Counsel for Highland Capital Management, L.P. and the Highland Claimant Trust

EXHIBIT 1

TRUST AGREEMENT

This Trust Agreement is dated as of December 17, 2015 (this "Trust Agreement"), between Beacon Mountain, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, as sponsor (in such capacity, the "Sponsor"), John Honis as administrator (in such capacity, the "Administrator"), and Wilmington Trust, National Association, a national banking association, as Delaware trustee (the Delaware Trustee").

1. Definitions. Certain capitalized terms used in this Trust Agreement shall have the respective meaning assigned to them in this Section 1. All references herein to "the Agreement" or "this Agreement" are to this Trust Agreement as it may be amended and supplemented from time to time, and all references herein to Articles, Sections and subsections are to Articles, Sections and subsections of this Trust Agreement unless otherwise specified.

"Account" means the trust account or other account established by the Administrator in the name of the Trust for the benefit of the Sponsor at any financial institution selected from time to time by the Administrator in his sole and absolute discretion.

"Delaware Act" means the Delaware Statutory Trust Act, Chapter 38 of Title 12 of the Delaware Code, 12 Del. C. § 3801 et seq.

"Honis Cause" means conduct by Honis, in any capacity, amounting to (i) Honis's conviction or plea of nolo contendere for any criminal offense; (ii) dishonesty, fraud, willful misconduct, unlawful discrimination, bad faith or theft on the part of Honis that is injurious to any of the Applicable Entities; (iii) Honis's using for his own benefit any confidential or proprietary information of any of the Applicable Entities, or willfully or negligently divulging any such information to third parties without the prior written consent of the Partnership, in each case, other than as provided herein; (iv) a breach or violation of the terms of this Agreement or other agreement to which Honis or any of his Affiliates and any of the Applicable Entities are party in any manner that adversely affects any of the Applicable Entities; or (v) a breach of fiduciary duties. Any determination of whether conduct constitutes Honis Cause pursuant to this Agreement shall be made in the reasonable discretion of the Partnership, shall be made in good faith and shall be binding upon all parties affected thereby.

"Honis Trigger Event" means, with respect to Honis or any of his Affiliates, (i) the Bankruptcy of Honis; (ii) the death of Honis; (iii) the Disability of Honis; (iv) any conduct by Honis amounting to Honis Cause; (v) the termination of Honis's employment with, or the failure of Honis to be actively engaged in the management of, Rand Advisors; (vi) a change in the ownership of Rand Advisors, such that Honis fails to retain, directly or indirectly, majority voting control of Rand Advisors; (vii) a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of Rand Advisors; or (viii) the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 16. Honis agrees to give the Partnership ten (10) days' written notice of his Bankruptcy. "Limited Partnership" means Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership.

"Limited Partnership Agreement" means the Agreement of Limited Partnership of Highland Capital Management, L.P., as amended from time to time.

"Limited Partner Interests" means limited partner interests in the Limited Partnership.

"Person" means any individual or any corporation, association, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, business trust, trust, organization, governmental entity or other entity of any kind.

"Trust" means the Delaware statutory trust established and governed by this Trust Agreement.

"Trust Property" means all Limited Partnership Interests and all amounts in the Account, unless and until any of such Limited Partnership Interests are disposed of in accordance with this Trust Agreement.

2. Scope. This Trust Agreement governs the Trust and the disposition of all Trust Property, including amounts in the Account or otherwise held by the Trust now existing or hereafter arising. Each of the Sponsor, the Administrator and the Delaware Trustee hereby acknowledges that the Trust Property shall be held in trust for Beacon Mountain LLC under Delaware law solely for the use and purposes set forth herein.

3. Name; Certificate of Trust. The Trust shall be known as "HUNTER MOUNTAIN INVESTMENT TRUST", in which name the Administrator may conduct the business of the Trust, make and execute contracts and other instruments on behalf of the Trust and sue and be sued on behalf of the Trust, to the extent herein provided. The Delaware Trustee is authorized and directed to file a Certificate of Trust of the Trust with the Office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Delaware Act. It is the intention of the parties hereto that the Trust created hereby constitute a statutory trust under the Delaware Act and that this Trust Agreement constitute the governing instrument of the Trust.

4. Account Establishment. The Administrator shall establish and control the Account. The Account shall include Trust Property and may include other assets in the sole discretion of the Administrator.

5. Beneficial Owner; Liability of Beneficial Owner. The beneficial owner of the trust shall be Beacon Mountain LLC. Beacon Mountain LLC, as beneficial owner of the Trust, shall be entitled to the same limitation of liability extended to stockholders of private corporations for profit organized under the General Corporation Laws of the State of Delaware.

6. Title to Trust Property. Legal title to all Trust Property, including the Account, shall be vested at all times in the Trust as a separate legal entity, except where applicable law in any jurisdiction requires title to any part of the Trust Property or the Account, to be vested in a trustee or trustees, in which case title shall may be vested in a trustee, a co-trustee and/or a separate trustee, as the case may be, as selected by the Administrator. Title to Trust Property shall not be vested in the name of the Delaware Trustee without the Delaware Trustee's prior written consent.

7. Purpose and Powers of the Trust; Administrator's Powers. The Trust shall have the power and authority (i) to accept funds and other assets, (ii) to contribute or otherwise transfer funds and other assets to the Account, (iii) to acquire Limited Partnership Interests from (a) the limited partners of the Limited Partnership and (b) the Limited Partnership, in each case, with funds in the Account or other sources of funds, including through the incurrence of debt, and to hold such Limited Partnership Interests in the Account or otherwise and (iv) to dispose of or otherwise allocate such Limited Partnership Interests pursuant to and accordance with the terms and conditions of the Limited Partnership Agreement. The Administrator shall pursuant to Section 3806(b)(7) of the Delaware Act have the power and authority, and shall be duly authorized, from time to time, in his sole discretion to manage the business and affairs of the Trust, and to take the actions described in (i) through (iv) on behalf of the Trust. The Administrator shall have all additional powers and authority necessary or desirable, in the sole discretion of the Sponsor, for prompt and effective administration of the Trust created hereunder, unless the particular power or authority is specifically denied by this Trust Agreement. The Administrator shall also have the power to settle, compromise, submit to arbitration, or submit to any court having jurisdiction in the matter any matters in dispute.

8. Fiduciary Duties of Administrator. (a) The Administrator is authorized to acquire and retain the Limited Partnership Interests in accordance with the terms of this Trust Agreement without regard to any law limiting the nature of investments of fiduciaries.

(b) The Administrator agrees to perform his duties under this Trust Agreement in good faith and in the best interests of the Trust, but only upon the express terms of this Trust Agreement. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Administrator shall have all implied duties (including fiduciary duties) or liabilities existing at law or in equity with respect to the Trust. For the avoidance of doubt, to the fullest extent permitted by law, no Person other than the Administrator (including any such Person that may control or be under common control with the Administrator) shall have any duties (including fiduciary duties) or liabilities at law or in equity to the Trust, any beneficial owner or any other Person.

(c) To the extent that, at law or in equity, the Administrator has duties (including fiduciary duties) and liabilities relating thereto to the Trust or to any other Person, the Administrator shall not be liable to the Trust or to any other Person for his good faith reliance on the provisions of this Trust Agreement.

(d) Unless otherwise expressly provided herein:

(i) whenever a conflict of interest exists or arises between the Administrator or any of its affiliates, on the one hand, and the Trust or the beneficial owner, on the other hand; or

(ii) whenever this Trust Agreement or any other agreement contemplated herein or therein provides that the Administrator shall act in a manner that is, or provides terms that are, fair and reasonable to the Trust or the beneficial owner, the Administrator shall resolve such conflict of interest, take such action or provide such terms, considering in each case solely the interests of the Trust and the beneficial owner.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Trust Agreement or otherwise applicable law, whenever in this Trust Agreement the Administrator is permitted or required to make a decision:

(i) in his "discretion" or under a grant of similar authority, the Administrator shall be entitled to consider such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interest, and, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, shall have no duty or obligation to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting the Trust or any other Person; or

(ii) in his "good faith" or under another express standard, the Administrator shall act under such express standard and shall not be subject to any other or different standard. The term "good faith" as used in this Trust Agreement shall mean subjective good faith as such term is understood and interpreted under Delaware law.

(f) The Administrator and any of his affiliates may engage in or possess an interest in other profit-seeking or business ventures of any nature or description, independently or with others, whether or not such ventures are competitive with the Trust and the doctrine of corporate opportunity, or any analogous doctrine, shall not apply to the Administrator. The Administrator insofar as he acquires knowledge of a potential transaction, agreement, arrangement or other matter that may be an opportunity for the Trust shall not have any duty to communicate or offer such opportunity to the Trust, and the Administrator shall not be liable to the Trust or to the beneficial owners for breach of any fiduciary or other duty by reason of the fact that the Administrator pursues or acquires for, or directs such opportunity to another Person or does not communicate such opportunity or information to the Trust. Neither the Trust nor any beneficial owner shall have any rights or obligations by virtue of this Trust Agreement or the trust relationship created hereby in or to such independent ventures or the income or profits or losses derived therefrom, and the pursuit of such ventures, even if competitive with the activities of the Trust, shall not be deemed wrongful or improper. The Administrator may engage or be interested in any financial or other transaction with the Trust or any affiliate of the Trust, or may act as depositary for, trustee or agent for, or act on any committee or body of holders of, securities or other obligations of the Trust or its affiliates.

9. Recordkeeping and Accounting. The Administrator shall maintain appropriate records in which he shall record the Trust Property and the acquisition and disposition of Limited Partnership Interests.

10. Tax Treatment. The Sponsor and the Administrator acknowledge and agree that for United States Federal Income Tax purposes (i) the Trust shall be disregarded as an entity for federal income tax purposes. The Administrator shall comply with the information reporting requirements applicable to the Trust under the Internal Revenue Code and prepare and furnish to Beacon Mountain LLC any appropriate Internal Revenue Service forms required to be provided to Beacon Mountain LLC as beneficial owner of the Trust.

11. No Other Interests

(a) The Sponsor acknowledges that it has no rights or claims to specific Trust Property, including funds in the Account, and otherwise has no interest in the Trust Property or the Account other than a beneficial interest in the Trust Property and the Account.

(b) The Administrator acknowledges that he has no right, title, or interest in the Trust, the Trust Property, or the Account in his personal capacity and has no beneficial interest in the Trust.

12. Compensation; Administrator Liability. The Administrator shall not receive any compensation for his role as Administrator. Nothing herein shall be construed to limit the Administrator's ability to receive compensation pursuant to other agreements for services he may provide other than his role as Administrator. The Administrator shall be indemnified, defended and held harmless by the Trust for any liability incurred by him while acting hereunder, and shall not be liable to the Trust or the Sponsor, except for a breach of his fiduciary duties hereunder, his own bad faith, willful misconduct or gross negligence in the performance of his express duties under this Trust Agreement.

13. Amendment. The Administrator, solely with the consent of the beneficial owner, shall have the right at any time or times to amend or supplement the provisions of this Trust Agreement, in each case by a writing or writings signed by the Administrator; provided that no such amendment shall be permitted if it would subject any amount held hereunder to any right, charge, security interest, lien or claim by, of or for the benefit of any creditor or creditors of the Sponsor or its subsidiaries and affiliates in its corporate or personal capacity. If any such amendment or supplement affects the rights, immunities or obligations of the Delaware Trustee, the Administrator shall be required to obtain the prior written consent of the Delaware Trustee.

14. Duration. The Trust shall be perpetual unless otherwise dissolved and terminated pursuant to paragraph 15 below.

15. Termination. The Administrator shall have the power solely upon the prior written consent of the beneficial owner to dissolve the Trust and to distribute all Trust Property held in the Account to, or for the benefit of, such persons (including the Sponsor) as the Administrator shall determine in his sole discretion and after satisfying the claims and obligations of the Trust in accordance with the Delaware Act. Following any such dissolution, the Administrator shall proceed to wind up the affairs of the Trust in an orderly manner and within a reasonable period of time considering relevant circumstances and shall have the powers necessary to wind up the Trust's affairs, including but not limited to the power to fulfill or discharge the contracts of the Trust, collect its assets, sell, convey, exchange or otherwise dispose of all or any part of the remaining property of the Trust to one or more Persons at public or private sale (for consideration which may consist in whole or part of cash, securities or other property of any kind), discharge or pay its liabilities, defend or prosecute suits or administrative proceedings and do all other acts appropriate to the winding up and liquidation of the property and affairs of the Trust. After paying or making reasonable provision for the payment of all claims and obligations of the Trust as required by the Delaware Act, and upon receipt of such releases, indemnities or like documentation as the Administrator may reasonably deem necessary for the protection of the Administrator, the Administrator shall distribute the remaining property of the Trust as contemplated by this Trust Agreement. Upon the completion of winding up, the Trust shall terminate and the Administrator shall provide written notice directing the Delaware Trustee to file an appropriate form of Certificate of Cancellation to be filed in the Office of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware by the Delaware Trustee.

16. Removal of Administrator. Upon any Honis Trigger Event, the Administrator shall immediately be removed without any action by the Delaware Trustee or any other party.

17. Successor Administrator. The Administrator may resign as Administrator hereunder, without leave of court, at any time, and, in such event, the Adminstrator shall appoint a successor Administrator unless, prior to the effective date of his resignation, the Administrator dissolves the Trust in accordance with paragraph 15 above. Any appointment of a successor Administrator shall be in writing signed by the appointing Administrator, or by a duly authorized officer or officers of the appointing Administrator, if an entity. Whenever this Trust Agreement refers to the Administrator, such reference shall include any successor Administrator appointed under this paragraph. All powers hereby granted to the Administrator shall be exercisable by any successor Administrator, and each successor Administrator shall be deemed to have assumed the duties hereby undertaken by the Administrator.

Upon the termination of the Administrator in accordance with paragraph 16 above, Beacon Mountain, LLC shall appoint a successor Administrator within a reasonable period of time.

The Administrator shall not be required to furnish any bond or surety. No one dealing with the Administrator need inquire concerning the validity of anything the Administrator purports to do or see to the application of any money paid upon the Administrator's order.

18. Delaware Trustee.

(a) For purposes of satisfying Sections 3807 of the Delaware Act, during the existence of the Trust, there shall at all times be a "Delaware Trustee" hereunder who shall, in the case of a natural person, be a person who is a resident of the State of Delaware, or, in all other cases, is a trustee with its principal place of business in the State of Delaware. The Delaware Trustee shall not have any duties (including fiduciary duties) or liabilities except to the extent and for the limited purposes described in this paragraph. Accordingly, no reference in this Trust Agreement to the "Administrator" shall include, or be deemed to refer to, the Delaware Trustee. The sole power and duty of the Delaware Trustee shall be to accept service of process in accordance with Section 3804 of the Delaware Act and to execute and deliver for filing all documents required to be filed with the State of Delaware as required by the Delaware Act.

(b) The Sponsor and the Administrator hereby appoint Wilmington Trust, National Association as the initial Delaware Trustee. The initial Delaware Trustee and any successor Delaware Trustee may resign and may be removed by the Sponsor then serving for any reason, with or without cause. If the Delaware Trustee resigns or is removed, or if there is no Delaware Trustee serving at any time for any other reason, the Administrator shall appoint a successor Delaware Trustee who qualifies under the terms of this paragraph 18. Upon each appointment of a successor Delaware Trustee, the Administrator shall cause an amendment to the Certificate of Trust of the Trust that reflects such change to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware in accordance with the Delaware Act.

(c) By its execution hereof, the Delaware Trustee accepts its appointment hereunder. Except as otherwise expressly required by clause (a) above, the Delaware Trustee shall not have any duty or liability with respect to the administration of the Trust, the investment of the Trust Property or the payment of any distributions of income or principal to the beneficial owners.

(d) The Delaware Trustee shall not be liable for the acts or omissions of the Administrator, nor shall the Delaware Trustee be liable for supervising or monitoring the performance of or performing the duties and obligations of the Administrator, the Sponsor or the Trust under this Trust Agreement or any other document. The Delaware Trustee shall not be personally liable under any circumstances, except for its own willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence in the performance of its express duties under this Trust Agreement. In particular, but not by way of limitation:

(i) the Delaware Trustee shall not be personally liable for any error of judgment made in good faith, except to the extent such error of judgment constitutes gross negligence on its part;

(ii) no provision of this Trust Agreement shall require the Delaware Trustee to expend or risk its personal funds or otherwise incur any financial liability in the performance of its rights or powers hereunder, if the Delaware Trustee shall have reasonable grounds for believing that the payment of such funds or adequate indemnity against such risk or liability is not reasonably assured or provided to it;

(iii) under no circumstances shall the Delaware Trustee be personally liable for any representation, warranty, covenant, agreement, or indebtedness of the Trust;

(iv) the Delaware Trustee shall not be personally responsible for or in respect of the validity or sufficiency of this Trust Agreement or for the due execution hereof by the Sponsor or the Administrator;

(v) the Delaware Trustee shall incur no liability to anyone in acting upon any signature, instrument, notice, resolution, request, consent, order, certificate, report, opinion, bond or other document or paper reasonably believed by it to be genuine and reasonably believed by it to be signed by the proper party or parties. The Delaware Trustee may accept a certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors or other governing body of any corporate party as conclusive evidence that such resolution has been duly adopted by such body and that the same is in full force and effect. As to any fact or matter the manner of ascertainment of which is not specifically prescribed herein, the Delaware Trustee may for all purposes hereof rely on a certificate, signed by the Administrator, as to such fact or matter, and such certificate shall constitute full protection to the Delaware Trustee for any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in good faith in reliance thereon;

(vi) in the exercise or administration of the Trust hereunder, the Delaware Trustee (a) may act directly or through agents or attorneys pursuant to agreements entered into with any of them, and the Delaware Trustee shall not be liable for the default or misconduct of such agents or attorneys if such agents or attorneys shall have been selected by the Delaware Trustee in good faith and with due care and (b) may consult with counsel, accountants and other skilled persons to be selected by it in good faith and with due care and employed by it, and it shall not be liable for anything done, suffered or omitted in good faith by it in accordance with the advice or opinion of any such counsel, accountants or other skilled persons; and

(vii) except as expressly provided in this Section, in accepting and performing the Trust hereby created the Delaware Trustee acts solely as Delaware Trustee hereunder and not in its individual capacity, and all Persons having any claim against the Delaware Trustee by reason of the transactions contemplated by this Trust Agreement or the Trust Agreement shall look only to the Trust's property for payment or satisfaction thereof.

(e) The Delaware Trustee (or any successor Delaware Trustee) shall be entitled to receive compensation from the Sponsor or from the Trust for its services in accordance with such fee agreements and schedules as shall have been separately agreed to from time to time by the Delaware Trustee and the Sponsor. The Delaware Trustee may consult with counsel (who may be counsel for the Sponsor or for the Delaware Trustee). The reasonable legal fees incurred in connection with such consultation shall be reimbursed to the Delaware Trustee pursuant to this Section, provided that no such fees shall be payable to the extent that they are incurred as a result of the Delaware Trustee's gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct.

(f) The Delaware Trustee shall serve for the duration of the Trust and until the earlier of (i) the effective date of the Delaware Trustee's resignation, or (ii) the effective date of the removal of the Delaware Trustee. The Delaware Trustee may resign at any time by giving thirty (30) days written notice to the Administrator; provided, however, said resignation shall not be effective until such time as a successor Delaware Trustee has accepted such appointment. The Delaware Trustee may be removed at any time by the Administrator by providing thirty (30) days written notice to the Delaware Trustee; provided, however, such removal shall not be effective until such time as a successor Delaware Trustee has accepted such appointment. Upon the resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee, the Administrator shall appoint a successor Delaware Trustee. If no successor Delaware Trustee shall have been appointed and shall have accepted such appointment within forty five (45) days after the giving of such notice of resignation or removal, the Delaware Trustee may, at the expense of the Sponsor, petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor Delaware Trustee. Any successor Delaware Trustee appointed pursuant to this Section shall be eligible to act in such capacity in accordance with this Trust Agreement and, following compliance with this Section, shall become fully vested with the rights, powers, duties and obligations of its predecessor under this Trust Agreement, with like effect as if originally named as Delaware Trustee.

(g) The Delaware Trustee or any officer, affiliate, director, employee, or agent of the Delaware Trustee (each an "Indemnified Person") shall be entitled to indemnification from the Sponsor, to the fullest extent permitted by law, from and against any and all losses, claims, actions, suits, taxes, damages, reasonable expenses, and liabilities (including liabilities under state or federal securities laws) of any kind and nature whatsoever (collectively, "Expenses"), to the extent that such Expenses arise out of or are imposed upon or asserted against such Indemnified Persons with respect to the creation, operation or termination of the Trust, the execution, delivery or performance of this Trust Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby; provided, however, that the Sponsor shall not be required to indemnify any Indemnified Person for any Expenses which are a result of the willful misconduct, bad faith or gross negligence of such Indemnified Person. The obligations of the Sponsor to indemnify the Indemnified Persons as provided herein shall survive the termination of this Trust Agreement and the resignation or removal of the Delaware Trustee.

(h) The Delaware Trustee shall not be obligated to give any bond or other security for the performance of any of its duties hereunder.

19. Waiver of Jury Trial. THE PARTIES HERETO HEREBY WAIVE TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW ANY RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LITIGATION RELATING TO ANY CLAIM ARISING HEREUNDER OR RELATED HERETO.

20. Governing Law. The validity and construction of this Trust Agreement and all amendments hereto shall be governed by the laws of the State of Delaware, and the rights of all parties hereto and the effect of every provision hereof shall be subject to and construed according to the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to the conflicts of law provisions thereof; provided, however, that the parties hereto intend that the provisions hereof shall control over any contrary or limiting statutory or common law of the State of Delaware (other than the Delaware Act) and that, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, there shall not be applicable to the Trust, the Sponsor, or the Delaware Trustee any provision of the laws (statutory or common) of the State of Delaware (other than the Delaware Act) pertaining to trusts which relate to or regulate in a manner inconsistent with the terms hereof: (a) the filing with any court or governmental body or agency of trustee accounts or schedules of trustee fees and charges, (b) affirmative requirements to post bonds for trustees, officers, agents, or employees of a trust, (c) the necessity for obtaining court or other governmental approval concerning the acquisition, holding or disposition of real or personal property, (d) fees or other sums payable to trustees, officers, agents or employees of a trust, (e) the allocation of receipts and expenditures to income or principal, (f) restrictions or limitations on the permissible nature, amount or concentration of trust investments or requirements relating to the titling, storage or other manner of holding of trust assets, (g) the existence of rights or interests (beneficial or otherwise) in trust assets, (h) the ability of beneficial owners or other persons to terminate or dissolve a trust, or (i) the establishment of fiduciary or other standards or responsibilities or limitations on the acts or powers of trustees or beneficial owners that are inconsistent with the limitations on liability or authorities and powers of the Sponsor or the Delaware Trustee set forth or referenced in this Trust Agreement. Sections 3540, 3542 and 3561 of Title 12 of the Delaware Code shall not apply to the Trust.

21. Exclusive Jurisdiction. Each of the parties hereto, to the fullest extent permitted by law, (i) irrevocably agrees that any claims, suits, actions or proceedings arising out of or relating in any way to this Agreement (including any claims, suits or actions to interpret, apply or enforce (A) the provisions of this Agreement or (B) the duties, obligations or liabilities of the Sponsor, the Administrator and the Delaware Trustee, or (C) the rights or powers of, or restrictions on, the Trust, Sponsor, the Delaware Trustee or the Administrator, or (D) any provision of the Delaware Act, or (E) any other instrument, document, agreement or certificate contemplated by any provision of the Delaware Act relating to the Trust (regardless of whether such claims, suits, actions or proceedings (x) sound in contract, tort, fraud or otherwise, (y) are based on common law, statutory, equitable, legal or other grounds, or (z) are derivative or direct claims)), shall be exclusively brought in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or, if such court does not have subject matter jurisdiction thereof, any other court in the State of Delaware with subject matter jurisdiction, (ii) irrevocably submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts in connection with any such claim, suit, action or proceeding, (iii) irrevocably agrees not to, and waives any right to, assert in any such claim, suit, action or proceeding that (A) it is not personally subject to the jurisdiction of such courts or any other court to which proceedings in such courts may be appealed, (B) such claim, suit, action or proceeding is brought in an inconvenient forum, or (C) the venue of such claim, suit, action or proceeding is improper, (iv) expressly waives any requirement for the posting of a bond by a party bringing such claim, suit, action or proceeding, and (v) consents to process being served in any such claim, suit, action or proceeding by mailing, certified mail, return receipt requested, a copy thereof to such party at the address set forth in the books and records of the Trust, and agrees that such service shall constitute good and sufficient service of process and notice thereof; provided, nothing in clause (v) hereof shall affect or limit any right to serve process in any other manner permitted by law.

22. Application to Successors. This Trust Agreement shall extend to and be binding upon the successors, executors, administrators and assigns of each of the Sponsor, the Delaware Trustee and the Administrator.

23. Transfer of Beneficial Ownership. Beacon Mountain LLC shall be the sole beneficial owner of the Trust to the extent provided herein and the interests of Beacon Mountain LLC hereunder shall not be represented by a certificate. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the beneficial interest of Beacon Mountain LLC in the Trust may not be offered, sold, transferred, pledged, hypothecated or otherwise disposed of.

HUNTER MOUNTAIN INVESTMENT TRUST

APPOINTMENT OF SUCCESSOR ADMINISTRATOR

August 12, 2022

Reference is made to that certain Trust Agreement of Hunter Mountain Investment Trust dated December 17, 2015 (the "Trust Agreement"). Capitalized terms not otherwise defined shall have the meaning given them in the Trust Agreement. Pursuant to section 16 of the Trust Agreement, upon the occurrence of a Honis Trigger Event, the current Administrator is immediately removed. Pursuant to that certain Membership Interest Purchase Agreement dated August 1, 2022 ("MIPA"), by and among John Honis (as "Seller"), Rand Advisors Holding Corp., a Delaware corporation (as "Buyer"), and CLO Holdco, Ltd., a Cayman limited company (as "Guarantor"), the Buyer acquired all the membership interests in, and therefore voting control of, Rand Advisors, LLC ("Rand"). A Honis Trigger Event under the Trust Agreement includes a change in ownership of Rand, such that John Honis fails to retain majority voting control.

Pursuant to section 17 of the Trust Agreement, upon the occurrence of a Honis Trigger Event and the immediate removal of John Honis as Administrator, Beacon Mountain, LLC ("Beacon") shall appoint a successor Administrator. Accordingly, Beacon hereby appoints Mark E. Patrick as Administrator of Hunter Mountain Investment Trust, effective as of the date first written above.

AMENDED AND RESTATED LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT
OF
BEACON MOUNTAIN LLC

This Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Agreement (this "Agreement"), dated as of the 24th day of September, 2015, has been entered into by Rand PE Fund I, L.P. – Series 1 (the "Member"). The Member's LLC Interest (as hereinafter defined) is as set forth on Schedule A hereto.

WHEREAS, the initial Limited Liability Company Agreement, also dated as of the 24th day of September, 2015 ("Initial Agreement"), contained a scrivener's error with respect to the name of the single member of the Company (as defined below).

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants contained in this Agreement, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the Initial Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

1. Name, Business, Address and Registered Agent.

(a) The Member hereby acknowledges that a limited liability company under the name of "Beacon Mountain LLC" (the "Company") was formed under the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (the "Act") for the purpose of engaging in any business of any kind necessary to, in connection with, related to or incidental to such purposes as the Member shall from time to time deem desirable.

(b) The principal office of the Company shall be at such place as the Member may from time to time designate.

(c) The initial registered office of the Company for purposes of the Act shall be at 1675 South State Street, Suite B, in the City of Dover, County of Kent, Delaware 19901. The initial registered agent of the Company for purposes of the Act shall be Capitol Services, Inc., whose business office is identical to the Company's registered office.

2. Member. The sole responsibility for managing the business and affairs of the Company, except as otherwise provided herein or in the Act, shall be vested in the Member. Except as expressly provided herein, voting power shall be vested solely in the Member, and all matters requiring a vote pursuant to this Agreement or the Act shall be determined by the vote of the Member and the Member may act by written consent.

3. Officers.

(a) Election of Officers; Term. Officers, including assistant and subordinate officers, may from time to time be appointed by the Member. All officers shall hold office until their successors are appointed by the Member. Any two or more offices may be combined in the same person as the Member may determine. No officer may act in more than one capacity where the action of two or more officers is required.

(b) Removal of Officers; Vacancies. Any officer of the Company may be removed summarily with or without cause, at any time, by the Member. Vacancies may be filled by the Member.

(c) Duties. The officers of the Company shall have only such powers and duties as are from time to time conferred by the Member in writing or as are set forth in writing and executed by either of the President or the Secretary. The Member shall determine the compensation of all officers of the Company.

4. Term. The term of the Company shall be perpetual, except that the Company shall be dissolved upon the first to occur of any of the following events:

(a) The election of the Member to dissolve and terminate the Company;

(b) At any time there are no remaining members, except as may be avoided pursuant to §18-801(a)(4) of the Act;

(c) The entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under §18-802 of the Act; or

(d) Automatic cancellation of the Company's certificate of formation pursuant to §18-1108 of the Act.

5. Capital. The Member may contribute such capital, in cash or other property, as it so chooses in its sole discretion. No capital contributions shall be required unless the Member consents thereto in writing, in its sole and absolute discretion.

6. Bank Accounts. The President and the Secretary and any other officer, including any assistant or subordinate officer, as may be authorized to do so in writing by either of the President or the Secretary, are authorized to open commercial banking accounts for and in the name of the Company throughout the United States, at any time and from time to time, and to deposit to the credit of the Company in such banking accounts any monies, checks, drafts, orders or other commercial paper payable to the Company, and from time to time to withdraw all or any part of the funds on deposit in the name of the Company by check drawn in the name of the Company and signed by such officer.

7. Voting of Shares. Unless otherwise provided by written resolution of the Member, either of the President or the Secretary may from time to time appoint an attorney or attorneys or agent or agents of the Company, in the name and on behalf of the Company, to cast the vote which the Company may be entitled to cast as a stockholder or otherwise in any corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture or any other entity, any of whose securities may be held by the Company, at meetings of the holders of the shares or other securities of such entity or to consent in writing to any action by any such entity. Such officer shall instruct the person or persons so appointed as to the manner of casting such votes or giving such consent and may execute or cause to be executed on behalf of the Company such written proxies, consents, waivers or other instruments as may be necessary or proper in the premises. In lieu of such appointment, either of the President or the Secretary may himself attend any meetings of the holders of the shares or other securities of any such entity and there vote or exercise any or all power of the Company as the holder of such shares or other securities of such entity or consent in writing to any action by any such entity.

8. Distributions. Any cash or other property of the Company not required for the operation of the Company shall be distributable to the Member at such times and in such amounts as determined by the Member.

9. Certificates; "Opt-In" to Article 8; Transferability of Interests.

(a) The Company may issue one or more certificates evidencing the limited liability company interests in the Company ("LLC Interest") in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Certificates shall be executed on behalf of the Company by one of its executive officers. The Member hereby agrees that the LLC Interest held by such Member shall be treated as a "security" for purposes of and shall be governed by Article 8 of the Delaware Uniform Commercial Code--Investment Securities, as amended from time to time.

(b) The Member may transfer, sell, assign, mortgage, grant a lien on, give or otherwise dispose of, whether voluntarily or by operation of law, at judicial sale or otherwise, all or any part of its LLC Interest in the Company; provided, however, that there shall not at any time be more than one member until this Agreement is amended to provide generally (in addition to Section 12 hereof) for having more than one member. If, in connection with any such transfer, less than 100% of the LLC Interest of the transferor member is transferred, then this Agreement shall be amended to include appropriate provisions, including those relating to partnership accounting and tax issues, necessary to address the fact that the Company has more than one member.

10. Liquidation. Any net proceeds from the sale, exchange or other disposition (including a disposition pursuant to foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure) of the assets of the Company following the dissolution of the Company shall be distributed to the Member.

11. Other Activities. The Member may engage in or possess any interest in another venture or business of any nature or description, independently or with others.

12. Tax Classification. The Member intends that the Company be disregarded for U.S. federal income tax purposes as long as there is only one member, and that if there is ever more than one member or more than one owner of the Company as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes, that the Company be classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and this Agreement shall be interpreted accordingly.

13. Limited Liability. The Member shall not have any personal obligation for any debts, obligations or liabilities of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, solely by reason of being a Member, except as provided under the Act.

14. Exculpation; Indemnification.

(a) Except as otherwise provided by any written employment, consulting or similar agreement, if applicable, or unless otherwise expressly required by law, no officer or member of the Company (including any former executive officer or member) (each such person referred to herein as a "Covered Person") shall have any liability to the Company or to any member for any loss suffered by the Company or any member which arises out of any act or omission or alleged act or omission of the Covered Person in the Covered Person's capacity as a Covered Person to the extent the Covered Person acted in good faith and to the extent such course of conduct did not constitute willful misconduct or gross negligence of the Covered Person. Each Covered Person shall be indemnified by the Company against any losses, judgments, liabilities, claims, damages, costs, expenses (including reasonable legal fees and other expenses actually incurred in investigating or defending against any such losses, judgments, liabilities or claims and expenses actually incurred enforcing this Agreement) and amounts paid in settlement of any claim (approved in advance and in good faith by the Member) sustained by any of them by reason of any act or omission or alleged act or omission in connection with the activities of the Company (including any subsidiaries thereof) unless there is a final judicial determination by a court of competent jurisdiction to which all rights of appeal have been exhausted or expired that the same were the result of bad faith, willful misconduct or gross negligence of the Covered Person. The Covered Person may rely in good faith upon the advice of legal counsel.

(b) To the extent available on commercially reasonable terms, the Company may purchase, at the Company's expense, insurance (including without limitation, liability insurance policies and errors and omissions policies) to cover any liabilities covered by this Section 14 in such amount and with such deductibles as the Company may determine; provided, however, that the failure to obtain such insurance shall not affect the right to indemnification of any Covered Person. Any such insurance may extend beyond the termination of the Company for a commercially reasonable period. The Company shall be subrogated to the Covered Person's rights under such indemnification or insurance. If any Covered Person recovers any amounts in respect of any such liabilities from insurance coverage or any third party source, then such Covered Person shall, to the extent that such recovery is duplicative, reimburse the Company for any amounts previously paid to it by the Company in respect of such liabilities. The Company shall not incur the cost of that portion of any insurance, other than public liability insurance, which insures any party against any liability the indemnification of which is herein prohibited.

(c) The Company may, as determined in good faith by the Member, pay the legal fees and other expenses reasonably incurred by any Covered Person hereunder in connection with any proceeding in advance of the final disposition of such proceeding, so long as the Company receives a written undertaking, in form and content approved by the Company's counsel, by such Covered Person to repay the full amount advanced if there is a final judicial determination by a court of competent jurisdiction, as to which all rights of appeal have been exhausted or expired, that such Covered Person did not satisfy the standards which entitle it to indemnification pursuant to the terms of this Section 14.

(d) The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of, and shall not affect, any other rights to which any Covered Person may be entitled. Nothing contained in this Section 14 shall limit any lawful rights to indemnification existing independently of this Section 14.

(e) The indemnification rights provided by this Section 14 shall not be construed to increase the liability of the Member.

(f) The indemnification rights provided by this Section 14 shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of each Covered Person.

(g) The provisions of this Section 14 shall continue to afford protection to each Covered Person regardless of whether such Covered Person remains in the position or capacity pursuant to which such Covered Person became entitled to indemnification under this Section 14 and regardless of any subsequent amendment to this Agreement; provided, however, that no such amendment shall reduce or restrict the extent to which the indemnification provisions of this Section 14 apply to actions taken or omissions made or alleged actions taken or omissions made prior to the date of such amendment.

(h) If deemed appropriate or necessary by the Member, the Company may establish reserves, escrow accounts or similar accounts to fund its obligations under this Section 14.

(i) The provisions of this Section 14 shall survive the termination or dissolution of the Company.

15. No Third Party Beneficiary. No creditor or other third party having dealings with the Company shall have the right to enforce the right or obligation of the Member to make capital contributions or loans or to pursue any other right or remedy hereunder or at law or in equity, it being understood and agreed that the provisions of this Agreement shall be solely for the benefit of, and may be enforced solely by, the Member, the Covered Persons (to the extent granted herein) and the Company and their respective successors and permitted assigns.

SECOND AMENDED AND RESTATED LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT
BEACON MOUNTAIN LLC

This Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Agreement (this "Agreement"), dated as of the 12th day of February, 2025 (the "Effective Date"), has been entered into by CLO Holdco, LLC (the "Member"). The Member's LLC Interest (as hereinafter defined) is as set forth on Schedule A hereto.

WHEREAS, the initial Limited Liability Company Agreement (the "Initial Agreement") and the Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Agreement (the "A&R Agreement"), were each dated as of the 24th day of September, 2015; and

WHEREAS, the Member acquired all the membership interests in the Company from Rand PE Fund I, L.P., as of the Effective Date, and desires to amend and restate the A&R Agreement;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants contained in this Agreement, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the A&R Agreement is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

1. Name, Business, Address and Registered Agent.

(a) The Member hereby acknowledges that a limited liability company under the name of "Beacon Mountain LLC" (the "Company") was formed under the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (the "Act") for the purpose of engaging in any business of any kind necessary to, in connection with, related to or incidental to such purposes as the Member shall from time to time deem desirable.

(b) The principal office of the Company shall be at such place as the Member may from time to time designate.

(c) The initial registered office of the Company for purposes of the Act shall be at 1675 South State Street, Suite B, in the City of Dover, County of Kent, Delaware 19901. The initial registered agent of the Company for purposes of the Act shall be Capitol Services, Inc., whose business office is identical to the Company's registered office.

2. Member. The sole responsibility for managing the business and affairs of the Company, except as otherwise provided herein or in the Act, shall be vested in the Member. Except as expressly provided herein, voting power shall be vested solely in the Member, and all matters requiring a vote pursuant to this Agreement or the Act shall be determined by the vote of the Member and the Member may act by written consent.

3. Officers.

(a) Election of Officers; Term. Officers, including assistant and subordinate officers, may from time to time be appointed by the Member. All officers shall hold office until their successors are appointed by the Member. Any two or more offices may be combined in the same person as the Member may determine. No officer may act in more than one capacity where the action of two or more officers is required.

(b) Removal of Officers; Vacancies. Any officer of the Company may be removed summarily with or without cause, at any time, by the Member. Vacancies may be filled by the Member.

(c) Duties. The officers of the Company shall have only such powers and duties as are from time to time conferred by the Member in writing or as are set forth in writing and executed by either of the President or the Secretary. The Member shall determine the compensation of all officers of the Company.

4. Term. The term of the Company shall be perpetual, except that the Company shall be dissolved upon the first to occur of any of the following events:

(a) The election of the Member to dissolve and terminate the Company;

(b) At any time there are no remaining members, except as may be avoided pursuant to §18-801(a)(4) of the Act;

(c) The entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under §18-802 of the Act; or

(d) Automatic cancellation of the Company's certificate of formation pursuant to §18-1108 of the Act.

5. Capital. The Member may contribute such capital, in cash or other property, as it so chooses in its sole discretion. No capital contributions shall be required unless the Member consents thereto in writing, in its sole and absolute discretion.

6. Bank Accounts. The President and the Secretary and any other officer, including any assistant or subordinate officer, as may be authorized to do so in writing by either of the President or the Secretary, are authorized to open commercial banking accounts for and in the name of the Company throughout the United States, at any time and from time to time, and to deposit to the credit of the Company in such banking accounts any monies, checks, drafts, orders or other commercial paper payable to the Company, and from time to time to withdraw all or any part of the funds on deposit in the name of the Company by check drawn in the name of the Company and signed by such officer.

7. Voting of Shares. Unless otherwise provided by written resolution of the Member, either of the President or the Secretary may from time to time appoint an attorney or attorneys or agent or agents of the Company, in the name and on behalf of the Company, to cast the vote which the Company may be entitled to cast as a stockholder or otherwise in any corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture or any other entity, any of whose securities may be held by the Company, at meetings of the holders of the shares or other securities of such entity or to consent in writing to any action by any such entity. Such officer shall instruct the person or persons so appointed as to the manner of casting such votes or giving such consent and may execute or cause to be executed on behalf of the Company such written proxies, consents, waivers or other instruments as may be necessary or proper in the premises. In lieu of such appointment, either of the President or the Secretary may himself attend any meetings of the holders of the shares or other securities of any such entity and there vote or exercise any or all power of the Company as the holder of such shares or other securities of such entity or consent in writing to any action by any such entity.

8. Distributions. Any cash or other property of the Company not required for the operation of the Company shall be distributable to the Member at such times and in such amounts as determined by the Member.

9. Certificates; "Opt-In" to Article 8; Transferability of Interests.

(a) The Company may issue one or more certificates evidencing the limited liability company interests in the Company ("LLC Interest") in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Certificates shall be executed on behalf of the Company by one of its executive officers. The Member hereby agrees that the LLC Interest held by such Member shall be treated as a "security" for purposes of and shall be governed by Article 8 of the Delaware Uniform Commercial Code--Investment Securities, as amended from time to time.

(b) The Member may transfer, sell, assign, mortgage, grant a lien on, give or otherwise dispose of, whether voluntarily or by operation of law, at judicial sale or otherwise, all or any part of its LLC Interest in the Company; provided, however, that there shall not at any time be more than one member until this Agreement is amended to provide generally (in addition to Section 12 hereof) for having more than one member. If, in connection with any such transfer, less than 100% of the LLC Interest of the transferor member is transferred, then this Agreement shall be amended to include appropriate provisions, including those relating to partnership accounting and tax issues, necessary to address the fact that the Company has more than one member.

10. Liquidation. Any net proceeds from the sale, exchange or other disposition (including a disposition pursuant to foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure) of the assets of the Company following the dissolution of the Company shall be distributed to the Member.

11. Other Activities. The Member may engage in or possess any interest in another venture or business of any nature or description, independently or with others.

12. Tax Classification. The Member intends that the Company be disregarded for U.S. federal income tax purposes as long as there is only one member, and that if there is ever more than one member or more than one owner of the Company as determined for U.S. federal income tax purposes, that the Company be classified as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes and this Agreement shall be interpreted accordingly.

13. Limited Liability. The Member shall not have any personal obligation for any debts, obligations or liabilities of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, solely by reason of being a Member, except as provided under the Act.

14. Exculpation; Indemnification.

(a) Except as otherwise provided by any written employment, consulting or similar agreement, if applicable, or unless otherwise expressly required by law, no officer or member of the Company (including any former executive officer or member) (each such person referred to herein as a "Covered Person") shall have any liability to the Company or to any member for any loss suffered by the Company or any member which arises out of any act or omission or alleged act or omission of the Covered Person in the Covered Person's capacity as a Covered Person to the extent the Covered Person acted in good faith and to the extent such course of conduct did not constitute willful misconduct or gross negligence of the Covered Person. Each Covered Person shall be indemnified by the Company against any losses, judgments, liabilities, claims, damages, costs, expenses (including reasonable legal fees and other expenses actually incurred in investigating or defending against any such losses, judgments, liabilities or claims and expenses actually incurred enforcing this Agreement) and amounts paid in settlement of any claim (approved in advance and in good faith by the Member) sustained by any of them by reason of any act or omission or alleged act or omission in connection with the activities of the Company (including any subsidiaries thereof) unless there is a final judicial determination by a court of competent jurisdiction to which all rights of appeal have been exhausted or expired that the same were the result of bad faith, willful misconduct or gross negligence of the Covered Person. The Covered Person may rely in good faith upon the advice of legal counsel.

(b) To the extent available on commercially reasonable terms, the Company may purchase, at the Company's expense, insurance (including without limitation, liability insurance policies and errors and omissions policies) to cover any liabilities covered by this Section 14 in such amount and with such deductibles as the Company may determine; provided, however, that the failure to obtain such insurance shall not affect the right to indemnification of any Covered Person. Any such insurance may extend beyond the termination of the Company for a commercially reasonable period. The Company shall be subrogated to the Covered Person's rights under such indemnification or insurance. If any Covered Person recovers any amounts in respect of any such liabilities from insurance coverage or any third party source, then such Covered Person shall, to the extent that such recovery is duplicative, reimburse the Company for any amounts previously paid to it by the Company in respect of such liabilities. The Company shall not incur the cost of that portion of any insurance, other than public liability insurance, which insures any party against any liability the indemnification of which is herein prohibited.

(c) The Company may, as determined in good faith by the Member, pay the legal fees and other expenses reasonably incurred by any Covered Person hereunder in connection with any proceeding in advance of the final disposition of such proceeding, so long as the Company receives a written undertaking, in form and content approved by the Company's counsel, by such Covered Person to repay the full amount advanced if there is a final judicial determination by a court of competent jurisdiction, as to which all rights of appeal have been exhausted or expired, that such Covered Person did not satisfy the standards which entitle it to indemnification pursuant to the terms of this Section 14.

(d) The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of, and shall not affect, any other rights to which any Covered Person may be entitled. Nothing contained in this Section 14 shall limit any lawful rights to indemnification existing independently of this Section 14.

(e) The indemnification rights provided by this Section 14 shall not be construed to increase the liability of the Member.

(f) The indemnification rights provided by this Section 14 shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of each Covered Person.

(g) The provisions of this Section 14 shall continue to afford protection to each Covered Person regardless of whether such Covered Person remains in the position or capacity pursuant to which such Covered Person became entitled to indemnification under this Section 14 and regardless of any subsequent amendment to this Agreement; provided, however, that no such amendment shall reduce or restrict the extent to which the indemnification provisions of this Section 14 apply to actions taken or omissions made or alleged actions taken or omissions made prior to the date of such amendment.

(h) If deemed appropriate or necessary by the Member, the Company may establish reserves, escrow accounts or similar accounts to fund its obligations under this Section 14.

(i) The provisions of this Section 14 shall survive the termination or dissolution of the Company.

15. No Third Party Beneficiary. No creditor or other third party having dealings with the Company shall have the right to enforce the right or obligation of the Member to make capital contributions or loans or to pursue any other right or remedy hereunder or at law or in equity, it being understood and agreed that the provisions of this Agreement shall be solely for the benefit of, and may be enforced solely by, the Member, the Covered Persons (to the extent granted herein) and the Company and their respective successors and permitted assigns.

MEMBERSHIP INTEREST PURCHASE AGREEMENT

This Membership Interest Purchase Agreement (this "Agreement"), dated as of February 12, 2025, is entered into between RAND PE FUND I, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership ("Seller") and CLO HOLDCO, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Buyer").

RECITALS

(A) WHEREAS, Seller owns all of the issued and outstanding membership interests (the "Membership Interests"), of BEACON MOUNTAIN, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "Company"); and

(B) WHEREAS, Seller wishes to sell to Buyer, and Buyer wishes to purchase from Seller, the Membership Interests, subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein.

(C) NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

ARTICLE I
PURCHASE AND SALE

Section 1.01 Purchase and Sale. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, at the Closing (as defined herein), Seller shall sell to Buyer, and Buyer shall purchase from Seller, all of Seller's right, title, and interest in and to the Membership Interests, free and clear of any mortgage, pledge, lien, charge, security interest, claim, or other encumbrance ("Encumbrance"), for the consideration specified in Section 1.02.

Section 1.02 Purchase Price. The aggregate purchase price for the Membership Interests shall be $1,000,000.00 (the "Purchase Price"). The Buyer shall pay the Purchase Price to Seller at the Closing (as defined herein) in cash, by wire transfer of immediately available funds in accordance with the wire transfer instructions set forth on Schedule 1.02 hereto.

Section 1.03 Closing. The closing of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Closing") shall take place simultaneously with the execution of this Agreement on the date of this Agreement (the "Closing Date") remotely by exchange of documents and signatures (or their electronic counterparts). The consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be deemed to occur at noon on the Closing Date.

Section 1.04 Transfer Taxes. Buyer shall pay, and shall reimburse Seller for, any sales, use or transfer taxes, documentary charges, recording fees or similar taxes, charges, fees, or expenses, if any, that become due and payable as a result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 1.05 Withholding Taxes. Buyer shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from amounts otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement such amounts as are required to be deducted and withheld under applicable law. Buyer shall provide Seller with written notice of its intent to withhold prior to the Closing with a written explanation substantiating the requirement to deduct or withhold, and the parties shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cooperate to mitigate or eliminate any such withholding to the maximum extent permitted by law. dTo the extent that amounts are so withheld and paid over to the appropriate tax authority by the Buyer, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the person in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made.

Section 1.06 Allocation of Company Income and Loss. Buyer and Seller shall request that the Company allocate all items of Company income, gain, loss, deduction, or credit attributable to the Membership Interests for the taxable year of the Closing based on a closing of the Company's books as of the Closing Date.

ARTICLE II
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF SELLER

Seller represents and warrants to Buyer that the statements contained in this ARTICLE II are true and correct as of the date hereof. For purposes of this Article II, "Seller's knowledge," "knowledge of Seller," and any similar phrases shall mean the actual knowledge of those persons listed on Schedule 2 of the Schedules.

Section 2.01 Organization and Authority of Seller; Enforceability. Seller is a limited partnership duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the state of Delaware. Seller has full limited partnership power and authority to enter into this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder, to carry out its obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. The execution, delivery, and performance by Seller of this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly authorized by all requisite limited partnership action on the part of Seller. This Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder have been duly executed and delivered by Seller, and (assuming due authorization, execution, and delivery by Buyer) this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder constitute legal, valid, and binding obligations of Seller, enforceable against Seller in accordance with their respective terms, except as may be limited by any bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance, or other similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or by general principles of equity.

Section 2.02 No Conflicts; Consents. The execution, delivery, and performance by Seller of this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, do not and will not: (a) violate or conflict with the certificate of limited partnership, limited partnership agreement, or other organizational documents of Seller; (b) violate or conflict with any judgment, order, decree, statute, law, ordinance, rule, or regulation applicable to Seller, except where the violation or conflict would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Seller's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby on a timely basis; (c) conflict with, or result in (with or without notice or lapse of time or both) any violation of, or default under, or give rise to a right of termination, acceleration or modification of any obligation or loss of any benefit under any contract or other instrument to which Seller is a party, except where the conflict, violation, default, termination, cancellation, modification, or acceleration would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Seller's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby on a timely basis; (d) result in any violation, conflict with or constitute a default under the Company's organizational documents (the "Beacon Organizational Documents"); or (e) result in the creation or imposition of any Encumbrance on the Membership Interests. No consent, approval, waiver, or authorization is required to be obtained by Seller from any person or entity (including any governmental authority) in connection with the execution, delivery, and performance by Seller of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, except such consents, approvals, waivers, or authorizations which would not, in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the Seller's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby on a timely basis.

Section 2.03 Legal Proceedings. There is no claim, action, suit, proceeding or governmental investigation ("Action") of any nature pending or, to Seller's knowledge, threatened against or by Seller (a) relating to or affecting the Membership Interests; or (b) that challenges or seeks to prevent, enjoin, or otherwise delay the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except any Actions that would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Seller's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby on a timely basis. To Seller's knowledge, no event has occurred or circumstances exist that may give rise to, or serve as a basis for, any such Action.

Section 2.04 Financial Statements. True, correct, and complete copies of any financial statements requested by the Buyer (collectively, the "Financial Statements") have been provided to Buyer. To Seller's Knowledge, the Financial Statements, if any, are true, correct, and complete.

Section 2.05 Ownership of Membership Interests.

(a) Seller is the sole legal, beneficial, record, and equitable owner of the Membership Interests, free and clear of all Encumbrances whatsoever.

(b) To Seller's Knowledge, the Membership Interests were issued in compliance with applicable laws. To Seller's Knowledge, the Membership Interests were not issued in violation of the organizational documents of the Company or any other agreement, arrangement, or commitment to which Seller or the Company is a party and are not subject to or in violation of any preemptive or similar rights of any Person.

(c) Other than the organizational documents of the Company, there are no voting trusts, proxies, or other agreements or understandings in effect with respect to the voting or transfer of any of the Membership Interests.

Section 2.06 Beacon Organizational Documents. The Seller has provided Buyer a true, correct, and complete copy (including all amendments and modifications) of the Beacon Organizational Documents, which agreement is in full force and effect and is the only agreement in effect with respect to the matters described therein.

Section 2.07 Brokers. No broker, finder, or investment banker is entitled to any brokerage, finder's, or other fee or commission in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Seller.

Section 2.08 Non-Foreign Status. Seller is not a foreign person as defined in Treasury Regulations Section 1.1446(f)-1(b)(4) or Section 1.1445-2.

Section 2.09 No Other Representations or Warranties. Except for the representations and warranties contained in this ARTICLE II, neither Seller nor any partner, director, officer, employee, or agent of Seller has made or makes any other express or implied representation or warranty, either written or oral, on behalf of Seller.

ARTICLE III
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF BUYER

Buyer represents and warrants to Seller that the statements contained in this ARTICLE III are true and correct as of the date hereof. For purposes of this ARTICLE III, "Buyer's knowledge," "knowledge of Buyer" and any similar phrases shall mean the actual knowledge of those persons listed on Schedule 3 hereto.

Section 3.01 Organization and Authority of Buyer; Enforceability. Buyer is a limited liability company duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the state of Delaware. Buyer has full limited liability company power and authority to enter into this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder, to carry out its obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. The execution, delivery, and performance by Buyer of this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly authorized by all requisite limited liability company action on the part of Buyer. This Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder have been duly executed and delivered by Buyer, and (assuming due authorization, execution, and delivery by Seller) this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder constitute legal, valid, and binding obligations of Buyer enforceable against Buyer in accordance with their respective terms, except as may be limited by any bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, fraudulent conveyance, or other similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditors' rights generally or by general principles of equity.

Section 3.02 No Conflicts; Consents. The execution, delivery and performance by Buyer of this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, do not and will not: (a) violate or conflict with the certificate of formation, LLC agreement or other organizational documents of Buyer; or (b) violate or conflict with any judgment, order, decree, statute, law, ordinance, rule, or regulation applicable to Buyer, except where the violation or conflict would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Buyer's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby on a timely basis. No consent, approval, waiver, or authorization is required to be obtained by Buyer from any person or entity (including any governmental authority) in connection with the execution, delivery, and performance by Buyer of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, except such consents, approvals, waivers, or authorizations which would not, in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on the Buyer's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby on a timely basis.

Section 3.03 Investment Purpose. Buyer is acquiring the Membership Interests solely for its own account for investment purposes and not with a view to, or for offer or sale in connection with, any distribution thereof. Buyer acknowledges that the Membership Interests are not registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or any state securities laws, and that the Membership Interests may not be transferred or sold except pursuant to the registration provisions of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended or pursuant to an applicable exemption therefrom and subject to state securities laws and regulations, as applicable.

Section 3.04 Brokers. No broker, finder or investment banker is entitled to any brokerage, finder's, or other fee or commission in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of Buyer.

Section 3.05 Legal Proceedings. There is no Action pending or, to Buyer's knowledge, threatened against or by Buyer or any Affiliate of Buyer that challenges or seeks to prevent, enjoin, or otherwise delay the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except any Actions that would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Buyer's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby on a timely basis. To Buyer's knowledge, no event has occurred or circumstances exist that may give rise or serve as a basis for any such Action.

Section 3.06 Buyer's Assumption of Risk and Liabilities. Buyer acknowledges and agrees that it is purchasing the Membership Interests in the Company on an "as-is, where-is" basis, with all faults and conditions, whether known or unknown. Buyer further acknowledges that it has conducted its own due diligence and waives any claim against Seller for any matters arising out of or related to the Company's operations, liabilities, or legal compliance, whether arising before or after the Closing Date. Buyer assumes all risks and liabilities associated with the ownership of the Membership Interests, including but not limited to any regulatory, tax, financial, or legal claims or disputes that may arise in the future whether at law or in equity. In the event that any claim, lawsuit, or governmental investigation or action is initiated against Seller related to the Company or the transactions contemplated herein, Buyer shall, at its own cost and expense, take all commercially reasonable actions to resolve such claims and shall be solely responsible for any associated costs, judgments, settlements, or penalties. Seller shall have no obligation to participate in such proceedings and shall be released from any liability related thereto.

ARTICLE IV
CLOSING DELIVERIES

Section 4.01 Seller's Deliveries. At the Closing, Seller shall deliver to Buyer the following:

(a) an assignment of the Membership Interests to Buyer in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "Assignment"), executed by Seller.

(b) A certificate of the Secretary or Assistant Secretary (or equivalent officer) of Seller certifying as to (i) the resolutions of the board of directors (or equivalent managing body) of Seller, duly adopted and in effect, which authorize the execution, delivery, and performance of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, and (ii) the names and signatures of the officers of Seller authorized to sign this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder.

Section 4.02 Buyer's Deliveries. At the Closing, Buyer shall deliver the following to Seller:

(a) The Purchase Price.

(b) The Assignment, executed by Buyer.

(c) A certificate of the Secretary or Assistant Secretary (or equivalent officer) of Buyer certifying as to (i) the resolutions of the board of directors (or equivalent managing body) of Buyer, duly adopted and in effect, which authorize the execution, delivery, and performance of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, and (ii) the names and signatures of the officers of Buyer authorized to sign this Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder.

ARTICLE V
NO INDEMNIFICATION

Section 5.01 No Indemnification. The parties acknowledge and agree that there shall be no indemnification obligation on behalf of either party in connection with this Agreement, the representations, warranties, and covenants contained herein, or any of the instruments or documents delivered in connection with this Agreement.

Section 5.02 Exclusive Remedies. The parties acknowledge and agree that following the closing, the provisions of this ARTICLE V shall be their exclusive remedy for any and all claims relating to the subject matter of this Agreement or any of the other documents to be delivered hereunder, except for claims arising from intentional fraud on the part of a party hereto in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

ARTICLE VI
MISCELLANEOUS

Section 6.01 Expenses. Except as otherwise provided in Section 1.04, all costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby shall be paid by the party incurring such costs and expenses.

Section 6.02 Further Assurances. Following the Closing, each of the parties hereto shall, and shall cause their respective Affiliates to, execute and deliver such additional documents, instruments, conveyances and assurances and take such further actions as may be reasonably required to carry out the provisions hereof and give effect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 6.03 Notices. All notices, requests, consents, claims, demands, waivers, and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been given (a) when delivered by hand (with written confirmation of receipt); (b) when received by the addressee if sent by a nationally recognized overnight courier (receipt requested); (c) on the date sent by e-mail of a PDF document (with confirmation of transmission) if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and on the next Business Day if sent after normal business hours of the recipient or (d) on the third day after the date mailed, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid. Such communications must be sent to the respective parties at the following addresses (or at such other address for a party as shall be specified in a notice given in accordance with this Section 6.03):

If to Seller:	Rand PE Fund Management, LLC 6716 Glenhurst Drive Dallas, TX 75254 E-mail: MPatrick@randadvisors.com Attention: Mark Patrick
If to Buyer:	CLO HoldCo, LLC 6716 Glenhurst Drive Dallas, TX 75254 E-mail: mpatrick@dafholdco.com Attention: Mark Patrick

Section 6.04 Headings. The headings in this Agreement are for reference only and shall not affect the interpretation of this Agreement.

Section 6.05 Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement is invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality, or unenforceability shall not affect any other term or provision of this Agreement or invalidate or render unenforceable such term or provision in any other jurisdiction. Upon such determination that any term or other provision is invalid, illegal, or unenforceable, the parties hereto shall negotiate in good faith to modify the Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible in a mutually acceptable manner in order that the transactions contemplated hereby be consummated as originally contemplated to the greatest extent possible.

Section 6.06 Entire Agreement. This Agreement and the documents to be delivered hereunder constitute the sole and entire agreement of the parties to this Agreement with respect to the subject matter contained herein, and supersede all prior and contemporaneous understandings and agreements, both written and oral, with respect to such subject matter. In the event of any inconsistency between the statements in the body of this Agreement and those in documents to be delivered hereunder, the Exhibits and Schedules (other than an exception expressly set forth as such in the Schedules), the statements in the body of this Agreement will control.

Section 6.07 Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns. Neither party may assign its rights or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the other party, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. No assignment shall relieve the assigning party of any of its obligations hereunder.

Section 6.08 No Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement is for the sole benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns and nothing herein, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any other Person or entity any legal or equitable right, benefit, or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

Section 6.09 Amendment and Modification. This Agreement may only be amended, modified or supplemented by an agreement in writing signed by each party hereto.

Section 6.10 Waiver. No waiver by any party of any of the provisions hereof shall be effective unless explicitly set forth in writing and signed by the party so waiving. No waiver by any party shall operate or be construed as a waiver in respect of any failure, breach, or default not expressly identified by such written waiver, whether of a similar or different character, and whether occurring before or after that waiver. No failure to exercise, or delay in exercising, any right, remedy, power, or privilege arising from this Agreement shall operate or be construed as a waiver thereof; nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, remedy, power, or privilege hereunder preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, remedy, power, or privilege.

Section 6.11 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Texas without giving effect to any choice or conflict of law provision or rule (whether of the State of Texas or any other jurisdiction).

Section 6.12 Submission to Jurisdiction. Any legal suit, action, or proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby may be instituted in the federal courts of the United States of America or the courts of the State of Texas in each case located in the city of Dallas and county of Dallas, and each party irrevocably submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of such courts in any such suit, action, or proceeding.

Section 6.13 Waiver of Jury Trial. Each party acknowledges and agrees that any controversy which may arise under this Agreement is likely to involve complicated and difficult issues and, therefore, each such party irrevocably and unconditionally waives any right it may have to a trial by jury in respect of any legal action arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

Section 6.14 Specific Performance. The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur if any provision of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with the terms hereof and that the parties shall be entitled to specific performance of the terms hereof, in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity. Each party hereto (i) agrees that it shall not oppose the granting of such specific performance or relief and (ii) hereby irrevocably waives any requirements for the security or posting of any bond in connection with such relief.

Section 6.15 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall be deemed to be one and the same agreement. A signed copy of this Agreement delivered by facsimile, e-mail, or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original signed copy of this Agreement.

Assignment of Membership Interests

[See attached]

Assignment of Membership Interest

This Assignment of Membership Interest (this "Assignment") is entered into as of February 12, 2025, by and between RAND PE FUND I, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership ("Assignor"), and CLO HOLDCO, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Assignee").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, Assignor owns, beneficially and of record, 100% of the issued and outstanding membership interests (including all voting, consent, and economic rights associated with such membership interests, the "Membership Interests") of BEACON MOUNTAIN, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "Company");

WHEREAS, Assignor and Assignee have entered into that certain Membership Interest Purchase Agreement, dated February 12, 2025 (the "Purchase Agreement"), pursuant to which, among other things, Assignor has agreed to sell, assign, and transfer all of its right, title, and interest in and to, and Assignee has agreed to accept, the Membership Interests; and

WHEREAS, in order to effect the sale, transfer, and assignment of the Membership Interests to Assignee, Assignor and Assignee are executing and delivering this Assignment.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

1. Assignment. Assignor hereby sells, assigns, and transfers to Assignee, and Assignee hereby accepts, all of Assignor's right, title, and interest in and to the Membership Interests.

2. Terms of the Purchase Agreement. This Assignment is made in accordance with, and is subject to, the terms and conditions of the Purchase Agreement. Nothing in this Assignment, express or implied, is intended to or shall be construed to modify, expand, or limit any of the terms of the Purchase Agreement. Assignor and Assignee acknowledge and agree that no representations and warranties are made in this Assignment. The representations, warranties, covenants, and agreements contained in the Purchase Agreement shall not be superseded by this Assignment but shall remain in full force and effect to the full extent provided therein. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the terms of the Purchase Agreement and the terms hereof, the terms of the Purchase Agreement shall govern.

3. Definitions. All capitalized terms used in this Assignment but not otherwise defined herein are given the meanings set forth in the Purchase Agreement.

4. Further Assurances. Each of Assignee and Assignor shall execute and deliver, at the reasonable request of the other party hereto, such additional documents, instruments, conveyances, and assurances and take such further actions as such other party may reasonably request to carry out the provisions hereof and give effect to the transactions contemplated by this Assignment.

5. Successors and Assigns. This Assignment shall bind and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

6. Amendment and Modifications. This Assignment may not be amended or modified in any manner other than by a written agreement signed by the party to be charged.

7. Governing Law. This Assignment shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Texas without giving effect to any choice or conflict of law provision or rule (whether of the State of Texas or any other jurisdiction).

8. Counterparts. This Assignment may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall be deemed to be one and the same agreement. A signed copy of this Assignment delivered by email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original signed copy of this Assignment.

MEMBERSHIP INTEREST PURCHASE AGREEMENT

This Membership Interest Purchase Agreement (this "Agreement"), dated as August 1, 2022, is entered into by and among JOHN HONIS ("Seller"), RAND ADVISORS HOLDING CORP., a Delaware corporation ("Buyer"), and CLO HOLDCO, LTD. a Cayman limited company (the "Guarantor").

RECITALS

WHEREAS, Seller owns one hundred (100%) percent of the issued and outstanding membership interests, (the "Interests") of each of Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Atlas GP"), Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Rand GP") and Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Advisor", and together with Atlas GP and Rand GP, each a "Company" and collectively, the "Companies");

WHEREAS, the Companies collectively manage certain private investment funds, including two (2) insurance-dedicated funds ("IDFs") and one (1) one private equity fund that one of the IDFs invests in (collectively, the "Client Funds");

WHEREAS, in addition to the foregoing with respect to the Client Funds, Advisor acts as the investment sub-advisor to Rand Advisors Series I Insurance Fund of SALI Multi-Series Fund, L.P., a Delaware series limited partnership (such, product, the "SALI Fund");

WHEREAS, Rand GP as the general partner of Rand PE Fund I, LP, ("Rand LP") manages: a) Rand LP; b) Rand LP's wholly owned subsidiary Beacon Mountain, LLC ("Beacon"); and c) Beacon's sponsorship and administration of the Hunter Mountain Investment Trust ("HMIT", and together with Rand LP and Beacon, the "Managed Companies"); and

WHEREAS, Seller wishes to sell to Buyer, and Buyer wishes to purchase from Seller, the Interests, subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree as follows:

PURCHASE AND SALE

Section 1.01 Purchase and Sale. Subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, at the Closing, Seller shall sell to Buyer, and Buyer shall purchase from Seller, the Interests, free and clear of any lien, pledge, mortgage, deed of trust, security interest, charge, claim, easement, encroachment or other similar encumbrance. In connection with such sale of the Interests, Seller acknowledges that he retains no rights to any commissions or other compensation or consideration from (a) any Company, (b) any of the Client Funds, (c) the SALI Fund, (d) any of the Managed Funds, and/or (e) any person or entity affiliated with any of the foregoing, that has not been paid as of the Closing.

Section 1.02 Purchase Price. The purchase price payable by Buyer for the Interests shall be equal to One Million One Hundred Twenty Thousand ($1,120,000.00) Dollars (the "Purchase Price"). The Purchase Price shall be due and payable in sixteen (16) equal quarterly installments of Seventy Thousand ($70,000.00) Dollars (each, an "Installment Payment") with the first Installment Payment payable on the Closing Date and subsequent Installment Payments made quarterly thereafter on March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 of each calendar year until the Purchase Price has been paid in full; provided, however, that if any Installment Payment is due and owing on a day that is not a Business Bay, such Installment Payment shall be paid on the next Business Day. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Business Day" means any day except a Saturday, a Sunday or any other day on which commercial banks are required or authorized to close in New York, New York. Each Installment Payment shall be paid to Seller pursuant to the wiring instructions provided in writing at least two (2) days prior to Closing; provided that Seller may provide alternative wiring instructions in writing at least two (2) days prior to any Installment Payment.

CLOSING

Section 2.01 Closing. The closing of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the "Closing") shall take place electronically as of the Effective Date, with the parties executing and exchanging all material closing documents by counterpart, as applicable, on the date that all deliverables pursuant to Sections 2.02 and 2.03 have been delivered, or at such other time, date or place as Seller and Buyer may mutually agree upon in writing. The date on which the Closing is to occur is herein referred to as the "Closing Date".

(a) The resignation letter, resigning in all capacities from each of the Companies.

(b) The independent contractor agreement, by and between Seller and Buyer, dated as of the date hereof (the "Independent Contractor Agreement"), countersigned by Seller.

(c) The books and records of the Companies.

Section 2.03 Buyer's Deliveries. At the Closing, Buyer shall deliver the following to Seller:

(a) The Purchase Price.

(b) The Independent Contractor Agreement, countersigned by Buyer.

(c) Evidence of compliance with Section 5.01(b).

ARTICLE III
REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF SELLER

Seller represents and warrants to Buyer that the statements contained in this ARTICLE III are true and correct as of the date hereof.

Section 3.01 Organization and Authority of Seller. Seller is a natural person and resident of the State of New York. Seller has all necessary authority to enter into this Agreement, to carry out his obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. This Agreement constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of Seller enforceable against Seller in accordance with its terms, except as such enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and by general principles of equity (regardless of whether enforcement is sought in a proceeding at law or in equity).

Section 3.02 Organization, Authority, Qualification and Ownership of the Companies. Each Company is a limited liability company duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware and has all necessary corporate power and authority to own, operate or lease the properties and assets now owned, operated or leased by it and to carry on its business as it is currently conducted. Each Company is duly licensed or qualified to do business and is in good standing in each jurisdiction where the operation of its business as currently conducted makes such licensing or qualification necessary, except where the failure to be so licensed, qualified or in good standing would not have a material adverse effect. Seller is the sole owner and member of each Company.

Section 3.03 Employment Matters. Seller is the only employee of each of the Companies.

Section 3.04 Title to Interests. Seller has exclusive and valid title to all of the Interests, with the absolute right to sell, assign and transfer the same to Buyer free and clear of all liens, pledges, security interests and encumbrances. Seller has not assigned, transferred or sold any rights, options or other benefits associated with the Interests. Further, Seller represents and warrants that the assets of the Companies are free and clear of any and all liens, pledges, security interests and other encumbrances.

Section 3.05 No Restrictions Against Sale. Seller has full right, power and authority to sell the Interests to Buyer as provided in this Agreement without obtaining the consent or approval of any creditor, third party or governmental body.

Section 3.06 Intentionally Blank

Section 3.07 No Other Representations and Warranties. Except for the representations and warranties contained in this ARTICLE III, none of Seller, the Companies or any other person has made or makes any other express or implied representation or warranty, either written or oral, on behalf of Seller or any Company, including any representation or warranty as to the accuracy or completeness of any information regarding the Companies furnished or made available to Buyer as to the future revenue, profitability or success of each Company, or any representation or warranty arising from statute or otherwise in law.

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF BUYER

Buyer represents and warrants to Seller that the statements contained in this Article IV are true and correct as of the date hereof.

Section 4.01 Organization and Authority of Buyer. Buyer is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware. Buyer has all necessary corporate power and authority to enter into this Agreement, to carry out its obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. The execution and delivery by Buyer of this Agreement, the performance by Buyer of its obligations hereunder, and the consummation by Buyer of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate action on the part of Buyer. This Agreement constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of Buyer enforceable against Buyer in accordance with its terms, except as such enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar Laws affecting creditors' rights generally and by general principles of equity (regardless of whether enforcement is sought in a proceeding at law or in equity).

Section 4.02 No Conflicts; Consents. The execution, delivery and performance by Buyer of this Agreement, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, do not and will not: (a) violate or conflict with any provision of the certificate of incorporation or by-laws of Buyer; (b) violate or conflict with any provision of any law or governmental order applicable to Buyer; (c) require the consent, notice or other action by any person under, violate or conflict with, or result in the acceleration of any agreement to which Buyer is a party; or (d) require any consent, permit, governmental order, filing or notice from, with or to any governmental authority; except, in the cases of clauses (b) and (c), where the violation, conflict, acceleration or failure to obtain consent or give notice would not have a material adverse effect on Buyer's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and, in the case of clause (d), where such consent, permit, governmental order, filing or notice which, in the aggregate, would not have a material adverse effect on Buyer's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby.

Section 4.03 Legal Proceedings. There are no actions pending or, to Buyer's knowledge, threatened against or by Buyer or any of its affiliates that challenge or seek to prevent, enjoin or otherwise delay the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 4.04 Buyer Acknowledgement of SALI Agreement and CG Agreement. Buyer acknowledges the obligations of (i) the Advisor pursuant to the Subadvisor Agreement dated September 25, 2013 between the Advisor and SALI Fund Management, LLC (the "SALI Agreement") and (ii) Atlas IDF, LP and the Advisor pursuant to the Participation Agreement dated as of November 30, 2015 among Crown Global Life Insurance Ltd., Atlas IDF, LP and the Advisor (the "CG Agreement"). The purchase and sale of the Interests pursuant to this Agreement will not cause a violation of either Exhibit C to the SALI Agreement or Schedule D to the CG Agreement ("Schedule D").

Section 4.05 Independent Investigation. Buyer has conducted its own independent investigation, review and analysis of Seller, the Companies, the Managed Companies, the Client Funds and the SALI Fund, and acknowledges that it has been provided adequate access to the personnel, properties, assets, premises, books and records and other documents and data of Seller, the Companies, the Managed Companies, the Client Funds and the SALI Fund for such purpose. Buyer represents and warrants that it is aware that the Companies are involved in multiple litigations, the ultimate liability under such litigations may not be quantified and accepts any risk related thereto. Buyer acknowledges and agrees that: (a) in making its decision to enter into this Agreement and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby, Buyer has relied solely upon its own investigation and the express representations and warranties of Seller set forth in ARTICLE III of this Agreement; and (b) none of Seller, any Company or any other person has made any representation or warranty as to Seller, any Company, any Managed Company, any Client Funds, the SALI Fund or this Agreement, except as expressly set forth in ARTICLE III of this Agreement.

COVENANTS

Section 5.01 Director, Manager and Officer Indemnification Liability.

(a) Buyer agrees that all rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses and exculpation by each Company now existing in favor of each person who is now, or has been at any time prior to the date hereof, an officer, manager, member or director of such Company, in each case as in effect on the date of this Agreement, or pursuant to any other agreements in effect on the date hereof, shall survive the Closing Date and shall continue in full force and effect in accordance with their respective terms.

(b) Each Company shall, and Buyer shall cause each Company to (i) maintain in effect for a period of six (6) years after the Closing Date the current policies of Investment Adviser and Fund Professional and Directors and Officers Liability Insurance (or similar policy) maintained by each Company immediately prior to the Closing Date (provided that each Company may substitute policies, of at least the same coverage and amounts and containing terms and conditions that are not less advantageous to the directors, members, managers and officers of such Company when compared to the insurance maintained by such Company as of the date hereof), or (ii) obtain as of the Closing Date "tail" insurance policies with a claims period of six (6) years from the Closing Date with at least the same coverage and amounts, and containing terms and conditions that are not less advantageous to the mangers and officers of such Company, in each case with respect to claims arising out of or relating to events which occurred on or prior to the Closing Date (including in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement). The parties acknowledge and agree that the coverages required by this Section 5.01(b) shall not be required to cover the Excluded Claims referenced in Section 5.04 hereinafter.

(c) The obligations of Buyer and each Company under this Section 5.01 shall not be terminated or modified in such a manner as to adversely affect Seller.

(d) In the event that Buyer, any Company or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity in such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then, and in either such case, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Buyer or such Company, as the case may be, shall assume all of the obligations set forth in this Section 5.01.

Section 5.02 Further Assurances. Following the Closing:

(a) each of the parties hereto shall, and shall cause their respective affiliates to, execute and deliver such additional documents and instruments and take such further actions as may be reasonably required to carry out the provisions hereof and give effect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(b) The parties agree that certain matters in which any of the Affected Parties will be involved may necessitate Seller's cooperation in the future. Accordingly, for any reason, to the extent requested by any of the Affected Parties or their representatives and/or agents, Seller shall reasonably cooperate with the Affected Parties in connection with any matters in which any of the Affected Parties asserts that Seller's assistance is necessary, including, but not limited to, the Kirschner Litigation, the HCMLP Bankruptcy, and any other disputes; provided that, any of the Affected Parties shall make reasonable efforts to minimize disruption of Seller's other activities. The respective Affected Parties shall reimburse Seller for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with such reasonable cooperation and, to the extent that Seller is required to spend substantial time on such matters, the respective Affected Parties shall compensate Seller at an hourly rate of $350.00 per hour. Such reasonable cooperation shall include, but is not limited to, providing interviews, truthful testimony, documents, assistance, information, and executing and returning documents related to any litigation or disputes in which any of the Affected Parties is involved, including, but not limited to, the Kirschner Litigation and/or the HCMLP Bankruptcy and any disputes related thereto. "Affected Parties" shall collectively mean Buyer, Companies, Client Funds, SALI Fund and Managed Companies.

(c) Additionally, Seller agrees that he will not voluntarily provide reasonable assistance to or cooperate with any party that has any adverse interests to any of the Affected Parties without prior written consent from the respective Affected Parties, and Seller will notify the Affected Parties if any third-party seeks such reasonable assistance or cooperation from Seller. Any failure to comply with this clause by Seller shall constitute a material breach of this Agreement. Seller shall not, except as required by law, disclose to any third party this Agreement, its terms and particularly this cooperation clause. If, at any time, Seller is ordered or subpoenaed by any court, regulator, agency, or legislative body to disclose, or is served with a subpoena or discovery request seeking or requiring disclosure of, this Agreement or any of its terms, Seller shall so notify the Affected Parties at least two (2) business days in advance of the time for compliance with the order, subpoena or discovery request.

Section 5.03 Transfer Taxes. All transfer, documentary, sales, use, stamp, registration, value added and other such taxes and fees (including any penalties and interest) incurred in connection with this Agreement shall be borne and paid by Buyer when due. Buyer shall, at its own expense, timely file any tax return or other document with respect to such taxes or fees (and Seller shall cooperate with respect thereto as necessary).

Section 5.04 Release. Effective as of the Closing, (i) Buyer shall, (ii) Buyer shall cause the Companies, (iii) Buyer shall cause the Companies to cause the Client Funds, and (iv) Buyer shall cause the Companies to cause the Managed Companies (together, the "Buyer Releasors") generally, irrevocably, unconditionally and completely to release and forever discharge Seller and his partners, affiliates, employees, consultants, counsel and agents, and the counsel, consultants and agents of the Companies, the Managed Companies, and the Client Funds (each, a "Seller Releasee" and collectively, the "Seller Releasees") from, and irrevocably, unconditionally and completely to waive and relinquish each and all past, present and future disputes, claims, controversies, demands, rights, obligations, liabilities, actions and causes of action of every kind and nature, including any unknown, unsuspected or undisclosed claim (collectively "Claims"), that the Buyer Releasors may have had in the past, may now have or may have in the future against any of the Seller Releasees and has arisen or arises directly or indirectly out of, or relates directly or indirectly to, this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, or the operation of the Companies, the Managed Companies, the SALI Fund or the Client Funds, other than any claim that Buyer may have against any of the Seller Releasees that arises under this Agreement. Buyer Releasors, acknowledges that the laws of many states provide substantially the following: "A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO CLAIMS WHICH THE CREDITOR DOES NOT KNOW OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE, WHICH IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER MUST HAVE MATERIALLY AFFECTED HIS OR HER SETTLEMENT WITH THE DEBTOR." The Buyer Releasors acknowledge that such provisions are designed to protect a party from waiving claims which it does not know exist or may exist. Nonetheless, the Buyer Releasors, agree that, effective as of the Closing, the Companies, the Client Funds and the Managed Companies shall be deemed to waive any such provision. Buyer shall not permit any Company, Client Fund or Managed Company to institute, solicit or encourage, or participate, assist or cooperate in, any legal proceeding based upon, arising out of, or relating to any of the disputes, claims, controversies, demands, rights, obligations, liabilities, actions and causes of action waived under this Section 5.04. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the parties acknowledge and agrees that the Claims released by this Section 5.04 shall not include any and all Claims that are found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be a result of a Seller Releasees fraud, gross negligence or willful misconduct (each an "Excluded Claim" and/or collectively, the "Excluded Claims").

Section 5.05 Guaranty.

(a) The Guarantor hereby irrevocably and unconditionally guarantees to Seller full and punctual performance of and compliance with all of Buyer's obligations pursuant to this Agreement. The guaranty set forth in this Section 5.05(a) is an absolute, present, primary and continuing guaranty of performance, payment and compliance. The Guarantor acknowledges and agrees that upon any default by Buyer, Seller shall not be obligated to first attempt enforcement against Buyer. The Guarantor hereby waives any and all defenses to enforcement of the guaranty set forth in this Section 5.05(a), now existing or hereafter arising, which may be available to guarantors, sureties and other secondary parties at law or in equity. The Guarantor further agrees to pay all reasonable costs and expenses, including reasonable attorney fees and related costs, incurred by any Seller Releasee in enforcing the guaranty set forth in this Section 5.05(a).

(b) The Guarantor represents and warrants to Seller that (i) the execution and delivery of this Agreement, and the Guarantor's performance under this Agreement, including the Guarantor's performance under this Section 5.05, does not violate any law, decree or contractual restriction binding on the Guarantor, (ii) this Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Guarantor and constitutes the valid and legally binding obligation of the Guarantor, enforceable against the Guarantor in accordance with its terms and conditions, subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium and other similar laws affecting creditor's rights generally and general principles of equity and (iii) the Guarantor has the financial capacity necessary to perform its obligations under the guaranty set forth in Section 5.05(a).

Section 5.06 Ownership of Work Product of the Companies. Seller hereby agrees that all work product, designs, graphics, processes, trade secrets, proprietary information and confidential investor information of the Companies, that is not (i) generally available to the public other than by virtue of a disclosure by Seller after the Closing Date and in violation of this Agreement or (ii) independently developed by Seller from sources not known by Seller to be bound by an obligation of confidentiality to the Companies (collectively, "Confidential Information") and shall remain the property of the applicable Company without any further act on Seller's or any Company's part, and that Seller shall not have any past, current or future copyright, trademark right, intellectual property right, property interest and/or any other right, title or interest in such Confidential Information. Seller acknowledges and agrees that all right, title and interest in such Confidential Information, including, without limitation, all conceivable intellectual property rights, including, without limitation, all copyrights, trademarks, service marks, patents, and discoveries shall remain the property of the applicable Company on and after the Closing Date. Notwithstanding anything in this Section 5.06 or otherwise in this Agreement to the contrary, Seller may retain the phone that he used in the management and ownership of the Companies as his own personal property, and all "personal" information/data on such phone shall not constitute Confidential Information.

Section 5.07 Client Information. Seller hereby covenants and agrees at all times following the execution hereof to hold in strictest confidence, and not to use (for himself or for any other person), or to disclose to any person, firm or entity, any such Confidential Information. The provisions of this Section 5.07 shall survive the execution hereof.

Section 5.08 Buyer Obligations Pursuant to CG Agreement. Buyer covenants and agrees to ensure that after the Closing, either (x) Buyer and each person that would be an "Adviser Party" within the meaning of Schedule D immediately after the Closing is not affiliated with any "Policy Party" within the meaning of Schedule D or (y) each such person that would be such an Adviser Party immediately after the closing and that is affiliated with any such Policy Party has established or will establish procedures pursuant to a legally binding written agreement to prevent any communication prohibited by Schedule D.

Section 5.09 Managed Companies Counsel. Buyer expressly acknowledges that counsel who have appeared for or represented the Managed Companies prior to the execution of this Agreement shall withdraw as counsel from any existing litigation and shall be replaced by counsel of Buyer's choice or designation. The Managed Companies existing counsel shall cooperate with Buyer's designated replacement counsel in all respects, including filing any necessary pleadings or motions with the applicable court and turning over all documents, correspondence or other work product heretofore generated in connection with any such existing litigation to Buyer's designated replacement counsel; provided that Buyer acknowledges existing counsel may retain one copy of each such document, correspondence or work product for record keeping purposes.

INDEMNIFICATION AND OTHER REMEDIES

Section 6.01 Indemnification by Buyer. Buyer shall defend and indemnify each Seller Releasee against, and hold each Seller Releasee harmless from, all Claims (other than Excluded Claims), including those related to Seller's ownership of the Interests or any actions or inaction by any Company, any Managed Company, any Client Fund or the SALI Fund.

Section 6.02 Indemnification by Seller. Seller shall have no obligations of indemnification with respect to any Claims (other than Excluded Claims), including those related to this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

Section 6.04 Exclusive Remedies. The parties acknowledge and agree that their sole and exclusive remedy with respect to any and all Claims for any breach of any representation, warranty, covenant, agreement or obligation set forth herein or otherwise relating to the subject matter of this Agreement shall be pursuant to the indemnification provisions set forth in this ARTICLE VI. In furtherance of the foregoing, each party hereby waives, to the fullest extent permitted under law, any and all rights, claims and causes of action for any breach of any representation, warranty, covenant, agreement or obligation set forth herein or otherwise relating to the subject matter of this Agreement it may have against the other parties hereto and their affiliates arising under or based upon any law, except pursuant to the indemnification and other provisions set forth in this ARTICLE VI. Nothing in this Section 6.04 shall limit any person's right to seek and obtain any equitable relief to which such person shall be entitled or to seek any remedy on account of any fraud by any party hereto. The provisions of this Articles VI shall survive the execution hereof.

ARTICLE VII
MISCELLANEOUS

Section 7.01 Expenses. All costs and expenses incurred in connection with the preparation and negotiation of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby shall be paid by Buyer at Closing.

Section 7.02 Notices. All notices, claims, demands and other communications hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been given: (a) when delivered by hand (with written confirmation of receipt); (b) when received by the addressee if sent by a nationally recognized overnight courier (receipt requested); (c) on the date sent by email of a PDF document (with confirmation of transmission) if sent during normal business hours of the recipient, and on the next Business Day if sent after normal business hours of the recipient; or (d) on the second day after the date mailed, by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, postage prepaid, if sent to the respective parties at the following addresses (or at such other address for a party as shall be specified in a notice given in accordance with this Section 7.02):

Section 7.03 Interpretation; Headings. This Agreement shall be construed without regard to any presumption or rule requiring construction or interpretation against the party drafting an instrument or causing any instrument to be drafted. The headings in this Agreement are for reference only and shall not affect the interpretation of this Agreement.

Section 7.04 Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement is invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other term or provision of this Agreement.

Section 7.05 Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the sole and entire agreement of the parties to this Agreement with respect to the subject matter contained herein, and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous representations, warranties, understandings and agreements, both written and oral, with respect to such subject matter.

Section 7.06 Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns. No party may assign its rights or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of the other parties. No assignment shall relieve the assigning party of any of its obligations hereunder.

Section 7.07 Amendment and Modification; Waiver. This Agreement may only be amended, modified or supplemented by an agreement in writing signed by each party hereto. No waiver by any party of any of the provisions hereof shall be effective unless explicitly set forth in writing and signed by the party so waiving. No failure to exercise or delay in exercising, any right or remedy arising from this Agreement shall operate or be construed as a waiver thereof. No single or partial exercise of any right or remedy hereunder shall preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right or remedy.

Section 7.08 Governing Law; Submission to Jurisdiction; Waiver of Jury Trial.

(a) This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Delaware without giving effect to any choice or conflict of law provision or rule (whether of the State of Delaware any other jurisdiction).

(b) ANY LEGAL SUIT, ACTION OR PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR BASED UPON THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY MAY BE INSTITUTED IN THE FEDERAL COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA OR THE COURTS OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE, AND EACH PARTY IRREVOCABLY SUBMITS TO THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF SUCH COURTS IN ANY SUCH SUIT, ACTION OR PROCEEDING. SERVICE OF PROCESS, SUMMONS, NOTICE OR OTHER DOCUMENT BY MAIL TO SUCH PARTY'S ADDRESS SET FORTH HEREIN SHALL BE EFFECTIVE SERVICE OF PROCESS FOR ANY SUIT, ACTION OR OTHER PROCEEDING BROUGHT IN ANY SUCH COURT. THE PARTIES IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVE ANY OBJECTION TO THE LAYING OF VENUE OF ANY SUIT, ACTION OR ANY PROCEEDING IN SUCH COURTS AND IRREVOCABLY WAIVE AND AGREE NOT TO PLEAD OR CLAIM IN ANY SUCH COURT THAT ANY SUCH SUIT, ACTION OR PROCEEDING BROUGHT IN ANY SUCH COURT HAS BEEN BROUGHT IN AN INCONVENIENT FORUM.

(c) EACH PARTY ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES AND, THEREFORE, EACH SUCH PARTY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LEGAL ACTION ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (A) NO REPRESENTATIVE OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER IN THE EVENT OF A LEGAL ACTION, (B) SUCH PARTY HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (C) SUCH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY, AND (D) SUCH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 7.08(c).

Section 7.09 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall be deemed to be one and the same agreement. A signed copy of this Agreement delivered by email or other means of electronic transmission shall be deemed to have the same legal effect as delivery of an original signed copy of this Agreement.

Section 7.10 AS-IS, WHERE-IS. Except as expressly set forth in this Agreement to the contrary, Buyer is expressly purchasing the Interests "AS-IS, WHERE-IS, AND WITH ALL FAULTS" with respect to all facts, circumstances, conditions, and defects, and Seller has no obligation to determine or correct any such facts, circumstances, conditions, or defects or to compensate Buyer for same. Except as expressly set forth in this Agreement, Seller has specifically bargained for the assumption by Buyer of all responsibility to investigate Seller, the Companies, the Client Funds, the SALI Fund, the Managed Companies and the Interests, and of all risk of adverse conditions and has structured the Purchase Price and other terms of this Agreement in consideration thereof. Except for the representations set forth in ARTICLE III, Buyer is and will be relying strictly and solely on its own inspections and examinations and the advice and counsel of its own consultants, agents, legal counsel, and officers. Except as set forth in ARTICLE III and otherwise in this Agreement, Buyer assumes the full risk of any loss or damage occasioned by any fact, circumstance, condition, or defect pertaining to Seller, any Company, any Client Fund, the SALI Fund, any Managed Company or the Interests. The provisions of this Section 7.10 shall survive the Closing and shall not be deemed to have merged into any of the documents executed or delivered at the Closing.

Section 7.11 Specific Performance. The parties agree that irreparable damage would occur if any provision of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with the terms hereof and that the parties shall be entitled to specific performance of the terms hereof, in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity.

Section 7.12 Privileges; Conflicts. It is acknowledged by each of the parties hereto that the Seller has retained Sadis & Goldberg LLP ("Sadis") to act as their counsel in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby and that Sadis has not acted as counsel for Buyer, any Company, any Client Fund, SALI Fund, any Managed Company or any of their respective affiliates in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby and that no other party has the status of a client of Sadis for conflict of interest or any other purposes as a result thereof. Buyer hereby agrees that, in the event that a dispute arises between Buyer or any of its affiliates (including, after the Closing, the Companies) and the Seller or any of his affiliates, Sadis may represent the Seller or any such affiliate in such dispute even though the interests of the Seller or such affiliate may be directly adverse to Buyer or any of its affiliates (including, after the Closing, the Companies), and even though Sadis may have represented such Company in a matter substantially related to such dispute, or may be handling ongoing matters for the Companies, and Buyer and the Companies hereby waive, on behalf of themselves and each of their affiliates, any claim they have or may have that Sadis has a conflict of interest in connection with, or is otherwise prohibited from engaging in, such representation. Buyer further agrees that, as to all communications among Sadis, Seller, any Company, or their respective affiliates that relate in any way to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the attorney-client privilege, the expectation of client confidence and all other rights to any evidentiary privilege belong to Seller and may be controlled by Seller and shall not pass to or be claimed by Buyer, any Company or their affiliates. Buyer agrees to take, and to cause its affiliates to take, all reasonable steps necessary to implement the intent of this Section 7.12. Buyer and Seller further agree that Sadis and its partners and employees are third-party beneficiaries of this Section 7.12.

LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT

ATLAS IDF GP, LLC

This Limited Liability Company Agreement (this "Agreement") of Atlas IDF GP, LLC (the "Company") is entered into as of October 29, 2015 by and between the Company and John Honis (the "Managing Member", and collectively with any individuals and/or entities who subsequently become members of the Company in the future in accordance with the terms hereof, "Members"), pursuant to and in accordance with the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (6 Del.C. § 18-101, et seq.), as amended from time to time (the "Act").

Section 1 Name. The name of the limited liability company governed hereby is Atlas IDF GP, LLC.

Section 2 Certificates. The Managing Member, as an authorized person within the meaning of the Act, has executed, delivered and filed the certificate of formation of the Company (the "Certificate of Formation") with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on October 29, 2015. Upon the execution of this Agreement, the Managing Member shall thereafter be designated as an authorized person within the meaning of the Act. Hereafter, the Managing Member shall have the power to execute, deliver and file any other certificates (and any amendments and/or restatements thereof) necessary for the Company to qualify to do business in a jurisdiction in which the Company may wish to conduct business.

Section 3 Purpose. The Company was formed for the object and purpose of, and the nature of the business to be conducted and promoted by the Company is, engaging in all lawful activities for which limited liability companies may be formed under the Act, including, without limitation of the foregoing, serving as the general partner of Atlas IDF, LP, a Delaware limited partnership.

Section 4 Powers. The Company shall have the power to do any and all acts reasonably necessary, appropriate, proper, advisable, incidental or convenient to or for the furtherance of the purpose and business described herein and for the protection and benefit of the Company, and shall have, without limitation, any and all of the powers that may be exercised on behalf of the Company by the Managing Member pursuant to this Agreement.

Section 5 Principal Business Office. The principal place of business and office of the Company shall be located at, and the Company's business shall be conducted from 87 Railroad Place, Suite 403, Saratoga Springs, NY 12866, or elsewhere as the Managing Member may from time to time determine.

Section 6 Registered Office. The address of the registered office of the Company in the State of Delaware is: c/o Stellar Corporate Services LLC, 3500 South DuPont Highway, County of Kent, Dover, Delaware 19901.

Section 7 Registered Agent. The name and address of the registered agent of the Company for service of process on the Company in the State of Delaware is: c/o Stellar Corporate Services LLC, 3500 South DuPont Highway, County of Kent, Dover, Delaware 19901.

Section 8 Members. The names, the nature of the interests held, the mailing addresses, the initial capital contributions and the Percentage Interests (as defined below) of the Members are as set forth in Schedule A attached hereto.

Section 9 Term. The term of the Company commenced on the date of filing of the Certificate of Formation in accordance with the Act and shall continue until dissolution of the Company in accordance with Section 23 of this Agreement.

Section 10 Limited Liability. Except as otherwise provided by the Act, the debts, obligations and liabilities of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, shall be solely the debts, obligations and liabilities of the Company, and none of the Members, any Officer (as hereinafter defined), employee or agent of the Company (including a person having more than one such capacity) shall be obligated personally for any such debt, obligation or liability of the Company solely by reason of acting in such capacity.

Section 11 Initial Capital Contributions. Each Member is deemed admitted as a Member of the Company upon his, her or its execution and delivery of this Agreement. The initial capital contributions of the Members are set forth on Schedule A attached hereto.

Section 12 Additional Capital Contributions. The Members are not required to make any capital contributions to the Company beyond their initial capital contributions, unless otherwise determined by the Managing Member.

Section 13 Capital Accounts. Separate capital accounts shall be maintained for each Member on the books of the Company, which accounts shall set forth the capital of such Member in the Company. Each capital account shall be adjusted to reflect such Member's share of allocations and distributions as provided in Sections 14 and 15 of this Agreement, and any additional capital contributions to the Company or withdrawals of capital from the Company. Such capital accounts shall further be adjusted to conform to the Treasury Regs. under Section 704(b) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), as interpreted in good faith by the Managing Member.

Section 14 Allocations of Profit and Loss. All items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their percentage interests as set forth on Schedule A attached hereto ("Percentage Interests").

Section 15 Distributions. Distributions shall be made to the Members at such times and in such amounts as may be determined in the sole discretion of the Managing Member. Distributions shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their Percentage Interests. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Company shall not make a distribution to the Members on account of their interest in the Company if such distribution would violate Section 18-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

Section 16 Management.

(a) The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed by the Managing Member. Subject to the express limitations contained in any provision of this Agreement, the Managing Member shall have complete and absolute control of the affairs and business of the Company, and the Managing Member shall possess all powers necessary, convenient or appropriate to carrying out the purposes and business of the Company, including, without limitation, doing all things and taking all actions necessary to carrying out the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

(b) Subject to the rights and powers of the Managing Member and the limitations thereon contained herein, the Managing Member may delegate to any person any or all of his powers, rights and obligations under this Agreement, and the Managing Member may appoint, contract or otherwise deal with any person to perform any acts or services for the Company as the Managing Member may reasonably determine.

(c) No Member (other than the Managing Member) shall participate in the management or control of the business of, or shall have any rights or powers with respect to, the Company except those expressly granted to it by, or pursuant to the terms of, this Agreement, or those conferred on it by law.

(d) The Managing Member shall hold office until the earliest to occur of his death, disability or other inability to act in such capacity, at which time a successor Managing Member may be appointed by Members owning at least a majority of the Percentage Interests.

Section 17 Officers. The Managing Member may, from time to time as he deems advisable, appoint officers of the Company (the "Officers") and assign in writing titles (including, without limitation, President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer) to any such person. Unless the Managing Member decides otherwise, if the title is one commonly used for officers of a business corporation formed under the Delaware General Corporation Law, the assignment of such title shall constitute the delegation to such person of the authorities and duties that are normally associated with that office. Any delegation pursuant to this Section 17 may be revoked at any time by the Managing Member.

Section 18 Other Business. The Members (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Managing Member) may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures (unconnected with the Company) of every kind and description, independently or with others. Neither the Company nor any other Member shall have any rights in or to such independent ventures or the income or profits therefrom by virtue of this Agreement.

Section 19 Exculpation and Indemnification. The Managing Member shall not be liable to the Company or to the other Members for any action taken or omitted to be taken in connection with the business or affairs of the Company, so long as he acted in good faith and is not found to be guilty of gross negligence or willful misconduct with respect thereto, as determined by a final non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless: (i) the Managing Member, and (ii) in the discretion of the Managing Member, the Company's managers, shareholders, partners, officers, employees, agents and affiliates and/or the other Members (each, an "Indemnified Party") from and against any and all claims, actions, demands, losses, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees and other expenses of litigation), damages, penalties or interest, as a result of any claim or legal proceeding related to any action taken or omitted to be taken by any of them in connection with the business and affairs of the Company (including the settlement of any such claim or legal proceeding); provided, however, that the party against whom the claim is made or legal proceeding is directed is not guilty of gross negligence or willful misconduct, as determined by a final non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction. Any indemnity under this Section 19 shall be provided out of and to the extent of Company assets only, and no Member (including the Managing Member) shall have personal liability on account thereof.

Section 20 Admission of Additional Members. Additional Members may be admitted to the Company only with the written consent of the Managing Member. The capital contribution required of, and the Percentage Interests assigned to, such newly-admitted Member shall be determined by the Managing Member.

Section 21 Effect of Bankruptcy, Dissolution, Death or Incompetence of a Member. The bankruptcy, dissolution, death or disability of a Member, or an adjudication that such Member is incompetent (a Member experiencing any such event, a "Disabled Member"), shall not cause the termination or dissolution of the Company, and the business of the Company shall continue. If a Member is dissolved or becomes bankrupt, the trustee or receiver of such Disabled Member's estate or, if a Member dies, such Disabled Member's executor, administrator or trustee, or, if such Member is adjudicated incompetent, such Disabled Member's committee, guardian or conservator, or the personal representative of such Disabled Member, as applicable, shall have the rights of such Disabled Member for the purposes of settling or managing such Disabled Member's estate or property and such power as the Disabled Member possessed to dispose of all or any part of such Member's interest in the Company, and to join with any assignee in satisfying conditions precedent to the admission of the assignee as a substitute Member.

Section 22 Assignments. A Member may not transfer, assign, pledge or hypothecate, in whole or in part, his, her or its limited liability company interest without the prior written consent of the Managing Member.

Section 23 Dissolution.

(a) The Company shall dissolve, and its affairs shall be wound-up upon the first to occur of the following: (i) the written consent of the Managing Member; (ii) the death, disability, bankruptcy or withdrawal of the Managing Member, in the event no successor managing member is appointed pursuant to Section 16(d); and (iii) the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under Section 18-802 of the Act.

(b) In the event of dissolution, the Company shall conduct only such activities as are necessary to wind-up its affairs (including the sale of the assets of the Company in an orderly manner).

Section 24 Tax Matters Partner. John Honis shall be the tax matters partner within the meaning of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code. All expenses incurred by the tax matters partner in connection with his duties as tax matters partner shall be expenses of the Company.

Section 25 Elections. The Managing Member shall determine the accounting methods and conventions under the tax laws of any and all applicable jurisdictions as to the treatment of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit of the Company or any other method or procedure related to the preparation of such tax returns. The Managing Member may cause the Company to make or refrain from making any and all elections permitted by such tax laws, and the Managing Member shall not be liable for any consequences to any previously admitted or subsequently admitted Members resulting from making or failing to make any such elections.

Section 26 Separability of Provisions. Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered separable and if for any reason any provision or provisions herein are determined to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal under any existing or future law, such invalidity, unenforceability or illegality shall not impair the operation of or affect those portions of this Agreement which are valid, enforceable and legal.

Section 27 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original of this Agreement.

Section 28 Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement of the Members with respect to the subject matter hereof and shall supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings and discussions with respect thereto.

Section 29 Governing Law, Personal Jurisdiction and Venue. The parties acknowledge and agree that any claim, controversy, dispute or action relating in any way to this Agreement or the subject matter of this Agreement shall be governed solely by the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to any conflict of laws doctrines. The parties irrevocably consent to and submit to being served with legal process issued from the state and federal courts located in the State of New York and irrevocably consent to the exclusive personal jurisdiction of the federal and state courts situated in the State of New York. The parties irrevocably waive any objections to the personal jurisdiction of these courts. The federal and state courts of the State of New York in New York County shall have sole and exclusive jurisdiction over any and all claims, controversies, disputes and actions which in any way relate to this Agreement or the subject matter of this Agreement. Any such claim, controversy, dispute or action must first be brought in the federal court of the State of New York in New York County, unless the federal courts do not have subject matter jurisdiction as a matter of law, in which case it must first be brought in the Commercial Division of the New York State Supreme Court in New York County (and can only proceed in New York County outside the Commercial Division if the Commercial Division rejects it). The parties also irrevocably waive any objections that these courts constitute an oppressive, unfair, or inconvenient forum and agree not to seek to change venue on these grounds or any other grounds.

Section 30 Amendments. This Agreement may be modified, altered, supplemented or amended in the sole discretion of the Managing Member.

AMENDED AND RESTATED COMPANY AGREEMENT

ATLAS IDF GP, LLC

A Delaware Limited Liability Company

ATLAS IDF GP, LLC

A Delaware Limited Liability Company

This AMENDED AND RESTATED COMPANY AGREEMENT (collectively, the "Agreement," which shall include all amendments and exhibits hereto) dated effective as of the 1st day of August, 2022 (the "Effective Date"), are entered into by and among those Persons executing the signature page hereto as the Members of ATLAS IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "Company"). All capitalized terms not defined in the instance of first usage shall have the respective meanings associated with such terms in Section 1.04 below.

ARTICLE I

INTRODUCTION

1.01 Formation of Limited Liability Company The Company was formed by the filing of the Certificate of Formation (the "Certificate") with the Secretary of State of Delaware on the October 29, 2015. The Company's business shall be conducted under the name "ATLAS IDF GP, LLC" until such time as the Members shall hereafter designate otherwise and file amendments to the Certificate in accordance with applicable law. This Agreement amends and replaces, in its entirety, all prior governing agreements for the Company, including any and all amendments thereto.

This Agreement is subject to, and governed by, the Delaware laws governing limited liability companies (the "DELAWARE LAWS") and the Certificate. In the event of a direct conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the mandatory provisions of the DELAWARE LAWS or the provisions of the Certificate, such provisions of the DELAWARE LAWS or the Certificate, as the case may be, will be controlling.

1.02 Registered Office and Agent The registered office and registered agent of the Company initially shall be as set forth in the Certificate and may be changed from time to time by the appropriate filing by the Company in the office of the Secretary of State of Delaware.

1.03 Other Offices The Company may also have offices at such other places, both within and without the State of Delaware, as the Board of Managers may from time to time determine or the business of the Company may require.

1.04 Defined Terms The terms used in this Agreement with their initial letter capitalized shall, unless the context requires otherwise, have the meanings specified in this Section 1.04. The singular shall include the plural and the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter, and vice versa, as the context requires. When used in this Agreement, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

(a) "DELAWARE LAWS" shall mean the Delaware laws governing limited liability companies, as the same may be amended from time to time.

(b) "Affiliate" shall mean, as to any Person, any Person controlled by, controlling, or under common control with such Person, and, in the case of a Person who is an individual, a member of the family of such individual consisting of a spouse, sibling, in-law, lineal descendant, or ancestor (including by adoption). For purposes of this definition, "control" (including the terms "controlling", "controlled by" and "under common control with") of a Person means the possession, directly or indirectly, alone or in concert with others, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such Person, whether through the ownership of securities, by contract or otherwise, and no Person shall be deemed in control of another solely by virtue of being a director, officer or holder of voting securities of any entity. A Person shall be presumed to control any partnership of which such Person is a general partner.

(c) "Bankruptcy" shall mean, and a Member shall be deemed a "Bankrupt Member," upon (i) the entry of a decree or order for relief against the Member by a court of competent jurisdiction in any involuntary case brought against the Member under any Debtor Relief Laws; (ii) the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, assignee, custodian, trustee, sequestrator, or other similar agent under applicable Debtor Relief Laws for the Member or for any substantial part of its assets or property; (iii) the ordering of the winding up or liquidation of the Member's affairs; (iv) the filing of a petition in any involuntary bankruptcy case, which petition remains undismissed for a period of 180 days or which is not dismissed or suspended pursuant to Section 305 of the Federal Bankruptcy Code (or any corresponding provision of any future United States bankruptcy law); (v) the commencement by the Member of a voluntary case under any applicable Debtor Relief Law now or hereafter in effect; (vi) the consent by the Member to the entry of an order for relief in an involuntary case under any such law or to the appointment of or the taking of possession by a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, custodian, sequestrator, or other similar agent under any applicable Debtor Relief Laws for the Member or for any substantial part of its assets or property; or (vii) the making by a Member of any general assignment for the benefit of its creditors.

(d) "Book Depreciation" for any asset shall mean for any Fiscal Year or other period an amount that bears the same ratio to the Book Value of that asset at the beginning of such Fiscal Year or other period as the federal income tax depreciation, amortization, or other cost recovery deduction allowable for that asset for such year or other period bears to the adjusted tax basis of that asset at the beginning of such year or other period. If the federal income tax depreciation, amortization, or other cost recovery deduction allowable for any asset for such year or other period is zero, then Book Depreciation for that asset shall be determined with reference to such beginning Book Value using any reasonable method selected by the Board of Managers.

(e) "Book Value" shall mean for any asset the asset's adjusted tax basis, except as follows:

(i) the initial Book Value of any asset contributed by a Member to the Company shall be the gross fair market value of such asset, as determined by the Board of Managers;

(ii) the Book Values of all Company assets shall be adjusted to equal their respective gross fair market values, as determined by the Board of Managers, as of one of the following times: (1) on the acquisition of an additional interest in the Company by any new or existing Member in exchange for more than a de minimis Capital Contribution if the Board of Managers reasonably determines that such adjustment is necessary or appropriate to reflect the relative economic interests of the Members in the Company; (2) on the distribution by the Company to a Member of more than a de minimis amount of Company property as consideration for an Interest in the Company if the Board of Managers reasonably determines that such adjustment is necessary or appropriate to reflect the relative economic interests of the Members in the Company; and (3) on the liquidation of the Company within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(g) of the Treasury Regulations;

(iii) the Book Value of any Company asset distributed to any Member shall be the gross fair market value of such asset on the date of distribution;

(iv) the Book Values of Company assets shall be increased (or decreased) to reflect any adjustment to the adjusted basis of such assets pursuant to Code Section 734(b) or Code Section 743(b), but only to the extent that such adjustments are taken into account in determining Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Treasury Regulations and Section 8.02(d) hereof; provided, however, that Book Values shall not be adjusted pursuant to this Section 1.04(e)(iv) to the extent the Board of Managers determines that an adjustment pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) is necessary or appropriate in connection with a transaction that would otherwise result in an adjustment pursuant to this Section 1.04(e)(iv); and

(v) if the Book Value of an asset has been determined or adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(i),1.04(e)(ii), or 1.04(e)(iv) hereof, such Book Value shall thereafter be adjusted by the Book Depreciation taken into account with respect to such asset for purposes of computing Profits and Losses.

(f) "Capital Contribution" shall mean the total value of cash and Book Value (except as otherwise herein provided) of property contributed and agreed to be contributed to the Company by each Member, as shown in Exhibit A, attached hereto and incorporated herein for all purposes, as the same may be amended from time to time. Any reference in this Agreement to the Capital Contribution of a then Member shall include a Capital Contribution previously made by any prior Member for the interest of such then Member, reduced by any distribution to such Member in return of its capital as contemplated herein.

(g) "Class A Interest" shall refer to the Interest of a Class A Member in the Profits, Losses, Distributable Cash, and assets upon liquidation of the Company as described in this Agreement.

(h) "Class A Members" shall mean those Persons listed on Exhibit A and designated as "Class A Members." The Class A Members shall have such additional rights as a Member as are specifically described and granted in Exhibit A, as amended from time to time.

(i) Intentionally Blank.

(j) Intentionally Blank.

(k) "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. All references herein to sections of the Code shall include any corresponding provision or provisions of succeeding law.

(l) "Company" shall refer to the limited liability company created by virtue of the Certificate and this Agreement and any successor in interest.

(m) "Debtor Relief Laws" shall mean any federal or state bankruptcy, insolvency, or similar laws generally affecting the rights of creditors and the relief of debtors now or hereafter in effect.

(n) Intentionally Blank.

(o) "Distributable Cash" of the Company shall mean all cash funds of the Company on hand from time to time (other than cash funds obtained as Capital Contributions by the Members and cash funds obtained from loans to the Company) after (i) payment of all operating expenses of the Company as of such time; (ii) provision for payment of all outstanding and unpaid current obligations of the Company as of such time; and (iii) provision for a working cash reserve in accordance with Section 8.07 below.

(p) "Fiscal Year" shall mean the calendar year.

(q) "Former Member" shall mean a member that causes a Dissolution Event.

(r) "Interest" in the Company shall mean the entire ownership interest of a Member in the Company at any particular time, including such Member's Capital Account, allocable share of Profits, Losses, and Distributable Cash, and the right of such Member to any and all benefits to which a Member may be entitled as provided in this Agreement, together with the obligations of such Member to comply with all of the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

(t) "Manager" shall mean an individual elected to the Board of Managers of the Company pursuant to Sections 3.02 and 3.04 below.

(u) "Member(s)" shall mean all Members admitted to the Company hereafter as Members who shall consent to the terms hereof and shall be admitted pursuant to the provisions hereof. The names, business or residence addresses, Capital Contributions, Percentage Interest, and class of Interest of the Members shall be set forth on Exhibit B, attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference. Reference to a "Member" shall be to any one of the Members.

(v) "Percentage Interest" of a Member shall mean the percentage of such Member set forth opposite the name of such Member under the column "Percentage Interest" in Exhibit B, as such percentage may be adjusted from time to time pursuant to the terms hereof.

(w) "Person" shall mean any individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability company or partnership, association, organization, trust, estate, or other entity.

(x) "Pro Rata Part" shall mean the percentage expression of a fraction the numerator of which is a Member's respective Percentage Interest and the denominator of which is the aggregate Percentage Interests of all Members involved in the respective transaction or having a respective right or option.

(y) "Profits" and "Losses" shall mean, for each Fiscal Year or other period, an amount equal to the Company's taxable income or loss for such year or period, determined in accordance with Code Section 703(a) (for this purpose, all items of income, gain, loss, or deduction required to be stated separately pursuant to Code Section 703(a)(1) shall be included in taxable income or loss), with the following adjustments:

(i) income of the Company that is exempt from federal income tax and not otherwise taken into account in computing Profits and Losses pursuant to this Section 1.04(y) shall be added to such taxable income or loss;

(ii) any expenditures of the Company described in Code Section 705(a)(2)(B), or treated as Code Section 705(a)(2)(B) expenditures pursuant to Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(i) of the Treasury Regulations, and not otherwise taken into account in computing Profits and Losses pursuant to this Section 1.04(y), shall be subtracted from such taxable income or loss;

(iii) if the Book Value of any Company asset is adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) or Section 1.04(e)(iii), the amount of such adjustment shall be taken into account as gain or loss from the disposition of such asset for purposes of computing Profits and Losses;

(iv) gain or loss resulting from any disposition of property with respect to which gain or loss is recognized for federal income tax purposes shall be computed by reference to the Book Value of the property disposed of, notwithstanding that the adjusted tax basis of such property differs from its Book Value;

(v) in lieu of the deduction for depreciation, cost recovery, or amortization taken into account in computing such taxable income or loss, there shall be taken into account Book Depreciation; and

(vi) notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 1.04(y), any items that are specially allocated pursuant to Section 8.02 or Section 8.03 shall not be taken into account in computing Profits and Losses.

(z) "Regulatory Allocations" shall mean the special allocations of items of income, gain, loss, and deduction, if any, set forth in Section 8.02 hereof.

(aa) "Transfer" or "Transferred" shall mean the sale, assignment, conveyance, gift, bequest, devise, transfer under the rules of intestate succession, pledge, mortgage, or other encumbrance. In addition, the term "Transfer" or "Transferred" shall mean an "ownership change" of a Member as defined in Section 382(g) of the Code in effect as of the Effective Date, except that the term "Member" shall be substituted for "shareholder" wherever it appears.

(bb) "Treasury Regulations" shall mean regulations issued by the Department of the Treasury interpreting the Code.

(cc) "Unanimous Consent" shall mean the written consent of all of the then Members of the Company.

MEMBERS AND MEMBERSHIP INTERESTS

2.01 Members. The Members of the Company shall be those Persons listed on Exhibit B. Except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, and except as provided in Section 7.05 below, a Person may be admitted as a Member to the Company only upon the affirmative vote of the Managers, plus one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%); provided, however, that no Person will be recognized as a Member of the Company until he/she shall have executed this Agreement, or a counterpart hereto, and agrees to be bound by all of the terms and conditions hereof.

2.02 Annual Meetings An annual meeting of the Members of the Company shall be held during each calendar year on such date and at such time as shall be designated from time to time by the Board of Managers and stated in the notice of the meeting, and if a legal holiday, then on the next business day following, at the time specified in the notice of the meeting. At such meeting, the Members shall elect Managers and transact such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting.

2.03 Special Meetings A special meeting of the Members may be called at any time by the President, the Board of Managers, or one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total at least 10%. Only such business shall be transacted at a special meeting as may be stated or indicated in the notice of such meeting.

2.04 Place of Meetings The annual meeting of Members may be held at any place within or without the State of Delaware as may be designated by the Board of Managers. Special meetings of Members may be held at any place within or without the State of Delaware as may be designated by the person or persons calling such special meeting as provided in Section 2.03. If no place for a meeting is designated, it shall be held at the registered office of the Company.

2.05 Notice. Written or printed notice stating the place, day, and hour of each meeting of Members and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than 10 days or more than 50 days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary, or the person calling the meeting, to each Member of record entitled to vote at such meeting.

2.06 Voting List At least 10 days before each meeting of Members, the Secretary shall prepare a complete list of Members entitled to vote at such meeting, arranged in alphabetical order, including the address of each Member and the number of voting Interests held by each Member. For a period of 10 days prior to such meeting, such list shall be kept on file at the registered office of the Company and shall be subject to inspection by any Member during usual business hours. Such list shall be produced at such meeting, and at all times during such meeting shall be subject to inspection by any Member. The membership interest transfer books shall be prima facie evidence as to who are the Members entitled to examine such list or membership interest transfer books.

2.07 Voting of Interests. Interests held by the Company in treasury, Interests owned by a Person the majority of the voting interests of which are owned or controlled by the Company, and Interests held by the Company in a fiduciary capacity shall not be Interests entitled to vote or to be counted in determining the total number of outstanding Interests of the Company. Interests held by an administrator, executor, guardian, or conservator may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, without transfer of such Interests into his or her name so long as such Interests form a part of the estate and are in the possession of the estate being served by him or her. Interests standing in the name of a trustee may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, only after the Interests have been transferred into his or her name as trustee. Interests standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver, and Interests held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver without transfer of such Interests into his or her name if authority to do so is contained in the court order by which such receiver was appointed. Interests standing in the name of another domestic or foreign corporation of any type or kind may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the bylaws of such corporation may provide or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors of such corporation may by resolution determine. A Member whose Interests are pledged shall be entitled to vote such Interests until they have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote such Interests.

2.08 Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%) shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of Members, except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement. At any reconvening of an adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the original meeting if a quorum had been present or represented.

2.09 Vote; Withdrawal of Quorum. If a quorum is present in person or represented by proxy at any meeting, except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, the vote of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%) of all Members, whether or not they are present in person or represented by proxy, shall decide any question brought before such meeting, unless the question is one on which, by express provision of law, the Certificate, or this Agreement a different vote is required, in which event such express provision shall govern and control the decision of such question. The Members present at a duly convened meeting may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding any withdrawal of Members that may leave less than a quorum remaining.

2.10 Method of Voting; Proxies. Except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, each Member shall be entitled to that number of votes on each matter submitted to the Members for their vote equal to such Member's Percentage Interest multiplied by 100. At any meeting of Members, every Member having the right to vote may vote either in person or by a proxy executed in writing by the Member or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. Each such proxy shall be filed with the Secretary of the Company before or at the time of the meeting. No proxy shall be valid after 11 months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy. If no date is stated on a proxy, such proxy shall be presumed to have been executed on the date of the meeting at which it is to be voted. Each proxy shall be revocable unless expressly provided therein to be irrevocable or unless otherwise made irrevocable by law.

2.11 Closing of Transfer Books; Record Date . For the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, any meeting of Members or any reconvening thereof, or entitled to receive payment of any distribution, or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose, the Board of Managers may provide that the membership interest transfer books of the Company shall be closed for a stated period but not to exceed in any event 50 days. If the membership interest transfer books are closed for the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members, such books shall be closed for at least 10 days immediately preceding such meeting. In lieu of closing the membership interest transfer books, the Board of Managers may fix in advance a date as the record date for any such determination of Members, such date in any case to be not more than 50 days and not less than 10 days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring such determination of Members is to be taken. If the membership interest transfer books are not closed and if no record date is fixed for the determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members or entitled to receive payment of a distribution, the date on which the notice of the meeting is to be mailed or the date on which the resolution of the Board of Managers declaring such distribution is adopted, as the case may be, shall be the record date for such determination of Members.

2.12 Presiding Officials at Meetings The President shall preside at, and the Secretary shall prepare minutes of, each meeting of Members, and in the absence of either such officer, his other duties shall be performed by some person appointed at the meeting.

MANAGERS

3.01 Management. The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed EXCLUSIVELY by the Board of Managers. Subject to the restrictions imposed by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement, the Board of Managers may exercise all the powers of the Company.

3.02 Number; Election; Term; Qualification. The first Board of Managers shall consist of the number of Managers named in the Certificate and or otherwise in the Company documents. Thereafter, except as otherwise may be restricted by this Agreement, the number of Managers that shall constitute the entire Board of Managers shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Managers at any meeting thereof or by the Members at any meeting thereof, but shall never be less than one (1). At each annual meeting of Members, Managers shall be elected to hold office until the next annual meeting of Members and until their successors are elected and qualified. No Manager need be a Member, a resident of the State of Delaware, or a citizen of the United States.

3.03 Removal Except as otherwise may be provided by the Members, at any meeting of Members called expressly for that purpose, any Manager or the entire Board of Managers may be removed, with or without cause, by a vote of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%).

3.04 Change in Number; Vacancies. No decrease in the number of Managers constituting the entire Board of Managers shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent Manager. In the case of any increase in the number of Managers, or in the case of the death, retirement, resignation, or removal of a Manager, the vacancies to be filled by such increase or death, retirement, resignation, or removal may be filled by (a) the Board of Managers for a term of office continuing only until the next election of one or more Managers by the Members; or (b) the Members at any annual or special meeting of the Members. A Manager elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected to serve for the unexpired term of his predecessor in office.

3.05 Place of Meetings . The Board of Managers may hold its meetings in such place or places, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, within or without the State of Delaware as the Board of Managers may from time to time determine.

3.06 First Meeting . Each newly elected Board of Managers may hold its first meeting, if a quorum is present, for the purpose of organization and the transaction of business immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of Members, and no notice of such meeting shall be necessary.

3.07 Regular Meetings . Regular meetings of the Board of Managers may be held without notice at such times and places, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, as may be designated from time to time by resolution of the Board of Managers and communicated to all Managers. Regular meetings of the Board of Managers may be held when and if needed, and no more than one regular meeting of the Board of Managers shall be required in any calendar year.

3.08 Special Meetings . A special meeting of the Board of Managers shall be held whenever called by any Manager at such time and place, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, as such Manager shall designate in the notice of such special meeting. The Manager calling any special meeting shall cause notice of such special meeting to be given to each Manager at least 24 hours before such special meeting. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any special meeting of the Board of Managers need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of any special meeting.

3.09 Quorum; Vote . At all meetings of the Board of Managers, a majority of the Managers fixed in the manner provided in this Agreement shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If a quorum is not present at a meeting, a majority of the Managers present may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than an announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is present. The vote of a majority of the Managers present at a meeting at which a quorum is in attendance shall be the act of the Board of Managers, unless the vote of a different number is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement.

3.10 Procedure; Minutes . At meetings of the Board of Managers, business shall be transacted in such order as the Board of Managers may determine from time to time. The Board of Managers shall appoint at each meeting a person to preside at the meeting and a person to act as secretary of the meeting. The secretary of the meeting shall prepare minutes of the meeting that shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Company for placement in the minute book of the Company.

3.11 Presumption of Assent . A Manager of the Company who is present at any meeting of the Board of Managers at which action on any matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action unless his dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless he shall file his written dissent to such action with the person acting as secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof, or shall forward any dissent by certified or registered mail to the Secretary of the Company immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a Manager who voted in favor of such action.

3.12 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be restricted in this Agreement, Managers, in their capacity as Managers, may receive, by resolution of the Board of Managers, a stated salary or a fixed sum and expenses of attendance, if any, for attending meetings of the Board of Managers. No Manager shall be precluded from serving the Company in any other capacity or receiving compensation therefor.

ARTICLE IV

COMMITTEES

4.01 Designation . The Board of Managers may, by a resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers, designate executive and other committees.

4.02 Number; Qualification; Term . Each committee shall consist of one or more Managers appointed by resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers. The number of committee members may be increased or decreased from time to time by resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers. Each committee member shall serve as such until the expiration of his term as a Manager or his earlier resignation, unless sooner removed as a committee member or as a Manager.

4.03 Authority . The executive committee, to the extent provided in the resolution establishing such committee, shall have and may exercise all of the authority of the Board of Managers in the management of the business and affairs of the Company. Each other committee, to the extent expressly provided for in the resolution establishing such committee, shall have and may exercise all of the authority of the Board of Managers in such other matters and affairs concerning the Company. However, no committee shall have the authority of the Board of Managers in reference to any of the following:

(a) amending the Certificate;

(b) approving a plan of merger or consolidation;

(c) recommending to the Members the sale, lease, or exchange of all or substantially all of the property and assets of the Company other than in the usual and regular course of its business;

(d) recommending to the Members a voluntary dissolution of the Company or a liquidation thereof;

(e) filling vacancies in, or removing members of, the Board of Managers or of any committee thereof;

(f) filling any vacancy to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of Managers;

(g) electing or removing officers or committee members;

(h) fixing the compensation of any committee member; or

(i) altering or repealing any resolution of the Board of Managers that, by its term, provides that it shall not be amendable or repealable.

4.04 Committee Changes . The Board of Managers shall have the power at any time to fill vacancies in, to change the Membership of, and to discharge any committee. However, a committee member may be removed by the Board of Managers only if, in the judgment of the Board of Managers, the best interests of the Company will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed.

4.05 Regular Meetings . Regular meetings of any committee may be held without notice at such times and places, including by telephonic or other electronic methods of communication, as may be designated from time to time by resolution of the committee and communicated to all committee members.

4.06 Special Meetings . A special meeting of any committee may be held whenever called by any committee member at such time and place, including by telephonic or other electronic methods of communication, as such committee member shall designate in the notice of such special meeting. The committee member calling any special meeting shall cause notice of such special meeting to be given to each committee member at least 24 hours before such special meeting. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any special meeting of any committee need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of any special meeting.

4.07 Quorum; Majority Vote . At all meetings of any committee, a majority of the number of committee members designated by the Board of Managers shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If a quorum is not present at a meeting of any committee, a majority of the committee members present may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than an announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is present. The vote of a majority of the committee members present at any meeting at which a quorum is in attendance shall be the act of a committee, unless the vote of a different number is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement.

4.08 Minutes . Each committee shall cause minutes of its proceedings to be prepared and shall report the same to the Board of Managers. The minutes of the proceedings of each committee shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Company for placement in the minute books of the Company.

4.09 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be restricted in this Agreement, committee members may, by resolution of the Board of Managers, be allowed a stated salary or a fixed sum and expenses of attendance, if any, for attending any committee meetings.

4.10 Responsibility . The designation of any committee and the delegation of authority to it shall not operate to relieve the Board of Managers or any Manager of any responsibility imposed upon it or such Manager by law.

ARTICLE V

GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO MEETINGS

5.01 Notice Whenever by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement notice is required to be given to any Member, Manager, or committee member and no provision is made as to how such notice shall be given, it shall be construed to mean that notice may be given either (a) in person; (b) in writing, by mail; (c) by telegram, telex, cable, telecopy or facsimile transmission, or similar means; or (d) by any other method permitted by law. Any notice required or permitted to be given hereunder (other than personal notice) shall be addressed to such Member, Manager, or committee member at his address as it appears on the books on the Company or, in the case of a Member, on the membership interest transfer records of the Company or at such other place as such Member, Manager, or committee member is known to be at the time notice is mailed or transmitted. Any notice required or permitted to be given by mail shall be deemed to be delivered and given at the time when such notice is deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid. Any notice required or permitted to be given by telegram, telex, cable, telecopy or facsimile transmission, or similar means shall be deemed to be delivered and given at the time transmitted.

5.02 Waiver of Notice . Whenever by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement any notice is required to be given to any Member, Manager, or committee member of the Company, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time notice should have been given, shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice. Attendance of a Manager or Member at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Manager or Member attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

5.03 Telephone and Similar Meetings Members, Managers, or committee members may participate in and hold a meeting by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other. Participation in such a meeting shall constitute presence in person at such meeting, except where a person participates in the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

5.04 Action Without Meeting . Any action that may be taken, or is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement to be taken at a meeting of the Members, the Board of Managers, or a committee thereof may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the Members owning the required Percentage Interests of all Members (as set forth herein for the respective action or decision), a majority of the Managers or committee members, as the case may be, entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof, and such consent shall have the same force and effect as a vote of such Members, Managers, or committee members, as the case may be, and may be stated as such in any document filed with the Secretary of State of Delaware or in any certificate or other document delivered to any person. The consent may be in one or more counterparts so long as each Member, Manager, or committee member signs one of the counterparts. The signed consent shall be placed in the minute books of the Company.

OFFICERS AND OTHER AGENTS

6.01 Number; Titles; Election; Term The Company shall have a president, one or more vice presidents (and, in the case of each vice president, with such descriptive title, if any, as the Board of Managers shall determine), a secretary, a treasurer, and such officers and agents as the Board of Managers may deem desirable. The Board of Managers shall elect a president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary at its first meeting at which a quorum shall be present after the annual meeting of Members or whenever a vacancy exists. The Board of Managers then, or from time to time, may also elect or appoint one or more other officers or agents as it shall deem advisable. Except as otherwise may be provided by separate agreement, each officer and agent shall hold office for the term for which he is elected or appointed and until his successor has been elected or appointed and qualified. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution of the Board of Managers electing or appointing an officer or agent, his term of office shall extend to and expire at the meeting of the Board of Managers following the next annual meeting of Members or, if earlier, at his death, resignation, or removal. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person. No officer or agent need be a Member, a Manager, a resident of the State of Delaware, or a citizen of the United States.

6.02 Removal . Any officer or agent elected or appointed by the Board of Managers may be removed by a majority of the Board of Managers only if, in the judgment of a majority of the Board of Managers, the best interests of the Company will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights.

6.03 Vacancies . Any vacancy occurring in any office of the Company may be filled by the Board of Managers.

6.04 Authority . Officers shall have such authority and perform such duties in the management of the Company as are provided in this Agreement or as may be determined by resolution of the Board of Managers not inconsistent with this Agreement.

6.05 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be provided by separate agreement, the compensation, if any, of officers or any salaried employee shall be fixed, increased, or decreased from time to time by the Board of Managers, provided, however, that the Board of Managers may by resolution delegate to any one or more officers of the Company the authority to fix such compensation.

6.06 Chairman of the Board . The Chairman of the Board, if any, shall be an officer of the Company and, subject to the direction of the Board of Managers, shall perform such executive, supervisory, and management functions and duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Managers.

6.07 President, CEO and COO . The Board of Managers may designate and appoint a President, CEO and/or COO, with rights, duties and responsibilities established by the Board of Managers.

6.08 Vice Presidents . Each Vice President shall have such powers and duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President and (in the order as designated by the Board of Managers, or in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Vice President continuously) shall exercise the powers of the President during that officer's absence or inability to act.

6.09 Treasurer . The Treasurer shall have custody of the Company's funds and securities, shall keep full and accurate accounts of receipts and disbursements, and shall deposit all moneys and valuable effects in the name and to the credit of the Company in such depository or depositories as may be designated by the Board of Managers. The Treasurer shall audit all payrolls and vouchers of the Company; shall receive, audit, and consolidate all operating and financial statements of the Company and its various departments; shall supervise the accounting and auditing practices of the Company; and shall have charge of matters relating to taxation. Additionally, the Treasurer shall have the power to endorse for deposit, collection, or otherwise all checks, drafts, notes, bills of exchange, and other commercial paper payable to the Company and to give proper receipts and discharges for all payments to the Company. The Treasurer shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President.

6.10 Assistant Treasurers . Each Assistant Treasurer shall perform such duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President. The Assistant Treasurers (in the order as designated by the Board of Managers or, in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Assistant Treasurer continuously) shall exercise the powers of the Treasurer.

6.11 Secretary . The Secretary shall maintain minutes of all meetings of the Board of Managers, of any committee, and of the Members, or consents in lieu of such minutes, in the Company's minute books, and shall cause notice of such meetings to be given when requested by any person authorized to call such meetings. The Secretary may sign with the President, in the name of the Company, all contracts of the Company and affix the seal of the Company thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of the certificate books, membership interest transfer books, and other documents as the Board of Managers may direct, all of which shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any Manager at the office of the Company during normal business hours. The Secretary shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President.

6.12 Assistant Secretaries . Each Assistant Secretary shall perform such duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President. The Assistant Secretaries (in the order designated by the Board of Managers or, in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Assistant Secretary continuously) shall exercise the powers of the Secretary during that officer's absence or inability to act.

ARTICLE VII

CAPITALIZATION AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

7.01 Capital Contributions . The Capital Contributions of the Members, as set forth in the books and records of the Company, shall be paid or transferred to the Company in cash and/or property on the terms and in the manner specified by the Board of Managers. No Member shall be entitled to make any additional Capital Contributions except as provided in Section 7.02 and 7.03 below.

7.02 Additional Capital Contributions . If the Board of Managers determine that additional capital is required for the purposes of the Company, as set forth herein, the Board of Managers may notify the Members of the need for such additional capital and shall state the specific purposes for which the call for such additional capital is being made. Thereupon, all Members shall have the right (but not the obligation) to make additional Capital Contributions in cash and/or property to the Company aggregating the amount of additional capital needed by the Company in the proportion of their respective Percentage Interests in the Company at the time notice is given. The Board of Managers shall use the additional capital so contributed solely for the purposes stated in the notice to the Members.

7.03 Failure to Make Additional Capital Contributions . If any Member chooses not to contribute its share of the additional capital needed by the Company within 14 days after notice is given to the Members of the need for such additional capital (a “Non-Contributing Member”), then the other Members shall be entitled (but not obligated) to contribute the share of such Non-Contributing Member (such Members being referred to as “Contributing Members”) of the additional capital needed pro rata according to such Contributing Members' Percentage Interests at such time or such other share as otherwise agreed upon by the Contributing Members.

7.04 Effect of Failure to Make Additional Capital Contributions . In the event of a Non-Contributing Member, the Percentage Interests of all of the Members shall be recomputed on the following basis: Each Member's Percentage Interest immediately following the computation shall equal the percentage expression of a fraction, the numerator of which is the total Capital Contributions of such Member plus the additional Capital Contribution, if any, made by such Member pursuant to Sections 7.02 and 7.03 above, and the denominator of which is the total Capital Contributions of all of the Members plus the additional Capital Contributions made by all of the Members pursuant to Sections 7.02 and 7.03 above.

7.05 Recapitalization by Admission of Additional Members . If additional capital is required for the purposes of the Company as set forth herein and the Board of Managers is unable to finance such capital needs by borrowing the required amounts or through notice to the existing Members of the necessity for additional Capital Contributions as provided in Section 7.02 and 7.03 above, the Board of Managers shall have the right to admit additional Members to the Company, upon receiving the other approvals required herein. Following the admission of one or more new Members, the Percentage Interest of each Member, including the newly admitted Member(s), shall be computed as follows: Each Member's Percentage Interest immediately following the computation shall equal the percentage expression of a fraction, the numerator of which is the total Capital Contributions of such Member and the denominator of which is the total Capital Contributions of all of the Members, including the newly admitted Members.

7.06 Maintenance of Capital Accounts . The Company shall maintain for each Member a separate Capital Account in accordance with this Section 7.06, which shall control the allocation of Profits and Losses and the division of assets upon liquidation of the Company as provided in Section 12.01. Each Capital Account shall be maintained in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) a Member's Capital Account shall initially be zero and shall be increased by the cash amount or Book Value of any property contributed by such Member to the Company pursuant to this Agreement, such Member's allocable share of Profits and any items in the nature of income or gains that are specially allocated to such Member pursuant to Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 hereof, and the amount of any Company liabilities assumed by such Member or which are secured by any property distributed to such Member;

(b) such Capital Account shall be decreased by the cash amount or Book Value of any property distributed to such Member pursuant to this Agreement, such Member's allocable share of Losses and any items in the nature of deductions or losses that are specially allocated to such Member pursuant to Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 hereof, and the amount of any liabilities of the Member assumed by the Company or which are secured by any property contributed by such Member to the Company; and

(c) if all or a portion of an Interest in the Company is Transferred in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the transferee shall succeed to the Capital Account of the transferor to the extent it relates to the transferred Interest, provided, however, that if the Transfer causes a termination of the Company under Code Section 708(b)(1)(B), the assets of the Company shall be deemed to have been distributed to the Members (including the transferee of the Interest) in liquidation of the Company and recontributed by such Members and transferees in reconstitution of the Company. Such deemed liquidation and reconstitution shall not cause the Company to be dissolved and/or reconstituted for purposes other than maintenance of the Capital Accounts and federal income tax.

The foregoing provisions and the other provisions of this Agreement relating to the maintenance of Capital Accounts are intended to comply with Section 1.704-1(b) of the Treasury Regulations and shall be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent with such Treasury Regulations. If the Board of Managers determines that it is prudent to modify the manner in which the Capital Accounts, or any increases or decreases to the Capital Accounts, are computed in order to comply with such Treasury Regulations, the Board of Managers may authorize such modifications, provided that it is not likely to have a material effect on the amounts distributable to any Member pursuant to Sections 8.06 and 12.01 hereof.

7.07 Negative Capital Accounts . If any Member has a deficit balance in its Capital Account, such Member shall have no obligation to restore such negative balance or to make any Capital Contribution to the Company by reason thereof, and such negative balance shall not be considered an asset of the Company or of any Member.

7.08 Interest . No interest shall be paid by the Company on Capital Contributions or on balances in Capital Accounts.

7.09 No Withdrawal . No Member shall be entitled to withdraw any part of his Capital Contribution or his Capital Account or to receive any distribution from the Company, except as provided in Sections 11.02 and 12.01 of this Agreement.

7.10 Loans From Members . Loans by a Member to the Company shall not be considered Capital Contributions.

ARTICLE VIII

ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

8.01 Allocation of Profits and Losses.

(a) Allocation of Profits. Except as provided on any Exhibit hereto, after giving effect to the allocations set forth in Section 8.02 and Section 8.03, and after giving effect to all distributions of cash or property (other than cash or property to be distributed pursuant to Section 12.01), Profits for any Fiscal Year shall be allocated to the Members in the following manner:

(i) first, to each Member with a negative balance in its Capital Account, pro rata in accordance with such negative Capital Account balances, until such negative Capital Account balances have been eliminated;

(ii) next, to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

(b) Allocation of Losses. Except as provided in any Exhibit hereto, after giving effect to the allocations set forth in Section 8.02 and Section 8.03, Losses for any Fiscal Year shall be allocated to the Members in the following manner:

(i) to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

8.02 Special Allocations of Profits and Losses .

(a) Minimum Gain Chargeback–Company Nonrecourse Liabilities. If there is a net decrease in Company minimum gain during any Fiscal Year, certain items of income and gain shall be allocated (on a gross basis) to the Members in the amounts and manner described in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f) and (j)(2)(i) and (ii), subject to the exemptions set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f)(2), (3), (4) and (5). This Section 8.02(a) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f) relating to Company nonrecourse liabilities, as defined in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(3) and shall be so interpreted.

(b) Minimum Gain Chargeback–Member Nonrecourse Debt. If there is a net decrease in Member minimum gain during any Fiscal Year, certain items of income and gain shall be allocated (on a gross basis) as quickly as possible to those Members who had a share of the Member minimum gain determined pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(5) in the amounts and manner described in Treasury Regulations Sections 1.704-2(i)(4), (j)(2)(ii), and (j)(2)(iii). This Section 8.02(b) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(4) relating to Member nonrecourse debt, as defined in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(4) and shall be so interpreted.

(c) Qualified Income Offset. If, after applying Section 8.02(a) and Section 8.02(b), any Member has an adjusted Capital Account deficit, items of Company income and gain shall be specially allocated (on a gross basis) to each such Member in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate the adjusted Capital Account deficit of such Member as quickly as possible. This Section 8.02(c) is intended to comply with the "qualified income offset" requirement set for the in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d) and shall be so interpreted.

(d) Optional Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Company asset pursuant to Code Sections 734(b) or 743(b) is required, pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m), to be taken in to account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Members in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such Section of the Treasury Regulations.

(f) Partner Nonrecourse Deductions. Partner Nonrecourse Deductions shall be allocated pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(4) and (i)(1) to the Member who bears the economic risk of loss with respect to such deductions.

8.03 Curative Allocations . The Regulatory Allocations are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Treasury Regulations. It is the intent of the Members that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 8.03. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provisions of this Article VIII, the Board of Managers shall make such offsetting special allocations of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Member's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Member would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of the Agreement and all Company items were allocated pursuant to Section 8.01(a) and Section 8.01(b) hereof.

8.04 Tax Allocations: Code Section 704(c) .

(a) In accordance with Code Section 704(c) and the Treasury Regulations thereunder, income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to any property contributed to the capital of the Company shall, solely for federal income tax purposes, be allocated among the Members so as to take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such property to the Company for federal income tax purposes and its initial Book Value.

(b) If the Book Value of any Company asset is adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) hereof, subsequent allocations of income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to such asset shall take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such asset for federal income tax purposes and its Book Value in the same manner as under Code Section 704(c) and the Treasury Regulations thereunder.

(c) Any elections or other decisions relating to such allocation shall be made by the Board of Managers. Allocations pursuant to this Section 8.04 are solely for purposes of federal, state, and local taxes and shall not affect or in any way be taken into account in computing any Member's Capital Account, or share of Profits, Losses, and other items or distribution pursuant to any provision of this Agreement.

8.05 Other Allocation Rules .

(a) For purposes of determining the Profits, Losses, or any other item allocable to any period, Profits, Losses, and any such other item shall be determined on a daily, monthly, or other basis, as determined by the Board of Managers using any permissible method under Code Section 706 and the Treasury Regulations thereunder.

(b) For federal income tax purposes, every item of income, gain, loss, and deduction shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with the allocations under Sections 8.01, 8.02, 8.03, and 8.04.

(c) The Members are aware of the income tax consequences of the allocations made by this Article VIII and hereby agree to be bound by the provisions of this Article VIII in reporting their shares of Company income and loss for income tax purposes.

(d) It is intended that the allocations in Sections 8.01, 8.02, 8.03, and 8.04 hereof effect an allocation for federal income tax purposes consistent with Section 704 of the Code and comply with any limitations or restrictions therein.

8.06 Distributions of Distributable Cash . Except as otherwise may be provided in this Agreement, the Board of Managers shall cause the Company to make distributions of Distributable Cash at such intervals and in such amounts as the Board of Managers in its sole discretion shall determine by majority vote. Distributions of Distributable Cash shall be made to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

8.07 Working Cash Reserve . The Board of Managers may from time to time establish a working cash reserve for capital expenditures, unforeseen contingencies, projected operating deficits, and other corporate purposes and may increase or decrease the amount in such reserve in its business judgment.

ARTICLE IX

CERTIFICATES

9.01 Certificated and Uncertificated Interests. The membership interests of the Company may be either certificated interests or uncertificated interests. As used herein, the term "certificated interests" means Interests represented by instruments in bearer or registered form, and the term "uncertificated interests" means Interests not represented by such instruments and the transfers of which are registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of the Company.

9.02 Certificates for Certificated Interests . The certificates for certificated interests shall be in such form as shall be approved by the Board of Managers in conformity with law. The certificates shall be consecutively numbered, shall be entered as they are issued in the books of the Company or in the records of the Company's designated transfer agent, if any, and shall state the Member's name, the class of Interests, the Percentage Interest that such Interest represents, and such other matters as may be required by law. The certificates shall be signed by the President or any Vice President and also by the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, or any other officer, and may be sealed with the seal of the Company or a facsimile thereof. If any certificate is countersigned by a transfer agent or registered by a registrar, either of which is other than the Company itself or an employee of the Company, the signatures of the foregoing officers may be a facsimile.

9.03 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates . The Company shall issue a new certificate in place of any certificate for Interests previously issued if the registered owner of the certificate satisfies the following requirements:

(a) the registered owner makes proof in affidavit form that a previously issued certificate for Interests has been lost, destroyed, or stolen;

(b) the registered owner requests the issuance of a new certificate before the Company has notice that the certificate has been acquired by a purchaser for value in good faith and without notice of an adverse claim;

(c) the registered owner gives a bond in such form, and with such surety or sureties, with fixed or open penalty, as the Board of Managers may direct, in its discretion, to indemnify the Company (and its transfer agent and registrar, if any) against any claim that may be made on account of the alleged loss, destruction, or theft of the certificate; and

(d) the registered owner satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the Board of Managers.

When a certificate has been lost, destroyed, or stolen and the Member of record fails to notify the Company within a reasonable time after he has notice of it, if the Company registers a transfer of the Interests represented by the certificate before receiving such notification, the Member of record is precluded from making any claim against the Company for the transfer or for a new certificate.

9.04 Transfer of Interests . Interests of the Company shall be transferable only on the books of the Company by the Members thereof in person or by their duly authorized attorneys or legal representatives, but only as authorized in this COMPANY AGREEMENT. With respect to certificated interests, upon surrender to the Company or the transfer agent of the Company of a certificate representing Interests duly endorsed or accompanied by proper evidence of succession, assignment, or authority to transfer, the Company or its agent shall issue a new certificate to the person entitled thereto, cancel the old certificate, and record the transaction upon its books. With respect to uncertificated interests, upon delivery to the Company of proper evidence of succession, assignment, or authority to transfer, the Company or its agent shall record the transaction upon its books.

9.05 Registered Members . The Company shall be entitled to treat the Member of record as the Member in fact of any Interests and, accordingly, shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in such Interests on the part of any other Person, whether or not it shall have actual or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.06 Legends . If the Company is authorized to issue Interests of more than one class, each certificate representing Interests issued by the Company (a) shall conspicuously set forth on the face or back of the certificate a full statement of all of the designations, preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the Interests of each class authorized to be issued; or (b) shall conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that (i) such a statement is set forth in the Certificate on file in the office of the Secretary of State or in this Agreement; and (ii) the Company will furnish a copy of such statements to the record holder of the certificate without charge on written request to the Company at its principal place of business or registered office.

If the Company issues any Interests that are not registered under the Securities Act of 1933, the transfer of any such interests shall be restricted in accordance with an appropriate legend.

In the event any restriction on the transfer, or registration of the transfer, of Interests shall be imposed or agreed to by the Company, each certificate representing Interests so restricted (a) shall conspicuously set forth a full or summary statement of the restriction on the face of the certificate; (b) shall set forth such statement on the back of the certificate and conspicuously refer to the same on the face of the certificate; or (c) shall conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that such a restriction exists pursuant to a specified document and (i) that the Company will furnish to the record holder of the certificate without charge upon written request to the Company at its principal place of business or registered office a copy of the specified document; or (ii) if such document is one required or permitted by law to be and has been filed, that such specified document is on file in the office of the Secretary of State and contains a full statement of such restriction.

ARTICLE X

ACCOUNTING AND RECORDS

10.01 Records and Accounting . The books and records of the Company shall be kept, and the financial position and the results of its operations recorded, in accordance with the accounting methods elected to be followed by the Company for federal income tax purposes. The books and records of the Company shall reflect all Company transactions and shall be appropriate and adequate for the Company's business.

10.02 Access to Accounting Records . All books and records of the Company shall be maintained at any office of the Company or at the Company's principal place of business, and each Member owning a Percentage Interest of at least ten percent (10%), and his duly authorized representative, shall have access to them at such office of the Company and the right to inspect and copy them at reasonable times.

10.03 Annual and Tax Information . The Company shall deliver to each Member within 90 days after the end of each Fiscal Year all information necessary for the preparation of such Member's federal income tax return. The Company shall prepare, within 120 days after the end of each Fiscal Year, a financial report of the Company for such Fiscal Year, containing a statement of the year then ended, a statement of sources and applications of funds, and a statement of reconciliation of the Capital Accounts of the Members.

10.04 Accounting Decisions . All decisions as to accounting matters, except as otherwise specifically set forth herein, shall be made by the Board of Managers. The Members may rely upon the advice of their accountants as to whether such decisions are in accordance with accounting methods followed for federal income tax purposes.

10.05 Federal Income Tax Elections . The Company may make all elections for federal income tax purposes, including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) to the extent permitted by applicable law and regulations, the election to use an accelerated depreciation method on any depreciable unit of the assets of the Company; and

(b) in case of a transfer of all or part of the Interest of any Member, the election pursuant to Section 734, 743, and 754 of the Code, as amended (or corresponding provisions of future law) to adjust the basis of the assets of the Company.

ARTICLE XI

CHANGES IN MEMBERS

The provisions of this Article XI are subject to, and may be superceded by, one or more separate agreements entered into by and among one or more Members. The provisions of this Article XI shall continue to control with respect to matters not covered by, or Members not parties to, such agreement(s).

11.01 Intentionally Blank .

11.02 Transfer and Assignment of Members' Interest . Except as approved by the Manager, plus a Member or Members owning a Percentage Interest greater than fifty percent (50%), no Member shall be entitled to Transfer any part of its Interest in the Company. The Company and, if applicable, the remaining Members shall be entitled to match the terms of the proposed Transfer, with consideration being only set forth in traditional monetary terms. If the Company and the remaining Members fail to match the proposed Transfer with regard to the purchase of the entire Interest, or portion thereof, the Member proposing to make the Transfer may move forward with the proposed Transfer. Transfers in violation of this Section 11.02 shall be effective only to the extent set forth in Section 11.05(b) hereof.

11.03 Further Restrictions on Transfer . No Member shall Transfer any part of his Interest in the Company: (i) without registration under applicable federal and state securities laws, or unless he delivers an opinion of counsel satisfactory to the Company that registration under such laws is not required; or (ii) if the Interest to be sold or exchanged, when added to the total of all other Interests to be sold or exchanged in the preceding 12 consecutive months prior thereto, would result in the termination of the Company under Code Section 708.

11.04 Substitute Members . A transferee shall have the right to become a substitute Member if (a) the requirements of Section 11.02 and 11.03 hereof are met; (b) such person executes an instrument satisfactory to the remaining Members accepting and adopting the terms and provisions of this Agreement; and (c) such person pays any reasonable expenses in connection with his or her admission as a Member.

11.05 Effect of Transfer .

(a) Any permitted Transfer of all or any portion of a Member's Interest in the Company will take effect on the first day of the month following receipt by the Members of written notice of Transfer. Any transferee of an Interest in the Company shall take subject to the restrictions on Transfer imposed by this Agreement.

(b) Upon any Transfer of a Member's Interest in the Company in violation of this Agreement, and if such Member's Interest is not purchased pursuant to Section 11.01, the transferee shall have no right to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company or to become a Member, but such transferee shall be entitled to receive only the allocable share of Profits, Losses, Distributive Cash, and other items to which the transferor of such Interest in the Company would otherwise be entitled.

11.06 No Dissolution or Withdrawal: Advanced Consent . Upon the occurrence of a Dissolution Event with regard to a respective Member, all remaining Members shall be deemed to automatically consent to the continuation of the business of the Company. By executing this Agreement, however, all Members hereby consent that they shall not voluntarily cause a Dissolution Event or demand the return of Member's capital. If any Member shall breach the agreement represented by this Section 11.06, the agreement of such breaching Member shall not be specifically performable, but shall be actionable for damages, and shall be deemed an offer of the Interest of such breaching Member for sale pursuant hereto. The parties agree that a reasonable approximation of the damage that the Company shall experience due to breach hereof is 20% of the value of the breaching Member's Interest, or as otherwise set forth herein (whichever is greater), which shall be deducted from any payments to such Member upon dissolution or purchase of such Member's Interest hereunder. The value of the breaching Member's Interest shall be determined pursuant to Section 11.01, to which value the said discount may then be applied in determining payments due to the breaching Member pursuant to the deemed offer of sale occurring under this Section 11.06.

ARTICLE XII

TERMINATION

12.01 Termination of the Company .

(a) The Company shall be dissolved, its assets shall be disposed of, and its affairs wound up on the first to occur of the following events:

(i) a determination by the Managers, plus the Unanimous Consent of the Members that the Company should be dissolved;

(ii) a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company;

(iii) the expiration of the Company’s term as stated in its Certificate; or

(iv) at such earlier time as provided by applicable law.

(b) In settling accounts of the Company after dissolution, the liabilities of the Company shall be entitled to payment and the assets of the Company remaining thereafter shall be distributed to the Members in the following order, all as required by the DELAWARE LAWS:

(i) those to creditors, in the order of priority as provided by law, except those to Members of the Company on account of their Capital Contributions;

(ii) to the Members, pro rata, in accordance with the positive balances, if any, in their Capital Accounts; and

(iii) to the Members in proportion to their relative Percentage Interests.

ARTICLE XIII

INDEMNIFICATION

13.01 Indemnification of Members, Managers, and Other Persons .

(a) To the greatest extent not inconsistent with the laws and public policies of Delaware, the Company shall indemnify any Member, Manager, or officer of the Company made a party to any proceeding because such individual is or was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company (an "Indemnitee"), as a matter of right, against all liability incurred by such individual in connection with any proceeding; provided that it shall be determined in the specific case in accordance with subsection (d) of this Section 13.01 that indemnification of such individual is permissible in the circumstances because the individual has met the standard of conduct for indemnification set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01. The Company shall advance, pay for, or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by an Indemnitee in connection with any such proceeding in advance of final disposition thereof if (i) the Indemnitee furnishes the Company a written affirmation of the Indemnitee's good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct for indemnification described in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01; (ii) the Indemnitee furnishes the Company a written undertaking, executed personally or on such Indemnitee's behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that such individual did not meet such standard of conduct; and (iii) a determination is made in accordance with subsection (d) that based upon facts then known to those making the determination, indemnification would not be precluded under this Section 13.01. The undertaking described in subsection (a)(ii) above must be a general obligation of the Indemnitee, subject to such reasonable limitations as the Company may permit, but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to financial ability to make repayment. The Company shall indemnify an Indemnitee who is wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any such proceeding, as a matter of right, against reasonable expenses incurred by the individual in connection with the proceeding without the requirement of a determination as set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01. Upon demand by an Indemnitee for indemnification or advancement of expenses, as the case may be, the Company shall expeditiously determine whether the Indemnitee is entitled thereto in accordance with this Section 13.01. The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided for under this Section 13.01 shall be applicable to any proceeding arising from acts or omissions occurring before or after the adoption of this Section 13.01.

(b) The Company shall have the power, but not the obligation, to indemnify any individual who is or was an employee or agent of the Company to the same extent as if such individual was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company.

(c) Indemnification is permissible under this Section 13.01 only if (i) the Indemnitee conducted himself in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed that his conduct was in, or at least not opposed to, the Company's best interest; (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful; and (iv) such Indemnitee is not adjudged in any such proceeding to be liable for gross negligence or willful misconduct in the performance of duty. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the Indemnitee did not meet the standard of conduct described in this subsection (c).

(d) A determination as to whether indemnification or advancement of expenses is permissible shall be made by any one of the following procedures:

(i) by the Board of Managers or by a majority vote consisting of Members not at the time parties to the proceeding; or

(ii) by special legal counsel selected by the Members in the manner prescribed in subsection (d)(i) above.

(e) An Indemnitee of the Company who is a party to a proceeding may apply for indemnification from the Company to the court, if any, conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. On receipt of an application, the court, after giving notice the court considers necessary, may order indemnification if it determines:

(i) in a proceeding in which the Indemnitee is wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, the Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Section 13.01, in which case the court shall order the Company to pay the Indemnitee his or her reasonable expenses incurred to obtain such court ordered indemnification; or

(ii) the Indemnitee is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnification in view of all the relevant circumstances, whether or not the Indemnitee met the standard of conduct set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01.

(f) Indemnification shall also be provided for an Indemnitee's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan if the individual reasonably believed his or her conduct to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of plan.

(g) Nothing contained in this Section 13.01 shall limit or preclude the exercise or be deemed exclusive of any right under the law, by contract or otherwise, relating to indemnification of or advancement of expenses to any individual who is or was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company or is or was serving at the Company's request as a director, officer, partner, manager, trustee, employee, or agent of another foreign or domestic company, partnership, association, limited liability company, corporation, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise, whether for profit or not. Nothing contained in this Section 13.01 shall limit the ability of the Company to otherwise indemnify or advance expenses to any individual. It is the intent of this Section 13.01 to provide indemnification to Indemnitees to the fullest extent now or hereafter permitted by the law consistent with the terms and conditions of this Section 13.01. Indemnification shall be provided in accordance with this Section 13.01 irrespective of the nature of the legal or equitable theory upon which a claim is made, including, without limitation, negligence, breach of duty, mismanagement, waste, breach of contract, breach of warranty, strict liability, violation of federal or state securities law, violation of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, or violation of any other state or federal law.

