

Investor FAQ

1. What does this announcement mean for equity holders?

- On February 6, 2024, the NYSE halted trading and delisted Invitae's common stock. We expect that Invitae's shares will continue to trade over-the-counter.
- The rights and recoveries for all parties involved will be dictated by the chapter 11 process, and we do expect equity investors may experience a total loss in their investment at the conclusion of these cases.
- We cannot provide you advice in this matter. Any questions you have regarding your investment in Invitae would best be directed to your personal financial advisor or legal counsel.

2. Will NVTA shares continue to trade?

- We expect NVTA to continue to trade over-the-counter (OTC: NVTA) until the chapter 11 process is complete.
