Docket #0167 Date Filed: 10/24/2023

2IN THE UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS
HOUSTON DIVISION

In Re: Tehum Care Services, Inc. Debtor	Case No.: 23-90086 (CML) CHAPTER 11
Anant Kumar Tripati Plaintiff, v. Sarah Tirschwell, et al., Defendants.	Adv. Pro. No. 23-03072 (CML)

DEFENDANT SCOTTSDALE INSURANCE COMPANY'S REPLY IN SUPPORT OF ITS MOTION TO DISMISS

Defendant Scottsdale Insurance Company ("Scottsdale") files the following Reply Brief in support of its Motion to Dismiss (Doc. 153), stating in support as follows:

I. BRIEF FACTUAL & PROCEDURAL OVERVIEW

1. Plaintiff initiated this instant action in May 2023 when he filed a 139-page and 458-paragraph complaint against numerous defendants, including Scottsdale. See Doc. 1, Plaintiff's Adversary Complaint (the "Complaint").

2. Scottsdale was first made aware of this action on June 24, 2023, when it was discovered that Plaintiff filed an application for default against Scottsdale (Doc. 72) for failing to respond to the Complaint. Scottsdale, however, was never served with a copy of the Complaint or Summons. On August 4, 2023, Scottsdale filed a Motion for Time Extension to Respond to the Complaint (Doc. 104) where Scottsdale agreed to waive formal service of process and requested additional time to file a response to the Complaint. The Court granted that motion on August 7, 2023 (Doc. 108).

3. Plaintiff's Complaint is largely incomprehensible and immersed with historical reports and conclusory allegations. To the extent Scottsdale can construe Plaintiff's allegations, Plaintiff appears to assert that Scottsdale and the 50-plus other named defendants to this action spoliated and/or hid evidence in various state and federal proceedings brought by him in recent years. The Complaint, however, fails to set forth any specific acts Scottsdale purportedly committed, the activities that Scottsdale apparently participated in, how Plaintiff was harmed, what damages he incurred, or why he is entitled to any relief whatsoever from Scottsdale.

4. Scottsdale timely filed a Motion to Dismiss in lieu of a formal answer to the Complaint on September 27, 2023, arguing that the Complaint fails to state a plausible claim for relief and should be dismissed accordingly. Plaintiff in his Response (Doc. 164) offers no rebuttal to support his illusory theory of recovery against Scottsdale; instead, Plaintiff merely restates multiple conclusory paragraphs from the Complaint and his proposed, amended complaint (Doc. 4-1).

5. Plaintiff separately argues in his Response that Scottsdale should be found in default and sanctioned because it violated the Court's Order by failing to file a responsive pleading to the Complaint. Plaintiff, however, misinterprets the Federal Rules which provide Scottsdale the option to file a Rule 12 motion in lieu of a formal answer.

II. ARGUMENT & AUTHORITIES

6. Plaintiff's Response does nothing but merely re-hash the same allegations contained in his Complaint (Doc. 1) and proposed, amended complaint (Doc. 4-1). Plaintiff fails to point to any factual or legal basis to support his allegations as to Scottsdale. For this reason, Plaintiff's causes of action as to Scottsdale should be dismissed with prejudice.

7. In response to Plaintiff's accusations that Scottsdale violated Court Order by failing to issue a "responsive pleading" to the Complaint, Scottsdale submits that, pursuant to the plain and unambiguous language of Fed. R. Civ. P. 12, it may (and did) file a Rule 12(b) motion in lieu of a formal "responsive pleading." Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7012(a) specifically states, in part:

> If a complaint is duly served, the defendant shall serve an answer within 30 days after the issuance of the summons, except when a different time is prescribed by the court.
> The service of a motion permitted under this rule alters these periods of time as follows, unless a different time is fixed by order of the court: (1) if the court denies the motion or postpones or postpones its disposition until the trial on the merits, the responsive pleading shall be served within 14 days after notice of the court's action; (2) if the court grants a motion for a more definite statement, the responsive pleading shall be served within 14 days after the service of a more definite statement.

(emphasis added). Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)—which includes a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim—is made applicable to bankruptcy adversary proceedings under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7012(b).

8. While Scottsdale was never properly served with Plaintiff's Complaint, Scottsdale waived its right to formal service of process and requested an extension of time to file a response to the Plaintiff—a request which was granted by the Court (Doc 108). Thus, contrary to Plaintiff's assertions, Scottsdale was never "in default."

9. Scottsdale, moreover, properly submitted a "responsive pleading" pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7012 when it filed its Motion to Dismiss (Doc. 153), a motion "permitted under the Rules" which altered Scottsdale's timeframe to file a formal answer to the Complaint. See Arias v. Franklin Credit Mgmt. Corp. (In re Arias), case no. 22-00004, 2023 Bankr. LEXIS 258, at *17

(Bankr. D.P.R. Feb. 1, 2023) ("In the instant case, the Complaint was a pleading to which a responsive pleading was required. [The defendant] filed [its] Motion to Dismiss pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) in lieu of an answer.") (emphasis added)).

10. To the extent the Court denies Scottsdale's Motion to Dismiss, Scottsdale will timely file an answer to Plaintiff's Complaint pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7012.

III. CONCLUSION & PRAYER

11. For these reasons, and the reasons more fully set forth in Scottsdale's Motion to Dismiss (Doc. 153), Scottsdale respectively prays that the Court grant its Motion to Dismiss with prejudice as to all claims asserted against Scottsdale, and for all such other relief to which it may show itself justly to be entitled.
