MARK PATRICK,

having been duly sworn, testified as follows:

EXAMINATION

BY MR. LANG:

Q. Please state your name for the record.

A. Mark Patrick.

Q. And, Mr. Patrick, how are you currently employed?

A. I -- what do you mean by --

Q. Who's your -- who do you work for?

A. I work for DAF entities.

Q. And when you say the DAF entities, can you be more specific into which entities that are?

A. You know, there -- it's just a group of entities that hold investment assets for charitable purposes.

Q. Specifically, do you have the names of these entities?

A. Some -- some of them such as CLO HoldCO.

Q. Anybody else?

A. Liberty, I think. Charitable DAF HoldCo Inc, US entity, Charitable DAF Fund LP. I'm probably missing several others. It's a sophisticated structure, but that's generally the gist of when I refer to DAF entities.

Q. And what about Hunter Mountain? Are you employed by Hunter Mountain?

A. Well, no -- I know -- I appreciate that. I'm -- like, when I think of employment, I'm also the preferred manager for Wind Advisers, which is an investment adviser that advises investment funds -- and then -- so then I have roles and that's why when you ask about employment, you know, there's -- it's kind of a different question than roles.

Q. That's fair. Tell you what. Why don't I put up a work chart and we'll talk through it. Will that work?

A. Yeah, I'll take a look anything.

Q. Okay. Do you see this chart?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Okay. So this is the charitable DAFs, you know, the whole structure comp chart. Do you see that at the top?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Is this how the DAF CLO HoldCo structure currently looks today?

A. No, it does not.

Q. Okay. What is different?

A. Well, there's a lot of differences. I'd have to kind of see the specific documentation to be exact.

Q. Well, can you generally describe the -- the changes that have been made to this flowchart?

MR. MCENTIRE: I'll object as to form and relevance.

A. Yeah. I mean, I -- I think I have already, you know, with respect to the listing of entities. You'd have to show me some documents with respect to these entities and I can, you know, walk you through it.

Q. Would charitable DAF GP LLC still the GP for charitable DAF CLO Co?

A. I don't -- I don't recall precisely and I, you know, I want -- I want to be -- when I give you an answer, a hundred percent accurate.

Q. Okay. Does charitable DAF Fund LP still own a hundred percent of CLO Hold Co?

A. Yes, that is my understanding.

Q. And this charitable DAF CLO CO limited still own a hundred percent of charitable DAF Fund LP?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. No.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Okay. Charitable DAF FUND LP, is that owned by CDM CFAD LLP?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. That's my general -- that's my general understanding.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Okay. And who owns CDM CFAD LLC?

A. Yeah, again, without corporate documents that you can present to me, I -- you know -- I -- I just don't want to be inaccurate.

Q. Does DFW Charities own CDM CFAD LLC?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form. Relevant.

A. Yeah, again, you know, Mr. Lang, you know, there are several entities in this structure, and I -- I just don't want to go beyond what I have a hundred percent knowledge of.

Q. I'm sharing this charitable DAF CLO CO structure chart as Exhibit 1, to be fair. And this is a RAND structured chart, which I'm marking as Exhibit 2. Do you recognize this document?

MR. MCENTIRE: Mark, at this time he's only asking whether you recognize it.

A. Yeah, I haven't made it to the bottom, I apologize.

MR. MCENTIRE: Okay.

A. What is the question now?

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Well, do you recognize this organizational structure? Let me change the question.

A. Do I recognize this structure. Generally -- very generally.

Q. Okay. And starting at the top, charitable DAF Holdings Corp, do you see that box?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Is that owned by CLO HOLD CO?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. I don't know -- I don't know. I can't recall precisely if there's other entities in -- in between that, you know, whether that links up to CLO Hold Co.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Does CLO Hold Co indirectly own charitable -- charitable DAF holdings Corp.?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. Yeah, again, I can't answer with accuracy here unless you showed me a corporate -- some actual corporate filings or something like that.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Is this generally the structure for the RAND -- structure -- is it generally a structure it looks like today?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. What part of the structure are you referring to, Mr. Lang?

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Well, the whole thing. Charitable DAF Holdings Corp?

A. No.

Q. Does it own Rand Advises LLC?

A. Yeah, can you restate that question, again?

Q. Does charitable DAF Holdings Corp, top box, the sole member of Rand Advisers LLC? The green box to the left.

A. Yes, that is -- that is my understanding.

Q. Okay. Does charitable DAF holdings Corp, the box at the top, is it still the sole member of Rand PD fund management LLC?

A. I would -- I would believe so.

Q. Okay. And is RAND PE fund management LLP still the general partner for RAND PE Fund One LP? See it just below it?

A. Yes, I would believe so.

Q. And then charitable DAF Holdings Corp, the box at the top, is it still the sole member for Atlas IDF GP PLLC?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. Yes, I would believe so.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Okay. And is Atlas IDF GP LLC still the general corporate for Atlas IDF LP?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form?

A. Yes, I would believe so.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Okay. And is Atlas IDF LP still the 99 percent limited partner for RAND PE FUND I LP?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. I'm trying to recall because I have RAND PE FUND in a wind down situation. So I -- I don't know if that is accurate or not offhand.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) And does RAND PE FUND ONE LP still the sole member of Beacon LLC?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. No.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Okay. Who -- who owns Beacon

Mountain LLC?

A. An entity called CLO HOLD CO LLC.

Q. And that's different than CLO HOLD CO limited?

A. Yes.

Q. Who owns CLO HOLD CO LLP?

A. I believe it's CLO HOLD CO limited, from my understanding.

Q. And the CLO HOLD CO LLC owned Hunter Mountain?

A. No.

Q. Who owns Hunter Mountain?

A. Beacon Mountain LLC. And I would clarify one thing. I -- it's beneficial -- it's a beneficial ownership. Hunter Mountain investment trust is a trust.

Q. Okay. I appreciate that.

A. Can you do -- if you don't mind, do a summary? I just want to make sure that we're sort of accurate here?

Q. Okay. From what I understand --

A. Yeah, from Beacon Mountain ownership. I just want to make sure you are understanding is --

Q. Beacon Mountain LLC is owned by CLO HOLD CO LLC?

A. Yes.

Q. Beacon Mountain LLC owns Hunter or -- Hunter Mountain Investment Trust is owned by Beacon Mountain LLP?

A. Yes.

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection.

A. (inaudible) beneficial.

MR. MCENTIRE: Yeah, I would object to mischaracterizing his testimony.

MR. LANG: Nobody's mischaracterizing.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) The beneficial owner of Hunter Mountain Investment Trust.

A. Yeah, this is all a current state.

Q. Current state.

And what is your role with Hunter Mountain Investment Trust?

A. My understanding is I'm the -- an administrator which is a -- the control person for that trust.

Q. Are you the control person for Beacon Mountain LLP?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you the control person for CLO HOLD CO LLC?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you the control person for RAND Advisers LLC?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you the control person for RAND PE FUND Management LLC?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you the control person for Atlas IDF GP LLC?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you the control person for the Charitable DAF Holdings Corp?

A. Yes.
Q. And you're the control person for Charitable DAF Fund LP?
I'll -- I'll go back here.
MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.
Q. (By Mr. Lang) Are you the control person for Charitable DAF Fund LP?
MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.
A. It's -- no, but you should ask me a follow-up question.
Q. What's your role at Charitable DAF Fund LP?
A. Yeah, I'm the control person for the general partner of that limited partnership.
Q. And who's the general partner of the limited partnership?
A. Yeah, and then this is where my memory is -- is -- I'd have to kind of revisit the actual organizational documents to give you a confident a hundred percent answer.
MR. MCENTIRE: Yeah, Mark, let's don't -- let's don't speculate unless he has a document, okay?
A. Yes.
Q. (By Mr. Lang) Are you the control person for CDMCFAD LLC?
MR. MCENTIRE: Can you repeat the question, I didn't hear it, Mr. Lang.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Mr. Patrick, are you the control person for CDMCFAD LLC?
A. I believe I am.
Q. Does that stand for anything out of curiosity?
A. I don't remember.
Q. All right.
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, formatting.
Q. (By Mr. Lang) Did you -- you negotiated the settlement agreement that is the subject of (inaudible) correct?
A. Correct.
Q. Did you initiate settlement discussion with about events?
A. What do you mean by initiate.
Q. Well, did you approach them about settlement or did they approach you?
A. I'm sorry, you were slightly muffled there.
Q. I said did they approach you about settling or did you approach them about a potential settlement?
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection to the form of the question?
A. I can't -- I can't recall offhand. Who approached who or -- yeah.
Q. Under the settlement agreement, Hunter Mountain is to receive among other things the Dugaboy note and the Kirschner claims. Do you know what I'm referring to when I refer to the Dugaboy note and the Kirschner claims?

A. I -- I would appreciate it if you could pull up the -- the Dugaboy note document that you are referring to. There's an awful lot of Dugaboy notes out there, and -- and as a starter and I'd also appreciate if you could pull up for me the -- what you're referring to as the Kirschner Litigation complaint.
Q. I'm referring to what's in the settlement agreement. It refers to the Dugaboy note --
A. Well, then the document speaks for itself, sir. If you want to show me the document, I'll definitely testify to the accuracy of what I signed.
Q. I'm asking if you know what I'm referring to when I refer to the Dugaboy note and the Kirschner claims as re restricted at that point out from Patricia claims as referenced in the settlement agreement.
A. Yeah, and I'm asking you to show me the settlement agreement with the lines and then I -- and I'll verify that for you if you don't mind.
There's a lot of Dugaboy notes out there you have to appreciate that, Mr. Lang.
Q. Which one have you bargained to receive in the settlement agreement?
A. And -- and there's a lot of Kirschner litigation as well.

Q. Well, the Kirschner litigation is that -- Styled Kirschner versus Dondero Adversary Proceeding 2103076.
Are you familiar with that one?
A. I'm not familiar with that caption. If you could just show me the document that you're -- the complaint that you're referring to, then I will say that is -- that is the litigation that -- that we negotiated for.
Q. Okay.
A. You can bring up the settlement agreement, I'll happily verify that whatever is referenced in there is what I negotiated for, but I'm not gonna broad brush generically say that I negotiated for some Dugaboy note without a little more precision, if you don't mind.
Q. Can you see my screen?
A. Here we go. Yes.
Q. Okay. When I refer to the Dugaboy note, that's the note that I'm referring to. Does that help you?
MR. MCENTIRE: Well, for the record, Mr. Lang, can we just identify that you have put up the actual settlement agreement, is that correct?
MR. LANG: Yes. Sorry. Exhibit 3 will be the settlement agreement. The proposed settlement agreement.
A. Yes, so you're having me refer to the Dugaboy note dated May 31st, 2017, with a face amount of roughly 24 million as the maker and with Highland Capital Management collectively as the payee. That's what -- that's what you're referring me to.

Q. That's what I'm referring you to.

A. And what is your question?

Q. I'm -- I was just asking if you understand what I'm referring to when I say the Dugaboy note?

A. Okay. I understand now what you're referring to.

Q. And then the Kirchner claims are -- means all claims and causes of action that were asserted or could've been asserted by litigation trustee or the litigation subtrust in the capital amended. Do you see that?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Okay. Let's go up and see the amenities claims. The amended complaint means the Amended Complaint and objection to claims Docket number 158 in Kirschner versus Dondero adversary proceeding 21-03076, do you see that?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Okay. So if I refer to the Kirchner claims, you know what I'm referring to now?

A. Yes, I do. Thank you.

Q. Okay. How does Hunter Mountain value the Kirchner claims?

MR. MORRIS: Objection to the form of the question.

A. Hunter Mountain is a non-living entity. It's a trust.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Have you valued the Kirchner claims?

A. I have not had an appraised evaluation. I'm not qualified to appraise value.

Q. Do you have an estimated value of the Kirchner claims?

A. Estimate. Estimate. Who? Are you asking if I've estimated the value?

Q. Yes.

A. Of the Kirchner claim?

Q. Yes.

A. No.

Q. Have you done anything to determine the value of the Kirchner claims?

A. No.

Q. What does Hunter Mountain plan to do with the Kirchner claims after the settlement agreement if it's approved?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection to the form of the question.

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.

A. So you're asking me to speculate about my future actions --

Q. (By Mr. Lang) I'm not asking you --

A. -- with respect that claim?

Q. What does Hunter Mountain plan to do with the Kirschner claims if the settlement agreement is pursued or --

A. What do you mean by plan?

Q. What is it's intention to do with the Kirschner claims if the settlement agreement is approved?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.

A. And again, what do you mean by to do?

Q. (By Mr. Lang) What -- are you going to dismiss the claims?

A. I don't -- I won't be the owner of the claim so I couldn't dismiss it.

Q. Is Hunter Mountain going to dismiss the claim?

A. I wouldn't want to -- want to speculate.

Q. Do you have any plans whatsoever sitting here today on what you're going to do -- what Hunter Mountain is going to do with the Kirchner claim if the settlement agreement is approved?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.

MR. MCENTIRE: Joined objection.

A. And again, help me understand better what you mean by plan because, you know, I have a -- it's -- I have a lot of plans for the weekend, but whether I do it or not, you know, is fairly speculative. You just got to help me kind of understand what you mean by that.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) I mean, what is your intent? What do you plan to do with the Kirchner claims if the settlement agreement is approved. Why is it such a hard question to answer? It seems very basic?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.

A. To be fair, Mr. Lang, if the agreement -- the settlement agreement is approved, then Hunter Mountain will have ownership over that claim, and -- one thing -- I guess one thing that is certain that I can tell you as far as a plan is to evaluate and decide what we are going to do.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) And that means pursuing the claims?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

A. Wait. I'm sorry. Say that, again.

Q. (By Mr. Lang) I said, and does that include potentially pursuing the claims?

A. By whom?

Q. Hunter Mountain.

A. Oh, pursuing the claim. Well, yes, I would imagine it -- it involves a range of options.

Q. And what -- what is within that range of options that you can think of sitting here right now?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.

A. I don't know because I'll reach out to my legal advisors and they'll give me a range of options, but, you know, I would say either move forward or not or whatnot, but I'll let the legal advisors tell me.

MR. MCENTIRE: Yeah, Mark, let me jump in here. You can try to answer the question if you can to the extent you're not relying upon legal advice, okay? And so feel free to do that. If you have to rely upon legal advice, then I instruct you not to answer.

A. At some point in the future, I'll rely upon legal advice to determine what my range of options are.

Q. Has Hunter Mountain performed any analysis of the Dugaboy note?

A. Has Hunter Mountain performed any analysis regarding the Dugaboy note?

Q. Like the valve of the Dugaboy note.

A. Oh, has Hunter Mountain itself determined the --

Q. Yes.

A. -- the -- the value of it. We'll, again, it's an entity and it doesn't, you know, think for itself so I would say, no.

Q. Has anybody with Hunter Mountain analyzed the value of the Dugaboy note?

A. Anybody with? Again, what you are -- I'm the administrator but -- are you talking about people with a role?

Q. Have you? Have you performed any analysis of the value of the Dugaboy note?

A. No, again, because I'm not a qualified appraiser.

Q. Have you requested anyone to provide an analysis of the valve of the Dugaboy note?

A. Yes.

Q. Who have you requested the value of Dugaboy note?

A. A qualified appraisal company.

Q. Who is that qualified appraisal company?

A. It's a company called Weaver.

Q. Okay. Have they provided you with an opinion on the value of the Dugaboy note?

A. No.

Q. When do expect them -- let me ask this, have they told you when they may be able to provide the opinion of a value of the Dugaboy note?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection to form?

A. I can't -- I can't recall offhand when they'll provide me an evaluation on that Dugaboy note?

Q. (By Mr. Lang) Okay.

MR. LANG: I'll pass the witness.

MR. MCENTIRE: I'm sorry, Mr. Lang, I couldn't hear you. I apologize.

MR. LANG: I said -- I said I'll pass the witness.

I think David or there are other attorneys that have questions.

MR. MCENTIRE: Okay.

Is there anyone else who wants to ask Mr. Patrick any questions?

MR. PHILLIPS: Michael could you take down a document?

MR. LANG: Yup, sorry. Thank you.

MR. PHILLIPS: I read it seven times now.

MR. LANG: I got it. I forgot it was up.

MR. MCENTIRE: Anybody else have any questions for Mr. Patrick?

MR. YORK: Go ahead, Matthew.

MR. OKIN: Can everybody hear me okay?

MR. PHILLIPS: Yes.

MR. OKIN: I think, Louis, you and I have an agreement that we were going to postpone our asking questions til tomorrow, is that correct?

MR. PHILLIPS: Correct, at 2:00 o'clock, right? 2:00 o'clock, right?

MR. OKIN: 2:00 o'clock tomorrow. So we'll defer our questions. We are going to take Mr. Patrick's deposition when we recommence at 2:00 o'clock tomorrow.

MR. MCENTIRE: Okay. Anyone else have any questions of Mr. Patrick.

MR. YORK: So -- this is Drew York, I do.

Mr. Phillips, are you okay with me going forward now.

MR. PHILLIPS: I think we -- I forgot, I didn't get a chance to tell you, Mr. York, that I think Mr. Patrick --

Mr. Patrick you want to -- we don't want to wait til 2:00, so --

THE WITNESS: Yeah, let's just keep going.

MR. PHILLIPS: We can keep going. We can move straight on to you. I just didn't know if he wanted a five minute break.

MR. YORK: Let's take five minutes. Let's do that. Let's go off the record, take a five-minute break and come back, how's that?

MR. PHILLIPS: Okay.

(Recess at 12:33 p.m.)

(Resume at 12:41 p.m.)

MR. YORK: Let's go on the record.

EXAMINATION

BY MR. YORK:

Q. Mr. Patrick, good afternoon, my name is Drew York and I represent Patrick Daugherty in this matter. Are you familiar with Mr. Daugherty?

A. Yes.

Q. And how do you know Mr. Daugherty?

A. I knew him from Highland.
Q. Were you also employed at Highland at one point in time?
A. Yes.
Q. What position?
A. I was in the tax department.
Q. Okay. Did you have a title?
A. I was a tax professional.
Q. How long were you employed at Highland?
A. Oh, from 2008 to 2021.
Q. And were you always employed in the position as a taxpayer professional at Highland during that time?
A. Yes.
Q. You mentioned earlier in response to some questions from Mr. Lang that you're currently the administrator or control person for Hunter Mountain, is that correct?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. When did you take on that role?
A. I believe in 2022.
Q. Did you have -- do you remember when in 2022?
A. I think the latter part of the summer.
Q. Did you have any role at Hunter Mountain trust prior to that time in 2022 when you became the administrator?
A. Can you ask that question one more time?

Q. Sure. Did you have any role at the Hunter Mountain trust prior to the time you became the administrator in 2022?
(Zoom call froze)
THE COURT REPORTER: Is everyone still there?
A. -- recall specifically, you know, so I, you know, I had no formal role.
Q. Okay. When you say you would speak to Mr. Hanus from time to time when he was the administrator, can you describe for me what it was that you would be conferring with him about?
A. Probably would have to be -- involved taxes.
Q. And why was he conferring with you on that based on your -- I assume role at Highland at the time, right?
MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.
Q. (By Mr. York) Actually, that's fair. I'll back up and let me ask this question. Did Mr. Hanus reach out to you in his role as the administrator for the Hunter Mountain trust while you were still in the tax department at Highland?
A. I can't recall specifically, but I'm confident that he and I spoke on occasion.
Q. And what do you recall the two of you speaking about?
A. It had to involve tax -- some sort of tax related type questions.

Q. Did you have any other involvement with the Hunter Mountain Trust at all? Not even in a formal role, but any involvement with the Hunter Mountain Trust at all prior to your becoming the administrator in 2022?
A. No.
Q. Were you ever counsel for the Hunter Mountain Trust?
A. No.
Q. Were you ever counsel to the Hunter Mountain Trust in any fashion?
A. No.
Q. Did you ever conduct any tax analysis with regard to the Hunter Mountain Trust when you were at Highland?
A. I can't recall, specifically.
Q. Can you recall even if you did, when?
A. Well, it'd probably be around -- I mean, it would be when that trust was, you know, created and after it was created.
Q. When was the trust created?
A. I don't recall, specifically.
Q. Do you recall who came up with the idea to create the trust?
A. The idea to create the trust. You know what, I actually do.

Q. Who was that?
A. It was Thomas Surgeon. That's what I seem to recall. He -- he wanted that trust created.
Q. Why?
A. Well, I can't recall specifically, but he was in the compliance department at Highland.
Q. Earlier today Mr. Lang showed you those organizational structure charts that we looked at. I think Exhibit 1 which was the charitable DAF structure chart. And I -- as I understood from your testimony the chart that he put up is no longer accurate. Do you know why it's changed?
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
MR. MCENTIRE: Following the objection. He's already asked and answered this question too.
A. I'm trying to remember when that exhibit was put in to place, but -- any variably kind of complex sophisticated corporate structures, you know, they're generally -- just don't -- a lot of different reasons for -- for structures to kind of shift throughout the years.
Q. (By Mr. York) And you don't recall specifically when those changes were made to the structure?
A. Well, I think there's -- I guess I'm trying to expresses this -- it's rather fluid. A lot of these kind of structures, you know, just for an example, sometimes you make an investment of certain types and so then you want to have a special purpose vehicle formed for that investment, and, you know, to hold it, and it can be for a variety of reasons and purposes and whatnot. So that's what I'm kind of saying that, that these structures are always sort of fluid when you have a variety of investment holdings as one reason, and as, you know, tax law changes can influence development of structures, legal -- corporate legal changes. That's why it's -- it's a very complex structure that has a lot of different things, and so you really have to see it and snapshot it in time, you know, but -- but it's always evolving in light of different considerations.

Q. Let's switch gears. Did you have any involvement in the creation and development of the charitable DAF?

MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.

A. If you don't mind, could you be a little more specific to what you're referring to charitable DAF?

Q. (By Mr. York) Sure.

Mr. Lang, can you put up the chart for me please, Exhibit 1.

MR. PHILLIPS: I'm having a hard time -- I know there's not a question pending, but what does this have to do with the Daugherty objection?

MR. MCENTIRE: I don't think it has anything to do with the objection.

So, Mr. Lang -- I mean, Mr. York, I don't know how we go here.

MR. PHILLIPS: We're not going to allow any kind of amendment to pleadings or by additional evidence and that sort of thing. I'm just having a hard time with this folderol about -- Daugherty has an objection, but this is not part of it.

MR. YORK: Take down the exhibit for now, I'll go a different route.

Mr. Patrick, have you read Mr. Daugherty objection to the proposed settlement between Highland and the HMIT entities?

A. Yes.

Q. Are you aware that Highland has separately filed an adversary proceeding against Mr. Daugherty?

A. I have an awareness, yes.

Q. Okay. Have you ever read the settlement agreement between Highland and Mr. Daugherty?

A. No.

Q. In the course of the negotiations of the proposed settlement between Highland and the HMIT entities, was there ever any discussions about Mr. Daugherty unresolved class a claim?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection to form.

A. Yes.

Q. (By Mr. York) When did those take place?

A. I believe during the period of the -- the discussions around the settlement.

Q. Before or after the settlement agreement -- I'm sorry, strike that. Before or after the motion for entry for approval of settlement was filed with the Bankruptcy Court?

A. Oh, I can't recall with that sort of precision.

Q. Did it come up before the parties, that is Highland and HMIT entities reached an agreement in principle to the proposed settlement?

A. Yes, I --

Q. Who brought it up?

A. Not me, is what I can say because it's nothing that was really in my radar screen.

Q. Was it brought up by anybody else on the HMIT entities side?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.

MR. MCENTIRE: Let me jump in here. I would object to the extent that he's asking you to talk about discussions you've had with Mr. Lewis or other attorneys representing Hunter Mountain. If you can answer that without making reference to any such privileged discussions, you can do so. Otherwise, I will instruct you not to answer.

A. Yeah, no -- I mean, we had substantial all legal involvement and so I think a lot of those discussions -- I mean, it wasn't necessarily me, but is lawyers to lawyers.

Q. (By Mr. York) Did you ever have any communications yourself with anyone on the Highland side regarding Mr. Daugherty unresolved Class A claim in the bankruptcy?

A. I just remember generally speaking -- and it coming up in the settlement negotiations.

Q. I understand that. So is your answer then, no, you did not have any direct conversations with anyone from Highland regarding Mr. Daugherty Class A claim?

A. I wish I could be that precise. I just don't recall. Maybe.

Q. Well, if you did, who would those conversations have been with?

A. Yeah, I don't want to speculate.

MR. MORRIS: Objection form.

Q. (By Mr. York) Are you aware that Highland is engaged in a dispute with the IRS regarding its tax filings from 2008 to 2010?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And have you been aware of that since, you know, since the time that you became the administrator at Hunter Mountain Trust?

A. Yes.

Q. And before that?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. What is your understanding of that dispute?
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
A. That there's a proposed adjustment with respect to the Highland tax return for 2007 and 2008.
Q. Have you had any discussions with anyone from Highland regarding that dispute?
A. When?
Q. At any point in time.
A. Oh, yeah, when I was employed by Highland, yes.
Q. Okay. What about since?
A. When I was employed by Skyview.
Q. When you were employed by Skyview?
A. Yeah.
Q. Okay. Who owns Skyview?
A. My understanding is a Scott Ellington.
Q. Okay. And who did you have those conversations with?
A. Oh, outside counsel.
Q. Other than counsel, have you had discussions with anyone else about the IRS audit dispute?
A. Oh, I'm sure I have.
Q. Do you recall who?

A. Not really, specifically.
Q. Do you recall the last time you did?
A. No.
Q. Do you recall what was said?
A. No.
Q. Are you familiar with what's known an FPAA, F-P-A-A?
A. Yes, I am.
Q. What does that stand for?
A. Final partnership administrator adjustment.
Q. And is that a document or form, I guess, that is issued by the IRS with respect to an audit?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. All right. Do you know whether an FPAA has been issued with regard to Highlands tax filings for 2007-2008?
A. I may have known, but I may have forgotten. That's -- so I don't want to say, I don't know because I just can't -- I can't recall, but I may have known.
Q. I'm not sure -- so you just don't know as you sit here?
A. Well, I'm saying I guess I can't remember, but it's within a realm of possibility that I may have known at some point.
Q. Have you seen it?
A. It's been many years, and that's why my memory isn't precise enough to give you kind of an affirmative.

MR. MCENTIRE: Mark, don't speculate if you don't remember.
A. Yeah.
Q. (By Mr. York) Have you ever had any discussions with anyone concerning the FPAA if one has actually been issued for either Highland's 2007 at 2008 tax returns?
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
A. Can you state that again?
Q. (By Mr. York) Sure. Have you ever had any discussions with anyone to the best of your recollection about an FPAA if one has actually been issued concerning Highland's either 2007 or 2008 tax returns?
A. Yeah, I don't recall. If I have or have not, I just don't remember.
Q. You were asked earlier by Mr. Lang about who reached out first on the settlement discussions. Am I correct the settlement discussions between Highland and Hunter Mountain began sometime in, I think, March of this year? Is that right?
A. I -- I don't know with absolute precision, like, I was thinking April.
Q. Did you personally have any direct negotiations with anyone on the Highland side?
MR. MORRIS: Objection.

A. Yes.
Q. (By Mr. York) Who was that?
A. Wait, so restate your question again.
Q. Yeah, my question was did you -- did you have any direct negotiations with anyone on Highland side relating to the proposed settlement?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And my question then was, who --
MR. MCENTIRE: Objection.
A. The professionals at Highland.
Q. (By Mr. York) So you spoke just with the professionals at Highland? Nobody else?
A. No, I spoke to a lot of, you know, like, my team.
Q. Sure. I'm asking on the Highland side, who did you speak with?
A. Oh, the professionals there at Highland.
Q. Okay, which ones?
A. You know, Mr. Starey, and I guess when you say spoke with, I mean, do you, like, general discussions within a group typesetting. You know, Dave Clause and Tim Corinoir. Those are the names that come to mind.
Q. And you can't recall who initiated the settlement discussions -- the discussions about potentially settling the dispute between Highland and the Hunter Mountain entities, correct?

A. Yeah, I can't, specifically.
Q. You consider yourself to have had a close relationship with Jim Dondero in the past?
MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
A. No.
MR. YORK: So you know that Highland at one point did characterize you as having a close relationship with Mr. Dondero over a more than decade period of time that you worked at Highland.
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
MR. MCENTIRE: Joined in the objection.
A. I didn't have that awareness.
Q. (By Mr. York) Do you still communicate with Mr. Dondero?
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
A. No.
Q. (By Mr. York) When was the last time you recall communicating with him?
MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.
A. I can't recall precisely.
Q. (By Mr. York) Was it some time within this calendar year?
MR. MCENTIRE: Same objection.
A. No.

Q. (By Mr. York) Last year?
A. Yes.
Q. Do you recall when last year?
A. No.
Q. Can you tell me -- was it, you know, spring, summer, fall 2024? Any idea?
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
A. Well, I'm pretty confident it was in the summer.
Q. Okay.
A. But it may have been later, but at least the summer.
Q. All right. What do you recall the two of you discussing in the last conversation?
MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
MR. MCENTIRE: Can we have an agreement that one attorney objects, it's good for all?
MR. YORK: Sure.
MR. PHILLIPS: It's fine with me. I can't speak for Mr. Lang or Okin.
MR. LANG: That's fine.
A. I just don't specifically remember.
Q. (By Mr. York) Has Highland capital ever had an ownership interest in Hunter Mountain Trust?
A. Highland Capital Management having an ownership in Hunter Mountain?

Q. Yeah.
A. To my understanding, no.
Q. Okay. Do you know how Hunter Mountain came to own Class B and Class C limited partnership interest in Highland Capital Management?
A. Yes.
Q. How?
A. Purchase and contribution.
Q. So are you saying that Hunter Mountain purchased Class B Limited partnership interest in Highland Capital?
MR. PHILLIPS: I'm going to object to form. And counsel, where are we headed here?
MR. YORK: Just trying to make sure we have a full understanding when we go into this hearing. Hunter Mountain interest is as set forth in the -- in the proposed settlement relating to the capital account balance, that's all.
A. What was the question?
Q. Yeah, so did -- I was trying to understand when you said purchase and contribution, what do you mean by that? What's -- what's that number?
A. Yeah, yeah, my understanding is that Hunter Mountain had purchased the -- some interest in Highland Capital Management LP. I don't recall precisely the class and then it had also acquired interest in Highland Capital Management LP via a contribution contributing a note or an asset into it. Is what I -- is my general understanding.

Q. And is that note, that you're referring to, is that what Coakley has been called the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust note?
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection to form.
A. Yeah, I don't know what you're referring to. I'm just -- my general -- my general knowledge is that -- that there was a note contributed by Hunter Mountain into Highland in exchange for an interest.
Q. (By Mr. York) When did that occur to your knowledge?
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
A. I can't remember the years gone by.
Q. (By Mr. York) Was it while you were employed with Highland?
A. Yes.
Q. The last couple of questions here, I think, is Hunter Mountain paying the legal expenses for Mr. Phillips and his firm? Relating to the proposed settlement and, I guess, the defense of the proposed settlement at the upcoming hearing?
A. I believe so.
Q. Okay. Is there --

MR. PHILLIPS: I'll answer that, yes.
MR. YORK: Mr. Phillips, if you want to go under oath we can put you under oath as a witness too, but --
MR. PHILLIPS: Let me rephrase. I hope so.
A. Yeah.
Q. (By Mr. York) Is there anyone that's making any payment or contribution to Hunter Mountain in relation to those legal expenses? In other words, is any third party paid Hunter Mountain or reimbursed Hunter Mountain for any legal expenses associated with the proposed settlement?
A. No, but -- except for the current ownership, you know, is probably funding it that way. So CLO HoldCo LLC would be making a contribution into Hunter Mountain to pay legal bills.
Q. All right.
A. And probably -- I'm kinda jumping -- probably go to Beacon Mountain first and then it would go to Hunter Mountain like that.
Q. On up the chain, so to speak?
A. Yeah. Well, I don't know how -- on up the chain -- yeah, until there's cash which would be CLO HoldCo.
Q. Okay. Are there any indemnifications agreements that Hunter Mountain has entered into where it is being indemnified by any parties relating to -- relating to the settlement at all?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, form.
A. Not to my -- not to my knowledge.
Q. Okay. All right.
MR. PHILLIPS: I would qualify that. If you're asking about the settlement agreement, could you put the settlement agreement up because there may be indemnification provisions in the settlement agreement. If you're asking for outside the settlement agreement, that's a different story.
MR. YORK: You took care of that for me Lewis.
A. Yeah, yeah, and no, I appreciate that clarification because I guess I should have asked you either or because I was getting confused thinking that maybe it also includes the settlement agreement. No, my answer is with respect to anything outside of a settlement agreement. There are no indignities to my general understanding.
Q. All right.
With that, I think, at this point, I'll pass the witness back to Mr. Lang, if he's got any further questions.
FURTHER EXAMINATION
BY MR. LANG:
Q. I have one question. You said that Rand PE Fund I, LP was in liquidation, do you recall that?

A. Yeah, yeah, well, I call it a windup.
Q. Windup, okay.
A. Yeah, yeah. It's a windup.
Q. And then I could be wrong, but I think I recall that Mr. Raver testified that Atlas IDF LP was in liquidation, does that sound right?
MR. MCENTIRE: Objection, form.
A. Yeah, windup.
Q. (By Mr. Lang) You said windup also?
A. Yeah, but, but loosely termed they're one and the same.
MR. LANG: Okay. That's all I've got.
MR. MCENTIRE: Anybody else?
MR. OKIN: Well, we'll be back at 2:00 tomorrow.
MR. MCENTIRE: Yeah. Okay. I think that adjourns the deposition Ms. Court Reporter.
(End of Proceedings.)

DALLAS, TEXAS - JUNE 25, 2025 - 9:38 A.M.

THE CLERK: All rise. The United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Texas, Dallas Division, is now in session, the Honorable Stacey Jernigan presiding.

THE COURT: Good morning. Please be seated.

MR. LANG: Good morning, Judge.

THE COURT: All right. We have Highland settings this morning, Case No. 19-34054. We have two motions: a motion to extend the duration of the Plan Trust, and then a motion under Rule 9019 to approve a settlement between the estate entities and Hunter Mountain entities.

All right. So, lots to get to. Let's quickly get appearances from the participating parties in interest this morning.

MR. MORRIS: Good morning, Your Honor. John Morris; Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones. I'm joined by my colleagues Jeffery Pomerantz, Gregory Demo, and Hayley Winograd. And we represent the Highland Capital Management Claimant Trust and Highland Capital Management, LP.

THE COURT: Okay. Good morning. Other appearances?

MR. LOIGMAN: Good morning, Your Honor. Robert Loigman from Quinn Emanuel. We represent the Highland Litigation Trustee, Marc Kirschner.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Good morning, Your Honor. This is Deborah Deitsch-Perez from Stinson representing the Dugaboy Trust on the motion to extend the duration of the Trust.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Good morning.

MR. LANG: Michael Lang for Dugaboy Investment Trust on the 9019 motion.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MR. LANG: Good morning.

MR. PHILLIPS: Good morning, Your Honor. Louis M. Phillips and Amelia L. Hurt; Kelly Hart Hallman -- Kelly Hart Pitre, Louisiana trade name, I don't know why -- appearing on behalf of Hunter Mountain Investment Trust and the Hunter Mountain entities in connection with the 9019 motion.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MR. YORK: Good morning, Your Honor. Drew York along with Joshua Smeltzer and Drake Rayshell from Gray Reed on behalf of Patrick Daugherty with regard to the 9019 motion.

THE COURT: Good morning. Ms. Schmidt?

MS. SCHMIDT: Erin Schmidt on behalf of the U.S. Trustee.

THE COURT: Good morning.

MR. CURRY: Good morning, Your Honor. David Curry from Okin Adams on behalf of The Dallas Foundation and Crown Global Life Insurance, Ltd.

THE COURT: Good morning.

All right. Well, let me ask. I'll start with Mr. Morris, given these are your motions. Do you have any agreements about how you're going to proceed? I'm wondering, first off, are we going to have joint presentations, joint evidence on both motions, or are we going to take one at the time?

MR. MORRIS: Good morning, Your Honor. Thank you very much for hearing us yesterday. It's kind of a big day in the case. We have a milestone that we hope will greatly advance the prosecution of this case, and, frankly, what remains to be done to complete the wind-up of Highland.

There are two motions before the Court. The first is the motion to extend the Trusts. That was filed at Docket No. 4213. We're going to address that one first, Your Honor, because we have a resolution and a stipulation. There's only one objecting party. That was the Dugaboy Investment Trust. And early this morning we reached an agreement whereby Dugaboy is going to withdraw its objection, with prejudice, subject to a stipulation that we will file with the Court but that contains the following terms.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Number one, Dugaboy agrees to withdraw its objection to the motion, with prejudice.

Number two, the Trusts expect to dissolve by August 11th, 2026, so that no further extension of the duration of the Trusts will be necessary.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And number three, Dugaboy hereby preserves and does not waive its right, if any, to object to any further attempts to extend the date by which the Trusts must be dissolved or to extend the duration of the Trusts.

THE COURT: Wait. I don't understand that third one. Could you repeat it?

MR. MORRIS: It's a reservation of rights.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And so Dugaboy preserves and does not waive its right, if any, to object --

THE COURT: Well, okay. I'm sorry. Maybe I zoned out or heard something different.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: I thought number two of the agreement was August 11th, 2026 would be it; there would be no further extensions.

MR. MORRIS: It's a statement of expectation. It's not a representation. It's not a warranty. We do not believe today, based on the facts and circumstances that we know of, that a further extension will be necessary, but we're not waiving the right to seek it if circumstances change or something unforeseen happens. And all Dugaboy is saying is that, okay, we reserve the right, if any, to object.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: It's that simple.

THE COURT: Okay. It's sort of confusing, right?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Perhaps. If you have any questions, let me try and clarify.

THE COURT: Well, I guess I'll just start with Ms. Deitsch-Perez. Would you come to the podium? We've got I don't know who on the camera, but we want to make sure everyone hears.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay. I'll take a stab at --

THE COURT: Do you confirm what you heard and do you have any clarification of Points 2 and 3?

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Maybe I can make it clear. I confirm that is the stipulation that we agreed upon, and I think all that was intended is the Trusts and the Debtor are saying they expect to be done by August 11, 2026, so that they will not need to make this motion again, but they could not and would not promise that they will be done by then. So Dugaboy is withdrawing the objection to this particular extension but is not waiving the right to object to a further request for an extension. And that's the sum of it. Does that make sense to Your Honor?

THE COURT: It does.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: Okay.

THE COURT: I'm hoping it'll be over by August 11th, 2026, and we'll see where we are at that time.

Well, one of my reasons for a slight bit of confusion is, in reading the 9019 settlement that is before the Court, I saw that there were some future installments payments, if you will, to HMIT, I think up through 2029, maybe.

MR. MORRIS: Sure.

THE COURT: So I was --

MR. MORRIS: So let me clarify.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: The only thing that we said that we expect to happen as of, you know, by August 11th, 2026 is that the Trusts will be dissolved. But that is not the end of their life. It is a process. Once you file for dissolution, then you have to complete the wind-down. And completing the wind-down will require the completion of all litigation. It will -- right?

All we're talking about is dissolving the Highland Claimant Trust and the Highland Litigation Subtrust so that what remains after that is the Indemnity Trust. And the Indemnity Trust will be fully funded and will be prepared to go forward. And if we ever get to a point when there's no further litigation, the corpus of that will be distributed to whatever stakeholders are entitled to it at that time.

But when we talk about being done by next year, it doesn't mean the case will be over. It simply means that the Claimant Trust and the Highland Litigation Subtrust will be dissolved. But they still have to complete the wind-up.

THE COURT: Okay. Gotcha.

MS. DEITSCH-PEREZ: And Dugaboy is reserving its rights to object to -- if something is happening that seems improper or untoward or they're seeking additional relief, obviously, we're not waiving the unknown now.

THE COURT: Okay. Gotcha. All right. Well, I appreciate the resolution of these issues. I assume no other party in interest is going to weigh in since we only had a Dugaboy objection.

MR. MORRIS: That was the only objection we had. I'm prepared to, if Your Honor thinks it's necessary or appropriate, or both, to make a very short proffer. A proffer.

THE COURT: Okay. I'll accept that proffer at this time.

MR. MORRIS: Okay. So, Your Honor, we filed on the docket at No. 4253 Exhibits 1 through 65, and we supplemented our exhibit list at Docket No. 4271 with two additional documents, which are Exhibits 66 and 67. We don't believe there's any objection to any of those documents, and we would respectfully move for their admission into evidence.

THE COURT: All right. Could you repeat the numbers once again?

MR. MORRIS: Yes, Your Honor. So, for the motion for an order further extending the duration of the Trusts, we have two docket entries that contain Highland's exhibits. The first is Docket No. 4253, and that has Exhibits 1 through 65.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And then we supplemented at 4271 with Docket -- with Exhibit Numbers 66 and 67.

THE COURT: All right. I presume there's no objection to these exhibits.

All right. They are admitted.

(Claimant Trust's Exhibits 1 through 67 are admitted into evidence.)

JAMES P. SEERY, JR., PROFFER OF TESTIMONY

MR. MORRIS: Okay. So, Your Honor, if called to testify, James P. Seery, Jr., the Claimant Trustee of the Highland Claimant Trust, would testify as follows.

At Exhibits 63 and 64, Highland filed excerpts of the Litigation Trust and the Litigation Subtrust -- the Claimant Trust and the Litigation Subtrust, and each of those excerpts contain Section 9.1, respectively. That's the section of the Trusts that deal with the extensions that may be necessary from to the original three-year term. And Mr. Seery would testify that he's familiar with those provisions and that he understands the requirements of those provisions include, among other things, the requirement that all objections to claims and equity interests have been resolved and that all assets that the Trustee believes might yield sufficient value to the estate have been sold.

Mr. Seery would also testify that the Highland estate has a number of assets in its possession today, certain of which will be conveyed to Hunter Mountain if the 9019 motion is approved.

Among those assets, Mr. Seery would testify that, in accordance with the proposed settlement agreement, which is at Exhibit 17, in Paragraph 5(b), the Court will see reference to what's known as the Dugaboy Note. The Dugaboy Note is an asset of the estate that will go to Hunter Mountain if the 9019 motion is approved. If it's not approved, then Mr. Seery would testify that he's got to find another way to dispose of it. But it is an asset with a face amount today of about $17 million, so it has substantial value.

There is a note from Hunter Mountain. That also will be disposed of as set forth in Paragraph 4(a) of the proposed settlement agreement. That note is going to be used to reduce the allowed amount of Hunter Mountain's Class 10 claim if the settlement is approved. But that note is also an asset of the estate. It's worth over $60 million. I believe it actually might be in the fifties. But somewhere in the $50 to $60 million range. And that's an asset that needs to be disposed of.

The estate has a contingent right to receive certain funds under its settlement with Mr. Okada, and it has the Kirschner Litigation. All of these assets will be disposed of. They're very illiquid assets, I'd call them, and it would be very helpful to the estate in moving this case forward if the 9019 motion is approved.

There are other assets that the estate has that will not be monetized by August 11th and which therefore require the extension of the Trusts. Mr. Seery would testify, if called to the stand, that the pursuit of the sale of these assets will yield proceeds that justified the continued pursuit of their monetization. They include interests in Highland CLO Funding, Ltd. Documents pertaining to that can be found at Exhibits 21 and 25.

The Claimant Trust also owns shares in Highland Capital Management Korea, Ltd. Documents relating to that asset can be found at Exhibits 18 through 20. That's an asset that, if Mr. Seery were to testify, he would say that he has been actively engaged in trying to liquidate that asset, but it's not going to be completed by August 11th.

There's also a note that is due from Highland Capital Management Korea, Ltd. That can be found at Exhibit 67. That's another asset that Mr. Seery has concluded and would testify to that he thinks is valuable for the estate but will not be monetized by the end of this extension period.

And then there's the bad faith award that the estate obtained against HCRE, which remains on appeal. The appeal of that order can be found at Exhibit 15. And there's no further cost, really, to waiting for the Court's decision, but that is an asset of the estate that remains to be monetized.

So there's two buckets of assets, one of which, hopefully, if the 9019 motion is approved, will go to HMIT and that will be helpful. But there's another bucket of assets that are not implicated by the HMIT settlement that will not be monetized before August 11th that Mr. Seery would testify we need a little bit more time and that's why we're going to extend the Trusts.

Mr. Seery would also testify, finally, that there are claims and equity interests that remain unresolved. They include Mr. Daugherty's Class 8 claim. As Your Honor is probably aware at this point, Highland has objected to that claim. It seeks to disallow, subordinate, that particular claim. Otherwise, have it monetized for purposes of winding up the estate.

Mr. Daugherty has moved to dismiss that complaint. That's his right. But our scheduling order already takes us past August 11th.

And then, finally, we've got Dugaboy's Class 11 interest, which has not yet been allowed. If the 9019 motion is approved today, we do expect to move quickly to get to that point so that we can finish that up. But we don't foresee that being completed before August 11th, either.

So, in sum, Mr. Seery would testify that, from his perspective, the estate still has assets that are valuable to the estate that will not be monetized by August 11th, and there are still one claim and one equity interest that need to be resolved in order to satisfy the test, you know, to get to the dissolution.

So that would be the sum total of his testimony. That's the completion of the proffer. And unless Your Honor has any objections, we're prepared to move to the next motion.

THE COURT: I have a couple of questions.

MR. MORRIS: Sure.

THE COURT: But first I'm going to go ahead and swear in Mr. Seery --

MR. MORRIS: Great.

THE COURT: -- to affirm this, as well as swear him in for what I'm sure will be future testimony today.

MR. MORRIS: Sure.

MR. SEERY: Would you like me to come --

THE COURT: Well, you can just stand in place. Just make sure we hear you.

(The witness is sworn as to both his proffer and future testimony.)

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

All right. My question is probably for you.

THE WITNESS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: Just confirm my understanding. We have one claim and one --

MR. MORRIS: Equity interest.

THE COURT: -- equity interest to resolve? Mr. Daugherty's Class 8 claim and the Dugaboy what would be Class 11 interest?

MR. MORRIS: That is correct.

THE COURT: Did I hear that correctly, Mr. Seery?

THE WITNESS: That's correct, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

And then my other question is, once again, a clarification. I pulled out of your attachments to your motion to extend the Exhibit B, Unresolved Pending Litigation.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: And at the time this was filed, May 8th, 2025, it showed nine pending matters at all court levels. And I think two of them now are finished. I'm sorry. This is a long question. But maybe I'm wrong. The first two matters, the recusal matter that was at the Fifth Circuit, as well as the gatekeeper appeal, which I know a motion to stay the mandate was at the Supreme Court, both of those are finished now? Done?

MR. MORRIS: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. So the nine pending matters is now down to seven. And if the Court were to approve the 9019 today, I understand that, well, it looks like, at a minimum, two more would go away?

MR. MORRIS: Precisely.

THE COURT: We have an appeal at the District Court, what we call the Claims Trading Appeal, where Highland had sued -- I'm sorry, Hunter Mountain had sued Highland and others regarding the claims trading issue, I'll call it. So that would go away?

MR. MORRIS: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: And then let me see what else. I've marked all over my chart.

MR. MORRIS: And then I believe Hunter Mountain's motion for leave to file a complaint in the Delaware Chancery Court --

THE COURT: Ah.

MR. MORRIS: -- to remove Mr. Seery will also be dismissed with prejudice --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: -- if the 9019 motion is approved.

THE COURT: Okay. So, that, yes, Hunter Mountain v. Seery, the Court issued a stay on that being able to go forward in Delaware.

MR. MORRIS: Precisely.

THE COURT: So that would go away.

So, of the nine matters listed, we're down to five. But I'll hear, I guess, about this later with Mr. Seery, the big what I would call Kirschner adversary against lots of defendants which has been abated for a long, long time now. Hunter Mountain would basically receive that lawsuit with those claims? The claims against it go away? And I don't know what we'll hear, I don't know what Hunter Mountain will do with that big adversary, but maybe it doesn't know yet. I don't know.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: So, --

MR. MORRIS: Not a question we've concerned ourselves with, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. So that, again, I'm kind of recapping everything.

(Counsel confer.)

MR. MORRIS: Go ahead, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So, again, I'm looking at the chart. If anyone wants to know what I'm looking at, it's at Docket No. 4213-2, filed May 8th. We're down to the HCRE --

MR. MORRIS: Appeal.

THE COURT: -- appeal.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh. Which is fully briefed and we're just waiting for a decision.

THE COURT: Okay. So that bad faith decision may or may not stick, but it's hanging there on appeal.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: We're down to a Dugaboy -- what we called the Imaging Motion. Or no?

MR. MORRIS: Correct. I guess that's been stayed, but that's out there.

THE COURT: We have the valuation motion of Dugaboy, but I don't know, is it going to be moot after today? I don't know what I'm going to hear today as far as the evidence.

MR. MORRIS: So, that has -- great question -- two plaintiffs in that lawsuit, HMIT and Dugaboy.

THE COURT: Oh, that's right. So --

MR. MORRIS: HMIT is going to dismiss it with prejudice. Dugaboy will still have an active complaint.

THE COURT: Appeal.

MR. MORRIS: My hope is that --

THE COURT: It's an appeal of --

MR. MORRIS: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: My hope is that, because we produced so much valuation information to HMIT, which we then had to make available to Dugaboy because that's the way discovery works, that they'll withdraw that complaint.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I'm going to make that plea right on the record here, because they've now gotten everything they've asked for. But that's their decision to make, and it's out there. But HMIT is withdrawing itself as a party to that lawsuit, but it does remain in Dugaboy's lap.

THE COURT: Okay. So those potentially three things?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: Plus the Daugherty matter?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Seery, did I miss something?

THE WITNESS: One clarification, Your Honor. My apologies. One clarification. In the Class 11 subordinated interests, there's a Dugaboy capital account of $740,000. There's also the Strand capital account -- both of these are controlled by Mr. Dondero -- of $994,000. And then Mr. Okada and his affiliates have a combined capital account of $248,000. So we'll -- I said just Dugaboy, but it's actually Dugaboy, Strand, and then Okada and two family trusts of his.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And if the 9019 motion is granted, --

THE WITNESS: It's in the footnote. It's in the footnote in the motion.

THE COURT: Yes. I actually had that in my notes.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: So I glossed over Class 11 just being Dugaboy. There are Strand and Okada.

All right. So I appreciate that clarification. We're down hopefully to very little litigation. But we have no control over higher courts, when they have time to look at it.

MR. MORRIS: Or future litigation, now that the gatekeeper has been curtailed.

THE COURT: Okay. All right.

Anyone wish to say anything about this motion to extend?

All right. Well, based on the pleadings, the argument, the evidence, I do think it is necessary and appropriate and reasonable to extend the duration of the Highland Trusts through August 11th, 2026. The relief is something that is contemplated as a possibility under the trust documents. Moreover, I think the Court has some authority under Bankruptcy Rule 9006(b) and Bankruptcy Code Section 105 to grant this relief.

The evidence shows there are unliquidated assets and some unfinished litigation that must be resolved before the Trust is in a position to wind down. So, again, I think it's necessary, prudent, and in the best interest. The motion is granted, and the Court duly acknowledges the comments with regard to the stipulation of Dugaboy and the estate. All right.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you very much. So, may I move to the 9019 motion?

THE COURT: You may.

MR. MORRIS: Okay. With respect to the 9019 motion, there were originally three Objecting Parties: the Dugaboy Investment Trust, Patrick Daugherty, and The Dallas Foundation and an entity called Crown Global.

I'm pleased to report, and I think Your Honor may already be aware, that a settlement has been reached to dispose of The Dallas Foundation and the Crown Global objection. There is a written agreement to that effect that effectuates that. And I'd like to just turn the podium over to Mr. Phillips. Louis Phillips represents the HMIT Entities. I know Mr. Curry is here on behalf of the objecting parties, The Dallas Foundation, but I think -- I think I'll let Mr. Phillips address, you know, the specific terms of the resolution of that objection.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you. And I will say that my staff reached out yesterday to -- I don't know if it was Mr. Curry or someone in your office -- wanting to know have you delivered exhibit notebooks. And it was at that point my staff heard, well, we've resolved.

MR. CURRY: We had just finished.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. So I'm happy to hear what the resolution is.

MR. PHILLIPS: Good morning, Your Honor. Louis M.

Phillips on behalf of the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust and the named parties therein.

We had a written stipulation that has been signed by my firm, by Mr. Curry's firm, by the Pachulski firm, and by the Quinn Emanuel firm that is to be submitted to the -- is to be filed on the record. It also contains a reference to a settlement agreement that will be attached. But we will read the stipulation into the record, if Your Honor would allow me to.

THE COURT: All right. You may.

MR. PHILLIPS: And Mr. Curry is here, and he can tell me whether or not I have read correctly, but I think I have it.

THE COURT: Okay. All right.

MR. PHILLIPS: (reading) Now, wherefore, it is jointly -- hereby jointly stipulated and agreed as follows. The Foundation Parties -- Mr. Curry's clients -- withdraw The Foundation Objection, which is a defined term in the stipulation, with prejudice, in accordance with the terms of the term sheet annexed hereto as Attachment 1. And Attachment 1 will be attached to the stipulation.

Paragraph 2. The Foundation Parties, the HMIT Entities -- that's Hunter Mountain Entities and the Movants; that is, Mr. Morris' client and Quinn Emanuel on behalf of the Litigation Subtrust -- agree that the following language shall be contained in the proposed order on the 9019 motion. And that's clearly the proposed order. This is not dependent upon the motion being granted. Notwithstanding anything in the settlement agreement or the 9019 order to the contrary, none of The Dallas Foundation, EDF, Okada Family, or Crown (The Foundation Parties) are or will be included in the definition of HMIT Releasors or Highland Releasors. For the avoidance of doubt, however, any attempt by The Foundation Parties to assert a claim against an HMIT released party by, through, or under, including derivatively a Highland entity, or against a Highland released party by, through, or under, including derivatively an HMIT entity, is barred by this order and the settlement agreement.

That is the sum and substance of the stipulation. The settlement agreement we don't think needs to be read to the Court because it's a signed settlement agreement that will be attached as Attachment 1 to the stipulation. And I believe I read it correctly.

THE COURT: Mr. Curry, did he read it correctly?

MR. CURRY: Mr. Phillips did read it correctly, Your Honor. And thank you.

And we want to thank Trustee's counsel and Mr. Phillips for working with us to address some very real concerns. And through the stipulation, we still have some work to do, but we have the time to do it, and maybe move it to where we can actually get it resolved.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, there are some things I am concerned -- well, I should say, all I really feel the need to go into is you're releasing your objection, your clients are, and all of the parties here, parties to the proposed settlement and the estates, the Debtors, Hunter Mountain, are agreeing that your clients are not releasors under the 9019 settlement if the Court approves it.

MR. CURRY: Correct, Your Honor. Unless and except our clients were to attempt to assert a released claim against a released party, and that's what the "provided, however" was to clarify.

MR. PHILLIPS: And this doesn't affect the estate at all. It basically affects the HMI -- the Hunter Mountain entities. But the language that we have read in the stipulation has been agreed to and is contained within the order that will be proposed.

THE COURT: Okay. You said it better than I said it. The estate is releasing claims --

MR. PHILLIPS: I can't believe that, Your Honor, but thank you.

THE COURT: Well, the estate is releasing claims that it has --

MR. PHILLIPS: Correct.

THE COURT: -- or in Trusts have -- I shouldn't have said the estate. It's the Trust entities and what's left of the Reorganized Debtors are releasing any claims they have against Hunter Mountain in the proposed settlement --

MR. PHILIPS: Yes.

THE COURT: -- if it's approved. But any direct claims of your clients are not --

MR. CURRY: Well, direct claims that our client has or derivative claims, for example, against Hunter Mountain that are derivative through Hunter Mountain.

THE COURT: Okay. All right.

MR. PHILLIPS: Yeah.

MR. CURRY: Yeah. That was the -- what we were trying to make sure.

THE COURT: Yes. All right. Well, and when I said this is all I care about, what I mean is I don't even know who the heck Crown Insurance is.

MR. PHILLIPS: Correct.

THE COURT: There was a very interesting party in interest objection asserted by the Debtor. And I've learned a lot about a lot of entities during all these years, but that was a new one on me. I understood that it's somewhere in the framework of the --

MR. PHILLIPS: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: -- Charitable DAF.

MR. PHILLIPS: Let's say it's somewhere in the universe, Your Honor.

THE COURT: The universe? Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: The universe. Not necessarily the Charitable DAF or Hunter Mountain.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: But in the universe.

THE COURT: Well, but the point is, we've announced anything relevant to --

MR. PHILLIPS: Correct.

THE COURT: -- the Reorganized Debtor, --

MR. PHILLIPS: Correct.

THE COURT: -- Claimant Trust, Subtrust.

MR. PHILLIPS: And the motion -- and the objections of all these entities are withdrawn with prejudice.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. CURRY: And Your Honor, the one thing that I will note, part of our agreement, and it's in the signed term sheet that you'll see, is that we've agreed that if there's a dispute over the settlement to withdraw our objection, this Court will have at least concurrent jurisdiction to resolve that dispute, because it is a settlement to resolve an objection to a core proceeding.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

MR. PHILLIPS: And we have agreed and we do agree that the Court has jurisdiction. It has jurisdiction.

THE COURT: Okay. For what that is worth.

MR. PHILLIPS: Well, that's what we can agree to.

THE COURT: All right. I appreciate that.

Anyone wish to say anything about what's been announced?

All right. Well, I accept this resolution and withdrawal of --

MR. PHILLIPS: Okay. We will be filing --

THE COURT: -- the objection.

MR. PHILLIPS: We will be filing, at the close of this hearing, this stipulation, and we will be clicking whatever ECF box request that the Court so ordered on the stipulation.

THE COURT: Okay. We will be on the lookout for that.

All right. Well, Mr. Lang, you stood up on behalf of Dugaboy.

MR. LANG: I just want to make the Court aware of a letter that was sent last night that involves this from the Caymans, from Grant Thornton.

MR. PHILLIPS: We object.

MR. LANG: I just want to make the Court -- they were asking for a 45-day that the Joint Liquidators --

MR. PHILLIPS: We object to this, Your Honor. That's not a part of the record. This is a person from outer space. Not outer space, but the Cayman Islands. And it's a letter that we --

THE COURT: Coming from someone --

MR. PHILLIPS: It looks like a letter --

THE COURT: -- who is called Yosemite Sam, I understand, outside of court.

MR. PHILLIPS: Yeah. Yeah. I didn't want to bring that up, but Mr. Morris --

THE COURT: Okay. Well, it's stuck in my brain forever now.

MR. PHILLIPS: -- says it's his favorite cartoon character, so it must be okay.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, okay, I don't want to make light. I think this goes back to what I was saying about there are certain things I care about and certain things I don't care about. And I read from the pleadings, I haven't heard evidence but I've read from the pleadings that there is a lot going on in the Cayman Islands with regard to what I call the Charitable DAF structure or Hunter Mountain.

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: Parties in that universe. And I don't plan to exercise any control or jurisdiction over that, so I'm hesitant to hear what it is you want to present. I don't know, maybe on cross-examination of Mark Patrick today it may or may not be relevant. But what is it --

MR. LANG: All they ask for is a 45-day basically abeyance or continuance of the decision on the 9019, to allow them to investigate and weigh in on it.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor?

MR. LANG: They're Joint Liquidators. That's -- I'm just making the Court aware of the request.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, they're not here to articulate that. So I respect your wanting to be transparent and whatnot, but I'm not going to let it stop me from going forward today. Okay.

MR. LANG: Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, if I may be excused, that's our position with respect to the withdrawal. We appreciate Your Honor's attention. Thank you.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

MR. CURRY: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Anyone else wish to weigh in?

All right. Well, I do, as I was saying, accept the withdrawal of The Dallas Foundation and related entities' objection to the 9019 settlement.

So does that leave only the Daugherty objection to the settlement? Well, and the Dugaboy.

MR. MORRIS: And the Dugaboy, yes.

THE COURT: And Dugaboy, of course.

MR. MORRIS: That's right.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: So, --

THE COURT: So how did you want to proceed?

MR. MORRIS: So, the way I propose to proceed, Your Honor, I have an opening statement to make --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: -- with a PowerPoint presentation to present. I would propose that, as the Movant, I go first. Then we can hear from Dugaboy, we can hear from Mr. Daugherty, and then we can put Mr. Seery on the stand.

Assuming that there is no challenge to Mark Patrick's authority to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of all of the HMIT entities, I would not plan on calling either Mr. Dondero or Ms. Deitsch-Perez, who are under subpoena here, because the challenge to authority was really coming from The Dallas Foundation. Their objection has now been withdrawn. So as long as Mr. Daugherty -- well, really, as long as Dugaboy doesn't challenge Mr. Patrick's authority to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities, I think we'll just put on the one witness and be done.

THE COURT: All right. Just so we know what lies ahead, --

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: -- I don't think that Dugaboy objected to Mr. Patrick's authority. I do recall it was just The Foundation.

MR. LANG: There was no objection on the -- there was no objection.

THE COURT: Okay. And same with Mr. Daugherty? No objection about the authority of Mark Patrick to enter into the settlement?

MR. YORK: There was no objection.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MORRIS: All right. May I proceed?

THE COURT: You may proceed.

MR. MORRIS: Okay. So, may I approach, Your Honor? I've got a --

THE COURT: You may. Is this a PowerPoint? And everyone else has it, correct?

(Pause.)

THE COURT: You may proceed.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor. John Morris; Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones; for Highland Capital Management, LP and the Highland Claimant Trust.

Before I begin, Your Honor, I'd like to move my exhibits into evidence because I will be referring to them in my opening.

THE COURT: All right. So I think I said on Monday the first thing I was going to ask, and I've already blown that, was did you all have good faith discussions regarding admission of each other's exhibits? And I did see Mr. Lang filed a day or two ago his list of objections. It looked like you were like you were down to about nine or eleven exhibits you were objecting to.

(Counsel confer.)

THE COURT: Out of 123 designations, which I think probably grew overnight to --

MR. MORRIS: Oh, okay. Well, --

MR. LANG: I just have to make clear for the record.

MR. MORRIS: You go ahead and do that.

MR. LANG: Your Honor, I've been told that Dugaboy does challenge the authority. It is not in our objection.

MR. PHILLIPS: It's not in his --

THE COURT: Well, can I ask why it was not in your objection?

MR. LANG: I do not know. I was not counsel of record when the objection was filed. I do not know what was known or not known at that time.

THE COURT: So, --

MR. LANG: So I guess we just seek leave to --

THE COURT: -- if you did not have him on -- was Mark Patrick on your exhibit list? I don't think he was, right?

MR. LANG: He was not.

THE COURT: Okay. So how would you address that? Again, we've had, I know, some back and forth over who was going to represent Dugaboy on this matter.

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: I remember the substitutions and whatnot. But --

MR. LANG: We found out late last night that The Foundation was resolving their issue, and that kind of left us in a position.

THE COURT: So what are you saying? You all were relying on --

MR. LANG: Well, the issue had --

THE COURT: -- The Foundation to carry the flag on this one?

MR. LANG: They had raised the issue. They were pursuing the issue. We went through discovery and they were pursuing it. It was already in front of the Court.

THE COURT: All right. What would you like to say, Mr. Morris?

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, this is more than disappointing. The fact of the matter is Mr. Dondero is funding both the Cayman Islands litigation as well as The Dallas Foundation's prosecution of the objection. The fact that The Dallas Foundation settled doesn't open the door to Mr. Dondero to assert objections that he's never asserted before.

I will tell you what will happen. If Your Honor allows this, I will have to call Mr. Dondero and Ms. Deitsch-Perez to the stand to offer evidence under subpoena that they personally acknowledge and understand, because Mr. Dondero's signature is on documents that were signed in the year 2025, that Mr. Patrick is authorized to represent HMIT. I really didn't want to do that. But if they want to pursue it, I'll have to do my job.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. LANG: And I want to clarify one thing.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. LANG: And it goes back to something we already discussed, which is the authority issue is derived from the Cayman Island Joint Liquidators' appointment on May 6th, 2020. And so how that changes the authority, it's -- I think the issue is does he have authority, like Mr. Morris --

THE COURT: All right. Well, before I comment, Mr. Phillips, it's your client representative that we're talking about here. What do you say?

MR. PHILLIPS: Very disappointing, but -- and further revealing the limits of my imagination. There is no objection to authority. There's no evidence of record of objection to authority. There's no evidence even in The Dallas Foundation's papers about authority. Dugaboy did not raise objections to authority. Daugherty did not raise objections to authority. And Mr. Morris was willing to release Ms.

Deitsch-Perez and Mr. Dondero from subpoena in connection with an order that this Court entered that Hunter Mountain objected to. And outside the Court, the evidence will establish, the evidence submitted by Mr. Morris will establish that Hunter Mountain, through authority of Mr. Patrick, objected to Ms. Deitsch-Perez signing on behalf of Hunter Mountain because she did not seek approval and did not have authorization to sign a stipulation before this Court.

Subsequently, after signing the stipulation and entry of the order, we suggested that we would not deal with Ms. Deitsch-Perez, we would only deal with unconflicted counsel, and we dealt with unconflicted counsel to make an agreement with HCLOM and another of Mr. Dondero's entities to avoid filing a motion for reconsideration before this Court based on the fact that, as we have suggested in the motion that we didn't file, Hunter Mountain's approval was not real.

So Mr. Morris has these people under subpoena because we signed an agreement that Mr. Dondero signed to avoid the filing of a motion for reconsideration before this Court, recognizing that Mr. Patrick had authority for Hunter Mountain to sign the agreement. And so that's the purpose of his subpoena.

But our position is there's no suggestion in pleadings by Dugaboy or Daugherty that challenge the authority of Mr. Patrick to execute on behalf of any of the Hunter Mountain entities. And the one party who, without suggesting an evidentiary basis, but that's fine, they say maybe they did have an evidentiary -- we -- and they withdrew their objection.

THE COURT: Okay. Let me --

MR. MORRIS: Okay. I'm sorry. Just really --

THE COURT: Thirty second.

MR. MORRIS: Really quickly.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: The letter that Mr. Lang just referred to from the Joint Official Liquidators, addressed to us, asking for an extension of time, doesn't even challenge Mr. Patrick's authority to act today on behalf of the HMIT entities to enter into the settlement agreement. The Joint Official Liquidators wrote to us last night, and they don't say what Mr. Lang is now saying.

MR. PHILLIPS: And the only thing I would say is we got a letter by email from somebody who says, I am who I am. It came through email PDF. We don't challenge the authority. But we would respectfully request -- we're not there. We've made no appearance. We don't challenge the authority. But please wait -- ask the Court to wait the 45 minutes -- 45 days for us. We got a letter. PDF. We don't know who sent it.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: It wouldn't be admissible even if someone tried to introduce it as evidence.

THE COURT: Okay. Let me just say a few things here. This has felt like a very strange sideshow, I'm going to say. When I read The Foundation's objection, I was, again, scratching my head, who in the heck is Crown Insurance? I know who Dallas Foundation is because there have been charts submitted to me in the past, and I know it's part of the I'm going to say Mr. Phillips' client set over the months, the Charitable Foundation structure. But I'm like, how in the heck do these people have standing? Okay? I have to always consider standing. That's every trial judge's first obligation, does this party have standing? Not a creditor. Not an equity holder. But somehow I guess they're going to explain through evidence how they're a person aggrieved by the proposed settlement.

So that's why I kind of -- hopefully, it doesn't sound flippant -- thought this sounded like a sideshow, because this is a stranger, really, to weigh in.

Okay. So now I'm hearing that a party in interest, which Dugaboy is -- I guess some might argue that, but I think they're affected by the settlement, so that makes them a party in interest -- you're making the same argument. And it's because of a rotation of counsel you didn't make it sooner.

Okay. So I'm just trying to be transparent here, tell you what the Court is thinking. I guess what the Court is thinking is Mark Patrick is the client representative, so I'm told by the Movants on the 9019, and you, Mr. Phillips, he's the party representative for Hunter Mountain.

MR. PHILLIPS: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I don't, I guess, know what harm there is, except a longer hearing, in, okay, put him on the stand to testify about the bona fides of the settlement. It's more evidence. But if you all want to call Mr. Dondero, I'm going to require that.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor?

THE COURT: I mean, as a counterbalance, since it's appearing from the pleadings to be --

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, respectfully, Mr. Patrick is not on their witness list. He's not on our witness list.

THE COURT: Wasn't he on somebody's witness list?

MR. MORRIS: He was on The Dallas Foundation's witness list.

THE COURT: Oh.

MR. MORRIS: He's not on their witness list. He's not on our witness list. He should not testify today because they're raising an issue that they didn't raise ever before. This is improper. They should just be shut down here.

THE COURT: I think probably you should be shut down. But I kind of go back and forth, what's the harm in having the representative, the person I'm told is the representative of Highland?

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor?

THE COURT: I could limit it to one hour. And the flip side is that Dondero himself, as I guess the representative of Dugaboy, would have to also take the stand, limited to one hour.

MR. PHILLIPS: I'd like to make one note, Your Honor, about the documents that Mr. Morris has introduced. That document list -- and I don't have the numbers in front of me -- but part of the presentation and the reason Mr. Patrick is not on the Movants' motion -- witness and exhibit list, the documents that have been introduced are all of -- include all of the documents evidencing Mr. Patrick's authority as the control person of the entire Hunter Mountain group.

THE COURT: Which they've stipulated.

MR. PHILLIPS: Which they've stipulated to.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: And to be clear, Your Honor, they can be found at Exhibits 70 through 104. We've got 34 documents in evidence that establish that Mr. Patrick is authorized to act on behalf of each of the HMIT entities. All that's going to happen is we're now going to spend time dealing with an issue that you already described as a sideshow, and we're going to do it for a party who didn't put Mr. Patrick on a witness list, who hasn't objected on this basis, and we've got a mountain of evidence that shows that he's completely authorized to do this. I just --

MR. PHILLIPS: To which there's no objection.

MR. MORRIS: And you can also look, Your Honor, at Exhibit 69. That's the agreement that Mr. Dondero signed with Mr. Patrick after he got outed for authorizing Ms. Deitsch-Perez to sign a document on behalf of HMIT without Mark Patrick's knowledge or approval. He signed that. Six months ago. And we're going to have a trial here over whether Mark Patrick is authorized to act on behalf of HMIT?

A VOICE: That was long ago.

MR. MORRIS: This is not -- this is not --

THE COURT: We're not going to have a trial. And I fully acknowledge that I am possibly abusing discretion by allowing this. We have our rules, and our rules were not complied with, and it does feel a little bit like ambush. Okay?

But on the flip side of it, it doesn't seem entirely unreasonable to have the representative, the purported representative of Hunter Mountain, who is the counterparty, if you will, to this very major settlement, take the stand. And I'll limit it. And, again, I condition it on Mr. Dondero, the ultimate beneficiary of the Dugaboy Trust, as it's been represented to me in prior filings, --

MR. MORRIS: Correct.

THE COURT: -- he'll have to stay an equal amount of time on the stand. Okay?

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: Okay. Hang on. I've got my smarter staff member handing me a note. Okay.

(Pause.)

THE COURT: Okay. Well, so that's how we're going to stand.

Now, I am going to address Mr. Daugherty here. We're not going to let Mr. Daugherty cross-examine Patrick. Clearly, his objection has been around, and he never said anything about --

MR. YORK: Certainly not as to authority. However, we should be able to examine him as it relates to the portion of the objection that goes to whether the settlement is in the best interest, given the claims that are being -- the Kirschner claims that are being transferred by Highland to the HMIT entities.

THE COURT: All right. Well, you all are going to have to share your 30 minutes.

MR. YORK: That's fine.

THE COURT: Okay? We're giving 30 minutes to Debtor entities, Highland entities, and Hunter Mountain entities collectively, and 30 minutes to Dugaboy and Daugherty collectively. Okay? So, I'm going to have my law clerk timing you like you're on the clock.

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: Okay?

MR. MORRIS: May I proceed?

THE COURT: You may proceed.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor. So, appearing at Docket 4255 is the Movants' exhibit list, with Exhibits 1 through 123. At Docket 4277 are Exhibits 124 and 125. And at Docket 4280, we've got Exhibit 126.

The Movants respectfully move into evidence all of those documents, with the exception of Exhibits 124 and 125 on Docket No. 4277. Those are the transcripts of The Dallas Foundation representatives, and since we have reached an agreement and The Dallas Foundation has withdrawn their objection, we are not going to offer those two transcripts into evidence as part of the record in this matter.

But Exhibits 1 through 123, and Exhibit 126, we move into evidence.

THE COURT: All right. And as I thought we were going to start talking about a moment ago, Mr. Lang objected to 11 of these 123 designations. Do those still remain? If they do, we're just going to see if they want to be I think offered --

MR. LANG: No, I think we've --

THE COURT: -- the old-fashioned way, but I think that might be more efficient. I have, in your objection, which is at Docket 4273, you objected to Numbers 10, 12, 13, 57 and 59, and then 64 through 69. Eleven items.

MR. LANG: Mr. Morris clarified that 12 and 13 are one document. But I still, I think that, again, for purposes of the authority issue, Exhibit 13 we don't think is relevant.

MR. MORRIS: Exhibit 13, Your Honor. We'll just take them one at a time.

THE COURT: Yes, go ahead and address it.

MR. MORRIS: Is relevant because it's simply a document that was provided to Highland by Hunter Mountain as part of the negotiations. And we've been asked to produce all of the documents related to the negotiations. This is one of the documents that we received.

THE COURT: Okay. And do I understand 12 and 13 are actually the same thing, or --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah. Well, 12 is the email, 13 is the attachment.

THE COURT: Okay. I overrule the relevance objection. Those will be admitted.

(Claimant Trust's Exhibits 12 and 13 are admitted into evidence.)

MR. LANG: 57.

MR. MORRIS: 57 is also a part of the settlement documents. It's, I think, an email exchange between Mr. Seery and UBS, which was one of the Class 9 claimants, and we had to obtain their consent and that's part of the process of getting to the settlement agreement.

MR. LANG: I think the objection is it doesn't include the attachment.

MR. MORRIS: It's got all -- it's got numerous attachments on it.

MR. LANG: To 57?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

MR. LANG: Mine did not.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, we'll withdraw the exhibit.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: 59. Well, you didn't address #10.

MR. LANG: Oh, sorry.

THE COURT: That was the first one.

MR. LANG: Yeah.

MR. MORRIS: We'll withdraw #10.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: So, 59?

MR. MORRIS: 59? Your Honor, I'm not surprised they object, because it's at the core of the Court's ability to authorize this settlement.

MR. LANG: We withdrew that.

MR. MORRIS: Oh, you withdrew that?

MR. LANG: Withdrew.

MR. MORRIS: Oh, okay. They withdrew that.

THE COURT: Okay. So, 59 will be admitted.

(Claimant Trust's Exhibit 59 is admitted into evidence.)

MR. MORRIS: And then I think the last is 64 to 69.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: We were actually prepared to withdraw those exhibits because we didn't think there was a challenge to authority. Now that there's a challenge to authority, we're going to offer all of those in because they're highly relevant to the acknowledge of Mr. Patrick's authority.

THE COURT: All right. And your objection was solely to relevance?

MR. LANG: The objection was relevance because they predate the May 6th issue in the Caymans, which is what caused the entire structure to -- the authority from the top down to be questioned.

THE COURT: All right. Well, you can cross-examine if you want on those items.

MR. LANG: Okay.

THE COURT: But I find they're relevant so they will be admitted, 64 through 69.

[Court Edit: Claimant Trust's Exhibits 1 through 9, 11 through 56, 58 through 123, and 126 are admitted into evidence.]

THE COURT: All right. And as far as the exhibits of Dugaboy, I think it was just the plan and settlement agreement were all that had been designated. Correct?

MR. LANG: Yes.

MR. MORRIS: No objection.

THE COURT: So, no objection. Those will be admitted.

(Dugaboy Investment Trust's exhibits are admitted into evidence.)

THE COURT: And Daugherty's exhibits?

MR. YORK: Yes, Your Honor. So, Mr. Morris and I conferred yesterday about both sides' exhibits. And my understanding is we've reached an agreement that both sides' exhibits are not objected to. And so therefore we'd move to admit Daugherty's as well.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. YORK: 1 through 42, I believe, it is.

THE COURT: All right. So you confirm?

MR. MORRIS: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. The Court will admit all of Daugherty's 1 through 42, and they appear at Docket Entry 4266.

(Patrick Daugherty's Exhibits 1 through 42 are admitted into evidence.)

THE COURT: All right. Opening statements.

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE CLAIMANT TRUST

MR. MORRIS: All right. Good morning, Your Honor. John Morris; Pachulski Stang Ziehl & Jones; for Highland Capital Management, LP and the Highland Claimant Trust.

If we can go to the first slide, Your Honor. This is a 9019 motion. It's not a terribly high bar. What the Movant has to show here is that the settlement agreement was the product of arm's-length, good-faith negotiations, and effectively that it's in the best interests of its stakeholders.

THE COURT: Did you want this put on the screen, or does everyone have a hard copy?

MR. MORRIS: Counsel have a hard copy.

THE COURT: Oh, okay.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah. The evidence is going to show, and there really is no dispute, that the settlement agreement is the product of arm's-length, good-faith negotiations. Mr. Seery is going to testify that the negotiations began in late March and they concluded on May 19th. Exhibits 2 through 57, with the exception of the one or two I just withdrew, reflect the parties' negotiations. Mr. Seery is going to testify that the negotiations were conducted by Zoom, by phone call, there was one in-person meeting, there was many, many email exchanges that are reflected in the exhibits.

Mr. Seery is going to testify about the substance of the negotiations at a high level. Originally, we had sought to have one agreement with Hunter Mountain and the DAF entities. Mr. Patrick was not comfortable with that. He wanted to run them separately. And there was a DAF agreement that was ultimately entered into but that nobody believed required court approval.

So, once that got completed and one of the Fifth Circuit appeals got dismissed as a result, we moved to the Hunter Mountain discussions. Those discussions were robust. There were issues about the timing of the effectiveness of certain of the benefits under the proposed agreement. Highland wanted the releases, for example, to be effective upon signing. Mr. Patrick was unwilling to agree to anything without this Court's approval.

So there were changes that were made over time in terms of the timing of the transfer of the consideration. There were discussions and negotiations and bids and asks about the amounts that would be paid, when they would be paid, the circumstances under -- that they would be paid. There was an enormous amount of information that was exchanged pursuant to a confidentiality agreement that now became public because it's relevant to the Debtors' burden or the Claimant Trust's burden to carry the day here.

That information included claims information, the trust agreement itself, budgets, asset/liability valuation information, forecasted expenses, because HMIT rightly wondered, you know, what's going to happen to the money? Is it going to be gone before it got its agreed-upon share? So, you know, there will be, I think, indisputable evidence at the end of the day that the settlement is the product of arm's-length, good-faith negotiations.

If we move to the next slide, the evidence will also show that the proposed settlement is indisputably in the best interest of the Highland entities and their stakeholders. Upon court approval, all of the pending litigation that Your Honor identified earlier will be dismissed with prejudice, thereby greatly reducing litigation risk and attendant costs.

The stakeholders will also benefit from the allowance of the HMIT claim at a fixed amount of $337 million. And we will explain -- Mr. Seery will explain to the Court how that number was arrived at.

The estates and their stakeholders will also benefit because, under the proposed settlement, as I indicated earlier, Highland will be able to monetize or otherwise dispose of a number of illiquid assets, including the Dugaboy Note and the estate claims in the Kirschner Litigation. And perhaps most importantly to the estate, we are getting very, very broad what we refer to as litigation protections from all of the Hunter Mountain entities. It includes not only a release but a covenant not to sue as well as, you know, we could go through it, but -- but we believe that even if Mr. Dondero or somebody else obtains control of Hunter Mountain, unless somebody sets aside this agreement, those protections are going to inure to the benefit of the Trusts, the Indemnity Trust and all of its stakeholders until the end of time, and nobody is ever going to be able to set this agreement aside because it was negotiated in good faith, it was the product of arm's-length negotiations, and it's fair and reasonable to both sides.

So those litigation protections are paramount and they provide another indicator of the benefits that the Claimant Trust is going to receive.

The next slide, Your Honor, is a demonstrative exhibit, although, as always, we have citations to the very specific documents that are now in the record. Mr. Seery will describe for you at a high level how the allowed claim of HMIT was calculated, and it's really just based on the limited partners' capital accounts as of the petition date. And I'll just leave it at that for the moment. There's no magic to it. It's objectively reasonable. It's mathematics. There's really no subjectivity that I'm aware of that goes into this. It's just, hey, let's look at the tax returns, let's look at the financial statements, and let's look at the partnership agreement, and let's see how the capital account was structured as of the petition date. And that's how you get to, really, $396 million less the amount of the Dugaboy Note. I mean, the HMIT note.

The next slide. With the settlement, the transfer of the Kirschner Litigation is in the best interests of the Movants. I think Mr. Daugherty somehow suggests that really the best thing to do would be to prosecute that litigation. We respectfully disagree. In the Debtors' business -- in the Claimant Trust's business judgment, that would be exactly the wrong thing to do when you are settling with HMIT.

And why is that? When we commenced the Kirschner Litigation a number of years ago, the Kirschner Litigation represented a potential source of funding for indemnification expenses, and at that time, for the payment in full to creditors.

By 2023, 2024, with the success of the Highland team's monetization of assets, the need to pursue and monetize the Kirschner claims became less clear, so we put it on ice. And we voluntarily stayed the litigation to conserve resources.

The settlement with HMIT changes everything. The claims are as valid today as they were yesterday, as they were before we signed the agreement, as they were when we commenced the action. But they have very different value to Highland when you're settling with HMIT. And that's why we're prepared to transfer the claims today.

Why? Because at this point, unlike when we commenced the action, Class 8 has been paid in full except for Mr. Daugherty's fully-reserved claim, right, in an amount that he agreed to for years and that he ratified and reaffirmed three different times in three different stipulations. That's the only thing that remains in Class 8.

THE COURT: And remind me of the dollar amounts on reserve.

MR. MORRIS: It's approximately $2.5 million. I can --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: It's -- the dollar amount is specifically set forth --

(Pause.)

MR. MORRIS: It would be, I believe, in Exhibit 60, --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: -- is the original tolling agreement. And in Paragraph 1 it has the very specific dollar amount. And then in Exhibits 62, 63 -- 61, 62, and 63, those are amendments to the tolling agreement that fully incorporated the original tolling agreement, including the reserve amount. So that amount has been there for years. Nobody has ever said anything about it. Nobody has ever tried to adjust it. Nobody has ever identified a change in circumstances that would suggest a change was appropriate. But here we are.

So, why is it different and why does the Kirschner Litigation not have so much value to us when we're settling with Class 11? Because Class 8 has been paid in full. Class 9 has been paid 80 percent. If the HMIT settlement is approved, it will receive another 10 percent. So that all that remains is 10 percent of the Class 9s.

And most importantly, Your Honor, with the settlement with HMIT and the Claimant Trust's receipt of the litigation protections, the need for indemnification expenses is going to be greatly reduced. We can give the money where it belongs because all we'll have left is Mr. Dondero and Dugaboy. It really will literally be the only thing. And we need a lot to deal with that, but not as much as we needed when we had to deal with them and HMIT.

And at the end of the day, once you're settling with HMIT, prosecution of the claims would only benefit HMIT, so why should we undertake the expense of doing that?

Is that clear to Your Honor?

THE COURT: It is.

MR. MORRIS: It is? So, it's -- this has nothing to do -- and you're going to hear questions of Mr. Seery, did you value the Kirschner claims? Are you giving them away for free? No, we didn't value them, because once you're settling with HMIT it doesn't really matter. Once you have the litigation protections, once you know that HMIT is never going to be an adversary of yours, the monetization of the Kirschner claims would insure to their benefit because they will have an allowed claim of $330 million. So even if we sued and even if we got a hundred million dollars, that's going to go to them. Why would we pick up the tab today? A very different scenario than when we prosecuted the case, when the case was commenced.

So, really, really, in the estate's best interest to get value for those claims. The value is reflected in the totality of the agreement. The Court really should look at the body of the consideration that's being received, including the litigation protections.

If we can go to the next slide, Your Honor. As long as we're on the topic of Mr. Patrick's authority, Mr. Seery is going to testify to the work that he did to satisfy himself that Mr. Patrick was duly authorized to act on behalf of each of the HMIT entities in this case.

The next slide here shows an excerpt from the Hunter Mountain Trust Agreement. It's Paragraph 7. And it says, among other things, the Administrator -- who is Mark Patrick -- shall be duly authorized, from time to time, in his sole discretion, to manage the business and affairs of the Trust.

It continues by saying that the Administrator, Mr.

Patrick, shall also have the power to settle, compromise, submit to arbitration, or to submit to any court having jurisdiction in any matter, any matters that are in dispute.

So, you know, this is just one document. It's the Hunter Mountain document. We focus on the Hunter Mountain document because that's the only one of the HMIT entities that has a stake in the Claimant Trust. But, again, Your Honor, if you just -- Mr. Seery will, at a high level, confirm that Exhibits 70 through 104 are documents that definitively establish that Mr. Patrick has the authority to enter into each of these agreements on behalf of the HMIT entities.

Not only that, but he will describe, if asked by you or anybody cross-examining him, why nobody has the ability to interfere with the effectuation of his authority. He doesn't have to get anybody's consent. He doesn't have to -- right? This is all just crystal clear. And whatever entity far up the chain may exist, Your Honor should just think of as a shareholder. And if Coca-Cola came in here and they wanted to do a 9019 motion, a shareholder can't come in and stop Coca-Cola from doing that. If they don't like what Coca-Cola is doing, go file a derivative suit. Go sue Coca-Cola in another court at another time. Not that I'm inviting litigation against Mr. Patrick, but by analogy, this is what we're talking about.

There is no restriction on Mr. Patrick's authority. The settlement is fair and reasonable. He has authority under the governing documents to do what he has done here, and that is act in the best interests of the HMIT entities. And so this is just one page. Mr. Seery will explain, you know, just the work that he's done to satisfy himself.

The next slide, Your Honor, there's objections about how somehow the settlement agreement violates the plan or the absolute priority rule, all of that. It's not accurate. I'll just leave it at that in terms of how I characterize it.

The next slide is excerpts of -- I think it's the plan of reorganization, Your Honor. And I think we admitted the plan last night. That's Exhibit 126. And they're -- these excerpts are really important because what they show is that Classes 9 and 10 have the indisputable right to accept less favorable treatment. And that's what they've done. Okay? And I think it's Article III, Section H, Subparts 9 and 10. Holders of Class 9 and 10 interests have the right to accept less favorable treatment.

And if we can go to the next slide, I'll just briefly describe the less favorable treatment that these stakeholders have in fact accepted. As permitted by the plan, holders of Class 9 claims consented to the payment in full of Mr. Daugherty's Class 9 claim and the Class 10 distributions, in accordance with the settlement agreement, before their Class 9 claim is paid in full.

And that's Exhibit 59. It may be among the most important documents that have been admitted this morning. Exhibit 59 is the consent of the Class 9 holders other than Mr. Daugherty to accept lesser treatment.

So there's no violation of the plan at all. HMIT is also accepting less favorable treatment than it might otherwise be entitled to if it ever successfully prosecuted its claim. It has less favorable treatment because it's agreeing that it's not a Claimant Trust beneficiary, that its rights are limited to the rights that are given to it under the settlement agreement and nowhere else. It's accepting less favorable treatment because it's agreeing that the Highland entities owe no duty of any kind to any HMIT entity except as provided for in the settlement agreement. It's accepting restrictions on its ability to transfer its Class 10 interests -- more less-favorable treatment -- as a condition to the first and second distributions. They have agreed that they are subject to Mr. Seery's determination that the Highland entities are not at that time under any Threat. "Threat" is a defined term, and it has to do with litigation.

And so if Mr. Seery, in his sole discretion, believes that he needs to conserve resources because he remains years in the future under threat of litigation, he's not going to make the payments to HMIT, and HMIT is okay with that because they understand.

And, of course, in the end, they're accepting less favorable treatment because they're granting to the Claimant Trust the litigation protections.

All stakeholders have been paid in full except for the 10 percent of Class 9 and Mr. Daugherty's Class 8 claim. That claim is the subject of an objection, and as I just walked Your Honor through, it has been fully reserved in an agreed-upon amount for years.

There was some questioning during Mr. Seery's -- one of Mr. Seery's I think three depositions in the last week -- about why he didn't offer Mr. Daugherty the same treatment that he offered to the other Class 9 holders because Mr. Daugherty had about an $800,000 Class 9 claim. Your Honor will see in Exhibit 58 that that claim was paid in full, and Mr. Seery will explain that he found negotiating with Mr. Patrick to be difficult, number one. And number two, it was an amount of money that the estate could afford. And so the other Class 9 claims are substantially bigger, so rather than going through the process of attempting to negotiate with Mr. Daugherty, he just paid it in full. The Claimant Trust had every right to do that. And Mr. Daugherty should not be heard to complain that he actually got everything that he could have ever been entitled to.

THE COURT: And --

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh?

THE COURT: I don't mean to get you off-track.

MR. MORRIS: That's all right.

THE COURT: But Class 9 claimants, I'm trying to remember who else was in that class. Was it a UBS --

MR. MORRIS: UBS.

THE COURT: -- claim?

MR. MORRIS: Exactly right.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And then affiliates of Stonehill and Farallon.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Because they had purchased --

THE COURT: They had Class 9 --

MR. MORRIS: They had purchased originally I think it was Josh Terry, and the Redeemer Committee may have had a piece. No, no. No, no, no. HarbourVest. HarbourVest had a piece. Right? So, HarbourVest sold their claim, including the Class 9 claim. Josh Terry sold his claim, including his Class 9 claim. Then there's UBS, who still holds a piece of their claim, and Mr. Daugherty. So, UBS, if you look at Exhibit 59, you'll see the signatures of UBS and the affiliates of Stonehill and Farallon, who all agreed to accept lesser treatment.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: So, at the end of the day, Your Honor, the last slide is a slide that I didn't intend to present, frankly, because I didn't ever believe that there was going to be a challenge to authority by anybody other than The Dallas Foundation. But as long as we have it attached, we might as well see it.

As you can see, Your Honor, in the lower right-hand corner, you can see Hunter Mountain is owned by Beacon Mountain, which is owned by CLO Holdco. Like, there is no -- and Mr. Patrick controls it. And it's really on the other side of the ledger, in the DAF house, so to speak, that any of The Dallas Foundation got interested.

Dugaboy is not even on here, by the way. Like, Dugaboy is nobody. The people in here who are now going to challenge the authority of Mr. Patrick, no, not on here. And they're going to do it, they're going to do it without ever having given us notice.

I know Your Honor made your ruling and we'll deal with it, but I don't know if Your Honor was aware of this: They're not on here.

Your Honor, at the end of the day, this is a really, really easy call to make from our perspective. We have been waiting for this moment for years. Finally, a responsible person understands that the way to preserve value is to put the sword down.

Mr. Patrick, I don't know what happened between him and

Mr. Dondero. I don't care. I have no knowledge of that. But clearly he is exercising independence. And that's why we're here, because we finally have somebody who says, you know what, give me everything I can possibly get and I will stop fighting. I wish other people would say that, because then this case would be over. Then the case would really be over.

But getting to a settlement with the Class 10 interest holder who is going to have an allowed claim of $337 million, such that any value in the future is going to go to HMIT, I hope that that -- you know, this is an easy call to make, Your Honor.

I have nothing further at this time, but I look forward to putting Mr. Seery on the stand and making sure that Your Honor has, you know, an adequate, sufficient, overwhelming basis, frankly, to approve this motion.

THE COURT: Okay. I don't mean to stifle you, but --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- anything more for an opening statement? Mr. Phillips, I'm doing friendlies and then friendlies.

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE HUNTER MOUNTAIN ENTITIES

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, just briefly. Louis M. Phillips on behalf of the Hunter Mountain entities.

We fully embrace and concur with everything that Mr. Morris has told the Court. From our perspective, and the reason that -- and you'll see, the documents include all of the back and forth -- we required the Court approval before the effectiveness of any releases, litigation protections, et cetera, for exactly the reason that we needed the Class 9 to agree. And we obtained -- the Highland entities obtained the approval of the Class 9 creditors to our treatment, and I think that the bona fides of this settlement and the value of the settlement and our -- what we are giving in the settlement is, I think, established beyond even the slightest bit of question by the fact that the Class 9 creditors and the Oversight Board of the Claimant Trust all agreed that it was important enough to the estate to get this settlement with Hunter Mountain Investment Trust that they agreed to allow Hunter Mountain Investment Trust to receive the money set forth in the settlement upon the approval. And we have agreed that, notwithstanding appeal rights of some people who really don't have the right to be here, but that's going to be determined by Your Honor, we're not worried about that. We are giving our releases. And the releases are effective upon approval by this Court. We are not requiring any type of final unappealable order that doesn't -- that waits for years before the releases are effective.

Very importantly, it seems to me, from Your Honor's perspective, and I'm reluctant to suggest that I know about that, but our releases are given upon the approval by this Court of the settlement. They're not -- if the settlement is reversed on appeal, our releases stay.

So the Class 9s that are above the Class 10 have voted, and they have approved, and Mr. Seery is going to testify about that. And we think that in and of itself is a monumental accomplishment. And we appreciate everything Mr. Morris has said. We agree with everything Mr. Morris has said. We agree with everything Mr. Morris has said about the absence of true objection. We agree with everything Mr. Morris has said about the fallacy of suggesting that Mr. Seery had to value the Hunter Mountain -- the Kirschner Litigation proceeds, of which would come to us.

The idea that we need to worry about how much Mr. Dondero entities can pay in connection with the Kirschner Litigation so that we could value the Kirschner Litigation based on what Mr. Dondero can pay, so that to suffice with an objection by Dugaboy maybe that there was no value given. I mean, that's all backwards. Value was given as described by Mr. Morris and will be established by the evidence submitted by Mr. Seery's testimony and the documents that are already in evidence.

And that is it from our standpoint, Your Honor. Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you. All right. I'll hear from the Objectors. Daugherty's counsel, are you going to go first?

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF PATRICK DAUGHERTY

MR. YORK: Thank you, Your Honor. If I may approach.

THE COURT: You may.

MR. YORK: Good morning, Your Honor. Drew York on behalf of Mr. Daugherty.

We're here today regarding the 9019 and Mr. Daugherty's objection. The 9019 motion should be denied. If you turn to the third slide in there, we say that Highland -- Highland, I'm referring to Highland collectively for the Movants -- attempts to put the cart before the horse. So really what's going on here, Your Honor, is we're just asking the Court to follow the rules of the road that it set forth in the plan, the confirmation order, and, frankly, even Highland to follow the terms of the settlement agreement it entered into with Mr. Daugherty.

None of that is happening here as a result of this proposed settlement that's being presented to you today for consideration.

The first problem with the motion and the proposed settlement is that it violates the absolute priority rule, it violates the express terms of the Court's plan, the confirmation order, as well as the Claimant Trust Agreement, because it attempts to fund the contingent Class 10 claims without first resolving, let alone satisfying, Mr. Daugherty's remaining Class 8 claim.

And then, secondly, the settlement agreement does not satisfy the Jackson Brewing factors because it prioritizes the HMIT insiders over the estate creditors, including Mr. Daugherty, and it forfeits potential recovery that would go to the benefit of those to creditors to appease litigation pressure.

So, first, I'm going to talk about why the settlement violates the plan, the confirmation order, and the Trust Agreement.

As everyone is aware, the HMIT entities are asserting a Class 10 claim.

If you turn to the next page, as Mr. Morris has acknowledged and admitted here today, Mr. Daugherty has a remaining Class 8 claim. And, importantly, Your Honor, because Mr. Morris and Highland continue to argue that that claim is fully reserved, I would point out that in the settlement agreement between Mr. Daugherty and Highland the parties characterized that claim as a contingent unliquidated claim. A contingent unliquidated claim. And in fact, they went so far, Highland did, in its adversary complaint on the next slide, Your Honor, to again refer to it as an unliquidated and contingent claim that is dependent on the final outcome of the 2008 audit, including the magnitude of any adjustments.

And so Highland cannot come into this courtroom and on the one hand argue that that claim is fully reserved, and at the same time admit that it is a contingent unliquidated claim that is subject to a myriad of adjustments depending upon the outcome of that audit.

And in reality, when you look at the tolling agreement, there is nothing that the parties said that that was a fully reserved claim at all. That's simply not what they agreed to. They just simply put a number in there, which was put into the reserve account at the time. But it did not constitute a fully reserved claim at all.

Nor has Highland pointed to anything -- in the plan, the confirmation order, or the Claimant Trust Agreement -- that allows Highland to come in and violate those documents by simply saying that we fully reserved for Mr. Daugherty's claim.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, we're going to hear the evidence, but as I understood it, it was an agreed reserved amount. And I asked earlier, was it $2.5 million or -- I feel like it was an agreed amount plus even some interest, acknowledging there might be time. I don't remember every detail from this case, but I'm just telling you that's what my memory is. Am I correct?

MR. YORK: The --

THE COURT: Mr. Daugherty agreed, here's what we'll agree is enough to set aside for our ultimately potentially allowed claim, x amount plus interest? Can you confirm?

MR. YORK: What the tolling agreement provides is that Mr. Daugherty agreed to provide the tolling of the objection deadline. Okay. And Highland then agreed to put $2.56 million into the reserve.

And what the footnote says in the tolling agreement, Exhibit 60, is that the estimated amount of that claim as of -- and let's be clear about this -- as of October 23rd of 2020, was $2.56 million and change. And that's it. And I'm happy to have my colleague, Mr. Smeltzer, who is a tax attorney and deals with these issues all the time, can come up and explain why, at the end of the day, this is still a contingent unliquidated claim and it's subject to a myriad of factors that make it that that amount that Highland has set aside is not necessarily going to be a fully-reserved amount.

That is why the parties have -- had called it both in the settlement agreement and the tolling agreement, and Highland has continued to call it -- characterize it in its adversary complaint as a contingent unliquidated claim. So --

THE COURT: Okay. It's hard to wrap my brain around it. It's a claim that I understood really couldn't be liquidated with certainty until this potential audit of 2008 is final, and there was some discussion of how close to it being final was it. But I guess -- well, I don't know where I'm going here except to say this could be a contingent unliquidated claim for a -- you know, it's already, what, 17 years?

MR. YORK: Based -- from when the tax return was filed? I think that's correct, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, this is what the adversary is about, right? I guess they're finally saying it should be estimated, liquidated, pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code and we'll be done.

MR. YORK: Correct. In violation of the terms of the settlement agreement between Mr. Daugherty and Highland. Yes, that's --

THE COURT: Wait. Wait. What?

MR. YORK: So, the settlement agreement between Daugherty and Mr. Highland provides --

THE COURT: Mr. Highland?

MR. YORK: I'm sorry. I apologize. Between Mr. Daugherty and Highland --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. YORK: -- provides that the -- as long as the IRS audit has not had a final -- there's not a final determination, --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. YORK: -- then any litigation concerning the validity or the amount of Mr. Daugherty's claim is stayed and cannot be brought before the Court. And that's exactly what their adversary complaint did, which is -- because they admit in their adversary complaint --

THE COURT: Well, okay. I won't pursue this anymore. But what's an estate to do? They're getting criticized for the Trust going on too long. Not by your client, but -- and meanwhile you want, I mean, 2032, are we still going to be waiting on the IRS?

MR. YORK: I don't know because we don't have any insight into what the IRS audit is.

THE COURT: Well, it's been 17 years.

MR. YORK: I understand, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So, --

MR. YORK: But the bottom line is this. The plan -- that Highland entered into the terms of that settlement agreement.

THE COURT: I'm going to say it right now. I'm not keeping this estate open until 2032. I just, I was --

MR. YORK: I presume that --

THE COURT: -- kind of flippantly throwing that out there.

MR. YORK: And --

THE COURT: But this happens in bankruptcy cases a lot, where you've got a contingent unliquidated claim, and there are provisions in the Bankruptcy Code to say what can be done in that scenario. The Court can estimate or liquidate.

MR. YORK: Understood. Your point to me was -- before was that's why Highland brought the adversary complaint, and I was simply pointing out that, pursuant to the express terms of the agreement that Highland reached with Mr. Daugherty, Highland was -- is not allowed to bring the adversary complaint to challenge the validity or amount of Mr. Daugherty's claim so long as the IRS audit has not been -- had a final determination. That's exactly what's going on here with the adversary complaint that they have filed.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. YORK: Okay. So I think Your Honor is familiar with the terms of the plan, the Fifth Amended Plan and the subordination. But specifically we have two issues. One begins with the Claimant Trust Agreement in Section 5.1(c), which provides that the equity holders shall not have any rights under the agreement unless and until the Claimant Trustee files with the Bankruptcy Court a certification that all of general unsecured creditor beneficiaries have been paid indefeasibly, in full, including, to the extent applicable, all accrued and unpaid postpetition interest, consistent with the plan, and all disputed claims have been resolved.

That has not happened here and it cannot happen because, for one, Mr. Daugherty's unresolved Class 8 claim, and also the remaining Class 9 claims, as I think you'll hear from Mr. Seery. And so there are no rights that can be given to the HMIT entities pursuant to -- as a Class 10 holder, an allowed Class 10 holder, pursuant to the Claimant Trust Agreement. So the proposed settlement violates the Claimant Trust Agreement's express terms.

It also violates the Court's confirmation order that was entered at -- specifically on Page 45 of the order, in Subparagraph (a): The holders of the equity interests -- which would be the Class 10 and Class 11 equity interests -- that are junior to the claims in Class 8 and Class 9 will not receive or retain under the plan, on account of such junior claim interest, any property, unless and until the claims -- the claims, not the allowed claims, but the claims -- in Class 8 and Class 9 are paid in full, plus applicable interest.

That's exactly what the settlement that is proposed here is designed to do.

And if you turn two pages in, you'll see that in addition to the assignment of the Kirschner claims, what we're also having under this proposed settlement are interim cash distributions that would be made to the HMIT entities, interim cash distributions that theoretically could be made before the resolution of Mr. Daugherty's Class 8 claim, which would be in violation of the plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement, and the confirmation order.

And that is, as best as they put in their agreement, that's approximately $23 million in cash that would be paid out theoretically in those interim distributions.

One of the things that Mr. Morris said in his opening was that they did not -- Mr. Seery did not negotiate with Mr. Daugherty because he was difficult to deal with. Well, that's surprising, Your Honor, considering, on the other hand, Mr. Morris says to the Court that there were repeated tolling agreements or amendments to the tolling agreement that were entered into by Mr. Daugherty willingly and voluntarily to benefit Highland.

And what really happened when Mr. Morris says that there were good-faith arm's-length negotiations, well, there may have been good-faith, arm's-length negotiations between the HMIT entities and Highland, but what happened here was that Highland actually sought to ice out Mr. Daugherty from all of this completely.

And how did that happen? Well, the evidence is going to show that Highland reached out to the other Class 9 creditors over a month in advance of the motion being filed, sought their consent to the proposed settlement, told them that Mr. Daugherty was not going to be a part of it, told them that Mr. Daugherty's Class 8 claim was going to have an adversary complaint filed against it, told them that once that adversary complaint was granted and the claim was disallowed, then those funds would waterfall down to Class 9, so the Class 9 creditors would get that -- those funds that theoretically are part of Mr. Daugherty's Class 8 claim.

So at no point in time prior to the filing of the adversary proceeding, or even prior to the filing of the motion for approval of this proposed settlement, did Highland ever contact Mr. Daugherty to attempt to discuss any of this, because they simply wanted to ice him out.

THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to hear evidence. I don't mean to cut you off, but --

MR. YORK: Sure.

THE COURT: -- I was told that Mr. Daugherty was paid $800,000 --

MR. YORK: With respect to his --

THE COURT: -- on his Class 9 claim.

MR. YORK: Correct.

THE COURT: Is that not true?

MR. YORK: So, the day --

THE COURT: Is that true?

MR. YORK: It is true. The day after the motion for entry of the proposed settlement was filed, Mr. Demo sent a letter to my office that was a payoff --

THE COURT: I just wanted to -- I don't need to know every detail.

MR. YORK: Yes. Sure.

THE COURT: Has he been paid?

MR. YORK: His Class 9 claim was paid in full the day after the proposed settlement was filed.

THE COURT: Okay. So what is the asserted amount of his Class 8 claim?

MR. YORK: We -- again, both sides do not know because they do not have --

THE COURT: What was the asserted amount in the proof of claim that's been reserved for, the Class 8 proof of claim? What was the asserted amount?

MR. YORK: It was listed as contingent unliquidated. And as I understood it, and Your Honor --

MR. MORRIS: No. I think it's approximately $1.7 million, Your Honor.

MR. DAUGHERTY: That's not true.

THE COURT: $1.7 million?

MR. DAUGHERTY: No.

THE COURT: I would look it up, but I don't know if we --

MR. DAUGHERTY: Your Honor, I'll tell you. It was like $1.45 million, and then the interest to October, which was like another $1.3 million. I'm estimating it. But the total is around $2.6 million, $2.7 million at October/November 2020. Up to that point.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, that's kind of a weird process here for an opening statement. But I'm asking because, you know, I always try to stray people into let's be pragmatic whenever I can. And a pragmatic approach here might have been, if your client didn't think the reserve was big enough, you all could have a discussion about, oh, instead of $2.56 million, it now should, I don't know, $3 million, whatever you say the number is. And there could have been a give and take, instead of all these people showing up in the court and having an all-day hearing.

So I'm just trying to understand that. And you're saying, okay, violation of the absolute priority, when your client took a full payment on his Class 9 claim without Class 8 being quite paid in full. I'm just trying to be pragmatic here. What would it take to make Mr. Daugherty happy? Again, that's just the bankruptcy judge speaking on Chapter 11 world that's trying to get to a pragmatic result.

MR. YORK: We're happy to have that discussion with the other side. We were -- we --

THE COURT: Well, what --

MR. YORK: Yes.

THE COURT: You can't tell me right now? You're here ready to go to battle over this settlement, and I'm trying to figure out what might happen here that would make you all withdraw your objection. And that's what we do in Chapter 11. If there's a way we can pragmatically resolve things, we do.

MR. YORK: Sure.

THE COURT: And it just, I'm picking on you because we're talking about a $2.5 or so million claim in a situation where people are wanting the estate wrapped up and it's holding hundreds of millions of dollars, I guess.

MR. MORRIS: Not that much, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Not that much anymore. Not that much anymore. A lot has been paid out. But a lot more than $2.56 million, shall we say.

MR. YORK: Understood, Your Honor. And I'm happy to have a conversation with Mr. Morris and see if we can reach a number that's agreeable to accept as, you know, the reserve.

THE COURT: How hard could that be? I don't mean to be --

MR. YORK: Happy to do so. Sure.

THE COURT: How hard could that be, when we're talking about he's been paid $800,000 on his Class 9 ahead of his Class 8, which, to understand your argument, would be an absolute priority rule problem. But, you know, --

MR. YORK: Correct. We indicated that --

THE COURT: -- no picking and choosing what is problematic here. And we're talking about $2.56 million is set aside, and we're talking about the prospect of liquidating it and paying whatever is appropriate way before the IRS is finished. Maybe. I don't know. So how hard could it be to figure out --

MR. YORK: I'm sure we can -- we can have a conversation real quick and try to see if we can --

THE COURT: Okay. Well, it'll have to be during a break, --

MR. YORK: Sure. Happy to.

THE COURT: -- because we're plowing ahead. Okay. Anything else on your opening statement?

MR. YORK: The only other thing I would point out with respect to the best interests of the estate is that the -- as part of the settlement, the Class 9 holders and the Class 10 holders are actually getting more favorable treatment than Mr. Daugherty's Class 8 claim because of the mutual releases that they're getting pursuant to the terms of the proposed settlement, including the fact that the Class 9 written consent holders who are all -- all have served on the board here are getting those releases as well under the proposed settlement.

THE COURT: It's not a release by your client.

MR. YORK: No, I understand that. I understand that. But they're getting mutual releases from each other on litigation that Highland has -- the Claimant Trust, excuse me, has -- Trustee has, you know, consistently said that they had all of those parties, all of those defendants, dead to rights on.

So, that's all I have.

THE COURT: Okay. I really, I'm trying to focus on people's standing. Your client has standing. He has a proof of claim that's unresolved. But I'm just trying to understand the economic impact, I guess, on your client. And all I'm hearing is, I don't know, that maybe he thinks more than $2.56 million ought to be reserved. I mean, I'm --

MR. YORK: Given the passage of time, and also given the fact that it's still undetermined as to what's going to happen with that audit and what the penalties might be, considering that the amount that was --

THE COURT: But, again, this is bankruptcy-land. We can't wait around 20 years, 30 years. The Bankruptcy Code contemplates we can at some point estimate --

MR. YORK: Sure.

THE COURT: -- a contingent unliquidated claim.

MR. YORK: I understand.

THE COURT: So I -- all right. Thank you.

MR. YORK: Thank you.

THE COURT: And Mr. Lang?

OPENING STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST

MR. LANG: We're down to three issues, one of which is the scope of the release, which I think we can work out with Mr. Morris, just to make sure people are carved out, being Dugaboy.

The second issue is the use of the dollar value from the capital account as the basis for the Class 10 claim versus using the -- well, they're using it on the petition date versus using it -- the current capital account balance or the percentage interest of 99.5 percent, because that prevents the class, as structured, class level (inaudible). And so we have an issue with why they're using the capital account as the basis for the allowed claim, when the plan is silent on how that equity interest is to be valued.

Does that make sense?

THE COURT: Okay. You have a problem with the valuation methodology used here, which was taking the capital account balances from --

MR. LANG: On the petition date.

THE COURT: -- on the petition date?

MR. LANG: Versus using the ownership percentage of the equity on, as repeatedly stated, 99.5 percent of Highland is owned by HMIT, .5 is owned by the Class 11.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, I'm not sure what -- I guess you'll cross-examine Mr. Seery on different possible methodologies.

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. LANG: And so then the third one is the authority issue on Mr. Patrick's authority to enter into the settlement agreement and the transfer of the Dugaboy Note to Mr. Patrick's entity, HMIT.

THE COURT: All right. And, again, I'll just clarify my understanding. Dugaboy -- this came up earlier -- itself has a .1866 percent Class A limited partnership interest?

MR. LANG: I think that's approximately right. Not exact. Is that Mr. Morris' sheet?

THE COURT: It was in several pleadings.

MR. LANG: Okay. Yeah.

THE COURT: Okay. So the question will be, should that be valued at $740,000 or something different?

MR. LANG: More -- there's $65 to $70 million in assets in the estate. There's $20 million in Class 9 debt, is what Mr. Seery -- unpaid Class 9, is what Mr. Seery testified to.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. LANG: So it's $45 to $50 million would be left after payment of the Class 9. And if they use the ownership percentages, Class 11 gets some money. If they use a $333 million capital account, Class 11 gets nothing.

THE COURT: Okay. I presume that's a material difference, and I'm going to hear about that.

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. And then I guess my other thoughts on his interest -- I say his; it's Dugaboy. We tend to equate Dugaboy with Mr. Dondero since we've heard he and his family are the hundred percent beneficiaries. There I guess is a note that is addressed in the settlement.

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: I called it the $24.2 million note in my --

MR. LANG: That was --

THE COURT: -- preparation, but it's down to --

MR. LANG: Seventeen-ish.

THE COURT: -- $17 million or whatever. So, right now, Highland is a payee on that note, as well as Get Good Trust, and Hunter Mountain under the proposed settlement gets to substitute in as a co-payee.

So I guess I'm just trying to, in my brain, figure out all the, just like I was doing with Mr. Daugherty, the economic impact of this settlement on your client. And have I just addressed the two things in your view?

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. LANG: I believe so.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

All right. Can we start with evidence? At some point, we'll break for lunch, but we'll figure out as we go. I don't want to be inconvenient to people if people have ordered lunch or something.

MR. MORRIS: We are going to be finished with Mr. Seery on direct well before lunch.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Or by lunch, for sure.

THE COURT: It's 11:30.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: So, all right.

MR. MORRIS: I do -- I would be remiss if I didn't point out that Mr. Lang just raised yet another issue, the calculation of the allowed amount of HMIT's Class 10 claim. Nowhere in his pleading. Again, hearing about this for the first time as I'm standing here. He raised three issues, only one of which is in their pleading, only one of which I ever heard about from Dugaboy, and that is the scope of the release.

THE COURT: Okay. I don't know if it makes a material difference or not. I am not a mathematician. But --

MR. MORRIS: So Highland -- the Movants call Mr. Seery.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Seery, if you could approach the witness box. I swore you in earlier for purposes of all testimony today, so you are under oath.

MR. SEERY: Thank you, Your Honor.

JAMES SEERY, CLAIMANT TRUST'S WITNESS, PREVIOUSLY SWORN

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Good morning, Mr. Seery.

A Good morning.
Q Do you have three binders in front of you?
A I have four binders in front of me.
Q Okay. I just want to make sure you have ours.
A I think -- yes, sir.
Q The fourth has the last few exhibits that we filed on the docket.

Should we wait for Mr. Edmond?

THE WITNESS: That would be good.

THE COURT: Yes. I just noticed. Okay. The recording is always going, so never fear.

(Pause.)

THE COURT: All right.

THE WITNESS: Apologies, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Oh, I didn't see what happened. Was there a spill episode?

And please, if people need breaks, let me know. I sometimes go long without appropriate breaks, so let me know, anybody, if we need to break for bathroom.

MR. MORRIS: May I proceed, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You may.

MR. MORRIS: All right.

BY MR. MORRIS:
Q Are you comfortable, Mr. Seery?
A Yes.

Q I want to actually start a little unscripted with the argument that was just made on behalf of Mr. Daugherty. Did you listen to that?

A I did, Your Honor. Yes, I did. I'll speak to Your Honor. Yes, I did, Your Honor.

Q Did Mr. Daugherty have a Class 9 claim?

A He did have a Class 9 claim.

Q And what was the value of the Class 9 interest that he held?

A It was approximately $3.7 million.

Q And who are the other Class 9 claim holders?

A There are three -- I'm sorry, there are four other Class 9 holders. There is Muck Holdings, LLC. There is Jessup Holdings, LLC. There is UBS AG. And there's UBS Securities, LLC.

Q Okay. And if you can turn to Exhibit 58, which is in Volume 1.

A VOICE: Mr. Morris, what was the exhibit number?

MR. MORRIS: It's 58.

A VOICE: Thank you.

MR. MORRIS: You're welcome.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Do you have that in front of you, sir?

A Yes.

Q What is that?

A That is a distribution notice to Mr. Daugherty from the Highland Claimant Trust with the eighth distribution. And I believe this would be related to his Class 9 claim. It may be some 8 -- some Class 8 as well. But March 25 is -- I'm sorry, May 25, my eyes are not that great for close up, this is just related to the payoff of his Class 9 claim. So he'd had a $3.7 million. This was the last -- final payment, so he's been paid in full on his Class 9 claim.

Q So do I have this right, that before you sent this $800,000-plus to him, he had already received $2.9 million on account of his Class 9 claim?

A That's approximately correct, yes.

Q And how many different distributions were made to Mr. Daugherty on account of his Class 9 claim before this last one?

A Two -- two or three. I believe the way we had phrased and put 8 is our total distributions including 8 and 9. So he had a larger Class 8 claim as well. I think it was approximately $8.25 million. That's been paid in full. His Class 9 claim was getting paid in full by this one.

Q Okay. And did Mr. Daugherty receive these prior distributions -- withdrawn. Did the other holders of Class 9 claims also receive pro rata their Class 9 distributions at the same time as Mr. Daugherty?

A Yes. The distributions were pro rata.

Q Okay. Did Mr. Daugherty ever return any of the Class 9 checks that he received and say, oh my goodness, it violates the plan and the absolute priority rule and everything else because his Class 8 claim hasn't been paid in full?

A No, he did not.

Q Did he -- did he suggest that UBS or Muck or Jessup should return their checks that they received on account of their Class 9 claims because his Class 8 claim had remained unresolved?

A No, he did not.

Q Okay. Let's go to the reason that we're really here today, the agreement itself. Did you negotiate the settlement on behalf of the Highland entities?

A Yes, I did.

Q Can you describe for the Court how that came about?

A In December, we had a hearing on -- this is a little bit convoluted, I apologize -- but in December we had a hearing on the HCLOM claim in court, and we settled that claim as a $10 million Class 10 interest.

We moved into the new year and we heard some -- at some point that HMIT disagreed with that settlement, even though HMIT had signed that settlement as acceptable to it in form and substance. And the reason was because HMIT had been the only Class 10 -- not allowed, but the only Class 10 interest in -- under the plan, and defined that way, and we had agreed pursuant to the plan to put HCLOM in there.

And although HMIT had signed in form and substance acceptable by its attorney, we learned that Mark Patrick had not been consulted and that attorney had simply -- because we were in the room -- had gone in and gotten permission from Mr. Dondero to approve that settlement in form and substance. We didn't know it at the time.

That went away pretty quickly, and we understood that somehow it got resolved.

Shortly after that, sometime I believe in January or early February, there was contact between HMIT counsel and our counsel about a potential settlement. And we had two issues, really, with Mr. Patrick, who controlled two separate entities. There's the DAF entities he controlled and there's the HMIT entities. And we wanted to make sure -- and we had disputes with both of them. We had a Fifth Circuit appeal coming up in DAF and HMIT. And so we were contacted and said, okay, we're willing to settle this if we can get to a place that makes sense to us. And so that was the commencement of those negotiations.

Q And can you describe -- how long did the negotiations last?

A Well, there was negotiation around the NDA, which took some time, and I think we probably got that finalized at around the middle to end of March. And then we began negotiations in earnest during April. And we took pretty much the full month to get these negotiations done, maybe a month and a half.

Q Can you describe for the Court just how the negotiations were conducted?

A Well, initially, we ensured that the ground rules would be set. We didn't want to waste our time and expense if we weren't going to reach agreement around particularly litigation protections, because that's essential to us, and having any settlement required that.

Secondly, we then -- from their side, they wanted information. So, pursuant to that NDA, which was rather robust, we provided substantial information.

We then had a -- I believe one or two Zoom calls, and then a face-to-face meeting, and then subsequently a number of Zoom calls with our counsel -- usually, these were always with counsel -- so, our counsel, their counsel, principals, my team, Mr. Patrick and his team, to go through each of the items that we exchanged. And then we worked through a framework to -- back and forth on that to a term sheet, to a negotiated structured settlement along the lines of the one you see.

Q And did the parties exchange information as part of the process?

A Yeah. As I explained, we, under our NDA, we gave a lot of information. We got information back from Mr. Patrick, Mr. Phillips, their teams, about the structure of their entities, how we could interact with them, who was responsible for each entity. And that caused us to, frankly, move from just HMIT to a couple other entities to make sure we had full protection.

Q Did you provide information concerning assets, budgets, expenses, and the like?

A Yeah. The detailed information we provided, it was pretty extensive. So we gave a high-level view of our budget, assuming that we had a settlement with them. We have an asset list that we keep and where each asset was located. So, dollars amounts, what kind of form it was in, whether it was cash, whether it was U.S. Treasuries, whether it was, you know, equity interests. Some couple other assets, as Mr. Morris explained in the opening, had not yet been disposed of. And the valuations we put on those assets.

Q Can you turn, I guess, to any volume, and let's just look at the exhibit list. Are you generally familiar with the documentation concerning the negotiations?

A Yes.

Q Can you confirm that Exhibits 2 through 57 are the emails and information that were disclosed between the Highland side and the HMIT side during the negotiations?

A Yes. And I -- I could look through 2 through 57 now, but

--

Q Yeah.

A -- I have looked through them before, and this is the information back and forth. We generally exchanged, other than at the face-to-face meeting, we exchanged information on Zoom calls as well, but when we get documents we gave them counsel-to-counsel.

Q Okay. And did you instruct me to produce all of the communications with the HMIT side in connection with the discovery requests that were served in this case?

A Yes. We had discovery requests that we went through in detail and reviewed them, and we produced in accordance with those requests.

Q Are you aware of any document that we didn't produce that reflects the parties' negotiations of this agreement?

A No, not at all.

Q Can you describe for the Court the general deal points that were negotiated? Withdrawn. Who was your counterparty to these negotiations?

A The principal on the HMIT side is Mr. Mark Patrick. He had his team. And I was responsible on our side with my team.

Q And can you just describe for the Court what the primary negotiating points were between the two teams?

A Yeah. Number one for us was dismissal of outstanding litigations. So we needed, with prejudice, dismissal of those litigations. Otherwise, why are we bothering?

Number two, we wanted to make sure that we had litigation protections. These have been around since -- we came up with them during our mediation. They're really important to us. They set up a structure where we can actually count on the estate and the principals of the estate and the indemnified parties of the estate not being attacked. So that was essential to us.

In exchange, we had to fix their claim and allow it in an amount pursuant to the plan, which requires us to fix an amount. And that's the Class 10 interest that they have, which is senior to the Class 11 interests under the plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

And then the way the Trust is set up in the plan, it's a waterfall. They -- we advocated for getting everything for us upfront and putting everything for them at the back. They, understandably, didn't like that as much and wanted distributions upfront. So we negotiated around those terms. And I think those are the biggest terms.

We had some assets that we were -- we were -- difficult to monetize that we also were happy to dispose of in this way, with a credit, you know, towards their claim amount.

Q Did you -- and I may have missed this; I apologize if I did -- but did you also negotiate the amounts and the timing of the distributions that would be made to the HMIT entities?

A Yeah. That's what I alluded to, where we -- we had hoped to get everything for us upfront, give them everything later. I think it's the Wimpy 'For a hamburger you give me today, I'll gladly pay you Tuesday' structure. That didn't like that as much, so we did work on timing. And that did bring into consideration the other Class 9 holders and timing with respect to payments to the Class 9.

Q Was the topic of the allowed amount of HMIT's Class 10 interest the subject of negotiation?

A The topic of the allowed --

Q Did you discuss how the amount of its allowed interest would be calculated?

A Oh, yeah, that was a, you know, a critical part of the -- or, you know, essential part of the structure. What's the allowed amount they're going to get? The plan requires an amount fixed for that class. We had already had a $10 million HCLOM amount allowed into that class. So we needed to fix that amount.

Q So let's transition to that particular topic, the calculation of HMIT's Class 10 interest. Are you familiar with the methodology that was used to arrive at the Class 10 amount?

A Yes.

Q Can you tell me the process, before we get to the methodology itself? Like, what work was done to figure that out?

A Well, the structure of limited partnership is that the equity account is treated as what's called a capital account. Each limited partner in a limited partnership has a capital account that tracks their equity interest. As a default rule, it's the amount that a limited partner can expect to get on a sale of the partnership or a liquidation of the partnership. So we used the capital account that had been maintained continuously by Highland to set their capital account amount.

I think the partnership agreement talks about 99-1/2 percent for HMIT. It doesn't talk about dollars because that's kept in the accounting for the partnership. And that amount was consistently kept by Highland up to the petition date. And even after the petition date in the monthly operating reports.
Q If you take a look back at the exhibit list, I would direct your attention to Page 12 of 15. Actually, it starts at the Page 11. At the bottom, it's got the heading, Capital Account Amounts. Are you familiar with Exhibits 113 through 118? And if you need to look at the exhibits, take your time.
A Oh, I'm sorry. I thought you told me 15.
Q No. One -- I did. I mentioned Page 15. But we're just looking at Exhibits 113 to 118.

THE COURT: 113 to what?

MR. MORRIS: 18.

THE COURT: Okay.

