarterly, in arrears, on the outstanding principal amount of the Term Loan Facility at the following rates for the interest period in effect for such borrowing: (i) a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.75% or (ii) a prime rate (or other alternate base rate) benchmark plus 3.75% in the case of ABR Loans (as such terms are defined in the amended Credit Agreement). The Term Loan Facility is subject to customary representations and warranties, affirmative and negative covenants, and events of default, as defined in the amended Credit Agreement.

As summarized above under "Revolving Credit Facility," pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement entered into on January 9, 2025, we were granted a covenant holiday with respect to certain covenants from December 31, 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025.

Incremental Term Loan. On January 9, 2025, the Company, pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, established an incremental term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $75.0 million (the "Incremental Term Loan"). The Incremental Term Loan was priced at a SOFR-based benchmark plus 7.50%, with 1.00% SOFR Floor (no CSA) with a maturity of January 10, 2026 (the "Maturity Date") and original issue discount of 2 points. The Company has the option to prepay the Incremental Term Loan, in whole or in part, at any time prior to the Maturity Date, subject to a prepayment fee equal to the present value of all scheduled interest payments on the fully committed amount that would accrue through the Maturity Date calculated based on a discount rate equal to the treasury rate plus 50 basis points. The proceeds of the Incremental Term Loan are required to be deposited in a collateral account subject to a blocked account control agreement in favor of the administrative agent and may disbursed subject to delivery of a disbursement request, no default or event of default, the representations and warranties in Article II of the Credit Agreement being true and correct in all material respects and receipt by the administrative agent and lenders of reimbursement for invoiced expenses. The Incremental Term Loan is secured by a lien on substantially all of the assets of the Company and certain of its subsidiaries.

Our financial and operating performance, as well as our ability to generate sufficient cash flow to maintain compliance with covenants, are subject to certain risk factors; see Item 1A. "Risk Factors" for further discussion. Additionally, our assessment of our ability to meet our future obligations is inherently subjective, judgment-based, and susceptible to change based on future events

For additional information related to our Revolving Credit Facility, our Term Loan Facility and our Incremental Term Loan, refer to Note 11 of the Notes to the consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of this Annual Report.

Insurance Programs

With respect to the Company's historical wholly-owned captive insurance company subsidiary, Social Services Providers Captive Insurance Company, or SPCIC, the operations with respect to which have been discontinued since 2017, the Company utilizes a report prepared by an independent actuary to estimate the gross expected losses related to historical automobile, general and professional and workers' compensation liability reinsurance policies, including the estimated losses in excess of SPCIC's insurance limits, which would be reimbursed to SPCIC to the extent such losses were incurred. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company had reserves of $30.0 million and $20.2 million, respectively, for the automobile, general and professional liability and workers' compensation reinsurance policies. The gross reserve as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 of $58.0 million and $45.7 million, respectively, is classified as current liabilities and other long-term liabilities in the consolidated balance sheets. The estimated amount to be reimbursed to the Company as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $28.0 million and $25.5 million, respectively, and is classified as other long-term assets in the consolidated balance sheets.

Further, we had restricted cash of $0.5 million and $0.6 million at December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively, which was primarily restricted to secure the reinsured claims losses under the historical automobile, general and professional liability and workers' compensation reinsurance programs.

Liquidity

Liquidity measures our ability to meet current and future cash flow needs on a timely basis and at a reasonable cost. We manage our liquidity position to meet our daily cash flow needs, while maintaining an appropriate balance between assets and liabilities to meet the return on investment objectives of our stockholders. Our liquidity position is supported by management of liquid assets and current liabilities and access to alternative sources of funds. Liquid assets included cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash of $112.6 million and accounts receivable, contract receivables, and other receivables of $356.8 million as of December 31, 2024, and expected future cash generated from operations. Current liabilities, which totaled $810.9 million at year end as detailed in the table below, included $88.7 million in guarantees and letters of credit that are not expected to be paid in cash in the next 12 months.

Management's assessment of our liquidity is highly dependent on our ability to meet operating forecasts, including cash generated by operations, and manage working capital, including specifically the timely collection of outstanding contract receivables, which were $117.8 million at December 31, 2024. During 2024, we have experienced financial challenges, including increased transportation and caregiver costs that have not been offset by corresponding reimbursement rate increases from payors, the loss of certain contracts, and membership declines. These factors have negatively impacted cash flow generation and liquidity. Additionally, we have experienced lengthened collection periods due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements, resulting in delays between fulfilling our performance obligations and collecting the cash owed for our services. This prolonged cash conversion cycle places further strain on our liquidity and working capital. As a result, we are likely to require additional liquidity to support ongoing operations over the next year.

As of the issuance date of these consolidated financial statements, we have also entered into Amendment No. 5 (the "Fifth Amendment") to our Credit Agreement (see Note 11, Debt for further details) which, among other things, established an incremental term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $75.0 million (the "Incremental Term Loan"). The Incremental Term Loan is a short-term facility with a maturity date of January 10, 2026 and, as a result of the factors described above, we are likely to require additional liquidity in order to satisfy our existing debt obligations due within one year from the date of the issuance of these consolidated financial statements.

While we continue to monitor cash generated from operations, available credit, and other liquid assets, sustaining operations relies heavily on the timely collection of contract receivables and compliance with the financial covenants in our Credit Agreement, as amended to date. As a result of the foregoing, we are not expected to have the ability to meet one or more financial covenants under our existing credit agreements. Failure to meet these covenants or others could cause obligations under the Revolving Credit Facility (as defined in Note 11, Debt), the Term Loan Facility (as defined in Note 11, Debt), the Incremental Term Loan (as defined above), and our Notes due 2029 (as defined in Note 11, Debt), to become immediately due and payable, and we would not have sufficient liquidity to satisfy such obligations. In such event, we would be required to restructure our existing debt or to seek additional equity or debt financing to meet our obligations and maintain our existence as a going concern.

Furthermore, these factors raise substantial doubt about our ability to satisfy our obligations as they become due within one year from the issuance date of these financial statements. Accordingly, Management has concluded that substantial doubt exists about our ability to continue as a going concern.

To address these concerns, Management has implemented cost optimization measures, renegotiated contract terms, and secured amendments to our credit agreements, including a temporary financial covenant holiday. Management is actively pursuing further financing options, evaluating strategic asset divestitures, long-term covenant relief and implementing operational efficiencies to improve liquidity. There can be no assurance that additional financing, additional liquidity from asset divestitures or long-term covenant relief will be available on terms acceptable to us, or at all, or in amounts sufficient to enable us to satisfy our obligations as they become due or to sustain operations in the future. There can also be no assurance that we will be successful in effecting any of our intended potential strategic divestitures.

In the ordinary course of business we have entered into contractual obligations and have made other commitments to make future payments. Our short-term and long-term liquidity requirements are primarily to fund on-going operations and to service short-term debt obligations. These liquidity requirements are met primarily through cash flow from operations, debt financing, and borrowings under our Revolving Credit Facility. For additional information regarding our operating, investing and financing cash flows, see "Consolidated Financial Statements— Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows," included in Part II, Item 8 of this Annual Report.

We have cash requirements of $810.9 million due in one year or less in addition to $1,429.2 million due in more than one year as of December 31, 2024, including obligations entered subsequent to December 31, 2024. The following is a

(2) Interest payments on our Senior Unsecured Notes are typically paid semi-annually in arrears and have been calculated at the rates fixed as of December 31, 2024. Interest payments on our Term Loan Facility are typically paid quarterly in arrears and have been calculated at the SOFR-based benchmark plus the applicable margin of 4.75% as of December 31, 2024. Interest payments on our Revolving Credit Facility have been calculated by taking the expected borrowing on the Revolving Credit Facility for the next year at the weighted average interest rate of borrowings outstanding as of December 31, 2024 of 8.8%.

(3) See Note 5 of the Notes to the consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" for further detail of our contracts payable.

(5) See Note 16 of the Notes to the consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" for further detail of our deferred tax liabilities.

(6) The operating leases are for office space. Certain leases contain periodic rent escalation adjustments and renewal options. See Note 15 of the Notes to the consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" for further detail of our operating leases.

(7) Letters of credit ("LOCs") are guarantees of potential payments to third parties under certain conditions. Guarantees include surety bonds we provide to certain customers to protect against potential non-delivery of our non-emergency transportation services. Our LOCs shown in the table were provided by our Revolving Credit Facility and reduced our availability under the related Credit Agreement. The surety bonds and LOC amounts in the above table represent the amount of commitment expiration per period.

(8) These include other current liabilities reflected in our consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2024, including accounts payable and accrued expenses as detailed at Note 10 to the consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data".

(9) See Note 11 of the Notes to the consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" for further detail of our Incremental Term Loan Facility, which was entered into on January 9, 2025 with maturity on January 10, 2026, and the timing of expected future payments.

(10) Interest payments on our Incremental Term Loan are typically paid quarterly in arrears and have been calculated at the SOFR-based benchmark plus the applicable margin of 7.50% as of December 31, 2024.

Our primary sources of funding include operating cash flows, borrowing under the Revolving Credit Facility and access to capital markets. In addition, there are statutory, regulatory, and debt covenant limitations that affect our ability to access the capital market for funds. Management expects that such limitations are likely to impact our ability to meet our ongoing short-term cash obligations. Management continuously monitors our liquidity position and adjustments are made to the balance between sources and uses of funds as deemed appropriate. Except as disclosed herein, our management is not aware of any events that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on our liquidity, capital resources, or operations. In addition, our management is not aware of any regulatory recommendations regarding liquidity, which if implemented, would have a material adverse effect on us.

Off-balance sheet arrangements

As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, we did not have any relationships with unconsolidated entities or financial partnerships, such as entities referred to as structured finance or special purpose entities, which were established for the purpose of facilitating off-balance sheet arrangements or other contractually narrow or limited purposes.

Item 7A. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

Interest rate risk

We have exposure to interest rate risk mainly related to our Revolving Credit Facility and our Term Loan Facility, which have variable interest rates that may increase. We had a combined $274.3 million of short-term borrowings outstanding on the Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility and $55.6 million of outstanding letters of credit under the Revolving Credit Facility at December 31, 2024. Interest rates on the outstanding principal amount of the Revolving Credit Facility vary and accrue at a per annum rate equal to the Alternate Base Rate, the Adjusted Term SOFR Rate, the Adjusted Daily Simple SOFR Rate, the Adjusted EURIBOR Rate or the Adjusted Daily Simple SONIA Rate, as applicable and each as defined in the Credit Agreement, in each case, plus an applicable margin. Interest rates on the outstanding principal amount of the Term Loan Facility vary and accrue at a per annum rate equal to the SOFR-based benchmark, a prime rate, or other alternate base rate, as applicable and each as defined in the amended Credit Agreement, in each case plus an applicable margin. We completed an interest rate risk sensitivity analysis with the assumption that the short-term borrowing amount that was outstanding as of December 31, 2024 was outstanding for the fiscal year with an assumed one-percentage point increase in interest rates. Based on this analysis, the one-percentage point increase would have an approximate $2.7 million negative impact on our pre-tax earnings.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

ModivCare Inc.:

Opinion on the Consolidated Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of ModivCare Inc. and subsidiaries (the Company) as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' equity (deficit), and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2024, and the related notes and financial statement schedule II (collectively, the consolidated financial statements). In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2024, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission, and our report dated March 6, 2025 expressed an unqualified opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

Going Concern

The accompanying consolidated financial statements and supplemental information have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 1 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company has experienced financial challenges that negatively impact its liquidity and working capital, has certain debt obligations due within one year, and expects not to meet one or more financial covenants that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 1. The consolidated financial statements and supplemental information do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

Basis for Opinion

These consolidated financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Critical Audit Matters

The critical audit matters communicated below are matters arising from the current period audit of the consolidated financial statements that were communicated or required to be communicated to the audit committee and that: (1) relate to accounts or disclosures that are material to the consolidated financial statements and (2) involved our especially challenging, subjective, or complex judgments. The communication of critical audit matters does not alter in any way our opinion on the consolidated financial statements, taken as a whole, and we are not, by communicating the critical audit matters below, providing separate opinions on the critical audit matters or on the accounts or disclosures to which they relate.

Sufficiency of audit evidence over certain capitated contracts with provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors or profit rebates

As discussed in Note 5 to the consolidated financial statements the Company reported service revenue, net of $2,787.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2024, which included revenue from certain capitated contracts with provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors or profit rebates. The Company records revenue for certain capitated contracts with provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors or profit rebates based on capitated payments received during the month of service and these payments are reconciled based on actual cost and/or trip volume which may result in additional receivables from or payables to the payors. As of December 31, 2024, the Company recorded reconciliation and risk corridor contract receivables of $117.8 million and total contract payables of $22.6 million which included contract payables related to contracts with provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors or profit rebates.

We identified the evaluation of the sufficiency of audit evidence over certain capitated contracts with provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors, or profit rebates as a critical audit matter. Challenging auditor judgement was required in evaluating the sufficiency of audit evidence due to the large volume of data and complexity of the manually maintained information used in the revenue recognition process. Specialized skills and knowledge were needed to assess the Information Technology (IT) systems used to determine and record revenue, contract receivables and contract payables related to these capitated contracts.

The following are the primary procedures we performed to address this critical audit matter. We applied auditor judgment to determine the nature and extent of procedures to be performed over reconciliation, risk corridor and profit rebate contract revenue, contract receivables and contract payables. We evaluated the design and tested the operating effectiveness of certain internal controls over the revenue recognition process related to the aforementioned capitated contracts. We assessed recorded reconciliation, risk corridor and profit rebate contract revenue, contract receivables and contract payables for the aforementioned capitated contracts by comparing a selection of such revenue amounts to third party contracts and cash receipts and comparing a selection of reconciliation, risk corridor or profit rebate revenue, receivable and payable amounts to payor contracts and transportation cost data. Additionally, we compared a selection of reconciliation, risk corridor and profit rebate contract receivable and payable activity during the year to current year revenue activity and cash settlements. We involved IT professionals with specialized skills and knowledge, who assisted in testing certain general IT controls and certain application controls used to determine and record revenue, contract receivables and contract payables related to the aforementioned capitated contracts. We evaluated the sufficiency of audit evidence obtained by assessing the results of procedures performed.

Goodwill impairment assessment for certain reporting units

As discussed in Notes 2 and 9 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company reviews goodwill for impairment annually, and more frequently if events and circumstances indicate that the carrying value of a reporting unit might exceed its fair value. The Company estimates the fair value of each reporting unit using either an income approach, a market approach, or a blended approach. During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company recognized goodwill impairment charges of $105.3 million. As of December 31, 2024, the goodwill balance was $680.3 million.

We identified the evaluation of the goodwill impairment assessment for all reporting units as a critical audit matter. There was a high degree of subjective auditor judgment required in assessing the Company's key assumptions used in the income approach to estimate fair value, specifically short-term projected revenue and the discount rate. Minor changes in these assumptions could have had a significant impact on the estimated fair value. Additionally, the audit effort associated with this estimate required specialized skills and knowledge.

The following are the primary procedures we performed to address this critical audit matter. We evaluated the design and tested the operating effectiveness of certain internal controls related to the Company's goodwill impairment assessment process, including controls over the short-term projected revenue and the discount rate assumptions. We evaluated the short-term projected revenues by comparing them to the historical results of the respective reporting unit, and to external economic data, including publicly available information for guideline public companies. We performed inquiries of the Company's officials who are responsible for, and have authority over, the development of the short-term projected revenue rate. We involved valuation professionals with specialized skills and knowledge, who assisted in evaluating the discount rate by independently calculating the weighted average cost of capital.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Stockholders and Board of Directors
ModivCare Inc.:

Opinion on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

We have audited ModivCare Inc. and subsidiaries' (the Company) internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. In our opinion, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2024, based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission.

We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB), the consolidated balance sheets of the Company as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the related consolidated statements of operations, consolidated statements of stockholders' equity (deficit), and consolidated statements of cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2024, and the related notes and financial statement schedule II(collectively, the consolidated financial statements), and our report dated March 6, 2025 expressed an unqualified opinion on those consolidated financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

The Company's management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the PCAOB and are required to be independent with respect to the Company in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audit of internal control over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. Our audit also included performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Definition and Limitations of Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

ModivCare Inc.
Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements
December 31, 2024

1. Organization and Basis of Presentation

Description of Business

ModivCare Inc. ("ModivCare" or the "Company") is a technology-enabled healthcare services company that provides a suite of integrated supportive care solutions for public and private payors and their members. Its value-based solutions address the social determinants of health ("SDoH") by connecting members to essential care services. By doing so, ModivCare helps health plans manage risks, reduce costs, and improve health outcomes. ModivCare is a provider of non-emergency medical transportation ("NEMT"), personal care services ("PCS"), and in-home monitoring solutions ("Monitoring"), which serve similar, highly vulnerable patient populations. The technology-enabled operating model in its NEMT segment includes the coordination of non-emergency medical transportation services supported by an infrastructure of core competencies in risk underwriting, contact center management, network credentialing and claims management. Additionally, its personal care services in its PCS segment include placements of non-medical personal care assistants, home health aides and nurses primarily to Medicaid patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing daily living activities in the home setting. ModivCare's in-home monitoring solutions in its Monitoring segment include in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions.

ModivCare also holds a 43.6% minority interest in CCHN Group Holdings, Inc. and its subsidiaries, which operate under the Matrix Medical Network brand ("Matrix"). Matrix, which is included in our Corporate and Other segment, maintains a national network of community-based clinicians who deliver in-home and on-site services.

Basis of Presentation

The Company follows accounting standards established by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"). The FASB establishes accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP"). Rules and interpretive releases of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") under the authority of federal securities laws are also sources of authoritative GAAP for SEC registrants. References to GAAP issued by the FASB in these notes are to the FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC"), which serves as the single source of authoritative accounting and applicable reporting standards to be applied for non-governmental entities. All amounts are presented in U.S. dollars unless otherwise noted.

The Company accounts for its investment in Matrix using the equity method, as the Company does not control the decision-making process or business management practices of Matrix. While the Company has access to certain information and performs certain procedures to review the reasonableness of information, the Company relies on the management of Matrix to provide accurate financial information prepared in accordance with GAAP. The Company receives audit reports relating to such financial information from Matrix's independent auditors on an annual basis. The Company is not aware of any errors in or possible misstatements of the financial information provided by Matrix that would have a material effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements. See Note 6, Equity Investment, for further information.

Going Concern

In accordance with ASC 205-40, Presentation of Financial Statements – Going Concern, Management evaluates whether there are conditions or events that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of one year from the date of financial statement issuance and to provide related footnote disclosures in certain circumstances. The accompanying consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP, assuming the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business.

During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company has experienced financial challenges, including increased transportation and caregiver costs that have not been offset by corresponding reimbursement rate increases from payors, the loss of certain contracts, and membership declines. These factors have negatively impacted cash flow generation and liquidity. Additionally, the Company has experienced lengthened collection periods due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements, resulting in delays between recognizing revenue for services rendered and collecting cash owed for our services. This prolonged cash conversion cycle places further strain on liquidity and working capital. As a result, the Company is likely to require additional liquidity in order to support ongoing operations over the next year.

As of the issuance date of these consolidated financial statements, the Company also entered into Amendment No. 5 (the "Fifth Amendment") to its Credit Agreement (see Note 11, Debt for further details) which, among other things, established an incremental term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $75.0 million (the "Incremental Term Loan"). The Incremental Term Loan is a short-term facility with a maturity date of January 10, 2026 and, as a result of the factors described above, the Company is likely to require additional liquidity in order to satisfy its existing debt obligations due within one year from the date of the issuance of these consolidated financial statements.

As a result of the foregoing, the Company is not expected to have the ability to meet one or more financial covenants under its existing credit agreements. Failure to meet these covenants or others could cause obligations under the Revolving Credit Facility (as defined in Note 11, Debt), the Term Loan Facility (as defined in Note 11, Debt), the Incremental Term Loan (as defined above), and the Company's Notes due 2029 (as defined in Note 11, Debt), to become immediately due and payable, and the Company would not have sufficient liquidity to satisfy such obligations. In such event, the Company would be required to restructure its existing debt or to seek additional equity or debt financing to meet its obligations.

Furthermore, these factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to satisfy its obligations as they become due within one year from the issuance date of these financial statements. Accordingly, Management has concluded that substantial doubt exists about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

To address these concerns, Management has implemented cost optimization measures, renegotiated contract terms, and secured amendments to its credit agreements, including a temporary financial covenant holiday. Management is actively pursuing further financing options, evaluating strategic asset divestitures, long-term covenant relief and implementing operational efficiencies to improve liquidity. There can be no assurance that additional financing, additional liquidity from asset divestitures or long-term covenant relief will be available on terms acceptable to the Company, or at all, or in amounts sufficient to enable the Company to satisfy its obligations as they become due or to sustain operations in the future.

Impact of the COVID-19 Pandemic

On May 11, 2023, the Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS") declared the end of the public health emergency ("PHE") for the COVID-19 pandemic. While the Company has continued to experience increased trip volume, service hours, and patient engagement each year following the pandemic, structural changes in the industry as a result of the pandemic, as well as ongoing constraints on the labor market, specifically related to the strain on healthcare professionals, could continue to have an adverse impact on the Company's financial statements. The Company continues to actively monitor the structural changes to the industry and the impact these have on our business and results of operations with an emphasis on protecting the health and safety of its employees, maximizing the availability of its services and products to support SDoH, and supporting the operational and financial stability of its business.

2. Significant Accounting Policies and Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Principles of Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements include ModivCare Inc., its wholly-owned subsidiaries, and entities it controls, or in which it has a variable interest and is the primary beneficiary of expected cash profits or losses. The Company records its investments in entities that it does not control, but over which it has the ability to exercise significant influence, using the equity method. The Company has eliminated significant intercompany transactions and accounts.

Accounting Estimates

The Company uses estimates and assumptions in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with GAAP. Those estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the Company's consolidated financial statements. These estimates and assumptions also affect the reported amount of net income or loss during any period. The Company's actual financial results could differ significantly from these estimates. The significant estimates underlying the Company's consolidated financial statements include revenue recognition; accrued transportation costs; income taxes; recoverability of current and long-lived assets, including equity method investments; intangible assets and goodwill; loss contingencies; accounting for business combinations, including amounts assigned to definite and indefinite lived intangibles and contingent consideration; and loss reserves for reinsurance and self-funded insurance programs.

Fair Value Measurements

The Company follows FASB ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurement ("ASC 820") which establishes a three-level valuation hierarchy for disclosure of fair value measurements. The valuation hierarchy categorizes assets and liabilities measured at fair value into one of three different levels depending on the observability of the inputs employed in the measurement. The three levels are defined as follows:

- Level 1: Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets – inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices in active markets as of the measurement date for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Significant Other Observable Inputs – inputs to the valuation methodology are based upon quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active, and inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.
- Level 3: Significant Unobservable Inputs – inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

A financial instrument's categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the asset or liability. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the carrying amount for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable (net of allowance for credit losses), current assets and current liabilities was equal to or approximated fair value due to their short-term nature or proximity to current market rates. Fair values for the Company's publicly traded debt securities are based on quoted market prices, when available, and for the Company's nonpublic debt are based on lender quotes, when available. See Note 11, Debt, for the fair value of the Company's long-term debt.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include all cash balances and highly liquid investments with an initial maturity of three months or less. Investments in cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value. The Company places its temporary cash investments with high credit quality financial institutions. At times, such investments may be in excess of the federally insured limits.

Restricted Cash

Restricted cash primarily relates to amounts held in trusts for reinsurance claims losses under the Company's insurance operation for historical workers' compensation, general and professional liability and auto liability reinsurance programs, as well as amounts restricted for withdrawal under our self-insured medical and benefits plans.

Accounts Receivable and Allowance for Credit Losses

The Company records accounts receivable amounts at the contractual amount, less contractual revenue adjustments based on amounts expected to be due from payors and less an allowance for credit losses. The Company maintains an allowance for credit losses at an amount it estimates to be sufficient to cover the risk that an account will not be collected due to credit risk. In order to establish the amount of the allowance related to the credit risk of accounts receivable, the Company considers information related to receivables that are past due, past loss experience, current and forecasted economic conditions, and other relevant factors. In circumstances where the Company is aware of a customer's inability to meet its financial obligation, the Company records a specific allowance for credit losses to reduce its net recognized receivable to an amount the Company reasonably expects to collect. As the Company primarily contracts with Medicaid and Medicare governmental payors, the Company is not subject to significant credit risk in the collection of accounts receivable.

The Company's bad debt expense for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022 was $4.4 million, $4.0 million and $2.7 million, respectively.

Business Combinations

The Company accounts for acquisitions in accordance with ASC Topic 805, Business Combinations. The acquisition method of accounting requires the Company to make significant estimates and assumptions as of the date of the acquisition related to the determination of the fair values (primarily Level 3) of the tangible and intangible assets acquired and liabilities assumed, and related to the determination of estimated lives of the depreciable assets acquired. The Company recognizes goodwill at the amount by which the purchase price exceeds the fair value of identified assets acquired and liabilities assumed. See Note 3, Acquisitions, for further discussion of the Company's acquisitions.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at historical cost, net of accumulated depreciation, or at fair value if the assets were initially recorded as the result of a business combination or if the asset was remeasured due to an impairment. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the asset to the Company. Maintenance and repairs are expensed as incurred. Gains and losses resulting from the disposition of an asset are reflected in results of operations.

Internal-use Software

The Company develops and implements software for internal use to enhance the performance and capabilities of the technology infrastructure. The costs incurred for the development of the internal-use software are capitalized when they meet the internal-use software capitalization criteria outlined in ASC 350-40 and are included within "Property and equipment, net" on the consolidated balance sheets. The capitalized costs are amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the software, ranging from 3 to 10 years. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, capitalized costs associated with the internal-use software, net of accumulated amortization were $26.1 million and $21.3 million, respectively. The amount of accumulated amortization as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $7.8 million and $2.6 million, respectively. Amortization expense during the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023, and 2022 totaled $5.2 million, $2.5 million, and $0.1 million respectively.

In addition to acquired software, the Company capitalizes costs associated with cloud computing arrangements ("CCA") that are service contracts. The CCA includes services which are used to support certain internal corporate functions as well as technology associated with revenue-generating activities. The capitalized costs are amortized using the straight-line method over the term of the related CCA. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, capitalized costs associated with CCA, net of accumulated amortization were $11.9 million and $14.6 million, respectively. The amount of accumulated amortization as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $10.3 million and $5.2 million, respectively. Amortization expense during the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023, and 2022, totaled $5.1 million, $2.9 million and $1.7 million, respectively.

In accordance with ASC 350, Intangibles-Goodwill and Other, the Company reviews goodwill for impairment annually, and more frequently if events and circumstances indicate that an asset may be impaired. Such circumstances could include, but are not limited to: (1) the loss or modification of significant contracts, (2) a significant adverse change in legal factors or in business climate, (3) unanticipated competition, (4) an adverse action or assessment by a regulator, or (5) a significant decline in the Company's stock price.

When evaluating goodwill for impairment, the Company first performs a qualitative assessment for each reporting unit to determine whether it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying value. If the qualitative assessment suggests that it is more likely than not that the fair value of a reporting unit is less than its carrying value, then the Company performs a quantitative assessment and compares the fair value of the reporting unit to its carrying value and to the extent the carrying value is greater than the fair value, the difference is recorded as an impairment in the consolidated statements of operations.

The Company performed a quantitative test comparing the carrying value of the Company's reporting units with their respective fair value. The fair value of the Company's reporting units is estimated using either an income approach, a market valuation approach, or a blended approach. The income approach produces an estimated fair value of a reporting unit based on the present value of the cash flows the Company expects the reporting unit to generate in the future. Estimates included in the discounted cash flow model are primarily Level 3 inputs and include the discount rate, which the Company determines based on adjusting an industry-wide weighted-average cost of capital for size, geography, risk free rates, and company specific risk factors, long-term rates of growth and profitability of the Company's business, working capital effects and planned capital expenditures. The market approach produces an estimated fair value of a reporting unit based on a comparison of the reporting unit to comparable publicly traded entities in similar lines of business. The Company's significant estimates in the market approach include the selected similar companies with comparable business factors such as size, growth, profitability, risk and return on investment and the multiples the Company applies to earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA") to estimate the fair value of the reporting unit.

As a result of the Company's annual goodwill assessments during the years 2024 and 2023, the Company determined that based on its qualitative assessment for each reporting unit, factors existed which required the Company to test its goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment. Accordingly, the Company performed a quantitative assessment during each annual testing period which resulted in the Company recording a non-cash goodwill impairment charge of $105.3 million within its Monitoring reporting unit during the 2024 annual period and recording a non-cash goodwill impairment charge of $183.1 million, of which $137.3 million was recorded in the PCS reporting unit and $45.8 million was recorded in the Monitoring reporting unit during the 2023 annual period. See Note 9, Goodwill and Intangible Assets, for additional details.

Recoverability of Intangible Assets Subject to Amortization and Other Long-Lived Assets

Intangible assets subject to amortization and other long-lived assets are carried at cost and are amortized or depreciated on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 2 to 10 years. In accordance with ASC 360, Property, Plant, and Equipment, the Company reviews the carrying value of long-lived assets or groups of assets to be used in operations whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may be impaired. Factors that may necessitate an impairment assessment include, among others, significant adverse changes in the extent or manner in which an asset or group of assets is used, significant adverse changes in legal factors or the business climate that could affect the value of an asset or group of assets or significant declines in the observable market value of an asset or group of assets. The presence or occurrence of those events indicates that an asset or group of assets may be impaired. In those cases, the Company assesses the recoverability of an asset or group of assets by determining whether the carrying value of the asset or group of assets exceeds the sum of the projected undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the assets over the remaining economic life of the asset or the primary asset in the group of assets. If such testing indicates the carrying value of the asset or group of assets is not recoverable, the Company estimates the fair value of the asset or group of assets using appropriate valuation methodologies, which would typically include an estimate of discounted cash flows. If the fair value of those assets or groups of assets is less than carrying value, the Company records an impairment loss equal to the excess of the carrying value over the estimated fair value.

Accrued Transportation Costs

The Company generally contracts with third-party providers to provide transportation services to customers. The cost of transportation is recorded in the month the services are rendered based upon contractual rates and mileage estimates. Once a trip is completed, the third-party transportation providers will furnish invoices for actual mileage incurred. Any trips that have not been invoiced require an accrual based upon the expected cost of the trips as well as an estimated number of cancellations, as the Company is generally only obligated to pay the transportation provider for completed trips. These estimates are based upon the historical trend associated with each contract's population and the transportation provider network servicing the program. There may be differences between actual invoiced amounts and estimated costs, and any resulting adjustments are included in expense. Accrued transportation costs were $96.7 million and $97.2 million at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Deferred Financing Costs and Debt Discounts

The Company capitalizes costs incurred in connection with its credit facilities and other borrowings, referred to as deferred financing costs, and amortizes such costs over the life of the respective credit facility or other borrowings. Costs associated with the revolving facility are capitalized as deferred financing costs and included in "Prepaid expenses and other current assets" on the consolidated balance sheets. Costs associated with term loans are capitalized and included as a reduction to the debt balance on the consolidated balance sheets. Deferred financing costs for the Revolving Credit Facility, net of amortization, totaled $2.9 million and $2.6 million as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. A debt discount for the $500.0 million Senior Unsecured Notes due 2025 of $6.0 million was netted against the outstanding balance of the long-term debt on the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2023, with no corresponding debt discount netted against the outstanding balance of December 31, 2024 due to the redemption of the 2025 Notes during the year ended December 31, 2024. Debt discounts for the $500.0 million Senior Unsecured Notes due 2029 of $8.7 million and $10.3 million are netted against the outstanding balance of the long-term debt on the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Deferred financing costs associated with the Term Loan Facility that was entered into in 2024 of $22.0 million are netted against the outstanding balance of the long-term debt on the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2024, with no corresponding deferred financing costs as of December 31, 2023.

Revenue Recognition

Under ASC 606, the Company recognizes revenue as it transfers promised services directly to its customers at the amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for providing these services. The Company's performance obligations are driven by its different segments of business and primarily consist of integrated service offerings to provide non-emergency medical transportation, personal care services, or remote monitoring services directly to its customers. The Company receives payment for providing these services from third-party payors that include federal, state, and local governmental agencies, managed care organizations, and private consumers. In the NEMT segment, the Company's performance obligation is to stand ready to perform transportation-related activities, including the management, fulfillment, and recordkeeping activities associated with such services. In the PCS segment, the Company's performance obligation is to deliver patient care services in accordance with the nature and frequency of services outlined in each contract. In the Monitoring segment, the Company's performance obligation is to stand ready to perform in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions, as contractually agreed upon. The Company satisfies substantially all of its performance obligations over time and recognizes revenue over time instead of at points in time which aligns the pattern of transfer of promised services with the value received by the customer for the performance completed to date.

The Company holds different contract types under its different segments of business. In the NEMT segment, there are both capitated contracts, under which payors pay a fixed amount monthly per eligible member and revenue is recognized over each distinct service period, and fee-for-service ("FFS") contracts, under which the Company bills and collects a specified amount for each service that is provided and revenue is recognized using the right to invoice practical expedient. In the PCS segment, contracts are also FFS and service revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amount from patients and third-party payors for services rendered and revenue is recognized using the right to invoice practical expedient. Under Monitoring contracts, payors pay per-enrolled-member-per-month, based on enrolled membership, and revenue is recognized ratably over the contract term. For each contract type, the Company determines the transaction price based on the gross charges for services provided, reduced by estimates for contractual adjustments due to settlements of audits and payment reviews from third-party payors. The Company determines the estimated revenue adjustments at each segment based on its historical experience with various third-party payors and previous results from the claims and adjudication process. The PCS segment uses the portfolio approach to determine the estimated revenue adjustments. See further information in Note 5, Revenue Recognition.

Government Grants

The Company periodically receives government grants and other forms of government assistance which are not generated from the Company's contractual performance obligations under ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Funding received from governmental entities under government programs generally requires that the recipient attests to and complies with certain terms and conditions of receiving the funding. Government grant distributions have been received primarily under the CARES Act Public Health and Social Services Emergency Fund ("Provider Relief Fund" or "PRF") and the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 ("ARPA") Coronavirus State and Local Fiscal Recovery Fund ("SLFRF"). These funds were established to provide economic relief payments and stimulus to companies to address the health and economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic. During the third quarter of 2023, the Company also filed amended payroll tax returns for 2020 and 2021 to claim refunds for Employee Retention Credits ("ERC"). ERC is a U.S. federal tax credit introduced to support businesses and organizations during the COVID-19 pandemic that was initially established under the CARES Act in 2020 and was later expanded and extended by subsequent legislation, including the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2021 and the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021. The Company has also received government grant distributions from other entities that provide funds with specific stipulations on the usage of these funds. Distributions received under the CARES Act PRF and the ARPA SLFRF are targeted to assist with incremental health care related expenses or lost revenue attributable to the COVID-19 pandemic and/or provide stimulus to support long-term growth and recovery. When received, these government grants are generally recorded on the consolidated balance sheets in "Accrued expenses and other current liabilities" until the time at which there is reasonable assurance the conditions of the grant will be met, at which point they are recognized on the consolidated statement of operations. Once recognized, the Company records these government grants as "Grant income" if the grant is related to the loss of revenues, or as an offset to "Service expense" if the grant is used to offset certain costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. The Company received distributions from government grants of approximately $19.5 million, $21.8 million, $16.3 million during the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023, and 2022, respectively. During the year ended December 31, 2024, no funds were recognized as grant income and $24.1 million were recognized as an offset to "Service expense." During the year ended December 31, 2023, $5.0 million were recognized as "Grant income" and $14.2 million were recognized as an offset to "Service expense." During the year ended December 31, 2022, $7.4 million were recognized as grant income and $1.6 million were recognized as an offset to "Service expense." The remaining balance is recorded on the consolidated balance sheets in "Accrued expenses and other current liabilities" until the conditions for recognition have been met. See further information in Note 10, Accrued Expenses and Other Current Liabilities.

The payments from these acts are subject to certain restrictions and possible recoupment if not used for designated purposes. As a condition to receiving PRF distributions, providers must agree to certain terms and conditions, including, among other things, that the funds are being used for healthcare related expenses and lost revenues attributable to COVID-19, as defined by HHS. All recipients of PRF payments are required to comply with the reporting requirements described in the terms and conditions and as determined by HHS. The Company has submitted the required documents to meet reporting requirements for the applicable reporting periods. The Company received an audit inquiry letter from HHS related to one of the business units that received PRF payments, to which the Company has responded and submitted all requested information and believes that the payments received are substantiated and within the terms and conditions defined by HHS and continues to recognize these amounts as grant income. At this time, the Company is unaware of any other pending or upcoming audits or inquiries related to amounts received under PRF.

As a condition to receiving SLFRF distributions, providers must agree to use the funds to respond to the Public Health Emergency ("PHE") or its negative economic impacts, to respond to workers performing essential work by providing premium pay to eligible workers and to offset reduction in revenue due to the COVID-19 PHE as stipulated by the states in which the funds were received. All recipients of SLFRF distributions are required to comply with the reporting requirements that the state in which the funds originated requests in order for the states to meet the requirements as described in the terms and conditions as determined by the Department of the Treasury. The Company is in the process of complying with all known reporting requirements to date.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company follows the fair value recognition provisions of ASC Topic 718 – Compensation – Stock Compensation ("ASC 718"), which requires companies to measure and recognize compensation expense for all share-based payments at fair value.

- The Company calculates the fair value of stock options using the Black-Scholes option-pricing formula and determines the fair value of restricted stock awards or units ("RSAs" or "RSUs") based on the closing market price of the Company's Common Stock on the date of grant. Forfeitures for stock options, RSAs, and RSUs are recorded as they occur. The expense for stock-based compensation awards is amortized on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period, which is typically the vesting period.
- The Company issues performance-based RSUs ("PRSUs") that vest upon achievement of pre-established company specific performance conditions and a service period. The fair value of the PRSUs is determined based on the closing market price of the Company's Common Stock on the grant date and an assessment of the probability the performance targets will be achieved. Forfeitures are recorded as they occur. The expense for such awards is recognized over the requisite service period.

Income Taxes

Deferred income taxes are determined by the asset and liability method in accordance with ASC Topic 740 - Income Taxes. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes and are measured using the enacted tax rates and laws that are expected to be in effect when the differences are expected to reverse. The Company considers many factors when assessing the likelihood of future realization of deferred tax assets, including recent earnings experience by jurisdiction, expectations of future taxable income, and the carryforward periods available for tax reporting purposes, as well as other relevant factors. The Company establishes a valuation allowance to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount that is more likely than not to be realized. The net amount of deferred tax liabilities and assets, net of the valuation allowance, is presented as non-current in the Company's consolidated balance sheets.

Due to inherent complexities arising from the nature of the Company's businesses, future changes in income tax law or variances between the Company's actual and anticipated operating results, the Company makes certain judgments and estimates. Therefore, actual income taxes could materially vary from these estimates.

The Company has recorded a valuation allowance which includes amounts for certain carryforwards and deferred tax assets, as more fully described in Note 16, Income Taxes, for which the Company has concluded that it is more likely than not that these carryforwards and deferred tax assets will not be realized in the ordinary course of operations.

The Company recognizes interest and penalties related to income taxes as a component of income tax expense.

The Company accounts for uncertain tax positions based on a two-step process of evaluating recognition and measurement criteria. The first step assesses whether the tax position is more likely than not to be sustained upon examination by the tax authority, including resolution of any appeals or litigation, based on the technical merits of the position. If the tax position meets the more likely than not criteria, the portion of the tax benefit greater than 50.0% likely to be realized upon settlement with the tax authority is recognized in the consolidated financial statements.

Loss Reserves for Certain Reinsurance Programs

The Company historically reinsured a substantial portion of its automobile, general and professional liability and workers' compensation costs under certain reinsurance programs. The Company utilizes a report prepared by an independent actuary to estimate the gross expected losses related to these reinsurance policies, including the estimated losses in excess of insured limits, which would be reimbursed to the Company to the extent such losses were incurred. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company had reserves of $30.0 million and $20.2 million, respectively, for the automobile, general and professional liability and workers' compensation reinsurance policies. The gross reserve as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 of $58.0 million and $45.7 million, respectively, is classified as current liabilities and other long-term liabilities in the consolidated balance sheets. The estimated amount to be reimbursed to the Company as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $28.0 million and $25.5 million, respectively, and is classified as other long-term assets in the consolidated balance sheets.

The Company regularly analyzes its reserves for incurred but not reported claims, and for reported but not paid claims related to its reinsurance and self-funded insurance programs. The Company believes its reserves are adequate. However, judgment is involved in assessing these reserves, such as in assessing historical paid claims, average lag times between the claims' incurred date, reported dates and paid dates, and the frequency and severity of claims. There may be differences between actual settlement amounts and recorded reserves and any resulting adjustments are included in expense once a probable amount is known.

Self-Funded Insurance Programs

The Company also maintains a self-funded health insurance program with a stop-loss umbrella policy with a third-party insurer to limit the maximum potential liability for individual claims generally to $0.3 million per person, subject to an aggregating stop-loss limit of $0.4 million. In addition, the program has a total stop-loss limit for total claims, in order to limit the Company's exposure to catastrophic claims. With respect to this program, the Company considers historical and projected medical utilization data when estimating its health insurance program liability and related expense. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company had $3.3 million and $1.8 million, respectively, in reserves for its self-funded health insurance programs. The reserves are classified as "Accrued expenses and other current liabilities" in the consolidated balance sheets.

Earnings (Loss) Per Share

The Company computes basic earnings (loss) per share by taking net income (loss) attributable to the Company available to common stockholders divided by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period, including restricted stock and stock held in escrow if such shares are participating securities. Diluted earnings (loss) per share includes the potential dilution that may occur from stock-based awards and other stock-based commitments using the treasury stock or the as-if converted methods, as applicable. For additional information on how the Company computes earnings (loss) per share, see Note 14, Earnings (Loss) Per Share.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07, Segment Reporting (Topic 280): Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures ("ASU 2023-07"). This update improves reportable segment disclosure requirements, primarily through enhanced disclosure about significant segment expenses. The enhancements under this update require disclosure of significant segment expenses that are regularly provided to the Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") and included within each reported measure of segment profit or loss, require disclosure of other segment items by reportable segment and a description of the composition of other segment items, require annual disclosures under ASC 280 to be provided in interim periods, clarify use of more than one measure of segment profit or loss by the CODM, require that the title of the CODM be disclosed with an explanation of how the CODM uses the reported measures of segment profit or loss to make decisions, and require that entities with a single reportable segment provide all disclosures required by this update and required under ASC 280. ASU 2023-07 is effective for public business entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2023, with early adoption permitted. The Company adopted ASU 2023-07 for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2024.

Recent accounting pronouncements that the Company has yet to adopt are as follows:

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures ("ASU 2023-09"). This update enhances the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures including updates to the disclosures related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid. These updates improve transparency by requiring consistent categories and greater disaggregation of information in the rate reconciliation and requiring income taxes paid to be disaggregated by jurisdiction. ASU 2023-09 is effective for public business entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted.

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, Income Statement - Reporting Comprehensive Income - Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses ("ASU 2024-03"). This update improves the disclosures about a public business entity's expenses and addresses requests from investors for more detailed information about the types of expenses in commonly presented expense captions (such as cost of sales; selling, general, and administrative expenses; and research and development). This update provides investors with disaggregated information about public business entity's expenses to help investors better understand the entity's performance; better assess the entity's prospects for future cash flows; and compare an entity's performance over time with that of other entities. ASU 2024-03 is effective for all public business entities for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027, with early adoption permitted.

3. Acquisitions

Guardian Medical Monitoring

On May 11, 2022, the Company acquired Guardian Medical Monitoring ("GMM"), a provider of remote patient monitoring solutions that manages a comprehensive suite of services including in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems and vitals monitoring devices. The acquisition of GMM supports the Company's strategy to expand its Monitoring segment and enhances the Company's suite of supportive care solutions that address SDoH.

The stock transaction was accounted for in accordance with ASC 805, Business Combinations in which a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company acquired 100.0% of the equity securities of GMM for $71.2 million (a purchase price of $71.6 million less $0.4 million of cash that was acquired).

The following table summarizes the allocation of the consideration transferred to acquired identifiable assets and assumed liabilities as of the acquisition date of May 11, 2022 (in thousands):

Cash[1]	$ 391
Accounts receivable[2]	2,355
Prepaid expenses and other[3]	771
Property and equipment[4]	2,639
Intangible assets[5]	21,950
Goodwill[6]	44,346
Accounts payable[7]	(281)
Accrued expenses and other current liabilities[7]	(577)
Total of assets acquired less liabilities assumed	$ 71,594

(1) During 2022, the Company received an additional $0.1 million of cash related to net working capital adjustments, and therefore, the initial balance of $0.3 million was increased to $0.4 million.
(2) Management has valued accounts receivable based on the estimated future collectability of the receivables portfolio. During 2022, it was determined that $0.6 million of the initial accounts receivable balance was uncollectible, and therefore, the initial balance of $3.0 million was decreased to $2.4 million.
(3) Given the short-term nature of the balance of prepaid expenses and other assets, the carrying value represents the fair value.
(4) The acquired property and equipment consists primarily of personal emergency response system devices, with the remainder consisting of computer equipment and furniture and fixtures. The Company valued the personal emergency response system devices utilizing the cost approach. Through this valuation, it was determined that $0.1 million of acquired property and equipment did not exist, and therefore, the initial balance of $2.7 million was decreased to $2.6 million. The carrying value of the remainder of the property and equipment, consisting primarily of computer equipment and furniture and fixtures, is assumed to represent the fair value.
(5) The allocation of consideration exchanged to intangible assets acquired is as follows (in thousands, except useful lives):

	Type	Useful Life	Value
Payor network	Amortizable	7 years	$ 21,600
Trade name	Amortizable	2 years	350
			$ 21,950

The Company valued the payor network utilizing the multi-period excess earnings method and trade names utilizing the relief-from-royalty method. The weighted average useful life of the acquired intangible assets is approximately 6.9 years.

(6) The acquisition initially resulted in $43.7 million of goodwill as a result of expected synergies due to future customers driven by expansion into different markets and an increase in market share. During the measurement period, accounts receivable was reduced by $0.6 million which caused a corresponding increase to goodwill. Also during the measurement period, cash increased by $0.1 million related to working capital adjustments, which caused a corresponding decrease to goodwill, and acquired property and equipment decreased by $0.1 million, which caused a corresponding increase to goodwill. The result of these adjustments was a total goodwill balance of $44.3 million. All of the acquired goodwill is deductible for tax purposes.

(7) Due to the short-term nature of the accounts, the carrying value is assumed to represent the fair value for accounts payable and accrued expenses and other current liabilities as of the acquisition date.

Since the date of the acquisition, GMM revenue of $11.9 million and net income of $1.8 million are included in the Company's consolidated results of operations.

Asset Acquisitions

On May 30, 2022, the Company entered into an asset purchase agreement with a private entity to purchase certain customer contracts within our PCS segment. Pursuant to the purchase agreement, the contracts were acquired for total consideration of $7.6 million in cash, subject to certain adjustments.

The transaction was accounted for as an asset acquisition in accordance with ASC 805, Business Combinations. The fair value of the net consideration is as follows (in thousands, except useful lives):

	Type	Useful Life	Value
Payor network	Amortizable	6 years	$ 7,297
Assembled workforce	Amortizable	6 years	309

4. Segments

The Company's reportable segments are identified based on a number of factors related to how its Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") determines the allocation of resources and assesses the performance of the Company's operations. The Company's CODM is its President and Chief Executive Officer. The Company's reportable segments are strategic business units that offer different healthcare-related services to the Company's members. They are managed separately because each segment has its own distinct revenue generating activities and core business processes, which requires different technology and strategies in order to serve the varying needs of its members. The Company's CODM manages the Company under four reportable segments, the services of each are discussed in detail below.

For each of the segments, the CODM uses operating income as the measure of profit or loss to assess segment performance and allocate resources (including personnel, financial, and capital resources) during periodic budgeting and forecasting processes and budget-to-actual variance reviews. The Company's operating income for the reportable segments includes an allocated portion of corporate expenses to the respective segments and includes revenues and all other costs directly attributable to the specific segment.

The CODM uses total assets as the measure of assets attributable to each segment and reviews this measure in conjunction with segment performance to allocate capital to technology investments and projects in each segment in order to identify the best deployment of resources.

- NEMT - The Company's NEMT segment is the largest manager of non-emergency medical transportation programs for state governments and managed care organizations, or MCOs, in the U.S. This segment also holds the results of the Company's captive insurance program;
- PCS - The Company's PCS segment provides in home personal care services to State and Managed Medicaid, Medicare, and Private Pay patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing activities of daily living;

- Monitoring - The Company's Monitoring segment provides in-home monitoring solutions, including in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions; and

- Corporate and Other - The Company's Corporate and Other segment includes the costs associated with the Company's corporate operations as well as the results of an investment in innovation related to expanding our virtual care, digital engagement, monitoring capabilities, and member insights and analytics that the Company made at the end of the first quarter of 2023, which contributes to service revenue and service expense. The operating results of the Corporate and Other segment include activities related to executive, accounting, finance, internal audit, tax, legal, debt and the related interest expense, and certain strategic and corporate development functions for each segment, the results of this investment in innovation, as well as the results of the Company's Matrix investment.

5. Revenue Recognition

Under ASC 606, the Company recognizes revenue as it transfers promised services to its customers and generates all of its revenue from contracts with customers. The amount of revenue recognized reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for these services. The Company satisfies substantially all of its performance obligations over time and recognizes revenue over time instead of at points in time.

Revenue Contract Structure

NEMT Capitated Contracts (per-member-per-month)

Under capitated contracts, payors pay a fixed amount per eligible member per month. Capitation rates are generally based on expected costs and volume of services. The Company assumes the responsibility of meeting the covered healthcare related transportation requirements based on per-member per-month fees for the number of eligible members in the payor's program. Revenue is recognized based on the population served during the period. Certain capitated contracts have provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors or profit rebates. For contracts with reconciliation provisions, capitation payment is received as a prepayment during the month service is provided. These prepayments are reconciled based on actual cost and/or trip volume and may result in refunds to the payor, or additional payments due from the payor. Contracts with risk corridor or profit rebate provisions allow for profit within a certain corridor and once the Company reaches profit level thresholds or maximums, it discontinues recognizing revenue and instead records a liability within the accrued contract payable account. This liability may be reduced through future increases in trip volume or periodic settlements with the payor. While a profit rebate provision could only result in a liability from this profit threshold, a risk corridor provision could potentially result in a receivable if the Company does not reach certain profit minimums, which would be recorded in the reconciliation contract receivables account.

NEMT Fee-for-service Contracts

Fee-for-service ("FFS") revenue represents revenue earned under non-capitated contracts in which the Company bills and collects a specified amount for each service that it provides. FFS revenue is recognized in the period in which the services are rendered and is reduced by the estimated impact of contractual allowances.

PCS Fee-for-service Contracts

PCS FFS revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amount from clients, patients and third-party payors for services rendered based on actual personal care hours provided. Payment for services received from third-party payors includes, but is not limited to, insurance companies, governmental agencies and other home health care providers who subcontract work to the Company. Certain contracts are subject to retroactive audit and possible adjustment by those payors based on the nature of the contract or costs incurred. The Company makes estimates of adjustments and considers these in the recognition of revenue in the period in which the related services are rendered. The difference between estimated settlement and actual settlement is reported in net service revenues as adjustments become known or as years are no longer subject to such audits, reviews, or investigations.

Monitoring per-member-per-month Contracts

Monitoring per-member-per-month ("PMPM") revenue consists of revenue from monitoring services provided to the customer. Under Monitoring contracts, payors pay per-enrolled-member-per-month based on enrolled membership. Consideration is generally fixed for each type of monitoring service and revenue is recognized ratably over the contract term based on the monthly fee paid by customers.

9. Goodwill and Intangible Assets

The Company tests goodwill for impairment for its reporting units annually as of July 1 or more frequently when events or changes in circumstances indicate that impairment may have occurred. The Company reviews its intangible assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of an asset group may not be recoverable.

Goodwill

During the second quarter of 2024, the Company determined that based on its qualitative assessment for each reporting unit, factors existed which required the Company to test its goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment. These factors included changes in key assumptions from the prior year annual goodwill assessment as a result of lower than anticipated operating results during the first half of 2024 as compared to forecast which resulted in a decrease in the fair value of the Company's Monitoring reporting unit such that the fair value was less than its carrying value. As a result, the Company performed a quantitative assessment using a blend of both the income approach and the market approach to estimate the fair value of the reporting units and determined that the goodwill at its Monitoring reporting unit was impaired. As such, during the second quarter of 2024, the Company recorded a non-cash goodwill impairment charge of $105.3 million in the Monitoring reporting unit resulting in $129.6 million of remaining goodwill as of December 31, 2024. This impairment is recorded in "Impairment of goodwill" on the Company's consolidated statement of operations.

During the second quarter of 2023, the Company determined that based on its qualitative assessment for each reporting unit, factors existed which required the Company to test its goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets for impairment. These factors included a decline in the market price of the Company's common stock, industry specific regulatory pressures such as Medicaid redetermination and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS") proposed ruling on Ensuring Access to Medicaid Services, and general economic and market volatility. As a result, the Company performed a quantitative assessment using a blend of both the income approach and the market approach to estimate the fair value of the reporting units and determined that the goodwill at its PCS and Monitoring reporting units was impaired. As such, during the second quarter of 2023, the Company recorded a non-cash goodwill impairment charge of $183.1 million, of which $137.3 million was recorded in the PCS reporting unit and $45.8 million was recorded in the Monitoring reporting unit resulting in $415.4 million and $234.9 million of remaining goodwill, respectively, as of December 31, 2023.

After recording the impairment charges discussed above during the years ending December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively, the PCS and Monitoring reporting units have $545.0 million of goodwill remaining as of December 31, 2024. In the future, if, among other factors, (i) the Company's equity values were to decline significantly, (ii) the Company experienced additional adverse impacts associated with macroeconomic factors, including increases in our estimated weighted average cost of capital, or (iii) the adverse impacts stemming from competition, economic, regulatory or other factors were to cause the Company's results of operations or cash flows to be worse than currently anticipated, the Company could conclude in future periods that additional impairment charges of certain reporting units are required in order to reduce the carrying values of goodwill. Any such impairment charges could be significant.

Changes in the carrying amount of goodwill by reportable segment are presented in the following table (in thousands):

	NEMT	PCS	Monitoring	Corporate and Other	Total
Goodwill balances as of December 31, 2022, before cumulative loss

	$ 135,186	$ 415,444	$ 129,592	$ 30	$ 680,252

The total amount of goodwill that was deductible for income tax purposes related to acquisitions as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $219.8 million and $317.3 million, respectively.

Impairment

The Company recorded goodwill impairment charges of $105.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2024 and $183.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2023, and did not record any goodwill or intangible asset impairment charges for the year ended December 31, 2022. The accumulated impairment losses on goodwill totaled $384.4 million and $279.1 million as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are comprised of acquired payor networks, trademarks and trade names, developed technology, non-compete agreements, licenses, and an assembled workforce. Finite-lived intangible assets are amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated economic lives of the assets. These finite-lived intangible assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of such assets may not be recoverable. Indefinite-lived intangible assets are not amortized, but are tested for impairment annually and more frequently if events occur or circumstances change that indicate an asset may be impaired. Based on the continued value of the definite-lived and indefinite-lived intangible assets acquired, the Company did not identify any circumstances during the years ended December 31, 2024 or 2023 that would require an impairment test for our intangible assets.

As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, intangible assets consisted of the following (in thousands, except estimated useful lives):

		December 31,
		2024		2023
	Estimated Useful Life (Yrs)	Gross Carrying Amount	Accumulated Amortization	Gross Carrying Amount	Accumulated Amortization

Total		$ 620,975	$ (338,655)	$ 621,052	$ (260,117)

The weighted-average amortization period at December 31, 2024 for intangibles was 7.7 years. No significant residual value is estimated for these intangible assets. Amortization expense was $78.5 million, $79.2 million and $80.4 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

The total amortization expense is estimated to be as follows for the next five years as of December 31, 2024 (in thousands):

Year	Amount
2025	$ 64,352
2027	51,226

(1) Accrued government grants include payments received from government entities in relation to the PRF and SLFRF to offset lost revenue or increased expenditures for which the related expenditure has not yet been incurred and thus the related payments are deferred as of December 31, 2024 and 2023.

11. Debt

The Company's long-term debt and short-term debt as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 consisted of the following (in thousands):

Description	Date of Issuance	December 31, 2024	December 31, 2023

Current Portion of Term Loan Facility[2]	7/1/2024	5,250	—
Total short-term debt		$ 274,250	$ 113,800

(1) The $525.0 million Term Loan Facility bears interest at (i) a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.75% or (ii) a prime rate (or other alternate base rate) benchmark plus 3.75%% in the case of ABR Loans (as such terms are defined in the amended Credit Agreement) and matures on the earlier of (a) July 1, 2031 and (b) July 2, 2029 if any of the Company's 2029 Notes (as defined below) remain outstanding on that date.

(2) The Term Loan Facility requires principal payments of $1.3 million on a quarterly basis and accordingly, a portion of the Term Loan Facility in the amount of $5.3 million is classified as a current liability within the "Short-term debt" line item on the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2024.

Senior Unsecured Notes

The Senior Notes due 2025 (the "2025 Notes") and the Senior Notes due 2029 (the "2029 Notes") were issued pursuant to two indentures, dated November 4, 2020 and August 24, 2021, respectively, between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee. The 2025 Notes were issued in relation to the Company's acquisition of Simplura and the 2029 Notes were issued in relation to the Company's acquisition of VRI. The Company pays interest on the Notes semi-annually in arrears. Principal payments are not required until the maturity date when 100.0% of the outstanding principal will be required to be repaid.

Debt issuance costs of $14.5 million in relation to the issuance of the 2025 Notes were incurred and these costs were deferred and are amortized to interest cost over the term of the 2025 Notes. In connection with the redemption of the 2025 Notes on July 1, 2024 (discussed below), the remaining unamortized debt issuance costs were recognized as a loss on debt extinguishment that was recorded during the third quarter of 2024. Debt issuance costs of $13.5 million were incurred in relation to the issuance of the 2029 Notes and these costs were deferred and are amortized to interest cost over the term of the 2029 Notes. As of December 31, 2024, the 2029 Notes had $8.7 million of unamortized deferred issuance costs that were netted against the long-term debt balance on the consolidated balance sheets.

The 2025 Notes were redeemed in full on July 1, 2024 prior to contractual maturity, at a redemption premium of 1.469% on the aggregate original principal amount of the 2025 Notes for a total redemption of $507.3 million, plus the payment of approximately $3.8 million in accrued and unpaid interest on the 2025 Notes. As a result of the early redemption of the 2025 Notes, the Company recorded a loss on debt extinguishment of $11.8 million on the consolidated statements of operations. This loss consisted of the redemption premium of 1.469% on the aggregate original principal amount of the 2025 Notes for $7.3 million plus the recognition of the unamortized deferred issuance costs on the 2025 Notes of $4.5 million. The 2025 Notes were redeemed in connection with the funding of the Term Loan Facility discussed below.

As of December 31, 2024, the 2025 Notes were fully redeemed and thus had no associated fair value as of that date and as of December 31, 2023, had a fair value of $499.2 million. The fair value of the 2029 Notes as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 was $294.2 million and $410.0 million, respectively. The fair value of the Notes was determined based on quoted prices in active markets, and therefore designated as Level 1 within the fair value hierarchy.

The 2029 Notes are senior unsecured obligations and rank senior in right of payment to all of the Company's future subordinated indebtedness, rank equally in right of payment with all of the Company's existing and future senior indebtedness, are effectively subordinated to any of the Company's existing and future secured indebtedness, including indebtedness under the Credit Agreement, which governs the Revolving Credit Facility and Term Loan Facility discussed below, to the extent of the value of the assets securing such indebtedness, and are structurally subordinated to all of the existing and future liabilities (including trade payables) of each of the Company's non-guarantor subsidiaries.

The indenture for the 2029 Notes contains covenants that, among other things, restrict the Company's ability and the ability of its restricted subsidiaries to, among other things: incur additional indebtedness or issue disqualified capital stock; make certain investments; create or incur certain liens; enter into certain transactions with affiliates; merge, consolidate, amalgamate or transfer substantially all of its assets; agree to dividend or other payment restrictions affecting its restricted subsidiaries; and transfer or sell assets, including capital stock of its restricted subsidiaries. The indenture covering the 2029 Notes also contains a cross-default provision in the event any of the Company's other indebtedness having a principal amount that aggregates $50.0 million or more is accelerated prior to its express maturity. These covenants, however, are subject to a number of important exceptions and qualifications, and certain covenants may be suspended in the event the 2029 Notes are assigned an investment grade rating from two of three rating agencies. The indentures for the 2029 Notes provide that the notes may become subject to redemption under certain circumstances. Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement discussed in detail in the Revolving Credit Facility section below, the Company was granted covenant relief in the form of a covenant holiday for the fourth quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025.

On or after October 1, 2024, the Company may redeem all or a part of the 2029 Notes upon not less than ten nor more than 60 days' notice, at the redemption prices (expressed as percentages of principal amount) set forth below plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, on the 2029 Notes redeemed, to, but excluding, the applicable redemption date, if redeemed during the 12-month period beginning on October 1 of the years indicated below:

Year	Percentage
2026 and thereafter	100.000%

Pursuant to the 2029 Notes, the Company will pay interest on the notes at 5.0% per annum until maturity. Interest is payable semi-annually in arrears on April 1 and October 1 of each year. Principal payments are not required until the maturity date on October 1, 2029 when 100.0% of the outstanding principal will be required to be repaid.

Credit Agreement

Revolving Credit Facility

On February 3, 2022, the Company entered into the Credit Agreement with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent, swing line lender and an issuing bank, Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as an issuing bank, Truist Bank and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as co-syndication agents, Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, Bank of America, N.A., Regions Bank, Bank of Montreal and Capital One, National Association, as co-documentation agents, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., Truist Securities, Inc. and Wells Fargo Securities, LLC, as joint bookrunners and joint lead arrangers, and the other lenders party thereto. The Credit Agreement provides the Company with the Revolving Credit Facility in an aggregate principal amount of $325.0 million. The Revolving Credit Facility includes sublimits for swingline loans, letters of credit and alternative currency loans in amounts of up to $25.0 million, $60.0 million and $75.0 million, respectively. The Revolving Credit Facility matures on February 3, 2027 and the proceeds may be used (i) to finance working capital needs of the Company and its subsidiaries and (ii) for general corporate purposes of the Company and its subsidiaries (including to finance capital expenditures, permitted acquisitions and investments).

On June 26, 2023, the Company entered into Amendment No. 1 (the "First Amendment") to the Credit Agreement which amended the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the Credit Agreement as follows: for the fiscal quarters ending June 30, 2023 through September 30, 2023, 5.25:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending December 31, 2023 through March 31, 2024, 5.00:1.00; for the fiscal quarter ending June 30, 2024, 4.75:1.00; and for the fiscal quarters ending September 30, 2024 and for the fiscal quarters ending thereafter, 4.50:1.00.

On February 22, 2024, the Company entered into Amendment No. 2 (the "Second Amendment") to the Credit Agreement, which amended the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the Credit Agreement as follows: for the fiscal quarters ending March 31, 2024 through June 30, 2024, 5.50:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending September 30, 2024 through December 31, 2024, 5.25:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending March 31, 2025 through September 30, 2025, 5.00:1.00, and for the fiscal quarters ending December 31, 2025 through March 31, 2026, 4.75:1.00. The Second Amendment also restricts the Company from permitting its Liquidity (as defined in the Second Amendment and which is determined generally to be, as of any date of determination, the sum of the Company's available borrowing capacity under the Revolving Credit Facility plus the amount of its unencumbered cash), to be less than $100.0 million as of the last day of each fiscal quarter.

On July 1, 2024, the Company entered into Amendment No. 3 (the "Third Amendment") to the Credit Agreement, which, among other things, extended with respect to the lenders identified in the Third Amendment the maturity date covering $255.0 million in the aggregate principal amount of the commitments under the Revolving Credit Facility to February 3, 2028. The existing financial covenants under the amended Credit Agreement were retained for the benefit solely of the Revolving Credit Facility lenders, and the minimum liquidity level required by the Liquidity Covenant was decreased from $100.0 million to $75.0 million. Certain other financial covenants and restrictions were also modified under the amended Credit Agreement, as previously disclosed. The fees associated with the Third Amendment of $0.3 million will be amortized over the life of the Revolving Credit Facility.

On September 30, 2024, the Company entered into Amendment No. 4 (the "Fourth Amendment") to its Credit Agreement, which increased the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the amended Credit Agreement for the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2024 (the "Relief Period") to 6.50:1.00 from 5.25:1.00. In addition, the Fourth Amendment reduced the minimum interest coverage ratio for the quarter ended September 30, 2024 to 2.00:1.00 and increased the applicable margin on the Revolving Credit Facility by 0.25% until the Company delivers the required financial statements and compliance certificate for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2024.

On January 9, 2025, the Company entered into Amendment No. 5 (the "Fifth Amendment") to its Credit Agreement, which, among other things, (i) amended the interest rate on the existing Revolving Credit Facility commitments under the Credit Agreement to a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.25%, with a 1.00% SOFR Floor, (ii) amended the 2.0% default rate under the Credit Agreement so that it applies on all obligations upon the election of the administrative agent at the direction of the Required Lenders if an event of default has occurred and continuing and automatically if a specified event of default has occurred and is continuing, (iii) amended the Term Loan Facility maturity date to spring to July 2, 2029 if the second lien senior secured PIK toggle notes remain outstanding as of such date, (iv) included enhanced reporting requirements, and (v) eliminated or reduced certain baskets, which included the elimination of reinvestment rights with respect to certain asset sales and reduction of the de minimis exception for certain asset sale prepayments to $5,000,000.

Consenting lenders also agreed to provide financial covenant relief in the form of (i) a covenant holiday with respect to the maximum net leverage ratio and interest coverage ratio from the fourth fiscal quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025, (ii) resetting the maximum total net leverage ratio covenant to 6.75:1.00 for the third fiscal quarter of 2025 and the fourth fiscal quarter of 2025 and (iii) resetting the minimum interest coverage ratio to 1.65:1.00 for the third fiscal quarter of 2025 and the fourth fiscal quarter of 2025. The Company will also be required to maintain minimum liquidity of $25.0 million pursuant to the terms of the amended minimum liquidity covenant in the Credit Agreement, which will be tested each week through the week ending April 11, 2025, each month through the month ending June 30, 2025 and, thereafter, each fiscal quarter. In addition, the Company will be subject to a cash variance compliance test with respect to aggregate disbursements and aggregate receipts, subject to customary cures.

As of December 31, 2024, the Company had $269.0 million of short-term borrowings outstanding on the Revolving Credit Facility and had $55.6 million of outstanding letters of credit under the Revolving Credit Facility. The interest rate for short-term borrowings outstanding as of December 31, 2024 was 8.8% per annum. As of December 31, 2023, the Company had $113.8 million of short-term borrowings outstanding on the Revolving Credit Facility and had $40.4 million of outstanding letters of credit under this Facility.

Under the amended Credit Agreement, the Company has an option to request an increase in the amount of the Revolving Credit Facility so long as, after giving effect to the incremental facility, the pro forma secured net leverage ratio does not exceed 2.70:1.00. The Company may prepay the Revolving Credit Facility in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty, subject to reimbursement of the lenders' breakage and redeployment costs in connection with prepayments. The unutilized portion of the commitments under the Revolving Credit Facility may be irrevocably reduced or terminated by the Company at any time without penalty.

Interest on the outstanding principal amount of the loans accrues at a per annum rate equal to the Alternate Base Rate, the Adjusted Term SOFR Rate, the Adjusted Daily Simple SOFR Rate, the Adjusted EURIBOR Rate or the Adjusted Daily Simple SONIA Rate, as applicable and each as defined in the Credit Agreement, in each case, plus an applicable margin. The applicable margin ranges from 1.75% to 3.50% in the case of Term Benchmark loans or RFR loans, and 0.75% to 2.50% in the case of the Alternate Base Rate loans, in each case, based on the Company's total net leverage ratio as defined in the Credit Agreement. Interest on the loans is payable quarterly in arrears in the case of Alternate Base Rate loans, on the last day of the relevant interest period in the case of Term Benchmark loans, and monthly in arrears in the case of RFR loans. In addition, the Company is obligated to pay a quarterly commitment fee based on a percentage of the unused portion of the revolving credit facility and quarterly letter of credit fees based on a percentage of the maximum amount available to be drawn under each outstanding letter of credit. The commitment fee and letter of credit fee range from 0.30% to 0.50% and 1.75% to 3.50%, respectively, in each case, based on the Company's total net leverage ratio. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company paid quarterly commitment fees of $2.3 million and $2.6 million, respectively.

The amended Credit Agreement contains customary representations and warranties, affirmative and negative covenants and events of default. The negative covenants include restrictions on the Company's ability to, among other things, incur additional indebtedness, create liens, make investments, give guarantees, pay dividends, sell assets and merge and consolidate. The Company's borrowing capacity under the Revolving Credit Facility is currently limited by, among other covenants, compliance with the Total Net Leverage Ratio covenant and the Liquidity Covenant for each fiscal period.

The Company's obligations under the Revolving Credit Facility are guaranteed by all of the Company's present and future material domestic subsidiaries, excluding certain material domestic subsidiaries that are excluded from being guarantors pursuant to the terms of the Credit Agreement. The Company's obligations under, and each guarantor's obligations under its guaranty of, the Revolving Credit Facility are secured by a first priority lien on substantially all of the Company's or such guarantor's respective assets. If an event of default occurs, the required lenders may cause the administrative agent to declare all unpaid principal and any accrued and unpaid interest and all fees and expenses under the Revolving Credit Facility to be immediately due and payable. All amounts outstanding under the Revolving Credit Facility will automatically become due and payable upon the commencement of any bankruptcy, insolvency or similar proceedings. The Credit Agreement also contains a cross default to any of the Company's indebtedness having a principal amount in excess of $40.0 million. Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, the Company was granted covenant relief in the form of a covenant holiday for the fourth quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025.

Term Loan Facility

On July 1, 2024, the Company, pursuant to the Third Amendment to the Credit Agreement, established a new term loan facility (the "Term Loan Facility") in the aggregate principal amount of $525.0 million with the Term Loan Facility lenders named therein. The proceeds of the Term Loan Facility were used to (i) redeem the Company's 2025 Notes, (ii) repay a portion of the Revolving Credit Facility outstanding immediately prior to the effective date of the Third Amendment, and (iii) pay fees and expenses associated with such transactions. The Company paid approximately $24.4 million of deferred issuance costs with respect to the Term Loan Facility. As of December 31, 2024, the Term Loan Facility had $22.0 million of unamortized deferred issuance costs that were netted against the long-term balance on the consolidated balance sheets. The fair value of the Term Loan Facility as of December 31, 2024 was $500.2 million, which was determined based on lender quotes for the Company's debt, and therefore designated as Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy.

On January 9, 2025, pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, the Company made certain amendments to the Credit Agreement which are discussed in the Revolving Credit Facility section above.

The Term Loan Facility matures on the earlier of (a) July 1, 2031 and (b) July 2, 2029 if any of the Company's 2029 Notes remain outstanding on that date. Principal payments on the Term Loan Facility are required on a quarterly basis, commencing with the quarter ending September 30, 2024, in the amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate principal amount of the Term Loan Facility outstanding on the date of issuance. All unpaid amounts of the Term Loan Facility shall be paid in full on the maturity date. The Term Loan Facility requires annual prepayments of a percentage of Excess Cash Flow (as defined in the amended Credit Agreement); commencing with the year ending December 31, 2025 as follows: (i) 75.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 4.40:1.00, (ii) 50.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.90:1:00, but less than or equal to 4.40:1.00, (iii) 25.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.40:1.00, but less than or equal to 3.90:1.00, and (iv) zero percent if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was less than or equal to 3.40:1.00. The Term Loan Facility also requires mandatory prepayments in the event of certain asset dispositions or casualty events. In addition, the Term Loan Facility is subject to a prepayment premium for the first six months after entering into the Third Amendment in the event of any repricing transaction.

Interest on the Term Loan Facility is generally payable quarterly, in arrears, on the outstanding principal amount of the Term Loan Facility at the following rates for the interest period in effect for such borrowing: (i) a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.75% or (ii) a prime rate (or other alternate base rate) benchmark plus 3.75% in the case of ABR Loans (as such terms are defined in the amended Credit Agreement). The Term Loan Facility is subject to customary representations and warranties, affirmative and negative covenants, and events of default, as defined in the amended Credit Agreement. As of December 31, 2024, the weighted average interest rate on the Term Loan Facility was 9.08%. The amended Credit Agreement, as it relates to the Term Loan Facility, also contains a cross-default to any of the Company's indebtedness having a principal amount in excess of $40.0 million.

The proceeds of the Incremental Term Loan are required to be deposited in a collateral account subject to a blocked account control agreement in favor of the administrative agent and may be disbursed subject to delivery of a disbursement request, no default or event of default, the representations and warranties in Article II of the Credit Agreement being true and correct in all material respects and receipt by the administrative agent and lenders of reimbursement for invoiced expenses. The Company's common stockholders do not have cumulative voting rights. Upon the Company's dissolution, liquidation or winding up, holders of the Company's Common Stock are entitled to share ratably in the Company's net assets after payment or provision for all liabilities and any preferential liquidation rights of the Company's Preferred Stock then outstanding. The Company's common stockholders do not have preemptive rights to purchase shares of the Company's stock. The issued and outstanding shares of the Company's Common Stock are not subject to any redemption provisions and are not convertible into any other shares of the Company's capital stock. The rights, preferences and privileges of holders of the Company's Common Stock will be subject to those of the holders of any shares of the Company's Preferred Stock the Company may issue in the future.

As of December 31, 2024, 619,204 shares of the Company's common stock were reserved for future issuances related to the exercise of stock options that were outstanding and restricted stock units and awards that were unvested as of December 31, 2024.

13. Stock-Based Compensation and Similar Arrangements

The Company provides stock-based compensation to employees, non-employee directors, consultants and advisors under the Company's 2006 Long-Term Incentive Plan ("2006 Plan"). The 2006 Plan allows the flexibility to grant or award stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock, unrestricted stock, stock units including restricted stock units and performance awards to eligible persons.

The following table summarizes the activity under the 2006 Plan as of December 31, 2024:

	Number of shares of the Company's Common Stock authorized for issuance	Number of shares of the Company's Common Stock remaining for future grants	Number of shares of the Company's Common Stock subject to
			Stock Options	Stock Grants
2006 Plan	5,400,000	601,519	46,579	572,625

Stock-based compensation for share settled awards is recorded in the "General and administrative expense" line item on the consolidated statement of operations for a total expense of $6.8 million, $6.5 million, and $6.9 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively. These amounts exclude tax benefits of $1.6 million, $1.8 million and $1.9 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Stock Options

The fair value of each stock option awarded to employees is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing formula based on the following assumptions for the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022. No stock options were awarded to employees during the year ended December 31, 2024.

	Year Ended December 31,
Expected stock price volatility	49.6%	-	49.6%	39.6%	-	46.5%
Risk-free interest rate	3.7%	-	3.7%	1.6%	-	4.4%
Expected life of options (years)	3.5	-	3.5	3.5	-	4.5

The risk-free interest rate was based on the U.S. Treasury security rate in effect as of the date of grant which corresponds to the expected life of the award. The expected stock price volatility and expected lives of the stock options were based on the Company's historical data. Stock options granted under the 2006 Plan vest ratably in equal annual installments over 3 to 4 years and expire after 5 to 7 years.

During the year ended December 31, 2024, no shares of the Company's Common Stock were issued in connection with the exercise of employee stock options under the Company's 2006 Plan.

As of December 31, 2024, there was approximately $0.4 million of unrecognized compensation cost related to share settled stock options that is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average remaining contractual term of 1.51 years, using the simplified method as permitted for plain vanilla options.

The weighted-average grant date fair value for options granted, total intrinsic value and cash received by the Company related to options exercised during the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022 were as follows (in thousands, except for fair value per share). The Company did not grant any stock options to employees and no stock options were exercised by employees during the year ended December 31, 2024:

Restricted Stock Awards and Restricted Stock Units

The Compensation Committee of the Board grants restricted stock awards (RSAs) and restricted stock units (RSUs) under the 2006 Plan. RSAs and RSUs vest ratably in equal annual installments over 1 to 4 years, or, for certain grants, over periods designated in the respective employee's agreements or as determined by the Compensation Committee.

During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company issued 100,235 shares of its Common Stock to non-employee directors, executive officers and key employees upon the vesting of certain RSAs and RSUs granted under the Company's 2006 Plan.

	Shares	Weighted-average grant date fair value
Non-vested at beginning of year, January 1	298,074	$ 44.65
Granted	231,429	$ 41.01
Vested	(100,235)	$ 52.49
Forfeited or cancelled	(113,922)	$ 45.04
Non-vested at end of year, December 31	315,346	$ 39.35

As of December 31, 2024, there was approximately $14.4 million of unrecognized compensation cost related to non-vested RSAs and RSUs that is expected to be recognized over a weighted average remaining contractual term of 1.23 years.

Performance-Based Restricted Stock Units

The Compensation Committee of the Board grants performance-based restricted stock units (PRSUs) to certain executive officers and key employees. PRSUs primarily have a three-year performance period, after which the number of underlying RSUs earned is determined based on the achievement of pre-established performance targets.