(h) For purposes of this Section 13.01:

(i) The term "expenses" includes all direct and indirect costs (including, without limitation, counsel fees, retainers, court costs, transcripts, fees of experts, witness fees, travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and all other disbursements or out-of-pocket expenses) actually incurred in connection with the investigation, defense, settlement, or appeal of a proceeding or establishing or enforcing a right to indemnification under this Section 13.01, applicable law, or otherwise.

(ii) The term "liability" means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine, excise tax (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

(iii) The term "party" includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

(iv) The term "proceeding" means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

(v) The Company may purchase and maintain insurance for its benefit, the benefit of any individual who is entitled to indemnification under this Section 13.01, or both, against any liability asserted against or incurred by such individual in any capacity or arising out of such individual's service with the Company, whether or not the Company would have the power to indemnify such individual against such liability.

ARTICLE XIV

MISCELLANEOUS

14.01 Complete Agreement . This Agreement, the Certificate, and all other organizational documents signed by all of the Members constitute the complete and exclusive statement of agreement among the Members with respect to the matters herein. This Agreement and the Certificate replace and supersede all prior agreements by and among the Members or any of them, and no representation, statement, or condition or warranty not contained in this Agreement or the Certificate will be binding on the Members or have any force or effect whatsoever.

14.02 Governing Law . This Agreement and the rights of the parties hereunder will be governed by, interpreted, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware.

14.03 Binding Effect . Subject to the provisions of this Agreement relating to transferability, this Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Members, and their respective distributes, successors, and assigns.

14.04 Terms . Common nouns and pronouns will be deemed to refer to the masculine, feminine, neuter, singular and plural, as the identity of the Person may in the context require. Any reference to the DELAWARE LAWS, the Code or other statutes or laws will include all amendments, modifications, or replacements of the specific sections and provisions concerned.

14.05 Headings . All headings herein are inserted only for convenience and ease of reference and are not to be considered in the construction or interpretation of any provision of this Agreement.

14.06 Severability . If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under the present or future laws effective during the term of this Agreement, such provision will be fully severable; this Agreement will be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part of this Agreement; and the remaining provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect and will not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance from this Agreement. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision, there will be added automatically as a part of this Agreement a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

14.07 Multiple Counterparts . This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original but all of which will constitute one and the same instrument. However, in making proof hereof it will be necessary to produce only one copy hereof signed by the party to be charged.

14.08 Additional Documents and Acts . Each Member agrees to execute and deliver such additional documents and instruments and to perform such additional acts as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate, carry out, and perform all of the terms, provisions, and conditions of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

14.09 No Third-Party Beneficiary . This Agreement is made solely and specifically among and for the benefit of the parties hereto, and their respective successors and assigns subject to the express provisions hereof relating to successors and assigns, and no other person will have any rights, interest, or claims hereunder or be entitled to any benefits under or on account of this Agreement as a third party beneficiary or otherwise.

14.10 References to this Agreement . Numbered or lettered articles, sections, and subsections herein contained refer to articles, sections, and subsections of this Agreement unless otherwise expressly stated.

14.11 Notices . Any notice to be given or to be served upon the Company or any party hereto in connection with this Agreement must be in writing and will be deemed to have been given and received when delivered to the address specified by the party to receive the notice. Such notices will be given to a Member at the address specified in Exhibit B hereto. Any Member or the Company may, at any time by giving five days' prior written notice to the other Members and the Company, designate any other address in substitution of the foregoing address to which such notice will be given.

14.12 Amendments . Except as otherwise may be provided in this Agreement, all amendments to this Agreement must be approved by the Managers, plus one or more Members whose aggregate Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%).

14.13 Title to Company Property . Legal title to all property of the Company will be held and conveyed in the name of the Company.

14.14 Reliance on Authority of Person Signing Agreement . In the event that a Member is not a natural person, neither the Company nor any Member will (a) be required to determine the authority of the individual signing this Agreement to make any commitment or undertaking on behalf of such entity or to determine any fact or circumstance bearing upon the existence of the authority of such individual; or (b) be required to see to the application or distribution of proceeds paid or credited to individuals signing this Agreement on behalf of such entity.

14.15 S-Corp Election. In the event the Company elects to be treated as a S-Corporation for federal tax purposes, the provisions in this Company Agreement addressing tax treatment shall be automatically amended and modified as required in order to pertain to a S-corporation.

14.16 Company Indemnification. In the event any Member is personally liable for any debt or obligations associated with a Company asset, then the Company agrees to indemnify such Member for any such debt or obligation in excess of his or her proportionate amount of such debt or obligation that he/she is required to pay or perform, as measured by the Percentage Interest of the Members, except as otherwise agreed by the Members.

14.17 Management by Members. The Certificate of the Company and other Company documents/agreements on file and/or executed by the Member may reflect management by members, and not management by managers. As a result, if such is the case and the Certificate is not amended to reflect management by managers, this Agreement shall be interpreted in such a manner that all references herein to a Manager, or Managers or Board of Managers, shall be referring to the managing member(s), and as of the Effective Date hereof, since the sole member is Rand Advisors Holding Corp., a Delaware corporation, all decisions shall be made by such member, with Mark Patrick as the Director and President.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Members have executed this Agreement to be effective as of the date first written above.

RAND PE FUND MANAGEMENT, LLC

This Limited Liability Company Agreement (this "Agreement") of Rand PE Fund Management, LLC (the "Company") is entered into as of October 29, 2015 by and between the Company and John Honis (the "Managing Member", and collectively with any individuals and/or entities who subsequently become members of the Company in the future in accordance with the terms hereof, "Members"), pursuant to and in accordance with the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (6 Del.C. § 18-101, et seq.), as amended from time to time (the "Act").

Section 1 Name. The name of the limited liability company governed hereby is Rand PE Fund Management, LLC.

Section 2 Certificates. The Managing Member, as an authorized person within the meaning of the Act, has executed, delivered and filed the certificate of formation of the Company (the "Certificate of Formation") with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on September 18, 2015. Upon the execution of this Agreement, the Managing Member shall thereafter be designated as an authorized person within the meaning of the Act. Hereafter, the Managing Member shall have the power to execute, deliver and file any other certificates (and any amendments and/or restatements thereof) necessary for the Company to qualify to do business in a jurisdiction in which the Company may wish to conduct business.

Section 3 Purpose. The Company was formed for the object and purpose of, and the nature of the business to be conducted and promoted by the Company is, engaging in all lawful activities for which limited liability companies may be formed under the Act, including, without limitation of the foregoing, serving as the general partner of Rand PE Fund I, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership.

Section 4 Powers. The Company shall have the power to do any and all acts reasonably necessary, appropriate, proper, advisable, incidental or convenient to or for the furtherance of the purpose and business described herein and for the protection and benefit of the Company, and shall have, without limitation, any and all of the powers that may be exercised on behalf of the Company by the Managing Member pursuant to this Agreement.

Section 5 Principal Business Office. The principal place of business and office of the Company shall be located at, and the Company's business shall be conducted from 87 Railroad Place, Suite 403, Saratoga Springs, NY 12866, or elsewhere as the Managing Member may from time to time determine.

Section 6 Registered Office. As of the date hereof, the address of the registered office of the Company in the State of Delaware is: c/o The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware 19801.

Section 7 Registered Agent. As of the date hereof, the name and address of the registered agent of the Company for service of process on the Company in the State of Delaware is: The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware 19801.

Section 8 Members. The names, the nature of the interests held, the mailing addresses, the initial capital contributions and the Percentage Interests (as defined below) of the Members are as set forth in Schedule A attached hereto.

Section 9 Term. The term of the Company commenced on the date of filing of the Certificate of Formation in accordance with the Act and shall continue until dissolution of the Company in accordance with Section 23 of this Agreement.

Section 10 Limited Liability. Except as otherwise provided by the Act, the debts, obligations and liabilities of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, shall be solely the debts, obligations and liabilities of the Company, and none of the Members, any Officer (as hereinafter defined), employee or agent of the Company (including a person having more than one such capacity) shall be obligated personally for any such debt, obligation or liability of the Company solely by reason of acting in such capacity.

Section 11 Initial Capital Contributions. Each Member is deemed admitted as a Member of the Company upon his, her or its execution and delivery of this Agreement. The initial capital contributions of the Members are set forth on Schedule A attached hereto.

Section 12 Additional Capital Contributions. The Members are not required to make any capital contributions to the Company beyond their initial capital contributions, unless otherwise determined by the Managing Member.

Section 13 Capital Accounts. Separate capital accounts shall be maintained for each Member on the books of the Company, which accounts shall set forth the capital of such Member in the Company. Each capital account shall be adjusted to reflect such Member's share of allocations and distributions as provided in Sections 14 and 15 of this Agreement, and any additional capital contributions to the Company or withdrawals of capital from the Company. Such capital accounts shall further be adjusted to conform to the Treasury Regs. under Section 704(b) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), as interpreted in good faith by the Managing Member.

Section 14 Allocations of Profit and Loss. All items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their percentage interests as set forth on Schedule A attached hereto ("Percentage Interests").

Section 15 Distributions. Distributions shall be made to the Members at such times and in such amounts as may be determined in the sole discretion of the Managing Member. Distributions shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their Percentage Interests. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Company shall not make a distribution to the Members on account of their interest in the Company if such distribution would violate Section 18-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

Section 16 Management.

(a) The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed by the Managing Member. Subject to the express limitations contained in any provision of this Agreement, the Managing Member shall have complete and absolute control of the affairs and business of the Company, and the Managing Member shall possess all powers necessary, convenient or appropriate to carrying out the purposes and business of the Company, including, without limitation, doing all things and taking all actions necessary to carrying out the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

(b) Subject to the rights and powers of the Managing Member and the limitations thereon contained herein, the Managing Member may delegate to any person any or all of his powers, rights and obligations under this Agreement, and the Managing Member may appoint, contract or otherwise deal with any person to perform any acts or services for the Company as the Managing Member may reasonably determine.

(c) No Member (other than the Managing Member) shall participate in the management or control of the business of, or shall have any rights or powers with respect to, the Company except those expressly granted to it by, or pursuant to the terms of, this Agreement, or those conferred on it by law.

(d) The Managing Member shall hold office until the earliest to occur of his death, disability or other inability to act in such capacity, at which time a successor Managing Member may be appointed by Members owning at least a majority of the Percentage Interests.

Section 17 Officers. The Managing Member may, from time to time as he deems advisable, appoint officers of the Company (the "Officers") and assign in writing titles (including, without limitation, President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer) to any such person. Unless the Managing Member decides otherwise, if the title is one commonly used for officers of a business corporation formed under the Delaware General Corporation Law, the assignment of such title shall constitute the delegation to such person of the authorities and duties that are normally associated with that office. Any delegation pursuant to this Section 17 may be revoked at any time by the Managing Member.

Section 18 Other Business. The Members (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the Managing Member) may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures (unconnected with the Company) of every kind and description, independently or with others. Neither the Company nor any other Member shall have any rights in or to such independent ventures or the income or profits therefrom by virtue of this Agreement.

Section 19 Exculpation and Indemnification. The Managing Member shall not be liable to the Company or to the other Members for any action taken or omitted to be taken in connection with the business or affairs of the Company, so long as he acted in good faith and is not found to be guilty of gross negligence or willful misconduct with respect thereto, as determined by a final non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless: (i) the Managing Member, and (ii) in the discretion of the Managing Member, the Company's managers, shareholders, partners, officers, employees, agents and affiliates and/or the other Members (each, an "Indemnified Party") from and against any and all claims, actions, demands, losses, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees and other expenses of litigation), damages, penalties or interest, as a result of any claim or legal proceeding related to any action taken or omitted to be taken by any of them in connection with the business and affairs of the Company (including the settlement of any such claim or legal proceeding); provided, however, that the party against whom the claim is made or legal proceeding is directed is not guilty of gross negligence or willful misconduct, as determined by a final non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction. Any indemnity under this Section 19 shall be provided out of and to the extent of Company assets only, and no Member (including the Managing Member) shall have personal liability on account thereof.

Section 20 Admission of Additional Members. Additional Members may be admitted to the Company only with the written consent of the Managing Member. The capital contribution required of, and the Percentage Interests assigned to, such newly-admitted Member shall be determined by the Managing Member.

Section 21 Effect of Bankruptcy, Dissolution, Death or Incompetence of a Member.

The bankruptcy, dissolution, death or disability of a Member, or an adjudication that such Member is incompetent (a Member experiencing any such event, a "Disabled Member"), shall not cause the termination or dissolution of the Company, and the business of the Company shall continue. If a Member is dissolved or becomes bankrupt, the trustee or receiver of such Disabled Member's estate or, if a Member dies, such Disabled Member's executor, administrator or trustee, or, if such Member is adjudicated incompetent, such Disabled Member's committee, guardian or conservator, or the personal representative of such Disabled Member, as applicable, shall have the rights of such Disabled Member for the purposes of settling or managing such Disabled Member's estate or property and such power as the Disabled Member possessed to dispose of all or any part of such Member's interest in the Company, and to join with any assignee in satisfying conditions precedent to the admission of the assignee as a substitute Member.

Section 22 Assignments. A Member may not transfer, assign, pledge or hypothecate, in whole or in part, his, her or its limited liability company interest without the prior written consent of the Managing Member.

Section 23 Dissolution.

(a) The Company shall dissolve, and its affairs shall be wound-up upon the first to occur of the following: (i) the written consent of the Managing Member; (ii) the death, disability, bankruptcy or withdrawal of the Managing Member, in the event no successor managing member is appointed pursuant to Section 16(d); and (iii) the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under Section 18-802 of the Act.

(b) In the event of dissolution, the Company shall conduct only such activities as are necessary to wind-up its affairs (including the sale of the assets of the Company in an orderly manner).

Section 24 Tax Matters Partner. John Honis shall be the tax matters partner within the meaning of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code. All expenses incurred by the tax matters partner in connection with his duties as tax matters partner shall be expenses of the Company.

Section 25 Elections. The Managing Member shall determine the accounting methods and conventions under the tax laws of any and all applicable jurisdictions as to the treatment of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit of the Company or any other method or procedure related to the preparation of such tax returns. The Managing Member may cause the Company to make or refrain from making any and all elections permitted by such tax laws, and the Managing Member shall not be liable for any consequences to any previously admitted or subsequently admitted Members resulting from making or failing to make any such elections.

Section 26 Separability of Provisions. Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered separable and if for any reason any provision or provisions herein are determined to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal under any existing or future law, such invalidity, unenforceability or illegality shall not impair the operation of or affect those portions of this Agreement which are valid, enforceable and legal.

Section 27 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original of this Agreement.

Section 28 Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement of the Members with respect to the subject matter hereof and shall supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings and discussions with respect thereto.

Section 29 Governing Law, Personal Jurisdiction and Venue. The parties acknowledge and agree that any claim, controversy, dispute or action relating in any way to this Agreement or the subject matter of this Agreement shall be governed solely by the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to any conflict of laws doctrines. The parties irrevocably consent to and submit to being served with legal process issued from the state and federal courts located in the State of New York and irrevocably consent to the exclusive personal jurisdiction of the federal and state courts situated in the State of New York. The parties irrevocably waive any objections to the personal jurisdiction of these courts. The federal and state courts of the State of New York in New York County shall have sole and exclusive jurisdiction over any and all claims, controversies, disputes and actions which in any way relate to this Agreement or the subject matter of this Agreement. Any such claim, controversy, dispute or action must first be brought in the federal court of the State of New York in New York County, unless the federal courts do not have subject matter jurisdiction as a matter of law, in which case it must first be brought in the Commercial Division of the New York State Supreme Court in New York County (and can only proceed in New York County outside the Commercial Division if the Commercial Division rejects it). The parties also irrevocably waive any objections that these courts constitute an oppressive, unfair, or inconvenient forum and agree not to seek to change venue on these grounds or any other grounds.

Section 30 Amendments. This Agreement may be modified, altered, supplemented or amended in the sole discretion of the Managing Member.

RAND PE FUND MANAGEMENT, LLC

A Delaware Limited Liability Company

This AMENDED AND RESTATED COMPANY AGREEMENT (collectively, the "Agreement," which shall include all amendments and exhibits hereto) dated effective as of the 1st day of August, 2022 (the "Effective Date"), are entered into by and among those Persons executing the signature page hereto as the Members of RAND PE FUND MANAGEMENT, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "Company"). All capitalized terms not defined in the instance of first usage shall have the respective meanings associated with such terms in Section 1.04 below.

ARTICLE I

INTRODUCTION

1.01 Formation of Limited Liability Company The Company was formed by the filing of the Certificate of Formation (the "Certificate") with the Secretary of State of Delaware on the September 18, 2015. The Company's business shall be conducted under the name "RAND PE FUND MANAGEMENT, LLC" until such time as the Members shall hereafter designate otherwise and file amendments to the Certificate in accordance with applicable law. This Agreement amends and replaces, in its entirety, all prior governing agreements for the Company, including any and all amendments thereto.

This Agreement is subject to, and governed by, the Delaware laws governing limited liability companies (the "DELAWARE LAWS") and the Certificate. In the event of a direct conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the mandatory provisions of the DELAWARE LAWS or the provisions of the Certificate, such provisions of the DELAWARE LAWS or the Certificate, as the case may be, will be controlling.

1.02 Registered Office and Agent The registered office and registered agent of the Company initially shall be as set forth in the Certificate and may be changed from time to time by the appropriate filing by the Company in the office of the Secretary of State of Delaware.

1.03 Other Offices The Company may also have offices at such other places, both within and without the State of Delaware, as the Board of Managers may from time to time determine or the business of the Company may require.

1.04 Defined Terms The terms used in this Agreement with their initial letter capitalized shall, unless the context requires otherwise, have the meanings specified in this Section 1.04. The singular shall include the plural and the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter, and vice versa, as the context requires. When used in this Agreement, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

(a) "DELAWARE LAWS" shall mean the Delaware laws governing limited liability companies, as the same may be amended from time to time.

(b) "Affiliate" shall mean, as to any Person, any Person controlled by, controlling, or under common control with such Person, and, in the case of a Person who is an individual, a member of the family of such individual consisting of a spouse, sibling, in-law, lineal descendant, or ancestor (including by adoption). For purposes of this definition, "control" (including the terms "controlling", "controlled by" and "under common control with") of a Person means the possession, directly or indirectly, alone or in concert with others, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such Person, whether through the ownership of securities, by contract or otherwise, and no Person shall be deemed in control of another solely by virtue of being a director, officer or holder of voting securities of any entity. A Person shall be presumed to control any partnership of which such Person is a general partner.

(c) "Bankruptcy" shall mean, and a Member shall be deemed a "Bankrupt Member," upon (i) the entry of a decree or order for relief against the Member by a court of competent jurisdiction in any involuntary case brought against the Member under any Debtor Relief Laws; (ii) the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, assignee, custodian, trustee, sequestrator, or other similar agent under applicable Debtor Relief Laws for the Member or for any substantial part of its assets or property; (iii) the ordering of the winding up or liquidation of the Member's affairs; (iv) the filing of a petition in any involuntary bankruptcy case, which petition remains undismissed for a period of 180 days or which is not dismissed or suspended pursuant to Section 305 of the Federal Bankruptcy Code (or any corresponding provision of any future United States bankruptcy law); (v) the commencement by the Member of a voluntary case under any applicable Debtor Relief Law now or hereafter in effect; (vi) the consent by the Member to the entry of an order for relief in an involuntary case under any such law or to the appointment of or the taking of possession by a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, custodian, sequestrator, or other similar agent under any applicable Debtor Relief Laws for the Member or for any substantial part of its assets or property; or (vii) the making by a Member of any general assignment for the benefit of its creditors.

(d) "Book Depreciation" for any asset shall mean for any Fiscal Year or other period an amount that bears the same ratio to the Book Value of that asset at the beginning of such Fiscal Year or other period as the federal income tax depreciation, amortization, or other cost recovery deduction allowable for that asset for such year or other period bears to the adjusted tax basis of that asset at the beginning of such year or other period. If the federal income tax depreciation, amortization, or other cost recovery deduction allowable for any asset for such year or other period is zero, then Book Depreciation for that asset shall be determined with reference to such beginning Book Value using any reasonable method selected by the Board of Managers.

(e) "Book Value" shall mean for any asset the asset's adjusted tax basis, except as follows:

(i) the initial Book Value of any asset contributed by a Member to the Company shall be the gross fair market value of such asset, as determined by the Board of Managers;

(ii) the Book Values of all Company assets shall be adjusted to equal their respective gross fair market values, as determined by the Board of Managers, as of one of the following times: (1) on the acquisition of an additional interest in the Company by any new or existing Member in exchange for more than a de minimis Capital Contribution if the Board of Managers reasonably determines that such adjustment is necessary or appropriate to reflect the relative economic interests of the Members in the Company; (2) on the distribution by the Company to a Member of more than a de minimis amount of Company property as consideration for an Interest in the Company if the Board of Managers reasonably determines that such adjustment is necessary or appropriate to reflect the relative economic interests of the Members in the Company; and (3) on the liquidation of the Company within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(g) of the Treasury Regulations;

(iii) the Book Value of any Company asset distributed to any Member shall be the gross fair market value of such asset on the date of distribution;

(iv) the Book Values of Company assets shall be increased (or decreased) to reflect any adjustment to the adjusted basis of such assets pursuant to Code Section 734(b) or Code Section 743(b), but only to the extent that such adjustments are taken into account in determining Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Treasury Regulations and Section 8.02(d) hereof; provided, however, that Book Values shall not be adjusted pursuant to this Section 1.04(e)(iv) to the extent the Board of Managers determines that an adjustment pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) is necessary or appropriate in connection with a transaction that would otherwise result in an adjustment pursuant to this Section 1.04(e)(iv); and

(v) if the Book Value of an asset has been determined or adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(i),1.04(e)(ii), or 1.04(e)(iv) hereof, such Book Value shall thereafter be adjusted by the Book Depreciation taken into account with respect to such asset for purposes of computing Profits and Losses.

(f) "Capital Contribution" shall mean the total value of cash and Book Value (except as otherwise herein provided) of property contributed and agreed to be contributed to the Company by each Member, as shown in Exhibit A, attached hereto and incorporated herein for all purposes, as the same may be amended from time to time. Any reference in this Agreement to the Capital Contribution of a then Member shall include a Capital Contribution previously made by any prior Member for the interest of such then Member, reduced by any distribution to such Member in return of its capital as contemplated herein.

(g) “Class A Interest” shall refer to the Interest of a Class A Member in the Profits, Losses, Distributable Cash, and assets upon liquidation of the Company as described in this Agreement.

(h) “Class A Members” shall mean those Persons listed on Exhibit A and designated as “Class A Members.” The Class A Members shall have such additional rights as a Member as are specifically described and granted in Exhibit A, as amended from time to time.

(i) Intentionally Blank.

(j) Intentionally Blank.

(k) "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. All references herein to sections of the Code shall include any corresponding provision or provisions of succeeding law.

(l) "Company" shall refer to the limited liability company created by virtue of the Certificate and this Agreement and any successor in interest.

(m) “Debtor Relief Laws” shall mean any federal or state bankruptcy, insolvency, or similar laws generally affecting the rights of creditors and the relief of debtors now or hereafter in effect.

(n) Intentionally Blank.

(o) "Distributable Cash" of the Company shall mean all cash funds of the Company on hand from time to time (other than cash funds obtained as Capital Contributions by the Members and cash funds obtained from loans to the Company) after (i) payment of all operating expenses of the Company as of such time; (ii) provision for payment of all outstanding and unpaid current obligations of the Company as of such time; and (iii) provision for a working cash reserve in accordance with Section 8.07 below.

(p) “Fiscal Year” shall mean the calendar year.

(q) “Former Member” shall mean a member that causes a Dissolution Event.

(r) "Interest" in the Company shall mean the entire ownership interest of a Member in the Company at any particular time, including such Member’s Capital Account, allocable share of Profits, Losses, and Distributable Cash, and the right of such Member to any and all benefits to which a Member may be entitled as provided in this Agreement, together with the obligations of such Member to comply with all of the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

(t) "Manager" shall mean an individual elected to the Board of Managers of the Company pursuant to Sections 3.02 and 3.04 below.

(u) "Member(s)" shall mean all Members admitted to the Company hereafter as Members who shall consent to the terms hereof and shall be admitted pursuant to the provisions hereof. The names, business or residence addresses, Capital Contributions, Percentage Interest, and class of Interest of the Members shall be set forth on Exhibit B, attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference. Reference to a "Member" shall be to any one of the Members.

(v) "Percentage Interest" of a Member shall mean the percentage of such Member set forth opposite the name of such Member under the column "Percentage Interest" in Exhibit B, as such percentage may be adjusted from time to time pursuant to the terms hereof.

(w) “Person” shall mean any individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability company or partnership, association, organization, trust, estate, or other entity.

(x) "Pro Rata Part" shall mean the percentage expression of a fraction the numerator of which is a Member's respective Percentage Interest and the denominator of which is the aggregate Percentage Interests of all Members involved in the respective transaction or having a respective right or option.

(y) "Profits" and "Losses" shall mean, for each Fiscal Year or other period, an amount equal to the Company's taxable income or loss for such year or period, determined in accordance with Code Section 703(a) (for this purpose, all items of income, gain, loss, or deduction required to be stated separately pursuant to Code Section 703(a)(1) shall be included in taxable income or loss), with the following adjustments:

(i) income of the Company that is exempt from federal income tax and not otherwise taken into account in computing Profits and Losses pursuant to this Section 1.04(y) shall be added to such taxable income or loss;

(ii) any expenditures of the Company described in Code Section 705(a)(2)(B), or treated as Code Section 705(a)(2)(B) expenditures pursuant to Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(i) of the Treasury Regulations, and not otherwise taken into account in computing Profits and Losses pursuant to this Section 1.04(y), shall be subtracted from such taxable income or loss;

(iii) if the Book Value of any Company asset is adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) or Section 1.04(e)(iii), the amount of such adjustment shall be taken into account as gain or loss from the disposition of such asset for purposes of computing Profits and Losses;

(iv) gain or loss resulting from any disposition of property with respect to which gain or loss is recognized for federal income tax purposes shall be computed by reference to the Book Value of the property disposed of, notwithstanding that the adjusted tax basis of such property differs from its Book Value;

(v) in lieu of the deduction for depreciation, cost recovery, or amortization taken into account in computing such taxable income or loss, there shall be taken into account Book Depreciation; and

(vi) notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 1.04(y), any items that are specially allocated pursuant to Section 8.02 or Section 8.03 shall not be taken into account in computing Profits and Losses.

(z) "Regulatory Allocations" shall mean the special allocations of items of income, gain, loss, and deduction, if any, set forth in Section 8.02 hereof.

(aa) "Transfer" or "Transferred" shall mean the sale, assignment, conveyance, gift, bequest, devise, transfer under the rules of intestate succession, pledge, mortgage, or other encumbrance. In addition, the term "Transfer" or "Transferred" shall mean an "ownership change" of a Member as defined in Section 382(g) of the Code in effect as of the Effective Date, except that the term "Member" shall be substituted for "shareholder" wherever it appears.

(bb) "Treasury Regulations" shall mean regulations issued by the Department of the Treasury interpreting the Code.

(cc) "Unanimous Consent" shall mean the written consent of all of the then Members of the Company.

MEMBERS AND MEMBERSHIP INTERESTS

2.01 Members. The Members of the Company shall be those Persons listed on Exhibit B. Except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, and except as provided in Section 7.05 below, a Person may be admitted as a Member to the Company only upon the affirmative vote of the Managers, plus one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%); provided, however, that no Person will be recognized as a Member of the Company until he/she shall have executed this Agreement, or a counterpart hereto, and agrees to be bound by all of the terms and conditions hereof.

2.02 Annual Meetings An annual meeting of the Members of the Company shall be held during each calendar year on such date and at such time as shall be designated from time to time by the Board of Managers and stated in the notice of the meeting, and if a legal holiday, then on the next business day following, at the time specified in the notice of the meeting. At such meeting, the Members shall elect Managers and transact such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting.

2.03 Special Meetings A special meeting of the Members may be called at any time by the President, the Board of Managers, or one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total at least 10%. Only such business shall be transacted at a special meeting as may be stated or indicated in the notice of such meeting.

2.04 Place of Meetings The annual meeting of Members may be held at any place within or without the State of Delaware as may be designated by the Board of Managers. Special meetings of Members may be held at any place within or without the State of Delaware as may be designated by the person or persons calling such special meeting as provided in Section 2.03. If no place for a meeting is designated, it shall be held at the registered office of the Company.

2.05 Notice. Written or printed notice stating the place, day, and hour of each meeting of Members and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than 10 days or more than 50 days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary, or the person calling the meeting, to each Member of record entitled to vote at such meeting.

2.06 Voting List At least 10 days before each meeting of Members, the Secretary shall prepare a complete list of Members entitled to vote at such meeting, arranged in alphabetical order, including the address of each Member and the number of voting Interests held by each Member. For a period of 10 days prior to such meeting, such list shall be kept on file at the registered office of the Company and shall be subject to inspection by any Member during usual business hours. Such list shall be produced at such meeting, and at all times during such meeting shall be subject to inspection by any Member. The membership interest transfer books shall be prima facie evidence as to who are the Members entitled to examine such list or membership interest transfer books.

2.07 Voting of Interests. Interests held by the Company in treasury, Interests owned by a Person the majority of the voting interests of which are owned or controlled by the Company, and Interests held by the Company in a fiduciary capacity shall not be Interests entitled to vote or to be counted in determining the total number of outstanding Interests of the Company. Interests held by an administrator, executor, guardian, or conservator may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, without transfer of such Interests into his or her name so long as such Interests form a part of the estate and are in the possession of the estate being served by him or her. Interests standing in the name of a trustee may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, only after the Interests have been transferred into his or her name as trustee. Interests standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver, and Interests held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver without transfer of such Interests into his or her name if authority to do so is contained in the court order by which such receiver was appointed. Interests standing in the name of another domestic or foreign corporation of any type or kind may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the bylaws of such corporation may provide or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors of such corporation may by resolution determine. A Member whose Interests are pledged shall be entitled to vote such Interests until they have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote such Interests.

2.08 Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%) shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of Members, except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement. At any reconvening of an adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the original meeting if a quorum had been present or represented.

2.09 Vote; Withdrawal of Quorum. If a quorum is present in person or represented by proxy at any meeting, except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, the vote of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%) of all Members, whether or not they are present in person or represented by proxy, shall decide any question brought before such meeting, unless the question is one on which, by express provision of law, the Certificate, or this Agreement a different vote is required, in which event such express provision shall govern and control the decision of such question. The Members present at a duly convened meeting may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding any withdrawal of Members that may leave less than a quorum remaining.

2.10 Method of Voting; Proxies. Except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, each Member shall be entitled to that number of votes on each matter submitted to the Members for their vote equal to such Member's Percentage Interest multiplied by 100. At any meeting of Members, every Member having the right to vote may vote either in person or by a proxy executed in writing by the Member or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. Each such proxy shall be filed with the Secretary of the Company before or at the time of the meeting. No proxy shall be valid after 11 months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy. If no date is stated on a proxy, such proxy shall be presumed to have been executed on the date of the meeting at which it is to be voted. Each proxy shall be revocable unless expressly provided therein to be irrevocable or unless otherwise made irrevocable by law.

2.11 Closing of Transfer Books; Record Date . For the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, any meeting of Members or any reconvening thereof, or entitled to receive payment of any distribution, or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose, the Board of Managers may provide that the membership interest transfer books of the Company shall be closed for a stated period but not to exceed in any event 50 days. If the membership interest transfer books are closed for the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members, such books shall be closed for at least 10 days immediately preceding such meeting. In lieu of closing the membership interest transfer books, the Board of Managers may fix in advance a date as the record date for any such determination of Members, such date in any case to be not more than 50 days and not less than 10 days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring such determination of Members is to be taken. If the membership interest transfer books are not closed and if no record date is fixed for the determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members or entitled to receive payment of a distribution, the date on which the notice of the meeting is to be mailed or the date on which the resolution of the Board of Managers declaring such distribution is adopted, as the case may be, shall be the record date for such determination of Members.

2.12 Presiding Officials at Meetings The President shall preside at, and the Secretary shall prepare minutes of, each meeting of Members, and in the absence of either such officer, his other duties shall be performed by some person appointed at the meeting.

MANAGERS

3.01 Management. The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed EXCLUSIVELY by the Board of Managers. Subject to the restrictions imposed by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement, the Board of Managers may exercise all the powers of the Company.

3.02 Number; Election; Term; Qualification. The first Board of Managers shall consist of the number of Managers named in the Certificate and or otherwise in the Company documents. Thereafter, except as otherwise may be restricted by this Agreement, the number of Managers that shall constitute the entire Board of Managers shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Managers at any meeting thereof or by the Members at any meeting thereof, but shall never be less than one (1). At each annual meeting of Members, Managers shall be elected to hold office until the next annual meeting of Members and until their successors are elected and qualified. No Manager need be a Member, a resident of the State of Delaware, or a citizen of the United States.

3.03 Removal Except as otherwise may be provided by the Members, at any meeting of Members called expressly for that purpose, any Manager or the entire Board of Managers may be removed, with or without cause, by a vote of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%).

3.04 Change in Number; Vacancies. No decrease in the number of Managers constituting the entire Board of Managers shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent Manager. In the case of any increase in the number of Managers, or in the case of the death, retirement, resignation, or removal of a Manager, the vacancies to be filled by such increase or death, retirement, resignation, or removal may be filled by (a) the Board of Managers for a term of office continuing only until the next election of one or more Managers by the Members; or (b) the Members at any annual or special meeting of the Members. A Manager elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected to serve for the unexpired term of his predecessor in office.

3.05 Place of Meetings . The Board of Managers may hold its meetings in such place or places, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, within or without the State of Delaware as the Board of Managers may from time to time determine.

3.06 First Meeting . Each newly elected Board of Managers may hold its first meeting, if a quorum is present, for the purpose of organization and the transaction of business immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of Members, and no notice of such meeting shall be necessary.

3.07 Regular Meetings . Regular meetings of the Board of Managers may be held without notice at such times and places, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, as may be designated from time to time by resolution of the Board of Managers and communicated to all Managers. Regular meetings of the Board of Managers may be held when and if needed, and no more than one regular meeting of the Board of Managers shall be required in any calendar year.

3.08 Special Meetings . A special meeting of the Board of Managers shall be held whenever called by any Manager at such time and place, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, as such Manager shall designate in the notice of such special meeting. The Manager calling any special meeting shall cause notice of such special meeting to be given to each Manager at least 24 hours before such special meeting. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any special meeting of the Board of Managers need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of any special meeting.

3.09 Quorum; Vote . At all meetings of the Board of Managers, a majority of the Managers fixed in the manner provided in this Agreement shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If a quorum is not present at a meeting, a majority of the Managers present may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than an announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is present. The vote of a majority of the Managers present at a meeting at which a quorum is in attendance shall be the act of the Board of Managers, unless the vote of a different number is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement.

3.10 Procedure; Minutes . At meetings of the Board of Managers, business shall be transacted in such order as the Board of Managers may determine from time to time. The Board of Managers shall appoint at each meeting a person to preside at the meeting and a person to act as secretary of the meeting. The secretary of the meeting shall prepare minutes of the meeting that shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Company for placement in the minute book of the Company.

3.11 Presumption of Assent . A Manager of the Company who is present at any meeting of the Board of Managers at which action on any matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action unless his dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless he shall file his written dissent to such action with the person acting as secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof, or shall forward any dissent by certified or registered mail to the Secretary of the Company immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a Manager who voted in favor of such action.

3.12 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be restricted in this Agreement, Managers, in their capacity as Managers, may receive, by resolution of the Board of Managers, a stated salary or a fixed sum and expenses of attendance, if any, for attending meetings of the Board of Managers. No Manager shall be precluded from serving the Company in any other capacity or receiving compensation therefor.

ARTICLE IV

COMMITTEES

4.01 Designation . The Board of Managers may, by a resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers, designate executive and other committees.

4.02 Number; Qualification; Term . Each committee shall consist of one or more Managers appointed by resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers. The number of committee members may be increased or decreased from time to time by resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers. Each committee member shall serve as such until the expiration of his term as a Manager or his earlier resignation, unless sooner removed as a committee member or as a Manager.

4.03 Authority . The executive committee, to the extent provided in the resolution establishing such committee, shall have and may exercise all of the authority of the Board of Managers in the management of the business and affairs of the Company. Each other committee, to the extent expressly provided for in the resolution establishing such committee, shall have and may exercise all of the authority of the Board of Managers in such other matters and affairs concerning the Company. However, no committee shall have the authority of the Board of Managers in reference to any of the following:

(a) amending the Certificate;

(b) approving a plan of merger or consolidation;

(c) recommending to the Members the sale, lease, or exchange of all or substantially all of the property and assets of the Company other than in the usual and regular course of its business;

(d) recommending to the Members a voluntary dissolution of the Company or a liquidation thereof;

(e) filling vacancies in, or removing members of, the Board of Managers or of any committee thereof;

(f) filling any vacancy to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of Managers;

(g) electing or removing officers or committee members;

(h) fixing the compensation of any committee member; or

(i) altering or repealing any resolution of the Board of Managers that, by its term, provides that it shall not be amendable or repealable.

4.04 Committee Changes . The Board of Managers shall have the power at any time to fill vacancies in, to change the Membership of, and to discharge any committee. However, a committee member may be removed by the Board of Managers only if, in the judgment of the Board of Managers, the best interests of the Company will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed.

4.05 Regular Meetings . Regular meetings of any committee may be held without notice at such times and places, including by telephonic or other electronic methods of communication, as may be designated from time to time by resolution of the committee and communicated to all committee members.

4.06 Special Meetings . A special meeting of any committee may be held whenever called by any committee member at such time and place, including by telephonic or other electronic methods of communication, as such committee member shall designate in the notice of such special meeting. The committee member calling any special meeting shall cause notice of such special meeting to be given to each committee member at least 24 hours before such special meeting. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any special meeting of any committee need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of any special meeting.

4.07 Quorum; Majority Vote . At all meetings of any committee, a majority of the number of committee members designated by the Board of Managers shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If a quorum is not present at a meeting of any committee, a majority of the committee members present may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than an announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is present. The vote of a majority of the committee members present at any meeting at which a quorum is in attendance shall be the act of a committee, unless the vote of a different number is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement.

4.08 Minutes . Each committee shall cause minutes of its proceedings to be prepared and shall report the same to the Board of Managers. The minutes of the proceedings of each committee shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Company for placement in the minute books of the Company.

4.09 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be restricted in this Agreement, committee members may, by resolution of the Board of Managers, be allowed a stated salary or a fixed sum and expenses of attendance, if any, for attending any committee meetings.

4.10 Responsibility . The designation of any committee and the delegation of authority to it shall not operate to relieve the Board of Managers or any Manager of any responsibility imposed upon it or such Manager by law.

5.01 Notice Whenever by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement notice is required to be given to any Member, Manager, or committee member and no provision is made as to how such notice shall be given, it shall be construed to mean that notice may be given either (a) in person; (b) in writing, by mail; (c) by telegram, telex, cable, telecopy or facsimile transmission, or similar means; or (d) by any other method permitted by law. Any notice required or permitted to be given hereunder (other than personal notice) shall be addressed to such Member, Manager, or committee member at his address as it appears on the books on the Company or, in the case of a Member, on the membership interest transfer records of the Company or at such other place as such Member, Manager, or committee member is known to be at the time notice is mailed or transmitted. Any notice required or permitted to be given by mail shall be deemed to be delivered and given at the time when such notice is deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid. Any notice required or permitted to be given by telegram, telex, cable, telecopy or facsimile transmission, or similar means shall be deemed to be delivered and given at the time transmitted.

5.02 Waiver of Notice . Whenever by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement any notice is required to be given to any Member, Manager, or committee member of the Company, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time notice should have been given, shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice. Attendance of a Manager or Member at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Manager or Member attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

5.03 Telephone and Similar Meetings Members, Managers, or committee members may participate in and hold a meeting by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other. Participation in such a meeting shall constitute presence in person at such meeting, except where a person participates in the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

5.04 Action Without Meeting . Any action that may be taken, or is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement to be taken at a meeting of the Members, the Board of Managers, or a committee thereof may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the Members owning the required Percentage Interests of all Members (as set forth herein for the respective action or decision), a majority of the Managers or committee members, as the case may be, entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof, and such consent shall have the same force and effect as a vote of such Members, Managers, or committee members, as the case may be, and may be stated as such in any document filed with the Secretary of State of Delaware or in any certificate or other document delivered to any person. The consent may be in one or more counterparts so long as each Member, Manager, or committee member signs one of the counterparts. The signed consent shall be placed in the minute books of the Company.

OFFICERS AND OTHER AGENTS

6.01 Number; Titles; Election; Term The Company shall have a president, one or more vice presidents (and, in the case of each vice president, with such descriptive title, if any, as the Board of Managers shall determine), a secretary, a treasurer, and such officers and agents as the Board of Managers may deem desirable. The Board of Managers shall elect a president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary at its first meeting at which a quorum shall be present after the annual meeting of Members or whenever a vacancy exists. The Board of Managers then, or from time to time, may also elect or appoint one or more other officers or agents as it shall deem advisable. Except as otherwise may be provided by separate agreement, each officer and agent shall hold office for the term for which he is elected or appointed and until his successor has been elected or appointed and qualified. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution of the Board of Managers electing or appointing an officer or agent, his term of office shall extend to and expire at the meeting of the Board of Managers following the next annual meeting of Members or, if earlier, at his death, resignation, or removal. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person. No officer or agent need be a Member, a Manager, a resident of the State of Delaware, or a citizen of the United States.

6.02 Removal . Any officer or agent elected or appointed by the Board of Managers may be removed by a majority of the Board of Managers only if, in the judgment of a majority of the Board of Managers, the best interests of the Company will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights.

6.03 Vacancies . Any vacancy occurring in any office of the Company may be filled by the Board of Managers.

6.04 Authority . Officers shall have such authority and perform such duties in the management of the Company as are provided in this Agreement or as may be determined by resolution of the Board of Managers not inconsistent with this Agreement.

6.05 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be provided by separate agreement, the compensation, if any, of officers or any salaried employee shall be fixed, increased, or decreased from time to time by the Board of Managers, provided, however, that the Board of Managers may by resolution delegate to any one or more officers of the Company the authority to fix such compensation.

6.06 Chairman of the Board . The Chairman of the Board, if any, shall be an officer of the Company and, subject to the direction of the Board of Managers, shall perform such executive, supervisory, and management functions and duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Managers.

6.07 President, CEO and COO . The Board of Managers may designate and appoint a President, CEO and/or COO, with rights, duties and responsibilities established by the Board of Managers.

6.08 Vice Presidents . Each Vice President shall have such powers and duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President and (in the order as designated by the Board of Managers, or in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Vice President continuously) shall exercise the powers of the President during that officer's absence or inability to act.

6.09 Treasurer . The Treasurer shall have custody of the Company's funds and securities, shall keep full and accurate accounts of receipts and disbursements, and shall deposit all moneys and valuable effects in the name and to the credit of the Company in such depository or depositories as may be designated by the Board of Managers. The Treasurer shall audit all payrolls and vouchers of the Company; shall receive, audit, and consolidate all operating and financial statements of the Company and its various departments; shall supervise the accounting and auditing practices of the Company; and shall have charge of matters relating to taxation. Additionally, the Treasurer shall have the power to endorse for deposit, collection, or otherwise all checks, drafts, notes, bills of exchange, and other commercial paper payable to the Company and to give proper receipts and discharges for all payments to the Company. The Treasurer shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President.

6.10 Assistant Treasurers . Each Assistant Treasurer shall perform such duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President. The Assistant Treasurers (in the order as designated by the Board of Managers or, in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Assistant Treasurer continuously) shall exercise the powers of the Treasurer.

6.11 Secretary . The Secretary shall maintain minutes of all meetings of the Board of Managers, of any committee, and of the Members, or consents in lieu of such minutes, in the Company's minute books, and shall cause notice of such meetings to be given when requested by any person authorized to call such meetings. The Secretary may sign with the President, in the name of the Company, all contracts of the Company and affix the seal of the Company thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of the certificate books, membership interest transfer books, and other documents as the Board of Managers may direct, all of which shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any Manager at the office of the Company during normal business hours. The Secretary shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President.

6.12 Assistant Secretaries . Each Assistant Secretary shall perform such duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President. The Assistant Secretaries (in the order designated by the Board of Managers or, in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Assistant Secretary continuously) shall exercise the powers of the Secretary during that officer's absence or inability to act.

ARTICLE VII

CAPITALIZATION AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

7.01 Capital Contributions . The Capital Contributions of the Members, as set forth in the books and records of the Company, shall be paid or transferred to the Company in cash and/or property on the terms and in the manner specified by the Board of Managers. No Member shall be entitled to make any additional Capital Contributions except as provided in Section 7.02 and 7.03 below.

7.02 Additional Capital Contributions . If the Board of Managers determine that additional capital is required for the purposes of the Company, as set forth herein, the Board of Managers may notify the Members of the need for such additional capital and shall state the specific purposes for which the call for such additional capital is being made. Thereupon, all Members shall have the right (but not the obligation) to make additional Capital Contributions in cash and/or property to the Company aggregating the amount of additional capital needed by the Company in the proportion of their respective Percentage Interests in the Company at the time notice is given. The Board of Managers shall use the additional capital so contributed solely for the purposes stated in the notice to the Members.

7.03 Failure to Make Additional Capital Contributions . If any Member chooses not to contribute its share of the additional capital needed by the Company within 14 days after notice is given to the Members of the need for such additional capital (a "Non-Contributing Member"), then the other Members shall be entitled (but not obligated) to contribute the share of such Non-Contributing Member (such Members being referred to as "Contributing Members") of the additional capital needed pro rata according to such Contributing Members' Percentage Interests at such time or such other share as otherwise agreed upon by the Contributing Members.

7.04 Effect of Failure to Make Additional Capital Contributions . In the event of a Non-Contributing Member, the Percentage Interests of all of the Members shall be recomputed on the following basis: Each Member's Percentage Interest immediately following the computation shall equal the percentage expression of a fraction, the numerator of which is the total Capital Contributions of such Member plus the additional Capital Contribution, if any, made by such Member pursuant to Sections 7.02 and 7.03 above, and the denominator of which is the total Capital Contributions of all of the Members plus the additional Capital Contributions made by all of the Members pursuant to Sections 7.02 and 7.03 above.

7.05 Recapitalization by Admission of Additional Members . If additional capital is required for the purposes of the Company as set forth herein and the Board of Managers is unable to finance such capital needs by borrowing the required amounts or through notice to the existing Members of the necessity for additional Capital Contributions as provided in Section 7.02 and 7.03 above, the Board of Managers shall have the right to admit additional Members to the Company, upon receiving the other approvals required herein. Following the admission of one or more new Members, the Percentage Interest of each Member, including the newly admitted Member(s), shall be computed as follows: Each Member's Percentage Interest immediately following the computation shall equal the percentage expression of a fraction, the numerator of which is the total Capital Contributions of such Member and the denominator of which is the total Capital Contributions of all of the Members, including the newly admitted Members.

7.06 Maintenance of Capital Accounts . The Company shall maintain for each Member a separate Capital Account in accordance with this Section 7.06, which shall control the allocation of Profits and Losses and the division of assets upon liquidation of the Company as provided in Section 12.01. Each Capital Account shall be maintained in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) a Member's Capital Account shall initially be zero and shall be increased by the cash amount or Book Value of any property contributed by such Member to the Company pursuant to this Agreement, such Member's allocable share of Profits and any items in the nature of income or gains that are specially allocated to such Member pursuant to Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 hereof, and the amount of any Company liabilities assumed by such Member or which are secured by any property distributed to such Member;

(b) such Capital Account shall be decreased by the cash amount or Book Value of any property distributed to such Member pursuant to this Agreement, such Member's allocable share of Losses and any items in the nature of deductions or losses that are specially allocated to such Member pursuant to Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 hereof, and the amount of any liabilities of the Member assumed by the Company or which are secured by any property contributed by such Member to the Company; and

(c) if all or a portion of an Interest in the Company is Transferred in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the transferee shall succeed to the Capital Account of the transferor to the extent it relates to the transferred Interest, provided, however, that if the Transfer causes a termination of the Company under Code Section 708(b)(1)(B), the assets of the Company shall be deemed to have been distributed to the Members (including the transferee of the Interest) in liquidation of the Company and recontributed by such Members and transferees in reconstitution of the Company. Such deemed liquidation and reconstitution shall not cause the Company to be dissolved and/or reconstituted for purposes other than maintenance of the Capital Accounts and federal income tax.

The foregoing provisions and the other provisions of this Agreement relating to the maintenance of Capital Accounts are intended to comply with Section 1.704-1(b) of the Treasury Regulations and shall be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent with such Treasury Regulations. If the Board of Managers determines that it is prudent to modify the manner in which the Capital Accounts, or any increases or decreases to the Capital Accounts, are computed in order to comply with such Treasury Regulations, the Board of Managers may authorize such modifications, provided that it is not likely to have a material effect on the amounts distributable to any Member pursuant to Sections 8.06 and 12.01 hereof.

7.07 Negative Capital Accounts . If any Member has a deficit balance in its Capital Account, such Member shall have no obligation to restore such negative balance or to make any Capital Contribution to the Company by reason thereof, and such negative balance shall not be considered an asset of the Company or of any Member.

7.08 Interest . No interest shall be paid by the Company on Capital Contributions or on balances in Capital Accounts.

7.09 No Withdrawal . No Member shall be entitled to withdraw any part of his Capital Contribution or his Capital Account or to receive any distribution from the Company, except as provided in Sections 11.02 and 12.01 of this Agreement.

7.10 Loans From Members . Loans by a Member to the Company shall not be considered Capital Contributions.

ARTICLE VIII

ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

8.01 Allocation of Profits and Losses.

(a) Allocation of Profits. Except as provided on any Exhibit hereto, after giving effect to the allocations set forth in Section 8.02 and Section 8.03, and after giving effect to all distributions of cash or property (other than cash or property to be distributed pursuant to Section 12.01), Profits for any Fiscal Year shall be allocated to the Members in the following manner:

(i) first, to each Member with a negative balance in its Capital Account, pro rata in accordance with such negative Capital Account balances, until such negative Capital Account balances have been eliminated;

(ii) next, to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

(b) Allocation of Losses. Except as provided in any Exhibit hereto, after giving effect to the allocations set forth in Section 8.02 and Section 8.03, Losses for any Fiscal Year shall be allocated to the Members in the following manner:

(i) to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

8.02 Special Allocations of Profits and Losses .

(a) Minimum Gain Chargeback–Company Nonrecourse Liabilities. If there is a net decrease in Company minimum gain during any Fiscal Year, certain items of income and gain shall be allocated (on a gross basis) to the Members in the amounts and manner described in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f) and (j)(2)(i) and (ii), subject to the exemptions set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f)(2), (3), (4) and (5). This Section 8.02(a) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f) relating to Company nonrecourse liabilities, as defined in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(3) and shall be so interpreted.

(b) Minimum Gain Chargeback–Member Nonrecourse Debt. If there is a net decrease in Member minimum gain during any Fiscal Year, certain items of income and gain shall be allocated (on a gross basis) as quickly as possible to those Members who had a share of the Member minimum gain determined pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(5) in the amounts and manner described in Treasury Regulations Sections 1.704-2(i)(4), (j)(2)(ii), and (j)(2)(iii). This Section 8.02(b) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(4) relating to Member nonrecourse debt, as defined in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(4) and shall be so interpreted.

(c) Qualified Income Offset. If, after applying Section 8.02(a) and Section 8.02(b), any Member has an adjusted Capital Account deficit, items of Company income and gain shall be specially allocated (on a gross basis) to each such Member in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate the adjusted Capital Account deficit of such Member as quickly as possible. This Section 8.02(c) is intended to comply with the "qualified income offset" requirement set for the in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d) and shall be so interpreted.

(d) Optional Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Company asset pursuant to Code Sections 734(b) or 743(b) is required, pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m), to be taken in to account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Members in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such Section of the Treasury Regulations.

(f) Partner Nonrecourse Deductions. Partner Nonrecourse Deductions shall be allocated pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(4) and (i)(1) to the Member who bears the economic risk of loss with respect to such deductions.

8.03 Curative Allocations . The Regulatory Allocations are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Treasury Regulations. It is the intent of the Members that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 8.03. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provisions of this Article VIII, the Board of Managers shall make such offsetting special allocations of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Member's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Member would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of the Agreement and all Company items were allocated pursuant to Section 8.01(a) and Section 8.01(b) hereof.

8.04 Tax Allocations: Code Section 704(c) .

(a) In accordance with Code Section 704(c) and the Treasury Regulations thereunder, income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to any property contributed to the capital of the Company shall, solely for federal income tax purposes, be allocated among the Members so as to take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such property to the Company for federal income tax purposes and its initial Book Value.

(b) If the Book Value of any Company asset is adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) hereof, subsequent allocations of income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to such asset shall take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such asset for federal income tax purposes and its Book Value in the same manner as under Code Section 704(c) and the Treasury Regulations thereunder.

(c) Any elections or other decisions relating to such allocation shall be made by the Board of Managers. Allocations pursuant to this Section 8.04 are solely for purposes of federal, state, and local taxes and shall not affect or in any way be taken into account in computing any Member's Capital Account, or share of Profits, Losses, and other items or distribution pursuant to any provision of this Agreement.

8.05 Other Allocation Rules .

(a) For purposes of determining the Profits, Losses, or any other item allocable to any period, Profits, Losses, and any such other item shall be determined on a daily, monthly, or other basis, as determined by the Board of Managers using any permissible method under Code Section 706 and the Treasury Regulations thereunder.

(b) For federal income tax purposes, every item of income, gain, loss, and deduction shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with the allocations under Sections 8.01, 8.02, 8.03, and 8.04.

(c) The Members are aware of the income tax consequences of the allocations made by this Article VIII and hereby agree to be bound by the provisions of this Article VIII in reporting their shares of Company income and loss for income tax purposes.

(d) It is intended that the allocations in Sections 8.01, 8.02, 8.03, and 8.04 hereof effect an allocation for federal income tax purposes consistent with Section 704 of the Code and comply with any limitations or restrictions therein.

8.06 Distributions of Distributable Cash . Except as otherwise may be provided in this Agreement, the Board of Managers shall cause the Company to make distributions of Distributable Cash at such intervals and in such amounts as the Board of Managers in its sole discretion shall determine by majority vote. Distributions of Distributable Cash shall be made to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

8.07 Working Cash Reserve . The Board of Managers may from time to time establish a working cash reserve for capital expenditures, unforeseen contingencies, projected operating deficits, and other corporate purposes and may increase or decrease the amount in such reserve in its business judgment.

CERTIFICATES

9.01 Certificated and Uncertificated Interests. The membership interests of the Company may be either certificated interests or uncertificated interests. As used herein, the term "certificated interests" means Interests represented by instruments in bearer or registered form, and the term "uncertificated interests" means Interests not represented by such instruments and the transfers of which are registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of the Company.

9.02 Certificates for Certificated Interests . The certificates for certificated interests shall be in such form as shall be approved by the Board of Managers in conformity with law. The certificates shall be consecutively numbered, shall be entered as they are issued in the books of the Company or in the records of the Company's designated transfer agent, if any, and shall state the Member's name, the class of Interests, the Percentage Interest that such Interest represents, and such other matters as may be required by law. The certificates shall be signed by the President or any Vice President and also by the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, or any other officer, and may be sealed with the seal of the Company or a facsimile thereof. If any certificate is countersigned by a transfer agent or registered by a registrar, either of which is other than the Company itself or an employee of the Company, the signatures of the foregoing officers may be a facsimile.

9.03 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates . The Company shall issue a new certificate in place of any certificate for Interests previously issued if the registered owner of the certificate satisfies the following requirements:

(a) the registered owner makes proof in affidavit form that a previously issued certificate for Interests has been lost, destroyed, or stolen;

(b) the registered owner requests the issuance of a new certificate before the Company has notice that the certificate has been acquired by a purchaser for value in good faith and without notice of an adverse claim;

(c) the registered owner gives a bond in such form, and with such surety or sureties, with fixed or open penalty, as the Board of Managers may direct, in its discretion, to indemnify the Company (and its transfer agent and registrar, if any) against any claim that may be made on account of the alleged loss, destruction, or theft of the certificate; and

(d) the registered owner satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the Board of Managers.

When a certificate has been lost, destroyed, or stolen and the Member of record fails to notify the Company within a reasonable time after he has notice of it, if the Company registers a transfer of the Interests represented by the certificate before receiving such notification, the Member of record is precluded from making any claim against the Company for the transfer or for a new certificate.

9.04 Transfer of Interests . Interests of the Company shall be transferable only on the books of the Company by the Members thereof in person or by their duly authorized attorneys or legal representatives, but only as authorized in this COMPANY AGREEMENT. With respect to certificated interests, upon surrender to the Company or the transfer agent of the Company of a certificate representing Interests duly endorsed or accompanied by proper evidence of succession, assignment, or authority to transfer, the Company or its agent shall issue a new certificate to the person entitled thereto, cancel the old certificate, and record the transaction upon its books. With respect to uncertificated interests, upon delivery to the Company of proper evidence of succession, assignment, or authority to transfer, the Company or its agent shall record the transaction upon its books.

9.05 Registered Members . The Company shall be entitled to treat the Member of record as the Member in fact of any Interests and, accordingly, shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in such Interests on the part of any other Person, whether or not it shall have actual or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.06 Legends . If the Company is authorized to issue Interests of more than one class, each certificate representing Interests issued by the Company (a) shall conspicuously set forth on the face or back of the certificate a full statement of all of the designations, preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the Interests of each class authorized to be issued; or (b) shall conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that (i) such a statement is set forth in the Certificate on file in the office of the Secretary of State or in this Agreement; and (ii) the Company will furnish a copy of such statements to the record holder of the certificate without charge on written request to the Company at its principal place of business or registered office.

If the Company issues any Interests that are not registered under the Securities Act of 1933, the transfer of any such interests shall be restricted in accordance with an appropriate legend.

In the event any restriction on the transfer, or registration of the transfer, of Interests shall be imposed or agreed to by the Company, each certificate representing Interests so restricted (a) shall conspicuously set forth a full or summary statement of the restriction on the face of the certificate; (b) shall set forth such statement on the back of the certificate and conspicuously refer to the same on the face of the certificate; or (c) shall conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that such a restriction exists pursuant to a specified document and (i) that the Company will furnish to the record holder of the certificate without charge upon written request to the Company at its principal place of business or registered office a copy of the specified document; or (ii) if such document is one required or permitted by law to be and has been filed, that such specified document is on file in the office of the Secretary of State and contains a full statement of such restriction.

ACCOUNTING AND RECORDS

10.01 Records and Accounting . The books and records of the Company shall be kept, and the financial position and the results of its operations recorded, in accordance with the accounting methods elected to be followed by the Company for federal income tax purposes. The books and records of the Company shall reflect all Company transactions and shall be appropriate and adequate for the Company's business.

10.02 Access to Accounting Records . All books and records of the Company shall be maintained at any office of the Company or at the Company's principal place of business, and each Member owning a Percentage Interest of at least ten percent (10%), and his duly authorized representative, shall have access to them at such office of the Company and the right to inspect and copy them at reasonable times.

10.03 Annual and Tax Information . The Company shall deliver to each Member within 90 days after the end of each Fiscal Year all information necessary for the preparation of such Member's federal income tax return. The Company shall prepare, within 120 days after the end of each Fiscal Year, a financial report of the Company for such Fiscal Year, containing a statement of the year then ended, a statement of sources and applications of funds, and a statement of reconciliation of the Capital Accounts of the Members.

10.04 Accounting Decisions . All decisions as to accounting matters, except as otherwise specifically set forth herein, shall be made by the Board of Managers. The Members may rely upon the advice of their accountants as to whether such decisions are in accordance with accounting methods followed for federal income tax purposes.

10.05 Federal Income Tax Elections . The Company may make all elections for federal income tax purposes, including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) to the extent permitted by applicable law and regulations, the election to use an accelerated depreciation method on any depreciable unit of the assets of the Company; and

(b) in case of a transfer of all or part of the Interest of any Member, the election pursuant to Section 734, 743, and 754 of the Code, as amended (or corresponding provisions of future law) to adjust the basis of the assets of the Company.

ARTICLE XI

CHANGES IN MEMBERS

The provisions of this Article XI are subject to, and may be superceded by, one or more separate agreements entered into by and among one or more Members. The provisions of this Article XI shall continue to control with respect to matters not covered by, or Members not parties to, such agreement(s).

11.01 Intentionally Blank .

11.02 Transfer and Assignment of Members' Interest . Except as approved by the Manager, plus a Member or Members owning a Percentage Interest greater than fifty percent (50%), no Member shall be entitled to Transfer any part of its Interest in the Company. The Company and, if applicable, the remaining Members shall be entitled to match the terms of the proposed Transfer, with consideration being only set forth in traditional monetary terms. If the Company and the remaining Members fail to match the proposed Transfer with regard to the purchase of the entire Interest, or portion thereof, the Member proposing to make the Transfer may move forward with the proposed Transfer. Transfers in violation of this Section 11.02 shall be effective only to the extent set forth in Section 11.05(b) hereof.

11.03 Further Restrictions on Transfer . No Member shall Transfer any part of his Interest in the Company: (i) without registration under applicable federal and state securities laws, or unless he delivers an opinion of counsel satisfactory to the Company that registration under such laws is not required; or (ii) if the Interest to be sold or exchanged, when added to the total of all other Interests to be sold or exchanged in the preceding 12 consecutive months prior thereto, would result in the termination of the Company under Code Section 708.

11.04 Substitute Members . A transferee shall have the right to become a substitute Member if (a) the requirements of Section 11.02 and 11.03 hereof are met; (b) such person executes an instrument satisfactory to the remaining Members accepting and adopting the terms and provisions of this Agreement; and (c) such person pays any reasonable expenses in connection with his or her admission as a Member.

11.05 Effect of Transfer .

(a) Any permitted Transfer of all or any portion of a Member's Interest in the Company will take effect on the first day of the month following receipt by the Members of written notice of Transfer. Any transferee of an Interest in the Company shall take subject to the restrictions on Transfer imposed by this Agreement.

(b) Upon any Transfer of a Member's Interest in the Company in violation of this Agreement, and if such Member's Interest is not purchased pursuant to Section 11.01, the transferee shall have no right to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company or to become a Member, but such transferee shall be entitled to receive only the allocable share of Profits, Losses, Distributive Cash, and other items to which the transferor of such Interest in the Company would otherwise be entitled.

11.06 No Dissolution or Withdrawal: Advanced Consent . Upon the occurrence of a Dissolution Event with regard to a respective Member, all remaining Members shall be deemed to automatically consent to the continuation of the business of the Company. By executing this Agreement, however, all Members hereby consent that they shall not voluntarily cause a Dissolution Event or demand the return of Member's capital. If any Member shall breach the agreement represented by this Section 11.06, the agreement of such breaching Member shall not be specifically performable, but shall be actionable for damages, and shall be deemed an offer of the Interest of such breaching Member for sale pursuant hereto. The parties agree that a reasonable approximation of the damage that the Company shall experience due to breach hereof is 20% of the value of the breaching Member's Interest, or as otherwise set forth herein (whichever is greater), which shall be deducted from any payments to such Member upon dissolution or purchase of such Member's Interest hereunder. The value of the breaching Member's Interest shall be determined pursuant to Section 11.01, to which value the said discount may then be applied in determining payments due to the breaching Member pursuant to the deemed offer of sale occurring under this Section 11.06.

ARTICLE XII

TERMINATION

12.01 Termination of the Company .

(a) The Company shall be dissolved, its assets shall be disposed of, and its affairs wound up on the first to occur of the following events:

(i) a determination by the Managers, plus the Unanimous Consent of the Members that the Company should be dissolved;

(ii) a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company;

(iii) the expiration of the Company’s term as stated in its Certificate; or

(iv) at such earlier time as provided by applicable law.

(b) In settling accounts of the Company after dissolution, the liabilities of the Company shall be entitled to payment and the assets of the Company remaining thereafter shall be distributed to the Members in the following order, all as required by the DELAWARE LAWS:

(i) those to creditors, in the order of priority as provided by law, except those to Members of the Company on account of their Capital Contributions;

(ii) to the Members, pro rata, in accordance with the positive balances, if any, in their Capital Accounts; and

(iii) to the Members in proportion to their relative Percentage Interests.

INDEMNIFICATION

13.01 Indemnification of Members, Managers, and Other Persons .

(a) To the greatest extent not inconsistent with the laws and public policies of Delaware, the Company shall indemnify any Member, Manager, or officer of the Company made a party to any proceeding because such individual is or was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company (an "Indemnitee"), as a matter of right, against all liability incurred by such individual in connection with any proceeding; provided that it shall be determined in the specific case in accordance with subsection (d) of this Section 13.01 that indemnification of such individual is permissible in the circumstances because the individual has met the standard of conduct for indemnification set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01. The Company shall advance, pay for, or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by an Indemnitee in connection with any such proceeding in advance of final disposition thereof if (i) the Indemnitee furnishes the Company a written affirmation of the Indemnitee's good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct for indemnification described in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01; (ii) the Indemnitee furnishes the Company a written undertaking, executed personally or on such Indemnitee's behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that such individual did not meet such standard of conduct; and (iii) a determination is made in accordance with subsection (d) that based upon facts then known to those making the determination, indemnification would not be precluded under this Section 13.01. The undertaking described in subsection (a)(ii) above must be a general obligation of the Indemnitee, subject to such reasonable limitations as the Company may permit, but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to financial ability to make repayment. The Company shall indemnify an Indemnitee who is wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any such proceeding, as a matter of right, against reasonable expenses incurred by the individual in connection with the proceeding without the requirement of a determination as set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01. Upon demand by an Indemnitee for indemnification or advancement of expenses, as the case may be, the Company shall expeditiously determine whether the Indemnitee is entitled thereto in accordance with this Section 13.01. The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided for under this Section 13.01 shall be applicable to any proceeding arising from acts or omissions occurring before or after the adoption of this Section 13.01.

(b) The Company shall have the power, but not the obligation, to indemnify any individual who is or was an employee or agent of the Company to the same extent as if such individual was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company.

(c) Indemnification is permissible under this Section 13.01 only if (i) the Indemnitee conducted himself in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed that his conduct was in, or at least not opposed to, the Company's best interest; (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful; and (iv) such Indemnitee is not adjudged in any such proceeding to be liable for gross negligence or willful misconduct in the performance of duty. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the Indemnitee did not meet the standard of conduct described in this subsection (c).

(d) A determination as to whether indemnification or advancement of expenses is permissible shall be made by any one of the following procedures:

(i) by the Board of Managers or by a majority vote consisting of Members not at the time parties to the proceeding; or

(ii) by special legal counsel selected by the Members in the manner prescribed in subsection (d)(i) above.

(e) An Indemnitee of the Company who is a party to a proceeding may apply for indemnification from the Company to the court, if any, conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. On receipt of an application, the court, after giving notice the court considers necessary, may order indemnification if it determines:

(i) in a proceeding in which the Indemnitee is wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, the Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Section 13.01, in which case the court shall order the Company to pay the Indemnitee his or her reasonable expenses incurred to obtain such court ordered indemnification; or

(ii) the Indemnitee is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnification in view of all the relevant circumstances, whether or not the Indemnitee met the standard of conduct set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01.

(f) Indemnification shall also be provided for an Indemnitee's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan if the individual reasonably believed his or her conduct to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of plan.

(g) Nothing contained in this Section 13.01 shall limit or preclude the exercise or be deemed exclusive of any right under the law, by contract or otherwise, relating to indemnification of or advancement of expenses to any individual who is or was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company or is or was serving at the Company's request as a director, officer, partner, manager, trustee, employee, or agent of another foreign or domestic company, partnership, association, limited liability company, corporation, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise, whether for profit or not. Nothing contained in this Section 13.01 shall limit the ability of the Company to otherwise indemnify or advance expenses to any individual. It is the intent of this Section 13.01 to provide indemnification to Indemnitees to the fullest extent now or hereafter permitted by the law consistent with the terms and conditions of this Section 13.01. Indemnification shall be provided in accordance with this Section 13.01 irrespective of the nature of the legal or equitable theory upon which a claim is made, including, without limitation, negligence, breach of duty, mismanagement, waste, breach of contract, breach of warranty, strict liability, violation of federal or state securities law, violation of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, or violation of any other state or federal law.

(h) For purposes of this Section 13.01:

(i) The term "expenses" includes all direct and indirect costs (including, without limitation, counsel fees, retainers, court costs, transcripts, fees of experts, witness fees, travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and all other disbursements or out-of-pocket expenses) actually incurred in connection with the investigation, defense, settlement, or appeal of a proceeding or establishing or enforcing a right to indemnification under this Section 13.01, applicable law, or otherwise.

(ii) The term "liability" means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine, excise tax (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

(iii) The term "party" includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

(iv) The term "proceeding" means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

(v) The Company may purchase and maintain insurance for its benefit, the benefit of any individual who is entitled to indemnification under this Section 13.01, or both, against any liability asserted against or incurred by such individual in any capacity or arising out of such individual's service with the Company, whether or not the Company would have the power to indemnify such individual against such liability.

MISCELLANEOUS

14.01 Complete Agreement . This Agreement, the Certificate, and all other organizational documents signed by all of the Members constitute the complete and exclusive statement of agreement among the Members with respect to the matters herein. This Agreement and the Certificate replace and supersede all prior agreements by and among the Members or any of them, and no representation, statement, or condition or warranty not contained in this Agreement or the Certificate will be binding on the Members or have any force or effect whatsoever.

14.02 Governing Law . This Agreement and the rights of the parties hereunder will be governed by, interpreted, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware.

14.03 Binding Effect . Subject to the provisions of this Agreement relating to transferability, this Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Members, and their respective distributes, successors, and assigns.

14.04 Terms . Common nouns and pronouns will be deemed to refer to the masculine, feminine, neuter, singular and plural, as the identity of the Person may in the context require. Any reference to the DELAWARE LAWS, the Code or other statutes or laws will include all amendments, modifications, or replacements of the specific sections and provisions concerned.

14.05 Headings . All headings herein are inserted only for convenience and ease of reference and are not to be considered in the construction or interpretation of any provision of this Agreement.

14.06 Severability . If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under the present or future laws effective during the term of this Agreement, such provision will be fully severable; this Agreement will be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part of this Agreement; and the remaining provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect and will not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance from this Agreement. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision, there will be added automatically as a part of this Agreement a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

14.07 Multiple Counterparts . This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original but all of which will constitute one and the same instrument. However, in making proof hereof it will be necessary to produce only one copy hereof signed by the party to be charged.

14.08 Additional Documents and Acts . Each Member agrees to execute and deliver such additional documents and instruments and to perform such additional acts as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate, carry out, and perform all of the terms, provisions, and conditions of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

14.09 No Third-Party Beneficiary . This Agreement is made solely and specifically among and for the benefit of the parties hereto, and their respective successors and assigns subject to the express provisions hereof relating to successors and assigns, and no other person will have any rights, interest, or claims hereunder or be entitled to any benefits under or on account of this Agreement as a third party beneficiary or otherwise.

14.10 References to this Agreement . Numbered or lettered articles, sections, and subsections herein contained refer to articles, sections, and subsections of this Agreement unless otherwise expressly stated.

14.11 Notices . Any notice to be given or to be served upon the Company or any party hereto in connection with this Agreement must be in writing and will be deemed to have been given and received when delivered to the address specified by the party to receive the notice. Such notices will be given to a Member at the address specified in Exhibit B hereto. Any Member or the Company may, at any time by giving five days' prior written notice to the other Members and the Company, designate any other address in substitution of the foregoing address to which such notice will be given.

14.12 Amendments . Except as otherwise may be provided in this Agreement, all amendments to this Agreement must be approved by the Managers, plus one or more Members whose aggregate Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%).

14.13 Title to Company Property . Legal title to all property of the Company will be held and conveyed in the name of the Company.

14.14 Reliance on Authority of Person Signing Agreement . In the event that a Member is not a natural person, neither the Company nor any Member will (a) be required to determine the authority of the individual signing this Agreement to make any commitment or undertaking on behalf of such entity or to determine any fact or circumstance bearing upon the existence of the authority of such individual; or (b) be required to see to the application or distribution of proceeds paid or credited to individuals signing this Agreement on behalf of such entity.

14.15 S-Corp Election. In the event the Company elects to be treated as a S-Corporation for federal tax purposes, the provisions in this Company Agreement addressing tax treatment shall be automatically amended and modified as required in order to pertain to a S-corporation.

14.16 Company Indemnification. In the event any Member is personally liable for any debt or obligations associated with a Company asset, then the Company agrees to indemnify such Member for any such debt or obligation in excess of his or her proportionate amount of such debt or obligation that he/she is required to pay or perform, as measured by the Percentage Interest of the Members, except as otherwise agreed by the Members.

14.17 Management by Members. The Certificate of the Company and other Company documents/agreements on file and/or executed by the Member may reflect management by members, and not management by managers. As a result, if such is the case and the Certificate is not amended to reflect management by managers, this Agreement shall be interpreted in such a manner that all references herein to a Manager, or Managers or Board of Managers, shall be referring to the managing member(s), and as of the Effective Date hereof, since the sole member is Rand Advisors Holding Corp., a Delaware corporation, all decisions shall be made by such member, with Mark Patrick as the Director and President.

OF
RAND ADVISORS, LLC

This LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT (this "Agreement") is entered into as of the 28th day of August, 2013 by John Honis, an individual (the "Member"), as the sole member of Rand Advisors, LLC, a limited liability company formed pursuant to the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (the "Act"). The Member desires to form a limited liability company pursuant to the Act upon the following terms and conditions:

ARTICLE 1
NAME, REGISTERED AGENT AND OFFICES

The name of the Company is Rand Advisors, LLC (the "Company"). Its registered office in the State of Delaware is 1209 Orange Street, Wilmington, Delaware 19801, in the County of New Castle. The name of its registered agent at such address is The Corporation Trust Company. The principal office of the Company shall be located at such place within or without the State of Delaware, and the Company shall maintain such records as the Member shall determine from time to time. The Company may have such other offices as the Member may designate from time to time.

ARTICLE 2
BUSINESS, PURPOSE, AND TERM OF COMPANY

Section 2.1 Purposes. The purpose of the Company shall be to do all such things for which limited liability companies may be formed under the Act.

Section 2.2 Term. The term of the Company shall commence on the date the Certificate of Formation is filed with the Delaware Secretary of State in accordance with the provisions of the Act and shall continue on a perpetual basis unless dissolved pursuant to ARTICLE 6 of this Agreement. Matt McGraner is hereby designed as an "Authorized Person" for the purpose of executing the Certificate of Formation and arranging for its filing.

Section 2.3 Powers. In addition to the purpose set forth in Section 2.1 above, the Company shall have the power:

(a) to conduct its business, carry on its operations and have and exercise the powers granted to a limited liability company by the Act in any state, territory, district or possession of the United States, or in any foreign country that may be necessary, convenient or incidental to the accomplishment of the purpose of the Company;

(b) to acquire, by purchase, mortgage, lease, contribution of property or otherwise, and to own, hold, operate, maintain, finance, improve, lease, sell, convey, mortgage, transfer or dispose of any real or personal property that may be necessary, convenient or incidental to the accomplishment of the purpose of the Company;

(c) to enter into, perform and carry out contracts of any kind, including, without limitation, contracts with the Member or any person or other entity that directly or indirectly controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with the Member, or any agent of the Company necessary to, in connection with, convenient to, or incidental to, the accomplishment of the purpose of the Company;

(d) to lend or borrow money and to invest its funds;

(e) to sue and be sued;

(f) to appoint employees and fix their compensation;

(g) to indemnify any person; and

(h) to guarantee obligations of an affiliate or subsidiary.

ARTICLE 3
CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Section 3.1 Capital Contribution by Members. Upon the formation of the Company, the Member shall not be required to make a Capital Contribution. Capital Contributions shall be made from time to time as the Member shall determine.

Section 3.2 Capital Accounts. A Capital Account shall be maintained for the Member to which shall be credited (i) the Member's Capital Contributions, if any and (ii) all Company revenues. The Capital Account shall be debited with (i) all costs, expenses, and losses of the Company and (ii) the amount of any distributions (including return of capital) made to the Member. No interest shall be paid on the Member's Capital Account.

ALLOCATIONS OF PROFITS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 4.1 Allocation of Profits and Losses. All profits and losses of the Company shall be allocated to the Member.

Section 4.2 Allocation of Distributions. All distributions of cash or other assets of the Company shall be made to the Member when and as determined by the Member.

ARTICLE 5
MANAGEMENT OF THE COMPANY

Section 5.1 General. The Member shall be the Managing Member and shall be responsible for the management of the Company. The Managing Member shall have the right, power and authority to manage, direct and control all of the business and affairs of the Company, to transact business on behalf of the Company, to sign for the Company or on behalf of the Company or otherwise to bind the Company.

Section 5.2 Delegation of Powers of Managing Member. The Managing Member shall have full, exclusive, and complete discretion, power, and authority, subject in all cases to the other provisions of this Agreement and the requirements of applicable law, to delegate the management, control, administration, and operation of the business and affairs of the Company or the custody of the Company's assets for all purposes stated in this Agreement. Such delegation shall be as provided in such documentation as the Managing Member shall determine. Any such delegation shall not cause the Managing Member to cease to be the Managing Member.

Section 5.3 Officers. The Managing Member may appoint individuals with or without such titles as it may elect, including the titles of President, Vice President, Treasurer, and Secretary, to act on behalf of the Company with such power and authority as the Managing Member may delegate in writing to any such persons.

Section 5.4 Powers of Managing Member. The Managing Member shall have the right, power and authority, in the management of the business and affairs of the Company, to do or cause to be done any and all acts deemed by the Managing Member to be necessary or appropriate to effectuate the business, purposes and objectives of the Company at the expense of the Company, including but not limited to the execution of all documents or instruments in all matters necessary, desirable, convenient or incidental to the purpose of the Company or the making of investments of Company funds.

Section 5.5 Reliance by Third Parties. Any person or entity dealing with the Company may rely on a certificate signed by the Managing Member as to:

(a) the identity of the Managing Member;

(b) the existence or non-existence of any fact or facts which constitute a condition precedent to acts by the Managing Member or are in any matter germane to the affairs of the Company;

(c) the persons who or entities which are authorized to execute and deliver any instrument or document of or on behalf of the Company; or

(d) any act or failure to act by the Company or as to any other matter whatsoever involving the Company.

Section 5.6 Actions Requiring Member Approval. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the written consent of the Member shall be required to approve the following matters:

(a) the dissolution or winding up of the Company;

(b) the merger or consolidation of the Company;

(c) the sale, transfer, contribution, exchange, mortgage, pledge, encumbrance, lease or other disposition or transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company;

(d) the declaration of any distributions by the Company; and

(e) amendments to this Agreement.

DISSOLUTION

The Company shall be dissolved, and shall terminate and wind up its affairs, upon the first to occur of the following:

(a) the determination by the Member to dissolve the Company; or

(b) the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution pursuant to Section 18.802 of the Act.

GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

This Agreement, including its existence, validity, construction and operating effect, and the rights of each of the parties hereto, shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware (without regard to principles of conflicts of laws).

ARTICLE 8
INDEMNIFICATION

Section 8.1 Indemnification and Liability.

(a) To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, the Managing Member shall not be liable to the Company or any other third party (i) for mistakes of judgment, (ii) for any act or omission suffered or taken by it, or (iii) for losses due to any such mistakes, action or inaction.

(b) Except as may be restricted by applicable law, the Managing Member shall not be liable for and the Company shall indemnify the Managing Member against, and agrees to hold the Managing Member harmless from, all liabilities and claims (including reasonable attorney's fees and expenses in defending against such liabilities and claims) against the Managing Member, arising from the Managing Member's performance of its duties in conformance with the terms of this Agreement.

(c) The Managing Member may consult with legal counsel or accountants selected by the Managing Member and, to the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, any action or omission suffered or taken in good faith in reliance and in accordance with the written opinion or advice of any such counsel or accountants (provided such counsel or accountants have been selected with reasonable care) shall be fully protected and justified with respect to the action or omission so suffered or taken.

(d) The Company shall also have the power to indemnify the Trustee to the extent, and under the conditions and terms, as may be provided in the Trust Agreement.

ARTICLE 9
ASSIGNMENT OF INTERESTS

The Member may Transfer all or part of its Membership Interest in the Company.

ARTICLE 10
WINDING UP AND DISTRIBUTION OF ASSETS

Section 10.1 Winding Up. If the Company is dissolved, the Member shall wind up the affairs of the Company.

Section 10.2 Distribution of Assets. Upon the winding up of the Company, subject to the provisions of the Act, the Member shall pay or make reasonable provision to pay all claims and obligations of the Company, including all costs and expenses of the liquidation and all contingent, conditional or unmatured claims and obligations that are known to the Member but for which the identity of the claimant is unknown. If there are sufficient assets, such claims and obligations shall be paid in full and any such provision shall be made in full. If there are insufficient assets, such claims and obligations shall be paid or provided for according to their priority and, among claims and obligations of equal priority, ratably to the extent of assets available therefore. Any remaining assets shall be distributed to the Member.

DEFINITIONS

As used herein, the following terms shall have the indicated definitions.

"Act" means the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act, 6 Del. C. § 18-101 et seq., as may be amended from time to time.

RAND ADVISORS, LLC

A Delaware Limited Liability Company

RAND ADVISORS, LLC

A Delaware Limited Liability Company

This AMENDED AND RESTATED COMPANY AGREEMENT (collectively, the "Agreement," which shall include all amendments and exhibits hereto) dated effective as of the 1st day of August, 2022 (the "Effective Date"), are entered into by and among those Persons executing the signature page hereto as the Members of RAND ADVISORS, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "Company"). All capitalized terms not defined in the instance of first usage shall have the respective meanings associated with such terms in Section 1.04 below.

ARTICLE I

INTRODUCTION

1.01 Formation of Limited Liability Company The Company was formed by the filing of the Certificate of Formation (the "Certificate") with the Secretary of State of Delaware on the August 27, 2013. The Company's business shall be conducted under the name "RAND ADVISORS, LLC" until such time as the Members shall hereafter designate otherwise and file amendments to the Certificate in accordance with applicable law. This Agreement amends and replaces, in its entirety, all prior governing agreements for the Company, including but not limited to that certain Amended and Restated Limited Liability Company Agreement dated March 1, 2016, and any and all amendments thereto.

This Agreement is subject to, and governed by, the Delaware laws governing limited liability companies (the "DELAWARE LAWS") and the Certificate. In the event of a direct conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the mandatory provisions of the DELAWARE LAWS or the provisions of the Certificate, such provisions of the DELAWARE LAWS or the Certificate, as the case may be, will be controlling.

1.02 Registered Office and Agent The registered office and registered agent of the Company initially shall be as set forth in the Certificate and may be changed from time to time by the appropriate filing by the Company in the office of the Secretary of State of Delaware.

1.03 Other Offices The Company may also have offices at such other places, both within and without the State of Delaware, as the Board of Managers may from time to time determine or the business of the Company may require.

1.04 Defined Terms The terms used in this Agreement with their initial letter capitalized shall, unless the context requires otherwise, have the meanings specified in this Section 1.04. The singular shall include the plural and the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter, and vice versa, as the context requires. When used in this Agreement, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

(a) "DELAWARE LAWS" shall mean the Delaware laws governing limited liability companies, as the same may be amended from time to time.

(b) "Affiliate" shall mean, as to any Person, any Person controlled by, controlling, or under common control with such Person, and, in the case of a Person who is an individual, a member of the family of such individual consisting of a spouse, sibling, in-law, lineal descendant, or ancestor (including by adoption). For purposes of this definition, "control" (including the terms "controlling", "controlled by" and "under common control with") of a Person means the possession, directly or indirectly, alone or in concert with others, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of such Person, whether through the ownership of securities, by contract or otherwise, and no Person shall be deemed in control of another solely by virtue of being a director, officer or holder of voting securities of any entity. A Person shall be presumed to control any partnership of which such Person is a general partner.

(c) "Bankruptcy" shall mean, and a Member shall be deemed a "Bankrupt Member," upon (i) the entry of a decree or order for relief against the Member by a court of competent jurisdiction in any involuntary case brought against the Member under any Debtor Relief Laws; (ii) the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, assignee, custodian, trustee, sequestrator, or other similar agent under applicable Debtor Relief Laws for the Member or for any substantial part of its assets or property; (iii) the ordering of the winding up or liquidation of the Member's affairs; (iv) the filing of a petition in any involuntary bankruptcy case, which petition remains undismissed for a period of 180 days or which is not dismissed or suspended pursuant to Section 305 of the Federal Bankruptcy Code (or any corresponding provision of any future United States bankruptcy law); (v) the commencement by the Member of a voluntary case under any applicable Debtor Relief Law now or hereafter in effect; (vi) the consent by the Member to the entry of an order for relief in an involuntary case under any such law or to the appointment of or the taking of possession by a receiver, liquidator, assignee, trustee, custodian, sequestrator, or other similar agent under any applicable Debtor Relief Laws for the Member or for any substantial part of its assets or property; or (vii) the making by a Member of any general assignment for the benefit of its creditors.

(d) "Book Depreciation" for any asset shall mean for any Fiscal Year or other period an amount that bears the same ratio to the Book Value of that asset at the beginning of such Fiscal Year or other period as the federal income tax depreciation, amortization, or other cost recovery deduction allowable for that asset for such year or other period bears to the adjusted tax basis of that asset at the beginning of such year or other period. If the federal income tax depreciation, amortization, or other cost recovery deduction allowable for any asset for such year or other period is zero, then Book Depreciation for that asset shall be determined with reference to such beginning Book Value using any reasonable method selected by the Board of Managers.

(e) "Book Value" shall mean for any asset the asset's adjusted tax basis, except as follows:

(i) the initial Book Value of any asset contributed by a Member to the Company shall be the gross fair market value of such asset, as determined by the Board of Managers;

(ii) the Book Values of all Company assets shall be adjusted to equal their respective gross fair market values, as determined by the Board of Managers, as of one of the following times: (1) on the acquisition of an additional interest in the Company by any new or existing Member in exchange for more than a de minimis Capital Contribution if the Board of Managers reasonably determines that such adjustment is necessary or appropriate to reflect the relative economic interests of the Members in the Company; (2) on the distribution by the Company to a Member of more than a de minimis amount of Company property as consideration for an Interest in the Company if the Board of Managers reasonably determines that such adjustment is necessary or appropriate to reflect the relative economic interests of the Members in the Company; and (3) on the liquidation of the Company within the meaning of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(g) of the Treasury Regulations;

(iii) the Book Value of any Company asset distributed to any Member shall be the gross fair market value of such asset on the date of distribution;

(iv) the Book Values of Company assets shall be increased (or decreased) to reflect any adjustment to the adjusted basis of such assets pursuant to Code Section 734(b) or Code Section 743(b), but only to the extent that such adjustments are taken into account in determining Capital Accounts pursuant to Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) of the Treasury Regulations and Section 8.02(d) hereof; provided, however, that Book Values shall not be adjusted pursuant to this Section 1.04(e)(iv) to the extent the Board of Managers determines that an adjustment pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) is necessary or appropriate in connection with a transaction that would otherwise result in an adjustment pursuant to this Section 1.04(e)(iv); and

(v) if the Book Value of an asset has been determined or adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(i),1.04(e)(ii), or 1.04(e)(iv) hereof, such Book Value shall thereafter be adjusted by the Book Depreciation taken into account with respect to such asset for purposes of computing Profits and Losses.

(f) "Capital Contribution" shall mean the total value of cash and Book Value (except as otherwise herein provided) of property contributed and agreed to be contributed to the Company by each Member, as shown in Exhibit A, attached hereto and incorporated herein for all purposes, as the same may be amended from time to time. Any reference in this Agreement to the Capital Contribution of a then Member shall include a Capital Contribution previously made by any prior Member for the interest of such then Member, reduced by any distribution to such Member in return of its capital as contemplated herein.

(g) “Class A Interest” shall refer to the Interest of a Class A Member in the Profits, Losses, Distributable Cash, and assets upon liquidation of the Company as described in this Agreement.

(h) “Class A Members” shall mean those Persons listed on Exhibit A and designated as “Class A Members.” The Class A Members shall have such additional rights as a Member as are specifically described and granted in Exhibit A, as amended from time to time.

(i) Intentionally Blank.

(j) Intentionally Blank.

(k) "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. All references herein to sections of the Code shall include any corresponding provision or provisions of succeeding law.

(l) "Company" shall refer to the limited liability company created by virtue of the Certificate and this Agreement and any successor in interest.

(m) “Debtor Relief Laws” shall mean any federal or state bankruptcy, insolvency, or similar laws generally affecting the rights of creditors and the relief of debtors now or hereafter in effect.

(n) Intentionally Blank.

(o) "Distributable Cash" of the Company shall mean all cash funds of the Company on hand from time to time (other than cash funds obtained as Capital Contributions by the Members and cash funds obtained from loans to the Company) after (i) payment of all operating expenses of the Company as of such time; (ii) provision for payment of all outstanding and unpaid current obligations of the Company as of such time; and (iii) provision for a working cash reserve in accordance with Section 8.07 below.

(p) “Fiscal Year” shall mean the calendar year.

(q) “Former Member” shall mean a member that causes a Dissolution Event.

(r) "Interest" in the Company shall mean the entire ownership interest of a Member in the Company at any particular time, including such Member’s Capital Account, allocable share of Profits, Losses, and Distributable Cash, and the right of such Member to any and all benefits to which a Member may be entitled as provided in this Agreement, together with the obligations of such Member to comply with all of the terms and provisions of this Agreement.

(t) "Manager" shall mean an individual elected to the Board of Managers of the Company pursuant to Sections 3.02 and 3.04 below.

(u) "Member(s)" shall mean all Members admitted to the Company hereafter as Members who shall consent to the terms hereof and shall be admitted pursuant to the provisions hereof. The names, business or residence addresses, Capital Contributions, Percentage Interest, and class of Interest of the Members shall be set forth on Exhibit B, attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference. Reference to a "Member" shall be to any one of the Members.

(v) "Percentage Interest" of a Member shall mean the percentage of such Member set forth opposite the name of such Member under the column "Percentage Interest" in Exhibit B, as such percentage may be adjusted from time to time pursuant to the terms hereof.

(w) “Person” shall mean any individual, corporation, partnership, limited liability company or partnership, association, organization, trust, estate, or other entity.

(x) "Pro Rata Part" shall mean the percentage expression of a fraction the numerator of which is a Member's respective Percentage Interest and the denominator of which is the aggregate Percentage Interests of all Members involved in the respective transaction or having a respective right or option.

(y) "Profits" and "Losses" shall mean, for each Fiscal Year or other period, an amount equal to the Company's taxable income or loss for such year or period, determined in accordance with Code Section 703(a) (for this purpose, all items of income, gain, loss, or deduction required to be stated separately pursuant to Code Section 703(a)(1) shall be included in taxable income or loss), with the following adjustments:

(i) income of the Company that is exempt from federal income tax and not otherwise taken into account in computing Profits and Losses pursuant to this Section 1.04(y) shall be added to such taxable income or loss;

(ii) any expenditures of the Company described in Code Section 705(a)(2)(B), or treated as Code Section 705(a)(2)(B) expenditures pursuant to Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(i) of the Treasury Regulations, and not otherwise taken into account in computing Profits and Losses pursuant to this Section 1.04(y), shall be subtracted from such taxable income or loss;

(iii) if the Book Value of any Company asset is adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) or Section 1.04(e)(iii), the amount of such adjustment shall be taken into account as gain or loss from the disposition of such asset for purposes of computing Profits and Losses;

(iv) gain or loss resulting from any disposition of property with respect to which gain or loss is recognized for federal income tax purposes shall be computed by reference to the Book Value of the property disposed of, notwithstanding that the adjusted tax basis of such property differs from its Book Value;

(v) in lieu of the deduction for depreciation, cost recovery, or amortization taken into account in computing such taxable income or loss, there shall be taken into account Book Depreciation; and

(vi) notwithstanding any other provision of this Section 1.04(y), any items that are specially allocated pursuant to Section 8.02 or Section 8.03 shall not be taken into account in computing Profits and Losses.

(z) "Regulatory Allocations" shall mean the special allocations of items of income, gain, loss, and deduction, if any, set forth in Section 8.02 hereof.

(aa) "Transfer" or "Transferred" shall mean the sale, assignment, conveyance, gift, bequest, devise, transfer under the rules of intestate succession, pledge, mortgage, or other encumbrance. In addition, the term "Transfer" or "Transferred" shall mean an "ownership change" of a Member as defined in Section 382(g) of the Code in effect as of the Effective Date, except that the term "Member" shall be substituted for "shareholder" wherever it appears.

(bb) "Treasury Regulations" shall mean regulations issued by the Department of the Treasury interpreting the Code.

(cc) "Unanimous Consent" shall mean the written consent of all of the then Members of the Company.

MEMBERS AND MEMBERSHIP INTERESTS

2.01 Members. The Members of the Company shall be those Persons listed on Exhibit B. Except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, and except as provided in Section 7.05 below, a Person may be admitted as a Member to the Company only upon the affirmative vote of the Managers, plus one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%); provided, however, that no Person will be recognized as a Member of the Company until he/she shall have executed this Agreement, or a counterpart hereto, and agrees to be bound by all of the terms and conditions hereof.

2.02 Annual Meetings An annual meeting of the Members of the Company shall be held during each calendar year on such date and at such time as shall be designated from time to time by the Board of Managers and stated in the notice of the meeting, and if a legal holiday, then on the next business day following, at the time specified in the notice of the meeting. At such meeting, the Members shall elect Managers and transact such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting.

2.03 Special Meetings A special meeting of the Members may be called at any time by the President, the Board of Managers, or one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total at least 10%. Only such business shall be transacted at a special meeting as may be stated or indicated in the notice of such meeting.

2.04 Place of Meetings The annual meeting of Members may be held at any place within or without the State of Delaware as may be designated by the Board of Managers. Special meetings of Members may be held at any place within or without the State of Delaware as may be designated by the person or persons calling such special meeting as provided in Section 2.03. If no place for a meeting is designated, it shall be held at the registered office of the Company.

2.05 Notice. Written or printed notice stating the place, day, and hour of each meeting of Members and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than 10 days or more than 50 days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the President, the Secretary, or the person calling the meeting, to each Member of record entitled to vote at such meeting.

2.06 Voting List At least 10 days before each meeting of Members, the Secretary shall prepare a complete list of Members entitled to vote at such meeting, arranged in alphabetical order, including the address of each Member and the number of voting Interests held by each Member. For a period of 10 days prior to such meeting, such list shall be kept on file at the registered office of the Company and shall be subject to inspection by any Member during usual business hours. Such list shall be produced at such meeting, and at all times during such meeting shall be subject to inspection by any Member. The membership interest transfer books shall be prima facie evidence as to who are the Members entitled to examine such list or membership interest transfer books.

2.07 Voting of Interests. Interests held by the Company in treasury, Interests owned by a Person the majority of the voting interests of which are owned or controlled by the Company, and Interests held by the Company in a fiduciary capacity shall not be Interests entitled to vote or to be counted in determining the total number of outstanding Interests of the Company. Interests held by an administrator, executor, guardian, or conservator may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, without transfer of such Interests into his or her name so long as such Interests form a part of the estate and are in the possession of the estate being served by him or her. Interests standing in the name of a trustee may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, only after the Interests have been transferred into his or her name as trustee. Interests standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver, and Interests held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver without transfer of such Interests into his or her name if authority to do so is contained in the court order by which such receiver was appointed. Interests standing in the name of another domestic or foreign corporation of any type or kind may be voted by such officer, agent, or proxy as the bylaws of such corporation may provide or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors of such corporation may by resolution determine. A Member whose Interests are pledged shall be entitled to vote such Interests until they have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote such Interests.

2.08 Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%) shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of Members, except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement. At any reconvening of an adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted that could have been transacted at the original meeting if a quorum had been present or represented.

2.09 Vote; Withdrawal of Quorum. If a quorum is present in person or represented by proxy at any meeting, except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, the vote of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%) of all Members, whether or not they are present in person or represented by proxy, shall decide any question brought before such meeting, unless the question is one on which, by express provision of law, the Certificate, or this Agreement a different vote is required, in which event such express provision shall govern and control the decision of such question. The Members present at a duly convened meeting may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding any withdrawal of Members that may leave less than a quorum remaining.

2.10 Method of Voting; Proxies. Except as otherwise may be provided in Exhibit A or Exhibit B, each Member shall be entitled to that number of votes on each matter submitted to the Members for their vote equal to such Member's Percentage Interest multiplied by 100. At any meeting of Members, every Member having the right to vote may vote either in person or by a proxy executed in writing by the Member or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. Each such proxy shall be filed with the Secretary of the Company before or at the time of the meeting. No proxy shall be valid after 11 months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy. If no date is stated on a proxy, such proxy shall be presumed to have been executed on the date of the meeting at which it is to be voted. Each proxy shall be revocable unless expressly provided therein to be irrevocable or unless otherwise made irrevocable by law.

2.11 Closing of Transfer Books; Record Date . For the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, any meeting of Members or any reconvening thereof, or entitled to receive payment of any distribution, or in order to make a determination of Members for any other proper purpose, the Board of Managers may provide that the membership interest transfer books of the Company shall be closed for a stated period but not to exceed in any event 50 days. If the membership interest transfer books are closed for the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members, such books shall be closed for at least 10 days immediately preceding such meeting. In lieu of closing the membership interest transfer books, the Board of Managers may fix in advance a date as the record date for any such determination of Members, such date in any case to be not more than 50 days and not less than 10 days prior to the date on which the particular action requiring such determination of Members is to be taken. If the membership interest transfer books are not closed and if no record date is fixed for the determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of Members or entitled to receive payment of a distribution, the date on which the notice of the meeting is to be mailed or the date on which the resolution of the Board of Managers declaring such distribution is adopted, as the case may be, shall be the record date for such determination of Members.

2.12 Presiding Officials at Meetings The President shall preside at, and the Secretary shall prepare minutes of, each meeting of Members, and in the absence of either such officer, his other duties shall be performed by some person appointed at the meeting.

ARTICLE III

MANAGERS

3.01 Management. The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed EXCLUSIVELY by the Board of Managers. Subject to the restrictions imposed by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement, the Board of Managers may exercise all the powers of the Company.

3.02 Number; Election; Term; Qualification. The first Board of Managers shall consist of the number of Managers named in the Certificate and or otherwise in the Company documents. Thereafter, except as otherwise may be restricted by this Agreement, the number of Managers that shall constitute the entire Board of Managers shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Managers at any meeting thereof or by the Members at any meeting thereof, but shall never be less than one (1). At each annual meeting of Members, Managers shall be elected to hold office until the next annual meeting of Members and until their successors are elected and qualified. No Manager need be a Member, a resident of the State of Delaware, or a citizen of the United States.

3.03 Removal Except as otherwise may be provided by the Members, at any meeting of Members called expressly for that purpose, any Manager or the entire Board of Managers may be removed, with or without cause, by a vote of one or more Members whose Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%).

3.04 Change in Number; Vacancies. No decrease in the number of Managers constituting the entire Board of Managers shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent Manager. In the case of any increase in the number of Managers, or in the case of the death, retirement, resignation, or removal of a Manager, the vacancies to be filled by such increase or death, retirement, resignation, or removal may be filled by (a) the Board of Managers for a term of office continuing only until the next election of one or more Managers by the Members; or (b) the Members at any annual or special meeting of the Members. A Manager elected to fill a vacancy shall be elected to serve for the unexpired term of his predecessor in office.

3.05 Place of Meetings . The Board of Managers may hold its meetings in such place or places, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, within or without the State of Delaware as the Board of Managers may from time to time determine.

3.06 First Meeting . Each newly elected Board of Managers may hold its first meeting, if a quorum is present, for the purpose of organization and the transaction of business immediately after and at the same place as the annual meeting of Members, and no notice of such meeting shall be necessary.

3.07 Regular Meetings . Regular meetings of the Board of Managers may be held without notice at such times and places, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, as may be designated from time to time by resolution of the Board of Managers and communicated to all Managers. Regular meetings of the Board of Managers may be held when and if needed, and no more than one regular meeting of the Board of Managers shall be required in any calendar year.

3.08 Special Meetings . A special meeting of the Board of Managers shall be held whenever called by any Manager at such time and place, including by telephonic or other electronic method of communication, as such Manager shall designate in the notice of such special meeting. The Manager calling any special meeting shall cause notice of such special meeting to be given to each Manager at least 24 hours before such special meeting. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any special meeting of the Board of Managers need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of any special meeting.

3.09 Quorum; Vote . At all meetings of the Board of Managers, a majority of the Managers fixed in the manner provided in this Agreement shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If a quorum is not present at a meeting, a majority of the Managers present may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than an announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is present. The vote of a majority of the Managers present at a meeting at which a quorum is in attendance shall be the act of the Board of Managers, unless the vote of a different number is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement.

3.10 Procedure; Minutes . At meetings of the Board of Managers, business shall be transacted in such order as the Board of Managers may determine from time to time. The Board of Managers shall appoint at each meeting a person to preside at the meeting and a person to act as secretary of the meeting. The secretary of the meeting shall prepare minutes of the meeting that shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Company for placement in the minute book of the Company.

3.11 Presumption of Assent . A Manager of the Company who is present at any meeting of the Board of Managers at which action on any matter is taken shall be presumed to have assented to the action unless his dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless he shall file his written dissent to such action with the person acting as secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof, or shall forward any dissent by certified or registered mail to the Secretary of the Company immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to a Manager who voted in favor of such action.

3.12 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be restricted in this Agreement, Managers, in their capacity as Managers, may receive, by resolution of the Board of Managers, a stated salary or a fixed sum and expenses of attendance, if any, for attending meetings of the Board of Managers. No Manager shall be precluded from serving the Company in any other capacity or receiving compensation therefor.

ARTICLE IV

COMMITTEES

4.01 Designation . The Board of Managers may, by a resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers, designate executive and other committees.

4.02 Number; Qualification; Term . Each committee shall consist of one or more Managers appointed by resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers. The number of committee members may be increased or decreased from time to time by resolution adopted by a majority of the entire Board of Managers. Each committee member shall serve as such until the expiration of his term as a Manager or his earlier resignation, unless sooner removed as a committee member or as a Manager.

4.03 Authority . The executive committee, to the extent provided in the resolution establishing such committee, shall have and may exercise all of the authority of the Board of Managers in the management of the business and affairs of the Company. Each other committee, to the extent expressly provided for in the resolution establishing such committee, shall have and may exercise all of the authority of the Board of Managers in such other matters and affairs concerning the Company. However, no committee shall have the authority of the Board of Managers in reference to any of the following:

(a) amending the Certificate;

(b) approving a plan of merger or consolidation;

(c) recommending to the Members the sale, lease, or exchange of all or substantially all of the property and assets of the Company other than in the usual and regular course of its business;

(d) recommending to the Members a voluntary dissolution of the Company or a liquidation thereof;

(e) filling vacancies in, or removing members of, the Board of Managers or of any committee thereof;

(f) filling any vacancy to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of Managers;

(g) electing or removing officers or committee members;

(h) fixing the compensation of any committee member; or

(i) altering or repealing any resolution of the Board of Managers that, by its term, provides that it shall not be amendable or repealable.

4.04 Committee Changes . The Board of Managers shall have the power at any time to fill vacancies in, to change the Membership of, and to discharge any committee. However, a committee member may be removed by the Board of Managers only if, in the judgment of the Board of Managers, the best interests of the Company will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed.

4.05 Regular Meetings . Regular meetings of any committee may be held without notice at such times and places, including by telephonic or other electronic methods of communication, as may be designated from time to time by resolution of the committee and communicated to all committee members.

4.06 Special Meetings . A special meeting of any committee may be held whenever called by any committee member at such time and place, including by telephonic or other electronic methods of communication, as such committee member shall designate in the notice of such special meeting. The committee member calling any special meeting shall cause notice of such special meeting to be given to each committee member at least 24 hours before such special meeting. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any special meeting of any committee need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of any special meeting.

4.07 Quorum; Majority Vote . At all meetings of any committee, a majority of the number of committee members designated by the Board of Managers shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If a quorum is not present at a meeting of any committee, a majority of the committee members present may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than an announcement at the meeting, until a quorum is present. The vote of a majority of the committee members present at any meeting at which a quorum is in attendance shall be the act of a committee, unless the vote of a different number is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement.

4.08 Minutes . Each committee shall cause minutes of its proceedings to be prepared and shall report the same to the Board of Managers. The minutes of the proceedings of each committee shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Company for placement in the minute books of the Company.

4.09 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be restricted in this Agreement, committee members may, by resolution of the Board of Managers, be allowed a stated salary or a fixed sum and expenses of attendance, if any, for attending any committee meetings.

4.10 Responsibility . The designation of any committee and the delegation of authority to it shall not operate to relieve the Board of Managers or any Manager of any responsibility imposed upon it or such Manager by law.

ARTICLE V

GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO MEETINGS

5.01 Notice Whenever by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement notice is required to be given to any Member, Manager, or committee member and no provision is made as to how such notice shall be given, it shall be construed to mean that notice may be given either (a) in person; (b) in writing, by mail; (c) by telegram, telex, cable, telecopy or facsimile transmission, or similar means; or (d) by any other method permitted by law. Any notice required or permitted to be given hereunder (other than personal notice) shall be addressed to such Member, Manager, or committee member at his address as it appears on the books on the Company or, in the case of a Member, on the membership interest transfer records of the Company or at such other place as such Member, Manager, or committee member is known to be at the time notice is mailed or transmitted. Any notice required or permitted to be given by mail shall be deemed to be delivered and given at the time when such notice is deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid. Any notice required or permitted to be given by telegram, telex, cable, telecopy or facsimile transmission, or similar means shall be deemed to be delivered and given at the time transmitted.

5.02 Waiver of Notice . Whenever by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement any notice is required to be given to any Member, Manager, or committee member of the Company, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time notice should have been given, shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice. Attendance of a Manager or Member at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Manager or Member attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

5.03 Telephone and Similar Meetings Members, Managers, or committee members may participate in and hold a meeting by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other. Participation in such a meeting shall constitute presence in person at such meeting, except where a person participates in the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

5.04 Action Without Meeting . Any action that may be taken, or is required by law, the Certificate, or this Agreement to be taken at a meeting of the Members, the Board of Managers, or a committee thereof may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the Members owning the required Percentage Interests of all Members (as set forth herein for the respective action or decision), a majority of the Managers or committee members, as the case may be, entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof, and such consent shall have the same force and effect as a vote of such Members, Managers, or committee members, as the case may be, and may be stated as such in any document filed with the Secretary of State of Delaware or in any certificate or other document delivered to any person. The consent may be in one or more counterparts so long as each Member, Manager, or committee member signs one of the counterparts. The signed consent shall be placed in the minute books of the Company.

OFFICERS AND OTHER AGENTS

6.01 Number; Titles; Election; Term The Company shall have a president, one or more vice presidents (and, in the case of each vice president, with such descriptive title, if any, as the Board of Managers shall determine), a secretary, a treasurer, and such officers and agents as the Board of Managers may deem desirable. The Board of Managers shall elect a president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary at its first meeting at which a quorum shall be present after the annual meeting of Members or whenever a vacancy exists. The Board of Managers then, or from time to time, may also elect or appoint one or more other officers or agents as it shall deem advisable. Except as otherwise may be provided by separate agreement, each officer and agent shall hold office for the term for which he is elected or appointed and until his successor has been elected or appointed and qualified. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution of the Board of Managers electing or appointing an officer or agent, his term of office shall extend to and expire at the meeting of the Board of Managers following the next annual meeting of Members or, if earlier, at his death, resignation, or removal. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person. No officer or agent need be a Member, a Manager, a resident of the State of Delaware, or a citizen of the United States.

6.02 Removal . Any officer or agent elected or appointed by the Board of Managers may be removed by a majority of the Board of Managers only if, in the judgment of a majority of the Board of Managers, the best interests of the Company will be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights.

6.03 Vacancies . Any vacancy occurring in any office of the Company may be filled by the Board of Managers.

6.04 Authority . Officers shall have such authority and perform such duties in the management of the Company as are provided in this Agreement or as may be determined by resolution of the Board of Managers not inconsistent with this Agreement.

6.05 Compensation . Except as otherwise may be provided by separate agreement, the compensation, if any, of officers or any salaried employee shall be fixed, increased, or decreased from time to time by the Board of Managers, provided, however, that the Board of Managers may by resolution delegate to any one or more officers of the Company the authority to fix such compensation.

6.06 Chairman of the Board . The Chairman of the Board, if any, shall be an officer of the Company and, subject to the direction of the Board of Managers, shall perform such executive, supervisory, and management functions and duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Board of Managers.

6.07 President, CEO and COO . The Board of Managers may designate and appoint a President, CEO and/or COO, with rights, duties and responsibilities established by the Board of Managers.

6.08 Vice Presidents . Each Vice President shall have such powers and duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President and (in the order as designated by the Board of Managers, or in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Vice President continuously) shall exercise the powers of the President during that officer's absence or inability to act.

6.09 Treasurer . The Treasurer shall have custody of the Company's funds and securities, shall keep full and accurate accounts of receipts and disbursements, and shall deposit all moneys and valuable effects in the name and to the credit of the Company in such depository or depositories as may be designated by the Board of Managers. The Treasurer shall audit all payrolls and vouchers of the Company; shall receive, audit, and consolidate all operating and financial statements of the Company and its various departments; shall supervise the accounting and auditing practices of the Company; and shall have charge of matters relating to taxation. Additionally, the Treasurer shall have the power to endorse for deposit, collection, or otherwise all checks, drafts, notes, bills of exchange, and other commercial paper payable to the Company and to give proper receipts and discharges for all payments to the Company. The Treasurer shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President.

6.10 Assistant Treasurers . Each Assistant Treasurer shall perform such duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President. The Assistant Treasurers (in the order as designated by the Board of Managers or, in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Assistant Treasurer continuously) shall exercise the powers of the Treasurer.

6.11 Secretary . The Secretary shall maintain minutes of all meetings of the Board of Managers, of any committee, and of the Members, or consents in lieu of such minutes, in the Company's minute books, and shall cause notice of such meetings to be given when requested by any person authorized to call such meetings. The Secretary may sign with the President, in the name of the Company, all contracts of the Company and affix the seal of the Company thereto. The Secretary shall have charge of the certificate books, membership interest transfer books, and other documents as the Board of Managers may direct, all of which shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by any Manager at the office of the Company during normal business hours. The Secretary shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President.

6.12 Assistant Secretaries . Each Assistant Secretary shall perform such duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or as may be delegated from time to time by the President. The Assistant Secretaries (in the order designated by the Board of Managers or, in the absence of such designation, as determined by the length of time each has held the office of Assistant Secretary continuously) shall exercise the powers of the Secretary during that officer's absence or inability to act.

ARTICLE VII

CAPITALIZATION AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

7.01 Capital Contributions . The Capital Contributions of the Members, as set forth in the books and records of the Company, shall be paid or transferred to the Company in cash and/or property on the terms and in the manner specified by the Board of Managers. No Member shall be entitled to make any additional Capital Contributions except as provided in Section 7.02 and 7.03 below.

7.02 Additional Capital Contributions . If the Board of Managers determine that additional capital is required for the purposes of the Company, as set forth herein, the Board of Managers may notify the Members of the need for such additional capital and shall state the specific purposes for which the call for such additional capital is being made. Thereupon, all Members shall have the right (but not the obligation) to make additional Capital Contributions in cash and/or property to the Company aggregating the amount of additional capital needed by the Company in the proportion of their respective Percentage Interests in the Company at the time notice is given. The Board of Managers shall use the additional capital so contributed solely for the purposes stated in the notice to the Members.

7.03 Failure to Make Additional Capital Contributions . If any Member chooses not to contribute its share of the additional capital needed by the Company within 14 days after notice is given to the Members of the need for such additional capital (a “Non-Contributing Member”), then the other Members shall be entitled (but not obligated) to contribute the share of such Non-Contributing Member (such Members being referred to as “Contributing Members”) of the additional capital needed pro rata according to such Contributing Members' Percentage Interests at such time or such other share as otherwise agreed upon by the Contributing Members.

7.04 Effect of Failure to Make Additional Capital Contributions . In the event of a Non-Contributing Member, the Percentage Interests of all of the Members shall be recomputed on the following basis: Each Member's Percentage Interest immediately following the computation shall equal the percentage expression of a fraction, the numerator of which is the total Capital Contributions of such Member plus the additional Capital Contribution, if any, made by such Member pursuant to Sections 7.02 and 7.03 above, and the denominator of which is the total Capital Contributions of all of the Members plus the additional Capital Contributions made by all of the Members pursuant to Sections 7.02 and 7.03 above.

7.05 Recapitalization by Admission of Additional Members . If additional capital is required for the purposes of the Company as set forth herein and the Board of Managers is unable to finance such capital needs by borrowing the required amounts or through notice to the existing Members of the necessity for additional Capital Contributions as provided in Section 7.02 and 7.03 above, the Board of Managers shall have the right to admit additional Members to the Company, upon receiving the other approvals required herein. Following the admission of one or more new Members, the Percentage Interest of each Member, including the newly admitted Member(s), shall be computed as follows: Each Member's Percentage Interest immediately following the computation shall equal the percentage expression of a fraction, the numerator of which is the total Capital Contributions of such Member and the denominator of which is the total Capital Contributions of all of the Members, including the newly admitted Members.

7.06 Maintenance of Capital Accounts . The Company shall maintain for each Member a separate Capital Account in accordance with this Section 7.06, which shall control the allocation of Profits and Losses and the division of assets upon liquidation of the Company as provided in Section 12.01. Each Capital Account shall be maintained in accordance with the following provisions:

(a) a Member's Capital Account shall initially be zero and shall be increased by the cash amount or Book Value of any property contributed by such Member to the Company pursuant to this Agreement, such Member's allocable share of Profits and any items in the nature of income or gains that are specially allocated to such Member pursuant to Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 hereof, and the amount of any Company liabilities assumed by such Member or which are secured by any property distributed to such Member;

(b) such Capital Account shall be decreased by the cash amount or Book Value of any property distributed to such Member pursuant to this Agreement, such Member's allocable share of Losses and any items in the nature of deductions or losses that are specially allocated to such Member pursuant to Section 8.02 and Section 8.03 hereof, and the amount of any liabilities of the Member assumed by the Company or which are secured by any property contributed by such Member to the Company; and

(c) if all or a portion of an Interest in the Company is Transferred in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, the transferee shall succeed to the Capital Account of the transferor to the extent it relates to the transferred Interest, provided, however, that if the Transfer causes a termination of the Company under Code Section 708(b)(1)(B), the assets of the Company shall be deemed to have been distributed to the Members (including the transferee of the Interest) in liquidation of the Company and recontributed by such Members and transferees in reconstitution of the Company. Such deemed liquidation and reconstitution shall not cause the Company to be dissolved and/or reconstituted for purposes other than maintenance of the Capital Accounts and federal income tax.

The foregoing provisions and the other provisions of this Agreement relating to the maintenance of Capital Accounts are intended to comply with Section 1.704-1(b) of the Treasury Regulations and shall be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent with such Treasury Regulations. If the Board of Managers determines that it is prudent to modify the manner in which the Capital Accounts, or any increases or decreases to the Capital Accounts, are computed in order to comply with such Treasury Regulations, the Board of Managers may authorize such modifications, provided that it is not likely to have a material effect on the amounts distributable to any Member pursuant to Sections 8.06 and 12.01 hereof.

7.07 Negative Capital Accounts . If any Member has a deficit balance in its Capital Account, such Member shall have no obligation to restore such negative balance or to make any Capital Contribution to the Company by reason thereof, and such negative balance shall not be considered an asset of the Company or of any Member.

7.08 Interest . No interest shall be paid by the Company on Capital Contributions or on balances in Capital Accounts.

7.09 No Withdrawal . No Member shall be entitled to withdraw any part of his Capital Contribution or his Capital Account or to receive any distribution from the Company, except as provided in Sections 11.02 and 12.01 of this Agreement.

7.10 Loans From Members . Loans by a Member to the Company shall not be considered Capital Contributions.

ARTICLE VIII

ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

8.01 Allocation of Profits and Losses.

(a) Allocation of Profits. Except as provided on any Exhibit hereto, after giving effect to the allocations set forth in Section 8.02 and Section 8.03, and after giving effect to all distributions of cash or property (other than cash or property to be distributed pursuant to Section 12.01), Profits for any Fiscal Year shall be allocated to the Members in the following manner:

(i) first, to each Member with a negative balance in its Capital Account, pro rata in accordance with such negative Capital Account balances, until such negative Capital Account balances have been eliminated;

(ii) next, to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

(b) Allocation of Losses. Except as provided in any Exhibit hereto, after giving effect to the allocations set forth in Section 8.02 and Section 8.03, Losses for any Fiscal Year shall be allocated to the Members in the following manner:

(i) to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

8.02 Special Allocations of Profits and Losses .

(a) Minimum Gain Chargeback–Company Nonrecourse Liabilities. If there is a net decrease in Company minimum gain during any Fiscal Year, certain items of income and gain shall be allocated (on a gross basis) to the Members in the amounts and manner described in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f) and (j)(2)(i) and (ii), subject to the exemptions set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f)(2), (3), (4) and (5). This Section 8.02(a) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(f) relating to Company nonrecourse liabilities, as defined in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(3) and shall be so interpreted.

(b) Minimum Gain Chargeback–Member Nonrecourse Debt. If there is a net decrease in Member minimum gain during any Fiscal Year, certain items of income and gain shall be allocated (on a gross basis) as quickly as possible to those Members who had a share of the Member minimum gain determined pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(5) in the amounts and manner described in Treasury Regulations Sections 1.704-2(i)(4), (j)(2)(ii), and (j)(2)(iii). This Section 8.02(b) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement set forth in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(4) relating to Member nonrecourse debt, as defined in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(4) and shall be so interpreted.

(c) Qualified Income Offset. If, after applying Section 8.02(a) and Section 8.02(b), any Member has an adjusted Capital Account deficit, items of Company income and gain shall be specially allocated (on a gross basis) to each such Member in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate the adjusted Capital Account deficit of such Member as quickly as possible. This Section 8.02(c) is intended to comply with the "qualified income offset" requirement set for the in Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d) and shall be so interpreted.

(d) Optional Basis Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Company asset pursuant to Code Sections 734(b) or 743(b) is required, pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m), to be taken in to account in determining Capital Accounts, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Members in a manner consistent with the manner in which their Capital Accounts are required to be adjusted pursuant to such Section of the Treasury Regulations.

(f) Partner Nonrecourse Deductions. Partner Nonrecourse Deductions shall be allocated pursuant to Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-2(b)(4) and (i)(1) to the Member who bears the economic risk of loss with respect to such deductions.

8.03 Curative Allocations . The Regulatory Allocations are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Treasury Regulations. It is the intent of the Members that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this Section 8.03. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provisions of this Article VIII, the Board of Managers shall make such offsetting special allocations of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Member's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Member would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of the Agreement and all Company items were allocated pursuant to Section 8.01(a) and Section 8.01(b) hereof.

8.04 Tax Allocations: Code Section 704(c) .

(a) In accordance with Code Section 704(c) and the Treasury Regulations thereunder, income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to any property contributed to the capital of the Company shall, solely for federal income tax purposes, be allocated among the Members so as to take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such property to the Company for federal income tax purposes and its initial Book Value.

(b) If the Book Value of any Company asset is adjusted pursuant to Section 1.04(e)(ii) hereof, subsequent allocations of income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to such asset shall take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such asset for federal income tax purposes and its Book Value in the same manner as under Code Section 704(c) and the Treasury Regulations thereunder.

(c) Any elections or other decisions relating to such allocation shall be made by the Board of Managers. Allocations pursuant to this Section 8.04 are solely for purposes of federal, state, and local taxes and shall not affect or in any way be taken into account in computing any Member's Capital Account, or share of Profits, Losses, and other items or distribution pursuant to any provision of this Agreement.

8.05 Other Allocation Rules .

(a) For purposes of determining the Profits, Losses, or any other item allocable to any period, Profits, Losses, and any such other item shall be determined on a daily, monthly, or other basis, as determined by the Board of Managers using any permissible method under Code Section 706 and the Treasury Regulations thereunder.

(b) For federal income tax purposes, every item of income, gain, loss, and deduction shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with the allocations under Sections 8.01, 8.02, 8.03, and 8.04.

(c) The Members are aware of the income tax consequences of the allocations made by this Article VIII and hereby agree to be bound by the provisions of this Article VIII in reporting their shares of Company income and loss for income tax purposes.

(d) It is intended that the allocations in Sections 8.01, 8.02, 8.03, and 8.04 hereof effect an allocation for federal income tax purposes consistent with Section 704 of the Code and comply with any limitations or restrictions therein.

8.06 Distributions of Distributable Cash . Except as otherwise may be provided in this Agreement, the Board of Managers shall cause the Company to make distributions of Distributable Cash at such intervals and in such amounts as the Board of Managers in its sole discretion shall determine by majority vote. Distributions of Distributable Cash shall be made to all of the Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

8.07 Working Cash Reserve . The Board of Managers may from time to time establish a working cash reserve for capital expenditures, unforeseen contingencies, projected operating deficits, and other corporate purposes and may increase or decrease the amount in such reserve in its business judgment.

CERTIFICATES

9.01 Certificated and Uncertificated Interests. The membership interests of the Company may be either certificated interests or uncertificated interests. As used herein, the term "certificated interests" means Interests represented by instruments in bearer or registered form, and the term "uncertificated interests" means Interests not represented by such instruments and the transfers of which are registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of the Company.

9.02 Certificates for Certificated Interests . The certificates for certificated interests shall be in such form as shall be approved by the Board of Managers in conformity with law. The certificates shall be consecutively numbered, shall be entered as they are issued in the books of the Company or in the records of the Company's designated transfer agent, if any, and shall state the Member's name, the class of Interests, the Percentage Interest that such Interest represents, and such other matters as may be required by law. The certificates shall be signed by the President or any Vice President and also by the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, or any other officer, and may be sealed with the seal of the Company or a facsimile thereof. If any certificate is countersigned by a transfer agent or registered by a registrar, either of which is other than the Company itself or an employee of the Company, the signatures of the foregoing officers may be a facsimile.

9.03 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates . The Company shall issue a new certificate in place of any certificate for Interests previously issued if the registered owner of the certificate satisfies the following requirements:

(a) the registered owner makes proof in affidavit form that a previously issued certificate for Interests has been lost, destroyed, or stolen;

(b) the registered owner requests the issuance of a new certificate before the Company has notice that the certificate has been acquired by a purchaser for value in good faith and without notice of an adverse claim;

(c) the registered owner gives a bond in such form, and with such surety or sureties, with fixed or open penalty, as the Board of Managers may direct, in its discretion, to indemnify the Company (and its transfer agent and registrar, if any) against any claim that may be made on account of the alleged loss, destruction, or theft of the certificate; and

(d) the registered owner satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the Board of Managers.

When a certificate has been lost, destroyed, or stolen and the Member of record fails to notify the Company within a reasonable time after he has notice of it, if the Company registers a transfer of the Interests represented by the certificate before receiving such notification, the Member of record is precluded from making any claim against the Company for the transfer or for a new certificate.

9.04 Transfer of Interests . Interests of the Company shall be transferable only on the books of the Company by the Members thereof in person or by their duly authorized attorneys or legal representatives, but only as authorized in this COMPANY AGREEMENT. With respect to certificated interests, upon surrender to the Company or the transfer agent of the Company of a certificate representing Interests duly endorsed or accompanied by proper evidence of succession, assignment, or authority to transfer, the Company or its agent shall issue a new certificate to the person entitled thereto, cancel the old certificate, and record the transaction upon its books. With respect to uncertificated interests, upon delivery to the Company of proper evidence of succession, assignment, or authority to transfer, the Company or its agent shall record the transaction upon its books.

9.05 Registered Members . The Company shall be entitled to treat the Member of record as the Member in fact of any Interests and, accordingly, shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in such Interests on the part of any other Person, whether or not it shall have actual or other notice thereof, except as otherwise provided by law.

9.06 Legends . If the Company is authorized to issue Interests of more than one class, each certificate representing Interests issued by the Company (a) shall conspicuously set forth on the face or back of the certificate a full statement of all of the designations, preferences, limitations, and relative rights of the Interests of each class authorized to be issued; or (b) shall conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that (i) such a statement is set forth in the Certificate on file in the office of the Secretary of State or in this Agreement; and (ii) the Company will furnish a copy of such statements to the record holder of the certificate without charge on written request to the Company at its principal place of business or registered office.

If the Company issues any Interests that are not registered under the Securities Act of 1933, the transfer of any such interests shall be restricted in accordance with an appropriate legend.

In the event any restriction on the transfer, or registration of the transfer, of Interests shall be imposed or agreed to by the Company, each certificate representing Interests so restricted (a) shall conspicuously set forth a full or summary statement of the restriction on the face of the certificate; (b) shall set forth such statement on the back of the certificate and conspicuously refer to the same on the face of the certificate; or (c) shall conspicuously state on the face or back of the certificate that such a restriction exists pursuant to a specified document and (i) that the Company will furnish to the record holder of the certificate without charge upon written request to the Company at its principal place of business or registered office a copy of the specified document; or (ii) if such document is one required or permitted by law to be and has been filed, that such specified document is on file in the office of the Secretary of State and contains a full statement of such restriction.

ARTICLE X

ACCOUNTING AND RECORDS

10.01 Records and Accounting . The books and records of the Company shall be kept, and the financial position and the results of its operations recorded, in accordance with the accounting methods elected to be followed by the Company for federal income tax purposes. The books and records of the Company shall reflect all Company transactions and shall be appropriate and adequate for the Company's business.

10.02 Access to Accounting Records . All books and records of the Company shall be maintained at any office of the Company or at the Company's principal place of business, and each Member owning a Percentage Interest of at least ten percent (10%), and his duly authorized representative, shall have access to them at such office of the Company and the right to inspect and copy them at reasonable times.

10.03 Annual and Tax Information . The Company shall deliver to each Member within 90 days after the end of each Fiscal Year all information necessary for the preparation of such Member's federal income tax return. The Company shall prepare, within 120 days after the end of each Fiscal Year, a financial report of the Company for such Fiscal Year, containing a statement of the year then ended, a statement of sources and applications of funds, and a statement of reconciliation of the Capital Accounts of the Members.

10.04 Accounting Decisions . All decisions as to accounting matters, except as otherwise specifically set forth herein, shall be made by the Board of Managers. The Members may rely upon the advice of their accountants as to whether such decisions are in accordance with accounting methods followed for federal income tax purposes.

10.05 Federal Income Tax Elections . The Company may make all elections for federal income tax purposes, including, but not limited to, the following:

(a) to the extent permitted by applicable law and regulations, the election to use an accelerated depreciation method on any depreciable unit of the assets of the Company; and

(b) in case of a transfer of all or part of the Interest of any Member, the election pursuant to Section 734, 743, and 754 of the Code, as amended (or corresponding provisions of future law) to adjust the basis of the assets of the Company.

ARTICLE XI

CHANGES IN MEMBERS

The provisions of this Article XI are subject to, and may be superceded by, one or more separate agreements entered into by and among one or more Members. The provisions of this Article XI shall continue to control with respect to matters not covered by, or Members not parties to, such agreement(s).

11.01 Intentionally Blank .

11.02 Transfer and Assignment of Members' Interest . Except as approved by the Manager, plus a Member or Members owning a Percentage Interest greater than fifty percent (50%), no Member shall be entitled to Transfer any part of its Interest in the Company. The Company and, if applicable, the remaining Members shall be entitled to match the terms of the proposed Transfer, with consideration being only set forth in traditional monetary terms. If the Company and the remaining Members fail to match the proposed Transfer with regard to the purchase of the entire Interest, or portion thereof, the Member proposing to make the Transfer may move forward with the proposed Transfer. Transfers in violation of this Section 11.02 shall be effective only to the extent set forth in Section 11.05(b) hereof.

11.03 Further Restrictions on Transfer . No Member shall Transfer any part of his Interest in the Company: (i) without registration under applicable federal and state securities laws, or unless he delivers an opinion of counsel satisfactory to the Company that registration under such laws is not required; or (ii) if the Interest to be sold or exchanged, when added to the total of all other Interests to be sold or exchanged in the preceding 12 consecutive months prior thereto, would result in the termination of the Company under Code Section 708.

11.04 Substitute Members . A transferee shall have the right to become a substitute Member if (a) the requirements of Section 11.02 and 11.03 hereof are met; (b) such person executes an instrument satisfactory to the remaining Members accepting and adopting the terms and provisions of this Agreement; and (c) such person pays any reasonable expenses in connection with his or her admission as a Member.

11.05 Effect of Transfer .

(a) Any permitted Transfer of all or any portion of a Member's Interest in the Company will take effect on the first day of the month following receipt by the Members of written notice of Transfer. Any transferee of an Interest in the Company shall take subject to the restrictions on Transfer imposed by this Agreement.

(b) Upon any Transfer of a Member's Interest in the Company in violation of this Agreement, and if such Member's Interest is not purchased pursuant to Section 11.01, the transferee shall have no right to participate in the management of the business and affairs of the Company or to become a Member, but such transferee shall be entitled to receive only the allocable share of Profits, Losses, Distributive Cash, and other items to which the transferor of such Interest in the Company would otherwise be entitled.

11.06 No Dissolution or Withdrawal: Advanced Consent . Upon the occurrence of a Dissolution Event with regard to a respective Member, all remaining Members shall be deemed to automatically consent to the continuation of the business of the Company. By executing this Agreement, however, all Members hereby consent that they shall not voluntarily cause a Dissolution Event or demand the return of Member's capital. If any Member shall breach the agreement represented by this Section 11.06, the agreement of such breaching Member shall not be specifically performable, but shall be actionable for damages, and shall be deemed an offer of the Interest of such breaching Member for sale pursuant hereto. The parties agree that a reasonable approximation of the damage that the Company shall experience due to breach hereof is 20% of the value of the breaching Member's Interest, or as otherwise set forth herein (whichever is greater), which shall be deducted from any payments to such Member upon dissolution or purchase of such Member's Interest hereunder. The value of the breaching Member's Interest shall be determined pursuant to Section 11.01, to which value the said discount may then be applied in determining payments due to the breaching Member pursuant to the deemed offer of sale occurring under this Section 11.06.

ARTICLE XII

TERMINATION

12.01 Termination of the Company .

(a) The Company shall be dissolved, its assets shall be disposed of, and its affairs wound up on the first to occur of the following events:

(i) a determination by the Managers, plus the Unanimous Consent of the Members that the Company should be dissolved;

(ii) a sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company;

(iii) the expiration of the Company’s term as stated in its Certificate; or

(iv) at such earlier time as provided by applicable law.

(b) In settling accounts of the Company after dissolution, the liabilities of the Company shall be entitled to payment and the assets of the Company remaining thereafter shall be distributed to the Members in the following order, all as required by the DELAWARE LAWS:

(i) those to creditors, in the order of priority as provided by law, except those to Members of the Company on account of their Capital Contributions;

(ii) to the Members, pro rata, in accordance with the positive balances, if any, in their Capital Accounts; and

(iii) to the Members in proportion to their relative Percentage Interests.

ARTICLE XIII

INDEMNIFICATION

13.01 Indemnification of Members, Managers, and Other Persons .

(a) To the greatest extent not inconsistent with the laws and public policies of Delaware, the Company shall indemnify any Member, Manager, or officer of the Company made a party to any proceeding because such individual is or was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company (an "Indemnitee"), as a matter of right, against all liability incurred by such individual in connection with any proceeding; provided that it shall be determined in the specific case in accordance with subsection (d) of this Section 13.01 that indemnification of such individual is permissible in the circumstances because the individual has met the standard of conduct for indemnification set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01. The Company shall advance, pay for, or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by an Indemnitee in connection with any such proceeding in advance of final disposition thereof if (i) the Indemnitee furnishes the Company a written affirmation of the Indemnitee's good faith belief that he or she has met the standard of conduct for indemnification described in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01; (ii) the Indemnitee furnishes the Company a written undertaking, executed personally or on such Indemnitee's behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that such individual did not meet such standard of conduct; and (iii) a determination is made in accordance with subsection (d) that based upon facts then known to those making the determination, indemnification would not be precluded under this Section 13.01. The undertaking described in subsection (a)(ii) above must be a general obligation of the Indemnitee, subject to such reasonable limitations as the Company may permit, but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to financial ability to make repayment. The Company shall indemnify an Indemnitee who is wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any such proceeding, as a matter of right, against reasonable expenses incurred by the individual in connection with the proceeding without the requirement of a determination as set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01. Upon demand by an Indemnitee for indemnification or advancement of expenses, as the case may be, the Company shall expeditiously determine whether the Indemnitee is entitled thereto in accordance with this Section 13.01. The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided for under this Section 13.01 shall be applicable to any proceeding arising from acts or omissions occurring before or after the adoption of this Section 13.01.

(b) The Company shall have the power, but not the obligation, to indemnify any individual who is or was an employee or agent of the Company to the same extent as if such individual was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company.

(c) Indemnification is permissible under this Section 13.01 only if (i) the Indemnitee conducted himself in good faith; (ii) he or she reasonably believed that his conduct was in, or at least not opposed to, the Company's best interest; (iii) in the case of any criminal proceeding, he or she had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful; and (iv) such Indemnitee is not adjudged in any such proceeding to be liable for gross negligence or willful misconduct in the performance of duty. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the Indemnitee did not meet the standard of conduct described in this subsection (c).

(d) A determination as to whether indemnification or advancement of expenses is permissible shall be made by any one of the following procedures:

(i) by the Board of Managers or by a majority vote consisting of Members not at the time parties to the proceeding; or

(ii) by special legal counsel selected by the Members in the manner prescribed in subsection (d)(i) above.

(e) An Indemnitee of the Company who is a party to a proceeding may apply for indemnification from the Company to the court, if any, conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. On receipt of an application, the court, after giving notice the court considers necessary, may order indemnification if it determines:

(i) in a proceeding in which the Indemnitee is wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, the Indemnitee is entitled to indemnification under this Section 13.01, in which case the court shall order the Company to pay the Indemnitee his or her reasonable expenses incurred to obtain such court ordered indemnification; or

(ii) the Indemnitee is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnification in view of all the relevant circumstances, whether or not the Indemnitee met the standard of conduct set forth in subsection (c) of this Section 13.01.

(f) Indemnification shall also be provided for an Indemnitee's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan if the individual reasonably believed his or her conduct to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of plan.

(g) Nothing contained in this Section 13.01 shall limit or preclude the exercise or be deemed exclusive of any right under the law, by contract or otherwise, relating to indemnification of or advancement of expenses to any individual who is or was a Member, Manager, or officer of the Company or is or was serving at the Company's request as a director, officer, partner, manager, trustee, employee, or agent of another foreign or domestic company, partnership, association, limited liability company, corporation, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise, whether for profit or not. Nothing contained in this Section 13.01 shall limit the ability of the Company to otherwise indemnify or advance expenses to any individual. It is the intent of this Section 13.01 to provide indemnification to Indemnitees to the fullest extent now or hereafter permitted by the law consistent with the terms and conditions of this Section 13.01. Indemnification shall be provided in accordance with this Section 13.01 irrespective of the nature of the legal or equitable theory upon which a claim is made, including, without limitation, negligence, breach of duty, mismanagement, waste, breach of contract, breach of warranty, strict liability, violation of federal or state securities law, violation of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, or violation of any other state or federal law.

(h) For purposes of this Section 13.01:

(i) The term "expenses" includes all direct and indirect costs (including, without limitation, counsel fees, retainers, court costs, transcripts, fees of experts, witness fees, travel expenses, duplicating costs, printing and binding costs, telephone charges, postage, delivery service fees, and all other disbursements or out-of-pocket expenses) actually incurred in connection with the investigation, defense, settlement, or appeal of a proceeding or establishing or enforcing a right to indemnification under this Section 13.01, applicable law, or otherwise.

(ii) The term "liability" means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine, excise tax (including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan), or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

(iii) The term "party" includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

(iv) The term "proceeding" means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

(v) The Company may purchase and maintain insurance for its benefit, the benefit of any individual who is entitled to indemnification under this Section 13.01, or both, against any liability asserted against or incurred by such individual in any capacity or arising out of such individual's service with the Company, whether or not the Company would have the power to indemnify such individual against such liability.

MISCELLANEOUS

14.01 Complete Agreement . This Agreement, the Certificate, and all other organizational documents signed by all of the Members constitute the complete and exclusive statement of agreement among the Members with respect to the matters herein. This Agreement and the Certificate replace and supersede all prior agreements by and among the Members or any of them, and no representation, statement, or condition or warranty not contained in this Agreement or the Certificate will be binding on the Members or have any force or effect whatsoever.

14.02 Governing Law . This Agreement and the rights of the parties hereunder will be governed by, interpreted, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware.

14.03 Binding Effect . Subject to the provisions of this Agreement relating to transferability, this Agreement will be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Members, and their respective distributes, successors, and assigns.

14.04 Terms . Common nouns and pronouns will be deemed to refer to the masculine, feminine, neuter, singular and plural, as the identity of the Person may in the context require. Any reference to the DELAWARE LAWS, the Code or other statutes or laws will include all amendments, modifications, or replacements of the specific sections and provisions concerned.

14.05 Headings . All headings herein are inserted only for convenience and ease of reference and are not to be considered in the construction or interpretation of any provision of this Agreement.

14.06 Severability . If any provision of this Agreement is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under the present or future laws effective during the term of this Agreement, such provision will be fully severable; this Agreement will be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part of this Agreement; and the remaining provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect and will not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance from this Agreement. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision, there will be added automatically as a part of this Agreement a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

14.07 Multiple Counterparts . This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which will be deemed an original but all of which will constitute one and the same instrument. However, in making proof hereof it will be necessary to produce only one copy hereof signed by the party to be charged.

14.08 Additional Documents and Acts . Each Member agrees to execute and deliver such additional documents and instruments and to perform such additional acts as may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate, carry out, and perform all of the terms, provisions, and conditions of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

14.09 No Third-Party Beneficiary . This Agreement is made solely and specifically among and for the benefit of the parties hereto, and their respective successors and assigns subject to the express provisions hereof relating to successors and assigns, and no other person will have any rights, interest, or claims hereunder or be entitled to any benefits under or on account of this Agreement as a third party beneficiary or otherwise.

14.10 References to this Agreement . Numbered or lettered articles, sections, and subsections herein contained refer to articles, sections, and subsections of this Agreement unless otherwise expressly stated.

14.11 Notices . Any notice to be given or to be served upon the Company or any party hereto in connection with this Agreement must be in writing and will be deemed to have been given and received when delivered to the address specified by the party to receive the notice. Such notices will be given to a Member at the address specified in Exhibit B hereto. Any Member or the Company may, at any time by giving five days' prior written notice to the other Members and the Company, designate any other address in substitution of the foregoing address to which such notice will be given.

14.12 Amendments . Except as otherwise may be provided in this Agreement, all amendments to this Agreement must be approved by the Managers, plus one or more Members whose aggregate Percentage Interests total more than fifty percent (50%).

14.13 Title to Company Property . Legal title to all property of the Company will be held and conveyed in the name of the Company.

14.14 Reliance on Authority of Person Signing Agreement . In the event that a Member is not a natural person, neither the Company nor any Member will (a) be required to determine the authority of the individual signing this Agreement to make any commitment or undertaking on behalf of such entity or to determine any fact or circumstance bearing upon the existence of the authority of such individual; or (b) be required to see to the application or distribution of proceeds paid or credited to individuals signing this Agreement on behalf of such entity.

14.15 S-Corp Election. In the event the Company elects to be treated as a S-Corporation for federal tax purposes, the provisions in this Company Agreement addressing tax treatment shall be automatically amended and modified as required in order to pertain to a S-corporation.

14.16 Company Indemnification. In the event any Member is personally liable for any debt or obligations associated with a Company asset, then the Company agrees to indemnify such Member for any such debt or obligation in excess of his or her proportionate amount of such debt or obligation that he/she is required to pay or perform, as measured by the Percentage Interest of the Members, except as otherwise agreed by the Members.

14.17 Management by Members. The Certificate of the Company and other Company documents/agreements on file and/or executed by the Member may reflect management by members, and not management by managers. As a result, if such is the case and the Certificate is not amended to reflect management by managers, this Agreement shall be interpreted in such a manner that all references herein to a Manager, or Managers or Board of Managers, shall be referring to the managing member(s), and as of the Effective Date hereof, since the sole member is Rand Advisors Holding Corp., a Delaware corporation, all decisions shall be made by such member, with Mark Patrick as the Director and President.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Members have executed this Agreement to be effective as of the date first written above.

SECTION 1.M. Registration with Foreign Financial Regulatory Authorities

Item 2 SEC Registration / Reporting

Responses to this Item help us (and you) determine whether you are eligible to register with the SEC. Complete this Item 2.A. only if you are applying for SEC registration or submitting an annual updating amendment to your SEC registration. If you are filing an umbrella registration, the information in Item 2 should be provided for the filing adviser only.

A. To register (or remain registered) with the SEC, you must check at least one of the Items 2.A.(1) through 2.A.(12), below. If you are submitting an annual updating amendment to your SEC registration and you are no longer eligible to register with the SEC, check Item 2.A.(13). Part 1A Instruction 2 provides information to help you determine whether you may affirmatively respond to each of these items.

You (the adviser):

☑ (1) are a large advisory firm that either:

(a) has regulatory assets under management of $100 million (in U.S. dollars) or more; or

(b) has regulatory assets under management of $90 million (in U.S. dollars) or more at the time of filing its most recent annual updating amendment and is registered with the SEC;

☐ (2) are a mid-sized advisory firm that has regulatory assets under management of $25 million (in U.S. dollars) or more but less than $100 million (in U.S. dollars) and you are either:

(a) not required to be registered as an adviser with the state securities authority of the state where you maintain your principal office and place of business; or

(b) not subject to examination by the state securities authority of the state where you maintain your principal office and place of business;

Click HERE for a list of states in which an investment adviser, if registered, would not be subject to examination by the state securities authority.

(3) Reserved

☐ (4) have your principal office and place of business outside the United States;

☐ (5) are an investment adviser (or subadviser) to an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940;

☐ (6) are an investment adviser to a company which has elected to be a business development company pursuant to section 54 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and has not withdrawn the election, and you have at least $25 million of regulatory assets under management;

☐ (7) are a pension consultant with respect to assets of plans having an aggregate value of at least $200,000,000 that qualifies for the exemption in rule 203A-2(a);

☐ (8) are a related adviser under rule 203A-2(b) that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, an investment adviser that is registered with the SEC, and your principal office and place of business is the same as the registered adviser;

If you check this box, complete Section 2.A.(8) of Schedule D.

☐ (9) are an adviser relying on rule 203A-2(c) because you expect to be eligible for SEC registration within 120 days;

If you check this box, complete Section 2.A.(9) of Schedule D.

☐ (10) are a multi-state adviser that is required to register in 15 or more states and is relying on rule 203A-2(d);

If you check this box, complete Section 2.A.(10) of Schedule D.

☐ (11) are an Internet adviser relying on rule 203A-2(e);

If you check this box, complete Section 2.A.(11) of Schedule D.

☐ (12) have received an SEC order exempting you from the prohibition against registration with the SEC;

If you check this box, complete Section 2.A.(12) of Schedule D.

☐ (13) are no longer eligible to remain registered with the SEC.

State Securities Authority Notice Filings* and State Reporting by *Exempt Reporting Advisers

C. Under state laws, SEC-registered advisers may be required to provide to state securities authorities a copy of the Form ADV and any amendments they file with the SEC. These are called notice filings. In addition, exempt reporting advisers may be required to provide state securities authorities with a copy of reports and any amendments they file with the SEC. If this is an initial application or report, check the box(es) next to the state(s) that you would like to receive notice of this and all subsequent filings or reports you submit to the SEC. If this is an amendment to direct your notice filings or reports to additional state(s), check the box(es) next to the state(s) that you would like to receive notice of this and all subsequent filings or reports you submit to the SEC. If this is an amendment to your registration to stop your notice filings or reports from going to state(s) that currently receive them, uncheck the box(es) next to those state(s).

If you are amending your registration to stop your notice filings or reports from going to a state that currently receives them and you do not want to pay that state's notice filing or report filing fee for the coming year, your amendment must be filed before the end of the year (December 31).

SECTION 2.A.(8) Related Adviser

If you are relying on the exemption in rule 203A-2(b) from the prohibition on registration because you control, are controlled by, or are under common control with an investment adviser that is registered with the SEC and your principal office and place of business is the same as that of the registered adviser, provide the following information:

Name of Registered Investment Adviser

CRD Number of Registered Investment Adviser

SEC Number of Registered Investment Adviser

SECTION 2.A.(9) Investment Adviser Expecting to be Eligible for Commission Registration within 120 Days

If you are relying on rule 203A-2(c), the exemption from the prohibition on registration available to an adviser that expects to be eligible for SEC registration within 120 days, you are required to make certain representations about your eligibility for SEC registration. By checking the appropriate boxes, you will be deemed to have made the required representations. You must make both of these representations:

☐ I am not registered or required to be registered with the SEC or a state securities authority and I have a reasonable expectation that I will be eligible to register with the SEC within 120 days after the date my registration with the SEC becomes effective.

☐ I undertake to withdraw from SEC registration if, on the 120th day after my registration with the SEC becomes effective, I would be prohibited by Section 203A(a) of the Advisers Act from registering with the SEC.

SECTION 2.A.(10) Multi-State Adviser

If you are relying on rule 203A-2(d), the multi-state adviser exemption from the prohibition on registration, you are required to make certain representations about your eligibility for SEC registration. By checking the appropriate boxes, you will be deemed to have made the required representations.

If you are applying for registration as an investment adviser with the SEC, you must make both of these representations:

☐ I have reviewed the applicable state and federal laws and have concluded that I am required by the laws of 15 or more states to register as an investment adviser with the state securities authorities in those states.

☐ I undertake to withdraw from SEC registration if I file an amendment to this registration indicating that I would be required by the laws of fewer than 15 states to register as an investment adviser with the state securities authorities of those states.

If you are submitting your annual updating amendment, you must make this representation:

☐ Within 90 days prior to the date of filing this amendment, I have reviewed the applicable state and federal laws and have concluded that I am required by the laws of at least 15 states to register as an investment adviser with the state securities authorities in those states.

SECTION 2.A.(11) Internet Adviser

If you are relying on rule 203A-2(e), the Internet adviser exemption from the prohibition on registration, you are required to make a representation about your eligibility for SEC registration. By checking the appropriate box, you will be deemed to have made the required representation.

If you are applying for registration as an investment adviser with the SEC or changing your existing Item 2 response regarding your eligibility for SEC registration, you must make this representation:

☐ I will provide investment advice on an ongoing basis to more than one client exclusively through an operational interactive website.

If you are filing an annual updating amendment to your existing registration and are continuing to rely on the Internet adviser exemption for SEC registration, you must make this representation:

☐ I have provided and will continue to provide investment advice on an ongoing basis to more than one client exclusively through an operational interactive website.

SECTION 2.A.(12) SEC Exemptive Order

If you are relying upon an SEC order exempting you from the prohibition on registration, provide the following information:

Application Number:

803-

Date of order:

Item 3 Form of Organization

If you are filing an umbrella registration, the information in Item 3 should be provided for the filing adviser only.

A. How are you organized?

- ○ Corporation
- ○ Sole Proprietorship
- ○ Limited Liability Partnership (LLP)
- ○ Partnership
- ◉ Limited Liability Company (LLC)
- ○ Limited Partnership (LP)
- ○ Other (specify):

If you are changing your response to this Item, see Part 1A Instruction 4.

B. In what month does your fiscal year end each year?
DECEMBER

C. Under the laws of what state or country are you organized?

State	Country
Delaware	United States

If you are a partnership, provide the name of the state or country under whose laws your partnership was formed. If you are a sole proprietor, provide the name of the state or country where you reside.

If you are changing your response to this Item, see Part 1A Instruction 4.

Item 4 Successions

	Yes	No
A. Are you, at the time of this filing, succeeding to the business of a registered investment adviser, including, for example, a change of your structure or legal status (e.g., form of organization or state of incorporation)?	○	◉

If "yes", complete Item 4.B. and Section 4 of Schedule D.

B. Date of Succession: (MM/DD/YYYY)

If you have already reported this succession on a previous Form ADV filing, do not report the succession again. Instead, check "No." See Part 1A Instruction 4.

SECTION 4 Successions

No Information Filed

Item 5 Information About Your Advisory Business - Employees, Clients, and Compensation

Responses to this Item help us understand your business, assist us in preparing for on-site examinations, and provide us with data we use when making regulatory policy. Part 1A Instruction 5.a. provides additional guidance to newly formed advisers for completing this Item 5.

Employees

If you are organized as a sole proprietorship, include yourself as an employee in your responses to Item 5.A. and Items 5.B.(1), (2), (3), (4), and (5). If an employee performs more than one function, you should count that employee in each of your responses to Items 5.B.(1), (2), (3), (4), and (5).

A. Approximately how many employees do you have? Include full- and part-time employees but do not include any clerical workers.

B. (1) Approximately how many of the employees reported in 5.A. perform investment advisory functions (including research)?

(2) Approximately how many of the employees reported in 5.A. are registered representatives of a broker-dealer?

(3) Approximately how many of the employees reported in 5.A. are registered with one or more state securities authorities as investment adviser representatives?

(4) Approximately how many of the employees reported in 5.A. are registered with one or more state securities authorities as investment adviser representatives for an investment adviser other than you?

(5) Approximately how many of the employees reported in 5.A. are licensed agents of an insurance company or agency?

(6) Approximately how many firms or other persons solicit advisory clients on your behalf?

In your response to Item 5.B.(6), do not count any of your employees and count a firm only once – do not count each of the firm's employees that solicit on your behalf.

Clients

In your responses to Items 5.C. and 5.D. do not include as "clients" the investors in a private fund you advise, unless you have a separate advisory relationship with those investors.

C. (1) To approximately how many clients for whom you do not have regulatory assets under management did you provide investment advisory services during your most recently completed fiscal year?

(2) Approximately what percentage of your clients are non-United States persons?

D. For purposes of this Item 5.D., the category "individuals" includes trusts, estates, and 401(k) plans and IRAs of individuals and their family members, but does not include businesses organized as sole proprietorships.
The category "business development companies" consists of companies that have made an election pursuant to section 54 of the Investment Company Act of 1940. Unless you provide advisory services pursuant to an investment advisory contract to an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, do not answer (1)(d) or (3)(d) below.

Indicate the approximate number of your clients and amount of your total regulatory assets under management (reported in Item 5.F. below) attributable to each of the following type of client. If you have fewer than 5 clients in a particular category (other than (d), (e), and (f)) you may check Item 5.D.(2) rather than respond to Item 5.D.(1).

The aggregate amount of regulatory assets under management reported in Item 5.D.(3) should equal the total amount of regulatory assets under management reported in Item 5.F.(2)(c) below.

If a client fits into more than one category, select one category that most accurately represents the client to avoid double counting clients and assets. If you advise a registered investment company, business development company, or pooled investment vehicle, report those assets in categories (d), (e), and (f) as applicable.

Type of Client	(1) Number of *Client(s)	(2) Fewer than 5 *Clients	(3) Amount of Regulatory Assets under Management

SECTION 5.K.(1) Separately Managed Accounts

After subtracting the amounts reported in Item 5.D.(3)(d)-(f) from your total regulatory assets under management, indicate the approximate percentage of this remaining amount attributable to each of the following categories of assets. If the remaining amount is at least $10 billion in regulatory assets under management, complete Question (a). If the remaining amount is less than $10 billion in regulatory assets under management, complete Question (b).

Any regulatory assets under management reported in Item 5.D.(3)(d), (e), and (f) should not be reported below.

If you are a subadviser to a separately managed account, you should only provide information with respect to the portion of the account that you subadvise.

End of year refers to the date used to calculate your regulatory assets under management for purposes of your annual updating amendment . Mid-year is the date six months before the end of year date. Each column should add up to 100% and numbers should be rounded to the nearest percent.

Investments in derivatives, registered investment companies, business development companies, and pooled investment vehicles should be reported in those categories. Do not report those investments based on related or underlying portfolio assets. Cash equivalents include bank deposits, certificates of deposit, bankers' acceptances and similar bank instruments.

Some assets could be classified into more than one category or require discretion about which category applies. You may use your own internal methodologies and the conventions of your service providers in determining how to categorize assets, so long as the methodologies or conventions are consistently applied and consistent with information you report internally and to current and prospective clients. However, you should not double count assets, and your responses must be consistent with any instructions or other guidance relating to this Section.

SECTION 5.K.(2) Separately Managed Accounts - Use of Borrowings and Derivatives

☑ No information is required to be reported in this Section 5.K.(2) per the instructions of this Section 5.K.(2)

If your regulatory assets under management attributable to separately managed accounts are at least $10 billion, you should complete Question (a). If your regulatory assets under management attributable to separately managed accounts are at least $500 million but less than $10 billion, you should complete Question (b).

(a) In the table below, provide the following information regarding the separately managed accounts you advise. If you are a subadviser to a separately managed account, you should only provide information with respect to the portion of the account that you subadvise. End of year refers to the date used to calculate your regulatory assets under management for purposes of your annual updating amendment. Mid-year is the date six months before the end of year date.

In column 1, indicate the regulatory assets under management attributable to separately managed accounts associated with each level of gross notional exposure. For purposes of this table, the gross notional exposure of an account is the percentage obtained by dividing (i) the sum of (a) the dollar amount of any borrowings and (b) the gross notional value of all derivatives, by (ii) the regulatory assets under management of the account.

In column 2, provide the dollar amount of borrowings for the accounts included in column 1.

In column 3, provide aggregate gross notional value of derivatives divided by the aggregate regulatory assets under management of the accounts included in column 1 with respect to each category of derivatives specified in 3(a) through (f).

You may, but are not required to, complete the table with respect to any separately managed account with regulatory assets under management of less than $10,000,000.

Any regulatory assets under management reported in Item 5.D.(3)(d), (e), and (f) should not be reported below.

(i) Mid-Year

Gross Notional Exposure	(1) Regulatory Assets Under Management	(2) Borrowings	(3) Derivative Exposures
			(a) Interest Rate Derivative	(b) Foreign Exchange Derivative	(c) Credit Derivative	(d) Equity Derivative	(e) Commodity Derivative	(f) Other Derivative

150% or more	$	$	%	%	%	%	%	%

Optional: Use the space below to provide a narrative description of the strategies and/or manner in which borrowings and derivatives are used in the management of the separately managed accounts that you advise.

(ii) End of Year

Gross Notional Exposure	(1) Regulatory Assets Under Management	(2) Borrowings	(3) Derivative Exposures
			(a) Interest Rate Derivative	(b) Foreign Exchange Derivative	(c) Credit Derivative	(d) Equity Derivative	(e) Commodity Derivative	(f) Other Derivative
Less than 10%	$	$	%	%	%	%	%	%
10-149%	$	$	%	%	%	%	%	%
150% or more	$	$	%	%	%	%	%	%

Optional: Use the space below to provide a narrative description of the strategies and/or manner in which borrowings and derivatives are used in the management of the separately managed accounts that you advise.

(b) In the table below, provide the following information regarding the separately managed accounts you advise as of the date used to calculate your regulatory assets under management for purposes of your annual updating amendment. If you are a subadviser to a separately managed account, you should only provide information with respect to the portion of the account that you subadvise.