THE WITNESS: Um, --

MR. MORRIS: If you look at the index, Your Honor, at the bottom of Page 15 -- 11, you'll see a heading, Capital Accounts --

THE COURT: Right.

MR. MORRIS: -- Amounts. And then that captures Exhibits 113 to 118.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Are those the documents that you and your team relied upon in order to calculate the amount of the allowed Class 10 interest for HMIT?

A These are some of them. I don't know if you have the tax returns in here and the K-1s. Oh, here they are. 115.

Q Yeah. That's 115?

A Yeah. You've got the K-1s for 2018, which fix an amount. Those are signed by Mr. Dondero, and they give the amounts to each partner. And then you've got the adjustments, because those are done in -- they're 2018 year-end. They were done in September of 2019, about a month before the filing.

Q And is that Exhibit 116?

A It's 115 and 116. I believe that's -- 116 is 2019, I believe, and that would have been signed postpetition by -- I believe that was signed by Waterhouse.

Q Okay.
A So it sets out the K-1. The numbers that we have are slightly different because they're in the -- they're not middle of the year, but they're for the petition date of 10/16/19. And there are -- there's economic activity that happens during the year, that you take the year-end from '18 and you have economic activity that would affect, pursuant to the partnership, the capital account of each partner during that year, fixed it on the petition date, and then it's been forward since.
Q Did you apply any of your own subjective views or beliefs in the calculation of the amount of the Class 10 interest held by HMIT?
A No. This was math.
Q And did you hear Dugaboy's counsel suggest in the opening that there was a different methodology that perhaps you could have used, a pro rata methodology, instead of the methodology you used?
A I heard what he said, but it doesn't make any sense. You can't fix an amount that way.
Q And do you understand that Dugaboy, under the partnership agreement, is subordinated to HMIT?
A Dugaboy is subordinated under the partnership agreement for certain distributions. But importantly for our purposes, they're subordinated under the plan. So the Class 11 interests are explicitly subordinated to the Class 10 interests, in both the plan and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

Q Did the Debtor consider putting Dugaboy and HMIT in the same class? Back when the plan was being formulated?

A I -- I don't recall.

Q Do you recall why they're in separate classes?

A They -- they're in separate classes because HMIT had a senior -- a right to senior distributions under the partnership agreement. We set it up that way. Nobody objected to it. That was part of the confirmed plan and the confirmed order.

Q Thank you very much. Let's talk for just a moment about Mr. Patrick's authority. Before entering into the settlement agreement, did you do anything to satisfy yourself that Mr. Patrick had the authority to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of each of the HMIT entities?

A Yes.

Q What did you do to satisfy yourself?

A Well, as a default rule, I always look at the agreements that I'm going to enter into and the organizational docs. And we did do that. We looked at each of the organizational docs to --

Q Let me stop you there for a second. Are those the documents that are in the exhibit list from 70 through 104?

A I'd have to check the actual numbers, but --

Q If you just look at the exhibit list.

A Oh.

Q It's at the front. You'll see on Page 8 of 15 of the exhibit list there's a heading, --

A Yes.

Q -- E, Patrick Authority, and then I'm asking you if you are aware of what Exhibits 70 through 104 are?

A Yes. So, these, these are -- there's a number of organizational documents that we looked and made sure that Mr. Patrick had authority.

We also knew from our own files that Mr. Patrick, you know, previously had different interests assigned to him, and we know from Mr. Patrick and documents he's given us that John Honis, who was a former controller of some of -- controlled some of these entities and a friend of Dondero's who previously worked at Highland, is on some retail boards, in 2022 transferred those interests to an entity controlled by Mr. Patrick.

Moreover, Mr. Patrick was here in court as the HMIT Administrator, trying to sue the Highland estate. He testified on behalf of HMIT as the Administrator. And the documents are very clear that the Administrator has full control of these entities.

Q We've heard some argument about a Cayman Islands proceeding. Are you generally aware of what's happening in the Cayman Islands?

A I hesitate to say generally aware. I'm aware that there's a proceeding in the Cayman Islands about involving a blocker corp. And there's disclosure in this Court about what that entity is. It's a blocker corp. in the Caymans that prevents the ultimate charitable entities -- and I put that in quotes -- to -- from receiving UBTI, which is Unrelated Business Income. And in that case, they would have to pay tax on it, and the idea is that they don't want to pay taxes and they don't pay taxes. So that corp. apparently is in some sort of proceeding. That's on the DAF side. That is not on the HMIT side.

Q Okay. So, based on the work that you did and the documents that you reviewed, did you form a view as to whether or not Mr. Patrick is authorized to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of each of the HMIT entities?

A Yes.

Q And what view did you reach?

A He has complete authority over each of these entities. They run up to entities that he controls or he owns. And he's had that, and it's the structure that was set up a long time ago, and any changes to that structure are just consistent with the documents that let him do these things. And the proceeding in Cayman, whatever that is, has no impact on Mr. Patrick's authority over these entities or any of the entities in this chain.

Q Did you see anything in the diligence that you conducted that required Mr. Patrick to seek anybody's authority, consent, or approval before entering into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities?

A No. And we could go through each document. He has complete authority on each of these entities. And even the objections that were filed that were withdrawn from The Dallas Foundation, they have no -- it's absolutely clear that they have no rights to deal with at all the management of each of these entities. They don't have an ownership interest in it. Crown issued an annuity policy that's a variable policy. They have no rights.

Q All right. Let's turn to the agreement itself. Can you tell the Court why you believe that the settlement agreement is in the Claimant Trust's best interests?

A Number one, this case has been going on for a full five years. We have spent tens of millions of dollars dealing with vexatious and frivolous litigation and attacks. The opportunity to settle with a Class 10 holder and allow their claim under the terms of the settlement is extremely valuable because it moves us much, much closer to a potential resolution of this case, which we would all love to resolve.

Number two, it's fair value for the estate. We are making sure, while we're paying some money out in front, we have triggers on the backend payments to ensure that the Indemnity Trust has enough assets to protect parties if there are unforeseen litigations. And I can almost bet there'll be at least one or two of those. So it's really, really valuable in that respect.

Three, it cuts down tremendously on what future expenses could be. Because we have gotten these litigation protections, we've basically walled off a potential avenue to be attacked. And I think the structure of this deal is valuable, not only to the fiduciaries and folks who have been responsible for managing this process and who are indemnified by the Claimant Trust or HCMLP, it also enables us to, down the road, pay off the Class 9s and ultimately make distributions to the Class 10s.

Q Is one of the other benefits to this agreement is that it enables the Claimant Trust to dispose of certain illiquid assets?

A Well, that's a -- that is a benefit, because we do have to resolve these claims and dispose of these assets, and we're not in a position to hang around until 2030 or more to do that.

So we've got the Kirschner claims, which would go to HMIT. Again, the way that the waterfall is set up, to the extent that they have value, they are very expensive to pursue. We've spent a ton of money setting them up. We've produced seven million documents, pages, and received zero in return. We stayed them because we didn't think we needed them for the Class 8 and 9 and it was prudent to do so, and the question was would we need them for indemnification. So disposing of those claims now at this time as part of this settlement, where that value would go to Class 10 anyway, is very valuable.

Q Had you made any efforts prior to entering into this agreement to monetize or otherwise sell the Dugaboy Note?

A Yes.

Q Can you describe for the Court what your efforts were in that regard?

A So, we set out to try to monetize the Dugaboy Note. I contacted -- we put together what we call a teaser, laying out what we knew about Dugaboy, at least up until the time that Dugaboy was no longer part of our computer system. Laid out what we thought the assets were. There's not a lot of public information. Laid out the amortizing of the note. It's a 3.2 percent-ish, 3.26 percent note, I believe, goes to 2047, '46 on the amortization, 2047. And then presented that to I think it's five different investors in distressed funds. Had no interest whatsoever. One investor laughed at me, which I understood that he was aware of the parties and the principals and the collection efforts that would be difficult on that note.

The note is performing, because if it hadn't performed I would have accelerated on the first second and we would have collected the whole thing. But we've seen that show in the other Notes Litigation. And so we didn't -- we didn't get any reception.

We also reached out to Mr. Dondero, in writing, through D.C. Sauder, and made them an offer and tried to get them to respond, and they indicated they had no interest in the note.

Q Turning back to the exhibit list, if you can turn your attention to Page 11 of 15 of the exhibit list, is Section F, Exhibits 105 through 112, the documents that reflect the note and your efforts to dispose of the note?

A Yes.

Q And let's take a look at Exhibit 112 quickly, since that involves Mr. Dondero. Can you just tell the Court what this exhibit is?

A Yes. This is an exchange between D.C. Sauder, Matt McGraner, both of whom work for Dondero, and Dave Klos, our CFO. I'd authorized Dave to make an offer to them to see if we could get cash for the Dugaboy Note. And as you see right below the reply from Mr. Klos, which is -- this is friendly, but Mr. Sauder's indication that they have no interest.

Q Okay. So Highland offered to sell the Dugaboy Note to Mr. Dondero or entities controlled by him, and that offer was rejected without a counteroffer. Do I have that right?

A That's correct.

Q Okay. Let's finish up here. Are you familiar with the objections of Dugaboy and Mr. Daugherty that the settlement somehow violates the plan because it's making distributions to Class 10 before junior classes are paid in full?

A Yes. I'm familiar with those.

Q Do you believe the settlement violates the plan?

A Not at all.

Q And why is that?

A The plan specifically contemplates that -- I don't think it's -- we showed the 9 and 10s, but I think it's any claimant could take less than is being offered by the plan. What we did very specifically is go to the Class 9 claimants and discuss with them this opportunity to settle with HMIT and what it would take, which included some, as I described earlier, payments upfront.

After being fully informed -- they asked a lot of questions, they pushed back quite a bit, as you can expect that they would -- and we reached agreement with those Class 9 claimants in writing to approve the structure of the deal and the settlement and the concurrent payments, as well as the final small payment to Mr. Daugherty on behalf of his Class 9 claim.

Q Could I trouble you to turn to Exhibit 59, please, Mr. Seery?

A I've got it.
Q Are you familiar with that document?
A I am, yes.
Q Can you explain to the Court what that document is?
A This document is the written consent that we entered into with the Class 9 claimants, approving the settlement agreement as well as the payment to Mr. Daugherty.
Q Okay.
A And -- and -- so these -- the payment to Mr. Daugherty would have been non-pro rata, so they agreed to that. And the concurrent payments under the settlement agreement to Class 10 were agreed to by the Class 9 claim holders.
Q So looking at Page 2 at the top, do I have this right, that Mr. Daugherty's original Class 9 subordinated claim was in the amount of $3.75 million, and that with the payment described in this document his claim was paid in full?
A That's correct, yes.
Q And did he complain that he was getting paid in full but the other Class 9 holders were not?
A No. That had never been his complaint.
Q Did he complain that he was getting paid in full on his Class 9 claim but his Class 8 claim remained unresolved?
A No. I think that, as indicated before in my testimony and indicated here, this was the last payment, the 781. Before that, he'd received almost $3 million on account of his Class 9 claim. And pro rata with the other Class 9 claimants.

Q I think you mentioned that your understanding is that, under the plan, creditors can elect to receive less favorable treatment than the plan otherwise provides. Is that right?
A That's correct. And I think that's a pretty standard provision in virtually every plan that I see.
Q Can we just grab that for a second? It's the last exhibit, 126, which is probably in the skinny binder, if you have one.
A Yes. Do you want me to go to the section?
Q Yeah. Just one minute. I want to make sure the judge is with us. Give her a second.
MR. MORRIS: Are you with us, Your Honor?
THE COURT: Yes.
MR. MORRIS: Okay.
BY MR. MORRIS:
Q So if you can turn to Page 23 of Exhibit 126. Does Section 9, under Treatment, Romanette (ii), is that the provision that you were just describing that gives Class 9 holders the ability to receive such other less-favorable treatment as to which such holder and the Claimant Trust may agree upon in writing?
A That's correct.
Q And the same is true with respect to the Class 10 claims, at the top of Page 24?

A That's also correct, yes.
Q All right. And so was the consent that was executed by the Class 9 holders that's Exhibit 59 done in satisfaction of these plan provisions?
A I'd say it's consistent with these. They could elect to receive it or not, but this was, you know, did it under this provision and they were entitled to elect to take lesser treatment, if that's what they agree to.
Q Okay. Can you describe for the Court why you believe that the Class 9 claim holders are receiving less-favorable treatment under -- as a result of this settlement agreement than they would otherwise be entitled to under the plan?
A Well, they would be entitled to receive payments in front of any payments that would be made to Class 10. In addition, they would have been entitled to receive a pro rata distribution of the $800,000 that was paid to Mr. Daugherty, and they agreed to waive those provisions.
Q Okay. Is it your understanding that HMIT is also accepting less favorable treatment than it might otherwise receive if it pursued and succeeded in the prosecution of its claim?
A I suppose, ultimately, if everything was resolved, that they could have gotten a Class 10 interest that wasn't structured along the lines of the settlement agreement. So the settlement agreement takes some of that structure and what arguably would be value away from them, and this is the amount that they've agreed to have as their allowed claim, as structured by the settlement agreement.

Q And is it your understanding that under the settlement agreement HMIT has disavowed any rights under the Claimant Trust Agreement?

A Under the Claimant Trust Agreement, yes. They have rights under the settlement agreement to receive distributions, and those will ultimately come from the Indemnity Trust as we wind down the Claimant Trust.

Q And did HMIT also agree that it would not be a Claimant Trust beneficiary under the Claimant Trust?

A Yes. And that's very important to us because we have seen lots of litigation, lots of emails, trying to use these types of structures just to create claims, even when there's literally no basis for it. I should -- well, I'll control myself.

Q Yeah. We can stop there.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, I have no further questions at this time.

THE COURT: All right. We're going to figure out, are we taking a bathroom break or a short lunch break. I'll poll the audience and then I'll decide. Do people want to take maybe a 30 to 45-minute lunch break, or just a bathroom break and keep going?

THE WITNESS: Thirty minutes.

THE COURT: I'll say -- are you going to have any further examination?

MR. PHILLIPS: I'm going to maybe ask one question, just to bring it up. It's already been -- but one question.

THE COURT: Okay. And then what about Dugaboy and Daugherty? Guesstimate how much examination you'll have.

MR. YORK: Fifteen minutes, maybe.

MR. LANG: Twenty minutes or so.

THE COURT: Why don't we take a five-minute bathroom break, --

MR. PHILLIPS: Sure.

THE COURT: -- and then we'll at least finish this witness.

MR. PHILLIPS: Perfect.

THE COURT: All right?

MR. PHILLIPS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(A recess ensued from 12:07 p.m. until 12:15 p.m.)

THE CLERK: All rise.

THE COURT: Please be seated.

(Pause.)

THE COURT: All right. Can I get some help rounding people up?

(Pause.)

THE COURT: All right. We're missing -- okay. We're going back on the record in Highland Capital. We still have Mr. Seery on the witness stand. Mr. Phillips, you had examination. You said one question.

MR. PHILLIPS: I did, Your Honor. And I meant it.

THE COURT: Okay.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. PHILLIPS:

Q Could you look at Exhibit 118, please?

A You said 118?

Q Yes, sir.

A Certainly.

Q Did the calculation of the Class 10 claim amount of $336,940,230.58, is that the result of applying the full value to the Highland or Highland Claimant Trust of the HMIT note receivable?

A Apologies, because I can't read this because it's too small, but I can answer the question.

THE COURT: Would you like this?

THE WITNESS: I think I can answer the question without it.

THE COURT: Okay.

THE WITNESS: The -- what we used was the petition date capital account.

BY MR. PHILLIPS:

Q Correct.

A And just like every other claim in bankruptcy, fixed at the petition date. And what we subtracted from that petition date was the petition date amount principal and interest of that HMIT note which was owed to Highland Capital.

Q Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. That was one question. All right. Counsel?

MR. YORK: Thank you, Your Honor. Get it organized here.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. YORK:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Seery.

A Good afternoon.

Q Would you take a look at Exhibit 1 in Daugherty's witness and exhibit binder? It's the settlement agreement between Highland and Mr. Daugherty, I believe.

A Yes, I have it.

Q All right. And can you confirm that is the settlement agreement that Highland and Mr. Daugherty entered into in connection with the claims Mr. Daugherty asserted in the bankruptcy?

A It appears to be, yes.

Q Would you turn to Section 9, then, which is on Page #11, starts on Page #11?

A Yes.

Q And that relates to a reserved claim that Mr. Daugherty had as part of his proof of claim against Highland in the bankruptcy, correct?

A That's correct.

Q And would you agree with me that the second line of Section 9 there of the settlement agreement describes that claim as a contingent unliquidated claim against the Debtor?

A I would not agree with you on that, no.

Q Why not?

A Because it says, Daugherty contends --

Q Ah. Daugherty contends.

A -- he has a contingent unliquidated claim against the Debtor.

Q Okay. Well, why don't you then turn with me to Daugherty Exhibit #2, which is the -- which is the -- Highland's adversary complaint that was filed against Mr. Daugherty on I believe May 2nd of 2025. Correct?

A I don't recall the specific date and it's blurred at the top. So if you say so, I'll accept that.

Q All right. And if you look at Paragraph 1, the third line, there's a sentence there that says, All of Mr. Daugherty's claims were settled except his unliquidated contingent claim that the Debtor has a continuing and indefinite obligation to make him whole if a tax refund he apparently received for tax year 2008 on account of his partnership interest is ever successfully challenged by the IRS.

Did I read that correctly?

A You did read that correctly, yes.

Q All right. This reserved claim under the settlement agreement is a Class 8 unsecured claim, correct?

A It is the claim that he asserted and that we initially classed under Class 8 in a fixed amount for a tax refund which is on his statement that he got that he claims he's entitled to more, which would be unsecured as of the petition date. I believe the amount on his payment statement from 2009 is $1.475 million.

Q All right.

THE COURT: Could you pull the microphone closer to you?

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Good.

MR. YORK: All right.

BY MR. YORK:

Q And, again, my question is pretty simple. And it's a Class 8 unsecured claim, right?

A It's not a Class 8. It was in Class 8. It's been objected to.

Q Right.
A So it is not in a class now at all. We seek to disallow it in its entirety, or, at worst, subordinate it to all creditor claims.
Q Understood. But it has been asserted as a Class 8 general unsecured claim, right?
A He asserted it as that, yes.
Q Okay. And is it fair to say that in the adversary complaint, if you go to Page -- I'm sorry, Paragraph 4 -- Highland alleges that: However, even if Mr. Daugherty's claim is not disallowed in its entire -- I think that should be entirety. Right?
A It should be, yes.
Q It remains contingent on the outcome of the 2008 audit. Correct? Did I read that correctly?
A You did read that correctly, yes.
Q And the next sentence says, It is unclear when, how, or if the 2008 audit will finally be resolved. Correct?
A Correct.
Q And in fact, if you go to, then, Page #7 of the complaint and you look at Footnote 6, at the very end of that footnote it indicates that Highland has an understanding that the resolution may not be expected until approximately 2029. Is that correct?
A The litig... I can't read it because it's small, but the litigation may not be resolved. The IRS has already issued a final determination on the audit.

Q How do you know that?

A I was advised that by another partner.

Q Who?

A Kurt Plumer.

Q Have you seen the FPAA that was issued by the IRS?

A No, I have not.

Q Have you asked for it?

A Yes.

Q You did, personally?

A My lawyers did.

Q Your lawyers did?

A Yes.

Q Okay. But you -- but you did not, right? Just to be clear.

A No, I did not. My lawyers, acting at my direction, did.

Q Asked the tax matters partner for Highland for that information?

A Asked Mr. Daugherty.

Q Asked Mr. --

A I think asked you, I'm sorry.

Q Oh, asked me for that information?

A Yes.

Q Well, so tell me, why is Mr. Daugherty -- first off, do you know if Mr. Daugherty has received the FPAA?

A I don't know.
Q Okay. Do you know if anybody else has received an FPAA?
A I was told there was a final determination. I don't know if they've actually received an FPAA. But I do know that Mr. Daugherty has produced a document where the IRS has requested additional information for him. Since they hadn't done that for 17 years, I suspect that they've reached a final determination of the audit.
Q All right. So you don't know whether an FPAA has actually been issued?
A I --
Q True?
A I don't know. And for the Court's benefit, that's a Final Partnership something Determination.
Q Okay. What -- where --
THE COURT: F-A --
THE WITNESS: F-P-P -- I think it's --
MR. YORK: F-P-A-A.
THE WITNESS: -- F-P-A-A.
THE COURT: Okay. The court reporter will no doubt ask, so good.
BY MR. YORK:
Q Tell me, where in the universe is it that -- is it Mr. Daugherty's obligation to provide Highland with the FPAA?

A I don't -- I don't think there's any such obligation that I've seen.

Q And in fact, the IRS audit is handled by the tax matters partner for Highland Capital, correct?

A The IRS audit for Highland Capital's -- from Highland Capital's position is handled by that. The IRS handles their side.

Q Right. From Highland's side. Okay. And that tax matters partner is doing that on behalf of Highland Capital, right?

A I think at this point it's doing it on behalf of the old Highland Capital, not Reorg Highland Capital. We don't have any liability with respect to it, nor do we have any visibility as to what's going on in the tax audit.

Q So even though, under the partnership agreement, that's the tax matters partner that's referred to, Highland Capital cannot compel that tax matters partner to provide that information to them, if an FPAA actually exists?

A I don't think so. That partnership agreement is the pre-effective date partnership agreement.

Q All right.

A The new Highland Reorg Debtor doesn't have these partners and is not a tax matter partner for those -- those audits.

Q So let's go back, then, to Paragraph 4 of the adversary complaint that was filed. And I want to look at the next sentence that Highland wrote there. It says: Moreover, if the claim is not disallowed, it will need to be estimated, after taking into account the likely outcome of the 2008 audit, including adjustments that result therefrom.

Did I read that correctly?

A You read that correctly.

Q Have -- has anyone at Highland conducted any analysis as of today to determine what Mr. Daugherty's potential liability would be from that IRS audit if that audit was completed today and all interest and penalties were assessed as of today?

A Yes.

Q How much?

A It would be $1.475 million, the amount of his prepetition claim in his proof of claim. Since it's unsecured, whatever happens with the IRS is not a concern of Highland. His claim is that he didn't get that amount as a refund. Either he got that amount or he got some -- some lower amount. It would be a petition -- prepetition-date amount. And under Texas law, he would be entitled to prejudgment interest from 2009 to the petition date at a rate of five percent.

Q Which would be how much?

A It would be approximately $2.2 million in aggregate.

Q Okay. And there would be -- you're saying there would be no penalties or any other -- any other interests or assessments that would -- Mr. Daugherty would be liable for that Highland would also then be liable for under that claim?

A No. There would not. It would not impact his claim against Highland. His claim against Highland is simply: I did not get this refund.

He got the refund. He's now claiming it might be adjusted. If the IRS otherwise has penalties, interest against him for his tax attributes somewhere between 2009 and 2019, that wouldn't be subject to his proof of claim and it wouldn't be the responsibility of Highland.

Q Even if Highland had promised at the time that that refund was made that it would -- it would make him whole with respect to any IRS audit whatsoever?

A It simply --

MR. MORRIS: Objection to the form of the question.

THE WITNESS: It simply didn't do that.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: Okay. Overruled.

THE WITNESS: We can -- you could litigate the claim, but that's just not what it says.

BY MR. YORK:

Q So you talked earlier about the Class 9 consent that was obtained, and no one from Highland reached out to Mr. Daugherty to try to seek his consent. Right?

A That's correct.

Q Why not?

A Because I didn't want to.

Q Why?
A Because Mr. Daugherty is an extremely difficult person to deal with. The last time I dealt with Mr. Daugherty on the phone with respect to anything, I had extreme difficulty and got sucked into a stalking lawsuit that I had to testify to that is a complete mess that I want nothing to do with. So originally my counsel said, have no communication with him. But with respect to this, we were objecting to his claim. We knew he would try to hold this up. You have tried to do that and demanded $20 million. So that's why we didn't reach out to you. We just paid the 9 and we have a fully-reserved amount on the 8.
Q You thought that the stalking case that you were pulled into was completely fabricated, didn't you?
A I thought that at the time. I'm not as sure anymore.
Q Oh, really?
A Yeah.
Q Okay. And you actually also told Mr. Daugherty that Mr. Ellington, who brought that case, was a complete liar and POS, right?
A I don't know if I used POS, but I do not think Mr. Ellington is an honest person.
MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, at some point I'm going to on relevance grounds. I think we've got a settlement agreement before the Court that we're trying to get approved today, not to take discovery on any other matters.

THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to overrule to the extent there was an objection, but I think it's appropriate to worry that we're straying down a road that is not relevant. So, --

MR. YORK: Understood.

THE COURT: -- reign it in.

MR. YORK: All right.

BY MR. YORK:

Q You'd agree that the -- under the terms of the proposed settlement, there will be some interim distributions will be made to the HMIT entities in cash totaling approximately $23 million. Correct?

A Not necessarily, no.

Q Why not?

A Because there's an initial distribution. I believe it's $10 million.

Q Yes.

A And then subsequent distributions are predicated on whether there are threats, either outstanding litigation or threats as defined in the agreement.

Q And so long as those threats don't occur, then those interim -- those additional interim distributions will be made, right?

A Yes. The Indemnity Trust would make those distributions at those times, and then I have to make -- it's a double trigger, because it has to be no threats and I have to determine that the Indemnity Trust had sufficient assets to meet its obligations for both actual and contingent indemnification obligations.

Q But at a minimum, the HMIT entities will receive at least $10 million?

A Yes.

Q On an interim basis?

A Yes.

Q All right. And you'd agree with me that, under the terms of the plan, the plan provides that the classes get paid in order of priority, correct?

A That's correct.

Q All right. And if you turn to Daugherty Exhibit 4, which is the confirmation order, at Page 45. And Subsection A there in the middle of that has a sentence that says: Accordingly, as the holders of the equity -- excuse me. Strike that. Let me start over. Are you there yet, Mr. --

A Now I am.

Q All right. Accordingly, as the holders of equity interests that are junior to the claims in Class 8 and Class 9 will not receive or retain under the plan on account of such junior claim interest in any property unless and until the claims in Class 8 and Class 9 are paid in full, plus applicable interest, --

Did I read all that correctly?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And the term "Claim" there is a capitalized term, right?

A Yes.

Q It's not -- it doesn't say allowed claims. It just says claims. Right?

A That's correct.

Q All right. All right. Now, if you'd turn with me to the Claimant Trust Agreement, which is Daugherty Exhibit 5, and go to Section 5(c). Excuse me. 5.1(c). I apologize.

A Yes.

Q And this is -- this is -- relates to the contingent trust interests associated with the Class 10 and Class 11 limited partnership interests in Highland, correct?

A Generally, yes.

Q All right. And you'd agree with me that, in the -- about four lines down, it says: The Claimant Trustee shall allocate to each holder of allowed Class 10-B and C limited partnership interests and each holder of allowed Class 11 Class A limited partnership interests a contingent trust interest equal to the ratio that the amount of each holder's allowed Class 10 or Class 11 interest bears to the total amount of the Class 11 or -- Class 10 or Class 11 interest, excuse me, as applicable under the plan.

Did I read all of that correctly?

A I believe you did, yes.

Q All right. And under the terms of the proposed settlement, the HMIT entities are getting an allowed Class 10 interest, correct?

A That's correct, yes.

Q All right. And then the next sentence goes on to say: The contingent trust interest shall not vest and the equity holder shall not have any rights under this agreement unless and until the Claimant Trustee files with the Bankruptcy Court a certification that all GUC beneficiaries have been paid indefeasibly in full, including, to the extent applicable, all accrued and unpaid postpetition interest consistent with the plan and all disputed claims have been resolved. The GUC Payment Certification.

Did I read that correctly?

A You did, except you used the article "The" before "contingent trust interest" at the start of the sentence.

Q Fair enough. And the GUC beneficiaries there would be the general unsecured creditor beneficiaries, correct?

A That's correct.

Q And this certification has not been issued yet by the Claimant Trustee in this bankruptcy, correct?

A That's correct.

Q In part because of Mr. Daugherty's remaining unresolved Class 8 claim, correct?
A In part, yes.
Q And also in part because of the remaining Class 9 claimant holders who still have money owed to them on their Class 9 claims?
A In part, yes.
Q Okay. Does the term of the proposed settlement agreement provide those Class 9 consent holders with releases from the HMIT entities?
A No.
Q It does not?
A No.
Q At all?
A No.
Q Even if they were in their capacity serving as board members for Highland Capital?
A Certain of the Class 9 holders are also on the Oversight Board. In their capacity as Oversight Board members, yes, they get -- they get broad releases. UBS, for example, is not. There are no releases in there for the two UBS entities.
Q Would you now -- you can set that binder aside. And if you'd turn with me to Exhibit 60 in the -- Highland's exhibit list.
A Six zero?

Q Yes, sir.
A Yes.
Q This is a copy of the tolling agreement extending objection deadline between -- that's on -- dated July 27th of 2022 between Mr. Daugherty and Highland Capital Management, LP and Highland Claimant Trust. Correct?
A Yes. That's what it appears to be, yes.
Q All right. If you would, go with me to Page 2 at the bottom. There is a Footnote #3. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q And that footnote relates to, up above, a defined term called a "Reserved Claim," the Reserved Claim being what was discussed earlier in Mr. Daugherty's settlement agreement with Highland, right?
A That's correct, yes.
Q And it states in here that that Reserved Claim means "the contingent and unliquidated claim as referenced in Proof of Claim #205."
Did I read that portion of the footnote correctly?
A Yes.
Q All right. And it goes further to say that the amount listed there of 2.65 million three hundred -- two point six -- let me start ever. $2,650,353 is the amount estimated as of October 23, 2020. Correct?
A That's correct.

Q All right. It doesn't say it's -- anywhere in there that it's a fully -- it fully reserves that unliquidated contingent claim. Correct?

A In what you just read, no.

Q All right. And if you go to Page 1 -- or, I'm sorry, to Page 3, Paragraph 1, the covenant to reserve where Highland agrees to reserve $2,650,353 on account of the reserved claim, does it say anywhere in there that that is -- fully reserves that contingent unliquidated claim anywhere?

A It says exactly what it says. And you read it.

Q That's not my question. Does it say --

A I don't -- well, it says, Further agree to reserve $2.650 [million] on account of the reserved claim in disputed claim reserve.

Q All right. Does it say anywhere in there that that is the fully-reserved amount of that claim?

A Not in that sentence, no.

Q Thank you. All right.

MR. YORK: Your Honor, give me one second. Let me confer.

THE COURT: Okay.

(Pause.)

BY MR. YORK:

Q Mr. Seery, UBS is one of the consent holders, Class 9 consent holders related to the HMIT settlement. Correct?

A There are two UBS entities, UBS AG 66 and UBS Securities, LLC.

Q All right. Did either of those entities sit on the Unsecured Creditors' Committee in this bankruptcy?

A A UBS entity did. I'm not sure which of those did, or whether it was both with one counsel. I don't -- there's a UBS entity on that Creditors' Committee.

Q Is the -- are the members of the Unsecured Creditors' Committee within the definition of the Highland released parties under the proposed HMIT settlement? Do you know?

A I don't know. The members of the Creditors' Committee, I believe, have exculpation anyway, so I don't -- I don't -- I don't know if it captures the old members of the Creditors' Committee. I don't -- for example -- I don't think so. I don't -- I don't know.

MR. YORK: Pass the witness.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Lang?

THE WITNESS: Do you have a separate binder?

MR. LANG: No.

THE WITNESS: Okay. Will you be using Mr. Daugherty's binder?

MR. LANG: No.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. LANG:

Q All right, Mr. Seery. Just to be clear, the Class B and C

-- or the Class A interests and the -- of Highland under the plan, they have 99.5 percent of the -- Highland Capital Management. Correct?

A Could --

Q Sorry. The Class B and C --

A Limited partnership interest.

Q -- shareholder -- limited partnership interests were 99 point -- or, were .5 percent of Highland Capital Management?

A I -- I'm not trying to be difficult.

Q No, it's fine. It's a terrible -- terrible --

A I don't -- I just don't -- I don't understand your question. I apologize.

Q Okay. So, at the time of the petition, --

A Yes.

Q -- Hunter Mountain Investment Trust owned 99.5 percent of Highland Capital Management?

A It owned 99-1/2 percent of the limited partnership interest in Highland Capital Management.

Q And the remainder -- and HMIT has the Class 10 claims. Correct?

A You said something, the remainder? The --

Q Oh, sorry. The remaining interests are owned by the Class 11 claims under the plan.

A The remaining partnership interests are among those entities I testified earlier to, which are Dugaboy, Strand, --

Q And Okada?
A -- Mark Okada individually, and two Mark Okada and Pamela Okada trusts.
Q Okay. And the total assets in the estate right currently you testified are between $65 to $70 million?
A I -- off the top of my head, I don't recall, but it -- rough range, it could be in that general vicinity. That does not include the payments that have to be made to the 9s and expenses. So I believe there's documents in here that we could go through, if you like.
Q And I believe you testified that the remaining unpaid 9s are owed approximately $20 million?
A Approximately $20 million, yes.
Q Okay. And the plan does not say that the equity claims for Class 10 and 11 are to be determined by the capital account values of the limited partnership interests in the Debtor LP?
A That's correct. It says to set an amount. It doesn't tell you how to do the amount.
Q Okay. And under the settlement agreement, Class 10 interests will be allowed in the amount of $336,940,230.58?
A Approximately $336 million, yes.
Q $336 million. Fair. And this is the capital account balance as of -- HMIT's capital account balance as of the petition date, less, I believe, the HMIT note?

A That's correct. So that amount is the net amount.
Q The net? And do you know how the capital account balances were calculated --
A Yes.
Q -- on the petition date?
A Yes.
Q And how were they calculated?
A So, you take the 2018 year-end capital account amount, and then there's activity in the company that gets passed through through the partnership. The partnership agreement -- in this instance, the prepetition Debtor partnership agreement passed through profits and losses on a pro rata basis. There was activity in the first half of the year that affected that capital account. You can see that reflected in the year-end auditeds as well as the K-1 statement that -- for 2018 that was given to HMIT. That would be their 2018 year-end. That then, from an accounting perspective, was used and brought down to the petition date. And between the petition date and year-end 2019, there was additional capital activity, the biggest one of which was the reserve -- full reserve for the $50-plus million for the HMIT note. And so then you'll see the 2009 auditeds that are signed off by Mr. Waterhouse. And in those interim months, then you also see the gross amount of the partner capital each month in the monthly operating reports.

Q And correct me if I'm wrong, but I believe you testified that the capital account balances continued to go down after 2019. So you have the petition date, you have the next year, and did they continue to --

A I don't think I testified to that. What I testified to is that there was economic activity in 2019 that affected the year-end '18 to the petition date. And then from the petition date there was year-end activity -- there was activity from the petition date to year-end '19 that would affect the capital account as reflected in the 2018 auditeds -- they weren't auditeds -- 2018 tax returns signed off by Waterhouse. The biggest part of that activity was the application or the reserve for the Hunter Mountain Note.

Q And was there any activity after the 2019 tax return?

A There was postpetition activity in the partnership, certainly.

Q And did it reduce the capital accounts during those years?

A I assume it would have reduced all of the capital accounts pro rata.

Q Okay. And why'd you use the petition date as the date to determine the value of the capital accounts?

A Because this is bankruptcy and that's the date on which you fix all your claims and interests.

Q If you used -- have you ever used equity ownership percentages to determine the payment to the equity versus their capital account balances?

A In this case, or elsewhere?
Q Elsewhere.
A I think that's standard. I can't cite you a specific thing, but typically when a partnership liquidates or a partnership is sold, amounts get distributed pursuant to the capital accounts and -- and -- in up to amounts in the capital accounts.
Q You would agree, if you use the percentage of ownership, being 99.5 percent for Class 10 and the .5 percent for Class 11, would potentially leave money for the Class 11 creditors to recover?
A I don't think so. No, I don't agree with that.
Q Why do you say that?
A Because Class 11 is subordinated to Class 10.
Q Okay. So explain how, if $60 million exists and you pay $20 million to the Class 9, --
A Roughly. Yeah.
Q Rough. Just rough math.
A Okay.
Q That leaves $40 million.
A Okay.
Q Correct? And if the ownership interests or the allowed claim for HMIT was 99.5 percent, wouldn't that leave .5 percent of $40 million for the remaining creditors?

A That doesn't make any sense, because 99-1/2 percent of a senior thing means you get everything. So that Class 10 has to be paid in full before the 11.

In addition, there's already an agreed-upon amount on HCLOM for $10 million. So how do I give HCLOM $10 million and 99-1/2 percent to somebody else? There has to be numbers.

Q But to be clear, the plan does not say that the equity claims are determined on capital accounts. Correct?

A That's correct.

Q All right.

MR. LANG: No further questions.

THE COURT: All right. Any redirect?

MR. MORRIS: Just one moment, Your Honor.

(Pause.)

MR. MORRIS: We have no questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Any redirect from --

MR. PHILLIPS: No, Your Honor. Thank you.

THE COURT: -- the one question?

Okay. Thank you, Mr. Seery. You are excused from the witness box.

THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor.

(The witness steps down.)

THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to again take proposals. I can live with a 30-minute lunch break. I and my staff can. But it's easier for us than all of you. So do you all want to negotiate for more?

MR. MORRIS: I just wanted to let the Court know that, with that, the Movants rest. We're not -- we're not going to call anybody else.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: We reserve the right to cross-examine. We reserve the right to call rebuttal witnesses, including Ms. Deitsch-Perez and Mr. Dondero, depending on what testimony is elicited. So we reserve the right to call rebuttal witnesses. But we're not calling anybody further on our direct case, and we rest.

THE COURT: Okay. So let me --

MR. MORRIS: I'll let them --

THE COURT: -- follow up on that point.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: There had been a discussion of Mr. Patrick.

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: Limited to one total hour. Thirty minutes collectively, Debtor and HMIT. Thirty minutes collectively, Dugaboy and Daugherty.

MR. MORRIS: You know what, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You're -- you're not asking --

MR. MORRIS: No, maybe I -- I forgot that you had told us we could do it, too. So let's take the lunch break, let us figure it out, we'll let you know when we come back.

THE COURT: Well, I'm clarifying because I'm deciding --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- who gets to go first.

MR. MORRIS: Understood.

THE COURT: Each witness.

MR. MORRIS: Understood.

THE COURT: And I presume --

MR. MORRIS: Understood.

THE COURT: -- the Debtor/HMIT would go first.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: And then with regard to Dondero, --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- you all would go first.

MR. MORRIS: So I withdraw what I said. Let us confer during the lunch break and we'll figure out who's going first, whether we do rest or whether we put Mr. Patrick on for a short direct.

THE COURT: Okay. Which leads me to our lunch break. Do people want to negotiate for more than 30 minutes? I don't want to make someone collapse if --

MR. MORRIS: Thirty minutes, or 1:30?

MR. PHILLIPS: 1:30.

MR. MORRIS: 1:30, Your Honor. It's nice and round.

MR. PHILLIPS: One clarification, Your Honor. Because I don't -- I don't -- if one side doesn't take the half hour, does that go over to the other side, or --

THE COURT: No.

MR. PHILLIPS: No?

THE COURT: I don't think -- I'm just giving --

MR. PHILLIPS: Great. Thank you.

THE COURT: And my law clerk said maybe I was confusing about that earlier today.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: One hour total, but 30 minutes each. And if one collective team doesn't use the whole 30 minutes, we're not --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- giving it to the other side. Okay?

MR. PHILLIPS: That was my question.

MR. MORRIS: Understood, Your Honor.

THE COURT: And while I'll let you all discuss whatever you want, what I envisioned is you all would go first with Mr. Patrick, --

MR. MORRIS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: -- and then Dugaboy and Daugherty would go first on Mr. Dondero. But if you all collectively think it makes sense to do something different, I'll hear.

MR. MORRIS: No. That makes sense, Your Honor.

MR. PHILLIPS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. So we'll come back at 1:30 --

MR. YORK: Yes.

THE COURT: -- and resume.

MR. YORK: Thank you so much.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(A luncheon recess ensued from 12:51 p.m. until 1:33 p.m.)

THE CLERK: All rise.

THE COURT: Please be seated. All right. We're back on the record in the Highland Capital matter, the Rule 9019 motion for approval of a settlement. When we broke, we were waiting to talk about Mr. Patrick and Mr. Dondero as witnesses. Are they going -- is Patrick going to be your witness?

MR. MORRIS: No, Your Honor. We're going to reserve our 30 minutes for rebuttal.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

All right. I'll hear from the Objectors now.

(Pause.)

MR. YORK: Sorry, Your Honor. I didn't realize they were going to observe. So, --

THE COURT: Well, yes. If you understood what I was saying before the break, I presumed they might want to go first with Mr. Patrick, but it was -- you're the one who wanted him, so if they want to go second, they can go second.

MR. YORK: Well, --

THE COURT: Well, I say "you're." I'm sorry.

MR. LANG: No, it's okay.

THE COURT: Mr. Lang wanted to go --

MR. YORK: Yeah. So are we definitely doing Mark Patrick now?

MR. PHILLIPS: No.

MR. YORK: Oh, okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: We just rested.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: They can call whoever they want.

THE COURT: They have rested. If you don't want to go forward with any witnesses, you don't have to.

MR. YORK: Oh, we --

THE COURT: But you had wanted to go forward -- you wanted to question Patrick and I said, if he's going to be a witness, then Dondero should also be a witness. Okay? And at most an hour collectively for each witness. If you don't want to call either one of them, you don't have to call either one of them.

MR. LANG: We're going to. I think that they were just going to call Daugherty first. I didn't know if you had an order that you wanted to do this in.

THE COURT: Well, no. I don't care. I guess I don't care. Was Daugherty listed? I mean, --

MR. YORK: Yes.

THE COURT: I'm sorry. Did you say Daugherty or Dondero?

MR. LANG: Daugherty.

THE COURT: Okay. I'm sorry. So you want to call Daugherty?

MR. YORK: Yes.

THE COURT: And you listed him as a witness?

MR. YORK: Yes.

THE COURT: So you may call Daugherty.

MR. YORK: All right.

MR. MORRIS: Yes. I --

MR. YORK: We'll call Patrick Daugherty, then.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: I don't believe Dugaboy did, but --

MR. YORK: Right.

MR. MORRIS: -- if they -- if they want to call him, by all means.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Yep.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Daugherty, if you could approach the witness box, I will swear you in. Please raise your right hand.

PATRICK DAUGHERTY, PATRICK DAUGHERTY'S WITNESS, SWORN

THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

THE WITNESS: Oh, wow. A lot of water up here.

THE COURT: Plenty of water for everyone.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. YORK:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Daugherty. Could you state your name for the record, please?

A Patrick H. Daugherty.

Q Mr. Daugherty, are you a creditor in the Highland Capital bankruptcy?

A Yes, I am.

Q All right. And would you turn to, in the Daugherty exhibit binder, turn to Exhibit 1, please?

A Yes.

Q And this is a settlement agreement between you and Highland Capital Management relating to claims -- your proof of claim that you made in this bankruptcy, correct?

A Yes.

Q And we looked earlier. You were in the courtroom for Mr. Seery's testimony, correct?

A I was.

Q All right. And we talked in Section 9 about the defined Reserved Claim in there. Do you remember that?

A I did.

Q All right. Can you describe what --

A I consider it the Compensation Claim, but yes.
Q Can you describe what the Reserved Claim is?
A Yeah. Basically, it, background, it dates back to the financial crisis of 2008, 2009. Highland was on the brink of filing for bankruptcy. We had a creditor bank led by Bank of America and Scotia, and we were in default. And so the banks came in, declared default, and basically put a limit or terminated our ability to pay cash bonuses. And that -- right after Lehman Brothers failed, so call it September 2008 and going into 2009.

And the problem with that is we were losing people right and left. We had about 22 senior-level guys. We were down -- and I say guys. I think there were some women, too. But we were down to about 12 people. And they were trying to stem the tide of people running out of the doors in order to save the value of Highland. We started the year at about $40 billion under management, and by that time, we were -- I think we were as low as $19 or $20 billion under management.

Hedge funds were rolling up. CLOs did fine. Private equity did fine. Retail funds were having problems. And separate accounts were okay. But we were definitely a firm in crisis and trying to hold on to people.

So the nature of this compensation claim, you know, every year, everybody except Dondero and Okada would get what's called a compensations and award letter. Because Dondero and Okada were really the only partners. I think you can kind of see that, given your experience. They were called the founding partners. They were the only ones that got true distributions from the firm annually. Guys like us, you know, the other 12 or so, we got cash bonuses and incentive comp and deferred comp. And, you know, obviously, cash compensation was a big part of our compensation, and they were prohibited from the banks from paying it.

So Dondero, with the help of Rick Swadley and some of the other tax people, I don't know if we used out outside firms or not, they came up with this scheme, if you will, where Highland was going to go and use whatever they came up with with the partnerships and whatnot and then generate a tax refund to the senior-level guys. As or in lieu of the cash bonuses that couldn't be paid, they were going to go make these elections and then we were going to get this money.

And if you look at our awards agreement, it says you're going to get x amount of money. And it's in the line that historically is the cash bonus.

Also, when we got like our email or whatever that year from Patrick Boyce, our CFO, he was like, Congratulations, your bonus this year was x. And it was whatever that amount was on your compensation and award letter.

Well, several of us had the same accountant, John Garvey, at Bland Garvey. Me, Joe Daugherty, and Davis Deadman. And we took this concept to our accountant and he's like, man, that's really precedent. And so you guys are going to have to basically protect yourselves from -- sorry, go ahead. Make your objection. I'm sure I'm --

MR. MORRIS: I just, I just don't remember what the question was at this point and he's testifying to --

THE WITNESS: Why I got this thing.

THE COURT: It was --

THE WITNESS: My apologies.

MR. MORRIS: -- to conversations and hearsay.

THE COURT: What is the --

MR. YORK: Let me ask a question and I'm going to try to --

THE COURT: -- proof of claim about, was the essence of the question.

MR. YORK: Yeah. Right.

THE COURT: So I sustain. We're getting a little narrative, shall we say.

THE WITNESS: My apologies.

MR. YORK: So, --

THE WITNESS: I'll tighten it up.

BY MR. YORK:

Q All right. So, Mr. Daugherty, what you were getting under this scheme, as you describe it, was a cash bonus that was masked as a refund, correct?

A Look, Highland paid for it however they're going to pay for it. They're the one who created whatever that they did. But for us, it was a cash bonus.

Q Okay.

A But given that I was -- what I was just alluding to, there were concerns about the tax impacts if the IRS didn't agree with Highland. And so what we did is we negotiated for and got from Dondero -- really, I mean, Jim ultimately made the decisions at Highland. He said, look, if you don't -- if this doesn't work, if it doesn't go through, we'll make you whole. And so we got that provision in the compensation and award letter that says if the actual refund deviates materially from the refund, then you'll get substitute compensation. And that was enough for us, --

Q And --

A -- and that's what led to this claim.

Q And was it your understanding that, in terms of making you whole, that was not just whatever you had to pay back for the refund, but also interest and penalties?

A Yeah.

MR. MORRIS: Objection. Leading.

THE COURT: Sustained.

THE WITNESS: That's fair enough.

BY MR. YORK:

Q What was your understanding as to what that 'make you whole' constituted?

A It was basically to put me and the others back in the position of getting to that number that was listed in the document. So if there were any interest, penalties, pullbacks from the IRS, then we would be made whole at that -- we'd get back the net of that number. However, if the IRS was fine with it, we wouldn't get anything.
Q So there's a chance, depending on how the IRS audit turns out, if the IRS says what Highland did was fine, then you don't owe the IRS anything, right?
A Yeah. That's been a critical thing, that I may not owe the IRS anything, and certainly I wouldn't expect Highland to give me anything.
Q And at that point, what's been reserved as your reserved claim would effectively at that point, from the IRS perspective, the IRS audit perspective, would be a zero dollar amount, right?
A Yeah. I mean, more so. I mean, Jim Seery offered to buy me out with an amount of the reserved claim. And I said, listen, I'm not looking for a windfall here. What I'm looking for is to be made whole, --
Q Right.
A -- it's my insurance policy on what I earned back in 2008, because the alternative is I will have ended up working for free in 2008, plus have to pay penalties and interest going forward that could wipe out my net worth.

Q All right.

A So I wanted the insurance policy aspect of it.

Q So you heard Mr. Seery's testimony earlier where he said the total amount you would owe was somewhere in the range of $1.4 to $1.5 million if there was --

A He's wrong about that, if that's what he said.

Q Why?

A At the time -- I think the number he was referencing was in our claim number that I filed back in, I want to say, October 2020. And the $1.45 million, what was in the compensation -- was the number in the compensation and awards letter.

The other number that I spoke about from the gallery out there was one point -- I don't know, whatever the interest -- whatever I guessed the interest might be. And then I didn't have anything for penalties. So, at that particular time, took those numbers and said, okay, if the IRS says no way on all this, this is what I'd have to pay, not including penalties.

Q All right. So you've seen today and you listened to the testimony about the footnote in Highland's adversary complaint against you in which they say that the resolution may not be until 2029 of this IRS audit?

A That's correct. I've heard that.

Q All right.
A I've seen it and heard it.
Q All right. As you've sat here today, have you done any calculation back of the napkin to try to estimate what your potential exposure would be to the IRS in terms of interest and penalties as a result of that audit dispute if it wasn't resolved until 2029?
A Yeah. I listened to the judge. I went and ran '33 because that was a number that was just thrown out. At '33, if it's 2033, it's $7.4 million, and if it's 2029 it's $5.7 million.
Q What sort of financial impact would that have on you?
A The latter would pretty much wipe me out. I'm sorry. The former would -- the $5.7 million would wipe me out. The latter would cause me to file for bankruptcy.
Q Okay. Mr. Seery also discussed his -- that he had heard through the grapevine that the IRS audit had been resolved. Has anyone from Highland ever told you that the IRS audit is resolved?
A No one's told me that from anywhere, anyhow, anyway.
Q Have you had a conver... have you had -- so nobody at all, right?
A No one at all.
Q Have you -- did you have a conversation recently with Kurt Plumer over it?

A I did. I had lunch with him at Hillstone.
Q Did he mention it at all?
A No.
Q All right. Could you turn with me to, in your exhibit binder, Exhibit 8, please?
A Yeah.
Q All right. Can you just identify for us what this document is?
A This is a letter I got from the IRS dated November 20th, 2024, basically telling me that the case is open and I may owe money.
Q And specifically, if we look at the first paragraph, it says, "Why You're Receiving This Letter," in bold, right?
A It does.
Q And then below that it says: We might have to adjust your tax return based on our examination of the Highland Capital Management listed above.
Did I read that part correctly?
A Yes.
Q And so is it your understanding that your -- that this is related to the IRS audit of Highland?
A That is my understanding.
Q And that your tax return, your personal tax return may be adjusted as a result of that?
A Mine and my wife's.

Q Which would mean you're subject to interests and penalties as well?
A As is she.
Q Okay. And is this the only letter you've ever received from the IRS?
A No.
Q Related to the Highland Capital Management audit?
A No.
Q All right. Do you receive these periodically?
A Yes. The initial one came I want to say about five months after we filed the returns in two thousand -- it was for the calendar year 2008, so it was April 15th, 2009, I want to say. Maybe it was -- I think the first one came around October, late October 2009.
Q And --
A Like this. I can't -- I don't remember it verbatim.
Q Is this the last communication you have received from the IRS relating to Highland's IRS audit?
A This was it. Yeah.
Q Okay. Has anyone from the IRS ever told you that an FPAA has been issued --
A No.
Q -- with respect to the Highland's audit?
A No. I don't even know what that -- I didn't even know what that was.

Q And you've never received an FPAA from the IRS, right?
A I have not.
Q And you've never -- nobody else has ever sent you an FPAA related to the Highland audit, right?
A No.
MR. MORRIS: I'm being kind, but this is just --
THE COURT: It's leading.
MR. MORRIS: -- testifying from the podium.
THE COURT: Sustained.
THE WITNESS: Yeah.
BY MR. YORK:
Q All right. Mr. Daugherty, would you turn -- we'll switch topics real quick to the tolling agreement. Would you turn in Volume 1 of the Highland exhibits to Exhibit 60, please?
A Volume 1, and then which one, I'm sorry?
Q Exhibit 60.
A Yeah. Yes, I'm there.
Q Why did you enter into -- well, back up. Strike that. Start over. This is the tolling agreement extending a claim objection deadline between you and Highland Capital and the Highland Claimant Trust as of July 27th, 2022, correct?
A That is correct.
Q And is it your signature on Page 6 or 7 of the document on the left-hand side?
A It appears to be, yes.

Q All right. Why did you enter in this tolling agreement? Why did you enter into --

A I'm sorry, what was your question?

Q Why did you enter into this tolling agreement?

A Jim Seery had reached out to me in 2022 and said that they had a problem with -- the Court had an objection deadline that was running and that was somewhat inconsistent with the settlement agreement that we had just gotten approved in early March of 2022 that said they couldn't object, they being Highland, object to the legitimacy or amount of my compensation claim.

So he said, look, you know, we're in a little bit of a predicament here. We can go to the Court or we can try and work this out. And I'm like, hey, I'm fine to work it out. I don't want the estate to be burdened or any way. So we went back and forth on the document, and ultimately I felt that it was the right thing to do. The spirit of our settlement was, you know, I -- they couldn't -- they couldn't challenge this part of my claim, but the quid pro quo was I'm not going to be able to beat them out on a technicality by running in here, saying, ah, the objection deadline, you know, expired.

So his solution seemed to be a reasonable one. And we worked with their counsel, I think Demo and to some degree Morris, to work that out for them.

Q How did the estimate come about in Footnote 3?

A I don't know. Nobody ever asked me about it. There was no -- Mr. Morris is right, there was no negotiation about it. Because, frankly, I didn't see that as my problem. They had something to fulfill pursuant to the plan. And there was no back and forth on that reserve amount with Seery whatsoever. He just said, This is what we're doing and, you know, we're going to put this -- and my perception is I didn't have any right to challenge it other than what was in my settlement agreement. And I looked at that as a one-time right to go and seek an estimate, and I didn't want to do it that early in the process.

Q Would you take a look with me at the last recital that's on Page 3 of the document? All right. It says, --

A Oh. You're going to make me read. All right.

Q It says: Whereas, solely to avoid the expense, inconvenience, and uncertainty associated with litigation, and without any party admitting liability, fault, or wrongdoing, or releasing or waiving any rights or defenses with respect to the reserved claim, the parties desire to enter into this agreement to extend the claim objection deadline solely with respect to the reserved claim to January 11th, 2023 at 5:00 p.m. Central Time, defined as the Objection Deadline.

Did I read that part correctly?

A You did.

Q What was your understanding of this recital provision being put in here?

A Well, I think I just kind of summarized it. There was a problem that the parties didn't, you know, fully recognize could occur that would give me a windfall, and so this was to kind of solve that on an interim basis until we got to a final resolution on this tax refund thing.

I mean, the honest truth, God -- Judge. Not God, Judge. But the honest-to-God's truth is Seery and I had a very good relationship, and we were going back and forth, and his view was that this thing could get resolved in 2022.

Q Did you have an understanding as to whether or not you were reserving all rights with respect to your reserved claim under the terms of the tolling agreement?

A Absolutely I did. Both in emails and in the document.

Q All right.

MR. YORK: Pass the witness.

THE COURT: All right. Any cross? I'm assuming Dugaboy did not have questions. And, Mr. Daugherty, I should have --

MR. LANG: No, we do not.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Cross?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Daugherty. Take your time.

A How are you, Mr. Morris?

Q Good. I just have a few questions. You have been paid in full on your Class 9 claim, correct?

A Evidently, yes.

Q And that Class 9 claim was for $3.7 million, correct?

A I believe it was $3.75 million.

Q Thank you for the clarification. Do you recall how many payments you received that resulted in your receipt of $3.75 million?

A I don't.

Q When you received those payments, did you tell Mr. Seery -- did you send it back to Mr. Seery out of any concern that your Class 8 claim has not been resolved?

A No.

Q When you received those payments, did you object to Mr. Seery or to anybody else that it was improper for the other Class 9 holders to receive the payments when your Class 8 claim had not been resolved?

A I had no idea what they were receiving.

Q Did you have any reason to believe that you were receiving a benefit that the other Class 9 claim holders were not receiving?

A Again, I had no idea what they were receiving, so I can't compare the two.

Q Okay. But it is true that you accepted without protest your Class 9 payments, even though your Class 8 claim had not been resolved, correct?

A I think that's accurate.
Q Okay. I think you mentioned in your proof of claim it had $1.4 million; is that right?
A Again, I'm cuffing it. If you could grab it, I'll -- I want to say it was -- the proof of claim had two components, as I mentioned. There was a, as I mentioned, there was the compensation award amount from my compensation letter of like $1.475 million.
Q Uh-huh.
A Don't quote me on that, but close enough.
Q Approximate.
A And then an interest component that would take me up to that particular time if the IRS reversed it.
Q Okay.
A But no penalties were included.
Q And that approximately $1.45 million, that's money that you received back in 2009?
A I didn't get that full amount in 2009. That was -- I don't want to broaden this up too much, but many times what was promised was not what was delivered. So I got a lesser amount from the IRS.
Q How much less did you receive?
A I want to say, on a net basis, it was just under $1.2 million.

Q Okay. And so it's true that you've had the benefit of the $1.2 million for 15 years now?
A When you say the benefit, what do you mean?
Q It went into your pocket 15 years ago.
A Yeah, but it's a contingent liability I have back to the IRS, so I can't say that it's, you know, not without reservations.
Q But you've had possession of that million and a half dollars now for 15 years, correct?
A Right. And with it comes an obligation --
Q Okay.
A -- contingent back to the IRS.
Q Your claim is a prepetition claim; is that right?
A What do you mean by my claim? Are you talking about the compensation one?
Q Yes.
A Yeah. I mean, that -- that contractual obligation originated in, well, yeah, February 2009.
Q It's not an administrative claim, right?
A I don't believe so, no.
Q It's just -- it's just a claim that existed prior to the petition date. Fair?
A That is fair.
Q Okay. With respect to the reserve, you did agree to that amount of the reserve, fair?

A I did not. I mean, I -- I signed the document, but I did not agree to that amount.
Q Well, --
A I did not negotiate for it or anything like that.
Q Well, but if you turn to Exhibit 60 that you just looked at, --
A sure.
Q -- and you go towards the end of the document, that is your signature on the first Page 7, right?
A Yeah. I've already admitted that.
Q And Paragraph 1 of the agreement that you signed specifically set the reserve at the amount set forth in Paragraph 1, correct?
A That much is true.
Q Okay. And you --
A You just said, did I agree to it, and I'm like, it was in the document.
Q It's in the agreement that you signed, correct?
A For sure.
Q Okay. And you've never asked for that amount to be adjusted, correct?
A I've spoken many times to Mr. Seery and told him that it will need to be adjusted upward as years go by. We've had quite a dialogue along those lines.
Q Okay. But he's never agreed to do that, correct?

A He said when the time comes, we'll figure out -- listen, we had a very collaborative relationship up until like the last year. And so it was like, hey, I'm not going to press you. You don't -- he's fighting off Dondero right and left. You know, and I'm like, I don't want to get in the middle of all this. You go do what you've got to do. We'll both sit tight. In fact, there was dialogue to that very effect.

Q Uh-huh.

A And so this was just all part of sitting tight, thinking that the right thing would be done when we got final analysis to this.

Q Okay. So would you just agree with me that, since signing this agreement, you haven't come to court to seek an adjustment --

A No.

Q -- of the reserve?

A I did not want to be a burden.

Q Okay. And since signing this agreement back in 2022, you and Mr. Seery have not come to an agreement on any adjustment to the reserve, correct?

A We have not.

Q Okay. Do you believe that you have claims against Highland's employees?

MR. YORK: I'm going to object on relevance grounds. Also, outside the scope.

THE COURT: What is the relevance?

MR. MORRIS: We're going to get to the $20 million demand in a moment. I'm laying the foundation. But we have anybody on anybody --

THE COURT: But what's the $20 million demand?

MR. MORRIS: I'll get to it in a moment.

THE WITNESS: There's --

THE COURT: I can't figure out if --

MR. MORRIS: I can make a proffer if you'd like.

THE COURT: -- that's relevant.

MR. MORRIS: I can make a proffer, Your Honor. I'll tell you. I'll tell you right now.

On June 5th, Mr. York called me and said that Mr. Daugherty asserts that he has claims against the Highland employees, and if Highland didn't pay him $20 million he was going to sue them, and he was going to file this objection together with a petition in the Supreme Court opposing Highland's request to stay the issuance of a mandate in the Fifth Circuit.

MR. YORK: First off, if Mr. Morris is going to become a witness, we've got a problem here. Secondly, any sort of communications between us would be 408. And third, it's not relevant to the issue we're here on today.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: My response to that, Your Honor?

THE COURT: All right. I'm going to allow a little latitude, --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- but I'm still unclear --

MR. MORRIS: It's about -- it's about three questions.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: It's about three questions.

THE COURT: You may proceed.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Do you believe you have claims against Highland's employees?

A Me personally, no.

Q Okay. Do you -- did you authorize your lawyer to call me and to demand $20 million in exchange for a release and your standing down from filing any objection to this motion?

A I'm not aware that that ever happened. Nobody demanded anything of you.

Q Really?

A Yeah.

Q Do you know that your lawyer used the number $20 million to me?

A Oh, I've read the emails back and forth between you.

Q So why don't you explain to Judge Jernigan what your understanding is as to what your lawyer meant when used $20 million to me.

A I can't say for sure what he meant, but I can tell you from my perspective what I understood.

Q What did you understand?

A I have another entity that I picked up in the settlement with Highland called the Highland Employee Retention Asset Fund. And again, pursuant to the settlement agreement, I mean -- I guess supposedly, I guess, when I think about it, I do have claims individually, because it's with me, that agreement.

But it said that Highland had to turn over all the books and records of the HERA fund. And Mr. Morris was on many of those emails. And they had turned over some of the books and records, but they didn't turn over any of the books and records that implicated Thomas Surgent and David Klos in defrauding HERA in allocating Highland's expenses when they were litigating me, against me, back to HERA.

So I do have a settlement agreement with Highland and these employees, but Highland Employee Retention Assets needs their books and records. And we've made it very clear to you on numerous emails where you, you know, kind of muscled up on us and said this is all you're going to get and tough if you don't like it or whatever.

And so the deeper we get into this, we did get discovery from others, we found that Highland's been withholding material information.

So as it relates to -- I mean, you're doing that little squeaky thing, and I think he's a fantastic lawyer, but the reality is you guys have created some damages to HERA that you may be accountable for. Your clients, not you.

Q Okay. In the four years since we signed the settlement agreement, you've never asserted a breach of contract claim, have you?

A Well, because we thought you were complying with it. So if you want to go into the details there, in 2022, we were -- asked for more information. 2023, we asked for more information. 2024, we asked for more information. And so those are continuing breaches.

Again, I -- I don't want to go to war with Highland. You're too damn good of an attorney, you're scaring me a little bit. But --

Q I don't want to.

A You know, listen. You know I think well of you.

Q I appreciate that.

A But, you know, I mean, I just wanted the information. I'm not looking to go to war with you guys. I got enough battles that I've got to fight. And so, you know, I guess a number was thrown out or whatever. I don't know the full context of it. But it wasn't -- it wasn't for this IRS compensation issue.

Q But what was the -- my last question. What was the $20 million demand for?

A Again, it's just a number. Y'all were having settlement negotiations. So, I mean, you work off of it.

Q All right.

MR. MORRIS: I have no further questions, Your Honor.

THE WITNESS: Yeah.

THE COURT: All right. Any redirect?

MR. PHILLIPS: I have no questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Okay.

MR. YORK: Apologies. I wanted to make sure.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. YORK: No redirect, Your Honor.

EXAMINATION BY THE COURT

THE COURT: Okay. If you've watched Highland hearings, you know the judge sometimes has questions. I am still trying to understand the 1.4, the 1.2, the 1.475. I understand broadly that, in essence, a cash bonus was negotiated back in early 2009, I think you said.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

THE COURT: After 2008. And so that's, in essence, what was contractually negotiated. But I understand there was a hook, if you will, we're calling it a contingency, whatever word you want to use, where if one day there was an IRS audit and I guess Highland had extra liability for 2008, that this

-- I don't know if I understood it or not.

THE WITNESS: Do you want me to try and guess what you're asking, or --

THE COURT: Try to guess what I'm asking. Again, I'm --

THE WITNESS: The liability -- so, Highland chose to use this tax scheme as a currency to pay us a cash bonus. From our perspective, we weren't stupid. We're like, well, okay, that's great, but if the IRS says --

THE COURT: Okay, I just want to know what -- you say you were contractually entitled to $1.4 million.

THE WITNESS: That's what I was supposed to get for that bonus year.

THE COURT: Okay. But there was a tax contingency, if you will, where -- that's where I want you to jump in.

THE WITNESS: So, Highland had a tax problem. They came up with this mechanism to use whatever they were doing with the IRS to create the cash to pay us a bonus. We looked at it and said, well, this looks fishy -- by the way, every year before that and after that, I've just gotten a cash bonus. But for this one year, when the banks are saying, no, no, no, we get this. And so we looked at this and said, look, this sounds fishy, but if you can't pull it off, we need to be made whole. I can't be in a situation where here I am in 2025 and I may have to pay $5, $6 million to the IRS for the pleasure of working at Highland.

THE COURT: Okay. See, that's where my disconnect is.

THE WITNESS: Uh-huh.

THE COURT: Because I thought this all turned on a Highland tax return.

THE WITNESS: Oh, no, no. So, Highland did the planning and the creation of the scheme, and I guess ultimately it was Highland's tax return, but it flowed through to us as pass-throughs. K-1s, what have you.

THE COURT: Right.

THE WITNESS: So I guess it's both.

THE COURT: Okay. You were a partner.

THE WITNESS: Well, that's debatable, too. That's debatable, too, because I had a --

THE COURT: Okay. I thought you weren't, but --

THE WITNESS: Well, I wasn't --

THE COURT: But you got -- okay. Let me just skip to, --

THE WITNESS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- I guess, the important part. You did, you got paid? You said $1.2 million?

THE WITNESS: Yeah. I got a refund back from the IRS for around that amount. Slightly under $1.2 million.

THE COURT: So the contingency you are worried about that you think gives you a contingent claim against Highland is, what, the IRS comes back and says --

THE WITNESS: And they say, Give us that money back plus interest plus penalties or we're taking your house. And it's a very real threat, because this has gone on, as you've noted, forever. And I went from having a one-point-whatever bonus to possibly having to pay six, seven, eight, I don't know how long this lasts, million dollars back to the IRS for an election that was made by them. As a substitute for paying me a cash bonus the regular way, they did it this way. And that's why we put and negotiated for that term in the compensation agreement that said, if for whatever reason the actual refund is different, we get made whole.

THE COURT: Okay. I may be overthinking this, I do do that sometimes, but I'm still, I'm trying to understand why your claim would escalate up to, you know, you said maybe $5.7 million if, in 2029, this all plays out with the IRS.

THE WITNESS: That --

THE COURT: Because you've gotten the benefit of that money and --

THE WITNESS: Well, no, because if the IRS says --

THE COURT: -- return on that.

THE WITNESS: Sorry. I didn't mean to interrupt.

THE COURT: You know what I'm saying? So I'm trying to figure out why it would grow in the way that you're suggesting.

THE WITNESS: Can I respond?

THE COURT: Yes.

THE WITNESS: So I've gotten money that the IRS says is not mine. Right? And the IRS says --

THE COURT: And you've had the use of it.

THE WITNESS: Oh, yes.

THE COURT: You've presumably invested it and --

THE WITNESS: Well, no, I mean, you can't --

THE COURT: Well, you've had the ability to. Uh-huh.

THE WITNESS: But you don't want to take risk with something that's not yours, so you're kind of limited, right? But I have, I have that amount of money. Here's the problem, Your Honor, with that. If the IRS says, Give us back our money, here's the interest, here's the principal. Oh, by the way, if it's $7, $8 million, I can't -- I don't have that. I've got to file for bankruptcy in order to give the IRS back money that I'm having to pay them for the pleasure that I had of working for Highland in 2008 when I helped save the company and create a lot of the assets that paid all these people in the room. MGM Studios, Trussway.

THE COURT: Okay.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

THE COURT: Yeah. We are going beyond this.

THE WITNESS: Fair enough.

THE COURT: I was just, I'm zeroing in on this because I'm trying to figure out, I mean, it matters to me if that reserve is likely fair enough, the reserve I'm told you agreed to is fair enough. And I'm having trouble figuring out, I mean, if you've had the use of this money for 17 years or whatever that is, why you would get this extra interest add-on that you're -- $5.7 million or whatever it would be. You know, $3 million more.

THE WITNESS: Can I answer that question?

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

THE WITNESS: Because the IRS didn't look at it as my money. They looked at it as their money. And so if you look at the plain language of the compensation award letter, if the actual amount deviates from the amount that was granted, then Highland was going to give me substitute compensation to make me whole. Making me whole includes the penalties and the interest that I would owe the IRS. Because if you look at it any other way, I had to pay money to work at Highland.

THE COURT: Do I have that letter in my evidence?

THE WITNESS: You should. Drew?

THE COURT: Do I? Maybe I'll just cut this off and look at the letter.

MR. YORK: It's at Daugherty 2, and it's at the back of --

THE WITNESS: There's multiple letters, but this is one of them.

THE COURT: The letter that you say this claim stems from.

THE WITNESS: Sure.

THE COURT: I'll just cut it off and look at that.

THE WITNESS: Yeah, you can tell her where it is.

MR. YORK: So I think it's at the back of the statement on PD-2. It's at the last page, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Which one?

MR. YORK: P -- Daugherty 2.

THE COURT: Oh, 2? I've got emails.

THE WITNESS: P-2? I don't think so.

THE COURT: Okay. We can move on.

MR. YORK: That's fine. We'll work this out.

THE COURT: Before we're done here today, I want to look at the letter to better understand how the claim could grow substantially to --

MR. YORK: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- $5.7 million by 2029. Okay. Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You're excused.

THE WITNESS: Oh, I found -- I just found it and then I closed it.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, you can --

THE WITNESS: My bad.

THE COURT: -- call my attention to it when you find it.

THE WITNESS: All right.

(The witness steps down.)

THE COURT: All right. Your next witness?

MR. YORK: I believe we're calling Mark Patrick.

THE COURT: All right, Mr. Patrick. All right. Please raise your right hand.

MARK PATRICK, DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST'S WITNESS, SWORN

THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

And, Courtney, you're going to start the clock going. I show 2:12. I don't know if my clock's right.

You may proceed.

MR. LANG: And, Your Honor, may I hand the witness -- this is from Mr. Morris' opening. May I use this as Exhibit 3?

THE COURT: Oh, okay. You're talking about the back page of his PowerPoint?

MR. LANG: Yes. Org chart.

THE COURT: Yes. I've got it in front of me. And for the record, I'm going to put this PowerPoint, even though it's not an exhibit per se, as a demonstrative aid in the file for this matter. And so it's the last item of the Highland PowerPoint. All right.

MR. LANG: Yes.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, does this Hunter Mountain Investment Trust org chart that I just handed you accurately reflect the structure of the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust ownership today?

A Just give me a few moments to review.

Q Sure.

MR. LEWIS: Your Honor, I had mentioned early on that we object to this whole line of questioning because it's outside the scope of the objection of Dugaboy. And I don't want to interrupt, but I want to make sure that my objection is continuing, because this has nothing to do with the objection presented by Dugaboy.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. PHILLIPS: So we object to the question.

THE COURT: Okay. So the record will reflect basically a running objection from Hunter Mountain?

MR. PHILLIPS: We would appreciate that, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. In light of the failure of Dugaboy to disclose Mark Patrick as a witness, as well as the failure to challenge in a written objection his authority. Okay. So I recognized that this was quite a persuasive objection, but given the magnitude, I would say, of what is going on here, potentially a settlement that could come very close to ending this long-running plan implementation process, I'm erring, if it's an error, I'm erring on the side of allowing this. All right. But you have a running objection that the record will reflect if one day there is an appeal.

MR. MORRIS: And, Your Honor, the Highland Claimant Trust and the Highland Litigation Subtrust and Highland Capital Management, LP join Mr. Phillips' objection.

THE COURT: Okay. Understood.

MR. PHILLIPS: Thank you very much, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, have you had time to study this Hunter Mountain Investment Trust org chart?

A Yes, I have.

Q And does this accurately show the ownership structure for Hunter Mountain Investment Trust today?

A I'm not sure, without reviewing the underlying corporate documents on some of these entities that you have listed here.

Q Did you help prepare this chart?

A No.

Q No? Okay. So Hunter Mountain Investment Trust is owned by Beacon Mountain, LLC, correct?

A Yes.

Q And Beacon Mountain, LLC is owned by CLO Holdco, LLC, correct?

A Correct.
Q And CLO Holdco, LLC is owned by CLO Holdco, Limited?
A That's correct.
Q And CLO Holdco, Limited is owned by Charitable DAF Fund, LP?
A Correct.
Q And Charitable DAF Fund 1, LP is owned by CDMC FAD, LLC?
A The ultimate beneficial owner is DFW Charitable Foundation. To my -- to the best of my recollection, I would say that appears accurate. I'm just not a hundred percent.
Q Okay. And --
A But I am a hundred percent that DFW Charitable Foundation is the ultimate beneficial owner. And I'm a hundred percent that Dugaboy Investment Trust has no interest in it. And I'm also a hundred percent that The Dallas Foundation or any --
MR. LANG: Judge, I haven't asked --
THE WITNESS: -- or any other nonprofit has any --
MR. LANG: -- any of these questions.
THE COURT: Okay. There's an objection, nonresponsive. I sustain.
BY MR. LANG:
Q Mr. Patrick, before December of 2024, Charitable DAF Fund, LP was owned by Charitable DAF Holdco, correct?
A (Pause.) I'm just waiting for a relevancy. I don't understand how that's relevant to my authority --

THE COURT: Okay. You're not allowed to make a relevancy objection. Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, I think the problem is that, if I could, we have made an objection. And our objection, our running objection is founded on relevancy and founded on improper process. So I would like to just tell the Court, and so my client representative can hear it, that the fact that I'm not standing up every time there's a problematic question, --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: -- because every question is problematic, my objection is being maintained to every question that's being asked.

THE COURT: Okay. You understand that, right?

THE WITNESS: I --

THE COURT: There's a running relevancy objection. You're the witness. You can't make the objection. But it's on the record for whatever use it might have down the road.

MR. PHILLIPS: I have objected to every question that's coming in connection with this line of questioning on the basis of relevance.

THE COURT: I got it. I think we all have it.

MR. PHILLIPS: I'm just --

MR. LANG: Understood.

THE COURT: Yes. And you're thinking he's eating into your 30 minutes?

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. We've got it.

THE CLERK: I stopped the time.

MR. LANG: So -- thank you.

THE COURT: Did you stop the time for a minute?

THE CLERK: Yes, I did.

MR. LANG: Thank you.

THE COURT: Okay.

BY MR. LANG:

Q So, to my question, before December of 2024, Charitable DAF Fund, LP was owned by Charitable DAF Holdco, correct? Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited?

A And where is that on the chart?

Q I'm asking, before December of 2024, Charitable DAF Fund, LP was owned by Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited.

A Can you show me a corporate document so I know the precise corporation you're referring to?

Q You're the -- you are the manager of -- or the control person of CDHGP Limited, correct?

A Again, I'd have to refresh my recollection, but I am the control person over CDMC.

Q Okay. And CDMC --

A As well as Charitable DAF Fund. I'll represent that to you.

Q Okay. Was there a transaction in December of 2024 where Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited sold its interest or transferred its interest in Charitable DAF Fund, LP to CDMC FAD, LLC?

A I know you're trying to help other litigation and --

MR. PHILLIPS: Mark.

THE COURT: Okay. Nonresponsive.

THE WITNESS: Your Honor, he's using your time to fish for other litigation to support that --

THE COURT: Okay. Okay. We have a running objection to relevance. I'm going to say that one more time. Okay. Just answer the question as best you can.

THE WITNESS: I'd have to review the corporate documents to refresh my recollection for that time period.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Up until December of 2024, Charitable DAF Fund, LP was owned 100 percent by Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited, wasn't it?

A I don't know what entity you're referring to without a refreshment of corporate documents of that entity. There could be a lot of entities called that.

Q You're aware that there is a proceeding in the Caymans investigating the December 2024 transaction that sold -- where Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited sold its interest in -- and or transferred its interest in Charitable DAF Fund, LP to CDMC FAD, LLC?

A There are several parts to that question. So the answer is no.

Q Are you aware of a proceeding pending in the Caymans involving Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited?

A Again, I don't know what entity you're referring to. Show me a -- show me a corporate document.

MR. LANG: Your Honor, this was on the Foundation's exhibit list. We cross-designated any document designated as an exhibit by any other party in this case. And I'd like to hand this to the witness.

MR. MORRIS: Which exhibit is it?

THE COURT: Which is -- yes.

MR. LANG: It was on the -- it was on the DAF -- or, the Foundation's exhibit list.

MR. MORRIS: They haven't been admitted into evidence and they've withdrawn their objection. We object, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes, they've not been admitted.

MR. LANG: Okay. Well, can I --

MR. PHILLIPS: We object to that, Your Honor. We object to any witness --

MR. LANG: We cross-designated every --

THE COURT: I already discussed at the beginning what we were admitting and that was not disclosed.

MR. LANG: Okay.

THE COURT: As I recall, I said you've only designated the plan and settlement agreement, and the answer was yes.

MR. LANG: Okay.

BY MR. LANG:

Q And we're aware that the Joint Official -- are you aware that there is a Joint Official Liquidator appointed over a Charitable DAF entity in the Cayman Islands?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection to form.

THE WITNESS: Again, without more specific --

THE COURT: Overruled. Yes.

THE WITNESS: -- specificity, there could be a thousand different actions that you're referring to, in my mind.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Are you aware that the Joint Official Liquidators in the Caymans are investigating transactions involving Charitable DAF Fund, LP and Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited?

A Again, again, I don't specifically know what you're referring to.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, may I -- excuse me. I don't know that my running objection includes an objection to form for each of the questions. This objection is to form of the questions about, quote, --

THE COURT: What's wrong with the form?

MR. PHILLIPS: -- investigation.

THE COURT: What is wrong with the form of that question? I'm not clear.

MR. PHILLIPS: My objection to form is that the question is an open-ended question with an undefined term, investigation.

THE COURT: Overruled. I don't think that's a vague term. So you may answer.

THE WITNESS: If you show me some document, some complaint or something, I'll be very happy to verify whatever questions related to that. But just giving me verbal words of entities and names and actions, I don't know precisely what you are talking about.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, who set up the entities in the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust org chart that is sitting in front of you?

A I'm sorry. Repeat the question?

Q Who set up the various entities that are in the org chart that is on your -- on the stand?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection to form. Set up. What does that mean?

THE WITNESS: It -- yeah, it's very --

THE COURT: I think we know what it means. Creating, perhaps.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Created?

A Who? Are you asking if I created it?

Q Did you participate in creating them?

A Did I participate? In which ones?

Q CDMC FAD, LLC.

A What do you mean by participate?

Q Were you involved in creating -- did you initiate the creation of CDMC FAD, LLC?

A Lawyers were.

Q Did you engage in any capacity on behalf of any entity? Were you involved in engaging the lawyers to set up CDMC FAD, LLC?

A Yes, I engaged lawyers to set up entities.

MR. LANG: Objection. Nonresponsive.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. LANG: Did you --

THE COURT: He asked about this one particular entity, I think.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Did you --

A Which entity, again, did you ask?

Q CDMC FAD, LLC.

A Yes, I believe I hired a lawyer.

Q And when did CDMC FAD, LLC become a hundred percent owner of Charitable DAF Fund, LP?

A Around the end of March of 2025. I believe.

Q And were you involved in the transaction between -- in which CDMC FAD, LLC obtained a hundred percent interest in Charitable DAF Fund, LP?

A What do you mean by involved? How?

THE COURT: Okay. I can see what's happening here or I have an impression of what's happening here. I feel like you're slowing down this process where I've given 30 minutes to this lawyer. Okay? And I feel like you're feigning confusion. I don't mean to be insulting, but that's how it comes across. Okay? So I need you to speed up your answers and not be confused about things you shouldn't be confused about. Okay?

THE WITNESS: Okay.

THE COURT: I feel like it's late 1980s Dondi. Does anyone know what I mean by that? Okay. We've been there, done that, in the federal courts, and we don't like the looking at -- you're not looking up at the ceiling. That's what they did in Dondi. Confusion. Delay. Okay?

So I don't mean to chastise you. I'm just telling you that you're going to make us be here a lot longer, and nobody wants that, because I will give him extra time for this. Okay?

THE WITNESS: Understood.

THE COURT: Thank you.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Okay. So you were involved in the transaction in which CDMC FAD, LLC acquired 100 percent ownership interest in Charitable DAF Fund, LP in or around March of 2025, correct?

A Correct.

Q Who did CDMC FAD, LLC obtain its interests in Charitable DAF Fund, LP from in March of 2025?

A From an -- from an entity called Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd.

Q Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd., the entity that I asked about earlier, correct?

A Of the same name.

Q Yes. And Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. has had Joint Liquidated -- Liquidators, Joint Official Liquidators appointed over it in the Cayman Islands, correct?

A Yes.

Q And those Joint Official Liquidators were appointed over Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited in or around May 6th, 2025?

A In May is what I recall.

MR. LANG: Your Honor, we'll pass the witness.

THE COURT: All right. Do we have any questions?

MR. YORK: No questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Any cross?

MR. MORRIS: Just briefly, Your Honor.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Mr. Patrick, do you know who initiated the proceedings to get the appointment of the Joint Official Liquidators in the Cayman Islands?

A The director and myself, we initially filed for a voluntary joint liquidation in May.

Q And did there come a time when the Cayman court appointed the Joint Official Liquidators?

A Yes.

Q Do you know who asked the court to appoint the Joint Official Liquidators?

A We did, as well as other -- it was an agreement with the participation holders of that entity.

Q And who are the participation holders of that entity?

A It was the DFW Charitable Foundation as a 51 percent holder as well as the Highland Dallas Foundation, Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, and the Highland Kansas City Foundation.

Q And those three foundations that you just mentioned, do you know who controls them?

A Jim Dondero.

Q Is it your understanding that Mr. Dondero was funding the litigation in the Cayman Islands?

A Yes.
Q The Joint Official Liquidators, are you aware of any statement that they've ever made that you are not authorized to act on behalf of any of the HMIT entities?
A Yeah, they've never made a statement that I'm not authorized to act under any of those entities.
Q Okay. Did you receive a letter last night that was purportedly authored by the Joint Official Liquidators?
A Yes.
Q Did you review that letter?
A Yes.
Q Did that letter refer to today's hearing?
A Yes.
Q Are you aware of the Joint Official Liquidators making any appearance in this proceeding?
A No, I'm not aware they made any appearance in this proceeding.
Q Based on your recollection of the contents of that letter, did the Joint Official Liquidators challenge your authority to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities?
A No, they did not, because there's no ownership interest.
Q Okay. And what do you mean by that?
A The entity in liquidation owns nothing. And the DFW Charitable Foundation is the ultimate beneficial owner.

Q Are you aware that The Dallas Foundation filed an objection to the settlement agreement on behalf of Empower Dallas Foundation, the Okada Family Foundation, and Crown Global?

A Yes.

Q Are you aware that that objection was withdrawn?

A Yes.

Q Was the withdrawal of that objection the product of negotiations that your counsel had with lawyers for The Dallas Foundation and Crown Global?

A Yes, it was.

Q Did The Dallas Foundation or Crown Global require you to surrender your control position of the HMIT entities as a condition to the withdrawal of their objection?

A To give up my control? No.

Q They didn't ask you to do that, did they?

A No. No.

Q You are the control person for each of the HMIT entities that are party to the settlement agreement, correct?

A That is correct.

Q Are you aware of any requirement in any of the governance documents --

MR. CURRY: Your Honor, I'm not questioning, but I'm going to object to the line of questioning here about what was asked and what was not received into negotiations, because, frankly, you're getting an imperfect picture there. And I don't think it should be misrepresented. The communications didn't happen with Mr. Patrick.

THE COURT: Okay. I don't know if that objection was a confidential settlement communications.

MR. CURRY: It's a combination of foundation and that he's going into confidential settlement discussions.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, it's a very simple question. I'll ask it again.

THE COURT: Okay. We'll let --

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q To the best of best of your knowledge, Mr. Patrick, did The Dallas Foundation or any of the entities on whose behalf it filed its objection require you to surrender your position as the control person of the HMIT entities in exchange for the withdrawal of their objection?

A No, they did not.

Q Thank you. Are you aware -- are you familiar with the governance documents for the HMIT entities?

A Yes, I am.

Q Are you aware of any restriction on your ability to act on behalf of those HMIT entities with respect to -- withdrawn. Are you required to obtain the consent of anyone in order to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities?

A No, I am not. I'm the sole authority and control person for that entity.

Q And do you believe that you're entering into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities in good faith?

A Yes, I do.

Q Have you received legal counsel before entering into the agreement?

A Yes, I have.

Q Do you believe that you've negotiated the best terms that you could get on behalf of the HMIT entities?

A Yes, I do.

Q Do you believe that you received the information that you believed you required in order to make an informed decision before you entered into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities?

A Yes, I did.

MR. MORRIS: I have no further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Phillips, anything from you?

MR. PHILLIPS: No questions.

THE COURT: Okay. Any redirect?

MR. LANG: Briefly.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. LANG: Your Honor, because they mentioned the letter of last night from Grant Thornton, the Liquidators, I'm going to offer that into evidence as the letter that we talked about this morning. But Mr. Morris directly asked him if he reviewed it and asked him questions about it.

THE COURT: Response?

MR. MORRIS: No objection, Your Honor. Go right ahead.

THE COURT: I'll admit it.

MR. LANG: This is --

THE COURT: Do I have it in my notebook?

MR. LANG: -- Dugaboy --

THE COURT: Okay.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, I've handed you --

THE COURT: We're going to call this Dugaboy 3?

MR. LANG: Dugaboy 3.

THE COURT: Okay.

(Dugaboy Investment Trust's Exhibit 3 is admitted into evidence.)

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, I've handed you a letter. It's from Grant Thornton dated June 24th, 2025. Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q And is this a true and correct copy of the letter that you received or that you reviewed from the Joint Liquidators that you referred to in your answers to Mr. Morris' questions?

A Well, it's a PDF. I mean, I'm assuming it's from the Official Liquidators.

Q But this is the letter you were referring to in your testimony a few minutes ago?

A Yes.

Q And do you see on the second paragraph it says that, on May 6th, 2025, the Grand Court of Cayman Islands Financial Services Division appointed Margot MacInnis and Sandipan Bhowmik, each of Grant Thornton Special Services (Cayman) Limited, as the Joint Official Liquidators of the company. Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q And do you see on the second page, it says: Since our appointment, we have been diligently investigating these transactions, including a corporate transaction that occurred in or around December 2024 where the company transferred a hundred percent of its interest in the Fund to CDMC FAD, LLC, which resulted in the company being the sole member of CDM and subsequent redemptions of the company's interests in CDM.

Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q Is that your understanding of what is happening in the Caymans right now, is investigating these transactions?

A Correct.

MR. LANG: Pass the witness.

MR. MORRIS: May I just have that letter, please?

THE COURT: Any recross?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah, just real brief.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q None of the transactions that you were just asked about has anything to do with any of the HMIT entities, correct?

A That's absolutely correct.

Q Okay. And now that we have the letter in the record, if you could look at the third paragraph. Do you see --

A Yeah.

Q Do you see it refers to the Highland Dallas Foundation, Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, and Highland Kansas City Foundation?

A Yes.

Q Are those the three entities that you referred to earlier that are, to the best of your understanding, controlled by Mr. Dondero?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And this is the letter that you said you reviewed and concluded that the Joint Official Liquidators weren't challenging your authority to enter into the agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities; do I have that right?

A Yes. Yes, you do.

MR. MORRIS: I have no further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. I have a question or two.

EXAMINATION BY THE COURT

THE COURT: And again, I apologize if I sounded harsh earlier. I recognize different people present different ways when they testify. It just appeared to me that maybe we were slowing things down unnecessarily. All right?

THE WITNESS: I apologize, too. I'm just a little emotionally upset they're using this proceeding for a benefit someplace else.

THE COURT: Okay. My question, very general question: Do you think this settlement is fair and equitable as far as HMIT is concerned?

THE WITNESS: Absolutely.

THE COURT: And could you tell me why?

THE WITNESS: Yeah. There was no obvious pathway for HMIT to, in my mind, to receive the residual interest of the bankruptcy estate without a settlement with the Debtor. Otherwise, it just seemed to me that it would go on forever. And then I balanced that against the existing litigation and the probability of the outcome weighted against the costs, and determined that it made sense from HMIT's perspective to enter into the settlement agreement.

THE COURT: Okay. And you understand that, as part of this, you're giving up some litigation claims that have been waged now for a couple of years or more?

THE WITNESS: That is correct, but I'm also receiving the Kirschner Litigation, which I did negotiate to receive.

THE COURT: Okay. And there was a note that the estate -- I've heard it called at some point the $57 million note that HMIT owed Highland, a December 2015 note -- that basically gets credited against the capital account. You understand that?

THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.

THE COURT: Okay. And then you understand that if I approve this deal, I'm not sure why there's going to be $500,000 to HMIT and then also another $10 million to HMIT, but subsequent payments could get held up if there are litigation threats to the Highland Claimant Trust. You understand that, correct?

THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.

THE COURT: Okay. I just, I have to ask. I'm confused about what's going on here. I thought that -- well, let me just ask this: Would you consider yourself crossways with Mr. Dondero now?

THE WITNESS: No, but I'll answer the question. Upon advice of counsel, I quit Skyview Group. And upon advice of counsel, I terminated the back office services that Skyview Group was providing to the DAF.

THE COURT: Okay. Well, you said you're getting maybe a little emotional because of other litigation. I'm just trying -- I don't understand what all that other --

THE WITNESS: Unrelated -- well, unrelated to that. They're clearly trying to use this forum to benefit their Cayman actions. They hired U.S. counsel called Reed Smith, and they've been begging for an organization chart to issue a variety of frivolous lawsuits against the operating DAF entities. So I do apologize, but that's a little upsetting to me because I know we're going to -- that I've just fed them a list of targets in another unrelated matter.

THE COURT: Okay. Reed Smith. Here we go again with -- they've made an appearance for Mr. Seery in this litigation.

MR. MORRIS: Exactly. And we have raised that issue.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And I'm surprised to hear that they think they still have the ability to do this. But we will pursue that later.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. I had nothing further. Thank you, Mr. Patrick.

(The witness steps down.)

THE COURT: All right. So where are we now? I said that, again, just trying to balance the playing field, if Dugaboy was given the ability to question Mr. Patrick, then I would allow I guess you want to call it rebuttal in the form of the Debtor, Reorganized Debtor/Claimant to call Mr. Dondero. Do you choose to call him?

MR. MORRIS: I'm not.

THE COURT: Oh, and I guess I'll allow you, --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- if you want to put on your client representative, Mr. Lang.

MR. LANG: We call Jim Dondero.

THE COURT: All right. Yes, we are timing.

Please raise your right hand, sir, Mr. Dondero.

JAMES "JIM" DONDERO, DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST'S WITNESS, SWORN

THE COURT: All right. Thank you. The time is running.

THE WITNESS: Thank you for the time.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Dondero, do you claim that Mr. Patrick lost authority to enter into the 9019 settlement -- or, the settlement agreement that's the subject of the 9019 motion today?

A Yes.

Q And when do you claim Mr. Patrick lost authority to enter into that settlement agreement?

A I think it's best if I give a timeline. He left Sky -- can I give a --

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, Your Honor. Nonresponsive.

THE COURT: Overruled. He can give a timeline.

THE WITNESS: He left Skyview in October, November, walked out the door, never talked to anybody again, never talked to the charities again except through counsel. Never collected severance, anything else. Just walked out the door.

As part of Skyview's review of what he'd been working on and what was the nature and what might have been happening, they discovered numerous abnormalities. They discovered--

THE COURT: Do we have an objection?

MR. MORRIS: We do. We're not going to use this opportunity to smear Mr. Patrick. If the notion is that the breach of the ability to act with authority occurred in May, he should start his timeline in May.

THE COURT: Well, I assumed he was just giving background to explain.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

THE COURT: So I'll overrule.

THE WITNESS: Thank you. I'm going to just give you a little bit of background. Everything that I'm stating is in the public record. I won't do anything to besmirch Mark Patrick. It's all in the public record. It's all in the Cayman pleadings. But there was affidavits regarding embezzlements by vendors where he would request overbilling and the money sent to his house.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, we're talking about documents outside the scope, not identified, not listed. Objection.

THE WITNESS: It's all --

MR. PHILLIPS: This is not a timeline.

THE COURT: This --

THE WITNESS: It's --

THE COURT: Sustained. We don't have anything in the record. This is --

THE WITNESS: Okay. It's all in the public arena. And so is the insider trading.

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, Your Honor.

THE WITNESS: So, --

THE COURT: Okay. I sustain.

THE WITNESS: Okay. All right.

And then, yeah, and then there was monies missing. There were large amounts of monies missing from the estate. There was unexplained $16 million of expenses in '23.

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, Your Honor. They're --

THE COURT: Okay. Explain the relevance, Mr. Lang.

MR. LANG: I thought he was just giving a background.

THE COURT: It's getting rather --

THE WITNESS: Okay, Your Honor. Well, --

THE COURT: -- colorful, shall we say. All right?

THE WITNESS: Okay. Without giving specifics regarding the embezzlement or --

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor?

MR. MORRIS: We move to strike, Your Honor.

MR. PHILLIPS: We move to strike all of this.

MR. MORRIS: We move to strike all of this.

THE COURT: Okay. I grant. We don't have any evidence of embezzlement.

THE WITNESS: Okay. All right. Without detailing any of the bad acts that we -- that it looked like happened from the investigation, we took all the bad acts and all the investigations and we gave them to the three underlying charities. Let's remember the DAF is a legacy charity I set up 15 years ago, or actually, Mark Patrick did the documentation back when he was a loyal employee. And it was three -- around $300 million and about $600 million of liability, I mean, legal claims and other things that were meant to be a family legacy, where the donations would help the community. We've given out more than $50 million over the years. And the recognition would help our various companies or our families. That's what it was. Okay?

Went to the three underlying charities who were the beneficiaries of the DAF as it existed: Santa Barbara, Dallas Foundation, Kansas City. These are large charities that have been around for a hundred years. I don't control them by any form or fashion. As a matter of fact, the Hunts are $4 billion out of the $6 billion in Kansas City. I think I'm a hundred million or whatever. The DAF was a hundred million. I think the Hunts would be disturbed to hear that I control it.

Anyway, so all those charities were beneficiaries. And so we went to them with all the investigative results. And at first, they tried to verify, they tried to have an audience with Mark Patrick. They wanted details. They wanted what -- financials. They wanted to know what was happening. And nothing was forthcoming from Mark Patrick. He didn't think he owed them any fiduciary responsibilities.

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection. Hearsay.

THE WITNESS: No, that's --

THE COURT: What is the out-of-court statement? I'm not sure.

MR. MORRIS: Mark Patrick thinks that he doesn't owe any fiduciary duties.

MR. PHILLIPS: They did an investigation. They tried to do x. They tried to do y.

THE COURT: Oh, okay. Technically not hearsay, but I think we're getting --

THE WITNESS: Okay.

THE COURT: -- a little far beyond the subject matter. So if we could reign it in, please.

THE WITNESS: Okay. In February, they were noted, they were notified, or, in particular, Dallas Foundation was notified that their Empower subsidiary, which owned a hundred percent of the HMIT interests that we were talking about, was transferred to an undisclosed company for a million dollars. Without any transparency, without any understanding of who the new owner was, they filed for receivership in Cayman. To the best of the charity's knowledge and based on all the documentation --

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, objection.

THE COURT: Okay. Let me try to understand the relevance. Do you think I opened this up by asking if there was a falling out essentially between you and Patrick? Is that why you're going into this? Or --

THE WITNESS: No, no, no. No. The falling-out is much bigger than this. But I'm just saying the day receivership was filed was the day Mark Patrick lost authority. And I think anybody would look at it that way. It was for liquidation in the Cayman --

THE COURT: Okay. That's his view and we'll either see the --

THE WITNESS: Okay.

THE COURT: -- documents that support that or not.

THE WITNESS: All right. So, your -- yes. Because the question was when do I think he lost authority. I -- you could make the argument he lost it a lot sooner, because for months beforehand the charities had written him letters saying they wanted their assets distributed in kind, they lost faith in --

THE COURT: Okay.

THE WITNESS: Yeah.

MR. PHILLIPS: Again, Your Honor, objection.

THE COURT: This is hearsay. Okay. I sustain.

THE WITNESS: Okay. Well, they did.

So, eventually, and it takes a lot to get four little old ladies at different charities to get together and agree to file a charity in liquidation, but they did in the Caymans. Okay? And then lo and behold, the response from Mark Patrick was, ha-ha, there are no assets there anymore, I moved them all to my living room --

MR. PHILLIPS: Move to strike, Your Honor.

THE WITNESS: -- at DFW.

MR. PHILLIPS: There's no evidence in the record of this. There was no evidence of any statement. Move to strike.

THE COURT: There's not, right?

THE WITNESS: Well, no, there is, because what Mark Patrick --

THE COURT: Sustained. I don't have it.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, there is no evidence of any of this.

THE WITNESS: Well, Mark Patrick's testimony, he said -- he said that our receivership was right after his receivership. He had liquidated and taken all the assets out from Dallas, Santa Barbara, and whatever, and moved it all to his charity. So when we tried -- when the poor charities in Texas in the U.S. tried to file for liquidation, his response was ha-ha. And there were no assets there, you know, because he had already filed --

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection.

THE WITNESS: He -- he --

THE COURT: Okay, I've sustained the objection to the ha-ha. Okay.

THE WITNESS: Okay. But he had, he had filed --

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, please, move to strike.

THE COURT: Okay. Let's strike everything after that last question. Ask your next question.

MR. LANG: I don't remember what the first question was.

BY MR. LANG:

Q What happened -- or, what's your understanding of the proceedings in the Caymans?

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, objection. Form. Understanding of the proceedings in the Caymans?

MR. LANG: His understanding is, I mean, his understanding. What's his endgame?

THE COURT: All right. I sustain.

MR. LANG: Okay.

THE WITNESS: The Cayman Islands --

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor?

MR. LANG: Hold --

THE COURT: I sustained, so --

THE WITNESS: Oh, sustained. Sorry. Okay.

BY MR. LANG:

Q What is your endgame with respect to your objection over the authority of Mr. Patrick to enter into the settlement agreement that is subject of the 9019?

A The three charities in the U.S. are affected materially. Dallas Foundation can't make payroll as of October. Dallas Foundation --

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, I'll object to this testimony. The Dallas Foundation has withdrawn its objection on behalf of -- Dallas Foundation appearing on behalf of Empower, the Okada Family Foundation, and Crown Global. The Dallas Foundation is no longer a party here and did not even object in its -- an individual capacity. Object.

THE COURT: I sustain the objection. They had an objection. They withdrew it.

Moreover, as I announced early on today, I was really questioning their standing to weigh in.

So in light of all of that, I'm not going to allow testimony regarding the impact there has been on Dallas Foundation as a result of something Mark Patrick may have done. Okay?

THE WITNESS: Okay. I can answer it differently.

THE COURT: Well, wait for your question. Okay.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Well, what -- what is the --

A What is my goal?

Q Well, yes, what is your goal?

THE COURT: Okay. Yes. Why are you objecting? Why is Dugaboy objecting? How about that?

MR. LANG: Safely.

THE WITNESS: Safely. Without stating where the assets are or might be, they are not with the three charities they were with a year ago. They have zero. And I would like to get those assets back.

(Pause.)

THE COURT: Okay. Go ahead. I have a couple of questions, but maybe you'll hit on them.

MR. LANG: Oh.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Dondero, are you asking the Court to -- are you objecting to the settlement agreement that is the subject of the 9019, asking the Court to allow the Joint Liquidators in the Caymans to weigh in on the settlement agreement?

A Yes. Or described a little differently, there's no irreparable harm --

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection. Nonresponsive.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Well, let me ask you this: Are you asking --

THE COURT: Let him answer.

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: Go ahead and answer.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Go ahead.

A There's no irreparable harm for a bit of delay to get to the bottom of where the assets are and what bad deeds have occurred.

Q Is that the reason why you're objecting, is to delay this for 45 days or so?

A Well, I believe the HMIT million-dollar transaction in February was a steal. I believe it was a stolen asset that he -- Mark Patrick's trying to monetize. And I don't believe it's monetized at nearly its fair value. And so I believe that it needs to be reviewed.

Q Are you asking the Court to -- are you objecting simply to allow the Liquidators in the Caymans time to review this transaction and the settlement agreement?

A Yes. There needs to be more time.

Q Okay.

MR. LANG: I'll pass the witness.

THE COURT: All right. Cross?

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Good afternoon, Mr. Dondero.

A How's it going?

Q Okay. You referred to the three underlying charities as being The Dallas Foundation, The Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, and The Highland Kansas City Foundation. Do I have that right?

A The three are The Dallas Foundation, Santa Barbara, Kansas City. There's a holding company or there's an entity below it, below each one that I'm on the board of, but it's separate and distinct from the overall charity.

Q Okay. But the ones that are separate and distinct that have the Highland name, --

A Yes.

Q -- those are the ones that you control, correct?

A No. I'm on the board. There's three or four people on the board.

Q Okay. But --

A But we don't control. Otherwise, you know, we would have not recommended the settlement.

Q Does the Hunt family make their contributions to The Dallas Foundation, The Santa Barbara Foundation, and The Kansas City Foundation, or do they make them to The Highland Dallas Foundation, The Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, and The Highland Kansas City Foundation?

A Most families do it through DAF, so they probably have their own -- they're just involved with Kansas City, as far as I know. I don't know if they're involved in any of these others. But they probably have a Hunt Kansas City.

Q But the ones with the Highland name are the ones who initiated the proceeding in the Cayman Islands to get the Joint Official Liquidators appointed over this entity down there, right?

A Yes, I believe so.

Q And you personally funded that litigation, correct?

A The charities can't make payroll.

Q And the charities, did you tell the charities what's happening here?

A Yes. They're aware.

Q When did you tell the charities what's happening here?

A They've known it for weeks.

Q And they haven't filed any objection in this court, correct?

A They thought it was best for Dallas to file it.

Q And Dallas settled; isn't that right?

A To the surprise of all the other charities.

Q Okay. So today, there's actually no charity who is objecting to the settlement agreement, correct?

A Because it was -- she got bludgeoned in depositions over the weekend and it happened last night and nobody was aware of it.
Q I didn't bludgeon anybody.
A Well, --
Q I don't bludgeon people.
A She switched course after a Sunday full-day deposition or half-day deposition.
Q Okay. So the charities that you speak of aren't objecting, correct?
A Well, if we had more time. We only had six hours' notice that Dallas fell away. I think they probably would object.
Q And you say -- you began to have concerns about Mark Patrick going all the way back to 2023, right?
A 2023? A little bit, yeah.
Q And then you had real concerns in 2024, right?
A Yeah. I mean, he's an odd duck, but he was really odd towards the end.
Q Did you file a declara... is one of those public documents you mentioned in the Cayman Islands, that's your affidavit, right?
A I believe so.
Q Do you want to grab Binder 3 of 3?
A Sure.

Q And turn to Exhibit 119?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And this is the declara... this is the affidavit that you filed in the Cayman Islands?
A Yes.
Q And if you turn to Page 4, in Paragraph 25 you begin to recite events concerning Mark Patrick that concerned you, correct?
A Yes. I'm glad you're bringing this into evidence.
Q Yes. And in the two years since you started having concerns, has anybody sued Mark Patrick for breach of fiduciary duty?
A No.
Q Have you recommended to any of these charities: Mark Patrick is doing wrong, let's go sue him?
A We were unaware on 90 percent of it until he left.
Q You were aware of everything that's in your declaration. It says in 2023, you have notice of these emails. Right? And you did an investigation in 2024, correct?
A Yes. But it took a while to get the affidavits from third parties.
Q You had the whole investigation done in 2024 and nobody sued Mark Patrick, right?
A We didn't sue him. Correct.
Q You're just mad that you lost control. Isn't that right?

A No.
Q Turn to Paragraph 33, please. You accuse Mr. Patrick of misusing material nonpublic inside information. Is that right?
A Yes.
Q What material nonpublic inside information did he abuse?
A I wasn't involved in the specifics. My understanding is that he had an awareness of a tender or some financial transaction and then was providing inside information to attorneys and then had them do something. But I don't -- I don't know the specifics.
Q Sir, under oath, in this affidavit that you submitted to the Cayman Islands, you accuse Mark Patrick of obtaining and abusing material nonpublic inside information. Can you just tell Judge Jernigan what you had in mind?
A Whatever it says I have in mind. I'm just saying I didn't remember the specifics. I can read it, though, if you'd like me to read it.
Q Well, was it something about a put option?
A Yes.
Q Did he tell The Dallas Foundation that it had a put option? Does that refresh your recollection?
A I don't remember the details.
Q Do you remember who the counterparty was to the put option?

A Counterparty. One of the mutual funds.
Q Does it refresh your recollection that it was the Dugaboy?
A No.
Q Do you remember, sir?
A I don't remember.
Q I'm going to try. I'm going to try and refresh your recollection. Do you remember that Mark Patrick suggested to The Dallas Foundation that it could recover millions of dollars if it simply exercised the put option with Dugaboy?
A My recollection is it was a mutual fund, and it wasn't millions of dollars, but it would disrupt the transaction that was already in place. That's my recollection.
Q Okay.
A And I don't see Dugaboy anywhere in here, by the way.
Q I know. I was wondering if you could just -- I asked you, but it doesn't sound like you know specifically what the material nonpublic --
A Well, --
Q -- inside information is that you accused Mr. Patrick of abusing at that time.
A I know it's been reported. We can get you the details.
Q Okay. You, in fact, acted on behalf of HMIT, didn't you?
A Who is HMIT?
Q Apologies. You personally -- there's no question in your mind that Mark Patrick is the Administrator at HMIT, correct?

A I'm sorry, I'm drawing a blank on HMIT. What is HMIT?
Q I apologize. Hunter Mountain Investment Trust.
A Oh. Okay.
Q I'm calling it HMIT.
A Okay. All right. Sorry.
Q I probably not saying it clearly. I apologize. H-M-I-T. HMIT, that's what I call it. Is there something better that you prefer?
A No, that's fine. Yeah.
Q Okay. So HMIT. Mark Patrick is the Administrator at HMIT, right?
A I believe his status, his dirty hands, I believe he's trying to monetize a stolen asset.
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, Your Honor. Nonresponsive.
THE COURT: Sustained.
THE WITNESS: No, I -- I saw it. I don't agree --
MR. PHILLIPS: Objection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sustained.
MR. PHILLIPS: Move to strike.
THE COURT: Granted.
THE WITNESS: I do not agree.
BY MR. MORRIS:
Q Okay. Has he -- he was at one time the Administrator. You would agree with that, right?
A Yes.

Q And did he stop becoming the Administrator in your mind when the Joint Official Liquidators were appointed?
A Yes. I believe.
Q Okay. So, in your mind, that's when it happened?
Can you describe for the Court the relationship between the entity in the Cayman Islands and HMIT?
A The entity in the Cayman Island, as far as we knew, was the org structure that all the assets were either in or controlled by in the organizational structure before all the HGEQ things that you went over earlier with Mark Patrick.
Q Okay. I'm not asking -- it's my fault. Do you believe the entity in the Cayman Islands controls HMIT?
A HMIT was one of the assets that were owned by the charities until it was moved for a million dollar to who know who.
Q And do you know how many layers there are between the Cayman Islands entity and HMIT?
A I do not.
Q Is it fair to -- in your view, do you believe that the Cayman Islands entity had a direct -- withdrawn. Do you believe that the Cayman Islands entity had an indirect ownership interest in HMIT?
A We believed it was direct.
Q Direct. So it was the owner?
A Well, it was -- it was the direct before it got moved in February.

Q Hasn't Beacon always been the owner of -- the beneficial owner of HMIT?

A Then it was Beacon that was moved. There was -- charities were notified in February that, for $1 million, the HMIT was sold to an undisclosed, unknown person.

Q Do you believe that the entity in the Cayman Islands ever had the ability to control Hunter Mountain Investment Trust?

A Yeah. It was an asset in the portfolio.

Q And do you believe that that gives it the right to control HMIT?

A Yes. I think the Liquidators will prove that. I think they can go back in time on bad acts and bad behavior and they can regroup assets to their rightful owners.

Q So your concern here is not with corporate authority, it's with the bad acts. Is that fair?

A Well, no. I think you lose your corporate authority when you're fiducially irresponsible or commit corporate crimes.

Q Okay. But you've never -- you've never brought a lawsuit accusing him of that. Fair?

A I think you'll see a litany of stuff come out of the Cayman Islands.

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection. Nonresponsive.

MR. MORRIS: I'm sure we might someday.

THE COURT: Sustained.

THE WITNESS: Yeah. But, no. But I have not, no.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Yeah. But you personally, have you ever been the Administrator of Hunter Mountain Investment Trust?

A Not that I'm aware of.

Q Have you ever had any role whatsoever with respect to the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust?

A Not that I -- not that I recall.

Q Okay. Do you recall last December we were here on some litigation concerning HCLOM's scheduled claim?

A You have to give me more of a clue.

Q Remember HCLOM had that $10 million scheduled claim and Highland had filed a bad faith motion and we were all here in court and we wound up settling that matter and HCLOM got a Class 10 interest for $10 million?

A Yes, I vaguely remember that.

Q Okay. And you were here and you were representing HCLOM, right?

A Okay. I don't remember specifics, but, yes, go ahead.

Q Okay. And do you recall that Highland required Hunter Mountain Investment Trust's consent as part of the transaction?

A Vaguely.

Q And you personally authorized that consent back in December, didn't you?

A No.
Q Who did?
A Whoever would have spoke for HMIT at the time.
Q Okay. Let's take a look at Exhibit 68, please.
A So, Binder 2?
Q Yes, please.
A Sorry, this says Pat Daugherty. This is 1 of 3. This one. Okay. Did you say 68?
Q Yes.
A It's not in here, either. 68.
Q So you see that's an order of the Court?
A Yes.
Q And this resolves HCLOM's claim? Take your time.
A I'll leave it in case someone else needs it. Okay.
Q And do you see on the last page of the document there's an electronic signature by Deborah Deitsch-Perez at the Stinson firm as counsel for Hunter Mountain Investment Trust and Dugaboy Investment Trust? Do you see that?
A I'm sorry. I went to the very last page with Mark and I. Is there another page? Oh, okay. Yes. Okay.
Q So you see Stinson has signed both on behalf of you personally and HCLOM, and at the bottom, Stinson and Ms. Deitsch-Perez has also signed on behalf of Hunter Mountain Investment Trust and the Dugaboy Investment Trust? Do you see that?

A Yes. But then it's separate on 69, right?
Q Yeah. We're just looking at 68.
A Okay.
Q Do you know who authorized Ms. Deitsch-Perez to sign her name and tell the Court that the Dugaboy Investment Trust had approved this form of order both as to form and substance? Who acted on behalf of Dugaboy?
A I have no idea. I hope she keeps it straight when she's signing stuff.
Q Well, on whose behalf are you here today?
A Dugaboy's.
Q And are you a representative of Dugaboy?
A Representative? I'm primary beneficiary until I pass.
Q And who's the trustee of Dugaboy?
A I believe it's my sister at the moment.
Q Does she know you're here today testifying on behalf of Dugaboy?
A She knows I'm in court. I didn't -- I wasn't specific.
Q Did you talk to her about the Dugaboy -- does she -- does she even know about the Dugaboy objection?
A I don't know.
Q Okay. So how about Hunter Mountain Investment Trust? Do you know who authorized Ms. Deitsch-Perez to sign this document on behalf of Hunter Mountain Investment Trust?
A When was this? In December or January?

Q Yeah.
A I'm assuming -- I'm assuming Mark Patrick.
Q Late December.
A I'm assuming Mark Patrick. But I don't know.
Q Did you hear about a week later that Mr. Phillips called your lawyer and accused her of signing this document without authority from Hunter Mountain Investment Trust's authorized representative, Mr. Patrick?
A In hindsight, he's been in on it for a while, so --
Q What do you mean, he's been in on it for a while?
A I think he knows the plan Mark Patrick's been putting in place for quite a while.
Q But this document was signed without his knowledge or consent; isn't that right?
A I don't know.
Q And you had to sign a new agreement with Mark Patrick as the authorized representative of HMIT. Didn't you do that, sir?
A I don't know.
Q Okay. Let's take a look at guess I guess probably Exhibit 69. So this is an intercreditor and participation agreement. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q And it's dated January 10th, 2025, correct?
A Yes.

Q And even though you -- even though Skyview had completed this investigation in which it was alleged that Mr. Patrick misused material nonpublic inside information and he had terminated his relationship with Skyview, you still entered into this agreement with him as the authorized representative of HMIT, correct?

A Those were different work streams, you know, so they were -- but yes.

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection. Nonresponsive.

THE COURT: Sustained.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q That is -- that is your signature on the last page, correct?

A Yeah. I mean, --

Q It's a simple question. That's your signature, right?

A Yes.

Q And you understood that you were signing an agreement with Mark Patrick, correct?

A Yes.

Q And you signed this agreement in order to avoid Mr. Phillips filing a motion in this court for reconsideration of an order that she signed not knowing that Hunter Mountain had given its consent without authority. Isn't that right?

A No, I had no -- none of that --

Q So what's your memory? Why do you think you entered into this agreement?

A Because the lawyers put it in front of me as a finished product from what had been going on recently.
Q And you had no understanding of what it was?
A Not with the innuendo and agenda that you were describing. No. I mean, I just -- I knew what it generally involved. That's it.
Q But you would agree with me that you entered into an agreement knowing that Mark Patrick was signing on behalf of Hunter Mountain, correct?
A Yes.
Q I mean, it's right below your name, right?
A Yes.
Q You couldn't have missed it.
A Yes. That part, I'll agree with.
Q Okay. And you signed the agreement with Mark acting as the authorized agent and representative of Hunter Mountain, notwithstanding all of the bad acts that you supposedly were aware of at the time. Correct?
A Object to aware of at the time. They were all coming together in parallel work paths.
THE COURT: Okay.
MR. PHILLIPS: Object. Nonresponsive.
THE COURT: Sustained. Like I told Mr. Patrick, the witness does not get to object.

THE WITNESS: Okay.

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q And just to close the loop, Mr. Dondero, you fully funded The Dallas Foundation's objection, correct?

A And I made additional donations so that they could pursue bad actors and get their money back.

Q You funded the litigation so that The Dallas Foundation could pursue their objection, correct?

A I made additional donations so that they could get some assets back so that they could be a charity again and make donations.

Q Do you get a tax deduction for that donation?

A Yes.

Q Okay. That's nice.

Let's just finish up with the Joint Official Liquidators. Have you spoken to them?

A I do not believe so.

Q Has anybody acting on your behalf spoken with the Joint Official Liquidators?

A I don't know. I think the Joint Official Liquidators are an accounting firm. I think they're Grant Thornton. I think people have spoken to the attorneys down there, but I don't know -- I haven't spoken to Grant Thornton and I don't know if anybody else has.

Q Okay. Did you see the letter that your counsel marked as the exhibit, the one that was sent last night?

A I've not heard it -- I've not read it, but I've heard you guys read it today.
Q Yeah. Are you aware of the Joint Official Liquidators saying at any time that they didn't believe Mark Patrick had the authority to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities?
A I have not.
Q Okay.
MR. MORRIS: No further questions, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Mr. Phillips?
MR. PHILLIPS: Yeah.
THE COURT: Wait. What are we at timewise?
THE CLERK: So their 30 minutes is over. If you intended to give them 30 minutes for Patrick and --
THE COURT: Yes. Yes. They collectively got 30 minutes.
THE CLERK: For both of those --
THE COURT: Yes.
THE CLERK: -- witnesses. Okay. Yes, they're out.
THE COURT: How much did Mr. Morris use?
THE CLERK: Well, I don't know. I just was --
THE COURT: No, no, no, no. 30 minutes for each side for each Patrick and Dondero.
MR. MORRIS: About eight minutes.

THE CLERK: Yes. Mr. Morris -- I think Mr. Phillips may have asked one question, but Mr. Morris mostly -- 30 minutes.

THE COURT: No. On this witness, Phillips hadn't gone.

THE CLERK: No, not this witness.

THE COURT: Okay. That's all I care about, this witness.

THE CLERK: I don't know this witness.

THE COURT: Okay. Do you have a question, Mr. Phillips?

THE CLERK: I was doing 30 minutes for the total.

THE COURT: No, no, no, no, no.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, I can resolve this. I can resolve this. We have no questions.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Where are we? Mr. Lang, any redirect?

MR. LANG: I'm not sure.

THE COURT: Okay.

THE WITNESS: The last one.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, the witness is telling the lawyer what question to ask.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. LANG: I believe I've already asked, which is the endgame.

THE COURT: Okay. Just let's move on. Anything else? What was the question?

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Dondero, what are you looking to accomplish through this objection?

MR. PHILLIPS: Asked and answered.

THE COURT: Sustained. Sustained. He did. He was asked and answered.

BY MR. LANG:

Q The endgame in general.

MR. PHILLIPS: Asked and answered.

THE COURT: Answered and answered. Move on.

THE WITNESS: No, no. No, I haven't. No, I --

MR. PHILLIPS: Asked and answered. Move to strike.

THE COURT: You asked him this on your direct earlier.

MR. LANG: I did.

THE WITNESS: But, in general, regarding the --

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor?

THE WITNESS: Not just this.

THE COURT: Sustained. Ask another question.

MR. LANG: I don't have any more questions.

THE COURT: Okay. I have a question.

EXAMINATION BY THE COURT

THE COURT: Here is something that I want to understand. What I have before me is whether a settlement with Hunter Mountain, a settlement between the Highland entities, the Claimant Trust, the Subtrusts, and the Hunter Mountain entities, seven of them, is fair and equitable, is in the best interest of the estate. If you were the director, the manager, the representative of Hunter Mountain estate, what would your answer be?

THE WITNESS: It's not in the ZIP Code.

THE COURT: It's not in the ZIP Code?

THE WITNESS: Of fair. Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. Why do you think it's not in the ZIP Code of fair?

THE WITNESS: Okay. We filed in Delaware on a $100 million judgment. Pachulski was our counsel. They told us --

THE COURT: I know all this.

THE WITNESS: It just --

THE COURT: I'm talking about the settlement in front of me right now.

THE WITNESS: -- we'd be in and out in three months, right? We got liquidated instead. We got liquidated for over $850 million, which not enough people talk about. Okay? It would've been $950 million if Seery had done a good job, but it was $850 million we got liquidated for. Okay? The POCs were pumped up. People who supposedly had no claim, all of a sudden, $300 million.

There's $700 million missing or misallocated from the estate. Okay? There was -- all the original creditors, all the original creditors sold 99 percent of their interest for $160 million. The Farallon and Stonehill went to the beach. There was enough money on the balance sheet. Seery could have given them the $160 million and tossed us the keys. Instead, he had relations, deep relations, undisclosed business relationships with Farallon and Stonehill, --

THE COURT: Okay. I do want you to know --

THE WITNESS: No, but --

THE COURT: -- I've read all this many times.

THE WITNESS: Okay. But so -- so these --

THE COURT: I promise I read every piece of paper submitted.

THE WITNESS: Okay. So, so he sold the POCs to them, and it's been -- they've tripled their money in two and a half years. The professional fees have been $300-odd million. There's interrelationships between all the professionals -- Farallon, Stonehill, Grosvenor, the Hellman & Friedman guys, the Millennium guys who took whatever. All this stuff has to come out.

We're on the edge of a giant RICO case eventually. We're -- that's -- we're on the edge of a giant RICO case. And they should not be giving up their rights for $10, $20 million.

It's crazy for them to give up their rights at Dallas Foundation for 10 or 20 million bucks.

There's $700 million missing. All the original creditors sold for $160 million. The estate was sold for over $850 million. Where'd all the money go? Where'd all the money go and why? You know.

We get updates quarterly, once in a while, well, this much went out to this law firm, this much went out to this, whatever, but no one looks at the gross amount and where'd all the money go? And why? Why did it have to -- why did it have to go down like that? Why do we have to fire --

THE COURT: Okay. I know you have an objection.

THE WITNESS: -- all the employees?

THE COURT: This is narrative.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah. And --

THE COURT: I understand all --

MR. MORRIS: -- I'm not going to cross-examine him, but this is -- this is not accurate.

THE COURT: I understand all of these arguments. You know, I --

THE WITNESS: But I'm just --

THE COURT: Your lawyers at least know, if you don't know, that we wrote a 100-plus-page opinion on the motion of Hunter Mountain to sue for all of this. Okay? So I promise I've heard this and looked at it. But right now, Hunter

Mountain, through Mark Patrick, you question his authority, but they are ready to lay down their swords and not pursue that motion for leave to sue based on the claims trading, and --

THE WITNESS: Have you seen all the insider trading, Farallon, Stonehill? Have you seen the trading and claims on insider information? Have you seen all that stuff?

THE COURT: I've seen the allegations but I --

THE WITNESS: Well, why would you release all those people right now before the RICO?

THE COURT: So I -- Dugaboy -- you've been asked what is your goal? Dugaboy a .18 limited partnership interest --

THE WITNESS: Correct.

THE COURT: -- that is subordinated to Hunter Mountain. I'm just trying to understand the scenario where it makes sense to keep fighting for years to come.

THE WITNESS: Well, RICO transcends this, right? I mean, RICO brings everybody in. Until we get --

THE COURT: Okay. You think it's -- and my question, why is this not fair and equitable and in the best interest of the estate, you think it's better to litigate several more years and maybe have a chance, you know, --

THE WITNESS: At $600 mill. At $600 million.

THE COURT: -- Hunter Mountain would have a chance to --

THE WITNESS: $600 million. Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

THE WITNESS: Versus $20 million now. But you have to remember, it's all part of -- you have to pay attention to this Mark Patrick stuff.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor?

THE COURT: Okay. Yes. I asked my question. I'm trying to understand why Dugaboy, why its position is this is not fair and equitable and in the best interest and in the range of reasonableness. Those are the buzz words that a judge has to focus on.

THE WITNESS: It's not fair to the charities. I still think no one's ever seen --

THE COURT: The charities aren't parties here.

THE WITNESS: Not yet. Give them a little time. They just heard about the settlement yesterday.

THE COURT: Well, isn't that what the Cayman Islands is all about? What I do doesn't necessarily affect what's happening there.

THE WITNESS: Well, no, but you're saying they're not here today. If you delayed this three weeks, they'd be here. It's just a couple --

THE COURT: They were here and they chose to withdraw.

THE WITNESS: One. One. Just one charity. But the others, if you give them some time, they'll be here.

THE COURT: Okay. Okay. I think you've answered my question, your theory of how this should play out and how you want it to play out. Okay. All right.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

THE COURT: That's all. Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Thank you for the time.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

(The witness steps down.)

THE COURT: All right. I think that concludes our evidence, correct?

MR. YORK: Yes, Your Honor. At least from Daugherty and --

THE COURT: Okay. The Objectors rest. Any rebuttal?

MR. PHILLIPS: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. YORK: Your Honor, would it be okay if we took a five-minute comfort break?