The following table summarizes the activity of the shares and weighted-average grant date fair value of the Company's unvested PRSUs during the year ended December 31, 2024:

Non-vested at beginning of year, January 1	206,036	$ 43.24
Granted	148,395	$ 53.43
Vested	—	$ —
Forfeited or cancelled	(97,152)	$ 51.74
Non-vested at end of year, December 31	257,279	$ 45.91

As of December 31, 2024, there was approximately $4.7 million of unrecognized compensation cost related to non-vested PRSUs that is expected to be recognized over a weighted-average remaining contractual term of 1.83 years, assuming that the performance conditions continue to be probable of achievement.

The total fair value of vested stock options, RSUs and RSAs, and PRSUs was $10.0 million, $11.7 million and $2.6 million for the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023 and 2022, respectively.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan

During the fourth quarter of 2022, the Company began offering an Employee Stock Purchase Plan ("ESPP") available to eligible employees. Under terms of the plan, eligible employees may designate a dollar value or percentage of their compensation to be withheld through payroll deductions, up to a maximum of $25,000 in each plan year, for the purchase of common stock at 85.0% of the lower of the market price on the first or last day of the offering period. Purchases under this plan were for a total of 50,963 shares and 16,030 shares as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively. As of December 31, 2024, 949,037 shares remain available for future issuance under this plan.

14. Loss Per Share

Numerator:
Net loss	$ (201,278)	$ (204,460)	$ (31,806)
Denominator:
Denominator for basic and diluted earnings per share -- weighted-average shares	14,239,549	14,173,957	14,061,839
Loss per share:
Basic loss per share	$ (14.14)	$ (14.43)	$ (2.26)
Diluted loss per share	$ (14.14)	$ (14.43)	$ (2.26)

In a period when a net loss is reported, all common stock equivalents are excluded from the calculation because they would have an anti-dilutive effect, meaning the loss per share would be reduced. Therefore, in periods where a loss is reported, there is no difference in basic and diluted loss per share.

The following weighted-average shares were not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share as the effect of their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive:

Stock options to purchase common stock	64,561	100,499	118,260

15. Leases

The Company has non-cancelable operating leases primarily associated with office space and other facilities. The leases expire in various years and generally provide for renewal options. In the normal course of business, management expects that these leases will be renewed or replaced by leases on other properties.

Certain operating leases provide for increases in future minimum annual rental payments based on defined increases in the Consumer Price Index, subject to certain minimum increases. Several of these lease agreements contain provisions for periods in which rent payments are reduced. The total amount of rental payments due over the lease term is recorded as rent expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

To determine whether a contract contains a lease, the Company evaluates its contracts and verifies that there is an identified asset and that the Company, or the tenant, has the right to obtain substantially all the economic benefits from the use of the asset throughout the contract term and has the right to direct the use of the identified asset. If a contract is determined to contain a lease and the Company is a lessee, the lease is evaluated to determine whether it is an operating or financing lease.

The discount rate used for each lease is determined by estimating an appropriate incremental borrowing rate. In estimating an incremental borrowing rate, the Company considers the debt information, credit rating, and interest rate on the revolving credit facility, which is collateralized by the Company's assets. Accordingly, the Company continues discounting its remaining operating lease payments for calculating its lease liability using a weighted-average discount rate of 5.62%. The Company applies this rate to its entire portfolio of leases on the basis that any adjustments to the rate for lease term or asset classification would not affect the interest rate charged under the debt or have a material effect on the discounted lease liability.

A summary of all lease classifications in our consolidated balance sheets is as follows (in thousands):

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. Significant components of the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities are as follows (in thousands):

	December 31,
	2024	2023
Deferred tax assets:

Less valuation allowance	(25,052)	(3,287)
Net deferred tax liabilities	$ (13,557)	$ (39,584)

At December 31, 2024, the Company had no federal net operating loss ("NOL") carryforwards. The Company also had approximately $49.7 million of state NOL carryforwards which expire as follows (in thousands):

2026	—
2027	—
2028	—
2029	84
Total state net operating loss carryforwards	$ 49,742

Realization of the Company's net operating loss carryforwards is dependent on reversing taxable temporary differences and on generating sufficient taxable income. Although realization is not assured, management believes it is more likely than not that all of the deferred tax assets will be realized to the extent they are not covered by a valuation allowance. The amount of the deferred tax assets considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward period are reduced.

The net change in the total valuation allowance for the year ended December 31, 2024 was an increase of $21.8 million. The valuation allowance of $25.1 million includes amounts primarily for state NOLs and IRC Section 163(j) Limitation on Business Interest Expense carryforward for which the Company has concluded that it is more likely than not that these carryforwards will not be realized in the ordinary course of operations per a deferred scheduling exercise. The Company will continue to assess the valuation allowance, and to the extent it is determined that the valuation allowance should be changed, an appropriate adjustment will be recorded.

Unrecognized Tax Benefits

The Company recognizes interest and penalties as a component of income tax expense. During the years ended December 31, 2024, 2023, and 2022 the Company did not recognize a tax benefit or expense from interest or penalties. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, the Company had accrued an immaterial amount, respectively, for the payment of penalties and interest.

A reconciliation of the liability for unrecognized income tax benefits is as follows (in thousands):

	December 31,
Unrecognized tax benefits, beginning of year	$ 1,284	$ 1,680	$ 1,290
Increase (decrease) related to prior year tax positions	(47)	44	108
Increase related to current year tax positions	332	374	415
Statute of limitations expiration	(195)	(814)	(133)
Unrecognized tax benefits, end of year	$ 1,374	$ 1,284	$ 1,680

The entire ending balance in unrecognized tax benefits of $1.4 million as of December 31, 2024 would reduce tax expense and the Company's effective tax rate. The Company expects no material amount of the unrecognized tax benefits to be recognized during the next twelve months.

The Company is subject to taxation in the U.S. and various state jurisdictions. The statute of limitations is generally three years for the U.S. and between three and four years for the various states in which the Company operates. The tax years that remain open for examination by the U.S. and states principally include the years 2020 to 2023.

17. Commitments and Contingencies

Surveys, Audits and Governmental Investigations

In the ordinary course of business, the Company may from time to time be or become subject to surveys, audits and governmental investigations under or with respect to various governmental programs and state and federal laws. Agencies associated with the programs and other third-party commercial payors periodically conduct extensive pre-payment or post-payment medical reviews or other audits of claims data to identify possible payments made or authorized other than in compliance with the requirements of Medicare or Medicaid. In order to conduct these reviews, documentation is requested from the Company and then that documentation is reviewed to determine compliance with applicable rules and regulations, including the eligibility of clients to receive benefits, the appropriateness of the care provided to those clients, and the documentation of that care. Similarly, other state and federal governmental agencies conduct reviews and investigations to confirm the Company's compliance with applicable laws where it operates, including regarding employment and wage related regulations and matters. The Company cannot predict the ultimate outcome of any regulatory reviews or other governmental surveys, audits or investigations, but management does not expect any ongoing surveys, audits or investigations involving the Company to have a material adverse effect on the business, liquidity, financial condition, or results of operations of the Company. Regardless of the Company's expectations, however, surveys and audits are subject to inherent uncertainties and can have a material adverse impact on the Company due to, among other reasons, potential regulatory orders that inhibit its ability to operate its business, amounts paid as reimbursement or in settlement of any such matter, diversion of management resources and investigative costs.

Legal Proceedings

In the ordinary course of business, the Company may from time to time be or become involved in various lawsuits, some of which may seek monetary damages, including claims for punitive damages. Management does not expect any ongoing lawsuits involving the Company to have a material impact on the business, liquidity, financial condition, or results of operations of the Company. Legal proceedings are subject to inherent uncertainties, however, and unfavorable rulings or other events could occur. Unfavorable resolutions could involve substantial monetary damages. In addition, in matters for which conduct remedies are sought, unfavorable resolutions could include an injunction or other order precluding particular business practices or requiring other remedies. An unfavorable outcome might result in a material adverse impact on our business, liquidity, financial position, or results of operations.

The Company records accruals for loss contingencies related to legal matters when it is probable that a liability will be incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. If the Company determines that a range of reasonably possible losses can be estimated, the Company records an accrual for the most probable amount in the range. Due to the inherent difficulty in predicting the outcome of any legal proceeding, it may not be reasonably possible to estimate a range of potential liability until the matter is closer to resolution. Legal fees related to all legal matters are expensed as incurred.

On January 29, 2025, a class action complaint for purported violation of federal securities laws was filed by Dinesh Kalera, individually and on behalf of a putative class of purchasers of our common stock between November 3, 2022 and September 15, 2024 (the "Alleged Class Period"), in the United States District Court for the District of Colorado against the Company and three of its officers who served as chief financial officer of the Company during the Alleged Class Period. The complaint alleges claims under Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 10b-5 thereunder and asserts, among other things, that the Company's public statements concerning its NEMT segment accounts receivable collections efforts and effectiveness, cash flow results, and contractual payment and collection terms were materially false and misleading or contained material omissions. The Company denies the allegations in all respects and believes its public disclosure at all times has been true, correct and complete in all material respects in compliance with all federal securities and other laws and intends to defend itself vigorously in this case. The Company cannot predict with any degree of certainty the outcome of this matter or determine the extent of any potential liability or damages that may result from this matter, if any, but the Company does not believe in any event that the ultimate outcome of this matter will have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, liquidity, financial condition or results of operations.

On September 27, 2022, Daniel Greenleaf, the Company's former Chief Executive Officer, asserted claims in an arbitration against the Company. His claims alleged that the Company breached Mr. Greenleaf's employment agreement and included a tort claim against the Company. Mr. Greenleaf's arbitration complaint sought contractual, extra-contractual, and statutory damages. In May 2023, Mr. Greenleaf and the Company executed a settlement agreement related to both sides' claims in arbitration and a general release of all claims and the Company agreed to pay Mr. Greenleaf $9.6 million. The Company paid the settlement amount in full in May of 2023.

On August 6, 2020, the Company's subsidiary, ModivCare Solutions, LLC ("ModivCare Solutions"), was served with a putative class action lawsuit filed against it by Mohamed Farah, the owner of transportation provider Dalmar Transportation, in the Western District of Missouri, seeking to represent all non-employee transportation providers contracted with ModivCare Solutions. The lawsuit alleged claims under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (the "FLSA"), and the Missouri Minimum Wage Act, and asserted that all transportation providers to ModivCare Solutions in the putative class should have been considered ModivCare Solutions' employees rather than independent contractors. Following motions regarding class certification and related matters and the transfer of the matter to binding arbitration, the parties agreed on a settlement arrangement, which the arbitrator approved final on October 30, 2023. The class settlement payment was made in full on December 1, 2023. Notwithstanding the settlement payment, ModivCare Solutions believes that it is and has been in compliance with all material aspects with the laws and regulations regarding the characterization of the transportation providers as independent contractors, and does not believe that the settlement arrangement has had a material adverse effect on the Company's business, liquidity, financial condition or results of operations.

Since 2017, one of the Company's PCS segment subsidiaries, All Metro Home Care Services of New York, Inc. d/b/a All Metro Health Care ("All Metro"), has been subject to a class action lawsuit in state court claiming that, among other things, All Metro failed to properly pay live-in caregivers who stay in patients' homes for 24 hours per day ("live-ins"). The Company pays live-ins for 13 hours per day as supported through a written opinion letter from the New York State Department of Labor ("NYSDOL"). The New York Court of Appeals (New York's highest court) in a similar case involving this issue issued an order in 2019 that agreed with the NYSDOL's interpretation to pay live-ins for 13 hours per day instead of 24 hours if certain conditions were being met. Notwithstanding the court of appeals' order in the similar case, the parties to date have been unable to settle their dispute through mediation or otherwise, and therefore discovery in the matter is continuing. If the plaintiffs prove successful in this class action lawsuit, All Metro may be liable for back wages and liquidated damages dating back to November 2011. All Metro believes that it is and has been in compliance in all material respects with the laws and regulations covering pay for live-in caregivers (including the conditions described by the New York Court of Appeals in its order), intends to continue to defend itself vigorously with respect to this matter, and the Company does not believe in any event that the ultimate outcome of this matter will have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, liquidity, financial condition or results of operations.

Deferred Compensation Plan

The Company has one deferred compensation plan for management and highly compensated employees of NEMT Services as of December 31, 2024. The deferred compensation plan is unfunded, and benefits are paid from the general assets of the Company. The total of participant deferrals, which is reflected in "Other long-term liabilities" in the consolidated balance sheets, was $2.3 million and $2.2 million at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively.

18. Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated events and transactions subsequent to the Company's consolidated balance sheet date and prior to the date of issuance.

Exchange Agreement

On January 9, 2025, pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, the Company entered into an exchange agreement (the "Exchange Agreement"), with certain lenders party to the Amended Credit Agreement (the "Exchanging Noteholders"). The Exchange Agreement provides for the exchange (the "Exchange") of up to $251.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the Company's 5.000% Notes due 2029 held by the Exchanging Noteholders for an equivalent principal amount of second lien senior secured PIK toggle notes to be issued by the Company (the "Second Lien Notes"), pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth therein, subject to the receipt of requisite consents to make certain amendments to the indenture governing the Notes due 2029 to permit the Exchange and remove certain other covenants.

Purchase and Exchange Agreement

On January 9, 2025, the Company entered into a Purchase and Exchange Agreement (the "Purchase and Exchange Agreement") with Coliseum Capital Partners, L.P., a Related Party, and Blackwell Partners LLC – Series A (together, the "Coliseum Investors"), which provides, among other things, for the Coliseum Investors (a) to purchase (the "Purchase") $30.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the Second Lien Notes, at a purchase price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the Second Lien Notes plus any accrued and unpaid interest thereon from, and including, October 1, 2024 to, but excluding, the closing date of the Purchase and (b) to exchange approximately $20.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the Company's Notes due 2029 held by the Coliseum Investors for an equivalent principal amount of the Second Lien Notes (the "Coliseum Exchange" and, together with the Purchase, the "Coliseum Transactions"), in each case pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Purchase and Exchange Agreement. The Coliseum Transactions are conditioned upon the receipt of approval from 66-2/3% of the Company's stockholders other than Coliseum pursuant to Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law.

Based on our evaluation, the Company is not aware of any other events or transactions that occurred subsequent to the consolidated balance sheet date and prior to the date of issuance that would require recognition or disclosure in these financial statements.

Item 9. Changes in and Disagreements With Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure.

Item 9A. Controls and Procedures.

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The Company's management, under the supervision and with the participation of its principal executive officer and principal financial officer, evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act)), as of the end of the period covered by this Annual Report (December 31, 2024). Based upon this evaluation, the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures were effective as of December 31, 2024.

Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) of the Exchange Act). The Company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company, (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with GAAP, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company, and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting is not intended to provide absolute assurance that a misstatement of the Company's financial statements would be prevented or detected in all circumstances in a timely manner.

The Company's management, under the supervision and with the participation of its principal executive officer and principal financial officer, and under the oversight of its Board of Directors, conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2024 based on the criteria set forth in the Internal Control–Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission ("COSO"). Based on such evaluation, management determined that the Company's internal control over financial reporting was effective as of December 31, 2024.

Our independent registered public accounting firm, KPMG LLP, who audited the Company's consolidated financial statements included in this Annual Report, has issued an attestation report on the Company's internal control over financial reporting. KPMG LLP's report is presented in Part II, Item 8 of this Annual Report.

Remediation of Previously Identified Material Weakness

During the fiscal year ended December 31, 2024, management completed the remediation efforts necessary to fully and effectively remediate and eliminate the material weaknesses previously disclosed by the Company in its Annual Reports on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2023 with respect to its PCS segment's internal control over financial reporting. The identified deficiencies at the PCS segment that were remediated related to (i) an effective risk assessment to assess and confirm the effectiveness and implementation of the changes previously identified in its internal control environment related to recently deployed information technology ("IT") systems and revision of the PCS revenue and payroll processes, or (ii) the establishment of all mechanisms expected to be used to enforce accountability in the pursuit of objectives to establish and operate effective internal control over financial reporting.

A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of our annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

The remediation efforts necessary to eliminate those material weaknesses identified in Item 9A. "Controls and Procedures" of our 2023 Annual Report on Form 10-K to address the identified material weaknesses have been completed. As of December 31, 2024, the Company executed on the following remediation measures, including the testing of the design and concluding on the operating effectiveness of the related controls:

- Implemented a new revenue cycle management system and designed a new suite of general information technology controls ("GITCs") and process-level controls related to the new system;
- Integrated the PCS segment into our enterprise resource planning software and standardized control activities related to the Company's financial statement close process;
- Executed an enhanced risk assessment process to identify and assess changes in the Company's internal control environment, specifically related to new IT systems and newly acquired companies;
- Designed and implemented effective GITCs to support process-level automated controls intended to ensure that information needed for the operation of manual process-level controls and financial reporting is accurate and complete; and
- Designed and implemented process-level control activities in revenue and payroll.

As a result of the foregoing, as of December 31, 2024, management was able to conclude that the material weaknesses previously disclosed at the PCS segment were fully and effectively remediated.

Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

Except for the changes described in the preceding paragraphs, there were no other changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting during the fiscal quarter ended December 31, 2024 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

INDEPENDENT DIRECTOR SERVICE AGREEMENT

This INDEPENDENT DIRECTOR SERVICE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement") is made as of December 23, 2024 (the "Effective Date") by and between ModivCare Inc., a Delaware corporation, (the "Company"), on the one hand, and Craig A. Barbarosh, an individual (the "Director"), on the other hand. Each of the Company and the Director individually may be referred to as a "Party" and collectively as the "Parties".

RECITALS

WHEREAS, Director has no prior affiliation or relationship, direct or indirect, with the Company or its subsidiaries, and, therefore, is capable of being an independent and disinterested director of the Company.

WHEREAS, the Company desires and has requested that Director serve as an independent and disinterested director of the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board"), a member of the Transaction Committee (as defined below), and a member of the Audit Committee of the Board (the "Audit Committee").

WHEREAS, the Company and Director are entering into this Agreement to induce Director to serve in the capacities set forth above and to set forth certain understandings between the parties.

NOW, THEREFORE, based on the foregoing premises, and for good and valuable consideration, the sufficiency and adequacy of which are hereby acknowledged, the Parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Acknowledgement and Acceptance. The Director hereby acknowledges and accepts his appointment as the independent director of the Company. The Parties agree that the Director's appointment was effective as of the Effective Date. The Director agrees to serve as an independent director of the Company, subject to the terms of this Agreement.

2. Term. The term of this Agreement shall expire on the date that is twelve (12) months following the Effective Date (such period of time, the "Initial Term"); which may be extended by majority vote of the Board; provided, however, that Director may resign at any time, or be removed at any time to the extent permitted by the Organizational Documents, and in each case this Agreement shall terminate as of the date of such resignation or removal, except as specifically provided herein.

3. Responsibilities of the Director.

(a) The Director shall perform such duties as shall be usual and customary for independent directors and shall also perform those duties and fulfill those obligations as set forth in this Agreement and the Action by Unanimous Written Consent of the Board of Directors of ModivCare Inc., dated December 23, 2024 (the "Resolutions").

(b) The Parties hereto acknowledge and agree that Director is being engaged to serve as an independent and disinterested director of the Company, a member of the special committee of the Board established pursuant to the Resolutions (the "Transaction Committee"), and a member of the Audit Committee (and such other committees of the Board as may be requested by the Company and agreed to by the Director) only and is not being engaged to serve, and shall not serve, the Company in any other capacity.

(c) The Director represents that, to the best of the Director's knowledge, information, and belief, (i) the Director has not previously served as legal counsel or other advisor to the Company, (ii) the Director holds no claim against or equity interest in the Company, and (iii) the Director is not currently serving as legal counsel or other advisor to any person or entity in connection with a matter in which that person or entity has an adverse interest to the Company.

4. Compensation/Expenses.

(a) In consideration of the Director's services, the Company shall pay the Director a fee of $40,000 per month for the Term of this Agreement; provided that in addition, Director shall be compensated on a "per diem" basis at a rate of $7,500 in cash, payable monthly in arrears upon submission by Director of a written invoice, for days on which Director devotes more than four (4) hours of Director's time, outside of Board meetings, for meetings or activities outside the scope of normal Board duties, including preparation for and/or attending depositions and hearings, meeting with Company management or external auditors, or other activities deemed necessary or desirable by the Board or Director. The initial monthly fee for December 2024 (pro-rated for the number of days from the Effective Date through December 31, 2024) and pre-payment of the monthly fee for January 2025 shall be paid within two (2) business days of the Effective Date. All subsequent monthly fees shall be paid on the first (1st) day of each calendar month thereafter commencing on February 1, 2025, and continuing each month thereafter during the Term of this Agreement as set forth herein. Each monthly payment shall be deemed earned by the Director on the due date for such payment.

(b) The Company shall promptly reimburse the Director for all reasonable and necessary out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements incurred in carrying out his duties and responsibilities as an independent director (including with respect to his duties and responsibilities under this Agreement), including reasonable attorneys' fees and costs and all other amounts under Section 7 herein; provided, that Director shall obtain preapproval from the Company prior to incurring any individual expense in excess of $5,000.

(c) The Director shall have the right to retain, at the sole expense of the Company, independent counsel and advisors to advise on matters relating to this engagement and the Director's service as an independent director; provided, that Director shall not incur attorneys' fees or costs in excess of $5,000 without the preapproval of the Company unless Director shall have determined the retention of separate counsel is necessary due to a conflict of interest. In the event of a Bankruptcy Case (as defined below), the Company will seek the retention and compensation of such counsel and advisors pursuant to sections 327(a) or (c), as applicable, and 328 of the Bankruptcy Code.

(d) The Parties agree that the Director will be treated as an independent contractor, and that this Agreement shall not create the relationship of employee and employer between the Director and the Company.

(i) The Director agrees that the Director will be solely responsible for the payment of all taxes owed by the Director, including any required payments of estimated taxes, with respect to all amounts paid to the Director under the terms of this Agreement. Except with respect to benefits under any insurance policy (including directors' and officers' insurance) of the Company, the Director shall not be entitled to any employment benefits provided to the employees of the Company, including, paid leave or retirement benefits.

(ii) The Parties agree that the Company will file all information returns required to be filed with all applicable governmental agencies in connection with all fees and expenses paid to Director for each year or portion thereof during Term. For this purpose, the Director shall provide a certification of the Director's social security number to the Company on Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 prior to any payment of fees to the Director. The Company shall deliver to the Director no later than the date prescribed by applicable law copies of all information returns filed by the Company with any federal, state or local taxing authority with respect to payments made to the Director under this Agreement.

(iii) The Parties agree that if any law is enacted after the Effective Date that requires withholding of taxes or other amounts in connection with any payments to the Director under this Agreement, the Director will execute any forms or other instruments and take all actions that may be necessary in order to permit any such required withholding and the Company shall be permitted to withhold such amounts from any payments to the Director.

(e) In the event of a bankruptcy proceeding under the United States Bankruptcy Code in which the Company or any of its subsidiaries is a debtor (referred to herein as a "Bankruptcy Case"), and to the extent that amounts paid under this Section 4 are paid from any unencumbered assets of the Company, the amounts shall be paid on a pro rata basis with all other administrative expenses against that Company's estate that are paid from any such unencumbered assets. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing contained herein shall be construed to in any way modify or amend the Company's continuing obligation to timely make the payments set forth in Sections 4(a) and (b) and Section 7 herein.

5. Confidential Treatment of Company Confidential Information. In consideration of the Company's disclosure to the Director of information that is confidential to the Company ("Confidential Information"), the Director agrees that this Agreement will apply to all information, in any form whatsoever, disclosed or made available by the Company or its representatives to the Director concerning the Company; provided, however, that "Confidential Information" does not include information that (i) is already lawfully known to the Director at the time of its disclosure to the Director by the Company, (ii) is or becomes generally available to the public, other than as a result of a breach of the Director's obligations hereunder, (iii) is lawfully disclosed to the Director by a third party which is not, to the Director's knowledge, subject to a confidentiality agreement with the Company, (iv) is obtained by the Director through subpoena, discovery, or other legal proceedings, (v) the Company and the Director agree in writing is not Confidential Information or (vi) was independently developed by the Director without use of the Confidential Information. Except as otherwise provided herein, the Director agrees at all times during the Term through the first anniversary of the expiration of the Term: (i) to hold Confidential Information in strict confidence (ii) not to disclose Confidential Information to any third parties; and (iii) not to use any Confidential Information for any purpose except for the purpose of the Director's services to the Company. The Director may disclose the Confidential Information to its agents, advisors, affiliates and representatives with a bona fide need to know ("Representatives"), but only to the extent necessary for the Director's services to the Company or as necessary to enforce its rights under this Agreement. The Director agrees to instruct all such Representatives not to disclose such Confidential Information to third parties without the prior written permission of the Company. The Director will, at all times, remain liable under the terms of this Agreement for any unauthorized disclosure or use by any of its Representatives of Confidential Information provided to such Representatives by the Director.

6. Exempted Disclosure. The foregoing restriction on the use and nondisclosure of Confidential Information will not include information which is required or requested to be disclosed pursuant to judicial, regulatory or administrative process or court order (including in connection with a Bankruptcy Case), provided, that to the extent permitted by law, rule or regulation and reasonably practicable under the circumstances, the Director gives the Company prompt notice of such required disclosure so that the Company may, at the Company's sole expense, challenge the same, provided further, that no notice to the Company shall be required where the disclosures being made by the Director are in connection with a Bankruptcy Case.

7. Indemnification. In the event that the Director becomes involved in any capacity in any action, proceeding or investigation brought by or against any person, including members, stockholders, investors, employees or creditors of the Company or any of its affiliates, in connection with or as a result of the Director's service as a director of the Company or otherwise hereunder, the Company will advance to and reimburse the Director for his reasonable, documented legal and other expenses (including any reasonable retainer of outside counsel of Director's choice and the cost of any investigation and preparation) incurred in connection therewith provided, however, that if it is found in a final and non-appealable judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction that any loss, claim, damage or liability of the Director has resulted from the gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith of the Director, the Director shall repay such portion of the reimbursed amounts that is attributable to expenses incurred in relation to the act or omission of the Director which is the subject of such finding. The Company also will indemnify and hold the Director harmless against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities to any person in connection with or as a result of the Director's service as a director of the Company or otherwise hereunder, except to the extent that any such loss, claim, damage or liability is found, in a final and non-appealable judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction, to have resulted from the gross negligence, willful misconduct or bad faith of the Director. The provisions of this Section 7 are in addition to the Director's rights and protections under the Company's by-laws and standard indemnification provisions in favor of directors.

8. Insurance. At all times during the Term, the Company shall have in force directors and officers liability insurance from an insurance carrier with an A.M. Best rating of (A-) or higher, in an amount and scope reasonable and customary for companies that are engaged in business similar to that of the Company and are reasonably acceptable to the Director (the "Continuing Policy") that includes "Side A DIC" coverage in an amount reasonably acceptable to Director and naming the Director as the sole insured under the policy and "Side A" coverage insuring directors and officers for claims against such directors and officers by reason of acts or omissions in their respective capacities as directors and officers, as applicable, including, without limitation, liabilities under securities laws or otherwise, whether claimed by a governmental unit or agency or private party, person, or entity. Upon notice from the Director that the Director is resigning from the Board (or substantially concurrently with the Director's removal, if the Director is removed from the Board), the Company shall obtain, maintain and fully pay for irrevocable "tail" insurance policies covering the Director as an insured person with a claims period of at least six (6) years from the date which Director ceases to be a director of the Company, with respect to matters existing or occurring at or prior to such date (the "Tail Policy" and collectively, with the Continuing Policy, the "Insurance Policies"). The Company shall not cancel or change the Insurance Policies in any respect that would be adverse to the Director. The Company shall ensure that the Director meets the definition of an "Insured Person" under the Insurance Policies. The cost of the Insurance Policies shall be borne solely by the Company.

9. Limitation of Liability. Director shall not be liable to the Company or the Board, or any party asserting claims on behalf of the Company or Board, except for direct damages found in a final determination to be the direct result of the gross negligence, bad faith, self-dealing or intentional misconduct of the Director. Director shall not be liable for incidental, consequential or special damages, lost profits, lost data, reputational damages, punitive damages, or other similar damages under any circumstances, even if Director has been advised of the possibility of such damages. Director's aggregate liability, whether in tort, contract or otherwise, is expressly limited to the amount of fees paid to Director for services under this Agreement (or if the claim arises from an amendment to this Agreement, under the applicable amendment) (the "Liability Cap"). Nothing in this Agreement, including the Liability Cap, shall be deemed to limit or exclude Director's liability to the extent such claim cannot be capped or limited by applicable law.

10. Notices. All notices, consents, waivers, agreements or other communications hereunder shall be deemed effective or to have been duly given and made only if in writing and if (a) served by personal delivery upon the Party for whom it is intended, (b) delivered by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, (c) delivered by overnight courier or (d) sent by email transmission, in each case, to such Party at the address set forth below, or such other address as may be designated in writing hereafter, in the same manner, by such Party:

11. Amendments; Waivers. Any provision of this Agreement may be amended or waived if, and only if, such amendment or waiver is in writing and signed, in the case of an amendment, by the Company and the Director, or in the case of a waiver, by the Party against whom such waiver is intended to be effective, which writing shall specifically reference this Agreement, specify the provision(s) hereof that it is intended to amend or waive and further specify that it is intended to amend or waive such provision(s). 12. Assignment; No Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement is for the benefit of the Parties and their respective successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns. Neither party may assign, in whole or in part (whether by operation of law or otherwise), this Agreement or any of its rights or obligations under this Agreement without the other Party's prior written approval, and any assignment or delegation without such prior written consent shall be null and void ab initio. This Agreement shall not confer any benefits, rights or remedies of any nature whatsoever upon any person or entity other than the Parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns.

13. Entire Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire agreement of the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements, understandings and arrangements with respect to the subject matter hereof.

14. Governing Law; Selection of Forum; Submission to Jurisdiction. This Agreement, and any matter or dispute arising out of or related to this Agreement, shall be construed by, subject to and governed in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Delaware without giving effect to conflict of laws or other principles that may result in the application of laws other than the internal laws of the State of Delaware. Upon commencement of a Bankruptcy Case, any legal action or proceeding with respect to this Agreement may be brought in the United States Bankruptcy Court in the District where the Bankruptcy Case is pending, and, by execution and delivery of this Agreement, each Party irrevocably consents to the service of process outside the territorial jurisdiction of such courts in any such action or proceeding, although nothing contained in this Agreement shall affect the right to serve process in any other manner permitted by applicable law. Each Party hereby waives, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, any right it may have to a trial by jury in respect to any litigation directly or indirectly arising out of, under or in connection with this Agreement. Each Party (i) certifies that no representative, agent or attorney of any Party has represented, expressly or otherwise, that such Party would not, in the event of litigation, seek to enforce that foregoing waiver and (ii) acknowledges that it and the other Parties have been induced to enter into this Agreement, as applicable, by, among other things, the mutual waivers and certifications in this Section 14.

15. Severability. The provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed severable and the invalidity or unenforceability of any provision hereof shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the other provisions hereof. Whenever possible, each provision or portion of any provision of this Agreement shall be interpreted in such manner as to be effective and valid under applicable law, but if any provision of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any Person or any circumstance, is invalid or unenforceable, (a) a suitable and equitable provision shall be substituted therefor to carry out, so far as may be valid and enforceable, the intent and purpose of such invalid or unenforceable provision and (b) the remainder of this Agreement and the application of such provision to other Persons or circumstances shall not be affected by such invalidity or unenforceability, nor shall such invalidity or unenforceability affect the validity or enforceability of such provision, or the application thereof, in any other jurisdiction; provided, that, if any one or more of the provisions contained in this Agreement shall be determined to be excessively broad as to subject, activity, duration, or geographic scope, it shall be reformed by limiting and reducing it to the minimum extent necessary, so as to be enforceable under applicable law.

16. Headings. The titles and subtitles used in this Agreement are for convenience purposes only, and shall not be deemed to limit or affect any of the provisions hereof.

17. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts (including by facsimile or portable document format (.pdf)) for the convenience of the Parties hereto, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. No signature page to this Agreement evidencing a party's execution hereof shall be deemed to be delivered by such Party to any other Party hereto until such delivering Party has received signature pages from all Parties signatory to this Agreement.

INDEPENDENT DIRECTOR AGREEMENT

THIS INDEPENDENT DIRECTOR AGREEMENT (the "Agreement") is made as of December 23, 2024 (the "Effective Date"), by and between ModivCare Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), and Mr. Neal P. Goldman ("Director").

BACKGROUND

WHEREAS, Director has no prior affiliation or relationship, direct or indirect, with the Company or its affiliates, and, therefore, is capable of being an independent and disinterested director of the Company.

WHEREAS, the Company desires and has requested that Director serve as an independent and disinterested director of the Company, a member of the Transaction Committee (as defined below), and a member of the Compensation Committee of the Board (the "Compensation Committee").

WHEREAS, the Company and Director are entering into this Agreement to induce Director to serve in the capacities set forth above and to set forth certain understandings between the parties.

AGREEMENT

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual agreements and promises contained herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the adequacy and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the Company and Director hereby agree as follows:

1. DUTIES. Director agrees to (i) serve as an independent and disinterested director of the Company and to be available to perform the duties consistent with such position pursuant to the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws (all as amended and as may be further amended, and, together, the "Organizational Documents") and the laws of the state of Delaware; and (ii) serve as a member of one or more committees of the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board") as may be requested from time to time by the Company or a majority of the Board and for which Director is qualified to serve. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Board of Directors has established the special committee pursuant to that certain Action by Unanimous Written Consent of the Board of Directors of ModivCare Inc., dated December 23, 2024 (the "Transaction Committee"), and the Company desires that Director serve on such Transaction Committee. Director agrees to devote as much time as is reasonably necessary to perform completely the duties as an independent and disinterested director of the Company, a member of the Transaction Committee, and a member of the Compensation Committee. By execution of this Agreement, Director accepts his appointment or election as an independent and disinterested director of the Company and his appointment as a member of the Transaction Committee, and agrees to serve in such capacities until his successor is duly elected and qualified or until the earlier of: (i) the end of the Initial Term (as the same may be reduced or extended pursuant to Section 2 hereof); and (ii) Director's earlier death, resignation or removal. The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that Director is being engaged to serve as an independent and disinterested director of the Company and a member of the Transaction Committee (and such other committees of the Board as may be requested by the Company) only and is not being engaged to serve, and shall not serve, the Company in any other capacity.

2. TERM. The term of this Agreement shall expire on the date that is twelve (12) months following the Effective Date (such period of time, the "Initial Term"); which may be extended by majority vote of the Board; provided, however, that Director may resign or be removed at any time to the extent permitted by the Organizational Documents, in which event this Agreement shall terminate as of the date of such resignation or removal, except as specifically provided herein.

3. COMPENSATION. For all services to be rendered by Director hereunder, and so long as Director has not been removed as a director of the Company, Director will receive cash compensation equal to $40,000 per month, payable in advance; provided that in addition, Director shall be compensated on a "per diem" basis at a rate of $7,500 in cash, payable monthly in arrears upon submission by Director of a written invoice, for days on which Director devotes more than four (4) hours of Director's time, outside of Board meetings, for meetings or activities outside the scope of normal Board duties, including preparation for and/or attending depositions and hearings, meeting with Company management, or other activities deemed necessary or desirable by the Board or Director.

4. EXPENSES. In addition to the compensation provided in Section 3 hereof, the Company will reimburse or will cause one or more of its subsidiaries to reimburse Director for reasonable and documented business-related expenses incurred in good faith in the performance of Director's duties for the Company; provided, that Director shall obtain preapproval from the Company prior to incurring any individual expense in excess of $5,000. Such payments shall be made by the Company upon submission by Director of a signed statement itemizing the expenses incurred. Such statement shall be accompanied by sufficient documentary matter to support the expenditures. In addition, the Company will reimburse or cause one or more of its subsidiaries to reimburse Director for actual out of pocket costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) incurred in connection with the performance by Director of his duties as contemplated by this Agreement (including without limitation Section 6 hereof); provided, that Director shall not incur attorneys' fees or costs in excess of $5,000 without the preapproval of the Company unless Director shall have reasonably determined that retention of separate counsel is necessary due to a conflict of interest.

5. CONFIDENTIALITY. The Company and Director each acknowledge that in order for Director to perform his duties as an independent and disinterested director of the Company, Director shall necessarily be obtaining access to certain confidential information concerning the Company and its affiliates, including, but not limited to business methods, information systems, financial data and strategic plans which are unique assets of the Company or its affiliates (whether or not marked as confidential or proprietary, "Confidential Information"). Director covenants that he shall not, either directly or indirectly, in any manner, utilize or disclose to any person, firm, corporation, association or other entity any Confidential Information, except (i) as required by law, (ii) pursuant to a subpoena or order issued by a court, governmental body, agency or official, or (iii) to the extent such information (A) is generally known to the public, (B) was known to Director prior to its disclosure to Director by the Company, (C) was obtained by Director from a third party which, to Director's knowledge, was not prohibited from disclosing such information to Director pursuant to any contractual, legal or fiduciary obligation, or (D) was independently derived by Director without any use of Confidential Information. Director shall provide notice to the Company as is reasonably practicable prior to any disclosure under (i) or (ii) above and shall cooperate with the Company to limit disclosure of Confidential Information to the extent reasonably practicable. This Section 5 shall continue in effect after Director has ceased acting as an independent and disinterested director of the Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Director is not agreeing to waive, and this Agreement shall not be read as requiring Director to waive, any right Director may have to receive an award for information provided to any governmental entity. Director is hereby notified that the immunity provisions in Section 1833 of title 18 of the United States Code provide that an individual cannot be held criminally or civilly liable under any federal or state trade secret law for any disclosure of a trade secret that is made (1) in confidence to federal, state or local government officials, either directly or indirectly, or to an attorney, and is solely for the purpose of reporting or investigating a suspected violation of the law, (2) under seal in a complaint or other document filed in a lawsuit or other proceeding, or (3) to Director's attorney in connection with a lawsuit for retaliation for reporting a suspected violation of law (and the trade secret may be used in the court proceedings for such lawsuit) as long as any document containing the trade secret is filed under seal and the trade secret is not disclosed except pursuant to court order.

6. INDEMNIFICATION. (a) Certain Definitions. For purposes of this Section 6, the term:

"Delaware Law" means the laws of the state of Delaware.

"Expenses" means all expenses, liabilities, and losses (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, retainers, expert and witness fees, disbursements and expenses of counsel, judgments, fines, excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) actually and reasonably incurred or suffered by Director or on Director's behalf in connection with a Proceeding.

"Proceeding" means any threatened, pending, actual or completed action, suit, inquiry or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, whether public or private, and, including any such threatened, pending, actual or completed action, suit, inquiry or proceeding by or in the right of the Company or any of its subsidiaries (collectively, the "Companies").

(b) Indemnification. In addition to Director's rights to indemnification and exculpation provided in the Organizational Documents, in the event that Director was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved (including, without limitation, as a witness) in any Proceeding by reason of the fact that Director or a person of whom Director is the legal representative of is or was an independent and disinterested director of any of the Companies (whether before or after the date hereof) and, whether the basis of such Proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as an independent and disinterested director or in any other capacity while serving as an independent and disinterested director of any of the Companies, the Companies shall indemnify and hold harmless Director to the fullest extent authorized by Delaware Law or any other applicable law or rule, but no less than to the extent set forth herein, against all Expenses; provided, however, that the Companies shall indemnify Director only if Director did not engage in gross negligence, willful misconduct, or fraud and, in the case of criminal Proceedings, Director had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful; and provided, further, that the Companies shall indemnify Director against all Expenses in connection with a Proceeding (or claim or part thereof) initiated by Director only if (i) such Proceeding is a suit or other action seeking to enforce Director's right to advancement of expenses and/or indemnification under this Agreement or (ii) such Proceeding (or claim or part thereof) was authorized by the directors of the Companies.

(c) Presumptions. In the event that, under Delaware Law, the entitlement of Director to be indemnified hereunder shall depend upon whether Director shall have acted in good faith and in a manner Director reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Companies and with respect to criminal Proceedings, had no reasonable cause to believe Director's conduct was unlawful, or shall have acted in accordance with some other defined standard of conduct, or whether fees and disbursements of counsel and other costs and amounts are reasonable, the burden of proof of establishing that Director has not acted in accordance with such standard and that such costs and amounts are unreasonable shall rest with the Companies, and Director shall be presumed to have acted in accordance with such standard, such costs and amounts shall be conclusively presumed to be reasonable and Director shall be entitled to indemnification unless, and only unless, based upon clear and convincing evidence, it shall be determined by a court of competent jurisdiction (after exhaustion or expiration of the time for filing of all appeals) that Director has not met such standard or, with respect to the amount of indemnification, that such costs and amounts are not reasonable (in which case Director shall be indemnified to the extent such costs and amounts are determined by such court to be reasonable).

In addition, and without in any way limiting the provisions of this Section 6(c), Director shall be deemed to have acted in good faith and in a manner Director reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Companies or, with respect to any criminal Proceeding to have had no reasonable cause to believe Director's conduct was unlawful, if Director's action is based on (i) information supplied to Director by the officers of the Companies or their direct or indirect controlling equity holders in the course of their duties, (ii) the advice of legal counsel, advisors or other experts retained by and for the Companies or (iii) information or records given or reports made to the Companies by an independent certified public accountant or by an appraiser or other expert selected with reasonable care by the Companies.

The provisions of this Section 6(c) shall not be deemed to be exclusive or to limit in any way the circumstances in which a person may be deemed to have met the applicable standard of conduct, if applicable, under Delaware Law.

(d) Indemnification When Wholly or Partly Successful. Without limiting the scope of indemnification provided in Section 6(b), to the extent that Director is a party to and is successful, on the merits or otherwise, in any Proceeding, Director shall be indemnified to the maximum extent permitted by Delaware Law against all Expenses. If Director is not wholly successful in a Proceeding but is successful, on the merits or otherwise, as to one or more but less than all claims, issues or matters in such Proceeding, the Company shall indemnify Director against all Expenses actually and reasonably incurred by Director and on Director's behalf in connection with each successfully resolved claim, issue or matter, and shall otherwise indemnify Director to the extent required by Section 6(b). For purposes of this Section 6(d) and without limitation, the termination of any claim, issue, or matter in any Proceeding by dismissal, with or without prejudice, shall be deemed to be a successful result as to such claim, issue, or matter.

(e) Suit to Recover Indemnification. If a claim under Section 6(b) or Section 6(h) of this Agreement is not paid in full by the Companies within thirty (30) days after a written claim has been received by the Companies, Director may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Companies to recover the unpaid amount of the claim. It shall be a defense to any such suit (other than a suit brought to enforce a claim for Expenses incurred in defending any Proceeding in advance of its final disposition where the required undertaking has been tendered to the Companies) that Director has not met the standards of conduct, if applicable, which make it permissible under Delaware Law for the Companies to indemnify Director for the amount claimed, but the burden of proving such defense and its applicability shall be on the Companies and may be met only by clear and convincing evidence. Neither the failure of the Companies (including their directors or equity holders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of Director is proper in the circumstances because Director has met the standard of conduct, if applicable, under Delaware Law, nor an actual determination by the Companies (including their directors or equity holders) that Director has not met such applicable standard of conduct, shall be a defense to the suit or create a presumption that Director has not met the applicable standard of conduct. The Expenses incurred by Director in bringing such suit (whether or not Director is successful) shall be paid by the Companies unless a court of competent jurisdiction determines that each of the material assertions made by Director in such suit was not made in good faith and was frivolous.

(f) Rights Not Exclusive; Rights Continue. The right to indemnification and the payment of Expenses incurred in defending any Proceeding in advance of its final disposition conferred in this Agreement shall not be exclusive of, or limit in any manner whatsoever, any other right which Director may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Organizational Documents, agreement, vote of equity holders or otherwise. The indemnification, expense advancement, and other rights of Director herein shall continue after Director ceases to be an independent and disinterested director of the Company for so long as Director may be subject to any possible claim for which he would be entitled to indemnification under this Agreement or otherwise as a matter of law, and shall not be amended, modified, terminated, revoked or otherwise altered without Director's prior written consent.

(g) Insurance. The Company or one of its affiliates (which, in the case of an affiliate, shall include coverage of directors of the Company) shall maintain insurance to protect the Company and any manager, director or trustee of the Company against any expense, liability, or loss, and such insurance shall cover Director to at least the same extent as any other director of the Company or any of its affiliates included in such insurance coverage. Director shall have the right to receive a copy of any policy for such insurance upon request and has been provided a full and complete copy of such insurance policy prior to the date hereof, which the Company represents and warrants is in full force and effect and no coverage has been denied or disputed by one or more of the insurers thereunder as of the Effective Date.

(h) Advancement of Defense Costs. Notwithstanding anything in the Organizational Documents to the contrary, the Company shall also promptly pay Director the expenses actually and reasonably incurred in connection with any Proceeding in advance of its final disposition without requiring any preliminary determination of the ultimate entitlement of Director to indemnification; provided, however, the payment of such expenses so incurred by Director in advance of the final disposition of any Proceeding shall be made only upon delivery to the Company of an unsecured undertaking in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A by or on behalf of Director, to repay (without interest) all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that Director is not entitled to be indemnified under this Agreement.

(i) Subrogation. In the event of payment under this Agreement, the Company shall be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all of the rights of recovery of Director, who shall, at the Company's expense, execute all papers required and take all action reasonably necessary to secure such rights, including the execution of such documents reasonably necessary to enable the Company effectively to bring suit to enforce such rights.

(j) No Duplication of Payments. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, the Company shall not be liable under this Agreement to make any payment in connection with any Proceeding against or by Director to the extent Director has otherwise actually received payment (under any insurance policy, contract, agreement, the Organizational Documents, or otherwise) of the amounts otherwise indemnifiable hereunder.

(k) Contribution. If the indemnification provided in Section 6(b) and the advancement provided in Section 6(h) should under Delaware Law be unenforceable or insufficient to hold Director harmless in respect of any and all Expenses with respect to any Proceeding, then the Company shall, subject to the provisions of this Section 6(k) and for purposes of this Section 6(k) only, upon written notice from Director, be treated as if it were a party who is or was threatened to be made a party to such Proceeding (if not already a party), and the Company shall contribute to Director the amount of Expenses incurred by Director in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative benefits accruing to the Company and all of its directors, trustees, managers, officers, employees and agents (other than Director) treated as one entity on the one hand, and Director on the other, which arose out of the event(s) underlying such Proceeding, and the relative fault of the Company and all of its directors, trustees, managers, officers, employees and agents (other than Director) treated as one entity on the one hand, and Director on the other, in connection with such event(s), as well as any other relevant equitable considerations.

No provision of this Section 6(k) shall: (i) operate to create a right of contribution in favor of Director if it is judicially determined that, with respect to any Proceeding, Director engaged in gross negligence, willful misconduct, or fraud, or (ii) limit Director's rights to indemnification and advancement of Expenses, whether under this Agreement or otherwise.

The Companies hereby waive any right of contribution from Director for Expenses incurred by the Companies with respect to any Proceeding in which the Companies are or are threatened to be made a party. The Companies shall not enter into any settlement of any Proceeding in which the Companies are jointly liable with Director (or would be if joined in such Proceeding) unless such settlement provides for a full and final release of all claims asserted against Director and does not contain an admission of wrongdoing by Director.

7. INFORMATION. The Company shall timely provide Director with such financial and other information as Director may reasonably request and as may be necessary for Director to perform his obligations hereunder, and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to make its management available to discuss the business and operations of the Company upon Director's reasonable request.

8. EFFECT OF WAIVER. The waiver by either party of the breach of any provision of this Agreement shall not operate as or be construed as a waiver of any subsequent breach thereof.

9. GOVERNING LAW. This Agreement shall be interpreted in accordance with, and the rights of the parties hereto shall be determined by, the laws of the state of Delaware without reference to its conflicts of laws principles.

10. ASSIGNMENT. Except by operation of law, the rights and benefits of the Company under this Agreement shall not be transferable without Director's consent, and all the covenants and agreements hereunder shall inure to the benefit of, and be enforceable by or against, its successors and assigns. The duties and obligations of Director under this Agreement are personal and therefore Director may not assign any right or duty under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the Company.

11. BINDING EFFECT; SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by each of the parties hereto and their respective successors, assigns (including any direct or indirect successor by purchase, merger, consolidation or otherwise to all or substantially all of the business or assets of the Company), heirs and personal legal representatives.

12. SEVERABILITY; HEADINGS. If any provision of this Agreement is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid as applied to any fact or circumstance, it shall be modified by the minimum amount necessary to render it valid, and any such invalidity shall not affect any other provision, or the same provision as applied to any other fact or circumstance. The headings used in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall not be construed to limit or define the scope of any Section or provision.

13. COUNTERPARTS; AMENDMENT. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be considered one and the same agreement. No amendment to this Agreement shall be effective unless in writing signed by each of the parties hereto.

14. DEFINITIONS. As used in this Agreement, the following terms shall have the respective meanings set forth below:

(a) "Cause" means:

(i) conviction of, or plea of guilty or nolo contendere to, a felony;

(ii) willful and continued failure to use reasonable best efforts to substantially perform his duties hereunder (other than such failure resulting from Director's incapacity due to physical or mental illness) that Director fails to remedy to the reasonable satisfaction of the Company within 30 days after written notice is delivered by the Company to Director that sets forth in reasonable detail the basis of Director's failure to use reasonable best efforts to substantially perform Director's duties hereunder; or

(iii) willful misconduct that is or may reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the reputation or interests of the Company or any of its affiliates.

For purposes of this Section 14(a), no act, or failure to act, by Director will be considered "willful" if taken or omitted in the good faith belief that the act or omission was in, or not opposed to, the best interests of the Company or was taken or omitted upon the reliance of advice from counsel, advisors or other experts retained by or for the Company.

RESTRICTED STOCK AGREEMENT – DIRECTORS

To:

Award Date:

You are hereby awarded, effective as of the date hereof, [___] shares (the "Shares") of common stock, $.001 par value ("Common Stock"), of ModivCare Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to the Company's 2006 Long-Term Incentive Plan, as amended (the "Plan"), subject to certain Restrictions (as defined below) specified below. (While subject to the Restrictions, this Agreement refers to the Shares as "Restricted Shares").

During the period commencing on the Award Date and terminating on the one-year anniversary of the Award Date (the "Restricted Period"), the Shares may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged, or otherwise encumbered and are subject to forfeiture (the "Restrictions").

Except as set forth below, the Restricted Period with respect to the Shares will lapse on [DATE] (the "Vesting Date") assuming twelve months of Continuous Service (as defined below) have been completed since the Award Date. Subject to the restrictions set forth in the Plan, the Administrator (as defined in the Plan) shall have the authority, in its discretion, to accelerate the time at which any or all of the restrictions shall lapse with respect to any Shares thereto, or to remove any or all of such restriction, whenever the Administrator may determine that such action is appropriate by reason of changes in applicable tax or other laws, or other changes in circumstances occurring after the commencement of the Restricted Period.

In addition to the terms, conditions, and restrictions set forth in the Plan, the following terms, conditions, and restrictions apply to the Restricted Shares:

Restrictions and Forfeiture	You may not sell, assign, pledge, encumber, or otherwise transfer any interest in the Restricted Shares until the Vesting Date, at which point the Restricted Shares will be referred to as "Vested." Such shares, once vested, are subject to the Company's applicable anti-hedging and anti-pledging policies. If your Directorship terminates for any reason other than death or Disability (as defined in the Plan), the Company will have the right to reacquire your unvested Restricted Shares at the lower of your original purchase price, if any, for such Shares, and the fair market value of the Shares on your date of termination. If there was no purchase price, your Restricted Shares will be forfeited.
Vesting Schedule	Assuming you provide Continuous Service as a Director (as defined in the Plan), of the Company or an Affiliate of the Company, all Restrictions will lapse on the Restricted Shares on the Vesting Date and they will become Vested, the Company will transfer the Vested Shares to you once all of the Additional Conditions to Transfer described below have been satisfied, and you will be able, subject to federal, state or foreign securities law limitations and any other applicable shareholders agreements or other agreements, to sell the Shares. The final Vesting Date will not change based upon the Company meeting or failing to meet performance targets.
Change in Control	In the event of a Change in Control (as defined in the Plan), your Restricted Shares shall vest from and after the date of the Change in Control, notwithstanding the Vesting Schedule set forth above.
Continuous Service	"Continuous Service," as used herein, means the absence of any interruption or termination of your service as a Director (as defined in the Plan), of the Company or any Affiliate. If you are a Director of an Affiliate of the Company, your Directorship shall be deemed to have terminated on the date the Affiliate of which you are a Director ceases to be an Affiliate of the Company, unless on that date you become a Director of the Company or another Affiliate of the Company. Service shall not be considered interrupted in the case of sick leave, military leave or any other leave of absence approved by the Company or any then Affiliate of the Company. Your Directorship shall not be deemed to have terminated if you are transferred from the Company to an Affiliate of the Company, or vice versa, or from one Company Affiliate to another Company Affiliate.

Additional Conditions to Transfer

The Company will retain the Restricted Shares until the Shares become Vested. After becoming Vested, the Company will transfer the Shares to you, either in book entry form or by share certificate.

You will not receive the Shares unless and until all of the following events occur and during the following periods of time:

(a) If the Company is subject to Section 162(m) of the Code (as defined in the Plan), until the Plan pursuant to which the Restricted Shares are awarded is approved by the shareholders of the Company in the manner prescribed by Section 162(m) and the regulations thereunder;

(b) Until the Shares are approved, registered and listed with such federal, state, local and foreign regulatory bodies or agencies and securities exchanges as the Company may deem necessary or desirable, or the Company deems such Shares to be exempted therefrom;

(c) During any period of time which the Company deems that the issuance of the Shares may violate a federal, state, local, or foreign law, rule or regulation, or any applicable securities exchange or listing rule or agreement, or may cause the Company to be legally obligated to issue or sell more shares than the Company is legally entitled to issue or sell; or

(d) Until you have paid or made suitable arrangements to pay (which may include payment through the surrender of Common Stock, unless prohibited by the Administrator) (i) all federal, state, local and foreign tax withholding required by the Company in connection with the issuance or the vesting of the Shares and (ii) the employee's portion of other federal, state, local and foreign payroll and other taxes due in connection with the issuance or the vesting of the Shares.

Dividend Equivalents and Voting

The Company will pay you additional compensation when it pays dividends with respect to its Shares. Under this additional compensation, you will receive the same amount, reduced by withholding, as though you had owned the Restricted Shares and received dividends on those Shares. You will receive dividend equivalents only with respect to record dates that follow the Date of Grant. You will not receive dividend equivalents if you have made a dividend reinvestment election (in the manner specified by the Administrator). You will not receive dividend equivalents on any Restricted Shares after you forfeit them. You will not have any voting rights on any Restricted Shares.

Tax Withholdings	Unless you make an 83(b) election and pay taxes in accordance with that election, you will be taxed on the Shares as they become Vested and must arrange to pay the taxes on this income. If the Administrator so determines, arrangements paying the taxes may include your surrendering Shares that otherwise would be released to you upon becoming Vested or your surrendering Shares you already own. The fair market value of the Shares you surrender, determined as of the date when taxes otherwise would have been withheld in case, will be applied as a credit against the withholding taxes.
Representation	The following paragraph shall be applicable if, on the date of issuance of the Shares, no registration statement and current prospectus under the Securities Act of 1933 covers the Shares, and shall continue to be applicable for so long as such registration has not occurred and such current prospectus is not available: The Participant hereby agrees, warrants and represents that they will acquire the Shares to be issued hereunder for their own account for investment purposes only, and not with a view to, or in connection with, any resale or other distribution of any of such shares, except as hereafter permitted. The Participant further agrees that they will not at any time make any offer, sale, transfer, pledge or other disposition of such Shares to be issued hereunder without an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and under any applicable state securities laws or an opinion of counsel acceptable to the Company to the effect that the proposed transaction will be exempt from such registration. The Participant shall execute such instruments, representations, acknowledgments and agreements as the Company may, in its sole discretion, deem advisable to avoid any violation of federal, state, local or foreign law, rule or regulation, or any securities exchange rule or listing agreement. The sole purpose of the agreements, warranties and representations set forth in the immediately preceding paragraph is to prevent violations of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and any applicable state securities laws.
Stock Dividend, Stock Split and Similar Capital Changes	In the event of any change in the outstanding shares of the Common Stock of the Company by reason of a stock dividend, stock split, combination of shares, recapitalization, merger, consolidation, transfer of assets, reorganization, conversion or what the Administrator deems in its sole discretion to be similar circumstances, the number and kind of shares subject to this Agreement shall be appropriately adjusted in a manner to be determined in the sole discretion of the Administrator, whose decision shall be final, binding and conclusive in the absence of clear and convincing evidence of bad faith.
Non-Transferability	Restricted Shares are not transferable.

No Effect on Status as a Director

Nothing herein shall modify your status as a Director of the Company or any of its Affiliates. Further, nothing herein guarantees your status as a Director for any specified period of time. This means that either you or the Company or any of its Affiliates may terminate you as a Director at any time for any reason, with or without cause, or for no reason. You recognize that, for instance, you may terminate your Directorship or the Company or any of its Affiliates may terminate your Directorship prior to the date on which your Shares become vested.

No Effect on Corporate Authority

You understand and agree that the existence of this Agreement will not affect in any way the right or power of the Company or its shareholders to make or authorize any or all adjustments, recapitalizations, reorganizations, or other changes in the Company's capital structure or its business, or any merger or consolidation of the Company, or any issuance of bonds, debentures, preferred or other stocks with preference ahead of or convertible into, or otherwise affecting the common shares or the rights thereof, or the dissolution or liquidation of the Company, or any sale or transfer of all or any part of its assets or business, or any other corporate act or proceeding, whether of a similar character or otherwise.

Arbitration

Any dispute or disagreement between you and the Company with respect to any portion of this Agreement or its validity, construction, meaning, performance or your rights hereunder shall be settled by arbitration, at a location designated by the Company, in accordance with the Commercial Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association or its successor, as amended from time to time. However, prior to submission to arbitration you will attempt to resolve any disputes or disagreements with the Company over this Agreement amicably and informally, in good faith, for a period not to exceed two weeks. Thereafter, the dispute or disagreement will be submitted to arbitration. At any time prior to a decision from the arbitrator(s) being rendered, you and the Company may resolve the dispute by settlement.

You and the Company shall equally share the costs charged by the American Arbitration Association or its successor, but you and the Company shall otherwise be solely responsible for your own respective counsel fees and expenses. The decision of the arbitrator(s) shall be made in writing, setting forth the award, the reasons for the decision and award and shall be binding and conclusive on you and the Company.

Further, neither you nor the Company shall appeal any such award. Judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction may be entered upon the award and may be enforced as such in accordance with the provisions of the award.

Governing Law

The laws of the State of Delaware will govern all matters relating to this Agreement, without regard to the principles of conflict of laws.

Notices

Any notice you give to the Company must be in writing and either hand- delivered or mailed to the office of the General Counsel of the Company. If mailed, it should be addressed to the General Counsel of the Company at its then main headquarters. Any notice given to you will be addressed to you at your address as reflected on the personnel records of the Company. You and the Company may change the address for notice by like notice to the other. Notice will be deemed to have been duly delivered when hand-delivered or, if mailed, on the day such notice is postmarked.

Conflicting Terms

Wherever a conflict may arise between the terms of this Agreement and the terms of the Plan, the terms of the Plan will control.

Exhibit 10.22

RESTRICTED STOCK UNIT AGREEMENT

To: [NAME]

You are hereby awarded, effective as of the Date of Grant, restricted stock units (each a "RSU" and collectively the "RSUs") set forth below, each representing the right to receive shares of common stock, $.001 par value ("Common Stock"), of Modivcare Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), pursuant to the Company's 2006 Long-Term Incentive Plan, as amended from time to time (the "Plan"), subject to the terms and conditions specified below in this Restricted Stock Unit Agreement ("Agreement"). Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Agreement shall have the meanings ascribed to such terms in the Plan.

Effective Date of Grant: [DATE]

Total of Shares Granted: [NUMBER]

In addition to the terms, conditions, and restrictions set forth in the Plan, the following terms, conditions, and restrictions apply to the RSUs:

Restrictions and Forfeiture

The RSUs are not assignable or transferable, in whole or in part, and they may not, directly or indirectly, be offered, transferred, sold, pledged, assigned, alienated, hypothecated or otherwise disposed of or encumbered (including, but not limited to, by gift, operation of law or otherwise) other than by will or by the laws of descent and distribution to your estate or upon your death. Any purported transfer in violation of this paragraph shall be void ab initio. Such shares, once vested, are subject to the Company's applicable anti-hedging and anti-pledging policies. All awards are subject to Modivcare's clawback policies.

Except as set forth below, if your Continuous Service terminates for any reason, your unvested RSUs will be immediately forfeited.

Subject to the restrictions set forth in the Plan, the Administrator (as defined in the Plan) shall have the authority, in its discretion, to accelerate the vesting schedule applicable to your RSUs, whenever the Administrator may determine that such action is appropriate by reason of changes in applicable tax or other laws, or other changes in circumstances occurring after the Date of Grant, provided no acceleration will be permitted if it would cause the RSUs issued under this Agreement to not comply with the requirements of Section 409A (as defined below).

Assuming you provide Continuous Service as an Employee (as defined in the Plan) of the Company or an Affiliate of the Company from the Date of Grant through the applicable Vesting Date included below, your RSUs shall become vested on the applicable Vesting Dates set forth in the schedule below.

Vesting

Vesting Dates	Number of RSUs that Vest
[DATE]	[NUMBER]

Settlement	Your RSUs that become vested pursuant to the vesting schedule set forth above shall be settled by the Company's issuance to you, within ten (10) business days following the applicable Vesting Date, one Share for each RSU that vests on such Vesting Date, subject to the satisfaction of any required tax withholding obligations and the other conditions described below. Upon such settlement, your rights in respect of such vested RSU shall be extinguished.
Change in Control	Notwithstanding the Plan and the vesting schedule set forth above, in the event of a Change in Control, your unvested RSUs shall continue to vest according to the vesting schedule set forth above and the terms of the Plan. In the case of a Change in Control Termination, your unvested RSUs will become vested immediately upon the occurrence of a Change in Control Termination. For the purpose of this provision, a "Change in Control Termination" refers to the termination of your Continuous Service by the Company or its successor without Cause within the period starting 30 days before and concluding one year following a Change in Control. In the event a Change in Control Termination, your RSUs that become vested shall be settled by the Company's issuance to you, within thirty (30) business days following the Change in Control Termination, one Share for each RSU that vests on the date of your Change in Control Termination, subject to the satisfaction of any required tax withholding obligations and the other conditions described below. Upon such settlement, your rights in respect of such vested RSU shall be extinguished
Continuous Service	"Continuous Service," as defined in this context, refers to the uninterrupted and unbroken tenure of your employment as an Employee (as defined in the Plan) with the Company or any Affiliate. If you serve as an Employee of an Affiliate, your Employment will be considered terminated if the Affiliate, for which you are an Employee, ceases to be an Affiliate of the Company—unless, on that date, you transition to being an Employee of the Company or another Affiliate of the Company. Service remains unbroken during periods of sick leave, military leave, or any other Company or Affiliate-approved leave of absence. Your Employment will not be regarded as terminated if you are transferred between the Company and an Affiliate, vice versa, or between two Company Affiliates.

Additional Conditions to Transfer

The Company will retain the Shares related to your RSUs until your RSUs vest as described above. Upon settlement of your vested RSUs, the Company will transfer the Shares to you as described above, either in book entry form or by share certificate.

You will not receive the Shares unless and until all of the following events occur and during the following periods of time:

(a) Until the Shares are approved, registered and listed with such federal, state, local and foreign regulatory bodies or agencies and securities exchanges as the Company may deem necessary or desirable, or the Company deems such Shares to be exempted therefrom.

(b) During any period of time which the Company deems that the issuance of the Shares may violate a federal, state, local, or foreign law, rule or regulation, or any applicable securities exchange or listing rule or agreement, or may cause the Company to be legally obligated to issue or sell more shares than the Company is legally entitled to issue or sell; or

(c) Until you have paid or made suitable arrangements to pay (which may include payment through the surrender of Common Stock) (i) all federal, state, local and foreign tax withholding required by the Company in connection with the issuance or the vesting and settlement of the RSUs and (ii) the employee's portion of other federal, state, local and foreign payroll and other taxes due in connection with the issuance or the vesting and settlement of the RSUs. In the event you have not paid or made suitable arrangements to pay all such required withholding amounts within 10 days following the applicable vesting date of the RSUs, your right to all such shares of Common Stock issuable in settlement of such RSUs hereunder will be forfeited

In the event that the Company pays a cash dividend in respect to Shares following the Date of Grant and prior to the applicable settlement date, there shall be credited to your account in respect of each outstanding RSU an amount equal to such per share dividend. The amount so credited shall be deferred (without interest) until the vesting and settlement of such related RSU and shall be forfeited upon the forfeiture of such related RSU prior to vesting and settlement. The Administrator may, in its discretion, determine, in connection with any such crediting, whether such crediting will be in cash, additional RSUs or other notional instrument; provided that in the absence of any such determination, such crediting will be in cash. You will not have any voting rights on any RSUs.

Tax Withholdings

You will incur taxes on the RSUs once they become vested and are settled through the issuance of shares of Common Stock (or cash or other consideration in the case of a Change in Control, as applicable). It is your responsibility to make arrangements for covering the taxes associated with this income. Options for fulfilling tax obligations include, at your discretion, surrendering shares of Common Stock or other consideration that would have been issued to you upon the vesting and settlement of the RSUs. The fair market value of the surrendered shares of Common Stock, determined as of the date when taxes would have been withheld, will be applied as a credit against the withholding taxes.

Representation

You hereby agree, warrant and represent that you will acquire the shares of Common Stock to be issued hereunder for your own account for investment purposes only, and not with a view to, or in connection with, any resale or other distribution of any of such shares, except as hereafter permitted. You further agree to not at any time make any offer, sale, transfer, pledge or other disposition (including with respect to any settlement of any hedging transaction) of such shares to be issued hereunder without an effective registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and under any applicable state securities laws or an opinion of counsel acceptable to the Company to the effect that the proposed transaction will be exempt from such registration. You shall execute such instruments, representations, acknowledgements and agreements as the Company may, in its sole discretion, deem advisable to avoid any violation of federal, state, local or foreign law, rule or regulation, or any securities exchange rule or listing agreemen

The sole purpose of the agreements, warranties and representations set forth in the immediately preceding paragraph is to prevent violations of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and any applicable state securities laws.

Stock Dividend, Stock Split and Similar Capital Changes

In the event of any change in the outstanding shares of the Common Stock of the Company as a result of consolidation, transfer of assets, conversion or what the Administrator deems in its sole discretion to be similar circumstances, the number of kind of shares subject to this Agreement shall be appropriately adjusted in a manner to be determined in the sole discretion of the Administrator, whose decision shall be final, binding and conclusive in the absence of clear and convincing evidence of bad faith.

No Effect on Status as an Employee	Nothing herein guarantees your status as an Employee for any specified period of time. You recognize that, for instance, you may terminate your Continuous Service or the Company or any of its Affiliates or any successors thereto may terminate your Continuous Service prior to the date on which your RSUs become vested
No Effect on Corporate Authority	You understand and agree that the existence of this Agreement will not affect in any way the right or power of the Company or its shareholders to make or authorize any or all adjustments, recapitalizations, reorganizations, or other changes in the Company's capital structure or its business, or any merger or consolidation of the Company, or any issuance of bonds, debentures, preferred or other stocks with preference ahead of or convertible into, or otherwise affecting the common shares or the rights thereof, or the dissolution or liquidation of the Company, or any sale or transfer of all or any part of its assets or business, or any other corporate act or proceeding, whether of a similar character or otherwise.
Arbitration	Any dispute or disagreement between you and the Company with respect to any portion of this Agreement or its validity, construction, meaning, performance or your rights hereunder shall be settled by arbitration, at a location designated by the Company, in accordance with the Commercial Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association or its successor, as amended from time to time. However, prior to submission to arbitration you will attempt to resolve any disputes or disagreements with the Company over this Agreement amicably and informally, in good faith, for a period not to exceed two weeks. Thereafter, the dispute or disagreement will be submitted to arbitration. At any time prior to a decision from the arbitrator(s) being rendered, you and the Company may resolve the dispute by settlement. You and the Company shall equally share the costs charged by the American Arbitration Association or its successor, but you and the Company shall otherwise be solely responsible for your own respective counsel fees and expenses. The decision of the arbitrator(s) shall be made in writing, setting forth the award, the reasons for the decision and award and shall be binding and conclusive on you and the Company. Further, neither you nor the Company shall appeal any such award. Judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction may be entered upon the award and may be enforced as such in accordance with the provisions of the award.

2031 MODIVCARE INC INSIDER TRADING POLICY

Purpose:

The purpose of this policy is to provide Teammates, officers, directors, and other individuals associated with our organization a comprehensive framework for understanding their responsibilities and obligations when it comes to trading in company securities. By delineating the boundaries between permissible and prohibited activities, this policy aims to prevent any misuse of material non-public information that could potentially give an unfair advantage to certain individuals or undermine the market's integrity.

Scope:

This Policy applies to all Modivcare Teammates, including employees, temporary employees, contract employees, as well as Board Members and others acting on behalf of the Company.

I. Introduction

Federal and state laws prohibit buying, selling or making other transfers of securities by persons who have material information that is not generally known or available to the public. These laws also prohibit persons with such material nonpublic information from disclosing this information to others who trade.

Modivcare Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, including Modivcare Solutions, LLC, the "Company") has adopted the following policy (this "Policy") regarding trading in securities by directors, officers, and Teammates, as well as (i) members of such persons' immediate families and households and (ii) corporations or other business entities controlled or managed by any such person, and trusts for which any such person is the trustee or in which any such person has a beneficial pecuniary interest (together, "Controlled Entities"). All references in this Policy to you or Teammates of the Company should be read to include all such persons listed in the preceding sentence.

You are responsible for seeing that you do not violate federal or state securities laws or this Policy. We designed this Policy to promote compliance with the federal securities laws and to protect the Company and you from the serious liabilities and penalties that can result from violations of these laws. If you violate the insider trading laws, you may have to pay civil fines for up to three (3) times the profit gained or loss avoided by such trading, as well as criminal fines of up to $5 million. You also may have to serve a jail sentence of up to twenty (20) years. In addition to the potential criminal and civil liabilities mentioned above, in certain circumstances the Company may be able to recover all profits made by an insider who traded illegally, plus collect other damages. Furthermore, the Company (and its executive officers and directors) could itself face penalties of the greater of $1.425 million, subject to adjustment, or three (3) times the profit gained or loss avoided as a result of a

Teammate's violation and/or a criminal penalty of up to $25 million for failing to take steps to prevent insider trading.

Without regard to the civil or criminal penalties that may be imposed by others, willful violation of this Policy and its procedures may constitute grounds for dismissal.

Both the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), the Department of Justice ("DOJ") and The Nasdaq Global Select Market, LLC ("Nasdaq") are very effective at detecting and pursuing insider trading cases. The SEC has successfully prosecuted cases against Teammates trading through foreign accounts, trading by family members and friends, and trading involving only a small number of shares. Therefore, it is important that you understand the breadth of activities that constitute illegal insider trading. This Policy sets out the Company's policy in the area of insider trading and should be read carefully and complied with fully.

II. Policies and Procedures

A. Trading Policy

1. You may not buy or sell a company's securities when you have Material Nonpublic Information about that company. This policy against "insider trading" applies to trading in Company securities, as well as to trading in the securities of other companies, such as the Company's customers and suppliers or a firm with which the Company is negotiating a major transaction.

2. You may not convey Material Nonpublic Information about the Company or another company to others. You also may not suggest that anyone purchase or sell any company's securities while you are aware of Material Nonpublic Information about that company. These practices, known as "tipping," also violate the U.S. securities laws and can result in the same civil and criminal penalties that apply if you engage in insider trading directly, even if you do not receive any money or derive any benefit from trades made by persons to whom you passed Material Nonpublic Information. This policy against "tipping" applies to information about the Company and its securities, as well as to information about other companies. This policy does not restrict legitimate business communications on a "need to know" basis.

3. It is against Company policy for you to engage in short-term or speculative transactions in Company securities. As such, you may not engage in: (a) purchase of the Company securities on margin, which means you are prohibited from borrowing from a brokerage firm, bank or other entity in order to purchase the company securities; (b) short sales (selling Company securities you do not own); (c) transactions involving publicly traded options or other derivatives, such as trade in puts or calls in Company securities; and (d) hedging transactions; except in connection with cashless exercises of stock options in accordance with the Company's equity compensation plans, in the case of (a) and (b).

The foregoing restrictions apply to all directors, officers, and Teammates, as well as members of such persons' immediate families and households and such persons' Controlled Entities. The SEC and federal prosecutors may presume that trading by family members is based on information you supplied and may treat any such transactions as if you had traded yourself. There is no exception for small transactions or transactions that may seem necessary or justifiable for independent reasons, such as the need to raise money for an emergency expenditure.

For purposes of this Policy, references to "trading" and "transactions" includes, among other things:

- purchases and sales of Company securities in public markets;
- sales of Company securities obtained through the exercise of Teammate stock options granted by the Company;
- making gifts of Company securities; and
- using Company securities to secure a loan.

Directors, officers, and Teammates should consult the Company's General Counsel if they have any questions.

B. What is "Material Nonpublic Information"?

1. Material Information

Material information generally means information that a reasonable investor would consider important in making an investment decision to buy, hold, or sell securities. Either positive or negative information may be material. Depending on the circumstances, common examples of information that may be material include:

- earnings, revenue, or similar financial information;
- unexpected financial results;
- unpublished financial reports or projections;
- extraordinary borrowing or liquidity problems;
- changes in control;
- changes in directors, senior management or auditors;

modivcare

- information about current, proposed, or contemplated transactions, business plans, financial restructurings, acquisition targets or significant expansions or contractions of operations;
- changes in dividend policies or the declaration of a stock split or the proposed or contemplated issuance, redemption, or repurchase of securities;
- material defaults under agreements or actions by creditors, clients, or suppliers relating to a company's credit rating;
- information about major contracts, including termination or renewal of major contracts (i.e., state Medicaid contracts);
- significant changes in the Company's pricing or cost structure;
- gain or loss of a significant customer;
- major environmental incidents;
- significant actual or potential cybersecurity incidents or events that affect the Company or third party providers that support the Company's business operations, including computer system or network compromises, viruses or other destructive software, and data breach incidents that may disclose personal, business or other confidential information;
- actual or threatened significant litigation, including any significant developments, or governmental inquiry or investigation;
- any significant pending regulatory action; and
- any other facts which might cause the Company's financial results to be substantially affected.

Federal and Nasdaq investigators will scrutinize a questionable trade after the fact with the benefit of hindsight, so you should always err on the side of deciding that the information is material and not trade. If you have questions regarding specific transactions, please contact the Company's General Counsel.

2. Nonpublic Information

Nonpublic information is information that is not generally known or available to the public. We consider information to be available to the public only when:

- it has been released to the public by the Company through appropriate channels (e.g.,by means of a press release, Form 8-K or other SEC filing, a widely disseminated statement from a senior officer or other widely disseminated means); and

- enough time has elapsed to permit the investment market to absorb and evaluate the information. As a general rule, you should consider information to be nonpublic when two full trading days (i.e., days on which the Nasdaq is open for trading) have lapsed following public disclosure.

Discussing previously disclosed historical information about the Company or facts that are generally known to the public would not be considered a prohibited disclosure. However, commenting on or updating previously disclosed information may in certain circumstances constitute disclosure of material non-public information.

C. Unauthorized Disclosure

All directors, officers, and Teammates must maintain the confidentiality of Company information for competitive, security and other business reasons, as well as to comply with securities laws. All information you learn about the Company or its business plans is potentially nonpublic information until it is publicly disclosed. You should treat this information as confidential and proprietary to the Company. You may not disclose it to others, such as family members, other relatives, or business or social acquaintances.

Also, legal rules govern the timing and nature of our disclosure of material information to outsiders or the public. Violation of these rules could result in substantial liability for you, the Company and its management. For this reason, we permit only specifically designated representatives of the Company to discuss the Company with the news media, securities analysts and investors and only in accordance with the Company's Guidelines for Public Disclosures and Communications with the Investment Community. If you receive inquiries of this nature, refer them to the Office of the General Counsel.

D. When and How to Trade Company Stock

A. Overview

Directors, officers and certain other Teammates who are so designated from time to time (such officers and designated Teammates, "Restricted Teammates"), as well as members of their immediate families and households and their controlled entities are for purposes of this Policy required to comply with the restrictions covered below. Even if you are not a director or a Restricted Teammate, however, following the procedures listed below may assist you in complying with this Policy.

B. Window Periods

Directors and Restricted Teammates, as well as members of their immediate families and households and their controlled entities may only trade in Company securities from the date

that is two full trading days after an earnings release to the end of business on the date that is two weeks prior to the end of each quarter (such period, the "Window Period").

However, even if the Window Period is open, you may not trade in Company securities if you are aware of Material Nonpublic Information about the Company. In addition, if you are subject to the Company's pre-clearance policy (described below), you must pre-clear transactions even if you initiate them when the Window Period is open.

From time to time during the Window Period, the Company may close trading due to developments (such as a significant event or transaction) that involve Material Nonpublic Information. In such cases, the Company's Legal Department may notify particular individuals that they should not engage in any transactions involving the purchase or sale of Company securities, and should not disclose to others the fact that trading has been prohibited.

Even if the Window Period is closed, you may exercise Company stock options if no shares are to be sold – you may not, however, effect sales of stock issued upon the exercise of stock options (including same-day sales and cashless exercises). Generally, all pending purchase and sale orders regarding Company securities that could be executed while the Window Period is open must be cancelled before it closes.