In column 1, indicate the regulatory assets under management attributable to separately managed accounts associated with each level of gross notional exposure. For purposes of this table, the gross notional exposure of an account is the percentage obtained by dividing (i) the sum of (a) the dollar amount of any borrowings and (b) the gross notional value of all derivatives, by (ii) the regulatory assets under management of the account.

In column 2, provide the dollar amount of borrowings for the accounts included in column 1.

You may, but are not required to, complete the table with respect to any separately managed accounts with regulatory assets under management of less than $10,000,000.

Any regulatory assets under management reported in Item 5.D.(3)(d), (e), and (f) should not be reported below.

Gross Notional Exposure	(1) Regulatory Assets Under Management	(2) Borrowings
Less than 10%	$	$
10-149%	$	$
150% or more	$	$

Optional: Use the space below to provide a narrative description of the strategies and/or manner in which borrowings and derivatives are used in the management of the separately managed accounts that you advise.

- ☐ (12) accountant or accounting firm
- ☐ (13) lawyer or law firm
- ☐ (14) other financial product salesperson (specify):

If you engage in other business using a name that is different from the names reported in Items 1.A. or 1.B.(1), complete Section 6.A. of Schedule D.

		Yes	No
B. (1)	Are you actively engaged in any other business not listed in Item 6.A. (other than giving investment advice)?	○	◉
(2)	If yes, is this other business your primary business?	○	○

If "yes," describe this other business on Section 6.B.(2) of Schedule D, and if you engage in this business under a different name, provide that name.

		Yes	No
(3)	Do you sell products or provide services other than investment advice to your advisory clients?	○	◉

If "yes," describe this other business on Section 6.B.(3) of Schedule D, and if you engage in this business under a different name, provide that name.

SECTION 6.A. Names of Your Other Businesses

No Information Filed

SECTION 6.B.(2) Description of Primary Business

Describe your primary business (not your investment advisory business):

If you engage in that business under a different name, provide that name:

SECTION 6.B.(3) Description of Other Products and Services

Describe other products or services you sell to your client. You may omit products and services that you listed in Section 6.B.(2) above.

If you engage in that business under a different name, provide that name:

Item 7 Financial Industry Affiliations

In this Item, we request information about your financial industry affiliations and activities. This information identifies areas in which conflicts of interest may occur between you and your clients.

A. This part of Item 7 requires you to provide information about you and your related persons, including foreign affiliates. Your related persons are all of your advisory affiliates and any person that is under common control with you.

You have a related person that is a (check all that apply):

- ☐ (1) broker-dealer, municipal securities dealer, or government securities broker or dealer (registered or unregistered)
- ☐ (2) other investment adviser (including financial planners)
- ☐ (3) registered municipal advisor

Item 7 Private Fund Reporting

	Yes	No
B. Are you an adviser to any private fund?	◉	○

If "yes," then for each private fund that you advise, you must complete a Section 7.B.(1) of Schedule D, except in certain circumstances described in the next sentence and in Instruction 6 of the Instructions to Part 1A. If you are registered or applying for registration with the SEC or reporting as an SEC exempt reporting adviser, and another SEC-registered adviser or SEC exempt reporting adviser reports this information with respect to any such private fund in Section 7.B.(1) of Schedule D of its Form ADV (e.g., if you are a subadviser), do not complete Section 7.B.(1) of Schedule D with respect to that private fund. You must, instead, complete Section 7.B.(2) of Schedule D.

In either case, if you seek to preserve the anonymity of a private fund client by maintaining its identity in your books and records in numerical or alphabetical code, or similar designation, pursuant to rule 204-2(d), you may identify the private fund in Section 7.B.(1) or 7.B.(2) of Schedule D using the same code or designation in place of the fund's name.

4. Are your clients solicited to invest in this private fund?	○	◉

In answering this question, disregard feeder funds' investment in a master fund. For purposes of this question, in a master-feeder arrangement, one or more funds ("feeder funds") invest all or substantially all of their assets in a single fund ("master fund"). A fund would also be a "feeder fund" investing in a "master fund" for purposes of this question if it issued multiple classes (or series) of shares or interests, and each class (or series) invests substantially all of its assets in a single master fund.

Item 8 Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

In this Item, we request information about your participation and interest in your clients' transactions. This information identifies additional areas in which conflicts of interest may occur between you and your clients. Newly-formed advisers should base responses to these questions on the types of participation and interest that you expect to engage in during the next year.

Like Item 7, Item 8 requires you to provide information about you and your related persons, including foreign affiliates.

Proprietary Interest in Client Transactions

A. Do you or any related person:	Yes	No
(1) buy securities for yourself from advisory clients, or sell securities you own to advisory clients (principal transactions)?	○	◉
(2) buy or sell for yourself securities (other than shares of mutual funds) that you also recommend to advisory clients?	◉	○
(3) recommend securities (or other investment products) to advisory clients in which you or any related person has some other proprietary (ownership) interest (other than those mentioned in Items 8.A.(1) or (2))?	◉	○

Sales Interest in Client Transactions

B. Do you or any related person:	Yes	No
(1) as a broker-dealer or registered representative of a broker-dealer, execute securities trades for brokerage customers in which advisory client securities are sold to or bought from the brokerage customer (agency cross transactions)?	○	◉
(2) recommend to advisory clients, or act as a purchaser representative for advisory clients with respect to, the purchase of securities for which you or any related person serves as underwriter or general or managing partner?	◉	○
(3) recommend purchase or sale of securities to advisory clients for which you or any related person has any other sales interest (other than the receipt of sales commissions as a broker or registered representative of a broker-dealer)?	○	◉

Investment or Brokerage Discretion

C. Do you or any related person have discretionary authority to determine the:	Yes	No
(1) securities to be bought or sold for a client's account?	◉	○

(2) amount of securities to be bought or sold for a client's account? ◉ ○

(3) broker or dealer to be used for a purchase or sale of securities for a client's account? ◉ ○

(4) commission rates to be paid to a broker or dealer for a client's securities transactions? ◉ ○

D. If you answer "yes" to C.(3) above, are any of the brokers or dealers related persons? ○ ◉

E. Do you or any related person recommend brokers or dealers to clients? ◉ ○

F. If you answer "yes" to E. above, are any of the brokers or dealers related persons? ○ ◉

G. (1) Do you or any related person receive research or other products or services other than execution from a broker-dealer or a third party ("soft dollar benefits") in connection with client securities transactions? ◉ ○

(2) If "yes" to G.(1) above, are all the "soft dollar benefits" you or any related persons receive eligible "research or brokerage services" under section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934? ◉ ○

H. (1) Do you or any related person, directly or indirectly, compensate any person that is not an employee for client referrals? ○ ◉

(2) Do you or any related person, directly or indirectly, provide any employee compensation that is specifically related to obtaining clients for the firm (cash or non-cash compensation in addition to the employee's regular salary)? ○ ◉

I. Do you or any related person, including any employee, directly or indirectly, receive compensation from any person (other than you or any related person) for client referrals? ○ ◉

In your response to Item 8.I., do not include the regular salary you pay to an employee.

In responding to Items 8.H. and 8.I., consider all cash and non-cash compensation that you or a related person gave to (in answering Item 8.H.) or received from (in answering Item 8.I.) any person in exchange for client referrals, including any bonus that is based, at least in part, on the number or amount of client referrals.

Item 9 Custody

In this Item, we ask you whether you or a related person has custody of client (other than clients that are investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940) assets and about your custodial practices.

A. (1) Do you have custody of any advisory clients': Yes No

(a) cash or bank accounts? ◉ ○

(b) securities? ◉ ○

If you are registering or registered with the SEC, answer "No" to Item 9.A.(1)(a) and (b) if you have custody solely because (i) you deduct your advisory fees directly from your clients' accounts, or (ii) a related person has custody of client assets in connection with advisory services you provide to clients, but you have overcome the presumption that you are not operationally independent (pursuant to Advisers Act rule 206(4)-2(d)(5)) from the related person.

(2) If you checked "yes" to Item 9.A.(1)(a) or (b), what is the approximate amount of client funds and securities and total number of clients for which you have custody:

U.S. Dollar Amount	Total Number of Clients
(a) $ 153,649,022	(b) 3

If you are registering or registered with the SEC and you have custody solely because you deduct your advisory fees directly from your clients' accounts, do not include the amount of those assets and the number of those clients in your response to Item 9.A.(2). If your related person has custody of client assets in connection with advisory services you provide to clients, do not include the amount of those assets and number of those clients in your response to 9.A.(2). Instead, include that information in your response to Item 9.B.(2).

B. (1) In connection with advisory services you provide to clients, do any of your related persons have custody of any of your advisory clients': Yes No

(a) cash or bank accounts? ○ ◉

(b) securities? ○ ◉

You are required to answer this item regardless of how you answered Item 9.A.(1)(a) or (b).

(2) If you checked "yes" to Item 9.B.(1)(a) or (b), what is the approximate amount of client funds and securities and total number of clients for which your related persons have custody:

U.S. Dollar Amount	Total Number of Clients
(a) $	(b)

C. If you or your related persons have custody of client funds or securities in connection with advisory services you provide to clients, check all the following that apply:

(1) A qualified custodian(s) sends account statements at least quarterly to the investors in the pooled investment vehicle(s) you manage. ☐

(2) An independent public accountant audits annually the pooled investment vehicle(s) that you manage and the audited financial statements ☑ are distributed to the investors in the pools.

(3) An independent public accountant conducts an annual surprise examination of client funds and securities. ☐

(4) An independent public accountant prepares an internal control report with respect to custodial services when you or your related persons are qualified custodians for client funds and securities. ☐

If you checked Item 9.C.(2), C.(3) or C.(4), list in Section 9.C. of Schedule D the accountants that are engaged to perform the audit or examination or prepare an internal control report. (If you checked Item 9.C.(2), you do not have to list auditor information in Section 9.C. of Schedule D if you already provided this information with respect to the private funds you advise in Section 7.B.(1) of Schedule D).

		Yes	No
D.	Do you or your related person(s) act as qualified custodians for your clients in connection with advisory services you provide to clients?
	(1) you act as a qualified custodian	○	◉
	(2) your related person(s) act as qualified custodian(s)	○	◉

If you checked "yes" to Item 9.D.(2), all related persons that act as qualified custodians (other than any mutual fund transfer agent pursuant to rule 206(4)-2(b)(1)) must be identified in Section 7.A. of Schedule D, regardless of whether you have determined the related person to be operationally independent under rule 206(4)-2 of the Advisers Act.

E. If you are filing your annual updating amendment and you were subject to a surprise examination by an independent public accountant during your last fiscal year, provide the date (MM/YYYY) the examination commenced:

F. If you or your related persons have custody of client funds or securities, how many persons, including, but not limited to, you and your related persons, act as qualified custodians for your clients in connection with advisory services you provide to clients?

Item 11 Disclosure Information

In this Item, we ask for information about your disciplinary history and the disciplinary history of all your advisory affiliates. We use this information to determine whether to grant your application for registration, to decide whether to revoke your registration or to place limitations on your activities as an investment adviser, and to identify potential problem areas to focus on during our on-site examinations. One event may result in "yes" answers to more than one of the questions below. In accordance with General Instruction 5 to Form ADV, "you" and "your" include the filing adviser and all relying advisers under an umbrella registration.

Your advisory affiliates are: (1) all of your current employees (other than employees performing only clerical, administrative, support or similar functions); (2) all of your officers, partners, or directors (or any person performing similar functions); and (3) all persons directly or indirectly controlling you or controlled by you.

If you are a "separately identifiable department or division" (SID) of a bank, see the Glossary of Terms to determine who your advisory affiliates are.

If you are registered or registering with the SEC or if you are an exempt reporting adviser, you may limit your disclosure of any event listed in Item 11 to ten years following the date of the event. If you are registered or registering with a state, you must respond to the questions as posed; you may, therefore, limit your disclosure to ten years following the date of an event only in responding to Items 11.A.(1), 11.A.(2), 11.B.(1), 11.B.(2), 11.D.(4), and 11.H.(1)(a). For purposes of calculating this ten-year period, the date of an event is the date the final order, judgment, or decree was entered, or the date any rights of appeal from preliminary orders, judgments, or decrees lapsed.

You must complete the appropriate Disclosure Reporting Page ("DRP") for "yes" answers to the questions in this Item 11.

	Yes	No

Item 12 Small Businesses

The SEC is required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act to consider the effect of its regulations on small entities. In order to do this, we need to determine whether you meet the definition of "small business" or "small organization" under rule 0-7.

Answer this Item 12 only if you are registered or registering with the SEC and you indicated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) that you have regulatory assets under management of less than $25 million. You are not required to answer this Item 12 if you are filing for initial registration as a state adviser, amending a current state registration, or switching from SEC to state registration.

For purposes of this Item 12 only:

- Total Assets refers to the total assets of a firm, rather than the assets managed on behalf of clients. In determining your or another person's total assets, you may use the total assets shown on a current balance sheet (but use total assets reported on a consolidated balance sheet with subsidiaries included, if that amount is larger).
- Control means the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of a person, whether through ownership of securities, by contract, or otherwise. Any person that directly or indirectly has the right to vote 25 percent or more of the voting securities, or is entitled to 25 percent or more of the profits, of another person is presumed to control the other person.

	Yes	No
A. Did you have total assets of $5 million or more on the last day of your most recent fiscal year?	○	○
If "yes," you do not need to answer Items 12.B. and 12.C.
B. Do you:
(1) control another investment adviser that had regulatory assets under management (calculated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) of Form ADV) of $25 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?	○	○
(2) control another person (other than a natural person) that had total assets of $5 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?	○	○
C. Are you:
(1) controlled by or under common control with another investment adviser that had regulatory assets under management (calculated in response to Item 5.F.(2)(c) of Form ADV) of $25 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?	○	○
(2) controlled by or under common control with another person (other than a natural person) that had total assets of $5 million or more on the last day of its most recent fiscal year?	○	○

NON-RESIDENT INVESTMENT ADVISER EXECUTION PAGE

You must complete the following Execution Page to Form ADV. This execution page must be signed and attached to your initial submission of Form ADV to the SEC and all amendments.

1. Appointment of Agent for Service of Process

By signing this Form ADV Execution Page, you, the undersigned adviser, irrevocably appoint each of the Secretary of the SEC, and the Secretary of State or other legally designated officer, of any other state in which you are submitting a notice filing, as your agents to receive service, and agree that such persons may accept service on your behalf, of any notice, subpoena, summons, order instituting proceedings, demand for arbitration, or other process or papers, and you further agree that such service may be made by registered or certified mail, in any federal or state action, administrative proceeding or arbitration brought against you in any place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, if the action, proceeding or arbitration (a) arises out of any activity in connection with your investment advisory business that is subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, and (b) is founded, directly or indirectly, upon the provisions of: (i) the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, the Investment Company Act of 1940, or the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, or any rule or regulation under any of these acts, or (ii) the laws of any state in which you are submitting a notice filing.

2. Appointment and Consent: Effect on Partnerships

If you are organized as a partnership, this irrevocable power of attorney and consent to service of process will continue in effect if any partner withdraws from or is admitted to the partnership, provided that the admission or withdrawal does not create a new partnership. If the partnership dissolves, this irrevocable power of attorney and consent shall be in effect for any action brought against you or any of your former partners.

3. Non-Resident Investment Adviser Undertaking Regarding Books and Records

By signing this Form ADV, you also agree to provide, at your own expense, to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission at its principal office in Washington D.C., at any Regional or District Office of the Commission, or at any one of its offices in the United States, as specified by the Commission, correct, current, and complete copies of any or all records that you are required to maintain under Rule 204-2 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. This undertaking shall be binding upon you, your heirs, successors and assigns, and any person subject to your written irrevocable consents or powers of attorney or any of your general partners and managing agents.

Signature

I, the undersigned, sign this Form ADV on behalf of, and with the authority of, the non-resident investment adviser. EXHIBIT 17

AGREEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP

OF

RAND PE FUND I, L.P.

This Agreement of Limited Partnership (this "Agreement") of Rand PE Fund I, L.P., is entered into as of October 29, 2015 by and among: (i) Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (the "General Partner"), and (ii) John Honis (collectively with any individuals who may become limited partners of the Partnership in the future, the "Limited Partners"; and, collectively with the General Partner, the "Partners") pursuant to and in accordance with the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act (6 Del.C. § 17-101, et seq.), as amended from time to time (the "Act").

1. Name. The name of the partnership governed hereby is Rand PE Fund I, L.P. (the "Partnership").

2. Certificate of Limited Partnership. The General Partner filed a Certificate of Limited Partnership for the Partnership with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware on September 18, 2015, and the Partners shall take such further actions as shall be appropriate to comply with all requirements of law for the formation and operation of a limited partnership in the State of Delaware, and all other counties and states where the Partnership may elect to do business.

3. Purpose. The Partnership is formed for the object and purpose of, and the nature of the business to be conducted and promoted by the Partnership is, engaging in all lawful activities for which partnerships may be formed under the Act, including, without limitation of the foregoing, serving as a private insurance-dedicated investment fund.

4. Powers. The Partnership shall have the power to do any and all acts reasonably necessary, appropriate, proper, advisable, incidental or convenient to or for the furtherance of the purpose and business described herein and for the protection and benefit of the Partnership and shall have, without limitation, any and all of the powers that may be exercised on behalf of the Partnership by the General Partner pursuant to this Agreement.

5. Principal Business Office. The principal place of business and office of the Partnership shall be located at, and the Partnership's business shall be conducted from, such place or places as may hereafter be determined by the General Partner.

6. Registered Office. The address of the registered office of the Partnership in the State of Delaware is: c/o The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware 19801.

7. Registered Agent. The name and address of the registered agent of the Partnership for service of process on the Partnership in the State of Delaware is: The Corporation Trust Company, 1209 Orange Street, City of Wilmington, County of New Castle, Delaware 19801.

8. Term. The term of the Partnership commenced on the date of filing of the Certificate of Limited Partnership of the Partnership in accordance with the Act and shall continue until dissolution of the Partnership in accordance with Section 21 of this Agreement.

9. Limitation on Liabilities of Limited Partners. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement, the Limited Partners shall not be liable for any of the losses, debts or liabilities of the Partnership in excess of their respective capital contributions.

10. Capital Contributions. Each Partner is deemed admitted as a Partner of the Partnership upon his, her or its execution and delivery of this Agreement. The initial capital contributions of the Partners consist of the assets set forth on Schedule A attached hereto.

11. Additional Contributions. The Partners are not required to make additional capital contributions to the Partnership, beyond their initial contributions.

12. Capital Accounts. Separate capital accounts shall be maintained for each Partner on the books of the Partnership. Each capital account shall be adjusted to reflect such Partner's shares of allocations and distributions as provided in Section 13 of this Agreement, and any additional capital contributions to the Partnership or withdrawals of capital from the Partnership. Such capital accounts shall further be adjusted to conform to the Treasury Regulations under Section 704(b) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), as interpreted in good faith by the General Partner.

13. Allocations and Distributions.

(i) Allocations of Profit and Loss. All items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit shall be allocated among the Partners in accordance with their Percentage Interests (as indicated on Schedule A attached hereto).

(ii) Distributions. Distributions shall be made to the Partners at such times and in such amounts as may be determined in the sole discretion of the General Partner. Distributions shall be shared among the Partners in accordance with their Percentage Interests. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Partnership shall not make a distribution to the Partners on account of their interest in the Partnership if such distribution would violate Section 17-607 of the Act or other applicable law.

14. Management.

(i) The business and affairs of the Partnership shall be managed by the General Partner. Subject to the express limitations contained in any provision of this Agreement, the General Partner shall have complete and absolute control of the affairs and business of the Partnership, and shall possess all powers necessary, convenient or appropriate to carrying out the purposes and business of the Partnership, including, without limitation, doing all things and taking all actions necessary to carrying out the terms and provisions of this Agreement. The General Partner has the authority to bind the Partnership.

(ii) Subject to the rights and powers of the General Partner and the limitations thereon contained herein, the General Partner may delegate to any person any or all of its powers, rights and obligations under this Agreement and may appoint, contract or otherwise deal with any person to perform any acts or services for the Partnership as the General Partner may reasonably determine.

(iii) No Partner (other than the General Partner) shall participate in the management or control of the business of, or shall have any rights or powers with respect to, the Partnership except those expressly granted to it by the terms of this Agreement, or those conferred on it by law.

(iv) The General Partner shall remain general partner of the Partnership until the earliest to occur of its termination, dissolution or other inability to act in such capacity, at which time a majority in Percentage Interests of the Limited Partners shall appoint a successor general partner. Upon the termination, dissolution or other inability of such successor General Partner to act in such capacity, a successor general partner will be appointed by the designee of the General Partner.

15. Officers. The General Partner may, from time to time as it deems advisable, appoint officers of the Partnership (the "Officers") and assign in writing titles (including, without limitation, President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer) to any such person. Unless the General Partner decides otherwise, if the title is one commonly used for officers of a business corporation formed under the Delaware General Corporation Law, the assignment of such title shall constitute the delegation to such person of the authorities and duties that are normally associated with that office. Any delegation pursuant to this Section 15 may be revoked at any time by the General Partner.

16. Other Business. The Partners may engage in or possess an interest in other business ventures (unconnected with the Partnership) of every kind and description, independently or with others. The Partnership shall not have any rights in or to such independent ventures or the income or profits therefrom by virtue of this Agreement.

17. Liability of General Partner.

(i) None of the General Partner or the Officers shall be liable, responsible or accountable in damages to the Limited Partner or the Partnership for: (x) any act or omission on behalf of the Partnership performed or omitted to be taken by it in good faith and in a manner reasonably believed by it to be within the scope of the authority granted to it by this Agreement and in, or not opposed to, the best interests of the Partnership; provided that the General Partner is not guilty of gross negligence or willful misconduct, (y) any action or omission taken or suffered by any other Partner, or (z) any mistake, negligence, dishonesty or bad faith of any broker or other agent of the Partnership selected by the General Partner with reasonable care. To the extent that, at law or in equity, the General Partner has duties (including fiduciary duties) and liabilities relating thereto to the Partnership or to another Partner, the General Partner acting under this Agreement shall not be liable to the Partnership or such other Partner for its good faith reliance on the provisions of this Agreement. The provisions of this Agreement, to the extent that they expand or restrict the duties and liabilities of the General Partner otherwise existing at law or in equity, are agreed by the Partners to modify to that extent such other duties and liabilities of the General Partner. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the Partnership shall indemnify the General Partner against any loss, damage or expense (including amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in settlements, as fines and penalties and legal and other costs and expenses of investigation or defense) incurred by it by reason of any act or omission so performed or omitted by it (and not involving gross negligence or willful misconduct) and any such amount shall be paid by the Partnership to the extent assets are available, but the Limited Partner shall not have any personal liability to the General Partner or the Partnership on account of such loss, damage or expense.

(ii) The General Partner may consult with legal counsel, accountants and other professional experts selected by it and any act or omission suffered or taken by it on behalf of the Partnership or in furtherance of the interests of the Partnership in good faith in reliance upon and in accordance with the advice of such counsel, accountants or other professional experts shall be full justification for any such act or omission, and the General Partner shall be fully protected in so acting or omitting to act; provided that such counsel, accountants or other professional experts were selected with reasonable care.

(iii) To the fullest extent permitted by law, expenses incurred by the General Partner in defense or settlement of any claim that may, at the determination of the General Partner, be subject to a right of indemnification hereunder may be paid by the Partnership in advance of the final disposition thereof upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the General Partner to repay such amount to the Partnership if it shall be determined, by a court of competent jurisdiction pursuant to a final non-appealable judgment, order or decree, that the General Partner is not entitled to be indemnified hereunder.

18. Admission of Additional Partners. One (1) or more additional persons may be admitted to the Partnership as Partners with the written consent of the General Partner.

19. Dissolution of Partners. Subject to Section 21, the termination, dissolution, death, bankruptcy or adjudicated incompetency of a Partner shall not cause a dissolution of the Partnership, but the rights of such Partner to share in the allocations and distributions pursuant to the terms hereof and to assign his, her or its interest in the Partnership pursuant to the terms hereof shall, on the happening of such an event, devolve on his, her or its legal representative for the purpose of settling his estate or administering its property.

20. Assignments. A Partner may not transfer, assign, pledge or hypothecate, in whole or in part, his, her or its limited partnership interest without the prior written consent of the General Partner.

21. Dissolution.

(i) The Partnership shall dissolve, and its affairs shall be wound-up upon the first to occur of the following: (A) the written consent of the General Partner, (B) the death, disability, termination, dissolution, bankruptcy or withdrawal of the last remaining General Partner (subject to Section 14(iv)), and (C) the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under Section 17-802 of the Act.

(ii) In the event of dissolution, the Partnership shall conduct only such activities as are necessary to wind-up its affairs (including the sale of the assets of the Partnership in an orderly manner).

22. Tax Matters Partner. The General Partner shall be the tax matters partner within the meaning of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code. All expenses incurred by the tax matters partner in connection with its duties as tax matters partner shall be expenses of the Partnership.

23. Elections. The General Partner shall determine the accounting methods and conventions under the tax laws of any and all applicable jurisdictions as to the treatment of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit of the Partnership or any other method or procedure related to the preparation of such tax returns. The General Partner may cause the Partnership to make or refrain from making any and all elections permitted by such tax laws, and the General Partner shall not be liable for any consequences to any previously admitted or subsequently admitted Partners resulting from their making or failing to make any such elections.

24. Separability of Provisions. Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered separable and if for any reason any provision or provisions herein are determined to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal under any existing or future law, such invalidity, unenforceability or illegality shall not impair the operation of or affect those portions of this Agreement which are valid, enforceable and legal.

25. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original of this Agreement.

26. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement of the Partners with respect to the subject matter hereof and shall supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings and discussions with respect thereto.

27. Governing Law, Personal Jurisdiction and Venue. The parties acknowledge and agree that any claim, controversy, dispute or action relating in any way to this Agreement or the subject matter of this Agreement shall be governed solely by the laws of the State of Delaware, without regard to any conflict of laws doctrines. The parties irrevocably consent to and submit to being served with legal process issued from the state and federal courts located in the State of New York and irrevocably consent to the exclusive personal jurisdiction of the federal and state courts situated in the State of New York. The parties irrevocably waive any objections to the personal jurisdiction of these courts. The federal and state courts of the State of New York in New York County shall have sole and exclusive jurisdiction over any and all claims, controversies, disputes and actions which in any way relate to this Agreement or the subject matter of this Agreement. Any such claim, controversy, dispute or action must first be brought in the federal court of the State of New York in New York County, unless the federal courts do not have subject matter jurisdiction as a matter of law, in which case it must first be brought in the Commercial Division of the New York State Supreme Court in New York County (and can only proceed in New York County outside the Commercial Division if the Commercial Division rejects it). The parties also irrevocably waive any objections that these courts constitute an oppressive, unfair, or inconvenient forum and agree not to seek to change venue on these grounds or any other grounds.

28. Amendments. This Agreement may not be modified, altered, supplemented or amended except pursuant to a written agreement executed and delivered by the Partners.

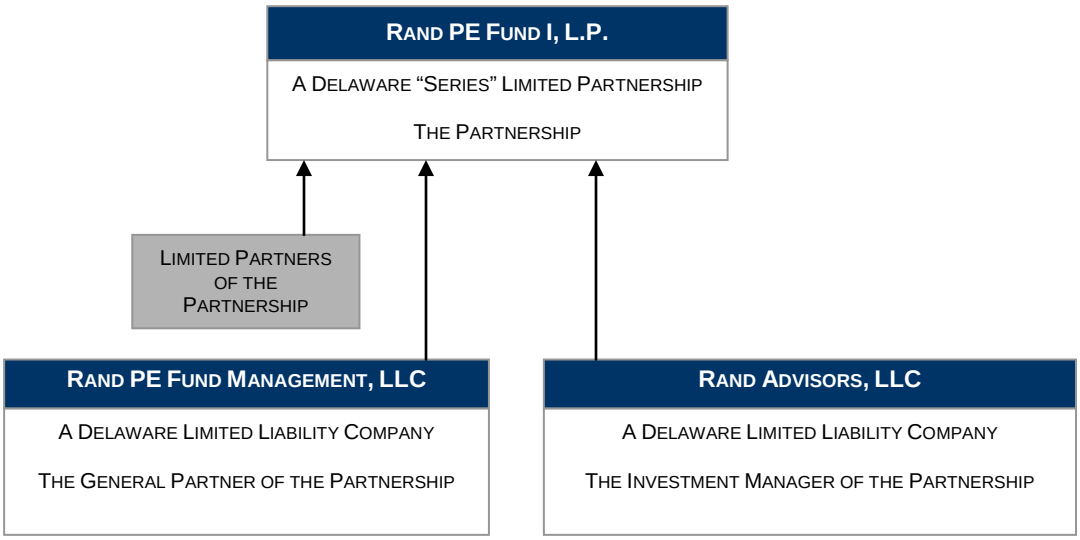
DESCRIPTION OF INTERESTS AND STRUCTURE

Rand PE Fund I, L.P. ("Partnership"), a "series" limited partnership organized under the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act, is offering limited partner interests in the Partnership ("Interests") in a private placement pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("Securities Act"), and Regulation D promulgated thereunder. The Partnership may offer Interests in separate Series (as defined and described herein). Only Series 1 Interests (as defined herein) are offered at this time pursuant to this Memorandum.

Only persons that are Accredited Investors (as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act), Qualified Clients (as defined in Rule 205-3 promulgated under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended ("Advisers Act")), and Qualified Purchasers (as defined under Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended ("Investment Company Act")) may purchase Interests. The Subscription Documents (as defined below) set forth in detail the definitions of Accredited Investor, Qualified Client and Qualified Purchaser.

The Partnership was formed to pool investment funds of its investors (each, a "Limited Partner" and, collectively, "Limited Partners"; and, together with the General Partner (as defined below), "Partners") for the purpose of investing and trading in a wide variety of securities, financial instruments and other assets and investments, including other investment vehicles, as more fully described herein.



Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("General Partner"), is the general partner of the Partnership and is responsible for the management of the Partnership's affairs.

Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Investment Manager"), is the investment manager of the Partnership and has discretionary investment authority over the Partnership's assets. The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). A copy of Part 2 of the Investment Manager's Form ADV is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

As the managing member and controlling person of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, John Honis controls all of the Partnership's operations and activities.

The minimum initial capital contribution that will be accepted from a new Limited Partner is $500,000. The minimum additional capital contribution that will be accepted from an existing Limited Partner is $500,000. In each case, the General Partner has discretion to accept lesser amounts. Generally, new Limited Partners will be admitted on the first day of each month, and withdrawals may be made on the last day of each calendar quarter upon 91 days' prior written notice, subject to certain restrictions as described herein (unless, in each case, the General Partner, in its sole discretion, permits subscriptions or withdrawals at another time).

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The Partnership's primary objective is to seek consistent above-average returns primarily through capital appreciation. The Investment Manager intends to invest the Partnership's portfolio in small- to medium-sized companies (i.e., generally with market capitalization of under $1 billion) that are involved in (or are the target of) acquisition attempts or tender offers, and/or in companies involved in work-outs, liquidations, spin-offs, reorganizations, bankruptcies or similar transactions. The Investment Manager intends to use a disciplined investment philosophy by combining thorough fundamental research and in-depth analysis of investment opportunities. The Partnership (x) is expected to initially invest all or substantially all of the assets attributable to Series 1 in the Highland Transaction (as defined herein), if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction. No assurance can be given, however, that the Investment Manager will achieve the Partnership's investment objective, and investment results may vary substantially over time and from period to period. See "INVESTMENT PROGRAM" herein for further details.

RISK FACTORS, CONFLICTS OF INTERESTS AND OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Before purchasing an Interest in the Partnership, you should carefully consider various risk factors and conflicts of interest, as well as suitability requirements, restrictions on transfers and withdrawals of Interests and various legal, tax and other considerations, all of which are discussed elsewhere in this Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (this "Memorandum").

IMPORTANT GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

You should not construe the contents of this Memorandum as legal, tax or investment advice and, if you acquire an Interest, you will be required to make a representation to that effect. You should review the proposed investment and the legal, tax and other consequences thereof with your own professional advisors. The purchase of an Interest involves certain risks and conflicts of interest among the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Partnership. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST". The General Partner reserves the right to refuse any subscription for any reason.

In making an investment decision, you must rely on your own examination of the Partnership and the terms of the offering of Interests, including the merits and risks involved. You and your representative(s), if any, are invited to ask questions and obtain additional information from the General Partner concerning the terms and conditions of the offering, the Partnership, and any other relevant matters to the extent that the General Partner possesses such information or can acquire it without unreasonable effort or expense.

Neither the SEC nor any state securities commission has passed upon the merits of participating in the Partnership, nor has the SEC or any state securities commission passed upon the adequacy or accuracy of this Memorandum. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense. The General Partner anticipates that: (i) the offer and sale of the Interests will be exempt from registration under the Securities Act and the various state securities laws; (ii) the Partnership will not be registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act, pursuant to an exemption provided by Section 3(c)(7) thereunder; and (iii) neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager will be registered as a commodity pool operator under the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended ("CEA"), based upon an exemption available under Rule 4.13(a)(3) thereunder. Consequently, you will not be entitled to certain protections afforded by those statutes.

The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the SEC. A copy of Part 2 of the Investment Manager's Form ADV is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

Pursuant to Rule 4.13(a)(3) of the CEA, each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is exempt from registration with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") as a commodity pool operator and therefore, unlike a registered commodity pool operator, it is not required to deliver a Disclosure Document (as such term is defined under CFTC rules) and a certified annual report to participants in the pool. The foregoing registration exemption is based on the Partnership's limited commodity trading activity and its undertaking that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions, determined at the time the most recent position was established, will not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Partnership's portfolio, after taking into account unrealized profits and losses on any such positions; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Partnership's commodity interest positions, determined at the time the most recent position was established, will not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Partnership's portfolio, after taking into account unrealized profits and losses on any such positions. Certain types of swaps are included in the definition of "commodity interests". These swaps include interest rate swaps, currency swaps, energy and metal swaps, agricultural swaps, swaps on broad-based indices, swaps on government securities and certain mixed swaps.

As a Limited Partner, you may withdraw from the Partnership and receive payment for your Interests, subject to certain restrictions, as specified in the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership (as the same may be amended and/or restated from time to time, the "Partnership Agreement"), a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

The offering of Interests is made only by delivery of a copy of this Memorandum to the person whose name appears hereon. The offering is made only to potential investors who are Accredited Investors, Qualified Clients and Qualified Purchasers. By accepting delivery of this Memorandum, you agree not to reproduce or divulge its contents, in whole or in part, and, if you do not purchase any Interests, to return this Memorandum and the exhibits attached hereto to the General Partner or the Partnership's administrator, a provider of administrative services ("Administrator"), as further set forth herein under "SERVICE PROVIDERS—Administrator".

Notwithstanding any provision in this Memorandum to the contrary, prospective Limited Partners (and their employees, representatives, and other agents) may disclose to any and all persons the U.S. federal income tax treatment and tax structure of the Interests offered hereby. For this purpose, "tax structure" is limited to facts relevant to the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Interests, and does not include information relating to the identity of the issuer, its affiliates, agents or advisors.

There is no public market for the Interests nor is any expected to develop. Even if such a market develops, no distribution, resale or transfer of an Interest will be permitted, except in accordance with the provisions of the Securities Act, the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, any applicable state securities laws and the terms and conditions of the Partnership Agreement. Any transfer of an Interest by a Limited Partner, public or private, will require the consent of the General Partner. Accordingly, if you purchase an Interest, you will be required to represent and warrant that you have read this Memorandum and are aware of and can afford the risks of an investment in the Partnership for an indefinite period of time. You will also be required to represent that you are acquiring the Interest for your own account, for investment purposes only, and not with any intention to resell or transfer all or any part of the Interest. This investment is suitable for you only if you have adequate means of providing for your current and future needs, have no need for liquidity in this investment and can afford to lose the entire amount of your investment.

Although this Memorandum contains summaries of certain terms of certain documents pertaining to the Partnership, you should refer to the actual documents (copies of which are attached hereto or are available from the General Partner or the Administrator) for complete information concerning the rights and obligations of the parties thereto. All such summaries are qualified in their entirety by the terms of the actual documents. No person has been authorized to make any representations or furnish any information with respect to the Partnership or the Interests, other than the representations and information set forth in this Memorandum or other documents or information furnished by the General Partner upon request, as described above.

Certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes "forward-looking statements", which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology, such as "may", "will", "seek", "should", "expect", "anticipate", "project", "estimate", "intend", "continue" or "believe" or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth under "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST", actual events or results or the actual performance of the Partnership may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

No rulings have been sought from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") with respect to any tax matters discussed in this Memorandum. You are cautioned that the views contained herein are subject to material qualifications and subject to possible changes in regulations by the IRS or by the U.S. Congress in existing tax statutes or in the interpretation of existing statutes and regulations.

The information contained herein is current only as of the date hereof and you should not, under any circumstances, assume that there has not been any change in the matters discussed herein since the date hereof.

SUMMARY OF OFFERING AND PARTNERSHIP TERMS

The following summary is qualified in its entirety by other information contained elsewhere in this Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (this "Memorandum") and by Amended and Restated the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership (as defined below) (as the same may be amended and/or restated from time to time, the "Partnership Agreement"), a copy of which is attached to this Memorandum as Exhibit A. You should read this entire Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement, carefully before making any investment decision regarding the Partnership and should pay particular attention to the information under the heading "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST". In addition, you should consult your own advisors in order to understand fully the consequences of an investment in the Partnership.

The Partnership

Rand PE Fund I, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership ("Partnership"), was formed to pool investment funds of its investors (each, a "Limited Partner" and, collectively, "Limited Partners"; and, together with the General Partner (as defined below), "Partners") for the purpose of investing and trading in a wide variety of securities, financial instruments and other assets and investments, including other investment vehicles, as more fully described herein.

The Partnership (x) is expected to initially invest all or substantially all of the assets attributable to Series 1 in all or substantially all of the non-voting limited partnership interests in Highland Capital Management, L.P. which the Partnership currently expects to acquire after the launch of its operations (such purchase or other acquisition, if any, collectively, the "Highland Transaction"), and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction.

See "INVESTMENT PROGRAM" and "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST—Conflicts of Interest—Certain Potential Conflicts Between the Principal and Highland Related to the Series 1 Interests" herein.

The Partnership may offer Interests in separate Series (as defined and described herein). Only Series 1 Interests (as defined herein) are offered at this time pursuant to this Memorandum.

Management

Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("General Partner"), is the general partner of the Partnership and is responsible for the management of the Partnership's affairs.

Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Investment Manager"), is the investment manager of the Partnership and has discretionary investment authority over the Partnership's assets. The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). A copy of Part 2 of the Investment Manager's Form ADV is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

As the managing member and controlling person of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, John Honis ("Principal") controls all of the Partnership's operations and activities. See "MANAGEMENT" for additional information.

Issuance of Interests in Multiple Series

The Interests will be offered in separate series ("Series"). The Partnership is currently offering one Series of Interests: "Series 1 Interests". Each Series of Interests will have separate rights and obligations. In addition, each Series of Interests may correspond to a separate portfolio of assets, which may have different investment objectives and strategies. The Partnership may issue additional Series of Interests in the future, which may have rights and obligations that differ from those of the Series 1 Interests with respect to any matters, including without limitation, fees, withdrawal rights, participation in Side Pocket Accounts (as defined herein) and other rights and terms. The terms of such additional Series will be determined by the General Partner, in its sole discretion.

Each Series shall have separate rights, powers and duties with respect to its investment portfolio and other property and obligations and the profits and losses associated with such portfolio, property and obligations. The Partnership will maintain separate and distinct records for each Series and shall hold and account for the assets and liabilities of such Series separately from other Series.

Under Delaware law, (i) the debts, liabilities and obligations incurred, contracted for or otherwise existing with respect to a particular Series shall be enforceable against the assets of such Series only, and not against the assets of any other Series, and (ii) none of the debts, liabilities and obligations incurred, contracted for or otherwise existing with respect to the Partnership generally or any other Series shall be enforceable against the assets of such Series.

Unless the context otherwise requires, Series 1 Interests and any other Series of Interests shall be collectively referred to throughout this Memorandum as the "Interests." As the context may require, the holders of Series 1 Interests may be referred to herein as "Series 1 Limited Partners". Series 1 Limited Partners and, to the extent applicable, all the Limited Partners of other Series shall be collectively referred to throughout this Memorandum as the "Limited Partners".

References herein to the Partnership shall include, where appropriate, each Series of the Partnership. The terms of the other Series may be set forth in an amended version of this Memorandum and/or in a separate supplement hereto.

The Offering

The Partnership is offering limited partner interests in the Partnership ("Interests") to persons who are Accredited Investors (as such term is defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("Securities Act")), Qualified Clients (as defined in Rule 205-3 promulgated under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended ("Advisers Act")), and Qualified Purchasers (as defined under Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended ("Investment Company Act")). Interests represent a percentage interest in the Partnership proportionate to the capital accounts of all Partners.

Marketing Fees and Sales Charges. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may sell Interests through broker-dealers and pay a marketing fee or commission in connection with such activities, including ongoing payments, at the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own expense. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may also deduct a percentage of the amount invested by a Limited Partner in the Partnership to pay sales fees or charges, on a fully disclosed basis, to a broker-dealer based upon the capital contribution of such Limited Partner introduced to the Partnership by such broker-dealer. Any such sales fees or charges would be assessed against the referred Limited Partner and would reduce the amount actually invested by such Limited Partner in the Partnership. If a Limited Partner is introduced to the Partnership through a broker-dealer that is not affiliated with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, the arrangement, if any, with such broker-dealer will be disclosed to, and acknowledged by, such Limited Partner. See "BROKERAGE PRACTICES—Referral of Investors and Sales Charges".

How to Subscribe

Attached as Exhibit B to this Memorandum are the subscription documents and instructions for subscribing ("Subscription Documents"). In order to subscribe for Interests, you must complete the Subscription Documents and return them to the Partnership's administrator, a provider of administrative services ("Administrator"), as further set forth herein under "SERVICE PROVIDERS—Administrator". You must pay 100% of your investment at the time you subscribe. Payment must be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the Partnership. To ensure compliance with applicable laws, regulations and other requirements relating to money laundering, the General Partner and/or the Administrator may require additional information to verify the identity of any person who subscribes for an Interest in the Partnership.

If the General Partner consents to a Limited Partner's contribution of securities (and/or other investments) to the Partnership, the Partnership may, in the General Partner's discretion, assess a special charge against such Limited Partner equal to the actual costs incurred by the Partnership in connection with accepting such contributed securities (and/or other investments), including the costs of liquidating, or otherwise adjusting the Partnership's portfolio to accommodate, such securities (and/or other investments). Such special charge will be assessed as of such dates deemed appropriate by the General Partner. Any investor who contributes securities (and/or other investments) in lieu of cash to the Partnership should consult with such person's counsel or advisors as to the tax effect of such contribution.

Eligible Investors and Suitability

In order to invest in the Partnership, you must meet certain minimum suitability requirements, including qualifying as an Accredited Investor under the Securities Act, a Qualified Client under the Advisers Act and a Qualified Purchaser under the Investment Company Act. The Subscription Documents set forth in detail the definitions of Accredited Investor, Qualified Client and Qualified Purchaser. You must check the appropriate places in the Subscription Documents to represent to the Partnership that you are an Accredited Investor, a Qualified Client and a Qualified Purchaser in order to be able to purchase Interests. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, can accept or reject any initial subscriptions from prospective Limited Partners and any additional capital contributions from existing Limited Partners for any reason or for no reason.

Entities subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), and other tax-exempt entities may purchase Interests. However, investment in the Partnership by such entities requires special consideration. Trustees or administrators of such entities should consult their own legal and tax advisors. The General Partner intends to use reasonable efforts to limit equity participation by "benefit plan investors" in the Partnership to less than 25% of the value of any class of Interests in the Partnership. See "ERISA CONSIDERATIONS" and "TAXATION—Tax-Exempt Investors".

Minimum Investment

The minimum initial capital contribution that will be accepted from a new Limited Partner is $500,000. The minimum additional capital contribution that will be accepted from an existing Limited Partner is $500,000. In each case, the General Partner has discretion to accept lesser amounts. Limited Partners are not required to make any additional capital contributions to the Partnership. There is no minimum or maximum aggregate amount of funds that must or may be contributed by all Partners to the Partnership.

Admission of Limited Partners

Capital contributions generally will be accepted as of the first day of each month, although the General Partner, in its sole discretion, has the right to admit new Limited Partners and to accept additional funds from existing Limited Partners at any time. Upon such admission or receipt of additional capital contributions, the Interests of the Partners will be readjusted in accordance with their capital accounts.

In connection with an additional capital contribution by an existing Limited Partner, the General Partner will: (i) treat such additional capital contribution as a capital contribution with respect to one of such Limited Partner's existing capital accounts, or (ii) establish a new capital account to which such capital contribution will be credited and which will be maintained for the benefit of such Limited Partner separately from any existing capital account of such Limited Partner. Such separate capital accounts may be maintained for any purpose, in the discretion of the General Partner.

Management Fee

The Partnership has entered into an investment management agreement (as the same may be amended and/or restated from time to time, the "Investment Management Agreement") by and among the Partnership and the Investment Manager. In consideration for services provided pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement, the Investment Manager will receive a quarterly management fee ("Management Fee"), equal to a percentage of each Limited Partner's share of the Partnership's Net Asset Value (as defined herein), and based on the Partnership's total Net Asset Value, as follows:

Partnership's Total Net Asset Value	Management Fee (per annum)
$0 - $99,999,999	0.5500%
$100,000,000 - $199,999,999	0.5000%

$200,000,000 - $249,999,999	0.4500%
$250,000,000 - $499,999,999	0.3500%
> $500,000,000	0.3400%

For the avoidance of doubt, the Management Fee calculated based on the foregoing schedule will be calculated on a "progressive" basis. For example, if the Partnership's Net Asset Value reaches $150,000,000, the initial $99,999,999 will always be charged a Management Fee of 0.55000% annually. The benefit of the declining Management Fee schedule above is intended to benefit all Limited Partners as each capital account will be charged a blended Management Fee based on the above schedule.

The Management Fee will be calculated and payable to the Investment Manager quarterly, in advance, as of the first day of each calendar quarter. A pro rata Management Fee will be charged to Limited Partners on any amounts accepted by the General Partner during a calendar quarter. No part of the Management Fee will be refunded in the event that a Limited Partner withdraws, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, all or any of the value in such Limited Partner's capital account during any calendar quarter. Management Fees will be payable with respect to the Interests of a Limited Partner in any Side Pocket Account (as defined below). For purposes of calculating the Management Fee with respect to Side Pocket Accounts, Illiquid Investments (as defined herein) will be carried at their fair value (which may be at, above or below cost) as determined by the Investment Manager.

With respect to any Limited Partner who has requested to withdraw all of its Interests from the Partnership, with the exception of any Interests maintained in a Side Pocket Account, the Partnership may reserve an amount from the withdrawing Limited Partner's withdrawal proceeds in order to cover the estimated accrued Management Fees and expenses attributable to the Limited Partner's Interests in the Side Pocket Account based on the Investment Manager's estimate of the time period that the Illiquid Investments held in the Side Pocket Account will remain in such Side Pocket Account (collectively, the "Management Fee Reserve"). The Management Fee Reserve will be treated as a liability of the Partnership, and the balance of the Management Fee Reserve, if any, will be paid to the withdrawing Limited Partner, without interest, upon such Limited Partner's complete withdrawal from the Side Pocket Account.

Expenses

Organizational and Initial Offering Expenses. The Partnership will pay or reimburse the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates (as defined herein) for all organizational and initial offering expenses of the Partnership, including, but not limited to, legal and accounting fees, printing and mailing expenses and government filing fees (including "blue sky" filing fees). The Partnership's organizational and initial offering expenses may be, for accounting purposes, capitalized and amortized by the Partnership for up to 60 months from the date the Partnership commences operations. Amortization of such expenses is a divergence from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). In certain circumstances, this divergence may result in a qualification of the Partnership's annual audited financial statements. In such instances, the Partnership may elect to: (i) avoid the qualification by recognizing the unamortized expenses, or (ii) make GAAP-conforming changes for financial reporting purposes, but capitalize and amortize expenses for purposes of calculating the Partnership's Net Asset Value (resulting in a divergence in fiscal year-end Net Asset Values reported in the Partnership's financial statements, and as otherwise applicable under the provisions of the Partnership Agreement). If the Partnership capitalizes and amortizes such expenses and is then terminated within 60 months of its commencement, any unamortized expenses will be recognized. If a Limited Partner makes a withdrawal prior to the end of the period during which the Partnership is capitalizing and amortizing expenses, the Partnership may, but is not required to, accelerate a proportionate share of the unamortized expenses based upon the amount being withdrawn and reduce withdrawal proceeds accordingly.

Operating Expenses. The Partnership will pay or reimburse the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates for: (i) all expenses incurred in connection with the ongoing offer and sale of Interests, including, but not limited to, printing of this Memorandum and exhibits, marketing expenses and documentation of performance and the admission of Limited Partners, (ii) all operating expenses of the Partnership, such as tax preparation fees, governmental fees and taxes, fees to the Administrator, costs of communications with Limited Partners, and ongoing legal, accounting, auditing, bookkeeping, consulting and other professional fees and expenses, (iii) all Partnership research, trading and investment-related costs and expenses (e.g., brokerage commissions, research fees, margin interest, expenses related to short sales, custodial fees, bank service fees, and clearing and settlement charges), (iv) technology-related costs and expenses, including, but not limited to, software licenses, data feeds and colocation expenses, (v) all expenses related to attending any conference or seminar related to alternative investments (e.g., registration, transportation, accommodation or meal expenses), (vi) regulatory and other filing fees and expenses, (vii) travel expenses related to meeting with management teams, or related to any of the other categories of expenses set forth herein, (viii) any costs and expenses incurred by the Partnership in connection with converting from a stand-alone fund into a "feeder fund" as part of a master-feeder structure, (ix) director and officer liability insurance or other insurance premiums for any principal or employee of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates, (x) all fees and other expenses incurred in connection with the investigation, prosecution or defense of any claims, assertion of rights or pursuit of remedies, by or against the Partnership, including, without limitation, professional and other advisory and consulting expenses, and (xi) any and all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the dissolution, winding up, or termination of the Partnership.

Each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates, in its sole discretion, may from time to time pay for any of the foregoing Partnership expenses. Any such person may elect to be reimbursed for such expenses, or to waive its right to reimbursement for any such expenses, as well as terminate any such voluntary payment or waiver of reimbursement.

Allocation of Expenses Among Series. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager will allocate all expenses attributable to the Partnership among the Series on a pro rata basis or otherwise in their reasonable discretion.

General Partner's and Investment Manager's Expenses. The General Partner and the Investment Manager will pay their own general operating and overhead expenses associated with providing the management and investment management services required under the Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement, respectively. These expenses include all expenses incurred by the General Partner and the Investment Manager in providing for their normal operating overhead, including, but not limited to, the cost of providing relevant support and administrative services (e.g., employee compensation and benefits, rent, office equipment, computer systems, insurance (other than as expressly set forth above), utilities, telephone, secretarial and bookkeeping services, etc.), but not including any Partnership operating expenses described above.

The General Partner and the Investment Manager may use "soft dollar" commissions or rebates by brokerage firms of commissions generated by the Partnership's brokerage transactions executed through those firms to pay for certain brokerage and research products and services that fall within the safe harbor under Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act"), as further described herein. See "BROKERAGE PRACTICES—Soft Dollar Arrangements".

Withdrawals

Limited Partner Withdrawals Generally. Subject to certain restrictions described herein, each Limited Partner may withdraw a minimum of $100,000 as of the last day of each calendar quarter and at such other times as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion (each such date, a "Withdrawal Date"), upon at least 91 days' prior written notice to the Administrator, with a copy to the General Partner. Unless the General Partner consents, partial withdrawals may not be made if they would reduce a Limited Partner's capital account balance below $500,000. All withdrawals will be deemed made prior to the commencement of the following calendar quarter (or other relevant period).

If the General Partner, in its sole discretion, permits a Limited Partner to withdraw capital other than on a regularly scheduled Withdrawal Date, the General Partner may impose an administrative fee to cover the actual legal, accounting, administrative, brokerage, and any other costs and expenses associated with such withdrawal. Such fee will be payable to the relevant Series of the Partnership and will be deducted from the withdrawal proceeds of the withdrawing Limited Partner as of such Withdrawal Date.

Ability to Withdraw Is Not Guaranteed. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner cannot guarantee that the assets of the Partnership will be invested in a manner which would allow the General Partner to satisfy withdrawal requests. The General Partner may, in its sole discretion: (i) defer withdrawal requests until the Partnership's assets mature or are liquidated in due course, (ii) elect to purchase with its own funds the Interests of the withdrawing Partner, or (iii) borrow from a third party or draw from a line of credit, subject to availability and other factors, in order to fund any withdrawal.

Payments with Respect to Withdrawals; Applicable on a Series-by-Series Basis. A Limited Partner who requests any withdrawal of capital that constitutes, together with prior withdrawals within any fiscal year, less than 90% of the value of such Limited Partner's capital account (excluding any amounts held in any Side Pocket Accounts) will be paid within 90 days after the applicable Withdrawal Date. In the event that a Limited Partner requests a withdrawal of capital that constitutes, together with prior withdrawals within any fiscal year, 90% or more of the value of such Limited Partner's capital account (excluding any amounts held in any Side Pocket Accounts), the General Partner may reduce the amounts paid after any Withdrawal Date so that they constitute, in the aggregate during such fiscal year, 90% of an amount estimated by the General Partner to be the amount to which the withdrawing Limited Partner is entitled in the aggregate (calculated on the basis of unaudited data); such amount will be paid within 90 days after the applicable Withdrawal Date. The balance of the amount payable upon such withdrawal will be paid, without interest, within 90 days after completion of the audited financial statements for the fiscal year in which the withdrawal occurs. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, agree to pay up to the full capital account balance (calculated on the basis of unaudited data) to a withdrawing Limited Partner within 90 days after the applicable Withdrawal Date, subject to adjustment based on audited financial statements. To the extent that the sum previously paid to a withdrawing Limited Partner is calculated to have exceeded the amount to which it is entitled, that Limited Partner shall be required to repay to the Partnership the balance.

Upon withdrawal of all of the capital in its capital account (excluding for purposes hereof, any remaining investments held in a Side Pocket Account), a Limited Partner will be deemed to have withdrawn from the Partnership or the relevant Series, and upon notice of such withdrawal, a Limited Partner will not be entitled to exercise any voting rights afforded to Limited Partners under the Partnership Agreement.

The Partnership or the relevant Series has the right to pay cash or in-kind, or a combination of both, to a Limited Partner that makes a withdrawal from such Limited Partner's capital account.

Limitations on Withdrawals. The Partnership or a Series may suspend (or postpone) withdrawals, subscriptions, calculations of Net Asset Value and/or payments upon any withdrawals (in whole or in part) from capital accounts: (i) during the existence of any state of affairs which, in the opinion of the General Partner, makes the disposition of the Partnership's investments impractical or prejudicial to the Partners, or where such state of affairs, in the opinion of the General Partner, makes the determination of the price or value of the Partnership's investments impractical or prejudicial to the Partners; (ii) where any such withdrawals, subscriptions, calculations and/or payments, in the opinion of the General Partner, would result in the violation of any applicable law or regulation; (iii) if the General Partner determines, in its sole discretion, that such suspension or postponement is prudent in order to prevent the Partnership from being subject to adverse tax or regulatory implications; or (iv) for such other reasons or for such other periods as the General Partner may prudently and in good faith determine.

All Limited Partners will be notified in writing of any such suspension or postponement and the termination thereof. Following any suspension or postponement of withdrawals, a withdrawal request made by a Limited Partner prior to such suspension or postponement will be effected as of the first Withdrawal Date following the recommencement of withdrawals.

Required Withdrawals. The General Partner may, in its sole discretion, require a Limited Partner to withdraw any or all of the value of such Limited Partner's capital accounts on at least five days' notice for any reason or no reason; provided, however, that the General Partner may require such a withdrawal on less (or no) notice in order to comply with any laws and regulations applicable to the Partnership and/or its affiliates.

Side Pocket Accounts. A Limited Partner may not withdraw any of the amounts in its capital account that are attributable to the value of an Illiquid Investment held in a Side Pocket Account until such time that such Illiquid Investment (or the sales proceeds thereof) is reallocated to such Limited Partner's capital account. At the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, an Illiquid Investment may be held in a Side Pocket Account until the occurrence of a Realization Event (as defined below). For the avoidance of doubt, any investment made by Series 1 into the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely.

Reserves. All withdrawals shall be subject to the General Partner's power to establish such reserves for the Partnership or a Series as the General Partner shall, in its sole but reasonable discretion, deem appropriate to pay current and future, definite, contingent and possible obligations of the Partnership or a Series (even if such reserves are not in accordance with GAAP), including estimated expenses in connection therewith, which could reduce the amount of a distribution upon withdrawal. See "—Management Fee" for more information on the Management Fee Reserve.

Waiver. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may waive or modify any of the terms relating to withdrawals, including, without limitation, minimum amounts and notice periods, for all or any of the Limited Partners in its discretion without notice to the other Limited Partners.

Withdrawals, Resignation and Transfers by General Partner and its Affiliates

Each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or any Investment Manager Affiliate may withdraw all or any of the value in its respective capital account at any time, from time to time, without the consent of the Limited Partners and without notice to any of the Limited Partners. The General Partner may resign as the general partner of the Partnership upon 30 days' prior written notice to the Limited Partners. Upon such resignation of the General Partner, or upon its bankruptcy or dissolution, the remaining Limited Partners have the right to appoint a substitute general partner; otherwise, the Partnership will be dissolved pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Partnership Agreement. The Partnership Agreement permits the General Partner to appoint additional general partners and to transfer its general partner interest to an affiliate of the General Partner without the consent of Limited Partners.

Leverage

The Investment Manager may cause the Partnership to undertake leverage. Leverage may take a variety of forms, including, but not limited to, the following: long-term loans, convertible notes and repurchase arrangements. Leverage arrangements used by the Partnership when financing is contingent on the market value of the financed assets may include those which may be subject to mark-to-market collateral or margin calls. See "INVESTMENT PROGRAM" and "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein.

Determination of Net Asset Value

The net asset value ("Net Asset Value") of the Partnership, on a Series-by-Series basis, is determined in accordance with the Partnership Agreement and is generally equal to the amount by which the value of the Partnership's assets exceeds the amount of its liabilities. Net Asset Value calculations will be made by the Administrator (based on the information provided by the Investment Manager) on an accrual basis of accounting, as of the end of each calendar month (or other period, as the case may be), in accordance with GAAP, consistently applied (except that: (x) organizational and initial offering expenses of the Partnership may be capitalized and amortized over a period of up to 60 months from the date the Partnership commences operations, and (y) reserves may be taken that are inconsistent with GAAP), this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement.

In making such determinations, securities, commodities and other financial instruments (other than options) that are listed on a national securities, commodities or other exchange, or over-the-counter instruments listed on NASDAQ, will be valued at their last sales prices on such date or, if no sales occurred on such date, at the midpoint between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such securities, commodities or financial instruments on such date. Options that are listed on a securities or commodities exchange will be valued at their last sales prices on the date of determination on the largest securities or commodities exchange (by trading volume) on which such options shall have traded on such date; provided that, if the last sales prices of such options do not fall between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such options on such date, then such options will be valued at the midpoint between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such options on such date. Securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments that are not listed on an exchange or quoted on an over-the-counter market, but for which there are available quotations, will be valued based upon quotations obtained from market makers, dealers or pricing services.

The Investment Manager intends to engage an independent third-party valuation agent (in addition to the Administrator) to appraise the Partnership's interests in Illiquid Investments.

If the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, determines that the valuation of any security, commodity, option or other financial instrument pursuant to the foregoing does not fairly represent its market value, the Investment Manager will value such security, commodity, option or other financial instrument as it reasonably determines. Any securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments that have no public market, investments in other asset classes (including those in Side Pocket Accounts), and all other assets of the Partnership for which a valuation methodology is not specified, will be valued by the Investment Manager in a manner determined in good faith to reflect their fair market value. Absent bad faith or manifest error, all Net Asset Value determinations pursuant to the Partnership Agreement are conclusive and binding as to all Partners.

Allocation of Profit and Loss

To determine how the economic gains and losses of the Partnership will be shared, the Partnership Agreement allocates net income or loss (increases and decreases in Net Asset Value) to each Partner's capital account. Net income or loss includes all portfolio gains and losses, whether realized or unrealized, plus all other Partnership items of income (such as interest) and less all Partnership expenses. Generally, net income and net loss for each month (or other period, as the case may be) will be allocated to the Partners in proportion to their capital account balances as of the start of such month (or such other period). Net income and net losses in any Side Pocket Accounts or other memorandum accounts will be allocated to those Partners participating in such accounts in proportion to their capital account balances in such accounts. All matters concerning the allocation of profits, gains and losses among the parties (including the taxes thereon) and accounting procedures not expressly provided for by the terms of the Partnership Agreement will be determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. Capital account balances will reflect capital contributions, previous allocations of increases and decreases in Net Asset Value, withdrawals, distributions (if any), and expenses. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing provisions will apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

Allocation of Taxable Income and Loss

For income tax purposes, all items of taxable income, gain, loss, deduction and credit will be allocated among the Partners at the end of each fiscal year in a manner consistent with their economic interests in the Partnership. In light of the fact that the Partnership does not intend to make distributions, to the extent that the Partnership's investment activities are successful, Limited Partners should expect to receive allocations of income and loss, and may incur tax liabilities from an investment in the Partnership without receiving cash distributions from the Partnership with which to pay those liabilities. To obtain cash from the Partnership to pay taxes, if any, Limited Partners may be required to make withdrawals, subject to the limitations in the Partnership Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing provisions will apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

Side Pocket Accounts

The Investment Manager may designate that certain investments held by a Series of the Partnership be carried in one or more separate memorandum accounts (each, a "Side Pocket Account") for such period of time as the Investment Manager determines. Such investments may include: (i) privately placed, unregistered securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments, or those investments that, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, do not have a readily ascertainable market value; (ii) other illiquid securities that may be valued but are not freely transferable; and (iii) investments in other asset classes (such as real estate) and other property that are not traded on public exchanges (each, as designated by the Investment Manager, along with follow-on investments, if any, an "Illiquid Investment"). Additionally, the Investment Manager, in its sole and absolute discretion, may determine that, for various reasons, an asset that initially was not an Illiquid Investment should be categorized as an Illiquid Investment, or that a follow-on investment should be categorized as a new Illiquid Investment. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) there will be no limitation on the percentage of the Partnership's portfolio that may be carried in Side Pocket Accounts; and (ii) any investment made by Series 1 into the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely. Illiquid Investments held in a Side Pocket Account will be carried at their fair value (which may be at, above or below cost) as determined by the Investment Manager.

At the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, an Illiquid Investment may be held in a Side Pocket Account until the occurrence of a Realization Event. Upon a Realization Event, such Illiquid Investment (or the sales proceeds thereof) will be reallocated, pro rata, from the Side Pocket Account to the capital accounts of participating Partners in accordance with their respective interests in such Side Pocket Account. Until such reallocation, a Limited Partner may not withdraw any of the amounts in its capital account that are attributable to the value of Illiquid Investments held in a Side Pocket Account. Upon such reallocation, a Limited Partner that has withdrawn all of its capital from the Partnership other than the capital attributable to such Side Pocket Account will receive an amount equal to its interest in such Side Pocket Account (net of any accrued Management Fee and accrued expenses (to the extent not covered by the Partnership's reserves, including the Management Fee Reserve) with respect thereto), within 90 days after such reallocation. For the avoidance of doubt, any investment made by Series 1 into the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely.

A "Realization Event" occurs: (1) when an Illiquid Investment becomes liquid, as determined in the reasonable discretion of the Investment Manager; (2) when an Illiquid Investment is sold or otherwise disposed of by the Partnership; (3) when circumstances otherwise exist that, in the reasonable judgment of the Investment Manager, conclusively establish a value for an Illiquid Investment, as determined in the reasonable discretion of the Investment Manager (including, without limitation, when additional securities substantially similar to the Illiquid Investment have been issued by the issuer of the Illiquid Investment); or (4) as otherwise determined in the sole discretion of the Investment Manager.

Newly-admitted Limited Partners may not participate in Illiquid Investments that were placed in a Side Pocket Account prior to their admission. Any expenses relating specifically to a Side Pocket Account will be charged to the Partners participating in such account. If the Investment Manager in its discretion designates any investment as a follow-on investment to an existing Illiquid Investment, only the Partners participating in such original investment will participate in such follow-on investment in proportion to their interest in the related Side Pocket Account; provided, however, that, if a Partner shall have withdrawn from the Partnership, the General Partner will equitably adjust the interests of the remaining participating Partners to reflect such withdrawn Partner's non-participation in the follow-on investment.

Also see "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST—Conflicts of Interest" herein.

New Issues Accounts; Other Memorandum Accounts

From time to time, the Partnership may purchase securities that are part of a public distribution. Under rules adopted by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"), (i) certain persons engaged in the securities, banking or financial services industries (and members of their immediate families) and (ii) certain persons who are affiliated with companies that are current, former or prospective investment banking clients of the Partnership's broker(s) (collectively, "Restricted Persons") are restricted from participating in initial public offerings of equity securities ("New Issues"), each subject to a de minimis exemption. To the extent necessary to comply with FINRA rules, in addition to the Partnership's regular accounts and any Side Pocket Accounts, the General Partner may establish one or more memorandum accounts that are authorized to participate in New Issues (each, a "New Issues Account"). Participation in New Issues Accounts will be limited to (i) those Limited Partners who are not Restricted Persons, and (ii) those Limited Partners who are Restricted Persons, but only to the extent that such participation by Restricted Persons does not exceed levels permitted under applicable FINRA rules.

In addition, as a matter of fairness to Partners that do not participate in New Issues, a use-of-funds charge may be debited to the capital accounts of those Partners that do participate in New Issues and credited to the capital accounts of all the Partners. The General Partner may calculate such charge, in its discretion, in any manner consistent with applicable FINRA rules, including, debiting amounts equal to interest, (i) on the funds used to purchase the New Issues at the annual rate being paid by the Partnership, or (ii) that would be paid by the Partnership on borrowed funds during the applicable period.

Upon the sale or other disposition of New Issues (including any transfer of the underlying securities in the New Issues Account to the capital accounts of all of the Partners, after such securities no longer constitute New Issues), any profits or losses resulting from securities transactions in the New Issues Account in any fiscal period will be credited or debited to the capital accounts of Limited Partners participating in the New Issues Account in accordance with their interests therein. Accordingly, the returns to Limited Partners on their investments in the Partnership may differ depending upon whether or not they are a Restricted Person.

In addition to the foregoing with respect to Side Pocket Accounts and New Issues Accounts, to the extent that certain Limited Partners are restricted from participating in any other transactions of the Partnership by applicable laws or regulations, or for any other reason determined by the General Partner in good faith, the General Partner may, in its discretion, establish one or more separate memorandum accounts to hold such investments and isolate ownership away from such restricted Limited Partners. Only those Limited Partners who the General Partner determines are eligible will participate in such accounts.

Side Letters

The Partnership, the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may from time to time enter into side letters or other similar agreements (collectively, "Side Letters") with one or more Limited Partners that provide such Limited Partner(s) with additional and/or different rights (including, without limitation, with respect to access to information, minimum investment amounts and liquidity terms) than such Limited Partner(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement. Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager will be required to notify any or all of the other Limited Partners of any such Side Letters or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the General Partner or the Investment Manager be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other Limited Partners.

Reports to Limited Partners

Each Limited Partner will receive the following, with respect to the relevant Series: (i) annual financial statements of the Partnership audited by an independent certified public accounting firm; (ii) quarterly unaudited performance information; (iii) copies of such Limited Partner's Schedule K-1 to the Partnership's tax returns; and (iv) other periodic reports or letters as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. The financial statements of the Partnership will be prepared in accordance with GAAP (except to the extent that this Memorandum or the Partnership Agreement states or contemplates that such statements may be inconsistent with GAAP).

The General Partner may at any time choose to change the Partnership's accounting guidelines from GAAP to the International Financial Reporting Standard ("IFRS"). In such event, the financial performance of the Partnership, as determined under IFRS, may vary from those determined under GAAP.

The Partnership will bear all fees incurred in providing such tax returns and reports.

The General Partner may agree to provide certain Limited Partners with additional information on the underlying investments of the Partnership, which may affect investment and withdrawal decisions, as well as heightened access to the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective employees for relevant information.

Transferability of Interests

As a Limited Partner, you may not assign or transfer your Interest (except by operation of law) without the consent of the General Partner, which consent may be given or withheld in its sole discretion. No transfer of an Interest by a Limited Partner will be permitted if it would result in the termination of the Partnership for federal income tax purposes. Transfers of Interests are subject to other restrictions set forth in the Partnership Agreement, including compliance with ERISA and federal and state securities laws.

Due to these limitations on transferability, Limited Partners may be required to hold their Interests indefinitely, unless they withdraw from the Partnership in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Partnership Agreement.

Distributions; Distributions Upon Termination of the Partnership

The Partnership does not expect to make any distributions to Limited Partners from profits or capital, except pursuant to requests for withdrawals and upon termination of the Partnership or the relevant Series. Upon the termination of the Partnership (as further described in the Partnership Agreement), the assets of the Partnership or the relevant Series will be liquidated (or distributed) and the proceeds of liquidation will be used to pay off known liabilities, establish reserves for contingent liabilities and expenses of liquidation (even if such reserves are not in accordance with GAAP), and any remaining balance will be applied and distributed in proportion to the respective capital accounts of the Partners. The Partnership or the relevant Series may satisfy any distributions to Limited Partners in cash, in-kind or any combination thereof. Additionally, the General Partner may create a liquidating fund entity (e.g., a liquidating trust or similar vehicle) and may transfer all or a portion of the Partnership's assets to such entity for any reason, including an orderly liquidation of any illiquid Partnership or Series assets, including, but not limited to Side Pocket Accounts, and may distribute ownership interests in such entity to Limited Partners.

The termination of the Partnership shall constitute the termination of all Series. For the avoidance of doubt, the termination of an individual Series, however, shall not constitute the termination of the Partnership.

Bank Holding Companies

Limited Partners that are Bank Holding Companies ("BHC Limited Partners") (as defined by Section 2(a) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended ("BHCA")) are limited to 4.99% of the voting Interest in the Partnership under Section 4(c)(6) of the BHCA. The portion of the Interest in the Partnership held by a BHC Limited Partner in excess of 4.99% of the aggregate outstanding voting Interests of all Limited Partners will be deemed non-voting Interests in the Partnership. BHC Limited Partners holding non-voting Interests in the Partnership are permitted to vote such Interests (i) on any proposal to dissolve or continue the business of the Partnership under the Partnership Agreement and (ii) on matters with respect to which voting rights are not considered to be "voting securities" under 12 C.F.R. § 225.2(q)(2), including such matters which may "significantly and adversely" affect a BHC Limited Partner (such as amendments to the Partnership Agreement or modifications of the terms of its Interest). For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis. Except with regard to restrictions on voting, non-voting Interests are identical to all other Interests held by Limited Partners.

Voting Rights and Amendments

The voting rights of Limited Partners are very limited. Other than as explicitly set forth in the Partnership Agreement, Limited Partners have no voting rights as to the Partnership or its management. Generally, the Partnership Agreement may be amended only with the consent of the General Partner and Limited Partners owning more than 50% of all of the outstanding Interests of each Series; provided that: (x) for matters only relating to one Series, only the Limited Partners of that Series will vote on such matters, and (y) that the General Partner may amend the Partnership Agreement without the consent of or notice to any of the Limited Partners if, in the opinion of the General Partner, the amendment does not materially adversely affect any Limited Partner.

Liability of Limited Partners

No Limited Partner shall be personally liable or bound for the expenses, liabilities or obligations of the Partnership or the relevant Series beyond the amount in such Limited Partner's capital account in the relevant Series, from time to time, including any amounts thereof attributable to capital contributions, except that such Limited Partner may be obligated to return all or a portion of any distributions (including withdrawal proceeds) received from the Partnership or the relevant Series in an amount up to its aggregate capital contributions (including any income or gains thereon) to the Partnership or the relevant Series in order to pay such Limited Partner's pro rata share of any Partnership or Series liabilities that arose while such Limited Partner held Interests. Subject to the foregoing, no Limited Partner shall be obligated to provide any contributions to the Partnership or the relevant Series, other than its initial capital contribution. No Limited Partner shall be obligated to make any loan to the Partnership or a Series.

Under the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act ("Delaware Act"), when a Limited Partner receives a return of all or any part of such Limited Partner's capital contribution, the Limited Partner may be liable to the Partnership or a Series for any sum, not in excess of such return of capital (together with interest), if at the time of such distribution the Limited Partner knew that the Partnership or the relevant Series was prohibited from making such distribution pursuant to the Delaware Act.

Brokerage Practices

Portfolio transactions for the Partnership will be allocated by the Investment Manager to brokers on the basis of best execution and in consideration of, among other factors, such brokers' ability to effect transactions, operational efficiency, reputation and financial strength. See "BROKERAGE PRACTICES".

Other Activities of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and Affiliates

None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or any of their respective partners, managers, members, directors, officers, employees, agents and affiliates (collectively, "Investment Manager Affiliates") is required to manage the Partnership as its sole and exclusive function. In addition to managing the Partnership and its investments, each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may provide investment management and other services to other parties and may manage other accounts and/or establish other private investment funds in the future (both domestic and offshore) (such accounts and funds, collectively, "Affiliated Funds"), including those that may employ an investment program and strategy similar to that of the Partnership.

Specifically, as of the date hereof: (i) the Investment Manager acts as the investment manager to Atlas IDF, LP, a Delaware "series" limited partnership ("IDF Fund") that is structured as an insurance-dedicated fund and is expected to invest a portion of its assets in the Partnership; (ii) Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, is the general partner of the IDF Fund; (iii) the Principal is the managing member and controlling person of Atlas IDF GP, LLC; and (iv) the Investment Manager acts as the investment subadvisor to a series of SALI Multi-Series Fund, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership, and provides certain discretionary investment advisory or consulting services to such series.

See "MANAGEMENT" and "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein.

Exculpation and Indemnification

The Partnership Agreement provides that none of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates will be liable to the Partnership or the Limited Partners for any action or inaction in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership unless such action or inaction is determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Partnership (but not the Limited Partners individually) is obligated to indemnify the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Investment Manager Affiliates (which, for purposes of this indemnity, shall include fund counsel (except for legal malpractice)) from and against any and all claims, liabilities, obligations, judgments, suits, proceedings, actions, demands, losses, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees and other expenses of litigation), damages, penalties or interest, as a result of any claim or legal proceeding (made or threatened) related to any action or inaction by any of them in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership (including the settlement or appeal of any such claim or legal proceeding); provided that such indemnity will not extend to conduct determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing indemnification provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis. The Investment Management Agreement also provides similar protections to the Investment Manager.

Term

The term of the Partnership will continue indefinitely until terminated in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. Under the Partnership Agreement, the Partnership may be terminated at the election of the General Partner.

Fiscal Year

The fiscal year of the Partnership will end on December 31 of each year. However, the fiscal year may be changed at any time by the General Partner, in its sole and absolute discretion.

Auditor

The Partnership intends to engage a nationally recognized public accounting firm to act as the Partnership's auditor. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

Administrator

The Partnership intends to engage a provider of administrative services to acts as the Partnership's Administrator, as further set forth herein. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details. See "SERVICE PROVIDERS—Administrator" herein.

Shared Services Arrangement

In addition, the Investment Manager has entered into a shared services agreement ("Shared Services Agreement") with Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (in its capacity with respect to the Shared Services Agreement, the "Shared Services Provider"), pursuant to which the Shared Services Provider will provide certain administrative, information technology, accounting, tax, back-office and other services to the Investment Manager. The Partnership will not incur any additional fees as a result of the arrangements with the Shared Services Provider. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein. Also see "SERVICE PROVIDERS—Administrator" herein.

Regulatory Compliance Provider

The Investment Manager intends to engage a reputable regulatory compliance provider for the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their respective affiliates. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

Legal Counsel

Sadis & Goldberg LLP acts as legal counsel to the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Partnership and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the offering of Interests and other ongoing matters. Sadis & Goldberg LLP has been retained to prepare offering documentation in connection with the offering but not to conduct any due diligence on the Principal, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the information in this Memorandum. Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not represent the Limited Partners, and each Limited Partner is urged to consult with its own counsel.

There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Partnership as to which Sadis & Goldberg LLP has not been consulted. In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not undertake to monitor compliance by the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Principal and their respective affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Sadis & Goldberg LLP monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Sadis & Goldberg's responsibility is limited to matters of U.S. securities and federal tax law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the Partnership, there are times when the interests of Limited Partners may differ from those of the Partnership. Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not represent the Limited Partners' interests in resolving these issues. Sadis & Goldberg LLP is a party to certain offering related documents to the limited extent that it can benefit from and enforce certain provisions thereof. In preparing this Memorandum, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has relied upon information furnished to it by the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective affiliates and is not obligated to investigate or verify the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Partnership.

Furthermore, if a conflict of interest or dispute arises between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, on the one hand, and the Partnership or any Limited Partner, on the other hand, by investing in the Partnership, the Limited Partners acknowledge that Sadis & Goldberg LLP may act as counsel to the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager and not counsel to the Partnership or the Limited Partners, notwithstanding the fact that, in certain cases, the fees paid to Sadis & Goldberg LLP are paid through or by the Partnership.

In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has represented Highland and affiliates at different times over a period lasting over a decade. It is currently expected that Sadis & Goldberg LLP will represent the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the establishment of the Partnership and the IDF Fund, the possible consummation of the Highland Transaction, and certain related matters. The Principal and his affiliates are aware of the representation by Sadis & Goldberg LLP of Highland and affiliates.

BACKGROUND OF THE GENERAL PARTNER AND THE INVESTMENT MANAGER

The General Partner of the Partnership is Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company. The General Partner is responsible for the management of the Partnership's affairs.

The Investment Manager of the Partnership is Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company. The Investment Manager has discretionary investment authority over the Partnership's assets. The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the SEC. A copy of Part 2 of the Investment Manager's Form ADV is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

As the managing member and controlling person of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, John Honis controls all of the Partnership's operations and activities.

Limited Partners do not have any right to participate in the management of the Partnership and have very limited voting rights.

BACKGROUND OF THE PRINCIPAL

John Honis, Principal

Mr. Honis has more than 25 years of investment management and business experience. He has a background in the credit markets and private equity. Throughout his career in the investment management industry, Mr. Honis has guided many portfolio companies across several continents. Mr. Honis' business experience includes roles as CEO, CRO and board-level advisory positions to both high-growth and distressed companies, in a wide range of manufacturing and service industries.

Mr. Honis founded Barrier Advisors, a recognized provider of strategic, operational and financial advice to private equity, venture capital and money management institutions. He led many turnarounds and strategic growth initiatives and has attracted many of the nation's reputable turnaround practitioners to the Barrier team.

Previously, Mr. Honis was a high-tech executive, having served as President, CEO or Chief Restructuring Officer of five telecommunications firms. His experiences in all aspects of growth management, strategic/operational turnarounds, financial restructuring, mergers and acquisitions and capital markets were the foundational elements of Barrier Advisors' charter. Mr. Honis was previously a Partner and Co-Head of Private Equity at Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland") (which now serves as the Shared Services Provider to the Investment Manager).

Mr. Honis' early career started at J.P. Morgan in New York where he was worked in the firm's global consulting practice. At J.P. Morgan, he specialized in the design and implementation of worldwide corporate finance processes and systems. Mr. Honis received a BA Degree in Economics from Syracuse University.

Mr. Honis currently serves on the Board of Trustees for each of Highland's affiliated registered investment companies and on the Board of Directors for American HomePatient, Inc. and Turtle Bay Resort, LLC, which are portfolio companies of investment funds operated by Highland.

Additional Personnel

The General Partner and the Investment Manager may employ additional personnel in the future.

OTHER ACTIVITIES OF THE GENERAL PARTNER, THE INVESTMENT MANAGER, THE PRINCIPAL AND AFFILIATES

None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates is required to manage the Partnership as its sole and exclusive function. Each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may engage in other business activities, including competing ventures and/or other unrelated employment, and is only required to devote such time to the Partnership as the General Partner deems necessary to accomplish the purposes of the Partnership.

In addition to managing the Partnership and its investments, each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may provide investment management and other services to other parties and may manage and/or establish Affiliated Funds in the future, including those that may employ an investment program and strategy similar to that of the Partnership.

Specifically, as of the date hereof: (i) the Investment Manager acts as the investment manager to the IDF Fund that is structured as an insurance-dedicated fund and is expected to invest a portion of its assets in the Partnership; (ii) Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, is the general partner of the IDF Fund; (iii) the Principal is the managing member and controlling person of Atlas IDF GP, LLC; and (iv) the Investment Manager acts as the investment subadvisor to a series of SALI Multi-Series Fund, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership, and provides certain discretionary investment advisory or consulting services to such series. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein.

INVESTMENTS BY THE GENERAL PARTNER, THE INVESTMENT MANAGER, THE PRINCIPAL AND AFFILIATES

Capital contributions by the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates will generally be on the same basis as capital contributions made by other investors, except that, in the discretion of the Investment Manager, no Management Fee may be assessed to such persons. Neither the Partnership Agreement nor the Investment Management Agreement requires the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates to maintain any minimum capital account balance.

SERVICE PROVIDERS

ADMINISTRATOR

The Partnership intends to engage an Administrator and enter into an Administration Agreement with the Administrator ("Administration Agreement"). The Administrator may be: (x) a nationally recognized provider of administrative services or (y) Highland (i.e., the Shared Services Provider); provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, any Administration Agreement with Highland, to the extent applicable, will be in addition to the Shared Services Agreement. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

The Administration Agreement will include industry-standard provisions relating to scope of services, fees, termination and indemnification.

The Administrator will be a service provider to the Partnership and will not be responsible for the preparation of this Memorandum or the activities of the Partnership, and therefore accepts no responsibility for any information contained in this Memorandum. The Administrator will not participate in the Partnership's investment decision-making process.

AUDITOR

The Partnership intends to engage a nationally recognized public accounting firm to act as the auditor for the Partnership. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

REGULATORY COMPLIANCE PROVIDER

The Investment Manager intends to engage a reputable regulatory compliance provider for the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their respective affiliates. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

LEGAL COUNSEL

Sadis & Goldberg LLP acts as legal counsel to the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Partnership and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the offering of Interests and other ongoing matters. Sadis & Goldberg LLP has been retained to prepare offering documentation in connection with the offering but not to conduct any due diligence on the Principal, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the information in this Memorandum. Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not represent the Limited Partners, and each Limited Partner is urged to consult with its own counsel.

There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Partnership as to which Sadis & Goldberg LLP has not been consulted. In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not undertake to monitor compliance by the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Principal and their respective affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Sadis & Goldberg LLP monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Sadis & Goldberg's responsibility is limited to matters of U.S. securities and federal tax law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the Partnership, there are times when the interests of Limited Partners may differ from those of the Partnership. Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not represent the Limited Partners' interests in resolving these issues. Sadis & Goldberg LLP is a party to certain offering related documents to the limited extent that it can benefit from and enforce certain provisions thereof. In preparing this Memorandum, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has relied upon information furnished to it by the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective affiliates and is not obligated to investigate or verify the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Partnership.

Furthermore, if a conflict of interest or dispute arises between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, on the one hand, and the Partnership or any Limited Partner, on the other hand, by investing in the Partnership, the Limited Partners acknowledge that Sadis & Goldberg LLP may act as counsel to the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager and not counsel to the Partnership or the Limited Partners, notwithstanding the fact that, in certain cases, the fees paid to Sadis & Goldberg LLP are paid through or by the Partnership.

In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has represented Highland and affiliates at different times over a period lasting over a decade. It is currently expected that Sadis & Goldberg LLP will represent the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the establishment of the Partnership and the IDF Fund, the possible consummation of the Highland Transaction, and certain related matters. The Principal and his affiliates are aware of the representation by Sadis & Goldberg LLP of Highland and affiliates.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

INTRODUCTION

The Partnership was organized for the purpose of investing and trading in a wide variety of investments, domestic and foreign, of all kinds and descriptions, whether publicly traded or privately placed, including, but not limited to, the following: common and preferred stocks, bonds and other debt securities, convertible securities, limited partnership interests, other investment funds, CLO securities, mutual fund shares, options, warrants, futures, derivatives (including swaps, forward contracts and structured instruments), monetary instruments, other financial instruments, cash and cash equivalents. The Investment Manager is eligible to trade a limited amount of commodities or financial futures on behalf of the Partnership under a provision in the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended ("CEA"), that provides an exemption from registration as a commodity pool operator.

References herein to the Partnership shall include, where appropriate, each Series of the Partnership.

The following is a general description of the principal types of investments which the Investment Manager currently contemplates making for the Partnership, certain trading techniques that it may employ, the investment criteria that it plans to apply, and the guidelines that it has established with respect to the composition of its investment portfolio. The following description is merely a summary, and a Limited Partner should not assume that any descriptions of the specific activities in which the Partnership may engage are intended in any way to limit the types of investment activities which the Partnership may undertake or the allocation of Partnership capital among such investments.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Partnership's primary objective is to seek consistent above-average returns primarily through capital appreciation. No assurance can be given, however, that the Investment Manager will achieve the Partnership's investment objective, and investment results may vary substantially over time and from period to period.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

General

The Investment Manager intends to invest the Partnership's portfolio in small- to medium-sized companies (i.e., generally with market capitalization of under $1 billion) that are involved in (or are the target of) acquisition attempts or tender offers, and/or in companies involved in work-outs, liquidations, spin-offs, reorganizations, bankruptcies or similar transactions. The Investment Manager intends to use a disciplined investment philosophy by combining thorough fundamental research and in-depth analysis of investment opportunities. The Partnership (x) is expected to initially invest all or substantially all of the assets attributable to Series 1 in the Highland Transaction, if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction.

Philosophy

The Investment Manager intends to use a disciplined investment philosophy by combining thorough fundamental research and in-depth analysis of investment opportunities. The following principles generally guide the Investment Manager's portfolio management strategy and allocation of capital:

- invest with a long-term perspective, minimize turnover and avoid market-timing;
- hold a concentrated investment portfolio; and

- view each investment relative to other investment opportunities.

Long-Term Perspective. The Investment Manager intends to invest with a long-term perspective, typically holding an ownership position in a company until it reaches its intrinsic value. In general, when the Investment Manager will be looking to invest in a company, it intends to avoid trying to time the market, but rather intends to focus on the intrinsic value of the company and then find the right entry or purchase point.

Concentration. The Investment Manager intends to have a concentrated portfolio of investments. The Investment Manager believes that this may provide the Partnership with a competitive advantage over most other private investment vehicles in that: (i) the Investment Manager's best ideas would be rarely and/or marginally diluted by its lesser ideas; (ii) the extra time saved by not trading may allow the Investment Manager to concentrate on finding other investment ideas; and (iii) careful analysis may allow the Investment Manager to make intelligent and deliberated decisions. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) there will be no limitation on the percentage of the Partnership's portfolio that may be carried in Side Pocket Accounts; and (ii) any investment made by Series 1 into the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely.

Relative Analysis. The Investment Manager intends to evaluate potential investments in companies of varying market capitalization in an attempt to isolate those securities with the greatest potential for capital appreciation. As part of its strategy, the Investment Manager intends to invest in those industries, sectors and securities which may provide value on a relative basis. The Investment Manager intends to seek to understand a company and its industry before investing.

Leverage

The Investment Manager may cause the Partnership to undertake leverage. Leverage may take a variety of forms, including, but not limited to, the following: long-term loans, convertible notes and repurchase arrangements. To the extent applicable, entering into short sales and certain types of derivative instruments may also increase the Partnership's use of leverage. Leverage arrangements used by the Partnership when financing is contingent on the market value of the financed assets may include those which may be subject to mark-to-market collateral or margin calls.

Important Notice

The foregoing description of the Partnership's investment program does not purport to be a complete explanation of all the asset classes or securities in which the Partnership may invest. In general, the Investment Manager intends to follow a flexible approach in order to place the Partnership in the best position to capitalize on opportunities in the financial markets. Accordingly, the Investment Manager may employ other strategies and may take advantage of opportunities in diverse asset classes if they meet the Investment Manager's standards of investment merit.

DEVELOPMENT AND RISKS OF INVESTMENT MANAGER'S INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The development of an investment strategy is a continuous process, and the Partnership's investment strategy and methods may therefore be modified from time to time. The Partnership's investment methods are confidential, and the descriptions of them in this Memorandum are not exhaustive. The Partnership's investment strategies may differ from those used by the Investment Manager and its affiliates with respect to other accounts they manage. Investment decisions require the exercise of judgment by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager may, at times, decide not to make certain investments, thereby foregoing participation in price movements, which would have yielded profits or avoided losses. Limited Partners cannot be assured that the strategies or methods utilized by the Investment Manager will result in profitable investing for the Partnership.

The Partnership's investment program entails substantial risks, and there can be no assurance that its investment objectives will be achieved. The practices of options trading, short selling, the use of leverage and other investment techniques that may be employed by the Partnership can, in certain circumstances, maximize the adverse impact to which the Partnership's investment portfolio may be subject. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST—Market Risks".

BROKERAGE PRACTICES

References herein to the Partnership shall be deemed to apply with respect to the Partnership's traded investments.

BROKERAGE ARRANGEMENTS

The Investment Manager is responsible for the placement of the portfolio transactions of the Partnership and the negotiation of any commissions paid on such transactions. Portfolio securities normally are purchased through brokers on securities exchanges or directly from the issuer or from an underwriter or market maker for the securities. Purchases of portfolio instruments through brokers involve a commission to the broker. Purchases of portfolio securities from dealers serving as market makers include the spread between the "bid" and the "ask" price. The Investment Manager will not commit to provide any level of brokerage business to any broker. The Investment Manager may utilize the services of one or more introducing brokers who will execute the Partnership's brokerage transactions through a broker or custodian who will clear the Partnership's transactions.

Securities transactions for the Partnership are executed through brokers selected by the Investment Manager in its sole discretion and without the consent of the Partnership. In placing portfolio transactions, the Investment Manager will seek to obtain the best execution for the Partnership, taking into account the following factors: the ability to effect prompt and reliable executions at favorable prices (including the applicable dealer spread or commission, if any); the operational efficiency with which transactions are effected and the efficiency of error resolution, taking into account the size of order and difficulty of execution; the financial strength, integrity and stability of the broker; special execution capabilities; reputation; clearance, settlement, on-line pricing, block trading and block positioning capabilities; willingness to execute related or unrelated difficult transactions in the future; order of call; online access to computerized data regarding clients' accounts; performance measurement data; the quality, comprehensiveness and frequency of available brokerage and research products and services considered to be of value; the availability of stocks to borrow for short trades; and the competitiveness of commission rates in comparison with other brokers satisfying the Investment Manager's other selection criteria.

SOFT DOLLAR ARRANGEMENTS

The term "soft dollars" refers to commissions accumulated by brokers based on an investment manager's transactions, on behalf of its clients, which may be used by the investment manager to acquire various products or services. The use of client commissions, known as soft dollars, to pay for these products and services, including research and brokerage products and services, presents investment managers with potential conflicts of interest and may give incentives for investment managers to use certain brokers without regard to their obligations to their clients.

The Investment Manager may use soft dollars generated by the Partnership's brokerage transactions to pay for brokerage and research products and services that fall within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the Exchange Act ("Section 28(e)"). Section 28(e) provides a "safe harbor" to investment managers who use soft dollars to obtain investment research and brokerage products and services. In order to qualify for the safe harbor, the products or services must provide assistance to the investment manager in the performance of its investment decision-making responsibilities, or must relate to the execution, clearance or settlement of a trade.

REFERRAL OF INVESTORS AND SALES CHARGES

The Investment Manager may direct some Partnership brokerage business to brokers who refer prospective investors to the Partnership. Because such referrals, if any, are likely to benefit the Investment Manager and its affiliates but will provide an insignificant (if any) benefit to Limited Partners, the Investment Manager will have a conflict of interest with the Partnership when allocating Partnership brokerage business to a broker who has referred investors to the Partnership. To prevent Partnership brokerage commissions from being used to pay investor referral fees, the Investment Manager will not allocate Partnership brokerage business to a referring broker unless the Investment Manager determines in good faith that the commissions payable to such broker are reasonable in relation to those available from non-referring brokers offering services of substantially equal value to the Partnership.

The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may sell Interests through broker-dealers and pay a marketing fee or commission in connection with such activities, including ongoing payments, at the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own expense. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may also deduct a percentage of the amount invested by a Limited Partner in the Partnership to pay sales fees or charges, on a fully disclosed basis, to a broker-dealer based upon the capital contribution of such Limited Partner introduced to the Partnership by such broker-dealer. Any such sales fees or charges would be assessed against the referred Limited Partner and would reduce the amount actually invested by such Limited Partner in the Partnership. If a Limited Partner is introduced to the Partnership through a broker-dealer that is not affiliated with the Investment Manager and/or the General Partner, the arrangement, if any, with such broker-dealer will be disclosed to, and acknowledged by, such Limited Partner.

ALLOCATION OF INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Investment Manager may at times determine that certain investments will be suitable for acquisition by the Partnership and by other accounts managed by the Investment Manager, including Affiliated Funds, the Investment Manager's own accounts or accounts of an affiliate. If that occurs, and the Investment Manager is not able to acquire the desired aggregate amount of such investments on terms and conditions which the Investment Manager deems advisable, the Investment Manager will endeavor to allocate in good faith the limited amount of such investments acquired among the various accounts for which the Investment Manager considers them to be suitable. The Investment Manager may make such allocations among the accounts in any manner which it considers to be fair under the circumstances, including, but not limited to, allocations based on relative account sizes, the degree of risk involved in the investments acquired, and the extent to which such investments are consistent with the investment policies and strategies of the various accounts involved.

AGGREGATION OF ORDERS

The Investment Manager may aggregate purchase and sale orders of investments held by the Partnership with similar orders being made simultaneously for other accounts or entities if, in the Investment Manager's reasonable judgment, such aggregation is reasonably likely to result in an overall economic benefit to the Partnership based on an evaluation that the Partnership will be benefited by relatively better purchase or sale prices, lower commission expenses or beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors.

In some instances, the purchase or sale of investments for the Partnership may be effected simultaneously with the purchase or sale of like investments for other accounts or entities. Such transactions may be made at slightly different prices, due to the volume of investments purchased or sold. In such event, the average price of all investments purchased or sold in such transactions may be determined, at the Investment Manager's sole discretion, and the Partnership may be charged or credited, as the case may be, with the average transaction price.

TRADE ERROR POLICY

The Investment Manager has internal controls in place to prevent trade errors from occurring. On those occasions when such an error nonetheless occurs, the Investment

Manager will use reasonable efforts to correct the error. If the error cannot be corrected, the Investment Manager does not intend to make any adjustment, regardless of whether the error works to the benefit or detriment of the Partnership. The Investment Manager will endeavor to maintain a record of each trade error, including information about the trade and how such error was corrected or attempted to be corrected. The Partnership (and not the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, unless such errors are due to gross negligence or willful misconduct, as determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction.

RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

An investment in the Partnership (and any Series thereof) involves significant risks not associated with other investment vehicles and is suitable only for persons of adequate financial means who have no need for liquidity in this investment. There can be no assurances or guarantees that: (i) the Partnership's (or any Series') investment strategy will prove successful, or (ii) investors will not lose all or a portion of their investment in the Partnership (or any particular Series).

References herein to the Partnership shall include, where appropriate, each Series of the Partnership.

You should consider the Partnership as a supplement to an overall investment program and should only invest if you are willing to undertake the risks involved. In addition, investors who are subject to income tax should be aware that an investment in the Partnership (or any Series thereof) is likely (if the Partnership (or such Series) is successful) to create taxable income or tax liabilities in excess of cash distributions to pay such liabilities. You should therefore bear in mind the following risk factors and conflicts of interest before purchasing an Interest:

PARTNERSHIP RISKS

Dependence Upon the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Principal; No Participation in Management. The Partnership's success will depend on the management of the General Partner and the Investment Manager and on the skill and acumen of the Principal. If the Principal should cease to participate in the Partnership's business, the Partnership's ability to select attractive investments and manage its portfolio could be severely impaired.

As a Limited Partner, you should be aware that you will have no right to participate in the management of the Partnership, and you will have no opportunity to select or evaluate any of the Partnership's investments or strategies. Accordingly, you should not invest in the Partnership unless you are willing to entrust all aspects of the management of the Partnership and its investments to the discretion of the General Partner and the Investment Manager.

Limited or Lack of Operating History. Each of the Partnership, the Investment Manager and the General Partner are recently-formed entities that have no operating history upon which prospective investors may evaluate the Partnership's future performance. Although the Principal has experience with investments of the type the Partnership intends to make, any prior performance of the Principal (or the Investment Manager Affiliates) is not necessarily indicative of results that he may achieve with respect to the Partnership. As such, there can be no assurances that the Partnership will be able to implement its investment strategy or achieve its investment objective. In addition, any prior performance of the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates is not indicative of the results each may achieve for the Partnership in the future.

Reliance on the Shared Services Provider. The Investment Manager relies on the Shared Services Provider to provide certain administrative and other services. In the event that the Shared Services Agreement is terminated for any reason, the Investment Manager may not be able to engage another third party to provide such services and may not have the resources to continue advising the Partnership without the provision of such services by the Shared Services Provider. In addition, the Shared Services Provider may be (but, as of the date hereof, is not) engaged by the Partnership to act as the Partnership's Administrator, pursuant to a separate Administration Agreement.

Limited Liquidity of Interests. An investment in the Partnership involves substantial restrictions on liquidity, and its Interests are not freely transferable. There is no market for the Interests in the Partnership, and no market is expected to develop. Additionally, transfers are subject to the consent of the General Partner, which consent may be granted or withheld in the General Partner's sole discretion. Consequently, Limited Partners will be unable to liquidate their Interests except by withdrawing from the Partnership in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. Limited Partners may be unable to liquidate their investment promptly in the event of an emergency or for any other reason. Although a Limited Partner may attempt to increase its liquidity by borrowing from a bank or other institution, Interests may not readily be accepted as collateral for a loan. In addition, the transfer of an Interest as collateral or otherwise to achieve liquidity may result in adverse tax consequences to the transferor.

A portion of the Partnership's assets may be invested in securities and other financial instruments or obligations for which no market exists and/or which are restricted as to their transferability under federal or state securities laws. Such investments may be segregated from other Partnership assets and carried in Side Pocket Accounts, which are subject to restrictions on withdrawals. Because of the absence of any trading market for these investments, the Partnership may take longer to liquidate these positions than would be the case for publicly traded securities. Although these securities may be resold in privately negotiated transactions, the prices realized on these sales could be less than those originally paid by the Partnership. Further, companies whose securities are not publicly traded may not be subject to public disclosure and other investor protection requirements applicable to publicly traded securities.

Lack of Registration. The Interests have neither been registered under the Securities Act nor under the securities laws of any state and, therefore, are subject to transfer restrictions. In connection with your purchase of an Interest, you must represent that you are purchasing the Interest for investment purposes only and not with a view toward resale or distribution. Neither the Partnership nor the General Partner has any plans or assumed any obligation to register the Interests. Accordingly, the Interests may not be transferred without documentation acceptable to the General Partner, which may include an opinion of counsel to the Partnership that the transfer will not involve a violation of the registration requirements of the Securities Act or require registration by the Partnership under the Investment Company Act. These restrictions on transfer are in addition to those found in the Partnership Agreement. Ordinarily, this means that transfers will be restricted to instances of death, gift or passage by operation of law.

Withdrawal of Capital. A Limited Partner's ability to withdraw funds from the Partnership is restricted in accordance with the withdrawal provisions contained in this Memorandum under "SUMMARY OF OFFERING AND PARTNERSHIP TERMS—Withdrawals" and the withdrawal provisions contained in the Partnership Agreement. In addition, substantial withdrawals by investors within a short period of time could require the Partnership to liquidate securities positions and other investments more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, possibly reducing the value of the Partnership's assets and/or disrupting the Partnership's investment strategy. Reduction in the size of the Partnership could make it more difficult to generate a positive return or to recoup losses due to, among other things, reductions in the Partnership's ability to take advantage of particular investment opportunities or decreases in the ratio of its income to its expenses.

For the avoidance of doubt, (i) there will be no limitation on the percentage of the Partnership's portfolio that may be carried in Side Pocket Accounts; and (ii) any investment made by Series 1 into the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely. In addition, because of the absence of any trading market Illiquid Investments, the Partnership may take longer to liquidate these positions than would be the case for publicly traded securities. Each of the foregoing may impact a Limited Partner's ability to withdraw.

Concentration of Investments. The Investment Manager implements its investment program in a manner which, in light of investment considerations, market risks and other factors, it believes will provide the best opportunity for attractive risk-adjusted returns in the value of the Partnership's assets. The Partnership Agreement does not formally limit the amount of the Partnership's assets that may be invested in a single company, security, country, industry, sector or asset class. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) there will be no limitation on the percentage of the Partnership's portfolio that may be carried in Side Pocket Accounts; and (ii) any investment made by Series 1 into the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely. The concentration of the Partnership's portfolio in any manner described above would subject the Partnership to a greater degree of risk with respect to the failure of one or a few investments, or with respect to economic downturns in relation to an individual industry or sector, or single company, security, country, industry, sector or asset class.

Operating Deficits. The expenses of operating the Partnership (including the Management Fee) may exceed its income, thereby requiring that the difference be paid out of the Partnership's capital, reducing the Partnership's investments and potential for profitability.

No Distributions. The General Partner does not intend to make distributions to the Limited Partners, but intends instead to reinvest substantially all Partnership income and gain, if any. Cash that might otherwise be available for distribution will also be reduced by payment of Partnership obligations, payment of Partnership expenses (including fees payable and expense reimbursements to the General Partner) and establishment of appropriate reserves. As a result, if the Partnership is profitable, Limited Partners in all likelihood will be credited with Partnership net income, and will incur the consequent income tax liability (to the extent that they are subject to income tax), even though Limited Partners receive little or no Partnership distributions.

Investment Expenses. The investment expenses (e.g., expenses related to the investment and custody of the Partnership's assets, such as brokerage commissions, custodial fees and other trading and investment charges and fees) as well as other Partnership fees may, in the aggregate, constitute a high percentage relative to other investment entities. The Partnership will bear these costs regardless of its profitability.

Cross-Series Liability. Section 17-218 of the Delaware Act provides that limited partnerships can be established in separate series in a manner that the liabilities and obligations incurred with respect to any series are only enforceable against the assets of such series, and not against the assets of the limited partnership generally or any other series. The relevant provisions of the Delaware Act provide the legal requirements for how limited partnerships can be established and operated to maintain this segregation. The statute includes such requirements as the maintenance of separate books and records for each series, and separation of the assets of each series from other series. Despite these statutory provisions, there may be instances where the assets of a particular Series may be exposed to the liabilities of one or more other Series. For example, there may be certain counterparties which resist entering into a contract with a particular Series and insist that one or more other Series, or the Partnership itself acting on behalf of the Series together, enter into such contract.

Supervision of Trading Operations. The Investment Manager, with assistance from its brokerage and clearing firms, intends to supervise and monitor trading activity in the Partnership's account to ensure compliance with the Partnership's objectives. Despite the Investment Manager's efforts, however, there is a risk that unauthorized or otherwise inappropriate trading activity may occur in the Partnership account.

Impact of Side Letters. The Partnership, the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may from time to time enter into Side Letters with one or more Limited Partners that provide such Limited Partner(s) with additional and/or different rights (including, without limitation, with respect to access to information, minimum investment amounts and liquidity terms) than such Limited Partner(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement. Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager will be required to notify any or all of the other Limited Partners of any such written agreements or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the General Partner or the Investment Manager be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other Limited Partners. The other Limited Partners will have no recourse against the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or any of their respective affiliates in the event that certain Limited Partners receive additional and/or different rights and/or terms as a result of such Side Letters.

Broad Discretionary Power to Choose Investments and Strategies. The Investment Management Agreement gives the Investment Manager broad discretionary power to decide what investments the Partnership will make and what strategies it will use. While the Investment Manager currently intends to use the strategies described in "INVESTMENT PROGRAM", it is not obligated to do so, and it may choose any other investments and strategies that it believes are advisable.

Limitation of Liability and Indemnification of the General Partner, the Investment Manager and Affiliates. The Partnership Agreement provides that none of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates will be liable to the Partnership or the Limited Partners for any action or inaction in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership unless such action or inaction is determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Partnership (but not the Limited Partners individually) is obligated to indemnify the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates (which, for purposes of this indemnity, shall include fund counsel (except for legal malpractice)) from and against any and all claims, liabilities, obligations, judgments, suits, proceedings, actions, demands, losses, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees and other expenses of litigation), damages, penalties or interest, as a result of any claim or legal proceeding (made or threatened) related to any action or inaction by any of them in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership (including the settlement or appeal of any such claim or legal proceeding); provided that such indemnity will not extend to conduct determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Investment Management Agreement also provides similar protections to the Investment Manager. Therefore, a Limited Partner may have a more limited right of action against the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates than a Limited Partner would have had absent these provisions in the Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement. It is the policy of the SEC that indemnification for violations of securities laws is against public policy and therefore unenforceable.

No Minimum Size of Partnership. The Partnership may begin or continue operations without attaining or maintaining any particular level of capitalization. At low asset levels, the Partnership may be unable to make its investments as fully as would otherwise be desirable or to take advantage of potential economies of scale, including the ability to obtain the most timely and valuable research and trading information from securities brokers. It is possible that even if the Partnership operates for a period with substantial capital, investors' withdrawals could diminish the Partnership assets to a level that does not permit the most efficient and effective implementation of the Partnership's investment program. As a result of losses or withdrawals, the Partnership may not have sufficient capital to diversify its investments to the extent desired or currently contemplated by the Investment Manager.

Portfolio Valuation. Valuation of the Partnership's portfolio, which will affect the amount of the Management Fee, involves uncertainties and determinations based on judgments. Third-party pricing information may, at times, not be available regarding certain of the Partnership's investments. A disruption in the secondary markets for the Partnership's investments may limit the ability of the Partnership to obtain accurate market quotations for purposes of valuing its investments. In addition, material events occurring after the close of a principal market upon which a portion of the investments of the Partnership are traded may require it to make a determination of the effect of a material event on the value of the investments traded on the market for purposes of determining the value of the Partnership's investments on a valuation date. Further, because of the overall size and concentrations in particular markets and maturities of positions that may be held by the Partnership from time to time, the liquidation values of the Partnership's securities and other investments may differ significantly from the interim valuations of these investments derived from the valuation methods described herein. Moreover, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuing an illiquid security, the quoted valuation may be higher than the actual final liquidation value, and these differences could be material. If the Partnership's valuation should prove to be incorrect, the value of the Partnership's investments could be adversely affected.

Liability of a Limited Partner for the Return of Capital Contributions. If the Partnership should become insolvent, Limited Partner may be obligated to return all or a portion of any distributions (including withdrawal proceeds) received from the Partnership in an amount up to its aggregate capital contributions (including any income or gains thereon) to the Partnership in order to pay such Limited Partner's pro rata share of any Partnership liabilities that arose while such Limited Partner held Interests.

Under the Delaware Act, when a Limited Partner receives a return of all or any part of such Limited Partner's capital contribution, the Limited Partner may be liable to the Partnership for any sum, not in excess of such return of capital (together with interest), if at the time of such distribution the Limited Partner knew that the Partnership was prohibited from making such distribution pursuant to the Delaware Act.

Delayed Schedule K-1s. The General Partner will endeavor to provide a Schedule K-1 to each Limited Partner for any given calendar year prior to April 15 of the following year. In the event that the Schedule K-1 is not available by such date, a Limited Partner may have to request an extension of time to file or may have to pay taxes based on an estimated amount.

Lack of Insurance. The assets of the Partnership are not insured by any government or private insurer, except to the extent portions may be deposited in bank accounts insured by the United States Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or with brokers insured by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation and such deposits and securities are subject to such insurance coverage (which, in any event, is limited in amount). Therefore, in the event of the insolvency of a depository or custodian, the Partnership may be unable to recover all of its funds or the value of its securities so deposited.

Forward-Looking Statements; Opinions. Statements contained in this Memorandum that are not historical facts are based on current expectations, estimates, projections, opinions and/or beliefs of the Partnership. Such statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors, and undue reliance should not be placed thereon. Moreover, certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes "forward-looking" statements, which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology, such as "may", "will", "seek", "should", "expect", "anticipate", "project", "estimate", "intend", "continue" or "believe" or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth herein, actual events or results or the actual performance of the Partnership may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

MARKET RISKS

General

Competition Generally. The securities industry and the varied strategies and techniques to be engaged in by the Investment Manager are extremely competitive and each involves a degree of risk. The Partnership will compete with firms, including many of the larger securities and investment banking firms, which have substantially greater financial resources and research staffs. Further, lower fees for comparable services may be available from these or other firms.

Market Volatility. The profitability of the Partnership substantially depends upon the Investment Manager correctly assessing the future price movements of bonds, stocks, options on stocks, and other financial instruments, and the movements of interest rates. The Partnership cannot guarantee that the Investment Manager will be successful in accurately predicting those prices and interest rate movements.

Partnership's Investment Activities. The Partnership's investment activities involve a significant degree of risk. The performance of any investment is subject to numerous factors which are neither within the control of nor predictable by the Investment Manager. Such factors include a wide range of economic, political, competitive, technological and other conditions (including natural disasters, acts of terrorism and war) that may affect investments in general or specific industries or companies. The securities markets may be volatile, which may adversely affect the ability of the Partnership to realize profits. As a result of the nature of the Partnership's investing activities, it is possible that the Partnership's financial performance may fluctuate substantially over time and from period to period.

Terrorist Actions. There is a risk of terrorist attacks on the United States and elsewhere causing significant loss of life and property damage and disruptions in the global market. Economic and diplomatic sanctions may be in place or imposed on certain states and military action may be commenced. The impact of such events is unclear, but could have a material effect on general economic conditions and market liquidity.

Unforeseen Events. The Partnership may be adversely affected by unforeseen events involving such matters as changes in interest rates or the credit status of an issuer, forced withdrawals of securities or acquisition proposals, break-up of planned mergers, unexpected changes in relative value, short squeezes, inability to short stock or changes in tax treatment.

Potential Cybersecurity Breaches and Identity Theft. The Investment Manager relies, to a certain extent, on the use of information technology. The Investment Manager's information and technology systems may be vulnerable to damage and/or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and security breaches, usage errors by its professionals, power outages, and/or catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and earthquakes. Although the Investment Manager has implemented various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time and/or cease to function properly, the Investment Manager and/or the Partnership may have to make a significant investment to fix or replace them. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the Investment Manager's and/or the Partnership's operations and may result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to investors (and the beneficial owners of investors). Such a failure could harm the Investment Manager's and/or the Partnership's reputation, subject any such entity and their respective affiliates to legal claims and/or otherwise affect their business and financial performance.

Long-Biased Investment Program. The Investment Manager expects that its strategy with respect to the Partnership will have a long bias. Therefore, any decline in the overall market may result in a decline in the value of the Partnership's assets.

Market Liquidity and Leverage. The Partnership may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the instruments in which it invests which may impair the Partnership's ability to adjust its positions. The size of the Partnership's positions may magnify the effect of a decrease in market liquidity for such instruments. Changes in overall market leverage, deleveraging as a consequence of a decision by any brokers and custodians, or other counterparties with which the Partnership enters into repurchase/reverse repurchase agreements or derivative transactions, to reduce the level of leverage available, or the liquidation by other market participants of the same or similar positions, may also adversely affect the Partnership's portfolio.

Material Non-Public Information. By reason of their responsibilities in connection with other activities of the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates, the Principal or employees of the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates may acquire confidential or material non-public information or be restricted from initiating transactions in certain securities. The Partnership will not be free to act upon any such information. Due to these restrictions, the Partnership may not be able to initiate a transaction that it otherwise might have initiated and may not be able to sell an investment that it otherwise might have sold.

Accuracy of Public Information. The Investment Manager may select investments for the Partnership, in part, on the basis of information and data filed by issuers with various government regulators or made directly available to the Investment Manager by the issuers or through sources other than the issuers. Although the Investment Manager evaluates certain such information and data and sometimes seeks independent corroboration when the Investment Manager considers it is appropriate and when it is reasonably available, the Investment Manager is not in a position to confirm the completeness, genuineness or accuracy of such information and data, and in some cases, complete and accurate information is not available. Investments may not perform as expected if information is inaccurate.

Directorships on Boards of Portfolio Companies. The principals and other members and employees of the Investment Manager or its designees may serve as directors of companies the securities of which are purchased or sold on behalf of the Partnership and may be compensated for such service. In the event that material non-public information obtained with respect to such companies becomes subject to trading restrictions pursuant to the internal trading policies of such companies or as a result of applicable law or regulations, the Partnership may be prohibited for a period of time from purchasing or selling the securities of such companies, which prohibition may have an adverse effect on the Partnership.

Short-Swing Liability and Other Limitations. From time to time, the Partnership, acting alone or as part of a group, may acquire beneficial ownership of more than 10% of a certain class of securities of a public company, or may place a director on the board of directors of such a company. As a result, under Section 16 of the Exchange Act, the Partnership may be subject to certain additional reporting requirements and may be required to disgorge certain short-swing profits arising from purchases and sales of such securities. In addition, in such circumstances the Partnership will be prohibited from entering into a short position in such issuer's securities, and therefore limited in its ability to hedge such investments.

Disruptions or Inability to Trade Due to a Failure to Receive Timely and Accurate Market Data from Third-Party Vendors. The Investment Manager's strategy may depend on the receipt of timely and accurate market data from third-party vendors. Any failure to receive such data in a timely manner or the receipt of inaccurate data for any reason could disrupt and adversely affect the Partnership's trading until such failure or inaccuracy is corrected.

Use of Automated Order Routing and Execution Systems Generally. The Investment Manager may use automated order routing and execution systems in its trading. Such systems are typically provided on an "as is" basis. Such systems may experience technical difficulties which may render them temporarily unavailable. In addition, such systems may fail to properly perform. Such failures may result in losses to the Partnership, for which losses the providers of such services have disclaimed all liability. In an effort to mitigate such risks, the Investment Manager intends to closely monitor trades executed through automated order routing and execution systems and the operation of the systems themselves.

Electronic Trading Facilities. The Partnership may make use of electronic trading facilities (including ECNs), which are generally supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. Trading on an electronic trading system (including an ECN) may differ not only from trading in an open-outcry market or telephonic market but also from trading on other electronic trading systems. The Partnership, in undertaking transactions on an electronic trading system, will be exposed to risk associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that the Partnership's order is either not executed according to its instructions or is not executed at all. The Partnership's ability to limit or recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by, without limitation, foreign or domestic law or regulation, the Partnership's own or its broker's internet service provider, other systems providers, market factors, foreign or domestic banking or other market regulations and/or telephonic or other communications providers, foreign or domestic.

Technology Risk. The Investment Manager's investment strategy may rely on the use of proprietary and non-proprietary software, data and intellectual property. Any such reliance on this technology and data is subject to a number of important risks. First, the Partnership may be severely and adversely affected by the malfunction of the technology and/or data feed. For example, an unforeseeable software or hardware malfunction could occur, as a result of a virus or other outside force, or as result of a design flaw in the Partnership's system or in its continued implementation. In the past, occurrences of this nature to other funds have sometimes resulted in dramatically negative consequences for the portfolio of the related fund. In addition, changes in the market for publicly available data or in regulatory reporting requirements could cause a severe diminution in the data available for the technology to operate as designed. Such events can also have dramatically negative consequences for the Partnership. Furthermore, if any of the Partnership's software, hardware, data and/or other intellectual property is found to infringe on the rights of any third party, the Partnership could be severely and adversely affected.

Trading Errors. The Investment Manager's computerized trading systems rely on the ability of the Investment Manager's personnel to accurately process such systems' outputs and to use the proper trading orders, including stop-loss or limit orders, to execute the transactions called for by the systems. In addition, the Investment Manager relies on its staff to properly operate and maintain the computer and communication systems upon which the trading systems rely. The Investment Manager's systems are accordingly subject to human errors, including the failure to implement, or the inaccurate implementation of any of the Investment Manager's systems, in addition to errors in properly executing transactions. This could cause substantial losses on transactions, and any such losses could substantially and adversely affect the performance of the Partnership. See "BROKERAGE PRACTICES–Trade Error Policy" herein.

Co-Investments with Third Parties. The Partnership may co-invest with third parties through joint ventures or other entities. Such investments may involve risks in connection with such third- party involvement, including the possibility that a third-party co-venturer may have financial difficulties resulting in a negative impact on such investment, economic or business interests or goals that are inconsistent with those of the Partnership or be in a position to take (or block) action in a manner contrary to the Partnership's investment objectives. In those circumstances where such third parties involve a management group, such third parties may enter into compensation arrangements relating to such investments, including incentive compensation arrangements. Such compensation arrangements will reduce the returns to participants in the investments.

Other Investment Vehicles; Limited Recourse. The Investment Manager may allocate a portion of the Partnership's assets to pooled investment vehicles that may be managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates or unaffiliated managers. Such investment vehicles may trade wholly-independently of one another and may at times hold economically offsetting positions. To the extent that such investment vehicles do, in fact, hold such positions, the Partnership, considered as a whole, may not achieve any gain or loss despite incurring expenses. Additionally, a creditor having a claim that relates to a particular investment held by any such investment vehicle may be able to satisfy such claim against all assets of such investment vehicle, without regard to the participation rights of the Partnership and other investors of such investment vehicle in the assets of such investment vehicle.

Since the Partnership may not have full transparency with respect to the trading activities of such investment vehicles, it may be limited in its ability to hedge its exposure or to prevent concentration of its assets within the same issuer, asset or asset class, industry, section, strategy, currency, country or geographic region. Further, the Investment Manager may be limited with respect to its ability to monitor unaffiliated managers, including their adherence to their respective trading and risk guidelines (if such guidelines exist). Even in the event that such information may be available to the Partnership, the Partnership's investment in such investment vehicles may be "locked up" and subject to limitations on withdrawals, and in light of the broad exculpation and indemnification provisions typically contained in the governing documents of such investment vehicles, may have limited recourse against the managers of such investment vehicles.

Risks Associated with ETFs. The Partnership may invest in ETFs. ETFs represent an interest in a passively managed portfolio of securities and financial instruments selected to replicate a securities or financial instruments index. Unlike open-end mutual funds, the shares of ETFs are not purchased and redeemed by investors directly with the ETF, but instead are purchased and sold through broker-dealers in transactions on an exchange. Because ETF shares are traded on an exchange, they may trade at a discount from or a premium to the net asset value per share of the underlying portfolio of securities or financial instruments. In addition to bearing the risks related to investments in securities or financial instruments, investors in ETFs intended to replicate an index bear the risk that the ETFs performance may not correctly replicate the performance of the index. Investors in ETFs, closed-end funds and other investment companies bear a proportionate share of the expenses of those funds, including management fees, custodial and accounting costs, and other expenses. As such, the Partnership is subject to layering of such fees. Trading in ETF and closed-end fund shares also entails payment of brokerage commissions and other transaction costs.

Illiquid Securities. From time to time, the Partnership may invest in financial instruments that are not publicly traded. The Partnership may also invest in securities and other financial instruments that trade regularly but may be only thinly traded, either periodically or on an on-going basis. The Partnership may not be able to readily dispose of such financial instruments and, in some cases, may be contractually prohibited from disposing of such financial instruments for a specified period of time. Accordingly, the Partnership may be forced to sell its more liquid positions at a disadvantageous time, resulting in a greater percentage of the portfolio consisting of illiquid securities. In addition, the market prices, if any, for such financial instruments tend to be volatile, and the Partnership may not be able to sell them when it desires to do so or to realize what it perceives to be their fair value in the event of a sale. The sale of illiquid securities also often requires more time and results in higher brokerage charges or dealer discounts and other selling expenses than does the sale of securities eligible for trading on national securities exchanges or in the over-the-counter markets. Furthermore, there may be limited information available about the assets of such issuers of the financial instruments which may make valuation of such financial instruments difficult or uncertain. It also should be noted that, even those markets which the Investment Manager expects to be liquid can experience periods, possibly extended periods, of illiquidity.

Investments in Securities and Other Assets Believed to Be Undervalued. The Investment Manager's investment program contemplates that a portion of the Partnership's portfolio may be invested in securities and other assets that the Investment Manager believes to be undervalued. The identification of such investment opportunities is a difficult task, and there are no assurances that such opportunities will be successfully recognized or acquired. While such investments offer the opportunities for above-average capital appreciation, they also involve a high degree of financial risk and can result in substantial losses. Returns generated from the Partnership's investments may not adequately compensate for the business and financial risks assumed. The current economic conditions and any future major economic recession can severely disrupt the markets for such investments and significantly impact their value. In addition, any such economic downturn can adversely affect the ability of the issuers of such obligations to repay principal and pay interest thereon and increase the incidence of default for such securities. Additionally, there can be no assurance that other investors will ever come to realize the value of some of these investments, and that they will ever increase in price. Furthermore, the Partnership may be forced to hold such investments for a substantial period of time before realizing their anticipated value. During this period, a portion of the Partnership's funds would be committed to the investments made, thus possibly preventing the Partnership from investing in other opportunities.

Short Sales. The Investment Manager's investment program contemplates that a portion of the Partnership's portfolio may be invested in selling securities short. Although the Investment Manager may sell short a variety of assets, it expects most short trades to be in equity securities. Short selling involves the sale of a security that the Partnership does not own and must borrow in order to make delivery in the hope of purchasing the same security at a later date at a lower price. In order to make delivery to the purchaser, the Partnership must borrow securities from a third-party lender. The Partnership subsequently returns the borrowed securities to the lender by delivering to the lender the securities it receives in the transaction or by purchasing securities in the open market. The Partnership must generally pledge cash with the lender equal to the market price of the borrowed securities. This deposit may be increased or decreased in accordance with changes in the market price of the borrowed securities. During the period in which the securities are borrowed, the lender typically retains its right to receive interest and dividends accruing to the securities. In exchange, in addition to lending the securities, the lender generally pays the Partnership a fee for the use of the Partnership's cash. This fee is based on prevailing interest rates, the availability of the particular security for borrowing and other market factors.

Theoretically, securities sold short are subject to unlimited risk of loss because there is no limit on the price that a security may appreciate before the short position is closed. In addition, the supply of securities that can be borrowed fluctuates from time to time. The Partnership may be subject to substantial losses if a security lender demands return of the lent securities and an alternative lending source cannot be found.

Small Companies. The Investment Manager may invest a portion of the Partnership's assets in small and/or unseasoned companies with small market capitalizations. While smaller companies generally have potential for rapid growth, they often involve higher risks because they may lack the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strength of larger companies. In addition, in many instances, the frequency and volume of their trading may be substantially less than is typical of larger companies. As a result, the securities of smaller companies may be subject to wider price fluctuations. When making large sales, the Partnership may have to sell portfolio holdings at discounts from quoted prices or may have to make a series of small sales over an extended period of time due to the lower trading volume of smaller company securities.

Leverage. When deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager and subject to applicable regulations, the Partnership will incur leverage in its investment program, whether directly through the use of borrowed funds, or indirectly through investment in certain types of financial instruments with inherent leverage, such as puts, calls and warrants, which may be purchased for a fraction of the price of the underlying securities while giving the purchaser the full benefit of movement in the market price of those underlying securities. While such strategies and techniques increase the opportunity to achieve higher returns on the amounts invested, they also increase the risk of loss. To the extent that the Partnership purchases securities with borrowed funds, its net assets will tend to increase or decrease at a greater rate than if borrowed funds are not used. The level of interest rates generally, and the rates at which such funds may be borrowed in particular, could affect the operating results of the Partnership. If the interest expense on this leverage were to exceed the net return on the investments made with borrowed funds, the Partnership's use of leverage would result in a lower rate of return than if the Partnership were not leveraged.

If the amount of leverage which the Partnership may have outstanding at any one time is large in relation to its capital, fluctuations in the market value of the Partnership's portfolio will have disproportionately large effects in relation to the Partnership's capital and the possibilities for profit and the risk of loss will therefore be increased. Any investment gains made with the additional leverage will generally cause the Net Asset Value of the Partnership to rise more rapidly than would otherwise be the case. Conversely, if the investment performance of the leveraged capital fails to cover its cost to the Partnership, the Net Asset Value of the Partnership will generally decline faster than would otherwise be the case.

Certain of the Partnership's trading and investment activities in securities and other financial instruments may be subject to Federal Reserve Board margin requirements, which are computed each day. When the market value of a particular open position changes to a point where the margin on deposit does not satisfy maintenance margin requirements, a "margin call" on the customer is made. If the customer does not deposit additional funds with the broker to meet the margin call within a reasonable time, the customer's position may be closed out. In the event of a precipitous drop in the value of the assets managed by the Partnership, the Partnership might not be able to liquidate assets quickly enough to pay off the margin debt and might suffer mandatory liquidation of positions in a declining market at relatively low prices, incurring substantial losses. With respect to the Partnership's trading activities, the Partnership, and not the Limited Partners personally, will be subject to margin calls.

Overall, the use of leverage, while providing the opportunity for a higher return on investments, also increases the volatility of such investments and the risk of loss.

Options and Other Derivative Instruments. The Investment Manager may invest, from time to time, a portion of the Partnership's assets in options and derivative instruments, including buying and writing puts and calls on some of the securities held by the Partnership. The prices of many derivative instruments, including many options and swaps, are highly volatile. The value of options and swap agreements depend primarily upon the price of the securities, indexes, currencies or other instruments underlying them. Price movements of options contracts and payments pursuant to swap agreements are also influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies. The Partnership is also subject to the risk of the failure of any of the exchanges on which its positions trade or of their clearinghouses or of counterparties. The cost of options is related, in part, to the degree of volatility of the underlying securities, currencies or other assets. Accordingly, options on highly volatile securities, currencies or other assets may be more expensive than options on other investments.

Put options and call options typically have similar structural characteristics and operational mechanics regardless of the underlying instrument or asset on which they are purchased or sold. A put option gives the purchaser of the option, upon payment of a premium, the right to sell, and the writer the obligation to buy, the underlying security, index, currency or other instrument or asset at the exercise price. A call option, upon payment of a premium, gives the purchaser of the option the right to buy, and the seller the obligation to sell, the underlying instrument or asset at the exercise price.

If a put or call option purchased by the Partnership were permitted to expire without being sold or exercised, the Partnership would lose the entire premium it paid for the option. The risk involved in writing a put option is that there could be a decrease in the market value of the underlying instrument or asset caused by rising interest rates or other factors. If this occurred, the option could be exercised and the underlying instrument or asset would then be sold to the Partnership at a higher price than its current market value. The risk involved in writing a call option is that there could be an increase in the market value of the underlying instrument or asset caused by declining interest rates or other factors. If this occurred, the option could be exercised and the underlying instrument or asset would then be sold by the Partnership at a lower price than its current market value.

Purchasing and writing put and call options and, in particular, writing "uncovered" options are highly specialized activities and entail greater than ordinary investment risks. In particular, the writer of an uncovered call option assumes the risk of a theoretically unlimited increase in the market price of the underlying instrument or asset above the exercise price of the option. This risk is enhanced if the instrument or asset being sold short is highly volatile and there is a significant outstanding short interest. These conditions exist in the stocks of many companies. The instrument or asset necessary to satisfy the exercise of the call option may be unavailable for purchase except at much higher prices. Purchasing instruments or assets to satisfy the exercise of the call option can itself cause the price of the instruments or assets to rise further, sometimes by a significant amount, thereby exacerbating the loss. Accordingly, the sale of an uncovered call option could result in a loss by the Partnership of all or a substantial portion of its assets.

Swaps and certain options and other custom instruments are subject to the risk of non-performance by the counterparty, including risks relating to the financial soundness and creditworthiness of the counterparty.

Hedging Transactions. Investments in financial instruments such as options and interest rate swaps, caps and floors, and other derivatives are commonly utilized by investment funds to hedge against fluctuations in the relative values of its portfolio positions as a result of changes in currency exchange rates, interest rates and/or the equity markets or sectors thereof. Any hedging against a decline in the value of portfolio positions does not eliminate fluctuations in the values of portfolio positions or prevent losses if the values of such positions decline, but establishes other positions designed to gain from those same developments, thus moderating the decline in the portfolio positions' value. Such hedging transactions also limit the opportunity for gain if the value of the portfolio positions should increase. Moreover, it may not be possible for the Partnership to hedge against a fluctuation at a price sufficient to protect the Partnership's assets from the decline in value of the portfolio positions anticipated as a result of such fluctuations. For example, the cost of options is related, in part, to the degree of volatility of the underlying instruments or assets. Accordingly, options on highly volatile instruments or assets may be more expensive than options on other instruments or assets and of limited utility in hedging against fluctuations in their prices.

The Investment Manager is not obligated to establish hedges for portfolio positions and may not do so. To the extent that hedges are implemented, their success is dependent on the Investment Manager's ability to correctly predict movements in the direction of currency and interest rates and the equity markets or sectors thereof.

Market or Interest Rate Risk. The Partnership may, from time to time, invest in fixed income securities and instruments. The price of most fixed income securities move in the opposite direction of the change in interest rates. For example, as interest rates rise, the prices of fixed income securities fall. If the Partnership holds a fixed income security to maturity, the change in its price before maturity may have little impact on the Partnership's performance. However, if the Partnership has to sell the fixed income security before the maturity date, an increase in interest rates could result in a loss to the Partnership.

Callable Securities. Many bonds, including agency, corporate and municipal bonds, and mortgage-backed securities, sometimes contain a provision that allows the issuer to "call" (i.e., redeem) all or part of the issue before the bond's maturity date. The issuer usually retains this right to refinance the bond in the future if market interest rates decline below the coupon rate on the outstanding debt security. From the investor's perspective, there are three disadvantages to the call provision. First, the cash flow pattern of a callable bond is not known with certainty. Second, because the issuer will call the bonds when interest rates have dropped, the Partnership is exposed to reinvestment rate risk – the Partnership will have to reinvest the proceeds received when the bond is called at lower interest rates. Finally, the capital appreciation potential of a bond will be reduced because the price of a callable bond may not rise much above the price at which the issuer may call the bond.

Maturity Risk. In certain situations, the Partnership may purchase a bond of a given maturity as an alternative to another bond of a different maturity. Ordinarily, under these circumstances, the Partnership will make an adjustment to account for the interest rate risk differential in the two bonds. This adjustment, however, makes an assumption about how the interest rates at different maturities will move. To the extent that the yield movements deviate from this assumption, there is a yield-curve or maturity risk. Another situation where yield-curve risk should be considered is in the analysis of bond swap transactions where the potential incremental returns are dependent entirely on the parallel shift assumption for the yield curve.

Inflation Risk. Inflation risk results from the variation in the value of cash flows from a fixed income security or instrument due to inflation, as measured in terms of purchasing power. For example, if the Partnership purchases a 5-year bond with a coupon rate of 5%, but the rate of inflation is 6%, then the purchasing power of the cash flow has declined. For all but inflation-linked bonds, adjustable bonds or floating rate bonds, the Partnership is exposed to inflation risk because the interest rate the issuer promises to make is fixed for the life of the security. To the extent that interest rates reflect the expected inflation rate, floating rate bonds have a lower level of inflation risk.

Downgrades in Fixed Income Debt Securities. Unless required by applicable law, the Partnership is not required to sell or dispose of any debt security that either loses its rating or has its rating reduced after the Partnership purchases such security.

Investments in Non-U.S. Investments. From time to time, the Investment Manager may invest and trade a portion of the Partnership's assets in non-U.S. securities and other assets (through ADRs and otherwise), which will give rise to risks relating to political, social and economic developments abroad, as well as risks resulting from the differences between the regulations to which U.S. and non-U.S. issuers and markets are subject. Such risks may include:

- Political or social instability, the seizure by foreign governments of company assets, acts of war or terrorism, withholding taxes on dividends and interest, high or confiscatory tax levels, and limitations on the use or transfer of portfolio assets.
- Enforcing legal rights in some foreign countries is difficult, costly and slow, and there are sometimes special problems enforcing claims against foreign governments.
- Non-U.S. securities and other assets often trade in currencies other than the U.S. dollar, and the Partnership may directly hold foreign currencies and purchase and sell foreign currencies through forward exchange contracts. Changes in currency exchange rates will affect the Partnership's Net Asset Value, the value of dividends and interest earned, and gains and losses realized on the sale of investments. An increase in the strength of the U.S. dollar relative to these other currencies may cause the value of the Partnership's investments to decline. Some foreign currencies are particularly volatile. Foreign governments may intervene in the currency markets, causing a decline in value or liquidity of the Partnership's foreign currency holdings. If the Partnership enters into forward foreign currency exchange contracts for hedging purposes, it may lose the benefits of advantageous changes in exchange rates. On the other hand, if the Partnership enters forward contracts for the purpose of increasing return, it may sustain losses.
- Non-U.S. securities and other markets may be less liquid, more volatile and less closely supervised by the government than in the United States. Foreign countries often lack uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, and there may be less public information about the operations of issuers in such markets.

Risks Associated with ADRs. The Partnership may purchase ADRs, which are certificates evidencing ownership of shares of a non-U.S. issuer, acting as alternatives to directly purchasing the underlying non-U.S. securities in their national markets and currencies. Such investments are subject to many of the risks associated with investing directly in non-U.S. securities. These risks include the political and economic risks of the underlying issuer's country, as well as, in the case of depositary receipts traded on non-U.S. markets, foreign exchange risk. ADRs may be sponsored or unsponsored. Unsponsored ADRs are established without the participation of the issuer. In addition, unsponsored ADRs may involve higher expenses, may not carry pass-through voting or other shareholder rights, and may be less liquid. The performance of ADRs may be different from the performance of the ordinary shares of the non-U.S. issuers to which they relate.

Emerging Markets. The Partnership may invest a portion of its assets in investments related to emerging market countries. The securities markets of emerging market countries as a whole have been volatile and the loans and securities of issuers in emerging markets tend to be subject to abrupt or erratic price movements. Investing a portion of the Partnership's assets in issuers in emerging markets will make the Partnership susceptible to a greater degree than otherwise would be the case to factors affecting emerging markets in general and issuers in emerging markets included in the Partnership's portfolio in particular, and may increase the volatility of the value of the Partnership's portfolio investments. The economies of these markets may differ significantly from the economies of certain developed countries in such respects as gross domestic product or gross national product, rate of inflation, currency depreciation, capital reinvestment, resource self-sufficiency, structural unemployment and balance of payments position. In particular, these economies frequently experience high levels of inflation. In addition, such countries may have: (1) restrictive national policies that limit the Partnership's investment opportunities; (2) limited information about their issuers; (3) a general lack of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, auditing practices and requirements compared to the standards of developed countries; (4) less governmental supervision and regulation of business and industry practices, securities exchanges, brokers and listed companies; (5) economic developments that may be slowed or reversed by unanticipated political or social events in such countries; and (6) a lack of capital market structure or market-oriented economy.

Systemic and market factors may affect the acquisition, payment for or ownership of investments including: (a) the prevalence of crime and corruption; (b) the inaccuracy or unreliability of business and financial information; (c) the instability or volatility of: (i) banking and financial systems, or the absence or inadequacy of an infrastructure to support such systems, (ii) custody and settlement infrastructure of the market in which such investments are traded and held, and (iii) the acts, omissions and operation of any securities depository; (d) the risk of the bankruptcy or insolvency of banking agents, counterparties to cash and securities transactions, registrars or transfer agents; and (e) the existence of market conditions that prevent the orderly execution or settlement of transactions or that affect the value of assets. Different clearance and settlement procedures may prevent the Partnership from making intended security purchases causing the Partnership to miss attractive investment opportunities, possibly resulting in either losses to or contract claims against the Partnership. The investment markets of many of the countries in which the Partnership may invest may also be smaller, less liquid, and subject to greater price volatility than developed markets. The Partnership's assets may be denominated in a variety of currencies subject to changes in currency exchange rates and in exchange control regulations.

Volatility of Currency Prices. In general, price movements of currencies are difficult to predict accurately because they are influenced by, among other things, changing supply and demand relationships; governmental, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies; national and international political and economic events; and changes in interest rates. Governments from time to time intervene in certain markets in order to influence prices directly.

Currency Control. It is sometimes the case that governments alter the exchange rate policy of a currency without advance notice, and it may not always be possible to foresee a change in policy.

Exchange Rate Fluctuations. Investments that are denominated in a foreign currency are subject to the risk that the value of a particular currency will change in relation to one or more other currencies. The Partnership intends to value its holdings and to make distributions in U.S. dollars. Thus, changes in currency exchange rates adverse to the U.S. dollar may affect adversely the value of such holdings. Among the factors that may affect currency values are trade balances, the appropriateness of interest rates, the shape of the yield curve, the degree of central bank independence and credibility, differences in relative values of similar assets in different currencies, long-term opportunities for investment and capital appreciation and political developments.

Risks of Trading Futures. The Investment Manager is eligible to trade a limited amount of commodities or financial futures on behalf of the Partnership under a provision in the CEA that provides an exemption from registration as a commodity pool operator. Trading futures is a highly risky strategy. Whenever the Partnership purchases a particular future, there is a possibility that the Partnership may sustain a total loss of its purchase price. The equity values of leveraged positions using futures are, in general, much more volatile than the prices of securities, such as stocks and bonds. As a result, the risk of loss in trading futures is substantially greater than in trading those securities. The prices of futures react strongly to the prices of the underlying commodities. The prices of these underlying products, in turn, rise and fall based on changes in interest rates, international balances of trade, changes in governments, wars, weather events and a host of other factors that are entirely beyond the Investment Manager's control and very difficult (and perhaps impossible) to predict.

Forward Trading. Forward contracts and options thereon, unlike futures contracts, are not traded on exchanges and are not standardized; rather, banks and dealers act as principals in these markets, negotiating each transaction on an individual basis. Forward and "cash" trading is substantially unregulated; there is no limitation on daily price movements and speculative position limits are not applicable. The principals who deal in the forward markets are not required to continue to make markets in the currencies or commodities they trade and these markets can experience periods of illiquidity, sometimes of significant duration. There have been periods during which certain participants in these markets have refused to quote prices for certain currencies or commodities or have quoted prices with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they were prepared to buy and that at which they were prepared to sell. Disruptions can occur in any market traded by the Partnership due to unusual trading volume, political intervention or other factors. The imposition of controls by governmental authorities might also limit such forward trading to less than that which the Investment Manager would otherwise recommend, to the possible detriment of the Partnership. Market illiquidity or disruption could result in major losses to the Partnership.

Over-the-Counter-Trading. Financial instruments that may be purchased or sold by the Partnership may include instruments not traded on an exchange. The risk of nonperformance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which the Partnership can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between "bid" and "asked" prices for financial instruments that are not traded on an exchange. Financial instruments not traded on exchanges are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions.

To the extent that the Partnership engages in these transactions, the Partnership must rely on the creditworthiness of its counterparty. In certain instances, counterparty or credit risk is affected by the lack of a central clearinghouse for foreign exchange trades. To reduce their credit risk exposure, the Partnership may trade in the forward foreign currency market through money center banks and leading brokerage firms.

Position Limits. Position limits imposed by various regulators or regulations may also limit the Partnership's ability to affect desired trades. Position limits are the maximum amounts of gross, net long or net short positions that any one person or entity may own or control in a particular financial instrument. All positions owned or controlled by the same person or entity, even if in different accounts, may be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the applicable position limits have been exceeded. Thus, even if the Partnership does not intend to exceed applicable position limits, it is possible that different accounts managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates may be aggregated. If at any time positions managed by the Investment Manager were to exceed applicable position limits, the Investment Manager would be required to liquidate positions, which might include positions of the Partnership, to the extent necessary to come within those limits. Further, to avoid exceeding the position limits, the Partnership might have to forego or modify certain of its contemplated trades.

Risk of Default or Bankruptcy of Third Parties. The Partnership may engage in transactions in securities and other financial instruments and assets that involve counterparties. Under certain conditions, the Partnership could suffer losses if a counterparty to a transaction were to default or if the market for certain securities or other financial instruments or assets were to become illiquid. In addition, the Partnership could suffer losses if there were a default or bankruptcy by certain other third parties, including brokerage firms and banks with which the Partnership does business, or to which securities or other financial instruments or assets have been entrusted for custodial purposes.

Potential Custody and Brokerage Risk. The Partnership may rely on its relationship(s) with brokers and/or custodians. There are risks involved in dealing with the custodians or brokers who may settle Partnership trades. The Partnership may maintain custody accounts with a broker. Although the Investment Manager intends to monitor the Partnership's broker(s) and/or custodian(s), if any, there is no guarantee that such broker(s) and/or custodian(s) that the Partnership may use from time to time, will not become bankrupt or insolvent. While both the U.S. Bankruptcy Code, as amended, and the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970 seek to protect customer property in the event of a bankruptcy, insolvency, failure, or liquidation of a broker-dealer, there is no certainty that, in the event of a failure of a broker-dealer that has custody of Partnership assets, the Partnership would not incur losses due to its assets being unavailable for a period of time, the ultimate receipt of less than full recovery of its assets, or both.

The Partnership and/or its broker or custodian, if any, may appoint sub-custodians in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions to hold the assets of the Partnership. The appointing broker and/or custodian may not be responsible for cash or assets which are held by sub-custodians in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions, nor for any losses suffered by the Partnership as a result of the bankruptcy or insolvency of any such sub-custodian. The Partnership may therefore have a potential exposure on the default of any sub-custodian and, as a result, many of the protections that would normally be provided to a fund by a custodian may not be available to the Partnership. Under certain circumstances, including certain transactions where the Partnership's assets are pledged as collateral for leverage from a non-broker-dealer custodian or a non-broker-dealer affiliate of the broke and/or custodian, or where the Partnership's assets are held at a non-U.S. custodian, the securities and other assets deposited with the custodian or broker may not be clearly identified as being assets of the Partnership and hence the Partnership could be exposed to a credit risk with regard to such parties. Custody services in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions remain undeveloped and, accordingly, there is a transaction and custody risk of dealing in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions. Given the undeveloped state of regulations on custodial activities and bankruptcy, insolvency, or mismanagement in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions, the ability of the Partnership to recover assets held by a sub-custodian in the event of the sub-custodian's bankruptcy or insolvency could be in doubt, as the Partnership may be subject to significantly less favorable laws than many of the protections that would be available under U.S. laws. In addition, there may be practical or time problems associated with enforcing the Partnership's rights to its assets in the case of a bankruptcy or insolvency of any such party.

Temporary Defensive Investments. If warranted under certain economic or market conditions or for other reasons, the Investment Manager may temporarily invest up to 100% of the Partnership's assets outside the scope of its principal investment focus in U.S. government securities, such as Treasury bills, notes and bonds, cash, money-market funds, certificates of deposit, time deposits, bankers' acceptances and other short-term debt instruments bearing a reasonable rate of interest. In such circumstances, the Partnership may not achieve its investment objectives.

Other Instruments. The Partnership may take advantage of opportunities with respect to certain other instruments that are not presently contemplated for use or that are currently not available, but that may be developed, to the extent such opportunities are both consistent with the investment objective of the Partnership and legally permissible. Special risks may apply to instruments that are invested in by the Partnership in the future that cannot be determined at this time or until such instruments are developed or invested in by the Partnership.

Specific Risks Associated with Investing in Illiquid Investments

You should note that certain of the following risk factors specifically applicable with respect to Illiquid Investments have been discussed under "—Market Risks—General" above and are included in this sub-section for ease of reference.

Special Situations. The Partnership will invest in companies involved in (or the target of) acquisition attempts or tender offers or in companies involved in work-outs, liquidations, spin-offs, reorganizations, bankruptcies and similar transactions. In any investment opportunity involving any such type of special situation, there exists the risk that the contemplated transaction either will be unsuccessful, take considerable time or result in a distribution of cash or a new security the value of which will be less than the purchase price to the Partnership of the security or other financial instrument in respect of which such distribution is received. Similarly, if an anticipated transaction does not in fact occur, the Partnership may be required to sell its investment at a loss. In connection with such transaction (or otherwise), the Partnership may purchase securities on a when-issued basis, which means that delivery and payment take place sometime after the date of the commitment to purchase and are often conditioned upon the occurrence of a subsequent event, such as approval and consummation of a merger, reorganization or debt restructuring. The purchase price and/or interest create receivable with respect to a when-issue security are fixed when the Partnership enters into the commitment. Such securities are subject to changes in market value prior to their delivery. Because there is substantial uncertainty concerning the outcome of transactions involving companies in which the Partnership may invest, there is a potential risk of loss by the Partnership of its entire investment in such companies.

Alternative Investments. In the alternative asset class, the Investment Manager may invest assets of the Partnership in other pooled investment vehicles managed by the Investment Manager. The pooled investment vehicles managed by the Investment Manager may follow a variety of investment strategies including investments in commodities, managed futures, inflation-adjusted bonds, global real estate, "hedge fund strategies", which may be broadly characterized as "hedge funds", and mezzanine debt or Illiquid Investments.

Withdrawal Considerations. The Partnership is permitted to invest in Illiquid Investments. There is no market for the Interests, and no market is expected to develop. Therefore, in certain circumstances, the Partnership may not be able to withdraw invested assets with respect to Illiquid Investments at a time that would be most advantageous to the Partnership or at a time that would allow the Partnership to comply with its withdrawal obligations to its Limited Partners. In this regard, the General Partner has the right to suspend in whole or in part certain withdrawal rights of the Limited Partners to the extent that the Partnership is unable to obtain liquidity from its investments in one or more of the Illiquid Investments. The illiquidity of Illiquid Investments could have a material adverse effect on the Partnership, as well as the ability of the Limited Partners to liquidate their investments in the Partnership during permitted withdrawal periods. Consequently, Limited Partners may be unable to liquidate their Interests except by withdrawing from the Partnership in accordance with the terms of this Memorandum, and, even in such event, payment of withdrawal proceeds may be delayed for a significant period of time. Limited Partners may be unable to liquidate their investment promptly in the event of an emergency or for any other reason. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) there will be no limitation on the percentage of the Partnership's portfolio that may be carried in Side Pocket Accounts; and (ii) any investment made by Series 1 into the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely.

High Growth Industry Related Risks. The Partnership may have significant investments in the securities of high growth companies (e.g., technology, communications and healthcare). It is noted that these securities may be very volatile. In addition, these companies may face undeveloped or limited markets, have limited products, have no proven profit-making history, may operate at a loss or with substantial variations in operating results from period to period, have limited access to capital and/or be in the developmental stages of their businesses, have limited ability to protect their rights to certain patents, copyrights, trademarks and other trade secrets, or be otherwise adversely affected by the extremely competitive markets in which many of their competitors operate.

Risk of Illiquid Investments. Illiquid Investments involve a high degree of financial risk. There can be no assurance that Illiquid Investments will be profitable or that substantial losses will not occur. The companies in which the Illiquid Investments will invest are often dependent on the skills of a small number of executives and are vulnerable to changes in technology, fluctuations in demand for their products, changing interest rates and other factors. There can also be no assurance that the Illiquid Investments will be repaid, be able to sell or otherwise liquidate their investments at the optimal time or price. Therefore, there can be no assurance that the rate of return objectives of the Illiquid Investments will be realized or that there will be any return of capital to the Limited Partners.

Illiquid and Long-Term Investments. It is anticipated that there will be a significant period of time before certain Illiquid Investments will have completed their investments. Such investments may take several years from the date of initial investment to reach a state of maturity when realization of the investment can be achieved. Although investments by Illiquid Investments occasionally may generate some current income, private investment transaction structures typically will not provide for liquidity of the Illiquid Investment's investment prior to that time. The return of capital and the realization of gains, if any, from such investment will generally occur only upon the partial or complete disposition or refinancing of the investment. In light of the foregoing, it is likely that no significant return from the disposition of Illiquid Investment's underlying investments will occur for a substantial period of time from the commencement of the Illiquid Investment's operations. It is unlikely that there will be a public market for the securities held by the Illiquid Investment and/or its portfolio companies at the time of their acquisition. The Illiquid Investment generally will not be able to sell its securities publicly unless the issuer has consummated a public offering of its securities and such offered securities are registered under applicable securities laws, unless an exemption from such registration requirements is available. In addition, in some cases, the Partnership may be prohibited by contract from selling certain securities for a period of time and, as a result, may not be permitted to sell an underlying investment at a time it might otherwise desire to do so. Further, disposition of such investments may require a lengthy time period or may result in distributions in kind to investors.

Investments in Less Established Companies. The Partnership may invest a portion of its assets in the securities of less established companies, or early stage companies. Investments in such early stage companies may involve greater risks than those generally associated with investments in more established companies. For instance, less established companies tend to have smaller capitalizations and fewer resources and, therefore, are often more vulnerable to financial failure. Such companies also may have shorter operating histories on which to judge future performance and in many cases, if operating, will have negative cash flow. In the case of start-up enterprises, such companies may not have significant or any operating revenues. In addition, less mature companies could be more susceptible to irregular accounting or other fraudulent practices. Furthermore, to the extent there is any public market for the securities held by the Illiquid Investment, securities of less established companies may be subject to more abrupt and erratic market price movements than those of larger, more established companies.

Some of the investments expected to be made by an Illiquid Investment would be considered highly speculative and may result in the loss of the Special Situation Investment's entire investment therein. There can be no assurance that any such losses will be offset by gains (if any) realized on the Illiquid Investment's other investments.

Investments in Restructurings or Underperforming Companies. The Partnership may make investments in companies that are experiencing or are expected to experience financial difficulties, which such companies may never overcome. Such investments could, in certain circumstances, subject the Partnership to additional potential liabilities, which may exceed the value of the Partnership's original investment therein. Such investments of the Partnership could also be subject to federal bankruptcy law and state fraudulent transfer laws, which may vary from state to state, if the securities relating to such investments were issued with the intent of hindering, delaying or defrauding creditors or, in certain circumstances, if the issuer receives less than reasonably equivalent value or fair consideration in return for issuing such securities. If such investments constitute debt and such debt is used for a buyout of shareholders, this risk is greater than if the debt proceeds are used for day-to-day operations or organic growth. If a court were to find that the issuance of the securities was a fraudulent transfer or conveyance, the court could void the payment obligations under the securities, further subordinate the securities to other existing and future indebtedness of the issuer or require the Partnership to repay any amounts received by it with respect to the securities. In the event of a finding that a fraudulent transfer or conveyance occurred, the Partnership may not receive any repayment on the securities.

Under the Bankruptcy Code, a lender that has inappropriately exercised control of the management and policies of a company may have its claims against the company subordinated or disallowed, or may be found liable for damages suffered by parties as a result of such actions. In addition, under certain circumstances, payments to the Partnership and distributions by the Partnership ion Investment to its limited partners may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance or a preferential payment. Such debt may also be disallowed or subordinated to the claims of other creditors if the Partnership is found to have engaged in other inequitable conduct resulting in harm to other parties. The Partnership's underlying investment may be treated as equity if it is deemed to be a contribution to capital, or if the Partnership attempts to control the outcome of the business affairs of a company prior to its filing under the Bankruptcy Code. While the Partnership will attempt to avoid taking the types of action that would lead to such liability, there can be no assurance that such claims will not be asserted or that the Partnership will be able successfully to defend against them.

REGULATORY AND TAX RISKS

General Regulatory Risks. Statutes, regulations and policies are continually under review by the U.S. Congress and state legislatures and federal and state regulatory agencies. The introduction of new legislation or amendments to existing legislation and regulations (including changes in how they are interpreted or implemented) by governments, the decisions of courts and tribunals and the rulings and decisions of regulatory authorities, can adversely impact the Partnership's returns. The regulatory environment for private investment funds is evolving, and changes in the regulation of these funds may adversely affect the value of investments held by the Partnership, the cost of compliance with applicable regulations, and the ability of the Partnership to obtain the leverage it might otherwise obtain or to pursue its trading strategies.

Regulatory Risks Related to the Highland Transaction. In connection with the Highland Transaction (if consummated), there can be no assurance that such transaction (if consummated) will not result in adverse regulatory consequences (including, without limitation, being characterized as a "change of control" under applicable laws), even though the Highland Transaction only contemplates the acquisition of non-voting limited partnership interests in Highland.

Strategy Restrictions. Certain institutions may be restricted from directly utilizing investment strategies of the type in which the Partnership may engage. Such institutions, including entities subject to ERISA, should consult their own advisors, counsel and accountants to determine what restrictions may apply and whether an investment in the Partnership is appropriate.

Trading Limitations. For all securities, instruments and/or assets listed on an exchange, including options listed on a public exchange, the exchange generally has the right to suspend or limit trading under certain circumstances. Such suspensions or limits could render certain strategies difficult to complete or continue and subject the Partnership to loss. Also, such a suspension could render it impossible for the Investment Manager to liquidate positions and thereby expose the Partnership to potential losses relating thereto.

Limited Regulatory Oversight. The Partnership's investments are not supervised or monitored by any regulatory authority. The Partnership is not registered as an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act. Although the Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the SEC, neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is registered as a commodity pool operator, pursuant to an exemption provided under Rule 4.13(a)(3) of the CEA. Consequently, Limited Partners will not benefit from some of the protections afforded by these statutes, including oversight by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

Prevention of Money Laundering and Terrorism. The Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001, as amended (the "USA PATRIOT Act"), signed into law on and effective as of October 26, 2001, requires that financial institutions, a term that includes banks, broker-dealers and investment companies, establish and maintain compliance programs to guard against money laundering activities. The USA PATRIOT Act requires the Secretary of the U.S. Treasury ("Treasury") to prescribe regulations in connection with anti- money laundering policies of financial institutions. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board, the Treasury and the SEC are currently studying what types of investment vehicles should be required to adopt anti-money laundering procedures, and it is unclear at this time whether such procedures will apply to pooled investment vehicles such as the Partnership. Future rules and regulations regarding money laundering or proceeds of crime could regulate the Partnership. In addition, in April 2000, the Treasury Department published proposed regulations that would require certain investment advisors to establish an anti-money laundering program. It is possible that there could be promulgated legislation or regulations that would require the Partnership or its affiliates, in connection with the establishment of anti-money laundering procedures, to share information with governmental authorities with respect to investors in the Interests. Such legislation and/or regulations could require the Partnership to implement additional restrictions on the transfer of the Interests. The Partnership reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of investors in the Interests, and the source of the payment of subscription monies, or as is necessary to comply with any customer identification programs required by Financial Crimes Enforcement Network and/or the SEC or such information as may be required in order for the Partnership to discharge its obligations under the laws of the Cayman Islands (including pursuant to the Proceeds of Criminal Conduct Law (2005 Revision)). In the event of delay or failure by the applicant to produce any information required for verification purposes, an application for or transfer of the Interests and the subscription monies relating thereto may be refused.