THE COURT: Yes. We may as well turn it into a 10-minute break because that's what's going to happen. All right. We'll be back at 3:40.

THE CLERK: All rise.

(A recess ensued from 3:30 p.m. until 3:44 p.m.)

THE CLERK: All rise.

THE COURT: Please be seated. We're back on the record in Highland Capital. I will hear closing arguments. And I dangled something out there before lunch and I've never heard any follow-up. I guess no agreement with Daugherty could be reached on the reserve?

MR. YORK: Haven't had that conversation, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You didn't have that conversation? Oh, well. Why didn't you have that conversation?

MR. YORK: We were, during the lunch break, working busily to prepare the rebuttal to Mr. Seery's testimony, --

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

MR. YORK: -- Your Honor. And so --

THE COURT: Okay. You told me you'd talk about it.

MR. MORRIS: May I proceed, Your Honor?

THE COURT: I guess I don't matter. Do I not matter when I suggest something like that?

Okay. Go ahead.

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE CLAIMANT TRUST

MR. MORRIS: Good afternoon, Your Honor. John Morris; Pachulski, Stang, Ziehl & Jones; for Highland Capital Management, LP and the Highland Claimant Trust and on behalf of the Highland Litigation Subtrust.

I know that we've got Bob Loigman in the courtroom, but I know that -- at least I hope he joins me in this closing argument. I suspect he does.

I don't want to be too long here, Your Honor. We don't have a high burden. This is a 9019 motion, for goodness' sakes. I've never been involved in such a contentious 9019 motion in my life. We had three depositions on Friday. We had two on Sunday. I think we had two on Monday. For a 9019, I've had one witness sit multiple times.

It's been an extraordinary experience. But at the end of the day, nobody's really challenging the settlement agreement. You've got people challenging, you know, the Cayman Islands. You've got people challenging, is it -- you know, can you jam it in under the plan? We're not jamming anything under the plan. We're following the plan provisions.

Nobody's challenging the bona fides of the motion. Nobody is challenging whether it's the product of good-faith, arm's-length negotiations.

You heard Mr. Seery testify at length about the process. You've got 55 different documents in the record proving that this agreement is the product of arm's-length, good-faith negotiations between parties represented by sophisticated counsel that resulted from an exchange of information, an exchange of proposals, back and forth, and here we are.

It's also in the best interests of the estate. Really not challenged by anybody. Nobody is contending that Highland is getting a raw deal here. Nobody. And the proof that Highland is getting fair consideration and that this settlement is in the best interest of the Claimant Trust and its stakeholders, it's obvious we are terminating costly, wasteful, and I dare say frivolous litigation. We are disposing of several illiquid assets. We are getting litigation protections that will inure to the benefit of the released parties, the Highland release parties and it will, we believe, provide the protection that we deserve.

It's not just releases. It's covenants not to sue. It's all kinds of bells and whistles in there. Substantial benefits to the estate. And so nobody's really objecting to that.

Nobody's really objecting to the fairness of the settlement to the HMIT parties except for Mr. Dondero, and he's just mad that peace is breaking out. He's just mad because he's not going to be able to litigate anymore. It's not relevant to a 9019 motion. But even if it was, it's ridiculous. It's just ridiculous.

The settlement is fair and reasonable and in the best interest of the creditors. It's the product of good-faith, arm's-length negotiations. And on that alone, it should be approved.

We've had a lot of testimony today about Mark Patrick's authority. The only actual evidence that concerns Mark Patrick's authority are the exhibits in the binder and Jim Seery's testimony about the diligence that he did. And the exhibits in the binder all prove that Mark Patrick has the authority to act and bind the HMIT entities to the settlement agreement. It's Paragraph 7 of the HMIT trust agreement itself.

Did the objecting parties point you to one single document to support their speculative argument, because it's not anything more than that, that somehow Mark Patrick isn't authorized to do this? There is not a scintilla of evidence that Mark Patrick is not authorized to do this.

And if Your Honor had any concerns about Mr. Patrick, I think he answered them at the end. That he understood exactly what the terms of the agreement are. That he had a reasonable opportunity to consult with counsel and to negotiate. That he knows exactly what he's doing on behalf of these entities. That he believes the best path forward from the HMIT entities is to grab the value today instead of letting it waste.

We welcome Mr. Patrick to the table. It makes a lot of sense. We've been trying to get to this point forever.

Mr. Daugherty. You know, I have no gripes with Mr. Daugherty. I don't know quite what's motivating him these days, but he admitted and the evidence is clear that when he was a Class 9 claim holder, I forget if it's two or three or four occasions, he accepted $3.7 million in multiple payments, without any concern at all as to whether or not it violated the plan, even though his Class 8 claim had remained unresolved.

He didn't send the money back. He didn't say, Mr. Seery, you can't do this because it violates the plan. He knowingly and willingly accepted the benefits of being a Class 9 claim holder. And now he comes and objects on the basis that somehow it's not fair to him as a Class 8 holder? This is what we call estoppel. Right?

I wasn't in a position to really make the argument because I didn't quite understand it until today. Like, how does he come in today and say you can't do this, Your Honor? You can't allow Class 9 and 10 to get a nickel until he's done, when he himself has accepted millions of dollars before his claim is resolved? That doesn't sound right to me. And I don't think the Court should accept that argument.

Just quickly, because I don't want to give it any weight, frankly, but this whole business of the Cayman Islands and the JOLs, the only facts Your Honor has to take into account are that they were appointed before this motion was filed. They've never appeared here. They've never objected. And there is no evidence in the record to suggest, let alone to prove, that the JOLs contend that Mark Patrick does not have the authority to enter into the settlement on behalf of the HMIT entities. There's no evidence of any kind.

What you need to know and need to remember, though, is that whole proceeding in the Cayman Islands is being brought on behalf of not The Kansas City Foundation or The Dallas

Foundation, but The Highland Kansas City Foundation, The Highland Dallas. It's Mr. Dondero, and he's funding it, and it says it in Paragraph I think 47 or 48 of his declaration. He's funding all of that. And he funded The Dallas Foundation's objection here.

And that's why he's upset, because they settled last night without telling him because they didn't want any part of this, Your Honor. That's the truth. That's why they're not here. And they, right, they're the people who suggested that maybe something untoward happened and maybe someday -- because this is the way their objection is characterized. Complete speculation.

If you go back and look at the objection, it's someday, somebody might do something and might someday set it aside. That wasn't a proper basis at the time, but we know that Mark Patrick remains in control of the HMIT entities today because nobody has told the Court otherwise. And we know that The Dallas Foundation has withdrawn its objection. As I asked Mr. Patrick, have you been, you know, removed or clipped or terminated or in any way restricted in your capacity as the Administrator and control person of the HMIT entities as a result of the settlement, and the answer was no.

There's nothing to see here, Your Honor, except the opportunity for the Highland Claimant Trust and its affiliated entities in moving this case forward in an enormously positive and constructive direction.

We have the opportunity today to put to rest a lot of pending litigation. We have the opportunity today to put to rest a lot of future potential litigation that undoubtedly would have come to pass had these entities remained under the indirect control of Mr. Dondero, because we know that that was the case.

If you remember, Your Honor, we sat here two years ago, June 8th, 2023, on the evidentiary hearing on Hunter Mountain's motion for leave to bring the claims trading case. And if Your Honor will remember, Mr. Patrick at that time was forced to admit that the entirety of that case came in from Mr. Dondero, that he had no knowledge of any facts that related to anything.

I would ask Your Honor to go and compare The Dallas Foundation's objection with Mr. Dondero's declaration that he filed in the Cayman Islands. I'm not going to say they're verbatim, but they are largely, largely the same. This is just Jim Dondero being Jim Dondero, and that is not a basis to overrule or deny the motion under Rule 9019.

It's a product of good faith negotiations, it is clearly in the best interests of the estate, and we respectfully request that as soon as possible Your Honor grant motion.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Any closing from the Movant, Co-Movant?

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, thank you very much. Louis M. Phillips on behalf of the --

THE COURT: I don't know if you're the Co-Movant. You're a party to the proposed settlement.

MR. PHILLIPS: I'm not a Co-Movant.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: I'm a party to the settlement.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. PHILLIPS: I didn't quite make it to that status to be a Co-Movant.

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE HUNTER MOUNTAIN ENTITIES

MR. PHILLIPS: But anyway, we appreciate the Court's time. We appreciate the Court's attention. This was, as the evidence established, we provided and were provided an immense amount of information.

Much of the information, certainly the information about Mr. Patrick's control of the HMIT entities, was provided by us. It was reviewed by Mr. Seery. And Mr. Seery made a very strong case for the amount of diligence he did on our side of the equation. It's not nearly as relevant to Your Honor's decision about whether to approve the settlement whether we got a good deal or not, but the deal we got, we think, is very fair.

The deal we got was negotiated with counsel, with businesspeople who are very sophisticated. We have agreed on the methodology and of the calculation of our Class 10 claim. The Debtor and the Debtor estate or the Claimant Trust or whoever held the HMIT note got full value for the HMIT note. Any additional value from the HMIT note would come back to HMIT. The Kirschner Litigation would be for the benefit of HMIT. The Dugaboy Note would be for the benefit of HMIT.

All of that is being put into a package and is being resolved, affiliated, administered in a very effective and efficient manner. We are getting some money. We appreciate. We tried to get more. We couldn't. They tried to pay less. We made a deal.

So, Your Honor, I echo and thank Mr. Morris for all of his comments. I appreciate counsel being involved here today. We think this is a fair and equitable settlement. There is no question under 9019 that this settlement should be approved. And the suggestion that this Court should allow itself to just be a vehicle for continued litigation, when we have analyzed it, perhaps from a different perspective, and made the decision that it is time to make our deal now, it is time to take HMIT out of the litigation picture and into the fold of a party in interest of a fixed claim with fixed treatment that's different from the plan, authorized by the plan. And we appreciate it.

Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you. All right. Mr. Loigman, we didn't mean to ignore you.

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF MARC S. KIRSCHNER, LITIGATION TRUSTEE

MR. LOIGMAN: Thank you, Your Honor. Robert Loigman, Quinn Emanuel. You didn't ignore me. Louis was just quicker to jump up than I was.

And I step up solely because you asked whether the Co-Movant had anything to add. And we have nothing further to add to what Mr. Morris said. We agree with it wholly. We think this is a fair and complete settlement, and we would ask that the Court approve the settlement under the 9019 motion.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. LOIGMAN: Thank You, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. The Objectors?

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor?

THE COURT: Oh.

MR. MORRIS: Just to clarify, the motion was made under 9019 and Section 363. I just don't want that to get lost. That's all.

THE COURT: Okay. 363, use of property. Okay.

The Objectors?

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF PATRICK DAUGHERTY

MR. YORK: Thank you, Your Honor. I'll be very brief.

I certainly appreciate that the Court desires to have this bankruptcy wrapped up, given how long it's gone on now, for six -- approximately six years in this court. The fact of the matter is that the settlement agreement that Highland proposes to enter into with Hunter Mountain Investment Trust entities violates the express terms of the plan, the confirmation order, and the Claimant Trust Agreement.

And they have not pointed to any language in there or to argue otherwise. Their only argument has been that they've set a reserve aside. And there's no provision in any of those documents that provides that that's an excuse for them to violate the express terms of the confirmation order, the plan, or the Claimant Trust Agreement, including specifically the language that Class 10 claims are not to receive or retain anything under the plan on account of their interest unless and until the Class 8 and Class 9 claims are paid in full plus applicable interest. And --

THE COURT: I really want to understand that argument. Mr. Seery correctly testified that, pretty much in every Chapter 11 plan we see, there's a disputed claim reserve. Well, I guess unless we have really unsophisticated creditors who don't insist on that. But we had sophisticated creditors. So why doesn't that mechanism, which I would call tried and true, we see it in most cases, why doesn't that resolve this issue you're raising?

MR. YORK: Well, --

THE COURT: And I focused in more than maybe I needed to about the nature of Mr. Daugherty's remaining claim, his Class 8 claim. What was the scope? What's the maximum amount it could be? When might it be resolved? Because I think we have a tried-and-true mechanism that addresses his concerns. Tell me why it doesn't.

MR. YORK: Well, --

THE COURT: Really, I want to understand what you think I'm missing.

MR. YORK: Well, so I think twofold, Your Honor. The first is that the dispute reserve that exists normally would be for whatever the amount of the disputed claim is. And here we're dealing with, as both sides have acknowledged, a claim that they at best could estimate, but they don't know for certain, given all of the machinations that could come out of the IRS audit.

And secondly, specifically with respect to the confirmation order, if it had said that the net 10 and 11 claims could be paid as long as the allowed 8 and 9 claims were paid, then the dispute reserve would provide that protection. But that's not what the language in the confirmation order says. It says claims, not allowed claims. And therefore it's referring to all claims, including disputed claims. And --

THE COURT: But we have a disputed claim reserve. Okay. We have a disputed claim reserve.

MR. YORK: There is, yes, there is a reserve.

THE COURT: So is it your argument that I can't approve a settlement like this until Mr. Daugherty's claim has been resolved with certainty, which might be in 2033 or whatever? I can't keep a bankruptcy estate open, allowing administrative expenses to continue to accrue, because of one contingent unliquidated claim that may never even develop.

MR. YORK: Your Honor, I appreciate the Court's frustration with that, but that's the way that the documents are written in terms of the confirmation order. And so it's an --

THE COURT: So the disputed claim reserve is meaningless?

MR. YORK: No, it is not -- a disputed claim reserve exists, but it does not, under the terms of the confirmation order, in terms of allowing the payment of Class 10 and Class 11 claims, those can't be done until the Class 8 claims are resolved.

THE COURT: You would have -- just a moment -- you would have me keep this estate open for as long as it takes, 2033, whatever, without allowing Class 10 and Class 11 theoretically to get anything?

MR. YORK: At least under --

THE COURT: Let's just let the -- with all respect to Mr. Seery, he's charging a handsome amount. It was agreed to or approved by the Court. Let's just let him continue accruing until 2033 because of Mr. Daugherty's prospect of the IRS saying you owe $1.4 million plus interest and penalties, when he's gotten the use of that all? Help me. This doesn't make sense to me.

MR. YORK: Sure. One way this could be solved is that the payments to -- the cash payments, for example, that are to be made to the HMIT entities, under the proposed settlement could be held in abeyance until the resolution of the Class 8 claim. The Court could modify the proposed settlement based on that. That's one way to deal with the issue, for example.

THE COURT: Do what? Hold it in abeyance?

MR. YORK: Yes. For -- the payments to be made to the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust under the proposed settlement could be -- could be done in accordance with the terms of the confirmation order. We'll just hold those payments until such time.

THE COURT: We who? Put it in the Court Registry?

MR. YORK: Or --

THE COURT: Where it will earn 0.18 percent?

MR. YORK: No. No. It can remain within the Claimant Trust until the time at which the Class 8 claim is finally and fully resolved.

THE COURT: Okay. Meanwhile, I've approved the extension of the Trusts for one year, with Dugaboy saying, we don't think this should happen again and again and again. We reserve our rights. That's not a good solution.

MR. YORK: Your Honor, I understand the Court's frustration, but this is the terms of the plan and the confirmation order that were entered. Highland needs to follow it.

THE COURT: Okay. What about the estoppel argument that I heard Mr. Morris make?

MR. YORK: Well, sure. So, the first time they raise it is here today. And the one thing that -- the difference is that allowing this settlement to go forward is an effective liquidation of the estate versus where things are now, in which any payments that were made is not an effective liquidation. It doesn't expose anyone that would have priority to Class 10 with respect to anything that happens in the future from, you know, not having sufficient funds to deal with it. That's all.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. YORK: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you. All right. Mr. Lang?

CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST

MR. LANG: I'll be brief. Your Honor, there are three issues that we've raised. One is the capital account balance being used for the claim for the Class 10 holders. The plan does not specify that the capital account balance is to be used. Allowing the $336 million claim to Class 10 ensures that Class 11 will not ever receive a dime. That's guaranteed.

Alternatively, upon the satisfaction of the Class 9, the $20 million approximately owed to Class 9, the holders of HMIT should receive 99.5 percent of the total residual. We think that would be a more fair outcome to the Class 11 claimants.

THE COURT: Wait, say again?

MR. LANG: That, so, of total assets, $70 million approximately, $20 million is owed to Class 9.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. LANG: Of the remainder from that, HMIT should receive 99.5 percent of those assets, whatever they are, the value, rather than a $336 million claim. That was the objection.

THE COURT: But I didn't get any evidence of a separate way of competing -- of doing that. I heard credible testimony from Mr. Seery about why he used the math he used and I didn't hear any countervailing evidence of, wait, this is a more fair, realistic way of computing it. And what I did hear is the .5 percent limited partnership interest of Dugaboy is subordinated in its payment rights under the limited partnership agreement of Highland.

MR. LANG: It's subordinated under the plan, but yes, the plan does not say to use --

THE COURT: Under the partnership agreement is the reason the plan did it, is what I've been presented.

MR. LANG: I believe Mr. Seery -- and I could be wrong -- I think I heard him say that he has used the other method, but I could have misheard him in the testimony.

THE COURT: Well, that's not what I heard. I heard him emphasizing the fact that the Class 8 interests, including that of Dugaboy, are subordinated with regard to payment rights under the Highland partnership agreement. And so that's why he didn't think it made sense to just apply percentages.

MR. LANG: That's what he testified to.

THE COURT: So I'm just -- anyway, I'm just trying to figure out what the countervailing evidence is here to suggest his methodology is wrong.

MR. LANG: I believe the partner -- or, the plan says that the Class 10, when the GUC certification is a Class 10, and the Class 11 received pro rata, it doesn't specify the account balance is to be used as the number to determine what they receive.

THE COURT: Okay. You want to point out what you are focused on?

MR. LANG: I believe it's under Treatment.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. LANG: Section --

THE COURT: I don't want to hunt. I want you to tell me what the language is that you think is supportive of that.

MR. LANG: And the second -- I guess the secondary issue that we probably should just get to is the release. We think it's broad, and just Dugaboy and Dondero are carved out. And Mr. Morris did send me a proposal last -- yesterday evening that I haven't gotten to. But that is an objection that we have, is just to make sure that the -- that nobody can argue that the release covers any claim Dugaboy might have, if any.

THE COURT: Okay. I think many hours ago I remember this being mentioned. I guess it was a little bit more broad than just -- I think it was Highland employees. I don't know.

What is the agreement, Mr. Morris, if you're awake there, on --

MR. MORRIS: I am awake, Your Honor. Apologies.

THE COURT: Okay. I didn't mean to be flippant.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: I get punchy and --

MR. MORRIS: That's okay. With respect to the release?

THE COURT: Right.

MR. MORRIS: We don't have an agreement. We have an agreement -- well, I sent a proposal last night, but it didn't get responded to. If they want to accept that proposal, that's terrific.

THE COURT: Okay. I don't know what the agreement says. Are you saying you want to accept what they proposed last night?

MR. LANG: No, I have edits to it. I just couldn't -- I was tied up on another filing last night. I have not been able to get to it today.

THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to make a ruling today. Okay? If it means y'all sit here in the courtroom a while, fine. But just like all of you, I have a mountain of other stuff waiting for me, so I really want to rule today. So, --

MR. LANG: Understood.

THE COURT: Yeah.

MR. LANG: Maybe we can work on it as soon as I'm done and I can get back to 'em --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. LANG: -- and get back to you.

Your Honor, the -- it's on Page 23 of the plan. It talks about the Class 10 and Class 11, where the partnership interests, that their treatment, they shall receive as pro rata share of the contingent Claimant Trust interests. And all we're asking is that be used or applied as a 99.5/.5 distribution.

(Pause.)

THE COURT: I'm sorry. Go ahead.

MR. LANG: Oh, sorry. I thought you were looking for it.

And the last issue is authority. The only point of the authority argument, Your Honor, is that the Joint Administrators were appointed down in the Caymans to investigate the transaction that moved basically the entire ownership, because it's owned a hundred percent down to HMIT, out. They're investigating the transactions. They have not stipulated to authority. They're looking at everything. They've requested a 45-day delay on this motion. And that's all that -- not even asking to deny the 9019. They were just asking time to basically bless this transaction so that nobody could come back and make an issue of it. But I understand your desire to rule today.

THE COURT: Okay. Any rebuttal?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah, briefly, Your Honor.

REBUTTAL CLOSING ARGUMENT ON BEHALF OF THE CLAIMANT TRUST

MR. MORRIS: I just want to point the Court to two provisions of the operative documents that I think --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: -- will resolve even further the issues that we've presented today.

The Claimant Trust Agreement -- and I apologize, I don't know if the whole document is in evidence, but I will respectfully suggest to the Court that the Claimant Trust Agreement provides in Article 5, Section 5.1(c), --

THE COURT: Okay. Let me catch up.

MR. MORRIS: Yes.

(Counsel confer.)

THE COURT: It's not Debtor's Exhibit 5.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: Daugherty's Exhibit 5?

MR. MORRIS: It's Daugherty Exhibit 5?

MR. YORK: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. YORK: So we have a full copy at Daugherty --

THE COURT: I've got it. Daugherty's Exhibit 5.

MR. MORRIS: Okay. So if you could just go to Page 27, Your Honor. And this is in response to Mr. Lang's argument about the calculation of the allowed claim. You'll see it deals with contingent trust interests. And the very last sentence says the equity trust --

THE COURT: Wait. What page again?

MR. MORRIS: 27.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: Do you see Section C in the middle is Contingent Trust Interests?

THE COURT: No.

THE CLERK: It's 26 of the Claimant Trust Agreement, 27 of the --

THE COURT: Ah, it's 26. Yes. On the bottom, it's 26; on the top, it's 27 of 38.

MR. MORRIS: Okay.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And at the end of Section C, it says explicitly: The equity trust interests distributed to allowed holders of Class A limited partnership interests -- that's Dugaboy --

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. MORRIS: -- shall be subordinated to the equity interests distributed to the allowed holders of Class B and C. That's Hunter Mountain. Okay?

So the trust agreement provides for exactly what we're doing here. Dugaboy is in fact subordinated to HMIT. It doesn't get paid until HMIT gets paid in full. And Mr. Seery I think compellingly testified as to the reasonable calculation that he did based on very objective numbers to determine each respective limited partner's capital account.

With respect to Mr. Daugherty, the plan, which is on the docket at 1943, has a definition of Disputed Claim Reserve. And it states, among other things, that the amount of the disputed claim upon which the disputed claim --

THE COURT: Give me the page number.

MR. MORRIS: I apologize, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I've got it right in front of me.

MR. MORRIS: It's Page 7 of the plan.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. I'm there. The Defined Term.

MR. MORRIS: So the Defined Term "Disputed Claim, Claims Reserve Amount" in the middle says: The amount of the disputed claim upon which the disputed claims reserve is calculated shall be -- they've got an A and then a B -- the amount agreed to by the holder of the disputed claim and the Claimant Trustee or Reorganized Debtor, as applicable. And then it says D: Or is otherwise ordered by the Bankruptcy Court, including an estimated -- an order estimating the disputed claim.

And that last provision is vital, Your Honor, because that is the hook upon which you can always hang your hat when you decide that we are not going to wait until 2023 [sic] when the IRS audit may be resolved, because you have the ability, as ordered by the Bankruptcy Court, including estimating the amount of the disputed claim. Which is one of the causes of action that we've asserted in the complaint. It's either to subordinate -- actually, it's to disallow, to subordinate, or to estimate. Because this case does have to end, Your Honor. We actually think he should be bound by the definition in B.

It is an agreed-upon amount.

I've heard the testimony from Mr. Daugherty that there was no negotiation, but he didn't deny that he signed a document that is called an agreement that sets forth the disputed claim amount. And that is an agreement, and I think that satisfies that definition. And even if it didn't, at some point this case has to end.

Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

All right. Well, it's been a long day and even a longer case. I think a lot of people were on the receiving end of a little bit of my grumpiness at times today, and I apologize for that.

I always feel compelled to say to the lawyers and parties when I rule from the bench that I can assure you it's not knee-jerk. I can assure you my law clerk and I have read every piece of paper submitted. And we come in here I think well-prepared and we just want to listen to the evidence to see if it supports -- who it supports. So I am going to rule from the bench.

I first want to make clear that with regard to the motion before the Court, the motion which was filed May 19th at Docket Entry 4216, pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and Bankruptcy Code Section 363, the Court is being asked to approve a very broad settlement that is between what are defined as the HMIT entities, seven entities in all; Hunter Mountain Investment Trust; as well as Beacon Mountain, LLC; Rand Advisors, LLC; Rand PE Fund 1, LP; Rand PE Fund Management, LLC; Atlas IDF, LP; and Atlas IDF GP, PLLC. So this proposed compromise and settlement is between all of those Hunter Mountain entities as well as the Reorganized Debtor, the Highland Claimant Trust, the Highland Litigation Subtrust, and the Highland Indemnity Trust.

I first will note that notice has been fulsome, reasonable under the circumstances, to provide due process to anyone affected by the proposed compromise.

The Court would note that the legal standard is a very well-known and established legal standard here. Among other things, the Court is to look at whether the settlement is fair, reasonable, and in the best interest of the estate; whether it would appear reasonable business judgment has been exercised; is the compromise and settlement within the range of reasonableness?

And this involves looking at, among other things, the probability of success in the litigation -- that would be all the various litigation involving HMIT, if it were to go forward; the complexity and likely duration of further litigation and attendant expense, inconvenience, and delay; and all other factors bearing on the wisdom of the compromise. We know that's Cajun Electric, Jackson Brewing, Foster

Mortgage, among other cases. I probably left out AWECO.

Anyway, applying all of those legal standards here, I do think the evidence was very thorough in showing that the compromise is a product of good faith and arm's-length negotiations. Indeed, it was almost shocking to this Court when I saw the motion, having the history I have with all of the contested issues, adversary proceedings that have transpired over the past few years between Hunter Mountain and the Debtor.

I do think the evidence is that it's fair and equitable and in the best interest of the estate and within the range of reasonableness, given due regard for all of the expense, delay, and likelihood of success.

I'll just briefly recount that, as noted early today, there was an Exhibit B attached to the 9019 motion that listed nine unresolved pending pieces of litigation that the Highland entities are embroiled in. Two of those are now gone. This was filed May 8th, and as of January 25th, they're gone. So seven pieces of litigation, of which two will go entirely away if I approve this settlement. The Kirschner adversary claims against Hunter Mountain will go away.

We have very little, very little, relatively speaking, left in this bankruptcy case to resolve if I approve this settlement. That alone is very, very significant. Again, we have large shall I say issues with Hunter Mountain. Highland says Hunter Mountain owes the Highland entities something like $57.69 million on a note that Hunter Mountain is payor on dated December 21st, 2015.

The flip side of that is that Hunter Mountain was sued by Kirschner in the Kirschner action on various claims, including this $57 million note. We have had Hunter Mountain file multiple motions for leave to sue Highland, the Claimant Trust, Mr. Seery. And those have been denied, but are in appeal status or remand status or some further litigation status.

And again, we have numerous issues. Hunter Mountain having sought valuation. The Court denied that. It's on appeal.

So, so much goes away, so much further litigation goes away and we make a monumental step in ending this long-running case if I approve this settlement.

Now, on the flip side of this, I know that Dugaboy, through the voice of Mr. Dondero today, expressed that Hunter Mountain is, I forget the words he used, but not -- this isn't close to being fair and equitable as far as he was concerned for Hunter Mountain. That Hunter Mountain, in addition to being through with litigation in this bankruptcy-land, would be paid $500,000 within five days. They would also be paid separately $10 million as an initial distribution, with the hope of two more $6.5 million distributions in '27 and '28.

And it would get a note, which I think has $24 million -- I think it was less than that, $17 or $18 million left on it, perhaps, on which Dugaboy is a maker. The debtor is one of the two payees. The Debtor gives up its rights in that note.

It looks like Hunter Mountain is getting a lot. And again, the way this estate has been liquidated, there is money that can flow to it as a Class 10 equity here, as the evidence has shown.

So I am approving the settlement. I am specifically overruling the remaining objections of both Dugaboy and Mr. Daugherty.

As far as Mr. Daugherty's argument that the settlement violates the absolute priority rule or violates the terms of the plan or the confirmation order or the trust agreement by, putting words in his mouth, skipping over the full payment of whatever his Class 8 claim is going to be and allowing a subordinate class, Class 10, to get paid, I have flipped and studied the wording of the plan and the confirmation order and the defined term for Disputed Reserve. And I referred to a disputed reserve as a tried-and-true provision in Chapter 11 plans. I think it does what needs to happen for precisely this kind of situation, that as long as an appropriate amount is being held in reserve, and the Court can decide what is an appropriate amount, we don't have to hold up a bankruptcy estate for years and years.

So the disputed claim reserve is what allows me to find this is fair and equitable and this isn't some sort of violation of the absolute priority rule. I think this is precisely the reason the disputed claim reserve mechanism is in place, so that we can get on with the business of getting more people paid sooner.

And based on the evidence I've heard, it is an appropriate amount, I think. We're doing a lot of crystal-balling, what may or may not ever happen when, but I think, based on all the persuasive evidence I've heard, the Daugherty objection should be overruled.

As far as Dugaboy, I, as noted, am overruling that objection. I didn't have any persuasive evidence, solid evidence to show me that Mark Patrick doesn't have appropriate corporate governance authority to enter into this settlement agreement.

I realize there's a lot swirling around in the Cayman Islands, and that's going to play out however it plays out. But as of today, I don't have any evidence that he doesn't have authority currently to enter into the settlement. And it speaks volumes that The Foundation backed down. It would seem that they have been convinced that the lack-of-authority argument was not one they wanted to press today. So that is overruled.

I feel like we have all seen this movie many times before.

I wanted to understand, perhaps I went deeper than I needed to, I know Mr. Phillips thinks I went deeper than I needed in hearing some of the testimony from Mr. Patrick and Mr. Dondero, but I'm just trying to understand what's happening here. Why people who were so lockstep and friendly for years of this case suddenly, when we're right on the brink of maybe the case being put to bed -- I'm optimistic; it's not quite that close -- all of a sudden they're at loggerheads.

And so how many times have I seen this over the years, whether it's a breakdown in business and personal relationships, Mr. Daugherty, Mr. Terry, Grant Scott, now Mark Patrick? I'm probably leaving out someone. I don't know. I feel like I'm watching the same movie. Okay, now these two have parted ways. Now these two have parted ways.

And then, as I recall, when Grant Scott withdrew his objection to the HarbourVest settlement all these years ago, 2020, 2021, which he had been lodging for Charitable DAF, I think it was, --

MR. MORRIS: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: -- then what happens? Well, I think Mark Patrick came in to work or replace Grant Scott, and then a bunch of people ended up getting sued in a different court regarding the settlement I approved, the HarbourVest settlement I approved.

So why am I saying this? I just, I'm trying to understand things I'll never understand. I wanted to maybe hear something that would make me better understand what's happened now between Hunter Mountain, Mark Patrick, and Dondero and Dugaboy, because it sure seems like they were on the same team for many years. But it was very likely irrelevant, as Mr. Phillips kept getting up and down and saying. I just was seeing if it would lead to something relevant that would bear on the wisdom of this compromise, since that's one of my other legal standards. I'm supposed to consider all factors that might bear on the wisdom of the compromise. And so I guess that's where I was going in allowing all of that to come in.

All right. Well, while everyone is not thrilled with this compromise and settlement, I heartily congratulate the human beings that made it happen, and they know who they are. Maybe I do, maybe I don't. But I think it's rather amazing. And I hope that we are not coming to court for hearings in 2032. I don't know who among us will be alive. I'm not going to be alive by then. Certain people might cheer if that's the case. But I congratulate the human beings who made this happen. And you know who you are. Maybe I do, maybe I don't, but I congratulate you.

All right. So I reserve the right to supplement or amend this oral bench ruling in a more fulsome written order. I am asking Mr. Morris and his team to be the scriveners on that order. And obviously, you're going to run it by the other lawyers here who participated today.

Is there anything else before we wrap it up?

MR. MORRIS: Just one other thing, Your Honor. And I greatly appreciate your comments.

When we draft the order, are we authorized to say that this settlement is approved not only pursuant to 9019 but to 363? Because there are asset sales that are part of this. We moved under that provision, and I didn't hear Your Honor reference that, --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: -- but we would like to include that in the order.

THE COURT: You may. And that is precisely why I said I reserve the right to supplement or amend, because many times I get out of here and look at this transcript and, ooh, I forgot to say whatever.

MR. MORRIS: Yeah.

THE COURT: So I meant to say that and I didn't, so you may add that.

MR. MORRIS: And I assume all Your Honor wants is a fairly simple form of order that incorporates --

THE COURT: I do not want a 40-page order.

MR. MORRIS: Right.

THE COURT: Okay?

MR. MORRIS: Just an order that incorporates your comments on the record, and to the extent that Your Honor wants to amend that, you'll do so at your leisure?

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. MORRIS: Perfect.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. MORRIS: Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you all. We're adjourned.

MR. PHILLIPS: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE CLERK: All rise.

- Upon Bankruptcy Court approval, all Pending Litigation (as defined) will be dismissed with prejudice, thereby reducing litigation risk and the attendant costs. Ex. 1, Ex. 1 § 1(a)
- HMIT's Class 10 Interest will be allowed in a fixed amount of approximately $337 million. Id. § 4(a)[1]
- The Highland Entities are able to dispose of certain illiquid assets, including the Dugaboy Note and the Estate Claims asserted in the Kirschner Litigation. Id. §§ 5(b), 8(a)
- The Highland Entities obtain broad Litigation Protections that will ensure that there will be no future litigation with the HMIT Entities regardless of who controls them. Id. §§ 9-12

1. HMIT is barred from transferring the Class 10 Interest or any rights related thereto. Id. at § 4(c).

2. Although not as of the Petition Date, see also Exhibits 115 and 116 for 2018 and 2019 IRS partnership tax returns of Highland Capital Management, LP, including capital accounts by partner. HMIT's capital account balances as of December 31, 2018 and December 31, 2019 were $370,103,735 and $347,989,195, respectively. The December 31, 2019 capital account reserved the balance of the HMIT note receivable.

With the Settlement, Transfer of the Kirschner Litigation Is In the Movants' Best Interests

- Upon approval, the Kirschner Litigation will be transferred to HMIT
- When commenced, the Kirschner Litigation was expected to be a potential source of funding indemnification expenses and distributions to creditors
- By 2023 and 2024, with the success of the Highland team, the need to pursue and monetize the Kirschner Claims became less clear, so the case was stayed to conserve resources
- With the settlement, the pursuit of the Kirschner claims in the hands of Highland is no longer justified because (a) all but 10% of the Class 9 Claims will be paid; (b) the Litigation Protections reduce the need to fund indemnity obligations; and (c) HMIT would be the primary beneficiary of the Kirschner Claims

As the Administrator, Mark Patrick Is Authorized to Enter Into the Settlement on HMIT's Behalf [1]

CAUSE NO. _____

THE HIGHLAND DALLAS FOUNDATION, INC., et al., Plaintiffs, v. MARK PATRICK, et al., Defendants.	IN THE TEXAS BUSINESS COURT 1ST DIVISION DALLAS, TEXAS

DECLARATION OF JAMES DAVID DONDERO

I, JAMES DAVID DONDERO, of 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas, United States, 75201, DECLARE under penalty of perjury:

1. I am the President of NexPoint Advisors, L.P. (NexPoint), an investment advisor registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). I am a Certified Public Accountant and Chartered Financial Analyst with over forty years of investment advisory experience managing billions of dollars of investments across various assets classes.

2. I make this declaration from matters within my own personal knowledge and believe the information contained herein to be true and accurate in all respects.

3. I founded NexPoint in 2012. NexPoint is an alternative investment firm, with a particular focus on investment in the real estate sector. NexPoint has assets under management exceeding $16 billion in value. I was formerly the President of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Highland), also an SEC registered investment advisor which I founded in 1993. From that time until 2015, Highland was majority owned by me and/or my affiliates. In December 2015, I divested my majority stake of Highland (2015 Transaction).

THE FUND

4. In addition to my business interests, I am a regular donor to philanthropic and charitable causes. The Fund is one of the vehicles I utilize to donate such funds to charitable organizations.

5. In 2010, the finance, accounting, and tax staff of Highland identified certain assets to be donated to a charitable foundation. In 2011, I requested the Donor Advised Fund (or DAF) to be formed and structured in a way that allowed these donations to be receipted and distributed to certain charitable foundations, as the ultimate beneficial owners of the Fund's economic interest. The structure proposed by the tax and legal advisors to effect this was for the Fund to have one limited partner (i.e. the LP) which would issue 'participation shares' to be held by certain charitable supporting organizations (together, the Supporting Organizations) and in turn each of those entities would provide funding directly to certain charitable foundations in the U.S. (together, the Charities).

6. The Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Fund dated 7 November 2011 (ARLPA), and the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of the LP dated 19 January 2015 (Articles), govern the Fund and its partners.

7. The LP held 100% of the economic interest in the Fund. The Fund's general partner, Charitable DAF GP, LLC (the GP), a Delaware company incorporated on 25 October 2011, held management shares.

8. The LP issued 100 management shares (the Management Shares) with the only voting rights for any and all shareholders in the LP. In essence, the Articles and ARLPA therefore grant complete control of the Fund structure to the holder of the Management Shares in the LP and the entirety of the issued share capital of the GP. Those shares have at all material times been held by a single individual, who as a result has substantial control over the entire Fund structure (the Control Position).

9. The ARLPA provides that the Fund was formed to make investments, directly or indirectly, on behalf of certain entities "for the economic benefit of the Limited Partner and its Indirect Charitable Owners" and contemplates the engagement of investment (and other service) advisors to effect this. In this context, the Control Position is responsible for the governance and management functions of the Fund as required in order for the Fund to carry out its sole purpose of benefiting the Supporting Organizations and the Charities they support.

10. The governing documents of the Fund plainly state in multiple places that all of the powers of the Control Position exist solely for the purpose of benefitting the Supporting Organizations and their Charities. This ubiquitous language was created for an express purpose. The expectation by the founders of the Fund (myself included) at the time it was formed was that the governing documents would ensure that the Control Position would be bound through his or her fiduciary obligations to safeguard and advance the interests of the charitable organizations that held actual beneficial ownership of the Fund.

GRANT SCOTT

11. I initially selected Grant Scott for the Control Position, a person I have known for years who also has great integrity.

12. From 2010 until the 2015 Transaction, the Fund operated as a non-discretionary advised account of Highland, meaning Highland provided back-and-middle-office staff to the Fund and also provided recommendations regarding potential investments to Mr. Scott as the Control Person. However, Mr. Scott had complete discretion in adopting or rejecting the investment recommendations provided to the Fund by Highland. He also had final discretion over payments made by the Fund to third parties. In his position as the Control Person, Mr. Scott was paid $60,000 per annum.

13. After the 2015 Transaction, my affiliates and I no longer owned a majority stake in Highland. Subsequently, I was advised that, as a result of the change of ownership, the Fund was permitted to enter into a paying Investment Advisory Agreement with Highland. This form of investment advisory agreement was in place from January 2017 until it was terminated effective March 2021.

MARK PATRICK

14. Mark Patrick was hired as Tax Counsel at Highland in 2008. His job duties included maximizing tax saving to Highland's limited partners, including me and my affiliates. In that role, Mr. Patrick directly represented me as my personal tax counsel. He represented me in tax efficiency planning and tax- deductible charitable giving, among other things. He provided the same services for various trusts and companies affiliated with me. Mr. Patrick served that role at Highland from 2008 until his departure in February 2021.

15. In March 2021, Mr. Patrick was hired by Skyview as Tax Counsel and continued to perform substantially similar tax counsel duties for me. At Mr. Patrick's request, his job title was changed to "Managing Director, Tax" in September 2021, although his role with respect to me and my affiliates remained substantially the same.

16. The legal structure of the Fund (including as regards its partners and ultimate beneficiaries as discussed above) was created in 2011 on the advice of Mr. Patrick working with outside counsel. Mr. Patrick advised me that, to avoid potential negative findings by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, as the donor/grantor of assets to the Fund, I could not have any control over the Fund or its entities. I followed his advice as my tax counsel.

Copy from re:SearchTX

17. In March 2021, Mr. Scott informed me that he wanted to resign from the Control Position. The Fund had become engaged in certain disputes arising from the bankruptcy of Highland filed in 2019, and he did not believe he was equipped to handle those disputes. Mr. Patrick suggested to Mr. Scott and me that he was prepared to take on the Control Position and, in that role, to handle the litigation related to the Highland Bankruptcy as it affected the Fund. At the time, Mr. Patrick was my attorney and Mr. Scott was my trusted friend, and I was happy for Mr. Scott to pass the Control Position to Mr. Patrick.

18. On 25 March 2021, Mr. Scott: (i) resigned as director of the LP, (ii) appointed Mr. Patrick as director of the LP, and (iii) transferred to Mr. Patrick the Management Shares for nominal consideration. Mr. Patrick therefore assumed the Control Position from that date.

19. At some point, I understand that a person named Paul Murphy based in the Cayman Islands also was appointed as director to the LP and a portion of the Fund's subsidiaries, giving those entities two directors. However, I understand that in the event of a dissenting vote by Mr. Murphy, Mr. Patrick's vote counts as the tiebreaker for corporate voting.

MR. PATRICK'S CONTROL OF THE FUND

20. In the initial period following Mr. Patrick's assumption of the Control Position, there was no noticeable change in the management of the Fund. NexPoint provided, without charge, investment ideas to the Fund, as Highland previously had done, and Mr. Patrick was free (as Mr. Scott had been) to decide whether or not the Fund wished to follow NexPoint's recommendations. This approach was similar to the non-discretionary advised account status of the Fund prior to 2017.

21. Subsequently, however, communications between Mr. Patrick, Skyview, and me began to become less frequent, and over time I came to suspect that Mr. Patrick was utilizing the Control Position not for the benefit of the Supporting Organizations, the Charities or the

Fund, but rather for his own personal enrichment.

22. On 28 June 2023, Mr. Patrick sent an email to Lauren Short, an employee of NexPoint, requesting that the Highland Dallas Foundation (i.e. the Supporting Organization that supports the Dallas Foundation) "direct $10,000" to Creative HEARTS TX, a non-profit entity formed on 13 June 2023. Following due diligence, Ms. Short learned that the directors of the entity were Mr. Patrick, Darees Patrick and Alyse Patrick (his daughter and wife). Mr. Patrick had made the grant request without disclosing his and/or his family's involvement.

23. Ms. Short discussed the matter with Mr. Patrick, who did not provide many details, but said the non-profit was formed to facilitate paying for trainers or speakers on self-defense training for teenage girls. Ms. Short understood that Patrick's expectation was that this would be an annual donation to a "club" at his daughter's school. While Ms. Short inquired, there was no detail forthcoming as to whether or not Creative Hearts would be a pass-through donating the monies to other charities or would directly do any work with the trainers or speakers itself. There also was not clarity if Creative Hearts' members intended to take a salary from the grant. The grant payment was authorized on September 5, 2023, but Mr. Patrick was informed that further payments were unlikely. I was informed of this process by Ms. Short and her supervisor. Contemporaneously with the grant approval, my team also informed the Dallas Foundation of the situation.

24. As another example, in or around September 2023, I was contacted by Kevin Cronin of Fortaris Capital Advisors (Fortaris). Fortaris provides litigation support services including due diligence, internal investigations, fraud detection, asset verification and in-depth background checks. Mr. Cronin is a former police sergeant and Special Agent with the Department of Homeland Security.

Copy from re:SearchTX

25. Fortaris was at the time engaged by the Fund in respect of an unrelated matter and Mr. Cronin was known to me personally. In September 2023, Mr. Cronin and I met, and he informed me that he had been approached by Mr. Patrick with a proposition whereby Mr. Patrick (on behalf of the Fund) would engage an entity controlled by Mr. Cronin (other than Fortaris) at a monthly fee of between $25,000 and $50,000, and that this fee would be split between Fortaris and Mr. Patrick as a supplement to Mr. Patrick's compensation. Mr. Cronin informed me that he had asked Mr. Patrick if this arrangement would amount to fraud, and that Mr. Patrick's response had been: "you can't steal from yourself."

26. Mr. Cronin informed me that he understood from this statement that Mr. Patrick believed he owned the Fund and could use the funds controlled by it however he pleased. Mr. Cronin further informed me that he was uncomfortable about Mr. Patrick's proposal and that he subsequently communicated this to Mr. Patrick, whereupon Mr. Patrick cut off all further communications between them.

27. Mr. Cronin's allegations that Mr. Patrick was seeking to make a secret, undisclosed personal profit from the Fund were extremely concerning. I have subsequently been informed by my attorneys in the United States that, had Mr. Cronin agreed with this proposal, it would have likely constituted U.S. federal wire fraud, and/or violations of the Texas Penal Code's prohibitions on bribery and misapplication of fiduciary property. Shortly after Mr. Cronin contacted me, I met with Mr. Patrick and confronted him about the allegations, which he admitted to me were true. I informed the Supporting Organizations about the matter and Mr. Patrick's admission. However, at the time, both the Supporting Organizations and I were concerned that under the Articles, the Supporting Organizations did not have the power (in their capacity as Participating Shareholders) to limit Mr. Patrick's powers or remove him from his position.

Copy from re:SearchTX

28. Given the situations described above, and the lack of communication about the Fund, I became increasingly concerned about Mr. Patrick's management of the Fund, including the potential misuse and/or misappropriation of its assets. In June 2024 therefore I requested that my team at NexPoint analyze the financial information of the Fund that I had in my possession, covering the calendar years ending 2018 to 2023 and the first half of 2024. My team produced an annual expense summary of that information (the Expense Summary) which indicated substantial increases in expenditures during Mr. Patrick's tenure, particularly during early 2023 and mid-2024, as follows:

(a) Directors' fees increased from around $40,000 in 2022 to almost $600,000 in 2023 – and increased even further to around $2.25 million in the first half of 2024 alone.

(b) Expenses overall for the first half of 2024 were around $18.3 million – roughly the same amount spent over the entire course of 2023 (i.e. $18.6 million).

29. The Expense Summary reinforced my concern that Mr. Patrick is using the Control Position for his own enrichment rather than to benefit the Supporting Organizations and the causes they support. I therefore directed my employees at NexPoint to provide the Expense Summary to the Supporting Organizations, and which they promptly did.

30. In August 2024, I became aware of yet another issue concerning Mr. Patrick. NexPoint and its affiliates, through their investment activities, regularly obtain material non-public information (MNPI) related to those investments. As a service provider to NexPoint and its affiliates, Skyview employees also obtain the same MNPI. Trading on the basis of MNPI amounts to 'insider trading' which is prohibited under U.S. securities laws. As a result, NexPoint and its affiliates, and Skyview, all have the same robust regulatory compliance program to prevent, among other things, insider trading (Compliance Policy). NexPoint and its affiliates, and Skyview, require their employees to abide by the

Compliance Policy at all times and employees are required to confirm in writing on a quarterly basis that they will not use MNPI while trading. Mr. Patrick completed the annual 2023, Q4 2023, Q1 2024, and Q2 2024 certifications, among others.

31. I was informed that my director of charitable giving had been contacted by Ms. Diaz, the CEO of the Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. (Dallas Foundation), one of the Charities. Ms. Diaz stated that on August 28, 2024, Mr. Patrick contacted the Dallas Foundation's attorney to provide information about an asset held by the Dallas Foundation, which was held directly and separately from the Fund. This information was obtained by Mr. Patrick through his employment at Skyview and constituted MNPI, which is prohibited by U.S. securities laws from being disclosed and/or acted upon. On the basis of this MNPI, Mr. Patrick advised the Dallas Foundation to exercise a put option it held in a NexPoint affiliated asset. The Dallas Foundation did not act on the information or recommendation provided by Mr. Patrick, but in the event it had exercised the put option, both the Dallas Foundation and Mr. Patrick would have committed violations of the U.S. securities laws that prohibit insider trading.

32. Upon receipt of the allegations against Mr. Patrick, Skyview's compliance department commenced an internal investigation which, due to the serious nature of the allegations, was conducted without Mr. Patrick's knowledge, so as to avoid potentially tipping off Mr. Patrick about the investigation. By the end of September 2024, the investigation was substantially complete, and the conclusion had been reached that Mr. Patrick's actions constituted a serious breach of his compliance and employee obligations. On October 1, 2024, as part of the finalization of the investigation report, Skyview's chief compliance officer interviewed Ms. Diaz about the allegations against Mr. Patrick, which I understand confirmed Skyview's conclusions. The final investigation report was issued on October 11,

2024 and concluded that Mr. Patrick had attempted a serious breach of U.S. securities laws.

33. On October 2, 2024, Mr. Patrick abruptly resigned his position from Skyview and thereafter became openly hostile towards the Charities, my affiliated companies, and me. Although neither I nor anyone at Skyview has direct evidence of Mr. Patrick having been tipped off about the investigation, the timing of his resignation causes me to conclude that Mr. Patrick became aware of the investigation into his behavior and resigned before the report was published.

34. On the same day that Mr. Patrick resigned his position at Skyview, he also terminated Skyview's service agreement with the Fund, and as a result all legal, compliance, back office and other services provided to the Fund. Mr. Patrick and Mr. Murphy have stated that that they intend to take on the role of investment advisors for the Fund. I am not aware of Mr. Murphy's qualifications for this role, nor am I aware of any third-party investment advisor that has been retained by the Fund to fill this role. Based on my knowledge and expertise in investment management, and my sixteen years working with Mr. Patrick as my counsel, I believe that Mr. Patrick is a well-qualified tax counsel, but does not have the experience, training, or expertise to be an investment professional.

FUNDING OF PROCEEDINGS

35. As stated above, I do not hold a controlling interest in any of the Charities or the Supporting Organizations. However, I sit on the boards of the Supporting Organizations for the purpose of understanding how the Charities are deploying the Fund's assets for charitable purposes, and the impact of those donations in the community. I am only one of three votes, and the other two votes on each board are held by the respective Charity. Historically, the boards have had no hesitation in exercising their powers to chart independent courses even if those decisions differ from my preferences.

36. The Supporting Organizations approached me about the costs associated with legal action and their reticence to use funds that should and otherwise would be used for charitable purposes, and asked whether I would be prepared to fund the action personally. I agreed to do so. I have not and will not at any time receive a benefit, nor do I have control of the proceedings, because of this funding arrangement. The Supporting Organizations have decision making authority in relation to these proceedings. My concern is solely to ensure that the Fund, and the funds that I have donated over time that are held in the Fund, are used only to benefit the Charities and the causes they support.

CAUSE NO. _____

THE HIGHLAND DALLAS FOUNDATION, INC., THE HIGHLAND KANSAS CITY FOUNDATION, INC., and THE HIGHLAND SANTA BARBARA FOUNDATION, INC., Plaintiffs, v. MARK PATRICK and DFW CHARITABLE FOUNDATION, CDMCFAD, LLC, CHARITABLE DAF GP, LLC and CDH GP, Ltd., Defendants.	IN THE TEXAS BUSINESS COURT 1ST DIVISION DALLAS, TEXAS

PLAINTIFFS' ORIGINAL PETITION, APPLICATION FOR TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER AND TEMPORARY INJUNCTION, AND EMERGENCY REQUEST FOR APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVER

TO THE HONORABLE JUDGE OF SAID COURT: The Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc., The Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc., and The Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc., (collectively, the "Plaintiffs" or "Supporting Organizations") file this Original Petition, Application for Temporary Restraining Order and Temporary Injunction, and Emergency Application for Appointment of Receiver, and in support thereof, respectfully show the Court as follows:

I. PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1.1 Defendant, Mark Patrick, through a host of corporate manipulations, took over $270 million in cash and assets that supported some of the most important community-based charities in the country. In Patrick's own testimony from just last Wednesday, June 25th, the Supporting Organizations, plaintiffs here, were left with "nothing."[1]

Copy from re:SearchTX

1.2 Through the mechanism of Charitable DAF GP, LLC (organized in Delaware) and later via a secretly incorporated entity, CDH GP, Ltd., Mark Patrick held the sole control position of what was a $270 million charitable fund (Charitable DAF Fund, LP) that four charities and the Supporting Organizations relied on to perform vital and sustained philanthropic work in specific communities in the United States. Patrick flagrantly violated both his express and implied fiduciary duties to the Supporting Organizations. He did so in order to redirect the fund's beneficial ownership to a brand-new sham charitable organization controlled by him, DFW Charitable Foundation. These actions come against a backdrop and pattern of sustained self-aggrandizement by Patrick using the fund's resources and his technical authority over them. If the Defendants here are not immediately prevented from taking further adverse actions, then placed into receivership and subjected to judicial scrutiny, the Plaintiffs will be cut off from the lifeblood of their charitable work by the very person whose duty was to act in their interests. Accordingly, Plaintiffs seek a Temporary Restraining Order and Temporary Injunction freezing the funds, followed by the appointment of a Receiver over the funds and the organization holding them.

II. DISCOVERY CONTROL PLAN AND MONETARY RELIEF

2.1 Plaintiffs intend that discovery be conducted under Level 2 as set forth in Rule 190.3 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Plaintiffs reserve the right to request to conduct discovery pursuant to "Level 3" as set forth in Rule 190 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

2.2 Plaintiffs seek damages in excess of $5,000,000 exclusive of interest, statutory damages, exemplary damages, penalties, attorney's fees, and court costs.

V. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

A. The Fund Structure

5.1 James Dondero was the President of Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland"), an SEC registered investment advisor. At Mr. Dondero's direction, in 2010, the finance, accounting, and tax staff of Highland identified certain assets to be donated to a charitable foundation. The goal was to create a permanent, self-sustaining, self-governing charitable infrastructure to facilitate sustained philanthropic efforts in specific communities in the United States.

5.2 To that end, in 2011, "Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. ("Charitable DAF Fund") was formed to hold the donated assets.

Copy from re:SearchTX

5.3 The Charitable DAF Fund primarily holds assets through a wholly-owned subsidiary entity called CLO HoldCo, Ltd. ("CLO HoldCo").

5.4 At the same time the Charitable DAF Fund was created, Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd ("Charitable DAF HoldCo"), a Cayman Islands entity, was also organized. Charitable DAF HoldCo held all of the economic interest in the Charitable DAF Fund. In other words, Charitable DAF HoldCo was the beneficial owner of all monies flowing from the assets held in the Charitable DAF Fund.

5.5 The ultimate purpose of forming Charitable DAF Fund and Charitable DAF HoldCo was to benefit certain, substantial regional nonprofit charities and their supporting organizations in California, Kansas, and Texas. Participating shares in Charitable DAF HoldCo were therefore issued to four Supporting Organizations, which were the ultimate beneficial owners of the assets held in the Charitable DAF Fund. Together, the four Supporting Organizations owned 100% of Charitable DAF HoldCo. The four Supporting Organization held their beneficial ownership in the assets of the Charitable DAF Fund by virtue of those Participating Shares in Charitable DAF HoldCo. Put simply: the four Supporting Organizations owned 100% of Charitable DAF HoldCo, which was the beneficial owner of all the assets in the Charitable DAF Fund. Three of the four Supporting Organizations are the Plaintiffs in this Lawsuit.

5.6 In turn and as intended, the funds provided to the Plaintiff Supporting Organizations from the Charitable DAF Fund empowered them to provide funding directly to charitable foundations in three regions of the United States. Specifically, The Dallas Foundation, The Greater Kansas City Community Foundation, and The Santa Barbara Foundation (together, the "Charities") are each affiliated with one of the Supporting Organizations and receive regular grants for charitable work ultimately funded by Charitable DAF Fund.

Copy from re:SearchTX

5.7 Since the Charitable DAF Fund's inception, the Supporting Organizations have granted over $42 million to charitable organizations, including donations to 275 organizations, with average annual grant payments of $3.7 million. The Supporting Organizations and the charitable organizations perform irreplaceable philanthropic work in their respective communities, and do so in a steady, reliable manner that permits them to build progress on initiatives year after year.

B. Control of the Fund

5.8 The founders of the Charitable DAF Fund and of Charitable DAF HoldCo wanted to ensure that the fund assets were professionally managed by experts. So, although the Supporting Organizations were the sole beneficiaries of the Charitable DAF Fund and together held all of the economic interest in it, management control of the Charitable DAF Fund and Charitable DAF HoldCo was vested not with those organizations but rather in "Management Shares," with general partner status. These "Management Shares" provided the only voting rights for any and all shareholders in Charitable DAF HoldCo. But they did not convey a right to any economic benefit of the assets in the Charitable DAF Fund, which belonged solely to the Supporting Organizations.

5.9 So, the "Management Shares" exercised control over the assets and over the operations of Charitable DAF HoldCo, even though they conveyed no economic benefit. In the interest of efficient management, the Management Shares and general partner status in the Charitable DAF Fund were concentrated in one person, the "Control Position." The Control Position was therefore responsible to manage the Charitable DAF Fund and Charitable DAF HoldCo for the economic benefit of their economic beneficiaries—the "Supporting Organizations," which held their "Participating Shares." The Control Position therefore owed the Supporting Organizations fiduciary duties of candor, care, and loyalty, including a prohibition against any self-dealing.

5.10 In essence, the governing documents of Charitable DAF HoldCo grant complete control of Charitable DAF Fund structure to the holder of the 100 Management Shares in Charitable DAF HoldCo. Those shares have at all material times been held by a single individual, who as a result has substantial control over the entire Charitable DAF Fund structure.

5.11 The Charitable DAF Fund, however, is also expressly, separately controlled by the Control Position. Similar to control over Charitable DAF HoldCo, control over the Charitable DAF Fund is separate from the beneficial economic ownership of the Charitable DAF Fund (which belongs entirely to the Supporting Organizations). Control over the Charitable DAF Fund was reposited in the Control Position through its complete ownership of a Delaware entity named Charitable DAF GP, LLC[2] (the "Delaware GP"). The Delaware GP was the managing general partner in the Charitable DAF Fund.

5.12 The Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Charitable DAF Fund, dated November 7, 2011 (the "ARLPA"), and the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of the LP dated January 19, 2015 ("Articles"), govern the Charitable DAF Fund and its partners. The ARLPA makes it clear the Control Position is to exercise his powers for the sole benefit of the Supporting Organizations.

5.13 For example, the Preamble to the ARLPA states: "WHEREAS, the Partnership was formed in order to own, operate and make certain investments directly or indirectly on behalf of certain entities exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code

[2] The Charitable DAF GP, LLC, held all the general partnership shares in Charitable DAF Fund, which provided all management control over the Charitable DAF Fund, but conveyed no beneficial economic interest.

Copy from re:SearchTX

of 1986, as amended and the parties hereto desire for the Partnership to be for the economic benefit of the Limited Partner and its Indirect Charitable Owners (as defined below) as set forth herein[.]"

5.14 Likewise, Section 1.3 (Purpose and Powers) states that the Control Position must manage the fund assets "for the purpose of benefitting, directly or indirectly, the Indirect Charitable Owners."[3]

5.15 Section 1.6 (Powers) likewise emphasizes: "[T]he General Partner [Control Position] . . . is hereby granted the right, power and authority to do on behalf of the Partnership all things which, in the General Partner's sole discretion, are necessary or appropriate to manage the Partnership's affairs and fulfill the purposes of the Partnership; provided, however that the Partnership's assets and investments shall be for the benefit of the Limited Partners and not for the economic benefit of the General Partner."[4]

5.16 The ARLPA thus provides that Charitable DAF Fund was formed to make investments, directly or indirectly, "for the economic benefit of the Limited Partner [DAF HoldCo] and its Indirect Charitable Owners" and contemplates the engagement of investment (and other service) advisors to achieve this. In this context, the Control Position is responsible for the governance and management functions of the Charitable DAF Fund as required for it to carry out its sole purpose of benefiting the Supporting Organizations and the Charities they support. The ARLPA is infused throughout with the singular command: The Control Position has great authority but is required to act with fidelity in exercising it for the benefit of the Supporting Organizations.

5.17 Grant Scott was initially selected for the Control Position. Mr. Scott was a longtime friend of Mr. Dondero's and a lawyer in North Carolina. Mr. Dondero knew and trusted Mr. Scott.

Mr. Scott effectively served the Supporting Organizations' charitable purposes in his role in the Control Position. For this, Mr. Scott received $60,000 in annual compensation—a compensation rate that remained unchanged for the better part of decade. During this time, the Supporting Organizations and their respective charitable foundations made great strides in creating philanthropic, and charitable, work that was efficient, that was steady and reliable, and that grew and built on their progress year after year.

C. Mark Patrick's Assumption of Control

5.18 Highland filed for bankruptcy in October 2019 ("Highland Bankruptcy") and, as a result, the Charitable DAF Fund became engaged in certain disputes arising from the bankruptcy, increasing the time and responsibilities associated with the Control Position. Mr. Scott did not feel qualified to manage those disputes and decided to resign from the Control Position.

5.19 Mark Patrick, a tax attorney and employee of Mr. Dondero who had played a significant role in developing the overall Charitable DAF Fund structure while at Highland, suggested to Mr. Scott and Mr. Dondero that he was prepared to take on the Control Position and, in that role, to handle the litigation related to the Highland Bankruptcy as it affected Charitable DAF Fund. At the time, Patrick was an employee of Mr. Dondero's enterprises and was serving as Mr. Dondero's attorney and Mr. Dondero had no objection to Mr. Scott transferring the Control Position to Patrick. As a result of his attorney and employee status, Mr. Patrick owed significant fiduciary duties to Mr. Dondero's entities and to the Charitable DAF Fund structure—fiduciary duties that he has violated in a series of self-serving and self-dealing transactions.

5.20 On March 25, 2021, Mr. Scott resigned and appointed Patrick as director of DAF HoldCo, transferring all his management shares and membership interest to Patrick for nominal consideration. Patrick therefore assumed the Control Position from that date. Patrick then hired

Paul Murphy, a Cayman Islands' director, to join him in his efforts to abscond with the $270 million in assets.

5.21 At the time Patrick assumed the Control Position, he was employed at Skyview Partners, a service organization that provided support primarily to Mr. Dondero and entities in which Mr. Dondero had an interest. As an employee of Skyview, he owed fiduciary duties to his employer.

D. Patrick's Breaches of Fiduciary Duty

5.22 In 2023, while still employed by Dondero entities, and as the sole fiduciary for the Charitable DAF Fund and DAF HoldCo, Patrick initiated a two-year pattern of malfeasance all culminating in his current effort to abscond with $270 million. His initial small infidelities quickly blossomed into a brazen, fraudulent play for the Charitable DAF Fund and its $270 million in holdings, putting at risk the charitable works supported by the Supporting Organizations.

E. Undisclosed Self-Dealing

5.23 In June 2023, Patrick requested that The Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. direct $10,000 to Creative HEARTS TX, a non-profit entity formed on June 13, 2023. Patrick expected this to be an annually recurring donation. Patrick failed to disclose that he, his wife, and daughter were the directors of this entity, which had been created approximately two weeks earlier. The Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. funded an initial $10,000 contribution but declined to commit to doing so annually.

F. Attempted Fraudulent Kickback Scheme

5.24 In September 2023, Patrick approached Kevin Cronin, CEO of Fortaris Capital Advisors, proposing a fraudulent kickback scheme to personally benefit Patrick. Fortaris previously provided legitimate services to the Charitable DAF Fund. Now, Patrick proposed that the Charitable DAF Fund engage a new vendor controlled by Mr. Cronin. Patrick proposed that the Charitable DAF Fund pay this sham vendor a monthly fee of $25,000-$50,000. The sham vendor, however, would not provide any services to the Charitable DAF Fund. Instead, Patrick expected to collect half of the fee as undisclosed supplemental compensation. That is, he expected to collect something for nothing in a classic fraud.

Copy from re:SearchTX

5.25 Mr. Cronin declined and relayed what occurred to Mr. Dondero. Mr Dondero then confronted Patrick, who admitted that what Mr. Cronin reported was true.

5.26 Mr. Dondero ensured that Supporting Organizations were also informed about Patrick's kickback scheme. Despite significant concern, the Supporting Organizations had doubts about whether, based on the governing documents and Patrick's positions, they could remove Patrick from the Control Position.

G. Insider Trading

5.27 In August 2024, Patrick tried to capitalize on material non-public information obtained through his employment at Skyview to advise The Dallas Foundation to exercise a put option in a NexPoint affiliated asset, constituting attempted violations of U.S. securities laws. The Dallas Foundation declined to trade on Patrick's improper tip.

5.28 Skyview's compliance department conducted an internal investigation that concluded Patrick's actions constituted serious breaches of compliance obligations and attempted serious breaches of U.S. securities laws.

5.29 Patrick resigned from Skyview immediately before the investigation was finalized and simultaneously terminated the Charitable DAF Fund's services agreement with Skyview without justification and against the Charitable DAF Fund's interests.

H. Financial Irregularities and Lack of Transparency

Copy from re:SearchTX

5.30 After resigning from Skyview, Patrick began shrouding the Charitable DAF Fund structure's overall financial reporting and communications to the point that the Supporting Organizations were essentially cut off from any view into the financial transactions and soundness of the fund. As of September 2024, the Charitable DAF Fund held approximately $270 million strictly for the financial benefit of the Supporting Organizations and ultimately their supported Charities.

5.31 But a review of the Charitable DAF Fund's last accessible financial records showed dramatic and unexplained increases in expenditures:

- Directors' fees increased from $40,000 in 2022 to almost $600,000 in 2023, and to approximately $2.25 million in the first half of 2024 alone (a 12,400% increase from 2022 if annualized).
- Legal expenses increased to $6 million in the first six months of 2024 compared to $4 million for all of 2022 (a 300% increase if annualized).
- Overall expenses for the first half of 2024 were around $18.3 million, compared to $18.6 million for all of 2023.

5.32 Despite repeated requests from the Supporting Organizations and their counsel and counsel for the Charitable DAF Fund, Patrick and Murphy have ignored and refused to provide requested financial information or explanations for these dramatic expenditure increases.

5.33 Patrick must have personally benefited from the dramatic increases in director's fees and, given Patrick's prior attempt to implement a kickback scheme through Mr. Cronin, the other remarkable increases in expenses raise deep concerns about potential self-dealing.

I. Patrick Ignores the Supporting Organizations Concerns

Copy from re:SearchTX

5.34 On November 11, 2024, given what the Supporting Organizations already knew, the three major Supporting Organizations drafted a letter to Murphy, the Cayman Islands director, stating that "we no longer have confidence that the governance structures of, including but not limited to Charitable DAF-GP, LLC, Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd., Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. and CLO HoldCo, Ltd. (collectively the "DAF-related entities"), can function appropriately. We believe a reorganization must occur or the DAF-related entities should be equitably wound up because the governance structure has become unworkable."[5]

5.35 The letter continued, "because we have substantial concerns, out of an abundance of caution, and until an accounting can be conducted, we believe it is inappropriate for anyone to authorize the depletion of further assets of DAF-related entities. We urge you to take our accounting and governance concerns seriously because depletion of assets in the DAF-related entities has a direct impact on our mission and the charitable good works in our communities."[6]

5.36 Patrick and Murphy never responded to the letter, other than a threat that if the Supporting Organizations did not withdraw it, then Patrick and Murphy would embark on an effort at the Internal Revenue Service to revoke the Supporting Organizations' charitable status.

5.37 In January 2025, the Supporting Organizations demanded Patrick and Murphy provide clarity into the Charitable DAF Fund's financial position, expressing dismay that Patrick and Murphy continued to ignore their repeated requests for information. Murphy responded via email to this request stating that he and Patrick would "present directly to the foundations/supporting organi[z]ations" to address some of the concerns in the No Confidence Letter. Murphy never did.[7]

5.38 Counsel for the Supporting Organizations and for the Charitable DAF Fund exchanged further communications, but Patrick, Murphy, and the Charitable DAF Fund's counsel never provided answers and information in response to the Supporting Organizations' basic requests. Instead, they wrapped all their future communications in half-truths and subterfuge.[8] At the same time, they offered the Supporting Organizations vague assurances that all their maneuvers were to improve the structure, focus, and performance of the fund, for the benefit of the Supporting Organizations.

5.39 The Charitable DAF Fund's counsel promised a meeting to address the Supporting Organizations' concerns, but after the Supporting Organizations' counsel suggested dates, the Charitable DAF Fund and its counsel delayed and delayed until it eventually went silent.[9]

5.40 In the interim, Patrick accelerated his multi-year fraud.

J. Dilution Scheme and Liquidation Maneuver

5.41 Between December 2024 and the present, Patrick executed a series of moves to dilute the Supporting Organization's interests in the Charitable DAF Fund, and alienate those same assets entirely away from them. The purpose and result of Patrick's moves was to entirely eliminate the Supporting Organization's ownership of the Charitable DAF Fund assets. In short, he stole them.

5.42 In December 2024, Patrick formed new entities (as described below) with Patrick as the sole director. He then replaced the current entities holding and controlling the Charitable DAF Fund with his own entities, essentially transferring all ownership and control to himself in a brazen act of self-dealing. He never notified the Supporting Organizations of this massive reorganization of the Charitable DAF Fund. Indeed, the Supporting Organizations found out about this monumental reorganization only when Patrick and his counsel had to admit it in a Cayman court as part of the Supporting Organization's successful effort to appoint Cayman Liquidators to unravel Patrick's fraud in that jurisdiction.

5.43 In a move that would make most fraudsters blanch, and certainly continued to violate all his fiduciary duties, on December 9, 2024, Patrick formed Defendant DFWCF (also referred to herein as the "Sham Charity"), a Delaware nonprofit corporation. Patrick named himself the Sham Charity's sole member and its registered address was Patrick's home. Patrick then issued his charity a fifty-one percent (51%) interest in the charitable assets. In essence, Patrick awarded himself the ability to distribute over half of the Charitable DAF Fund's $270 million in economic interest to his own entity, from his living room in Dallas.

5.44 Three days later, on December 12, 2024, Patrick incorporated CDMCFAD, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company.

5.45 In secret, and without notice to the Supporting Organizations, on December 18, 2024, Charitable DAF HoldCo transferred to CDMCFAD, LLC 100 percent of its interest in Charitable DAF Fund, and Charitable DAF HoldCo acquired 100 percent of the interest in CDMCFAD, LLC. As a result, CDMCFAD effectively was inserted as a blocking company in between Charitable DAF HoldCo, owned by the Supporting Organizations, and the Charitable DAF Fund itself (where the assets resided). Suddenly, the Supporting Organizations no longer held a 100 beneficial interest in the entity that held the assets of Charitable DAF Fund. Instead, Patrick ensured a different and new entity (CDMCFAD) held Charitable DAF Fund.

5.46 Patrick's fraud continued to evolve in February 2025. On February 7, 2025, again without notice to the Supporting Organizations, DAF HoldCo (in an ultra vires act) allotted 318 participating shares to DFWCF, the Sham Charity controlled by Patrick. This sham dilution reduced the Supporting Organizations' cumulative holding in Charitable DAF HoldCo from 100% of the participation shares to 48.9%. Following the new issuance: (i) HDFI's interest was diluted from 32.787% to 16.05%; (ii) HKCF's interest was diluted from 32.787% to 16.05%; (iii) HSBFI's interest was diluted from 32.787% to 16.05% and (iv) the HCMLP Charitable Fund's[10] interest was diluted from 1.639% to 0.80%. Said another way, Patrick absconded with over half of the participating interest of the Supporting Organizations and other charitable funds. Before, during, and after this action—and at all times it was contemplated and executed—Patrick and Charitable DAF HoldCo still owed fiduciary duties to the Supporting Organizations.

5.47 In February 2025, the Sham Charity acquired IRS 501(c)(3) tax exempt status. The By-Laws of the Charitable DAF Fund required that its limited partnership interests be owned by an entity with such tax-exempt status. Therefore, obtaining 501(c)(3) status for the Sham Charity was a necessary step to effectuate Patrick's complete control of the assets of Charitable DAF Fund.

5.48 On March 27, 2025, Patrick caused CDMCFAD (the holder of $270 million in assets) to issue shares to the Sham Charity, and only to the Sham Charity. He issued no shares in CDMCFAD to the Supporting Organizations. His fraudulent scam was nearly complete. Now, Patrick's Sham Charity controlled all the direct economic interest in the entity Patrick had inserted between Charitable DAF HoldCo and the assets in Charitable DAF Fund, and the Supporting Organizations were left out in the cold.

5.49 On April 2, 2025, Patrick caused Charitable DAF HoldCo to redeem its interests in CDMCFAD for a total payment of $1.6 million. That is, he exchanged $270 million for $1.6

[10] The HCMLP Charitable Fund is a separate charity which provides funding for the North Texas Community Foundation. While it is not a named plaintiff, the damages it incurred because of the acts of Patrick are notable and relevant to show Patrick's impact across the State of Texas.

million, a ridiculous transaction bereft of reasonably equivalent value.[11] After the transaction, Charitable DAF HoldCo purportedly had no assets and no remaining interest in Charitable DAF Fund. As a result, Patrick's Sham Charity, Defendant DFWCF, was the sole limited partner and beneficial owner of Charitable DAF Fund, through its now-100% ownership of CDMCFAD, and CDMCFAD's 100% ownership of the fund. This final step completely severed the Supporting Organizations and their nonprofit charities from the assets of the Charitable DAF Fund. In Patrick's own words under oath, "the entity in liquidation [Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd.] owns nothing."[12]

5.50 Before the start of these self-dealing transactions, in October 2024, the Supporting Organizations owned 100% of the Participation Shares representing the economic ownership of $270 million in assets. As of April 2025, the Supporting Organizations owned Participation Shares worth zero. While Patrick allegedly distributed a paltry portion of $1.6 million to the Supporting Organizations, receipt of those funds has yet to be verified. Again, all of his self-dealing activity took place with no clarity or transparency. Patrick converted the Supporting Organizations' assets to Patrick's personal benefit and ownership, and violated his fiduciary duties of care, candor, and loyalty that he owed to the Supporting Organizations.

K. The Cayman Island Proceedings

5.51 On April 2, 2025, again unbeknownst to the Supporting Organizations, Patrick placed DAF HoldCo into voluntary liquidation in the Cayman Islands through written resolutions of directors executed by Patrick, with joint voluntary liquidators appointed.

5.52 But the Supporting Organizations already did know: that Patrick had (1) actively thwarted all financial transparency; (2) refused to address the Supporting Organizations well-founded concerns including their expression of no-confidence; (3) engaged in a pattern of fraudulent self-dealing; (4) taken all participating ownership from the Supporting Organizations without any approval or appropriate compensation; and (5) and restructured the underlying funds. This was enough to convince the Supporting Organizations to take action.

5.53 The Supporting Organizations filed an involuntary Petition for Winding Up in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands (the "Grand Court"), Financial Services Division, Cause No. FSD 99 OF 2025 (JAJ), styled In the Matter of Section 92 of the Companies Act (2025 Revision) and In the Matter of Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd. Absent doing so, the Supporting Organizations would not have learned about Patrick's voluntary liquidation.

5.54 Cayman Islands counsel for the Supporting Organizations alleged essentially the same facts as recounted in this Petition before the Grand Court. However, Defendants DFWCF and CDMCFAD are Delaware-organized entities and were not expressly named in the Grand Court proceedings.

5.55 The Grand Court, after lengthy hearing and in consideration of written submissions and evidentiary exhibits, ordered among other things[13]:

> 5. The joint official liquidators are authorized to exercise the following powers in Part I of Third Schedule 3 to the Companies Act, without requiring further sanction by the Court:
> a) the power to commence legal proceedings in the name and on behalf of the Company to obtain the provision of information and/or documents and/or the examination of individuals in the Cayman Islands or the United States; and
> b) the power to apply in the Cayman Islands or the United States for the preservation, freezing or attachment of assets to which the Company is or may arguably be entitled.

[13] Ex. 8, Supervision Order (Appx. Pg. 244-246)

Copy from re:SearchTX

> 6. The joint official liquidators are in addition authorized to exercise the following powers and to take the following steps without further sanction by the Court:
> a) the power to present a petition for the winding up of Charitable DAF Fund, LP (the Fund) if so advised;
> b) the power to file a summons and to apply for an order appointing provisional liquidators of the Fund if so advised; and
> c) the power to seek registration or recognition of themselves and/or the Official Liquidation in any State in the United States for any purpose connected with the exercise of the powers specified in paragraphs 5(a) or 5(b) of this Order.

5.56 While the Cayman Islands-appointed official liquidators now conduct their investigation of the assets and other matters pertaining to the Cayman Islands' proceedings, Defendants Patrick, DFWCF, and CDMCFAD (all sited in the United States, and more specifically Dallas County) remain in actual control and beneficial ownership of all assets that were held by the Charitable DAF Fund and DAF HoldCo. In the meantime, the rightful beneficial owners, the Supporting Organizations, are without the benefit of the considerable assets formerly held by the Charitable DAF Fund and without any insight into the current status and security of the assets. This not only damages the Supporting Organizations, but the charitable causes in their communities that rely on funding from the Charitable DAF Fund.

VI. CAUSES OF ACTION

Count I - Breach of Fiduciary Duty Against Patrick, CDH GP, Ltd., and Charitable DAF GP, LLC

6.1 Paragraphs 1.1 - 5.56 are incorporated as if fully restated herein.

6.2 In "a limited partnership, the general partner stands in the same fiduciary capacity to the limited partners as a trustee stands to the beneficiaries of a trust." Hughes v. St. David's Support Corp., 944 S.W.2d 423, 425–26 (Tex. App.—Austin 1997, writ denied); Feeley v. NHAOCG, LLC, 62 A.3d 649, 661 (Del. Ch. 2012) (There "has never been any serious doubt that the general partner of a Delaware limited partnership owes fiduciary duties."). Likewise, under traditional principles of equity, and various statutes generally hold that a manager of an LLC would qualify as a fiduciary of that LLC and its members. Auriga Capital Corp. v. Gatz Properties, 40 A.3d 839, 850 (Del. Ch. 2012), judgment entered sub nom. Auriga Capital Corp. v. Gatz Properties, LLC (Del. Ch. 2012), aff'd, 59 A.3d 1206 (Del. 2012); Davis v. Crawford, 700 S.W.3d 438, 449 (Tex. App.—Eastland 2024, no pet.) ("[T]he relationship between a managing member of an LLC and a nonmanaging member is similar to that of a general partner/limited partner relationship, and that such an arrangement thereby creates a fiduciary obligation on the part of the managing member.").

6.3 By virtue of Patrick's Control Positions related to the overall Charitable DAF Fund structure and specifically DAF HoldCo and the Charitable DAF Fund, Patrick owed fiduciary duties to the Plaintiffs.

6.4 Patrick breached his fiduciary duties to the Plaintiffs by stripping them of their legal, equitable, and beneficial interests in the Charitable DAF Fund structure including DAF HoldCo, the Charitable DAF Fund, and ultimately the substantial assets held for the Plaintiffs' benefit.

6.5 Patrick breached these duties through self-dealing, attempted secret profit schemes, use of inside information, financial mismanagement, orchestrating asset sales at below-market values, and transferring beneficial ownership to the Sham Charity.

6.6 Patrick breached his fiduciary duties by mismanaging the Charitable DAF Fund's finances, and dramatically increasing director compensation to his own benefit.

Copy from re:SearchTX

6.7 Patrick breached his fiduciary duty by successfully soliciting a charitable contribution ultimately from a Supporting Organization to a charity controlled by Patrick and his immediate family without disclosing the relationship.

6.8 The actions incorporated herein have wrongfully deprived the Plaintiffs of substantial economic support and assets, harming, and threatening irreparable harm to, the Plaintiffs and the Charities that they support. Plaintiffs have suffered damages as a result of Patrick's breach of his fiduciary duties.

Count II - Constructive Fraud Against Patrick

6.9 Paragraphs 1.1 – 5.56 are incorporated as if fully restated herein.

6.10 "Constructive fraud is the breach of a legal or equitable duty that the law declares fraudulent because it violates a fiduciary relationship." Hubbard v. Shankle, 138 S.W.3d 474, 483 (Tex. App.—Fort Worth 2004, pet. denied). "[I]n a claim for constructive fraud, the actor's intent is irrelevant." Strobach v. WesTex Cmty. Credit Union, 621 S.W.3d 856, 879 (Tex. App.—El Paso 2021, pet. denied). "[C]onstructive fraud is the breach of some legal or equitable duty which, irrespective of moral guilt, the law declares fraudulent because of its tendency to deceive others, to violate confidence, or to injure public interests." Id.

6.11 As a fiduciary, Patrick's conduct in diluting the Plaintiffs' interests, selling assets at below-market values to undisclosed parties, and liquidating DAF HoldCo and transferring its interests to the Sham Charity without notice constitutes constructive fraud.

6.12 Patrick injured public interests by his conduct. Plaintiffs have suffered damages as a result of Patrick's fraud.

Count III - Unjust Enrichment Against Patrick, CDMCFAD, and DFWCF

6.13 Paragraphs 1.1 – 5.56 are incorporated as if fully restated herein.

Copy from re:SearchTX

6.14 A claim of unjust enrichment applies when a party obtains "a benefit from another by fraud, duress, or the taking of an undue advantage." Sw. Bell Tel. Co. v. Mktg. on Hold Inc., 308 S.W.3d 909, 921 (Tex. 2010)).

6.15 Patrick and DFWCF stripped the Plaintiffs of their rightful legal, equitable, and beneficial interests in the Charitable DAF Fund structure including DAF HoldCo, the Charitable DAF Fund, and ultimately the substantial assets held for the Plaintiffs' benefit.

6.16 Patrick and DFWCF took these interests and assets for their own benefit via fraud and taking undue advantage of the access available through the Control Positions and overlapping control with DFWCF.

6.17 Patrick also took undue advantage through self-dealing, attempted secret profit schemes, use of inside information, financial mismanagement, orchestrating asset sales at below-market values, and transferring beneficial ownership to the Sham Charity.

6.18 Patrick and DFWCF have been unjustly enriched at the expense of the Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs have been damages by Patrick's unjust enrichment.

Count IV – Conversion Against Patrick, CDMCFAD, and DFWCF

6.19 Paragraphs 1.1 – 5.56 are incorporated as if fully restated herein.

6.20 Conversion requires a showing that (1) the plaintiff owned, had legal possession, or was entitled to possession of the property, (2) the defendant assumed and exercised dominion and control over the property in an unlawful and unauthorized manner, to the exclusion of and inconsistent with the plaintiff's rights, and (3) the defendant refused the plaintiff's demand for return of the property. Automek, Inc. v. Orandy, 105 S.W.3d 60, 63 (Tex. App.—Houston [1st Dist.] 2003, no pet.).

Copy from re:SearchTX

6.21 The Plaintiffs held legal, equitable, and beneficial interests in the Charitable DAF Fund structure including DAF HoldCo, the Charitable DAF Fund, and ultimately the substantial assets held for the Plaintiffs' benefit.

6.22 Patrick with DFWCF has unlawfully and without authorization, assumed and exercised dominion over the Plaintiffs' legal, equitable, and beneficial interests in the Charitable DAF Fund structure including their participation in DAF HoldCo, the Charitable DAF Fund, and Charitable DAF Fund assets through the dilution scheme that diverted all the legal and beneficial economic interests to Patrick's controlled entity, DFWCF.

6.23 The Plaintiffs requested distribution in kind of the Charitable DAF Fund structure assets, which Patrick and now, DFWCF, have ignored and refused. Plaintiffs have been damages as a result of these conversions.

Count V – Imposition of Constructive Trust Against Patrick, CDMCFAD, and DFWCF

6.24 Paragraphs 1.1 – 5.56 are incorporated as if fully restated herein.

6.25 "A constructive trust is considered a legal fiction and is a creation of equity to prevent a wrongdoer from profiting from his wrongful acts." In re Harding, 563 S.W.3d 366, 372 (Tex. App.—Texarkana 2018, no pet.). "[T]o obtain a constructive trust, [a party] must prove: (1) breach of a special trust, fiduciary relationship, or actual fraud; (2) unjust enrichment of the wrongdoer; and (3) tracing to an identifiable res." Id. (cleaned up).

6.26 Patrick through DFWCF has breached his fiduciary relationship with the Plaintiffs by converting legal, equitable, and beneficial interests in the Charitable DAF Fund structure including DAF HoldCo, the Charitable DAF Fund, and ultimately the substantial assets held for the Plaintiffs' benefit, resulting in the unjust enrichment of DFWCF and Patrick.

Copy from re:SearchTX

6.27 All the legal, equitable, and beneficial interests in the Charitable DAF Fund structure including DAF HoldCo, the Charitable DAF Fund, and ultimately the substantial assets held for the Plaintiffs' benefit in the overall Charitable DAF Fund structure should be imposed with a constructive trust running to the benefit of the Plaintiffs.

VII. EMERGENCY APPLICATION FOR RECEIVERSHIP

7.1 Paragraphs 1.1 - 5.56 are incorporated as if fully restated herein.

7.2 The Plaintiffs seek the immediate appointment of a receiver over Defendants DFWCF and CDMCFAD, LLC (the "Receivership Entities") under three independent bases: Texas Civil Practice & Remedies Code §§ 64.001(a)(3), (7), Texas Business and Organizations Code § 11.410, and the Court's inherent equitable powers.

A. Texas Civil Practice & Remedies Code

7.3 [U]nder section 64.001 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code ("CPRC"), a court may appoint a receiver in an action between "partners or others jointly owning or interested in any property or fund," CPRC §§ 64.001(a)(3) or "in any case in which a receiver may be appointed under the rules of equity." CPRC §§ 64.001(a)(7); Elliott v. Weatherman, 396 S.W.3d 224, 228 (Tex. App.—Austin 2013, no pet.).

7.4 A party with a probable interest or a right to the property or fund has standing to seek the appointment of a receiver. CPRC § 64.001(b). "[T]he property or fund must be in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured." Id.

7.5 A probable interest exists by statute in actions between partners and in actions between joint owners of property. CPRC § 64.001(a)(3).

7.6 One purpose of a receivership is to preserve assets and resolve issues relating to an entity's affairs where there are allegations of fraud or improper activities. See Floyd v. MMWKM

Copy from re:SearchTX

Advisors, LLC, No. 05-23-00638-CV, 2024 WL 549036 at *2 (Tex. App. – Dallas 2024, pet. denied, reh'g denied).

B. Texas Business and Organizations Code

7.7 Like CPRC § 64.001, a court that has subject matter jurisdiction over specific property of a domestic or foreign entity in Texas may appoint a receiver for that property in several scenarios, including an action between "partners or others jointly owning or interested in the property or fund." Tex. Bus. & Orgs. Code § 11.403(a)(3).

7.8 Additionally, under Section 11.410 of the Texas Business and Organizations Code ("TBOC"), a court may appoint a receiver for all of the property, in and outside Texas, of a foreign entity doing business in Texas and its business if the court determines, in accordance with the ordinary usages of equity, that circumstances exist that necessitate the appointment of a receiver even if a receiver has not been appointed by another court. TBOC § 11.410(a).

C. Rules of Equity

7.9 In addition to specific statutory authority to appoint receivers, Texas courts retain inherent equitable power to do so. The CPRC, § 64.004 makes clear that the rules of equity control the appointment and power of a receiver unless inconsistent with a statutory provision.

D. Receivership Standards Under Texas Law and Equity

7.10 "The appointment of a receiver lies within the sound discretion of the trial court." In re Estate of Herring, 983 S.W.2d 61, 65 (Tex. App.—Corpus Christi–Edinburg 1998, no pet.). "The appointment of a receiver, either as authorized by statute or usages of equity, will not be disturbed on appeal unless the record reveals a clear abuse of discretion." O & G Carriers, Inc. v. Smith Energy 1986-A P'ship, 826 S.W.2d 703, 706 (Tex. App.—Houston [1st Dist.] 1992, no writ).

Copy from re:SearchTX

7.11 The party submitting an application for appointment of a receiver bears the burden of proof to present evidence justifying the appointment. Furgerson v. First Nat'l Bank, 218 S.W.2d 1019, 1020 (Tex. Civ. App. – Texarkana 1949, no writ). The party can meet that burden by submitting a sworn verification supporting the claimed grounds for the appointment, In re Estate of Herring, 983 S.W.2d 61, 65 (Tex. App. – Corpus Christi 1999, no pet.), and a court may consider oral testimony as evidence in support of an application. See Furgerson, 218 S.W.2d at 1020.

7.12 An application seeking a receivership pursuant to a statutory provision must allege facts that meet the elements of the provision. Associated Bankers Credit Co. v. Meis, 456 S.W.2d 744, 748 (Tex. Civ. App. – Corpus Christi 1970, no writ). The facts alleged in the application will be construed as favorably as possible for the applicant. Couch Mortgage Co. v. Roberts, 544 S.W.2d 944, 946-47 (Tex. Civ. App. – Houston [1st Dist.], no writ).

7.13 Conduct that supports a cause of action for fraud or breach of fiduciary duties is often the same type of conduct that supports an application for a receivership. Ritchie v. Rupe, 443 S.W.3d 856, 873 (Tex. 2014).

E. The Supporting Organizations are entitled to the Emergency Appointment of a Receiver to Oversee the Receivership Entities

7.14 The Plaintiffs have an ownership interest in their participating shares in DAF HoldCo and thereby its economic ownership of the Charitable DAF Fund and the assets that were rightfully held by the Charitable DAF Fund and entrusted to the control of Patrick.

7.15 Patrick wrongfully caused the Plaintiffs' participation shares to be diluted and then caused the Plaintiffs' beneficial economic interests in the Charitable DAF Fund structure to be wrongfully transferred to a collection of sham entities wholly dominated by Patrick.

7.16 Charitable DAF Fund was valued at $270 million as recently as September 2024. Now no assets remain in the Charitable DAF Fund structure. The Plaintiffs have not received any just compensation, participation, or other consideration for the conversion of their substantial interests in the Charitable DAF Fund structure.

7.17 Receivership Entities now maintain complete management control and beneficial rights over the Charitable DAF Fund structure's substantial assets or otherwise possess those assets to the exclusion of Charitable DAF Fund.

7.18 Patrick dominates and controls the Receivership Entities. As shown, Patrick has demonstrated a pattern of selling assets at below-market values, attempting to engage in self-dealing transactions, transacting assets at non-market terms in potential self-dealing transactions, dramatically increasing internal and professional administrative expenses that burdens and dissipates charitable assets, and secreting his activities while controlling assets dedicated to charitable causes. To preserve assets from further dissipation, a receiver should replace Patrick's oversight of the Receivership Entities and their assets, which were wrongfully acquired and held.

7.19 The Plaintiffs have been stripped of access to the benefit of assets meant to support charitable causes, resulting in financial distress and immediately threatening planned and ongoing support of countless charities including education, medical research, and community initiatives.

7.20 The Plaintiffs have demonstrated a strong likelihood of success on their claims given the documented pattern of breaches, financial irregularities and successful litigation in the Cayman Islands.

7.21 The Plaintiffs have demonstrated a clear and compelling need for immediate court oversight to prevent further injury and preserve the charitable assets at risk due to Patrick's actions via the Receivership Entities.

7.22 The participating shares in DAF HoldCo as well as assets valued at $270 Million are in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured and circumstances exist to necessitate the appointment of a receiver to conserve the property, fund, and avoid further, irreparable harm to Plaintiffs.

Copy from re:SearchTX

7.23 Given Patrick's demonstrated and recent malfeasance using the Receivership Entities as tools of fraud, no other adequate remedy exists under law.

Count VI – APPLICATION FOR TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER AND TEMPORARY INJUNCTION PENDING APPROVAL OF RECEIVERSHIP

8.1. Plaintiffs seek immediate injunctive relief preventing the Defendants from further use, transfer, dispersal, and/or alienation of the assets that were held in the Charitable DAF Fund as of the instant date of this filing, regardless of where they are presently held. If not enjoined, Defendants' actions pose an immediate threat of irreparable harm and injury to Plaintiffs for which there is no adequate remedy at law because the harm cannot be undone by a damages award, as once the assets are spent or dispersed, Defendants will be unable to pay a judgment. This application is supported by the sworn declarations of Julie Diaz and James David Dondero.

8.2. A writ of injunction is proper where "the applicant is entitled to the relief demanded and all or part of the relief requires the restraint of some act prejudicial to the applicant," or where "a party performs or is about to perform or is procuring or allowing the performance of an act relating to the subject of pending litigation, in violation of the rights of the applicant, and the act would tend to render the judgment in that litigation ineffectual," or where "irreparable injury to real or personal property is threatened, irrespective of any remedy at law." Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 65.011. "A temporary injunction pending trial on the merits 'may be and usually is issued in connection with any species of litigation where it is necessary to preserve the status quo pending a final adjudication of the rights of the parties.'" Lometa Bancshares, Inc. v. Potts, 952 S.W.2d 631, 633 (Tex. App.-Austin 1997) (quoting Turcotte v. Alice Nat'l Bank, 402 S.W.2d 894, 896 (Tex.1966)). "In cases like the present, an applicant for the writ must show (1) a probable right to recover on the merits after final hearing and (2) a probable and irreparable injury unless the writ is issued." Lometa, 952 S.W.2d at 633 (citing Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code Ann. § 65.011 (West 1997); Walling v. Metcalfe, 863 S.W.2d 56, 58 (Tex.1993); Sun Oil Co. v. Whitaker, 424 S.W.2d 216, 218 (Tex.1968)).

8.3. Texas courts universally recognize that in cases where dispersal or liquidation of assets required to pay a judgment is likely, temporary injunctive relief is proper to preserve the status quo and ensure that the efficacy of ultimate relief for the Plaintiffs is not defeated by financial machinations while the case is pending. In other words, "the adequacy of an available legal remedy must be judged in the circumstances of the particular case[,]" and "[i]n such circumstances, any legal remedy by way of a judgment for money damages is properly viewed as inadequate on the ground that the funds may be reduced pending final hearing and thus be unavailable in their entirety[.]" Lometa, 952 S.W.2d at 633; see also Minexa Arizona, Inc. v. Staubach, 667 S.W.2d 563, 567–68 (Tex.App.—Dallas 1984, no writ); Sonics Int'l Inc. v. Dorchester Enters., 593 S.W.2d 390, 393 (Tex.Civ.App.—Dallas 1980, no writ*); Baucum v. Texam Oil Corp*., 423 S.W.2d 434, 442 (Tex.Civ.App.—El Paso 1967, writ ref'd n.r.e.).

8.4. The above authorities support the award of the temporary injunctive relief requested herein, because the assets formerly held in the Charitable DAF Fund for the benefit of the Plaintiffs are already being alienated from their beneficial owners and the conduct of Defendants demonstrates the likelihood of their continued transfer, alienation, expenditure, and dispersal while this case is pending and before the rights of the Plaintiffs to those funds can be vindicated.

8.5. Unless enjoined, Patrick and the other Defendants will cause and continue to cause irreparable harm to Plaintiffs for which there is no adequate remedy at law; including, without limitation, the dispersal, expenditure, transfer, and further alienation of more than $270 Million that can never be replaced because the Defendants will lack the means to do so.

8.6. Plaintiffs will therefore suffer immediate and irreparable injury without adequate remedy at law if a Temporary Restraining Order ("TRO") is not granted against the Defendants. Accordingly, Plaintiffs request the Court issue a TRO that freeze:

(a) all assets that were held in the Charitable DAF Fund as of the instant date of this filing, and

(b) prohibiting Patrick and the other Defendants, or anyone acting in concert with them or at their direction, from any use, expenditure, transfer, dispersal, dilution, encumbrance, or alienation of any of those funds pending resolution of Plaintiff's Motion for Temporary Injunction.

8.7. The harm to Plaintiffs is imminent, and if the Court does not issue a TRO and injunctive relief, it will be irreparably injured, as set forth herein. Conversely, the granting of a TRO will merely require Defendants to refrain from doing anything with the funds for two weeks. If the Defendants prevail on the merits, the funds will still be available to them for their use in future. The balance of burdens thus strongly favors Plaintiffs, who stand to lose everything absent immediate injunctive relief—over Defendants, who will at most suffer a minor inconvenience if they ultimately prevail.

8.8. The issuance of injunctive relief will not disserve the public interest. Balancing the equities and other factors, including the significant potential for irreparable harm to the Plaintiffs and the lack of harm to Defendants due to the entry of a TRO, demonstrates that the relief will not disserve the public interest. Indeed, freezing the funds at issue in place to ensure that this fraudulent scheme is not permitted consummation absent judicial scrutiny serves the public interest by protecting vital charitable interests.

8.9. A temporary restraining order is necessary to maintain the status quo during the pendency of this action. See In re Newton, 146 S.W.3d 648, 651 (Tex. 2004) ("defining the status quo as "the last, actual, peaceable, non-contested status which preceded the pending controversy.") The facts above establish the required elements for Plaintiffs to obtain a TRO against Defendant, specifically: (1) a cause of action against Defendants with a probable right to relief; (2) a probable, imminent, and irreparable injury to Plaintiffs in the interim; (3) the threatened injury outweighs any damage the injunction might cause the opposing party; and (4) the injunction will not disserve the public interest. See Butnaru v. Ford Motor Co., 84 S.W.3d 198. 204 (Tex. 2002).

A. Plaintiffs have a Probable Right to the Relief Sought in their Claims Against Defendants.

8.10. Plaintiffs easily satisfy this test. Establishing a probable right to relief does not require the applicant for a TRO to establish that it will prevail at trial. See Walling v. Metcalfe, 863 S.W.2d 56, 58 (Tex. 1993). Instead, this element requires only that the applicant allege a cause of action and present evidence that tends to sustain that cause of action. See Miller Paper Co. v. Roberts Paper Co., 901 S.W.2d 593, 597 (Tex. App.— Amarillo 1995, no writ). The cause of action itself need not involve permanent injunctive relief—the trial court "[has] discretion to preserve the status quo so long as [a movant] demonstrate[s] his probable right to recover damages." Metcalfe, 863 S.W.2d at 58; see also Gryphon Master Fund, L.P. v. Path 1 Network Technologies, Inc., No. 3:06 CV 0107 D, 2007 WL 1723703, at *5 (N.D. Tex., Jun. 14, 2007) (citing Metcalfe).

8.11. Plaintiffs have a probable right to the relief sought on its claims for breach of fiduciary duty, constructive fraud, unjust enrichment, and conversion. As alleged in more detail above, Defendants have committed and continue to commit acts that have raided four vital charitable organizations of $270 Million that forms the lifeblood of vital philanthropic efforts relied upon by key communities across the nation. The evidence summarized herein thus establishes that these injuries arise as a direct result of Defendants' conduct.

B. Plaintiffs Will Suffer Immediate, Irreparable Injury in the Absence of a Temporary Restraining Order and Temporary Injunction.

8.12. Plaintiffs will suffer immediate, irreparable injury in the absence of a temporary restraining order and temporary injunction, as summarized above. Plaintiffs will suffer precisely the sort of irreparable injuries Texas courts have sought to prevent by granting temporary injunctive relief. Lometa, 952 S.W.2d at 633; see also Minexa Arizona, Inc. v. Staubach, 667 S.W.2d 563, 567–68 (Tex.App.—Dallas 1984, no writ); Sonics Int'l Inc. v. Dorchester Enters., 593 S.W.2d 390, 393 (Tex.Civ.App.—Dallas 1980, no writ*); Baucum v. Texam Oil Corp*., 423 S.W.2d 434, 442 (Tex.Civ.App.—El Paso 1967, writ ref'd n.r.e.).

8.13. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law. Without injunctive relief, the assets intended to benefit the Plaintiffs will be spent, dispersed, transferred, and alienated while this litigation unfolds. These losses, as well as others which will inevitably occur if Defendants are not enjoined, cannot be compensated in monetary terms once the funds are dispersed, and are the types of harm for which injunctive relief is particularly necessary and appropriate.

8.14. Accordingly, and in order to preserve the status quo during the pendency of this action, Defendants should be cited to appear and show cause why the funds at issue should not be frozen for the pendency of this Action, and why Defendants should not be temporarily restrained during the pendency of this action from directly or indirectly using, spending, transferring, encumbering, dispersing, or further alienating the funds and assets that were held in the Charitable DAF Fund as of as of the instant date of this filing.

Copy from re:SearchTX

8.15. Plaintiffs seek a temporary restraining order and temporary injunction against Defendants freezing all funds and assets that were held in the Charitable DAF Fund as of as of the instant date of this filing, and enjoining Defendants and any others acting by, for, or in concert with them, including but not limited to their officers, agents, servants, employees, and attorneys, and those persons in active concert or participation with them who receive notice of the order by personal service or otherwise, from either directly or indirectly: spending, dispersing, using, encumbering, transferring, or alienating those funds and assets.

8.16. Plaintiffs further seeks a receivership over the funds and assets and the entities holding the funds and assets, whereupon the temporary injunctive relief sought here may properly expire because the assets will then be under the control of a receiver answering to this Court.

8.17. Plaintiffs is willing to post a bond in an amount directed by the Court.

VIII. PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court:

A. Appoint a receiver to take possession and control of all assets, properties, and operations of DFW Charitable Foundation and CDMCFAD, LLC;

B. Enjoin Defendants from further disposing of, transferring, encumbering, or dissipating any Charitable DAF Fund and DAF HoldCo assets;

C. Require the reversal of the dilution scheme and unauthorized asset transfers;

D. Impose a constructive trust over the res of DAF HoldCo, CDMCFAD, LLC and the Charitable DAF Fund wrongfully taken from the Plaintiffs;

E. Award actual damages in an amount to be proven at trial;

F. Award exemplary damages as permitted by law;

G. Award attorneys' fees and costs;

H. Grant such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

2.2 Rights, Powers, Limitations on Liability and Indemnification of General Partner.

(a) Whether or not herein expressly so provided, every provision of this Agreement relating to the conduct or affecting the liability of or affording protection to the General Partner, its members or any of their respective affiliates and their respective partners, members, officers, directors, employees, shareholders and agents (including members of any committee and parties acting as agents for the execution of transactions) (each, a "Covered Person" and collectively, "Covered Persons") shall be subject to the provisions of this Section.

(b) To the fullest extent permitted by law, no Covered Person shall be liable to the Partnership or anyone for any reason whatsoever (including but not limited to (i) any act or omission by any Covered Person in connection with the conduct of the business of the Partnership, that is determined by such Covered Person in good faith to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Partnership, (ii) any act or omission by any Covered Person based on the suggestions of any professional advisor of the Partnership whom such Covered Person believes is authorized to make such suggestions on behalf of the Partnership, (iii) any act or omission by the Partnership, or (iv) any mistake, negligence, misconduct or bad faith of any broker or other agent of the Partnership selected by Covered Person with reasonable care), unless any act or omission by such Covered Person constitutes willful misconduct or gross negligence by such Covered Person (as determined by a non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction).

(c) Covered Person may consult with legal counsel or accountants selected by such Covered Person and any act or omission by such Covered Person on behalf of the Partnership or in furtherance of the business of the Partnership in good faith in reliance on and in accordance with the advice of such counsel or accountants shall be full justification for the act or omission, and such Covered Person shall be fully protected in so acting or omitting to act if the counsel or accountants were selected with reasonable care.

(d) To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Partnership shall indemnify and save harmless Covered Persons (the "Indemnitees"), from and against any and all claims, liabilities, damages, losses, costs and expenses, including amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in compromises and settlements, as fines and penalties and legal or other costs and expenses of investigating or defending against any claim or alleged claim, of any nature whatsoever, known or unknown, liquidated or unliquidated, that are incurred by any Indemnitee and arise out of or in connection with the business of the Partnership, any investment made under or in connection with this Agreement, or the performance by the Indemnitee of Covered Person's responsibilities hereunder and against all taxes, charges, duties or levies incurred by such Covered Person or any Indemnitee in connection with the Partnership, provided that an Indemnitee shall not be entitled to indemnification hereunder to the extent the Indemnitee's conduct constitutes willful misconduct or gross negligence (as determined by a non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction). The termination of any proceeding by settlement, judgment, order or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the Indemnitee's conduct constituted willful misconduct or gross negligence.

(e) Expenses incurred by an Indemnitee in defense or settlement of any claim that shall be subject to a right of indemnification hereunder, shall be advanced by the Partnership prior to the final disposition thereof upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the Indemnitee to repay the amount advanced to the extent that it shall be determined ultimately that the Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified hereunder.

(f) The right of any Indemnitee to the indemnification provided herein shall be cumulative of, and in addition to, any and all rights to which the Indemnitee may otherwise be entitled by contract or as a matter of law or equity and shall be extended to the Indemnitee's successors, assigns and legal representatives.

(g) The provisions of this Section are expressly intended to confer benefits upon Covered Persons and such provisions shall remain operative and in full force and effect regardless of the expiration or any termination of this Agreement.

(h) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, the aggregate maximum amount that a Covered Person may be liable to the Partnership and/or any of the Partners pursuant to this Agreement shall, to the extent not prohibited by law, never exceed the amount of management and incentive fees received by such Covered Person from the Partnership under this Agreement prior to the date that the acts or omissions giving rise to a claim for indemnification or liability shall have occurred. In no event shall any Covered Person be liable for special, exemplary, punitive, indirect, or consequential loss, or damage of any kind whatsoever, including without limitation lost profits. No Covered Person shall incur any liability for interest on any monies at any time received by such Covered Person or any investment loss or other charge resulting therefrom with respect to amounts invested hereunder.

(i) WAIVER OF CONSUMER RIGHTS: The Partnership and each of the Limited Partners waive all of their respective rights, if any, under the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act, Section 17.41 et seq., Texas Business & Commerce Code ("DTPA"), a law that gives consumers special rights and protections. After consultation with an attorney of Partnership's own selection, Partnership voluntarily consents to this waiver. This waiver includes any right to recover attorneys' fees under the DTPA. Further, Partnership waives all of its rights to any and all protections afforded by any other state or federal Consumer Protection Acts, including the recovery of attorneys' fees.

(j) No Covered Person shall be liable hereunder for any settlement of any action or claim effected without its written consent thereto.

Pursuant to the foregoing indemnification and exculpation provisions applicable to each Covered Person, the Partnership (and not the applicable Covered Person) shall be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, absent gross negligence or reckless or intentional misconduct of any Covered Person. Given the volume of transactions executed on behalf of the Partnership, Limited Partners acknowledge that trading errors (and similar errors) will occur and that the Partnership shall be responsible for any resulting losses, even if such losses result from the negligence (but not gross negligence) of any Covered Person.

(k) This Section 2.2 shall survive a Limited Partner's withdrawal as a limited partner of the Partnership and any termination of this Agreement.

ARTICLE III
CAPITAL ACCOUNTS AND DIVISION OF PROFITS AND LOSSES

3.1 Capital Contributions.

(a) Each Partner has made the capital contributions to the Partnership in the amount set forth in the records of the Partnership. The Limited Partner has contributed to the Partnership all of the outstanding equity interests of CLO HoldCo.

3.2 Capital Account; Allocation of Profits and Losses.

(a) There shall be established for each Partner on the books of the Partnership as of the first day of the fiscal period during which such Partner was admitted to the Partnership a capital account for such Partner in an amount equal to his capital contribution to the Partnership.

(b) Since the General Partner's capital account and contributions shall be the minimum required by Law, all income, deductions, gains, losses and credits of the Partnership shall be allocated shall be for the benefit of the Limited Partner, except as may otherwise be required by law. In the event any valuation of assets is necessary or appropriate, the General Partner shall determine such value in any reasonable manner determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion consistent with relevant accounting principles and applicable law.

(c) For purposes of determining the share of any items allocated to any period during the relevant Taxable Year of the Partnership, such shares shall be determined by the General Partner using any method permitted by the Code and the regulations thereunder. All allocations to be made by the General Partner may be overridden if necessary to comply with the Code, the regulations thereunder or other applicable law.

(d) To the extent that the Partnership pays withholding taxes as to a Partner, such amounts shall be charged to the applicable Partner's capital account; provided, however, that any such amounts may be treated as an advance to the Partner with interest to be charged to that Partner's capital account at a rate determined by the General Partner.

(e) Each Partner agrees not to treat, on any tax return or in any claim for a refund, any item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit in a manner inconsistent with treatment of such item by the Partnership.

ARTICLE IV
LEGAL INTERESTS, DISTRIBUTIONS AND PARTIAL WITHDRAWALS FROM CAPITAL ACCOUNT

4.1 Legal Interest. Each Partner shall have and own during any Taxable Year an undivided interest in the Partnership equal to his opening capital account for such period.

Copy from re:SearchTX

4.2 Distributions.

(a) Distributions shall be made to the Limited Partner at the times, in a manner (including in kind) and in the aggregate amounts determined by the General Partner, after taking into consideration available cash and the needs of the Indirect Charitable Owners of the Limited Partner for funds to cover their administrative and operating expenses. In determining the amount of cash or securities available for distribution, the General Partner may retain reasonable reserves in such amounts as it determines may be necessary to cover expenses, contingencies and losses. Notwithstanding the foregoing, distributions made in connection with a sale of all or substantially all of the Partnership's assets or a liquidation of the Partnership shall be made in accordance with the capital account balances of the Partners within the time period set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(b)(3).

(b) The General Partner may withhold and pay over to the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (or any other relevant taxing authority) such amounts as the Partnership is required to withhold or pay over, pursuant to the Code or any other applicable law, on account of a Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's items of gross income, income or gain.

For purposes of this Agreement, any taxes so withheld or paid over by the Partnership with respect to a Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's gross income, income or gain shall be deemed to be a distribution or payment to such Partner, reducing the amount otherwise distributable to such Partner pursuant to this Agreement and reducing the capital account of such Partner. If the amount of such taxes is greater than any such distributable amounts, then such Partner and any successor to such Partner's interest shall pay the amount of such excess to the Partnership, as a contribution to the capital of the Partnership.

4.3 Withdrawal. Without the consent of the General Partner, no Partner may withdraw as a Partner or make withdrawals from such Partner's capital account. In the event the General Partner permits any such withdrawal, the withdrawal shall be on such terms and conditions as the General Partner shall determine in its sole discretion. The General Partner may terminate all or any part of the interest of any Limited Partner at any time for any reason or no reason by written notice; provided that any new or additional Limited Partner shall be directly or indirectly an entity or organization exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code.

ARTICLE V
DURATION OF PARTNERSHIP

5.1 Termination. The Partnership shall be required to be wound up and dissolved upon:

(a) the service of a notice by the General Partner on the other Partners requiring that the Partnership be wound up and dissolved; or

Copy from re:SearchTX

(b) the withdrawal by or resignation of the General Partner as general partner of the Partnership; or

(c) the withdrawal of all Limited Partners.

Upon the occurrence of any such event, the Partnership's affairs shall be wound up by the General Partner or such other Person as the General Partner shall appoint.

5.2 Winding Up. Upon the Partnership being required to be wound up and dissolved, the General Partner shall proceed with the liquidation and distribution of the assets of the Partnership, and upon completion of the winding up of the Partnership, shall have the authority to and shall execute and file a dissolution notice and such other documents required to effect the dissolution and termination of the Partnership in accordance with the Law. Before the distribution of all the assets of the Partnership, the business of the Partnership and the affairs of the Partners, as such, shall continue to be governed by this Agreement. The winding up of the Partnership and payment of creditors shall be effected in accordance with the Law.

ARTICLE VI
MISCELLANEOUS

6.1 Tax Matters Partner. The General Partner shall at all times constitute, and have full powers and responsibilities, as the Tax Matters Partner of the Partnership. In the event the Partnership shall be the subject of an income tax audit by any Federal, state or local authority, to the extent the Partnership is treated as an entity for purposes of such audit, including administrative settlement and judicial review, the Tax Matters Partner shall be authorized to act for, and his decision shall be final and binding upon, the Partnership and each Partner thereof, and the Tax Matters Partner shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Partnership and each Partner for any action so taken by him in good faith. All expenses incurred in connection with any such audit, investigation, settlement or review shall be borne by the Partnership to the extent of available Partnership funds, and any excess shall be paid by the Partners individually in proportion to their percentage interests in the Partnership.

6.2 Right to Hire.

(a) Nothing herein shall preclude the General Partner from engaging on behalf of the Partnership the services of any person or firm, whether or not affiliated with the General Partner, including the General Partner, to render for compensation such services to the Partnership as may be necessary to implement the business purposes of the Partnership.

(b) Each of the Partners consents that the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any Limited Partner or any affiliate (as defined in the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the regulations thereunder) of any of them, including without limitation the investment manager of the CLO HoldCo, may engage in or possess an interest in directly or indirectly, any other present or future business venture of any nature or description for his own account, independently or with others, including but not limited to, any aspect of the securities business or any other business engaged in by the Partnership, and may become the general partner in other partnerships; and neither the Partnership nor any Partner shall have any rights in or to such independent venture or the income or profits derived therefrom.

(c) The General Partner, the Investment Manager and any affiliate or employee of such General Partner or Investment Manager, may hereafter render investment advisory services to other investors with respect to, and/or may own, purchase or sell, securities or other interests in property the same as or similar to those which the General Partner may purchase, hold or sell on behalf of the Partnership.

6.3 Applicable Law, etc. This Limited Partnership Agreement: (i) shall be binding on the executors, administrators, estates, heirs and legal successors of the Partners; (ii) shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the Cayman Islands; and (iii) may be executed in more than one counterpart with the same effect as if the parties executing the several counterparts had all executed one counterpart as of the day and year first above written; provided, however, that in the aggregate, they shall have been signed by all of the Partners. All pronouns and any variations thereof shall be deemed to refer to the masculine, feminine or neuter, singular or plural as the identity of the person may require. The term "gross negligence" and its cognates shall be interpreted in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware.

6.4 Power of Attorney. Each of the undersigned does hereby constitute and appoint the General Partner, with full power of substitution, his true and lawful representative and attorney in-fact, in his name, place and stead to make, execute, sign and file this Agreement and any amendment to this Agreement authorized by the terms of this Agreement, and all such other instruments, documents and certificates (and any amendments thereto) which may from time to time be required by the laws of the Cayman Islands, the United States of America, or any state in which the Partnership shall determine to do business, or any political subdivision or agency thereof, to effectuate, implement and continue the valid and subsisting existence of the Partnership and to take any further action that the General Partner considers advisable in its sole discretion in connection with the exercise of its authority pursuant to this Agreement. This power of attorney is intended to secure an interest in property and, in addition, the obligations of each relevant Limited Partner under this Agreement and shall be irrevocable.

6.5 Tax Elections Under the Internal Revenue Code. The General Partner shall have the authority to make all tax elections and determinations on behalf of the Partnership under the Internal Revenue Code, the regulations promulgated thereunder or other applicable law to effect any elections, determinations or capital allocations.

6.6 Amendments to Partnership Agreement. The terms and provisions of this Agreement may be modified or amended at any time and from time to time with the consent of the General Partner together with the consent of a majority in interest of the Limited Partners, insofar as is consistent with the laws governing this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner shall have the right to effect amendments to this Agreement without the consent of any Limited Partner, including without limitation, to reflect: a change in the location of the Partnership's principal place of business; a change in the registered office or registered agent; a change in the name of the Partnership; admission of Partners in accordance with this Agreement; a change that is necessary to qualify the Partnership as a limited partnership under the laws of any state or that is necessary or advisable in the opinion of the Tax Matters Partner to ensure that the Partnership will not be treated as an association taxable as a corporation for Federal income tax purposes; a change of the provisions relating to the management fee or other compensation to the Investment Manager or the General Partner so that such provisions conform to any applicable requirements of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and other regulatory authorities; a change (i) that is necessary or desirable to satisfy any requirements, conditions or guidelines contained in any opinion, directive, order, ruling or regulation of any Federal or state agency or contained in any Federal or state statute, compliance with any of which the General Partner deems to be in the best interests of the Partnership and the Limited Partners, (ii) that is required or contemplated by this Agreement, or (iii) that is necessary or desirable to implement new regulations published by the Internal Revenue Service with respect to partnership allocations of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit; a change to cure any ambiguity, to correct or supplement any provision herein which may be inconsistent with any other provision herein, or to make any other provision with respect to the matters or questions arising under this Agreement which will not be inconsistent with the provisions hereof; or a change that does not adversely affect the Limited Partners in any material respect; provided, that in no event shall the General Partner effect any amendment to this Agreement that has the effect of giving the General Partner any economic benefits in the assets of the Partnership; provided further, that the General Partner shall give notice to the Limited Partners of any such amendment.

6.7 Investment Representation. Each Partner hereby acknowledges and represents that it acquired its interest in the Partnership for investment purposes only and not with a view to its resale or distribution.

6.8 Notices. All notices, requests or approvals that any party hereto is required or desires to give to any Partner or to the Partnership shall be in writing signed by or on behalf of the party giving the same and delivered personally or sent overnight express mail by a reputable private carrier or by prepaid registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed (i) to the Limited Partner at the addresses set forth beneath his signature to this Agreement; (ii) to the Partnership at the principal place of business of the Partnership with a copy of each such notice sent simultaneously to the General Partner and the Investment Manager at Nextbank Tower, 13455 Noel Road, 8th Floor, Dallas, Texas 75240; or (iii) to the respective party at such other address or addresses as the party may specify from time to time in a writing given to the Partnership in the manner provided in this Section 6.8 of ARTICLE VI. Notice shall be deemed to have been duly given and received (i) on the date of delivery, if personally delivered, (ii) on the next business day subsequent to sending by overnight express mail as aforesaid, or (iii) on the third day subsequent to mailing if mailed as aforesaid; provided that any withdrawal notices shall not be deemed to have been given until actually received by the Partnership.

6.9 General Partner Determinations. Any determinations or calculations made by the General Partner shall, if made in good faith and in the absence of manifest error, be binding upon the Partnership and its Limited Partners.

6.10 Dispute Resolution. The following procedures shall be used to resolve any controversy or claim ("Dispute") arising out of, relating to or in connection with the Agreement or otherwise involving the Partnership, its Partners and/or any Covered Person. If any of these provisions are determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in effect and binding on the parties to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(a) Mediation.

(1) Any Dispute shall be submitted to mediation by written notice to the other party or parties. In the mediation process, the parties will try to resolve their differences voluntarily with the aid of an impartial mediator, who will attempt to facilitate negotiations. The mediator will be selected by agreement of the parties. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, a mediator shall be designated by JAMS/Endispute at the request of a party using, if necessary, strike and rank procedures then in effect.

(2) The mediation will be conducted as specified by the mediator and agreed upon by the parties. The parties agree to discuss their differences in good faith and to attempt, with the assistance of the mediator, to reach an amicable resolution of the dispute.

(3) The mediation will be treated as a settlement discussion and therefore will be confidential. The mediator may not testify for either party in any later proceeding relating to the dispute. No recording or transcript shall be made of the mediation proceedings.

(4) Each party will bear its own costs in the mediation. The fees and expenses of the mediator will be shared equally by the parties.

(b) Arbitration. If a Dispute has not been resolved within 90 days after the written notice beginning the mediation process (or a longer period, if the parties agree to extend the mediation), the mediation shall terminate and the dispute will be settled by arbitration. A party who files a suit in court regarding a Dispute rather than in arbitration waives its claim and must pay all attorney's fees and costs incurred by the other party in seeking to have such suit dismissed. Under no circumstances will a party maintain its right to pursue his/her/its Dispute if that party initiates a judicial suit instead of complying with the mediation and arbitration provisions herein. The arbitration will be conducted through JAMS/Endispute in accordance with the procedures in this document and the commercial dispute arbitration rules then in effect ("Arbitration Rules"). In the event of a conflict, the provisions of this document will control.

(1) The arbitration will be conducted before a panel of three arbitrators, regardless of the size of the dispute, to be selected as provided in the Arbitration Rules. Any issue concerning the extent to which any dispute is subject to arbitration, or concerning the applicability, interpretation, or enforceability of these procedures, including any contention that all or part of these procedures are invalid or unenforceable, shall be governed by the Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), and resolved by the arbitrators, provided, however, that the Partnership or such applicable affiliate thereof may pursue a temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunctive relief in connection with confidentiality covenants or agreements binding on any party, with related expedited discovery for the parties, in a court of law, and, thereafter, require arbitration of all issues of final relief. Under no circumstances will a state arbitration act preclude application of the FAA, including any choice of law provisions in this agreement, or any other agreement. No potential arbitrator may serve on the panel unless he or she has agreed in writing to abide and be bound by these procedures.

Copy from re:SearchTX

(2) The arbitrators may not award non-monetary or equitable relief of any sort. They shall have no power to award punitive damages or any other damages not measured by the prevailing party's actual damages, and the parties expressly waive their right to obtain such damages in arbitration or any in other forum. In no event, even if any other portion of these provisions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, shall the arbitrators have power to make an award or impose a remedy that could not be made or imposed by a court deciding the matter in the same jurisdiction. The arbitrator(s) shall be required to state in a written opinion all facts and conclusions of law relied upon to support any decision rendered. Any dispute over whether the arbitrator(s) has failed to comply with the foregoing will be resolved by summary judgment in a court of law.

(3) The party initiating arbitration shall pay all arbitration costs and arbitrator's fees, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. All proceedings shall be conducted in Dallas, Texas, or another mutually agreeable site. Each party shall bear its own attorneys fees, costs and expenses, including any costs of experts, witnesses and/or travel, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. The duty to arbitrate described above shall survive the termination of this Agreement. This provision is intended to supersede any rights under Texas Civil Practices and Remedies Code § 38.001(8), which rights the parties expressly waive.

(4) No discovery will be allowed in connection with the arbitration unless the arbitration panel, upon a showing of substantial need, expressly authorizes it. In any event, there shall be no more than (i) two party depositions of six hours each. Each deposition is to be taken pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure; (ii) one non-party deposition of six hours; (iii) twenty-five interrogatories; (iv) twenty-five requests for admission; (v) ten requests for production. In response, the producing party shall not be obligated to produce in excess of 5,000 total pages of documents. The total pages of documents shall include electronic documents; (vi) one request for disclosure pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Any discovery not specifically provided for in this paragraph, whether to parties or non-parties, shall not be permitted.

(5) All aspects of the arbitration shall be treated as confidential, including its institution and/or settlement. Neither the parties nor the arbitrators may disclose the existence, content or results of the arbitration, except as necessary to comply with legal or regulatory requirements. Before making any such disclosure, a party shall give written notice to all other parties and shall afford such parties a reasonable opportunity to protect their interests. In the event a party who recovered monies by settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute violates this confidentiality term, he, she, or it shall refund all such sums recovered. The parties expressly intend to waive the right to retain any monies received through settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute in the event that that party violates the aforementioned confidentiality term.

(6) The result of the arbitration will be binding on the parties, and judgment on the arbitrators' award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction.

6.11 Successors and Assigns. Subject to the limitations set forth in Section 1.11, this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties and to their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors and permitted assigns. For the avoidance of doubt, any Limited Partner who becomes a former Limited Partner shall remain bound to all terms and conditions of this Agreement.

6.12 Severability. Every provision of this Agreement is intended to be severable. If any term or provision hereof is illegal or invalid for any reason whatsoever, such term or provision will be enforced to the maximum extent permitted by law and, in any event, such illegality or invalidity shall not affect the validity of the remainder of the Agreement.

6.13 No Third Party Rights. Except for rights expressly granted hereunder to the Covered Persons, this Agreement is intended solely for the benefit of the parties hereto and is not intended to confer any benefits upon, or create any rights in favor of, any Person other than the parties hereto.

6.14 No Right to Partition. Each of the Partners, on behalf of themselves and their shareholders, partners, principals, members, successors and assigns, if any and as permitted hereunder, hereby specifically renounce, waive and forfeit all rights, whether arising under contract or statute or by operation of law, except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, to seek, bring or maintain any action in any court of law or equity for partition of the Partnership or any asset of the Partnership, or any interest which is considered to be Partnership property, regardless of the manner in which title to such property may be held.

In the event of a winding up or dissolution of the Company, whether voluntary or involuntary or for the purposes of a reorganisation or otherwise or upon any distribution of capital, the entitlement of the holders of Management Shares shall be determined in accordance with these Articles. Management Shares confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company.