In light of these restrictions, if you expect a need to sell Company stock at a specific time in the future, you may wish to consider entering into a prearranged Rule 10b5-1(c) trading plan, as discussed below.

C. No Short-Term Trading of Company Securities

Any Company securities purchased on the open market by the Company's directors and Restricted Teammates or member of such individuals' immediate family or household or any such person's controlled entity must be held for a minimum of six (6) months. Note that the SEC's short swing profit rules already penalize Section 16 Reporting Persons (defined below) who sell any Company securities within six (6) months of a purchase by requiring such person to disgorge all profits to the Company whether or not such person had knowledge of any material, non-public information. "Section 16 Reporting Persons" are members of the Company's Board of Directors, director emeriti and certain executive officers, who are subject to the reporting and "short-swing profit" liability provisions of Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

For the avoidance of doubt, same day cashless exercises of stock options are not subject to this prohibition, provided that there were no previous purchase transactions on the open market within six (6) months of the exercise date.

D. Pre-clearance

The Company requires its directors and Restricted Teammates to contact the General Counsel in advance of effecting any purchase, sale or other trading of Company securities and to obtain prior approval of the transaction. The pre-clearance policy applies to these people even if they are initiating a transaction while the Window Period is open. The pre-clearance policy also applies to anyone that lives in the household (other than household Teammates) of a director or Restricted Teammate, as well as Controlled Entities of a director or Restricted Teammate.

If a transaction is approved under the pre-clearance policy, the transaction must be executed by the end of the second full trading day after the approval is obtained, but regardless may not be executed if you acquire Material Nonpublic Information concerning the Company during that time. If a transaction is not completed within the period described above, the transaction must be approved again before it may be executed.

If a proposed transaction is not approved under the pre-clearance policy, you should refrain from initiating any transaction in Company stock, and you should not inform anyone within or outside of the Company of the restriction. Any transaction under a Rule 10b5-1 trading plan (discussed below) will not require pre-clearance at the time of the transaction.

E. Rule 10b5-1 Trading Plans

Rule 10b5-1 provides a defense from insider trading liability if trades occur pursuant to a pre-arranged trading plan that meets specified conditions. It is possible to pre-arrange trades in Company securities by entering into a written trading plan. Trading plans can be established for a single trade or a series of trades. A plan must either specify the number of securities to be bought or sold, along with the price and the date, or provide a written formula f or determining this information. Alternatively, a trading plan can delegate investment discretion to a third party, such as a broker, who then makes trading decisions without further input from the person implementing the plan. Because the SEC rules on trading plans are complex, you should consult with your broker and be sure you fully understand the limitations and conditions of the rules before you establish a trading plan.

All Rule 10b5-1 trading plans must be reviewed and approved in advance by the Company's Legal Department.

F. Noncompliance

Anyone who fails to comply with this Policy will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Item 3.01 Notice of Delisting or Failure to Satisfy a Continued Listing Rule or Standard; Transfer of Listing.

On May 5, 2025, the Company received a notification letter (the "Notice") from the Listing Qualifications Department of the Nasdaq Stock Market LLC ("Nasdaq") notifying the Company that, for the previous 30 consecutive business days, the Company's market value of publicly held shares ("MVPHS"), which value calculation under applicable Nasdaq rule excludes shares held by beneficial owners of more than 10% of our total shares outstanding and shares held by our officers and directors, closed below the $15,000,000 MVPHS threshold required for continued listing on The Nasdaq Global Select Market under Nasdaq Listing Rule 5450(b)(3)(C).

The Notice has no immediate effect on the listing of the Company's common stock on The Nasdaq Global Select Market. To regain compliance, the Company's MVPHS must close at or above $15,000,000 for a minimum of ten consecutive business days prior to the expiration of the 180-day compliance period. In the event that the Company does not regain compliance with the MVPHS requirement prior to the expiration of the 180-day compliance period, the Company will receive written notification from Nasdaq that the Company's securities are subject to delisting. At that time, the Company may appeal the delisting determination to a Nasdaq hearings panel. Alternatively, the Company may apply to transfer its securities to The Nasdaq Capital Market, provided that the Company then meets the continued listing requirements on The Nasdaq Capital Market.

The Company intends to monitor its MVPHS and may, if appropriate, consider implementing available options to regain compliance with the MVPHS requirement. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to regain compliance with the MVPHS requirement.

Title: Chief Executive Officer

Modivcare Reports First Quarter 2025 Financial Results

Denver, CO – May 8, 2025 – Modivcare Inc. (the "Company" or "Modivcare") (Nasdaq: MODV), a technology-enabled healthcare services company that provides a platform of integrated supportive care solutions focused on improving health outcomes, today reported financial results for the three months ended March 31, 2025.

"In Q1, we continued to advance our strategic objectives and operational initiatives," said L. Heath Sampson, President and CEO. "Company-wide alignment on key initiatives—securing new contracts, laying the groundwork for scalable automation, reducing G&A, strengthening our working-capital discipline, and progressing toward divestiture readiness—positions us to deliver enhanced performance and long-term value. We are making steady progress that reflects the team's focus on these priorities. We look forward to maintaining this positive momentum and building a stronger, more connected Modivcare."

First Quarter 2025 Summary:

- Service revenue of $650.7 million, down 4.9% year-over-year
- Net loss of $50.4 million, or negative $3.52 per diluted common share; adjusted net loss[(1)] of $24.5 million and adjusted loss per share[(1)] of $1.71 per diluted common share
- Adjusted EBITDA[(1)] of $32.6 million, representing 5.0% of service revenue
- $105.0 million in new financing executed in Q1 to support ongoing transformation efforts
- Targeted cost reduction actions expected to generate greater than $20.0 million in annualized G&A savings

First Quarter 2025 Results

Revenue was $650.7 million, compared to $684.5 million in the prior-year period, primarily reflecting contract attrition in the NEMT segment and lower volumes in PCS and Monitoring. Net loss and Adjusted EBITDA[(1)] were $50.4 million and $32.6 million, compared to $22.3 million and $32.1 million in Q1 2024, respectively.

By segment:

- NEMT revenue was $449.0 million, down 6.3% year-over-year, a 3.9% net income margin and a 6.2% Adjusted EBITDA margin[(1)] — up 50 basis points.
- PCS revenue was $181.8 million, down 1.0%, with net income of $2.4 million and an Adjusted EBITDA[(1)] of $12.2 million — up 8.5% year-over-year.
- Monitoring revenue was $18.1 million, down 9.8%, a 6.0% net loss margin and a 28.8% Adjusted EBITDA margin[(1)].

Net contract receivables increased to $108.5 million, up from $95.2 million last quarter, primarily due to higher utilization on shared risk contracts. Modivcare ended the quarter with $116.0 million in cash and remained fully drawn on its revolver. Operating cash flow was a use of $82.1 million and Free cash flow[(2)] was negative $86.2 million, reflecting working capital build and higher interest expense. The Company has taken targeted actions to accelerate collections and improve working capital efficiency.

[(1)] Non-GAAP financial measure reconciliations and other related information about non-GAAP financial measures provided below.

[(2)] Free cash flow, a non-GAAP financial measure, is calculated by us as cash flow from operations less our capital expenditures during the period of $4.1 million that is included in our purchase of property and equipment line in our Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows provided below.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures and Adjustments

In addition to the financial measures prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America ("GAAP"), the information contained herein may include presentations for the Company and its segments (as noted and applicable) of: (1) EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted G&A expense, Adjusted EBITDA margin, Adjusted Net Income (Loss), and Adjusted Earnings (Loss) Per Share, all of which are non-GAAP financial measures considered by management to be performance measures; and (2) free cash flow, which is a non-GAAP financial measure considered by management to be a liquidity measure. EBITDA is defined as net income (loss) before: (1) interest expense, net; (2) provision (benefit) for income taxes; and (3) depreciation and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated as EBITDA before (as applicable): (1) restructuring and related costs; (2) transaction and integration costs; (3) settlement related costs; (4) stock-based compensation; and (5) equity in net (income) loss of investee, net of tax. Adjusted EBITDA margin is calculated as Adjusted EBITDA divided by service revenue, net. Adjusted Net Income (Loss) is calculated as net income (loss) before (as applicable): (1) restructuring and related costs; (2) transaction and integration costs; (3) settlement related costs; (4) stock-based compensation; (5) equity in net (income) loss of investee, net of tax; (6) intangible asset amortization expense; and (7) the income tax impact of such adjustments. Adjusted Earnings (Loss) Per Share is calculated as Adjusted Net Income (Loss) divided by the diluted weighted-average number of common shares outstanding as calculated for Adjusted Net Income (Loss). Adjusted G&A expense is calculated as G&A expense before (as applicable): (1) restructuring and related costs; (2) transaction and integration costs; (3) settlement related costs; and (4) stock-based compensation. Free cash flow is calculated as cash flow from operations less our applicable capital expenditures included in our purchase of property and equipment line in our Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows.

Reconciliations of the non-GAAP financial measures used herein to their most directly comparable GAAP financial measures that are not included in the discussion above are included below. Our non-GAAP performance measures exclude expenses and amounts that are not driven by our core operating results and may be one time in nature. Excluding these expenses makes comparisons with prior periods as well as to other companies in our industry more meaningful. We believe such measures allow investors to gain a better understanding of the factors and trends affecting the ongoing operations of our business. We consider our core operations to be the ongoing activities to provide services from which we earn revenue, including direct operating costs and indirect costs to support these activities. As a result, our net income or loss in equity investee is excluded from these measures, as we do not have the ability to manage the venture, allocate resources within the venture, or directly control its operations or performance. Our free cash flow presentation (as applicable) reflects an additional way of viewing our liquidity that, when viewed together with our GAAP results, provides management, investors, and other users of our financial information with a more complete understanding of factors and trends affecting our cash flows. Our use of the term free cash flow is not intended to imply, and no inference should be made, however, that any reported amounts are free to be used without restriction for discretionary expenditures, as our use of these funds may be restricted by the terms of our outstanding indebtedness, including our credit facility, and otherwise earmarked for other non-discretionary expenditures.

Our non-GAAP financial measures may not provide information that is directly comparable to that provided by other companies in our industry, as other companies in our industry may calculate non-GAAP financial measures differently. In addition, there are limitations in using non-GAAP financial measures because they are not prepared in accordance with GAAP, may be different from non-GAAP financial measures used by other companies, and exclude expenses that may have a material impact on our reported financial results. The presentation of non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation from or as a substitute for the most directly comparable financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. We urge you to review the reconciliations of our non-GAAP financial measures to their most directly comparable GAAP financial measures included below, and not to rely on any single financial measure to evaluate our business.

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements contained in this press release constitute “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The updated guidance discussed herein constitutes forward-looking statements. Such forward-looking statements are based on current expectations, assumptions, estimates and projections about our business and our industry, and are not guarantees of our future performance. These statements are subject to a number of known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors, many of which are beyond our ability to control or predict, which may cause actual results to be materially different from those expressed or implied herein, including but not limited to: government or private insurance program funding reductions or limitations; implementation of alternative payment models or the transition of Medicaid and Medicare beneficiaries to Managed Care Organizations; our inability to control reimbursement rates received for our services; cost containment initiatives undertaken by private third-party payors and an inability to maintain or reduce our cost of services below rates set forth by our payors; the effects of a public health emergency; inadequacies in, or security breaches of, our information technology systems; changes in the funding, financial viability or our relationships with our payors; pandemics and other infectious diseases; delays in any inability to attract and retain qualified employees; any disruptions from acquisition or acquisition integration efforts; estimated income taxes being different from income taxes that we ultimately pay; weakening of general economic conditions, including the impact of inflationary pressures, rising interest rates, labor shortages, higher labor costs and supply chain challenges; any failure to successfully implement our business plan, including planned strategic divestitures of certain assets; historical operating losses and negative cash flow and any failure to improve our financial condition; significant turnover of our senior management team and across our organization; ongoing negotiations related to new capital investments may require a substantial portion of time from our management; our contracts not surviving until the end of their stated terms, or not being renewed or extended; our failure to compete effectively in the marketplace; our not being awarded contracts through the government's requests for proposals process, or our awarded contracts not being profitable; any failure to satisfy our contractual obligations or to maintain existing pledged performance and payment bonds; any failure to estimate accurately the cost of performing our contracts; the extended collection periods and uncertainty concerning the timing of the collection of outstanding contract receivables; any misclassification of the drivers we engage as independent contractors rather than as employees; significant interruptions in our communication and data services; not successfully executing on our strategies in the face of our competition; any inability to maintain relationships with existing patient referral sources; certificates of need laws or other regulatory and licensure obligations that may adversely affect our personal care integration efforts and expansion into new markets; any failure to obtain the consent of the New York Department of Health to manage the day to day operations of our licensed in-home personal care services agency business; changes in the case-mix of our personal care patients, or changes in payor mix or payment methodologies; our loss of existing favorable managed care contracts; our experiencing labor shortages in qualified employees and management; labor disputes or disruptions, in particular in New York; becoming subject to malpractice, professional negligence or other similar claims; our operating in the competitive in-home patient monitoring industry, and failing to develop and enhance related technology applications; any failure to innovate and provide services that are useful to customers and to achieve and maintain market acceptance; our lack of sole decision-making authority with respect to our minority investment in Matrix and any failure by Matrix to achieve positive financial position and results of operations; any legal challenges to the relationships or arrangements between our virtual clinical care management services and the unaffiliated physician-owned professional corporation through which such services are provided; any failure to comply with applicable data interoperability and information blocking rules; the lapse of temporary telehealth flexibilities currently permitted under the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2023; the cost of our compliance with laws; changes to the regulatory landscape applicable to our businesses; changes in budgetary priorities of the government entities or private insurance programs that fund our services; regulations relating to privacy and security of patient and service user information; actions for false claims or recoupment of funds; civil penalties or loss of business for failing to comply with bribery, corruption and other regulations governing business with public organizations; increasing scrutiny and changing expectations with respect to environmental, social and governance matters; changes to, or violations of, licensing regulations; our contracts being subject to audit and modification by the payors with whom we contract; a loss of Medicaid coverage by Medicaid beneficiaries as a result of any state Medicaid eligibility determination processes; our existing debt agreements containing restrictions, financial covenants and cross-default provisions that limit our flexibility in operating our business; our substantial indebtedness and ability to generate sufficient cash to service our indebtedness; the expiration of our existing credit agreement or any loss of available financing alternatives; our ability to incur substantial additional indebtedness or to issue additional equity; our substantial doubt about our ability to meet our obligations as they come due within one year from the date of issuance of the financial statements for fiscal year 2024; any failure to successfully remediate any control deficiency or material weakness in our internal control over financial reporting; our dependence on our subsidiaries to fund our operations and expenses; anti-takeover provisions discouraging a change of control; and any stock price volatility.

The Company has provided additional information about the foregoing and other risks facing our business in our annual report on Form 10-K and subsequent periodic and current reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission that could impact future performance. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date the statement was made and are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements set forth herein and in our filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, which you should read in their entirety before making an investment decision with respect to our securities. We undertake no obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements contained in this release, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by applicable law.

ModivCare Inc.
Notes to the Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements
March 31, 2025

1. Organization and Basis of Presentation

Description of Business

ModivCare Inc. ("ModivCare" or the "Company") is a technology-enabled healthcare services company that provides a suite of integrated supportive care solutions for public and private payors and their members. Its value-based solutions address the social determinants of health ("SDoH") by connecting members to essential care services. By doing so, ModivCare helps health plans manage risks, reduce costs, and improve health outcomes. ModivCare is a provider of non-emergency medical transportation ("NEMT"), personal care services ("PCS"), and in-home monitoring solutions ("Monitoring"), which serve similar, highly vulnerable patient populations. The technology-enabled operating model in its NEMT segment includes the coordination of non-emergency medical transportation services supported by an infrastructure of core competencies in risk underwriting, contact center management, network credentialing and claims management. Additionally, its personal care services in its PCS segment include placements of non-medical personal care assistants, home health aides and nurses primarily to Medicaid patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing daily living activities in the home setting. ModivCare's in-home monitoring solutions in its Monitoring segment include in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions.

ModivCare also holds a 43.6% minority interest in CCHN Group Holdings, Inc. and its subsidiaries, which operates under the Matrix Medical Network brand ("Matrix"). Matrix, which is included in its Corporate and Other segment, maintains a national network of community-based clinicians who deliver in-home and on-site services.

Basis of Presentation

The Company follows accounting standards established by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"). The FASB establishes accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP"). Rules and interpretive releases of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") under the authority of federal securities laws are also sources of authoritative GAAP for SEC registrants. References to GAAP issued by FASB in these notes are to the FASB Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC"), which serves as the single source of authoritative accounting and applicable reporting standards to be applied for non-governmental entities. All amounts are presented in U.S. dollars unless otherwise noted.

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with GAAP for interim financial information, and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, they do not include all the information and disclosures required by GAAP for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments considered necessary for the fair presentation of the results of the interim periods have been included.

The Company has made estimates relating to the reporting of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses, and certain disclosures in the preparation of these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2025 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2025. Management has evaluated events and transactions that occurred after the balance sheet date and through the date these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements were filed with the SEC and considered the effect of such events in the preparation of these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements.

The unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheet at December 31, 2024 included in this Form 10-Q has been derived from audited financial statements at that date, but does not include all the information and footnotes required by GAAP for complete financial statements. The unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements contained herein should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements and notes included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024.

Reclassifications: Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation.

Management's Liquidity Plans and Going Concern Considerations

In accordance with ASC 205-40, Presentation of Financial Statements – Going Concern, Management evaluates whether there are conditions or events that raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of one year from the date of financial statement issuance and to provide related footnote disclosures in certain circumstances. The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP, assuming the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business.

During the quarter ended March 31, 2025, the Company continued to experience financial challenges, including increased transportation and caregiver costs that have not been offset by corresponding reimbursement rate increases from payors, the loss of certain contracts, and membership declines. These factors have negatively impacted cash flow generation and liquidity. Additionally, the Company continued to experience lengthened collection periods due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements, resulting in delays between recognizing revenue for services rendered and collecting cash owed for our services. This prolonged cash conversion cycle places further strain on liquidity and working capital. As a result, the Company is likely to require additional liquidity in order to support ongoing operations over the next year.

As of the issuance date of these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements, the Company also entered into Amendment No. 5 (the "Fifth Amendment") to its Credit Agreement (as defined in Note 8, Debt) which, among other things, established an incremental term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $75.0 million (the “Incremental Term Loan” as defined in Note 8, Debt). The Incremental Term Loan is a short-term facility with a maturity date of January 10, 2026 and, as a result of the factors described above, the Company is likely to require additional liquidity in order to satisfy its existing debt obligations due within one year from the date of the issuance of these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements.

As a result of the foregoing, the Company is not expected to have the ability to meet one or more financial covenants under its existing credit agreements. Failure to meet these covenants or others could cause obligations under the Revolving Credit Facility (as defined in Note 8, Debt), the Term Loan Facility (as defined in Note 8, Debt), the Incremental Term Loan (as defined in Note 8, Debt), and the Company’s Notes due 2029 (as defined in Note 8, Debt), to become immediately due and payable, and the Company would not have sufficient liquidity to satisfy such obligations. In such event, the Company would be required to restructure its existing debt or to seek additional equity or debt financing to meet its obligations.

Furthermore, these factors raise substantial doubt about the Company's ability to satisfy its obligations as they become due within one year from the issuance date of these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements. Accordingly, Management has concluded that substantial doubt exists about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

To address these concerns, Management has implemented cost optimization measures, renegotiated contract terms, and secured amendments to its credit agreements, including a temporary financial covenant holiday. Management is actively pursuing further financing options, evaluating strategic asset divestitures, long-term covenant relief and implementing operational efficiencies to improve liquidity. There can be no assurance that additional financing, additional liquidity from asset divestitures or long-term covenant relief will be available on terms acceptable to the Company, or at all, or in amounts sufficient to enable the Company to satisfy its obligations as they become due or to sustain operations in the future.

Impact of the COVID-19 Pandemic

On May 11, 2023, the Department of Health and Human Services ("HHS") declared the end of the public health emergency ("PHE") for the COVID-19 pandemic. While the Company has continued to experience increased trip volume, service hours, and patient engagement each year following the pandemic, structural changes in the industry as a result of the pandemic, as well as ongoing constraints on the labor market, specifically related to the strain on healthcare professionals, could continue to have an adverse impact on the Company's financial statements. The Company continues to actively monitor the structural changes to the industry and the impact these have on our business and results of operations with an emphasis on protecting the health and safety of its employees, maximizing the availability of its services and products to support SDoH, and supporting the operational and financial stability of its business.

2. Significant Accounting Policies and Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, including disclosure of contingencies, at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair Value Measurements

The Company follows FASB ASC Topic 820, Fair Value Measurement ("ASC 820") which establishes a three-level valuation hierarchy for disclosure of fair value measurements. The valuation hierarchy categorizes assets and liabilities measured at fair value into one of three different levels depending on the observability of the inputs employed in the measurement. The three levels based on the observability of inputs are defined as follows:

- Level 1: Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets – inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices in active markets as of the measurement date for identical assets or liabilities.

- Level 2: Significant Other Observable Inputs – inputs to the valuation methodology are based upon quoted prices for similar assets and liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets and liabilities in markets that are not active, and inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the financial instrument.

- Level 3: Significant Unobservable Inputs – inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

A financial instrument's categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The Company's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and considers factors specific to the asset or liability. As of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the carrying amount for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable (net of allowance for credit losses), current assets and current liabilities was equal to or approximated fair value due to their short-term nature or proximity to current market rates. Fair values for the Company's publicly traded debt securities are based on quoted market prices, when available, and for the Company's nonpublic debt are based on lender quotes, when available. See Note 8, Debt, for the fair value of the Company's long-term debt.

Internal-use Software and Cloud Computing Arrangements

The Company develops and implements software for internal use to enhance the performance and capabilities of the technology infrastructure. The costs incurred for the development of the internal-use software are capitalized when they meet the internal-use software capitalization criteria outlined in ASC 350-40 and are included within "Property and equipment, net" on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets. The capitalized costs are amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the software, ranging from 3 to 10 years. As of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, capitalized costs associated with the internal-use software, net of accumulated amortization were $26.6 million and $26.1 million, respectively. The amount of accumulated amortization as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 was $9.6 million and $7.8 million, respectively. Amortization expense during the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024 totaled $1.7 million and $1.1 million, respectively.

In addition to acquired software, the Company capitalizes costs associated with cloud computing arrangements ("CCA") that are service contracts. The CCA include services which are used to support certain internal corporate functions as well as technology associated with revenue-generating activities. The capitalized costs are amortized using the straight-line method over the term of the related CCA. As of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, capitalized costs associated with CCA, net of accumulated amortization were $12.0 million and $11.9 million, respectively. The amount of accumulated amortization as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 was $11.4 million and $10.3 million, respectively. Amortization expense during the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024, totaled $1.1 million and $1.3 million, respectively.

Revenue Recognition

Under ASC 606, the Company recognizes revenue as it transfers promised services directly to its customers at the amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for providing these services. The Company's performance obligations are driven by its different segments of business and primarily consist of integrated service offerings to provide non-emergency medical transportation, personal care services, or remote monitoring services directly to its customers. The Company receives payment for providing these services from third-party payors that include federal, state, and local governmental agencies, managed care organizations, and private consumers. In the NEMT segment, the Company's performance obligation is to stand ready to perform transportation-related activities, including the management, fulfillment, and recordkeeping activities associated with such services. In the PCS segment, the Company's performance obligation is to deliver patient care services in accordance with the nature and frequency of services outlined in each contract. In the Monitoring segment, the Company's performance obligation is to stand ready to perform monitoring services in the form of personal emergency response system monitoring, vitals monitoring, and other monitoring services, as contractually agreed upon. The Company satisfies substantially all of its performance obligations over time and recognizes revenue over time instead of at points in time which aligns the pattern of transfer of promised services with the value received by the customer for the performance completed to date.

The Company holds different contract types under its different segments of business. In the NEMT segment, there are both capitated contracts, under which payors pay a fixed amount monthly per eligible member and revenue is recognized over each distinct service period, and fee-for-service ("FFS") contracts, under which the Company bills and collects a specified amount for each service that is provided and revenue is recognized using the right to invoice practical expedient. In the PCS segment, contracts are also FFS and service revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amount from patients and third-party payors for services rendered and revenue is recognized using the right to invoice practical expedient. Under Monitoring contracts, payors pay per-enrolled-member-per-month, based on enrolled membership, and revenue is recognized ratably over the contract term. For each contract type, the Company determines the transaction price based on the gross charges for services provided, reduced by estimates for contractual adjustments due to settlements of audits and payment reviews from third-party payors. The Company determines the estimated revenue adjustments at each segment based on its historical experience with various third-party payors and previous results from the claims and adjudication process. The PCS segment uses the portfolio approach to determine the estimated revenue adjustments. See further information in Note 4, Revenue Recognition.

Government Grants

The Company periodically receives government grants which are not generated from the Company's contractual performance obligations under ASC 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Funding received from governmental entities under government programs generally requires that the recipient attests to and complies with certain terms and conditions of receiving the funding. Government grant distributions have been received under various Acts to provide economic relief and stimulus to address the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as from other entities that provide funds with specific stipulations on the usage of those funds. When received, these government grants are generally recorded on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets in "Accrued expenses and other current liabilities" until the time at which there is reasonable assurance the conditions of the grant will be met, at which point they can be recognized on the unaudited condensed consolidated statement of operations. Once recognized, the Company records the funds as an offset to "Service expense" as the grants are typically used to offset certain costs. The Company received grant distributions of $— million and $14.0 million during the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively. During the three months ended March 31, 2025, no funds were recognized as grant income and $— million was recognized as an offset to "Service expense." During the three months ended March 31, 2024, no funds were recognized as grant income and $15.3 million was recognized as an offset to "Service expense". The remaining balance is recorded on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets in the "Accrued expenses and other current liabilities" line item until the conditions for recognition have been met. See further information in Note 7, Accrued Expenses and Other Current Liabilities.

As a condition of receiving certain distributions intended to compensate for the COVID-19 pandemic, providers must agree to use the funds to respond to the PHE or its negative economic impacts, to respond to workers performing essential work by providing premium pay to eligible workers, and to offset reductions in revenue due to the COVID-19 PHE as stipulated by the states in which the funds were received. All recipients of SLFRF distributions are required to comply with the reporting requirements that the state in which the funds originated requests, in order for the states to meet the requirements as described in the terms and conditions as determined by the Department of the Treasury. The Company is in the process of complying with all known reporting requirements to date.

Restricted Cash

Restricted cash primarily relates to amounts held as cash collateral for performance bonds and amounts held in trusts for reinsurance claims losses under the Company’s insurance operation for historical workers’ compensation, general and professional liability and auto liability reinsurance programs, as well as amounts restricted for withdrawal under our self-insured medical and benefits plans.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Recent accounting pronouncements that the Company has yet to adopt are as follows:

In December 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-09, Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures ("ASU 2023-09"). This update enhances the transparency and decision usefulness of income tax disclosures including updates to the disclosures related to the rate reconciliation and income taxes paid. These updates improve transparency by requiring consistent categories and greater disaggregation of information in the rate reconciliation and requiring income taxes paid to be disaggregated by jurisdiction. ASU 2023-09 is effective for public business entities for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2024, with early adoption permitted.

In November 2024, the FASB issued ASU 2024-03, Income Statement - Reporting Comprehensive Income - Expense Disaggregation Disclosures (Subtopic 220-40): Disaggregation of Income Statement Expenses ("ASU 2024-03"). This update improves the disclosures about a public business entity's expenses and addresses requests from investors for more detailed information about the types of expenses in commonly presented expense captions (such as cost of sales; selling, general, and administrative expenses; and research and development). This update provides investors with disaggregated information about public business entity's expenses to help investors better understand the entity's performance; better assess the entity's prospects for future cash flows; and compare an entity's performance over time with that of other entities. ASU 2024-03 is effective for all public business entities for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2026, and interim reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2027, with early adoption permitted.

3. Segments

The Company's reportable segments are identified based on a number of factors related to how its Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") determines the allocation of resources and assesses the performance of the Company's operations. The Company's CODM is its President and Chief Executive Officer. The Company's reportable segments are strategic business units that offer different healthcare-related services to the Company's members. They are managed separately because each segment has its own distinct revenue generating activities and core business processes, which requires different technology and strategies in order to serve the varying needs of its members. The Company's CODM manages the Company under four reportable segments, the services of each are discussed in detail below.

For each of the segments, the CODM uses operating income or loss as the measure of profit or loss to assess segment performance and allocate resources (including personnel, financial, and capital resources) during periodic budgeting and forecasting processes and budget-to-actual variance reviews. The Company's operating income for the reportable segments includes an allocated portion of corporate expenses to the respective segments and includes revenues and all other costs directly attributable to the specific segment.

The CODM uses total assets as the measure of assets attributable to each segment and reviews this measure in conjunction with segment performance to allocate capital to technology investments and projects in each segment in order to idenitfy the best deployment of resources.

- NEMT - The Company's NEMT segment is the largest manager of non-emergency medical transportation programs for state governments and managed care organizations, or MCOs, in the U.S. This segment also holds the results of the Company's captive insurance program;

- PCS - The Company's PCS segment provides in-home personal care services to State and Managed Medicaid, Medicare, and Private Pay patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing activities of daily living;

- Monitoring - The Company's Monitoring segment provides in-home monitoring solutions, including in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care and data-driven patient engagement solutions;

- Corporate and Other - The Company's Corporate and Other segment includes the costs associated with the Company's corporate operations as well as the results of an investment in innovation related to expanding our virtual care, digital engagement, monitoring capabilities, and member insights and analytics that the Company made at the end of the first quarter of 2023, which contributes to service revenue and service expense. The operating results of the Corporate and Other segment include activities related to executive, accounting, finance, internal audit, tax, legal and certain strategic and corporate development functions for each segment, the results of this investment in innovation, as well as the results of the Company's Matrix investment.

4. Revenue Recognition

Under ASC 606, the Company recognizes revenue as it transfers promised services to its customers and generates all of its revenue from contracts with customers. The amount of revenue recognized reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for these services. The Company satisfies substantially all of its performance obligations over time and recognizes revenue over time instead of at points in time.

Revenue Contract Structure

NEMT Capitated Contracts (per-member-per-month)

Under capitated contracts, payors pay a fixed amount per eligible member per month. Capitation rates are generally based on expected costs and volume of services. The Company assumes the responsibility of meeting the covered healthcare related transportation requirements based on per-member per-month fees for the number of eligible members in the payor's program. Revenue is recognized based on the population served during the period. Certain capitated contracts have provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors or profit rebates. For contracts with reconciliation provisions, capitation payment is received as a prepayment during the month service is provided. These prepayments are reconciled based on actual cost and/or trip volume and may result in refunds to the payor, or additional payments due from the payor. Contracts with risk corridor or profit rebate provisions allow for profit within a certain corridor and once the Company reaches profit level thresholds or maximums, it discontinues recognizing revenue and instead records a liability within the accrued contract payable account. This liability may be reduced through future increases in trip volume or periodic settlements with the payor. While a profit rebate provision could only result in a liability from this profit threshold, a risk corridor provision could potentially result in a receivable if the Company does not reach certain profit minimums, which would be recorded in the reconciliation contract receivables account.

NEMT Fee-for-service Contracts

Fee-for-service ("FFS") revenue represents revenue earned under non-capitated contracts in which the Company bills and collects a specified amount for each service that it provides. FFS revenue is recognized in the period in which the services are rendered and is reduced by the estimated impact of contractual allowances.

PCS Fee-for-service Contracts

PCS FFS revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amount from clients, patients and third-party payors for services rendered based on actual personal care hours provided. Payment for services received from third-party payors includes, but is not limited to, insurance companies, governmental agencies and other home health care providers who subcontract work to the Company. Certain contracts are subject to retroactive audit and possible adjustment by those payors based on the nature of the contract or costs incurred. The Company makes estimates of adjustments and considers these in the recognition of revenue in the period in which the related services are rendered. The difference between estimated settlement and actual settlement is reported in net service revenues as adjustments become known or as years are no longer subject to such audits, reviews, or investigations.

Monitoring per-member-per-month Contracts

Monitoring per-member-per-month ("PMPM") revenue consists of revenue from monitoring services provided to the customer. Under Monitoring contracts, payors pay per-enrolled-member-per-month based on enrolled membership. Consideration is generally fixed for each type of monitoring service and revenue is recognized ratably over the contract term based on the monthly fee paid by customers.

Disaggregation of Revenue by Contract Type

The following table summarizes disaggregated revenue from contracts with customers by contract type for the three months ended March 31, 2025 and March 31, 2024 (in thousands):

Senior Unsecured Notes

Pursuant to an indenture dated November 4, 2020 between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee, the Company issued $500.0 million in 5.875% senior unsecured notes due November 15, 2025 (the "2025 Notes"). Debt issuance costs of $14.5 million were incurred in relation to the issuance of the 2025 Notes and these costs were deferred and are amortized to interest expense over the term of the 2025 Notes. The 2025 Notes were redeemed in full on July 1, 2024 prior to contractual maturity, at a redemption premium of 1.469% on the aggregate original principal amount of the 2025 Notes for a total redemption of $507.3 million, plus the payment of approximately $3.8 million in accrued and unpaid interest on the 2025 Notes. As a result of the early redemption of the 2025 Notes, the Company recorded a loss on debt extinguishment of $7.8 million on the unaudited condensed consolidated statements of operations in the third quarter of 2024. This loss consisted of the redemption premium of 1.469% on the aggregate original principal amount of the 2025 Notes for $7.3 million plus the recognition of the unamortized deferred issuance costs on the 2025 Notes for $4.5 million. The 2025

Notes were redeemed in connection with the funding of the Term Loan Facility discussed below. As of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, the 2025 Notes were redeemed in full and thus had no associated fair value.

Pursuant to an indenture dated August 24, 2021, between the Company and The Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A., as trustee, the Company issued $500.0 million in 5.000% senior unsecured notes due October 1, 2029 (the "2029 Notes"). The Company pays interest on the 2029 Notes semi-annually in arrears. Principal payments are not required until the maturity date, when 100.0% of the outstanding principal will be required to be repaid. Debt issuance costs of $13.5 million were incurred in relation to the issuance of the 2029 Notes and these costs were deferred and are amortized to interest expense over the term of the 2029 Notes.

On January 9, 2025, pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement (described in the Revolving Credit Facility section below), the Company entered into a privately negotiated exchange agreement (as amended, the "Exchange Agreement"), with holders of the Company's 2029 Notes to exchange (such exchange, the "Exchange") up to $251.0 million principal amount of the 2029 Notes for an equivalent principal amount of second lien senior secured PIK toggle notes to be issued by the Company (the "Second Lien Notes"), pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth therein, subject to the receipt of requisite consents (such consents, the "Exit Consents") to make certain amendments to the indenture governing the 2029 Notes to permit the Exchange and remove certain other covenants. On March 7, 2025, upon receipt of the requisite Exit Consents, the Company, the guarantors party to the 2029 Notes Indenture, and Wilimington Savings Fund Society, FSB (as the successor to the Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A.), as trustee, entered into the Fifth Supplemental Notes Indenture (the "Fifth Supplemental Indenture") to the 2029 Notes Indenture to effect the amendments. See Second Lien Notes discussion below for more detail.

In addition to the Exchange of $251.0 million of 2029 Notes for Second Lien Notes, on January 9, 2025, the Company entered into a Purchase and Exchange Agreement (the "Purchase and Exchange Agreement") with Coliseum Capital Partners, L.P. ("CCP"), a related party, and Blackwell Partners LLC - Series A (together, the "Coliseum Investors") under which the Coliseum Investors agreed, subject to approval of the Company's stockholders, (a) to purchase (the "Purchase") $30.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the Company's Second Lien Notes and (b) to exchange approximately $20.2 million in aggregate principal amount of the Company's 2029 Notes held by the Coliseum Investors for an equivalent principal amount of the Second Lien Notes (the "Coliseum Exchange" and, together with the Purchase, the "Coliseum Transactions"). See Second Lien Notes discussion below for more detail. The Exchange and the Coliseum Transactions were treated as a debt modification and third party fees of $2.5 million were expensed as incurred. As of the date of the Exchange and Coliseum Transactions, the remaining unamortized debt issuance costs of $8.3 million on the 2029 Notes were bifurcated and allocated ratably between the 2029 Notes and the Second Lien Notes and as of March 31, 2025, there was $3.8 million of unamortized deferred financing costs on the 2029 Notes and $4.5 million of unamortized deferred financing costs on the Second Lien Notes that were netted against the long-term debt balance on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets.

As a result of the Exchange and the Coliseum Transactions, the principal balance of the 2029 Notes as of March 31, 2025 was reduced to $228.8 million from the principal balance of $500.0 million as of December 31, 2024. The fair value of the 2029 Notes as of March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024 was $— million and $294.2 million, respectively. The fair value of the 2029 Notes was determined based on quoted prices in active markets, and therefore designated as Level 1 within the fair value hierarchy. The indenture covering the 2029 Notes also contains a cross-default provision in the event any of the Company's other indebtedness having a principal amount that aggregates $50.0 million or more is accelerated prior to its express maturity.

Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement discussed in detail in the Revolving Credit Facility section below, the Company was granted covenant relief in the form of a covenant holiday for the fourth quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025.

Second Lien Notes

As discussed above, on January 9, 2025, the Company entered into an Exchange Agreement with holders of the Company's 2029 Notes to exchange $251.0 million principal amount of the 2029 Notes for an equivalent principal amount of Second Lien Notes. Following the satisfaction of customary closing conditions and the receipt of the Exit Consents, the Exchange was consummated and the Second Lien Notes were issued on March 7, 2025. The Second Lien Notes were issued pursuant to, and are governed by, an indenture (the "Second Lien Notes Indenture") dated as of March 7, 2025, among the Company, the guarantors party thereto (the "Guarantors") and Ankura Trust Company, LLC, as trustee and notes collateral agent.

The Second Lien Notes are the Company's senior, secured obligations and will accrue interest at a rate of, at the Company's election, subject to certain conditions, (i) 5.000% per annum, if interest is paid in cash, and (ii) 10.000% per annum, if interest is paid-in-kind ("PIK"). In each case, interest is payable semi-annually in arrears on April 1 and October 1 of each year, beginning on April 1, 2025. Interest will be paid in kind by increasing the aggregate principal amount of one or more outstanding global notes representing the Second Lien Notes, or issuing additional Second Lien Notes, calculated based on the then outstanding principal of the Second Lien Notes. The Company will not be permitted to pay interest in kind in any interest period if the Company's Liquidity (as defined in, and calculated in accordance with, the Second Lien Notes Indenture) is greater than $100.0 million on any applicable record date occurring on and after March 15, 2026, for any such interest period. The Second Lien Notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by the Guarantors and rank equal in right of payment with all of the Company's and each Guarantor's existing and future senior indebtedness, including indebtedness under the Credit Agreement. The Second Lien Notes and the related guarantees are secured on a second-priority basis, subject to permitted liens, by security interests on substantially all of the assets and properties of the Company and the Guarantors, which assets and properties also secure the indebtedness under the Credit Agreement on a first-priority basis. The Second Lien Notes will mature on October 1, 2029.

The Second Lien Notes Indenture contains covenants that, among other things, restrict the Company's ability and the ability of its subsidiaries to, among other things, incur additional indebtedness; make certain investments; create or incur certain liens; enter into certain transactions with affiliates; merge, consolidate, amalgamate or transfer substantially all of its assets; agree to dividend or other payment restrictions affecting its subsidiaries; and transfer or sell assets, including capital stock of its subsidiaries. These covenants, however, are subject to a number of important exceptions and qualifications.

The Company may redeem the Second Lien Notes, in whole or in part, at any time, at the redemption prices set forth in the Second Lien Indenture, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but excluding, the date of redemption.

Purchase and Exchange Agreement

As discussed above, on January 9, 2025, the Company entered into a Purchase and Exchange Agreement (the "Purchase and Exchange Agreement") with the Coliseum Investors, pursuant to which the Coliseum Investors agreed, subject to the approval of the Company's stockholders, (a) to purchase $30.0 million in aggregate principal amount of the Company's Second Lien Notes and (b) to exchange approximately $20.2 million in aggregate principal amount of the Company's 2029 Notes held by the Coliseum Investors for an equivalent principal amount of the Second Lien Notes, in each case pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Purchase and Exchange Agreement. The Coliseum Transactions were approved during the Special Meeting held on March 13, 2025. On March 14, 2025, the Company, the Guarantors, the Trustee and the Notes Collateral Agent entered into a supplemental indenture (the "First Supplemental Indenture") to the Second Lien Notes Indenture, pursuant to which the Company issued $50.2 million of Second Lien Notes to the Coliseum Investors.

As a result of the Exchange and the Coliseum Transactions, the principal balance of the Second Lien Notes as of March 31, 2025 was $301.2 million. The Exchange and the Coliseum Transactions were treated as a debt modification and third party fees of $2.5 million were expensed as incurred. As of the date of the Exchange and Coliseum Transactions, the remaining unamortized debt issuance costs of $8.3 million on the 2029 Notes were bifurcated and allocated ratably between the 2029 Notes and the Second Lien Notes and as of March 31, 2025, there was $3.8 million of unamortized deferred financing costs on the 2029 Notes and $4.5 million of unamortized deferred financing costs on the Second Lien Notes that were netted against the long-term debt balance on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets.

As of March 31, 2025, the fair value of the Second Lien Notes was $- million and was determined based on broker quotes, and therefore designated as Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy.

Revolving Credit Facility

The Company is a party to the amended and restated credit agreement, dated as of February 3, 2022 (the "Credit Agreement") with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent, swing line lender and an issuing bank, Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as an issuing bank, Truist Bank and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as co-syndication agents, Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, Bank of America, N.A., Regions Bank, Bank of Montreal and Capital One, National Association, as co-documentation agents, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., Truist Securities, Inc. and Wells Fargo Securities, LLC, as joint bookrunners and joint lead arrangers, and the other lenders party thereto. The Revolving Credit Facility under the Credit Agreement was scheduled to mature on February 3, 2027 and the proceeds that may be drawn under the Revolving Credit Facility from time to time prior to maturity may be used (i) to finance working capital needs of the Company and its subsidiaries and (ii) for general corporate purposes of the Company and its subsidiaries (including to finance capital expenditures, permitted acquisitions and investments).

On June 26, 2023, the Company entered into Amendment No. 1 (the "First Amendment") to the Credit Agreement, which amended and restated the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio (as defined in the Credit Agreement as amended by the First Amendment) under the Credit Agreement as follows: for the fiscal quarters ending June 30, 2023 through September 30, 2023, 5.25:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending December 31, 2023 through March 31, 2024, 5.00:1.00; for the fiscal quarter ending June 30, 2024, 4.75:1.00; and for the fiscal quarters ending September 30, 2024 and for the fiscal quarters ending thereafter, 4.50:1.00.

On February 22, 2024, the Company entered into Amendment No. 2 (the "Second Amendment") to the Credit Agreement, which amended the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the amended Credit Agreement as follows: for the fiscal quarters ending March 31, 2024 through June 30, 2024, 5.50:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending September 30, 2024 through December 31, 2024, 5.25:1.00; for the fiscal quarters ending March 31, 2025 through September 30, 2025, 5.00:1.00, and for the fiscal quarters ending December 31, 2025 through March 31, 2026, 4.75:1.00. The Second Amendment also included a restriction on the Company's Liquidity (as defined in the Second Amendment and which is determined generally to be, as of any date of determination, the sum of the Company's borrowing capacity under the Revolving Credit Facility plus the amount of its unencumbered cash), requiring it to be less than $100.0 million as of the last day of each fiscal quarter (the "Liquidity Covenant").

On July 1, 2024, the Company entered into Amendment No. 3 (the "Third Amendment") to the Credit Agreement, which, among other things, extended with respect to the lenders identified in the Third Amendment the maturity date covering $255.0 million in the aggregate principal amount of the commitments under the Revolving Credit Facility to February 3, 2028. The existing financial covenants under the amended Credit Agreement were retained for the benefit solely of the Revolving Credit Facility lenders, and the minimum liquidity level required by the Liquidity Covenant was decreased from $100.0 million to $75.0 million. Certain other financial covenants and restrictions were also modified under the amended Credit Agreement, as previously disclosed. The fees associated with the Third Amendment of $0.3 million will be amortized over the life of the Revolving Credit Facility.

On September 30, 2024, the Company entered into Amendment No. 4 (the "Fourth Amendment") to its Credit Agreement, which increased the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the amended Credit Agreement for the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2024 (the "Relief Period") to 6.50:1.00 from 5.25:1.00. In addition, the Fourth Amendment reduced the minimum interest coverage ratio for the quarter ended September 30, 2024 to 2.00:1.00 and increased the applicable margin on the Revolving Credit Facility by 0.25% until the Company delivers the required financial statements and compliance certificate for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2024.

On January 9, 2025, the Company entered into Amendment No. 5 (the "Fifth Amendment") to its Credit Agreement, which, among other things, (i) amended the interest rate on the existing Revolving Credit Facility commitments under the Credit Agreement to a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.25%, with a 1.00% SOFR Floor, (ii) amended the 2.0% default rate under the Credit Agreement so that it applies on all obligations upon the election of the administrative agent at the direction of the Required Lenders if an event of default has occurred and continuing and automatically if a specified event of default has occurred and is continuing, (iii) amended the Term Loan Facility maturity date to spring to July 2, 2029 if the second lien senior secured PIK toggle notes remain outstanding as of such date, (iv) included enhanced reporting requirements, and (v) eliminated or reduced certain baskets, which included the elimination of reinvestment rights with respect to certain asset sales and reduction of the de minimis exception for certain asset sale prepayments to $5,000,000.

The Company will also be required to maintain minimum liquidity of $25.0 million pursuant to the terms of the amended minimum liquidity covenant in the Credit Agreement, which will be tested each week through the week ending April 11, 2025, each month through the month ending June 30, 2025 and, thereafter, each fiscal quarter. In addition, the Company will be subject to a cash variance compliance test with respect to aggregate disbursements and aggregate receipts, subject to customary cures. Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, a consent fee in an amount equal to 0.50% (the "Consent Fee") of the outstanding Revolving Commitments of the consenting lenders will be assessed and is payable in kind ("PIK") at the election of the Company. The Consent Fee is fully earned, due and payable on, and subject to the occurrence of, the Fifth Amendment effective date. As of March 31, 2025, the Company elected to PIK the 0.50% Consent Fee, and accordingly the Consent Fee of $1.6 million and related accrued interest of 0.1 million was capitalized on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets and amortized to interest costs over the term of the Revolving Credit Facility for each respective consenting lender.

As of March 31, 2025, the Company had $270.7 million, including the $1.7 million of PIK Consent Fee and related accrued interest, of short-term borrowings outstanding under the Revolving Credit Facility and had $55.6 million of outstanding letters of credit under the Revolving Credit Facility. Under the amended Credit Agreement, the Company has an option to request an increase in the amount of the Revolving Credit Facility so long as, after giving effect to the incremental facility, the pro forma secured net leverage ratio does not exceed 2.70:1.00. The Company may prepay the Revolving Credit Facility in whole or in part, at any time without premium or penalty, subject to reimbursement of the lenders' breakage and redeployment costs in connection with prepayments. The unutilized portion of the commitments under the Revolving Credit Facility may be irrevocably reduced or terminated by the Company at any time without penalty.

Interest on the outstanding principal amount of the loans under the Revolving Credit Facility accrues at a per annum rate equal to the Alternate Base Rate, the Adjusted Term SOFR Rate, the Adjusted Daily Simple SOFR Rate, the Adjusted EURIBOR Rate or the Adjusted Daily Simple SONIA Rate, as applicable and each as defined in the amended Credit Agreement, in each case, plus an applicable margin. With respect to the loans under the Revolving Credit Facility during the Relief Period as stipulated by the Fourth Amendment, the applicable margin ranges from 2.50% to 4.25% in the case of RFR loans, as defined in the amended Credit Agreement, and 1.50% to 3.25% in the case of the Alternate Base Rate loans, as defined in the amended Credit Agreement, in each case, based on the Company's Total Net Leverage Ratio. Interest on the loans is payable quarterly in arrears in the case of Alternate Base Rate loans. In addition, the Company is obligated to pay a quarterly commitment fee based on a percentage of the unused portion of the Revolving Credit Facility and quarterly letter of credit fees based on a percentage of the maximum amount available to be drawn under each outstanding letter of credit. The commitment fee and letter of credit fee range from 0.30% to 0.50% and 2.50% to 4.25%, respectively, in each case, based on the Company's Total Net Leverage Ratio.

The amended Credit Agreement contains customary representations and warranties, affirmative and negative covenants and events of default. The negative covenants include restrictions on the Company's ability to, among other things, incur additional indebtedness, create liens, make investments, give guarantees, pay dividends, sell assets and merge and consolidate. The Company's borrowing capacity under the Revolving Credit Facility is currently limited by, among other covenants, compliance with the Total Net Leverage Ratio covenant and the Liquidity Covenant for each fiscal period. Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, the Company was granted covenant relief in the form of a covenant holiday for the fourth quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025.

The Company's obligations under the Revolving Credit Facility are guaranteed by all of the Company's present and future material domestic subsidiaries, excluding certain material domestic subsidiaries that are excluded from being guarantors pursuant to the terms of the amended Credit Agreement. The Company's obligations under, and each guarantor's obligations under its guaranty of, the Revolving Credit Facility are secured by a first priority lien on substantially all of the Company's or such guarantor's respective assets. If an event of default occurs, the required lenders may cause the administrative agent to declare all unpaid principal and any accrued and unpaid interest and all fees and expenses under the Revolving Credit Facility to be immediately due and payable. All amounts outstanding under the Revolving Credit Facility will automatically become due and payable upon the commencement of any bankruptcy, insolvency or similar proceedings. The amended Credit Agreement, as it relates to the Revolving Credit Facility, also contains a cross-default to any of the Company's indebtedness having a principal amount in excess of $40.0 million.

Term Loan Facility

On July 1, 2024, the Company, pursuant to the Third Amendment, established a new term loan facility (the "Term Loan Facility") in the aggregate principal amount of $525.0 million with the Term Loan Facility lenders named therein. The proceeds of the Term Loan Facility were used to (i) redeem the Company's 2025 Notes, (ii) repay a portion of the Revolving Credit Facility outstanding immediately prior to the effective date of the Third Amendment, and (iii) pay fees and expenses associated with such transactions. The Company paid approximately $24.4 million of deferred issuance costs with respect to the Term Loan Facility. As of March 31, 2025, the Term Loan Facility had $26.9 million of unamortized deferred issuance costs that were netted against the long-term balance on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets. The fair value of the Term Loan Facility as of March 31, 2025 was $— million, which was determined based on lender quotes for the Company's debt, and therefore designated as Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy.

The Term Loan Facility matures on the earlier of (a) July 1, 2031 and (b) July 2, 2029 if any of the Company's 2029 Notes remain outstanding on that date. Principal payments on the Term Loan Facility are required on a quarterly basis, commencing with the quarter ending September 30, 2024, in the amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate principal amount of the Term Loan Facility outstanding on the date of issuance. All unpaid amounts of the Term Loan Facility shall be paid in full on the maturity date. The Term Loan Facility requires annual prepayments of a percentage of Excess Cash Flow (as defined in the amended Credit Agreement); commencing with the year ending December 31, 2025 as follows: (i) 75.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 4.40:1.00, (ii) 50.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.90:1:00, but less than or equal to 4.40:1.00, (iii) 25.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.40:1.00, but less than or equal to 3.90:1.00, and (iv) 0.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was less than or equal to 3.40:1.00. The Term Loan Facility also requires mandatory prepayments in the event of certain asset dispositions or casualty events. In addition, the Term Loan Facility is subject to a prepayment premium for the first six months after entering into the Third Amendment in the event of any repricing transaction.

Interest on the Term Loan Facility is generally payable quarterly, in arrears, on the outstanding principal amount of the Term Loan Facility at the following rates for the interest period in effect for such borrowing: (i) a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.75% or (ii) a prime rate (or other alternate base rate) benchmark plus 3.75% in the case of ABR Loans (as such terms are defined in the amended Credit Agreement). The Term Loan Facility is subject to customary representations and warranties, affirmative and negative covenants, and events of default, as defined in the amended Credit Agreement. As of March 31, 2025, the weighted average interest rate on the Term Loan Facility was 10.08%. The amended Credit Agreement, as it relates to the Term Loan Facility, also contains a cross-default to any of the Company's indebtedness having a principal amount in excess of $40.0 million. Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, a consent fee in an amount equal to 0.50% (the "Consent Fee") of the outstanding Term Loan Facility of the consenting lenders will be assessed and is payable in kind at the election of the Company. The Consent Fee is fully earned, due and payable on, and subject to the occurrence of, the Fifth Amendment effective date. As of March 31, 2025, the Company elected to PIK the 0.50% consent fee, and accordingly the consent fee of $2.5 million is capitalized on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets and amortized to interest costs over the term of the Term Loan Facility.

Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, the Company was granted covenant relief in the form of a covenant holiday for the fourth quarter of 2024 through and including the second fiscal quarter of 2025.

Incremental Term Loan Facility

On January 9, 2025, the Company, pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, established an incremental term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $75.0 million (the "Incremental Term Loan"). The Incremental Term Loan was priced at a SOFR-based benchmark plus 7.50%, with 1.00% SOFR Floor (no CSA) with a maturity of January 10, 2026 and original issue discount of 2 points. The Company has the option to prepay the Incremental Term Loan, in whole or in part, at any time prior to the maturity date, subject to a prepayment fee equal to the present value of all scheduled interest payments on the fully committed amount that would accrue through the maturity date calculated based on a discount rate equal to the treasury rate plus 50 basis points. The proceeds of the Incremental Term Loan are required to be deposited in a collateral account subject to a blocked account control agreement in favor of the administrative agent and may be disbursed subject to delivery of a disbursement request, no default or event of default, the representations and warranties in Article II of the Credit Agreement being true and correct in all material respects and receipt by the administrative agent and lenders of reimbursement for invoiced expenses. The Incremental Term Loan is secured by a lien on substantially all of the assets of the Company and certain of its subsidiaries. Pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, a backstop fee in an amount equal to 5.00% (the "Backstop Fee") of the outstanding Incremental Term Loan Facility will be assessed and is payable in kind at the election of the Company. The Consent Fee is fully earned, due and payable on, and subject to the occurrence of, the Fifth Amendment effective date. As of March 31, 2025, the Company elected to PIK the 5.00% Backstop Fee, and accordingly the Backstop Fee of $3.8 million is capitalized on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets and amortized to interest costs over the term of the Incremental Term Loan Facility.

Debt issuance costs related to the Incremental Term Loan Facility of $13.1 million, including the $3.8 million Backstop Fee, were incurred and these costs were deferred and are amortized to interest cost over the term of the Incremental Term Loan Facility. As of March 31, 2025, the Incremental Term Loan Facility had $10.1 million of unamortized deferred issuance costs that were netted against the short-term debt balance on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets.

As of March 31, 2025, the fair value of the Incremental Term Loan was $- million and was determined based on broker quotes, and therefore designated as Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy.

9. Stock-Based Compensation and Similar Arrangements

The Company provides stock-based compensation to employees, non-employee directors, consultants and advisors under the Company's 2006 Long-Term Incentive Plan ("2006 Plan"). The 2006 Plan allows the flexibility to grant or award stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock, unrestricted stock, stock units including restricted stock units and performance awards to eligible persons.

Stock options. The Company recognized immaterial stock-based compensation expense for non-qualified stock options ("NQs") for the three months months ended March 31, 2025, and 2024, in general and administrative expense. At March 31, 2025, the Company had 39,142 stock options outstanding with a weighted-average exercise price of $124.35.

Restricted stock awards and restricted stock units. The Company recognized stock-based compensation expense for restricted stock awards ("RSAs") and restricted stock units ("RSUs"), collectively, of $0.9 million and $1.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively, in general and administrative expense. The Company had 0 unvested RSAs and 241,081 unvested RSUs outstanding at March 31, 2025 with a weighted-average grant date fair value of $0.00 and $1.19, respectively.

Performance-based share awards. The Company grants performance-based restricted stock units ("PRSUs") to align management's compensation with the Company's financial performance and other operational objectives and to retain key employees. Awards granted under this category are based on the achievement of various targeted metrics as approved by the Compensation Committee and defined in the related PRSU Agreement. Stock-based compensation expense for PRSUs is recognized over the 3-year vesting period under the straight-line attribution method. The Company recorded a reversal of stock-based compensation expense related to PRSUs of $0.4 million in general and administrative expense for the three months ended March 31, 2025 due to forfeitures that occurred during the period and recorded $0.2 million of stock-based compensation expense for the three months ended March 31, 2024. The Company recorded an immaterial amount of stock-based compensation expense related to PRSUs for the three months ended March 31, 2025 due to the impact of the reversal of previously recognized stock-based compensation expense during the period from forfeitures and recorded $0.5 million of stock-based compensation expense for the three months ended March 31, 2025. The remaining expense is expected to be recognized over the remainder of the 3-year requisite service period. The Company had 236,362 unvested PRSUs outstanding at March 31, 2025 with a weighted-average grant date fair value of $1.63.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan

During the fourth quarter of 2022, the Company began offering an Employee Stock Purchase Plan ("ESPP") with 1,000,000 shares of Common Stock reserved for purchase pursuant to the Plan for eligible employees. The shares of Common Stock may be newly issued shares, treasury shares or shares acquired on the open market. Under the terms of the ESPP, eligible employees may designate a dollar value or percentage of their compensation to be withheld through payroll deductions, up to a maximum of $25,000 in each plan year, for the purchase of common stock at a discounted rate of 85% of the lower of the market price on the first or last trading day of the offering period. For the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024, the Company recorded an immaterial amount of stock-based compensation expense related to the ESPP. As of March 31, 2025, 949,037 shares remain available for future issuance under the ESPP.

10. Loss Per Share

The following table details the computation of basic and diluted loss per share (in thousands, except share and per share data):

	Three months ended March 31,
	2025	2024
Numerator:
Net loss	$ (50,377)	$ (22,300)
Denominator:
Denominator for basic and diluted earnings per share -- weighted-average shares	14,328,736	14,202,000
Loss per share:
Basic loss per share	$ (3.52)	$ (1.57)
Diluted loss per share	$ (3.52)	$ (1.57)

In a period when a net loss is reported, all common stock equivalents are excluded from the calculation because they would have an anti-dilutive effect, meaning the loss per share would be reduced. Therefore, in periods where a loss is reported, there is no difference in basic and diluted loss per share.

The following weighted-average shares were not included in the computation of diluted loss per share as the effect of their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive:

	Three months ended March 31,
	2025	2024
Stock options to purchase common stock	43,437	79,493
Restricted stock awards and restricted stock units	374,157	314,133

11. Income Taxes

The Company's effective tax rate to arrive at the tax provision for the three months ended March 31, 2025 was 8.2% and to arrive at the tax benefit for the three months ended March 31, 2024 was 2.5%. For the three months ended March 31, 2025, the effective tax rate differed from the U.S. federal statutory rate, primarily due to various tax credits, increased reserves on deferred tax assets, nondeductible expenses and nondeductible goodwill impairment. For the three months ended March 31, 2024, the effective tax rate differed from the U.S. federal statutory rate primarily due to various tax credits, a stock compensation shortfall, increased reserves for state net operating loss carryforwards and nondeductible expenses.

12. Commitments and Contingencies

Surveys, Audits and Governmental Investigations

In the ordinary course of business, the Company may from time to time be or become subject to surveys, audits and governmental investigations under or with respect to various governmental programs and state and federal laws. Agencies associated with the programs and other third-party commercial payors periodically conduct extensive pre-payment or post-payment medical reviews or other audits of claims data to identify possible payments made or authorized other than in compliance with the requirements of Medicare or Medicaid. In order to conduct these reviews, documentation is requested from the Company and then that documentation is reviewed to determine compliance with applicable rules and regulations, including the eligibility of clients to receive benefits, the appropriateness of the care provided to those clients, and the documentation of that care. Similarly, other state and federal governmental agencies conduct reviews and investigations to confirm the Company's compliance with applicable laws where it operates, including regarding employment and wage related regulations and matters. The Company cannot predict the ultimate outcome of any regulatory reviews or other governmental surveys, audits or investigations, but management does not expect any ongoing surveys, audits or investigations involving the Company to have a material adverse effect on the business, liquidity, financial condition, or results of operations of the Company. Regardless of the Company's expectations, however, surveys and audits are subject to inherent uncertainties and can have a material adverse impact on the Company due to, among other reasons, potential regulatory orders that inhibit its ability to operate its business, amounts paid as reimbursement or in settlement of any such matter, diversion of management resources and investigative costs.

Legal Proceedings

In the ordinary course of business, the Company may from time to time be or become involved in various lawsuits, some of which may seek monetary damages, including claims for punitive damages. Management does not expect any ongoing lawsuits involving the Company to have a material impact on the business, liquidity, financial condition, or results of operations of the Company. Legal proceedings are subject to inherent uncertainties, however, and unfavorable rulings or other events could occur. Unfavorable resolutions could involve substantial monetary damages. In addition, in matters for which conduct remedies are sought, unfavorable resolutions could include an injunction or other order precluding particular business practices or requiring other remedies. An unfavorable outcome might result in a material adverse impact on the business, liquidity, financial position, or results of operations.

The Company records accruals for loss contingencies related to legal matters when it is probable that a liability will be incurred and the amount of the loss can be reasonably estimated. If the Company determines that a range of reasonably possible losses can be estimated, the Company records an accrual for the most probable amount in the range. Due to the inherent difficulty in predicting the outcome of any legal proceeding, it may not be reasonably possible to estimate a range of potential liability until the matter is closer to resolution. Legal fees related to all legal matters are expensed as incurred.

On January 29, 2025, a class action complaint for purported violation of federal securities laws was filed by Dinesh Kalera, individually and on behalf of a putative class of purchasers of our common stock between November 3, 2022 and September 15, 2024 (the "Alleged Class Period"), in the United States District Court for the District of Colorado against the Company and three of its officers who served as chief financial officer of the Company during the Alleged Class Period. The complaint alleges claims under Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule 10b-5 thereunder and asserts, among other things, that the Company's public statements concerning its NEMT segment accounts receivable collections efforts and effectiveness, cash flow results, and contractual payment and collection terms were materially false and misleading or contained material omissions. The Company denies the allegations in all respects and believes its public disclosure at all times has been true, correct and complete in all material respects in compliance with all federal securities and other laws and intends to defend itself vigorously in this case. The Company cannot predict with any degree of certainty the outcome of this matter or determine the extent of any potential liability or damages that may result from this matter, if any, but the Company does not believe in any event that the ultimate outcome of this matter will have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, liquidity, financial condition or results of operations.

Since 2017, one of the Company's PCS segment subsidiaries, All Metro Home Care Services of New York, Inc. d/b/a All Metro Health Care ("All Metro"), has been subject to a class action lawsuit in state court claiming that, among other things, All Metro failed to properly pay live-in caregivers who stay in patients' homes for 24 hours per day ("live-ins"). The Company pays live-ins for 13 hours per day as supported through a written opinion letter from the New York State Department of Labor ("NYSDOL"). The New York Court of Appeals (New York's highest court) in a similar case involving this issue issued an order in 2019 that agreed with the NYSDOL's interpretation to pay live-ins for 13 hours per day instead of 24 hours if certain conditions were being met. Notwithstanding the court of appeals' order in the similar case, the parties to date have been unable to settle their dispute through mediation or otherwise, and therefore discovery in the matter is continuing. If the plaintiffs prove successful in this class action lawsuit, All Metro may be liable for back wages and liquidated damages dating back to November 2011. All Metro believes that it is and has been in compliance in all material respects with the laws and regulations covering pay for live-in caregivers (including the conditions described by the New York Court of Appeals in its order), intends to continue to defend itself vigorously with respect to this matter, and the Company does not believe in any event that the ultimate outcome of this matter will have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, liquidity, financial condition or results of operations.

13. Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated events and transactions subsequent to the Company's unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheet date and prior to the date of issuance.

The Company has elected, for the interest period from October 1, 2024, through March 31, 2025, to make its initial interest payment with respect to its Second Lien Notes as a payment-in-kind ("PIK") in lieu of a cash interest payment. As a result, on April 1, 2025, the Company paid $15,058,250 in PIK interest with respect to the Second Lien Notes by issuing additional Second Lien Notes. Following this PIK interest payment, the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Second Lien Notes is $316,223,250. Prior to each future interest payment, the Company will evaluate whether to elect a PIK interest payment or a cash interest payment with respect to the then outstanding Second Lien Notes, considering at that time its liquidity and other relevant factors and strategic objectives.

Based on our evaluation, the Company is not aware of any other events or transactions that occurred subsequent to the consolidated balance sheet date and prior to the date of issuance that would require recognition or disclosure in these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes for the three months ended March 31, 2025 and 2024 included herein, as well as our audited consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes and management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations included in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024. For purposes of "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations," references to "Q1 2025" and "Q1 2024" mean the three months ended March 31, 2025 and the three months ended March 31, 2024, respectively.

Overview of Our Business

ModivCare Inc. ("ModivCare" or the "Company") is a technology-enabled healthcare services company that provides a suite of integrated supportive care solutions for public and private payors and their members. Its value-based solutions address the social determinants of health ("SDoH") by connecting members to essential care services. By doing so, ModivCare helps health plans manage risks, reduce costs, and improve health outcomes. ModivCare is a provider of non-emergency medical transportation ("NEMT"), personal care services ("PCS"), and in-home monitoring solutions ("Monitoring"), which serve similar, highly vulnerable patient populations. The technology-enabled operating model in its NEMT segment includes the coordination of non-emergency medical transportation services supported by an infrastructure of core competencies in risk underwriting, contact center management, network credentialing and claims management. Additionally, its personal care services in its PCS segment include placements of non-medical personal care assistants, home health aides and nurses primarily to Medicaid patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing daily living activities in the home setting. ModivCare's in-home monitoring solutions in its Monitoring segment include in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions.

ModivCare also holds a 43.6% minority interest in CCHN Group Holdings, Inc. and its subsidiaries, which operates under the Matrix Medical Network brand ("Matrix"). Matrix, which is included in our Corporate and Other segment, maintains a national network of community-based clinicians who deliver in-home and on-site services.

Business Outlook and Trends

Our performance is affected by a number of trends that drive the demand for our services. In particular, the markets in which we operate are exposed to various trends, such as healthcare industry and demographic dynamics. Over the long term, we believe there are numerous factors that could affect growth within the industries in which we operate, including:

- an aging population, which is expected to increase demand for healthcare services including required transportation to such healthcare services, in-home personal care services and monitoring services;
- increasing prevalence of chronic illnesses that require active and ongoing monitoring of health data which can be accomplished at a lower cost and result in better health outcomes through in-home personal care and monitoring services;
- a movement towards value-based care versus fee-for-service and cost plus care and budget pressure on governments, both of which may increase the use of private corporations to provide necessary and innovative services;
- increasing demand for in-home care, driven by cost pressures on traditional reimbursement models and technological advances enabling remote member engagement, including in-home clinical monitoring and similar internet-based health related services;
- a shift in membership dynamics as a result of Medicaid redetermination efforts, which have and may continue to decrease membership levels at our NEMT segment;
- advancement of regulatory priorities, which include the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services ("CMS") final rule, Ensuring Access to Medicaid Services, which, in six years, requires states to generally ensure that a minimum of 80.0% of Medicaid payments are used toward compensation for direct care workers, which may lower profit margins at our PCS segment;
- technological advancements, which may be utilized by us to improve services and lower costs, but may also be utilized by others, which may increase industry competitiveness;
- managed care organizations ("MCOs"), Medicaid and Medicare plans increasing coverage of non-emergency medical transportation services for a variety of reasons, including increased access to care, improved patient compliance with treatment plans, social trends, and to promote SDoH, and this trend may be accelerated or reinforced by The Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2021 ("H.R.133"), a component of which mandates that state Medicaid programs ensure that Medicaid beneficiaries have necessary transportation to and from health care providers;
- macroeconomic conditions, including the impact of inflationary matters and changes in interest rates, which may impact the industries in which we operate and our customers' ability to utilize the services we and our competitors provide; and
- extended collection periods, which may cause uncertainty concerning the timing of the collection of outstanding contract receivables with some customers due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements.

Adverse economic conditions, including high inflation rates, high interest rates, supply chain challenges, labor shortages, volatility in capital markets and recession risks, have had and could continue to have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. For the NEMT segment, this exposes us to cost containment risk as labor costs and trip costs are rising at a higher rate than reimbursement, which results in lower profit margins than previously reported. The increase in costs is driven, in part, by headwinds from the current macroeconomic environment which limit the NEMT segment's ability to provide services at a reasonable cost to achieve historic profit margins. For the PCS segment, the labor shortage, particularly related to availability of healthcare workers including caregivers, will continue to impact the volume of service hours that can be provided while also driving increased wage rates, which limits our ability to be profitable in contracts with set reimbursement rates for various care services. Any of these circumstances and factors could have a material adverse impact on our reputation and business and any long-term macroeconomic impacts that have arisen could continue to create ongoing challenges for our business.

Our business environment is competitive, the healthcare industry's regulatory requirements are increasingly complex, the labor market for healthcare professionals remains constrained, and the market price for our common stock on the Nasdaq Stock Market continues to be volatile; the continuing effect of all or any of the foregoing could result in, in future periods, an impairment to the estimated fair value of the goodwill that has been established for our reporting units. As discussed elsewhere herein and under the caption “Risk Factors” in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the year ended December 31, 2024, impairment tests may be required in addition to the annual impairment testing that occurs on July 1st of each year if circumstances change that would, more likely than not, reduce the fair value of goodwill of a reporting unit below such reporting unit’s carrying value. We monitor the performance of the business and the value of our stock price and estimated fair values of our reporting units, among other relevant considerations, to determine if any impairments to goodwill could exist at any particular time.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Policies

There have been no significant changes to our critical accounting policies in our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements from our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024. For further discussion of our critical accounting policies, see management’s discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations contained in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024.

Components of Results of Operations

Revenues

Service revenue, net. Service revenue for our NEMT segment includes the revenue generated by providing non-emergency medical transportation services directly to our customers. These services are provided on either a capitated basis, which means we are paid on a per-member, per-month ("PMPM") basis for each eligible member, or on a fee-for-service ("FFS") basis, which means we are paid based on the volume of trips or services performed. Payment for our NEMT services is received from third-party payors, predominately made up of state Medicaid agencies and MCOs.

Our capitated contracts operate under either a full-risk or a shared-risk structure. Under full-risk contracts, payors pay a fixed amount per eligible member per month and we assume the responsibility of meeting the covered healthcare related transportation requirements for the number of eligible members in the payor's program. Under this structure, we assume the full-risk for the costs associated with arranging transportation of members through our network of independent transportation providers. Revenue is recognized based on the number of members served during the period. Under shared-risk contracts, we have provisions for reconciliations, risk corridors, and/or profit rebates. These contracts allow for periodic reconciliations based on actual cost and/or trip volume and may result in refunds to the payor (contract payables), or additional payments due from the payor (contract receivables) based on the provisions contractually agreed upon. These shared-risk contracts also allow for margin stabilization, as generally the amount received PMPM is adjusted for the costs to provide the transportation services. Under both contract structures, we arrange for transportation of members through our network of independent transportation providers, whereby we negotiate rates and remit payment to the transportation providers. However, for certain contracts, we assume no risk for the transportation network, credentialing and/or payments to these providers. For these contracts, we only provide administrative management services to support the customers' efforts to serve their clients.

Under FFS contracts, payors pay a specified amount for each service that we provide based on costs incurred plus an agreed-upon margin. FFS revenue is recognized in the period in which the services are rendered and is reduced by the estimated impact of contractual allowances.

Service revenue for our PCS segment includes the revenue generated based on the hours incurred by our in-home caregivers to provide services to our customers, primarily on a FFS basis in which we earn a specified amount for each service that we provide. Payment for our PCS services is billed to third-party payors which include, but are not limited to, MCOs, Medicaid agencies and programs and other home health care providers who subcontract the services of our caregivers to their patients, and individuals.

Service revenue for our Monitoring segment includes the sale of monitoring equipment to our third-party distributors as well as revenue generated from the hours incurred by our Clinical Team for providing monitoring services to our customers, primarily on a PMPM basis for each eligible member. Payment for our monitoring services is billed to third-party payors which include, but are not limited to, national and regional health plans, government-funded benefit programs, healthcare provider organizations, and individuals.

Operating Expenses

Service expense. Service expense for our NEMT segment includes purchased transportation, operational payroll and other operational related costs. Purchased transportation includes the amounts we pay to third-party service providers and is typically dependent upon service volume. Operational payroll predominately includes our contact center operations, customer advocacy and transportation network team. Other operating expenses primarily include operational overhead costs, and operating facilities and related charges. Service expense for our PCS segment includes payroll and other operational related costs for our caregivers to provide in-home care. Service expense for our Monitoring segment primarily consists of salaries of employees in our contact centers, connectivity costs and occupancy costs.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense for all segments consists principally of salaries for administrative employees that support the operations, occupancy costs, marketing expenditures, insurance, and professional fees.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation within this caption includes infrastructure items such as computer hardware and software, office equipment, monitoring and vitals equipment, buildings, and leasehold improvements. Amortization expense is generated primarily from amortization of our intangible assets, including payor networks, trade names and developed technology.

Other Expenses (Income)

Interest expense, net. Interest expense consists principally of interest accrued during the period ended March 31, 2025 on our Senior Unsecured Notes, 2nd Lien Notes Term Loan Facility, Incremental Term Loan Facility and borrowings outstanding under our Revolving Credit Facility and amortization of deferred financing fees related to these borrowings. Refer to the "Liquidity and Capital Resources" section below for further discussion of these borrowings.

Equity in net income (loss) of investee, net of tax. Equity in earnings of equity method investee consists of our proportionate share of equity earnings or losses from our Matrix equity investment held at our Corporate and Other segment, presented net of related taxes, as well as the earnings of our insurance captive held at the NEMT segment, presented net of related taxes.

Income tax benefit (provision). We are subject to federal taxation in the United States and state taxation in the various jurisdictions in which we operate.

Segment Reporting

Our segments reflect the manner in which our operations are organized and reviewed by management. Segment results are based on how our CODM manages our business, makes operating decisions and evaluates operating performance.

We operate four reportable business segments: NEMT, PCS, Monitoring, and Corporate and Other. The NEMT segment provides non-emergency medical transportation services throughout the country. The PCS segment provides non-medical personal care and home health services. The Monitoring segment provides in-home monitoring solutions. The Corporate and Other segment includes the costs associated with our corporate operations and as such, includes activities related to executive, accounting, finance, internal audit, tax, legal and certain strategic and corporate development functions for each segment, as well as the results of an investment in innovation that we completed during the first quarter of 2023. The operating results of the NEMT, PCS and Monitoring segments include revenue and expenses generated and incurred by the segment, and the Corporate and Other segment includes expenses incurred in relation to our Corporate operations as well as certain service revenue and operating expenses associated with the investment in innovation discussed above.

See Note 3, Segments, in our accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements for further information on our segments.

Service expense. Service expense components are shown below (in thousands):

	Three months ended March 31,
	2025		2024
	Amount	% of Service Revenue	Amount	% of Service Revenue
Purchased services	$ 344,118	52.9%	$ 362,900	53.0%

Service expense for Q1 2025 decreased $30.6 million, or 5.2%, compared to Q1 2024. Service expense at our NEMT segment decreased $27.6 million, service expense at our PCS segment decreased $1.9 million and service expense decreased at our Monitoring segment decreased $0.7 million. The remaining change is related to our Corporate and Other segment. See our Results of Operations - Segments, for further discussion.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense for Q1 2025 increased $1.4 million, or 1.8%, compared to Q1 2024. General and administrative expense at our Corporate and Other segment increased by $7.3 million, which was partially offset by a decrease at our NEMT segment of $4.0 million and a decrease at our PCS segment of $1.8 million. General and administrative expense, expressed as a percentage of service revenue, net increased to 12.1% for Q1 2025 compared to 11.3% for Q1 2024. See our Results of Operations - Segments, for further discussion.

Depreciation and amortization. Depreciation and amortization decreased $3.6 million, or 13.2% in Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024 primarily related to certain intangible assets being fully amortized during 2024.

Interest expense, net. Interest expense, net, for Q1 2025 increased by $20.2 million, or 107.8%, compared to Q1 2024. The increase in interest expense in Q1 2025 is primarily the result of interest expense on our Term Loan Facility of $13.3 million and interest expense on our Incremental Term Loan Facility of $5.1 million. We entered into our Term Loan Facility in June 2024 and entered into our Incremental Term Loan Facility in January 2025, and accordingly, these two facilities drove the majority of the increase in Q1 2025. Interest expense is recorded at our Corporate and Other segment.

Equity in net income (loss) of investee, net of tax. Our equity in net loss of investee, net of tax, for Q1 2025 of $3.6 million and our equity in net loss of investee, net of tax, of $0.8 million for Q1 2024 was a result of our proportional share of the net income or loss of Matrix and our investment in a captive insurance program.

Income tax (provision) benefit. Our effective tax rate to arrive at the tax provision from operations for Q1 2025 was 8.2% and to arrive at the tax benefit from operations for Q1 2024 was 2.5%. For Q1 2025, the effective tax rate differed from the U.S. federal statutory rate, primarily due to various tax credits, increased reserves on deferred tax assets, and nondeductible expenses. For Q1 2024, the effective tax rate differed from the U.S. federal statutory rate primarily due to various tax credits, a stock compensation shortfall, increased reserves for state net operating loss carryforwards and nondeductible expenses.