Recent Developments in the Financial Services Industry. Recent developments in the U.S. financial markets have heightened the risks associated with the investment activities and operations of hedge funds, including without limitation, those resulting from a substantial reduction in the availability of credit and the increased cost of short-term credit, a decrease in market liquidity and an increased risk of insolvency of brokers, custodians and other counterparties. In addition, in July of 2010, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act ("Dodd-Frank") was passed which imposes many new requirements and restrictions on the financial services industry that may likely affect the business, operations and performance of hedge funds, such as increased reporting requirements, limitations on certain trading activity and regulatory oversight by different agencies, such as the newly created Financial Stability Oversight Counsel. Even with the passage of Dodd-Frank, the implications of its passage for the hedge fund industry as a whole still remain somewhat unclear. The hedge fund industry may continue to be adversely affected by the recent developments in the financial markets in the U.S. and abroad, and any future legal, regulatory, or governmental action and developments in such financial markets and the broader U.S. economy could have an adverse effect on the Partnership or the Partnership's business, operations and performance.

Enhanced Regulation of Swaps. The Wall Street Transparency and Accountability Act of 2010 (the "WSTAA") will, subject to exceptions for certain hedgers, (1) require swaps accepted for clearing by a derivatives clearing organization (a "DCO") or for trading through a designated contract market or swaps-execution facility to be so cleared and traded, (2) require margin for almost all swap transactions, (3) subject traders with a "substantial position" in swaps to registration and regulation requirements as a "major swap participant" or "swap dealer", and (4) impose position limits on swaps either individually or in the aggregate with respect to positions in commodity-futures contracts. Due to the new requirements imposed by the WSTAA, the Partnership may experience increased transaction costs to pay for the clearing, execution and segregation obligations. In addition, margin requirements may increase once margin is set by DCOs with input from the CFTC, which may limit the Partnership's ability to engage in leverage and limit the Partnership's return. The application of position limits to swap contracts may also limit the Partnership's ability to concentrate in any particular contract or exposure to an underlying commodity and may negatively impact the Partnership's ability to take advantage of current market trends or conditions. Any tightening in the market for swaps may significantly impact the Partnership and its returns. In addition, if the Partnership were deemed to be a swap dealer or a major swap participant under WSTAA, the Partnership may be required to register with the CFTC and would be subject to a number of regulatory requirements that would significantly impact the Partnership's legal obligations and its returns.

Tax Risk. The tax aspects of an investment in the Partnership are complicated and each investor should have them reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles. The Partnership is not intended and should not be expected to provide any tax shelter, but is organized as a limited partnership to avoid corporate taxation and to permit any distributions it might make to be made without being taxed as dividends. No assurance can be given that legislative, administrative or judicial changes will not occur which will alter, either prospectively or retroactively, the tax considerations or risk factors discussed in this Memorandum.

The tax consequences to a Limited Partner of an investment in the Partnership are uncertain. All or substantially all of the assets of the Partnership are expected to be invested in Illiquid Investments. Such investments are often structured as "pass through" entities for tax purposes and therefore may generate significant taxable income to the Limited Partners without any corresponding liquidity from such investments. As a result, an investment in the Partnership may be unsuitable for those investors that do not receive a corresponding deduction for such allocated income.

Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager makes any representations or warranties regarding any tax matters. Prospective investors are strongly urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal, state and local and non-U.S. tax consequences to them arising from an investment in the Partnership, and should rely on the advice of their own tax advisors with respect to the possible impact on its investment in the Partnership of any future legislation or administrative or judicial action. You should review the section entitled "TAXATION" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Interests.

Tax-Exempt Entities. Certain prospective Limited Partners may be subject to federal and state laws, rules and regulations that may regulate their participation in the Partnership, or their engaging, directly or indirectly through an investment in the Partnership, in investment strategies of the types that the Partnership utilizes from time to time. Tax-exempt entities should consider the applicability to them of the provisions relating to UBTI (as defined below). Investments in the Partnership by entities subject to ERISA and other tax-exempt entities require special consideration. See "ERISA CONSIDERATIONS" and "TAXATION—Tax-Exempt Investors".

Accounting Rules. The Partnership's assets and liabilities are valued in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. However, for purposes of preparing the Partnership's annual audited financial statements, which are prepared in accordance with GAAP, certain of the Partnership's assets and liabilities may be valued in a manner that, while consistent with GAAP, may be different from the manner in which such assets are valued in accordance with the valuation policies set forth in the Partnership Agreement.

The General Partner may at any time choose to change the Partnership's accounting guidelines from GAAP to the IFRS. In such event, the financial performance of the Partnership, as determined under IFRS, may vary from those determined under GAAP.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Limited Partners.

No Obligation of Full-Time Service. None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates has any obligation to devote its full time to the business of the Partnership. Each is only required to devote such time to the Partnership as the General Partner deems necessary to accomplish the purposes of the Partnership, and each may engage in other business activities, including competing ventures and/or unrelated employment, which may result in various conflicts of interest between such persons and the Partnership.

Services to Affiliated Funds. In addition to managing the Partnership and its investments, each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may provide investment management and other services to other parties and may manage and/or establish Affiliated Funds in the future, including those that may employ an investment program and strategy similar to that of the Partnership. Specifically, as of the date hereof: (i) the Investment Manager acts as the investment manager to the IDF Fund that is structured as an insurance-dedicated fund and is expected to invest a portion of its assets in the Partnership; (ii) Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, is the general partner of the IDF Fund; (iii) the Principal is the managing member and controlling person of Atlas IDF GP, LLC; and (iv) the Investment Manager acts as the investment subadvisor to a series of SALI Multi-Series Fund, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership, and provides certain discretionary investment advisory or consulting services to such series.

The investments made by Affiliated Funds that may be managed by the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates in the future may compete with investments for the Partnership's account, and the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates may decide to invest the funds of these Affiliated Funds rather than the assets of the Partnership in a particular security or strategy. In addition, the Investment Manager and/or such other persons will determine the allocation of funds by and among the Partnership and the Affiliated Funds to investment strategies and techniques on whatever basis they decide is appropriate or desirable in their sole and absolute discretion. The records of these Affiliated Funds will not be made available to Limited Partners. Nonetheless, in the event that certain securities, instruments and other assets are suitable for acquisition by the Partnership and by other accounts managed by the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates, and the Investment Manager or such other persons are not able to acquire the desired aggregate amount of such securities, instruments and other assets on terms and conditions which they deem advisable, the Investment Manager and such persons will endeavor in good faith to allocate the limited amount of such investment opportunities among the various accounts for which they consider to be suitable.

Certain Potential Conflicts Between the Principal and Highland Related to the Series 1 Interests. The Principal was previously a Partner and Co-Head of Private Equity at Highland, an investment manager with significant assets under management located in Dallas, Texas. Although Mr. Honis has retired from that position, he still currently serves on: (x) the Board of Trustees for each of Highland's affiliated registered investment companies, and receives compensation in connection with each of the foregoing, and (y) the Board of Directors for American HomePatient, Inc. and Turtle Bay Resort, LLC, which are portfolio companies of investment funds operated by Highland, and receives compensation in connection with each of the foregoing. Additionally, as part of his retirement, Mr. Honis has received or is in the process of receiving payments in the total amount of approximately $3 million from certain affiliates of Highland.

In addition, pursuant to the Shared Services Agreement, Highland serves as the Shared Services Provider, which provides the Investment Manager and the Partnership with certain administrative, information technology, accounting, tax, back-office and other services. In addition, the Shared Services Provider may be (but, as of the date hereof, is not) engaged by the Partnership to act as the Partnership's Administrator, pursuant to a separate Administration Agreement.

Further, the Investment Manager and Highland have had preliminary discussions concerning the potential Highland Transaction. Although, as of the date hereof, the Partnership and Highland have not actively negotiated documentation for the legal and economic terms of the Highland Transaction (and there can be no assurances that such transaction will be consummated), it is nonetheless the intention of such parties that the transaction should come about.

In light of the foregoing, the Principal, and indirectly the Investment Manager, are in a position of conflict with respect to the ultimate decision by the Partnership regarding whether it pursues the Highland Transaction, and under what terms (if any) it agrees to participate in any such transaction.

Also see "—Potential Directorship Positions; Other Roles" herein.

Highland Transaction; Limited Control. If the Highland Transaction is consummated, it is currently contemplated that the Partnership would acquire only limited partnership interests in Highland. As with investments in non-controlling interests in other partnerships, the Highland Transaction may involve special risks associated with the possibility that the controlling principals of Highland may: (i) have economic or business interests or goals that are inconsistent with those of the Partnership, (ii) take actions contrary to the instructions or requests of the Partnership or contrary to the Partnership's policies or objectives, (iii) be unable or unwilling to fulfill its obligations under the organizational/governing documents, and/or (iv) experience financial difficulties. The occurrence of such problems could have a material adverse effect on the business and prospects of the Partnership's investment in the Highland Transaction and may affect management decisions and exit strategies in a manner adverse to the Partnership's interests.

Conflicts Related to Shared Services Provider. The Investment Manager has certain affiliated entities that may provide services with respect to the IDF Fund, as well as the Partnership and certain investments held by the Partnership. The Shared Services Provider may provide services for the benefit of the Partnership under the Shared Services Agreement and/or may incur reimbursable expenses on behalf of the Partnership and/or the Investment Manager. In addition, the Shared Services Provider may be (but, as of the date hereof, is not) engaged by the Partnership to act as the Partnership's Administrator, pursuant to a separate Administration Agreement. The Principal is a former Partner and former Co-Head of Private Equity of the Shared Services Provider.

Potential Directorship Positions; Other Roles. The Investment Manager Affiliates may, subject to applicable law, serve as directors (whether supervisory or managing), officers, personnel, employees, partners, agents, nominees or signatories, and receive arm's length fees in connection with such service, for the Partnership or other entities that operate in the same or a related line of business as the Partnership, for other clients managed by the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates, or for any portfolio company of the Partnership, and the Partnership shall have no right to any such fees. In serving in these multiple capacities, they may have obligations to such other clients or investors in those entities, the fulfillment of which may not be in the best interests of the Partnership. Also see "—Certain Potential Conflicts Between the Principal and Highland Related to the Series 1 Interests" herein.

The Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates may act as an underwriter, arranger or placement agent, or otherwise participate in the origination, structuring, negotiation, syndication or offering of investments purchased by the Partnership. Such transactions are on an arm's-length basis and may be subject to arm's-length fees. There is no expectation for preferential access to transactions involving investments that are underwritten, originated, arranged or placed by the Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates and the Partnership shall not have any right to any such fees.

Potential Cross-Trades. The Investment Manager may effect client cross-transactions where the Investment Manager causes a transaction to be effected between the Partnership and another client advised by it or any of its affiliates. The Investment Manager may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Partnership any time that the Investment Manager believes such transaction to be fair to the Partnership and such other client. By purchasing an Interest in the Partnership, a Limited Partner is deemed to have consented to such client cross-transactions between the Partnership and another client of the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates.

Diverse Limited Partners. The Limited Partners may include taxable and tax-exempt entities and persons or entities resident of or organized in various jurisdictions. As a result, conflicts of interest may arise in connection with decisions made by the General Partner that may be more beneficial for one type of Limited Partner than for another. In making such decisions, the General Partner intends to consider the investment objectives of the Partnership as a whole, not the investment objectives of any Limited Partner individually.

Soft Dollars. The General Partner and the Investment Manager may be offered soft dollars in the form of research and brokerage and other products or services, which may be utilized by the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective affiliates in connection with the services they offer to clients other than the Partnership. The use of soft dollars presents the Investment Manager with potential conflicts of interest and may provide the Investment Manager with incentives to: (i) use certain brokers who may provide certain soft dollar benefits that other brokers may not, without regard to its obligations to the Partnership (including, without limitation, its best execution obligations); or (ii) trade more actively in order to generate more soft dollars and thereby reduce its expenses.

Referral of Investors. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may sell Interests through broker-dealers and pay a marketing fee or commission in connection with such activities, including ongoing payments, at the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own expense. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may also deduct a percentage of the amount invested by a Limited Partner in the Partnership to pay sales fees or charges, on a fully disclosed basis, to a broker-dealer based upon the capital contribution of such Limited Partner introduced to the Partnership by such broker-dealer. Any such sales fees or charges would be assessed against the referred Limited Partner and would reduce the amount actually invested by such Limited Partner in the Partnership. Such broker-dealers may have a conflict of interest in advising prospective investors to purchase Interests, as the broker-dealers are often only compensated upon the investment of the prospective investors.

Lack of Separate Representation; Potential Conflicts of Counsel. Neither the Partnership Agreement nor any of the agreements, contracts and arrangements between the Partnership, on the one hand, and the General Partner or the Investment Manager, on the other hand, were or will be the result of arm's-length negotiations. The attorneys, accountants and others who have performed services for the Partnership in connection with this offering, and who will perform services for the Partnership in the future, have been and will be selected by the General Partner. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the interests of prospective investors or Limited Partners. You are therefore urged to consult your own counsel as to the terms and provisions of the Partnership Agreement and all subscription and other related documents.

In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has represented Highland and affiliates at different times over a period lasting over a decade. It is currently expected that Sadis & Goldberg LLP will represent the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the establishment of the Partnership and the IDF Fund, the possible consummation of the Highland Transaction, and certain related matters. The Principal and his affiliates are aware of the representation by Sadis & Goldberg LLP of Highland and affiliates.

Valuation of Assets. The Administrator will calculate the net asset value of the Partnership (based upon information provided by the Investment Manager). Such calculations could be incorrect, delayed or subject to significant adjustments, any of which events could adversely affect the valuation of the Partnership's investments. The Investment Manager intends to engage an independent third-party valuation agent (in addition to the Administrator) to appraise the Partnership's interests in Illiquid Investments. Partnership If the Investment Manager determines, in its sole discretion, that the valuation of any security, commodity, option or other financial instrument pursuant to the valuation methodologies described herein does not fairly represent its market value, the Investment Manager will value such security, option or other financial instrument as it reasonably determines. Likewise, any securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments that have no public market, investments in other asset classes (including those in Side Pocket Accounts), and all other assets of the Partnership for which a valuation methodology is not specified, will be valued by the Investment Manager in a manner determined in good faith to reflect their fair market value. The Investment Manager has a conflict of interest in that it will receive a higher Management Fee if the Partnership's assets are given a favorable valuation. See "SUMMARY OF OFFERING AND PARTNERSHIP TERMS—Determination of Net Asset Value".

The foregoing list of risk factors and conflicts of interest does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks and conflicts of interest involved in an investment in the Partnership. Offerees should read this entire Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement and consult with their own advisors before deciding to purchase Interests.

ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

An investment of benefit plan assets in the Partnership may raise issues under ERISA and the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("Code"). ERISA and the Code impose certain duties on persons who are fiduciaries of a Plan (as defined below) and prohibit certain transactions involving the assets of a Plan and its fiduciaries or other interested parties. Under ERISA and the Code, any person who exercises any discretionary authority or control over the administration of a Plan or the management or disposition of the assets of a Plan, or who renders investment advice for a fee or other compensation to a Plan, is generally considered to be a fiduciary of the Plan.

In considering an investment in the Partnership of a portion of the assets of any employee benefit plan (including a "Keogh" plan) subject to the fiduciary and prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA or the Code or similar provisions under applicable state law (collectively, a "Plan"), a Plan fiduciary should determine, in light of the risks and limited liquidity inherent in an investment in the Partnership, whether the investment is in accordance with the documents and instruments governing the Plan and the applicable provisions of ERISA or similar law relating to a fiduciary's duties to the Plan. Furthermore, absent an exemption, the fiduciaries of a Plan should not purchase Interests with the assets of any Plan if the Investment Manager or any affiliate thereof is a fiduciary or other "party in interest" or "disqualified person" (collectively, a "party in interest") with respect to such Plan.

PLAN ASSETS

Regulations promulgated under ERISA by the U.S. Department of Labor ("Plan Asset Regulations") generally provide that when a Plan subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code acquires an equity interest in an entity that is neither a "publicly-offered security" nor a security issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act, the Plan's assets include both the equity interest and an undivided interest in each of the underlying assets of the entity, unless it is established either that equity participation in the entity by "benefit plan investors" is not "significant" or that the entity is an "operating company", in each case as defined in the Plan Asset Regulations. The Interests will not constitute "publicly offered" securities or securities issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act, and it is not expected that the Partnership will qualify as an "operating company" under the Plan Asset Regulations. For purposes of the Plan Asset Regulations, equity participation in an entity by benefit plan investors will not be "significant" so long as they own, in the aggregate less than 25%, directly or indirectly, of the value of each class of such entity's equity. For purposes of such calculation, equity interests held by persons (other than a benefit plan investor) with discretionary authority or control over the assets of the entity or who provide investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, and any affiliates thereof, are disregarded. For purposes of this 25% test ("Benefit Plan Investor Test"), "benefit plan investors" include: employee benefit plans subject to the provisions of Part 4 of Title I of ERISA and plans subject to Section 4975 of the Code, including "Keogh" plans and individual retirement accounts ("IRAs"). The following are not included in the definition of benefit plan investor: employee benefit plans maintained outside the U.S. by foreign companies that cover non-U.S. persons, governmental plans, and certain church plans. Thus, absent satisfaction of another exception under the Plan Asset Regulations, if 25% or more of the value of any class of Interests in the Partnership were owned by benefit plan investors, an undivided interest in each of the underlying assets of the Partnership would be deemed to be "plan assets" of any Plan subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code that invested in the Partnership.

Consequently, the General Partner intends to use reasonable efforts either (i) to prohibit plans subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code from investing in the Partnership or (ii) to provide that investment by "benefit plan investors" in the Partnership will not be "significant" for purposes of the Plan Asset Regulations by limiting equity participation by benefit plan investors in the Partnership to less than 25% of the value of each class of Interests in the Partnership as described above. However, each Plan fiduciary should be aware that even if the Partnership were to avoid plan asset status under the Benefit Plan Investor Test at the time a Plan acquires Interests in the Partnership, the exemption could become unavailable at a later date as a result, for example, of subsequent transfers or withdrawals of Interests in the Partnership, and that Interests held by benefit plan investors may be subject to mandatory withdrawal in such event in order for the Partnership to continue to avoid plan asset status under the Benefit Plan Investor Test.

Furthermore, there can be no assurance that notwithstanding the reasonable efforts of the Partnership, the Partnership will satisfy the Benefit Plan Investor Test, that the structure of particular investments of the Partnership will otherwise satisfy the Plan Asset Regulations or that the underlying assets of the Partnership will not otherwise be deemed to include ERISA plan assets.

PLAN ASSET CONSEQUENCES

If the assets of the Partnership were deemed to be "plan assets" under ERISA, (i) the prudence and other fiduciary responsibility standards of ERISA would extend to investments made by the Partnership and (ii) certain transactions in which the Partnership might seek to engage could constitute "prohibited transactions" under ERISA and the Code. If a prohibited transaction occurs for which no exemption is available, the Investment Manager and any other fiduciary that has engaged in the prohibited transaction could be required (x) to restore to the Plan any profit realized on the transaction and (y) to reimburse the Plan for any losses suffered by the Plan as a result of the investment. In addition, each party in interest involved could be subject to an excise tax equal to 15% of the amount involved in the prohibited transaction for each year the transaction continues and, unless the transaction is corrected within statutorily required periods, to an additional tax of 100%. Plan fiduciaries that decide to invest in the Partnership could, under certain circumstances, be liable for prohibited transactions or other violations as a result of their investment in the Partnership or as co-fiduciaries for actions taken by or on behalf of the Partnership or the Investment Manager. With respect to an IRA that invests in the Partnership, the occurrence of a prohibited transaction involving the individual who established the IRA, or his or her beneficiaries, could cause the IRA to lose its tax-exempt status.

Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the power to take certain actions to avoid having the assets of the Partnership characterized as plan assets, including, without limitation, the right to refuse a subscription, exclude a Limited Partner from an investment or to compulsorily redeem a Limited Partner's Interests in the Partnership. While the General Partner does not expect that it will need to exercise such power, it cannot give any assurance that such power will not be exercised.

Each Plan fiduciary should consult its own legal advisor concerning the considerations discussed above before making an investment in the Partnership.

Prospective investors are advised that: (i) any U.S. federal tax advice contained herein, including any opinion of counsel referred to herein, is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used, by any taxpayer for the purpose of avoiding U.S. federal tax penalties that may be imposed on the taxpayer; (ii) any such advice is written to support the promotion or marketing of the transactions described herein (or in any such opinion of counsel); and (iii) each taxpayer should seek advice based on the taxpayer's particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

INTRODUCTION

The following is a summary of certain aspects of the taxation of the Partnership and its Partners, which should be considered by a potential purchaser of an Interest in the Partnership. A complete discussion of all tax aspects of an investment in the Partnership is beyond the scope of this Memorandum. The following summary is only intended to identify and discuss certain salient issues.

This summary of certain tax considerations applicable to the Partnership is considered to be a correct interpretation of existing laws and regulations in force on the date of this Memorandum. No assurance can be given that changes in existing laws or regulations or their interpretation will not occur after the date of this Memorandum or that any such future guidance or interpretation will not be applied retroactively.

The following summary is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Partnership are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on Partners will vary with the particular circumstances of each Partner. Accordingly, each prospective investor must consult with and rely solely on his or her professional tax advisors with respect to the tax results of his or her investment in the Partnership. In no event will the General Partner, its affiliates, counsel or other professional advisors be liable to any Limited Partner for any federal, state, local or other tax consequences of an investment in the Partnership, whether or not such consequences are as described below.

CLASSIFICATION OF THE PARTNERSHIP

Under the provisions of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder ("Regulations"), as in effect on the date of this Memorandum, so long as the Partnership complies with the Partnership Agreement, the Partnership should be classified for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation.

The Partnership has been formed under the Delaware Act as a series limited partnership and may offering its Interests in multiple separate Series. Under the provisions of the Code and the Regulations, as in effect on the date of this Memorandum, so long as the Partnership complies with the Partnership Agreement and the Delaware Act, each Series of Interests in the Partnership should be classified for U.S. federal income tax purposes as equity interests in a separate partnership and not as equity interests in an association taxable as a corporation.

The Partnership has not sought and will not seek a ruling from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") with respect to its status as a partnership. If a Series of Interests in the Partnership should be classified as an association taxable as a corporation (e.g., as a result of a change in law or a material change in facts), the taxable income of the Partnership allocable to such Series would be subject to corporate income taxation; and distributions from the Partnership to the Limited Partners owning Interests in such Series would be treated as dividend income when received by such Limited Partners to the extent of the current or accumulated earnings and profits of the Partnership allocable to such Series.

Certain partnerships may be taxable as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the publicly traded partnership rules set forth in the Code and the Regulations, and a Series of the Partnership may not qualify for one of the safe harbors under the Regulations if such Series has more than 100 Partners. The Partnership expects that, under the facts and circumstances test set forth in the Regulations, the Interests will not be readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof) and therefore, the Series partnerships will not be treated as publicly traded partnerships under the Regulations. It is assumed in the following discussion of tax considerations that each Series of the Partnership will be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Unless otherwise indicated, references in the discussion below to the tax consequences of the "Partnership's" investments, activities, income and expenses refer to the investments, activities, income and expenses attributable to each Series that is treated as a separate tax partnership. Prospective investors should note that each Series will issue its annual Schedule K-1 tax reporting form to its Partners. Therefore, investors that own Interests in more than one Series will receive separate Schedule K-1 reporting forms for each Series in which the investor is treated as owning an equity interest.

TAXATION OF PARTNERSHIP OPERATIONS

As a partnership, the Partnership is not itself subject to U.S. federal income tax but will file an annual partnership information return with the IRS. Each Limited Partner, in computing his own federal income tax liability for a taxable year, is required to take into account such Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's net long-term capital gain or loss, net short-term capital gain or loss, net ordinary income or loss and any separately stated income items, deductions and credits for the taxable year of the Partnership that ends with or within such Partner's taxable year. The Partnership may utilize a variety of investment and trading strategies, which produce both short-term and long-term capital gain (or loss), as well as ordinary income (or loss). The Partnership will send annually to each Limited Partner a Schedule K-1 form reporting such Partner's distributive share of the Partnership items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. The Partnership intends to use the calendar year as its taxable year unless a different fiscal year is required under the Code.

Each Limited Partner will be subject to tax, and liable for such tax, on such Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's taxable income regardless of whether the Limited Partner has received or will receive any distribution of cash from the Partnership. Thus, in any particular year, a Limited Partner's distributive share of taxable income from the Partnership (and, generally, the taxes imposed on that income) could exceed the amount of cash, if any, such Limited Partner received or is entitled to withdraw from the Partnership.

Under Section 704 of the Code, a Limited Partner's distributive share of any Partnership item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit is governed by the Partnership Agreement unless the allocation provided by the Partnership Agreement does not have "substantial economic effect". The Regulations promulgated under Section 704(b) of the Code provide certain "safe harbors" with respect to allocations, which, under the Regulations, will be deemed to have substantial economic effect. The validity of an allocation which does not satisfy any of the "safe harbors" of these Regulations is determined by taking into account all facts and circumstances relating to the economic arrangements among the Partners. While no assurance can be given, the allocations provided by the Partnership Agreement should have substantial economic effect and should be sustained under the facts and circumstances test. However, if it were determined by the IRS or otherwise that the allocations provided in the Partnership Agreement with respect to a particular item do not have substantial economic effect, each Limited Partner's distributive share of that item would be determined for tax purposes in accordance with that Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership, taking into account all facts and circumstances.

Cash distributions and withdrawals, to the extent they do not exceed a Limited Partner's tax basis in such Partner's interest in the Partnership, should not result in taxable gain to that Limited Partner, but reduce the tax basis in the Interest by the amount distributed or withdrawn. Cash distributed to a Limited Partner in excess of the tax basis of his or its Interest is generally taxable either as capital gain or ordinary income, depending on the circumstances. A distribution of property other than cash generally will not result in taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner to whom it is distributed until such time that the property is sold.

In the event a Limited Partner withdraws all of the capital in such Partner's capital account, the General Partner will have the discretion to specially allocate an amount of the Partnership's taxable gains or losses to the withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's capital account exceeds, or is less than, its federal income tax basis in its Partnership Interest. However, there can be no assurances that the IRS will accept such a special allocation. If the special allocation were to be successfully challenged by the IRS, the Partnership's taxable gains or losses allocable to the remaining Partners would be increased.

For financial statement presentation and capital account maintenance purposes, all securities held by the Partnership will be marked-to-market at the end of each relevant accounting period and the net gain or loss from marking to market will be reported as income or loss. This treatment differs from the general tax rule applicable to many securities transactions that a transaction does not result in gain or loss until it is closed by an actual sale or other disposition. The divergence between such accounting and tax treatments frequently may result in substantial variation between financial statement income (or loss) and taxable income (or loss) reported by the Partnership.

The Partnership may be required to determine (on an annual basis) whether it will take the position for U.S. federal income tax purposes that it is (i) carrying on a trade or business as a trader in securities, or (ii) an investor in securities. This determination will be made each year based primarily on the frequency, extent and regularity of the Partnership's trading activity during the particular year. The Partnership expects to be treated as engaged in a trade or business by reason of its anticipated investment in the Highland Transaction. The Partnership may also engage in other trade or business activities, either directly or through investments in portfolio partnerships. Prospective investors that are U.S. tax-exempt entities should consider the impact of UBTI on an investment in the Partnership. See "—Tax-Exempt Investors" below. The Partnership's status as a trader or investor may vary from year to year.

If the Partnership is a trader, each Limited Partner who is an individual may deduct his share of the Partnership's expenses (other than interest expense) under Code section 162 as a business expense. Alternatively, if the Partnership is characterized as an investor, an individual Limited Partner's share of the Partnership's expenses (other than interest expense) would pass through to the Partner as separately stated investment expenses deductible under Code section 212 as "miscellaneous itemized deductions". An individual taxpayer's itemized deductions of this type are subject to deduction limitations and phase-out rules that are discussed below in "Limitations on Losses and Deductions—Itemized Deduction Limitations". The limitations on deductions for "investment interest" are discussed below in "Limitations on Losses and Deductions—Investment Interest Limitations".

A Limited Partner may, with the consent of the General Partner, contribute securities to the capital of the Partnership. However, a Limited Partner's contribution of appreciated securities may be a taxable exchange under Section 721(b) of the Code.

The Partnership will also engage in investing and trading securities for its own account. Accordingly, a portion of the Partnership's direct and indirect expenses are expected to be deductible as trade or business expenses under Section 162 of the Code. Certain other expenses may be classified as Section 212 investment expenses, which, for certain types of Limited Partners, including trusts, would be classified as miscellaneous itemized deductions. Prospective investors that are classified as trusts for U.S. federal income tax purposes should consult their tax advisors concerning the limitations in the Code on deductions for miscellaneous itemized deductions.

LIMITATIONS ON LOSSES AND DEDUCTIONS

In General. A Limited Partner is not permitted to deduct Partnership losses that exceed the Partner's adjusted basis in its Interest at the end of the year in which such loss is incurred. A Limited Partner's basis for its Interest is generally equal the amount of such Partner's cash contributions made to the Partnership, increased by (i) the Partner's allocable share of Partnership taxable income, (ii) the Partner's allocable share of Partnership tax-exempt income, and (iii) the Partner's allocable share of nonrecourse liabilities of the Partnership (if any); and decreased by (w) the Limited Partner's allocable share of Partnership taxable losses and non-deductible expenses, (x) any distributions of cash received by the Limited Partner from the Partnership, (y) the basis of any property distributed by the Partnership to such Partner and (z) any decrease in the Partner's share of Partnership nonrecourse liabilities (if any). There are several other Code provisions that may limit the ability of a Limited Partner to claim deductions attributable to an investment in the Partnership. The most significant of these limitations are discussed below.

At Risk Limitations. Section 465 of the Code limits certain taxpayers' losses from certain activities to the amount they are "at risk" in the activities. Taxpayers subject to the "at risk" rules are non-corporate taxpayers, including trusts, and certain closely-held corporations. The activities subject to the "at risk" limitations include all activities in which the Partnership expects to engage. A Partner subject to the "at risk" rules will not be permitted to deduct in any year losses arising from its interest in the Partnership to the extent that the losses exceed the amount it is considered to have "at risk" in the Partnership at the close of that year.

A taxpayer is considered to be "at risk" in any activity to the extent of his cash contribution to the activity, his basis in other property contributed to the activity and his personal liability for repayments of amounts borrowed for use in the activity. With respect to amounts borrowed for use in the activity, the taxpayer is not considered to be "at risk" even if he is personally liable for repayment if the borrowing was from a person who has an "interest" in the activity other than an interest as a creditor. Even if a taxpayer is personally liable for repayment of amounts borrowed for use in the activity, and even if the amount borrowed is borrowed from a person whose only interest in the activity is an interest as a creditor, a taxpayer will not be considered "at risk" in the activity to the extent his investment in the activity is protected against loss through guarantees, stop loss agreements, or other similar arrangements.

Each Limited Partner will be at risk initially for the amount of his capital contribution. A Partner's amount "at risk" will be increased by his distributive share of income from the Partnership and will be decreased by his distributive share of losses from the Partnership and distributions to him. If a Partner's amount "at risk" decreases to zero, he can take no further losses until he has an "at risk" amount to cover the losses. A Partner is subject to a recapture of losses previously allowed to the extent that his amount "at risk" is reduced below zero (limited to loss amounts previously allowed to the Partner over any amounts previously recaptured).

Investment Interest Limitations. To the extent that the Partnership incurs interest expense or short sale expenses, a non-corporate Limited Partner, including a trust, will likely be subject to the "investment interest expense" limitations of Section 163(d) of the Code. Investment interest expense includes (i) interest paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry property held for investment and (ii) any amounts deductible in connection with a short sale. The deduction for investment interest expense is limited to the taxpayer's net investment income for the taxable year; i.e., the excess of investment income over investment expenses. Excess investment interest expense that is disallowed is not lost permanently but may be carried forward to succeeding years subject to the Section 163(d) limitation. Net capital gain (i.e., net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss) on property held for investment and qualified dividends are only included in investment income to the extent that the taxpayer elects to subject some or all of such gain or dividend income to taxation at ordinary income tax rates. The Section 163(d) limitations will apply at the Partner level with regard to the Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's interest expense.

To the extent that the Partnership is treated as engaged in a trade or business by reason of being deemed a trader, a non-corporate Limited Partner's share of the Partnership's interest expense from such trading activity would retain its character as investment interest subject to the Section 163(d) investment income limitation, but the allowable investment interest deduction would be deducted "above the line" in determining adjusted gross income and therefore fully deductible, rather than being treated as an itemized deduction.

Section 265(a)(2) of the Code disallows any deduction for interest paid by a taxpayer on indebtedness incurred or continued for the purpose of purchasing or carrying tax-exempt obligations. The IRS has announced that such purpose will be deemed to exist with respect to indebtedness incurred to finance a "portfolio investment", and that a limited partnership interest will be regarded as a "portfolio investment". Therefore, if the Partnership holds tax-exempt obligations, the IRS might take the position that all or part of the interest expense incurred by a Limited Partner in connection with the purchase of such Partner's Interest should be viewed as incurred to enable such Limited Partner to continue carrying tax-exempt obligations, and that such Limited Partner should not be allowed to deduct all or a portion of such interest.

Itemized Deduction Limitations. Under Section 67 of the Code, for non-corporate taxpayers, including trusts, certain miscellaneous itemized deductions are allowable only to the extent they exceed a "floor" amount equal to 2% of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income ("2% Floor"). To the extent that the Partnership's operations do not constitute a trade or business within the meaning of Section 162 and other provisions of the Code, a non-corporate Limited Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's investment expenses, other than investment interest expense, would be deductible only as miscellaneous itemized deductions, subject to the 2% Floor. In addition, Section 68 of the Code further restricts the ability of high income individuals with adjusted gross incomes in excess of specified threshold amounts to deduct certain itemized deductions. Under this limitation (the "3% Phase-Out Rule"), miscellaneous itemized deductions in excess of the 2% Floor described above, along with certain other itemized deductions (not including investment interest expense), are reduced by 3% of the amount by which the taxpayer's adjusted gross income exceeds the applicable threshold, which, for 2015, is $309,900 for joint return filers and $258,250 for single taxpayers. However, the amount of otherwise deductible itemized deductions is not reduced by more than 80% under the 3% Phase-Out Rule. Moreover, a non-corporate taxpayer's investment expenses that are miscellaneous itemized deductions are also not deductible in calculating the taxpayer's alternative minimum tax liability.

Capital losses generally may be deducted only to the extent of capital gains, except for non-corporate taxpayers who are allowed to deduct $3,000 of excess capital losses per year against ordinary income. Corporate taxpayers may carry back unused capital losses for three years and may carry forward such losses for five years; non-corporate taxpayers may not carry back unused capital losses but may carry forward unused capital losses indefinitely.

ADDITIONAL TAX ISSUES

Gain or loss from a short sale of property is generally considered as capital gain or loss to the extent that the property used to close the short sale constitutes a capital asset in the Partnership's hands.

The "wash sale" rules of Section 1091 of the Code disallow any deduction for losses arising from the sale or other disposition of "stock or securities", where, within a period beginning 30 days before such sale or disposition and ending 30 days afterwards, the taxpayer acquires "substantially identical" stocks of securities by purchase or by an exchange on which the entire amount of gain or loss is recognized. This disallowance rule also applies where, within such 61-day period, the taxpayer enters into a contract or option to acquire substantially identical stock or securities. Thus, if the Partnership were to engage in such a "wash sale" transaction, the Partners would not be able to recognize their distributive share of any loss realized in connection with such sale in the current year.

Currency Fluctuations - "Section 988" Gains and Losses. To the extent that the Partnership's investments are made in securities denominated in a foreign currency, gain or loss realized by the Partnership frequently will be affected by the fluctuation in the value of such foreign currencies relative to the value of the U.S. dollar. Generally, gains or losses with respect to the Partnership's investments in common stock of foreign issuers will be taxed as capital gains or losses at the time of the Partnership's sale of such stock. However, under Section 988 of the Code, gains or losses of the Partnership on the acquisition or disposition of foreign currency (i.e., the purchase of foreign currency and subsequent use of such currency to acquire stock) will be treated as ordinary income or loss. Moreover, under Section 988, gains and losses from disposition of debt securities denominated in a foreign currency that are attributable to the fluctuations in such currency between the date of acquisition of the debt security and the date of its disposition will be treated as ordinary income or loss. Since the Code provides limitations on the ability of taxpayers to deduct capital losses against ordinary income, a Partner's share of capital losses realized by the Partnership on sale of foreign securities would not be available to offset the Partner's share of ordinary income realized by the Partnership on its currency hedging transactions.

The Partnership may acquire foreign currency forward contracts, enter into foreign currency futures contracts and acquire put and call options on foreign currencies. Generally, foreign currency regulated futures contracts and option contracts that qualify as "Section 1256 contracts" will not be subject to ordinary income and loss treatment under Section 988. However, if the Partnership acquires currency futures contracts or options contracts that are not Section 1256 contracts, or any currency forward contracts, any gain or loss realized by the Partnership with respect to such instruments will be ordinary income or loss, unless (i) the contract is a capital asset in the hands of the Partnership and is not part of a straddle transaction and (ii) the Partnership makes an election (by the close of the day the transaction is entered into) to treat the gain or loss attributable to such contract as capital gain or loss.

The taxation of debt obligations under the Code is complex; the following discussion is intended to provide only a general description of these rules. Generally, interest income and income items similar to stated interest, such as original issue discount (in general, the annual portion of the discount on original issuance of debt obligations issued for less than their stated principal amount) and market discount (the amount by which debt obligations are acquired in the secondary market for less than their principal) are treated as items of ordinary income. Generally, debt obligations that are disposed of in a taxable transaction for an amount greater than their adjusted cost basis give rise to capital gain, which will be long-term if the debt obligation is held for longer than one year, and short-term, if held for a period of one year or less. Generally, debt obligations that are disposed of in a taxable transaction for an amount less than their adjusted cost basis give rise to capital loss, which will be long-term if the debt obligation is held for longer than one year, and short-term if held for a period of one year or less. In the event that any such debt obligations are not held as capital assets, such dispositions will generally give rise to ordinary gain or loss, as the case may be.

Section 1259 of the Code requires that the Partnership recognize gain on the constructive sale of any appreciated financial position in stock, a partnership interest, or certain debt instruments. A constructive sale of an appreciated financial position occurs if, among other things, the Partnership enters into (1) a short sale of the same or substantially identical property (a transaction commonly known as a "short sale against the box"), (2) an offsetting notional principal contract with respect to the same or substantially identical property, or (3) a futures or forward contract to deliver the same or substantially identical property. Exceptions to the foregoing apply to certain transactions closed within 30 days after the close of the taxable year if the underlying appreciated financial position remains "unhedged" for at least 60 days thereafter, and to transactions involving certain contracts to sell stock, debt instruments, or partnership interests if the contract settles within one year.

The IRS may treat certain positions in securities held (directly or indirectly) by a Partner and its indirect interest in similar securities held by the Partnership as "straddles" for federal income tax purposes. The application of the "straddle" rules in such a case could affect a Partner's holding period for the securities involved and may defer the recognition of losses with respect to such securities. In addition, if either of the Partner's positions in such a transaction is an "appreciated financial position", application of the "straddle" rules may trigger a constructive sale of that position under the rules described above.

Section 1258 of the Code recharacterizes capital gain from a "conversion transaction" as ordinary income, with certain limitations. Conversion transactions are defined as transactions in which substantially all the expected return is attributable to the time value of money and either: (a) the transaction consists of the acquisition of property by the taxpayer and a substantially contemporaneous agreement to sell the same or substantially identical property in the future; (b) the transaction qualifies as a "straddle" (within the meaning of Section 1092(c) of the Code); (c) the transaction is one that was marketed or sold to the taxpayer on the basis that it would have the economic characteristics of a loan but the interest-like return would be taxed as capital gain; or (d) the transaction is described as a conversion transaction in the Regulations. The amount of gain so recharacterized will not exceed the amount of interest that would have accrued on the taxpayers' net investment for the relevant period at a yield equal to 120% of the "applicable rate".

INVESTMENTS IN NON-U.S. CORPORATIONS

The Partnership may invest in certain foreign corporations that will be classified as "passive foreign investment companies" ("PFICs") for U.S. tax purposes. Under the PFIC rules, unless the Partnership makes one of the elections described below, any gain realized by the Partnership on the sale or disposition of stock in a PFIC that is allocable to Partners that are U.S. Persons (as defined in the Code) will be treated as ordinary income and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax as if (i) the gain had been realized ratably over the Partnership's holding period and (ii) the amount deemed realized had been subject to tax in each year of that holding period at the highest applicable federal income tax rate; in addition, an interest charge at the rate generally applicable to underpayments of federal income tax will be imposed on the amount. Further, any "excess distributions" from a PFIC (as defined in the Regulations) are treated as ordinary income (regardless of their original character) and subject to this deferred tax and interest charge.

Provided the PFIC complies with certain reporting requirements, the Partnership may elect to have the PFIC treated as a "qualified electing fund", in which case the Partnership would include annually in its gross income its pro rata share of the PFIC's net ordinary income and net realized capital gains, whether or not such amounts are actually distributed to the Partnership. Generally, any net operating losses or net capital losses of the PFIC will not pass through to the Partnership and will not offset any ordinary income or capital gains of the PFIC reportable to the Partnership in subsequent years. Alternatively, the Partnership could elect to "mark-to-market" stock in certain PFICs if such stock is considered "marketable stock" under the Code, and thereby avoid being subject to the deferred tax and interest charge discussed above. However, there can be no assurance that the Partnership will be able to make either of these elections with respect to any PFICs in which it invests. Further, Limited Partners may be subject to IRS reporting requirements with respect to the Partnership's investments in PFICs.

The Partnership may also invest in certain foreign corporations that will be considered "controlled foreign corporations" ("CFCs") for U.S. tax purposes. A CFC is a non-U.S. corporation in which certain U.S. shareholders own, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of either the total voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or the total value of all classes of stock. Under the CFC rules, certain U.S. shareholders are subject to U.S. federal income tax on certain types of income (generally passive income) realized by the CFC regardless of whether any amounts are distributed from the CFC to such U.S. shareholder. Further, such U.S. shareholders may be subject to IRS reporting requirements with respect to investments in CFCs.

In addition, if the Partnership invests in stock of foreign corporations that become PFICs or CFCs after the Partnership has made such investment, this may also result in adverse tax consequences for the Limited Partners that are U.S. Persons and may subject them to IRS reporting requirements with respect to such investments.

3.8 % MEDICARE SURTAX ON NET INVESTMENT INCOME

High income U.S. individuals are subject to an annual 3.8% Medicare contribution tax on their "net investment income" (the "NII Tax"). The NII Tax is an "add on" federal surtax which must be paid in addition to the regular federal income tax on such income. The NII Tax applies to single taxpayers with "modified" adjusted gross income ("MAGI") in excess of $200,000 and married persons filing jointly with MAGI in excess of $250,000. THE NII Tax also applies, in modified form, to the undistributed net investment income of certain trusts and estates.

For purposes of the NII Tax, "investment income" is defined to include (1) interest, dividends, annuities, royalties and rents (subject to certain exceptions); (2) income from a trade or business that consists of trading financial instruments or commodities (i.e., income from trader funds); (3) income from a trade or business that is a passive activity for the individual (i.e., income from an equity interest in a partnership engaged in a trade or business in which the partner does not actively participate); and (4) net gain attributable to disposition of capital assets and certain other property.

It is anticipated that a U.S. individual Limited Partner's distributive share of taxable income from the Partnership will be classified as investment income of the type subject to the NII Tax. To the extent the Partnership generates income from activities that constitute a trade or business (e.g., originating loans), such trade or business income would still be classified as investment income under the NII Tax because the Limited Partner will not be considered an active participant in the Partnership's business.

Net investment income for purposes of calculating the NII Tax is (i) investment income (as defined above) reduced by (ii) any deductions allowed under the regular rules applicable for federal income tax purposes that are properly allocable to such gross income or net gain. If the Partnership is not engaged in a trade or business, an individual Limited Partner's distributive share of investment-related expenses (other than investment interest) would pass through to such Partners as Code Section 212 expenses which are deductible for regular income tax purposes and the NII Tax only as itemized deductions and are subject to the Section 67 (2% Floor) and Section 68 (3% Phase-Out Rule) limitations previously discussed.

TAX-EXEMPT INVESTORS

If the Partnership derives income which would be considered "unrelated business taxable income" (as defined in Section 512 of the Code) ("UBTI"), if derived directly by a Limited Partner that is a qualified retirement plan or other organization exempt from tax under Sections 401 or 501(a) of the Code or an individual retirement account ("IRA") exempt under Section 408(e) of the Code (each, a "Tax-Exempt Entity"), such Limited Partner's allocable share of such Partnership income would be subject to tax. A Tax-Exempt Entity which is subject to tax on its allocable share of the Partnership's UBTI, including an IRA, may also be subject to the alternative minimum tax with respect to items of tax preference which enter into the computation of UBTI.

UBTI is generally the excess of gross income from any unrelated trade or business conducted by a Tax-Exempt Entity (or by a partnership of which the Tax-Exempt Entity is a member) over the deductions attributable to such trade or business. UBTI generally does not include certain passive income, including dividends, interest, annuities, royalties and gain or loss from the disposition of property held for investment, unless such income items are debt-financed income (as discussed below).

While UBTI itself is taxable, the receipt of UBTI by a Tax-Exempt Entity generally has no effect upon that entity's tax-exempt status or upon the exemption from tax of its other income. However, for certain types of Tax-Exempt Entities, the receipt of any UBTI may have extremely adverse consequences. In particular, for charitable remainder trusts (as defined under Section 664 of the Code), the receipt of any taxable income from UBTI during a taxable year will result in the imposition of an excise tax equal to the amount of such UBTI.

A Tax-Exempt Entity also includes in its UBTI its "unrelated debt-financed income" (and its allocable share of the "unrelated debt-financed income" of any partnership in which it invests) pursuant to Section 514 of the Code. In general, unrelated debt-financed income consists of: (i) income derived by a Tax-Exempt Entity (directly or through a partnership) from income producing property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the taxable year; and (ii) gains derived by a Tax-Exempt Entity (directly or through a partnership) from the disposition of property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness". Acquisition indebtedness is generally defined as debt incurred to purchase or carry an investment. Such income and gains derived by a Tax-Exempt Entity from the ownership and sale of debt-financed property are taxable in the proportion to which such property is financed by acquisition indebtedness during the relevant period of time.

Income From the Partnership's Private Equity Investments. The Investment Manager expects to invest a substantial portion of the Partnership's Series 1 assets in the Highland Transaction. The Partnership expects to incur acquisition indebtedness with respect to the Highland Transaction (if it occurs) and may use borrowed funds to acquire other property. Accordingly, Limited Partners that are Tax-Exempt Entities should anticipate that a substantial portion, and possibly all, of their distributive share of the Partnership's net income realized from ownership of equity interests in Highland and other portfolio companies that are business partnerships, including gain realized upon sales of such equity investments, will be subject to federal income tax as UBTI.

Income From the Partnership's Other Activities. The Investment Manager expects that the Partnership will incur indebtedness in connection with its operations from time to time. The law is not entirely clear regarding the appropriate method to be used to determine what portion of a tax-exempt Limited Partner's share of the Partnership's income is attributable to debt financing and therefore constitutes "debt-financed income". Accordingly while the Partnership will compute each tax-exempt Limited Partner's share of "debt-financed income" from the Partnership in a manner which the Partnership considers to be reasonable, there can be no assurance that the IRS will accept the method of computation used by the Partnership.

Tax-exempt Limited Partners will also realize UBTI if the Partnership acquires equity interests of publicly traded partnerships or private partnerships that are engaged in trade or business activities or the Partnership directly carries on other trade or business activities (other than as a securities trader).

OTHER TAXES

Partners may be subject to other taxes, such as the alternative minimum tax, state and local income taxes, and estate, inheritance or intangible property taxes that may be imposed by various jurisdictions. Each prospective investor should consider the potential consequences of such taxes due to an investment in the Partnership. It is the responsibility of each prospective investor to become satisfied as to the legal and tax consequences of an investment in the Partnership under state law, including the laws of the state(s) of its, his or her domicile and residence, by obtaining advice from such investor's own tax advisors, and to file all appropriate tax returns that may be required.

Income received by the Partnership from sources within non-U.S. countries may be subject to withholding and other taxes imposed by such countries. Each Partner may be entitled either to deduct (as an itemized deduction) such Partner's proportionate share of the non-U.S. taxes of the Partnership in computing such Partner's taxable income or to use the amount as a foreign tax credit against his or its U.S. federal income tax liability, subject to limitations. Generally, a credit for non-U.S. taxes is subject to the limitation that it may not exceed the taxpayer's U.S. tax attributable to his or its non-U.S. source taxable income. With respect to Partners that are U.S. Persons: (i) certain currency fluctuation gains, including fluctuation gains from non-U.S.-Dollar-denominated debt securities, receivables and payables, will be treated as ordinary income derived from U.S. sources; and (ii) Partnership gains from the sale of securities also will be treated as derived from U.S. sources. The limitation on the foreign tax credit is applied separately to non-U.S.

source passive income (as defined for purposes of the foreign tax credit), including the non-U.S. source passive income realized by the Partnership. The foreign tax credit limitation rules do not apply to certain electing individual taxpayers who have limited creditable non-U.S. taxes and no non-U.S. source income other than passive investment-type income. The foreign tax credit generally is eliminated with respect to non-U.S. taxes withheld on income and gain if the Partnership fails to satisfy minimum holding period requirements with respect to the property giving rise to the income and gain.

TAX ELECTIONS; RETURNS; TAX AUDITS

If the General Partner determines that the Partnership is treated as a securities trader for federal income tax purposes, the General Partner may cause the Partnership to elect to "mark-to-market" its securities at the end of each taxable year, in which case such securities would be treated for federal income tax purposes as though sold for fair market value on the last business day of such taxable year. Such an election under Code Section 475(f) would apply to the taxable year for which made and all subsequent taxable years unless revoked with the consent of the IRS. If the Partnership were to make such an election, all or a portion of the Partnership's gains and losses would be considered ordinary income or loss, rather than capital gain or loss. Since for federal income tax purposes capital losses generally may be deducted only against capital gains, a Limited Partner may be unable to deduct capital losses realized from other investments and transactions in a taxable year against his share of the Partnership's income.

The Code provides for optional adjustments to the basis of partnership property upon distributions of partnership property to a partner and transfers of partnership interests (including by reason of death); provided that a partnership election has been made pursuant to Section 754 of the Code. Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may cause the Partnership to make such an election. Any such election, once made, cannot be revoked without the IRS's consent. The General Partner also has the authority and sole discretion to make or refrain from making other tax elections that are available to the Partnership.

Additionally, even if a partnership has not made a Section 754 election, Section 743 of the Code provides for a mandatory basis adjustment to partnership property on certain transfers of partnership interests (including transfers by reason of death), if the partnership has a "substantial built-in loss" immediately after such transfer. A partnership is treated as having a "substantial built-in loss" if the partnership's adjusted basis in partnership property exceeds the property's fair market value by more than $250,000. Section 734 of the Code also provides for mandatory basis adjustments in the case of certain property distributions to partners. Such Code provisions could cause the Partnership to decrease the basis of its remaining assets in such circumstances.

The General Partner will decide how to report partnership items on the Partnership's tax returns and all Limited Partners are required to treat such tax items consistently on their own returns, unless they file a statement with the IRS disclosing the inconsistency. Since the Partnership may engage in transactions whose treatment for tax purposes is not clear, there is a risk that a claim of tax liability could be asserted against the Partnership or its Partners. In the event that the income tax returns of the Partnership are audited by the IRS, the tax treatment of Partnership income and deductions generally is determined at the partnership level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Partners. As the "Tax Matters Partner", the General Partner has considerable authority to make decisions affecting the tax treatment and procedural rights of all Partners. In addition, the Tax Matters Partner has the authority to bind certain Partners to settlement agreements and the right on behalf of all Partners to extend the statute of limitations relating to the Partners' tax liabilities with respect to Partnership items. The General Partner may, in its sole discretion, consult with, and rely upon, the Partnership's auditors and their determinations or advice as to tax and/or accounting matters.

It is possible that the Partnership and or certain transactions executed by the Partnership would be subject to tax shelter disclosure registration and listing requirements under applicable U.S. tax laws and regulations.

PFIC Reporting. The Code provides that each U.S. Person (as defined herein) that is a direct or indirect shareholder of a PFIC (generally, an investment corporation organized under the laws of a foreign jurisdiction) is required to file an annual information return containing such information as the IRS may require. Limited Partners would be indirect shareholders of stock in any PFICs owned by the Partnership, and would satisfy such filing requirement (if applicable to such Partner) by completing a copy of IRS Form 8621 for the reportable PFIC investment and submitting such forms to the IRS with the Partner's federal income tax return.

FATCA Withholding and Compliance. The provisions of the Code known as the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA") provide that a 30% withholding tax will be imposed on payments of U.S.-source dividends and interest (and certain other items of U.S.-source income) to certain foreign financial entities, and beginning on January 1, 2017 with regard to other withholdable payments (including gross proceeds from the sale of property that give rise to U.S.-source, interest or dividends), unless the foreign financial entity has registered with the IRS and agreed to provide specified U.S. tax information concerning "specified U.S. persons" that own interests in the foreign entity. The Partnership is a withholding agent with respect to such withholding taxes that may be imposed on any of its Partners. U.S. and non-U.S. Partners will be required to furnish appropriate documentation certifying as to their U.S. or non-U.S. tax status, together with such other additional tax information as the Partnership may from time to time request. Limited Partners that are "non-financial foreign entities" (as defined in Code Section 1472) are required to certify whether they have any "substantial United States owners" and, if so, to disclose the identity and tax identification numbers of such persons to the Partnership. Failure to provide such information may subject a Limited Partner to withholding taxes or mandatory withdrawal of its entire interest in the Partnership. Limited Partners are encouraged to consult with their own tax advisors regarding the possible impact of the FATCA legislation on their investment in the Partnership.

OTHER MATTERS

The Partnership may incur certain expenses in connection with its organization and the marketing of the Interests. Amounts paid or incurred to organize the Partnership are being amortized, for tax purposes, over a period of 180 months from the date the Partnership commenced operations. Amounts paid or incurred to market interests in a partnership (marketing and syndication expenses) are not deductible or amortizable.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS FOR PARTNERS WHO ARE NOT U.S. PERSONS

A "U.S. Person" is (a) a citizen or resident of the United States, (b) a corporation, partnership, or other entity organized under the laws of the United States, any state, or the District of Columbia, other than a partnership that is not treated as a U.S. Person under the Regulations, (c) an estate whose income is subject to United States income tax, regardless of its source, or (d) a trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. Persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust. In addition, to the extent provided in the Regulations, "U.S. Person" includes certain trusts in existence on August 20, 1996, and treated as U.S. Persons prior to such date, that have elected to be treated as U.S. Persons. Partners that are not U.S. Persons are referred to below as "non-U.S. Partners".

Taxation of Effectively Connected Income. The Partnership expects to be treated for U.S. tax purposes as being engaged in the conduct of a U.S. trade or business. As a result, non-U.S. Limited Partners that acquire interests in the Partnership will generally be treated as being engaged in the conduct of a U.S. trade or business. Thus, each non-U.S. Limited Partner will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation, at graduated rates, on its distributive share of the Partnership's income, gain or loss (whether ordinary or capital) that is effectively connected with the conduct of the Partnership's U.S. trade or business ("ECI"). Such Limited Partners will be required to file annual U.S. federal income tax returns with respect to such ECI, and the Partnership will be required to withhold and remit to the U.S. Treasury a portion of the non-U.S. Limited Partner's distributive share of such ECI. The Limited Partner would be entitled to claim a credit on his U.S. federal income tax return for the amount withheld by the Partnership with respect to such ECI. Non-U.S. Limited Partners may also be required to file applicable state and local tax returns in jurisdictions in which the Partnership is engaged in business or in which its real property interests are located.

U.S. Branch Profits Tax. In the case of a Limited Partner that is a non-U.S. corporation, in addition to the regular corporate income tax that must be paid on its ECI, the Code provides for an additional 30% "branch profits" tax. The branch profits tax is 30% (or lower rate permitted by tax treaty) of the foreign corporation's "dividend equivalent amount". This is the amount of the foreign corporation's effectively connected after-tax earnings that are not reinvested in a U.S. trade or business by the end of the tax year or disinvested in a later tax year. Certain income tax treaties may reduce or eliminate the branch profits tax; however, under certain circumstances, the branch profits tax may override income tax treaty benefits.

FIRPTA. The Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act of 1980, as amended ("FIRPTA"), imposes a tax on gain realized on disposition by a foreign person of a "U.S. real property interest" ("USRPI") by treating such gain as ECI, generally giving rise to the tax consequences described above. A USRPI includes a direct investment in U.S. real estate and buildings and also investments in stock and certain types of debt interests of a U.S. corporation that is classified as a "U.S. real property holding corporation" (as defined in the Code). A USRPI held by a partnership is deemed to be held proportionately by its partners.

Taxation of Non-ECI. The Partnership also expects to realize certain types of periodic income from U.S. sources (e.g., dividends and certain types of interest) which are not classified as ECI. Each non-U.S. Limited Partner will be subject to a flat 30% withholding tax on its allocable share of the gross amount of such income. Such withholding tax is sometimes reduced or eliminated by an applicable income tax treaty, provided that the proper certification is provided by the non-U.S. Limited Partner when necessary. The applicable IRS form or forms (W-8 series) should be submitted to the Partnership by each non-U.S. Limited Partner at the time such Limited Partner acquires an Interest in the Partnership, and should be resubmitted every three years thereafter (or earlier, if the information on such form changes before such date).

Disposition of Partnership Interests. A non-U.S. Limited Partner that disposes of its Interest in the Partnership, by sale or otherwise, may be subject to U.S. federal income taxation on such disposition. A transferee of an Interest in the Partnership may be required to deduct and withhold a tax equal to 10% of the gross amount realized on such disposition. Any amount so withheld can be applied as a credit against the U.S. federal income tax liability of the non-U.S. Limited Partner and can be recovered as a refund in the event of overpayment.

U.S. Estate and Gift Taxation of Interests. Non-U.S. Limited Partners that are individuals should also be aware that Interests in the Partnership will be treated as U.S. situs property by reason of the Partnership's ownership of U.S. real property interests, and thus subject to U.S. estate taxation upon the death on a non-U.S. individual owner, or U.S. gift taxation upon a donative transfer of such Interest.

STATE TAXATION

In addition to the federal income tax consequences described above, prospective investors should consider potential state tax consequences of an investment in the Partnership. No attempt is made herein to provide a discussion of such state tax consequences. State laws often differ from federal income tax laws with respect to the treatment of specific items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. A Partner's distributive share of the taxable income or loss of the Partnership generally will be required to be included in determining the Partner's reportable income for state tax purposes in the jurisdiction in which he or she is a resident. Each prospective investor must consult such investor's own tax advisors regarding such state tax consequences.

FUTURE TAX LEGISLATION

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Regulations, administrative rulings or guidance by the IRS, or judicial decisions may adversely affect the federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Partnership, with or without advance notice, and retroactively or prospectively.

EXHIBIT 20

SadisGoldberg LLP

Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of Atlas IDF, LP

A DELAWARE "SERIES" LIMITED PARTNERSHIP

As of November 30, 2015

Exhibit A

Neither Atlas IDF, LP nor the limited partner interests therein ("Interests") have been or will be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("Securities Act"), the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, or the securities laws of any of the States of the United States. The offering of the Interests is being made in reliance upon an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act for offers and sales of securities which do not involve any public offering, and analogous exemptions under state securities laws.

These securities are subject to restrictions on transferability and resale, may not be transferred or resold, except: (i) as permitted under the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws pursuant to registration or exemption therefrom, and (ii) in accordance with the requirements and conditions set forth in this Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement.

This Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of Atlas IDF, LP, a Delaware "series" limited partnership ("Partnership"), is entered into as of November 30, 2015 ("Agreement") by and among: (i) Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("General Partner"), with an address at 87 Railroad Place, Suite 403, Saratoga Springs, New York, 12866; (ii) such persons and entities who are or may become limited partners in accordance with the terms hereof ("Limited Partners"; and, together with the General Partner, shall collectively be referred to as the "Partners"); (iii) John Honis, as the initial Limited Partner ("Initial Limited Partner"); and (iv) such other persons who may become parties to this Agreement from time to time.

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the General Partner and the Initial Limited Partner entered into a Limited Partnership Agreement, dated and effective as of October 29, 2015 ("Current Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, the General Partner desires to amend and restate the Current Agreement in its entirety pursuant to, and in accordance with the terms of, Section 28 thereof, including to reflect the conversion of the Partnership into a "series" limited partnership.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises of the parties hereinafter set forth and of other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the undersigned parties agree to amend and restate the Current Agreement in its entirety with the following terms and conditions:

ARTICLE I
GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1.01 Formation of Partnership. The Partnership was formed as a limited partnership under the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act (as in effect on the date hereof and as amended from time to time, the "Act") by the filing of its Certificate of Limited Partnership (the "Certificate") with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware (the "Delaware Secretary") on October 29, 2015. On November 19, 2015, an amended Certificate was filed with the Delaware Secretary to convert the Partnership into a "series" limited partnership under Section 17-218 of the Act. The General Partner, for itself and as agent for the Limited Partners, shall accomplish all filing, recording, publishing and other acts necessary or appropriate for compliance with all the requirements for the formation and operation of the Partnership as a limited partnership under this Agreement and the Act and under all other laws of the State of Delaware and such other jurisdictions in which the General Partner determines that the Partnership may conduct business. Each Limited Partner admitted to the Partnership by the General Partner shall promptly execute all relevant certificates and other documents, as the General Partner shall request.

Section 1.02 Partnership Name. The name of the Partnership is Atlas IDF, LP.

Section 1.03 Purpose. The Partnership was organized for the purpose of investing and trading in a wide variety of securities and financial instruments, domestic and foreign, of all kinds and descriptions, whether publicly traded or privately placed, including but not limited to, common and preferred stocks, bonds and other debt securities, convertible securities, limited partner interests, mutual fund shares, options, warrants, commodities, futures, derivatives (including swaps, forward contracts and structured instruments), currencies, monetary instruments, and cash and cash equivalents. In furtherance of the foregoing, the Partnership may engage in any lawful act or activity for which limited partnerships may be formed under the Act, and any and all activities necessary or incidental thereto, including any other business activities described in the Partnership's confidential private placement memorandum (as amended and supplemented from time to time, the "Memorandum"). In addition to investing in individual traded assets, the Partnership may invest a significant portion of its assets in other investment vehicles, including, without limitation, hedge funds, managed accounts and other private investment funds (collectively, the "Portfolio Funds"), including those managed by, or otherwise affiliated or related to, the Investment Manager (as defined in Section 3.01). Portfolio Funds may allocate their assets to Illiquid Investments (as defined in Section 9.07(a)).

Section 1.04 Place of Business. The Partnership shall have offices located at 87 Railroad Place, Suite 403, Saratoga Springs, New York, 12866, or elsewhere as the General Partner may from time to time determine. The Partnership may have more than one (1) office as may from time to time be determined by the General Partner.

Section 1.05 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Partnership (the "Fiscal Year") shall end on December 31 of each year, except that it may be changed at any time by the General Partner in its sole discretion. In the event that the General Partner changes the Partnership's Fiscal Year, the dates and time periods referred to in this Agreement shall be appropriately adjusted.

Section 1.06 Term of Partnership. The term of the Partnership commenced upon filing of the Partnership's Certificate with the Delaware Secretary and shall continue indefinitely; provided, however, that the Partnership shall be dissolved forthwith upon the occurrence of any one of the events set forth in Section 13.01.

COMPOSITION; ADMISSIONS

Section 2.01 Names of the Partners. Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company, is the sole general partner of the Partnership as of the date hereof. The names and addresses of the General Partner and of each of the Limited Partners shall be set forth in the records of the Partnership to be kept on file at all times at the principal place of business of the Partnership.

Section 2.02 Admission of Partners. Additional Limited Partners (as defined in Section 8.01) may be admitted to the Partnership at such times as provided in Article VIII. In connection with the admission of a Limited Partner to the Partnership, such Limited Partner shall, in advance of such admission and as a condition thereto, sign a copy of this Agreement or an agreement to become bound by the provisions of this Agreement and such other subscription materials as shall be determined by the General Partner. Upon the admission of a Limited Partner, the Initial Limited Partner listed on the signature page hereof shall automatically be deemed to have withdrawn from the Partnership. For the avoidance of doubt, the General Partner shall be permitted to make an investment in the Partnership and be issued Partnership Interests hereunder, and such Interests of the General Partner shall be treated as a Limited Partner's Partnership Interests hereunder. A substitute general partner and additional general partners may be admitted to the Partnership as provided in Article IV.

Section 2.03 Partnership Interests.

(a) For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Partnership Interest" shall mean the quotient resulting from dividing (i) the amount in a Partner's Capital Account (as defined in Section 9.01), including the fair value of such Partner's interests in any Side Pocket Accounts (as defined in Section 9.07) or New Issues Accounts (as defined in Section 9.08(a)) and other memorandum accounts, by (ii) the aggregate amount in the Capital Accounts of all Partners, including the fair value of any Side Pocket Accounts, New Issues Accounts and other memorandum accounts. "Partnership Interests" shall mean the sum of all amounts in the Capital Accounts of all Partners (including all Side Pocket Accounts, New Issues Accounts and other memorandum accounts).

(b) The Partnership is an "insurance-dedicated" fund. The Partnership Interests are being offered only to Limited Partners that are: (x) insurance company investors, on behalf of certain of their segregated separate accounts ("Separate Accounts"), that fund certain variable life insurance and variable annuity contracts (collectively, the "Policies") to be issued to policy owners (each, a "Policy Owner") by the Limited Partners, or (y) state or local government pension plans, qualified tuition plans ("§529 plans"), and private sector qualified pension or retirement plans, as generally described in Treasury Regulation 1.817-5(f)(3). In addition, if an investor is an insurance company, such investor must require its Policy Owners to meet certain suitability standards, as further set forth in the Memorandum. While an insurance company, not a Policy Owner, will become a Limited Partner in the Partnership, it is expected that Policy Owners will be able to allocate a portion of their investment held in the Separate Account to the Partnership as one of the investment options of the Policies.

Each life insurance company Limited Partner will be deemed to hold a Partnership Interest in respect of the account of each Policy Owner and will be treated as a separate Limited Partner with respect to each such Partnership Interest.

Section 2.04 Issuance of Interests in Series.

(a) Pursuant to Section 17-218 of the Act, the Partnership Interests will be offered in separate series ("Series"). The Partnership is currently offering one Series of Partnership Interests: "Series 1 Partnership Interests". Each Series of Partnership Interests will have separate rights and obligations.

(b) In addition, each Series of Partnership Interests may correspond to a separate portfolio of assets, which may have different investment objectives and strategies. The Partnership may issue additional Series of Partnership Interests in the future, which may have rights and obligations that differ from those of the Series 1 Partnership Interests with respect to any matters, including without limitation, fees, withdrawal rights, participation in Side Pocket Accounts (as defined) and other rights and terms. The terms of such additional Series shall be determined by the General Partner, in its sole discretion.

(c) Each Series shall have separate rights, powers and duties with respect to its investment portfolio and other property and obligations and the profits and losses associated with such portfolio, property and obligations. The Partnership shall maintain separate and distinct records for each Series and shall hold and account for the assets and liabilities of such Series separately from other Series. The Partnership shall not accept additional Limited Partners into any existing Series if such Series has existing Side Pocket Accounts at the time of such admission.

(d) Pursuant to Section 17-218 of the Act, (i) the debts, liabilities and obligations incurred, contracted for or otherwise existing with respect to a particular Series shall be enforceable against the assets of such Series only, and not against the assets of any other Series, and (ii) none of the debts, liabilities and obligations incurred, contracted for or otherwise existing with respect to the Partnership generally or any other Series shall be enforceable against the assets of such Series.

(e) As of the date hereof, the Investment Manager intends to allocate approximately 45% of the Series 1 investment portfolio to traded investments and approximately (but not more than) 55% of the Series 1 investment portfolio to the first series of limited partnership interests to be issued by the PE Portfolio Fund (as defined in Section 2.04(f)). However, the Investment Manager reserves the right to change such allocation in the future, subject to compliance with all applicable laws, including the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds, as further set forth in the Memorandum.

(f) As of the date hereof, (i) the Investment Manager acts as the investment manager to Rand PE Fund I, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership ("PE Portfolio Fund") that: (x) is expected to initially invest in the Highland Transaction (as defined in the Memorandum), if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction; (ii) Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, is the general partner of the PE Portfolio Fund; (iii) the Principal (as defined in the Memorandum) is the managing member and controlling person of Rand PE Fund Management, LLC; and (iv) the Investment Manager acts as the investment subadvisor to a series of SALI Multi-Series Fund, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership, and provides certain discretionary investment advisory or consulting services to such series, as further set forth in the Memorandum.

(g) Unless the context otherwise requires, Series 1 Partnership Interests and any other Series of Partnership Interests shall be collectively referred to throughout this Agreement as the "Partnership Interests." As the context may require, the holders of Series 1 Partnership Interests may be referred to herein as "Series 1 Limited Partners". Series 1 Limited Partners and, to the extent applicable, all the Limited Partners of other Series shall be collectively referred to throughout this Agreement the "Limited Partners".

(h) References herein to the Partnership shall include, where appropriate, each Series of the Partnership. The terms of the other Series may be set forth in an amended version of this Agreement and/or in a separate supplement thereto.

ARTICLE III
MANAGEMENT

Section 3.01 Management of Partnership

(a) The business and affairs of the Partnership shall be managed exclusively by the General Partner. The Limited Partners shall take no part in the management or control of the Partnership's business and shall have no authority to act for or bind the Partnership. The General Partner shall have sole discretion and authority to select investments, shall invest the funds of the Partnership from time to time as the General Partner deems appropriate in accordance with the purposes set forth in Section 1.03, and shall have (without limitation) the powers set forth in Section 3.02. The General Partner may select an investment manager ("Investment Manager") to provide all or any portion of the portfolio management services required by the Partnership, including the valuation of assets of the Partnership. The Investment Manager may be changed from time to time by the General Partner in its sole and absolute discretion. The initial Investment Manager shall be Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner. If at any time there is no Investment Manager, then the General Partner shall provide such portfolio management services, and be subject to the provisions of this Agreement applicable to the Investment Manager.

(b) Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager shall not be required to devote its full time to the business of the Partnership, but shall devote so much of its time and efforts to the affairs of the Partnership as may in its judgment be necessary to accomplish the purposes of the Partnership. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the General Partner or the Investment Manager from conducting any other business, including any business with respect to securities (and/or other investments), whether or not such business ventures are in direct or indirect competition with the Partnership. Each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is not prohibited from buying or selling securities for its own account, including the same securities (and/or other investments) as are purchased, sold or held by the Partnership, but none of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates (which shall not include, for purposes of this paragraph, advisory clients or managed funds) shall buy securities (and/or other investments) from or sell securities (and/or other investments) to the Partnership without the written consent of either all Limited Partners or a committee of independent Limited Partners.

Section 3.02 Powers of the General Partner. Without in any way intending to limit the powers of the General Partner, the General Partner shall have the right, power and authority on behalf of the Partnership (or to delegate any portion of such rights, power and authority):

(a) As provided in Section 3.01, to allocate all of the assets of the Partnership among securities (and/or other investments) to be selected by the General Partner in its sole and absolute discretion, including, but not limited to the right to:

(i) purchase, hold and sell securities (and/or other investments) and rights therein of any kind or nature;

(ii) allocate any and all of the assets of the Partnership among a number of Portfolio Funds;

(iii) purchase, hold, sell and otherwise deal in put and call options, monetary instruments and any combinations thereof and any other financial instruments or contracts of any nature or kind;

(iv) maintain margin accounts with brokers, pledge securities for loans and, in connection with any such pledge, effect borrowings from brokers or banks in such amounts as may be determined from time to time; and

(v) transact business through brokers and dealers and other persons selected by the General Partner in its sole discretion, and in selecting such brokers, dealers and other persons, and determining the compensation payable to such persons, it shall seek to obtain the best execution for the Partnership taking into account the value of any research and brokerage services or products provided by such persons to the General Partner or the Partnership even though other persons may be able to provide transactional services (without any accompanying research or brokerage services or products) at lower rates of compensation;

(b) To acquire and enter into any contract of insurance that the General Partner deems necessary or appropriate for the protection of the Partnership and the General Partner or for any purpose convenient or beneficial to the Partnership;

(c) To engage in any transaction with affiliates of the General Partner, including entering into and amending and restating an investment management agreement with the Investment Manager (any such agreement, in effect from time to time, "Investment Management Agreement"), subject to the restrictions in Section 3.01(b);

(d) To employ persons, whether full-time or part-time, in the operation and management of the business of the Partnership, on such terms and for such compensation as the General Partner shall determine, regardless of whether or not such persons also may be employed by the General Partner or its affiliates;

(e) To file, conduct and defend legal proceedings of any form, including proceedings against Partners, and to compromise and settle any such proceedings or any claims, including claims against Partners, on whatever terms deemed appropriate by the General Partner;

(f) To open brokerage, bank and other accounts and, to the extent that funds are not invested, to deposit and maintain such funds in the name of the Partnership in such accounts and to temporarily invest such funds in short term United States and/or foreign government securities, money market accounts and/or other short term interest-bearing instruments; provided, however, that the Partnership's funds shall not be commingled with the funds of any other person or entity;

(g) To cause the Partnership to make or revoke any of the elections referred to in Section 754 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("Code"), or any similar provision enacted in lieu thereof;

(h) To act as the "tax matters partner" of the Partnership within the meaning of Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code;

(i) To select as its accounting year the annual period ending December 31 or any other Fiscal Year as is permitted by the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS");

(j) To engage independent accountants, attorneys, investment managers, sub-advisers, broker-dealers, administrators, custodians, consultants and such other persons as the General Partner may deem necessary or advisable;

(k) To establish and maintain for the conduct of Partnership affairs one or more offices and in connection therewith rent or acquire office space, engage personnel, whether part time or full time, and do such other acts and incur such expenses as the General Partner may deem necessary or advisable in connection with the maintenance or administration of such office;

(l) To require a provision in any Partnership contract that the General Partner shall not have any personal liability therefor, but that the person or entity contracting with the Partnership is to look solely to the Partnership and its assets for satisfaction;

(m) To purchase and sell Partnership assets at such price or amount for cash, securities or other property and upon such terms as are deemed in the General Partner's absolute discretion to be in the best interests of the Partnership;

(n) To prepare (or cause to be prepared), execute, acknowledge and/or deliver any and all instruments to effectuate the business of the Partnership, including, but not limited to, annual and/or interim reports, a copy of which shall be delivered to each Partner, as provided in Sections 3.06(b) and 13.05;

(o) To effect on behalf of the Partnership any "agency cross transaction" (as contemplated in Rule 206(3)-2 under the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended ("Advisers Act")) through the General Partner or any of its affiliates that is registered as a broker or dealer; provided that the authority granted in this subsection may be revoked at any time by the General Partner or by vote or consent of Limited Partners owning more than fifty percent (50%) of the Partnership Interests held by Limited Partners;

(p) To "cross" any transaction for the purchase or sale of securities between two or more advisory clients or managed funds, including the Partnership (as contemplated in Rule 206(3) under the Advisers Act and interpretations thereunder) ("Cross Trading"); provided that the General Partner receives no additional compensation in connection with such Cross Trading activities, and subject to the restrictions in Section 3.01(b);

(q) To waive or reduce, in whole or in part, any notice period, minimum amount requirement, or other limitation or restriction imposed on Capital Contributions (as defined in Section 8.01), withdrawals of capital, any fee, any payment to the General Partner and/or any requirement imposed on a Limited Partner by this Agreement, regardless of whether such notice period, minimum amount, limitation, restriction, withdrawal provision, fee, payment or other requirement of this Agreement, or the waiver or reduction thereof, operates for the benefit of the Partnership, the General Partner or fewer than all the Limited Partners;

(r) To establish such reserves for the Partnership as the General Partner shall, in its sole but reasonable discretion, deem appropriate to pay current and future, definite, contingent and possible obligations of the Partnership or a Series (even if such reserves are not in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"));

(s) To value the assets and liabilities of the Partnership;

(t) To create special purpose vehicles to make or pursue investments either alone or as a joint-venture with other persons or entities;

(u) To establish and offer multiple Series of Partnership Interests with such rights and privileges as the General Partner shall determine, and to amend this Agreement in connection therewith to reflect such multi-Series structure;

(v) To convert the Partnership from a stand-alone fund into a "feeder fund" as part of a master-feeder structure, and to amend this Agreement pursuant thereto to reflect such master-feeder structure;

(w) To create a liquidating fund entity (e.g., a liquidating trust or similar vehicle), and to transfer all or a portion of the Partnership's assets to such entity for any reason, including an orderly liquidation of any illiquid Partnership assets; and

(x) To do any act, engage in any activity or execute any agreement of any nature, necessary or incidental to the accomplishment of the purposes of the Partnership in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement, the Memorandum and all applicable federal, state and local laws and regulations.

Section 3.03 Actions of General Partner. The General Partner is authorized, directed and empowered to act individually on behalf of the Partnership, and in accordance therewith, to execute all documents and instruments on behalf of the Partnership. Third parties may rely on the execution of any documents on behalf of the Partnership by the General Partner.

Section 3.04 Liability and Indemnification

(a) None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates (as defined in Section 6.02(a)) shall be liable to the Partnership or the Limited Partners for any action or inaction in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership unless such action or inaction is determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. It shall be conclusively presumed and established that the General Partner, the Investment Manager and such persons acted in good faith if any action is taken, or not taken, by any of them on the advice of legal counsel or other independent outside consultants; provided that the General Partner, the Investment Manager and such persons did not act with gross negligence or willful misconduct in the selection of such counsel or consultants. Any exculpation under this Section 3.04(a) shall apply only to the extent that such exculpation does not violate applicable federal and state laws.

(b) The Partnership shall indemnify and hold harmless the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Investment Manager Affiliates (which, for purposes of this Section 3.04(b), shall include fund counsel (except for legal malpractice)) from and against any and all claims, liabilities, obligations, judgments, suits, proceedings, actions, demands, losses, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees and other expenses of litigation), damages, penalties or interest, as a result of any claim or legal proceeding (made or threatened) related to any action or inaction by any of them in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership (including the settlement or appeal of any such claim or legal proceeding); provided, however, that the party against whom the claim is made or legal proceeding is directed is not guilty of gross negligence or willful misconduct, as determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction. Any indemnity under this Section 3.04(b) shall be paid from and to the extent of Partnership assets only, and shall apply only to the extent that such indemnity does not violate applicable federal and state laws. The Partnership shall, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, advance amounts and/or pay expenses as incurred in connection with the indemnification obligation herein. In the event this indemnification obligation shall be deemed unenforceable, whether in whole or in part, such unenforceable portion shall be stricken or modified so as to give effect to this paragraph to the fullest extent permitted by law. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing indemnification provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

(c) If, to the extent, and at such times as, any assets of the Partnership are deemed to be "plan assets" within the meaning of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), of any Limited Partner that is an employee benefit plan governed by ERISA, the General Partner shall be, and hereby acknowledges that it shall be considered to be, a fiduciary within the meaning of Section 3(21) of ERISA as to that Limited Partner. In such an event, or if any manager, member, officer, employee, agent or affiliate of the General Partner, is ever held to be a fiduciary of any Limited Partner, then, in accordance with Sections 405(b)(1), 405(c)(2) and 405(d) of ERISA, the fiduciary responsibilities of that person shall be limited to the person's duties in administering the business of the Partnership, and the person shall not be responsible for any other duties to such Limited Partner, specifically including evaluating the initial or continued appropriateness of this investment in the Partnership under Section 404(a)(1) of ERISA.

Section 3.05 No Prohibition Against Other Business Ventures. Each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may engage and hold interests in other business ventures of every kind and description for its own account, including, without limitation, other investment entities similar to the Partnership, whether or not such business ventures are in direct or indirect competition with the Partnership, and whether or not the Partnership or any of the Partners also has an interest therein, without having to account to the Partnership or any Partner for any profits or other benefits derived therefrom and without incurring any obligation to offer any interest in any such activity to the Partnership or any Partner.

Section 3.06 Duty to Keep Books, Financial and Tax Reports

(a) At all times during the existence of the Partnership, the General Partner shall keep true and complete records and books of account, in which each transaction of the Partnership shall be entered fully and accurately. The General Partner has the power, in its sole and absolute discretion, to delegate some or all of the administrative bookkeeping functions relating to the Partnership to an administrator or other agent, which may be the Partnership's accountants.

(b) The General Partner shall cause to be prepared and distributed to each Partner as soon as practicable following each Fiscal Year the Partnership's annual financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP (except to the extent that the Memorandum or this Agreement states or contemplates that such statements may be inconsistent with GAAP) and audited by an independent certified public accounting firm. The General Partner shall also have prepared and filed all federal, state and local income, franchise, gross receipts, payroll and other tax returns that the Partnership is obligated to file. Subject to the limitations set forth in Section 5.04, copies of all Partnership tax returns, information returns or reports shall be available to all Partners as soon as possible after the close of the Partnership's Fiscal Year at the principal office of the Partnership. Copies of each Partner's Schedule K-1 of the Partnership's Tax Return (Form 1065) shall be distributed to such Partner as soon as practicable after the close of the Partnership's Fiscal Year. The General Partner may agree to provide certain Limited Partners with additional information on the underlying investments of the Partnership, as well as heightened access to the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective employees for relevant information. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing reporting provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

(c) The General Partner may at any time choose to change the Partnership's accounting guidelines from GAAP to the International Financial Reporting Standard ("IFRS"). In such event, the financial performance of the Partnership, as determined under IFRS, may vary from those determined under GAAP.

ARTICLE IV
GENERAL PARTNER RESIGNATION; TRANSFER OF GENERAL PARTNER INTEREST; CONTINUATION OF PARTNERSHIP; SUBSTITUTION OF GENERAL PARTNER

Section 4.01 General Partner Resignation and Involuntary Withdrawal; Admission of Additional General Partners and Transfer by General Partner

(a) The General Partner shall not be permitted to voluntarily withdraw or resign as the general partner of the Partnership, except upon no less than thirty (30) days' prior written notice to all Limited Partners. In the event of dissolution of the General Partner, or if a voluntary or involuntary petition for bankruptcy shall be filed by or against the General Partner, or the General Partner shall make any assignment for the benefit of its creditors (any of the foregoing, an "Involuntary Withdrawal"), the General Partner or the General Partner's trustee, receiver or assignee shall have none of the rights and powers of a general partner hereunder, and shall have no authority to act on behalf of the Partnership or have any voice in the management and operation of the Partnership, except as provided in Section 13.02.

(b) The General Partner may admit additional general partners to the Partnership at such times as the General Partner shall determine, without the consent of the Limited Partners. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the General Partner shall have the right to transfer its interest, as the general partner of the Partnership, to any affiliate of the General Partner, including any person or entity controlled by the General Partner, controlling the General Partner or under common control with the General Partner, without the consent of the Limited Partners. In the event of such transfer by the General Partner to an affiliate, the General Partner shall not be deemed to have resigned or withdrawn from the Partnership for purposes of Section 13.01(a). Any affiliate transferee of the General Partner under this Section 4.01(b) shall assume the status of and shall have all of the rights, powers and obligations that the General Partner possessed prior to such transfer. The General Partner shall not assign, transfer, sell, mortgage or otherwise encumber or transfer its interest as the general partner of the Partnership, except as set forth herein. Any additional general partner or transferee of the General Partner shall execute and acknowledge any and all instruments that are necessary or appropriate to effect the admission of any such person or entity as a general partner, including, without limitation, the written acceptance and adoption by such person of the provisions of this Agreement and, if required by the Act, an amendment of the Certificate. For the avoidance of doubt, should the General Partner transfer its interest, as the general partner of the Partnership, to any non-affiliate of the General Partner, the Limited Partners shall have the right to revoke such appointment within ninety (90) days after such event, by affirmative vote of Limited Partners owning more than fifty percent (50%) of the Partnership Interests held by Limited Partners.

Section 4.02 Continuation of Partnership; Appointment of Substitute General Partner by Limited Partners. If an event as set forth in Section 13.01(a) occurs, the Limited Partners shall have the right, within ninety (90) days after such event, by affirmative vote of Limited Partners owning more than fifty percent (50%) of the Partnership Interests held by Limited Partners, to appoint a substitute general partner, in which event the Partnership shall not dissolve and shall continue its existence.

Section 4.03 Substitute General Partner Requirements. Any substitute general partner shall execute and acknowledge any and all instruments that are necessary or appropriate to effect the admission of any such person or entity as a substitute general partner, including, without limitation, the written acceptance and adoption by such person of the provisions of this Agreement and, if required by the Act, an amendment of the Certificate. Any successor to such office of general partner shall assume the status of and shall have all of the rights, powers and obligations that the General Partner possessed prior to its withdrawal, resignation or Involuntary Withdrawal from the Partnership.

ARTICLE V
STATUS, RIGHTS, POWERS AND VOTING RIGHTS OF LIMITED PARTNERS

Section 5.01 Limited Liability. No Limited Partner, Substitute Limited Partner (as defined in Section 10.02) or Additional Limited Partner shall be personally liable or bound for the expenses, liabilities or obligations of the Partnership or the relevant Series beyond the amount in such Partner's Capital Account in the relevant Series, from time to time, including any amounts thereof attributable to Capital Contributions, except that such Partner may be obligated to return all or a portion of any distributions (including withdrawal proceeds) received from the Partnership (x) in an amount up to its aggregate Capital Contributions in the relevant Series (including any income or gains thereon) to the Partnership in order to pay such Partner's pro rata share of any Partnership liabilities that arose while such Partner held Partnership Interests, and (y) as required under Section 5.02(b).

Section 5.02 Capital Contributions

(a) No Limited Partner shall be entitled to a return of such Limited Partner's Capital Contribution or any portion thereof, except as set forth in Section 7.01, and no time has been agreed upon for the return of any Partner's Capital Contribution, except as herein provided.

(b) Each Limited Partner, if such Limited Partner receives a return of all or any part of such Limited Partner's Capital Contribution, may, to the extent provided for in the Act, be liable to the Partnership or the relevant Series for an amount equal to such distribution, if at the time of such distribution, the Limited Partner knew the Partnership or the relevant Series was prohibited from making such distribution under the Act.

Section 5.03 Liability of Limited Partner for Additional Contributions and Loans. No Limited Partner shall be obligated to provide any contributions to the Partnership, other than the Original Capital Contribution (as defined in Section 9.02) of such Limited Partner. No Limited Partner shall be obligated to make any loan to the Partnership.

Section 5.04 Rights of Limited Partners to Inspect Books, Records, and Partnership Documents. Upon reasonable advance written notice and during reasonable business hours, a Limited Partner may inspect and copy, at the Limited Partner's expense and solely for a purpose reasonably related to the Limited Partner's interest as a Partner, the records of the Partnership required to be maintained pursuant to Section 17-305 of the Act and any financial statements maintained by the Partnership. Any such inspection must be in good faith without any intent to damage the Partnership or any of its Partners in any manner. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner in its discretion may limit the information that a Limited Partner may obtain pursuant to this Section 5.04 to the extent that such information shall allow a Limited Partner to identify any other Limited Partner. As a result, each Limited Partner agrees and acknowledges that any books and records of the Partnership made available to a Limited Partner for inspection may be redacted to exclude any information concerning the identity of the other Limited Partners, and, to the extent such books and records cannot be so redacted, such books and records may be withheld for inspection to such requesting Limited Partner. Copies of this Agreement and all amendments hereto shall be furnished to each Limited Partner upon request. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing reporting provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

Section 5.05 No Restriction on Other Activities. Limited Partners may engage and hold interests in business ventures of every kind and description for their own accounts, including, without limitation, business ventures which are, directly or indirectly, in competition with the Partnership and whether or not the Partnership or any of the Partners also has an interest therein. Neither the Partnership nor any of the Partners shall have any rights in such independent business ventures by virtue of this Agreement.

Section 5.06 Voting Rights. In addition to the rights to vote conferred upon the Limited Partners in Sections 3.01(b), 3.02, 4.02 and 13.02 or otherwise specifically set forth herein, Limited Partners shall have the right to vote on amendments to this Agreement to the extent provided in Section 14.08.

Section 5.07 Constructive Consent by Limited Partners. In the event that the General Partner requires the consent of the Limited Partners in order to take action (including approving amendments to this Agreement), and written notice of such action is sent to any such Limited Partners by (i) certified mail, return receipt requested, (ii) electronic mail, or (iii) overnight delivery by a reputable private carrier or by the postal service, those Limited Partners not affirmatively objecting in writing within thirty (30) days after such notice is deemed to have been mailed or sent (under Section 14.01) be deemed to have consented to the proposed action set forth in the General Partner's notice.

Section 5.08 Rights as to Dissolution. The Limited Partners shall have no right or power to cause the dissolution and winding up of the Partnership by court decree or otherwise or to withdraw or reduce their Capital Contributions, except as set forth in the Certificate and this Agreement. No Limited Partner shall have the right to bring an action for partition against the Partnership, and each Partner hereby waives any right to partition of the Partnership's property.

Section 5.09 Consent by Partners in Lieu of Meeting. Any action required by this Agreement or the Act to be taken at any regular or special meeting of the Partners, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the Partners (or shall be deemed signed by the Partners pursuant to Section 5.07) having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all Partners entitled to vote thereon were present and voted.

Section 5.10 Non-Voting Interests of BHC Limited Partners; Other Non-Voting Interests

(a) The portion of any Partnership Interest held for its own account by a BHC Limited Partner (as defined in this Section 5.10(a)) whose interests in the Partnership are determined, at any time, to be in excess of 4.99% (or such greater or lesser percentage as may be permitted or required from time to time under Section 4(c)(6) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended ("BHCA")) of the aggregate outstanding Partnership Interests of all Limited Partners, excluding any other Partnership Interests that are non-voting Partnership Interests pursuant to this Section 5.10, shall be deemed to be non-voting Partnership Interests to the extent of such excess above 4.99% (whether or not subsequently transferred, in whole or in part, to any other person or entity) (collectively, "Non-Voting Interests"); provided that such Non-Voting Interests shall be permitted to participate in any vote by the Limited Partners on (i) any proposal to dissolve or continue the business of the Partnership under this Agreement, (ii) any vote pursuant to Section 4.02, and (iii) matters with respect to which voting rights are not considered to be "voting securities" under 12 C.F.R. § 225.2(q)(2), including such matters which may "significantly and adversely" affect a BHC Limited Partner (such as amendments to this Agreement or modifications of the terms of its Partnership Interest). Except as provided in Section 13.01(a), a BHC Limited Partner shall not be permitted to vote on the selection of any successor general partner of the Partnership, and each BHC Limited Partner irrevocably waives its right to vote its Non-Voting Interest on the selection of a successor general partner of the Partnership under Section 17-801 of the Act, which waiver shall be binding upon such BHC Limited Partner or any person or entity that succeeds to its Partnership Interest. A "BHC Limited Partner" shall mean any Limited Partner that is, or is an affiliate of, a bank holding company (as defined in Section 2(a) of the BHCA) that is subject to the provisions of Regulation Y issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

(b) To the extent permitted by the BHCA, and except as otherwise provided in this Section 5.10, Non-Voting Interests shall not be counted as Partnership Interests held by any Limited Partner for purposes of determining whether any vote or consent required by this Agreement has been approved or given by the requisite percentage of the Limited Partners.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, any BHC Limited Partner may elect to no longer be treated as a BHC Limited Partner for the purposes of this Agreement by delivering written notice of such election to the General Partner. Any such election made by a BHC Limited Partner may be rescinded at any time by providing written notice thereof to the General Partner.

(d) The General Partner may, for legal, regulatory or other reasons, designate any other Partnership Interests as non-voting, in whole or in part. Except as provided in this Section 5.10, a Partnership Interest held by a Limited Partner as a non-voting Partnership Interest shall be identical in all regards to all other Partnership Interests held by Limited Partners.

(e) For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 5.10 shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

ARTICLE VI
FEES AND EXPENSES; BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Section 6.01 Management Fee.

(a) In consideration for services provided pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement, the Investment Manager shall receive a quarterly management fee ("Management Fee") equal to a percentage of each Limited Partner's share of the Partnership's Net Asset Value (as defined in Section 9.04), and based on the Partnership's total Net Asset Value, as follows:

Partnership's Total Net Asset Value	Management Fee (per annum)

$100,000,000 - $199,999,999	0.5000%
$200,000,000 - $249,999,999	0.4500%
$250,000,000 - $499,999,999	0.3500%
> $500,000,000	0.3400%

For the avoidance of doubt, the Management Fee calculated based on the foregoing schedule will be calculated on a "progressive" basis. For example, if the Partnership's Net Asset Value reaches $150,000,000, the initial $99,999,999 will always be charged a Management Fee of 0.55000% annually. The benefit of the declining Management Fee schedule above is intended to benefit all Limited Partners as each Capital Account will be charged a blended Management Fee based on the above schedule.

The Management Fee shall be calculated and payable to the Investment Manager quarterly, in advance, as of the first day of each calendar quarter. A pro rata Management Fee shall be charged to Limited Partners on any amounts accepted by the General Partner during a calendar quarter. No part of the Management Fee shall be refunded in the event that a Limited Partner withdraws, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, all or any of the value in such Limited Partner's Capital Account during any calendar quarter. Management Fees shall be payable with respect to the Partnership Interests of a Limited Partner in any Side Pocket Account.

(b) For purposes of calculating the Management Fee with respect to Side Pocket Accounts, Illiquid Investments (each as defined in Section 9.07) shall be carried at their fair value (which may be at, above or below cost) as determined by the Investment Manager.

(c) With respect to any Limited Partner who has requested to withdraw all of its Partnership Interests from the Partnership, with the exception of any Partnership Interests maintained in a Side Pocket Account, the Partnership may reserve an amount from the withdrawing Limited Partner's withdrawal proceeds in order to cover the estimated accrued Management Fees and expenses attributable to the Limited Partner's Partnership Interests in the Side Pocket Account based on the Investment Manager's estimate of the time period that the Illiquid Investments held in the Side Pocket Account shall remain in such Side Pocket Account (collectively, the "Management Fee Reserve"). The Management Fee Reserve shall be treated as a liability of the Partnership, and the balance of the Management Fee Reserve, if any, shall be paid to the withdrawing Limited Partner, without interest, upon such Limited Partner's complete withdrawal from the Side Pocket Account.

(d) The Partnership will also bear its pro rata share of the management fees charged by the managers of the Portfolio Funds. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investment Manager intends to waive any management fees due to the Investment Manager with respect to any investment of the Partnership in any Affiliated Funds (as defined in the Memorandum), including the PE Portfolio Fund (as defined in the Memorandum). Accordingly, to the extent that the Partnership invests in any Affiliated Funds, including the PE Portfolio Fund, the Partnership will not be subject to a layering of fees.

Section 6.02 Expenses

(a) Organizational and Initial Offering Expenses. The Partnership shall pay or reimburse the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or their respective managers, members, shareholders, directors, officers, partners, employees, agents and/or affiliates (collectively, "Investment Manager Affiliates") for all organizational and initial offering expenses of the Partnership, including, but not limited to, legal and accounting fees, printing and mailing expenses and government filing fees (including blue sky filing fees). The Partnership's organizational and initial offering expenses may be, for accounting purposes, capitalized and amortized by the Partnership for up to sixty (60) months from the date the Partnership commences operations. Amortization of such expenses is a divergence from GAAP. In certain circumstances, this divergence may result in a qualification of the Partnership's annual audited financial statements. In such instances, the Partnership may elect to: (i) avoid the qualification by recognizing the unamortized expenses or (ii) make GAAP-conforming changes for financial reporting purposes, but capitalize and amortize expenses for purposes of calculating the Partnership's Net Asset Value (resulting in a divergence in Fiscal Year-end Net Asset Values reported in the Partnership's financial statements, and as otherwise applicable under the provisions of this Agreement). If the Partnership capitalizes and amortizes such expenses and is then terminated within sixty (60) months of its commencement, any unamortized expenses shall be recognized. If a Limited Partner makes a withdrawal prior to the end of the period during which the Partnership is capitalizing and amortizing expenses, the Partnership may, but is not required to, accelerate a proportionate share of the unamortized expenses based upon the amount being withdrawn and reduce withdrawal proceeds accordingly.

(b) Operating Expenses. The Partnership shall pay or reimburse the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates for: (i) all expenses incurred in connection with the ongoing offer and sale of Partnership Interests, including, but not limited to, printing of the Memorandum and exhibits, marketing expenses and documentation of performance and the admission of Limited Partners, (ii) all operating expenses of the Partnership, such as tax preparation fees, governmental fees and taxes, fees to the Partnership's administrator ("Administrator"), costs of communications with Limited Partners, and ongoing legal, accounting, auditing, bookkeeping, consulting and other professional fees and expenses, (iii) all Partnership research, trading and investment-related costs and expenses (e.g., brokerage commissions, research fees, margin interest, expenses related to short sales, custodial fees, bank service fees, and clearing and settlement charges), (iv) technology-related costs and expenses, including, but not limited to, software licenses, data feeds and colocation expenses, (v) all expenses related to attending any conference or seminar related to alternative investments (e.g., registration, transportation, accommodation or meal expenses), (vi) regulatory and other filing fees and expenses, (vii) travel expenses related to meeting with management teams, or related to any of the other categories of expenses set forth herein, (viii) any costs and expenses incurred by the Partnership in connection with converting from a stand-alone fund into a "feeder fund" as part of a master-feeder structure, (ix) director and officer liability insurance or other insurance premiums for any principal or employee of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates, (x) all fees and other expenses incurred in connection with the investigation, prosecution or defense of any claims, assertion of rights or pursuit of remedies, by or against the Partnership, including, without limitation, professional and other advisory and consulting expenses, and (xi) any and all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the dissolution, winding up, or termination of the Partnership. Each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates, in its sole discretion, may from time to time pay for any of the foregoing Partnership expenses. Any such person may elect to be reimbursed for such expenses, or to waive its right to reimbursement for any such expenses, as well as terminate any such voluntary payment or waiver of reimbursement.

The Partnership will also bear its pro rata share of the expenses of each Portfolio Fund.

(c) Allocation of Expenses Among Series. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager will allocate all expenses attributable to the Partnership among the Series on a pro rata basis or otherwise in their reasonable discretion.

(d) General Partner and Investment Manager Expenses. The General Partner and the Investment Manager shall pay for their own general operating and overhead expenses associated with providing the management and investment management services required under this Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement, respectively. These expenses include all expenses incurred by the General Partner and the Investment Manager in providing for their normal operating overhead, including, but not limited to, the cost of providing relevant support and administrative services (e.g., employee compensation and benefits, rent, office equipment, computer systems, insurance (other than as expressly set forth above), utilities, telephone, secretarial and bookkeeping services, etc.), but not including any Partnership operating expenses described above. The General Partner and the Investment Manager may use "soft dollar" commissions or rebates by brokerage firms of commissions generated by the Partnership's brokerage transactions executed through those firms to pay for certain brokerage and research products and services that fall within the safe harbor under Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, as set forth in the Memorandum.

Section 6.03 Marketing Fees and Sales Charges. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may sell Partnership Interests through broker-dealers and pay a marketing fee or commission in connection with such activities, including ongoing payments, at the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own expense. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may also deduct a percentage of the amount invested by a Limited Partner in the Partnership to pay sales fees or charges, on a fully disclosed basis, to a broker-dealer based upon the Capital Contribution of such Limited Partner introduced to the Partnership by such broker-dealer. Any such sales fees or charges would be assessed against the referred Limited Partner and would reduce the amount actually invested by such Limited Partner in the Partnership. If a Limited Partner is introduced to the Partnership through a broker-dealer that is not affiliated with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, the arrangement, if any, with such broker-dealer shall be disclosed to, and acknowledged by, such Limited Partner.

Section 6.04 Directed Brokerage. The Investment Manager is authorized to direct Partnership brokerage transactions to brokers or other persons who refer prospective Limited Partners to the Partnership. The Investment Manager is authorized to pay finders' fees or other compensation at its own expense to such persons.

Section 6.05 Allocation of Investment Opportunities. The Investment Manager may at times determine that certain investments shall be suitable for acquisition by the Partnership and by other accounts managed by the Investment Manager, the Investment Manager's own accounts or accounts of an affiliate. If that occurs, and the Investment Manager is not able to acquire the desired aggregate amount of such investments on terms and conditions which the Investment Manager deems advisable, the Investment Manager shall endeavor to allocate in good faith the limited amount of such investments acquired among the various accounts for which the Investment Manager considers them to be suitable. The Investment Manager may make such allocations among the accounts in any manner which it considers to be fair under the circumstances, including, but not limited to, allocations based on relative account sizes, the degree of risk involved in the investments acquired, and the extent to which such investments are consistent with the investment policies and strategies of the various accounts involved.

Section 6.06 Aggregation of Orders. The Investment Manager may aggregate purchase and sale orders of investments held by the Partnership with similar orders being made simultaneously for other accounts or entities if, in the Investment Manager's reasonable judgment, such aggregation is reasonably likely to result in an overall economic benefit to the Partnership based on an evaluation that the Partnership shall be benefited by relatively better purchase or sale prices, lower commission expenses or beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors. In some instances, the purchase or sale of investments for the Partnership may be effected simultaneously with the purchase or sale of like investments for other accounts or entities. Such transactions may be made at slightly different prices, due to the volume of investments purchased or sold. In such event, the average price of all investments purchased or sold in such transactions may be determined, at the Investment Manager's sole discretion, and the Partnership may be charged or credited, as the case may be, with the average transaction price.

ARTICLE VII
WITHDRAWALS FROM CAPITAL ACCOUNT; DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 7.01 Permissible Withdrawals. A Limited Partner may withdraw all or any of the value in such Limited Partner's Capital Account in any Series in the manner and to the extent provided in Section 7.02. Each of the General Partner and its principals and affiliates may withdraw all or any of the value in its respective Capital Account at any time, from time to time, without the consent of the Limited Partners and without notice to any of the Limited Partners.

Section 7.02 Withdrawal Procedures

(a) Subject to the Lock-Up Period (as defined in Section 7.02(b)) and certain other restrictions described herein, each Limited Partner may withdraw a minimum of $100,000 as of the last day of each calendar quarter and at such other times as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion (each such date shall be referred to herein as a "Withdrawal Date"), upon at least ninety-one (91) days' prior written notice to the Administrator, with a copy to the General Partner. Unless the General Partner consents, partial withdrawals may not be made if they would reduce a Limited Partner's Capital Account balance below $500,000. All withdrawals shall be deemed made prior to the commencement of the following calendar quarter (or other relevant period).

(b) Each Capital Contribution by a Limited Partner to the Partnership will be subject to a twelve (12)-month lock-up period ("Lock-Up Period") during which such capital may not be withdrawn from the Partnership, unless the Lock-Up Period is waived or reduced by the General Partner. If a Limited Partner purchases Partnership Interests on multiple dates, each tranche of Partnership Interests will be tracked separately for purposes of the Lock-Up Period, and withdrawals will be deemed made from Partnership Interests purchased on the earliest date (as adjusted for changes in the Net Asset Value). For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing Lock-Up provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

(c) The General Partner believes (but cannot guarantee) that the assets of the Partnership will be invested in a manner which would allow the General Partner to satisfy withdrawal requests. The General Partner may, in its sole discretion: (i) defer withdrawal requests until the Partnership's assets mature or are liquidated in due course, (ii) elect to purchase with its own funds the Partnership Interests of the withdrawing Partner, or (iii) borrow from a third party or draw from a line of credit, subject to availability and other factors, in order to fund any withdrawal. In addition, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may limit and/or suspend withdrawals in order to ensure that the Partnership, at all times, meets the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds, as further set forth in the Memorandum.

(d) A Limited Partner may not withdraw any of the amounts in its Capital Account that are attributable to the value of an Illiquid Investment held in a Side Pocket Account until such time that such Illiquid Investment (or the sales proceeds thereof) is reallocated to such Limited Partner's Capital Account. At the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, an Illiquid Investment may be held in a Side Pocket Account until the occurrence of a Realization Event (as defined in Section 9.07). For the avoidance of doubt, any investment made by Series 1 into the series of the PE Portfolio Fund that corresponds to the latter fund's investment made in the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely.

(e) The following provision shall apply to withdrawals, on a Series-by-Series basis:

(i) A Limited Partner who requests any withdrawal of capital that constitutes, together with prior withdrawals within any Fiscal Year, less than ninety percent (90%) of the value of such Limited Partner's Capital Account (excluding any amounts held in any Side Pocket Accounts) shall be paid within ninety (90) days after the applicable Withdrawal Date.

(ii) In the event that a Limited Partner requests a withdrawal of capital that constitutes, together with prior withdrawals within any Fiscal Year, ninety percent (90%) or more of the value of such Limited Partner's Capital Account (excluding any amounts held in any Side Pocket Accounts), the General Partner may reduce the amounts paid after any Withdrawal Date so that they constitute, in the aggregate during such Fiscal Year ninety percent (90%) of an amount estimated by the General Partner to be the amount to which the withdrawing Limited Partner is entitled in the aggregate (calculated on the basis of unaudited data); such amount will be paid within ninety (90) days after the applicable Withdrawal Date. The balance of the amount payable upon such withdrawal shall be paid, without interest, within ninety (90) days after completion of the audited financial statements for the Fiscal Year in which the withdrawal occurs. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, agree to pay up to the full Capital Account balance (calculated on the basis of unaudited data) to a withdrawing Limited Partner within ninety (90) days after the applicable Withdrawal Date, subject to adjustment based on audited financial statements. To the extent that the sum previously paid to a withdrawing Limited Partner is calculated to have exceeded the amount to which it is entitled, that Limited Partner shall be required to repay to the Partnership the balance.

(f) The General Partner may, in its sole discretion, require a Limited Partner to withdraw any or all of the value of such Limited Partner's Capital Accounts on at least five (5) days' notice for any reason or no reason; provided, however, that the General Partner may require such a withdrawal on less (or no) notice in order to comply with any laws and regulations applicable to the Partnership and/or its affiliates.

(g) The Partnership or the relevant Series has the right to pay cash or in-kind, or a combination of both, to a Limited Partner that makes a withdrawal from such Limited Partner's Capital Account under this Article VII.

(h) All withdrawals shall be subject to the General Partner's power to establish such reserves for the Partnership or a Series as the General Partner shall, in its sole but reasonable discretion, deem appropriate to pay current and future, definite, contingent and possible obligations of the Partnership or a Series (even if such reserves are not in accordance with GAAP), including estimated expenses in connection therewith, which could reduce the amount of a distribution upon withdrawal.

(i) All notices of withdrawal must specify the dollar amount or percentage of value of a Limited Partner's Capital Account to be withdrawn. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may waive or modify any of the terms relating to withdrawals, including, without limitation, minimum amounts, notice periods and the Lock-UP Period, for all or any of the Limited Partners in its discretion without notice to the other Limited Partners.

(j) If the General Partner, in its sole discretion, permits a Limited Partner to withdraw capital other than on a regularly scheduled Withdrawal Date, the General Partner may impose an administrative fee to cover the actual legal, accounting, administrative, brokerage, and any other costs and expenses associated with such withdrawal. Such fee shall be payable to the relevant Series of the Partnership and shall be deducted from the withdrawal proceeds of the withdrawing Limited Partner as of such Withdrawal Date.

(k) Upon withdrawal of all of the capital in its Capital Account (excluding for purposes hereof, any remaining investments held in a Side Pocket Account), a Limited Partner shall be deemed to have withdrawn from the Partnership or the relevant Series and, upon notice of such withdrawal, a Limited Partner shall not be entitled to exercise any voting rights afforded to Limited Partners under this Agreement.

(l) In addition to the above limitations on withdrawals, all withdrawals by Limited Partners will be subject to any limitations on withdrawals imposed by the Portfolio Funds, as applicable. For example, the ability of the Partnership to provide withdrawal proceeds to a Limited Partner may be subject to, among other things, various notice period requirements of the Portfolio Funds.

Section 7.03 Limitations on Withdrawals

(a) The Partnership or a Series may suspend (or postpone) withdrawals, subscriptions, calculations of Net Asset Value and/or payments upon any withdrawals (in whole or in part) from Capital Accounts:

(i) during the existence of any state of affairs which, in the opinion of the General Partner, makes the disposition of the Partnership's investments impractical or prejudicial to the Partners, or where such state of affairs, in the opinion of the General Partner, makes the determination of the price or value of the Partnership's investments impractical or prejudicial to the Partners;

(ii) where any such withdrawals, subscriptions, calculations and/or payments, in the opinion of the General Partner, would result in the violation of any applicable law or regulation, including any diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds;

(iii) if the General Partner determines, in its sole discretion, that such suspension or postponement is prudent in order to prevent the Partnership from being subject to adverse tax or regulatory implications;

(iv) a Portfolio Fund suspends the right to, or the payment of proceeds due upon, withdrawal and/or a Portfolio Fund allocates assets to its side pocket account;

(v) a Portfolio Fund satisfies a withdrawal request by making an in-kind distribution; or

(vi) for such other reasons or for such other periods as the General Partner may in good faith determine.

(b) All Limited Partners shall be notified in writing of any such suspension or postponement and the termination thereof. Following any suspension or postponement of withdrawals, a withdrawal request made by a Limited Partner prior to such suspension or postponement shall be effected as of the first Withdrawal Date following the recommencement of withdrawals.

(c) For the avoidance of doubt, the following "gate" provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis. In the event that Limited Partners, in the aggregate, request, as of any Withdrawal Date, withdrawals of more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the aggregate balances of the Partnership's Capital Accounts (excluding any Side Pocket Accounts), the requested amounts may, in the General Partner's sole discretion, be reduced to an amount equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the aggregate Capital Account balances of the Partnership (excluding any Side Pocket Accounts) as of such date, and satisfied on a pro rata basis, based on the respective amounts of requested withdrawals of capital by each withdrawing Limited Partner. Capital withdrawal requests that are deferred due to such limitation may be revoked by the withdrawing Limited Partner, and if not revoked, will be aggregated with other withdrawal requests received for subsequent Withdrawal Dates. In the interim, all of the remaining capital in such Limited Partner's Capital Account (including the capital subject to such deferred withdrawal request) shall remain subject to the performance of the Partnership.

Section 7.04 Distributions

(a) The Partnership (or any Series) is not required, and generally does not intend, to make any distributions of cash or other property. However, the Partnership (or any Series) may make such distributions at such times and in such amounts as the General Partner shall determine in its sole discretion.

(b) All distributions hereunder (other than those made related to withdrawals from Capital Accounts) shall be made pro rata to all Partners in accordance with their relative Capital Accounts (or Side Pocket Accounts, New Issues Accounts or other memorandum accounts, as applicable) at the time of any such distribution. The General Partner may set up such reserves as it shall determine shall be appropriate or necessary to accomplish the purposes of the Partnership (even if such reserves are not in accordance with GAAP). If the Partnership (or a Series) shall distribute property other than cash pursuant to this Section 7.04, the Capital Accounts of the Partners shall be adjusted as if such property were sold at the value of such property as determined under Section 9.04, and the cash proceeds of such sale were distributed.

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, to the extent that the Partnership makes any distributions, the General Partner may limit such distributions, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure that the Partnership, at all times, meets the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds.

ARTICLE VIII
ADDITIONAL LIMITED PARTNERS

Section 8.01 Future Issuance of Partnership Interests. The General Partner may admit as of the first day of each month (each such date, a "Contribution Date"), or at any other time that the General Partner determines in its sole and absolute discretion, as additional Limited Partners ("Additional Limited Partners"), persons who contribute cash or, in the General Partner's sole discretion, persons who contribute securities (and/or other investments), for Partnership Interests ("Capital Contributions"). If the General Partner consents to a Limited Partner's contribution of securities (and/or other investments) to the Partnership, the Partnership may, in the General Partner's discretion, assess a special charge against such Limited Partner equal to the actual costs incurred by the Partnership in connection with accepting such contributed securities (and/or other investments), including, but not limited to, the costs of liquidating, or otherwise adjusting the Partnership's portfolio to accommodate, such securities (and/or other investments), and legal, accounting and administration costs. Such special charge shall be assessed as of such dates deemed appropriate by the General Partner. Any securities (and/or other investments) accepted as a Capital Contribution shall be valued by the General Partner, in its sole discretion, using the valuation criteria set forth in Section 9.04.

ARTICLE IX
CAPITAL ACCOUNTS; CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS; NET ASSET VALUE ADJUSTMENTS; TAXABLE INCOME AND LOSS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

Section 9.01 Capital Accounts. A Partner's "Capital Account" as of a particular date shall consist of the following:

(a) an amount equal to the Partner's Original Capital Contribution;

(b) the increases, if any, to such account by reason of Additional Capital Contributions (as defined in Section 9.03(a));

(c) the decreases, if any, to such account by reason of withdrawals (and distributions) from such Capital Account; and

(d) the increases or decreases, if any, to such Capital Account in accordance with the provisions of this Article IX.

Capital Accounts shall be maintained in accordance with the provisions of Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2), or any successor provisions thereto.

Section 9.02 Original Capital Contributions. A Partner's "Original Capital Contribution" shall be the amount of the cash, or in the sole discretion of the General Partner, securities (and/or other investments), contributed by such party upon such Partner's admission as a Partner. The General Partner may establish such minimum Original Capital Contribution as the General Partner deems appropriate and that minimum may thereafter be waived or changed by the General Partner. In the event an Original Capital Contribution is accepted as of any day other than a Contribution Date, the General Partner shall cause appropriate adjustments to be made for purposes of applying the accounting and allocation provisions of this Agreement. At any time that a Partner is admitted, the General Partner shall end the prior accounting period on the day prior to the date of the acceptance of the Original Capital Contribution, and commence a new accounting period on the date of such admission, and upon such admission, the Partnership Interests shall be adjusted and reallocated based upon the Capital Accounts of the respective Partners.

Section 9.03 Additional Capital Contributions

(a) A Partner shall be permitted, with the consent of the General Partner, to make additional Capital Contributions in an amount deemed appropriate by the General Partner in cash or, in the sole discretion of the General Partner, securities (and/or other investments) ("Additional Capital Contributions") to the capital of the Partnership as of any Contribution Date, or at any other time that the General Partner determines in its sole and absolute discretion. In the event an Additional Capital Contribution is accepted as of any day other than a Contribution Date, the General Partner shall cause appropriate adjustments to be made for purposes of applying the accounting and allocation provisions of this Agreement. At any time that Additional Capital Contributions are accepted pursuant to this Section 9.03, the General Partner shall end the prior accounting period on the day prior to the date of the acceptance of the Additional Capital Contributions, and commence a new accounting period on the date of such acceptance, and upon such acceptance, the Partnership Interests shall be adjusted and reallocated based upon the Capital Accounts of the respective Partners. Any securities accepted as an Additional Capital Contribution shall be valued by the General Partner, in its sole discretion, using the valuation criteria set forth in Section 9.04.

(b) In connection with an Additional Capital Contribution by an existing Limited Partner, the General Partner shall (i) treat such Additional Capital Contribution as a Capital Contribution with respect to one of such Limited Partner's existing Capital Accounts or (ii) establish a new Capital Account to which such Capital Contribution shall be credited and which shall be maintained for the benefit of such Limited Partner separately from any existing Capital Account of such Limited Partner. Such separate Capital Account may be maintained for any purpose, in the discretion of the General Partner, including the calculation of the Incentive Fee, the Loss Carryforward (each as defined in Section 9.05) and/or the Lock-Up Period. If a Limited Partner has more than one Capital Account, any withdrawals by or distributions to such Limited Partner shall be applied to such Capital Accounts in such manner and proportion as the General Partner shall determine in its sole discretion.

Section 9.04 Determination of Net Asset Value

(a) The net asset value ("Net Asset Value") of the Partnership, on a Series-by-Series basis, shall be determined on an accrual basis of accounting, as of the end of each calendar month (or other period, as the case may be), in accordance with GAAP, consistently applied (except that: (x) organizational and initial offering expenses of the Partnership may be capitalized and amortized over a period of up to sixty (60) months from the date the Partnership commences operations and (y) reserves may be taken that are inconsistent with GAAP), the Memorandum and the following:

(1) No value shall be assigned to goodwill;

(2) All accrued debts and liabilities shall be treated as liabilities, including, but not limited to, all compensation payable to the Investment Manager that has been earned but not yet paid (e.g., Management Fees and Incentive Fees), any allowance for the Partnership's estimated annual audit and legal fees and other operating expenses and any contingencies for which reserves are required;

(3) Securities, commodities and other financial instruments (other than options) that are listed on a national securities, commodities or other exchange, or over-the-counter instruments listed on NASDAQ, shall be valued at their last sales prices on such date or, if no sales occurred on such date, at the midpoint between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such securities, commodities or financial instruments on such date;

(4) Options that are listed on a securities or commodities exchange shall be valued at their last sales prices on the date of determination on the largest securities or commodities exchange (by trading volume) on which such options shall have traded on such date; provided that, if the last sales prices of such options do not fall between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such options on such date, then such options shall be valued at the midpoint between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such options on such date;

(5) Securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments that are not listed on an exchange or quoted on an over-the-counter market, but for which there are available quotations, shall be valued based upon quotations obtained from market makers, dealers or pricing services;

(6) Securities (and/or other investments) contributed to the Partnership as subscription proceeds shall be treated as if purchased by the Partnership at market value on the date of contribution, and securities (and/or other investments) distributed from the Partnership as withdrawal proceeds shall be treated as if sold by the Partnership at market value on the date of distribution;

(7) Net profits and net losses from New Issues (as defined in Section 9.08(a)) shall only be credited or debited to the Net Asset Value of the New Issues Accounts, except to the extent permitted by the applicable rules of the FINRA (as defined in Section 9.08(a)), in which case a portion of the net profits and net losses from New Issues may be credited or debited to the Net Asset Value of the Capital Accounts of Limited Partners who are Restricted Persons (as defined in Section 9.08(a)) up to an amount permitted by applicable FINRA rules;

(8) Any securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments that have no public market, investments in other asset classes (including those in Side Pocket Accounts), and all other assets of the Partnership for which a valuation methodology is not specified, shall be valued by the Investment Manager in a manner determined in good faith to reflect their fair market value; and

(9) In the case of investments in Portfolio Funds, which investments are expected to constitute most of the Partnership's assets, the net asset value calculation provided by the relevant managers (or any affiliates or service providers thereof) of those Portfolio Funds will generally be used in determining the Partnership's Net Asset Value. The Investment Manager intends to engage an independent third-party valuation agent (in addition to the Administrator) to appraise the Partnership's interests in Illiquid Investments, including, without limitation, the PE Portfolio Fund; provided that, if the PE Portfolio Fund engages its own independent third-party valuation agent, the Partnership may rely on such valuation of any investment in the PE Portfolio Fund. None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates will be responsible for calculating the net asset value of the Portfolio Funds or for verifying the accuracy and completeness of any such values received.

(b) If the Investment Manager determines, in its sole discretion, that the valuation of any security, commodity, option or other financial instrument does not fairly represent its market value, the Investment Manager shall value such security, commodity, option or other financial instrument as it reasonably determines.

(c) In connection with the determination of the Net Asset Value of the Partnership, the Investment Manager may consult with and is entitled to rely upon the advice of the Partnership's brokers and any other third parties deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager. In no event and under no circumstances shall the Investment Manager, the Partnership's brokers or such other third parties incur any individual liability or responsibility for any determination made or other action taken or omitted by them in good faith.

(d) Absent bad faith or manifest error, all Net Asset Value determinations pursuant to this Agreement are conclusive and binding as to all Partners.

(e) After the foregoing determinations have been made, a further calculation shall be made to determine the increase or decrease in Net Asset Value of the Partnership during the month (or other time period, as the case may be) just ended. The term "increase in Net Asset Value" shall be the excess of Net Asset Value at the end of any month (or other time period, as the case may be) over that of the Net Asset Value of the Partnership as of the end of the preceding period, after adjusting for Capital Contributions, distributions and withdrawals. The term "decrease in Net Asset Value" shall be the amount by which the Net Asset Value at the end of the month (or other time period, as the case may be) is less than the Net Asset Value of the Partnership as of the end of the preceding period, after making the adjustments specified above.

Section 9.05 Allocation of Increases and Decreases in Net Asset Value; Incentive Fee

(a) Any net increase or decrease in Net Asset Value during any month (or such other period, as the case may be) shall be allocated as of the end of such month (or such other period, as the case may be) to the Capital Account of each Partner in the proportion which such Partner's Capital Account bore to the sum of the Capital Accounts of all the Partners as of the beginning of such month (or such other period, as the case may be); provided that net increases or decreases in Side Pocket Accounts, New Issues Accounts and other memorandum accounts shall be allocated as provided in Sections 9.07 and 9.08, respectively.

(b) In consideration for the management services provided pursuant to this Agreement, the General Partner shall receive an incentive fee ("Incentive Fee") at the close of each Fiscal Year (or such other applicable period that this payment is made in accordance with this Agreement, as the case may be) equal to five percent (5%) of the net increase in Net Asset Value (including realized and unrealized gains and losses and net of the Management Fee) attributable to each Limited Partner's Capital Account for such Fiscal Year (or other applicable period), as determined on the accrual basis of accounting; provided, however, that the Incentive Fee shall be subject to a Loss Carryforward (as described below in Section 9.05(g)).

(c) The Incentive Fee shall not include any change in the value of an Illiquid Investment held in a Side Pocket Account until such Illiquid Investment (or the sales proceeds thereof) has been reallocated from such Side Pocket Account to the Capital Accounts of participating Partners. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any income generated from an Illiquid Investment shall be transferred to and included in the Capital Accounts of participating Partners for purposes of calculating the Incentive Fee.

(d) The Partnership will also bear its pro rata share of the incentive-based fees/allocations charged by the managers of the Portfolio Funds. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (x) the General Partner intends to waive any incentive-based fees/allocations due to the General Partner and/or any affiliate thereof with respect to any investment of the Partnership in any Affiliated Funds, including the PE Portfolio Fund, such that, to the extent that the Partnership invests in any Affiliated Funds, including the PE Portfolio Fund, the Partnership will not be subject to a layering of fees; and (y) to the extent that the Partnership is subject to a waiver or reduction of incentive-based fees/allocations, or any other special arrangement, with respect to its investment in the PE Portfolio Fund, the General Partner shall nevertheless not charge any such fees or allocations (or otherwise change such arrangement) at the level of the Partnership.

(e) The General Partner shall also receive the Incentive Fee with respect to any amounts withdrawn by a Limited Partner, whether voluntary or involuntary, and upon dissolution of the Partnership under Article XIII. The Incentive Fee shall be paid to the General Partner in addition to, and separately from, the allocations of net increases or decreases in Net Asset Value to its Capital Account pursuant to Section 9.05(a).

(f) In the event of a net decrease in the Net Asset Value of the Capital Account of any Limited Partner in any Fiscal Year (or other relevant Incentive Fee period), the amount of such net decrease shall be recorded and carried forward as a "Loss Carryforward". Any net increase in the Net Asset Value of the Capital Account of such Limited Partner in a subsequent Fiscal Year (or other period) shall be applied to reduce (but not below zero) such Loss Carryforward balance (and, conversely, any net decrease in Net Asset Value shall be applied to increase such Loss Carryforward balance). No Incentive Fee shall be paid in any subsequent Fiscal Year (or other period) in respect of such Capital Account until the Loss Carryforward has been fully recovered as described above, and in such Fiscal Year (or other period) of such recovery, the Incentive Fee shall be calculated based on the excess net increase in Net Asset Value of such Capital Account (i.e., after being applied to reduce the Loss Carryforward to zero). However, in the event that a Limited Partner withdraws funds at a time in which such Limited Partner's Capital Account has a Loss Carryforward, the amount of such Loss Carryforward at such Withdrawal Date applicable to such Limited Partner's Capital Account shall be reduced by a percentage equal to one hundred percent (100%) multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount to be withdrawn from the Limited Partner's Capital Account, and the denominator of which is the amount in such Capital Account immediately prior to the withdrawal.

(g) Notwithstanding the provisions set forth above, if the Partnership has a material item of income or loss in any fiscal period which relates to a matter or transaction occurring during a prior fiscal period (e.g., if the Partnership wins a cash settlement in a case it began in a prior period) the item of income or loss may, at the sole discretion of the General Partner, be shared among the Partners (including persons who ceased to be Partners) in accordance with each such Partner's Partnership Interest in the Partnership during the prior period.

Section 9.06 Allocations for Tax Purposes; General Partner Discretion on Allocations; Withholding

(a) Ordinary income, gains, losses and deductions of the Partnership for each Fiscal Year shall accrue to, and be borne by, the Partners in proportion to their sharing of net increases or decreases in Net Asset Value, the allocations of various types of taxable income and losses likewise being as nearly as possible proportionate.

(b) All allocations under this Section 9.06 shall be made pursuant to the principles of Section 704 of the Code and in conformity with Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder ("Regulations"), or the successor provisions to such Code Section and Regulations.

(c) All matters concerning the allocation of profits, gains and losses among the parties (including the taxes thereon) and accounting procedures not expressly provided for by the terms of this Agreement shall be determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion, and the General Partner is expressly permitted to use the aggregate method of apportioning taxable gain and loss under Treasury Regulation Section

704(b). The General Partner is expressly authorized to make special allocations to the Partners of such gains or income as shall be necessary to satisfy the "qualified income offset" requirements of Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d). The General Partner's determination of the foregoing matters shall be final and conclusive as to all parties.

(d) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, in the event a Partner withdraws all of the capital in its Capital Account from the Partnership (excluding any amounts held in Side Pocket Accounts), the General Partner shall have the discretion to specially allocate an amount of the Partnership's taxable gains or losses to the withdrawing Partner to the extent that the Partner's Capital Account exceeds, or is less than, its federal income tax basis in its Partnership Interest.

(e) Any taxes, fees or other charges that the Partnership is required to withhold under applicable law with respect to any Partner shall be withheld by the Partnership (and paid to the appropriate government authority) and shall be deducted from the Capital Account of such Partner as of the last day of the Fiscal Year (or earlier if the Partner withdraws) with respect to which amounts are required to be withheld.

(f) For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 9.06 shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

Section 9.07 Side Pocket Accounts

(a) The Investment Manager may designate that certain investments held by a Series of the Partnership and/or by the Portfolio Fund(s) be carried in one or more separate memorandum accounts (each, a "Side Pocket Account") for such period of time as the Investment Manager determines. Such investments may include: (i) privately placed, unregistered securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments, or those investments that, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, do not have a readily ascertainable market value; (ii) other illiquid securities that may be valued but are not freely transferable; (iii) an investment into a Portfolio Fund with an extended lock-up period and/or that invests in illiquid assets; (iv) that portion of an investment in a Portfolio Fund that is attributable to side pocket accounts designated by the manager of such Portfolio Fund (which may be designated with respect to assets that are subject to legal or contractual restrictions on transferability, or that the Investment Manager believes either lack a readily assessable market value (without impairing the value of such investments) or should be held until the resolution of a special event or circumstance; and (v) investments in other asset classes (such as real estate) and other property that are not traded on public exchanges (each, as designated by the Investment Manager, along with follow-on investments, if any, an "Illiquid Investment"). For the avoidance of doubt, (i) there will be no limitation on the percentage of the Partnership's portfolio that may be carried in a Side Pocket Account, and (ii) any investment made by Series 1 into the series of the PE Portfolio Fund that corresponds to the latter fund's investment made in the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely. Illiquid Investments held in a Side Pocket Account shall be carried at their fair value (which may be at, above or below cost) as determined by the Investment Manager. For the avoidance of doubt, each Policy Owner investing through the relevant Limited Partner will indirectly participate in the economics from a pro rata portion of a Side Pocket Account and the corresponding Illiquid Investment.

(b) At the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, an Illiquid Investment may be held in a Side Pocket Account until the occurrence of a Realization Event. Upon a Realization Event, such Illiquid Investment (or the sales proceeds thereof) shall be reallocated, pro rata, from the Side Pocket Account to the Capital Accounts of participating Partners in accordance with their respective interests in such Side Pocket Account. Until such reallocation, a Limited Partner may not withdraw any of the amounts in its Capital Account that are attributable to the value of Illiquid Investments held in a Side Pocket Account. Upon such reallocation, a Limited Partner that has withdrawn all of its capital from the Partnership other than the capital attributable to such Side Pocket Account shall receive an amount equal to its interest in such Side Pocket Account (net of: (i) any accrued Management Fees and accrued expenses (to the extent not covered by the Partnership's reserves, including the Management Fee Reserve), and (ii) any accrued Incentive Fee, with respect thereto) within ninety (90) days after such reallocation. A "Realization Event" occurs: (1) when an Illiquid Investment becomes liquid, as determined in the reasonable discretion of the Investment Manager; (2) when an Illiquid Investment is sold or otherwise disposed of by the Partnership; (3) when circumstances otherwise exist that, in the reasonable judgment of the Investment Manager, conclusively establish a value for an Illiquid Investment, as determined in the reasonable discretion of the Investment Manager (including, without limitation, when additional securities substantially similar to the Illiquid Investment have been issued by the issuer of the Illiquid Investment); or (4) as otherwise determined in the sole discretion of the Investment Manager.

(c) Newly-admitted Limited Partners may not participate in Illiquid Investments that were placed in a Side Pocket Account prior to their admission. For the avoidance of doubt, the Partnership shall not accept additional Limited Partners into any existing Series if such Series has existing Side Pocket Accounts at the time of such admission. Notwithstanding any provisions of this Agreement to the contrary, any expenses relating specifically to a Side Pocket Account shall be charged to the Partners participating in such account in proportion to their respective interests therein, as of the commencement of such Side Pocket Account.

(d) If the Investment Manager in its discretion designates any investment as a follow-on investment to an existing Illiquid Investment (each, a "Follow-On Investment"), only the Partners participating in such original investment shall participate in such Follow-On Investment in proportion to their interest in the related Side Pocket Account; provided, however, that if a Partner shall have withdrawn from the Partnership, the General Partner shall equitably adjust the interests of the remaining participating Partners to reflect such withdrawn Partner's non-participation in the Follow-On Investment. In its discretion, the Investment Manager need not designate as a "Follow-On Investment" an additional investment in the same or similar opportunity as the investment for which a Side Pocket Account has been established, but instead may designate such investment as a new investment with a separate Side Pocket Account. Additionally, the Investment Manager, in its sole and absolute discretion, may determine that, for various reasons, an asset that initially was not an Illiquid Investment should be categorized as an Illiquid Investment.

Section 9.08 New Issues; Other Memorandum Accounts for Restricted Transactions.

(a) From time to time, the Partnership may invest in initial public offerings of equity securities ("New Issues"). Under rules adopted by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"), (i) certain persons engaged in the securities, banking or financial services industries (and members of their immediate families) and (ii) certain persons who are affiliated with companies that are current, former or prospective investment banking clients of the Partnership's broker(s) (collectively, "Restricted Persons") are restricted from participating in New Issues, each subject to a de minimis exemption ("De Minimis Limit"). To the extent necessary to comply with FINRA rules, in addition to the Partnership's regular Capital Accounts and any Side Pocket Accounts, the General Partner may establish one or more memorandum accounts that are authorized to participate in New Issues (each, a "New Issues Account"). Participation in New Issues Accounts shall be limited to (i) those Limited Partners who are not Restricted Persons, and (ii) those Limited Partners who are Restricted Persons, but only to the extent that such participation by Restricted Persons does not exceed the De Minimis Limit. To the extent not prohibited by applicable FINRA rules, the General Partner shall be entitled to receive the Incentive Fee with respect to any profits arising from New Issues trades.

(b) In the event a New Issues Account is established, to effect a transaction in New Issues, the requisite funds shall be transferred from the Partnership to the New Issues Account. Securities held in the New Issues Account shall be held there until they are eventually sold or transferred. Upon the sale or other disposition of New Issues (including any transfer of the underlying securities in the New Issues Account to the Capital Accounts of all of the Partners after such securities no longer constitute New Issues), any profits or losses resulting from securities transactions in the New Issues Account in any fiscal period shall be credited or debited to the Capital Accounts of Limited Partners participating in the New Issues Account in accordance with their interests therein. In the event that the Partnership establishes one or more New Issues Accounts, the General Partner shall be authorized to make an equitable adjustment to account for the fact that Limited Partners that are not Restricted Persons were receiving profits based in part on the capital of Limited Partners that are Restricted Persons. Such adjustment may, in the sole and absolute discretion of the General Partner, and to the extent not prohibited by rules of FINRA, consist of: (i) assessing an interest charge to the Capital Accounts of Limited Partners that are not Restricted Persons, in favor of the Partnership, in an amount deemed appropriate to compensate the Partnership for the use of capital by Limited Partners that are not Restricted Persons in connection with New Issue trades; or (ii) such other adjustment as the General Partner considers equitable and is not inconsistent with the rules of FINRA.

(c) In addition to the foregoing provisions with respect to New Issues Accounts and Side Pocket Accounts, to the extent that certain Limited Partners are restricted from participating in any transactions of the Partnership by applicable laws or regulations, or for any other reason determined by the General Partner in good faith, the General Partner may, in its discretion, establish one or more separate memorandum accounts to hold such investments and isolate ownership away from such non-participating Limited Partners. Only those Limited Partners who the General Partner determines are eligible shall participate in such accounts. In the event that the Partnership establishes one or more memorandum accounts, the General Partner shall be authorized to make an equitable adjustment to account for the fact that participating Limited Partners were receiving profits based in part on the capital of non-participating Limited Partners. Such adjustment may, in the sole and absolute discretion of the General Partner, consist of: (i) assessing an interest charge to the Capital Accounts of participating Limited Partners, in favor of the Partnership, in an amount deemed appropriate to compensate the Partnership for the use of capital by participating Limited Partners in connection with such trades; or (ii) such other adjustment as the General Partner considers equitable.

ARTICLE X
RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFERS OF PARTNERSHIP INTERESTS OF LIMITED PARTNERS; ADMISSION OF SUBSTITUTE LIMITED PARTNERS; OTHER MATTERS AFFECTING PARTNERSHIP INTERESTS

Section 10.01 Restrictions on Transfer of Partnership Interests of Limited Partners

(a) Except for transfers by will or intestate succession or by operation of law, no Limited Partner may offer, sell, transfer, assign, exchange, hypothecate or pledge, or otherwise dispose of or encumber (hereinafter collectively, "Transfer" or "Transferred"), in whole or in part, such Limited Partner's Partnership Interest without the consent of the General Partner, which may be given or withheld in the sole and absolute discretion of the General Partner.

(b) No Limited Partner may Transfer, in whole or in part, such Limited Partner's Partnership Interest if, in the General Partner's discretion, such Transfer could result in the termination of the Partnership for federal income tax purposes, and any purported Transfer that could result in the termination of the Partnership for federal income tax purposes shall be void ab initio. In its sole and absolute discretion, the General Partner may request a written opinion of counsel acceptable to the General Partner (the expenses of which may be allocated to the relevant Limited Partner) as to whether any contemplated Transfer could result in the termination of the Partnership for federal income tax purposes, and the General Partner shall be entitled to rely conclusively upon such opinion in determining whether such Transfer could result in the termination of the Partnership and whether consent to such disposition should be given.

(c) The Partnership Interests may not be transferred without documentation acceptable to the General Partner, which may include a written opinion of counsel acceptable to the General Partner (the expenses of which may be allocated to the relevant Limited Partner) that such proposed Transfer may be effected without:

(i) registration of the Partnership Interest being made under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended;

(ii) violating any applicable state securities or "blue sky" law (including investment suitability standards) or the laws of any other jurisdiction;

(iii) the Partnership becoming subject to the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended ("1940 Act"); or

(iv) violating the Act.

(d) In no event shall the Partnership Interest of a Limited Partner or any portion thereof be Transferred to a minor or incompetent, unless by will or intestate succession.

Section 10.02 Admission of Substitute Limited Partner

(a) Subject to the provisions of this Article X, an assignee of the Partnership Interest of a Limited Partner (which shall include any purchaser, transferee, donee or other recipient of any disposition of such Partnership Interest) shall be deemed admitted to the Partnership as a Limited Partner (a "Substitute Limited Partner") only upon the satisfactory completion of the following:

(i) consent of the General Partner shall have been given, which may be given or withheld in the sole and absolute discretion of the General Partner and which shall be evidenced by a written document executed by the General Partner;

(ii) the assignee shall have accepted and agreed to be bound by the terms and provisions of this Agreement (as it may be amended from time to time) by executing a counterpart hereof and such assignee shall have expressly assumed all of the rights and obligations of the assignor Limited Partner hereunder, and shall have executed such other documents or instruments as the General Partner may require in its sole and absolute discretion in order to effect the admission of such person as a Limited Partner;

(iii) an amendment to the Certificate, if required by the Act (in the opinion of the General Partner), evidencing the admission of such person as a Limited Partner shall have been filed;

(iv) the assignee shall have delivered a letter containing a representation that the assignee's acquisition of the Partnership Interest is made as a principal, for the assignee's own account, for investment purposes only and not with a view to the resale or distribution of such Partnership Interest, and that the assignee will not Transfer such Partnership Interest or any fraction thereof to anyone in violation of this Agreement;

(v) if the assignee is a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity, the assignee shall have provided to the General Partner evidence satisfactory to the General Partner of its authority to become a Limited Partner under the terms and provisions of this Agreement;

(vi) the assignee shall have complied with all applicable governmental rules and regulations, if any;

(vii) the assignee meets the suitability requirements for investing in the Partnership and the assignee completes the subscription documents

("Subscription Documents") provided by the General Partner; and (viii) all costs and expenses incurred by the Partnership and the General Partner in connection with this Section 10.02 shall be paid by the person or entity seeking to become a Substitute Limited Partner (or the transferor Limited Partner).

Section 10.03 Rights of Assignee of Partnership Interest

(a) Subject to Section 10.01(b), if a Limited Partner Transfers all or a portion of such Limited Partner's Partnership Interest, involuntarily, by operation of law or voluntarily, without the consent required by this Article X, the transferee or assignee shall: (i) be entitled only to receive that proportion of profit and loss, and any distribution of Partnership assets, attributable to the Partnership Interest acquired by reason of such disposition from and after the effective date of such disposition, and only upon written notification of same to the General Partner consistent with Section 10.03(b); and (ii) have no other rights as a Limited Partner unless admitted as a Substitute Limited Partner in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

(b) Subject to the provisions of Section 10.01, and except as required by operation of law, the Partnership shall not be obligated for any purposes whatsoever to recognize the assignment by any Limited Partner of such Limited Partner's Partnership Interest until the General Partner has received notice thereof.

(c) Any person or entity who is the assignee of all or any portion of the Partnership Interest of a Limited Partner, but who has not become a Substitute Limited Partner, and desires to make a further disposition of such Partnership Interest, shall be subject to all the provisions of this Article X to the same extent and in the same manner as any Limited Partner desiring to make a disposition of such Limited Partner's Partnership Interest.

Section 10.04 Effect of Bankruptcy, Death or Incompetence of a Limited Partner. The bankruptcy, dissolution or winding up of a Limited Partner, the death of a Limited Partner or an adjudication that a Limited Partner is incompetent (which term shall include, but not be limited to, insanity), shall not cause the termination, wind-down or dissolution of the Partnership and the business of the Partnership shall continue. If a Limited Partner becomes bankrupt, dissolved or wound up, the trustee or receiver of such Limited Partner's estate or, if a Limited Partner dies, such Limited Partner's executor, administrator or trustee, or, if such Limited Partner is adjudicated incompetent, such Limited Partner's committee, guardian or conservator, shall have the rights of such Limited Partner for the purposes of settling or managing such Limited Partner's estate or property and such power as the bankrupt, deceased or incompetent Limited Partner possessed to dispose of all or any part of such Limited Partner's Interest and to join with any assignee in satisfying conditions precedent to the admission of the assignee as a Substitute Limited Partner.

Section 10.05 Attachment by Creditors. If a Partnership Interest is subjected to attachment by a creditor, or is assigned for the benefit of any creditor, the Partnership Interest obtained by such creditor shall be only that of an assignee, and in no event shall such creditor have the rights of a Substitute Limited Partner or an Additional Limited Partner.

ARTICLE XI
REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS

Section 11.01 Limited Partners. Each Limited Partner represents, warrants and covenants to the Partnership and to every other Partner as follows:

(a) Such Limited Partner shall provide promptly, upon request by the General Partner, all financial data, documents, reports, certifications or other information necessary or appropriate to enable the Partnership to apply for and obtain an exemption from the registration provisions of applicable law and any other information required by governmental agencies having jurisdiction over the Partnership.

(b) There is no misrepresentation contained in the Subscription Documents and the forms attached thereto completed by such Limited Partner.

(c) If such Limited Partner is a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity, that the officer (or other signatory) signing on its behalf has been duly authorized to execute and deliver this Agreement and, to the extent requested by the General Partner, the Certificate.

(d) Such Limited Partner that is an entity that would be an "investment company" under the 1940 Act, but for an exclusion under either Section 3(c)(1) or Section 3(c)(7) thereof, has advised the General Partner of the number of persons that constitute "beneficial owners of such Limited Partner's outstanding securities (other than short-term paper)" within the meaning of Section 3(c)(1)(A) of the 1940 Act, and shall advise the General Partner promptly upon any change in that number.

ARTICLE XII
SPECIAL POWER OF ATTORNEY

Section 12.01 Execution and Consent. Each Limited Partner hereby irrevocably constitutes and appoints the General Partner and its respective successors (hereinafter referred to as "Special Attorney") as the attorney-in-fact for such Limited Partner with power and authority to act in the Limited Partner's name and on the Limited Partner's behalf to execute, acknowledge, swear to and file documents and instruments necessary or appropriate to the conduct of the Partnership's business, which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(a) the Certificate and this Agreement, as well as amendments thereto as required by the laws of any state, or any other jurisdiction, or as otherwise permitted under the terms of this Agreement;

(b) any other certificates, instruments and documents, including fictitious name certificates, as may be required by, or may be appropriate under, the laws of any state;

(c) the amendment and/or restatement of this Agreement in accordance with Section 14.08; and

(d) any documents that may be required to effect the continuation of the Partnership, the admission of an Additional Limited Partner or a Substitute Limited Partner, the withdrawal of a Limited Partner, or the dissolution and termination of the Partnership, provided that such continuation, admission, withdrawal or dissolution and termination are in accordance with the terms of the Certificate and this Agreement.

Section 12.02 Procedural Aspects. The power of attorney granted by each Limited Partner to the Special Attorney:

(a) is a special power of attorney, coupled with an interest, and is accordingly irrevocable;

(b) may be exercised by the Special Attorney for each Limited Partner either by signing separately as attorney-in-fact for each Limited Partner or, by executing any instrument with the single signature of such Special Attorney acting as attorney-in-fact for all of the Limited Partners; and

(c) shall survive the assignment by a Limited Partner of the whole or any portion of such Limited Partner's Partnership Interest; provided that where the assignee has been approved in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement for admission to the Partnership as a Substitute Limited Partner, the Power of Attorney shall survive such assignment for the sole purpose of enabling the Special Attorney to execute, acknowledge and file any instrument necessary to effect such substitution.

ARTICLE XIII
DISSOLUTION AND LIQUIDATION

Section 13.01 Dissolution. The Partnership shall be dissolved upon the earliest to occur of:

(a) the withdrawal, resignation or Involuntary Withdrawal of the General Partner, or any other event that results in such entity ceasing to be a general partner, unless the remaining Limited Partners agree, within ninety (90) days after such event, to continue the Partnership with a new and qualified substitute general partner pursuant to and in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in Article IV;

(b) an election to dissolve the Partnership made by the General Partner, in its discretion, upon thirty (30) days' prior written notice to the Limited Partners; or

(c) the happening of any other event, including the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under Section 17-802 of the Act, that under the law of the State of Delaware, mandatorily requires the dissolution of the Partnership.

For the avoidance of doubt, the termination of the Partnership shall constitute the termination of all Series. For the avoidance of doubt, the termination of an individual Series, however, shall not constitute the termination of the Partnership.

Section 13.02 Liquidation. Upon the dissolution of the Partnership, the "Liquidators", namely: (i) the General Partner or, if there is no general partner at the time, or if the principal(s) of the General Partner are unable to act on its behalf, (ii) (A) the person or persons previously designated in writing by the General Partner and notified to the Partnership's auditors, or (B) if the General Partner has not made such a designation, the person or persons designated by Limited Partners owning more than fifty percent (50%) of the Partnership Interests held by Limited Partners, shall cause the cancellation of the Certificate, liquidate (or distribute) the assets of the Partnership, and apply and distribute the balance of the proceeds of such liquidation in accordance with the following order of priority: (1) pay off known liabilities; (2) establish reserves for contingent liabilities and expenses of liquidation (even if such reserves are not in accordance with GAAP); and (3) distribute the remainder to the Partners in proportion to the Capital Account balances maintained in accordance with the provisions of Section 9.01 and the Act. The Liquidators shall take all other steps necessary to wind up the affairs of the Partnership as promptly as practicable. To the extent reasonable, the business of the Partnership may continue to be conducted until liquidation is complete. For purposes hereof, the term "Liquidators" shall also include the trustees, receivers or other persons required by law to wind up the affairs of the Partnership.

Section 13.03 Notice of Dissolution

(a) Upon the dissolution of the Partnership or the relevant Series, the Liquidators shall promptly notify the Partners of such dissolution as well as known creditors and claimants whose addresses appear on the Partnership's or the relevant Series' records.

(b) The General Partner shall give at least fifteen (15) days' prior written notice to each Limited Partner that is a BHC Limited Partner (as defined in Section 5.10) of any proposal to distribute property in-kind to such Limited Partner and the proposed date of such distribution, and shall not make any such distribution in-kind to the extent that such Limited Partner advises the General Partner at least five (5) days prior to the date set forth in such notice for such distribution that such distribution in-kind could reasonably be expected to cause it to violate the BHCA. In the event that a BHC Limited Partner notifies the General Partner to such effect, the General Partner shall be authorized to make such arrangements for the property that it would have otherwise distributed in-kind as the General Partner shall determine in its reasonable discretion.

Section 13.04 Deferred Liquidation; Distribution In-Kind of Joint Interests in Property. For the avoidance of doubt, the following provisions of this Section 13.04 shall apply on a Series-by-

Series basis. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 13.02, if on dissolution of the Partnership the Liquidators shall determine that an immediate sale of part or all of the Partnership's assets would be impractical or would cause undue loss to the Partners, the Liquidators may, in their absolute discretion, either defer for a reasonable time the liquidation of any assets, except those necessary to satisfy liabilities of the Partnership (other than those to Partners), or distribute to the Partners, in lieu of cash, as tenants in common and in proportion to their respective interests in the Partnership, undivided interests in such Partnership assets as the Liquidators deem not suitable for liquidation. To the extent that the General Partner exercises its right, power and authority under Section 3.02(w), this Section shall be construed by the Liquidators in their reasonable discretion to give effect thereto.

Section 13.05 Final Statement. As soon as practicable after the dissolution of the Partnership or the relevant Series, a final statement of its assets and liabilities shall be prepared by the General Partner and/or the internal accountants for the Partnership or the relevant Series and furnished to the Partners.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 14.01 Address and Notices. The address of each Partner (other than the General Partner) for all purposes shall be the address set forth on the signature page to this Agreement or such other address of which the General Partner has received written notice in accordance with this Section 14.01. The address of the General Partner for all purposes shall be the address set forth in Section 1.04 or such other address of which the General Partner has provided written notice to the Partners in accordance with this Section 14.01. Any notice, demand or request required or permitted to be given or made hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed given or made (i) when delivered in person, (ii) when sent to such Partner at such address by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or by electronic mail, or (iii) when delivered by overnight delivery by a reputable private carrier or by the postal service.

Section 14.02 Titles and Captions. All Article and Section titles and captions in this Agreement are for convenience only. They shall not be deemed part of this Agreement and in no way define, limit, extend or describe the scope or intent of any provisions hereof.

Section 14.03 Pronouns and Plurals. Whenever the context may require, any pronoun used herein shall include the corresponding masculine, feminine or neuter forms. The singular form of nouns, pronouns and verbs shall include the plural and vice versa.

Section 14.04 Further Action. The Limited Partners shall execute and deliver all documents, provide all information and take or forbear from taking all such action as may be necessary or appropriate, in the discretion of the General Partner, to achieve the purposes set forth in this Agreement.

Section 14.05 Governing Law, Personal Jurisdiction and Venue. EACH LIMITED PARTNER ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CLAIM, CONTROVERSY, DISPUTE OR ACTION RELATING IN ANY WAY TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT OR SUCH LIMITED PARTNER'S INVESTMENT IN THE PARTNERSHIP SHALL BE GOVERNED SOLELY AND EXCLUSIVELY BY THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE, WITHOUT REGARD TO ANY CONFLICT OF LAWS DOCTRINES. EACH LIMITED PARTNER UNDERSTANDS AND AGREES THAT IT IS WAIVING THE PROTECTION OF STATUTES IN ITS STATE OF RESIDENCE THAT PROVIDE IT WITH CERTAIN RIGHTS, REMEDIES AND PROTECTIONS IN THE CASE OF FRAUD OR MISREPRESENTATION AND AGREES TO RELY SOLELY UPON THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE AND ANY APPLICABLE FEDERAL LAWS. EACH LIMITED PARTNER MAKES THIS WAIVER KNOWINGLY AND REPRESENTS THAT IT HAS CONSULTED INDEPENDENT COUNSEL, OR THAT IT HAS HAD THE OPPORTUNITY TO CONSULT WITH SUCH INDEPENDENT COUNSEL BUT HAS ELECTED NOT TO DO SO, AND AGREES THAT THE ONLY STATE LAWS THAT WILL APPLY TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT AND ITS INVESTMENT IN THE PARTNERSHIP ARE THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE.

EACH OF THE LIMITED PARTNERS, FUND COUNSEL AND ANY OTHER PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT OR ANY OTHER AGREEMENT REGARDING SUCH LIMITED PARTNER'S INVESTMENT IN THE PARTNERSHIP (COLLECTIVELY, FOR PURPOSES OF THIS CLAUSE, THE "PARTIES") IRREVOCABLY CONSENTS TO BEING SERVED WITH LEGAL PROCESS ISSUED FROM THE STATE AND FEDERAL COURTS LOCATED IN THE STATE OF NEW YORK AND IRREVOCABLY CONSENTS TO THE EXCLUSIVE PERSONAL JURISDICTION OF THE FEDERAL AND STATE COURTS SITUATED IN THE STATE OF NEW YORK. THE PARTIES IRREVOCABLY WAIVE ANY OBJECTIONS TO THE PERSONAL JURISDICTION OF THESE COURTS. SAID COURTS SHALL HAVE SOLE AND EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OVER ANY AND ALL CLAIMS, CONTROVERSIES, DISPUTES AND ACTIONS, OF ANY KIND OR MANNER, WHICH IN ANY WAY RELATE TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE SUBSCRIPTION AGREEMENT, OR SUCH LIMITED PARTNER'S INVESTMENT IN THE PARTNERSHIP. THE PARTIES ALSO IRREVOCABLY WAIVE ANY OBJECTIONS THAT THESE COURTS CONSTITUTE AN OPPRESSIVE, UNFAIR, OR INCONVENIENT FORUM AND AGREE NOT TO SEEK TO CHANGE VENUE ON THESE GROUNDS OR ANY OTHER GROUNDS. THE PARTIES FURTHER AGREE THAT THEY WILL NOT FILE SUIT IN A JURISDICTION OTHER THAN NEW YORK AND THAT, SHOULD THEY DO SO, THEY SHALL BE LIABLE FOR ALL DAMAGES AS A RESULT OF MAKING SUCH A FILING AND SHALL PAY ALL ATTORNEYS' FEES INCURRED BY ANY PARTY IN CONNECTION WITH MOVING TO DISMISS THE SUIT FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH THIS PROVISION.

In the event that (i) any current or prior Limited Partner ("Claiming Party") initiates or asserts any litigation, arbitration or similar claim or counterclaim, or joins, offers substantial assistance to or has a direct financial interest in any claim ("Claim") against the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any Investment Manager Affiliates, including any Claim purportedly filed on behalf of the Partnership or any Limited Partner, and (ii) the Claiming Party (or the third party that received substantial assistance from the Claiming Party or in whose Claim the Claiming Party had a direct financial interest) does not obtain a judgment on the merits that substantially achieves, in substance and amount, the full remedy sought, then each Claiming Party shall be obligated jointly and severally to reimburse the Partnership and/or the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any such Investment Manager Affiliate for all fees, costs and expenses of every kind and description (including, but not limited to, all reasonable attorneys' fees and other litigation expenses) that the parties may incur in connection with such Claim.

Section 14.06 Binding Effect. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties and their heirs, executors, administrators, successors, legal representatives and permitted assigns; provided, however, that fund counsel shall be a party to this Agreement solely with respect to Sections 3.04(b) and 14.05 hereof in order to benefit from and enforce such Sections, and a conformed signature page for fund counsel is included as a counterpart to this Agreement.

Section 14.07 Entire Agreement. This Agreement, together with the related Subscription Documents and any other written agreement between the General Partner, on behalf of the Partnership (acting severally in the name of and for the account of any individual Series), and any Limited Partner of that Series, shall constitute the entire agreement and understanding among all the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof, and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous agreements, negotiations, correspondence, undertakings and communications of the parties, oral or written, respecting such subject matter, including, without limitation, the Current Agreement. The parties hereto acknowledge that, notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or the Subscription Documents, the General Partner, on its own behalf or on behalf of the Partnership, without any act, consent or approval of any other Partner, may enter into side letters or other writings to or with one or more Limited Partners that have the effect of establishing rights under, or altering or supplementing the terms of, this Agreement or the Subscription Documents ("Side Letters"). The parties agree that any rights established, or any terms of this Agreement or the Subscription Documents altered or supplemented, in a Side Letter to or with one or more Limited Partners shall govern with respect to such Limited Partner(s) notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement or the Subscription Documents. No covenant, representation or condition not expressed in this Agreement or such Subscription Documents (and, if applicable, any Side Letter) shall affect or be deemed to interpret, change or restrict the express provisions hereof and thereof.

Section 14.08 Amendment. This Agreement may be modified or amended only by the affirmative vote of the General Partner and Limited Partners owning more than fifty percent (50%) of all of the outstanding Partnership Interests of each Series; provided that the General Partner may amend this Agreement from time to time (x) only with the affirmative vote of the General Partner and Limited Partners owning more than fifty percent (50%) of the Partnership Interests held by Limited Partners of a specific Series of Partnership Interests, if such amendment, in the opinion of the General Partner, only has a material effect on such Series of Partnership Interests, and (y) without the consent, approval or other authorization of, or notice to, any of the Limited Partners (including pursuant to Sections 3.02(u) and (v)) if, in the opinion of the General Partner, the amendment does not have a material adverse effect on any Limited Partner. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no amendment may: (i) convert a Limited Partner's interest to that of a general partner or, modify the limited liability of any Limited Partner, without the consent of each affected Partner or (ii) amend any provision hereof which requires the consent or approval of a specified percentage in interest of the Limited Partners without the consent of such specified percentage in interest of the Limited Partners.

Section 14.09 Creditors. None of the provisions of this Agreement shall be for the benefit of or enforceable by any creditors of the Partnership or the relevant Series.

Section 14.10 Waiver by Partner

(a) Any Partner by notice to the General Partner may, but shall be under no obligation to, waive any of its rights or any conditions to its obligations hereunder, or any duty, obligation or covenant of any other Partner to such first mentioned Partner.

(b) No such waiver shall affect or alter the remainder of this Agreement, but each and every covenant, agreement, term and condition hereof shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any other existing or subsequent breach.