13. If at the time of an Automatic Redemption, Grant Scott is the sole Director of the Company, such office will be automatically vacated by Grant Scott.

If the Designator is:

(a) deceased and has not named a Successor Designator, or if each named Successor Designator is unable or declines to act, the designation of the Successor Management Shareholder shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the Designator's will, or if his will contains no such provisions, by the qualified personal representative of his estate (the "Designator's Personal Representative"); or

(b) otherwise incapacitated and has not previously designated a Successor Designator, or if each named Successor Designator is unable or declines to act, the designation of the Successor Management Shareholder shall be made by the Designator's attorney-in-fact appointed for such purpose, under a valid, effective power of attorney instrument (the "Designator's Attorney").

15. 16. The Designator may name a Successor Designator (including an individual, or a series of individuals) at any time pursuant to a written notice delivered to the Company during his lifetime or by a provision in his will. Each Successor Designator upon succeeding and replacing the Designator or a prior Successor Designator, may in the same manner as set out above, designate an individual, or a series of individuals, to succeed him as Successor Designator. In the event of a conflict between such instruments, the one bearing the latest date shall control. A Successor Designator will assume such office upon consenting to so act.

17. The Successor Management Shareholder may not be a "disqualified person" (as that term is defined in Section 4946 of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended), other than a foundation manager, with respect to Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc., Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc., or Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc.

18. In connection with the appointment of the Successor Management Shareholder, the Company and its registered office service provider will be entitled to rely on the advice of counsel confirming that the designation of the Successor Management Shareholder has been made in accordance with the procedures set out in these Articles.

PARTICIPATING SHARES

19. Participating Shares shall confer upon a Shareholder no right to receive notice of, to attend, to speak at nor to vote at general meetings of the Company but shall confer upon the Shareholders rights in a winding-up or repayment of capital and the right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company in accordance with these Articles.

MODIFICATION OF RIGHTS

20. Whenever the capital of the Company is divided into different Classes the rights attached to any such Class may, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any Class, only be materially adversely varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued Participating Shares of the relevant Class or with the sanction of a resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Participating Shares of such Class by a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast at such a meeting. To every such separate meeting all the provisions of these Articles relating to general meetings of the Company or to the proceedings thereat shall, mutatis mutandis, apply, except that the necessary quorum shall be one or more Persons at least holding or representing by proxy one-third in nominal or par value amount of the issued Participating Shares of the relevant Class (but so that if at any adjourned meeting of such holders a quorum as above defined is not present, those Shareholders who are present shall form a quorum) and that, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Participating Shares of that Class, every Shareholder of the Class shall on a poll have one vote for each Share of the Class held by him. For the purposes of this Article the Directors may treat all the Classes or any two or more Classes as forming one Class if they consider that the variation or abrogation of the rights attached to such Classes proposed for consideration is the same variation or abrogation for all such relevant Classes, but in any other case shall treat them as separate Classes.

21. The rights conferred upon the holders of the Participating Shares of any Class issued with preferred or other rights shall not, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Participating Shares of that Class, be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Participating Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them or the redemption or purchase of any Participating Shares of any Class by the Company.

If more than one fraction of a Share of the same Class is issued to or acquired by the same Shareholder such fractions shall be accumulated.

TRANSFER OF SHARES

24. The instrument of transfer of any Share shall be in any usual or common form or such other form as the Directors may, in their absolute discretion, approve and be executed by or on behalf of the transferor and if in respect of a nil or partly paid up Share, or if so required by the Directors, shall also be executed on behalf of the transferee and shall be accompanied by the certificate (if any) of the Shares to which it relates and such other evidence as the Directors may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer. The transferor shall be deemed to remain a Shareholder until the name of the transferee is entered in the Register in respect of the relevant Shares.

25. The Directors may in their absolute discretion decline to register any transfer of Shares without assigning any reason therefor including any purported transfer that does not comply with applicable securities or tax laws.

26. The registration of transfers may be suspended at such times and for such periods as the Directors may from time to time determine.

27. All instruments of transfer that are registered shall be retained by the Company, but any instrument of transfer that the Directors decline to register shall (except in any case of fraud) be returned to the Person depositing the same.

28. If it comes to the notice of the Directors that any Shares are held by a Restricted Person the Directors may by notice in writing require the transfer of such Shares in exercise of their powers under these Articles.

TRANSMISSION OF SHARES

29. The legal personal representative of a deceased sole holder of a Share shall be the only Person recognised by the Company as having any title to the Share. In the case of a Share registered in the name of two or more holders, the survivors or survivor, or the legal personal representatives of the deceased holder of the Share, shall be the only Person recognised by the Company as having any title to the Share.

30. Any Person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy of a Shareholder shall upon such evidence being produced as may from time to time be required by the Directors, have the right either to be registered as a Shareholder in respect of the Share or, instead of being registered himself, to make such transfer of the Share as the deceased or bankrupt Person

31. A Person becoming entitled to a Share by reason of the death or bankruptcy of a Shareholder shall be entitled to the same dividends and other advantages to which he would be entitled if he were the registered Shareholder, except that he shall not, before being registered as a Shareholder in respect of the Share, be entitled in respect of it to exercise any right conferred by membership in relation to meetings of the Company.

(d) cancel any Shares that, at the date of the passing of the resolution, have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any Person and diminish the amount of its share capital by the amount of the Shares so cancelled.

34. The Company may by Special Resolution reduce its share capital and any capital redemption reserve in any manner authorised by law.

REDEMPTION, PURCHASE AND SURRENDER OF SHARES

35. Subject to the Law, the Company may:

57. If a poll is duly demanded it shall be taken in such manner as the chairman directs, and the result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the meeting at which the poll was demanded.

INDEMNITY

140. To the fullest extent permitted by law, no Director, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, committee member or other officer for the time being and from time to time of the Company (each, a "Covered Person" and collectively, "Covered Persons") shall be liable to the Company or anyone for any reason whatsoever (including but not limited to (i) any act or omission by any Covered Person in connection with the conduct of the business of the Company, that is determined by such Covered Person in good faith to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, (ii) any act or omission by any Covered Person based on the suggestions of any professional advisor of the Company whom such Covered Person believes is authorized to make such suggestions on behalf of the Company, (iii) any act or omission by the Company, or (iv) any mistake, negligence, misconduct or bad faith of any broker or other agent of the Company selected by Covered Person with reasonable care), unless any act or omission by such Covered Person constitutes willful misconduct or Gross Negligence by such Covered Person (as determined by a non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction).

141. Covered Person may consult with legal counsel or accountants selected by such Covered Person and any act or omission by such Covered Person on behalf of the Company or in furtherance of the business of the Company in good faith in reliance on and in accordance with the advice of such counsel or accountants shall be full justification for the act or omission, and such Covered Person shall be fully protected in so acting or omitting to act if the counsel or accountants were selected with reasonable care.

142. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Company shall indemnify and save harmless Covered Persons (the "Indemnitees"), from and against any and all claims, liabilities, damages, losses, costs and expenses, including amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in compromises and settlements, as fines and penalties and legal or other costs and expenses of investigating or defending against any claim or alleged claim, of any nature whatsoever, known or unknown, liquidated or unliquidated, that are incurred by any Indemnitee and arise out of or in connection with the business of the Company, any investment made, or the performance by the Indemnitee of Covered Person's responsibilities hereunder and against all taxes, charges, duties or levies incurred by such Covered Person or any Indemnitee in connection with the Company, provided that an Indemnitee shall not be entitled to indemnification hereunder to the extent the Indemnitee's conduct constitutes willful misconduct or Gross Negligence (as determined by a non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction). The termination of any proceeding by settlement, judgment, order or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the Indemnitee's conduct constituted willful misconduct or Gross Negligence.

143. Expenses incurred by an Indemnitee in defense or settlement of any claim that shall be subject to a right of indemnification hereunder, shall be advanced by the Company prior to the final disposition thereof upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the Indemnitee to repay the amount advanced to the extent that it shall be determined ultimately that the Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified hereunder.

144. The right of any Indemnitee to the indemnification provided herein shall be cumulative of, and in addition to, any and all rights to which the Indemnitee may otherwise be entitled by contract or as a matter of law or equity and shall be extended to the Indemnitee's successors, assigns and legal representatives.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

145. The following procedures shall be used to resolve any controversy or claim ("Dispute") arising out of, relating to or in connection with these Articles or otherwise involving the Company, its Shareholders and/or any Covered Person. If any of these provisions are determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in effect and binding on the parties to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(a) Mediation:

(i) any Dispute shall be submitted to mediation by written notice to the other party or parties. In the mediation process, the parties will try to resolve their differences voluntarily with the aid of an impartial mediator, who will attempt to facilitate negotiations. The mediator will be selected by agreement of the parties. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, a mediator shall be designated by JAMS/Endispute at the request of a party using, if necessary, strike and rank procedures then in effect;

(ii) the mediation will be conducted as specified by the mediator and agreed upon by the parties. The parties agree to discuss their differences in good faith and to attempt, with the assistance of the mediator, to reach an amicable resolution of the dispute;

(iii) the mediation will be treated as a settlement discussion and therefore will be confidential. The mediator may not testify for either party in any later proceeding relating to the dispute. No recording or transcript shall be made of the mediation proceedings; and

(iv) each party will bear its own costs in the mediation. The fees and expenses of the mediator will be shared equally by the parties,

(b) Arbitration:

if a Dispute has not been resolved within 90 days after the written notice beginning the mediation process (or a longer period, if the parties agree to extend the mediation), the mediation shall terminate and the dispute will be settled by arbitration. A party who files a suit in court regarding a Dispute rather than in arbitration waives its claim and must pay all attorney's fees and costs incurred by the other party in seeking to have such suit dismissed. Under no circumstances will a party maintain its right to pursue his/her/its Dispute if that party initiates a judicial suit instead of complying with the mediation and arbitration provisions herein. The arbitration will be conducted through JAMS/Endispute in accordance with the procedures in these Articles and the commercial dispute arbitration rules then in effect ("Arbitration Rules"). In the event of a conflict, the provisions of these Articles will control:

(i) the arbitration will be conducted before a panel of three arbitrators, regardless of the size of the dispute, to be selected as provided in the Arbitration Rules. Any issue concerning the extent to which any dispute is subject to arbitration, or concerning the applicability, interpretation, or enforceability of these procedures, including any contention that all or part of these procedures are invalid or unenforceable, shall be governed by the United States Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), and resolved by the arbitrators, provided, however, that the Company or such applicable affiliate thereof may pursue a temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunctive relief in connection with confidentiality covenants or agreements binding on any party, with related expedited discovery for the parties, in a court of law, and, thereafter, require arbitration of all issues of final relief. Under no circumstances will a State arbitration act of the United States preclude application of the FAA, including any choice of law provisions in this agreement, or any other agreement. No potential arbitrator may serve on the panel unless he or she has agreed in writing to abide and be bound by these procedures;

(ii) the arbitrators may not award non-monetary or equitable relief of any sort. They shall have no power to award punitive damages or any other damages not measured by the prevailing party's actual damages, and the parties expressly waive their right to obtain such damages in arbitration or any in other forum. In no event, even if any other portion of these provisions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, shall the arbitrators have power to make an award or impose a remedy that could not be made or imposed by a court deciding the matter in the same jurisdiction. The arbitrator(s) shall be required to state in a written opinion all facts and conclusions of law relied upon to support any decision rendered. Any dispute over whether the arbitrator(s) has failed to comply with the foregoing will be resolved by summary judgment in a court of law;

(iii) the party initiating arbitration shall pay all arbitration costs and arbitrator's fees, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. All proceedings shall be conducted in Dallas, Texas, or another mutually agreeable site. Each party shall bear its own attorneys fees, costs and expenses, including any costs of experts, witnesses and/or travel, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. This provision is intended to supersede any rights under Texas Civil Practices and Remedies Code § 38.001(8), which rights the parties expressly waive;

(iv) no discovery will be allowed in connection with the arbitration unless the arbitration panel, upon a showing of substantial need, expressly authorizes it. In any event, there shall be no more than (i) two party depositions of six hours each. Each deposition is to be taken pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure; (ii) one non-party deposition of six hours; (iii) twenty-five interrogatories; (iv) twenty-five requests for admission; (v) ten requests for production. In response, the producing party shall not be obligated to produce in excess of 5,000 total pages of documents. The total pages of documents shall include electronic documents; (vi) one request for disclosure pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Any discovery not specifically provided for in this paragraph, whether to parties or non-parties, shall not be permitted;

(v) all aspects of the arbitration shall be treated as confidential, including its institution and/or settlement. Neither the parties nor the arbitrators may disclose the existence, content or results of the arbitration, except as necessary to comply with legal or regulatory requirements. Before making any such disclosure, a party shall give written notice to all other parties and shall afford such parties a reasonable opportunity to protect their interests. In the event a party who recovered monies by settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute violates this confidentiality term, he, she, or it shall refund all such sums recovered. The parties expressly intend to waive the right to retain any monies received through settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute in the event that that party violates the aforementioned confidentiality term; and

(vi) the result of the arbitration will be binding on the parties, and judgment on the arbitrators' award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction.

25 April 2025 Our Ref: PP/PA/187150

Johnstone Law
10 Market Street, PO Box 926
Grand Cayman KY1-9006

Dear Mr Johnstone

CHARITABLE DAF HOLDCO, LTD (IN VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION) (THE "COMPANY")

1. We act as Cayman Islands counsel to the Company.

2. We refer to the documents served yesterday by your firm on the Company at its registered office, which include a winding up petition ("Petition"), an application for the appointment of provisional liquidators ("PL Application"), and a cover letter of service ("Service Letter").

The Company is already in Voluntary Liquidation

3. Please note the following (all documents enclosed):

   (a) On 29 March 2025, Mitchell Mansfield and William Clarke of Kroll (Cayman) Ltd executed a consent to act as joint voluntary liquidators of the Company ("JVLs").

   (b) On 2 April 2025: (i) the directors of the Company executed written resolutions including to recommend to the management shareholder that the Company be wound up voluntarily and the JVLs be appointed; (ii) the management shareholder executed special resolutions that the Company be wound up voluntarily and the JVLs be appointed; and (iii) the directors of the Company executed a declaration of solvency.

   (c) On 14 April 2025, Gazette Issue No. 8/2025 was published, which included notice that on 2 April 2025 the Company was placed into Voluntary Liquidation and the JVLs appointed.

4. Further, please see enclosed:

   (a) The current Memorandum and Articles of the Company, dated 20 February 2025 ("M&A").

Copy from re:SearchTX

(b) The current Register of Members of the Company, dated 25 April 2025.

(c) An email chain between your firm and our firm dated 23-24 April 2025.

5. As outlined above, the Company is in Voluntary Liquidation.

6. That fact should have been evident from a search of the Gazette prior to service, as per the enclosed notice referred to at paragraph 3(c) above.

7. Further, the email chain referred to at paragraph 4(c) above is all that we received from your firm by way of pre-action correspondence. We enquired as to the nature of the proceedings to be served, and had we been informed that it was a winding up petition and application for the appointment of provisional liquidators (rather than simply that the proceedings were in the process of being served on the Company's registered office), we would have informed you that the Company was already in Voluntary Liquidation.

8. There is nothing in the M&A which entitles your clients to receive notice from the Company of its entry into Voluntary Liquidation.

The appropriate course of action

9. As the Company is already in Voluntary Liquidation, the Petition and PL Application are plainly redundant, and we invite your clients to withdraw them without delay.

10. If the JVLs (or your clients) consider it appropriate that the Voluntary Liquidation be brought under the supervision of the court, any of them may make an application for a supervision order pursuant to the Companies Act section 131. If your clients would like to discuss such an application with the JVLs, including in respect of funding, please let us know.

11. In the event that the Petition and PL Application are not withdrawn, or at the very least the hearing of the PL Application (which we understand from your firm's Service Letter is listed on Monday 28 April 2025 at 2pm) is not adjourned, this letter must be brought to the attention of the Court, and we will appear on behalf of the Company.

12. If it becomes appropriate to do so, we will put this letter before the Court including on the question of costs.

Yours faithfully

PARTICIPATING SHARES

12. Participating Shares shall confer upon a Shareholder no right to receive notice of, to attend, to speak at nor to vote at general meetings of the Company but may be entitled to vote at a separate class meeting in relation to a modification of rights pursuant to the immediately following Article. To every such separate meeting all the provisions of these Articles relating to general meetings of the Company or to the proceedings thereat shall, mutatis mutandis, apply, except that the necessary quorum shall be one or more Persons at least holding or representing by proxy one-third in nominal or par value amount of the issued Participating Shares of the relevant Class (but so that if at any adjourned meeting of such holders a quorum as above defined is not present, those Shareholders who are present shall form a quorum) and that, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Participating Shares of that Class, every Shareholder of the Class shall on a poll have one vote for each Share of the Class held by him. For the purposes of this Article the Directors may treat all the Classes or any two or more Classes as forming one Class if they consider that the variation or abrogation of the rights attached to such Classes proposed for consideration is the same variation or abrogation for all such relevant Classes, but in any other case shall treat them as separate Classes.

14. The rights conferred upon the holders of the Participating Shares of any Class issued with preferred or other rights shall not, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Participating Shares of that Class, be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Participating Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them or the redemption or purchase of any Participating Shares of any Class by the Company.

The Directors may issue fractions of a Share and, if so issued, a fraction of a Share shall be subject to and carry the corresponding fraction of liabilities (whether with respect to nominal or par value, premium, contributions, calls or otherwise), limitations, preferences, privileges, qualifications, restrictions, rights (including, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, voting and participation rights) and other attributes of a whole Share. If more than one fraction of a Share of the same Class is issued to or acquired by the same Shareholder such fractions shall be accumulated.

INDEMNITY

131. To the fullest extent permitted by law, no Director, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, committee member or other officer for the time being and from time to time of the Company (each, a "Covered Person" and collectively, "Covered Persons") shall be liable to the Company or anyone for any reason whatsoever (including but not limited to (i) any act or omission by any Covered Person in connection with the conduct of the business of the Company, that is determined by such Covered Person in good faith to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, (ii) any act or omission by any Covered Person based on the suggestions of any professional advisor of the Company whom such Covered Person believes is authorized to make such suggestions on behalf of the Company, (iii) any act or omission by the Company, or (iv) any mistake, negligence, misconduct or bad faith of any broker or other agent of the Company selected by Covered Person with reasonable care), unless any act or omission by such Covered Person constitutes wilful misconduct or Gross Negligence by such Covered Person (as determined by a non-appeaiable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction).

132. Covered Person may consult with legal counsel or accountants selected by such Covered Person and any act or omission by such Covered Person on behalf of the Company or in furtherance of the business of the Company in good faith in reliance on and in accordance with the advice of such counsel or accountants shall be full justification for the act or omission, and such Covered Person shall be fully protected in so acting or omitting to act if the counsel or accountants were selected with reasonable care.

133. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Company shall indemnify and save harmless Covered Persons (the "Indemnitees"), from and against any and all claims, liabilities, damages, losses, costs and expenses, including amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in compromises and settlements, as fines and penalties and legal or other costs and expenses of investigating or defending against any claim or alleged claim, of any nature whatsoever, known or unknown, liquidated or unliquidated, that are incurred by any Indemnitee and arise out of or in connection with the business of the Company, any investment made, or the performance by the Indemnitee of Covered Person's responsibilities hereunder and against all taxes, charges, duties or levies incurred by such Covered Person or any Indemnitee in connection with the Company, provided that an Indemnitee shall not be entitled to indemnification hereunder to the extent the Indemnitee's conduct constitutes willful misconduct or Gross Negligence (as determined by a non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction). The termination of any proceeding by settlement, judgment, order or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the Indemnitee's conduct constituted willful misconduct or Gross Negligence.

134. Expenses incurred by an Indemnitee in defense or settlement of any claim that shall be subject to a right of indemnification hereunder, shall be advanced by the Company prior to the final disposition thereof upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the Indemnitee to repay the amount advanced to the extent that it shall be determined ultimately that the Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified hereunder.

135. The right of any Indemnitee to the indemnification provided herein shall be cumulative of, and in addition to, any and all rights to which the Indemnitee may otherwise be entitled by contract or as a matter of law or equity and shall be extended to the Indemnitee's successors, assigns and legal representatives.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

136. Subject to the prior written consent of all parties involved in the Dispute (as defined below) to such dispute resolution procedures, the following procedures shall be used to resolve any controversy or claim ("Dispute") arising out of, relating to or in connection with these Articles or otherwise involving the Company, a trustee appointed to represent the Company on claims derivative of the Company, its Shareholders and/or any Covered Person. If any of these provisions are determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in effect and binding on the parties to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(a) Mediation:

(i) subject to the prior written consent of all parties involved in the Dispute, any Dispute shall be submitted to mediation by written notice to the other party or parties. In the mediation process, the parties will try to resolve their differences voluntarily with the aid of an impartial mediator, who will attempt to facilitate negotiations. The mediator will be selected by agreement of the parties. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, a mediator shall be designated by JAMS/Endispute at the request of a party using, if necessary, strike and rank procedures then in effect;

(ii) the mediation will be conducted as specified by the mediator and agreed upon by the parties. The parties agree to discuss their differences in good faith and to attempt, with the assistance of the mediator, to reach an amicable resolution of the dispute;

(iii) the mediation will be treated as a settlement discussion and therefore will be confidential. The mediator may not testify for either party in any later proceeding relating to the dispute. No recording or transcript shall be made of the mediation proceedings; and

(iv) each party will bear its own costs in the mediation. The fees and expenses of the mediator will be shared equally by the parties,

(b) Arbitration:

Subject to the prior written consent of all parties involved in the Dispute to such dispute resolution procedure, if a Dispute has not been resolved within 90 days after the written notice beginning the mediation process (or a longer period, if the parties agree to extend the mediation), the mediation shall terminate and the dispute will be settled by arbitration. The arbitration will be administered by JAMS/Endispute pursuant to JAMS' Comprehensive Arbitration Rules and Procedures and in accordance with the Expedited Procedures in those Rules. ("Arbitration Rules"). In the event of a conflict, the provisions of these Articles will control:

(i) the arbitration will be conducted before a panel of three arbitrators, regardless of the size of the dispute, to be selected as provided in the Arbitration Rules. Any issue concerning the extent to which any dispute is subject to arbitration, or concerning the applicability, interpretation, or enforceability of these procedures, including any contention that all or part of these procedures are invalid or unenforceable, shall be governed by the United States Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), and resolved by the arbitrators, provided, however, that the Company or such applicable affiliate thereof may pursue a temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunctive relief in connection with confidentiality covenants or agreements binding on any party, with related expedited discovery for the parties, in a court of law, and, thereafter, require arbitration of all issues of final relief. Under no circumstances will a State arbitration act of the United States preclude application of the FAA, including any choice of law provisions in this agreement, or any other agreement. No potential arbitrator may serve on the panel unless he or she has agreed in writing to abide and be bound by these procedures;

(ii) the arbitrators may not award non-monetary or equitable relief of any sort. They shall have no power to award punitive damages or any other damages not measured by the prevailing party's actual damages, and the parties expressly waive their right to obtain such damages in arbitration or any in other forum. In no event, even if any other portion of these provisions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, shall the arbitrators have power to make an award or impose a remedy that could not be made or imposed by a court deciding the matter in the same jurisdiction. The arbitrators) shall be required to state in a written opinion all facts and conclusions of law relied upon to support any decision rendered. Any dispute over whether the arbitrator(s) has failed to comply with the foregoing will be resolved by summary judgment in a court of law;

(iii) the party initiating arbitration shall pay all arbitration costs and arbitrator's fees, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. All proceedings shall be conducted in Dallas, Texas, or another mutually agreeable site. Each party shall bear its own attorneys fees, costs and expenses, including any costs of experts, witnesses and/or travel, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. This provision is intended to supersede any rights under Texas Civil Practices and Remedies Code § 38.001(8), which rights the parties expressly waive;

(iv) no discovery will be allowed in connection with the arbitration unless the arbitration panel, upon a showing of substantial need, expressly authorizes it. In any event, there shall be no more than (i) two party depositions of six hours each. Each deposition is to be taken pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure; (ii) one non-party deposition of six hours; (iii) twenty-five interrogatories; (iv) twenty- five requests for admission; (v) ten requests for production. In response, the producing party shall not be obligated to produce in excess of 5,000 total pages of documents. The total pages of documents shall include electronic documents; (vi) one request for disclosure pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Any discovery not specifically provided for in this paragraph, whether to parties or non- parties, shall not be permitted;

(v) all aspects of the arbitration shall be treated as confidential, including its institution and/or settlement. Neither the parties nor the arbitrators may disclose the existence, content or results of the arbitration, except as necessary to comply with legal or regulatory requirements. Before making any such disclosure, a party shall give written notice to all other parties and shall afford such parties a reasonable opportunity to protect their interests. In the event a party who recovered monies by settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute violates this confidentiality term, he, she, or it shall refund all such sums recovered. The parties expressly intend to waive the right to retain any monies received through settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute in the event that that party violates the aforementioned confidentiality term; and

(vi) the result of the arbitration will be binding on the parties, and judgment on the arbitrators' award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. This clause shall not preclude parties from seeking provisional remedies in aid of arbitration from a court of appropriate jurisdiction.

AEOI

137. Notwithstanding any other Article, in order to comply with AEOI, any Director shall be entitled to release and/or disclose on behalf of the Company to the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority or equivalent authority (the "TIA") and any other foreign government body as required by AEOI, any information in its or its agents' or delegates' possession regarding a Member including, without limitation, financial information concerning the Member's investment in the Company, and any information relating to any shareholders, principals, partners, beneficial owners (direct or indirect) or controlling persons (direct or indirect) of such Member. Any such Director may also authorise any third party agent, including but not limited to, the Investment Manager or Administrator, to release and/or disclose such information on behalf of the Company.

138. In order to comply with AEOI and, if necessary, to reduce or eliminate any risk that the Company or its Members are subject to withholding taxes pursuant to AEOI or incur any costs, debts, expenses, obligations or liabilities (whether external, or internal, to the Company) (together, "costs") associated with AEOI, the Directors may cause the Company to undertake any of the following actions:

(a) compulsorily redeem any or all of the Shares held by a Member either (i) where the Member fails to provide (in a timely manner) to the Company, or any agent or delegate of the Company, including but not limited to, the Investment Manager or the Administrator, any information requested by the Company or such agent or delegate pursuant to AEOI; or (ii) where there has otherwise been non-compliance by the Company with AEOI whether caused, directly or indirectly, by the action or inaction of such Member, or any related person, or otherwise;

(b) deduct from, or hold back, redemption or repurchase proceeds, dividend payments or any other distributions, in order to:

(i) comply with any applicable requirement to apply and collect withholding tax pursuant to AEOI;

(ii) allocate to a Member an amount equal to any withholding tax imposed on the Company as a result of the Member's, or any related person's, action or inaction (direct or indirect), or where there has otherwise been non-compliance by the Company with AEOI;

(iii) ensure that any AEOI related costs are recovered from the Member(s) whose action or inaction (directly or indirectly, including the action or inaction of any person related to such Member) gave rise or contributed to such costs.

139. In order to give effect to the requirements imposed upon the Company by AEOI, as well as any of the actions contemplated by Articles 138(a) and 139(b), the Directors may undertake any of the following actions:

(a) create separate classes and/or series of Shares ("AEOI Shares"), with such rights and terms as the Directors may in their sole discretion determine, and following the compulsory redemption of some or all of a Member's Shares may immediately apply such redemption proceeds in subscribing for such number of AEOI Shares as the Directors determine;

(b) may re-name any number of Shares (whether issued or unissued) as AEOI Shares, create a Separate Account with respect to such AEOI Shares and apply any AEOI related costs or withholding taxes to such Separate Account;

(c) allocate any AEOI costs or withholding tax among Separate Accounts on a basis determined solely by the Directors; and

(d) adjust the Net Asset Value per Share of any relevant Shares (including any AEOI Share).

Johnstone law, who are acting for the participating shareholders of Charitable DAF HoldCo Ltd, served the following documents this afternoon (via Campbells, as we remain Charitable DAF's registered office):

- A Petition seeking orders that Charitable DAF be wound up and that joint official liquidators be appointed.
- A Summons seeking an order appointing joint provisional liquidators over Charitable DAF.
- Supporting affirmations of Julie Diaz (of The Dallas Foundation) and James Dondero.
- Consent to acts as a liquidator from Margot MacInnis and Sandipan Bhowmik, both of Grant Thornton.

The Summons seeking the appointment of joint provisional liquidators over Charitable DAF has been listed for hearing before Justice Asif at 2pm on Monday, 28 April 2025.

We will forward copies of the attached materials to Kroll, as the voluntary liquidators of Charitable DAF. Our understanding is that Kroll will be taking point on next steps as the voluntary liquidators, but we will review and are available to assist. We will also forward these materials onto Walkers, who have requested a copy.

Kind regards

From: Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc.
Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc.
Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc.

To: Mr. Paul Murphy
Director of Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd. and Charitable DAF Holdings Corp.
paul@gkmanagement.com.ky

Dear Mr. Murphy:

We write to you collectively on behalf of the following organizations:

1. Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc., a participation shareholder in Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd., of which you are a director along with Mark Patrick. As you know, Mr. Patrick also is the managing member of the Charitable DAF GP, LLC, which governs the related Charitable DAF Fund, LP.

2. Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc., also a participation shareholder in Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd.

3. Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc., also a participation shareholder in Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd.

Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc is a supporting organization of The Dallas Foundation. Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. is a supporting organization of Greater Kansas City Community Foundation. Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc. is a supporting organization of Santa Barbara Foundation. The Dallas Foundation, Greater Kansas City Community Foundation and Santa Barbara Foundation (collectively the "Foundations") have worked closely with their respective supporting organizations named above to award grants and funding to a wide range of charitable causes that have made tangible, lasting impacts on the communities they serve. Our primary commitment has been, and always will be, our concern for the community, respect for donors, thoughtful giving, and careful investing—core values that have guided each of us throughout our existence.

With these core values and with the well-being of these Foundations in mind, we write you to voice that we no longer have confidence that the governance structures of, including but not limited to Charitable DAF-GP, LLC, Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd., Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. and CLO HoldCo, Ltd. (collectively the "DAF-related entities"), can function appropriately. We believe a reorganization must occur or the DAF-related entities should be equitably wound up because the governance structure has become unworkable. Recently, various competing constituencies provided the Foundations with conflicting information related to the operations and financial inner workings of the DAF-related entities. This conflicting information raises significant concerns about how the corpus of these funds is administered and spent. The Foundations have no real pathway to verify the information as the current governance structures prevent them from receiving such information, and indeed, efforts to secure additional information have been rebuffed. As a result, these recent submissions demonstrate that the current governance structure is ill-equipped to address such allegations and provide sufficient protection to the economic funds that support so many charitable efforts.

Further, because we have substantial concerns, out of an abundance of caution, and until an accounting can be conducted, we believe it is inappropriate for anyone to authorize the depletion of further assets of DAF-related entities. We urge you to take our accounting and governance concerns seriously because depletion of assets in the DAF-related entities has a direct impact on our mission and the charitable good works in our communities.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Our counsel with the law firm of Holland & Knight LLP is copied on this letter should you have any questions.

Paul-

I appreciate your email, and your willingness to find a framework to resolve the concerns, but am flummoxed by your, "struggle" to understand our growing frustration.

I do not believe it should be difficult to comprehend the request for transparency around $270 million dollars you control as a fiduciary for the benefit of charities in Dallas, Kansas City, and Santa Barbara. Indeed, these odd legal and rhetorical machinations of yours and Mr. Patrick miss the point. These monies are for improving the quality of life of children, building pathways for everyone to have a fair opportunity to succeed, and—among other things—creating a lasting impact on young minds by fostering a love for education. They are not meant to pay you and Mr. Patrick millions in director fees. If I'm wrong, please educate me.

Your failure to be forthcoming about the underlying assets, the investment philosophy of the fund, and the "revised" governance, have caused me to start digging. I am not only a lawyer but also a Certified Fraud Examiner and a Certified Compliance & Ethics

Professional, and what I have found is nothing short of alarming.

> As I mentioned, director fees for 2024 appeared to be on track to exceed $5 million, which was an over 12,000 percent increase—up from zero. It is hard to fathom what you and Mr. Patrick have changed or contributed to the funds to warrant such a drastic change in director fees. I could be wrong, but if so, then tell me why. What is the dramatic value add?
> As I understand it, the annualized expenses of the funds were on pace to outstrip the actual return on the investments. So I am at a loss as to how you can justify running the fund at a loss while apparently paying the directors handsomely and freezing Supporting Organizations (the shareholders) out of basic information.

On November 6, 2024, we had an introductory video call with Doug Mancino, who announced himself as Compliance Counsel. But no details of the assets or financial condition of the funds were communicated.

On November 20, 2024, we had another video call with folks from your side, including ValueScope, and it was informative; however, the thrust of the presentation was why you refused proposed investments from NexPoint. It had nothing to do with the underlying assets and financial conditions of the fund. This was perplexing as ValueScope has been the valuation firm for the fund for years; yet they were silent about the condition of the fund.

On December 11, 2024, we had a video call with you, Doug Mancino, and your Cayman counsel. The thrust of that discussion was your vision of running the fund more as an institutional investment vehicle and a promise to provide financial information in the future. But the presentation again lacked any information on the underlying assets and financial conditions of the fund. It did, however, include a discussion that the Supporting Orgs had no right to information under the structure of the funds.

Shortly after the December 11 call, we received your first demand to withdraw our concerns about the governance of the funds, and it also advanced that if the Supporting Organizations wanted more transparency they must sign a non-disclosure agreement with a liquidated damages clause. Which is, quite frankly, ridiculous.

In sum, and as I understand the thread running through the communications, your continuing posture is the following. The Supporting Orgs have no right to information. And, if the Supporting Organizations want more information, they must both recant their governance concerns and then sign the NDA. Those are both coercive non-starters. Again, if I'm wrong please tell me how.

Finally, and this I find perhaps the most egregious, I just discovered through my own research that Mark Patrick cancelled the Delaware charter of Charitable DAF GP, LLC on October 30, 2024 and rechartered it in Cayman. I can find no legitimate reason to recharter the general partner, and instead believe it to be a move to further insulate Mr. Patrick's and your actions by retreating from jurisdiction in the United States and offshore the entity in its entirety. If I've misunderstood, please let me know in detail how, but I remain skeptical. Further, in the calls listed above, not one representative from your side spoke up to explain, or even mention, the rechartering of the general partner. That is a striking repeated omission.

So the change of tone should not provide any struggle to puzzle through. Over the last three months, you have not provided any information about the assets and financial health of the fund. You have demanded that information only flows under an NDA with liquidated damages. You continually issue a veiled threat that information is a privilege not a right under the agreements. Expenses have gone through the roof, and the governance has been changed to further insulate it in a foreign jurisdiction. To say the least, I see red flags all over this situation, but have not received any facts, yet, that tell me they are unwarranted.

If I'm wrong, fine. It won't be the first time. But this also isn't my first rodeo, and the way to diffuse this is through immediate full transparency and facts. So if I've misunderstood, and your intent is to provide a fully transparent briefing to the Supporting Organizations without coercive caveats, then we stand ready to have that conversation after receiving the basic financial information requested by Julie Diaz in her January 23, 2025 email.

Paul-

I have added Doug Mancino to this email chain, as you are represented by counsel, I believe it appropriate to loop him in for this communication. I also told you that I had a tendency toward the blunt.

I am appalled by your response. As fiduciaries, you and Mr. Patrick manage $270 million in assets for the benefit of charities that support the most vulnerable in their communities. Whatever your side's obvious antagonism to Mr. Dondero, the fact remains that the underlying assets are ultimately for these charitable missions. And your focus and mission should be not only to ensure the success of the investments, but transparency to the ultimate beneficiaries. The assets are for their benefit, not Mr. Dondero, not Mr. Patrick, and not you.

The Supporting Organizations have legitimate concerns. The last information they received from SEI in July of 2024 — before Mr. Patrick shut down that line of communication and information — showed legal expenses had increased to $6 million in the first six months of 2024 compared to $4 million for all of 2022. If annualized, and at that pace, legal expenses appeared to be on path to exceed $12 million for 2024. That's a 300% increase. Director fees skyrocketed from $40 thousand in 2022 to $2.25 million in the first six months of 2024. Again, annualized, these fees are on a path to exceed $5 million in 2024. That is a 12,400% increase. Yet, no information has been provided by you and Mr. Patrick, no clarity given. It appears that total expenses for 2024, if annualized, were on pace to exceed $36 million. Even if you earned a return of 10 percent on the $270 million invested, the fund would be at $11 million of negative revenue for 2024. If the information we received is wrong, then please explain why, and provide the detailed information to disabuse us of these concerns. But telling us we have no legal right to the answers is not workable.

Upon Mr. Patrick taking control, you and he should have immediately engaged with the Supporting Organizations to explain the transition, your plans, and how the assets are being managed. I would have thought that a fiduciary would have engaged in a campaign of maximum transparency and disclosure. Instead, as to the actual financial condition of the assets, you have been opaque at best and purposefully elusive at worse, and your email below retreats into statements about having no legal obligation to disclose the activities of the funds. And it seems to condition further transparency on the Supporting Organizations recanting their earlier expressed concerns. I think you should reconsider such an entrenchment.

The Supporting Organizations have no interest in the animosity or dysfunction between Mr. Patrick and Mr. Dondero. What they do have an interest in, is an active campaign by you and Mr. Patrick to continue to manage the assets in a shroud of mystery, dripping out details and information whenever you deem it appropriate. To do so simply proves our concerns that the governance structure of these entities is broken.

Yes, it is true that we have been in discussions for months about transparency, and you provided some information. However, what has been ignored are the repeated requests for a simple set of financials. But how hard is it to create a short PowerPoint on the current state of financial statements, a simple diagram of the alleged new governance structure (who are the advisory board members?), your visions for the funds, and then provide a one-hour briefing to the Supporting Organizations? If you are truly managing the funds to the institutional-investor standards represented in our call, these details should be at your fingertips. Yet somehow this has all devolved into delays and posturing related to the dust up between Messrs. Dondero and Patrick.

That type of myopic thinking is not appropriate in this situation. The Supporting Organizations deserve answers, and the transparency needs to happen sooner rather than later. And, the answer you provided, which essentially said that you can tell the organizations to pound sand and they should be grateful for the information you do provide, is not acceptable.

Copy from re:SearchTX

Mark and Paul-

We have great concern that our reasonable requests below have not been acknowledged. This failure to provide the courtesy of a response continues a pattern of a lack of communication and transparency as to assets and financials of DAF HoldCo under your stewardship. These failures exacerbate the concerns we previously communicated in our letter to Paul in November 2024 (copy attached), which highlighted our concerns that the governance of the DAF HoldCo has failed in its current structure. The situation as it now stands is untenable. The lack of engagement on the true financial condition of the DAF HoldCo and the underlying assets leads us to believe that you have rejected our request to revise the governance of the DAF HoldCo and related structure. As such we are requesting that DAF HoldCo and the related entities be wound up and the underlying assets be distributed in kind to the Supporting Organizations so they can manage those assets for the benefit of the charities and the communities they serve. As previously requested, until these issues are resolved, we are insisting that you do not dissipate the assets further.

Hi Mark –

Copy from re:SearchTX

Since we spoke last fall, the three CEOs from Santa Barbara, Kansas City, and Dallas community foundations (copied here) were discussing our plans for 2025 and wanted to reach out to you to check in on the DAFHoldCo. We have been discussing the need for a better understanding of the assets and thought it would be helpful if you could provide us with several detailed reports now that the new structure is in place.

Specifically, could you send:

- Income Statements for the last for years: A complete set of income statements (or profit and loss statements) for the last four fiscal years (2021-2024), including any supplemental notes or breakdowns that provide insight into revenue streams and expenses
- Listing of Underlying Assets: A detailed listing of the underlying assets held by DAF HoldCo, including both tangible and intangible assets. This should include any real estate, investments, intellectual property, or other significant assets that contribute to the company's operations or value.
- Audited Financial Statements: The most recent audited financial statements for DAFHoldCo, including the balance sheet, statement of cash flows, and any related auditor's reports. Please include any supplementary schedules or disclosures that are typically associated with these statements.
- Current Structure of DAFHoldCo Operations: An up-to-date organizational chart or structural overview detailing the key divisions, subsidiaries, and any relevant operational or financial entities that comprise the DAFHoldCo structure, including any significant changes that may have occurred over the last few years.

As you can appreciate, our job as leaders of our respective community foundations is to ensure proper stewardship of the charitable assets that are owned by our organizations. We are grateful for the decade plus of charitable investments that we have been able to make from the proceeds of the DAFHoldCo and would like to have confidence that this vehicle will continue to grow and make additional meaningful contributions to our respective communities.

Please let us know your ability to get this information to us by Feb. 10, 2025.

Thank you and happy New Year.

Re: Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. ("Charitable DAF")

Doug-

I received your letter dated February 14, 2025. I apologize if you believe my previous emails to be "over the top." However, what you perceive as "hostility" is nothing more than frustration at the circuitous dialogue and veiled threats we receive in response to simple and repeated requests for transparency as to the finances and governance of Charitable DAF. So far, our specific concerns have been met with denials but no real data on the particular issues raised. In a world where Messrs. Dondero and Patrick appear to be feuding, the Supporting Organizations can, at best, adopt a position of "trust but verify." They will, therefore, continue to push for transparency.

Further, the frustration you perceive arises from comments in many of the communications we have received from you and your clients attempting to position the Supporting Organizations as being manipulated by Mr. Dondero. The Supporting Organizations are nobody's patsy, proxy, or puppet. To suggest otherwise insults the intellect and professionalism of the executive leadership at each of the Supporting Organizations.

Paul Murphy continues to assert that he is ready to present to the Supporting Organizations and clear up all the misunderstandings. You know our concerns; let us get to it. Please propose dates in the next two weeks on which Paul is ready to present to, and answer questions from, the Supporting Organizations.

Sincerely yours,

Michael W. Stockham

THE WITNESS: My bad.

THE COURT: -- call my attention to it when you find it.

THE WITNESS: All right.

(The witness steps down.)

THE COURT: All right. Your next witness?

MR. YORK: I believe we're calling Mark Patrick.

THE COURT: All right, Mr. Patrick. All right. Please raise your right hand.

MARK PATRICK, DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST'S WITNESS, SWORN

THE COURT: All right. Please be seated.

And, Courtney, you're going to start the clock going. I show 2:12. I don't know if my clock's right.

You may proceed.

MR. LANG: And, Your Honor, may I hand the witness -- this is from Mr. Morris' opening. May I use this as Exhibit 3?

THE COURT: Oh, okay. You're talking about the back page of his PowerPoint?

MR. LANG: Yes. Org chart.

THE COURT: Yes. I've got it in front of me. And for the record, I'm going to put this PowerPoint, even though it's not an exhibit per se, as a demonstrative aid in the file for this matter. And so it's the last item of the Highland PowerPoint. All right.

Copy from re:SearchTX

MR. LANG: Yes.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, does this Hunter Mountain Investment Trust org chart that I just handed you accurately reflect the structure of the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust ownership today?

A Just give me a few moments to review.

Q Sure.

MR. LEWIS: Your Honor, I had mentioned early on that we object to this whole line of questioning because it's outside the scope of the objection of Dugaboy. And I don't want to interrupt, but I want to make sure that my objection is continuing, because this has nothing to do with the objection presented by Dugaboy.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. PHILLIPS: So we object to the question.

THE COURT: Okay. So the record will reflect basically a running objection from Hunter Mountain?

MR. PHILLIPS: We would appreciate that, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. In light of the failure of Dugaboy to disclose Mark Patrick as a witness, as well as the failure to challenge in a written objection his authority. Okay. So I recognized that this was quite a persuasive objection, but given the magnitude, I would say, of what is going on here, potentially a settlement that could come very close to ending this long-running plan implementation process, I'm erring, if it's an error, I'm erring on the side of allowing this. All right. But you have a running objection that the record will reflect if one day there is an appeal.

Copy from re:SearchTX

MR. MORRIS: And, Your Honor, the Highland Claimant Trust and the Highland Litigation Subtrust and Highland Capital Management, LP join Mr. Phillips' objection.

THE COURT: Okay. Understood.

MR. PHILLIPS: Thank you very much, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, have you had time to study this Hunter Mountain Investment Trust org chart?

A Yes, I have.

Q And does this accurately show the ownership structure for Hunter Mountain Investment Trust today?

A I'm not sure, without reviewing the underlying corporate documents on some of these entities that you have listed here.

Q Did you help prepare this chart?

A No.

Q No? Okay. So Hunter Mountain Investment Trust is owned by Beacon Mountain, LLC, correct?

A Yes.

Q And Beacon Mountain, LLC is owned by CLO Holdco, LLC,

Copy from re:SearchTX

correct?

A Correct.

Q And CLO Holdco, LLC is owned by CLO Holdco, Limited?

A That's correct.

Q And CLO Holdco, Limited is owned by Charitable DAF Fund, LP?

A Correct.

Q And Charitable DAF Fund 1, LP is owned by CDMC FAD, LLC?

A The ultimate beneficial owner is DFW Charitable Foundation. To my -- to the best of my recollection, I would say that appears accurate. I'm just not a hundred percent.

Q Okay. And --

A But I am a hundred percent that DFW Charitable Foundation is the ultimate beneficial owner. And I'm a hundred percent that Dugaboy Investment Trust has no interest in it. And I'm also a hundred percent that The Dallas Foundation or any --

MR. LANG: Judge, I haven't asked --

THE WITNESS: -- or any other nonprofit has any --

MR. LANG: -- any of these questions.

THE COURT: Okay. There's an objection, nonresponsive. I sustain.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, before December of 2024, Charitable DAF Fund, LP was owned by Charitable DAF Holdco, correct?

A (Pause.) I'm just waiting for a relevancy. I don't

Copy from re:SearchTX

understand how that's relevant to my authority --

THE COURT: Okay. You're not allowed to make a relevancy objection. Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, I think the problem is that, if I could, we have made an objection. And our objection, our running objection is founded on relevancy and founded on improper process. So I would like to just tell the Court, and so my client representative can hear it, that the fact that I'm not standing up every time there's a problematic question, --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: -- because every question is problematic, my objection is being maintained to every question that's being asked.

THE COURT: Okay. You understand that, right?

THE WITNESS: I --

THE COURT: There's a running relevancy objection. You're the witness. You can't make the objection. But it's on the record for whatever use it might have down the road.

MR. PHILLIPS: I have objected to every question that's coming in connection with this line of questioning on the basis of relevance.

THE COURT: I got it. I think we all have it.

MR. PHILLIPS: I'm just --

MR. LANG: Understood.

Copy from re:SearchTX

THE COURT: Yes. And you're thinking he's eating into your 30 minutes?

MR. LANG: Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. We've got it.

THE CLERK: I stopped the time.

MR. LANG: So -- thank you.

THE COURT: Did you stop the time for a minute?

THE CLERK: Yes, I did.

MR. LANG: Thank you.

THE COURT: Okay.

BY MR. LANG:

Q So, to my question, before December of 2024, Charitable DAF Fund, LP was owned by Charitable DAF Holdco, correct? Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited?

A And where is that on the chart?

Q I'm asking, before December of 2024, Charitable DAF Fund, LP was owned by Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited.

A Can you show me a corporate document so I know the precise corporation you're referring to?

Q You're the -- you are the manager of -- or the control person of CDHGP Limited, correct?

A Again, I'd have to refresh my recollection, but I am the control person over CDMC.

Q Okay. And CDMC --

A As well as Charitable DAF Fund. I'll represent that to

Copy from re:SearchTX

you.

Q Okay. Was there a transaction in December of 2024 where Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited sold its interest or transferred its interest in Charitable DAF Fund, LP to CDMC FAD, LLC?

A I know you're trying to help other litigation and --

MR. PHILLIPS: Mark.

THE COURT: Okay. Nonresponsive.

THE WITNESS: Your Honor, he's using your time to fish for other litigation to support that --

THE COURT: Okay. Okay. We have a running objection to relevance. I'm going to say that one more time. Okay. Just answer the question as best you can.

THE WITNESS: I'd have to review the corporate documents to refresh my recollection for that time period.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Up until December of 2024, Charitable DAF Fund, LP was owned 100 percent by Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited, wasn't it?

A I don't know what entity you're referring to without a refreshment of corporate documents of that entity. There could be a lot of entities called that.

Q You're aware that there is a proceeding in the Caymans investigating the December 2024 transaction that sold -- where Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited sold its interest in -- and or

Copy from re:SearchTX

transferred its interest in Charitable DAF Fund, LP to CDMC FAD, LLC?

A There are several parts to that question. So the answer is no.

Q Are you aware of a proceeding pending in the Caymans involving Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited?

A Again, I don't know what entity you're referring to. Show me a -- show me a corporate document.

MR. LANG: Your Honor, this was on the Foundation's exhibit list. We cross-designated any document designated as an exhibit by any other party in this case. And I'd like to hand this to the witness.

MR. MORRIS: Which exhibit is it?

THE COURT: Which is -- yes.

MR. LANG: It was on the -- it was on the DAF -- or, the Foundation's exhibit list.

MR. MORRIS: They haven't been admitted into evidence and they've withdrawn their objection. We object, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Yes, they've not been admitted.

MR. LANG: Okay. Well, can I --

MR. PHILLIPS: We object to that, Your Honor. We object to any witness --

MR. LANG: We cross-designated every --

THE COURT: I already discussed at the beginning what we were admitting and that was not disclosed.

Copy from re:SearchTX

MR. LANG: Okay.

THE COURT: As I recall, I said you've only designated the plan and settlement agreement, and the answer was yes.

MR. LANG: Okay.

BY MR. LANG:

Q And we're aware that the Joint Official -- are you aware that there is a Joint Official Liquidator appointed over a Charitable DAF entity in the Cayman Islands?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection to form.

THE WITNESS: Again, without more specific --

THE COURT: Overruled. Yes.

THE WITNESS: -- specificity, there could be a thousand different actions that you're referring to, in my mind.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Are you aware that the Joint Official Liquidators in the Caymans are investigating transactions involving Charitable DAF Fund, LP and Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited?

A Again, again, I don't specifically know what you're referring to.

MR. PHILLIPS: Your Honor, may I -- excuse me. I don't know that my running objection includes an objection to form for each of the questions. This objection is to form of the questions about, quote, --

Copy from re:SearchTX

THE COURT: What's wrong with the form?

MR. PHILLIPS: -- investigation.

THE COURT: What is wrong with the form of that question? I'm not clear.

MR. PHILLIPS: My objection to form is that the question is an open-ended question with an undefined term, investigation.

THE COURT: Overruled. I don't think that's a vague term. So you may answer.

THE WITNESS: If you show me some document, some complaint or something, I'll be very happy to verify whatever questions related to that. But just giving me verbal words of entities and names and actions, I don't know precisely what you are talking about.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, who set up the entities in the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust org chart that is sitting in front of you?

A I'm sorry. Repeat the question?

Q Who set up the various entities that are in the org chart that is on your -- on the stand?

MR. PHILLIPS: Objection to form. Set up. What does that mean?

THE WITNESS: It -- yeah, it's very --

THE COURT: I think we know what it means. Creating, perhaps.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Created?

A Who? Are you asking if I created it?

Q Did you participate in creating them?

A Did I participate? In which ones?

Q CDMC FAD, LLC.

A What do you mean by participate?

Q Were you involved in creating -- did you initiate the creation of CDMC FAD, LLC?

A Lawyers were.

Q Did you engage in any capacity on behalf of any entity? Were you involved in engaging the lawyers to set up CDMC FAD, LLC?

A Yes, I engaged lawyers to set up entities.

MR. LANG: Objection. Nonresponsive.

THE COURT: Sustained.

MR. LANG: Did you --

THE COURT: He asked about this one particular entity, I think.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Did you --

A Which entity, again, did you ask?

Q CDMC FAD, LLC.

A Yes, I believe I hired a lawyer.

Copy from re:SearchTX

Q And when did CDMC FAD, LLC become a hundred percent owner of Charitable DAF Fund, LP?

A Around the end of March of 2025. I believe.

Q And were you involved in the transaction between -- in which CDMC FAD, LLC obtained a hundred percent interest in Charitable DAF Fund, LP?

A What do you mean by involved? How?

THE COURT: Okay. I can see what's happening here or I have an impression of what's happening here. I feel like you're slowing down this process where I've given 30 minutes to this lawyer. Okay? And I feel like you're feigning confusion. I don't mean to be insulting, but that's how it comes across. Okay? So I need you to speed up your answers and not be confused about things you shouldn't be confused about. Okay?

THE WITNESS: Okay.

THE COURT: I feel like it's late 1980s Dondi. Does anyone know what I mean by that? Okay. We've been there, done that, in the federal courts, and we don't like the looking at -- you're not looking up at the ceiling. That's what they did in Dondi. Confusion. Delay. Okay?

So I don't mean to chastise you. I'm just telling you that you're going to make us be here a lot longer, and nobody wants that, because I will give him extra time for this. Okay?

Copy from re:SearchTX

THE WITNESS: Understood.

THE COURT: Thank you.

BY MR. LANG:

Q Okay. So you were involved in the transaction in which CDMC FAD, LLC acquired 100 percent ownership interest in Charitable DAF Fund, LP in or around March of 2025, correct?

A Correct.

Q Who did CDMC FAD, LLC obtain its interests in Charitable DAF Fund, LP from in March of 2025?

A From an -- from an entity called Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd.

Q Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd., the entity that I asked about earlier, correct?

A Of the same name.

Q Yes. And Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. has had Joint Liquidated -- Liquidators, Joint Official Liquidators appointed over it in the Cayman Islands, correct?

A Yes.

Q And those Joint Official Liquidators were appointed over Charitable DAF Holdco, Limited in or around May 6th, 2025?

A In May is what I recall.

MR. LANG: Your Honor, we'll pass the witness.

THE COURT: All right. Do we have any questions?

MR. YORK: No questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Any cross?

Copy from re:SearchTX

MR. MORRIS: Just briefly, Your Honor.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q Mr. Patrick, do you know who initiated the proceedings to get the appointment of the Joint Official Liquidators in the Cayman Islands?

A The director and myself, we initially filed for a voluntary joint liquidation in May.

Q And did there come a time when the Cayman court appointed the Joint Official Liquidators?

A Yes.

Q Do you know who asked the court to appoint the Joint Official Liquidators?

A We did, as well as other -- it was an agreement with the participation holders of that entity.

Q And who are the participation holders of that entity?

A It was the DFW Charitable Foundation as a 51 percent holder as well as the Highland Dallas Foundation, Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, and the Highland Kansas City Foundation.

Q And those three foundations that you just mentioned, do you know who controls them?

A Jim Dondero.

Q Is it your understanding that Mr. Dondero was funding the litigation in the Cayman Islands?

Copy from re:SearchTX

A Yes.
Q The Joint Official Liquidators, are you aware of any statement that they've ever made that you are not authorized to act on behalf of any of the HMIT entities?
A Yeah, they've never made a statement that I'm not authorized to act under any of those entities.
Q Okay. Did you receive a letter last night that was purportedly authored by the Joint Official Liquidators?
A Yes.
Q Did you review that letter?
A Yes.
Q Did that letter refer to today's hearing?
A Yes.
Q Are you aware of the Joint Official Liquidators making any appearance in this proceeding?
A No, I'm not aware they made any appearance in this proceeding.
Q Based on your recollection of the contents of that letter, did the Joint Official Liquidators challenge your authority to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities?
A No, they did not, because there's no ownership interest.
Q Okay. And what do you mean by that?
A The entity in liquidation owns nothing. And the DFW Charitable Foundation is the ultimate beneficial owner.

Copy from re:SearchTX

Q Are you aware that The Dallas Foundation filed an objection to the settlement agreement on behalf of Empower Dallas Foundation, the Okada Family Foundation, and Crown Global?

A Yes.

Q Are you aware that that objection was withdrawn?

A Yes.

Q Was the withdrawal of that objection the product of negotiations that your counsel had with lawyers for The Dallas Foundation and Crown Global?

A Yes, it was.

Q Did The Dallas Foundation or Crown Global require you to surrender your control position of the HMIT entities as a condition to the withdrawal of their objection?

A To give up my control? No.

Q They didn't ask you to do that, did they?

A No. No.

Q You are the control person for each of the HMIT entities that are party to the settlement agreement, correct?

A That is correct.

Q Are you aware of any requirement in any of the governance documents --

MR. CURRY: Your Honor, I'm not questioning, but I'm going to object to the line of questioning here about what was asked and what was not received into negotiations, because, frankly, you're getting an imperfect picture there. And I don't think it should be misrepresented. The communications didn't happen with Mr. Patrick.

Copy from re:SearchTX

THE COURT: Okay. I don't know if that objection was a confidential settlement communications.

MR. CURRY: It's a combination of foundation and that he's going into confidential settlement discussions.

MR. MORRIS: Your Honor, it's a very simple question. I'll ask it again.

THE COURT: Okay. We'll let --

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q To the best of best of your knowledge, Mr. Patrick, did The Dallas Foundation or any of the entities on whose behalf it filed its objection require you to surrender your position as the control person of the HMIT entities in exchange for the withdrawal of their objection?

A No, they did not.

Q Thank you. Are you aware -- are you familiar with the governance documents for the HMIT entities?

A Yes, I am.

Q Are you aware of any restriction on your ability to act on behalf of those HMIT entities with respect to -- withdrawn. Are you required to obtain the consent of anyone in order to enter into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities?

Copy from re:SearchTX

A No, I am not. I'm the sole authority and control person for that entity.

Q And do you believe that you're entering into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities in good faith?

A Yes, I do.

Q Have you received legal counsel before entering into the agreement?

A Yes, I have.

Q Do you believe that you've negotiated the best terms that you could get on behalf of the HMIT entities?

A Yes, I do.

Q Do you believe that you received the information that you believed you required in order to make an informed decision before you entered into the settlement agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities?

A Yes, I did.

MR. MORRIS: I have no further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Phillips, anything from you?

MR. PHILLIPS: No questions.

THE COURT: Okay. Any redirect?

MR. LANG: Briefly.

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

MR. LANG: Your Honor, because they mentioned the letter of last night from Grant Thornton, the Liquidators, I'm going to offer that into evidence as the letter that we talked about this morning. But Mr. Morris directly asked him if he reviewed it and asked him questions about it.

THE COURT: Response?

MR. MORRIS: No objection, Your Honor. Go right ahead.

THE COURT: I'll admit it.

MR. LANG: This is --

THE COURT: Do I have it in my notebook?

MR. LANG: -- Dugaboy --

THE COURT: Okay.

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, I've handed you --

THE COURT: We're going to call this Dugaboy 3?

MR. LANG: Dugaboy 3.

THE COURT: Okay.

(Dugaboy Investment Trust's Exhibit 3 is admitted into evidence.)

BY MR. LANG:

Q Mr. Patrick, I've handed you a letter. It's from Grant Thornton dated June 24th, 2025. Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q And is this a true and correct copy of the letter that you received or that you reviewed from the Joint Liquidators that you referred to in your answers to Mr. Morris' questions?

Copy from re:SearchTX

A Well, it's a PDF. I mean, I'm assuming it's from the Official Liquidators.

Q But this is the letter you were referring to in your testimony a few minutes ago?

A Yes.

Q And do you see on the second paragraph it says that, on May 6th, 2025, the Grand Court of Cayman Islands Financial Services Division appointed Margot MacInnis and Sandipan Bhowmik, each of Grant Thornton Special Services (Cayman) Limited, as the Joint Official Liquidators of the company. Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q And do you see on the second page, it says: Since our appointment, we have been diligently investigating these transactions, including a corporate transaction that occurred in or around December 2024 where the company transferred a hundred percent of its interest in the Fund to CDMC FAD, LLC, which resulted in the company being the sole member of CDM and subsequent redemptions of the company's interests in CDM.

Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q Is that your understanding of what is happening in the Caymans right now, is investigating these transactions?

Copy from re:SearchTX

A Correct.

MR. LANG: Pass the witness.

MR. MORRIS: May I just have that letter, please?

THE COURT: Any recross?

MR. MORRIS: Yeah, just real brief.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:

Q None of the transactions that you were just asked about has anything to do with any of the HMIT entities, correct?

A That's absolutely correct.

Q Okay. And now that we have the letter in the record, if you could look at the third paragraph. Do you see --

A Yeah.

Q Do you see it refers to the Highland Dallas Foundation, Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, and Highland Kansas City Foundation?

A Yes.

Q Are those the three entities that you referred to earlier that are, to the best of your understanding, controlled by Mr. Dondero?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And this is the letter that you said you reviewed and concluded that the Joint Official Liquidators weren't challenging your authority to enter into the agreement on behalf of the HMIT entities; do I have that right?

Copy from re:SearchTX

A Yes. Yes, you do.

MR. MORRIS: I have no further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. I have a question or two.

EXAMINATION BY THE COURT

THE COURT: And again, I apologize if I sounded harsh earlier. I recognize different people present different ways when they testify. It just appeared to me that maybe we were slowing things down unnecessarily. All right?

THE WITNESS: I apologize, too. I'm just a little emotionally upset they're using this proceeding for a benefit someplace else.

THE COURT: Okay. My question, very general question: Do you think this settlement is fair and equitable as far as HMIT is concerned?

THE WITNESS: Absolutely.

THE COURT: And could you tell me why?

THE WITNESS: Yeah. There was no obvious pathway for HMIT to, in my mind, to receive the residual interest of the bankruptcy estate without a settlement with the Debtor. Otherwise, it just seemed to me that it would go on forever. And then I balanced that against the existing litigation and the probability of the outcome weighted against the costs, and determined that it made sense from HMIT's perspective to enter into the settlement agreement.

THE COURT: Okay. And you understand that, as part of this, you're giving up some litigation claims that have been waged now for a couple of years or more?

Copy from re:SearchTX

THE WITNESS: That is correct, but I'm also receiving the Kirschner Litigation, which I did negotiate to receive.

THE COURT: Okay. And there was a note that the estate -- I've heard it called at some point the $57 million note that HMIT owed Highland, a December 2015 note -- that basically gets credited against the capital account. You understand that?

THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.

THE COURT: Okay. And then you understand that if I approve this deal, I'm not sure why there's going to be $500,000 to HMIT and then also another $10 million to HMIT, but subsequent payments could get held up if there are litigation threats to the Highland Claimant Trust. You understand that, correct?

THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.

THE COURT: Okay. I just, I have to ask. I'm confused about what's going on here. I thought that -- well, let me just ask this: Would you consider yourself crossways with Mr. Dondero now?

THE WITNESS: No, but I'll answer the question. Upon advice of counsel, I quit Skyview Group. And upon advice of counsel, I terminated the back office services that Skyview Group was providing to the DAF.

Copy from re:SearchTX

THE COURT: Okay. Well, you said you're getting maybe a little emotional because of other litigation. I'm just trying -- I don't understand what all that other --

THE WITNESS: Unrelated -- well, unrelated to that. They're clearly trying to use this forum to benefit their Cayman actions. They hired U.S. counsel called Reed Smith, and they've been begging for an organization chart to issue a variety of frivolous lawsuits against the operating DAF entities. So I do apologize, but that's a little upsetting to me because I know we're going to -- that I've just fed them a list of targets in another unrelated matter.

THE COURT: Okay. Reed Smith. Here we go again with -- they've made an appearance for Mr. Seery in this litigation.

MR. MORRIS: Exactly. And we have raised that issue.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. MORRIS: And I'm surprised to hear that they think they still have the ability to do this. But we will pursue that later.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. I had nothing further. Thank you, Mr. Patrick.

(The witness steps down.)

THE COURT: All right. So where are we now? I said that, again, just trying to balance the playing field, if Dugaboy was given the ability to question Mr. Patrick, then I

CAUSE NO. _____

THE HIGHLAND DALLAS FOUNDATION, INC., et al., Plaintiffs, v. MARK PATRICK, et al., Defendants.	IN THE TEXAS BUSINESS COURT 1ST DIVISION DALLAS, TEXAS

DECLARATION OF JAMES DAVID DONDERO

I, JAMES DAVID DONDERO, of 300 Crescent Court, Suite 700, Dallas, Texas, United States, 75201, DECLARE under penalty of perjury:

1. I am the President of NexPoint Advisors, L.P. (NexPoint), an investment advisor registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). I am a Certified Public Accountant and Chartered Financial Analyst with over forty years of investment advisory experience managing billions of dollars of investments across various assets classes.

2. I make this declaration from matters within my own personal knowledge and believe the information contained herein to be true and accurate in all respects.

3. I founded NexPoint in 2012. NexPoint is an alternative investment firm, with a particular focus on investment in the real estate sector. NexPoint has assets under management exceeding $16 billion in value. I was formerly the President of Highland Capital Management, L.P. (Highland), also an SEC registered investment advisor which I founded in 1993. From that time until 2015, Highland was majority owned by me and/or my affiliates. In December 2015, I divested my majority stake of Highland (2015 Transaction).

THE FUND

4. In addition to my business interests, I am a regular donor to philanthropic and charitable causes. The Fund is one of the vehicles I utilize to donate such funds to charitable organizations.

5. In 2010, the finance, accounting, and tax staff of Highland identified certain assets to be donated to a charitable foundation. In 2011, I requested the Donor Advised Fund (or DAF) to be formed and structured in a way that allowed these donations to be receipted and distributed to certain charitable foundations, as the ultimate beneficial owners of the Fund's economic interest. The structure proposed by the tax and legal advisors to effect this was for the Fund to have one limited partner (i.e. the LP) which would issue 'participation shares' to be held by certain charitable supporting organizations (together, the Supporting Organizations) and in turn each of those entities would provide funding directly to certain charitable foundations in the U.S. (together, the Charities).

6. The Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Fund dated 7 November 2011 (ARLPA), and the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of the LP dated 19 January 2015 (Articles), govern the Fund and its partners.

7. The LP held 100% of the economic interest in the Fund. The Fund's general partner, Charitable DAF GP, LLC (the GP), a Delaware company incorporated on 25 October 2011, held management shares.

8. The LP issued 100 management shares (the Management Shares) with the only voting rights for any and all shareholders in the LP. In essence, the Articles and ARLPA therefore grant complete control of the Fund structure to the holder of the Management Shares in the LP and the entirety of the issued share capital of the GP. Those shares have at all material times been held by a single individual, who as a result has substantial control over the entire Fund structure (the Control Position).

9. The ARLPA provides that the Fund was formed to make investments, directly or indirectly, on behalf of certain entities "for the economic benefit of the Limited Partner and its Indirect Charitable Owners" and contemplates the engagement of investment (and other service) advisors to effect this. In this context, the Control Position is responsible for the governance and management functions of the Fund as required in order for the Fund to carry out its sole purpose of benefiting the Supporting Organizations and the Charities they support.

10. The governing documents of the Fund plainly state in multiple places that all of the powers of the Control Position exist solely for the purpose of benefitting the Supporting Organizations and their Charities. This ubiquitous language was created for an express purpose. The expectation by the founders of the Fund (myself included) at the time it was formed was that the governing documents would ensure that the Control Position would be bound through his or her fiduciary obligations to safeguard and advance the interests of the charitable organizations that held actual beneficial ownership of the Fund.

GRANT SCOTT

11. I initially selected Grant Scott for the Control Position, a person I have known for years who also has great integrity.

12. From 2010 until the 2015 Transaction, the Fund operated as a non-discretionary advised account of Highland, meaning Highland provided back-and-middle-office staff to the Fund and also provided recommendations regarding potential investments to Mr. Scott as the Control Person. However, Mr. Scott had complete discretion in adopting or rejecting the investment recommendations provided to the Fund by Highland. He also had final discretion over payments made by the Fund to third parties. In his position as the Control Person, Mr. Scott was paid $60,000 per annum.

13. After the 2015 Transaction, my affiliates and I no longer owned a majority stake in Highland. Subsequently, I was advised that, as a result of the change of ownership, the Fund was permitted to enter into a paying Investment Advisory Agreement with Highland. This form of investment advisory agreement was in place from January 2017 until it was terminated effective March 2021.

MARK PATRICK

14. Mark Patrick was hired as Tax Counsel at Highland in 2008. His job duties included maximizing tax saving to Highland's limited partners, including me and my affiliates. In that role, Mr. Patrick directly represented me as my personal tax counsel. He represented me in tax efficiency planning and tax- deductible charitable giving, among other things. He provided the same services for various trusts and companies affiliated with me. Mr. Patrick served that role at Highland from 2008 until his departure in February 2021.

15. In March 2021, Mr. Patrick was hired by Skyview as Tax Counsel and continued to perform substantially similar tax counsel duties for me. At Mr. Patrick's request, his job title was changed to "Managing Director, Tax" in September 2021, although his role with respect to me and my affiliates remained substantially the same.

16. The legal structure of the Fund (including as regards its partners and ultimate beneficiaries as discussed above) was created in 2011 on the advice of Mr. Patrick working with outside counsel. Mr. Patrick advised me that, to avoid potential negative findings by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, as the donor/grantor of assets to the Fund, I could not have any control over the Fund or its entities. I followed his advice as my tax counsel.

Copy from re:SearchTX

17. In March 2021, Mr. Scott informed me that he wanted to resign from the Control Position. The Fund had become engaged in certain disputes arising from the bankruptcy of Highland filed in 2019, and he did not believe he was equipped to handle those disputes. Mr. Patrick suggested to Mr. Scott and me that he was prepared to take on the Control Position and, in that role, to handle the litigation related to the Highland Bankruptcy as it affected the Fund. At the time, Mr. Patrick was my attorney and Mr. Scott was my trusted friend, and I was happy for Mr. Scott to pass the Control Position to Mr. Patrick.

18. On 25 March 2021, Mr. Scott: (i) resigned as director of the LP, (ii) appointed Mr. Patrick as director of the LP, and (iii) transferred to Mr. Patrick the Management Shares for nominal consideration. Mr. Patrick therefore assumed the Control Position from that date.

19. At some point, I understand that a person named Paul Murphy based in the Cayman Islands also was appointed as director to the LP and a portion of the Fund's subsidiaries, giving those entities two directors. However, I understand that in the event of a dissenting vote by Mr. Murphy, Mr. Patrick's vote counts as the tiebreaker for corporate voting.

MR. PATRICK'S CONTROL OF THE FUND

20. In the initial period following Mr. Patrick's assumption of the Control Position, there was no noticeable change in the management of the Fund. NexPoint provided, without charge, investment ideas to the Fund, as Highland previously had done, and Mr. Patrick was free (as Mr. Scott had been) to decide whether or not the Fund wished to follow NexPoint's recommendations. This approach was similar to the non-discretionary advised account status of the Fund prior to 2017.

21. Subsequently, however, communications between Mr. Patrick, Skyview, and me began to become less frequent, and over time I came to suspect that Mr. Patrick was utilizing the Control Position not for the benefit of the Supporting Organizations, the Charities or the

Fund, but rather for his own personal enrichment.

22. On 28 June 2023, Mr. Patrick sent an email to Lauren Short, an employee of NexPoint, requesting that the Highland Dallas Foundation (i.e. the Supporting Organization that supports the Dallas Foundation) "direct $10,000" to Creative HEARTS TX, a non-profit entity formed on 13 June 2023. Following due diligence, Ms. Short learned that the directors of the entity were Mr. Patrick, Darees Patrick and Alyse Patrick (his daughter and wife). Mr. Patrick had made the grant request without disclosing his and/or his family's involvement.

23. Ms. Short discussed the matter with Mr. Patrick, who did not provide many details, but said the non-profit was formed to facilitate paying for trainers or speakers on self-defense training for teenage girls. Ms. Short understood that Patrick's expectation was that this would be an annual donation to a "club" at his daughter's school. While Ms. Short inquired, there was no detail forthcoming as to whether or not Creative Hearts would be a pass-through donating the monies to other charities or would directly do any work with the trainers or speakers itself. There also was not clarity if Creative Hearts' members intended to take a salary from the grant. The grant payment was authorized on September 5, 2023, but Mr. Patrick was informed that further payments were unlikely. I was informed of this process by Ms. Short and her supervisor. Contemporaneously with the grant approval, my team also informed the Dallas Foundation of the situation.

24. As another example, in or around September 2023, I was contacted by Kevin Cronin of Fortaris Capital Advisors (Fortaris). Fortaris provides litigation support services including due diligence, internal investigations, fraud detection, asset verification and in-depth background checks. Mr. Cronin is a former police sergeant and Special Agent with the Department of Homeland Security.

Copy from re:SearchTX

25. Fortaris was at the time engaged by the Fund in respect of an unrelated matter and Mr. Cronin was known to me personally. In September 2023, Mr. Cronin and I met, and he informed me that he had been approached by Mr. Patrick with a proposition whereby Mr. Patrick (on behalf of the Fund) would engage an entity controlled by Mr. Cronin (other than Fortaris) at a monthly fee of between $25,000 and $50,000, and that this fee would be split between Fortaris and Mr. Patrick as a supplement to Mr. Patrick's compensation. Mr. Cronin informed me that he had asked Mr. Patrick if this arrangement would amount to fraud, and that Mr. Patrick's response had been: "you can't steal from yourself."

26. Mr. Cronin informed me that he understood from this statement that Mr. Patrick believed he owned the Fund and could use the funds controlled by it however he pleased. Mr. Cronin further informed me that he was uncomfortable about Mr. Patrick's proposal and that he subsequently communicated this to Mr. Patrick, whereupon Mr. Patrick cut off all further communications between them.

27. Mr. Cronin's allegations that Mr. Patrick was seeking to make a secret, undisclosed personal profit from the Fund were extremely concerning. I have subsequently been informed by my attorneys in the United States that, had Mr. Cronin agreed with this proposal, it would have likely constituted U.S. federal wire fraud, and/or violations of the Texas Penal Code's prohibitions on bribery and misapplication of fiduciary property. Shortly after Mr. Cronin contacted me, I met with Mr. Patrick and confronted him about the allegations, which he admitted to me were true. I informed the Supporting Organizations about the matter and Mr. Patrick's admission. However, at the time, both the Supporting Organizations and I were concerned that under the Articles, the Supporting Organizations did not have the power (in their capacity as Participating Shareholders) to limit Mr. Patrick's powers or remove him from his position.

Copy from re:SearchTX

28. Given the situations described above, and the lack of communication about the Fund, I became increasingly concerned about Mr. Patrick's management of the Fund, including the potential misuse and/or misappropriation of its assets. In June 2024 therefore I requested that my team at NexPoint analyze the financial information of the Fund that I had in my possession, covering the calendar years ending 2018 to 2023 and the first half of 2024. My team produced an annual expense summary of that information (the Expense Summary) which indicated substantial increases in expenditures during Mr. Patrick's tenure, particularly during early 2023 and mid-2024, as follows:

(a) Directors' fees increased from around $40,000 in 2022 to almost $600,000 in 2023 – and increased even further to around $2.25 million in the first half of 2024 alone.

(b) Expenses overall for the first half of 2024 were around $18.3 million – roughly the same amount spent over the entire course of 2023 (i.e. $18.6 million).

29. The Expense Summary reinforced my concern that Mr. Patrick is using the Control Position for his own enrichment rather than to benefit the Supporting Organizations and the causes they support. I therefore directed my employees at NexPoint to provide the Expense Summary to the Supporting Organizations, and which they promptly did.

30. In August 2024, I became aware of yet another issue concerning Mr. Patrick. NexPoint and its affiliates, through their investment activities, regularly obtain material non-public information (MNPI) related to those investments. As a service provider to NexPoint and its affiliates, Skyview employees also obtain the same MNPI. Trading on the basis of MNPI amounts to 'insider trading' which is prohibited under U.S. securities laws. As a result, NexPoint and its affiliates, and Skyview, all have the same robust regulatory compliance program to prevent, among other things, insider trading (Compliance Policy). NexPoint and its affiliates, and Skyview, require their employees to abide by the

Compliance Policy at all times and employees are required to confirm in writing on a quarterly basis that they will not use MNPI while trading. Mr. Patrick completed the annual 2023, Q4 2023, Q1 2024, and Q2 2024 certifications, among others.

31. I was informed that my director of charitable giving had been contacted by Ms. Diaz, the CEO of the Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. (Dallas Foundation), one of the Charities. Ms. Diaz stated that on August 28, 2024, Mr. Patrick contacted the Dallas Foundation's attorney to provide information about an asset held by the Dallas Foundation, which was held directly and separately from the Fund. This information was obtained by Mr. Patrick through his employment at Skyview and constituted MNPI, which is prohibited by U.S. securities laws from being disclosed and/or acted upon. On the basis of this MNPI, Mr. Patrick advised the Dallas Foundation to exercise a put option it held in a NexPoint affiliated asset. The Dallas Foundation did not act on the information or recommendation provided by Mr. Patrick, but in the event it had exercised the put option, both the Dallas Foundation and Mr. Patrick would have committed violations of the U.S. securities laws that prohibit insider trading.

32. Upon receipt of the allegations against Mr. Patrick, Skyview's compliance department commenced an internal investigation which, due to the serious nature of the allegations, was conducted without Mr. Patrick's knowledge, so as to avoid potentially tipping off Mr. Patrick about the investigation. By the end of September 2024, the investigation was substantially complete, and the conclusion had been reached that Mr. Patrick's actions constituted a serious breach of his compliance and employee obligations. On October 1, 2024, as part of the finalization of the investigation report, Skyview's chief compliance officer interviewed Ms. Diaz about the allegations against Mr. Patrick, which I understand confirmed Skyview's conclusions. The final investigation report was issued on October 11,

Copy from re:SearchTX

2024 and concluded that Mr. Patrick had attempted a serious breach of U.S. securities laws.

33. On October 2, 2024, Mr. Patrick abruptly resigned his position from Skyview and thereafter became openly hostile towards the Charities, my affiliated companies, and me. Although neither I nor anyone at Skyview has direct evidence of Mr. Patrick having been tipped off about the investigation, the timing of his resignation causes me to conclude that Mr. Patrick became aware of the investigation into his behavior and resigned before the report was published.

34. On the same day that Mr. Patrick resigned his position at Skyview, he also terminated Skyview's service agreement with the Fund, and as a result all legal, compliance, back office and other services provided to the Fund. Mr. Patrick and Mr. Murphy have stated that that they intend to take on the role of investment advisors for the Fund. I am not aware of Mr. Murphy's qualifications for this role, nor am I aware of any third-party investment advisor that has been retained by the Fund to fill this role. Based on my knowledge and expertise in investment management, and my sixteen years working with Mr. Patrick as my counsel, I believe that Mr. Patrick is a well-qualified tax counsel, but does not have the experience, training, or expertise to be an investment professional.

FUNDING OF PROCEEDINGS

35. As stated above, I do not hold a controlling interest in any of the Charities or the Supporting Organizations. However, I sit on the boards of the Supporting Organizations for the purpose of understanding how the Charities are deploying the Fund's assets for charitable purposes, and the impact of those donations in the community. I am only one of three votes, and the other two votes on each board are held by the respective Charity. Historically, the boards have had no hesitation in exercising their powers to chart independent courses even if those decisions differ from my preferences.

36. The Supporting Organizations approached me about the costs associated with legal action and their reticence to use funds that should and otherwise would be used for charitable purposes, and asked whether I would be prepared to fund the action personally. I agreed to do so. I have not and will not at any time receive a benefit, nor do I have control of the proceedings, because of this funding arrangement. The Supporting Organizations have decision making authority in relation to these proceedings. My concern is solely to ensure that the Fund, and the funds that I have donated over time that are held in the Fund, are used only to benefit the Charities and the causes they support.

THE FUND

10. The Fund is a Cayman Islands limited partnership formed on 28 October 2011 (registration number 53083) whose registered office is Walkers Corporate Services Ltd, Walker House, 87 Mary St, George Town, Grand Cayman, KY1-9005, Cayman Islands.

11. The Fund is governed by the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement dated 7 November 2011 (the ARLPA).

12. From approximately its inception until approximately March 2025, the sole limited partner of the Fund (the LP) was a Cayman Islands exempt company incorporated on 27 October 2011

Copy from re:SearchTX

(registration number 263805) called Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd.

13. The LP is governed by the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of the LP dated 19 January 2015 (the Articles**).

14. The general partner of the Fund is (or at least was at the time of the Fund's formation and pursuant to the ARLPA) Charitable DAF GP, LLC (the GP), a Delaware company incorporated on 25 October 2011.

Ownership and Management

15. The Fund was formed to "make certain investments directly or indirectly on behalf of certain entities exempt from taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (the Code) … for the economic benefit of the Limited Partner and its Indirect Charitable Owners" (ARLPA, Recitals).

16. From my experience in nonprofit entities, I understand that exempt entities under section 501(c)(3) of the Code, commonly referred to as charitable organizations, must be operated exclusively for charitable purposes and not for the benefit of private interests. 'Supporting organizations' under section 509(a)(3) of the Code must carry out such exempt purposes by supporting other charities. The relationship between a supporting organization and its supported charity is sometimes described as similar to that of a parent and subsidiary.

17. In this context:

    (a) The LP holds or held all of the economic interest in the Fund. The GP held control shares, but had no economic interest.

    (b) The LP issued 305 participation shares (the Participation Shares), 300 of which are held by three Delaware corporate entities (together, the Supporting Organizations and/or Petitioners). Each Supporting Organization provides funding to its respective U.S.-charitable foundation (together, the Charities) which are the ultimate beneficial owners of the Fund's entire economic interest. These Supporting Organizations are the Plaintiffs in the above-captioned litigation.

(c) The LP also issued 100 management shares (the Management Shares) which attach the only voting rights for all shareholders of the LP. The terms of the ARLPA and the Articles together grant complete management control of the Fund to the holder of the Management Shares, and the entire issued share capital in the GP (the Membership Interest).

18. The Management Shares and Membership Interest have at all material times been held by a single individual who as a result has substantial control of the Fund structure (the Control Position). In this regard, the relevant terms of the ARLPA and Articles are as follows.

(a) The ARLPA

Clause 1.12

(a) The term "General Partner" shall refer to Charitable DAF GP, LLC, and each other person subsequently admitted as a general partner pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. The General Partner shall give each Limited Partner notice of any change in control of the General Partner. The General Partner shall give each Limited Partner notice of the admission of any additional general partner to the Partnership.

(b) The term "Indirect Charitable Owner" shall refer to the indirect equity owners of the Limited Partners, which shall at all times be entities or organizations exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code or entities or organizations whose sole beneficiaries are entities or organizations exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code.

Clause 1.6

(a) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the General Partner shall have full, exclusive and complete discretion in the management and control of the business and affairs of the Partnership, shall make all decisions regarding the business of the Partnership, and shall have all of the rights, powers and obligations of a general partner of a limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, the General Partner is hereby granted the right, power and authority to do on behalf of the Partnership all things which, in the General Partner's sole discretion, are necessary or appropriate to manage the Partnership's affairs and fulfill the purposes of the Partnership; provided, however the Partnership's assets and investments shall be for the benefit of the Limited Partners and not for the economic benefit of the General Partner.

(b) Except as otherwise provided herein, the Limited Partners, in their capacity as Limited Partners, shall not participate in the management of or have any control over the Partnership's business nor shall the Limited Partners have the power to represent, act for, sign for or bind the General Partner or the Partnership. The Limited Partners hereby consent to the exercise by the General Partner of the Powers conferred on it by this Agreement.

(b) The Articles

Article 11

The Management Shares shall be issued at par value and shall carry the right to receive notice of and to attend, to speak at and to vote at any general meeting of the Company. In the event of a winding up or dissolution of the Company, whether voluntary or involuntary or for the purposes of a reorganization or otherwise or upon any distribution of capital, the entitlement of the holders of Management Shares shall be determined in accordance with these Articles. Management Shares confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company.

Article 19

Participating Shares … shall confer upon the Shareholders rights in a winding-up or repayment of capital and the right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company in accordance with these Articles.

SUPPORTING ORGANIZATIONS

19. The Supporting Organizations provide funding directly to the Charities as follows:

(a) Prior to the events at issue in this Action, The Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. (HDF) held 32.87% of the Participating Shares. HDF provides funding to The Dallas Foundation, a charitable entity established in Texas in 1929, which has awarded over $1.2 billion in charitable grants that support a broad range of public needs and manages over $650 million in assets.

(b) Prior to the events at issue in this Action, The Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. (HKCF) held 32.87% of the Participating Shares. HKCF provides funding to the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation, a charitable entity established in Kansas in 1978 which has awarded over $7 billion in grants that support a broad range of public needs and currently manages over $5 billion in assets.

(c) Prior to the events at issue in this Action, The Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc. (HSBF) held 32.787% of the Participating Shares. HSBF provides funding to the Santa Barbara Foundation, a charity established in 1928 which is the largest community foundation on California's Central Coast and manages assets of over $800 million.

(d) Prior to the events at issue in this Action, HCMLP Charitable Fund (HCMLP) held 1.639% of the Participating Shares. HCMLP provides funding to the North Texas Community Foundation, which manages assets totaling $513 million that support a broad range of public needs and donated $38.9 million to local nonprofits in 2023.

20. Since the Fund's inception in 2011, the Supporting Organizations have granted over $42 million to charitable foundations and have funded $32 million in total commitments, including donations to 275 organisations, with average annual grant payments of $3.7 million.

BACKGROUND

21. As stated in paragraph 6 above, I joined The Dallas Foundation in 2019 and do not therefore have direct personal knowledge of any factual matters, including regarding the formation of the Fund and/or the Fund's operations, prior to that time. I understand these matters are covered in the declaration of James Dondero.

22. A summary of those matters that I understand to be most relevant to this application are accurately summarized as follows:

(a) Control Position. From the Fund's formation until March 2021, the Control Position was held by Grant Scott. On 25 March 2021, Mr. Scott: (i) resigned as director of the Fund and LP (ii) appointed Mark Patrick as director of the Fund and LP; and (iii) transferred to Mr. Patrick the Management Shares in the LP and Management Interest in the GP for nominal consideration. Mr. Patrick therefore assumed the Control Position from that date.

(b) Mark Patrick. From 2008 to 2021, Mr. Patrick was employed as tax counsel by Highland Capital Management, LP (Highland), an investment advisor founded by Mr. Dondero. From March 2021 to October 2024, Mr. Patrick was employed as tax counsel at Skyview Group (Skyview). In both positions, Mr. Patrick acted as an advisor to Mr. Dondero. Mr. Patrick played a significant role in developing the overall Charitable DAF Fund structure.

CONCERNS ABOUT MR. PATRICK'S CONDUCT

23. I became aware that in June 2023, Mr. Patrick made a grant request to the Highland Dallas Foundation in relation to 'Creative HEARTS TX', an entity of which Mr. Patrick and his family were directors, without disclosing this information. I became aware of this situation contemporaneously with its occurrence and it caused me concern regarding Mr. Patrick.

24. I understand from the Dondero Declaration (not my personal knowledge) that in September 2023, Mr. Patrick approached Kevin Cronin of Fortaris with a proposition whereby Mr. Patrick (on behalf of the Fund) would engage an entity controlled by Mr. Cronin at a monthly fee of between $25,000 and $50,000, and that this fee would be split between Fortaris and Mr. Patrick. I became aware of this situation shortly after its occurrence and it caused me concern regarding Mr. Patrick.

25. In August 2024, I personally became aware of the potential disclosure of material non-public information (MNPI) to the Highland Dallas Foundation (HDF). On 28 August 2024, I was informed by David Rosenberg of Holland & Knight (H&K), the Charities' US-attorneys, that Mr. Douglas Mancino, an attorney with Seyfarth Shaw LLP (Seyfarth) in Los Angeles, California, had called Mr. Rosenberg, identified himself as Mr. Patrick's "outside compliance counsel" and recommended that Mr. Rosenberg advise HDF to exercise put-options over units it holds in the NexPoint Hospitality Trust (NHT). Mr. Rosenberg reported this to me. I was very concerned by this information and therefore immediately contacted Lucy Bannon, an employee of NexPoint and someone I have known in a professional capacity for many years, to inform her of the situation.

26. I have since become aware through my position at The Dallas Foundation and role as a board member of HDF, that the information Mr. Mancino provided to H&K could have constituted MNPI. This matter is discussed in more detail in paragraphs 33-35 of Dondero 1.

FINANCIAL IRREGULARITIES

27. In or around August 2024, NexPoint provided the Charities with a financial analysis of the Fund's annual expenses (the Expense Summary) which appeared to indicate substantial increases in expenditures in recent years.

Copy from re:SearchTX

28. As stated in paragraph 31 of Dondero 1, the Expense Summary indicated as follows:

(a) Directors' fees increased from US$40,000 in 2022 to almost US$600,000 in 2023, and in the first half of 2024 alone, directors' fees increased further to around US$2.25 million.

(b) Expenses overall for the first half of 2024 were around US$18.3 million – roughly the same amount had been spent in2023 (i.e. US$18.6 million). I was not aware of any basis for this extraordinary legal expenditure in a period of just 18 months.

29. The Charities were concerned by the Expense Summary and considered it was necessary to seek to verify and/or understand the apparent increases in expenditure. Accordingly, in October 2024, the Charities made a reasonable request to Mr. Patrick for financial information about the Fund, which Mr. Patrick failed to provide at that time, or any time thereafter.

30. On 11 November 2024, the Charities' US-attorneys, Holland & Knight (H&K), conveyed a letter to Mr. Murphy from the Charities (the No Confidence Letter) advising that the Charities no longer have confidence in the governance of the Fund and consider a reorganization is required:

> "Recently, various competing constituencies provided the Foundations with conflicting information related to the operations and financial inner workings of the DAF-related entities. This conflicting information raises significant concerns about how the corpus of these funds is administered and spent. The Foundations have no real pathway to verify the information as the current governance structures prevent them from receiving such information, and indeed, efforts to secure additional information have been rebuffed. As a result, these recent submissions demonstrate that the current governance structure is ill-equipped to address such allegations and provide sufficient protection to the economic funds that support so many charitable efforts.

Copy from re:SearchTX

Further, because we have substantial concerns, out of an abundance of caution, and until an accounting can be conducted, we believe it is inappropriate for anyone to authorize the depletion of further assets of DAF-related entities. We urge you to take our accounting and governance concerns seriously because depletion of assets in the DAF-related entities has a direct impact on our mission and the charitable good works in our communities."

31. The Charities did not receive a response to the No Confidence Letter. Accordingly, on 23 January 2025, I sent an email to Mr. Murphy (a director that Mr. Patrick appointed in the Cayman Islands) stating that the Charities wished to better understand the Fund's asset position and requesting that the Fund provide certain information by 10 February 2025, including: (i) income statements for the past four years, (ii) listing of underlying assets, (iii) audited financial statements, and (iv) the current structure of the LP's operations.

32. On 28 January 2025, I sent a further email to Mr. Patrick and Mr. Murphy expressing serious concern that the Charities' requests continued to be disregarded, reflecting an ongoing lack of transparency about the Fund:

"...These failures exacerbate the concerns we previously communicated in our letter to Paul in November 2024 (copy attached), which highlighted our concerns that the governance of the DAF HoldCo has failed in its current structure. The situation as it now stands is untenable. The lack of engagement on the true financial condition of the DAF HoldCo and the underlying assets leads us to believe that you have rejected our request to revise the governance of the DAF HoldCo and related structure. As such we are requesting that DAF HoldCo and the related entities be wound up and the underlying assets be distributed in kind to the Supporting Organizations so they can manage those assets for the benefit of the charities and the communities they serve. As previously requested, until these issues are resolved, we are insisting that you do not dissipate the assets further".

33. On 30 January 2025, I received a response from Mr. Murphy stating that neither he nor Mr. Patrick received my 23 January 2025 email, and that he understood the next step was that he and Mr. Patrick would "present directly to the foundations/supporting organizations" to address some of the concerns in the No Confidence Letter:

> "…we have some growing concern around the content and circumstances your email of 23 January 2025, specifically that it might be interpreted as a premise to attempt to inappropriately exercise control over DAF HoldCo and/or its assets. As a reminder, when the participating shares in DAF HoldCo were issued to the supporting organizations, there was no conveyance of voting rights or control, and it has always been well understood that such shares did not convey voting rights or control … any attempt to exert control of DAF HoldCo or its assets by James Dondero would be both inappropriate, unlawful and inconsistent with DAF HoldCo's charitable mission. We are deeply concerned that this outreach, which began following Mark's resignation from Skyview in October 2024, may be the supporting organizations acting as proxy for Mr. Dondero …
> …We note that your communications to date contain several misstatements of fact and we reject all of your allegations. DAF HoldCo holds itself to the highest standards in achieving its goal of maximizing returns in risk-adjusted assets to achieve its charitable objectives. It is important to underline that we have policies and procedures in place to preserve DAF HoldCo's independence and are advised by best-in-class, independent experts.
> Whilst we are cooperating with the foundations/supporting organizations to provide additional information we have no legal obligation to do so (which is not disputed).

Copy from re:SearchTX

In no way should our cooperation be construed as an implicit acknowledgment of any duty to continue providing information to you or as a waiver of any DAF HoldCo's rights and remedies."

34. I understand (and as stated in paragraph 12 of Dondero 1) the Control Position to be responsible for governance and management functions to enable the Fund to carry out its sole purpose of benefiting its ultimate beneficial owners (i.e. the Charities). In this context, the Charities were very surprised and concerned by Mr. Patrick and Mr. Murphy's responses to requests for information and the lack of transparency regarding the Fund's financial position. It remains unclear to the Charities the basis upon which access to such information was (and continues to be) restricted.

35. On 31 January 2025, H&K responded to Mr. Murphy's email as follows:

"As fiduciaries, you and Mr. Patrick manage $270 million in assets for the benefit of charities that support the most vulnerable in their communities. Whatever your side's obvious antagonism to Mr. Dondero, the fact remains that the underlying assets are ultimately for these charitable missions

...

The Supporting Organizations have legitimate concerns. The last information they received from SEI in July of 2024, before Mr. Patrick shut down [communication] showed legal expenses had increased to $6 million in the first six months of 2024 compared to $4 million for all of 2022. If annualized, and at that pace, legal expenses appeared to be on path to exceed $12 million for 2024. That's a 300% increase. Director fees skyrocketed from $40 thousand in 2022 to $2.25 million in the first six months of 2024. Again, annualized, these fees are on a path to exceed $5 million in 2024. That is a 12,400% increase. Yet, no information has been provided by you and Mr. Patrick, no clarity given. It appears that total expenses for 2024, if annualized, were on pace to exceed $36 million. Even if you earned a return of 10% on the $270 million invested, the fund would be at $11 million of negative revenue for 2024. If the information we received is wrong, then please explain why, and provide the detailed information to disabuse us of these concerns…

Copy from re:SearchTX

36. On 4 February 2025, Mr. Murphy responded that while open to resolving the concerns, they were struggling to understand the Charities' change in position.

37. On 7 February 2025, H&K responded as follows:

> "I do not believe it should be difficult to comprehend the request for transparency around $270 million dollars you control as a fiduciary for the benefit of charities in Dallas, Kansas City, and Santa Barbara. Indeed, these odd legal and rhetorical machinations of yours and Mr. Patrick miss the point. These monies are for improving the quality of life of children, building pathways for everyone to have a fair opportunity to succeed, and—among other things—creating a lasting impact on young minds by fostering a love for education. They are not meant to pay you and Mr. Patrick millions in director fees.
> Over the last three months, you have not provided any information about the assets and financial health of the fund. You have demanded that information only flows under an NDA with liquidated damages. You continually issue a veiled threat that information is a privilege not a right under the agreements. Expenses have gone through the roof, and the governance has been changed to further insulate it in a foreign jurisdiction. To say the least, I see red flags all over this situation, but have not received any facts, yet, that tell me they are unwarranted."

38. On 14 February 2025, H&K received a fax from Seyfarth which rejected the reported increases in legal and directors' fees and sent a further email on 18 February 2025 which attached a valuation of the Fund from 2020 in support of his suggestion that similar information was provided to the Charities when Mr. Scott was in the Control Position. Copies are at Tabs 15 and 16, respectively.

39. On 27 February 2025, H&K responded to Seyfarth that the Charities were becoming frustrated by the ongoing lack of transparency and refusal to respond to simple inquiries about the financial position and governance of the Fund.

40. On 17 March 2025, Seyfarth sent an email to H&K requesting available dates for Mr. Murphy to make a presentation to the Charities. The next day, H&K suggested three potential dates/times for such a call between 26 March and 3 April 2025, but did not receive any response. On 3 April 2025, Seyfarth replied, stating they had just learned of a call arranged for the following day, and seeking to reschedule. H&K responded that they had no knowledge of the purported call and would revert with available dates from 16 April 2025. On 9 April 2025, HK responded with its availability.

41. At the date of this declaration, none of the financial information requested by the Charities has been provided by Mr. Patrick or Mr. Murphy.

MR. PATRICK DILUTES THE SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION'S INTERESTS IN THE CHARITABLE DAF FUND.

42. I am aware that between December 2024 and the present, Mr. Patrick executed a series of moves to dilute the Supporting Organization's interests in the Charitable DAF Fund and then to entirely alienate those assets. Mr. Patrick's acted to eliminate the Supporting Organization's ownership of the Charitable DAF Fund assets, while awarding ownership to at least one purported charitable entity that he personally controls.

43. I have come to know now that Mr. Patrick held the controlling general partner shares in the

Copy from re:SearchTX

Charitable DAF Fund via the Delaware GP. Without any prior notice or even disclosure to the Supporting Organizations, in February 2024, Mr. Patrick incorporated CDH GP, Ltd in the Cayman Islands, with Mr. Patrick as the sole director. He used this newly created Cayman Islands entity to replace and redomicile Delaware GP. CDH GP became the general partner holding all the controlling shares in the DAF Fund. The Supporting Organizations only found out about the replacement and redomicile of the Delaware GP in February 2025, through independent investigation.

44. On December 9, 2024, Mr. Patrick created Defendant DFWCF (also referred to herein as the "Sham Charity"), a Delaware nonprofit corporation. Mr. Patrick was named the Sham Charity's sole member and sole director; its registered address is Mr. Patrick's home address. The apparent purpose and the clear effect of forming DFWCF was to create a facsimile of the Charitable DAF Fund beneficiaries—the nonprofit charities and their Supporting Organizations—but in the form of a "charitable" entity controlled by Mr. Patrick.

45. I learned that Mr. Patrick later incorporated CDMCFAD, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company.

46. Without notice to the Supporting Organizations or to me, on December 18, 2024, Charitable DAF HoldCo transferred to CDMCFAD, LLC 100% of its interest in Charitable DAF Fund, and Charitable DAF HoldCo acquired 100% of the interest in CDMCFAD, LLC. The Supporting Organizations' technical interest was in Charitable DAF Holdco. As a result, CDMCFAD effectively was inserted as a company in between Charitable DAF HoldCo, owned by the Supporting Organizations, and the Charitable DAF Fund itself (where the assets resided). Suddenly, the Supporting Organizations no longer held a 100 beneficial interest in the entity that held the assets in Charitable DAF Fund. Instead, a different and new entity (CDMCFAD) held the assets in Charitable DAF Fund; the Supporting Organizations only held shares in an entity (Charitable DAF Holdco) that notionally held that new entity.

47. On February 7, 2025, again without notice to the Supporting Organizations or to me, DAF HoldCo allotted 318 participating shares to DFWCF, the Sham Charity controlled by Mr. Patrick himself. This dilution reduced the Supporting Organizations' cumulative holding in Charitable DAF Holdco from 100% of the participation shares to 48.9%. Following the new issuance: (i) HDFI's interest was diluted from 32.787% to 16.05%; (ii) HKCF's interest was diluted from 32.787% to 16.05%; and (iii) HSBFI's interest was diluted from 32.787% to 16.05%.

48. I now know that in February 2025, the Sham Charity acquired IRS 501(c)(3) tax exempt status. The By-Laws of the Charitable DAF Fund required that its limited partnership interests be owned by an entity with such tax-exempt status. Therefore, obtaining 501(c)(3) status for the Sham Charity was a necessary step to effectuate Mr. Patrick's complete control of the assets of DAF Fund.

49. And I now know that on March 27, 2025, Mr. Patrick caused CDMCFAD to issue shares to the Sham Charity, and only to the Sham Charity. None of the Supporting Organizations were issued shares in CDMDFAD. Now, the sham charity controlled by Mr. Patrick held a direct economic interest in the entity that Mr. Patrick had newly inserted between Charitable DAF Holdco and the assets in Charitable DAF Fund. Meanwhile, the two direct beneficial owners of CDMCFAD were (1) Charitable DAF Holdco—in which the Supporting Organizations still held a minority beneficial interest; and (2) Mr. Patrick's new sham charity, which he controlled.

50. On April 2, 2025, Mr. Patrick caused Charitable DAF HoldCo to redeem its interests in CDMCFAD for a total payment of $1.6 million, after which Charitable DAF Holdco purportedly had no assets and no remaining interest in Charitable DAF Fund at all. Needless to say, a one-time $1.6 Million payment for the release of the beneficial ownership of more than

$270 Million in the Fund—held entirely for the benefit of the Supporting Organizations as late as December 2024—is not an exchange that I or any other person with fiduciary loyalty to the Supporting Organizations would ever have approved, had we known it was happening at the time. As a result, Mr. Patrick's Sham Charity, Defendant DFWCF, was the sole remaining limited partner and beneficial owner of Charitable DAF Fund, through its 100% ownership of the fund by CDMCFAD. The effect of this final step was to consummate the complete severance of the Supporting Organizations and their nonprofit charities from the assets of the Charitable DAF Fund.

51. Before the start of these self-dealing transactions, in October 2024, the Supporting Organizations owned more than 98% of the Participation Shares representing the economic ownership of $270 million in assets. As of April 2025, the Supporting Organizations owned Participation Shares worth zero. While Mr. Patrick purportedly caused $1.6 million to be distributed to the Supporting Organizations receipt of those funds have yet to be verified.

REPLACEMENT OF GP

52. For the first time, in February 2025, I learned that Mr. Patrick had redomiciled and replaced the general partner of the Fund, without notice to the Charities, almost one year prior. This information was, I understand, obtained via background checks into the various parties.

53. I understand that on 27 February 2024, CDH GP, Ltd (the New GP) was incorporated in the Cayman Islands (registration number 407515) with its registered office at Campbells Corporate Services Ltd, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman KY1-9010, Cayman Islands.

54. I also understand that Mr. Patrick is the sole director of the New GP.

55. It is unclear to the Charities on what basis Mr. Patrick and/or Mr. Murphy removed and redomiciled the general partner of the Fund, nor the reason the Charities were not notified of this change.

PURPOSE OF APPLICATION

56. It is clear the Fund's assets are being diminished for the benefit of Mr. Patrick and Mr. Murphy; and in any case, the Defendants in this Action are engaged in a series of secretive transactions intended to completely alienate from the Supporting Organizations more than $270 Million that was held for their benefit, and upon which their charitable activities depend. These are the sole motivations of the Charities in bringing this application.

57. Unless enjoined, Mr. Patrick and the other Defendants will cause and continue to cause irreparable harm to the Charities including, without limitation, the dispersal, expenditure, transfer, and further alienation of more than $250 Million that can never be replaced because the Defendants lack the means. In addition to the permanent loss of funds in the future, the immediate continuation of key programs at the Charities is imperiled by the conduct at issue here and the reality that the Charities, as of this moment, are cut off from the funds intended for their support. Moreover, the conduct of the Defendants to date creates a pattern suggesting that further creative transfers, alienation, spending, and dissipation of the monies in the fund are likely to be imminent. If this happens, it is likely they will never be recovered.

58. The harm to the Charities is imminent if the Defendants are not enjoined. Enjoining the Defendants will merely require them to refrain from doing anything with the Funds for two weeks. If the Defendants are not acting adversely to the Charities, the Funds will still be available to them for their use in future. The Charities suffer a greater burden as they stand to lose everything.

59. Enjoining the Defendants will not disserve the public interest as without the injunction, there is significant potential for irreparable harm to the Charities and the Defendants will not be harmed if enjoined. Freezing the funds to ensure that Mr. Patrick's scheme is not hurting charitable interests vital to key communities serves the public interest.

ARGUMENTS THAT MAY BE MADE BY THE RESPONDENT

60. I draw attention to the following matters which the Defendants may raise by way of attempted defense against the application.

61. The Defendants may assert (as they have repeatedly suggested in correspondence) that the Charities are acting on the instructions of Mr. Dondero and that we are being used as a proxy for his own disputes with Mr. Patrick. Any suggestion of that nature is entirely rejected. On the contrary, the Charities have at all times taken steps to independently verify information provided to them by Mr. Dondero and entities associated with him, have taken advice solely from their own attorneys in the US and Cayman, and have required Mr. Dondero to recuse himself from board meetings of the Supporting Organisations at which decisions as to whether to bring these proceedings were discussed. The Charities have no interest in any dispute there may be between Mr. Patrick and Mr. Dondero.

62. The Defendants also may assert that the Charities are not entitled to any information regarding the Fund, and that the structure was designed specifically to exclude the Charities from information or control rights. Whether that is true or not, the Charities are the sole economic beneficiaries of the Fund's activities, and Defendants owed and owe them fiduciary duties of care, loyalty, and candor. If the Fund is being used for a purpose other than that for which it was established, that cannot be allowed to continue to the detriment of the charitable causes and in violation of those duties. The Fund would otherwise be an unsupervised vehicle susceptible to being used for the wishes and benefit of the individual holding the Control Position, to the detriment of the Charities and the express purposes of the governing documents.

63. The Defendants may deny that the expenditures are as significant as that appearing from the documents. If that is the case, the Defendants have had ample opportunity to correct this, but have chosen not to do so.

64. I am not aware of any other points that the Defendants have made or alluded to in correspondence which could materially affect this application.

THE CAYMAN ISLANDS PROCEEDINGS

65. Given Patrick's pattern of malfeasance the Supporting Organizations filed an involuntary Petition for Winding Up in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands (the "Grand Court"), Financial Services Division, Cause No. FSD 99 OF 2025 (JAJ), styled In the Matter of Section 92 of the Companies Act (2025 Revision) and In the Matter of Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd.

66. Cayman Islands counsel for the Supporting Organizations alleged essentially the same facts as recounted in this Petition before the Grand Court. However, DFWCF as a Delaware entity was not expressly named in the Grand Court proceedings.

67. The Grand Court, after lengthy hearing and in consideration of written submissions and evidentiary exhibits, ordered among other things:

> 5. The joint official liquidators are authorized to exercise the following powers in Part I of Third Schedule 3 to the Companies Act, without requiring further sanction by the Court:
> a) the power to commence legal proceedings in the name and on behalf of the Company to obtain the provision of information and/or documents and/or the examination of individuals in the Cayman Islands or the United States; and
> b) the power to apply in the Cayman Islands or the United States for the preservation, freezing or attachment of assets to which the Company is or may arguably be entitled.
> 6. The joint official liquidators are in addition authorized to exercise the following powers and to take the following steps without further sanction by the Court:

a) the power to present a petition for the winding up of Charitable DAF Fund, LP (the Fund) if so advised;

b) the power to file a summons and to apply for an order appointing provisional liquidators of the Fund if so advised; and

c) the power to seek registration or recognition of themselves and/or the Official Liquidation in any State in the United States for any purpose connected with the exercise of the powers specified in paragraphs 5(a) or 5(b) of this Order.

68. While the Cayman Islands appointed official liquidators now conduct their investigation of the assets and other matters pertaining to the Cayman Islands' proceedings, Defendants Patrick and DFWCF (all sited in the United States, and more specifically Dallas County) remain in actual control and beneficial ownership of all assets that were held by the DAF Fund and DAF HoldCo. In the meantime, the Supporting Organizations, are without the benefit of the considerable assets formerly held by the DAF Fund and without any insight into the current status and security of the assets. This not only damages the Supporting Organizations, but the charitable causes in their communities that relief on funding from the DAF Fund.

69. Further, while Defendants Patrick and DFWCF wrongfully remain in control of the participation shares that rightfully belong to the Supporting Organizations, the Defendants wrongfully hold a seat on the liquidators' committee.

ORDERS SOUGHT

70. Given the refusal of the Defendants to answer legitimate questions raised by the Charities and the weight of evidence that suggests that the Defendants are dealing with or spending the assets of the Fund in a manner that is not in the best interest of the Charities, the Charities respectfully seek orders placing the Fund, its Limited Partner, and its General Partner under the control of an independent Receiver who can investigate the affairs of the Fund and the decisions taken by management, and manage those affairs for the benefit of the intended beneficiaries, under the supervision of the Court. The Charities have no confidence in the current management to provide this information themselves without independent oversight.

71. Until such time as a Receiver may be appointed, the Charities further seek a temporary restraining order and temporary injunction to prevent the Defendants from the use, transfer, dispersal, and/or alienation of any interests or assets, regardless of where they are presently held. If not enjoined, Defendants' actions pose an immediate threat of irreparable harm and injury to Plaintiffs for which there is no adequate remedy at law because the harm cannot be undone by a damages award, as once the assets are spent or dispersed, Defendants will be unable to pay a judgment.

STATEMENT OF CLAIM

INTRODUCTION

1 The Plaintiff, Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd (in Official Liquidation) (the "Company"), is a Cayman Islands exempted company, incorporated on 27 October 2011, having its registered office at HSM Corporate Services Ltd, 68 Fort Street, George Town, PO Box 31726, Grand

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

Cayman KY1-1207. The authorised and issued share capital of the Company is divided into Participating Shares and Management Shares.

2 The Company was placed into court supervised liquidation and Margot MacInnis and Sandipan Bhowmik of Grant Thornton Specialist Services (Cayman) Limited were appointed as joint official liquidators (the "JOLs") pursuant to an order of this Honourable Court dated 6 May 2025.

3 The Company was, between November 2011 and 18 December 2024, the sole limited partner of Charitable DAF Fund, LP (the "Fund"). At all relevant times, the net asset value of the Fund's assets was c. US$270million.

4 The Fund is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed to invest and manage assets for the benefit or ultimate benefit of certain registered charitable organisations in the U.S. namely The Dallas Foundation; the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation; the Santa Barbara Foundation and The Community Foundation of North Texas (the "Charities"). These charities are the owners or the ultimate beneficial owners of Participating Shares in the Company.

5 In March 2021, Mark Patrick (the "First Defendant") was appointed the sole director and registered as the sole Management Shareholder of the Company. In April 2021, Paul Murphy (the "Second Defendant") was appointed by the First Defendant as a second director of Holdco.

6 By virtue of a series of transactions or purported transactions between March 2024 and March 2025, unbeknownst to the holders of the Participating Shares (the "Participating Shareholders") of the Company, Mr Patrick caused:

6.1 the Company, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, to assign its interest in the Fund to the Third Defendant, a Delaware limited liability company, formed in December 2024 and controlled by Mr Patrick, in exchange for a membership interest in that entity;

6.2 the Company, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, to issue and allot further Participating Shares (representing a majority of the issued participating share capital) to the Fourth Defendant, a Delaware company, incorporated in December 2024 and controlled by Mr Patrick;

6.3 the Third Defendant to redeem the Company's membership interest in the Third Defendant for a consideration of c. US$1.6 million, representing approximately 0.59% of the total net asset value of the assets held by the Fund; and

6.4 the Company, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, to be placed into voluntary liquidation after having made a final distribution to all Original Participating Shareholders (defined below) in the Company of the proceeds of redemption, collectively the "Impugned Transactions".

7 The First and Second Defendants effected the Impugned Transactions in breach of their fiduciary and other duties to the Company in order to bring ownership of the Fund and its assets, with a net value of c. US$270 million (as assessed at 30 September 2024), under Mr Patrick's effective control to the exclusion of the interests of the Charities. The Charities, as the original, and rightful, ultimate beneficiaries of the Fund, have been left with nothing.

8 Further, during the period March 2021 to June 2024, the First and Second Defendants, in breach of fiduciary duty, caused the Company to pay excessive fees and expenses to Mr Patrick.

THE PARTIES

The Company

9 The Company is a Cayman Islands exempted company, incorporated on 27 October 2011, having its registered office at HSM Corporate Services Limited, Ltd, 68 Fort Street, George Town, PO Box 31726, Grand Cayman, KY1-1207, Cayman Islands.

10 The directors of the Company are Mr Patrick (appointed on 25 March 2021) and Mr Murphy (appointed by Mr Patrick on 22 April 2021).

11 The Company has been governed by the following memorandum and articles of association from time to time:

11.1 The memorandum and articles of association dated 27 October 2011; and

11.2 The amended and restated memoranda and articles of association dated 19 January 2015; 24 January 2024; and 20 February 2025 respectively.

The Company remains governed by the memorandum and articles of association as amended and restated on 20 February 2025 (the "Articles") save that the Company reserves the right to challenge the validity of the Articles.

12 Save as set out above, the Company will rely on the Articles and all previous iterations for their applicable full terms and effect.

13 Pursuant to the Articles and at all relevant times, the authorised share capital of the Company was US$50,000 divided into 100 Management Shares of US$0.01 par value each and 4,999,900 Participating Shares of US$0.01 par value each.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

14 The Articles (with reference to the defined term of 'Restricted Person') require that the Participating Shareholders must at all times qualify as a tax-exempt organisation pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986 ("IRC").

15 The Participating Shares do not have voting rights but confer the right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company including by way of the receipt of dividends (Article 12).

16 The Management Shares have voting rights but confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company (Article 11).

17 The Participating Shareholders therefore have the entirety of the economic interest in the Company, whereas the Management Shareholders have the control rights.

18 On 7 November 2011, the Company issued:

18.1 300 Participating Shares to The Highland Capital Management Partners Charitable Trust #2 ("Trust #2"); and 18.2 100 Management Shares to Grant Scott.

19 On 30 November 2011, Trust #2 transferred its 300 Participating Shares equally amongst:

19.1 Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc.;

19.2 Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc.[1]; and

19.3 Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc.,

collectively, the "Supporting Organisations".

---

[1]Since June 2024, Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. has also done business as 'NexPoint Philanthropies Dallas, Inc.', per an Assumed Name Certificate filed with the Secretary of State of Texas.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

20 On 12 August 2015, the Company issued 5 Participating Shares to the Community Foundation of North Texas, ("CFNT", and together with the Supporting Organisations the "Original Participating Shareholders") for Highland Capital Management, L.P. Charitable Fund at CFNT.

21 On 25 March 2021, the Management Shares were transferred to Mr Patrick and he continues to hold these shares.

22 The Participating Shares held by the Original Participating Shareholders represented the entire issued Participating Share capital of the Company until 7 February 2025. On that date, Mr Patrick, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, caused the Company to issue 318 Participating Shares to the Fourth Defendant, DFW Charitable Foundation ("DFW"), significantly diluting the shareholdings of the Original Participating Shareholders and the indirect economic interest of the Charities.

23 Until 18 December 2024, the sole asset of the Company was its limited partnership interest in the Fund (the "Partnership Interest").

24 As a result of the Impugned Transactions, the Company now has no material assets.

DFW

25 DFW (the Fourth Defendant) is a non-profit non-stock corporation incorporated in Delaware on 9 December 2024, which is organised under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware exclusively for charitable purposes.

26 DFW is the majority Participating Shareholder of the Company by virtue of the purported share issuance on 7 February 2025, and Mr Patrick is its registered director, president and sole member.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

The Fund

27 The Fund is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed on 28 October 2011 (registration no. 53083), having its registered office at Campbells Corporate Services Ltd, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman, KY1-9010, Cayman Islands.

28 The Fund is governed by the Second Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement dated 11 March 2024 (the "LPA"). The initial exempted limited partnership agreement of the Fund was dated 25 October 2011, was amended and restated on 7 November 2011 and further amended on 26 July 2022 (with effect from 24 March 2021). The Company will rely on the LPA for its applicable full terms and effect.

29 Mr Patrick was instrumental in the establishment of the Company, the Fund and the Fund structure.

30 Until 18 December 2024, the Company was the sole limited partner of the Fund.

31 On 18 December 2024, Mr Patrick, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, caused the Company to transfer its limited partnership interest to CDMCFAD, LLC ("CDM") (the Third Defendant) in exchange for a membership interest in CDM.

32 The original general partner of the Fund was Charitable DAF GP, LLC (the "Original GP"), a Delaware limited liability company registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. The Original GP was the general partner from the Fund's formation until 7 March 2024.

33 On 7 March 2024, the Original GP was replaced by CDH GP, Ltd. (the "New GP") (the Fifth Defendant).

34 The sole asset of the Fund is its 100% shareholding in CLO HoldCo, Ltd. ("CLO HoldCo") (the Sixth Defendant), a Cayman Islands exempted company incorporated with limited liability, having its registered office address located at Campbells Corporate Services Limited, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman KY1-9010, Cayman Islands.

35 The assets of the Fund were valued at c. $270 million in September 2024.

37 Mr Patrick is the New GP's sole director and sole shareholder.

38 The New GP is a defendant to these proceedings in two capacities: (i) in its capacity as General Partner; and (ii) for and on behalf of the Fund in order to join the Fund as a defendant to these proceedings.

CDM

39 CDM (the Third Defendant) is a limited liability company incorporated in Delaware on 12 December 2024, having its registered address c/o The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware, 19801.

40 CDM is governed by the terms of a Limited Liability Company Agreement dated 18 December 2024.

41 Since 18 December 2024, the primary asset of CDM has been the limited partnership interest in the Fund.

42 The sole manager of CDM is Mark Patrick.

43 From 18 December 2024 to 27 March 2025, the sole member of CDM was the Company.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

44 On 27 March 2025, Mr Patrick caused CDM to redeem the Company and admit DFW as the sole participating member.

CLO HoldCo

45 CLO HoldCo (the Sixth Defendant) is a Cayman Islands exempted company incorporated on 13 December 2010, having its registered office address located at Campbells Corporate Services Limited, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman KY1-9010, Cayman Islands, and which is the Fund's main subsidiary.

48.1 a director, holds the offices of (i) President, (ii) General Counsel, and (iii) Chief Investment Officer and is the current Management Shareholder of the Company;

48.2 the Manager of CDM (the Third Defendant);

48.3 the sole director and the sole member of DFW (the Fourth Defendant);

48.4 the sole director and sole shareholder of the New GP (the Fifth Defendant); and 49 Mr Patrick was employed as tax counsel by Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland") from 2008 to 2021 and as tax counsel by Highgate Consulting Group, Inc. d/b/a Skyview Group from March 2021 to October 2024.

Paul Murphy

50 Mr Murphy (the Second Defendant) is a Cayman Islands resident who is:

50.1 a director of the Company;

50.2 a director of CLO HoldCo (the Fifth Defendant); and

50.3 a director of various other entities in the Charitable DAF structure.[2]

51 Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy are referred to herein as the "Directors".

THE CHARITABLE PURPOSE OF THE FUND

52 The Fund was formed on 28 October 2011 at the instigation of Mr James Dondero, a U.S. resident and the founder of Highland to enable certain assets, held through the shares in CLO Holdco, to be donated to a charitable foundation.

53 Upon the formation of the Fund, the Company was admitted as a limited partner and, by way of capital contribution, contributed all of the outstanding equity interests in CLO HoldCo to the Fund.

54 The purpose of the Fund was to make investments for the ultimate benefit of the Original Participating Shareholders and the Charities:

[2]Mr Murphy was appointed to the board of directors of the following entities on 22 April 2021; Liberty CLO Holdco, Ltd., Liberty Sub, Ltd., HCT Holdco 2, Ltd. and MGM Studios Holdco, Ltd. at the same time as Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd and CLO HoldCo, Ltd.

54.1 The recitals to the LPA of the Fund provide that the purpose of the Fund was to "make certain investments directly or indirectly on behalf of certain entities exempt from taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code … for the economic benefit of the Limited Partner and its Indirect Charitable Owners…".

54.2 Clause 1.3 of the LPA provides that "… the Partnership may make investments in other types of securities, investment vehicles and instruments in the sole discretion of the General Partner for the purpose of benefitting, directly or indirectly, the Indirect Charitable Owners".

54.3 Clause 1.6(a) of the LPA provides that "the Partnership's assets and investments shall be for the benefit of the Limited Partners and not for the economic benefit of the General Partner".

54.4 "Indirect Charitable Owners" is defined in the LPA as "the indirect equity owners of the Limited Partners which shall at all times be entities or organizations exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code or entities or organizations whose sole beneficiaries are entities or organizations exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code." i.e., the Company's Participating Shareholders or the Charities.

54.5 Clause 4.2(a) of the LPA provides that "Distributions shall be made to the Limited Partner at the times, in a manner (including in kind) and in the aggregate amounts determined by the General Partner, after taking into consideration available cash and the needs of the Indirect Charitable Owners of the Limited Partner for funds to cover their administrative and operating expenses…".

54.6 The LPA does not modify the statutory duty of the General Partner to act in good faith and in the interests of the Fund.

55 The Charities are the following four US charitable or non-profit foundations:

55.1 The Dallas Foundation: a charitable entity established in Texas in 1929 which has awarded over $1 billion in grants and manages over $500 million in assets.

55.2 Greater Kansas City Community Foundation: a charitable entity established in Missouri in 1978 which has awarded over $7 billion in grants and manages over $6 billion held in charitable funds.

55.3 Santa Barbara Foundation: a charity established in 1928 which is the largest community foundation on California's Central Coast and manages assets of over $800 million.

55.4 North Texas Community Foundation: which manages assets totalling $513 million and donated $38.9 million to local non-profits in 2023.

56 The Dallas Foundation, Greater Kansas City Community Foundation and Santa Barbara Foundation (the "Supported Organisations") hold their interests in the Company through their respective Supporting Organisation namely Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. as the Supporting Organisation for The Dallas Foundation; Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. as the Supporting Organisation for the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation; Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc as the Supporting Organisation for the Santa Barbara Foundation.

57 CFNT holds its Participating Shares in the Company directly.

THE TAX STRUCTURE

58 As a matter of U.S. tax law, in order for the Supported Organisations to benefit from distributions from the Fund in a tax efficient manner, it was necessary for them to hold their interests through an offshore corporate blocker entity, namely the Company:

58.1 S501(c)(3) of the IRC provides that charitable organisations which meet certain criteria are exempt from state and federal taxes except to the extent that it receives income classified as unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI"); and 58.2 the Supported Organisations and their Supporting Organisations meet the criteria of s501(c)(3). They are therefore generally exempt from U.S. state and federal taxes, with a few exceptions, including to the extent that they receive UBTI.

59 As a matter of U.S. tax law, at least a portion of income received directly from the Fund by the Supported Organisations would likely be considered UBTI.

60 In order to insulate the Supported Organisations from UBTI, instead of holding their interest in the Fund directly, they held through an offshore corporate blocker structure, namely the Company.

THE SUPPORTED ORGANISATIONS CONTROL THE SUPPORTING ORGANISATIONS

61 The Supporting Organisations were incorporated in Delaware by Mr Dondero on or about 22 November 2011 for the purpose of making charitable donations to their respective charity from the proceeds of dividends received by the Supporting Organisations from the Company.

62 Supporting organisations under the IRC are tax exempt charitable organisations that provide financial or operational support to one or more public charitable organisations (called “supported organisations”). Because of the link with the supported public charities, supporting organisations are classified as public charities themselves, as opposed to private foundations, despite the fact that a supporting organisation's sources of funding may be limited to a single individual, which would otherwise cause the entity to be classified as a private foundation.

63 Contributions to supporting organisations, as public charities, qualify for the highest tax deductibility thresholds under the IRC (up to 50% of the taxpayer’s adjusted gross income, or 60%, in the case of cash gifts) instead of the substantially lower threshold for contributions to private foundations (30% of adjusted gross income, regardless of the character of the contribution).