(1) These metrics are key performance indicators that management uses to evaluate our performance. Trends established in these metrics can be used to evaluate current operating results, identify trends affecting our business, determine the allocation of resources and understand the underlying drivers of costs and revenue for our business. We believe these metrics are useful to investors in evaluating and understanding our business but should not be used solely in assessing our performance. These key performance indicators should not be considered superior to, as a substitute for or as an alternative to, and should be considered in conjunction with, the GAAP financial measures presented herein to fully evaluate and understand the business as a whole.

Our NEMT segment is the largest manager of non-emergency medical transportation programs for state governments and MCOs in the U.S.

Service revenue, net. Service revenue, net, decreased by $30.3 million, or 6.3%, in Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024. This decrease is primarily related to the loss of certain contracts which also contributed to the decrease in total paid trips by 4.0% and the decrease in average monthly members by 19.0% as compared to Q1 2024. While average monthly membership decreased for the QTD period, the revenue received per member per month increased by 15.5% over the same period, helping to offset the decrease to revenue.

The change in average monthly members is correlated to the change in revenue because a majority of our contracts are capitated, and we receive monthly payments on a per member per month basis in return for full or shared risk of transportation volumes. Declines in membership over the periods presented were anticipated and related to Medicaid redetermination, along with certain contract losses.

Service expense. Service expense for our NEMT segment primarily consists of purchased services, which are costs paid to our third party transportation providers, and payroll and related costs, which consist of salaries of employees within our contact centers and operations centers. Other service expenses include occupancy costs related to our contact centers. Service expense components for the NEMT segment are shown below (in thousands):

	Three months ended March 31,
	2025		2024
	Amount	% of Segment Revenue	Amount	% of Segment Revenue
Purchased services	$ 344,118	76.6%	$ 362,900	75.7%
Payroll and related costs	39,858	8.9%	48,158	10.0%
Other service expenses	12,038	2.7%	12,599	2.6%
Total service expense	$ 396,014	88.2%	$ 423,657	88.4%

Service expense decreased $27.6 million, or 6.5%, for Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024, primarily related to a decrease in purchased services expense of $18.8 million, or 5.2%, driven by lower trip volume of 4.0% as a result of the loss of certain contracts also discussed in the service revenue section above. Service expense also decreased as a result of a decrease in payroll and related costs of $8.3 million, or 17.2% as compared to Q1 2024. The decrease in payroll and related costs over the period is a result of ongoing cost optimization and digitization efforts in our contact centers as a result of initiatives that were launched in 2024.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense primarily consists of salaries for administrative employees that support the operations of the NEMT segment, occupancy costs, marketing expenditures, insurance, and professional fees. General and administrative expense decreased $4.0 million, or 12.7%, for Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024. The decrease is primarily related to lower salaries and personnel expenses for administrative employees as a result of ongoing cost containment initiatives.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation and amortization expense remained consistent with an increase of $0.2 million, or 2.7%, for Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024, primarily associated with the depreciation expense recorded as a result of additional investment in internal use software.

Our PCS segment's services include placements of non-medical personal care assistants and home health aides and nurses primarily to Medicaid patient populations in need of care monitoring and assistance performing daily living activities in the home setting, including senior citizens and disabled adults.

Service revenue, net. PCS contracts are generally structured as fee-for-service contracts, with revenue driven by the number of hours worked by our personal care providers. Service revenue, net, decreased $1.8 million, or 1.0%, for Q1 2025, as compared to Q1 2024, primarily due to 2.1% lower hours worked by personal care providers during Q1 2025.

Service expense. Service expense for our PCS segment primarily consists of wages for our employees who provide personal care services and it typically trends with the number of hours worked and cost per hour of service. Service expense components for the PCS segment are shown below (in thousands):

	2025		2024
	Amount	% of Segment Revenue	Amount	% of Segment Revenue

Total service expense	$ 147,518	81.1%	$ 149,438	81.4%

Service expense for Q1 2025 decreased $1.9 million, or 1.3%, as compared to Q1 2024, primarily as a result of a decrease in payroll and related costs of $1.5 million, or 1.0%, as a result of the 2.1% decrease in hours of service provided by our personal care providers during Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024.

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense decreased $1.8 million, or 7.6%, for Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024. The decrease is primarily related to lower salaries and personnel expenses for administrative employees as a result of ongoing cost containment initiatives.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation and amortization expense for Q1 2025 decreased by $3.4 million, or 26.3%, as compared to Q1 2024, primarily related to certain intangible assets being fully depreciated during 2024.

Our Monitoring segment is a provider of in-home monitoring solutions and manages a comprehensive suite of in-home clinical monitoring and quality improvement services that leverage personal emergency response systems, vitals monitoring devices, relationship-based care, and data-driven patient engagement solutions.

Service revenue, net. Monitoring contracts are generally structured as a fixed fee per enrolled member per month and therefore, revenue is generally driven by the number of enrolled members and the rate received per member per month. Service revenue, net, decreased $2.0 million, or 9.8%, for Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024, primarily related to a 2.8% decrease in revenue per member per month paired with a 7.2% decrease in average monthly members.

Service expense. Service expense for our Monitoring segment primarily consists of salaries for the employees providing the monitoring services as well as occupancy costs. Service expense components for our Monitoring segment are shown below (in thousands):

	2025		2024
	Amount	% of Segment Revenue	Amount	% of Segment Revenue
Payroll and related costs	$ 4,251	23.5%	$ 4,336	21.6%
Other service expenses	3,422	18.9%	4,027	20.0%
Total service expense	$ 7,673	42.3%	$ 8,363	41.6%

Service expense decreased $0.7 million, or 8.3%, for Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024, primarily related to a decrease in other service expenses of $0.6 million, or 15.0%. Other service expensed decreased due to lower device installation costs which is correlated with the 7.2% decrease in average monthly members..

General and administrative expense. General and administrative expense primarily consists of salaries for administrative employees that indirectly support the operations, occupancy costs, marketing expenditures, insurance, and professional fees. General and administrative expense for Q1 2025 remained consistent as compared to Q1 2024.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation and amortization expense decreased $0.6 million, or 9.3%, for Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024, primarily related to certain intangible assets being fully amortized during 2024.

Corporate and Other Segment

(in thousands)

	Three months ended March 31,
	2025	2024
Service revenue, net	$ 1,735	$ 1,475
Service expense	1,783	2,108
General and administrative expense	22,813	15,485
Depreciation and amortization	479	275
Operating loss	$ (23,340)	$ (16,393)

Our Corporate and Other segment includes our executive, accounting, finance, internal audit, tax, legal, public reporting and corporate development functions. This segment also includes the results of our equity investment in Matrix and the operating results of our investments in innovation related to data analytics products and solutions, which is comprised of our wholly-owned subsidiary, Higi Care, LLC (“Higi”), which was acquired during the first quarter of 2023. Higi provides certain data-driven personal health technologies and also began providing virtual clinical care management services (the "MSO") through an unaffiliated professional corporation (the "PC") owned and operated by a licensed physician in the third quarter of 2023.

Service revenue, net and Service expense: The acquisition of Higi, which was a strategic investment in growth, contributes to service revenue and service expense.

General and administrative expense and Depreciation and amortization: Our Corporate and Other segment includes costs incurred related to strategy and stewardship of the other operating segments. These expenses are primarily general and administrative expenses, with a minimal amount related to depreciation. The general and administrative expense increased $7.3 million, or 47.3%, for Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024. This increase is primarily related to higher professional service costs for contract and consulting services and higher legal expenses in relation to the Company's debt transactions that occurred during Q1 2025 as compared to Q1 2024.

Seasonality

Our NEMT and PCS segments' operating income and cash flows normally fluctuate as a result of seasonal variations in our business, principally due to lower demand for transportation and in-home services during the winter season and periods with major holidays as members and patients may spend more time with family and less time alone needing outside care during those periods. While this fluctuation is noted in terms of the use of our services during these seasonal shifts, it does not have a material impact on our results of operations and therefore is not adjusted for. Our Monitoring segment’s operating income and cash flows do not normally fluctuate as a result of seasonal variations in the business.

Liquidity and capital resources

Short-term capital requirements consist primarily of recurring operating expenses, contract start-up costs on new revenue contracts, interest expense on outstanding borrowings, costs associated with our strategic initiatives, and short-term borrowings under our Credit Agreement. As explained below under the caption "Liquidity," various factors exist that have raised substantial doubt about our ability to meet all of our obligations as they become due over the next twelve months and to continue as a going concern. If we are unsuccessful in our efforts to raise additional capital, including through additional financing and strategic divestitures of assets, based on our current expectations, our current sources of liquidity, including available cash on hand, cash generated from operations, net of capital expenditures, and borrowings under our Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility and Incremental Term Loan Facility (as defined below), may not be sufficient to satisfy our short-term capital requirements for the next twelve months. For information regarding our long-term capital requirements, see below under the caption "Liquidity".

Cash used in operating activities during the three months ended March 31, 2025 was $82.1 million. Our balance of cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash, was $116.0 million and $112.6 million at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively. We had restricted cash of $4.0 million and $0.5 million at March 31, 2025 and December 31, 2024, respectively. Restricted cash amounts are not included in our balance of cash and cash equivalents in the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets, although they are included in the cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash balance on the accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated statements of cash flows.

We may, from time to time, access capital markets to raise equity or debt financing for various business reasons, including acquisitions, repurchases of common stock, investments in our business and possible refinancing activity. The timing, term, size, and pricing of any such financing will depend on investor interest and market conditions, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain any such financing on terms acceptable to us at the time or at all.

YTD 2025 cash flows compared to YTD 2024

Operating activities. Cash used in operating activities was $82.1 million for YTD 2025 compared to cash provided by operating activities of $9.6 million for YTD 2024. The decrease in cash provided by operating activities of $91.7 million between periods was primarily a result of a decrease in cash provided by changes in operating assets and liabilities of $69.5 million. The changes in operating assets and liabilities were partly driven by a additional cash spent on accounts payable and accrued expenses of $22.4 million as well as additional cash spent on accrued transportation costs of $9.5 million, both related to timing of vendor payments. The decrease from the changes in operating assets and liabilities is also driven by a decrease in the accounts receivable and other receivables balance of $20.6 million, primarily related to a build in receivables due to timing of cash receipts on our trade accounts receivable and other receivables, a decrease in cash collected on contract receivables, including long-term contract receivables, of $7.2 million during YTD 2025 related to a build on certain risk corridor and reconciliation contracts, and a decrease in cash related to additional cash spent on contract payables of $6.7 million related to payments made on certain risk corridor and reconciliation contracts as compared to YTD 2024.

Investing activities. Net cash used in investing activities was $4.1 million in YTD 2025, which decreased by $3.8 million as compared to YTD 2024. This decrease is related to less cash spent on purchases of property and equipment.

Financing activities. Net cash provided by financing activities was $93.0 million for YTD 2025, compared to $6.4 million for YTD 2024. The increase of $86.6 million was primarily a result of the issuance of the Incremental Term Loan Facility in the aggregate principal amount of $75.0 million as well as net cash received from the Exchange of our 2029 Notes and Purchase and Exchange of 2nd Lien Notes by the Coliseum Investors, which resulted in additional cash of $28.7 million, partially offset by higher debt issuance costs of $10.0 million related to the issuance of the Incremental Term Loan and the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement.

Obligations and commitments

Senior Unsecured Notes. On August 24, 2021, we issued $500.0 million in aggregate principal amount of 5.000% senior unsecured notes due on October 1, 2029 (the “2029 Notes”).

The 2029 Notes are senior unsecured obligations and rank senior in right of payment to all of our future subordinated indebtedness, rank equally in right of payment with all of our existing senior indebtedness, are effectively subordinated to any of our existing and future secured indebtedness, including indebtedness under the Credit Agreement, to the extent of the value of the assets securing such indebtedness, and are structurally subordinated to all of the existing and future liabilities (including trade payables) of each of our non-guarantor subsidiaries.

We will pay interest on the 2029 Notes semi-annually in arrears on April 1 and October 1 of each year until maturity. Principal payments on the 2029 Notes are not required until the maturity date on October 1, 2029 when 100.0% of the outstanding principal will be required to be repaid.

On January 9, 2025, pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, we entered into a privately negotiated Exchange Agreement with holders of our 2029 Notes to Exchange up to $251.0 million principal amount of the 2029 Notes for an equivalent principal amount of second lien senior secured PIK toggle notes to be issued by us (the “Second Lien Notes”), pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth therein, subject to the receipt of requisite Exit Consents to make certain amendments to the indenture governing the 2029 Notes to permit the Exchange and remove certain other covenants. On March 7, 2025, upon receipt of the requisite Exit Consents, the Company, the guarantors party to the 2029 Notes Indenture, and Wilimington Savings Fund Society, FSB (as the successor to the Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company, N.A.), as trustee, entered into the Fifth Supplemental Notes Indenture to the 2029 Notes Indenture to effect the amendments. See Second Lien Notes discussion below for more detail.

In addition to the Exchange of $251.0 million of 2029 Notes for Second Lien Notes, on January 9, 2025, we entered into a Purchase and Exchange Agreement with the Coliseum Investors under which the Coliseum Investors agreed, subject to approval of the Company's stockholders, (a) to Purchase $30.0 million in aggregate principal amount of our Second Lien Notes and (b) to exchange approximately $20.2 million in aggregate principal amount of our 2029 Notes held by the Coliseum Investors for an equivalent principal amount of the Second Lien Notes (the “Coliseum Exchange” and, together with the Purchase, the “Coliseum Transactions”). See Second Lien Notes discussion below for more detail.

As a result of the Exchange and the Purchase and Coliseum Exchange, the principal balance of the 2029 Notes as of March 31, 2025 was reduced to $228.8 million.

Second Lien Notes

As discussed above, on January 9, 2025, we entered into an Exchange Agreement with holders of our 2029 Notes to exchange $251.0 million principal amount of the 2029 Notes for an equivalent principal amount of Second Lien Notes. The Exchange was consummated and the Second Lien Notes were issued on March 7, 2025. The Second Lien Notes were issued pursuant to, and are governed by the Second Lien Notes Indenture dated as of March 7, 2025, among us, the Guarantors and Ankura Trust Company, LLC, as trustee and notes collateral agent.

The Second Lien Notes are our senior, secured obligations and will accrue interest at a rate of, at our election, subject to certain conditions, (i) 5.000% per annum, if interest is paid in cash, and (ii) 10.000% per annum, if interest is paid-in-kind ("PIK"). In each case, interest is payable semi-annually in arrears on April 1 and October 1 of each year, beginning on April 1, 2025. Interest will be paid in kind by increasing the aggregate principal amount of one or more outstanding global notes representing the Second Lien Notes, or issuing additional Second Lien Notes, calculated based on the then outstanding principal of the Second Lien Notes. We will not be permitted to pay interest in kind in any interest period if our Liquidity (as defined in, and calculated in accordance with, the Second Lien Notes Indenture) is greater than $100.0 million on any applicable record date occurring on and after March 15, 2026, for any such interest period. The Second Lien Notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed by the Guarantors and rank equal in right of payment with all of our and each Guarantor's existing and future senior indebtedness, including indebtedness under the Credit Agreement. The Second Lien Notes and the related guarantees are secured on a second-priority basis, subject to permitted liens, by security interests on substantially all of the assets and properties of us and the Guarantors, which assets and properties also secure the indebtedness under the Credit Agreement on a first-priority basis. The Second Lien Notes will mature on October 1, 2029.

Purchase and Exchange Agreement

As discussed above, on January 9, 2025, we entered into a Purchase and Exchange Agreement with the Coliseum Investors, pursuant to which the Coliseum Investors agreed, subject to the approval of our stockholders, (a) to purchase $30.0 million in aggregate principal amount of our Second Lien Notes and (b) to exchange approximately $20.2 million in aggregate principal amount of our 2029 Notes held by the Coliseum Investors for an equivalent principal amount of the Second Lien Notes, in each case pursuant to the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Purchase and Exchange Agreement. The Coliseum Transactions were approved during the Special Meeting held on March 13, 2025. On March 14, 2025, we, the Guarantors, the Trustee and the Notes Collateral Agent entered into a the First Supplemental Indenture to the Second Lien Notes Indenture, pursuant to which we issued $50.2 million of Second Lien Notes to the Coliseum Investors.

As a result of the Exchange and the Coliseum Transactions, the principal balance of the Second Lien Notes as of March 31, 2025 was $301.2 million. The Exchange and the Coliseum Transactions were treated as a debt modification and third party fees of $2.5 million were expensed as incurred. As of the date of the Exchange and Coliseum Transactions, the remaining unamortized debt issuance costs of $8.3 million on the 2029 Notes were bifurcated and allocated ratably between the 2029 Notes and the Second Lien Notes and as of March 31, 2025, there was $3.8 million of unamortized deferred financing costs on the 2029 Notes and $4.5 million of unamortized deferred financing costs on the Second Lien Notes that were netted against the long-term debt balance on the unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets.

Revolving Credit Facility. We are party to the amended and restated credit agreement, dated as of February 3, 2022, (the "Credit Agreement") with JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as administrative agent, swing line lender and an issuing bank, Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as an issuing bank, Truist Bank and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as co-syndication agents, Deutsche Bank AG New York Branch, Bank of America, N.A., Regions Bank, Bank of Montreal and Capital One, National Association, as co-documentation agents, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., Truist Securities, Inc. and Wells Fargo Securities, LLC, as joint bookrunners and joint lead arrangers, and the other lenders party thereto. The Credit Agreement, as amended to date, provides us with a senior secured revolving credit facility (the "Revolving Credit Facility") in an aggregate principal amount of $325.0 million. The Revolving Credit Facility includes sublimits for swingline loans, letters of credit and alternative currency loans in amounts of up to $25.0 million, $60.0 million and $75.0 million, respectively.

The Credit Agreement contains financial and non-financial covenants, including an affirmative covenant regarding our Total Net Leverage Ratio, determined as of the end of each of our fiscal quarters, which is the ratio of (a) our total net indebtedness to (b) our earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization, and certain non-recurring charges, fees, and expenses, as set for the in the Credit Agreement.

On June 26, 2023, we entered into the First Amendment to the Credit Agreement which amended the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the Credit Agreement.

On February 22, 2024, we entered into the Second Amendment to the Credit Agreement which further amended the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the amended Credit Agreement as well as added a quarterly minimum liquidity covenant (the "Liquidity Covenant") that restricts us from permitting our Liquidity (as defined in the Second Amendment and which is determined generally to be, as of any date of determination, the sum of our available borrowing capacity under the Revolving Credit Facility plus the amount of our unencumbered cash), to be less than $100.0 million as of the last day of each fiscal quarter.

On July 1, 2024, we entered into the Third Amendment to the Credit Agreement, which, among other things, extended with respect to the lenders identified in the Third Amendment the maturity date covering $255.0 million in the aggregate principal amount of the commitments under the Revolving Credit Facility to February 3, 2028. The existing financial covenants under the amended Credit Agreement were retained for the benefit solely of the Revolving Credit Facility lenders, and the minimum liquidity level required by the Liquidity Covenant was decreased from $100.0 million to $75.0 million. Certain other financial covenants and restrictions under the Credit Agreement were also modified by the Third Amendment, as previously disclosed. The fees associated with the Third Amendment of $0.3 million will be amortized over the life of the Revolving Credit Facility.

On September 30, 2024, we entered into the Fourth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, which amended the maximum permitted Total Net Leverage Ratio under the amended Credit Agreement for the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2024 to 6.50:1.00. In addition, the Fourth Amendment reduced the minimum interest coverage ratio for the quarter ended September 30, 2024 to 2.00:1.00 and increased the applicable margin on the Revolving Credit Facility by 0.25% until we deliver the required financial statements and compliance certificate for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2024.

On January 9, 2025, the Company entered into Amendment No. 5 (the "Fifth Amendment") to its Credit Agreement, which, among other things, (i) amended the interest rate on the existing Revolving Credit Facility commitments under the Credit Agreement to a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.25%, with a 1.00% SOFR Floor, (ii) amended the 2.0% default rate under the Credit Agreement so that it applies on all obligations upon the election of the administrative agent at the direction of the Required Lenders if an event of default has occurred and continuing and automatically if a specified event of default has occurred and is continuing, (iii) amended the Term Loan Facility maturity date to spring to July 2, 2029 if the second lien senior secured PIK toggle notes remain outstanding as of such date, (iv) included enhanced reporting requirements, and (v) eliminated or reduced certain baskets, which included the elimination of reinvestment rights with respect to certain asset sales and reduction of the de minimis exception for certain asset sale prepayments to $5,000,000.

As of March 31, 2025, we were in compliance with all covenants contained in the amended Credit Agreement and our Total Net Leverage Ratio was 5.59:1.00.

Term Loan Facility. On July 1, 2024, pursuant to the Third Amendment, we established a new term loan facility (the "Term Loan Facility") in the aggregate principal amount of $525.0 million with the Term Loan Facility lenders named therein. The proceeds of the Term Loan Facility were used to (i) redeem our 2025 Notes, (ii) repay a portion of the Revolving Credit Facility outstanding immediately prior to the effective date of the Third Amendment, and (iii) pay fees and expenses associated with such transactions. We incurred approximately $24.4 million of deferred financing costs with respect to the Term Loan Facility.

The Term Loan Facility matures on the earlier of (a) July 1, 2031 and (b) July 2, 2029 if any of the 2029 Notes remain outstanding on that date. Principal payments on the Term Loan Facility are required on a quarterly basis, commencing with the quarter ending September 30, 2024, in the amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate principal amount of the Term Loan Facility outstanding on the date of issuance. All unpaid amounts of the Term Loan Facility shall be paid in full on the maturity date. The Term Loan Facility requires annual prepayments of a percentage of Excess Cash Flow (as defined in the amended Credit Agreement); commencing with the year ending December 31, 2025 as follows: (i) 75.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 4.40:1.00, (ii) 50.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.90:1:00, but less than or equal to 4.40:1.00, (iii) 25.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.40:1.00, but less than or equal to 3.90:1.00, and (iv) 0.0% if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was less than or equal to 3.40:1.00. The Term Loan Facility also requires mandatory prepayments in the event of certain asset dispositions or casualty events. In addition, the Term Loan Facility is subject to a prepayment premium for the first six months after entering into the Third Amendment in the event of any repricing transaction.

Interest on the Term Loan Facility is generally payable quarterly, in arrears, on the outstanding principal amount of the Term Loan Facility at the following rates for the interest period in effect for such borrowing: (i) a SOFR-based benchmark plus 4.75% or (ii) a prime rate (or other alternate base rate) benchmark plus 3.75% in the case of ABR Loans (as such terms are defined in the amended Credit Agreement). The Term Loan Facility is subject to customary representations and warranties, affirmative and negative covenants, and events of default, as defined in the amended Credit Agreement.

Incremental Term Loan. On January 9, 2025, the Company, pursuant to the Fifth Amendment to the Credit Agreement, established an incremental term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $75.0 million (the "Incremental Term Loan"). The Incremental Term Loan was priced at a SOFR-based benchmark plus 7.50%, with 1.00% SOFR Floor (no CSA) with a maturity of January 10, 2026 (the "Maturity Date") and original issue discount of 2 points. The Company has the option to prepay the Incremental Term Loan, in whole or in part, at any time prior to the Maturity Date, subject to a prepayment fee equal to the present value of all scheduled interest payments on the fully committed amount that would accrue through the Maturity Date calculated based on a discount rate equal to the treasury rate plus 50 basis points. The proceeds of the Incremental Term Loan are required to be deposited in a collateral account subject to a blocked account control agreement in favor of the administrative agent and may disbursed subject to delivery of a disbursement request, no default or event of default, the representations and warranties in Article II of the Credit Agreement being true and correct in all material respects and receipt by the administrative agent and lenders of reimbursement for invoiced expenses. The Incremental Term Loan is secured by a lien on substantially all of the assets of the Company and certain of its subsidiaries.

Our financial and operating performance, as well as our ability to generate sufficient cash flow to maintain compliance with covenants, are subject to certain risk factors; see Item 1A. "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on March 6, 2024 for further discussion. Additionally, our assessment of our ability to meet our future obligations is inherently subjective, judgment-based, and susceptible to change based on future events

For additional information related to our 2029 Notes, Second Lien Notes, Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility, and Incremental Term Loan, refer to Note 8, Debt, of the Notes to the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements included in Part I, Item 1, "Financial Statements".

Liquidity

Liquidity measures our ability to meet current and future cash flow needs on a timely basis and at a reasonable cost. We manage our liquidity position to meet our daily cash flow needs, while maintaining an appropriate balance between assets and liabilities to meet the return on investment objectives of our stockholders. Our liquidity position is supported by management of liquid assets and current liabilities and access to alternative sources of funds. Liquid assets include cash and cash equivalents, excluding restricted cash, of $116.0 million and accounts receivable, contract receivables, and other receivables of $381.0 million as of March 31, 2025. Current liabilities, which totaled $731.7 million at period end as detailed in the table below, included $55.6 million in guarantees and letters of credit that are not expected to be settled in cash in the next 12 months.

Management's assessment of our liquidity is highly dependent on our ability to meet operating forecasts, including cash generated by operations, and manage working capital, including specifically the timely collection of outstanding contract receivables, which had a short-term balance of $135.3 million at March 31, 2025. In 2024 and continuing into the first quarter of 2025, we have experienced financial challenges, including increased transportation and caregiver costs that have not been offset by corresponding reimbursement rate increases from payors, the loss of certain contracts, and membership declines. These factors have negatively impacted cash flow generation and liquidity. Additionally, we have experienced lengthened collection periods due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements, resulting in delays between fulfilling our performance obligations and collecting the cash owed for our services. This prolonged cash conversion cycle places further strain on our liquidity and working capital. As a result, we are likely to require additional liquidity to support ongoing operations over the next year.

As of January 9, 2025 we have also entered into Amendment No. 5 (the "Fifth Amendment") to our Credit Agreement (see Note 8, Debt for further details) which, among other things, established an incremental term loan facility in an aggregate principal amount of $75.0 million (the "Incremental Term Loan"). The Incremental Term Loan is a short-term facility with a maturity date of January 10, 2026 and, as a result of the factors described above, we are likely to require additional liquidity in order to satisfy our existing debt obligations due within one year from the date of the issuance of these unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements.

While we continue to monitor cash generated from operations, available credit, and other liquid assets, sustaining operations relies heavily on the timely collection of contract receivables and compliance with the financial covenants in our Credit Agreement, as amended to date. As a result of the foregoing, we are not expected to have the ability to meet one or more financial covenants under our existing credit agreements. Failure to meet these covenants or others could cause obligations under the Revolving Credit Facility (as defined in Note 8, Debt), the Term Loan Facility (as defined in Note 8, Debt), the Incremental Term Loan (as defined above), and our Notes due 2029 (as defined in Note 8, Debt), to become immediately due and payable, and we would not have sufficient liquidity to satisfy such obligations. In such event, we would be required to restructure our existing debt or to seek additional equity or debt financing to meet our obligations and maintain our existence as a going concern.

Furthermore, these factors raise substantial doubt about our ability to satisfy our obligations as they become due within one year from the issuance date of these financial statements. Accordingly, Management has concluded that substantial doubt exists about our ability to continue as a going concern.

To address these concerns, Management has implemented cost optimization measures, renegotiated contract terms, and secured amendments to our credit agreements, including a temporary financial covenant holiday. Management is actively pursuing further financing options, evaluating strategic asset divestitures, long-term covenant relief and implementing operational efficiencies to improve liquidity. There can be no assurance that additional financing, additional liquidity from asset divestitures or long-term covenant relief will be available on terms acceptable to us, or at all, or in amounts sufficient to enable us to satisfy our obligations as they become due or to sustain operations in the future. There can also be no assurance that we will be successful in effecting any of our intended potential strategic divestitures.

In the ordinary course of business we have entered into contractual obligations and have made other commitments to make future payments. Our short-term and long-term liquidity requirements are primarily to fund on-going operations and to service our short-term debt obligations. These liquidity requirements are met primarily through cash flow from operations, debt financing, and borrowings under our Revolving Credit Facility. For additional information regarding our operating, investing and financing cash flows, see "Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements— Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows," included in Part I, Item I of this report.

We have cash requirements of $731.7 million due in one year or less in addition to $1,109.5 million due in more than one year as of March 31, 2025. The following is a summary of our future cash requirements for the next twelve months and the period extending beyond twelve months as of March 31, 2025 (in thousands):

(1) These include the aggregate principal amounts outstanding on our Senior Unsecured Notes due 2029, 2nd Lien Notes, Term Loan Facility, Revolving Credit Facility and Incremental Term Loan. See caption note 2 (below) for the interest amounts on these facilities and caption note 3 (below) for the paid in kind election amounts made by the Company as of March 31, 2025. See Note 8 of the Notes to the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements included in Part I, Item 1, "Financial Statements" for further detail of our Senior Unsecured Notes, 2nd Lien Notes, Term Loan Facility, Revolving Credit Facility and Incremental Term Loan and the timing of expected future payments.

(2) Interest payments on our Senior Unsecured Notes due 2029 are typically paid semi-annually in arrears and have been calculated at the fixed rate of 5.000% as of March 31, 2025. Interest payments on our 2nd Lien Notes are XYZ. Interest payments on our Term Loan Facility are typically paid quarterly in arrears and have been calculated at the SOFR-based benchmark plus the applicable margin of 4.75% as of March 31, 2025. Interest payments on our Revolving Credit Facility have been calculated by taking the expected borrowing on the Revolving Credit Facility for the next year at the weighted average interest rate of borrowings outstanding as of March 31, 2025 of 0.0%. Interest payments on our Incremental Term Loan are typically paid quarterly in arrears and have been calculated at the SOFR-based benchmark plus the applicable margin of 7.50% as of March 31, 2025.

(3) PIK Election for Consent Fees and Backstop Fees

(4) PIK Election for Interest

(5) See Note 4 of the Notes to the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements included in Part I, Item 1, "Financial Statements" for further detail of our contracts payable.

(6) See Note 1 of the Notes to the consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024 filed on March 6, 2025 for further detail of our accrued transportation cost.

(7) Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes.

(8) The operating leases are for office space. Certain leases contain periodic rent escalation adjustments and renewal options. See Note 15 of the Notes to the consolidated financial statements included in Part II, Item 8, "Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024 filed on March 6, 2025 for further detail of our operating leases.

(9) Letters of credit ("LOCs") are guarantees of potential payments to third parties under certain conditions. Guarantees include surety bonds we provide to certain customers to protect against potential non-delivery of our non-emergency transportation services. Our LOCs shown in the table were provided by our Revolving Credit Facility and reduced our availability under the related Credit Agreement. The surety bonds and LOC amounts in the above table represent the amount of commitment expiration per period.

(10) These include other current liabilities reflected in our unaudited condensed consolidated balance sheets as of March 31, 2025, including accounts payable and accrued expenses as detailed at Note 7 of the Notes to the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements included in Part I, Item 1, "Financial Statements".

Our primary sources of funding include operating cash flows, available borrowing capacity under the Revolving Credit Facility and access to capital markets. In addition, there are statutory, regulatory, and debt covenant limitations that affect our ability to access the capital market for funds. Management believes that such limitations will not impact our ability to meet our ongoing short-term cash obligations. Management continuously monitors our liquidity position and adjustments are made to the balance between sources and uses of funds as deemed appropriate. Except as disclosed herein, our management is not aware of any events that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on our liquidity, capital resources, or operations. In addition, our management is not aware of any regulatory recommendations regarding liquidity, which if implemented, would have a material adverse effect on us.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements and related disclosures in conformity with GAAP and our discussion and analysis of our financial condition and operating results require our management to make judgments, assumptions and estimates that affect the amounts reported. Refer to Note 2, "Significant Accounting Policies and Recent Accounting Pronouncements" of the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements in Part I, Item 1 of this Form 10-Q and in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements in Part II, Item 8 of the 2024 Form 10-K for a description of the significant accounting policies and methods used in the preparation of our condensed consolidated financial statements. There have been no material changes to our critical accounting estimates since the 2024 Form 10-K.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

We have exposure to interest rate risk mainly related to our Revolving Credit Facility, our Term Loan Facility and our Incremental Term Loan Facility, which have variable interest rates that may increase. We had a combined $270.7 million of short-term debt outstanding on the Revolving Credit Facility, Term Loan Facility and Incremental Term Loan Facility and $55.6 million of outstanding letters of credit under the Revolving Credit Facility at March 31, 2025. Interest rates on the outstanding principal amount of the Revolving Credit Facility vary and accrue at a per annum rate equal to the Alternate Base Rate, the Adjusted Term SOFR Rate, the Adjusted Daily Simple SOFR Rate, the Adjusted EURIBOR Rate or the Adjusted Daily Simple SONIA Rate, as applicable and each as defined in the Credit Agreement, in each case, plus an applicable margin. Interest rates on the outstanding principal amount of the Term Loan Facility vary and accrue at a per annum rate equal to the SOFR-based benchmark, a prime rate, or other alternate base rate, as applicable and each as defined in the amended Credit Agreement, in each case plus an applicable margin. Interest rates on the outstanding principal amount of the Incremental Term Loan Facility vary and accrue at a per annum rate equal to the SOFR-based benchmark plus 7.50%, with 1.00% SOFR Floor (no CSA). We completed an interest rate risk sensitivity analysis with the assumption that the short-term borrowing amount that was outstanding as of March 31, 2025 was outstanding for the fiscal year with an assumed one-percentage point increase in interest rates. Based on this analysis, the one-percentage point increase would have an approximate $— million negative impact on our pre-tax earnings.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures.

(a) Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures

The Company's management, under the supervision and with the participation of its principal executive officer and principal financial officer, evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) of the Exchange Act as of March 31, 2025. Based upon this evaluation, the Company's principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that such disclosure controls and procedures were effective to provide reasonable assurance that information required to be disclosed by the Company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms and accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including its principal executive and financial officer, or persons performing similar functions, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

(b) Changes in internal control over financial reporting

The principal executive and financial officers also conducted an evaluation of whether any changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting occurred during the quarter ended March 31, 2025 that have materially affected or which are reasonably likely to materially affect such control. Such officers have concluded that no such changes have occurred.

(c) Limitations on the effectiveness of controls

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting can provide only reasonable assurance with respect to financial statement preparation and presentation. The design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. The Company conducts periodic evaluations of its internal controls to enhance, where necessary, its procedures and controls.

PART II—OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings.

From time-to-time, we may become involved in legal proceedings arising in the ordinary course of our business. We record accruals for outstanding legal matters when it is believed to be probable that a loss will be incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated. Management, following consultation with legal counsel, does not expect the ultimate disposition of any or a combination of any such ongoing or anticipated matters to have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition or operating results. We cannot predict with certainty, however, the potential for or outcome of any litigation. Regardless of the outcome of any particular litigation and the merits of any particular claim, litigation can have a material adverse impact on us due to, among other reasons, any injunctive relief granted which could inhibit our ability to operate our business, amounts paid as damages or in settlement of any such matter, diversion of management resources and defense costs. Interested parties should refer to Note 12, Commitments and Contingencies, in this report for information concerning other potential contingent liabilities matters that do not rise to the level of materiality for purposes of disclosure hereunder.

Item 1A. Risk Factors.

The risks described under the caption "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2024 (the "Annual Report") could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, and results of operations, and could cause the trading price of our common stock to decline. The discussion of the risks included under that caption in our Annual Report remains current in all material respects, and there have been no material changes from the risk factors disclosed in the Annual Report, except as otherwise set forth below:

Substantial doubt exists about our ability to meet our obligations as they come due within one year from the date of issuance of the financial statements included within this report, the existence of which may have a material adverse effect on our stock price, our ability to raise capital or enter into strategic transactions, and our relationships with key stakeholders.

As discussed in Note 1, Management's Liquidity Plans and Going Concern Considerations, to the unaudited financial statements included in this report, and under the caption "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Liquidity" in this report, the Company has faced a lengthened time interval between earning revenue and collecting receivables under outstanding contracts with some of its customers due to complexities in Medicare, Medicaid, and nongovernmental payor arrangements. This prolonged interval between the Company fulfilling its performance obligations and collecting the cash owed for its services from its customers has lengthened collection periods and increased the uncertainty concerning the timing of the collection of these corresponding outstanding contract receivables. The extended collection periods and uncertainty concerning the timing of the collection of outstanding contract receivables has changed the Company's forecasts of, among other things, its ability to meet the Company's Total Net Leverage Ratio financial covenant in its amended Credit Agreement. Any failure to maintain compliance with such financial or other covenant could cause the Company's obligations under the Credit Agreement and the Company's Notes due 2029 to become immediately due and payable, and the Company may not have sufficient liquidity to satisfy such obligations. As a result, it has been determined that substantial doubt exists about the Company's ability to meet its obligations as they come due within one year from the date of issuance of the financial statements included in this report.

The Company is analyzing various alternatives to support ongoing compliance with financial covenants and the continued funding of operations and to improve liquidity, including continuing discussions with the Company's bank group on a collaborative long-term relief amendment with respect to the Company's financial covenants. There can be no assurance, however, that any long-term relief amendment, additional funds or strategic transactions will be available when needed on terms acceptable to the Company, or at all, or in an amount sufficient to enable the Company to satisfy its obligations or sustain operations in the future. In addition, if the Company issues equity to raise funds, these securities may have rights, preferences, or privileges senior to those of the Company's common stock, and the Company's current stockholders may experience dilution.

Furthermore, as a result of the determination itself that substantial doubt exists about the Company's ability to meet its obligations as they come due within one year from the date of issuance of the financial statements included in this report, there may be material adverse impacts to the Company's stock price, the Company's ability to raise capital or enter into strategic transactions on terms acceptable to the Company or at all, or the Company's relationships with its key stakeholders. If the Company is unable to obtain sufficient, timely financial resources and improve liquidity, its business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows could be materially and adversely affected. Any of these adverse impacts could result in a significant or complete loss of your investment.

The risk factors discussed by us do not identify all risks that we face; our operations could also be affected by factors that are not presently known to us or that we currently consider to be immaterial to our operations. Due to risks and uncertainties, known and unknown, our past financial results may not be a reliable indicator of future performance and historical trends should not be used to anticipate results or trends in future periods.

It is the intention of each Loan Party in providing this release that the same shall be effective as a bar to each and every claim, demand and cause of action specified in the immediately preceding sentence. Each Loan Party acknowledges that it may hereafter discover facts different from or in addition to those now known or believed to be true with respect to such claims, demands, or causes of action and agree that this instrument shall be and remain effective in all respects notwithstanding any such differences or additional facts. Each Loan Party understands, acknowledges and agrees that the release set forth above may be pleaded as a full and complete defense and may be used as a basis for an injunction against any action, suit or other proceeding which may be instituted, prosecuted or attempted in breach of the provisions of such release.

legal representatives, agrees to pay, in addition to such other damages as any Released Party may sustain as a result of such violation, all reasonable attorneys' fees and out-of-pocket costs incurred by such Released Party as a result of such violation.

(c) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Releasors shall not release the Releasees pursuant to clauses 8(a) and (b), nor indemnify the Releasees pursuant to clauses 8(a) and (b), if such release or indemnity, as applicable, arises as a result of such Releasee's gross negligence or willful misconduct (as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction in a final and non-appealable decision) and to the extent, the Releasees have breached the provisions of this Amendment.

(d) Each Loan Party represents and warrants that, as of the date hereof, there are no liabilities, claims, suits, debts, liens, losses, causes of action, demands, rights, damages or costs, or expenses of any kind, character or nature whatsoever, known or unknown, fixed or contingent, which any Loan Party may have or claim to have against any Released Party arising with respect to the Secured Obligations, the Credit Agreement, this Amendment or any other Loan Document.

(e) To the extent that, notwithstanding the New York choice of law provisions in this Amendment, the Credit Agreement and the other Loan Documents, California law is deemed to apply to the release and indemnification provisions set forth herein, each Loan Party warrants, represents and agrees that they are fully aware of California Civil Code Section 1542, which provides as follows:

> SECTION 1542. GENERAL RELEASE. A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS WHICH THE CREDITOR DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE, WHICH IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER MUST HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR.

(f) Each Loan Party hereby knowingly and voluntarily waive and relinquish the provisions, rights and benefits of California Civil Code Section 1542 and all similar federal or state laws, rights, rules, or legal principles of any other jurisdiction that may be applicable herein, and any rights they may have to invoke the provisions of any such law now or in the future with respect to the Claims being released pursuant to this Section 8, and each Loan Party hereby agrees and acknowledges that this is an essential term of the releases set forth in this Section 8. In connection with such releases, each Loan Party acknowledges that they are aware that they or their attorneys or others may hereafter discover claims or facts presently unknown or unsuspected in addition to or different from those which they now know or believe to be true with respect to the subject matter of the Claims being released pursuant to this Section 8. Nevertheless, it is the intention of each Loan Party in executing this Amendment to fully, finally, and forever settle and release all matters and all claims relating thereto, which exist, hereafter may exist or might have existed (whether or not previously or currently asserted in any action) constituting Claims released pursuant to this Section 8.

(g) The provisions of this Section 8 (the "Release Provisions") shall survive the termination of this Amendment, the Credit Agreement, and the other Loan Documents and payment in full of the Secured Obligations. The Borrower and the other Loan Parties acknowledge and agree that the Administrative Agent and the Lenders are entering into this Amendment in reliance upon, and in consideration for, among other things, the general releases and indemnities contained in the Release Provisions and the other covenants, agreements, representations, and warranties of the Borrower and the other Loan Parties hereunder.

9. Governing Law. This Amendment shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the law of the State of New York.

10. Headings. Section headings used herein are for convenience of reference only, are not part of this Amendment and shall not affect the construction of, or be taken into consideration in interpreting, this Amendment.

11. Counterparts. This Amendment may be executed in counterparts (and by different parties hereto on different counterparts), each of which shall constitute an original, but all of which when taken together shall constitute a single contract. The words "execution," "signed," "signature," "delivery," and words of like import in or relating to this Amendment and/or any document to be signed in connection with this Amendment and the transactions contemplated hereby shall be deemed to include Electronic Signatures (as defined below), deliveries or the keeping of records in electronic form, each of which shall be of the same legal effect, validity or enforceability as a manually executed signature, physical delivery thereof or the use of a paper-based recordkeeping system, as the case may be. As used herein, "Electronic Signatures" means any electronic symbol or process attached to, or associated with, any contract or other record and adopted by a person with the intent to sign, authenticate or accept such contract or record.

(iii) Whenever pro forma effect is to be given to a Specified Transaction, the pro forma calculations shall be made in good faith by a responsible financial or accounting officer of the Borrower and include, for the avoidance of doubt, the amount of cost savings, operating expense reductions, other operating improvements and cost synergies either (1) projected by the Borrower in good faith to be reasonably anticipated to be realizable within twenty-four (24) months of the date thereof or (2) determined on a basis consistent with Article 11 of Regulation S-X promulgated under the Exchange Act and as interpreted by the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission (or any successor agency), in each case in accordance with (and without duplication of, and subject to the limitations set forth in) clause (xv) of the definition of "Consolidated EBITDA" (calculated on a pro forma basis as though such cost savings, operating expense reductions, other operating improvements and cost synergies had been realized on the first day of such period and as if such cost savings, operating expense reductions, other operating improvements and cost synergies were realized during the entirety of such period), and any such adjustments shall be included in the initial pro forma calculations of such financial ratios or tests and during any subsequent Test Period in which the effects thereof are expected to be realized relating to such Specified Transaction.

(iv) In the event that the Borrower or any Subsidiary incurs (including by assumption or guarantees) or repays (including by redemption, repayment, retirement or extinguishment) any Indebtedness included in the calculations of any financial ratio or test (in each case, other than Indebtedness incurred or repaid under any revolving credit facility), (1) during the applicable Test Period or (2) subject to Section 1.04(b)(i) subsequent to the end of the applicable Test Period and prior to or simultaneously with the event for which the calculation of any such ratio is made, then such financial ratio or test shall be calculated giving pro forma effect to such incurrence or repayment of Indebtedness, to the extent required, as if the same had occurred on the last day of the applicable Test Period.

(v) Any provision requiring the pro forma compliance with Section 6.12 shall be made assuming that compliance with the Interest Coverage Ratio, the Total Net Leverage Ratio or minimum Liquidity, as applicable, pursuant to such Section is required with respect to the most recent Test Period or fiscal quarter-end, as applicable, prior to such time.

(vi) If any Indebtedness bears a floating rate of interest and is being given pro forma effect, the interest on such Indebtedness shall be calculated as if the rate in effect on the date of determination had been the applicable rate for the entire period (taking into account any Swap Agreement applicable to such Indebtedness).

SECTION 1.05. Interest Rates; Benchmark Notification. The interest rate on a Loan denominated in Dollars or an Alternative Currency may be derived from an interest rate benchmark that may be discontinued or is, or may in the future become, the subject of regulatory reform. The Administrative Agent and its affiliates and/or other related entities may engage in transactions that affect the calculation of any interest rate used in this Agreement or any alternative, successor or alternative rate (including any Benchmark Replacement) and/or any relevant adjustments thereto, in each case, in a manner adverse to the Borrower. The Administrative Agent may select information sources or services in its reasonable discretion to ascertain any interest rate used in this Agreement, any component thereof, or rates referenced in the definition thereof, in each case pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, and shall have no liability to the Borrower, any Lender or any other person or entity for damages of any kind, including direct or indirect, special, punitive, incidental or consequential damages, costs, losses or expenses (whether in tort, contract or otherwise and whether at law or in equity), for any error or calculation of any such rate (or component thereof) provided by any such information source or service.

In the event that the Borrower or any other Loan Party shall at any time issue or have outstanding any Subordinated Indebtedness, the Borrower shall take or cause such other Loan Party to take all such actions as shall be necessary to cause the Secured Obligations to constitute senior indebtedness (however denominated) in respect of such Subordinated Indebtedness and to enable the Administrative Agent and the Lenders to have and exercise any payment blockage or other remedies available or potentially available to holders of senior indebtedness under the terms of such Subordinated Indebtedness. Without limiting the foregoing, the Secured Obligations are hereby designated as "senior indebtedness" and as "designated senior indebtedness" and words of similar import under and in respect of any indenture or other agreement or instrument under which such Subordinated Indebtedness is outstanding and are further given all such other designations as shall be required under the terms of any such Subordinated Indebtedness in order that the Lenders may have and exercise any payment blockage or other remedies available or potentially available to holders of senior indebtedness under the terms of such Subordinated Indebtedness.

Unless otherwise specified herein, the amount of a Letter of Credit at any time shall be deemed to be the Dollar Equivalent of the stated amount of such Letter of Credit available to be drawn at such time; provided that, with respect to any Letter of Credit that, by its terms or the terms of any Letter of Credit Agreement related thereto, provides for one or more automatic increases in the available amount thereof, the amount of such Letter of Credit shall be deemed to be the Dollar Equivalent of the maximum amount of such Letter of Credit after giving effect to all such increases, whether or not such maximum amount is available to be drawn at such time.

SECTION 1.08. Divisions. For all purposes under the Loan Documents, in connection with any division or plan of division under Delaware law (or any comparable event under a different jurisdiction's laws): (a) if any asset, right, obligation or liability of any Person becomes the asset, right, obligation or liability of a different Person, then it shall be deemed to have been transferred from the original Person to the subsequent Person, and (b) if any new Person comes into existence, such new Person shall be deemed to have been organized and acquired on the first date of its existence by the holders of its Equity Interests at such time.

SECTION 1.09. Exchange Rates; Currency Equivalents.

(a) The Administrative Agent or the applicable Issuing Bank, as applicable, shall determine the Dollar Equivalent amounts of Term Benchmark Borrowings or RFR Borrowings or Letter of Credit extensions denominated in Alternative Currencies. Such Dollar Equivalent shall become effective as of such Revaluation Date and shall be the Dollar Equivalent of such amounts until the next Revaluation Date to occur. Except for purposes of financial statements delivered by the Borrower hereunder or calculating financial covenants hereunder or except as otherwise provided herein, the applicable amount of any Agreed Currency (other than Dollars) for purposes of the Loan Documents shall be such Dollar Equivalent amount as so determined by the Administrative Agent or the Issuing Bank, as applicable.

(b) Wherever in this Agreement in connection with a Borrowing, conversion, continuation or prepayment of a Term Benchmark Loan or an RFR Loan or the issuance, amendment or extension of a Letter of Credit, an amount, such as a required minimum or multiple amount, is expressed in Dollars, but such Borrowing, Loan or Letter of Credit is denominated in an Alternative Currency, such amount shall be the Dollar Equivalent of such amount (rounded to the nearest unit of such Alternative Currency, with 0.5 of a unit being rounded upward), as determined by the Administrative Agent or the applicable Issuing Bank, as the case may be.

SECTION 1.10. Limited Condition Transactions. As it relates to any action being taken solely or primarily in connection with a Limited Condition Acquisition, for purposes of:

(a) determining compliance with any provision of this Agreement which requires the calculation of any financial ratio or financial test (other than actual (and not pro forma) compliance with Section 6.12 or in the case of any determination under Section 4.02 with respect to obligation of each Revolving Lender to make a Revolving Loan or Swingline Loan on the occasion of any Borrowing, or of the Issuing Banks to issue, amend or extend any Letter of Credit),

(b) testing availability under baskets set forth in this Agreement (including baskets determined by reference to Consolidated EBITDA) or,

(c) testing whether a Default or Event of Default has occurred or would result therefrom (other than for any determination under Section 4.02 with respect to obligation of each Revolving Lender to make a Revolving Loan or Swingline Loan on the occasion of any Borrowing, or of the Issuing Banks to issue, amend or extend any Letter of Credit), in each case, at the option of the Borrower (the Borrower's election to exercise such option in connection with any Limited Condition Acquisition, an "LCT Election"), the date of determination of whether any such action is permitted hereunder, any such provision is complied with, any such tested availability is sufficient, and any such Default or Event of Default exists, in each case, shall be deemed to be the date the definitive agreements for such Limited Condition Acquisition are entered into (the "LCT Test Date"), and if, after giving effect to the Limited Condition Acquisition on a pro forma basis (and the other transactions to be entered into in connection therewith, including any incurrence of Indebtedness and the use of proceeds thereof, as if they had occurred on the first day of the most recently ended Test Period prior to the LCT Test Date), the Borrower or the applicable Subsidiary would have been permitted to take such action on the relevant LCT Test Date in compliance with such provision, ratio, test or basket, such provision, ratio, test or basket shall be deemed to have been complied with or if no such Default or Event of Default shall exist on such LCT Test Date and no Specified Event of Default shall exist on the date of consummation of such Limited Condition Acquisition, then such condition shall be deemed satisfied on the date of consummation of such Limited Condition Acquisition; provided, that, if financial statements for one or more subsequent fiscal periods shall have become available, the Borrower may elect, in its sole discretion, to redetermine all such ratios, tests or baskets on the basis of such financial statements, in which case, such date of redetermination shall thereafter be deemed to be the applicable LCT Test Date. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Borrower has made an LCT Election and any of the provisions, ratios, tests or baskets for which compliance was determined or tested as of the LCT Test Date would have failed to have been complied with as a result of fluctuations in any such provision, ratio, test or basket, including due to fluctuations in Consolidated EBITDA of the Borrower or the Person subject to such Limited Condition Acquisition or at or prior to the consummation of the relevant transaction or any Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing on the date of such Limited Condition Acquisition, such provisions, baskets, tests or ratios or requirement will not be deemed to have failed to have been complied with as a result of such circumstance; however, if any provisions or ratios improve or baskets increase as a result of such fluctuations, such improved provisions, ratios or baskets may be utilized. If the Borrower has made an LCT Election for any Limited Condition Acquisition, then in connection with any calculation of any ratio, test or basket availability with respect to any transaction permitted hereunder (each, a "Subsequent Transaction") following the relevant LCT Test Date and prior to the earliest of the date on which such Limited Condition Acquisition is consummated, the date that the definitive agreement for such Limited Condition Acquisition is terminated or expires without consummation of such Limited Condition Acquisition or the 120th day following the signing of the definitive agreement for such Limited Condition Acquisition, for purposes of determining whether such Subsequent Transaction is permitted under this Agreement, any such ratio, test or basket shall be required to be satisfied on a Pro Forma Basis (i) assuming such Limited Condition Acquisition and other transactions in connection therewith (including any incurrence of Indebtedness and the use of proceeds thereof) have been consummated and (ii) solely in the case of a Subsequent Transaction constituting a Restricted Payment, assuming such Limited Condition Transaction and other transactions in connection therewith (including any incurrence of Indebtedness and the use of proceeds thereof) have not been consummated.

SECTION 1.11. Amendment No. 3 Effective Date Reallocations. The parties to this Agreement agree that, on the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date: (a) the "Revolving Commitments" (as defined in this Agreement immediately prior to the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date) shall be allocated between, and redesignated as, 2027 Revolving Commitments and 2028 Revolving Commitments hereunder and (b) the Administrative Agent shall make such other reallocations, sales, assignments or other relevant actions in respect of each Lender's credit and loan exposure under the this Agreement immediately prior to the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date as are necessary in order that each such Lender's Revolving Credit Exposure hereunder reflects such Lender's 2027 Applicable Percentage or 2028 Applicable Percentage, as applicable, of the outstanding aggregate Revolving Credit Exposure on the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date.

SECTION 2.01. Commitments. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, (a) each 2027 Revolving Lender (severally and not jointly) agrees to make 2027 Revolving Loans to the Borrower in Agreed Currencies from time to time during the 2027 Availability Period in an aggregate principal amount that will not result (after giving effect to any application of proceeds of such Borrowing to any Swingline Loans outstanding pursuant to Section 2.10(a)) in, subject to Sections 1.09 and 2.11(b), (i) such Lender's 2027 Revolving Credit Exposure exceeding such Lender's 2027 Revolving Commitment, (ii) the total 2027 Revolving Credit Exposures exceeding the sum of the total 2027 Revolving Commitments, (iii) the Total Revolving Credit Exposure exceeding the aggregate Revolving Commitments, (iv) the total 2027 Revolving Credit Exposures denominated in Alternative Currencies exceeding the 2027 Alternative Currency Sublimit or (v) the Total Revolving Credit Exposure denominated in Alternative Currencies exceeding the Alternative Currency Sublimit, (b) each 2028 Revolving Lender (severally and not jointly) agrees to make 2028 Revolving Loans to the Borrower in Agreed Currencies from time to time during the 2028 Availability Period in an aggregate principal amount that will not result (after giving effect to any application of proceeds of such Borrowing to any Swingline Loans outstanding pursuant to Section 2.10(a)) in, subject to Sections 1.09 and 2.11(b), (i) such Lender's 2028 Revolving Credit Exposure exceeding such Lender's 2028 Revolving Commitment, (ii) the total 2028 Revolving Credit Exposures exceeding the sum of the total 2028 Revolving Commitments, (iii) the Total Revolving Credit Exposure exceeding the aggregate Revolving Commitments, (iv) the total 2028 Revolving Credit Exposures denominated in Alternative Currencies exceeding the 2028 Alternative Currency Sublimit or (v) the Total Revolving Credit Exposure denominated in Alternative Currencies exceeding the Alternative Currency Sublimit, ~~and~~ (c) each Term Lender with ~~a~~an Initial Term Loan Commitment (severally and not jointly) agrees to make ~~a~~an Initial Term Loan to the Borrower in Dollars on the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date, in an amount equal to such Lender's Initial Term Loan Commitment by making immediately available funds available to the Administrative Agent's designated account, not later than the time specified by the Administrative Agent and (d) each Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Lender with an Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Commitment (severally and not jointly) agrees to make an Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loan to the Borrower in Dollars on the Amendment No. 5 Effective Date, in an amount equal to such Lender's Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Commitment by making immediately available funds available to the Administrative Agent's designated account, not later than the time specified by the Administrative Agent. Within the foregoing limits and subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, the Borrower may borrow, prepay and reborrow Revolving Loans. Amounts repaid or prepaid in respect of Term Loans may not be reborrowed.

(A) (i) On the Amendment No. 5 Effective Date, the Borrower shall be deemed to have requested ratably from each Lender holding a 2027 Revolving Commitment or a 2028 Revolving Commitment who consents to the Amendment No. 5 a term loan in an aggregate amount equal to the Consent Fee (as defined in Amendment No. 5) payable to such Lender, and (ii) on each date the Borrower is required to make an Applicable Rate Increase Payment, the Borrower shall be deemed to have requested ratably from each Lender holding a 2027 Revolving Loan or a 2028 Revolving Loan, a term loan in an aggregate amount equal to the Applicable Rate Increase Payment payable to such Lenders on the applicable Interest Payment Date; and (B) each Lender holding a 2027 Revolving Commitment or 2028 Revolving Commitment, as applicable, shall be deemed to have made its pro rata portion of the term loans referred to in the preceding clause (A) on the Amendment No. 5 Effective Date or applicable Interest Payment Date, as applicable (all such term loans deemed made pursuant to the foregoing clauses (i) and (ii) with respect to 2027 Revolving Commitments or 2027 Revolving Loans, the "Revolver PIK 2027 Loan" and all such term loans deemed made pursuant to the foregoing clauses (i) and (ii) with respect to 2028 Revolving Commitments or 2028 Revolving Loans, the "Revolver PIK 2028 Loan", together with the Revolver PIK 2027 Loan, the "Revolver PIK Loans"). For the avoidance of doubt, the deemed advance of the Revolver PIK Loans on the Amendment No. 5 Effective Date or applicable Interest Payment Date shall not be subject to the availability of, and such deemed advance shall not constitute the utilization of, any Revolving Commitment. The principal amount of the outstanding Revolver PIK Loan will accrue interest in accordance with Section 2.13. Any amount of the Revolver PIK Loan repaid may not be reborrowed.

SECTION 2.02. Loans and Borrowings. (a) Each Loan (other than a Swingline Loan) shall be made as part of a Borrowing consisting of Loans of the same Class and Type made by the applicable Lenders ratably in accordance with their respective Commitments of the applicable Class; provided, however, that (i) until the 2027 Maturity Date, each Borrowing of Revolving Loans shall consist of both Classes of Revolving Loans (including both 2027 Revolving Loans and 2028 Revolving Loans) made by the Revolving Lenders (including both the 2027 Revolving Lenders and the 2028 Revolving Lenders) ratably in accordance with their respective Revolving Commitments on the date such Revolving Loans are made hereunder and (ii) on and after the 2027 Maturity Date, each Borrowing of Revolving Loans shall consist of 2028 Revolving Loans made by the 2028 Revolving Lenders ratably in accordance with their respective 2028 Revolving Commitments on the date such Revolving Loans are made hereunder. The failure of any Lender to make any Loan required to be made by it shall not relieve any other Lender of its obligations hereunder; provided that the Commitments of the Lenders are several and no Lender shall be responsible for any other Lender's failure to make Loans as required. Any Swingline Loan shall be made in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 2.05. The Term Loans shall amortize as set forth in Section 2.10.

(b) Subject to Section 2.14, (i) each Revolving Borrowing and Revolver PIK Loan shall be comprised (A) in the case of Borrowings in Dollars, entirely of ABR Loans, Term Benchmark Loans or RFR Loans and (B) in the case of Borrowings in any other Agreed Currency, entirely of Term Benchmark Loans or RFR Loans, as applicable, in each case of the same Agreed Currency, as the Borrower may request in accordance herewith, and (ii) each Term Loan Borrowing shall be comprised entirely of ABR Loans or Term Benchmark Loans. Each Swingline Loan shall be an ABR Loan. Each Lender at its option may make any Loan by causing any domestic or foreign branch or Affiliate of such Lender to make such Loan (and in the case of an Affiliate, the provisions of Sections 2.14, 2.15, 2.16 and 2.17 shall apply to such Affiliate to the same extent as to such Lender); provided that any exercise of such option shall not affect the obligation of the Borrower to repay such Loan in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

(c) At the commencement of each Interest Period for any Term Benchmark Borrowing, such Borrowing shall be in an aggregate amount that is an integral multiple of $500,000 (or, if such Borrowing is denominated in an Alternative Currency, 500,000 units of such currency) and not less than $1,000,000 (or, if such Borrowing is denominated in an Alternative Currency, 1,000,000 units of such currency). At the time that each ABR Borrowing and/or RFR Borrowing is made, such Borrowing shall be in an aggregate amount that is an integral multiple of the Dollar Equivalent of $500,000 and not less than the Dollar Equivalent of $1,000,000; provided that an ABR Revolving Borrowing may be in an aggregate amount that is equal to the entire unused balance of the aggregate Revolving Commitments or that is required to finance the reimbursement of an LC Disbursement as contemplated by Section 2.06(e). Each Swingline Loan shall be in an amount that is an integral multiple of $100,000 and not less than $500,000. Borrowings of more than one Type and Class may be outstanding at the same time; provided that there shall not at any time be more than a total of ten (10) Term Benchmark or RFR Borrowings outstanding (in the aggregate for all Term Benchmark Borrowings and RFR Borrowings).

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the Borrower shall not be entitled to request, or to elect to convert or continue, any Borrowing if the Interest Period requested with respect thereto would end after the applicable Maturity Date.

SECTION 2.03. Requests for Borrowings. To request a Revolving Borrowing or Term Loan Borrowing, the Borrower shall notify the Administrative Agent of such request by irrevocable written notice (via a written Borrowing Request signed by ~~a Responsible~~the Chief Transformation Officer ~~of the Borrower~~) (provided, that a Borrowing Request with respect to funding of a transaction permitted hereunder may state that such notice is conditioned upon the completion of such transaction, in which case, such Borrowing Request may be revoked by the Borrower if the transaction is not consummated at the time specified; provided further that, if such Borrowing Request is submitted through an Approved Borrower Portal, the foregoing signature requirement may be waived at the sole discretion of the Administrative Agent) (a)(i)(x) in the case of a Term Benchmark Borrowing denominated in Dollars, not later than ~~9:00 a.m~~11:00 a.m., New York City time, ~~two~~three (~~2~~3) U.S. Government Securities Business Days before the date of the proposed Borrowing or (y) in the case of an RFR Borrowing denominated in Dollars, not later than ~~9:00 a.m~~11:00 a.m., New York City time, ~~two~~five (~~2~~5) U.S. Government Securities Business Days before the date of the proposed Borrowing, (ii) in the case of a Term Benchmark Borrowing denominated in euros, not later than ~~9:00 a.m~~12:00 p.m., New York City time, ~~two~~three (~~2~~3) Business Days before the date of the proposed Borrowing, (iii) in the case of an RFR Borrowing denominated in Pounds Sterling, not later than ~~9:00 a.m~~11:00 a.m., New York City time, ~~two~~five (~~2~~5) RFR Business Days before the date of the proposed Borrowing or (b) in the case of an ABR Borrowing, not later than 12:00 p.m., New York City time on the date of the proposed Borrowing. Each such Borrowing Request shall specify the following information in compliance with Section 2.02:

(i) the Agreed Currency and aggregate principal amount of the requested Borrowing;

(ii) the date of such Borrowing, which shall be a Business Day;

(iii) whether such Borrowing is to be an ABR Borrowing, a Term Benchmark Borrowing or an RFR Borrowing and whether such Borrowing is a Revolving Borrowing or a Term Loan Borrowing;

(iv) in the case of a Term Benchmark Borrowing, the initial Interest Period to be applicable thereto, which shall be a period contemplated by the definition of the term "Interest Period"; and

(v) the location and number of the Borrower's account to which funds are to be disbursed, which shall comply with the requirements of Section 2.07 (provided that in the case of the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans, the Borrowing Request shall specify the Amendment No. 5 Collateral Account unless otherwise agreed by the Administrative Agent and the Required Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Lenders).

If no election as to the currency of a Borrowing is specified, then the requested Borrowing shall be made in Dollars. If no election as to the Type of Borrowing is specified, then, in the case of a Borrowing denominated in Dollars, the requested Borrowing shall be an ABR Borrowing. If no Interest Period is specified with respect to any requested Term Benchmark Borrowing, then the Borrower shall be deemed to have selected an Interest Period of one month's duration. Promptly following receipt of a Borrowing Request in accordance with this Section, the Administrative Agent shall advise each Lender of the details thereof and of the amount of such Lender's Loan to be made as part of the requested Borrowing.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall the Borrower be permitted to request pursuant to this Section 2.03, a CBR Loan or, prior to a Benchmark Transition Event and Benchmark Replacement Date with respect to the Term SOFR Rate, an RFR Loan bearing interest based on Daily Simple SOFR (it being understood and agreed that a Central Bank Rate and Daily Simple SOFR shall only apply to the extent provided in Section 2.08(e) (solely with respect to the Central Bank Rate), 2.14(a) and 2.14(f)), as applicable.

SECTION 2.04. [Reserved].

SECTION 2.05. Swingline Loans. (a) Subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, the Swingline Lender may agree, but shall have no obligation, to make Swingline Loans in Dollars to the Borrower from time to time during the 2028 Availability Period, in an aggregate principal amount at any time outstanding that will not result in (i) the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Swingline Loans exceeding the Swingline Sublimit, (ii) the Swingline Lender's Revolving Credit Exposure exceeding its Revolving Commitment, (iii) the Dollar Equivalent of any 2027 Revolving Lender's 2027 Revolving Credit Exposure exceeding such 2027 Revolving Lender's 2027 Revolving Commitment, (iv) the Dollar Equivalent of the total 2027 Revolving Credit Exposures exceeding the sum of the total 2027 Revolving Commitments, (v) the Dollar Equivalent of any 2028 Revolving Lender's 2028 Revolving Credit Exposure exceeding such 2028 Revolving Lender's 2028 Revolving Commitment, (vi) the Dollar Equivalent of the total 2028 Revolving Credit Exposures exceeding the sum of the total 2028 Revolving Commitments or (vii) the Dollar Equivalent of the Total Revolving Credit Exposure exceeding the aggregate Revolving Commitments; provided that the Swingline Lender shall not be required to make a Swingline Loan to refinance an outstanding Swingline Loan. Within the foregoing limits and subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, the Borrower may borrow, prepay and reborrow Swingline Loans.

(b) To request a Swingline Loan, the Borrower shall notify the Administrative Agent of such request by irrevocable written notice (via a written Borrowing Request in a form approved by the Administrative Agent and signed by a Responsible Officer of the Borrower; provided that, if such Borrowing Request is submitted through an Approved Borrower Portal, the foregoing signature requirement may be waived at the sole discretion of the Administrative Agent), not later than 12:00 noon, New York City time, on the day of a proposed Swingline Loan. Each such notice shall be in a form approved by the Administrative Agent, shall be irrevocable and shall specify the requested date (which shall be a Business Day) and amount of the requested Swingline Loan. The Administrative Agent will promptly advise the Swingline Lender of any such notice received from the Borrower. The Swingline Lender shall make each Swingline Loan available to the Borrower by means of a credit to an account of the Borrower with the Administrative Agent designated for such purpose (or, in the case of a Swingline Loan made to finance the reimbursement of an LC Disbursement as provided in Section 2.06(e), by remittance to such Issuing Bank) by 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on the requested date of such Swingline Loan.

(c) The Swingline Lender may by written notice given to the Administrative Agent require the Revolving Lenders to acquire participations in all or a portion of the Swingline Loans outstanding. Such notice shall specify the aggregate amount of Swingline Loans in which Revolving Lenders will participate. Promptly upon receipt of such notice, the Administrative Agent will give notice thereof to each Revolving Lender, specifying in such notice such Lender's Applicable Percentage (after giving effect to the reallocation provisions of this Section 2.05(c)) of such Swingline Loan or Loans. Each Revolving Lender hereby absolutely and unconditionally agrees, promptly upon receipt of such notice from the Administrative Agent (and in any event, if such notice is received by 12:00 noon, New York City time, on a Business Day, no later than 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on such Business Day and if received after 12:00 noon, New York City time, on a Business Day, no later than 10:00 a.m., New York City time, on the immediately succeeding Business Day), to pay to the Administrative Agent, for the account of the Swingline Lender, such Lender's Applicable Percentage (after giving effect to the reallocation provisions of this Section 2.05(c)) of such Swingline Loan or Loans. Each Revolving Lender acknowledges and agrees that its obligation to acquire participations in Swingline Loans pursuant to this paragraph is absolute and unconditional and shall not be affected by any circumstance whatsoever, including the occurrence and continuance of a Default or reduction or termination of the Commitments, and that each such payment shall be made without any offset, abatement, withholding or reduction whatsoever; provided that on the 2027 Maturity Date, the participations so acquired by the 2027 Revolving Lenders shall be reallocated to the 2028 Revolving Lenders ratably in accordance with such 2028 Revolving Lenders' respective Applicable Percentages determined after giving effect to the termination of the 2027 Revolving Commitments (provided that, to the extent such reallocation shall cause the total 2028 Revolving Credit Exposures to exceed the 2028 Revolving Commitments, the Borrower shall, on such date of reallocation, prepay 2028 Revolving Loans and/or cash collateralize outstanding LC Exposure in an amount sufficient to eliminate any such excess). Each Revolving Lender shall comply with its obligation under this paragraph by wire transfer of immediately available funds, in the same manner as provided in Section 2.07 with respect to Loans made by such Lender (and Section 2.07 shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the payment obligations of the Lenders), and the Administrative Agent shall promptly pay to the Swingline Lender the amounts so received by it from the Revolving Lenders. The Administrative Agent shall notify the Borrower of any participations in any Swingline Loan acquired pursuant to this paragraph, and thereafter payments in respect of such Swingline Loan shall be made to the Administrative Agent and not to the Swingline Lender. Any amounts received by the Swingline Lender from the Borrower (or other party on behalf of the Borrower) in respect of a Swingline Loan after receipt by the Swingline Lender of the proceeds of a sale of participations therein shall be promptly remitted to the Administrative Agent; any such amounts received by the Administrative Agent shall be promptly remitted by the Administrative Agent to the Revolving Lenders that shall have made their payments pursuant to this paragraph and to the Swingline Lender, as their interests may appear; provided that any such payment so remitted shall be repaid to the Swingline Lender or to the Administrative Agent, as applicable, if and to the extent such payment is required to be refunded to the Borrower for any reason. The purchase of participations in a Swingline Loan pursuant to this paragraph shall not relieve the Borrower of any default in the payment thereof.

(d) The Swingline Lender may be replaced at any time by written agreement among the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the replaced Swingline Lender and the successor Swingline Lender. The Administrative Agent shall notify the Revolving Lenders of any such replacement of the Swingline Lender. At the time any such replacement shall become effective, the Borrower shall pay all unpaid interest accrued for the account of the replaced Swingline Lender pursuant to Section 2.13(a). From and after the effective date of any such replacement, (i) the successor Swingline Lender shall have all the rights and obligations of the replaced Swingline Lender under this Agreement with respect to Swingline Loans made thereafter and (ii) references herein to the term "Swingline Lender" shall be deemed to refer to such successor or to any previous Swingline Lender, or to such successor and all previous Swingline Lenders, as the context shall require. After the replacement of a Swingline Lender hereunder, the replaced Swingline Lender shall remain a party hereto and shall continue to have all the rights and obligations of a Swingline Lender under this Agreement with respect to Swingline Loans made by it prior to its replacement, but shall not be required to make additional Swingline Loans.

(e) Subject to the appointment and acceptance of a successor Swingline Lender, the Swingline Lender may resign as a Swingline Lender at any time upon thirty (30) days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent, the Borrower and the Revolving Lenders, in which case, such Swingline Lender shall be replaced in accordance with Section 2.05(d) above.

SECTION 2.06. Letters of Credit. (a) General. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, the Borrower may request any Issuing Bank to issue Letters of Credit denominated in Agreed Currencies as the applicant thereof for the support of its or its Subsidiaries' obligations, in a form reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent and the relevant Issuing Bank, at any time and from time to time during the 2028 Availability Period; provided that there shall not at any time be more than a total of twenty (20) Letters of Credit outstanding. All Existing Letters of Credit shall be deemed to have been issued pursuant hereto, and from and after the Effective Date, shall be governed by the terms and conditions hereof.

(b) Notice of Issuance, Amendment, Extension; Certain Conditions. To request the issuance of a Letter of Credit (or the amendment or extension of an outstanding Letter of Credit), the Borrower shall hand deliver or telecopy (or transmit by electronic communication, including an Approved Borrower Portal, if arrangements for doing so have been approved by the relevant Issuing Bank) to an Issuing Bank selected by it and the Administrative Agent (reasonably in advance of the requested date of issuance, amendment or extension, but in any event no less than three (3) Business Days) a written notice requesting the issuance of a Letter of Credit, or identifying the Letter of Credit to be amended or extended, and specifying the date of issuance, amendment or extension (which shall be a Business Day), the date on which such Letter of Credit is to expire (which shall comply with paragraph (c) of this Section), the amount of such Letter of Credit, the Agreed Currency applicable thereto, the name and address of the beneficiary thereof and such other information as shall be necessary to prepare, amend or extend such Letter of Credit. In addition, as a condition to any such Letter of Credit issuance, the Borrower shall have entered into a continuing agreement (or other letter of credit agreement) for the issuance of letters of credit and/or shall submit a letter of credit application, in each case, as required by the relevant Issuing Bank and using the relevant Issuing Bank's standard form (each, a "Letter of Credit Agreement"). In the event of any conflict between the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the terms and conditions of any Letter of Credit Agreement, the terms and conditions of this Agreement shall control. A Letter of Credit shall be issued, amended or extended only if (and upon issuance, amendment or extension of each Letter of Credit the Borrower shall be deemed to represent and warrant that), after giving effect to such issuance, amendment or extension (i) the amount of the LC Exposure shall not exceed $60,000,000, (ii)(x) the aggregate undrawn amount of all outstanding Letters of Credit issued by any Issuing Bank at such time plus (y) the aggregate amount of all LC Disbursements made by such Issuing Bank that have not yet been reimbursed by or on behalf of the Borrower at such time (such sum for any Issuing Bank at any time of determination, its "Outstanding LC Amount") shall not exceed such Issuing Bank's Letter of Credit Commitment) (provided that, notwithstanding this clause (ii) but at all times subject to the immediately preceding clause (i) and the immediately succeeding clauses (iii) and (iv), an Issuing Bank may, in its sole discretion, agree to issue, amend or extend a Letter of Credit if such issuance, amendment or extension would cause such Issuing Bank's Outstanding LC Amount to exceed its Letter of Credit Commitment, (iii) the LC Exposure shall not exceed the total Letter of Credit Commitments, (iv) (x) no 2027 Revolving Lender's 2027 Revolving Credit Exposure shall exceed its 2027 Revolving Commitment and the total 2027 Revolving Credit Exposures shall not exceed the sum of the total 2027 Revolving Commitments, (y) no 2028 Revolving Lender's 2028 Revolving Credit Exposure shall exceed its 2028 Revolving Commitment and the total 2028 Revolving Credit Exposures shall not exceed the sum of the total 2028 Revolving Commitments and (z) no Revolving Lender's Revolving Credit Exposure shall exceed its Revolving Commitment and the Total Revolving Credit Exposure shall not exceed aggregate Revolving Commitments and (v) (x) the total 2027 Revolving Credit Exposures in Alternative Currencies shall not exceed the 2027 Alternative Currency Sublimit, (y) the total 2028 Revolving Credit Exposures in Alternative Currencies shall not exceed the 2028 Alternative Currency Sublimit and (z) the Revolving Credit Exposure of all Lenders in Alternative Currencies shall not exceed the Alternative Currency Sublimit. The Borrower may, at any time and from time to time, reduce the Letter of Credit Commitment of any Issuing Bank with the consent of such Issuing Bank; provided that the Borrower shall not reduce the Letter of Credit Commitment of any Issuing Bank if, after giving effect of such reduction, the conditions set forth in the immediately preceding clauses (i) through (iv) shall not be satisfied.

No Issuing Bank shall be under any obligation to issue, amend or extend any Letter of Credit if:

(i) any order, judgment or decree of any Governmental Authority or arbitrator shall by its terms purport to enjoin or restrain such Issuing Bank from issuing, amending or extending such Letter of Credit, or request that such Issuing Bank refrain from issuing, amending or extending such Letter of Credit, or any law applicable to such Issuing Bank shall prohibit the issuance, amendment or extension of letters of credit generally or such Letter of Credit in particular, or any such order, judgment or decree, or law shall impose upon such Issuing Bank with respect to such Letter of Credit any restriction, reserve or capital or liquidity requirement (for which such Issuing Bank is not otherwise compensated hereunder) not in effect on the Effective Date, or shall impose upon such Issuing Bank any unreimbursed loss, cost or expense that was not applicable on the Effective Date and that such Issuing Bank in good faith deems material to it; or

(ii) the issuance, amendment or extension of such Letter of Credit would violate one or more policies of such Issuing Bank applicable to letters of credit generally.

(c) Expiration Date. Each Letter of Credit shall expire (or be subject to termination by notice from the relevant Issuing Bank to the beneficiary thereof) at or prior to the close of business on the earlier of (i) the date one year after the date of the issuance of such Letter of Credit (or, in the case of any extension of the expiration date thereof, one year after such extension) and (ii) the date that is five (5) Business Days prior to the 2028 Maturity Date; provided that any Letter of Credit with a one-year tenor may contain customary automatic extension provisions agreed upon by the Borrower and the Issuing Bank that provide for the extension thereof for additional one-year periods (which shall in no event extend beyond the date referenced in clause (ii) above), subject to a right on the part of the Issuing Bank to prevent any such extension from occurring by giving notice to the beneficiary in advance of any such extension.