Section 14.11 Rights and Remedies

(a) The rights and remedies of any of the Partners hereunder shall not be mutually exclusive, and the implementation of one or more of the provisions of this Agreement shall not preclude the implementation of any other provision.

(b) Each of the Partners confirms that damages at law may be an inadequate remedy for a breach or threatened breach of any provision hereof. The respective rights and obligations hereunder shall be enforceable by specific performance, injunction or other equitable remedy but nothing herein contained is intended to or shall limit or affect any rights at law or by statute or otherwise of any Partner aggrieved as against the other Partners for a breach or threatened breach of any provision hereof, it being the intention of this paragraph to make clear that the respective rights and obligations of the Partners hereunder shall be enforceable in equity as well as at law or otherwise, except as provided in Section 5.08.

Section 14.12 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, all of which taken together shall constitute one agreement binding on all parties, notwithstanding that all the parties are not signatories to the original or the same counterpart. Each party shall become bound by this Agreement immediately upon affixing his, her or its signature hereto, independently of the signature of any other party.

Section 14.13 Certain Tax Matters

(a) Tax Matters Partner

(i) The Tax Matters Partner (as such term is defined in Section 6231(a)(7) of the Code) of the Partnership shall be the General Partner. The General Partner shall have all powers necessary to perform fully in its capacity as Tax Matters Partner and, in such capacity, the General Partner shall use its reasonable efforts to comply with the responsibilities outlined in Sections 6221 through 6233 of the Code (including the Regulations) and shall have any powers necessary to perform fully in such capacity.

(ii) In furtherance of the foregoing, the General Partner is authorized to represent the Partnership before taxing authorities and courts in tax matters affecting the Partnership and the Partners in their capacity as such and shall keep the Partners informed of any such administrative and judicial proceedings. The General Partner shall be entitled to be reimbursed by the Partnership for all costs and expenses incurred by it in connection with any administrative or judicial proceeding affecting tax matters of the Partnership and the Partners in their capacity as such and to be indemnified by the Partnership (solely out of Partnership assets) with respect to any action brought against it in connection with any judgment in or settlement of any such proceeding, except in the case of the General Partner's own fraud, gross negligence, willful misconduct or conduct that is the subject of a criminal proceeding (where the General Partner has a reasonable cause to believe that such conduct was unlawful).

(iii) Any Partner that is in dispute with any tax authority in relation to any Partnership matter shall notify the General Partner within thirty (30) calendar days, and if the General Partner reasonably determines that the matter is of material relevance to the tax position of the Partnership, such Partner shall consult with the General Partner (or any advisor appointed by the General Partner for the purpose) as to how that dispute shall be handled. Any Partner who enters into a settlement agreement with respect to any Partnership item shall notify the Tax Matters Partner of such settlement agreement and its terms within thirty (30) calendar days after the date of settlement.

(iv) The provisions of this Section 14.13(a) shall survive any termination of this Agreement.

(b) Tax Elections. Each Partner agrees to provide the Partnership with such information which may be necessary or desirable in order for the General Partner to carry out its powers under this Section 14.13 and Section 3.02(g), including, without limitation, to facilitate compliance with Section 743 of the Code and elections permitted thereunder.

(c) Classification as a Partnership. The parties hereto intend that the Partnership be classified as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. The General Partner shall not elect to have the Partnership classified as an association taxable as a corporation for federal income tax purposes pursuant to Regulation Section 301.7701–3. The General Partner shall, for and on behalf of the Partnership, take all steps as it may deem reasonably necessary to maintain the Partnership's classification as a partnership for federal income tax purposes.

(d) Tax Audits. Each Limited Partner shall reasonably cooperate with the General Partner in connection with any tax audit of the Partnership or any existing or former investment.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, this Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement has been duly executed as of the day and year first above written.

PART 2 OF RAND ADVISORS, LLC'S FORM ADV	EXHIBIT C

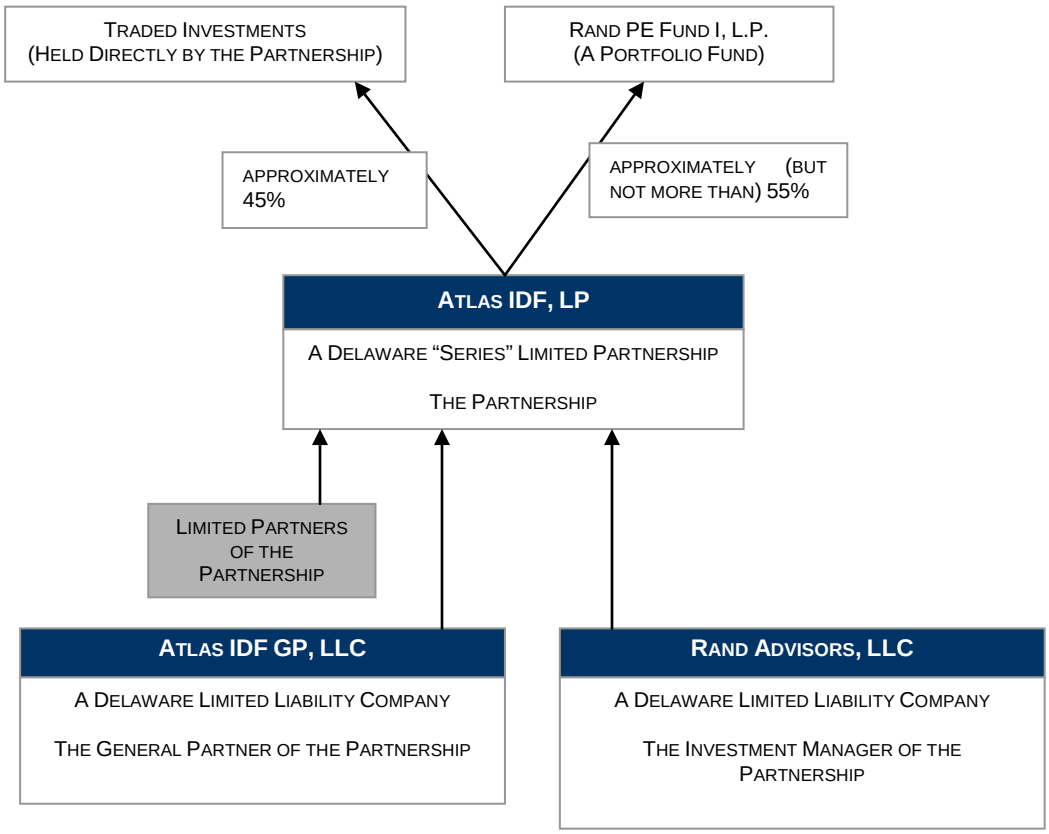
DESCRIPTION OF INTERESTS AND STRUCTURE

Atlas IDF, LP ("Partnership"), a "series" limited partnership organized under the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act, is offering limited partner interests in the Partnership ("Interests") in a private placement pursuant to Section 4(a)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("Securities Act"), and Regulation D promulgated thereunder. The Partnership may offer Interests in separate Series (as defined and described herein). Only Series 1 Interests (as defined herein) are offered at this time pursuant to this Memorandum.

Only persons that are Accredited Investors (as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act), Qualified Clients (as defined in Rule 205-3 promulgated under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended ("Advisers Act")), and Qualified Purchasers (as defined under Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended ("Investment Company Act")) may purchase Interests. The Subscription Documents (as defined below) set forth in detail the definitions of Accredited Investor, Qualified Client and Qualified Purchaser. If an investor is an insurance company, such investor must require its Policy Owners (as defined herein) to meet the same suitability standards.

The Partnership was formed to pool investment funds of its investors (each, a "Limited Partner" and, collectively, "Limited Partners"; and, together with the General Partner (as defined below), "Partners") for the purpose of investing and trading in a wide variety of securities, financial instruments and other assets and investments, including other investment vehicles, as more fully described herein.

In addition to noting the investor qualifications listed above, Limited Partners should note that the Partnership is an insurance-dedicated investment fund. As such, the Interests are being offered only to Limited Partners that are: (x) insurance company investors, on behalf of certain of their segregated separate accounts ("Separate Accounts"), that fund certain variable life insurance and variable annuity contracts (collectively, the "Policies") to be issued to policy owners (each, a "Policy Owner") by the Limited Partners, or (y) state and local governmental pension plans, qualified tuition plans ("§529 plans"), and private sector qualified pension or retirement plans, as generally described in Treasury Regulation 1.817-5(f)(3). In addition, if an investor is an insurance company, such investor must require its Policy Owners to meet the same suitability standards described herein. While an insurance company, not a Policy Owner, will become a Limited Partner in the Partnership, it is expected that Policy Owners will be able to allocate a portion of their investment held in the Separate Account to the Partnership as one of the investment options of the Policies. See "SUMMARY OF OFFERING AND PARTNERSHIP TERMS—Investor Control" herein.



Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("General Partner"), is the general partner of the Partnership and is responsible for the management of the Partnership's affairs.

Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Investment Manager"), is the investment manager of the Partnership and has discretionary investment authority over the Partnership's assets. The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). A copy of Part 2 of the Investment Manager's Form ADV is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

As the managing member and controlling person of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, John Honis controls all of the Partnership's operations and activities.

The minimum initial capital contribution that will be accepted from a new Limited Partner is $500,000. The minimum additional capital contribution that will be accepted from an existing Limited Partner is $500,000. In each case, the General Partner has discretion to accept lesser amounts. Generally, new Limited Partners will be admitted on the first day of each month, and withdrawals may be made on the last day of each calendar quarter upon 91 days' prior written notice, subject to certain restrictions as described herein (unless, in each case, the General Partner, in its sole discretion, permits subscriptions or withdrawals at another time).

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The Partnership's primary objective is to seek consistent above-average returns primarily through capital appreciation. The Investment Manager intends to use a disciplined investment philosophy by combining thorough fundamental research and in-depth analysis of investment opportunities. No assurance can be given, however, that the Investment Manager will achieve the Partnership's investment objective, and investment results may vary substantially over time and from period to period. See "INVESTMENT PROGRAM" herein for further details.

As of the date hereof, the Investment Manager intends to allocate approximately 45% of the Series 1 investment portfolio to traded investments and approximately (but not more than) 55% of the Series 1 investment portfolio to the first series of limited partnership interests to be issued by the PE Portfolio Fund (as defined herein) that: (x) is expected to initially invest in the Highland Transaction (as defined herein), if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction. However, the Investment Manager reserves the right to change such allocation in the future, subject to compliance with all applicable laws, including the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds, as further set forth herein. Further, the Partnership shall not accept additional Limited Partners into any existing Series if such Series has existing Side Pocket Accounts (as defined herein) at the time of such admission.

RISK FACTORS, CONFLICTS OF INTERESTS AND OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Before purchasing an Interest in the Partnership, you should carefully consider various risk factors and conflicts of interest, as well as suitability requirements, restrictions on transfers and withdrawals of Interests and various legal, tax and other considerations, all of which are discussed elsewhere in this Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (this "Memorandum").

IMPORTANT GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

You should not construe the contents of this Memorandum as legal, tax or investment advice and, if you acquire an Interest, you will be required to make a representation to that effect. You should review the proposed investment and the legal, tax and other consequences thereof with your own professional advisors. The purchase of an Interest involves certain risks and conflicts of interest among the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Partnership. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST". The General Partner reserves the right to refuse any subscription for any reason.

In making an investment decision, you must rely on your own examination of the Partnership and the terms of the offering of Interests, including the merits and risks involved. You and your representative(s), if any, are invited to ask questions and obtain additional information from the General Partner concerning the terms and conditions of the offering, the Partnership, and any other relevant matters to the extent that the General Partner possesses such information or can acquire it without unreasonable effort or expense.

Neither the SEC nor any state securities commission has passed upon the merits of participating in the Partnership, nor has the SEC or any state securities commission passed upon the adequacy or accuracy of this Memorandum. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense. The General Partner anticipates that: (i) the offer and sale of the Interests will be exempt from registration under the Securities Act and the various state securities laws; (ii) the Partnership will not be registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act, pursuant to an exemption provided by Section 3(c)(7) thereunder; and (iii) neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager will be registered as a commodity pool operator under the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended ("CEA"), based upon an exemption available under Rule 4.13(a)(3) thereunder. Consequently, you will not be entitled to certain protections afforded by those statutes.

The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the SEC. A copy of Part 2 of the Investment Manager's Form ADV is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

Pursuant to Rule 4.13(a)(3) of the CEA, each of the General Partner and the Investment Manager is exempt from registration with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") as a commodity pool operator and therefore, unlike a registered commodity pool operator, it is not required to deliver a Disclosure Document (as such term is defined under CFTC rules) and a certified annual report to participants in the pool. The foregoing registration exemption is based on the Partnership's limited commodity trading activity and its undertaking that at all times either: (a) the aggregate initial margin and premiums required to establish commodity interest positions, determined at the time the most recent position was established, will not exceed 5% of the liquidation value of the Partnership's portfolio, after taking into account unrealized profits and losses on any such positions; or (b) the aggregate net notional value of the Partnership's commodity interest positions, determined at the time the most recent position was established, will not exceed 100% of the liquidation value of the Partnership's portfolio, after taking into account unrealized profits and losses on any such positions. Similar limitations will apply with respect to investments in Portfolio Funds. Certain types of swaps are included in the definition of "commodity interests". These swaps include interest rate swaps, currency swaps, energy and metal swaps, agricultural swaps, swaps on broad-based indices, swaps on government securities and certain mixed swaps.

As a Limited Partner, you may withdraw from the Partnership and receive payment for your Interests, subject to certain restrictions, as specified in the Amended and Restated Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership (as the same may be amended and/or restated from time to time, the "Partnership Agreement"), a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

The offering of Interests is made only by delivery of a copy of this Memorandum to the person whose name appears hereon. The offering is made only to potential investors who are Accredited Investors, Qualified Clients and Qualified Purchasers. If an investor is an insurance company, such investor must require its Policy Owners to meet the same suitability standards. By accepting delivery of this Memorandum, you agree not to reproduce or divulge its contents, in whole or in part, and, if you do not purchase any Interests, to return this Memorandum and the exhibits attached hereto to the General Partner or the Partnership's administrator, a provider of administrative services ("Administrator"), as further set forth herein under "SERVICE PROVIDERS—Administrator".

Notwithstanding any provision in this Memorandum to the contrary, prospective Limited Partners (and their employees, representatives, and other agents) may disclose to any and all persons the U.S. federal income tax treatment and tax structure of the Interests offered hereby. For this purpose, "tax structure" is limited to facts relevant to the U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Interests, and does not include information relating to the identity of the issuer, its affiliates, agents or advisors.

There is no public market for the Interests nor is any expected to develop. Even if such a market develops, no distribution, resale or transfer of an Interest will be permitted, except in accordance with the provisions of the Securities Act, the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, any applicable state securities laws and the terms and conditions of the Partnership Agreement. Any transfer of an Interest by a Limited Partner, public or private, will require the consent of the General Partner. Accordingly, if you purchase an Interest, you will be required to represent and warrant that you have read this Memorandum and are aware of and can afford the risks of an investment in the Partnership for an indefinite period of time. You will also be required to represent that you are acquiring the Interest for your own account, for investment purposes only, and not with any intention to resell or transfer all or any part of the Interest. This investment is suitable for you only if you have adequate means of providing for your current and future needs, have no need for liquidity in this investment and can afford to lose the entire amount of your investment.

Although this Memorandum contains summaries of certain terms of certain documents pertaining to the Partnership, you should refer to the actual documents (copies of which are attached hereto or are available from the General Partner or the Administrator) for complete information concerning the rights and obligations of the parties thereto. All such summaries are qualified in their entirety by the terms of the actual documents. No person has been authorized to make any representations or furnish any information with respect to the Partnership or the Interests, other than the representations and information set forth in this Memorandum or other documents or information furnished by the General Partner upon request, as described above.

Certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes "forward-looking statements", which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology, such as "may", "will", "seek", "should", "expect", "anticipate", "project", "estimate", "intend", "continue" or "believe" or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth under "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST", actual events or results or the actual performance of the Partnership may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

No rulings have been sought from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") with respect to any tax matters discussed in this Memorandum. You are cautioned that the views contained herein are subject to material qualifications and subject to possible changes in regulations by the IRS or by the U.S. Congress in existing tax statutes or in the interpretation of existing statutes and regulations.

NOTICE TO BERMUDA RESIDENTS

THE INTERESTS MAY BE OFFERED OR SOLD IN OR FROM BERMUDA ONLY IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS OF THE INVESTMENT BUSINESS ACT 2003 OF BERMUDA (THE "BERMUDA ACT") AND THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE RELATED REGULATIONS OF BERMUDA WHICH REGULATE THE SALE OF SECURITIES IN OR FROM BERMUDA. TO THE EXTENT THAT THE INTERESTS ARE OFFERED OR SOLD IN OR FROM BERMUDA, SUCH OFFER OR SALE WILL BE MADE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE BERMUDA ACT.

THE BERMUDA MONETARY AUTHORITY, THE BERMUDA REGISTRAR OF COMPANIES AND THE BERMUDA MINISTER OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ACCEPT NO RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE FINANCIAL SOUNDNESS OF ANY PROPOSAL OR FOR THE CORRECTNESS OF ANY OF THE STATEMENTS MADE OR OPINIONS EXPRESSED HEREIN.

NO INVITATION, WHETHER DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, MAY BE MADE TO THE PUBLIC IN OR FROM BERMUDA TO SUBSCRIBE FOR THE INTERESTS.

The information contained herein is current only as of the date hereof and you should not, under any circumstances, assume that there has not been any change in the matters discussed herein since the date hereof.

The following summary is qualified in its entirety by other information contained elsewhere in this Confidential Private Placement Memorandum (this "Memorandum") and by Amended and Restated the Limited Partnership Agreement of the Partnership (as defined below) (as the same may be amended and/or restated from time to time, the "Partnership Agreement"), a copy of which is attached to this Memorandum as Exhibit A. You should read this entire Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement, carefully before making any investment decision regarding the Partnership and should pay particular attention to the information under the heading "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST". To the extent relevant, you should also read the offering and governing documents of the PE Portfolio Fund (as defined herein) in which the Partnership intends to initially invest on behalf of the initial Limited Partners (as defined herein), which are available from the Partnership upon request. In addition, you should consult your own advisors in order to understand fully the consequences of an investment in the Partnership.

The Partnership

Atlas IDF, LP, a Delaware "series" limited partnership ("Partnership"), was formed to pool investment funds of its investors (each, a "Limited Partner" and, collectively, "Limited Partners"; and, together with the General Partner (as defined below), "Partners") for the purpose of investing and trading in a wide variety of securities, financial instruments and other assets and investments, including other investment vehicles, as more fully described herein. See "INVESTMENT PROGRAM" and "—Portfolio Funds" below.

The Partnership may offer Interests in separate Series (as defined and described herein). Only Series 1 Interests (as defined herein) are offered at this time pursuant to this Memorandum.

Management

Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("General Partner"), is the general partner of the Partnership and is responsible for the management of the Partnership's affairs.

Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company ("Investment Manager"), is the investment manager of the Partnership and has discretionary investment authority over the Partnership's assets. The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). A copy of Part 2 of the Investment Manager's Form ADV is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

As the managing member and controlling person of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, John Honis ("Principal") controls all of the Partnership's operations and activities. See "MANAGEMENT" for additional information.

Issuance of Interests in Multiple Series

The Interests will be offered in separate series ("Series"). The Partnership is currently offering one Series of Interests: "Series 1 Interests". Each Series of Interests will have separate rights and obligations. In addition, each Series of Interests may correspond to a separate portfolio of assets, which may have different investment objectives and strategies. The Partnership may issue additional Series of Interests in the future, which may have rights and obligations that differ from those of the Series 1 Interests with respect to any matters, including without limitation, fees, withdrawal rights, participation in Side Pocket Accounts (as defined herein) and other rights and terms. The terms of such additional Series will be determined by the General Partner, in its sole discretion.

Each Series shall have separate rights, powers and duties with respect to its investment portfolio and other property and obligations and the profits and losses associated with such portfolio, property and obligations. The Partnership will maintain separate and distinct records for each Series and shall hold and account for the assets and liabilities of such Series separately from other Series. The Partnership shall not accept additional Limited Partners into any existing Series if such Series has existing Side Pocket Accounts at the time of such admission.

Under Delaware law, (i) the debts, liabilities and obligations incurred, contracted for or otherwise existing with respect to a particular Series shall be enforceable against the assets of such Series only, and not against the assets of any other Series, and (ii) none of the debts, liabilities and obligations incurred, contracted for or otherwise existing with respect to the Partnership generally or any other Series shall be enforceable against the assets of such Series.

Unless the context otherwise requires, Series 1 Interests and any other Series of Interests shall be collectively referred to throughout this Memorandum as the "Interests." As the context may require, the holders of Series 1 Interests may be referred to herein as "Series 1 Limited Partners". Series 1 Limited Partners and, to the extent applicable, all the Limited Partners of other Series shall be collectively referred to throughout this Memorandum as the "Limited Partners".

References herein to the Partnership shall include, where appropriate, each Series of the Partnership. The terms of the other Series may be set forth in an amended version of this Memorandum and/or in a separate supplement hereto.

Portfolio Funds

In addition to investing in individual traded assets, the Partnership may invest a significant portion of its assets in other investment vehicles, including, without limitation, hedge funds, managed accounts and other private investment funds (collectively, the "Portfolio Funds"), including those managed by, or otherwise affiliated or related to, the Investment Manager. Portfolio Funds may allocate their assets to Illiquid Investments (as defined herein). As of the date hereof, the Investment Manager intends to allocate approximately 45% of the Series 1 investment portfolio to traded investments and approximately (but not more than) 55% of the Series 1 investment portfolio to the first series of limited partnership interests to be issued by the PE Portfolio Fund (as defined herein). However, the Investment Manager reserves the right to change such allocation in the future, subject to compliance with all applicable laws, including the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds, as further set forth herein.

As of the date hereof, (i) the Investment Manager acts as the investment manager to Rand PE Fund I, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership ("PE Portfolio Fund") that: (x) is expected to initially invest in the Highland Transaction (as defined herein), if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction; (ii) Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, is the general partner of the PE Portfolio Fund; and (iii) the Principal is the managing member and controlling person of Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, as further set forth herein.

The Portfolio Funds will bear their own operating and investment related expenses, which will be shared by the partners in such Portfolio Funds, including the Partnership. These fees and expenses may result in greater expenses than if Limited Partners invested directly in the Portfolio Funds or the relevant underlying investments. Limited Partners should take into account that the return on their investment will be reduced to the extent of both levels of fees and expenses.

The Offering

The Partnership is offering limited partner interests in the Partnership ("Interests") to persons who are Accredited Investors (as such term is defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("Securities Act")), Qualified Clients (as defined in Rule 205-3 promulgated under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended ("Advisers Act")), and Qualified Purchasers (as defined under Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended ("Investment Company Act")). Interests represent a percentage interest in the Partnership proportionate to the capital accounts of all Partners.

In addition to noting the investor qualifications listed above, Limited Partners should note that the Partnership is an insurance-dedicated investment fund. As such, the Interests are being offered only to Limited Partners that are: (x) insurance company investors, on behalf of certain of their segregated separate accounts ("Separate Accounts"), that fund certain variable life insurance and variable annuity contracts (collectively, the "Policies") to be issued to policy owners (each, a "Policy Owner") by the Limited Partners, or (y) state and local governmental pension plans, qualified tuition plans ("§529 plans"), and private sector qualified pension or retirement plans, as generally described in Treasury Regulation 1.817-5(f)(3). In addition, if an investor is an insurance company, such investor must require its Policy Owners to meet the same suitability standards described in the previous paragraph. While an insurance company, not a Policy Owner, will become a Limited Partner in the Partnership, it is expected that Policy Owners will be able to allocate a portion of their investment held in the Separate Account to the Partnership as one of the investment options of the Policies. See "SUMMARY OF OFFERING AND PARTNERSHIP TERMS—Investor Control" herein.

Each life insurance company Limited Partner ("Insurance Company Limited Partner") will be deemed to hold an Interest in respect of the account of each Policy Owner and will be treated as a separate Limited Partner with respect to each such Interest.

Marketing Fees and Sales Charges. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may sell Interests through broker-dealers and pay a marketing fee or commission in connection with such activities, including ongoing payments, at the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own expense. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may also deduct a percentage of the amount invested by a Limited Partner in the Partnership to pay sales fees or charges, on a fully disclosed basis, to a broker-dealer based upon the capital contribution of such Limited Partner introduced to the Partnership by such broker-dealer. Any such sales fees or charges would be assessed against the referred Limited Partner and would reduce the amount actually invested by such Limited Partner in the Partnership. If a Limited Partner is introduced to the Partnership through a broker-dealer that is not affiliated with the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, the arrangement, if any, with such broker-dealer will be disclosed to, and acknowledged by, such Limited Partner. See "BROKERAGE PRACTICES—Referral of Investors and Sales Charges".

How to Subscribe

Attached as Exhibit B to this Memorandum are the subscription documents and instructions for subscribing ("Subscription Documents"). In order to subscribe for Interests, you must complete the Subscription Documents and return them to the Partnership's administrator, a provider of administrative services ("Administrator"), as further set forth herein under "SERVICE PROVIDERS—Administrator". You must pay 100% of your investment at the time you subscribe. Payment must be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the Partnership. To ensure compliance with applicable laws, regulations and other requirements relating to money laundering, the General Partner and/or the Administrator may require additional information to verify the identity of any person who subscribes for an Interest in the Partnership.

If the General Partner consents to a Limited Partner's contribution of securities (and/or other investments) to the Partnership, the Partnership may, in the General Partner's discretion, assess a special charge against such Limited Partner equal to the actual costs incurred by the Partnership in connection with accepting such contributed securities (and/or other investments), including the costs of liquidating, or otherwise adjusting the Partnership's portfolio to accommodate, such securities (and/or other investments). Such special charge will be assessed as of such dates deemed appropriate by the General Partner. Any investor who contributes securities (and/or other investments) in lieu of cash to the Partnership should consult with such person's counsel or advisors as to the tax effect of such contribution.

Eligible Investors and Suitability

In order to invest in the Partnership, you must meet certain minimum suitability requirements, including qualifying as an Accredited Investor under the Securities Act, a Qualified Client under the Advisers Act and a Qualified Purchaser under the Investment Company Act. The Subscription Documents set forth in detail the definitions of Accredited Investor, Qualified Client and Qualified Purchaser. You must check the appropriate places in the Subscription Documents to represent to the Partnership that you are an Accredited Investor, a Qualified Client and a Qualified Purchaser in order to be able to purchase Interests. In addition, you must check the appropriate places in the Subscription Documents and/or make the appropriate representations that you are an insurance company investor. If an investor is an insurance company, such investor must require its Policy Owners to meet the same suitability standards. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, can accept or reject any initial subscriptions from prospective Limited Partners and any additional capital contributions from existing Limited Partners for any reason or for no reason.

Qualified pension or retirement plans subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), and other tax-exempt entities described in Treasury Regulation 1.817-5(f)(3) may purchase Interests. However, investment in the Partnership by such entities requires special consideration. Trustees or administrators of such entities should consult their own legal and tax advisors. The General Partner intends to use reasonable efforts to limit the aggregate equity participation by "benefit plan investors" in the Partnership to less than 25% of the value of any class of Interests in the Partnership. See "ERISA CONSIDERATIONS" and "TAXATION—Tax-Exempt Investors".

Minimum Investment

The minimum initial capital contribution that will be accepted from a new Limited Partner is $500,000. The minimum additional capital contribution that will be accepted from an existing Limited Partner is $500,000. In each case, the General Partner has discretion to accept lesser amounts. Limited Partners are not required to make any additional capital contributions to the Partnership. There is no minimum or maximum aggregate amount of funds that must or may be contributed by all Partners to the Partnership.

Admission of Limited Partners

Capital contributions generally will be accepted as of the first day of each month, although the General Partner, in its sole discretion, has the right to admit new Limited Partners and to accept additional funds from existing Limited Partners at any time. Upon such admission or receipt of additional capital contributions, the Interests of the Partners will be readjusted in accordance with their capital accounts.

In connection with an additional capital contribution by an existing Limited Partner, the General Partner will: (i) treat such additional capital contribution as a capital contribution with respect to one of such Limited Partner's existing capital accounts, or (ii) establish a new capital account to which such capital contribution will be credited and which will be maintained for the benefit of such Limited Partner separately from any existing capital account of such Limited Partner. Such separate capital accounts may be maintained for any purpose, in the discretion of the General Partner.

Management Fee

The Partnership has entered into an investment management agreement (as the same may be amended and/or restated from time to time, the "Investment Management Agreement") by and among the Partnership and the Investment Manager. In consideration for services provided pursuant to the Investment Management Agreement, the Investment Manager will receive a quarterly management fee ("Management Fee"), equal to a percentage of each Limited Partner's share of the Partnership's Net Asset Value (as defined herein), and based on the Partnership's total Net Asset Value, as follows:

Partnership's Total Net Asset Value	Management Fee (per annum)
$0 - $99,999,999	0.5500%
$100,000,000 - $199,999,999	0.5000%
$200,000,000 - $249,999,999	0.4500%
$250,000,000 - $499,999,999	0.3500%
> $500,000,000	0.3400%

For the avoidance of doubt, the Management Fee calculated based on the foregoing schedule will be calculated on a "progressive" basis. For example, if the Partnership's Net Asset Value reaches $150,000,000, the initial $99,999,999 will always be charged a Management Fee of 0.55000% annually. The benefit of the declining Management Fee schedule above is intended to benefit all Limited Partners as each capital account will be charged a blended Management Fee based on the above schedule.

The Management Fee will be calculated and payable to the Investment Manager quarterly, in advance, as of the first day of each calendar quarter. A pro rata Management Fee will be charged to Limited Partners on any amounts accepted by the General Partner during a calendar quarter. No part of the Management Fee will be refunded in the event that a Limited Partner withdraws, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, all or any of the value in such Limited Partner's capital account during any calendar quarter. Management Fees will be payable with respect to the Interests of a Limited Partner in any Side Pocket Account (as defined below). For purposes of calculating the Management Fee with respect to Side Pocket Accounts, Illiquid Investments will be carried at their fair value (which may be at, above or below cost) as determined by the Investment Manager.

With respect to any Limited Partner who has requested to withdraw all of its Interests from the Partnership, with the exception of any Interests maintained in a Side Pocket Account, the Partnership may reserve an amount from the withdrawing Limited Partner's withdrawal proceeds in order to cover the estimated accrued Management Fees and expenses attributable to the Limited Partner's Interests in the Side Pocket Account based on the Investment Manager's estimate of the time period that the Illiquid Investments held in the Side Pocket Account will remain in such Side Pocket Account (collectively, the "Management Fee Reserve"). The Management Fee Reserve will be treated as a liability of the Partnership, and the balance of the Management Fee Reserve, if any, will be paid to the withdrawing Limited Partner, without interest, upon such Limited Partner's complete withdrawal from the Side Pocket Account.

The Partnership will also bear its pro rata share of the management fees charged by the managers of the Portfolio Funds. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investment Manager intends to waive any management fees due to the Investment Manager with respect to any investment of the Partnership in any Affiliated Funds (as defined herein), including the PE Portfolio Fund. Accordingly, to the extent that the Partnership invests in any Affiliated Funds, including the PE Portfolio Fund, the Partnership will not be subject to a layering of fees.

Expenses

Organizational and Initial Offering Expenses. The Partnership will pay or reimburse the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates (as defined herein) for all organizational and initial offering expenses of the Partnership, including, but not limited to, legal and accounting fees, printing and mailing expenses and government filing fees (including "blue sky" filing fees). The Partnership's organizational and initial offering expenses may be, for accounting purposes, capitalized and amortized by the Partnership for up to 60 months from the date the Partnership commences operations. Amortization of such expenses is a divergence from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). In certain circumstances, this divergence may result in a qualification of the Partnership's annual audited financial statements. In such instances, the Partnership may elect to: (i) avoid the qualification by recognizing the unamortized expenses, or (ii) make GAAP-conforming changes for financial reporting purposes, but capitalize and amortize expenses for purposes of calculating the Partnership's Net Asset Value (resulting in a divergence in fiscal year-end Net Asset Values reported in the Partnership's financial statements, and as otherwise applicable under the provisions of the Partnership Agreement). If the Partnership capitalizes and amortizes such expenses and is then terminated within 60 months of its commencement, any unamortized expenses will be recognized. If a Limited Partner makes a withdrawal prior to the end of the period during which the Partnership is capitalizing and amortizing expenses, the Partnership may, but is not required to, accelerate a proportionate share of the unamortized expenses based upon the amount being withdrawn and reduce withdrawal proceeds accordingly.

Operating Expenses. The Partnership will pay or reimburse the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates for: (i) all expenses incurred in connection with the ongoing offer and sale of Interests, including, but not limited to, printing of this Memorandum and exhibits, marketing expenses and documentation of performance and the admission of Limited Partners, (ii) all operating expenses of the Partnership, such as tax preparation fees, governmental fees and taxes, fees to the Administrator, costs of communications with Limited Partners, and ongoing legal, accounting, auditing, bookkeeping, consulting and other professional fees and expenses, (iii) all Partnership research, trading and investment-related costs and expenses (e.g., brokerage commissions, research fees, margin interest, expenses related to short sales, custodial fees, bank service fees, and clearing and settlement charges), (iv) technology-related costs and expenses, including, but not limited to, software licenses, data feeds and colocation expenses, (v) all expenses related to attending any conference or seminar related to alternative investments (e.g., registration, transportation, accommodation or meal expenses), (vi) regulatory and other filing fees and expenses, (vii) travel expenses related to meeting with management teams, or related to any of the other categories of expenses set forth herein, (viii) any costs and expenses incurred by the Partnership in connection with converting from a stand-alone fund into a "feeder fund" as part of a master-feeder structure, (ix) director and officer liability insurance or other insurance premiums for any principal or employee of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates, (x) all fees and other expenses incurred in connection with the investigation, prosecution or defense of any claims, assertion of rights or pursuit of remedies, by or against the Partnership, including, without limitation, professional and other advisory and consulting expenses, and (xi) any and all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the dissolution, winding up, or termination of the Partnership.

Each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates, in its sole discretion, may from time to time pay for any of the foregoing Partnership expenses. Any such person may elect to be reimbursed for such expenses, or to waive its right to reimbursement for any such expenses, as well as terminate any such voluntary payment or waiver of reimbursement.

The Partnership will also bear its pro rata share of the expenses of each Portfolio Fund.

Allocation of Expenses Among Series. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager will allocate all expenses attributable to the Partnership among the Series on a pro rata basis or otherwise in their reasonable discretion.

General Partner's and Investment Manager's Expenses. The General Partner and the Investment Manager will pay their own general operating and overhead expenses associated with providing the management and investment management services required under the Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement, respectively. These expenses include all expenses incurred by the General Partner and the Investment Manager in providing for their normal operating overhead, including, but not limited to, the cost of providing relevant support and administrative services (e.g., employee compensation and benefits, rent, office equipment, computer systems, insurance (other than as expressly set forth above), utilities, telephone, secretarial and bookkeeping services, etc.), but not including any Partnership operating expenses described above.

The General Partner and the Investment Manager may use "soft dollar" commissions or rebates by brokerage firms of commissions generated by the Partnership's brokerage transactions executed through those firms to pay for certain brokerage and research products and services that fall within the safe harbor under Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended ("Exchange Act"), as further described herein. See "BROKERAGE PRACTICES—Soft Dollar Arrangements".

Withdrawals

Limited Partner Withdrawals Generally. Subject to certain restrictions described herein, each Limited Partner may withdraw a minimum of $100,000 as of the last day of each calendar quarter and at such other times as the General Partner may determine in its sole discretion (each such date, a "Withdrawal Date"), upon at least 91 days' prior written notice to the Administrator, with a copy to the General Partner. Unless the General Partner consents, partial withdrawals may not be made if they would reduce a Limited Partner's capital account balance below $500,000. All withdrawals will be deemed made prior to the commencement of the following calendar quarter (or other relevant period).

If the General Partner, in its sole discretion, permits a Limited Partner to withdraw capital other than on a regularly scheduled Withdrawal Date, the General Partner may impose an administrative fee to cover the actual legal, accounting, administrative, brokerage, and any other costs and expenses associated with such withdrawal. Such fee will be payable to the relevant Series of the Partnership and will be deducted from the withdrawal proceeds of the withdrawing Limited Partner as of such Withdrawal Date.

Ability to Withdraw Is Not Guaranteed. The General Partner believes (but cannot guarantee) that the assets of the Partnership will be invested in a manner which would allow the General Partner to satisfy withdrawal requests. The General Partner may, in its sole discretion: (i) defer withdrawal requests until the Partnership's assets mature or are liquidated in due course, (ii) elect to purchase with its own funds the Interests of the withdrawing Partner, or (iii) borrow from a third party or draw from a line of credit, subject to availability and other factors, in order to fund any withdrawal.

In addition, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may limit and/or suspend withdrawals in order to ensure that the Partnership, at all times, meets the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds, as further set forth herein.

Payments with Respect to Withdrawals; Applicable on a Series-by-Series Basis. A Limited Partner who requests any withdrawal of capital that constitutes, together with prior withdrawals within any fiscal year, less than 90% of the value of such Limited Partner's capital account (excluding any amounts held in any Side Pocket Accounts) will be paid within 90 days after the applicable Withdrawal Date. In the event that a Limited Partner requests a withdrawal of capital that constitutes, together with prior withdrawals within any fiscal year, 90% or more of the value of such Limited Partner's capital account (excluding any amounts held in any Side Pocket Accounts), the General Partner may reduce the amounts paid after any Withdrawal Date so that they constitute, in the aggregate during such fiscal year, 90% of an amount estimated by the General Partner to be the amount to which the withdrawing Limited Partner is entitled in the aggregate (calculated on the basis of unaudited data); such amount will be paid within 90 days after the applicable Withdrawal Date. The balance of the amount payable upon such withdrawal will be paid, without interest, within 90 days after completion of the audited financial statements for the fiscal year in which the withdrawal occurs. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, agree to pay up to the full capital account balance (calculated on the basis of unaudited data) to a withdrawing Limited Partner within 90 days after the applicable Withdrawal Date, subject to adjustment based on audited financial statements. To the extent that the sum previously paid to a withdrawing Limited Partner is calculated to have exceeded the amount to which it is entitled, that Limited Partner shall be required to repay to the Partnership the balance.

Upon withdrawal of all of the capital in its capital account (excluding for purposes hereof, any remaining investments held in a Side Pocket Account), a Limited Partner will be deemed to have withdrawn from the Partnership or the relevant Series, and upon notice of such withdrawal, a Limited Partner will not be entitled to exercise any voting rights afforded to Limited Partners under the Partnership Agreement.

The Partnership or the relevant Series has the right to pay cash or in-kind, or a combination of both, to a Limited Partner that makes a withdrawal from such Limited Partner's capital account.

Limitations on Withdrawals. The Partnership or a Series may suspend (or postpone) withdrawals, subscriptions, calculations of Net Asset Value and/or payments upon any withdrawals (in whole or in part) from capital accounts: (i) during the existence of any state of affairs which, in the opinion of the General Partner, makes the disposition of the Partnership's investments impractical or prejudicial to the Partners, or where such state of affairs, in the opinion of the General Partner, makes the determination of the price or value of the Partnership's investments impractical or prejudicial to the Partners; (ii) where any such withdrawals, subscriptions, calculations and/or payments, in the opinion of the General Partner, would result in the violation of any applicable law or regulation, including any diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds; (iii) if the General Partner determines, in its sole discretion, that such suspension or postponement is prudent in order to prevent the Partnership from being subject to adverse tax or regulatory implications; (iv) a Portfolio Fund suspends the right to, or the payment of proceeds due upon, withdrawal and/or a Portfolio Fund allocates assets to its side pocket account; (v) a Portfolio Fund satisfies a withdrawal request by making an in-kind distribution; or (vi) for such other reasons or for such other periods as the General Partner may prudently and in good faith determine.

All Limited Partners will be notified in writing of any such suspension or postponement and the termination thereof. Following any suspension or postponement of withdrawals, a withdrawal request made by a Limited Partner prior to such suspension or postponement will be effected as of the first Withdrawal Date following the recommencement of withdrawals.

Required Withdrawals. The General Partner may, in its sole discretion, require a Limited Partner to withdraw any or all of the value of such Limited Partner's capital accounts on at least five days' notice for any reason or no reason; provided, however, that the General Partner may require such a withdrawal on less (or no) notice in order to comply with any laws and regulations applicable to the Partnership and/or its affiliates.

Side Pocket Accounts. A Limited Partner may not withdraw any of the amounts in its capital account that are attributable to the value of an Illiquid Investment held in a Side Pocket Account until such time that such Illiquid Investment (or the sales proceeds thereof) is reallocated to such Limited Partner's capital account. At the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, an Illiquid Investment may be held in a Side Pocket Account until the occurrence of a Realization Event (as defined below). For the avoidance of doubt, any investment made by Series 1 into the series of the PE Portfolio Fund that corresponds to the latter fund's investment made in the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely.

Reserves. All withdrawals shall be subject to the General Partner's power to establish such reserves for the Partnership or a Series as the General Partner shall, in its sole but reasonable discretion, deem appropriate to pay current and future, definite, contingent and possible obligations of the Partnership or a Series (even if such reserves are not in accordance with GAAP), including estimated expenses in connection therewith, which could reduce the amount of a distribution upon withdrawal. See "—Management Fee" for more information on the Management Fee Reserve.

Other Limitations on Withdrawals. In addition to the above limitations on withdrawals, all withdrawals by Limited Partners will be subject to any limitations on withdrawals imposed by the Portfolio Funds, as applicable. For example, the ability of the Partnership to provide withdrawal proceeds to a Limited Partner may be subject to, among other things, various notice period requirements of the Portfolio Funds.

Waiver. The General Partner, in its sole discretion, may waive or modify any of the terms relating to withdrawals, including, without limitation, minimum amounts and notice periods, for all or any of the Limited Partners in its discretion without notice to the other Limited Partners.

Withdrawals, Resignation and Transfers by General Partner and its Affiliates

Each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or any Investment Manager Affiliate may withdraw all or any of the value in its respective capital account at any time, from time to time, without the consent of the Limited Partners and without notice to any of the Limited Partners. The General Partner may resign as the general partner of the Partnership upon 30 days' prior written notice to the Limited Partners. Upon such resignation of the General Partner, or upon its bankruptcy or dissolution, the remaining Limited Partners have the right to appoint a substitute general partner; otherwise, the Partnership will be dissolved pursuant to the procedures set forth in the Partnership Agreement. The Partnership Agreement permits the General Partner to appoint additional general partners and to transfer its general partner interest to an affiliate of the General Partner without the consent of Limited Partners.

Leverage

The Investment Manager may cause the Partnership to undertake leverage. Leverage may take a variety of forms, including, but not limited to, the following: long-term loans, convertible notes and repurchase arrangements. Leverage arrangements used by the Partnership when financing is contingent on the market value of the financed assets may include those which may be subject to mark-to-market collateral or margin calls. See "INVESTMENT PROGRAM" and "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein.

Determination of Net Asset Value

The net asset value ("Net Asset Value") of the Partnership, on a Series-by-Series basis, is determined in accordance with the Partnership Agreement and is generally equal to the amount by which the value of the Partnership's assets exceeds the amount of its liabilities. Net Asset Value calculations will be made by the Administrator (based on the information provided by the Investment Manager) on an accrual basis of accounting, as of the end of each calendar month (or other period, as the case may be), in accordance with GAAP, consistently applied (except that: (x) organizational and initial offering expenses of the Partnership may be capitalized and amortized over a period of up to 60 months from the date the Partnership commences operations, and (y) reserves may be taken that are inconsistent with GAAP), this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement.

In making such determinations, securities, commodities and other financial instruments (other than options) that are listed on a national securities, commodities or other exchange, or over-the-counter instruments listed on NASDAQ, will be valued at their last sales prices on such date or, if no sales occurred on such date, at the midpoint between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such securities, commodities or financial instruments on such date. Options that are listed on a securities or commodities exchange will be valued at their last sales prices on the date of determination on the largest securities or commodities exchange (by trading volume) on which such options shall have traded on such date; provided that, if the last sales prices of such options do not fall between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such options on such date, then such options will be valued at the midpoint between the last "bid" and "ask" prices for such options on such date. Securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments that are not listed on an exchange or quoted on an over-the-counter market, but for which there are available quotations, will be valued based upon quotations obtained from market makers, dealers or pricing services.

In the case of investments in Portfolio Funds, which investments are expected to constitute most of the Partnership's assets, the net asset value calculation provided by the relevant managers (or any affiliates or service providers thereof) of those Portfolio Funds will generally be used in determining the Partnership's Net Asset Value. The Investment Manager intends to engage an independent third-party valuation agent (in addition to the Administrator) to appraise the Partnership's interests in Illiquid Investments, including, without limitation, the PE Portfolio Fund; provided that, if the PE Portfolio Fund engages its own independent third-party valuation agent, the Partnership may rely on such valuation of any investment in the PE Portfolio Fund. None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates will be responsible for calculating the net asset value of the Portfolio Funds or for verifying the accuracy and completeness of any such values received.

If the Investment Manager, in its sole discretion, determines that the valuation of any security, commodity, option or other financial instrument pursuant to the foregoing does not fairly represent its market value, the Investment Manager will value such security, commodity, option or other financial instrument as it reasonably determines. Any securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments that have no public market, investments in other asset classes (including those in Side Pocket Accounts), and all other assets of the Partnership for which a valuation methodology is not specified, will be valued by the Investment Manager in a manner determined in good faith to reflect their fair market value. Absent bad faith or manifest error, all Net Asset Value determinations pursuant to the Partnership Agreement are conclusive and binding as to all Partners.

Allocation of Profit and Loss

To determine how the economic gains and losses of the Partnership will be shared, the Partnership Agreement allocates net income or loss (increases and decreases in Net Asset Value) to each Partner's capital account. Net income or loss includes all portfolio gains and losses, whether realized or unrealized, plus all other Partnership items of income (such as interest) and less all Partnership expenses. Generally, net income and net loss for each month (or other period, as the case may be) will be allocated to the Partners in proportion to their capital account balances as of the start of such month (or such other period). Net income and net losses in any Side Pocket Accounts or other memorandum accounts will be allocated to those Partners participating in such accounts in proportion to their capital account balances in such accounts. All matters concerning the allocation of profits, gains and losses among the parties (including the taxes thereon) and accounting procedures not expressly provided for by the terms of the Partnership Agreement will be determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. Capital account balances will reflect capital contributions, previous allocations of increases and decreases in Net Asset Value, withdrawals, distributions (if any), and expenses. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing provisions will apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

Allocation of Taxable Income and Loss

For income tax purposes, all items of taxable income, gain, loss, deduction and credit will be allocated among the Partners at the end of each fiscal year in a manner consistent with their economic interests in the Partnership. In light of the fact that the Partnership does not intend to make distributions, to the extent that the Partnership's investment activities are successful, Limited Partners should expect to receive allocations of income and loss, and may incur tax liabilities from an investment in the Partnership without receiving cash distributions from the Partnership with which to pay those liabilities. To obtain cash from the Partnership to pay taxes, if any, Limited Partners may be required to make withdrawals, subject to the limitations in the Partnership Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing provisions will apply on a Series-by-Series basis.

Side Pocket Accounts

The Investment Manager may designate that certain investments held by a Series of the Partnership and/or by the Portfolio Fund(s) be carried in one or more separate memorandum accounts (each, a "Side Pocket Account") for such period of time as the Investment Manager determines. Such investments may include: (i) privately placed, unregistered securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments, or those investments that, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, do not have a readily ascertainable market value; (ii) other illiquid securities that may be valued but are not freely transferable; (iii) an investment into a Portfolio Fund that invests in illiquid assets; (iv) that portion of an investment in a Portfolio Fund that is attributable to side pocket accounts designated by the manager of such Portfolio Fund (which may be designated with respect to assets that are subject to legal or contractual restrictions on transferability, or that the Investment Manager believes either lack a readily assessable market value (without impairing the value of such investments) or should be held until the resolution of a special event or circumstance; and (v) investments in other asset classes (such as real estate) and other property that are not traded on public exchanges (each, as designated by the Investment Manager, along with follow-on investments, if any, an "Illiquid Investment"). Additionally, the Investment Manager, in its sole and absolute discretion, may determine that, for various reasons, an asset that initially was not an Illiquid Investment should be categorized as an Illiquid Investment, or that a follow-on investment should be categorized as a new Illiquid Investment. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) there will be no limitation on the percentage of the Partnership's portfolio that may be carried in Side Pocket Accounts; and (ii) any investment made by Series 1 into the series of the PE Portfolio Fund that corresponds to the latter fund's investment made in the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely. Illiquid Investments held in a Side Pocket Account will be carried at their fair value (which may be at, above or below cost) as determined by the Investment Manager. For the avoidance of doubt, each Policy Owner investing through the relevant Limited Partner will indirectly participate in the economics from a pro rata portion of a Side Pocket Account and the corresponding Illiquid Investment.

At the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, an Illiquid Investment may be held in a Side Pocket Account until the occurrence of a Realization Event. Upon a Realization Event, such Illiquid Investment (or the sales proceeds thereof) will be reallocated, pro rata, from the Side Pocket Account to the capital accounts of participating Partners in accordance with their respective interests in such Side Pocket Account. Until such reallocation, a Limited Partner may not withdraw any of the amounts in its capital account that are attributable to the value of Illiquid Investments held in a Side Pocket Account. Upon such reallocation, a Limited Partner that has withdrawn all of its capital from the Partnership other than the capital attributable to such Side Pocket Account will receive an amount equal to its interest in such Side Pocket Account (net of any accrued Management Fee and accrued expenses (to the extent not covered by the Partnership's reserves, including the Management Fee Reserve) with respect thereto), within 90 days after such reallocation. For the avoidance of doubt, any investment made by Series 1 into the series of the PE Portfolio Fund that corresponds to the latter fund's investment made in the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely.

A "Realization Event" occurs: (1) when an Illiquid Investment becomes liquid, as determined in the reasonable discretion of the Investment Manager; (2) when an Illiquid Investment is sold or otherwise disposed of by the Partnership; (3) when circumstances otherwise exist that, in the reasonable judgment of the Investment Manager, conclusively establish a value for an Illiquid Investment, as determined in the reasonable discretion of the Investment Manager (including, without limitation, when additional securities substantially similar to the Illiquid Investment have been issued by the issuer of the Illiquid Investment); or (4) as otherwise determined in the sole discretion of the Investment Manager.

Newly-admitted Limited Partners may not participate in Illiquid Investments that were placed in a Side Pocket Account prior to their admission. For the avoidance of doubt, the Partnership shall not accept additional Limited Partners into any existing Series if such Series has existing Side Pocket Accounts at the time of such admission. Any expenses relating specifically to a Side Pocket Account will be charged to the Partners participating in such account. If the Investment Manager in its discretion designates any investment as a follow-on investment to an existing Illiquid Investment, only the Partners participating in such original investment will participate in such follow-on investment in proportion to their interest in the related Side Pocket Account; provided, however, that, if a Partner shall have withdrawn from the Partnership, the General Partner will equitably adjust the interests of the remaining participating Partners to reflect such withdrawn Partner's non-participation in the follow-on investment.

Also see "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST—Conflicts of Interest" herein.

New Issues Accounts; Other Memorandum Accounts

From time to time, the Partnership may purchase securities that are part of a public distribution. Under rules adopted by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"), (i) certain persons engaged in the securities, banking or financial services industries (and members of their immediate families) and (ii) certain persons who are affiliated with companies that are current, former or prospective investment banking clients of the Partnership's broker(s) (collectively, "Restricted Persons") are restricted from participating in initial public offerings of equity securities ("New Issues"), each subject to a de minimis exemption. To the extent necessary to comply with FINRA rules, in addition to the Partnership's regular accounts and any Side Pocket Accounts, the General Partner may establish one or more memorandum accounts that are authorized to participate in New Issues (each, a "New Issues Account"). Participation in New Issues Accounts will be limited to (i) those Limited Partners who are not Restricted Persons, and (ii) those Limited Partners who are Restricted Persons, but only to the extent that such participation by Restricted Persons does not exceed levels permitted under applicable FINRA rules.

In addition, as a matter of fairness to Partners that do not participate in New Issues, a use-of-funds charge may be debited to the capital accounts of those Partners that do participate in New Issues and credited to the capital accounts of all the Partners. The General Partner may calculate such charge, in its discretion, in any manner consistent with applicable FINRA rules, including, debiting amounts equal to interest, (i) on the funds used to purchase the New Issues at the annual rate being paid by the Partnership, or (ii) that would be paid by the Partnership on borrowed funds during the applicable period.

Upon the sale or other disposition of New Issues (including any transfer of the underlying securities in the New Issues Account to the capital accounts of all of the Partners, after such securities no longer constitute New Issues), any profits or losses resulting from securities transactions in the New Issues Account in any fiscal period will be credited or debited to the capital accounts of Limited Partners participating in the New Issues Account in accordance with their interests therein. Accordingly, the returns to Limited Partners on their investments in the Partnership may differ depending upon whether or not they are a Restricted Person.

In addition to the foregoing with respect to Side Pocket Accounts and New Issues Accounts, to the extent that certain Limited Partners are restricted from participating in any other transactions of the Partnership by applicable laws or regulations, or for any other reason determined by the General Partner in good faith, the General Partner may, in its discretion, establish one or more separate memorandum accounts to hold such investments and isolate ownership away from such restricted Limited Partners. Only those Limited Partners who the General Partner determines are eligible will participate in such accounts.

Side Letters

The Partnership, the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may from time to time enter into side letters or other similar agreements (collectively, "Side Letters") with one or more Limited Partners that provide such Limited Partner(s) with additional and/or different rights (including, without limitation, with respect to access to information, minimum investment amounts and liquidity terms) than such Limited Partner(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement. Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager will be required to notify any or all of the other Limited Partners of any such Side Letters or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the General Partner or the Investment Manager be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other Limited Partners. Specifically, certain Insurance Company Limited Partners may have additional withdrawal rights not offered to other Limited Partners. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST—Partnership Risks—Impact of Side Letters" herein.

Reports to Limited Partners

Each Limited Partner will receive the following, with respect to the relevant Series: (i) annual financial statements of the Partnership audited by an independent certified public accounting firm; (ii) quarterly unaudited performance information; (iii) copies of such Limited Partner's Schedule K-1 to the Partnership's tax returns; and (iv) other periodic reports or letters as determined by the General Partner in its sole discretion. The financial statements of the Partnership will be prepared in accordance with GAAP (except to the extent that this Memorandum or the Partnership Agreement states or contemplates that such statements may be inconsistent with GAAP).

The General Partner may at any time choose to change the Partnership's accounting guidelines from GAAP to the International Financial Reporting Standard ("IFRS"). In such event, the financial performance of the Partnership, as determined under IFRS, may vary from those determined under GAAP.

The Partnership will bear all fees incurred in providing such tax returns and reports.

The General Partner may agree to provide certain Limited Partners with additional information on the underlying investments of the Partnership, which may affect investment and withdrawal decisions, as well as heightened access to the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective employees for relevant information.

Transferability of Interests

As a Limited Partner, you may not assign or transfer your Interest (except by operation of law) without the consent of the General Partner, which consent may be given or withheld in its sole discretion. No transfer of an Interest by a Limited Partner will be permitted if it would result in the termination of the Partnership for federal income tax purposes. Transfers of Interests are subject to other restrictions set forth in the Partnership Agreement, including compliance with ERISA and federal and state securities laws.

Due to these limitations on transferability, Limited Partners may be required to hold their Interests indefinitely, unless they withdraw from the Partnership in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Partnership Agreement.

Distributions; Distributions

The Partnership does not expect to make any distributions to Limited Partners from profits or capital, except pursuant to requests for withdrawals and upon termination of the

Upon Termination of the Partnership

Partnership or the relevant Series. Upon the termination of the Partnership (as further described in the Partnership Agreement), the assets of the Partnership or the relevant Series will be liquidated (or distributed) and the proceeds of liquidation will be used to pay off known liabilities, establish reserves for contingent liabilities and expenses of liquidation (even if such reserves are not in accordance with GAAP), and any remaining balance will be applied and distributed in proportion to the respective capital accounts of the Partners. The Partnership or the relevant Series may satisfy any distributions to Limited Partners in cash, in-kind or any combination thereof. Additionally, the General Partner may create a liquidating fund entity (e.g., a liquidating trust or similar vehicle) and may transfer all or a portion of the Partnership's assets to such entity for any reason, including an orderly liquidation of any illiquid Partnership or Series assets, including, but not limited to Side Pocket Accounts, and may distribute ownership interests in such entity to Limited Partners.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, to the extent that the Partnership makes any distributions, the General Partner may limit such distributions, in its sole discretion, in order to ensure that the Partnership, at all times, meets the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds.

The termination of the Partnership shall constitute the termination of all Series. For the avoidance of doubt, the termination of an individual Series, however, shall not constitute the termination of the Partnership.

Bank Holding Companies

Limited Partners that are Bank Holding Companies ("BHC Limited Partners") (as defined by Section 2(a) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended ("BHCA")) are limited to 4.99% of the voting Interest in the Partnership under Section 4(c)(6) of the BHCA. The portion of the Interest in the Partnership held by a BHC Limited Partner in excess of 4.99% of the aggregate outstanding voting Interests of all Limited Partners will be deemed non-voting Interests in the Partnership. BHC Limited Partners holding non-voting Interests in the Partnership are permitted to vote such Interests (i) on any proposal to dissolve or continue the business of the Partnership under the Partnership Agreement and (ii) on matters with respect to which voting rights are not considered to be "voting securities" under 12 C.F.R. § 225.2(q)(2), including such matters which may "significantly and adversely" affect a BHC Limited Partner (such as amendments to the Partnership Agreement or modifications of the terms of its Interest). For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis. Except with regard to restrictions on voting, non-voting Interests are identical to all other Interests held by Limited Partners.

Voting Rights and Amendments

The voting rights of Limited Partners are very limited. Other than as explicitly set forth in the Partnership Agreement, Limited Partners have no voting rights as to the Partnership or its management. Generally, the Partnership Agreement may be amended only with the consent of the General Partner and Limited Partners owning more than 50% of all of the outstanding Interests of each Series; provided that: (x) for matters only relating to one Series, only the Limited Partners of that Series will vote on such matters, and (y) that the General Partner may amend the Partnership Agreement without the consent of or notice to any of the Limited Partners if, in the opinion of the General Partner, the amendment does not materially adversely affect any Limited Partner.

Liability of Limited Partners

No Limited Partner shall be personally liable or bound for the expenses, liabilities or obligations of the Partnership or the relevant Series beyond the amount in such Limited Partner's capital account in the relevant Series, from time to time, including any amounts thereof attributable to capital contributions, except that such Limited Partner may be obligated to return all or a portion of any distributions (including withdrawal proceeds) received from the Partnership or the relevant Series in an amount up to its aggregate capital contributions (including any income or gains thereon) to the Partnership or the relevant Series in order to pay such Limited Partner's pro rata share of any Partnership or Series liabilities that arose while such Limited Partner held Interests. Subject to the foregoing, no Limited Partner shall be obligated to provide any contributions to the Partnership or the relevant Series, other than its initial capital contribution. No Limited Partner shall be obligated to make any loan to the Partnership or a Series.

Under the Delaware Revised Uniform Limited Partnership Act ("Delaware Act"), when a Limited Partner receives a return of all or any part of such Limited Partner's capital contribution, the Limited Partner may be liable to the Partnership or a Series for any sum, not in excess of such return of capital (together with interest), if at the time of such distribution the Limited Partner knew that the Partnership or the relevant Series was prohibited from making such distribution pursuant to the Delaware Act.

Brokerage Practices

Portfolio transactions for the Partnership will be allocated by the Investment Manager to brokers on the basis of best execution and in consideration of, among other factors, such brokers' ability to effect transactions, operational efficiency, reputation and financial strength. See "BROKERAGE PRACTICES".

Other Activities of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and Affiliates

None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or any of their respective partners, managers, members, directors, officers, employees, agents and affiliates (collectively, "Investment Manager Affiliates") is required to manage the Partnership as its sole and exclusive function. In addition to managing the Partnership and its investments, each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may provide investment management and other services to other parties and may manage other accounts and/or establish other private investment funds in the future (both domestic and offshore) (such accounts and funds, collectively, "Affiliated Funds"), including those that may employ an investment program and strategy similar to that of the Partnership.

Specifically, as of the date hereof: (i) the Investment Manager acts as the investment manager to Rand PE Fund I, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership ("PE Portfolio Fund") that: (x) is expected to initially invest in the Highland Transaction, if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction; (ii) Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, is the general partner of the PE Portfolio Fund; (iii) the Principal is the managing member and controlling person of Rand PE Fund Management, LLC; and (iv) the Investment Manager acts as the investment subadvisor to a series of SALI Multi-Series Fund, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership, and provides certain discretionary investment advisory or consulting services to such series.

See "MANAGEMENT" and "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein.

Exculpation and Indemnification

The Partnership Agreement provides that none of the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates will be liable to the Partnership or the Limited Partners for any action or inaction in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership unless such action or inaction is determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Partnership (but not the Limited Partners individually) is obligated to indemnify the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Investment Manager Affiliates (which, for purposes of this indemnity, shall include fund counsel (except for legal malpractice)) from and against any and all claims, liabilities, obligations, judgments, suits, proceedings, actions, demands, losses, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees and other expenses of litigation), damages, penalties or interest, as a result of any claim or legal proceeding (made or threatened) related to any action or inaction by any of them in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership (including the settlement or appeal of any such claim or legal proceeding); provided that such indemnity will not extend to conduct determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing indemnification provisions shall apply on a Series-by-Series basis. The Investment Management Agreement also provides similar protections to the Investment Manager.

Investor Control

The Partnership is an insurance-dedicated investment fund. In certain circumstances, the owner of a variable life insurance or annuity contract invested in a Separate Account may, for federal income tax purposes, be considered the owner of the assets of the Separate Account that funds the variable contract under an "investor control" theory. Each Policy Owner should consult his or her own tax advisors regarding the "investor control" theory and the particular tax risks, if any, posed by the Policy Owner's selection of the Partnership as its investment option under a related Policy.

Policy Owners have no right to communicate with or direct the investment policies or decisions of the Partnership and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates relating in any way to the Partnership. For purposes of this Memorandum, the term Policy Owner includes: (i) any trustees of a Policy Owner; (ii) any Policy beneficiaries; (iii) any affiliated person (as this term is defined in Section 2(a)(3) of the Investment Company Act) of the foregoing persons; or (iv) any person that represents the Policy Owner.

There is not, nor shall there be, a pre-arranged binding agreement between the General Partner, the Administrator and the Investment Manager, on the one hand, and any Policy Owner, on the other hand, relating to the investments of the Partnership. Furthermore, Limited Partners have no right or power to take part in the management of the Partnership.

None of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates will be held responsible to any Limited Partner or Policy Owner for any loss, damage, liability or expense resulting from a violation of the "investor control" theory to the extent such violation is attributable to conduct of a Policy Owner.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Partnership's investment program permits investments in Portfolio Funds, Illiquid Investments and other investments that are managed by, or otherwise affiliated with or related to the Investment Manager. None of such investments, if made, will be deemed to be directed by the Policy Owner or be part of a pre-arranged binding agreement as a result of such affiliation or relation.

A substantial portion of the Partnership is expected to be invested in illiquid Portfolio Funds and/or Illiquid Investments. Such investments are often structured as "pass-through" entities for tax purposes and therefore may generate significant taxable income to the Limited Partners without any corresponding liquidity from such investments. As a result, an investment in the Partnership may be unsuitable for those investors that do not receive a corresponding deduction for such allocated income.

Tax Considerations

The Partnership intends to invest its assets in compliance with the diversification requirements imposed by Section 817(h) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended ("Code"), and regulations promulgated thereunder and expects to be treated as a partnership and not as an association or a publicly traded partnership taxable as a corporation for federal tax purposes. Accordingly, the Partnership should not be subject to federal income tax, and each Limited Partner will be required to report on its own annual tax return such Limited Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's taxable income or loss. Prospective purchasers are responsible for determining the tax considerations of an investment in the Partnership and should consult their own tax advisors with specific reference to their own situations as they relate to an investment in the Partnership.

The Investment Manager will be required to endeavor to invest the assets of the Partnership in compliance with the diversification requirements imposed by Section 817(h) of the Code, and regulations promulgated thereunder. The Investment Manager will be required to notify the Limited Partners within a commercially reasonable time upon having a reasonable basis for believing that the Partnership has ceased to meet the standards set forth in Section 817(h) of the Code and to take all commercially reasonable steps to comply with the diversification requirements within the grace period afforded under Treasury Regulation Section 1.817-5. None of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of their respective affiliates has any obligation to: (i) determine if any state's diversification requirements or other regulatory requirements applicable to insurance companies or variable contract separate accounts are applicable to the Partnership or to any Limited Partner, or (ii) take any steps to facilitate compliance with any such requirements.

The Investment Manager will not accept investment recommendations, or make any investment decisions regarding the direct or indirect investment of the Partnership's assets based, in whole or in part, on information regarding any investment or group of investments received from any Limited Partner or Policy Owner. No Limited Partner or Policy Owners will have the right or be permitted to select or recommend any particular investment or group of investments to be made directly or indirectly with the assets of the Partnership, and there is not, nor will there be, any direct or indirect pre-arrangements or agreement between any Limited Partner or its Policy Owners and the Investment Manager regarding the investments to be made directly or indirectly by the Partnership. See "TAXATION" herein.

Term The term of the Partnership will continue indefinitely until terminated in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. Under the Partnership Agreement, the Partnership may be terminated at the election of the General Partner.

Fiscal Year The fiscal year of the Partnership will end on December 31 of each year. However, the fiscal year may be changed at any time by the General Partner, in its sole and absolute discretion.

Auditor The Partnership intends to engage a nationally recognized public accounting firm to act as the Partnership's auditor. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

Administrator The Partnership intends to engage a provider of administrative services to acts as the Partnership's Administrator, as further set forth herein. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details. See "SERVICE PROVIDERS—Administrator" herein.

Shared Services Arrangement In addition, the Investment Manager has entered into a shared services agreement ("Shared Services Agreement") with Highland Capital Management, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (in its capacity with respect to the Shared Services Agreement, the "Shared Services Provider"), pursuant to which the Shared Services Provider will provide certain administrative, information technology, accounting, tax, back-office and other services to the Investment Manager. The Partnership will not incur any additional fees as a result of the arrangements with the Shared Services Provider. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein. Also see "SERVICE PROVIDERS—Administrator" herein.

Introducing Broker The Partnership intends to engage a nationally recognized introducing broker to act as the introducing broker for the Partnership ("Introducing Broker"). Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

Clearing Broker and Custodian The Partnership intends to engage a nationally recognized clearing broker and custodian to act as the clearing broker and custodian for the Partnership ("Custodian"). Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

Regulatory Compliance Provider The Investment Manager intends to engage a reputable regulatory compliance provider for the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their respective affiliates. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

Legal Counsel Sadis & Goldberg LLP acts as legal counsel to the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Partnership and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the offering of Interests and other ongoing matters. Sadis & Goldberg LLP has been retained to prepare offering documentation in connection with the offering but not to conduct any due diligence on the Principal, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the information in this Memorandum. Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not represent the Limited Partners, and each Limited Partner is urged to consult with its own counsel.

There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Partnership as to which Sadis & Goldberg LLP has not been consulted. In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not undertake to monitor compliance by the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Principal and their respective affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Sadis & Goldberg LLP monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Sadis & Goldberg's responsibility is limited to matters of U.S. securities and federal tax law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the Partnership, there are times when the interests of Limited Partners may differ from those of the Partnership. Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not represent the Limited Partners' interests in resolving these issues. Sadis & Goldberg LLP is a party to certain offering related documents to the limited extent that it can benefit from and enforce certain provisions thereof. In preparing this Memorandum, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has relied upon information furnished to it by the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective affiliates and is not obligated to investigate or verify the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Partnership.

Furthermore, if a conflict of interest or dispute arises between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, on the one hand, and the Partnership or any Limited Partner, on the other hand, by investing in the Partnership, the Limited Partners acknowledge that Sadis & Goldberg LLP may act as counsel to the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager and not counsel to the Partnership or the Limited Partners, notwithstanding the fact that, in certain cases, the fees paid to Sadis & Goldberg LLP are paid through or by the Partnership.

In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has represented Highland and affiliates at different times over a period lasting over a decade. It is currently expected that Sadis & Goldberg LLP will represent the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the establishment of the Partnership and the PE Portfolio Fund, the possible consummation of the Highland Transaction, and certain related matters. The Principal and his affiliates are aware of the representation by Sadis & Goldberg LLP of Highland and affiliates.

BACKGROUND OF THE GENERAL PARTNER AND THE INVESTMENT MANAGER

The General Partner of the Partnership is Atlas IDF GP, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company. The General Partner is responsible for the management of the Partnership's affairs.

The Investment Manager of the Partnership is Rand Advisors, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company. The Investment Manager has discretionary investment authority over the Partnership's assets. The Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the SEC. A copy of Part 2 of the Investment Manager's Form ADV is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

As the managing member and controlling person of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, John Honis controls all of the Partnership's operations and activities.

Limited Partners do not have any right to participate in the management of the Partnership and have very limited voting rights.

BACKGROUND OF THE PRINCIPAL

John Honis, Principal

Mr. Honis has more than 25 years of investment management and business experience. He has a background in the credit markets and private equity. Throughout his career in the investment management industry, Mr. Honis has guided many portfolio companies across several continents. Mr. Honis' business experience includes roles as CEO, CRO and board-level advisory positions to both high-growth and distressed companies, in a wide range of manufacturing and service industries.

Mr. Honis founded Barrier Advisors, a recognized provider of strategic, operational and financial advice to private equity, venture capital and money management institutions. He led many turnarounds and strategic growth initiatives and has attracted many of the nation's reputable turnaround practitioners to the Barrier team.

Previously, Mr. Honis was a high-tech executive, having served as President, CEO or Chief Restructuring Officer of five telecommunications firms. His experiences in all aspects of growth management, strategic/operational turnarounds, financial restructuring, mergers and acquisitions and capital markets were the foundational elements of Barrier Advisors' charter. Mr. Honis was previously a Partner and Co-Head of Private Equity at Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland") (which now serves as the Shared Services Provider to the Investment Manager).

Mr. Honis' early career started at J.P. Morgan in New York where he was worked in the firm's global consulting practice. At J.P. Morgan, he specialized in the design and implementation of worldwide corporate finance processes and systems. Mr. Honis received a BA Degree in Economics from Syracuse University.

Mr. Honis currently serves on the Board of Trustees for each of Highland's affiliated registered investment companies and on the Board of Directors for American HomePatient, Inc. and Turtle Bay Resort, LLC, which are portfolio companies of investment funds operated by Highland.

See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein.

Additional Personnel

The General Partner and the Investment Manager may employ additional personnel in the future.

OTHER ACTIVITIES OF THE GENERAL PARTNER, THE INVESTMENT MANAGER, THE PRINCIPAL AND AFFILIATES

None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates is required to manage the Partnership as its sole and exclusive function. Each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may engage in other business activities, including competing ventures and/or other unrelated employment, and is only required to devote such time to the Partnership as the General Partner deems necessary to accomplish the purposes of the Partnership.

In addition to managing the Partnership and its investments, each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may provide investment management and other services to other parties and may manage and/or establish Affiliated Funds in the future, including those that may employ an investment program and strategy similar to that of the Partnership.

Specifically, as of the date hereof: (i) the Investment Manager acts as the investment manager to the PE Portfolio Fund that: (x) is expected to initially invest in the Highland Transaction, if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction; (ii) Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, is the general partner of the PE Portfolio Fund; (iii) the Principal is the managing member and controlling person of Rand PE Fund Management, LLC; and (iv) the Investment Manager acts as the investment subadvisor to a series of SALI Multi-Series Fund, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership, and provides certain discretionary investment advisory or consulting services to such series. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST" herein.

INVESTMENTS BY THE GENERAL PARTNER, THE INVESTMENT MANAGER, THE PRINCIPAL AND AFFILIATES

Capital contributions by the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates will generally be on the same basis as capital contributions made by other investors, except that, in the discretion of the Investment Manager, no Management Fee may be assessed to such persons. Neither the Partnership Agreement nor the Investment Management Agreement requires the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates to maintain any minimum capital account balance.

SERVICE PROVIDERS

ADMINISTRATOR

The Partnership intends to engage an Administrator and enter into an Administration Agreement with the Administrator ("Administration Agreement"). The Administrator may be: (x) a nationally recognized provider of administrative services or (y) Highland (i.e., the Shared Services Provider); provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, any Administration Agreement with Highland, to the extent applicable, will be in addition to the Shared Services Agreement. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

The Administration Agreement will include industry-standard provisions relating to scope of services, fees, termination and indemnification.

The Administrator will be a service provider to the Partnership and will not be responsible for the preparation of this Memorandum or the activities of the Partnership, and therefore accepts no responsibility for any information contained in this Memorandum. The Administrator will not participate in the Partnership's investment decision-making process.

AUDITOR

The Partnership intends to engage a nationally recognized public accounting firm to act as the auditor for the Partnership. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

INTRODUCING BROKER

The Partnership intends to engage a nationally recognized Introducing Broker to act as the Partnership's introducing broker. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

The Introducing Broker will act as the executing broker to the Partnership, and will clear the Partnership's transactions through the Custodian. Accordingly, the Introducing Broker may receive a substantial amount of brokerage commissions related to the securities transactions of the Partnership. The Partnership will not be committed to continuing its introducing brokerage relationship with the Introducing Broker for any minimum period, and may enter into introducing brokerage relationships with other introducing brokers.

The Introducing Broker will not participate in the investment decision-making process of the Partnership and will have no obligation to review, monitor or otherwise ensure compliance by the Partnership with the investment policies, restrictions or guidelines applicable to it or any other term or condition of this Memorandum. The Introducing Broker will be a service provider to the Partnership and will not be responsible for the preparation of this Memorandum or the activities of the Partnership and therefore will accept no responsibility for any information contained in this Memorandum.

CLEARING BROKER AND CUSTODIAN

The Partnership intends to engage a nationally recognized Custodian to act as the Partnership's clearing broker and custodian. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

The Custodian will act as the clearing broker and custodian for the Partnership, and will generally clear (on the basis of payment against delivery) the securities transactions of the Partnership which are effected through other brokerage firms, specifically including the Introducing Broker. The Partnership may also utilize the Custodian, its affiliates and other brokers and dealers for the purpose of executing transactions for the Partnership. Accordingly, the Custodian may receive a substantial amount of brokerage commissions and/or margin interest related to the securities transactions of the Partnership. The Partnership will not be committed to continuing its clearing brokerage and custodial relationship with the Custodian for any minimum period, and may enter into clearing brokerage and custodial relationships with other clearing brokers and custodians.

The Custodian will not participate in the investment decision-making process of the Partnership and will have no obligation to review, monitor or otherwise ensure compliance by the Partnership with the investment policies, restrictions or guidelines applicable to it or any other term or condition of this Memorandum. The Custodian will be a service provider to the Partnership and will not be responsible for the preparation of this Memorandum or the activities of the Partnership and therefore will accept no responsibility for any information contained in this Memorandum.

REGULATORY COMPLIANCE PROVIDER

The Investment Manager intends to engage a reputable regulatory compliance provider for the Investment Manager, the General Partner and certain of their respective affiliates. Shortly after such engagement, the Partnership intends to distribute a supplement to this Memorandum to all then-current investors with the relevant details.

LEGAL COUNSEL

Sadis & Goldberg LLP acts as legal counsel to the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Partnership and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the offering of Interests and other ongoing matters. Sadis & Goldberg LLP has been retained to prepare offering documentation in connection with the offering but not to conduct any due diligence on the Principal, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the information in this Memorandum. Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not represent the Limited Partners, and each Limited Partner is urged to consult with its own counsel.

There may exist other matters that could have a bearing on the Partnership as to which Sadis & Goldberg LLP has not been consulted. In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not undertake to monitor compliance by the Investment Manager, the General Partner, the Principal and their respective affiliates with the investment program, valuation procedures and other guidelines set forth herein, nor does Sadis & Goldberg LLP monitor ongoing compliance with applicable laws. In connection with the preparation of this Memorandum, Sadis & Goldberg's responsibility is limited to matters of U.S. securities and federal tax law and it does not accept responsibility in relation to any other matters referred to or disclosed in this Memorandum. In the course of advising the Partnership, there are times when the interests of Limited Partners may differ from those of the Partnership. Sadis & Goldberg LLP does not represent the Limited Partners' interests in resolving these issues. Sadis & Goldberg LLP is a party to certain offering related documents to the limited extent that it can benefit from and enforce certain provisions thereof. In preparing this Memorandum, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has relied upon information furnished to it by the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective affiliates and is not obligated to investigate or verify the accuracy and completeness of information set forth herein concerning the Partnership.

Furthermore, if a conflict of interest or dispute arises between the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager, on the one hand, and the Partnership or any Limited Partner, on the other hand, by investing in the Partnership, the Limited Partners acknowledge that Sadis & Goldberg LLP may act as counsel to the General Partner and/or the Investment Manager and not counsel to the Partnership or the Limited Partners, notwithstanding the fact that, in certain cases, the fees paid to Sadis & Goldberg LLP are paid through or by the Partnership.

In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has represented Highland and affiliates at different times over a period lasting over a decade. It is currently expected that Sadis & Goldberg LLP will represent the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the establishment of the Partnership and the PE Portfolio Fund, the possible consummation of the Highland Transaction, and certain related matters. The Principal and his affiliates are aware of the representation by Sadis & Goldberg LLP of Highland and affiliates.

INVESTMENT PROGRAM

INTRODUCTION

The Partnership was organized for the purpose of investing and trading in a wide variety of investments, domestic and foreign, of all kinds and descriptions, whether publicly traded or privately placed, including, but not limited to, the following: common and preferred stocks, bonds and other debt securities, convertible securities, limited partnership interests, other investment funds (including the Portfolio Funds), CLO securities, mutual fund shares, options, warrants, futures, derivatives (including swaps, forward contracts and structured instruments), monetary instruments, other financial instruments, cash and cash equivalents. The Investment Manager is eligible to trade a limited amount of commodities or financial futures on behalf of the Partnership under a provision in the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended ("CEA"), that provides an exemption from registration as a commodity pool operator.

References herein to the Partnership shall include, where appropriate: (i) each Series of the Partnership; (ii) the instances whereby the Investment Manager directly invests the Partnership's assets, and (iii) the Partnership's investments through Portfolio Funds.

The following is a general description of the principal types of investments which the Investment Manager currently contemplates making for the Partnership, certain trading techniques that it may employ, the investment criteria that it plans to apply, and the guidelines that it has established with respect to the composition of its investment portfolio. The following description is merely a summary, and a Limited Partner should not assume that any descriptions of the specific activities in which the Partnership may engage are intended in any way to limit the types of investment activities which the Partnership may undertake or the allocation of Partnership capital among such investments.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Partnership's primary objective is to seek consistent above-average returns primarily through capital appreciation. No assurance can be given, however, that the Investment Manager will achieve the Partnership's investment objective, and investment results may vary substantially over time and from period to period.

As of the date hereof, the Investment Manager intends to allocate approximately 45% of the Series 1 investment portfolio to traded investments and approximately (but not more than) 55% of the Series 1 investment portfolio to the first series of limited partnership interests to be issued by the PE Portfolio Fund that: (x) is expected to initially invest in the Highland Transaction, if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction. However, the Investment Manager reserves the right to change such allocation in the future, subject to compliance with all applicable laws, including the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds, as further set forth herein. Further, the Partnership shall not accept additional Limited Partners into any existing Series if such Series has existing Side Pocket Accounts at the time of such admission.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

Philosophy

The Investment Manager intends to use a disciplined investment philosophy by combining thorough fundamental research and in-depth analysis of investment opportunities. The following principles generally guide the Investment Manager's portfolio management strategy and allocation of capital:

- invest with a long-term perspective, minimize turnover and avoid market-timing;
- hold a concentrated investment portfolio; and

- view each investment relative to other investment opportunities.

Long-Term Perspective. The Investment Manager intends to invest with a long-term perspective, typically holding an ownership position in a company until it reaches its intrinsic value. In general, when the Investment Manager will be looking to invest in a company, it intends to avoid trying to time the market, but rather intends to focus on the intrinsic value of the company and then find the right entry or purchase point.

Concentration. The Investment Manager intends to have a concentrated portfolio of investments. The Investment Manager believes that this may provide the Partnership with a competitive advantage over most other private investment vehicles in that: (i) the Investment Manager's best ideas would be rarely and/or marginally diluted by its lesser ideas; (ii) the extra time saved by not trading may allow the Investment Manager to concentrate on finding other investment ideas; and (iii) careful analysis may allow the Investment Manager to make intelligent and deliberated decisions.

Relative Analysis. The Investment Manager intends to evaluate potential investments in companies of varying market capitalization in an attempt to isolate those securities with the greatest potential for capital appreciation. As part of its strategy, the Investment Manager intends to invest in those industries, sectors and securities which may provide value on a relative basis. The Investment Manager intends to seek to understand a company and its industry before investing.

Strategies

The following is a general description of the principal types of securities in which the Partnership may invest, certain trading techniques that it may employ, the investment criteria that it plans to apply, and the guidelines that it has established with respect to the composition of its investment portfolio. The following description is merely a summary, and the Investment Manager has discretion to cause the Partnership to invest in other types of securities and to follow other investment criteria and guidelines.

Long Equity. The Investment Manager expects that a portion of the Partnership's investments will generally be in equities. In connection with the foregoing, the Partnership's focus will be on companies of varying size that have a reasonable expectation of producing above-average returns. The Investment Manager intends to favor private companies that are not actively traded in the U.S. but may be willing to invest in companies without respect to market capitalization, geographic location or market sector.

Before investing in a company, the Investment Manager intends to analyze certain financial measures, such as the company's historical and expected cash flows, its projected earnings growth, its valuation relative to its growth and to that of its industry, the historical trading patterns of the company's securities, and forecasts and projections for the relevant industry group. The Investment Manager will at times gather information about a company from consultants, analysts, competitors, suppliers and customers that may help the effectiveness of the analysis performed.

Short Selling. The Investment Manager may sell short individual stocks as a means of attempting to reduce risk and increase performance. Stocks are generally sold short for a variety of reasons, including, without limitation, the following: (i) temporary overvaluation due to short-term market euphoria for a sector; (ii) faulty business model; (iii) poor earnings; (iv) questionable accounting practices; (v) deteriorating fundamentals; (vi) negative tangible book value; and (vii) weak management unable to adapt to changes in technology, regulation or the competitive environment. The Investment Manager believes that, by focusing on specific companies that are experiencing any one or more of these elements, the Investment Manager may be able to identify profitable short sale candidates in most stock market environments. In addition, technical analysis may also be used to help in the decision-making process.

Event-Driven Investments. When the opportunity arises, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, the Partnership may invest in companies based upon certain situations or events, such as launching of a new product, changes in management, a corporate restructuring, a merger or an acquisition. These situations or events may also include investments that are based on market-timing and impact analysis.

Occasionally, the Partnership may engage in arbitrage transactions that the Investment Manager believes may represent an exceptional risk/reward opportunity. Risk arbitrage opportunities generally arise during corporate mergers, leveraged buyouts or takeovers. Frequently, the stock of the company being acquired will trade at a significant discount to the announced deal price. This discount compensates investors for the time value of money and the risk that the transaction may be canceled. If the discount is significantly greater than the Investment Manager's assessment of the underlying risk, the strategy will be implemented. The Investment Manager intends to use event-driven investments as a tactical, opportunistic strategy and not as part of the Partnership's normal operations.

Bank Loans

In general, a portion of the Partnership's net assets will be invested and traded in senior secured floating rate bank loans ("Bank Loans") denominated in U.S. dollars. Bank Loans represent amounts borrowed by corporate entities from banks and other lenders. In many cases, they are issued in connection with re-capitalizations, acquisitions, leveraged buyouts and re-financings. Most, if not all, of the Bank Loans in which the Partnership intends to invest will have a below investment-grade credit rating or will not be rated by a major credit rating agency. The Bank Loans in which the Partnership intends to invest are often referred to as "leveraged loans" because the borrowing companies have significantly more debt than equity.

Bank Loans have the highest seniority within a borrower's capital structure. Therefore, in the event of a bankruptcy, holders of Bank Loans are typically paid (to the extent assets are available) before certain other creditors, such as bondholders. Bank Loan maturities typically range from 5 to 8 years, although loan prepayments and re-financings generally result in effective average lives of approximately 3 years depending on market conditions.

Bank Loans generally pay interest at rates that are determined periodically by reference to a base lending rate plus a premium. These rates often are re-determined daily, monthly, quarterly or semi-annually. As a result, the Investment Manager believes that the Partnership may experience less sensitivity to changes in market interest rates and lower volatility than if the Partnership invested exclusively in fixed rate obligations.

The Bank Loan market has grown significantly in recent years, as investors have been drawn into the market by the advantageous characteristics of Bank Loans, which include floating interest rates, senior secured status, lower volatility, growing liquidity, greater control over an issuer in times of stress, and lower correlation with other asset classes.

Other Securities

When, in the opinion of the Investment Manager, appropriate investments cannot be found or when market conditions dictate a more conservative stance, the Partnership may maintain significant cash positions or invest in money market instruments (e.g., money market funds or U.S. Treasury securities).

Fixed Income Securities

The Investment Manager may invest in fixed income securities (bonds) as part of the strategic operations of the Partnership. The Investment Manager may take advantage of special investment opportunities in the high yield and convertible segments of the fixed income market. The Investment Manager considers these investments to be equity substitutes, with the expectation of providing both current income and capital appreciation. The Investment Manager may also seek opportunities in government-issued fixed income securities, as deemed appropriate.

High Yield Bonds

The price and yield of lower-quality (i.e., high yield, high risk) bonds, commonly referred to as "junk bonds," can be expected to fluctuate more than the price and yield of higher-quality bonds. Because these bonds are rated below BBB or are in default, they are regarded as predominantly speculative with respect to the issuer's continuing ability to meet principal and interest payments. Successful investment in lower-medium- and low-quality bonds involves greater investment risk and is highly dependent on credit analysis. A real or perceived economic downturn or higher interest rates could cause a decline in high yield bond prices by lessening the ability of issuers to make principal and interest payments. These bonds can be more difficult to sell and value accurately than high-quality bonds. Because objective pricing data may be less available, judgment may play a greater role in the valuation process. In addition, the entire high yield bond market can experience sudden and sharp price swings due to a variety of factors, including changes in economic forecasts, stock market activity, large or sustained sales by major investors, a high-profile default, or just a change in the market's psychology. This type of volatility is usually associated more with stocks than bonds, but junk bond investors should be prepared for it.

Derivative Transactions

The Partnership may enter into derivative transactions, including credit default swaps to hedge the market risk of its Bank Loan portfolio. The Investment Manager may purchase and write put and call options that are traded on national securities exchanges or over-the-counter markets, as well as on electronic communications networks. Options can be used in many ways, such as to increase market exposure (i.e., leverage), to reduce overall market exposure (i.e., hedge), to increase the portfolio's current income, or to reduce the cost basis of a new position. The Partnership may also utilize certain options, such as various types of index or "market-basket" options, in an effort to hedge against certain market-related risks, as the Investment Manager deems appropriate. The Investment Manager believes that the use of options and other derivatives may help reduce risk and enhance investment performance of the Partnership's portfolio.

Foreign Investments

Although the Investment Manager intends to focus primarily on the U.S. marketplace, it may invest in U.S. dollar-denominated securities of foreign issuers or loans of foreign borrowers traded in the U.S.

Special Situations

The Partnership may invest in companies involved in (or the target of) acquisition attempts or tender offers or in companies involved in work-outs, liquidations, spin-offs, reorganizations, bankruptcies and similar transactions.

Money Market Instruments

From time to time, the Investment Manager may also invest some of the Partnership's assets in short-term U.S. government obligations, certificates of deposit, commercial paper and other money market instruments. A greater percentage of Partnership assets may be invested in such obligations if the Investment Manager believes that a defensive position is appropriate because of expected economic or business conditions or the outlook for security prices. From time to time, in the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, cash balances in the Partnership's brokerage account may be placed in a money-market fund or other cash equivalents.

CLO Securities Generally

A portion of the Partnership's assets will also be invested in: (i) rated and unrated, debt relating to collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs" or "CLO Securities") in the primary and secondary markets, and (ii) collateralized debt obligations that also have leveraged loans as part of their underlying investments.

Currency Hedging Transactions

The Investment Manager may, but is not required, to engage in currency hedging transactions to protect against adverse changes in currency and interest rates. Currency hedging instruments may include, without limitation, forward contracts, futures contracts, options contracts, cross-currency swaps, exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"), treasury locks, shorting non-U.S. debt and any other instrument deemed reasonable in the Investment Manager's discretion to hedge the non-U.S. currency exposure of the Partnership.

Description of CLO Investments

An investment in CLO tranches represents varying levels of exposure primarily to credit performance of the underlying assets and is characterized by a combination of expected significant current cash flow, as well as the opportunity for positive returns through long-term gains on the underlying portfolios. CLO investments often have a relatively short expected duration (usually less than 10 years), as a typical CLO distributes excess cash flows quarterly or semi-annually concurrent with the payment of interest on its liabilities, subject to compliance with overall collateral quality tests and other performance criteria. The Investment Manager believes that CLO debt securities may offer significant relative value in the current market. The Investment Manager believes the attractive spreads currently offered by investments in CLOs have been created by technical factors, mainly rating agency driven, rather than fundamentals of the underlying collateral.

A cash flow CLO is generally analogous to a special purpose finance company. The CLO owns a portfolio consisting of corporate loans and other investments from which it typically receives interest income, together with capital gains and losses. The CLO is often financed with equity, which may be in the form of preference shares or income notes and several levels of long-term debt. CLO debt is typically rated by the rating agencies based on the deal structure as well as outstanding principal amount of portfolio securities and, in most cases, is not contingent on the market value of the underlying portfolio. CLO equity is almost always unrated.

In addition to the opportunities in the secondary market, the Investment Manager believes that it may be able to source attractive opportunities from the growing issuance of CLOs in the primary market as well. The CLO market generally is characterized by a lack of liquidity, transparency and the absence of uniform standards. The Investment Manager believes that market participants often tend to lack the expertise and analytic tools to systematically and comprehensively analyze either primary or secondary market CLO tranches. The market for CLO tranches is also highly fragmented and, to date, many investors have had limited leverage in negotiating CLO terms, such as structure and fees. The Investment Manager believes that the Partnership may benefit from the Investment Manager's ability to use its CLO management expertise, proprietary analytics and direct market access to assess value opportunities and effectively execute transactions. In the primary market, the Investment Manager will seek situations where it can influence structures, fees and timing of CLO transactions to achieve favorable terms not directly available to other investors.

The Investment Manager generally intends to invest the Partnership's gross assets in CLO debt that is diversified across maturities, underlying assets and managers. In addition to implementing its rigorous investment process and utilizing proprietary analytical tools to evaluate and select investments for the Partnership, the Investment Manager intends to use its market knowledge and industry position to seek to add value by addressing what it believes may be material inefficiencies of the existing CLO execution process. For example, within the primary new issuance market, the Investment Manager will look to invest in CLOs where it can leverage its expertise and market relationships to achieve the timing, structural and financial terms especially advantageous to the Partnership's investments. In addition, the Investment Manager will look to assess value dislocations of CLOs and other structured investments within the secondary market, as the Investment Manager believes structured products markets may have inherent inefficiencies that often cause significant differentials between intrinsic value and market value.

The Investment Manager will seek to achieve the following specific objectives:

- seek consistent above-average returns while minimizing volatility;
- access and initiate deal flow directly and through arrangements with underwriters and broker-dealers;
- take advantage of value dislocations in the secondary market;
- reduce risk through efficient, cost-effective transaction execution;
- add value through optimization of terms and structures;
- and leverage expertise in CLO investments and management to create a well-balanced, broadly diversified portfolio.

Structural Optimization and Transaction Terms with Respect to CLOs

Typically, CLO securities are offered to investors after the structure has been developed and agreed to by the collateral manager, underwriter and rating agencies. Investors have limited ability to effect significant changes to the structure and/or the key terms. Also, very few investors have the expertise or the tools to model and analyze proposed CLO investments; most are believed to rely on the underwriters to provide analytical support. Proactive, early involvement with select managers and underwriters, and significant investment participation, are expected to enable the Investment Manager to use its structuring capability and proprietary analytics to identify and achieve desirable structural features and transaction terms.

CLO Investment Process

General. The investment process used by the Investment Manager to evaluate potential CLO tranches will generally employ a combination of rigorous qualitative (manager, portfolio and legal considerations) and quantitative (structural, cash-flow, collateral valuation and pricing/relative value) analysis. Among other resources, the Investment Manager intends to use its proprietary quantitative analytical tool, Rand CLO Insight, as well as INTEX data service, Wall Street Analytics, Moody's Investor Services and Wall Street Office in connection with gathering information with respect to CLO investments by the Partnership.

Asset/Portfolio Assessment. The Investment Manager believes the most critical component of investing in CLO securities is the ability to quickly and effectively understand the characteristics of the CLO's underlying collateral, primarily consisting of corporate Bank Loans. The Investment Manager believes that its capability to develop accurate, up-to-date portfolio quality indicators may be critical to the foregoing task because these indicators are key inputs for the subsequent quantitative component of the investment analysis.

Further assessment by the Investment Manager will generally include additional portfolio-level analysis. The Investment Manager intends to consider, among other factors, the following key parameters of a CLO:

- historical par loss due to defaults and distressed sales as a key indicator of prior portfolio performance;
- defaulted securities currently held in the portfolio and prospective recovery levels for such securities;
- aggregate ratings of the performing securities (statistically, lower ratings generally indicate higher probability of default);
- liquidity as measured by the average facility size and percent of the portfolio with private credit ratings, among other metrics;
- projected future portfolio par loss, based on the security-level analysis and the resulting ratings adjustments;
- portfolio market value and portfolio segment trading at distressed prices as another indicator of future portfolio performance; and
- degree of industry and issuer diversification/concentration.

Manager Evaluation. The underlying CLO manager is responsible for selecting the assets and for managing them within the ratings-constrained environment according to the specified procedures and limitations that exist in each CLO's indenture. The review of the CLO manager will generally encompass historical performance, investment management and structured finance expertise, quality and size of the investment team, co-investment history, investment philosophy and credit process, platform scalability, systems and back office operations. The review process will generally focus on evaluating the manager's performance and capabilities in the following areas:

- Past CLO performance, including par erosion through defaults, recoveries and trading history (gains/losses) of current and prior CLO managed;
- proficiency in the underlying asset classes, integrity of the investment process, investment criteria, decision-making and monitoring processes;
- consistency of historic performance, with an emphasis on performance during a credit down cycle;
- knowledge of CLO structures and the ability to manage the assets within the limitations imposed by indenture constraints;
- upgrade and downgrade history of its prior transactions;
- key personnel, retention arrangements and succession plan, and experience and depth of the entire investment team; and
- technical self-reliance, such as degree of independence from trustee/underwriter to assess impact of potential trades, indenture interpretation, etc.; and
- sophistication of systems, compliance procedures and reporting capabilities.

Structural Considerations. A review of the CLO structure will generally focus on the indenture (the governing document of the transaction) provisions that determine which assets may be purchased by the vehicle, as well as the mechanics behind the cash-flow "waterfall" (i.e., priority of payments). The cash-flow "waterfall" determines the order in which cash disbursements are made on each payment date according to the performance of the transaction. In the event of performance deterioration, cash flow may be diverted from lower tranches of the capital structure to prepay the senior or mezzanine tranches, reduce the leverage, and, if possible, restore compliance with the appropriate tests.

Further structural analysis by the Investment Manager includes a thorough review of indenture provisions which generally include:

- asset eligibility – the types and required features of the assets permitted to be purchased for the CLO (e.g., loans, rating requirements, maturity restrictions, interest payment frequency, etc.);

- "basket" limitations – percentage limits on securities bearing certain ratings, maximum permitted percentages for certain asset types (e.g., synthetic instruments, structured notes, zero-coupon bonds, etc.);

- trading restrictions – the level of discretionary trading allowed, rules for trading and how they may change in the event that the liabilities are downgraded;

- reinvestment criteria – the rules that govern reinvestment of principal proceeds generated from sales, maturities, calls and tenders during and after the reinvestment period;

- priority of payments – structure of the CLO's cash-flow waterfall and cash-flow diversion mechanisms (the over-collateralization and interest coverage tests); if earlier cash-flow diversion results in deferral of interest payments to certain tranches, these rules determine how deferred interest gets paid when the funds are available and what the protections or risks are for each investor in the CLO;

- management fee structure – senior, subordinate, incentive, contingent fees; generally, proper fee structure is key in aligning the manager's interest with various note holders; and an equity investor would favor a structure that compensates the manager for managing the transaction while providing an incentive to maintain equity distributions without sacrificing the future health of the transaction;

- collateral quality tests haircuts – if a certain "basket" is larger than its limitation, overcollateralization tests may be reduced by the amount above the limitation;

- analysis of the hedging strategy and of the hedge structure is important in evaluating implications of any mismatch between fixed rate assets and floating rate liabilities; the hedge instrument is valued and the effectiveness of the strategy is evaluated based on various criteria, such as where the termination payments are positioned in the waterfall, whether payments are made upfront or over time and how the notional amount changes over time; improper hedging can prove very costly to investors at all levels of the capital structure;

- governance provisions and voting rights – the rights of investors in different tranches of the capital structure to effect changes (e.g., manager removal, collateral disposition, note redemption, etc.);

- events of default – definitions and implications for each tranche holder; and

- reporting – the frequency and detail provided to the investors updating the portfolio and liability performance and composition.

Legal/Other Issue Analysis. Legal review will generally be an integral part of the Investment Manager's overall investment process with the goal of understanding and interpreting the numerous documents that govern a typical CLO. Reviewed documents and legal issues may include the following:

- the indenture – the CLO's governing document that acts as a "roadmap" for the entire transaction;

- legal opinions – these provide guidance as to tax treatment and other legal areas that may impact the management of the transaction;

- the management/advisory agreements – these dictate the role, rights and responsibilities of the manager;

- legal structure of equity securities – the structure of the preference shares or income notes may have an impact on the tax treatment;

- financial guaranty agreements – a financial guarantor is typically a monoline insurance company which in the past may have given its rating, usually Aaa/AAA to the senior class of notes to guarantee payments of principal and interest in exchange for a fee and additional rights within the CLO; such rights are important to evaluate as they may have an impact on the rights of the equity investors;

- ratings – agency, analyst, location, timing and basic assumptions used to arrive at the ratings; and

- offering memoranda, deal pitch books and other marketing materials.

Detailed Quantitative Analysis Using Proprietary Analytics. A detailed cash flow analysis is crucial in determining the return characteristics and profile of the tranche under consideration. The cash flows will generally be stress-tested using multiple economic scenarios and assumptions to assess the risk and return profile of the proposed CLO investment. Among other items, the quantitative analysis will also include the following:

- a review of the portfolio market value, the resulting market value coverage of the proposed CLO investment, and its change over time;

- the likelihood of future cash flows being diverted or interrupted, as well as the potential severity in the event that it happens;

- analysis of par value and interest coverage cushions. Cushions in the overcollateralization and the interest coverage tests may indicate the level of losses that can be sustained before a potential cash flow diversion; and

- analysis of sector and issuer concentrations, largest exposures and level of diversification.

Final Screen/ Pricing. The Investment Manager's investment decision will generally be based on the qualitative and quantitative analysis of each investment and on the correlation between the proposed investment and the existing holdings in an effort to ensure an appropriate level of diversification. The Investment Manager will generally compare the risk and return characteristics of the proposed CLO investment against similar CLO bond trade prices in its proprietary pricing database. The combined assessment of the underlying portfolio characteristics, structural considerations, legal and cash flow scenario analyses will generally be compared with the relative value analysis to determine the value of the proposed CLO investment.

Leverage

The Investment Manager may cause the Partnership to undertake leverage. Leverage may take a variety of forms, including, but not limited to, the following: long-term loans, convertible notes and repurchase arrangements. Entering into short sales and certain types of derivative instruments may also increase the Partnership's use of leverage. Leverage arrangements used by the Partnership when financing is contingent on the market value of the financed assets may include those which may be subject to mark-to-market collateral or margin calls.

Important Notice

The foregoing description of the Partnership's investment program does not purport to be a complete explanation of all the asset classes or securities in which the Partnership may invest. In general, the Investment Manager intends to follow a flexible approach in order to place the Partnership in the best position to capitalize on opportunities in the financial markets. Accordingly, the Investment Manager may employ other strategies and may take advantage of opportunities in diverse asset classes if they meet the Investment Manager's standards of investment merit.

DEVELOPMENT AND RISKS OF INVESTMENT MANAGER'S INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The development of an investment strategy is a continuous process, and the Partnership's investment strategy and methods may therefore be modified from time to time. The Partnership's investment methods are confidential, and the descriptions of them in this Memorandum are not exhaustive. The Partnership's investment strategies may differ from those used by the Investment Manager and its affiliates with respect to other accounts they manage. Investment decisions require the exercise of judgment by the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager may, at times, decide not to make certain investments, thereby foregoing participation in price movements, which would have yielded profits or avoided losses. Limited Partners cannot be assured that the strategies or methods utilized by the Investment Manager will result in profitable investing for the Partnership.

The Partnership's investment program entails substantial risks, and there can be no assurance that its investment objectives will be achieved. The practices of options trading, short selling, the use of leverage and other investment techniques employed by the Partnership can, in certain circumstances, maximize the adverse impact to which the Partnership's investment portfolio may be subject. See "RISK FACTORS AND CONFLICTS OF INTEREST—Market Risks".

References herein to the Partnership shall be deemed to apply with respect to the Partnership's traded investments.

BROKERAGE ARRANGEMENTS

The Investment Manager is responsible for the placement of the portfolio transactions of the Partnership and the negotiation of any commissions paid on such transactions. Portfolio securities normally are purchased through brokers on securities exchanges or directly from the issuer or from an underwriter or market maker for the securities. Purchases of portfolio instruments through brokers involve a commission to the broker. Purchases of portfolio securities from dealers serving as market makers include the spread between the "bid" and the "ask" price. The Investment Manager will not commit to provide any level of brokerage business to any broker. The Investment Manager may utilize the services of one or more introducing brokers who will execute the Partnership's brokerage transactions through a broker or custodian who will clear the Partnership's transactions.

Securities transactions for the Partnership are executed through brokers selected by the Investment Manager in its sole discretion and without the consent of the Partnership. In placing portfolio transactions, the Investment Manager will seek to obtain the best execution for the Partnership, taking into account the following factors: the ability to effect prompt and reliable executions at favorable prices (including the applicable dealer spread or commission, if any); the operational efficiency with which transactions are effected and the efficiency of error resolution, taking into account the size of order and difficulty of execution; the financial strength, integrity and stability of the broker; special execution capabilities; reputation; clearance, settlement, on-line pricing, block trading and block positioning capabilities; willingness to execute related or unrelated difficult transactions in the future; order of call; online access to computerized data regarding clients' accounts; performance measurement data; the quality, comprehensiveness and frequency of available brokerage and research products and services considered to be of value; the availability of stocks to borrow for short trades; and the competitiveness of commission rates in comparison with other brokers satisfying the Investment Manager's other selection criteria.

SOFT DOLLAR ARRANGEMENTS

The term "soft dollars" refers to commissions accumulated by brokers based on an investment manager's transactions, on behalf of its clients, which may be used by the investment manager to acquire various products or services. The use of client commissions, known as soft dollars, to pay for these products and services, including research and brokerage products and services, presents investment managers with potential conflicts of interest and may give incentives for investment managers to use certain brokers without regard to their obligations to their clients.

The Investment Manager may use soft dollars generated by the Partnership's brokerage transactions to pay for brokerage and research products and services that fall within the safe harbor afforded by Section 28(e) of the Exchange Act ("Section 28(e)"). Section 28(e) provides a "safe harbor" to investment managers who use soft dollars to obtain investment research and brokerage products and services. In order to qualify for the safe harbor, the products or services must provide assistance to the investment manager in the performance of its investment decision-making responsibilities, or must relate to the execution, clearance or settlement of a trade.

REFERRAL OF INVESTORS AND SALES CHARGES

The Investment Manager may direct some Partnership brokerage business to brokers who refer prospective investors to the Partnership. Because such referrals, if any, are likely to benefit the Investment Manager and its affiliates but will provide an insignificant (if any) benefit to Limited Partners, the Investment Manager will have a conflict of interest with the Partnership when allocating Partnership brokerage business to a broker who has referred investors to the Partnership. To prevent Partnership brokerage commissions from being used to pay investor referral fees, the Investment Manager will not allocate Partnership brokerage business to a referring broker unless the Investment Manager determines in good faith that the commissions payable to such broker are reasonable in relation to those available from non-referring brokers offering services of substantially equal value to the Partnership.

The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may sell Interests through broker-dealers and pay a marketing fee or commission in connection with such activities, including ongoing payments, at the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own expense. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may also deduct a percentage of the amount invested by a Limited Partner in the Partnership to pay sales fees or charges, on a fully disclosed basis, to a broker-dealer based upon the capital contribution of such Limited Partner introduced to the Partnership by such broker-dealer. Any such sales fees or charges would be assessed against the referred Limited Partner and would reduce the amount actually invested by such Limited Partner in the Partnership. If a Limited Partner is introduced to the Partnership through a broker-dealer that is not affiliated with the Investment Manager and/or the General Partner, the arrangement, if any, with such broker-dealer will be disclosed to, and acknowledged by, such Limited Partner.

ALLOCATION OF INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Investment Manager may at times determine that certain investments will be suitable for acquisition by the Partnership and by other accounts managed by the Investment Manager, including Affiliated Funds, the Investment Manager's own accounts or accounts of an affiliate. If that occurs, and the Investment Manager is not able to acquire the desired aggregate amount of such investments on terms and conditions which the Investment Manager deems advisable, the Investment Manager will endeavor to allocate in good faith the limited amount of such investments acquired among the various accounts for which the Investment Manager considers them to be suitable. The Investment Manager may make such allocations among the accounts in any manner which it considers to be fair under the circumstances, including, but not limited to, allocations based on relative account sizes, the degree of risk involved in the investments acquired, and the extent to which such investments are consistent with the investment policies and strategies of the various accounts involved.

AGGREGATION OF ORDERS

The Investment Manager may aggregate purchase and sale orders of investments held by the Partnership with similar orders being made simultaneously for other accounts or entities if, in the Investment Manager's reasonable judgment, such aggregation is reasonably likely to result in an overall economic benefit to the Partnership based on an evaluation that the Partnership will be benefited by relatively better purchase or sale prices, lower commission expenses or beneficial timing of transactions, or a combination of these and other factors.

In some instances, the purchase or sale of investments for the Partnership may be effected simultaneously with the purchase or sale of like investments for other accounts or entities. Such transactions may be made at slightly different prices, due to the volume of investments purchased or sold. In such event, the average price of all investments purchased or sold in such transactions may be determined, at the Investment Manager's sole discretion, and the Partnership may be charged or credited, as the case may be, with the average transaction price.

TRADE ERROR POLICY

The Investment Manager has internal controls in place to prevent trade errors from occurring. On those occasions when such an error nonetheless occurs, the Investment

Manager will use reasonable efforts to correct the error. If the error cannot be corrected, the Investment Manager does not intend to make any adjustment, regardless of whether the error works to the benefit or detriment of the Partnership. The Investment Manager will endeavor to maintain a record of each trade error, including information about the trade and how such error was corrected or attempted to be corrected. The Partnership (and not the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates) will be responsible for any losses resulting from trading errors and similar human errors, unless such errors are due to gross negligence or willful misconduct, as determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction.

An investment in the Partnership (and any Series thereof) involves significant risks not associated with other investment vehicles and is suitable only for persons of adequate financial means who have no need for liquidity in this investment. There can be no assurances or guarantees that: (i) the Partnership's (or any Series') investment strategy will prove successful, or (ii) investors will not lose all or a portion of their investment in the Partnership (or any particular Series).

References herein to the Partnership shall include, where appropriate: (i) each Series of the Partnership; (ii) the instances whereby the Investment Manager directly invests the Partnership's assets, and (iii) the Partnership's investments through Portfolio Funds.

In addition, to the extent relevant, you should also read the offering and governing documents of the PE Portfolio Fund in which the Partnership intends to initially invest on behalf of the initial Limited Partners, which are available from the Partnership upon request.

You should consider the Partnership as a supplement to an overall investment program and should only invest if you are willing to undertake the risks involved. In addition, investors who are subject to income tax should be aware that an investment in the Partnership (or any Series thereof) is likely (if the Partnership (or such Series) is successful) to create taxable income or tax liabilities in excess of cash distributions to pay such liabilities. You should therefore bear in mind the following risk factors and conflicts of interest before purchasing an Interest:

PARTNERSHIP RISKS

Dependence Upon the General Partner, the Investment Manager and the Principal; No Participation in Management. The Partnership's success will depend on the management of the General Partner and the Investment Manager and on the skill and acumen of the Principal. If the Principal should cease to participate in the Partnership's business, the Partnership's ability to select attractive investments and manage its portfolio could be severely impaired.

As a Limited Partner, you should be aware that you will have no right to participate in the management of the Partnership, and you will have no opportunity to select or evaluate any of the Partnership's investments or strategies. Accordingly, you should not invest in the Partnership unless you are willing to entrust all aspects of the management of the Partnership and its investments to the discretion of the General Partner and the Investment Manager.

Limited or Lack of Operating History. Each of the Partnership, the Investment Manager and the General Partner are recently-formed entities that have no operating history upon which prospective investors may evaluate the Partnership's future performance. Although the Principal has experience with investments of the type the Partnership intends to make, any prior performance of the Principal (or the Investment Manager Affiliates) is not necessarily indicative of results that he may achieve with respect to the Partnership. As such, there can be no assurances that the Partnership will be able to implement its investment strategy or achieve its investment objective. In addition, any prior performance of the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates is not indicative of the results each may achieve for the Partnership in the future.

Reliance on the Shared Services Provider. The Investment Manager relies on the Shared Services Provider to provide certain administrative and other services. In the event that the Shared Services Agreement is terminated for any reason, the Investment Manager may not be able to engage another third party to provide such services and may not have the resources to continue advising the Partnership without the provision of such services by the Shared Services Provider. In addition, the Shared Services Provider may be (but, as of the date hereof, is not) engaged by the Partnership to act as the Partnership's Administrator, pursuant to a separate Administration Agreement.

Limited Liquidity of Interests. An investment in the Partnership involves substantial restrictions on liquidity, and its Interests are not freely transferable. There is no market for the Interests in the Partnership, and no market is expected to develop. Additionally, transfers are subject to the consent of the General Partner, which consent may be granted or withheld in the General Partner's sole discretion. Consequently, Limited Partners will be unable to liquidate their Interests except by withdrawing from the Partnership in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. Limited Partners may be unable to liquidate their investment promptly in the event of an emergency or for any other reason. Although a Limited Partner may attempt to increase its liquidity by borrowing from a bank or other institution, Interests may not readily be accepted as collateral for a loan. In addition, the transfer of an Interest as collateral or otherwise to achieve liquidity may result in adverse tax consequences to the transferor.

A portion of the Partnership's assets may be invested in securities and other financial instruments or obligations for which no market exists and/or which are restricted as to their transferability under federal or state securities laws. Such investments may be segregated from other Partnership assets and carried in Side Pocket Accounts, which are subject to restrictions on withdrawals. Because of the absence of any trading market for these investments, the Partnership may take longer to liquidate these positions than would be the case for publicly traded securities. Although these securities may be resold in privately negotiated transactions, the prices realized on these sales could be less than those originally paid by the Partnership. Further, companies whose securities are not publicly traded may not be subject to public disclosure and other investor protection requirements applicable to publicly traded securities.

Lack of Registration. The Interests have neither been registered under the Securities Act nor under the securities laws of any state and, therefore, are subject to transfer restrictions. In connection with your purchase of an Interest, you must represent that you are purchasing the Interest for investment purposes only and not with a view toward resale or distribution. Neither the Partnership nor the General Partner has any plans or assumed any obligation to register the Interests. Accordingly, the Interests may not be transferred without documentation acceptable to the General Partner, which may include an opinion of counsel to the Partnership that the transfer will not involve a violation of the registration requirements of the Securities Act or require registration by the Partnership under the Investment Company Act. These restrictions on transfer are in addition to those found in the Partnership Agreement. Ordinarily, this means that transfers will be restricted to instances of death, gift or passage by operation of law.

Withdrawal of Capital. A Limited Partner's ability to withdraw funds from the Partnership is restricted in accordance with the withdrawal provisions contained in this Memorandum under "SUMMARY OF OFFERING AND PARTNERSHIP TERMS—Withdrawals" and the withdrawal provisions contained in the Partnership Agreement. In addition, substantial withdrawals by investors within a short period of time could require the Partnership to liquidate securities positions and other investments more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, possibly reducing the value of the Partnership's assets and/or disrupting the Partnership's investment strategy. Reduction in the size of the Partnership could make it more difficult to generate a positive return or to recoup losses due to, among other things, reductions in the Partnership's ability to take advantage of particular investment opportunities or decreases in the ratio of its income to its expenses.

In addition to the above limitations on withdrawals, all withdrawals by Limited Partners will be subject to any limitations on withdrawals imposed by the Portfolio Funds.

For the avoidance of doubt, (i) there will be no limitation on the percentage of the Partnership's portfolio that may be carried in Side Pocket Accounts; and (ii) any investment made by Series 1 into the series of the PE Portfolio Fund that corresponds to the latter fund's investment made in the Highland Transaction (if any) may be held in a Side Pocket Account indefinitely. In addition, because of the absence of any trading market Illiquid Investments, the Partnership may take longer to liquidate these positions than would be the case for publicly traded securities. Each of the foregoing may impact a Limited Partner's ability to withdraw.

Concentration of Investments. The Investment Manager implements its investment program in a manner which, in light of investment considerations, market risks and other factors, it believes will provide the best opportunity for attractive risk-adjusted returns in the value of the Partnership's assets. The Partnership Agreement does not formally limit the amount of the Partnership's assets that may be invested in a single company, security, country, industry, sector or asset class. In addition, the Partnership Agreement does not limit the amount of the Partnership's assets that may be invested in a single Portfolio Fund. The concentration of the Partnership's portfolio in any manner described above would subject the Partnership to a greater degree of risk with respect to the failure of one or a few investments, or with respect to economic downturns in relation to an individual industry or sector, or single company, security, country, industry, sector or asset class. See "—Regulatory and Tax Risks—Diversification" herein.

Operating Deficits. The expenses of operating the Partnership (including the Management Fee) may exceed its income, thereby requiring that the difference be paid out of the Partnership's capital, reducing the Partnership's investments and potential for profitability. In addition to the Partnership's own operating expenses, the Partnership will also bear its pro rata share of the operating expenses of the relevant Portfolio Fund. As such, the Partnership is subject to layering of operating expenses due to the expenses charged by the managers and the Portfolio Funds.

No Distributions. The General Partner does not intend to make distributions to the Limited Partners, but intends instead to reinvest substantially all Partnership income and gain, if any. Cash that might otherwise be available for distribution will also be reduced by payment of Partnership obligations, payment of Partnership expenses (including fees payable and expense reimbursements to the General Partner) and establishment of appropriate reserves. As a result, if the Partnership is profitable, Limited Partners in all likelihood will be credited with Partnership net income, and will incur the consequent income tax liability (to the extent that they are subject to income tax), even though Limited Partners receive little or no Partnership distributions. In addition, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein, the General Partner may limit withdrawals in order to ensure that the Partnership meets the diversification requirements applicable to insurance-dedicated investment funds.

Investment Expenses. The investment expenses (e.g., expenses related to the investment and custody of the Partnership's assets, such as brokerage commissions, custodial fees and other trading and investment charges and fees) as well as other Partnership fees may, in the aggregate, constitute a high percentage relative to other investment entities. The Partnership will bear these costs regardless of its profitability.

Cross-Series Liability. Section 17-218 of the Delaware Act provides that limited partnerships can be established in separate series in a manner that the liabilities and obligations incurred with respect to any series are only enforceable against the assets of such series, and not against the assets of the limited partnership generally or any other series. The relevant provisions of the Delaware Act provide the legal requirements for how limited partnerships can be established and operated to maintain this segregation. The statute includes such requirements as the maintenance of separate books and records for each series, and separation of the assets of each series from other series. Despite these statutory provisions, there may be instances where the assets of a particular Series may be exposed to the liabilities of one or more other Series. For example, there may be certain counterparties which resist entering into a contract with a particular Series and insist that one or more other Series, or the Partnership itself acting on behalf of the Series together, enter into such contract.

Supervision of Trading Operations. The Investment Manager, with assistance from its brokerage and clearing firms, intends to supervise and monitor trading activity in the Partnership's account to ensure compliance with the Partnership's objectives. Despite the Investment Manager's efforts, however, there is a risk that unauthorized or otherwise inappropriate trading activity may occur in the Partnership account.

Impact of Side Letters. The Partnership, the General Partner and/or the Investment

Manager may from time to time enter into Side Letters with one or more Limited Partners that provide such Limited Partner(s) with additional and/or different rights (including, without limitation, with respect to access to information, minimum investment amounts and liquidity terms) than such Limited Partner(s) have pursuant to this Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement. Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager will be required to notify any or all of the other Limited Partners of any such written agreements or any of the rights and/or terms or provisions thereof, nor will the General Partner or the Investment Manager be required to offer such additional and/or different rights and/or terms to any or all of the other Limited Partners. Specifically, certain Insurance Company Limited Partners may have additional withdrawal rights not offered to other Limited Partners. The other Limited Partners will have no recourse against the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager and/or any of their respective affiliates in the event that certain Limited Partners receive additional and/or different rights and/or terms as a result of such Side Letters.

Broad Discretionary Power to Choose Investments and Strategies. The Investment Management Agreement gives the Investment Manager broad discretionary power to decide what investments the Partnership will make and what strategies it will use. While the Investment Manager currently intends to use the strategies described in "INVESTMENT PROGRAM", it is not obligated to do so, and it may choose any other investments and strategies that it believes are advisable.

Limitation of Liability and Indemnification of the General Partner, the Investment Manager and Affiliates. The Partnership Agreement provides that none of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates will be liable to the Partnership or the Limited Partners for any action or inaction in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership unless such action or inaction is determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Partnership (but not the Limited Partners individually) is obligated to indemnify the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates (which, for purposes of this indemnity, shall include fund counsel (except for legal malpractice)) from and against any and all claims, liabilities, obligations, judgments, suits, proceedings, actions, demands, losses, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees and other expenses of litigation), damages, penalties or interest, as a result of any claim or legal proceeding (made or threatened) related to any action or inaction by any of them in connection with the business and affairs of the Partnership (including the settlement or appeal of any such claim or legal proceeding); provided that such indemnity will not extend to conduct determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to constitute gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Investment Management Agreement also provides similar protections to the Investment Manager. Therefore, a Limited Partner may have a more limited right of action against the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates than a Limited Partner would have had absent these provisions in the Partnership Agreement and the Investment Management Agreement. It is the policy of the SEC that indemnification for violations of securities laws is against public policy and therefore unenforceable.

No Minimum Size of Partnership. The Partnership may begin or continue operations without attaining or maintaining any particular level of capitalization. At low asset levels, the Partnership may be unable to make its investments as fully as would otherwise be desirable or to take advantage of potential economies of scale, including the ability to obtain the most timely and valuable research and trading information from securities brokers. It is possible that even if the Partnership operates for a period with substantial capital, investors' withdrawals could diminish the Partnership assets to a level that does not permit the most efficient and effective implementation of the Partnership's investment program. As a result of losses or withdrawals, the Partnership may not have sufficient capital to diversify its investments to the extent desired or currently contemplated by the Investment Manager.

Portfolio Valuation. Valuation of the Partnership's portfolio, which will affect the amount of the Management Fee, involves uncertainties and determinations based on judgments.

Third-party pricing information may, at times, not be available regarding certain of the Partnership's investments. A disruption in the secondary markets for the Partnership's investments may limit the ability of the Partnership to obtain accurate market quotations for purposes of valuing its investments. In addition, material events occurring after the close of a principal market upon which a portion of the investments of the Partnership are traded may require it to make a determination of the effect of a material event on the value of the investments traded on the market for purposes of determining the value of the Partnership's investments on a valuation date. Further, because of the overall size and concentrations in particular markets and maturities of positions that may be held by the Partnership from time to time, the liquidation values of the Partnership's securities and other investments may differ significantly from the interim valuations of these investments derived from the valuation methods described herein. Moreover, because of the inherent uncertainty of valuing an illiquid security, the quoted valuation may be higher than the actual final liquidation value, and these differences could be material. If the Partnership's valuation should prove to be incorrect, the value of the Partnership's investments could be adversely affected.

Liability of a Limited Partner for the Return of Capital Contributions. If the Partnership should become insolvent, Limited Partner may be obligated to return all or a portion of any distributions (including withdrawal proceeds) received from the Partnership in an amount up to its aggregate capital contributions (including any income or gains thereon) to the Partnership in order to pay such Limited Partner's pro rata share of any Partnership liabilities that arose while such Limited Partner held Interests.

Under the Delaware Act, when a Limited Partner receives a return of all or any part of such Limited Partner's capital contribution, the Limited Partner may be liable to the Partnership for any sum, not in excess of such return of capital (together with interest), if at the time of such distribution the Limited Partner knew that the Partnership was prohibited from making such distribution pursuant to the Delaware Act.

Delayed Schedule K-1s. The General Partner will endeavor to provide a Schedule K-1 to each Limited Partner for any given calendar year prior to April 15 of the following year. In addition, the Partnership will first have to receive a Schedule K-1 from each Portfolio Fund. In the event that the Schedule K-1 is not available by such date, a Limited Partner may have to request an extension of time to file or may have to pay taxes based on an estimated amount.

Lack of Insurance. The assets of the Partnership are not insured by any government or private insurer, except to the extent portions may be deposited in bank accounts insured by the United States Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or with brokers insured by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation and such deposits and securities are subject to such insurance coverage (which, in any event, is limited in amount). Therefore, in the event of the insolvency of a depository or custodian, the Partnership may be unable to recover all of its funds or the value of its securities so deposited.

Forward-Looking Statements; Opinions. Statements contained in this Memorandum that are not historical facts are based on current expectations, estimates, projections, opinions and/or beliefs of the Partnership. Such statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors, and undue reliance should not be placed thereon. Moreover, certain information contained in this Memorandum constitutes "forward-looking" statements, which can be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology, such as "may", "will", "seek", "should", "expect", "anticipate", "project", "estimate", "intend", "continue" or "believe" or the negatives thereof or other variations thereon or comparable terminology. Due to various risks and uncertainties, including those set forth herein, actual events or results or the actual performance of the Partnership may differ materially from those reflected or contemplated in such forward-looking statements.

MARKET RISKS

General

Competition Generally. The securities industry and the varied strategies and techniques to be engaged in by the Investment Manager are extremely competitive and each involves a degree of risk. The Partnership will compete with firms, including many of the larger securities and investment banking firms, which have substantially greater financial resources and research staffs. Further, lower fees for comparable services may be available from these or other firms.

Market Volatility. The profitability of the Partnership substantially depends upon the Investment Manager correctly assessing the future price movements of bonds, stocks, options on stocks, and other financial instruments, and the movements of interest rates. The Partnership cannot guarantee that the Investment Manager will be successful in accurately predicting those prices and interest rate movements.

Partnership's Investment Activities. The Partnership's investment activities involve a significant degree of risk. The performance of any investment is subject to numerous factors which are neither within the control of nor predictable by the Investment Manager. Such factors include a wide range of economic, political, competitive, technological and other conditions (including natural disasters, acts of terrorism and war) that may affect investments in general or specific industries or companies. The securities markets may be volatile, which may adversely affect the ability of the Partnership to realize profits. As a result of the nature of the Partnership's investing activities, it is possible that the Partnership's financial performance may fluctuate substantially over time and from period to period.

Terrorist Actions. There is a risk of terrorist attacks on the United States and elsewhere causing significant loss of life and property damage and disruptions in the global market. Economic and diplomatic sanctions may be in place or imposed on certain states and military action may be commenced. The impact of such events is unclear, but could have a material effect on general economic conditions and market liquidity.

Unforeseen Events. The Partnership may be adversely affected by unforeseen events involving such matters as changes in interest rates or the credit status of an issuer, forced withdrawals of securities or acquisition proposals, break-up of planned mergers, unexpected changes in relative value, short squeezes, inability to short stock or changes in tax treatment.

Potential Cybersecurity Breaches and Identity Theft. The Investment Manager relies, to a certain extent, on the use of information technology. The Investment Manager's information and technology systems may be vulnerable to damage and/or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and security breaches, usage errors by its professionals, power outages, and/or catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and earthquakes. Although the Investment Manager has implemented various measures to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time and/or cease to function properly, the Investment Manager and/or the Partnership may have to make a significant investment to fix or replace them. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the Investment Manager's and/or the Partnership's operations and may result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information relating to investors (and the beneficial owners of investors). Such a failure could harm the Investment Manager's and/or the Partnership's reputation, subject any such entity and their respective affiliates to legal claims and/or otherwise affect their business and financial performance.

Long-Biased Investment Program. The Investment Manager expects that its strategy with respect to the Partnership will have a long bias. Therefore, any decline in the overall market may result in a decline in the value of the Partnership's assets.

Market Liquidity and Leverage. The Partnership may be adversely affected by a decrease in market liquidity for the instruments in which it invests which may impair the Partnership's ability to adjust its positions. The size of the Partnership's positions may magnify the effect of a decrease in market liquidity for such instruments. Changes in overall market leverage, deleveraging as a consequence of a decision by the brokers and/or custodians, or other counterparties with which the Partnership enters into repurchase/reverse repurchase agreements or derivative transactions, to reduce the level of leverage available, or the liquidation by other market participants of the same or similar positions, may also adversely affect the Partnership's portfolio.

Material Non-Public Information. By reason of their responsibilities in connection with other activities of the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates, the Principal or employees of the Investment Manager and/or its affiliates may acquire confidential or material non-public information or be restricted from initiating transactions in certain securities. The Partnership will not be free to act upon any such information. Due to these restrictions, the Partnership may not be able to initiate a transaction that it otherwise might have initiated and may not be able to sell an investment that it otherwise might have sold.

Accuracy of Public Information. The Investment Manager may select investments for the Partnership, in part, on the basis of information and data filed by issuers with various government regulators or made directly available to the Investment Manager by the issuers or through sources other than the issuers. Although the Investment Manager evaluates certain such information and data and sometimes seeks independent corroboration when the Investment Manager considers it is appropriate and when it is reasonably available, the Investment Manager is not in a position to confirm the completeness, genuineness or accuracy of such information and data, and in some cases, complete and accurate information is not available. Investments may not perform as expected if information is inaccurate.

Directorships on Boards of Portfolio Companies. The principals and other members and employees of the Investment Manager or its designees may serve as directors of companies the securities of which are purchased or sold on behalf of the Partnership and may be compensated for such service. In the event that material non-public information obtained with respect to such companies becomes subject to trading restrictions pursuant to the internal trading policies of such companies or as a result of applicable law or regulations, the Partnership may be prohibited for a period of time from purchasing or selling the securities of such companies, which prohibition may have an adverse effect on the Partnership.

Short-Swing Liability and Other Limitations. From time to time, the Partnership, acting alone or as part of a group, may acquire beneficial ownership of more than 10% of a certain class of securities of a public company, or may place a director on the board of directors of such a company. As a result, under Section 16 of the Exchange Act, the Partnership may be subject to certain additional reporting requirements and may be required to disgorge certain short-swing profits arising from purchases and sales of such securities. In addition, in such circumstances the Partnership will be prohibited from entering into a short position in such issuer's securities, and therefore limited in its ability to hedge such investments.

Disruptions or Inability to Trade Due to a Failure to Receive Timely and Accurate Market Data from Third-Party Vendors. The Investment Manager's strategy may depend on the receipt of timely and accurate market data from third-party vendors. Any failure to receive such data in a timely manner or the receipt of inaccurate data for any reason could disrupt and adversely affect the Partnership's trading until such failure or inaccuracy is corrected.

Use of Automated Order Routing and Execution Systems Generally. The Investment Manager may use automated order routing and execution systems in its trading. Such systems are typically provided on an "as is" basis. Such systems may experience technical difficulties which may render them temporarily unavailable. In addition, such systems may fail to properly perform. Such failures may result in losses to the Partnership, for which losses the providers of such services have disclaimed all liability. In an effort to mitigate such risks, the Investment Manager intends to closely monitor trades executed through automated order routing and execution systems and the operation of the systems themselves.

Electronic Trading Facilities. The Partnership may make use of electronic trading facilities (including ECNs), which are generally supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. Trading on an electronic trading system (including an ECN) may differ not only from trading in an open-outcry market or telephonic market but also from trading on other electronic trading systems. The Partnership, in undertaking transactions on an electronic trading system, will be exposed to risk associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that the Partnership's order is either not executed according to its instructions or is not executed at all. The Partnership's ability to limit or recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by, without limitation, foreign or domestic law or regulation, the Partnership's own or its broker's internet service provider, other systems providers, market factors, foreign or domestic banking or other market regulations and/or telephonic or other communications providers, foreign or domestic.

Technology Risk. The Investment Manager's investment strategy may rely on the use of proprietary and non-proprietary software, data and intellectual property. Any such reliance on this technology and data is subject to a number of important risks. First, the Partnership may be severely and adversely affected by the malfunction of the technology and/or data feed. For example, an unforeseeable software or hardware malfunction could occur, as a result of a virus or other outside force, or as result of a design flaw in the Partnership's system or in its continued implementation. In the past, occurrences of this nature to other funds have sometimes resulted in dramatically negative consequences for the portfolio of the related fund. In addition, changes in the market for publicly available data or in regulatory reporting requirements could cause a severe diminution in the data available for the technology to operate as designed. Such events can also have dramatically negative consequences for the Partnership. Furthermore, if any of the Partnership's software, hardware, data and/or other intellectual property is found to infringe on the rights of any third party, the Partnership could be severely and adversely affected.

Trading Errors. The Investment Manager's computerized trading systems rely on the ability of the Investment Manager's personnel to accurately process such systems' outputs and to use the proper trading orders, including stop-loss or limit orders, to execute the transactions called for by the systems. In addition, the Investment Manager relies on its staff to properly operate and maintain the computer and communication systems upon which the trading systems rely. The Investment Manager's systems are accordingly subject to human errors, including the failure to implement, or the inaccurate implementation of any of the Investment Manager's systems, in addition to errors in properly executing transactions. This could cause substantial losses on transactions, and any such losses could substantially and adversely affect the performance of the Partnership. See "BROKERAGE PRACTICES–Trade Error Policy" herein.

Co-Investments with Third Parties. The Partnership may co-invest with third parties through joint ventures or other entities. Such investments may involve risks in connection with such third- party involvement, including the possibility that a third-party co-venturer may have financial difficulties resulting in a negative impact on such investment, economic or business interests or goals that are inconsistent with those of the Partnership or be in a position to take (or block) action in a manner contrary to the Partnership's investment objectives. In those circumstances where such third parties involve a management group, such third parties may enter into compensation arrangements relating to such investments, including incentive compensation arrangements. Such compensation arrangements will reduce the returns to participants in the investments.

Other Investment Vehicles; Limited Recourse. The Investment Manager may allocate a portion of the Partnership's assets to pooled investment vehicles that may be managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates or unaffiliated managers. Such investment vehicles may trade wholly-independently of one another and may at times hold economically offsetting positions. To the extent that such investment vehicles do, in fact, hold such positions, the Partnership, considered as a whole, may not achieve any gain or loss despite incurring expenses. Additionally, a creditor having a claim that relates to a particular investment held by any such investment vehicle may be able to satisfy such claim against all assets of such investment vehicle, without regard to the participation rights of the Partnership and other investors of such investment vehicle in the assets of such investment vehicle.

Since the Partnership may not have full transparency with respect to the trading activities of such investment vehicles, it may be limited in its ability to hedge its exposure or to prevent concentration of its assets within the same issuer, asset or asset class, industry, section, strategy, currency, country or geographic region. Further, the Investment Manager may be limited with respect to its ability to monitor unaffiliated managers, including their adherence to their respective trading and risk guidelines (if such guidelines exist). Even in the event that such information may be available to the Partnership, the Partnership's investment in such investment vehicles may be "locked up" and subject to limitations on withdrawals, and in light of the broad exculpation and indemnification provisions typically contained in the governing documents of such investment vehicles, may have limited recourse against the managers of such investment vehicles.

Risks Associated with ETFs. The Partnership may invest in ETFs. ETFs represent an interest in a passively managed portfolio of securities and financial instruments selected to replicate a securities or financial instruments index. Unlike open-end mutual funds, the shares of ETFs are not purchased and redeemed by investors directly with the ETF, but instead are purchased and sold through broker-dealers in transactions on an exchange. Because ETF shares are traded on an exchange, they may trade at a discount from or a premium to the net asset value per share of the underlying portfolio of securities or financial instruments. In addition to bearing the risks related to investments in securities or financial instruments, investors in ETFs intended to replicate an index bear the risk that the ETFs performance may not correctly replicate the performance of the index. Investors in ETFs, closed-end funds and other investment companies bear a proportionate share of the expenses of those funds, including management fees, custodial and accounting costs, and other expenses. As such, the Partnership is subject to layering of such fees. Trading in ETF and closed-end fund shares also entails payment of brokerage commissions and other transaction costs.

Illiquid Securities. From time to time, the Partnership may invest in financial instruments that are not publicly traded. The Partnership may also invest in securities and other financial instruments that trade regularly but may be only thinly traded, either periodically or on an on-going basis. The Partnership may not be able to readily dispose of such financial instruments and, in some cases, may be contractually prohibited from disposing of such financial instruments for a specified period of time. Accordingly, the Partnership may be forced to sell its more liquid positions at a disadvantageous time, resulting in a greater percentage of the portfolio consisting of illiquid securities. In addition, the market prices, if any, for such financial instruments tend to be volatile, and the Partnership may not be able to sell them when it desires to do so or to realize what it perceives to be their fair value in the event of a sale. The sale of illiquid securities also often requires more time and results in higher brokerage charges or dealer discounts and other selling expenses than does the sale of securities eligible for trading on national securities exchanges or in the over-the-counter markets. Furthermore, there may be limited information available about the assets of such issuers of the financial instruments which may make valuation of such financial instruments difficult or uncertain. It also should be noted that, even those markets which the Investment Manager expects to be liquid can experience periods, possibly extended periods, of illiquidity.

Investments in Securities and Other Assets Believed to Be Undervalued. The Investment Manager's investment program contemplates that a portion of the Partnership's portfolio may be invested in securities and other assets that the Investment Manager believes to be undervalued. The identification of such investment opportunities is a difficult task, and there are no assurances that such opportunities will be successfully recognized or acquired. While such investments offer the opportunities for above-average capital appreciation, they also involve a high degree of financial risk and can result in substantial losses. Returns generated from the Partnership's investments may not adequately compensate for the business and financial risks assumed. The current economic conditions and any future major economic recession can severely disrupt the markets for such investments and significantly impact their value. In addition, any such economic downturn can adversely affect the ability of the issuers of such obligations to repay principal and pay interest thereon and increase the incidence of default for such securities. Additionally, there can be no assurance that other investors will ever come to realize the value of some of these investments, and that they will ever increase in price. Furthermore, the Partnership may be forced to hold such investments for a substantial period of time before realizing their anticipated value. During this period, a portion of the Partnership's funds would be committed to the investments made, thus possibly preventing the Partnership from investing in other opportunities.

Short Sales. The Investment Manager's investment program contemplates that a portion of the Partnership's portfolio may be invested in selling securities short. Although the Investment Manager may sell short a variety of assets, it expects most short trades to be in equity securities. Short selling involves the sale of a security that the Partnership does not own and must borrow in order to make delivery in the hope of purchasing the same security at a later date at a lower price. In order to make delivery to the purchaser, the Partnership must borrow securities from a third-party lender. The Partnership subsequently returns the borrowed securities to the lender by delivering to the lender the securities it receives in the transaction or by purchasing securities in the open market. The Partnership must generally pledge cash with the lender equal to the market price of the borrowed securities. This deposit may be increased or decreased in accordance with changes in the market price of the borrowed securities. During the period in which the securities are borrowed, the lender typically retains its right to receive interest and dividends accruing to the securities. In exchange, in addition to lending the securities, the lender generally pays the Partnership a fee for the use of the Partnership's cash. This fee is based on prevailing interest rates, the availability of the particular security for borrowing and other market factors.

Theoretically, securities sold short are subject to unlimited risk of loss because there is no limit on the price that a security may appreciate before the short position is closed. In addition, the supply of securities that can be borrowed fluctuates from time to time. The Partnership may be subject to substantial losses if a security lender demands return of the lent securities and an alternative lending source cannot be found.

Small Companies. The Investment Manager may invest a portion of the Partnership's assets in small and/or unseasoned companies with small market capitalizations. While smaller companies generally have potential for rapid growth, they often involve higher risks because they may lack the management experience, financial resources, product diversification and competitive strength of larger companies. In addition, in many instances, the frequency and volume of their trading may be substantially less than is typical of larger companies. As a result, the securities of smaller companies may be subject to wider price fluctuations. When making large sales, the Partnership may have to sell portfolio holdings at discounts from quoted prices or may have to make a series of small sales over an extended period of time due to the lower trading volume of smaller company securities.

Leverage. When deemed appropriate by the Investment Manager and subject to applicable regulations, the Partnership will incur leverage in its investment program, whether directly through the use of borrowed funds, or indirectly through investment in certain types of financial instruments with inherent leverage, such as puts, calls and warrants, which may be purchased for a fraction of the price of the underlying securities while giving the purchaser the full benefit of movement in the market price of those underlying securities. While such strategies and techniques increase the opportunity to achieve higher returns on the amounts invested, they also increase the risk of loss. To the extent that the Partnership purchases securities with borrowed funds, its net assets will tend to increase or decrease at a greater rate than if borrowed funds are not used. The level of interest rates generally, and the rates at which such funds may be borrowed in particular, could affect the operating results of the Partnership. If the interest expense on this leverage were to exceed the net return on the investments made with borrowed funds, the Partnership's use of leverage would result in a lower rate of return than if the Partnership were not leveraged.

If the amount of leverage which the Partnership may have outstanding at any one time is large in relation to its capital, fluctuations in the market value of the Partnership's portfolio will have disproportionately large effects in relation to the Partnership's capital and the possibilities for profit and the risk of loss will therefore be increased. Any investment gains made with the additional leverage will generally cause the Net Asset Value of the Partnership to rise more rapidly than would otherwise be the case. Conversely, if the investment performance of the leveraged capital fails to cover its cost to the Partnership, the Net Asset Value of the Partnership will generally decline faster than would otherwise be the case.

Certain of the Partnership's trading and investment activities in securities and other financial instruments may be subject to Federal Reserve Board margin requirements, which are computed each day. When the market value of a particular open position changes to a point where the margin on deposit does not satisfy maintenance margin requirements, a "margin call" on the customer is made. If the customer does not deposit additional funds with the broker to meet the margin call within a reasonable time, the customer's position may be closed out. In the event of a precipitous drop in the value of the assets managed by the Partnership, the Partnership might not be able to liquidate assets quickly enough to pay off the margin debt and might suffer mandatory liquidation of positions in a declining market at relatively low prices, incurring substantial losses. With respect to the Partnership's trading activities, the Partnership, and not the Limited Partners personally, will be subject to margin calls.

Overall, the use of leverage, while providing the opportunity for a higher return on investments, also increases the volatility of such investments and the risk of loss.

Options and Other Derivative Instruments. The Investment Manager may invest, from time to time, a portion of the Partnership's assets in options and derivative instruments, including buying and writing puts and calls on some of the securities held by the Partnership. The prices of many derivative instruments, including many options and swaps, are highly volatile. The value of options and swap agreements depend primarily upon the price of the securities, indexes, currencies or other instruments underlying them. Price movements of options contracts and payments pursuant to swap agreements are also influenced by, among other things, interest rates, changing supply and demand relationships, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies of governments, and national and international political and economic events and policies. The Partnership is also subject to the risk of the failure of any of the exchanges on which its positions trade or of their clearinghouses or of counterparties. The cost of options is related, in part, to the degree of volatility of the underlying securities, currencies or other assets. Accordingly, options on highly volatile securities, currencies or other assets may be more expensive than options on other investments.

Put options and call options typically have similar structural characteristics and operational mechanics regardless of the underlying instrument or asset on which they are purchased or sold. A put option gives the purchaser of the option, upon payment of a premium, the right to sell, and the writer the obligation to buy, the underlying security, index, currency or other instrument or asset at the exercise price. A call option, upon payment of a premium, gives the purchaser of the option the right to buy, and the seller the obligation to sell, the underlying instrument or asset at the exercise price.

If a put or call option purchased by the Partnership were permitted to expire without being sold or exercised, the Partnership would lose the entire premium it paid for the option. The risk involved in writing a put option is that there could be a decrease in the market value of the underlying instrument or asset caused by rising interest rates or other factors. If this occurred, the option could be exercised and the underlying instrument or asset would then be sold to the Partnership at a higher price than its current market value. The risk involved in writing a call option is that there could be an increase in the market value of the underlying instrument or asset caused by declining interest rates or other factors. If this occurred, the option could be exercised and the underlying instrument or asset would then be sold by the Partnership at a lower price than its current market value.

Purchasing and writing put and call options and, in particular, writing "uncovered" options are highly specialized activities and entail greater than ordinary investment risks. In particular, the writer of an uncovered call option assumes the risk of a theoretically unlimited increase in the market price of the underlying instrument or asset above the exercise price of the option. This risk is enhanced if the instrument or asset being sold short is highly volatile and there is a significant outstanding short interest. These conditions exist in the stocks of many companies. The instrument or asset necessary to satisfy the exercise of the call option may be unavailable for purchase except at much higher prices. Purchasing instruments or assets to satisfy the exercise of the call option can itself cause the price of the instruments or assets to rise further, sometimes by a significant amount, thereby exacerbating the loss. Accordingly, the sale of an uncovered call option could result in a loss by the Partnership of all or a substantial portion of its assets.

Swaps and certain options and other custom instruments are subject to the risk of non-performance by the counterparty, including risks relating to the financial soundness and creditworthiness of the counterparty.

Hedging Transactions. Investments in financial instruments such as options and interest rate swaps, caps and floors, and other derivatives are commonly utilized by investment funds to hedge against fluctuations in the relative values of its portfolio positions as a result of changes in currency exchange rates, interest rates and/or the equity markets or sectors thereof. Any hedging against a decline in the value of portfolio positions does not eliminate fluctuations in the values of portfolio positions or prevent losses if the values of such positions decline, but establishes other positions designed to gain from those same developments, thus moderating the decline in the portfolio positions' value. Such hedging transactions also limit the opportunity for gain if the value of the portfolio positions should increase. Moreover, it may not be possible for the Partnership to hedge against a fluctuation at a price sufficient to protect the Partnership's assets from the decline in value of the portfolio positions anticipated as a result of such fluctuations. For example, the cost of options is related, in part, to the degree of volatility of the underlying instruments or assets. Accordingly, options on highly volatile instruments or assets may be more expensive than options on other instruments or assets and of limited utility in hedging against fluctuations in their prices.

The Investment Manager is not obligated to establish hedges for portfolio positions and may not do so. To the extent that hedges are implemented, their success is dependent on the Investment Manager's ability to correctly predict movements in the direction of currency and interest rates and the equity markets or sectors thereof.

Market or Interest Rate Risk. The Partnership may, from time to time, invest in fixed income securities and instruments. The price of most fixed income securities move in the opposite direction of the change in interest rates. For example, as interest rates rise, the prices of fixed income securities fall. If the Partnership holds a fixed income security to maturity, the change in its price before maturity may have little impact on the Partnership's performance. However, if the Partnership has to sell the fixed income security before the maturity date, an increase in interest rates could result in a loss to the Partnership.

Callable Securities. Many bonds, including agency, corporate and municipal bonds, and mortgage-backed securities, sometimes contain a provision that allows the issuer to "call" (i.e., redeem) all or part of the issue before the bond's maturity date. The issuer usually retains this right to refinance the bond in the future if market interest rates decline below the coupon rate on the outstanding debt security. From the investor's perspective, there are three disadvantages to the call provision. First, the cash flow pattern of a callable bond is not known with certainty. Second, because the issuer will call the bonds when interest rates have dropped, the Partnership is exposed to reinvestment rate risk – the Partnership will have to reinvest the proceeds received when the bond is called at lower interest rates. Finally, the capital appreciation potential of a bond will be reduced because the price of a callable bond may not rise much above the price at which the issuer may call the bond.

Maturity Risk. In certain situations, the Partnership may purchase a bond of a given maturity as an alternative to another bond of a different maturity. Ordinarily, under these circumstances, the Partnership will make an adjustment to account for the interest rate risk differential in the two bonds. This adjustment, however, makes an assumption about how the interest rates at different maturities will move. To the extent that the yield movements deviate from this assumption, there is a yield-curve or maturity risk. Another situation where yield-curve risk should be considered is in the analysis of bond swap transactions where the potential incremental returns are dependent entirely on the parallel shift assumption for the yield curve.

Inflation Risk. Inflation risk results from the variation in the value of cash flows from a fixed income security or instrument due to inflation, as measured in terms of purchasing power. For example, if the Partnership purchases a 5-year bond with a coupon rate of 5%, but the rate of inflation is 6%, then the purchasing power of the cash flow has declined. For all but inflation-linked bonds, adjustable bonds or floating rate bonds, the Partnership is exposed to inflation risk because the interest rate the issuer promises to make is fixed for the life of the security. To the extent that interest rates reflect the expected inflation rate, floating rate bonds have a lower level of inflation risk.

Downgrades in Fixed Income Debt Securities. Unless required by applicable law, the Partnership is not required to sell or dispose of any debt security that either loses its rating or has its rating reduced after the Partnership purchases such security.

Investments in Non-U.S. Investments. From time to time, the Investment Manager may invest and trade a portion of the Partnership's assets in non-U.S. securities and other assets (through ADRs and otherwise), which will give rise to risks relating to political, social and economic developments abroad, as well as risks resulting from the differences between the regulations to which U.S. and non-U.S. issuers and markets are subject. Such risks may include:

- Political or social instability, the seizure by foreign governments of company assets, acts of war or terrorism, withholding taxes on dividends and interest, high or confiscatory tax levels, and limitations on the use or transfer of portfolio assets.
- Enforcing legal rights in some foreign countries is difficult, costly and slow, and there are sometimes special problems enforcing claims against foreign governments.
- Non-U.S. securities and other assets often trade in currencies other than the U.S. dollar, and the Partnership may directly hold foreign currencies and purchase and sell foreign currencies through forward exchange contracts. Changes in currency exchange rates will affect the Partnership's Net Asset Value, the value of dividends and interest earned, and gains and losses realized on the sale of investments. An increase in the strength of the U.S. dollar relative to these other currencies may cause the value of the Partnership's investments to decline. Some foreign currencies are particularly volatile. Foreign governments may intervene in the currency markets, causing a decline in value or liquidity of the Partnership's foreign currency holdings. If the Partnership enters into forward foreign currency exchange contracts for hedging purposes, it may lose the benefits of advantageous changes in exchange rates. On the other hand, if the Partnership enters forward contracts for the purpose of increasing return, it may sustain losses.
- Non-U.S. securities and other markets may be less liquid, more volatile and less closely supervised by the government than in the United States. Foreign countries often lack uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, and there may be less public information about the operations of issuers in such markets.

Risks Associated with ADRs. The Partnership may purchase ADRs, which are certificates evidencing ownership of shares of a non-U.S. issuer, acting as alternatives to directly purchasing the underlying non-U.S. securities in their national markets and currencies. Such investments are subject to many of the risks associated with investing directly in non-U.S. securities. These risks include the political and economic risks of the underlying issuer's country, as well as, in the case of depositary receipts traded on non-U.S. markets, foreign exchange risk. ADRs may be sponsored or unsponsored. Unsponsored ADRs are established without the participation of the issuer. In addition, unsponsored ADRs may involve higher expenses, may not carry pass-through voting or other shareholder rights, and may be less liquid. The performance of ADRs may be different from the performance of the ordinary shares of the non-U.S. issuers to which they relate.

Emerging Markets. The Partnership may invest a portion of its assets in investments related to emerging market countries. The securities markets of emerging market countries as a whole have been volatile and the loans and securities of issuers in emerging markets tend to be subject to abrupt or erratic price movements. Investing a significant portion of the Partnership's assets in issuers in emerging markets will make the Partnership susceptible to a greater degree than otherwise would be the case to factors affecting emerging markets in general and issuers in emerging markets included in the Partnership's portfolio in particular, and may increase the volatility of the value of the Partnership's portfolio investments. The economies of these markets may differ significantly from the economies of certain developed countries in such respects as gross domestic product or gross national product, rate of inflation, currency depreciation, capital reinvestment, resource self-sufficiency, structural unemployment and balance of payments position. In particular, these economies frequently experience high levels of inflation. In addition, such countries may have: (1) restrictive national policies that limit the Partnership's investment opportunities; (2) limited information about their issuers; (3) a general lack of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards, auditing practices and requirements compared to the standards of developed countries; (4) less governmental supervision and regulation of business and industry practices, securities exchanges, brokers and listed companies; (5) economic developments that may be slowed or reversed by unanticipated political or social events in such countries; and (6) a lack of capital market structure or market-oriented economy.

Systemic and market factors may affect the acquisition, payment for or ownership of investments including: (a) the prevalence of crime and corruption; (b) the inaccuracy or unreliability of business and financial information; (c) the instability or volatility of: (i) banking and financial systems, or the absence or inadequacy of an infrastructure to support such systems, (ii) custody and settlement infrastructure of the market in which such investments are traded and held, and (iii) the acts, omissions and operation of any securities depository; (d) the risk of the bankruptcy or insolvency of banking agents, counterparties to cash and securities transactions, registrars or transfer agents; and (e) the existence of market conditions that prevent the orderly execution or settlement of transactions or that affect the value of assets. Different clearance and settlement procedures may prevent the Partnership from making intended security purchases causing the Partnership to miss attractive investment opportunities, possibly resulting in either losses to or contract claims against the Partnership. The investment markets of many of the countries in which the Partnership may invest may also be smaller, less liquid, and subject to greater price volatility than developed markets. The Partnership's assets may be denominated in a variety of currencies subject to changes in currency exchange rates and in exchange control regulations.

Volatility of Currency Prices. In general, price movements of currencies are difficult to predict accurately because they are influenced by, among other things, changing supply and demand relationships; governmental, trade, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programs and policies; national and international political and economic events; and changes in interest rates. Governments from time to time intervene in certain markets in order to influence prices directly.

Currency Control. It is sometimes the case that governments alter the exchange rate policy of a currency without advance notice, and it may not always be possible to foresee a change in policy.

Exchange Rate Fluctuations. Investments that are denominated in a foreign currency are subject to the risk that the value of a particular currency will change in relation to one or more other currencies. The Partnership intends to value its holdings and to make distributions in U.S. dollars. Thus, changes in currency exchange rates adverse to the U.S. dollar may affect adversely the value of such holdings. Among the factors that may affect currency values are trade balances, the appropriateness of interest rates, the shape of the yield curve, the degree of central bank independence and credibility, differences in relative values of similar assets in different currencies, long-term opportunities for investment and capital appreciation and political developments.

Risks of Trading Futures. The Investment Manager is eligible to trade a limited amount of commodities or financial futures on behalf of the Partnership under a provision in the CEA that provides an exemption from registration as a commodity pool operator. Trading futures is a highly risky strategy. Whenever the Partnership purchases a particular future, there is a possibility that the Partnership may sustain a total loss of its purchase price. The equity values of leveraged positions using futures are, in general, much more volatile than the prices of securities, such as stocks and bonds. As a result, the risk of loss in trading futures is substantially greater than in trading those securities. The prices of futures react strongly to the prices of the underlying commodities. The prices of these underlying products, in turn, rise and fall based on changes in interest rates, international balances of trade, changes in governments, wars, weather events and a host of other factors that are entirely beyond the Investment Manager's control and very difficult (and perhaps impossible) to predict.

Forward Trading. Forward contracts and options thereon, unlike futures contracts, are not traded on exchanges and are not standardized; rather, banks and dealers act as principals in these markets, negotiating each transaction on an individual basis. Forward and "cash" trading is substantially unregulated; there is no limitation on daily price movements and speculative position limits are not applicable. The principals who deal in the forward markets are not required to continue to make markets in the currencies or commodities they trade and these markets can experience periods of illiquidity, sometimes of significant duration. There have been periods during which certain participants in these markets have refused to quote prices for certain currencies or commodities or have quoted prices with an unusually wide spread between the price at which they were prepared to buy and that at which they were prepared to sell. Disruptions can occur in any market traded by the Partnership due to unusual trading volume, political intervention or other factors. The imposition of controls by governmental authorities might also limit such forward trading to less than that which the Investment Manager would otherwise recommend, to the possible detriment of the Partnership. Market illiquidity or disruption could result in major losses to the Partnership.

Over-the-Counter-Trading. Financial instruments that may be purchased or sold by the Partnership may include instruments not traded on an exchange. The risk of nonperformance by the obligor on such an instrument may be greater and the ease with which the Partnership can dispose of or enter into closing transactions with respect to such an instrument may be less than in the case of an exchange-traded instrument. In addition, significant disparities may exist between "bid" and "asked" prices for financial instruments that are not traded on an exchange. Financial instruments not traded on exchanges are also not subject to the same type of government regulation as exchange traded instruments, and many of the protections afforded to participants in a regulated environment may not be available in connection with such transactions.

To the extent that the Partnership engages in these transactions, the Partnership must rely on the creditworthiness of its counterparty. In certain instances, counterparty or credit risk is affected by the lack of a central clearinghouse for foreign exchange trades. To reduce their credit risk exposure, the Partnership may trade in the forward foreign currency market through money center banks and leading brokerage firms.

Position Limits. Position limits imposed by various regulators or regulations may also limit the Partnership's ability to affect desired trades. Position limits are the maximum amounts of gross, net long or net short positions that any one person or entity may own or control in a particular financial instrument. All positions owned or controlled by the same person or entity, even if in different accounts, may be aggregated for purposes of determining whether the applicable position limits have been exceeded. Thus, even if the Partnership does not intend to exceed applicable position limits, it is possible that different accounts managed by the Investment Manager or its affiliates may be aggregated. If at any time positions managed by the Investment Manager were to exceed applicable position limits, the Investment Manager would be required to liquidate positions, which might include positions of the Partnership, to the extent necessary to come within those limits. Further, to avoid exceeding the position limits, the Partnership might have to forego or modify certain of its contemplated trades.

Risk of Default or Bankruptcy of Third Parties. The Partnership may engage in transactions in securities and other financial instruments and assets that involve counterparties. Under certain conditions, the Partnership could suffer losses if a counterparty to a transaction were to default or if the market for certain securities or other financial instruments or assets were to become illiquid. In addition, the Partnership could suffer losses if there were a default or bankruptcy by certain other third parties, including brokerage firms and banks with which the Partnership does business, or to which securities or other financial instruments or assets have been entrusted for custodial purposes.