64 The Supporting Organisations are "Type I" tax exempt organisations under the IRC which means they must be organised and operated exclusively to support and benefit their relevant charity and controlled by that charity:

64.1 S509(a)(3) of the IRC contains the qualifications for a "supporting organisation". Under that section, a supporting organisation is a tax-exempt entity that must be organised and then operate exclusively for either (i) the benefit of, (ii) to perform the functions of, or (iii) to carry out the purposes of one or more supported organisations. The supported organisations must also be s501(c)(3) entities;

64.2 There are three types of supporting organisations, known as “Type I”, “Type II” and “Type III”. S509(a)(3)(B)(i), (ii) and (iii) sets out the requirements for each “Type”, respectively;

64.3 S509(a)(3)(B)(i) provides that a Type I supporting organisation must be operated, supervised or controlled by the supported organisation; and

64.4 S509(a)(3)(C) provides that the supporting organisation may not be controlled by a disqualified person, other than the foundation managers and the supported organisation.

65 The Supporting Organisations are so controlled by the respective Supported Organisations.

66 The Supporting Organisations are governed by the terms of their respective Certificate of Incorporation and by-laws (the "Bylaws").

67 The Certificates of Incorporation provide (amongst other things) that:

67.1 the Supporting Organisation:

(a) is organised and shall be operated exclusively for charitable, educational and scientific purposes;

(b) is organised and operated exclusively to support and benefit the particular charity that controls it; and

(c) is a non-profit non-stock corporation and cannot issue any capital stock;

67.2 no part of the net earnings of the Supporting Organisation shall be distributable to the directors and officers of the Supporting Organisation or other private persons save that the Supporting Organisation can pay reasonable compensation for services rendered; and

67.3 net earnings can be used to make grants, loans and similar payments for charitable, educational and scientific purposes to benefit the relevant Supported Organisation.

68 The Bylaws provide that (amongst other things):

68.1 There are two classes of members of the Supporting Organisations with one member in each such class:

(a) the institutional member (the "Institutional Member") which shall be the Supported Organisation; and

(b) the individual member (the "Individual Member") which shall be Mr Dondero or an individual designated as the Individual Member in the Bylaws.

68.2 In terms of voting on a matter submitted to a vote of the members (except as otherwise provided in the Bylaws):

(a) the Institutional Member is entitled to two votes; and

(b) the Individual Member is entitled to one vote.

68.3 Institutional membership is not transferable or assignable.

68.4 Individual membership is transferable or assignable only upon approval of the Institutional Member.

68.5 Both the Institutional Member and the Individual Member must be present in person or by represented proxy to constitute a quorum at all meetings of members.

68.6 There shall be three directors of the board of the Supporting Organisation. Two directors shall be elected annually by the Institutional Member and one director shall be elected annually by the Individual Member.

69 The relationship between the Supporting Organisations and their respective Supported Organisation are governed by separate operating/legal relationship agreements (collectively "Operating Agreements"). These agreements provide, among other things, that:

69.1 the Supported Organisation will provide certain services to the Supporting Organisation;

69.2 the Supported Organisation will appoint two of the three directors of the Supporting Organisation as required by Bylaws; and

69.3 in consideration for the services provided by the Supported Organisation to the Supporting Organisation, the Supporting Organisation shall pay a fee to the Supported Organisation.

70 Mr Dondero sits on the board of each of the Supporting Organisations with two other directors from each of the Supported Organisations respectively.

71 The relationships, rights and obligations created by and between the Supported Organisations and the Supporting Organisations pursuant to the agreements entered into between them were at all material times in summary that:

71.1 the Supported Organisations control the Supporting Organisations through their majority voting interest and their ability to elect a majority of the directors of the Supporting Organisations;

71.2 the Supporting Organisations support the Supported Organisations by way of making grants to them from time to time from their assets, including any dividends received from the Company;

71.3 the Supporting Organisations have no ability to pay dividends to any private person or make payments to their directors (save reasonable reimbursement for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses) and can only make grants to the relevant Charity in furtherance of their charitable purposes; and

71.4 while Mr Dondero sits on the board of the Supporting Organisations, he does not control them, as a supermajority of the votes are always held by the respective Charity.

72 The Company will rely on the Certificates of Incorporation, Bylaws, Operating Agreements and terms of the IRC for their applicable full terms and effect.

THE CONTROL POSITION OF MR PATRICK OVER THE COMPANY AND THE FUND

73 The terms of the LPA grant sole control over the management and distribution of the Fund's assets to the General Partner. The terms of the Articles grant sole control over the management and distribution of the Company's assets to the Management Shareholder.

The Management Shares shall be issued at par value and shall carry the right to receive notice of and to attend, to speak at and to vote at any general meeting of the Company. In the event of a winding up or dissolution of the Company, whether voluntary or involuntary or for the purposes of a reorganization or otherwise or upon any distribution of capital, the entitlement of the holders of Management Shares shall be determined in accordance with these Articles. Management Shares confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company.

73.4 Article 12

73.5 Article 13

…the rights attached to any such Class may… only be materially adversely varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued Participating Shares of the relevant Class or with the sanction of a resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Participating Shares of such Class by a majority of two-thirds of the votes case at such a meeting.

73.6 Article 84 (d)

The office of Director shall be vacated if the Director…is removed from office by Ordinary Resolution.

The definition of Ordinary Resolution is a vote of the Management Shares.

73.7 Article 99

Subject to any rights and restrictions for the time being attached to any Shares, or as otherwise provided for in the Act and these Articles, the Directors may from time to time declare dividends (including interim dividends) and other distributions on Shares in issue and authorise payment of the same out of the funds of the Company lawfully available therefor.

73.8 Article 104

Subject to any rights and restrictions for the time being attached to any Participating Shares, all dividends shall be declared and paid in such amounts as may be declared by the Director's in their sole and absolute discretion without a requirement to pay such dividends on a pro-rata basis as to the paid-up or par value of the Shares.

74 The Management Shares in the Company and the General Partner in the Fund have at all material times been held and/or controlled by a single individual who, as a result, has sole control of the Fund structure (the "Control Position"):

74.1 In or around November 2011:

(a) Grant Scott was appointed as the sole director and allotted the 100 Management Shares of the Company; and

(b) Grant Scott became the holder of the membership interest in the Original GP and was appointed the Manager thereof, thereby assuming the Control Position from that date.

74.2 In or around 24 March 2021, Mr Scott:

(a) assigned 100% of the membership interest in the Original GP to Mr Patrick pursuant to an Assignment and Assumption of Membership Interests Agreement, which membership interest gave Mr Patrick the sole right to manage the Original GP;

(b) transferred to Mr Patrick the 100 Management Shares in the Company; and

(c) resigned as a director of the Company and resolved to appoint Mr Patrick as the sole director in his place.

74.3 On 25 March 2021, Mr Patrick was entered into the Company's Register of Members as the holder of the Management Shares.

74.4 Mr Patrick therefore assumed the Control Position from that date.

74.5 On 22 April 2021, Mr Patrick resolved to appoint Mr Murphy as a second director of the Company.

74.6 On 7 March 2024, by way of a Deed of Assignment and Assumption, Mr Patrick, as managing member of the Original GP, caused the Original GP to transfer its general partnership interest in the Fund to the New GP.

74.7 Mr Patrick is the sole shareholder and director of the New GP.

74.8 Mr Patrick therefore remains in the Control Position and was in such position at all relevant times since 25 March 2021.

75 Further, the sole asset of the Fund is its shares in CLO Holdco (the Sixth Defendant). Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy are the directors of CLO Holdco and were appointed on 2 April 2021 and 22 April 2021 respectively.

76 The Control Position was not and is not a term of art but was nevertheless a legal and factual position:

76.1 where a single individual was the sole Management, and therefore voting, Shareholder of the Company;

76.2 where the same individual was a director of the Company;

76.3 where the same individual was the sole shareholder or controller of the General Partner;

76.4 where the same individual was a director of the General Partner;

76.5 where the same individual was in complete and effective control of at least the Company, of the General Partner, of the Fund and of CLO Holdco;

76.6 where the same individual was in effective sole control of all assets of the Fund;

76.7 where the same individual had no economic, residual, beneficial or winding up interest in assets of the Company;

76.8 where the same individual had no economic, residual, beneficial or winding up interest in assets of the General Partner;

76.9 where the same individual had no economic, residual, beneficial or winding up interest in assets of the Fund;

76.10 where the same individual was, irrespective of his or her formal positions, functions or duties, including as a director, acting as a trustee, fiduciary or in a trustee-like or fiduciary-like position with respect to the assets held by the Fund;

76.11 where the same individual was at all times acting solely for the benefit or the ultimate benefit of the Original Participating Shareholders and/or through them the Supported Organisations and/or through them the Charities; and 76.12 in the alternative to the plea directly above, where the duties otherwise owed by the same individual as a matter of law, including as a director, were affected and/or altered by the existence of the structure as pleaded above, including the facts and matters relating to the Control Position and including the fact that the structure as pleaded above was designed and intended to be solely for the benefit or the ultimate benefit of the Original Participating Shareholders, and/or through them the Charities.

EVENTS RESULTING IN THE COMPANY HAVING NO MATERIAL ASSETS AND THE DILUTION OF THE SUPPORTING ORGANISATIONS' INTERESTS

Plan to defeat the interests of the Original Participating Shareholders

77 On 9 November 2023, Shields Legal Group ("Shields Legal") (the U.S. attorneys for the Company) sent to Campbells LLP ("Campbells") (then Cayman Islands attorneys for the Company) a work plan (the "Work Plan") relevant to the Company, the Fund and CLO HoldCo.

78 It can be inferred, and is averred, that the purpose of the Work Plan and the subsequent advice and steps taken as detailed below was to seek to entrench Mr Patrick's Control Position and defeat the interests of the Original Participating Shareholders.

79 The Work Plan stated that (amongst other things):

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

79.1 the advice required related to "…potential disputes and corporate reviews and best practices for each, including proactive corporate actions, solidifying defenses, etc..."; and

79.2 "…we may need to rely on opinions and memoranda in potential future disputes..."

80 The Work Plan set out the issues on which the Directors sought advice, including among other things the following questions:

80.1 'Can the controlling person dilute shares, e.g., the Participation Shares?'

80.2 'Can the controlling person redeem shares, e.g., the Participation Shares?'

80.3 'Is there any Cayman law requirement that the Company distribute money upwards to the next level of entities (Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. and others)?'

80.4 'Could the Company liquidate, distribute all its assets elsewhere, or otherwise make the Participation Shares worthless?'

80.5 'What can be done at this point to make [the share transfers in the Company from Mr Scott to Mr Patrick] bullet proof?'

81 The Directors were advised that any steps taken in relation to the proposed issuance of new Participating Shares and withholding dividends must be in compliance with their fiduciary duties and taken in the best interest of the Company:

81.1 On 8 January 2024, Walkers (Cayman) LLP ("Walkers") (also then Cayman Islands counsel for the Company) provided advice on issues set out in the Work Plan to the effect that (amongst other things):

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(a) the Directors have power under the Articles to issue new Participating Shares that dilute the current Participating Shareholders, but must consider their fiduciary duties (including the duty to act in the best interests of the Company) when issuing such shares;

(b) the Participating Shares are non-redeemable;

(c) while payment of a dividend or other distribution is at the discretion of the Directors, if the Company were to have distributable reserves available, there may be a question of whether the Directors would be acting in its best interests to not pay some dividend or distribution; and

(d) the Directors have fiduciary duties to the Company which are paramount when considering (i) making a distribution and (ii) the distributable reserves available from which to make payments; they must have regard to what is in the Company's best interests, its future cash requirements, and its present and future solvency.

82 In February 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, Mr Patrick sought to form a new entity to replace the Original GP. On 5 February 2024, Walkers emailed Mr Patrick to ask whether that entity should be a Cayman LLC or an exempted company, to which he responded later that day: "Doesn't matter to me. Whatever from a strategic point of view - hard to find or track, or trace. Or find owners etc. Generic name. Strong litigation protection."

83 On 27 February 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the New GP (the Fifth Defendant) was incorporated in the Cayman Islands.

84 On 7 March 2024, Mr Patrick, in his capacity as Managing Member of the Original GP, and without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, executed a written consent for the transfer of the GP Interest to the New GP, thereby replacing the Fund's General Partner. The Supporting Organisations subsequently discovered this change only by chance in February 2025.

85 In or around August 2024, the Supporting Organisations were provided with a financial analysis (prepared by NexPoint Advisors LP) of the Fund's annual expenses which showed or appeared to show increases in expenditure, particularly as follows (and without prejudice to any further relevant facts and matters relating to Directors' fees or expenses):

85.1 directors' fees increased from around US$40,000 in 2022 to almost US$600,000 in 2023 – and increased further to around US$2.25 million in the first half of 2024; and

85.2 expenses overall for the first half of 2024 were around US$18.3 million – almost the same amount spent over the entire course of 2023 (i.e. US$18.6 million).

86 On 13 September 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors resolved (amongst other things) with respect to Mr Patrick's compensation:

86.1 to increase Mr Patrick's salary to US$850,000 per annum;

86.2 include a long-term incentive ("LTI") tied to the Fund's returns, being 7.5% of annualised net fund returns in excess of 10% (capped at 25% annualised return); and

86.3 the Company should assess legal expenses attributable to investment which impacted the LTI compensation and then determine whether the LTI compensation should be increased.

87 On 1 October 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities:

87.1 the Directors resolved (amongst other things) that Mr Patrick would receive:

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(a) an LTI payment of US$975,000; and

(b) an 'annual discretionary bonus' for 2023 at an amount of 2.5 times his base salary.

87.2 Previously, in or around October 2021, Mr Patrick had signed an 'employment agreement' for his position at the Company, for the period commencing 24 March 2021, which provides that Mr Patrick:

(a) shall receive a base salary of US$850,000;

(b) shall receive an LTI payment for the period 24 March 2021 to 24 March 2024 in the amount of US$4,759,000; and

(c) is eligible for both annual and discretionary bonuses as determined at the 'sole and absolute discretion of the Directors'.

88 Comparatively, Mr Scott's salary during his tenure in the Control Position was approximately US$60,000 per annum. Notwithstanding the above, the Supporting Organisations were not informed of these increases to the Directors' fees, remuneration and/or benefits.

89 In late October 2024, as a result of concerns arising from this additional expenditure, the Supporting Organisations requested that Mr Patrick provide relevant financial information for the Company and the Fund. Mr Patrick did not do so.

90 On 11 November 2024, Holland and Knight ("H&K"), U.S. attorneys for the Supporting Organisations, issued a letter to Mr Murphy advising that the Supporting Organisations no longer had confidence in the governance of the Company and/or the Fund and considered that a reorganisation of the governance structures was required to protect the charitable efforts of the Supporting Organisations (the "No Confidence Letter").

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

91 On 26 November 2024, Mr Patrick sought advice from Walkers as to whether the Company could issue further Participating Shares to a new non-profit organisation to dilute the Supporting Organisations so as to weaken any winding-up petition brought by the Supporting Organisations on just and equitable grounds. Mr Murphy wrote that:

> "Issuance of new participation shares, where the existing foundations represent a smaller % of the issued and outstanding shares, would weaken any petition based on just and equitable grounds but we must be careful they don't point to this as ground to wind up i.e. the existing foundations say we're artificially trying to weaken their position by diluting them therefore the company should be wound up or an order made for change of management /revocation of the share issuances. It's a very difficult situation to get right without gifting them a potential ground…"

92 On 27 November 2024, Walkers responded to the Directors confirming that, if other shareholders were to oppose an equitable winding up, such opposition will be taken into consideration and would likely help.

93 On 9 December 2024, DFW was incorporated as a non-profit non-stock company in Delaware, by or with the assistance of Mr Douglas Mancino, partner of U.S. firm, Seyfarth Shaw LLP ("Seyfarth"), who, worked alongside Mr Patrick in the establishment of the Company and the Fund structure. The sole member of DFW was and is Mr Patrick.

94 On 7 February 2025, 318 Participating Shares were issued to DFW.

95 On 20 February 2025, Mr Patrick as the Management Shareholder of the Company resolved to adopt the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association dated 20 February 2025 which, among other things:

95.1 Amended the Memorandum at paragraph 3 to give the Company charitable objects;

95.2 Amended article 70 to introduce the concept of a Management Director (being a director holding the Management Share) and to weight the voting such that on all matters the Management Director had 10 votes and any other directors had 1 vote;

95.3 Deleted the previous articles 70 and 71 giving the right to appoint alternate directors and proxies. By email dated 27 February 2025, Walkers confirmed that the purpose of this deletion was to "avoid the risk of 'outsiders' being brought into the fold".

96 The Company reserves its position in respect of the validity of these amendments.

The purported restructuring: Mr Patrick causes the assignment of the Partnership Interest to CDM

97 On 12 December 2024, CDM was incorporated as a limited liability company in Delaware.

98 On 18 December 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors of the Company resolved (the "Transfer Resolutions") to approve the transfer of the entirety of the Company's limited partnership interest in the Fund to CDM, in consideration for the contribution by the sole member of CDM of 100% of the membership interest in CDM. The Transfer Resolutions provide (amongst other things) that, based apparently on U.S. tax advice, the transfer of the limited partnership interest to CDM:

98.1 "…would help insulate the DAF from exposure to [Dondero] and his entities who may be at risk of causing the [IRS] to revoke the tax-exempt status of one or more of the Participating Shareholders/supporting organizations which could imperil the assets of the Company";

98.2 "The IRS would look favorably upon any and all attempts for DAF to maintain its influence from what seems to be persistent attempts by Dondero and the entities controlled by him to use DAF for his private benefit and private inurement";

98.3 As a Delaware limited liability company (CDM): "…as permitted under the LLC Act, the terms of the LLC Agreement eliminate the fiduciary duties of the manager of the Transferee".

99 On 18 December 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Company, CDM and the New GP entered into a Deed of Assignment and Assumption (the "Deed") which was executed by Mr Patrick on behalf of each of (i) the Company in his capacity as Director; (ii) CDM in his capacity as Manager; and (iii) the New GP in his capacity as Director. Pursuant to the terms of the Deed:

99.1 The Company assigned its entire limited partnership interest in the Fund to CDM (the "CDM Assignment").

99.2 The New GP provided its written consent to the CDM Assignment and the admission of CDM as the new limited partner, in accordance with clause 1.11(a) of the LPA.

99.3 CDM agreed to exercise its reasonable best endeavours to ensure that 100% of the membership interest in CDM held by Mr Patrick would be transferred to the Company (the "CDM Membership Interest").

100 On 18 December 2024, the Company (as member) and Mr Patrick (as manager) entered into a Delaware law governed Limited Liability Company Agreement in respect of CDM (the "LLC Agreement").

101 The LLC Agreement, materially provides (amongst other things) that:

"Fair Market Value shall have the meaning set forth in Section 6.9(b).

The initial Manager shall be Mark Patrick.

6.5 No Duties to the Company. To the fullest extent permitted by law, including Section 18-1101(c) of the Act, and notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or in any agreement contemplated herein or applicable provisions of law or equity or otherwise, the parties hereto hereby agree that the Manager shall owe no fiduciary duty to any Member or the Company; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not eliminate the duty to comply with the implied contractual covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

6.9 Valuation of Company Assets.

(a) General. The Manager shall make a good faith determination of the value of the Company's assets in connection with any distribution pursuant to Section 8.1(b), as required under Section 4.3(c), upon the dissolution of the Company, and whenever otherwise required by this Agreement or determined by the Manager.

(b) Binding Effect. The value of any Company asset or Interest determined pursuant to this Section 6.9 shall be binding upon the Company and the Members and shall establish the "Fair Market Value" of such asset or Interest for all purposes under this Agreement.

7.3 Redemption. The Manager, in its sole discretion, may cause any Member's Interest to be redeemed by the Company for any reason. Any Interest of a Member to be redeemed by the Company shall be redeemed for the Fair Market Value of such Interest, as determined by the Manager in its sole discretion. Such payment to the Member shall either be made in cash or pursuant to a promissory note. Such promissory note shall: (i) provide for interest at the lowest rate necessary to avoid the imputation of additional interest under the Code; and (ii) have a stated principal amount of the Fair Market Value of such Member's Interest being redeemed, as determined by the Manager in its sole discretion."

102 The Company will rely on the terms of the LLC Agreement for their applicable full terms and effect.

103 The effect of these transactions was that:

103.1 CDM was inserted into the corporate structure below and as a subsidiary of the Company and would hold the entirety of the limited partnership interest in the Fund previously held by the Company; and

103.2 The Company would hold the entire membership interest in CDM, with the result that the Company's sole asset, having previously been its limited partnership interest in the Fund, was exchanged for the CDM Membership Interest

(the "Restructuring")

104 The Restructuring was at an undervalue and not in the interests of the Company (in that the CDM Membership Interest was less valuable than the limited partnership interest that the Company assigned to CDM) because (amongst other things):

104.1 The General Partner owed fiduciary duties to the Company in the Fund, but the Manager (Mr Patrick) did not owe any fiduciary duties to CDM; and

104.2 The CDM Membership Interests were susceptible to being redeemed by Mr Patrick (as Manager) in his sole discretion and for any reason, for "fair market value" as defined by Article 6.9, i.e. a "good faith determination of the value".

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

105 On 3 April 2025, the Company obtained retrospective advice from Leading Counsel on the steps taken by the Company in December 2024 to effect the Restructuring and whether the transfer is "open to challenge by the Participating Shareholders", which advice:

105.1 refers to the justifications for the decisions taken as set out in the Restructuring Resolutions, and considers that, if called upon to justify the purpose of those decisions, the Directors would need to explain:

(a) how the penalisation or loss of tax-exempt status any of the current Participating Shareholders could have "imperil[ed]" the "assets" of the Company;

(b) the detrimental issues the Company was facing that the Directors believed would be mitigated by the interposition of CDM into the Fund structure; and

(c) how and/or why the Restructuring would (i) benefit the Company and (ii) reduce the influence of Mr Dondero; and

105.2 considers that a shareholder reviewing the reasons listed in the Restructuring Resolutions "might suggest that the contents of the resolution are self-serving and do not tell the full story, but rather seek to obscure the true motivations of the board".

Persistent and continual lack of information for the Supporting Organisations

106 On 23 January 2025, having received no response from Mr Murphy to the No-Confidence Letter, Julie Diaz, the CEO of The Dallas Foundation, sent Mr Patrick an email advising that the Supporting Organisations needed to better understand the Company's/Fund's asset position, and requesting certain information be provided by 10 February 2025.

107 Having received no response, on 28 January 2025, Ms Diaz sent a further email to the Directors expressing serious concern (i) that the Supporting Organisations' requests for information

continued to be disregarded, and (ii) about the ongoing lack of transparency on the part of the Directors.

108 On 30 January 2025, Mr Murphy replied to Ms Diaz stating that the Directors:

108.1 had not received the 23 January email – but understood the next step was for the Directors to "present directly" to the Supporting Organisations to address the No-Confidence Letter; and

108.2 are cooperating with the Supporting Organisations to provide additional information – but "have no legal obligation to do so" and such cooperation "should not be construed as an implicit acknowledgement of any duty to continue providing information to you".

109 On 31 January 2025, Mr Michael Stockham of H&K responded to Mr Murphy noting that he and Mr Patrick were fiduciaries, managing US$270 million in assets for the benefit of charities that support the most vulnerable (i.e. the Charities) and: "[w]hatever your side's obvious antagonism to Mr Dondero, the fact remains that the underlying assets are ultimately for these charitable missions."

110 On 4 February 2025, Mr Murphy responded that while open to resolving the concerns, they (i.e. the Directors) were struggling to understand the Supporting Organisations' change in position.

111 On 7 February 2025, H&K responded that the Directors were fiduciaries in control of US$270 million for the benefit of charities: "these monies are for improving the quality of life of children, building pathways for everyone to have a fair opportunity to succeed and … fostering a love for education. They are not meant to pay you and Mr. Patrick millions in director fees".

112 On 14 February 2025, H&K received a letter from Mr Mancino which rejected the accuracy of the reported increases in expenditure. On 27 February 2025, H&K responded that his clients were frustrated by the lack of transparency and refusal to answer simple queries about the financial position. In response, Seyfarth sought available dates for Mr Murphy to make the promised presentation to the Supporting Organisations. H&K responded the next day with three potential dates/times for the proposed call between 26 March and 3 April 2025. Mr Mancino did not respond.

113 On 20 March 2025, Mr Mancino sent a letter purportedly on behalf of the Company to the IRS about alleged undue influence and control exercised over the Supporting Organisations by Mr Dondero. The letter makes serious and unsubstantiated allegations about the Supporting Organisations, absent evidential support, including that they each (i.e. all of them): "operates for Mr Dondero's private benefit when he uses his influence or control over them to cause them to use or attempt to use their influence as Participating Shareholders of DAF Holdco to wrest control of DAF Holdco and its assets…".

114 On 3 April 2025, Mr Mancino sent an email to H&K stating that he had just learned there was a call scheduled for the following day and seeking to reschedule. H&K responded that no such call had been arranged and queried the apparent source of confusion.

115 Mr Mancino, and Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy (each in part through Mr Mancino as an instructed attorney) acted in bad faith by maintaining a pretence of actual or potential cooperation with the Supporting Organisations when this was not the case, and by sending or causing to be sent the email of 20 March 2025 in secret:

115.1 four (4) months after the Directors and/or the Company transferred away the Company's interest in the Fund without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities;

115.2 two (2) months after the Directors and/or the Company diluted the existing Participating Shareholders without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities (see below);

115.3 one (1) week after the Directors and/or the Company redeemed the Company's interest in CDM without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities (see below);

115.4 one (1) day after the Directors placed the Company in voluntary liquidation, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities.

Purported Share Issuance and allotment to DFW

116 In November 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors began seeking advice from Walkers on whether the Company could issue new Participating Shares that would have the effect of diluting the existing Participating Shareholders - "in light of a possible just and equitable winding up petition" being filed by one of the Supporting Organisations.

117 On 7 February 2025, Walkers advised that, while there must be a corporate benefit to the exercise of the power, the Articles grant the Directors power to issue new shares that dilute the Participating Shareholders, and recommended the shares be issued sooner than later, and before any winding up petition was presented, since any alteration to the Company's membership made after the presentation of the petition would be void.

118 On 7 February 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors resolved to issue 318 Participating Shares to DFW (the "Share Issue Resolutions"), resulting in DFW owning 51.04% of the Participating Shareholding and the dilution of the Supporting Organisations from an aggregate shareholding of 100% to 48.96% (the "Share Issuance"). The Share Issue Resolutions provided that:

118.1 Participating Shareholders had requested information and made false and misleading claims about the Company and its finances which the Directors believe were directed by Mr Dondero.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

118.2 Based apparently on U.S. tax advice:

(a) There was a heightened risk the IRS could revoke the tax-exempt status of the Participating Shareholders which could imperil the status and assets of the Company.

(b) Increasing the number of Participating Shareholders would mitigate the undue influence and private inurement of Mr Dondero.

(c) The IRS would look favourably upon attempts by the Fund to maintain its independence from his (i.e. Mr Dondero's) attempts to use the Fund for his private benefit.

118.3 The Directors believed the Share Issuance to DFW would protect the Company and the Participating Shareholders and resolved that the Share Issuance to DFW be approved.

119 On 5 March 2025, Leading Counsel (Mr Tony Beswetherick KC) issued draft retrospective (but final) advice to the Company on the Share Issuance in which he opined (amongst other things) as follows:

119.1 where Articles confer a power on directors to issues shares, that power is a fiduciary one and must only be exercised for proper purposes; an issue of shares "…deliberately aimed at altering the balance of power between" is problematic; the power should not be exercised with a view to altering an existing balance of power, irrespective of whether the directors consider that doing so is in the interests of the company;

119.2 the effect of the Share Issuance was that, if there were to be a company meeting or proposal to approve a modification that affects the Participating Shareholders' rights,

the ability of the prior Participating Shareholders to vote down such a change was negatively affected (DFW now having over 50% of the total Participating Shares);

119.3 it is not immediately clear from the Share Issue Resolutions whether the justifications stated were actually relevant to the Directors' decision. If they were relevant, it is not explained why the issue of shares to DFW would prevent false claims being made by Mr Dondero; it may be that those matters are part of the context, rather than part of the reason for the decision; and 119.4 the Participating Shareholders might suggest the Share Issue Resolutions are self-serving and do not tell the full story, but rather seek to obscure the true motivations of the board.

Plan to redeem the Original Participating Shareholders

120 In January and February 2025, the Directors, in connection with a plan to try to redeem the Participating Shareholders and/or the CDM Membership Interest held by the Company, and without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, sought to obtain an analysis of the fair market value of the Participation Shares, and the discount that should be applied to such valuation, given the limited rights conferred upon Participating Share under the Articles.

Historic ValueScope Valuations

121 At the request of the Company, ValueScope, Inc. ("ValueScope") conducted a series of valuation analyses of 100 Participation Shares on a net asset value ("NAV") basis between December 2020 and September 2024 to determine their fair market value ("FMV"). These valuations were apparently prepared for internal reporting purposes and apparently applied consistent methodologies throughout the period. The results of these valuations are summarised below:

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

Valuation date	NAV	NAV Per Share	Combined Discounts	FMV Per Share	FMV (100 shares)
31 December 2020	$176.96M	$580,193	17.0%	$481,468	$48,146,754
31 December 2021	$243.19M	$797,343	11.6%	$705,210	$70,521,019
31 December 2022	$276.24M	$905,711	15.4%	$766,549	$76,654,941
31 December 2023	$277.57M	$910,076	14.0%	$782,847	$78,284,712
30 September 2024	$269.05M	$882,140	13.9%	$759,614	$75,961,370

122 The final NAV-based valuation prepared by ValueScope prior to the Restructuring was dated 7 January 2025, and gave a valuation of 100 Participating Shares as at 30 September 2024 (the "September 2024 Valuation").

PwC and FTI

123 On 14 January 2025, Walkers inquired with PwC about a valuation of "the shares of Charitable DAF Holdco". In that email, Walkers, presumably on instructions from the Directors, listed the Supporting Organisations as "potential adverse parties".

124 On 7 February 2025, Walkers informed PwC that CDM had been inserted into the structure and requested that a second valuation be prepared of all the CDM Membership Interest, which valuation Walkers said was also to rely on the NAV as previously advised (rather than leaving PwC to determine their own valuation methodology). PwC responded that their initial view is "there is no meaningful difference" between the two valuations requested - "i.e. the economic interest in the underlying NAV still fully accrues to the participating shareholders" - but that voting power/control remains with Mr Patrick (or with entities he controls). PwC asked for further information about what Mr Patrick was trying to achieve by the Restructuring to help them understand the valuation implications.

125 On 10 February 2025, PwC suggested a call with Walkers to discuss the second valuation, which call took place on 11 February 2025, and was also attended by Mr Patrick's 'onshore and Delaware counsel'. Following that call, PwC declined to take on the instructions:

> "... our view is that the new Delaware entity (CDMCFAD) effectively has full economic interest and control over the Fund, so we don't really see a basis for applying any discounts to the underlying Fund NAV for that entity. As it relates to the participating shareholders' interest in Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd., we don't think we can reliably estimate the value/discount given the current fact pattern. While we could make hypothetical assumptions about how the articles may be interpreted, and/or how future cash flows may or may not be distributed, the impact on value is so substantial that we don't think it would be a meaningful exercise (i.e. we'd end up with the discount being 100% in one scenario, but 0% in another). On that basis, I don't think there is a fee / scope that can work for us currently."

The FTI Memo

126 On 13 February 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Company engaged FTI Consulting in London ("FTI") to advise on (i) the discount applicable (if any) to a valuation considering how the rights attached to Participation Shares differed from those typically associated with ordinary shares, and (ii) the impact of the existence of an additional share class (being the Management Shares held by Mr Patrick). FTI's engagement letter also stated that "The Memo will also include a valuation of the ordinary shares of CDMCFAD, LLC, the immediate subsidiary of Charitable DAF HoldCo".

127 On 2 March 2025, FTI provided a draft memorandum to Walkers/the Company.

128 On 27 March 2025, FTI issued its final memorandum (the "FTI Memo"), which stated (amongst other things) that the rights of Participating Shares were extremely limited, and the potential distribution of cash was highly dependent on a member's alignment with the Fund's mission. The FTI Memo concluded that a "limited discount" for lack of control and marketability should be applied where a member is aligned with the Fund's mission (said to be close to the range concluded by ValueScope in its 7 January ValueScope Report, i.e. a discount of 13.9%), and a "high discount" of 95% where a member is not.

Legal advice sought

129 On 25 February 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors sought advice from Walkers and Shields Legal on any powers under the Articles to enable the removal of the Supporting Organisations, including by (i) redemption of the Participating Shares (Art 14 and 28), (ii) a forced transfer of Participating Shares held by a Restricted Person (Art 21) (iii) or an alternative course whereby DFW repurchased the shares, which could then be cancelled, and new shares issued which are redeemable by the Company. Walkers advised that both redemption and forced transfers were not permitted but agreed with the alternative course involving DFW.

130 On 5 March 2025, as stated above, Leading Counsel provided retrospective advice to the Company regarding the Share Issuance, which also considered whether the Directors had power under the Articles to redeem the Participating Shares. Leading Counsel opined that they did not, on the basis that the Participating Shares were not issued as redeemable shares, and could not be redeemed unless there were a prior variation of the rights ascribed to them. That said, any proposal to vary the rights attached to the shares to make them redeemable would support an argument "that the [DFW Share Issue] was itself procured with a view, ultimately, to disenfranchising the pre-existing Participating Shareholders".

131 On 17 March 2025, Mr Patrick wrote to Walkers in the following terms:

> "Agree we need to finalise the [FTI valuation] reports …We should request any limits on use removed.
>
> We are seeking U.S. tax counsel to send emails to Paul and I that the non profits are Restricted Persons and/or best interests of the Company to have non dondero holders of its interests. After that, an alternative approach is to give them what they want – liquidate Holdco Ltd after its only investment is redeemed by the US. LLC pursuant to U.S. counsel advice above, that it's in the best interests of the Company to redeem all non-profits affiliated with Dondero. US LLC has same valuation conducted on its shares as the participation shares. so we would redeem the LLC interest, then distribute the proceeds out of Holdco Ltd., and file articles of Dissolution for Charitable daf Holdco Ltd before a wind up petition is filled. That would put us on the "high ground" to fight (rather the way this is currently heading in a defensive posture). they would have to scrap their wond up petition and fight for reinstatement, gripe about the valuations, and file fiduciary breach actions …
> We will stage this in light of the Doug letter, new advice of two separate U.S Tax counsel, and seeing how successful (or not) our outreach to the Texas attorney general office is.
> Note US LLC would make DFW its sole owner."

132 The email of 19 March 2025 makes plain that the Directors, or at least Mr Patrick, intended to liquidate the Company without notice to the Supporting Organisations and to otherwise obstruct the Supporting Organisations' ability to exercise any right to petition to wind up the Company on just and equitable grounds.

133 On 20 March 2025, Walkers provided comments on the FTI draft valuation, and FTI responded. These comments include, amongst other things:

> "Walkers: It is stated at [3.2(2)] that "there is no overriding duty of DAF's Directors to act in the shareholders' interest. The Directors will act according to the best interest of the company, that is, to achieve the charitable causes that are aligned with DAF's mission". However, as a matter of Cayman law, directors owe duties to the company, and must act in its best interests [which are] generally regarded as the interests of the members as a whole, and in certain circumstances the objects of the company may be taken into account when determining what is in its best interests.
> FTI: Can you explain how it was in the interests of the company to materially dilute the existing shareholders?
> Walkers: It is stated at [3.10] that "the Participating Shareholders do not have any rights to cause a liquidation/winding up of the company". However, the Participating Shareholders do have the right to seek a winding up of the company, as conferred upon them by the Companies Act (rather than the Articles).
> FTI: Why won't they just do this immediately and seek distributions? Isn't the ability to trigger a liquidation contradictory with point 1 which states "Shareholders do not have any right to exert influence on whether/how the funds of DAF are used or distributed".

43

Walkers: As per our comments, please could you delete references to our advice so as to avoid any potential arguments about waiver of privilege.

FTI: Your advice is important in us arriving at our conclusions. I understand from our legal team that we either (i) keep the reference to your advice or (ii) address the memo to you. Are you expecting there to be litigation in relation to the proposed transaction?

Walkers: Our client now seeks a valuation report which may, in connection with a proposed redemption of the membership interests in CDM, be disclosed to third parties and relied on to establish fair market value of both the membership interests in CDM, and in turn HoldCo.

FTI: This is a material change in the purpose and access rights of the report. Please provide more detail of the transaction. Is it the case that Mark will make CDM redeem the shares owned in by DAF? And who would you like to share the report with? And on what basis (e.g. non-reliance)? We also note our memo is not a valuation – it is a quantification of discounts given the rights of the participating shares. To do a valuation, we would need to do a more detailed exercise, including valuing the underlying assets."

134 On 21 to 24 March 2025, FTI and Walkers had an exchange (amongst other things) as follows:

"FTI: If the firm was wound down, would it result in distributions to the existing participating shareholders? Or would Mark still be able to shareholder structure to ensure the existing participating shareholders got nothing? Given they haven't received dividends since 2019, why haven't the participating shareholders triggered a wind down? If they can trigger a wind down and then in short order receive $300m of distributions, it does change things re discount.

Walkers: if HoldCo was wound up, the Participating Shareholders would receive distributions which would be made pari passu, and Mark (if he was the liquidator) would not be able to ensure the existing Participating Shareholders get nothing. Whilst the Participating Shareholders have the right to seek to wind up under the Companies Act, they need a proper basis to do so… We can only assume [they] have not commenced proceedings seeking to wind the company up because they do not have a proper basis on which to do so …

FTI: Would an absence of distributions be sufficient grounds to make an application to wind the company up? If the participating shareholders did make the application, would Mark be able to issue a vast number of shares to another party before the distributions were made thereby ensuring the existing shareholders received very little?

Walkers: A Participating Shareholder may consider an absence of distributions sufficient grounds for a winding up order on the just and equitable basis… But it is difficult for us to say whether that petition would be successful. If (a) a Participating Shareholder presented a petition; (b) new shares were purportedly issued; and (c) the Court then made a winding up order, the issue of the new shares would be void and not impact the amounts the Participating Shareholders would receive."

135 On 26 and 27 March 2025, FTI and Walkers had an exchange (amongst other things) as follows*:*

"Walkers: We have discussed with our client and onshore counsel and set out some amendments in the attached. In addition, we note (1) we have not received any material addressing reliance on the memo by CDM; and (2) the "Limitations and restrictions" section still provides that the memo "should not be used to support a transaction". For the memo to be useful in the circumstances, CDM [and HoldCo] need to be able to rely on it or a separate memo would need to be addressed to CDM on which it may rely. Further, both entities need to be able to rely on the memo(s) to support the proposed transaction.

FTI: What is the intention of adding that directors should act in the interests of future members? I am struggling to understand how a director could act in a manner which is beneficial for future shareholders which is not also helpful for existing shareholders.

The limitations in our note will remain. To do a valuation to support a transaction, we will need to do significantly more detailed work. This is an unusual/complicated situation. We are open to doing a fairness opinion on the transaction. But this will require approval from our risk committee and more information on the transaction and situation. We are happy for CDM to have our memo on a non-reliance basis. But this memo should not be used to support a transaction."

March 2025 ValueScope Valuation

136 Following the Restructuring, ValueScope was requested by Shields Legal, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, to prepare two valuation analyses:

136.1 100% Membership Interest in CDM; and

136.2 Certain Participating Shares of the Company as at 25 March 2025 (the "March 2025 Valuation").

137 The March 2025 Valuation had the same instructions, definition of value and scope of work as the September 2024 Valuation. Like the September 2024 Valuation, the March 2025 Valuation also referenced a 30 September 2024 balance sheet (and did not refer to any later analysis of assets and liabilities). As shown below, the September 2024 Valuation and March 2025 Valuation produced very different results.

138 A comparative summary of the September 2024 and March 2025 Valuations is set out below:

Valuation Date	DLOC*	DLOM	Valuation Basis	FMV (100 Shares)
30 September 2024	8.1%	6.3%	NAV	$75,961,370
25 March 2025	99.2%	20.00%	DCF	$536,784
Difference	+91.1%	+13.7%		-$75,424,586

*DLOC – Discounted for Lack of Control

DLOM – Discounted for Lack of Marketability

DCF – Discounted Cash Flow

139 The March 2025 Valuation stated: "for the valuation of non-controlling assets in holding companies such as DAF, the asset-based approach is most commonly used [as Valuescope had always done previously]. When applied to such companies, the approach consists of measuring the underlying net asset value of an entity (the fair market value of the entity's assets less the fair market value of its liabilities). The NAV is then discounted as appropriate to determine the fair market value of the fractional interest in the entity. However, in the case of the participation shares under consideration, the asset-based approach is not applicable. These shares do not confer control and only have a claim in respect of the underlying assets in a winding up."

140 ValueScope does not appear to have considered whether winding up was a possibility, and therefore, whether value could have been realised that way and by reference to NAV.

141 For reasons which are unclear to the Company, the March 2025 Valuation expressly rejected the asset-based (NAV) approach on the basis that the economic benefits of the Participating Shares in the Company were contingent on discretionary distributions by its manager. The report states.

> 'Unlike equity interests that derive value from an allocable portion of the entity's net assets, the economic benefits of these shares are contingent upon discretionary distributions by the director. As such, their value is not directly tied to the entity's NAV, and an alternative valuation approach is required to appropriately reflect their characteristics and economic reality'.

142 Accordingly, the methodology applied in the March 2025 Valuation was markedly different from the methodology applied in the September 2024 Valuation. Instead of relying on discounted net assets, the March 2025 Valuation:

142.1 applied a discounted cash flow ("DCF") methodology to estimate the present value of expected future distributions, rather than an asset-based approach, as had been applied in at least the past five annual valuations by ValueScope;

142.2 determined the FMV of 100 Participating Shares to be US$536,784;

142.3 applied a discount of 99.2% for DLOC; and

142.4 applied a discount of 20.00% for DLOM.

143 The DCF model is based on the present value of future distributions to the Company. ValueScope's report shows that these were estimated based on historic distributions themselves controlled by Mr Patrick.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

144 Based on the valuations above, between 30 September 2024 and 25 March 2025, the FMV of 100 Participating Shares in the Company apparently declined from US$75,961,370 to US$536,784, representing a reduction in value of 99.29% in less than a six month period, in which the Restructuring occurred, attributable to a change in valuation basis (amongst other things) from NAV to DCF.

145 Furthermore, ValueScope does not appear to have sense-tested their valuation. Although they identified "total equity" of c. US$270 million and concluded that all of the Participation Shares had a value of only c. US$1.6 million, they did not address themselves to who benefitted from the residual value of c. US$268 million.

Admission and Redemption

146 On 27 March 2025, Mr Patrick, as manager of CDM, executed a written consent (the "Manager Consent") to (a) cause CDM to admit DFW as an additional member of CDM pursuant to the terms of an Admission and Amendment No.1 Agreement (the "Admission Agreement") and (b) redeem the CDM Membership Interest held by the Company pursuant to the terms of a Redemption and Amendment No. 2 Agreement (the "Redemption Agreement" and together with the Admission Agreement, the "Restructure Agreements"):

146.1 The recitals to the Manager Consent stated that the redemption of the Company's membership interest was justified by reason of alleged attempts by the Supporting Organisations to exert control, and the potential loss of their (i.e. the Supporting Organisations') non-profit and tax-exempt status:

> "… the Manager has formed the view that the Current Member, by virtue of being a member of the Company and having as Participating Shareholders the Highland Foundations, poses a material risk to the Company, its assets, and the Mission Statement of DAF due to, among other things, (i) officers and directors of the Highland Foundations seeking to assert dominion and control over the assets of DAF (through the Current Member), despite no legal ability to do so under the Current Member's organizational documents and despite the potential illegality (as demonstrated by tax counsel to DAF—see Exhibits C and D) of doing so, (ii) the potential loss of the non-profit status of the Highland Foundations due to their actions, among others, described in clause (i), and (iii) the potential loss of the tax-exempt status which the Highland Foundations currently enjoy and which is central to the mission of DAF, as a result of the factors including those described in clauses (i) and (ii)"

146.2 The Manager Consent further stated:

"WHEREAS, in connection with the Restructure Agreements and the transactions contemplated thereby, the Manager (on behalf of the Company) obtained a valuation report of the membership interests of the Company from ValueScope and FTI Consulting, copies of which are attached hereto as Exhibit E, which valuation reports have informed the Manager the fair market value of the membership interests"

146.3 Exhibits C and D to the Manager Consent are documents purportedly containing information regarding various alleged U.S. tax issues relating to the Company.

146.4 Exhibit C is the letter from Mr Mancino to the IRS dated 20 March 2025, in which Mr Mancino (amongst other things) stated:

(a) there has been "deterioration" of the Company's relationship with Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. ("HDF") due to the undue influence and control exercised over HDF by Mr Dondero.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(b) the information in the letter will demonstrate clearly that Mr Dondero's influence and control is an inappropriate donor relationship with representatives of the HDF who serve on the Board of Directors of and as officers of HDF.

(c) such undue influence and control potentially jeopardises the tax-exempt status of HDF as an organisation described in s.501(c)(3) and, at a minimum, causes it to fail to remain a supporting organisation described in s. 509(a)(3).

146.5 Exhibit D is an advice produced by Carrington Coleman (U.S. law firm) dated 25 March 2025 (the "Carrington Advice") which amongst other things:

(a) asserts that Mr Dondero has been attempting "through his control of the Highland SOs, to exert dominion and control over the cash and property he previously donated to DAF and for which he claimed charitable deductions, all for his personal benefit."

(b) suggests that Mr Dondero was using the Company as his personal "piggy bank", and that it may be perceived by the IRS that the Fund has been or is his financial alter ego.

(c) concludes that "the IRS will look favourably upon any and all attempts for DAF to maintain its independence from what seems to be persistent attempts by Dondero, and the entities controlled by him to use DAF for his private benefit and inurement."

146.6 Exhibit E contained two valuation reports:

(a) The first was a ValueScope valuation.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(b) The second is the FTI Memo referred to above, in which FTI expressly stated that the analysis in the FTI Memo should not be used in support of a transaction, but which Mr Patrick, in any event:

(i) expressly relied upon in the Manager Consent to determine the fair market value of the CDM Membership Interest and the basis for the redemption of the Company's interests; and

(ii) permitted Carrington Coleman to refer to and rely on in the FTI Memo (indeed, having provided the 27 March 2025 copy which was a draft copy only).

146.7 On 27 March 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, Mr Patrick executed the:

(a) Admission Agreement between CDM and DFW under which DFW was admitted as a member of CDM, in consideration for a capital contribution of US$1,637,192; and

(b) Redemption Agreement under which CDM redeemed the Company's membership interest in CDM for the same sum of US$1,637,192 (the "Redemption Sum").

147 On 27 March 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Company entered into a letter agreement with CDM (the "Letter Agreement"), pursuant to which the Company assigned to CDM various contracts and agreements to which the Company was a party, listed in Schedule A to the Letter Agreement and CDM agreed to assume the liabilities and obligations in respect of those contracts.

148 On 2 April 2025, the Directors of the Company, by way of written resolution:

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

148.1 Noted the redemption of the Company's membership interest in CDM for the Redemption Sum (the "Redemption").

148.2 Resolved to pay a dividend to the Original Participating Shareholders of US$1,612,192.01 in the amount of (i) US$528,587.54 with respect to each of HDF, Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. and Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc.; and (ii) US$26,429.39 with respect to CFNT.

149 The substantive financial effect of the Redemption, under which DFW did or was committed to make a capital contribution equivalent to the Redemption Sum to CDM, and the CDM Membership Interest held by the Company were redeemed for the Redemption Sum, was that the Company's membership interest in CDM was purchased by or otherwise transferred to DFW for the Redemption Sum.

150 The substantive effect of the overall transaction or series of transactions pleaded above, including the Impugned Transactions already pleaded, was that:

150.1 The Company realised its interest in the Fund, which had a NAV of c. US$270 million, for c. US$1.6 million.

150.2 The Company made a distribution to the Original Participating Shareholders (c. US$1.6 million).

150.3 The Supporting Organisations and the Charities were actually or effectively divested of their indirect interest in the Fund, and the assets underlying the Fund; and 150.4 The Original Participating Shareholders were diluted from 100% of the economic interests in the Company to less than 50%.

Voluntary Liquidation and Supervision Order

151 On 2 April 2025, the Directors resolved, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, to place the Company into voluntary liquidation and appoint Mitchell Mansfield and William Clarke (the JVLs) of Kroll (Cayman) Ltd as voluntary liquidators.

152 However, unaware of the voluntary liquidation, on 10 April 2025, the Supporting Organisations presented a petition seeking the winding up of the Company on a just and equitable basis, under section 92(e) of the Companies Act (2025 Revision) (the "J&E Petition").

153 On 25 April 2025, Walkers and Shields Legal held a call to discuss the J&E Petition. Following that call, Mr Patrick wrote in an email that the "message ideas" "for Monday" were to "poison the well", by which he meant to create a negative impression of Mr Dondero in the eyes of the Court.

154 On 6 May 2025, Justice Jalil Asif KC made a supervision order, under which voluntary liquidation of the Company was to be continued under the supervision of the Court pursuant to s.131 of the Companies Act (As Revised), and the JOLs were appointed.

OBLIGATIONS OWED BY THE DIRECTORS

155 At all material times, the Directors, as directors, owed the following duties individually to the Company:

155.1 A fiduciary duty to act bona fide in what he considers to be the best interests of the Company (the "Best Interests Duty").

155.2 A fiduciary duty to exercise his powers for a proper purpose, and for the purposes for which they were conferred (the "Proper Purpose Rule").

155.3 A fiduciary duty not to place himself in a position where his personal interest actually or potentially conflicted with his duty of loyalty to the Company (the "First No-Conflicts Duty").

155.4 A fiduciary duty not to place himself in a position where his duty to another actually or potentially conflicted with his duty of loyalty to the Company (the "Second No-Conflicts Duty").

155.5 A fiduciary duty to not make an unauthorised profit from or by reason of his fiduciary position (the "No Profit Duty").

155.6 A fiduciary duty not to accrue or take a benefit or commercial opportunity from the Company without the full and informed consent of the Company (the "No Self-Dealing Rule").

155.7 A duty to exercise reasonable skill, care, and diligence in the performance of his role and function as director (the "Reasonable Care Duty").

156 With respect at least to Mr Patrick, his duties above and the standard to which he was obliged to comply with such duties are affected by being in the Control Position and the trustee or trustee-like position he occupied. Paragraph 76 above is also relied upon.

157 The Company reserves its position as to whether Mr Patrick, by reason of being in the Control Position and the trustee or trustee-like position he occupied, was an express or other trustee of the assets of the Fund for the Original Participating Shareholders and, through or in addition to them, the Charities.

ATTRIBUTION OF KNOWLEDGE AND INTENTION

158 As a matter of Cayman Islands law, Mr Patrick's intention and knowledge of facts and matters for all such purposes relevant to this claim is to be attributed to each of DFW, CDM, and the New GP on the basis of at least the following facts:

158.1 As regards DFW, Mr Patrick is listed under DFW's certificate of incorporation, dated 9 December 2024, as "the member of the corporation", and the Admission Agreement showed he served as its "President". Mr Patrick is also the registered director of DFW. Mr Patrick the agent of DFW, in which capacity Mr Patrick executed the Admission Agreement.

158.2 As regards CDM, Mr Patrick is described under the LLC Agreement as the "Manager" of CDM, in which role Mr Patrick was CDM's agent, and in which capacity he (i) executed the Deed of Assignment and Assumption on behalf of CDM, and (ii) executed a written 'Manager Consent' (the "Manager Consent") approving the Redemption and Admission Agreements; and executed the Redemption and Admission Agreements.

158.3 As regards the New GP, Mr Patrick was and remains its director, and therefore its agent (in which capacity, Mr Patrick executed the Deed of Assignment and Assumption on the New GP's behalf). Further, Mr Patrick is the sole shareholder of the New GP.

159 Further, if applicable, as a matter of the laws of the State of Delaware, Mr Patrick's knowledge and intention is to be attributed to DFW, CDM, and the New GP on a like basis.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE DEFENDANTS

Breaches of fiduciary and other duty

160 The First and Second Defendants, and each of them, in their capacity as a Director of the Company, acted in breach of their fiduciary and other duties to the Company as follows.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

Restructuring, including the CDM Assignment

161 The Directors (and each of them), in procuring, directing or effecting the Restructuring as set out above, acted in breach of their duties to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty, the Proper Purpose Rule and the Reasonable Care Duty. Additionally, Mr Patrick, in procuring, directing or effecting the Restructuring as set out above, acted in breach of his duties to the Company, including the No Self-Dealing Rule, No Profit Duty, and No-Conflicts Duty (First and Second No-Conflicts Duties).

PARTICULARS

161.1 The Plaintiff relies on paragraphs 77 to 105 above.

161.2 With the assistance of Mr Mancino, Mr Patrick took steps to form CDM and appoint himself as Manager of CDM.

161.3 Mr Patrick designed and/or negotiated and/or directed and/or effected the Restructuring in his capacity as Director of the Company, Director of the New GP, and Manager of CDM, being each of the parties to the Deed, and signed the Deed on behalf of each party.

161.4 The Directors (and each of them) approved the transfer of the Company's entire limited partnership interest in the Fund (having net assets worth c. US$270 million) to CDM, a Delaware entity whose LLC Agreement excluded any fiduciary obligations owed by its Manager (i.e. Mr Patrick) to CDM itself or to its members; in exchange for membership interest in CDM, which interest was capable of being extinguished, by redemption, and for a "fair value", determined at the discretion of the Manager (i.e. Mr Patrick).

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

161.5 The Restructuring was of no benefit to the Company and not in its best interests, and Mr Patrick was subject to conflicts of interest (First and Second No-Conflicts Duties) and committed acts of self-dealing.

161.6 The Directors (and each of them) acted when each of them:

(a) knew or ought to have known that the Company was proposing to exchange the Partnership Interest for a membership interest in CDM that was subject to redemption entirely at Mr Patrick's discretion, and for a "fair value" determined, in good faith, in his discretion.

(b) knew or ought to have known that the Company was therefore proposing to trade its Partnership Interest, which was not in practical terms defeasible, for an interest that could be extinguished: (i) at a time over which it had no control, (ii) for a price over which it had very limited control and (iii) for a potential valuation basis which excluded a net asset valuation of the assets held in the Fund.

(c) knew or ought to have known that the CDM Membership Interest was to be in a Delaware-incorporated company whose LLC Agreement excluded any fiduciary obligations owed by its Manager either to CDM itself or to its members and was therefore less valuable than the Partnership Interest.

(d) knew or ought to have known that the CDM Assignment was therefore a transaction at an undervalue.

161.7 It can be inferred, and is averred, that Mr Patrick was drawing fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits from CDM without the full authorisation or full and informed consent of the Company.

161.8 Further, and in any event, the Directors (and each of them) acted when each of them:

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(a) knew or ought to have known that the CDM Assignment was the first step in a series of connected future transactions, including those pursuant to the CDM Assignment, the Share Issuance, the Admission Agreement, the Redemption Agreement and the Redemption, under which the Directors were able to and ultimately did procure the redemption of the Company's CDM Membership Interest, thus extinguishing the Company's interest in the Fund, for an undervalue.

(b) knew or ought to have known that:

(i) the full terms and effect of the CDM Assignment was not a proper or proportionate response to any genuinely perceived risk about U.S. tax concerns.

(ii) the full terms and effect the CDM Assignment was not a proper or proportionate response to any genuinely perceived risk to the Company, which was not itself a Donor Advised Fund and/or did not enjoy or require tax-exempt status under s.501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code.

(iii) other approaches to address concerns with respect to the tax-exempt status of the HDF short of undertaking the Restructuring (and entering into the CDM Assignment) included notifying the HDF of the conflict and/or concerns and requesting it to remedy it or them.

(iv) even if the facts and matters alleged in relation to the HDF were correct, there was more than a possibility, after an extended passage of time and at least two levels of appeal, that a U.S. tax audit would result in an adverse determination with respect to the tax-exempt status of the HDF.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

59

(v) the tax-exempt status of the HDF was of no concern or no reasonable concern to the Company.

(c) knew or ought to have known that they were keeping the Restructuring, the CDM Assignment, CDM itself and all the surrounding circumstances secret from the Participating Shareholders.

162 By reason of the foregoing breaches of duty or any of them:

162.1 The CDM Assignment is void, alternatively voidable and hereby avoided.

162.2 CDM holds the Partnership Interest on trust or constructive trust for the Company.

162.3 CDM is required to re-transfer the Partnership Interest to the Company and account for any profits on the basis of such trust or constructive trust and/or on a restitutionary and/or on a proprietary basis.

Share Issuance

163 The Directors (and each of them), in procuring, directing or effecting the Share Issuance as set out above, acted in breach of their duties to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty, the Proper Purpose Rule and the Reasonable Care Duty. Additionally, Mr Patrick, in procuring, directing or effecting the Share Issuance as set out above, acted in breach of his duties to the Company, including the No Self-Dealing Rule, No Profit Duty, and No-Conflicts Duty (First and Second No-Conflicts Duties).

PARTICULARS

163.1 The Plaintiff relies on paragraphs 77 to 84, 91 to 96 and 106 to 119 above.

163.2 The Directors (and each of them) designed and/or engineered the Share Issuance, having sought legal advice in relation to the powers conferred on them as Directors of the Company, for the improper purpose of:

(a) diluting without any proper reason or corporate purpose the existing Participating Shareholders and/or depriving the ability of the Supporting Organisations to continue to comprise a majority of the Participating Shareholders.

(b) inserting DFW as a new Participating Shareholder, an entity under the sole control of Mr Patrick, to obstruct and/or prejudice and/or adversely affect the exercise of a Participating Shareholders' right to petition for the just and equitable winding-up of the Company.

163.3 The Directors (and each of them) acted when each of them:

(a) knew or ought to have known the issue and allotment of shares at par to DFW was of no benefit to the Company.

(b) knew or ought to have known that the exercise of the power to issue shares and allot them to DFW was for the improper purpose of diluting the interest of the Original Participating Shareholders.

(c) knew or ought to have known that the Share Issue Resolution and/or the Share Issuance or otherwise the issue and/or allotment of shares to DFW was a response to the prospect that the Supporting Organisations might present a petition for the winding-up of the Company on a just and equitable basis, as indeed they did on 10 April 2025 in ignorance of the Share Issue Resolution and/or the Share Issuance or otherwise the issue and/or allotment of shares to DFW.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(d) knew or ought to have known that the sole or primary purpose of the Share Issue Resolution and/or the Share Issuance or otherwise the issue and/or allotment of shares to DFW was to insert a new majority Participating Shareholder (under their or at least Mr Patrick's control) into the Company's share capital structure to (if they or at least Mr Patrick deemed fit) to oppose the actions of the Supporting Organisations and/or the Original Participating Shareholders, both in relation to any potential contributories' winding-up petition and otherwise, and/or to obstruct and/or prejudice and/or adversely affect the exercise at any time of any rights of the Supporting Organisations as Participating Shareholders.

163.4 Mr Patrick designed and/or directed and/or effected the Share Issuance in his capacity as Director of the Company, even though he was 'President' of DFW and the sole member and the sole director of DFW.

163.5 It can be inferred, and is averred, that Mr Patrick was drawing fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits from DFW (if not also from CDM) without the full authorisation or full and informed consent of the Company.

164 By reason of the foregoing breaches of duty or any of them:

164.1 the Share Issue Resolution and/or the Share Issuance or otherwise the issue and/or allotment of shares to DFW is void, alternatively voidable and hereby avoided.

164.2 DFW holds its shares on trust or constructive trust for the Company.

164.3 DFW is required to concur in the rescission of the allotment and to re-transfer its shares to the Company on the basis of such trust or constructive trust and/or on a restitutionary and/or on a proprietary basis.

164.4 The Company's register of shareholders shall be rectified accordingly.

Admission and Redemption

165 The Directors (and each of them), in procuring or entering into the Admission Agreement and the Redemption Agreement, and/or in procuring, directing or effecting the Redemption acted in breach of their duties to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty, the Proper Purpose Rule and the Reasonable Care Duty. Additionally, Mr Patrick, in procuring or entering into the Admission Agreement and the Redemption Agreement, or in procuring, directing or effecting the Redemption as set out above, acted in breach of his duties to the Company, including the No Self-Dealing Rule, No Profit Duty, and No-Conflicts Duty (First and Second No-Conflicts Duties).

PARTICULARS

165.1 The Plaintiff relies on paragraphs 120 to 150 above.

165.2 The Directors (and each of them) acted when each of them:

(a) knew or ought to have known that:

(i) proceeding on the basis of the Seyfarth/Mancino letter to the IRS dated 20 March 2025 was flawed or unreasonable.

(ii) proceeding was not a proper or proportionate response to any genuinely perceived risk about U.S. tax concerns.

(iii) the tax-exempt status of the HDF was of no concern or no reasonable concern to the Company.

(iv) proceeding on the basis of the March 2025 Valuation and the FTI Report was flawed in that: (i) the 99.2% discount in value proposed by the ValueScope Report was a manifestly excessive discount, and resulted in the Company parting with its indirect ownership of 99% of the economic interest in the Fund (which had net assets worth c. US$270 million) for a mere US$1,637,192; and (ii) as pleaded above, the FTI Report expressly stated that "this memo should not be used to support a transaction."

(v) the Admission Agreement and the Redemption Agreement were steps in a series of connected transactions, including those pursuant to the CDM Assignment, the Share Issuance, under which the Directors were able to and ultimately did procure the extinguishment of the Company's interest in the Fund, through the redemption of the Company's membership interest in CDM, for an undervalue.

(b) knew or ought to have known that the sole or primary purpose of the Admission Agreement, the Redemption Agreement and the Redemption was to ensure that the Company was fully and finally deprived of an asset (its interest in the Fund) at an undervalue; and to enable a third party, DFW, controlled by Mr Patrick, to procure ownership of an interest in the Fund in complete replacement of the Company.

165.3 Mr Patrick designed and/or negotiated and/or directed and/or effected the Admission Agreement, the Redemption Agreement and the Redemption as Director of the Company, even though he was Manager of CDM and 'President' of DFW, sole member of CDM and sole member and sole director of DFW.

166 By reason of the foregoing breaches of duty or any of them:

166.1 DFW holds the CDM Membership Interest on trust or constructive trust for the Company.

166.2 DFW is required to concur in the transfer of the CDM Membership Interest to the Company or as the Company directs on the basis of such trust or constructive trust and/or on a restitutionary and/or on a proprietary basis.

Further claims against Mr Murphy

167 In respect of any breach of duty as set out above for which Mr Patrick alone is liable:

167.1 At all material times, Mr Murphy worked in close concert with Mr Patrick, including at his direction.

167.2 Mr Murphy knew or ought to have known all the facts and matters pleaded above as known or ought to have been known by Mr Patrick.

167.3 Mr Murphy knew or ought to have known of all the facts and matters pertaining to such breach or breaches by Mr Patrick.

167.4 Mr Murphy took no steps to stop Mr Patrick or to prevent or report the breach or breaches of duty by Mr Patrick.

167.5 Mr Murphy accepted and acquiesced in all steps and actions suggested, promoted or effected by Mr Patrick.

167.6 Mr Murphy accepted and acquiesced in the breach or breaches of duty by Mr Patrick.

167.7 As a consequence, Mr Murphy has acted in breach of his duties to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty and the Reasonable Care Duty.

Directors' Fees, Remuneration and Expenses

168 The Company is still unclear as to what precise fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits were afforded to the Directors and from what source, and as to the proper expenses of the Company, in the period after March 2021 and thus reserves its position.

169 As is pleaded above in paragraphs 85 to 89, the Directors approved large increases for Mr Patrick's remuneration, benefits or emoluments: by around 1 October 2024, Mr Patrick's remuneration comprised a base salary of US$850,000, a bonus of 2.5 times that base salary, an LTI incentive payment of US$975,000; for the period March 2021 to March 2024, Mr Patrick was entitled to an aggregate LTI payment of US$4,759,000; and eligibility for discretionary and annual bonuses in addition, to be determined at the sole and absolute discretion of the Directors. By contrast, Mr Scott's annual salary and entire benefits during his tenure in the Control Position was US$60,000.

170 Insofar as the Directors (or each of them) approved of or procured any payment or benefit to or for Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy more than the sum of US$60,000 per annum each in respect of fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits, such sum was excessive and conferred in breach of duty to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty, the Proper Purpose Rule, the first No-Conflicts Duty, the No Self-Dealing Rule and the Reasonable Care Duty.

171 Further, as is pleaded above, the Directors (or each of them) approved or caused the payment of considerable sums by way of expenses, amounting for example to US$18.3 million for the first half of 2024, and US$18.6 million spent over 2023. Such expenses may include the expenses incurred in effecting the transactions which are the subject matter of these proceedings. The reasonableness or bona fides of these expenses is not accepted by the Company.

172 The Company claims:

172.1 Full information, documents and discovery as to the fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits or expenses paid or claimed by Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy and each of them since March 2021.

172.2 Full information, documents and discovery as to expenses incurred by the Company or the Fund or any of the Fund's subsidiaries or investments since March 2021.

172.3 Repayment to the Company of all fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits paid or claimed by Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy and each of them in excess of US$60,000 per annum; together with all improperly paid expenses caused or procured by Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy (or damages or equitable compensation in relation thereto).

Unlawful Means Conspiracy

173 The facts and matters pleaded above amount to an unlawful means conspiracy as follows:

173.1 It is unclear when the conspiracy began but it appears to have started by around the start of 2024.

173.2 The original conspirators were Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy. The Company is unaware of the circumstances in which Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy agreed or combined and is unable to plead further pending further information or discovery.

173.3 As they were incorporated and participated in the facts and matters pleaded above, the New GP, CDM and DFW joined the conspiracy but remain liable in damages for all losses, including prior to joining the conspiracy.

173.4 The conspiracy was a conspiracy to injure the Company.

173.5 The overt acts of the conspiracy were all the facts and matters pleaded above, including as breaches by Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

67

173.6 The unlawful means of the conspiracy were all the facts and matters pleaded above as breaches of duty by Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy.

173.7 Each of the conspirators intended to injure the Company. This averment is an inference from all the facts and matters pleaded above.

173.8 As a consequence, the Company has suffered loss and damage, as a result of the Restructuring, the CDM Assignment, and the Admission and Redemption, and the combined effect thereof, as set out above.

Proprietary claim and/or unconscionable receipt

174 The facts and matters pleaded above give rise to claims by the Company for unconscionable receipt as follows:

174.1 CDM received the Company's Partnership Interest in the Fund under the CDM Assignment.

174.2 The knowledge of CDM was and is that of Mr Patrick.

174.3 The breaches of duty in relation to the CDM Assignment above are relied upon.

174.4 CDM knew that the CDM Assignment was at an undervalue and that causing or procuring the Company to enter into the CDM Assignment was a breach of fiduciary duty by Mr Patrick and/or Mr Murphy.

174.5 By reason of the foregoing, it is unconscionable for CDM to retain the Partnership Interest in the Fund and CDM is liable to account to the Company in equity, by restoring Partnership Interest in the Fund to the Company and/or accounting for any profits or otherwise accounting to the Company in equity.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

Unjust Enrichment

175 In receiving the Company's Partnership Interest in the Fund, CDM was unjustly enriched at the Company's expense and is liable to the Company in restitution:

175.1 The Partnership Interest was transferred on the basis that there was a valid assignment agreement effecting that transfer.

175.2 That basis has totally failed, the CDM Assignment being either void, or avoided hereby.

Alter Ego and Lifting the Corporate Veil

176 In order to obtain the return to it of the Partnership Interest in the Fund, together with an Account of Profits, the Company does not need as a matter of law to make any allegation of "alter ego" or to lift the corporate veil in relation to CDM or DFW.

177 If, contrary to the paragraph above, the Company does so need, it makes the following allegations for the purposes of all relevant claims or causes of action set out above.

177.1 CDM is the "alter ego" of Mr Patrick.

177.2 DFW is the "alter ego" of Mr Patrick.

177.3 In relation to the receipt of any property by CDM directly or indirectly from the Company or the accrual of any profits or benefits by reason of such receipt, the corporate veil should be lifted, with the consequence that such receipt and such profits or benefits should be treated as those of Mr Patrick personally.

177.4 In relation to the receipt of any property by DFW directly or indirectly from the Company or the accrual of any profits or benefits by reason of such receipt, the corporate veil should be lifted, with the consequence that such receipt and such profits or benefits should be treated as those of Mr Patrick personally.

(iv) DFW was incorporated at Mr Patrick's instigation in order to enter into a transaction whereby it would in effect take over the Company's interest in CDM pursuant to the CDM Assignment.

Counsel for The Dugaboy Investment Trust

IN THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
DALLAS DIVISION

In re	§	Chapter 11
HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P.,	§	Case No. 19-34054-sgj11
Reorganized Debtor.[1]	§

THE DUGABOY INVESTMENT TRUST'S MOTION TO STAY 9019 ORDER

The Dugaboy Investment Trust ("Dugaboy") hereby files this Motion to Stay 9019 Order and would respectfully show the court the following:

[1] The Fifth Amended Plan of Reorganization of Highland Capital Management, L.P., (As Modified) [Dkt. 1808] ("Plan"), filed by Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("HCMLP") became effective on August 11, 2021 (the "Effective Date").

I. SUMMARY OF MOTION

1. On June 30, 2025, the Court signed its Order Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and 11 U.S.C. § 363 Approving Settlement Between the Highland Entities and the HMIT Entities and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith ("9019 Order") [Dkt. No. 4297]. Dugaboy files this motion seeking a 90-day stay of the 9019 Order so that it and other parties can investigate the allegations made in the recently filed request for a stay of all Highland bankruptcy proceedings made by the Texas Attorney General, and the complaint (the "JOL Petition") the Joint Official Liquidators ("JOL") of Charitable DAF HoldCo LTD ("Holdco")filed on July 15, 2025, by. That Petition, annexed hereto as Exhibit A, outlines a massive fraudulent scheme.

2. According to the JOL Petition, Mark Patrick manipulated the ownership of the HMIT entities to convert $270 million of assets and pay himself and co-conspiring professionals millions that were supposed to be used for the benefit of the long-established charities, including assets Dugaboy and its beneficiary, James Dondero, contributed to the Charitable DAF for the benefit of the charities supported by Dugaboy. The Dallas Foundation, The Greater Kansas City Foundation, The Santa Barbara Foundation, and the Community Foundation of North Texas (the "Charities" or the "Participating Shareholders") were left with nothing in favor of a new entity with no track record or professional staff run out of Mr. Patrick's house.[2] This Court should stay any transfers of assets to the control of Mr. Patrick, given that his express instructions to create a web of new entities that were: "Whatever from a strategic point of view - hard to find or track, or trace. Or find owners etc. Generic name. Strong litigation protection." JOL Petition ¶ 82. A clearer indication of an intention to abscond with assets could hardly be found.

[2] The interests of the charities are affected through supporting organizations who for ease of reference are included in the definition of "Charities" and "Participating Shareholders" for the purposes of this Motion.

3. The relief sought in this Motion is necessary to provide all stakeholders with time to investigate a motion under Rule 60 to vacate the 9019 Order (and all resulting orders, such as the dismissals effected as a result of the 9019 Order) in light of evidence suggesting that the settlement approved by this Court was a key element of the alleged fraudulent scheme. Transfers of assets to companies controlled by Mr. Patrick must be halted, lest those assets are moved to companies "hard to find or track."

II. ARGUMENT

A. The Court Enters the 9019 Order Over the Objection of Dugaboy

4. On May 19, 2025, a Motion for Entry of an Order Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and 11 U.S.C. § 363 Approving Settlement with the HMIT Entities and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [Docket No. 4216] (the "Motion") was filed by Highland Capital Management, L.P.'s ("Debtor" or "Highland"), the Highland Claimant Trust (the "Claimant Trust"), and the Highland Litigation Sub-Trust (the "Litigation Sub-Trust").

5. Over the objection of several parties, including Dugaboy, on June 30, 2025, the Court signed its Order Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and 11 U.S.C. § 363 Approving Settlement Between the Highland Entities and the HMIT Entities and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith ("9019 Order") [Dkt. No. 4297].

6. At the hearing Dugaboy presented the Court with the letter request of the JOLs to stay the proceeding for 45 days pending their investigation, but the Court entered the 9019 Order. Transcript of Hearing on June 25, 2025 on 9019 Motion ("9019 Tr.") at 189:22-191:1.

B. The JOL Files a Complaint Alleging Illegal Acts by Mr. Patrick

7. The JOL Petition makes serious allegations against Mr. Patrick.

8. Specifically, the Complaint alleges that Mr. Patrick, a director and sole Management Shareholder of HoldCo, unbeknownst to the Charities (holders of the Participating Shares of HoldCo)

: (1) caused HoldCo to assign its interest in certain assets to a Delaware limited liability company formed and controlled by Mr. Patrick; (2) caused HoldCo to issue Participating Shares to a Delaware company incorporated and controlled by Mr. Patrick; (3) caused the Delaware limited liability company to redeem HoldCo's membership interest; and (4) caused HoldCo to be placed into voluntary liquidation after making a final distribution to the Participating Shareholders in HoldCo. JOL Petition at ¶¶ 6-6.4. These machinations are referred to in the JOL Petition and herein as the "restructuring."

9. As the Complaint states, the restructuring was undertaken specifically to bring ownership of these assets, with a net value of $270 million (as of September 30, 2024), under Mr. Patrick's effective control, with the express purpose of leaving the Charities, as the original, and rightful, ultimate beneficiaries of the fund, with nothing. JOL Petition at ¶ 7. Mr. Patrick testified that the "entity in liquidation [Holdco] owns nothing," confirming the conversion at the hearing on the 9019 Motion. 9019 Tr. 185:18-24) (Dkt. No. 4296).

10. In short, the JOL Petition details how Mr. Patrick caused HoldCo, originally the sole limited partner of Charitable DAF Fund, LP (the "Fund"), to sell off the Fund, with its $270 million in assets for $1.6 million, using manipulated and fraudulent valuations. JOL Petition ¶¶ 136-150.

11. Showing just how difficult it was to achieve his false valuation, Mr. Patrick initially sought to have PwC, which had historically conducted valuations of the HoldCo's assets and which had as recently as late 2024 confirmed the $270 million valuation, conduct a post "restructuring" valuation that would discount the value of the assets sufficiently to justify the sale of the Fund for $1.6 million. JOL Petition ¶¶ 123-125. PwC refused, saying it did not see a basis for the proposed discount. JOL Petition ¶125.

12. Undeterred, Mr. Patrick and the professionals assisting him sought a valuation from FTI Consulting in London ("FTI"). Using the fact that the charities could not force distributions, FTI authored a memo presuming one could assert a very small discount on the value of the Fund if the Charities were aligned with the Fund's mission, but a 95% discount if they were not. JOL Petition ¶¶ 126-128. Thus, if Mr. Patrick could arbitrarily say that the Funds were no longer aligned with the charities' missions (notwithstanding the fact that nothing had changed in the charities' missions) he could apparently say devalue the Fund. Id.

13. Indeed, the question Mr. Patrick's counsel posed to FTI was "would Mark still be able to shareholder structure to ensure the existing participating shareholders [the charities] got nothing?" JOL Petition ¶134. Ultimately, recognizing Mr. Patrick's clearly improper machinations, FTI refused to lift limits it had placed on use of its memo, cautioning Walkers, that its memo was "not a valuation" and could "not be used to support a transaction." JOL Petition ¶¶ 133, 135.

14. Thwarted by FTI, one of Mr. Patrick's United States counsel, Shields Legal, then asked a Dallas-based firm, Valuscope, to value the Fund, using a discounted cash flow ("DCF") analysis with a 99.2% discount for lack of control and an additional 20% discount for lack of marketability, with no justification for the use of a DCF analysis or either, let alone both, discounts. JOL Petition ¶¶ 139-45. This resulted in an astonishing purported 99.29% drop in the value of the assets in just a six-month period. On its face, this manipulation is fraudulent, but this is what was used to justify selling the Fund to an entity controlled by Mr. Patrick and owned by a new charity he owned and controlled for $1.6 million. That $1.6 million was distributed to the Charities, and then Mr. Patrick attempted to cover his tracks with an expedited voluntary liquidation process, controlled by Mr. Patrick's counsel with Kroll as the proposed liquidator, to sweep all of the wrongdoing under the rug. JOL Petition ¶ 151.

15. This effort was halted only because the Charities, not knowing of the pending liquidation effort, brought their own official liquidation proceeding in the Cayman Court. That proceeding resulted in the JOL being appointed and Kroll and Walkers resigning as proposed liquidators and counsel. JOL Petition ¶ 152-54.

16. The JOL's investigation revealed that Mr. Patrick:

a. increased the Directors' fees from $40,000 per annum in 2022 to $600,000 in 2023 and to $2.25 million for just the first half of 2024. JOL Petition ¶ 85;

b. added a salary for himself of $850,000 a year in September 2024; and

c. added a provision for a "long term incentive" ("LTI") tied to the Funds returns (when he is not a registered investment advisor, or any sort of financial advisor, for that matter, but simply a tax lawyer). JOL Petition ¶ 86. The LTI was 7.5% of the Funds returns over 10%, with a provision allowing for a greater bonus the more he spent on legal fees. JOL Petition ¶ 86.3.

What's troubling is that the LTI created an incentive to increase legal spending through the proliferation of lawyers and lawsuits, thereby increasing legal expenses and Mr. Patrick's personal bonuses.

17. Less than a month later, Mr. Patrick also gave himself an LTI payment of $975,000 and an annual discretionary bonus for 2023 of 2.5 times his annual salary. JOL Petition ¶¶ 87.1-87.2. He also gave himself a retroactive LTI payment for the period March 2023 to March 2024 of $4.8 million and authorized additional annual and discretionary bonuses at his sole and absolute discretion. Id. By contrast, the prior the prior controlling shareholder and director of Holdco and the Fund, Grant Scott, during his entire tenure was paid $60,000 a year. JOL Petition ¶ 88.

18. As a result, the JOL Petition alleges that Mr. Patrick's acts constitute breaches of fiduciary duty and seek to have a receiver appointed. JOL Petition ¶¶ 160-81.

C. The 9019 Order Should Be Reevaluated in Light of the Allegations in the JOL Complaint

19. These allegations are essential to evaluating or re-evaluating the 9019 Order for three primary reasons. First, a change in control of HoldCo will affect not just HoldCo, but all the companies owned and controlled by HoldCo, including Hunter Mountain and the entities that entered into the settlement agreement that is the subject of the 9019 Order.

20. The JOL, if they are able to rescind all of the restructuring, and on these facts it certainly appears that they will be able to do so, will be able to appoint new controlling persons in all the former subsidiaries. Then, under honest management, seeking the best for the Charities, the subsidiaries will determine what transactions to ratify and which to rescind or reform. This Court should stay the effectiveness of the 9019 Order to minimize what must be reformed or rescinded.

21. Second, the allegations in the JOL Petition set forth a pattern of behavior by Mr. Patrick with respect to these entities and his self-dealing that unquestionably leads to the conclusion that the same illegal behavior could well have taken place with respect to the 9019 Order and the related settlement agreement. The newly discovered communications detailed throughout the JOL Petition show the steps that Mr. Patrick engaged in to effectuate his scheme. The HMIT Settlement occurred over the same time period, making it a part of that scheme.

22. Third, showing a real danger of manufactured evidence being used to justify the ends desired, Mr. Patrick purported to justify his actions by contending that Mr. Dondero was imperiling the charities' 501(c)(3) status (JOL Petition ¶ 146.1), using an opinion of counsel that post-dated all of the planning for the restructuring (JOL Petition ¶ 146.5). Creating an echo chamber of evidence, he himself made false reports to the IRS to attempt to imperil the charities' tax-exempt status. JOL Petition ¶¶ 113, 146.4. These acts demonstrate that Mr. Patrick's actions and testimony with respect to the 9019 Order must be examined and evaluated.

D. The Highland Entities Allowed These Illegal Acts to Proceed Uninvestigated

23. It is also important to note the Highland Entities' role in allowing their 9019 Motion to proceed and the 9019 Order to be entered in light of the above. While the Highland Entities claim they performed due diligence with respect to the transactions at issue in the 9019 Order, including the authority of Mr. Patrick, to agree to the settlement agreement (9019 Tr. 97:12-17) (Dkt. No. 4296), they did not know of the alleged improprieties raised above. Instead, they elected to look only at the organizational documents (9019 Tr. 98:6-23) and ignored the Cayman proceeding, Mr. Seery was "hesitant" to even say he was "generally" aware of the Cayman proceeding (9019 Tr. 98:24-99:1). Moreover, with respect to Mr. Dondero's complaints about what Mr. Patrick was doing to the Charities, counsel for the Highland Entities stated: "Mr. Patrick, I don't know what happened between him and Mr. Dondero. I don't care. I have no knowledge of that." (9019 61:25-62:1) (Dkt. No. 4296). The transcript evidences that the HCMLP entities ignored the Cayman proceeding to rush through the 9019 Settlement before evidence of the fraud could be presented to this Court.

E. The Texas Attorney General Requests Additional Time to Investigate These Allegations

24. On July 9, 2009, the Office of the Texas Attorney General wrote a letter to the Court asking the Court to enter a stay of this bankruptcy proceeding because it was investigating conduct allegedly taken by persons or entities in this bankruptcy proceeding. Dkt. No. 4308. Upon information and belief, Mr. Patrick and the entities he controls, as well as the 9019 Order, are the subject of this investigation. This request of the Texas Attorney General is consistent with what Dugaboy seeks by way of this motion and therefore Dugaboy urges the Court to follow this recommendation so that the Texas Attorney General will have an adequate opportunity to address the illegal and inequitable conduct by Mr. Patrick and his entities that are being investigated by the JOL.

25. These allegations rise to the level of a basis for a Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60 motion seeking reconsideration of the 9019 Order based on newly discovered evidence. Hesling v. CSX Transp., Inc., 396 F.3d 632, 638 (5th Cir. 2005) ("Rule 60(b)(2) provides that a court may relieve a party from a final judgment based on 'newly discovered evidence which by due diligence could not have been discovered in time to move for a new trial under Rule 59(b). Rule 60(b)(3) provides for relief based on 'fraud . . . misrepresentation, or other misconduct of an adverse party,' and Rule 60(b)(6) further provides for relief based on 'any other reason justifying relief from the operation of the judgment.' The purpose of Rule 60(b) is to balance the principle of finality of a judgment with the interest of the court in seeing that justice is done in light of the facts."). Entering a stay will preserve the status quo so that interested parties may conduct a sufficient investigation.

F. The Court Has the Power to Stay the 9019 Order for 90 Days.

26. Pursuant to Bankruptcy Code § 105(a), the Court "may issue any order . . . that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of [the Bankruptcy Code]." 11 U.S.C. § 105(a). Moreover, the Supreme Court has held: [T]he power to stay proceedings is incidental to the power inherent in every court to control the disposition of the causes on its docket with economy of time and effort for itself, for counsel, and for litigants. How this can best be done calls for the exercise of judgment, which must weigh competing interests and maintain an even balance. Landis v. N. Am. Co., 299 U.S. 248, 254-55 (1936).

27. This Court possesses broad discretion to grant stays, particularly where doing so is unlikely to cause harm to any other party. See, e.g., Fishman Jackson PLLC v. Israely, 180 F. Supp. 3d 476, 483 (N.D. Tex. 2016) ("Courts have 'broad' discretion to grant stay[s] . . . especially when there is not a 'fair possibility' that the stay 'will work damage to someone else.'"); In re Ramu Corp., 903 F.2d 312, 318 (5th Cir. 1990) ("The stay of a pending matter is ordinarily within the trial court's wide discretion to control the course of litigation . . . . This authority has been held to provide the court the 'general discretionary power to stay proceedings before it in control of its docket and in the interests of justice.'" (internal citations omitted)).

28. While stays should "not be immoderate or of an indefinite duration," Fishman, 180 F. Supp. 3d at 483, courts routinely grant stays of six months where doing so promotes judicial efficiency. See, e.g., 14th St. Props., LLC v. S. Fid. Ins. Co., No. CV 22-1593, 2023 WL 416317, at *1 (E.D. La. Jan. 26, 2023) (granting stay and administratively closing matter for six months due to state insolvency proceedings); Integrated Claims Sys., LLC v. Old Glory Ins. Co., No. 2:15CV-00412-JRG, 2020 WL 1027771, at *1 (E.D. Tex. Mar. 3, 2020) (granting motion to stay for six months); Cleveland Air Serv., Inc. v. Pratt & Whitney Canada, No. 4:13-CV-161-DMB-DAS, 2016 WL 4179987, at *2 n.3 (N.D. Miss. Aug. 5, 2016) (staying discovery for six months); Maples v. Donzinger, No. CIV.A. 13-223, 2014 WL 688965, at *2 (E.D. La. Feb. 21, 2014) (granting a six month stay).

29. Courts have also granted stays which may only be lifted by the parties after a determined time. See, e.g., Scarborough v. Integricert, LLC, No. 6-12-CV-00396, 2014 WL 12662272, at *3 (W.D. La. Apr. 4, 2014) ("Lastly, this Court's intention is not to stay the case for an indefinite period. To the contrary, the Court will issue a stay for a period of one-hundred and twenty days, at the end of which, either party may move to lift the stay upon a showing of good cause. Thus, the stay will not last for an 'indefinite' period such as Scarborough fears.").

30. Consistent with these authorities, the implementation of the 9019 Order should be stayed for 90 days in the interests of judicial economy and efficiency in order to allow Dugaboy and other interested parties sufficient time to investigate the allegations in the JOL Petition. A grant of the requested stay will enable the Court to fairly evaluate the putative settlement between the Highland Entities and the HMIT Entities.

31. Additionally, a stay will benefit the Highland Entities, the HMIT Entities, and estate stakeholders, not harm them. All parties undoubtedly want certainty regarding the legitimacy and future enforceability of their actions and bargains. For example, if the Cayman Proceeding determines that Mr. Patrick may retain his control position in the DAF and its subsidiaries, then such a decision would likely remove any additional obstacles to the HMIT settlement. By contrast, if the Cayman Proceeding subsequently determines that Mr. Patrick engaged in ultra vires acts or acted without appropriate authority, that decision could throw the settlement, and all subsequent actions taken in furtherance of the settlement, into question.

32. In sum, the Court has broad discretion to enter a stay of not more than six months (and the requested 90 days is half of what other courts have allowed) - which is neither "immoderate" nor "of an indefinite duration.." Fishman, 180 F. Supp. 3d at 483; see also McKnight v. Blanchard, 667 F.2d 477, 479 (5th Cir. 1982) (vacating indefinite stay that could last for seven years or longer where trial court "gave no reason for such a protracted stay"). The requested stay serves the interests of judicial economy, ensures efficient management of this bankruptcy proceeding, and is in the best interests of the parties to the putative settlement and all remaining stakeholders.

33. Therefore, Dugaboy requests that the Court adhere to the request by the Texas Attorney General and stay the 9019 Order for 90 days so that these newly discovered allegations can be investigated by Dugaboy and other stakeholders and a determination can be made as to whether a FRCP 60 motion is necessary.

III. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Dugaboy requests that the Court stay the 9019 Order for 90 days.

STATEMENT OF CLAIM

INTRODUCTION

1 The Plaintiff, Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd (in Official Liquidation) (the "Company"), is a Cayman Islands exempted company, incorporated on 27 October 2011, having its registered office at HSM Corporate Services Ltd, 68 Fort Street, George Town, PO Box 31726, Grand

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

Cayman KY1-1207. The authorised and issued share capital of the Company is divided into Participating Shares and Management Shares.

2 The Company was placed into court supervised liquidation and Margot MacInnis and Sandipan Bhowmik of Grant Thornton Specialist Services (Cayman) Limited were appointed as joint official liquidators (the "JOLs") pursuant to an order of this Honourable Court dated 6 May 2025.

3 The Company was, between November 2011 and 18 December 2024, the sole limited partner of Charitable DAF Fund, LP (the "Fund"). At all relevant times, the net asset value of the Fund's assets was c. US$270million.

4 The Fund is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed to invest and manage assets for the benefit or ultimate benefit of certain registered charitable organisations in the U.S. namely The Dallas Foundation; the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation; the Santa Barbara Foundation and The Community Foundation of North Texas (the "Charities"). These charities are the owners or the ultimate beneficial owners of Participating Shares in the Company.

5 In March 2021, Mark Patrick (the "First Defendant") was appointed the sole director and registered as the sole Management Shareholder of the Company. In April 2021, Paul Murphy (the "Second Defendant") was appointed by the First Defendant as a second director of Holdco.

6 By virtue of a series of transactions or purported transactions between March 2024 and March 2025, unbeknownst to the holders of the Participating Shares (the "Participating Shareholders") of the Company, Mr Patrick caused:

6.1 the Company, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, to assign its interest in the Fund to the Third Defendant, a Delaware limited liability company, formed in December 2024 and controlled by Mr Patrick, in exchange for a membership interest in that entity;

6.2 the Company, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, to issue and allot further Participating Shares (representing a majority of the issued participating share capital) to the Fourth Defendant, a Delaware company, incorporated in December 2024 and controlled by Mr Patrick;

6.3 the Third Defendant to redeem the Company's membership interest in the Third Defendant for a consideration of c. US$1.6 million, representing approximately 0.59% of the total net asset value of the assets held by the Fund; and

6.4 the Company, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, to be placed into voluntary liquidation after having made a final distribution to all Original Participating Shareholders (defined below) in the Company of the proceeds of redemption, collectively the "Impugned Transactions".

7 The First and Second Defendants effected the Impugned Transactions in breach of their fiduciary and other duties to the Company in order to bring ownership of the Fund and its assets, with a net value of c. US$270 million (as assessed at 30 September 2024), under Mr Patrick's effective control to the exclusion of the interests of the Charities. The Charities, as the original, and rightful, ultimate beneficiaries of the Fund, have been left with nothing.

8 Further, during the period March 2021 to June 2024, the First and Second Defendants, in breach of fiduciary duty, caused the Company to pay excessive fees and expenses to Mr Patrick.

THE PARTIES

The Company

9 The Company is a Cayman Islands exempted company, incorporated on 27 October 2011, having its registered office at HSM Corporate Services Limited, Ltd, 68 Fort Street, George Town, PO Box 31726, Grand Cayman, KY1-1207, Cayman Islands.

10 The directors of the Company are Mr Patrick (appointed on 25 March 2021) and Mr Murphy (appointed by Mr Patrick on 22 April 2021).

11 The Company has been governed by the following memorandum and articles of association from time to time:

11.1 The memorandum and articles of association dated 27 October 2011; and

11.2 The amended and restated memoranda and articles of association dated 19 January 2015; 24 January 2024; and 20 February 2025 respectively.

The Company remains governed by the memorandum and articles of association as amended and restated on 20 February 2025 (the "Articles") save that the Company reserves the right to challenge the validity of the Articles.

12 Save as set out above, the Company will rely on the Articles and all previous iterations for their applicable full terms and effect.

13 Pursuant to the Articles and at all relevant times, the authorised share capital of the Company was US$50,000 divided into 100 Management Shares of US$0.01 par value each and 4,999,900 Participating Shares of US$0.01 par value each.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

14 The Articles (with reference to the defined term of 'Restricted Person') require that the Participating Shareholders must at all times qualify as a tax-exempt organisation pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986 ("IRC").

15 The Participating Shares do not have voting rights but confer the right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company including by way of the receipt of dividends (Article 12).

16 The Management Shares have voting rights but confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company (Article 11).

17 The Participating Shareholders therefore have the entirety of the economic interest in the Company, whereas the Management Shareholders have the control rights.

18 On 7 November 2011, the Company issued:

18.1 300 Participating Shares to The Highland Capital Management Partners Charitable Trust #2 ("Trust #2"); and

18.2 100 Management Shares to Grant Scott.

19 On 30 November 2011, Trust #2 transferred its 300 Participating Shares equally amongst:

19.1 Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc.;

19.2 Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc.[1]; and

19.3 Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc.,

collectively, the "Supporting Organisations".

[1]Since June 2024, Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. has also done business as 'NexPoint Philanthropies Dallas, Inc.', per an Assumed Name Certificate filed with the Secretary of State of Texas.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

20 On 12 August 2015, the Company issued 5 Participating Shares to the Community Foundation of North Texas, ("CFNT", and together with the Supporting Organisations the "Original Participating Shareholders") for Highland Capital Management, L.P. Charitable Fund at CFNT.

21 On 25 March 2021, the Management Shares were transferred to Mr Patrick and he continues to hold these shares.

22 The Participating Shares held by the Original Participating Shareholders represented the entire issued Participating Share capital of the Company until 7 February 2025. On that date, Mr Patrick, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, caused the Company to issue 318 Participating Shares to the Fourth Defendant, DFW Charitable Foundation ("DFW"), significantly diluting the shareholdings of the Original Participating Shareholders and the indirect economic interest of the Charities.

23 Until 18 December 2024, the sole asset of the Company was its limited partnership interest in the Fund (the "Partnership Interest").

24 As a result of the Impugned Transactions, the Company now has no material assets.

DFW

25 DFW (the Fourth Defendant) is a non-profit non-stock corporation incorporated in Delaware on 9 December 2024, which is organised under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware exclusively for charitable purposes.

26 DFW is the majority Participating Shareholder of the Company by virtue of the purported share issuance on 7 February 2025, and Mr Patrick is its registered director, president and sole member.

The Fund

27 The Fund is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed on 28 October 2011 (registration no. 53083), having its registered office at Campbells Corporate Services Ltd, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman, KY1-9010, Cayman Islands.

28 The Fund is governed by the Second Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement dated 11 March 2024 (the "LPA"). The initial exempted limited partnership agreement of the Fund was dated 25 October 2011, was amended and restated on 7 November 2011 and further amended on 26 July 2022 (with effect from 24 March 2021). The Company will rely on the LPA for its applicable full terms and effect.

29 Mr Patrick was instrumental in the establishment of the Company, the Fund and the Fund structure.

30 Until 18 December 2024, the Company was the sole limited partner of the Fund.

31 On 18 December 2024, Mr Patrick, with the agreement and concurrence of Mr Murphy, caused the Company to transfer its limited partnership interest to CDMCFAD, LLC ("CDM") (the Third Defendant) in exchange for a membership interest in CDM.

32 The original general partner of the Fund was Charitable DAF GP, LLC (the "Original GP"), a Delaware limited liability company registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. The Original GP was the general partner from the Fund's formation until 7 March 2024.

33 On 7 March 2024, the Original GP was replaced by CDH GP, Ltd. (the "New GP") (the Fifth Defendant).

34 The sole asset of the Fund is its 100% shareholding in CLO HoldCo, Ltd. ("CLO HoldCo") (the Sixth Defendant), a Cayman Islands exempted company incorporated with limited liability, having its registered office address located at Campbells Corporate Services Limited, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman KY1-9010, Cayman Islands.

35 The assets of the Fund were valued at c. $270 million in September 2024.

The New GP

36 The New GP (the Fifth Defendant) is a Cayman Islands exempted company incorporated on 27 February 2024, having its registered office located at Campbells Corporate Services Limited, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman KY1-9010, Cayman Islands.

37 Mr Patrick is the New GP's sole director and sole shareholder.

38 The New GP is a defendant to these proceedings in two capacities: (i) in its capacity as General Partner; and (ii) for and on behalf of the Fund in order to join the Fund as a defendant to these proceedings.

CDM

39 CDM (the Third Defendant) is a limited liability company incorporated in Delaware on 12 December 2024, having its registered address c/o The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware, 19801.

40 CDM is governed by the terms of a Limited Liability Company Agreement dated 18 December 2024.

41 Since 18 December 2024, the primary asset of CDM has been the limited partnership interest in the Fund.

42 The sole manager of CDM is Mark Patrick.

43 From 18 December 2024 to 27 March 2025, the sole member of CDM was the Company.

53 Upon the formation of the Fund, the Company was admitted as a limited partner and, by way of capital contribution, contributed all of the outstanding equity interests in CLO HoldCo to the Fund.

54 The purpose of the Fund was to make investments for the ultimate benefit of the Original Participating Shareholders and the Charities:

[2]Mr Murphy was appointed to the board of directors of the following entities on 22 April 2021; Liberty CLO Holdco, Ltd., Liberty Sub, Ltd., HCT Holdco 2, Ltd. and MGM Studios Holdco, Ltd. at the same time as Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd and CLO HoldCo, Ltd.

54.3 Clause 1.6(a) of the LPA provides that "the Partnership's assets and investments shall be for the benefit of the Limited Partners and not for the economic benefit of the General Partner".

54.4 "Indirect Charitable Owners" is defined in the LPA as "the indirect equity owners of the Limited Partners which shall at all times be entities or organizations exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code or entities or organizations whose sole beneficiaries are entities or organizations exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code." i.e., the Company's Participating Shareholders or the Charities.

54.5 Clause 4.2(a) of the LPA provides that "Distributions shall be made to the Limited Partner at the times, in a manner (including in kind) and in the aggregate amounts determined by the General Partner, after taking into consideration available cash and the needs of the Indirect Charitable Owners of the Limited Partner for funds to cover their administrative and operating expenses…".

54.6 The LPA does not modify the statutory duty of the General Partner to act in good faith and in the interests of the Fund.

THE TAX STRUCTURE

58 As a matter of U.S. tax law, in order for the Supported Organisations to benefit from distributions from the Fund in a tax efficient manner, it was necessary for them to hold their interests through an offshore corporate blocker entity, namely the Company:

60%, in the case of cash gifts) instead of the substantially lower threshold for contributions to private foundations (30% of adjusted gross income, regardless of the character of the contribution).

64 The Supporting Organisations are "Type I" tax exempt organisations under the IRC which means they must be organised and operated exclusively to support and benefit their relevant charity and controlled by that charity:

64.1 S509(a)(3) of the IRC contains the qualifications for a "supporting organisation". Under that section, a supporting organisation is a tax-exempt entity that must be organised and then operate exclusively for either (i) the benefit of, (ii) to perform the functions of, or (iii) to carry out the purposes of one or more supported organisations. The supported organisations must also be s501(c)(3) entities;

64.2 There are three types of supporting organisations, known as “Type I”, “Type II” and “Type III”. S509(a)(3)(B)(i), (ii) and (iii) sets out the requirements for each “Type”, respectively;

64.3 S509(a)(3)(B)(i) provides that a Type I supporting organisation must be operated, supervised or controlled by the supported organisation; and

64.4 S509(a)(3)(C) provides that the supporting organisation may not be controlled by a disqualified person, other than the foundation managers and the supported organisation.

65 The Supporting Organisations are so controlled by the respective Supported Organisations.

66 The Supporting Organisations are governed by the terms of their respective Certificate of Incorporation and by-laws (the "Bylaws").

67 The Certificates of Incorporation provide (amongst other things) that:

67.1 the Supporting Organisation:

(a) is organised and shall be operated exclusively for charitable, educational and scientific purposes;

(b) is organised and operated exclusively to support and benefit the particular charity that controls it; and

(c) is a non-profit non-stock corporation and cannot issue any capital stock;

67.2 no part of the net earnings of the Supporting Organisation shall be distributable to the directors and officers of the Supporting Organisation or other private persons save that the Supporting Organisation can pay reasonable compensation for services rendered; and

67.3 net earnings can be used to make grants, loans and similar payments for charitable, educational and scientific purposes to benefit the relevant Supported Organisation.

68 The Bylaws provide that (amongst other things):

68.1 There are two classes of members of the Supporting Organisations with one member in each such class:

(a) the institutional member (the "Institutional Member") which shall be the Supported Organisation; and

(b) the individual member (the "Individual Member") which shall be Mr Dondero or an individual designated as the Individual Member in the Bylaws.

68.2 In terms of voting on a matter submitted to a vote of the members (except as otherwise provided in the Bylaws):

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(a) the Institutional Member is entitled to two votes; and

(b) the Individual Member is entitled to one vote.

68.3 Institutional membership is not transferable or assignable.

68.4 Individual membership is transferable or assignable only upon approval of the Institutional Member.

68.5 Both the Institutional Member and the Individual Member must be present in person or by represented proxy to constitute a quorum at all meetings of members.

68.6 There shall be three directors of the board of the Supporting Organisation. Two directors shall be elected annually by the Institutional Member and one director shall be elected annually by the Individual Member.

69 The relationship between the Supporting Organisations and their respective Supported Organisation are governed by separate operating/legal relationship agreements (collectively "Operating Agreements"). These agreements provide, among other things, that:

69.1 the Supported Organisation will provide certain services to the Supporting Organisation;

69.2 the Supported Organisation will appoint two of the three directors of the Supporting Organisation as required by Bylaws; and

69.3 in consideration for the services provided by the Supported Organisation to the Supporting Organisation, the Supporting Organisation shall pay a fee to the Supported Organisation.

70 Mr Dondero sits on the board of each of the Supporting Organisations with two other directors from each of the Supported Organisations respectively.

71 The relationships, rights and obligations created by and between the Supported Organisations and the Supporting Organisations pursuant to the agreements entered into between them were at all material times in summary that:

71.1 the Supported Organisations control the Supporting Organisations through their majority voting interest and their ability to elect a majority of the directors of the Supporting Organisations;

71.2 the Supporting Organisations support the Supported Organisations by way of making grants to them from time to time from their assets, including any dividends received from the Company;

71.3 the Supporting Organisations have no ability to pay dividends to any private person or make payments to their directors (save reasonable reimbursement for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses) and can only make grants to the relevant Charity in furtherance of their charitable purposes; and

71.4 while Mr Dondero sits on the board of the Supporting Organisations, he does not control them, as a supermajority of the votes are always held by the respective Charity.

72 The Company will rely on the Certificates of Incorporation, Bylaws, Operating Agreements and terms of the IRC for their applicable full terms and effect.

THE CONTROL POSITION OF MR PATRICK OVER THE COMPANY AND THE FUND

73 The terms of the LPA grant sole control over the management and distribution of the Fund's assets to the General Partner. The terms of the Articles grant sole control over the management and distribution of the Company's assets to the Management Shareholder.

The LPA

73.1 Clause 1.12

(i) The term "General Partner" shall refer to Charitable DAF GP, LLC, and each other person subsequently admitted as a general partner pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. The General Partner shall give each Limited Partner notice of any change in control of the General Partner. The General Partner shall give each Limited Partner notice of the admission of any additional general partner to the Partnership.

73.2 Clause 1.6

(i) Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the General Partner shall have full, exclusive and complete discretion in the management and control of the business and affairs of the Partnership, shall make all decisions regarding the business of the Partnership, and shall have all of the rights, powers and obligations of a general partner of a limited partnership under the laws of the Cayman Islands. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, the General Partner is hereby granted the right, power and authority to do on behalf of the Partnership all things which, in the General Partner's sole discretion, are necessary or appropriate to manage the Partnership's affairs and fulfill the purposes of the Partnership; provided, however the Partnership's assets and investments shall be for the benefit of the Limited Partners and not for the economic benefit of the General Partner.

(ii) Except as otherwise provided herein, the Limited Partners, in their capacity as Limited Partners, shall not participate in the management of or have any control over the Partnership's business nor shall the Limited Partners have the power to represent, act for, sign for or bind the General Partner or the Partnership. The Limited Partners hereby consent to the exercise by the General Partner of the Powers conferred on it by this Agreement.

The Articles

73.3 Article 11

The Management Shares shall be issued at par value and shall carry the right to receive notice of and to attend, to speak at and to vote at any general meeting of the Company. In the event of a winding up or dissolution of the Company, whether voluntary or involuntary or for the purposes of a reorganization or otherwise or upon any distribution of capital, the entitlement of the holders of Management Shares shall be determined in accordance with these Articles. Management Shares confer no other right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company.

73.4 Article 12

Participating Shares shall confer upon a Shareholder no right to receive notice of, to attend, to speak at nor to vote at general meetings of the Company but shall confer upon the Shareholders rights in a winding-up or repayment of capital and the right to participate in the profits or assets of the Company in accordance with these Articles.

73.5 Article 13

…the rights attached to any such Class may… only be materially adversely varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued Participating Shares of the relevant Class or with the sanction of a resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Participating Shares of such Class by a majority of two-thirds of the votes case at such a meeting.

thereby assuming the Control Position from that date.

74.2 In or around 24 March 2021, Mr Scott:

(a) assigned 100% of the membership interest in the Original GP to Mr Patrick pursuant to an Assignment and Assumption of Membership Interests Agreement, which membership interest gave Mr Patrick the sole right to manage the Original GP;

(b) transferred to Mr Patrick the 100 Management Shares in the Company; and

(c) resigned as a director of the Company and resolved to appoint Mr Patrick as the sole director in his place.

74.3 On 25 March 2021, Mr Patrick was entered into the Company's Register of Members as the holder of the Management Shares.

74.4 Mr Patrick therefore assumed the Control Position from that date.

74.5 On 22 April 2021, Mr Patrick resolved to appoint Mr Murphy as a second director of the Company.

74.6 On 7 March 2024, by way of a Deed of Assignment and Assumption, Mr Patrick, as managing member of the Original GP, caused the Original GP to transfer its general partnership interest in the Fund to the New GP.

74.7 Mr Patrick is the sole shareholder and director of the New GP.

74.8 Mr Patrick therefore remains in the Control Position and was in such position at all relevant times since 25 March 2021.

75 Further, the sole asset of the Fund is its shares in CLO Holdco (the Sixth Defendant). Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy are the directors of CLO Holdco and were appointed on 2 April 2021 and 22 April 2021 respectively.

76 The Control Position was not and is not a term of art but was nevertheless a legal and factual position:

76.1 where a single individual was the sole Management, and therefore voting, Shareholder of the Company;

76.2 where the same individual was a director of the Company;

76.3 where the same individual was the sole shareholder or controller of the General Partner;

76.4 where the same individual was a director of the General Partner;

76.5 where the same individual was in complete and effective control of at least the Company, of the General Partner, of the Fund and of CLO Holdco;

76.6 where the same individual was in effective sole control of all assets of the Fund;

76.7 where the same individual had no economic, residual, beneficial or winding up interest in assets of the Company;

76.8 where the same individual had no economic, residual, beneficial or winding up interest in assets of the General Partner;

76.9 where the same individual had no economic, residual, beneficial or winding up interest in assets of the Fund;

(a) the Directors have power under the Articles to issue new Participating Shares that dilute the current Participating Shareholders, but must consider their fiduciary duties (including the duty to act in the best interests of the Company) when issuing such shares;

(b) the Participating Shares are non-redeemable;

(c) while payment of a dividend or other distribution is at the discretion of the Directors, if the Company were to have distributable reserves available, there may be a question of whether the Directors would be acting in its best interests to not pay some dividend or distribution; and

(d) the Directors have fiduciary duties to the Company which are paramount when considering (i) making a distribution and (ii) the distributable reserves available from which to make payments; they must have regard to what is in the Company's best interests, its future cash requirements, and its present and future solvency.

82 In February 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, Mr Patrick sought to form a new entity to replace the Original GP. On 5 February 2024, Walkers emailed Mr Patrick to ask whether that entity should be a Cayman LLC or an exempted company, to which he responded later that day: "Doesn't matter to me. Whatever from a strategic point of view - hard to find or track, or trace. Or find owners etc. Generic name. Strong litigation protection."

83 On 27 February 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the New GP (the Fifth Defendant) was incorporated in the Cayman Islands.

84 On 7 March 2024, Mr Patrick, in his capacity as Managing Member of the Original GP, and without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, executed a written consent for the transfer of the GP Interest to the New GP, thereby replacing the Fund's General Partner. The Supporting Organisations subsequently discovered this change only by chance in February 2025.

85 In or around August 2024, the Supporting Organisations were provided with a financial analysis (prepared by NexPoint Advisors LP) of the Fund's annual expenses which showed or appeared to show increases in expenditure, particularly as follows (and without prejudice to any further relevant facts and matters relating to Directors' fees or expenses):

85.1 directors' fees increased from around US$40,000 in 2022 to almost US$600,000 in 2023 – and increased further to around US$2.25 million in the first half of 2024; and

85.2 expenses overall for the first half of 2024 were around US$18.3 million – almost the same amount spent over the entire course of 2023 (i.e. US$18.6 million).

86 On 13 September 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors resolved (amongst other things) with respect to Mr Patrick's compensation:

86.1 to increase Mr Patrick's salary to US$850,000 per annum;

86.2 include a long-term incentive ("LTI") tied to the Fund's returns, being 7.5% of annualised net fund returns in excess of 10% (capped at 25% annualised return); and

86.3 the Company should assess legal expenses attributable to investment which impacted the LTI compensation and then determine whether the LTI compensation should be increased.

87 On 1 October 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities:

87.1 the Directors resolved (amongst other things) that Mr Patrick would receive:

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(a) an LTI payment of US$975,000; and

(b) an 'annual discretionary bonus' for 2023 at an amount of 2.5 times his base salary.

87.2 Previously, in or around October 2021, Mr Patrick had signed an 'employment agreement' for his position at the Company, for the period commencing 24 March 2021, which provides that Mr Patrick:

(a) shall receive a base salary of US$850,000;

(b) shall receive an LTI payment for the period 24 March 2021 to 24 March 2024 in the amount of US$4,759,000; and

(c) is eligible for both annual and discretionary bonuses as determined at the 'sole and absolute discretion of the Directors'.

88 Comparatively, Mr Scott's salary during his tenure in the Control Position was approximately US$60,000 per annum. Notwithstanding the above, the Supporting Organisations were not informed of these increases to the Directors' fees, remuneration and/or benefits.

89 In late October 2024, as a result of concerns arising from this additional expenditure, the Supporting Organisations requested that Mr Patrick provide relevant financial information for the Company and the Fund. Mr Patrick did not do so.

90 On 11 November 2024, Holland and Knight ("H&K"), U.S. attorneys for the Supporting Organisations, issued a letter to Mr Murphy advising that the Supporting Organisations no longer had confidence in the governance of the Company and/or the Fund and considered that a reorganisation of the governance structures was required to protect the charitable efforts of the Supporting Organisations (the "No Confidence Letter").

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

91 On 26 November 2024, Mr Patrick sought advice from Walkers as to whether the Company could issue further Participating Shares to a new non-profit organisation to dilute the Supporting Organisations so as to weaken any winding-up petition brought by the Supporting Organisations on just and equitable grounds. Mr Murphy wrote that:

> "Issuance of new participation shares, where the existing foundations represent a smaller % of the issued and outstanding shares, would weaken any petition based on just and equitable grounds but we must be careful they don't point to this as ground to wind up i.e. the existing foundations say we're artificially trying to weaken their position by diluting them therefore the company should be wound up or an order made for change of management /revocation of the share issuances. It's a very difficult situation to get right without gifting them a potential ground…"

92 On 27 November 2024, Walkers responded to the Directors confirming that, if other shareholders were to oppose an equitable winding up, such opposition will be taken into consideration and would likely help.

93 On 9 December 2024, DFW was incorporated as a non-profit non-stock company in Delaware, by or with the assistance of Mr Douglas Mancino, partner of U.S. firm, Seyfarth Shaw LLP ("Seyfarth"), who, worked alongside Mr Patrick in the establishment of the Company and the Fund structure. The sole member of DFW was and is Mr Patrick.

94 On 7 February 2025, 318 Participating Shares were issued to DFW.

95 On 20 February 2025, Mr Patrick as the Management Shareholder of the Company resolved to adopt the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association dated 20 February 2025 which, among other things:

95.1 Amended the Memorandum at paragraph 3 to give the Company charitable objects;

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

95.2 Amended article 70 to introduce the concept of a Management Director (being a director holding the Management Share) and to weight the voting such that on all matters the Management Director had 10 votes and any other directors had 1 vote;

95.3 Deleted the previous articles 70 and 71 giving the right to appoint alternate directors and proxies. By email dated 27 February 2025, Walkers confirmed that the purpose of this deletion was to "avoid the risk of 'outsiders' being brought into the fold".

96 The Company reserves its position in respect of the validity of these amendments.

The purported restructuring: Mr Patrick causes the assignment of the Partnership Interest to CDM

97 On 12 December 2024, CDM was incorporated as a limited liability company in Delaware.

98 On 18 December 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors of the Company resolved (the "Transfer Resolutions") to approve the transfer of the entirety of the Company's limited partnership interest in the Fund to CDM, in consideration for the contribution by the sole member of CDM of 100% of the membership interest in CDM. The Transfer Resolutions provide (amongst other things) that, based apparently on U.S. tax advice, the transfer of the limited partnership interest to CDM:

98.1 "…would help insulate the DAF from exposure to [Dondero] and his entities who may be at risk of causing the [IRS] to revoke the tax-exempt status of one or more of the Participating Shareholders/supporting organizations which could imperil the assets of the Company";

98.2 "The IRS would look favorably upon any and all attempts for DAF to maintain its influence from what seems to be persistent attempts by Dondero and the entities controlled by him to use DAF for his private benefit and private inurement";

98.3 As a Delaware limited liability company (CDM): "…as permitted under the LLC Act, the terms of the LLC Agreement eliminate the fiduciary duties of the manager of the Transferee".

99 On 18 December 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Company, CDM and the New GP entered into a Deed of Assignment and Assumption (the "Deed") which was executed by Mr Patrick on behalf of each of (i) the Company in his capacity as Director; (ii) CDM in his capacity as Manager; and (iii) the New GP in his capacity as Director. Pursuant to the terms of the Deed:

99.1 The Company assigned its entire limited partnership interest in the Fund to CDM (the "CDM Assignment").

99.2 The New GP provided its written consent to the CDM Assignment and the admission of CDM as the new limited partner, in accordance with clause 1.11(a) of the LPA.

99.3 CDM agreed to exercise its reasonable best endeavours to ensure that 100% of the membership interest in CDM held by Mr Patrick would be transferred to the Company (the "CDM Membership Interest").

100 On 18 December 2024, the Company (as member) and Mr Patrick (as manager) entered into a Delaware law governed Limited Liability Company Agreement in respect of CDM (the "LLC Agreement").

6.9 Valuation of Company Assets.

(a) General. The Manager shall make a good faith determination of the value of the Company's assets in connection with any distribution pursuant to Section 8.1(b), as required under Section 4.3(c), upon the dissolution of the Company, and whenever otherwise required by this Agreement or determined by the Manager.

(b) Binding Effect. The value of any Company asset or Interest determined pursuant to this Section 6.9 shall be binding upon the Company and the Members and shall establish the "Fair Market Value" of such asset or Interest for all purposes under this Agreement.

7.3 Redemption. The Manager, in its sole discretion, may cause any Member's Interest to be redeemed by the Company for any reason. Any Interest of a Member to be redeemed by the Company shall be redeemed for the Fair Market Value of such Interest, as determined by the Manager in its sole discretion. Such payment to the Member shall either be made in cash or pursuant to a promissory note. Such promissory note shall: (i) provide for interest at the lowest rate necessary to avoid the imputation of additional interest under the Code; and (ii) have a stated principal amount of the Fair Market Value of such Member's Interest being redeemed, as determined by the Manager in its sole discretion."

102 The Company will rely on the terms of the LLC Agreement for their applicable full terms and effect.

103 The effect of these transactions was that:

103.1 CDM was inserted into the corporate structure below and as a subsidiary of the Company and would hold the entirety of the limited partnership interest in the Fund previously held by the Company; and

103.2 The Company would hold the entire membership interest in CDM, with the result that the Company's sole asset, having previously been its limited partnership interest in the Fund, was exchanged for the CDM Membership Interest

(the "Restructuring")

104 The Restructuring was at an undervalue and not in the interests of the Company (in that the CDM Membership Interest was less valuable than the limited partnership interest that the Company assigned to CDM) because (amongst other things):

104.1 The General Partner owed fiduciary duties to the Company in the Fund, but the Manager (Mr Patrick) did not owe any fiduciary duties to CDM; and

104.2 The CDM Membership Interests were susceptible to being redeemed by Mr Patrick (as Manager) in his sole discretion and for any reason, for "fair market value" as defined by Article 6.9, i.e. a "good faith determination of the value".

105 On 3 April 2025, the Company obtained retrospective advice from Leading Counsel on the steps taken by the Company in December 2024 to effect the Restructuring and whether the transfer is "open to challenge by the Participating Shareholders", which advice:

105.1 refers to the justifications for the decisions taken as set out in the Restructuring Resolutions, and considers that, if called upon to justify the purpose of those decisions, the Directors would need to explain:

(a) how the penalisation or loss of tax-exempt status any of the current Participating Shareholders could have "imperil[ed]" the "assets" of the Company;

(b) the detrimental issues the Company was facing that the Directors believed would be mitigated by the interposition of CDM into the Fund structure; and

(c) how and/or why the Restructuring would (i) benefit the Company and (ii) reduce the influence of Mr Dondero; and

105.2 considers that a shareholder reviewing the reasons listed in the Restructuring Resolutions "might suggest that the contents of the resolution are self-serving and do not tell the full story, but rather seek to obscure the true motivations of the board".

Persistent and continual lack of information for the Supporting Organisations

106 On 23 January 2025, having received no response from Mr Murphy to the No-Confidence Letter, Julie Diaz, the CEO of The Dallas Foundation, sent Mr Patrick an email advising that the Supporting Organisations needed to better understand the Company's/Fund's asset position, and requesting certain information be provided by 10 February 2025.

107 Having received no response, on 28 January 2025, Ms Diaz sent a further email to the Directors expressing serious concern (i) that the Supporting Organisations' requests for information

continued to be disregarded, and (ii) about the ongoing lack of transparency on the part of the Directors.

108 On 30 January 2025, Mr Murphy replied to Ms Diaz stating that the Directors:

108.1 had not received the 23 January email – but understood the next step was for the Directors to "present directly" to the Supporting Organisations to address the No-Confidence Letter; and

108.2 are cooperating with the Supporting Organisations to provide additional information – but "have no legal obligation to do so" and such cooperation "should not be construed as an implicit acknowledgement of any duty to continue providing information to you".

109 On 31 January 2025, Mr Michael Stockham of H&K responded to Mr Murphy noting that he and Mr Patrick were fiduciaries, managing US$270 million in assets for the benefit of charities that support the most vulnerable (i.e. the Charities) and: "[w]hatever your side's obvious antagonism to Mr Dondero, the fact remains that the underlying assets are ultimately for these charitable missions."

110 On 4 February 2025, Mr Murphy responded that while open to resolving the concerns, they (i.e. the Directors) were struggling to understand the Supporting Organisations' change in position.

111 On 7 February 2025, H&K responded that the Directors were fiduciaries in control of US$270 million for the benefit of charities: "these monies are for improving the quality of life of children, building pathways for everyone to have a fair opportunity to succeed and … fostering a love for education. They are not meant to pay you and Mr. Patrick millions in director fees".

112 On 14 February 2025, H&K received a letter from Mr Mancino which rejected the accuracy of the reported increases in expenditure. On 27 February 2025, H&K responded that his clients

Case 1:24-cv-00554-GJQ ECF No. 1-11, PageID.1064 Filed 07/15/25 Page 52 of 96

115.3 one (1) week after the Directors and/or the Company redeemed the Company's interest in CDM without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities (see below);

115.4 one (1) day after the Directors placed the Company in voluntary liquidation, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities.

Purported Share Issuance and allotment to DFW

116 In November 2024, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors began seeking advice from Walkers on whether the Company could issue new Participating Shares that would have the effect of diluting the existing Participating Shareholders - "in light of a possible just and equitable winding up petition" being filed by one of the Supporting Organisations.

117 On 7 February 2025, Walkers advised that, while there must be a corporate benefit to the exercise of the power, the Articles grant the Directors power to issue new shares that dilute the Participating Shareholders, and recommended the shares be issued sooner than later, and before any winding up petition was presented, since any alteration to the Company's membership made after the presentation of the petition would be void.

118 On 7 February 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors resolved to issue 318 Participating Shares to DFW (the "Share Issue Resolutions"), resulting in DFW owning 51.04% of the Participating Shareholding and the dilution of the Supporting Organisations from an aggregate shareholding of 100% to 48.96% (the "Share Issuance"). The Share Issue Resolutions provided that:

118.1 Participating Shareholders had requested information and made false and misleading claims about the Company and its finances which the Directors believe were directed by Mr Dondero.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

118.2 Based apparently on U.S. tax advice:

(a) There was a heightened risk the IRS could revoke the tax-exempt status of the Participating Shareholders which could imperil the status and assets of the Company.

(b) Increasing the number of Participating Shareholders would mitigate the undue influence and private inurement of Mr Dondero.

(c) The IRS would look favourably upon attempts by the Fund to maintain its independence from his (i.e. Mr Dondero's) attempts to use the Fund for his private benefit.

118.3 The Directors believed the Share Issuance to DFW would protect the Company and the Participating Shareholders and resolved that the Share Issuance to DFW be approved.

119 On 5 March 2025, Leading Counsel (Mr Tony Beswetherick KC) issued draft retrospective (but final) advice to the Company on the Share Issuance in which he opined (amongst other things) as follows:

119.1 where Articles confer a power on directors to issues shares, that power is a fiduciary one and must only be exercised for proper purposes; an issue of shares "…deliberately aimed at altering the balance of power between" is problematic; the power should not be exercised with a view to altering an existing balance of power, irrespective of whether the directors consider that doing so is in the interests of the company;

119.2 the effect of the Share Issuance was that, if there were to be a company meeting or proposal to approve a modification that affects the Participating Shareholders' rights,

the ability of the prior Participating Shareholders to vote down such a change was negatively affected (DFW now having over 50% of the total Participating Shares);

119.3 it is not immediately clear from the Share Issue Resolutions whether the justifications stated were actually relevant to the Directors' decision. If they were relevant, it is not explained why the issue of shares to DFW would prevent false claims being made by Mr Dondero; it may be that those matters are part of the context, rather than part of the reason for the decision; and 119.4 the Participating Shareholders might suggest the Share Issue Resolutions are self-serving and do not tell the full story, but rather seek to obscure the true motivations of the board.

Plan to redeem the Original Participating Shareholders

120 In January and February 2025, the Directors, in connection with a plan to try to redeem the Participating Shareholders and/or the CDM Membership Interest held by the Company, and without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, sought to obtain an analysis of the fair market value of the Participation Shares, and the discount that should be applied to such valuation, given the limited rights conferred upon Participating Share under the Articles.

Historic ValueScope Valuations

121 At the request of the Company, ValueScope, Inc. ("ValueScope") conducted a series of valuation analyses of 100 Participation Shares on a net asset value ("NAV") basis between December 2020 and September 2024 to determine their fair market value ("FMV"). These valuations were apparently prepared for internal reporting purposes and apparently applied consistent methodologies throughout the period. The results of these valuations are summarised below:

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

30 September 2024	$269.05M	$882,140	13.9%	$759,614	$75,961,370

122 The final NAV-based valuation prepared by ValueScope prior to the Restructuring was dated 7 January 2025, and gave a valuation of 100 Participating Shares as at 30 September 2024 (the "September 2024 Valuation").

PwC and FTI

123 On 14 January 2025, Walkers inquired with PwC about a valuation of "the shares of Charitable DAF Holdco". In that email, Walkers, presumably on instructions from the Directors, listed the Supporting Organisations as "potential adverse parties".

124 On 7 February 2025, Walkers informed PwC that CDM had been inserted into the structure and requested that a second valuation be prepared of all the CDM Membership Interest, which valuation Walkers said was also to rely on the NAV as previously advised (rather than leaving PwC to determine their own valuation methodology). PwC responded that their initial view is "there is no meaningful difference" between the two valuations requested - "i.e. the economic interest in the underlying NAV still fully accrues to the participating shareholders" - but that voting power/control remains with Mr Patrick (or with entities he controls). PwC asked for further information about what Mr Patrick was trying to achieve by the Restructuring to help them understand the valuation implications.