(d) Participations. By the issuance of a Letter of Credit (or an amendment to a Letter of Credit increasing the amount or extending the expiration date thereof) and without any further action on the part of any Issuing Bank or the Revolving Lenders, each Issuing Bank hereby grants to each Revolving Lender, and each Revolving Lender hereby acquires from each Issuing Bank, a participation in such Letter of Credit equal to such Lender's Applicable Percentage of the aggregate amount available to be drawn under such Letter of Credit; provided that on the 2027 Maturity Date, the participations so granted and acquired by the 2027 Revolving Lenders shall be reallocated to the 2028 Revolving Lenders ratably in accordance with the 2028 Revolving Lenders' respective Applicable Percentages determined after giving effect to the termination of the 2027 Commitments (provided that, to the extent such reallocation shall cause the total 2028 Revolving Credit Exposures to exceed the 2028 Revolving Commitments, the Borrower shall, on such date of reallocation, prepay 2028 Revolving Loans and/or cash collateralize outstanding LC Exposure in an amount sufficient to eliminate any such excess). In consideration and in furtherance of the foregoing, each Revolving Lender hereby absolutely and unconditionally agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent, for the account of the relevant Issuing Bank, such Lender's Applicable Percentage of each LC Disbursement made by such Issuing Bank and not reimbursed by the Borrower on the date due as provided in paragraph (e) of this Section, or of any reimbursement payment required to be refunded to the Borrower for any reason, including after the Maturity Date. Each such payment shall be made without any offset, abatement, withholding or reduction whatsoever. Each Revolving Lender acknowledges and agrees that its obligation to acquire participations pursuant to this paragraph in respect of Letters of Credit and to make payments in respect of such acquired participations are absolute and unconditional and shall not be affected by any circumstance whatsoever, including any amendment or extension of any Letter of Credit or the occurrence and continuance of a Default or reduction or termination of the Commitments.

(e) Reimbursement. If any Issuing Bank shall make any LC Disbursement in respect of a Letter of Credit, the Borrower shall reimburse such LC Disbursement by paying to the Administrative Agent an amount in the currency of such LC Disbursement equal to such LC Disbursement, not later than 12:00 noon, New York City time, on the Business Day immediately following the day that the Borrower receives such notice; provided that, (x) if such LC Disbursement is denominated in Dollars, the Borrower may, subject to the conditions to borrowing set forth herein, request in accordance with Section 2.03 or 2.05 that such payment be financed with an ABR Revolving Borrowing or Swingline Loan in an equivalent amount of such LC Disbursement or (y) if such LC Disbursement is denominated in an Alternative Currency, the Borrower may, subject to the conditions to borrowing set forth herein, request in accordance with Section 2.03 that such payment be converted into an equivalent amount of an ABR Revolving Borrowing denominated in Dollars in an amount equal to the Dollar Equivalent of such Alternative Currency, and, in each case, to the extent so financed, the Borrower's obligation to make such payment shall be discharged and replaced by the resulting ABR Revolving Borrowing or Swingline Loan, as applicable. If the Borrower fails to make such payment when due, the Administrative Agent shall notify each Revolving Lender of the applicable LC Disbursement, the payment then due from the Borrower in respect thereof and such Lender's Applicable Percentage thereof. Promptly following receipt of such notice, each Revolving Lender shall pay to the Administrative Agent its Applicable Percentage of the payment then due from the Borrower, in the same manner as provided in Section 2.07 with respect to Loans made by such Lender (and Section 2.07 shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the payment obligations of the Revolving Lenders), and the Administrative Agent shall promptly pay to the relevant Issuing Bank the amounts so received by it from the Revolving Lenders. Promptly following receipt by the Administrative Agent of any payment from the Borrower pursuant to this paragraph, the Administrative Agent shall distribute such payment to the relevant Issuing Bank or, to the extent that Revolving Lenders have made payments pursuant to this paragraph to reimburse such Issuing Bank, then to such Lenders and such Issuing Bank as their interests may appear. Any payment made by a Revolving Lender pursuant to this paragraph to reimburse an Issuing Bank for any LC Disbursement (other than the funding of ABR Revolving Loans or a Swingline Loan as contemplated above) shall not constitute a Loan and shall not relieve the Borrower of its obligation to reimburse such LC Disbursement. If the Borrower's reimbursement of, or obligation to reimburse, any amounts in any Alternative Currency would subject the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any Lender to any stamp duty, ad valorem charge or similar tax that would not be payable if such reimbursement were made or required to be made in Dollars, the Borrower shall, at its option, either (x) pay the amount of any such tax requested by the Administrative Agent, the relevant Issuing Bank or the relevant Lender or (y) reimburse each LC Disbursement made in such Alternative Currency in Dollars, in an amount equal to the Dollar Equivalent thereof calculated on the date such LC Disbursement is made.

(f) Obligations Absolute. The Borrower's obligation to reimburse LC Disbursements as provided in paragraph (e) of this Section shall be absolute, unconditional and irrevocable, and shall be performed strictly in accordance with the terms of this Agreement under any and all circumstances whatsoever and irrespective of (i) any lack of validity or enforceability of any Letter of Credit, any Letter of Credit Agreement or this Agreement, or any term or provision therein or herein, (ii) any draft or other document presented under a Letter of Credit proving to be forged, fraudulent or invalid in any respect or any statement therein being untrue or inaccurate in any respect, (iii) any payment by an Issuing Bank under a Letter of Credit against presentation of a draft or other document that does not comply with the terms of such Letter of Credit, (iv) any other event or circumstance whatsoever, whether or not similar to any of the foregoing, that might, but for the provisions of this Section, constitute a legal or equitable discharge of, or provide a right of setoff against, the Borrower's obligations hereunder or (v) any adverse change in the relevant exchange rates or in the availability of the relevant Alternative Currency to the Borrower or any Subsidiary or in the relevant currency markets generally. Neither the Administrative Agent, the Revolving Lenders nor any Issuing Bank, nor any of their respective Related Parties, shall have any liability or responsibility by reason of or in connection with the issuance or transfer of any Letter of Credit or any payment or failure to make any payment thereunder (irrespective of any of the circumstances referred to in the preceding sentence), or any error, omission, interruption, loss or delay in transmission or delivery of any draft, document, notice or other communication under or relating to any Letter of Credit (including any document required to make a drawing thereunder), any error in interpretation of technical terms, any error in translation or any consequence arising from causes beyond the control of the relevant Issuing Bank; provided that the foregoing shall not be construed to excuse any Issuing Bank from liability to the Borrower to the extent of any direct damages (as opposed to special, indirect, consequential or punitive damages, claims in respect of which are hereby waived by the Borrower to the extent permitted by applicable law) suffered by the Borrower that are caused by such Issuing Bank's failure to exercise care when determining whether drafts and other documents presented under a Letter of Credit comply with the terms thereof. The parties hereto expressly agree that, in the absence of gross negligence or willful misconduct on the part of any Issuing Bank (as finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction), such Issuing Bank shall be deemed to have exercised care in each such determination. In furtherance of the foregoing and without limiting the generality thereof, the parties agree that, with respect to documents presented which appear on their face to be in substantial compliance with the terms of a Letter of Credit, each Issuing Bank may, in its sole discretion, either accept and make payment upon such documents without responsibility for further investigation, regardless of any notice or information to the contrary, or refuse to accept and make payment upon such documents if such documents are not in strict compliance with the terms of such Letter of Credit.

(g) Disbursement Procedures. Each Issuing Bank shall, within the time allowed by applicable law or the specific terms of the Letter of Credit following its receipt thereof, examine all documents purporting to represent a demand for payment under a Letter of Credit. Each Issuing Bank shall promptly after such examination notify the Administrative Agent and the Borrower by telephone (confirmed by telecopy or electronic mail) of such demand for payment and whether such Issuing Bank has made or will make an LC Disbursement thereunder; provided that such notice need not be given prior to payment by such Issuing Bank and any failure to give or delay in giving such notice shall not relieve the Borrower of its obligation to reimburse such Issuing Bank and the Revolving Lenders with respect to any such LC Disbursement.

(h) Interim Interest. If any Issuing Bank shall make any LC Disbursement, then, unless the Borrower shall reimburse such LC Disbursement in full in the applicable currency on the date such LC Disbursement is made, the unpaid amount thereof shall bear interest, for each day from and including the date such LC Disbursement is made to but excluding the date that the reimbursement is due and payable, at the rate per annum then applicable to ABR Revolving Loans and such interest shall be due and payable on the date when such reimbursement is payable; provided that, if the Borrower fails to reimburse such LC Disbursement when due pursuant to paragraph (e) of this Section, then Section 2.13(d) shall apply. Interest accrued pursuant to this paragraph shall be for the account of such Issuing Bank, except that interest accrued on and after the date of payment by any Revolving Lender pursuant to paragraph (e) of this Section to reimburse such Issuing Bank for such LC Disbursement shall be for the account of such Lender to the extent of such payment.

(i) Replacement and Resignation of an Issuing Bank. (A) Any Issuing Bank may be replaced at any time by written agreement among the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the replaced Issuing Bank and the successor Issuing Bank. The Administrative Agent shall notify the Revolving Lenders of any such replacement of the Issuing Bank. At the time any such replacement shall become effective, the Borrower shall pay all unpaid fees accrued for the account of the replaced Issuing Bank pursuant to Section 2.12(b). From and after the effective date of any such replacement, (i) the successor Issuing Bank shall have all the rights and obligations of the Issuing Bank under this Agreement with respect to Letters of Credit to be issued thereafter and (ii) references herein to the term "Issuing Bank" shall be deemed to refer to such successor or to any previous Issuing Bank, or to such successor and all previous Issuing Banks, as the context shall require. After the replacement of an Issuing Bank hereunder, the replaced Issuing Bank shall remain a party hereto and shall continue to have all the rights and obligations of an Issuing Bank under this Agreement with respect to Letters of Credit then outstanding and issued by it prior to such replacement, but shall not be required to issue additional Letters of Credit or extend or otherwise amend any existing Letter of Credit.

(B) Subject to the appointment and acceptance of a successor Issuing Bank, any Issuing Bank may resign as an Issuing Bank at any time upon thirty days' prior written notice to the Administrative Agent, the Borrower and the Revolving Lenders, in which case, such Issuing Bank shall be replaced in accordance with Section 2.06(i)(A) above.

(j) Cash Collateralization. If any Event of Default shall occur and be continuing, on the Business Day that the Borrower receives notice from the Administrative Agent or the Required Lenders (or, if the maturity of the Loans has been accelerated, Revolving Lenders with LC Exposure representing greater than 50% of the total LC Exposure) demanding the deposit of cash collateral pursuant to this paragraph, the Borrower shall deposit in an account or accounts with the Administrative Agent, in the name of the Administrative Agent and for the benefit of the Revolving Lenders (the "Collateral Account"), an amount in cash equal to 105% of the LC Exposure in the applicable currencies as of such date plus any accrued and unpaid interest thereon; provided that the obligation to deposit such cash collateral shall become effective immediately, and such deposit shall become immediately due and payable, without demand or other notice of any kind, upon the occurrence of any Event of Default with respect to the Borrower described in Section 7.01(h) or 7.01(i). The Borrower also shall deposit cash collateral pursuant to this paragraph as and to the extent required by Section 2.11. Such deposit shall be held by the Administrative Agent as collateral for the payment and performance of the obligations of the Borrower under this Agreement. In addition, and without limiting the foregoing or Section 2.06(c), if any LC Exposure remains outstanding after the expiration date specified in Section 2.06(c), the Borrower shall immediately deposit into the Collateral Account an amount in cash equal to 105% of such LC Exposure as of such date plus any accrued and unpaid interest thereon. The Administrative Agent shall have exclusive dominion and control, including the exclusive right of withdrawal, over such account and the Borrower hereby grants the Administrative Agent a security interest in the Collateral Account. Other than any interest earned on the investment of such deposits, which investments shall be made at the option and sole discretion of the Administrative Agent and at the Borrower's risk and expense, such deposits shall not bear interest. Interest or profits, if any, on such investments shall accumulate in such account. Moneys in such account shall be applied by the Administrative Agent to reimburse the relevant Issuing Bank for LC Disbursements for which it has not been reimbursed, together with related fees, costs and customary processing charges, and, to the extent not so applied, shall be held for the satisfaction of the reimbursement obligations of the Borrower for the LC Exposure at such time or, if the maturity of the Loans has been accelerated (but subject to the consent of Revolving Lenders with LC Exposure representing greater than 50% of the total LC Exposure), be applied to satisfy other Secured Obligations. If the Borrower is required to provide an amount of cash collateral hereunder as a result of the occurrence of an Event of Default, such amount (to the extent not applied as aforesaid) shall be returned to the Borrower within three (3) Business Days after all Events of Default have been cured or waived. If the Borrower is required to provide an amount of cash collateral hereunder pursuant to Section 2.11(a), such amount (to the extent not applied as aforesaid) shall be returned to the Borrower as and to the extent that, immediately after giving effect to such return, the Total Revolving Credit Exposure would not exceed the aggregate Revolving Commitments, and no Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing.

(k) Letters of Credit Issued for Account of Subsidiaries. Notwithstanding that a Letter of Credit issued or outstanding hereunder supports any obligations of, or is for the account of, a Subsidiary, or states that a Subsidiary is the "account party," "applicant," "customer," "instructing party," or the like of or for such Letter of Credit, and without derogating from any rights of the relevant Issuing Bank (whether arising by contract, at law, in equity or otherwise) against such Subsidiary in respect of such Letter of Credit, the Borrower (i) shall reimburse, indemnify and compensate the relevant Issuing Bank hereunder for such Letter of Credit (including to reimburse any and all drawings thereunder) as if such Letter of Credit had been issued solely for the account of the Borrower and (ii) irrevocably waives any and all defenses that might otherwise be available to it as a guarantor or surety of any or all of the obligations of such Subsidiary in respect of such Letter of Credit. The Borrower hereby acknowledges that the issuance of such Letters of Credit for its Subsidiaries inures to the benefit of the Borrower, and that the Borrower's business derives substantial benefits from the businesses of such Subsidiaries.

(l) Issuing Bank Agreements. Each Issuing Bank agrees that, unless otherwise requested by the Administrative Agent, such Issuing Bank shall report in writing to the Administrative Agent (i) on or prior to each Business Day on which such Issuing Bank expects to issue, amend or extend any Letter of Credit, the date of such issuance, amendment or extension, and the aggregate face amount and currency of the Letters of Credit to be issued, amended or extended by it and outstanding after giving effect to such issuance, amendment or extension occurred (and whether the amount thereof changed), (ii) on each Business Day on which such Issuing Bank pays any amount in respect of one or more drawings under Letters of Credit, the date of such payment(s) and the amount of such payment(s), (iii) on any Business Day on which the Borrower fails to reimburse any amount required to be reimbursed to such Issuing Bank on such day, the date of such failure and the amount and currency of such payment in respect of Letters of Credit and (iv) on any other Business Day, such other information as the Administrative Agent shall reasonably request.

SECTION 2.07. Funding of Borrowings. (a) Each Lender shall make each Loan to be made by it hereunder on the proposed date thereof solely by wire transfer of immediately available funds by 12:00 noon, New York City time (or in the case of an ABR Borrowing, prior to 1:00 p.m., New York City time), to the account of the Administrative Agent most recently designated by it for such purpose by notice to the Lenders; provided that (i) Term Loans shall be made as provided in Section 2.01(c) or Section 2.01(d), as applicable and (ii) Swingline Loans shall be made as provided in Section 2.05. Except in respect of the provisions of this Agreement covering the reimbursement of Letters of Credit, the Administrative Agent will make such Loans available to the Borrower by promptly crediting the funds so received in the aforesaid account of the Administrative Agent to an account of the Borrower maintained with the Administrative Agent in New York City and designated by the Borrower in the applicable Borrowing Request; provided that ABR Revolving Loans made to finance the reimbursement of an LC Disbursement as provided in Section 2.06(e) shall be remitted by the Administrative Agent to the relevant Issuing Bank.

(b) Unless the Administrative Agent shall have received notice from a Lender prior to the proposed date of any Borrowing (or in the case of an ABR Borrowing, prior to 12:00 noon, New York City time, on the date of such Borrowing) that such Lender will not make available to the Administrative Agent such Lender's share of such Borrowing, the Administrative Agent may assume that such Lender has made such share available on such date in accordance with paragraph (a) of this Section and may, in reliance upon such assumption, make available to the Borrower a corresponding amount. In such event, if a Lender has not in fact made its share of the applicable Borrowing available to the Administrative Agent, then the applicable Lender and the Borrower severally agree to pay to the Administrative Agent forthwith on demand such corresponding amount with interest thereon, for each day from and including the date such amount is made available to the Borrower to but excluding the date of payment to the Administrative Agent, at (i) in the case of such Lender, the greater of the applicable Overnight Rate and a rate determined by the Administrative Agent in accordance with banking industry rules on interbank compensation or (ii) in the case of the Borrower, the interest rate applicable to ABR Loans or in the case of Alternative Currencies, in accordance with such market practice, in each case, as applicable. If such Lender pays such amount to the Administrative Agent, then such amount shall constitute such Lender's Loan included in such Borrowing.

SECTION 2.08. Interest Elections. (a) Each Borrowing initially shall be of the Type and Agreed Currency specified in the applicable Borrowing Request and, in the case of a Term Benchmark Borrowing, shall have an initial Interest Period as specified in such Borrowing Request. Thereafter, the Borrower may elect to convert such Borrowing to a different Type or to continue such Borrowing and, in the case of a Term Benchmark Borrowing, may elect Interest Periods therefor, all as provided in this Section. The Borrower may elect different options with respect to different portions of the affected Borrowing, in which case each such portion shall be allocated ratably among the Lenders holding the Loans comprising such Borrowing, and the Loans comprising each such portion shall be considered a separate Borrowing. This Section shall not apply to Swingline Borrowings, which may not be converted or continued.

(b) To make an election pursuant to this Section, the Borrower shall notify the Administrative Agent of such election by the time that a Borrowing Request would be required under Section 2.03 if the Borrower were requesting a Borrowing of the Type resulting from such election to be made on the effective date of such election. Each such Interest Election Request shall be irrevocable and shall be signed by a Responsible Officer of the Borrower; provided that, if such Interest Election Request is submitted through an Approved Borrower Portal, the foregoing signature requirement may be waived at the sole discretion of the Administrative Agent.

(c) Each Interest Election Request shall specify the following information in compliance with Section 2.02:

(i) the Agreed Currency and the principal amount of the Borrowing to which such Interest Election Request applies and, if different options are being elected with respect to different portions thereof, the portions thereof to be allocated to each resulting Borrowing (in which case the information to be specified pursuant to clauses (iii) and (iv) below shall be specified for each resulting Borrowing);

(ii) the effective date of the election made pursuant to such Interest Election Request, which shall be a Business Day;

(iii) whether the resulting Borrowing is to be an ABR Borrowing (in the case of Borrowings denominated in Dollars) or a Term Benchmark Borrowing or an RFR Borrowing; and

(iv) if the resulting Borrowing is a Term Benchmark Borrowing, the Interest Period to be applicable thereto after giving effect to such election, which shall be a period contemplated by the definition of the term "Interest Period".

If any such Interest Election Request requests a Term Benchmark Borrowing but does not specify an Interest Period, then the Borrower shall be deemed to have selected an Interest Period of one month's duration.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in no event shall the Borrower be permitted to request pursuant to this Section 2.08(c), a CBR Loan or, prior to a Benchmark Transition Event and Benchmark Replacement Date with respect to the Term SOFR Rate, an RFR Loan bearing interest based on Daily Simple SOFR (it being understood and agreed that a Central Bank Rate and Daily Simple SOFR shall only apply to the extent provided in Section 2.08(e) (solely with respect to the Central Bank Rate), 2.14(a) and 2.14(f)), as applicable.

(d) Promptly following receipt of an Interest Election Request, the Administrative Agent shall advise each Lender of the details thereof and of such Lender's portion of each resulting Borrowing.

(e) If the Borrower fails to deliver a timely Interest Election Request with respect to a Term Benchmark Borrowing in Dollars prior to the end of the Interest Period applicable thereto, then, unless such Borrowing is repaid as provided herein, at the end of such Interest Period such Borrowing shall be deemed to have an Interest Period that is the same as the immediately preceding Interest Period. If the Borrower fails to deliver a timely and complete Interest Election Request with respect to a Term Benchmark Borrowing in an Alternative Currency prior to the end of the Interest Period therefor, then, unless such Term Benchmark Borrowing is repaid as provided herein, the Borrower shall be deemed to have selected that such Term Benchmark Borrowing shall automatically be continued as a Term Benchmark Borrowing in its original Agreed Currency with an Interest Period of one month at the end of such Interest Period. Notwithstanding any contrary provision hereof, if an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing and the Administrative Agent, at the request of the Required Lenders, so notifies the Borrower, then, so long as an Event of Default is continuing (i) no outstanding Borrowing may be converted to or continued as a Term Benchmark Borrowing or an RFR Borrowing and (ii) unless repaid, (x) (A) each Term Benchmark Borrowing denominated in Dollars shall be converted to an ABR Borrowing at the end of the Interest Period applicable thereto and (B) each RFR Borrowing denominated in Dollars shall be converted to an ABR Borrowing immediately and (y) each Term Benchmark Borrowing and each RFR Borrowing, in each case denominated in an Alternative Currency shall bear interest at the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Agreed Currency plus the CBR Spread; provided that, if the Administrative Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive and binding absent manifest error) that the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Agreed Currency cannot be determined, any outstanding affected Term Benchmark Loans denominated in any Agreed Currency other than Dollars shall either be (A) converted to an ABR Borrowing denominated in Dollars (in an amount equal to the Dollar Equivalent of such Alternative Currency) at the end of the Interest Period, as applicable, therefor or (B) prepaid at the end of the applicable Interest Period, as applicable, in full; provided that if no election is made by the Borrower by the earlier of (x) the date that is three Business Days after receipt by the Borrower of such notice and (y) the last day of the current Interest Period for the applicable Term Benchmark Loan, the Borrower shall be deemed to have elected clause (A) above.

SECTION 2.09. Termination and Reduction of Commitments. (a) Unless previously terminated (i) the Initial Term Loan Commitments ~~shall terminate~~terminated upon the making of the Term Loans on the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date, (ii) the 2027 Revolving Commitments shall terminate on the 2027 Maturity Date, (iii) the 2028 Revolving Commitments shall terminate on the 2028 Maturity Date ~~and~~, (iv) the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Commitments shall terminate upon the making of the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans on the Amendment No. 5 Effective Date and (v) all other Commitments shall terminate on the applicable Maturity Date.

(b) The Borrower may at any time terminate, or from time to time reduce, the Revolving Commitments of any Class; provided that (i) each reduction of the Revolving Commitments of any Class shall be in an amount that is an integral multiple of $500,000 and not less than $1,000,000 and (ii) the Borrower shall not terminate or reduce the Revolving Commitments of any Class if, after giving effect to any concurrent prepayment of the Loans in accordance with Section 2.11, (A) the Dollar Equivalent of any Lender's Revolving Credit Exposure would exceed its Revolving Commitment, (B) the Dollar Equivalent of any 2027 Revolving Lender's 2027 Revolving Credit Exposure would exceed its 2027 Revolving Commitment, (C) the Dollar Equivalent of any 2028 Revolving Lender's 2028 Revolving Credit Exposure would exceed its 2028 Revolving Commitment or (D) the Dollar Equivalent of the Total Revolving Credit Exposure would exceed the aggregate Revolving Commitments.

(c) The Borrower shall notify the Administrative Agent of any election to terminate or reduce the Commitments of any Class under paragraph (b) of this Section at least three (3) Business Days prior to the effective date of such termination or reduction, specifying such election and the effective date thereof. Promptly following receipt of any notice, the Administrative Agent shall advise the Lenders of the applicable Class of the contents thereof. Each notice delivered by the Borrower pursuant to this Section shall be irrevocable; provided that a notice of termination of the Commitments of any Class delivered by the Borrower may state that such notice is conditioned upon the effectiveness of other credit facilities or other transactions specified therein, in which case such notice may be revoked by the Borrower (by notice to the Administrative Agent on or prior to the specified effective date) if such condition is not satisfied. Any termination or reduction of the Commitments of any Class shall be permanent. Each reduction of the Commitments of any Class shall be made ratably among the applicable Lenders in accordance with their respective Commitments of the applicable Class.

SECTION 2.10. Repayment and Amortization of Loans; Evidence of Debt.

(a) Repayment of Loans. The Borrower hereby unconditionally promises to pay (A) to the Administrative Agent for the account of each 2027 Revolving Lender the then unpaid principal amount of each 2027 Revolving Loan and Revolver PIK 2027 Loan on the 2027 Maturity Date in the currency of such Loan, (B) to the Administrative Agent for the account of each 2028 Revolving Lender the then unpaid principal amount of each 2028 Revolving Loan and Revolver PIK 2028 Loan on the 2028 Maturity Date in the currency of such Loan and (C) to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Swingline Lender the then unpaid principal amount of each Swingline Loan on the earlier of the 2027 Maturity Date (or, following the 2027 Maturity Date, the 2028 Maturity Date) and the fifth (5th) Business Day after such Swingline Loan is made; provided that on each date that a Revolving Borrowing is made, the Borrower shall repay all Swingline Loans then outstanding and the proceeds of any such Borrowing shall be applied by the Administrative Agent to repay any Swingline Loans outstanding. The Borrower shall repay Initial Term Loans on the last day of each March, June, September and December (commencing with September 30, 2024) in an aggregate principal amount equal to 0.25% of the aggregate principal amount of all Term Loans outstanding on the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date (which payments shall be adjusted from time to time pursuant to Section 2.11(a) and Section 2.11(e)). To the extent not previously repaid, all unpaid Initial Term Loans shall be paid in full in Dollars by the Borrower on the Maturity Date. To the extent not previously repaid, all unpaid Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans shall be paid in full in Dollars by the Borrower on the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loan Maturity Date.

(b) Each Lender shall maintain in accordance with its usual practice an account or accounts evidencing the indebtedness of the Borrower to such Lender resulting from each Loan made by such Lender, including the amounts of principal and interest payable and paid to such Lender from time to time hereunder.

(c) The Administrative Agent shall maintain accounts in which it shall record (i) the amount of each Loan made hereunder, the Class, Agreed Currency and Type thereof and the Interest Period applicable thereto, (ii) the amount of any principal or interest due and payable or to become due and payable from the Borrower to each Lender hereunder and (iii) the amount of any sum received by the Administrative Agent hereunder for the account of the Lenders and each Lender's share thereof.

(d) The entries made in the accounts maintained pursuant to paragraph (b) or (c) of this Section shall be prima facie evidence of the existence and amounts of the obligations recorded therein; provided that the failure of any Lender or the Administrative Agent to maintain such accounts or any error therein shall not in any manner affect the Obligations (including, without limitation, the obligation of the Borrower to repay the Loans in accordance with the terms of this Agreement).

(e) Any Lender may request that Loans made by it be evidenced by a promissory note. In such event, the Borrower shall prepare, execute and deliver to such Lender a promissory note payable to such Lender (or, if requested by such Lender, to such Lender and its registered assigns) and in a form approved by the Administrative Agent. Thereafter, the Loans evidenced by such promissory note and interest thereon shall at all times (including after assignment pursuant to Section 9.04) be represented by one or more promissory notes in such form.

(f) The Subsidiary Guarantors are co-obligors for all purposes under this Agreement and fully liable for all Obligations under this Agreement.

SECTION 2.11. Prepayment of Loans.

(a) The Borrower shall have the right at any time and from time to time to prepay any Borrowing in whole or in part, subject to prior notice in accordance with the provisions of this Section 2.11(a). The Borrower shall notify the Administrative Agent (and, in the case of prepayment of a Swingline Loan, the Swingline Lender) by written notice of any prepayment hereunder (i) (x) in the case of prepayment of (A) a Term Benchmark Borrowing denominated in Dollars, not later than ~~9:00 a.m~~11:00 a.m., New York City time, ~~two~~three (~~2~~3) Business Days before the date of prepayment, (B) an RFR Borrowing denominated in Dollars, not later than ~~9:00 a.m~~11:00 a.m., New York City time, ~~two~~five (~~2~~5) RFR Business Days before the date of prepayment and (C) a Term Benchmark Borrowing denominated in ~~euro~~euros, not later than ~~9:00 a.m~~12:00 p.m., New York City time, ~~two~~three (~~2~~3) Business Days before the date of prepayment, (y) in the case of prepayment of an RFR Borrowing denominated in Pounds Sterling, not later than ~~9:00 a.m~~11:00 a.m., New York City time, ~~two~~five (~~2~~5) RFR Business Days before the date of prepayment, (ii) in the case of prepayment of an ABR Borrowing, not later than 12:00 p.m., New York City time, on the date of prepayment or (iii) in the case of prepayment of a Swingline Loan, not later than 12:00 noon, New York City time, on the date of prepayment. Each such notice shall be irrevocable and shall specify the prepayment date and the principal amount of each Borrowing or portion thereof to be prepaid; provided that, (1) if a notice of prepayment is given in connection with a conditional notice of termination of the Commitments as contemplated by Section 2.09, then such notice of prepayment may be revoked if such notice of termination is revoked in accordance with Section 2.09, and (2) a notice of prepayment delivered by the Borrower may state that such notice is conditioned upon the effectiveness of other credit facilities or other transactions specified therein, in which case such notice may be revoked by the Borrower (by notice to the Administrative Agent on or prior to the specified effective date) if such condition is not satisfied. Promptly following receipt of any such notice relating to a Borrowing, the Administrative Agent shall advise the Lenders of the contents thereof. Each partial prepayment of any Borrowing shall be in an amount that would be permitted in the case of an advance of a Revolving Borrowing of the same Type as provided in Section 2.02. Each prepayment of a Revolving Borrowing shall be applied ratably to the Revolving Loans and the Revolver PIK Loans included in the prepaid Borrowing, each voluntary prepayment of a Term Loan Borrowing shall be applied ratably to the Term Loans included in the prepaid Term Loan Borrowing in such order of application as directed by the Borrower (and in the absence of such direction, in direct order of maturity), and each mandatory prepayment of a Term Loan Borrowing shall be applied in accordance with Section 2.11(e) or Section 2.11(h), as applicable; provided however, following the Amendment No. 5 Effective Date, any optional repayment by the Borrower shall be applied in the following order: first, to the repayment of the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans until the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans are paid in full; second, to repay any outstanding Revolving Loans (without, for the avoidance of doubt, any permanent reduction of Revolving Commitments) and Revolver PIK Loans on a pro rata basis in an amount not to exceed $50,000,000; and finally, pro rata between the outstanding Initial Term Loans (in the inverse order of maturity), any outstanding Revolving Loans (with a permanent reduction for Revolving Commitments on a dollar for dollar basis with any repayment of Revolving Loans) and any outstanding Revolver PIK Loans. Prepayments shall be accompanied by (i) accrued interest to the extent required by Section 2.13 and (ii) break funding payments pursuant to Section 2.16 (if any).

(b) If at any time, (i) other than as a result of fluctuations in currency exchange rates, (A) the aggregate principal Dollar Equivalent of the Total Revolving Credit Exposure (calculated, with respect to those Credit Events denominated in Alternative Currencies, as of the most recent Revaluation Date with respect to each such Credit Event) exceeds the aggregate Revolving Commitments or (B) the aggregate principal Dollar Equivalent of the Total Revolving Credit Exposure denominated in Alternative Currencies (the "Alternative Currency Exposure") (so calculated), as of the most recent Revaluation Date with respect to each such Credit Event, exceeds the Alternative Currency Sublimit or (ii) solely as a result of fluctuations in currency exchange rates, (A) the aggregate principal Dollar Equivalent of the Total Revolving Credit Exposure (so calculated as of the most recent Revaluation Date with respect to each such Credit Event) exceeds 105% of the aggregate Revolving Commitments or (B) the Alternative Currency Exposure, as of the most recent Revaluation Date with respect to each such Credit Event, exceeds 105% of the Alternative Currency Sublimit, the Borrower shall in each case immediately repay Borrowings or cash collateralize LC Exposure in an account with the Administrative Agent pursuant to Section 2.06(j), as applicable, in an aggregate principal amount sufficient to cause (x) the aggregate Dollar Equivalent of the Total Revolving Credit Exposure (so calculated) to be less than or equal to the aggregate Revolving Commitments and (y) the Alternative Currency Exposure to be less than or equal to the Alternative Currency Sublimit, as applicable.

(c) In the event and on each occasion that any Net Proceeds are received by or on behalf of the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries in respect of (i) any Matrix Disposition, the Borrower shall, within five (5) Business Days after such Net Proceeds are received, prepay the Obligations as set forth in Section 2.11(e) below in an aggregate amount equal to 100% of such Net Proceeds; provided that, if the Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent a certificate of a Financial Officer to the effect that the Total Net Leverage Ratio is less than 3.00 to 1.00 (and reasonably detailed calculations with respect thereto are provided in such certificate) as of the last day of the most recently ended Test Period, then up to 25% of such Net Proceeds may be used instead to prepay other Indebtedness then outstanding (each such prepayment, a "Permitted Matrix Disposition Prepayment") or for the general corporate purposes of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries or (ii) any Prepayment Event in an amount in excess of ~~$50,000,000, individually, or $100,000,000~~5,000,000 in the aggregate for all such Prepayment Events, the Borrower shall, within five (5) Business Days after such Net Proceeds are received, prepay the Obligations as set forth in Section 2.11(e) below in an aggregate amount equal to 100% of the amount of such Net Proceeds in excess of such ~~thresholds~~threshold (each such amount, a "Sweep Amount");~~ provided that, in the case of any event described in clause (a) or (b) of the definition of the term "Prepayment Event", if the Borrower shall deliver to the Administrative Agent a certificate of a Financial Officer to the effect that the Borrower or its relevant Subsidiaries intend to apply such Sweep Amount (or a portion thereof specified in such certificate) within 365 days after receipt of such Sweep Amount, to acquire (or replace or rebuild) real property, equipment or other assets of a general type to be used in the business of the Borrower and/or its Subsidiaries, then no prepayment shall be required pursuant to this clause (ii) in respect of up to 50% of such Sweep Amount (or a portion thereof specified in such certificate) (or up to 100% of such Sweep Amount (or a portion thereof specified in such certificate) (x) in the case of any event described in clause (a) of the definition of the term "Prepayment Event" so long as the Total Net Leverage Ratio is less than 4.00 to 1.00 (and reasonably detailed calculations with respect thereto are provided in such certificate) as of the last day of the most recently ended Test Period or (y) in the case of any event described in clause (b) of the definition of the term "Prepayment Event"); provided further that to the extent of any such Sweep Amount therefrom that has not been so applied by the end of such 365-day period (or committed to be applied by the end of the 365-day period and applied within 180 days after the end of such 365-day period), then a prepayment shall be required at such time in an amount equal to such Sweep Amount that has not been so applied.~~.~~

(d) The Borrower shall prepay the Obligations on the date that is five (5) Business Days after the earlier of (i) the date on which the Borrower's annual audited financial statements for the immediately preceding fiscal year (commencing with the fiscal year ending December 31, 2025) are delivered pursuant to Section 5.01 or (ii) the date on which such annual audited financial statements were required to be delivered pursuant to Section 5.01, in an amount equal to (A) the ECF Percentage of the Borrower's Excess Cash Flow for such immediately preceding fiscal year, less (B) at the Borrower's option, any optional prepayment of Indebtedness under the Loan Documents in accordance with Section 2.11(a) during such preceding fiscal year or (without duplication) after the end of such preceding fiscal year and prior to the such Excess Cash Flow prepayment date (excluding (i) any such optional prepayments made during such preceding fiscal year that reduced the amount required to be prepaid pursuant to this Section 2.11(d) in the prior fiscal year and (ii) any such optional prepayments of revolving Indebtedness except to the extent any related commitment is permanently reduced in connection with such repayment); provided, that no prepayment under this Section 2.11(d) shall be required unless the amount thereof would exceed $3,000,000 (and in which case only the amount in excess of $3,000,000 shall be required to be prepaid). As used herein, "ECF Percentage" means (w) seventy-five percent (75%) if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 4.40 to 1.00, (x) fifty percent (50%) if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.90 to 1.00 but less than or equal to 4.40 to 1.00, (y) twenty-five percent (25%) if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was greater than 3.40 to 1.00 but less than or equal to 3.90 to 1.00, and (z) zero percent (0%) if the Total Net Leverage Ratio as of the last day of such period was less than or equal to 3.40 to 1.00. Each Excess Cash Flow prepayment shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by a Financial Officer certifying in reasonable detail the manner in which Excess Cash Flow and the resulting prepayment were calculated.

(e) All such amounts pursuant to Sections 2.11(c) and (d) shall be applied to installments of the Term Loans as directed by the Borrower (and in the absence of such direction, in direct order of maturity); provided however, following the Amendment No. 5 Effective Date, the Borrower shall direct the application of all such prepayments of Term Loans to the installment of Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans due on the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loan Maturity Date until such Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans are paid in full. Except as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement or provided in, or intended with respect to, any Incremental Amendment (provided, that such Incremental Amendment may not, without the consent of the requisite Lenders in accordance with Section 9.02, provide that the applicable Class of Term Loans receive a greater than pro rata portion of mandatory prepayments of Term Loans pursuant to Section 2.11(c) or (d) than would otherwise be permitted by this Agreement), in each case effectuated or issued in a manner consistent with this Agreement, each prepayment of Term Loans pursuant to Section 2.11(c) or (d) shall be allocated ratably to the Term Loans and Incremental Term Loans (if any) then outstanding.

(f) With respect to any prepayment of Term Loans pursuant to Section 2.11(c) or (d), unless otherwise specified in the applicable Incremental Amendment, any Term Lender, at its option, may elect not to accept such prepayment. The Borrower shall notify the Administrative Agent of any event giving rise to a prepayment under Section 2.11(c) or (d) at least three (3) Business Days prior to the date of such prepayment. Each such notice shall specify the date of such prepayment and provide a reasonably detailed calculation of the amount of such prepayment that is required to be made under this Section 2.11(c) or (d). Any Lender may decline to accept all (but not less than all) of its share of any such prepayment (the "Retained Declined Proceeds") by providing written notice to the Administrative Agent no later than two (2) Business Days after the date of such Lender's receipt of notice from the Administrative Agent regarding such prepayment. If the Lender does not give a notice to the Administrative Agent on or prior to such second Business Day informing the Administrative Agent that it declines to accept the applicable prepayment, then such Lender will be deemed to have accepted such prepayment. Such Lender's Retained Declined Proceeds may be retained by the Borrower and thereafter shall not be subject to any prepayment obligation under Section 2.11(c) or (d).

(g) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Section 2.11(c) or (d), to the extent any or all of the Net Proceeds of any Prepayment Event by any Foreign Subsidiary of the Borrower, the Net Proceeds of such Prepayment Event received by such Subsidiary or Excess Cash Flow attributable to such Subsidiary, are prohibited or delayed by any applicable local law (including financial assistance, corporate benefit restrictions on upstreaming of cash intra group and the fiduciary and statutory duties of the directors of such Subsidiary) from being repatriated or passed on to or used for the benefit of the Borrower or any applicable Domestic Subsidiary of the Borrower or if the Borrower has determined in good faith that repatriation of any such amount to the Borrower or any such applicable Domestic Subsidiary would have material adverse tax consequences (including a material acceleration of the point in time when such earnings would otherwise be taxed) with respect to such amount, the portion of such Net Proceeds or Excess Cash Flow so affected will not be required to be applied to prepay the Term Loans at the times provided in Section 2.11(c) or (d) but may be retained by the applicable Subsidiary so long, but only so long, as the applicable local law will not permit repatriation or the passing on to or otherwise using for the benefit of the Borrower or the applicable Domestic Subsidiary, or the Borrower believes in good faith that such material adverse tax consequence would result, and once such repatriation of any of such affected Net Proceeds or Excess Cash Flow is permitted under the applicable local law or the Borrower determines in good faith such repatriation would no longer have such material adverse tax consequences, such repatriation will be promptly effected and such repatriated Net Proceeds or Excess Cash Flow will be promptly (and in any event not later than five (5) Business Days after such repatriation) applied (net of taxes payable or reasonably estimated to be payable as a result thereof) to the prepayment of the Term Loans pursuant to Section 2.11(c) or (d) (provided that no such prepayment of the Term Loans pursuant to Section 2.11(c) or (d) shall be required in the case of any such Net Proceeds or Excess Cash Flow the repatriation of which the Borrower believes in good faith would result in material adverse tax consequences, if on or before the date on which such Net Proceeds so retained would otherwise have been required to be applied to reinvestments or prepayments (or such Excess Cash Flow would have been so required if it were Net Proceeds), the Borrower applies an amount equal to the amount of such Net Proceeds or Excess Cash Flow to such reinvestments or prepayments as if such Net Proceeds or Excess Cash Flow had been received by the Borrower rather than such Subsidiary, less the amount of additional taxes that would have been payable or reserved against if such Net Proceeds or Excess Cash Flow had been repatriated (or, if less, the Net Proceeds or Excess Cash Flow that would be calculated if received by such Subsidiary)).

(h) In the event and on each occasion that any Net Proceeds are received by or on behalf of the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries in respect of any sale (in whole or in part) of the Personal Care Business or Remote Monitoring Business, the Borrower shall, within five (5) Business Days after such Net Proceeds are received, prepay the Obligations in an aggregate amount equal to 100% of such Net Proceeds as follows: first, to the repayment of the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans until the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans are paid in full; second, to repay any outstanding Revolving Loans (without, for the avoidance of doubt, any permanent reduction of Revolving Commitments) and Revolver PIK Loans on a pro rata basis in an amount not to exceed $50,000,000; and finally, pro rata between the outstanding Initial Term Loans (in the reverse order of maturity), any outstanding Revolving Loans (with a permanent reduction for Revolving Commitments on a dollar for dollar basis with any repayment of Revolving Loans) and any outstanding Revolver PIK Loans.

(i) ~~(h) All~~ (i) All (a) prepayments of Initial Term Loans pursuant to Section 2.11(a) or Section 2.11(c) effected on or prior to the six-month anniversary of the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date with the proceeds of a Repricing Transaction and (~~ii~~b) amendments, amendments and restatements or other modifications of this Agreement on or prior to the six-month anniversary of the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date constituting Repricing Transactions in respect of any Initial Term Loans shall, in each case, be accompanied by a fee payable to the ~~appliable~~applicable Term Lenders in an amount equal to 1.00% of the aggregate principal amount of the Initial Term Loans so prepaid, in the case of a transaction described in clause (i) of this paragraph, or 1.00% of the aggregate principal amount of the Initial Term Loans affected by such amendment, amendment and restatement or other modification (including any such Initial Term Loans assigned as part of such amendment, amendment and restatement or other modification in connection with the replacement of a Term Lender not consenting thereto), in the case of a transaction described in clause (~~ii~~b) of this paragraph. Such fee shall be paid by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent, for the account of the applicable Initial Term Lenders in respect of the applicable Initial Term Loans, on the date of such prepayment or amendment.

(ii) If any Make-Whole Event occurs, then the Borrower shall pay to the Administrative Agent, for the account of the Term Lenders holding Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans in accordance with their pro rata shares, the Make-Whole Amount. In any such case, the Make-Whole Amount shall constitute part of the Obligations payable by the Borrower (and guaranteed by the Guarantors) in respect of the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans and constitutes liquidated damages, not unmatured interest or a penalty, as the actual amount of damages to the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Lenders as a result of the relevant Make-Whole Event would be impracticable and extremely difficult to ascertain. The Make-Whole Amount is provided by mutual agreement of the Borrower and the Guarantors and the applicable Term Lenders as a reasonable estimation and calculation of such actual lost profits and other actual damages of such Term Lenders. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, it is understood and agreed that upon the occurrence of any Make-Whole Event, the Make-Whole Premium shall be automatically and immediately due and payable and shall constitute part of the Obligations payable by the Borrower (and guaranteed by the Guarantors) in respect of the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans, which Obligations are secured by the Collateral. The Make-Whole Amount shall also be automatically and immediately due and payable if the Amendment Not. 5 Incremental Term Loans are satisfied, released or discharged by foreclosure (whether by power of judicial proceeding or otherwise), deed in lieu of foreclosure or by any other means. THE BORROWER AND THE GUARANTORS HEREBY EXPRESSLY WAIVE (TO THE FULLEST EXTENT THEY MAY LAWFULLY DO SO) THE PROVISIONS OF ANY PRESENT OR FUTURE STATUTE OR OTHER LAW THAT PROHIBITS OR MAY PROHIBIT THE COLLECTION OF THE FOREGOING MAKE-WHOLE AMOUNT IN CONNECTION WITH ANY SUCH EVENTS, ANY RESCISSION OF SUCH ACCELERATION OR THE COMMENCEMENT OF ANY BANKRUPTCY OR INSOLVENCY EVENT. The Borrower and the Guarantors expressly agree (to the fullest extent it and they may lawfully do so) that with respect to the Make-Whole Amount payable under the terms of this Agreement: (i) the Make-Whole Amount is reasonable and is the product of an arm's length transaction between sophisticated business parties, ably represented by counsel; (ii) the Make-Whole Amount shall be payable notwithstanding the then-prevailing market rates at the time payment is made; (iii) there has been a course of conduct between the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Lenders and the Borrower and the Guarantors giving specific consideration in this transaction for such agreement to pay the Make-Whole Amount; and (iv) the Borrower and the Guarantors shall be estopped hereafter from claiming differently than as agreed to in this paragraph. The Borrower and the Guarantors expressly acknowledge that their agreement to pay the Make-Whole Amount as herein described is a material inducement to the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Lenders' agreement to enter into Amendment No. 5.

SECTION 2.12. Fees. (a) The Borrower agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent for the account of each applicable Lender in respect of such Lender's Revolving Commitment, a commitment fee (the "Commitment Fee"), which shall accrue at the Applicable Rate applicable to the Commitment Fee on the daily amount of the Available Revolving Commitment of such Lender during the period from and including the Effective Date to but excluding the date on which such Revolving Commitment terminates. Commitment Fees accrued through and including the last day of March, June, September and December of each year shall be payable in arrears on the fifteenth (15th) day following such last day and on the date on which the applicable Revolving Commitments terminate, commencing on the first such date to occur after the date hereof. All Commitment Fees shall be computed on the basis of a year of 360 days and shall be payable for the actual number of days elapsed (including the first day and the last day of each period but excluding the date on which the applicable Revolving Commitments terminate).

(b) The Borrower agrees to pay (i) to the Administrative Agent for the account of each Revolving Lender a participation fee with respect to its participations in each outstanding Letter of Credit, which shall accrue on the Dollar Equivalent of the daily maximum stated amount then available to be drawn under such Letter of Credit at the same Applicable Rate used to determine the interest rate applicable to Term Benchmark Revolving Loans, during the period from and including the Effective Date to but excluding the later of the date on which such Lender's Revolving Commitment terminates and the date on which such Lender ceases to have any LC Exposure and (ii) to each Issuing Bank for its own account a fronting fee with respect to each Letter of Credit issued by such Issuing Bank, which shall accrue at the rate of 0.125% per annum on the Dollar Equivalent of the daily maximum stated amount then available to be drawn under such Letter of Credit during the period from and including the Effective Date to but excluding the later of the date of termination of the Revolving Commitments and the date on which there ceases to be any LC Exposure with respect to Letters of Credit issued by such Issuing Bank, as well as such Issuing Bank's standard fees with respect to the issuance, amendment or extension of any Letter of Credit and other processing fees, and other standard costs and charges, of such Issuing bank relating the Letters of Credit as from time to time in effect. Participation fees and fronting fees accrued through and including the last day of March, June, September and December of each year shall be payable on the fifteenth (15th) day following such last day, commencing on the first such date to occur after the Effective Date; provided that all such fees owing to 2027 Revolving Lenders or 2028 Revolving Lenders, as applicable, shall be payable on the date on which the 2027 Revolving Commitments or the 2028 Revolving Commitments, as applicable, terminate and any such fees accruing after the date on which the applicable Revolving Commitments terminate shall be payable on demand. Any other fees payable to an Issuing Bank pursuant to this paragraph shall be payable within ten (10) days after demand. All participation fees and fronting fees shall be computed on the basis of a year of 360 days and shall be payable for the actual number of days elapsed (including the first day but excluding the last day).

(c) The Borrower agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent, for its own account, and to the Lenders, as applicable, the fees payable in the amounts and at the times separately agreed upon between the Borrower and either the Administrative Agent or the Lenders, as applicable, from time to time.

(d) All fees payable hereunder shall be paid on the dates due, in Dollars (except as otherwise expressly provided in this Section 2.12) and immediately available funds, to the Administrative Agent (or to the relevant Issuing Bank, in the case of fees payable to it) for distribution, in the case of Commitment Fees and participation fees, to the applicable Lenders. Fees paid shall not be refundable under any circumstances.

SECTION 2.13. Interest. (a) The Loans comprising each ABR Borrowing (including each Swingline Loan) shall bear interest at the Alternate Base Rate plus the Applicable Rate.

(b) The Revolving Loans and Revolver PIK Loans comprising each Term Benchmark Borrowing shall bear interest at the applicable Relevant Adjusted Rate for the Interest Period in effect for such Borrowing plus the Applicable Rate; ~~and~~ the Initial Term Loans comprising each Term Benchmark Borrowing shall bear interest at the Adjusted Term SOFR Rate for the Interest Period in effect for such Borrowing plus the Applicable Rate~~.~~ for Initial Term Loans; the Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans comprising each Term Benchmark Borrowing shall bear interest at the Adjusted Term SOFR Rate for the Interest Period in effect for such Borrowing plus the Applicable Rate for Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans.

(c) Each RFR Revolving Loan and RFR Revolver PIK Loan shall bear interest at a rate per annum equal to the applicable Adjusted Daily Simple RFR plus the Applicable Rate.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any ~~principal of or interest on any Loan or any fee or other amount payable by the Borrower hereunder is not paid when due, whether at stated maturity, upon acceleration or otherwise, such overdue amount shall bear interest, after as well as before judgment, at a rate per annum equal to~~Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, upon election (which such election may be retroactive to when the Event of Default first occurred) of the Administrative Agent (at the direction of the Required Lenders), or automatically upon any Specified Event of Default, the outstanding Obligations shall accrue interest at the rate of (i) in the case of ~~overdue~~ principal of any Loan, 2% plus the rate otherwise applicable to such Loan as provided in the preceding paragraphs of this Section or (ii) in the case of any other amount, 2% plus the rate applicable to ABR Loans as provided in paragraph (a) of this Section.

(e) Accrued interest on each Loan shall be payable in arrears on each Interest Payment Date for such Loan and, in the case of 2027 Revolving Loans ~~or~~, Revolver PIK 2027 Loans, 2028 Revolving Loans or Revolver PIK 2028 Loans, as applicable, upon termination of the 2027 Revolving Commitments or the 2028 Revolving Commitments, as applicable; provided that (i) interest accrued pursuant to paragraph (c) of this Section shall be payable on demand, (ii) in the event of any repayment or prepayment of any Loan (other than a prepayment of an ABR Loan prior to the end of the 2027 Availability Period or the 2028 Availability Period), accrued interest on the principal amount repaid or prepaid shall be payable on the date of such repayment or prepayment and (iii) in the event of any conversion of any Term Benchmark Loan prior to the end of the current Interest Period therefor, accrued interest on such Loan shall be payable on the effective date of such conversion.

(f) Interest computed by reference to the Term SOFR Rate, the EURIBOR Rate or the Daily Simple RFR with respect to Dollars hereunder shall be computed on the basis of a year of 360 days. Interest computed by reference to the Daily Simple RFR with respect to Pounds Sterling or the Alternate Base Rate at times when the Alternate Base Rate is based on the Prime Rate shall be computed on the basis of a year of 365 days (or 366 days in a leap year). In each case interest shall be payable for the actual number of days elapsed (including the first day but excluding the last day). All interest hereunder on any Loan shall be computed on a daily basis based upon the outstanding principal amount of such Loan as of the applicable date of determination. The applicable Alternate Base Rate, Relevant Rate, Adjusted Daily Simple RFR or Daily Simple RFR shall be determined by the Administrative Agent, and such determination shall be conclusive absent manifest error.

SECTION 2.14. Alternate Rate of Interest. (a) Subject to clauses (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of this Section 2.14, if:

(i) the Administrative Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive absent manifest error) (A) prior to the commencement of any Interest Period for a Term Benchmark Borrowing, that adequate and reasonable means do not exist for ascertaining any Relevant Rate or Relevant Adjusted Rate (including because the Relevant Screen Rate is not available or published on a current basis), for the applicable Agreed Currency and such Interest Period or (B) at any time, that adequate and reasonable means do not exist for ascertaining the applicable Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for the applicable Agreed Currency; or

(ii) the Administrative Agent is advised by the Required Lenders that (A) prior to the commencement of any Interest Period for a Term Benchmark Borrowing, the Relevant Rate or Relevant Adjusted Rate for the applicable Agreed Currency and such Interest Period will not adequately and fairly reflect the cost to such Lenders (or Lender) of making or maintaining their Loans (or its Loan) included in such Borrowing for the applicable Agreed Currency and such Interest Period or (B) at any time, the applicable Adjusted Daily Simple RFR, Daily Simple RFR or RFR for the applicable Agreed Currency will not adequately and fairly reflect the cost to such Lenders (or Lender) of making or maintaining their Loans (or its Loan) included in such Borrowing for the applicable Agreed Currency;

then the Administrative Agent shall give notice thereof to the Borrower and the Lenders by telephone, telecopy or electronic mail as promptly as practicable thereafter and, until (x) the Administrative Agent notifies the Borrower and the Lenders that the circumstances giving rise to such notice no longer exist with respect to the relevant Benchmark and (y) the Borrower delivers a new Interest Election Request in accordance with the terms of Section 2.08 or a new Borrowing Request in accordance with the terms of Section 2.03, (A) for Loans denominated in Dollars, (1) any Interest Election Request that requests the conversion of any Borrowing to, or continuation of any Borrowing as, a Term Benchmark Borrowing and any Borrowing Request that requests a Term Benchmark Borrowing shall instead be deemed to be an Interest Election Request or a Borrowing Request, as applicable, for (x) an RFR Borrowing denominated in Dollars so long as the Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for Dollar Borrowings is not also the subject of Section 2.14(a)(i) or (ii) above or (y) an ABR Borrowing if the Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for Dollar Borrowings also is the subject of Section 2.14(a)(i) or (ii) above and (2) any Borrowing Request that requests an RFR Borrowing shall instead be deemed to be a Borrowing Request, as applicable, for an ABR Borrowing and (B) for Loans denominated in an Alternative Currency, any Interest Election Request that requests the conversion of any Borrowing to, or continuation of any Borrowing as, a Term Benchmark Borrowing and any Borrowing Request that requests a Term Benchmark Borrowing or an RFR Borrowing, in each case, for the relevant Benchmark, shall be ineffective; provided that if the circumstances giving rise to such notice affect only one Type of Borrowings, then all other Types of Borrowings shall be permitted. Furthermore, if any Term Benchmark Loan or RFR Loan in any Agreed Currency is outstanding on the date of the Borrower's receipt of the notice from the Administrative Agent referred to in this Section 2.14 with respect to a Relevant Rate applicable to such Term Benchmark Loan or RFR Loan, then until (x) the Administrative Agent notifies the Borrower and the Lenders that the circumstances giving rise to such notice no longer exist with respect to the relevant Benchmark and (y) the Borrower delivers a new Interest Election Request in accordance with the terms of Section 2.08 or a new Borrowing Request in accordance with the terms of Section 2.03, (A) for Loans denominated in Dollars, (1) any Term Benchmark Loan shall on the last day of the Interest Period applicable to such Loan, be converted by the Administrative Agent to, and shall constitute, (x) an RFR Borrowing denominated in Dollars so long as the Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for Dollar Borrowings is not also the subject of Section 2.14(a)(i) or (ii) above or (y) an ABR Loan if the Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for Dollar Borrowings also is the subject of Section 2.14(a)(i) or (ii) above, on such day, and (2) any RFR Loan shall on and from such day be converted by the Administrative Agent to, and shall constitute an ABR Loan and (C) for Loans denominated in an Alternative Currency, (1) any Term Benchmark Loan shall, on the last day of the Interest Period applicable to such Loan bear interest at the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Alternative Currency plus the CBR Spread; provided that, if the Administrative Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive and binding absent manifest error) that the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Alternative Currency cannot be determined, any outstanding affected Term Benchmark Loans denominated in any Alternative Currency shall, at the Borrower's election prior to such day: (A) be prepaid by the Borrower on such day or (B) solely for the purpose of calculating the interest rate applicable to such Term Benchmark Loan, such Term Benchmark Loan denominated in any Alternative Currency shall be deemed to be a Term Benchmark Loan denominated in Dollars and shall accrue interest at the same interest rate applicable to Term Benchmark Loans denominated in Dollars at such time and (2) any RFR Loan shall bear interest at the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Alternative Currency plus the CBR Spread; provided that, if the Administrative Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive and binding absent manifest error) that the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Alternative Currency cannot be determined, any outstanding affected RFR Loans denominated in any Alternative Currency, at the Borrower's election, shall either (A) be converted into ABR Loans denominated in Dollars (in an amount equal to the Dollar Equivalent of such Alternative Currency) immediately or (B) be prepaid in full immediately.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein or in any other Loan Document (and any Swap Agreement shall be deemed not to be a "Loan Document" for purposes of this Section 2.14), if a Benchmark Transition Event and its related Benchmark Replacement Date have occurred prior to the Reference Time in respect of any setting of the then-current Benchmark, then such Benchmark Replacement will replace such Benchmark for all purposes hereunder and under any Loan Document in respect of any Benchmark setting at or after 5:00 p.m. (New York City time) on the fifth (5th) Business

Day after the date notice of such Benchmark Replacement is provided to the Lenders without any amendment to, or further action or consent of any other party to, this Agreement or any other Loan Document so long as the Administrative Agent has not received, by such time, written notice of objection to such Benchmark Replacement from Lenders comprising the Required Lenders.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein or in any other Loan Document, the Administrative Agent will have the right to make Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes from time to time and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein or in any other Loan Document, any amendments implementing such Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes will become effective without any further action or consent of any other party to this Agreement or any other Loan Document.

(d) The Administrative Agent will promptly notify the Borrower and the Lenders of (i) any occurrence of a Benchmark Transition Event, (ii) the implementation of any Benchmark Replacement, (iii) the effectiveness of any Benchmark Replacement Conforming Changes, (iv) the removal or reinstatement of any tenor of a Benchmark pursuant to clause (f) below and (v) the commencement or conclusion of any Benchmark Unavailability Period. Any determination, decision or election that may be made by the Administrative Agent or, if applicable, any Lender (or group of Lenders) pursuant to this Section 2.14, including any determination with respect to a tenor, rate or adjustment or of the occurrence or non-occurrence of an event, circumstance or date and any decision to take or refrain from taking any action or any selection, will be conclusive and binding absent manifest error and may be made in its or their sole discretion and without consent from any other party to this Agreement or any other Loan Document, except, in each case, as expressly required pursuant to this Section 2.14.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein or in any other Loan Document, at any time (including in connection with the implementation of a Benchmark Replacement), (i) if the then-current Benchmark is a term rate (including the Term SOFR Rate or EURIBOR Rate) and either (A) any tenor for such Benchmark is not displayed on a screen or other information service that publishes such rate from time to time as selected by the Administrative Agent in its reasonable discretion or (B) the regulatory supervisor for the administrator of such Benchmark has provided a public statement or publication of information announcing that any tenor for such Benchmark is or will be no longer representative, then the Administrative Agent may modify the definition of "Interest Period" for any Benchmark settings at or after such time to remove such unavailable or non-representative tenor and (ii) if a tenor that was removed pursuant to clause (i) above either (A) is subsequently displayed on a screen or information service for a Benchmark (including a Benchmark Replacement) or (B) is not, or is no longer, subject to an announcement that it is or will no longer be representative for a Benchmark (including a Benchmark Replacement), then the Administrative Agent may modify the definition of "Interest Period" for all Benchmark settings at or after such time to reinstate such previously removed tenor.

(f) Upon the Borrower's receipt of notice of the commencement of a Benchmark Unavailability Period, the Borrower may revoke any request for (i) a Term Benchmark Borrowing, conversion to or continuation of Term Benchmark Loans to be made, converted or continued or (ii) an RFR Borrowing or conversion to RFR Loans, during any Benchmark Unavailability Period and, failing that, either (x) the Borrower will be deemed to have converted any request for (1) a Term Benchmark Borrowing or RFR Borrowing, as applicable, denominated in Dollars into a request for a Borrowing of or conversion to (A) solely with respect to any such request for a Term Benchmark Borrowing, an RFR Borrowing denominated in Dollars so long as the Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for Dollar Borrowings is not the subject of a Benchmark Transition Event or (B) an ABR Borrowing if the Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for Dollar Borrowings is the subject of a Benchmark Transition Event or (y) any request relating to a Term Benchmark Borrowing or RFR Borrowing denominated in an Alternative Currency shall be ineffective. During any Benchmark Unavailability Period or at any time that a tenor for the then-current Benchmark is not an Available Tenor, the component of ABR based upon the then-current Benchmark or such tenor for such Benchmark, as applicable, will not be used in any determination of ABR. Furthermore, if any Term Benchmark Loan or RFR Loan in any Agreed Currency is outstanding on the date of the Borrower's receipt of notice of the commencement of a Benchmark Unavailability Period with respect to a Relevant Rate applicable to such Term Benchmark Loan or RFR Loan, then until such time as a Benchmark Replacement for such Agreed Currency is implemented pursuant to this Section 2.14, (A) for Loans denominated in Dollars (1) any Term Benchmark Loan shall on the last day of the Interest Period applicable to such Loan be converted by the Administrative Agent to, and shall constitute, (x) an RFR Borrowing denominated in Dollars so long as the Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for Dollar Borrowings is not the subject of a Benchmark Transition Event or (y) an ABR Loan if the Adjusted Daily Simple RFR for Dollar Borrowings is the subject of a Benchmark Transition Event, on such day and (2) any RFR Loan shall on and from such day be converted by the Administrative Agent to, and shall constitute an ABR Loan and (C) for Loans denominated in an Alternative Currency, (1) any Term Benchmark Loan shall, on the last day of the Interest Period applicable to such Loan bear interest at the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Alternative Currency plus the CBR Spread; provided that, if the Administrative Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive and binding absent manifest error) that the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Alternative Currency cannot be determined, any outstanding affected Term Benchmark Loans denominated in any Alternative Currency shall, at the Borrower's election prior to such day: (A) be prepaid by the Borrower on such day or (B) solely for the purpose of calculating the interest rate applicable to such Term Benchmark Loan, such Term Benchmark Loan denominated in any Alternative Currency shall be deemed to be a Term Benchmark Loan denominated in Dollars and shall accrue interest at the same interest rate applicable to Term Benchmark Loans denominated in Dollars at such time and (2) any RFR Loan shall bear interest at the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Alternative Currency plus the CBR Spread; provided that, if the Administrative Agent determines (which determination shall be conclusive and binding absent manifest error) that the Central Bank Rate for the applicable Alternative Currency cannot be determined, any outstanding affected RFR Loans denominated in any Alternative Currency, at the Borrower's election, shall either (A) be converted into ABR Loans denominated in Dollars (in an amount equal to the Dollar Equivalent of such Alternative Currency) immediately or (B) be prepaid in full immediately.

SECTION 2.15. Increased Costs. (a) If any Change in Law shall:

(i) impose, modify or deem applicable any reserve, special deposit, liquidity or similar requirement (including any compulsory loan requirement, insurance charge or other assessment) against assets of, deposits with or for the account of, or credit extended by, any Lender or Issuing Bank (except any such reserve requirement reflected in the Adjusted EURIBOR Rate);

(ii) impose on any Lender or any Issuing Bank or the applicable offshore interbank market for the applicable Agreed Currency any other condition, cost or expense (other than Taxes) affecting this Agreement or Loans made by such Lender or any Letter of Credit or participation therein; or

(iii) subject any Recipient to any Taxes (other than (A) Indemnified Taxes, (B) Taxes described in clauses (b) through (d) of the definition of Excluded Taxes and (C) Connection Income Taxes) on its loans, loan principal, letters of credit, commitments, or other obligations, or its deposits, reserves, other liabilities or capital attributable thereto;

and the result of any of the foregoing shall be to increase the cost to such Lender, Issuing Bank or such other Recipient of making, continuing, converting or maintaining any Loan (or of maintaining its obligation to make any such Loan) or to increase the cost to such Lender, such Issuing Bank or such other Recipient of participating in, issuing or maintaining any Letter of Credit or to reduce the amount of any sum received or receivable by such Lender, Issuing Bank or such other Recipient hereunder (whether of principal, interest or otherwise), then the Borrower will pay to such Lender, such Issuing Bank or such other Recipient, as the case may be, such additional amount or amounts as will compensate such Lender, such Issuing Bank or such other Recipient, as the case may be, for such additional costs incurred or reduction suffered as reasonably determined by the Administrative Agent, such Lender or such Issuing Bank (which determination shall be made in good faith (and not on an arbitrary or capricious basis) and generally consistent with similarly situated customers of the Administrative Agent, such Lender or such Issuing Bank, as applicable, under agreements having provisions similar to this Section 2.15, after consideration of such factors as the Administrative Agent, such Lender or such Issuing Bank, as applicable, then reasonably determines to be relevant).

(b) If any Lender or any Issuing Bank determines that any Change in Law affecting such Lender or Issuing Bank or any lending office of such Lender or such Lender's or Issuing Bank's holding company, if any, regarding capital or liquidity requirements has or would have the effect of reducing the rate of return on such Lender's or such Issuing Bank's capital or on the capital of such Lender's or such Issuing Bank's holding company, if any, as a consequence of this Agreement or the Loans made by, or participations in Letters of Credit or Swingline Loans held by, such Lender, or the Letters of Credit issued by such Issuing Bank, to a level below that which such Lender or such Issuing Bank or such Lender's or such Issuing Bank's holding company could have achieved but for such Change in Law (taking into consideration such Lender's or such Issuing Bank's policies and the policies of such Lender's or such Issuing Bank's holding company with respect to capital adequacy and liquidity), then from time to time the Borrower will pay to such Lender or such Issuing Bank, as the case may be, such additional amount or amounts as will compensate such Lender or such Issuing Bank or such Lender's or such Issuing Bank's holding company for any such reduction suffered as reasonably determined by the Administrative Agent, such Lender or such Issuing Bank (which determination shall be made in good faith (and not on an arbitrary or capricious basis) and generally consistent with similarly situated customers of the Administrative Agent, such Lender or such Issuing Bank, as applicable, under agreements having provisions similar to this Section 2.15, after consideration of such factors as the Administrative Agent, such Lender or such Issuing Bank, as applicable, then reasonably determines to be relevant).

(c) A certificate of a Lender or an Issuing Bank setting forth, in reasonable detail, the basis and calculation of the amount or amounts necessary to compensate such Lender or such Issuing Bank or its holding company, as the case may be, as specified in paragraph (a) or (b) of this Section shall be delivered to the Borrower and shall be conclusive absent manifest error. The Borrower shall pay such Lender or such Issuing Bank, as the case may be, the amount shown as due on any such certificate within thirty (30) days after receipt thereof.

(d) Failure or delay on the part of any Lender or any Issuing Bank to demand compensation pursuant to this Section shall not constitute a waiver of such Lender's or such Issuing Bank's right to demand such compensation; provided that the Borrower shall not be required to compensate a Lender or an Issuing Bank pursuant to this Section for any increased costs or reductions incurred more than 180 days prior to the date that such Lender or such Issuing Bank, as the case may be, notifies the Borrower of the Change in Law giving rise to such increased costs or reductions and of such Lender's or such Issuing Bank's intention to claim compensation therefor; provided further that, if the Change in Law giving rise to such increased costs or reductions is retroactive, then the 180-day period referred to above shall be extended to include the period of retroactive effect thereof.

SECTION 2.16. Break Funding Payments.

(a) With respect to Term Benchmark Loans, in the event of (i) the payment of any principal of any Term Benchmark Loan other than on the last day of an Interest Period applicable thereto (including as a result of an Event of Default or as a result of any prepayment pursuant to Section 2.11), (ii) the conversion of any Term Benchmark Loan other than on the last day of the Interest Period applicable thereto, (iii) the failure to borrow, convert, continue or prepay any Term Benchmark Loan on the date specified in any notice delivered pursuant hereto (regardless of whether such notice may be revoked under Section 2.11(a) and is revoked in accordance therewith), (iv) the assignment of any Term Benchmark Loan other than on the last day of the Interest Period applicable thereto as a result of a request by the Company pursuant to Section 2.19 or 9.02(d) or (v) the failure by the Borrower to make any payment of any Term Benchmark Loan or drawing under any Letter of Credit (or interest due thereof) denominated in an Alternative Currency on its scheduled due date or any payment thereof in a different currency, then, in any such event, the Borrower shall compensate each Lender for the loss, cost and expense attributable to such event. A certificate of any Lender setting forth in reasonable detail the calculation of any amount or amounts that such Lender is entitled to receive pursuant to this Section shall be delivered to the Borrower and shall be conclusive absent manifest error. The Borrower shall pay such Lender the amount shown as due on any such certificate within ten (10) Business Days after receipt thereof.

(b) With respect to RFR Loans, in the event of (i) the payment of any principal of any RFR Loan other than on the Interest Payment Date applicable thereto (including as a result of an Event of Default or as a result of any prepayment pursuant to Section 2.11), (ii) the failure to borrow or prepay any RFR Loan on the date specified in any notice delivered pursuant hereto (regardless of whether such notice may be revoked under Section 2.11(a) and is revoked in accordance therewith), (iii) the assignment of any RFR Loan other than on the Interest Payment Date applicable thereto as a result of a request by the Company pursuant to Section 2.19 or 9.02(d) or (iv) the failure by the Borrower to make any payment of any Loan or drawing under any Letter of Credit (or interest due thereof) denominated in an Alternative Currency on its scheduled due date or any payment thereof in a different currency, then, in any such event, the Borrower shall compensate each Lender for the loss, cost and expense attributable to such event. A certificate of any Lender setting forth in reasonable detail the calculation of any amount or amounts that such Lender is entitled to receive pursuant to this Section shall be delivered to the Borrower and shall be conclusive absent manifest error. The Borrower shall pay such Lender the amount shown as due on any such certificate within ten (10) Business Days after receipt thereof.

SECTION 2.17. Taxes. (a) Payments Free of Taxes. Any and all payments by or on account of any obligation of any Loan Party under any Loan Document shall be made without deduction or withholding for any Taxes, except as required by applicable law. If any applicable law (as determined in the good faith discretion of an applicable withholding agent) requires the deduction or withholding of any Tax from any such payment by a withholding agent, then the applicable withholding agent shall be entitled to make such deduction or withholding and shall timely pay the full amount deducted or withheld to the relevant Governmental Authority in accordance with applicable law and, if such Tax is an Indemnified Tax, then the sum payable by the applicable Loan Party shall be increased as necessary so that after such deduction or withholding has been made (including such deductions and withholdings applicable to additional sums payable under this Section 2.17) the applicable Recipient receives an amount equal to the sum it would have received had no such deduction or withholding been made.

(b) Payment of Other Taxes by the Borrower. The Borrower shall timely pay to the relevant Governmental Authority in accordance with applicable law, or at the option of the Administrative Agent timely reimburse it for, Other Taxes.

(c) Evidence of Payments. As soon as practicable after any payment of Taxes by any Loan Party to a Governmental Authority pursuant to this Section 2.17, such Loan Party shall deliver to the Administrative Agent the original or a certified copy of a receipt issued by such Governmental Authority evidencing such payment, a copy of the return reporting such payment or other evidence of such payment reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent.

(d) Indemnification by the Loan Parties. The Loan Parties shall jointly and severally indemnify each Recipient, within 10 days after demand therefor, for the full amount of any Indemnified Taxes (including Indemnified Taxes imposed or asserted on or attributable to amounts payable under this Section) payable or paid by such Recipient or required to be withheld or deducted from a payment to such Recipient and any reasonable out-of-pocket expenses arising therefrom or with respect thereto, whether or not such Indemnified Taxes were correctly or legally imposed or asserted by the relevant Governmental Authority. A certificate setting forth in reasonable detail the basis and calculation of the amount of such payment or liability delivered to the Borrower by a Lender (with a copy to the Administrative Agent), or by the Administrative Agent on its own behalf or on behalf of a Lender, shall be conclusive absent manifest error.

(e) Indemnification by the Lenders. Each Lender shall severally indemnify the Administrative Agent, within 10 days after demand therefor, for (i) any Indemnified Taxes attributable to such Lender (but only to the extent that any Loan Party has not already indemnified the Administrative Agent for such Indemnified Taxes and without limiting the obligation of the Loan Parties to do so), (ii) any Taxes attributable to such Lender's failure to comply with the provisions of Section 9.04(c) relating to the maintenance of a Participant Register and (iii) any Excluded Taxes attributable to such Lender, in each case, that are payable or paid by the Administrative Agent in connection with any Loan Document, and any reasonable expenses arising therefrom or with respect thereto, whether or not such Taxes were correctly or legally imposed or asserted by the relevant Governmental Authority. A certificate as to the amount of such payment or liability delivered to any Lender by the Administrative Agent shall be conclusive absent manifest error. Each Lender hereby authorizes the Administrative Agent to setoff and apply any and all amounts at any time owing to such Lender under any Loan Document or otherwise payable by the Administrative Agent to the Lender from any other source against any amount due to the Administrative Agent under this paragraph (e).

(f) Status of Lenders. (i) Any Lender that is entitled to an exemption from or reduction of withholding Tax with respect to payments made under any Loan Document shall deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent, at the time or times reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent, such properly completed and executed documentation reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent as will permit such payments to be made without withholding or at a reduced rate of withholding. In addition, any Lender, if reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent, shall deliver such other documentation prescribed by applicable law or reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent as will enable the Borrower or the Administrative Agent to determine whether or not such Lender is subject to backup withholding or information reporting requirements. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the preceding two sentences, the completion, execution and submission of such documentation (other than such documentation set forth in Section 2.17(f)(ii)(A), (ii)(B) and (ii)(D) below) shall not be required if in the Lender's reasonable judgment such completion, execution or submission would subject such Lender to any material unreimbursed cost or expense or would materially prejudice the legal or commercial position of such Lender.

(ii) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in the event that the Borrower is a U.S. Person:

(A) any Lender that is a U.S. Person shall deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent on or prior to the date on which such Lender becomes a Lender under this Agreement (and from time to time thereafter upon the reasonable request of the Borrower or the Administrative Agent), an executed copy of IRS Form W-9 certifying that such Lender is exempt from U.S. federal backup withholding tax;

(B) any Foreign Lender shall, to the extent it is legally entitled to do so, deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent (in such number of copies as shall be requested by the recipient) on or prior to the date on which such Foreign Lender becomes a Lender under this Agreement (and from time to time thereafter upon the reasonable request of the Borrower or the Administrative Agent), whichever of the following is applicable:

(1) in the case of a Foreign Lender claiming the benefits of an income tax treaty to which the United States is a party (x) with respect to payments of interest under any Loan Document, an executed copy of IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS Form W-8BEN-E, as applicable, establishing an exemption from, or reduction of, U.S. federal withholding Tax pursuant to the "interest" article of such tax treaty and (y) with respect to any other applicable payments under any Loan Document, IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS Form W-8BEN-E, as applicable, establishing an exemption from, or reduction of, U.S. federal withholding Tax pursuant to the "business profits" or "other income" article of such tax treaty;

(2) in the case of a Foreign Lender claiming that its extension of credit will generate U.S. effectively connected income, an executed copy of IRS Form W-8ECI;

(3) in the case of a Foreign Lender claiming the benefits of the exemption for portfolio interest under Section 881(c) of the Code, (x) a certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit F-1 to the effect that such Foreign Lender is not a "bank" within the meaning of Section 881(c)(3)(A) of the Code, a "10 percent shareholder" of the Borrower within the meaning of Section 881(c)(3)(B) of the Code, or a "controlled foreign corporation" described in Section 881(c)(3)(C) of the Code (a "U.S. Tax Compliance Certificate") and (y) an executed copy of IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS Form W-8BEN-E; or

(4) to the extent a Foreign Lender is not the beneficial owner, an executed copy of IRS Form W-8IMY, accompanied by IRS Form W-8ECI, IRS Form W-8BEN or IRS Form W-8BEN-E, a U.S. Tax Compliance Certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit F-2 or Exhibit F-3, IRS Form W-9, and/or other certification documents from each beneficial owner, as applicable; provided that if the Foreign Lender is a partnership and one or more direct or indirect partners of such Foreign Lender are claiming the portfolio interest exemption, such Foreign Lender may provide a U.S. Tax Compliance Certificate substantially in the form of Exhibit F-4 on behalf of each such direct and indirect partner;

(C) any Foreign Lender shall, to the extent it is legally entitled to do so, deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent (in such number of copies as shall be requested by the recipient) on or prior to the date on which such Foreign Lender becomes a Lender under this Agreement (and from time to time thereafter upon the reasonable request of the Borrower or the Administrative Agent), executed copies of any other form prescribed by applicable law as a basis for claiming exemption from or a reduction in U.S. federal withholding Tax, duly completed, together with such supplementary documentation as may be prescribed by applicable law to permit the Borrower or the Administrative Agent to determine the withholding or deduction required to be made; and

(D) if a payment made to a Lender under any Loan Document would be subject to U.S. federal withholding Tax imposed by FATCA if such Lender were to fail to comply with the applicable reporting requirements of FATCA (including those contained in Section 1471(b) or 1472(b) of the Code, as applicable), such Lender shall deliver to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent at the time or times prescribed by law and at such time or times reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent such documentation prescribed by applicable law (including as prescribed by Section 1471(b)(3)(C)(i) of the Code) and such additional documentation reasonably requested by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent as may be necessary for the Borrower and the Administrative Agent to comply with their obligations under FATCA and to determine that such Lender has complied with such Lender's obligations under FATCA or to determine the amount to deduct and withhold from such payment. Solely for purposes of this clause (D), "FATCA" shall include any amendments made to FATCA after the date of this Agreement.