Custody and Brokerage Risk. There are risks involved in dealing with the custodians or other brokers who settle Partnership trades. The Partnership maintains custody accounts with the Custodian. Although the Investment Manager generally monitors both the Introducing Broker and the Custodian and believes they are appropriate service providers, there is no guarantee that such service providers, or any other introducing broker and/or clearing broker and custodian that the Partnership may use from time to time, will not become bankrupt or insolvent. While both the U.S. Bankruptcy Code, as amended, and the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970 seek to protect customer property in the event of a bankruptcy, insolvency, failure, or liquidation of a broker-dealer, there is no certainty that, in the event of a failure of a broker-dealer that has custody of Partnership assets, the Partnership would not incur losses due to its assets being unavailable for a period of time, the ultimate receipt of less than full recovery of its assets, or both.

The Partnership and/or the Custodian may appoint sub-custodians in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions to hold the assets of the Partnership. The Custodian may not be responsible for cash or assets which are held by sub-custodians in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions, nor for any losses suffered by the Partnership as a result of the bankruptcy or insolvency of any such sub-custodian. The Partnership may therefore have a potential exposure on the default of any sub-custodian and, as a result, many of the protections that would normally be provided to a fund by a custodian may not be available to the Partnership. Under certain circumstances, including certain transactions where the Partnership's assets are pledged as collateral for leverage from a non-broker-dealer custodian or a non-broker-dealer affiliate of the Custodian, or where the Partnership's assets are held at a non-U.S. custodian, the securities and other assets deposited with the custodian or broker may not be clearly identified as being assets of the Partnership and hence the Partnership could be exposed to a credit risk with regard to such parties. Custody services in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions remain undeveloped and, accordingly, there is a transaction and custody risk of dealing in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions. Given the undeveloped state of regulations on custodial activities and bankruptcy, insolvency, or mismanagement in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions, the ability of the Partnership to recover assets held by a sub-custodian in the event of the sub-custodian's bankruptcy or insolvency could be in doubt, as the Partnership may be subject to significantly less favorable laws than many of the protections that would be available under U.S. laws. In addition, there may be practical or time problems associated with enforcing the Partnership's rights to its assets in the case of a bankruptcy or insolvency of any such party.

Temporary Defensive Investments. If warranted under certain economic or market conditions or for other reasons, the Investment Manager may temporarily invest up to 100% of the Partnership's assets outside the scope of its principal investment focus in U.S. government securities, such as Treasury bills, notes and bonds, cash, money-market funds, certificates of deposit, time deposits, bankers' acceptances and other short-term debt instruments bearing a reasonable rate of interest. In such circumstances, the Partnership may not achieve its investment objectives.

Other Instruments. The Partnership may take advantage of opportunities with respect to certain other instruments that are not presently contemplated for use or that are currently not available, but that may be developed, to the extent such opportunities are both consistent with the investment objective of the Partnership and legally permissible. Special risks may apply to instruments that are invested in by the Partnership in the future that cannot be determined at this time or until such instruments are developed or invested in by the Partnership.

Specific Risks Associated with Investing in Bank Loans

You should note that certain of the following risk factors specifically applicable with respect to Bank Loans have been discussed under "—Market Risks—General" above and are included in this sub-section for ease of reference.

Senior Loans Risk. Senior loans are usually rated below investment grade or may also be unrated. As a result, the risks associated with senior loans are similar to the risks of below investment grade fixed income instruments, although senior loans are senior and secured in contrast to other below investment grade fixed income instruments, which are often subordinated or unsecured. Investment in senior loans rated below investment grade is considered speculative because of the credit risk of their issuers. Such companies are more likely than investment grade issuers to default on their payments of interest and principal owed to the Partnership, and such defaults could have a materially adverse effect on the Partnership's performance. An economic downturn would generally lead to a higher non-payment rate, and a senior loan may lose significant market value before a default occurs. Moreover, any specific collateral used to secure a senior loan may decline in value or become illiquid, which would adversely affect the senior loan's value. Senior loans are subject to a number of risks described elsewhere in this Memorandum, including liquidity risk and the risk of investing in below investment grade fixed income instruments.

There may be less readily available and reliable information about most senior loans than is the case for many other types of securities, including securities issued in transactions registered under the Securities Act or registered under the Exchange Act. As a result, the Investment Manager will rely primarily on its own evaluation of a borrower's credit quality rather than on any available independent sources. Therefore, the Partnership will be particularly dependent on the analytical abilities of the Investment Manager.

In general, the secondary trading market for senior loans is not well developed. No active trading market may exist for certain senior loans, which may make it difficult to value them. Illiquidity and adverse market conditions may mean that the Partnership may not be able to sell senior loans quickly or at a fair price. To the extent that a secondary market does exist for certain senior loans the market for them may be subject to irregular trading activity, wide bid/ask spreads and extended trade settlement periods.

Variable Interest Rate Risk. Because senior loans with floating or variable rates reset their interest rates periodically, changes in prevailing interest rates can be expected to cause some fluctuations in the value of the Partnership's investments. Similarly, a sudden and significant increase in market interest rates may cause a decline in the value of the Partnership's investments. In addition, senior loans or similar securities may allow the borrower or issuer to opt between LIBOR-based interest rates and interest rates based on bank prime rates, which may have an impact on value of the Partnership's investments.

Bank Loans. The Partnership's investment program will include investments in significant amounts of Bank Loans and participations. These obligations are subject to unique risks, including: (i) the possible invalidation of an investment transaction as a fraudulent conveyance under relevant creditors' rights laws; (ii) so-called lender-liability claims by the issuer of the obligations; (iii) environmental liabilities that may arise with respect to collateral securing the obligations; and (iv) limitations on the ability of the Partnership to directly enforce its rights with respect to participations. In analyzing each Bank Loan or participation, the Investment Manager compares the relative significance of the risks against the expected benefits of the investment. Successful claims by third parties arising from these and other risks will be borne by the Partnership.

DIP Loans. From time to time, the Partnership may invest in loans to companies that have filed for protection under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code, as amended. DIP loans are typically asset-based, revolving working-capital facilities put into place at the outset of a Chapter 11 bankruptcy to provide both immediate cash as well as ongoing working capital during the reorganization process. Such loans are risky and present significant exposure for default risk to the Partnership.

Adjustments to Terms of Investments. The terms and conditions of loan agreements and related assignments may be amended, modified or waived only by the agreement of the lenders. Generally, any such agreement must include a majority or a super majority (measured by outstanding loans or commitments) or, in certain circumstances, a unanimous vote of the lenders. Consequently, the terms and conditions of the payment obligation arising from loan agreements could be modified, amended or waived in a manner contrary to the preferences of the Partnership if a sufficient number of the other lenders concurred with such modification, amendment or waiver. There can be no assurance that any obligations arising from a loan agreement will maintain the terms and conditions to which the Partnership originally agreed.

The exercise of remedies may also be subject to the vote of a specified percentage of the lenders thereunder. The Investment Manager will have the authority to cause the Partnership to consent to certain amendments, waivers or modifications to the Partnership's investments requested by obligors or the lead agents for loan syndication agreements. The Investment Manager may, in accordance with its investment management standards, cause the Partnership to extend or defer the maturity, adjust the outstanding balance of any investment, reduce or forgive interest or fees, release material collateral or guarantees, or otherwise amend, modify or waive the terms of any related loan agreement, including the payment terms thereunder. The Investment Manager will make such determinations in accordance with its investment management standards. Any amendment, waiver or modification of the terms of an investment could adversely impact the Partnership's investment returns.

Prepayments. Certain of the Partnership's investments may be prepaid more quickly than expected. Prepayment rates are influenced by changes in interest rates and a variety of economic, geographic and other factors beyond the Partnership's control and consequently cannot be predicted with certainty. Early prepayments give rise to increased re-investment risk, as the Partnership might realize excess cash earlier than it expected. If the Partnership is unable to reinvest the principle portion of a prepayment in a new investment with an expected rate of return at least equal to that of the investment repaid, this may reduce the Partnership's net investment income and, consequently, could have an adverse impact on the Partnership's ability to make distributions.

Investments in Loans Secured by Real Estate. While direct real estate investment is not intended to be the focus of the Partnership, it is possible that, from time to time, the Partnership may, as a result of default, foreclosure or otherwise, hold real estate assets. Special risks associated with such investments include changes in the general economic climate or local conditions (such as an oversupply of space or a reduction in demand for space), competition based on rental rates, attractiveness and location of the properties, changes in the financial condition of tenants, and changes in operating costs. Real estate values are also affected by such factors as government regulations (including those governing usage, improvements, zoning and taxes), interest rate levels, the availability of financing, and potential liability under changing environmental and other laws. Of particular concern may be those mortgaged properties which are, or have been, the site of manufacturing, industrial or disposal activity. Such environmental risks may give rise to a diminution in the value of property (including real property securing any portfolio investment) or liability for cleanup costs or other remedial actions, which liability could exceed the value of such property or the principal balance of the related portfolio investment. In certain circumstances, a lender may choose not to foreclose on contaminated property rather than risk incurring liability for remedial actions.

Environmental Hazards. Under environmental laws enacted by the United States and the various states, owners of property may be liable for the cleanup and removal of hazardous substances even where the owner was not responsible for placing the hazardous substances on the property or where the property was contaminated prior to the time the owner took title. The kinds of hazardous substances for which liability may be incurred include, among other things, chemicals and other materials commonly used by small businesses and manufacturing operations. The costs of removal and clean-up of hazardous substances and wastes can be extremely expensive and, in some cases, can exceed the value of a property. If any property acquired by the Partnership through foreclosure or otherwise subsequently were found to have an environmental problem, such acquiring entity could incur substantial costs and suffer a complete loss of its investment in such property as well as of other assets. Similarly, real estate is subject to loss due to so-called "special hazards" (e.g., floods, earthquakes and hurricanes). It may be impractical or impossible to fully insure against such events and, should such an event occur, the Partnership could incur substantial costs and suffer a loss of its investment in such property.

Fraud. Of paramount concern in lending is the possibility of material misrepresentation or omission on the part of the borrower. Such inaccuracy or incompleteness may adversely affect the valuation of the collateral underlying the loans or may adversely affect the ability of the Partnership to perfect or effectuate a lien on the collateral securing the loan. The Partnership will rely upon the accuracy and completeness of representations made by borrowers to the extent reasonable, but cannot guarantee such accuracy or completeness. Under certain circumstances, payments to the Partnership may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance or a preferential payment.

Debt Securities. The Partnership intends to invest in bonds or other fixed income securities, including, without limitation, commercial paper and "higher yielding" (and, therefore, higher risk) debt securities. It is likely that a major economic recession could disrupt severely the market for such securities and may have an adverse impact on the value of such securities. In addition, it is likely that any such economic downturn could adversely affect the ability of the issuers of such securities to repay principal and pay interest thereon and increase the incidence of default for such securities.

Investing in High Yield Securities. The Partnership intends to invest in high-yield securities. Such securities are generally not exchange traded and, as a result, these instruments trade in the over-the-counter marketplace, which is less transparent than the exchange-traded marketplace. In addition, the Partnership will invest in bonds of issuers that do not have publicly traded equity securities, making it more difficult to hedge the risks associated with such investments. High-yield securities face ongoing uncertainties and exposure to adverse business, financial or economic conditions which could lead to the issuer's inability to meet timely interest and principal payments. The market values of certain of these lower- rated and unrated debt securities tend to reflect individual corporate developments to a greater extent than do higher-rated securities which react primarily to fluctuations in the general level of interest rates, and tend to be more sensitive to economic conditions than are higher-rated securities. Companies that issue such securities are often highly leveraged and may not have available to them more traditional methods of financing. It is possible that a major economic recession could disrupt severely the market for such securities and may have an adverse impact on the value of such securities. In addition, it is possible that any such economic downturn could adversely affect the ability of the issuers of such securities to repay principal and pay interest thereon and increase the incidence of default of such securities.

Timing Risk. Many agency, corporate and municipal bonds, and all mortgage-backed securities, contain a provision that allows the issuer to "call" all or part of the issue before the bond's maturity date. The issuer usually retains the right to refinance the bond in the future if market interest rates decline below the coupon rate. There are three disadvantages to the call provision. First, the cash flow pattern of a callable bond is not known with certainty. Second, because the issuer will call the bonds when interest rates have dropped, the Partnership is exposed to reinvestment rate risk, i.e., the Partnership will have to reinvest the proceeds received when the bond is called at lower interest rates. Finally, the capital appreciation potential of a bond will be reduced because the price of a callable bond may not rise much above the price at which the issuer may call the bond.

Maturity Risk. In certain situations, the Partnership may purchase a bond of a given maturity as an alternative to another bond of a different maturity. Ordinarily, under these circumstances, the Partnership will make an adjustment to account for the differential interest rate risks in the two bonds. This adjustment, however, makes an assumption about how the interest rates at different maturities will move. To the extent that the yield movements deviate from this assumption, there is a yield-curve or maturity risk. Another situation where yield-curve risk should be considered is in the analysis of bond swap transactions where the potential incremental returns are dependent entirely on the parallel shift assumption for the yield curve.

Revolving Credit Facilities. From time to time the Partnership may incur contingent liabilities in connection with an investment. For example, the Partnership may purchase from a lender a revolving credit facility that has not yet been fully drawn. If the borrower subsequently draws down on the facility, the Partnership would be obligated to fund the amounts due.

Investments in Stressed Debt. The Partnership is authorized to invest in securities and other obligations of stressed issuers. Stressed issuers are issuers that are not yet deemed distressed or bankrupt and whose debt securities are trading at a discount to par, but not yet at distressed levels. An example would be an issuer that is in technical default of its credit agreement, or undergoing strategic or operational changes, which results in market pricing uncertainty.

Investments in Distressed Securities. The Partnership may invest in securities and obligations of issuers in weak financial condition, experiencing poor operating results, having substantial capital needs or negative net worth, facing special competitive or product obsolescence problems, including companies involved in bankruptcy or other reorganization and liquidation proceedings. These securities are likely to be particularly risky investments although they also may offer the potential for correspondingly high returns. Among the risks inherent in investments in troubled entities is the fact that it frequently may be difficult to obtain information as to the true condition of such issuers. Such investments may also be adversely affected by laws relating to, among other things, fraudulent transfers and other voidable transfers or payments, lender liability and the bankruptcy court's power to disallow, reduce, subordinate or disenfranchise particular claims. Such companies' securities may be considered speculative, and the ability of such companies to pay their debts on schedule could be affected by adverse interest rate movements, changes in the general economic climate, economic factors affecting a particular industry or specific developments within such companies. In addition, there is no minimum credit standard that is a prerequisite to the Partnership's investment in any instrument, and a significant portion of the obligations and securities in which the Partnership invests may be less than investment grade. The level of analytical sophistication, both financial and legal, necessary for successful investment in companies experiencing significant business and financial difficulties is unusually high. There is no assurance that the Investment Manager will correctly evaluate the value of the assets collateralizing the Partnership's loans or the prospects for a successful reorganization or similar action. In any reorganization or liquidation proceeding relating to a company in which the Partnership invests, the Partnership may lose its entire investment, may be required to accept cash or securities with a value less than the Partnership's original investment and/or may be required to accept payment over an extended period of time. Under such circumstances, the returns generated from the Partnership's investments may not compensate the Limited Partners adequately for the risks assumed. In liquidation (both in and out of bankruptcy) and other forms of corporate reorganization, there exists the risk that the reorganization either will be unsuccessful (due to, for example, failure to obtain requisite approvals), will be delayed (for example, until various liabilities, actual or contingent, have been satisfied) or will result in a distribution of cash or a new security the value of which will be less than the purchase price to the Partnership of the security in respect to which such distribution was made.

Troubled Origination. The investments chosen by the Investment Manager may have been originated by financial institutions or other entities that are, or may in the future be, insolvent, in serious financial difficulty, or no longer in existence. As a result, the standards by which such investments were originated, the recourse to the selling institution, or the standards by which such investments are being serviced or operated may be adversely affected.

Issuer Default Risk; Negative Loan Performance. There are varying sources of statistical default and recovery rate data for commercial loans and numerous methods for measuring default and recovery rates. The levels of defaults and delinquencies with respect to loans have been increasing, and slowing economic activity continues to contribute to a decline in overall credit quality. The historical performance of the loan market is not necessarily indicative of its future performance, and there is no way to determine whether such trends in the credit markets will improve or worsen in the future.

A substantial portion of the Partnership's income is expected to be derived, directly or indirectly, from repayments of principal and interest received in respect of debt securities. A wide range of factors may adversely affect an obligor's ability to make repayments, including: adverse changes in the financial condition of such obligor or the industries or regions in which it operates; the obligor's exposure to counterparty risk; systemic risk in the financial system and settlement; changes in law or taxation; changes in governmental regulations or other policies; natural disasters; terrorism; social unrest, civil disturbances; or general economic conditions. Default rates tend to accelerate during economic downturns. A continuing decreased ability of borrowers to obtain refinancing may result in a further economic decline that could delay an economic recovery and cause a further deterioration in loan performance generally.

To the extent that the Partnership invests in debt securities secured by collateral, there can be no assurance that the liquidation of any collateral securing any of the Partnership's investments would satisfy the borrower's obligation in the event of non-payment of scheduled interest or principal payments, or that the collateral could be readily liquidated. In the event of bankruptcy or insolvency of a borrower, the Partnership could experience delays or limitations with respect to its ability to realize the benefits of the collateral securing such investment. The collateral securing an investment may lose all or substantially all of its value in the event of the bankruptcy or insolvency of a borrower.

Any defaults will have a negative impact on the value of the Partnership's investments and may reduce the return that such Partnership receives from its investments in certain circumstances. While some amount of defaults is expected to occur in the Partnership's portfolio, in the event that the Partnership elects to apply leverage to an investment, defaults in or declines in the value of the portfolio investments in excess of these expected amounts may result in breaches of covenants under applicable financing arrangements, triggering credit enhancement requirements or accelerated repayment provisions and, if not cured within the relevant grace periods, permitting the finance provider to enforce its security over all the assets of the Partnership.

In the case of debt ranking equally with the loans or debt securities in which the Partnership invests, the Partnership would have to share on an equal basis any distributions with other creditors holding such debt in the event of an insolvency, liquidation, dissolution, reorganization or bankruptcy of the relevant company's debt securities. Each jurisdiction in which the Partnership invests has its own insolvency laws. As a result, investments in similarly situated companies in different jurisdictions may confer different rights in the event of insolvency.

Nature of Reorganization Proceedings. The Partnership will hold debt of companies and may, under certain circumstances, hold equity of companies as a result of the recapitalization or restructuring of debt obligations. Investments in the debt or equity of companies involved in reorganization proceedings typically entail a number of risks that do not normally apply to investments in financially sound companies. For example, if the Investment Manager's evaluation of the anticipated outcome of a reorganization or the timing of such outcome should prove incorrect, the Partnership could experience losses. A wide variety of considerations make any evaluation of the outcome of an investment in such a company uncertain. Such considerations include, for example, the possibility of litigation between the participants in a reorganization or liquidation proceeding or a requirement to obtain mandatory or discretionary consents from various governmental authorities or others. The uncertainties inherent in evaluating such investments may be increased by legal and practical considerations which limit the access of the Investment Manager to reliable and timely information concerning material developments affecting a company, or which cause lengthy delays in the completion of a reorganization or liquidation proceeding. Competition from other investors may also render it difficult or impossible for the Partnership to achieve intended results or promptly effect transactions.

Insolvency and Enforceability of Security. The Partnership's investments may be secured by mortgages, charges, pledges, liens or other security interests. Depending on the jurisdiction in which such security interests are created, enforcement of such security interests may be a complicated and difficult process. For example, enforcement of security interests in certain jurisdictions may require a court order and a sale of the secured property through public bidding or auction. In addition, some jurisdictions grant courts the power to declare security interest arrangements to be void if they deem the security interest to be excessive.

Risks Associated with Bankruptcy Cases. Many of the events within a bankruptcy case are adversarial and often beyond the control of the creditors. While creditors generally are afforded an opportunity to object to significant actions, there can be no assurance that a bankruptcy court would not approve actions which may be contrary to the interests of the Partnership. Furthermore, there are instances where creditors and equity holders lose their ranking and priority as such if they are considered to have taken over management and functional operating control of a debtor.

Generally, the duration of a bankruptcy case can only be roughly estimated. The reorganization of a company usually involves the development and negotiation of a plan of reorganization, plan approval by creditors and confirmation by the bankruptcy court. This process can involve substantial legal, professional and administrative costs to the company and the Partnership; it is subject to unpredictable and lengthy delays; and during the process the company's competitive position may erode, key management may depart and the company may not be able to invest adequately. In some cases, the company may not be able to reorganize and may be required to liquidate assets. Although the Partnership intends to invest primarily in debt, the debt of companies in financial reorganization will, in most cases, not pay current interest, may not accrue interest during reorganization and may be adversely affected by an erosion of the issuer's fundamental value. Such investments can result in a total loss of principal.

U.S. bankruptcy law permits the classification of "substantially similar" claims in determining the classification of claims in a reorganization for purpose of voting on a plan of reorganization. Because the standard for classification is vague, there exists a significant risk that the Partnership's influence with respect to a class of securities can be lost by the inflation of the number and the amount of claims in, or other gerrymandering of, the class. In addition, certain administrative costs and claims that have priority by law over the claims of certain creditors (for example, claims for taxes) may be quite high.

Furthermore, there are instances where creditors and equity holders lose their ranking and priority as such when they take over management and functional operating control of a debtor. In those cases where the Partnership, by virtue of such action, is found to exercise "domination and control" of a debtor, the Partnership may lose its priority if the debtor can demonstrate that its business was adversely impacted or other creditors and equity holders were harmed by the Partnership.

The Partnership may invest in companies based outside the United States. Investment in the debt of financially distressed companies domiciled outside the United States involves additional risks. Bankruptcy law and process may differ substantially from that in the United States, resulting in greater uncertainty as to the rights of creditors, the enforceability of such rights, reorganization timing and the classification, seniority and treatment of claims. In certain developing countries, although bankruptcy laws have been enacted, the process for reorganization remains highly uncertain.

The Investment Manager, on behalf of the Partnership, may elect to serve on creditors' committees, equity holders' committees or other groups to ensure preservation or enhancement of the Partnership position as a creditor or equity holder. A member of any such committee or group may owe certain obligations generally to all parties similarly situated that the committee represents. If the Investment Manager concludes that its obligations owed to the other parties as a committee or group member conflict with its duties owed to the Partnership, it will resign from that committee or group, and the Partnership may not realize the benefits, if any, of participation on the committee or group. In addition, and also as discussed above, if the Partnership is represented on a committee or group, it may be restricted or prohibited under applicable law from disposing of or increasing its investments in such company while it continues to be represented on such committee or group.

The Partnership may purchase creditor claims subsequent to the commencement of a bankruptcy case. Under judicial decisions, it is possible that such purchase may be disallowed by the bankruptcy court if the court determines that the purchaser has taken unfair advantage of an unsophisticated seller, which may result in the rescission of the transaction (presumably at the original purchase price) or forfeiture by the purchaser.

Equitable Subordination. Under common law principles that in some cases form the basis for lender liability claims, if a lender (a) intentionally takes an action that results in the undercapitalization of a borrower or issuer to the detriment of other creditors of such borrower or issuer, (b) engages in other inequitable conduct to the detriment of such other creditors, (c) engages in fraud with respect to, or makes misrepresentations to, such other creditors or (d) uses its influence as a stockholder to dominate or control a borrower or issuer to the detriment of other creditors of such borrower or issuer, a court may elect to subordinate the claim of the offending lender or bondholder to the claims of the disadvantaged creditor or creditors (a remedy called "equitable subordination"). The Partnership does not intend to engage in conduct that would form the basis for a successful cause of action based upon the equitable subordination doctrine; however, because of the nature of the debt obligations, the Partnership may be subject to claims from creditors of an obligor that debt obligations of such obligor which are held by the issuer should be equitably subordinated.

Liability Following the Disposal of Investments. While the Partnership may hold certain of its investments to maturity, the Partnership may dispose of investments in some circumstances prior to termination and, in connection therewith, may be required to pay damages to the extent that any representations or warranties given in connection with such investments turn out to be inaccurate. The Partnership may become involved in disputes or litigation concerning such representations and warranties and may be required to make payments to third parties as a result of such disputes or litigation. In the event that the Partnership does not have cash available to conduct such litigation or make such payments, it may be forced to sell investments to obtain funds. Such sales may be effected on unsatisfactory terms.

Potential Involvement in Litigation. In the event that the Partnership holds investments in distressed investments, there is a possibility that the Investment Manager may participate in restructuring activities, it is possible that the Partnership may become involved in litigation respecting creditor disputes and similar issues among classes of claimants. Litigation entails expense and the possibility of counterclaims against the Partnership and the Investment Manager and ultimately judgments may be rendered against the Partnership for which the Partnership does not carry insurance.

Specific Risks Associated with Investing in CLOs

You should note that certain of the following risk factors specifically applicable with respect to CLOs have been discussed under "—Market Risks—General" above and are included in this sub-section for ease of reference.

Dependence Upon Other Unrelated Managers. The success of a CLO may depend on the management talents and efforts of one person or a small group of persons whose management could adversely affect the CLO and, accordingly, the Partnership as an investor in such CLO. Given that the Investment Manager will not have an active role in the management of these CLOs, the return on the Partnership's investments in such CLOs will depend on the performance of unrelated managers.

Multiple Levels of Fees. The Partnership and the CLOs are expected to impose management fees, administrative fees, and/or transaction-based fees. This may result in greater expense than if Limited Partners were able to invest directly in the CLOs or underlying investments. Limited Partners should take into account that the return on their investment will be reduced to the extent of both levels of fees. The general partner or manager of a CLO may receive the economic benefit of certain fees from its portfolio companies for services and in connection with unconsummated transactions (e.g., break-up, placement, monitoring, directors', organizational and set-up fees and financial advisory fees). Additionally, some of the CLOs may invest themselves in underlying hedge funds or CLOs. In such case, additional management costs and other administrative expenses may be incurred.

Limited Diversification. CLOs may invest in concentrated portfolios of assets. The concentration of an underlying portfolio in any one obligor would subject the related CLO Securities to a greater degree of risk with respect to defaults by such obligor and the concentration of a portfolio in any one industry would subject the related CLOs to a greater degree of risk with respect to economic downturns relating to such industry. The Partnership may have a concentrated exposure to CLOs of a particular type of CLO.

CLO Embedded Leverage Risk. The Partnership's participation in CLOs involves varying amounts of leverage. Leverage is embedded in all classes of a CLO other than the most senior tranche. If the Partnership retains either the most or one of the most subordinate tranches of the CLO's securities, it will hold the most leveraged investment in the CLO. While leverage presents opportunities for increasing the Partnership's total return, it has the effect of potentially increasing losses as well. Accordingly, any event which adversely affects the value of an investment in a CLO would be magnified to the extent such CLO is leveraged. The cumulative effect of the use of leverage by a CLO in a market that moves adversely to the CLO's investments could result in a substantial loss to the CLO which would be greater than if the CLO were not leveraged. The borrowing arrangements of CLOs will contain events of default that, under certain circumstances, could result in early amortization or in the acceleration of the maturities of these obligations. In the event of acceleration of the borrowing arrangements of a CLO, in whole or in part, it may be required to dispose of all or a significant portion of its investments. Such a forced disposal of securities could result in realization of value of such investments significantly below the anticipated market values for such securities. When the Partnership invests in derivative transactions, it may also gain leverage through such derivative transactions, which will expose the Partnership to a greater risk of loss.

Risks of Investment Focus. The Partnership's portfolio may consist of CLO Securities. CLO Securities are subject to, among other risks, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks.

The value of the CLO Securities that the Partnership may own generally will fluctuate with, among other things, the financial condition of the obligors or issuers of the CLO Securities' underlying portfolio of assets ("CLO Collateral"), general economic conditions, the condition of certain financial markets, political events, developments or trends in any particular industry and changes in prevailing interest rates. CLO Securities are issued on a non-recourse basis and holders of CLO Securities must rely solely on distributions on the CLO Collateral or proceeds thereof for payment in respect thereof. If distributions on the CLO Collateral are insufficient to make payments on the CLO Securities, no other assets will be available for payment of the deficiency and following realization of the CLO Securities, the obligations of such issuer to pay such deficiency generally will be extinguished.

Issuers of CLO Securities may acquire interests in loans and other debt obligations by way of sale, assignment or participation. The purchaser of an assignment typically succeeds to all the rights and obligations of the assigning institution and becomes a lender under the credit agreement with respect to the loan or debt obligation; however, its rights can be more restricted than those of the assigning institution. CLO Collateral may consist of corporate loans, leveraged loans and other instruments, which often are rated below investment grade (or of equivalent credit quality). Loans may be unsecured and may be subordinated to certain other obligations of the issuer thereof. The lower ratings of below investment grade loans reflect a greater possibility that adverse changes in the financial condition of an issuer or in general economic conditions or both may impair the ability of the related issuer or obligor to make payments of principal or interest. Such investments may be speculative.

Interest Rate Mismatch. CLOs may be subject to interest rate risk. The CLO Collateral of an issuer of a CLO may bear interest at a fixed or floating rate, while the CLO Debt may bear interest at a floating or fixed rate. As a result, there could be a floating/fixed rate or basis mismatch between such CLO Debt and the CLO Collateral which bears interest at a fixed rate ("Fixed Rate Assets"), and there may be a timing mismatch between such CLO Debt and the assets that are not Fixed Rate Assets ("Floating Rate Assets"). In addition, the interest rate on Floating Rate Assets may adjust more frequently or less frequently, on different dates and based on different indices than the interest rates on the CLO Debt. As a result of such mismatches, an increase or decrease in the level of the floating rate indices could adversely impact the ability to make payments on such CLO Debt or Equity. Although many CLOs attempt to hedge this interest rate risk, the hedges may not eliminate this risk and payments by the CLO under the hedges may significantly reduce the distributions on the CLO securities. In addition, these hedges may have additional risks, such as counterparty risk, that are not present without these hedges.

Lower Credit Quality Securities. There are no restrictions on the credit quality of the investments of the Partnership. CLO Securities in which the Partnership will invest may have no ratings or may be deemed by rating agencies to have substantial vulnerability to default in payment of interest and/or principal and have the lowest quality ratings. The Partnership may purchase CLO Securities which have ratings that have been downgraded or placed on "credit watch" for future downgrading. Lower rated and unrated securities in which the Partnership may invest have large uncertainties or major risk exposures to adverse conditions and are considered to be predominantly speculative and may become a defaulted asset for a variety of reasons. Generally, such securities offer a higher return potential than higher rated securities, but involve greater volatility of price and greater risk of loss of income and principal.

The market values of certain of these securities (such as subordinated securities) also tend to be more sensitive to changes in economic conditions than higher rated securities. The value of leveraged loans and other assets underlying a CLO may also be affected by changes in the market's perception of the entity issuing or guaranteeing them, or by changes in government regulations and tax policies. Additionally, loans and interests in loans have significant liquidity and market value risks since they are not generally traded in organized exchange markets but are traded by banks and other institutional investors engaged in loan syndications. Because loans are privately syndicated and loan agreements are privately negotiated and customized, loans are not purchased or sold as easily as publicly traded securities. In addition, historically the trading volume in the loan market has been small relative to the high-yield debt securities market, and such illiquidity has been exacerbated during the current liquidity crisis.

Leveraged loans have historically experienced greater default rates than has been the case for investment grade securities. There can be no assurance as to the levels of defaults and/or recoveries that may be experienced on the assets underlying CLO Securities.

In general, the ratings of nationally recognized rating organizations represent the opinions of such agencies as to the quality of securities that they rate. Such ratings may be used by the Investment Manager as an initial basis for the selection of portfolio securities. Such ratings, however, are relative and subjective; they are not absolute standards of quality and do not evaluate the market value risk of the securities. Such ratings also do not reflect macroeconomic or systematic risk, including the risk of increased illiquidity in the credit markets. It is also possible that a rating agency might not change its rating of a particular issue on a timely basis to reflect subsequent events.

Defaulted Assets Underlying CLO Securities. If the assets underlying a CLO Security become defaulted assets, such defaulted assets may become subject to either substantial workout negotiations or restructuring, which may entail, among other things, a substantial reduction in the interest rate, a substantial write-down of principal, and a substantial change in the terms, conditions and covenants with respect to such defaulted asset. In addition, such negotiations or restructuring may be quite extensive and protracted over time, and therefore may result in substantial uncertainty with respect to the ultimate recovery on such defaulted asset. The liquidity for defaulted assets may be limited, and to the extent that defaulted assets are sold, it is highly unlikely that the proceeds from such sale will be equal to the amount of unpaid principal and interest thereon. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that the ultimate recovery on any defaulted assets will be at least equal to either the minimum recovery rate assumed by any rating agency that rates the notes of the CLO security. Therefore, if any CLO security has defaulted assets which correspond to the exposure of the Partnership's interest in the CLO security, the Partnership may be adversely affected.

There exist significant additional risks for CLO Securities and investors in such securities in the event of a liquidity crisis. Those risks include, among others, (i) the likelihood that the issuer of the CLO Security will find it harder to sell any of its assets in the secondary market, thus rendering it more difficult to dispose of assets which it has the discretion to manage, including credit risk obligations, credit improved obligations or defaulted obligations, (ii) the possibility that the price at which assets can be sold by the issuer of the CLO Security will have deteriorated from their effective purchase price and (iii) the increased illiquidity of the notes issued by the CLO Security. These additional risks may affect the returns on the investments in the Partnership's portfolio.

Subordination of CLO Debt. The Partnership's portfolio may subordinate CLO Debt. Subordinate CLO Debt generally is fully subordinated to the related CLO senior tranches. Thus, some of the investments of the Partnership in a CLO may rank behind other creditors of the CLO. To the extent that any losses are incurred by a CLO in respect of its related CLO Collateral, such losses are likely to be borne first by the holders of the related CLO Equity, next by the holders of any related subordinated CLO debt and finally by the holders of the related CLO senior tranches. In addition, if an event of default occurs under the governing instrument or underlying investment, as long as any CLO senior tranches are outstanding, the holders thereof generally are likely to be entitled to determine the remedies to be exercised under the instrument governing the CLO. Remedies pursued by such holders could be adverse to the interests of the holders of any related subordinated CLO Debt. Investments of the Partnership may be the first to absorb any losses by the CLO on its underlying portfolio. This may result in losses on the invested proceeds of the Partnership and could result in the complete loss of invested proceeds.

Mandatory Redemption of CLO Senior Tranches and CLO Debt. Under certain circumstances, cash flows from CLO Collateral that otherwise would have been paid to the holders of any related CLO Debt will be used to redeem the related CLO senior tranches. This could result in an elimination, deferral or reduction in the interest payments, principal repayments or other payments made to the holders of such CLO Debt, which could adversely impact the returns to the holders of such CLO Debt.

Optional Redemption of CLO Senior Tranches and CLO Debt. An optional redemption by a CLO of its securities and, in particular, the exercise of rights by the holders of one or more classes of its securities (or the requisite percentages thereof) so as to effect any such optional redemption, could require the collateral or portfolio manager of the related CLO to liquidate positions more rapidly than would otherwise be desirable, which is likely to materially and adversely affect the realized value of the items of CLO Collateral sold (and which in turn is likely to materially and adversely impact the holders of any related CLO securities, including the Partnership). As a result of any such rapid liquidation of a CLO, a holder of the related CLO securities (including the Partnership) could lose all or a substantial portion of its investment in such CLO securities.

Insolvency Risks. Various laws enacted for the protection of creditors may apply to the issuers of the CLO Collateral (solely for purposes of this risk factor, an "Insolvent Company"). The information in this paragraph and the following paragraph is applicable with respect to U.S. issuers of CLO Collateral. Insolvency considerations may differ with respect to non-U.S. issuers of CLO Collateral. If a court in a lawsuit brought by an unpaid creditor or representative of creditors of an Insolvent Company, such as a trustee in bankruptcy, were to find that the issuer did not receive fair consideration or reasonably equivalent value for incurring the indebtedness constituting the CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) and, after giving effect to such indebtedness, the Insolvent Company (i) was insolvent, (ii) was engaged in a business for which the remaining assets of the Insolvent Company constituted unreasonably small capital or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that it would incur, debts beyond its ability to pay such debts as they mature, such court could determine to invalidate, in whole or in part, such indebtedness as a fraudulent conveyance, to subordinate such indebtedness to existing or future creditors of the Insolvent Company or to recover amounts previously paid by such issuer in satisfaction of such indebtedness. The measure of insolvency for purposes of the foregoing will vary. Generally, an Insolvent Company would be considered insolvent at a particular time if the sum of its debts were then greater than all of its property at a fair valuation or if the present fair saleable value of its assets were then less than the amount that would be required to pay its probable liabilities on its existing debts as they became absolute and matured. There can be no assurance as to what standard a court would apply in order to determine whether the Insolvent Company was "insolvent" after giving effect to the incurrence of the indebtedness constituting the CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) or that, regardless of the method of valuation, a court would not determine that the Insolvent Company was "insolvent" upon giving effect to such incurrence. In addition, in the event of the insolvency of an Insolvent Company, payments made on such CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) could be subject to avoidance as a "preference" if made within a certain period of time (which may be as long as one year) before insolvency.

In general, if payments on a CLO or CLO Collateral (as applicable) are avoidable, whether as fraudulent conveyances or preferences, such payments can be recaptured either from the initial recipient (such as the Partnership) or from subsequent transferees of such payments (such as the Limited Partners). However, a court in a bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding would be able to direct the recapture of any such payment from a Limited Partner only to the extent that such court has jurisdiction over such holder or its assets. Moreover, it is likely that avoidable payments could not be recaptured directly from a holder that has given value in exchange for its interest, in good faith and without knowledge that the payments were avoidable. Nevertheless, there can be no assurance that a Limited Partner will be able to avoid recapture on this or any other basis.

The preceding discussion is based upon principles of United States federal and state laws. Insofar as the Partnership's portfolio consists of the obligations of non-United States obligors, the laws of certain foreign jurisdictions may provide for avoidance remedies under factual circumstances similar to those described above or under different circumstances, with consequences that may or may not be analogous to those described above under United States Federal and state laws.

"Widening" Risk. For reasons not necessarily attributable to any of the risks set forth herein (for example, supply/demand imbalances or other market forces), the prices of the CLO Securities in which the Partnership invests may decline substantially. In particular, purchasing assets at what may appear to be "undervalued" levels is no guarantee that these assets will not be trading at even lower levels at a time of valuation or at the time of sale. It may not be possible to predict, or to hedge against, such "spread widening" risk.

There Is Limited Disclosure about the CLO Securities and the Underlying CLO Collateral in this Memorandum. The Investment Manager will not be required to provide the investors in the Partnership with financial or other information (which may include material non-public information) it receives related to the CLO Securities. The Investment Manager also may not disclose to investors notices the Investment Manager receives and it will not have any obligation to keep investors informed as to defaults in the CLO Securities, failure by the Partnership to receive any payment of principal, interest, or other amounts or to disclose the portfolio or the decisions of which CLO Securities were not purchased in general to any investor. In addition, the investors will not have any right to inspect any records relating to the CLO Securities, and the Investment Manager will not be obligated to disclose any further information or evidence regarding the existence or terms of, or the identity of any obligor on, any CLO Securities.

Impact of the Volcker Rule on the Liquidity of the Notes. Section 619 of the Dodd-Frank Act added a provision, commonly referred to (together with the final regulations with respect thereto adopted on December 10, 2013) as the Volcker Rule, to federal banking laws to generally prohibit various covered banking entities from engaging in proprietary trading or acquiring or retaining an ownership interest in "covered funds" which generally include, sponsoring or having certain relationships with a hedge fund or private equity fund (defined in final regulations adopted on December 10, 2013 as any entity relying on Section 3(c)(1) or Section 3(c)(7) of the Investment Company Act to be exempt from registration under the Investment Company Act), subject to certain exemptions. The Volcker Rule also provides for certain supervised nonbank financial companies that engage in such activities or have such interests or relationships to be subject to additional capital requirements, quantitative limits or other restrictions. The conformance period for the Volcker Rule has been extended to July 21, 2015, and to July 21, 2017 for CLOs. Certain CLOs may be considered "covered funds" under the Volcker rule and therefore the most senior tranche of the CLO may be a restricted security for various banking and nonbanking entities. This may restrict the liquidity of certain non-Volcker compliant CLOs in the future and may affect the Partnership's ability to liquidate these positions on a timely basis.

Specific Risks Associated with Investing in Portfolio Funds and Illiquid Investments

You should note that certain of the following risk factors specifically applicable with respect to Portfolio Funds and Illiquid Investments have been discussed under "—Market Risks—General" above and are included in this sub-section for ease of reference.

Special Situations. The Portfolio Funds may invest in companies involved in (or the target of) acquisition attempts or tender offers or in companies involved in work-outs, liquidations, spin-offs, reorganizations, bankruptcies and similar transactions. In any investment opportunity involving any such type of special situation, there exists the risk that the contemplated transaction either will be unsuccessful, take considerable time or result in a distribution of cash or a new security the value of which will be less than the purchase price to the Portfolio Funds of the security or other financial instrument in respect of which such distribution is received. Similarly, if an anticipated transaction does not in fact occur, the Partnership may be required to sell its investment at a loss. In connection with such transaction (or otherwise), the Portfolio Funds may purchase securities on a when-issued basis, which means that delivery and payment take place sometime after the date of the commitment to purchase and are often conditioned upon the occurrence of a subsequent event, such as approval and consummation of a merger, reorganization or debt restructuring. The purchase price and/or interest create receivable with respect to a when-issue security are fixed when the Partnership enters into the commitment. Such securities are subject to changes in market value prior to their delivery. Because there is substantial uncertainty concerning the outcome of transactions involving companies in which the Portfolio Funds may invest, there is a potential risk of loss by a Portfolio Fund of its entire investment in such companies.

Alternative Investments. In the alternative asset class, the Investment Manager may invest assets of the Partnership in other pooled investment vehicles managed by the Investment Manager. The pooled investment vehicles managed by the Investment Manager may follow a variety of investment strategies including investments in commodities, managed futures, inflation-adjusted bonds, global real estate, "hedge fund strategies", which may be broadly characterized as "hedge funds", and mezzanine debt or Illiquid Investments.

Withdrawal Considerations. The Partnership may be subject to withdrawal restrictions of the individual Portfolio Fund(s) in which it will invest. In addition, the Partnership is permitted to invest in Illiquid Investments. There is no market for the Interests, and no market is expected to develop. Therefore, in certain circumstances, the Partnership may not be able to withdraw invested assets from a particular Portfolio Fund or with respect to Illiquid Investments at a time that would be most advantageous to the Partnership or at a time that would allow the Partnership to comply with its withdrawal obligations to its Limited Partners. In this regard, the General Partner has the right to suspend in whole or in part certain withdrawal rights of the Limited Partners to the extent that the Partnership is unable to obtain liquidity from its investments in one or more of the Portfolio Funds. The illiquidity of Illiquid Investments and restrictions on withdrawals at the level of the individual Portfolio Funds could have a material adverse effect on the Partnership, as well as the ability of the Limited Partners to liquidate their investments in the Partnership during permitted withdrawal periods. Consequently, Limited Partners may be unable to liquidate their Interests except by withdrawing from the Partnership in accordance with the terms of this Memorandum, and, even in such event, payment of withdrawal proceeds may be delayed for a significant period of time. One or more affiliates of the Investment Manager may serve as general partner or manager of such Portfolio Funds, and will not be required to liquidate Portfolio Fund investments other than when they determine such liquidation is advisable or appropriate in their sole discretion, without regard to withdrawal provisions applicable to the Partnership. Limited Partners may be unable to liquidate their investment promptly in the event of an emergency or for any other reason.

High Growth Industry Related Risks. Portfolio Funds may have significant investments in the securities of high growth companies (e.g., technology, communications and healthcare). It is noted that these securities may be very volatile. In addition, these companies may face undeveloped or limited markets, have limited products, have no proven profit-making history, may operate at a loss or with substantial variations in operating results from period to period, have limited access to capital and/or be in the developmental stages of their businesses, have limited ability to protect their rights to certain patents, copyrights, trademarks and other trade secrets, or be otherwise adversely affected by the extremely competitive markets in which many of their competitors operate.

Risk of Illiquid Investments. Illiquid Investments involve a high degree of financial risk. There can be no assurance that Illiquid Investments will be profitable or that substantial losses will not occur. The companies in which the Illiquid Investments will invest are often dependent on the skills of a small number of executives and are vulnerable to changes in technology, fluctuations in demand for their products, changing interest rates and other factors. There can also be no assurance that the Illiquid Investments will be repaid, be able to sell or otherwise liquidate their investments at the optimal time or price. Therefore, there can be no assurance that the rate of return objectives of the Illiquid Investments will be realized or that there will be any return of capital to the Limited Partners.

Illiquid and Long-Term Investments. It is anticipated that there will be a significant period of time before certain Illiquid Investments will have completed their investments. Such investments may take several years from the date of initial investment to reach a state of maturity when realization of the investment can be achieved. Although investments by Illiquid Investments occasionally may generate some current income, private investment transaction structures typically will not provide for liquidity of the Illiquid Investment's investment prior to that time. The return of capital and the realization of gains, if any, from such investment will generally occur only upon the partial or complete disposition or refinancing of the investment. In light of the foregoing, it is likely that no significant return from the disposition of Illiquid Investment's underlying investments will occur for a substantial period of time from the commencement of the Illiquid Investment's operations. It is unlikely that there will be a public market for the securities held by the Illiquid Investment and/or its portfolio companies at the time of their acquisition. The Illiquid Investment generally will not be able to sell its securities publicly unless the issuer has consummated a public offering of its securities and such offered securities are registered under applicable securities laws, unless an exemption from such registration requirements is available. In addition, in some cases, the Partnership may be prohibited by contract from selling certain securities for a period of time and, as a result, may not be permitted to sell an underlying investment at a time it might otherwise desire to do so. Further, disposition of such investments may require a lengthy time period or may result in distributions in kind to investors.

Investments in Less Established Companies. The Partnership may invest a portion of its assets in the securities of less established companies, or early stage companies. Investments in such early stage companies may involve greater risks than those generally associated with investments in more established companies. For instance, less established companies tend to have smaller capitalizations and fewer resources and, therefore, are often more vulnerable to financial failure. Such companies also may have shorter operating histories on which to judge future performance and in many cases, if operating, will have negative cash flow. In the case of start-up enterprises, such companies may not have significant or any operating revenues. In addition, less mature companies could be more susceptible to irregular accounting or other fraudulent practices. Furthermore, to the extent there is any public market for the securities held by the Illiquid Investment, securities of less established companies may be subject to more abrupt and erratic market price movements than those of larger, more established companies.

Some of the investments expected to be made by an Illiquid Investment would be considered highly speculative and may result in the loss of the Special Situation Investment's entire investment therein. There can be no assurance that any such losses will be offset by gains (if any) realized on the Illiquid Investment's other investments.

Investments in Restructurings or Underperforming Companies. The Partnership may make investments in companies that are experiencing or are expected to experience financial difficulties, which such companies may never overcome. Such investments could, in certain circumstances, subject the Partnership to additional potential liabilities, which may exceed the value of the Partnership's original investment therein. Such investments of the Partnership could also be subject to federal bankruptcy law and state fraudulent transfer laws, which may vary from state to state, if the securities relating to such investments were issued with the intent of hindering, delaying or defrauding creditors or, in certain circumstances, if the issuer receives less than reasonably equivalent value or fair consideration in return for issuing such securities. If such investments constitute debt and such debt is used for a buyout of shareholders, this risk is greater than if the debt proceeds are used for day-to-day operations or organic growth. If a court were to find that the issuance of the securities was a fraudulent transfer or conveyance, the court could void the payment obligations under the securities, further subordinate the securities to other existing and future indebtedness of the issuer or require the Partnership to repay any amounts received by it with respect to the securities. In the event of a finding that a fraudulent transfer or conveyance occurred, the Partnership may not receive any repayment on the securities.

Under the Bankruptcy Code, a lender that has inappropriately exercised control of the management and policies of a company may have its claims against the company subordinated or disallowed, or may be found liable for damages suffered by parties as a result of such actions. In addition, under certain circumstances, payments to the Partnership and distributions by the Partnership ion Investment to its limited partners may be reclaimed if any such payment or distribution is later determined to have been a fraudulent conveyance or a preferential payment. Such debt may also be disallowed or subordinated to the claims of other creditors if the Partnership is found to have engaged in other inequitable conduct resulting in harm to other parties. The Partnership's underlying investment may be treated as equity if it is deemed to be a contribution to capital, or if the Partnership attempts to control the outcome of the business affairs of a company prior to its filing under the Bankruptcy Code. While the Partnership will attempt to avoid taking the types of action that would lead to such liability, there can be no assurance that such claims will not be asserted or that the Partnership will be able successfully to defend against them.

REGULATORY AND TAX RISKS

General Regulatory Risks. Statutes, regulations and policies are continually under review by the U.S. Congress and state legislatures and federal and state regulatory agencies. The introduction of new legislation or amendments to existing legislation and regulations (including changes in how they are interpreted or implemented) by governments, the decisions of courts and tribunals and the rulings and decisions of regulatory authorities, can adversely impact the Partnership's returns. The regulatory environment for private investment funds is evolving, and changes in the regulation of these funds may adversely affect the value of investments held by the Partnership, the cost of compliance with applicable regulations, and the ability of the Partnership to obtain the leverage it might otherwise obtain or to pursue its trading strategies.

Regulatory Risks Related to the Highland Transaction. In connection with the Highland Transaction (if consummated), there can be no assurance that such transaction (if consummated) will not result in adverse regulatory consequences (including, without limitation, being characterized as a "change of control" under applicable laws), even though the Highland Transaction only contemplates the acquisition of non-voting limited partnership interests in Highland.

Strategy Restrictions. Certain institutions may be restricted from directly utilizing investment strategies of the type in which the Partnership may engage. Such institutions, including entities subject to ERISA, should consult their own advisors, counsel and accountants to determine what restrictions may apply and whether an investment in the Partnership is appropriate.

Trading Limitations. For all securities, instruments and/or assets listed on an exchange, including options listed on a public exchange, the exchange generally has the right to suspend or limit trading under certain circumstances. Such suspensions or limits could render certain strategies difficult to complete or continue and subject the Partnership to loss. Also, such a suspension could render it impossible for the Investment Manager to liquidate positions and thereby expose the Partnership to potential losses relating thereto.

Limited Regulatory Oversight. The Partnership's investments are not supervised or monitored by any regulatory authority. The Partnership is not registered as an "investment company" under the Investment Company Act. Although the Investment Manager is registered as an investment adviser with the SEC, neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager is registered as a commodity pool operator, pursuant to an exemption provided under Rule 4.13(a)(3) of the CEA. Consequently, Limited Partners will not benefit from some of the protections afforded by these statutes, including oversight by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

Prevention of Money Laundering and Terrorism. The Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001, as amended (the "USA PATRIOT Act"), signed into law on and effective as of October 26, 2001, requires that financial institutions, a term that includes banks, broker-dealers and investment companies, establish and maintain compliance programs to guard against money laundering activities. The USA PATRIOT Act requires the Secretary of the U.S. Treasury ("Treasury") to prescribe regulations in connection with anti- money laundering policies of financial institutions. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board, the Treasury and the SEC are currently studying what types of investment vehicles should be required to adopt anti-money laundering procedures, and it is unclear at this time whether such procedures will apply to pooled investment vehicles such as the Partnership. Future rules and regulations regarding money laundering or proceeds of crime could regulate the Partnership. In addition, in April 2000, the Treasury Department published proposed regulations that would require certain investment advisors to establish an anti-money laundering program. It is possible that there could be promulgated legislation or regulations that would require the Partnership or its affiliates, in connection with the establishment of anti-money laundering procedures, to share information with governmental authorities with respect to investors in the Interests. Such legislation and/or regulations could require the Partnership to implement additional restrictions on the transfer of the Interests. The Partnership reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of investors in the Interests, and the source of the payment of subscription monies, or as is necessary to comply with any customer identification programs required by Financial Crimes Enforcement Network and/or the SEC or such information as may be required in order for the Partnership to discharge its obligations under the laws of the Cayman Islands (including pursuant to the Proceeds of Criminal Conduct Law (2005 Revision)). In the event of delay or failure by the applicant to produce any information required for verification purposes, an application for or transfer of the Interests and the subscription monies relating thereto may be refused.

Recent Developments in the Financial Services Industry. Recent developments in the U.S. financial markets have heightened the risks associated with the investment activities and operations of hedge funds, including without limitation, those resulting from a substantial reduction in the availability of credit and the increased cost of short-term credit, a decrease in market liquidity and an increased risk of insolvency of brokers and other counterparties. In addition, in July of 2010, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act ("Dodd-Frank") was passed which imposes many new requirements and restrictions on the financial services industry that may likely affect the business, operations and performance of hedge funds, such as increased reporting requirements, limitations on certain trading activity and regulatory oversight by different agencies, such as the newly created Financial Stability Oversight Counsel. Even with the passage of Dodd-Frank, the implications of its passage for the hedge fund industry as a whole still remain somewhat unclear. The hedge fund industry may continue to be adversely affected by the recent developments in the financial markets in the U.S. and abroad, and any future legal, regulatory, or governmental action and developments in such financial markets and the broader U.S. economy could have an adverse effect on the Partnership or the Partnership's business, operations and performance.

Enhanced Regulation of Swaps. The Wall Street Transparency and Accountability Act of 2010 (the "WSTAA") will, subject to exceptions for certain hedgers, (1) require swaps accepted for clearing by a derivatives clearing organization (a "DCO") or for trading through a designated contract market or swaps-execution facility to be so cleared and traded, (2) require margin for almost all swap transactions, (3) subject traders with a "substantial position" in swaps to registration and regulation requirements as a "major swap participant" or "swap dealer", and (4) impose position limits on swaps either individually or in the aggregate with respect to positions in commodity-futures contracts. Due to the new requirements imposed by the WSTAA, the Partnership may experience increased transaction costs to pay for the clearing, execution and segregation obligations. In addition, margin requirements may increase once margin is set by DCOs with input from the CFTC, which may limit the Partnership's ability to engage in leverage and limit the Partnership's return. The application of position limits to swap contracts may also limit the Partnership's ability to concentrate in any particular contract or exposure to an underlying commodity and may negatively impact the Partnership's ability to take advantage of current market trends or conditions. Any tightening in the market for swaps may significantly impact the Partnership and its returns. In addition, if the Partnership were deemed to be a swap dealer or a major swap participant under WSTAA, the Partnership may be required to register with the CFTC and would be subject to a number of regulatory requirements that would significantly impact the Partnership's legal obligations and its returns.

Tax Risk. The tax aspects of an investment in the Partnership are complicated and each investor should have them reviewed by professional advisors familiar with such investor's personal tax situation and with the tax laws and regulations applicable to the investor and private investment vehicles. The Partnership is not intended and should not be expected to provide any tax shelter, but is organized as a limited partnership to avoid corporate taxation and to permit any distributions it might make to be made without being taxed as dividends. No assurance can be given that legislative, administrative or judicial changes will not occur which will alter, either prospectively or retroactively, the tax considerations or risk factors discussed in this Memorandum.

The tax consequences to a Limited Partner of an investment in the Partnership are uncertain. A significant portion of the Partnership is expected to be invested in illiquid Portfolio Funds and/or Illiquid Investments. Such investments are often structured as "pass through" entities for tax purposes and therefore may generate significant taxable income to the Limited Partners without any corresponding liquidity from such investments. As a result, an investment in the Partnership may be unsuitable for those investors that do not receive a corresponding deduction for such allocated income.

Neither the General Partner nor the Investment Manager makes any representations or warranties regarding any tax matters. Prospective investors are strongly urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal, state and local and non-U.S. tax consequences to them arising from an investment in the Partnership, and should rely on the advice of their own tax advisors with respect to the possible impact on its investment in the Partnership of any future legislation or administrative or judicial action. You should review the section entitled "TAXATION" for a more complete discussion of certain of the tax risks inherent in the acquisition of Interests.

Tax-Exempt Entities. Certain prospective Limited Partners may be subject to federal and state laws, rules and regulations that may regulate their participation in the Partnership, or their engaging, directly or indirectly through an investment in the Partnership, in investment strategies of the types that the Partnership utilizes from time to time. Tax-exempt entities should consider the applicability to them of the provisions relating to UBTI (as defined below). Investments in the Partnership by entities subject to ERISA and other tax-exempt entities require special consideration. See "ERISA CONSIDERATIONS" and "TAXATION—Tax-Exempt Investors".

Diversification. The tax benefits of the Policies may not be available in the event that the methodology used by the Partnership does not satisfy the diversification rules as described under "TAXATION" herein, including the risk that, if the Partnership fails to meet such diversification rules, owners of Policies funded by a Separate Account that is treated as holding interests in the Partnership would be subject to current taxation on the annual earnings of the Separate Account.

Diversification of Contracts. Interests in the Partnership will be held only by variable contract separate asset accounts of Insurance Companies and state and local governmental pension plans, §529 plans, and private sector qualified pension or retirement plans, as generally described in Treasury Regulation 1.817-5(f)(3). Variable contract separate asset accounts are subject to certain investment diversification requirements (the "Diversification Rules") of Section 817(h) of the Code and the Regulations with respect to assets held in such separate accounts. These rules apply to the investments made by separate accounts (such separate accounts are referred to as "segregated asset accounts") that are used to fund benefits under Policies that are "variable contracts" within the meaning of Section 817(d) of the Code, other than "pension plan contracts."

For purposes of satisfying the Diversification Rules, the assets of the Partnership must be invested in securities such that no more than 55% of total assets of the Partnership may be invested in the securities of any one (1) issuer, no more than 70% of total assets of the Partnership may be invested in the securities of any two (2) issuers, no more than 80% of total assets of the Partnership may be invested in the securities of any three (3) issuers, and no more than 90% of total assets of the Partnership may be invested in the securities of any four (4) issuers. For purposes of these Diversification Rules, all securities of the same issuer are treated as a single investment and in the case of government securities, each government agency or instrumentality is treated as a separate issuer. Thus, all securities issued by the Treasury would be considered a single investment, but securities issued by the Federal Home Loan Banks would be considered a separate investment from Treasury securities. The assets of the Partnership will be invested in compliance with these rules.

Under a "look-through" rule established by the IRS, if: (i) all Interests of the Partnership are held by one or more segregated asset accounts of Insurance Companies (other than Interests held by persons listed in §1.817-5(f)(3) of the Regulations) and (ii) public access to the Partnership is available exclusively through the purchase of a variable contract as defined in Section 817(d) of the Code, then the test for diversification is made by looking to the assets held by the Partnership. So long as the Partnership is subject to the "look-through" rule, Interests in the Partnership will not constitute a single investment for purposes of the Diversification Rules. For purposes of applying such Diversification Rules, the Partnership's investment on behalf of Series 1 in the PE Portfolio Fund will be treated as a single asset, since the "look-through" rule will not apply to the PE Portfolio Fund.

In the event that the Partnership fails to satisfy the look-through requirements of the Diversification Rules, any Policy based on a segregated asset account that has invested in the Partnership may not be treated as a life insurance or annuity contract for federal income tax purposes. For this purpose, a Policy is based on a segregated asset account if amounts received under such Policy, or earnings thereon, are allocated to such segregated asset account. If a Policy is no longer treated as a life insurance or annuity contract, then the owner of the Policy would be subject to current taxation on the income on the Policy for taxable years in which such failure occurs, and thereafter. If the Policy is a life insurance or annuity contract under local law, however, then certain amounts paid as death benefits will be treated as amounts paid under a life insurance or annuity contract for federal income tax purposes. If the failure to meet the Diversification Rules is shown to be inadvertent, the Insurance Company that issued the Policy is permitted to bring the segregated asset account into compliance with those rules. In such cases, the Diversification Rules contemplate adjustments or the payment of a "toll charge" for the period during which the account failed to meet the Diversification Rules. Accordingly, compliance with the Diversification Rules, as they may be modified from time to time, is important and will be carefully monitored by the Investment Manager. Compliance with the Diversification Rules may have the effect of reducing the return of the Partnership, as the investments and strategies utilized by the Investment Manager may be different from what the Investment Manager might otherwise believe to be desirable.

Investor Control. The Partnership is an insurance-dedicated investment fund. In certain circumstances, the owner of a variable life insurance or annuity contract invested in a Separate Account may, for federal income tax purposes, be considered the owner of the assets of the Separate Account that funds the variable contract under an "investor control" theory. Each Policy Owner should consult his or her own tax advisors regarding the "investor control" theory and the particular tax risks, if any, posed by the Policy Owner's selection of the Partnership as his or her investment option under a related Policy.

Policy Owners have no right to communicate with or direct the investment policies or decisions of the General Partner, any administrator, Investment Manager, or Investment Manager relating in any way to the Partnership. For purposes of this Memorandum, the term Policy Owner includes: (i) any trustees of a Policy Owner; (ii) any Policy beneficiaries; (iii) any affiliated person (as this term is defined in Section 2(a)(3) of the Investment Company Act) of the foregoing persons; or (iv) any person that represents the Policy Owner.

There is not, nor shall there be, a pre-arranged binding agreement between the General Partner, the Administrator and the Investment Manager, on the one hand, and any Policy Owner, on the other hand, relating to the investments of the Partnership. Furthermore, Limited Partners have no right or power to take part in the management of the Partnership.

None of the Partnership, the General Partner, the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates will be held responsible to any Limited Partner or Policy Owner for any loss, damage, liability or expense resulting from a violation of the "investor control" theory to the extent such violation is attributable to conduct of a Policy Owner.

Policy Owners should consult their own tax advisors regarding the "investor control" theory.

This Memorandum Intended for Limited Partners. This Memorandum does not address the tax treatment afforded by Policy Owners. Policy Owners should refer to their insurance contract and related explanatory materials for such a discussion. The Limited Partners are the owners of Interests in the Interests. Policy Owners are not Limited Partners of the Partnership and do not have rights as such.

Accounting Rules. The Partnership's assets and liabilities are valued in accordance with the Partnership Agreement. However, for purposes of preparing the Partnership's annual audited financial statements, which are prepared in accordance with GAAP, certain of the Partnership's assets and liabilities may be valued in a manner that, while consistent with GAAP, may be different from the manner in which such assets are valued in accordance with the valuation policies set forth in the Partnership Agreement.

The General Partner may at any time choose to change the Partnership's accounting guidelines from GAAP to the IFRS. In such event, the financial performance of the Partnership, as determined under IFRS, may vary from those determined under GAAP.

The Investment Manager undertakes to resolve conflicts in a fair and equitable basis, which in some instances may mean a resolution that would not maximize the benefit to the Limited Partners.

No Obligation of Full-Time Service. None of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates has any obligation to devote its full time to the business of the Partnership. Each is only required to devote such time to the Partnership as the General Partner deems necessary to accomplish the purposes of the Partnership, and each may engage in other business activities, including competing ventures and/or unrelated employment, which may result in various conflicts of interest between such persons and the Partnership.

Services to Affiliated Funds. In addition to managing the Partnership and its investments, each of the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and the Investment Manager Affiliates may provide investment management and other services to other parties and may manage and/or establish Affiliated Funds in the future, including those that may employ an investment program and strategy similar to that of the Partnership. Specifically, as of the date hereof: (i) the Investment Manager acts as the investment manager to the PE Portfolio Fund that: (x) is expected to initially invest in the Highland Transaction, if any, and (y) will potentially make investments in the future in other private transactions similar to the Highland Transaction; (ii) Rand PE Fund Management, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and an affiliate of the General Partner and the Investment Manager, is the general partner of the PE Portfolio Fund; (iii) the Principal is the managing member and controlling person of Rand PE Fund Management, LLC. As such, the Investment Manager and the Principal owe fiduciary duties to different investment vehicles, which may conflict with each other; and (iv) the Investment Manager acts as the investment subadvisor to a series of SALI Multi-Series Fund, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership, and provides certain discretionary investment advisory or consulting services to such series.

The investments made by Affiliated Funds that may be managed by the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates in the future may compete with investments for the Partnership's account, and the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates may decide to invest the funds of these Affiliated Funds rather than the assets of the Partnership in a particular security or strategy. In addition, the Investment Manager and/or such other persons will determine the allocation of funds by and among the Partnership and the Affiliated Funds to investment strategies and techniques on whatever basis they decide is appropriate or desirable in their sole and absolute discretion. The records of these Affiliated Funds will not be made available to Limited Partners. Nonetheless, in the event that certain securities, instruments and other assets are suitable for acquisition by the Partnership and by other accounts managed by the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal or the Investment Manager Affiliates, and the Investment Manager or such other persons are not able to acquire the desired aggregate amount of such securities, instruments and other assets on terms and conditions which they deem advisable, the Investment Manager and such persons will endeavor in good faith to allocate the limited amount of such investment opportunities among the various accounts for which they consider to be suitable.

Certain Potential Conflicts Between the Principal and Highland Related to the Series 1 Interests. The Principal was previously a Partner and Co-Head of Private Equity at Highland, an investment manager with significant assets under management located in Dallas, Texas. Although Mr. Honis has retired from that position, he still currently serves on: (x) the Board of Trustees for each of Highland's affiliated registered investment companies, and receives compensation in connection with each of the foregoing, and (y) the Board of Directors for American HomePatient, Inc. and Turtle Bay Resort, LLC, which are portfolio companies of investment funds operated by Highland, and receives compensation in connection with each of the foregoing. Additionally, as part of his retirement, Mr. Honis has received or is in the process of receiving payments in the total amount of approximately $3 million from certain affiliates of Highland.

In addition, pursuant to the Shared Services Agreement, Highland serves as the Shared Services Provider, which provides the Investment Manager and the Partnership with certain administrative, information technology, accounting, tax, back-office and other services. In addition, the Shared Services Provider may be (but, as of the date hereof, is not) engaged by the Partnership to act as the Partnership's Administrator, pursuant to a separate Administration Agreement.

Further, the Investment Manager and Highland have had preliminary discussions concerning the potential acquisition of all or substantially all of the non-voting limited partnership interests in Highland for the first series of the PE Portfolio Fund (such purchases or other acquisitions, if any, collectively, the "Highland Transaction"). Although, as of the date hereof, the PE Portfolio Fund and Highland have not actively negotiated documentation for the legal and economic terms of the Highland Transaction (and there can be no assurances that such transaction will be consummated), it is nonetheless the intention of such parties that the transaction should come about.

In light of the foregoing, the Principal, and indirectly the Investment Manager, are in a position of conflict with respect to the ultimate decision by the Partnership regarding whether it pursues the Highland Transaction, and under what terms (if any) it agrees to participate in any such transaction.

Also see "—Potential Directorship Positions; Other Roles" herein.

Highland Transaction; Limited Control. If the Highland Transaction is consummated, it is currently contemplated that the PE Portfolio Fund would acquire only limited partnership interests in Highland. As with investments in non-controlling interests in other partnerships, the Highland Transaction may involve special risks associated with the possibility that the controlling principals of Highland may: (i) have economic or business interests or goals that are inconsistent with those of the PE Portfolio Fund and therefore the Partnership, (ii) take actions contrary to the instructions or requests of the PE Portfolio Fund or contrary to the PE Portfolio Fund's policies or objectives, (iii) be unable or unwilling to fulfill its obligations under the organizational/governing documents, and/or (iv) experience financial difficulties. The occurrence of such problems could have a material adverse effect on the business and prospects of the PE Portfolio Fund's investment in the Highland Transaction and may affect management decisions and exit strategies in a manner adverse to the PE Portfolio Fund's and the Partnership's interests.

Conflicts Related to Shared Services Provider. The Investment Manager has certain affiliated entities that may provide services with respect to the Partnership, the Portfolio Funds (generally and the PE Portfolio Fund specifically) and certain investments held by the Partnership. The Shared Services Provider may provide services for the benefit of the Partnership under the Shared Services Agreement and/or may incur reimbursable expenses on behalf of the Partnership and/or the Investment Manager. In addition, the Shared Services Provider may be (but, as of the date hereof, is not) engaged by the Partnership to act as the Partnership's Administrator, pursuant to a separate Administration Agreement. The Principal is a former Partner and former Co-Head of Private Equity of the Shared Services Provider.

Potential Directorship Positions; Other Roles. The Investment Manager Affiliates may, subject to applicable law, serve as directors (whether supervisory or managing), officers, personnel, employees, partners, agents, nominees or signatories, and receive arm's length fees in connection with such service, for the Partnership or other entities that operate in the same or a related line of business as the Partnership, for other clients managed by the Investment Manager or any of the Investment Manager Affiliates, or for any Portfolio Fund or portfolio company of the Partnership, and the Partnership shall have no right to any such fees. In serving in these multiple capacities, they may have obligations to such other clients or investors in those entities, the fulfillment of which may not be in the best interests of the Partnership. Also see "—Certain Potential Conflicts Between the Principal and Highland Related to the Series 1 Interests" herein.

The Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates may act as an underwriter, arranger or placement agent, or otherwise participate in the origination, structuring, negotiation, syndication or offering of investments purchased by the Partnership. Such transactions are on an arm's-length basis and may be subject to arm's-length fees. There is no expectation for preferential access to transactions involving investments that are underwritten, originated, arranged or placed by the Investment Manager and/or the Investment Manager Affiliates and the Partnership shall not have any right to any such fees.

Potential Cross-Trades. The Investment Manager may effect client cross-transactions where the Investment Manager causes a transaction to be effected between the Partnership and another client advised by it or any of its affiliates. The Investment Manager may engage in a client cross-transaction involving the Partnership any time that the Investment Manager believes such transaction to be fair to the Partnership and such other client. By purchasing an Interest in the Partnership, a Limited Partner is deemed to have consented to such client cross-transactions between the Partnership and another client of the Investment Manager or one of its affiliates.

Diverse Limited Partners. The Limited Partners may include taxable and tax-exempt entities and persons or entities resident of or organized in various jurisdictions. As a result, conflicts of interest may arise in connection with decisions made by the General Partner that may be more beneficial for one type of Limited Partner than for another. In making such decisions, the General Partner intends to consider the investment objectives of the Partnership as a whole, not the investment objectives of any Limited Partner individually.

Soft Dollars. The General Partner and the Investment Manager may be offered soft dollars in the form of research and brokerage and other products or services, which may be utilized by the General Partner, the Investment Manager and their respective affiliates in connection with the services they offer to clients other than the Partnership. The use of soft dollars presents the Investment Manager with potential conflicts of interest and may provide the Investment Manager with incentives to: (i) use certain brokers who may provide certain soft dollar benefits that other brokers may not, without regard to its obligations to the Partnership (including, without limitation, its best execution obligations); or (ii) trade more actively in order to generate more soft dollars and thereby reduce its expenses.

Referral of Investors. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may sell Interests through broker-dealers and pay a marketing fee or commission in connection with such activities, including ongoing payments, at the General Partner's or the Investment Manager's own expense. The General Partner and/or the Investment Manager may also deduct a percentage of the amount invested by a Limited Partner in the Partnership to pay sales fees or charges, on a fully disclosed basis, to a broker-dealer based upon the capital contribution of such Limited Partner introduced to the Partnership by such broker-dealer. Any such sales fees or charges would be assessed against the referred Limited Partner and would reduce the amount actually invested by such Limited Partner in the Partnership. Such broker-dealers may have a conflict of interest in advising prospective investors to purchase Interests, as the broker-dealers are often only compensated upon the investment of the prospective investors.

Lack of Separate Representation; Potential Conflicts of Counsel. Neither the Partnership Agreement nor any of the agreements, contracts and arrangements between the Partnership, on the one hand, and the General Partner or the Investment Manager, on the other hand, were or will be the result of arm's-length negotiations. The attorneys, accountants and others who have performed services for the Partnership in connection with this offering, and who will perform services for the Partnership in the future, have been and will be selected by the General Partner. No independent counsel has been retained to represent the interests of prospective investors or Limited Partners. You are therefore urged to consult your own counsel as to the terms and provisions of the Partnership Agreement and all subscription and other related documents.

In addition, Sadis & Goldberg LLP has represented Highland and affiliates at different times over a period lasting over a decade. It is currently expected that Sadis & Goldberg LLP will represent the General Partner, the Investment Manager, the Principal and certain of their respective affiliates in connection with the establishment of the Partnership and the PE Portfolio Fund, the possible consummation of the Highland Transaction, and certain related matters. The Principal and his affiliates are aware of the representation by Sadis & Goldberg LLP of Highland and affiliates.

Valuation of Assets. The Administrator will calculate the net asset value of the Partnership (based upon information provided by the Investment Manager). In the case of investments in Portfolio Funds that are not readily marketable, the net asset value calculation provided by the relevant managers (or any affiliates or service providers thereof) of those Portfolio Funds will generally be used in determining the Partnership's Net Asset Value. Such calculations could be incorrect, delayed or subject to significant adjustments, any of which events could adversely affect the valuation of the Partnership's investments. The Investment Manager intends to engage an independent third-party valuation agent (in addition to the Administrator) to appraise the Partnership's interests in Illiquid Investments, including, without limitation, the PE Portfolio Fund; provided that, if the PE Portfolio Fund engages its own independent third-party valuation agent, the Partnership may rely on such valuation of any investment in the PE Portfolio Fund. If the Investment Manager determines, in its sole discretion, that the valuation of any security, commodity, option or other financial instrument pursuant to the valuation methodologies described herein does not fairly represent its market value, the Investment Manager will value such security, option or other financial instrument as it reasonably determines. Likewise, any securities, commodities, options and other financial instruments that have no public market, investments in other asset classes (including those in Side Pocket Accounts), and all other assets of the Partnership for which a valuation methodology is not specified, will be valued by the Investment Manager in a manner determined in good faith to reflect their fair market value. The Investment Manager has a conflict of interest in that it will receive a higher Management Fee if the Partnership's assets are given a favorable valuation. See "SUMMARY OF OFFERING AND PARTNERSHIP TERMS—Determination of Net Asset Value".

The foregoing list of risk factors and conflicts of interest does not purport to be a complete enumeration or explanation of the risks and conflicts of interest involved in an investment in the Partnership. Offerees should read this entire Memorandum and the Partnership Agreement and consult with their own advisors before deciding to purchase Interests.

ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

An investment of benefit plan assets in the Partnership may raise issues under ERISA and the Code. ERISA and the Code impose certain duties on persons who are fiduciaries of a Plan (as defined below) and prohibit certain transactions involving the assets of a Plan and its fiduciaries or other interested parties. Under ERISA and the Code, any person who exercises any discretionary authority or control over the administration of a Plan or the management or disposition of the assets of a Plan, or who renders investment advice for a fee or other compensation to a Plan, is generally considered to be a fiduciary of the Plan.

In considering an investment in the Partnership of a portion of the assets of any employee benefit plan (including a "Keogh" plan) subject to the fiduciary and prohibited transaction provisions of ERISA or the Code or similar provisions under applicable state law (collectively, a "Plan"), a Plan fiduciary should determine, in light of the risks and limited liquidity inherent in an investment in the Partnership, whether the investment is in accordance with the documents and instruments governing the Plan and the applicable provisions of ERISA or similar law relating to a fiduciary's duties to the Plan. Furthermore, absent an exemption, the fiduciaries of a Plan should not purchase Interests with the assets of any Plan if the Investment Manager or any affiliate thereof is a fiduciary or other "party in interest" or "disqualified person" (collectively, a "party in interest") with respect to such Plan.

PLAN ASSETS

Regulations promulgated under ERISA by the U.S. Department of Labor ("Plan Asset Regulations") generally provide that when a Plan subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code acquires an equity interest in an entity that is neither a "publicly-offered security" nor a security issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act, the Plan's assets include both the equity interest and an undivided interest in each of the underlying assets of the entity, unless it is established either that equity participation in the entity by "benefit plan investors" is not "significant" or that the entity is an "operating company", in each case as defined in the Plan Asset Regulations. The Interests will not constitute "publicly offered" securities or securities issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act, and it is not expected that the Partnership will qualify as an "operating company" under the Plan Asset Regulations. For purposes of the Plan Asset Regulations, equity participation in an entity by benefit plan investors will not be "significant" so long as they own, in the aggregate less than 25%, directly or indirectly, of the value of each class of such entity's equity. For purposes of such calculation, equity interests held by persons (other than a benefit plan investor) with discretionary authority or control over the assets of the entity or who provide investment advice for a fee (direct or indirect) with respect to such assets, and any affiliates thereof, are disregarded. For purposes of this 25% test ("Benefit Plan Investor Test"), "benefit plan investors" include: employee benefit plans subject to the provisions of Part 4 of Title I of ERISA and plans subject to Section 4975 of the Code, including "Keogh" plans and individual retirement accounts ("IRAs"). The following are not included in the definition of benefit plan investor: employee benefit plans maintained outside the U.S. by foreign companies that cover non-U.S. persons, governmental plans, and certain church plans. Thus, absent satisfaction of another exception under the Plan Asset Regulations, if 25% or more of the value of any class of Interests in the Partnership were owned by benefit plan investors, an undivided interest in each of the underlying assets of the Partnership would be deemed to be "plan assets" of any Plan subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code that invested in the Partnership.

Consequently, the General Partner intends to use reasonable efforts either (i) to prohibit plans subject to Title I of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code from investing in the Partnership or (ii) to provide that investment by "benefit plan investors" in the Partnership will not be "significant" for purposes of the Plan Asset Regulations by limiting equity participation by benefit plan investors in the Partnership to less than 25% of the value of each class of Interests in the Partnership as described above. However, each Plan fiduciary should be aware that even if the Partnership were to avoid plan asset status under the Benefit Plan Investor Test at the time a Plan acquires Interests in the Partnership, the exemption could become unavailable at a later date as a result, for example, of subsequent transfers or withdrawals of Interests in the Partnership, and that Interests held by benefit plan investors may be subject to mandatory withdrawal in such event in order for the Partnership to continue to avoid plan asset status under the Benefit Plan Investor Test.

Furthermore, there can be no assurance that notwithstanding the reasonable efforts of the Partnership, the Partnership will satisfy the Benefit Plan Investor Test, that the structure of particular investments of the Partnership will otherwise satisfy the Plan Asset Regulations or that the underlying assets of the Partnership will not otherwise be deemed to include ERISA plan assets.

PLAN ASSET CONSEQUENCES

If the assets of the Partnership were deemed to be "plan assets" under ERISA, (i) the prudence and other fiduciary responsibility standards of ERISA would extend to investments made by the Partnership and (ii) certain transactions in which the Partnership might seek to engage could constitute "prohibited transactions" under ERISA and the Code. If a prohibited transaction occurs for which no exemption is available, the Investment Manager and any other fiduciary that has engaged in the prohibited transaction could be required (x) to restore to the Plan any profit realized on the transaction and (y) to reimburse the Plan for any losses suffered by the Plan as a result of the investment. In addition, each party in interest involved could be subject to an excise tax equal to 15% of the amount involved in the prohibited transaction for each year the transaction continues and, unless the transaction is corrected within statutorily required periods, to an additional tax of 100%. Plan fiduciaries that decide to invest in the Partnership could, under certain circumstances, be liable for prohibited transactions or other violations as a result of their investment in the Partnership or as co-fiduciaries for actions taken by or on behalf of the Partnership or the Investment Manager. With respect to an IRA that invests in the Partnership, the occurrence of a prohibited transaction involving the individual who established the IRA, or his or her beneficiaries, could cause the IRA to lose its tax-exempt status.

Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner has the power to take certain actions to avoid having the assets of the Partnership characterized as plan assets, including, without limitation, the right to refuse a subscription, exclude a Limited Partner from an investment or to compulsorily redeem a Limited Partner's Interests in the Partnership. While the General Partner does not expect that it will need to exercise such power, it cannot give any assurance that such power will not be exercised.

Each Plan fiduciary should consult its own legal advisor concerning the considerations discussed above before making an investment in the Partnership.

Prospective investors are advised that: (i) any U.S. federal tax advice contained herein, including any opinion of counsel referred to herein, is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used, by any taxpayer for the purpose of avoiding U.S. federal tax penalties that may be imposed on the taxpayer; (ii) any such advice is written to support the promotion or marketing of the transactions described herein (or in any such opinion of counsel); and (iii) each taxpayer should seek advice based on the taxpayer's particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

INTRODUCTION

The following is a summary of certain aspects of the taxation of the Partnership and its Partners, which should be considered by a potential purchaser of an Interest in the Partnership. A complete discussion of all tax aspects of an investment in the Partnership is beyond the scope of this Memorandum. The following summary is only intended to identify and discuss certain salient issues.

This summary of certain tax considerations applicable to the Partnership is considered to be a correct interpretation of existing laws and regulations in force on the date of this Memorandum. No assurance can be given that changes in existing laws or regulations or their interpretation will not occur after the date of this Memorandum or that any such future guidance or interpretation will not be applied retroactively.

The following summary is not intended as a substitute for careful tax planning. The tax matters relating to the Partnership are complex and are subject to varying interpretations. Moreover, the effect of existing income tax laws and of proposed changes in income tax laws on Partners will vary with the particular circumstances of each Partner. Accordingly, each prospective investor must consult with and rely solely on his or its professional tax advisors with respect to the tax results of the investor's investment in the Partnership. In no event will the General Partner, its affiliates, counsel or other professional advisors be liable to any Limited Partner for any federal, state, local or other tax consequences of an investment in the Partnership, whether or not such consequences are as described below.

CLASSIFICATION OF THE PARTNERSHIP

Under the provisions of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder ("Regulations"), as in effect on the date of this Memorandum, so long as the Partnership complies with the Partnership Agreement, the Partnership should be classified for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a partnership and not as an association taxable as a corporation.

The Partnership has been formed under the Delaware Act as a series limited partnership and may offering its Interests in multiple separate Series. Under the provisions of the Code and the Regulations, as in effect on the date of this Memorandum, so long as the Partnership complies with the Partnership Agreement and the Delaware Act, each Series of Interests in the Partnership should be classified for U.S. federal income tax purposes as equity interests in a separate partnership and not as equity interests in an association taxable as a corporation.

The Partnership has not sought and will not seek a ruling from the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") with respect to its status as a partnership. If a Series of Interests in the Partnership should be classified as an association taxable as a corporation (e.g., as a result of a change in law or a material change in facts), the taxable income of the Partnership allocable to such Series would be subject to corporate income taxation; and distributions from the Partnership to the Limited Partners owning Interests in such Series would be treated as dividend income when received by such Limited Partners to the extent of the current or accumulated earnings and profits of the Partnership allocable to such Series. Furthermore, the Insurance Company Limited Partners would lose their look-through treatment for the purposes of complying with the diversification requirements imposed by Section 817(h) of the Code.

Certain partnerships may be taxable as corporations for U.S. federal income tax purposes under the publicly traded partnership rules set forth in the Code and the Regulations, and a Series of the Partnership may not qualify for one of the safe harbors under the Regulations if such Series has more than 100 Partners. The Partnership expects that, under the facts and circumstances test set forth in the Regulations, the Interests will not be readily tradable on a secondary market (or the substantial equivalent thereof) and therefore, the Series partnerships will not be treated as publicly traded partnerships under the Regulations. It is assumed in the following discussion of tax considerations that each Series of the Partnership will be treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Unless otherwise indicated, references in the discussion below to the tax consequences of the "Partnership's" investments, activities, income and expenses refer to the investments, activities, income and expenses attributable to each Series that is treated as a separate tax partnership. Prospective investors should note that each Series will issue its annual Schedule K-1 tax reporting form to its Partners. Therefore, investors that own Interests in more than one Series will receive separate Schedule K-1 reporting forms for each Series in which the investor is treated as owning an equity interest.

TAXATION OF PARTNERSHIP OPERATIONS

As a partnership, the Partnership is not itself subject to U.S. federal income tax but will file an annual partnership information return with the IRS. Each Limited Partner, in computing his own federal income tax liability for a taxable year, is required to take into account such Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's net long-term capital gain or loss, net short-term capital gain or loss, net ordinary income or loss and any separately stated income items, deductions and credits for the taxable year of the Partnership that ends with or within such Partner's taxable year. The Partnership may utilize a variety of investment and trading strategies, which produce both short-term and long-term capital gain (or loss), as well as ordinary income (or loss). The Partnership will send annually to each Limited Partner a Schedule K-1 form reporting such Partner's distributive share of the Partnership items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. The Partnership intends to use the calendar year as its taxable year unless a different fiscal year is required under the Code.

Each Limited Partner will be subject to tax, and liable for such tax, on such Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's taxable income regardless of whether the Limited Partner has received or will receive any distribution of cash from the Partnership. Thus, in any particular year, a Limited Partner's distributive share of taxable income from the Partnership (and, generally, the taxes imposed on that income) could exceed the amount of cash, if any, such Limited Partner received or is entitled to withdraw from the Partnership.

Under Section 704 of the Code, a Limited Partner's distributive share of any Partnership item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit is governed by the Partnership Agreement unless the allocation provided by the Partnership Agreement does not have "substantial economic effect". The Regulations promulgated under Section 704(b) of the Code provide certain "safe harbors" with respect to allocations, which, under the Regulations, will be deemed to have substantial economic effect. The validity of an allocation which does not satisfy any of the "safe harbors" of these Regulations is determined by taking into account all facts and circumstances relating to the economic arrangements among the Partners. While no assurance can be given, the allocations provided by the Partnership Agreement should have substantial economic effect and should be sustained under the facts and circumstances test. However, if it were determined by the IRS or otherwise that the allocations provided in the Partnership Agreement with respect to a particular item do not have substantial economic effect, each Limited Partner's distributive share of that item would be determined for tax purposes in accordance with that Limited Partner's interest in the Partnership, taking into account all facts and circumstances.

Cash distributions and withdrawals, to the extent they do not exceed a Limited Partner's tax basis in such Partner's interest in the Partnership, should not result in taxable gain to that Limited Partner, but reduce the tax basis in the Interest by the amount distributed or withdrawn. Cash distributed to a Limited Partner in excess of the tax basis of his or its Interest is generally taxable either as capital gain or ordinary income, depending on the circumstances. A distribution of property other than cash generally will not result in taxable income or loss to the Limited Partner to whom it is distributed until such time that the property is sold.

For financial statement presentation and capital account maintenance purposes, all securities held by the Partnership will be marked-to-market at the end of each relevant accounting period and the net gain or loss from marking to market will be reported as income or loss. This treatment differs from the general tax rule applicable to many securities transactions that a transaction does not result in gain or loss until it is closed by an actual sale or other disposition. The divergence between such accounting and tax treatments frequently may result in substantial variation between financial statement income (or loss) and taxable income (or loss) reported by the Partnership.

The income tax treatment of the Partnership will depend upon the tax treatment of the Portfolio Funds in which the Partnership invests.

The Partnership expects to be treated as engaged in a trade or business by reason of its anticipated investment, on behalf of Series 1, in the PE Portfolio Fund, which will own equity interests in one or more business partnerships. The Partnership may also engage in other trade or business activities, either directly or through investments in portfolio partnerships. Prospective investors that are U.S. tax-exempt entities should consider the impact of UBTI on an investment in the Partnership. See "—Tax-Exempt Investors" below.

The Partnership will also engage in investing and trading securities for its own account. Accordingly, a portion of the Partnership's direct and indirect expenses are expected to be deductible as trade or business expenses under Section 162 of the Code. Certain other expenses may be classified as Section 212 investment expenses, which, for certain types of Limited Partners, including trusts, would be classified as miscellaneous itemized deductions. Prospective investors that are classified as trusts for U.S. federal income tax purposes should consult their tax advisors concerning the limitations in the Code on deductions for miscellaneous itemized deductions.

LIMITATIONS ON LOSSES AND DEDUCTIONS

In General. A Limited Partner is not permitted to deduct Partnership losses that exceed the Partner's adjusted tax basis in its Interest at the end of the year in which such loss is incurred. A Limited Partner's basis for its Interest is generally equal the amount of such Partner's cash contributions made to the Partnership, increased by (i) the Partner's allocable share of Partnership taxable income, (ii) the Partner's allocable share of Partnership tax-exempt income, and (iii) the Partner's allocable share of nonrecourse liabilities of the Partnership (if any); and decreased by (w) the Limited Partner's allocable share of Partnership taxable losses and non-deductible expenses, (x) any distributions of cash received by the Limited Partner from the Partnership, (y) the tax basis of any property distributed by the Partnership to such Partner and (z) any decrease in the Partner's share of Partnership nonrecourse liabilities (if any). There are several other Code provisions that may limit the ability of a Limited Partner to claim deductions attributable to an investment in the Partnership. The most significant of these limitations are discussed below.

At Risk Limitations. Section 465 of the Code limits certain taxpayers' losses from certain activities to the amount they are "at risk" in the activities. Taxpayers subject to the "at risk" rules are non-corporate taxpayers, including trusts, and certain closely-held corporations. The activities subject to the "at risk" limitations include all activities in which the Partnership expects to engage. A Partner subject to the "at risk" rules will not be permitted to deduct in any year losses arising from its interest in the Partnership to the extent that the losses exceed the amount it is considered to have "at risk" in the Partnership at the close of that year.

A taxpayer is considered to be "at risk" in any activity to the extent of his cash contribution to the activity, his basis in other property contributed to the activity and his personal liability for repayments of amounts borrowed for use in the activity. With respect to amounts borrowed for use in the activity, the taxpayer is not considered to be "at risk" even if he is personally liable for repayment if the borrowing was from a person who has an "interest" in the activity other than an interest as a creditor. Even if a taxpayer is personally liable for repayment of amounts borrowed for use in the activity, and even if the amount borrowed is borrowed from a person whose only interest in the activity is an interest as a creditor, a taxpayer will not be considered "at risk" in the activity to the extent his investment in the activity is protected against loss through guarantees, stop loss agreements, or other similar arrangements.

Each Limited Partner will be at risk initially for the amount of his capital contribution. A Partner's amount "at risk" will be increased by his distributive share of income from the Partnership and will be decreased by his distributive share of losses from the Partnership and distributions to him. If a Partner's amount "at risk" decreases to zero, he can take no further losses until he has an "at risk" amount to cover the losses. A Partner is subject to a recapture of losses previously allowed to the extent that his amount "at risk" is reduced below zero (limited to loss amounts previously allowed to the Partner over any amounts previously recaptured).

Investment Interest Limitations. To the extent that the Partnership incurs interest expense or short sale expenses, a non-corporate Limited Partner, including a trust, will likely be subject to the "investment interest expense" limitations of Section 163(d) of the Code. Investment interest expense includes (i) interest paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry property held for investment and (ii) any amounts deductible in connection with a short sale. The deduction for investment interest expense is limited to the taxpayer's net investment income for the taxable year; i.e., the excess of investment income over investment expenses. Excess investment interest expense that is disallowed is not lost permanently but may be carried forward to succeeding years subject to the Section 163(d) limitation. Net capital gain (i.e., net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss) on property held for investment and qualified dividends are only included in investment income to the extent that the taxpayer elects to subject some or all of such gain or dividend income to taxation at ordinary income tax rates. The Section 163(d) limitations will apply at the Partner level with regard to the Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's interest expense.

To the extent that the Partnership is treated as engaged in a trade or business by reason of being deemed a trader, a non-corporate Limited Partner's share of the Partnership's interest expense from such trading activity would retain its character as investment interest subject to the Section 163(d) investment income limitation, but the allowable investment interest deduction would be deducted "above the line" in determining adjusted gross income and therefore fully deductible, rather than being treated as an itemized deduction.

Section 265(a)(2) of the Code disallows any deduction for interest paid by a taxpayer on indebtedness incurred or continued for the purpose of purchasing or carrying tax-exempt obligations. The IRS has announced that such purpose will be deemed to exist with respect to indebtedness incurred to finance a "portfolio investment", and that a limited partnership interest will be regarded as a "portfolio investment". Therefore, if the Partnership holds tax-exempt obligations, the IRS might take the position that all or part of the interest expense incurred by a Limited Partner in connection with the purchase of such Partner's Interest should be viewed as incurred to enable such Limited Partner to continue carrying tax-exempt obligations, and that such Limited Partner should not be allowed to deduct all or a portion of such interest.

Itemized Deduction Limitations. Under Section 67 of the Code, for non-corporate taxpayers, including trusts, certain miscellaneous itemized deductions are allowable only to the extent they exceed a "floor" amount equal to 2% of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income ("2% Floor"). To the extent that the Partnership's operations do not constitute a trade or business within the meaning of Section 162 and other provisions of the Code, a non-corporate Limited Partner's distributive share of the Partnership's investment expenses, other than investment interest expense, would be deductible only as miscellaneous itemized deductions, subject to the 2% Floor. Moreover, a non-corporate taxpayer's investment expenses that are miscellaneous itemized deductions are also not deductible in calculating the taxpayer's alternative minimum tax liability.

Capital losses generally may be deducted only to the extent of capital gains, except for non-corporate taxpayers who are allowed to deduct $3,000 of excess capital losses per year against ordinary income. Corporate taxpayers may carry back unused capital losses for three years and may carry forward such losses for five years; non-corporate taxpayers may not carry back unused capital losses but may carry forward unused capital losses indefinitely.

ADDITIONAL TAX ISSUES

Gain or loss from a short sale of property is generally considered as capital gain or loss to the extent that the property used to close the short sale constitutes a capital asset in the Partnership's hands.

The "wash sale" rules of Section 1091 of the Code disallow any deduction for losses arising from the sale or other disposition of "stock or securities", where, within a period beginning 30 days before such sale or disposition and ending 30 days afterwards, the taxpayer acquires "substantially identical" stocks of securities by purchase or by an exchange on which the entire amount of gain or loss is recognized. This disallowance rule also applies where, within such 61-day period, the taxpayer enters into a contract or option to acquire substantially identical stock or securities. Thus, if the Partnership were to engage in such a "wash sale" transaction, the Partners would not be able to recognize their distributive share of any loss realized in connection with such sale in the current year.

Currency Fluctuations - "Section 988" Gains and Losses. To the extent that the Partnership's investments are made in securities denominated in a foreign currency, gain or loss realized by the Partnership frequently will be affected by the fluctuation in the value of such foreign currencies relative to the value of the U.S. dollar. Generally, gains or losses with respect to the Partnership's investments in common stock of foreign issuers will be taxed as capital gains or losses at the time of the Partnership's sale of such stock. However, under Section 988 of the Code, gains or losses of the Partnership on the acquisition or disposition of foreign currency (i.e., the purchase of foreign currency and subsequent use of such currency to acquire stock) will be treated as ordinary income or loss. Moreover, under Section 988, gains and losses from disposition of debt securities denominated in a foreign currency that are attributable to the fluctuations in such currency between the date of acquisition of the debt security and the date of its disposition will be treated as ordinary income or loss. Since the Code provides limitations on the ability of taxpayers to deduct capital losses against ordinary income, a Partner's share of capital losses realized by the Partnership on sale of foreign securities would not be available to offset the Partner's share of ordinary income realized by the Partnership on its currency hedging transactions.

The Partnership may acquire foreign currency forward contracts, enter into foreign currency futures contracts and acquire put and call options on foreign currencies. Generally, foreign currency regulated futures contracts and option contracts that qualify as "Section 1256 contracts" will not be subject to ordinary income and loss treatment under Section 988. However, if the Partnership acquires currency futures contracts or options contracts that are not Section 1256 contracts, or any currency forward contracts, any gain or loss realized by the Partnership with respect to such instruments will be ordinary income or loss, unless (i) the contract is a capital asset in the hands of the Partnership and is not part of a straddle transaction and (ii) the Partnership makes an election (by the close of the day the transaction is entered into) to treat the gain or loss attributable to such contract as capital gain or loss.

The taxation of debt obligations under the Code is complex; the following discussion is intended to provide only a general description of these rules. Generally, interest income and income items similar to stated interest, such as original issue discount (in general, the annual portion of the discount on original issuance of debt obligations issued for less than their stated principal amount) and market discount (the amount by which debt obligations are acquired in the secondary market for less than their principal) are treated as items of ordinary income. Generally, debt obligations that are disposed of in a taxable transaction for an amount greater than their adjusted cost basis give rise to capital gain, which will be long-term if the debt obligation is held for longer than one year, and short-term, if held for a period of one year or less. Generally, debt obligations that are disposed of in a taxable transaction for an amount less than their adjusted cost basis give rise to capital loss, which will be long-term if the debt obligation is held for longer than one year, and short-term if held for a period of one year or less. In the event that any such debt obligations are not held as capital assets, such dispositions will generally give rise to ordinary gain or loss, as the case may be.

Section 1259 of the Code requires that the Partnership recognize gain on the constructive sale of any appreciated financial position in stock, a partnership interest, or certain debt instruments. A constructive sale of an appreciated financial position occurs if, among other things, the Partnership enters into (1) a short sale of the same or substantially identical property (a transaction commonly known as a “short sale against the box”), (2) an offsetting notional principal contract with respect to the same or substantially identical property, or (3) a futures or forward contract to deliver the same or substantially identical property. Exceptions to the foregoing apply to certain transactions closed within 30 days after the close of the taxable year if the underlying appreciated financial position remains “unhedged” for at least 60 days thereafter, and to transactions involving certain contracts to sell stock, debt instruments, or partnership interests if the contract settles within one year.

The IRS may treat certain positions in securities held (directly or indirectly) by a Partner and its indirect interest in similar securities held by the Partnership as “straddles” for federal income tax purposes. The application of the "straddle" rules in such a case could affect a Partner's holding period for the securities involved and may defer the recognition of losses with respect to such securities. In addition, if either of the Partner's positions in such a transaction is an “appreciated financial position”, application of the “straddle” rules may trigger a constructive sale of that position under the rules described above.

Section 1258 of the Code recharacterizes capital gain from a “conversion transaction” as ordinary income, with certain limitations. Conversion transactions are defined as transactions in which substantially all the expected return is attributable to the time value of money and either: (a) the transaction consists of the acquisition of property by the taxpayer and a substantially contemporaneous agreement to sell the same or substantially identical property in the future; (b) the transaction qualifies as a “straddle” (within the meaning of Section 1092(c) of the Code); (c) the transaction is one that was marketed or sold to the taxpayer on the basis that it would have the economic characteristics of a loan but the interest-like return would be taxed as capital gain; or (d) the transaction is described as a conversion transaction in the Regulations. The amount of gain so recharacterized will not exceed the amount of interest that would have accrued on the taxpayers' net investment for the relevant period at a yield equal to 120% of the “applicable rate”.

INVESTMENTS IN NON-U.S. CORPORATIONS

The Partnership may invest in certain foreign corporations that will be classified as “passive foreign investment companies” (“PFICs”) for U.S. tax purposes. Under the PFIC rules, unless the Partnership makes one of the elections described below, any gain realized by the Partnership on the sale or disposition of stock in a PFIC that is allocable to Partners that are U.S. Persons (as defined in the Code) will be treated as ordinary income and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax as if (i) the gain had been realized ratably over the Partnership’s holding period and (ii) the amount deemed realized had been subject to tax in each year of that holding period at the highest applicable federal income tax rate; in addition, an interest charge at the rate generally applicable to underpayments of federal income tax will be imposed on the amount. Further, any “excess distributions” from a PFIC (as defined in the Regulations) are treated as ordinary income (regardless of their original character) and subject to this deferred tax and interest charge.

Provided the PFIC complies with certain reporting requirements, the Partnership may elect to have the PFIC treated as a "qualified electing fund", in which case the Partnership would include annually in its gross income its pro rata share of the PFIC's net ordinary income and net realized capital gains, whether or not such amounts are actually distributed to the Partnership. Generally, any net operating losses or net capital losses of the PFIC will not pass through to the Partnership and will not offset any ordinary income or capital gains of the PFIC reportable to the Partnership in subsequent years. Alternatively, the Partnership could elect to "mark-to-market" stock in certain PFICs if such stock is considered "marketable stock" under the Code, and thereby avoid being subject to the deferred tax and interest charge discussed above. However, there can be no assurance that the Partnership will be able to make either of these elections with respect to any PFICs in which it invests. Further, Limited Partners may be subject to IRS reporting requirements with respect to the Partnership's investments in PFICs.

The Partnership may also invest in certain foreign corporations that will be considered "controlled foreign corporations" ("CFCs") for U.S. tax purposes. A CFC is a non-U.S. corporation in which certain U.S. shareholders own, directly or indirectly, more than 50% of either the total voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or the total value of all classes of stock. Under the CFC rules, certain U.S. shareholders are subject to U.S. federal income tax on certain types of income (generally passive income) realized by the CFC regardless of whether any amounts are distributed from the CFC to such U.S. shareholder. Further, such U.S. shareholders may be subject to IRS reporting requirements with respect to investments in CFCs.

In addition, if the Partnership invests in stock of foreign corporations that become PFICs or CFCs after the Partnership has made such investment, this may also result in adverse tax consequences for the Limited Partners that are U.S. Persons and may subject them to IRS reporting requirements with respect to such investments.

TAX-EXEMPT INVESTORS

If the Partnership derives income which would be considered "unrelated business taxable income" (as defined in Section 512 of the Code) ("UBTI"), if derived directly by a Limited Partner that is a qualified retirement plan or other organization exempt from tax under Sections 401 or 501(a) of the Code or an individual retirement account ("IRA") exempt under Section 408(e) of the Code (each, a "Tax-Exempt Entity"), such Limited Partner's allocable share of such Partnership income would be subject to tax. A Tax-Exempt Entity which is subject to tax on its allocable share of the Partnership's UBTI, including an IRA, may also be subject to the alternative minimum tax with respect to items of tax preference which enter into the computation of UBTI.

UBTI is generally the excess of gross income from any unrelated trade or business conducted by a Tax-Exempt Entity (or by a partnership of which the Tax-Exempt Entity is a member) over the deductions attributable to such trade or business. UBTI generally does not include certain passive income, including dividends, interest, annuities, royalties and gain or loss from the disposition of property held for investment, unless such income items are debt-financed income (as discussed below).

While UBTI itself is taxable, the receipt of UBTI by a Tax-Exempt Entity generally has no effect upon that entity's tax-exempt status or upon the exemption from tax of its other income. However, for certain types of Tax-Exempt Entities, the receipt of any UBTI may have extremely adverse consequences. In particular, for charitable remainder trusts (as defined under Section 664 of the Code), the receipt of any taxable income from UBTI during a taxable year will result in the imposition of an excise tax equal to the amount of such UBTI.

A Tax-Exempt Entity also includes in its UBTI its "unrelated debt-financed income" (and its allocable share of the "unrelated debt-financed income" of any partnership in which it invests) pursuant to Section 514 of the Code. In general, unrelated debt-financed income consists of: (i) income derived by a Tax-Exempt Entity (directly or through a partnership) from income producing property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness" at any time during the taxable year; and (ii) gains derived by a Tax-Exempt Entity (directly or through a partnership) from the disposition of property with respect to which there is "acquisition indebtedness". Acquisition indebtedness is generally defined as debt incurred to purchase or carry an investment. Such income and gains derived by a Tax-Exempt Entity from the ownership and sale of debt-financed property are taxable in the proportion to which such property is financed by acquisition indebtedness during the relevant period of time.

Income From the Partnership's Private Equity Investments. The Investment Manager will invest a substantial portion of the Partnership's Series 1 assets in the PE Portfolio Fund, and such partnership expects to invest in equity interests of other partnerships which will be engaged in business activities. It is anticipated that such portfolio companies may also use borrowed funds to acquire property. Accordingly, Limited Partners that are Tax-Exempt Entities should anticipate that a substantial portion, and possibly all, of their distributive share of the Partnership's net income realized from ownership of equity interests in such portfolio companies, including gain realized upon sales of such equity investments, will be subject to federal income tax as UBTI.

Income From the Partnership's Other Activities. The Investment Manager expects that the Partnership will incur indebtedness in connection with its operations from time to time. The law is not entirely clear regarding the appropriate method to be used to determine what portion of a tax-exempt Limited Partner's share of the Partnership's income is attributable to debt financing and therefore constitutes "debt-financed income". Accordingly while the Partnership will compute each tax-exempt Limited Partner's share of "debt-financed income" from the Partnership in a manner which the Partnership considers to be reasonable, there can be no assurance that the IRS will accept the method of computation used by the Partnership.

Tax-exempt Limited Partners will also realize UBTI if the Partnership acquires equity interests of publicly traded partnerships or private partnerships that are engaged in trade or business activities or the Partnership directly carries on other trade or business activities (other than as a securities trader).

OTHER TAXES

Partners may be subject to other taxes, such as the alternative minimum tax, state and local income taxes, and estate, inheritance or intangible property taxes that may be imposed by various jurisdictions. Each prospective investor should consider the potential consequences of such taxes due to an investment in the Partnership. It is the responsibility of each prospective investor to become satisfied as to the legal and tax consequences of an investment in the Partnership under state law, including the laws of the state(s) of its, his or her domicile and residence, by obtaining advice from such investor's own tax advisors, and to file all appropriate tax returns that may be required.

Income received by the Partnership from sources within non-U.S. countries may be subject to withholding and other taxes imposed by such countries. Each Partner may be entitled either to deduct (as an itemized deduction) such Partner's proportionate share of the non-U.S. taxes of the Partnership in computing such Partner's taxable income or to use the amount as a foreign tax credit against his or its U.S. federal income tax liability, subject to limitations. Generally, a credit for non-U.S. taxes is subject to the limitation that it may not exceed the taxpayer's U.S. tax attributable to his or its non-U.S. source taxable income. With respect to Partners that are U.S. Persons: (i) certain currency fluctuation gains, including fluctuation gains from non-U.S.-Dollar-denominated debt securities, receivables and payables, will be treated as ordinary income derived from U.S. sources; and (ii) Partnership gains from the sale of securities also will be treated as derived from U.S. sources. The limitation on the foreign tax credit is applied separately to non-U.S. source passive income (as defined for purposes of the foreign tax credit), including the non-U.S. source passive income realized by the Partnership. The foreign tax credit limitation rules do not apply to certain electing individual taxpayers who have limited creditable non-U.S. taxes and no non-U.S. source income other than passive investment-type income. The foreign tax credit generally is eliminated with respect to non-U.S. taxes withheld on income and gain if the Partnership fails to satisfy minimum holding period requirements with respect to the property giving rise to the income and gain.

TAX ELECTIONS; RETURNS; TAX AUDITS

If the General Partner determines that the Partnership is treated as a securities trader for federal income tax purposes, the General Partner may cause the Partnership to elect to "mark-to-market" its securities at the end of each taxable year, in which case such securities would be treated for federal income tax purposes as though sold for fair market value on the last business day of such taxable year. Such an election under Code Section 475(f) would apply to the taxable year for which made and all subsequent taxable years unless revoked with the consent of the IRS. If the Partnership were to make such an election, all or a portion of the Partnership's gains and losses would be considered ordinary income or loss, rather than capital gain or loss. Since for federal income tax purposes capital losses generally may be deducted only against capital gains, a Limited Partner may be unable to deduct capital losses realized from other investments and transactions in a taxable year against his share of the Partnership's income.

The Code provides for optional adjustments to the basis of partnership property upon distributions of partnership property to a partner and transfers of partnership interests (including by reason of death); provided that a partnership election has been made pursuant to Section 754 of the Code. Under the Partnership Agreement, the General Partner, in its sole discretion, may cause the Partnership to make such an election. Any such election, once made, cannot be revoked without the IRS's consent. The General Partner also has the authority and sole discretion to make or refrain from making other tax elections that are available to the Partnership.

Additionally, even if a partnership has not made a Section 754 election, Section 743 of the Code provides for a mandatory basis adjustment to partnership property on certain transfers of partnership interests (including transfers by reason of death), if the partnership has a "substantial built-in loss" immediately after such transfer. A partnership is treated as having a "substantial built-in loss" if the partnership's adjusted basis in partnership property exceeds the property's fair market value by more than $250,000. Section 734 of the Code also provides for mandatory basis adjustments in the case of certain property distributions to partners. Such Code provisions could cause the Partnership to decrease the basis of its remaining assets in such circumstances.

The General Partner will decide how to report partnership items on the Partnership's tax returns and all Limited Partners are required to treat such tax items consistently on their own returns, unless they file a statement with the IRS disclosing the inconsistency. Since the Partnership may engage in transactions whose treatment for tax purposes is not clear, there is a risk that a claim of tax liability could be asserted against the Partnership or its Partners. In the event that the income tax returns of the Partnership are audited by the IRS, the tax treatment of Partnership income and deductions generally is determined at the partnership level in a single proceeding rather than by individual audits of the Partners. As the "Tax Matters Partner", the General Partner has considerable authority to make decisions affecting the tax treatment and procedural rights of all Partners. In addition, the Tax Matters Partner has the authority to bind certain Partners to settlement agreements and the right on behalf of all Partners to extend the statute of limitations relating to the Partners' tax liabilities with respect to Partnership items. The General Partner may, in its sole discretion, consult with, and rely upon, the Partnership's auditors and their determinations or advice as to tax and/or accounting matters.

It is possible that the Partnership and or certain transactions executed by the Partnership would be subject to tax shelter disclosure registration and listing requirements under applicable U.S. tax laws and regulations.

PFIC Reporting. The Code provides that each U.S. Person (as defined herein) that is a direct or indirect shareholder of a PFIC (generally, an investment corporation organized under the laws of a foreign jurisdiction) is required to file an annual information return containing such information as the IRS may require. Limited Partners would be indirect shareholders of stock in any PFICs owned by the Partnership, and would satisfy such filing requirement (if applicable to such Partner) by completing a copy of IRS Form 8621 for the reportable PFIC investment and submitting such forms to the IRS with the Partner's federal income tax return.

FATCA Withholding and Compliance. The provisions of the Code known as the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act ("FATCA") provide that a 30% withholding tax will be imposed on payments of U.S.-source dividends and interest (and certain other items of U.S.-source income) to certain foreign financial entities, and beginning on January 1, 2017 with regard to other withholdable payments (including gross proceeds from the sale of property that give rise to U.S.-source, interest or dividends), unless the foreign financial entity has registered with the IRS and agreed to provide specified U.S. tax information concerning "specified U.S. persons" that own interests in the foreign entity. The Partnership is a withholding agent with respect to such withholding taxes that may be imposed on any of its Partners. U.S. and non-U.S. Partners will be required to furnish appropriate documentation certifying as to their U.S. or non-U.S. tax status, together with such other additional tax information as the Partnership may from time to time request. Limited Partners that are "non-financial foreign entities" (as defined in Code Section 1472) are required to certify whether they have any "substantial United States owners" and, if so, to disclose the identity and tax identification numbers of such persons to the Partnership. Failure to provide such information may subject a Limited Partner to withholding taxes or mandatory withdrawal of its entire interest in the Partnership. Limited Partners are encouraged to consult with their own tax advisors regarding the possible impact of the FATCA legislation on their investment in the Partnership.

OTHER MATTERS

The Partnership may incur certain expenses in connection with its organization and the marketing of the Interests. Amounts paid or incurred to organize the Partnership are being amortized, for tax purposes, over a period of 180 months from the date the Partnership commenced operations. Amounts paid or incurred to market interests in a partnership (marketing and syndication expenses) are not deductible or amortizable.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS FOR PARTNERS THAT ARE NOT U.S. PERSONS

A "U.S. Person" is (a) a citizen or resident of the United States, (b) a corporation, partnership, or other entity organized under the laws of the United States, any state, or the District of Columbia, other than a partnership that is not treated as a U.S. Person under the Regulations, (c) an estate whose income is subject to United States income tax, regardless of its source, or (d) a trust if a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. Persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust. In addition, to the extent provided in the Regulations, "U.S. Person" includes certain trusts in existence on August 20, 1996, and treated as U.S. Persons prior to such date, that have elected to be treated as U.S. Persons. Partners that are not U.S. Persons are referred to below as "non-U.S. Partners".

Taxation of Effectively Connected Income. The Partnership expects to be treated for U.S. tax purposes as being engaged in the conduct of a U.S. trade or business. As a result, non-U.S. Limited Partners that acquire interests in the Partnership will generally be treated as being engaged in the conduct of a U.S. trade or business. Thus, each non-U.S. Limited Partner will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation, at graduated rates, on its distributive share of the Partnership's income, gain or loss (whether ordinary or capital) that is effectively connected with the conduct of the Partnership's U.S. trade or business ("ECI"). Such Limited Partners will be required to file annual U.S. federal income tax returns with respect to such ECI, and the Partnership will be required to withhold and remit to the U.S. Treasury a portion of the non-U.S. Limited Partner's distributive share of such ECI. The Limited Partner would be entitled to claim a credit on his U.S. federal income tax return for the amount withheld by the Partnership with respect to such ECI. Non-U.S. Limited Partners may also be required to file applicable state and local tax returns in jurisdictions in which the Partnership is engaged in business or in which its real property interests are located.

U.S. Branch Profits Tax. In the case of a Limited Partner that is a non-U.S. corporation, in addition to the regular corporate income tax that must be paid on its ECI, the Code provides for an additional 30% "branch profits" tax. The branch profits tax is 30% (or lower rate permitted by tax treaty) of the foreign corporation's "dividend equivalent amount". This is the amount of the foreign corporation's effectively connected after-tax earnings that are not reinvested in a U.S. trade or business by the end of the tax year or disinvested in a later tax year. Certain income tax treaties may reduce or eliminate the branch profits tax; however, under certain circumstances, the branch profits tax may override income tax treaty benefits.

FIRPTA. The Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act of 1980, as amended ("FIRPTA"), imposes a tax on gain realized on disposition by a foreign person of a "U.S. real property interest" ("USRPI") by treating such gain as ECI, generally giving rise to the tax consequences described above. A USRPI includes a direct investment in U.S. real estate and buildings and also investments in stock and certain types of debt interests of a U.S. corporation that is classified as a "U.S. real property holding corporation" (as defined in the Code). A USRPI held by a partnership is deemed to be held proportionately by its partners.

Taxation of Non-ECI. The Partnership also expects to realize certain types of periodic income from U.S. sources (e.g., dividends and certain types of interest) which are not classified as ECI. Each non-U.S. Limited Partner will be subject to a flat 30% withholding tax on its allocable share of the gross amount of such income. Such withholding tax is sometimes reduced or eliminated by an applicable income tax treaty, provided that the proper certification is provided by the non-U.S. Limited Partner when necessary. The applicable IRS form or forms (W-8 series) should be submitted to the Partnership by each non-U.S. Limited Partner at the time such Limited Partner acquires an Interest in the Partnership, and should be resubmitted every three years thereafter (or earlier, if the information on such form changes before such date).

Disposition of Partnership Interests. A non-U.S. Limited Partner that disposes of its Interest in the Partnership, by sale or otherwise, may be subject to U.S. federal income taxation on such disposition. A transferee of an Interest in the Partnership may be required to deduct and withhold a tax equal to 10% of the gross amount realized on such disposition. Any amount so withheld can be applied as a credit against the U.S. federal income tax liability of the non-U.S. Limited Partner and can be recovered as a refund in the event of overpayment.

U.S. Estate and Gift Taxation of Interests. Non-U.S. Limited Partners that are individuals should also be aware that Interests in the Partnership will be treated as U.S. situs property by reason of the Partnership's ownership of U.S. real property interests, and thus subject to U.S. estate taxation upon the death on a non-U.S. individual owner, or U.S. gift taxation upon a donative transfer of such Interest.

STATE TAXATION

In addition to the federal income tax consequences described above, prospective investors should consider potential state tax consequences of an investment in the Partnership. No attempt is made herein to provide a discussion of such state tax consequences. State laws often differ from federal income tax laws with respect to the treatment of specific items of income, gain, loss, deduction and credit. A Partner's distributive share of the taxable income or loss of the Partnership generally will be required to be included in determining the Partner's reportable income for state tax purposes in the jurisdiction in which such Partner a resident. Each prospective investor must consult such investor's own tax advisors regarding such state tax consequences.

FUTURE TAX LEGISLATION

Future amendments to the Code, other legislation, new or amended Regulations, administrative rulings or guidance by the IRS, or judicial decisions may adversely affect the federal income tax aspects of an investment in the Partnership, with or without advance notice, and retroactively or prospectively.

In submitting this notice, each issuer named above is:

- Notifying the SEC and/or each State in which this notice is filed of the offering of securities described and undertaking to furnish them, upon written request, in the accordance with applicable law, the information furnished to offerees.*
- Irrevocably appointing each of the Secretary of the SEC and, the Securities Administrator or other legally designated officer of the State in which the issuer maintains its principal place of business and any State in which this notice is filed, as its agents for service of process, and agreeing that these persons may accept service on its behalf, of any notice, process or pleading, and further agreeing that such service may be made by registered or certified mail, in any Federal or state action, administrative proceeding, or arbitration brought against the issuer in any place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, if the action, proceeding or arbitration (a) arises out of any activity in connection with the offering of securities that is the subject of this notice, and (b) is founded, directly or indirectly, upon the provisions of: (i) the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, the Investment Company Act of 1940, or the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, or any rule or regulation under any of these statutes, or (ii) the laws of the State in which the issuer maintains its principal place of business or any State in which this notice is filed.
- Certifying that, if the issuer is claiming a Regulation D exemption for the offering, the issuer is not disqualified from relying on Rule 504 or Rule 506 for one of the reasons stated in Rule 504(b)(3) or Rule 506(d).

Each Issuer identified above has read this notice, knows the contents to be true, and has duly caused this notice to be signed on its behalf by the undersigned duly authorized person.

For signature, type in the signer's name or other letters or characters adopted or authorized as the signer's signature.

7 List account number(s) here (optional)

Part I Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. The TIN provided must match the name given on line 1 to avoid backup withholding. For individuals, this is generally your social security number (SSN). However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the Part I instructions on page 3. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see How to get a TIN on page 3.

Note. If the account is in more than one name, see the instructions for line 1 and the chart on page 4 for guidelines on whose number to enter.

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me); and
2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding; and
3. I am a U.S. citizen or other U.S. person (defined below); and
4. The FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that I am exempt from FATCA reporting is correct.

Certification instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. See the instructions on page 3.

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Future developments. Information about developments affecting Form W-9 (such as legislation enacted after we release it) is at www.irs.gov/fw9.

Purpose of Form

An individual or entity (Form W-9 requester) who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) which may be your social security number (SSN), individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN), adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN), or employer identification number (EIN), to report on an information return the amount paid to you, or other amount reportable on an information return. Examples of information returns include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Form 1099-INT (interest earned or paid)
- Form 1099-DIV (dividends, including those from stocks or mutual funds)
- Form 1099-MISC (various types of income, prizes, awards, or gross proceeds)
- Form 1099-B (stock or mutual fund sales and certain other transactions by brokers)
- Form 1099-S (proceeds from real estate transactions)
- Form 1099-K (merchant card and third party network transactions)
- Form 1098 (home mortgage interest), 1098-E (student loan interest), 1098-T (tuition)
- Form 1099-C (canceled debt)
- Form 1099-A (acquisition or abandonment of secured property)

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN.

If you do not return Form W-9 to the requester with a TIN, you might be subject to backup withholding. See What is backup withholding? on page 2.

By signing the filled-out form, you:

1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),
2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income, and
4. Certify that FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that you are exempt from the FATCA reporting, is correct. See What is FATCA reporting? on page 2 for further information.

Electronic Delivery of Reports and Other Communications:

If you elected "Email/Web-based Delivery" above, at their discretion, the Partnership, the Administrator, the Investment Manager and/or the General Partner may provide to you (or your authorized representative) statements, reports and other communications relating to the Partnership and/or your investment in the Partnership in electronic form, such as email.

Do you consent to the sending of such statements, reports and other communications regarding the Partnership and your investment in the Partnership (including Net Asset Value information, subscription and withdrawal activity, and annual and other updates of the Partnership's consumer privacy policies and procedures) exclusively in electronic form without separate mailing of paper copies?

☒ Yes ☐ No

By consenting you also acknowledge that emails from the Partnership, the Administrator, the Investment Manager and/or the General Partner may be accessed by recipients other than you and may be interfered with, may contain computer viruses or other defects and may not be successfully replicated on other systems. The Partnership, the Administrator, the Investment Manager and the General Partner each give no warranties in relation to these matters. If you have any doubts about the authenticity of an email purportedly sent by the Partnership, the Administrator, the Investment Manager and/or the General Partner, please contact the purported sender immediately.

Schedule K-1s:

The annual Schedule K-1 statement will be sent to the Subscriber in physical form unless the Subscriber consents below to receive it electronically. Does the Subscriber grant permission for the annual Schedule K-1 to be sent electronically?

☒ Yes ☐ No

Please note that this choice will apply until the Subscriber informs the Administrator that it is electing to alter such permission, which the Subscriber is able to do at any time by contacting the Administrator and in such contact specifying the effective date of the new election. The Administrator will confirm the receipt of the Subscriber's change in election and will specify the date on which such change will take effect. If the Subscriber has chosen to receive the Schedule K-1 electronically, a paper copy can be obtained by contacting the Administrator, and such a request will NOT alter the election noted above. The Schedule K-1s will only be sent for those periods for which the Subscriber was an investor in the Partnership. Subscribers should note that the electronic versions of the Schedule K-1 will be sent as Microsoft Word documents or .pdf files and that the Schedule K-1 may be required to be printed by the Subscriber for the purpose of attaching it to the Subscriber's federal, state and/or local income tax returns, if required by applicable law.

Compliance with the PATRIOT Act:

To comply with applicable anti-money laundering/OFAC rules and regulations, you and/or the institution remitting payment are required to provide the following payment information:

1. Name of the bank from which your payment to the Partnership is being wired (the "Wiring Bank")?
BBVA Compass

2. Is the Wiring Bank located in the United States or another "FATF Member"[6]?

☒ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please answer question 3 below.

If no, please provide the information described in Footnote 7 below and contact the Administrator.[7]

3. Are you a customer of the Wiring Bank?

YES

[6] As of November 1, 2015, members of the Financial Action Task Force on Money Laundering (each, an "FATF Member") include: Argentina; Australia; Austria; Belgium; Brazil; Canada; China; Denmark; the European Commission; Finland; France; Germany; Greece; the Gulf Co-operation Council; Hong Kong, China; Iceland; India; Ireland; Italy; Japan; the Kingdom of the Netherlands (including the Netherlands, Aruba, Curaçao and Saint Maarten); Luxembourg; Mexico; New Zealand; Norway; Portugal; the Republic of Korea; the Russian Federation; Singapore; South Africa; Spain; Sweden; Switzerland; Turkey; the United Kingdom; and the United States. This list may be expanded, from time to time, to include future FATF Members and FATF-compliant countries, as appropriate.

[7] Subscribers who responded "no" to question 2 or 3 of "Compliance with the PATRIOT Act" above must provide the following additional information and materials to the Administrator, and contact the Administrator to obtain further anti-money laundering schedules:

For Individual Investors: (i) a government-issued form of picture identification (e.g., passport or driver's license); and (ii) proof of the individual's current address (e.g., current utility bill), if not included in the form of picture identification.

For Funds-of-Funds or Entities that Invest on Behalf of Third Parties Not Located in the United States or Other FATF Members: (i) a certificate of due formation and organization and continued authorization to conduct business in the jurisdiction of its organization (e.g., certificate of good standing); (ii) an incumbency certificate attesting to the title of the individual executing the Subscription Agreement on behalf of the prospective Subscriber; (iii) a completed form certifying that the entity has adequate anti-money laundering policies and procedures in place that are consistent with the PATRIOT Act, OFAC and other relevant federal, state or foreign anti-money laundering laws and regulations; and (iv) a letter of reference from a local office of a reputable bank or brokerage firm which is incorporated, or has its principal place of business located, in the United States or other FATF Member certifying that the prospective Subscriber (i.e., the fund-of-funds or the entity investing on behalf of third parties) has maintained an account at such bank/brokerage firm for a length of time and containing a statement affirming the prospective Subscriber's integrity.

For All Other Entity Subscribers: (i) a certificate of due formation and organization and continued authorization to conduct business in the jurisdiction of its organization (e.g., certificate of good standing); (ii) an incumbency certificate attesting to the title of the individual executing the Subscription Agreement on behalf of the prospective Subscriber; (iii) a letter of reference from a local office of a reputable bank or brokerage firm which is incorporated, or has its principal place of business located, in the United States or other FATF Member certifying that the prospective Subscriber has maintained an account at such bank/brokerage firm for a length of time and containing a statement affirming the prospective Subscriber's integrity; (iv) if the prospective Subscriber is a privately-held entity, a completed form listing the name of each person who directly, or indirectly through intermediaries, is the beneficial owner of 25% or more of any voting or non-voting class of equity interests of the prospective Subscriber; and (v) if the prospective Subscriber is a trust, a list of current beneficiaries of the trust that have, directly or indirectly, 25% or more of any interest in the trust, the settlors or grantors of the trust, and the trustees.

☒ Yes ☐ No

If yes, the information described in Footnote 7 below is not required.

If no, please provide the information described in Footnote 7 below and contact the Administrator.

B. Subscriber Qualification

1. Accredited Investor. Interests will be sold only to investors who are "accredited investors" (as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act). Please indicate the basis of "accredited investor" status of the Subscriber by checking the applicable statement or statements.

☒ The Subscriber has total assets in excess of $5,000,000, was not formed for the purpose of investing in the Partnership and is one of the following:

- a corporation
- a partnership
- a limited liability company
- a business trust
- a tax-exempt organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code.

☐ The Subscriber is a personal (non-business) trust, other than an employee benefit trust, with total assets in excess of $5,000,000 which was not formed for the purpose of investing in the Partnership and whose decision to invest in the Partnership has been directed by a person who has such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters that he or she is capable of evaluating the merits and risks of the investment.

☐ The Subscriber is licensed, or subject to supervision, by U.S. federal or state examining authorities as a "bank", "savings and loan association", "insurance company", or "small business investment company" (as such terms are used and defined in 17 CFR §230.501(a)) or is an account for which a bank or savings and loan association is subscribing in a fiduciary capacity.

☐ The Subscriber is registered with the SEC as a broker or dealer or an investment company, or has elected to be treated or qualifies as a "business development company" (within the meaning of Section 2(a)(48) of the Investment Company Act or Section 202(a)(22) of the Advisers Act).

☐ The Subscriber is an employee benefit plan within the meaning of ERISA (including an IRA), which satisfies at least one of the following conditions:

___ it has total assets in excess of $5,000,000; or ___ the investment decision is being made by a plan fiduciary which is a bank, savings and loan association, insurance company or registered investment adviser; or ___ it is a self-directed plan (i.e., a tax-qualified defined contribution plan in which a participant may exercise control over the investment of assets credited to the participant's account) and the decision to invest is made by those participants investing, and each such participant qualifies as an accredited investor.

☐ The Subscriber is an employee benefit plan established and maintained by a state, its political subdivisions or any agency or instrumentality of a state or its political subdivisions, which has total assets in excess of $5,000,000.

☐ The Subscriber is an entity in which all of the equity owners are at least one of the following: (a) natural persons who are "accredited investors", (b) grantor trusts where the individual grantors are "accredited investors" or (c) non-natural persons described above.

If the Subscriber does not qualify in any accredited investor category above (and is not a natural person or grantor trust), please indicate this in the space provided below.

☐ The Subscriber does not qualify in any of the above accredited investor categories.

2. Qualified Client. Interests will be sold only to investors who are "qualified clients" (as defined in Rule 205-3 promulgated under the Advisers Act). Please indicate the basis of "qualified client" status of the Subscriber by checking the applicable statement or statements.

(a) Is the Subscriber an entity with net assets at the time of entering into the Subscription Agreement exceeding $2,000,000?

☐ Yes ☐ No

(b) Is the Subscriber an entity that has at least $1,000,000 under the management of the Investment Manager immediately after entering into the Subscription Agreement?

☐ Yes ☐ No

(c) Is the Subscriber a "qualified purchaser" as defined in Section 2(a)(51)(A) of the Investment Company Act at the time of entering into the Subscription Agreement?

☒ Yes ☐ No

If the Subscriber does not qualify in any qualified client category above (and is not a natural person or grantor trust), please indicate this in the space provided below.

☐ The Subscriber does not qualify in any of the above qualified client categories.

3. Qualified Purchaser. The Partnership intends to claim exemption from registration under the Investment Company Act in reliance on Section 3(c)(7) thereof, and accordingly Interests will be sold only to investors who are "qualified purchasers" (as defined in Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act). Please indicate the basis of "qualified purchaser" status of the Subscriber by checking the applicable statement or statements. In connection therewith, the Subscriber must read Annexes B and C to these Subscription Documents for the definition of "investments" and for information regarding the valuation of "investments," respectively.

☐ (a) A company, partnership or trust that owns not less than $5,000,000 in "investments" and that is owned directly or indirectly by or for two or more natural persons who are related as siblings or spouse (including former spouses), or direct lineal descendants by birth or adoption, spouses of such persons, the estates of such persons, or foundations, charitable organizations or trusts established by or for the benefit of such persons.

☐ (b) A trust that is not covered by (a) above as to which the trustee or other person authorized to make decisions with respect to the trust, and each settlor or other person who has contributed assets to the trust, is a person described in clause (a), (c), (d) or (e) hereof (or under Part II, Section (B)(3) above).

☐ (c) An entity, acting for its own account or the accounts of other qualified purchasers, which, in the aggregate, owns and invests on a discretionary basis not less than $25,000,000 in "investments."

☐ (d) A qualified institutional buyer as defined in paragraph (a) of Rule 144A under the Securities Act, acting for its own account, the account of another qualified institutional buyer, or the account of a qualified purchaser; provided that: (i) a dealer described in paragraph (a)(1)(ii) of Rule 144A shall own and invest on a discretionary basis at least $25,000,000 in securities of issuers that are not affiliated persons of the dealer and (ii) a plan referred to in paragraph (a)(1)(i)(D) or (a)(1)(i)(E) of Rule 144A, or a trust fund referred to in paragraph (a)(1)(i)(F) of Rule 144A that holds the assets of such a plan, will not be deemed to be acting for its own account if investment decisions with respect to the plan are made by the beneficiaries of the plan, except with respect to investment decisions made solely by the fiduciary, trustee or sponsor of such plan.

☒ (e) An entity, each beneficial owner of which is a qualified purchaser. PLEASE NOTE: This certification does not apply to beneficiaries of an irrevocable trust.

If the Subscriber does not qualify in a qualified purchaser category above (and is not a natural person or grantor trust), please indicate this in the space provided below.

☐ The Subscriber does not qualify in any of the above qualified purchaser categories.

4. Supplemental Data

(a) Was the Subscriber organized or reorganized for the specific purpose of acquiring Interests in the Partnership?

☐ Yes ☒ No

PLEASE NOTE: If the answer to question 4(a) is "Yes", each person who is an equity owner of the Subscriber must complete a copy of the Prospective Investor Questionnaire as if such person were directly purchasing an Interest.

(b) With respect to its acquisition of the Interests, is the Subscriber a participant-directed defined contribution plan (such as a 401(k) plan), or a partnership or other investment vehicle (1) in which its partners or participants have or will have any discretion as to their level of investment in the Subscriber or in investments made by the Subscriber (including the Subscriber's investment in an Interest), or (2) that is otherwise an entity managed to facilitate the individual decisions of its beneficial owners to invest in the Partnership?

☐ Yes ☒ No

(c) Will the Subscriber, at any time, invest more than 40% of the Subscriber's assets in the Partnership?

☒ Yes ☐ No

5. ERISA and Tax-Exempt Information

(a) Is the Subscriber a pension, profit-sharing, annuity or employee benefit plan (a "Plan") described in ERISA, whether or not subject to ERISA, or a "plan" (as defined in Section 4975(e)(i) of the Code), or is the Subscriber an entity whose underlying assets include Plan assets by reason of a Plan's investment in the Subscriber?

☐ Yes ☒ No

If the answer to question 5(a) is "No", please skip to question 4(b) below.

If the answer to question 5(a) is "Yes", is the Subscriber subject to ERISA?

☐ Yes ☐ No

If the answer to question 5(a) is "Yes", is the Subscriber a "governmental plan" (as defined in Section 3(32) of ERISA) or a "church plan" (as defined in Section 3(33) of ERISA)?

☐ Yes ☐ No

(b) Is the Subscriber a partnership, a limited liability company, an S Corporation, trust or other pass-through entity?

☒ Yes ☐ No

If the answer to question 5(b) is "Yes", please supply the approximate percentage of ERISA plan assets to be invested in the Partnership by the Subscriber as compared to the total assets of such Subscriber?

PART IV—NEW ISSUES CERTIFICATION TO BE COMPLETED BY ALL SUBSCRIBERS

The Subscriber must complete this Certification in order for the Partnership to be able to determine the extent to which the Subscriber may participate in "new issue" securities in accordance with Rule 5130 (the "New Issues Rule") of the Securities Offering and Trading Standards and Practices of FINRA. If the Subscriber is a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or any other entity or a nominee for another person, the person completing this Certification with respect to the Subscriber must be a person authorized to represent the beneficial owner(s) of the Subscriber, or a bank, foreign bank, broker-dealer, investment adviser or other conduit acting on behalf of the beneficial owner(s) of the Subscriber.

INSTRUCTIONS: Each Subscriber must complete this Certification by checking the box next to all applicable categories under Section A below to determine whether the Subscriber is a restricted person under the New Issues Rule (a "Restricted Person") or indicating that none of the Restricted Person categories apply to it and the Subscriber is eligible to participate in new issues. A Subscriber that is an entity and that is also a Restricted Person under Section A may still be able to participate fully in new issue investments if it indicates in Section B that it is also an exempted entity (an "Exempted Entity"). Accordingly, each such Subscriber should check the box next to any applicable categories under Section B to determine whether or not the Subscriber is an Exempted Entity.

If the Subscriber is a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or any other entity (including a hedge fund, fund-of-funds, investment partnership or any other collective investment vehicle, or a broker-dealer organized as an investment fund) (any of the foregoing, an "Entity Investor"), such Entity Investor must complete the certification of beneficial ownership in Section C. Based on such information and the size of the investment by such Entity Investor in the Partnership, such Entity Investor may be deemed to be a Restricted Person with respect to the entirety of its investment in the Partnership or any portion thereof (such determination of Restricted Person status by the Partnership shall be final and conclusive).

☒ The Subscriber does not wish to participate in new issues and will be deemed a Restricted Person. If this box is checked, no further responses to Section A, B or C are necessary.

A. Determination of Restricted Person Status. Please check all appropriate boxes.

The Subscriber is:

☐ (i) a broker-dealer;

☐ (ii) an officer, director, general partner, associated person[11] or employee of a broker-dealer (other than a limited business broker-dealer)[12];

☐ (iii) an agent of a broker-dealer (other than a limited business broker-dealer) that is engaged in the investment banking or securities business;

☐ (iv) an immediate family member[13] of a person described in (ii) or (iii) above. Under certain circumstances, a Subscriber who checks this box may be able to participate in new issue investments. The Partnership may request additional information in order to determine the eligibility of a Subscriber under this Restricted Person category;

[11] A person "associated with" a broker-dealer includes any natural person engaged in the investment banking or securities business who is directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by a broker-dealer, or any partner, director, officer or sole proprietor of a broker-dealer.

[12] A "limited business broker-dealer" is any broker-dealer whose authorization to engage in the securities business is limited solely to the purchase and sale of investment company/variable contracts securities and direct participation program securities.

[13] The term "immediate family" includes the Subscriber's: (i) parents, (ii) mother-in-law or father-in-law, (iii) husband or wife, (iv) brother or sister, (v) brother-in-law or sister-in-law, (vi) son-in-law or daughter-in-law, (vii) children, and (viii) any other person who is supported, directly or indirectly, to a material extent by an officer, director, general partner, employee, agent of a broker-dealer or person associated with a broker-dealer.

☐ (v) a finder or any person acting in a fiduciary capacity to a managing underwriter, including, but not limited to, attorneys, accountants and financial consultants. Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Subscriber who is a finder or fiduciary but who is not acting in such capacity with respect to the security being offered, may be able to participate in new issue investments, and, accordingly, the Partnership may request additional information from a Subscriber who checks this box in order to determine the Subscriber's eligibility under this Restricted Person category;

☐ (vi) a person who has authority to buy or sell securities for a bank, savings and loan institution, insurance company, investment company, investment advisor or collective investment account[14] (including a private investment vehicle such as a hedge fund);

☐ (vii) an immediate family member of a person described in (v) or (vi) above who materially supports[15], or receives material support from, the Subscriber;

☐ (viii) a person listed or required to be listed in Schedule A, B or C of a Form BD (other than with respect to a limited business broker-dealer), except persons whose listing on Schedule A, B or C is related to a person identified by an ownership code of less than 10% on Schedule A;

☐ (ix) a person that (A) directly or indirectly owns 10% or more of a public reporting company listed, or required to be listed, in Schedule A of a Form BD, or (B) directly or indirectly owns 25% or more of a public reporting company listed, or required to be listed in Schedule B of a Form BD, in each case (A) or (B), other than a reporting company that is listed on a national securities exchange, or other than with respect to a limited business broker/dealer;

☐ (x) an immediate family member of a person described in (viii) or (ix) above. Under certain circumstances, a Subscriber who checks this box may be able to participate in new issue investments. The Partnership may request additional information in order to determine the eligibility of a Subscriber under this Restricted Person category; or ☐ (xi) any entity (including a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity) in which any person or persons listed in (i)-(x) above has a beneficial interest[16].

☐ None of the above categories apply and the Subscriber is eligible to participate in new issue securities.

[14] A "collective investment account" is any hedge fund, investment corporation, or any other collective investment vehicle that is engaged primarily in the purchase and/or sale of securities. Investment clubs (groups of individuals who pool their money to invest in stock or other securities and who are collectively responsible for making investment decisions) and family investment vehicles (legal entities that are beneficially owned solely by immediate family members (as defined above)) are not considered collective investment accounts.

[15] The term "material support" means directly or indirectly providing more than 25% of a person's income in the prior calendar year. Members of the immediate family living in the same household are deemed to materially support each other.

[16] The term "beneficial interest" means any economic interest such as the right to share in gains or losses. The initial receipt of a management or performance-based fee for operating a collective investment account, or other fee for acting in a fiduciary capacity, is not considered a beneficial interest in the account; however, if such payments are accumulated and subsequently invested into the account (as a deferred fee arrangement or otherwise), they would constitute a beneficial interest in that account.

B. Determination of Exempted Entity Status. A Subscriber that is an entity and that is also a Restricted Person under Section A may still be able to participate fully in new issue investments, whether directly or through an account in which such Subscriber has a beneficial interest, if it indicates below that it is also an Exempted Entity. Please check all appropriate boxes.

The Subscriber is:

☐ (i) a publicly-traded entity (other than a broker-dealer or an affiliate of a broker-dealer, where such broker-dealer is authorized to engage in the public offering of new issues either as a selling group member or underwriter) that is listed on a national securities exchange, or is a foreign issuer whose securities meet the quantitative designation criteria for listing on a national securities exchange;

☐ (ii) an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act;

☐ (iii) an investment company organized under the laws of a foreign jurisdiction and:

(a) the investment company is listed on a foreign exchange or authorized for sale to the public by a foreign regulatory authority; and

(b) no person owning more than 5% of the shares of the investment company is a Restricted Person;

☐ (iv) (A) an employee benefit plan under ERISA that is qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code and that is not sponsored solely by a broker-dealer, (B) a state or municipal government benefits plan that is subject to state and/or municipal regulation or (C) a church plan under Section 414(e) of the Code;

☐ (v) a tax-exempt charitable organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code;

☐ (vi) a common trust fund or similar fund as described in Section 3(a)(12)(A)(iii) of the Exchange Act, and the fund

(a) has investments from 1,000 or more accounts, and

(b) does not limit beneficial interests in the fund principally to trust accounts of Restricted Persons;

☐ (vii) an insurance company general, separate or investment account, and

(a) the account is funded by premiums from 1,000 or more policyholders, or, if a general account, the insurance company has 1,000 or more policyholders, and

(b) the insurance company does not limit the policyholders whose premiums are used to fund the account principally to Restricted Persons, or, if a general account, the insurance company does not limit its policyholders principally to Restricted Persons; or

☐ (viii) an entity (including a private investment vehicle, such as a hedge fund or fund of hedge funds) (a) in which the beneficial interests of Restricted Persons do not exceed in the aggregate 10% of such entity, or (b) that limits participation in New Issue profits by Restricted Persons to not more than 10% of the profits from New Issues.

C. Determination of Beneficial Ownership.

If the box for (viii) in Section B above is checked, please specify the current percentage of the net profits from New Issues allocable to beneficial owners of such entity who are Restricted Persons:

_____%

PART V—SPINNING PROHIBITION CERTIFICATION TO BE COMPLETED BY ALL SUBSCRIBERS

The Subscriber must complete this Certification in order for the Partnership to be able to determine the extent to which the Subscriber may participate in "new issue" securities in accordance with FINRA Rule 5131(b) (the "Spinning Prohibition Rule"), which prohibits a FINRA member who provides investment banking services from allocating new issues to accounts in which officers and directors of certain current, former or prospective investment banking clients have an interest. To enable the Partnership to purchase new issues, the Partnership must determine whether the Subscriber is an executive officer or director or person materially supported by an executive officer or director of a public company or a "covered non-public company" under the Spinning Prohibition Rule. Please note that the Spinning Prohibition Rule (FINRA Rule 5131(b)) is in addition to, not a replacement of, the New Issues Rule (FINRA Rule 5130) covered in Part IV of this Questionnaire.

If the Subscriber is a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or any other entity or a nominee for another person, the person completing this Certification with respect to the Subscriber must be a person authorized to represent the beneficial owner(s) of the Subscriber, or a bank, foreign bank, broker-dealer, investment adviser or other conduit acting on behalf of the beneficial owner(s) of the Subscriber.

INSTRUCTIONS: Each Subscriber must complete this Certification by checking the box next to all applicable categories under Section A below to determine whether the Subscriber is a restricted investor under the Spinning Prohibition Rule (a "Restricted Investor"), or indicating that none of the Restricted Investor categories apply to it and that the Subscriber is eligible to participate in new issues. A Subscriber that is an entity which is deemed a Restricted Investor under Section A may still be able to participate in new issues if it indicates in Section B below that it is an unrestricted investor under the Spinning Prohibition Rule (an "Unrestricted Investor").

☒ The Subscriber does not wish to participate in new issues and will be deemed a Restricted Investor. If this box is checked, no further responses to Section A or B are necessary.

A. Determination of Restricted Investor Status. Please check all appropriate boxes.

The Subscriber is:

☐ (i) an executive officer or director of a public company[17] or a covered non-public company[18].

If this box is checked, please provide the name and ticker symbol (where applicable) of each such company (include additional sheets if necessary):

☐ (ii) a person who receives material support[19] from an executive officer or director of a public company or a covered non-public company.

If this box is checked, please provide the name and ticker symbol (where applicable) of each such company (include additional sheets if necessary):

[17] A "public company" is any company that is registered under Section 12 of the Exchange Act, or files periodic reports pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act.

[18] A "covered non-public company" is any non-public company satisfying the following criteria: (i) income of at least $1 million in the last fiscal year or in two of the last three fiscal years and shareholders' equity of at least $15 million; (ii) shareholders' equity of at least $30 million and a two-year operating history; or (iii) total assets and total revenue of at least $75 million in the latest fiscal year or in two of the last three fiscal years.

[19] The term "material support" means directly or indirectly providing more than 25% of a person's income in the prior calendar year. Persons living in the same household are deemed to be providing each other with material support.

☐ (iii) an entity (including a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity) in which a person or persons listed in (i) and (ii) above has a beneficial interest[20] (each such person, a "Restricted Participant").

If this box is checked, please indicate the company or companies (and ticker symbol(s) where applicable) on whose behalf such executive officers or directors serve and the percentage share of profits or losses attributable to new issues to be received by all Restricted Participants related to each company (include additional sheets if necessary):

Name and ticker symbol of each such company:	Share of profits:
_____	_____
_____	_____

☐ (iv) None of the above categories apply and the Subscriber is not a Restricted Investor and is eligible to participate in new issues. The Subscriber does not need to complete Section B below.

B. Determination of Unrestricted Investor Status. A Subscriber that is an entity which is deemed a Restricted Investor under Section A may still be able to participate in new issues if it indicates below that it is also an Unrestricted Investor. Please check all appropriate boxes.

The Subscriber is:

☐ (i) an entity (including a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity) in which a Restricted Participant(s) has/have a beneficial interest, but the Subscriber hereby represents and warrants that such Restricted Participant(s) affiliated with the same public company or covered non-public company in aggregate (as to each such public company or covered non-public company) is/are allocated no more than 25% of any profits or losses attributable to new issues received by the Subscriber.

If this box is checked, please indicate the company or companies (and ticker symbol(s) where applicable) on whose behalf such executive officers or directors serve and the percentage share of profits or losses attributable to new issues to be received by all Restricted Participants related to each company (include additional sheets if necessary):

Name and ticker symbol of each such company:	Share of profits:

☐ (ii) a publicly-traded entity (other than a broker-dealer or an affiliate of a broker-dealer, where such broker-dealer is authorized to engage in the public offering of new issues either as a selling group member or underwriter) that is listed on a national securities exchange, or is a foreign issuer whose securities meet the quantitative designation criteria for listing on a national securities exchange;

[20] The term "beneficial interest" means any economic interest such as the right to share in gains or losses. The initial receipt of a management or performance-based fee for operating a collective investment account, or other fee for acting in a fiduciary capacity, is not considered a beneficial interest in the account; however, if such payments are accumulated and subsequently invested into the account (as a deferred fee arrangement or otherwise), they would constitute a beneficial interest in that account.

☐ (iii) an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act;

☐ (iv) an investment company organized under the laws of a foreign jurisdiction and:

(a) the investment company is listed on a foreign exchange or authorized for sale to the public by a foreign regulatory authority; and

(b) no person owning more than 5% of the shares of the investment company is a Restricted Person;

☐ (v) (A) an employee benefit plan under ERISA that is qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code and that is not sponsored solely by a broker-dealer, (B) a state or municipal government benefits plan that is subject to state and/or municipal regulation or (C) a church plan under Section 414(e) of the Code;

☐ (vi) a tax-exempt charitable organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Code;

☐ (vii) a common trust fund or similar fund as described in Section 3(a)(12)(A)(iii) of the Exchange Act, and the fund

(a) has investments from 1,000 or more accounts, and

(b) does not limit beneficial interests in the fund principally to trust accounts of Restricted Persons; or

☐ (viii) an insurance company general, separate or investment account, and

(a) the account is funded by premiums from 1,000 or more policyholders, or, if a general account, the insurance company has 1,000 or more policyholders, and

ARTICLE II. SALE AND WITHDRAWAL OF INTERESTS

2.1 Offering and Sale of Interests.

(a) Subject to Section 8.2 and subject to and on the terms of the Fund PPM, the Fund may offer Interests for purchase in any amount by the Company on behalf of the Separate Accounts, subject to the minimum initial investment amount set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto. The Fund may accept additional capital contributions in any amount, subject to the minimum additional investment amount set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto. Capital contributions will be accepted as of the first Business Day of each calendar month or quarter (as specified on Schedule A-2 hereto) (each, a "Subscription Date"). The Company shall notify the Adviser of its intent to purchase Interests by providing notice no later than the date and time set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto. The Company shall complete and send to the Fund the Subscription Form set forth in Appendix A. The Company shall not be required to enter into any agreement other than this Agreement and the Fund Agreements in order to purchase Interests.

(b) The Fund may suspend or discontinue its offering of Interests solely in conformity with the Fund PPM upon at least the number of days' prior written notice to the Company set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto.

(c) The issuance and transfer of Interests shall be by book entry only, and certificates therefor shall not be issued to the Company or the Separate Accounts.

2.2 Payment for Interests. The Company shall transmit by wire transfer federal funds in the amount of the purchased Interests to be received by the Fund no later than the date and time set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto. Federal funds received after that time and date shall be held in a subscription account of the Fund's custodian until the next Subscription Date or returned to the Company upon its request.

2.3 Withdrawal of Interests.

(a) General Withdrawal Terms. Any withdrawal request shall specify the number and value of the Interest(s) to be withdrawn, shall not be less than the amount set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto and shall be subject to any other requirements set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto. Any partial withdrawal of Interest(s) that leaves the value of the Interest(s) held by a Separate Account at less than the amount set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto as of the date of withdrawal shall be deemed a complete withdrawal. (See Appendix B for Withdrawal Form.) The terms of this Section 2.3(a) shall apply unless otherwise provided in Sections 2.3(b) through 2.3(f) or on Schedule A-2 hereto.

(b) Standard Withdrawals. Subject to Section 2.3(f), the Company will be permitted to redeem for cash any Interest, in whole or in part, held by a Separate Account upon not less than the number of days' prior written notice to the Adviser set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto (each such notice, a "Standard Withdrawal Request") as of the last day of any calendar month or quarter as set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto (each, a "Standard Withdrawal Date") following the lock-up period set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto. The Adviser may waive the notice period in its discretion. The withdrawal proceeds in connection with a Standard Withdrawal Request shall be paid in accordance with the timeline set forth on Schedule A-2.

(c) Death Benefit Withdrawals. Subject to Section 2.3(f), with respect to withdrawals required for the payment of a death benefit, the Company may redeem for cash any Interest, in whole or in part, held by a Separate Account upon not less than the number of days' prior written notice to the Adviser set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto (each such notice, a "Death Benefit Withdrawal Request") as of the last day of any calendar month (each, a "Death Benefit Withdrawal Date"). The Adviser may waive the notice period in its discretion. The withdrawal proceeds in connection with a Death Benefit Withdrawal Request shall be paid in accordance with the timeline set forth on Schedule A-2.

(d) Special Withdrawals. Subject to Section 2.3(f), with respect to withdrawals required for the payment of any insurance charges and/or expenses of the Company Contracts or as otherwise agreed upon by the Adviser, the Company may redeem for cash any Interest, in whole or in part, held by a Separate Account upon not less than the number of days' prior written notice to the Adviser set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto (each such notice, a "Special Withdrawal Request") as of the last day of any calendar month (each, a "Special Withdrawal Date"). The Adviser may waive the notice period in its discretion. The withdrawal proceeds in connection with a Special Withdrawal Request shall be paid in accordance with the timeline set forth on Schedule A-2.

(e) Withdrawal Events. Subject to Section 2.3(f), the Company may redeem for cash Interests if any of the following events ("Withdrawal Events") occur: (i) the Fund fails to comply with the Tax Requirements, and such noncompliance cannot be cured in a reasonable period of time pursuant to the regulations and proceedings of the U.S. Department of the Treasury (the "Treasury") and the U.S. Internal Revenue Service; or (ii) there is a violation of the requirements set forth on Schedule D hereto. The Adviser shall notify the Company as soon as any Withdrawal Event occurs. Upon the occurrence of a Withdrawal Event, the Company may redeem its Interests as of the last day of any calendar month (each, an "Event Withdrawal Date") upon not less than 30 days' prior written notice to the Adviser (each such notice an "Event Withdrawal Request"). Upon an Event Withdrawal Request, the Fund shall pay 100% of the withdrawal proceeds within 30 days following the Event Withdrawal Date. Event Withdrawal Requests shall not be subject to any lock-up withdrawal requests.

(f) Limitations on Withdrawal Rights Granted Hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 2.3, and any other terms of this Agreement, if the Adviser determines that compliance with any of the withdrawal and payment rights granted pursuant to this Section 2.3 or any other provisions of this Agreement shall (i) cause it or the Fund to fail to adhere to the Tax Requirements, or (ii) require it to liquidate any asset which is then illiquid and/or part of a Side Pocket Account (as defined in the Operating Agreement), then it may defer such compliance until such failure or requirement shall no longer exist; provided that for so long as (x) such condition continues and (y) the Company shall not be receiving payment of any insurance charges and/or expenses of the Company Contracts as a result of such delayed compliance, the Adviser agrees that it shall defer its fees pursuant to Operating Agreement, and such amounts otherwise payable to the Adviser shall instead be paid by the Fund to the Company for such insurance charges and/or expenses.

2.4 Payment of Withdrawal Proceeds.

(a) Payment of Withdrawal Proceeds Generally. Subject always to any liquidity limitations set out in the Fund PPM, the Fund shall transfer to the Company, or to any person designated by the Company in writing, any withdrawal proceeds via wire transfer in the form of federal funds.

(b) Payment of Withdrawal Proceeds In-Kind. The Fund may, but only if permitted by applicable law and in conformity with the Operating Agreement and the Fund PPM, transfer in-kind interests in an underlying investment of the Fund to (i) the Company and/or the Separate Accounts in full or partial satisfaction of any withdrawal request, or (ii) a Policy Owner in full or partial satisfaction of a full or partial surrender of a Company Contract, or to a beneficiary under a Company Contract in full or partial satisfaction of a death benefit payment under such Company Contract; provided, however, that such transfer to a Policy Owner is conducted as a transaction exempt from registration under the 1933 Act. For the avoidance of doubt, notwithstanding the foregoing, the provisions of this Section 2.4(b) shall be subject to the limitations on liquidity and withdrawals, and terms therein on payments with withdrawal proceeds (including, in particular, the payment of withdrawal proceeds in-kind) set forth in in the Fund Agreements.

2.5 Company Contracts. The Fund and the Adviser acknowledge and agree that, subject to each Company Contract, CGLI shall have the exclusive right, in its sole discretion, to suspend the offer or sale of any of the Company Contracts or to reject any application for the purchase of any Company Contract.

ARTICLE III. NET ASSET VALUE

3.1 NAV Generally. The Fund shall determine its net asset value (the "NAV") on each Valuation Date in the manner prescribed in the Operating Agreement and the Fund PPM. The Adviser shall make the NAV available to the Company in an electronic data file in a format specified by the Company, and shall do so as soon as reasonably practicable after each Valuation Date, and in any event no later than the date and time set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto.

3.2 Adjustments. The NAV information provided pursuant to Section 3.1 hereof may be based on estimated values and/or values determined by the Adviser acting in good faith and using reasonable judgment ("Reasonable Valuations"), and prospective adjustments shall be made, if necessary, to correct the NAV within a reasonable period of time after the Fund or the Adviser is in receipt of the Fund's audited financials. No retroactive adjustments shall be made.

ARTICLE IV. REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS

4.1 Representations, Warranties and Covenants of the Company. The Company represents and warrants to, and for the benefit of, and covenants and agrees with the Fund and the Adviser that:

(a) CGLI is an Eligible Insurance Company that is duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of Bermuda.

(b) The Separate Account(s) are legally and validly established segregated asset accounts (or subaccounts thereof) under the laws of Bermuda (including, without limitation the Bermuda Insurance Act 1978, as amended ("Bermuda Insurance Act") and related rules and regulations and any Bermuda private act to which CGLI or the Separate Accounts are subject), applicable state insurance and tax laws and regulations, and were established by CGIL to set aside and invest premiums attributable to Company Contracts.

(c) CGLI has the power and is duly qualified and has all necessary licences, consents, permits and authorities necessary (including those referred to in paragraph 4.1(a) above) to offer and sell the Company Contracts and for the Company to purchase the Interests, all of which are valid and subsisting.

(d) The Company shall be an "accredited investor" within the meaning of Rule 501(a) of Regulation D under the 1933 Act (an "Accredited Investor"), a "qualified client" within the meaning of Rule 205-3 promulgated under the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended, and a "qualified purchaser" within the meaning of Section 2(a)(51) of the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (a "Qualified Purchaser"; such statute, the "1940 Act").

(e) The Company Contracts shall be offered and sold, and the Contract PPM and the Fund PPM shall be disseminated to prospective or existing Policy Owners, in compliance in all material respects with all applicable Bermuda, U.S. and other foreign securities, commodities, tax and insurance laws and regulations.

(f) CGLI shall sell Company Contracts only to persons that CGLI or its agents reasonably believe to be Accredited Investors and Qualified Purchasers.