125 On 10 February 2025, PwC suggested a call with Walkers to discuss the second valuation, which call took place on 11 February 2025, and was also attended by Mr Patrick's 'onshore and Delaware counsel'. Following that call, PwC declined to take on the instructions:

> "... our view is that the new Delaware entity (CDMCFAD) effectively has full economic interest and control over the Fund, so we don't really see a basis for applying any discounts to the underlying Fund NAV for that entity. As it relates to the participating shareholders' interest in Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd., we don't think we can reliably estimate the value/discount given the current fact pattern. While we could make hypothetical assumptions about how the articles may be interpreted, and/or how future cash flows may or may not be distributed, the impact on value is so substantial that we don't think it would be a meaningful exercise (i.e. we'd end up with the discount being 100% in one scenario, but 0% in another). On that basis, I don't think there is a fee / scope that can work for us currently."

The FTI Memo

126 On 13 February 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Company engaged FTI Consulting in London ("FTI") to advise on (i) the discount applicable (if any) to a valuation considering how the rights attached to Participation Shares differed from those typically associated with ordinary shares, and (ii) the impact of the existence of an additional share class (being the Management Shares held by Mr Patrick). FTI's engagement letter also stated that "The Memo will also include a valuation of the ordinary shares of CDMCFAD, LLC, the immediate subsidiary of Charitable DAF HoldCo".

127 On 2 March 2025, FTI provided a draft memorandum to Walkers/the Company.

128 On 27 March 2025, FTI issued its final memorandum (the "FTI Memo"), which stated (amongst other things) that the rights of Participating Shares were extremely limited, and the potential distribution of cash was highly dependent on a member's alignment with the Fund's mission. The FTI Memo concluded that a "limited discount" for lack of control and marketability should be applied where a member is aligned with the Fund's mission (said to be close to the range concluded by ValueScope in its 7 January ValueScope Report, i.e. a discount of 13.9%), and a "high discount" of 95% where a member is not.

Legal advice sought

129 On 25 February 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Directors sought advice from Walkers and Shields Legal on any powers under the Articles to enable the removal of the Supporting Organisations, including by (i) redemption of the Participating Shares (Art 14 and 28), (ii) a forced transfer of Participating Shares held by a Restricted Person (Art 21) (iii) or an alternative course whereby DFW repurchased the shares, which could then be cancelled, and new shares issued which are redeemable by the Company. Walkers advised that both redemption and forced transfers were not permitted but agreed with the alternative course involving DFW.

130 On 5 March 2025, as stated above, Leading Counsel provided retrospective advice to the Company regarding the Share Issuance, which also considered whether the Directors had power under the Articles to redeem the Participating Shares. Leading Counsel opined that they did not, on the basis that the Participating Shares were not issued as redeemable shares, and could not be redeemed unless there were a prior variation of the rights ascribed to them. That said, any proposal to vary the rights attached to the shares to make them redeemable would support an argument "that the [DFW Share Issue] was itself procured with a view, ultimately, to disenfranchising the pre-existing Participating Shareholders".

131 On 17 March 2025, Mr Patrick wrote to Walkers in the following terms:

> "Agree we need to finalise the [FTI valuation] reports …We should request any limits on use removed.
>
> We are seeking U.S. tax counsel to send emails to Paul and I that the non profits are Restricted Persons and/or best interests of the Company to have non dondero holders of its interests. After that, an alternative approach is to give them what they want – liquidate Holdco Ltd after its only investment is redeemed by the US. LLC pursuant to U.S. counsel advice above, that it's in the best interests of the Company to redeem all non-profits affiliated with Dondero. US LLC has same valuation conducted on its shares as the participation shares. so we would redeem the LLC interest, then distribute the proceeds out of Holdco Ltd., and file articles of Dissolution for Charitable daf Holdco Ltd before a wind up petition is filled. That would put us on the "high ground" to fight (rather the way this is currently heading in a defensive posture). they would have to scrap their wond up petition and fight for reinstatement, gripe about the valuations, and file fiduciary breach actions …
> We will stage this in light of the Doug letter, new advice of two separate U.S Tax counsel, and seeing how successful (or not) our outreach to the Texas attorney general office is.
> Note US LLC would make DFW its sole owner."

132 The email of 19 March 2025 makes plain that the Directors, or at least Mr Patrick, intended to liquidate the Company without notice to the Supporting Organisations and to otherwise obstruct the Supporting Organisations' ability to exercise any right to petition to wind up the Company on just and equitable grounds.

133 On 20 March 2025, Walkers provided comments on the FTI draft valuation, and FTI responded. These comments include, amongst other things*:*

> "Walkers: It is stated at [3.2(2)] that "there is no overriding duty of DAF's Directors to act in the shareholders' interest. The Directors will act according to the best interest of the company, that is, to achieve the charitable causes that are aligned with DAF's mission". However, as a matter of Cayman law, directors owe duties to the company, and must act in its best interests [which are] generally regarded as the interests of the members as a whole, and in certain circumstances the objects of the company may be taken into account when determining what is in its best interests.
> FTI: Can you explain how it was in the interests of the company to materially dilute the existing shareholders?
> Walkers: It is stated at [3.10] that "the Participating Shareholders do not have any rights to cause a liquidation/winding up of the company". However, the Participating Shareholders do have the right to seek a winding up of the company, as conferred upon them by the Companies Act (rather than the Articles).
> FTI: Why won't they just do this immediately and seek distributions? Isn't the ability to trigger a liquidation contradictory with point 1 which states "Shareholders do not have any right to exert influence on whether/how the funds of DAF are used or distributed".

43

Walkers: As per our comments, please could you delete references to our advice so as to avoid any potential arguments about waiver of privilege.

FTI: Your advice is important in us arriving at our conclusions. I understand from our legal team that we either (i) keep the reference to your advice or (ii) address the memo to you. Are you expecting there to be litigation in relation to the proposed transaction?

Walkers: Our client now seeks a valuation report which may, in connection with a proposed redemption of the membership interests in CDM, be disclosed to third parties and relied on to establish fair market value of both the membership interests in CDM, and in turn HoldCo.

FTI: This is a material change in the purpose and access rights of the report. Please provide more detail of the transaction. Is it the case that Mark will make CDM redeem the shares owned in by DAF? And who would you like to share the report with? And on what basis (e.g. non-reliance)? We also note our memo is not a valuation – it is a quantification of discounts given the rights of the participating shares. To do a valuation, we would need to do a more detailed exercise, including valuing the underlying assets."

134 On 21 to 24 March 2025, FTI and Walkers had an exchange (amongst other things) as follows:

"FTI: If the firm was wound down, would it result in distributions to the existing participating shareholders? Or would Mark still be able to shareholder structure to ensure the existing participating shareholders got nothing? Given they haven't received dividends since 2019, why haven't the participating shareholders triggered a wind down? If they can trigger a wind down and then in short order receive $300m of distributions, it does change things re discount.

Walkers: if HoldCo was wound up, the Participating Shareholders would receive distributions which would be made pari passu, and Mark (if he was the liquidator) would not be able to ensure the existing Participating Shareholders get nothing. Whilst the Participating Shareholders have the right to seek to wind up under the Companies Act, they need a proper basis to do so… We can only assume [they] have not commenced proceedings seeking to wind the company up because they do not have a proper basis on which to do so …

FTI: Would an absence of distributions be sufficient grounds to make an application to wind the company up? If the participating shareholders did make the application, would Mark be able to issue a vast number of shares to another party before the distributions were made thereby ensuring the existing shareholders received very little?

Walkers: A Participating Shareholder may consider an absence of distributions sufficient grounds for a winding up order on the just and equitable basis… But it is difficult for us to say whether that petition would be successful. If (a) a Participating Shareholder presented a petition; (b) new shares were purportedly issued; and (c) the Court then made a winding up order, the issue of the new shares would be void and not impact the amounts the Participating Shareholders would receive."

135 On 26 and 27 March 2025, FTI and Walkers had an exchange (amongst other things) as follows*:*

"Walkers: We have discussed with our client and onshore counsel and set out some amendments in the attached. In addition, we note (1) we have not received any material addressing reliance on the memo by CDM; and (2) the "Limitations and restrictions" section still provides that the memo "should not be used to support a transaction". For the memo to be useful in the circumstances, CDM [and HoldCo] need to be able to rely on it or a separate memo would need to be addressed to CDM on which it may rely. Further, both entities need to be able to rely on the memo(s) to support the proposed transaction.

FTI: What is the intention of adding that directors should act in the interests of future members? I am struggling to understand how a director could act in a manner which is beneficial for future shareholders which is not also helpful for existing shareholders.

The limitations in our note will remain. To do a valuation to support a transaction, we will need to do significantly more detailed work. This is an unusual/complicated situation. We are open to doing a fairness opinion on the transaction. But this will require approval from our risk committee and more information on the transaction and situation. We are happy for CDM to have our memo on a non-reliance basis. But this memo should not be used to support a transaction."

March 2025 ValueScope Valuation

136 Following the Restructuring, ValueScope was requested by Shields Legal, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, to prepare two valuation analyses:

136.1 100% Membership Interest in CDM; and

136.2 Certain Participating Shares of the Company as at 25 March 2025 (the "March 2025 Valuation").

137 The March 2025 Valuation had the same instructions, definition of value and scope of work as the September 2024 Valuation. Like the September 2024 Valuation, the March 2025 Valuation also referenced a 30 September 2024 balance sheet (and did not refer to any later analysis of assets and liabilities). As shown below, the September 2024 Valuation and March 2025 Valuation produced very different results.

138 A comparative summary of the September 2024 and March 2025 Valuations is set out below:

Valuation Date	DLOC	DLOM*	Valuation Basis	FMV (100 Shares)
30 September 2024	8.1%	6.3%	NAV	$75,961,370
25 March 2025	99.2%	20.00%	DCF	$536,784
Difference	+91.1%	+13.7%		-$75,424,586

*DLOC – Discounted for Lack of Control

DLOM – Discounted for Lack of Marketability

DCF – Discounted Cash Flow

139 The March 2025 Valuation stated: "for the valuation of non-controlling assets in holding companies such as DAF, the asset-based approach is most commonly used [as Valuescope had always done previously]. When applied to such companies, the approach consists of measuring the underlying net asset value of an entity (the fair market value of the entity's assets less the fair market value of its liabilities). The NAV is then discounted as appropriate to determine the fair market value of the fractional interest in the entity. However, in the case of the participation shares under consideration, the asset-based approach is not applicable. These shares do not confer control and only have a claim in respect of the underlying assets in a winding up."

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

140 ValueScope does not appear to have considered whether winding up was a possibility, and therefore, whether value could have been realised that way and by reference to NAV.

141 For reasons which are unclear to the Company, the March 2025 Valuation expressly rejected the asset-based (NAV) approach on the basis that the economic benefits of the Participating Shares in the Company were contingent on discretionary distributions by its manager. The report states.

> 'Unlike equity interests that derive value from an allocable portion of the entity's net assets, the economic benefits of these shares are contingent upon discretionary distributions by the director. As such, their value is not directly tied to the entity's NAV, and an alternative valuation approach is required to appropriately reflect their characteristics and economic reality'.

142 Accordingly, the methodology applied in the March 2025 Valuation was markedly different from the methodology applied in the September 2024 Valuation. Instead of relying on discounted net assets, the March 2025 Valuation:

142.1 applied a discounted cash flow ("DCF") methodology to estimate the present value of expected future distributions, rather than an asset-based approach, as had been applied in at least the past five annual valuations by ValueScope;

142.2 determined the FMV of 100 Participating Shares to be US$536,784;

142.3 applied a discount of 99.2% for DLOC; and

142.4 applied a discount of 20.00% for DLOM.

143 The DCF model is based on the present value of future distributions to the Company. ValueScope's report shows that these were estimated based on historic distributions themselves controlled by Mr Patrick.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

144 Based on the valuations above, between 30 September 2024 and 25 March 2025, the FMV of 100 Participating Shares in the Company apparently declined from US$75,961,370 to US$536,784, representing a reduction in value of 99.29% in less than a six month period, in which the Restructuring occurred, attributable to a change in valuation basis (amongst other things) from NAV to DCF.

145 Furthermore, ValueScope does not appear to have sense-tested their valuation. Although they identified "total equity" of c. US$270 million and concluded that all of the Participation Shares had a value of only c. US$1.6 million, they did not address themselves to who benefitted from the residual value of c. US$268 million.

Admission and Redemption

146 On 27 March 2025, Mr Patrick, as manager of CDM, executed a written consent (the "Manager Consent") to (a) cause CDM to admit DFW as an additional member of CDM pursuant to the terms of an Admission and Amendment No.1 Agreement (the "Admission Agreement") and (b) redeem the CDM Membership Interest held by the Company pursuant to the terms of a Redemption and Amendment No. 2 Agreement (the "Redemption Agreement" and together with the Admission Agreement, the "Restructure Agreements"):

146.1 The recitals to the Manager Consent stated that the redemption of the Company's membership interest was justified by reason of alleged attempts by the Supporting Organisations to exert control, and the potential loss of their (i.e. the Supporting Organisations') non-profit and tax-exempt status:

> "… the Manager has formed the view that the Current Member, by virtue of being a member of the Company and having as Participating Shareholders the Highland Foundations, poses a material risk to the Company, its assets, and the Mission Statement of DAF due to, among other things, (i) officers and directors of the Highland Foundations seeking to assert dominion and control over the assets of DAF (through the Current Member), despite no legal ability to do so under the Current Member's organizational documents and despite the potential illegality (as demonstrated by tax counsel to DAF—see Exhibits C and D) of doing so, (ii) the potential loss of the non-profit status of the Highland Foundations due to their actions, among others, described in clause (i), and (iii) the potential loss of the tax-exempt status which the Highland Foundations currently enjoy and which is central to the mission of DAF, as a result of the factors including those described in clauses (i) and (ii)"

146.2 The Manager Consent further stated:

"WHEREAS, in connection with the Restructure Agreements and the transactions contemplated thereby, the Manager (on behalf of the Company) obtained a valuation report of the membership interests of the Company from ValueScope and FTI Consulting, copies of which are attached hereto as Exhibit E, which valuation reports have informed the Manager the fair market value of the membership interests"

146.3 Exhibits C and D to the Manager Consent are documents purportedly containing information regarding various alleged U.S. tax issues relating to the Company.

146.4 Exhibit C is the letter from Mr Mancino to the IRS dated 20 March 2025, in which Mr Mancino (amongst other things) stated:

(a) there has been "deterioration" of the Company's relationship with Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. ("HDF") due to the undue influence and control exercised over HDF by Mr Dondero.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(b) the information in the letter will demonstrate clearly that Mr Dondero's influence and control is an inappropriate donor relationship with representatives of the HDF who serve on the Board of Directors of and as officers of HDF.

(c) such undue influence and control potentially jeopardises the tax-exempt status of HDF as an organisation described in s.501(c)(3) and, at a minimum, causes it to fail to remain a supporting organisation described in s. 509(a)(3).

146.5 Exhibit D is an advice produced by Carrington Coleman (U.S. law firm) dated 25 March 2025 (the "Carrington Advice") which amongst other things:

(a) asserts that Mr Dondero has been attempting "through his control of the Highland SOs, to exert dominion and control over the cash and property he previously donated to DAF and for which he claimed charitable deductions, all for his personal benefit."

(b) suggests that Mr Dondero was using the Company as his personal "piggy bank", and that it may be perceived by the IRS that the Fund has been or is his financial alter ego.

(c) concludes that "the IRS will look favourably upon any and all attempts for DAF to maintain its independence from what seems to be persistent attempts by Dondero, and the entities controlled by him to use DAF for his private benefit and inurement."

146.6 Exhibit E contained two valuation reports:

(a) The first was a ValueScope valuation.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(b) The second is the FTI Memo referred to above, in which FTI expressly stated that the analysis in the FTI Memo should not be used in support of a transaction, but which Mr Patrick, in any event:

(i) expressly relied upon in the Manager Consent to determine the fair market value of the CDM Membership Interest and the basis for the redemption of the Company's interests; and

(ii) permitted Carrington Coleman to refer to and rely on in the FTI Memo (indeed, having provided the 27 March 2025 copy which was a draft copy only).

146.7 On 27 March 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, Mr Patrick executed the:

(a) Admission Agreement between CDM and DFW under which DFW was admitted as a member of CDM, in consideration for a capital contribution of US$1,637,192; and

(b) Redemption Agreement under which CDM redeemed the Company's membership interest in CDM for the same sum of US$1,637,192 (the "Redemption Sum").

147 On 27 March 2025, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, the Company entered into a letter agreement with CDM (the "Letter Agreement"), pursuant to which the Company assigned to CDM various contracts and agreements to which the Company was a party, listed in Schedule A to the Letter Agreement and CDM agreed to assume the liabilities and obligations in respect of those contracts.

148 On 2 April 2025, the Directors of the Company, by way of written resolution:

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

148.1 Noted the redemption of the Company's membership interest in CDM for the Redemption Sum (the "Redemption").

148.2 Resolved to pay a dividend to the Original Participating Shareholders of US$1,612,192.01 in the amount of (i) US$528,587.54 with respect to each of HDF, Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. and Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc.; and (ii) US$26,429.39 with respect to CFNT.

149 The substantive financial effect of the Redemption, under which DFW did or was committed to make a capital contribution equivalent to the Redemption Sum to CDM, and the CDM Membership Interest held by the Company were redeemed for the Redemption Sum, was that the Company's membership interest in CDM was purchased by or otherwise transferred to DFW for the Redemption Sum.

150 The substantive effect of the overall transaction or series of transactions pleaded above, including the Impugned Transactions already pleaded, was that:

150.1 The Company realised its interest in the Fund, which had a NAV of c. US$270 million, for c. US$1.6 million.

150.2 The Company made a distribution to the Original Participating Shareholders (c. US$1.6 million).

150.3 The Supporting Organisations and the Charities were actually or effectively divested of their indirect interest in the Fund, and the assets underlying the Fund; and 150.4 The Original Participating Shareholders were diluted from 100% of the economic interests in the Company to less than 50%.

Voluntary Liquidation and Supervision Order

151 On 2 April 2025, the Directors resolved, without telling the Supporting Organisations or the Charities, to place the Company into voluntary liquidation and appoint Mitchell Mansfield and William Clarke (the JVLs) of Kroll (Cayman) Ltd as voluntary liquidators.

152 However, unaware of the voluntary liquidation, on 10 April 2025, the Supporting Organisations presented a petition seeking the winding up of the Company on a just and equitable basis, under section 92(e) of the Companies Act (2025 Revision) (the "J&E Petition").

153 On 25 April 2025, Walkers and Shields Legal held a call to discuss the J&E Petition. Following that call, Mr Patrick wrote in an email that the "message ideas" "for Monday" were to "poison the well", by which he meant to create a negative impression of Mr Dondero in the eyes of the Court.

154 On 6 May 2025, Justice Jalil Asif KC made a supervision order, under which voluntary liquidation of the Company was to be continued under the supervision of the Court pursuant to s.131 of the Companies Act (As Revised), and the JOLs were appointed.

OBLIGATIONS OWED BY THE DIRECTORS

155 At all material times, the Directors, as directors, owed the following duties individually to the Company:

155.1 A fiduciary duty to act bona fide in what he considers to be the best interests of the Company (the "Best Interests Duty").

155.2 A fiduciary duty to exercise his powers for a proper purpose, and for the purposes for which they were conferred (the "Proper Purpose Rule").

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

155.3 A fiduciary duty not to place himself in a position where his personal interest actually or potentially conflicted with his duty of loyalty to the Company (the "First No-Conflicts Duty").

155.4 A fiduciary duty not to place himself in a position where his duty to another actually or potentially conflicted with his duty of loyalty to the Company (the "Second No-Conflicts Duty").

155.5 A fiduciary duty to not make an unauthorised profit from or by reason of his fiduciary position (the "No Profit Duty").

155.6 A fiduciary duty not to accrue or take a benefit or commercial opportunity from the Company without the full and informed consent of the Company (the "No Self-Dealing Rule").

155.7 A duty to exercise reasonable skill, care, and diligence in the performance of his role and function as director (the "Reasonable Care Duty").

156 With respect at least to Mr Patrick, his duties above and the standard to which he was obliged to comply with such duties are affected by being in the Control Position and the trustee or trustee-like position he occupied. Paragraph 76 above is also relied upon.

157 The Company reserves its position as to whether Mr Patrick, by reason of being in the Control Position and the trustee or trustee-like position he occupied, was an express or other trustee of the assets of the Fund for the Original Participating Shareholders and, through or in addition to them, the Charities.

ATTRIBUTION OF KNOWLEDGE AND INTENTION

158 As a matter of Cayman Islands law, Mr Patrick's intention and knowledge of facts and matters for all such purposes relevant to this claim is to be attributed to each of DFW, CDM, and the New GP on the basis of at least the following facts:

158.1 As regards DFW, Mr Patrick is listed under DFW's certificate of incorporation, dated 9 December 2024, as "the member of the corporation", and the Admission Agreement showed he served as its "President". Mr Patrick is also the registered director of DFW. Mr Patrick the agent of DFW, in which capacity Mr Patrick executed the Admission Agreement.

158.2 As regards CDM, Mr Patrick is described under the LLC Agreement as the "Manager" of CDM, in which role Mr Patrick was CDM's agent, and in which capacity he (i) executed the Deed of Assignment and Assumption on behalf of CDM, and (ii) executed a written 'Manager Consent' (the "Manager Consent") approving the Redemption and Admission Agreements; and executed the Redemption and Admission Agreements.

158.3 As regards the New GP, Mr Patrick was and remains its director, and therefore its agent (in which capacity, Mr Patrick executed the Deed of Assignment and Assumption on the New GP's behalf). Further, Mr Patrick is the sole shareholder of the New GP.

159 Further, if applicable, as a matter of the laws of the State of Delaware, Mr Patrick's knowledge and intention is to be attributed to DFW, CDM, and the New GP on a like basis.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE DEFENDANTS

Breaches of fiduciary and other duty

160 The First and Second Defendants, and each of them, in their capacity as a Director of the Company, acted in breach of their fiduciary and other duties to the Company as follows.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

Restructuring, including the CDM Assignment

161 The Directors (and each of them), in procuring, directing or effecting the Restructuring as set out above, acted in breach of their duties to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty, the Proper Purpose Rule and the Reasonable Care Duty. Additionally, Mr Patrick, in procuring, directing or effecting the Restructuring as set out above, acted in breach of his duties to the Company, including the No Self-Dealing Rule, No Profit Duty, and No-Conflicts Duty (First and Second No-Conflicts Duties).

PARTICULARS

161.1 The Plaintiff relies on paragraphs 77 to 105 above.

161.2 With the assistance of Mr Mancino, Mr Patrick took steps to form CDM and appoint himself as Manager of CDM.

161.3 Mr Patrick designed and/or negotiated and/or directed and/or effected the Restructuring in his capacity as Director of the Company, Director of the New GP, and Manager of CDM, being each of the parties to the Deed, and signed the Deed on behalf of each party.

161.4 The Directors (and each of them) approved the transfer of the Company's entire limited partnership interest in the Fund (having net assets worth c. US$270 million) to CDM, a Delaware entity whose LLC Agreement excluded any fiduciary obligations owed by its Manager (i.e. Mr Patrick) to CDM itself or to its members; in exchange for membership interest in CDM, which interest was capable of being extinguished, by redemption, and for a "fair value", determined at the discretion of the Manager (i.e. Mr Patrick).

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

161.5 The Restructuring was of no benefit to the Company and not in its best interests, and Mr Patrick was subject to conflicts of interest (First and Second No-Conflicts Duties) and committed acts of self-dealing.

161.6 The Directors (and each of them) acted when each of them:

(a) knew or ought to have known that the Company was proposing to exchange the Partnership Interest for a membership interest in CDM that was subject to redemption entirely at Mr Patrick's discretion, and for a "fair value" determined, in good faith, in his discretion.

(b) knew or ought to have known that the Company was therefore proposing to trade its Partnership Interest, which was not in practical terms defeasible, for an interest that could be extinguished: (i) at a time over which it had no control, (ii) for a price over which it had very limited control and (iii) for a potential valuation basis which excluded a net asset valuation of the assets held in the Fund.

(c) knew or ought to have known that the CDM Membership Interest was to be in a Delaware-incorporated company whose LLC Agreement excluded any fiduciary obligations owed by its Manager either to CDM itself or to its members and was therefore less valuable than the Partnership Interest.

(d) knew or ought to have known that the CDM Assignment was therefore a transaction at an undervalue.

161.7 It can be inferred, and is averred, that Mr Patrick was drawing fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits from CDM without the full authorisation or full and informed consent of the Company.

161.8 Further, and in any event, the Directors (and each of them) acted when each of them:

(a) knew or ought to have known that the CDM Assignment was the first step in a series of connected future transactions, including those pursuant to the CDM Assignment, the Share Issuance, the Admission Agreement, the Redemption Agreement and the Redemption, under which the Directors were able to and ultimately did procure the redemption of the Company's CDM Membership Interest, thus extinguishing the Company's interest in the Fund, for an undervalue.

(b) knew or ought to have known that:

(i) the full terms and effect of the CDM Assignment was not a proper or proportionate response to any genuinely perceived risk about U.S. tax concerns.

(ii) the full terms and effect the CDM Assignment was not a proper or proportionate response to any genuinely perceived risk to the Company, which was not itself a Donor Advised Fund and/or did not enjoy or require tax-exempt status under s.501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code.

(iii) other approaches to address concerns with respect to the tax-exempt status of the HDF short of undertaking the Restructuring (and entering into the CDM Assignment) included notifying the HDF of the conflict and/or concerns and requesting it to remedy it or them.

(iv) even if the facts and matters alleged in relation to the HDF were correct, there was more than a possibility, after an extended passage of time and at least two levels of appeal, that a U.S. tax audit would result in an adverse determination with respect to the tax-exempt status of the HDF.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(v) the tax-exempt status of the HDF was of no concern or no reasonable concern to the Company.

(c) knew or ought to have known that they were keeping the Restructuring, the CDM Assignment, CDM itself and all the surrounding circumstances secret from the Participating Shareholders.

162 By reason of the foregoing breaches of duty or any of them:

162.1 The CDM Assignment is void, alternatively voidable and hereby avoided.

162.2 CDM holds the Partnership Interest on trust or constructive trust for the Company.

162.3 CDM is required to re-transfer the Partnership Interest to the Company and account for any profits on the basis of such trust or constructive trust and/or on a restitutionary and/or on a proprietary basis.

Share Issuance

163 The Directors (and each of them), in procuring, directing or effecting the Share Issuance as set out above, acted in breach of their duties to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty, the Proper Purpose Rule and the Reasonable Care Duty. Additionally, Mr Patrick, in procuring, directing or effecting the Share Issuance as set out above, acted in breach of his duties to the Company, including the No Self-Dealing Rule, No Profit Duty, and No-Conflicts Duty (First and Second No-Conflicts Duties).

PARTICULARS

163.1 The Plaintiff relies on paragraphs 77 to 84, 91 to 96 and 106 to 119 above.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

163.2 The Directors (and each of them) designed and/or engineered the Share Issuance, having sought legal advice in relation to the powers conferred on them as Directors of the Company, for the improper purpose of:

(a) diluting without any proper reason or corporate purpose the existing Participating Shareholders and/or depriving the ability of the Supporting Organisations to continue to comprise a majority of the Participating Shareholders.

(b) inserting DFW as a new Participating Shareholder, an entity under the sole control of Mr Patrick, to obstruct and/or prejudice and/or adversely affect the exercise of a Participating Shareholders' right to petition for the just and equitable winding-up of the Company.

163.3 The Directors (and each of them) acted when each of them:

(a) knew or ought to have known the issue and allotment of shares at par to DFW was of no benefit to the Company.

(b) knew or ought to have known that the exercise of the power to issue shares and allot them to DFW was for the improper purpose of diluting the interest of the Original Participating Shareholders.

(c) knew or ought to have known that the Share Issue Resolution and/or the Share Issuance or otherwise the issue and/or allotment of shares to DFW was a response to the prospect that the Supporting Organisations might present a petition for the winding-up of the Company on a just and equitable basis, as indeed they did on 10 April 2025 in ignorance of the Share Issue Resolution and/or the Share Issuance or otherwise the issue and/or allotment of shares to DFW.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

(d) knew or ought to have known that the sole or primary purpose of the Share Issue Resolution and/or the Share Issuance or otherwise the issue and/or allotment of shares to DFW was to insert a new majority Participating Shareholder (under their or at least Mr Patrick's control) into the Company's share capital structure to (if they or at least Mr Patrick deemed fit) to oppose the actions of the Supporting Organisations and/or the Original Participating Shareholders, both in relation to any potential contributories' winding-up petition and otherwise, and/or to obstruct and/or prejudice and/or adversely affect the exercise at any time of any rights of the Supporting Organisations as Participating Shareholders.

163.4 Mr Patrick designed and/or directed and/or effected the Share Issuance in his capacity as Director of the Company, even though he was 'President' of DFW and the sole member and the sole director of DFW.

163.5 It can be inferred, and is averred, that Mr Patrick was drawing fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits from DFW (if not also from CDM) without the full authorisation or full and informed consent of the Company.

164 By reason of the foregoing breaches of duty or any of them:

164.1 the Share Issue Resolution and/or the Share Issuance or otherwise the issue and/or allotment of shares to DFW is void, alternatively voidable and hereby avoided.

164.2 DFW holds its shares on trust or constructive trust for the Company.

164.3 DFW is required to concur in the rescission of the allotment and to re-transfer its shares to the Company on the basis of such trust or constructive trust and/or on a restitutionary and/or on a proprietary basis.

164.4 The Company's register of shareholders shall be rectified accordingly.

Admission and Redemption

165 The Directors (and each of them), in procuring or entering into the Admission Agreement and the Redemption Agreement, and/or in procuring, directing or effecting the Redemption acted in breach of their duties to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty, the Proper Purpose Rule and the Reasonable Care Duty. Additionally, Mr Patrick, in procuring or entering into the Admission Agreement and the Redemption Agreement, or in procuring, directing or effecting the Redemption as set out above, acted in breach of his duties to the Company, including the No Self-Dealing Rule, No Profit Duty, and No-Conflicts Duty (First and Second No-Conflicts Duties).

PARTICULARS

165.1 The Plaintiff relies on paragraphs 120 to 150 above.

165.2 The Directors (and each of them) acted when each of them:

(a) knew or ought to have known that:

(i) proceeding on the basis of the Seyfarth/Mancino letter to the IRS dated 20 March 2025 was flawed or unreasonable.

(ii) proceeding was not a proper or proportionate response to any genuinely perceived risk about U.S. tax concerns.

(iii) the tax-exempt status of the HDF was of no concern or no reasonable concern to the Company.

(iv) proceeding on the basis of the March 2025 Valuation and the FTI Report was flawed in that: (i) the 99.2% discount in value proposed by the 166.1 DFW holds the CDM Membership Interest on trust or constructive trust for the Company.

166.2 DFW is required to concur in the transfer of the CDM Membership Interest to the Company or as the Company directs on the basis of such trust or constructive trust and/or on a restitutionary and/or on a proprietary basis.

Further claims against Mr Murphy

167 In respect of any breach of duty as set out above for which Mr Patrick alone is liable:

167.1 At all material times, Mr Murphy worked in close concert with Mr Patrick, including at his direction.

167.2 Mr Murphy knew or ought to have known all the facts and matters pleaded above as known or ought to have been known by Mr Patrick.

167.3 Mr Murphy knew or ought to have known of all the facts and matters pertaining to such breach or breaches by Mr Patrick.

167.4 Mr Murphy took no steps to stop Mr Patrick or to prevent or report the breach or breaches of duty by Mr Patrick.

167.5 Mr Murphy accepted and acquiesced in all steps and actions suggested, promoted or effected by Mr Patrick.

167.6 Mr Murphy accepted and acquiesced in the breach or breaches of duty by Mr Patrick.

167.7 As a consequence, Mr Murphy has acted in breach of his duties to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty and the Reasonable Care Duty.

Directors' Fees, Remuneration and Expenses

168 The Company is still unclear as to what precise fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits were afforded to the Directors and from what source, and as to the proper expenses of the Company, in the period after March 2021 and thus reserves its position.

169 As is pleaded above in paragraphs 85 to 89, the Directors approved large increases for Mr Patrick's remuneration, benefits or emoluments: by around 1 October 2024, Mr Patrick's remuneration comprised a base salary of US$850,000, a bonus of 2.5 times that base salary, an LTI incentive payment of US$975,000; for the period March 2021 to March 2024, Mr Patrick was entitled to an aggregate LTI payment of US$4,759,000; and eligibility for discretionary and annual bonuses in addition, to be determined at the sole and absolute discretion of the Directors. By contrast, Mr Scott's annual salary and entire benefits during his tenure in the Control Position was US$60,000.

170 Insofar as the Directors (or each of them) approved of or procured any payment or benefit to or for Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy more than the sum of US$60,000 per annum each in respect of fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits, such sum was excessive and conferred in breach of duty to the Company, including the Best Interests Duty, the Proper Purpose Rule, the first No-Conflicts Duty, the No Self-Dealing Rule and the Reasonable Care Duty.

171 Further, as is pleaded above, the Directors (or each of them) approved or caused the payment of considerable sums by way of expenses, amounting for example to US$18.3 million for the first half of 2024, and US$18.6 million spent over 2023. Such expenses may include the expenses incurred in effecting the transactions which are the subject matter of these proceedings. The reasonableness or bona fides of these expenses is not accepted by the Company.

172 The Company claims:

172.1 Full information, documents and discovery as to the fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits or expenses paid or claimed by Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy and each of them since March 2021.

172.2 Full information, documents and discovery as to expenses incurred by the Company or the Fund or any of the Fund's subsidiaries or investments since March 2021.

172.3 Repayment to the Company of all fees or remuneration or emoluments or benefits paid or claimed by Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy and each of them in excess of US$60,000 per annum; together with all improperly paid expenses caused or procured by Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy (or damages or equitable compensation in relation thereto).

Unlawful Means Conspiracy

173 The facts and matters pleaded above amount to an unlawful means conspiracy as follows:

173.1 It is unclear when the conspiracy began but it appears to have started by around the start of 2024.

173.2 The original conspirators were Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy. The Company is unaware of the circumstances in which Mr Patrick and Mr Murphy agreed or combined and is unable to plead further pending further information or discovery.

173.3 As they were incorporated and participated in the facts and matters pleaded above, the New GP, CDM and DFW joined the conspiracy but remain liable in damages for all losses, including prior to joining the conspiracy.

173.4 The conspiracy was a conspiracy to injure the Company.

173.5 The overt acts of the conspiracy were all the facts and matters pleaded above, including as breaches by Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy.

FILED by Maples and Calder (Cayman) LLP, attorneys for the Plaintiff, whose address for service is PO Box 309, Ugland House, Grand Cayman, KY1-1104, Cayman Islands. (Ref: CJM/JRN/TQR/858403.000001/83559387)

173.6 The unlawful means of the conspiracy were all the facts and matters pleaded above as breaches of duty by Mr Patrick or Mr Murphy.

173.7 Each of the conspirators intended to injure the Company. This averment is an inference from all the facts and matters pleaded above.

173.8 As a consequence, the Company has suffered loss and damage, as a result of the Restructuring, the CDM Assignment, and the Admission and Redemption, and the combined effect thereof, as set out above.

Proprietary claim and/or unconscionable receipt

174 The facts and matters pleaded above give rise to claims by the Company for unconscionable receipt as follows:

174.1 CDM received the Company's Partnership Interest in the Fund under the CDM Assignment.

174.2 The knowledge of CDM was and is that of Mr Patrick.

174.3 The breaches of duty in relation to the CDM Assignment above are relied upon.

174.4 CDM knew that the CDM Assignment was at an undervalue and that causing or procuring the Company to enter into the CDM Assignment was a breach of fiduciary duty by Mr Patrick and/or Mr Murphy.

174.5 By reason of the foregoing, it is unconscionable for CDM to retain the Partnership Interest in the Fund and CDM is liable to account to the Company in equity, by restoring Partnership Interest in the Fund to the Company and/or accounting for any profits or otherwise accounting to the Company in equity.

Unjust Enrichment

175 In receiving the Company's Partnership Interest in the Fund, CDM was unjustly enriched at the Company's expense and is liable to the Company in restitution:

175.1 The Partnership Interest was transferred on the basis that there was a valid assignment agreement effecting that transfer.

175.2 That basis has totally failed, the CDM Assignment being either void, or avoided hereby.

Alter Ego and Lifting the Corporate Veil

176 In order to obtain the return to it of the Partnership Interest in the Fund, together with an Account of Profits, the Company does not need as a matter of law to make any allegation of "alter ego" or to lift the corporate veil in relation to CDM or DFW.

177 If, contrary to the paragraph above, the Company does so need, it makes the following allegations for the purposes of all relevant claims or causes of action set out above.

177.1 CDM is the "alter ego" of Mr Patrick.

177.2 DFW is the "alter ego" of Mr Patrick.

177.3 In relation to the receipt of any property by CDM directly or indirectly from the Company or the accrual of any profits or benefits by reason of such receipt, the corporate veil should be lifted, with the consequence that such receipt and such profits or benefits should be treated as those of Mr Patrick personally.

177.4 In relation to the receipt of any property by DFW directly or indirectly from the Company or the accrual of any profits or benefits by reason of such receipt, the corporate veil should be lifted, with the consequence that such receipt and such profits or benefits should be treated as those of Mr Patrick personally.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REGARDING STAY REQUESTS [ADDRESSING DE ## 4326 & 4308]

I. INTRODUCTION

This Order addresses the "Motion to Stay 9019 Order" filed July 17, 2025, by the Dugaboy Investment Trust (the "Dugaboy Stay Motion"). DE # 4326. This Order also addresses a letter sent to this court by Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton, which letter was dated July 9, 2025, and was docketed on July 10, 2025, at DE # 4308 (the "Texas AG Letter"). This court will sometimes refer to the Dugaboy Stay Motion and the Texas AG Letter jointly as the "Stay Requests."

The Dugaboy Stay Motion. The Dugaboy Stay Motion was filed by the Dugaboy Investment Trust ("Dugaboy"). Dugaboy is a trust whose beneficiaries are James Dondero and his children/descendants. Mr. Dondero is a co-founder and former CEO of the above-referenced Reorganized Debtor ("Highland" or Reorganized Debtor"). As later discussed, Dugaboy was a former owner of a de minimis equity interest in Highland (less than .5%). The Dugaboy Stay Motion asks the bankruptcy court to stay for 90 days the court's June 30, 2025 "Order Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and 11 U.S.C. § 363 Approving Settlement Between the Highland Entities and the HMIT Entities and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith" (the "Rule 9019 Settlement Order"). DE # 4297. The Rule 9019 Settlement Order approved a settlement ("Settlement Agreement") between the Reorganized Debtor (and certain post-confirmation plan trusts), on the one hand, and Hunter Mountain Investment Trust ("HMIT" or "Hunter Mountain") and certain of its affiliates, on the other. Hunter Mountain was the 99.5% equity owner of Highland. Dugaboy desires a 90-day stay of the Rule 9019 Settlement Order so that Dugaboy and other parties can investigate what it asserts was a fraud committed by an individual named Mark Patrick in connection with a Cayman Islands charitable foundation structure ("Cayman Islands Charitable Foundation Structure") that Mark Patrick manages. There are currently liquidation proceedings ongoing in the Cayman Islands, involving this Cayman Islands Charitable Foundation Structure, where these fraud allegations have been raised and presumably will be litigated. See Exh. A to the Dugaboy Stay Motion (which is an 83-page Writ of Summons and Statement of Claim filed on or about July 15, 2025, in the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands (the "Cayman Islands Action").

What on earth does this litigation in the Cayman Islands have to do with the Rule 9019 Settlement Order (and the underlying Settlement Agreement approved therein)? Well, as it turns out, this same Mark Patrick that is being accused of fraud in the Cayman Islands Action signed the Settlement Agreement (on behalf of the Hunter Mountain entities). To be sure, the Hunter Mountain entities are not themselves charitable organizations. Mark Patrick just happens to be a representative of both Hunter Mountain and the Cayman Islands charitable entities that are the subject of the Cayman Islands Action. Note that Dugaboy appealed this bankruptcy court's Rule 9019 Settlement Order on July 14, 2025. The Dugaboy Stay Motion is not a standard request for a stay pending appeal, pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. Proc. 8007. Rather, a stay is sought, pursuant to Bankruptcy Code section 105, "to provide all stakeholders with time to investigate a motion under Rule 60 to vacate the [Rule] 9019 [Settlement] Order."[1]

The Texas AG Letter. The Texas AG Letter is not a properly filed motion. See Fed. R. Bankr. Proc. 5005. In any event, the court has considered it. It has a similar theme, only it asks for a stay of the entire bankruptcy proceedings (which are now more than four years post-confirmation). The Texas AG notes in his letter that, as the representative of the public's interest in charity, he is charged under Texas law with the power and duty to protect and enforce the public interest in nonprofit organizations, foundations, and charitable trusts.[2] The Texas AG Letter states that the Texas AG Office is investigating "persons and entities, some of whom are involved in this bankruptcy proceeding, in response to complaints"[3] and that "[o]ne of the complaints under investigation involves conduct allegedly taken by persons or entities during this bankruptcy proceeding."[4] The timing and statements in the Texas AG Letter suggest that the person being investigated is the same Mark Patrick addressed in the Dugaboy Stay Motion.

Summary of Ruling. For the reasons set forth below, this bankruptcy court will not grant a stay. Whatever the misdeeds may or may not be of Mark Patrick, they are not sufficiently intertwined with the Highland bankruptcy estate (or the Settlement Agreement) to justify a stay. Neither this bankruptcy case, nor the contested matter involving the Settlement Agreement, is a "proceeding involving a charitable trust." As further described herein, there happens to be a "proceeding involving a charitable trust" ongoing in the Cayman Islands. Mark Patrick is apparently accused of misdeeds therein. But, in the bankruptcy case, Mark Patrick is merely a signatory for a counter-party to a settlement agreement with the bankruptcy estate (that counter-party being the former 99.5% equity owner of Highland, namely Hunter Mountain). This court evaluated the Settlement Agreement in the manner that jurisprudence requires[5] (and weighed the evidence presented, including witness testimony from four witnesses). As noted, this court's Rule 9019 Settlement Order is now subject to appeal. This court determined that the Settlement Agreement was fair and equitable, within the range of reasonableness, and in the best interest of the Highland bankruptcy estate being administered under a confirmed plan with disinterested fiduciaries. The Stay Requests do not articulate a bona fide reason to stay the Rule 9019 Settlement Order or, for that matter, a bankruptcy case that is now more than four years past confirmation. Importantly, it would appear that the parties have other avenues to address any malfeasance of Mark Patrick vis-à-vis the liquidation proceedings involving the Cayman Islands Charitable Foundation Structure.

II. THE RULE 9019 SETTLEMENT MOTION

On May 19, 2025, a Motion for Entry of an Order Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and 11 U.S.C. § 363 Approving Settlement with the HMIT Entities and Authorizing Actions Consistent Therewith [DE # 4216] (the "Rule 9019 Motion") was filed by the Reorganized Debtor, the Highland Claimant Trust (the "Claimant Trust"), and the Highland Litigation Sub-Trust (the "Litigation Sub-Trust") (collectively, the "Highland Entities").[6]

The Rule 9019 Motion proposed a broad settlement (the aforementioned Settlement Agreement) that would resolve most of the remaining issues outstanding in the long-running Highland bankruptcy case. The other parties to the Settlement Agreement, besides the Highland Entities, were the so-called "HMIT Entities"—defined in the Settlement Agreement as Hunter Mountain Investment Trust, Beacon Mountain LLC, Rand Advisors, LLC, Rand PE Fund I, LP, Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, Atlas IDF, LP, and Atlas IDF GP, LLC. These HMIT Entities, other than Hunter Mountain itself, are affiliates of Hunter Mountain. As earlier noted, Hunter Mountain was the majority equity owner of Highland, prepetition. Hunter Mountain owned 100% of Highland's Class B & C limited partnership interests. This represented 99.5% of the overall equity of Highland. Hunter Mountain acquired all of Highland's Class B and Class C limited partnership interests (the "Class B/C Interests") in December 2015, from James Dondero (the aforementioned co-founder and former CEO of Highland—whose family trust Dugaboy is now wanting a stay); Mark Okada (another co-founder of Highland); and certain entities affiliated with them. These Class B/C Interests—again, held entirely by Hunter Mountain at this point—were categorized in Class 10 of Highland's confirmed Chapter 11 plan.

[6] The Claimant Trust and Litigation Sub-Trust are entities created pursuant to the confirmed Highland Chapter 11 plan, to handle various post-confirmation matters.

Among other things, the Settlement Agreement contemplated, in pertinent part: (a) the dismissal with prejudice of all pending litigation between and among the Highland Entities and the HMIT Entities (by way of example, Hunter Mountain had asserted claims for breach of fiduciary duty, conspiracy, and unjust enrichment against Highland and its new CEO, James P. Seery); (b) the disposition of bankruptcy estate claims asserted against certain of the HMIT Entities by the Claimant Trust and/or the Litigation Sub-Trust, and the assignment of the balance of the remaining estate claims to the HMIT Entities (by way of example, Highland had argued that Hunter Mountain owed Highland more than $57 million on a note payable to Highland); (c) the allowance of the Hunter Mountain Class 10 Interest in a fixed amount; (d) cash distributions to Hunter Mountain on account of its Class 10 Interest of about $10.5 Million, plus the assignment of an approximately $24 million note receivable owed to Highland known as the "Dugaboy Note," subject to certain conditions, set forth in the Settlement Agreement; and (e) the exchange of mutual general and broad releases and other protections consistent with the parties' intent to end all current, and avoid all future, litigation between and among them.

As previously mentioned, the current representative of Hunter Mountain is an individual named Mark Patrick. Mark Patrick assumed this role in March 2021, replacing an individual named Grant Scott. Mark Patrick was a long-time Highland employee. Mark Patrick had been employed by Highland as tax counsel since 2008. Mark Patrick had also provided personal tax advice to Mr. Dondero. In February 2021, as part of the Highland bankruptcy case, the employment contracts of many of Highland's employees, including Mark Patrick, were terminated. Mark Patrick, along with many other former back-office employees of Highland, thereafter became employees of a newly formed company called Skyview Group ("Skyview"), that provides middle and back-office services to various clients.

Apparently, Mark Patrick and Mr. Dondero (and/or perhaps others at Skyview) got into disagreements of some sort in mid-2024, and Mark Patrick is no longer employed at Skyview.

III. THE OBJECTIONS TO THE RULE 9019 SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

There were three objections to the Rule 9019 Settlement Motion/Settlement Agreement filed. Accordingly, the court presided over a contested evidentiary hearing on June 25, 2025 (the "Rule 9019 Settlement Hearing"). The court heard testimony from four witnesses: James Seery, Mark Patrick, James Dondero, and Patrick Daugherty. The court admitted documentary evidence as well.

The Patrick Daugherty Objection. One objection was filed by Patrick Daugherty (a former general counsel of Highland that has been in litigation for more than 15 years in several courts with Highland, Dondero, and others related to Highland) [DE # 4229]. Daugherty has already been paid on a large claim he was allowed in the Highland bankruptcy case but still has an unresolved, contingent, unsecured claim that is categorized in Class 8 of the confirmed Highland plan. Mr. Daugherty argued that the absolute priority rule and the Chapter 11 plan terms were being violated by the Settlement Agreement, since an equity interest (Hunter Mountain's Class 10 Interest) was receiving a distribution before Daugherty's Class 8 general unsecured claim. The court disagreed with these arguments, since Mr. Daugherty's unpaid, contingent Class 8 claim is highly speculative and has been fully reserved for, pending an ultimate hearing on the allowance of this claim. This Objection was overruled at the Rule 9019 Settlement Hearing.

The Dugaboy Objection. Another objection was filed by Dugaboy [DE # 4230]. As earlier noted, Dugaboy owned a very small amount of the equity in Highland—specifically, a .1866% share of the Class A limited partnership interests—and these Class A limited partnership interests, in turn, represented a merely .5% of the overall equity of Highland. Thus, Dugaboy owned well-under 1% of the equity of Highland. These Class A interests were categorized in Class 11 of the confirmed Highland plan. Note that two other parties besides Dugaboy owned Class A equity interests in Highland: Strand Advisors, Inc. ("Strand") and Mark Okada directly and indirectly (the other co-founder of Highland). The Dugaboy objection essentially argued that the Settlement Agreement violated the confirmed Plan, the Claimant Trust Agreement and the Confirmation Order, without much more detail than this. The Dugaboy objection was surprising to this court, because Hunter Mountain and Dugaboy have seemed to be at all times friendly—seemingly in lockstep—throughout the Highland bankruptcy case. They have shared the same legal positions and the same legal counsel at times. On the day of the Rule 9019 Settlement Hearing, Dugaboy orally made additional arguments, beyond those made in its written objection. Specifically, Dugaboy argued that the existence of the Cayman Islands Action should cause the bankruptcy court to continue the Rule 9019 Settlement Hearing (which Cayman Islands Action is further discussed below). The court declined to continue the Rule 9019 Settlement Hearing, and Dugaboy's Objection was overruled at the hearing.

The Dallas Foundation Objection. Another objection ("Dallas Foundation Objection") to the Settlement was filed by The Dallas Foundation [DE # 4231] (the "Dallas Foundation"), on behalf of Empower Dallas Foundation ("EDF") and The Okada Family Foundation (the "Okada Foundation"), and Crown Global Life Insurance, Ltd. ("Crown,"), not individually, but solely in respect of Segregated Accounts 30218 & 30219 (collectively, for ease of reference, the "Dallas Foundation"). The Dallas Foundation argued that "the Settlement is potentially tainted by the actions of Mark Patrick, the apparent sole manager and director of the HMIT Entities."[7] It further stated that "upon information and belief, Mr. Patrick illicitly restructured the ownership of the [7] Dallas Foundation Objection, ¶ 2.

HMIT Entities in a manner that seemed to facilitate the diversion of millions of dollars in assets from the charitable entities that are the beneficial owners of the HMIT Entities."[8]

What did this mean? How exactly does the Dallas Foundation factor into all of this? How was the Dallas Foundation a party-in-interest with standing to object to a settlement in the Highland bankruptcy case at this juncture? It did not purport to be a creditor or equity interest holder. Rather, the Dallas Foundation was referring to itself as "a Beneficial Owner of the HMIT Entities."[9] Since HMIT owns 99.5% of Highland, does the Dallas Foundation also consider itself an indirect beneficial owner of Highland? Suddenly this is mind-numbing.

Not to worry. The Dallas Foundation Objection further explained how it is a "Beneficial Owner" of Hunter Mountain. The explanation involves a complex charitable entity structure that is organized in the Cayman Islands. One has to carefully follow the bouncing ball to make the connection.

IV. THE CAYMAN ISLANDS CHARITABLE FOUNDATION STRUCTURE[10]

DAF Holdco (a "corporate blocker"). First, there is an entity called Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd. (the "DAF Holdco"), that is a Cayman Islands exempted company, incorporated on October 27, 2011, having its registered office at HSM Corporate Services Ltd, 68 Fort Street, George Town, PO Box 31726, Grand Cayman KY1-1207, that happens to currently be in liquidation proceedings in the Cayman Islands Action. The shares of DAF Holdco are divided into Participating Shares and Management Shares. DAF Holdco is apparently what's known as a "corporate blocker" in the Cayman Islands Charitable Foundation Structure. Mark Patrick has been the manager of it since March 2021.

[8] Dallas Foundation Objection, ¶ 2 (emphasis added).
[9] Dallas Foundation Objection, 4 (emphasis added).
[10] The following is gleaned from an Exbibit A attachment to the Dugaboy Stay Motion.

The DAF Fund. Second, DAF Holdco has historically been the sole limited partner of another entity called Charitable DAF Fund, LP (the "DAF Fund"). The DAF Fund is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed to invest and manage assets for the ultimate benefit of three or four registered charitable organizations in the U.S., including the Dallas Foundation (the "Charitable Entities").[11] The DAF Fund has sometimes been represented in filings (organizational charts) presented to the bankruptcy court as a Cayman Islands hedge fund. The general partner of the DAF Fund was historically Charitable DAF GP, LLC (the "DAF GP"), a Delaware limited liability company registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands. Mark Patrick has been the manager of DAF GP since March 2021.

CLO Holdco (another "corporate blocker"). Third, the sole asset of the DAF Fund is its 100% equity ownership in yet another entity called CLO HoldCo, Ltd. ("CLO HoldCo"), which is yet another Cayman Islands exempted company incorporated with limited liability, having its registered office address located at Campbells Corporate Services Limited, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman KY1-9010, Cayman Islands. CLO HoldCo is another "corporate blocker" entity in the Cayman Islands Charitable Foundation Structure. Interestingly, CLO HoldCo owns Hunter Mountain, and, as previously stated, Hunter Mountain was the 99.5% owner of Highland.

It seems rather interesting that Highland—an alternative investment advisor (sometimes referred to as a hedge fund) that was managing billions of assets—was owned ultimately by an offshore structure designed for charitable purposes. However, this court has no expertise as to whether this is an unusual structure or one that is common to facilitate/enhance tax-exempt ownership and charitable giving. The court is simply presenting the information available to it that it thinks explains why a stay is not appropriate here: namely, since other litigation exists involving Mark Patrick and the Charitable Entities.

[11] The Charitable Entities of which this court is aware are: The Dallas Foundation, The Greater Kansas City Foundation, The Santa Barbara Foundation, and the Community Foundation of North Texas (the "Charitable Entities" or sometimes the "Participating Shareholders"). The court has every reason to believe that these are respectable organizations dedicated to supporting charitable causes in their communities. The court has never heard anything to the contrary. Nothing herein should be construed as disparaging them in any way.

In any event, structurally, the three or four Charitable Entities (including the Dallas Foundation) are the ultimate beneficial owners of Participating Shares in DAF Holdco (one of the "corporate blockers"). This essentially means that the Charitable Entities are at the top of the whole structure.

The documentation supporting this whole structure apparently requires that the Participating Shareholders (i.e., the Charitable Entities such as the Dallas Foundation) must at all times qualify as a tax-exempt organizations, pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986 ("IRC"). The Participating Shares do not have voting rights but have the right to participate in the profits or assets of the DAF Holdco. Meanwhile, the Management Shares (which have been held by Mark Patrick) have voting rights but do not have the right to participate in the profits or assets of the DAF Holdco. In other words, the Participating Shareholders have the entirety of the economic interest in DAF Holdco, whereas the sole Management Shareholder has the control rights.

Bottom line, the Dallas Foundation argued that they had reason to believe that Mark Patrick engaged in some illicit actions recently that changed up some of the structure set forth above (i.e., including the insertion of newly created entities into the DAF Fund's structure). As a result, the Dallas Foundation feared that a significant portion of the economic interests derived by the HMIT Entities from the Settlement Agreement would flow to Mark Patrick rather than to the Charitable Entities for whose benefit the DAF Fund was established. The Dallas Foundation questioned Mark Patrick's requisite corporate authority to cause the HMIT Entities to enter into the Settlement Agreement. The Dallas Foundation asserted that many of Mark Patrick's alleged actions, including the apparent insertion of newly created entities into the DAF Fund's structure, would be subject to claw back or other avoidance actions in the Cayman Islands Action or such other tribunal as has jurisdiction. The Dallas Foundation wanted the bankruptcy court to defer to that process.

Significantly, the Dallas Foundation withdrew its objection the morning of the June 25, 2025 Rule 9019 Settlement Hearing. It made its announcement through counsel on the record at the hearing.

V. THE RULE 9019 SETTLEMENT HEARING

After hearing evidence and argument on June 25, 2025, the court approved the Settlement Agreement. Bankruptcy Rule 9019 provides that "[o]n motion … and after notice and a hearing, the court may approve a compromise or settlement."[12] Settlements are favored in the bankruptcy context to "minimize litigation and expedite the administration of a bankruptcy estate."[13] The approval of a settlement is within the "sound discretion" of the trial court.[14] Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019(a), the court may approve a settlement if it is fair, reasonable, and in the best interests of the estate.[15] A settlement should be approved unless it falls below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness, based on a comparison between the terms of the settlement and the costs and benefits of further litigation.[16]

LEXIS 31411, at *10 (S.D. Tex. April 18, 2006) (court should "canvass the issues" to decide if settlement falls "below the lowest point in the range of reasonableness").

In evaluating a proposed settlement, courts consider (i) the "probability of success in the litigation, with due consideration for the uncertainty in fact and law," (ii) the "complexity and likely duration of the litigation and any attendant expense, inconvenience and delay," and (iii) "[a]ll other factors bearing on the wisdom of the compromise."[17] Assessing the first factor—success on the merits—does not require a "mini-trial" on the merits.[18] The "other factors" include "the best interests of the creditors, 'with proper deference to their reasonable views,'" as well as "'the extent to which the settlement is truly the product of arms-length bargaining, and not of fraud or collusion.'"[19]

A trustee or other estate representative also "is permitted to settle lawsuits pursuant to section 363(b)" of the Bankruptcy Code.[20] Section 363(b) provides that "[t]he trustee, after notice and a hearing, may use, sell, or lease, other than in the ordinary course of business, property of the estate."[21] A sale involving a transaction outside the ordinary course of business "'must be supported by an articulated business justification, good business judgment, or sound business reasons.'"[22]

The court determined, based on this jurisprudence, that the factors to be considered pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 9019 and Bankruptcy Code section 363(b) weighed in favor of approving the Settlement Agreement in this case. The Highland Entities believed they had strong and meritorious defenses to all of the then-pending HMIT litigation, and history has shown that defending the then-pending HMIT litigation, including the appeals that could result therefrom, would be costly, time-consuming and value-destructive to the estate and creditor recoveries. Further, there was no guarantee that the Highland Entities would continue to be successful in defending the then-pending HMIT litigation—or that the HMIT Entities would not file additional litigation against the Highland Entities and their indemnified parties.

The second factor—complexity, duration, and costs of litigation—also weighed heavily in favor of approval of the Settlement Agreement. The cost of defending against the litigation in this case, including the then-pending HMIT litigation, had been significant. The litigation and its attendant costs have also significantly delayed and reduced distributions to the Reorganized Debtor's constituents. The HMIT litigation began in 2023 and is subject to at least two pending appeals which showed no signs of resolving absent this Settlement Agreement. If the Settlement Agreement was not approved, the Highland Entities would be faced with significant appellate litigation and potentially additional litigation in this court and other courts.

Third, approval of the Settlement Agreement was justified by the paramount interests of Highland's creditors and constituents. The Settlement Agreement resolved the pending HMIT litigation, resolved all disputes in connection with the HMIT Class 10 Interest; would sell, transfer, and assign the Estate Claims asserted in the so-called Kirschner Adversary Proceeding—which has been pending since 2021 (until it was stayed in 2023, at significant cost to the estate)—to the HMIT Entities; and would provide for broad mutual releases and a cessation of the litigation and acrimony that, in significant part, has delayed completion of the Plan and the overall bankruptcy case.

The preponderance of the evidence suggested that the Settlement Agreement was a rational exercise of the Highland Entities' business judgment and was negotiated in good faith and at arm's length.

The court signed the Rule 9019 Settlement Order on June 30, 2025 [DE # 4297].

Then, on July 17, 2025, Dugaboy filed the Dugaboy Stay Motion. This was preceded by the filing of the Texas AG Letter on July 10, 2025. As earlier noted, both of these Stay Requests urge that this court should halt things while they or others investigate matters that should be hashed out in the Cayman Islands Action. The Dugaboy Stay Motion says this > is necessary to provide all stakeholders with time to investigate a motion under Rule 60 to vacate the 9019 Order (and all resulting orders, such as the dismissals effected as a result of the 9019 Order) in light of evidence suggesting that the settlement approved by this Court was a key element of [Mark Patrick's] alleged fraudulent scheme. Transfers of assets to companies controlled by Mr. Patrick must be halted, lest those assets are moved to companies "hard to find or track."[23]

VI. DENIAL OF STAY REQUESTS

As noted earlier, the Dugaboy Stay Motion and the Texas AG Letter are not motions for stay pending appeal pursuant to Rule 8007 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure. Dugaboy requests some sort of discretionary stay, for 90 days, while proceedings in the Cayman Islands Action go forward and, perhaps, reach a conclusion that improprieties by Mark Patrick occurred with regard to the Cayman Islands Charitable Foundation Structure. To be clear, the request is made by Dugaboy, whose party-in-interest status in the Highland estate is quite de minimis. The Texas AG apparently is of the impression (as a result of whomever filed a complaint with him) that this bankruptcy case, or the contested matter involving the Settlement Agreement, is a "proceeding involving a charitable trust." But that simply is not the case. While the assets of Hunter Mountain—remember, the former 99.5% equity owner of Highland—may ultimately be part of a res that indirectly benefits (or was intended to benefit) the Charitable Entities such as Dallas Foundation (as a result of the manner in which the Cayman Islands Charitable Foundation

[23] Dugaboy Stay Motion, ¶ 3.

Structure was designed), this does not mean that the Highland bankruptcy case is a proceeding involving a charitable trust. This court believes it applied the correct analysis required for a bankruptcy settlement. Nothing about the bankruptcy court's ruling impacts the Cayman Islands Action or the Texas AG actions it might seek to take on behalf of the Charitable Entities such as the Dallas Foundation. Accordingly,

IT IS ORDERED that the Stay Requests by Dugaboy and the Texas attorney general be, and hereby are, DENIED.

GUIDANCE NOTES FOR MEMBERS OF THE LIQUIDATION COMMITTEE

INTRODUCTION

This guide has been produced to provide the Company's Liquidation Committee (the "Committee") with information in relation to:

- the duties and functions of the Committee;
- the rights of members of the Committee; and
- the procedural rules relating to Committee business.

The rules governing the procedures in relation to Liquidation Committees in the Cayman Islands is contained within Order 9 of the Companies Winding Up Rules (As Amended) (the "Rules").

Liquidation

The term liquidation (also referred to as 'winding up') refers to a formal insolvency procedure whereby the Company's affairs are wound up. This entails realising the Company's assets and distributing such proceeds in a set order of priority. The Committee is kept apprised of the position regarding the realisation of the Company's assets via the Joint Official Liquidators' ("JOLs") reports to creditors or via regular written and verbal updates to the Committee.

JOLs

The JOLs are appointed by the Court to administer the winding up and are officers of the Court. The Company's duly appointed JOLs are Margot MacInnis and Sandipan Bhowmik, both of Grant Thornton Specialist Services (Cayman) Ltd, 2nd floor, Century Yard, Cricket Square, PO Box 1044 Grand Cayman, KY1-1102, Cayman Islands.

Liquidation Committee

The Committee in a liquidation is known as the 'Liquidation Committee'.

Prior to the establishment of the Committee, the JOLs will summarily determine whether in their opinion the company should be regarded as insolvent, solvent or of doubtful solvency. Their determination will be certified in the Companies Winding up Rules Form 13 which is filed in Court within 28 days of the date that the winding up Order is made. The Company has been certified as solvent by the JOLs.

The determination made by the JOLs defines how the membership of the Liquidation Committee should be comprised.

Insolvent

Where a company has been determined to be insolvent, the Liquidation Committee shall comprise between 3 and 5 creditors.

Doubtful solvency

Where a company has been determined to be of doubtful solvency, the Liquidation Committee shall comprise between 3 and 6 members, a majority of which shall be creditors and at least 1 of whom shall be a contributory.

Solvent

Where a company has been determined to be solvent, the Liquidation Committee shall comprise between 3 and 5 contributories.

Reconstitution of the Committee

If, during the course of the liquidation, the JOLs change their certification of the Company's solvency or insolvency determination (as the case may be), they shall take the following steps to reconstitute the Committee:

a) If the Company is certified to be solvent, any creditor members of the Committee shall automatically cease to be members and the JOLs shall convene a meeting of contributories for the purpose of electing new members from amongst the Company's contributories.

b) If the Company is certified to be insolvent, any contributory members of the Committee shall automatically cease to be members and the JOLs shall convene a meeting of creditors for the purpose of electing new members from amongst the Company's creditors.

c) If the Company is certified to be of doubtful solvency, any member of the Committee shall automatically cease to be members and the JOLs shall convene a meeting of creditors and contributories for the purpose of electing new members amongst both the Company's creditors and contributories.

Nothing in the Rule shall prevent the JOLs from convening a meeting in anticipation of changing their certification of the Company's insolvency or solvency (as the case may be).

The Committee's responsibilities

A Sounding Board

It should be noted that persons acting on the Committee are generally regarded as acting in the general interests of the class (creditors or contributories) that they are elected from. Their purpose is to act as a 'sounding board' and to give some guidance and direction on behalf of their class interest to the JOLs. The liquidation committee is not a forum for creditors to voice their disputes. As far as possible, members should disassociate themselves from their personal interests and if they believe they have a conflict in any particular decision, they should declare that immediately to the JOLs and any other Committee members. For example, conflicts of interest may occur when liquidation committee members are associated with, or connected to, litigation involving other creditors, the Company or which is commenced by the JOLs.

Views of the Committee

Whilst the JOLs would normally act in line with the decisions of the Committee, the duty to conduct the liquidation is theirs alone and it is possible that in exceptional circumstances, the JOLs may disregard the views of the Committee. A liquidation committee can guide but cannot compel an office holder in relation to the conduct of the insolvency proceeding where it is considered by an office holder not to be in the best interests of the Company to do so.

Remuneration

In addition, it is also the responsibility of the Committee to negotiate with the JOLs and agree the basis upon which the JOLs and their firms will be remunerated. Whilst it is for the Court to ultimately sanction the JOLs' fees, the JOLs may not make an application to the Court for approval of their remuneration without first seeking the Committee's approval of the basis and amount of their remuneration for which they intend to seek the Court's approval. The JOLs intend to send remuneration summaries to the Committee on a monthly basis beginning from the end of July 2025, and seek approval of their fees at a meeting on a quarterly basis.

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE LIQUIDATION COMMITTEE

The Rules assert that unless the Court directs otherwise, a Liquidation Committee must be established in respect of every company being wound up by the Court (i.e. every Official Liquidation).

Such a Liquidation Committee must be established at the first meeting of creditors (and/or meeting of contributories, as the case may be) and cannot act until the JOLs have issued a certificate of its due constitution. Corporate members must be represented by an individual who is duly authorised in writing.

Any creditor of the company (other than one whose debt is fully secured) is eligible to be a member of the Liquidation Committee, so long as:

- he has lodged a proof of his debt; and
- his proof has neither been wholly disallowed for voting purposes nor wholly rejected for the purposes of distribution or dividend.

No person shall on the same committee:

- be a member as both a creditor and a contributory;
- act at one and the same time as representative of more than one Committee member; or
- act both as member of the committee and representative of another Committee member.

If a corporate member of the Committee is put into liquidation under Cayman Islands' law or made the subject of a bankruptcy or reorganisation proceeding under the law of a foreign country, it shall continue to be a member of the Committee so long as the person appointed to deal with the affairs of that company consents to act as its representative.

The Company's Liquidation Committee

The Company's Liquidation Committee was elected at the first meeting of contributories held on 9 July 2025, and is currently comprised of the following contributory members:

1. Julie Diaz, representing Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc., 3000 Pegasus Park Drive #930, Dallas, TX 75247 (jdiaz@dallasfoundation.org)

2. Deborah Wilkerson, representing Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc.,1055 Broadway Blvd. #130, Kansas City, MO 64105 (wilkerson@growyourgiving.org)

3. Jacqueline M. Carrera, representing Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc., 1111 Chapala Street, Santa Barbara, CA 93101 (jcarrera@sbfoundation.org)

4. Rose Bradshaw, representing North Texas Community Foundation, 7777 Main Street, Suite 2850, Fort Worth, TX 76102 (rbradshaw@northtexascf.org)

5. Jennier Colegate, representing DFW Charitable Foundation c/o Baker & Partners (Cayman) Limited, P.O. Box, 636, Buckingham Square, 720 West Bay Road, Cayman Islands, KY1-1107 (jennifercolegate@bakerandpartners.com)

The Liquidation Committee came into being and authorized to act from 21 July 2025, the date of the filing of the official liquidator's certificate with the Cayman Court.

THE JOLS' OBLIGATIONS TO THE LIQUIDATION COMMITTEE

Communication

The JOLs shall communicate with the Committee by whatever means is agreed between them. This may be in writing, telephone, fax, email or via a website.

Reporting

The JOLs have a duty to report to the members of the Committee on all such matters as appear to them to be, or such matters as the members have indicated to the JOLs as being, of concern to them with respect to the winding up. Accordingly, the members of the Committee are able to input into all major decisions impacting the liquidation.

The JOLs need not comply with a request for information where it appears that:

- the request is frivolous or unreasonable;
- the cost of providing such information would be excessive with regard to the importance of the information; or
- there are insufficient assets to enable the JOLs to comply.

The JOLs shall provide each member of the Committee with a written report and accounts and convene a first meeting within 3 months of the Committee's establishment.

Confidentiality

As a result of a member's participation in a Committee, the member will receive certain confidential information to assist in the Committee proceedings. Accordingly, members may be required to enter into appropriate non-disclosure agreements restricting the use of information the member receives during the course of the proceedings.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LIQUIDATION COMMITTEE

Further meetings

After the first meeting has been convened and held, the JOLs shall convene further meetings:

- on such dates or at such intervals as may be resolved by the Committee;
- if so requested in writing by any two members of the Committee; and
- in any event, not less than once every 6 months.

GUIDANCE NOTES FOR MEMBERS OF THE LIQUIDATION COMMITTEE

Form of meetings and notice periods

A meeting may take the form of:

- a physical meeting at the JOLs' office, or such other place as may be resolved upon by the Committee, in which case 10 business days' notice is required (and any member who cannot attend in person must be allowed to participate by telephone); or
- a telephone conference call in which case the JOLs must give at least 5 business days' notice of the meeting.

Attendance/Quorum

One of the JOLs or a duly authorised and suitably experienced representative employed by the JOLs' firm shall attend every meeting of the Committee.

In order to be validly held, the quorum for a meeting shall be one of the JOLs (or theirrepresentative) and at least 2 Committee members.

The chairman of the meeting is normally one of the JOLs (or theirrepresentative), however the members may resolve that one of them should act as chairman.

Agenda

The JOLs shall prepare an agenda for each meeting which shall include:

- all the matters which the JOLs intend to put before the meeting;
- any matter which a Committee member intends to put before the meeting; and
- any resolutions which the JOLs or any Committee member intends to put to a vote.

Voting/approval of resolutions

Each member shall have one vote and a resolution is passed when a majority of members present or represented (either in person or by telephone) have voted in favour of it. If the Committee comprises both creditors and contributories, a resolution is passed only when a majority of the creditor members and a majority of contributory members present or represented (either in person or by telephone) have voted in favour of it.

Whenever the JOLs consider that it would be impractical or unnecessary to convene a meeting of the Committee for the purpose of considering any resolution, they may send a copy of it to each member, inviting them to deal with it as a written resolution, and it shall be treated as passed if every member of the Committee signs it within such period or by such deadline as may be specified by the JOLs.

Minutes of the meeting

The JOLs are responsible for taking minutes of the meeting, a draft of which shall be prepared and circulated to members within 14 days after the meeting.

LEGAL ADVICE AND COUNSEL TO THE LIQUIDATION COMMITTEE

Attorney/Counsel
The Committee may resolve to appoint an attorney to give legal advice to the Committee, either generally or in respect of a specific issue arising in the liquidation.

Legal fees and expenses

The legal fees and expenses in relation to such advice shall be paid out of the assets of the Company as an expense of the liquidation. If the JOLs or a Committee member decides that the amount to be paid is excessive, they may require that such fees and expenses be taxed on an indemnity basis. Conversely, if the amount offered by the JOLs is considered inadequate, the attorney may require that his bill of costs be taxed. The JOLs have no authority to pay any amount in excess of that stated in any costs certificate.

EXPENSES AND COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Committee members are not entitled to remuneration, however, travelling and/or telephone charges reasonably and properly incurred by Committee members or their representatives in attending meetings of the Committee shall be reimbursed by the JOLs out of the assets of the company. Other expenses incurred by members may be reimbursed but only with the prior approval of the JOLs and pursuant to a resolution of the Committee.

RESIGNATION AND TERMINATION OF MEMBERSHIP

Resignation

A Committee member may resign from the Committee by delivering written notice to the JOLs by emailing: CDAF.Core@uk.gt.com.

Termination

A creditor's membership of the Committee is automatically terminated if:

- his proof of debt has been wholly rejected;
- his claim has been paid in full, or;
- he (or his representative) fails to attend 3 successive Committee meetings either in person or by telephone.

A contributory's membership of the Committee is automatically terminated if:

- he ceases to be a registered member of the Company; or
- the custodian or clearing house withdraws the certificate issued; or
- he (or his representative) fails to attend 3 successive Committee meetings either in person or by telephone.

GUIDANCE NOTES FOR MEMBERS OF THE LIQUIDATION COMMITTEE

Removal

The Committee may resolve to remove a member by passing a resolution at a Committee meeting, provided that the member in question has been given at least 14 days prior notice. Either the JOLs or a Committee member may propose a removal resolution. It is not necessary to give any reasons for proposing a removal resolution, nor shall the Committee or the JOLs be required to give the former member any reasons for passing a removal resolution.

Note: The above is a summary of the provisions for Liquidation Committees in Order 9 Companies Winding Up Rules (As Amended) in Cayman law, and is intended for guidance purposes only. It should not be regarded as definitive law or advice and if any creditor or member has any concerns about acting as a Committee member he or she should take his own independent legal advice.

Chapter 15 of the United States Bankruptcy Code: An Annotated Section-By-Section Analysis 41

Margot MacInnis and Sandipan Bhowmik of Grant Thornton Specialist Services (Cayman) Limited (the "Petitioners"), the duly appointed joint official liquidators (the "JOLs") of Charitable DAF HoldCo, Ltd (In Official Liquidation) ("HoldCo" or the "Debtor"), a Cayman Islands exempted company in official liquidation in the Cayman Islands (the "Cayman Proceeding"),[2] which was brought under the supervision of the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands Financial Services Division (the "Cayman Court") by an order dated May 6, 2025 (Cause No. FSD 116 of 2025) (JAJ) (the "Supervision Order"), by its undersigned United States counsel, Reed Smith LLP ("Reed Smith"), respectfully submit the Official Form 401 Chapter 15 Petition for Recognition of a Foreign Proceeding (ECF No. 1) and this Verified Petition for (I) Recognition of Foreign Main Proceeding, (II) Recognition of Foreign Representative, and (III) Related Relief Under Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code (together, the "Petition"), the accompanying Declaration of Caroline Moran executed on July 21, 2025 (the "Moran Decl."), and the Declaration of Margot MacInnis executed on July 21, 2025 (the "MacInnis Decl." and, together with the Moran Decl., the "Declarations"), for entry of an order (the "Proposed Order"), substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A, pursuant to chapter 15 of title 11 of the United States Code, 11 U.S.C. § 101 et seq. (the "Bankruptcy Code"): (a) recognizing the Cayman Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding under sections 1515 and 1517 of the Bankruptcy Code; (b) recognizing the Petitioners as the Debtor's foreign representatives under sections 101(24), 1509 and 1517 of the Bankruptcy Code; and (c) granting relief pursuant to sections 105(a), 1502, 1507, 1510, 1520 and 1521 of the Bankruptcy Code.

[2] Entitled In the matter of section 131 of the Companies Act (2025 Revision) and in the matter of Charitable DAF HoldCo Ltd FSD 116 of 20256 (JAJ).

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT[3]

1. On May 6, 2025, the Cayman Court appointed the JOLs, in their capacity as independent fiduciaries and court officers, to liquidate HoldCo under its supervision. Under Cayman law, the JOLs' duties include the collection, realization and distribution of the assets of HoldCo to its creditors and, if there is a surplus, to equity holders. Cayman law affords the JOLs authority to investigate HoldCo's business and affairs in furtherance of their duties.

2. HoldCo is a Cayman Islands exempted company, formed in 2011 to serve as the sole limited partner of the Charitable DAF Fund, LP (the "Fund"), a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership established to manage investments for the benefit of certain U.S. tax-exempt charitable organizations. For more than a decade, HoldCo facilitated significant charitable activity in the United States by distributing profits realized from the Fund's investment portfolio, which maintained a net asset value of approximately $270 million, to its ultimate, beneficial interest holders: four large, well established charities serving communities in need in the United States.

3. Beginning in 2024, HoldCo's directors, Mr. Mark Patrick and Mr. Paul Murphy, executed a series of complex, interrelated transactions—without the knowledge of HoldCo's beneficial interest holders—that resulted in the dilution of HoldCo's beneficial interest holders' stake in HoldCo from 100% to under 50% and the divestment of HoldCo's interest in the Fund in exchange for a membership interest in a Delaware limited liability company that was purported to be redeemed for the sum of approximately $1.6 million. These transactions occurred not long after Mr. Patrick had approved significant increases in his remuneration package.

[3] Capitalized terms used in this section but not otherwise defined shall have the meanings ascribed to them elsewhere in this Petition.

4. Since their appointment on May 6, 2025, the JOLs have conducted an extensive investigation, which is ongoing, into the facts and circumstances regarding these transactions. Based on the evidence amassed by the JOLs to date, on July 14, 2025, the Cayman Court granted leave to the JOLs to bring claims on behalf of HoldCo against Mr. Patrick, Mr. Murphy and certain other defendants for breaches of fiduciary and other duties, unlawful means conspiracy, unjust enrichment, restitution and other equitable relief and damages by way of filing a "Writ and Statement of Claim" (the "Statement of Claim"). On July 15, 2025, HoldCo proceeded to file the Statement of Claim with the Cayman Court, commencing litigation. At the same time, HoldCo filed an application for (a) a proprietary injunction to prevent the defendants from dealing with HoldCo's assets that are now held or controlled by the defendants together with disclosure orders (the "Injunction Application") and (b) leave to serve US-based defendants the Statement of Claim and the Injunctive Relief Application (the "Leave to Serve Application" and, together with the Injunctive Relief Application, the "Applications"). The Applications have been listed for hearing on July 31, 2025.

5. The Petitioners now commence this case under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code (this "Chapter 15 Case") to obtain recognition of the Cayman Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code. The basis for recognition is straightforward. HoldCo is subject to official liquidation in the Cayman Islands, its jurisdiction of organization, which is being administered, since May 6, 2025, in accordance with Part V of the Cayman Islands Companies Act (2025 Revision) (the "Companies Act"), a law relating to, among other things, insolvency or the adjustment of debt, by JOLs appointed by the Cayman Court and under the supervision of the Cayman Court.

6. Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code was enacted to provide effective mechanisms for dealing with cases of cross-border insolvency such as this one. Its express objectives include fostering: (a) cooperation between United States courts, trustees, examiners, debtors and debtors in possession, and the courts and other competent authorities of foreign countries; (b) greater legal certainty for trade and investment; (c) fair and efficient administration of cross-border insolvencies that protects the interests of all creditors, and other interested entities, including the debtor; and (d) protection and maximization of the value of the debtor's estate. These goals will be furthered by the granting of chapter 15 recognition here.

7. Recognition of the Cayman Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding is crucial for several reasons, including: (a) to assist the JOLs in fulfilling their duty under the relevant provisions of the Companies Act to investigate the assets, affairs, rights, liabilities, and obligations of the Debtor, including, if necessary, by compelling parties in interest to provide information requested by the JOLs; and (b) to prevent the further dissipation of assets that comprise the group of entities and affiliates that were formerly owned, directly or indirectly, by HoldCo and the Fund, including by recognizing and enforcing orders for injunctive relief with respect to persons or entities formerly affiliated with HoldCo as may be entered by the Cayman Court. Each of these reasons is squarely within and consistent with the broader goals underpinning the purpose of chapter 15 recognition. The Petitioners anticipate that the Chapter 15 Case will complement the Debtor's Cayman Proceeding to ensure the effective and economic administration of the Debtor's liquidation efforts.

BACKGROUND

8. The following is an overview of the Debtor's business, capital structure, events leading to the Cayman Proceeding and this Chapter 15 Case as of the date of the filing of the Petition (the "Petition Date").

A. Overview of HoldCo and its Stakeholders

9. HoldCo is a Cayman Islands exempted company, incorporated on October 27, 2011. Its registered office is at HSM Corporate Services Limited, P.O. Box 31726, 68 Fort Street, George Town, Grand Cayman, KY1-1207, Cayman Islands.[4] (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 8, Ex. 3)

10. HoldCo's share capital is divided into participating shares (the "Participating Shares"), which do not have voting rights but confer the right to participate in HoldCo's profits or assets including by way of the receipt of dividends, and management shares (the "Management Shares"), which have voting rights but confer no other right to participate in HoldCo's profits or assets. Accordingly, holders of Participating Shares (the "Participating Shareholders") have the entirety of the economic interest in HoldCo, whereas the holder of Management Shares (the "Management Shareholder") has the control rights. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 9, Ex. 5)

11. Until recently, four nonprofit corporations collectively held 100% of HoldCo's Participating Shares: Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. (the "Highland Dallas Foundation"), Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. (the "Highland Kansas City Foundation"), Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc. ("Highland Santa Barbara Foundation" and, together with Highland Dallas Foundation and Highland Kansas City Foundation, the "Supporting Organizations") and [4] Previously, HoldCo maintained its registered office at Campbells Corporate Services Ltd, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman, KY1-9010, Cayman Islands.

The Community Foundation of North Texas ("CFNT," and, together with the Supporting Organizations, the "Original Participating Shareholders"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 10, Ex. 6)

12. As of the date hereof, HoldCo has one Management Shareholder and five registered Participating Shareholders. The Management Shares in HoldCo are held entirely by Mr. Mark Eric Patrick, a U.S. resident, who is also a director of HoldCo. Mr. Patrick acquired the Management Shares on March 25, 2021, upon taking assignment of the Management Shares previously held by Mr. Grant Scott. HoldCo's second director is Mr. Paul Murphy, a Cayman Islands resident. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 11, Exs. 6-10)

13. As of the date hereof, the Participating Shareholders are:

(a) Highland Dallas Foundation, a nonprofit corporation exempt from federal income tax under § 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "IRC") incorporated in Delaware on November 22, 2011, which was issued 100 Participating Shares in HoldCo on November 30, 2011;

(b) Highland Kansas City Foundation, a nonprofit corporation exempt from federal income tax under § 501(c)(3) of the IRC incorporated in Delaware on November 23, 2011, which was issued 100 Participating Shares in HoldCo on November 30, 2011;

(c) Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, a nonprofit corporation exempt from federal income tax under § 501(c)(3) of the IRC incorporated in Delaware on November 22, 2011, which was issued 100 Participating Shares in HoldCo on November 30, 2011;

(d) CFNT for the Highland Capital Management, L.P. Charitable Fund at CFNT, a public charity exempt from federal income tax under § 501(c)(3) of the IRC incorporated in Texas, which was issued 5 Participating Shares in HoldCo on August 12, 2015; and

(e) DFW Charitable Foundation ("DFW"), a nonprofit corporation exempt from federal income tax under § 501(c)(3) of the IRC incorporated in Delaware on December 9, 2024, which was issued 318 Participating Shares in HoldCo on February 7, 2025 ("DFW Share Issuance"). Mr. Patrick is its registered director, president and sole member.[5]

(MacInnis Decl. ¶ 12, Exs. 11-21)

i. The Charitable Structure

14. Four charities held the ultimate economic interest in HoldCo prior to the DFW Share Issuance and held Participating Shares, either directly or indirectly. They are:

(a) The Dallas Foundation ("TDF") (which controls Highland Dallas Foundation): a charitable entity established in Texas in 1929 which has awarded over $1 billion in grants and manages over $500 million in assets;

(b) Greater Kansas City Community Foundation ("GKCCF") (which controls Highland Kansas Foundation): a charitable entity established in Missouri in 1978 which has awarded over $7 billion in grants and manages over $6 billion held in charitable funds;

(c) Santa Barbara Foundation ("SBF" and, together with TDF and GKCCF, the "Charities," and each, a "Charity") (which controls Highland Santa Barbara Foundation): a charity established in 1928 which is the largest community foundation on California's Central Coast and manages assets of over $800 million; and

(d) CFNT is a charity established in 1981 which manages assets totaling $513 million and donated $38.9 million to local nonprofits in 2023. CFNT holds its Participating Shares in HoldCo directly (i.e., without interposing a supporting organization). Prior to the DFW Share Issuance, CFNT held 1.639% of the Participating Shares.

(MacInnis Decl. ¶ 13, Ex. 19)

15. Each of the Charities held its interests in HoldCo indirectly through Highland Dallas Foundation, Highland Kansas City Foundation, and Highland Santa Barbara Foundation respectively (i.e., TDF held its interest through the Participating Shares held by Highland Dallas Foundation, etc.). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 14, Exs. 23-25)

[5] HoldCo contests the validity of the DFW Share Issuance in the Cayman Litigation (defined below).

16. The Supporting Organizations were incorporated by Mr. James Dondero in November 2011 for the purpose of making charitable donations to their respective charity from the proceeds received by the Supporting Organizations from HoldCo. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 15, Exs. 26-28)

17. Each of the Supporting Organizations is "organized and operated exclusively to support and benefit" its relevant, supported Charity. For US tax purposes, each Supporting Organization is classified as a Type I supporting organization of its respective Charity, which means that it is operated, supervised and controlled by that Charity. Consistent with this classification, the governance arrangements of each of the Supporting Organizations affords each Charity two votes and two director-nominees, to the individual member's (Mr. Dondero or his designee's) one vote and one director-nominee. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 16, Exs. 23-28, 29-31)

18. HoldCo was formed for tax efficiency purposes to avoid a Charity or Supporting Organization becoming liable for "unrelated business taxable income" ("UBTI") with respect to investments it may wish to make in a hedge fund or private equity fund, here, the Fund, where substantial assets were held. (MacInnis Decl. ¶17, Ex. 92)

19. HoldCo was, between November 2011 and December 18, 2024, the sole limited partner of the Fund, a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed to invest and manage assets for the benefit or ultimate benefit of certain registered charitable organizations in the United States, through which it indirectly owned a larger group of entities (collectively, the "DAF Structure"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 18)

20. The role of HoldCo was to facilitate the making of discretionary cash distributions to Participating Shareholders, which would be drawn from the proceeds of investment returns made within asset-holding entities in the DAF Structure. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 19, Exs. 32-33, 35-36)

B. Overview of the Fund

21. The Fund is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed October 25, 2011 (registration no. 53083), having its registered office at Campbells Corporate Services Ltd, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman, KY1-9010, Cayman Islands. The Fund is governed by the Second Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement, dated March 11, 2024 (the "Fund LPA"). Prior to the Relevant Transactions, HoldCo was the sole limited partner of the Fund. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 20. Exs. 34-36)

22. The Fund was formed and operates to "make certain investments directly or indirectly on behalf of certain entities exempt from taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code … for the economic benefit of [HoldCo] and its Indirect Charitable Owners." (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 21, Ex. 5)

23. Charitable DAF GP, LLC (the "Original GP"), a Delaware limited liability company registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands which was, at the Fund's formation and until March 7, 2024, the general partner of the Fund, at which time it was replaced by CDH GP, LTD (the "New GP" or "CDH"), a Cayman Islands exempt company incorporated on February 27, 2024, by Mr. Patrick, its sole director, at Mr. Patrick's instigation, without notice to the Original Participating Shareholders. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 22, Exs. 37-39, 94)

24. The Fund's sole asset is or was its ownership of 100% of the issued share capital, in CLO HoldCo Ltd ("CLO HoldCo"). CLO Holdco is organized as a Cayman Islands exempt company incorporated with limited liability, having its registered office address located at Campbells Corporate Services Limited, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman KY1-9010, Cayman Islands. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 23 Exs. 32-33, 40-43)

25. Based upon their initial research and investigation, the JOLs understand that the Fund's known subsidiaries, that it holds through CLO HoldCo (as listed in Schedule A of the proposed order accompanying the Injunction Application (defined below), the "Fund Entities") are mostly passive investment vehicles holding a mix of assets, including cash, promissory notes, shares in Nexpoint[6] entities, publicly traded stock, real estate, receivables/proceeds from litigation proceedings, receivable amounts from brokers, dividends due, and amounts due from affiliates. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 24, Ex. 82)

26. At all relevant times, the Fund had a net asset value of approximately $270 million. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 25, Ex. 51)

C. Key Transactions Precipitating the Debtor's Liquidation

i. The Relevant Transactions

27. Beginning in 2024, HoldCo's directors, Mr. Patrick and Mr. Murphy (together, the "Directors") executed a series of complex, interrelated transactions without the knowledge or consent of the Original Participating Shareholders. These transactions consisted of (a) HoldCo's contribution of its interest in the Fund to a newly formed entity organized in Delaware, CDMCFAD, LLC ("CDM"), controlled by Mr. Patrick, in exchange for membership interests in CDM that, unlike the Original Participating Shareholders Participating Shares in HoldCo, were redeemable and afforded HoldCo no fiduciary safeguards (the "LP/LLC Exchange"); (b) the DFW Share Issuance, i.e., the purported issuance of 318 participating shares in HoldCo to DFW, a Delaware nonprofit corporation incorporated and controlled by Mr. Patrick, on February 7, 2025, sufficient to make it, rather than the Original Participating Shareholders, the majority owner of HoldCo's participating shares; and (c) the purported redemption of HoldCo's interest in CDM in exchange for approximately $1.6 million on March 27, 2025 (the "Redemption" and, together with the LP/LLC Exchange and the DFW Share Issuance, the "Relevant Transactions"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 26, Exs 20-21, 44-46)

[6] Nexpoint is an investment management firm registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission that was founded by Mr. Dondero, who currently serves as its President.

(A) The LP/LLC Exchange

28. On December 12, 2024, CDM was incorporated as a limited liability company in Delaware. Mr. Patrick was the sole member of CDM. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 27 Exs 47-48)

29. On December 18, 2024, without informing the Supporting Organizations or the Charities, (i) the Directors passed resolutions to transfer HoldCo's entire limited partnership interest in the Fund (the "Fund Partnership Interest") to CDM, in exchange for a contribution by CDM's sole member—Mr. Patrick—of 100% of the issued and outstanding membership interests in CDM; and (ii) HoldCo, CDM, and the New GP entered into a Deed of Assignment and Assumption, executed by Mr. Patrick in three capacities: on behalf of: (x) HoldCo, as Director; (y) CDM, as manager; and (z) the New GP, as Director, pursuant to which (a) HoldCo assigned its entire interest in the Fund to CDM (the "CDM Assignment"), (b) the New GP provided its written consent to the CDM Assignment and the admission of CDM as the new limited partner, in accordance with the Fund LPA, and (c) CDM agreed to exercise its reasonable best endeavors to ensure that 100% of the membership interest in CDM (the "CDM Membership Interest") would be transferred to HoldCo. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 28, Exs. 44-45)

30. The LP/LLC Exchange occurred in at least two stages: (a) first, HoldCo transferred its entire interest in the Fund to CDM; and (b) second, CDM procured the transfer of 100% of its share capital to HoldCo, making HoldCo the sole membership interest holder of CDM rather than the sole limited partner in the Fund. The effect of the LP/LLC Exchange was that: (a) CDM was inserted into the corporate structure as a subsidiary of HoldCo and became the holder of the entire interest in the Fund previously held by HoldCo; and (b) HoldCo became the sole membership interest holder in CDM, resulting in its sole asset—formerly its 100% limited partnership interest in the Fund—being exchanged for the CDM Membership Interest. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 29, Exs. 42, 45-46)

31. The LP/LLC Exchange prejudiced the interests of HoldCo. The CDM Membership Interest was less valuable than the Fund Partnership Interest because, among other reasons, whereas the New GP had owed fiduciary duties to HoldCo in the Fund, the manager, Mr. Patrick, did not owe any fiduciary duties to CDM; and, unlike the Fund Partnership Interest, the CDM Membership Interest was susceptible to being redeemed by Mr. Patrick (as Manager) in his sole discretion and for any reason, for "fair market value" as defined by Article 6.9, i.e., a "good faith determination of value." (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 30, Ex. 48)

(B) DFW Share Issuance

32. On December 9, 2024, DFW, a nonprofit non-stock corporation, was incorporated in Delaware exclusively for charitable purposes. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 31, Ex. 49)

33. On February 7, 2025, without informing the Supporting Organizations or the Charities, the Directors passed resolutions for HoldCo to issue 318 Participating Shares to DFW, which, upon issuance, would allot DFW 51.04% of the Participating Shares of HoldCo. That same day, also without notice to the Supporting Organizations or the Charities, HoldCo issued and allotted 318 Participating Shares to DFW, resulting in DFW holding a 51.04% interest in HoldCo and diluting the Original Participating Shareholders' aggregate shareholding from 100% to 48.96%. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 32, Exs. 20-21)

(C) Redemption

34. Following the LP/LLC Exchange, ValueScope, Inc. ("ValueScope") was instructed without informing the Supporting Organizations or the Charities to prepare two valuation analyses: (a) the 100% membership interest in CDM; and (b) certain Participating Shares of HoldCo as of March 25, 2025 (the "March 2025 ValueScope Valuations"). Historically, between December 2020 and September 2024, ValueScope conducted a series of valuation analyses of 100 Participating Shares on a net asset value ("NAV") basis at HoldCo's request to determine their fair market value ("FMV"). The final NAV-based valuation prepared by ValueScope prior to the Relevant Transactions was dated January 7, 2025, and gave a valuation of 100 Participating Shares as of September 30, 2024. ValueScope determined that, as of September 30, 2024, the NAV of the Fund was $269.05 million, NAV per share was $882,140, FMV per share was $759,614 and the FMV of 100 Participating shares was $75,961,370. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 33, Exs. 50-51, 93)

35. The March 2025 ValueScope Valuations, however: (a) applied a discounted cash flow ("DCF") methodology to estimate the present value of expected future distributions, rather than the asset-based approach used in at least the prior five annual valuations by ValueScope; (b) determined the FMV of 100 Participating Shares to be $536,784; (c) applied a 99.2% discount for lack of control ("DLOC"); and (d) applied a 20.00% discount for lack of marketability ("DLOM"). The DCF model relied on projected future distributions to HoldCo, with those projections based on historical distributions that were also controlled by Mr. Patrick. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 34, Exs. 50, 93)

36. Accordingly, the FMV of 100 Participating Shares in HoldCo apparently declined from $75,961,370 on September 30, 2024, to $536,784 on March 25, 2025—a 99.29% reduction in less than six months, coinciding with the LP/LLC Exchange and attributable to the shift in valuation methodology from NAV to DCF. Although the March 2025 ValueScope Valuations reports identified "total equity" of approximately $269 million and concluded that all Participating Shares had a combined value of only approximately $1.6 million, the analyses did not address who benefited from the residual value of roughly $267.4 million. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 35, Ex. 50)

37. On March 27, 2025, without informing the Supporting Organizations or the Charities, HoldCo entered into a letter agreement with CDM (the "Letter Agreement"), pursuant to which HoldCo assigned to CDM various contracts and agreements to which it was a party. On the same day, Mr. Patrick executed, in his capacity as manager of CDM and president of DFW, the following, again without notice to the Supporting Organizations or the Charities: (i) an Admission and Amendment No. 1 Agreement between CDM and DFW, under which DFW was admitted as a member of CDM in exchange for a capital contribution of $1,637,192; and (ii) a Redemption and Amendment No. 2 Agreement under which CDM redeemed HoldCo's CDM shares for the same sum of $1,637,192 (the "Redemption Sum") (together, the "Admission and Redemption"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 36, Exs, 52-54)

38. Additionally, on March 27, 2025, Mr. Patrick, in his capacity as manager of CDM, executed a written consent (the "Manager Consent") approving the Admission and Redemption. The Manager Consent stated that the redemption of HoldCo's shares of CDM under the Letter Agreement was justified due to alleged attempts by the Supporting Organizations to exert control, and the potential loss of their nonprofit and tax-exempt status. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 37, Ex. 55)

39. On April 2, 2025, the Directors, by written resolution: (a) noted the redemption of HoldCo's shareholding in CDM for the Redemption Sum; and (b) resolved to make a shareholder distribution totaling $1,612,192.01 (the "Redemption Distributions"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 38, Ex. 46)

40. The substantive financial effect of the Redemption was that DFW paid the Redemption Sum to CDM, and HoldCo's shares in CDM were redeemed for that same amount—effectively transferring or selling HoldCo's interest in CDM to DFW for the Redemption Sum. As a result of the Redemption: (a) HoldCo realized its interest in the Fund, which had a NAV of approximately $269.1 million, for only around $1.6 million; (b) HoldCo purported to distribute that approximately $1.6 million to accounts in the name of the Participating Shareholders; (c) the Original Participating Shareholders, being the Supporting Organizations and CFNT were actually or effectively divested of their indirect interest—subject to the discretion of the person holding the Control Position—in the Fund and its underlying assets; and (d) the Original Participating Shareholders, being the Supporting Organizations and CFNT, whose economic interest in HoldCo had been diluted from 100% to 48.96% following the DFW Share Issuance, were entitled to their proportionate share of distributions in the amount of 48.96% of the Redemption Sum. As such, HoldCo had no assets at that time. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 39)

ii. The Remuneration Transactions

41. Following his appointment as director of HoldCo on March 25, 2021, Mr. Patrick resolved to dramatically increase his remuneration (collectively, the "Renumeration Transactions"). Specifically (and among other things):

(a) Directors' fees increased from around $40,000 in 2022 to almost $600,000 in 2023.

(b) On September 13, 2024, the Directors resolved to increase Mr. Patrick's salary to $850,000 per annum and approve a long-term incentive ("LTI") of 7.5% of annualized net fund returns in excess of 10% (capped at 25% annualized return).

(c) On or around October 1, 2024:

(i) The Directors resolved that Mr. Patrick was to receive an LTI payment of $975,000 and an annual discretionary bonus for 2023 at an amount of 2.5 times his base salary.

(ii) Mr. Patrick signed an "employment agreement" for his position at HoldCo, effective as of March 24, 2021, which provided, among other things, for a base salary of $850,000 and an LTI payment of $4,759,000 for the period from March 24, 2021 to March 24, 2024.

(MacInnis Decl. ¶ 40. Exs. 56-58, 93)

42. By way of contrast to the remuneration that Mr. Patrick resolved he should be awarded, his predecessor's salary (Grant Scott) during his tenure in the same position was approximately $60,000 per annum. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 41, Ex. 83)

43. As regards expenses, expenses overall for the first half of 2024 were around $18.3 million – almost the same amount spent over the entire course of 2023 (i.e., $18.6 million). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 42, Ex. 56)

D. Lack of Transparency and Misleading Disclosures Provided to Supporting Organizations

44. As more fully set forth in the Statement of Claim, prior to and during the time when the Directors were consummating the Relevant Transactions, the Directors persistently declined to disclose information regarding their actions and intentions notwithstanding the Supporting Organizations repeated requests. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 43, Ex. 59)

45. In November 2023, the Directors sought legal advice under Cayman law regarding the rights and duties of HoldCo's controlling person in connection with various matters including, diluting Participating Shares, redeeming Participating Shares, liquidating HoldCo to distribute its assets elsewhere or otherwise render the Participating Shares worthless, each in the context of potential future disputes with the Original Participating Shareholders. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 44)

46. In or around August 2024, the Supporting Organizations were provided with a financial analysis of the Fund's annual expenses, which showed—or appeared to show—a significant increase in expenditures, as described above, both with respect to Directors fees and overall expenses. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 45, Ex. 56)

47. In late October 2024, as a result of concerns from this additional expenditure, the Supporting Organizations requested that Mr. Patrick provide relevant financial information for the HoldCo and the Fund. Mr. Patrick did not do so. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 46)

48. On November 11, 2024, Holland and Knight, LLP ("H&K"), U.S. attorneys for the Supporting Organizations, issued a letter to Mr. Murphy advising that the Supporting Organizations no longer had confidence in the governance of HoldCo and/or the Fund and considered that a reorganization of the governance structures was required to protect the charitable efforts of the Supporting Organizations (the "No Confidence Letter"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 47, Ex. 60)

49. On November 26, 2024, Mr. Patrick sought and obtained advice regarding whether HoldCo could issue further Participating Shares to a new nonprofit organization to dilute the Supporting Organizations so as to weaken any winding-up petition brought by the Supporting Organizations on just and equitable grounds. On November 27, 2024, Cayman Islands counsel responded to the Directors confirming that, if other shareholders were to oppose an equitable winding up, such opposition would be taken into consideration and would likely help. Mr. Patrick incorporated DFW as a nonprofit, non-stock corporation in Delaware on December 9, 2024. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 48, Exs. 49, 61-62)

50. On December 11, 2024, Mr. Murphy and HoldCo's Cayman counsel gave a presentation to attorneys from H&K on behalf of the Supporting Organizations providing various assurances regarding governance matters being addressed by the Directors. The meeting was, by all accounts, positively regarded. The attorneys on behalf of the Supporting Organizations invited Mr. Murphy to make the same presentation directly to the Supporting Organizations. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 49, Ex. 63)

51. Nonetheless, the very next day, Mr. Patrick incorporated CDM and, on December 18, 2024, the Directors consummated the LP/LLC Exchange, each without disclosing the same to the Supporting Organizations. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 50)

52. On January 23, 2025, having received no follow-up to the December 11, 2024 meeting with Mr. Murphy, Julie Diaz, the CEO of The Dallas Foundation, sent Mr. Patrick an email advising that the Supporting Organizations needed to better understand HoldCo and the Fund's asset position, and requesting certain information be provided by February 10, 2025. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 51, Ex. 64)

53. Having received no response, on January 28, 2025, Ms. Diaz sent a further email to the Directors expressing serious concern: (i) that the Supporting Organization's requests for information continued to be disregarded, and (ii) about the ongoing lack of transparency on the party of the Directors. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 52, Ex. 64)

54. On January 30, 2025, Mr. Murphy replied to Ms. Diaz stating that the Directors: (i) had not received the January 23 email, but understood the next step was for the Directors to "present directly" to the Supporting Organizations to address the No-Confidence Letter; and (ii) are coopering with the Supporting Organizations to provide additional information – but "have no legal obligation to do so" and such cooperation "should not be construed as an implicit acknowledgement of any duty to continue providing information to you." (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 53, Ex. 64)

55. On January 31, 2025, Mr. Michael Stockham of H&K responded to Mr. Murphy noting that he and Mr. Patrick were fiduciaries, managing $270 million in assets for the benefit of charities that support the most vulnerable (i.e., the Charities) and: "[w]hatever your side's obvious antagonism to Mr. Dondero, the fact remains that the underlying assets are ultimately for these charitable missions." (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 54, Ex. 64)

56. On February 4, 2025, Mr. Murphy responded that while open to resolving the concerns, they (i.e., the Directors) were struggling to understand the Supporting Organization's change in position. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 55, Ex. 64)

57. On February 7, 2025, H&K responded that the Directors were fiduciaries in control of $270 million for the benefit of charities: "these monies are for improving the quality of life of children, building pathways for everyone to have a fair opportunity to succeed and … fostering a love for education. They are not meant to pay you and Mr. Patrick millions in director fees." (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 56, Ex. 64)

58. On the same date, without informing the Supporting Organizations, the Directors consummated the purported DFW Share Issuance. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 57, Ex. 21)

59. On February 14, 2025, H&K received a letter from Mr. Mancino, a partner in Seyfarth Shaw LLP ("Seyfarth"), a U.S. law firm apparently engaged by the Fund, which rejected the accuracy of the reported increases in expenditure. On February 27, 2025, H&K responded that his clients were frustrated by the lack of transparency and refusal to answer simple queries about the financial position. In response, Seyfarth sought available dates for Mr. Murphy to make the promised presentation to the Supporting Organizations. H&K responded the next day with three potential dates/times for the proposed call between March 26 and April 3, 2025. Mr. Mancino did not respond. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 58, Exs. 21, 70-71, 75)

60. On March 20, 2025, Mr. Mancio sent a letter purportedly on behalf of HoldCo to the IRS about Mr. Dondero's alleged influence and control over the Supporting Organizations. The letter makes serious and unsubstantiated allegations about the Supporting Organizations, absent evidentiary support, including that they each (i.e., all of them): "operates for Mr. Dondero's private benefit when he uses his influence or control over them to cause them to use or attempt to use their influence as Participating Shareholders of [HoldCo] to wrest control of [HoldCo] and its assets. . ." (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 59, Ex. 72)

61. Commencing on March 27, 2025, the Directors initiated steps to effectuate the Redemption, which they consummated on April 2, 2025, without informing the Supporting Organizations. On that same day, the Directors resolved to place HoldCo into voluntary liquidation and appointed Mitchell Mansfield and William Clarke of Kroll (Cayman) Ltd as joint voluntary liquidators. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 60, Exs. 46, 55, 65, 73-74)

62. Notwithstanding the consummation of the Redemption and the commencement of voluntary liquidation of HoldCo the day prior, April 3, 2025, Mr. Mancino sent an email to H&K stating that he had just learned there was a call scheduled for the following day and seeking to reschedule. H&K responded that no such call had been arranged and queried about the apparent source of confusion. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 61, Ex. 76)

E. The Cayman Proceeding

63. Unaware of the Directors resolution to place HoldCo into voluntary liquidation, on April 23, 2025, the Supporting Organizations presented a petition seeking the winding up of HoldCo on a just and equitable basis under section 92(e) of the Companies Act (the "J&E Petition"). It was only after filing the J&E Petition that the Directors disclosed they had consummated the Relevant Transactions and commenced a voluntary liquidation of HoldCo on April 2, 2025. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 62, Exs. 66, 77)

64. On May 2, 2025, the Supporting Organizations filed a petition seeking an order for the voluntary liquidation of HoldCo—now a debtor—to continue under the supervision of the Cayman Court pursuant to section 131 of the Companies Act (the "Supervision Petition").

Following a hearing and review of the Supervision Petition, supporting affidavits and affirmations with exhibits, and the documents filed in Cause No. FSD 116 of 2025 (JAJ)—including the J&E Petition and the affidavits of the JOLs confirming their consent to act—the Cayman Court issued the Supervision Order. Pursuant to the Supervision Order, the voluntary liquidation of the Debtor was continued under the supervision of the Cayman Court, and the JOLs were appointed under section 131 of the Companies Act and Order 15, rule 8 of the Companies Winding Up Rules (2023 Consolidation) (the "Winding Up Rules"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 63, Exs. 1, 67, 78-79)

65. Also pursuant to the Supervision Order, the Petitioners were authorized to exercise the following powers, among others, under Part I of Schedule 3 to the Companies Act without further Cayman Court sanction: (a) the power to commence legal proceedings in the name and on behalf of the Debtor to obtain information, documents, or the examination of individuals in the Cayman Islands or the United States; and (b) the power to apply in the Cayman Islands or the United States for the preservation, freezing, or attachment of assets to which the Debtor is or may arguably be entitled. Moreover, the Petitioners were authorized to seek registration or recognition of themselves and/or the Cayman Proceeding in any U.S. state for any purpose related to the exercise of the above-described powers in the Supervision Order. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 64, Ex. 78)

i. Conduct of the Cayman Proceeding

66. The JOLs have diligently performed their duties in progressing the Cayman Proceeding from and after their appointment. The JOLs have taken steps to fulfil their statutory obligations by: filing notice of the winding up with the Cayman Islands Registrar of Companies; circulating notices of the winding up to known stakeholders, service providers of HoldCo, and known contributories of HoldCo; publishing their notice of appointment in the Cayman Islands Gazette and Cayman Compass Newspaper; determining HoldCo should be treated as solvent for the purposes of Section 110(4) of the Companies Act, as well as Orders 8 & 9 of the Winding Up Rules; determining the functional currency of the liquidation to be U.S. dollars pursuant to Order 16, Rule 13 of the Winding Up Rules; changing the registered office of HoldCo from Campbells Corporate Services Limited to HSM Corporate Services Ltd; publishing a Report to Contributories on July 2, 2025, and on July 3, 2025, convening the first meeting of contributories held on July 9, 2025. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 65, Exs. 68-69, 78-80)

67. Moreover, to identify, secure and recover HoldCo's books and records, the JOLs have: (a) issued formal correspondence to over 50 parties, including, directors, shareholders, banks, service providers, the prior appointed joint voluntary liquidators, notifying them of the JOLs appointment and requesting books and records; (b) issued requests to hold an interview with the directors; and (c) held discussions with various parties to discuss the history and financial affairs of HoldCo. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 66)

68. The JOLs have engaged extensively with representatives of various interested parties in connection with, among other things, seeking and obtaining sanction of the Cayman Court to engage Cayman and US counsel.[7] In addition, the JOLs, through counsel, have engaged with representatives of CDM, the New GP, and CLO HoldCo in relation to a potential protocol intended to allay the JOLs' concerns regarding asset dissipation, transparency and asset management while the JOLs progress their investigation. The JOLs, however, do not believe the protocol proposed by CDM, the New GP, and CLO HoldCo would adequately protect HoldCo's position and, to date, the parties have been unable to reach terms of agreement with respect to any protocol. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 67, Ex. 81)

[7] In respect of which, on June 24, 2025, the Cayman Court sanctioned the engagements of Cayman and US counsel by the JOLs.

69. Since the date of their appointment, the JOLs have conducted an extensive and detailed investigation into HoldCo's affairs, albeit that those investigations are not yet complete. This has involved a review of HoldCo's books and records (to the extent that they have been able to obtain them and to the extent that they are complete) and numerous inquiries and requests for information directed to persons previously involved with HoldCo. There have, however, been several limitations on the JOLs' investigations in connection with the information requests made from those persons previously involved in the HoldCo, including certain US-based service providers who have asserted that they do not recognize the JOLs authority under the Supervision Order, where the JOLs have not been able to obtain copies of the requested information. Notwithstanding these limitations, the JOLs' investigation has progressed sufficiently to enable them to identify significant areas of concern. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 68)

ii. Commencement of the Cayman Litigation

70. On July 4, 2025, the JOLs applied to the Cayman Court in the Cayman liquidation proceedings on an ex parte basis for sanction to commence litigation proceedings by way of filing a Writ and Statement of Claim (the "Statement of Claim") against the following defendants (collectively, the "Named Defendants"): (1) Mark Eric Patrick; (2) Paul Murphy; (3) CDM; (4)

DFW; (5) CDH as general partner for and on behalf of the Fund, and in its capacity as New GP; and (6) CLO HoldCo (the "Cayman Litigation").[8] (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 69, Ex. 59)

71. A further description of each of the Named Defendants is as follows:

(a) Mr. Mark Patrick. Mr. Patrick is a U.S. attorney and was employed as tax counsel by Highland Capital Management, L.P., an investment company founded by Mr. James Dondero, from 2008 – 2021 and as tax counsel by Highgate Consulting Group, Inc. d/b/a d/b/a Skyview Group from March 2021 to October 2024. He was instrumental in the creation of the Fund in 2011; in particular, he advised on the tax structure of using an offshore "blocker" company. Mr. Patrick is one of two directors of HoldCo, having been appointed as director on March 25, 2021. In that capacity, he was responsible for the supervision of the day-to-day operations of HoldCo. As director, Mr. Patrick owed, and continues to owe, fiduciary duties to HoldCo. Mr. Patrick was also: (i) the holder of all of the Management Shares in HoldCo; (ii) the manager of CDM; (iii) the sole member and sole director of DFW, which is now the sole member of CDM; (iv) the sole director and sole shareholder of CDH GP, Ltd, the New GP; and (v) a director of CLO HoldCo, the entity through which the Fund holds its assets.

(b) Mr. Paul Murphy. Mr. Murphy was the other director of HoldCo, having been appointed so on April 22, 2021. Mr. Murphy is also a director of CLO HoldCo.

(c) CDM. A limited liability company incorporated in Delaware on December 12, 2024. Mr. Patrick is the Manager of CDM. DFW has been the sole member of CDM since March 27, 2025.

(d) DFW. A nonprofit, non-stock corporation incorporated in Delaware on December 9, 2024, by Mr. Douglas Mancino, a partner in Seyfarth Shaw LLP ("Seyfarth"), a U.S. law firm apparently engaged by the Fund. DFW is

[8] In determining whether to commence the Cayman Litigation, the JOLs gave due regard to the Named Defendants' likely defenses with respect to the propriety of the Relevant Transactions and the Remuneration Transactions. At a high level, the JOLs understand that the Named Defendants will seek to justify the Relevant Transactions on three independent grounds: (1) on the basis that the Original Participating Shareholders did not have an economic interest in HoldCo, which was formed simply to act as a throughput for discretionary, charitable donations to qualifying recipients (which were not necessarily the Supporting Organizations, CFNT or the Charities), such that the Original Participating Shareholders did not lose any cognizable interest because of the Relevant Transactions; (2) the Relevant Transactions were necessary and appropriate to protect HoldCo and its Directors from attempts by Mr. Dondero and the Supporting Organizations to improperly exercise dominion and control over HoldCo's assets, which would expose HoldCo (x) to breaches of US tax law and regulation and (y) claims from third parties that HoldCo and the Fund Entities were alter egos of Mr. Dondero in lawsuits against Mr. Dondero; and (3) on the basis that the Directors relied appropriately on third party valuation reports in effectuating the Redemption at FMV. The JOLs likewise understand that Mr. Patrick intends to rely on a third party report to justify the Remuneration Transactions. On the basis of the investigation conducted by the JOLs to date, the JOLs do not find these defenses and justifications to be availing or credible.

organized under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware exclusively for charitable purposes. The JOLs understand that DFW is now the holder of the majority of the Participating Shares in HoldCo pursuant to the DFW Share issuance on February 7, 2025, and controlled by Mr. Patrick as its sole member.

(e) The New GP. A Cayman Islands exempted limited company incorporated on February 27, 2024. It replaced the Original GP as the Fund's current general partner on March 7, 2024, after Mr. Patrick sought advice from Walkers on forming a new entity to replace the Original GP. On February 5, 2024, Shields Legal asked Mr. Patrick whether that entity should be a Cayman LLC or exempted company, to which he responded: "Doesn't matter to me. Whatever from a strategic point of view – hard to find or track, or trace. Or find owners, etc. Generic name. Strong litigation protection."

(f) CLO HoldCo. A Cayman Islands exempted limited company. CLO HoldCo is the Fund's only direct subsidiary. The Fund held all of CLO HoldCo's issued shares.

(MacInnis Decl. ¶ 70)

72. HoldCo's claims pleaded in the Statement of Claim arise as a result of the breaches by the Directors of their fiduciary duties owed to HoldCo, having caused HoldCo to have dissipated its assets through a combination of (a) the Relevant Transactions and (b) the Remuneration Transactions, all of which were for the benefit of entities controlled by Mr. Patrick or for his benefit, personally. In addition to asserting claims against the Directors for willful breaches of their fiduciary duties to HoldCo, the Statement of Claim asserts claims against: (i) the Named Defendants for unlawful means conspiracy based on the Named Defendants having conspired and combined together to injure HoldCo by unlawful means and HoldCo having suffered loss and damage as a result; (ii) CDM for knowing receipt of HoldCo's property, its partnership interest in the Fund, which had been misappropriated from HoldCo by virtue of the Directors breach of fiduciary duties; and (iii) CDM for unjust enrichment on the basis that it received HoldCo's interest in the Fund without there being a valid assignment or other justification for that receipt, such that it is liable to HoldCo in restitution. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 71, Ex. 59)

73. At the hearing of the sanction application on July 14, 2025, to obtain an order granting the JOLs sanction to commence the Cayman Litigation, the JOLs were required to satisfy the Cayman Court in the Cayman Proceeding that: (a) the Cayman Litigation had a reasonable prospect of success; and (b) the interests of HoldCo's stakeholders were best served by the JOLs commencing the Cayman Litigation.[9] The Cayman Court granted sanction for the JOLs to commence the Cayman Litigation. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 72, Ex. 85)

74. On July 15, 2025, the Debtor proceeded to file the Statement of Claim with the Cayman Court to commence the Cayman Litigation (which has the cause number FSD 201 of 2025 (RPJ)). At the same time the JOLs filed an application for: (a) a proprietary injunction to prevent the Named Defendants from dealing with the assets of the Debtor that are held now held or controlled by the Named Defendant together with disclosure orders ("Injunction Application"); and (b) leave to serve the U.S.-based defendants with the Statement of Claim and Injunction Application ("Leave to Serve Application" and together with the Injunction Application, the "Applications"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 73, Exs. 59, 82-83)

75. Additionally, on July 15, 2025, the Debtor: (1) emailed copies of the Statement of Claim and the Applications to the Cayman Islands attorneys for the Named Defendants and asked them to accept service; and (2) served copies of the Statement of Claim at the Cayman Islands registered addresses of CDH GP, Ltd. and CLO HoldCo, Ltd. The Applications have been listed for hearing on July 31, 2025 (the "Injunction Hearing Date"). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 74)

76. The Named Defendants are entitled to participate and be heard on that date. In the event the Named Defendants do not participate, the Cayman Court will hear the Injunction

[9] Re ICP Strategic Credit Income Fund [2014] 1 CILR 314.

Application on an ex parte on notice basis and, if the Injunction is granted, will schedule an inter partes hearing for a later date. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 75. Exs. 82-83)

77. Should the Cayman Court grant the Injunctive Relief Application following the scheduled hearing on the Injunction Hearing date, and issue an order consistent with draft order for relief sought therein (the "Injunctive Relief Order"), the JOLs expect to seek recognition and enforcement of the Injunctive Relief Order against the Named Defendants on a provisional basis pursuant to section 1519 of the Bankruptcy Code pending the recognition of the Cayman Proceeding, at which time the JOLs also seek recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order in this Chapter 15 Case as set forth herein pursuant to sections 1507(a) and 1521(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 76, Ex. 82)

iii. Injunction Application

78. The Injunction Application seeks orders that:

(a) the Named Defendants will (i) preserve and will not in any way dispose of, deal with, encumber, transfer or diminish the value of (as applicable) their or any interest of (of whatsoever nature) whether held directly or indirectly, in the Fund, the Fund Entities, and/or any assets of the Fund; and (ii) procure that the Fund Entities and their wholly owned subsidiaries will not in any way dispose of, deal with, encumber, transfer or diminish the value of any of their assets;

(b) the Named Defendants will preserve and will not in any way dispose of, deal with, encumber, transfer or diminish any assets in their possession or control, whether they are in or outside the Cayman Islands, which were, are or may be received (whether directly or indirectly): (i) by way of distribution, disposition, dividend, benefit, payment or other transfer from (as the case may be) HoldCo, the Fund, DFW, CDM, the New GP, the Fund Entities and/or their wholly owned subsidiaries; or (ii) from any assets of the Fund, the Fund Entities, and/or their wholly owned subsidiaries;

(c) the Named Defendants shall not do anything to cause, procure, incite, promote or assist a breach by any other Named Defendant of the above sections (a) and (b); and

(d) the Named Defendants shall make ancillary asset disclosures.

(MacInnis Decl. ¶ 77. Ex. 82)

79. The basis for the injunctive relief sought is that the Named Defendants each own and/or control assets that HoldCo has an equitable proprietary interest in (or at least a seriously arguable case that it does):

(a) Prior to the Relevant Transactions taking place, HoldCo held the Fund Partnership Interest, and thereby indirectly owned (99%) of all assets held by the Fund through its wholly owned subsidiary, CLO HoldCo (and its subsidiaries).

(b) After the Relevant Transactions took place, and by reason of the Directors' breaches of fiduciary duty – (i) CDM now holds the Fund Partnership Interest, which continues to hold its assets through CLO HoldCo (and its subsidiaries); (ii) DFW is the sole member of CDM; (iii) Mark Patrick is the sole member of DFW; and (iv) Mark Patrick has full control over DFW, CDM, the New GP (and thus the Fund), and (together with Mr. Murphy) CLO HoldCo. Mr. Patrick therefore has the ability to control and/or deal with the Fund Partnership Interest and the Fund's assets, including any distributions of the Fund's assets received by CDM as its sole limited partner. Mr. Patrick now exercises this control free from the oversight previously exercised by the Supporting Organizations and CFNT through their holding of Participating Shares in HoldCo.

80. Moreover, HoldCo has at least a seriously arguable case that CDM and DFW hold these assets through steps taken by the Directors that amounted to breaches of fiduciary duty, and therefore that these assets are subject to a constructive trust in favor of HoldCo, which is the necessary pre-requisite for the Cayman Court to grant a proprietary injunction restraining the disposition of that property. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 79, Moran Decl. ¶¶ 40, 42-45)

81. Under Cayman law, to obtain proprietary injunctive relief, the Debtor must show: (1) the existence of a serious issue to be tried as to whether it has a proprietary interest in the assets (such that the claim would be capable of surviving summary judgment), (2) that the balance of convenience is in favor of granting the injunction; and (3) that it is otherwise just and convenient to grant the injunction. Moreover, under Cayman law, a court may order defendants to disclose information if the Debtor demonstrates that it is just and convenient to do so. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 80, Moran Decl. ¶¶ 42-45)

1. Serious Issues to be Tried

82. On July 14, 2025, the Cayman Court granted sanction for the JOLs to file the Statement of Claim and in doing so accepted that the merits of the JOLs' claims satisfied the relevant threshold for the sanction of commencement of claims by official liquidators (which is higher than the 'serious issue to be tried' threshold for a proprietary injunction). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 81, Ex. 85)

83. The Directors and DFW have put forward explanations as to why the transfer of the Fund Partnership Interest to CDM was legally justifiable, which the JOLs do not believe stand up to scrutiny. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 82. Exs. 44, 70, 72, 86-87)

2. Balance of convenience

84. The JOLs do not believe that the proprietary injunctions they seek would hinder the operation of the Fund or the Fund Entities in any material way. The Fund and the Fund Entities are mostly passive investment vehicles that hold shares or interests in other Fund Entities, cash, debt instruments, receivables, vacant land and/or stock in publicly traded companies. They are not, as far as the JOLs understand, engaged in the active trading of assets or the making of new investments on a frequent basis. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 83, Ex. 82)

85. Accordingly, the JOLs believe that there is no justification for any new investments or other transactions to be made by any of those entities, beyond payments needed to stay in good standing and comply with their statutory obligations. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 84)

86. Against that backdrop, the JOLs' position is that no dispositions of the assets of the Fund, the Fund Entities or any other subsidiaries above $10,000 need or should be made pending the determination of HoldCo's proprietary claim which, if successful, would see the Fund Partnership Interest returned to HoldCo and HoldCo would therefore wholly own (indirectly) all assets of the Fund, the Fund Entities and their wholly owned subsidiaries. Should any payments or dispositions be made by the Fund, the Fund Entities or any of their wholly owned subsidiaries that have the effect of harming the value of the Fund Partnership Interest, such payment or disposition would render the proprietary relief the JOLs are seeking much less effective. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 85)

87. Notwithstanding the above, the JOLs recognize that there may become a need for certain payments or other dispositions of assets to be made to preserve, maintain or improve the value of existing assets held by the Named Defendants, the Fund Entities and/or their wholly owned subsidiaries. Accordingly, the JOLs' proposed order to the Injunctive Relief Application provides for:

(a) The entity concerned to make a written request to the JOLs to make any such payments, together with full supporting information and documentation as well as an explanation of the rationale for the transaction; and

(b) The JOLs to decide within 7 days whether to approve or disapprove the proposed transaction.