Each Lender agrees that if any form or certification it previously delivered expires or becomes obsolete or inaccurate in any respect, it shall update such form or certification or promptly notify the Borrower and the Administrative Agent in writing of its legal inability to do so.

(g) Treatment of Certain Refunds. If any party determines, in its sole discretion exercised in good faith, that it has received a refund of any Taxes as to which it has been indemnified pursuant to this Section 2.17 (including by the payment of additional amounts pursuant to this Section 2.17), it shall pay to the indemnifying party an amount equal to such refund (but only to the extent of indemnity payments made under this Section 2.17 with respect to the Taxes giving rise to such refund), net of all out-of-pocket expenses (including Taxes) of such indemnified party and without interest (other than any interest paid by the relevant Governmental Authority with respect to such refund). Such indemnifying party, upon the request of such indemnified party, shall repay to such indemnified party the amount paid over pursuant to this paragraph (g) (plus any penalties, interest or other charges imposed by the relevant Governmental Authority) in the event that such indemnified party is required to repay such refund to such Governmental Authority. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this paragraph (g), in no event will the indemnified party be required to pay any amount to an indemnifying party pursuant to this paragraph (g) the payment of which would place the indemnified party in a less favorable net after-Tax position than the indemnified party would have been in if the Tax subject to indemnification and giving rise to such refund had not been deducted, withheld or otherwise imposed and the indemnification payments or additional amounts with respect to such Tax had never been paid. This paragraph shall not be construed to require any indemnified party to make available its Tax returns (or any other information relating to its Taxes that it deems confidential) to the indemnifying party or any other Person.

(h) Survival. Each party's obligations under this Section 2.17 shall survive the resignation or replacement of the Administrative Agent or any assignment of rights by, or the replacement of, a Lender, the termination of the Commitments and the repayment, satisfaction or discharge of all obligations under any Loan Document.

(i) Defined Terms. For purposes of this Section 2.17, the term "Lender" includes the Issuing Banks and the term "applicable law" includes FATCA.

SECTION 2.18. Payments Generally; Allocations of Proceeds; Pro Rata Treatment; Sharing of Setoffs.

(a) (i) Except with respect to principal of and interest on Loans denominated in an Alternative Currency, the Borrower shall make each payment or prepayment required to be made by it hereunder (whether of principal, interest, fees or reimbursement of LC Disbursements, or of amounts payable under Section 2.15, 2.16 or 2.17, or otherwise) in Dollars prior to 12:00 noon, New York City time, on the date when due or the date fixed for any prepayment hereunder and (ii) all payments with respect to principal and interest on Loans denominated in an Alternative Currency shall be made in such Alternative Currency not later than the Applicable Time specified by the Administrative Agent on the dates specified herein, in each case in immediately available funds, without set-off, recoupment or counterclaim. Any amounts received after such time on any date may, in the discretion of the Administrative Agent, be deemed to have been received on the next succeeding Business Day for purposes of calculating interest thereon. All such payments shall be made (i) in the same currency in which the applicable Credit Event was made and (ii) to the Administrative Agent at its offices at 10 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60603 or, in the case of a Credit Event denominated in an Alternative Currency, the Administrative Agent's Term Benchmark Payment Office for such currency, except payments to be made directly to an Issuing Bank or the Swingline Lender as expressly provided herein and except that payments pursuant to Sections 2.15, 2.16, 2.17 and 9.03 shall be made directly to the Persons entitled thereto. The Administrative Agent shall distribute any such payments denominated in the same currency received by it for the account of any other Person to the appropriate recipient promptly following receipt thereof. Subject to the proviso in the definition of Interest Period, if any payment hereunder shall be due on a day that is not a Business Day, the date for payment shall be extended to the next succeeding Business Day, and, in the case of any payment accruing interest, interest thereon shall be payable for the period of such extension. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section, if, after the making of any Credit Event in any Alternative Currency, currency control or exchange regulations are imposed in the country which issues such currency with the result that the type of currency in which the Credit Event was made (the "Original Currency") no longer exists or the Borrower is not able to make payment to the Administrative Agent for the account of the Lenders in such Original Currency, then all payments to be made by the Borrower hereunder in such currency shall instead be made when due in Dollars in an amount equal to the Dollar Equivalent (as of the date of repayment) of such payment due, it being the intention of the parties hereto that the Borrower takes all risks of the imposition of any such currency control or exchange regulations.

(b) At any time that payments are not required to be applied in the manner required by Section 7.03, if at any time insufficient funds are received by and available to the Administrative Agent to pay fully all amounts of principal, unreimbursed LC Disbursements, interest and fees then due hereunder, such funds shall be applied (i) first, towards payment of interest and fees then due hereunder, ratably among the parties entitled thereto in accordance with the amounts of interest and fees then due to such parties, and (ii) second, towards payment of principal and unreimbursed LC Disbursements then due hereunder, ratably among the parties entitled thereto in accordance with the amounts of principal and unreimbursed LC Disbursements then due to such parties.

(c) If, except as expressly provided herein, any Lender shall, by exercising any right of set-off or counterclaim or otherwise, obtain payment in respect of any principal of or interest on any of its Loans or participations in LC Disbursements or Swingline Loans resulting in such Lender receiving payment of a greater proportion of the aggregate amount of its Loans and participations in LC Disbursements and Swingline Loans and accrued interest thereon than the proportion received by any other Lender of the same Class, then the Lender receiving such greater proportion shall purchase (for cash at face value) participations in the Loans and participations in LC Disbursements and Swingline Loans of other Lenders to the extent necessary so that the benefit of all such payments shall be shared by all such Lenders ratably in accordance with the aggregate amount of principal of and accrued interest on their respective Loans and participations in LC Disbursements and Swingline Loans; provided that (i) if any such participations are purchased and all or any portion of the payment giving rise thereto is recovered, such participations shall be rescinded and the purchase price restored to the extent of such recovery, without interest, and (ii) the provisions of this paragraph shall not be construed to apply to any payment made by the Borrower pursuant to and in accordance with the express terms of this Agreement or any payment obtained by a Lender as consideration for the assignment of or sale of a participation in any of its Loans or participations in LC Disbursements and Swingline Loans to any assignee or participant, other than to the Company or any Subsidiary or Affiliate thereof (as to which the provisions of this paragraph shall apply). The Borrower consents to the foregoing and agrees, to the extent it may effectively do so under applicable law, that any Lender acquiring a participation pursuant to the foregoing arrangements may exercise against the Borrower rights of set-off and counterclaim with respect to such participation as fully as if such Lender were a direct creditor of the Borrower in the amount of such participation.

(d) Unless the Administrative Agent shall have received, prior to any date on which any payment is due to the Administrative Agent for the account of the relevant Lenders or the relevant Issuing Banks pursuant to the terms hereof or any other Loan Document (including any date that is fixed for prepayment by notice from the Borrower to the Administrative Agent pursuant to Section 2.11(b)), notice from the Borrower that the Borrower will not make such payment or prepayment, the Administrative Agent may assume that the Borrower has made such payment on such date in accordance herewith and may, in reliance upon such assumption, distribute to the relevant Lenders or the relevant Issuing Banks, as the case may be, the amount due. In such event, if the Borrower has not in fact made such payment, then each of the relevant Lenders or the relevant Issuing Banks, as the case may be, severally agrees to repay to the Administrative Agent forthwith on demand the amount so distributed to such Lender or Issuing Bank with interest thereon, for each day from and including the date such amount is distributed to it to but excluding the date of payment to the Administrative Agent, at the applicable Overnight Rate.

SECTION 2.19. Mitigation Obligations; Replacement of Lenders. (a) If any Lender requests compensation under Section 2.15, or if the Borrower is required to pay any Indemnified Taxes or additional amounts to any Lender or any Governmental Authority for the account of any Lender pursuant to Section 2.17, then such Lender shall use reasonable efforts to designate a different lending office for funding or booking its Loans hereunder or to assign its rights and obligations hereunder to another of its offices, branches or Affiliates, if, in the judgment of such Lender, such designation or assignment (i) would eliminate or reduce amounts payable pursuant to Section 2.15 or 2.17, as the case may be, in the future and (ii) would not subject such Lender to any unreimbursed cost or expense and would not otherwise be disadvantageous to such Lender. The Borrower hereby agrees to pay all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by any Lender in connection with any such designation or assignment.

(b) If (i) any Lender requests compensation under Section 2.15, (ii) the Borrower is required to pay any Indemnified Taxes or additional amounts to any Lender or any Governmental Authority for the account of any Lender pursuant to Section 2.17 or (iii) any Lender becomes a Defaulting Lender, then the Borrower may, at its sole expense and effort, upon notice to such Lender and the Administrative Agent, require such Lender to assign and delegate, without recourse (in accordance with and subject to the restrictions contained in Section 9.04), all its interests, rights (other than its existing rights to payments pursuant to Section 2.15 or 2.17) and obligations under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents to an assignee that shall assume such obligations (which assignee may be another Lender, if a Lender accepts such assignment); provided that (i) the Borrower shall have received the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent (and if a Revolving Commitment is being assigned, the Issuing Banks and the Swingline Lender), which consent shall not unreasonably be withheld, conditioned or delayed, (ii) such Lender shall have received payment of an amount equal to the outstanding principal of its Loans and funded participations in LC Disbursements and Swingline Loans, accrued interest thereon, accrued fees and all other amounts payable to it hereunder, from the assignee (to the extent of such outstanding principal and accrued interest and fees) or the Borrower (in the case of all other amounts) and (iii) in the case of any such assignment resulting from a claim for compensation under Section 2.15 or payments required to be made pursuant to Section 2.17, such assignment will result in a reduction in such compensation or payments. A Lender shall not be required to make any such assignment and delegation if, prior thereto, as a result of a waiver by such Lender or otherwise, the circumstances entitling the Borrower to require such assignment and delegation cease to apply. Each party hereto agrees that (i) an assignment required pursuant to this paragraph may be effected pursuant to an Assignment and Assumption executed by the Borrower, the Administrative Agent and the assignee (or, to the extent applicable, an agreement incorporating an Assignment and Assumption by reference pursuant to an Approved Electronic Platform as to which the Administrative Agent and such parties are participants), and (ii) the Lender required to make such assignment need not be a party thereto in order for such assignment to be effective and shall be deemed to have consented to and be bound by the terms thereof; provided that, following the effectiveness of any such assignment, the other parties to such assignment agree to execute and deliver such documents necessary to evidence such assignment as reasonably requested by the applicable Lender, provided that any such documents shall be without recourse to or warranty by the parties thereto.

SECTION 2.20. Incremental Facilities.

(a) The Borrower may, at any time, on one or more occasions after the Amendment No. 35 Effective Date pursuant to an Incremental Amendment (i) add one or more new Classes of term facilities and/or increase the principal amount of the Term Loans of any existing Class by requesting new commitments to provide such Term Loans (any such new Class or increase, an "Incremental Term Facility" and any loan made pursuant to any Incremental Term Facility, an "Incremental Term Loan") and/or (ii) increase the aggregate amount of the 2028 Revolving Commitments (an "Incremental Revolving Facility" and, together with any Incremental Term Facility, "Incremental Facilities"; and the loans thereunder, "Incremental Revolving Loans" and any Incremental Revolving Loans, together with any Incremental Term Loans, "Incremental Loans") in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed the Maximum Expansion Amount; provided that

(i) no Incremental Commitment in respect of any Incremental Term Facility may be in an amount that is less than $5,000,000 (or such lesser amount to which the Administrative Agent may reasonably agree),

(ii) except as the Borrower and any Lender may separately agree, no Lender shall be obligated to provide any Incremental Commitment, and the determination to provide any Incremental Commitment shall be within the sole and absolute discretion of such Lender,

(iii) no Incremental Facility or Incremental Loan (nor the creation, provision or implementation thereof) shall require the approval of any existing Lender other than in its capacity, if any, as a lender providing all or part of any Incremental Commitment or Incremental Loan,

(iv) except as otherwise permitted herein (including with respect to margin, pricing (including any MFN provision), maturity, Weighted Average Life to Maturity and fees), the terms of any Incremental Term Facility will not be materially more restrictive (when taken as a whole) on the Borrower than the existing applicable Credit Facilities (except for terms (x) applicable only to periods after the latest Maturity Date with respect to the Term Loan Facility or (y) that are concomitantly added for the benefit of the existing applicable Credit Facilities) or to the extent that such terms are not consistent with the foregoing, such terms must be reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent,

(v) the All-In Yield (and the components thereof) applicable to any Incremental Facility shall be determined by the Borrower and the lender or lenders providing such Incremental Facility; provided that the All-In Yield applicable to any Incremental Term Facility incurred or established prior to the date that is eighteen (18) months after the Amendment No. ~~3~~5 Effective Date may not be more than 0.50% per annum higher than the All-In Yield applicable to the then-existing Initial Term Loans or Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans, as applicable, unless the Applicable Rate (and/or, as provided in the proviso below, the Alternate Base Rate floor or Floor) with respect to such Initial Term Loans or Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans, as applicable, is adjusted such that the All-In Yield on such Term Loans is not more than 0.50% per annum less than the All-In Yield with respect to such Incremental Facility; provided, further, that any increase in All-In Yield applicable to any Initial Term ~~Loan~~Loans or Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loans, as applicable, due to the application or imposition of an Alternate Base Rate floor or Floor on any such Incremental Term Loan may, at the election of the Borrower, be effected through an increase in the Alternate Base Rate floor or Floor applicable to such Term Loan,

(vi) the final maturity date with respect to any Class of Incremental Term Loans shall be no earlier than the Maturity Date of the Initial Term Loans; provided that this clause (vi) shall not apply to any bridge financing converting to, or intended to be refinanced by, Indebtedness complying with this clause (vi) and clause (vii) below,

(vii) the Weighted Average Life to Maturity of any Incremental Term Facility shall be no shorter than the remaining Weighted Average Life to Maturity of any then-existing tranche of Initial Term Loans (without giving effect to any prepayment thereof); provided that this clause (vii) shall not apply to any bridge financing converting to, or intended to be refinanced by, Indebtedness complying with this clause (vii) and clause (vi) above,

(viii) subject to clauses (vi) and (vii) above, any Incremental Term Facility may otherwise have an amortization schedule as determined by the applicable Borrower and the lenders providing such Incremental Term Facility,

(ix) subject to clause (v) above, to the extent applicable, any fees payable in connection with any Incremental Facility shall be determined by the applicable Borrower and the arrangers and/or lenders providing such Incremental Facility,

(x) (A) each Incremental Term Facility or Incremental Revolving Facility shall rank pari passu with the Term Loans and Revolving Loans in right of payment and security and (B) no Incremental Facility may be (x) guaranteed by any Person which is not a Loan Party or (y) secured by any assets other than the Collateral,

(xi) (A) no Default or Event of Default shall exist immediately prior to or after giving effect to such Incremental Facility (provided, that, notwithstanding and in lieu of the foregoing, if the Borrower shall have made an LCT Election in accordance with Section 1.08, no Default or Event of Default shall existing immediately prior to the LCT Test Date and no Specified Event of Default shall exist immediately prior to or after giving effect to such Incremental Facility), and (B) the representations and warranties of the Loan Parties (or, if agreed to by the lenders thereof, customary "SunGard" representations and warranties) set forth in this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be true and correct in all material respects (or if qualified by materiality or Material Adverse Effect, in all respects) on and as of the date such Incremental Facility becomes effective with the same effect as though such representations and warranties had been made on and as of such date; provided that to the extent that any representation and warranty specifically refers to a given date or period, it shall be true and correct in all material respects as of such date or for such period,

(xii) any Incremental Term Facility shall participate (A) in any voluntary prepayment of Term Loans as set forth in Section 2.11(a) and (B) in any mandatory prepayment of Term Loans as set forth in Section 2.11(c) and (d), in each case, to the extent provided in such Sections,

(xiii) the proceeds of any Incremental Facility may be used for working capital and/or purchase price adjustments and other general corporate purposes and any other use not prohibited by this Agreement, and

(xiv) on the date of the Borrowing of any Incremental Term Loans that will be of the same Class as any then-existing Class of Term Loans, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth in Sections 2.08 or 2.13, such Incremental Term Loans shall be added to (and constitute a part of, be of the same Type as and, at the election of the Borrower, have the same Interest Period as) each Borrowing of outstanding Term Loans of such Class on a pro rata basis (based on the relative sizes of such Borrowings), so that each Term Lender providing such Incremental Term Loans will participate proportionately in each then-outstanding Borrowing of Term Loans of such Class; it being acknowledged that the application of this clause (a)(xiv) may result in new Incremental Term Loans having an Interest Period (the duration of which may be less than one month) that begins during an Interest Period then applicable to outstanding Term Benchmark Loans of the relevant Class and which ends on the last day of such Interest Period.

(b) Incremental Commitments may be provided by any existing Lender, or by any other eligible assignee (any such other lender being called an "Incremental Lender"); provided that the Administrative Agent (and, in the case of any Incremental Revolving Facility, the Swingline Lender and any Issuing Bank) shall have a right to consent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) to the relevant Incremental Lender's provision of Incremental Commitments if such consent would be required under Section 9.04 for an assignment of Loans to such Incremental Lender, mutatis mutandis, to the same extent as if the relevant Incremental Commitments and related Obligations had been acquired by such Lender by way of assignment.

(c) Each Lender or Incremental Lender providing a portion of any Incremental Commitment shall execute and deliver to the Administrative Agent and the Borrower all such documentation (including the relevant Incremental Amendment) as may be reasonably required by the Administrative Agent to evidence and effectuate such Incremental Commitment. On the effective date of such Incremental Commitment, each Incremental Lender shall become a Lender for all purposes in connection with this Agreement.

(d) As conditions precedent to the effectiveness of any Incremental Facility or the making of any Incremental Loans, (i) upon its reasonable request, the Administrative Agent shall be entitled to receive customary written opinions of counsel, as well as such reaffirmation agreements, supplements and/or amendments as it shall reasonably require, (ii) the Administrative Agent shall be entitled to receive, from each Incremental Lender, an Administrative Questionnaire and such other documents as it shall reasonably require from such Incremental Lender, (iii) the Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Incremental Lenders, or the Incremental Lenders, as applicable, shall have received the amount of any fees payable to the Incremental Lenders in respect of such Incremental Facility or Incremental Loans, (iv) subject to Section 2.20(h), the Administrative Agent shall have received a Borrowing Request as if the relevant Incremental Loans were subject to Section 2.03 or another written request the form of which is reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent (it being understood and agreed that the requirement to deliver a Borrowing Request shall not result in the imposition of any additional condition precedent to the availability of the relevant Incremental Loans) and (v) the Administrative Agent shall be entitled to receive a certificate of the Borrower signed by a Financial Officer thereof (A) certifying and attaching a copy of the resolutions adopted by the governing body of the Borrower approving or consenting to such Incremental Facility or Incremental Loans and (B) to the extent applicable, certifying that the condition set forth in clause (a)(xi) above has been satisfied.

(e) Upon the implementation of any Incremental Revolving Facility pursuant to this Section 2.20:

(i) each 2028 Revolving Lender immediately prior to such increase will automatically and without further act be deemed to have assigned to each relevant Incremental Revolving Facility Lender, and each relevant Incremental Revolving Facility Lender will automatically and without further act be deemed to have assumed a portion of such 2028 Revolving Lender's participations hereunder in outstanding Letters of Credit and Swingline Loans such that, after giving effect to each deemed assignment and assumption of participations, all of the 2028 Revolving Lenders' (including each Incremental Revolving Facility Lender) (A) participations hereunder in Letters of Credit and (B) participations hereunder in Swingline Loans shall be held on a pro rata basis on the basis of their respective 2028 Revolving Commitments

(after giving effect to any increase in the 2028 Revolving Commitment pursuant to this Section 2.20); and

(ii) the existing 2028 Revolving Lenders shall assign 2028 Revolving Loans to certain other 2028 Revolving Lenders (including the 2028 Revolving Lenders providing the relevant Incremental Revolving Facility), and such other 2028 Revolving Lenders (including the 2028 Revolving Lenders providing the relevant Incremental Revolving Facility) shall purchase such 2028 Revolving Loans, in each case to the extent necessary so that all of the 2028 Revolving Lenders participate in each outstanding Borrowing of 2028 Revolving Loans pro rata on the basis of their respective 2028 Revolving Commitments (after giving effect to any increase in the 2028 Revolving Commitment pursuant to this Section 2.20); it being understood and agreed that the minimum borrowing, pro rata borrowing and pro rata payment requirements contained elsewhere in this Agreement shall not apply to the transactions effected pursuant to this clause (ii).

(f) On the date of effectiveness of any Incremental Revolving Facility, the maximum amount of LC Exposure and/or Swingline Loans, as applicable, permitted hereunder shall increase by an amount, if any, agreed upon by the Borrower, the Administrative Agent and the relevant Issuing Bank and/or the Swingline Lender, as applicable.

(g) The Lenders hereby irrevocably authorize the Administrative Agent to enter into any Incremental Amendment and/or any amendment to any other Loan Document as may be necessary in order to establish new Classes or sub-Classes in respect of Loans or commitments pursuant to this Section 2.20, such technical amendments as may be necessary or appropriate in the reasonable opinion of the Administrative Agent and the Borrower in connection with the establishment of such new Classes or sub-Classes, in each case on terms consistent with this Section 2.20 and such other amendments as are described in Section 9.02.

(h) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 2.20 or in any other provision of any Loan Document, if the proceeds of any Incremental Facility are intended to be applied to finance a Permitted Acquisition or other similar Investment and the lenders providing such Incremental Facility so agree, the availability thereof shall be subject to customary "SunGard" or "certain funds" conditionality.

(i) This Section 2.20 shall supersede any provision in Section 2.18 or Section 9.02 to the contrary.

SECTION 2.21. Defaulting Lenders. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, if any Lender becomes a Defaulting Lender, then the following provisions shall apply for so long as such Lender is a Defaulting Lender:

(a) fees shall cease to accrue on the unfunded portion of the Commitment of such Defaulting Lender pursuant to Section 2.12(a);

(b) any payment of principal, interest, fees or other amounts received by the Administrative Agent for the account of such Defaulting Lender (whether voluntary or mandatory, at maturity, pursuant to Section 7.03 or otherwise) or received by the Administrative Agent from a Defaulting Lender pursuant to Section 9.08 shall be applied at such time or times as may be determined by the Administrative Agent as follows: first, to the payment of any amounts owing by such Defaulting Lender to the Administrative Agent hereunder; second, to the payment on a pro rata basis of any amounts owing by such Defaulting Lender to any Issuing Bank or the Swingline Lender hereunder; third, to cash collateralize LC Exposure with respect to such Defaulting Lender in accordance with this Section; fourth, as the Borrower may request (so long as no Default or Event of Default exists), to the funding of any Loan in respect of which such Defaulting Lender has failed to fund its portion thereof as required by this Agreement, as determined by the Administrative Agent; fifth, if so determined by the Administrative Agent and the Borrower, to be held in a deposit account and released pro rata in order to (x) satisfy such Defaulting Lender's potential future funding obligations with respect to Loans under this Agreement and (y) cash collateralize future LC Exposure with respect to such Defaulting Lender with respect to future Letters of Credit issued under this Agreement, in accordance with this Section; sixth, to the payment of any amounts owing to the Lenders, the Issuing Banks or the Swingline Lender as a result of any judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction obtained by any Lender, any Issuing Bank or the Swingline Lender against such Defaulting Lender as a result of such Defaulting Lender's breach of its obligations under this Agreement or under any other Loan Document; seventh, so long as no Default or Event of Default exists, to the payment of any amounts owing to the Borrower as a result of any judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction obtained by the Borrower against such Defaulting Lender as a result of such Defaulting Lender's breach of its obligations under this Agreement or under any other Loan Document; and eighth, to such Defaulting Lender or as otherwise directed by a court of competent jurisdiction; provided that if (x) such payment is a payment of the principal amount of any Loans or LC Disbursements in respect of which such Defaulting Lender has not fully funded its appropriate share, and (y) such Loans were made or the related Letters of Credit were issued at a time when the conditions set forth in Section 4.02 were satisfied or waived, such payment shall be applied solely to pay the Loans of, and LC Disbursements owed to, all non-Defaulting Lenders on a pro rata basis prior to being applied to the payment of any Loans of, or LC Disbursements owed to, such Defaulting Lender until such time as all Loans and funded and unfunded participations in the Borrower's obligations corresponding to such Defaulting Lender's LC Exposure and Swingline Loans are held by the Lenders pro rata in accordance with the Commitments without giving effect to clause (d) below. Any payments, prepayments or other amounts paid or payable to a Defaulting Lender that are applied (or held) to pay amounts owed by a Defaulting Lender or to post cash collateral pursuant to this Section shall be deemed paid to and redirected by such Defaulting Lender, and each Lender irrevocably consents hereto;

(c) the Commitment and Revolving Credit Exposure of such Defaulting Lender shall not be included in determining whether the Required Lenders have taken or may take any action hereunder (including any consent to any amendment, waiver or other modification pursuant to Section 9.02); provided, further, that any amendment, waiver or other modification requiring the consent of all Lenders or all Lenders directly affected thereby shall not, except as otherwise provided in Section 9.02, require the consent of such Defaulting Lender in accordance with the terms hereof;

(d) if any Swingline Exposure or LC Exposure exists at the time such Lender becomes a Defaulting Lender then:

(i) all or any part of the Swingline Exposure and LC Exposure of such Defaulting Lender (other than, in the case of a Defaulting Lender that is the Swingline Lender, the portion of such Swingline Exposure referred to in clause (b) of the definition of such term) shall be reallocated among the non-Defaulting Lenders in accordance with their respective Applicable Percentages but only to the extent that such reallocation does not, as to any non-Defaulting Lender, cause such non-Defaulting Lender's Revolving Credit Exposure to exceed its Revolving Commitment;

(ii) if the reallocation described in clause (i) above cannot, or can only partially, be effected, the Borrower shall, without prejudice to any right or remedy available to it hereunder or under law, within one (1) Business Day following notice by the Administrative Agent (x) first, prepay such Swingline Exposure and (y) second, cash collateralize for the benefit of the relevant Issuing Bank only the Borrower's obligations corresponding to such Defaulting Lender's LC Exposure

(after giving effect to any partial reallocation pursuant to clause (i) above) in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 2.06(j) for so long as such LC Exposure is outstanding;

(iii) if the Borrower cash collateralizes any portion of such Defaulting Lender's LC Exposure pursuant to clause (ii) above, the Borrower shall not be required to pay any fees to such Defaulting Lender pursuant to Section 2.12(b) with respect to such Defaulting Lender's LC Exposure during the period such Defaulting Lender's LC Exposure is cash collateralized;

(iv) if the LC Exposure of the non-Defaulting Lenders is reallocated pursuant to clause (i) above, then the fees payable to the Lenders pursuant to Section 2.12(a) and Section 2.12(b) shall be adjusted in accordance with such non-Defaulting Lenders' Applicable Percentages; and

(v) if all or any portion of such Defaulting Lender's LC Exposure is neither reallocated nor cash collateralized pursuant to clause (i) or (ii) above, then, without prejudice to any rights or remedies of any Issuing Bank or any other Lender hereunder, all letter of credit fees payable under Section 2.12(b) with respect to such Defaulting Lender's LC Exposure shall be payable to the relevant Issuing Bank until and to the extent that such LC Exposure is reallocated and/or cash collateralized; and

(e) so long as such Lender is a Defaulting Lender, the Swingline Lender shall not be required to fund any Swingline Loan and the Issuing Banks shall not be required to issue, amend or increase any Letter of Credit, unless it is satisfied that the related exposure and the Defaulting Lender's then outstanding LC Exposure will be 100% covered by the Revolving Commitments of the non-Defaulting Lenders and/or cash collateral will be provided by the Borrower in accordance with Section 2.21(d), and Swingline Exposure related to any such newly made Swingline Loan or LC Exposure related to any newly issued or increased Letter of Credit shall be allocated among non-Defaulting Lenders in a manner consistent with Section 2.21(d)(i) (and such Defaulting Lender shall not participate therein).

If (i) a Bankruptcy Event or a Bail-In Action with respect to a Lender Parent shall occur following the date hereof and for so long as such event shall continue or (ii) the Swingline Lender or any Issuing Bank has a good faith belief that any Lender has defaulted in fulfilling its obligations under one or more other agreements in which such Lender commits to extend credit, the Swingline Lender shall not be required to fund any Swingline Loan and such Issuing Bank shall not be required to issue, amend or increase any Letter of Credit, unless the Swingline Lender or such Issuing Bank, as the case may be, shall have entered into arrangements with the Borrower or such Lender, satisfactory to the Swingline Lender or the Issuing Banks, as the case may be, to defease any risk to it in respect of such Lender hereunder.

In the event that the Administrative Agent, the Borrower, the Swingline Lender and the Issuing Banks each agrees that a Defaulting Lender has adequately remedied all matters that caused such Lender to be a Defaulting Lender, then the Swingline Exposure and LC Exposure of the Lenders shall be readjusted to reflect the inclusion of such Lender's Commitment and on such date such Lender shall purchase at par such of the Loans of the other Lenders (other than Swingline Loans) as the Administrative Agent shall determine may be necessary in order for such Lender to hold such Loans in accordance with its Applicable Percentage, whereupon such Lender will cease to be a Defaulting Lender; provided that no adjustments will be made retroactively with respect to fees accrued or payments made by or on behalf of the Borrower while that Lender was a Defaulting Lender; provided, further, that, except to the extent otherwise expressly agreed by the affected parties, no change hereunder from Defaulting Lender to Lender will constitute a waiver or release of any claim of any party hereunder arising from that Lender's having been a Defaulting Lender.

SECTION 2.22. Loan Modification Offers.

(a) The Borrower may on one or more occasions, by written notice to the Administrative Agent, make one or more offers (each, a "Loan Modification Offer") to all the Lenders of one or more Classes (each Class subject to such a Loan Modification Offer, an "Affected Class") to make one or more Permitted Amendments pursuant to procedures reasonably specified by the Administrative Agent and reasonably acceptable to the Borrower. Such notice shall set forth (i) the terms and conditions of the requested Permitted Amendment and (ii) the date on which such Permitted Amendment is requested to become effective (which shall not be less than ten (10) Business Days nor more than thirty (30) Business Days after the date of such notice, unless otherwise agreed to by the Administrative Agent). Permitted Amendments shall become effective only with respect to the Loans and Commitments of the Lenders of the Affected Class that accept the applicable Loan Modification Offer (such Lenders, the "Accepting Lenders") and, in the case of any Accepting Lender, only with respect to such Lender's Loans and Commitments of such Affected Class as to which such Lender's acceptance has been made. With respect to all Permitted Amendments consummated by the Borrower pursuant to this Section 2.22, (i) such Permitted Amendments shall not constitute voluntary or mandatory payments or prepayments for purposes of Section 2.11 and (ii) any Loan Modification Offer, unless contemplating a Maturity Date already in effect hereunder pursuant to a previously consummated Permitted Amendment, must be in a minimum amount of (i) not less than $25,000,000 and (ii) an integral multiple of $5,000,000 in excess thereof (or such lesser amount as may be approved by the Administrative Agent in its reasonable discretion); provided that the Borrower may at its election specify as a condition (a "Minimum Extension Condition") to consummating any such Permitted Amendment that a minimum amount (to be determined and specified in the relevant Loan Modification Offer in the Borrower's sole discretion and which may be waived by the Borrower) of Commitments or Loans of any or all Affected Classes be extended.

(b) A Permitted Amendment shall be effected pursuant to a Loan Modification Agreement executed and delivered by the Borrower, each applicable Accepting Lender and the Administrative Agent; provided that, no Permitted Amendment shall become effective unless (i) no Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing on the date of effectiveness thereof, (ii) on the date of effectiveness thereof, the representations and warranties of each Loan Party set forth in the Loan Documents shall be true and correct (x) in the case of the representations and warranties qualified as to materiality, in all respects and (y) otherwise, in all material respects, in each case on and as of such date, except in the case of any such representation and warranty that specifically relates to an earlier date, in which case such representation and warranty shall be so true and correct on and as of such earlier date, (iii) the Borrower shall have delivered to the Administrative Agent (x) such legal opinions, board resolutions, secretary's certificates, officer's certificates and other documents as shall reasonably be requested by the Administrative Agent in connection therewith and (y) such reaffirmation agreements and/or such amendments to the Collateral Documents as may be reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent in order to ensure that the Loans and Commitments subject to such Loan Modification Offer are provided with the benefit of the applicable Loan Documents and (iv) any applicable Minimum Extension Condition shall be satisfied (unless waived by the Borrower). The Administrative Agent shall promptly notify each Lender as to the effectiveness of each Loan Modification Agreement. Each Loan Modification Agreement may, without the consent of any Lender other than the applicable Accepting Lenders (and with the consent of the Administrative Agent), effect such amendments to this Agreement and the other Loan Documents as may be necessary or appropriate, in the opinion of the Administrative Agent, to give effect to the provisions of this Section, including any amendments necessary to treat the applicable Loans and/or Commitments of the Accepting Lenders as a new Class of loans and/or commitments hereunder; provided that, in the case of any Loan Modification Offer relating to Revolving Commitments ~~or~~, Revolving Loans or Revolver PIK Loans of any Class, (i) all Borrowings, all prepayments of Revolving Loans or Revolver PIK Loans and all reductions of Revolving Commitments of such Class shall continue to be made on a ratable basis among all Lenders of such Class, based on the relative amounts of their Commitments of such Class (i.e., both extended and non-extended), until the repayment of the Loans attributable to the non-extended Commitments of such Class (and the termination of the non-extended Commitments of such Class) on the relevant Maturity Date, (ii) except as otherwise agreed to by each Issuing Bank and the Swingline Lender, the allocation of the participation exposure with respect to any then-existing or subsequently issued or made Letter of Credit or Swingline Loan as between the commitments of such new Class and the remaining Revolving Commitments shall be made on a ratable basis as between the commitments of such new Class and the remaining Revolving Commitments, (iii) the Availability Period and the Maturity Date, as such terms are used with reference to Letters of Credit or Swingline Loans, may not be extended without the prior written consent of each Issuing Bank or the Swingline Lender, as applicable and (iv) at no time shall there be more than three (3) Classes of Revolving Commitments hereunder, unless otherwise agreed by the Administrative Agent.

This Section 2.22 shall supersede any provisions in Section 2.18(c) or Section 9.02 to the contrary.

ARTICLE III

Representations and Warranties

The Borrower represents and warrants to the Lenders that (with references in this Article III (other than Section 3.04(a) and the second sentence of Section 3.01) to "Subsidiaries" to exclude Captive Insurance Subsidiaries):

SECTION 3.01. Organization; Powers; Subsidiaries. Each of the Loan Parties (a) is duly organized, validly existing and in good standing (to the extent the concept is applicable in such jurisdiction) under the laws of the jurisdiction of its organization, and (b) except where the failure to do so, individually or in the aggregate, could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect, (i) has all requisite organizational power and authority to carry on its business as now conducted and (ii) is qualified to do business in, and, to the extent the concept is applicable in such jurisdiction, is in good standing in, every jurisdiction where its ownership, lease or operation of properties or the conduct of its business requires such qualification. Schedule 3.01C hereto identifies each Subsidiary as of the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date, noting whether such Subsidiary is a Material Domestic Subsidiary, the jurisdiction of its incorporation or organization, as the case may be, the percentage of issued and outstanding shares of each class of its capital stock or other equity interests owned by the Borrower and the other Subsidiaries and, if such percentage is not 100% (excluding (i) directors' qualifying shares and (ii) shares issued to foreign nationals to the extent required by applicable law), a description of each class issued and outstanding. All of the outstanding shares of capital stock and other equity interests of each Subsidiary Guarantor and each other Subsidiary pledged to the Administrative Agent are validly issued and outstanding and, to the extent applicable, fully paid and nonassessable and, as of the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date, all such shares and other equity interests indicated on Schedule 3.01C as owned by the Borrower or another Subsidiary are owned, beneficially and of record, by the Borrower or any Subsidiary free and clear of all Liens, other than Liens permitted pursuant to Section 6.02. Except as indicated on Schedule 3.01C hereto, as of the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date, there are no outstanding commitments or other obligations of the Borrower or any Subsidiary to issue, and no options, warrants or other rights of any Person to acquire, any shares of any class of capital stock or other equity interests of the Borrower or any Subsidiary.

SECTION 3.02. Authorization; Enforceability. The Transactions are within each Loan Party's organizational powers and have been duly authorized by all necessary organizational actions. The Loan Documents to which each Loan Party is a party have been duly executed and delivered by such Loan Party and constitute a legal, valid and binding obligation of such Loan Party, enforceable against such Loan Party in accordance with its terms, subject to (i) applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or other laws affecting creditors' rights generally, (ii) general principles of equity, regardless of whether considered in a proceeding in equity or at law and (iii) requirements of reasonableness, good faith and fair dealing.

SECTION 3.03. Governmental Approvals; No Conflicts. (a) The Transactions do not require any consent or approval of, registration or filing with, or any other action by, any Governmental Authority, except such as have been, or will be by the time required, obtained or made and are, or will be by the time required, in full force and effect and except for any filings, registrations, endorsements, notarizations, stampings and/or notifications necessary to perfect Liens created pursuant to the Loan Documents, (b) the Transactions will not violate in any material respect any applicable material law or regulation or the charter, by-laws or other organizational documents of any Loan Party or any material order of any Governmental Authority binding upon any Loan Party or its assets, (c) the Transactions will not violate or result in a default under any indenture, material agreement or other material instrument binding upon any Loan Party or its assets, or give rise to a right thereunder to require any payment to be made by any Loan Party, except, in the case of clauses (b) and (c), for any such violations, defaults or rights that could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect, (d) the Transactions will not result in the creation or imposition of any Lien on any asset of the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries, other than Liens created or permitted under the Loan Documents and (e) the Transactions do not result in a limitation of any licenses, permits or other Governmental Approvals applicable to the business, operations or properties of any Loan Party or adversely affect the ability of any Loan Party to participate in any Medical Reimbursement Programs, except to the extent such limitation could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 3.04. Financial Condition; No Material Adverse Change. (a) The Borrower has heretofore furnished to the Lenders its consolidated balance sheet and statements of income, stockholders equity and cash flows (i) as of and for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2020 reported on by KPMG LLP, independent public accountants, and (ii) as of and for the fiscal quarter and the portion of the fiscal year ended September 30, 2021, certified by its chief financial officer. Such financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position and results of operations and cash flows of the Borrower and its consolidated Subsidiaries as of such dates and for such periods in accordance with GAAP, subject to year-end audit adjustments and the absence of footnotes in the case of the statements referred to in clause (ii) above.

(b) Since December 31, 2020, there has been no material adverse change in the business, assets, results of operations or financial condition of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole.

SECTION 3.05. Properties. (a) Except for Liens permitted pursuant to Section 6.02, each of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries has good title to, or (to the knowledge of the Borrower or any Subsidiary) valid leasehold interests in, all its real and personal property (other than intellectual property, which is subject to Section 3.05(b)) material to its business, except as could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

(b) Each of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries owns, or is licensed to use (subject to the knowledge-qualified infringement representation in this Section 3.05(b)), all trademarks, trade names, copyrights, patents and other intellectual property material to its business, and the use thereof by the Borrower and its Subsidiaries, to any Loan Party's knowledge, does not infringe upon the rights of any other Person, except for any such infringements, or ownership or license issues, that, individually or in the aggregate, could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 3.06. Litigation, Environmental and Labor Matters. (a) Except as may be disclosed on Schedule 3.06(a), there are no actions, suits, proceedings or investigations by or before any arbitrator or Governmental Authority pending against or, to the knowledge of the Borrower, threatened in writing against the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries (i) that could reasonably be expected, individually or in the aggregate, to result in a Material Adverse Effect or (ii) that could reasonably be expected to adversely affect the rights and remedies of the Administrative Agent and/or the Lenders under this Agreement or any other Loan Documents.

(b) Except with respect to matters that, individually or in the aggregate, could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect, neither the Borrower nor any of its Subsidiaries (i) has failed to comply with any Environmental Law or to obtain, maintain or comply with any permit, license or other approval required under any Environmental Law, (ii) is subject to any Environmental Liability or (iii) has received written notice of any claim with respect to any Environmental Liability.

(c) There have been no material strikes, walkouts, work stoppages or other material labor difficulty within the last five years for the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries.

SECTION 3.07. Compliance with Laws. Each of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries is in compliance with all laws, regulations and orders of any Governmental Authority applicable to it or its property and all indentures, agreements and other instruments binding upon it or its property, except (i) in instances in which such laws, regulations or orders are being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings diligently conducted (as reasonably determined by the Borrower) or (ii) where the failure to do so, individually or in the aggregate, could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 3.08. Investment Company Status. Neither the Borrower nor any of its Subsidiaries is required to be registered as an "investment company" under, the Investment Company Act of 1940.

SECTION 3.09. Taxes. Each of the Borrower and its Subsidiaries has filed or caused to be filed all federal income Tax returns and all other material Tax returns and reports required to have been filed by it and has paid, caused to be paid or made a provision for the payment of all federal income Taxes and all other material Taxes required to have been paid by it, except (a) Taxes that are being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings and for which the Borrower or such Subsidiary, as applicable, has set aside on its books adequate reserves in accordance with GAAP or (b) to the extent that the failure to do so could not reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 3.10. ERISA. No ERISA Event has occurred or is reasonably expected to occur that, when taken together with all other such ERISA Events for which liability is reasonably expected to occur, could reasonably be expected to result in a Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 3.11. Disclosure. (a) terminate the Commitments, and thereupon the Commitments shall terminate immediately;

(b) declare the Loans then outstanding to be due and payable in whole (or in part, in which case any principal not so declared to be due and payable may thereafter be declared to be due and payable), and thereupon the principal of the Loans so declared to be due and payable, together with accrued interest thereon and all fees and other Secured Obligations accrued hereunder and under any other Loan Document, shall become due and payable immediately, without presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind, all of which are hereby waived by the Borrower and the other Loan Parties;

If an Event of Default described in Section 7.01(h) or 7.01(i) occurs upon the occurrence of an actual or deemed entry of an order for relief under the Bankruptcy Code of the United States with respect to the Borrower, the Commitments shall automatically terminate and the principal of the Loans then outstanding and cash collateral for the LC Exposure, together with accrued interest thereon and all fees and other Secured Obligations accrued hereunder and under any other Loan Document, shall automatically become due and payable, and the obligation of the Borrower to cash collateralize the LC Exposure as provided in clause (c) above shall automatically become effective, in each case, without presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind, all of which are hereby waived by the Borrower.

The Administrative Agent or any Lender shall have the right upon any such public sale or sales, and, to the extent permitted by law, upon any such private sale or sales, to purchase the whole or any part of the Collateral so sold, free of any right or equity of redemption in any Loan Party, which right or equity is hereby waived and released by the Borrower on behalf of itself and its Subsidiaries. The Borrower further agrees on behalf of itself and its Subsidiaries, at the Administrative Agent's request, to assemble the Collateral and make it available to the Administrative Agent at places which the Administrative Agent shall reasonably select, whether at the premises of the Borrower, another Loan Party or elsewhere. The Administrative Agent shall apply the net proceeds of any action taken by it pursuant to this Article VII, after deducting all reasonable costs and expenses of every kind incurred in connection therewith or incidental to the care or safekeeping of any of the Collateral or in any other way relating to the Collateral or the rights of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders hereunder, including reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements, to the payment in whole or in part of the Secured Obligations, in such order as set forth in Section 7.03, and only after such application and after the payment by the Administrative Agent of any other amount required by any provision of law, including Section 9-615(a)(3) of the New York Uniform Commercial Code, need the Administrative Agent account for the surplus, if any, to any Loan Party. ARTICLE VIII

The Administrative Agent

SECTION 8.01. Authorization and Action.

(a) Each Lender and each Issuing Bank hereby irrevocably appoints the entity named as Administrative Agent in the heading of this Agreement and its successors and assigns to serve as the administrative agent and collateral agent under the Loan Documents and each Lender and each Issuing Bank authorizes the Administrative Agent to take such actions as agent on its behalf and to exercise such powers under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents as are delegated to the Administrative Agent under such agreements and to exercise such powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Further, each of the Lenders and the Issuing Bank, on behalf of itself and any of its Affiliates that are Secured Parties, hereby irrevocably empower and authorize JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (in its capacity as Administrative Agent) to execute and deliver the Collateral Documents and all related documents or instruments as shall be necessary or appropriate to effect the purposes of the Collateral Documents. In addition, to the extent required under the laws of any jurisdiction other than within the United States, each Lender and each Issuing Bank hereby grants to the Administrative Agent any required powers of attorney to execute and enforce any Collateral Document governed by the laws of such jurisdiction on such Lender's or the Issuing Bank's behalf. Without limiting the foregoing, each Lender and each Issuing Bank hereby authorizes the Administrative Agent to execute and deliver, and to perform its obligations under, each of the Loan Documents to which the Administrative Agent is a party, and to exercise all rights, powers and remedies that the Administrative Agent may have under such Loan Documents.

(b) As to any matters not expressly provided for herein and in the other Loan Documents (including enforcement or collection), the Administrative Agent shall not be required to exercise any discretion or take any action, but shall be required to act or to refrain from acting (and shall be fully protected in so acting or refraining from acting) upon the written instructions of the Required Lenders (or such other number or percentage of the Lenders as shall be necessary, pursuant to the terms in the Loan Documents), and, unless and until revoked in writing, such instructions shall be binding upon each Lender and each Issuing Bank; provided, however, that the Administrative Agent shall not be required to take any action that (i) the Administrative Agent in good faith believes exposes it to liability unless the Administrative Agent receives an indemnification and is exculpated in a manner satisfactory to it from the Lenders and the Issuing Banks with respect to such action or (ii) is contrary to this Agreement or any other Loan Document or applicable law, including any action that may be in violation of the automatic stay under any requirement of law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization or relief of debtors or that may effect a forfeiture, modification or termination of property of a Defaulting Lender in violation of any requirement of law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization or relief of debtors; provided, further, that the Administrative Agent may seek clarification or direction from the Required Lenders prior to the exercise of any such instructed action and may refrain from acting until such clarification or direction has been provided. Except as expressly set forth in the Loan Documents, the Administrative Agent shall not have any duty to disclose, and shall not be liable for the failure to disclose, any information relating to the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any Affiliate of any of the foregoing that is communicated to or obtained by the Person serving as Administrative Agent or any of its Affiliates in any capacity. Nothing in this Agreement shall require the Administrative Agent to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of any of its duties hereunder or in the exercise of any of its rights or powers if it shall have reasonable grounds for believing that repayment of such funds or adequate indemnity against such risk or liability is not reasonably assured to it.

(c) In performing its functions and duties hereunder and under the other Loan Documents, the Administrative Agent is acting solely on behalf of the Lenders and the Issuing Banks (except in limited circumstances expressly provided for herein relating to the maintenance of the Register), and its duties are entirely mechanical and administrative in nature. The motivations of the Administrative Agent, the Arrangers, the Co-Documentation Agents and the Co-Syndication Agents are commercial in nature and not to invest in the general performance or operations of the Borrower. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing:

(i) the Administrative Agent does not assume and shall not be deemed to have assumed any obligation or duty or any other relationship as the agent, fiduciary or trustee of or for any Lender, any Issuing Bank or any other Secured Party other than as expressly set forth herein and in the other Loan Documents, regardless of whether a Default or an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing (and it is understood and agreed that the use of the term "agent" (or any similar term) herein or in any other Loan Document with reference to the Administrative Agent is not intended to connote any fiduciary duty or other implied (or express) obligations arising under agency doctrine of any applicable law, and that such term is used as a matter of market custom and is intended to create or reflect only an administrative relationship between contracting parties); additionally, each Lender agrees that it will not assert any claim against the Administrative Agent based on an alleged breach of fiduciary duty by the Administrative Agent in connection with this Agreement and/or the transactions contemplated hereby;

(ii) where the Administrative Agent is required or deemed to act as a trustee in respect of any Collateral over which a security interest has been created pursuant to a Loan Document expressed to be governed by the laws of any jurisdiction other than the United States of America, or is required or deemed to hold any Collateral "on trust" pursuant to the foregoing, the obligations and liabilities of the Administrative Agent to the Secured Parties in its capacity as trustee shall be excluded to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law; and

(iii) nothing in this Agreement or any Loan Document shall require the Administrative Agent to account to any Lender for any sum or the profit element of any sum received by the Administrative Agent for its own account.

(d) The Administrative Agent may perform any of its duties and exercise its rights and powers hereunder or under any other Loan Document by or through any one or more sub-agents appointed by the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent and any such sub-agent may perform any of their respective duties and exercise their respective rights and powers through their respective Related Parties. The exculpatory provisions of this Article shall apply to any such sub-agent and to the Related Parties of the Administrative Agent and any such sub-agent, and shall apply to their respective activities pursuant to this Agreement. The Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for the negligence or misconduct of any sub-agent except to the extent that a court of competent jurisdiction determines in a final and nonappealable judgment that the Administrative Agent acted with gross negligence or willful misconduct in the selection of such sub-agent.

(e) None of any Co-Syndication Agent, Co-Documentation Agent or any Arranger shall have obligations or duties whatsoever in such capacity under this Agreement or any other Loan Document and shall incur no liability hereunder or thereunder in such capacity, but all such persons shall have the benefit of the indemnities provided for hereunder.

(f) In case of the pendency of any proceeding with respect to any Loan Party under any federal, state or foreign bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership or similar law now or hereafter in effect, the Administrative Agent (irrespective of whether the principal of any Loan or any reimbursement obligation in respect of any LC Disbursement shall then be due and payable as herein expressed or by declaration or otherwise and irrespective of whether the Administrative Agent shall have made any demand on any Loan Party) shall be entitled and empowered (but not obligated) by intervention in such proceeding or otherwise:

(i) to file and prove a claim for the whole amount of the principal and interest owing and unpaid in respect of the Loans, LC Disbursements and all other Secured Obligations that are owing and unpaid and to file such other documents as may be necessary or advisable in order to have the claims of the Lenders, the Issuing Banks and the Administrative Agent (including any claim under Sections 2.12, 2.13, 2.15, 2.17 and 9.03) allowed in such judicial proceeding; and

(ii) to collect and receive any monies or other property payable or deliverable on any such claims and to distribute the same;

and any custodian, receiver, assignee, trustee, liquidator, sequestrator or other similar official in any such proceeding is hereby authorized by each Lender, each Issuing Bank and each other Secured Party to make such payments to the Administrative Agent and, in the event that the Administrative Agent shall consent to the making of such payments directly to the Lenders, the Issuing Banks or the other Secured Parties, to pay to the Administrative Agent any amount due to it, in its capacity as the Administrative Agent, under the Loan Documents (including under Section 9.03). Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to authorize the Administrative Agent to authorize or consent to or accept or adopt on behalf of any Lender or any Issuing Bank any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Secured Obligations or the rights of any Lender or any Issuing Bank or to authorize the Administrative Agent to vote in respect of the claim of any Lender or any Issuing Bank in any such proceeding.

(g) The provisions of this Article VIII are solely for the benefit of the Administrative Agent, the Lenders and the Issuing Banks, and, except solely to the extent of the Borrower's rights to consent pursuant to and subject to the conditions set forth in this Article VIII, none of the Borrower or any Subsidiary, or any of their respective Affiliates, shall have any rights as a third party beneficiary under any such provisions. Each Secured Party, whether or not a party hereto, will be deemed, by its acceptance of the benefits of the Collateral and of the Guarantees of the Secured Obligations provided under the Loan Documents, to have agreed to the provisions of this Article VIII.

SECTION 8.02. Administrative Agent's Reliance, Limitation of Liability, Etc.

(a) Neither the Administrative Agent nor any of its Related Parties shall be (i) liable for any action taken or omitted to be taken by such party, the Administrative Agent or any of its Related Parties under or in connection with this Agreement or the other Loan Documents (x) with the consent of or at the request of the Required Lenders (or such other number or percentage of the Lenders as shall be necessary, or as the Administrative Agent shall believe in good faith to be necessary, under the circumstances as provided in the Loan Documents) or (y) in the absence of its own gross negligence or willful misconduct (such absence to be presumed unless otherwise determined by a court of competent jurisdiction by a final and non-appealable judgment) or (ii) responsible in any manner to any of the Lenders for any recitals, statements, representations or warranties made by any Loan Party or any officer thereof contained in this Agreement or any other Loan Document or in any certificate, report, statement or other document referred to or provided for in, or received by the Administrative Agent under or in connection with, this Agreement or any other Loan Document or for the value, validity, effectiveness, genuineness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Agreement or any other Loan Document (including, for the avoidance of doubt, in connection with the Administrative Agent's reliance on any Electronic Signature transmitted by telecopy, emailed pdf, or any other electronic means that reproduces an image of an actual executed signature page) or for any failure of any Loan Party to perform its obligations hereunder or thereunder.

(b) The Administrative Agent shall be deemed not to have knowledge of any (i) notice of any of the events or circumstances set forth or described in Section 5.02 unless and until written notice thereof (stating that it is a "notice under Section 5.02" in respect of this Agreement and identifying the specific clause under said Section) is given to the Administrative Agent by the Borrower or (ii) notice of any Default or Event of Default unless and until written notice thereof (stating that it is a "notice of Default" or a "notice of an Event of Default") is given to the Administrative Agent by the Borrower, a Lender or the Issuing Bank, and the Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for or have any duty to ascertain or inquire into (i) any statement, warranty or representation made in or in connection with any Loan Document, (ii) the contents of any certificate, report or other document delivered thereunder or in connection therewith, (iii) the performance or observance of any of the covenants, agreements or other terms or conditions set forth in any Loan Document or the occurrence of any Default or Event of Default, (iv) the sufficiency, validity, enforceability, effectiveness or genuineness of any Loan Document or any other agreement, instrument or document, (v) the satisfaction of any condition set forth in Article IV or elsewhere in any Loan Document, other than to confirm receipt of items (which on their face purport to be such items) expressly required to be delivered to the Administrative Agent or satisfaction of any condition that expressly refers to the matters described therein being acceptable or satisfactory to the Administrative Agent or (vi) the creation, perfection or priority of Liens on the Collateral or the existence of the Collateral. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Administrative Agent shall not be liable for, or be responsible for any Liabilities, costs or expenses suffered by the Borrower, any Subsidiary, any Lender or any Issuing Bank as a result of, any determination of the Credit Exposure, any of the component amounts thereof or any portion thereof attributable to each Lender or the Issuing Bank or any Dollar Equivalent thereof.

(c) Without limiting the foregoing, the Administrative Agent (i) may treat the payee of any promissory note as its holder until such promissory note has been assigned in accordance with Section 9.04, (ii) may rely on the Register to the extent set forth in Section 9.04(b), (iii) may consult with legal counsel (including counsel to the Borrower), independent public accountants and other experts selected by it, and shall not be liable for any action taken or omitted to be taken in good faith by it in accordance with the advice of such counsel, accountants or experts, (iv) makes no warranty or representation to any Lender or any Issuing Bank and shall not be responsible to any Lender or Issuing Bank for any statements, warranties or representations made by or on behalf of any Loan Party in connection with this Agreement or any other Loan Document, (v) in determining compliance with any condition hereunder to the making of a Loan, or the issuance of a Letter of Credit, that by its terms must be fulfilled to the satisfaction of a Lender or an Issuing Bank, may presume that such condition is satisfactory to such Lender or such Issuing Bank unless the Administrative Agent shall have received notice to the contrary from such Lender or such Issuing Bank sufficiently in advance of the making of such Loan or the issuance of such Letter of Credit and (vi) shall be entitled to rely on, and shall incur no liability under or in respect of this Agreement or any other Loan Document by acting upon, any notice, consent, certificate or other instrument or writing (which writing may be a fax, any electronic message, Internet or intranet website posting or other distribution) or any statement made to it orally or by telephone and believed by it to be genuine and signed or sent or otherwise authenticated by the proper party or parties (whether or not such Person in fact meets the requirements set forth in the Loan Documents for being the maker thereof).

SECTION 8.03. Posting of Communications.

(a) The Borrower agrees that the Administrative Agent may, but shall not be obligated to, make any Communications available to the Lenders and the Issuing Banks by posting the Communications on IntraLinks™, DebtDomain, SyndTrak, ClearPar or any other electronic platform chosen by the Administrative Agent to be its electronic transmission system (the "Approved Electronic Platform").

(b) Although the Approved Electronic Platform and its primary web portal are secured with generally-applicable security procedures and policies implemented or modified by the Administrative Agent from time to time (including, as of the Effective Date, a user ID/password authorization system) and the Approved Electronic Platform is secured through a per-deal authorization method whereby each user may access the Approved Electronic Platform only on a deal-by-deal basis, each of the Lenders, each of the Issuing Banks and the Borrower acknowledges and agrees that the distribution of material through an electronic medium is not necessarily secure, that the Administrative Agent is not responsible for approving or vetting the representatives or contacts of any Lender that are added to the Approved Electronic Platform, and that there may be confidentiality and other risks associated with such distribution. Each of the Lenders, each of the Issuing Banks and the Borrower hereby approves distribution of the Communications through the Approved Electronic Platform and understands and assumes the risks of such distribution.

(c) THE APPROVED ELECTRONIC PLATFORM AND THE COMMUNICATIONS ARE PROVIDED "AS IS" AND "AS AVAILABLE". THE APPLICABLE PARTIES (AS DEFINED BELOW) DO NOT WARRANT THE ACCURACY OR COMPLETENESS OF THE COMMUNICATIONS, OR THE ADEQUACY OF THE APPROVED ELECTRONIC PLATFORM AND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIM LIABILITY FOR ERRORS OR OMISSIONS IN THE APPROVED ELECTRONIC PLATFORM AND THE COMMUNICATIONS. NO WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS, IMPLIED OR STATUTORY, INCLUDING ANY WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, NON-INFRINGEMENT OF THIRD PARTY RIGHTS OR FREEDOM FROM VIRUSES OR OTHER CODE DEFECTS, IS MADE BY THE APPLICABLE PARTIES IN CONNECTION WITH THE COMMUNICATIONS OR THE APPROVED ELECTRONIC PLATFORM. IN NO EVENT SHALL THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT, ANY ARRANGER, ANY CO-SYNDICATION AGENT, ANY CO-DOCUMENTATION AGENT OR ANY OF THEIR RESPECTIVE RELATED PARTIES (COLLECTIVELY, "APPLICABLE PARTIES") HAVE ANY LIABILITY TO ANY LOAN PARTY, ANY LENDER, ANY ISSUING BANK OR ANY OTHER PERSON OR ENTITY FOR DAMAGES OF ANY KIND, INCLUDING DIRECT OR INDIRECT, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, LOSSES OR EXPENSES (WHETHER IN TORT, CONTRACT OR OTHERWISE) ARISING OUT OF ANY LOAN PARTY'S OR THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT'S TRANSMISSION OF COMMUNICATIONS THROUGH THE INTERNET OR THE APPROVED ELECTRONIC PLATFORM.

(d) Each Lender and each Issuing Bank agrees that notice to it (as provided in the next sentence) specifying that Communications have been posted to the Approved Electronic Platform shall constitute effective delivery of the Communications to such Lender for purposes of the Loan Documents. Each Lender and each Issuing Bank agrees (i) to notify the Administrative Agent in writing (which could be in the form of electronic communication) from time to time of such Lender's or each Issuing Bank's (as applicable) email address to which the foregoing notice may be sent by electronic transmission and (ii) that the foregoing notice may be sent to such email address.

(e) Each of the Lenders, each of the Issuing Banks and the Borrower agrees that the Administrative Agent may, but (except as may be required by applicable law) shall not be obligated to, store the Communications on the Approved Electronic Platform in accordance with the Administrative Agent's generally applicable document retention procedures and policies.

(f) Nothing herein shall prejudice the right of the Administrative Agent, any Lender or any Issuing Bank to give any notice or other communication pursuant to any Loan Document in any other manner specified in such Loan Document.

SECTION 8.04. The Administrative Agent Individually. With respect to its Commitments, Letter of Credit Commitments, Loans (including Swingline Loans) and Letters of Credit, the Person serving as the Administrative Agent shall have and may exercise the same rights and powers hereunder and is subject to the same obligations and liabilities as and to the extent set forth herein for any other Lender or Issuing Bank, as the case may be. The terms "Issuing Banks", "Lenders", "Required Lenders", "Required Revolving Lenders" and any similar terms shall, unless the context clearly otherwise indicates, include the Administrative Agent in its individual capacity as a Lender, an Issuing Bank or as one of the Required Lenders or Required Revolving Lenders, as applicable. The Person serving as the Administrative Agent and its Affiliates may accept deposits from, lend money to, own securities of, act as the financial advisor or in any other advisory capacity for and generally engage in any kind of banking, trust or other business with, the Borrower, any Subsidiary or any Affiliate of any of the foregoing as if such Person was not acting as the Administrative Agent and without any duty to account therefor to the Lenders or the Issuing Banks.

SECTION 8.05. Successor Administrative Agent.

(a) The Administrative Agent may resign at any time by giving 30 days' prior written notice thereof to the Lenders, the Issuing Banks and the Borrower, whether or not a successor Administrative Agent has been appointed. Upon any such resignation, the Required Lenders shall have the right to appoint a successor Administrative Agent. If no successor Administrative Agent shall have been so appointed by the Required Lenders, and shall have accepted such appointment, within 30 days after the retiring Administrative Agent's giving of notice of resignation, then the retiring Administrative Agent may, on behalf of the Lenders and the Issuing Banks, appoint a successor Administrative Agent, which shall be a bank with an office in New York, New York or an Affiliate of any such bank. In either case, such appointment shall be subject to the prior written approval of the Borrower (which approval may not be unreasonably withheld and shall not be required while an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing). Upon the acceptance of any appointment as Administrative Agent by a successor Administrative Agent, such successor Administrative Agent shall succeed to, and become vested with, all the rights, powers, privileges and duties of the retiring Administrative Agent. Upon the acceptance of appointment as Administrative Agent by a successor Administrative Agent, the retiring Administrative Agent shall be discharged from its duties and obligations under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. Prior to any retiring Administrative Agent's resignation hereunder as Administrative Agent, the retiring Administrative Agent shall take such action as may be reasonably necessary to assign to the successor Administrative Agent its rights as Administrative Agent under the Loan Documents.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) of this Section, in the event no successor Administrative Agent shall have been so appointed and shall have accepted such appointment within 30 days after the retiring Administrative Agent gives notice of its intent to resign, the retiring Administrative Agent may give notice of the effectiveness of its resignation to the Lenders, the Issuing Banks and the Borrower, whereupon, on the date of effectiveness of such resignation stated in such notice, (i) the retiring Administrative Agent shall be discharged from its duties and obligations hereunder and under the other Loan Documents; provided that, solely for purposes of maintaining any security interest granted to the Administrative Agent under any Collateral Document for the benefit of the Secured Parties, the retiring Administrative Agent shall continue to be vested with such security interest as collateral agent for the benefit of the Secured Parties, and continue to be entitled to the rights set forth in such Collateral Document and Loan Document, and, in the case of any Collateral in the possession of the Administrative Agent, shall continue to hold such Collateral, in each case until such time as a successor Administrative Agent is appointed and accepts such appointment in accordance with this Section (it being understood and agreed that the retiring Administrative Agent shall have no duty or obligation to take any further action under any Collateral Document, including any action required to maintain the perfection of any such security interest) and (ii) the Required Lenders shall succeed to and become vested with all the rights, powers, privileges and duties of the retiring Administrative Agent; provided that (A) all payments required to be made hereunder or under any other Loan Document to the Administrative Agent for the account of any Person other than the Administrative Agent shall be made directly to such Person and (B) all notices and other communications required or contemplated to be given or made to the Administrative Agent shall directly be given or made to each Lender and each Issuing Bank. Following the effectiveness of the Administrative Agent's resignation from its capacity as such, the provisions of this Article VIII and Section 9.03, as well as any exculpatory, reimbursement and indemnification provisions set forth in any other Loan Document, shall continue in effect for the benefit of such retiring Administrative Agent, its sub-agents and their respective Related Parties in respect of any actions taken or omitted to be taken by any of them while the retiring Administrative Agent was acting as Administrative Agent and in respect of the matters referred to in the proviso under clause (i) above.

SECTION 8.06. Acknowledgements of Lenders and Issuing Banks.

(a) Each Lender and each Issuing Bank represents and warrants that (i) the Loan Documents set forth the terms of a commercial lending facility, (ii) in participating as a Lender, it is engaged in making, acquiring or holding commercial loans and in providing other facilities set forth herein as may be applicable to such Lender or the Issuing Bank, in each case in the ordinary course of business, and not for the purpose of investing in the general performance or operations of the Borrower, or for the purpose of purchasing, acquiring or holding any other type of financial instrument such as a security (and each Lender and each Issuing Bank agrees not to assert a claim in contravention of the foregoing, such as a claim under federal or state securities law), (iii) it has, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent, any Arranger, any Co-Syndication Agent, any Co-Documentation Agent or any other Lender or the Issuing Bank, or any of the Related Parties of any of the foregoing, and based on such documents and information as it has deemed appropriate, made its own credit analysis and decision to enter into this Agreement as a Lender, and to make, acquire or hold Loans hereunder and (iv) it is sophisticated with respect to decisions to make, acquire and/or hold commercial loans and to provide other facilities set forth herein, as may be applicable to such Lender or the Issuing Bank, and either it, or the Person exercising discretion in making its decision to make, acquire and/or hold such commercial loans or to provide such other facilities, is experienced in making, acquiring or holding such commercial loans or providing such other facilities. Each Lender and the Issuing Bank also acknowledges that it will, independently and without reliance upon the Administrative Agent, any Arranger, any Co-Syndication Agent, any Co-Documentation Agent or any other Lender or the Issuing Bank, or any of the Related Parties of any of the foregoing, and based on such documents and information (which may contain material, non-public information within the meaning of the United States securities laws concerning the Borrower and its Affiliates) as it shall from time to time deem appropriate, continue to make its own decisions in taking or not taking action under or based upon this Agreement, any other Loan Document or any related agreement or any document furnished hereunder or thereunder.

(b) Each Lender, by delivering its signature page to this Agreement on the Effective Date, or delivering its signature page to an Assignment and Assumption or any other Loan Document pursuant to which it shall become a Lender hereunder, shall be deemed to have acknowledged receipt of, and consented to and approved, each Loan Document and each other document required to be delivered to, or be approved by or satisfactory to, the Administrative Agent or the Lenders on the Effective Date.

(i) Each Lender hereby agrees that (x) if the Administrative Agent notifies such Lender that the Administrative Agent has determined in its sole discretion that any funds received by such Lender from the Administrative Agent or any of its Affiliates (whether as a payment, prepayment or repayment of principal, interest, fees or otherwise; individually and collectively, a "Payment") were erroneously transmitted to such Lender (whether or not known to such Lender), and demands the return of such Payment (or a portion thereof), such Lender shall promptly, but in no event later than one (1) Business Day thereafter (or such later date as the Administrative Agent, may, in its sole discretion, specify in writing), return to the Administrative Agent the amount of any such Payment (or portion thereof) as to which such a demand was made in same day funds, together with interest thereon (except to the extent waived in writing by the Administrative Agent) in respect of each day from and including the date such Payment (or portion thereof) was received by such Lender to the date such amount is repaid to the Administrative Agent at the greater of the NYFRB Rate and a rate determined by the Administrative Agent in accordance with banking industry rules on interbank compensation from time to time in effect, and (y) to the extent permitted by applicable law, such Lender shall not assert, and hereby waives, as to the Administrative Agent, any claim, counterclaim, defense or right of set-off or recoupment with respect to any demand, claim or counterclaim by the Administrative Agent for the return of any Payments received, including without limitation any defense based on "discharge for value" or any similar doctrine. A notice of the Administrative Agent to any Lender under this Section 8.06(c) shall be conclusive, absent manifest error.

(ii) Each Lender hereby further agrees that if it receives a Payment from the Administrative Agent or any of its Affiliates (x) that is in a different amount than, or on a different date from, that specified in a notice of payment sent by the Administrative Agent (or any of its Affiliates) with respect to such Payment (a "Payment Notice") or (y) that was not preceded or accompanied by a Payment Notice, it shall be on notice, in each such case, that an error has been made with respect to such Payment. Each Lender agrees that, in each such case, or if it otherwise becomes aware a Payment (or portion thereof) may have been sent in error, such Lender shall promptly notify the Administrative Agent of such occurrence and, upon demand from the Administrative Agent, it shall promptly, but in no event later than one (1) Business Day thereafter (or such later date as the Administrative Agent, may, in its sole discretion, specify in writing), return to the Administrative Agent the amount of any such Payment (or portion thereof) as to which such a demand was made in same day funds, together with interest thereon (except to the extent waived in writing by the Administrative Agent) in respect of each day from and including the date such Payment (or portion thereof) was received by such Lender to the date such amount is repaid to the Administrative Agent at the greater of the NYFRB Rate and a rate determined by the Administrative Agent in accordance with banking industry rules on interbank compensation from time to time in effect.

(iii) The Borrower and each other Loan Party hereby agrees that (x) in the event an erroneous Payment (or portion thereof) are not recovered from any Lender that has received such Payment (or portion thereof) for any reason, the Administrative Agent shall be subrogated to all the rights of such Lender with respect to such amount and (y) an erroneous Payment shall not pay, prepay, repay, discharge or otherwise satisfy any Obligations (or any other Secured Obligations) owed by the Borrower or any other Loan Party.

(iv) Each party's obligations under this Section 8.06(c) shall survive the resignation or replacement of the Administrative Agent or any transfer of rights or obligations by, or the replacement of, a Lender, the termination of the Commitments or the repayment, satisfaction or discharge of all Obligations under any Loan Document.

SECTION 8.07. Collateral Matters.

(a) Except with respect to the exercise of setoff rights in accordance with Section 9.08 or with respect to a Secured Party's right to file a proof of claim in an insolvency proceeding, no Secured Party shall have any right individually to realize upon any of the Collateral or to enforce any Guarantee of the Secured Obligations, it being understood and agreed that all powers, rights and remedies under the Loan Documents may be exercised solely by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Secured Parties in accordance with the terms thereof. In its capacity, the Administrative Agent is a "representative" of the Secured Parties within the meaning of the term "secured party" as defined in the UCC. In the event that any Collateral is hereafter pledged by any Person as collateral security for the Secured Obligations, the Administrative Agent is hereby authorized, and hereby granted a power of attorney, to execute and deliver on behalf of the Secured Parties any Loan Documents necessary or appropriate to grant and perfect a Lien on such Collateral in favor of the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Secured Parties. The Lenders hereby authorize the Administrative Agent, at its option and in its discretion, to release any Lien granted to or held by the Administrative Agent upon any Collateral (i) as described in Section 9.02(d); (ii) as permitted by, but only in accordance with, the terms of the applicable Loan Document; or (iii) if approved, authorized or ratified in writing by the Required Lenders, unless such release is required to be approved by all of the Lenders hereunder. Upon request by the Administrative Agent at any time, the Lenders will confirm in writing the Administrative Agent's authority to release particular types or items of Collateral pursuant hereto. Upon any sale or transfer of assets constituting Collateral which is permitted pursuant to the terms of any Loan Document, or consented to in writing by the Required Lenders or all of the Lenders, as applicable, and upon at least five (5) Business Days' prior written request by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent shall (and is hereby irrevocably authorized by the Lenders to) execute such documents as may be necessary to evidence the release of the Liens granted to the Administrative Agent for the benefit of the Secured Parties herein or pursuant hereto upon the Collateral that was sold or transferred; provided, however, that (i) the Administrative Agent shall not be required to execute any such document on terms which, in the Administrative Agent's reasonable opinion, would expose the Administrative Agent to liability or create any obligation or entail any consequence other than the release of such Liens without recourse or warranty, and (ii) such release shall not in any manner discharge, affect or impair the Secured Obligations or any Liens upon (or obligations of the Loan Parties in respect of) all interests retained by any Loan Party, including (without limitation) the proceeds of the sale, all of which shall continue to constitute part of the Collateral. Any execution and delivery by the Administrative Agent of documents in connection with any such release shall be without recourse to or warranty by the Administrative Agent.

(b) In furtherance of the foregoing and not in limitation thereof, no Banking Services Agreement or Swap Agreement will create (or be deemed to create) in favor of any Secured Party that is a party thereto any rights in connection with the management or release of any Collateral or of the obligations of any Loan Party under any Loan Document. By accepting the benefits of the Collateral, each Secured Party that is a party to any such Banking Services Agreement or Swap Agreement, as applicable, shall be deemed to have appointed the Administrative Agent to serve as administrative agent and collateral agent under the Loan Documents and agreed to be bound by the Loan Documents as a Secured Party thereunder, subject to the limitations set forth in this paragraph.

(c) The Secured Parties irrevocably authorize the Administrative Agent, at its option and in its discretion, to subordinate any Lien on any property granted to or held by the Administrative Agent under any Loan Document to the holder of any Lien on such property that is permitted by Section 6.02(~~b~~c). The Administrative Agent shall not be responsible for or have a duty to ascertain or inquire into any representation or warranty regarding the existence, value or collectability of the Collateral, the existence, priority or perfection of the Administrative Agent's Lien thereon or any certificate prepared by any Loan Party in connection therewith, nor shall the Administrative Agent be responsible or liable to the Lenders or any other Secured Party for any failure to monitor or maintain any portion of the Collateral.

SECTION 8.08. Credit Bidding; DIP Considerations.

(a) The Secured Parties hereby irrevocably authorize the Administrative Agent, at the direction of the Required Lenders, to credit bid all or any portion of the Secured Obligations (including by accepting some or all of the Collateral in satisfaction of some or all of the Secured Obligations pursuant to a deed in lieu of foreclosure or otherwise) and in such manner purchase (either directly or through one or more acquisition vehicles) all or any portion of the Collateral (a) at any sale thereof conducted under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code, including under Sections 363, 1123 or 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code, or any similar laws in any other jurisdictions to which a Loan Party is subject, or (b) at any other sale, foreclosure or acceptance of collateral in lieu of debt conducted by (or with the consent or at the direction of) the Administrative Agent (whether by judicial action or otherwise) in accordance with any applicable law. In connection with any such credit bid and purchase, the Secured Obligations owed to the Secured Parties shall be entitled to be, and shall be, credit bid by the Administrative Agent at the direction of the Required Lenders on a ratable basis (with Secured Obligations with respect to contingent or unliquidated claims receiving contingent interests in the acquired assets on a ratable basis that shall vest upon the liquidation of such claims in an amount proportional to the liquidated portion of the contingent claim amount used in allocating the contingent interests) for the asset or assets so purchased (or for the equity interests or debt instruments of the acquisition vehicle or vehicles that are issued in connection with such purchase). In connection with any such bid, (i) the Administrative Agent shall be authorized to form one or more acquisition vehicles and to assign any successful credit bid to such acquisition vehicle or vehicles, (ii) each of the Secured Parties' ratable interests in the Secured Obligations which were credit bid shall be deemed without any further action under this Agreement to be assigned to such vehicle or vehicles for the purpose of closing such sale, (iii) the Administrative Agent shall be authorized to adopt documents providing for the governance of the acquisition vehicle or vehicles (provided that any actions by the Administrative Agent with respect to such acquisition vehicle or vehicles, including any disposition of the assets or equity interests thereof, shall be governed, directly or indirectly, by, and the governing documents shall provide for, control by the vote of the Required Lenders or their permitted assignees under the terms of this Agreement or the governing documents of the applicable acquisition vehicle or vehicles, as the case may be, irrespective of the termination of this Agreement and without giving effect to the limitations on actions by the Required Lenders contained in Section 9.02 of this Agreement), (iv) the Administrative Agent on behalf of such acquisition vehicle or vehicles shall be authorized to issue to each of the Secured Parties, ratably on account of the relevant Secured Obligations which were credit bid, interests, whether as equity, partnership interests, limited partnership interests or membership interests, in any such acquisition vehicle and/or debt instruments issued by such acquisition vehicle, all without the need for any Secured Party or acquisition vehicle to take any further action, and (v) to the extent that Secured Obligations that are assigned to an acquisition vehicle are not used to acquire Collateral for any reason (as a result of another bid being higher or better, because the amount of Secured Obligations assigned to the acquisition vehicle exceeds the amount of Secured Obligations credit bid by the acquisition vehicle or otherwise), such Secured Obligations shall automatically be reassigned to the Secured Parties pro rata with their original interest in such Secured Obligations and the equity interests and/or debt instruments issued by any acquisition vehicle on account of such Secured Obligations shall automatically be cancelled, without the need for any Secured Party or any acquisition vehicle to take any further action. Notwithstanding that the ratable portion of the Secured Obligations of each Secured Party are deemed assigned to the acquisition vehicle or vehicles as set forth in clause (ii) above, each Secured Party shall execute such documents and provide such information regarding the Secured Party (and/or any designee of the Secured Party which will receive interests in or debt instruments issued by such acquisition vehicle) as the Administrative Agent may reasonably request in connection with the formation of any acquisition vehicle, the formulation or submission of any credit bid or the consummation of the transactions contemplated by such credit bid.

(b) The Administrative Agent is hereby directed to oppose any debtor-in-possession financing that is not offered to all then existing Lenders on a pro rata basis and no Lender shall direct the Administrative Agent to take any contrary action. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, no amendment, modification or waiver to this Agreement shall change any of the provisions of this Section 8.08(b) without the written consent of each Lender.

SECTION 8.09. Certain ERISA Matters.