(g) The Company Contracts shall be treated as Variable Contracts under the Code, provided that the Fund and the Adviser comply with all of the terms of the Operating Agreement and this Agreement, and CGLI shall promptly notify the Fund and the Adviser in writing upon forming a reasonable belief that the Company Contracts will or may no longer qualify for such treatment.

(h) The Separate Accounts shall not be subject to the U.S. Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA").

(i) The Contract PPM does not contain any untrue statement of material fact, other than with respect to information provided in writing by the Fund or the Adviser for inclusion in the Contract PPM. For the avoidance of doubt, the Company is not representing whether the Contract PPM meets the full standards of disclosure contemplated under the 1933 Act, and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Act, as amended, for issuers registered under such Acts, or for issuers that are not so registered.

(j) The Company shall not disseminate any information, or make any representation or statement, to any person concerning the offer or sale of Interests or the Company Contracts other than the information, representations and statements contained in the Contract PPM, the Fund PPM, Fund Reports, or any Sales Literature approved by the Adviser for such purposes. This Section 4.1(j) shall not in any way restrict the right of the Company to disseminate materials (such as illustrations) describing the Company, its operations and its products, as well as those materials describing the insurance industry and insurance products generally.

(k) The Company shall establish and implement policies and procedures reasonably designed to discharge its obligations under applicable federal laws and regulations regarding money laundering, including, but not limited the Company's Know Your Client (KYC) and due diligence requirements under the Bermuda Proceeds of Crime (Anti-Money Laundering and Anti-Terrorist Financing) Regulations 2008, as amended the regulations of the Treasury and the Executive Orders related to the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC"; and, together, the "AML Procedures"). The Fund and the Adviser acknowledge that in connection with, and as a complement to its own AML Procedures, where permitted by applicable law, the Company shall be entitled to rely on AML Procedures implemented by third parties with respect to Policy Owners; provided that such acknowledgement shall not limit any rights of the Fund or the advisor relating to AML under the Fund Agreements.

The Company's AML Procedures shall include those reasonably designed to ensure the accuracy of the following representations of the Company:

(i) the identity of each purchaser of a Company Contract has been established by evidence that the Company reasonably believes is genuine;

(ii) the Company reasonably believes that no premium funds tendered for the purchase of a Company Contract are derived directly or indirectly from activities that may contravene relevant U.S. federal or state, or international, laws or regulations related to money laundering; and

(iii) unless the Fund, in its sole discretion, lawfully waives such a requirement, CGIL shall not issue a Variable Contract to any person or entity that the Company reasonably believes, at the time of the possible purchase of the Company Contract, to be:

1. a country, territory, organization, person or entity named in OFAC's List of Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons, as such list may be amended from time to time;

2. a person or entity that resides or has a place of business in a country or territory named on an OFAC list, or that is designated as a

"Non-Cooperative Jurisdiction" by the Financial Action Task Force on Money Laundering, or whose premium funds tendered for the acquisition of a Company Contract are transferred from or through any such country or territory;

3. a "foreign shell bank" as such term is defined in 31 U.S.C. § 5318(j) and Treasury regulations thereunder;

4. a person or entity that resides in, or is organized under, the laws of a jurisdiction designated by the Secretary of the Treasury as a "jurisdiction of primary money laundering concern" pursuant to 31 U.S.C. § 5318A; or

5. a "senior foreign political figure," or a "family member" or "close associate" of a senior foreign political figure as such terms are defined in the Guidance on Enhanced Scrutiny for Transactions that May Involve the Proceeds of Foreign Official Corruption issued by the Treasury, unless CGIL has diligently scrutinized the proposed purchase of the Company Contract by or for the benefit of such person and has determined to permit such purchase.

(l) The Company shall promptly notify the Fund and the Adviser of any change in the information set forth in this Section 4.1.

(m) The Company is not aware of any conflict between this Agreement and any law or regulation to which it may be subject (including under any Bermuda private act).

4.2 Of the Fund. The Fund represents and warrants to, and for the benefit of, and covenants and agrees with the Company that:

(a) The Fund has been established under the laws of the jurisdiction of its formation and is in good standing thereunder, and qualifies for the exclusion from the definition of "investment company" provided by Section 3(c)(7) of the 1940 Act.

(b) The Interests shall be offered and sold in compliance in all material respects with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations.

(c) None of the Fund; any predecessor of the Fund; any affiliated issuer of the Fund; any director, executive officer, other officer who is participating in the offering of interests in the Fund, general partner or managing member of the Fund; any beneficial owner of 20% or more of the Fund's outstanding voting equity securities (calculated on the basis of voting power); any promoter connected with the Fund in any capacity; the Adviser; any person that has been or will be paid (directly or indirectly) remuneration for solicitation of purchasers in connection with the sale of interests in the Fund (a "Solicitor"); any general partner or managing member of the Adviser or a Solicitor; or any director, executive officer or other officer who is participating in the offering of interests in the Fund of the Adviser or a Solicitor or general partner or managing member of the Adviser or a Solicitor is subject to any event listed in Rule 506(d)(1).

(d) The Fund shall offer and sell Interests only to Eligible Insurance Funds and Eligible Insurance Companies that have certified that they (i) are Accredited Investors and Qualified Purchasers and (ii) will purchase and hold Interests, directly or indirectly, solely for the benefit of policy owners that they reasonably believe are Accredited Investors and Qualified Purchasers; provided, however, that the Fund may offer and sell Interests to employee benefit plans and other funds subject to ERISA and/or Section 4975 of the Code that meet the requirements of clause (i). Further, the Fund shall, with the exception of any Compliant Seed Investment, issue Interests only to Eligible Insurance Funds and Eligible Insurance Companies with which it has entered into an agreement containing provisions substantially similar to those provisions of this Agreement listed on Schedule A-2 hereto.

(e) The Fund shall invest, hold and dispose of its assets in compliance with the Tax Requirements. The Fund or the Adviser shall promptly notify the Company upon forming a reasonable belief that the Fund has ceased, or may cease, to comply with the Tax Requirements, and shall cure any non-conformance within the period for cure afforded by Regulations 1.817-5. The Fund and the Adviser acknowledge that the Fund's compliance with the Tax Requirements is material to their performance under this Agreement.

(f) The Fund shall be operated so as to maintain its treatment for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a partnership, or if there is only one Interest Owner, a disregarded entity, under the Code, and the Fund or the Adviser shall promptly notify the Company upon forming a reasonable belief that the Fund has ceased, or may cease, to qualify for such tax treatment.

(g) The Fund, the Adviser and their respective officers, directors, employees, principals, affiliates and other representatives shall comply with the requirements set forth on Schedule D hereto so as to prevent any Policy Owner from having "incidents of control" under the Investor Control Doctrine (as defined on Schedule D hereto).

(h) The Fund's assets shall be invested in compliance with the investment restrictions set forth on Schedule B hereto, as the same may be modified from time to time pursuant to Section 5.1.

(i) The Adviser is and will exercise commercially reasonable best efforts to remain registered with the SEC as an investment adviser; provided that the Adviser shall be deemed to be so registered if it qualifies as a "relying" Adviser. If the Adviser applies to withdraw its registration, the Adviser shall notify the Company at least thirty (30) days prior to the intended effective date of its withdrawal.

(j) The Adviser is exempt from registration as a commodity pool operator ("CPO") pursuant to CFTC Rule 4.13(a)(3) and shall notify the Company as soon as reasonably practicable upon forming a reasonable belief that such exempt status will change.

(k) The Adviser shall have the sole discretionary authority over the Fund's investments and shall manage the Fund in accordance with the Operating Agreement and the Fund PPM; provided that, for the avoidance of doubt, the Fund may invest in Portfolio Funds (as defined in the Fund PPM) and the like, in the manner contemplated in the Fund PPM.

(l) The Fund PPM does not contain any untrue statement of material fact, other than with respect to information provided in writing by the Company for inclusion in the Fund PPM. For the avoidance of doubt, the Fund is not representing whether the Fund PPM meets the full standards of disclosure contemplated under the 1933 Act, and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Act, as amended, for issuers registered under such Acts, or for issuers that are not so registered.

(m) No material change shall be made to the Operating Agreement or the Fund PPM (e.g., a change to the Fund's investment objective or strategies) without at least thirty (30) days' prior notice to the Company. Any updates thereto shall be promptly delivered to the Company.

(n) Subject to Section 4.1(k), the Fund shall be responsible for anti-money laundering compliance related to its activities, and shall maintain and implement policies and procedures reasonably designed to discharge its obligations under applicable federal laws and regulations regarding money laundering, including, but not limited to, the USA PATRIOT Act of 2001, the regulations of the Treasury and the Executive Orders related to OFAC; provided that for the avoidance of doubt the Fund may delegate such compliance in a manner that is substantially consistent with standard practices of private investment funds in the U.S.

(o) The Company shall be provided the most recent audited financial statements of the Fund as soon as reasonably practicable after they become available.

(p) Neither the Fund nor the Adviser shall disseminate any information, or make any representation or statement, to any person concerning the Company or the Company Contracts other than the information, representations and statements contained in the Contract PPM, the Fund PPM, any Sales Literature approved by the Company pursuant to Section 5.3, or available in the public domain.

(q) Unless the Company otherwise consents, the Fund and the Adviser shall use its commercially reasonable best efforts to ensure that all communications related specifically to the Company Contracts, shall only be between the Company and a Policy Owner or Policy Representative.

(r) The Fund shall maintain and implement commercially reasonable procedures to safeguard the confidentiality and integrity of their records with respect to the Fund and the Company.

(s) The Fund shall promptly notify the Company upon any change to a service provider to the Company.

(t) The Fund is not aware of any conflict between this Agreement and any law or other obligation to which it or the Advisor may not be subject.

(u) The Fund shall promptly notify the Company of any change in the information set forth in this Section 4.2.

(v) The Fund shall not invest in a "passive foreign investment company" (a "PFIC") as defined in Section 1297(a) of the Code unless, prior to making such investment, the Fund has certified to the Company that (i) such PFIC will comply with the requirements of Section 1295(a)(2) of the Code and the Treasury regulations thereunder (e.g., that the PFIC provide its "qualifying electing fund" ("QEF") shareholders with a PFIC Annual Information Statement) or (ii) the Fund will provide information reasonably equivalent to the information contained in a PFIC Annual Information Statement. If the Fund or the Company determines that a PFIC is not in compliance with its QEF reporting requirements, the Fund shall take any steps necessary to cause the PFIC to comply therewith.

4.3 Of the Adviser. The Adviser represents, warrants and covenants to the Company that the Adviser shall use reasonable efforts to provide the Company with any information concerning the Adviser that the Company requires in making any filings with any government authority having regulatory authority over the Company.

4.4 Mutual Representations, Warranties and Covenants. Each of the Company and the Fund hereto represents and warrants to, and for the benefit of, and covenants and agrees with the other Parties that:

(a) it shall use reasonable efforts to cooperate with each other Party and any governmental authority in respect of any such authority's investigation or inquiry concerning this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated hereby;

(b) the Adviser and the Company are not in an affiliate or agency relationship;

(c) upon reasonable notice, the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated herein (i) have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate or other formal action by such Party and, when executed and delivered, this Agreement shall be a valid and binding obligation upon such Party enforceable in accordance with its terms; and (ii) the transactions contemplated thereto do not and will not violate, conflict with or constitute a default under any requirement of any law or any regulation of Bermuda, the U.S. or otherwise (including, without limitation, any Bermuda private act);

(d) except as otherwise set forth herein, the provisions of this Agreement shall be deemed to control in the case of any conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the provisions of the Fund PPM, Operating Agreement, or any other agreement entered into between the Company and the Fund or the Adviser;

(e) the Operating Agreement and the Fund PPM, as currently in effect, shall have been delivered to the Company prior to the signing of this Agreement; and

(f) the representations, warranties and covenants contained in this Agreement and the Fund Agreements (collectively, the "Party Documents") are the only representations, warranties and covenants that have been made by any Party to any other Party, and in entering into this Agreement, each Party has relied solely on the information contained in the Party Documents or that it obtained by its own independent investigation.

4.5 Duration. The representations, warranties and covenants contained in this Article IV shall be deemed continuing at all times until the termination of this Agreement.

ARTICLE V. INVESTMENT RESTRICTIONS; INFORMATION AND REPORTS; OTHER OBLIGATIONS

5.1 Revision of Investment Restrictions. The investment restrictions of the Company are as set forth on Schedule B hereto. The Company shall be permitted to request a change in such investment restrictions only if such change is necessitated by a change in the laws, regulations or interpretations thereof to which the Company is subject. The Company shall make a request for a change in its investment restrictions in writing to the Fund and the Adviser. If the Adviser determines in its absolute discretion that causing the Fund to comply with the revised investment restrictions proposed by the Company is in the best interests of the Interest Owners, the Parties shall amend Schedule B hereto accordingly. If the Adviser determines otherwise, it shall notify the Company within thirty (30) days of such determination.

5.2 Provision of Reports and Information. The Company shall provide to the Adviser, upon request, a specimen copy of the Contract PPM and each Company Contract. The Fund shall on a timely basis provide to the Company the following without charge:

(a) a current copy of the Fund PPM (and any amendment or supplement thereto) in any form the Company may reasonably request;

(b) electronic copies of those reports and other communications that the Fund provides to its Interest Owners, including its periodic performance reports (collectively, the "Fund Reports");

(c) any reports and information that the Company requires as a U.S. taxpayer; and

(d) any other documents that the Company may reasonably request of the Fund, including, but not limited to, its governing instruments, tax reports, marketing materials, and any government filings and updates and amendments thereto, including, but not limited to, the Adviser's Form ADV; provided that neither the Fund nor the Adviser need supply any agreements or documents of the Fund or the Adviser that are confidential.

5.3 Review of Sales Literature. Neither the Fund, the Adviser nor any person acting on their behalf shall use any Sales Literature in which the Company is named without the consent of the Company which shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

5.4 Distribution of Certain Information by the Company. The Company shall be permitted, without further review or consent of the Fund or the Adviser, to deliver to Policy Owners, prospective Policy Owners, and their agents and representatives, the Fund PPM (and any amendments or supplements thereto), Fund Reports and any Sales Literature approved for such purposes by the Adviser.

5.5 Provision of Information Prior to Signing of Agreement. Prior to signing this Agreement, the Adviser has provided the Company with its most recent Form ADV, and any amendments thereto, as filed with the SEC.

Prior to signing this Agreement, the Fund or the Adviser has provided the Company with (a) the name and address of the Fund's independent auditor(s) and (b) upon the Company's request, a consent and authorization for the Company to contact the auditor(s) for information reasonably required about the auditor(s) and its/their relationship with the Fund and the Adviser. At any time the Fund retains a different independent auditor, the Fund or the Adviser shall provide the Company with the same consent and authorization upon request. For avoidance of doubt, the Company shall not be entitled to obtain access to the Fund's books and records pursuant to this Section 5.5.

Prior to signing this Agreement, CGIL has provided the Fund with its Class C certificate of registration issued to it by the Bermuda Monetary Authority and any directions and/or approvals relating to it issued by the Bermuda Monetary Authority pursuant to the Bermuda Insurance Act.

5.6 Certification of Investment Diversification. As soon as reasonably practicable after the end of each calendar quarter, but in no event later than the number of days after the end of such calendar quarter set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto, the Adviser shall deliver to the Company a written certification in the form of Schedule C hereto.

ARTICLE VI. EXPENSES

6.1 Expenses Borne by the Company. The Company shall bear all of the costs incurred in connection with the (i) filing and qualification of the Company Contracts under any applicable state insurance or securities laws; (ii) preparation of the Contract PPM and any other necessary disclosure documents or regulatory filings with respect to the Company Contracts or the Separate Accounts; (iii) preparation and dissemination to Policy Owners of Fund Reports and of all statements, notices or other documents required by applicable federal and state laws and regulations; (iv) dissemination of the Fund PPM to Policy Owners and prospective Policy Owners; and (v) performance of its obligations under this Agreement.

6.2 Expenses Borne by the Fund. The Fund shall bear all of the costs incurred in connection with the offering and sale of Interests to Interest Owners and the performance of its obligations under this Agreement, in addition to the other expenses it bears pursuant to the Operating Agreement and the Fund PPM.

ARTICLE VII. INDEMNIFICATION

7.1 Indemnification of Fund Parties. The Company shall indemnify and hold harmless the Fund and the Adviser (collectively, the "Fund Parties" and each, a "Fund Party"), against any and all claims, losses, damages or expenses, including without limitation any judgment, settlement, reasonable attorney's and accountant's fees and other costs or expenses incurred in connection with the defense of any actual or threatened action or proceeding (collectively, "Claims" and each, a "Claim"); provided, however, that a Fund Party shall be entitled to indemnification in respect of a Claim only if:

(a) the Claim does not arise out of its or another Fund Party's willful misfeasance, bad faith, gross negligence or breach of, or material failure to fulfill any of its representations, warranties or covenants contained herein, and

(b) the Claim arises out of, or is based upon, one of the following:

(i) the Company's fraud, willful default or gross negligence in performing its obligations under this Agreement; or

(ii) the Company's breach of, or material failure to fulfill, any representation, warranty, or covenant contained herein, or any material misrepresentation in connection therewith.

7.2 Indemnification of Company Parties. The Fund shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company and the Separate Accounts (collectively, the "Company Parties" and each, a "Company Party"), against any and all Claims; provided, however, that a Company Party shall be entitled to indemnification in respect of a Claim only if:

(a) the Claim does not arise out of its or another Company Party's willful misfeasance, bad faith, gross negligence or breach of, or material failure to fulfill to satisfy any of its representations, warranties or covenants contained herein, and

(b) the Claim arises out of, or is based upon, one of the following:

(i) the fraud, willful default or gross negligence of a Fund Party in performing its obligations under this Agreement; or

(ii) the breach of, or material failure to fulfill, by any Fund Party any representation, warranty, or covenant contained herein, or any material misrepresentation in connection therewith.

7.3 Other Indemnification Provisions. No indemnification, hold harmless, limitation of liability or similar provision in the Fund's Certificate of Formation, the Operating Agreement or any agreement to which the Fund or the Adviser is a party shall preclude or serve as a defense to the indemnification by the Fund of a Company Party pursuant to Section 7.2.

7.4 Notice of Claim of Indemnification. A Fund Party or Company Party seeking indemnification under this Article VII (an "Indemnified Party") shall give the Party obliged to provide indemnification under this Article VII (an "Indemnifying Party") written notice within a reasonable time after the Indemnified Party receives notice of a Claim; provided, however, that a failure to provide, or delay in providing, such notice shall not relieve the Indemnifying Party of any obligation it may have under this Article VII to indemnify the Indemnified Party, unless such failure or delay is the sole or primary cause of the Indemnifying Party's inability to effectively defend against the Claim and materially disadvantages the Indemnifying Party.

7.5 Assumption of or Participation in Defense Against Claims. In any situation where an Indemnified Person is directly involved in defending against a Claim, an Indemnifying Party shall be entitled to, at its own expense, (i) participate in the defense of the Claim or (ii) assume the defense against the Claim with counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party. If the Indemnifying Party elects to assume the defense of a Claim, the Indemnifying Party shall, after notice to the Indemnified Party of such election, have no obligation to bear any subsequent fees and expenses independently incurred by the Indemnified Party in connection with the defense of the Claim (excluding reasonable costs of investigation), except that the Indemnifying Party shall be liable for reasonable fees and expenses associated with additional counsel retained by the Indemnified Party where the Indemnifying Party and the Indemnified

Person are both parties to the Claim and their representation by the same counsel would be inappropriate due to an actual or potential conflict of interests. Any assumption or participation in the defense of a Claim pursuant to this Section 7.5 shall not be construed as, or be deemed to create a presumption or inference of, an admission of liability or responsibility by the Indemnifying Party, and shall not estop or otherwise limit the Indemnifying Party from contesting liability in respect of the Claim.

7.6 Settlements. An Indemnifying Party shall not be obliged to indemnify an Indemnified Party for the settlement of any Claim that is effected without the former's prior written consent. An Indemnifying Party may settle any Claim on behalf of an Indemnified Party without the Indemnified Party's consent; provided, however, that the settlement involves solely the payment of damages, such damages are fully paid and results in a total release of the Indemnified Party from the Claim. To the extent that its consent to a settlement is required, an Indemnified Party shall not unreasonably withhold its consent to any settlement not involving injunctive relief.

7.7 Successors. A successor to any Party shall be entitled to all of the benefits, and shall be subject to the burdens, of this Article VII.

7.8 Survival. This Article VII shall survive the termination of this Agreement including, without limitation, a termination by reason of the breach or alleged breach of any representation, warranty or covenant of this Agreement.

ARTICLE VIII. TERMINATION

8.1 Termination Generally. Except as otherwise set forth in this Article VIII, no term of this Agreement shall terminate until the Separate Accounts no longer hold any Interests.

8.2 Effectiveness of Termination of Offering Obligation. A termination of the Offering Obligation pursuant to Section 8.2(a) shall take effect immediately. A termination pursuant to Section 8.2(b), (c), (d), (e) or (f) shall be effective immediately after the Fund provides notice to the Company of such termination.

8.3 Mandatory Withdrawal. The Fund shall have the right to require the Company, upon at least the number of days' prior written notice to the Company set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto, to redeem any Interest(s) attributable to any Company Contract that ceases to qualify as a Variable Contract or that the Fund reasonably believes will fail to so qualify. The timing of such mandatory withdrawal shall be specified in the Fund's notice to the Company and shall be determined with reference to Section 817(h) of the Code.

8.4 Termination by Company. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, either the Fund or the Company may terminate this Agreement immediately and without penalty to such party:

(a) from the date hereof until November 30, 2017, upon at least 30 days' prior written notice to the Fund and the Adviser, or

(b) if the Fund or the Adviser has materially breached a representation, warranty or covenant under this Agreement and has failed to cure such breach after being given a reasonable opportunity to cure; provided, however, that the Company need not provide the Fund or the Adviser a reasonable opportunity to cure if the material breach may, in the Company's reasonable judgment, materially and adversely affect the Company or any of its Separate Accounts or Company Contracts, or any regulatory authority, including, but not limited to, the SEC and any state regulatory authority, has instituted a formal proceeding against the Fund or the Adviser, and the anticipated outcome of such proceeding would, in the Company's reasonable judgment, materially impair the Fund's or the Adviser's ability to perform its obligations under this Agreement or under the Operating Agreement.

ARTICLE IX. NOTICES, REQUESTS OR CONSENTS

9.1 Any notice, consent, request or other communication required or permitted by this Agreement (a "Communication") to the Fund or the Adviser shall be sent to its address set forth on Schedule A-2 hereto or such other address as the Fund or the Adviser shall designate in writing to the other Parties. Any Communication to the Company required or permitted by this Agreement shall be sent to the address set forth below. Every Communication shall be in writing; shall be sent by registered or certified U.S. mail with return receipt requested, by overnight delivery with a nationally recognized courier, or by electronically transmitted facsimile or other electronic transmission, including electronic mail, with confirmed electronic receipt; and shall be effective upon the earlier of actual receipt and the 10th Business Day after sending.

9.2 Each Party may rely conclusively upon, and shall not incur any liability for any action taken in reliance upon, any Communication that it reasonably believes, in good faith, to be genuine and properly authorized by another Party.

ARTICLE X. PRIVACY OBLIGATIONS

10.1 The Company is, and each of the Fund and the Adviser may be, a financial institution subject to Privacy Law. To the extent that a Party is subject to Privacy Law, it shall not use or disclose any Customer Information received from another Party unless such use or disclosure is:

(a) required by law, regulation or rule, or permitted by Privacy Law;

(b) necessary to carry out the purposes for which the Party was given the Customer Information; or

(c) authorized by the express written consent of the Policy Owner or prospective Policy Owner to which the Customer Information relates, where such consent specifies the purposes for which such Customer Information may be used or disclosed.

10.2 Each Party shall establish and maintain safeguards against any unauthorized access to, or destruction, loss or alteration of, any Customer Information in its possession or control, which safeguards must be at least as rigorous as those the Party uses to secure its own information of a similar nature.

10.3 Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, including Section 11.7, each Party is expressly authorized hereby to disclose to any person, without limitation of any kind, the tax treatment and tax structure of the transactions contemplated herein and all materials related thereto that are or were provided to such Party.

10.4 Each Party agrees to keep confidential any Confidential Information that such Party may acquire as a result of this Agreement or any transaction in connection therewith and to ensure that no such Confidential Information is disclosed to or utilized by any of such Party's affiliates or any of its or their respective officers, directors, employees, agents or other representatives (each, a "Relevant Person") except for the purpose of permitting a Party to perform its obligations and/or enforce such Party's rights under this Agreement, the Fund Agreements or any transaction in connection therewith or pursuant to this Section 10 and Section 11.4 hereof.

ARTICLE XI. MISCELLANEOUS

11.1 Governing Law. It is the intention of the Parties that the internal laws of Bermuda, as the same may be amended from time to time, shall govern the validity of this Agreement, the construction of its terms and the interpretation of the rights and duties of the Parties.

11.2 Entire Agreement. This Agreement, together with any amendments hereto and any other agreements referred to herein (including, without limitation, the Fund Agreements), shall constitute the entire agreement among the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, and shall supersede any prior agreement or understanding, oral or written, among the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof.

11.3 Waiver. A Party's failure to insist, or delay in insisting, upon another Party's performance of any term of this Agreement shall not be construed as a waiver of the performance of such term.

11.4 Access to Books and Records. Each Party shall, upon request, provide each other Party and any governmental authority with reasonable access to its books and records to the extent that such request relates to a governmental authority's investigation or inquiry concerning this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated herein. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the access provided pursuant to this Section 11.4 shall not extend to any attorney work product or information protected by the attorney-client privilege.

11.5 Assignment. No Party shall assign any right or obligation under this Agreement to a third party without the prior written consent of all of the Parties, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, the Company may assign, without the consent of the Fund or the Adviser, any right or obligation under this Agreement to another insurance company that controls, is controlled by or under common control with the Company; provided, however, that the Company provides the Fund and the Adviser with notice as soon as reasonably practicable after such assignment.

11.6 Third-Party Beneficiary. This Agreement is not intended to and shall not convey any rights to persons not party to this Agreement.

11.7 Confidentiality. No Party shall disclose the terms of this Agreement to any persons not party to this Agreement, except that a Party may disclose the terms of this Agreement to comply with a legal or regulatory requirement or request, or to its representatives where such disclosure is necessary to the Party's performance of its obligations under this Agreement; provided that the Company agrees and acknowledges the disclosures concerning the subject matter hereof set forth in the Fund PPM, and disclosures of a similar nature.

11.8 Amendment. No amendment or modification to this Agreement shall be binding upon any Party unless reduced to a writing signed by all of the Parties.

11.9 Rights and Remedies. The rights, remedies and obligations contained in this Agreement are in addition to any and all rights, remedies and obligations, at law or in equity, to which the Parties are entitled under state and federal laws.

11.10 Severability. In the event that any provision of this Agreement shall be declared invalid or unenforceable, such invalidity or unenforceability shall not affect the validity or enforceability of the other provisions of this Agreement, it being hereby agreed that such provisions are severable and that this Agreement shall be construed in all respects as if such invalid or unenforceable provision were omitted.

11.11 Headings. The headings in this Agreement are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not be considered part of this Agreement or affect this Agreement's interpretation.

11.12 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in two or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and which together shall constitute one and the same instrument.

SCHEDULE B
As of November 30, 2015

INVESTMENT RESTRICTIONS

The Company will not participate in the allocation of gains or losses derived from "New Issues" as defined in the Rules of the U.S. Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA"), except that the Fund, in its sole discretion, may allocate de minimis levels of such gains or losses in a manner consistent with applicable FINRA Rules.

SCHEDULE C

FORM OF COMPLIANCE CERTIFICATION

This compliance certificate ("Compliance Certificate") is given by Rand Advisors, LLC, as the adviser (the "Adviser") of Atlas IDF, LP (the "Fund"), pursuant to Section 5.6 of that Participation Agreement, dated as of November 30, 2015, among the Fund, the Adviser, Crown Global Life Insurance Ltd. ("CGLI"), a Bermuda exempted company registered as a long term Class C insurer, the Company (on behalf of each of its separate accounts (and subaccounts, if any, thereof) set forth on Schedule A of the Participation Agreement (as defined below), as such Schedule A may be amended from time to time) ("Schedule A Separate Accounts" and together with CGIL, the "Company")), as the same may be amended, restated, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time (the "Participation Agreement"). Capitalized terms used, but not defined, in this Compliance Certificate shall have the meanings set forth in the Participation Agreement.

By executing this Compliance Certificate, the Adviser certifies that, as of the calendar quarter ended [March 31/June 30/September 30/December 31], 201[-]:

1. The Fund's assets have been invested in compliance with the diversification requirements of Regulations 1.817-5(b) under the Code.

a. No more than 55% of the value of the total assets of the Fund is represented by any one investment;

b. No more than 70% of the value of the total assets of the Fund is represented by any two investments;

c. No more than 80% of the value of the total assets of the Fund is represented by any three investments; and

d. No more than 90% of the value of the total assets of the Fund is represented by any four investments.

Diversification Test	Name of Issuer	% of Total Assets	Cum %	Test
Largest Issuer	[Issuer one]	x.xx%	x.xx%	< 55% TA
Second Largest Issuer	[Issuer two]	x.xx%	x.xx%	< 70% TA
Third Largest Issuer	[Issuer three]	x.xx%	x.xx%	< 80% TA
Fourth Largest Issuer	[Issuer four]	x.xx%	x.xx%	< 90% TA

2. If the Fund relied on the "look through" provision of Regulation 1.817-5(f), the investments of any underlying investment vehicle must be sufficiently diverse to permit the Fund to comply with the diversification requirements of Regulation 1.817-5(b).

3. The Adviser has in all respects complied with the requirements set forth on Schedule D to the Participation Agreement.

4. The Adviser has reviewed the foregoing statements and certifies that they are true and correct.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Adviser has caused this Compliance Certificate to be executed by one of its authorized officers this ____ day of _____, 201__.

SCHEDULE D

INVESTOR CONTROL REQUIREMENTS

The Adviser and each of its officers, employees, agents, affiliates or sub-advisers that is in any capacity responsible for, or involved in the determination of, the Fund's investments or investment objective, strategies or policies (each, an "Adviser Party"), shall not take any action that would cause any Policy Owner or Policy Representative (together with such Policy Owner, a "Policy Party") to be deemed to have such incidents of control as would cause the Fund's income and gains to be currently taxable to the Policy Owner pursuant to the "Investor Control Doctrine" as set forth in Revenue Rulings 77-85, 80-274, 81-225, 82-54, 2003-91, 2003-92, or 2007-7, or described in other materials published by the U.S. Department of the Treasury or the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. In seeking to ensure that no Policy Party is deemed to have incidents of control, each Adviser Party shall at all times act in compliance with the requirements of this Schedule D, as set forth below:

1. All decisions involving the investment of the Fund's assets shall be made by the relevant Adviser Party in its sole and absolute discretion, without any direct or indirect input from any Policy Party.

2. No Adviser Party shall enter into, directly or indirectly, any agreement, plan or other arrangement, whether written or otherwise, with a Policy Party regarding (i) the Fund's investments or investment objective, strategies or policies; (ii) the availability of the Fund as an investment option under the Policy Owner's policy; or (iii) the assets to be held by the Fund.

3. To the extent that the Adviser provides information (i) to a prospective Policy Owner or representative thereof as part of a direct or indirect sale of a Variable Contract, or (ii) to the Company for the Company to communicate with a Policy Party, any Adviser Party may describe: (a) the past performance of the Fund or related performance information with respect to the Fund; (b) its general view of market and industry trends (e.g., its belief that interest rates will rise in the short-term or that technology stocks are over-valued); (c) the background, education and past employment of its staff, including the performance of other funds under its management; and (d) other due diligence information that the Adviser generally provides to prospective investors with respect to the Adviser's other funds and accounts so long as such information does not relate to the quality or rate of return of any investment or group of investments of the Fund.

4. Without limiting the foregoing, no Adviser Party shall knowingly discuss, communicate or solicit in any manner, whether directly or indirectly, the views of any Policy Party on the current or future investments, objectives, strategies or policies of the Fund, either in general or specific terms.

5. No Adviser Party shall at any time be affiliated with a Policy Party; provided, however, that an Adviser Party may maintain such an affiliation if it establishes, pursuant to a legally binding written agreement, procedures to prevent any communication prohibited by this Schedule D.

6. The Company understands that the Adviser provides investment management services to a variety of clients outside the context of Variable Contracts. The Company further understands that the Adviser may provide such services to clients that are Policy Parties. The Adviser recognizes that these relationships could present an opportunity for a Policy Party to communicate with any Adviser Party concerning the Fund in a manner prohibited by this Schedule D. The Adviser shall take appropriate steps to comply with this Schedule D in the context of any such relationships.

FINMA – The Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority.

Full Surrender – A Surrender pursuant to Section 8.2.

Grace Period – A period of thirty days following the date on which the Insurer makes available to the Proposed Policyholder information indicating that (i) the Policy Account Value is less than $250,000, or (ii) the Policy Account Value is insufficient to pay the Fees and Charges due under the Policy without the Policy Account Value becoming less than $250,000 following payment of such Fees and Charges.

Home Office – The Insurer's office in Hamilton, Bermuda. The Insurer's mailing address is Crown Global Life Insurance Ltd., Canon's Court, 22 Victoria Street, Hamilton HM 12, Bermuda, email: info@crownglobalinsurance.com, facsimile: +1-345-945-6121.

IDF – An insurance dedicated fund.

In Force – A condition that the Policy has not terminated.

Initial Premium – The first Premium payment by the Proposed Policyholder as shown on the Policy Data Page.

Insurance Dedicated Fund – An Investment Option involving investment in an investment fund generally formed as a limited partnership or limited liability company

(i) which is intended to operate as an insurance dedicated fund (an "IDF") and (ii) investment in which is available only to a U.S. or non-U.S. insurance company that regularly engages in the sale of life insurance policies and annuity policies in the ordinary course of its business and is acquiring interests in the IDF to hold in a Separate Account established in connection with a Policy and not as part of the general assets of the insurance company.

Insurer – Crown Global Life Insurance Ltd. The Insurer has elected under Code section 953(d) to be treated as a U.S. domestic corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Investment Adviser Act – The U.S. Investment Adviser Act of 1940, as amended.

Investment Company Act – The U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended.

Investment Option – A separate investment option consisting of all or a portion of the assets held in a Separate Account and managed by the investment manager identified therein directly or through an IDF.

IRS – The U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

Issue Date – The issue date of the Policy as stated on the Policy Data Page.

Joint Life Annuity – An annuity issued on the life of two Proposed Annuitants and under which payments continue as long as either Proposed Annuitant is alive.

Liquid Asset Subaccount – A Subaccount of the Separate Account, the funds in which are primarily invested in interest-bearing commercial bank accounts.

Liquidity Date – The last Business Day of each calendar quarter.

Managed Subaccount – An Investment Option where assets held in a Subaccount are managed by an investment manager unrelated to the Insurer. For the avoidance of doubt, a Managed Subaccount does not include an IDF.

Management & Expense Fee – The Management & Expense Fee as stated on the Policy Data Page and described in Section 9.3.

Minimum Liquid Asset Allocation – An amount not in excess of the expected annual Fees and Charges related to the Policy that the Insurer may place in the Liquid Asset Subaccount.

Net Premium – A Premium payment less applicable Fees and Charges, including, without limitation, the Acceptance Fee set forth on the Policy Data Page and described in Section 9.5.

Next Available Liquidity Date – For any specified day, the Liquidity Date on or next following the 100th calendar day following the specified day.

Partial Surrender – A Surrender pursuant to Section 8.3.

Policy – This Deferred Variable Annuity (DVA) Policy offered by the Insurer.

Policy Account Value – The net fair market value of all assets in the Separate Account backing the Policy, less any accrued but unpaid Fees or Charges.

Policy Administration Fee – The fee deducted by the Insurer as stated on the Policy Data Page and described in Section 9.1.

Policy Anniversary – The anniversary of the Policy Effective Date.

Policy Data Page – The pages of this Policy titled "Policy Data Page." The Insurer will reissue these pages by means of an endorsement whenever the information on the Policy Data Page is amended, in accordance with the Policy.

Policy Effective Date – The "Policy Effective Date" of this Policy as stated on the Policy Data Page.

Policy Set-Up Deposit – A non-refundable screening deposit due upon submission of the completed Annuity Application Form as stated on the Policy Data Page and described in Section 9.4.

Policy Year – Any one year period beginning on the Policy Effective Date or a Policy Anniversary and ending on the day before the next Policy Anniversary.

Premiums – The Initial Premium and any subsequent Premiums paid to the Insurer under this Policy.

Private Act – The private act entitled "The Scottish Annuity & Life International Insurance Company (Bermuda) Ltd. Consolidation and Amendment Act 2001," as amended and consolidated from time to time.

Proposed Annuitant – The individual whose life is used to determine the duration of the period during which the Annuity Payments will be paid by the Insurer.

Proposed Joint Annuitants – Each Proposed Annuitant (each being a "Proposed Joint Annuitant") when a second Proposed Annuitant is designated under the Policy and a Joint Life Annuity is selected. Each Proposed Annuitant, including the second Proposed Annuitant, is to generally be designated by the Proposed Policyholder in the Annuity Application Form but may be designated by the Proposed Policyholder after the Issue Date with the consent of the Insurer. The second named Proposed Annuitant shall be designated as the Proposed Joint Annuitant by the Proposed Policyholder in the Annuity Application Form and reflected as such on the Policy Data Page.

Proposed Policyholder – Proposed Policyholder means the individual or entity that proposes or is considering the purchase of a Policy pursuant to the Confidential Private Placement Memorandum. This term shall include a person who has become an actual policyholder through the purchase of a Policy or pursuant to a change made pursuant to Section 11.2.

Qualified Purchaser – A Qualified Purchaser within the meaning of Section 2(a)(51) of the Investment Company Act.

SEC – The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Securities Act – The U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

Separate Account – A separate investment account established by the Insurer for this Policy pursuant to the terms hereof, and Bermuda law (including the Private Act), the assets of which can be used for the sole purpose of paying claims under this Policy. A Separate Account is not a legal entity under Bermuda law and any references to the Separate Account performing any tasks means the Insurer in respect of the Separate Account.

Single Life Annuity – An annuity measured by the life of a single Proposed Annuitant.

Subaccount – A subaccount established by the Insurer as a bookkeeping entry within the Separate Account.

Surrender – A surrender under Article VIII including a Full Surrender under Section 8.2 and a Partial Surrender under Section 8.3.

Taxes – The taxes defined in Section 9.7 of this Policy.

Unscheduled Premium – Any Premium payment other than the Initial Premium or a Premium scheduled on the Policy Data Page or as set forth in an endorsement or attachment to the Policy.

U.S. Treasury Regulations – The U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code, as amended.

Article I General Provisions

Section 1.1 Consideration

This Policy is issued in consideration of the payment of the Initial Premium.

Section 1.2 Entire Policy

This Policy, any endorsements or riders, and the Annuity Application Form constitute the entire contract between the Proposed Policyholder and the Insurer. The Proposed Policyholder, on behalf of the Proposed Policyholder, the Proposed Annuitant, and the Beneficiaries represents, acknowledges, and agrees that the Insurer has relied, and is entitled to rely, upon the accuracy of the information and statements made in the Annuity Application Form in deciding to issue this Policy.

Section 1.3 Survival of Representations, Warrants, Covenants

The representations, warrants, covenants, and other statements made in the Annuity Application Form are incorporated herein by reference and shall survive the execution of this Policy.

Section 1.4 Amendment or Modification

The Insurer cannot modify the Policy without the Proposed Policyholder's consent, provided that, the Insurer may take any action it deems necessary in order to preserve the U.S. tax treatment of the Policy without the Proposed Policyholder's consent, so long as the Insurer provides 90 days prior notice of any such proposed action to the Proposed Policyholder and discusses with the Proposed Policyholder the legal basis for such change.

Section 1.5 Misstatement of Age

If the Age of any Proposed Annuitant or Proposed Joint Annuitant is misstated on the Annuity Application Form, the Insurer will adjust the Annuity Payments to reflect the correct Age. Any amount that the Insurer has overpaid as a result of any such misstatement shall be deducted from future Annuity Payments made under the Policy. The Insurer will require due proof of the Age or survival of any person on whose continued life any payment or benefit under the Policy is dependent. It is the Proposed Policyholder's obligation to provide proof that is satisfactory to the Insurer.

Section 1.6 Non-Participating Policy

This Policy is non-participating, which means that the Proposed Policyholder will not share in the Insurer's profits or surplus earnings and that the Insurer will not pay dividends on this Policy.

Section 1.7 Ownership of Assets

Assets held in the Separate Account are the sole property of the Insurer. The Proposed Policyholder will have no direct proprietary interest in the assets held in any separate account, including, without limitation, the Separate Account with respect to this Policy.

Section 1.8 Rule of Construction

For purposes of this Policy, the period denoted by the phrase "prior to a Liquidity Date" shall include the Liquidity Date.

Section 1.9 Governing Law

The Policy will be governed by the laws of Bermuda without regard to its conflict of laws principles, including without limitation, the Private Act and the Life Insurance Act, 1978 as may be amended from time to time.

Section 1.10 Effective Date of Coverage

Coverage of the Proposed Annuitants under this Policy will begin on the Policy Effective Date.

Article II Premium Provisions

Section 2.1 Premiums

The minimum Initial Premium payable under the Policy is $2 million. Such minimum may be met by aggregating Policies having initial Premiums of $1 million each and purchased by the same Proposed Policyholder. The Insurer has not placed a limitation on the maximum amount of Premiums that may be contributed by a Proposed Policyholder. Subject to Section 2.2, additional Premium Payments may be made at any time and from time to time as the Proposed Policyholder's financial situation permits, provided that the minimum additional Premium Payment may not be less than the minimum Unscheduled Premium.

The Initial Premium is due on the Issue Date. Premiums must be paid or mailed from outside the U.S. to the Insurer at its Home Office. Upon request, a receipt will be provided at the Insurer's Home Office (or other non-U.S. jurisdiction designated by the Insurer from time to time).

No Initial Premium or additional Premium payments may be made from the U.S. by any Proposed Policyholder (nor will the same be accepted by the Insurer) if said Proposed Policyholder is in the U.S. at the time the decision to make said Premium payment occurs. Further, the Proposed Policyholder may not direct that a Premium payment be made while the Proposed Policyholder is in the U.S. even if the Premium payment is made from outside the U.S.

Premium payments are generally to be made in U.S. Dollars. The Insurer may, in its sole and absolute discretion, accept certain in-kind asset contributions as Premium payments. The Insurer may reject in-kind asset contributions in its sole and absolute discretion.

Section 2.2 Insurer's Right to Refuse Premiums

The Insurer reserves the right to refuse Premiums and to return Premiums with interest if such Premiums would adversely affect the U.S. tax consequences the Policy is intended to provide or the tax consequences under the laws of any other applicable jurisdiction.

The Insurer reserves the right not to accept any Premium payments from a Proposed Policyholder who ceases to be a Qualified Purchaser or an Accredited Investor. The Insurer may require any Proposed Policyholder to provide confirmation of the Proposed Policyholder's status as a Qualified Purchaser or an Accredited Investor before accepting any additional Premium payments. However, subject to any other limitation set forth in this Section 2.2, Premium payments during a Policy Year that do not exceed the sum of expected Fees and Charges under the Policy for the Policy Year will be accepted.

Section 2.3 Nonpayment of Premium

If no Premiums are paid after the Initial Premium, the Policy will continue In Force as long as the Policy Account Value is sufficient to pay any applicable Fees and Charges and, following the payment of such Fees and Charges, the Policy Account Value is $500,000 or more.

Article III Termination Provisions

Section 3.1 Insurer's Cancellation Rights

The Insurer may, in its sole and absolute discretion, cancel the Policy and distribute the Policy Account Value to the Proposed Policyholder if:

1. The Policy Account Value is less than $250,000 at the end of any calendar quarter prior to the Annuity Starting Date but following the Insurer's acceptance of the Initial Premium payment, notwithstanding any potential negative tax consequences to the Proposed Policyholder or any other person or entity; or

2. The continuing existence of the Policy would require the Insurer, the Policy or the Separate Account backing the Policy to register, or make information filings, with the SEC under the Securities Act, the U.S. Investment Company Act, the U.S. Investment Adviser Act, each as amended from time to time, or the securities laws of any jurisdiction in which the Insurer, the Policy or the Separate Account is not currently registered or required to make information filings; or

3. The Proposed Policyholder or the Proposed Annuitant (or any Proposed Joint Annuitant) changes his or her country of residence for tax, securities regulation, or other purposes; or

4. Subject to the provisions of section 12.6 of the Policy, any declaration in the Annuity Application Form is not exact, truthful, and complete in all material respects; or

5. If the Proposed Policyholder fails to comply with the terms of any of the covenants or declarations made in the Annuity Application Form.

Prior to the Policy termination, the Insurer will provide 90 day notice of such termination to the Proposed Policyholder, which notice shall include the reason for such termination. The Insurer will pay to the Proposed Policyholder the amount, if any, of the Policy Account Value determined as of the Next Available Liquidity Date. Surrender charges will not apply.

Section 3.2 Reinstatement

If the Policy terminates as the result of the expiration of a Grace Period, it may not be reinstated unless reinstatement is required by Bermuda law.

Article IV Premium Investment; Policy Account Values

Section 4.1 The Separate Account

The Insurer will establish a Separate Account pursuant to the terms of the Private Act to hold assets that fund obligations arising under each Policy issued by it together with any supplementary contracts hereunder and certain other funds. Income, gains, or losses of each Separate Account are credited to or charged against the assets held in such Separate Account, without regard to other income, gains, or losses of any other Separate Account or business of the Insurer. Under the terms of this Policy and the laws of Bermuda, assets allocated or credited to each Separate Account are the property of the Insurer and the Proposed Policyholder has no direct proprietary interest in such assets.

Section 4.2 Premiums

Net Premiums received by the Insurer with respect to the Policy will be credited to the related Separate Account. To the extent that Premiums are insufficient to pay all Fees and Charges due to the Insurer under the Policy, the Insurer will deduct Fees and Charges from the Separate Account.

Amounts payable to the Proposed Policyholder or any Beneficiary under the Policy will be made by the Insurer from the related Separate Account to the Proposed Policyholder or Beneficiary in accordance with the terms of this Policy. The Insurer will establish Subaccounts within the Separate Account for each Investment Option selected by the Proposed Policyholder. Each Subaccount will correspond to an Investment Option. The Insurer may from time to time change the Investment Options and investment managers available to Proposed Policyholders, provided that the Insurer shall only remove an investment manager available to the Proposed Policyholder for cause (as described in the Insurer's investment management or similar agreement with such investment manager).

Section 4.3 Allocations to Investment Options

On the Annuity Application Form, the Proposed Policyholder will designate the initial allocation of Net Premiums among the available Investment Options and on each Liquidity Date a Proposed Policyholder's Net Premiums will be allocated among the Investment Options according to the allocation percentages selected. Allocation percentages must be zero or a whole number not less than ten nor greater than 100. The sum of the allocation percentages must equal 100. The Insurer will document the initial allocation on the Policy Data Page. The Insurer has reserved the right to require allocation of an amount equal to the expected aggregate quarterly Fees and Charges related to the Policy to the Liquid Asset Subaccount before application of the allocation percentages designated by the Proposed Policyholder. In addition, the Insurer may transfer amounts from other Investment Options and Subaccounts to the Liquid Asset Subaccount equal to the expected quarterly Fees and Charges.

The specific Investment Options can generally be divided into two categories: IDFs and Managed Subaccounts. The Insurer is not obligated to offer both IDFs and Managed Subaccounts as Investment Options at any time. Accordingly, at any given time only one of these types of Investment Options may be available.

The Insurer and its affiliates make no recommendations, and provide no investment advice, as to the selection of, and allocations to, Investment Options. The Insurer has not evaluated any of the investment manager's investment performance and makes no recommendation regarding the selection of any investment manager or any IDF. The Insurer does not act as a custodian of cash or investments held in the Separate Account.

Section 4.4 Compliance with Investor Control Rules

The Proposed Policyholder agrees that, except for the selection of the allocation of Separate Account assets among Investment Options as contemplated in Section 4.3, and changes to such allocations as contemplated in Section 4.5, it will not select, identify or recommend, nor will it contact any investment manager for the purpose of influencing, any particular investment or group of investments to be made directly or indirectly with the assets of any Subaccount, including, without limitation, an investment manager with respect to an IDF in which funds held in a particular Subaccount are invested.

A Proposed Policyholder may not have direct contact or communicate with the investment manager of either an IDF or a Managed Subaccount and may not directly participate in the management of the Separate Account or any IDF or Managed Subaccount.

Section 4.5 Changes in Allocations to Investment Options

The Proposed Policyholder may, at quarterly intervals, reallocate funds among then available Investment Options but may do so no more than twice per calendar year. If a change in allocation percentages requires a transfer of funds between Investment Options, there may be a delay after the Separate Account receives the proceeds from one Investment Option until the next date on which it is possible to reinvest the funds in a different Investment Option. During this delay period (which may be up to one calendar quarter), funds will be invested in the Liquid Asset Subaccount. The Proposed Policyholder acknowledges that this delay may result in the funds having a lower return for this period.

In the event of such a delay, the funds from the liquidated investments will be invested in the Liquid Asset Subaccount until the next Liquidity Date at which time the funds will be re-allocated (together with any related earnings) to the applicable Subaccount originally designated by the Proposed Policyholder for the transfer.

Unless and until the Proposed Policyholder notifies the Insurer in writing of a new Net Premium allocation, the Net Premium allocations as specified in “Initial Allocation of Payment to Investment Options” on the Policy Data Page will continue to apply to any additional Premium payments.

Section 4.6 Responsibility for Selecting Investment Options

The Insurer does not and will not make any recommendation as to the Proposed Policyholder’s selection or retention of investment managers, allocation of assets among Subaccounts, Investment Options, or investments in particular securities or categories of securities, nor will it evaluate the investment performance of any investment manager. Inclusion of an Investment Option shall not be deemed to be a recommendation of that investment or as an indication that such an investment is suitable for the Proposed Policyholder.

Each Proposed Policyholder acknowledges, represents, warrants, and covenants that it is solely responsible for determining for themselves whether a particular Investment Option is suitable in light of their individual situations. The Insurer and its affiliates make no recommendations, and provide no advice, as to the selection of Investment Options and provide no warranty, representation, or indemnity with respect to the performance of any Investment Option. Each Proposed Policyholder should consult his or her personal financial advisor concerning Premium allocations.

Section 4.7 Appointment of Investment Manager and Custodian Bank

The Insurer shall have the right, exercisable in its sole and absolute discretion, to appoint, change, or remove the investment manager and custodian bank with respect to each Investment Option or Separate Account, provided that an investment manager shall only be removed for cause (as described in the Insurer's investment management or similar agreement with such investment manager). A Proposed Policyholder may recommend to the Insurer one or more investment managers or custodian banks who meet the Insurer's general requirements after the initial policy date, but the Insurer may accept or reject such recommendation in its sole and absolute discretion.

Section 4.8 Timing of Allocations

The Insurer will allocate the Proposed Policyholder's Net Premiums among one or more Investment Options in the percentages specified on the Policy Data Page, as amended from time to time at the written request of the Proposed Policyholder, within two business days following the date the Insurer receives the Net Premiums. Net Premiums received and which are to be allocated to an Investment Option will be initially invested in the Liquid Asset Subaccount and subsequently allocated (together with any related earnings) within two business days to the applicable Investment Option (subject to deferral due to liquidity constraints imposed by the applicable investment manager or IDF and subject to such provisions as to valuation and unit calculation as may be specified by the applicable investment manager).

Section 4.9 Investment of Separate Account Assets

The Insurer will require each investment manager with respect to a portfolio of an IDF or Managed Account held in the Separate Account and the investment manager of each investment fund or other investment fund in which the assets of the Separate Account are invested, to comply with the following:

1. Investment of assets held in each Subaccount will be sufficiently diversified to comply with the requirements of U.S. Treasury Regulation section 1.817-5(b). Assets of any investment fund relying upon a "look-through" basis for purposes of meeting such diversification requirements will themselves be sufficiently diversified so as to allow the Subaccount to comply with such requirements.

2. The investment manager and its employees who are responsible for investment decisions will not accept investment recommendations or make any investment decisions regarding the direct or indirect investment of Separate Account assets based, in whole or in part, on information regarding any investment or group of investments received from any Proposed Policyholder or any representative or adviser of a Proposed Policyholder.

3. No Proposed Policyholder (or any representative or adviser of a Proposed Policyholder) will have the right or be permitted to select or identify any particular investment or group of investments to be made directly or indirectly with the assets of any Subaccount.

4. The investment manager will not commit to invest assets of any Subaccount (or of any underlying investment fund or Managed Account in which a Subaccount has invested directly or indirectly) in mutual funds or other collective investment funds or publicly available investment products (including, without limitation, market-linked deposits and flexible deposits) managed, advised and/or distributed by the investment manager or its affiliates and will only do so if (a) in the investment manager's sole judgment at the time the investment is made, such fund or product is appropriate within the investment objectives and policies of the Subaccount fund or Managed Account and (b) no more than 55% of the assets on an initial purchase basis (excluding market value increases) of the Subaccount fund or Managed Account are invested in such funds or products at any time. Subject to the foregoing, for the avoidance of doubt, assets may be invested in an IDF.

5. In accordance with Section 4.4, except for general descriptions of the investment policies of the Investment Options, there will not be any direct or indirect prearrangement, plan or agreement between any Proposed Policyholder (or any Proposed Policyholder's advisers or representatives) and the investment manager (or any of its employees) regarding the investments to be made directly or indirectly by any Subaccount.

Section 4.10 Request for Extension of Investment Rights With Respect to Adequate Diversification

A Proposed Policyholder may make a request for an extension of the Proposed Policyholder's investment rights described in Section 4.4 and partial or complete release of the investment manager's obligations in Section 4.9 to adequately diversify the assets held in the Separate Account by delivering a written request to the Insurer's Home Office expressing a specific desire for the same. The Insurer may grant or deny such requests in its sole and absolute discretion, for any reason or for no reason whatsoever. Any such request must be approved by the Insurer in writing (and, in the case of an IDF, may also require the consent of the IDF). Absent written approval of the request, the request shall be deemed to have been denied.

The Insurer expresses no opinion and makes no representations or warranties regarding the tax consequences under the laws of the U.S. or any other jurisdiction of the Insurer's decision to grant such requests. By making such a request, a Proposed Policyholder waives any claim against the Insurer, its shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents or affiliates on behalf of the Proposed Policyholder, any Beneficiaries or any other person for any loss from the Insurer's decision to grant or deny the Proposed Policyholder's request and agrees to hold harmless hereunder the Insurer and its shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents or affiliates for any such loss.

Section 4.11 Changes in Investment Options

The Insurer at any time may add additional Investment Options, remove or restrict existing Investment Options, or add or eliminate an investment manager subject to any required regulatory approval, provided that the Insurer shall only remove an investment manager available to the Proposed Policyholder for cause (as described in the Insurer's investment management or similar agreement with such investment manager). If an Investment Option is removed or restricted or an investment manager is terminated, the Insurer may eliminate the Investment Option as an option for future Premium payments or transfers and may also transfer funds from the Subaccount in which assets invested in the terminated Investment Option were held, to the Liquid Asset Subaccount. An affected Proposed Policyholder may submit instructions to adjust the allocation of Net Premiums among the remaining Investment Options, without charge, for a period of 60 days following receipt of the Insurer's notice of any such termination. The Insurer will implement those instructions on the Next Available Liquidity Date after receipt.

Section 4.12 Policy Account Value

The Policy Account Value is equal to the net fair market value of all assets in the Separate Account backing the Policy, less any accrued but unpaid fees or expenses. The Insurer will determine the Policy Account Value on each Liquidity Date. The Separate Account value will increase or decrease, depending upon the investment experience of the related Subaccounts.

Assets allocated or credited to a Separate Account may be commingled with assets allocated or credited to another Separate Account for purposes of investment. In such circumstances, the Insurer may determine the Policy Account Value of each such Separate Account by the use of accumulation units, which are calculated separately with respect to each commingled investment. The accumulation unit value for each commingled investment will vary to reflect the investment experience of the assets invested therein.

The value of an accumulation unit will be determined on each Liquidity Date. When a commingled investment is made, the Insurer will credit the Separate Account with a number of accumulation units determined by dividing the amount of the investment by the value of the accumulation unit. When assets allocated or credited to a Separate Account are withdrawn from an investment, the accumulation units are reduced.

Article V Transfers Among Investment Options

Section 5.1 General

The Proposed Policyholder may request one transfer among Investment Options per calendar quarter, but no more than twice per calendar year.

Section 5.2 Conditions on Transfer

To effect any transfer, the Proposed Policyholder must submit a transfer request to the Insurer. All transfers are subject to the following conditions:

1. Any applicable Fees and Charges will be deducted from the Subaccount or from the amount which is transferred.

2. Transfers will be effected within 60 days following receipt by the Insurer of a transfer request. Actual settlement of a disposition or redemption from the relevant Subaccount, and reinvestment of the proceeds may be delayed as described below.

3. Any transfer request must clearly specify: (a) the amount which is to be transferred; and (b) the Subaccounts which are to be affected.

4. Payments to effect a transfer are subject to the disbursement rules and restrictions of the Subaccount(s).

5. The minimum amount that may be transferred in a single transfer will be the lesser of $250,000 or the entire interest in a Subaccount.

6. No transfer may be made from the Liquid Asset Subaccount if the amount remaining therein would not equal or exceed the Minimum Liquid Asset Allocation.

7. In the case of an IDF, any additional conditions set forth in the governing documents in the IDF must be satisfied.

Section 5.3 Liability

Neither the Insurer nor any of the Insurer's affiliates will be liable for any losses incurred as a result of transfers made in accordance with a Proposed Policyholder's transfer request including lower returns which may result.

Section 5.4 Limits on Right of Transfer

The Insurer may in its sole and absolute discretion defer the right of transfer for any period when it reasonably determines that additional time is necessary to obtain sufficient cash to make the transfer payments. Additional limitations on transfer may be imposed under the terms of any IDF in which assets held in a Separate Account are invested. For the avoidance of doubt, a transfer described in this Section 5.4 is a situation where a change from one Investment Option to another Investment Option occurs.

Article VI Annuity Provisions

Section 6.1 Annuity Payments

The Insurer will make periodic payments to the Beneficiaries beginning on the Annuity Starting Date and continuing thereafter on each Policy Anniversary to an account located outside the U.S. The amount of each Annuity Payment will equal the product of the applicable Annuity Percentage and the Policy Account Value (determined as of the end of the calendar quarter immediately preceding each Annuity Payment) and will vary depending upon the investment experience of the Investment Options in which the Separate Account assets are invested and the age of the Proposed Annuitant.

Section 6.2 Annuity Percentage

The Annuity Percentages are listed in the Appendix I to this Policy. The applicable Annuity Percentage will, depend upon the benefit option selected by the Policyholder. In the case of a Single Life Annuity, the Annuity Percentage is the percentage corresponding to the age of the Proposed Annuitant. In the case of a Joint Life Annuity, the applicable Annuity Percentage is the percentage corresponding to the age of the younger Proposed Joint Annuitant or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants. The Annuity Percentage is adjusted for each Annuity Payment.

Section 6.3 No Guaranteed Payments

The Policy Account Value, and thus, the Annuity Payments may increase or decrease depending upon the investment experience of the Investment Options selected by the Proposed Policyholder. The sole source for the payment of the Annuity Payments are the assets held in the Separate Account backing the Policy. The Policy does not provide for guaranteed annuity or death benefits. All payments, including upon the death of the Proposed Policyholder or Proposed Annuitant (or Proposed Joint Annuitants) are strictly limited to the assets held in the Separate Account backing the Policy and no Annuity Payments or any other payments under the Policy are payable from any other source.

Section 6.4 Annuity Starting Date

The Annuity Starting Date must be on the first day of a calendar quarter and may not be later than the first day of the calendar quarter of the Proposed Annuitant's (or elder Proposed Joint Annuitant's or surviving Proposed Joint Annuitant's) eighty-fifth (85th) birthday. If the Proposed Policyholder has not chosen an Annuity Starting Date, then the first day of the calendar quarter of the Proposed Annuitant's (or elder Proposed Joint Annuitant's or surviving Proposed Joint Annuitant's) eighty- fifth (85th) birthday shall be the Annuity Starting Date.

Section 6.5 Change of Annuity Starting Date

The Proposed Policyholder may change the Annuity Starting Date prior to the then current Annuity Starting Date by delivering a written notice to the Insurer. The new Annuity Starting Date may not be before the Next Available Liquidity Date for any Investment Option under the Policy as of the date the Insurer receives the notice from the Proposed Policyholder, and may not be later than the first day of the calendar month following the Proposed Annuitant's 85th birthday. Distributions must commence after the Annuity Starting Date in accordance with requirements under the Code.

Section 6.6 Annuity Income Options

Two (2) basic benefit options are offered under the Policy: (i) a Single Life Annuity, and (ii) a Joint Life Annuity. The benefit option may be changed by the Proposed Policyholder; however, no such change may be made at any time on or after the Annuity Starting Date. A Policyholder may change the selection of any benefit option by giving the Insurer at least thirty (30) calendar days' written notice prior to the Annuity Starting Date from outside the U.S.

In the case of a Single Life Annuity, the applicable Annuity Percentage is the percentage corresponding to the age of the Proposed Annuitant. In the case of a Joint Life Annuity, the applicable Annuity Percentage is the percentage corresponding to the age of the younger Proposed Joint Annuitant or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants.

Under both basic benefit options, the amount of each annual Annuity Payment made on or after the Annuity Starting Date will vary in accordance with the age of the Proposed Annuitant (or Proposed Joint Annuitant(s)) and the investment performance of the assets held in the Separate Account and shall be computed by the Insurer's actuary each year (and recomputed on the annual anniversary date each year thereafter) by multiplying the applicable Annuity Percentage in the Annuity Percentage Table attached as Appendix I to this Policy by the then current Policy Account Value as of the Annuity Starting Date and predetermined on the annual anniversary date each year thereafter. If the Policy Account Value is zero, then all payments will cease. All Annuity Payments shall be made to an account outside the U.S. The Insurer may consider the adoption of additional benefit options at the request of a Proposed Policyholder.

Section 6.7 Maturity Payment

Upon the death of the Proposed Annuitant (or survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants), the Insurer will pay to the Beneficiaries, or their successors as Beneficiaries, as the case may be, the balance of the Policy Account Value.

Article VII Loan Provisions

Section 7.1 Policy Loans

The Proposed Policyholder shall have no guaranteed rights or privileges with respect to loans under a Policy. The Insurer may, in its sole and absolute discretion consider whether to facilitate a Proposed Policyholder's request to pledge a Policy as collateral security for a loan to be made by the Insurer or institutional or other third party lenders. A pledge of a Policy as collateral security for a loan may be effected only with the prior written consent of the Insurer, which may be granted or denied in the Insurer's sole and absolute discretion.

Article VIII Surrender Provisions

Section 8.1 General

At any time after the Issue Date and prior to the Annuity Starting Date, the Proposed Policyholder may request one or more withdrawals under the Policy from the Separate Account in the form of a Partial Surrender. Withdrawals are possible up to 100% of the Policy Account Value. Should the Policy Account Value be equal to or less than $250,000, the Policy will lapse. The rights of a Proposed Policyholder to make a Surrender under the Policy shall be subject to the consent of all Beneficiaries who have been irrevocably designated by the Proposed Policyholder under the Policy. Subject to this Article VIII, the Proposed Policyholder may Surrender the Policy, in whole or in part, by filing a written request with the Insurer at the Insurer's Home Office at any time during the lifetime of the Proposed Annuitant. The Policy Account Value which is the subject of the Surrender will be determined as of the Next Available Liquidity Date occurring after the Insurer receives the request to Surrender.

Although the amount of the Surrender proceeds will be determined as of the Next Available Liquidity Date after receipt of the Surrender request, the Insurer will use reasonable efforts to pay Surrender proceeds as soon as practicable whether on a Liquidity Date or another date (subject to such liquidity constraints and provisions as to valuation and unit calculation as may be specified by the investment manager of the applicable Investment Option).

Section 8.2 Full Surrender

If the Proposed Policyholder requests a Full Surrender of the Policy Account Value of the Policy, the Policy will terminate on the date the Proposed Policyholder submits its Surrender request in accordance with Section 12.3.

Section 8.3 Partial Surrender

The Proposed Policyholder may request a Partial Surrender of the Policy for up to and including 90% of the Policy Account Value of the Policy. No more than one Partial Surrender may be requested by the Proposed Policyholder during each quarter of a Policy Year. As provided in Section 3.1, any Partial Surrender that causes the Policy Account Value to be reduced to an amount that is less than $250,000 may be deemed by the Insurer to be a request for Full Surrender and if so deemed will cause the Policy to be terminated, notwithstanding any potential negative tax consequences to the Proposed Policyholder or any other person or entity. If the Policy Account Value is reduced to an amount that is less than $250,000, then the Insurer shall have the right, exercisable in its sole and absolute discretion, to treat a Partial Surrender request as a Full Surrender request.

Each Partial Surrender will reduce the Policy Account Value and the amount of any Annuity Payment to be paid after the Annuity Starting Date. An amendment to the Policy will be sent to the Proposed Policyholder outside the U.S. for countersignature upon any request for a Partial Surrender under the Policy. Said amendment shall become a part of the Policy.

Article IX Policy Fees and Charges

Section 9.1 Policy Administration Fee

The Insurer will deduct the Policy Administration Fee from the Separate Account as set forth in the Policy Data Page for general administrative expenses.

Section 9.2 DAC Charges

The amount deducted by the Insurer as set forth on the Policy Data Page to pay for the costs imposed by virtue of the treatment of certain deferred acquisition costs for U.S. federal income tax purposes under section 848 of the Code. The amount of the DAC Charge as set forth on the Policy Data Page shall be adjusted to reflect any change in the applicable U.S. federal income tax rate. The Insurer shall provide the Proposed Policyholder notice of any change in the DAC Charge.

Section 9.3 Management & Expense Fee

The Insurer will deduct the Management & Expense Fee from the Separate Account. The Management & Expense Fee is an on-going insurance administration fee described on the Policy Data Page.

Section 9.4 Policy Set-Up Deposit

The Policy Set-Up Deposit is due to the Insurer as set forth on the Policy Data Page upon submission of the completed Annuity Application Form by the Proposed Policyholder. The Policy Set-Up Deposit will be paid into the General Account of the Insurer. Upon issuing the Policy, an amount equal to the Policy Set-Up Deposit will be used to offset the Acceptance Fee. If for any reason, a Policy is not issued, the Insurer will retain the Policy Set-Up Deposit to cover medical, underwriting, administration and any other costs incurred by the Insurer in the processing of the application.

Section 9.5 Acceptance Fee

The Insurer will deduct the Acceptance Fee set forth in the Policy Data Page on each date the Insurer receives a Premium payment.

Section 9.6 Surrender Charge

Surrender charges will not apply to this Policy.

Section 9.7 Taxes

The Insurer will deduct only those Taxes (as defined below) paid by the Insurer or its affiliates to any governmental entity that relate to the Policy or the related Separate Account. These taxes (the "Taxes") exclusively include withholding taxes, excise taxes, sales taxes, stamp taxes, value added taxes, state taxes imposed on the Insurer or its affiliates, and taxes imposed on Subpart F income of a Separate Account attributable to its investment in a controlled foreign corporation, as well as the deferred tax amount and any interest charge or other taxes imposed on the investments of a Separate Account in a passive foreign investment company, or under the corresponding tax laws of other jurisdictions.

The Insurer may, in its sole and absolute discretion, pay Taxes when due and deduct such amounts from the Separate Account at a later date. The Insurer will, in its absolute discretion, determine when Taxes have resulted from the investment experience of any Subaccount or receipt by the Insurer of Premiums.

Section 9.8 Agreed Upon Procedures Fee

The Insurer will deduct the Agreed Upon Procedures Fee from the Separate Account if the Proposed Policyholder instructs the Insurer to engage a third party audit firm to review charges and provide an Agreed Upon Procedures (AUP) report.

Section 9.9 Deductions for Fees and Charges

The Fees and Charges are paid to the Insurer under the Policy initially by making deductions from Premiums and then by making deductions from the Separate Account. To the extent that the Insurer deducts Fees and Charges from the Separate Account, amounts will be deducted first from the Liquid Asset Subaccount and then from the Subaccounts pursuant to the terms of the Policy.

Section 9.10 Custodian Bank and Investment Manager Fees

Each custodian bank and investment manager will separately deduct any applicable fees charged by it from any Separate Account or Investment Option for which it is acting as custodian or investment manager, as the case may be. The fees of the custodian bank and investment manager are calculated on an individual basis and may vary depending upon the investment manager and Investment Option(s) selected by the Proposed Policyholder. The list of investment managers and custodians retained by the Insurer is available from the Insurer upon request.

Article X Death Benefit Provisions

Section 10.1 Death Benefit

If all Beneficiaries and any alternative Beneficiaries predecease the Proposed Policyholder and Proposed Annuitant (or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants, in the case where a Joint Life Annuity benefit option is selected), then the benefits payable under the Policy to the Beneficiaries or alternative Beneficiaries shall be paid to the Proposed Policyholder until the first to die of the Proposed Policyholder or Proposed Annuitant (or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants, in the case where a Joint Life Annuity benefit option is selected).

If none of the Beneficiaries or alternative Beneficiaries survives the Proposed Annuitant(s), then the Policy Account Value shall be paid to the Proposed Policyholder upon the Proposed Annuitant's death (or survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants' death, in the case where a Joint Life Annuity benefit option is selected).

If the Proposed Policyholder is not living at the time any benefit under the Policy is payable to the Proposed Policyholder, then such benefit shall be paid to the Proposed Policyholder's estate, if then open, or if not then to his heirs per stirpes, in accordance with the laws of succession in the jurisdiction of the Proposed Policyholder's last known domicile on the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death.

If the Proposed Policyholder is not an individual, then the Proposed Annuitant (or the younger of the Proposed Joint Annuitants or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants) shall be recognized as the "primary Proposed Annuitant" and treated as the Proposed Policyholder of the Policy. Any change in the designation of such Proposed Annuitant (or Proposed Joint Annuitant) following the Issue Date (in the case where the Proposed Policyholder is not an individual) shall be treated as the death of the Proposed Policyholder.

If the Proposed Policyholder dies prior to the "annuity starting date" (defined under Code Section 72(c)(4) as the first day of the first period for which an amount is received as an annuity under the contract; such definition possibly differing from the Annuity Starting Date designated under the Policy), then the Proposed Policyholder's entire interest in the Policy shall be distributed to the Beneficiaries within five (5) years from the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death, unless the Beneficiaries elect to receive such interest in distributions made over their life or lives (or over a period not extending beyond their respective life expectancies), and such distributions begin within one (1) year from the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death. Any such election must be made in writing and received by the Insurer at the Insurer's Home Office within 180 calendar days from the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death.

If the Proposed Policyholder dies on or after the "annuity starting date" (as defined under Code Section 72(c)(4)) and before the entire interest in the Policy has been distributed, the remaining portion of the Policy Account Value shall be distributed to the Beneficiaries at least as rapidly as under the method of distributions being used as of the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death.

Notwithstanding any provision of the Policy, all Death Benefits must be distributed in compliance with the provision of section 72(s) of the Code. Death Benefits payable hereunder will be includible in the gross income of the Beneficiary.

Section 10.2 Due Proof of Death

Due proof of death is one of the following received at the Insurer's Home Office in a form satisfactory to the Insurer in its absolute discretion:

1. A certified copy of a death certificate;
2. A certified copy of a decree of a court of competent jurisdiction as to the finding of death; or
3. Any other proof of death satisfactory to the Insurer.

Article XI Owner, Beneficiary, Assignment

Section 11.1 Proposed Policyholder

The Proposed Policyholder is the person so named on the Policy Data Page or his or her assignee in accordance with a valid assignment as provided in Section 11.2.

Under Bermuda law, the Proposed Policyholder or his personal representative, trustee in bankruptcy or legal assignee will be the owner of the rights to payments under the Policy. While the Proposed Policyholder is alive, all rights in the Policy belong to the Proposed Policyholder and may be exercised without the consent of any Beneficiary, provided that, once an irrevocable designation of Beneficiary is filed, changes or elections under the Policy that impair the rights of an irrevocable Beneficiary will not be allowed without the consent of the irrevocable Beneficiary. All of the Proposed Policyholder's rights in the Policy belong to the estate of the Proposed Policyholder if the Proposed Policyholder dies before the Proposed Annuitant. Joint ownership is permitted.

Section 11.2 Change of Proposed Policyholder

The Proposed Policyholder may change the ownership of the Policy by submitting a request to the Insurer's Home Office and obtaining written approval of the Insurer. Any approved change will take effect on the date specified in the approval.

Section 11.3 Proposed Annuitant

The Proposed Policyholder has the right to designate one Proposed Annuitant or two Proposed Joint Annuitants. The Proposed Annuitants or Proposed Joint Annuitants will be as stated in the Annuity Application Form, unless otherwise endorsed at issue or subsequently changed.

Section 11.4 Change of Proposed Annuitant

Each Proposed Policyholder will have the right to designate and in some cases change the Proposed Annuitant or Proposed Joint Annuitant.

Section 11.5 Beneficiary

The Proposed Policyholder shall initially designate one or more Beneficiaries on the Policy Data Page. All designations of Beneficiaries are revocable unless specified as irrevocable by the Proposed Policyholder. Once an irrevocable designation of Beneficiary is filed, any changes or elections under the Policy that impair the rights of an irrevocable Beneficiary will not be allowed without the consent of the irrevocable Beneficiary under the Policy.

Section 11.6 Change of Beneficiary

Except in the case of an irrevocable Beneficiary, the Proposed Policyholder may change the Beneficiaries by filing a written request from outside the U.S. with the Insurer at its Home Office at any time prior to the Annuity Starting Date. In the case of an irrevocable Beneficiary, the consent of the irrevocable Beneficiary to the change is also required. The change will take effect as of the date the notice is received by the Insurer subject to any payment made or action taken by the Insurer before the Insurer receives the document at its Home Office. A new Beneficiary designation will automatically revoke all prior designations (except an irrevocable Beneficiary designation where the consent of the irrevocable Beneficiary has not been obtained). The Insurer will not be liable for any payment made or action taken before the effective date of the change of Beneficiary.

Section 11.7 Assignment

The Proposed Policyholder may transfer, assign, or pledge the Policy or any of their rights under the Policy, including a Section 1035 exchange of the Policy with another carrier, without the prior written consent of the Insurer, provided that the Policy may not be assigned unless (i) it is registered under the U.S. federal securities and/or state securities laws or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction unless such registration is not required or an exemption from registration is available and (ii) the assignee is a Qualified Purchaser and Accredited Investor. The Insurer may require satisfactory evidence as to the non-applicability of any such registration requirement or the availability of an exemption from any applicable registration requirement and the Insurer may in its discretion for this purpose request, at the transferor's expense, a favourable legal opinion from transferor's counsel that the provisions of this Section 11.7 have been met.

The Insurer represents and warrants that, subject to the foregoing, it will fully cooperate with any assignment, transfer or exchange, including a "1035" exchange of the Policy with another carrier and will cooperate to exchange underlying IDFs or sub-accounts with such carrier. Failure by the Insurer to cooperate with the Proposed Policyholder in a proposed 1035 exchange or other transfer, assignment, or pledge of the Policy or any of the Proposed Policyholder's rights under the Policy, such failure to cooperate as determined by a final judgement in a Bermuda court or other court of relevant jurisdiction, among any other injunctive or other relief resulting therefrom, will result in liquidated damages to the Proposed Policyholder equal to the sum of the (a) then Policy Account Value and (b) any fees or charges, including Management and Expense Fees, accruing during the period that the non-cooperation (as determined by the a Bermuda court or other court of relevant jurisdiction) exists and is continuing, and the Insurer shall be strictly liable for payment of such amount to the Proposed Policyholder. For the avoidance of doubt, the Proposed Policyholder shall be entitled to its Policy Account Value separate from the liquidated damages amount provided for herein. The Proposed Policyholder (x) acknowledges that the Insurer's ordinary and customary process for 1035 exchanges includes obtaining satisfactory assurance from the transferor of compliance with relevant tax and disclosure laws with respect to the Policy and indemnification from the new carrier regarding any tax obligations relating to the Policy and (y) agrees that following the Insurer's 1035 exchange process will not be considered to be a failure to cooperate by the Insurer.

Article XII Other General Provisions

Section 12.1 Periodic Reports

The Insurer will make available to the Proposed Policyholder, for every calendar quarter or portion thereof during which the Policy is In Force, a report that shows activity in the Proposed Policyholder's Separate Account. The Proposed Policyholder expressly authorizes the Insurer to rely upon the information or valuations provided by the selected investment manager and custodian without further inquiry or verification of any kind, nature, or description. Each quarterly statement will set forth the Policy Account Value less applicable expenses and charges at the beginning and end of the reporting period and aggregate adjustments to the same throughout. These quarterly statements shall be made available to the Proposed Policyholder at the Insurer's Home Office. The Insurer will forward annual Separate Account statements to an address of the Proposed Policyholder outside of the U.S. if a request to do so is made by the Proposed Policyholder in writing and delivered to the Insurer's Home Office.

Section 12.2 Currency and Place of Payment

All transactions between the Proposed Policyholder and the Insurer will be made in U.S. dollars unless otherwise confirmed by the Insurer in writing. All Payments will be made outside the U.S.

Section 12.3 Notices, Requests and Elections

To be effective, all notices, requests, and elections the Proposed Policyholder makes under the Policy must be in writing, signed by the Proposed Policyholder or sent electronically or via facsimile by the Proposed Policyholder and received by the Insurer. Unless otherwise provided, all notices, requests and elections will be effective when received by the Insurer. Notices, requests and elections may be made by the Proposed Policyholder under the Policy in writing, signed by the Policyholder, sent by facsimile or electronic communication and received by the Insurer at its Home Office or administrative office, provided that the Insurer will not be liable for following instructions communicated by facsimile or electronically and, provided further that acceptance of facsimile or electronic communication by the Insurer will not impose any requirement on the Insurer to employ any procedures to confirm that instructions received by facsimile communication are genuine. Any notice or report required to be given by the Insurer to the Proposed Policyholder or any other person will be deemed given when sent to such person or such person's authorized representative.

Section 12.4 Policy Settlement

Prior to any payment of a Death Benefit, due certified proof of death must be submitted to the Insurer.

Section 12.5 Deferment

The Insurer will execute allowable requests for a transfer, Full Surrender or Partial Surrender by the Proposed Policyholder within 60 days of a request. Such requests may require conversion of certain Investment Option assets to cash or in-kind distributions, where possible. This may take longer than 60 days for a variety of reasons, including underlying restrictions on redemptions of assets held pursuant to an Investment Option. In such cases, the Insurer will take reasonable steps to comply with such requests at the earliest time possible. The foregoing will be subject to time restrictions within the Insurance Dedicated Fund purchased by a Subaccount.

Section 12.6 Incontestability

Except as expressly provided in the Policy, the Insurer will not contest the validity of the Policy for misstatement, misrepresentation or non-disclosure after the Policy has been In Force for two years from the Issue Date during the lifetime of the Proposed Annuitant. The Policy will be voidable in the event of fraud at any time. If the validity of the Policy is so contested, then (1) the Insurer's obligation to pay Annuity Payments under the Policy will terminate as of the date the Insurer discovers such misstatement, misrepresentation or non-disclosure, and (2) the Policy Account Value will be determined as of the Next Available Liquidity Date occurring after the Insurer discovers such misstatement, misrepresentation or non-disclosure and returned to the Proposed Policyholder or the Beneficiaries within 90 days. The Insurer will notify the Proposed Policyholder that the Policy is so terminated and such notice will include the date of termination. The return of the Policy Account Value will be in full and final satisfaction of all the Insurer's obligations under the Policy. Following the return of the Policy Account Value, the Policy will be void.

Section 12.7 Policyholder Information

The Insurer may disclose Policyholder information to third parties such as banks or independent asset managers. Specifically with respect to banking relationships in Switzerland and in accordance with FINMA Newsletter 18 (2010) "handling of Life insurance with separately managed accounts/portfolios" dated December 20, 2010, the Insurer may disclose Policyholder or source of funding information to banking partners including Policyholder name, date of birth, nationality and address. In any event, the Insurer may be required to confirm in accordance with FINMA Newsletter 18 (2010) that the insurance product related to account openings is set up as a life insurance product according to the legal provisions, including provisions concerning biometric risks, of the Insurer's domicile.

Each U.S. person who has a financial interest in or signature or other authority over any foreign financial accounts, including bank, securities, or other types of financial accounts, in a foreign country, if the aggregate value of these financial accounts exceeds $10,000 at any time during the calendar year, must report that relationship each calendar year by filing Form TD F 90-22.1 (Report of Foreign Bank and Financial Accounts), commonly referred to as an "FBAR", with the Department of the Treasury on or before June 30 of the succeeding year. In addition, and irrespective of the independent FBAR filing obligations that a Proposed Policyholder (or its owner) who is a U.S. person may have, U.S. person directors, officers, or employees of the Insurer who have signature authority over the Separate Account, Subaccounts, or other accounts with respect to the Policy would need to file an FBAR with respect to such accounts and so will the Insurer itself as a U.S. Person with a financial interest in such accounts. On the basis of such filings, the IRS could request information with respect to such filings and the Proposed Policyholder acknowledges that the Insurer may provide such FBAR-related information to the IRS if requested to do so.

Section 12.8 Tax Matters

The Proposed Policyholder acknowledges that he or she is responsible for complying with all tax reporting, filing and payment obligations with respect to this Policy in any jurisdiction in which the Proposed Policyholder is subject to tax. The Proposed Policyholder must consult its own tax advisor with respect to such obligations. The Insurer has not provided, and shall have no responsibility for providing, advice to the Proposed Policyholder with respect to such issues.

CROWN GLOBAL INSURANCE

Section 12.9 Limitation on Liability of Insurer

THE LIABILITY OF THE INSURER FOR BENEFITS UNDER THE POLICY OR FOR ANY LOSS OR OTHER DAMAGES WITH RESPECT TO THE POLICY IS LIMITED TO THE POLICY ACCOUNT VALUE.

U.S. Treasury Regulations – The U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code, as amended.

Article I General Provisions

Section 1.1 Consideration

This Policy is issued in consideration of the payment of the Initial Premium.

Section 1.2 Entire Policy

This Policy, any endorsements or riders, and the Annuity Application Form constitute the entire contract between the Proposed Policyholder and the Insurer. The Proposed Policyholder, on behalf of the Proposed Policyholder, the Proposed Annuitant, and the Beneficiaries represents, acknowledges, and agrees that the Insurer has relied, and is entitled to rely, upon the accuracy of the information and statements made in the Annuity Application Form in deciding to issue this Policy.

Section 1.3 Survival of Representations, Warrants, Covenants

The representations, warrants, covenants, and other statements made in the Annuity Application Form are incorporated herein by reference and shall survive the execution of this Policy.

Section 1.4 Amendment or Modification

The Insurer cannot modify the Policy without the Proposed Policyholder's consent, provided that, the Insurer may take any action it deems necessary in order to preserve the U.S. tax treatment of the Policy without the Proposed Policyholder's consent, so long as the Insurer provides 90 days prior notice of any such proposed action to the Proposed Policyholder and discusses with the Proposed Policyholder the legal basis for such change.

Section 1.5 Misstatement of Age

If the Age of any Proposed Annuitant or Proposed Joint Annuitant is misstated on the Annuity Application Form, the Insurer will adjust the Annuity Payments to reflect the correct Age. Any amount that the Insurer has overpaid as a result of any such misstatement shall be deducted from future Annuity Payments made under the Policy. The Insurer will require due proof of the Age or survival of any person on whose continued life any payment or benefit under the Policy is dependent. It is the Proposed Policyholder's obligation to provide proof that is satisfactory to the Insurer.

Section 1.6 Non-Participating Policy

This Policy is non-participating, which means that the Proposed Policyholder will not share in the Insurer's profits or surplus earnings and that the Insurer will not pay dividends on this Policy.

Section 1.7 Ownership of Assets

Assets held in the Separate Account are the sole property of the Insurer. The Proposed Policyholder will have no direct proprietary interest in the assets held in any separate account, including, without limitation, the Separate Account with respect to this Policy.

Section 1.8 Rule of Construction

For purposes of this Policy, the period denoted by the phrase "prior to a Liquidity Date" shall include the Liquidity Date.

Section 1.9 Governing Law

The Policy will be governed by the laws of Bermuda without regard to its conflict of laws principles, including without limitation, the Private Act and the Life Insurance Act, 1978 as may be amended from time to time.

Section 1.10 Effective Date of Coverage

Coverage of the Proposed Annuitants under this Policy will begin on the Policy Effective Date.

Article II Premium Provisions

Section 2.1 Premiums

The minimum Initial Premium payable under the Policy is $2 million. Such minimum may be met by aggregating Policies having initial Premiums of $1 million each and purchased by the same Proposed Policyholder. The Insurer has not placed a limitation on the maximum amount of Premiums that may be contributed by a Proposed Policyholder. Subject to Section 2.2, additional Premium Payments may be made at any time and from time to time as the Proposed Policyholder's financial situation permits, provided that the minimum additional Premium Payment may not be less than the minimum Unscheduled Premium.

The Initial Premium is due on the Issue Date. Premiums must be paid or mailed from outside the U.S. to the Insurer at its Home Office. Upon request, a receipt will be provided at the Insurer's Home Office (or other non-U.S. jurisdiction designated by the Insurer from time to time).

No Initial Premium or additional Premium payments may be made from the U.S. by any Proposed Policyholder (nor will the same be accepted by the Insurer) if said Proposed Policyholder is in the U.S. at the time the decision to make said Premium payment occurs. Further, the Proposed Policyholder may not direct that a Premium payment be made while the Proposed Policyholder is in the U.S. even if the Premium payment is made from outside the U.S.

Premium payments are generally to be made in U.S. Dollars. The Insurer may, in its sole and absolute discretion, accept certain in-kind asset contributions as Premium payments. The Insurer may reject in-kind asset contributions in its sole and absolute discretion.

Section 2.2 Insurer's Right to Refuse Premiums

The Insurer reserves the right to refuse Premiums and to return Premiums with interest if such Premiums would adversely affect the U.S. tax consequences the Policy is intended to provide or the tax consequences under the laws of any other applicable jurisdiction.

The Insurer reserves the right not to accept any Premium payments from a Proposed Policyholder who ceases to be a Qualified Purchaser or an Accredited Investor. The Insurer may require any Proposed Policyholder to provide confirmation of the Proposed Policyholder's status as a Qualified Purchaser or an Accredited Investor before accepting any additional Premium payments. However, subject to any other limitation set forth in this Section 2.2, Premium payments during a Policy Year that do not exceed the sum of expected Fees and Charges under the Policy for the Policy Year will be accepted.

Section 2.3 Nonpayment of Premium

If no Premiums are paid after the Initial Premium, the Policy will continue In Force as long as the Policy Account Value is sufficient to pay any applicable Fees and Charges and, following the payment of such Fees and Charges, the Policy Account Value is $500,000 or more.

Article III Termination Provisions

Section 3.1 Insurer's Cancellation Rights

The Insurer may, in its sole and absolute discretion, cancel the Policy and distribute the Policy Account Value to the Proposed Policyholder if:

1. The Policy Account Value is less than $250,000 at the end of any calendar quarter prior to the Annuity Starting Date but following the Insurer's acceptance of the Initial Premium payment, notwithstanding any potential negative tax consequences to the Proposed Policyholder or any other person or entity; or

2. The continuing existence of the Policy would require the Insurer, the Policy or the Separate Account backing the Policy to register, or make information filings, with the SEC under the Securities Act, the U.S. Investment Company Act, the U.S. Investment Adviser Act, each as amended from time to time, or the securities laws of any jurisdiction in which the Insurer, the Policy or the Separate Account is not currently registered or required to make information filings; or

3. The Proposed Policyholder or the Proposed Annuitant (or any Proposed Joint Annuitant) changes his or her country of residence for tax, securities regulation, or other purposes; or

4. Subject to the provisions of section 12.6 of the Policy, any declaration in the Annuity Application Form is not exact, truthful, and complete in all material respects; or

5. If the Proposed Policyholder fails to comply with the terms of any of the covenants or declarations made in the Annuity Application Form.

Prior to the Policy termination, the Insurer will provide 90 day notice of such termination to the Proposed Policyholder, which notice shall include the reason for such termination. The Insurer will pay to the Proposed Policyholder the amount, if any, of the Policy Account Value determined as of the Next Available Liquidity Date. Surrender charges will not apply.

Section 3.2 Reinstatement

If the Policy terminates as the result of the expiration of a Grace Period, it may not be reinstated unless reinstatement is required by Bermuda law.

Article IV Premium Investment; Policy Account Values

Section 4.1 The Separate Account

The Insurer will establish a Separate Account pursuant to the terms of the Private Act to hold assets that fund obligations arising under each Policy issued by it together with any supplementary contracts hereunder and certain other funds. Income, gains, or losses of each Separate Account are credited to or charged against the assets held in such Separate Account, without regard to other income, gains, or losses of any other Separate Account or business of the Insurer. Under the terms of this Policy and the laws of Bermuda, assets allocated or credited to each Separate Account are the property of the Insurer and the Proposed Policyholder has no direct proprietary interest in such assets.

Section 4.2 Premiums

Net Premiums received by the Insurer with respect to the Policy will be credited to the related Separate Account. To the extent that Premiums are insufficient to pay all Fees and Charges due to the Insurer under the Policy, the Insurer will deduct Fees and Charges from the Separate Account.

Amounts payable to the Proposed Policyholder or any Beneficiary under the Policy will be made by the Insurer from the related Separate Account to the Proposed Policyholder or Beneficiary in accordance with the terms of this Policy. The Insurer will establish Subaccounts within the Separate Account for each Investment Option selected by the Proposed Policyholder. Each Subaccount will correspond to an Investment Option. The Insurer may from time to time change the Investment Options and investment managers available to Proposed Policyholders, provided that the Insurer shall only remove an investment manager available to the Proposed Policyholder for cause (as described in the Insurer's investment management or similar agreement with such investment manager).

Section 4.3 Allocations to Investment Options

On the Annuity Application Form, the Proposed Policyholder will designate the initial allocation of Net Premiums among the available Investment Options and on each Liquidity Date a Proposed Policyholder's Net Premiums will be allocated among the Investment Options according to the allocation percentages selected. Allocation percentages must be zero or a whole number not less than ten nor greater than 100. The sum of the allocation percentages must equal 100. The Insurer will document the initial allocation on the Policy Data Page. The Insurer has reserved the right to require allocation of an amount equal to the expected aggregate quarterly Fees and Charges related to the Policy to the Liquid Asset Subaccount before application of the allocation percentages designated by the Proposed Policyholder. In addition, the Insurer may transfer amounts from other Investment Options and Subaccounts to the Liquid Asset Subaccount equal to the expected quarterly Fees and Charges.

The specific Investment Options can generally be divided into two categories: IDFs and Managed Subaccounts. The Insurer is not obligated to offer both IDFs and Managed Subaccounts as Investment Options at any time. Accordingly, at any given time only one of these types of Investment Options may be available.

The Insurer and its affiliates make no recommendations, and provide no investment advice, as to the selection of, and allocations to, Investment Options. The Insurer has not evaluated any of the investment manager's investment performance and makes no recommendation regarding the selection of any investment manager or any IDF. The Insurer does not act as a custodian of cash or investments held in the Separate Account.

Section 4.4 Compliance with Investor Control Rules

The Proposed Policyholder agrees that, except for the selection of the allocation of Separate Account assets among Investment Options as contemplated in Section 4.3, and changes to such allocations as contemplated in Section 4.5, it will not select, identify or recommend, nor will it contact any investment manager for the purpose of influencing, any particular investment or group of investments to be made directly or indirectly with the assets of any Subaccount, including, without limitation, an investment manager with respect to an IDF in which funds held in a particular Subaccount are invested.

A Proposed Policyholder may not have direct contact or communicate with the investment manager of either an IDF or a Managed Subaccount and may not directly participate in the management of the Separate Account or any IDF or Managed Subaccount.

Section 4.5 Changes in Allocations to Investment Options

The Proposed Policyholder may, at quarterly intervals, reallocate funds among then available Investment Options but may do so no more than twice per calendar year. If a change in allocation percentages requires a transfer of funds between Investment Options, there may be a delay after the Separate Account receives the proceeds from one Investment Option until the next date on which it is possible to reinvest the funds in a different Investment Option. During this delay period (which may be up to one calendar quarter), funds will be invested in the Liquid Asset Subaccount. The Proposed Policyholder acknowledges that this delay may result in the funds having a lower return for this period.

In the event of such a delay, the funds from the liquidated investments will be invested in the Liquid Asset Subaccount until the next Liquidity Date at which time the funds will be re-allocated (together with any related earnings) to the applicable Subaccount originally designated by the Proposed Policyholder for the transfer.

Unless and until the Proposed Policyholder notifies the Insurer in writing of a new Net Premium allocation, the Net Premium allocations as specified in “Initial Allocation of Payment to Investment Options” on the Policy Data Page will continue to apply to any additional Premium payments.

Section 4.6 Responsibility for Selecting Investment Options

The Insurer does not and will not make any recommendation as to the Proposed Policyholder’s selection or retention of investment managers, allocation of assets among Subaccounts, Investment Options, or investments in particular securities or categories of securities, nor will it evaluate the investment performance of any investment manager. Inclusion of an Investment Option shall not be deemed to be a recommendation of that investment or as an indication that such an investment is suitable for the Proposed Policyholder.

Each Proposed Policyholder acknowledges, represents, warrants, and covenants that it is solely responsible for determining for themselves whether a particular Investment Option is suitable in light of their individual situations. The Insurer and its affiliates make no recommendations, and provide no advice, as to the selection of Investment Options and provide no warranty, representation, or indemnity with respect to the performance of any Investment Option. Each Proposed Policyholder should consult his or her personal financial advisor concerning Premium allocations.

Section 4.7 Appointment of Investment Manager and Custodian Bank

The Insurer shall have the right, exercisable in its sole and absolute discretion, to appoint, change, or remove the investment manager and custodian bank with respect to each Investment Option or Separate Account, provided that an investment manager shall only be removed for cause (as described in the Insurer's investment management or similar agreement with such investment manager). A Proposed Policyholder may recommend to the Insurer one or more investment managers or custodian banks who meet the Insurer's general requirements after the initial policy date, but the Insurer may accept or reject such recommendation in its sole and absolute discretion.

Section 4.8 Timing of Allocations

The Insurer will allocate the Proposed Policyholder's Net Premiums among one or more Investment Options in the percentages specified on the Policy Data Page, as amended from time to time at the written request of the Proposed Policyholder, within two business days following the date the Insurer receives the Net Premiums. Net Premiums received and which are to be allocated to an Investment Option will be initially invested in the Liquid Asset Subaccount and subsequently allocated (together with any related earnings) within two business days to the applicable Investment Option (subject to deferral due to liquidity constraints imposed by the applicable investment manager or IDF and subject to such provisions as to valuation and unit calculation as may be specified by the applicable investment manager).

Section 4.9 Investment of Separate Account Assets

The Insurer will require each investment manager with respect to a portfolio of an IDF or Managed Account held in the Separate Account and the investment manager of each investment fund or other investment fund in which the assets of the Separate Account are invested, to comply with the following:

1. Investment of assets held in each Subaccount will be sufficiently diversified to comply with the requirements of U.S. Treasury Regulation section 1.817-5(b). Assets of any investment fund relying upon a "look-through" basis for purposes of meeting such diversification requirements will themselves be sufficiently diversified so as to allow the Subaccount to comply with such requirements.

2. The investment manager and its employees who are responsible for investment decisions will not accept investment recommendations or make any investment decisions regarding the direct or indirect investment of Separate Account assets based, in whole or in part, on information regarding any investment or group of investments received from any Proposed Policyholder or any representative or adviser of a Proposed Policyholder.

3. No Proposed Policyholder (or any representative or adviser of a Proposed Policyholder) will have the right or be permitted to select or identify any particular investment or group of investments to be made directly or indirectly with the assets of any Subaccount.

4. The investment manager will not commit to invest assets of any Subaccount (or of any underlying investment fund or Managed Account in which a Subaccount has invested directly or indirectly) in mutual funds or other collective investment funds or publicly available investment products (including, without limitation, market-linked deposits and flexible deposits) managed, advised and/or distributed by the investment manager or its affiliates and will only do so if (a) in the investment manager's sole judgment at the time the investment is made, such fund or product is appropriate within the investment objectives and policies of the Subaccount fund or Managed Account and (b) no more than 55% of the assets on an initial purchase basis (excluding market value increases) of the Subaccount fund or Managed Account are invested in such funds or products at any time. Subject to the foregoing, for the avoidance of doubt, assets may be invested in an IDF.

5. In accordance with Section 4.4, except for general descriptions of the investment policies of the Investment Options, there will not be any direct or indirect prearrangement, plan or agreement between any Proposed Policyholder (or any Proposed Policyholder's advisers or representatives) and the investment manager (or any of its employees) regarding the investments to be made directly or indirectly by any Subaccount.

Section 4.10 Request for Extension of Investment Rights With Respect to Adequate Diversification

A Proposed Policyholder may make a request for an extension of the Proposed Policyholder's investment rights described in Section 4.4 and partial or complete release of the investment manager's obligations in Section 4.9 to adequately diversify the assets held in the Separate Account by delivering a written request to the Insurer's Home Office expressing a specific desire for the same. The Insurer may grant or deny such requests in its sole and absolute discretion, for any reason or for no reason whatsoever. Any such request must be approved by the Insurer in writing (and, in the case of an IDF, may also require the consent of the IDF). Absent written approval of the request, the request shall be deemed to have been denied.

The Insurer expresses no opinion and makes no representations or warranties regarding the tax consequences under the laws of the U.S. or any other jurisdiction of the Insurer's decision to grant such requests. By making such a request, a Proposed Policyholder waives any claim against the Insurer, its shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents or affiliates on behalf of the Proposed Policyholder, any Beneficiaries or any other person for any loss from the Insurer's decision to grant or deny the Proposed Policyholder's request and agrees to hold harmless hereunder the Insurer and its shareholders, directors, officers, employees, agents or affiliates for any such loss.

Section 4.11 Changes in Investment Options

The Insurer at any time may add additional Investment Options, remove or restrict existing Investment Options, or add or eliminate an investment manager subject to any required regulatory approval, provided that the Insurer shall only remove an investment manager available to the Proposed Policyholder for cause (as described in the Insurer's investment management or similar agreement with such investment manager). If an Investment Option is removed or restricted or an investment manager is terminated, the Insurer may eliminate the Investment Option as an option for future Premium payments or transfers and may also transfer funds from the Subaccount in which assets invested in the terminated Investment Option were held, to the Liquid Asset Subaccount. An affected Proposed Policyholder may submit instructions to adjust the allocation of Net Premiums among the remaining Investment Options, without charge, for a period of 60 days following receipt of the Insurer's notice of any such termination. The Insurer will implement those instructions on the Next Available Liquidity Date after receipt.

Section 4.12 Policy Account Value

The Policy Account Value is equal to the net fair market value of all assets in the Separate Account backing the Policy, less any accrued but unpaid fees or expenses. The Insurer will determine the Policy Account Value on each Liquidity Date. The Separate Account value will increase or decrease, depending upon the investment experience of the related Subaccounts.

Assets allocated or credited to a Separate Account may be commingled with assets allocated or credited to another Separate Account for purposes of investment. In such circumstances, the Insurer may determine the Policy Account Value of each such Separate Account by the use of accumulation units, which are calculated separately with respect to each commingled investment. The accumulation unit value for each commingled investment will vary to reflect the investment experience of the assets invested therein.

The value of an accumulation unit will be determined on each Liquidity Date. When a commingled investment is made, the Insurer will credit the Separate Account with a number of accumulation units determined by dividing the amount of the investment by the value of the accumulation unit. When assets allocated or credited to a Separate Account are withdrawn from an investment, the accumulation units are reduced.

Article V Transfers Among Investment Options

Section 5.1 General

The Proposed Policyholder may request one transfer among Investment Options per calendar quarter, but no more than twice per calendar year.

Section 5.2 Conditions on Transfer

To effect any transfer, the Proposed Policyholder must submit a transfer request to the Insurer. All transfers are subject to the following conditions:

1. Any applicable Fees and Charges will be deducted from the Subaccount or from the amount which is transferred.

2. Transfers will be effected within 60 days following receipt by the Insurer of a transfer request. Actual settlement of a disposition or redemption from the relevant Subaccount, and reinvestment of the proceeds may be delayed as described below.

3. Any transfer request must clearly specify: (a) the amount which is to be transferred; and (b) the Subaccounts which are to be affected.

4. Payments to effect a transfer are subject to the disbursement rules and restrictions of the Subaccount(s).

5. The minimum amount that may be transferred in a single transfer will be the lesser of $250,000 or the entire interest in a Subaccount.

6. No transfer may be made from the Liquid Asset Subaccount if the amount remaining therein would not equal or exceed the Minimum Liquid Asset Allocation.

7. In the case of an IDF, any additional conditions set forth in the governing documents in the IDF must be satisfied.

Section 5.3 Liability

Neither the Insurer nor any of the Insurer's affiliates will be liable for any losses incurred as a result of transfers made in accordance with a Proposed Policyholder's transfer request including lower returns which may result.

Section 5.4 Limits on Right of Transfer

The Insurer may in its sole and absolute discretion defer the right of transfer for any period when it reasonably determines that additional time is necessary to obtain sufficient cash to make the transfer payments. Additional limitations on transfer may be imposed under the terms of any IDF in which assets held in a Separate Account are invested. For the avoidance of doubt, a transfer described in this Section 5.4 is a situation where a change from one Investment Option to another Investment Option occurs.

Article VI Annuity Provisions

Section 6.1 Annuity Payments

The Insurer will make periodic payments to the Beneficiaries beginning on the Annuity Starting Date and continuing thereafter on each Policy Anniversary to an account located outside the U.S. The amount of each Annuity Payment will equal the product of the applicable Annuity Percentage and the Policy Account Value (determined as of the end of the calendar quarter immediately preceding each Annuity Payment) and will vary depending upon the investment experience of the Investment Options in which the Separate Account assets are invested and the age of the Proposed Annuitant.

Section 6.2 Annuity Percentage

The Annuity Percentages are listed in the Appendix I to this Policy. The applicable Annuity Percentage will, depend upon the benefit option selected by the Policyholder. In the case of a Single Life Annuity, the Annuity Percentage is the percentage corresponding to the age of the Proposed Annuitant. In the case of a Joint Life Annuity, the applicable Annuity Percentage is the percentage corresponding to the age of the younger Proposed Joint Annuitant or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants. The Annuity Percentage is adjusted for each Annuity Payment.

Section 6.3 No Guaranteed Payments

The Policy Account Value, and thus, the Annuity Payments may increase or decrease depending upon the investment experience of the Investment Options selected by the Proposed Policyholder. The sole source for the payment of the Annuity Payments are the assets held in the Separate Account backing the Policy. The Policy does not provide for guaranteed annuity or death benefits. All payments, including upon the death of the Proposed Policyholder or Proposed Annuitant (or Proposed Joint Annuitants) are strictly limited to the assets held in the Separate Account backing the Policy and no Annuity Payments or any other payments under the Policy are payable from any other source.

Section 6.4 Annuity Starting Date

The Annuity Starting Date must be on the first day of a calendar quarter and may not be later than the first day of the calendar quarter of the Proposed Annuitant's (or elder Proposed Joint Annuitant's or surviving Proposed Joint Annuitant's) eighty-fifth (85th) birthday. If the Proposed Policyholder has not chosen an Annuity Starting Date, then the first day of the calendar quarter of the Proposed Annuitant's (or elder Proposed Joint Annuitant's or surviving Proposed Joint Annuitant's) eighty-fifth (85th) birthday shall be the Annuity Starting Date.

Section 6.5 Change of Annuity Starting Date

The Proposed Policyholder may change the Annuity Starting Date prior to the then current Annuity Starting Date by delivering a written notice to the Insurer. The new Annuity Starting Date may not be before the Next Available Liquidity Date for any Investment Option under the Policy as of the date the Insurer receives the notice from the Proposed Policyholder, and may not be later than the first day of the calendar month following the Proposed Annuitant's 85th birthday. Distributions must commence after the Annuity Starting Date in accordance with requirements under the Code.

Section 6.6 Annuity Income Options

Two (2) basic benefit options are offered under the Policy: (i) a Single Life Annuity, and (ii) a Joint Life Annuity. The benefit option may be changed by the Proposed Policyholder; however, no such change may be made at any time on or after the Annuity Starting Date. A Policyholder may change the selection of any benefit option by giving the Insurer at least thirty (30) calendar days' written notice prior to the Annuity Starting Date from outside the U.S.

In the case of a Single Life Annuity, the applicable Annuity Percentage is the percentage corresponding to the age of the Proposed Annuitant. In the case of a Joint Life Annuity, the applicable Annuity Percentage is the percentage corresponding to the age of the younger Proposed Joint Annuitant or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants.

Under both basic benefit options, the amount of each annual Annuity Payment made on or after the Annuity Starting Date will vary in accordance with the age of the Proposed Annuitant (or Proposed Joint Annuitant(s)) and the investment performance of the assets held in the Separate Account and shall be computed by the Insurer's actuary each year (and recomputed on the annual anniversary date each year thereafter) by multiplying the applicable Annuity Percentage in the Annuity Percentage Table attached as Appendix I to this Policy by the then current Policy Account Value as of the Annuity Starting Date and predetermined on the annual anniversary date each year thereafter. If the Policy Account Value is zero, then all payments will cease. All Annuity Payments shall be made to an account outside the U.S. The Insurer may consider the adoption of additional benefit options at the request of a Proposed Policyholder.

Section 6.7 Maturity Payment

Upon the death of the Proposed Annuitant (or survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants), the Insurer will pay to the Beneficiaries, or their successors as Beneficiaries, as the case may be, the balance of the Policy Account Value.

Article VII Loan Provisions

Section 7.1 Policy Loans

The Proposed Policyholder shall have no guaranteed rights or privileges with respect to loans under a Policy. The Insurer may, in its sole and absolute discretion consider whether to facilitate a Proposed Policyholder's request to pledge a Policy as collateral security for a loan to be made by the Insurer or institutional or other third party lenders. A pledge of a Policy as collateral security for a loan may be effected only with the prior written consent of the Insurer, which may be granted or denied in the Insurer's sole and absolute discretion.

Article VIII Surrender Provisions

Section 8.1 General

At any time after the Issue Date and prior to the Annuity Starting Date, the Proposed Policyholder may request one or more withdrawals under the Policy from the Separate Account in the form of a Partial Surrender. Withdrawals are possible up to 100% of the Policy Account Value. Should the Policy Account Value be equal to or less than $250,000, the Policy will lapse. The rights of a Proposed Policyholder to make a Surrender under the Policy shall be subject to the consent of all Beneficiaries who have been irrevocably designated by the Proposed Policyholder under the Policy. Subject to this Article VIII, the Proposed Policyholder may Surrender the Policy, in whole or in part, by filing a written request with the Insurer at the Insurer's Home Office at any time during the lifetime of the Proposed Annuitant. The Policy Account Value which is the subject of the Surrender will be determined as of the Next Available Liquidity Date occurring after the Insurer receives the request to Surrender.

Although the amount of the Surrender proceeds will be determined as of the Next Available Liquidity Date after receipt of the Surrender request, the Insurer will use reasonable efforts to pay Surrender proceeds as soon as practicable whether on a Liquidity Date or another date (subject to such liquidity constraints and provisions as to valuation and unit calculation as may be specified by the investment manager of the applicable Investment Option).

Section 8.2 Full Surrender

If the Proposed Policyholder requests a Full Surrender of the Policy Account Value of the Policy, the Policy will terminate on the date the Proposed Policyholder submits its Surrender request in accordance with Section 12.3.

Section 8.3 Partial Surrender

The Proposed Policyholder may request a Partial Surrender of the Policy for up to and including 90% of the Policy Account Value of the Policy. No more than one Partial Surrender may be requested by the Proposed Policyholder during each quarter of a Policy Year. As provided in Section 3.1, any Partial Surrender that causes the Policy Account Value to be reduced to an amount that is less than $250,000 may be deemed by the Insurer to be a request for Full Surrender and if so deemed will cause the Policy to be terminated, notwithstanding any potential negative tax consequences to the Proposed Policyholder or any other person or entity. If the Policy Account Value is reduced to an amount that is less than $250,000, then the Insurer shall have the right, exercisable in its sole and absolute discretion, to treat a Partial Surrender request as a Full Surrender request.

Each Partial Surrender will reduce the Policy Account Value and the amount of any Annuity Payment to be paid after the Annuity Starting Date. An amendment to the Policy will be sent to the Proposed Policyholder outside the U.S. for countersignature upon any request for a Partial Surrender under the Policy. Said amendment shall become a part of the Policy.

Article IX Policy Fees and Charges

Section 9.1 Policy Administration Fee

The Insurer will deduct the Policy Administration Fee from the Separate Account as set forth in the Policy Data Page for general administrative expenses.

Section 9.2 DAC Charges

The amount deducted by the Insurer as set forth on the Policy Data Page to pay for the costs imposed by virtue of the treatment of certain deferred acquisition costs for U.S. federal income tax purposes under section 848 of the Code. The amount of the DAC Charge as set forth on the Policy Data Page shall be adjusted to reflect any change in the applicable U.S. federal income tax rate. The Insurer shall provide the Proposed Policyholder notice of any change in the DAC Charge.

Section 9.3 Management & Expense Fee

The Insurer will deduct the Management & Expense Fee from the Separate Account. The Management & Expense Fee is an on-going insurance administration fee described on the Policy Data Page.

Section 9.4 Policy Set-Up Deposit

The Policy Set-Up Deposit is due to the Insurer as set forth on the Policy Data Page upon submission of the completed Annuity Application Form by the Proposed Policyholder. The Policy Set-Up Deposit will be paid into the General Account of the Insurer. Upon issuing the Policy, an amount equal to the Policy Set-Up Deposit will be used to offset the Acceptance Fee. If for any reason, a Policy is not issued, the Insurer will retain the Policy Set-Up Deposit to cover medical, underwriting, administration and any other costs incurred by the Insurer in the processing of the application.

Section 9.5 Acceptance Fee

The Insurer will deduct the Acceptance Fee set forth in the Policy Data Page on each date the Insurer receives a Premium payment.

Section 9.6 Surrender Charge

Surrender charges will not apply to this Policy.

Section 9.7 Taxes

The Insurer will deduct only those Taxes (as defined below) paid by the Insurer or its affiliates to any governmental entity that relate to the Policy or the related Separate Account. These taxes (the "Taxes") exclusively include withholding taxes, excise taxes, sales taxes, stamp taxes, value added taxes, state taxes imposed on the Insurer or its affiliates, and taxes imposed on Subpart F income of a Separate Account attributable to its investment in a controlled foreign corporation, as well as the deferred tax amount and any interest charge or other taxes imposed on the investments of a Separate Account in a passive foreign investment company, or under the corresponding tax laws of other jurisdictions.

The Insurer may, in its sole and absolute discretion, pay Taxes when due and deduct such amounts from the Separate Account at a later date. The Insurer will, in its absolute discretion, determine when Taxes have resulted from the investment experience of any Subaccount or receipt by the Insurer of Premiums.

Section 9.8 Agreed Upon Procedures Fee

The Insurer will deduct the Agreed Upon Procedures Fee from the Separate Account if the Proposed Policyholder instructs the Insurer to engage a third party audit firm to review charges and provide an Agreed Upon Procedures (AUP) report.

Section 9.9 Deductions for Fees and Charges

The Fees and Charges are paid to the Insurer under the Policy initially by making deductions from Premiums and then by making deductions from the Separate Account. To the extent that the Insurer deducts Fees and Charges from the Separate Account, amounts will be deducted first from the Liquid Asset Subaccount and then from the Subaccounts pursuant to the terms of the Policy.

Section 9.10 Custodian Bank and Investment Manager Fees

Each custodian bank and investment manager will separately deduct any applicable fees charged by it from any Separate Account or Investment Option for which it is acting as custodian or investment manager, as the case may be. The fees of the custodian bank and investment manager are calculated on an individual basis and may vary depending upon the investment manager and Investment Option(s) selected by the Proposed Policyholder. The list of investment managers and custodians retained by the Insurer is available from the Insurer upon request.

Article X Death Benefit Provisions

Section 10.1 Death Benefit

If all Beneficiaries and any alternative Beneficiaries predecease the Proposed Policyholder and Proposed Annuitant (or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants, in the case where a Joint Life Annuity benefit option is selected), then the benefits payable under the Policy to the Beneficiaries or alternative Beneficiaries shall be paid to the Proposed Policyholder until the first to die of the Proposed Policyholder or Proposed Annuitant (or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants, in the case where a Joint Life Annuity benefit option is selected).

If none of the Beneficiaries or alternative Beneficiaries survives the Proposed Annuitant(s), then the Policy Account Value shall be paid to the Proposed Policyholder upon the Proposed Annuitant's death (or survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants' death, in the case where a Joint Life Annuity benefit option is selected).

If the Proposed Policyholder is not living at the time any benefit under the Policy is payable to the Proposed Policyholder, then such benefit shall be paid to the Proposed Policyholder's estate, if then open, or if not then to his heirs per stirpes, in accordance with the laws of succession in the jurisdiction of the Proposed Policyholder's last known domicile on the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death.

If the Proposed Policyholder is not an individual, then the Proposed Annuitant (or the younger of the Proposed Joint Annuitants or the survivor of the Proposed Joint Annuitants) shall be recognized as the "primary Proposed Annuitant" and treated as the Proposed Policyholder of the Policy. Any change in the designation of such Proposed Annuitant (or Proposed Joint Annuitant) following the Issue Date (in the case where the Proposed Policyholder is not an individual) shall be treated as the death of the Proposed Policyholder.

If the Proposed Policyholder dies prior to the "annuity starting date" (defined under Code Section 72(c)(4) as the first day of the first period for which an amount is received as an annuity under the contract; such definition possibly differing from the Annuity Starting Date designated under the Policy), then the Proposed Policyholder's entire interest in the Policy shall be distributed to the Beneficiaries within five (5) years from the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death, unless the Beneficiaries elect to receive such interest in distributions made over their life or lives (or over a period not extending beyond their respective life expectancies), and such distributions begin within one (1) year from the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death. Any such election must be made in writing and received by the Insurer at the Insurer's Home Office within 180 calendar days from the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death.

If the Proposed Policyholder dies on or after the "annuity starting date" (as defined under Code Section 72(c)(4)) and before the entire interest in the Policy has been distributed, the remaining portion of the Policy Account Value shall be distributed to the Beneficiaries at least as rapidly as under the method of distributions being used as of the date of the Proposed Policyholder's death.

Notwithstanding any provision of the Policy, all Death Benefits must be distributed in compliance with the provision of section 72(s) of the Code. Death Benefits payable hereunder will be includible in the gross income of the Beneficiary.

Section 10.2 Due Proof of Death

Due proof of death is one of the following received at the Insurer's Home Office in a form satisfactory to the Insurer in its absolute discretion:

1. A certified copy of a death certificate;
2. A certified copy of a decree of a court of competent jurisdiction as to the finding of death; or
3. Any other proof of death satisfactory to the Insurer.

Article XI Owner, Beneficiary, Assignment

Section 11.1 Proposed Policyholder

The Proposed Policyholder is the person so named on the Policy Data Page or his or her assignee in accordance with a valid assignment as provided in Section 11.2.

Under Bermuda law, the Proposed Policyholder or his personal representative, trustee in bankruptcy or legal assignee will be the owner of the rights to payments under the Policy. While the Proposed Policyholder is alive, all rights in the Policy belong to the Proposed Policyholder and may be exercised without the consent of any Beneficiary, provided that, once an irrevocable designation of Beneficiary is filed, changes or elections under the Policy that impair the rights of an irrevocable Beneficiary will not be allowed without the consent of the irrevocable Beneficiary. All of the Proposed Policyholder's rights in the Policy belong to the estate of the Proposed Policyholder if the Proposed Policyholder dies before the Proposed Annuitant. Joint ownership is permitted.

Section 11.2 Change of Proposed Policyholder

The Proposed Policyholder may change the ownership of the Policy by submitting a request to the Insurer's Home Office and obtaining written approval of the Insurer. Any approved change will take effect on the date specified in the approval.

Section 11.3 Proposed Annuitant

The Proposed Policyholder has the right to designate one Proposed Annuitant or two Proposed Joint Annuitants. The Proposed Annuitants or Proposed Joint Annuitants will be as stated in the Annuity Application Form, unless otherwise endorsed at issue or subsequently changed.

Section 11.4 Change of Proposed Annuitant

Each Proposed Policyholder will have the right to designate and in some cases change the Proposed Annuitant or Proposed Joint Annuitant.

Section 11.5 Beneficiary

The Proposed Policyholder shall initially designate one or more Beneficiaries on the Policy Data Page. All designations of Beneficiaries are revocable unless specified as irrevocable by the Proposed Policyholder. Once an irrevocable designation of Beneficiary is filed, any changes or elections under the Policy that impair the rights of an irrevocable Beneficiary will not be allowed without the consent of the irrevocable Beneficiary under the Policy.

Section 11.6 Change of Beneficiary

Except in the case of an irrevocable Beneficiary, the Proposed Policyholder may change the Beneficiaries by filing a written request from outside the U.S. with the Insurer at its Home Office at any time prior to the Annuity Starting Date. In the case of an irrevocable Beneficiary, the consent of the irrevocable Beneficiary to the change is also required. The change will take effect as of the date the notice is received by the Insurer subject to any payment made or action taken by the Insurer before the Insurer receives the document at its Home Office. A new Beneficiary designation will automatically revoke all prior designations (except an irrevocable Beneficiary designation where the consent of the irrevocable Beneficiary has not been obtained). The Insurer will not be liable for any payment made or action taken before the effective date of the change of Beneficiary.

Section 11.7 Assignment

The Proposed Policyholder may transfer, assign, or pledge the Policy or any of their rights under the Policy, including a Section 1035 exchange of the Policy with another carrier, without the prior written consent of the Insurer, provided that the Policy may not be assigned unless (i) it is registered under the U.S. federal securities and/or state securities laws or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction unless such registration is not required or an exemption from registration is available and (ii) the assignee is a Qualified Purchaser and Accredited Investor. The Insurer may require satisfactory evidence as to the non-applicability of any such registration requirement or the availability of an exemption from any applicable registration requirement and the Insurer may in its discretion for this purpose request, at the transferor's expense, a favourable legal opinion from transferor's counsel that the provisions of this Section 11.7 have been met.

The Insurer represents and warrants that, subject to the foregoing, it will fully cooperate with any assignment, transfer or exchange, including a "1035" exchange of the Policy with another carrier and will cooperate to exchange underlying IDFs or sub-accounts with such carrier. Failure by the Insurer to cooperate with the Proposed Policyholder in a proposed 1035 exchange or other transfer, assignment, or pledge of the Policy or any of the Proposed Policyholder's rights under the Policy, such failure to cooperate as determined by a final judgement in a Bermuda court or other court of relevant jurisdiction, among any other injunctive or other relief resulting therefrom, will result in liquidated damages to the Proposed Policyholder equal to the sum of the (a) then Policy Account Value and (b) any fees or charges, including Management and Expense Fees, accruing during the period that the non-cooperation (as determined by the a Bermuda court or other court of relevant jurisdiction) exists and is continuing, and the Insurer shall be strictly liable for payment of such amount to the Proposed Policyholder. For the avoidance of doubt, the Proposed Policyholder shall be entitled to its Policy Account Value separate from the liquidated damages amount provided for herein. The Proposed Policyholder (x) acknowledges that the Insurer's ordinary and customary process for 1035 exchanges includes obtaining satisfactory assurance from the transferor of compliance with relevant tax and disclosure laws with respect to the Policy and indemnification from the new carrier regarding any tax obligations relating to the Policy and (y) agrees that following the Insurer's 1035 exchange process will not be considered to be a failure to cooperate by the Insurer.

Article XII Other General Provisions

Section 12.1 Periodic Reports

The Insurer will make available to the Proposed Policyholder, for every calendar quarter or portion thereof during which the Policy is In Force, a report that shows activity in the Proposed Policyholder's Separate Account. The Proposed Policyholder expressly authorizes the Insurer to rely upon the information or valuations provided by the selected investment manager and custodian without further inquiry or verification of any kind, nature, or description. Each quarterly statement will set forth the Policy Account Value less applicable expenses and charges at the beginning and end of the reporting period and aggregate adjustments to the same throughout. These quarterly statements shall be made available to the Proposed Policyholder at the Insurer's Home Office. The Insurer will forward annual Separate Account statements to an address of the Proposed Policyholder outside of the U.S. if a request to do so is made by the Proposed Policyholder in writing and delivered to the Insurer's Home Office.

Section 12.2 Currency and Place of Payment

All transactions between the Proposed Policyholder and the Insurer will be made in U.S. dollars unless otherwise confirmed by the Insurer in writing. All Payments will be made outside the U.S.

Section 12.3 Notices, Requests and Elections

To be effective, all notices, requests, and elections the Proposed Policyholder makes under the Policy must be in writing, signed by the Proposed Policyholder or sent electronically or via facsimile by the Proposed Policyholder and received by the Insurer. Unless otherwise provided, all notices, requests and elections will be effective when received by the Insurer. Notices, requests and elections may be made by the Proposed Policyholder under the Policy in writing, signed by the Policyholder, sent by facsimile or electronic communication and received by the Insurer at its Home Office or administrative office, provided that the Insurer will not be liable for following instructions communicated by facsimile or electronically and, provided further that acceptance of facsimile or electronic communication by the Insurer will not impose any requirement on the Insurer to employ any procedures to confirm that instructions received by facsimile communication are genuine. Any notice or report required to be given by the Insurer to the Proposed Policyholder or any other person will be deemed given when sent to such person or such person's authorized representative.

Section 12.4 Policy Settlement

Prior to any payment of a Death Benefit, due certified proof of death must be submitted to the Insurer.

Section 12.5 Deferment

The Insurer will execute allowable requests for a transfer, Full Surrender or Partial Surrender by the Proposed Policyholder within 60 days of a request. Such requests may require conversion of certain Investment Option assets to cash or in-kind distributions, where possible. This may take longer than 60 days for a variety of reasons, including underlying restrictions on redemptions of assets held pursuant to an Investment Option. In such cases, the Insurer will take reasonable steps to comply with such requests at the earliest time possible. The foregoing will be subject to time restrictions within the Insurance Dedicated Fund purchased by a Subaccount.

Section 12.6 Incontestability

Except as expressly provided in the Policy, the Insurer will not contest the validity of the Policy for misstatement, misrepresentation or non-disclosure after the Policy has been In Force for two years from the Issue Date during the lifetime of the Proposed Annuitant. The Policy will be voidable in the event of fraud at any time. If the validity of the Policy is so contested, then (1) the Insurer's obligation to pay Annuity Payments under the Policy will terminate as of the date the Insurer discovers such misstatement, misrepresentation or non-disclosure, and (2) the Policy Account Value will be determined as of the Next Available Liquidity Date occurring after the Insurer discovers such misstatement, misrepresentation or non-disclosure and returned to the Proposed Policyholder or the Beneficiaries within 90 days. The Insurer will notify the Proposed Policyholder that the Policy is so terminated and such notice will include the date of termination. The return of the Policy Account Value will be in full and final satisfaction of all the Insurer's obligations under the Policy. Following the return of the Policy Account Value, the Policy will be void.

Section 12.7 Policyholder Information

The Insurer may disclose Policyholder information to third parties such as banks or independent asset managers. Specifically with respect to banking relationships in Switzerland and in accordance with FINMA Newsletter 18 (2010) “handling of Life insurance with separately managed accounts/portfolios” dated December 20, 2010, the Insurer may disclose Policyholder or source of funding information to banking partners including Policyholder name, date of birth, nationality and address. In any event, the Insurer may be required to confirm in accordance with FINMA Newsletter 18 (2010) that the insurance product related to account openings is set up as a life insurance product according to the legal provisions, including provisions concerning biometric risks, of the Insurer’s domicile.

Each U.S. person who has a financial interest in or signature or other authority over any foreign financial accounts, including bank, securities, or other types of financial accounts, in a foreign country, if the aggregate value of these financial accounts exceeds $10,000 at any time during the calendar year, must report that relationship each calendar year by filing Form TD F 90-22.1 (Report of Foreign Bank and Financial Accounts), commonly referred to as an “FBAR”, with the Department of the Treasury on or before June 30 of the succeeding year. In addition, and irrespective of the independent FBAR filing obligations that a Proposed Policyholder (or its owner) who is a U.S. person may have, U.S. person directors, officers, or employees of the Insurer who have signature authority over the Separate Account, Subaccounts, or other accounts with respect to the Policy would need to file an FBAR with respect to such accounts and so will the Insurer itself as a U.S. Person with a financial interest in such accounts. On the basis of such filings, the IRS could request information with respect to such filings and the Proposed Policyholder acknowledges that the Insurer may provide such FBAR-related information to the IRS if requested to do so.

Section 12.8 Tax Matters

The Proposed Policyholder acknowledges that he or she is responsible for complying with all tax reporting, filing and payment obligations with respect to this Policy in any jurisdiction in which the Proposed Policyholder is subject to tax. The Proposed Policyholder must consult its own tax advisor with respect to such obligations. The Insurer has not provided, and shall have no responsibility for providing, advice to the Proposed Policyholder with respect to such issues.

THE OKADA FAMILY FOUNDATION, INC.

ARTICLE I.

OFFICES

Section 1.1 Registered Office. The registered office of THE OKADA FAMILY FOUNDATION, INC. (the "Corporation") shall be maintained in the County of New Castle, State of Delaware, and the registered agent in charge thereof is The Corporation Trust Company.

Section 1.2 Other Offices. The Corporation may also have an office in the City of Dallas, State of Texas, and also offices at such other places as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the Corporation may require.

ARTICLE II.

MEMBERSHIP

Section 2.1 Classes and Number. The Corporation shall have two classes of members and one member in each such class: the Institutional Member, which shall be The Dallas Foundation, and the Individual Member, which shall be Mark Okada or an individual designated as the Individual Member in accordance with these Bylaws.

Section 2.2 Voting. Except as otherwise provided in these Bylaws, the Institutional Member shall be entitled to two (2) votes upon each matter submitted to a vote of the members, and the Individual Member shall be entitled to one (1) vote upon each matter submitted to a vote of the members, In addition to any voting rights provided in these Bylaws, members shall be entitled to vote upon any matter with respect to which the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, or its successor statute, as amended (the "Law"), requires a vote of the members.

Section 2.3 Transfer of Membership. Institutional Membership in the Corporation is not transferable or assignable. The Individual Membership is transferable or assignable as provided herein only upon the approval of the Institutional Member, with such approval not to be unreasonably withheld by the Institutional Member. Subject to the approval of the Institutional Member, Mr. Okada, as the initial Individual Member, may at any time pursuant to a written notice delivered to the Institutional Member during his lifetime or by a provision in his Will or other testamentary document, transfer his Individual Member interest to an individual, or designate an individual, or series of individuals, to whom such Individual Member interest is to be transferred upon the occurrence of a future contingency, such as the death or failure to act of a current or future Individual Member. Each successor Individual Member shall succeed to the rights of the initial Individual Member. Subject to the approval of the Institutional Member, each successor Individual Member may in the same manner transfer his Individual Member interest to an individual, or designate an individual, or series of individuals, to whom such Individual Member interest is to be transferred upon the occurrence of a future contingency, such as the death or failure to act of a current or future Individual Member. In the event of a conflict between such transfer documents, the one bearing the latest date shall control. Each Individual Member may at any time revoke his transfer document that is to be effective in the future, in whole or in part, by written notice delivered to the Institutional Member. If at any time an Individual Member shall be disabled and no transfer of such member's interest is to occur as a result of such disability in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this Section, then such member's attorney-in-fact under a valid, effective power of attorney instrument may act for such member hereunder. In the event of the death of an Individual Member, such member's personal representative of his estate, or trustee of a trust to which the Individual Member transferred his interest, may, if necessary, act as the Individual Member hereunder until such time as the Individual Member interest is transferred from the estate or trust.

Section 2.4 Resignation of Member. A member may resign at any time upon written notice to the Secretary.

Section 2.5 Place of Meetings. All meetings of the members be held shall by means of remote communication as authorized by the Law, unless the Board of Directors decides to hold such a meeting by another permitted means.

Section 2.6 Annual Meetings. Except as otherwise provided by these Bylaws, annual meeting of the members, commencing with the year 2015, shall be held at such date and time in the month of December as shall be provided by resolution of the Board of Directors, at which the members shall elect a Board of Directors, and transact such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.7 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the members, for any purpose or purposes, unless otherwise prescribed by the Law or by the Certificate of Incorporation, may be called by the President and shall he called by the Secretary at the request of a majority of the Board of Directors, or at the request in writing of a member entitled to vote at such meeting. Such request shall state the purpose or purposes of the proposed meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.8 Notice of Meetings of Members. When notice is required to be given for a meeting of the members, such notice shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting and shall be given to each member at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting (at least three (3) days in the case of a special meeting). Notice shall be given (a) by written notice delivered personally, (b) by written notice sent by mail, email, or facsimile to the member's mailing address, email address, or facsimile number as shown by the records of the Corporation, or (c) by telephone. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number. If delivered by telephone, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the time the telephone message shall reach and be communicated to a responsible individual at the phone number listed for a member's residence or place of business.

Section 2.9 Quorum. Both the Institutional Member and the Individual Member must be present in person or represented by proxy in order to constitute a quorum at all meetings of the members for the transaction of business, except as otherwise required by Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws. lf, however, such quorum shall not be present or represented at any meeting of the members, the member entitled to vote thereat, present in person or represented by proxy, shall have the power to adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than announcement at the meeting, of the place, date and hour of the adjourned meeting, until a quorum shall be present or represented by proxy. At the adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented by proxy, the Corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting, if the adjournment is for more than 30 days, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

Section 2.10 Voting. When a quorum is present at any meeting, the vote of a majority of the number of votes held by the members, present in person or represented by proxy, shall be the act of the members, unless the act of a greater number is required by Law or expressly by these Bylaws.

Section 2.11 Proxies. At any meeting of the members, any member entitled to vote, consent or approve any action or matter may do so in person or by proxy authorized by an instrument in writing or by a transmission permitted by law. Any member represented by proxy shall be counted as present at such meeting for all purposes. Any copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reliable reproduction of the writing or transmission created pursuant to these Bylaws may be substituted or used in lieu of the original writing or transmission that could be used, provided that the copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reproduction shall be a complete reproduction of the entire original writing or transmission.

Section 2.12 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the members may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without taking a vote if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by the member(s) holding the number of votes necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all members entitled to vote thereon were present and voted. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 2.12. Prompt notice of the taking of an action by the members without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to each member who did not consent in writing to the action. Each such consent must state the date of each member's signature. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the members at an actual meeting,

Section 2.13 Control of Investments. Notwithstanding any other provision contained in these Bylaws to the contrary, the Institutional Member shall have the sole and exclusive power and authority to direct the management and investment of the assets of the Corporation. Such power and authority shall be exercised by the Institutional Member in its sole discretion and shall be separate and independent of any power and authority of the Board of Directors and officers of the Corporation which have no power or authority with respect to the matters delegated hereby to the Institutional Member with respect to investments. Such power and authority of the Institutional Member shall include, but not be limited to: [a] the power to purchase, sell and retain assets of the Corporation; [b] the power to exercise voting, subscription, conversion, redemption, withdrawal, cancellation, option and similar rights with respect to such assets; [c] the power to participate in and consent to any voting trust, reorganization, merger, dissolution or other action affecting any such property; [d] the power to acquire life insurance policies, annuities, and/or other insurance or similar products (including the exercise or non-exercise or any rights, or the prosecution or defense of any disputes with the issuer or other parties regarding legal, regulatory, contractual, or other matters, arising under or relating to such products) and [e] the power to direct, and delegate to, the officers of the Corporation the taking of such acts and the execution of such documents as may be necessary to effectuate the decisions of the Institutional Member with respect to investments. The Corporation shall furnish the Institutional Member with such information as is necessary or desirable for it to fulfill its responsibilities. The Corporation shall furnish the Institutional Member with such clerical and other assistance as the Institutional Member may need to carry out its powers and authority. The Institutional Member shall advise the Board of Directors periodically of the investments of the assets of the Corporation and changes thereto. The Institutional Member shall have the sole power to retain investment advisors and custodians to assist it in carrying out its powers and authority under this Section 2.13 and it may delegate to any such investment advisors and custodians any and all such powers and authority subject to limitations on such delegation provided under the law, if any. The Corporation shall be responsible for all costs and expenses incurred by the Institutional Member in carrying out its powers and authority under this Section 2.13.

ARTICLE III.

DIRECTORS

Section 3.1 General Powers. The business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of the Board of Directors, which may exercise all such powers of the Corporation and do all such acts and things as are not by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws directed or required to be exercised or done by the members, so long as the exercise of such powers and doing of such acts are consistent with the Corporation's prescribed purposes.

Section 3.2 Number of Directors. The number of Directors that shall constitute the Board of Directors shall be three (3). Two (2) Directors (the "Institutional Directors") shall be elected annually by the institutional Member and one (1) Director (the "Individual Director") shall be elected annually by the Individual Member. Each Director shall hold office until such Director's successor is elected and qualified or until such Director's earlier death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal.

Section 3.3 Vacancies. If the office of any Director becomes vacant by reason of death, resignation, retirement, disqualification, removal from office, or otherwise, then (i) with respect to a vacancy of an Institutional Director seat, the Institutional Member shall elect a person to fill such vacancy, and (ii) with respect to a vacancy of an Individual Director seat, the Individual Member shall elect a person to fill such vacancy. If at any time there is no Individual Member who is able to fill a vacancy of an Individual Director seat, then the Institutional Member shall elect a successor Individual Director. Each Director elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of such Director's predecessor in office.

Section 3.4 Place of Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold its meetings outside of the State of Delaware, at the office of the Corporation or at such other places as they may from time to time determine, or as shall be fixed in the respective notices or waivers of notice of such meetings.

Section 3.5 Committees of Directors. The Corporation shall have no committees unless the Board of Directors, by resolution or resolutions passed by the unanimous vote of the Board, designates one or more committees.

Section 3.6 Compensation of Directors. Except to the extent prohibited by section 4958(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), Directors, as such, may receive such stated salary for their services and/or such fixed sums and expenses for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors as may be established by resolution of the Board; provided that nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to preclude any Director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 3.7 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held at such place and at such time as may be determined by the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the annual meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such annual meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of an annual meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.8 Additional Regular Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold additional regular meetings for the purpose of taking any action and conducting any business that may properly come before the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the regular meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such regular meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of a regular meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.9 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held at any time on the call of the President or at the request in writing of any one or more Directors upon not less than three (3) days' notice to each director. The person or persons calling a special meeting of the Board of Directors shall fix a date, time and location for holding such special meeting, which shall be specified in a notice provided for such special meeting consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.10 Method and Timing of Notice. Unless otherwise provided herein, when notice is required to be given for a meeting of the Board of Directors, such notice shall be given to each Director at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting. Any notice given herein shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting. Notice shall be given (a) by written notice delivered personally, or (b) by written notice sent by mail, email, or facsimile to the Director's mailing address, email address, or facsimile number as shown by the records of the Corporation. If mailed, such notice shall he deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number.

Section 3.11 Purpose not Required in Notice. Unless specifically required by the Law or these Bylaws for a particular action, the purpose of and business to be transacted at a meeting need not be specified in the notice of such meeting or in a waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 3.12 Waiver of Notice. Any Director may waive notice of any meeting by a writing signed by the Director, whether signed before or after the holding of such meeting, and such signed written waiver shall he deemed the equivalent of the Director having received notice. A Director's attendance at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business of such meeting on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

Section 3.13 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by all of the then-serving Directors. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 3.13. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the Board of Directors at an actual meeting.

Section 3.14 Validation of Action by Consent. All actions taken at a meeting of the Board of Directors which is not regularly called or noticed shall be valid as if taken at a meeting regularly called and noticed if each Director either consents in writing or is present at such meeting and does not object to the meeting being held. At such meeting any business may be transacted which is not excepted from the written consent or which is not objected to at such meeting for want of notice. If any meeting of the Board of Directors is irregular for want of notice, the proceedings of such meeting may be ratified, approved and rendered valid, and the irregularity or defect therein waived, by a writing signed by all Directors, provided a quorum was present at such meeting.

Section 3.15 Quorum and Manner of Acting. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board of Directors shall consist of a majority of the then serving Directors. Except as otherwise provided by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, the vote of a majority of the Directors present at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall he the act of the Board of Directors. Any Director may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors or committee by means of conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other and such participation shall constitute presence in person at the meeting. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the Directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present. Notice of any adjourned meeting need not be given, except that notice shall be given to all Directors if the adjournment is for more than thirty days.

Section 3.16 Resignation and Removal of Directors. Each Director may resign at any time by written notice delivered to the member that appointed such Director and to the President and Secretary of the Corporation. A resignation is effective when the resignation is delivered unless the resignation specifies a later effective date or an effective date determined upon the happening of an event or events. A resignation that is conditioned upon the director failing to receive a specified vote for reelection as a director may provide that it is irrevocable. The Institutional Member may remove an Institutional Director at any time, with or without cause. The Individual Member may remove an Individual Director at any time, with or without cause.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS

Section 4.1 Officers. The officers of the Corporation shall include a President and a Secretary, and may include a Chairman and a Chief Financial Officer. A person may hold multiple offices.

Section 4.2 Election, Term of Office and Eligibility. The officers of the Corporation shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors at its annual meeting or at a special meeting held in lieu thereof Each officer, except such officers as may be appointed in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.3, shall hold office until such officer's successor shall have been duly elected and qualified or until such officer's death, resignation or removal. None of the officers other than the Chairman need be members of the Board of Directors.

Section 4.3 Subordinate Officers. The Board of Directors may appoint such Vice Presidents, Assistant Secretaries, Assistant Chief Financial Officers, Controller and other officers, and such agents as the Board may determine, to hold office for such period and with such authority and to perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine. The Board of Directors may, by specific resolution, empower the President or another officer of the Corporation to appoint any such subordinate officers or agents.

Section 4.4 Removal. The President, the Secretary, the Chairman and/or the Chief Financial Officer may be removed at any time by the Board of Directors with or without cause. Any subordinate officer appointed pursuant to Section 4.3 may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by the Board of Directors or by the person holding the officer position by which the subordinate officer was appointed.

Section 4.5 The President and The Co-Presidents. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the Corporation. He or she shall have executive authority to see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect and, subject to the control vested in the Board of Directors by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation, or these Bylaws, shall administer and be responsible for the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation. In general the President shall perform all duties incident to the office of the President and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to him or her by the Board of Directors. A second person may be appointed by the Board of Directors having the same duties and powers as provided for under this Section 4.5, and in the case of such an appointment, each person serving pursuant to this Section 4.5 shall be referred to as Co-President. When Co-Presidents are serving either Co-President may act alone without the concurrence of the other Co-President. Should the Co-Presidents disagree as to the taking or not taking of an action provided for by this Section 4.5, then the Members shall decide whether to take or not take such action.

Section 4.6 The Secretary. The Secretary shall:

(a) keep the minutes of the meetings of the members and of the Board of Directors;

(b) see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws or as required by law;

(c) be custodian of the records and of the seal of the Corporation and see that the seal or a facsimile or equivalent thereof is affixed to or reproduced on all documents, the execution of which on behalf of the Corporation under its seal is duly authorized; and

(d) in general, perform all duties incident to the office of Secretary, and such other duties as are provided by these Bylaws and as from time to time are assigned to him or her by the Board of Directors or by the President of the Corporation.

Section 4.7 The Assistant Secretaries. If one or more Assistant Secretaries shall be appointed pursuant to the provisions of Section 4,3 respecting subordinate officers, then, at the request of the Secretary, or in his or her absence or disability, the Assistant Secretary designated by the Secretary (or in the absence of such designations, then any one of such Assistant Secretaries) shall perform the duties of the Secretary and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the Secretary.

Section 4.8 Chairman and Co-Chairs. The Chairman, if any, shall preside when present at meetings of the Board of Directors; advise and counsel the other officers of the Corporation; and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors from time to time. A second person may be appointed by the Board of Directors having the same duties and powers as provided for under this Section 4.8, and in the case of such an appointment, each person serving pursuant to this Section 4.8 shall be referred to as a Co-Chair. When Co-Chairs are serving either Co-Chair may act alone without the concurrence of the other Co-Chair.

Section 4.9 The Chief Financial Officer. The Chief Financial Officer, if any, shall:

(a) receive and he responsible for all funds of and securities owned or held by the Corporation and, in connection therewith, among other things: keep or cause to be kept full and accurate records and accounts for the Corporation; deposit or cause to be deposited to the credit of the Corporation all moneys, funds and securities so received in such bank or other depository as the Board of Directors or an officer designated by the

Board may from time to time establish; and disburse or supervise the disbursement of the funds of the Corporation as may be properly authorized;

(b) render to the Board of Directors at any meeting thereof, or from time to time whenever the Board of Directors or the chief executive officer of the Corporation may require, financial and other appropriate reports on the condition of the Corporation; and

(c) in general, perform all the duties incident to the office of Chief Financial Officer and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to the Chief Financial Officer by the Board of Directors or by the chief executive officer of the Corporation.

Section 4.10 The Assistant Chief Financial Officers. If one or more Assistant Chief Financial Officers shall be appointed pursuant to the provisions of Section 4.3 respecting subordinate officers, then, at the request of the Chief Financial Officer, or in the Chief Financial Officer's absence or disability, the Assistant Chief Financial Officer designated by the Chief Financial Officer (or in the absence of such designation, then any one of such Assistant Chief Financial Officers) shall perform all the duties of the Chief Financial Officer and when so acting shall have all the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the Chief' Financial Officer.

Section 4.11 Delegation of Duties. In case of the absence of any officer of the Corporation or for any other reason which may seem sufficient to the Board of Directors, the Board of Directors may, for the time being, delegate his powers and duties, or any of them, to any other officer or to any director.

ARTICLE V.

BOOKS AND RECORDS

Section 5.1 Location. The books, accounts and records of the Corporation may be kept at such place or places within or without the State of Delaware as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

Section 5.2 Inspection. The books, accounts, and records of the Corporation shall be open to inspection at all times by any member and by any member of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Section 6.1 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be the calendar year unless changed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.2 Depositories. The Board of Directors or an officer designated by the Board shall appoint banks, trust companies, or other depositories in which shall be deposited from time to time the money or securities of the Corporation.

Section 6.3 Checks, Drafts and Notes. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money and all notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the Corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers or agent or agents as shall from time to time be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors or by an officer appointed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.4 Contracts and Other Instruments. The Board of Directors may authorize any officer, agent or agents to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances, Section 6.5 Conflicts of Interest. No contract or agreement may be entered into by and between the corporation and any of the following: (a) a Director, officer, or employee of the corporation (hereinafter an "Insider"); or (b) any corporation, partnership, trust, sole proprietorship or any other entity (hereinafter an "Entity") in which an interest is owned or held, directly or indirectly, by or for the benefit of an Insider, unless (i) the transaction is approved in accordance with Section 144 of the Delaware General Corporation Law to the extent such provision is applicable to the transaction; and (ii) if one or more of the parties to the contract or transaction is a "disqualified person" with respect to the corporation within the meaning of Section 4958 of the Code, either (x) such transaction is reviewed and approved in accordance with the "rebuttable presumption safe harbor" provisions set forth in the regulations promulgated under Section 4958 of the Code or (y) the Board of Directors determines that such procedures are not necessary for the transaction involved and records its specific findings for making such determination; provided, however, that the following contracts and agreements shall not be subject to the foregoing prohibition: a gratuitous transfer of assets or promise to transfer assets to the corporation of any kind, including but not limited to, (i) a gift annuity, charitable remainder trust, charitable lead trust or similar split-interest arrangement which benefits both the Insider and the corporation; or (ii) a loan, lease, agreement of sale or purchase, pledge, guarantee, assumption of liability, bailment, or consignment. All Insiders shall, as a condition of qualifying and continuing to qualify as a Director, officer, and/or employee of the corporation, abide by such conflict of interest policies as the Board of Directors may adopt from time to time.

Section 6.6 Waivers of Notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the Law or of the Certificate of Incorporation or of these Bylaws, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to said notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to notice. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when the person attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the members. Directors or members of a committee of directors need be specified in any written waiver of notice.

Section 6.7 Ownership Interests in Other Entities. Any ownership interests (e.g., shares of stock in any other corporation which may from time to time be held by this Corporation) may be represented and voted at any meeting of owners of such entity by the President, or by any other person or persons thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, or by any proxy designated by written instrument of appointment executed in the name of this Corporation by its President.

Section 6.8 Indemnification.

(a) Each person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that the person is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation or is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation who is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to employee benefit plans, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the laws of Delaware as the same now or may hereafter exist (but, in the case of any change, only to the extent that such change authorizes the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than said law permitted the Corporation to provide prior to such change) against all, costs, charges, expenses, liabilities and losses (including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such person in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a Director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the person's heirs, executors and administrators. The right to indemnification conferred in this Section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition upon receipt by the Corporation of an undertaking. by or on behalf of such director or officer, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that the director or officer is not entitled to be indemnified under this Section or otherwise. The Corporation may, by action of its Board of Directors, provide indemnification to employees and agents of the Corporation with the same scope and effect as the foregoing indemnification of Directors and officers.

(b) If a claim under subsection (a) of this Section is not paid in full by the Corporation within thirty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation, the claimant may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim and, if successful in whole or in part, the claimant shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting such claim. It shall be a defense to any action (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for expenses incurred in defending any proceeding in advance of its final disposition where the required undertaking has been tendered to the Corporation) that the claimant has failed to meet a standard of conduct which makes it permissible under Delaware law for the Corporation to indemnify the claimant for the amount claimed, but the burden of proving such defense shall be on the Corporation. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such action that indemnification of the claimant is permissible in the circumstances because the claimant has met such standard of conduct, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) that the claimant has not met such standard of conduct, nor the termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that the claimant has failed to meet the required standard of conduct,

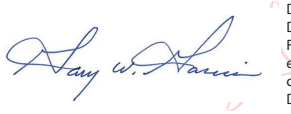
(c) The right to indemnification and the payment of expenses incurred in defending a proceeding in advance of its final disposition conferred in this Section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Certificate of incorporation, these Bylaws, agreement, vote of members or disinterested Directors or otherwise.

(d) The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any Director, member, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under Delaware law.

(e) To the extent that any Director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation is by reason of such position, or a position with another entity at the request of the Corporation, a witness in any proceeding, such person shall be indemnified against all costs and expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person or on such person's behalf in connection therewith.



(f) Any amendment, repeal or modification of any provision of this Section by the members or the Directors of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a Director or officer of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal or modification.

(g) The provisions of this Section 6.7, and the limitations on liability and indemnification provided in such Section, shall survive the winding up and termination of the Corporation to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Section 6.9 Amendment of Bylaws. Only the members, by the affirmative unanimous vote of the members entitled to vote, may adopt, amend, or repeal these Bylaws, and alterations or amendments of these Bylaws made by the members shall not be altered or amended by the Board of Directors to the extent such alteration or amendment expressly states that it can only be altered or amended by the members.

ARTICLE I.

OFFICES

Section 1.1 Registered Office. The registered office of EMPOWER DALLAS FOUNDATION, INC. (the "Corporation") shall be maintained in the County of New Castle, State of Delaware, and the registered agent in charge thereof is The Corporation Trust Company.

Section 1.2 Other Offices. The Corporation may also have an office in the City of Dallas, State of Texas, and also offices at such other places as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the Corporation may require.

ARTICLE II.

MEMBERSHIP

Section 2.1 Classes and Number. The Corporation shall have two classes of members and one member in each such class: the Institutional Member, which shall be The Dallas Foundation, and the Individual Member, which shall be Grant Scott or an individual designated as the Individual Member in accordance with these Bylaws.

Section 2.2 Voting. Except as otherwise provided in these Bylaws, the Institutional Member shall be entitled to two (2) votes upon each matter submitted to a vote of the members, and the Individual Member shall be entitled to one (1) vote upon each matter submitted to a vote of the members, In addition to any voting rights provided in these Bylaws, members shall be entitled to vote upon any matter with respect to which the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, or its successor statute, as amended (the "Law"), requires a vote of the members.

Section 2.3 Transfer of Membership. Institutional Membership in the Corporation is not transferable or assignable. The Individual Membership is transferable or assignable as provided herein only upon the approval of the Institutional Member, with such approval not to be unreasonably withheld by the Institutional Member. Subject to the approval of the Institutional Member, Mr. Scott, as the initial Individual Member, may at any time pursuant to a written notice delivered to the Institutional Member during his lifetime or by a provision in his Will or other testamentary document, transfer his Individual Member interest to an individual, or designate an individual, or series of individuals, to whom such Individual Member interest is to be transferred upon the occurrence of a future contingency, such as the death or failure to act of a current or future Individual Member. Each successor Individual Member shall succeed to the rights of the initial Individual Member. Subject to the approval of the Institutional Member, each successor Individual Member may in the same manner transfer his Individual Member interest to an individual, or designate an individual, or series of individuals, to whom such Individual Member interest is to be transferred upon the occurrence of a future contingency, such as the death or failure to act of a current or future Individual Member. In the event of a conflict between such transfer documents, the one bearing the latest date shall control. Each Individual Member may at any time revoke his transfer document that is to be effective in the future, in whole or in part, by written notice delivered to the Institutional Member. If at any time an Individual Member shall be disabled and no transfer of such member's interest is to occur as a result of such disability in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this Section, then such member's attorney-in-fact under a valid, effective power of attorney instrument may act for such member hereunder. In the event of the death of an Individual Member, such member's personal representative of his estate, or trustee of a trust to which the Individual Member transferred his interest, may, if necessary, act as the Individual Member hereunder until such time as the Individual Member interest is transferred from the estate or trust.

Section 2.4 Resignation of Member. A member may resign at any time upon written notice to the Secretary.

Section 2.5 Place of Meetings. All meetings of the members be held shall by means of remote communication as authorized by the Law, unless the Board of Directors decides to hold such a meeting by another permitted means.

Section 2.6 Annual Meetings. Except as otherwise provided by these Bylaws, annual meeting of the members, commencing with the year 2015, shall be held at such date and time in the month of December as shall be provided by resolution of the Board of Directors, at which the members shall elect a Board of Directors, and transact such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.7 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the members, for any purpose or purposes, unless otherwise prescribed by the Law or by the Certificate of Incorporation, may be called by the President and shall he called by the Secretary at the request of a majority of the Board of Directors, or at the request in writing of a member entitled to vote at such meeting. Such request shall state the purpose or purposes of the proposed meeting. The Secretary shall provide notice of each such meeting to each member consistent with the requirements of Section 2.8 below.

Section 2.8 Notice of Meetings of Members. When notice is required to be given for a meeting of the members, such notice shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting and shall be given to each member at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting (at least three (3) days in the case of a special meeting). Notice shall be given (a) by written notice delivered personally, (b) by written notice sent by mail, email, or facsimile to the member's mailing address, email address, or facsimile number as shown by the records of the Corporation, or (c) by telephone. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number. If delivered by telephone, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the time the telephone message shall reach and be communicated to a responsible individual at the phone number listed for a member's residence or place of business.

Section 2.9 Quorum. Both the Institutional Member and the Individual Member must be present in person or represented by proxy in order to constitute a quorum at all meetings of the members for the transaction of business, except as otherwise required by Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws. lf, however, such quorum shall not be present or represented at any meeting of the members, the member entitled to vote thereat, present in person or represented by proxy, shall have the power to adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than announcement at the meeting, of the place, date and hour of the adjourned meeting, until a quorum shall be present or represented by proxy. At the adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented by proxy, the Corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting, if the adjournment is for more than 30 days, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

Section 2.10 Voting. When a quorum is present at any meeting, the vote of a majority of the number of votes held by the members, present in person or represented by proxy, shall be the act of the members, unless the act of a greater number is required by Law or expressly by these Bylaws.

Section 2.11 Proxies. At any meeting of the members, any member entitled to vote, consent or approve any action or matter may do so in person or by proxy authorized by an instrument in writing or by a transmission permitted by law. Any member represented by proxy shall be counted as present at such meeting for all purposes. Any copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reliable reproduction of the writing or transmission created pursuant to these Bylaws may be substituted or used in lieu of the original writing or transmission that could be used, provided that the copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reproduction shall be a complete reproduction of the entire original writing or transmission.

Section 2.12 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the members may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without taking a vote if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by the member(s) holding the number of votes necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all members entitled to vote thereon were present and voted. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 2.12. Prompt notice of the taking of an action by the members without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to each member who did not consent in writing to the action. Each such consent must state the date of each member's signature. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the members at an actual meeting,

Section 2.13 Control of Investments. Notwithstanding any other provision contained in these Bylaws to the contrary, the Institutional Member shall have the sole and exclusive power and authority to direct the management and investment of the assets of the Corporation. Such power and authority shall be exercised by the Institutional Member in its sole discretion and shall be separate and independent of any power and authority of the Board of Directors and officers of the Corporation which have no power or authority with respect to the matters delegated hereby to the Institutional Member with respect to investments. Such power and authority of the Institutional Member shall include, but not be limited to: [a] the power to purchase, sell and retain assets of the Corporation; [b] the power to exercise voting, subscription, conversion, redemption, withdrawal, cancellation, option and similar rights with respect to such assets; [c] the power to participate in and consent to any voting trust, reorganization, merger, dissolution or other action affecting any such property; [d] the power to acquire life insurance policies, annuities, and/or other insurance or similar products (including the exercise or non-exercise or any rights, or the prosecution or defense of any disputes with the issuer or other parties regarding legal, regulatory, contractual, or other matters, arising under or relating to such products) and [e] the power to direct, and delegate to, the officers of the Corporation the taking of such acts and the execution of such documents as may be necessary to effectuate the decisions of the Institutional Member with respect to investments. The Corporation shall furnish the Institutional Member with such information as is necessary or desirable for it to fulfill its responsibilities. The Corporation shall furnish the Institutional Member with such clerical and other assistance as the Institutional Member may need to carry out its powers and authority. The Institutional Member shall advise the Board of Directors periodically of the investments of the assets of the Corporation and changes thereto. The Institutional Member shall have the sole power to retain investment advisors and custodians to assist it in carrying out its powers and authority under this Section 2.13 and it may delegate to any such investment advisors and custodians any and all such powers and authority subject to limitations on such delegation provided under the law, if any. The Corporation shall be responsible for all costs and expenses incurred by the Institutional Member in carrying out its powers and authority under this Section 2.13.

ARTICLE III.

DIRECTORS

Section 3.1 General Powers. The business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of the Board of Directors, which may exercise all such powers of the Corporation and do all such acts and things as are not by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws directed or required to be exercised or done by the members, so long as the exercise of such powers and doing of such acts are consistent with the Corporation's prescribed purposes.