(MacInnis Decl. ¶ 86. Ex. 82)

88. The JOLs also recognize that there will likely be a need for certain payments to be made by the Named Defendants, the Fund Entities or their wholly owned subsidiaries that are reasonably necessary in the ordinary course of business to keep the corporate Named Defendants, the Fund Entities or their wholly owned subsidiaries in good standing. The JOLs' proposed order to the Injunctive Relief Application allows for any such payments of $10,000 or less to be made. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 87, Ex. 82)

89. The JOLs are also unaware of any harm that would be caused to CDM by preserving the status quo in respect of the Fund Partnership Interest. By comparison, if a proprietary injunction is not granted and CDM were to transfer the Fund Partnership Interest to another party or otherwise deal with that interest in some way, HoldCo could be significantly prejudiced. Specifically, HoldCo's proprietary claim to the Fund Partnership Interest could be undermined or become more difficult to enforce. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 88)

90. As to whether damages would be an adequate remedy for HoldCo in lieu of proprietary relief, as far as the JOLs' are aware, CDM has no other assets beyond the Fund Partnership Interest and therefore would likely be unable to meet any order for damages made against it. Only an order for CDM (and the other Named Defendants, to the extent they hold assets that derive from the Fund Partnership Interest) to restore HoldCo's property could return HoldCo to the position it would have been in had the improper transactions carried out by the Named Defendants not taken place. The JOLs' believe that the only way to ensure that such an order will be effective at the conclusion of these proceedings is for a proprietary injunction to be granted against the Named Defendants in respect of that property in the interim. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 89)

91. Further, as explained above, HoldCo, its Supporting Organizations, the Charities and the Fund are part of a carefully constructed investment structure for: (i) the tax efficient treatment of charitable donations; and (ii) investments to be made for the ultimate benefit of the Charities and CFNT. Without the re-transfer of the Fund Partnership Interest to HoldCo, those parties may be unable to achieve their charitable objectives as effectively or at all. An award of damages in lieu of proprietary relief would mean that HoldCo would hold only cash and no other assets or investments, and the Charities and Supporting Organizations would effectively be back to square one in terms of setting up a proper investment structure to carry out their investments and protect their tax-exempt status. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 90)

3. Disclosure of assets

92. The JOLs have only limited information as to what assets each of the Named Defendants, Fund Entities and their wholly owned subsidiaries hold. Even so, the JOLs have no way of verifying this information or knowing if it is completely up to date. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 91)

93. In circumstances where, in the JOLs' case, a misappropriation of the HoldCo's sole and valuable asset has already occurred, the JOLs believe protection is needed to prevent any further dissipation of assets from occurring in breach of any injunction that is granted. The JOLs believe that this protection can be afforded by way of disclosure orders in support of the injunction requiring the Named Defendants to disclose what assets they each hold and their approximate value. Having that information in hand will allow the JOLs (and the Cayman Court) to effectively police the injunction (in terms of preventing dissipation of Fund assets and thereby preserving the value of the Fund Partnership Interest). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 92)

94. In addition, the proposed order in support of the Injunctive Relief Application seeks confirmation as to:

(a) All of the entities owned directly or indirectly by the Fund, including full details as to their owners, directors, officers or other controllers, and places and details of incorporation. This will allow the JOLs to have a complete picture of the Fund structure.

(b) All payments by way of salary, bonus, dividend, distribution or other compensation made to Mr. Patrick or Mr. Murphy by HoldCo, the Fund, DFW, CDM, the New GP, CLO HoldCo, or any of the Fund Entities or other entities revealed by (a) above since February 27, 2024.

(c) All payments to any attorney, lawyer, third party consultant, accountant, or external professional services advisor, whether a firm, partnership, company or individual, made by HoldCo, the Fund, DFW, CDM, the New GP, CLO

HoldCo, or any of the Fund Entities or other entities revealed by (a) above since February 27, 2024.

(MacInnis Decl. ¶ 93, Ex. 82)

4. Cross undertaking in damages

95. The Debtor is not offering to provide a cross-undertaking as to damages in the Injunction Application. This is because in this case, the JOLs are not only acting in the Debtor's best interests, but also in a position analogous to the public interest based on the charitable or non-profit status of at least the underlying Charities, which are the intended recipients of donations made from the Debtor. No cross-undertaking in damages should be required in such circumstances. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 94)

F. The Texas Proceeding

96. On July 1, 2025, the Supporting Organizations commenced an action (the "TRO Action") against defendants Mark Patrick, DFW, CDM, CDH, and the Original GP (collectively, the "TRO Defendants") by filing Plaintiffs' Original Petition, Application for Temporary Restraining Order and Temporary Injunction, and Emergency Request for Appointment of Receiver (the "TRO Application") in the Texas Business Court, 1st Division (the "Texas Court"). Among other things, the TRO Action seeks: (1) a temporary restraining order; (2) a temporary injunction; and (3) the appointment of a receiver against some of the TRO Defendants arising from various breaches of fiduciary duties and related claims alleged to be owed to the Supporting Organizations directly. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 95. Ex. 85)

97. On July 2, 2025, during the hearing for the TRO Action, in lieu of a decision rendered by the Texas Court, and at the direction of the Texas Court, the parties entered into a Rule 11 Agreement under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rule 11 Agreement"), which the JOLs understand is a binding contract among the parties. The key points of the Rule 11

Agreement are: (a) that the TRO Defendants shall not make any payments or disbursements other than those in the ordinary course of business; (b) investments and monies must be kept in the existing entities that currently hold those investments and monies, provided that, if any investment is monetized on its own terms, then the entity may prudently reinvest the resulting cash proceeds into liquid securities; and (c) there shall be no changes to the corporate structure of ownership of the TRO Defendants. The Texas Court scheduled a further hearing on the TRO Action on July 24 and 25, 2025. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 96, Ex. 88)

98. Following the hearing on July 2, 2025, the parties to the TRO Action amended and modified the Rule 11 Agreement (the "Final Rule 11 Agreement") to: (a) provide the TRO Defendants the opportunity to challenge the Texas Court's jurisdiction (the "Plea") pursuant to a briefing schedule concluding on July 24, 2025; (b) clarify the parties' discovery rights with respect to the TRO Action; and (c) evidence the restrictions imposed upon the activities of the TRO Defendants and their subsidiaries pursuant to the Rule 11 Agreement pending a decision by the Texas Court of the TRO Action and the Plea. On July 14, 2025, the TRO Defendants filed a jurisdictional challenge, asserting that: (1) the Texas Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction to hear the TRO Action; and (2) the Supporting Organizations lack standing, suggesting that the JOLs, on behalf of HoldCo, are the appropriate parties to assert the claims alleged in the TRO Action. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 97, Ex. 89-90)

99. The JOLs support the Final Rule 11 Agreement in the near term in that it imposes restrictions on the covered entities regarding asset dissipation in the short term, pending the outcome of the Injunctive Relief Application filed by the JOLs in the Cayman Court and the recognition of relief as may be granted by the Cayman Court in this Chapter 15 Case. The JOLs believe that the Cayman Court is the appropriate forum to adjudicate causes of action that belong to HoldCo as asserted in the Cayman Litigation. The JOLs are also cognizant of the need for administrative efficiency in connection with the Cayman Proceeding and their duties to realize upon HoldCo's assets, and, accordingly, reserve rights with respect to coordination and management of the TRO Action, the Cayman Litigation and this Chapter 15 Case. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 98, Exs. 59, 89)

G. This Chapter 15 Case

100. On the Petition Date, the Petitioners commenced this Chapter 15 Case. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 99)

101. Consistent with the purpose of official liquidation under Part V of the Companies Act, the Petitioners are also empowered to investigate: (a) the causes for the failure of HoldCo, as necessary, and (b) generally, the promotion, business, dealings and financial affairs of HoldCo. See Companies Act, section 110(2). (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 100, Ex. 78)

102. Section 97(1) of the Companies Act provides in relevant part that upon the entry of a winding up order against a company, no suit or other proceeding may be commenced or continued against the company except with leave of the Cayman Court and subject to such terms as the Cayman Court might impose. This automatic stay mirrors the stay imposed in United States bankruptcy proceedings and serves to, inter alia, facilitate the Petitioners' ability to deal with claims and creditors collectively and comprehensively. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 101, Ex. 78)

103. A general principle underlying the Companies Act and the Cayman Proceeding is that creditors are treated on a pari passu basis, subject to certain exceptions.[10] See Companies Act, section 140. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 102, Ex. 78)

[10] For example, see sections 140 and 141 of the Companies Act.

104. Cayman liquidation proceedings are fair and equitable insofar as all creditors and interest holders have the opportunity to be heard by the Cayman Court and no creditors will be prejudiced on the sole basis that they are foreign based. All creditors are treated equally, regardless of where they are domiciled. (MacInnis Decl. ¶ 103)

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

105. The United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware (this "Court") has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334 and the Amended Standing Order of Reference from the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, dated February 29, 2012.

106. Recognition of a foreign proceeding and other matters under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code are core matters under 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2)(P).

107. This Chapter 15 Case has been properly commenced pursuant to section 1504 of the Bankruptcy Code by the filing of the Petition in accordance with section 1515 of the Bankruptcy Code.

108. The Petitioners confirm their consent, pursuant to rule 7008 of the Bankruptcy Rules and rule 9013-1(f) of the Local Rules of Bankruptcy Practice and Procedure of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware (the "Local Rules") to the entry of final orders or judgments by the Court to the extent that it is later determined that the Court, absent consent of the parties, cannot enter final orders or judgments consistent with Article III of the United States Constitution.

109. Venue in this district is proper under 28 U.S.C. § 1410(1) because the Debtor has its principal assets in the United States located in Delaware, and 28 U.S.C. §1410(3) because it is consistent with the interests of justice and the convenience of the parties, having regard to the relief sought by the Petitioners.

110. With regard to section 1410(1), the Debtor has an ownership interest in a $150,000 advance security retainer deposited with and held by Reed Smith in a trust account located in Wilmington, Delaware with M&T Bank (the "Reed Smith Retainer") in accordance with Delaware Rule of Professional Responsibility 1.5. See, e.g., In re Farfetch Limited (in Official Liquidation), Case No. 24-11519 (CTG) [D.I. 46] (Bankr. D. Del. 2024) (establishing venue in Delaware where Debtor held a retainer in the jurisdiction); In re Berau Capital Res. PTE, 540 B.R. 80, 82 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2015) (finding that an attorney retainer was sufficient to establish venue); In re Octaviar Admin Pty., 511 B.R. 361, 372-74 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2014) (finding that an attorney retainer is sufficient to confer jurisdiction in the United States); In re Suntech Power Holdings Co., 520 B.R. 399, 416 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2014) (holding that establishing a deposit account in New York "had the effect of establishing a basis for venue in [the Southern District of New York] under 28 U.S.C. § 1410(1)"); In re Global Ocean Carriers Ltd., 251 B.R. 31, 39 (Bankr. D. Del. 2000) (retainers held in escrow by counsel for a debtor in the United States is "property" in the United States).

111. With regard to section 1410(3): (i) the Debtor's economic stakeholders, the Supporting Organizations, are Delaware nonprofit corporations exempt from taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, (ii) the Debtor has past direct ownership of CDM, which is organized in Delaware, and (iii) prior to the commencement of the Cayman Proceeding, the Debtor and the Directors engaged Delaware counsel in connection with the Relevant Transactions.

112. The statutory predicates for the relief requested in this Petition are sections 101(23)-(24), 105(a), 306, 542(e), 1502, 1504, 1507, 1509, 1510, 1512, 1515, 1516, 1517, 1520, 1521, 1522, and 1524 of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 2004.

RELIEF REQUESTED

113. The Petitioners have commenced this Chapter 15 Case as an ancillary proceeding to the Cayman Proceeding and respectfully file this Petition contemporaneously with the accompanying documentation required by sections 1504 and 1515 of the Bankruptcy Code.

114. The Petitioners respectfully request that this Court enter an order, substantially in the form of the Proposed Order attached hereto as Exhibit A, pursuant to sections 105(a), 542(e), 1504, 1507, 1509, 1510, 1515, 1517, 1520 and 1521 of the Bankruptcy Code that:

(a) recognizes the Cayman Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding pursuant to section 1517(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, or, in the alternative, as a foreign nonmain proceeding pursuant to section 1517(b)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code;

(b) recognizes the Petitioners as the "foreign representatives" as defined in section 101(24) of the Bankruptcy Code;

(c) recognizes and gives full force and effect in the United States to the Supervision Order and the Injunctive Relief Order, including any and all extensions or amendments thereof authorized by the Cayman Court and extending the protection of such orders;

(d) grants the Debtor all of the relief afforded pursuant to section 1520 of the Bankruptcy Code, including, without limitation, the application of the protection afforded by the automatic stay under section 362(a) of the Bankruptcy Code to the Debtor and its property that is now within or in the future is located within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States;

(e) authorizes the Debtor to conduct the examination of witnesses, the taking of evidence or the delivery of information concerning the Debtors' assets, affairs, rights, obligations or liabilities in accordance with section 1519(a)(3) and 1521(a)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code, Rule 2004 of the Bankruptcy Rules, and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures, as incorporated by the Bankruptcy Rules;

(f) authorizes the Debtor to compel all persons that hold recorded information, including books, documents, records, and papers relating to the Debtor's property or financial affairs to turnover or disclose such recorded information in accordance with section 542(e), 1521(a)(4) and 1521(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code; and

(g) provides such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

BASIS FOR RELIEF REQUESTED

115. Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code is designed to promote cooperation and comity between United States courts and foreign courts, to afford greater legal certainty for trade and investment, to protect and maximize the value of debtors' assets, and to facilitate the fair and efficient administration of cross-border insolvencies in a manner that protects the interests of all creditors and other interested parties, including the debtor. 11 U.S.C. § 1501.

116. Consistent with these principles, the Petitioners commence this action under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code to obtain recognition of the Cayman Proceeding and certain related relief. This Chapter 15 Case seeks to complement the Cayman Proceeding to: (i) investigate, the assets, affairs, and liabilities of the Debtor that are within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States; (ii) ensure the effective and economical administration of the Debtor's liquidation; and (iii) protect against asset dissipation pending the outcome of the Petitioners' continuing investigations and the Cayman Litigation.

A. HoldCo Is an Eligible "Debtor" Under Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code

117. HoldCo qualifies as a "debtor" as such term is defined in section 1502(1), which provides that a debtor is "an entity that is the subject of a foreign proceeding." See 11 U.S.C. 1502(1). Here, HoldCo is an "entity," which includes a corporation. See 11 U.S.C. §§ 101(15) (definition of "entity," which includes a "person") and 101(41) (definition of "person," which includes a "partnership" and a "corporation"). HoldCo is: (1) a corporate entity organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands; and (2) is the subject of the Cayman Proceeding.

118. Accordingly, as courts, including courts in the Third Circuit have held, no further showing is required for HoldCo to qualify as a "debtor" eligible for relief under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code. See, e.g., Transcript of Hearing at 9, 3–18, In re Bemarmara Consulting A.S., Case No. 13-13037(KG) (Bankr. D. Del. Dec. 17, 2013) [D.I. 38] (finding section 109(a) of the Bankruptcy Code to be inapplicable to Chapter 15 because section 109(a) "provides for [debtors]" under the Bankruptcy Code, and it is the foreign representative, and not the debtor in the foreign proceeding, who petitions the court in chapter 15 cases); see also In re Talal Qais Abdulmunem Al Zawawi, 634 B.R. 11 (Bankr. M.D. Fla. 2021); 637 B.R. 663 (M.D. Fla. 2022); appeal No. 22-11024, Doc 53-1 (11th Cir. April 3, 2024). Further, "[s]ection 1502 defines [d]ebtor as an entity that is the subject of a foreign proceeding. And there was nothing in that definition in Section 1502 which reflects upon a requirement that [d]ebtor have assets." Bemarmara Consulting, at pp. 9. Therefore, section 109(a) of the Bankruptcy Code does not apply and HoldCo qualifies as a debtor under chapter 15.

119. However, even if, as some courts in other circuits have held, section 109(a) applies to determine whether a foreign debtor is eligible to be a debtor in a chapter 15 case, HoldCo is an eligible debtor. See, e.g., Drawbridge Special Opportunities Fund LP v. Barnet (In re Barnet), 737 F.3d 238, 241 (2d Cir. 2013) (holding that section 109(a) applies to chapter 15 debtors). Section 109(a) provides that "only a person that resides or has a domicile, a place of business, or property in the United States . . . may be a debtor under this title." See 11 U.S.C. § 109(a). Accordingly, a foreign debtor can satisfy the section 109 requirement by possessing even a nominal amount of property in the United States. See In re Northshore Mainland Servs., Inc., 537 B.R. 192, 200 (Bankr. D. Del. 2015) (stating that courts have determined that the property requirement of section 109(a) is satisfied by foreign debtors with "even a minimal amount of property located in the United States") (citing In re Aerovias Nacionales de Colombia S.A. (In re Avianca), 303 B.R. 1, 8 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2003)); In re Berau Capital Res. Pte. Ltd., 540 B.R. at 82 (holding that section 109(a) neither requires a specific quantum of property in the United States, nor states when or for how long that property must be located within the United States); In re Zais Inv. Grade Ltd. VII, 455 B.R. 839, 842 (Bankr. D.N.J. 2011) (finding that securities and cash pledged as collateral and held by a trustee are nominally the property of a Cayman Island corporation, and that the corporation is therefore an eligible debtor under section 109).

120. HoldCo is eligible to be a debtor under section 109(a) of the Bankruptcy Code because it has property located in the United States consisting of the Reed Smith Retainer. For these reasons, HoldCo satisfies the requirements to be deemed a debtor under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code whether or not section 109(a) of the Bankruptcy Code applies.

B. The Cayman Proceeding is a Foreign Main Proceeding

121. The Cayman Proceeding is entitled to recognition as a foreign main proceeding under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code. Section 1517(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that, after notice and hearing, a court shall enter an order recognizing a foreign proceeding as a foreign main proceeding if: (a) such foreign proceeding is a foreign main proceeding within the meaning of section 1502(4) and 1517(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code, (b) the foreign representative applying for recognition is a person or body, and (c) the petition meets the requirements of section 1515 of the Bankruptcy Code. See 11 U.S.C. § 1517; see also Hon. Burton R. Lifland, Una O'Boyle, Esq. and Erin Healy Mautner, Esq., Chapter 15 of the United States Bankruptcy Code: An Annotated Section-By-Section Analysis ("The decision to grant recognition is not dependent upon any findings about the nature of the foreign proceedings . . . [t]he requirements of this section . . . are all that must be fulfilled to attain recognition"); see also In re Foreign Econ. Indus. Bank, 607 B.R. 160, 168 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2019) (internal citations omitted) ("The language of this section makes clear that the decision whether to grant recognition is not dependent upon any findings about the nature of the foreign proceeding . . . [i]nstead, if the three requirements of this section are met, the court is obligated to grant recognition."). Section 1517(b) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a foreign proceeding "shall be recognized . . . (1) as a foreign main proceeding if it is pending in the country where the debtor has the center of its main interests." 11 U.S.C. § 1517(b)(1). Here, as explained below, all requirements for recognition of the Cayman Proceeding, the Petitioners, and this Petition are satisfied.

i. The Cayman Proceeding Constitutes a "Foreign Proceeding"

122. The Cayman Proceeding qualifies as a "foreign proceeding" under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code. Section 101(23) of the Bankruptcy Code defines a "foreign proceeding" as:

> a collective judicial or administrative proceeding in a foreign country, including an interim proceeding, under a law relating to insolvency or adjustment of debt in which proceeding the assets and affairs of the debtor are subject to control or supervision by a foreign court, for the purpose of reorganization or liquidation.

123. Based on this definition, courts have held that a "foreign proceeding" is:

(a) a proceeding;

(b) that is either judicial or administrative;

(c) that is collective in nature;

(d) that is in a foreign country;

(e) that is authorized or conducted under a law related to insolvency or the adjustment of debts;

(f) in which the debtor's assets and affairs are subject to the control or supervision of a foreign court; and

(g) which proceeding is for the purpose of reorganization or liquidation.

See In re Ir. Bank Resolution Corp. (In Special Liquidation), 2014 Bankr. LEXIS 1990, at *40 (D. Del. April 30, 2014) (citing In re Betcorp Ltd., 400 B.R. 266, 277 (Bankr. D. Nev. 2009)); see also

In re Overnight and Control Comm'n of Avćmzit, S.A., 385 B.R. 525, 532-33 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2008) (discussing factors). As set forth in the Declarations, the Cayman Proceeding satisfies such requirements and, therefore, qualifies as a "foreign proceeding" for purposes of section 101(23) of the Bankruptcy Code.

124. First, the Cayman Proceeding was brought pursuant to section 131 of the Companies Act. See Companies Act § 131. For purposes of chapter 15 recognition, "the hallmark of a 'proceeding' is a statutory framework that constrains a company's actions and that regulates the final distribution of a company's assets." Betcorp, 400 B.R. at 278. Because the Cayman Proceeding operates under such a statutory framework, it satisfies the first factor of section 101(23) of the Bankruptcy Code.

125. Second, the Cayman Proceeding is judicial in character. A liquidation proceeding is deemed judicial in character when it involves a court "exercis[ing] its supervisory powers." In re ABC Learning Ctrs. Ltd., 445 B.R. 318, 328 (Bankr. D. Del. 2010). Here, the Cayman Proceeding is subject to the control and supervision of the Cayman Court. Specifically, in the Cayman Proceeding, the Debtor's assets and affairs are subject to the control and supervision of the Cayman Court for the purpose of the liquidation, pursuant to the Supervision Order, which, inter alia, (i) appoints the JOLs as joint official liquidators, (ii) authorizes the Petitioners to commence legal proceedings in the name and on the behalf of the Debtor to obtain information or pursue a stay in the Cayman Islands or in the United States, and (iii) permits the Petitioners to present a petition for the winding up of the Fund. See Supervision Order ¶¶ 2-6; MacInnis Decl. ¶¶ 63-64.

126. Third, the Cayman Proceeding is collective in nature in that it considers the rights of all of the Debtor's creditors and interest holders. See Moran Decl. at ¶ 57. A collective proceeding is one in which all creditors' interests are adequately and fairly addressed. See Betcorp Ltd., 400 B.R. at 281 (stating that a proceeding is collective where such proceeding "considers the rights and obligations of all creditors" in contrast to a non-collective proceeding, such as a "receivership remedy instigated at the request, and for the benefit, of a single secured creditor"). United States bankruptcy courts have recognized that Cayman liquidation proceedings qualify as collective judicial proceedings for the purposes of chapter 15 recognition. See In re Silicon Valley Bank (Cayman Islands Branch), 658 B.R. 75, 92 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2024) (citing In re Ocean Rig UDW Inc., 570 B.R. 687, 701-02 02 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2017)) ("concluding, among other things, that the Cayman liquidation proceedings commenced under Part V of the Companies Law are unquestionably collective judicial proceedings"); see also In re Millard, 501 B.R. 644, 650 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2013) (recognizing a Cayman Liquidation as a collective judicial proceeding irrespective of whether the debtor was solvent or insolvent). The Supervision Order was entered pursuant to Companies Act section 131, which sits within Part V. Therefore, the Court should find that the Cayman Proceeding is a collective one.

127. Fourth, the Cayman Proceeding and the Cayman Court are located in the foreign territory of the Cayman Islands. United States courts have found that a proceeding in the Cayman Islands satisfies the foreign country requirement for the purposes of establishing a foreign proceeding. See, e.g., Principal Growth Strategies, LLC v. AGH Parent LLC, 615 B.R. 529 (D. Del. 2020); In re Receivers Hugh Dickson & John Royle for an Ex Parte Order Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1782 for Discovery in Aid of Foreign Proceedings, Civil Action No. 20-940 (ES) (MAH), 2020 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 71828 (D.N.J. Mar. 10, 2020).

128. Fifth, as described above, the Companies Act, which governs the Cayman Proceeding, relates to insolvency and the adjustment of debt. See Moran Decl, at ¶ 56. Specifically, the Cayman Proceeding is governed by Part V of the Companies Act (which is the Cayman Islands statute applicable to corporate insolvencies and liquidations), in which the Debtor's assets and affairs are subject to the supervision of the Cayman Court, for the purpose of liquidation, pursuant to the Supervision Order made by the Cayman Court. See Supervision Order, ¶¶ 2-6.

129. Sixth, the Cayman Proceeding subjects the Debtor's assets and affairs to the supervision of the Cayman Court during the pendency of the proceedings. See Supervision Order, generally; Moran Decl., at ¶¶ 58-59.

130. Finally, the objective of the Cayman Proceeding is the liquidation of the Debtor. The Petitioners submit that the Supporting Organizations commenced the Cayman Proceeding for the purpose of liquidation, as required by section 101(23) of the Bankruptcy Code. See Moran Decl., at ¶¶ 58-59.

131. As described above, the Cayman Proceeding satisfies all elements required for recognition as a foreign proceeding under section 101(23) of the Bankruptcy Code and applicable case law. United States courts have recognized collective proceedings similar to the Cayman Proceeding as "foreign proceedings" on numerous occasions. See, e.g., In re Farfetch Limited (in Official Liquidation), Case No. 24-11519 (CTG) [D.I. 46] (Bankr. D. Del. 2024) (recognizing a Cayman liquidation proceeding as a "foreign proceeding"); In re IIG Glob. Trade Fin. Fund Ltd., No. 20-10132 (MEW), 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 1145 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. April 27, 2023) (same); In re Modern Land (China) Co., 641 B.R. 768 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2022) (same); In re Suntech Power Holdings Co., 520 B.R. at 399 (same).

ii. The Cayman Proceeding is a "Foreign Main Proceeding"

132. Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code applies where a foreign representative seeks assistance in a United States Court. 11 U.S.C. § 1501(b)(1). The stated objectives of chapter 15 include: (i) cooperation between domestic courts and foreign courts in cross-border insolvency cases, (ii) "legal certainty for trade and investment," (iii) protection of all interested parties in a cross-border insolvency, and (iv) "maximization of the value of the debtor's assets." 11 U.S.C. § 1501(a); see In re Oversight & Control Comm'n. of Avánzit, S.A., 385 B.R. 525, 532 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2008) (citing In re Bear Stearns High-Grade Structured Credit Strategies Master Fund, 374 B.R. 122, 126 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2007)). The Petitioners respectfully submit that each of these goals would be best achieved by recognizing that the Cayman Islands are the Debtor's COMI (defined and described below and that the Cayman Proceeding is therefore a "foreign main proceeding").

133. In addition to qualifying as a "foreign proceeding" under section 101(23) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Cayman Proceeding also qualifies as a "foreign main proceeding," which is defined in the Bankruptcy Code as "a foreign proceeding pending in the country where the debtor has the center of its main interests." See 11 U.S.C. § 1502(4); see also 11 U.S.C. § 1517(b)(1) (providing that an order of recognition as a foreign main proceeding shall be entered if the foreign proceeding that is subject to the petition "is pending in the country where the debtor has the center of its main interests"). The relevant time period for determining the location of a debtor's COMI is at or around the date on which the chapter 15 petition is filed. See Morning Mist Holdings Ltd. v. Krys (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 714 F.3d 127, 137 (2d Cir. 2013); Flynn v. Wallace (In re Irish Bank Resolution Corp. (In Special Liquidation)), 538 B.R. 692, 697 (D. Del. 2015); Ocean Rig UDW Inc., 570 B.R. at 705-06; In re Ascot Fund Ltd., 603 B.R. 271, 279 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2019); In re Suntech Power Holdings Co., 520 B.R. at 416.

134. While the term COMI is not expressly defined in the Bankruptcy Code, bankruptcy courts have enumerated factors relevant to the determination of a debtor's COMI.

135. Delaware courts consider specific factors when assessing a Debtor's COMI. As an initial matter, section 1516 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that "[i]n the absence of evidence to the contrary, the debtor's registered office … is presumed to be the center of the debtor's main interests." Here, the Debtor's registered office is located in the Cayman Islands. Accordingly, the Debtor is entitled to the statutory presumption that its COMI is located in the Cayman Islands.

136. A court will also consider the following factors relevant to determining COMI:

(a) the location of the debtor's headquarters;

(b) the location of those who actually manage the debtor;

(c) the location of the debtor's primary assets;

(d) the location of the majority of the debtor's creditors or a majority of the creditors who would be affected by the case; and/or

(e) the jurisdiction whose law would apply to most disputes.

See In re Ir. Bank Resolution Corp. (In Special Liquidation), 2014 Bankr. LEXIS 1990, at *138. Considering these factors, and for the reasons provided below, the Debtor's COMI is located in the Cayman Islands.

137. The Debtor was incorporated in 2011 in the Cayman Islands under the laws of the Companies Act. The Debtor has its registered office, and is headquartered, at HSM Corporate Service Ltd., 68 Fort Street, George Town, PO Box 31726, Grand Cayman KY1-1207, Cayman Islands.

138. Since the entry of the Supervision Order in the Cayman Proceeding on May 6, 2025, the Petitioners have assumed sole authority, subject to the supervision of the Cayman Court, to manage the Debtor's assets and administer its estate. See MacInnis Decl. ¶¶ 62-64. In connection therewith, the Petitioners have fulfilled their statutory obligations to publish and disseminate notices of HoldCo's winding up and their appointment, obtained sanction from the Cayman Court to engage Cayman Islands and U.S. counsel, published a Report to Contributories on July 2, 2025, and, on July 3, 2025, convened the first meeting of contributories held on July 9, 2025, issued formal correspondence to over 50 parties, including, directors, shareholders, banks, service providers, the prior appointed joint voluntary liquidators, requesting books and records, held discussions with various parties regarding HoldCo's history and financial affairs, and commenced the Cayman Litigation and the Applications. In connection therewith, the Petitioners have made decisions regarding the Cayman Proceeding, retained U.S. counsel to advise the Petitioners on U.S. law matters, and maintained control over the Debtor. Id. at ¶¶ 62-68.

139. The Petitioners have conducted these activities from their office in the Cayman Islands. Moreover, the actions of the Petitioners in connection with the Debtor's estate are subject to supervision by a Cayman Islands judge in the Cayman Court. See id.; see also Morning Mist Holdings Ltd. v. Krys (In re Fairfield Sentry Ltd.), 714 F.3d at 137 ("[A]ny relevant activities, including liquidation activities and administrative functions, may be considered in the COMI analysis."); In re Suntech Power Holdings Co., 520 B.R. at 416 (A "court may consider the location of the debtor's 'nerve center,' including from where the debtor's activities are directed and controlled, in determining a debtor's COMI."). Accordingly, the facts support a finding that those who actually manage the Debtor are located in the Cayman Islands.

140. The Debtor's registered office, current management, accounting, planning, budgeting, and human resources materials are located in the Cayman Islands. As discussed below, discovery is necessary to determine additional information regarding the Debtor's assets other than the Reed Smith Retainer.

141. Based on the facts and circumstances set forth herein, there are no facts sufficient to rebut the presumption that the Debtor's COMI is in the Cayman Islands. Therefore, the Cayman Proceeding should be recognized as a foreign main proceeding.

142. Certain other factors also support a finding that the Debtor's COMI is located in the Cayman Islands. For instance, the outward appearance of the Debtor's COMI is an important consideration. All of the Debtor's recent activities have been conducted and ascertainable as being in the Cayman Islands. Accordingly, the Cayman Islands can be reasonably ascertainable by the Debtor's creditors and other stakeholders as the Debtor's COMI.

143. Additionally, having commenced the Cayman Litigation, the Debtor certainly holds causes of action in the Cayman Islands. While the Debtor may also hold claims in other jurisdictions, the location of causes of action in the Cayman Islands makes this factor at least neutral.

144. Based on these facts, the totality of the circumstances—particularly, the fact that the Debtor's nerve center has been the Cayman Islands since the appointment of the Petitioners as joint official liquidators—strongly weighs in favor of the conclusion that the Debtor's COMI is located in the Cayman Islands. Because the Cayman Proceeding is pending in the location of the Debtor's COMI, the Cayman Proceeding should be recognized as a foreign main proceeding.

C. In the Alternative, the Cayman Proceeding Should be Recognized as a Foreign Nonmain Proceeding

145. In the event that this Court determines that the Cayman Proceeding will not be deemed a "foreign main proceeding," it should instead recognize the Cayman Proceeding as a "foreign nonmain proceeding" as defined in section 1502(5) of the Bankruptcy Code. 11 U.S.C. § 1502(5). Under section 1517(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, a foreign proceeding shall be recognized as a foreign nonmain proceeding if it is pending in a country where the debtor has an "establishment." See 11 U.S.C. § 1517(b)(2). Section 1502 of the Bankruptcy Code defines an "establishment" as "any place of operations where the debtor carries out a non-transitory economic activity." See 11 U.S.C. § 1502(2). The "establishment" requirement is satisfied by conducting business locally. See In re Bear Stearns High-Grade Structured Credit Strategies Master Fund, Ltd., 374 B.R. at 130-31, aff'd, 389 B.R. 325 (S.D.N.Y. 2008).

146. The Debtor conducts pertinent economic activity in the Cayman Islands. As noted above, its headquarters is located in the Cayman Islands. Accordingly, the Petitioners submit that at a minimum, the Debtor maintains an establishment in the Cayman Islands where non-transitory economic activity takes place. Moreover, prior to the commencement of the Cayman Proceeding, and while the Debtor was approving the Relevant Transactions, one of the Directors, Mr. Murphy, was resident in the Cayman Islands. As explained above, the Petitioners have been continuing the operation of the Debtor during the winding up of its affairs pursuant to the Cayman Proceeding.

147. For these reasons, to the extent that this Court finds that the Cayman Proceeding is not a "foreign main proceeding," there are sufficient grounds for this Court to find that the Debtor has an "establishment" in the Cayman Islands and to recognize the Cayman Proceeding as a "foreign nonmain proceeding" per the definition provided in section 1502(5) of the Bankruptcy Code. See In re SphinX, Ltd., 351 B.R. 103, 122 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2006) aff'd, 371 B.R. 10 (S.D.N.Y. 2007) (finding that "no negative consequences would appear to result from recognizing the [foreign] proceedings as nonmain proceedings, that is the better choice.").

D. The Petitioners Satisfy the Requirements of a "Foreign Representative" Under Section 101(24) of the Bankruptcy Code

148. For recognition under chapter 15, a foreign proceeding must also have a foreign representative. See 11 U.S.C. § 1517(a)(2) (providing that a foreign representative shall apply for recognition of the foreign proceeding). The Petitioners submit that this Chapter 15 Case was commenced by a duly authorized "foreign representative" within the meaning of section 101(24) of the Bankruptcy Code, which provides as follows:

> The term "foreign representative" means a person or body, including a person or body appointed on an interim basis, authorized in a foreign proceeding to administer the reorganization or the liquidation of the debtor's assets or affairs or to act as a representative of such foreign proceeding. 11 U.S.C. § 101(24).

149. Pursuant to the Supervision Order, the Cayman Court authorized the appointment of Margot MacInnis and Sandipan Bhowmik as the JOLs, authorized and empowered them to act jointly and severally as the foreign representatives in connection with the Cayman Proceeding. See Supervision Order, ¶¶ 2-3. The Cayman Court, by way of the Supervision Order, further granted the JOLs the power to, among other things: (i) commence legal proceedings in the name and on behalf of the Debtor to obtain the information, documents, or examine individuals in the United States; (ii) apply for the preservation, freezing or attachment of assets to which the Debtor is or may be entitled; and (iii) seek registration or recognition of themselves and/or the Cayman Proceeding in any state in the United States for either of the reasons referenced in (i) or (ii). See Id. at ¶¶ 5-6. As a result of the authority granted by the Cayman Court and under United States law, the Petitioners are entitled to file this Chapter 15 Case in the United States for the purpose of having themselves, the Cayman Proceeding, the Supervision Order, and other orders of the Cayman Court recognized and enforced in the United States. See Id. ¶¶ 2-6.

E. The Petition Was Properly Filed and Satisfies the Requirements under Section 1515 of the Bankruptcy Code

150. The Petitioners duly and properly commenced this Chapter 15 Case by filing the Petition, accompanied by all fees, documents, and information required by the Bankruptcy Code, Bankruptcy Rules and Local Rules, including: (a) a corporate ownership statement containing the information described in Bankruptcy Rule 7007.1; (b) a list containing (i) the names and addresses of all persons or bodies authorized to administer foreign proceedings of the Debtor, (ii) all parties to litigation pending in the United States in which the Debtor is a party at the time of the commencement of the Chapter 15 Case, and (iii) all entities against whom at relief is being sought under section 1519 of the Bankruptcy Code; (c) a statement identifying all of the Debtor's foreign proceedings that are known to the Petitioners; and (d) a certified copy of the Supervision Order.

151. Accordingly, because the Petition satisfies section 1517 of the Bankruptcy Code, the Court should recognize the Cayman Proceeding in this Chapter 15 Case. Granting such recognition will promote the United States public policy of respecting foreign proceedings as articulated in sections 1501(a) and 1508 of the Bankruptcy Code and further cooperation between courts to the maximum extent possible as mandated by section 1525(a) of the Bankruptcy Code. For these reasons, the conditions for recognition of the Cayman Proceeding are satisfied under section 1517 of the Bankruptcy Code.

F. The Petitioners are Entitled to Automatic Relief Under Section 1520 of the Bankruptcy Code

152. Section 1520(a) of the Bankruptcy Code sets forth a series of statutory protections that automatically result from the recognition of a foreign proceeding as a foreign main proceeding, see 11 U.S.C. § 1520(a), including the application of the protection afforded by the automatic stay under section 362(a) of the Bankruptcy Code to HoldCo and to its property that is located within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States. Given that the protections set forth in section 1520(a) flow automatically from the recognition of a foreign main proceeding under section 1517, the Petitioners respectfully submit that no further showing is required to the extent the Court recognizes the Cayman Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding.

G. The Petitioners are Entitled to Additional Relief Under Section 1521 of the Bankruptcy Code

153. Upon recognition of a foreign proceeding, section 1521 of the Bankruptcy Code provides specific grounds for additional relief. Specifically, section 1521 authorizes the Court to grant "any appropriate relief," including "any relief that may be available to a trustee" subject to certain limitations and provided that "the interests of the creditors and other interested entities, including the debtor, are sufficiently protected." 11 U.S.C. §§ 1521, 1522. Here, the Petitioners respectfully request that this Court grant relief under sections 1521(a)(1), (2), (3), (4), (5), (6) and (7) of the Bankruptcy Code.

i. The Foreign Representative is Entitled to Appropriate Relief Under Sections 1521 (a)(1), (2), (3), (4), (5), (6) and (7)

154. As stated below, the Petitioners seek further relief upon recognition in the form of availing themselves of discovery rights under the Bankruptcy Code to assist them in their investigation of the assets and affairs of the Debtor, to identify the location of property over which the Debtor has or may assert a proprietary interest, and in their efforts to recover books and records of the Debtor in the possession of third parties to investigate the location of the Fund and other assets of the Debtor. This will help avoid the potential loss of critical evidence relating to the Debtor's assets and liabilities, as well as causes of action against third parties.

155. First, pursuant to sections 1521(a)(1), (2), and (3), the Petitioners request: (1) that this Court stay the commencement, continuation, or execution of any individual action or proceeding concerning the Debtor's assets, rights, obligations, or liabilities to the extent they have not already been stayed by section 1520(a); and (2) the Court suspend the right to transfer, encumber or otherwise dispose of any assets of the debtor to the extent this right has not been suspended under section 1520(a). These provisions are necessary to ensure the Debtor's assets or interests in the United States are not dissipated during the course of the Cayman Proceeding.

156. Second, to enable them to identify, protect, and preserve the Debtor's estate for the benefit of all its creditors, the Petitioners request that this Court entrust them with the administration or realization of all or part of the Debtor's assets within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States pursuant to section 1521(a)(5). See IIG Global Trade Finance Fund Ltd., No. 20-10132 (MEW) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y Jan. 17, 2020) ECF No. 9 (ordering that the administration or realization of all or parts of the assets of [the debtor] within the territorial jurisdiction of the U.S. is entrusted to its liquidators); In re Frontera Resources Caucasus Corp. and David Griffin, No. 19-13418 (MEW) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y Oct. 25, 2019) ECF No. 19 (ordering that the liquidators are entrusted with the administration and realization of [the debtor's] assets within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States); In re Air Berlin PLC & Co. Luftverkehrs KG, No. 17-12282 (MEW) (Bankr. S.D.N.Y Aug. 18, 2017) ECF. No. 24 (granting 1521(a)(5) relief). This authority would be consistent with the Petitioners' authority to administer the Debtor's assets under Cayman law.

157. Finally, as discussed below, the Petitioners request that this Court provide discovery relief pursuant to sections 542(e), 1519(a)(3), 1521(a)(4), 1521(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rule 2004.

ii. Injunctive Relief is Appropriate

158. The standards, procedures, and limitations applicable to an injunction also apply to relief sought under sections 1521(a)(1), (2), (3), and (6) of the Bankruptcy Code. See 11 U.S.C. § 1521(e). Generally, to obtain an injunction, a movant must demonstrate the likelihood of irreparable harm. See Clarkson v. Coughlin, 898 F. Supp. 1019, 1035 (S.D.N.Y. 1995). Irreparable harm in the chapter 15 context exists if there is a risk of disruption to the orderly and fair distribution of assets through dissenting creditor actions to the detriment of other creditors. See, e.g., In re Garcia Avila, 296 B.R. 95, 114 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2003) ("[I]rreparable harm is present when the failure to enjoin local actions will disrupt the orderly reconciliation of claims and fair distribution of assets in a single, centralized forum.") (quoting Collier on Bankruptcy ¶ 304.05 (15th ed. Rev. 2003)); In re MMG LLC, 256 B.R. 544, 555 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2000) ("[I]rreparable harm exists whenever local creditors of the foreign debtor seek to collect their claims or obtain preferred positions to the detriment of other creditors").

159. The risk of irreparable harm exists here, particularly in light of the consummation of the Relevant Transactions, which dispossessed the Debtor of its direct and indirect interests in the DAF Structure, and the risk that the Debtor's proprietary interests asserted in the Cayman Litigation could be further dissipated pending the outcome of the Cayman Litigation and the JOLs continuing investigation of the Relevant Transactions and the Remuneration Transactions. It is imperative that the Debtor's assets are protected while the JOLs' investigations are ongoing—recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order (discussed below) is therefore critical.

160. Absent injunctive relief, the Debtor's efforts to orderly liquidate through the Cayman Proceeding and to maximize value for all stakeholders could be thwarted by the actions of the Named Defendants or other parties in interest, a result that is inconsistent with the Bankruptcy Code. The interests of affected parties under the Cayman Proceeding are sufficiently protected under section 1522(a) of the Bankruptcy Code because all similarly situated parties will be treated equally and fairly during the pendency of the Cayman Proceeding. Moreover, all parties will have the opportunity to be heard in the Cayman Proceeding and the Cayman Litigation. The injunction also will not cause undue hardship or prejudice to the rights of any U.S.-based creditors or other parties in interest and is consistent with principles of comity. Accordingly, the injunction should be granted.

161. The ultimate goal of the Petitioners is to protect the Debtor and to preserve and maximize realization on the assets of the Debtor for the benefit of its creditors and other stakeholders. The additional relief requested by the Petitioners under sections 1521, 362, and 105 of the Bankruptcy Code will assist the Petitioners in carrying out their duties as joint official liquidators to achieve this goal and will promote the effective administration of the Cayman Proceeding.

iii. Discovery Relief is Both Necessary and Appropriate to Uncover Assets and Determine Causes of Action

162. It is crucial that the Petitioners be permitted to take discovery pursuant to sections 1519(a)(3), 542(e), 1521(a)(4), and 1521(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code. The Petitioners seek discovery to: (i) locate the Fund and uncover related frauds and potential assets of the Debtor; and (ii) determine causes of action against and defenses to third parties. These rules indicate Congress's recognition of the need for foreign debtors to conduct discovery with respect to their assets, liabilities and affairs, including the investigation of potential causes of actions. See, e.g., In re Comair Ltd., No. 21-10298(JLG), 2021 Bankr. LEXIS 3137, at *28 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Nov. 14, 2021), appeal dismissed, No. 21 CIV. 10146 (AT), 2023 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6146 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 12, 2023); In re Millennium Glob. Emerging Credit Master Fund Ltd., 471 B.R. 342, 346 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012); In re Glitnir banki hf., No. 08-14757 SMB, 2011 Bankr. LEXIS 3296 at *19 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Aug. 19, 2011); In re Hughes, 281 B.R. 224, 229 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2002).

163. Specifically, the discovery of third party causes of action could uncover "contingent property interests" of the Debtor. See In re Millennium Glob. Emerging Credit Master Fund Ltd., 471 B.R. 342, 346 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012) (citing In re Kane, 628 F.3d 631, 641 n.7 (3d Cir. 2000) (noting that property of the estate "encompasses contingent property interests such as causes of action")). The Petitioners are seeking discovery to promote a significant chapter 15 objective by permitting the Petitioners to fulfill their roles. See In re Markus, 607 B.R. 379, 390 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2019), aff'd in part, vacated in part on other grounds, remanded sub nom. Markus v. Rozhkov, 615 B.R. 679 (S.D.N.Y. 2020) (quoting In re Platinum Partners Value Arbitrage Fund L.P., 583 B.R. 803, 821 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018)).

164. Additionally, section 542(e) provides "[s]ubject to any applicable privilege, after notice and a hearing, the court may order an attorney, accountant, or other person that holds recorded information, including books, documents, records, and papers, relating to the debtor's property or financial affairs, to turn over or disclose such recorded information to the trustee." 11 U.S.C. § 542(e). Foreign representatives in chapter 15 cases seeking court-ordered discovery at times seek relief pursuant to section 542(e), which is either directly applicable to chapter 15 cases or, in the alternative, delineate relief which can be granted by the court pursuant to section 1521(a)(4). See In re Platinum Partners Value Arbitrage Fund, LP, 583 B.R. 803 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018); see also In re AJW Offshore Ltd., 488 B.R. 551, 564 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2013) (finding that a foreign representative may seek disclosure pursuant to section 542(e)); In re ABC Learning Ctr.'s, Ltd., 445 B.R. 318, 341 (Bankr. D. Del. 2010) (allowing the right to seek turnover under section 542).

165. Following sections 542(e) and 1521(a)(4), Bankruptcy Rule 2004 provides an additional ground for a court to authorize discovery in a chapter 15 case, with the stated purpose of determining the nature and extent of the bankruptcy estate. See In re Glitnir banki hf., No. 08-14757 (SMB), 2011 Bankr. LEXIS 3296, at *20 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. Aug. 19, 2011). "The purpose of a Rule 2004 examination is to assist a party in interest in determining the nature and extent of the bankruptcy estate, revealing assets, examining transactions and assessing whether wrongdoing has occurred." In re Recoton Corp., 307 B.R. 751, 755 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2004) (citation omitted).

In particular, discovery under Rule 2004 can be used to "facilitate[s] . . . the unearthing of frauds." In re Orion Healthcorp, Inc., 596 B.R. 228, 235 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2019) (citation omitted). Thus, Rule 2004 can be used as a "pre-litigation discovery device." In re Wilson, 413 B.R. 330, 336 (Bankr. E.D. La. 2009). Likewise, a Rule 2004 motion "need not be tied to specific factual allegations between parties." See In re Symington, 209 B.R. 678, 684 (Bankr. D. Md. 1997). Rather, Rule 2004 examinations may be "broad, unfettered and in the nature of a 'fishing expedition.'" See In re Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., 384 B.R. 373, 400 (Bankr. W.D. Pa. 2008); see also In re Hughes, 281 B.R. at 226 (same).

166. Finally, courts have found that a foreign representative may be authorized to take discovery in accordance with section 542(e) and Bankruptcy Rule 2004 pursuant to sections 1507 and 1521(a)(7). See CohnReznick LLP v. Foreign Representatives of Platinum Partners Value Arbitrage Fund L.P. (In re Platinum Partners Value Arbitrage Fund L.P.), 2018 U.S. LEXIS 109684, at *11 (S.D.N.Y. 2018); Platinum Partners Value Arbitrage Fund, 583 B.R. at 810. If recognition is granted, section 1507 of the Bankruptcy Code grants the bankruptcy court authority to "provide additional assistance to a foreign representative under this title or under other laws of the United States" provided that such assistance is "consistent with the principles of comity" and satisfies the fairness considerations set forth in section 1507(b). Thus, chapter 15 provides courts with broad, flexible, and pragmatic rules to fashion relief that is "largely discretionary and turns on subjective factors that embody principals of comity." In re Platinum Partners Value Arbitrage Fund L.P., 583 B.R. at 810 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018) (citation omitted). And, section 1521(a)(7) broadly affords a foreign representative "any additional relief that may be available to a trustee . . ." 11 U.S.C. § 1521(a)(7).

167. Here, the Petitioners must be afforded broad discovery rights in the United States to facilitate their investigations. First, this requires access to all documents relating to the Debtor's property or financial affairs, necessitating the need for section 542(e) relief. Second, the Petitioners must be able to broadly issue Rule 2004 examinations, as well as to be afforded all discovery rights under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures, as incorporated by the Bankruptcy Rules. Only by affording the Petitioners the necessary tools to complete their investigations will the JOLs be able to maximize distributions such that creditors and interested parties are sufficiently protected.

H. The Injunctive Relief Order, As Entered by the Cayman Court, Should Be Fully Enforced Within the Territorial Jurisdiction of the United States Under Sections 105(a), 1507 and 1521(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code and Under Principles of Comity

168. Upon recognition of the Cayman Proceeding as a foreign proceeding—whether main or nonmain—the Court has the authority to provide additional assistance to the JOLs pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code or other applicable laws of the United States, so long as such relief is consistent with principles of comity. See 11 U.S.C. §§ 1507 and 1521(a)(7). Indeed, "[t]he plain language of Bankruptcy Code sections 1521(a) and 1507 give this Court a broad grant of discretion to aid foreign courts in accordance with principles of comity." See In re Credito Real, S.A.B. de C.V., SOFOM, E.N.R., 2025 Bankr.LEXIS 751, at *39 (Bankr. D. Del. April 1, 2025). Additionally, section 105(a) provides that the "court may issue any order, process, or judgment that is necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this title." 11 U.S.C. § 105(a).

169. Chapter 15 specifically contemplates that the court should be guided by principles of comity and cooperation with foreign courts in deciding whether to grant the foreign representative additional post-recognition relief. In re Atlas Shipping A/S, 404 B.R. 726, 738 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2009); s*ee also, In re Bear Stearns High-Grade Structured Credit Strategies Master Fund, Ltd.*, 389 B.R. at 333 ("relief [post-recognition] is largely discretionary and turns on subjective factors that embody principles of comity." (citing §§ 1507, 1521, and 1525).). Chapter

15 of the Bankruptcy Code empowers "courts with broad, flexible rules to fashion relief that is appropriate to effectuate the objectives of the chapter in accordance with comity." In re Rede Energia, S.A., 515 B.R. 69, 91 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2014) (citing In re Bear Stearns High-Grade Structured Credit Strategies Master Fund, Ltd., 389 B.R. at 333-34; In re SPhinX, Ltd., 351 B.R. 103, 112 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2006) ("chapter 15 maintains—and in some respects enhances—the 'maximum flexibility' . . . that section 304 provided bankruptcy courts in handling ancillary cases in light of principles of international comity and respect for the laws and judgments of other nations.") (internal citations omitted). These principles are embedded in the relief available under Chapter 15, which "provides courts with broad, flexible rules to fashion relief that is appropriate to effectuate the objectives in the chapter in accordance with comity." In re Rede Energia, S.A., 515 B.R. at 91.

170. Accordingly, "[a]fter recognition, chapter 15 specifically contemplates that the court will exercise its discretion consistent with principles of comity." In re British American, 488 B.R. 205, 239 (Bankr. S.D. Fla 2013) (quoting In re Atlas Shipping A/S, 404 B.R. 726, 738 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2009)). Courts are "guided by the principles of comity and cooperation with foreign courts in deciding whether to grant the foreign representative additional post-recognition relief." In re Metcalfe & Mansfield Alternative Investments, 421 B.R. 685, 696 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y.2010) (citing In re Atlas Shipping, 404 B.R. at 738); see also CT Inv. Mgmt v. Cozumel Caribe (In re Cozumel Caribe S.A. de C.V.), 482 B.R. 96, 113 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2012) (noting that comity is a "central tenet" in chapter 15 proceedings); 11 U.S.C. § 1501 (stating that the purpose of chapter 15 is to provide mechanisms for cooperation and comity between courts dealing with cross-border insolvency cases); see also In re Agrokor, 591 B.R. 163, 186 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018) ("Once a case is recognized as a foreign main proceeding, as has already occurred here, Chapter 15 specifically contemplates that the court will exercise its discretion consistent with principles of comity."); In re Oi S.A., 587 B.R. 253, 264 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018) ("Chapter 15 … provides courts with broad, flexible rules to fashion relief that is appropriate to effectuate the objectives of the chapter in accordance with comity.") (internal quotations and citations omitted).

171. Indeed, section 1509(b)(3) expressly states that upon the foreign representative's recognition, the Court "must grant comity or cooperation to the foreign representative." 11 U.S.C. § 1509(b)(3). Chapter 15's legislative history evidences this principle. Congress has stated that "comity is raised in the introductory language [of Chapter 15] to make clear that it is the central concept to be addressed." In re Oi, 587 B.R. at 264 (quoting H.R. Rep. No. 109-31, pt. 1, at 109 (2005), as reprinted in 2005 U.S.C.C.A.N. 88, 172).

172. In Hilton v. Guyot, the United States Supreme Court defined comity as follows:

> Comity in the legal sense, is neither a matter of absolute obligation, on the one hand, nor mere courtesy and good will, upon the other. But it is the recognition which one nation allows within its territory to the legislative, executive or judicial acts of another nation, having due regard both to international duty and convenience, and to the rights of its own citizens, or of other persons who are under the protection of its laws.

159 U.S. 113, at 141. "Comity is a common law rule by which courts in the United States give deference to foreign judgments." In re Neves, 570 B.R. 420, 426 (Bankr. S.D. Fla. 2017).

173. The proponent of comity bears the initial burden to satisfy the comity considerations set forth in Hilton v. Guyot, which considers the following:

> (a) whether the foreign court was competent and used proceedings consistent with civilized jurisprudence; (b) whether the judgment was rendered by fraud; and (c) whether the foreign judgment was prejudicial because it violated American public policy notions of what is decent and just.

Daewoo Motor America, Inc. v. General Motors Corp., 459 F.3d 1249, 1258 (11th Cir. 2006) (quoting Ungaro-Benages v. Dresdner Bank AG, 379 F.3d 1227, 1238 (11th Cir. 2004)).

174. The first factor requires the proponent of comity to "describe the process by which the [foreign order] was obtained, why that process is not unfair, and why it does not offend the United States' notions of justice." In re Neves, 570 B.R. at 426. Once the proponent of comity satisfies this burden, the burden shifts to the party opposing comity to show that the foreign order "violates American public policy notions of what is decent and just." Id. at 427; see also Tahan v. Hodgson, 662 F.2d 862, 864 (D.C. Cir. 1981) (a foreign judgment may not be recognized on comity if its recognition would be "repugnant to fundamental notices of what is decent and just"). This burden is "high and unfrequently met" and is applicable only in "clear-cut cases." Ackerman v. Levine, 788 F.2d 830, 841 (2d Cir. 1986) (citations omitted).

175. Further, all relief under Chapter 15 is subject to the public policy exception set forth in section 1506. Under section 1506, the Court may refuse "to take an action governed by [Chapter 15] if the action would be manifestly contrary to the public policy of the United States." 11 U.S.C. § 1506. This public policy exception is "narrowly construed, because the word 'manifestly' in international usage restricts the public policy exception to the most fundamental policies of the United States.'" In re ABC Learning Ctrs., 728 F.3d at 309 (quoting H.R. Rep. No. 109-31(I), at 109 (2005) reprinted in U.S.C.C.A.N. 88, 172); see also In re Ashapura Minechem Ltd., 480 B.R. 129, 139 n.60 (S.D.N.Y. 2012) (internal quotations omitted) (citation omitted) (explaining that courts have "uniformly" interpreted the public policy exception "narrowly and applied it sparingly")

176. In considering comity, the relief granted in the foreign proceeding need not be identical to the relief that is available in the United States to be entitled to comity. See In re Rede Energia, 515 B.R. at 69. Indeed, the Restatement (Second) of Conflict of Laws states that the principle of international comity should not be limited to monetary awards as foreign orders for equitable relief have been afforded comity in the United States. Restatement § 102.

177. In that regard, under principles of comity, courts have recognized injunctions issued by foreign courts, even if such injunctions may not be enforceable in the United States. See In re Metcalfe & Mansfield Alternative Invs., 421 B.R. at 700 (noting "[p]rinciples of comity in chapter 15 cases support enforcement of the [foreign order] in the United States whether or not the same relief could be ordered in a plenary case under chapter 11.").

I. Recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order is Warranted under Sections 1521(a)(7) and 1507 of the Bankruptcy Code

i. Legal Standard for Relief Under Sections 1521(a)(7) and 1507

178. The Court has authority under sections 1521(a)(7) and 1507 to recognize and enforce the Injunctive Relief Order.

179. Upon recognition of a foreign proceeding, section 1521(a)(7) authorizes the Court to grant "any appropriate relief" at the request of the foreign representative "where necessary to effectuate the purpose of [chapter 15] and to protect the assets of the debtor or the interests of the creditors[,]" including any relief that may be available to a trustee or debtor-in-possession, subject to certain exceptions that do not apply here. 11 U.S.C. § 1521(a)(7); see In re Cell C Proprietary Ltd., 571 B.R. 542, 554 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2017) (noting that the list of "appropriate relief" under section 1521(a) is "non-exhaustive"); In re Daebo Int'l Shipping Co., Ltd., 543 B.R. 47, 52–53 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2015).

180. The Court has "exceedingly broad" discretion to grant relief under section 1521(a). In re Markus, 610 B.R. at 76; In re U.S. Steel Canada Inc., 571 B.R. 600, 609 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2017) (citation omitted). However, such relief may be granted "only if the interests of the creditors and other interested entities, including the debtor, are sufficiently protected." 11 U.S.C. § 1522(a). An analysis under section 1522 requires a balancing test of the respective interests. See In re Oi, 587 B.R. at 265 (citing various cases).

181. Furthermore, Section 1507 of the Bankruptcy Code also permits the Court to grant the requested relief as "additional assistance." 11 U.S.C. § 1507(a). Ad Hoc Group of Vitro Noteholders v. Vitro S.A.B. de CV (In re Vitro S.A.B. de CV), 701 F.3d 1031,1057 (5th Cir. 2012) (explaining that section 1507's "broad grant of assistance is intended to be a catchall"); see also H.R. Rep. No. 109-31, pt. 1, at 109 (2005) (noting that section 1507 authorizes "additional relief" beyond that available under section 1521 of the Bankruptcy Code). Though the "interplay between the relief available under sections 1507 and 1521 is far from clear," some courts analyze relief under these sections in a two-step approach: first considering relief under section 1521 and, if such relief is not available, then the Court may consider the relief requested under section 1507. In re Olinda Star, Ltd., 614 B.R. 28, 47 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2020) (citing various cases).

182. To grant "additional assistance" under section 1507, the Court shall consider whether the additional assistance is consistent with principles of comity and whether it satisfies the following fairness considerations set forth in section 1507(b):

> (1) just treatment of all holders of claims against or interests in the debtor's property;
> (2) protection of claim holders in the United States against prejudice and inconvenience in the processing of claims in such foreign proceeding;
> (3) prevention of preferential or fraudulent dispositions of property of the debtor;
> (4) distribution of proceeds of the debtor's property substantially in accordance with the order prescribed by this title; and

(5) if appropriate, the provision of an opportunity for a fresh start for the individual that such foreign proceeding concerns.

11 U.S.C. § 1507(b); In re Agrokor, 591 B.R. at 188-89

183. Courts have recognized and enforced foreign orders under sections 1521 and 1507 to give effect and ensure compliance with the foreign order. Such is the case with foreign confirmation orders or orders to facilitate their implementation. In re Olinda Star, Ltd., 614 B.R. at 47-48 (recognizing BVI scheme of arrangement and entering a permanent injunction against acts that would interference with the scheme); In re Avanti Comms. Grp. PLC, 582 B.R. 603 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2018) (recognizing and enforcing UK schemes of arrangement which, among other things, granted third party releases); In re Cell C Proprietary Ltd., 571 B.R. at 551 (recognizing South African arrangement sanctioned by South African court); In re Rede Energia S.A., 515 B.R. at 93-94 (recognizing Brazilian reorganization and confirmation decision and enjoining actions in the United States in contravention of the decision

184. American courts have also afforded comity to ex parte interim injunctions. For instance, in Gorsoan Ltd. v. Bullock, No. 2020-020803-CA-01 (Fla. 11th Cir. Ct. Feb. 17, 2021), the court recognized an ex parte interim injunction order issued by a Cypriot court freezing Bullock's assets worldwide. In so doing, the court noted its rich history of affording comity to foreign interim injunctions. Id. at p. 3; see also Amezcua v. Cortez, No. 3D20- 1649, at 6 (Fla. 3d DCA Jan. 13, 2021) (recognizing Mexican embargo order prohibiting transfer of condominium unit); Cermesoni v. Maneiro, 144 So. 3d 627, 629 (Fla. 3d DCA 2014); Nahar v.Nahar, 656 So. 2d 225, 229 (Fla. 3d DCA 1995.

ii. Recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order is Appropriate under Sections 1521 and 1507 of the Bankruptcy Code

185. Section 1521(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code provides the granting of any additional relief – in this case, the recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order – that may otherwise be available to a trustee in bankruptcy. Here, such an Injunctive Relief Order may be enforceable in the United States under section 105(a). See American Film Technologies v. Taritero (In re American Film Technologies), 175 B.R. 847, 855 (Bankr. D. Del. 1994) (utilizing section 105 to issue a preliminary injunction). Additionally, the standard for an injunction in the Cayman Islands is similar to that in the Third Circuit. See Moran Decl., at ¶ 42 (discussing the standard for injunctive relief in the Cayman Islands).[11] Indeed, as set forth in the Moran Declaration, the Cayman Court has already determined that (a) the Cayman Litigation had a reasonable prospect of success and (b) that the interests of the Debtor's stakeholders were best served by the JOLs commencing the Cayman Litigation. See Moran Decl., at ¶ 32.

[11] To determine whether to issue a preliminary injunction, a court must consider: (1) whether the movant has a reasonable probability of success on the merits; (2) whether irreparable harm would result if the relief sought is not granted; (3) whether the relief would result in greater harm to the non-moving party, and (4) whether the relief is in the public interest. See Swartzwelder v. McNeilly, 297 F.3d 228, 234 (3d Cir. 2002).

186. Further, the Named Defendants have been afforded due process and given notice of the Injunctive Relief Application and the Injunction Hearing Date and will have the opportunity to appear at the hearing and respond to the Injunctive Relief Application before relief is granted by the Cayman Court. See Moran Decl., at ¶ 35. Moreover, the nature of the relief being sought is similar to the relief that has been raised among the parties in protocol discussions in the Cayman Proceeding and is, in substance, akin to the restrictions that the Named Defendants agreed to assume in the Rule 11 Agreement in the Texas Proceeding. See MacInnis Decl., at ¶¶ 68, 97. Therefore, to the extent the Injuncitve Relief Order is entered in the Cayman Islands, it should be recognized by this Court in the interests of comity.

187. In addition, recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order satisfies the relevant equitable and practical considerations outlined in section 1507(b) of the Bankruptcy Code. First, the relief promotes fair and equitable treatment of all creditors by preserving the value of HoldCo's estate for the benefit of all stakeholders, rather than potentially allowing the Named Defendants to obtain an unfair advantage through the dissipation or diversion of assets. Second, recognition ensures that U.S.-based creditors are not exposed to procedural disadvantage in the Cayman Proceeding, as the Injunctive Relief Order operates neutrally to safeguard HoldCo's property pending full adjudication of the claims, rather than favoring any specific jurisdiction or creditor group. Third, the Injunctive Relief Order directly addresses and prevents improper transfers or dissipation of HoldCo's assets, which is essential to maintaining the status quo during the JOLs' ongoing investigation and the Cayman Litigation. Finally, the relief sought supports a distribution framework that is aligned, in substance, with U.S. bankruptcy priorities by ensuring assets are preserved for collective resolution and eventual equitable distribution. These considerations, grounded in the principles of comity and cross-border cooperation, strongly support recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order, which represents the Cayman Court's necessary and proportionate response to the JOLs' and the Named Defendants' failure to reach agreement on a protocol to mitigate the risk of asset dissipation pending completion of the JOLs' investigation and the Cayman Litigation.

188. Accordingly, the JOLs seek, should the Cayman Court issue the Injunctive Relief Order, full enforcement of the Injunctive Relief Order within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States to ensure that the mitigation of any risk of asset dissipation—including asset dissipation of funds for the benefit of U.S. charities—pending completion of the JOLs' investigation and the Cayman Litigation is applied consistently across the two relevant jurisdictions, furthering the very goals of international cooperation and assistance to foreign courts and principles of comity.

J. Granting the Relief Requested herein, Including Recognition of the Cayman Proceeding and Injunctive Relief Order, Are Not Manifestly Contrary to U.S. Public Policy

189. The requested relief herein advances the public policy objectives of chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code, including cooperation, fairness, and efficiency, and the protection and maximization of asset value. As set forth in the Moran Declaration, Cayman law provides a structured process for the liquidation of a debtor's assets, involving judicial oversight and opportunity for creditor participation, which is aligned with U.S. principles of due process and fair treatment of creditors. See Moran Decl. ¶¶ 29, 64. To aid an orderly liquidation, it is imperative that the Petitioners be afforded the necessary relief to both protect the Debtor's assets and conduct ongoing investigations—this includes recognition of the Cayman Proceeding and Injunctive Relief Order. Absent this Court granting the relief requested herein, there is a significant risk of further asset dissipation—particularly related to the Fund. Therefore, such relief promotes the fair and efficient administration of cross-border insolvency, protects the interests of all creditors and other parties in interest, including the Debtor, and maximizes the value of the Debtor's assets. See 11 U.S.C. § 1501(a).

NOTICE

190. Notice of this Petition has been provided in accordance with the terms set forth in the Motion of Petitioners for Entry of an Order Scheduling a Hearing on Chapter 15 Petition for Recognition and Related Relief and Specifying Form and Manner of Service of Notice. The Petitioners submit that such notice is proper, and that no other or further notice need be provided.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, the Petitioners respectfully request the Court to enter an order, substantially in the form attached as Exhibit A, granting the requested relief and such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

2. I respectfully submit this Declaration in support of the Petitioners' Verified Petition dated July 21, 2025 (the "Verified Petition")[3] seeking the United States Bankruptcy Court for the District of Delaware's (this "Court") (a) recognition of the Cayman Proceeding as a "foreign main proceeding" pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 1517(b)(1) of title 11 of the United States Code, 11 U.S.C. § 101 et seq. (the "Bankruptcy Code") or in the alternative as a "foreign nonmain proceeding" pursuant to section 1517(b)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code; (b) recognition of the Petitioners as "foreign representatives" of HoldCo, pursuant to sections 1509 and 1517 of the Bankruptcy Code; and (c) granting relief pursuant to sections 105(a), 1502, 1507, 1510, 1520 and 1521 of the Bankruptcy Code.

I am a Chartered Accountant, CPA, and hold professional certifications with ACAMS and CFE. I have been a board member of both RISA, IWIRC Cayman Islands and the international board of IWIRC, a member of ABI and INSOL, and in my various roles with these organizations over the years I have sat on technical committees responsible for the creating and delivering the technical content for conferences, seminars and roundtables.[5]

5. I am duly authorized to make this Declaration on behalf of the JOLs. I am fully familiar with the facts of this matter. Unless otherwise indicated, all statements contained herein are true to the best of my knowledge and based upon my personal knowledge of HoldCo's operations and financial condition, my review of relevant documents and my conversations with relevant personnel. I am over the age of 18 and, if called to testify, would testify competently about the facts set forth herein.

6. I am familiar with the Model Law on Cross-Border Insolvency, adopted by the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL), and approved by a resolution of the United Nations General Assembly on December 15, 1997. I also understand that the Model Law has been adopted in the United States as chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code.

7. I make this Declaration in my statutory capacity as an officer of the Cayman Court and request an extension of comity for the benefit of all of HoldCo's creditors and investors, whose interests I represent. For the reasons discussed below, I submit that: (a) Mr. Bhowmik and I are duly appointed "foreign representatives" of HoldCo in the Cayman Proceeding and that the Cayman Proceeding constitutes a "foreign proceeding" within the meaning of sections 101(23) and (24) of the Bankruptcy Code, respectively; (b) this case was properly commenced in accordance with the requirements of chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code; and (c) the Cayman Proceeding satisfies all of the requirements to be recognized as a "foreign main proceeding" pursuant to sections 1502(4) and 1517(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code or in the alternative as a "foreign nonmain proceeding" pursuant to sections 1502(5) and 1517(b)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code.

8. HoldCo is a Cayman Islands exempted company, incorporated on October 27, 2011.[6] Its registered office is at HSM Corporate Services Limited, P.O. Box 31726, 68 Fort Street, George Town, Grand Cayman, KY1-1207, Cayman Islands.[7] incorporated in Texas, which was issued 5 Participating Shares in HoldCo on August 12, 2015;[17] and (e) DFW Charitable Foundation, a nonprofit corporation exempt from federal income tax under § 501(c)(3) of the IRC incorporated in Delaware on December 9, 2024, which was issued 318 Participating Shares in HoldCo on February 7, 2025.[18] Mr. Patrick is its registered director, president and sole member.

i. The Charitable Structure

13. Four charities held the ultimate economic interest in HoldCo prior to the DFW Share Issuance and held Participating Shares, either directly or indirectly. They are:

(a) The Dallas Foundation (which controls Highland Dallas Foundation): a charitable entity established in Texas in 1929 which has awarded over $1 billion in grants and manages over $500 million in assets;

(b) Greater Kansas City Community Foundation (which controls Highland Kansas Foundation): a charitable entity established in Missouri in 1978 which has awarded over $7 billion in grants and manages over $6 billion held in charitable funds;

(c) Santa Barbara Foundation (which controls Highland Santa Barbara Foundation): a charity established in 1928 which is the largest community foundation on California's Central Coast and manages assets of over $800 million; and

(d) CFNT is a charity established in 1981 which manages assets totaling $513 million and donated $38.9 million to local nonprofits in 2023. CFNT holds its Participating Shares in HoldCo directly (i.e., without interposing a supporting organization). Prior to the DFW Share Issuance, CFNT held 1.639% of the Participating Shares.[19]

14. Each of the Charities held its interests in HoldCo indirectly through Highland Dallas Foundation, Highland Kansas City Foundation, and Highland Santa Barbara Foundation respectively (i.e., TDF held its interest through the Participating Shares held by Highland Dallas Foundation, etc.).[20]

15. The Supporting Organizations were incorporated by Mr. James Dondero in November 2011 for the purpose of making charitable donations to their respective charity from the proceeds received by the Supporting Organizations from HoldCo.[21]

16. Each of the Supporting Organizations is "organized and operated exclusively to support and benefit" its relevant, supported Charity.[22] For U.S. tax purposes, each Supporting Organization is classified as a Type I supporting organization of its respective Charity, which means that it is operated, supervised and controlled by that Charity.[23] Consistent with this classification, the governance arrangements of each of the Supporting Organizations affords each Charity two votes and two director-nominees, to the individual member's (Mr. Dondero or his designee's) one vote and one director-nominee.[24]

17. HoldCo was formed for tax efficiency purposes to avoid a Charity or Supporting Organization becoming liable for UBTI with respect to investments it may wish to make in a hedge fund or private equity fund, here, the Fund, where substantial assets were held.[25]

18. HoldCo was, between November 2011 and December 18, 2024, the sole limited partner of the Fund, a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed to invest and manage assets for the benefit or ultimate benefit of certain registered charitable organizations in the United States, through which it indirectly owned the DAF Structure.

19. The role of HoldCo was to facilitate the making of discretionary cash distributions to Participating Shareholders, which would be drawn from the proceeds of investment returns made within asset-holding entities in the DAF Structure.[26]

C. Overview of the Fund

20. The Fund is a Cayman Islands exempted limited partnership formed October 25, 2011 (registration no. 53083), having its registered office at Campbells Corporate Services Ltd, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman, KY1-9010, Cayman Islands. The Fund is governed by the Second Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement, dated March 11, 2024. Prior to the Relevant Transactions, HoldCo was the sole limited partner of the Fund.[27]

21. The Fund was formed and operates to "make certain investments directly or indirectly on behalf of certain entities exempt from taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code … for the economic benefit of [HoldCo] and its Indirect Charitable Owners".[28]

22. Charitable DAF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company registered as a foreign company in the Cayman Islands which was, at the Fund's formation and until March 7, 2024, the general partner of the Fund, at which time it was replaced by CDH GP, LTD, a Cayman

Islands exempt company incorporated on February 27, 2024, by Mr. Patrick, its sole director, at Mr. Patrick's instigation, without notice to the Original Participating Shareholders.[29]

23. The Fund's sole asset is or was its ownership of 100% of the issued share capital, in CLO HoldCo Ltd.[30] CLO Holdco is organized as a Cayman Islands exempt company incorporated with limited liability, having its registered office address located at Campbells Corporate Services Limited, Floor 4, Willow House, Cricket Square, Grand Cayman KY1-9010, Cayman Islands.[31]

24. Based upon their initial research and investigation, the JOLs understand that the Fund's known subsidiaries, that it holds through CLO HoldCo (as listed in Schedule A of the proposed order accompanying the Injunction Application)[32], are mostly passive investment vehicles holding a mix of assets, including cash, promissory notes, shares in Nexpoint[33] entities, publicly traded stock, real estate, receivables/proceeds from litigation proceedings, receivable amounts from brokers, dividends due, and amounts due from affiliates.

25. At all relevant times, the Fund had a net asset value of approximately $270 million.[34]

D. Key Transactions Precipitating the Debtor's Liquidation

i. The Relevant Transactions

26. Beginning in 2024, HoldCo's Directors executed a series of complex, interrelated transactions without the knowledge or consent of the Original Participating Shareholders. These transactions consisted of (a) HoldCo's contribution of its interest in the Fund to a newly formed entity organized in Delaware, CDM, controlled by Mr. Patrick, in exchange for membership interests in CDM that, unlike the Original Participating Shareholders Participating Shares in HoldCo, were redeemable and afforded HoldCo no fiduciary safeguards;[35] (b) the DFW Share Issuance, i.e., the purported issuance of 318 participating shares in HoldCo to DFW, a Delaware nonprofit corporation incorporated and controlled by Mr. Patrick, on February 7, 2025, sufficient to make it, rather than the Original Participating Shareholders, the majority owner of HoldCo's participating shares;[36] and (c) the purported redemption of HoldCo's interest in CDM in exchange for approximately $1.6 million on March 27, 2025.[37]

1. The LP/LLC Exchange

27. On December 12, 2024, CDM was incorporated as a limited liability company in Delaware. Mr. Patrick was the sole member of CDM.[38]

28. On December 18, 2024, without informing the Supporting Organizations or the Charities: (i) the Directors passed resolutions to transfer HoldCo's Fund Partnership Interest to CDM, in exchange for a contribution by CDM's sole member—Mr. Patrick—of 100% of the issued and outstanding membership interests in CDM;[39] and (ii) HoldCo, CDM, and the New GP entered into a Deed of Assignment and Assumption, executed by Mr. Patrick in three capacities: on behalf of: (x) HoldCo, as Director; (y) CDM, as manager; and (z) the New GP, as Director, pursuant to which: (a) HoldCo assigned its Fund Partnership Interest to CDM; (b) the New GP provided its written consent to the CDM Assignment and the admission of CDM as the new limited partner, in accordance with the Fund LPA; and (c) CDM agreed to exercise its reasonable best endeavors to ensure that the CDM Membership Interest would be transferred to HoldCo.[40]

29. The LP/LLC Exchange occurred in at least two stages: (a) first, HoldCo transferred its entire interest in the Fund to CDM; and (b) second, CDM procured the transfer of 100% of its share capital to HoldCo, making HoldCo the sole membership interest holder of CDM rather than the sole limited partner in the Fund. The effect of the LP/LLC Exchange was that: (a) CDM was inserted into the corporate structure as a subsidiary of HoldCo and became the holder of the entire interest in the Fund previously held by HoldCo;[41] and (b) HoldCo became the sole membership interest holder in CDM, resulting in its sole asset—formerly its 100% limited partnership interest in the Fund—being exchanged for the CDM Membership Interest.[42]

30. The LP/LLC Exchange prejudiced the interests of HoldCo. The CDM Membership Interest was less valuable than the Fund Partnership Interest because, among other reasons, whereas the New GP had owed fiduciary duties to HoldCo in the Fund, the manager, Mr. Patrick, did not owe any fiduciary duties to CDM; and, unlike the Fund Partnership Interest, the CDM Membership Interest was susceptible to being redeemed by Mr. Patrick (as Manager) in his sole discretion and for any reason, for "fair market value" as defined by Article 6.9, i.e., a "good faith determination of value."[43]

2. DFW Share Issuance

31. On December 9, 2024, DFW, a nonprofit non-stock corporation, was incorporated in Delaware exclusively for charitable purposes.[44]

32. On February 7, 2025, without informing the Supporting Organizations or the Charities, the Directors passed resolutions for HoldCo to issue 318 Participating Shares to DFW, which, upon issuance, would allot DFW 51.04% of the Participating Shares of HoldCo. That same day, also without notice to the Supporting Organizations or the Charities, HoldCo issued and allotted 318 Participating Shares to DFW, resulting in DFW holding a 51.04% interest in HoldCo and diluting the Original Participating Shareholders' aggregate shareholding from 100% to 48.96%.[45]

3. Redemption

33. Following the LP/LLC Exchange, ValueScope was instructed without informing the Supporting Organizations or the Charities to prepare two valuation analyses: (a) the CDM Membership Interest;[46] and (b) certain Participating Shares of HoldCo as of March 25, 2025.[47] Historically, between December 2020 and September 2024, ValueScope conducted a series of valuation analyses of 100 Participating Shares on a NAV basis at HoldCo's request to determine their FMV. The final NAV-based valuation prepared by ValueScope prior to the Relevant

Transactions was dated January 7, 2025, and gave a valuation of 100 Participating Shares as of September 30, 2024. ValueScope determined that, as of September 30, 2024, the NAV of the Fund was $269.05 million, NAV per share was $882,140, FMV per share was $759,614 and the FMV of 100 Participating shares was $75,961,370.[48]

34. The March 2025 ValueScope Valuation, however: (a) applied a DCF methodology to estimate the present value of expected future distributions, rather than the NAV based approach used in at least the prior five annual valuations by ValueScope; (b) determined the FMV of 100 Participating Shares to be $536,784; (c) applied a 99.2% DLOC; and (d) applied a 20.00% DLOM.[49] The DCF model relied on projected future distributions to HoldCo, with those projections based on historical distributions that were also controlled by Mr. Patrick.[50]

35. Accordingly, the FMV of 100 Participating Shares in HoldCo apparently declined from $75,961,370 on September 30, 2024, to $536,784 on March 25, 2025—a 99.29% reduction in less than six months, coinciding with the LP/LLC Exchange and attributable to the shift in valuation methodology from NAV to DCF.[51] Although the March 2025 ValueScope Valuation report identified "total equity" of approximately $269 million and concluded that all Participating Shares had a combined value of only approximately $1.6 million, the analysis did not address who benefited from the residual value of roughly $267.4 million.[52]

36. On March 27, 2025, without informing the Supporting Organizations or the Charities, HoldCo entered into the Letter Agreement with CDM, pursuant to which HoldCo assigned to CDM various contracts and agreements to which it was a party.[53] On the same day, Mr. Patrick executed, in his capacity as manager of CDM and president of DFW, the following, again without notice to the Supporting Organizations or the Charities: (i) an Admission and Amendment No. 1 Agreement between CDM and DFW, under which DFW was admitted as a member of CDM in exchange for a capital contribution of $1,637,192;[54] and (ii) a Redemption and Amendment No. 2 Agreement under which CDM redeemed HoldCo's CDM shares for the same sum of $1,637,192.[55]

37. Additionally, on March 27, 2025, Mr. Patrick, in his capacity as manager of CDM, executed the Manager Consent approving the Admission and Redemption.[56] The Manager Consent stated that the redemption of HoldCo's shares of CDM under the Letter Agreement was justified due to alleged attempts by the Supporting Organizations to exert control, and the potential loss of their nonprofit and tax-exempt status.[57]

38. On April 2, 2025, the Directors, by written resolution: (a) noted the redemption of HoldCo's shareholding in CDM for the Redemption Sum; and (b) resolved to make a shareholder distribution totaling $1,612,192.01.[58]

39. The substantive financial effect of the Redemption was that DFW paid the Redemption Sum to CDM, and HoldCo's shares in CDM were redeemed for that same amount—effectively transferring or selling HoldCo's interest in CDM to DFW for the Redemption Sum. As a result of the Redemption: (a) HoldCo realized its interest in the Fund, which had a NAV of approximately $269.1 million, for only around $1.6 million; (b) HoldCo purported to distribute that approximately $1.6 million to accounts in the name of the Participating Shareholders; (c) the Original Participating Shareholders, being the Supporting Organizations and CFNT were actually or effectively divested of their indirect interest—subject to the discretion of the person holding the Control Position—in the Fund and its underlying assets; and (d) the Original Participating Shareholders, being the Supporting Organizations and CFNT, whose economic interest in HoldCo had been diluted from 100% to 48.96% following the DFW Share Issuance, were entitled to their proportionate share of distributions in the amount of 48.96% of the Redemption Sum. As such, HoldCo had no assets at that time.

ii. The Remuneration Transactions

40. Following his appointment as director of HoldCo on March 25, 2021, Mr. Patrick resolved to dramatically increase his remuneration. Specifically (and among other things):

(a) Directors' fees increased from around $40,000 in 2022 to almost $600,000 in 2023.[59]

(b) On September 13, 2024, the Directors resolved to increase Mr. Patrick's salary to $850,000 per annum and approve an LTI of 7.5% of annualized net fund returns in excess of 10% (capped at 25% annualized return).[60]

(c) On or around October 1, 2024:

(i) The Directors resolved that Mr. Patrick was to receive an LTI payment of $975,000 and an annual discretionary bonus for 2023 at an amount of 2.5 times his base salary.[61]

(ii) Mr. Patrick signed an "employment agreement" for his position at HoldCo, effective as of March 24, 2021, which provided, among other things, for a base salary of $850,000 and an LTI payment of $4,759,000 for the period from March 24, 2021 to March 24, 2024.[62]

41. By way of contrast to the remuneration that Mr. Patrick resolved he should be awarded, his predecessor's salary (Grant Scott) during his tenure in the same position was approximately $60,000 per annum.[63]

42. As regards expenses, expenses overall for the first half of 2024 were around $18.3 million – almost the same amount spent over the entire course of 2023 (i.e., $18.6 million).[64]

E. Lack of Transparency and Misleading Disclosures Provided to Supporting Organizations

43. As more fully set forth in the Statement of Claim, prior to and during the time when the Directors were consummating the Relevant Transactions, the Directors persistently declined to disclose information regarding their actions and intentions notwithstanding the Supporting Organizations repeated requests.[65]

44. In November 2023, the Directors sought legal advice under Cayman law regarding the rights and duties of HoldCo's controlling person in connection with various matters including, diluting Participating Shares, redeeming Participating Shares, liquidating HoldCo to distribute its assets elsewhere or otherwise render the Participating Shares worthless, each in the context of potential future disputes with the Original Participating Shareholders.

45. In or around August 2024, the Supporting Organizations were provided with a financial analysis of the Fund's annual expenses, which showed—or appeared to show—a significant increase in expenditures, as described above, both with respect to Directors fees and overall expenses.[66]

[65] Ex. 59, Statement of Claim.

46. In late October 2024, as a result of concerns from this additional expenditure, the Supporting Organizations requested that Mr. Patrick provide relevant financial information for the HoldCo and the Fund. Mr. Patrick did not do so.

47. On November 11, 2024, H&K, U.S. attorneys for the Supporting Organizations, issued a letter to Mr. Murphy advising that the Supporting Organizations no longer had confidence in the governance of HoldCo and/or the Fund and considered that a reorganization of the governance structures was required to protect the charitable efforts of the Supporting Organizations.[67]

48. On November 26, 2024, Mr. Patrick sought and obtained advice regarding whether HoldCo could issue further Participating Shares to a new nonprofit organization to dilute the Supporting Organizations so as to weaken any winding-up petition brought by the Supporting Organizations on just and equitable grounds.[68] On November 27, 2024, Cayman Islands counsel responded to the Directors confirming that, if other shareholders were to oppose an equitable winding up, such opposition would be taken into consideration and would likely help.[69] Mr. Patrick incorporated DFW as a nonprofit, non-stock corporation in Delaware on December 9, 2024.[70]

49. On December 11, 2024, Mr. Murphy and HoldCo's Cayman counsel gave a presentation to attorneys from H&K on behalf of the Supporting Organizations providing various assurances regarding governance matters being addressed by the Directors.[71] The meeting was, by all accounts, positively regarded. The attorneys on behalf of the Supporting Organizations invited Mr. Murphy to make the same presentation directly to the Supporting Organizations.

50. Nonetheless, the very next day, Mr. Patrick incorporated CDM and, on December 18, 2024, the Directors consummated the LP/LLC Exchange, each without disclosing the same to the Supporting Organizations.[72]

51. On January 23, 2025, having received no follow-up to the December 11, 2024 meeting with Mr. Murphy, Julie Diaz, the CEO of The Dallas Foundation, sent Mr. Patrick an email advising that the Supporting Organizations needed to better understand HoldCo and the Fund's asset position, and requesting certain information be provided by February 10, 2025.[73]

52. Having received no response, on January 28, 2025, Ms. Diaz sent a further email to the Directors expressing serious concern: (i) that the Supporting Organization's requests for information continued to be disregarded; and (ii) about the ongoing lack of transparency on the party of the Directors.[74]

53. On January 30, 2025, Mr. Murphy replied to Ms. Diaz stating that the Directors: (i) had not received the January 23 email, but understood the next step was for the Directors to "present directly" to the Supporting Organizations to address the No-Confidence Letter; and (ii) are coopering with the Supporting Organizations to provide additional information – but "have no legal obligation to do so" and such cooperation "should not be construed as an implicit acknowledgement of any duty to continue providing information to you."[75]

54. On January 31, 2025, Mr. Michael Stockham of H&K responded to Mr. Murphy noting that he and Mr. Patrick were fiduciaries, managing $270 million in assets for the benefit of charities that support the most vulnerable (i.e., the Charities) and: "[w]hatever your side's obvious antagonism to Mr. Dondero, the fact remains that the underlying assets are ultimately for these charitable missions."[76]

55. On February 4, 2025, Mr. Murphy responded that while open to resolving the concerns, they (i.e., the Directors) were struggling to understand the Supporting Organization's change in position.[77]

56. On February 7, 2025, H&K responded that the Directors were fiduciaries in control of $270 million for the benefit of charities: "these monies are for improving the quality of life of children, building pathways for everyone to have a fair opportunity to succeed and … fostering a love for education. They are not meant to pay you and Mr. Patrick millions in director fees."[78]

57. On the same date, without informing the Supporting Organizations, the Directors consummated the purported DFW Share Issuance.[79]

58. On February 14, 2025, H&K received a letter from Mr. Mancino, a partner in Seyfarth, a U.S. law firm apparently engaged by the Fund, which rejected the accuracy of the reported increases in expenditure.[80] On February 27, 2025, H&K responded that his clients were frustrated by the lack of transparency and refusal to answer simple queries about the financial position.[81] In response, Seyfarth sought available dates for Mr. Murphy to make the promised presentation to the Supporting Organizations.[82] H&K responded the next day with three potential dates/times for the proposed call between March 26 and April 3, 2025. Mr. Mancino did not respond.[83]

59. On March 20, 2025, Mr. Mancino sent a letter purportedly on behalf of HoldCo to the IRS about Mr. Dondero's alleged influence and control over the Supporting Organizations.[84] The letter makes serious and unsubstantiated allegations about the Supporting Organizations, absent evidentiary support, including that they each (i.e., all of them): "operates for Mr. Dondero's private benefit when he uses his influence or control over them to cause them to use or attempt to use their influence as Participating Shareholders of [HoldCo] to wrest control of [HoldCo] and its assets. . ."[85]

60. Commencing on March 27, 2025, the Directors initiated steps to effectuate the Redemption, which they consummated on April 2, 2025, without informing the Supporting Organizations.[86] On that same day, the Directors resolved to place HoldCo into voluntary liquidation and appointed Mitchell Mansfield and William Clarke of Kroll (Cayman) Ltd as joint voluntary liquidators.[87]

61. Notwithstanding the consummation of the Redemption and the commencement of voluntary liquidation of HoldCo the day prior, on April 3, 2025, Mr. Mancino sent an email to H&K stating that he had just learned there was a call scheduled for the following day and seeking to reschedule.[88] H&K responded that no such call had been arranged and queried about the apparent source of confusion.[89]

F. The Cayman Proceeding

62. Unaware of the Directors resolution to place HoldCo into voluntary liquidation, on April 23, 2025, the Supporting Organizations presented a petition seeking the winding up of HoldCo on a just and equitable basis under section 92(e) of the Companies Act.[90] It was only after filing the J&E Petition that the Directors disclosed they had consummated the Relevant Transactions and commenced a voluntary liquidation of HoldCo on April 2, 2025.[91]

63. On May 2, 2025, the Supporting Organizations filed a petition seeking an order for the voluntary liquidation of HoldCo—now a debtor—to continue under the supervision of the Cayman Court pursuant to section 131 of the Companies Act.[92] Following a hearing and review of the Supervision Petition, supporting affidavits and affirmations with exhibits, and the documents filed in Cause No. FSD 116 of 2025 (JAJ)—including the J&E Petition and the affidavits of the JOLs confirming their consent to act—the Cayman Court issued the Supervision Order.[93] Pursuant to the Supervision Order, the voluntary liquidation of the Debtor was continued under the supervision of the Cayman Court, and the JOLs were appointed under section 131 of the Companies Act and Order 15, rule 8 of the Winding Up Rules.[94]

64. Also pursuant to the Supervision Order, the Petitioners were authorized to exercise the following powers, among others, under Part I of Schedule 3 to the Companies Act[95] without further Cayman Court sanction: (a) the power to commence legal proceedings in the name and on behalf of the Debtor to obtain information, documents, or the examination of individuals in the Cayman Islands or the United States; and (b) the power to apply in the Cayman Islands or the United States for the preservation, freezing, or attachment of assets to which the Debtor is or may arguably be entitled.[96] Moreover, the Petitioners were authorized to seek registration or recognition of themselves and/or the Cayman Proceeding in any U.S. state for any purpose related to the exercise of the above-described powers in the Supervision Order.[97]

i. Conduct of the Cayman Proceeding

65. The JOLs have diligently performed their duties in progressing the Cayman Proceeding from and after their appointment. The JOLs have taken steps to fulfil their statutory obligations: by filing notice of the winding up with the Cayman Islands Registrar of Companies; circulating notices of the winding up to known stakeholders, service providers of HoldCo, and known contributories of HoldCo; publishing their notice of appointment in the Cayman Islands Gazette and Cayman Compass Newspaper;[98] determining HoldCo should be treated as solvent for the purposes of Section 110(4) of the Companies Act, as well as Orders 8 & 9 of the Winding Up

Rules; determining the functional currency of the liquidation to be U.S. dollars pursuant to Order 16, Rule 13 of the Winding Up Rules; changing the registered office of HoldCo from Campbells Corporate Services Limited to HSM Corporate Services Ltd; publishing a Report to Contributories on July 2, 2025; and on July 3, 2025, convening the first meeting of contributories held on July 9, 2025.[99]

66. Moreover, to identify, secure and recover HoldCo's books and records, the JOLs have: (a) issued formal correspondence to over 50 parties, including, directors, shareholders, banks, service providers, the prior appointed joint voluntary liquidators, notifying them of the JOLs appointment and requesting books and records; (b) issued requests to hold an interview with the directors; and (c) held discussions with various parties to discuss the history and financial affairs of HoldCo.

67. The JOLs have engaged extensively with representatives of various interested parties in connection with, among other things, seeking and obtaining sanction of the Cayman Court to engage Cayman and U.S. counsel.[100] In addition, the JOLs, through counsel, have engaged with representatives of CDM, New GP, and CLO HoldCo in relation to a potential protocol intended to allay the JOLs' concerns regarding asset dissipation, transparency and asset management while the JOLs progress their investigation. The JOLs, however, do not believe the protocol proposed by CDM, the New GP, and CLO HoldCo would adequately protect HoldCo's position and, to date, the parties have been unable to reach terms of agreement with respect to any protocol.[101]

[101] Ex. 81, Various May & June 2025 Letters and Drafts of the Protocol.

68. Since the date of their appointment, the JOLs have conducted an extensive and detailed investigation into HoldCo's affairs, albeit that those investigations are not yet complete. This has involved a review of HoldCo's books and records (to the extent that they have been able to obtain them and to the extent that they are complete) and numerous inquiries and requests for information directed to persons previously involved with HoldCo. There have, however, been several limitations on the JOLs' investigations in connection with the information requests made from those persons previously involved in the HoldCo, including certain U.S.-based service providers who have asserted that they do not recognize the JOLs authority under the Supervision Order, where the JOLs have not been able to obtain copies of the requested information. Notwithstanding these limitations, the JOLs investigation has progressed sufficiently to enable them to identify significant areas of concern.

ii. Commencement of the Cayman Litigation

69. On July 4, 2025, the JOLs applied to the Cayman Court in the Cayman liquidation proceedings on an ex parte basis for sanction to commence litigation proceedings by way of filing the Statement of Claim[102] against the following defendants: (1) Mark Eric Patrick; (2) Paul Murphy; (3) CDM; (4) DFW; (5) CDH as general partner for and on behalf of the Fund, and in its capacity as New GP; and (6) CLO HoldCo.[103]

[102] Ex. 59, Statement of Claim; Ex. 85, Sanction to File Statement of Claim.

[103] In determining whether to commence the Cayman Litigation, the JOLs gave due regard to the Named Defendants' likely defenses with respect to the propriety of the Relevant Transactions and the Remuneration Transactions. At a high level, the JOLs understand that the Named Defendants will seek to justify the Relevant Transactions on three independent grounds: (1) on the basis that the Original Participating Shareholders did not have an economic interest in HoldCo, which was formed simply to act as a throughput for discretionary, charitable donations to qualifying recipients (which were not necessarily the Supporting Organizations, CFNT or the Charities), such that the Original Participating Shareholders did not lose any cognizable interest because of the Relevant Transactions; (2) the Relevant Transactions were necessary and appropriate to protect HoldCo and its Directors from attempts by Mr. Dondero and the Supporting Organizations to improperly exercise dominion and control over HoldCo's assets, which would (x) expose HoldCo (x) to breaches of US tax law and regulation and (y) claims from third parties that HoldCo and the Fund Entities were alter egos of Mr. Dondero in lawsuits against Mr. Dondero; and (3) on the basis that the Directors relied appropriately on third party valuation reports in effectuating the Redemption at FMV. The JOLs likewise

70. A further description of each of the Named Defendants is as follows:

(a) Mr. Mark Patrick. Mr. Patrick is a U.S. attorney and was employed as tax counsel by Highland Capital Management, L.P., an investment company founded by Mr. James Dondero, from 2008 – 2021 and as tax counsel by Highgate Consulting Group, Inc. d/b/a d/b/a Skyview Group from March 2021 to October 2024. He was instrumental in the creation of the Fund in 2011; in particular, he advised on the tax structure of using an offshore "blocker" company. Mr. Patrick is one of two directors of HoldCo, having been appointed as director on March 25, 2021. In that capacity, he was responsible for the supervision of the day-to-day operations of HoldCo. As director, Mr. Patrick owed, and continues to owe, fiduciary duties to HoldCo. Mr. Patrick was also: (i) the holder of all of the Management Shares in HoldCo; (ii) the manager of CDM; (iii) the sole member and sole director of DFW, which is now the sole member of CDM; (iv) the sole director and sole shareholder of CDH GP, Ltd, the New GP; and (v) a director of CLO HoldCo, the entity through which the Fund holds its assets.

(b) Mr. Paul Murphy. Mr. Murphy was the other director of HoldCo, having been appointed so on April 22, 2021. Mr. Murphy is also a director of CLO HoldCo.

(c) CDM. A limited liability company incorporated in Delaware on December 12, 2024, Mr. Patrick is the Manager of CDM. DFW has been the sole member of CDM since March 27, 2025.

(d) DFW. A nonprofit non-stock corporation incorporated in Delaware on December 9, 2024, by Mr. Douglas Mancino, a partner in Seyfarth, a U.S. law firm apparently engaged by the Fund. DFW is organized under the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware exclusively for charitable purposes. The JOLs understand that DFW is now the holder of the majority of the Participating Shares in HoldCo pursuant to the DFW Share issuance on February 7, 2025, and controlled by Mr. Patrick as its sole member.

(e) The New GP. A Cayman Islands exempted limited company incorporated on February 27, 2024. It replaced the Original GP as the Fund's current general partner on March 7, 2024, after Mr. Patrick sought advice from Walkers on forming a new entity to replace the Original GP. On February 5, 2024, Shields Legal asked Mr. Patrick whether that entity should be a Cayman LLC or exempted company, to which he responded: "Doesn't matter to me. Whatever from a strategic point of view – hard to find or track, or trace. Or find owners, etc. Generic name. Strong litigation protection." understand that Mr. Patrick intends to rely on a third party report to justify the Remuneration Transactions. On the basis of the investigation conducted by the JOLs to date, the JOLs do not find these defenses and justifications to be availing or credible.

(f) CLO HoldCo. A Cayman Islands exempted limited company. CLO HoldCo is the Fund's only direct subsidiary. The Fund held all of CLO HoldCo's issued shares.

71. HoldCo's claims pleaded in the Statement of Claim arise as a result of the breaches by the Directors of their fiduciary duties owed to HoldCo, having caused HoldCo to have dissipated its assets through a combination of: (a) the Relevant Transactions; and (b) the Remuneration Transactions, all of which were for the benefit of entities controlled by Mr. Patrick or for his benefit, personally.[104] In addition to asserting claims against the Directors for willful breaches of their fiduciary duties to HoldCo, the Statement of Claim asserts claims against: (i) the Named Defendants for unlawful means conspiracy based on the Named Defendants having conspired and combined together to injure HoldCo by unlawful means and HoldCo having suffered loss and damage as a result; (ii) CDM for knowing receipt of HoldCo's property, its partnership interest in the Fund, which had been misappropriated from HoldCo by virtue of the Directors breach of fiduciary duties; and (iii) CDM for unjust enrichment on the basis that it received HoldCo's interest in the Fund without there being a valid assignment or other justification for that receipt, such that it is liable to HoldCo in restitution.[105]

72. At the hearing of the sanction proceeding on July 14, 2025, to obtain an order granting the JOLs sanction to commence the Cayman Proceeding, the JOLs were required to satisfy the Cayman Court in the Cayman liquidation proceedings that: (a) the Cayman Litigation had a reasonable prospect of success; and (b) the interests of HoldCo's stakeholders were best served by the JOLs commencing the Cayman Litigation.[106] The Cayman Court granted sanction for the JOLs to commence the Cayman Litigation.[107]

[105] Ex. 59, Statement of Claim.

73. On July 15, 2025, the Debtor proceeded to file the Statement of Claim with the Cayman Court to commence the Cayman Litigation (which has the cause number FSD 201 of 2025 (RPJ)).[108] At the same time the JOLs filed an application for: (a) a proprietary injunction to prevent the Named Defendants from dealing with the assets of the Debtor that are held now held or controlled by the Named Defendant together with disclosure orders; and (b) leave to serve the U.S. based defendants with the Statement of Claim and Injunction Application.[109]

74. Additionally, on July 15, 2025, the Debtor: (1) emailed copies of the Statement of Claim and the Applications to the Cayman Islands attorneys for the Named Defendants and asked them to accept service; and (2) served copies of the Statement of Claim at the Cayman Islands registered addresses of CDH GP, Ltd. and CLO Holdco, Ltd. The Applications have been listed for hearing on July 31, 2025.

75. The Named Defendants are entitled to participate and be heard on that date. In the event the Named Defendants do not participate, the Cayman Court will hear the Injunction Application on an ex parte on notice basis and, if the Injunction is granted, will schedule an inter partes hearing for a later date.[110]

76. Should the Cayman Court grant the Injunctive Relief Application following the scheduled hearing on the Injunction Hearing date, and issue the Injunctive Relief Order, the JOLs expect to seek recognition and enforcement of the Injunctive Relief Order against the Named Defendants on a provisional basis pursuant to section 1519 of the Bankruptcy Code pending the recognition of the Cayman Proceeding, at which time the JOLs will also seek recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order in this Chapter 15 Case pursuant to sections 1507(a) and 1521(a) of the Bankruptcy Code.[111]

iii. Injunction Application

77. The Injunction Application seeks orders that:

(a) the Named Defendants will: (i) preserve and will not in any way dispose of, deal with, encumber, transfer or diminish the value of (as applicable) their or any interest of (of whatsoever nature) whether held directly or indirectly, in the Fund, the Fund Entities, and/or any assets of the Fund; and (ii) procure that the Fund Entities and their wholly owned subsidiaries will not in any way dispose of, deal with, encumber, transfer or diminish the value of any of their assets;

(b) the Named Defendants will preserve and will not in any way dispose of, deal with, encumber, transfer or diminish any assets in their possession or control, whether they are in or outside the Cayman Islands, which were, are or may be received (whether directly or indirectly): (i) by way of distribution, disposition, dividend, benefit, payment or other transfer from (as the case may be) HoldCo, the Fund, DFW, CDM, the New GP, the Fund Entities and/or their wholly owned subsidiaries; or (ii) from any assets of the Fund, the Fund Entities, and/or their wholly owned subsidiaries;

(c) the Named Defendants shall not do anything to cause, procure, incite, promote or assist a breach by any other Named Defendant of the above sections (a) and (b); and

(d) the Named Defendants shall make ancillary asset disclosures. [112]

78. The basis for the injunctive relief sought is that the Named Defendants each own and/or control assets that HoldCo has an equitable proprietary interest in (or at least a seriously arguable case that it does):

[111] Ex. 82, Injunction Application.

[112] Ex. 82, Injunction Application.

(a) Prior to the Relevant Transactions taking place, HoldCo held the Fund Partnership Interest, and thereby indirectly owned (99%) of all assets held by the Fund through its wholly owned subsidiary, CLO HoldCo (and its subsidiaries).[113]

(b) After the Relevant Transactions took place, and by reason of the Directors' breaches of fiduciary duty – (i) CDM now holds the Fund Partnership Interest, which continues to hold its assets through CLO HoldCo (and its subsidiaries); (ii) DFW is the sole member of CDM; (iii) Mark Patrick is the sole member of DFW; and (iv) Mark Patrick has full control over DFW, CDM, the New GP (and thus the Fund), and (together with Mr. Murphy) CLO HoldCo. Mr. Patrick therefore has the ability to control and/or deal with the Fund Partnership Interest and the Fund's assets, including any distributions of the Fund's assets received by CDM as its sole limited partner. Mr. Patrick now exercises this control free from the oversight previously exercised by the Supporting Organizations and CFNT through their holding of Participating Shares in HoldCo.[114]

79. Moreover, HoldCo has at least a seriously arguable case that CDM and DFW hold these assets through steps taken by the Directors that amounted to breaches of fiduciary duty, and therefore that these assets are subject to a constructive trust in favor of HoldCo, which is the necessary pre-requisite for the Cayman Court to grant a proprietary injunction restraining the disposition of that property. [115]

80. Under Cayman law, to obtain proprietary injunctive relief, the Debtor must show: (1) the existence of a serious issue to be tried as to whether it has a proprietary interest in the assets (such that the claim would be capable of surviving summary judgment); (2) that the balance of convenience is in favor of granting the injunction; and (3) that it is otherwise just and convenient to grant the injunction. Moreover, under Cayman law, a court may order defendants to disclose information if the Debtor demonstrates that it is just and convenient to do so.[116]

1. Serious issues to be tried

81. On July 14, 2025, the Cayman Court granted sanction for the JOLs to file the Statement of Claim and in doing so accepted that the merits of the JOLs' claims satisfied the relevant threshold for the sanction of commencement of claims by official liquidators.

82. The Directors and DFW have put forward explanations as to why the transfer of the Fund Partnership Interest to CDM was legally justifiable, which the JOLs do not believe stand up to scrutiny as explained above.[117]

2. Balance of convenience

83. The JOLs do not believe that the proprietary injunctions they seek would hinder the operation of the Fund or the Fund Entities in any material way.[118] The Fund and the Fund Entities are mostly passive investment vehicles that hold shares or interests in other Fund Entities, cash, debt instruments, receivables, vacant land and/or stock in publicly traded companies. They are not, as far as the JOLs understand, engaged in the active trading of assets or the making of new investments on a frequent basis.

84. Accordingly, the JOLs believe that there is no justification for any new investments or other transactions to be made by any of those entities, beyond payments needed to stay in good standing and comply with their statutory obligations.

[118] Ex. 82, Injunction Application.

85. Against that backdrop, the JOLs' position is that no dispositions of the assets of the Fund, the Fund Entities or any other subsidiaries above $10,000 need or should be made pending the determination of HoldCo's proprietary claim which, if successful, would see the Fund Partnership Interest returned to HoldCo and HoldCo would therefore wholly own (indirectly) all assets of the Fund, the Fund Entities and their wholly owned subsidiaries. Should any payments or dispositions be made by the Fund, the Fund Entities or any of their wholly owned subsidiaries that have the effect of harming the value of the Fund Partnership Interest, such payment or disposition would render the proprietary relief the JOLs are seeking much less effective.

86. Notwithstanding the above, the JOLs recognize that there may become a need for certain payments or other dispositions of assets to be made to preserve, maintain or improve the value of existing assets held by the Named Defendants, the Fund Entities and/or their wholly owned subsidiaries. Accordingly, the JOLs' proposed order to the Injunctive Relief Application provides for:

(a) The entity concerned to make a written request to the JOLs to make any such payments, together with full supporting information and documentation as well as an explanation of the rationale for the transaction; and

(b) The JOLs to decide within 7 days whether to approve or disapprove the proposed transaction.[119]

87. The JOLs also recognize that there will likely be a need for certain payments to be made by the Named Defendants, the Fund Entities or their wholly owned subsidiaries that are reasonably necessary in the ordinary course of business to keep the corporate Named Defendants, the Fund Entities or their wholly owned subsidiaries in good standing. The JOLs' proposed order to the Injunctive Relief Application allows for any such payments of $10,000 or less to be made.[120]

[119] Ex. 82, Injunction Application.

[120] Id.

88. The JOLs are also unaware of any harm that would be caused to CDM by preserving the status quo in respect of the Fund Partnership Interest. By comparison, if a proprietary injunction is not granted and CDM were to transfer the Fund Partnership Interest to another party or otherwise deal with that interest in some way, HoldCo could be significantly prejudiced. Specifically, HoldCo's proprietary claim to the Fund Partnership Interest could be undermined or become more difficult to enforce.

89. As to whether damages would be an adequate remedy for HoldCo in lieu of proprietary relief, as far as the JOLs' are aware, CDM has no other assets beyond the Fund Partnership Interest and therefore would likely be unable to meet any order for damages made against it. Only an order for CDM (and the other Named Defendants, to the extent they hold assets that derive from the Fund Partnership Interest) to restore HoldCo's property could return HoldCo to the position it would have been in had the improper transactions carried out by the Named Defendants not taken place. The JOLs' believe that the only way to ensure that such an order will be effective at the conclusion of these proceedings is for a proprietary injunction to be granted against the Named Defendants in respect of that property in the interim.

90. Further, as explained above, HoldCo, its Supporting Organizations, the Charities and the Fund are part of a carefully constructed investment structure for (i) the tax efficient treatment of charitable donations; and (ii) investments to be made for the ultimate benefit of the Charities and CFNT.[121] Without the re-transfer of the Fund Partnership Interest to HoldCo, those parties may be unable to achieve their charitable objectives as effectively or at all. An award of damages in lieu of proprietary relief would mean that HoldCo would hold only cash and no other assets or investments, and the Charities and Supporting Organizations would effectively be back to square one in terms of setting up a proper investment structure to carry out their investments and protect their tax-exempt status.

3. Disclosure of assets

91. The JOLs have only limited information as to what assets each of the Named Defendants, Fund Entities and their wholly owned subsidiaries hold. Even so, the JOLs have no way of verifying this information or knowing if it is completely up to date.

92. In circumstances where, in the JOLs' case, a misappropriation of the HoldCo's sole and valuable asset has already occurred, the JOLs believe protection is needed to prevent any further dissipation of assets from occurring in breach of any injunction that is granted. The JOLs believe that this protection can be afforded by way of disclosure orders in support of the injunction requiring the Named Defendants to disclose what assets they each hold and their approximate value. Having that information in hand will allow the JOLs (and the Cayman Court) to effectively police the injunction (in terms of preventing dissipation of Fund assets and thereby preserving the value of the Fund Partnership Interest).

93. In addition, the proposed order in support of the Injunctive Relief Application seeks confirmation as to:

(a) All of the entities owned directly or indirectly by the Fund, including full details as to their owners, directors, officers or other controllers, and places and details of incorporation. This will allow the JOLs to have a complete picture of the Fund structure.[122]

(b) All payments by way of salary, bonus, dividend, distribution or other compensation made to Mr. Patrick or Mr. Murphy by HoldCo, the Fund, DFW, CDM, the New GP, CLO HoldCo, or any of the Fund Entities or other entities revealed by (a) above since February 27, 2024.[123]

[122] Ex. 82, Injunction Application.

[123] Id.

(c) All payments to any attorney, lawyer, third party consultant, accountant, or external professional services advisor, whether a firm, partnership, company or individual, made by HoldCo, the Fund, DFW, CDM, the New GP, CLO HoldCo, or any of the Fund Entities or other entities revealed by (a) above since February 27, 2024.[124]

4. Cross undertaking in damages

94. The Debtor is not offering to provide a cross-undertaking as to damages in the Injunction Application. This is because in this case, the JOLs are not only acting in the Debtor's best interests, but also in a position analogous to the public interest based on the charitable or non-profit status of at least the underlying Charities, which are the intended recipients of donations made from the Debtor. No cross-undertaking in damages should be required in such circumstances.

G. The Texas Proceeding

95. On July 1, 2025, the Supporting Organizations commenced the TRO Action against defendants Mark Patrick, DFW, CDM, CDH, and the Original GP by filing Plaintiffs' Original Petition, Application for Temporary Restraining Order and Temporary Injunction, and Emergency Request for Appointment of Receiver in the Texas Business Court, 1st Division.[125] Among other things, the TRO Action seeks: (1) a temporary restraining order; (2) a temporary injunction; and (3) the appointment of a receiver against some of the TRO Defendants arising from various breaches of fiduciary duties and related claims alleged to be owed to the Supporting Organizations directly.[126]

96. On July 2, 2025, during the hearing for the TRO Action, in lieu of a decision rendered by the Texas Court, and at the direction of the Texas Court, the parties entered into a

[124] Id.

[125] Ex. 85, Supporting Organizations Texas Business Court TRO Petition.

[126] Id.

Rule 11 Agreement under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, which the JOLs understand is a binding contract among the parties.[127] The key points of the Rule 11 Agreement are: (a) that the TRO Defendants shall not make any payments or disbursements other than those in the ordinary course of business; (b) investments and monies must be kept in the existing entities that currently hold those investments and monies, provided that, if any investment is monetized on its own terms, then the entity may prudently reinvest the resulting cash proceeds into liquid securities; and (c) there shall be no changes to the corporate structure of ownership of the TRO Defendants.[128] The Texas Court scheduled a further hearing on the TRO Action on July 24 and 25, 2025.

97. Following the hearing on July 2, 2025, the parties to the TRO Action amended and modified the Rule 11 Agreement to: (a) provide the TRO Defendants the opportunity to challenge the Texas Court's jurisdiction pursuant to a briefing schedule concluding on July 24, 2025; (b) clarify the parties' discovery rights with respect to the TRO Action; and (c) evidence the restrictions imposed upon the activities of the TRO Defendants and their subsidiaries pursuant to the Rule 11 Agreement pending a decision by the Texas Court of the TRO Action and the Plea.[129] On July 14, 2025, the TRO Defendants filed a jurisdictional challenge, asserting that: (1) the Texas Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction to hear the TRO Action; and (2) the Supporting Organizations lack standing, suggesting that the JOLs, on behalf of HoldCo, are the appropriate parties to assert the claims alleged in the TRO Action.[130]

98. The JOLs support the Final Rule 11 Agreement in the near term in that it imposes restrictions on the covered entities regarding asset dissipation in the short term, pending the outcome of the Injunctive Relief Application filed by the JOLs in the Cayman Court and the recognition of relief as may be granted by the Cayman Court in this Chapter 15 Case.[131] The JOLs believe that the Cayman Court is the appropriate forum to adjudicate causes of action that belong to HoldCo as asserted in the Cayman Litigation.[132] The JOLs are also cognizant of the need for administrative efficiency in connection with the Cayman Proceeding and their duties to realize upon HoldCo's assets, and, accordingly, reserve rights with respect to coordination and management of the TRO Action, the Cayman Litigation and this Chapter 15 Case.

[127] Ex. 88, Proposed Order (Rule 11 Agreement).

H. This Chapter 15 Case

99. On the Petition Date and in my capacity as one of the JOLs of the Debtor, I, alongside Mr. Bhowmik, filed a petition under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code for recognition of the Cayman Proceeding, thereby commencing the Debtor's Chapter 15 Case.

100. Consistent with the purpose of official liquidation under Part V of the Companies Act, section 110(2), the Petitioners are also empowered to investigate: (a) the causes for the failure of HoldCo, as necessary, and (b) generally, the promotion, business, dealings and financial affairs of HoldCo.[133]

101. Section 97(1) of the Companies Act provides in relevant part that upon the entry of a winding up order against a company, no suit or other proceeding may be commenced or continued against the company except with leave of the Cayman Court and subject to such terms as the Cayman Court might impose.[134] This automatic stay mirrors the stay imposed in United [131] Ex. 89, Final Rule 11 Agreement.

[133] Ex. 78, Companies Act.

[134] Id.

States bankruptcy proceedings and serves to, inter alia, facilitate the Petitioners' ability to deal with claims and creditors collectively and comprehensively.

102. A general principle underlying the Companies Act and the Cayman Proceeding is that creditors are treated on a pari passu basis, subject to certain exceptions.[135]

103. Cayman liquidation proceedings are fair and equitable insofar as all creditors and interest holders have the opportunity to be heard by the Cayman Court and no creditors will be prejudiced on the sole basis that they are foreign based. All creditors are treated equally, regardless of where they are domiciled.

I. Qualifications for Recognition and Jurisdiction in the United States

104. On the Petition Date and in my capacity as one of the JOLs of the Debtor, I, alongside Mr. Bhowmik, filed a petition under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code for recognition of the Cayman Proceeding, thereby commencing the Debtor's Chapter 15 Cases.

105. I was authorized pursuant to the Supervision Order to act as one of the JOLs of the Cayman Proceeding and to seek recognition and approval of the Cayman Proceeding as necessary, including as "foreign main proceedings" under the Bankruptcy Code. In light of the statutory presumption embodied in section 1516(a) of the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Code's definition of "foreign representative," and the Supervision Order, I understand that I satisfy the requirements to serve as the "foreign representative" of the Cayman Proceeding.

106. I have been advised that, in order to qualify for recognition under chapter 15, the Verified Petition must meet certain requirements. In particular, it must be brought by a "foreign representative" of a "foreign proceeding" that is pending before a "foreign court," all as defined in the Bankruptcy Code.

[135] For example, see sections 140 and 141 of the Companies Act. Ex. 78, Companies Act.

107. I am aware of the definition of "foreign representative," as referred to in 11 U.S.C. § 101(24), and I believe that the JOLs qualify as such. The JOLs were appointed by the Cayman Court pursuant to the Companies Act to act as the JOLs of HoldCo. Among other things, the JOLs are authorized to exercise the following powers under Part I of Schedule 3 to the Companies Act without further Cayman Court sanction: (a) the power to commence legal proceedings in the name and on behalf of HoldCo to obtain information, documents, or the examination of individuals in the Cayman Islands or the United States; and (b) the power to apply in the Cayman Islands or the United States for the preservation, freezing, or attachment of assets to which HoldCo is or may arguably be entitled. Moreover, the JOLs are authorized to seek registration or recognition of themselves and/or the Official Liquidation in any U.S. state for any purpose related to the exercise of the powers described in the Supervision Order.[136] As such, the JOLs are the persons responsible for representing HoldCo in the Cayman Proceedings and in all related matters, including this matter, and are therefore "foreign representatives" of HoldCo within the meaning of section 101(24) of the Bankruptcy Code.[137]

108. I also have been advised that a "foreign court" is defined in section 1502 of the Bankruptcy Code as "a judicial or other authority competent to control or supervise a foreign proceeding." I respectfully submit that the Cayman Court qualifies as a foreign court for the purposes of section 1502.

109. I understand that a "foreign proceeding" is defined as "a collective judicial . . . proceeding in a foreign country . . . under a law relating to insolvency or the adjustment of debt in which proceeding the assets and affairs of the debtor are subject to control or supervision by a

[136] Id.

[137] Ex. 1, Supervision Order.

foreign court, for the purpose of reorganization or liquidation." 11 U.S.C. § 101(23). I respectfully submit that the Cayman Proceeding qualifies as such, since, by definition, it is a liquidation proceeding pursuant to and governed by the Companies Act under the collective judicial supervision of the Cayman Court for the benefit of all of HoldCo's creditors, and parties in interest.[138]

110. I am also aware that section 1517(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a foreign proceeding shall be recognized as a "foreign main proceeding" if the foreign proceeding is "pending in the country where the debtor has the center of its main interests". I understand that section 1516(c) of the Bankruptcy Code provides that a debtor's "registered office" is presumed to be the debtor's COMI in the absence of evidence to the contrary. Since HoldCo was formed under the laws of the Cayman Islands and maintains its registered office there,[139] I believe that there is no basis for rebutting this statutory presumption that is afforded. In any case, the facts clearly indicate that HoldCo's COMI is the Cayman Islands. As demonstrated by the facts included herein, I further believe that HoldCo is engaged in non-transitory economic activity in the Cayman Islands.

111. As JOLs, we have displaced the prior board of directors of HoldCo. No action with respect to HoldCo, whether transactional-related or litigation-related, may be taken without the express approval and consent of myself and Mr. Bhowmik. All of HoldCo's known assets and interests are under the sole and exclusive control of the JOLs from the Cayman Islands. Consistent with the Companies Act, the Winding Up Rules and the Supervision Order, Mr. Bhowmik and I have engaged in numerous activities to further HoldCo's liquidation.[140]

112. Since our appointment by the Cayman Court, we have worked from our offices at Grant Thornton in the Cayman Islands, from which all decisions are made, and have: (i) retained Cayman Islands and U.S. legal counsel from our Cayman Islands offices and under Cayman Islands law; (ii) obtained certain books and records of HoldCo in the Cayman Islands; (iii) regularly communicated with creditors and shareholders from the Cayman Islands; and (iv) commenced investigations into the affairs of HoldCo and its subsidiaries, including taking steps to identify and seek discovery from potential parties in interest both within and outside the Cayman Islands. All relevant inquiries from creditors and other parties-in-interest are now directed to the JOLs.

113. I have reviewed documentation issued by and to HoldCo prior to the Cayman Proceeding, including the Amended and Restated Memorandum and Articles of Association of HoldCo dated February 20, 2025, the Fund LPA, books and records of HoldCo, and various shareholder and directors resolutions of HoldCo. In all such documentation which I have reviewed, HoldCo is referred to and addressed as a Cayman Islands company. Thus, all parties-in-interest were aware that HoldCo was a Cayman Islands company. No creditor or stakeholder objected to the liquidation in the Cayman Islands and all major stakeholders are actively participating in the Cayman Proceeding. All creditors of HoldCo must submit their claims in the Cayman Proceeding, and stakeholders have the right to access the Cayman Court and appeal decisions of the JOLs.

114. Based upon the above, I am confident that HoldCo's "nerve center" has been established in the Cayman Islands with the JOLs. I also believe that all relevant creditors, [140] Ex. 1, Supervision Order; Ex. 78, Companies Act; Ex. 79, Winding Up Rules.

stakeholders, and shareholders regard HoldCo to be a Cayman Islands company and the Cayman Islands to be HoldCo's current "nerve center." I further believe it is clear that since the commencement of the Cayman Proceeding, HoldCo has been engaged in non-transitory economic activity in the Cayman Islands.

115. In accordance with 11 U.S.C. § 1515(c), I am aware of no other pending foreign insolvency proceedings, except the Cayman Proceeding, in which HoldCo is the subject of the proceeding.

116. In accordance with Rule 1007-1(a)(4) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the "Bankruptcy Rules"), a schedule of known and pending actions in the United States in which HoldCo is named as a party is attached to the Form 401 Petition, together with the disclosures required under Bankruptcy Rule 7007.1, the JOLs are authorized under Cayman Islands law, subject to sanction of the Cayman Court, to act on behalf of HoldCo in staying, defending against, or prosecuting these actions, as applicable.

J. Need for Broad Discovery Rights

117. I am aware that this Court can afford the JOLs broad discovery rights pursuant to sections 542(e), 1521(a)(4), and 1521(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code.

118. I am of the belief that the JOLs must be afforded broad discovery rights in the United States to facilitate their investigations, particularly with respect to the Fund. First, this requires access to all documents relating to the Debtor's property or financial affairs, necessitating the need for section 542(e) relief. Second, the Petitioners must be able to broadly issue Rule 2004 examinations, as well as to be afforded all discovery rights under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedures, as incorporated by the Bankruptcy Rules. Only by affording the Petitioners the necessary tools to complete their investigations will the JOLs be able to maximize distributions such that creditors and interested parties are sufficiently protected.

K. Need for Recognition of the Injunctive Relief Order

119. I am aware that this Court can recognize the Injunctive Relief Order under section 1507(b) after considering certain equitable and practical considerations. These include: (i) just treatment of all holders of claims against or interests in HoldCo's property; (ii) protection of claim holders in the United States against prejudice and inconvenience in the processing of claims the Cayman Proceeding; (iii) prevention of preferential or fraudulent dispositions of property of HoldCo; (iv) distribution of proceeds of HoldCo's property substantially in accordance with the order prescribed under U.S. Bankruptcy law; and (v) if appropriate, the provision of an opportunity for a fresh start for HoldCo pursuant to the Cayman Proceeding.

120. I am of the belief that the Injunctive Relief Order should be recognized by this Court under section 1507(b). First, the relief promotes fair and equitable treatment of all creditors by preserving the value of HoldCo's estate for the benefit of all stakeholders, rather than potentially allowing the Named Defendants to obtain an unfair advantage through the dissipation or diversion of assets. Second, recognition ensures that U.S.-based creditors are not exposed to procedural disadvantage in the Cayman Proceeding, as the Injunctive Relief Order operates neutrally to safeguard HoldCo's property pending full adjudication of the claims, rather than favoring any specific jurisdiction or creditor group.[141] Third, the Injunctive Relief Order directly addresses and prevents improper transfers or dissipation of HoldCo's assets, which is essential to maintaining the status quo during the JOLs' ongoing investigation and the Cayman Litigation.[142] Finally, I have been advised that the relief sought supports a distribution framework that is aligned, in substance, with U.S. bankruptcy priorities by ensuring assets are preserved for collective resolution and eventual equitable distribution.