(a) Each Lender (x) represents and warrants, as of the date such Person became a Lender party hereto, to, and (y) covenants, from the date such Person became a Lender party hereto to the date such Person ceases being a Lender party hereto, for the benefit of, the Administrative Agent, and the Arrangers and their respective Affiliates, and not, for the avoidance of doubt, to or for the benefit of the Borrower or any other Loan Party, that at least one of the following is and will be true:

(i) such Lender is not using "plan assets" (within the meaning of the Plan Asset Regulations) of one or more Benefit Plans in connection with the Loans, the Letters of Credit or the Commitments,

(ii) the transaction exemption set forth in one or more PTEs, such as PTE 84-14 (a class exemption for certain transactions determined by independent qualified professional asset managers), PTE 95-60 (a class exemption for certain transactions involving insurance company general accounts), PTE 90-1 (a class exemption for certain transactions involving insurance company pooled separate accounts), PTE 91-38 (a class exemption for certain transactions involving bank collective investment funds) or PTE 96-23 (a class exemption for certain transactions determined by in-house asset managers), is applicable with respect to such Lender's entrance into, participation in, administration of and performance of the Loans, the Letters of Credit, the Commitments and this Agreement,

(iii) (A) such Lender is an investment fund managed by a "Qualified Professional Asset Manager" (within the meaning of Part VI of PTE 84-14), (B) such Qualified Professional Asset Manager made the investment decision on behalf of such Lender to enter into, participate in, administer and perform the Loans, the Letters of Credit, the Commitments and this Agreement, (C) the entrance into, participation in, administration of and performance of the Loans, the Letters of Credit, the Commitments and this Agreement satisfies the requirements of sub-sections (b) through (g) of Part I of PTE 84-14 and (D) to the best knowledge of such Lender, the requirements of subsection (a) of Part I of PTE 84-14 are satisfied with respect to such Lender's entrance into, participation in, administration of and performance of the Loans, the Letters of Credit, the Commitments and this Agreement, or

(iv) such other representation, warranty and covenant as may be agreed in writing between the Administrative Agent, in its sole discretion, and such Lender.

(b) In addition, unless sub-clause (i) in the immediately preceding clause (a) is true with respect to a Lender or such Lender has provided another representation, warranty and covenant as provided in sub-clause (iv) in the immediately preceding clause (a), such Lender further (x) represents and warrants, as of the date such Person became a Lender party hereto, to, and (y) covenants, from the date such Person became a Lender party hereto to the date such Person ceases being a Lender party hereto, for the benefit of, the Administrative Agent, the Arrangers, the Co-Syndication Agents, the Co-Documentation Agents or any of their respective Affiliates, and not, for the avoidance of doubt, to or for the benefit of the Borrower or any other Loan Party, that none of the Administrative Agent, the Arrangers, the Co-Syndication Agents, the Co-Documentation Agents or any of their respective Affiliates is a fiduciary with respect to the Collateral or the assets of such Lender (including in connection with the reservation or exercise of any rights by the Administrative Agent under this Agreement, any Loan Document or any documents related hereto or thereto).

(c) The Administrative Agent and each Arranger and each Co-Documentation Agent and Co-Syndication Agent each hereby informs the Lenders that each such Person is not undertaking to provide investment advice, or to give advice in a fiduciary capacity, in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby, and that such Person has a financial interest in the transactions contemplated hereby in that such Person or an Affiliate thereof (i) may receive interest or other payments with respect to the Loans, the Letters of Credit, the Commitments, this Agreement and any other Loan Documents, (ii) may recognize a gain if it extended the Loans, the Letters of Credit or the Commitments for an amount less than the amount being paid for an interest in the Loans, the Letters of Credit or the Commitments by such Lender or (iii) may receive fees or other payments in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby, the Loan Documents or otherwise, including structuring fees, arrangement fees, facility fees, commitment fees, upfront fees, underwriting fees, ticking fees, agency fees, administrative agent fees or collateral agent fees, utilization fees, minimum usage fees, letter of credit fees, fronting fees, deal-away or alternate transaction fees, amendment fees, processing fees, term out premiums, banker's acceptance fees, breakage or other early termination fees or fees similar to the foregoing.

SECTION 8.10. Borrower Communications. (a) The Administrative Agent, the Lenders and the Issuing Banks agree that the Borrower may, but shall not be obligated to, make any Borrower Communications to the Administrative Agent through an electronic platform chosen by the Administrative Agent to be its electronic transmission system (the "Approved Borrower Portal").

(b) Although the Approved Borrower Portal and its primary web portal are secured with generally-applicable security procedures and policies implemented or modified by the Administrative Agent from time to time (including, as of the Amendment No. 3 Effective Date, a user ID/password authorization system), each of the Lenders, each of the Issuing Banks and the Borrower acknowledges and agrees that the distribution of material through an electronic medium is not necessarily secure, that the Administrative Agent is not responsible for approving or vetting the representatives or contacts of the Borrower that are added to the Approved Borrower Portal, and that there may be confidentiality and other risks associated with such distribution. Each of the Lenders, each of the Issuing Banks and the Borrower hereby approves distribution of Borrower Communications through the Approved Borrower Portal and understands and assumes the risks of such distribution.

(c) THE APPROVED BORROWER PORTAL IS PROVIDED "AS IS" AND "AS AVAILABLE". THE APPLICABLE PARTIES (AS DEFINED BELOW) DO NOT WARRANT THE ACCURACY OR COMPLETENESS OF THE BORROWER COMMUNICATION, OR THE ADEQUACY OF THE APPROVED BORROWER PORTAL AND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIM

LIABILITY FOR ERRORS OR OMISSIONS IN THE APPROVED BORROWER PORTAL AND THE BORROWER COMUNICATIONS. NO WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS, IMPLIED OR STATUTORY, INCLUDING ANY WARRANTY OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, NON-INFRINGEMENT OF THIRD PARTY RIGHTS OR FREEDOM FROM VIRUSES OR OTHER CODE DEFECTS, IS MADE BY THE APPLICABLE PARTIES IN CONNECTION WITH THE BORROWER COMMUNICATIONS OR THE APPROVED BORROWER PORTAL. IN NO EVENT SHALL THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT, ANY ARRANGER, ANY CO-DOCUMENTATION AGENT, ANY CO-SYNDICATION AGENT OR ANY OF THEIR RESPECTIVE RELATED PARTIES (COLLECTIVELY, "APPLICABLE PARTIES") HAVE ANY LIABILITY TO ANY LOAN PARTY, ANY LENDER, ANY ISSUING BANK OR ANY OTHER PERSON OR ENTITY FOR DAMAGES OF ANY KIND, INCLUDING DIRECT OR INDIRECT, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES, LOSSES OR EXPENSES (WHETHER IN TORT, CONTRACT OR OTHERWISE) ARISING OUT OF THE BORROWER'S TRANSMISSION OF BORROWER COMMUNICATIONS THROUGH THE INTERNET OR THE APPROVED BORROWER PORTAL.

(d) Each of the Lenders, each of the Issuing Banks and the Borrower agrees that the Administrative Agent may, but (except as may be required by applicable law) shall not be obligated to, store the Borrower Communications on the Approved Borrower Portal in accordance with the Administrative Agent's generally applicable document retention procedures and policies.

(e) Nothing herein shall prejudice the right of the Borrower to give any notice or other communication pursuant to any Loan Document in any other manner specified in such Loan Document.

(v) if to the Swingline Lender, to it at the address separately provided to the Borrower; and

(vi) if to any other Lender or Issuing Bank, to it at its address (or telecopy number) set forth in its Administrative Questionnaire.

Notices sent by hand or overnight courier service, or mailed by certified or registered mail, shall be deemed to have been given when received; notices sent by facsimile shall be deemed to have been given when sent (except that, if not given during normal business hours for the recipient, shall be deemed to have been given at the opening of business on the next business day for the recipient). Notices delivered through Approved Electronic Platforms or Approved Borrower Portals, to the extent provided in paragraph (b) below, shall be effective as provided in said paragraph (b).

(b) Notices and other communications to any Loan Party, the Lenders, the Administrative Agent and the Issuing Banks hereunder may be delivered or furnished by using Approved Electronic Platforms or Approved Borrower Portals (as applicable), in each case, pursuant to procedures approved by the Administrative Agent; provided that the foregoing shall not apply to notices pursuant to Article II unless otherwise agreed by the Administrative Agent and the applicable Lender. The Administrative Agent or the Borrower may, in its discretion, agree to accept notices and other communications to it hereunder by electronic communications pursuant to procedures approved by it; provided that approval of such procedures may be limited to particular notices or communications.

(c) Unless the Administrative Agent otherwise prescribes, (i) notices and other communications sent to an e-mail address shall be deemed received upon the sender's receipt of an acknowledgement from the intended recipient (such as by the "return receipt requested" function, as available, return e-mail or other written acknowledgement), and (ii) notices or communications posted to an Internet or intranet website shall be deemed received upon the deemed receipt by the intended recipient, at its e-mail address as described in the foregoing clause (i), of notification that such notice or communication is available and identifying the website address therefor; provided that, for both clauses (i) and (ii) above, if such notice, email or other communication is not sent during the normal business hours of the recipient, such notice or communication shall be deemed to have been sent at the opening of business on the next business day for the recipient.

(d) Any party hereto may change its address or telecopy number for notices and other communications hereunder by notice to the other parties hereto.

SECTION 9.02. Waivers; Amendments. (a) No failure or delay by the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any Lender in exercising any right or power hereunder or under any other Loan Document shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any such right or power, or any abandonment or discontinuance of steps to enforce such a right or power, preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right or power. The rights and remedies of the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Banks and the Lenders hereunder and under the other Loan Documents are cumulative and are not exclusive of any rights or remedies that they would otherwise have. No waiver of any provision of this Agreement or consent to any departure by the Borrower therefrom shall in any event be effective unless the same shall be permitted by paragraph (b) of this Section, and then such waiver or consent shall be effective only in the specific instance and for the purpose for which given. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the making of a Loan or issuance of a Letter of Credit shall not be construed as a waiver of any Default, regardless of whether the Administrative Agent, any Lender or any Issuing Bank may have had notice or knowledge of such Default at the time.

(b) Except as provided in Section 2.20 with respect to an Incremental Term Loan Amendment or as provided in Section 2.14(b) and Section 2.14(c), neither this Agreement nor any provision hereof may be waived, amended or modified except pursuant to an agreement or agreements in writing entered into by the Borrower and the Required Lenders or by the Borrower and the Administrative Agent with the consent of the Required Lenders; provided that no such agreement shall (i) increase the Commitment of any Lender without the written consent of such Lender, (ii) reduce the principal amount of any Loan or LC Disbursement or reduce the rate of interest thereon, or reduce any fees payable hereunder, without the written consent of each Lender directly affected thereby (except that none of (A) any amendment or modification of the Financial Covenants (or defined terms used in the Financial Covenants) or (B) the waiver or reduction of any obligation of the Borrower to pay interest or fees at the applicable default rate set forth in Section 2.13(ed) shall constitute a reduction in the rate of interest or fees for purposes of this clause (ii)), (iii) postpone the scheduled date of payment of the principal amount of any Loan or LC Disbursement, or any interest thereon (other than interest payable at the applicable default rate set forth in Section 2.13(ed)), or any fees payable hereunder, or reduce the amount of, waive or excuse any such payment, or postpone the scheduled date of expiration of any Commitment, without the written consent of each Lender directly affected thereby, (iv) change Section 2.09(c) or 2.18(b) or (c) in a manner that would alter the ratable reduction of Commitments or the pro rata sharing of payments required thereby, without the written consent of each Lender, (v) change the payment waterfall provisions of Section 2.21(b) or 7.03 without the written consent of each Lender, (vi) [reserved], (vii) change any of the provisions of this Section or the definition of "Required Lenders" or any other provision hereof specifying the number or percentage of Lenders required to waive, amend or modify any rights hereunder or make any determination or grant any consent hereunder, without the written consent of each Lender (it being understood that, solely with the consent of the parties prescribed by Section 2.20 to be parties to an Incremental Term Loan Amendment, Incremental Term Loans may be included in the determination of Required Lenders on substantially the same basis as the Commitments and the Loans are included on the Effective Date), (viii) (A) release the Borrower from its obligations under Article X or (B) release all or substantially all of the Subsidiary Guarantors from their obligations under the Subsidiary Guaranty, in each case, without the written consent of each Lender, or (ix) except as provided in clause (d) of this Section or in any Collateral Document, release all or substantially all of the Collateral, without the written consent of each Lender; provided further that no such agreement shall amend, modify or otherwise affect the rights or duties of the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or the Swingline Lender hereunder without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent, such Issuing Bank or the Swingline Lender, as the case may be (it being understood that any change to Section 2.21 shall require the consent of the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Banks and the Swingline Lender); and provided further that no such agreement shall amend or modify the provisions of Section 2.06 without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent and such Issuing Bank. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no consent with respect to any amendment, waiver or other modification of this Agreement shall be required of any Defaulting Lender, except with respect to any amendment, waiver or other modification referred to in clause (i), (ii) or (iii) of the first proviso of this paragraph and then only in the event such Defaulting Lender shall be directly affected by such amendment, waiver or other modification.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Agreement and any other Loan Document may be amended (or amended and restated) with the written consent of the Required Lenders, the Administrative Agent and the Borrower (x) to add one or more credit facilities (in addition to the Incremental Term Loans pursuant to an Incremental Amendment) to this Agreement and to permit extensions of credit from time to time outstanding thereunder and the accrued interest and fees in respect thereof to share ratably in the benefits of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents with the Revolving Loans, the initial Term Loans, Incremental Term Loans and the accrued interest and fees in respect thereof and (y) to include appropriately the Lenders holding such credit facilities in any determination of the Required Lenders and Lenders (it being understood and agreed that any such amendment in connection with new or increases to the Commitments and/or Incremental Term Loans in accordance with Section 2.20 shall require solely the consent of the parties prescribed by such Section and shall not require the consent of the Required Lenders).

(d) The Lenders hereby irrevocably authorize the Administrative Agent, at its option and in its sole discretion, to release any Liens granted to the Administrative Agent by the Loan Parties on any Collateral (i) upon the satisfaction of the Final Release Conditions, (ii) upon the termination of all the Commitments, payment and satisfaction in full in cash of all Secured Obligations (other than Swap Obligations not yet due and payable, Banking Services Obligations not yet due and payable, Unliquidated Obligations for which no claim has been made and other Obligations expressly stated to survive such payment and termination), and the cash collateralization of all Unliquidated Obligations in a manner satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, (iii) constituting property being sold or disposed of if the Borrower certifies to the Administrative Agent that the sale or disposition is made in compliance with the terms of this Agreement (and the Administrative Agent may rely conclusively on any such certificate, without further inquiry), (iv) constituting property leased to the Borrower or any Subsidiary under a lease which has expired or been terminated in a transaction permitted under this Agreement, or (v) as required to effect any sale or other disposition of such Collateral in connection with any exercise of remedies of the Administrative Agent and the Lenders pursuant to Article VII. Any such release shall not in any manner discharge, affect, or impair the Secured Obligations or any Liens (other than those expressly being released) upon (or obligations of the Loan Parties in respect of) all interests retained by the Loan Parties, including the proceeds of any sale, all of which shall continue to constitute part of the Collateral (except to the extent any of the foregoing constitutes Excluded Assets). In addition, each of the Lenders, on behalf of itself and any of its Affiliates that are Secured Parties, irrevocably authorizes the Administrative Agent, at its option and in its discretion, (i) to subordinate any Lien on any assets granted to or held by the Administrative Agent under any Loan Document to the holder of any Lien on such property that is permitted by Section 6.02(e) or (ii) in the event that the Borrower shall have advised the Administrative Agent that, notwithstanding the use by the Borrower of commercially reasonable efforts to obtain the consent of such holder (but without the requirement to pay any sums to obtain such consent) to permit the Administrative Agent to retain its liens (on a subordinated basis as contemplated by clause (i) above), the holder of such other Indebtedness requires, as a condition to the extension of such credit, that the Liens on such assets granted to or held by the Administrative Agent under any Loan Document be released, to release the Administrative Agent's Liens on such assets.

(e) If, in connection with any proposed amendment, waiver or consent requiring the consent of "each Lender" or "each Lender directly affected thereby," the consent of the Required Lenders is obtained, but the consent of other necessary Lenders is not obtained (any such Lender whose consent is necessary but not obtained being referred to herein as a "Non-Consenting Lender"), then the Borrower may elect to replace a Non-Consenting Lender as a Lender party to this Agreement, provided that, concurrently with such replacement, (i) another bank or other entity which is reasonably satisfactory to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent shall agree, as of such date, to purchase for cash the Loans and other Obligations due to the Non-Consenting Lender pursuant to an Assignment and Assumption and to become a Lender for all purposes under this Agreement and to assume all obligations of the Non-Consenting Lender to be terminated as of such date and to comply with the requirements of clause (b) of Section 9.04, (ii) the Borrower shall pay to such Non-Consenting Lender in same day funds on the day of such replacement (1) all interest, fees and other amounts then accrued but unpaid to such Non-Consenting Lender by the Borrower hereunder to and including the date of termination, including without limitation payments due to such Non-Consenting Lender under Sections 2.15 and 2.17, and (2) an amount, if any, equal to the payment which would have been due to such Lender on the day of such replacement under Section 2.16 had the Loans of such Non-Consenting Lender been prepaid on such date rather than sold to the replacement Lender and (iii) such Non-Consenting Lender shall have received the outstanding principal amount of its Loans and participations in LC Disbursements. Each party hereto agrees that (i) an assignment required pursuant to this paragraph may be effected pursuant to an Assignment and Assumption executed by the Borrower, the Administrative Agent and the assignee (or, to the extent applicable, an agreement incorporating an Assignment and Assumption by reference pursuant to an Approved Electronic Platform as to which the Administrative Agent and such parties are participants), and (ii) the Lender required to make such assignment need not be a party thereto in order for such assignment to be effective and shall be deemed to have consented to and be bound by the terms thereof; provided that, following the effectiveness of any such assignment, the other parties to such assignment agree to execute and deliver such documents necessary to evidence such assignment as reasonably requested by the applicable Lender, provided that any such documents shall be without recourse to or warranty by the parties thereto.

(f) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein the Administrative Agent may, with the consent of the Borrower or other applicable Loan Parties only, amend, modify or supplement this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents (i) to cure any ambiguity, omission, mistake, defect or inconsistency or correct any typographical error or other manifest error in any Loan Document, (ii) to comply with local law or advice of local counsel in any jurisdiction the laws of which govern any Collateral Document or that are relevant to the creation, perfection, protection and/or priority of any Lien in favor of the Administrative Agent or (iii) to effect the granting, perfection, protection, expansion or enhancement of any security interest in any Collateral or additional property to become Collateral for the benefit of the Secured Parties.

SECTION 9.03. Expenses; Limitation of Liability; Indemnity, Etc.

(a) Expenses. The Borrower shall pay (i) all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Administrative Agent and the Arrangers (which shall be limited, in the case of legal fees and expenses, to the reasonable and documented fees, disbursements and other charges of a single firm as primary counsel, along with such specialist counsel as may reasonably be required by the Administrative Agent, and a single firm of local counsel in each applicable jurisdiction), in connection with the syndication and distribution (including, without limitation, via the internet or through a service such as Intralinks) of the credit facilities provided for herein, the preparation, execution, delivery and administration of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents or any amendments, modifications or waivers of the provisions hereof or thereof (whether or not the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby shall be consummated), (ii) all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses incurred by any Issuing Bank in connection with the issuance, amendment or extension of any Letter of Credit or any demand for payment thereunder and (iii) all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any

Lender (which shall be limited, in the case of legal fees and expenses, to the reasonable and documented fees, disbursements and other charges of a single firm as primary counsel to all such parties, along with such specialist counsel as may reasonably be required by the Administrative Agent, and a single firm of local counsel in each applicable jurisdiction, for the Administrative Agent, and, in the event of an actual or reasonably perceived conflict of interest (as reasonably determined by the Administrative Agent or the applicable Issuing Bank or Lender), one additional firm of primary counsel for each group of similarly affected persons, and to the extent required, one firm of local counsel in each relevant jurisdiction (which may include a single special counsel acting in multiple jurisdictions)) in connection with the enforcement, collection or protection of its rights in connection with this Agreement and any other Loan Document, including its rights under this Section, or in connection with the Loans made or Letters of Credit issued hereunder, including all such out-of-pocket expenses (subject to the foregoing limitations with respect to legal fees and expenses) incurred during any workout, restructuring or negotiations in respect of such Loans or Letters of Credit~~.~~; provided however, following the Amendment No. 5 Effective Date, the Borrower shall pay the reasonable and documented expenses of Chilmark Partners (as financial advisor to the Administrative Agent, Issuing Bank and Lenders) and Paul Hastings, LLP (primary counsel to Administrative Agent, Issuing Bank and the Lenders) on a monthly basis within five (5) Business Days following the receipt of an invoice from such advisors.

(b) Limitation of Liability. To the extent permitted by applicable law (i) the Borrower and any other Loan Party shall not assert, and the Borrower and each other Loan Party hereby waives, any claim against the Administrative Agent, any Arranger, any Co-Syndication Agent, any Co-Documentation Agent, any Issuing Bank and any Lender, and any Related Party of any of the foregoing Persons (each such Person being called a "Lender-Related Person") for any Liabilities arising from the use by others of information or other materials (including, without limitation, any personal data) obtained through telecommunications, electronic or other information transmission systems (including the Internet, any Approved Electronic Platform and any Approved Borrower Portal), other than any such claims for direct or actual damages that are determined by a court of competent jurisdiction by final and nonappealable judgment to have resulted primarily from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of such Lender-Related Person and (ii) no party hereto shall assert, and each such party hereby waives, any Liabilities against any other party hereto, on any theory of liability, for special, indirect, consequential or punitive damages (as opposed to direct or actual damages) arising out of, in connection with, or as a result of, this Agreement, any other Loan Document, or any agreement or instrument contemplated hereby or thereby, the Transactions, any Loan or Letter of Credit or the use of the proceeds thereof; provided that, nothing in this Section 9.03(b) shall relieve the Borrower or any other Loan Party of any obligation it may have to indemnify an Indemnitee, as provided in Section 9.03(c), against any special, indirect, consequential or punitive damages asserted against such Indemnitee by a third party.

(c) Indemnity. The Borrower shall indemnify the Administrative Agent, each Arranger, each Co-Syndication Agent, each Co-Documentation Agent, the Swingline Lender, each Issuing Bank and each Lender, and each Related Party of any of the foregoing Persons (each such Person being called an "Indemnitee") against, and hold each Indemnitee harmless from, any and all Liabilities and related reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses (which shall be limited, in the case of legal fees and expenses, to the reasonable and documented fees, disbursements and other charges of a single firm of primary counsel for all Indemnitees, along with such specialist counsel as may reasonably be required by the Administrative Agent, and a single firm of local counsel in each applicable jurisdiction for all Indemnitees and, in the event of an actual or reasonably perceived conflict of interest (as reasonably determined by the applicable Indemnitee), one additional firm of counsel to each group of similarly affected Indemnitees and to the extent required, one firm or local counsel in each relevant jurisdiction (which may include a single special counsel acting in multiple jurisdictions)) incurred by or asserted against any Indemnitee arising out of, in connection with, or as a result of (i) the execution or delivery of this Agreement, any other Loan Document, or any agreement or instrument contemplated hereby or thereby, the performance by the parties hereto of their respective obligations hereunder or thereunder or the consummation of the Transactions or any other transactions contemplated hereby, (ii) any Loan or Letter of Credit or the use of the proceeds therefrom (including any refusal by any Issuing Bank to honor a demand for payment under a Letter of Credit if the documents presented in connection with such demand do not strictly comply with the terms of such Letter of Credit), (iii) any act or omission of the Administrative Agent in connection with the administration of this Agreement, any other Loan Document, or any agreement or instrument contemplated hereby or thereby, (iv) any actual or alleged presence or release of Hazardous Materials on or from any property owned or operated by the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries, or any Environmental Liability related in any way to the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries, or (v) any actual or prospective Proceeding in any jurisdiction relating to any of the foregoing (including in relation to enforcing the terms of the limitation of liability and indemnification referred to above), whether or not such Proceeding is brought by the Borrower or any other Loan Party or its or their respective equity holders, Affiliates, creditors or any other third Person and whether based on contract, tort or any other theory and regardless of whether any Indemnitee is a party thereto; provided that such indemnity shall not, as to any Indemnitee, be available to the extent that such Liabilities or related expenses are determined by a court of competent jurisdiction by final and nonappealable judgment to have resulted primarily from (i) the gross negligence or willful misconduct of such Indemnitee or any of its Controlled Related Parties in performing its activities or in furnishing its commitments or services under this Agreement or the other Loan Documents, (ii) a breach in bad faith by such Indemnitee or any of its Controlled Related Parties of its material obligations under this Agreement or the other Loan Documents or (iii) any dispute solely among Indemnitees (not arising from any act or omission of the Borrower or any of its Affiliates) other than claims against an Indemnitee acting in its capacity as, or in fulfilling its role as, the Administrative Agent, an Arranger, the Swingline Lender or an Issuing Bank under this Agreement or the other Loan Documents). As used above, a "Controlled Related Party" of an Indemnitee means (1) any Controlling Person or Controlled Affiliate of such Indemnitee, (2) the respective directors, officers, or employees of such Indemnitee or any of its Controlling Persons or Controlled Affiliates and (3) the respective agents or representatives of such Indemnitee or any of its Controlling Persons or Controlled Affiliates, in the case of this clause (3), acting at the instructions of such Indemnitee, Controlling Person or Controlled Affiliate; provided that each reference to a Controlling Person, Controlled Affiliate, director, officer or employee in this sentence pertains to a Controlling Person, Controlled Affiliate, director, officer or employee involved in the arrangement, negotiation or syndication of the credit facilities evidenced by this Agreement. This Section 9.03(c) shall not apply with respect to Taxes other than any Taxes that represent losses, claims or damages arising from any non-Tax claim.

(d) Lender Reimbursement. To the extent that the Borrower fails to pay any amount required to be paid by it under paragraph (a) or (c) of this Section 9.03, each Lender severally agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent, and each Lender severally agrees to pay to each Issuing Bank, the Swingline Lender, and each Related Party of any of the foregoing Persons (each, an "Agent-Related Person"), as the case may be, such Lender's Applicable Percentage (determined as of the time that the applicable payment is sought) of such unpaid amount (it being understood that the Borrower's failure to pay any such amount shall not relieve the Borrower of any default in the payment thereof); provided that the unreimbursed expense or Liability or related expense, as the case may be, was incurred by or asserted against such Agent-Related Person in its capacity as such.

(e) Payments. All amounts due under this Section 9.03 shall be payable not later than thirty (30) days after written demand therefor.

SECTION 9.04. Successors and Assigns. (a) The provisions of this Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns permitted hereby (including any Affiliate of the relevant Issuing Bank that issues any Letter of Credit), except that (i) the Borrower may not assign or otherwise transfer any of its rights or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of each Lender (and any attempted assignment or transfer by the Borrower without such consent shall be null and void) and (ii) no Lender may assign or otherwise transfer its rights or obligations hereunder except in accordance with this Section. Nothing in this Agreement, expressed or implied, shall be construed to confer upon any Person (other than the parties hereto, their respective successors and assigns permitted hereby (including any Affiliate of the relevant Issuing Bank that issues any Letter of Credit), Participants (to the extent provided in paragraph (c) of this Section) and, to the extent expressly contemplated hereby, the Related Parties of each of the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Banks and the Lenders) any legal or equitable right, remedy or claim under or by reason of this Agreement.

(b) (i) Subject to the conditions set forth in paragraph (b)(ii) below, any Lender may assign to one or more Persons (other than an Ineligible Institution) all or a portion of its rights and obligations under this Agreement (including all or a portion of its Commitments, participations in Letters of Credit and the Loans at the time owing to it) with the prior written consent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) of:

(A) the Borrower (provided that the Borrower shall be deemed to have consented to any such assignment unless it shall object thereto by written notice to the Administrative Agent within five (5) Business Days after having received written notice thereof); provided, further, that no consent of the Borrower shall be required for an assignment to a Lender, an Affiliate of a Lender, an Approved Fund or, if an Event of Default under Section 7.01(a), (b), (h), (i) or (j) has occurred and is continuing, any other assignee;

(B) the Administrative Agent;

(C) the Issuing Banks; provided that no consent of an Issuing Bank shall be required if (x) an Event of Default occurs with respect to the Borrower under Section 7.01(h) or 7.01(i) and (y) such Issuing Bank has no outstanding Letters of Credit at that time; provided further that no consent of any Issuing Bank shall be required for an assignment of all or any portion of a Term Loan; and

(D) the Swingline Lender; provided that no consent of the Swingline Lender shall be required if (x) an Event of Default occurs with respect to the Borrower under Section 7.01(h) or 7.01(i) and (y) such Swingline Lender has no outstanding Swingline Loans at that time; provided further that no consent of the Swingline Lender shall be required for an assignment of all or any portion of a Term Loan.

(ii) Assignments shall be subject to the following additional conditions:

(A) except in the case of an assignment to a Lender or an Affiliate of a Lender or an Approved Fund or an assignment of the entire remaining amount of the assigning Lender's Commitment or Loans of any Class, the amount of the Commitment or Loans of the assigning Lender subject to each such assignment (determined as of the trade date set forth in the Assignment and Assumption with respect to such assignment delivered to the Administrative Agent and determined on an aggregate basis) shall not be less than $5,000,000 (in the case of Revolving Commitments and Revolving Loans) or

$1,000,000 (in the case of a Term Loan) unless each of the Borrower and the Administrative Agent otherwise consent; provided that no such consent of the Borrower shall be required if an Event of Default under Section 7.01(a), (b), (h), (i) or (j) has occurred and is continuing;

(B) each partial assignment shall be made as an assignment of a proportionate part of all the assigning Lender's rights and obligations under this Agreement; provided that this clause shall not be construed to prohibit the assignment of a proportionate part of all the assigning Lender's rights and obligations in respect of one Class of Commitments or Loans;

(C) the parties to each assignment shall execute and deliver to the Administrative Agent (x) an Assignment and Assumption or (y) to the extent applicable, an agreement incorporating an Assignment and Assumption by reference pursuant to an Approved Electronic Platform as to which the Administrative Agent and the parties to the Assignment and Assumption are participants, together with a processing and recordation fee of $3,500, such fee to be paid by either the assigning Lender or the assignee Lender or shared between such Lenders; and

(D) the assignee, if it shall not be a Lender, shall deliver to the Administrative Agent an Administrative Questionnaire in which the assignee designates one or more credit contacts to whom all syndicate-level information (which may contain material non-public information about the Borrower and its Affiliates and their Related Parties or their respective securities) will be made available and who may receive such information in accordance with the assignee's compliance procedures and applicable laws, including federal and state securities laws.; and

(E) if the assignee shall be a Revolving Lender assigning Revolving Loans or Revolving Commitments, such assignee shall assign its ratable portion of Revolver PIK Loans in connection with any assignment of its Revolving Loans or Revolving Commitments.

For the purposes of this Section 9.04(b), the terms "Approved Fund" and "Ineligible Institution" have the following meanings:

"Approved Fund" means any Person (other than a natural person) that is engaged in making, purchasing, holding or investing in bank loans and similar extensions of credit in the ordinary course of its business and that is administered or managed by (a) a Lender, (b) an Affiliate of a Lender or (c) an entity or an Affiliate of an entity that administers or manages a Lender.

"Ineligible Institution" means (a) a natural person, (b) a Defaulting Lender or its Lender Parent, (c) the Borrower, any of its Subsidiaries or any of its Affiliates, (d) a company, investment vehicle or trust for, or owned and operated for the primary benefit of, a natural person or relative(s) thereof or (e) a Disqualified Institution.

(iii) Subject to acceptance and recording thereof pursuant to paragraph (b)(iv) of this Section, from and after the effective date specified in each Assignment and Assumption the assignee thereunder shall be a party hereto and, to the extent of the interest assigned by such Assignment and Assumption, have the rights and obligations of a Lender under this Agreement, and the assigning Lender thereunder shall, to the extent of the interest assigned by such Assignment and Assumption, be released from its obligations under this Agreement (and, in the case of an Assignment and Assumption covering all of the assigning Lender's rights and obligations under this Agreement, such Lender shall cease to be a party hereto but shall continue to be entitled to the benefits of Sections 2.15, 2.16, 2.17 and 9.03). Any assignment or transfer by a Lender of rights or obligations under this Agreement that does not comply with this Section 9.04 shall be treated for purposes of this Agreement as a sale by such Lender of a participation in such rights and obligations in accordance with paragraph (c) of this Section.

(iv) The Administrative Agent, acting for this purpose as an agent of the Borrower, shall maintain at one of its offices a copy of each Assignment and Assumption delivered to it and a register for the recordation of the names and addresses of the Lenders, and the Commitment of, and principal amount (and stated interest) of the Loans and LC Disbursements owing to, each Lender pursuant to the terms hereof from time to time (the "Register"). The entries in the Register shall be conclusive (absent manifest error), and the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Banks and the Lenders shall treat each Person whose name is recorded in the Register pursuant to the terms hereof as a Lender hereunder for all purposes of this Agreement, notwithstanding notice to the contrary. The Register shall be available for inspection by the Borrower, any Issuing Bank and any Lender, at any reasonable time and from time to time upon reasonable prior notice.

(v) Upon its receipt of (x) a duly completed Assignment and Assumption executed by an assigning Lender and an assignee or (y) to the extent applicable, an agreement incorporating an Assignment and Assumption by reference pursuant to an Approved Electronic Platform as to which the Administrative Agent and the parties to the Assignment and Assumption are participants, the assignee's completed Administrative Questionnaire (unless the assignee shall already be a Lender hereunder), the processing and recordation fee referred to in paragraph (b) of this Section and any written consent to such assignment required by paragraph (b) of this Section, the Administrative Agent shall accept such Assignment and Assumption and record the information contained therein in the Register; provided that if either the assigning Lender or the assignee shall have failed to make any payment required to be made by it pursuant to Section 2.05(c), 2.06(d) or (e), 2.07(b), 2.18(e) or 9.03(d), the Administrative Agent shall have no obligation to accept such Assignment and Assumption and record the information therein in the Register unless and until such payment shall have been made in full, together with all accrued interest thereon. No assignment shall be effective for purposes of this Agreement unless it has been recorded in the Register as provided in this paragraph.

(c) Any Lender may, without the consent of, or notice to, the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Banks or the Swingline Lender, sell participations to one or more banks or other entities (a "Participant"), other than an Ineligible Institution, in all or a portion of such Lender's rights and/or obligations under this Agreement (including all or a portion of its Commitment and/or the Loans owing to it); provided that (A) such Lender's obligations under this Agreement shall remain unchanged; (B) such Lender shall remain solely responsible to the other parties hereto for the performance of such obligations; and (C) the Borrower, the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Banks and the other Lenders shall continue to deal solely and directly with such Lender in connection with such Lender's rights and obligations under this Agreement. Any agreement or instrument pursuant to which a Lender sells such a participation shall provide that such Lender shall retain the sole right to enforce this Agreement and to approve any amendment, modification or waiver of any provision of this Agreement; provided that such agreement or instrument may provide that such Lender will not, without the consent of the Participant, agree to any amendment, modification or waiver described in the first proviso to Section 9.02(b) that affects such Participant. The Borrower agrees that each Participant shall be entitled to the benefits of Sections 2.15, 2.16 and 2.17 (subject to the requirements and limitations therein, including the requirements under Section 2.17(f) (it being understood that the documentation required under Section 2.17(f) shall be delivered to the participating Lender)) to the same extent as if it were a Lender and had acquired its interest by assignment pursuant to paragraph (b) of this Section; provided that such Participant (A) agrees to be subject to the provisions of Sections 2.18 and 2.19 as if it were an assignee under paragraph (b) of this Section; and (B) shall not be entitled to receive any greater payment under Section 2.15 or 2.17, with respect to any participation, than its participating Lender would have been entitled to receive, except to the extent such entitlement to receive a greater payment results from a Change in Law that occurs after the Participant acquired the applicable participation. Each Lender that sells a participation agrees, at the Borrower's request and expense, to use reasonable efforts to cooperate with the Borrower to effectuate the provisions of Section 2.19(b) with respect to any Participant. To the extent permitted by law, each Participant also shall be entitled to the benefits of Section 9.08 as though it were a Lender; provided that such Participant agrees to be subject to Section 2.18(d) as though it were a Lender. Each Lender that sells a participation shall, acting solely for this purpose as a non-fiduciary agent of the Borrower, maintain a register on which it enters the name and address of each Participant and the principal amounts (and stated interest) of each Participant's interest in the Loans or other obligations under the Loan Documents (the "Participant Register"); provided that no Lender shall have any obligation to disclose all or any portion of the Participant Register (including the identity of any Participant or any information relating to a Participant's interest in any Commitments, Loans, Letters of Credit or its other obligations under any Loan Document) to any Person except to the extent that such disclosure is necessary to establish that such Commitment, Loan, Letter of Credit or other obligation is in registered form under Section 5f.103-1(c) of the United States Treasury Regulations or Section 1.163-5(b) of the Proposed United States Treasury Regulations (or, in each case, any amended or successor version). The entries in the Participant Register shall be conclusive absent manifest error, and such Lender shall treat each Person whose name is recorded in the Participant Register as the owner of such participation for all purposes of this Agreement notwithstanding any notice to the contrary. For the avoidance of doubt, the Administrative Agent (in its capacity as Administrative Agent) shall have no responsibility for maintaining a Participant Register.

(d) Any Lender may at any time pledge or assign a security interest in all or any portion of its rights under this Agreement to secure obligations of such Lender, including any pledge or assignment to secure obligations to a Federal Reserve Bank or other central banking authority having jurisdiction over such Lender, and this Section shall not apply to any such pledge or assignment of a security interest; provided that no such pledge or assignment of a security interest shall release a Lender from any of its obligations hereunder or substitute any such pledgee or assignee for such Lender as a party hereto.

(e) Disqualified Institutions.

(i) No assignment or participation shall be made to any Person that was a Disqualified Institution as of the date (the "Trade Date") on which the assigning Lender entered into a binding agreement to sell and assign or grant a participation in all or a portion of its rights and obligations under this Agreement to such Person (unless the Borrower has consented to such assignment or participation in writing in its sole and absolute discretion, in which case such Person will not be considered a Disqualified Institution for the purpose of such assignment or participation). For the avoidance of doubt, with respect to any assignee or Participant that becomes a Disqualified Institution after the applicable Trade Date (including as a result of the delivery of a written supplement to the list of "Disqualified Institutions" referred to in, the definition of "Disqualified Institution"), (x) such assignee or Participant shall not retroactively be disqualified from becoming a Lender or Participant and (y) the execution by the Borrower of an Assignment and Assumption with respect to such assignee will not by itself result in such assignee no longer being considered a Disqualified Institution. Any assignment or participation in violation of this clause (e)(i) shall not be void, but the other provisions of this clause (e) shall apply.

(ii) If any assignment or participation is made to any Disqualified Institution without the Borrower's prior written consent in violation of clause (i) above, or if any Person becomes a Disqualified Institution after the applicable Trade Date, the Borrower may, at its sole expense and effort, upon notice to the applicable Disqualified Institution and the Administrative Agent, require such Disqualified Institution to assign, without recourse (in accordance with and subject to the restrictions contained in this Section 9.04), all of its interest, rights and obligations under this Agreement to one or more Persons (other than an Ineligible Institution, the Borrower, any of the Borrower's Subsidiaries or any of the Borrower's Affiliates) at the lesser of (x) the principal amount thereof and (y) the amount that such Disqualified Institution paid to acquire such interests, rights and obligations in each case plus accrued interest, accrued fees and all other amounts (other than principal amounts) payable to it hereunder.

(iii) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, Disqualified Institutions to whom an assignment or participation is made in violation of clause (i) above (A) will not have the right to (x) receive information, reports or other materials provided to Lenders by the Borrower, the Administrative Agent or any other Lender, (y) attend or participate in meetings attended by the Lenders and the Administrative Agent, or (z) access any electronic site established for the Lenders or confidential communications from counsel to or financial advisors of the Administrative Agent or the Lenders and (B) (x) for purposes of any consent to any amendment, waiver or modification of, or any action under, and for the purpose of any direction to the Administrative Agent or any Lender to undertake any action (or refrain from taking any action) under this Agreement or any other Loan Document, each Disqualified Institution will be deemed to have consented in the same proportion as the Lenders that are not Disqualified Institutions consented to such matter and (y) for purposes of voting on any plan of reorganization, each Disqualified Institution party hereto hereby agrees (1) not to vote on such plan of reorganization, (2) if such Disqualified Institution does vote on such plan of reorganization notwithstanding the restriction in the foregoing clause (1), such vote will be deemed not to be in good faith and shall be "designated" pursuant to Section 1126(e) of the Bankruptcy Code (or any similar provision in any other applicable laws), and such vote shall not be counted in determining whether the applicable class has accepted or rejected such plan of reorganization in accordance with Section 1126(c) of the Bankruptcy Code (or any similar provision in any other applicable laws) and (3) not to contest any request by any party for a determination by the Bankruptcy Court (or other applicable court of competent jurisdiction) effectuating the foregoing clause (2).

(iv) The Administrative Agent shall have the right, and the Borrower hereby expressly authorizes the Administrative Agent, to (A) post the list of Disqualified Institutions provided by the Borrower and any updates thereto from time to time (collectively, the "DQ List") on an Approved Electronic Platform, including that portion of such Approved Electronic Platform that is designated for "public side" Lenders and/or (B) provide the DQ List to each Lender or potential Lender requesting the same.

(v) The Administrative Agent and the Lenders shall not be responsible or have any liability for, or have any duty to ascertain, inquire into, monitor or enforce, compliance with the provisions hereof relating to Disqualified Institutions. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, neither the Administrative Agent nor any Lender shall (x) be obligated to ascertain, monitor or inquire as to whether any other Lender or Participant or prospective Lender or Participant is a Disqualified Institution or (y) have any liability with respect to or arising out of any assignment or participation of Loans, or disclosure of confidential information, by any other Person to any Disqualified Institution.

(f) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, any Lender may assign all or a portion of its Term Loans to any Purchasing Borrower Party in accordance with this Section 9.04(f) (which assignment shall not constitute a prepayment of Loans for any purposes of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents); provided that:

(i) no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or would result therefrom,

(ii) such assignment shall be made pursuant to (i) a bona fide open market purchase on a non-pro rata basis for cash consideration or (ii) an Auction Purchase Offer open to all Lenders of the applicable Class conducted in accordance with the Auction Procedures;

(iii) any Term Loans assigned to any Purchasing Borrower Party shall, without further action by any Person, be automatically and permanently cancelled for all purposes and no longer outstanding (and may not be resold by any Purchasing Borrower Party), it being understood and agreed that any gains or losses by any Purchasing Borrower Party upon purchase or acquisition and cancellation of such Term Loans shall not be taken into account in the calculation of Excess Cash Flow, Consolidated Net Income or Consolidated EBITDA;

(iv) in no event shall any Purchasing Borrower Party be entitled to vote hereunder in connection with the assigned Term Loans;

(v) no more than one (1) Auction Purchase Offer with respect to any Class may be ongoing at any one time, no more than four (4) Auction Purchase Offers (regardless of Class) may be made in any one year and any Auction Purchase Offer with respect to any Class shall be offered to all Term Lenders holding Term Loans of such Class on a pro rata basis;

(vi) no Purchasing Borrower Party may use the proceeds from Revolving Loans or Swingline Loans to purchase any Term Loans; and

(vii) the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the Term Loans of the applicable Class shall be deemed reduced by the full par value of the aggregate principal amount of the Term Loans purchased pursuant to this Section 9.04(f) and each principal repayment installment with respect to the Term Loans of such Class shall be reduced pro rata by the aggregate principal amount of Term Loans purchased; provided that any such assignment shall not constitute a voluntary or mandatory prepayment for any other purpose under this Agreement or the other Loan Documents.

In connection with any Term Loans assigned and cancelled pursuant to this Section 9.04(f), the Administrative Agent is authorized to make appropriate entries in the Register to reflect any such cancellation. Any payment made by any Purchasing Borrower Party in connection with an assignment permitted by this Section 9.04(f) shall not be subject to any of the pro rata payment or sharing requirements of this Agreement.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the Administrative Agent shall not (a) be required to serve as the auction agent for, or have any other obligations to participate in (other than mechanical administrative duties), or to facilitate any, Dutch auction unless it is reasonably satisfied with the terms and restrictions of such auction or (b) have any obligation to participate in, arrange, sell or otherwise facilitate, and will have no liability in connection with, any open market purchases by the Borrower or any Subsidiary. Each Purchasing Borrower Party waives any rights to bring any action in connection with this Agreement against the Administrative Agent in its capacity as such, including, without limitation, with respect to any duties or obligations or alleged duties or obligations of such agent under the Loan Documents.

SECTION 9.05. Survival. All covenants, agreements, representations and warranties made by the Loan Parties in the Loan Documents and in the certificates or other instruments delivered in connection with or pursuant to this Agreement or any other Loan Document shall be considered to have been relied upon by the other parties hereto and shall survive the execution and delivery of the Loan Documents and the making of any Loans and issuance of any Letters of Credit, regardless of any investigation made by any such other party or on its behalf and notwithstanding that the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any Lender may have had notice or knowledge of any Default or incorrect representation or warranty at the time any credit is extended hereunder, and shall continue in full force and effect as long as the principal of or any accrued interest on any Loan or any fee or any other amount payable under this Agreement or any other Loan Document is outstanding and unpaid (except for Unliquidated Obligations) or any Letter of Credit is outstanding (unless such Letter of Credit has been cash collateralized or backstopped pursuant to arrangements reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent) and so long as the Commitments have not expired or terminated. The provisions of Sections 2.15, 2.16, 2.17 and 9.03 and Article VIII shall survive and remain in full force and effect regardless of the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, the repayment of the Loans, the expiration or termination of the Letters of Credit and the Commitments or the termination of this Agreement or any other Loan Document or any provision hereof or thereof.

SECTION 9.06. Counterparts; Integration; Effectiveness; Electronic Execution. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts (and by different parties hereto on different counterparts), each of which shall constitute an original, but all of which when taken together shall constitute a single contract. This Agreement, the other Loan Documents and any separate letter agreements with respect to (i) fees payable to the Administrative Agent or the Lenders, as applicable, and (ii) the reductions of the Letter of Credit Commitment of any Issuing Bank constitute the entire contract among the parties relating to the subject matter hereof and supersede any and all previous agreements and understandings, oral or written, relating to the subject matter hereof. Except as provided in Section 4.01, this Agreement shall become effective when it shall have been executed by the Administrative Agent and when the Administrative Agent shall have received counterparts hereof which, when taken together, bear the signatures of each of the other parties hereto, and thereafter shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns. Delivery of an executed counterpart of a signature page of (x) this Agreement, (y) any other Loan Document and/or (z) any document, amendment, approval, consent, information, notice (including, for the avoidance of doubt, any notice delivered pursuant to Section 9.01(a)), certificate, request, statement, disclosure or authorization related to this Agreement, any other Loan Document and/or the transactions contemplated hereby and/or thereby (each an "Ancillary Document") that is an Electronic Signature transmitted by telecopy, emailed pdf, or any other electronic means that reproduces an image of an actual executed signature page shall be effective as delivery of a manually executed counterpart of this Agreement, such other Loan Document or such Ancillary Document, as applicable. The words "execution," "signed," "signature," "delivery," and words of like import in or relating to this Agreement, any other Loan Document and/or any Ancillary Document shall be deemed to include Electronic Signatures, deliveries or the keeping of records in any electronic form (including deliveries by telecopy, emailed pdf, or any other electronic means that reproduces an image of an actual executed signature page), each of which shall be of the same legal effect, validity or enforceability as a manually executed signature, physical delivery thereof or the use of a paper-based recordkeeping system, as the case may be; provided that nothing herein shall require the Administrative Agent to accept Electronic Signatures in any form or format without its prior written consent and pursuant to procedures approved by it; provided, further, without limiting the foregoing, (i) to the extent the Administrative Agent has agreed to accept any Electronic Signature, the Administrative Agent and each of the Lenders shall be entitled to rely on such Electronic Signature purportedly given by or on behalf of the Borrower or any other Loan Party without further verification thereof and without any obligation to review the appearance or form of any such Electronic Signature and (ii) upon the request of the Administrative Agent or any Lender, any Electronic Signature shall be promptly followed by a manually executed counterpart. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Borrower and each other Loan Party hereby (i) agrees that, for all purposes, including without limitation, in connection with any workout, restructuring, enforcement of remedies, bankruptcy proceedings or litigation among the Administrative Agent, the Lenders, the Borrower and the other Loan Parties, Electronic Signatures transmitted by telecopy, emailed pdf, or any other electronic means that reproduces an image of an actual executed signature page and/or any electronic images of this Agreement, any other Loan Document and/or any Ancillary Document shall have the same legal effect, validity and enforceability as any paper original, (ii) agrees that the Administrative Agent and each of the Lenders may, at its option, create one or more copies of this Agreement, any other Loan Document and/or any Ancillary Document in the form of an imaged electronic record in any format, which shall be deemed created in the ordinary course of such Person's business, and destroy the original paper document (and all such electronic records shall be considered an original for all purposes and shall have the same legal effect, validity and enforceability as a paper record), (iii) waives any argument, defense or right to contest the legal effect, validity or enforceability of this Agreement, any other Loan Document and/or any Ancillary Document based solely on the lack of paper original copies of this Agreement, such other Loan Document and/or such Ancillary Document, respectively, including with respect to any signature pages thereto and (iv) waives any claim against any Lender-Related Person for any Liabilities arising solely from the Administrative Agent's and/or any Lender's reliance on or use of Electronic Signatures and/or transmissions by telecopy, emailed pdf, or any other electronic means that reproduces an image of an actual executed signature page, including any Liabilities arising as a result of the failure of the Borrower and/or any other Loan Party to use any available security measures in connection with the execution, delivery or transmission of any Electronic Signature.

SECTION 9.07. Severability. Any provision of any Loan Document held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall, as to such jurisdiction, be ineffective to the extent of such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability without affecting the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions thereof; and the invalidity of a particular provision in a particular jurisdiction shall not invalidate such provision in any other jurisdiction.

SECTION 9.08. Right of Setoff. If an Event of Default shall have occurred and be continuing, each Lender, the Issuing Bank, and each of their respective Affiliates is hereby authorized at any time and from time to time, to the fullest extent permitted by law, to setoff and apply any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, provisional or final) at any time held, and other obligations at any time owing, by such Lender, the Issuing Bank or any such Affiliate, to or for the credit or the account of the Borrower against any and all of the obligations of the Borrower now or hereafter existing under this Agreement or any other Loan Document to such Lender or the Issuing Bank or their respective Affiliates, irrespective of whether or not such Lender, the Issuing Bank or Affiliate shall have made any demand under this Agreement or any other Loan Document and although such obligations of the Borrower may be contingent or unmatured or are owed to a branch office or Affiliate of such Lender or the Issuing Bank different from the branch office or Affiliate holding such deposit or obligated on such indebtedness; provided that in the event that any Defaulting Lender shall exercise any such right of setoff, (x) all amounts so setoff shall be paid over immediately to the Administrative Agent for further application in accordance with the provisions of Section 2.21 and, pending such payment, shall be segregated by such Defaulting Lender from its other funds and deemed held in trust for the benefit of the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Bank, and the Lenders, and (y) the Defaulting Lender shall provide promptly to the Administrative Agent a statement describing in reasonable detail the Secured Obligations owing to such Defaulting Lender as to which it exercised such right of setoff. The rights of each Lender, the Issuing Bank and their respective Affiliates under this Section are in addition to other rights and remedies (including other rights of setoff) that such Lender, such Issuing Bank or their respective Affiliates may have. Each Lender and each Issuing Bank agrees to notify the Borrower and the Administrative Agent promptly after any such setoff and application; provided that the failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of such setoff and application.

SECTION 9.09. Governing Law; Jurisdiction; Consent to Service of Process.

(a) THIS AGREEMENT AND THE OTHER LOAN DOCUMENTS (EXCEPT AS OTHERWISE EXPRESSLY SET FORTH IN ANY SUCH OTHER LOAN DOCUMENT) SHALL BE CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH AND GOVERNED BY THE LAW OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK.

(b) Each of the Lenders and the Administrative Agent hereby irrevocably and unconditionally agrees that, notwithstanding the governing law provisions of any applicable Loan Document, any claims brought against the Administrative Agent by any Secured Party relating to this Agreement, any other Loan Document, the Collateral or the consummation or administration of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the law of the State of New York.

(c) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally submits, for itself and its property, to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York sitting in the Borough of Manhattan (or if such court lacks subject matter jurisdiction, the Supreme Court of the State of New York sitting in the Borough of Manhattan), and any appellate court from any thereof, in any action or proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any other Loan Document or the transactions relating hereto or thereto, or for recognition or enforcement of any judgment, and each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally agrees that all claims in respect of any such action or proceeding may (and any such claims, cross-claims or third party claims brought against the Administrative Agent or any of its Related Parties may only) be heard and determined in such Federal (to the extent permitted by law) or New York State court. Each of the parties hereto agrees that a final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by law. Nothing in this Agreement or in any other Loan Document shall (i) affect any right that the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any Lender may otherwise have to bring any action or proceeding relating to this Agreement or any other Loan Document against any Loan Party or its properties in the courts of any jurisdiction (ii) waive any statutory, regulatory, common law, or other rule, doctrine, legal restriction, provision or the like providing for the treatment of bank branches, bank agencies, or other bank offices as if they were separate juridical entities for certain purposes, including Uniform Commercial Code Sections 4-106, 4-A-105(1)(b), and 5-116(b), UCP 600 Article 3 and ISP98 Rule 2.02, and URDG 758 Article 3(a), or (iii) affect which courts have or do not have personal jurisdiction over the issuing bank or beneficiary of any Letter of Credit or any advising bank, nominated bank or assignee of proceeds thereunder or proper venue with respect to any litigation arising out of or relating to such Letter of Credit with, or affecting the rights of, any Person not a party to this Agreement, whether or not such Letter of Credit contains its own jurisdiction submission clause.

(d) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waives, to the fullest extent it may legally and effectively do so, any objection which it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any other Loan Document in any court referred to in paragraph (c) of this Section. Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of such action or proceeding in any such court.

(e) Each of the parties hereto hereby irrevocably consents to service of process in the manner provided for notices in Section 9.01. Nothing in this Agreement or any other Loan Document will affect the right of any party to this Agreement to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

SECTION 9.10. WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, ANY OTHER LOAN DOCUMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY OR THEREBY (WHETHER BASED ON CONTRACT, TORT OR ANY OTHER THEORY). EACH PARTY HERETO (A) CERTIFIES THAT NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER AND (B) ACKNOWLEDGES THAT IT AND THE OTHER PARTIES HERETO HAVE BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION.

SECTION 9.11. Headings. Article and Section headings and the Table of Contents used herein are for convenience of reference only, are not part of this Agreement and shall not affect the construction of, or be taken into consideration in interpreting, this Agreement.

SECTION 9.12. Confidentiality. Each of the Administrative Agent, the Issuing Banks and the Lenders agrees to maintain the confidentiality of the Information (as defined below), except that Information may be disclosed (a) to its Affiliates and its and their respective directors, officers, employees and agents, including accountants, legal counsel and other advisors (it being understood that the Persons to whom such disclosure is made will be informed of the confidential nature of such Information and instructed to keep such Information confidential); provided that the disclosing Administrative Agent, Issuing Bank or Lender, as applicable, shall be responsible for compliance by such Persons with the provisions of this Section 9.12, (b) to the extent requested by any Governmental Authority (including any self-regulatory authority, such as the National Association of Insurance Commissioners) purporting to have jurisdiction over the Administrative Agent, Issuing Bank, the applicable Lender or its or their applicable Affiliates, (c) to the extent required by applicable laws or regulations or by any subpoena or similar legal process (provided that the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as applicable, agrees that it will, to the extent practicable and other than with respect to any audit or examination conducted by bank accountants or any governmental bank regulatory authority exercising examination or regulatory authority, notify the Borrower promptly thereof, unless such notification is prohibited by law, rule or regulation), (d) to any other party to this Agreement, (e) in connection with the exercise of any remedies under this Agreement or any other Loan Document or any suit, action or proceeding relating to this Agreement or any other Loan Document or the enforcement of rights hereunder or thereunder, (f) subject to an agreement containing provisions substantially the same as those of this Section, to (1) any assignee of or Participant in, or any prospective assignee of or Participant in, any of its rights or obligations under this Agreement (it being understood that the DQ List may be disclosed to any assignee or Participant, or prospective assignee or Participant, in reliance on this clause (f) subject to such agreement), (2) to any swap or derivative transaction relating to the Borrower and its obligations or (3) to any potential or actual insurer or reinsurer in connection with providing insurance, reinsurance or credit risk mitigation coverage under which payments are to be made or may be made by reference to this Agreement, (g) on a confidential basis to (1) any rating agency in connection with rating the Borrower or its Subsidiaries or the credit facilities provided for herein or (2) the CUSIP Service Bureau or any similar agency in connection with the issuance and monitoring of identification numbers with respect to the credit facilities provided for herein, (h) with the prior written consent of the Borrower or (i) to the extent such Information (1) becomes publicly available other than as a result of a breach of this Section or (2) becomes available to the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any Lender on a nonconfidential basis from a source other than the Borrower. For the purposes of this Section, "Information" means all information received from the Borrower relating to the Borrower or its business, other than any such information that is available to the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any Lender on a nonconfidential basis prior to disclosure by the Borrower and other than information pertaining to this Agreement routinely provided by arrangers to data service providers, including league table providers, that serve the lending industry. Any Person required to maintain the confidentiality of Information as provided in this Section shall be considered to have complied with its obligation to do so if such Person has exercised the same degree of care to maintain the confidentiality of such Information as such Person would accord to its own confidential information. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 9.12 shall prohibit any Person from voluntarily disclosing or providing any Information within the scope of this confidentiality provision to any governmental, regulatory or self-regulatory organization (any such entity, a "Regulatory Authority") to the extent that any such prohibition on disclosure set forth in this Section 9.12 shall be prohibited by the laws or regulations applicable to such Regulatory Authority.

EACH LENDER ACKNOWLEDGES THAT INFORMATION AS DEFINED IN THE IMMEDIATELY PRECEDING PARAGRAPH FURNISHED TO IT PURSUANT TO THIS AGREEMENT MAY INCLUDE MATERIAL NON-PUBLIC INFORMATION CONCERNING THE BORROWER AND ITS RELATED PARTIES OR THEIR RESPECTIVE SECURITIES, AND CONFIRMS THAT IT HAS DEVELOPED COMPLIANCE PROCEDURES REGARDING

THE USE OF MATERIAL NON-PUBLIC INFORMATION AND THAT IT WILL HANDLE SUCH MATERIAL NON-PUBLIC INFORMATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THOSE PROCEDURES AND APPLICABLE LAW, INCLUDING FEDERAL AND STATE SECURITIES LAWS.

ALL INFORMATION, INCLUDING REQUESTS FOR WAIVERS AND AMENDMENTS, FURNISHED BY THE BORROWER OR THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT PURSUANT TO, OR IN THE COURSE OF ADMINISTERING, THIS AGREEMENT WILL BE SYNDICATE-LEVEL INFORMATION, WHICH MAY CONTAIN MATERIAL NON-PUBLIC INFORMATION ABOUT THE BORROWER, THE OTHER LOAN PARTIES AND THEIR RELATED PARTIES OR THEIR RESPECTIVE SECURITIES. ACCORDINGLY, EACH LENDER REPRESENTS TO THE BORROWER AND THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT THAT IT HAS IDENTIFIED IN ITS ADMINISTRATIVE QUESTIONNAIRE A CREDIT CONTACT WHO MAY RECEIVE INFORMATION THAT MAY CONTAIN MATERIAL NON-PUBLIC INFORMATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH ITS COMPLIANCE PROCEDURES AND APPLICABLE LAW.

SECTION 9.13. USA PATRIOT Act. Each Lender that is subject to the requirements of the Patriot Act and the requirements of the Beneficial Ownership Regulation hereby notifies each Borrower and each other Loan Party that, pursuant to the requirements of the Patriot Act and the Beneficial Ownership Regulation, it is required to obtain, verify and record information that identifies the such Borrower or such Loan Party, which information includes the name, address and tax identification number of such Borrower and such Loan Party and other information that will allow such Lender to identify such Borrower and such Loan Party in accordance with the Patriot Act and the Beneficial Ownership Regulation and other applicable "know your customer" and anti-money laundering rules and regulations.

SECTION 9.14. Releases of Subsidiary Guarantors.

(a) A Subsidiary Guarantor shall automatically be released from its obligations under the Loan Documents upon the consummation of any transaction permitted by this Agreement as a result of which such Subsidiary Guarantor ceases to be a Subsidiary, or becomes an Excluded Subsidiary (other than as a result of clause (f) of the definition of "Excluded Subsidiary"); provided that, if so required by this Agreement, the Required Lenders shall have consented to such transaction and the terms of such consent shall not have provided otherwise. Upon any sale or other disposition (other than any lease or license) by any Loan Party (other than to the Borrower or any Loan Party) of any Collateral in a transaction permitted under this Agreement, or if the Person owning such Collateral shall cease to be a Loan Party, or upon the effectiveness of any written consent to the release of the security interest created under any Collateral Document in any Collateral pursuant to Section 9.02, the security interests in such Collateral created by the Collateral Documents shall be automatically released. In connection with any termination or release pursuant to this Section (including pursuant to clause (b) or (c) below), the Administrative Agent shall (and is hereby irrevocably authorized by each Lender to) execute and deliver to any Loan Party, at such Loan Party's expense, all documents that such Loan Party shall reasonably request to evidence such termination or release. Any execution and delivery of documents pursuant to this Section shall be without recourse to or warranty by the Administrative Agent except as may otherwise be expressly agreed in writing by the Administrative Agent and such Loan Party.

(b) Further, the Administrative Agent shall (and is hereby irrevocably authorized by each Lender to), upon the request of the Borrower, release any Subsidiary Guarantor from its obligations under the Subsidiary Guaranty if (i) such Subsidiary Guarantor is no longer a Material Domestic Subsidiary, or is otherwise not required pursuant to the terms of this Agreement to be a Subsidiary Guarantor or (ii) such release is approved, authorized or ratified by the requisite Lenders pursuant to Section 9.02.

(c) At such time as the principal and interest on the Loans, all LC Disbursements, the fees, expenses and other amounts payable under the Loan Documents and the other Secured Obligations (other than Swap Obligations not yet due and payable, Banking Services Obligations not yet due and payable, Unliquidated Obligations for which no claim has been made and other Obligations expressly stated to survive such payment and termination) shall have been paid in full in cash, the Commitments shall have been terminated and no Letters of Credit shall be outstanding (or any outstanding Letters of Credit shall have been cash collateralized or backstopped pursuant to arrangements reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent) (the foregoing, collectively, the "Final Release Conditions"), the Subsidiary Guaranty and all obligations (other than those expressly stated to survive such termination) of each Subsidiary Guarantor thereunder shall automatically terminate, all without delivery of any instrument or performance of any act by any Person.

SECTION 9.15. Appointment for Perfection. Each Lender hereby appoints each other Lender as its agent for the purpose of perfecting Liens, for the benefit of the Administrative Agent and the Secured Parties, in assets which, in accordance with Article 9 of the UCC or any other applicable law can be perfected only by possession or control. Should any Lender (other than the Administrative Agent) obtain possession or control of any such Collateral, such Lender shall notify the Administrative Agent thereof, and, promptly upon the Administrative Agent's request therefor shall deliver such Collateral to the Administrative Agent or otherwise deal with such Collateral in accordance with the Administrative Agent's instructions.

SECTION 9.16. Interest Rate Limitation. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if at any time the interest rate applicable to any Loan, together with all fees, charges and other amounts which are treated as interest on such Loan under applicable law (collectively the "Charges"), shall exceed the maximum lawful rate (the "Maximum Rate") which may be contracted for, charged, taken, received or reserved by the Lender holding such Loan in accordance with applicable law, the rate of interest payable in respect of such Loan hereunder, together with all Charges payable in respect thereof, shall be limited to the Maximum Rate and, to the extent lawful, the interest and Charges that would have been payable in respect of such Loan but were not payable as a result of the operation of this Section shall be cumulated and the interest and Charges payable to such Lender in respect of other Loans or periods shall be increased (but not above the Maximum Rate therefor) until such cumulated amount, together with interest thereon at the applicable Overnight Rate to the date of repayment, shall have been received by such Lender.

SECTION 9.17. No Fiduciary Duty, etc.

(a) The Borrower acknowledges and agrees, and acknowledges its Subsidiaries' understanding, that no Credit Party will have any obligations except those obligations expressly set forth herein and in the other Loan Documents and each Credit Party is acting solely in the capacity of an arm's length contractual counterparty to the Borrower with respect to the Loan Documents and the transactions contemplated herein and therein and not as a financial advisor or a fiduciary to, or an agent of, the Borrower or any other person. The Borrower agrees that it will not assert any claim against any Credit Party based on an alleged breach of fiduciary duty by such Credit Party in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby. Additionally, the Borrower acknowledges and agrees that no Credit Party is advising the Borrower as to any legal, tax, investment, accounting, regulatory or any other matters in any jurisdiction. The Borrower shall consult with its own advisors concerning such matters and shall be responsible for making its own independent investigation and appraisal of the transactions contemplated herein or in the other Loan Documents, and the Credit Parties shall have no responsibility or liability to the Borrower with respect thereto.

(b) The Borrower further acknowledges and agrees, and acknowledges its Subsidiaries' understanding, that each Credit Party, together with its Affiliates, in addition to providing or participating in commercial lending facilities such as that provided hereunder, is a full service securities or banking firm engaged in securities trading and brokerage activities as well as providing investment banking and other financial services. In the ordinary course of business, any Credit Party may provide investment banking and other financial services to, and/or acquire, hold or sell, for its own accounts and the accounts of customers, equity, debt and other securities and financial instruments (including bank loans and other obligations) of, the Borrower, its Subsidiaries and other companies with which the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries may have commercial or other relationships. With respect to any securities and/or financial instruments so held by any Credit Party or any of its customers, all rights in respect of such securities and financial instruments, including any voting rights, will be exercised by the holder of the rights, in its sole discretion.

(c) In addition, the Borrower acknowledges and agrees, and acknowledges its Subsidiaries' understanding, that each Credit Party and its Affiliates may be providing debt financing, equity capital or other services (including financial advisory services) to other companies in respect of which the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries may have conflicting interests regarding the transactions described herein and otherwise. No Credit Party will use confidential information obtained from the Borrower by virtue of the transactions contemplated by the Loan Documents or its other relationships with the Borrower in connection with the performance by such Credit Party of services for other companies, and no Credit Party will furnish any such information to other companies. The Borrower also acknowledges that no Credit Party has any obligation to use in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Loan Documents, or to furnish to the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries, confidential information obtained from other companies.

SECTION 9.18. Acknowledgement and Consent to Bail-In of Affected Financial Institutions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any Loan Document or in any other agreement, arrangement or understanding among any such parties, each party hereto acknowledges that any liability of any Affected Financial Institution arising under any Loan Document may be subject to the Write-Down and Conversion Powers of the applicable Resolution Authority and agrees and consents to, and acknowledges and agrees to be bound by:

(a) the application of any Write-Down and Conversion Powers by the applicable Resolution Authority to any such liabilities arising hereunder which may be payable to it by any party hereto that is an Affected Financial Institution; and

(b) the effects of any Bail-In Action on any such liability, including, if applicable:

(i) a reduction in full or in part or cancellation of any such liability;

(ii) a conversion of all, or a portion of, such liability into shares or other instruments of ownership in such Affected Financial Institution, its parent entity, or a bridge institution that may be issued to it or otherwise conferred on it, and that such shares or other instruments of ownership will be accepted by it in lieu of any rights with respect to any such liability under this Agreement or any other Loan Document; or

(iii) the variation of the terms of such liability in connection with the exercise of the Write-Down and Conversion Powers of the applicable Resolution Authority.

SECTION 9.19. Acknowledgement Regarding Any Supported QFCs. To the extent that the Loan Documents provide support, through a guarantee or otherwise, for Swap Agreements or any other agreement or instrument that is a QFC (such support "QFC Credit Support" and each such QFC a "Supported QFC"), the parties acknowledge and agree as follows with respect to the resolution power of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act and Title II of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (together with the regulations promulgated thereunder, the "U.S. Special Resolution Regimes") in respect of such Supported QFC and QFC Credit Support (with the provisions below applicable notwithstanding that the Loan Documents and any Supported QFC may in fact be stated to be governed by the laws of the State of New York and/or of the United States or any other state of the United States):

In the event a Covered Entity that is party to a Supported QFC (each, a "Covered Party") becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, the transfer of such Supported QFC and the benefit of such QFC Credit Support (and any interest and obligation in or under such Supported QFC and such QFC Credit Support, and any rights in property securing such Supported QFC or such QFC Credit Support) from such Covered Party will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Supported QFC and such QFC Credit Support (and any such interest, obligation and rights in property) were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. In the event a Covered Party or a BHC Act Affiliate of a Covered Party becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, Default Rights under the Loan Documents that might otherwise apply to such Supported QFC or any QFC Credit Support that may be exercised against such Covered Party are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such Default Rights could be exercised under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if the Supported QFC and the Loan Documents were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States. Without limitation of the foregoing, it is understood and agreed that rights and remedies of the parties with respect to a Defaulting Lender shall in no event affect the rights of any Covered Party with respect to a Supported QFC or any QFC Credit Support.

SECTION 9.20. Judgment Currency. If, for the purposes of obtaining judgment in any court, it is necessary to convert a sum due hereunder or any other Loan Document in one currency into another currency, the rate of exchange used shall be that at which in accordance with normal banking procedures the Administrative Agent could purchase the first currency with such other currency on the Business Day preceding that on which final judgment is given. The obligation of the Borrower in respect of any such sum due from it to the Administrative Agent or any Lender hereunder or under the other Loan Documents shall, notwithstanding any judgment in a currency (the "Judgment Currency") other than that in which such sum is denominated in accordance with the applicable provisions of this Agreement (the "Agreement Currency"), be discharged only to the extent that on the Business Day following receipt by the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, of any sum adjudged to be so due in the Judgment Currency, the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, may in accordance with normal banking procedures purchase the Agreement Currency with the Judgment Currency. If the amount of the Agreement Currency so purchased is less than the sum originally due to the Administrative Agent or any Lender from the Borrower in the Agreement Currency, the Borrower agrees, as a separate obligation and notwithstanding any such judgment, to indemnify the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, against such loss. If the amount of the Agreement Currency so purchased is greater than the sum originally due to the Administrative Agent or any Lender in such currency, the Administrative Agent or such Lender, as the case may be, agrees to return the amount of any excess to the Borrower (or to any other Person who may be entitled thereto under applicable law).

SECTION 9.21. Restrictions on Certain Amendments. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (a) (1) no amendment, modification or waiver to this Agreement shall (i) change any of the provisions of this Section 9.21(a) without the written consent of each Lender or (ii) without the prior written consent of each Lender directly and adversely affected thereby, (x) subordinate the Obligations hereunder to any other Indebtedness, or (y) subordinate the Liens securing the Obligations to Liens securing any other Indebtedness, and (2) any amendment or waiver that by its terms affects the rights or duties of Lenders holding Loans or Commitments of a particular Class (but not the Lenders holding Loans or Commitments of any other Class) will require only the requisite percentage in interest of the affected Class of Lenders that would be required to consent thereto if such Class of Lenders were the only Class of Lenders; (b) no Lender or Issuing Bank shall be required to make Loans or issue Letters of Credit, as applicable, in a currency other than an Agreed Currency (as defined in this Agreement immediately prior to the Amendment No. ~~3~~5 Effective Date) without its consent, and (c) (1) no amendment, modification or waiver to this Agreement shall (i) change any of the provisions of this Section 9.21(c) or the definition of "Required Revolving Lenders" or any other provision hereof specifying the number or percentage of Revolving Lenders required to waive, amend or modify any rights hereunder or make any determination or grant any consent hereunder with respect to the Revolving Facility without the written consent of each Revolving Lender and (2) prior to the repayment in full of all Revolving Loans and termination of all Revolving Commitments, only the Required Revolving Lenders may (w) amend, waive or otherwise modify any condition set forth in Section 4.02 in respect of any Revolving Loans or Letters of Credit, (x) amend or otherwise modify Section 6.12 or, solely for purposes of Section 6.12, the defined terms used, directly or indirectly, therein, or (y) waive any noncompliance with Section 6.12 or any Event of Default resulting from any such noncompliance, and in each case they may do so without the consent of any other Lender.

SECTION 9.22. Restrictions on Certain Amendment No. 5 Provisions. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (1) no amendment, modification or waiver to this Agreement shall (i) change any of the provisions of this Section 9.22 without the written consent of each Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Lender and Revolving Lender, (ii) change the definition of "Required Amendment No. 5 Incremental Lenders" without the written consent of each Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Loan Lender or (iii) amend or otherwise modify Section 6.13 or, solely for purposes of Section 6.13, the defined terms used, directly or indirectly, therein without the consent of the Required Amendment No. 5 Incremental Term Lenders and the Required Revolving Lenders.

ARTICLE X

Borrower Guarantee

In order to induce the Lenders to extend credit to the Borrower hereunder and for other good and valuable consideration (the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged), the Borrower hereby absolutely and irrevocably and unconditionally guarantees, as a primary obligor and not merely as a surety, the payment when and as due of the Specified Ancillary Obligations of the Subsidiaries. The Borrower further agrees that the due and punctual payment of such Specified Ancillary Obligations may be extended or renewed, in whole or in part, without notice to or further assent from it, and that it will remain bound upon its guarantee hereunder notwithstanding any such extension or renewal of any such Specified Ancillary Obligation.

The Borrower waives presentment to, demand of payment from and protest to any Subsidiary of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations, and also waives notice of acceptance of its obligations and notice of protest for nonpayment. The obligations of the Borrower hereunder shall not be affected by (a) the failure of any applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates) to assert any claim or demand or to enforce any right or remedy against any Subsidiary under the provisions of any Banking Services Agreement, any Swap Agreement or otherwise; (b) any extension or renewal of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations; (c) any rescission, waiver, amendment or modification of, or release from, any of the terms or provisions of the Specified Ancillary Obligations; (d) any default, failure or delay, willful or otherwise, in the performance of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations; (e) the failure of any applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates) to take any steps to perfect and maintain any security interest in, or to preserve any rights to, any security or collateral for the Specified Ancillary Obligations, if any; (f) any change in the corporate, partnership or other existence, structure or ownership of any Subsidiary or any other guarantor of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations; (g) the enforceability or validity of the Specified Ancillary Obligations or any part thereof or the genuineness, enforceability or validity of any agreement relating thereto or with respect to any collateral securing the Specified Ancillary Obligations or any part thereof, or any other invalidity or unenforceability relating to or against any Subsidiary or any other guarantor of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations, for any reason related to this Agreement, any other Loan Document, any Banking Services Agreement, any Swap Agreement, or any provision of applicable law, decree, order or regulation of any jurisdiction purporting to prohibit the payment by such Subsidiary or any other guarantor of the Specified Ancillary Obligations, of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations or otherwise affecting any term of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations; or (h) any other act, omission or delay to do any other act which may or might in any manner or to any extent vary the risk of the Borrower or otherwise operate as a discharge of a guarantor as a matter of law or equity or which would impair or eliminate any right of the Borrower to subrogation, in each case, other than payment in full in cash of all Specified Ancillary Obligations or satisfaction otherwise of the Final Release Conditions.

The Borrower further agrees that its agreement hereunder constitutes a guarantee of payment when due (whether or not any bankruptcy or similar proceeding shall have stayed the accrual or collection of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations or operated as a discharge thereof) and not merely of collection, and waives any right to require that any resort be had by any applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates) to any balance of any deposit account or credit on the books of the Administrative Agent, any Issuing Bank or any Lender in favor of any Subsidiary or any other Person.

The obligations of the Borrower hereunder shall not be subject to any reduction, limitation, impairment or termination for any reason, and shall not be subject to any defense or setoff, counterclaim, recoupment or termination whatsoever, by reason of the invalidity, illegality or unenforceability of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations, any impossibility in the performance of any of the Specified Ancillary Obligations or otherwise.

The Borrower further agrees that its obligations hereunder shall constitute a continuing and irrevocable guarantee of all Specified Ancillary Obligations now or hereafter existing and shall continue to be effective or be reinstated, as the case may be, if at any time payment, or any part thereof, of any Specified Ancillary Obligation (including a payment effected through exercise of a right of setoff) is rescinded, or is or must otherwise be restored or returned by any applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates) upon the insolvency, bankruptcy or reorganization of any Subsidiary or otherwise (including pursuant to any settlement entered into by a holder of Specified Ancillary Obligations in its discretion).

In furtherance of the foregoing and not in limitation of any other right which any applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates) may have at law or in equity against the Borrower by virtue hereof, upon the failure of any Subsidiary to pay any Specified Ancillary Obligation when and as the same shall become due, whether at maturity, by acceleration, after notice of prepayment or otherwise, the Borrower hereby promises to and will, upon receipt of written demand by any applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates), forthwith pay, or cause to be paid, to such applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates) in cash an amount equal to the unpaid principal amount of such Specified Ancillary Obligations then due, together with accrued and unpaid interest thereon. The Borrower further agrees that if payment in respect of any Specified Ancillary Obligation shall be due in a currency other than Dollars and/or at a place of payment other than New York, Chicago or any other officer, branch, affiliate or correspondent bank of the applicable Lender for such currency and if, by reason of any Change in Law, disruption of currency or foreign exchange markets, war or civil disturbance or other event, payment of such Specified Ancillary Obligation in such currency or at such place of payment shall be impossible or, in the reasonable judgment of any applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates), disadvantageous to such applicable Lender (or any of its Affiliates) in any material respect, then, at the election of such applicable Lender, the Borrower shall make payment of such Specified Ancillary Obligation in Dollars (based upon the Dollar Equivalent of such Specified Ancillary Obligation on the date of payment) and/or in New York, Chicago or such other payment office as is designated by such applicable Lender (or its Affiliate) and, as a separate and independent obligation, shall indemnify such applicable Lender (and any of its Affiliates) against any losses or reasonable out-of-pocket expenses that it shall sustain as a result of such alternative payment.