Section 3.2 Number of Directors. The number of Directors that shall constitute the Board of Directors shall be three (3). Two (2) Directors (the "Institutional Directors") shall be elected annually by the institutional Member and one (1) Director (the "Individual Director") shall be elected annually by the Individual Member. Each Director shall hold office until such Director's successor is elected and qualified or until such Director's earlier death, resignation, retirement, disqualification or removal.

Section 3.3 Vacancies. If the office of any Director becomes vacant by reason of death, resignation, retirement, disqualification, removal from office, or otherwise, then (i) with respect to a vacancy of an Institutional Director seat, the Institutional Member shall elect a person to fill such vacancy, and (ii) with respect to a vacancy of an Individual Director seat, the Individual Member shall elect a person to fill such vacancy. If at any time there is no Individual Member who is able to fill a vacancy of an Individual Director seat, then the Institutional Member shall elect a successor Individual Director. Each Director elected to fill a vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of such Director's predecessor in office.

Section 3.4 Place of Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold its meetings outside of the State of Delaware, at the office of the Corporation or at such other places as they may from time to time determine, or as shall be fixed in the respective notices or waivers of notice of such meetings.

Section 3.5 Committees of Directors. The Corporation shall have no committees unless the Board of Directors, by resolution or resolutions passed by the unanimous vote of the Board, designates one or more committees.

Section 3.6 Compensation of Directors. Except to the extent prohibited by section 4958(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), Directors, as such, may receive such stated salary for their services and/or such fixed sums and expenses for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors as may be established by resolution of the Board; provided that nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to preclude any Director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 3.7 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held at such place and at such time as may be determined by the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the annual meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such annual meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of an annual meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.8 Additional Regular Meetings. The Board of Directors may hold additional regular meetings for the purpose of taking any action and conducting any business that may properly come before the Board of Directors. If the date, time and location of the regular meeting are specified by a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, no further notice of such regular meeting shall be required. If the date, time and location of a regular meeting are specified in another manner, then notice shall be provided consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.9 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be held at any time on the call of the President or at the request in writing of any one or more Directors upon not less than three (3) days' notice to each director. The person or persons calling a special meeting of the Board of Directors shall fix a date, time and location for holding such special meeting, which shall be specified in a notice provided for such special meeting consistent with the requirements of Section 3.10 below.

Section 3.10 Method and Timing of Notice. Unless otherwise provided herein, when notice is required to be given for a meeting of the Board of Directors, such notice shall be given to each Director at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting. Any notice given herein shall specify the date, time, and location of the meeting. Notice shall be given (a) by written notice delivered personally, or (b) by written notice sent by mail, email, or facsimile to the Director's mailing address, email address, or facsimile number as shown by the records of the Corporation. If mailed, such notice shall he deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice is delivered by email, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the email is sent, provided that the sender does not subsequently receive notice that the email transmission was not delivered to the designated email address. If delivered by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile transmission indicates that the facsimile has been sent without error to the designated facsimile number.

Section 3.11 Purpose not Required in Notice. Unless specifically required by the Law or these Bylaws for a particular action, the purpose of and business to be transacted at a meeting need not be specified in the notice of such meeting or in a waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 3.12 Waiver of Notice. Any Director may waive notice of any meeting by a writing signed by the Director, whether signed before or after the holding of such meeting, and such signed written waiver shall he deemed the equivalent of the Director having received notice. A Director's attendance at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a Director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business of such meeting on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

Section 3.13 Action by Written Consent. Any action required to be, or which may be, voted on, consented to or approved by the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, are signed by all of the then-serving Directors. A consent transmitted by electronic transmission shall be deemed to be written and signed for purposes of this Section 3.13. Such consent shall be placed in the minute book of the Corporation, and shall have the same force and effect as if approved by vote of the Board of Directors at an actual meeting.

Section 3.14 Validation of Action by Consent. All actions taken at a meeting of the Board of Directors which is not regularly called or noticed shall be valid as if taken at a meeting regularly called and noticed if each Director either consents in writing or is present at such meeting and does not object to the meeting being held. At such meeting any business may be transacted which is not excepted from the written consent or which is not objected to at such meeting for want of notice. If any meeting of the Board of Directors is irregular for want of notice, the proceedings of such meeting may be ratified, approved and rendered valid, and the irregularity or defect therein waived, by a writing signed by all Directors, provided a quorum was present at such meeting.

Section 3.15 Quorum and Manner of Acting. A quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of the Board of Directors shall consist of a majority of the then serving Directors. Except as otherwise provided by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, the vote of a majority of the Directors present at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall he the act of the Board of Directors. Any Director may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors or committee by means of conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other and such participation shall constitute presence in person at the meeting. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the Directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present. Notice of any adjourned meeting need not be given, except that notice shall be given to all Directors if the adjournment is for more than thirty days.

Section 3.16 Resignation and Removal of Directors. Each Director may resign at any time by written notice delivered to the member that appointed such Director and to the President and Secretary of the Corporation. A resignation is effective when the resignation is delivered unless the resignation specifies a later effective date or an effective date determined upon the happening of an event or events. A resignation that is conditioned upon the director failing to receive a specified vote for reelection as a director may provide that it is irrevocable. The Institutional Member may remove an Institutional Director at any time, with or without cause. The Individual Member may remove an Individual Director at any time, with or without cause.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS

Section 4.1 Officers. The officers of the Corporation shall include a President and a Secretary, and may include a Chairman and a Chief Financial Officer. A person may hold multiple offices.

Section 4.2 Election, Term of Office and Eligibility. The officers of the Corporation shall be elected annually by the Board of Directors at its annual meeting or at a special meeting held in lieu thereof Each officer, except such officers as may be appointed in accordance with the provisions of Section 4.3, shall hold office until such officer's successor shall have been duly elected and qualified or until such officer's death, resignation or removal. None of the officers other than the Chairman need be members of the Board of Directors.

Section 4.3 Subordinate Officers. The Board of Directors may appoint such Vice Presidents, Assistant Secretaries, Assistant Chief Financial Officers, Controller and other officers, and such agents as the Board may determine, to hold office for such period and with such authority and to perform such duties as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine. The Board of Directors may, by specific resolution, empower the President or another officer of the Corporation to appoint any such subordinate officers or agents.

Section 4.4 Removal. The President, the Secretary, the Chairman and/or the Chief Financial Officer may be removed at any time by the Board of Directors with or without cause. Any subordinate officer appointed pursuant to Section 4.3 may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by the Board of Directors or by the person holding the officer position by which the subordinate officer was appointed.

Section 4.5 The President. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the Corporation. He or she shall have executive authority to see that all orders and resolutions of the Board of Directors are carried into effect and, subject to the control vested in the Board of Directors by the Law, the Certificate of Incorporation, or these Bylaws, shall administer and be responsible for the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation. In general the President shall perform all duties incident to the office of the President and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to him or her by the Board of Directors.

Section 4.6 The Secretary. The Secretary shall:

(a) keep the minutes of the meetings of the members and of the Board of Directors;

(b) see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws or as required by law;

(c) be custodian of the records and of the seal of the Corporation and see that the seal or a facsimile or equivalent thereof is affixed to or reproduced on all documents, the execution of which on behalf of the Corporation under its seal is duly authorized; and

(d) in general, perform all duties incident to the office of Secretary, and such other duties as are provided by these Bylaws and as from time to time are assigned to him or her by the Board of Directors or by the President of the Corporation.

Section 4.7 The Assistant Secretaries. If one or more Assistant Secretaries shall be appointed pursuant to the provisions of Section 4,3 respecting subordinate officers, then, at the request of the Secretary, or in his or her absence or disability, the Assistant Secretary designated by the Secretary (or in the absence of such designations, then any one of such Assistant Secretaries) shall perform the duties of the Secretary and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the Secretary.

Section 4.8 Chairman. The Chairman, if any, shall preside when present at meetings of the Board of Directors; advise and counsel the other officers of the Corporation; and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board of Directors from time to time.

Section 4.9 The Chief Financial Officer. The Chief Financial Officer, if any, shall:

(a) receive and he responsible for all funds of and securities owned or held by the Corporation and, in connection therewith, among other things: keep or cause to be kept full and accurate records and accounts for the Corporation; deposit or cause to be deposited to the credit of the Corporation all moneys, funds and securities so received in such bank or other depository as the Board of Directors or an officer designated by the Board may from time to time establish; and disburse or supervise the disbursement of the funds of the Corporation as may be properly authorized;

(b) render to the Board of Directors at any meeting thereof, or from time to time whenever the Board of Directors or the chief executive officer of the Corporation may require, financial and other appropriate reports on the condition of the Corporation; and

(c) in general, perform all the duties incident to the office of Chief Financial Officer and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to the Chief Financial Officer by the Board of Directors or by the chief executive officer of the Corporation.

Section 4.10 The Assistant Chief Financial Officers. If one or more Assistant Chief Financial Officers shall be appointed pursuant to the provisions of Section 4.3 respecting subordinate officers, then, at the request of the Chief Financial Officer, or in the Chief Financial Officer's absence or disability, the Assistant Chief Financial Officer designated by the Chief Financial Officer (or in the absence of such designation, then any one of such Assistant Chief Financial Officers) shall perform all the duties of the Chief Financial Officer and when so acting shall have all the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the Chief' Financial Officer.

Section 4.11 Delegation of Duties. In case of the absence of any officer of the Corporation or for any other reason which may seem sufficient to the Board of Directors, the Board of Directors may, for the time being, delegate his powers and duties, or any of them, to any other officer or to any director.

ARTICLE V.

BOOKS AND RECORDS

Section 5.1 Location. The books, accounts and records of the Corporation may be kept at such place or places within or without the State of Delaware as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine.

Section 5.2 Inspection. The books, accounts, and records of the Corporation shall be open to inspection at all times by any member and by any member of the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE VI.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Section 6.1 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be the calendar year unless changed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.2 Depositories. The Board of Directors or an officer designated by the Board shall appoint banks, trust companies, or other depositories in which shall be deposited from time to time the money or securities of the Corporation.

Section 6.3 Checks, Drafts and Notes. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money and all notes or other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the Corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers or agent or agents as shall from time to time be designated by resolution of the Board of Directors or by an officer appointed by the Board of Directors.

Section 6.4 Contracts and Other Instruments. The Board of Directors may authorize any officer, agent or agents to enter into any contract or execute and deliver any instrument in the name and on behalf of the Corporation and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances,

Section 6.5 Conflicts of Interest. No contract or agreement may be entered into by and between the corporation and any of the following: (a) a Director, officer, or employee of the corporation (hereinafter an "Insider"); or (b) any corporation, partnership, trust, sole proprietorship or any other entity (hereinafter an "Entity") in which an interest is owned or held, directly or indirectly, by or for the benefit of an Insider, unless (i) the transaction is approved in accordance with Section 144 of the Delaware General Corporation Law to the extent such provision is applicable to the transaction; and (ii) if one or more of the parties to the contract or transaction is a "disqualified person" with respect to the corporation within the meaning of Section 4958 of the Code, either (x) such transaction is reviewed and approved in accordance with the "rebuttable presumption safe harbor" provisions set forth in the regulations promulgated under Section 4958 of the Code or (y) the Board of Directors determines that such procedures are not necessary for the transaction involved and records its specific findings for making such determination; provided, however, that the following contracts and agreements shall not be subject to the foregoing prohibition: a gratuitous transfer of assets or promise to transfer assets to the corporation of any kind, including but not limited to, (i) a gift annuity, charitable remainder trust, charitable lead trust or similar split-interest arrangement which benefits both the Insider and the corporation; or (ii) a loan, lease, agreement of sale or purchase, pledge, guarantee, assumption of liability, bailment, or consignment. All Insiders shall, as a condition of qualifying and continuing to qualify as a Director, officer, and/or employee of the corporation, abide by such conflict of interest policies as the Board of Directors may adopt from time to time.

Section 6.6 Waivers of Notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the Law or of the Certificate of Incorporation or of these Bylaws, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to said notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to notice. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when the person attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the members. Directors or members of a committee of directors need be specified in any written waiver of notice.

Section 6.7 Ownership Interests in Other Entities. Any ownership interests (e.g., shares of stock in any other corporation which may from time to time be held by this Corporation) may be represented and voted at any meeting of owners of such entity by the President, or by any other person or persons thereunto authorized by the Board of Directors, or by any proxy designated by written instrument of appointment executed in the name of this Corporation by its President.

Section 6.8 Indemnification.

(a) Each person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that the person is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation or is or was a Director or officer of the Corporation who is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to employee benefit plans, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the laws of Delaware as the same now or may hereafter exist (but, in the case of any change, only to the extent that such change authorizes the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than said law permitted the Corporation to provide prior to such change) against all, costs, charges, expenses, liabilities and losses (including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such person in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a Director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the person's heirs, executors and administrators. The right to indemnification conferred in this Section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition upon receipt by the Corporation of an undertaking. by or on behalf of such director or officer, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined that the director or officer is not entitled to be indemnified under this Section or otherwise. The Corporation may, by action of its Board of Directors, provide indemnification to employees and agents of the Corporation with the same scope and effect as the foregoing indemnification of Directors and officers.

(b) If a claim under subsection (a) of this Section is not paid in full by the Corporation within thirty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation, the claimant may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim and, if successful in whole or in part, the claimant shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting such claim. It shall be a defense to any action (other than an action brought to enforce a claim for expenses incurred in defending any proceeding in advance of its final disposition where the required undertaking has been tendered to the Corporation) that the claimant has failed to meet a standard of conduct which makes it permissible under Delaware law for the Corporation to indemnify the claimant for the amount claimed, but the burden of proving such defense shall be on the Corporation. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such action that indemnification of the claimant is permissible in the circumstances because the claimant has met such standard of conduct, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) that the claimant has not met such standard of conduct, nor the termination of any proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that the claimant has failed to meet the required standard of conduct,

(c) The right to indemnification and the payment of expenses incurred in defending a proceeding in advance of its final disposition conferred in this Section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Certificate of incorporation, these Bylaws, agreement, vote of members or disinterested Directors or otherwise.

(d) The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any Director, member, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under Delaware law.

(e) To the extent that any Director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation is by reason of such position, or a position with another entity at the request of the Corporation, a witness in any proceeding, such person shall be indemnified against all costs and expenses actually and reasonably incurred by such person or on such person's behalf in connection therewith.

(f) Any amendment, repeal or modification of any provision of this Section by the members or the Directors of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a Director or officer of the Corporation existing at the time of such amendment, repeal or modification.

(g) The provisions of this Section 6.7, and the limitations on liability and indemnification provided in such Section, shall survive the winding up and termination of the Corporation to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Section 6.9 Amendment of Bylaws. Only the members, by the affirmative unanimous vote of the members entitled to vote, may adopt, amend, or repeal these Bylaws, and alterations or amendments of these Bylaws made by the members shall not be altered or amended by the Board of Directors to the extent such alteration or amendment expressly states that it can only be altered or amended by the members.

We are not aware of any documents other than the Relevant Documents that would alter our conclusions. We have assumed the genuineness of all signatures, the legal capacity of natural persons, the authenticity of all documents submitted to us as originals and the conformity with original documents of all documents submitted to us as copies, the fact that each party to an agreement has the power and capacity to execute, deliver and perform all obligations under such documents, the due authorization of all requisite action with respect to such documents (including the execution and delivery thereof) by each party thereto, and the validity and binding effect of such documents upon each party. We have also assumed that all factual assertions in the Relevant Documents are accurate and complete in all material respects. We have no reason to believe that any of the foregoing assumptions are unreasonable.

II. STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. The Dallas Foundation ("TDF") is a Texas non-profit corporation exempt from federal income taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code, as amended ("Code"), and a public charity described in Sections 509(a)(1) and 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) of the Code.

B. The principal objective of TDF is to solicit, receive and accept property to be administered, used and applied for charitable purposes, primarily, but not exclusively in or for the benefit of Dallas County, Texas. TDF is not controlled by James Dondero, Mark Okada or Highland Capital Management, L.P.

C. Empower Dallas Foundation, Inc. ("Supporting Organization #1") is a Delaware non-profit non-stock charitable corporation which has been established to operate exclusively for the benefit of, to perform the functions of, or carry out the purposes of TDF.

D. The Okada Family Foundation, Inc. ("Supporting Organization #2") is a Delaware non-profit non-stock charitable corporation which has been established to operate exclusively for the benefit of, to perform the functions of, or carry out the purposes of TDF.

E. Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 each expect to obtain a determination letter from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") that each such Supporting Organization, respectively, is a tax-exempt organization described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Code and a "Type I" supporting organization described in Section 509(a)(3) of the Code. For the avoidance of doubt, such tax-exempt status is expected to be effective retroactively to the date of each Supporting Organization's formation, respectively.

F. As a result of qualifying as Type I supporting organizations under Section 509(a)(3) of the Code, Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 will each be exempted from private foundation status under Section 509(a) of the Code.

G. Mary M. Jalonick is the President and Chief Executive Officer of TDF, and is the Incorporator of both Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2.[1]

H. Supporting Organization #1 has been formed at the request of James Dondero. On December 8, 2015, Mr. Dondero contributed $16,034,978.50 to Supporting Organization #1. On December 22, 2015, Mr. Dondero contributed $6,415,000 to Supporting Organization #1. At the present time, Mr. Dondero is the only contributor to Supporting Organization #1. Although Mr. Dondero made a recommendation to the Board as to how the Board should invest such contributions (as described below), the Board of Supporting Organization #1 is not contractually obligated to follow the investment recommendations of Mr. Dondero at the time such contributions are made or at any later date.

I. Supporting Organization #2 has been formed at the request of Mark Okada. On December 8, 2015, Mr. Okada contributed $5,345,021.50 to Supporting Organization #2. On December 22, 2015 Mr. Okada contributed $2,138,333.33 to Supporting Organization #2. Although Mr. Okada made a recommendation to the Board as to how such contributions should be invested (as described below), the Board of Supporting Organization #2 is not contractually obligated to follow the investment recommendations of Mr. Okada at the time such contributions are made or at any later date.

J. Under the relevant governing documents, TDF has total control over both Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2, as the institutional member ("Institutional Member") of each Supporting Organization. The Institutional Member appoints the majority of each Supporting Organization's Board of Directors. The Board of Directors of each Supporting Organization appoints the officers of the Supporting Organization. The officers of each Supporting Organization can be removed with or without cause by the Board of Directors of such Supporting Organization.

K. Supporting Organization #1 currently has a three-person Board of Directors. Mary M. Jalonick and Gary W. Garcia are the institutional directors ("Institutional Directors") of the Board of Supporting Organization #1. Gary W. Garcia currently serves as Senior Director of Development of TDF. The third member of the Board is W. Grant Scott II. Mr. Scott is an attorney engaged in private practice at Myers Bigel Sibley Sajovec, P.A. in Raleigh, North Carolina and knows Mr. Dondero from college.

L. Supporting Organization #2 also currently has a three-person Board of Directors. Mary M. Jalonick and Gary W. Garcia are the Institutional Directors. Mark Okada is the third member of the Board.

M. Mr. Dondero has recommended to the Board of Supporting Organization #1 that it invest its assets in a private placement deferred variable annuity policy (referred to herein as a "Variable Contract" or "Deferred Variable Annuity Policy") to be issued by Crown Global Life Insurance Ltd., a Bermuda-based insurance company ("Crown Global") that is a life insurance company within the meaning of the Code. Mr. Okada has made the same investment recommendation to the Board of Supporting Organization #2. However, the Boards of each Supporting Organization are not bound by those recommendations, and retain the authority to reallocate premiums or assets to different IDFs or managed accounts available under the Crown Global Variable Contracts.

N. Crown Global maintains a segregated asset account ("Separate Account") pursuant to Bermuda law to hold assets that fund obligations arising under each Variable Contract issued by it. Under the terms of the Contracts and Bermuda law, assets allocated or credited to each Separate Account are the property of the insurance company and the policyholder has no direct proprietary interest in such assets. Rather, the Supporting Organizations have only a contractual claim against Crown Global to collect cash from Crown Global in the form of annuity payments or other withdrawals available under the Variable Contract. The performance of the investments held in the applicable Separate Account provide the measure for the economic return to the investor in the Variable Contract. The Crown Global Variable Contracts purchased by the Supporting Organizations provided that the investor was permitted to choose among certain "insurance dedicated funds" ("IDF" as further defined below) and managed accounts selected by Crown Global as available investments that could be held in the Separate Account identified in the Contract. One such IDF that was designated by Crown Global as an available investment option that the investors in the Variable Contract were permitted to select is Atlas IDF, LP ("Atlas IDF"), a newly formed Delaware "series" limited partnership managed by Rand Advisors, LLC ("Rand Advisors"). The Variable Contract also lists two other IDFs as investment options which the policyholder is able to select, JP Morgan Access Growth Strategies Insurance Fund, and JP Morgan Hedge Growth Strategies Insurance Fund. None of the IDFs or other managed funds available under the Variable Contracts will be funds that are offered to the general public under the IRS rulings discussed herein.

O. The Variable Contract does not immediately payout distributions in accordance with a distribution schedule. The policyholders, Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 have the ability to make partial(s) or a full surrender of the Variable Contract at quarterly intervals, subject to applicable surrender charges. Further, as policyholders, Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 can decide at quarterly intervals (but no more than twice per calendar year) to reallocate funds from one investment option provided under the Variable Contract to another investment option offered by Crown Global under the Variable Contract.

P. Crown Global, in its sole and exclusive discretion, can determine the investment offering within its offered insurance products and is under no legal requirement to make any particular offering of an investment strategy currently or in the future or to maintain an investment strategy offering. Crown Global, in its sole and absolute discretion, can terminate or remove an investment offering at any time in the future. All decisions as to the choice of IDFs or managed accounts that are made available for selection by the investor in the Variable Contract are made by Crown Global in its sole and absolute discretion. Mr. Dondero recommended to the Board of Supporting Organization #1 that it select Atlas IDF as the measuring investment under its Variable Contract. Mr. Okada made the same investment recommendations to the Board of Supporting Organization #2 as those made by Mr. Dondero to Supporting Organization #1.

Q. On December 9, 2015, the Directors of Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 each unanimously approved resolutions authorizing the acquisition by the Supporting Organization of the Deferred Variable Annuity Policy from Crown Global, and authorized the officers of the Supporting Organization to take any and all further actions to carry out such acquisition.

R. On December 10, 2015, Supporting Organization #1 wired an initial premium to Crown Global of $15,903,108.54 with respect to the Variable Contract. On December 22, 2015, Supporting Organization #1 wired additional premium of $6,352,270 to Crown Global with respect to the Variable Contract.

S. Effective December 11th, 2015, Crown Global issued Deferred Variable Annuity Policy #30218 to Supporting Organization #1. Supporting Organization #1 is named the policyholder and irrevocably the sole beneficiary of the Variable Contract.

T. On December 10, 2015, Supporting Organization #2 wired an initial premium to Crown Global of $5,301,065.12 with respect to the Variable Contract. On December 22, 2015, Supporting Organization #2 wired additional premium of $2,117,423.00 to Crown Global with respect to the Variable Contract.

U. Effective December 11th, 2015, Crown Global issued Deferred Variable Annuity Policy #30219 to Supporting Organization #2. Supporting Organization #2 is named the policyholder and irrevocably the sole beneficiary of the Variable Contract.

V. Crown Global is a subsidiary of Crown Global Insurance Group and is not affiliated with or controlled by Mr. Dondero or Mr. Okada, or Highland Capital Management, L.P. ("Highland"), which is the business conducted by Messrs. Dondero and Okada. Highland is an investment manager business, with significant assets under management, located in Dallas, Texas. Crown Global has made an election under the Code to be treated as a domestic life insurance company.

W. In addition to acting as the investment manager of Atlas IDF, Rand Advisors will also act as the investment manager of Rand PE Fund I, L.P., a Delaware "series" limited partnership private investment fund ("PE Portfolio Fund"), to which Atlas IDF will initially allocate 55% of its investment portfolio and which: (x) is expected to initially invest in the Highland Transaction (as defined below), and (y) will potentially make investments in other private equity transactions. The Supporting Organizations have not been offered the opportunity to invest directly in the PE Portfolio Fund, and Crown Global has not designated the PE Fund as an available investment option for inclusion in a Separate Account with respect to the Variable Contracts purchased by the Supporting Organizations.

X. Atlas IDF has been organized by Rand Advisors as an "insurance-dedicated fund" (i.e., an investment fund that only admits institutional investors that are insurance companies and certain other eligible investors described in Treasury Regulation section 1.817(h)-5(f)(3)). The confidential private placement memorandum of Atlas IDF provides that Series 1 of Atlas IDF will invest: (x) approximately 45% of its portfolio in traded assets (including, without limitation, distressed debt instruments), to be selected and managed by Rand Advisors, and (y) approximately (but not more than) 55% of its portfolio in private equity investments, to be selected and managed by Rand Advisors. The percentage of Atlas IDF's assets invested in specific private equity investments is not fixed, and is subject to change by Rand Advisors. However, Atlas IDF is required to satisfy the portfolio diversification requirements set forth in Section 1.817-5(b)(1) of the Treasury Regulations.

Y. At the outset, Crown Global will be the only insurance company owning a limited partnership interest in Atlas IDF. However, the governing documents of Atlas IDF permit other insurance companies to invest directly in Atlas IDF on behalf of their separate accounts established in connection with variable annuities and insurance contracts. Thus, Interests in Atlas IDF are not being offered for sale to the "general public" (within the meaning of IRS Rulings and Regulations discussed below), and thus such other investors could invest in Atlas IDF only indirectly by purchasing a Variable Contract from Crown Global (if Crown Global were to make the Atlas IDF available as an eligible investment). The PE Portfolio Fund in which Atlas IDF will invest is not an IDF. PE Portfolio Fund will have other direct investors that are not affiliates of Crown Global. Rand Advisors anticipates that it will market PE Portfolio Fund, or subsequent series thereof, to other investors in the future.

Z. Rand Advisors is owned and controlled by John Honis. In addition, Mr. Honis owns and controls the general partner entities of Atlas IDF and PE Portfolio Fund. Mr. Honis has over 25 years of investment management and business experience, and is not controlled by Highland, nor by Mr. Dondero, nor Mr. Okada.

AA. Mr. Honis was previously a Partner and Head of Private Equity at Highland. Although Mr. Honis has retired from that position, he still currently serves on: (x) the Board of Trustees for each of Highland's affiliated registered investment companies, and receives compensation in connection with each of the foregoing, and (y) the Board of Directors for American HomePatient, Inc. and Turtle Bay Resort, LLC, which are portfolio companies for investment funds operated by Highland, and receives compensation in connection with each of the foregoing. Mr. Honis does not currently own any limited partnership interests in Highland and does not have any direct share in the profits or revenues of such company. However, as part of his retirement, Mr. Honis is in the process of receiving payments in the total amount of $3 million from certain affiliates of Highland.

BB. The governing documents of Atlas IDF require such fund to comply with the portfolio diversification requirements in Section 817(h) of the Code. Similarly, the Variable Contracts each require the Separate Accounts established in connection with such Contracts to satisfy such portfolio diversification requirements. Each of the Variable Contracts specifically provides that the policyholder is not permitted to have direct contact with the investment manager of any IDF or managed subaccount held in the Separate Account and may not participate in the management of the Separate Account or any IDF or managed subaccount.

CC. It was anticipated solely among Rand Advisors, Strand Advisors (the General Partner of Highland Capital Management), James Dondero, and Mark Okada that the first series of PE Portfolio Fund would acquire all or substantially all of the non-voting limited partnership interests in Highland from Highland, including newly-issued limited partnership interests, or from trusts or other affiliates of Mr. Dondero or Mr. Okada (collectively, the "Highland Transaction"). Although with respect to any trusts, the Trustees would have to evaluate and approve any transaction independently and during the time of the relevant acquisition. During this time, the PE Portfolio Fund and Highland did not negotiate documentation for the legal terms of the Highland Transaction. Further, there was no assurances that such transaction would be consummated as it was understood that it would have to be negotiated, the respective parties had not made any offer (and would not until after the PE Portfolio Fund had assets), and that all parties would be separately represented by legal counsel. It was nonetheless the intention of such parties that the transaction should come about.

DD. At the time that the Supporting Organizations acquired their ownership interests in their Variable Contracts and had selected the Rand IDF as to investment to be held in the Separate Account, PE Portfolio Fund had not entered into a binding contract to acquire the previously described limited partnership interests in Highland, and the Institutional Members of the Boards of the Supporting Organizations did not have any knowledge of the terms of the investment subsequently made by the Rand PE Fund in Highland.

EE. On December 21, 2015, as part of the Highland Transaction, Hunter Mountain Investment Trust (a special purpose vehicle of PE Portfolio Fund) acquired through a contribution of cash and note, newly issued limited partnership interests in Highland Capital Management, L.P.

FF. On December 24, 2015, as part of the Highland Transaction, Hunter Mountain Investment Trust acquired through purchase from trusts affiliated with Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada, and Mr. Okada individually, newly reclassified limited partnership interests in Highland Capital Management, L.P.

GG. Hunter Mountain Investment Trust's acquisition of substantially all the interests in Highland Capital Management, L.P. was at a substantial discount to book value. The substantial discount offered reflects the overall donative intent of Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada to engage in the transaction.

HH. The Variable Contract/Separate Account structure may provide a federal income tax advantage to the Supporting Organizations if the income realized by such Supporting Organizations as a result of ownership of their Variable Contracts would not be treated as taxable unrelated business taxable income ("UBTI") under the Code. In contrast, if either Supporting Organization were to acquire a direct ownership interest in an investment partnership such as Atlas IDF, such Supporting Organization would almost certainly realize taxable UBTI if Atlas IDF owned, directly, or through other partnerships, equity interests in business partnerships (such as Highland) or debt-financed assets.

II. The Variable Contract/Separate Account structure may also provide state and local tax advantages to the Supporting Organizations since the structure enables the Supporting Organizations to avoid being treated as engaged in business in the states and localities in which the underlying portfolio companies that are partnerships are engaged in business.

JJ. Crown Global has represented that (1) it qualifies as a life insurance company under the Code; (2) it has made an effective election to be treated as a domestic corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes; and (3) the terms of the Variable Contracts to be purchased by the Supporting Organizations would meet the requirements of Section 72 of the Code to be treated as annuity contracts under such Code Section if such Contracts were held by a "natural person" (within the meaning of Code Section 72(u)).

KK. Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada (the "Donors") are entering into the transactions described herein based on a donative intent to provide funds to be used by TDF, a public charity.

LL. Prior to making any investments in the Variable Contracts to be issued by Crown Global, the Dallas Foundation had their independent financial consultant evaluate John Honis, as an investment manager acting through Rand Advisors, and the proposed investment strategy offered by him through an insurance dedicated fund that combined a private equity and liquid investment strategy for the Supporting Organizations.

MM. The Dallas Foundation's independent financial consultant recommended to The Dallas Foundation that such investment strategies used by John Honis would be a prudent investment by each of the Supporting Organizations through a deferred variable contract policy issued by an insurance company.

NN. Prior to making any investments in the Variable Contracts to be issued by Crown Global, the Board of each Supporting Organization received (1) the confidential private placement memorandum prepared by Crown Global with respect to the Variable Contracts, and (2) the confidential private placement memorandum detailing the terms of the Atlas IDF.

OO. The decision made by each Board to invest in its Variable Contract and to designate the Atlas IDF as the designated investment to be made by the Separate Account of Crown Global were made on the basis of the anticipated investment returns on the underlying investments that will be made and managed by Rand Advisors.

III. ASSUMPTIONS MADE

You have authorized us to make the following assumptions for the purpose of rendering our opinion stated herein:

A. Mr. Honis will manage the investments of Rand IDF and the PE Portfolio Fund in order to provide attractive returns to the current and future investors in such funds. Mr. Honis' performance will affect his ability to attract additional investors to such funds (including separate series funds) as well as any other funds subsequently managed by Rand Advisors.

B. Atlas IDF will, at all times, comply with the applicable diversification requirements under Section 817(h) of the Code. In order to achieve such compliance, Atlas IDF will restrict the ownership of equity interests in Atlas IDF to those investors described in Treasury Regulation 1.817-5(f).

C. The Boards of the Supporting Organizations will control any decisions made to be made as the owner of the Variable Contract, including any decisions to withdraw funds from the Variable Contract, to move funds from Atlas IDF to other investments that Crown Global may offer under the Variable Contract, or to invest additional funds of the Supporting Organization in Atlas IDF through the Variable Contract.

D. Highland is a successful investment management firm and it would be able to raise additional capital from other sources if it chose to do so.

E. The intentions of the parties are that, for federal income tax purposes,: (1) Crown Global will at all times be treated as the owner of the limited partnership interests in Atlas IDF that provide an economic return for the Variable Contracts owned by the Supporting Organizations; (2) each Supporting Organization will be treated as the owner of its Variable Contract; (3) Mr. Dondero and Mr. Okada will each be treated as having made charitable contributions in cash to their Supporting Organizations in the amounts described in the facts above; (4) any sales of partnership interests in Highland by Mr. Dondero or Mr. Okada, any trust established by M. Dondero or Mr. Okada or any related party to such Donors, to the PE Portfolio Fund will be treated as sales occurring between the applicable seller and the PE Portfolio Fund.

F. Neither Supporting Organization will incur "acquisition indebtedness" within the meaning of Section 514 of the Code with respect to its Variable Contract at any time.

IV. REQUESTED OPINIONS

You have asked us to render an opinion on the following issues:

1. Whether the Internal Revenue Service could successfully contend that, under the facts and assumptions described above, the owners of the Variable Contracts, i.e., the two Supporting Organizations, are to be treated as owners for federal income tax purposes of the underlying investments held in the Crown Global Separate Accounts established in connection with such Variable Contracts.

2. Whether the income realized by the Supporting Organizations from their investment in the Variable Contracts will be exempt from the tax imposed under Section 511 of the Code on the "unrelated business taxable income" of tax-exempt entities described in Section 511(a).

V. LEGAL ANALYSIS

Tax Benefits for Tax-Exempt Organizations Investing in Variable Annuity Contracts

U.S. tax-exempt entities described in Section 501 of the Code, such as the Supporting Organizations, are subject to federal income tax on their unrelated business taxable income (UBTI). UBTI is defined in Section 512 as income from a "trade or business" that is regularly carried on by the tax-exempt organization, or a partnership in which it a partner, and which is not substantially related to the exempt organization's exempt purpose or function. UBTI also includes income from "debt-financed property" as defined in Section 514. Debt-financed property is property held to produce income with respect to which "acquisition indebtedness" exists at any time in the taxable year (or, if the property is sold or disposed during the year, with respect to which there was any acquisition indebtedness at any time during the 12-month period ending on the date of such disposition).

Section 512(b)(1) specifically exempts "annuities" from UBTI, along with other notable categories of investment income, including interest, dividends, capital gains and rent from real property. However, the specific statutory exemptions from UBTI do not apply to the extent such income items are unrelated debt-financed income under Code Section 514. Where debt-financed property is involved, UBTI includes the income from the property multiplied by its "debt-basis percentage" (a percentage equal to "average acquisition indebtedness" divided by "average adjusted basis").

The term "annuities" is not defined in Section 512 or the Treasury regulations ("Regulations") thereunder. There is also no comprehensive definition of annuity or "annuity contract' in Section 72 (governing tax treatment of distributions from life insurance and annuity contracts) or elsewhere in the Code. The Regulations under Section 72 provide that an annuity contract that is subject to the rules of Section 72 includes a contract that is recognizable as an annuity under the "customary" practices of life insurance companies. See Treas. Reg. Section 1.72-2(a)(1). Under Section 72, if the entire value of an annuity contract is applied to a stream of periodic payments, each of these payments will be partly included in income and (because of nondeductible premium payments) partly excludible as a return of capital, pursuant to an "exclusion ratio". Under Section 72(e)(2)(A), any non-annuity amount received under an annuity contract (including withdrawals and partial surrenders) on or after the "annuity starting date" are treated as "gross income". Any non-annuity amounts received before the annuity starting date may be treated as gross income or a return of the policyholder's investment in the contract under rules set forth in Section 72(e)(3).

Tax Status of Separate Accounts. Life insurance companies have segregated asset accounts that are created and regulated under the laws of various states or foreign jurisdictions. These accounts are typically formed for the purpose of segregating assets attributable to variable life insurance contracts, variable annuities and group contracts from the general assets of the life insurance company. In Revenue Ruling 78-204, the IRS ruled that a segregated asset account established by a life insurance company is not an organization that can be taxed separately from the insurance company. The Ruling states that if a segregated asset account holds assets pursuant to contracts described in former Code section 801(g)(1) (which includes variable annuity contracts or contracts with reserves based on a segregated asset account), it is taxed as part of the insurance company.

Code Section 817: Statutory Diversification Requirements. To discourage consumer use of various insurance type products as investment vehicles, Congress in 1984 granted the Treasury authority to prescribe diversification standards for the investment of variable contract assets held in segregated asset accounts. The legislative history states the Congress's goal in so doing was "to deny annuity or life insurance treatment for investments that are publicly available to investors and investments which are made, in effect, at the direction of the investor." H.R. Conf. Rep. No. 98-561, at p. 1055 (1984).

Under the Treasury Regulations, a separate account will be considered adequately diversified if no more than 55% of the total value of the account is represented by any one investment; no more than 70% of the total value of the account is represented by any two investments; no more than 80% of the total value is represented by any three investments; and no more than 90% of the total value is represented by any four investments. Treas. Regs. Sec. 1.817-5(b)(1).

For purposes of testing diversification, Section 817(h)(4) and Section 1.817-5(f) of the Regulations provide a look through for assets held in certain investment entities, including partnerships, trusts and investment companies, provided that the beneficial interest in the investment entity are held by one or more segregated asset accounts of one or more insurance companies, and public access to such investment entity is available exclusively (except as otherwise permitted by Regs. Sec. 1.817-5(f)(3)) through the purchase of a variable contract. As previously discussed, the Separate Accounts established in connection with the Variable Contracts are expected to satisfy the diversification requirements of Code Section 817. In order to satisfy the diversification requirements, Atlas IDF will satisfy the requirements of the Section 817 regulations to qualify for "look through" treatment.

A. INVESTOR CONTROL ISSUES.

In the 1970's the IRS grew concerned that taxpayers were avoiding federal income tax by "wrapping" their investments in "investment annuity contracts" which created the possibility of major tax shelter abuse. Such transactions were structured as follows: Each investment annuity contract paid an annuity based on the investment return and market value of the contract's segregated asset account. A third party custodian, typically a bank, held and invested the segregated account's assets according to the annuity owner's directions. In response to such transactions, the IRS issued four revenue rulings between 1977 and 1982 describing the circumstances in which owners of variable annuity contracts or variable life insurance contracts would be treated and taxed as owners of the underlying assets because of their control of the investments. The revenue rulings applied to variable annuity contracts and variable life insurance contracts the federal income tax principle that a person other than the person holding legal title to the property is treated as the owner for tax purposes if that other person possesses the "benefit and burdens" or "incidents of ownership" of such property. See generally Commissioner v. Sunnen, 33 U.S. (1948); Helvering v. Clifford, 309 U.S. 331 (1940); Corliss v. Bowers, 281 U.S. 376 (1930).

Revenue Ruling 77-85. This Ruling concludes that the annuity owner is, for federal income tax purposes, the owner of the separate account assets under the following conditions:

1. the annuity owner controls the investment of the separate account assets;

2. the annuity has the power to vote any securities in the account; and

3. the annuity owner can withdraw any or all of the assets at any time.

Revenue Ruling 80-274. The second Ruling similarly concludes that the investor in the annuity contract was treated as the owner of a bank certificate of deposit (CD) underlying a variable annuity contract when the contract owner transferred the CD to the life insurance company in exchange for the variable annuity contract and the insurance company is expected to hold the CD for the investor's benefit.

Revenue Ruling 81-225. This Ruling applies the investor control principle to five different situations, and thus is considered the most important ruling on the principle. In four of the fact patterns considered, the annuity owner- not the insurance company- is considered the owner of the mutual fund investments underlying the annuity contract because the mutual fund investments were available for direct purchase by the general public. In the fifth fact pattern, the insurance company, rather than the annuity owner, is considered the owner of the mutual fund investments because such shares were not available for direct purchase by the general public; they were only available through the purchase of a variable contract. The Ruling states that in factual situations one through four, the insurance company is "little more than a conduit between the policyholders and their mutual fund shares."

Revenue Ruling 82-54. In this fourth "investor control" Ruling, the annuity owners direct the insurance company to invest in shares of any or all of three mutual funds that are not available to the public. One mutual fund invests primarily in common stocks, another in bonds, and the third in money market instruments. The investors chose the original allocation of the investments among the three funds and have the unlimited right reallocate before the annuity contract's maturity date. The IRS held that the annuity owners' ability to choose the contract's investments did not constitute sufficient control to cause them to be treated as owners of the mutual fund shares. In its analysis, the IRS reiterated its position in Revenue Ruling 81-225 that public availability of investments will cause annuity owners to be treated as owners of the underlying mutual fund shares.

Christoffersen v. United States. In 1984, the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit upheld the IRS's investor control theory of Revenue Ruling 81-225 in Christoffersen v. United States. The taxpayers in Christoffersen had purchased a variable annuity contract that reflected the investment return and market value of the insurance company's separate account assets. The taxpayers had the power to direct the investment of premiums in any one or all of six publicly available mutual funds, to reallocate their investment among such funds at any time, to make withdrawals, to surrender the contract, and to apply the contract's accumulated value to provide annuity payments.

Post-Christoffersen Legislation. After the Eighth Circuit Court's decision in the Christoffersen case, the Congress enacted Code section 817, which aims to discourage use of variable annuities and life insurance primarily as investment vehicles. Before the issuance of further revenue rulings in 2003 (discussed below), some commentators had suggested that the enactment of the diversification requirements under Code section 817(h) (and other measures) effectively rendered Christoffersen (and Revenue Ruling 81-225) obsolete. This view was supported by language in the General Explanation of the Revenue Provisions of the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 ("DEFRA Blue Book") indicating that the Congress introduced the diversification requirements in Section 817(h) to address any and all concerns with respect to investor control of assets underlying insurance company variable contracts. The Joint Committee on Taxation wrote the following:

> In authorizing Treasury to prescribe diversification standards, the Congress intended that the standards be designed to deny annuity or life insurance treatment for investments that are publicly available to investors and investments which are made, in effect, at the direction of the investor.

When the Treasury issued its proposed regulations under Code section 817(h), it sidestepped the investor control issue. In its preamble to such regulations, the Treasury expressly noted that the regulations "do not provide guidance concerning the circumstances in which investor control of the investments of a segregated asset account may cause the investor, rather than the insurance company, to be treated as the owner of the asset in the account." The preamble further stated that guidance on investor control issues would be provided in separate regulations or rulings.

Revenue Rulings 2003-91 and 2003-92. The subsequent major guidance issued by the IRS on the investor control issues with respect to variable contracts was in the form of two revenue rulings issued in 2003. Revenue Ruling 2003-91 involved a life insurance company that offered variable life insurance and variable annuity contracts. The assets that funded the contracts were held in a separate account that was divided into various sub-accounts. Each sub-account offered a different strategy. Under the facts of this ruling, an individual purchased a life insurance contract and at the time of purchase, the holder specified the allocation of premiums paid among the sub-accounts. The investments could be reallocated, at the direction of the holder, among the twelve sub-accounts, each representing a different investment strategy, at any time. Investment in the sub-accounts was available solely through the purchase of the insurance contract.

All decisions concerning the choice of the investment adviser, and any changes with respect to the sub-accounts offered, were made by the insurance company in its sole and absolute discretion. No arrangement, plan, contract, or agreement exists between the contract holder and the insurance company or between the contract holder and the investment advisor regarding the specific investments or investment objective of the sub-accounts. The contract holder could not communicate directly or indirectly with the insurance company concerning the selection or substitution of the investment advisor or other managers of the account or sub-accounts. The contract holder had no legal, equitable, direct, or indirect interest in any of the assets held by a sub-account; rather the contract holder had only a contractual claim against the insurance company to collect cash from the insurance company in the form of death benefits, or cash surrender values under the contract. Revenue Ruling 2003-91 concluded that the holder of a variable contract under such facts was not the owner of the assets that funded the variable contract for federal income tax purposes because the holder did not have direct or indirect control over the separate account.

Revenue Ruling 2003-92 clarified and amplified Revenue Ruling 81-22, by stating that a variable contract holder was the owner of interests in an unregistered partnership (e.g., a hedge fund or private equity fund) where the interests in such partnership were not available exclusively through the purchase of a life insurance policy or annuity contract. In effect this Ruling confirmed the position taken by the IRS in private letter rulings that the term "general public" included individuals purchasing partnership interests in private placement transactions. More recently, the IRS has confirmed that the fact that a similar fund is available to the public will not cause the fund held by the insurance company's separate account to be treated as being publicly available. See, e.g., Private Letter Ruling 20147007 (April 25, 2014).

Webber v. Commissioner. On June 30, 2015, the Tax Court issued a 92-page opinion in the case of Webber v. Commissioner affirming the enforceability of the IRS' investor control doctrine. Mr. Webber was a venture capital investor and private equity fund manager who established a grantor trust to purchase private placement variable life insurance policies insuring the lives of two elderly relatives. The policies were purchased from a Cayman life insurance company and the taxpayer and his family members were listed as the beneficiaries. The premiums paid for each policy, after deduction of a mortality risk premium and other applicable charges, were placed in a separate account underlying the policy. The Tax Court summarized the investor control doctrine[2] as follows:

> The "investor control" doctrine posits that, if a policyholder has sufficient "incidents of ownership" over the assets in a separate account underlying a variable life insurance or annuity policy, the policyholder rather than the insurance company will be considered the owner of those assets for Federal income tax purposes. The critical "incident of ownership" that emerges from these rulings is the power to decide what specific > investments will be held in the account. . . . Other "incidents of ownership" emerging from these rulings include the powers to vote securities in the separate account; to exercise other rights or options relative to these investments; to extract money from the account by withdrawal or otherwise; and to derive, in other ways, what the Supreme Court has termed "effective benefit" from the underlying assets.

The assets in these separate accounts purchased investments in startup companies which, as the Tax Court noted, the taxpayer was intimately familiar with, and also in which he invested personally and through the funds he managed. After examining the facts, including thousands of emails sent by Webber to parties acting as his agent with "recommendations" that were routinely followed by the "investment managers" of the accounts, the Tax Court determined that the taxpayer effectively dictated both the companies in which the separate accounts would invest and all actions taken with respect to these investments.

The IRS cited the "investor control" doctrine and other principles, and concluded that the taxpayer had retained sufficient control and incidents of ownership over the assets in the separate accounts to be treated as their owner for federal income tax purposes. The IRS thus treated the taxpayer as having received the dividends, interest, capital gains, and other income realized by the separate accounts. The IRS also assessed accuracy related penalties on the taxpayer under Code section 6662.

The Tax Court held that the IRS' pronouncements enunciating the investor control doctrine are entitled to deference and weight and that Webber "retained control and incidents of ownership over the assets" and was therefore "taxable on the income earned on those assets during the taxable years at issue." In holding that the taxpayer was the owner of investments held under the variable annuity contract , as contract owner, the taxpayer had (a) unfettered ability to select investments for the separate accounts under the contract, and neither the issuer nor the investment manager of the separate account exercised any independent investment discretion, (b) dictated all actions the separate account took with respect to ongoing investments,[3] (c) had numerous ways to extract cash from the contract without a surrender of the contract[4] and without loans against the contract, and he frequently exercised such power (e.g., by selling assets to the separate accounts, by borrowing money from the separate accounts, and by having the separate account make investments that generated liquidity for the taxpayer), and (d) derived other economic benefits, including causing the separate accounts to make investments that were used for personal pleasure by the taxpayer (including a winery, a Big Sur resort, and a Canadian hunting lodge), that discharged the contract owner's personal commitments, and that bolstered investments held by the taxpayer outside the contract.

Consequently, the Tax Court upheld the IRS' deficiency determinations for the most part but concluded that the taxpayer as not liable for the penalty assessments (even though the taxpayer was widely believed by tax advisors to have flagrantly disregarded the most minimal of standards to avoid investor control). The facts described herein concerning the investments made by the Supporting Organizations in the Variable Contracts issued by Crown Global in no way resemble the facts considered by the court in the Webber case.

Application of the Investor Control Precedents to the Variable Contracts.

Both Supporting Organizations certificates of incorporation state in the "Second" clause:

"The corporation is organized and shall be operated exclusively for charitable, educational and scientific purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Within the scope of the foregoing purposes, the corporation is organized and operated exclusively to support and benefit The Dallas Foundation, a Texas nonprofit corporation that is exempt from federal income taxation under section 501(a) of the Code as an organization described in section 501(c)(3) of the Code, and a public charity described in section 509(a)(1) of the Code. In furtherance of these purposes, the corporation shall be controlled by The Dallas Foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a)(3)(B)(i) of the Code. . . . [T]he corporation shall carry on only those activities permitted to be carried on by an organization that is exempt from taxation under section 501(c)(3) of the Code and an organization that is described in section 509(a)(3) of the Code."

The "Second" paragraph quoted from each certificate of incorporation is clear that the respective Supporting Organization is formed to operate exclusively "to support and benefit" The Dallas Foundation. Further the "Eighth" paragraph of the certificate of incorporation for each Supporting Organization indicates that upon its dissolution, all of its assets are to be distributed to The Dallas Foundation.

Each Supporting Organization will be classified as a "Tier 1" supporting organization for federal income tax purposes. A "Tier 1" Supporting Organization, from time to time, will provide its supported organization, The Dallas Foundation, distributions of cash. The IRS web page describes the relationship as:

"Type I. A Type I supporting organization must be operated, supervised or controlled by its supported organization(s), typically by giving the supported organization(s) the power to regularly appoint or elect a majority of the directors or trustees of the supporting organization. The relationship between the supported organization(s) and the supporting organization is sometimes described as similar to a parent-subsidiary relationship. (emphasis added.)"[5]

Section 2.13 "Control of Investments" within the bylaws of each Supporting Organization provide that The Dallas Foundation, as Institutional Member, "shall have the sole and exclusive power and authority to direct the management and investment of the assets" of each Supporting Organization. This power affirmatively rests exclusively in the hands of The Dallas Foundation's Institutional Members and no other officer or director of the respective Supporting Organization. This mandate is reflected in the bylaws' Section 2.13 as:

"Such power and authority shall be exercised by the Institutional Member in its sole discretion and shall be separate and independent of any power and authority of the Board of Directors and officers of the

[5]See, https://www.irs.gov/Charities-&-Non-Profits/Charitable-Organizations/Supporting-Organizations-Requirements-and-Types Corporation which have no power or authority with respect to the matters delegated hereby to the Institutional Member with respect to investments" (emphasis added).

Therefore, the Supporting Organizations' Individual Directors and officers, including Grant Scott or Mark Okada, have no power or authority with respect to matters assigned to The Dallas Foundation with respect the decision to purchase the Variable Contracts.

This power within Section 2.13(d) vested with the Institutional Member includes control of decisions with respect to:

"the power to acquire life insurance policies, annuities, and/or other insurance or similar products (including the exercise or non-exercise or any rights, or the prosecution or defense of any disputes with the issuer or other parties regarding legal, regulatory, contractual, or other matters, arising under or relating to such products) ..."

Section 2.13(e) of the bylaws extends the power to the Institutional Members to include:

"the power to direct, and delegate to, the officers of the Corporation the taking of such acts and the execution of such documents as may be necessary to effectuate the decisions of the Institutional Member with respect to investments."

The Dallas Foundation holds the Institutional Member seats on the board of the Supporting Organizations per Section 2.1 of the respective bylaws. The Dallas Foundation has appointed as Directors Gary W. Garcia and Mary M. Jalonick per the respective "Statement of Incorporator."

Thus, the corporate provisions for each Supporting Organization's certificate of incorporation and bylaws is absolutely clear that The Dallas Foundation controls all of the respective Supporting Organization's activities, including investments, purchases of the Variable Contracts, grants, and operating costs and expenses, and is entitled solely and exclusively to the economic benefit of such Supporting Organization's investments, including from the Variable Contracts.

Supporting Organization #1 received a donation of cash of $16,034,978.50 on December 8, 2015 from Mr. Dondero. Supporting Organization #2 received a donation of cash of $5,345,021.50 from Mr. Okada on December 8, 2015. After the cash donation was made, the Board of Directors of each Supporting Organization authorized the purchase of a Variable Contract offered by Crown Global through a Resolution of Unanimous Consent on December 9, 2015. Effective December 11, 2015, Crown Global issued Variable Contracts #30218 and #30219 to Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2, respectively. The Variable Contracts offered investment opportunities in three Insurance Dedicated Funds, including Atlas IDF. The Dallas Foundation, acting as the Institutional Board member of each Supporting Organization, directed the premiums to be allocated 100% to Atlas IDF.

Each Variable Contract, in the respective "Policy Data Page" to the Deferred Variable Annuity Policy, indicates under "Beneficiary" the sole beneficiary as the respective purchasing Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2, and such designation is "irrevocable".

Therefore, it is without question that the investment decision to purchase the Variable Contract and allocate the premium to Atlas IDF was made by The Dallas Foundation. Through this decision by The Dallas Foundation, the investment performance of Atlas IDF will accrete to each respective Supporting Organization, and therefore, ultimately, to The Dallas Foundation. Ultimately, The Dallas Foundation will solely and exclusively derive any and all of the economic benefits from the Variable Contracts issued by Crown Global. Concomitantly, neither the Donors nor the Donors' agents, affiliates, related parties etc. derive any of the economic benefits from the Variable Contract's performance through the investment decisions made by Rand Advisors within Atlas IDF.

Each Variable Contract policy provides in Sections 4.5 and 5.1 the allowance that the Supporting Organization can reallocate funds, at quarterly intervals (but no more than twice per calendar year), among the available investment options provided in the Contract. Therefore, The Dallas Foundation, should it no longer want exposure to Atlas IDF, has the right to reallocate funds to another investment offering.

Crown Global, through Sections 4.7 and 4.11 of each Variable Contract policy, has the sole and absolute discretion to terminate Atlas IDF as an investment offering available to each Supporting Organization. Each Supporting Organization has the right to fully or partially surrender the Variable Contract back to Crown Global, in accordance with Sections 8.2 and 8.3 of the policies. No more than one partial surrender may be requested by the policyholder during each quarter of a policy year.

As discussed above, Atlas IDF will qualify for look through treatment for purposes of satisfying the diversification requirements of Section 817 of the Code. In order to qualify for such look through treatment, it is essential to conclude that the equity interests in the Rand IDF have not been offered to the "general public". Since the offering documents for the Rand IDF provide for such restricted access to the fund, we have assumed that the Rand IDF has satisfied, and will continue to satisfy this requirement.

The PPM for Atlas IDF provides that approximately 45 percent of its assets will be invested in a portfolio of high yield debt instruments and other securities selected by, and managed by the investment manager of the IDF, Rand Advisors. Under the governing documents of the Variable Contracts and the Atlas IDF, the Supporting Organizations are not provided with any opportunities to participate in any purchase or sale or other investment decisions made with respect to the IDF's debt portfolio, and we have been instructed to assume that the Supporting Organizations and their agents will not attempt to do so.

The PPM for Atlas IDF further provides that approximately (but no more than) 55 percent of the IDF's portfolio will be invested in private equity investments through an investment made by the IDF in the Rand PE Fund 1. Although it was anticipated that the Rand PE Fund would seek to make an investment in limited partnership interests in Highland, the terms of such investment were negotiated by Rand Advisors, as investment manager of the PE Fund, the Supporting Organizations were not provided with any opportunity to participate in such negotiations, and in fact purchased their Variable Contracts before any such investment in Highland was made by the PE Fund. There was no guarantee that the Highland investment would in fact be made and there was no provision for unwinding the investment by Crown Global in Atlas IDF or the investments made by each Supporting Organization in its Variable Contract if such were the case.

Further, the governing documents of the Rand PE Fund provide that all investment decisions with respect to such Fund are to be made by Rand Advisors, and we have been instructed to assume that the Supporting Organizations and their agents will not attempt to participate in such decisions. The owners of the Variable Contracts will not have the ability to exercise any voting rights with respect to securities held by the Atlas IDF or Rand PE Fund, and such owners of the Variable Contracts will not have the ability to require any distributions by the insurance company pursuant to withdrawal rights in such contracts to be made in kind rather than in cash. Due to the nature of the illiquid private equity investments in the Separate Accounts, the Variable Contracts contain certain limitations on the ability of the owners of such contracts to withdraw funds.

On December 21, 2015, Rand Advisor's special purpose vehicle, Hunter Mountain Investment Trust, controlled by the Rand PE Fund, executed a Contribution Agreement with Highland Capital Management. L.P., in exchange for newly-issued limited partnership interests in Highland Capital Management, L.P. (the "Contribution Transaction"). On December 24, 2015, Rand Advisor's special purpose vehicle, Hunter Mountain Investment Trust, controlled by the Rand PE Fund, executed a Purchase and Sale Agreement to acquire interests in Highland Capital Management, L.P. from The Dugaboy Investment Trust, The Mark and Pamela Okada Family Trust-Exempt Trust #1, The Mark and Pamela Okada Family Trust-Exempt Trust #2, and Mark K. Okada (the "Purchase Transaction" and together with the Contribution Transaction, the "Highland Transaction").

The Highland Transaction was negotiated between Rand Advisors and the respective Highland counterparties and their legal representatives. Prior to consummation of the Highland Transaction, neither The Dallas Foundation nor the Supporting Organizations directed, compelled, or caused Rand Advisors to make the investment in the Highland Transaction.

The investor control doctrine was created to prevent the policyholder or beneficiary of an insurance product that qualifies under Section 72 of the Code from directly or indirectly making investment decisions with respect to the investment assets within the insurance product. The concern was that policyholders and beneficiaries should not be able to direct the investments and receive the economic benefit of those directions within an insurance product. That is the fundamental principle laid out in in the recent Tax Court case of Webber v. Commissioner.

Therefore, applying that Webber principle of the investor control doctrine to the Highland Transaction, it is not a legally significant fact that the Donors to each of the Supporting Organization are also participants in the Highland Transaction because the beneficiary of the economics from the investment performance of the Variable Contracts are not the Donors but rather are the Supporting Organizations and ultimately The Dallas Foundation.

As further support for our view, Rand Advisors made the independent investment decision to participate and negotiate the Highland Transaction. Moreover, it is clear that Rand Advisors was not taking directions nor compelled by The Dallas Foundation or the Supporting Organizations to enter into the Highland Transaction. Accordingly, there is no way the Highland Transaction can in any way be characterized as "control" by The Dallas Foundation or the Supporting Organizations over the investment activities of Atlas IDF and its respective investment accounts.

The facts and circumstances of the purchase of the Variable Contracts by the Supporting Organizations support the conclusion that Crown Global is the owner of Atlas IDF and its investments, and that the Supporting Organizations will not be treated as the owner of the investments. The facts present none of the factors that the Tax Court found determinative in Webber. In particular:

- Neither The Dallas Foundation nor the Supporting Organizations have any ability to select investments in Atlas IDF held by the Variable Contracts;
- Neither The Dallas Foundation nor the Supporting Organizations have any ability to vote securities owned by Atlas IDF or the ability to exercise other options with respect to such investments;
- Other than the right to partially or fully surrender the Variable Contracts, the Supporting Organizations cannot withdraw funds indirectly out of the Variable Contracts. In particular, neither The Dallas Foundation nor the Supporting Organizations can cause Atlas IDF to purchase assets from The Dallas Foundation or the Supporting Organizations. Nor can The Dallas Foundation or the Supporting Organizations borrow funds from Atlas IDF or otherwise engage in any transaction with Atlas IDF.

In addition, the facts and circumstances closely track the facts and circumstances of Revenue Ruling 2003-91's safe harbor provisions. In addition to the facts recited above:

- There is no arrangement, plan, contract, or agreement between The Dallas Foundation or the Supporting Organizations and Crown Global or Rand Advisers as to the investments to be held in Atlas IDF.
- The Dallas Foundation and the Supporting Organizations have no right to, and will not, communicate with any investment officer of Crown Global or its affiliates or with any Investment Manager regarding the selection, quality, or rate of return of any specific investment or group of investments held in Atlas IDF.
- The Dallas Foundation and the Supporting Organizations have no legal, equitable, direct, or indirect interest in any of the assets held by Atlas IDF. Rather the Supporting Organizations only have a contractual claim against Crown Global to collect cash from the Variable Contracts.
- All decisions concerning the choice of Insurance Dedicated Fund offerings, or any of Crown Global's investment officers involved in the investment activities of any Insurance Dedicated Fund, are made by Crown Global in its sole and absolute discretion.[6]

[6] See also, P.L.R. 9752061 (Dec. 24,1997) ("Policyholder influence over the way the investments are managed will be limited to selecting an investment manager from a pool of investment managers whose credentials have been evaluated and approved by Taxpayer. These investment managers may be recommended to Taxpayer by one or more Policyholders. Taxpayer will be under no obligation to approve any such recommendations. Moreover, once Policyholder makes an initial selection, the investment manager can only be changed by Taxpayer and not by Policyholder"; Taxpayer (the issuing insurance company) was held to be the owner of the assets held under the contract).

- Neither The Dallas Foundation nor the Supporting Organizations have any right to, and will not, communicate with Crown Global concerning the selection or substitution of any investment manager or insurance dedicated fund involved in the investment activities of Atlas IDF.

In sum, based upon these facts, we believe that the Supporting Organizations will not be treated as the owners of the investments and other assets held in the Separate Accounts, since the Supporting Organizations will not have the types of control which the IRS has viewed as essential in order to apply the investor control doctrine to make another person other that the holder of the assets (i.e., the insurance company) the owner for tax purposes.

B. UNRELATED BUSINESS TAXABLE INCOME ISSUES FOR INVESTORS IN DEFERRED VARIABLE ANNUITY CONTRACTS.

As discussed above, we have reached the conclusion that under the facts and assumptions set forth herein, for federal income tax purposes, the insurance company should be treated as the owner of the assets in the Separate Account (i.e., the equity interests in the Rand IDF), and each of the Supporting Organizations should be treated as owners of their respective Variable Contract. We have also been instructed to assume that neither Supporting Organization has, or will ever, incur "acquisition indebtedness" with respect to its Variable Contract.

Possible Application of Section 72(u) of the Code. In 1986, Congress was concerned that employers were utilizing deferred annuity contracts to fund nonqualified deferred compensation arrangements on a tax-favored basis, and that this was acting as a disincentive to employers to fund benefits through qualified retirement plans. Section 72(u) was added to the Code to curtail such activity. The legislative history to section 72(u) states:

> The committee believes that the present-law rules relating to deferred annuity contracts present an opportunity for employers to fund, on a tax-favored basis, significant amounts of deferred compensation for employees. This favorable tax treatment may create a disincentive for employers to provide benefits to employees under qualified pension plans, which are subject to significantly greater restrictions.[7]

Section 72(u) states, in relevant part, that "any annuity contract" owned by "a person who is not a natural person" (e.g., a corporation) shall not be treated as an annuity contract for purposes of the income tax provisions of the Code (Sections 1-1563, known as Subtitle A), other than Subchapter L (i.e., Sections 801-848 relating to insurance companies). The effect of this rule was to eliminate the deferral of income tax for the corporate investor in the contract on the "inside buildup" income of the annuity contract. If a non-natural person does hold an annuity contract and no exception applies, then Section 72(u)(1)(B) provides that the "income of the contract" for any taxable year is "ordinary income" that the owner is treated as receiving or accruing during that taxable year.

[7] S. Rep. No. 99-313, at 567 (1986).

Exemptions under Section 72(u). We would also note that the drafters of Section 72(u) also inserted some specific exemptions in Section 72(u)(3). For example, Section 72(u)(3)(B) provides that Section 72(u) does not apply to any annuity contract held under a qualified plan described in Section 401(a) of the Code or an "individual retirement plan" (i.e., individual retirement accounts and individual retirement annuities described in Section 7701(a)(37)). Section 72(u) also contains an exemption for "immediate annuities" held by any non-natural person. The inclusion of these exemptions indicates that Section 72(u) is designed to eliminate the tax deferral benefit that taxable corporations could derive from investments in deferred annuity contracts. We are not aware of any policy reason why a deferred annuity contract held by a qualified plan or an IRA should be exempted from Section 72(u) but one held by a tax-exempt corporation should be covered, and we have found nothing in the brief legislative history of this Code provision that addresses this issue. Consequently, the failure of the drafters to include an exemption from Section 72(u) for other tax-exempt entities that are not qualified plans or IRAs appears to be an oversight or drafting error.

Definition of "Income on the Contract". Section 72(u) provides its own special definition of "income on the contract" in Section 72(u)(2). Such income is defined as the excess of (1) the sum of the "net surrender value' of the contract at the close of the taxable year plus all distributions under the contract received during the taxable year or any prior taxable year, over (2) the sum of premiums paid on the contract (net of dividends) plus all amounts includible in income for prior taxable years under Section 72(u). It is significant that the income to be recognized by the owner of the annuity contract is the net change in value of the contract rather than the actual net income realized by the separate account of the insurance company that has issued the annuity contract backed by the separate account. In effect, Section 72(u) does not provide for income taxation of the holder of the contract as if the contract owner owned the underlying assets in the insurance company's separate account.

The Supporting Organizations are corporations, and thus non-natural persons within the meaning of Section 72(u). Section 512(b), which contains a specific exclusion from UBTI for "annuities" is in Subtitle A of the Code. Thus, the Section 72(u) could be interpreted to provide that the UBTI exclusion for "annuities" would not apply to a tax-exempt corporation that owned a variable annuity contract. We have found no evidence in the legislative history that would indicate that Section 72(u) was intended to change the character of the income recognized by tax-exempt corporations that owned variable annuity contracts. Even if the specific exclusion from UBTI for "annuities" were held inapplicable to the income derived by the Supporting Organizations from the Variable Contracts, there are alternative provisions of the tax law that could be cited to support an exclusion of the income from such Contracts from UBTI.

Treasury Regulations Defining Investment Income Excluded from UBTI. Section 512(b) of the Code states that certain income items, including "annuities", interest, dividends, royalties, real property rents and gains realized on sale, exchange or disposition of property (other than inventory or property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business) are specifically excluded from UBTI. Congress subsequently amended Section 512(b)(1) to add "payments with respect to securities loans" and "amounts received or accrued as consideration for entering into agreements to make loans" to the list of items excluded from UBTI. In the 1990's there were many new types of financial instruments, including equity swaps and total return swaps, that were made available and tax counsel sought advice from the Treasury for further clarification of the UBTI rules for investments made by tax-exempt entities in such financial instruments. In 1992, the Treasury amended Section 1.512(b)-1 of the Regulations to provide that the specific exclusion from UBTI in Section 512(b)(1) also applies to "income from notional principal contracts" (as defined in the Regulations) and "other substantially similar income from ordinary and routine investments to the extent determined by the Commissioner...."

Thus, it can be argued that the income required to be recognized by a Supporting Organization under Section 72(u) as a result of its investment in the Variable Contract could still qualify for exclusion under this Treasury Regulation as "substantially similar income from ordinary and routine investments". We have found no revenue ruling or case which has addressed this issue. We would note, however, that Section 72(u) by its terms is only applicable to "annuity contracts". Thus, if the Supporting Organizations had instead purchased variable life insurance policies, Section 72(u), by its terms, would not be applicable. If Congress intended to eliminate the UBTI exemptions applicable to tax-exempt corporations that invested in variable contracts, it is unclear why the Section 72(u) provision by its terms is only applicable to "annuities" and not variable life insurance policies.

Unrelated Trade or Business.

The tax on UBTI was passed into law to rectify situations where an exempt organization could engage in any trade or business, secure in the knowledge that the profits generated from such trade or businesses would not be subject to tax, assuming the funds from such trade or business were received by the exempt organization. As stated in the House Committee Report:

> The problem at which the tax on unrelated business income is directed here is primarily that of unfair competition. The tax-free status of these section 101 organizations enables them to use their profits tax-free to expand operations, while their competitors can expand only with the profits remaining after taxes. Also, a number of examples have arisen where these organizations have, in effect, used their tax exemption to buy an ordinary business.[8]

Under Section 511 of the Code, gross income of a tax-exempt organization will be treated as UBTI if:

1. It is income from a "trade or business";
2. The trade or business" is "regularly carried on" by the organization or a partnership in which it is a member; and
3. The conduct of the "trade or business" is not substantially related to the purposes of the organization.

In order for the IRS to assert that some or all of the income from Variable Contracts constitutes UBTI, the IRS will need to establish that some or all of the income from the Variable Contracts is "trade or business" income. Thus, unless the Variable Contracts were deemed to be partnership interests, or the activity of acquiring such Variable Contracts were deemed to be a business activity, the income items recognized by the Supporting Organizations would not be treated as UBTI.

In general, a trade or business for UBTI purposes is based on Section 162 principles, and is viewed as an activity that produces income from the sale of a product or performance of services. In a 1969 Revenue Ruling, the IRS held that a tax-exempt entity's investment in insurance and annuity contracts was not a business activity. See Revenue Ruling 69-74. The IRS will not be able to establish an unrelated trade or business with respect to either Supporting Organization. The Variable Contracts are contractual entitlements only, and any economics paid or accrued are paid or accrued with respect to such contract.

As discussed in detail in this letter, we do not believe that the Supporting Organizations could be treated as the tax owners of the underlying partnership investments of the Separate Accounts under the IRS's "investor control" doctrine discussed in detail above. The facts and assumptions described above do not support treating the Supporting Organizations as partners in the Atlas IDF, the Rand PE Fund or the underlying Highland limited partnership.

Code Section 514(g) Amendment. Section 72(u) was added to the Code in 1986. Two years earlier, Congress had amended Code Section 514 (by adding a new subsection (g)) to specifically grant regulatory authority to the Treasury to issue regulations "necessary or appropriate" to prevent the avoidance of the debt-financed income rules through the use of "segregated asset accounts". The legislative history of the 1984 legislation specifically states that such regulations, if issued, shall only apply prospectively. We have found no reference to the 1984 amendment to Section 514 in the legislative history of Section 72(u). As of the date of this letter, the Treasury has not issued any proposed regulations to implement Section 514(g). Further, there have been no regulations issued or proposed under Section 72(u).

Private Letter Rulings under Section 72(u). There are two IRS private letter rulings, published in 2002 and 1997, that appear to have addressed the tax treatment of tax-exempt corporations that have made investments in variable annuities backed by separate accounts that held UBTI generating assets. PLR 20020647 (dated Nov. 13, 2001); PLR 9708022 (dated Nov. 26, 1996). These PLRs focus on the application of Section 72(u) and the use of group annuity contracts (GACs) purchased by a foundation or endowment (i.e., a non-natural person). The underlying investment of the GAC was a real estate partnership (presumably funded with debt financing). The PLRs state that while the GAC was subject to Section 72(u) in the hands of the tax-exempt organizations, the annuity continued to be treated as a valid variable contract under Section 817(d) of the Code. As a result of Section 72(u) being applicable, the life insurer would issue a Form 1099 to the endowment or foundation for any current income required to be recognized by reason of Section 72(u).

The tax issue is the character of the income to such tax-exempt entities. The two letter rulings, state, in essence, that in the view that the contract's status as an annuity contract under Subchapter L of the Code (relating to insurance company taxation), "the tax treatment of the contract holder under Section 72(u)(1)(A) does not preclude the contract from satisfying the requirements of Section 817(d)(2)(A) for purposes of determining the taxpayer's income." As such, the rulings conclude that the contracts do provide for the "payment of annuities." This would support the conclusion that the "income on the contract" received by the Supporting Organizations constitutes "annuity" income and therefore does not constitute UBTI. It is our understanding the counsel for insurance companies generally are of the view that such PLRs support the position that the character of the contract holder's income is "annuity" income or other investment income exempt from UBTI despite the fact that the GAC is subject to Section 72(u).

In addition, another private letter ruling, published in 1990, supports the contention that the income reportable by each Supporting Organization does not constitute UBTI. In PLR 9009047, a trust was requesting a ruling that it qualified as a charitable remainder unitrust. The trustee of the trust intended to invest all the trust's assets in a deferred annuity contract. The ruling acknowledges that the annuity contract to be acquired by the trust will be subject to Code section 72(u) because the trust is not a natural person and the trust is not holding the annuity as an agent for a natural person. The ruling concludes that the trust will qualify as a charitable remainder unitrust and therefore the trust "will be exempt from taxes imposed by subtitle A of the Code unless it has any unrelated business taxable income as defined in section 512 of the Code and the regulations applicable thereto." Immediately thereafter, the ruling states that the trust will include in its ordinary income for any tax year the "income on the [annuity] contract" in accordance with Code section 72(u). This again supports the conclusion that amounts reportable by a tax-exempt organization with respect to an annuity contract will not constitute UBTI.[9]

Private letter rulings of this type are issued to a particular taxpayer in response to a request from the taxpayer for an interpretation of the tax law to a particular set of facts. PLRs may not be cited as precedent and generally may not be relied upon by as taxpayer other than the taxpayer which applied for and received the PLR. However, PLRs are typically viewed by tax counsel as indicative of the interpretations of the tax law that IRS personnel would likely apply to other taxpayers with the same issue.

Mark to Market Taxation of an Annuity Contract under Section 72(u) Supports Exclusion from UBTI. Even if the "income on the contract" that will be reported to each Supporting Organization is not considered an amount from an annuity because of Code section 72(u), alternative arguments exist that support the contention that the "income on the contract" does not constitute UBTI.

As discussed above, the "income on the contract" that will be reportable to each Supporting Organization will represent the increase in value of the assets underlying the Variable Contracts. The manner in which the contract owner's annual income inclusion is calculated under Section 72(u) resembles a mark-to-market approach to determining the investor's gain from ownership of the contract during the applicable taxable year. Essentially, the "income on the contract" represents the amount that would be realized if all the assets underlying the Separate Accounts were sold for their fair market value at the close of each taxable year. As noted above, Section 512(b)(5) contains a broad exemption from UBTI for gains realized on sales, exchanges or "other dispositions" of property (other than inventory or dealer assets). Furthermore, gain realized by tax-exempt investors under the mark-to-market rules of Code Section 1256 are entitled to the UBTI exclusion provided by Section 512(b)(5).

The UBTI exclusion does not apply to gains or losses from the sale, exchange, or other disposition of property that is (i) stock in trade or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the organization if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or (ii) property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the trade or business. The investments underlying the Variable Contracts should not constitute inventory or property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of a trade or business. Accordingly, even if the "income on the contract" does not constitute annuity income, it is analogous to gains from the sale, exchange or other disposition of property that is not inventory or held for sale to customers, which is excluded from UBTI.

Notional Principal Contract or Other Ordinary or Routine Investment Income. Additionally, each Supporting Organization is an owner of an investment contract issued by Crown Global. Even if such contract is excluded from being treated as an annuity contract under the literal reading of Section 72(u), such contract more closely resembles a "notional principal contract" or "other ordinary or routine investment" referred to in the exclusions from UBTI of Section 1.512(b)-1(a) of the Regulations.

Failure to Qualify for the Section 512(b)(1) Exclusion Does Not Result in UBTI. Section 512(b) provides a special exclusion for certain types of investment income, but the failure to qualify for the specific exclusions in such Section does not automatically result in UBTI classification for the income items. Section 72(u) provides that the income to be recognized by the non-natural owner of the annuity account is treated as "ordinary income". Ordinary income is not of necessity characterized as UBTI; interest income, royalties and real property rents, for example, are also items of ordinary income that qualify for exemption from UBTI.

There is No Federal Income Tax Authority to Support an IRS Position that the Income from the Variable Contracts is UBTI.

Unable to find an unrelated trade or business upon which to base a conclusion that the Supporting Organizations receive UBTI (as discussed above), the IRS would need to develop a legal theory that the character of trade or business income that flows to Crown Global maintains its character as the income (i.e., UBTI) received by the Supporting Organizations. The IRS would encounter at least three problems with any such legal theory.

First, corporate entities similar to Crown Global are regularly used to "block" a tax-exempt organization from receiving UBTI. Under this planning technique, the corporate blocker reports any income that would have been UBTI if received directly by the tax-exempt on its own corporate tax return. Any amounts distributed by such corporation to its shareholder are generally dividend income, which is excluded from UBTI.[10] In this instance, any trade or business income will be reported by Crown Global on its own federal income tax return. Therefore, any amounts received by the Supporting Organizations should be classified as a dividend or other distribution that would not constitute UBTI.

[10] Code § 512(b)(1).

Second, the Variable Contracts are similar to a derivative contract, as both are contractual obligations between two unrelated parties who both rely on other party's credit quality and risk, which may be significantly different than the risk profile of the reference assets underlying the contract. Further, one party to the contract typically "hedges" its obligations, similar to Crown Global hedging its obligations by purchasing interests in Atlas IDF, L.P.[11] Derivative financial instruments are regularly used to convert or block certain types of income to the desired derivative income by changing the legal relationship and risks from holding the investments directly versus obtaining a counterparty's promise to return similar economics.

Similar examples are found in the context of FIRPTA assets[12] and a foreign investor investing in U.S. assets indirectly through derivative contracts. With respect to FIRPTA, foreign investors can avoid the application of FIRPTA withholding by acquiring a synthetic long position in U.S. real estate through a derivative product. The IRS has concluded that this type of position is not a U.S. real property interest that would be subject to FIRPTA withholding.[13] Another example is a foreign investor gaining exposure to U.S. investment assets by entering into a derivative contract with a foreign counterparty bank. The foreign bank will acquire the investment assets. From the foreign investor's standpoint, the derivative contract converts U.S. source income on the U.S. investment assets into foreign source income, thereby avoiding exposure to U.S. income tax or withholding tax.[14]

The above examples demonstrate that federal tax laws respect the difference between holding a certain investment asset directly and another where one has economic exposure to the investment asset indirectly through a contractual promise by a counterparty. These examples are closely analogous, if not nearly identical, to the issuance of a variable annuity contract by a life insurance company that provides the investor a return measured by a Separate Account owned by the insurance company. The only difference is that the contractual relationship is also regulated under an insurance regime.

Third, an IRS legal theory that some portion of the Variable Contract's income is UBTI would expose a significant flaw. Such a legal theory would require that the same amount of income be taxed twice, without reduction for the amount paid by the first party. Specifically, the income from the Variable Contract is reported on Crown Global's U.S. federal income tax return. To then require the Supporting Organizations to also report such income as UBTI would be axiomatic to tax law principles of not taxing different taxpayers on the same income received. Even double tax regimes, such as the corporate income and dividend tax, do not tax the same amount of income to two different taxpayers twice. Rather, first the corporate earnings are taxed at a corporate rate; then the corporation only has the after-tax dollars to distribute to shareholders in the form of a dividend.

[11] Generally, it does not make a difference from a tax perspective if one of the parties to the derivative is fully hedged or is not, or actually owns the referenced assets. The income from the derivative contract is not treated for tax purposes as income on the underlying referenced investment assets. See Rubinger, Jeffrey, IRS Rules Total Return Swap Tied to Real Estate Index Is Not Subject to FIRPTA, Journal of Taxation (Sept. 2008).

[12] FIRPTA refers to the provisions of the Code added by the Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act of 1980 (FIRPTA), which impose federal income tax on foreign persons disposing of United States real property interests.

A Possible Legal Theory Available to Support a UBTI Position by the IRS Would Be to Disregard the Variable Contracts Issued by Crown Global as Shams

The discussion above indicates that the IRS would not have a strong legal basis to support the position that the Variable Contract income is UBTI. Therefore, the only plausible legal theory the IRS could assert to cause the underlying UBTI earned within a Variable Contract flow directly to a Supporting Organization would be to make a sham transaction (i.e., economic substance) argument. Under such an argument, the IRS would treat each Supporting Organization as direct investors in Atlas IDF and ignore, for tax purposes, Crown Global and its contractual relationship with each Supporting Organization. As discussed below, the IRS will encounter substantial factual hurdles to overcome before it could successfully apply such a legal theory to the Variable Contracts in order to treat any underlying UBTI received by Crown Global as taxable to the Supporting Organizations.

The focus of the sham transaction doctrine is to determine whether a transaction has economic effects other than the creation of tax benefits.[15] Courts have stated that a multi-party transaction with economic substance which is compelled or encouraged by business or regulatory realities, containing tax-independent considerations, and not structured solely by tax-avoidance features should be respected.[16] Furthermore, "the existence of a tax benefit resulting from a transaction does not automatically make it a sham as long as the transaction is imbued with tax-independent considerations."[17] If an investment is one for which Congress has specifically bestowed a tax incentive, the investment, if imbued with economic substance, will not be considered a sham merely because the taxpayer could not expect profits apart from tax benefits.[18]

The transactions between each Supporting Organization and Crown Global, as represented, appear to have ample economic substance and are far from empty transactions entered into solely to generate tax benefits. In fact, the following facts support the assertion that the transactions between the Supporting Organizations and Crown Global have economic substance and are not "shams":

- Crown Global is a Bermuda-based insurance company subject to the insurance laws of Bermuda;
- Crown Global was not formed solely for the purpose of entering into the transactions; rather it has been existence for many years prior to issuing the Variable Contracts;
- Crown Global has customers beyond the Supporting Organizations;
- Crown Global continues to market a variety of insurance-based products;
- Crown Global has employees who are undertaking the respective roles befitting an insurance company, according to its website;
- The Variable Contracts were negotiated between Crown Global and each Supporting Organization with specified pricing and contractual terms being agreed upon;

- Crown Global received a premium for each Variable Contract which was deposited in accounts owned and controlled by Crown Global;
- Crown Global's fee charged within the Variable Contracts is based upon the value of the respective Variable Contracts and not upon any anticipated tax benefits;
- Crown Global's fee appears commensurate with fees charged by other insurers;
- Presumably, Crown Global will continue to operate as an insurance company after any termination of the Variable Contracts;
- Each Supporting Organization's creation and existence is not transitory;
- Crown Global negotiated and entered into a Participation Agreement with the investment manager for Atlas IDF; and
- Crown Global received the Atlas IDF Private Placement Memorandum and completed the applicable subscription documents when Crown Global received a premium that was allocated to Atlas IDF.

Based upon such facts, a court would likely determine that Crown Global (a) is a real third-party insurance company, independently owned, and not affiliated with the Supporting Organizations (or their respective principals and agents) in any form, (b) has many customers, (c) operates in a regulatory environment and that it offers a variety of insurance products, and (d) it was not formed for the specific purpose of entering into the transactions. The Variable Contracts were intended to comply with the insurance regulatory laws governing Crown Global. Any conflicts between Crown Global and each Supporting Organization would have to be resolved under the terms of the respective Variable Contracts. Each Supporting Organization has no legal rights normally associated with a subscriber to the Atlas IDF. Nor have the Supporting Organizations completed subscription documents with Atlas IDF. Rather, Crown Global invested the premium received from each Supporting Organization in Atlas IDF, and has all the rights and entitlements normally associated with an investor in entities similar to Atlas IDF.

The foregoing demonstrates that a court would likely reject the application of the sham transaction or economic substance doctrine to the Variable Contracts issued by Crown Global to each Supporting Organization, and therefore reject any assertion that any UBTI realized with respect to the assets held in the Separate Account referenced in the Variable Contract should flow to the Supporting Organization. Rather, the IRS would have to address analogous legal positions directly adverse to such an assertion.

Overall Conclusion with Respect to UBTI.

After reviewing the respective legal authorities, arguments, and positions that the IRS could attempt to assert, we believe there are at least three supportive arguments, when considered together and presented to a court, to support our opinion. These supportive arguments are as follow: (1) the Variable Contracts income would not generate UBTI to the Supporting Organizations because such income is annuity income; 2) if the "income on the contract" was not considered annuity income, but rather (a) income reported on a "mark to market" method (which represents the changes in value of the Variable Contracts on year over year basis), (b) income from a notional principal contract, or (c) income from ordinary and routine investments, such "income on the contract" would still not be UBTI; and 3) IRS would have little, if any, legal support for its position supporting UBTI inclusion by the Supporting Organizations but rather have adverse legal authorities in other financial contexts.

Therefore, we feel that if challenged by the IRS, each of Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 would have a more likely than not (a greater than 50% chance of success) in a court of law, to uphold the position that any income from the Variable Contracts reported by each Supporting Organization would not be UBTI income.

Although we have reached this level of opinion, it is not to suggest that the likelihood of success is not much greater than may be indicated by our opinion level, but rather, reflects only upon the lack of direct legal precedents which we can refer for giving our opinion. If the IRS were to litigate this position, we would anticipate that the taxpayer would likely win, and that legal authority would exist, such that if at that time we would have been able to reach a higher opinion level. We reiterate that our opinion is a very strong "more likely than not" level of opinion.

VI. OPINION RENDERED

Based upon the accuracy of the statement of facts contained herein and the assumptions set forth above, and the legal analysis set forth above it is our opinion that:

1. If the Internal Revenue Service were to assert, in reliance on the "investor control doctrine", as currently interpreted, that Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 should be treated as the owners, for federal income tax purposes, of the investments held in the Separate Accounts of Crown Global associated with the Variable Contracts owned by Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2, a court should conclude that such investor control doctrine should not apply to Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 (a confidence level that there is a greater than 50% likelihood that the position will be upheld by a court if challenged by the Internal Revenue Service), but rather, for federal income tax purposes, a court should conclude Crown Global is the owner of the investments held in such Separate Accounts, including without limitation, to those investments held in Atlas IDF (a confidence level that there is a greater than 50% likelihood that the position will be upheld by a court if challenged by the Internal Revenue Service).

2. It is more likely than not (i.e., a greater than 50% likelihood) that the position that the income realized by the Supporting Organization #1 and Supporting Organization #2 from their ownership of the Variable Contracts will not be classified as unrelated business table income within the meaning of Section 511 of the Code, will be upheld by a court if challenged by the Internal Revenue Service.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. CLO HoldCo, DAF Fund, and Highland Dallas Foundation have each previously filed pleadings in this Court and are, at least arguably, parties to the Bankruptcy Case. As set forth herein, several targets of the Court's Disclosures Order have never made an appearance before this Court including Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd.[2] ("DAF Holdco"), Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, Inc. ("Highland Santa Barbara Foundation"), and Highland Kansas City Foundation, Inc. ("Highland Kansas City Foundation," collectively with DAF Holdco and Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, the "Non-Party Targets").[3] The Court does not have the power to order a non-party to produce documents nor undertake sua sponte investigations, particularly into non-parties. The fact that these entities are non-parties and at the same time targets, is telling. Further the Non-Party Targets have not been served with the Disclosures Order.

2. Neither the Charitable Respondents nor undersigned counsel are authorized to make appearances for the Non-Party Targets, and the Non-Party Targets are not by this Response submitting themselves to this Court's jurisdiction. The Charitable Respondents file this Response and submit these Disclosures solely on their own behalf and neither they nor undersigned counsel are appearing for or on behalf of the Non-Party Targets. Nonetheless, much of the Disclosures provided by the Charitable Respondents on their own behalf will be informative regarding the Non-Party Targets. Further, the Non-Party Targets have provided limited authorization for the

[2] Undersigned counsel has been retained to represent DAF Holdco; however, DAF Holdco has never made an appearance in this bankruptcy case and has not been served in the Adversary Proceeding. Nor has DAF Holdco been served with this Disclosures Order. DAF Holdco has not authorized undersigned counsel to accept service nor to make an appearance for it in this Bankruptcy Case.

[3] The Highland Dallas Foundation, the Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, and the Highland Kansas City Foundation are sometimes also referred to as "Supporting Organizations."

Charitable Respondents, through Mr. Mark Patrick ("Patrick"), to provide the information to the Court that is submitted by the Charitable Respondents in this Response.

3. Further, the Disclosures Order does not mention the third-party foundation level entities included in the Structure Chart (infra) ("Foundations"); however, these Foundations have provided the Charitable Respondents with documents and important information regarding their charitable giving structures and the supporting organizations include the Highland Dallas Foundation and the supporting organizations that are Non-Party Targets. The fact and content of this Response is not intended to be nor shall be deemed to be an appearance by these Foundations in this Bankruptcy Case, nor submission by them to this Court's jurisdiction. The Charitable Respondents file this Response and submit these Disclosures solely on their own behalf and neither they nor undersigned counsel are appearing for or on behalf of the Foundations.

4. Patrick has provided a declaration regarding the information provided by and/or about the Foundations and the Supporting Organizations, and as provided herein within the Disclosures. As well, he has reviewed the Response and Disclosures. See Exhibit 1 [Mark Patrick Declaration]

5. As set forth herein, contrary to the Court's unsupported and highly prejudicial sua sponte assertions that the Charitable Respondents and Non-Party Targets "appear to be under the de facto control of Mr. Dondero," the Charitable Respondents and Non-Party Targets (along with the Foundations) make up a legal and viable charitable giving structure, established through a non-byzantine set of entities that has committed over $42 million in grants, and funded $32.5 million, to nonprofits across a wide-range of issues including education, support of military, veterans, and first-responders, and victims of family violence and child abuse. With respect to Mr. Dondero, of course he is involved, personally in the capacity as the Donor personality. In addition, as disclosed within the Disclosures, he holds positions within the Supporting Organizations, which are subject to the authority of the Foundations they support. As well, and as established by Mr. Patrick's uncontroverted testimony before this Court, Mr. Dondero currently acts as an unpaid investment advisor to CLO HoldCo and DAF Fund. However, as will be shown Mr. Dondero is not in "de facto" or legal control of the Charitable Respondents nor the Non-Party Targets (nor the Foundations).

6. The Charitable Respondents take the time to refute the Court's assertions in the Disclosures Order because not only are they factually inaccurate—which will be shown herein and through the submitted Disclosures—but worse, these sua sponte findings bear directly upon the causes of action asserted by Official Committee of Unsecured Creditors (the "Committee") against CLO HoldCo, DAF Holdco, DAF Fund, and Highland Dallas Foundation (the "Charitable Defendants") in Adversary Proceeding No. 20-03195 (the "Adversary Proceeding"). While there are several motions to withdraw the reference pending in the Adversary Proceeding, this Court should, at an absolute minimum, refrain from espousing, sua sponte, any "findings" or "conclusions" that in fact are indistinguishable from allegations made in conclusory fashion (much like the Court's expositions) by a plaintiff party in litigation currently pending in this Court. Such an "approach" to exercise of the judicial function (under the notion of maintaining the Court's docket) is, frankly, not recognizable as a constitutional approach to exercise of judicial power. This Court, it appears has become litigant, investigator and decider, far outside the scope of case or controversy. Through its assertions the Court appears to have decided integral issues in the Adversary Proceeding sua sponte without considering any evidence nor offering the Charitable Defendants any opportunity to present their case, and all this notwithstanding pending motions to withdraw reference (that the Court has previously stayed over the objection of the Charitable Defendant movers).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

7. As the Court is aware, there was a show cause hearing on June 8, 2021 (the "Show Cause Hearing") related to the lawsuit filed by CLO HoldCo and DAF Fund against the Debtor captioned Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. et al. v. Highland Capital Management, L.P. et al., case no. 21-cv-00842, pending in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas (the "District Court Suit"). In the District Court Suit, the plaintiffs filed a motion to amend their complaint (the "Seery Motion"), and thereafter, the Court issued what it titled: Order Requiring the Violators to Show Cause Why They Should Not Be Held in Civil Contempt for Violating Two Court Orders [Dkt. No. 2255] (the "Show Cause Order") to determine if the "Violators" should be held in contempt of court for filing the Seery Motion. The Court ordered the "Violators," as defined by the Court, including CLO HoldCo and DAF Fund, those persons who authorized the filing of the Seery Motion and the District Court Suit (and the law firm representing the plaintiffs), along with Mr. Dondero, to appear at the Show Cause Hearing.

8. Patrick identified himself as the person who authorized the filing of the Seery Motion and the District Court Suit and identified that he was vested with such authority by virtue of his position as the director CLO HoldCo and control person of DAF Fund. See Response, Dkt. No. 2309. The Debtor undertook extensive discovery related to the Show Cause Hearing with the express purpose of attempting to prove that despite Mr. Patrick authorizing the filings and being the control person of the plaintiffs, Mr. Dondero should nonetheless be held in contempt.

9. Therefore, at the Show Cause Hearing, the respondents, including Patrick, introduced evidence reflecting the structure of the Charitable Respondents,[4] the ownership of the Charitable Respondents,[5] and the controlling entities/persons of the Charitable Respondents.[6] At the Show Cause Hearing, Patrick further provided extensive testimony regarding the creation, structure, organization, purpose, and control of the Charitable Respondents. See Exhibit 2 [Transcript, June 8, 2021 Hearing, Excerpts].

10. On June 17, 2021, the Court issued its Disclosures Order sua sponte pursuant to Section 105 of the Bankruptcy Code and its "inherent ability to efficiently monitor its docket and evaluate standing of parties who ask for relief in the [Bankruptcy Case]." Disclosures Order, p. 1.

11. Importantly, the Disclosures Order does not relate to and was not issued in connection with any contested matter or adversary proceeding before the Bankruptcy Court. Instead, the Court states that the Disclosures Order is "in furtherance of [its] desire to be more clear about the standing of various of these entities, and to assess whether their interests may be sufficiently aligned, in some circumstances, so as to require joint pleadings." Disclosures Order, p. 12. As such, the Court appears to be attempting to ascertain some sort of generalized standing where there is no proceeding before it and contemplating the issuance of pre-filing injunctions against the Charitable Respondents and Non-Party Targets.

12. Based on the forgoing, the Disclosures Order requires numerous parties (whether before the Court or not), including the Charitable Respondents and Non-Party Targets, to file a notice in the Bankruptcy Case disclosing: (a) who owns the entity (showing percentages); (b)

[4] Exhibit and Witness List, Dkt. No. 2411 (Exhibit 1)

[5] Exhibit and Witness List, Dkt. No. 2411 (Exhibit 9, 10, 11, 12, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20)

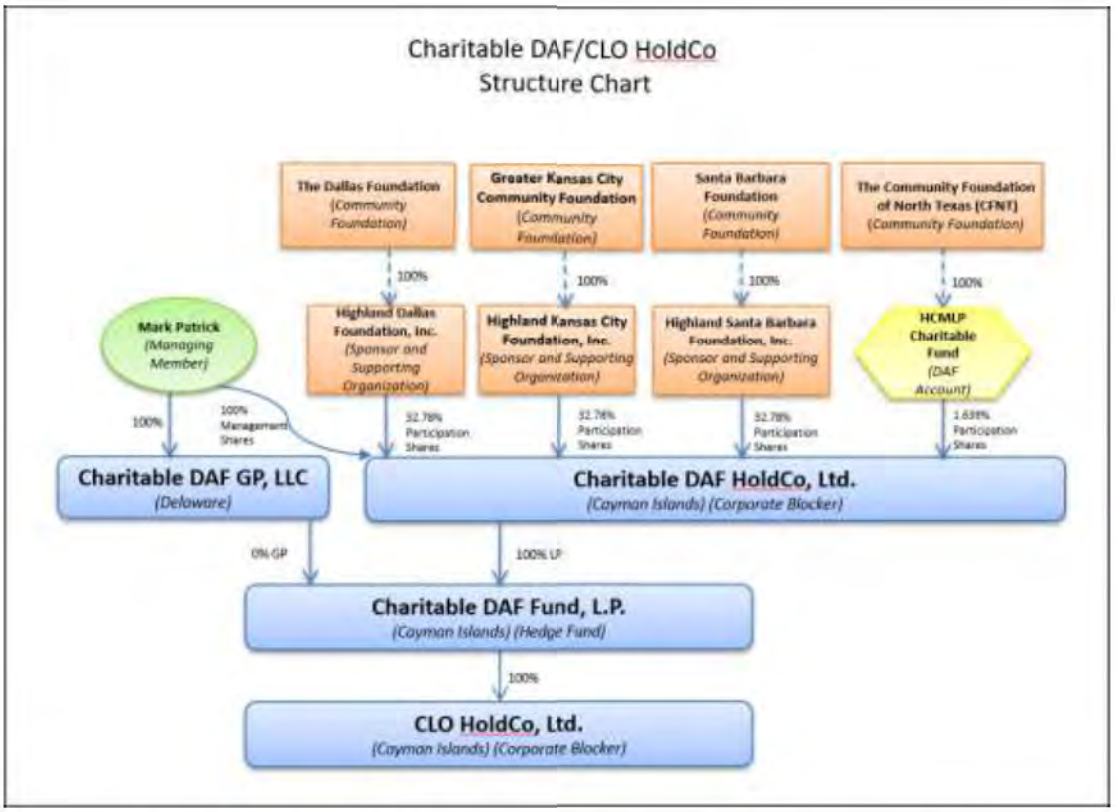
[6] Exhibit and Witness List, Dkt. No. 2411 (Exhibit 3, 4, ,5, 6, 7, 8, 29)

whether Mr. Dondero or his family trusts have either a direct or indirect ownership interest in the entity and, if so, what percentage of ultimate ownership; (c) who are the officers, directors, managers and/or trustees of the Non-Debtor Dondero-Related Entity (this itself looks to be a determination by this Court of "relationship" with damaging consequences); and (d) whether the entity is a creditor of the Debtor (explaining in reasonable detail the amount and substance of its claims).

13. The Disclosures Order does not even pretend to be concerned with such mundane matters as proper service, or the right of parties not before the Court, even if creditors, to remain outside the Court. Certainly the Court does not exhibit a glimpse of concern about possible limitations upon the judicial power to compel parties to appear before it. Because of its assertions concerning Mr. Dondero's "de facto control" of third party entities (again, outside of any pending case or controversy and in fact contrary to evidence put before the Court), the Court has (i) dispensed with case or controversy boundaries, and (ii) sent its Disclosures Order into the universe as an all-powerful compulsion imposed upon entities that have never made appearance before the Court - all without service. All because this Court has concluded that these third parties are controlled by Mr. Dondero, and because this Court has power over Mr. Dondero, it need not think twice about its power over any entity it has determined (without ground) to be controlled by Mr. Dondero because such party may have some relation to Mr. Dondero.

14. As mentioned above, the Charitable Respondents are responding. But the entities outside the scope of the Court's authority are not appearing in Response. As set forth below, the Charitable Respondents believe this Response and the Disclosures provided herein are sufficient and compliant. The Charitable Respondents reserve all rights.

RESPONSE



15. The Charitable Respondents file their Response to the Disclosures Order to comply with it, but with full reservations concerning the propriety of such a sua sponte investigation into standing where there is no proceeding before the Court and the prospective issuance of pre-filing injunctions against parties who have never participated in the Bankruptcy Case (i.e. the Non-Party Targets), or have only do so on a limited basis or were compelled to by order of the Court (i.e. the Charitable Respondents).

16. The Charitable Respondents have already provided the Debtor and the Court with much of the information ordered by the Court, and do so again and more robustly herein, to show to the Court that the Charitable Respondents are not "under the de facto control of Mr. Dondero" and its directors do not act "at Mr. Dondero's direction." See Disclosures Order, pp. 5, 11.

17. The Charitable Respondents, however, take this opportunity to correct any misunderstanding regarding their structure and control, while noting and reserving all rights regarding the impropriety of such prejudicial sua sponte assertions.

I. The Charitable Respondents are independently owned and controlled charitable organizations.

18. The best starting point to understand the structure of the Charitable Respondents is the Structure Chart attached hereto as Exhibit 3 ["Structure Chart"]. For ease of reference, the Structure Chart is reproduced as follows:

19. Second, the Charitable Respondents provide the Court with a legal memorandum of Kenneth K. Bezozo, a partner with Haynes and Boone, LLP, determined by the Charitable Respondents to be a legal expert in the field of taxation and organizational structures. See Exhibit 4 [Kenneth K. Bezozo Memorandum]. As the Bezozo Memorandum explains, the Structure Chart and the entity structure of which the Charitable Respondents are a part (along with the Supporting Organizations and the Foundations) is a structure including offshore entities that is a typical industry standard investment structure to facilitate tax-exempt ownership and charitable giving. Given that the structure employed is in fact, within the tax-exempt, charitable entity structures neither unusual nor exotic, the Charitable Respondents submit that contrary to the jargon appropriated by the Court from the Committee and the Debtor and its counsel, this structure is not at all "Byzantine."

The Entities

a) CLO HoldCo

20. As the Structure Chart reflects, CLO HoldCo is a company limited by shares incorporated in the Cayman Islands. See Exhibit 5 [Certificate of Incorporation - CLO HoldCo, Ltd.]. CLO HoldCo was incorporated in 2010. See Exhibit 6 [Memorandum of Association of CLO HoldCo, Ltd.]. CLO HoldCo is managed and controlled by directors who are appointed by resolution of shareholders of CLO HoldCo. See Memorandum of Association of CLO HoldCo, Ltd., p. 11-12 ("Directors"). The Directors are currently Mr. Patrick and Mr. Paul Murphy. See Exhibit 36 [CLO HoldCo - Register of Directors].

21. CLO HoldCo is owned by the holder of its sole share. The sole shareholder of CLO HoldCo was previously DAF Holdco who contributed the share on November 7, 2011 to DAF Fund. See Exhibit 7 [Ordinary Share Registry - CLO HoldCo]. Therefore, CLO HoldCo is wholly owned by DAF Fund.[7]

b) DAF Fund

22. DAF Fund is a limited partnership organized under the laws of the Cayman Islands. See Exhibit 8 [Certificate of Registration of Exempted Limited Partnership - DAF Fund]. Pursuant to the Amended and Restated Exempted Limited Partnership Agreement dated November 7, 2011 (the "DAF Fund LP Agreement"), DAF Holdco is the limited partner of the DAF Fund and the Charitable DAF GP, LLC ("DAF GP") is the general partner. See Exhibit 9 [DAF Fund

---

[7] While not appearing on the Structure Chart, nor made subject of the Disclosures Order, there are subsidiaries of CLO HoldCo as well, and these are named, with corresponding ownership and director exhibits identified as follows: (i) Liberty CLO Holdco, Ltd. (see Exhibits 38 and 39 [Register of Directors and Share Register]); (ii) MGM Studios HoldCo, Ltd. (see Exhibits 40 and 41 [Register of Directors and Share Register]); (iii) HCT HoldCo 2, Ltd. (see Exhibits 42 and 43 [Register of Directors and Share Register]). Note, Dondero holds no directorship or ownership.

LP Agreement]. Pursuant to the terms of the DAF Fund LP Agreement, DAF Holdco contributed its equity interest in CLO HoldCo to DAF Fund pursuant to a Contribution and Transfer Agreement dated November 7, 2011. Ordinary Share Class Transfers - CLO HoldCo; DAF Fund LP Agreement, ¶3.1.

23. The express purpose of DAF Fund is and always was to invest and trade in securities of all type and other investment vehicles for the purpose of befitting, direct and indirectly, the indirect equity owners of DAF Holdco, which were required to be Section 501(c)(3) of the IRS Code entities or organizations or have sole beneficiaries which are entities or organizations exempt from taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the IRS Code. See DAF Fund LP Agreement, ¶1.3.

24. Because DAF Fund is a limited partnership, the DAF GP has the exclusive and complete discretion in the management and control of the DAF Fund. DAF Fund LP Agreement, ¶1.6, Exhibit 10 [DAF Fund General Partner Register].

c) DAF Holdco

25. DAF Holdco is a company limited by shares incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands. See Exhibit 11 [Amended and Restated Memorandum of Association of DAF Holdco]. DAF Holdco's equity ownership consists of holders of Management and Participating Shares. Id. The Management Shares confer no right to participate in profits but rather to manage DAF Holdco, whereas Participating Shares confer the right to participate in profits or assets but not management rights. Id.

26. The Management Shares of DAF Holdco were allotted to Grant Scott ("Scott") in 2011 but as will be discussed herein, were transferred to Patrick in 2021. See Exhibit 12 [Register of Management Shares DAF Holdco]. The Directors are currently Mr. Patrick and Mr. Paul Murphy. See Exhibit 37 [DAF Holdco - Register of Directors]. The Participating Shares of DAF

Holdco are held by the "Supporting Organizations," which are Highland Kanas City Foundation [32.78%], Highland Dallas Foundation [32.78%], Highland Santa Barbara Foundation [32.78%], and Highland Community Foundation of North Texas [1.63%].[8] See Exhibit 13 [Register of Participating Shares DAF Holdco].

27. As set forth in the DAF Fund LP Agreement, DAF Fund's investments are for the benefit of the equity owners of DAF Holdco which were required to be non-profit organizations. The Supporting Organizations are those non-profit organizations.

d) DAF GP

28. DAF GP is a limited liability company organized under the laws of Delaware. See Exhibit 14 [Certificate of Formation of DAF GP]. Again, DAF GP is the general partner of DAF Fund who manages and controls DAF Fund. Prior to March 2021, 100% of the limited liability company interests in the DAF GP (the "DAF GP Membership Interests") were held by Mr. Scott. Mr. Scott transferred all of the DAF GP Membership Interests to Mr. Patrick. Exhibit 15 [Assignment and Assumption of Membership Interests Agreement Dated March 24, 2021].

29. As shown by the Exhibits hereto, Dondero holds no ownership, officer, or director status in any of: CLO HoldCo; DAF Fund; DAF HoldCo; or DAF GP.

e) The Supporting Organizations

30. As mentioned, the Supporting Organizations are Highland Dallas Foundation, Highland Kansas City Foundation, Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, and Highland Community Foundation of North Texas. These Supporting Organizations were established by the Foundations.

---

[8] The Court has not included Highland Community Foundation of North Texas in its Disclosures Order.

- Highland Dallas Foundation

31. Highland Dallas Foundation is a corporation incorporated in 2011 under the laws of Delaware. Exhibit 16 [HDF Certificate of Incorporation]. The Highland Dallas Foundation was and is organized and operated exclusively for charitable, educational and scientific purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the IRS Code. Exhibit 17 [IRS Determination - HDF].

32. The Highland Dallas Foundation supports and benefits the Dallas Foundation. See HDF Certificate of Incorporation, Exhibit 18 [Narrative Description of Activities]. The Dallas Foundation is a third-party and is the oldest community foundation in Texas.

33. As set forth in the attached letter from the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Dallas Foundation, the Dallas Foundation is a Texas nonprofit corporation, and is the successor in interest to Dallas Community Trust, a charitable trust which was formed in 1929. Exhibit 19 [reserved for supplementation]. The Dallas Foundation has hundreds of donors with whom it works regularly to make charitable grants supporting numerous worthy causes and regularly utilizes donor-advised funds and supporting organizations to carry out its charitable mission. Id.

34. The Highland Dallas Foundation is a membership corporation, and its members have the ultimate authority to elect its Board of Directors. Id. Exhibit 20 [HDF Bylaws]. The Highland Dallas Foundation has two (2) classes of members, an "Institutional Member" (the TDF), and an "Individual Member" (Mr. Dondero). Id.

35. The Institutional Member has two (2) votes and the Individual Member has only one (1) vote on any matter submitted to the members. Id. Further, the Institutional Member elects two (2) of Highland Dallas Foundation's three (3) directors, and the Individual Member elects one (1) director. Id. The Board of Directors of Highland Dallas Foundation consists of Mr. Dondero, Julie Diaz (Chief Philanthropic Partnerships Officer of TDF) and Matthew Randazzo (President & Chief Executive Officer of Dallas Foundation). Mr. Dondero serves as President, Mr. Randazzo serves as Vice President and Ms. Diaz serves as Secretary and Treasurer.

36. So while Mr. Dondero is a member with some level of influence within the Highland Dallas Foundation, he has 1/3 of the voting power, where TDF employees have 2/3 of voting power.

37. The Highland Dallas Foundation is an independent supporting organization of the Dallas Foundation. While Mr. Dondero is on the Board of Directors and is President of the Highland Dallas Foundation, it cannot be said to be "under the control" (de facto or otherwise) of Mr. Dondero, because of the control of the Board of Directors held by the Dallas Foundation.

- Highland Santa Barbara Foundation

38. The Highland Santa Barbara Foundation was formed in November 2011 as a Delaware nonprofit nonstock corporate to operate exclusively for the benefit of, to perform the functions of, or carry out the purposes of Santa Barbara Foundation. See Exhibit 21 [HSBF Certificate of Incorporation]; Exhibit 22 [IRS Determination - HSBF].

39. The Santa Barbara Foundation is a third-party community foundation incorporated in 1928 as a nonprofit corporation to enrich the lives of the people of Santa Barbara County through philanthropy. Exhibit 23 [SBF Letter Overview]. The Santa Barbara Foundation funds a wide range of initiatives, projects, and organizations and has supported nearly every Santa Barbara County nonprofit organization and essential community sproject during its 93-year history. Id.

40. Similarly to the Dallas Foundation, the Santa Barbara Foundation works with entities organized under Section 509(a)(3) of IRS Code as supporting organizations to Santa Barbara Foundation for the specific and primary purpose of benefiting, performing functions of, and engaging in activities consistent with Santa Barbara Foundation's charitable purposes. Id. Highland Santa Barbara Foundation is one such supporting organization. Id.

41. Again as is common amongst supporting organizations, Highland Santa Barbara Foundation has two classes of members, institutional and individual, and one member in each class. Id., see also Bylaws HSBF. Santa Barbara Foundation is the institutional member and Mr. Dondero is the individual member. Highland Santa Barbara Foundation has three directors, two elected by SBF and one elected by Mr. Dondero. The president, secretary, and any other officers of HSBF are elected by the three directors. Id. The directors are Mr. Dondero, Jacqueline M. Carrera (President & CEO of SBF), and Arnold Brier (Santa Barbara County community volunteer). Currently, Mr. Dondero serves as President, Jacqueline M. Carrera as Vice President, and the Secretary position is vacant pending board of directors election.

42. Again, while Mr. Dondero positions in the Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, it is certainly not under his "de facto" control, nor do the other directors and officers act under Mr. Dondero's direction. The Highland Santa Barbara Foundation is an independent supporting organization of the Santa Barbara Foundation, and is controlled by the Santa Barbara Foundation. Imputing a lack of independence based on what is a typical structure for supporting organization management sets a unwarrantable precedent for charitable organizations.

- Highland Kansas City Foundation

43. Highland Kansas City Foundation was and is organized and operated exclusively for charitable, educational and scientific purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the IRS Code, and to support and benefit the Greater Kansas City Community Foundation ("GKCCF"). See Exhibit 24 [GKCCF Certificate of Formation].

44. The Greater Kansas City Community Foundation was created in 1978 and manages over $4 billion in assets, and again uses donor-advised funds and supporting organizations. See Exhibit 25 [GKCCF Letter]. As explained by the President & CEO of Greater Kansas City Community Foundation, Highland Kansas City Foundation is one of 18 supporting organizations that Greater Kansas City Community Foundation works with. Id.

45. Highland Kansas City Foundation has two classes of members, institutional and individual, and one member in each class. See Exhibit 26 [Bylaws HKCF]. Greater Kansas City Community Foundation is the institutional member and Mr. Dondero is the individual member.

46. The Directors of Highland Kansas City Foundation are: Brenda Chumley (Senior Vice President of Greater Kansas City Community Foundation), Mr. Dondero, and Deborah Wilkerson (the President & CEO of Greater Kansas City Community Foundation). The Highland Kansas City Foundation has not named officers. All three directors approve grants by unanimous consent.

f) Mr. Patrick's role

47. Prior to March 24, 2021, Mr. Scott was the holder of Management Shares in the DAF Holdco. On March 24, 2021, Mr. Scott executed the Share Transfer Form, in which he transferred the management shares in DAF Holdco to Mr. Patrick. Exhibit 27 [Share Transfer Form]. Further on March 24, 2021, Mr. Scott and Mr. Patrick entered into that certain Assignment and Assumption of Membership Interest whereby Mr. Scott assigned and Mr. Patrick assumed one hundred percent of the limited liability company interest in the DAF GP. See Assignment and Assumption Agreement.

48. As the holder of the management shares in DAF Holdco, Mr. Patrick executed a resolution removing Mr. Scott as Director and appointing Mr. Patrick as Director. Exhibit 28 [March 25 Resolution - DAF Holdco].

49. On April 2, 2021, Mr. Patrick, as holder of one hundred percent of the interest in DAF GP, executed the shareholder resolution removing Mr. Scott as Director of CLO HoldCo and appointing Mr. Patrick as director. Exhibit 29 [April 2 Resolution - CLO HoldCo].

50. While on paper the switch from Mr. Scott to Mr. Patrick was completed, it became obvious that this switch would be practically more complicated. Therefore, there was a transitional period wherein Mr. Scott had to continue to authorize certain actions with Mr. Patrick assisting him. As of the date of filing, Mr. Scott no longer has authority/ control over the Charitable Respondents.

51. After Mr. Patrick's appointment, he determined that given the breadth of issues facing the Charitable Respondents, including but not limited to the Adversary Proceeding, it would be in the best interest of DAF Holdco, CLO HoldCo and others for another director to be appointed. As such, on April 22, 2021, Paul Murphy was appointed a director of DAF Holdco and CLO HoldCo. Exhibit 30 [Written Resolution - Murphy].

II. The Charitable Respondents have donated tens of millions of dollars to charitable causes

52. The Court included the Charitable Respondents and Non-Party Targets as part of what it terms — borrowing from the Committee's verbiage in the Adversary Proceeding — Mr. Dondero's "byzantine" empire and made sua sponte assertions regarding their lack of independence and Mr. Dondero's "de facto" control. Again, as will be set forth herein, these findings are procedurally improper and highly prejudicial to the Charitable Defendants. But most importantly, they are wrong.

53. The Charitable Respondents are part of a charitable structure that donates tens of millions of dollars to charitable causes focusing on education; support for military, veterans, and first responders; health and medical research; economic and community development initiatives; and youth and family. See Exhibit 31 [Charitable Giving Overview, Grant Summary: 2012-2020].

54. Since 2012, the Supporting Organizations have committed over $42 million to nonprofit organizations, and have funded $32 million of the total commitments (with the remaining commitments being comprised of future scheduled installments). Id.

55. The Supporting Organizations' charitable giving has made a tangible impact on some of the most vulnerable including grants to the Dallas Children's Advocacy Center which serves over 8,000 abused children a year and The Family Place which serves more than 11,000 victims of family violence. Id. The CEO of The Family Place has submitted a letter in support which is attached hereto as Exhibit 32 [The Family Place Letter]. The Family Place empowers victims of family violence by providing safe housing and counseling, and identifies its partnership with the Highland Dallas Foundation as "instrumental" in providing community exposure and awareness of domestic violence as well as providing essential services to family violence victims. Id. As stated by the CEO, The Family Violence Place would not be able to successfully serve its domestic violence clients without this support.

56. Cristo Rey Dallas also submitted a letter in support of the Highland Dallas Foundation which is submitted herewith as Exhibit 33 [Cristo Rey Letter]. Cristo Rey Dallas provides college preparatory high school curriculum accessible to those of limited financial resources. Highland Dallas Foundation provided impactful donations which allow Crito Rey Dallas to provide services to its 465 students, including funding work study programs and remote work places during COVID-19 pandemic. Id.

57. Dallas Children's Advocacy Center submitted a letter in support of the Highland Dallas Foundation which is submitted herewith as Exhibit 34 [DCAC Letter]. Dallas Children's Advocacy Center's mission is to improve the lives of abused children in Dallas County and to provide national leadership on child abuse issues. Id. Highland Dallas Foundation has robustly supported this mission since 2016, including providing funding that has been critical to the sustainability of its programs. Id.

58. The Supporting Organizations' grants to the Center for BrainHealth helped provide and training other programming to members of the military, veterans, and local law enforcements to improve their congestive health. See Charitable Giving Overview.

59. The Friends of the Dallas Police grants show appreciation to men and women who risk their lives every day to make Dallas a safer city and the Supporting Organizations have funded awards programs and educational sponsorships for children of police officers. Id.

60. The Charitable Respondents invite the Court, and others who have characterized the Supporting Organizations as mere "puppets" of Mr. Dondero, to review the Charitable Giving Overview provided herewith as well as the letters in support from The Family Place, Cristo Rey Dallas, Dallas Children's Advocacy Center, the Santa Barbara Foundation, and the Highland Kansas City Foundation. The Charitable Respondents have and will continue to make meaningful impacts on the communities they serve through the tens of millions of dollars of philanthropic giving they facilitate.

III. CLO HoldCo and DAF Fund may be creditors of the Debtor

61. In the Disclosures Order, the Court requires all entities to state whether the entity is a creditor of the Debtor and explain in reasonable detail the amount and substance of its claims. Disclosures Order, p. 13.

62. All claims bar dates have long since passed [see General Claims Bar Date Order [Dkt. No. 498].

63. The Court states that CLO HoldCo filed two proofs of claim. Disclosures Order, p. 11. This is not correct. CLO HoldCo filed a proof of claim on April 8, 2020 [Proof of Claim No. 133] and on October 21, 2021, CLO HoldCo amended that same proof of claim [Proof of Claim No. 198] (the "Amended Proof of Claim"). In the Amended Proof of Claim, CLO HoldCo explained that as a result of certain proceedings that effectuated a termination of the Debtor's participation interests in the funds referred to in the CLO HoldCo proof of claim, such termination served to cancel the CLO HoldCo interests, as well, as the CLO HoldCo interests were in effect derivative of the Debtor's interests. Accordingly, the Amended Proof of Claim reflected that the CLO HoldCo claim was reduced to $0.00, and therefore resolved.

64. The Court stated in the Disclosures Order that it was unaware of whether DAF Holdco, DAF Fund, Highland Dallas Foundation, Highland Santa Barbara Foundation, or Highland Kansas City Foundation filed proofs of claims (notwithstanding this "uncertainty" the Court deemed it appropriate nevertheless to try to compel appearance). Disclosures Order, p. 11. A review of the Court's Claims Register and that of the Debtor's claims and noticing agent reflects that none of these entities filed proofs of claim against the Debtor.

65. Therefore, none of the Charitable Respondents are pre-petition creditors of the Debtor, as the claims bar date has long since passed and no claims were filed which have not been fully resolved.

66. It is unclear from the Disclosures Order whether the Court is referring to the term "creditor" as defined in section 101(10) of the Bankruptcy Code or using creditor as a lay term. If it is the former, the Charitable Respondents are not creditors of the Debtor. See 11 U.S.C. § 101(10) (defining a "creditor" an entity that has a claim against the debtor that arose at the time of or before the order for relief concerning the debtor).

67. As the Court is aware from the Show Cause Hearing, CLO HoldCo and DAF Fund filed the District Court Suit against the Debtor. The causes of action asserted by CLO HoldCo and DAF Fund arose after the order for relief. Exhibit 35 [Complaint]. The substance of these claims is set forth in the Complaint.

IV. The Disclosures Order is procedurally improper and the Court has no power to institute sua sponte investigations into hypothetical standing.

68. The Charitable Defendants have fully complied with the Court's Disclosures Order and provided the Court with complete information regarding: (a) who owns each entity, (b) whether Mr. Donerdo or his family trusts have direct or indirect ownership, (c) who the officers, directors, and managers are, and (d) whether the entity is a creditor of the Debtor. The Charitable Defendants have done so because they were expressly ordered by the Court do; however, the Disclosures Order is procedurally improper and highly prejudicial.

a) The Court does not have the power to require non-parties to provide it with disclosures.

69. The Charitable Defendants are those named entities who have made appearances before this Court. The Court does not have the power to order production or disclosures from non-parties including the Non-Party Targets.

70. In the Disclosures Order, the Court states that the order is issued "sua sponte pursuant to Section 105 of the Bankruptcy Code and the court's inherent ability to efficiently monitor its docket and evaluate the standing of parties who ask for relief in the above-referenced case." Disclosures Order, p. 1. But yet, the Disclosures Order goes on to target entities who have never asked for the relief in the Bankruptcy Case.

71. Of course, it is undisputed that the Court has the inherent power to manage its own docket "to ensure the orderly and expeditious disposition of cases." Berry v. CIGNA/RSI-CIGNA, 975 F.2d 1188, 1191 (5th Cir. 1992) (quoting Link v. Wabash R.R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 630-31 (1962)). But this inherent authority is limited, as is the Court's authority pursuant to section 105 of the Bankruptcy Code. Matter of Ward, 978 F.3d 298, 303 (5th Cir. 2020) (noting that "the powers afforded to bankruptcy courts pursuant to § 105, however, are not unlimited").

72. In Energy Gathering, the Fifth Circuit considered whether the district court could sua sponte order a party's attorney, a non-party to the case, to produce documents. See Nat. Gas Pipeline Co. of Am. v. Energy Gathering, Inc., 2 F.3d 1397, 1412 (5th Cir. 1993). In that case, the district court found that the attorney had purposefully withheld documents from the court, and "ordered [him] to produce every document in his possession relating to [his client] or business he had done with [his client]." Id. at 1404. The district court did not explain the source of its perceived authority to do so. See id. at 1405.

73. On appeal by the attorney, the plaintiffs asserted that the district court had the inherent authority to order him to produce documents. Id. at 1406. The Fifth Circuit disagreed with the plaintiffs. See id. at 1408-09. Specifically addressing whether the district court had the inherent authority to issue its order, the Fifth Circuit acknowledged that the district court had certain limited power "to conduct discovery not recognized by rule or statute," observing that federal courts "possess[ ] all of the common law equity tools of a Chancery Court (subject, of course, to congressional limitation) to process litigation to a just and equitable conclusion." Id. at 1409. The Fifth Circuit suggested that the district court had the inherent authority to order the attorney to produce documents—if at all—under its power to issue a "bill of discovery," a common law "chancery tool" that the Supreme Court has described as "the forerunner of all modern discovery procedures." Id. at 1409. But recognizing that bills of discovery "could not be used to obtain documents (or other discovery) from someone who was not a party," the Fifth Circuit therefore concluded that district courts do not have the inherent authority to order non-parties to produce discovery. Id.

74. Important here, the Fifth Circuit noted the impropriety of the sua sponte investigation by the district court. Id. at 1411 (noting "factors [that] contribute to the order's unreasonableness" as being the sua sponte nature of the order and that the "court engaged in a fishing expedition"). Expressly relying upon the Energy Gathering opinion, the court in Thompson v. Gonzales determined that the court lacked inherent authority to order disclosures from non-parties. Thompson v. Gonzales, No. 1:15-CV-301-LJO-EPG, 2016 WL 5404436, at *8 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 27, 2016).

b) The Court's sua sponte investigation into hypothetical standing is improper.

75. As the Fifth Circuit noted in Energy Gatherings and this Court and others numerous have many times since, inherent authority "is not a broad reservoir of power, ready at an imperial hand, but a limited source; an implied power squeezed from the need to make the court function." NASCO, Inc. v. Calcasieu Television & Radio, Inc., 894 F.2d 696, 702 (5th Cir.1990); In re Saldana, 531 B.R. 141, 166 (Bankr. N.D. Tex.), aff'd in part, remanded in part, 534 B.R. 678 (N.D. Tex. 2015).

76. Here, the Court has launched a sua sponte investigation into parties under the stated purpose of evaluating their hypothetical standing.

77. The American adversarial system differs from its European (and other) inquisitorial counterparts in that its central features are "party presentation of evidence and arguments" for resolution before a "neutral and passive decision maker[]." Adam Milani & Michael Smith, Playing God: A Critical Look at Sua Sponte Decisions by Appellate Courts, 69 TENN. L. REV. 245, 272 & n.143 (2002); see also United States v. Sineneng-Smith, 140 S. Ct. 1575, 1579 (2020); Greenlaw v. United States, 554 U.S. 237, 243 (2008); Wood v. Milyard, 566 U.S. 463, 472 (2012).

78. The judge "does not (as an inquisitor does) conduct the factual and legal investigation himself, but instead decides on the basis of facts and arguments pro and con adduced by the parties." Sanchez-Llamas v. Oregon, 548 U.S. 331, 356 (2006) (quotation omitted). Thus,"[i]t is normally incumbent on each party to prove its claims," and a sua sponte investigation upsets the normal burden of persuasion between the parties." Domitille Baizeau and Tessa Hayes, The Arbitral Tribunal's Duty and Power to Address Corruption Sua Sponte, in Andrea Menaker (ed), International Arbitration and the Rule of Law: Contribution and Conformity, ICCA Congress Series, Volume 19, pp. 225 -265.

79. Thus, federal courts have been instructed to restrain from conducting such an inquest which is antithetical to the American adversarial system. Simon v. Taylor, 794 F. App'x 703, 718 (10th Cir. 2019) (noting that scientific evidence involving environmental contamination from the district court's own sua sponte investigation cannot be considered); Wood, 566 U.S. at 472 ("federal court does not have carte blanche to depart from the principle of party presentation basic to our adversary system"); Castro v. United States, 540 U.S. 375, 381–383, 124 S.Ct. 786, 157 L.Ed.2d 778 (2003).

80. The Court asserts that it launched its investigation because standing is an issue of subject matter jurisdiction and that it must gain "clarity" with regard to standing. Disclosures Order, p. 2. But what the Court proposes to do is render an impermissible advisory opinion on the hypothetical standing of the various entities, including some of have never filed a pleading in the Bankruptcy Case. How can this Court have blanket power to compel investigation of entities that have never made appearances before the Court, or that have only been made parties because they have been sued, on the purported ground it needs to investigate standing? As shown here, it cannot.

81. A bankruptcy case itself is not a justiciable controversy; rather, it is the individual proceedings (contested matters or adversary proceedings) which create a justiciable case or controversy.[9] Here, there is no proceeding, and instead, the Court expressly stated that it will determine standing sua sponte pursuant to section 105 of the Bankruptcy Code. While this general rule of justiciablity standing alone would prohibit such a determination, evaluating a party's hypothetical standing absent a justiciable controversy is acutely problematic. See Uberoi v. Labarga, 769 F. App'x 692, 697 (11th Cir. 2019) ("The Court should not speculate concerning the existence of standing."); Navtech US Surveyors USSA Inc. v. Boat/Us Inc., No. 219CV184FTM99MRM, 2019 WL 3219667, at *2 (M.D. Fla. July 17, 2019) (noting that advisory opinions on standing are improper).

82. This is because "standing is not dispensed in gross," rather, standing must be established for each claim a party seeks to press and for each form of relief that is sought. Brackeen v. Haaland, 994 F.3d 249, 291 (5th Cir. 2021) (quoting Town of Chester v. Laroe Estates, Inc., – — U.S. ——, 137 S. Ct. 1645, 1650, 198 L.Ed.2d 64 (2017) and Davis v. Fed. Election Comm'n, 554 U.S. 724, 734, 128 S.Ct. 2759, 171 L.Ed.2d 737 (2008)).

83. This is rule is no less applicable in a bankruptcy case. The Bankruptcy Code does not define "party in interest," offering instead a non-exclusive list of who "may raise and may appear and be heard on any issue" in cases under chapter 11. In re Friede Goldman Halter Inc.,

[9] Ralph Brubaker, On the Nature of Federal Bankruptcy Jurisdiction: A General Statutory and Constitutional Theory, 41 WM. & MARY L. REV. 743, 832 (2000); Ralph Brubaker, Of State Sovereign Immunity and Prospective Remedies: The Bankruptcy Discharge As Statutory Ex Parte Young Relief, 76 AM. BANKR. L.J. 461, 563 (2002) (explaining that: "the appropriate constitutional explanation for the entirety of federal bankruptcy jurisdiction materializes only when one recognizes that the fundamental jurisdictional unit in bankruptcy is an individual bankruptcy 'proceeding' raising a justiciable controversy between adverse parties.").

600 B.R. 526, 530–31 (Bankr. S.D. Miss. 2019). "The lack of definition was intentional." In re Delta Underground Storage Co., Inc., 165 B.R. 596, 598 (Bankr. S.D. Miss. 1994).

84. Congress' failure to define a party in interest specifically was discussed by both Senator DeConcini and Representative Edwards during the proceedings preceding the enactment of the Code. Senator DeConcini stated:

> Rules of bankruptcy procedure or court decisions will determine who is a party in interest for the particular purposes of the provision in question.' 124 Cong.Rec. § 12407 (daily ed. Oct. 6, 1978).... Party in interest is an expandable concept depending on the particular factual context in which it is applied.

Id. (citing In re North American Oil & Gas, Inc., 130 B.R. 473, 479 (Bankr.W.D.Tex.1990)) (emphasis added). Congress has thus expressly directed that standing in a bankruptcy case must be determined in the particular proceeding before the bankruptcy court.

85. But here, there is no "particular purpose" or "particular factual context" in which this Court can properly evaluate party in interest standing. Instead, it appears that the Court proposes to render an advisory opinion on the named entities' standing to file pleadings without any requisite justiciable controversy before it. But none of this makes sense, with respect to entities not before the Court or only before the Court in capacity as defendants. In fact the Disclosures Order appears to be more of an investigation to find evidence that the Court could point to as supporting its assertions about Dondero's de facto control.

86. Additionally, the Court further states that beyond determining the hypothetical standing of such parties, it also must "ascertain whether their interests are sufficiently aligned such that the parties might be required to file joint pleadings hence forth, rather than each file pleadings that are similar in content." Disclosures Order, p. 1. What the Court is describing are pre-filing injunctions, which "are an extreme remedy" that courts should not issue "with undue haste because such sanctions can tread on a litigant's due process right of access to the courts." Franklin v.

Laughlin, No. SA-10-CV-1027 XR, 2011 WL 598489, at *7 (W.D. Tex. Jan. 13, 2011), report and recommendation adopted, No. SA-10-CV-1027-XR, 2011 WL 672328 (W.D. Tex. Feb. 15, 2011).

87. Specifically, the Fifth Circuit has explained that:

> "In determining whether it should impose a pre-filing injunction or should modify an existing injunction to deter vexatious filings, a court must weigh all the relevant circumstances. Four factors must be specifically considered: (1) the party's history of litigation, in particular whether he has filed vexatious, harassing, or duplicative lawsuits; (2) whether the party had a good faith basis for pursuing the litigation, or simply intended to harass; (3) the extent of the burden on the courts and other parties resulting from the party's filings; and (4) the adequacy of alternative sanctions.

Baum v. Blue Moon Ventures, LLC, 513 F.3d 181, 189 (5th Cir. 2008).

88. What is more, this purported reason makes no sense, as multiple entities the Court seeks to compel have never made an appearance and the Court has no basis to even suspect that they might make an appearance. With respect to parties who have filed pleadings, for example the Charitable Defendants, the Court already knows that Highland Dallas Foundation and CLO HoldCo have filed joint pleadings within the Adversary Proceeding (a single motion to dismiss for failure to state claims and a single motion to withdraw reference). The Non-Party Targets are nowhere to be found within the Bankruptcy Case or any proceedings before the Court; yet the Court must conduct an investigation into these entities to see whether to compel the filing of joint pleadings? Cannot be.

c) The Disclosures Order is not just improper, it is prejudicial.

89. As this Court is aware, the Charitable Defendants are defendants in the Adversary Proceeding instituted by the Committee (DAF Fund and DAF Holdco are also defendants, though yet unserved—despite the Adversary Proceeding being pending for over 6 months). Central to the Committee's claims against the Charitable Defendants are the conclusions posing as allegation(s) that the Charitable Defendants are part of civil conspiracy to fraudulently transaction assets out of the estate orchestrated by Mr. Dondero whom the Committee characterized as: standing on top of byzantine empire, moving assets and funds from one entity to another to meet various needs. See Adversary Proceeding, Dkt. No. 6, ¶2. (Sounds familiar).

90. In the Disclosures Order, the Court, seemingly already deciding this highly disputed issue in the Adversary Proceeding (which is not even a dispute—CLO HoldCo and Highland Dallas Foundation have filed a (joint) motion to dismiss under Rule 7012 for failure to state a claim), as it borrows the Committee's "byzantine" characterization and states that the targets of its Disclosures Order "appear to be under the de facto control of Mr. Dondero" and that the DAF Fund's decisions are "presumably at Mr. Dondero's direction." (the word "byzantine" is a much overworked word within this Bankruptcy Case, and its proceedings, pleadings, and orders of this Court). Disclosures Order, pp. 5, 11. This constitutes direct, specific, and express pre-judgment by this Court, and, of course, has tainted the Adversary Proceeding.

91. First and foremost, as shown herein, these assertions/findings are wrong. The Charitable Respondents and Non-Party Targets comprise an independent charitable giving structure that has facilitated the donation of tens of millions of dollars to important philanthropic causes. They are not under the de facto control of Mr. Dondero nor does Mr. Dondero direct their decisions—though like any donor would expect, Mr. Dondero has some say in the causes which the Supporting Organizations donate to.

92. But the fact that the Court has made these assertions/findings sua sponte outside of the Adversary Proceeding (or any case or controversy), when it has no authority to adjudicate the Adversary Proceeding (that is the subject of a motion to withdraw reference), is highly prejudicial to the Charitable Defendants. This Court, in its assumed posture as investigative body as well as prosecutor and decider, has given cover to the utterly conclusory assertions of the Committee, and has, practically, joined the Committee as a plaintiff.

93. At an absolute minimum, the Court should refrain from deciding or even commenting upon contested issues of law and fact sua sponte outside of the Adversary Proceeding, and should retract its supposed findings (issued under the transparently incorrect suggestion of its power to manage its own docket [by pre-screening parties for standing????? - again, the case law cited above shows this is not proper]). The Charitable Respondents urge the Court, particularly after reviewing the information and documents provided in this Response and Disclosures, to reconsider such findings, and respectfully request that this Court retract its Disclosure Order or at least the problematic content therein.

CONCLUSION

By this Response and the Disclosures, the Charitable Respondents have fully complied with this Court's Disclosures Order, but have done so with the express reservations concerning the impropriety of the Disclosures Order and the non-appearance or submission by the Non-Party Targets. But most important to the Charitable Respondents is that the Court closely review this Response and Disclosures and reconsider its assumptions/assertions/findings/conclusion that the Charitable Respondents are under the de facto control of or act at the direction of Mr. Dondero. The Charitable Respondents are real, independent charitable giving vehicles that have affected, very positively, the lives of countless people through the tens of millions of dollars donated to important philanthropic causes.

FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
DALLAS DIVISION

In re:	§	Case No. 19-34054-sgj11
HIGHLAND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT, L.P.,	§
	§	Chapter 11
Debtor	§	Relates to Dkt. No. 2460

Declaration of Mark Patrick

I, Mark Patrick, hereby declare as follows:

1. My name is Mark Patrick, and I am over the age of 21. I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth herein, and make this declaration pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746.

2. I am a Director of Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. and the managing member of the sole general partner of Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. (Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. and Charitable DAF Fund, L.P., and their direct and indirect subsidiaries will be referred to herein as the "DAF"). A more robust discussion of these entities and their interrelation is set forth in the Response and Disclosures (defined herein).

3. I appreciate the opportunity to describe the important charitable work the DAF is doing through its charitable beneficiaries.

4. Since its inception in 2012, the DAF has had a significant impact in the communities where the supporting organizations that are the DAF's beneficiaries deploy their capital. In fact, such supporting organizations have funded more than $32 million in charitable contributions to numerous non-profit organizations. The DAF's charitable commitments are in excess of $42 million. The non-profit organizations that have received support from the DAF include The Family Place, which provides emergency shelter to those in need, and the Dallas Children's Advocacy Center, which serves the needs of abused and neglected children. A more detailed summary of the DAF's charitable impact is an exhibit filed with the Response and Disclosures referenced herein.

5. I ultimately agreed to take on the roles I currently hold with the DAF because I believe in the causes the DAF is supporting. In college, I was a guardian ad litem for abused and neglected children. I have seen firsthand how the DAF is helping people every day who are struggling with abuse or difficult life situations. I have visited the Cristo Rey Dallas school campus, where low income and disadvantaged children are receiving a high-quality education that they otherwise would likely not receive.

6. The actions taken by me on behalf of the DAF in connection with the bankruptcy case of Highland Capital Management, L.P., and the lawsuit I authorized to be filed on behalf of CLO Holdco, Ltd. and DAF Fund against Highland Capital Management, L.P., were done so the DAF can continue to support these worthy causes. I am only trying to protect the DAF's investments, which are the source of the millions in charitable contributions the DAF has made over the past decade.

7. My actions aren't taken under the direction of James Dondero, or to somehow protect a direct or indirect economic benefit Mr. Dondero receives from the DAF. As the Response and Disclosures set forth in greater detail, Mr. Dondero has no direct or indirect economic ownership in the DAF.

8. My concern in vigorously pursuing claims for the DAF, or defending claims against the DAF, is to protect the DAF's investments from being taken by creditors who have no credible basis to obtain such investments.

9. I have been provided with and reviewed this Court's Order Requiring Disclosures (the "Disclosures Order").

10. In my capacity with the DAF, I assisted counsel in preparing the Response and Disclosures related to the Disclosures Order on behalf of CLO Holdco, Ltd., Charitable DAF Fund, L.P., and Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. (the "Response and Disclosures," and capitalized terms used herein which are not otherwise defined are as defined in the Response and Disclosures).

11. With respect to the documents and Exhibits provided by the Foundations about the Supporting Organizations and Non-Party Targets I or those acting under my direction dealt with the Foundations to obtain such information. Multiple Exhibits have already been provided as evidence to the Bankruptcy Court at the Show Cause Hearing. I have reviewed the exhibits to the Response and Disclosures and affirm that the Exhibits provided about the Charitable Respondents are true and correct copies of what each document is identified as in the Response and Disclosures. With respect to the documents and Exhibits provided by the Foundations, I affirm, upon information and belief that these Exhibits are true and correct copies of what each document is identified as in the Response and Disclosures. As I am not a person with authority over the Supporting Organizations I cannot identify such documents and Exhibits of my own personal knowledge, but am satisfied that I can upon information and belief.

12. I have reviewed the Response and Disclosures and certify that the factual recitations therein are accurate.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Q Was there any effort whatsoever to hide the prior order of the Bankruptcy Court?
A No.
MR. ANDERSON: Pass the witness.
THE COURT: Okay. Other examination?
MR. SBAITI: Yes, Your Honor. Just a couple of questions.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. SBAITI:
Q Do you mind flipping to Exhibit 25, which I believe is the org chart, the one that you were looking at before?
A Okay.
Q It'll still be in --
A Okay. Yeah.
Q -- the defense binder. No reason to swap out right now.
A I've got the right binders. Some of them are repeatable exhibits, so --
Q Yeah.
A -- I have to grab the right binder. Yes.
Q As this org chart would sit today, is the only difference that Grant Scott's name would instead be Mark Patrick?
A Yes.
Q Was there ever a period of time where Jim Dondero's name would sit instead of Grant Scott's name prior?
A Yes, originally, when this -- yes.

Q So did Mr. Dondero both have the control shares of the GP, LLC and DAF Holdco Limited?
A No, I believe not. I believe he only held the Charitable DAF GP interest and that Mr. Scott at all times held the Charitable DAF Holdco, LTD interest, until he decided to transfer it to me.
Q Can you just tell us how Mr. Scott came to hold the control shares of the Charitable DAF Holdco, LTD?
A When he was the independent trustee of the Charitable Remainder Trust, he caused that -- the creation of that entity, and that's how he became in receipt of those management shares.
Q And does the Charitable DAF GP, LLC have any control over Charitable DAF Fund, LP's actions or activities?
A Yes, it does.
Q What kind of control is that?
A I would describe complete control. It's the managing member of that entity and can -- and effectively owns, you know, the hundred percent interest in the respective subsidiaries, and so the control follows down.
Q And when did Mr. Scott replace Mr. Dondero as the GP -- managing member of the GP?
A Well, I think as the -- and Mr. Morris had shown me with respect to that transfer occurring on March 2012.
Q So nine years ago?

A Yes.
Q Does Mr. Dondero today exercise any control over the activities of the DAF Charitable -- the Charitable DAF, GP or the Charitable DAF Holdco, LTD?
A No.
Q Is he a board member of sorts for either of those entities?
A No.
Q Is he a board members of CLO Holdco?
A No.
Q Does he have any decision-making authority at CLO Holdco?
A None.
Q The decision to authorize the lawsuit and the decision to authorize the motion that you've been asked about, who made that authorization?
A I did.
Q Did you have to ask for anyone's permission?
A No.

MR. SBAITI: No more questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Any -- I guess Mr. Taylor, no. All right. Any redirect?

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. MORRIS:
Q Since becoming the authorized representative of the Plaintiffs, have you ever made a decision on behalf of those entities that Mr. Dondero disagreed with?

A I have made decisions that were adverse to Mr. Dondero's financial -- financial decision. I mean, financial interests. Whether he disagreed with them or not, I don't -- he has not communicated them to me. But they have been adverse, at least two very strong instances.
Q Have you ever -- have you ever talked to him about making a decision that would be adverse to his interests? Did he tell -- did --
A I didn't -- I don't -- I did not discuss with him prior to making the decisions that I made that were adverse to his economic interests.
MR. MORRIS: Okay. No further questions, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Any further examination? Recross on that redirect?
MR. ANDERSON: No further questions.
MR. SBAITI: No further questions, Your Honor.
MR. ANDERSON: Sorry.
THE COURT: Nothing?
MR. ANDERSON: I think we're good.
THE COURT: Okay. I have one question, Mr. Patrick. My brain sometimes goes in weird directions.

EXAMINATION BY THE COURT

THE COURT: I'm just curious. What are these Cayman Island entities, charitable organizations formed in the Cayman

THE COURT: Uh-huh.

THE WITNESS: The offshore master fund structure typically will have two different types of -- they call it foreign feeder funds. One foreign feeder fund is meant to accommodate foreign investors; the other foreign feeder fund is meant to accommodate U.S. tax-exempt investors.

Why, why is it structured that way? In order to avoid something called -- I was trying not to be wonkish -- UBTI. That's, let's see, Un -- Unrelated Trader Business Income. I probably have that slightly wrong. But it's essentially, it's a means to avoid active business income, which includes debt finance income, which is what these CLOs tend to be, that would throw off income that would be taxable normally if the exempts did not go through this foreign blocker, and it converts that UBTI income -- it's called (inaudible) income -- into passive income that flows -- that flows up to the charities.

And so it's very typical that you'll have a U.S. tax-exempt investor, when they make an investment in a fund, prefer to go through an offshore feeder fund, which is actually Charitable DAF Holdco, LTD. That's essentially what, from a tax perspective, represents as a UBTI blocker entity. And then you have the offshore investments being held offshore because there's a variety of safe harbors where the receipt of interest, the portfolio interest exception, is not taxable.

The creation of capital gains or losses under the -- they call it the trading, 864(b) trading safe harbor, is not taxable. So that's why you'll find these structures operating offshore to rely on those safe harbor provisions as well as -- as well as what I indicated with respect to the two type blocker entities. It's very typical and industry practice to organize these way. And so when this was set --

THE COURT: It's very typical in the charitable world to --

THE WITNESS: In the investment management --

THE COURT: -- form this way?

THE WITNESS: In the investment management world, when you have charitable entities that are taking some exposure to assets that are levered, to set this structure up in this way. It was modeled after -- they just call them offshore master fund structures. They're known as Mickey Mouse structures, where you'll have U.S. investors --

THE COURT: Yes. I -- yes, I --

THE WITNESS: -- enter through a U.S. partnership, and the foreign investors enter through a blocker.

THE COURT: It was really just the charitable aspect of this that I was --

THE WITNESS: Yeah. Yeah.

THE COURT: -- getting at.

THE WITNESS: Yeah. No, but I'm just trying to emphasize if --

THE COURT: All right. It's --

THE WITNESS: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- neither here nor there. All right.

MR. SBAITI: Your Honor, may I ask a slightly clarifying leading question on that, because I think I understand what he was trying to say, just for the record?

THE COURT: Well, --

MR. MORRIS: I object.

THE COURT: -- I tell you what. Anyone who wants to ask one follow-up question on the judge's question can do so. Okay? You can go first.

MR. SBAITI: I'll approach, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. SBAITI:

Q Would it be a fair summary of what you were saying a minute ago that the reason the bottom end of that structure is offshore is so that it doesn't get taxed before the money reaches the charities on the U.S. side?

A Tax -- it converts the nature of the income that is being thrown off by the investments so that it becomes a tax friendly income to the tax-exempt entity. Passive income. That's --

Q So, essentially, --

THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

MR. SBAITI: -- so it doesn't get taxed before it hits the --

THE COURT: I said one question.

MR. SBAITI: Sorry, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. He answered it.

MR. PHILLIPS: And I have one question, Your Honor

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS: I don't know if I need to ask this question, but I'd rather not ask you if I need to ask it.

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. PHILLIPS: But if I do, you know, I could --

THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. PHILLIPS: Well, okay.

RECROSS-EXAMINATION

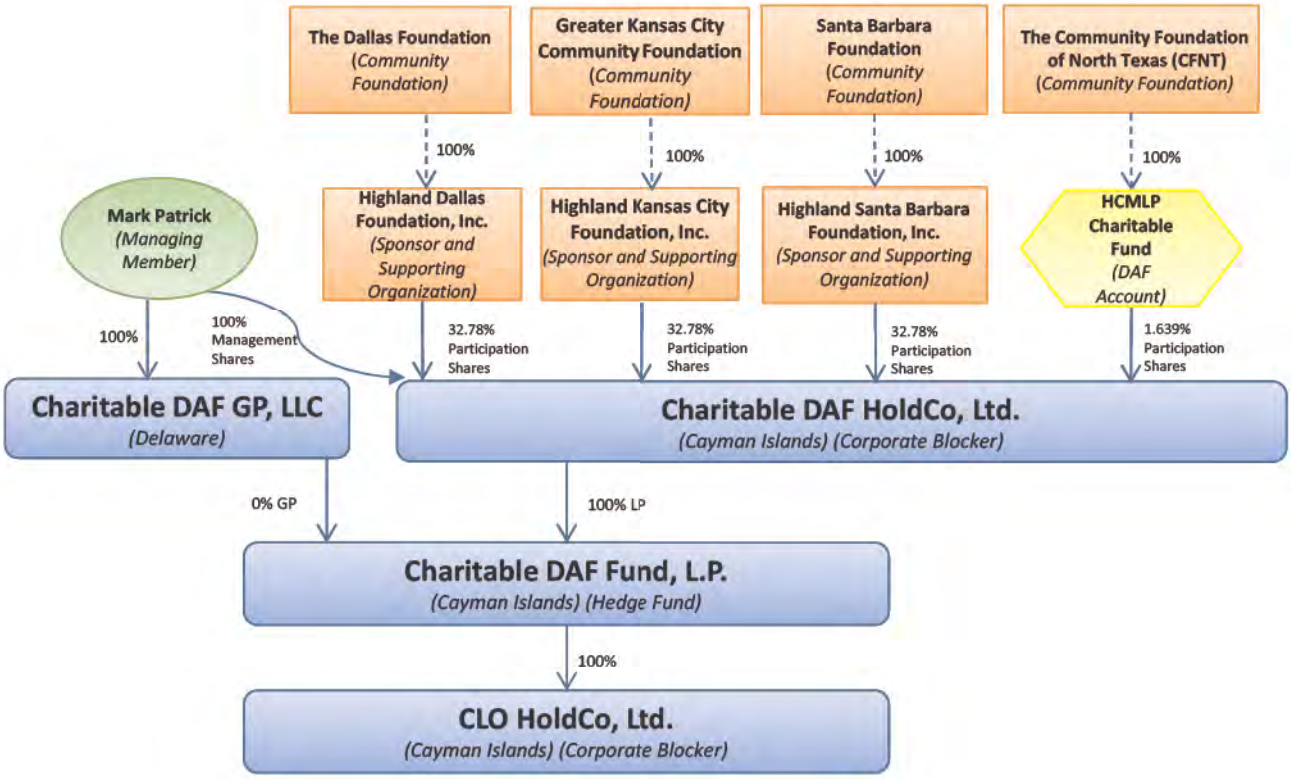
BY MR. PHILLIPS:

Q We've talked about the offshore structure. Are the foundations in the top two tiers of the organizational chart offshore entities?

A No.

Q They're --

A They're onshore entities. They're tax-exempt entities.



Q Thank you.

A The investments are offshore.

Q Thank you.

MEMORANDUM

Date: July 9, 2021

To: Mark Patrick

Company: Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. and CLO Holdco, Ltd.

From: Haynes and Boone, LLP, by Kenneth Bezozo

Subject: Donor Advised Funds ("DAFs"), Sponsoring Organizations and Supporting Organizations -- The Reasons for Making Investments in Offshore Jurisdictions

1. What are Donor Advised Funds, Sponsoring Organizations and Supporting Organizations?

A donor advised fund, or DAF, is a separately managed charitable investment account established by a donor within a public charity (a section 501(c)(3) organization), which is generally referred to as a sponsor. Sponsors may include a community foundation, university, religious organization, or financial institution. The donor (or the donor's designee) typically maintains certain advisory privileges over the DAF funds or account – specifically with respect to charities that should receive donations, although the DAF account is fully and completely owned and controlled by the sponsor.

In some cases, a sponsor can create as a subsidiary a "supporting organization" which also is a Section 501(c)(3) public charity. A supporting organization is a separate entity controlled by the sponsor through its ability to elect a majority of the supporting organization's governing board. Because of this control, a supporting organization is treated financially as part of a consolidated unit with the sponsor.

Here, for example, The Dallas Foundation formed, and owns and controls, a supporting organization named Highland Dallas Foundation, Inc. ("Highland Dallas Foundation") to assist The Dallas Foundation in carrying out its charitable mission in helping support a wide variety of community affairs. Donations were made to the Highland Dallas Foundation as both the sponsor and the supporting organization. The Highland Dallas Foundation from time to time makes distributions of funds to The Dallas Foundation which in turn makes further distributions to local public charities. Exhibit 1 attached shows these above-described entities, as well as other entities referenced herein that are pertinent to this donor advised fund.

2. How Does a Donor Establish a DAF Account?

To establish a DAF fund or account, a donor must make an irrevocable contribution of assets, such as cash, stock or securities or other business or financial assets, to a sponsoring public charity. The donor's contribution is recorded and recognized as a donation to the sponsoring public charity of the DAF. A donor can make additional contributions to the sponsoring organization whenever they choose.

Because a contribution to a sponsoring organization is, for tax purposes, the equivalent of a contribution to a public charity and because the donor gets an immediate tax benefit for the contribution, the contribution, when made, is permanent and irrevocable. This is true even though the donor contribution to the sponsoring organization is in an account that grows tax-free and the donor has advisory rights as to where to invest the assets and donations made from these assets.

Here, the Highland Dallas Foundation is the sponsor of the DAF account which it fully owns and controls. Although the donor has advisory rights regarding investments and donations to charities (by way of a board seat he fills in the supporting organization), the Highland Dallas Foundation has full authority and control over all such decision-making.

3. What Type of Investments Can be Made by a Sponsor/Supporting Organization?

A sponsor and its supporting organization, such as The Dallas Foundation and Highland Dallas Foundation, are able to invest in a wide variety of assets including, but not limited to, marketable securities, financial assets, businesses, real estate, private equity and hedge funds. But because the sponsor and supporting organization are both public charities that are tax-exempt organizations, their investments must take into account all laws that could possibly effect their tax-exempt status.

a. Can a Sponsor and its Supporting Organization Invest in a Hedge Fund, Private Equity Fund or Similar Investment Vehicle?

The short answer is yes, but as stated above, a sponsor and its supporting organization, such as The Dallas Foundation and Highland Dallas Foundation, are both public charities that are tax-exempt organizations. As a strong general rule, a tax-exempt organization will avoid any investments that will subject it to federal or state taxes. A tax-exempt organization is generally exempt from all federal and state taxes except to the extent it receives income classified as unrelated business taxable income (UBTI), which would be taxed at a 21% rate. The term "unrelated business taxable income" generally means the income derived from an unrelated trade or business regularly conducted by the tax-exempt organization. UBTI also can arise from the receipt of income from debt-financed investments, which is why hedge and private equity funds generally utilize a special investment structure to ensure tax-exempt investors do not have UBTI.

To prevent UBTI from flowing through to a tax-exempt organization, a corporation can be utilized to "block" this income at the corporate level, which is accomplished by having a corporation interposed between the tax-exempt organization and the hedge fund, such as The Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. (a corporate blocker) from the Charitable DAF Fund, L.P. Using a structure in this manner is often described as using a "blocker" because the UBTI is blocked out and does not flow through to the tax-exempt investor. Instead, the UBTI is included in the income of, and subject to tax in, the blocker corporation. The blocker corporation thereafter distributes the income to the tax-exempt investor through the payment of dividends which are not UBTI and therefore not taxable to a tax-exempt organization.

Although using a domestic corporate blocker can avoid the problem of having UBTI passed through to a tax-exempt sponsor or its supporting organization, a U.S.-based blocker corporation will be required to pay corporate and state-level income tax on the income they receive from an investment fund.

b. Are There Particular Jurisdictions in Which Hedge and Private Equity Funds form Investment Partnerships and Blocker Corporations for their tax-exempt investors?

It is common for hedge and private equity funds that have tax-exempt investors such as The Dallas Foundation and Highland Dallas Foundation to utilize an offshore structure to form its investment partnership. In addition, these funds may form offshore blocker corporations as well as for other reasons including the ability to make non-U.S. investments or U.S. investments that do not give rise to U.S. tax for foreign investors (i.e., U.S. investments that do not cause the investor to be "engaged in a U.S. trade or business.") Jurisdictions such as Bermuda and the Cayman Islands are typically used because those countries do not have an income tax regime.

By utilizing an offshore structure with corporate blockers, hedge and private equity funds can ensure their tax-exempt investors will not receive any UBTI from investments held by The Dallas Foundation or Highland Dallas Foundation. In addition, to the extent the sole source of UBTI is through debt financing (which is often the case in a hedge fund), then using an offshore corporate blocker can eliminate this type of UBTI (because the debt financing will not flow through the corporate blocker to taint the income received by the tax-exempt investor). This allows the sponsor (i.e., Highland Dallas Foundation), as well as any other charities that receive distributions from Highland Dallas Foundation or The Dallas Foundation, to receive the largest possible distributions.

Utilizing an offshore structure for hedge and private equity funds in the manner described above for tax-exempt investors is a best practice used by many U.S. law firms representing U.S. hedge and private equity funds. In fact, if a U.S. law firm didn't use offshore blockers in the manner described above, it could be considered a poor practice.

In summary, using an offshore blocker corporation, such as Charitable DAF Holdco, Ltd. and CLO Holdco, Ltd., for many hedge funds minimizes taxes and increases the net after-tax cash flow to the tax-exempt investors because investments grow tax-free, giving a sponsor, such as Highland Dallas Foundation, the potential to create even more capital for philanthropic giving.

4. Who Has Control and Authority over the Assets Held by the Sponsor?

Because a DAF is an account within a sponsor organization, the sponsoring organization has full, complete and final control over the funds in the DAF, which is the case here with the sponsor, the Highland Dallas Foundation. Although the supporting organization permits the donor or the donor's designee to recommend how funds should be invested and how funds should be distributed to other public charities, Highland Dallas Foundation must approve any investments and all distributions to charities.

In this case, the donor of the charitable DAF, or his designee, is able to appoint a representative to the board of the Highland Dallas Foundation, which allows the donor to recommend investments or distributions to charitable organizations, i.e., organizations that are tax-exempt under Internal Revenue Code section 501(c)(3) and classified as public charities under Internal Revenue Code section 509(a). But the donor (or the donor's designee) only has advisory privileges over making investments and the distribution of funds.

5. What Are the Benefits to a Donor of a Contribution to a DAF account?

A DAF account allows a donor who makes an irrevocable charitable contribution to the DAF account to receive an immediate tax deduction, and with the ability to recommend distributions be made by the sponsor to specific charities either presently or in the future. Also, if the donor contributes certain appreciated assets to the DAF account, such as stock or securities, the donor avoids the recognition of any gain in these appreciated assets. This is a significant additional benefit to donors made available in the Internal Revenue Code.

The DAF assets that are not immediately distributed to charities are then invested and depending on the type of investments and the jurisdiction in what the investments are made, the assets may grow tax-free.