[141] Ex. 82, Injunction Application.

[142] Id.

121. Additionally, I have been advised that the Injunctive Relief Order can be recognized by this Court under section 1521(a)(7) of the Bankruptcy Code if such relief is otherwise available to a trustee in bankruptcy. The Cayman Court has already determined that: (a) the Cayman Litigation had a reasonable prospect of success; and (b) that the interests of the Debtor's stakeholders were best served by the JOLs commencing the Cayman Litigation.[143] Further, the Named Defendants have been afforded due process and given notice of the Injunctive Relief Application and the Injunction Hearing Date and will have the opportunity to appear at the hearing and respond to the Injunctive Relief Application before relief is granted by the Cayman Court.[144] Therefore, to the extent the Injuncitve Relief Order is entered in the Cayman Islands, I am of the belief it should be recognized by this Court in the interests of comity.

122. For all of these reasons, I respectfully request that this Court enter an Order: (a) recognizing my colleague, Sandipan Bhowmik, and myself as duly authorized foreign representatives of HoldCo and the Cayman Proceeding as a foreign main proceeding, or in the alternative as a "foreign non main proceeding", under chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code; (b) granting relief pursuant to sections 105(a), 1502, 1507, 1510, 1520 and 1521 of the Bankruptcy Code; and (c) granting such other and further relief as this Court may deem just and proper.

Whenever the capital of the Company is divided into different Classes the rights attached to any such Class may, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any Class, only be materially adversely varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued Shares of the relevant Class, or with the sanction of a resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Shares of such Class by a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast at such a meeting. To every such separate meeting all the provisions of these Articles relating to general meetings of the Company or to the proceedings thereat shall, mutatis mutandis, apply, except that the necessary quorum shall be one or more Persons at least holding or representing by proxy one-third in nominal or par value amount of the issued Shares of the relevant Class (but so that if at any adjourned meeting of such holders a quorum as above defined is not present, those Shareholders who are present shall form a quorum) and that, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Shares of that Class, every Shareholder of the Class shall on a poll have one vote for each Share of the Class held by him. For the purposes of this Article the Directors may treat all the Classes or any two or more Classes as forming one Class if they consider that all such Classes would be affected in the same way by the proposals under consideration, but in any other case shall treat them as separate Classes.

13. PRELIMINARY

4. The business of the Company may be commenced at any time after incorporation.

5. The Office shall be at such address in the Cayman Islands as the Directors may from time to time determine. The Company may in addition establish and maintain such other offices and places of business and agencies in such places as the Directors may from time to time determine.

6. The expenses incurred in the formation of the Company and in connection with the offer for subscription and issue of Shares shall be paid by the Company. Such expenses may be amortised over such period as the Directors may determine and the amount so paid shall be charged against income and/or capital in the accounts of the Company as the Directors shall determine.

7. The Directors shall keep, or cause to be kept, the Register at such place or (subject to compliance with the Law and these Articles) places as the Directors may from time to time determine. In the absence of any such determination, the Register shall be kept at the Office. The Directors may keep, or cause to be kept, one or more Branch Registers as well as the Principal Register in accordance with the Law, provided always that a duplicate of such Branch Register(s) shall be maintained with the Principal Register in accordance with the Law.

SHARES

8. Subject to these Articles, all Shares for the time being unissued shall be under the control of the Directors who may:

   (a) issue, allot and dispose of the same to such Persons, in such manner, on such terms and having such rights and being subject to such restrictions as they may from time to time determine; and

   (b) grant options with respect to such Shares and issue warrants or similar instruments with respect thereto;

   and, for such purposes, the Directors may reserve an appropriate number of Shares for the time being unissued.

9. The Directors, or the Shareholders by Ordinary Resolution, may authorise the division of Shares into any number of Classes and the different Classes shall be authorised, established and designated (or re-designated as the case may be) and the variations in the relative rights (including, without limitation, voting, dividend and redemption rights), restrictions, preferences, privileges and payment obligations as between the different Classes (if any) may be fixed and determined by the Directors or the Shareholders by Ordinary Resolution.

10. The Company may insofar as may be permitted by law, pay a commission to any Person in consideration of his subscribing or agreeing to subscribe whether absolutely or conditionally for any Shares. Such commissions may be satisfied by the payment of cash or the lodgement of fully or partly paid-up Shares or partly in one way and partly in the other. The Company may also pay such brokerage as may be lawful on any issue of Shares.

11. The Directors may refuse to accept any application for Shares, and may accept any application in whole or in part, for any reason or for no reason.

MODIFICATION OF RIGHTS

12. Whenever the capital of the Company is divided into different Classes the rights attached to any such Class may, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any Class, only be materially adversely varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued Shares of the relevant Class, or with the sanction of a resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Shares of such Class by a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast at such a meeting. To every such separate meeting all the provisions of these Articles relating to general meetings of the Company or to the proceedings thereat shall, mutatis mutandis, apply, except that the necessary quorum shall be one or more Persons at least holding or representing by proxy one-third in nominal or par value amount of the issued Shares of the relevant Class (but so that if at any adjourned meeting of such holders a quorum as above defined is not present, those Shareholders who are present shall form a quorum) and that, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Shares of that Class, every Shareholder of the Class shall on a poll have one vote for each Share of the Class held by him. For the purposes of this Article the Directors may treat all the Classes or any two or more Classes as forming one Class if they consider that all such Classes would be affected in the same way by the proposals under consideration, but in any other case shall treat them as separate Classes.

13. The rights conferred upon the holders of the Shares of any Class issued with preferred or other rights shall not, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Shares of that Class, be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them or the redemption or purchase of any Shares of any Class by the Company.

CERTIFICATES

14. No Person shall be entitled to a certificate for any or all of his Shares, unless the Directors shall determine otherwise.

FRACTIONAL SHARES

15. The Directors may issue fractions of a Share and, if so issued, a fraction of a Share shall be subject to and carry the corresponding fraction of liabilities (whether with respect to nominal or par value, premium, contributions, calls or otherwise), limitations, preferences, privileges, qualifications, restrictions, rights (including, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, voting and participation rights) and other attributes of a whole Share. If more than one fraction of a Share of the same Class is issued to or acquired by the same Shareholder such fractions shall be accumulated.

LIEN

16. The Company has a first and paramount lien on every Share (whether or not fully paid) for all amounts (whether presently payable or not) payable at a fixed time or called in respect of that Share. The Company also has a first and paramount lien on every Share (whether or not fully paid) registered in the name of a Person indebted or under liability to the Company (whether he is the sole registered holder of a Share or one of two or more joint holders) for all amounts owing by him or his estate to the Company (whether or not presently payable). The Directors may at any time declare a Share to be wholly or in part exempt from the provisions of this Article. The Company's lien on a Share extends to any amount payable in respect of it.

17. The Company may sell, in such manner as the Directors in their absolute discretion think fit, any Share on which the Company has a lien, but no sale shall be made unless an amount in respect of which the lien exists is presently payable nor until the expiration of fourteen days after a notice in writing, demanding payment of such part of the amount in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable, has been given to the registered holder for the time being of the Share, or the Persons entitled thereto by reason of his death or bankruptcy.

18. For giving effect to any such sale the Directors may authorise some Person to transfer the Shares sold to the purchaser thereof. The purchaser shall be registered as the holder of the Shares comprised in any such transfer and he shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money, nor shall his title to the Shares be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the proceedings in reference to the sale.

19. The proceeds of the sale after deduction of expenses, fees and commission incurred by the Company shall be received by the Company and applied in payment of such part of the amount in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable, and the residue shall (subject to a like lien for sums not presently payable as existed upon the Shares prior to the sale) be paid to the Person entitled to the Shares immediately prior to the sale.

CALLS ON SHARES

20. The Directors may from time to time make calls upon the Shareholders in respect of any moneys unpaid on their Shares, and each Shareholder shall (subject to receiving at least fourteen days' notice specifying the time or times of payment) pay to the Company at the time or times so specified the amount called on such Shares.

21. The joint holders of a Share shall be jointly and severally liable to pay calls in respect thereof.

22. If a sum called in respect of a Share is not paid before or on the day appointed for payment thereof, the Person from whom the sum is due shall pay interest upon the sum at the rate of eight percent per annum from the day appointed for the payment thereof to the time of the actual payment, but the Directors shall be at liberty to waive payment of that interest wholly or in part.

23. The provisions of these Articles as to the liability of joint holders and as to payment of interest shall apply in the case of non-payment of any sum which, by the terms of issue of a Share, becomes payable at a fixed time, whether on account of the amount of the Share, or by way of premium, as if the same had become payable by virtue of a call duly made and notified.

24. The Directors may make arrangements on the issue of partly paid Shares for a difference between the Shareholders, or the particular Shares, in the amount of calls to be paid and in the times of payment.

25. The Directors may, if they think fit, receive from any Shareholder willing to advance the same all or any part of the moneys uncalled and unpaid upon any partly paid Shares held by him, and upon all or any of the moneys so advanced may (until the same would, but for such advance, become presently payable) pay interest at such rate (not exceeding without the sanction of an Ordinary Resolution, eight percent per annum) as may be agreed upon between the Shareholder paying the sum in advance and the Directors.

FORFEITURE OF SHARES

26. If a Shareholder fails to pay any call or instalment of a call in respect of any Shares on the day appointed for payment, the Directors may, at any time thereafter during such time as any part of such call or instalment remains unpaid, serve a notice on him requiring payment of so much of the call or instalment as is unpaid, together with any interest which may have accrued.

27. The notice shall name a further day (not earlier than the expiration of fourteen days from the date of the notice) on or before which the payment required by the notice is to be made, and shall state that in the event of non-payment at or before the time appointed the Shares in respect of which the call was made will be liable to be forfeited.

28. If the requirements of any such notice as aforesaid are not complied with, any Share in respect of which the notice has been given may at any time thereafter, before the payment required by notice has been made, be forfeited by a resolution of the Directors to that effect.

29. A forfeited Share may be sold or otherwise disposed of on such terms and in such manner as the Directors think fit, and at any time before a sale or disposition the forfeiture may be cancelled on such terms as the Directors think fit.

30. A Person whose Shares have been forfeited shall cease to be a Shareholder in respect of the forfeited Shares, but shall, notwithstanding, remain liable to pay to the Company all moneys which at the date of forfeiture were payable by him to the Company in respect of the Shares forfeited, but his liability shall cease if and when the Company receives payment in full of the amount unpaid on the Shares forfeited.

31. A statutory declaration in writing that the declarant is a Director, and that a Share has been duly forfeited on a date stated in the declaration, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts in the declaration as against all Persons claiming to be entitled to the Share.

32. The Company may receive the consideration, if any, given for a Share on any sale or disposition thereof pursuant to the provisions of these Articles as to forfeiture and may execute a transfer of the Share in favour of the Person to whom the Share is sold or disposed of and that Person shall be registered as the holder of the Share, and shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money, if any, nor shall his title to the Shares be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the proceedings in reference to the disposition or sale.

33. The provisions of these Articles as to forfeiture shall apply in the case of non-payment of any sum which by the terms of issue of a Share becomes due and payable, whether on account of the amount of the Share, or by way of premium, as if the same had been payable by virtue of a call duly made and notified.

TRANSFER OF SHARES

34. The instrument of transfer of any Share shall be in any usual or common form or such other form as the Directors may, in their absolute discretion, approve and be executed by or on behalf of the transferor and if in respect of a nil or partly paid up Share, or if so required by the Directors, shall also be executed on behalf of the transferee and shall be accompanied by the certificate (if any) of the Shares to which it relates and such other evidence as the Directors may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer. The transferor shall be deemed to remain a Shareholder until the name of the transferee is entered in the Register in respect of the relevant Shares.

35. The Directors may in their absolute discretion decline to register any transfer of Shares without assigning any reason therefor.

36. The registration of transfers may be suspended at such times and for such periods as the Directors may from time to time determine.

37. All instruments of transfer that are registered shall be retained by the Company, but any instrument of transfer that the Directors decline to register shall (except in any case of fraud) be returned to the Person depositing the same.

TRANSMISSION OF SHARES

38. The legal personal representative of a deceased sole holder of a Share shall be the only Person recognised by the Company as having any title to the Share. In the case of a Share registered in the name of two or more holders, the survivors or survivor, or the legal personal representatives of the deceased holder of the Share, shall be the only Person recognised by the Company as having any title to the Share.

39. Any Person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy of a Shareholder shall upon such evidence being produced as may from time to time be required by the Directors, have the right either to be registered as a Shareholder in respect of the Share or, instead of being registered himself, to make such transfer of the Share as the deceased or bankrupt Person could have made; but the Directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline or suspend registration as they would have had in the case of a transfer of the Share by the deceased or bankrupt Person before the death or bankruptcy.

40. A Person becoming entitled to a Share by reason of the death or bankruptcy of a Shareholder shall be entitled to the same dividends and other advantages to which he would be entitled if he were the registered Shareholder, except that he shall not, before being registered as a Shareholder in respect of the Share, be entitled in respect of it to exercise any right conferred by membership in relation to meetings of the Company.

ALTERATION OF SHARE CAPITAL

41. The Company may from time to time by Ordinary Resolution increase the share capital by such sum, to be divided into Shares of such Classes and amount, as the resolution shall prescribe.

42. The Company may by Ordinary Resolution:

(a) consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into Shares of a larger amount than its existing Shares;

(b) convert all or any of its paid up Shares into stock and reconvert that stock into paid up Shares of any denomination;

(c) subdivide its existing Shares, or any of them into Shares of a smaller amount provided that in the subdivision the proportion between the amount paid and the amount, if any, unpaid on each reduced Share shall be the same as it was in case of the Share from which the reduced Share is derived; and

(d) cancel any Shares that, at the date of the passing of the resolution, have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any Person and diminish the amount of its share capital by the amount of the Shares so cancelled.

43. The Company may by Special Resolution reduce its share capital and any capital redemption reserve in any manner authorised by law.

REDEMPTION, PURCHASE AND SURRENDER OF SHARES

44. Subject to the Law, the Company may:

(a) issue Shares on terms that they are to be redeemed or are liable to be redeemed at the option of the Company or the Shareholder on such terms and in such manner as the Directors may determine;

(b) purchase its own Shares (including any redeemable Shares) on such terms and in such manner as the Directors may determine and agree with the Shareholder;

(c) make a payment in respect of the redemption or purchase of its own Shares in any manner authorised by the Law; and

(d) accept the surrender for no consideration of any paid up Share (including any redeemable Share) on such terms and in such manner as the Directors may determine.

45. Any Share in respect of which notice of redemption has been given shall not be entitled to participate in the profits of the Company in respect of the period after the date specified as the date of redemption in the notice of redemption.

46. The redemption, purchase or surrender of any Share shall not be deemed to give rise to the redemption, purchase or surrender of any other Share.

47. The Directors may when making payments in respect of redemption or purchase of Shares, if authorised by the terms of issue of the Shares being redeemed or purchased or with the agreement of the holder of such Shares, make such payment either in cash or in specie.

TREASURY SHARES

48. Shares that the Company purchases, redeems or acquires (by way of surrender or otherwise) may, at the option of the Company, be cancelled immediately or held as Treasury Shares in accordance with the Law. In the event that the Directors do not specify that the relevant Shares are to be held as Treasury Shares, such Shares shall be cancelled.

49. No dividend may be declared or paid, and no other distribution (whether in cash or otherwise) of the Company's assets (including any distribution of assets to members on a winding up) may be declared or paid in respect of a Treasury Share.

50. The Company shall be entered in the Register as the holder of the Treasury Shares provided that:

(a) the Company shall not be treated as a member for any purpose and shall not exercise any right in respect of the Treasury Shares, and any purported exercise of such a right shall be void;

(b) a Treasury Share shall not be voted, directly or indirectly, at any meeting of the Company and shall not be counted in determining the total number of issued shares at any given time, whether for the purposes of these Articles or the Law, save that an allotment of Shares as fully paid bonus shares in respect of a Treasury Share is permitted and Shares allotted as fully paid bonus shares in respect of a treasury share shall be treated as Treasury Shares.

51. Treasury Shares may be disposed of by the Company on such terms and conditions as determined by the Directors.

GENERAL MEETINGS

52. The Directors may, whenever they think fit, convene a general meeting of the Company.

53. The Directors may cancel or postpone any duly convened general meeting at any time prior to such meeting, except for general meetings requisitioned by the Shareholders in accordance with these Articles, for any reason or for no reason at any time prior to the time for holding such meeting or, if the meeting is adjourned, the time for holding such adjourned meeting. The Directors shall give Shareholders notice in writing of any postponement, which postponement may be for a stated period of any length or indefinitely as the Directors may determine.

54. General meetings shall also be convened on the requisition in writing of any Shareholder or Shareholders entitled to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company holding at least ten percent of the paid up voting share capital of the Company deposited at the Office specifying the objects of the meeting for a date no later than 21 days from the date of deposit of the requisition signed by the requisitionists, and if the Directors do not convene such meeting for a date not later than 45 days after the date of such deposit, the requisitionists themselves may convene the general meeting in the same manner, as nearly as possible, as that in which general meetings may be convened by the Directors, and all reasonable expenses incurred by the requisitionists as a result of the failure of the Directors to convene the general meeting shall be reimbursed to them by the Company.

55. If at any time there are no Directors, any two Shareholders (or if there is only one Shareholder then that Shareholder) entitled to vote at general meetings of the Company may convene a general meeting in the same manner as nearly as possible as that in which general meetings may be convened by the Directors.

NOTICE OF GENERAL MEETINGS

56. At least seven clear days' notice in writing counting from the date service is deemed to take place as provided in these Articles specifying the place, the day and the hour of the meeting and, in case of special business, the general nature of that business, shall be given in the manner hereinafter provided or in such other manner (if any) as may be prescribed by the Company by Ordinary Resolution to such Persons as are, under these Articles, entitled to receive such notices from the Company, but with the consent of all the Shareholders entitled to receive notice of some particular meeting and attend and vote thereat, that meeting may be convened by such shorter notice or without notice and in such manner as those Shareholders may think fit.

57. The accidental omission to give notice of a meeting to or the non-receipt of a notice of a meeting by any Shareholder shall not invalidate the proceedings at any meeting.

PROCEEDINGS AT GENERAL MEETINGS

58. All business carried out at a general meeting shall be deemed special with the exception of sanctioning a dividend, the consideration of the accounts, balance sheets, any report of the Directors or of the Company's auditors, and the fixing of the remuneration of the Company's auditors. No special business shall be transacted at any general meeting without the consent of all Shareholders entitled to receive notice of that meeting unless notice of such special business has been given in the notice convening that meeting.

59. No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum of Shareholders is present at the time when the meeting proceeds to business. Save as otherwise provided by these Articles, one or more Shareholders holding at least a majority of the paid up voting share capital of the Company present in person or by proxy and entitled to vote at that meeting shall form a quorum.

60. If within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting a quorum is not present, the meeting, if convened upon the requisition of Shareholders, shall be dissolved. 112. The continuing Directors may act notwithstanding any vacancy in their body but if and for so long as their number is reduced below the number fixed by or pursuant to these Articles as the necessary quorum of Directors, the continuing Directors may act for the purpose of increasing the number, or of summoning a general meeting of the Company, but for no other purpose.

113. The Directors may elect a chairman of their meetings and determine the period for which he is to hold office but if no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the Directors present may choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.

114. Subject to any regulations imposed on it by the Directors, a committee appointed by the Directors may elect a chairman of its meetings. If no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the committee members present may choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.

115. A committee appointed by the Directors may meet and adjourn as it thinks proper. Subject to any regulations imposed on it by the Directors, questions arising at any meeting shall be determined by a majority of votes of the committee members present and in case of an equality of votes the chairman shall have a second or casting vote.

116. All acts done by any meeting of the Directors or of a committee of Directors, or by any Person acting as a Director, shall notwithstanding that it be afterwards discovered that there was some defect in the appointment of any such Director or Person acting as aforesaid, or that they or any of them were disqualified, be as valid as if every such Person had been duly appointed and was qualified to be a Director.

If paid by cheque it will be sent through the post to the registered address of the Shareholder or Person entitled thereto, or in the case of joint holders, to any one of such joint holders at his registered address or to such Person and such address as the Shareholder or Person entitled, or such joint holders as the case may be, may direct. Every such cheque shall be made payable to the order of the Person to whom it is sent or to the order of such other Person as the Shareholder or Person entitled, or such joint holders as the case may be, may direct.

121. The Directors when paying dividends to the Shareholders in accordance with the foregoing provisions of these Articles may make such payment either in cash or in specie.

122. Subject to any rights and restrictions for the time being attached to any Shares, all dividends shall be declared and paid according to the amounts paid up on the Shares, but if and for so long as nothing is paid up on any of the Shares dividends may be declared and paid according to the par value of the Shares.

For the purpose of determining those Shareholders that are entitled to receive notice of, attend or vote at any meeting of Shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or those Shareholders that are entitled to receive payment of any dividend, or in order to make a determination as to who is a Shareholder for any other purpose, the Directors may provide that the Register shall be closed for transfers for a stated period which shall not exceed in any case 40 days. If the Register shall be so closed for the purpose of determining those Shareholders that are entitled to receive notice of, attend or vote at a meeting of Shareholders the Register shall be so closed for at least ten days immediately preceding such meeting and the record date for such determination shall be the date of the closure of the Register.

145. In lieu of or apart from closing the Register, the Directors may fix in advance a date as the record date for any such determination of those Shareholders that are entitled to receive notice of, attend or vote at a meeting of the Shareholders and for the purpose of determining those Shareholders that are entitled to receive payment of any dividend the Directors may, at or within 90 days prior to the date of declaration of such dividend, fix a subsequent date as the record date for such determination.

146. If the Register is not so closed and no record date is fixed for the determination of those Shareholders entitled to receive notice of, attend or vote at a meeting of Shareholders or those Shareholders that are entitled to receive payment of a dividend, the date on which notice of the meeting is posted or the date on which the resolution of the Directors declaring such dividend is adopted, as the case may be, shall be the record date for such determination of Shareholders. When a determination of those Shareholders that are entitled to receive notice of, attend or vote at a meeting of Shareholders has been made as provided in this Article, such determination shall apply to any adjournment thereof.

REGISTRATION BY WAY OF CONTINUATION

147. The Company may by Special Resolution resolve to be registered by way of continuation in a jurisdiction outside the Cayman Islands or such other jurisdiction in which it is for the time being incorporated, registered or existing. In furtherance of a resolution adopted pursuant to this Article, the Directors may cause an application to be made to the Registrar of Companies to deregister the Company in the Cayman Islands or such other jurisdiction in which it is for the time being incorporated, registered or existing and may cause all such further steps as they consider appropriate to be taken to effect the transfer by way of continuation of the Company.

PRELIMINARY

4. The business of the Company may be commenced at any time after incorporation.

5. The Office shall be at such address in the Cayman Islands as the Directors may from time to time determine. The Company may in addition establish and maintain such other offices and places of business and agencies in such places as the Directors may from time to time determine.

6. The expenses incurred in the formation of the Company and in connection with the offer for subscription and issue of Shares shall be paid by the Company. Such expenses may be amortised over such period as the Directors may determine and the amount so paid shall be charged against income and/or capital in the accounts of the Company as the Directors shall determine.

7. The Directors shall keep, or cause to be kept, the Register at such place or (subject to compliance with the Law and these Articles) places as the Directors may from time to time determine. In the absence of any such determination, the Register shall be kept at the Office. The Directors may keep, or cause to be kept, one or more Branch Registers as well as the Principal Register in accordance with the Law, provided always that a duplicate of such Branch Register(s) shall be maintained with the Principal Register in accordance with the Law.

SHARES

8. Subject to these Articles, all Shares for the time being unissued shall be under the control of the Directors who may:

   (a) issue, allot and dispose of the same to such Persons, in such manner, on such terms and having such rights and being subject to such restrictions as they may from time to time determine; and

   (b) grant options with respect to such Shares and issue warrants or similar instruments with respect thereto;

   and, for such purposes, the Directors may reserve an appropriate number of Shares for the time being unissued.

9. The Directors, or the Shareholders by Ordinary Resolution, may authorise the division of Shares into any number of Classes and the different Classes shall be authorised, established and designated (or re-designated as the case may be) and the variations in the relative rights (including, without limitation, voting, dividend and redemption rights), restrictions, preferences, privileges and payment obligations as between the different Classes (if any) may be fixed and determined by the Directors or the Shareholders by Ordinary Resolution.

10. The Company may insofar as may be permitted by law, pay a commission to any Person in consideration of his subscribing or agreeing to subscribe whether absolutely or conditionally for any Shares. Such commissions may be satisfied by the payment of cash or the lodgement of fully or partly paid-up Shares or partly in one way and partly in the other. The Company may also pay such brokerage as may be lawful on any issue of Shares.

11. The Directors may refuse to accept any application for Shares, and may accept any application in whole or in part, for any reason or for no reason.

MODIFICATION OF RIGHTS

12. Whenever the capital of the Company is divided into different Classes the rights attached to any such Class may, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any Class, only be materially adversely varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued Shares of the relevant Class, or with the sanction of a resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Shares of such Class by a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast at such a meeting. To every such separate meeting all the provisions of these Articles relating to general meetings of the Company or to the proceedings thereat shall, mutatis mutandis, apply, except that the necessary quorum shall be one or more Persons at least holding or representing by proxy one-third in nominal or par value amount of the issued Shares of the relevant Class (but so that if at any adjourned meeting of such holders a quorum as above defined is not present, those Shareholders who are present shall form a quorum) and that, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Shares of that Class, every Shareholder of the Class shall on a poll have one vote for each Share of the Class held by him. For the purposes of this Article the Directors may treat all the Classes or any two or more Classes as forming one Class if they consider that all such Classes would be affected in the same way by the proposals under consideration, but in any other case shall treat them as separate Classes.

13. The rights conferred upon the holders of the Shares of any Class issued with preferred or other rights shall not, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Shares of that Class, be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them or the redemption or purchase of any Shares of any Class by the Company.

CERTIFICATES

14. No Person shall be entitled to a certificate for any or all of his Shares, unless the Directors shall determine otherwise.

FRACTIONAL SHARES

15. The Directors may issue fractions of a Share and, if so issued, a fraction of a Share shall be subject to and carry the corresponding fraction of liabilities (whether with respect to nominal or par value, premium, contributions, calls or otherwise), limitations, preferences, privileges, qualifications, restrictions, rights (including, without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, voting and participation rights) and other attributes of a whole Share. If more than one fraction of a Share of the same Class is issued to or acquired by the same Shareholder such fractions shall be accumulated.

LIEN

16. The Company has a first and paramount lien on every Share (whether or not fully paid) for all amounts (whether presently payable or not) payable at a fixed time or called in respect of that Share. The Company also has a first and paramount lien on every Share (whether or not fully paid) registered in the name of a Person indebted or under liability to the Company (whether he is the sole registered holder of a Share or one of two or more joint holders) for all amounts owing by him or his estate to the Company (whether or not presently payable). The Directors may at any time declare a Share to be wholly or in part exempt from the provisions of this Article. The Company's lien on a Share extends to any amount payable in respect of it.

17. The Company may sell, in such manner as the Directors in their absolute discretion think fit, any Share on which the Company has a lien, but no sale shall be made unless an amount in respect of which the lien exists is presently payable nor until the expiration of fourteen days after a notice in writing, demanding payment of such part of the amount in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable, has been given to the registered holder for the time being of the Share, or the Persons entitled thereto by reason of his death or bankruptcy.

18. For giving effect to any such sale the Directors may authorise some Person to transfer the Shares sold to the purchaser thereof. The purchaser shall be registered as the holder of the Shares comprised in any such transfer and he shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money, nor shall his title to the Shares be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the proceedings in reference to the sale.

19. The proceeds of the sale after deduction of expenses, fees and commission incurred by the Company shall be received by the Company and applied in payment of such part of the amount in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable, and the residue shall (subject to a like lien for sums not presently payable as existed upon the Shares prior to the sale) be paid to the Person entitled to the Shares immediately prior to the sale.

CALLS ON SHARES

20. The Directors may from time to time make calls upon the Shareholders in respect of any moneys unpaid on their Shares, and each Shareholder shall (subject to receiving at least fourteen days' notice specifying the time or times of payment) pay to the Company at the time or times so specified the amount called on such Shares.

21. The joint holders of a Share shall be jointly and severally liable to pay calls in respect thereof.

22. If a sum called in respect of a Share is not paid before or on the day appointed for payment thereof, the Person from whom the sum is due shall pay interest upon the sum at the rate of eight percent per annum from the day appointed for the payment thereof to the time of the actual payment, but the Directors shall be at liberty to waive payment of that interest wholly or in part.

23. The provisions of these Articles as to the liability of joint holders and as to payment of interest shall apply in the case of non-payment of any sum which, by the terms of issue of a Share, becomes payable at a fixed time, whether on account of the amount of the Share, or by way of premium, as if the same had become payable by virtue of a call duly made and notified.

24. The Directors may make arrangements on the issue of partly paid Shares for a difference between the Shareholders, or the particular Shares, in the amount of calls to be paid and in the times of payment.

25. The Directors may, if they think fit, receive from any Shareholder willing to advance the same all or any part of the moneys uncalled and unpaid upon any partly paid Shares held by him, and upon all or any of the moneys so advanced may (until the same would, but for such advance, become presently payable) pay interest at such rate (not exceeding without the sanction of an Ordinary Resolution, eight percent per annum) as may be agreed upon between the Shareholder paying the sum in advance and the Directors.

FORFEITURE OF SHARES

26. If a Shareholder fails to pay any call or instalment of a call in respect of any Shares on the day appointed for payment, the Directors may, at any time thereafter during such time as any part of such call or instalment remains unpaid, serve a notice on him requiring payment of so much of the call or instalment as is unpaid, together with any interest which may have accrued.

27. The notice shall name a further day (not earlier than the expiration of fourteen days from the date of the notice) on or before which the payment required by the notice is to be made, and shall state that in the event of non-payment at or before the time appointed the Shares in respect of which the call was made will be liable to be forfeited.

28. If the requirements of any such notice as aforesaid are not complied with, any Share in respect of which the notice has been given may at any time thereafter, before the payment required by notice has been made, be forfeited by a resolution of the Directors to that effect.

29. A forfeited Share may be sold or otherwise disposed of on such terms and in such manner as the Directors think fit, and at any time before a sale or disposition the forfeiture may be cancelled on such terms as the Directors think fit.

30. A Person whose Shares have been forfeited shall cease to be a Shareholder in respect of the forfeited Shares, but shall, notwithstanding, remain liable to pay to the Company all moneys which at the date of forfeiture were payable by him to the Company in respect of the Shares forfeited, but his liability shall cease if and when the Company receives payment in full of the amount unpaid on the Shares forfeited.

31. A statutory declaration in writing that the declarant is a Director, and that a Share has been duly forfeited on a date stated in the declaration, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts in the declaration as against all Persons claiming to be entitled to the Share.

32. The Company may receive the consideration, if any, given for a Share on any sale or disposition thereof pursuant to the provisions of these Articles as to forfeiture and may execute a transfer of the Share in favour of the Person to whom the Share is sold or disposed of and that Person shall be registered as the holder of the Share, and shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase money, if any, nor shall his title to the Shares be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the proceedings in reference to the disposition or sale.

33. The provisions of these Articles as to forfeiture shall apply in the case of non-payment of any sum which by the terms of issue of a Share becomes due and payable, whether on account of the amount of the Share, or by way of premium, as if the same had been payable by virtue of a call duly made and notified.

TRANSFER OF SHARES

34. The instrument of transfer of any Share shall be in any usual or common form or such other form as the Directors may, in their absolute discretion, approve and be executed by or on behalf of the transferor and if in respect of a nil or partly paid up Share, or if so required by the Directors, shall also be executed on behalf of the transferee and shall be accompanied by the certificate (if any) of the Shares to which it relates and such other evidence as the Directors may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer. The transferor shall be deemed to remain a Shareholder until the name of the transferee is entered in the Register in respect of the relevant Shares.

35. The Directors may in their absolute discretion decline to register any transfer of Shares without assigning any reason therefor.

36. The registration of transfers may be suspended at such times and for such periods as the Directors may from time to time determine.

37. All instruments of transfer that are registered shall be retained by the Company, but any instrument of transfer that the Directors decline to register shall (except in any case of fraud) be returned to the Person depositing the same.

TRANSMISSION OF SHARES

38. The legal personal representative of a deceased sole holder of a Share shall be the only Person recognised by the Company as having any title to the Share. In the case of a Share registered in the name of two or more holders, the survivors or survivor, or the legal personal representatives of the deceased holder of the Share, shall be the only Person recognised by the Company as having any title to the Share.

39. Any Person becoming entitled to a Share in consequence of the death or bankruptcy of a Shareholder shall upon such evidence being produced as may from time to time be required by the Directors, have the right either to be registered as a Shareholder in respect of the Share or, instead of being registered himself, to make such transfer of the Share as the deceased or bankrupt Person could have made; but the Directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline or suspend registration as they would have had in the case of a transfer of the Share by the deceased or bankrupt Person before the death or bankruptcy.

40. A Person becoming entitled to a Share by reason of the death or bankruptcy of a Shareholder shall be entitled to the same dividends and other advantages to which he would be entitled if he were the registered Shareholder, except that he shall not, before being registered as a Shareholder in respect of the Share, be entitled in respect of it to exercise any right conferred by membership in relation to meetings of the Company.

ALTERATION OF SHARE CAPITAL

41. The Company may from time to time by Ordinary Resolution increase the share capital by such sum, to be divided into Shares of such Classes and amount, as the resolution shall prescribe.

42. The Company may by Ordinary Resolution:

(a) consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into Shares of a larger amount than its existing Shares;

(b) convert all or any of its paid up Shares into stock and reconvert that stock into paid up Shares of any denomination;

(c) subdivide its existing Shares, or any of them into Shares of a smaller amount provided that in the subdivision the proportion between the amount paid and the amount, if any, unpaid on each reduced Share shall be the same as it was in case of the Share from which the reduced Share is derived; and

(d) cancel any Shares that, at the date of the passing of the resolution, have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any Person and diminish the amount of its share capital by the amount of the Shares so cancelled.

43. The Company may by Special Resolution reduce its share capital and any capital redemption reserve in any manner authorised by law.

REDEMPTION, PURCHASE AND SURRENDER OF SHARES

44. Subject to the Law, the Company may:

(a) issue Shares on terms that they are to be redeemed or are liable to be redeemed at the option of the Company or the Shareholder on such terms and in such manner as the Directors may determine;

(b) purchase its own Shares (including any redeemable Shares) on such terms and in such manner as the Directors may determine and agree with the Shareholder;

(c) make a payment in respect of the redemption or purchase of its own Shares in any manner authorised by the Law; and

(d) accept the surrender for no consideration of any paid up Share (including any redeemable Share) on such terms and in such manner as the Directors may determine.

45. Any Share in respect of which notice of redemption has been given shall not be entitled to participate in the profits of the Company in respect of the period after the date specified as the date of redemption in the notice of redemption.

46. The redemption, purchase or surrender of any Share shall not be deemed to give rise to the redemption, purchase or surrender of any other Share.

47. The Directors may when making payments in respect of redemption or purchase of Shares, if authorised by the terms of issue of the Shares being redeemed or purchased or with the agreement of the holder of such Shares, make such payment either in cash or in specie.

TREASURY SHARES

48. Shares that the Company purchases, redeems or acquires (by way of surrender or otherwise) may, at the option of the Company, be cancelled immediately or held as Treasury Shares in accordance with the Law. In the event that the Directors do not specify that the relevant Shares are to be held as Treasury Shares, such Shares shall be cancelled.

49. No dividend may be declared or paid, and no other distribution (whether in cash or otherwise) of the Company's assets (including any distribution of assets to members on a winding up) may be declared or paid in respect of a Treasury Share.

50. The Company shall be entered in the Register as the holder of the Treasury Shares provided that:

(a) the Company shall not be treated as a member for any purpose and shall not exercise any right in respect of the Treasury Shares, and any purported exercise of such a right shall be void;

(b) a Treasury Share shall not be voted, directly or indirectly, at any meeting of the Company and shall not be counted in determining the total number of issued shares at any given time, whether for the purposes of these Articles or the Law, save that an allotment of Shares as fully paid bonus shares in respect of a Treasury Share is permitted and Shares allotted as fully paid bonus shares in respect of a treasury share shall be treated as Treasury Shares.

51. Treasury Shares may be disposed of by the Company on such terms and conditions as determined by the Directors.

GENERAL MEETINGS

52. The Directors may, whenever they think fit, convene a general meeting of the Company.

53. The Directors may cancel or postpone any duly convened general meeting at any time prior to such meeting, except for general meetings requisitioned by the Shareholders in accordance with these Articles, for any reason or for no reason at any time prior to the time for holding such meeting or, if the meeting is adjourned, the time for holding such adjourned meeting. The Directors shall give Shareholders notice in writing of any postponement, which postponement may be for a stated period of any length or indefinitely as the Directors may determine.

54. General meetings shall also be convened on the requisition in writing of any Shareholder or Shareholders entitled to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company holding at least ten percent of the paid up voting share capital of the Company deposited at the Office specifying the objects of the meeting for a date no later than 21 days from the date of deposit of the requisition signed by the requisitionists, and if the Directors do not convene such meeting for a date not later than 45 days after the date of such deposit, the requisitionists themselves may convene the general meeting in the same manner, as nearly as possible, as that in which general meetings may be convened by the Directors, and all reasonable expenses incurred by the requisitionists as a result of the failure of the Directors to convene the general meeting shall be reimbursed to them by the Company.

55. If at any time there are no Directors, any two Shareholders (or if there is only one Shareholder then that Shareholder) entitled to vote at general meetings of the Company may convene a general meeting in the same manner as nearly as possible as that in which general meetings may be convened by the Directors.

At least seven clear days' notice in writing counting from the date service is deemed to take place as provided in these Articles specifying the place, the day and the hour of the meeting and, in case of special business, the general nature of that business, shall be given in the manner hereinafter provided or in such other manner (if any) as may be prescribed by the Company by Ordinary Resolution to such Persons as are, under these Articles, entitled to receive such notices from the Company, but with the consent of all the Shareholders entitled to receive notice of some particular meeting and attend and vote thereat, that meeting may be convened by such shorter notice or without notice and in such manner as those Shareholders may think fit.

57. The accidental omission to give notice of a meeting to or the non-receipt of a notice of a meeting by any Shareholder shall not invalidate the proceedings at any meeting.

PROCEEDINGS AT GENERAL MEETINGS

58. All business carried out at a general meeting shall be deemed special with the exception of sanctioning a dividend, the consideration of the accounts, balance sheets, any report of the Directors or of the Company's auditors, and the fixing of the remuneration of the Company's auditors. No special business shall be transacted at any general meeting without the consent of all Shareholders entitled to receive notice of that meeting unless notice of such special business has been given in the notice convening that meeting.

59. No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum of Shareholders is present at the time when the meeting proceeds to business. Save as otherwise provided by these Articles, one or more Shareholders holding at least a majority of the paid up voting share capital of the Company present in person or by proxy and entitled to vote at that meeting shall form a quorum.

60. If within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting a quorum is not present, the meeting, if convened upon the requisition of Shareholders, shall be dissolved. In any other case it shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week, at the same time and place, and if at the adjourned meeting a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting the Shareholder or Shareholders present and entitled to vote shall form a quorum.

61. If the Directors wish to make this facility available for a specific general meeting or all general meetings of the Company, participation in any general meeting of the Company may be by means of a telephone or similar communication equipment by way of which all Persons participating in such meeting can communicate with each other and such participation shall be deemed to constitute presence in person at the meeting.

62. The chairman, if any, of the Directors shall preside as chairman at every general meeting of the Company.

63. If there is no such chairman, or if at any general meeting he is not present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting or is unwilling to act as chairman, any Director or Person nominated by the Directors shall preside as chairman, failing which the Shareholders present in person or by proxy shall choose any Person present to be chairman of that meeting.

64. The chairman may adjourn a meeting from time to time and from place to place either:

(a) with the consent of any general meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting); or

(b) without the consent of such meeting if, in his sole opinion, he considers it necessary to do so to:

(i) secure the orderly conduct or proceedings of the meeting; or

(ii) give all persons present in person or by proxy and having the right to speak and / or vote at such meeting, the ability to do so,

but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place. When a meeting, or adjourned meeting, is adjourned for fourteen days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given in the manner provided for the original meeting. Save as aforesaid, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of an adjournment or of the business to be transacted at an adjourned meeting.

65. At any general meeting a resolution put to the vote of the meeting shall be decided on a show of hands, unless a poll is (before or on the declaration of the result of the show of hands) demanded by the chairman or one or more Shareholders present in person or by proxy entitled to vote, and unless a poll is so demanded, a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has, on a show of hands, been carried, or carried unanimously, or by a particular majority, or lost, and an entry to that effect in the book of the proceedings of the Company, shall be conclusive evidence of the fact, without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of, or against, that resolution.

66. If a poll is duly demanded it shall be taken in such manner as the chairman directs, and the result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the meeting at which the poll was demanded.

67. In the case of an equality of votes, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, the chairman of the meeting at which the show of hands takes place or at which the poll is demanded, shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

68. A poll demanded on the election of a chairman of the meeting or on a question of adjournment shall be taken forthwith. A poll demanded on any other question shall be taken at such time as the chairman of the meeting directs.

70. In the case of joint holders the vote of the senior who tenders a vote whether in person or by proxy shall be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint holders and for this purpose seniority shall be determined by the order in which the names stand in the Register.

71. A Shareholder of unsound mind, or in respect of whom an order has been made by any court having jurisdiction in lunacy, may vote in respect of Shares carrying the right to vote held by him, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, by his committee, or other Person in the nature of a committee appointed by that court, and any such committee or other Person, may vote in respect of such Shares by proxy.

72. No Shareholder shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting of the Company unless all calls, if any, or other sums presently payable by him in respect of Shares carrying the right to vote held by him have been paid.

73. On a poll votes may be given either personally or by proxy.

74. The instrument appointing a proxy shall be in writing under the hand of the appointor or of his attorney duly authorised in writing or, if the appointor is a corporation, either under Seal or under the hand of an officer or attorney duly authorised. A proxy need not be a Shareholder.

75. An instrument appointing a proxy may be in any usual or common form or such other form as the Directors may approve.

76. The instrument appointing a proxy shall be deposited at the Office or at such other place as is specified for that purpose in the notice convening the meeting no later than the time for holding the meeting or, if the meeting is adjourned, the time for holding such adjourned meeting.

77. The instrument appointing a proxy shall be deemed to confer authority to demand or join in demanding a poll.

78. A resolution in writing signed by all the Shareholders for the time being entitled to receive notice of and to attend and vote at general meetings of the Company (or being corporations by their duly authorised representatives) shall be as valid and effective as if the same had been passed at a general meeting of the Company duly convened and held.

CORPORATIONS ACTING BY REPRESENTATIVES AT MEETINGS

79. Any corporation which is a Shareholder or a Director may by resolution of its directors or other governing body authorise such Person as it thinks fit to act as its representative at any meeting of the Company or of any meeting of holders of a Class or of the Directors or of a committee of Directors, and the Person so authorised shall be entitled to exercise the same powers on behalf of the corporation which he represents as that corporation could exercise if it were an individual Shareholder or Director.

Every such alternate shall be entitled to attend and vote at meetings of the Directors as a Director when the Director appointing him is not personally present and where he is a Director to have a separate vote on behalf of the Director he is representing in addition to his own vote. A Director may at any time in writing revoke the appointment of an alternate appointed by him. Such alternate shall not be deemed to be an officer of the Company solely as a result of his appointment as an alternate. The remuneration of such alternate shall be payable out of the remuneration of the Director appointing him and the proportion thereof shall be agreed between them.

88. Any Director may appoint any Person , whether or not a Director, to be the proxy of that Director to attend and vote on his behalf, in accordance with instructions given by that Director, or in the absence of such instructions at the discretion of the proxy, at a meeting or meetings of the Directors which that Director is unable to attend personally. The Directors may appoint any natural person or corporation to be a Secretary (and if need be an assistant Secretary or assistant Secretaries) who shall hold office for such term, at such remuneration and upon such conditions and with such powers as they think fit. Any Secretary or assistant Secretary so appointed by the Directors may be removed by the Directors or by the Company by Ordinary Resolution.

The Seal shall be affixed in the presence of a Director or a Secretary (or an assistant Secretary) or in the presence of any one or more Persons as the Directors may appoint for the purpose and every Person as aforesaid shall sign every instrument to which the Seal is so affixed in their presence.

100. The Company may maintain a facsimile of the Seal in such countries or places as the Directors may appoint and such facsimile Seal shall not be affixed to any instrument except by the authority of a resolution of the Directors provided always that such authority may be given prior to or after the affixing of such facsimile Seal and if given after may be in general form confirming a number of affixings of such facsimile Seal. The facsimile Seal shall be affixed in the presence of such Person or Persons as the Directors shall for this purpose appoint and such Person or Persons as aforesaid shall sign every instrument to which the facsimile Seal is so affixed in their presence and such affixing of the facsimile Seal and signing as aforesaid shall have the same meaning and effect as if the Seal had been affixed in the presence of and the instrument signed by a Director or a Secretary (or an assistant Secretary) or in the presence of any one or more Persons as the Directors may appoint for the purpose.

A Director represented by proxy or by an alternate Director at any meeting shall be deemed to be present for the purposes of determining whether or not a quorum is present.

106. A Director who is in any way, whether directly or indirectly, interested in a contract or proposed contract with the Company shall declare the nature of his interest at a meeting of the Directors. A general notice given to the Directors by any Director to the effect that he is a member of any specified company or firm and is to be regarded as interested in any contract which may thereafter be made with that company or firm shall be deemed a sufficient declaration of interest in regard to any contract so made. A Director may vote in respect of any contract or proposed contract or arrangement notwithstanding that he may be interested therein and if he does so his vote shall be counted and he may be counted in the quorum at any meeting of the Directors at which any such contract or proposed contract or arrangement shall come before the meeting for consideration.

107. A Director may hold any other office or place of profit under the Company (other than the office of auditor) in conjunction with his office of Director for such period and on such terms (as to remuneration and otherwise) as the Directors may determine and no Director or intending Director shall be disqualified by his office from contracting with the Company either with regard to his tenure of any such other office or place of profit or as vendor, purchaser or otherwise, nor shall any such contract or arrangement entered into by or on behalf of the Company in which any Director is in any way interested, be liable to be avoided, nor shall any Director so contracting or being so interested be liable to account to the Company for any profit realised by any such contract or arrangement by reason of such Director holding that office or of the fiduciary relation thereby established. A Director, notwithstanding his interest, may be counted in the quorum present at any meeting of the Directors whereat he or any other Director is appointed to hold any such office or place of profit under the Company or whereat the terms of any such appointment are arranged and he may vote on any such appointment or arrangement.

108. Any Director may act by himself or his firm in a professional capacity for the Company, and he or his firm shall be entitled to remuneration for professional services as if he were not a Director; provided that nothing herein contained shall authorise a Director or his firm to act as auditor to the Company.

(a) all appointments of officers made by the Directors;

(b) the names of the Directors present at each meeting of the Directors and of any committee of the Directors; and

(c) all resolutions and proceedings at all meetings of the Company, and of the Directors and of committees of Directors.

111. A resolution in writing signed by all the Directors or all the members of a committee of Directors entitled to receive notice of a meeting of Directors or committee of Directors, as the case may be (an alternate Director, subject as provided otherwise in the terms of appointment of the alternate Director, being entitled to sign such a resolution on behalf of his appointer), shall be as valid and effectual as if it had been passed at a duly called and constituted meeting of Directors or committee of Directors, as the case may be. When signed a resolution may consist of several documents each signed by one or more of the Directors or his duly appointed alternate.

112. The continuing Directors may act notwithstanding any vacancy in their body but if and for so long as their number is reduced below the number fixed by or pursuant to these Articles as the necessary quorum of Directors, the continuing Directors may act for the purpose of increasing the number, or of summoning a general meeting of the Company, but for no other purpose.

113. The Directors may elect a chairman of their meetings and determine the period for which he is to hold office but if no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the Directors present may choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.

114. Subject to any regulations imposed on it by the Directors, a committee appointed by the Directors may elect a chairman of its meetings. If no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the committee members present may choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.

115. A committee appointed by the Directors may meet and adjourn as it thinks proper. Subject to any regulations imposed on it by the Directors, questions arising at any meeting shall be determined by a majority of votes of the committee members present and in case of an equality of votes the chairman shall have a second or casting vote.

116. All acts done by any meeting of the Directors or of a committee of Directors, or by any Person acting as a Director, shall notwithstanding that it be afterwards discovered that there was some defect in the appointment of any such Director or Person acting as aforesaid, or that they or any of them were disqualified, be as valid as if every such Person had been duly appointed and was qualified to be a Director.

118. Subject to any rights and restrictions for the time being attached to any Shares, the Company by Ordinary Resolution may declare dividends, but no dividend shall exceed the amount recommended by the Directors.

119. 120. Any dividend may be paid in any manner as the Directors may determine. If paid by cheque it will be sent through the post to the registered address of the Shareholder or Person entitled thereto, or in the case of joint holders, to any one of such joint holders at his registered address or to such Person and such address as the Shareholder or Person entitled, or such joint holders as the case may be, may direct. Every such cheque shall be made payable to the order of the Person to whom it is sent or to the order of such other Person as the Shareholder or Person entitled, or such joint holders as the case may be, may direct.

121. The Directors when paying dividends to the Shareholders in accordance with the foregoing provisions of these Articles may make such payment either in cash or in specie.

122. Subject to any rights and restrictions for the time being attached to any Shares, all dividends shall be declared and paid according to the amounts paid up on the Shares, but if and for so long as nothing is paid up on any of the Shares dividends may be declared and paid according to the par value of the Shares.

123. If several Persons are registered as joint holders of any Share, any of them may give effectual receipts for any dividend or other moneys payable on or in respect of the Share.

124. No dividend shall bear interest against the Company.

126. The books of account shall be kept at the Office, or at such other place or places as the Directors think fit, and shall always be open to the inspection of the Directors.

127. The Directors may from time to time determine whether and to what extent and at what times and places and under what conditions or regulations the accounts and books of the Company or any of them shall be open to the inspection of Shareholders not being Directors, and no Shareholder (not being a Director) shall have any right of inspecting any account or book or document of the Company except as conferred by law or authorised by the Directors or by Ordinary Resolution.

(ii) paying up in full unissued Shares or debentures of a nominal amount equal to that sum, and allot the Shares or debentures, credited as fully paid, to the Shareholders (or as they may direct) in those proportions, or partly in one way and partly in the other, but the Share Premium Account, the capital redemption reserve and profits which are not available for distribution may, for the purposes of this Article, only be applied in paying up unissued Shares to be allotted to Shareholders credited as fully paid;

14. The rights conferred upon the holders of the Participating Shares of any Class issued with preferred or other rights shall not, subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to the Participating Shares of that Class, be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Participating Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them or the redemption or purchase of any Participating Shares of any Class by the Company.

122. Subject to any rights and restrictions for the time being attributed to any Class or Series, the assets available for distribution among the Shareholders shall then be applied in the following priority:

INDEMNITY

131. To the fullest extent permitted by law, no Director, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, committee member or other officer for the time being and from time to time of the Company (each, a "Covered Person" and collectively, "Covered Persons") shall be liable to the Company or anyone for any reason whatsoever (including but not limited to (i) any act or omission by any Covered Person in connection with the conduct of the business of the Company, that is determined by such Covered Person in good faith to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, (ii) any act or omission by any Covered Person based on the suggestions of any professional advisor of the Company whom such Covered Person believes is authorized to make such suggestions on behalf of the Company, (iii) any act or omission by the Company, or (iv) any mistake, negligence, misconduct or bad faith of any broker or other agent of the Company selected by Covered Person with reasonable care), unless any act or omission by such Covered Person constitutes wilful misconduct or Gross Negligence by such Covered Person (as determined by a non-appeaiable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction).

132. Covered Person may consult with legal counsel or accountants selected by such Covered Person and any act or omission by such Covered Person on behalf of the Company or in furtherance of the business of the Company in good faith in reliance on and in accordance with the advice of such counsel or accountants shall be full justification for the act or omission, and such Covered Person shall be fully protected in so acting or omitting to act if the counsel or accountants were selected with reasonable care.

133. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Company shall indemnify and save harmless Covered Persons (the "Indemnitees"), from and against any and all claims, liabilities, damages, losses, costs and expenses, including amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in compromises and settlements, as fines and penalties and legal or other costs and expenses of investigating or defending against any claim or alleged claim, of any nature whatsoever, known or unknown, liquidated or unliquidated, that are incurred by any Indemnitee and arise out of or in connection with the business of the Company, any investment made, or the performance by the Indemnitee of Covered Person's responsibilities hereunder and against all taxes, charges, duties or levies incurred by such Covered Person or any Indemnitee in connection with the Company, provided that an Indemnitee shall not be entitled to indemnification hereunder to the extent the Indemnitee's conduct constitutes willful misconduct or Gross Negligence (as determined by a non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction). The termination of any proceeding by settlement, judgment, order or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the Indemnitee's conduct constituted willful misconduct or Gross Negligence.

134. Expenses incurred by an Indemnitee in defense or settlement of any claim that shall be subject to a right of indemnification hereunder, shall be advanced by the Company prior to the final disposition thereof upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the Indemnitee to repay the amount advanced to the extent that it shall be determined ultimately that the Indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified hereunder.

135. The right of any Indemnitee to the indemnification provided herein shall be cumulative of, and in addition to, any and all rights to which the Indemnitee may otherwise be entitled by contract or as a matter of law or equity and shall be extended to the Indemnitee's successors, assigns and legal representatives.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION

136. Subject to the prior written consent of all parties involved in the Dispute (as defined below) to such dispute resolution procedures, the following procedures shall be used to resolve any controversy or claim ("Dispute") arising out of, relating to or in connection with these Articles or otherwise involving the Company, a trustee appointed to represent the Company on claims derivative of the Company, its Shareholders and/or any Covered Person. If any of these provisions are determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions shall remain in effect and binding on the parties to the fullest extent permitted by law.

(a) Mediation:

(i) subject to the prior written consent of all parties involved in the Dispute, any Dispute shall be submitted to mediation by written notice to the other party or parties. In the mediation process, the parties will try to resolve their differences voluntarily with the aid of an impartial mediator, who will attempt to facilitate negotiations. The mediator will be selected by agreement of the parties. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, a mediator shall be designated by JAMS/Endispute at the request of a party using, if necessary, strike and rank procedures then in effect;

(ii) the mediation will be conducted as specified by the mediator and agreed upon by the parties. The parties agree to discuss their differences in good faith and to attempt, with the assistance of the mediator, to reach an amicable resolution of the dispute;

(iii) the mediation will be treated as a settlement discussion and therefore will be confidential. The mediator may not testify for either party in any later proceeding relating to the dispute. No recording or transcript shall be made of the mediation proceedings; and

(iv) each party will bear its own costs in the mediation. The fees and expenses of the mediator will be shared equally by the parties,

(b) Arbitration:

Subject to the prior written consent of all parties involved in the Dispute to such dispute resolution procedure, if a Dispute has not been resolved within 90 days after the written notice beginning the mediation process (or a longer period, if the parties agree to extend the mediation), the mediation shall terminate and the dispute will be settled by arbitration. The arbitration will be administered by JAMS/Endispute pursuant to JAMS' Comprehensive Arbitration Rules and Procedures and in accordance with the Expedited Procedures in those Rules. ("Arbitration Rules"). In the event of a conflict, the provisions of these Articles will control:

(i) the arbitration will be conducted before a panel of three arbitrators, regardless of the size of the dispute, to be selected as provided in the Arbitration Rules. Any issue concerning the extent to which any dispute is subject to arbitration, or concerning the applicability, interpretation, or enforceability of these procedures, including any contention that all or part of these procedures are invalid or unenforceable, shall be governed by the United States Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA"), and resolved by the arbitrators, provided, however, that the Company or such applicable affiliate thereof may pursue a temporary restraining order and/or preliminary injunctive relief in connection with confidentiality covenants or agreements binding on any party, with related expedited discovery for the parties, in a court of law, and, thereafter, require arbitration of all issues of final relief. Under no circumstances will a State arbitration act of the United States preclude application of the FAA, including any choice of law provisions in this agreement, or any other agreement. No potential arbitrator may serve on the panel unless he or she has agreed in writing to abide and be bound by these procedures;

(ii) the arbitrators may not award non-monetary or equitable relief of any sort. They shall have no power to award punitive damages or any other damages not measured by the prevailing party's actual damages, and the parties expressly waive their right to obtain such damages in arbitration or any in other forum. In no event, even if any other portion of these provisions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, shall the arbitrators have power to make an award or impose a remedy that could not be made or imposed by a court deciding the matter in the same jurisdiction. The arbitrators) shall be required to state in a written opinion all facts and conclusions of law relied upon to support any decision rendered. Any dispute over whether the arbitrator(s) has failed to comply with the foregoing will be resolved by summary judgment in a court of law;

(iii) the party initiating arbitration shall pay all arbitration costs and arbitrator's fees, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. All proceedings shall be conducted in Dallas, Texas, or another mutually agreeable site. Each party shall bear its own attorneys fees, costs and expenses, including any costs of experts, witnesses and/or travel, subject to a final arbitration award on who should bear costs and fees. This provision is intended to supersede any rights under Texas Civil Practices and Remedies Code § 38.001(8), which rights the parties expressly waive;

(iv) no discovery will be allowed in connection with the arbitration unless the arbitration panel, upon a showing of substantial need, expressly authorizes it. In any event, there shall be no more than (i) two party depositions of six hours each. Each deposition is to be taken pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure; (ii) one non-party deposition of six hours; (iii) twenty-five interrogatories; (iv) twenty- five requests for admission; (v) ten requests for production. In response, the producing party shall not be obligated to produce in excess of 5,000 total pages of documents. The total pages of documents shall include electronic documents; (vi) one request for disclosure pursuant to the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Any discovery not specifically provided for in this paragraph, whether to parties or non- parties, shall not be permitted;

(v) all aspects of the arbitration shall be treated as confidential, including its institution and/or settlement. Neither the parties nor the arbitrators may disclose the existence, content or results of the arbitration, except as necessary to comply with legal or regulatory requirements. Before making any such disclosure, a party shall give written notice to all other parties and shall afford such parties a reasonable opportunity to protect their interests. In the event a party who recovered monies by settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute violates this confidentiality term, he, she, or it shall refund all such sums recovered. The parties expressly intend to waive the right to retain any monies received through settlement, award by the arbitration panel, or otherwise in connection with the Dispute in the event that that party violates the aforementioned confidentiality term; and

(vi) the result of the arbitration will be binding on the parties, and judgment on the arbitrators' award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. This clause shall not preclude parties from seeking provisional remedies in aid of arbitration from a court of appropriate jurisdiction.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, for greater certainty, in accordance with the terms herein, if all parties involved in the Dispute do not provide written consent to following the mediation and/or arbitration provisions herein, a party shall maintain its right to pursue his/her/its Dispute in court.

AEOI

137. Notwithstanding any other Article, in order to comply with AEOI, any Director shall be entitled to release and/or disclose on behalf of the Company to the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority or equivalent authority (the "TIA") and any other foreign government body as required by AEOI, any information in its or its agents' or delegates' possession regarding a Member including, without limitation, financial information concerning the Member's investment in the Company, and any information relating to any shareholders, principals, partners, beneficial owners (direct or indirect) or controlling persons (direct or indirect) of such Member. Any such Director may also authorise any third party agent, including but not limited to, the Investment Manager or Administrator, to release and/or disclose such information on behalf of the Company.

138. In order to comply with AEOI and, if necessary, to reduce or eliminate any risk that the Company or its Members are subject to withholding taxes pursuant to AEOI or incur any costs, debts, expenses, obligations or liabilities (whether external, or internal, to the Company) (together, "costs") associated with AEOI, the Directors may cause the Company to undertake any of the following actions:

(a) compulsorily redeem any or all of the Shares held by a Member either (i) where the Member fails to provide (in a timely manner) to the Company, or any agent or delegate of the Company, including but not limited to, the Investment Manager or the Administrator, any information requested by the Company or such agent or delegate pursuant to AEOI; or (ii) where there has otherwise been non-compliance by the Company with AEOI whether caused, directly or indirectly, by the action or inaction of such Member, or any related person, or otherwise;

(b) deduct from, or hold back, redemption or repurchase proceeds, dividend payments or any other distributions, in order to:

(i) comply with any applicable requirement to apply and collect withholding tax pursuant to AEOI;

(ii) allocate to a Member an amount equal to any withholding tax imposed on the Company as a result of the Member's, or any related person's, action or inaction (direct or indirect), or where there has otherwise been non-compliance by the Company with AEOI;

(iii) ensure that any AEOI related costs are recovered from the Member(s) whose action or inaction (directly or indirectly, including the action or inaction of any person related to such Member) gave rise or contributed to such costs.

139. In order to give effect to the requirements imposed upon the Company by AEOI, as well as any of the actions contemplated by Articles 138(a) and 139(b), the Directors may undertake any of the following actions:

(a) create separate classes and/or series of Shares ("AEOI Shares"), with such rights and terms as the Directors may in their sole discretion determine, and following the compulsory redemption of some or all of a Member's Shares may immediately apply such redemption proceeds in subscribing for such number of AEOI Shares as the Directors determine;

(b) may re-name any number of Shares (whether issued or unissued) as AEOI Shares, create a Separate Account with respect to such AEOI Shares and apply any AEOI related costs or withholding taxes to such Separate Account;

Dear Applicant:

This modifies our letter of the above date in which we stated that you would be treated as an organization that is not a private foundation until the expiration of your advance ruling period.

Your exempt status under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code as an organization described in section 501(c)(3) is still in effect. Based on the information you submitted, we have determined that you are not a private foundation within the meaning of section 509(a) of the Code because you are an organization of the type described in section 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi).

Grantors and contributors may rely on this determination unless the Internal Revenue Service publishes notice to the contrary. However, if you lose your section 509(a)(1) status, a grantor or contributor may not rely on this determination if he or she was in part responsible for, or was aware of, the act or failure to act, or the substantial or material change on the part of the organization that resulted in your loss of such status, or if he or she acquired knowledge that the Internal Revenue Service had given notice that you would no longer be classified as a section 509(a)(1) organization.

If we have indicated in the heading of this letter that an addendum applies, the addendum enclosed is an integral part of this letter.

Because this letter could help resolve any questions about your private foundation status, please keep it in your permanent records.

If you have any questions, please contact the person whose name and telephone number are shown above.

Sincerely yours,

Bobby E. Scott

Unanimous Written Resolutions of the Board of Directors of the Company

---

1 Directors' Interests

1.1 It is noted that none of the directors of the Company (together the "Directors", and each a "Director") have any monetary or financial interest in the matters referred to herein.

2 Recent Developments

2.1 It is noted that the Directors have received communications from certain current Participating Shareholders requesting information and making false and misleading claims regarding the Company's and its subsidiaries' finances.

2.2 It is noted that the Directors believe the aforementioned communications were motivated and/or directed by James Dondero as retaliation for Mark Patrick's resignation from Skyview Group and the Company's various efforts to create independence between the Company and its subsidiaries on the one hand and James Dondero and his affiliates on the other hand.

2.3 It is noted that the Directors have knowledge that the false and misleading information forming the basis of these claims was provided by SEI, a back-office service provider to the Company and certain of its subsidiaries, to employees of certain Dondero-controlled entities such as Skyview Group or NexPoint.

2.4 It is noted that none of the concerns raised by the current Participating Shareholders were raised prior to Mark Patrick's resignations from Skyview Group, despite there being no change in the information provided or the frequency of information provided.

3 U.S. Counsel Tax Advice

3.1 It is noted that the Directors have received United States Tax Counsel advice that, among other things:

(a) "there is a significantly heightened risk that the Internal Revenue Service of the United States could severely penalize and/or revoke the tax-exempt status of one or more of the current Participating Shareholders, which could imperil the status and assets of the Company"; and

(b) "Increasing the number of Participating Shareholders would mitigate considerations of undue influence/private inurement/private beneift and broaden the scope of DAF's charitable reach to the public; and

(c) "The IRS will look favorably upon any and all attempts for DAF to maintain its independence from what seems to be persistent attempts by James Dondero and the entities controled by him to use DAF for his private benefit and private inurement."

3.2 It is noted that the Directors believe the Share Issuance (as defined below) to DFW (as defined below) is based on this U.S. tax advice and will protect the Company and the current Participating Shareholders and will also further the Company's charitable mission.

4 Cayman Counsel Legal Advice

4.1 It is noted that the Directors have sought and obtained legal advice from separate Cayman Islands counsel ("Walkers"), who have confirmed that (i) the Directors have the ability to issue new Participating Shares as contemplated by the Share Issuance, (ii) if the Directors believe the Participating Shares are held by a Restricted Person (as defined in Article 21 of the Company's M&A), the Directors may require such shareholder to transfer its shares, and (iii) the Participating Shareholders have no or limited rights to information.

4.2 It is noted that attached as Exhibit A hereto is the Walkers presentation outlining the rights accompanying the Participating Shares (the "Walkers Presentation").

5 Issue of Shares

5.1 It is noted that the Company proposes to issue 318 Participating Shares of a nominal or par value of US$0.01 each as fully paid up (the "Participating Shares") to DFW Charitable Foundation ("DFW"), a Delaware non-profit non-stock corporation (the "Share Issuance").

5.2 Following the Share Issuance, DFW shall own 51.04% of the issued Participating Shares of the Company.

5.3 It is resolved that:

(a) the Share Issuance be approved with effect from the date of these resolutions;

(b) Campbells Corporate Services Limited be and is hereby instructed to make the appropriate entry in the register of members of the Company in respect of the Share Issuance;

(c) any and all actions of the Company, the Directors or any officer of the Company taken in connection with the actions contemplated by the foregoing resolutions prior to the execution hereof be and are hereby ratified, confirmed, approved and adopted in all respects as fully as if such actions had been presented for approval and approved by the Directors prior to such action(s) being taken; and

(d) the Directors shall meet on not less than a quarterly basis to discuss recent developments and how to best protect the Company and its shareholders.

6 Ancillary Documents

6.1 It is further resolved that:

(a) the Company do give, make, sign, execute and deliver all such agreements, letters, notices, certificates, acknowledgements, instructions and other documents (whether of a like nature or not) (the "Ancillary Documents") as may in the sole opinion and absolute discretion of any Director be considered necessary or desirable for the purpose of compliance with any condition precedent or the coming into effect of or otherwise giving effect to, consummating or completing or procuring the performance and completion of all or any of the transactions contemplated by or referred to in all or any of the documents referred to above and the Company do all other such acts and things as might in the sole opinion and absolute discretion of any Director be necessary or desirable for the purpose aforesaid;

(b) the Ancillary Documents be in such form as any Director should in his absolute discretion and sole opinion approve, the signature of any such person on any of the Ancillary Documents being due evidence for all purposes of his approval of the terms thereof on behalf of the Company;

(c) the Ancillary Documents (where required to be executed by the Company) be executed by the signature thereof of any one Director together with such changes as such Director shall in his absolute discretion consider necessary or appropriate (the signature of such Director on any Ancillary Document being conclusive evidence of his approval of the same for and on behalf of the Company);

(d) the Ancillary Documents be valid, conclusive, binding on and enforceable against the Company when executed and delivered in the manner aforesaid;

(e) any and all actions of the Company, or of any Director or officer, taken in connection with the actions contemplated by the foregoing resolutions prior to the execution hereof be and hereby are ratified, confirmed, approved and adopted in all respects as fully as if such action(s) had been presented to for approval, and approved by, the Directors prior to such action being taken; and

(f) the prior execution of any Ancillary Documents by any Director are approved, ratifed and confirmed in all respects.

Removal of Directors

"Subject to these Articles, a Director shall hold office until such time as he is removed from office by Ordinary Resolution." (Art 65)

Participating Shareholders do not have:

- the right to remove Directors; or
- the right to appoint Directors.

Note: the right to appoint Directors is held by the Management Shareholder and the Directors, and the right to remove Directors is held solely by the Management Shareholder (Articles 64, 65, and 69, and Definition of "Ordinary Resolution").

Modification of Rights

Modification of Rights

"... the rights attached to [any] Class may ... only be materially adversely varied or abrogated with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued Participating Shares of the relevant Class or with the sanction of a resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the Participating Shares of such Class by a majority of two-thirds of the votes cast at such a meeting." (Art 13)

Participating Shareholders do not have:

- the right to cause a distribution; or
- the right to amend the Articles.

Modification of Rights – Issuance of Shares

"The rights conferred upon the holders of the Participating Shares of any Class issued with preferred or other rights shall not ... be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by, inter alia, the creation, allotment or issue of further Participating Shares ranking pari passu with or subsequent to them or the redemption or purchase of any Participating Shares of any Class by the Company." (Art 14)

"... all Shares for the time being unissued shall be under the control of the Directors who may:

(a) issue, allot and dispose of the same to such Persons, in such manner, on such terms and having such rights and being subject to such restrictions as they may from time to time determine;

(b) and grant options with respect to such Shares and issue warrants or similar instruments with respect thereto;

and, for such purposes, the Directors may reserve an appropriate number of Shares for the time being unissued." (Art 7)

Participating Shareholders do not have:

Note: Of the authorised share capital of the Company, 305 Participating Shares have been issued. In accordance with the Articles, the Directors may unilaterally issue additional Participating Shares and thereby dilute the power of existing shareholders for the purposes of voting on matters that may materially adversely vary or abrogate the rights of the Participating Shareholders.

Additional Note: many of the rights that shareholders of a company typically hold (e.g. the right to receive notices, and the right to vote at general meetings, including in respect of the appointment and removal of directors) are held by the Management Shareholder (Mark Patrick) rather than the Participating Shareholders. In addition, the Directors (Mark Patrick and Paul Murphy) have the ability to unilaterally declare dividends and issue new Participating Shares without the approval of the Participating Shareholders (or the Management Shareholder).

Share Redemption

Share Redemption

""Participating Share" means a non-voting, participating, non-redeemable share in the capital of the Company of $0.01 nominal or par value issued subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the Act and these Articles..."

"... the Company shall have power to redeem or purchase any of its shares and to sub-divide or consolidate the said shares or any of them..." (Paragraph 7, Memorandum)

"The rights conferred upon the holders of the Participating Shares ... shall not ... be deemed to be materially adversely varied or abrogated by ... the redemption or purchase of any Participating Shares of any Class by the Company." (Art 14)

Participating Shareholders do not have:

- the right to redeem their shares; or
- the right to vote on the Company's redemption of their shares.

Transfer of Shares

Share Transfer by Notice of the Directors – Restricted Person

"If it comes to the notice of the Directors that any Shares are held by a Restricted Person the Directors may by notice in writing require the transfer of such Shares in exercise of their powers under these Articles." (Art 21)

"Restricted Person" means any Person holding Participating Shares:

a) in breach of the law or requirements of any country or governmental authority;

b) that is not an entity or organisation exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code or an entity or organisation all of whose beneficiaries are exempt under Section 501 (c)(3) of the Code; or

c) in circumstances (whether directly or indirectly affecting such Person and whether taken alone or in conjunction with any other Person, connected or not, or any other circumstances) which, in the opinion of the Directors, might result in the Company incurring any liability to taxation or suffering any other pecuniary, legal, regulatory or administrative disadvantage which the Company might not otherwise have incurred or suffered."

Note: the Directors have duties to act, and to exercise their powers, in the best interests of the Company. The scope of those duties includes continually evaluating whether any Participating Shareholder may pose a threat to the Company which could cause them to fall within the definition of Restricted Person, and how best to protect the Company against any such threat.

General Meetings

General Meetings

"Participating Shares shall confer upon a Shareholder no right to receive notice of, to attend, to speak at nor to vote at general meetings of the Company..." (Art 12)

Participating Shareholders do not have:

- the right to receive notice of general meetings;
- the right to attend general meetings;
- the right to speak at general meetings;

"The Directors may from time to time determine whether and to what extent and at what times and places and under what conditions or regulations the accounts and books of the Company or any of them shall be open to the inspection of Shareholders not being Directors, and no Shareholder (not being a Director) shall have any right of inspecting any account or book or document of the Company except as conferred by law or authorised by the Directors or by Ordinary Resolution." (Art 110)

Participating shareholders have very limited information rights. Specifically, the articles do not provide the Participating Shareholders with the following:

- the right to inspect any account;
- the right to inspect any book; or
- the right to inspect any document of the Company.

Further to the above, we note that :

- This only applies to the limited company which issued the participation shares, i.e. DAF HoldCo;
- It does not apply to subsidiary entities;
- It does not apply to entities in which DAF HoldCo holds a passive interest; and
- There is no "look- through" down through all the entities in the structure.

SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION OPERATING AGREEMENT

THIS SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION OPERATING AGREEMENT (this "Agreement") is made and entered into on November 30, 2011, by and between THE DALLAS FOUNDATION ("Foundation") and the HIGHLAND DALLAS FOUNDATION, INC. ("Supporting Organization"),

RECITALS:

A. Foundation is a Texas nonprofit corporation exempt from taxation under Internal Revenue Code ("Code") Section 501(c)(3), and a public charity described in Sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) of the Code. The principal objective of Foundation is to solicit, receive and accept property to be administered, used and applied for charitable purposes, primarily but not exclusively in or for the benefit of Dallas County, Texas.

B. Supporting Organization, a Delaware nonprofit non-stock charitable corporation, is established to operate exclusively for the benefit of, to perform the functions of, or carry out the purposes of Foundation.

C. Supporting Organization expects to obtain a determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") that Supporting Organization is a tax-exempt organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code and a Type 1 supporting organization described in Section 509(a)(3) of the Code.

D. Foundation and Supporting Organization have entered into this Agreement for the purpose of documenting their agreements relating to the operation of Supporting Organization as a Type 1 supporting organization of Foundation. It is the intent of the parties that the assets held by Supporting Organization will generate funds for grantmaking primarily but not exclusively in Dallas County and for the payment of fees to Foundation under this Agreement.

NOW THEREFORE, the parties agree as follows:

1. GOVERNANCE OF SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION

1.1 OPERATIONS. Supporting Organization is a separately-incorporated corporation, solely responsible for its own operations and for its compliance with tax and other laws. At all times during the term of this Agreement, Supporting Organization shall operate as a Type 1 supporting organization of Foundation, as contemplated in Section 509(a)(3)(B)(i) of the Code. Foundation recognizes that assets contributed to Supporting Organization will be held in the name of Supporting Organization and will be subject to spending and investment policies as shall be determined by the Board of Directors of Supporting Organization from time to time.

1.2 BOARD OF DIRECTORS. Supporting Organization's Board of Directors will be the governing body for Supporting Organization. Unless otherwise agreed by the parties, Supporting Organization's initial Board of Directors shall consist of three (3) members.

(a) FOUNDATION APPOINTMENTS. Foundation's Board of Trustees, as required by the Code, will at all times appoint a majority of Supporting Organization's directors. Foundation will cooperate with Supporting Organization to ensure that all persons appointed by Foundation are committed to the purposes of Supporting Organization. Foundation's appointees to Supporting Organization's Board of Directors may include Foundation's trustees or staff, as well as third parties selected by Foundation. Foundation's appointees shall not, apart from their service as Supporting Organization directors or officers, be "disqualified persons" with respect to Supporting Organization as defined in Sections 509(a)(3)(C) and 4946 of the Code. Supporting Organization shall notify Foundation if any appointee is a disqualified person other than by virtue of his or her service as a Supporting Organization director or officer. Foundation's appointees to Supporting Organization's Board of Directors shall serve in accordance with Supporting Organization's Bylaws.

(b) SUPPORTING ORGANIZATION APPOINTMENTS. Mr. James Dondero or his successor shall elect or appoint a minority of the members of the Board of Directors of Supporting Organization (i.e., one, as long as the Board of Directors numbers three), who may be a disqualified person(s).

(c) DISQUALIFIED PERSONS. Under no circumstances shall individuals who are disqualified persons (other than by virtue of their service as directors or officers of Supporting Organization) have majority control of Supporting Organization's Board of Directors or have veto powers over actions by the Supporting Organization's Board of Directors, nor shall disqualified persons described in Section 4946 of the Code and persons described in Section 4958(c)(3)(B) of the Code be compensated by Supporting Organization or receive grants, loans or similar payments from Supporting Organization.

1.3 NO COMPENSATION. The parties agree that in order to avoid even the perception of personal benefit, no directors of Supporting Organization shall receive compensation for their service as such. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Supporting Organization's directors may be reimbursed for reasonable and necessary out of pocket expenses actually incurred for their board service.

1.4 MEETINGS. Supporting Organization's Board of Directors shall meet at least once annually in a manner permitted under Delaware law. The directors shall meet at least once annually in person, unless unforeseen circumstances make attendance in person impossible.

2. FINANCE AND OPERATIONS

2.1 FISCAL YEAR. Supporting Organization's fiscal year shall be the calendar year.

2.2 SERVICES. Foundation will provide the services to Supporting Organization described in SCHEDULE A, attached, and as such schedule may be amended by Foundation and Supporting Organization in writing from time to time.

2.3 FEES:

(a) In consideration for Foundation's services under this Agreement, Supporting Organization shall pay to Foundation the annual fees described more particularly in SCHEDULE B, attached.

(b) The parties may agree to additional fees in respect to the performance of any additional services not described in SCHEDULE A to this agreement. Foundation shall notify the Supporting Organization in advance of any changes in annual fees set forth in SCHEDULE A.

2.4 INVESTMENTS

(a) From time to time, some or all of Supporting Organization's funds may be invested with the pooled endowment funds of Foundation to achieve economies of scale and strive for the highest expected level of returns for a given level of risk with the goal of enabling Supporting Organization to achieve its philanthropic and financial objectives. Decisions with respect to the retention, investment, or reinvestment of assets or commingling of assets shall be made by Foundation's Board of Trustees or by a committee or agent authorized by the Board of Trustees, in accordance with Foundation's investment policies. Supporting Organization's funds will be accounted for and reported on separately.

(b) Supporting Organization may at any time remove any or all of its funds invested with Foundation's pooled investment fund and invest its own funds separately from those of Foundation, subject to limitations on investment withdrawals with regard to any particular investment class (e.g., limitations on early withdrawals from "fund of funds"). Supporting Organization may select its own custodian and investment consultant and pay the relevant fees directly, subject to Section 1.2(c) of this Agreement.

3. TERM

3.1 COMMENCEMENT. The term of this Agreement commenced upon the contribution of funds to Supporting Organization on November 30, 2011.

3.2 TERM. Supporting Organization and Foundation intend to engage in a long-term relationship. The initial term of this agreement shall be one year, and the term shall be renewed automatically for successive one-year periods. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this agreement may be terminated at any time by either party providing the other party with 30 days advance written notice of its intent to terminate the Agreement. Should either party wish to terminate this relationship, the following process will be followed:

(a) The parties will agree on amendments to the certificate of incorporation and bylaws of Supporting Organization. The amendments will change the status of Supporting Organization from a supporting organization of Foundation and provide for the transfer of Supporting Organization's assets to one or more of the following entities as determined by Supporting Organization:

(i) A stand-alone publicly-supported organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code.

(ii) A supporting organization of another publicly-supported 501(c)(3) organization.

(iii) A donor-advised fund of a publicly-supported organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code.

(b) Neither party will unreasonably withhold its approval of these amendments.

(c) In the event of the termination of this Agreement, each party shall be responsible for its own fees and costs related to the termination.

3.3 LOSS OF TAX-EXEMPT STATUS. This agreement shall be automatically terminated in the event that Supporting Organization is determined to not qualify as a tax-exempt organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code.

4. INDEMNIFICATION AND INSURANCE

4.1 Foundation will indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Supporting Organization, its officers, directors, employees, members, agents, and affiliated organizations against and from any claims, liability, suits, damages, losses, or expenses whatsoever, including reasonable attorneys fees incurred, arising or alleged to arise out of the acts or omissions of Foundation, its officers, employees, members, agents, and affiliated organizations, under this Agreement. Foundation will maintain at all times during the term of this Agreement general liability and director and officer liability insurance in such amounts and against such risks as are standard in the industry, naming Supporting Organization and its directors and officers as additional insureds. The coverage will protect against the acts or omissions of Supporting Organization, its officers, directors, agents, and employees.

4.2 Supporting Organization will indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Foundation, its officers, trustees, employees, members, agents, and affiliated organizations against and from any claims, liability, suits, damages, losses, or expenses whatsoever, including reasonable attorneys fees incurred, arising or alleged to arise out of the acts or omissions of Supporting Organization, its officers, directors, employees, members, agents, and affiliated organizations, under this Agreement.

5. MISCELLANEOUS

5.1 GOVERNING LAW. This Agreement and the legal relations between the parties shall be governed by and construed under the laws of the State of Texas.

5.2 RECORDS. Supporting Organization will supply to Foundation on a timely basis copies of the following materials as they are created, updated, or amended: incorporation documents; annual filings with the State of Texas; meeting minutes and actions of the Board of Directors and of any committee with Board authority; board contact information; investment statements; and board policies.

5.3 PUBLICITY. Foundation may disclose the existence, funding and grants of the Supporting Organization in its Annual Report and other documentation published by Foundation. Any information presented for publication by the media shall be approved in advance by Supporting Organization. Foundation reserves the right to approve in advance any publicity from Supporting Organization mentioning Foundation.

5.4 FURTHER ASSURANCES. Each of the parties hereto does hereby covenant and agree, without any further consideration, to execute, acknowledge, and deliver all such other documents and to take all such other actions as may be necessary or convenient in order to carry out more effectively any of the purposes of this Agreement.

5.5 AMENDMENTS. This Agreement may be amended from time to time only by written instrument signed by both parties; and this Agreement shall be amended by the parties whenever necessary or advisable in order to comply with requirements of the Code relating to tax-exempt organizations and supporting organizations.

5.6 ENTIRE AGREEMENT. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the parties pertaining to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements between the parties with regard to such subject matter.

Agreement and Acknowledgment of Legal Relationship

The Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. (the "Foundation") will request the IRS to grant to it public charity status, effective as of the date of its incorporation, by reason of its supporting organization relationship with the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation, a Missouri nonprofit corporation ("Community Foundation"). This relationship requires the active oversight and involvement of the Community Foundation. In furtherance of this relationship, the Community Foundation and the Foundation agree as follows:

The Community Foundation shall provide the following Base Services to the Foundation: (1) quarterly statements evidencing all account transactions including receipts, disbursements and investment earnings, (2) access to on-line tools provided to donors by the Community Foundation, (3) information upon request regarding grant making opportunities, (4) processing of all grants, (5) all other services generally provided for donor advised funds by the Community Foundation under the standard administrative fee schedule, and (6) appointment of two of the three directors of the Foundation as required by the Foundation's Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws. The Administrative Fee Schedule is subject to modification and may be increased or decreased at the sole discretion of the Community Foundation's Board of Directors. Further the Foundation shall cooperate in any audit of the Community Foundation for which information related to the Foundation is requested. In the event of the death of an Individual Member, such member's personal representative of his estate, or trustee of a trust to which the Individual Member transferred his interest, may, if necessary, act as the Individual Member hereunder until such time as the Individual Member interest is transferred from the estate or trust.

Such request shall state the purpose or purposes of the proposed meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.8 Notice of Meetings of Members. When notice is required to be given for a meeting of the members, such notice shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting and shall be given to each member at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting (at least three (3) days in the case of a special meeting). If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number. If delivered by telephone, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the time the telephone message shall reach and be communicated to a responsible individual at the phone number listed for a member's residence or place of business.

If the adjournment is for more than 30 days, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

Section 2.10 Voting. When a quorum is present at any meeting, the vote of a majority of the number of votes held by the members, present in person or represented by proxy, shall be the act of the members, unless the act of a greater number is required by Law or expressly by these Bylaws.

Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the members may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without taking a vote if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by the member(s) holding the number of votes necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all members entitled to vote thereon were present and voted. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 2.12. Prompt notice of the taking of an action by the members without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to each member who did not consent in writing to the action. Each such consent must state the date of each member's signature. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the members at an actual meeting.

ARTICLE III

Section 3.7 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held at such place and at such time as may be determined by the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the annual meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such annual meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of an annual meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.8 Additional Regular Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold additional regular meetings for the purpose of taking any action and conducting any business that may properly come before the Board of Directors. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number. If delivered by telephone, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the time the telephone message shall reach and be communicated to a responsible individual at the phone number listed for a Director's residence or place of business.

Section 3.11 Purpose not Required in Notice. Unless specifically required by the Law or these Bylaws for a particular action, the purpose of and business to be transacted at a meeting need not be specified in the notice of such meeting or in a waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 3.12 Waiver of Notice. Any Director may waive notice of any meeting by a writing signed by the Director, whether signed before or after the holding of such meeting, and such signed written waiver shall be deemed the equivalent of the Director having received notice. A Director's attendance at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business of such meeting on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

Section 3.13 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by all of the then-serving Directors. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 3.13. All actions taken at a meeting of the Board of Directors which is not regularly called or noticed shall be valid as if taken at a meeting regularly called and noticed if each Director either consents in writing or is present at such meeting and does not object to the meeting being held. At such meeting any business may be transacted which is not excepted from the written consent or which is not objected to at such meeting for want of notice. If any meeting of the Board of Directors is irregular for want of notice, the proceedings of such meeting may be ratified, approved and rendered valid, and the irregularity or defect therein waived, by a writing signed by all Directors, provided a quorum was present at such meeting.

Section 3.15 Quorum and Manner of Acting. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board of Directors shall consist of a majority of the then serving Directors. Except as otherwise provided by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, the vote of a majority of the Directors present at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Board of Directors. Any Director may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors or committee by means of conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other and such participation shall constitute presence in person at the meeting. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the Directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present. Notice of any adjourned meeting need not be given, except that notice shall be given to all Directors if the adjournment is for more than thirty days.

Section 3.16 Resignation and Removal of Directors. Each Director may resign at any time by written notice delivered to the member that appointed such Director and to the President and Secretary of the Corporation. A resignation is effective when the resignation is delivered unless the resignation specifies a later effective date or an effective date determined upon the happening of an event or events. A resignation that is conditioned upon the director failing to receive a specified vote for reelection as a director may provide that it is irrevocable. The Institutional Member may remove an Institutional Director at any time, with or without cause. The Individual Member may remove an Individual Director at any time, with or without cause.

ARTICLE VI

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Section 6.1 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be the calendar year unless changed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.2 Depositories. The Board of Directors or an officer designated by the Board shall appoint banks, trust companies, or other depositories in which shall be deposited from time to time the money or securities of the Corporation.

Section 6.3 Checks, Drafts and Notes. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money and all notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the Corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers or agent or agents as shall from time to time be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors or by an officer appointed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.4 Contracts and Other Instruments. The Board of Directors may authorize any officer, agent or agents to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

Section 6.5 Conflicts of Interest. No contract or agreement may be entered into by and between the corporation and any of the following: (a) a Director, officer, or employee of the corporation (hereinafter an "Insider"); or (b) any corporation, partnership, trust, sole proprietorship or any other entity (hereinafter an "Entity") in which an interest is owned or held, directly or indirectly, by or for the benefit of an Insider, unless (i) the transaction is approved in accordance with Section 144 of the Delaware General Corporation Law to the extent such provision is applicable to the transaction; and (ii) if one or more of the parties to the contract or transaction is a "disqualified person" with respect to the corporation within the meaning of Section 4958 of the Code, either (x) such transaction is reviewed and approved in accordance with the "rebuttable presumption safe harbor" provisions set forth in the regulations promulgated under Section 4958 of the Code or (y) the Board of Directors determines that such procedures are not necessary for the transaction involved and records its specific findings for making such determination; provided, however, that the following contracts and agreements shall not be subject to the foregoing prohibition: a gratuitous transfer of assets or promise to transfer assets to the corporation of any kind, including but not limited to, (i) a gift annuity, charitable remainder trust, charitable lead trust or similar split-interest arrangement which benefits both the Insider and the corporation; or (ii) a loan, lease, agreement of sale or purchase, pledge, guarantee, assumption of liability, bailment, or consignment. All Insiders shall, as a condition of qualifying and continuing to qualify as a Director, officer, and/or employee of the corporation, abide by such conflict of interest policies as the Board of Directors may adopt from time to time.

Section 6.6 Waivers of Notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the Law or of the Certificate of Incorporation or of these Bylaws, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to said notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to notice. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when the person attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the members, Directors or members of a committee of directors need be specified in any written waiver of notice.

Section 6.7 Ownership Interests in Other Entities. Any ownership interests (e.g., shares of stock in any other corporation which may from time to time be held by this Corporation) may be represented and voted at any meeting of owners of such entity by the President, or by any other person or persons thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, or by any proxy designated by written instrument of appointment executed in the name of this Corporation by its President.

Section 6.8 Indemnification.

(a) Each person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that the person is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation or is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation who is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to employee benefit plans, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the laws of Delaware as the same now or may hereafter exist (but, in the case of any change, only to the extent that such change authorizes the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than said law permitted the Corporation to provide prior to such change) against all costs, charges, expenses, liabilities and losses (including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such person in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a Director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the person's heirs, executors and administrators. The right to indemnification conferred in this Section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition upon receipt by the Corporation of an undertaking, by or on behalf of such director or officer, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that the director or officer is not entitled to be indemnified under this Section or otherwise. The Corporation may, by action of its Board of Directors, provide indemnification to employees and agents of the Corporation with the same scope and effect as the foregoing indemnification of Directors and officers.

(b) If a claim under subsection (a) of this Section is not paid in full by the Corporation within thirty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation, the claimant may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim and, if successful in whole or in part, the claimant shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting such claim. It shall be a defense to any action (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for expenses incurred in defending any proceeding in advance of its final disposition where the required undertaking has been tendered to the Corporation) that the claimant has failed to meet a standard of conduct which makes it permissible under Delaware law for the Corporation to indemnify the claimant for the amount claimed, but the burden of proving such defense shall be on the Corporation. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such action that indemnification of the claimant is permissible in the circumstances because the claimant has met such standard of conduct, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) that the claimant has not met such standard of conduct, nor the termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that the claimant has failed to meet the required standard of conduct.

(c) The right to indemnification and the payment of expenses incurred in defending a proceeding in advance of its final disposition conferred in this Section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws, agreement, vote of members or disinterested Directors or otherwise.

(d) The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any Director, member, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under Delaware law.

(e) To the extent that any Director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation is by reason of such position, or a position with another entity at the request of the Corporation, a witness in any proceeding, such person shall be indemnified against all costs and expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person or on such person's behalf in connection therewith.

(f) Any amendment, repeal or modification of any provision of this Section by the members or the Directors of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a Director or officer of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal or modification.

(g) The provisions of this Section 6.7, and the limitations on liability and indemnification provided in such Section, shall survive the winding up and termination of the Corporation to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Section 6.9 Amendment of Bylaws. Only the members, by the affirmative unanimous vote of the members entitled to vote, may adopt, amend, or repeal these Bylaws, and alterations or amendments of these Bylaws made by the members shall not be altered or amended by the Board of Directors to the extent such alteration or amendment expressly states that it can only be altered or amended by the members.

HIGHLAND KANSAS CITY FOUNDATION, INC.

ARTICLE I

OFFICES

Section 1.1 Registered Office. The registered office of Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. (the "Corporation") shall be maintained in the County of New Castle, State of Delaware, and the registered agent in charge thereof is The Corporation Trust Company.

Section 1.2 Other Offices. The Corporation may also have an office in the City of Dallas, State of Texas, and also offices at such other places as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the Corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

MEMBERSHIP

Section 2.1 Classes and Number. The Corporation shall have two classes of members and one member in each such class: the Institutional Member, which shall be the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation, and the Individual Member, which shall be James Dondero or an individual designated as the Individual Member in accordance with these Bylaws.

Section 2.2 Voting. Except as otherwise provided in these Bylaws, the Institutional Member shall be entitled to two (2) votes upon each matter submitted to a vote of the members, and the Individual Member shall be entitled to one (1) vote upon each matter submitted to a vote of the members. In addition to any voting rights provided in these Bylaws, members shall be entitled to vote upon any matter with respect to which the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, or its successor statute, as amended (the "Law"), requires a vote of the members.

Section 2.3 Transfer of Membership. Institutional Membership in the Corporation is not transferable or assignable. The Individual Membership is transferable or assignable as provided herein only upon the approval of the Institutional Member, with such approval not to be unreasonably withheld by the Institutional Member. Subject to the approval of the Institutional Member, Mr. Dondero, as the initial Individual Member, may at any time pursuant to a written notice delivered to the Institutional Member during his lifetime or by a provision in his Will or other testamentary document, transfer his Individual Member interest to an individual, or designate an individual, or series of individuals, to whom such Individual Member interest is to be transferred upon the occurrence of a future contingency, such as the death or failure to act of a current or future Individual Member. Each successor Individual Member shall succeed to the rights of the initial Individual Member. Subject to the approval of the Institutional Member, each successor Individual Member may in the same manner transfer his Individual Member interest to an individual, or designate an individual, or series of individuals, to whom such Individual Member interest is to be transferred upon the occurrence of a future contingency, such as the death or failure to act of a current or future Individual Member. In the event of a conflict between such transfer documents, the one bearing the latest date shall control. Each Individual Member may at any time revoke his transfer document that is to be effective in the future, in whole or in part, by written notice delivered to the Institutional Member. If at any time an Individual Member shall be disabled and no transfer of such member's interest is to occur as a result of such disability in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this Section, then such member's attorney-in-fact under a valid, effective power of attorney instrument may act for such member hereunder. In the event of the death of an Individual Member, such member's personal representative of his estate, or trustee of a trust to which the Individual Member transferred his interest, may, if necessary, act as the Individual Member hereunder until such time as the Individual Member interest is transferred from the estate or trust.

Section 2.4 Resignation of Member. A member may resign at any time upon written notice to the Secretary.

Section 2.5 Place of Meetings. All meetings of the members shall be held by means of remote communication as authorized by the Law, unless the Board of Directors decides to hold such a meeting by another permitted means.

Section 2.6 Annual Meetings. Except as otherwise provided by these Bylaws, annual meeting of the members, commencing with the year 2012, shall be held at such date and time in the month of December as shall be provided by resolution of the Board of Directors, at which the members shall elect a Board of Directors, and transact such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.7 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the members, for any purpose or purposes, unless otherwise prescribed by the Law or by the Certificate of Incorporation, may be called by the President and shall be called by the Secretary at the request of a majority of the Board of Directors, or at the request in writing of a member entitled to vote at such meeting. Such request shall state the purpose or purposes of the proposed meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.8 Notice of Meetings of Members. When notice is required to be given for a meeting of the members, such notice shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting and shall be given to each member at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting (at least three (3) days in the case of a special meeting). Notice shall be given (a) by written notice delivered personally, (b) by written notice sent by mail, email, or facsimile to the member's mailing address, email address, or facsimile number as shown by the records of the Corporation, or (c) by telephone. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number. If delivered by telephone, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the time the telephone message shall reach and be communicated to a responsible individual at the phone number listed for a member's residence or place of business.

Section 2.9 Quorum. Both the Institutional Member and the Individual Member must be present in person or represented by proxy in order to constitute a quorum at all meetings of the members for the transaction of business, except as otherwise required by Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws. If, however, such quorum shall not be present or represented at any meeting of the members, the member entitled to vote thereat, present in person or represented by proxy, shall have the power to adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than announcement at the meeting, of the place, date and hour of the adjourned meeting, until a quorum shall be present or represented by proxy. At the adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented by proxy, the Corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting. If the adjournment is for more than 30 days, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

Section 2.10 Voting. When a quorum is present at any meeting, the vote of a majority of the number of votes held by the members, present in person or represented by proxy, shall be the act of the members, unless the act of a greater number is required by Law or expressly by these Bylaws.

Section 2.11 Proxies. At any meeting of the members, any member entitled to vote, consent or approve any action or matter may do so in person or by proxy authorized by an instrument in writing or by a transmission permitted by law. Any member represented by proxy shall be counted as present at such meeting for all purposes. Any copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reliable reproduction of the writing or transmission created pursuant to these Bylaws may be substituted or used in lieu of the original writing or transmission that could be used, provided that the copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reproduction shall be a complete reproduction of the entire original writing or transmission.

Section 2.12 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the members may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without taking a vote if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by the member(s) holding the number of votes necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all members entitled to vote thereon were present and voted. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 2.13. Prompt notice of the taking of an action by the members without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to each member who did not consent in writing to the action. Each such consent must state the date of each member's signature. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the members at an actual meeting.

ARTICLE III

DIRECTORS

Section 3.1 General Powers. The business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of the Board of Directors, which may exercise all such powers of the Corporation and do all such acts and things as are not by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws directed or required to be exercised or done by the members, so long as the exercise of such powers and doing of such acts are consistent with the Corporation's prescribed purposes.

Section 3.2 Number of Directors. The number of Directors that shall constitute the Board of Directors shall be three (3). Two (2) Directors (the "Institutional Directors") shall be elected annually by the Institutional Member and one (1) Director (the "Individual Director") shall be elected annually by the Individual Member. Each Director shall hold office until such Director's successor is elected and qualified or until such Director's earlier death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal.

Section 3.3 Vacancies. If the office of any Director becomes vacant by reason of death, resignation, retirement, disqualification, removal from office, or otherwise, then (i) with respect to a vacancy of an Institutional Director seat, the Institutional Member shall elect a person to fill such vacancy, and (ii) with respect to a vacancy of an Individual Director seat, the Individual Member shall elect a person to fill such vacancy. If at any time there is no Individual Member who is able to fill a vacancy of an Individual Director seat, then the Institutional Member shall elect a successor Individual Director. Each Director elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of such Director's predecessor in office.

Section 3.4 Place of Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold its meetings outside of the State of Delaware, at the office of the Corporation or at such other places as they may from time to time determine, or as shall be fixed in the respective notices or waivers of notice of such meetings.

Section 3.5 Committees of Directors. The Corporation shall have no committees unless the Board of Directors, by resolution or resolutions passed by the unanimous vote of the Board, designates one or more committees.

Section 3.6 Compensation of Directors. Except to the extent prohibited by section 4958(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), Directors, as such, may receive such stated salary for their services and/or such fixed sums and expenses for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors as may be established by resolution of the Board; provided that nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to preclude any Director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 3.7 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held at such place and at such time as may be determined by the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the annual meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such annual meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of an annual meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.8 Additional Regular Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold additional regular meetings for the purpose of taking any action and conducting any business that may properly come before the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the regular meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such regular meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of a regular meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.9 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held at any time on the call of the President or at the request in writing of any one or more Directors upon not less than three (3) days notice to each director. The person or persons calling a special meeting of the Board of Directors shall fix a date, time and location for holding such special meeting, which shall be specified in a notice provided for such special meeting consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.10 Method and Timing of Notice. Unless otherwise provided herein, when notice is required to be given for a meeting of the Board of Directors, such notice shall be given to each Director at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting. Any notice given herein shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting. Notice shall be given (a) by written notice delivered personally, (b) by written notice sent by mail, email, or facsimile to the Director's mailing address, email address, or facsimile number as shown by the records of the Corporation, or (c) by telephone. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number. If delivered by telephone, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the time the telephone message shall reach and be communicated to a responsible individual at the phone number listed for a Director's residence or place of business.

Section 3.11 Purpose not Required in Notice. Unless specifically required by the Law or these Bylaws for a particular action, the purpose of and business to be transacted at a meeting need not be specified in the notice of such meeting or in a waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 3.12 Waiver of Notice. Any Director may waive notice of any meeting by a writing signed by the Director, whether signed before or after the holding of such meeting, and such signed written waiver shall be deemed the equivalent of the Director having received notice. A Director's attendance at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business of such meeting on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

Section 3.13 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by all of the then-serving Directors. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 3.13. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the Board of Directors at an actual meeting.

Section 3.14 Validation of Action by Consent. All actions taken at a meeting of the Board of Directors which is not regularly called or noticed shall be valid as if taken at a meeting regularly called and noticed if each Director either consents in writing or is present at such meeting and does not object to the meeting being held. At such meeting any business may be transacted which is not excepted from the written consent or which is not objected to at such meeting for want of notice. If any meeting of the Board of Directors is irregular for want of notice, the proceedings of such meeting may be ratified, approved and rendered valid, and the irregularity or defect therein waived, by a writing signed by all Directors, provided a quorum was present at such meeting.

Section 3.15 Quorum and Manner of Acting. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board of Directors shall consist of a majority of the then serving Directors. Except as otherwise provided by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, the vote of a majority of the Directors present at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Board of Directors. Any Director may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors or committee by means of conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other and such participation shall constitute presence in person at the meeting. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the Directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present. Notice of any adjourned meeting need not be given, except that notice shall be given to all Directors if the adjournment is for more than thirty days.

Section 3.16 Resignation and Removal of Directors. Each Director may resign at any time by written notice delivered to the member that appointed such Director and to the President and Secretary of the Corporation. A resignation is effective when the resignation is delivered unless the resignation specifies a later effective date or an effective date determined upon the happening of an event or events. A resignation that is conditioned upon the director failing to receive a specified vote for reelection as a director may provide that it is irrevocable. The Institutional Member may remove an Institutional Director at any time, with or without cause. The Individual Member may remove an Individual Director at any time, with or without cause.

ARTICLE IV

(d) in general, perform all duties incident to the office of Secretary, and such other duties as are provided by these Bylaws and as from time to time are assigned to him or her by the Board of Directors or by the President of the Corporation.

Section 4.7 The Assistant Secretaries. If one or more Assistant Secretaries shall be appointed pursuant to the provisions of Section 4.3 respecting subordinate officers, then, at the request of the Secretary, or in his or her absence or disability, the Assistant Secretary designated by the Secretary (or in the absence of such designations, then any one of such Assistant Secretaries) shall perform the duties of the Secretary and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the Secretary.

Section 4.8 Chairman. The Chairman, if any, shall preside when present at meetings of the Board of Directors; advise and counsel the other officers of the Corporation; and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors from time to time.

Section 4.9 The Chief Financial Officer. The Chief Financial Officer, if any, shall:

(a) receive and be responsible for all funds of and securities owned or held by the Corporation and, in connection therewith, among other things: keep or cause to be kept full and accurate records and accounts for the Corporation; deposit or cause to be deposited to the credit of the Corporation all moneys, funds and securities so received in such bank or other depository as the Board of Directors or an officer designated by the Board may from time to time establish; and disburse or supervise the disbursement of the funds of the Corporation as may be properly authorized;

(b) render to the Board of Directors at any meeting thereof, or from time to time whenever the Board of Directors or the chief executive officer of the Corporation may require, financial and other appropriate reports on the condition of the Corporation; and

Section 5.2 Inspection. The books, accounts, and records of the Corporation shall be open to inspection at all times by any member and by any member of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Section 6.1 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be the calendar year unless changed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.2 Depositories. The Board of Directors or an officer designated by the Board shall appoint banks, trust companies, or other depositories in which shall be deposited from time to time the money or securities of the Corporation.

Section 6.3 Checks, Drafts and Notes. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money and all notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the Corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers or agent or agents as shall from time to time be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors or by an officer appointed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.4 Contracts and Other Instruments. The Board of Directors may authorize any officer, agent or agents to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

Section 6.5 Conflicts of Interest. No contract or agreement may be entered into by and between the corporation and any of the following: (a) a Director, officer, or employee of the corporation (hereinafter an "Insider"); or (b) any corporation, partnership, trust, sole proprietorship or any other entity (hereinafter an "Entity") in which an interest is owned or held, directly or indirectly, by or for the benefit of an Insider, unless (i) the transaction is approved in accordance with Section 144 of the Delaware General Corporation Law to the extent such provision is applicable to the transaction; and (ii) if one or more of the parties to the contract or transaction is a "disqualified person" with respect to the corporation within the meaning of Section 4958 of the Code, either (x) such transaction is reviewed and approved in accordance with the "rebuttable presumption safe harbor" provisions set forth in the regulations promulgated under Section 4958 of the Code or (y) the Board of Directors determines that such procedures are not necessary for the transaction involved and records its specific findings for making such determination; provided, however, that the following contracts and agreements shall not be subject to the foregoing prohibition: a gratuitous transfer of assets or promise to transfer assets to the corporation of any kind, including but not limited to, (i) a gift annuity, charitable remainder trust, charitable lead trust or similar split-interest arrangement which benefits both the Insider and the corporation; or (ii) a loan, lease, agreement of sale or purchase, pledge, guarantee, assumption of liability, bailment, or consignment. All Insiders shall, as a condition of qualifying and continuing to qualify as a Director, officer, and/or employee of the corporation, abide by such conflict of interest policies as the Board of Directors may adopt from time to time.

Section 6.6 Waivers of Notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the Law or of the Certificate of Incorporation or of these Bylaws, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to said notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to notice. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when the person attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the members, Directors or members of a committee of directors need be specified in any written waiver of notice.

Section 6.7 Ownership Interests in Other Entities. Any ownership interests (e.g., shares of stock in any other corporation which may from time to time be held by this Corporation) may be represented and voted at any meeting of owners of such entity by the President, or by any other person or persons thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, or by any proxy designated by written instrument of appointment executed in the name of this Corporation by its President.

Section 6.8 Indemnification.

(a) Each person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that the person is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation or is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation who is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to employee benefit plans, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the laws of Delaware as the same now or may hereafter exist (but, in the case of any change, only to the extent that such change authorizes the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than said law permitted the Corporation to provide prior to such change) against all costs, charges, expenses, liabilities and losses (including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such person in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a Director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the person's heirs, executors and administrators. The right to indemnification conferred in this Section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition upon receipt by the Corporation of an undertaking, by or on behalf of such director or officer, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that the director or officer is not entitled to be indemnified under this Section or otherwise. The Corporation may, by action of its Board of Directors, provide indemnification to employees and agents of the Corporation with the same scope and effect as the foregoing indemnification of Directors and officers.

(b) If a claim under subsection (a) of this Section is not paid in full by the Corporation within thirty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation, the claimant may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim and, if successful in whole or in part, the claimant shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting such claim. It shall be a defense to any action (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for expenses incurred in defending any proceeding in advance of its final disposition where the required undertaking has been tendered to the Corporation) that the claimant has failed to meet a standard of conduct which makes it permissible under Delaware law for the Corporation to indemnify the claimant for the amount claimed, but the burden of proving such defense shall be on the Corporation. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such action that indemnification of the claimant is permissible in the circumstances because the claimant has met such standard of conduct, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) that the claimant has not met such standard of conduct, nor the termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that the claimant has failed to meet the required standard of conduct.

(c) The right to indemnification and the payment of expenses incurred in defending a proceeding in advance of its final disposition conferred in this Section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws, agreement, vote of members or disinterested Directors or otherwise.

(d) The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any Director, member, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under Delaware law.

(e) To the extent that any Director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation is by reason of such position, or a position with another entity at the request of the Corporation, a witness in any proceeding, such person shall be indemnified against all costs and expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person or on such person's behalf in connection therewith.

(f) Any amendment, repeal or modification of any provision of this Section by the members or the Directors of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a Director or officer of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal or modification.

(g) The provisions of this Section 6.7, and the limitations on liability and indemnification provided in such Section, shall survive the winding up and termination of the Corporation to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Section 6.9 Amendment of Bylaws. Only the members, by the affirmative unanimous vote of the members entitled to vote, may adopt, amend, or repeal these Bylaws, and alterations or amendments of these Bylaws made by the members shall not be altered or amended by the Board of Directors.

BYLAWS

HIGHLAND SANTA BARBARA FOUNDATION, INC.

ARTICLE I

OFFICES

Section 1.1 Registered Office. The registered office of Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc. (the "Corporation") shall be maintained in the County of New Castle, State of Delaware, and the registered agent in charge thereof is The Corporation Trust Company.

Section 1.2 Other Offices. The Corporation may also have an office in the City of Dallas, State of Texas, and also offices at such other places as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the Corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

MEMBERSHIP

Section 2.1 Classes and Number. The Corporation shall have two classes of members and one member in each such class: the Institutional Member, which shall be Santa Barbara Foundation, and the Individual Member, which shall be James Dondero or an individual designated as the Individual Member in accordance with these Bylaws.

Section 2.2 Voting. Except as otherwise provided in these Bylaws, the Institutional Member shall be entitled to two (2) votes upon each matter submitted to a vote of the members, and the Individual Member shall be entitled to one (1) vote upon each matter submitted to a vote of the members. In addition to any voting rights provided in these Bylaws, members shall be entitled to vote upon any matter with respect to which the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, or its successor statute, as amended (the "Law"), requires a vote of the members.

Section 2.3 Transfer of Membership. Institutional Membership in the Corporation is not transferable or assignable. The Individual Membership is transferable or assignable as provided herein only upon the approval of the Institutional Member, with such approval not to be unreasonably withheld by the Institutional Member. Subject to the approval of the Institutional Member, Mr. Dondero, as the initial Individual Member, may at any time pursuant to a written notice delivered to the Institutional Member during his lifetime or by a provision in his Will or other testamentary document, transfer his Individual Member interest to an individual, or designate an individual, or series of individuals, to whom such Individual Member interest is to be transferred upon the occurrence of a future contingency, such as the death or failure to act of a current or future Individual Member. Each successor Individual Member shall succeed to the rights of the initial Individual Member. Subject to the approval of the Institutional Member, each successor Individual Member may in the same manner transfer his Individual Member interest to an individual, or designate an individual, or series of individuals, to whom such Individual Member interest is to be transferred upon the occurrence of a future contingency, such as the death or failure to act of a current or future Individual Member. In the event of a conflict between such transfer documents, the one bearing the latest date shall control. Each Individual Member may at any time revoke his transfer document that is to be effective in the future, in whole or in part, by written notice delivered to the Institutional Member. If at any time an Individual Member shall be disabled and no transfer of such member's interest is to occur as a result of such disability in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this Section, then such member's attorney-in-fact under a valid, effective power of attorney instrument may act for such member hereunder. In the event of the death of an Individual Member, such member's personal representative of his estate, or trustee of a trust to which the Individual Member transferred his interest, may, if necessary, act as the Individual Member hereunder until such time as the Individual Member interest is transferred from the estate or trust.

Section 2.4 Resignation of Member. A member may resign at any time upon written notice to the Secretary.

Section 2.5 Place of Meetings. All meetings of the members shall be held by means of remote communication as authorized by the Law, unless the Board of Directors decides to hold such a meeting by another permitted means.

Section 2.6 Annual Meetings. Except as otherwise provided by these Bylaws, annual meeting of the members, commencing with the year 2012, shall be held at such date and time in the month of December as shall be provided by resolution of the Board of Directors, at which the members shall elect a Board of Directors, and transact such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.7 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the members, for any purpose or purposes, unless otherwise prescribed by the Law or by the Certificate of Incorporation, may be called by the President and shall be called by the Secretary at the request of a majority of the Board of Directors, or at the request in writing of a member entitled to vote at such meeting. Such request shall state the purpose or purposes of the proposed meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.8 Notice of Meetings of Members. When notice is required to be given for a meeting of the members, such notice shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting and shall be given to each member at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting (at least three (3) days in the case of a special meeting). Notice shall be given (a) by written notice delivered personally, (b) by written notice sent by mail, email, or facsimile to the member's mailing address, email address, or facsimile number as shown by the records of the Corporation, or (c) by telephone. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number. If delivered by telephone, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the time the telephone message shall reach and be communicated to a responsible individual at the phone number listed for a member's residence or place of business.

Section 2.9 Quorum. Both the Institutional Member and the Individual Member must be present in person or represented by proxy in order to constitute a quorum at all meetings of the members for the transaction of business, except as otherwise required by Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws. If, however, such quorum shall not be present or represented at any meeting of the members, the member entitled to vote thereat, present in person or represented by proxy, shall have the power to adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than announcement at the meeting, of the place, date and hour of the adjourned meeting, until a quorum shall be present or represented by proxy. At the adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented by proxy, the Corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting. If the adjournment is for more than 30 days, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

Section 2.10 Voting. When a quorum is present at any meeting, the vote of a majority of the number of votes held by the members, present in person or represented by proxy, shall be the act of the members, unless the act of a greater number is required by Law or expressly by these Bylaws.

Section 2.11 Proxies. At any meeting of the members, any member entitled to vote, consent or approve any action or matter may do so in person or by proxy authorized by an instrument in writing or by a transmission permitted by law. Any member represented by proxy shall be counted as present at such meeting for all purposes. Any copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reliable reproduction of the writing or transmission created pursuant to these Bylaws may be substituted or used in lieu of the original writing or transmission that could be used, provided that the copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reproduction shall be a complete reproduction of the entire original writing or transmission.

Section 2.12 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the members may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without taking a vote if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by the member(s) holding the number of votes necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all members entitled to vote thereon were present and voted. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 2.13. Prompt notice of the taking of an action by the members without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to each member who did not consent in writing to the action. Each such consent must state the date of each member's signature. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the members at an actual meeting.

ARTICLE III

DIRECTORS

Section 3.1 General Powers. The business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of the Board of Directors, which may exercise all such powers of the Corporation and do all such acts and things as are not by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws directed or required to be exercised or done by the members, so long as the exercise of such powers and doing of such acts are consistent with the Corporation's prescribed purposes.

Section 3.2 Number of Directors. The number of Directors that shall constitute the Board of Directors shall be three (3). Two (2) Directors (the "Institutional Directors") shall be elected annually by the Institutional Member and one (1) Director (the "Individual Director") shall be elected annually by the Individual Member. Each Director shall hold office until such Director's successor is elected and qualified or until such Director's earlier death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal.

Section 3.3 Vacancies. If the office of any Director becomes vacant by reason of death, resignation, retirement, disqualification, removal from office, or otherwise, then (i) with respect to a vacancy of an Institutional Director seat, the Institutional Member shall elect a person to fill such vacancy, and (ii) with respect to a vacancy of an Individual Director seat, the Individual Member shall elect a person to fill such vacancy. If at any time there is no Individual Member who is able to fill a vacancy of an Individual Director seat, then the Institutional Member shall elect a successor Individual Director. Each Director elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of such Director's predecessor in office.

Section 3.4 Place of Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold its meetings outside of the State of Delaware, at the office of the Corporation or at such other places as they may from time to time determine, or as shall be fixed in the respective notices or waivers of notice of such meetings.

Section 3.5 Committees of Directors. The Corporation shall have no committees unless the Board of Directors, by resolution or resolutions passed by the unanimous vote of the Board, designates one or more committees.

Section 3.6 Compensation of Directors. Except to the extent prohibited by section 4958(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), Directors, as such, may receive such stated salary for their services and/or such fixed sums and expenses for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors as may be established by resolution of the Board; provided that nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to preclude any Director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 3.7 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held at such place and at such time as may be determined by the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the annual meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such annual meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of an annual meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.8 Additional Regular Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold additional regular meetings for the purpose of taking any action and conducting any business that may properly come before the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the regular meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such regular meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of a regular meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.9 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held at any time on the call of the President or at the request in writing of any one or more Directors upon not less than three (3) days notice to each director. The person or persons calling a special meeting of the Board of Directors shall fix a date, time and location for holding such special meeting, which shall be specified in a notice provided for such special meeting consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.10 Method and Timing of Notice. Unless otherwise provided herein, when notice is required to be given for a meeting of the Board of Directors, such notice shall be given to each Director at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting. Any notice given herein shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting. Notice shall be given (a) by written notice delivered personally, (b) by written notice sent by mail, email, or facsimile to the Director's mailing address, email address, or facsimile number as shown by the records of the Corporation, or (c) by telephone. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number. If delivered by telephone, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the time the telephone message shall reach and be communicated to a responsible individual at the phone number listed for a Director's residence or place of business.

Section 3.11 Purpose not Required in Notice. Unless specifically required by the Law or these Bylaws for a particular action, the purpose of and business to be transacted at a meeting need not be specified in the notice of such meeting or in a waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 3.12 Waiver of Notice. Any Director may waive notice of any meeting by a writing signed by the Director, whether signed before or after the holding of such meeting, and such signed written waiver shall be deemed the equivalent of the Director having received notice. A Director's attendance at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business of such meeting on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

Section 3.13 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by all of the then-serving Directors. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 3.13. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the Board of Directors at an actual meeting.

Section 3.14 Validation of Action by Consent. All actions taken at a meeting of the Board of Directors which is not regularly called or noticed shall be valid as if taken at a meeting regularly called and noticed if each Director either consents in writing or is present at such meeting and does not object to the meeting being held. At such meeting any business may be transacted which is not excepted from the written consent or which is not objected to at such meeting for want of notice. If any meeting of the Board of Directors is irregular for want of notice, the proceedings of such meeting may be ratified, approved and rendered valid, and the irregularity or defect therein waived, by a writing signed by all Directors, provided a quorum was present at such meeting.

Section 3.15 Quorum and Manner of Acting. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board of Directors shall consist of a majority of the then serving Directors. Except as otherwise provided by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, the vote of a majority of the Directors present at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the Board of Directors. Any Director may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors or committee by means of conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other and such participation shall constitute presence in person at the meeting. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the Directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present. Notice of any adjourned meeting need not be given, except that notice shall be given to all Directors if the adjournment is for more than thirty days.

Section 3.16 Resignation and Removal of Directors. Each Director may resign at any time by written notice delivered to the member that appointed such Director and to the President and Secretary of the Corporation. A resignation is effective when the resignation is delivered unless the resignation specifies a later effective date or an effective date determined upon the happening of an event or events. A resignation that is conditioned upon the director failing to receive a specified vote for reelection as a director may provide that it is irrevocable. The Institutional Member may remove an Institutional Director at any time, with or without cause. The Individual Member may remove an Individual Director at any time, with or without cause.

ARTICLE IV

Section 4.7 The Assistant Secretaries. If one or more Assistant Secretaries shall be appointed pursuant to the provisions of Section 4.3 respecting subordinate officers, then, at the request of the Secretary, or in his or her absence or disability, the Assistant Secretary designated by the Secretary (or in the absence of such designations, then any one of such Assistant Secretaries) shall perform the duties of the Secretary and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the Secretary.

Section 4.8 Chairman. The Chairman, shall preside when present at meetings of the Board of Directors; advise and counsel the other officers of the Corporation; and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors from time to time.

Section 4.9 The Chief Financial Officer. The Chief Financial Officer, if any, shall:

(a) receive and be responsible for all funds of and securities owned or held by the Corporation and, in connection therewith, among other things: keep or cause to be kept full and accurate records and accounts for the Corporation; deposit or cause to be deposited to the credit of the Corporation all moneys, funds and securities so received in such bank or other depository as the Board of Directors or an officer designated by the Board may from time to time establish; and disburse or supervise the disbursement of the funds of the Corporation as may be properly authorized;

Section 5.2 Inspection. The books, accounts, and records of the Corporation shall be open to inspection at all times by any member and by any member of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Section 6.1 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be the calendar year unless changed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.2 Depositories. The Board of Directors or an officer designated by the Board shall appoint banks, trust companies, or other depositories in which shall be deposited from time to time the money or securities of the Corporation.

Section 6.3 Checks, Drafts and Notes. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money and all notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the Corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers or agent or agents as shall from time to time be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors or by an officer appointed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.4 Contracts and Other Instruments. The Board of Directors may authorize any officer, agent or agents to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

Section 6.5 Conflicts of Interest. No contract or agreement may be entered into by and between the corporation and any of the following: (a) a Director, officer, or employee of the corporation (hereinafter an "Insider"); or (b) any corporation, partnership, trust, sole proprietorship or any other entity (hereinafter an "Entity") in which an interest is owned or held, directly or indirectly, by or for the benefit of an Insider, unless (i) the transaction is approved in accordance with Section 144 of the Delaware General Corporation Law to the extent such provision is applicable to the transaction; and (ii) if one or more of the parties to the contract or transaction is a "disqualified person" with respect to the corporation within the meaning of Section 4958 of the Code, either (x) such transaction is reviewed and approved in accordance with the "rebuttable presumption safe harbor" provisions set forth in the regulations promulgated under Section 4958 of the Code or (y) the Board of Directors determines that such procedures are not necessary for the transaction involved and records its specific findings for making such determination; provided, however, that the following contracts and agreements shall not be subject to the foregoing prohibition: a gratuitous transfer of assets or promise to transfer assets to the corporation of any kind, including but not limited to, (i) a gift annuity, charitable remainder trust, charitable lead trust or similar split-interest arrangement which benefits both the Insider and the corporation; or (ii) a loan, lease, agreement of sale or purchase, pledge, guarantee, assumption of liability, bailment, or consignment. All Insiders shall, as a condition of qualifying and continuing to qualify as a Director, officer, and/or employee of the corporation, abide by such conflict of interest policies as the Board of Directors may adopt from time to time.

Section 6.6 Waivers of Notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the Law or of the Certificate of Incorporation or of these Bylaws, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to said notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to notice. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when the person attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the members, Directors or members of a committee of directors need be specified in any written waiver of notice.

Section 6.7 Ownership Interests in Other Entities. Any ownership interests (e.g., shares of stock in any other corporation which may from time to time be held by this Corporation) may be represented and voted at any meeting of owners of such entity by the President, or by any other person or persons thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, or by any proxy designated by written instrument of appointment executed in the name of this Corporation by its President.

Section 6.8 Indemnification.

(a) Each person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that the person is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation or is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation who is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to employee benefit plans, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the laws of Delaware as the same now or may hereafter exist (but, in the case of any change, only to the extent that such change authorizes the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than said law permitted the Corporation to provide prior to such change) against all costs, charges, expenses, liabilities and losses (including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such person in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a Director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the person's heirs, executors and administrators. The right to indemnification conferred in this Section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition upon receipt by the Corporation of an undertaking, by or on behalf of such director or officer, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that the director or officer is not entitled to be indemnified under this Section or otherwise. The Corporation may, by action of its Board of Directors, provide indemnification to employees and agents of the Corporation with the same scope and effect as the foregoing indemnification of Directors and officers.

(b) If a claim under subsection (a) of this Section is not paid in full by the Corporation within thirty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation, the claimant may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim and, if successful in whole or in part, the claimant shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting such claim. It shall be a defense to any action (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for expenses incurred in defending any proceeding in advance of its final disposition where the required undertaking has been tendered to the Corporation) that the claimant has failed to meet a standard of conduct which makes it permissible under Delaware law for the Corporation to indemnify the claimant for the amount claimed, but the burden of proving such defense shall be on the Corporation. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such action that indemnification of the claimant is permissible in the circumstances because the claimant has met such standard of conduct, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) that the claimant has not met such standard of conduct, nor the termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that the claimant has failed to meet the required standard of conduct.

(c) The right to indemnification and the payment of expenses incurred in defending a proceeding in advance of its final disposition conferred in this Section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws, agreement, vote of members or disinterested Directors or otherwise.

(d) The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any Director, member, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under Delaware law.

(e) To the extent that any Director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation is by reason of such position, or a position with another entity at the request of the Corporation, a witness in any proceeding, such person shall be indemnified against all costs and expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person or on such person's behalf in connection therewith.

(f) Any amendment, repeal or modification of any provision of this Section by the members or the Directors of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a Director or officer of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal or modification.

(g) The provisions of this Section 6.7, and the limitations on liability and indemnification provided in such Section, shall survive the winding up and termination of the Corporation to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Section 6.9 Amendment of Bylaws. Only the members, by the affirmative unanimous vote of the members entitled to vote, may adopt, amend, or repeal these Bylaws, and alterations or amendments of these Bylaws made by the members shall not be altered or amended by the Board of Directors.