Upon payment by the Borrower of any sums as provided above, all rights of the Borrower against any Subsidiary arising as a result thereof by way of right of subrogation or otherwise shall in all respects be subordinated and junior in right of payment to the prior indefeasible payment in full in cash of all the Specified Ancillary Obligations owed by such Subsidiary to the applicable Lender (or its applicable Affiliates).

The Borrower hereby absolutely, unconditionally and irrevocably undertakes to provide such funds or other support as may be needed from time to time by each Subsidiary Guarantor to honor all of its obligations under the Subsidiary Guaranty in respect of Specified Swap Obligations (provided, however, that the Borrower shall only be liable under this paragraph for the maximum amount of such liability that can be hereby incurred without rendering its obligations under this paragraph or otherwise under this Article X voidable under applicable law relating to fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer, and not for any greater amount). The Borrower intends that this paragraph constitute, and this paragraph shall be deemed to constitute, a "keepwell, support, or other agreement" for the benefit of each Subsidiary Guarantor for all purposes of Section 1a(18)(A)(v)(II) of the Commodity Exchange Act.

Nothing shall discharge or satisfy the liability of the Borrower hereunder except the full performance and payment in cash of the Secured Obligations.

Section 2.5. No New Liens.

(a) The parties hereto agree that, so long as the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations has not occurred, (i) none of the Grantors shall grant or permit any additional Liens on any asset or Property of any Grantor to secure any Obligation unless it has granted, or concurrently therewith grants, through documentation in form and substance satisfactory to the First Lien Secured Agent, a Lien on such asset or Property of such Grantor to secure the First Lien Secured Obligations, and (ii) none of the Grantors shall grant or permit any additional Liens on any asset or Property of any Grantor to secure any Second Lien Secured Obligation unless it has granted, or concurrently therewith grants, through documentation in form and substance satisfactory to the First Lien Secured Agent, a Lien on such asset or Property of such Grantor to secure the First Lien Secured Obligations; provided that this provision will not be violated if the First Lien Secured Agent is given a reasonable opportunity to accept a Lien on any asset or property and the First Lien Secured Agent states in writing that the First Lien Loan Documents in respect thereof prohibit the First Lien Secured Agent from accepting a Lien on such asset or property or the First Lien Secured Agent otherwise expressly declines in writing to accept a Lien on such asset or property (any such prohibited or declined Lien, a "First Lien Declined Lien"). So long as the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations has not occurred, whether or not any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding has been commenced by or against any of the Grantors, the parties hereto agree that if any Secured Party shall acquire or hold any Lien on any assets of any Grantor securing any Obligation which assets are not also subject to the Lien of the First Lien Secured Agent under the applicable First Lien Loan Documents (other than a First Lien Declined Lien), then, without limiting any other rights and remedies available to the First Lien Secured Agent or the other First Lien Secured Parties, the applicable Agent for such parties, on behalf of itself and its related Secured Parties, agrees that any amounts received by or distributed to any of them pursuant to or as a result of Liens so granted shall be subject to Section 5.1(a).

(b) The parties hereto agree that, so long as the Discharge of Second Lien Secured Obligations has not occurred, (i) none of the Grantors shall grant or permit any additional Liens on any asset or Property of any Grantor to secure any Obligation unless it has granted, or concurrently therewith grants, through documentation in form and substance satisfactory to the Second Lien Secured Agent, a Lien on such asset or Property of such Grantor to secure the Second Lien Secured Obligations, and (ii) none of the Grantors shall grant or permit any additional Liens on any asset or Property of any Grantor to secure any First Lien Secured Obligation unless it has granted, or concurrently therewith grants, through documentation in form and substance satisfactory to the Second Lien Secured Agent, a Lien on such asset or Property of such Grantor to secure the Second Lien Secured Obligations; provided that this provision will not be violated if the Second Lien Secured Agent is given a reasonable opportunity to accept a Lien on any asset or property and the Second Lien Secured Agent states in writing that the Second Lien Loan Documents in respect thereof prohibit the Second Lien Secured Agent from accepting a Lien on such asset or property or the Second Lien Secured Agent otherwise expressly declines in writing to accept a Lien on such asset or property (any such prohibited or declined Lien, a "Second Lien Declined Lien"). So long as the Discharge of Second Lien Secured Obligations has not occurred, whether or not any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding has been commenced by or against any of the Grantors, the parties hereto agree that if any Secured Party shall acquire or hold any Lien on any assets of any Grantor securing any Obligation which assets are not also subject to the Lien of the Second Lien Secured Agent under the applicable Second Lien Loan Documents (other than a Second Lien Declined Lien), then, without limiting any other rights and remedies available to the Second Lien Secured Agent or the other Second Lien Secured Parties, the applicable Agent for such parties, on behalf of itself and its related Secured Parties, agrees that any amounts received by or distributed to any of them pursuant to or as a result of Liens so granted shall be subject to Section 5.1(b).

Section 2.6. Waiver of Marshalling. Until the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations (in the case of the Second Lien Secured Parties) or the Discharge of Second Lien Secured Obligations (in the case of the First Lien Secured Parties), as applicable, each Representative, on behalf of itself and the applicable Secured Parties, agrees not to assert and hereby waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any right to demand, request, plead or otherwise assert or otherwise claim the benefit of, any marshalling, appraisal, valuation or other similar right that may otherwise be available under applicable law with respect to the Collateral or any other similar rights a secured creditor may have under applicable law.

PAYMENT SUBORDINATION

Section 3.1. Agreement to Subordinate. The Borrower and each other Grantor covenants and agrees, and the Second Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of the Second Lien Secured Parties, covenants and agrees, and each Second Lien Secured Party by accepting the Second Lien Indenture covenants and agrees that, anything in Second Lien Indenture to the contrary notwithstanding, the Second Lien Secured Obligations are subordinate and junior in right of payment, to the extent provided herein, to all First Lien Secured Obligations, whether outstanding on the date of execution of the Second Lien Indenture or thereafter created, incurred or assumed, and that the subordination is for the benefit of the First Lien Secured Parties.

Section 3.2. No Payment on Second Lien Secured Obligations in Certain Circumstances.

(a) No payment by the Borrower or any other Grantor with respect to the Second Lien Secured Obligations (whether such payment is a payment on account of principal (or premium, if any), sinking funds or interest on the Second Lien Secured Obligations or otherwise) shall be made if either of the following occurs (each, a "Payment Default"):

(i) the failure of any Grantor to pay, on a timely basis, any principal, interest, fees or other obligations under the First Lien Loan Documents including, without limitation, any default in payment of First Lien Secured Obligations after acceleration thereof; or

(ii) any Default or Event of Default (as defined in the First Lien Credit Agreement) under any First Lien Loan Documents has occurred and the maturity of any First Lien Secured Obligations is accelerated in accordance with the applicable terms of the First Lien Loan Documents, unless, in either case, the Payment Default has been cured or waived and any such acceleration has been rescinded or the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations has occurred; provided, however, that the Borrower may pay the Second Lien Secured Obligations without regard to the foregoing if (i) the Borrower and the Second Lien Representative receive written notice approving such payment from the First Lien Representative with respect to which a Payment Default has occurred and is continuing or (ii) such payment is made in kind or in equity interests of the Borrower. The Borrower shall promptly give notice to the Second Lien Representative of any occurrence of a Payment Default.

(b) The Borrower shall not pay the Second Lien Secured Obligations for a Payment Blockage Period (as defined below) during the continuance of any Default other than a Payment Default (a "Non-Payment Default"), with respect to any First Lien Secured Obligation that permits the First Lien Secured Parties in respect of such First Lien Secured Obligations to accelerate its maturity immediately without either further notice (except such notice as may be required to effect such acceleration) or the expiration of any applicable grace periods; provided, however, that the Borrower may pay the Second Lien Secured Obligations without regard to the foregoing if (i) the Borrower and the Second Lien Representative receive written notice approving such payment from the First Lien Representative with respect to which a Non-Payment Default has occurred and is continuing or (ii) such payment is made in kind or in equity interests of the Borrower (or any parent entity thereof).

(c) A "Payment Blockage Period" commences on the receipt by the Second Lien Representative (with a copy to the Borrower) of written notice (a "Blockage Notice") of a Non-Payment Default from the First Lien Representative specifying an election to effect a Payment Blockage Period and ends 179 days after the date of receipt of such notice. The Payment Blockage Period will end earlier if such Payment Blockage Period is terminated:

(i) by written notice to the Second Lien Representative and the Borrower from the Person or Persons who gave such Blockage Notice;

(ii) because the Default giving rise to such Blockage Notice is cured, waived or otherwise no longer continuing; or

(iii) because the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations has occurred.

(d) The Borrower may resume paying on the Second Lien Secured Obligations after the end of the Payment Blockage Period (including any missed payments), unless the First Lien Secured Parties or the First Lien Representative have accelerated the maturity of such First Lien Secured Obligations. The Second Lien Secured Obligations will not be subject to more than one Payment Blockage Period in any consecutive 360-day period, irrespective of the number of Defaults with respect to First Lien Secured Obligations during such period. In no event, however, may the total number of days during which any Payment Blockage Period or Payment Blockage Periods is in effect exceed 179 days in the aggregate during any consecutive 360-day period, and there must be at least 181 days during any consecutive 360-day period during which no Payment Blockage Period is in effect. For purposes of this paragraph, no Default or Event of Default that existed or was continuing on the date of the commencement of any Payment Blockage Period with respect to the applicable First Lien Secured Obligations initiating such Payment Blockage Period shall be, or be made, the basis of the commencement of a subsequent Payment Blockage Period by the First Lien Representative, whether or not within a period of 360 consecutive days, unless such Default or Event of Default shall have been cured or waived for a period of not less than 90 consecutive days (it being acknowledged that any subsequent action, or any breach of any financial covenant during the period after the date of delivery of a Blockage Notice, that, in either case, would give rise to a Non-Payment Default pursuant to any provisions under which a Non-Payment Default previously existed or was continuing shall constitute a new Non-Payment Default for this purpose).

Section 3.3. Notices to Second Lien Representative. The Borrower shall give prompt written notice to the Second Lien Representative of any fact known to the Borrower which would prohibit the making of any payment to or by the Second Lien Representative in respect of the Second Lien Secured Obligations. Failure to give such notice shall not affect the subordination of the Second Lien Secured Obligations to the First Lien Secured Obligations. The Second Lien Representative shall be entitled to rely on the delivery to it of a written notice by a person representing himself or herself to be a First Lien Secured Party or the First Lien Representative to establish that such a notice has been given by a First Lien Secured Party or the First Lien Representative.

Section 3.4. Agreement of Grantors. Each Grantor, for itself, its successors and assigns, covenants and agrees, and the Second Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of the Second Lien Secured Parties, covenants and agrees, and each Second Lien Secured Party by its acceptance thereof, likewise covenants and agrees, that the payment of any of the Second Lien Secured Obligations is hereby expressly subordinated, to the extent and in the manner hereinafter set forth, in right of payment to the prior Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations, and the obligations of the Grantors under the First Lien Security Documents will in no way be diminished or otherwise affected by the provisions of this Agreement.

Section 3.5. Subordination Rights Not Impaired by Acts or Omissions of the Grantors or First Lien Secured Parties. No right of any present or future First Lien Secured Party to enforce subordination as herein provided shall at any time in any way be prejudiced or impaired by any act or failure to act on the part of any Grantor or by any act or failure to act, in good faith, by any such First Lien Secured Party, or by any noncompliance by any Grantor with the terms, provisions and covenants of this Agreement or any First Lien Loan Document, regardless of any knowledge thereof which any such First Lien Secured Party may have or be otherwise charged with.

ACTIONS OF THE PARTIES

Section 4.1. Certain Actions Permitted. Each First Lien Secured Agent and the Second Lien Secured Agent may make such demands or file such claims in respect of the First Lien Secured Obligations or the Second Lien Secured Obligations, as applicable, as are necessary to prevent the waiver or bar of such claims under applicable statutes of limitations or other statutes, court orders, or rules of procedure at any time. Nothing in this Agreement shall prohibit the receipt by the Second Lien Secured Agent or any Second Lien Lender of Permitted Second Lien Payments and other amounts owed in respect of the Second Lien Secured Obligations required pursuant to the terms of the Second Lien Indenture as in effect as of the date hereof so long as such receipt is not the direct or indirect result of the exercise by the Second Lien Secured Agent or any Second Lien Lender of rights or remedies as a creditor (including set-off with respect to Collateral) or enforcement in contravention of this Agreement. Except as provided in Section 5.2, nothing in this Agreement shall prohibit the receipt by the First Lien Secured Agent or any First Lien Lender of the required payments of interest, principal and other amounts owed in respect of its First Lien Secured Obligations so long as such receipt is not the direct or indirect result of the exercise by the First Lien Secured Agent or a First Lien Lender of rights or remedies as a secured creditor (including set-off with respect to Collateral) or enforcement in contravention of this Agreement of any Lien held by any of them.

Section 4.2. Agents for Perfection.

(a) Appointment of Control Agent. Each of the Agents, on behalf of themselves and the respective Lenders under the applicable Credit Agreements, hereby appoint JPM as its control agent (in such capacity, together with any successor in such capacity appointed by the Agents, the "Control Agent") for the limited purpose of acting as the agent on behalf of the Agents (on behalf of themselves and the applicable Lenders) for the purposes set forth herein. The Control Agent accepts such appointment and agrees to hold the Collateral in its possession or control (or in the possession or control of its agents or bailees) as Control Agent for the benefit of the Agents (on behalf of themselves and the applicable Lenders), and any permitted assignee of any thereof solely for the purpose of perfecting the security interest granted to such parties in such Collateral, subject to the terms and conditions of this Section 4.2. Each Agent hereby acknowledges that the Control Agent will obtain "control" under the UCC over each account that is part of the Collateral as contemplated by the Security Documents for the benefit of the Agents (on behalf of themselves and the applicable Lenders), pursuant to the control agreements relating to each such respective account.

(b) Indemnity of Control Agent. The Loan Parties hereby jointly and severally agree to pay, reimburse, indemnify and hold harmless the Control Agent and each Controlling Agent, in such capacity, to the same extent and on the same terms that the Loan Parties are required to do so for the Agent in accordance with the Credit Agreements. The Lenders hereby jointly and severally agree to pay, reimburse, indemnify and hold harmless each Control Agent and each Controlling Agent to the same extent and on the same terms that the Lenders are required to do so for the Agent in accordance with the applicable Credit Agreements to which they are party.

(c) Rights and Obligations of Control Agents. The provisions of Article [9.03] of the First Lien Credit Agreement and Article [__] of the Second Lien Indenture, as applicable, shall inure to the benefit of the Control Agent and each Controlling Agent, in such capacity, in respect of this Agreement and the Security Documents and shall be binding upon all Loan Parties which are parties thereto, all Lenders and upon the parties hereto in such respect. In furtherance and not in derogation of the rights, privileges and immunities of the Control Agent and each Controlling Agent therein set forth:

(1) The Control Agent and the Controlling Agent is authorized to take all such actions as are provided to be taken by it as the Control Agent or Controlling Agent hereunder, under any First Lien Security Agreement, under any Second Lien Security Document or as instructed by the First Lien Secured Agent or the Second Lien Secured Agent as provided herein, in each case together with all other actions reasonably incidental thereto. As to any matters not expressly provided for herein (including, without limitation, the timing and methods of realization upon the Collateral) or in one or more of the First Lien Security Agreements or Second Lien Security Documents, the Control Agent or the Controlling Agent, as applicable, shall act or refrain from acting in accordance with written instructions from the applicable Agent (including the Control Agent acting at the written direction of the Controlling Agent), or, in the absence of such instructions or provisions, in accordance with its reasonable discretion.

(2) Neither the Control Agent nor the Controlling Agent shall be responsible for the existence, genuineness or value of any of the Collateral or for the validity, perfection, priority or enforceability of any Lien created under any First Lien Security Agreement or Second Lien Security Document in any of the Collateral, whether impaired by operation of law or by reason of any action or omission to act on its part hereunder unless such action or omission constitutes gross negligence or willful misconduct. Neither the Control Agent nor the Controlling Agent shall have a duty to ascertain or inquire as to the performance or observance of any of the terms of this Agreement or any First Lien Security Agreement or Second Lien Security Document by any Loan Party. This Agreement shall not subject the Control Agent or the Controlling Agent to any obligation or liability except as expressly set forth herein. In particular, the Control Agent or the Controlling Agent shall not have any duty to investigate whether the Obligations of any Loan Party to the First Lien Secured Agent or the Second Lien Secured Agent or any First Lien Lender or Second Lien Lender are in default or whether the First Lien Secured Agent or the Second Lien Secured Agent is entitled under the First Lien Security Agreements or the Second Lien Security Documents, as applicable, or otherwise to give any instructions or notice of exclusive control. The Control Agent and Controlling Agent are fully entitled to rely upon such instructions as it believes in good faith to have originated from the First Lien Secured Agent or Second Lien Secured Agent.

(3) Except as set forth in clause (4) below, neither the Control Agent nor the Controlling Agent shall have any obligation whatsoever to the First Lien Secured Agent or the Second Lien Secured Agent or any First Lien Lender or Second Lien Lender, including, without limitation, any obligation to assure that the applicable Collateral is owned by any Loan Party or one of their respective Subsidiaries or to preserve rights or benefits of any Person except as expressly set forth in this Section 4.2.

(4) In acting on behalf of the First Lien Secured Agent and the First Lien Lenders and the Second Lien Secured Agent and the Second Lien Lenders, the duties or responsibilities of the Control Agent under this Section 4.2 shall be limited solely to:

(i) physically holding the applicable Collateral delivered to the Control Agent by any Loan Party as agent for the First Lien Secured Agent (on behalf of itself and the applicable First Lien Lenders) for purposes of perfecting the Lien held by the First Lien Secured Agent;

(ii) delivering the Collateral referred to in clause (i) above as set forth in Section 4.2(e);

(iii) to the extent applicable, entering into one or more control agreements in form and substance satisfactory to the First Lien Secured Agent with respect to Collateral consisting of deposit accounts, securities accounts, uncertificated securities or letter-of-credit rights and exercising the rights of the secured party thereunder in accordance with the instructions of, and on behalf of, the First Lien Secured Agent;

(iv) to the extent applicable, maintaining one or more Collateral Accounts as provided in (and as defined in) the First Lien Security Agreements; and

(v) delivering any notices received by it with respect to any item of Collateral in its possession or control to each of the applicable Agents.

(d) Limited Bailee for Perfection. The Control Agent agrees to hold any Collateral that may from time to time be in its possession or control (or in the possession or control of its agents or bailees) as bailee or as agent, as the case may be, for the benefit of each Representative (on behalf of the applicable Lenders) solely for the purpose of perfecting the security interest granted to each Representative under the applicable Security Documents, subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, solely for purposes of perfecting the Lien in favor of each Agent, the Control Agent agrees that it shall be the agent of each Representative with respect to any Collateral included in the Collateral that are controlled or held by the Control Agent. Except as set forth in this clause (e), the Control Agent shall have no obligation whatsoever to any Representative, Agent or any Lender including, without limitation, any obligation to assure that any Collateral is genuine or is owned by any Loan Party or one of their respective Subsidiaries or to preserve rights or benefits of any Person. In acting as agent or bailee on behalf of each Agent (on behalf of the applicable Lenders), the duties or responsibilities of the Control Agent under this Section 4.2(e) shall be limited solely to (x) physically holding (or causing its agent or bailee, as applicable, to hold) any Collateral that may from time to time be in its possession or control (or in the possession or control of its agents or bailees) as agent or bailee for each Agent (on behalf of the applicable Lenders) for purposes of perfecting the Lien held by such Agent and (y) delivering the Collateral referred to in subclause (4)(i) above as set forth in this Section 4.2(c).

(e) No Fiduciary Relationship. Neither First Lien Secured Agent or any other First Lien Secured Parties shall have by reason of the First Lien Loan Documents, the Second Lien Loan Documents, this Agreement or any other document, a fiduciary relationship in respect of any Second Lien Secured Agent or any other Second Lien Secured Party, and it is understood and agreed that the interests of the First Lien Secured Agent and the other First Lien Secured Parties, on the one hand, and the Second Lien Secured Agent and the other Second Lien Secured Parties, on the other hand, may differ and that the First Lien Secured Agent and the other First Lien Secured Parties shall be fully entitled to act in their own interest without taking into account the interests of the Second Lien Secured Agent or the other Second Lien Secured Parties.

(f) Delivery to Second Lien Secured Agent. Upon the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations, the Control Agent (or the Controlling Agent) shall deliver the applicable Collateral (other than any extended Collateral) pledged to the Second Lien Secured Parties held by it to the Second Lien Secured Agent together with any necessary endorsements (or otherwise allow the Second Lien Secured Agent to obtain control of such Collateral) without recourse or warranty, except in the event and to the extent (i) the First Lien Secured Agent, Control Agent or any other First Lien Secured Party has retained or otherwise acquired such Collateral in full or partial satisfaction of any of the First Lien Secured Obligations, (ii) such Collateral has been sold or otherwise Disposed of by the First Lien Secured Agent, Control Agent or any other First Lien Secured Party or by a Grantor not in violation of this Agreement or (iii) it is otherwise required by any order of any court or other Governmental Authority or applicable law or would result in the risk of liability of such First Lien Secured Party to any third party.

(g) Resignation of Control Agent. The Control Agent shall have the right to resign as Control Agent upon 30 days' notice to the First Lien Secured Agent and the Second Lien Secured Agent. Upon any such resignation by the Control Agent, the Controlling Agent shall have the right to appoint a successor Control Agent. If upon the effective date of such resignation no successor to such Control Agent has been appointed by the First Lien Secured Agent, the Control Agent shall deliver the Collateral held by it to the Controlling Agent, together with any necessary endorsements (or otherwise allow the Controlling Agent to obtain control of such Collateral), and the Controlling Agent shall accept and succeed to the role of the Control Agent as the agent for perfection on the Collateral.

Section 4.3. Insurance.

(a) Unless and until the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations has occurred, the Second Lien Secured Agent, for itself and on behalf of the applicable Second Lien Lenders, agrees that during the continuance of an Event of Default, (i) the First Lien Secured Agent, the Control Agent and the

First Lien Lenders shall have the sole and exclusive right, as against the Second Lien Secured Agent, to adjust settlement of insurance claims in the event of any covered loss, theft or destruction of First Lien Collateral and to approve any award granted in any condemnation or similar proceeding (or any deed in lieu of condemnation) affecting such First Lien Collateral; (ii) all Proceeds of any such policy and any such award (or any payments with respect to a deed in lieu of condemnation) if in respect of such First Lien Collateral and to the extent required by the First Lien Loan Documents shall be applied in accordance with Section 5.1; and (iii) if any of the Second Lien Secured Agent, or any Second Lien Lender shall, at any time, receive any Proceeds of any such insurance policy or any such award or payment in contravention of this Agreement, it shall segregate and hold in trust and forthwith pay such Proceeds over to the Control Agent in accordance with the provisions of Section 5.1(c).

(b) Proceeds of Collateral include insurance Proceeds and, therefore, the Lien Priority and Payment Priority shall govern the ultimate Disposition of casualty insurance Proceeds and business interruption insurance Proceeds. To effectuate the foregoing, each Agent shall each receive separate loss payable endorsements naming themselves as loss payee and additional insured, as their interests may appear, with respect to policies which insure Collateral hereunder. The Control Agent (acting at the direction of the applicable Representative) shall have the right to adjust or settle any insurance policy or claim covering or constituting Collateral in the event of any loss thereunder and to approve any award granted in any condemnation, expropriation or similar proceeding affecting the Collateral. All Proceeds of such insurance shall be remitted to the applicable Agent or Control Agent, as the case may be, and each of the applicable Agents, and the Control Agent shall cooperate (if necessary) in a reasonable manner in effecting the payment of insurance proceeds in accordance with Section 5.1 hereof.

Section 4.4. No Additional Rights For the Loan Parties Hereunder. If any Secured Party shall enforce its rights or remedies in violation of the terms of this Agreement, the Loan Parties shall not be entitled to use such violation as a defense to any action by any Secured Party, nor to assert such violation as a counterclaim or basis for set off or recoupment against any Secured Party.

APPLICATION OF PROCEEDS

Section 5.1. Application of Proceeds.

(a) Solely to the extent that the applicable Obligations are then due and payable (whether by acceleration or otherwise), the Controlling Agent (or any other agent in possession thereof) will apply the Proceeds of any collection, sale, foreclosure or other realization upon, or any other Enforcement Action with respect to, any Collateral and the Proceeds thereof, including the Proceeds of any insurance policy required under any Security Document or otherwise covering the Collateral, any condemnation Proceeds with respect to the Collateral, and any other amounts required to be delivered to the Controlling Agent (or the Control Agent) by any Secured Party or Representative with respect to any Collateral pursuant to any other provision of this Agreement and for application in accordance with this Section 5.1(a), including any amounts received in connection with an Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding or during any Standstill Period, in the following order of application:

(i) FIRST, to the payment of all fees, expenses, indemnities and any other amounts payable under this Agreement or any other Security Document to the Controlling Agent and the Control Agent, including, to the extent required to be paid or reimbursed under this Agreement or any other Security Document, any reasonable legal fees, costs and expenses or other liabilities of any kind incurred by the Controlling Agent, the Control Agent or any agent of the Controlling Agent or the Control Agent in connection with any Security Document and all amounts necessary to provide for the expenses of the Controlling Agent or the Control Agent in maintaining and disposing of the Collateral (including, but not limited to, indemnification payments and reimbursements) and all amounts due and owing to any sub-agent of the Controlling Agent or the Control Agent pursuant to any collateral sub-agency agreement;

(ii) SECOND, to the payment in full of the First Lien Secured Obligations, including interest, fees, expenses, indemnity claims and other monetary obligations accrued during the pendency of an Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding, whether or not constituting an allowed claim in such proceeding (the amounts so applied to be distributed in accordance with the relevant provisions of the First Lien Credit Agreement and any applicable pari passu intercreditor agreement with respect thereto);

(iii) THIRD, to the payment in full of the Second Lien Secured Obligations, including interest, fees, expenses, indemnity claims and other monetary obligations accrued during the pendency of an Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding, whether or not constituting an allowed claim in such proceeding (the amounts so applied to be distributed in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Second Lien Indenture; and

(iv) FOURTH (x) in the case of Proceeds, as may be required by the First Lien Loan Documents and (y) in the case of other distributions, to such Person as shall be legally entitled to such other distributions, or as a court of competent jurisdiction may otherwise direct.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, if any Series of Obligations has released its Lien on any Collateral as described in the second sentence of Section 2.4(b)(ii), then such Series of Obligations and any related Senior Liens of that Series of Obligations thereafter shall not be entitled to share in the Proceeds of any Collateral so released by that Series of Obligations (other than Proceeds received concurrently with (and subject to) the release of such Senior Liens).

For the avoidance of doubt, the Controlling Agent shall only apply Proceeds in accordance with this Section 5.1 to the extent that such Proceeds are actually so received by the Controlling Agent; provided that the Agents and the Lenders agree to turn over to the Controlling Agent any Proceeds received by them that are required to be turned over to the Controlling Agent in accordance herewith. The Company acknowledges the priorities set forth in this Section 5.1 and agrees that it will not make any distributions to any Secured Party in contravention of this Section 5.1.

(b) Limited Obligation or Liability. In exercising remedies, whether as a secured creditor or otherwise, neither First Lien Secured Agent or the Controlling Agent shall have any obligation or liability to the Second Lien Secured Agent or to any Second Lien Lender (nor will the Controlling Agent have any obligation or liability to any other First Lien Secured Party) regarding the adequacy of any Proceeds or for any action or omission, save and except solely for an action or omission that breaches the express obligations undertaken by each party under the terms of this Agreement.

(c) Turnover Prior to Discharge. If at any time prior to the date upon which the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations shall have occurred, any Agent or Lender receives any payment or distribution of any kind or character (other than Permitted Second Lien Payments) at any time when such payment was not permitted pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, whether in cash, Property or securities, from or of any assets of any Loan Party (or any Loan Party's Subsidiaries), including on account of adequate protection payments, such Agent or Lender shall be deemed to receive and hold the same in trust as trustee for the benefit of the Controlling Agent and shall forthwith deliver such payment, distribution, or proceeds to the Controlling Agent in precisely the form received (except for any endorsement or assignment where necessary), for application in accordance with this Section 5.1 to any of the Obligations. In the event of the failure of any Agent or Lender to make any such endorsement or assignment to the Controlling Agent within 5 Business Days after receipt of written request therefor from the Controlling Agent, such Controlling Agent and any of its officers or agents are hereby irrevocably authorized to make such endorsement or assignment and are hereby irrevocably appointed as the lawful attorney in fact of such Party solely for the purpose of enabling such Controlling Agent to make such endorsement or assignment.

Section 5.2. Specific Performance. Each of the Agents are hereby authorized to demand specific performance of this Agreement, whether or not any Borrower or any Guarantor shall have complied with any of the provisions of any of the Loan Documents, at any time when the other party shall have failed to comply with any of the provisions of this Agreement applicable to it. Each of the parties and their Representatives, for and on behalf of itself and the applicable Secured Parties, hereby irrevocably waives any defense based on the adequacy of a remedy at law that might be asserted as a bar to such remedy of specific performance

INTERCREDITOR ACKNOWLEDGMENTS AND WAIVERS

Section 6.1. Acknowledgment of Liens and Payment Priorities. Each Loan Party acknowledges and agrees to all Lien Priorities and Payment Priorities as set forth herein.

Section 6.2. Reinstatement and Continuation of Agreement.

(a) If any First Lien Lender or First Lien Secured Agent is required in any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding or otherwise to turn over or otherwise pay to the estate of any Borrower, any Guarantor, or any other Person any payment made in satisfaction of all or any portion of the First Lien Secured Obligations (a "Senior Recovery"), then the First Lien Secured Obligations shall be reinstated to the extent of such Senior Recovery. If this Agreement shall have been terminated prior to such Senior Recovery, this Agreement shall be reinstated in full force and effect in the event of such Senior Recovery, and such prior termination shall not diminish, release, discharge, impair, or otherwise affect the Obligations of the parties from such date of reinstatement. All rights, interests, agreements, and obligations of the First Lien Secured Agent, the Second Lien Secured Agent, the First Lien Lenders, and the Second Lien Lenders under this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall continue irrespective of the commencement of, or any discharge, confirmation, conversion, or dismissal of, any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding by or against any Borrower or any Guarantor or any other circumstance which otherwise might constitute a defense available to, or a discharge of any Borrower or any Guarantor in respect of the First Lien Secured Obligations or the Second Lien Secured Obligations. No priority or right of the First Lien Secured Agent or any First Lien Lender shall at any time be prejudiced or impaired in any way by any act or failure to act on the part of any Borrower or any Guarantor or by the noncompliance by any Person with the terms, provisions, or covenants of any of the First Lien Loan Documents, regardless of any knowledge thereof which the First Lien Secured Agent or any First Lien Lender may have.

Section 6.3. Purchase Option. Without prejudice to the enforcement of the First Lien Secured Parties' remedies, the First Lien Secured Parties agree that following any of the following: (a) the delivery of a written notice to the Second Lien Secured Agent from the First Lien Representative that the First Lien Secured Parties have accelerated any of the First Lien Secured Obligations, (b) the delivery of written notice to the Second Lien Secured Agent from the First Lien Representative that a Default under the First Lien Loan Documents has occurred and is continuing and the Required First Lien Debtholders wish to commence an Enforcement Action or (c) the commencement of an Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding (each, a "Purchase Event"), then, within forty-five (45) days of the Purchase Event (or such later date as the First Lien Representative may agree), one or more of the holders of the Second Lien Secured Obligations or any of their designated Affiliates (the "Purchasers") may, by written notice to the First Lien Representative, offer to purchase all, but not less than all, of the aggregate amount of First Lien Secured Obligations (including unfunded commitments under any First Lien Loan Document) at par, plus (i) any premium that would be applicable upon prepayment of the First Lien Secured Obligations and accrued and unpaid interest (including all interest accrued thereon after the commencement of any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding at the applicable post-default rate) and all unpaid fees and expenses (including breakage costs) then due and payable and (ii) if applicable, cash collateral to be furnished to the First Lien Secured Parties providing Letters of Credit under the First Lien Loan Documents in such outstanding face amounts plus fees thereon (in an amount equal to 105% thereof or such other amount as such First Lien Secured Party determines is reasonably necessary to secure such First Lien Secured Party in connection with any such outstanding and undrawn letters of credit). Promptly following the receipt of such notice, each First Lien Representative will deliver to each Second Lien Representative a statement of the amount of the First Lien Secured Obligations provided by the First Lien Secured Parties represented by each such First Lien Representative, if any, then outstanding and the amount of the cash collateral requested by any such First Lien Representative to be delivered pursuant to the applicable First Lien Loan Documents. If such right is exercised, the First Lien Secured Parties and the Second Payment Priority Secured Parties shall endeavor to close promptly thereafter but in any event within fifteen (15) Business Days of the request. If one or more of the Second Lien Secured Parties exercise such purchase right, it shall be exercised pursuant to documentation reasonably acceptable to each of the First Lien Representatives and the purchasing Second Lien Secured Parties. If none of the Second Lien Secured Parties timely exercises such right the Second Lien Secured Parties shall have no further rights or obligations pursuant to this Section 5.4 for such Purchase Event and the First Lien Secured Parties may take any further actions in their sole discretion in accordance with the First Lien Loan Documents and this Agreement. Each First Lien Secured Party will retain all rights to indemnification provided in the relevant First Lien Loan Documents for all claims and other amounts relating to the period prior to the purchase of the First Lien Secured Obligations pursuant to this Section 5.4.

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS

Section 7.1. Insolvency Matters.

(a) The Controlling Agent (on behalf of the First Lien Secured Parties), each First Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of the First Lien Secured Parties, the Second Lien Secured Agent (on behalf of the Second Lien Secured Parties), each Second Lien Representative for itself and on behalf of the Second Lien Secured Parties, and the Company (on behalf of itself and the other Loan Parties) each acknowledges and agrees that because of, among other things, their differing rights to payment of the Proceeds of the Collateral, among other things as set forth in this Agreement, each series of Obligations is fundamentally different from each other Series of Obligations, are not substantially similar to any other Series of Obligations within the meaning of Bankruptcy Code Section 1122(a), and must be separately classified from each other Series of Obligations in any Plan proposed, confirmed or adopted in an Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding. To further effectuate the intent of the parties as provided in the immediately preceding sentence, if it is held that the claims of more than one Series of Obligations constitute only one secured claim or are properly classified in one class (rather than separate claims or classes of secured claims), then each of the Secured Parties hereby acknowledges and agrees that all distributions shall be made in accordance with Section 5.1 of this Agreement and the First Lien Secured Parties shall be entitled to receive, in addition to amounts distributed to them from, or in respect of, the Collateral in respect of principal, pre-petition interest and other claims, all amounts owing in respect of post-petition interest, fees, costs, expenses, premiums, and other charges, irrespective of whether a claim for such amounts is allowed or allowable in such Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding, as if the First Lien Secured Agent had a senior Lien on the Collateral for all purposes hereunder before any distribution from, or in respect of, any Collateral is made in respect of the claims held by such Secured Parties, with all Secured Parties) and the applicable Secured Parties acknowledging and agreeing to turn over to the First Lien Secured Agent amounts otherwise received or receivable by them to the extent necessary to effectuate the intent of this Section 7.1 and this Agreement, even if such turnover has the effect of reducing the claim or recovery of certain Secured Parties.

(b) None of the Representatives or any other Secured Party (whether in the capacity of a secured creditor or an unsecured creditor) shall propose, vote in favor of, or otherwise directly or indirectly support any Plan that is inconsistent with the priorities or other provisions of this Agreement (including but not limited to Section 5.1), unless (i) as to the First Lien Secured Parties, such plan otherwise provides for the repayment in full in cash of the First Lien Secured Obligations on the effective date thereof, (ii) such a plan classifies the claims held by the Second Lien Secured Parties separately from the claims held by the First Lien Secured Parties and such plan provides for treatment that, taking into account the turnover obligations under Section 7.1(a), would provide for the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations on the effective date of such plan (or as soon thereafter as is reasonably practicable under the circumstances), or (iii) such Plan is supported by the holders of two-thirds of the aggregate amount of the outstanding First Lien Secured Obligations. Furthermore, none of any Representative or any other Secured Party (whether in the capacity of a secured creditor or an unsecured creditor) shall object to or contest (or support any other party in objection or contesting) a Plan or other dispositive restructuring plan on the grounds that each Series of Obligations are classified separately.

(c) The parties hereto acknowledge that this Agreement is a "subordination agreement" under Section 510(a) of the Bankruptcy Code and shall continue in full force and effect, notwithstanding the commencement of any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding by or against the Company or any subsidiary of the Company. All references in this Agreement to the Company or any subsidiary of the Company or any other Grantor will include such Person or Persons as a debtor-in-possession and any receiver or trustee for such Person or Persons in an Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding.

(d) Until the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations, if an Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding has commenced, Second Lien Secured Agent, as holder of a Lien on the Collateral, will not contest, protest, or object to, and each Second Lien Secured Party will be deemed to have consented to:

(i) any use, sale, or lease of "cash collateral" (as defined in section 363(a) of the Bankruptcy Code), and

(ii) the Borrower or any other Grantor obtaining DIP Financing; provided that the First Lien Representative consents in writing to such use, sale, or lease, or DIP Financing; provided further that (A) the Second Lien Secured Agent retains its Lien on the Collateral to secure the Second Lien Secured Obligations (in each case, including Proceeds thereof arising after the commencement of the case under any Debtor Relief Laws) and such Lien has the same priority as existed prior to the commencement of the case under the subject Debtor Relief Laws, (B) any Second Lien Secured Party may seek adequate protection as permitted by Section 7.1(h), (C) the proposed DIP Financing does not compel any Loan Party to seek confirmation of a specific plan of reorganization for which all or substantially all of the material terms are set forth in the DIP Financing documentation, (D) the DIP Financing is otherwise not in contravention of the terms of this Agreement, (E) if the First Lien Secured Agent receives a replacement or adequate protection Lien on post-petition assets of the debtor to secure the First Lien Secured Obligations, the Second

Lien Secured Agent also receives a replacement or adequate protection Lien on such post-petition assets of the Loan Parties to secure the Second Lien Secured Obligations which is junior to the Liens of the First Lien Secured Agent on such post-petition assets and, in each case, if any of the above is not provided or granted, Second Lien Secured Agent may object under this Section 7.1 on such basis. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the foregoing provisions of this Section 7.1 shall not prevent the Second Lien Secured Agent and the other Second Lien Secured Parties from objecting to any provision in any DIP Financing or use, sale or lease of cash collateral relating to any provision or content of a plan of reorganization or other plan of similar effect under any Debtor Relief Laws which contravene the terms of this Agreement.

(e) Upon written request from the Controlling Agent, the Second Lien Secured Agent, as holder of a Lien on the Collateral, will join any objection by Controlling Agent to the use, sale, or lease of cash collateral for any purpose other than adequate protection payments to Second Lien Secured Parties.

(f) Each Representative, for itself and on behalf of each Secured Party, agrees that it will not object to, oppose or contest (or join with or support any third party objecting to, opposing or contesting) a sale or other Disposition of any Collateral (or any portion thereof) (or any bid or sale procedures for such sale or other Disposition of any Collateral) proposed to be consummated pursuant to Section 363 of the Bankruptcy Code or any other provision of the Bankruptcy Code, if the Controlling Agent shall have consented to such bid or sale procedures and/or to such sale or Disposition.

(g) Each Representative, for itself and on behalf of each other Secured Party, waives any claim that may be had against the Controlling Agent or any other Secured Party arising out of any DIP Financing Liens or administrative expense priority under Section 364 of the Bankruptcy Code (in each case that is granted in a manner that is consistent with this Agreement).

(h) Each Representative, for itself and on behalf of each other Secured Party, agrees that (A) no Representative nor any other Secured Party will object to, oppose or contest (or join with or support any third party objecting to, opposing or contesting) (i) any request by any First Lien Representative or any other First Lien Secured Party for adequate protection, including for payment of post-petition interest, or (ii) any objection by any First Lien Representative or any other First Lien Secured Party to any motion, relief, action or proceeding based on any First Lien Representative, or other First Lien Secured Party, as applicable, claiming a lack of adequate protection; and (B) no Secured Party (other than First Lien Secured Parties) will seek relief granting adequate protection, except in the case of liens or claims granted as adequate protection only to the extent such protection is subordinate to, and subordinate to matching adequate protection in favor of, the claims of the First Lien Secured Parties. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, in any Insolvency Proceeding, (1) if the First Lien Secured Parties (or any subset thereof) are granted adequate protection in the form of additional collateral in connection with any DIP Financing or use of cash collateral under Section 363 or 364 of the Bankruptcy Code or any similar provision of any other Bankruptcy Law, then the Second Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of each Second Lien Secured Party, may seek or request adequate protection in the form of a replacement Lien on such additional collateral, which Lien is subordinated to the Liens securing all First Lien Secured Obligations and such DIP Financing (and all obligations relating thereto) on the same basis as the other Liens securing the Second Lien Secured Obligations are so subordinated to the Liens securing First Lien Secured Obligations under this Agreement, (ii) in the event any Second Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of the Second Lien Secured Parties, seeks or requests adequate protection in the form of additional or replacement collateral and such adequate protection is granted (in each instance, to the extent such grant is otherwise permissible under the terms and conditions of this Agreement), then each Second Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of each applicable Second Lien Secured Party, agrees that the First Lien Representative shall also be granted a Senior Lien on such additional or replacement collateral as security for the First Lien Secured Obligations and any such DIP Financing and that any Lien on such additional or replacement collateral securing the Second Lien Secured Obligations shall be subordinated to the Liens on such collateral securing the First Lien Secured Obligations and any such DIP Financing (and all obligations relating thereto) and any other Liens granted to the First Lien Secured Parties as adequate protection on the same basis as the other Liens securing the Second Lien Secured Obligations are so subordinated to such Liens securing First Lien Secured Obligations under this Agreement (and, to the extent the First Lien Secured Parties are not granted such adequate protection in such form, any amounts recovered by or distributed to any Second Lien Secured Party pursuant to or as a result of any Lien on such additional or replacement collateral so granted to the Second Lien Secured Parties shall be subject to this Agreement), and (iii) in the event the First Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of the applicable First Lien Secured Parties, seeks or requests adequate protection in the form of a superpriority claim, and such adequate protection is granted, then the Second Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of each applicable Second Lien Secured Party, may request adequate protection in the form of a superpriority claim, which superpriority claim shall be junior to the superpriority claim of the First Lien Secured Parties and any payment in respect thereof shall be deemed to be proceeds of Collateral. Except to the extent expressly set forth in this Section 7.1, none of the Second Lien Representative nor other Second Lien Secured Parties may seek or shall be entitled to request or receive adequate protection without the prior written consent of the First Lien Representative unless such adequate protection is provided to the First Lien Secured Parties; provided, however, none of the Second Lien Representative or other Second Lien Secured Parties may seek or shall be entitled to request or receive adequate protection in the form of any cash payments without the prior written consent of the First Lien Representative. The Second Lien Representative agrees, pursuant to section 1129(a)(9) of the Bankruptcy Code, that such junior superpriority claims (including any claim arising under section 507(b) of the Bankruptcy Code) may be paid under any plan of reorganization in any combination of cash, debt, equity or other property having a value on the effective date of such plan equal to the allowed amount of such claims.

(i) Each Representative, for itself and on behalf of each other Secured Party, agrees that neither such Representative nor any other Secured Party shall seek relief (or support any other party seeking relief), pursuant to Section 362(d) of the Bankruptcy Code or otherwise, from the automatic stay of Section 362(a) of the Bankruptcy Code or from any other stay in any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding in respect of the Collateral without the prior written consent of the Controlling Agent.

(j) Each Representative, for itself and on behalf of each other Secured Party, agrees that neither such Representative nor any other Secured Party shall oppose or seek to challenge any claim by any Representative or any other Secured Party for allowance or payment in any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding of First Lien Secured Obligations consisting of post-petition interest or cash collateralization of all letters of credit in accordance with the priorities set forth in Section 5.1 hereof (and only to the extent of the value of the Liens securing the First Lien Secured Obligations in accordance with such priorities; it being understood that such value will be determined without regard to the existence of the Second Lien Secured Obligations).

(k) Without the express written consent of the First Lien Representative, in any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding involving any Grantor, none of the Second Lien Representatives or any other Second Lien Secured Parties shall oppose, object to or contest (or shall join with or support any third party in opposing, objecting to or contesting, as the case may be) (i) the determination of the extent of any Liens held by any First Lien Secured Party or the value of any claims of any such holder under Section 506(a) of the Bankruptcy Code or (ii) the payment to any First Lien Secured Party of interest, fees or expenses under Section 506(b) of the Bankruptcy Code.

(l) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if in any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding a determination is made that any Lien encumbering any Collateral is not enforceable for any reason, then each Representative for themselves and on behalf of their respective Secured Parties agrees that, any distribution or recovery they may receive in respect of any Collateral (including assets that would constitute Collateral but for such determination) shall be segregated and held in trust and forthwith paid over to the Controlling Agent in the same form as received without recourse, representation or warranty (other than a representation of such Representative that it has not otherwise sold, assigned, transferred or pledged any right, title or interest in and to such distribution or recovery) but with any necessary endorsements or as a court of competent jurisdiction may otherwise direct in order to comply with Section 5.1.

(m) Each Representative, for itself and on behalf of each other Secured Party, hereby agrees that the Controlling Agent shall have the right to credit bid the applicable First Lien Secured Obligations and further that (subject to such credit bid providing for the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations immediately after giving effect to such credit bid) none of the Representatives or any other Secured Party shall oppose, object to or contest (or shall join with or support any third party in opposing, objecting to or contesting, as the case may be) such credit bid by the Controlling Agent. Each Representative, for itself and on behalf of the other Secured Parties, hereby agrees that the Second Lien Secured Parties may credit bid, or instruct the applicable Second Lien Representative to credit bid the Second Lien Secured Obligations in accordance with Sections 363(k) or 1129 of the Bankruptcy Code or any other applicable law, and further that none of the First Lien Representative or any other First Lien Secured Party shall oppose, object to or contest (or shall join with or support any third party in opposing, objecting to or contesting, as the case may be) such credit bid, in each case only if such bid includes a cash payment sufficient to provide for the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations and the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations occurs immediately after giving effect to such credit bid.

(n) Prior to the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations, without the consent of the First Lien Representative in its sole discretion, each Second Lien Representative, for itself and on behalf of each other Second Lien Secured Party agrees neither such Second Lien Representative nor any Second Lien Secured Party shall commence or join with any parties to commence an involuntary bankruptcy petition for the Company or any of its subsidiaries, or support entry of an order for relief in any involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against the Company or any of its subsidiaries, or seek the appointment of an examiner or a trustee for the Company or any of its subsidiaries.

(o) Each Representative, for itself and on behalf of each other Secured Party waives any right to assert or enforce any claim under Section 506(c) or 552 of the Bankruptcy Code as against any First Lien Secured Party or any of the Collateral unless determined otherwise by the Controlling Agent. The Second Lien Representative on behalf of the Second Lien Secured Parties waives: (a) any claim they may now or hereafter have arising out of the First Lien Secured Agent's election in any Proceeding of the application of section 1111(b)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code, out of any cash collateral or financing arrangement or out of any grant of security interest in the Collateral in any Proceeding; and (b) the right to, and agrees that it shall not, make an election to apply section 1111(b)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code in respect of its interest in the Collateral without the consent of the First Lien Secured Agent.

Section 7.2. Reorganization Securities. If, in any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding, debt obligations of any reorganized Borrower or Guarantor, whether or not secured by Liens upon any property of such reorganized Borrower or Guarantor, are distributed, pursuant to a Plan, on account of more than one Series of Obligations, then the provisions of this Agreement will survive the distribution of such debt obligations pursuant to such Plan.

Section 7.3. Applicability of Other Bankruptcy Laws. In the event that an Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding is filed in a jurisdiction other than the United States or is governed by any Debtor Relief Laws other than the Bankruptcy Code, each reference in this Agreement to a section of the Bankruptcy Code shall be deemed to refer to the substantially similar or corresponding provision of the Debtor Relief Laws applicable to such Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding, or, in the absence of any specific similar or corresponding provision of such Debtor Relief Laws, such other general Debtor Relief Law as may be applied in order to achieve substantially the same result as would be achieved under each applicable section of the Bankruptcy Code.

Section 7.4. First Lien Secured Obligations Unconditional. All rights of the First Lien Secured Agent hereunder, and all agreements and obligations of the Second Lien Secured Agent and the Loan Parties (to the extent applicable) hereunder, shall remain in full force and effect irrespective of:

(a) any lack of validity or enforceability of any First Lien Loan Document or other Loan Document;

(b) any change in the time, place or manner of payment of, or in any other term of, all or any portion of the First Lien Secured Obligations or the Second Lien Secured Obligations, or any amendment, waiver or other modification, whether by course of conduct or otherwise, or any refinancing, replacement, refunding or restatement of any First Lien Loan Document or Loan Document;

(c) any exchange, release, voiding, avoidance or non-perfection of any security interest in any Collateral or any other collateral, or any release, amendment, waiver or other modification, whether by course of conduct or otherwise, or any refinancing, replacement, refunding, restatement or increase of all or any portion of the First Lien Secured Obligations, the Second Lien Secured Obligations or any guarantee or guaranty thereof; or

(d) any other circumstances that otherwise might constitute a defense available to, or a discharge of, any Loan Party in respect of the First Lien Secured Obligations, the Second Lien Secured Obligations or of either Agent or any Loan Party, to the extent applicable, in respect of this Agreement.

MISCELLANEOUS

Section 8.1. Rights of Subrogation. The Second Lien Secured Agent, on behalf of itself and the Second Lien Secured Parties, agrees that no payment to the First Lien Secured Agent or any First Lien Lender in accordance with or pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement shall entitle such Second Lien Secured Agent or any Second Lien Secured Party to exercise any rights of subrogation in respect thereof until the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations shall have occurred. Following the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations, the Controlling Agent agrees to execute such documents, agreements, and instruments as the Second Lien Secured Agent or any Second Lien Secured Party may reasonably request to evidence the transfer by subrogation to any such Person of an interest in the First Lien Secured Obligations resulting from payments to the First Lien Secured Agent by such Person, so long as all costs and expenses (including all reasonable legal fees and disbursements) incurred in connection therewith by the First Lien Secured Agent or the First Lien Lender are paid by such Person upon request for payment thereof.

Section 8.2. Further Assurances. The Parties will, at their own expense and at any time and from time to time, promptly execute and deliver all further instruments and documents, and take all further action, that may be necessary or desirable, or that either party may reasonably request, in order to protect any right or interest granted or purported to be granted hereby or to enable any party to exercise and enforce its rights and remedies hereunder; provided, however, that no party shall be required to pay over any payment or distribution, execute any instruments or documents, or take any other action referred to in this Section 8.2, to the extent that such action would contravene any law, order or other legal requirement or any of the terms or provisions of this Agreement, and in the event of a controversy or dispute, such party may interplead any payment or distribution in any court of competent jurisdiction, without further responsibility in respect of such payment or distribution under this Section 8.2.

Section 8.3. Representations. The Second Lien Secured Agent, on behalf of itself and the Second Lien Secured Parties, represents and warrants that it has the requisite power and authority under the relevant Loan Documents to enter into, execute, deliver, and carry out the terms of this Agreement on behalf of itself and the Second Lien Lenders and that this Agreement shall be binding obligations of such Agent and the applicable Lenders in accordance with its terms. Each First Lien Secured Agent and the Collateral Agent represents and warrants that it has the requisite power and authority under the First Lien Loan Documents to enter into, execute, deliver, and carry out the terms of this Agreement on behalf of itself and the First Lien Lenders and that this Agreement shall be binding obligations of the First Lien Secured Agent, the Collateral Agent and the First Lien Lenders, enforceable against the First Lien Secured Agent, the Collateral Agent and the First Lien Lenders in accordance with its terms.

Section 8.4. Amendments. No amendment or waiver of any provision of this Agreement nor consent to any departure by any party hereto shall be effective unless it is in a written agreement executed by each Loan Party, the First Lien Secured Agent, the Second Lien Secured Agent and such waiver or consent shall be effective only in the specific instance and for the specific purpose set forth therein.

Section 8.5. Addresses for Notices. Unless otherwise specifically provided herein, any notice or other communication herein required or permitted to be given shall be in writing and may be personally served, telecopied, electronically submitted or sent by overnight express courier service or United States mail and shall be deemed to have been given when delivered in person or by courier service, upon receipt of a telecopy or electronic transmission or five (5) days after deposit in the United States mail (certified, with postage prepaid and properly addressed). For the purpose hereof, the addresses of the parties hereto (until notice of a change thereof is delivered as provided in this Section) shall be as set forth below or, as to each party, at such other address as may be designated by such party in a written notice to each of the parties.

Section 8.6. No Waiver, Remedies. No failure on the part of any party to exercise, and no delay in exercising, any right hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof; nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right hereunder preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right. The remedies herein provided are cumulative and not exclusive of any remedies provided by law.

Section 8.7. Continuing Agreement, Transfer of Secured Obligations. This Agreement is a continuing agreement and shall (a) remain in full force and effect until the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations (subject to the reinstatement provisions herein) shall have occurred, (b) be binding upon the parties and their successors and assigns, and (c) inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties and their respective successors, transferees and assigns. Nothing herein is intended, or shall be construed to give, any other Person any right, remedy or claim under, to or in respect of this Agreement or any Collateral. All references to any Loan Party shall include any Loan Party as debtor-in-possession and any receiver or trustee for such Loan Party in any Insolvency or Liquidation Proceeding. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing clause (c), each Agent hereunder or any Lender may assign or otherwise transfer all or any portion of the First Lien Secured Obligations or the Second Lien Secured Obligations, as applicable, to any other Person (other than any Borrower, any Guarantor and any Subsidiary of any Borrower or any Guarantor) in accordance with the applicable Credit Agreements, and such other Person shall thereupon become vested with all the rights and obligations in respect thereof granted to the applicable Agents and/or Lenders, as the case may be, herein or otherwise. Each of the Secured Parties may continue, at any time and without notice to the other parties hereto, to extend credit and other financial accommodations, lend monies and provide Indebtedness to, or for the benefit of, any Loan Party on the faith hereof.

Section 8.8. Governing Law; Entire Agreement. This Agreement and the rights and obligations of the parties hereunder shall be governed by, and shall be construed and enforced in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York; provided that all of the parties hereto shall retain all rights arising under federal law. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement and understanding among the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes any prior agreements, written or oral, with respect thereto.

Section 8.9. Counterparts, Electronic Signatures. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts (including by facsimile), each of which when so executed and delivered will be deemed an original, but all such counterparts together will constitute but one and the same instrument. The parties hereto may sign this Agreement and any collateral agency joinder and transmit the executed copy by electronic means, including facsimile or noneditable *.pdf files. The electronic copy of the executed Agreement and any collateral agency joinder is and shall be deemed an original signature. The words "delivery," "execution," "execute," "signed," "signature," and words of like import in or related to any document to be signed in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby shall be deemed to include electronic signatures, the electronic matching of assignment terms and contract formations on electronic platforms, or the keeping of records in electronic form, each of which shall be of the same legal effect, validity or enforceability as a manually executed signature, physical delivery thereof or the use of a paper-based recordkeeping system, as the case may be, to the extent and as provided for in any applicable Law, including the Federal Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act, the New York State Electronic Signatures and Records Act, or any other similar state laws based on the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act.

Section 8.10. No Third Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement is solely for the benefit of each of the First Lien Secured Agent, Control Agent, First Lien Lenders, the Second Lien Secured Agent and the Second Lien Lenders. No other Person (including the Company, any Guarantor or any Affiliate of the Company or any Guarantor, or any Subsidiary of the Company or any Guarantor) shall be deemed to be a third party beneficiary of this Agreement. The provisions of this Agreement are and are intended solely for the purpose of defining the relative rights, obligations and priorities as among the Secured Parties and the Series of Obligations covered hereby. None of the Company, any other Grantor or any other creditor thereof shall have any rights hereunder including, without limitation, with respect to designation of any class or classes of Obligations hereunder. Nothing in this Agreement is intended to or shall impair the obligations of the Company or any other Grantor, which are absolute and unconditional, to pay the Obligations as and when the same shall become due and payable in accordance with their terms. Nothing in this Agreement shall relieve the Company or any Grantor from the performance of any term, covenant, condition or agreement on the Company's or such Grantor's part to be performed or observed under or in respect of any of the Collateral pledged by it or from any liability to any Person under or in respect of any of such Collateral or impose any obligation on any Agent to perform or observe any such term, covenant, condition or agreement on the Company's or such Grantor's part to be so performed or observed or impose any liability on any Agent for any act or omission on the part of the Company's or such Grantor relative thereto or for any breach of any representation or warranty on the part of the Company or such Grantor contained in this Agreement or any Loan Document, or in respect of the Collateral pledged by it.

Section 8.11. Headings. The headings of the articles and sections of this Agreement are inserted for convenience only and shall not be construed to affect the meaning or construction of any of the provisions hereof.

Section 8.12. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, (a) the legality, validity and enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Agreement shall not be affected or impaired thereby in such jurisdiction and (b) the parties shall endeavor in good faith negotiations to replace the illegal, invalid or unenforceable provisions with valid provisions the economic effect of which comes as close as possible to that of the illegal, invalid or unenforceable provisions. The invalidity of a provision in a particular jurisdiction shall not invalidate or render unenforceable such provision in any other jurisdiction.

Section 8.13. Attorneys Fees. The parties hereto agree that if any dispute, arbitration, litigation, or other proceeding is brought with respect to the enforcement of this Agreement or any provision hereof, the prevailing party in such dispute, arbitration, litigation, or other proceeding shall be entitled to recover from the losing party its reasonable attorneys' fees and all other costs and expenses incurred in the enforcement of this Agreement, irrespective of whether suit is brought; provided that the foregoing shall not relieve the Loan Parties of their obligations under any of the Loan Documents.

Section 8.14. VENUE; JURY TRIAL WAIVER.

(a) EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY SUBMITS, FOR ITSELF AND ITS PROPERTY, TO THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF THE COURTS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK SITTING IN NEW YORK CITY IN THE BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN (OR, AT THE ELECTION OF THE CONTROLLING AGENT, OF ANY BANKRUPTCY COURT PRESIDING OVER A BANKRUPTCY OF THE COMPANY), OF THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT OF THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK SITTING IN THE BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN (OR, AS APPLICABLE, ANY BANKRUPTCY APPELLATE PANEL OR UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT IN THE APPLICABLE DISTRICT WHERE SUCH BANKRUPTCY COURT RESIDES), AND ANY APPELLATE COURT THEREOF, IN ANY ACTION OR PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, OR FOR RECOGNITION OR ENFORCEMENT OF ANY JUDGMENT, AND EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY AGREES THAT ALL CLAIMS IN RESPECT OF ANY SUCH ACTION OR PROCEEDING MAY BE HEARD AND DETERMINED IN SUCH NEW YORK STATE COURT OR, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, IN SUCH FEDERAL COURT. EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO AGREES THAT A FINAL JUDGMENT IN ANY SUCH ACTION OR PROCEEDING SHALL BE CONCLUSIVE AND MAY BE ENFORCED IN OTHER JURISDICTIONS BY SUIT ON THE JUDGMENT OR IN ANY OTHER MANNER PROVIDED BY LAW. EACH PARTY HERETO AGREES THAT THE AGENTS AND LENDERS RETAIN THE RIGHT TO SERVE PROCESS IN ANY OTHER MANNER PERMITTED BY LAW OR TO BRING PROCEEDINGS AGAINST ANY LOAN PARTY IN THE COURTS OF ANY OTHER JURISDICTION IN CONNECTION WITH THE EXERCISE OF ANY RIGHTS UNDER ANY

SECURITY DOCUMENT OR THE ENFORCEMENT OF ANY JUDGMENT. EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY OBJECTION THAT IT MAY NOW OR HEREAFTER HAVE TO THE LAYING OF VENUE OF ANY ACTION OR PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT IN ANY COURT REFERRED TO IN THIS SECTION 8.14(a). EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE DEFENSE OF AN INCONVENIENT FORUM TO THE MAINTENANCE OF SUCH ACTION OR PROCEEDING IN ANY SUCH COURT.

(b) EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY OR THEREBY (WHETHER BASED ON CONTRACT, TORT OR ANY OTHER THEORY). EACH OF THE PARTIES HERETO (A) CERTIFIES THAT NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PERSON HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PERSON WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER AND (B) ACKNOWLEDGES THAT IT AND THE OTHER PARTIES HERETO HAVE BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION.

Section 8.15. Termination of this Agreement. Subject to Section 6.2, this Agreement shall automatically terminate upon the Discharge of First Lien Secured Obligations.

Section 8.16. No Warranties or Liability. Each Agent acknowledges and agrees that each other Agent has not made any representation or warranty with respect to the execution, validity, legality, completeness, collectability or enforceability of the Loan Documents. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, each Agent will be entitled to manage and supervise their respective extensions of credit to any Loan Party in accordance with law and their usual practices, modified from time to time as they deem appropriate.

Section 8.17. Conflicts. In the event of any conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the provisions of any Loan Documents, the provisions of this Agreement shall govern.

Section 8.18. Information Concerning Financial Condition of the Loan Parties. Each Agent hereby assumes responsibility for keeping itself informed of the financial condition of the Loan Parties and all other circumstances bearing upon the risk of nonpayment of the First Lien Secured Obligations or the Second Lien Secured Obligations. Each hereby agrees that no party shall have any duty to advise any other party of information known to it regarding such condition or any such circumstances. In the event any First Lien Secured Agent, the Second Lien Secured Agent or the Collateral Agent, such Person, in its sole discretion, undertakes at any time or from time to time to provide any information to any other party to this Agreement, (a) it shall be under no obligation (i) to provide any such information to such other party or any other party on any subsequent occasion, (ii) to undertake any investigation not a part of its regular business routine, or (iii) to disclose any other information, (b) it makes no representation as to the accuracy or completeness of any such information and shall not be liable for any information contained therein, and (c) the party receiving such information hereby agrees to hold the other party harmless from any action the receiving party may take or conclusion the receiving party may reach or draw from any such information, as well as from and against any and all losses, claims, damages, liabilities, and expenses to which such receiving party may become subject arising out of or in connection with the use of such information.

Section 8.19. Acknowledgment. 4.5. Stock and Other Ownership Interests.

4.5.1 Registration of Pledged Securities and other Investment Property. Each Grantor will permit any registrable Pledged Collateral owned by such Grantor to be registered in the name of the Administrative Agent or its nominee at any time at the option of the Required Lenders following the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default and without any further consent of such Grantor.

4.5.2 Exercise of Rights in Pledged Securities and other Investment Property. Each Grantor will permit the Administrative Agent or its nominee at any time after the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, after the Administrative Agent shall have notified such Grantor of the suspension of such Grantor's rights, (a) to exercise or refrain from exercising any and all voting and other consensual rights pertaining to any pledged Securities or other Investment Property owned by such Grantor or any part thereof, and (b) to receive all dividends and interest in respect of such Collateral; provided that, unless otherwise directed by the Required Lenders, the Administrative Agent shall have the right from time to time following the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default to permit the applicable Grantor to exercise such rights. After all Events of Default have been cured or waived, each Grantor shall have the exclusive right to exercise the voting and/or consensual rights and the right to receive any such dividends and interest. Any notice given by the Administrative Agent to any Grantor under this Section 4.5.2 (i) shall be given in writing, (ii) may be given with respect to one or more Grantors at the same or different times and (iii) may suspend any such rights of one or more of the Grantors in part without suspending all such rights (as specified by the Administrative Agent in its sole and absolute discretion).

4.6. [Intentionally Omitted].

4.7. Letter-of-Credit Rights. Each Grantor will, upon the Administrative Agent's request, on or after the Effective Date, use commercially reasonable efforts to promptly cause each issuer of a letter of credit to such Grantor with a face amount in excess of $1,000,000, individually, to consent to the assignment of proceeds of such letter of credit in order to give the Administrative Agent Control of the letter-of-credit rights to such letter of credit.

4.8. [Intentionally Omitted].

4.9. Intellectual Property.

4.9.1 If, after the Effective Date, any Grantor obtains ownership rights to, including, but not limited to filing of a statement of use or an amendment to allege use with the United States Patent and Trademark Office, or applies for or seeks registration of (other than the application for the registration of an intent to use a Trademark prior to the filing of a statement of use or an amendment to allege use), any patentable invention, Trademark or Copyright, in addition to the Patents, Trademarks and Copyrights described in Exhibit "B" (other than as a result of an application that is then subject to a Copyright Security Agreement, Patent Security Agreement or Trademark Security Agreement, as applicable, becoming registered), then such Grantor shall give the Administrative Agent notice thereof, no more frequently than on an annual basis, concurrently with the delivery of the certificate of a Financial Officer of the Borrower required to be delivered annually, concurrently with delivery of the financial statements under Section 5.01(a) of the Credit Agreement, pursuant to Section 5.01(c) of the Credit Agreement covering the period in which such Intellectual Property was applied for or registered, as applicable. Each Grantor agrees promptly after request by the Administrative Agent (and no more frequently than on an annual basis) to execute and deliver to the Administrative Agent any Copyright Security Agreement, Patent Security Agreement or Trademark Security Agreement, as applicable, or any other document reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent to evidence the Administrative Agent's security interest in such new application or registration (to the extent such Grantor has an obligation to perfect a security interest or lien in such Collateral under the Loan Documents) in a form appropriate for recording in the applicable federal office.

4.9.2 Each Grantor also hereby authorizes the Administrative Agent, upon providing prior written notice to each Grantor, to modify this Security Agreement unilaterally (i) by amending Exhibit "B" to include any future Patents, Trademarks and/or Copyrights of which the Administrative Agent receives notification from such Grantor pursuant hereto (no more frequently than on an annual basis) and (ii) by recording, in addition to and not in substitution for this Security Agreement, a duplicate original of this Security Agreement containing in Exhibit "B" a description of such additional Patents, Trademarks and/or Copyrights.

4.9.3 Subject to the terms and conditions of this Security Agreement and the other Loan Documents, (i) this Security Agreement is effective to create a valid and continuing Lien on such Copyrights, Licenses, Patents and Trademarks (except to the extent such Copyrights, Licenses, Patents and Trademarks are Excluded Assets) and (ii) upon filing of the Copyright Security Agreement with the United States Copyright Office, the filing of the Patent Security Agreement and Trademark Security Agreement with the United States Patent and Trademark Office, the filing of appropriate financing statements in the jurisdictions listed in Exhibit "D" (or such other appropriate location in connection with any notice pursuant to Section 4.1.7) hereto and the bringing up to date of record ownership thereof, each Grantor will cooperate with the Administrative Agent to confirm that all actions necessary or desirable to protect and perfect the security interest in, to and on each Grantor's material Patents, Trademarks or Copyrights owned by such Grantor in the United States as of the Effective Date have been taken.

4.10. Commercial Tort Claims. If, after the Effective Date, any Grantor identifies the existence of any Commercial Tort Claims belonging to such Grantor having a value reasonably believed by such Grantor to be in excess of $1,000,000 individually for which the requirements set forth in this Section 4.10 have not been satisfied and for which a complaint in a court of competent jurisdiction has been filed, such Grantor shall notify the Administrative Agent thereof, concurrently with the delivery of the certificate of a Financial Officer of the Borrower required to be delivered annually, concurrently with delivery of the financial statements under Section 5.01(a) of the Credit Agreement, pursuant to Section 5.01(c) of the

4.11. Updating of Exhibits to Security Agreement. The Borrower will provide to the Administrative Agent, concurrently with the delivery of the certificate of a Financial Officer of the Borrower required to be delivered annually, concurrently with delivery of the financial statements under Section 5.01(a) of the Credit Agreement, pursuant to Section 5.01(c) of the Credit Agreement, the Security Agreement Supplement contemplated by Annex V hereto (it being understood that the foregoing may be satisfied by including the information contemplated to be provided therein in the certificate of a Financial Officer of the Borrower required to be delivered annually, concurrently with delivery of the financial statements under Section 5.01(a) of the Credit Agreement, pursuant to Section 5.01(c) of the Credit Agreement).

ARTICLE V

DEFAULT

5.1. Acceleration and Remedies.

5.1.1 Upon the acceleration of the Obligations under the Credit Agreement pursuant to Article VII thereof, the Obligations under the Credit Agreement and, to the extent provided for under the Swap Agreements and the Banking Services Agreements evidencing the same, the Swap Obligations and the Banking Services Obligations, shall immediately become due and payable without presentment, demand, protest or notice of any kind, all of which are hereby expressly waived, and the Administrative Agent may, with the concurrence or at the direction of the Required Lenders, upon such acceleration, exercise any or all of the following rights and remedies:

(i) Those rights and remedies provided in this Security Agreement, the Credit Agreement, or any other Loan Document; provided that this clause (i) shall not be understood to limit any rights or remedies available to the Administrative Agent and the Secured Parties prior to an Event of Default.

(ii) Those rights and remedies available to a secured party under the UCC or under any other applicable law (including, without limitation, any law governing the exercise of a bank's right of setoff or bankers' lien) when a debtor is in default under a security agreement.

(iii) [Intentionally Omitted].

(iv) Without notice except as specifically provided in Section 8.1 hereof or elsewhere herein, sell, lease, assign, grant an option or options to purchase or otherwise dispose of, deliver, or realize upon, the Collateral or any part thereof in one or more parcels at public or private sale or sales (which sales may be adjourned or continued from time to time with or without notice and may take place at any Grantor's premises or elsewhere), for cash, on credit or for future delivery without assumption of any credit risk, and upon such other terms as the Administrative Agent may deem commercially reasonable.

(v) Concurrently with written notice to the applicable Grantor, transfer and register in its name or in the name of its nominee the whole or any part of the Pledged Collateral, to exchange certificates or instruments representing or evidencing Pledged Collateral for certificates or instruments of smaller or larger denominations, to exercise the voting and all other rights as a holder with respect thereto, to collect and receive all cash dividends, interest, principal and other distributions made thereon and to otherwise act with respect to the Pledged Collateral as though the Administrative Agent was the outright owner thereof.

5.1.2 The Administrative Agent, on behalf of the Secured Parties, may comply with any applicable state or federal law requirements in connection with a disposition of the Collateral, and such compliance will not be considered to adversely affect the commercial reasonableness of any sale of the Collateral.

5.1.3 The Administrative Agent shall have the right upon any such public sale or sales and, to the extent permitted by law, upon any such private sale or sales, in any such case, in a manner consistent with Sections 5.1 and 8.1, to purchase for the benefit of the Administrative Agent and the other Secured Parties, the whole or any part of the Collateral so sold, free of any right of equity redemption, which equity redemption the Grantor hereby expressly releases.

5.1.4 Until the Administrative Agent is able to effect a sale, lease, or other disposition of Collateral in connection with the exercise of its rights pursuant to this Section 5.1, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, the Administrative Agent shall have the right to hold or use Collateral, or any part thereof, to the extent that it deems appropriate for the purpose of preserving Collateral or its value or, subject to any limitations set forth in the Loan Documents, for any other purpose deemed appropriate by the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent may, if it so elects, upon the occurrence and during the continuance of any Event of Default, seek the appointment of a receiver or keeper to take possession of Collateral and to enforce any of the Administrative Agent's remedies (for the benefit of the Administrative Agent and other Secured Parties), with respect to such appointment without prior notice or hearing as to such appointment.

5.1.5 Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Administrative Agent nor any other Secured Party shall be required to (i) make any demand upon, or pursue or exhaust any of their rights or remedies against, any Grantor, any other obligor, guarantor, pledgor or any other Person with respect to the payment of the Secured Obligations or to pursue or exhaust any of their rights or remedies with respect to any Collateral therefor or any direct or indirect guarantee thereof, (ii) marshal the Collateral or any guarantee of the Secured Obligations or to resort to the Collateral or any such guarantee in any particular order, or (iii) effect a public sale of any Collateral.

5.1.6 Each Grantor recognizes that the Administrative Agent may be unable to effect a public sale of any or all the Pledged Collateral and may be compelled to resort to one or more private sales thereof in accordance with Section 5.1.1 above. Each Grantor also acknowledges that any private sale may result in prices and other terms less favorable to the seller than if such sale were a public sale and, notwithstanding such circumstances, agrees that any such private sale conducted in a manner consistent with Sections 5.1 and 8.1 shall not be deemed to have been made in a commercially unreasonable manner solely by virtue of such sale being private. The Administrative Agent shall be under no obligation to delay a sale of any of the Pledged Collateral for the period of time necessary to permit any Grantor or the issuer of the Pledged Collateral to register such securities for public sale under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or under applicable state securities laws, even if the applicable Grantor and the issuer would agree to do so.

5.2. Grantors' Obligations Upon an Event of Default. Upon the request of the Administrative Agent after the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default, each Grantor will:

5.2.1 Assembly of Collateral. Assemble and make available to the Administrative Agent the Collateral and all records relating thereto at any place or places specified by the Administrative Agent.

5.2.2 Secured Party Access. Permit the Administrative Agent, by the Administrative Agent's representatives and agents, to enter, occupy and use any premises where all or any part of the Collateral, or the books and records relating thereto, or both, are located, to take possession of all or any part of the Collateral, or the books and records relating thereto, or both, to remove all or any part of the Collateral, or the books and records relating thereto, or both, and to conduct sales of the Collateral, without any obligation to pay the Grantor for such use and occupancy.

The Grantor acknowledges that any private sales may be at prices and on terms less favorable than those obtainable through a public sale without such restrictions, and, notwithstanding such circumstances, agrees that any such private sale shall be deemed to have been made in a commercially reasonable manner and that the Administrative Agent shall have no obligation to engage in public sales and no obligation to delay the sale of any Collateral for the period of time necessary to permit any Grantor to register it for public sale.

5.3. License. For the purpose of enabling the Administrative Agent to exercise its rights and remedies under this Article V at such time as the Administrative Agent shall be lawfully entitled to exercise such rights and remedies, the Administrative Agent is hereby granted a license or other right to use, following the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default and the acceleration of the Obligations under the Credit Agreement pursuant to Article VII thereof, without charge, each Grantor's Intellectual Property to the extent it pertains to the Collateral, in completing production of, advertising for sale, and selling any Collateral, and, following the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default and the acceleration of the Obligations under the Credit Agreement pursuant to Article VII thereof, such Grantor's rights under all licenses and all franchise agreements shall inure to the Administrative Agent's benefit, to the extent not in violation of any agreements with respect thereto. In addition, each Grantor hereby irrevocably agrees that the Administrative Agent may, following the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default and the acceleration of the Obligations under the Credit Agreement pursuant to Article VII thereof, subject to the terms and conditions of any licenses or other grants of rights to such Grantor, any agreement granting any right by such Grantor as of the Effective Date and any agreement granting any right by such Grantor after the Effective Date entered into in accordance with the Loan Documents, sell any of such Grantor's Collateral directly to any person, including without limitation persons who have previously purchased such Grantor's Collateral from such Grantor and in connection with any such sale or other enforcement of the Administrative Agent's rights under this Security Agreement, may sell Collateral which bears any trademark owned by or licensed to such Grantor and any Collateral that is covered by any copyright owned by or licensed to such Grantor and the Administrative Agent may finish any work in process and affix any trademark owned by or licensed to such Grantor and sell such Collateral as provided herein; provided that the applicable Grantor shall have such rights of quality control and inspection which are reasonably necessary to maintain the validity and enforceability of such trademarks. Each Grantor's rights of quality control and inspection shall not be unreasonably asserted so long as the Administrative Agent (or its licensee or agent) maintains quality control standards at least as high as those maintained by such Grantor prior to the occurrence of an Event for Default.

WAIVERS, AMENDMENTS AND REMEDIES

No delay or omission of the Administrative Agent or any Secured Party to exercise any right or remedy granted under this Security Agreement shall impair such right or remedy or be construed to be a waiver of any Default or an acquiescence therein, and any single or partial exercise of any such right or remedy shall not preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right or remedy. No waiver, amendment or other variation of the terms, conditions or provisions of this Security Agreement whatsoever shall be valid unless in writing signed by the Administrative Agent and each Grantor, and then only to the extent in such writing specifically set forth; provided that (a) the addition of any Subsidiary as a Grantor hereunder by execution of a Security Agreement Joinder shall not require receipt of any consent from or execution of any documentation by any other Grantor party hereto, (b) no consent of any party hereto or any Secured Party shall be required in connection with any release or discharge of any Lien granted hereunder that occurs automatically in accordance with the terms of the Credit Agreement or this Security Agreement and (c) the Exhibits hereto may be updated or supplemented from time to time by any Grantor (or the Borrower on behalf of all the Grantors party hereto) upon notice by such Grantor (or the Borrower on behalf of all the Grantors party hereto) to the Administrative Agent. Upon execution and delivery by the Administrative Agent and a Subsidiary of a Security Agreement Joinder, such Subsidiary shall become a Grantor hereunder with the same force and effect as if originally named as a Grantor herein. All rights and remedies contained in this Security Agreement or by law afforded shall be cumulative and all shall be available to the Administrative Agent and the Secured Parties until the termination of this Security Agreement pursuant to Section 8.14.
